FOREWORD.

In offering this book to the public, the cook book committee is divided between two impulses—the first, to apologize for its temerity in offering a cook book compiled and edited for the most part by amateurs and which, if advanced sales are an indication, will be passed in review by housewives from coast to coast; and second (much the stronger we fear) a feeling that we have done our very best and are willing to be judged according to the standard of the very best cook books.

For six months this committee composed of some of the most prominent women of the state, has labored almost unceasingly to present to other women who honor their profession as housewives the recipes which thousands consider to be their choicest. Each of these recipes has been thoroughly tested by the contributor, and after reaching us has been censored by the Home Economics Director, Miss Mary Means of the Girls' High School Faculty. We regret deeply that space could not be found for every one of the delicious recipes sent us, but the necessity for having, as nearly as possible, an evenly balanced book, and one in which every direction is clearly stated, and with no duplicates, caused many to be eliminated by the censor. Some recipes will be found in other places in the book, where they seemed more necessary.

The fact that this cook book is published by the Home Economics Department of our club renders it necessary for it to conform to the rules for service inaugurated by this Department for its members. Accordingly the wording of each recipe has been given more plainly than is customary in most cook books, so it will form not only an excellent hand book for our own members, but may be easily used by those hitherto entirely unfamiliar with cooking.

Altho this volume specializes in typical Southern recipes, it also contains many choice tid-bits from other sections owing to the cosmopolitan character of the Woman's Club membership, which numbers many residents formerly from other parts of the United States.

In omitting special menus, which in our experience rarely can be used exactly as printed, we have substituted instead the order, of recipes naturally followed during the day, leaving the housewife the liberty of choice.

Chairmen for our chapter have been selected because of especial fitness for the work. Each has taken the greatest pride in the collection of recipes and their arrangement. They should not, however, be held responsible for any omission of recipes, as that necessarily had to be decided by the censor and the editors.

It was not required that recipes contributed should be absolutely original, as so few really can be, but that they should have been in use by the contributor or some close friend for some time.

In view of the fact that all money from the sale of this book goes towards the building fund of our wonderful new auditorium—that temple of unselfish service—we ask that our club members deal lovingly with this book, that each purchase at least one for herself or a friend, that each encourage its sale in every way possible and that all criticisms, for or against, be given to the editors to the end that the next edition may benefit thereby.

Even before this goes to press hundreds of dollars have been sent together with addresses to our Sales-Chairman, Mrs. Alonzo Richardson, 682 West Peachtree St., Atlanta, Ga. The cook books are two dollars each and out of town orders should be accompanied by ten cents (10c) postage.

In conclusion we thank most heartily those who have in any way contributed to the success of the cook book and if, as we hope, it becomes part of the necessary kitchen equipment in thousands of homes we will feel we have not labored in vain.

CHAPTER I.

THE SECRET OF KITCHEN HAPPINESS.

Mrs. Newton C. Wing, Chairman Home Economics.

House-work may be made either a delight or drudgery, according to the mental attitude which accompanies it. It is impossible, naturally, to love one's house-work, if one does not have the proper equipment and if one's house, especially the kitchen, is not properly arranged, ventilated and lighted.

We realize that few houses are built which follow any scientific arrangement as to the kitchen. Speed the day when the architect and the experienced house wife will together plan all kitchens. In building a new house, the housewife should insist on having the kitchen built as she desires, always considering, of course that it harmonizes with the general architectural plans of the house.

Even if a house wife employs servants, she can not secure that servant's contentment or best efforts, unless she saves her time and strength by labor-saving methods.

MORE EFFICIENCY MAY BE SECURED

- I. By having a small kitchen, (but not crowded).
- II. By covering walls with washable materials such as tile, enamel, or any good washable paint.
- III. By covering the floor with linoleum, one with dark background being preferred. Wax well after laying.
- IV. By grouping certain apparatus and utensils, according to their use. Common sense shows that many steps are avoided if:
First—The sink, with its two large drain boards, one on each side, is placed next to the dining room or pantry. Ideal arrangement consists in having a dish-window opening directly between the dish-closet and the sink. This should be large enough to allow the passage of the wire dish drainer filled with dishes. Soiled dishes are placed on right hand drain board, where they are picked up by the dish-washer's right hand, scrubbed under running water, by brush held in left hand, and then placed in dish pan. When pan is full, place one tablespoon of washing powder over dishes (this is enough to cut grease, but does not make water soapy), fill pan with very hot water. With dishmop tilt plates until easily grasped by left hand, rub with dish mop, and place in dish drainer at left. Very much hotter water may be used than in the old fashioned way of using a dishcloth,—the hot water filling the two-fold purpose of cleaning the dishes and making them dry more easily. When drainer is full, pass thru dish-window or carry to dish-closet. This leaves room for washing cooking dishes and by the time these are done the china dishes are dry and sparkling and may be put away in the china closet without wiping. This is much more sanitary than the old way of wiping with dish towel, which is never perfectly dry and clean except for the first dish. Towels of best linen toweling should of course be used for glasses and silver. Sinks and tables are generally built too low. Housewives should insist on having sinks built, so that, without stooping, one may touch the inside floor of the sink with the flat of the hand. The same holds good with the tables (note the height of kitchen cabinet table). For the average person, the height of sinks, etc., should be 36 inches.

Second—The stove should be next to dining room door on the other side from the sink to facilitate serving. Thus a tea wagon can be used both to take food directly from the stove to the dining room table and also to bring soiled dishes from the table to the sink.

Third—Grouped on opposite side from the stove, should be the kitchen cabinet, and working table with store closet near. If table is on casters, it can be rolled over near table or sink when needed.

Fourth—If the kitchen is sufficiently large there should be a rest corner with a desk and bookcase above for working on kitchen accounts and for keeping cook books thus utilizing the spare minutes which often occur in the kitchen while meals are cooking.

CHAPTER II.

NECESSARY KITCHEN EQUIPMENT.

Two factors cause much loss of time in most kitchens: the first arises from the use of old worn-out tools, and the second because of an insufficient supply of utensils adapted to certain uses.

Kitchen equipment should always be kept near the place in the kitchen where it is to be used. In most homes the kitchen cabinet becomes the receptacle for most of the articles used in the preparation of the meals and therefore will be treated first in this article. Keep in mind that the utensils used most often should be kept where most accessible, i. e., in top drawers, while other seldom used articles may be packed away. As various kitchen cabinets have different spaces, the following arrangement is merely suggestive.

THE KITCHEN CABINET SHOULD CONTAIN

All spices, baking powder (Royal), salt, pepper, tea, coffee, sugar, soda, flour, corn-starch, cocoa, chocolate, Worcestershire Sauce, catsup, canned salad dressing (for seasoning), flavoring extracts, crackers, canned soups, pimentos, and other canned products for an emergency meal.

CHAPTER III.

BUDGETING YOUR TIME.

Introduction by Mrs. B. M. Boykin—President Atlanta Woman's Club.

In these very busy days when every woman is working, as she thinks, to her greatest capacity and then does not always get through, suppose she stops and takes stock.—She will find that she could have done much more and been less tired if only she had mapped out her day and stuck to her schedule, but she lets everything hinder her.

While starting out to buy her groceries somebody called and talked so long over the 'phone she was late. Consequently, after marketing she was late to her engagement and so on. Let us learn to shorten unnecessary conversation, be prompt for each engagement, conduct our daily lives with the same efficiency which is used by business men. A place for everything, everything in its place—a time for everything and everything on time;—leaves plenty of opportunity for healthful recreation and, at the same time, a consciousness of carrying one's program of work satisfactorily.

The war helped every woman toward economy. Let us carry on now in saving our strength and getting better results from our time.

THE WORKING SCHEDULE IN A HOME ECONOMICS HOUSEHOLD.

While the following schedule may not fit every one's domestic arrangements, yet it may serve as a help to other women in planning their work whether done by themselves or by servants.

This has been found invaluable in training a new servant.

GENERAL OUTLINE OF WORK.

Everyday Do The Following

6:45 to 9:00—Prepare breakfast and serve: While family is eating, have servant sweep front porch and steps; afterward clear table, wash dishes, wipe off kitchen table, kitchen cabinet, stove, shelves, etc. Shine all aluminum dishes used for the meal and polish cooking utensils. Nothing should be left lying about in the kitchen or butler's pantry. Sweep kitchen, butler's pantry and eating porch (dining room). Should be thru by about nine.

10 to 10:30—All downstairs should be in order: floors swept or floor mopped, lavatory cleaned, etc.

10:30 to 11:00—Bath room cleaned—Any special job if there is time.

11:30 to 12:00—Prepare lunch.

AFTERNOON.

1:00 to 2:00—Do dishes and put kitchen and dining room in order.

2:00 to 4:00—Any special work assigned for that day (see list later).

4:00 to 5:00—Rest or recreation (this always applies to the cook).

5:00 to 7:30—Prepare dinner, wash dishes and put dining room and kitchen in order.

SPECIAL WORK.

Leave all special work to time provided in outline. This consists in cleaning silver, washing windows, straightening up closets, drawers, etc., cleaning brass door knobs, mirrors, china closet, glass doors and any metals.

SPECIAL TASKS FOR EACH DAY.

Monday—Wash anything in the laundry bag which is too delicate to send to the washwoman. Cook allowed to wash her own things also at this time.

Tuesday—Do any ironing—clean eating porch, (or dining room).

Wednesday—Clean kitchen and butler's pantry thoroughly, washing all wood work—inside of store closet, outside of boiler, scrub floors, clean kitchen cabinet inside and out and the stove. See that all utensils are clean.

Thursday—Follow morning schedule and clean refrigerator also.

Thursday Afternoon—Half holiday. (applies to the house wife too. If acting as cook, she deserves a dinner out).

Friday—Clean all upstairs.

Saturday—Clean all downstairs except kitchen, etc. Bake.

Sunday Morning—After breakfast see that house is straightened up, prepare dinner, and supper which is set away in refrigerator.

CHAPTER V.

QUEEN SWEET POTATO.

Recipes compiled by Mrs. J. E. Hays, State President Federated Women's Clubs.

A lowly sweet potato am I,
 Tho, you may call me "a poor man's pie,"—
 For I'm good to eat without sugar or salt,
 Many are my virtues and I haven't a fault.

The Sweet Potato, a native of the South, is capable of being served in more tempting ways than any other product of the soil—it is a vegetable that may be used as a breakfast dish, an entrée or a dessert, made tempting with very little embellishment.

Truly a "poor man's pie," given by a generous Maker! It contains all the necessary elements, and is easily digested. Georgians should sing the praises of Queen Sweet Potato, as California does the raisin and Ireland the "spud."

ROAST OPOSSUM, AND SWEET POTATOES

1 Opossum.
 Salt.

1 dozen sweet potatoes.
 Black pepper.

Dress and place opossum (whole) in large pan with one and one-half gallons cold water; boil until tender. Drain and place in covered roaster—Surround with sweet potatoes (which have previously been peeled and boiled). Season with salt and pepper to taste.

Put roaster in oven until both potatoes and possum are crisp and brown.

Mrs. Norman Pool.

FRIED POTATOES.

(a). Peel and slice (not too thin), soak in weak salt water 10 minutes, fry in deep hot fat, drain on paper. Serve hot.

(b). Bake large size potatoes and when cold, peel, slice and fry brown in deep hot fat, salt and serve.

BAKED POTATOES.

Wash, trim and bake in moderate oven until soft. If potatoes are slightly greased before baking, they bake more quickly, are soft and easy to peel.

CANDIED YAMS—(PLAIN).

(a). Peel and slice (long way), boil in clear weak salt water until tender, sprinkle liberally with sugar, (spices may be added if liked) cook until brown and candied.

(b). Thick slices of unpeeled apples may be added with potatoes while boiling. Proceed as with (a), and you have candied yams with apple sauce.

(c). When potatoes are tender sprinkle with sugar, grated cocoanut, spice or grated pineapple.

SWEET POTATO SOUFFLE NO. 1.

1 cup nuts.	$\frac{1}{2}$ cup seeded raisins.
2 tbs. butter.	$\frac{1}{2}$ cup milk.
2 eggs.	Flavored as desired.

Boil potatoes whole until very tender, peel and mash well, add sugar (about $\frac{1}{2}$ cup for baking dish). Do not have batter too stiff. Bake slowly until light brown. Place marshmallows on top, return to oven long enough to melt slightly. Nicest served with mid-winter dinner and subject to many variations:

(b). Use half glass of jelly instead of sugar.

(c). Add bananas sliced instead of nuts and raisins.

(d). Stick an almond or cherry in marshmallows for fancy dish. Add any crystallized fruit with nuts and raisins.

(e). Omit milk, add 2 t-spoons baking powder and 1 cup cocoanut.

"PIG-IN-A-PEN."

Cover with one-half inch of Hip-o-lite. Bake to your hearts content, and serve hot.

ECONOMY IN GAS.

Every house-wife may save time and money by observing the following:

- I. Have the gas man regulate the flame, so that it will burn blue.
- II. Don't use the large burners for small utensils.
- III. After foods come to a boil, use the burner for simmering.
- IV. Always turn off the gas, before removing vessels from the stove.
- V. Don't allow burners to become clogged with grease.
- VI. A large steamer may be used for cooking several foods at once.
- VII. Make use of fireless cooker and pressure cooker.
- VIII. Triplet kettles, and double folding omelet pans may be used for cooking two or more things at once.
- IX. When baking or cooking a meal, cook several things at once. A whole dinner may be prepared in the oven by having a roast, etc., and baked potatoes, vegetables en casserole, and a baked dessert.
- X. Although the heat should be turned on an oven (both burners) five or ten minutes before using—in most cases one burner may be turned off or both burners turned lower, after food is placed within.
- XI. Every good cook should have a chemical thermometer to test oven heat, and this is more easily done when the stove has a glass front as opening the oven door causes a drop in temperature. There is no such thing as "luck" in cooking. If the conditions are controlled by the house-wife as they should be, the results will always be the same.

COOKING BY RULE.

Measure! Whether by cup or spoon the only sure way to secure success is by accurate measurement.

All measures should be level and only standard vessels used. Only an experienced house-keeper repeating her own recipes, can measure by eye, or by weight of an object in her hand.

It is necessary to have in every kitchen a set of measures (quart, pint and half-pint; graduated measures divided into quarters, halves and thirds are best). For liquids a glass cup divided and marked on the outside in $\frac{1}{4}$ - $\frac{1}{2}$ - $\frac{3}{4}$ and 1 cup, one side of the cup; while on the other is marked $\frac{1}{3}$, $\frac{2}{3}$ and 1 cup, will eliminate guess work.

A set of accurate scales is an absolute necessity in the kitchen

A set of aluminum measuring spoons are necessary. They measure 1 tbs., 1 t-spoon, $\frac{1}{2}$ t-spoon and $\frac{1}{4}$ t-spoon.

CHAPTER VIII.

BREAKFASTS.

FRUITS IN SEASON.

Mrs. Norman Sharp—Chairman City Market.

Most essential from the standpoint of hygiene is the inclusion of fruit in the daily diet, and this in Atlanta is a simple matter, for farmers supplying Atlanta's Municipal Curb Market furnish a continuous rotation of fruits during the entire year.

Beginning with the early spring the strawberry is the first and one of the most delightful fruits. Strawberries are usually served with cream and sugar and are delightful appetizers, with which to begin the breakfast menu. Following the strawberry come the no less popular raspberry and blackberry which are served with cream and sugar as the first course. The dew-berry, a species of blackberry, is popular also. Cherries served on individual platters with the stems on make an attractive breakfast dish.

The Georgia peach, famous the world over is well adapted for a breakfast fruit. An attractive breakfast is served with whole peeled peaches on individual platters, in the center of which is a sugar bowl surrounded with peeled peaches and garnished with green peach leaves.

Then comes the cantaloupe and honey-dew melon, which may be served in many artistic and attractive ways—peeled, halved and served with crushed ice is one of the most practical methods of serving cantaloupe as a breakfast fruit. Some enjoy iced watermelon also, a fruit for which Georgia is famous. Figs peeled and served whole with cream and sugar constitute a delicious breakfast course. Later come the plum and grape, which are served most attractively in a large fruit bowl, which graces the center of the breakfast table and is passed and served from individually. Scuppernongs, a light green, and muscadines, a purple brown, are thick skinned and resemble grapes.

For the fall and winter breakfast the apple reigns supreme and may be prepared in a variety of appetizing ways. Perhaps the most popular is the baked apple. Apple sauce is another favorite Southern breakfast course. To prepare, peel apples, quarter and stew until tender with a few slices of lemon; after which rub through colander with spices, sweeten to taste and serve cold with or without cream.

During the winter months Georgia calls on her sister state, Florida, for grapefruit and oranges, which may be served in many ways and are used extensively for breakfast menus.

BREAKFAST CEREALS.

Mrs. J. A. Carlisle, Chairman Cook Book.

Of the many varieties of cereals, all are lacking in fats, so they are more nutritious if butter or cream and sugar are served with the cooked cereals (only cream and sugar with the uncooked). Most cooked cereals are very indigestible if cooked less than one hour. When preparing the evening meal, cook cereal in a double boiler for an hour or more, then place (covered) on back of stove. Next morning add boiling water to lower boiler and upper boiler if cereal is too thick. Cook 10 to 15 minutes and serve.

Rolled or Quaker Oats should be put to cook in boiling salted water, proportions 1 t-spoon of salt to 1 qt. of water, and will cook quicker if soaked over night in cold water. To keep out insects, when cereals are opened contents should be placed in glass fruit jars with lids screwed on tightly.

OATMEAL—ROLLED OR QUAKER OATS.

1 cup oats or oatmeal.

3 cups boiling water.

$\frac{1}{2}$ t-spoon salt.

Stir oats and salt gradually in boiling water. If cooked over direct heat, cook slowly, (stirring occasionally) about 40 minutes or cook in double boiler one to two hours. May be placed in fireless cooker over night.

CREAM OF WHEAT.

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup cream of wheat.

$2\frac{1}{2}$ cups water.

$\frac{1}{2}$ t-spoon salt.

Add salt to boiling water, stir in cream of wheat and continue stirring a few moments to prevent lumping. Cook slowly over direct heat 20 minutes or more, or in double boiler one hour or more. Can be placed in fireless cooker three or four hours. Serve with cream and sugar.

FINE HOMINY OR GRITS—SOUTHERN.

Grits, like corn meal, absorb a great deal of water in cooking. Cook as other cereals or leave in fireless cooker over night. May be eaten with butter or gravy. Pack while warm in one-pound baking powder cans, cool, turn out and cut in slices, dip in flour, saute in bacon drippings a golden brown. Serve bacon crisp on hominy slices for breakfast.

STEAMED RICE.

1 cup rice. 3 cups water.
1 t-spoon salt.

Wash rice and pour slowly in water boiling briskly. Add salt and cook until grains are tender, drain in colander, serve with sugar and cream, raisins may be added. Rice should be cooked in double boiler.

BAKED SHREDDED WHEAT.

Shredded wheat is delicious, when divided into two parts by a sharp knife, each part being buttered, placed in the oven and heated till crisp. It tastes very much like pop-corn, and may be eaten as a sandwich or with milk and sugar.

½ t-spoon salt. A dash of pepper.

Break eggs into round bottom bowl. Add seasoning and water. Beat rapidly with dover beater until light and foamy. Turn into cooking pan and as one part cooks, slip knife under that portion, lift it to let soft portion run under and so continue until only the bubbly top remains uncooked. MILK AND EGG OMELET.

5 eggs. ½ cup milk.
½ cup bread pieces, not ground 1 tbls. fat.

Pour into frying pan the grease, either bacon, butter, cooking oil or fat, (use twice as much, if hinged omelet pan is used). Soak in milk, for a few minutes, the pieces of bread. Add to beaten eggs the milk and bread; season to taste with salt and pepper and pour all into frying pan when it is very hot, reducing the heat as soon as it is in. Keep it from sticking to the sides, with a silver knife, occasionally tilting pan slightly so that liquid parts will run underneath and cook. Fold one part over on the other while it is still soft, turn out on hot platter, garnish and serve. The trick of an omelet is to have just the right amount of grease, or else it will stick if too little is used or be watery if too much. Bread may be omitted, if a smaller omelet is desired, and more milk may be used.

Mrs. Newton C. Wing,
Chairman Home Economics.

1/2 cup bread pieces. 2 tbls. fat.

When bubbling hot, pour in an equal amount on each side, of the eggs, beaten; the tomatoes, in which have been soaked the small pieces of bread for several minutes and salt and pepper to taste. As soon as the mixture is in it requires less heat. With a silver knife, keep it from sticking to the sides and also tilt pan slightly, to allow the more liquid parts to get underneath. While still soft, turn one half of the omelet over on top of the other half, then turn out on hot platter and garnish with parsley; serve.

Mrs. Newton C. Wing,
Chairman Home Economics.

FLUFFY OMELET.

4 eggs. 4 tbls. water.

Shake gently just above the flame until the omelet is slightly brown. Set in the oven and cook top. It is done when knife thrust into the center, comes out without the egg adhering. Fold together and turn out on a hot plate. Garnish with parsley. Serve at once.

CHAPTER IX.

LUNCHEONS AND SUPPERS

SALADS.

Mrs. Norman Pool, Chairman.

All salad ingredients should be chilled and all salads should be served very cold—Green and fruit salads with French or cooked dressings are less fattening than meat and eggs or cheese salads with mayonnaise. The beaten white of egg added to mayonnaise makes it thicker but holds it longer and gives more mayonnaise. To marinate foods let stand in oil, vinegar, salt and pepper.

Place in a lump of butter

And at expense don't mutter.

Of mushrooms now, take teacups two,

Ten minutes just about will do—
Don't scorch, or you're a sinner.

Of strained tomatoes use a cup,
A quarter one of cheese;
Stir constantly with no let up;
Add pepper, if you please.

Two eggs you next must briskly beat,
And smoothly make all leaven;
Pour over toast—then quickly eat
And dream you are in Heaven!”

CAKES, FILLINGS, ICINGS AND COOKIES.

Mrs. Henry A. Manning, Chairman.

CAKES.

There are two classes of cake—the sponge and the butter cake. The first is less fattening and best for children. All our cakes are variations made on the true sponge or on the cup cake recipes. Cakes have much food value, which should be remembered in planning a meal.

M. P. Means.

SCRIPTURE CAKE.

1½ cups of Judge, 5:25 last clause.	6 cups Jeremiah, 17:11.
2 cups Jeremiah, 6:20.	A pinch of Leviticus, 2:13.

Emily E. Rice.

ANGEL CAKE.

12 egg whites.	10 oz. flour.
Generous pinch of salt.	4 oz. granulated sugar.
2 level t-spoons cream of tartar.	1 t-spoon vanilla.

Have everything ready before breaking the eggs, and proceed rapidly. Have eggs thoroughly chilled and avoid having even small particles of the yolk of the egg in the whites. Weigh sugar and flour, sifting each on a separate piece of paper. Beat eggs, after adding salt, till large bubbles disappear; sift in cream of tartar until eggs are dry and stiff. (If beaten too long the cake will be dry and tough). Fold in (not beat in) the sugar and then the flour by sifting a little in at a time. Light the oven and then add vanilla. Put in an ungreased aluminum pan and place in oven, about three or four inches from the floor of the oven. Reduce gas until it looks like rows of beads and let it stay that way for thirty minutes. Then increase heat until the gas is nearly full. In 15 minutes more, the cake should be a pretty brown all over. As gas pressure and sizes of ovens vary, each person must learn by experience just when the cake is done, but 45 minutes is the average time. As soon as taken out of the oven the cake should be turned up side down and left till thoroughly cold. By running a knif around the sides and then knocking the sides of the pan on the edge of the kitchen table, the cake can be gotten out of the pan in perfect condition. Dust powdered sugar over the top or ice the cake according to taste. By using a carving knife and dampening it often, the slices may be kept even and light. If you press hard on the knife, you will have a ragged slice.

Mrs. R. L. Turman

ANGEL FOOD CAKE.

12 egg whites.	1½ cup sugar.
¼ t-spoon salt.	1 scant cup flour.
1 t-spoon cream of tartar.	1 t-spoon vanilla.

Place the whites in deep bowl, sprinkle in the salt and beat with dover egg beater until entirely stiff. Stir in cream of tartar. This helps the whites to remain stiff. Next, thoroughly beat in sugar with egg beater or open spoon. Measure a scant cup of flour, sift three times and remeasure, filling the cup by gently laying in the flour by spoonfuls. This is to insure having a scant and light cup of flour. Then fold the flour into the cake mixture, about a third at a time. The flour should not be beaten in. Add vanilla and pour mixture into an ungreased tin with a funnel center. The oven should be quite warm, but not hot, when cake is put in. Let heat be moderate throughout the baking, which may be from forty to sixty minutes.

Mrs. Alan Griffith Stanford.

ROLLED WAFERS.

- | | |
|-----------------------|---------------------------------|
| ¼ cup butter. | 7/8 cup bread flour (Capitola). |
| ½ cup powdered sugar. | ½ t-spoon vanilla. |
| ¼ cup milk. | |

Cream the butter, add sugar gradually, and milk drop by drop; then add flour and flavoring. Spread very thinly with a broad, long-bladed knife on a buttered inverted dripping pan. Crease in 3 in. squares, and bake in a slow oven until delicately browned. Place pan on back of range, cut squares apart with a sharp knife, and roll while warm in tubular or cornucopia shape. If squares become too brittle to roll, place in oven to soften. If rolled tubular shape, tie in bunches with narrow ribbon. These are very attractive, and may be served with sherbet, ice cream, or chocolate. If rolled cornucopia shape, they may be filled with whipped cream just before sending to table. Colored wafers may be made from this mixture by adding leaf green or fruit red. If colored green, flavor with ¼ t-spoon almond and ¾ t-spoon vanilla. If colored pink, flavor with rose. Colored wafers must be baked in a very slow oven and turned frequently, otherwise they will not be of uniform color that is desired.

Hazel Allison Stevenson.

MACAROONS.

- | | |
|---------------------|--|
| ½ lb. almond paste. | 3/8 lb. powdered sugar. |
| Whites 3 eggs. | (get this from baker or confectioner). |

Work together almond paste and sugar on a smooth board or marble slab. Then add whites of eggs gradually, and work until mixture is perfectly smooth. Confectioners at first use the hand, afterwards a palette knife which is not only of use for mixing but for keeping board clean. Shape, using a pastry bag and tube, on a tin sheet covered with buttered paper, $\frac{1}{2}$ inch apart; or drop mixture from tip of spoon in small piles. Macaroon mixture is stiff enough to hold its shape, but in baking spreads. Bake 15 or 20 minutes in a slow oven. If liked soft, they should be slightly baked. After removing from oven, invert paper, and wet with a cloth wrung out of cold water, when macaroons will easily slip off.

SOUPS.

LOBSTER.

Lobster to be edible should be perfectly fresh. One of the tests of freshness is to draw back the tail; if it springs into position again, it is safe to think the fish good.

The time of boiling varies with the size of the lobster and in different localities. In Boston and other places on the Massachusetts coast, the time is fifteen or twenty minutes for large lobsters and ten for small.

The usual way is to plunge them into a pot with enough boiling water in the bottom to create a steam without boiling dry. Cover tightly. There are few ways of cooking lobster in which it should be more than thoroughly heated, as much cooking toughens it and destroys the fine delicate flavor.

Mrs. R. T. Cresse,
Boston, Mass.

STEWED LOBSTER.

1 tbs. butter.	$\frac{1}{2}$ lemon.
Pinch cayenne.	1 tbs. flour.
2 medium sized lobsters.	$\frac{1}{3}$ cup water.

Serve the salmon, mold with a cucumber sauce, made by adding to half cup of whipped cream, salt, cayenne and very gradually two tbls. of vinegar, and one cucumber chopped fine and drained. A little onion juice is also a good flavor.

Mrs. R. T. Aderhold,
President, Woman's Club, College Park, Ga.

POULTRY.

Mrs. C. E. Cresse, Chairman.

To dress poultry. After the bird is picked, singe hairs over a flame. Cut off head, draw out pin feathers. Then cut thru skin around joint of leg and draw out tendons, by holding upper leg in left hand and slipping a skewer under each tendon and pulling it from the flesh. Break joint and leg can be removed with the tough tendons. Cut through skin carefully below breastbone and with the hand loosen and remove organs. The crop may be removed from the other end of bird, with windpipe. Wash bird out with water, or soda and water, being careful to remove all bits of lung.

ROAST TURKEY.

(Chestnut Dressing).

1 turkey (10 to 14 lb.)	Sage.
1 loaf dry bread.	1 lb. of chestnuts.
2 tbls. butter.	1 cup celery.
1 small onion.	1 egg.
1 apple.	Parsley.

Select a plump turkey, draw and wash thoroughly. Make stuffing of bread, season with salt, pepper, butter, sage. Add onion and celery chopped fine, and the chestnuts hulled and scalded, to take off the inner coating, add the well beaten egg, and enough hot water to moisten. Place apple in the crop—the juice tends to keep the turkey moist and the blending of the different saviors, gives a delicious flavor. It must not be pasty, therefore use chopping knife or large mixing knife to work ingredients together. Do not allow to brown much the first hour. Time required 3 hours. Oysters may be substituted for chestnuts.

Mrs. Norman Pool.

CRANBERRY SNOW.

Place on its back on rack in baking pan. Sprinkle salt over the surface of the chicken. Cover breast and wings with a paste made of two tbs. each of butter and flour. Prepare duck for roasting and use the following plain filling.

Sprinkle bread crumbs lightly with cold water. Cut onion fine. Fry together quickly in butter the size of an egg. Then add salt, pepper and herbs. Mix well (1 cup of mashed potatoes can be substituted for one of crumbs.)

Duck requires more cooking than turkey or chicken and needs plenty of water in the pan to start with, if an open pan is used.

Mrs. Robert Paden.

GAME.

VENISON.

Roast venison is best to be thoroughly larded, using half a pound of pork to a leg or saddle weighing eight to ten pounds. Cut the flanks from saddle and trim the haunch to good shape.

Roast according to general directions, basting at the end of the first five minutes, and every fifteen minutes after. It is very nice to use claret instead of the dripping of the pan. An hour and a quarter will cook it very rare. For most people an hour and three quarters will be none too much. Make a good gravy from the drippings in the pan, adding stock made from bits trimmed away before roasting.

Currant jelly is usually served with it, but barberry, or wild plum jelly is equally as good.

Mrs. Beulah Bates.

VENISON STEAKS.

Venison steaks are prepared and served like beef steaks, cutting them only about three quarters of an inch thick. Slices of cold roast venison are extremely nice when reheated in brown or curry sauce.

Mrs. Anice Carlton.

SAUTE RABBIT.

Salt.

1 cup hot water.

1 tbs. flour.

Pepper.

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup cold water.

Wipe the rabbit dry and fry it brown. Then nearly cover with hot water and simmer (with lid over) for fifteen minutes. Mix flour with cold water to thicken gravy. Salt and pepper to taste.

Mrs. C. E. Cresse.

MEATS.

Mrs. J. M. Manry, Chairman.

To obtain a tender roast, a steak, or chops, meat should be cooked at a low temperature after the first few minutes, in a covered roaster—this saves the flavor, does away with basting, and gives a tender dish. Water should never be added to the tender cuts while cooking, if cooked in this way.

Miss Mary P. Means.

Place on warm platter with melted butter in it, season with salt on both sides. Add 2 tbs. or more of hot water to drippings for gravy, stir well and pour over steak. Serve immediately with steamed rice so grains stand separately. Garnish with potato chips.

Remove turnips, salt to taste and mash fine. Put in dish and sprinkle over them a little black pepper. Serve with hot corn meal muffins.

Mrs. A. G. Jones.

TURNIP SALAD OR GREENS COOKED WITH PORK.

Greens should be tender and fresh. If wilted, soak in cold water 1 hour. Wash well one peck, or desired amount, cutting off small roots. Put greens in large uncovered boiler, filling two-thirds full of boiling water. If greens are old enough to have large stems to leaves, these should be removed and discarded. This boiling takes away the bitter taste, which so many find objectionable. Drain greens, add small pieces of sliced salt pork, cook in 1 qt. boiling water for 1½ hours more. (Time in cooking depends on how young and tender greens are). Water may be added as it boils away. Water should be evaporated by time greens are ready to serve.

Mrs. W. F. Wimberley.

STRING OR SNAP BEANS WITH PORK.

Beans to be good should be young and tender. If not perfectly fresh should be placed in cold water for an hour. Cut or break ends, taking strings (if any) with them. Dissolve the seasoning and molasses in hot water, pour over the beans, then fill the pot with hot water, cover and bake from 6 to 8 hours, renewing the water as it cooks away until nearly done, then let the water cook away.

Pour into dish, sprinkle over a little black pepper. Serve immediately. Two or three slices of bacon may be cooked with the beans which gives them a delightful flavor. In this case omit milk and butter, using salt and pepper to taste, having about three tbs. of liquid in which beans were cooked.

Mrs. Charles Myers.

Miss Irma Rankin.

DAINTY DESSERTS.

Mrs. J. B. Dinwiddie, Chairman.

Frozen desserts prolong the digestion of a meal, as does a sweet taste, and so are used to finish a meal. There is little food value in water ices, gelatine deserts or cold beverages outside of this fact—pies, ice-creams, puddings, and custards are rich in food value which should be remembered in planning a meal.

CHAPTER XII.

THRIFT CHAPTER.

Recipes Compiled by Mrs. E. B. Havis, Jr.
Co-Chair. Sudie Heard Memorial Com.

IN MEMORIAM, SUDIE HEARD, CHAIRMAN.

It is eminently fitting that this chapter of this book should be prefaced by a few words concerning one who during the war period stood for Thrift in its every phase. Mrs. Heard talked thrift; she worked for thrift; she lived thrift, because it was the duty of the moment; it was the call of her Government to her patriotism. She answered this call as she did every other call to duty, with every fibre of her whole being. She never did anything in a half hearted way.

When the cook book was planned, her ready response to the suggestion of a Thrift Chapter, and her acceptance of the responsibility of such a chapter, gave encouragement to those in charge, but the call to "Come up Higher" came to her, and like a tired little child she lay down to rest, secure in the thought that in the very love and co-operative spirit her example had engendered, those who loved her would carry on her work to completion.

It is in this spirit, the desire to go on with her work, as nearly as possible in her way, in loving memory of Mrs. Heard, her co-workers present this Chapter.

Mrs. Alonzo Richardson,

CHAPTER XIII.

ATLANTA PIONEER CHAPTER.

Mrs. Lollie Belle Wylie—Chairman.

The Atlanta Woman's Pioneer Society is an organization of women residing in Atlanta since the city was a little place called Terminus, in 1847, later Marthasville, (for Miss Martha Lumpkin), and later Atlanta, named by Joseph Thompson, a civil engineer, and Colonel Richard Peters. The name is a coined one, and was probably suggested by the Atlantic ocean, Atlanta being in a way the feminine for Atlantic.

In February, 1909, Mrs. Joseph H. Morgan called together the women who were residents of Terminus, Marthasville and Atlanta, from 1847 to 1870. Fifty prominent women met and organized into the "Atlanta Woman's Pioneer Society." There are about 90 members.

The organization has for its purpose the renewing and perpetuation of early friendships, and the preservation of historical facts and reminiscences of early Atlanta.

Atlanta Woman's Pioneer Society was the first to establish a permanent Memorial Service for its members and this is an annual event with the organization. It is held the first Wednesday in April. An annual picnic is a feature of the social life of the society. The picnics assemble both pioneer men and women.

Mrs. Joseph H. Morgan is the founder of the society and its president for life. The members are home makers, mothers and wives after the old fashion. They are not politicians, and though the members belong to modern organizations for women and take part in church, civic and social life, as individuals, they do no work in the Pioneer Society but meet and talk over old times when potatoes were not bought by the pound, or eggs sold by the twos and threes. They have seen their tables literally groan under the weight of southern dishes, and the following recipes have been contributed by several of the members.

Lollie Belle Wylie.
Historian for Life.

IN LOVING APPRECIATION.

The Home Economics Department wishes to acknowledge its indebtedness to Mrs. John McDougald of Atlanta and Mrs. Lamar Rucker of Athens, daughters of Mrs. Nellie Peters Black, for the recipes which head the Pioneer Chapter.

Mrs. Black was known to all the Southland as a Pioneer in thought and in deed. President, as she was, of the Georgia State Federation of Women's Clubs, she utilized to the utmost the opportunity presented for making acquaintance with all of the women in the state, and particularly the women in the remote farming districts. To them she carried the message of service to Georgia and to the world—she taught them and their husbands the new idea of diversified farming. She was among the first in Georgia to see the handwriting on the wall which doomed the "one-crop" idea, that of cotton, and through her precepts and powerful example, she taught them that Georgia could raise her own food stuffs. Owner of large plantations herself and familiar with every detail in their management, a splendid housewife and mother, she taught not only by precept but through experience. The recipes given below have been shared by Mrs. Black with many Georgia housewives, and we hope through the Cook Book, will help many more.—(The Editors.)

GRAPE NUT JAM.

3 pts. grape pulp.	1 lb. nuts in shell.
3 lbs. sugar.	1 lb. seedless raisins.

Pop the pulp from grapes, cook until tender, save half of the skins, cut in half with scissors and cook in separate vessel until tender, with enough water to cover them. Cook pulp until seeds come out then rub through colander, then add skins, nuts, raisins and sugar. Cook until it jellies. Put in jelly glasses and seal with wax.

HOT STUFF OR CHILI SAUCE.

1/2 peck onions.	2 qts. vinegar.
1/2 peck green bell peppers.	1 cup brown sugar.
1/2 peck green hot peppers.	1 tbs. salt.
1 peck ripe tomatoes.	1 oz. celery seed.

Peel tomatoes after scalding in hot water, then cut up. Grind other ingredients in meat grinder, put all together and cook an hour or more until mellow and brown looking. Delicious with roast beef.

MIXED YELLOW PICKLE ("Miss Nellies" PICKLE).

2 qts. cabbages.	..	1 gallon water.
2 qts. green tomatoes.		2 cups salt.
2 qts. onions.		1 cup mustard.
3 red bell peppers.		2 tbs. tumeric.
3 hot peppers.		1 cup flour.
8 green bell peppers.		4 cups sugar.
3 heads celery.		2 tbs. celery seed.
2 qts. cucumbers.		$\frac{3}{4}$ cup Wesson oil.
2 qts. vinegar.		2 tbs. mustard seed.

Chop vegetables fine or put through coarse meat grinder, cover with salt and water for 24 hours. Drain and dry with towel. Mix dry ingredients with vinegar making paste and gradually adding the 2 quarts, mixing well. Boil, stirring to prevent burning, until thick. Add vegetables, boil a few moments. Add the Wesson's oil when cool.

GRAPE JUICE.

Wash and cover the quantity of grapes to be used, with water. Cook well. Strain through jelly bag. To each quart of juice after it is strained, add one cup of sugar. Then to each gallon of juice add one quart of water. Let this boil 15 to 20 minutes. Put while boiling hot, in warm bottles, cork well and seal with paraffin. The Concord grapes so rich in meat and flavor make the best grape juice. This makes an excellent substitute for the wine we formerly had to offer a guest when calling, and comes "within the law."

Mrs. Joseph H. Morgan,

President of the Womans' Pioneer Society.

CHICKEN FRICASSEE.

Prepare two young chickens for serving, dividing into pieces. Sprinkle with salt and pepper and roll thoroughly on flour. Brown in deep fat. $1\frac{1}{2}$ cups sifted flour.

Dissolve yeast in lukewarm water and add lukewarm milk and one and half cups of flour for sponge, beat until light and let rise. When well risen, add $\frac{1}{3}$ cup melted butter, $\frac{1}{4}$ cup of sugar, $\frac{1}{2}$ t-spoon salt, and one egg well beaten, grating of whole lemon, and flour to make a firm dough, knead and place in well greased pan and let rise again until double in bulk, (about an hour), sprinkle top with chopped almonds and save enough of beaten egg to cover top. Bake in moderate oven from forty-five to fifty minutes.

FAMOUS CREOLE DISHES.

Mrs. Marie Hubert, Chairman.

FOREPIECE.

Creole cookery—magic words! So often a misnomer, being used for concoctions a Creole would never recognize. Within this chapter, on the contrary, will be found, an intimate glimpse into a genuine Creole kitchen. Mrs. Marie Hubert, herself a Creole, of distinguished ancestry, and a famous cuisinière, contributes recipes which have been in her family for generations, and many of which have been priceless. The Atlanta Woman's Club, and our cook book readers, owe Mrs. Hubert much.

The Editors.

FISH A LA CREOLE.

"Nature has blessed New Orleans with a greater abundance and variety of fish, both salt and fresh water kinds, than any other place in the country and the epicurean Creole has taken advantage of this munificence by devising strange and wonderful combinations, that are at once the delight and despair of the visitor."

NEW ORLEANS OYSTER LOAF.

- | | |
|-----------------------|-----------------------------|
| 2 doz. large oysters. | 1 loaf stale bread. |
| 2 eggs. | Salt and pepper. |
| Corn meal. | Kettle full of boiling fat. |

Split the loaf lengthwise, and toast the inner sides, butter generously and put away to keep hot. Drain the oysters, salt and pepper and dip into the eggs, which have been beaten until light; then into sifted cornmeal. Place in wire frying basket and immerse in boiling fat. When they are a golden brown in color, remove from the fat, and place between the halves of toasted and buttered bread. Serve at once. Pickles, catsup and horseradish are usually served at the same time.

FRIED OYSTERS.

The same rule may be followed for fried oysters as that given for New Orleans Oyster Loaf, with the exception that the oysters after being fried are placed on a serving dish, and garnished with sliced pickles, lemon slices, and triangles of toast.

RECIPE FOR MAKING CUBION.

A Great New Orleans Recipe.

2 tbls. lard. 6 tomatoes.
6 green sweet peppers. (sliced) 3 large onions.

Smother above ingredients in lard; when cooked, add 5 lbs. red or any other good fish. Add salt, black and cayenne pepper to taste. Cover tightly and cook for about twenty minutes; then it will be ready to serve.

GREEN PEPPERS STUFFED WITH SHRIMP

1 lb. fresh lake shrimp or Bay loaf.
1 cup canned shrimp. Salt and pepper.
6 slices toasted bread. 6 large green peppers, (seeds removed).
1 onion. 1 green pepper (minced).
2 cloves of garlic.
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup olive oil or drippings.

Brown the onions and garlic in hot fat, add three cups of hot water, the toast, which should have been soaked in water, then squeezed dry, the minced green pepper, the shrimp, bay-leaf, salt and pepper. Let the mixture cook down until thick, stirring from the bottom as it browns. Remove from the fire, and fill the peppers, from which the seeds should have been removed. Fill a baking pan about one-third full of hot water, lay the stuffed peppers in this, and bake forty five minutes in a hot oven.

CRAB SALAD.

$\frac{1}{2}$ doz. crabs. 1 bunch celery.

Put crabs in boiling water, and boil 20 minutes with plenty of salt and red pepper, when cool, pick out meat. The crab meat is sweet and the flavor must not be destroyed by too much seasoning. Mix crab meat, celery and $\frac{1}{2}$ pt. mayonnaise and you will have a delicious salad.

TARTAR SAUCE FOR FISH AND CRABS.

Make a tartar sauce of mayonnaise with a few sprigs of parsley and pickles chopped fine, a few capers and some onion juice to taste. Delicious when served with tenderloin trout, soft shelled crabs or any fish where tartar sauce is required.

SHRIMP AND TOMATO SALAD.

1 lb. fresh shrimp or 1 small green pepper (minced).

- | | |
|---------------------------------|-----------------|
| 1 cup canned shrimp. | Lettuce leaves. |
| 6 large firm tomatoes. | Mayonnaise. |
| 1 stalk heart celery. (chopped) | |

With a small spoon, scoop out the center of the tomatoes. The flesh may be set aside for soup or stews. Cut the shrimp in small pieces. A small onion is an addition. Bind together with a little mayonnaise, fill the tomatoes and set on ice. Serve on lettuce leaf and garnish with nasturtiums and top with a spoonful of mayonnaise.

GUMBO A LA CREOLE.

As one advertiser has it, this is the soup that made New Orleans famous. It is a great fast day soup, as it is so substantial that it constitutes a whole meal in itself, when served with the dry boiled rice that invariably accompanies it. The beef brisket is usually sliced and served with mustard or horseradish, as the meat course that follows when used other than a fast day meal.

- | | |
|---|--------------------------------|
| 6 crabs (boiled and cleaned). | Large onion and garlic minced. |
| 1 lb. lake shrimp (boiled and cleaned). | 2 t-spoons file. |
| | 1 qt. okra (sliced). |
| 1 lb. beef brisket (if desired). | Salt, pepper, bay leaf. |
| 1 lb. canned tomatoes. | |

Brown the onions and garlic in beef drippings or butter. Then add okra and cook until that is brown, then add the shrimp and brown that. Put into a soup pot and cover with two quarts hot water. Salt and pepper the brisket, dredge with flour and brown on both sides in a little fat. Add this to the soup, also the tomatoes, crabs, the claws and bodies of which should be broken; add seasoning last, cover pot and allow to simmer 2 hours. When ready to serve, place some of the crabs in each soup plate with a serving of gumbo; a tbs. of boiled rice is served with each helping at the table. The crabs are eaten with the fingers.

BOILED RICE A LA CREOLE.

- | | |
|-------------------|------------------------------|
| 2 cups head rice. | 2 qts. salted boiling water. |
|-------------------|------------------------------|

Wash rice, stir into boiling water little at a time so as not to disturb the boiling; boil hard for 20 minutes, remove, place in colander and blanch with cold water, drain, put in pot, cover tightly and set on back of stove and allow to steam for 20 minutes or more. Each flake of rice should stand separate.

VEAL DAUBE GLACE A LA CREOLE.

"Much Used In Ante-Bellum Days."

- | | |
|-----------------------------|-------------------------|
| 3 lb. shoulder of veal. | 1 large can tomatoes. |
| 2 tbs. granulated gelatine. | 1 large onion (minced). |
| Bay leaf. | Garlic as desired. |

Have shoulder boned, rolled and tied instead of skewered. Salt and pepper, dredge with flour and brown in hot fat. Remove from pan and brown the onions and garlic in the fat, add gelatine, tomatoes, 2 quarts hot water and seasoning. Return veal to vessel, cover closely and simmer until very tender, then remove very carefully to avoid breaking and place in a mold. Pour over enough stock to cover veal, allow to cool, then place on ice. When ready to serve dip mold an instant in boiling water, turn out on platter in which it is to be served. Slice and garnish with parsley.

RUSSIAN SAUCE FOR COLD MEATS.

- | | |
|---|---|
| ½ pt. of Mrs. Hubert's Mayon-
naise. | 2 tbs. catsup.
A few drops of Tobasco. |
| ¼ lb. grated cheese. | 2 tbs. Worcestershire Sauce. |
- Mix above ingredients well together.

EGG PLANT A LA CREOLE.

- | | |
|----------------------------|----------------------------------|
| 2 large egg plants. | 1 large onion. |
| 6 slices toasted bread. | Several cloves of garlic minced. |
| ½ cup olive oil or butter. | Bay leaf, salt and cayenne. |

Cut egg plant lengthwise and scoop out inside without breaking the skin. Boil skin and all until tender, then remove skins to buttered baking dish and fill with the following mixture. Fry onion and garlic a dark brown in the fat, add egg plant pulp, the toasted bread (broken into bits) salt, cayenne and bay leaf. Let simmer until thick and brown, stirring from the bottom constantly.

EGG BREAD AS MADE IN THE SOUTH.

- | | |
|----------------------------------|----------------------------------|
| 2 cups white corn meal. | ½ cup lard or butter melted. |
| 2 eggs. | Buttermilk to make stiff batter. |
| 1 tbs. soda in 2 tbs. hot water. | 1 t-spoon salt. |
| 1 tbs. sugar. | 1 cup buttermilk. |

Beat eggs until light, add buttermilk, salt, sugar and melted fat; sift cornmeal into this, batter should be rather stiff. Mix soda in a little hot water and stir thoroughly in the above mixture, (adding a little more milk if batter is not right consistency). Pour into well greased hot pan; cook in moderate oven until top is a golden brown. Do not have batter more than one-half inch thick in pan before baking. Cut in squares, split and butter generously; eat hot.

NEW ORLEANS PRALINES.

- | | |
|------------------------|-----------------------------|
| 2 cups powdered sugar. | ½ cup of cream. |
| 1 cup maple syrup. | 2 cups pecan meats (whole). |

Boil sugar, cream and syrup together until mixture forms soft ball tested in cold water. Beat until smooth and creamy, then stir in nuts and drop from t-spoon in small piles on paraffin paper.

DAINTY FROZEN SALAD FOR PARTIES.

- | | |
|-----------------------|-------------------------|
| 1 can white cherries. | 1 can sliced pineapple. |
| 1 can pears. | 6 oranges (pulp). |

Cut fine above ingredients, add orange pulp and enough of equal parts of fruit juices to mix salad. Stir in 1-1/2 pints of Mrs. Hubert's mayonnaise and freeze as you would ice cream. Serve on fancy ferns.

CHAPTER XV.

SCIENTIFIC CANNING.

STATE AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

By Miss Mary Cresswell, State Director Home Economics.
Mrs. Bessie Stanley Wood, Assistant State Agent.

A healthful diet demands the use of fruits and vegetables every day in the year. Of these the most necessary for health, as well as the most neglected, are the green vegetables which appear on many tables only during a brief season. Their use can be made possible during the entire year and the health and prosperity of the home greatly increased by canning the surplus products, which would otherwise be wasted.

For home use, glass jars are more economical because they can be used many times, and with care will last for years. New rubbers must be used each year, and it pays to get the best quality of red rubbers.

When screw cap jars are used, new caps are usually essential for success. The best type of jar for home use is one with so-called "lightning" seal, having glass lid and wire clamp. This lid is not only more sanitary, but can be used as long as the jar lasts. For intermittent processing the lightning seal jars are suitable, because the lifting of the wire clamp each day during processing insures that the jar will not be broken by expansion and the rubber not worn by the unscrewing of the cap.

TYPES OF CANNERS.

In choosing a canner the kind and amount of canning to be done should be considered. The least expensive of the commercial outfits is the small hot-water canner. Some of the advantages are that it is easily handled by inexperienced people and it is also preferable to other canners for processing fruits and tomatoes. The texture, flavor and color of the finished products so processed at boiling temperature are superior to those which have been canned at higher temperature.

HOT WATER CANNER.

An outfit which can be placed on the kitchen stove, is the simplest form of hot-water canner. Blanching trays, a false bottom, tongs for handling hot jars are also included in these outfits. There are several types of portable canners on the market at very reasonable prices.

STEAM PRESSURE CANNER.

Another type of canning outfit is one which is constructed of strong material and provided with a closely fitting lid. When in operation it is possible to hold steam under pressure and obtain a correspondingly high temperature, but since the canner is made of heavy material a greater degree of heat is required to bring the temperature up quickly. This canner has a steam gauge and thermometer attached to the lid and these register the temperature and the corresponding number of pounds of pressure. Much time, labor and fuel can be saved by using a steam pressure canner.

PREPARATION OF VEGETABLES.

In securing a fine quality, much depends upon having the vegetables or fruit absolutely fresh, crisp and clean, and kept cool. Have all surroundings and utensils spotlessly clean, and carry on all steps from beginning to end of any lot of canning as rapidly as possible. A good slogan is "one hour from the field to the can". First have cans and lids thoroughly washed and scalded. Sort and grade fruit, discarding all defective ones, and use together those of same size. Use only uniformly well ripened products. In canning, the flavor is retained only when young, tender, quickly grown vegetables are used.

STEPS TAKEN IN CANNING IN GLASS.

1. Sorting and grading fruit or vegetables, washing, peeling, etc.

2. Scalding, peeling and coring (for tomatoes). Put into trays and lower into boiling water for one minute. Remove at once to prevent cooking. Plunge into cold water to make the fruit firm, and peel promptly. In tomato peeling use a slender pointed knife to cut out the core and be careful not to cut into the seed cells. Keep the tomatoes whole when possible.

3. Blanching consists of plunging the vegetables or fruit into boiling water for a short time. Use a wire basket or cheese cloth square for this. The blanch gives a more thorough cleaning, removes the strong odor and flavor from certain kinds of vegetables, improves the texture and gives a clearer liquor. It also shrinks the fruit or vegetable and makes it more flexible. A full pack is then more easily made. The time required for blanching varies with the state of maturity. Beans should be blanched until tender enough to bend without breaking. Peaches will pack better if blanched for an instant in water below boiling (about 180 degrees F.), lowering peaches into it for fifteen seconds. The same blanch will make the hard varieties of pears pack better and give them a more transparent appearance; and used for cherries will prevent splitting and cracking. Spraying fruit with cold water after blanching will make it firmer. Frequently it is well to put the vegetables into cold water for an instant after blanching to make more crisp. In blanching asparagus, tie a few stalks into each bundle, lower bundles into water, tips up, blanching the lower ends one or two minutes before immersing the tips. Blanch the tips only two or three minutes.

4. Packing. After selecting fruit or vegetables for uniformity in ripeness and size and after blanching, it should be arranged with reference to symmetry and the best use of the space with the jar. In placing the fruit or vegetables in a jar, a thin, slender, flexible paddle made out of cane is useful. This paddle is also used to take out bubbles of air by running it down the side of the jar to touch these bubbles after the liquor has been added to the pack.

5. Adjustment. Before placing the cap be sure that the rubber is flattened in its groove, without the presence of any seed or particle of the fruit. When a screw top jar is used, screw the cap evenly about half way. When a glass top jar with wire clamp is used, place lid on evenly and raise both clamps up, the upper one fastened to hold the lid in place. With an hermetic jar, fasten the cap on the jar evenly with the clamp. The last jar is self-sealing as it cools. The clamp must not be removed until the jar is entirely cold.

6. Processing. Place the jars in a water bath on a rack (wooden one best) to avoid breaking. Have water the same temperature as the contents, letting it come to within two inches of the top of jars. Have a tight cover for the vessel to keep in the steam. Do not count time until the water begins to boil; keep it boiling steadily for the time required. Seal the jars airtight promptly at end of processing and remove them from the bath, being careful not to allow a cold draft to strike them. In intermittent processing, raise the clamp of each jar at the beginning of each processing to allow for expansion. Seal at close of each processing. The hermetic jar is not a suitable one for intermittent processing.

7. Label and store products in a cool, dry, dark place.

SYRUPS.

In the instructions for canning fruits, syrups of appropriate density for standard products are indicated. These are made of varying densities, as indicated by a Balling saccharometer. Each syrup indicated by number represents the degrees from 10 to 50 degrees. No. 1 syrup is of 10 degrees density, No. 2 of 20 degrees density, and so on.

To make these syrups, boil sugar and water together in the proportion given below until sugar is dissolved. Strain all impurities out of the syrup before using:

Syrup No. 1 use 14 oz. to 1 gal. water.

Syrup No. 2 use 1 lb. 14 oz. to 1 gal. water.

Syrup No. 3 use 3 lb. 9 oz. to 1 gal. water.

Syrup No. 4 use 5 lb. 8 oz. to 1 gal. water.

Syrup No. 5 use 6 lb. 13 oz. to 1 gal. water.

PRESERVING.

A preserve is the product resulting when fruits are cooked in syrup until clear and transparent. When properly made the fruit in the preserve keeps its form, is plump, tender, clear and of good color; the surrounding syrup is also clear and of proper density.

In making preserves, the object is to have the fruit permeated with the syrup. It is well known that if two liquids of different densities be brought into contact with each other, they tend to mix or diffuse until they equalize each other and become of equal density. This diffusion takes place through the cell walls of fruit or vegetables as readily as if they were not present between the fruit juice and the denser liquid syrup. When fruit is placed at once in a very heavy syrup, the difference in density between the two liquids is so great that the syrup absorbs the fruit juice so rapidly that the fruit shrinks and becomes shriveled and toughened. The syrup can then enter the fruit with great difficulty. In order to prevent this shrinking it is necessary to put fruit at first in thin syrup and increase its density slowly enough for diffusion to take place and the fruit be permeated with the syrup. This is done by boiling the fruit in syrup or by alternately cooking and allowing the product to stand immersed in the syrup, the density of the syrup being increased by evaporation or by substituting a heavier syrup for the lighter one after each period of standing. If at any time the fruit shrivels or wrinkles, the syrup should be made less dense by the addition of water. If this process be carried on gradually enough the fruit may be completely saturated with sugar (as is the case with crystallized products) without shrinking.

JAMS AND MARMALADES.

In making jam the whole fruit is used, but prepared in such a way as to give a mixture alike throughout, not having the fruit remain whole and the syrup clear as in preserves. The small fruits are ordinarily used for jams, while larger ones are sliced and made into marmalades in which the product is not smooth in consistency, but has the fruit appearing in small pieces throughout the mixture.

GRAPE MARMALADE.

Select grapes about one-half of which are under-ripe rather than entirely ripe. Wash and stem the fruit. Separate the pulp from the skins. Cook pulps for 10 minutes and press through a sieve or colander to remove seeds. Add $\frac{3}{4}$ cup water to each quart of skins and boil until tender. Then put the pulp and skins together and measure. For every quart of the mixture, use 1 pound of sugar. Bring the fruit to a boil, add the sugar, cook, stirring frequently until it will give the jelly test or reaches 222 Fahrenheit. Pour into sterilized jars and process as for jam and preserves.

SPICED GRAPES.

Soften hulls and pulps and combine as for canned grapes. For every 5 pounds fresh fruit, use 2-1/2 pounds sugar, 2 ounces ground cinnamon, 1-1/2 ounces cloves, 1 cup vinegar. Boil over slow fire for one hour. Put into sterilized jars and process pints at simmering for 30 minutes.

FIG CONSERVE.

2 lbs. fresh figs or	$\frac{1}{2}$ lb. raisins.
1 qt. figs (plain canned).	$1\frac{1}{2}$ lbs. sugar.
1 orange.	$\frac{1}{3}$ cup pecans (shelled).
$\frac{1}{3}$ tsp. salt.

Cut all, except nuts, into small pieces and cook until thick and transparent, about 1 hour. Add nuts five minutes before removing from stove. Pack into sterilized jars and process pint jars at simmering 30 minutes.

GRAPE MINCE MEAT.

Pulp grapes and add 1 cup water to each quart pulps. Boil until tender and eliminate seed. Run hulls through meat chopper, using coarsest plate, and cook until soft. Mix pulp, juice and hulls. To each quart of mixture add pulp 1 lemon, ground white rind of lemon, 2 cups sugar, 2 tsp. cinnamon, 2 tsp. nutmeg. Boil until smooth, thick consistency and it flakes from spoon. Put into sterilized jars and simmer pints 30 minutes. To a pint of this mince meat, add 1 pint chopped apple for making pies.

GRAPE KETCHUP.

4 lbs. grapes, 2 tbsp. cinnamon, 1 tbsp. cloves, 1 tbsp. allspice, 1 cup vinegar, 1 tbsp. salt, 2 lbs. sugar, a little cayenne if desired.

Stew the grapes until soft and remove seeds. Use whole spices and tie in a bag to prevent darkening the product. Add the spices, sugar, salt and vinegar and simmer for 15 minutes. Put into sterilized bottles and seal.

PEACH JAM.

2-1/4 lbs. peaches cut in small pieces, 1 lb. sugar, 1 2 cup juice, tsp. bark cinnamon, 5 allspices berries, 1 cracked peach seed, 10 whole cloves, 1 sprig mace, 1 inch ginger root. Tie spice in cheese cloth bag.

APPLES shrink more in canning than most fruits and for this reason should be blanched for one minute. Plunge them into cold bath, then pack. Cover with No. 1 syrup. Process quart jars 10 to 12 minutes. Exhaust No. 3 cans two minutes and process eight minutes at boiling temperature (212° Fahrenheit).

For DEWBERRIES, BLACKBERRIES and RASPBERRIES, practically the same methods of canning may be used. The condition of the fruit will have much to do with the quality of the product. The berries should be gathered in shallow trays or baskets and not in deep vessels which allow them to be bruised and crushed. They should be uniformly ripe, sound and as large as possible. It is necessary to can all varieties of berries in glass or else to put them in enamel lined cans, because if canned in ordinary tin cans, the berries will lose color and flavor very quickly, and be unfit for use for sale.

The flavor of canned berries will be finer if sugar is used in canning. It is best to make this into a syrup. The use of berry juice instead of water in this syrup will give a richer color and flavor. For fine berries, use a syrup of 30 degrees density (about 3-1/2 lbs. sugar to one gal. juice or water).

After the berries have been carefully sorted and lightly washed by placing in colander and pouring water over them instead of putting into a pan of water, pack as closely as possible without crushing. This can be done by putting a few berries in the jar, pressing them gently into place and proceeding layer by layer, than by nearly filling the jar loosely and then trying to press them down.

Fill jars full of fruit, and cover with cooled syrup. Fit rubber, and then the lid, loosely on glass jar and process pints six minutes, quarts 12 minutes, counting the time after boiling begins.

CHERRIES keep their flavor and color with difficulty in tin, even in enamel lined cans. For this reason glass is preferable. When canned whole they should be blanched to prevent splitting and then dropped into a cool syrup to plump. For sour cherries use No. 4 syrup; for sweet ones No. 3. Process quart 25 minutes.

FIGS for canning should be sound and firm. They may be treated with the soda bath as for preserving (see p. 36), cooked in the syrup from 40 to 60 minutes, then cooled and packed in No. 3 syrup and processed for 30 minutes in quart jars.

Before preparing PEACHES make fruit Syrup No. 3 or 4 (see table), allowing about one cup water for each quart jar or No. 3 can. Put in one cracked peach pit for every quart of syrup. Boil for five minutes and strain.

Sort the fruit, using firm, sound, uniform peaches for canning, and putting aside the soft broken ones for jam. Peeling may be done by placing the peaches in a wire basket or cheese cloth square and immersing in boiling water about one minute, until skins slip easily. Remove, plunge for a minute into cold water and slip off the skins. Cut into halves, remove seeds and immerse in the hot syrup. Allow to stand in the syrup until thoroughly cold. Pack at once, placing halves in overlapping layers, the concave surface of each half being downward and the blossom end facing glass. Fill each jar with syrup and paddle carefully to remove air bubbles. Process quart 20 minutes and half gallon, 35 minutes.

Firm, perfect peaches may be lye peeled, but if very ripe the fruit is made too soft by this process. Have ready a boiling lye solution (4 tbs. concentrated lye to one gal. water). Immerse the peaches in it for about 20 to 30 seconds. Lift them out and drop into clear boiling water for a like period. Then put through two cold water baths and in the second rub off all remaining skin. Keep the lye hot and abandon it for a fresh solution as soon as it turns dark.

Select PEARS ripe but not soft. Peel, blanch, put in cold soda bath (1 tsp. soda to 1 gal. water), drain and pack rapidly. When packed whole, leave stems on and place each layer stems up, letting the second row fill the spaces between the two stems and repeat. Pack pears in No. 3 syrup and process quarts 30 minutes.

Select sound uniform PLUMS, prick with needle to prevent bursting. Pack as firmly as possible without crushing, in No. 4 syrup and process quarts for 15 minutes.

Use GRAPES sound but not dead ripe. Weigh and pulp. Heat pulp over a slow fire until soft, then run through a colander to get rid of seeds. Add 1 cup water to each quart hulls and cook slowly until tender. Combine hulls and pulps and add 1 pound sugar for each 6 pounds fresh fruit. Boil 5 minutes. Put into sterilized jars and process pint jars at simmering 30 minutes.

It is of the greatest importance that ASPARAGUS for canning be fresh and tender. Select tips of uniform size and maturity, and wash them. Cut in right length for cans; scrape off tough outer skin and tie in bundles. Blanch by immersing the lower ends part way in boiling water for two minutes. Then immerse the entire tips for one to two minutes longer. Plunge into cold water, then pack neatly having the tips up. Fill jars with brine (4 oz. salt to 1 gal. water) and process intermittently, one hour daily for three days.

The Refugee is a good variety. STRING BEANS should be tender and fresh. When the beans within the pod have grown to any size canning is more difficult and the product of poorer quality from a commercial standpoint. For canning only well sorted, small, tender beans should be used. String the beans and cut them into two-inch lengths, cutting diagonally or "on the bias" giving a pretty product. In glass they may be canned whole, packed log cabin fashion in square jars. Blanch three to eight minutes and plunge into cold water for an instant. Drain well and pack quickly, cover with brine (2- $\frac{1}{2}$ oz. salt to 1 gal. water), process intermittently, or if very young, tender beans are used, process for two consecutive hours.

Lima, or Butter Beans, are treated as string beans, blanching 2 to 5 minutes. Always process intermittently. Add sugar and salt mixture as for corn.

The best variety of BEET for canning is the Detroit. From a standpoint of quality, only young tender beets should be canned. Sort, putting uniform sizes together. Boil until three-fourths done, peel, pack in layers of three or four, fitting the second layer into the spaces left by the first layer and repeat. Cover with clear hot water. Process quart jars 1 to 2 hours. Do not allow cold water to touch the beets after they have been cooked.

CARROTS—Proceed the same as for beets, processing one hour.

Only the Spanish varieties of SWEET PEPPER, known as pimentos are suitable for canning. The fruit of these peppers has very thick meat, tough skin and is comparatively smooth and free from ridges. Peppers should be ripe, sound and free from bruises. Prepare for peeling by placing peppers in a hot oven for 6 to 8 minutes. Peel, cut out stem, remove seeds and pack dry in flattened layers. No water is used in the preparation of these peppers; the processing brings out a thick liquor which almost covers them in the can. In glass a good package is a 10 ounce tumbler-shaped jar with hermetic cap. Process this jar 25 minutes and pint jars 30 minutes.

SOUP MIXTURE.

Any desired mixture of vegetables may be packed for home use. For the standard club product use 1/2 tomato pulp, 1/4 corn, or tiny lima beans and 1/4 okra, with seasoning of salt, sugar, pepper and slice of onion for each can. Heat the tomatoes, put through a sieve to remove seeds and cook down to about the consistency of ketchup. Measure, add the corn or beans and okra and seasoning. Cook together for 10 minutes, then pack in No. 2 cans or glass jars. Exhaust 5 minutes and process 1 hour continuously or intermittently. With tomatoes not red enough add 1 c. pimento to each gallon of pulp. This also adds flavor.

Peel TOMATOES so as to keep as nearly whole as possible. Cut out the core with a slender pointed knife without cutting into the seed cells. Pack only red ripe, sound tomatoes whole or in large pieces. Put 2 teaspoonfuls of the sugar and salt mixture in each quart jar. Process quart jars 25 to 30 minutes.

In glass for home use whole tomatoes may be packed and surrounded with cooked tomato juice, giving when opened, a sauce for soups and whole tomatoes for salads or other use.

CHAPTER XVI.

SCHOOL AND BUSINESS LUNCHESES.

Mrs. S. R. Dull.

This day and time we keep well by proper eating, so every home maker, should be informed about food stuffs. It is an old subject, but always new, and as long as the world stands will be needed. Get away from medicines and learn how to prepare meals and lunches which will keep the family well. Does it pay? Your pay is rosy cheeked children, a well and happy family.

First, it is important to know something about the person for whom the lunch is being made, whether he is lean or fat, old or young, whether outdoor worker or inside. The man or woman who sits all day requires less and a different kind of lunch from the one who does not. The strong, fat, romping child would need a different lunch from the thin child who does not romp. The playing of children means to them what work does to the grown-ups and growing children require a good deal of food to build the body.

It is necessary for those carrying lunches to co-operate with the one who prepares them by eating all kinds of food, and thus keep the body well. Some folks pamper their appetites, eating just what they like, never getting a balanced meal, and then wonder why they have so many ailments. They do not stop to think that it could be improper eating. Some of their digestive organs are never exercised, while others are over-taxed.

We used to think we should have a balanced meal each time, but now many of our good specialists say if we get it in the three meals of the day it is just as well. This last method is easiest for the housewife. Consequently, you could fix for some a lunch entirely of fruit. Have cereals, milk, bread and butter for breakfast, and meat, vegetables, salads and desserts for dinner. If you prefer, there can be a more general mixture in all meals—the person and occasion would determine this.

For fixing lunches, the first thing needed is the proper tools with which to work: a good sharp knife, waxed or white paper, rubber bands and the lunch box, which should contain a teaspoon, jelly glass with top, or the equivalent, a drinking cup and if soup or milk is ever carried, a small thermos bottle.

Next, the bread is considered—whether you are to make at home or buy, what kinds, white, whole wheat, graham or biscuit; brown or nut bread, too, occasionally. Since sandwiches are the most convenient way of carrying lunches, the bread is an important part and the sandwiches we will put in two classes, meat or salad, and sweet. The first kind is made of meat, eggs, cheese or nuts. If the person does not require much meat, a small portion chopped and shredded can be spread more evenly. Have your butter soft, so it can be readily spread—you cannot spread hard butter and to melt it gives an entirely different taste.

For grown folks and large children, a slice of pickle or mayonnaise may be added to the meat; in this case you can leave out these made of salad. Sandwiches of lean meat, eggs, cheese, fish (sardines), or nuts is protein food and for building and re-building the body. The lunch is apt to have more of this particular food, so the lunch maker should see that cereals and all vegetables, particularly green or leaf ones, are given in the meals eaten at home. Vegetables and cereals give energy and heat and are just as important.

The sweet sandwiches made of jam, jelly, cottage cheese, raisins, nuts, fresh and dried fruit, give more heat and energy, as well as some minerals and some protein. Fat meat, butter, mayonnaise (oil) and nuts give still more and supply the fats for the body. You can readily see it is important to vary the lunch.

The breakfasts in many homes have become rather scant and I wonder if it is wise. The school teacher says "NO", that the child who does not have a good, substantial breakfast and time to eat it is the one who becomes restless, tired and cannot study well and often is not the bright child.

From the above list, many lunches may be formed. A few additional lunch suggestions follow:

SCHOOL CHILD'S LUNCH.

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1 meat sandwich. | 6 nuts, cracked, picked and wrapped in waxed paper. |
| 1 jam or jelly sandwich. | 1 slice of cake or cookies. |
| 1 apple or orange. | |
| 2 or 3 pieces of candy or sweet chocolate. | |

BUSINESS MAN'S LUNCH.

- | | |
|--------------------|----------------------------|
| 2 meat sandwiches. | 1 jam or sweet sandwich or |
| 1 cheese sandwich. | 1 fruit tart or pie. |

THE BUSINESS WOMAN.

- 2 meat sandwiches.

1 tasty or salad sandwich which contains pickle, celery or something pertaining to a salad mixture. Something sweet—stuffed dates, candy, slice of cake, sweet sandwiches (sliced pineapple with mayonnaise).

The drink to be carried or bought.

CHAPTER XVII.

FIRELESS COOKERY.

Mrs. J. B. Rowe, Chairman.

The average housewife desires efficiency in the home. The duty of nourishing the family, which heretofore has required, not only thought and work in preparing the meals but much time has been minimized by fireless cookery, the principle of which is simplicity itself.

In the fireless there is little evaporation. Food retains its full weight, flavor and nutriment; does not overcook, burn or dry out. It needs no turning, stirring or basting, and may remain in the cooker hours after it is cooked, and still be hot and delicious.

The saving in fuel is about 80%. The heat used to cook the food is stored up in radiators or stones, which may be heated by any kind of fuel, and require only a few minutes to heat sufficiently, to cook thoroughly any kind of food, that by the old method required hours of continuous fire. After the food is placed in the cooker, the cooker is sealed and no more thought given it until time to serve, eliminating heat from the stove, confusion in the kitchen, and constant watching.

SELECTION OF COOKER.

Care should be taken in selecting because it lasts a life time and the best is found to be the most economical. The following considerations are essential to obtain the best results.

SELECT A COOKER

A. With a steam valve in the lid.

B. That is lined with seamless aluminum, and is metal outside so that it may be thoroughly washed and not contain odors of food, from one cooking to the next.

C. That has a thermometer and table of rules for heating, radiators and a book on instructions.

It is advisable to buy the stand on which to set the cooker thus making it a convenient height, and avoiding any chance of rust on the bottom of the cooker.

DIFFERENT WAYS FOOD MAY BE COOKED.

Foods may be roasted, baked, steamed, stewed, boiled, fried and broiled in the fireless. The baked variety includes pies, pastries, cakes and puddings. Fruit may be canned by the fireless method.

Since the fireless retains cold just as well as heat, delicious tidbits may be frozen in it. Ice cream may be made early in the morning in a freezer, and packed in the fireless in the regular way (taking just the can containing the cream, placing it in one compartment of the cooker, and packing around it three parts of ice to one of salt). Seal the cooker and it will stay hard from eight to ten hours.

Foods are prepared in the usual way, using the same recipe as for a regular stove, and then placed in cooker.

The difference in cooking such as baking or boiling is in the number of radiators used and difference in degrees of temperature.

A rule will be found in the instruction book governing each. The cooking time is about the same as on the regular stove.

THE THINGS TO KNOW ARE:

- A. Right temperature of radiators.
- B. When to use one or two radiators.
- C. When to use and when not to use covers of utensils.
- D. When to use water with the food and right amount to use.
- E. How to place the radiators close enough to the food to have the proper heat contact.
- F. How to clear utensils, steam valve, and radiators.

Fireless cooking is done by fixed rule, and if the food is properly placed in the cooker, the radiators heated to the proper temperature and placed correctly, the fireless left unopened until cooking is complete, it will be impossible to have anything but good results.

The instruction book with each cooker teaches these rules. The fireless method is so simple and economical, that every house wife should teach her servant to use it.

Owing to limited space only recipes will be given for each kind of food, which differs in treatment in the cooker. Other recipes will be found in regular recipe chapters.

CEREALS. OAT MEAL.

Time—over night. Place oat meal in double boiler of fireless.

BOILED RICE.

Heat one radiator to 450 degrees, and place rice, cold and raw on radiator in cooker for one hour or longer.

SOUPS. SOUP STOCK.

4 lbs. soup meat and bone.	2½ qts. water.
1 onion.	1 carrot.
1 tbls. salt.	¼ t-spoon pepper.
1 stalk celery.	½ bay leaf.
1 turnip.

Bring the entire mixture to a boiling point and allow to simmer ten minutes. Place in cooker for eight hours or over night. Remove and skim fat from top before using. Use one radiator.

TOMATO SOUP.

Boil 5 minutes and place in cooker for 2 hours. Use 1 radiator. GREEN OR SNAP BEANS (Southern Style).

String beans, leaving whole; place three strips of bacon or salt pork in bottom of pail, then beans on top. Remove to cooker three to four hours, using one hot radiator, 450 to 500 degrees.

BAKED MACARONI WITH CHEESE.

1 hour in fireless, between 2 radiators—heated 450 degrees.

MEATS—ROAST BEEF.

The best shaped roast to prepare for cooking by fireless is a rolled roast from five to eight pounds. Prepare in the usual way for oven. Then put roast in the largest vessel and raise temperature of the two radiators to highest possible point; then place the vessel in the large compartment and allow it to remain twenty minutes for each pound, or fifteen minutes per pound if desired rare.

Never use water when roasting beef. The fireless process is the most satisfactory method of all for cooking meat; enough juice from the meat is developed during the cooking to make the best gravy ever served. During the cooker method this juice acts as a self baster.

ROAST LAMB.

Select a small leg of lamb and cut off the shank, and season well in the usual way. Place in the largest vessel and use both. Prepare gravy in usual style. Use two radiators heated 500 degrees. Allow thirty minutes or more for each pound of meat.

VEAL LOAF.

Three hours. Use two radiators. Heat 475 degrees.

ROAST CHICKEN.

The time necessary for roasting a chicken depends on the age of the bird. 1½ hours is sufficiently long for a young chicken but an older one should be roasted two hours, and a very tough chicken three hours. Old chickens will turn out as tender and savory as spring chickens. Prepare chicken by usual method for oven. It will not be necessary to heat the chicken to brown before it has been placed in the fireless. If both radiators are made hot the chicken when roasted will turn out very nice and brown. The chicken therefore can be placed cold in the vessel and placed at once in the cooker for roasting. It is not necessary to open the cooker for basting as the hot steam prevents burning. Heat 500 degrees.

ESCALLOPED POTATOES.

Peel and slice one quart raw potatoes, place in kettle one layer of potatoes and small pieces of butter, salt and pepper, and slice one small onion until required quantity is prepared. Pour one pint of scalding milk over this, sprinkle with bread crumbs and place in the fireless. Use two radiators heated 450 degrees and bake $2\frac{1}{2}$ hours.

APPLE PIE.

Place in the fireless, using two radiators heated 450 degrees for about 40 minutes. Any fruit pies can be baked like this.

PUMPKIN PIE.

Line pan with pie pastry—using 1 crust only.

2 eggs well beaten.

2 cups milk.

$\frac{3}{4}$ cup sugar.

$1\frac{1}{2}$ cups pumpkin.

Salt to taste, season with nutmeg, cinnamon and a little ginger. Add a little melted butter. Bake in the fireless 30 minutes. Use two radiators heated 450 degrees. When cold cover with whipped cream, seasoned to taste with vanilla and sugar.

CHAPTER XVIII.

DISCOVERIES.

Mrs. Frank J. Graham, Chairman.

The old saying "Tis the little things in life that count" has inspired us to give you this chapter of little things that have counted in the lives of others. It is our sincere wish that "Discoveries" may prove of use to the possessors of the Atlanta Woman's Club Cook Book.

REFRIGERATORS—To keep refrigerators pure, wash out twice a week with sal-soda and cold water.

Mrs. R. M. Striplin.

MERINGUE—If meringue or any egg mixture is cooked in oven too hot, it invariably falls. Cook in moderate oven or leave oven door open.

Mrs. W. B. Price-Smith.

FISH—will scale much easier if dipped into boiling water.

Mrs. Porter King.

IODINE—may be removed from any fabric by soaking the article in lime water.

Mrs. Alonzo Richardson.

SILVER—To clean easily, put pieces into a large pan of boiling water, into which you have put a small amount of Ivory soap flakes. When tarnish has disappeared, rinse in hot water and dry thoroughly.

Mrs. M. H. Stevens.

SHERBET—In making fruit sherbet, add a pinch of salt. Sherbet will have more body and taste better.

Ida Crossett.

GILT FRAMES—When gilt frames are new, go over with a coat of colorless varnish. All specks can then be washed off with water without injuring.

Mrs. W. F. Melton.

CLEANING FLUID FOR BLANKETS.

2 bars ivory soap (grated). 1 gal water.

6 tbs. powdered borax.

Mix above ingredients thoroughly, place on fire and dissolve. When cold add 6 or 8 tbs. household ammonia. Make this mixture the day before planning to use. This forms a white jelly which, when used in the proportion of a cup of mixture to several gallons of water, cleanses perfectly.

TO SET COLORS.

1 tbs. alcohol. $\frac{1}{2}$ gal. water.

1 tbs. turpentine. $\frac{1}{2}$ cup salt.

Soak goods over night to retain color. Fold cloth carefully and place in tub, pouring over the above mixture. The next morning take out, but do not wring. Stretch on line and pin with clothes pins. Cloth thus treated needs pressing. If goods should be shrunk, heat the mixture before pouring over.

Mrs. Hugh Willet.

PUNCH—When making punch, put large silver spoon in bottom of bowl, add ice. In this way there is no danger of breaking bowl. Put silver teaspoon in jelly glass. You can fill slowly with no danger of breaking glass.

Mrs. J. A. Carlisle.

CURDLING—In serving acid fruits, put a large piece of ice in dish with fruit; then pour cream over all. The cream will not curdle.

Mrs. Lee Hagan.

MINT—Fresh mint and parsley placed in air-tight fruit jars will keep in good condition for a number of days.

Mrs. Beaumont Davison.

RECIPE HOLDER—Paste an envelope in your cook book for new recipes.

Miss Cobbie Vaughn.

TO LOOSEN FRUIT SKINS—To quickly peel ripe tomatoes—and peaches, immerse for a moment in boiling water, which will loosen the skin.

Mrs. Chas. Evans.

TO BEAT EGGS—In beating eggs separately add pinch of salt to whites. They beat more quickly in this way. Then add a little of the beaten whites to the yolks as the yolks beat up nicer.

TO PRESERVE EGGS—use one part Silicate of Soda, (liquid glass) to ten parts of water which has been boiled and cooled. Put fresh, clean eggs in an earthen or glass vessel and cover with a weight to keep them submerged in liquid. Wash off before using.

These will keep indefinitely and are good for all cooking purposes, with the exception of boiling and poaching.

Do not wash eggs first, as it removes the natural coating.

Mrs. C. E. Cresce.

CORN and batter breads should be made with fresh buttermilk. Biscuits are better when made with buttermilk a little acid.

TO SWEETEN MILK—Add a little sweet milk to buttermilk which has become sour. It will be quite fresh again. Taste it and use own judgment in regard to amount to add.

SCORCH—In boiling, if contents become scorched, immediately remove vessel from fire and set in pan of cold water. In a few minutes the scorched taste will have disappeared. Put food in another vessel, discarding the scorched part, reheat and serve.

Mrs. J. A. Carlisle.

INSECTS IN VEGETABLES—Before using vegetables that form heads such as lettuce, cabbage, cauliflower, wash thoroughly, cover with cold water; adding a little vinegar. Let stand for 30 minutes or longer. Any insects hidden within will immediately crawl out. Also, your vegetables become crisp and fresh from being in the cold water.

Mrs. W. F. Wimberly.

TO SEAL JELLY—Put paraffine in jelly glasses and pour in your hot jelly. When cold, the jelly will be covered and sealed without any trouble.

TO OPEN A COCOANUT—bore hole in eye and empty milk. Put in hot oven and the heat will crack the shell, so that meat can be removed easily.

RELISH—Chopped onion and parsley added to any dumplings greatly improves their taste.

POTATOES—Parboil potatoes before putting in soup.

Mrs. G. B. Denman.

INK STAINS—Salt on fresh ink stains will help to remove them.

TO WHIP CREAM—When whipping cream, add the white of one egg to each cupful of cream. It will be firmer and double in quantity. Whip egg and cream separately, put together and then whip a little more.

Mrs. R. M. Striplin.

SUGAR SAVING—To save sugar in cooking acid fruits, add a pinch of soda when cooking. If this is done, it will be necessary to use about one-half as much sugar.

PIN FEATHERS—To pick out the pin feathers of a fowl, use a small pair of tweezers.

CUT GLASS—When washing cut glass, add a little borax to the suds and rinse in water with a few drops of bluing.

Mrs. J. B. Rowe.

INSECTS—The best remedy for ants is cayenne pepper spread on shelves. Moths will avoid clothes sprinkled with turpentine.

Mrs. Newton C. Wing.

POTATOES—May be baked more quickly by putting them in boiling water, for a few minutes, before putting them into the oven.

Mrs. George S. Obear, Jr.

DRY SALT—A little corn starch in the salt cellar will keep the salt dry.

Mrs. Clarence Bemis.

USE A HAIRPIN—To keep the outlets of bowls, bath tubs or laundry tubs clean, use a buttonhook, or wire hairpin straightened out, and then hooked at the end.

WATER CURE—If onions are peeled under cold water, it does away with the odor and does not cause the eyes to smart.

ICING—To prevent icing from running, lightly dust cake with corn starch.

SCORCH STAINS—may be removed immediately with dry starch and then sponging off. Repeat if necessary.

TAR—Every Mother of small children will be glad to know that tar may be removed from clothing by rubbing with kerosene or turpentine.

NO STARCH—Do not put cotton articles that contain starch away for the winter, as the starch will cause them to rot.

SHELVES—Varnishing or enameling shelves or the inside of drawers, looks better, and they can be kept cleaner, than by use of paper.

Mrs. Newton C. Wing.

DUST—Left over tea leaves kept moist in a cup and sprinkled on a floor to be swept, will prevent any dust.

IRON RUST—To remove iron rust from white material, wet the goods with lemon juice, rub on salt and put in sunshine.

Mrs. J. L. Minson.

GRAVY—Keep a pot of beef extract on hand to use for soup on quick notice, or for gravy. If for soup, cook vegetables in clear water, strain and add one or more teaspoonsful of the extract.

BROOMS—Always buy a new broom before the old one is worn out, so that the old one may be used for rough work.

Mrs. Charles E. Myers.

DUST—Use a paint brush to remove dust from the cracks and carving on furniture.

Mrs. E. G. Foreacre.

ODORS—After peeling onions rub salt or a raw potato on hands and you will find that the onion odor will disappear.

CURDLED MAYONNAISE—When mayonnaise curdles the quickest way to bring it back is to take a teaspoonful of cold water, mix in a generous pinch of corn starch stir smooth and beat slowly into the curdled mayonnaise.

Mrs. Roger Winter.

WHEN FRYING—Add a little salt to the fat, when frying croquets or doughnuts and it will not spatter on the stove.

GASOLINE—The ring sometimes left in clothes, when cleaned with gasoline, may be removed by steaming over a teakettle.

MEALY POTATOES—Baked potatoes will cook mealy if the ends are nipped off before putting in the oven.

Mrs. John Carlson.

SCORCHING—A pan of salt in the oven, under the baking, will prevent scorching.

GELATINE—When unmolding a gelatine dessert, first pour cold water over the dish on which you wish to unmold it, shaking off as much as possible. If the mold fails to fall into the proper place, it is an easy matter to slide it into position.

Mrs. W. Frank Daub.

IRONING BOARDS—may be protected from dust by taking long paper bags of desired width, cutting bottom from bags, and pasting together to required length. Slip over board when not in use.

Lucy Parker.

COLORING—To color successfully and daintily chiffon, veiling artificial flowers, feathers, wings, straw hat braid, etc., take a small amount of tube oil paint, which artists use, thin with gasoline, according to whether you wish to darken the shade with more paint, or lighten with more gasoline. If the worker is careful, the color will be even and permanent. Select a bright, windy day for the work; do the dipping by an open door, and see that each part dries at the same time. Be careful to leave no undissolved particles of paint in the gasoline; this is easy and satisfactory, giving pastel shades that can be acquired in few other ways.

Mrs. D. F. Stevenson.

MERINGUE—A pinch of baking powder added to meringue will keep same from falling.

A way to test meringue: when brown touch lightly with fingers and if no imprint is left same is done.

Mrs. J. M. Manry.

REFRIGERATOR DRIPPINGS—are splendid for watering box plants, being rich in ammonia. Let stand in sun and warm up before using.

Mrs. Frank L. Stanton.

CHAPTER XIX.

HOME GARDENS.

Mrs. H. G. Hastings, Chairman.

Landscape gardening has been in practice since 3000 B. C. as shown in records on an Egyptian tomb. The best of the earlier gardens were those of the Romans, which combined the ideas of the Egyptians, Persians and Greeks.

In England the idea of gardening has been developed to a large degree. The Elizabethan gardens became more decorative and had more relation to the architecture of the house.

One of Queen Elizabeth's chief policies was frugality and her reign was marked by increased resources. At that time the vegetable gardens were separated from the formal gardens and were screened from the more public views of the place.

Landscape architects are especially trained men for laying out of grounds and when possible should be consulted, but, where the places are not large enough to warrant this, much pleasure in planning and carrying out one's ideas is found.

It is necessary to have a complete plan, regardless of whether the work is all done at once or year by year. One owner planted, the first year, his trees, his foundation planting in front, and shrubbery to screen objectionable features; the second year, all corner plantings; the third season, foundation planting completed and evergreens added; the fourth season, herbaceous perennials and architectural features completed the plans. In informal planting, the general mass of the borders follows the lot lines, paralleling them on the outside edge, with curved lines of planting on the inside edge. Where accents are needed to emphasize division of lot into various areas, the border line swells in width, and a corresponding height in plants is called for. The planting should follow the general outline of the house, so it would seem that the out-door living rooms are a part of the house itself, introducing variation in form.

height and color. The front lawn area should be kept open up to the house.

Foundation planting around the house must harmonize in color with house and grounds, accenting corners, openings and views with shrubs of varying height. Vines are used to relieve expanse of house walls, furnish privacy for porches, arbors and pergolas. They are helpful in covering banks and unsightly effects. Evergreens are especially rich for planting about the house—mixed with deciduous plants whose flowers, twigs or fruits make a pleasing contrast with lower values of the evergreens—and produces a cheerful effect the year around.

Roses of garden type, including Tea Roses, Hybrid Teas and Hybrid Perpetuals, should be restricted to gardens. The Rugosa Rose is available for border planting.

Flowers may be planted in borders to serve as the fore ground or "facers" to shrubs along paths or massed in beds of formal design, if they are kept well back from the centers of open spaces. Bulbous plants, such as Narcissus or Daffodils, are effectively planted in colonies similar to those formed by wild flowers planted by nature. They can be left to themselves as the tops soon disappear and the lawn is not injured.

Annuals are best confined to garden beds or borders and are valuable for cut flowers and continuous bloom.

The best guarantee for success is: choosing plants of known hardiness: nursery grown plants with well developed masses of fibrous roots from a dependable nurseryman; planting with an understanding of the requirements of the plants and shrubs for healthy growth, such as their needs of watering, cultivation, mulching or fertilizing. Flower seed planting should follow packet or seed catalog directions.

WHAT AND WHEN TO PLANT FOR TABLE USE.

While many high-sounding adjectives are used in a few seed catalogs, responsible seedsmen illustrate by actual photographic reproductions. Descriptions and cultural directions are dependable and it is well for every person who plants a garden, flower bed or window box to have and follow closely the catalog of thoroughly reliable seedsmen.

General planting tables are fine and being quickly decipherable are quite handy to keep as a reference and reminder. For such a purpose in this short space is given a list of vegetables that do well and are in common use in the latitude of Atlanta. For cultural directions, follow the simple directions printed on the packets or packages of seeds you buy or that you will find in the seed catalogue. The making of garden and flower beds is a simple matter and will repay us greatly for all the time we may spend on their care. Let us grow our own vegetables and flowers. The fresh home grown vegetables are much more delicious than any we can buy at the stores and the flowers make a real home of even the simplest cottage.

LOCHRIDGE-HATCHER WEDDING TABLE

The bride's table was arranged at one end of the spacious ballroom, before the large fireplace. A canopy of Killarney roses was upheld by a standard studded with other roses and valley lilies over the wedding cake, which adorned the center of the table. Encircling this were small trees of pink roses and valley lilies connected with ropes of smilax.

RECIPES FOR SPECIAL OCCASIONS.

The following recipes are of such an unusual nature it seems best not to classify them in any particular chapter. Other casserole dishes have been placed in chapters, where they seemed to belong, being classified according to their chief ingredient. Many of the following will be found useful for children's parties.

The Editors.

ITALIAN SPAGHETTI.

(Original Recipe.)

Each item of the following should be multiplied by the number of persons partaking.

- | | |
|---|---|
| $\frac{1}{2}$ lb. medium-caliber Spaghetti. | $\frac{1}{4}$ of a "bloom" of garlic. |
| $\frac{1}{4}$ lb. butter. | $\frac{1}{2}$ tin tomato-paste (Italian brand). |

Then add in following rotation at 2 minutes intervals: (1) tomato paste properly diluted in little water, (2) garlic finely minced, (3) 1 large spoon grated cheese per person, saving balance for serving time. During above proceeding, start cooking spaghetti in boiling water. Time for cooking runs usually as long as time for frying of sauce. Strain spaghetti very carefully and mix it with sauce. Serve hot. Sprinkle individual helpings with remaining cheese.

DOLLY CAKES IN CAPS.

Bake any reliable cake mixture in round patty or muffin pans, and cover the tops with white icing. With a fine, new, paint brush dipped in melted chocolate, indicate eyes, nose and mouth. Set the cakes each in a cap, and tie the ribbon. Grownup children will enjoy these as much as the little ones.

CHAPTER XXI.

OUR ADVERTISING FAMILY.

By Mrs. Newton C. Wing

Chairman Home Economics Dept.

After a careful investigation of the following firms, the Home Economics Department of the Atlanta Woman's Club takes great pleasure in inviting them to be advertisers in the Cookbook. One firm only of its kind has been selected with the purpose in mind always, of having the advertiser one in whom our readers could have entire confidence, and in this way avoid time spent in making investigations themselves. We regard this as one of the most important features of this work, and hope sincerely that our readers will show their appreciation of our efforts by liberally patronizing these firms. Be sure to read their advertisements which follow this Advertising Chapter.

THE CALORIC FURNACE CO. belongs most properly in the Cookbook, even if it has nothing to do with food, for common sense tells us that we must first be warm and comfortable, else how can we enjoy eating? The Home Economics Department welcomes it gladly therefore both because it makes home cozier, and because it is so economical.

THE FRIGIDAIRE—Just think, a refrigerator never damp! Never to have to watch out for the Ice-man's coming, to see that tickets or change are ready, or that we have been given correct weight—and then finally, perhaps to clean up after muddy feet. All these things are unnecessary with the Frigidaire. For several months we studied this delightful electrical contrivance at close range, the Frigidaire Company being kind enough to install it in our model kitchen at the Club House for that purpose, and we recommend it most heartily.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER—The Cookbook editors feel that a commendation of Royal needs must be superfluous, so long as it has been the standard of excellence. Confirming this belief, the only baking powder mentioned in our recipes is the Royal. A new feature introduced by this firm is their selection of a consulting household specialist, who will be glad to answer all questions concerning household problems addressed to the Educational Department, Royal Baking Powder Company.

OPTICIANS, A. K. HAWKES & CO. We would really not need to say anything more about A. K. Hawkes & Co. than to remind our readers that this sterling Atlanta firm has been in business over fifty years in our city. That fact certainly speaks for itself, but we can't resist the opportunity to tell you also that it's a reliable place to get one's eyes tested and fitted; that they have the latest thing in cameras and photographic methods, and that we fell in love with an oven thermometer we saw there, which every one who reads our chapters on baking will want to purchase.

JESSUP & ANTRIM—ICE CREAM MANUFACTURERS.—This firm has been a member of our Woman's Club "family" for some time, having supplied delicious ice-cream for practically all the big affairs held at the club house and also at the Children's Play Room, established by our Home Economic Department downtown, to care for children while the mothers shop. We have found this firm to be thoroughly dependable in the things that count—their cream is uniformly good, their deliveries are always on time, and they are kindness itself in filling rush or emergency orders.

THE WHITE PROVISION COMPANY—The story which our beloved Henry W. Grady told of the poor "one gallus" fellow from Georgia who, when it came time to die, found that the South furnished him nothing but the hole in the ground in which to be buried—that everything else for the funeral had to be imported from the North seems a far cry from the prosperous times of present Southland. The time is here, when Georgia cannot only furnish us the necessary elements of a funeral, but what is more important—can provide the necessities of life.

A pioneer who has helped to bring about this happy change is Mr. W. H. White, Jr., President of the White Provision Company. By stimulating the livestock industry in Georgia, by building a modern packing house in Atlanta, establishing the home of the famous CORNFIELD BRAND HAMS AND BACON, he has earned the admiration and gratitude, not only of all true Georgians, but of good Americans everywhere, for he is helping to develop his own part of the country, without harming any other part which surely is the duty of all citizens.

McCRARY — PHOTOGRAPHER — This Department takes great pleasure in recommending the McCrary Studios, for artistic portraits, and for sensible prices. Even during the period of the late war, these prices did not take upward trend, with which we became so unpleasantly familiar, in so many cases of necessities and luxuries. We find in the McCrary Studios pleasant atmosphere, of genial welcome and artistic accomplishment.

THE HOWARD THEATRE—Built with the artistry inspired by years of foreign travel on the part of Mr. Troup Howard, this wonder-place satisfies the artistic longing of the most cultured, and raises the standard of others who have grown accustomed perhaps to consider the tawdry finery purchased by money alone—the criterion. Even without its wonderful moving pictures, it would be soul-satisfying to rest in the luxurious seats breathing in the harmony of color and music. After a year of its charm, it still holds us spell-bound, and thankful that such things can be.

WISE DRUG COMPANY. After leaving the Howard, we find it the most natural thing in the world to turn to the left into the beautiful home of the Wise Drug Co. and get one of their delicious orange drinks. Aside from the hospitality dispensed at the soda-fountain, we are assured of all the necessities to be found in a good drug store. When added to this is a satisfaction produced by the elegance and simplicity which marks this in common with the Howard Theatre, we find—it easy to form a Wise habit.

THE DAFFODIL TEA ROOM AND RESTAURANT—Continuing down Pryor street, about a block from the Howard, we find one of the coziest places to eat. Accomplishing the usually impossible feat of providing delicious individual cooking on a large scale, the Daffodil has become the rendezvous for all who like an atmosphere of home. Here every day, friends meet friends, and one has the feeling of hospitality offered in a delightful personal manner by the owner, Mrs. J. E. McRee, and her assistants.

JOY'S FLOWER SHOP—There may be a flower shop with a prettier name but we doubt it, for to all women joy and flowers are synonymous. Our acquaintance with this florist, where the Woman's Club Hospital Committee purchase its many floral gifts, and which numbers among its clientele many other club members, assures this firm of our hearty co-operation.

M. MILLER'S PECANS—Pronounced "pecawns", "pecons" or "pecans" according to the section in which you live, does not affect the thinness of the shell the delicate flavor, nor the food value of the delicious pecans grown by J. R. and J. B. Miller, Pecan Nurserymen of Baconton, Ga. We strongly recommend readers of this book to order direct from Baconton—"the Home of the Pecan" and then use them in our cake and salad recipes.

ATLANTA NATIONAL BANK—The modern housewife or professional woman whether she "budgets" or uses a salary economically, finds an indispensable adjunct to be a good bank. After several years' acquaintance with the Atlanta National, we recommend it as a place where women will receive special consideration and the fact that it is especially near the shopping district, adds to the convenience.

BLOCK BISCUIT AND CRACKER COMPANY is an Atlanta firm acquiring national prominence owing to the excellence of its wares. This firm has given an elaborate demonstration of its products at a general meeting of our Home Economics Department, and we endorse it most heartily. A visitor to its large factories is immediately impressed by the hygienic conditions under which these dainty cakes and crackers are made.

L. W. ROGERS GROCERY CO. enjoys the friendship and appreciation of Atlanta housewives to the fullest extent. This firm made it possible, during the difficult war period, for a great many of us to furnish our tables with the necessaries of life at a price which was not prohibitive. Continuing this policy during peace times, makes the "Rogers Habit" part of the daily life of ninety per cent of Atlanta housewives.

KING HARDWARE—Seems to have everything that anybody could wish to equip a home, both inside and outside. Through this store, our Department purchased many hundred dollars worth of equipment to furnish our model club kitchen, and we are promised by the management that the articles mentioned in our chapter on KITCHEN EQUIPMENT will be on hand, when the Cookbook readers ask for them.

SOUTHERN DECORATING CO. A trip through this store makes one want to give a party every day in the year, for such fascinating things as are to be seen! Dainty favors for tea parties, funny favors for children's parties (old or young), and materials to decorate the walls of immense halls, or large areas—for auto parades, or at any time when the spirit moves us to "dress up". Entertainers at the many social functions of the Woman's Club and elsewhere, will find a delightful variety of table decorations.

GEORGIA RAILWAY & POWER COMPANY.—Doesn't that seem like a big subject to handle in one little paragraph? Visions of elemental powers harnessed and brought into subjection are more understandable, however, when we think of them in terms of cooking, baking, and in the evening, the cheery reading lamp. Furnished in such abundance, and with no effort on our part we are apt to take such luxuries as a matter of course, without pausing to think of the arduous labor that makes them possible. Let us give thought, now and then, to the time and effort which have made these comforts ours, and let us do our part, in conservation and co-operation. Our readers will find our chapter on gas economy very useful in this connection.

ATLANTA MILLING COMPANY.—Two very important events will happen simultaneously in Atlanta—the production of this Cookbook and the introduction of a brand new pastry flour called “Pride of Atlanta”. We are glad to recommend its use in our cake recipes; and as Irwin Cobb says, “Say it with flours”. A long time has been spent in making ready for the market this pastry flour, inspired by the desire to call only the very best—“PRIDE OF ATLANTA”. As all good cooks know a fine pastry flour is absolutely necessary for the making of fine pastries, so we are glad to be among the first to sponsor this brand.

JEWEL FURNITURE POLISH—The invention of an Atlanta woman, this polish abundantly proves the theory that home products may be as good or sometimes better than those for which we go far afield. This polish has been thoroughly tested by the Department, and we heartily recommend it.

In presenting it to our readers of the fair sex, we wish to add this word of caution—“Be sure that Hubby has one for his own use, or you will find that he has borrowed it to polish his car, as it is equally effective for that.”

BINDERS GIFT SHOP AND PICTURE FRAMERY is just the place to get those new pictures for which you have been longing, as a splendid assortment may be found there, and at unusually reasonable prices. Almost everybody has prints on hand to be framed. Why not take them into Binders on Pryor Street, just below the Daffodil, and get them framed, and while there, look at the attractive things in the gift shop.

SOUTHERN COTTON OIL CO.—We feel honored to welcome into our Home Economics family the advertisement for Wessons Oil and Snowdrift. The development of these products serves to exemplify the wonderful progress in Southern industry, which has been made in the last few decades. We can imagine no home complete without both these necessary adjuncts, and recommend them for all of our recipes calling for shortening, frying, or any cooking.

AMERICAN BAKERIES CORPORATION—Merita Bread is fast making friends on its merits, for its really home made bread, and priced so reasonably, too. Its just the thing to put in the school lunch, and when everything's ready, what could be more convenient than to wrap the whole lunch in the sanitary oiled paper which has served to keep the bread so sweet and moist.

JOHNSON-DALLIS COMPANY.—The very surest proof that this firm is very popular with this Department, lies in the fact that, after a search of months for a firm that suited exactly the very high requirements for the production of this Cookbook, we at last selected Johnson-Dallis Co., and we are sure that you will agree with us after reading our book and seeing the high quality of workmanship.

BUICK MOTOR CO.—For the person who wants a car of which its owner will never need be apologetic—which will take its place among the most expensive cars, yet be within reach of those in only comfortable circumstances; which is luxurious to ride in, yet economical in the amount of gasoline needed; easy for a woman to drive, yet tough enough to stand long, hard trips—we recommend the Buick. They say that when a better car is made, they will make it and we believe them, for we have tested them ourselves, covering a period of ten years.

ELLA SMITH DOLL CO.—In selecting our Cookbook advertisers, we were not thinking particularly of singling out women. Is it a coincidence, or a sign of the times, that three of our new “family” are inventors and originators of things unique? This ALABAMA INDESTRUCTIBLE DOLL was born in a woman's love for her own children. Made first for them, the demand spread like wildfire, until now it seems as if the whole world wants this darling doll, that can withstand the punishment, to which, unwittingly, its little mothers and daddies submit it.

Children Will Wake Up Early

You know how they hop out of bed before the house is warm and play around while dressing! Colds and sickness are too often the result.

At best, grates and stoves keep only part of the house fairly warm. Then there is the ever present danger of your children being burned in your absence—a fate that overtakes many little ones every winter.

With a CaloriC circulating warm, pure air to every nook and corner, your children may get up as early as they please and play around to their hearts' content. Then they run through a warm hall to the dining room and eat their breakfast in comfort.

Over ONE HUNDRED AND TWENTY FIVE THOUSAND families—three hundred of them in Atlanta—testify to the comfort, convenience, economy, healthfulness and genuine all round goodness of the

How to Cut Down Your Gas Bill

IT HAS BEEN demonstrated that more than 27% of the gas fuel supply is wasted. A large portion of this waste is directly due to improper methods in the use of gas equipment.

Waste can be reduced to the vanishing point, service can be vastly improved, and gas bills can be diminished by a proper observance of a few rules governing the use of this fuel.

All gas range burners should burn with a clear, blue flame. If they do not, the consumer should call up the gas company (Ivy 4400).

Do not light the top burners until the food is ready to put on.

When the water in the vessel has come to the boiling point, reduce the flame by turning the gas valve handle.

Never let the flame lap up around the vessel. Turn down the valve.

When the burner is not in use, turn it out. It is very easy to light again. We recommend the use of some handy lighter, such as the round file Safety Lighter, which is always ready for use.

Try oven cooking, that is, cooking the whole meal in the oven at one time. It is the economical way of cooking.

If Your Gas Bill Seems High

Note on your bill the dates covered by the meter readings; take the average cost per day, and it will astonish you how nearly the same this average cost will be each month. The difference in your gas bills usually covers a few days' difference between the meter readings—or different conditions of consumption—there is no difference in the price of gas.

In case of any trouble with your gas, telephone Ivy 4400 and ask for the Gas Service Department.

The Automobile And Home Economics

IN THE CONDUCT of the modern American home, motor transportation for the family plays an increasingly important part.

The Atlanta Woman's Club, thru its Home Economics Committee, has given its endorsement to the product of the Buick Motor Company.

On account of its dependability—ease of operation—roomy comfort, and low cost of up-keep, the Buick is the ideal car for the family.

“The Alabama Indestructible Doll”

In this book of unusually good things, we wish to call your attention to the very best doll that is made--an indestructible one. Truly so. Will last a life time with just ordinary care. The head is a patented combination—not wood, metal, nor rubber. The doll is entirely hand-made, hand painted. The body made of good heavy fabric, stuffed with cotton by hand. Doll can be washed.

We have instances of use for as long as twenty-two years and thousands of them in constant use five and ten years. Very reasonable in price, and all that we claim them to be in every respect. Such is the “Alabama Indestructible Doll.” For sale by dealers and the
