A PREFACE usually both disappoints and aggravates—it says nothing, with a deal of words; and it holds the hungry reader from the feast before his eyes. But a cook book's should more kindly speed on rather than hinder from that crowning banquet of literature. Yes, crowning; for is it not the essence of all things good? And does it not contain the very provender which goes to the making of all other books, and without which even our brains would evaporate? Epitome it is, too, of man's deep excogitations, and indeed of life itself. Here you have mathematics, science, the philosopher's "cause and effect," the "high seriousness" of all great poetry—are not our cream-puffs soulful poems?—the wit's spice and tartness, the artist's daintiest device, the arguments of state which make and unmake crowns. Nay, only look deeper, and find in that microcosm the kitchen, besides the object lessons which it fabricates, other most nutritious lessons of the Greek's golden moderation and other moralities. But of all to be learned there or to issue thence the preface cannot give you a first course or even a taste. That is not its part. It can only ask you to partake. It is like a lady who at evening welcome's her guests. Much agony hath gone to the morning's work; and sundry costly viands too—else had not her art triumphed. Yet of all this not a hint in her voice or mien as she smilingly:

"Madam, the dinner is served."

"Ah, well then, ladies and gentlemen—

'Now, good digestion wait on appetite

And health on both.'"

“To be a good cook means the knowledge of all fruits, herbs, balms and spices, and of all that is healing and meet in fields and groves, savory in meat. It means carefulness, inventiveness, watchfulness, willingness and readiness of appliance. It means the economy of your great-grandmother and the science of modern chemists; it means much tasting and no wasting; it means English thoroughness, French art and Arabian hospitality; it means in fine that you are to be perfectly and always ladies, and you are to see that everybody has something nice to eat.”—
RUSKIN.

L'ENVOI—TABLE TALK

For a Dinner Party of Thirteen.

(When making put in a thirteenth line according to taste.)

For soup, of books we'll have a rich extract.

Fish, sallies caught from fancy's sparkling stream;
And oysters, our young folks in love, with tact

For sauce to both. In fitting time 'twill seem Mete we partake of dish of sage discourse.

A salad of crisp shoots of gossip-vine
With char'ty's oil and just a dash (no worse)

Of malice. But each guest must bring the wine
Of his own wit. Judgments of frozen sense

On things of church and state shall be dessert,
While sweets the gracious hostess must dispense.

Alas, too soon from feast to crusts we shall revert!

SOUPS

"For soup is but the first of those delights which go to make the coming bill of fare."

|-------|-------------------------|-----|---------------------------|
| 1 | tablespoonful of butter | 1/2 | of an onion, sliced |

Melt the butter in a granite saucepan, add the onion and cook until thoroughly brown, when add the beef, celery, cloves, carrot, bay leaf and parsley and one quart of cold water. Cover the saucepan and stand on the back of the stove where it will heat slowly. Let it simmer gently for three hours; strain, return to the kettle and bring to a boil. Beat the white of an egg with one-half cup of cold water until thoroughly mixed. Crush the shell and add it to the egg; add this to the boiling bouillon. Boil four minutes, stand on the back of the stove one minute to settle, and strain through cheese cloth. Be sure to wring out the cloth from cold water before straining.

Brown Soup Stock.

Will Serve Eight or Ten.

4 pounds hind shin of beef	4 quarts cold water
8 whole cloves	8 whole peppercorns
4 teaspoonfuls mixed sweet herbs	1 tablespoonful salt
1 small carrot	3 large onions
Shell and white one egg	2 stalks celery
	2 sprigs parsley

Wipe and cut the meat and bones in small pieces. Put the marrow, bones, half of the meat and the cold water into a kettle. Soak half an hour before heating. Add spices and herbs. Brown the onions and the remainder of the meat and add them to the stock. Add the vegetables, cut fine; simmer eight or ten hours and strain. When cold, take off the grease; it may be necessary to wring a cloth out of hot water and wipe off the stock—not a pinhead must be left. To clear it, allow the white and shell of one egg to every quart of soup, adding the egg when the soup is perfectly cold. Beat them well together, then set on the stove, stirring until hot. Let it boil ten minutes without stirring. Draw it back on the stove and add half a cup of cold water. Let it stand ten minutes. Wring a napkin out of hot water and lay it on the colander. Put the finest wire strainer on the napkin and pour the soup through, letting it take its own time to drain. When ready to serve, heat to the boiling point. You may serve with it in the tureen thin slices of lemon, glass of sherry, or yolks of hard-boiled eggs, sliced.

FISH AND SHELL FISH

"An oyster may be crossed in love."—Sheridan.

The following general rules for fish will hold good for all kinds:

Selection of Fish.

Great care should be taken to preserve the freshness of fish, as no other food deteriorates so rapidly in flavor. Fresh fish should be firm and the skin and scales bright. When it does not look so, do not buy it, as it will only be a disappointment. Do not wash the fish until just before using. An old fish dealer is our authority for the statement that the slimy coating always found on fish is a great factor in preserving its freshness; therefore if the fish is to be kept some hours before using, scale, clean and scrape it well, sprinkle a little salt on the inside, and just before using wash once quickly in cold water. Do not let the fish stand in the water or the best flavor will be lost.

Boiled Fish.

There are three ways of boiling fish. The length of time required for a fish weighing four or five pounds is thirty minutes. A fish weighing more than six pounds should cook five minutes longer for every two pounds additional.

First Method—Pin the fish in a strong white cotton cloth, then plunge in kettle of boiling water and simmer gently for thirty minutes. Hard boiling breaks the fish.

Second Method—Lay the fish on a cloth or plate and place in steamer and simply steam until done, about the same length of time as for boiling.

Third Method—Put in a double boiler, or if one has not a double boiler large enough put the fish in a lard pail and set in a large kettle of boiling water. The flavor of the fish is preserved best in the two latter methods.

MRS. R. W. EMMONS.

Baked Fish.

1 fish weighing about 5 lbs 1 pint of bread crumbs
 Butter size of walnut $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoonful of pepper
 1 teaspoonful of salt

Scrape and wash the fish clean, if not already prepared, then rub into it a tablespoonful of salt. Mix together the bread crumbs, butter and seasoning for the stuffing and moisten with cold water. Put this into the body of the fish and fasten with skewer. Cut gashes across the fish about two inches apart, one-half inch deep and two or more inches long and into each put a strip of salt pork; dust over pepper and salt and sprinkle thickly with bread crumbs or flour, according to taste. Put into the roasting pan and bake one hour, basting frequently; the bottom of the pan should be covered with hot water when the fish is first put in. Serve with drawn butter sauce, or any of the fancy sauces suitable for fish.

MRS. R. W. EMMONS.

Fried Fish.

The best method for frying fish is to first prepare your fat by frying slices of salt pork a crisp brown; remove and place around the edge of your platter. Have your fish well covered or rolled in flour and Indian meal mixed and salted; then lay it in the frying pan and fry in the salt pork fat. Fry brown on one side, then turn and fry on the other. Be sure to have the fat smoking hot when the fish is put in and fry quickly. Serve very hot, garnished with the salt pork and parsley or lemon sliced.

MRS. R. W. EMMONS.

Broiled Fish.

Always use a double broiler to facilitate turning the fish. Before using rub the broiler with butter or a piece of salt pork to prevent the fish from sticking. The size of the fish will have to be the guide to the length of time required in cooking, a fish weighing four pounds requiring twenty minutes to half an hour. In broiling, the inside of the fish should be put over the coals first. Great care is required not to burn the skin. Mackerel will cook in from twelve to twenty minutes. After the fish is removed to the platter it should be spread generously with lumps of butter.

MRS. R. W. EMMONS.

Smelts.

Split the smelts down the back, take out the intestines and backbone; most of the side bones will come with it; wipe clean and salt the inside lightly. Roll in salted corn meal and fry quickly in very hot deep fat, or in butter. The fat must be very hot to brown quickly or the fish will become hard. Serve with tartare sauce.

Fish Turbot.

Will Serve Four.

Steam until tender a white-meated fish. When done, remove the bones, pick up very fine, and season with pepper and salt.

Dressing.

1 pint of milk	1 tablespoonful of flour
A large lump of butter	1 or 2 eggs
Onion and parsley

Heat the milk, salt to taste, and thicken with the flour. When cool add the butter (melted), eggs well beaten, and season with onion or parsley. Put in the baking dish a layer of fish, then a layer of sauce, until full; cover the top with bread crumbs and bake half or three-quarters of an hour. Canned salmon, any cold boiled fish, or salt codfish freshened, can be prepared in the same way and are very nice.

Fish Cream Cutlets.

Will Serve Six.

Chop, with a silver knife, 1 pound of uncooked halibut rather fine; add 1 teaspoonful of salt, two tablespoonfuls of minced almonds, a drop or two of onion juice, a dash of cayenne and the unbeaten white of one egg. Mix well and stir in $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of whipped cream. This cream must be stiff and fine. Put this mixture into small cutlet shaped molds; stand them in a steamer and cook about ten minutes. Turn carefully from the molds. Cover the bottom of the serving dish with cream sauce, arrange the cutlets, put a pretty sprig of double parsley in the "bone" end of each and serve very hot. Sightly and very good. By permission of

MRS. S. T. RORER
and The Household News Co.

Flaked Fish Steamed.

Will Serve Six.

1 cup of cold fish	2 cups of mashed potatoes
$\frac{1}{2}$ cup of cream or milk	2 tablespoonfuls of melted butter
2 hard boiled eggs	1 teaspoonful lemon juice
1 raw egg	$\frac{1}{2}$ saltspoonful of pepper
1 teaspoonful of salt.	A dash of cayenne
	1 tablespoonful of chopped parsley

Flake the fish carefully. To the hot mashed potato add the cream and melted butter, stir in the fish, then the hard-boiled eggs chopped fine, followed by beaten egg and seasoning. Steam for one-half hour in buttered pudding mold. Serve with either cream or tomato sauce poured over it.

MRS. GEORGE H. HEILBRON.

Creamed Fish.

Take any nice, firm-fleshed fish. Boil and remove the bones. Chop one small onion and a little parsley very fine and mix in with the fish, adding salt and pepper. Put it in a deep dish and cover with bread crumbs about two inches deep. Put small lumps of butter over it and add a little nutmeg (if you like it), and pour sweet cream over it until it is all wet. Bake in a quick oven until nicely browned.

MISS MALTBY.

Baked Salmon.

For Fish Weighing Four or Five Pounds.

Leave fish whole and fill with dressing made as follows:

- 2 cups of bread crumbs
- 1 tablespoonful of butter
- 1 scant teaspoonful of salt
- 1 teaspoonful of thyme or summer savory.

Sew up fish and bake one hour; place slices of salt pork over fish; baste often; enough water should be put in pan to keep it from burning. Serve with cream sauce made as follows:

- Cream sauce (have ready in saucepan)
- $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of hot water
- $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce
- 1 cup cream or rich milk
- 2 tablespoonfuls of butter
- 1 tablespoonful of flour or corn starch

Add drippings from pan in which fish was baked; flavor with parsley chopped fine.

MRS. JAMES FIELDS.

Salmon in Mould.

Will Serve Six.

- 1 can salmon or 1 pound of cold boiled salmon
- 4 tablespoonfuls of butter
- 1 cup of bread crumbs
- 3 eggs
- Milk, pepper and salt

Chop the fish and rub it in a bowl with a silver spoon with the butter until it is a paste. Beat the bread crumbs with the well-beaten eggs and season with salt and pepper, adding this mixture to the salmon and working all together with a little milk or cream. Put in a covered buttered mould and boil one hour and a quarter. Turn out and serve with the following sauce:

1 cup of milk	1 tablespoonful corn starch
2 tablespoonfuls of butter	1 teaspoonful of catsup
Pinch of mace	Pepper
1 tablespoonful of chopped parsley	1 egg

Boil the milk and thicken with corn starch and butter. Add the seasoning, pour all carefully over the beaten egg, cook one minute and pour over the form of salmon. Serve hot.

MRS. S. W. R. DALLY.

Escalloped Halibut.

Will Serve Six.

2 cups cold boiled halibut	1 $\frac{1}{4}$ cups milk
$\frac{1}{2}$ cup fine bread crumbs	1 large tablespoonful flour
1 teaspoonful onion juice	$\frac{1}{2}$ tablespoonful butter
1 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonfuls finely chopped parsley	1 cup white sauce
	Salt, cayenne

Flake the halibut, removing all bone and skin. If a white or egg sauce is served with the fish and there is any left, mix with the fish. Make the white sauce, mix one-half the sauce with the fish, one tablespoonful of the parsley, the onion juice, salt and cayenne. Butter a shallow pudding dish, put in the fish, smooth the top, cover with the remainder of the sauce, sprinkle with parsley, bread crumbs and the butter scattered in bits over the bread crumbs. Put the dish in a pan of boiling water and put in a quick oven for twenty minutes. Should brown nicely in that time.

MRS. EDMUND BOWDEN.

Halibut a la Poulette.

Will Serve Six.

Sprinkle three slices of halibut with the juice of one lemon and salt and pepper. Put a slice of onion on each and set away for thirty minutes. Dip each piece in melted butter, roll up and fasten with a toothpick. Put in a pan and dredge with flour and bake twenty minutes. Remove picks, sprinkle with the yolks of three hard-boiled eggs chopped very fine. Pour over the sauce and garnish with the whites of the eggs cut into rings.

Sauce.

Boil $\frac{1}{4}$ tablespoonful of onion and 2 teaspoonfuls of butter and 2 tablespoonfuls of flour together until done. Stir in slowly 1 cup of soup stock, 1 cup of cream, 1 teaspoonful salt, $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoonful of pepper; boil up once and strain and add 1 tablespoonful of lemon juice.

MRS. E. W. ANDREWS.

Fish Croquettes.

Any fish may be used for croquettes, but the white meat is the best; for instance, halibut. After boiling, pick the fish into small pieces, taking out all the bones. Mix with a white sauce, season with salt and pepper and a little chopped parsley, if desired. Shape into cylindrical balls, roll in crumbs, then egg, then crumbs again, and fry in deep lard. A nice way to use up cold fish.

MRS. WINFIELD R. SMITH.

Salmon Timbales.

Will Serve Six or Eight.

1 can salmon	1 tablespoonful lemon juice
1 tablespoonful melted butter	3 eggs
	Salt and pepper
$\frac{1}{2}$ cup soft bread crumbs

Remove bones from salmon. Chop fine and add butter and seasoning, the bread crumbs, lemon juice and eggs. Mix thoroughly and bake in timbale moulds.

MRS. WINFIELD R. SMITH.

To Fry Black Cod.

(The Finest Fish we have on the Coast.)

Cut the fish into slices, not too thin; wipe dry; dip in flour seasoned with pepper and salt; fry in a little olive oil, having oil hot before fish is put in. Brown nicely on both sides and serve hot with mayonnaise sauce, to which a little sour pickle or chow-chow (chopped fine) has been added.

MRS. S. L. CRAWFORD.

Steamed Clams.

Wash the clams thoroughly with a stiff brush. Fit a steamer with a soup plate, or, better, a jelly cake tin, so there is a margin all around to allow the steam to come up freely. Pile the clams on the tin, put in the steamer and cover closely. The kettle should be boiling hard and there should be plenty of water when the clams are put in. It will take fifteen minutes or longer for the clams to open, according to size, and they should be as nearly one size as possible. Have prepared some nice rounds of toast, hot; quickly take out the clams and lay on the toast, squeeze the juice of half a lemon into the tin with the clam liquor, add a dash or two of cayenne and pour over the clams; then bathe in melted butter, so that each clam is moistened. If you are quick you can cut off the black heads with scissors, which will improve them, but you must not let them cool. Serve immediately. The clams should be in the steamer only just long enough to open.

MRS. RICHARD C. STEVENS.

Deviled Clams No. 1.

Will Serve Eight.

4 qt. pail of clams (with shells on)	1 cup of cream or milk
2 tablespoonfuls of flour	1 tablespoonful of butter
Yolks of 2 raw eggs	2 tablespoonfuls of dry bread crumbs
1 tablespoonful of chopped parsley	Salt and pepper to taste

Remove clams from their shells. Drain and rinse them. Chop very fine. Scald the cream (or milk). Rub the butter and flour together until smooth, add to the scalded cream and stir until it thickens. Then add the bread crumbs, eggs and parsley. Take from the fire, mix well together, stir in the clams, add salt and pepper. Do not add salt until the clams are stirred in for they may flavor the mixture sufficiently. Fill clam, scallop or silver shells, brush over with the beaten yolk of an egg, sprinkle with bread crumbs and brown in a hot oven.

MRS. WM. H. DeWOLF.

Deviled Clams No. 2.

Will Serve Six.

25 good sized clams	1 small onion
3 crackers rolled fine	1 small piece of bacon
1 tablespoonful of butter	Salt and pepper

Chop together the clams, onion and bacon and dredge with the crackers. Wash some large shells, fill with the mixture, which should be well seasoned with salt and pepper. On each shell put a small piece of butter and a sprig of parsley. Roast about fifteen minutes and serve hot.

MRS. DOUGLAS YOUNG.

Clam Pot Pie.

Will Serve Eight.

1 quart clams	Salt and pepper
1 dozen crackers pounded fine

Place a narrow rim of paste round the upper part of the baking dish. Then sprinkle a thin layer of the cracker over the bottom of the dish, then a layer of clams; over them place small pieces of butter, salt and pepper. Repeat until the last two layers, when use soda crackers in place of the powdered. Moisten the whole with a little milk, cover with a nice paste and bake like a pie.

MRS. V. A. RITON.

Oyster Cocktail.

Served in punch or champagne glasses or bouillon cups. To every glass allow :

- 1 teaspoonful of lemon juice
- 1 tablespoonful of strained tomato
- 2 tablespoonfuls of tomato catsup

- 1 drop tobasco sauce
- A little salt

If the tomato catsup is very mild put in no strained tomato and proportionately more catsup.

MRS. WINFIELD R. SMITH.

Oyster Fricassee.

Dry one quart of oysters. Brown some butter in a saucepan and add the oysters. Keep stirring all the time in the hot butter until they plump; then add 1 pint of boiling cream, in which you have stirred 2 tablespoonfuls of flour. Salt and pepper to taste. Have some large crackers warmed and on a meat platter and pour oysters over them.

Creamed Oysters.

Will Serve Six.

Put a bit of onion as large as a bean and $\frac{1}{4}$ of a blade of mace, with a pint of cream, into a double boiler. Put one quart (or can) of Eastern oysters into a saucepan and let cook in their own liquor until they are plump and the edges begin to curl. Skim and set aside where they will keep hot but not cook. When the cream comes to a boil thicken with a tablespoonful of flour mixed in a little cold cream or milk. Let boil up, season with salt and cayenne, skim out the onion and mace. Drain the oysters and add to the cream. A dessert spoonful of sherry may be added if liked.

MRS. RICHARD C. STEVENS.

Frizzled Oysters.

Have ready on a platter sufficient toast, which has been dipped quickly into hot slightly salted water, and buttered. Turn the oysters, with only their own liquor, into a very hot frying pan; season with salt and pepper. Soon as their edges begin to curl stir in a large spoonful of butter, and turn immediately over the toast. Nice for breakfast.

Oysters en Beure Noir.

Will Serve Four.

1 pint of oysters	2 tablespoonfuls of butter
1½ tablespoonfuls of vinegar	Salt, and a dash of cayenne

Drain and rinse the oysters, let stand a half hour and cook in the liquor formed until plump; sprinkle with salt. Brown the butter, but be careful not to burn; add the pepper and vinegar, then the oysters. Fill timbale cases and serve hot.

MRS. FRANK MITCHELL.

Oysters Served in Shells.

Drain six large oysters and wash the shells. Marinate the oysters with melted butter, salt and pepper and minced parsley. Fill the shells and cover with rolled bread crumbs. Put bits of butter on top and brown in a very hot oven.

MRS. FRANK MITCHELL.

(Mrs. Hinckley's Portland Cooking Class.)

Deviled Oysters.

1 pint oysters	½ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter	1 cup cream or milk
2 tablespoons flour	Yolks of 2 eggs
1 tablespoon chopped parsley	Bread crumbs
	Cayenne

Drain and chop oysters; melt butter and add flour and pour in slowly the hot cream or milk; add eggs and seasoning, then oysters, and fill buttered shells or one large dish with the mixture. Cover with buttered bread crumbs and bake in hot oven fifteen minutes.

MRS. A. D. BISHOP.

Escalloped Oysters.

1 quart oysters	7 tablespoonfuls butter,
2 cups water	melted
1 tablespoonful lemon juice	2 tablespoonfuls flour
3 pints bread crumbs	1 cup cream
	Salt and pepper

Drain and wash the oysters and heat slowly with the water until the gills ruffle. Add a little salt. Make a sauce with three tablespoonfuls of the butter and the flour and two cups of the warm water drained from the oysters. Cook and add the cream. Pour the remaining butter over the crumbs; add pepper and salt. Put in deep dish in layers, first crumbs, then sauce, then oysters, having crumbs on top, and brown in oven.

MRS. E. B. EDGERS.

Pigs in Blankets.

Take large Eastern oysters, wipe them dry, wrap a slice of shaved bacon around each oyster, put on skewers. Broil till bacon is well cooked and serve on toast.

MRS. S. L. CRAWFORD.

Celeried Oysters.

For 1 dozen large oysters, put 1 teaspoonful of butter in a stewpan; add 1 tablespoonful of minced celery and the oysters; cover and cook till the oysters are plump and the edges begin to curl; add seasoning and a little sherry. Let it boil once and serve very hot on toast.

Oyster Kabobs.

Put one large tablespoonful of butter in a stewpan, add a small onion, chopped very fine, a dessert spoonful of parsley and a dozen mushrooms chopped; let these fry one minute; add one dessert spoonful (scant) of flour; stir well together; then drop in as many oysters as required, which have previously been blanched and bearded. Stir and add the beaten yolks of three eggs, one at a time, taking care they do not curdle but get just thick enough to adhere to the oysters. Take skewers and string six oysters onto each one, basting with the sauce wherever it does not adhere. Let these cool, then roll in beaten egg and abundant cracker meal, so that it looks like a sausage with a skewer run through lengthwise. Fry in deep fat two minutes. Great care must be taken to have the fat hot enough, about 380 to 400 degrees, so that the oysters will become a pale brown in that time, as they would become hard and tough if cooked longer. Serve on a napkin, allowing one skewer to each person.

ADELAIDE M. BLACKWELL.

Oysters a la Poulette.

Put 2 tablespoonfuls of butter in a hot saucepan; melt and add 2 tablespoonfuls of chopped onion and 1 of parsley, 1 bay leaf and a sprig of thyme. Simmer for ten minutes, then add 2 tablespoonfuls of flour. Have 1 cup of stock hot and pour gradually over the ingredients in the saucepan; strain into a double boiler; season; add 1 cup of hot cream and stir well until thick.

Drain 1 pint of oysters, pour cold water over them and drain again, then squeeze lemon juice over them and cook till plump, and add to the sauce.

Have ready shells prepared as follows: Cut slices of bread an inch and a quarter thick, and with a biscuit cutter cut rounds from each slice. With a small cutter cut nearly through the round and remove the center, leaving a cup. Roll these in beaten egg, then in bread crumbs, and fry in deep fat to a delicate brown. Fill with the prepared oysters and serve hot, garnished with a sprig of parsley.

MRS. FRANK MITCHELL.

Olympia Oysters and Fresh Mushrooms.

Will Serve Six.

2 cups of mushrooms (a 1 pint of oysters few more or less will 2 tablespoonfuls of butter not matter) 2 tablespoonfuls of flour
 $\frac{1}{4}$ cup of sherry

Peel and break into small pieces the mushrooms and put them in a stewpan with a little water; cook until tender, stirring frequently. Heat the butter and stir into it the flour, rubbing smooth; add the cream gradually and let it boil up once. Add to this the mushrooms and oysters. Season with salt and cayenne pepper and add the wine. Serve on toast. MRS. A. W. ENGLE.

Oyster Patties.

Will Serve Eight.

1 pint solid native oysters 1 large tablespoonful butter
 1 saltspoonful salt 1 saltspoonful pepper
 2 small tablespoonfuls flour 2 small cups milk
 Yolks of 2 eggs.

Stir your flour, pepper and salt in a little cold milk, then stir this into your boiling milk and add butter. When this is the consistency of cream, have a quart of boiling water and pour your oysters into it, and give them a shake or a stir with a spoon; then turn immediately into a colander, drain well, and stir them into your cream. Set over a slow fire for five minutes for oysters to finish cooking. Beat the yolks of two eggs in a little milk and stir into your cream, then fill your shell. This will serve eight persons.

CHARLES MULCAHEY (Chef Rainier-Grand).

Deviled Crabs.

Make one pint of cream sauce and add:

$\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoonful cayenne 1 teaspoonful made mustard
 1 teaspoonful lemon juice 1 tablespoonful wine
 1 pint crab meat

Make the sauce thick, as the crabs liquify it.

MRS. CHARLES SHEPARD.

Crab a la Roi.

| 1 can of tomatoes | 1 slice of onion |
| 2 cups of crab meat | 1 cup of cream |
| 1 pinch of salt | 1 red pepper |
| 1 lump of butter size of an egg | |

Cook the tomatoes with a pinch of salt, red pepper and slice of onion at least two hours. Then strain through a colander. Shred the crabs very fine, add the cream, then mix the crab with the tomatoes and just let it come to a boil; put in the butter but do not cook. Serve on small pieces of buttered toast on a warm dish.

MRS. HOMER F. NORTON.

Crab Pâtés à la Creole.

This will make Nine Pâtés.

|-----------------------------------|---------------------------------|
| 1 large Dungeness crab | 1 cup rice |
| 2 eggs | $\frac{2}{3}$ cup milk |
| 4 tablespoonfuls of melted butter | 1 small pinch of cayenne pepper |
| 1 quart boiling water | Salt and pepper to taste |

Crack the shells of the crab, remove all of the white meat from the claws and body, also the yellow "fat" next the back shell, as this fat is the richest portion of the crab. Mince fine and set aside until the rice is ready. Wash the rice in several waters, then boil in double boiler, covering the rice with the boiling water. Do not stir at all, but let boil until dry and tender. Stir the hot rice into the minced crab, add the butter, milk and seasoning, then last of all the beaten eggs. Drop into well-buttered granite or iron gem pans, heap up as full as possible, brush over the top with beaten egg and bake in a hot oven until of a rich golden brown color, or it may be baked in an earthen dish.

MEATS

“O! the roast beef of Old England.”—Fielding.

“Venison’s a Caesar in the fiercest fray,
Turtle an Alexander in the way;
And in quarrels of a slighter nature,
Mutton’s a most successful mediator.”—Pindar.

Roast Beef.

Buy a prime roast (first, second or third ribs). Have the butcher cut off the ends of the ribs, making a standing roast. Wipe clean with a damp cloth. Do not wash. Put a heavy steel frying pan onto the range and let it get very hot then put the roast in and sear over all the cut surfaces. This keeps the juices in, and if thoroughly done a small roast can be made almost as juicy as a large one. Salt and pepper the meat, run a steel skewer through the fleshy part to keep it from bulging; put the meat rack in the pan, place the roast on it, cut side up, and dredge well with flour, not forgetting the pan. Put in the oven, and when the flour in the pan has browned add enough hot water to just cover the bottom. The oven should be very hot at first, and should be diminished a little after the roast has browned. From this time baste every five minutes, keeping only enough water in the pan to prevent burning; any more makes too much steam and draws out the juices. An eight-pound roast will be well done on the outside and rare in the middle in one hour. Save the ribs cut off for braised short ribs.

MRS. RICHARD C. STEVENS.

using about 1½ cups of grated bread, 1 tablespoonful of minced mint, salt and pepper, soft butter sufficient to moisten slightly, and about half as many chopped pecans as bread crumbs. Rub the meat with salt and pepper inside and out, put in the dressing, taking care to fill the cavity so as to give shape to the leg, but do not press too tight or the dressing will be heavy. Roast about fifteen minutes to the pound; baste very often, or it will be dry. Put a bouquet of herbs, or a few sprigs of mint in the pan, and serve with a nice brown or mint sauce, or with a mint sorbet.

MRS. RICHARD C. STEVENS.

Leg of Mutton.

Peel back the outside skin and with a sharp-pointed knife make slits or gashes, into which force thin slices of salt pork which have been rolled in equal parts of ground cloves and alspice. Replace the skin and roast, basting frequently.

MRS. HELEN M. HUNT.

Boiled Dinner.

Put the meat on in hot water and boil three hours before adding the vegetables. The usual ones are potatoes, cabbage, turnips and beets; some, however, add carrots and parsnips. Put the first three into a wire basket on top of the meat, keeping all covered with water and boil one hour, making four hours the entire time for boiling meat. The beets, on account of discoloring the other vegetables, should be boiled in a separate kettle, and unless very young will require two hours' boiling.

A boiled dinner may be served in two ways: The meat on a large platter with the vegetables placed around it, or the potatoes and turnips mashed separately or together, and beets and cabbage each in a vegetable dish.

MRS. SARAH CONANT.

To Corn Beef.

Use a pint of rock salt to one gallon of cold water; let it come to a boil, skimming carefully. Cool before putting in the beef. Leave in brine four or five days.

MRS. SARAH CONANT.

To Corn Beef.

Get a piece of round beef from below the hip (with the bone attached), weighing thirteen or fourteen pounds. Rub over it a mixture of 1 teaspoonful of salt petre and 1 tablespoonful of sugar; then rub one large handful of salt very thoroughly into each side of it, getting into all the creases. Set away in a cool place and baste it well every day for eight days in its own liquor, being careful to turn it over each day. Boil it about six hours, or until tender. Better when eaten cold, thinly sliced.

MISS COLLINS.

Veal Cutlets.

Dip the cutlets in egg, then in bread crumbs, and cook on top of the stove until brown on both sides. Then cover and cook in the oven about three-quarters of an hour. Make a brown thickened gravy of the fat in the pan after the cutlets are removed, a good lump of butter, some flour and heated milk. Pour over the cutlets on the platter.

MRS. CHARLES E. SHEPARD.

To Fry Chicken.

Joint the chicken; put into a dish and set into a steamer, which should be ready with the water boiling, and steam until tender. Take up and fry quickly in very hot fat, half butter and half beef suet, until lightly browned. Serve with a cream gravy. An onion and a stalk of celery cut up fine and put into the steamer with the chickens gives a good flavor. This method is for a chicken a year old. While cooking, keep the pan well covered.

MRS. HINCHLIFFE.

Roast Turkey or Chicken.

Having prepared the fowls for roasting, make a thick dough of graham flour and water and roll out one inch thick. Have it large enough to cover the fowl completely. Butter the fowl thoroughly, then place the rolled dough over, being careful to press down around the neck and legs. Pour boiling water into the pan about one inch deep. Have the oven very hot; keep just enough water in the bottom of pan to prevent burning. One-half hour before serving time remove the pan from the oven and lift off the dough blanket. The turkey will be tender but white. Cool the oven and brown the turkey. There is no basting or opening of the oven door except to see that the water in the pan has not boiled out.

MRS. HINCHLIFFE.

Tongue with Sweet Gravy.

Boil a fresh beef tongue in salt water until very tender, having about one quart of water when done. Brown without burning (in a large skillet), a large teacupful of flour, in half butter and half lard. Thin it out slowly with the liquid, stir till smooth, adding a few cloves, $\frac{1}{2}$ teacupful of sugar and $\frac{1}{2}$ teacupful of strong vinegar; also a teacup of raisins and a little more salt if necessary. Skin the tongue while hot, cut in slices and place while warm on a large meat dish, pouring the gravy over it, and garnish with a few slices of lemon and blanched almonds.

L. M. THEDINGA.

Cold Tongue.

Cook about three hours in a large kettle; put $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of salt and 2 large green peppers in the water; let get cold in water. If green peppers are out of season, put in a dozen of the little red peppers.

To serve tongue hot, pour over it tomato sauce made from Mrs. Erastus Brainerd's recipe.

MRS. S. L. CRAWFORD.

Curried Mutton.

Will Serve Four.

1 cup of cold mutton cut in dice	1 small onion
1 tablespoonful flour	1½ cups of new milk
Butter size of walnut	1 heaping teaspoonful of curry

Fry the mutton and onion together with the butter. When brown add the milk and thicken with flour, into which the curry has been stirred. Boil in a double boiler at least an hour. Serve with boiled rice, putting curry in the center of the platter, arranging the boiled rice around it. When the curry is done it should be the consistency of thick cream.

MRS. T. M. DAULTON.

Jellied Tongue.

Will Serve Twelve.

One cup of the liquor in which the tongue was cooked.

2 cups good stock of any meat except mutton	½ box of gelatine
1 cup boiling water	1 gill of cold water
1 glass of sherry	2 tablespoonfuls of vinegar
	1 cold boiled tongue, sliced

Soak the gelatine in the cold water for two hours; pour over it the boiling water, the stock and the tongue liquor, heated. Unless the stock is highly seasoned, boil a bay leaf, a sprig of parsley, slice of onion and a few sweet herbs in a cup of water, and then strain this and pour it over the gelatine instead of using the plain boiling water. Flavor the jelly with the vinegar and sherry, pepper and salt, strain through a cloth. When the jelly begins to harden pour a little of it in a mould, first wetting the mould in a little cold water. Arrange slices of tongue on this, pour in more jelly, then another layer of tongue, and so on until the materials are all used, having jelly on top. Set the mould on ice until hard, then turn it out and slice.

Remove the meat and add to the bones and water, the herbs and seasoning. Simmer two hours, strain and pour over the other ingredients, which have been arranged in a deep buttered dish as follows: A layer of small pieces of veal, over these sprinkle salt, pepper, a little lemon juice and grated rind; also a suspicion of nutmeg. Then a layer of hard-boiled eggs cut in thin slices, chopped parsley sprinkled between, another layer of veal, with seasoning as before; so on until all the veal and egg are used. Pick, draw and clean, then lay in cold salted water for one hour. Put to cook in a pot with cold water to cover them. Stew until quite tender, then add milk, butter, pepper and salt to taste. Thicken with flour and milk and serve. Doves may be treated in the same manner.

MRS. DOUGLAS YOUNG.

Native Wild Ducks.

First in excellence is the mallard, then the teal, and the widgeon, during the winter months.

Dry pick the duck, singe, clean thoroughly and wipe dry with a clean towel. If badly shot wash in cold salt water, or even soak half an hour in salt and water, wiping well before stuffing. The stuffing:

2 teacupfuls stale bread	1 tablespoonful of butter
crumbs	½ (scant) teaspoonful dried
Pepper and salt	thyme

Crumb the bread very fine, add the seasoning and the butter broken in bits. This quantity will stuff one mallard or two teal or other small ducks. Tie securely, rub the outside with pepper and salt and a little butter, very little if the duck is very fat; put in pan, breast side up, in a moderate oven, with just enough water to keep from burning. Cover with another pan and cook one hour or a trifle more for a mallard or large duck. Do not baste as it makes the dressing wet. If not brown enough remove the cover ten minutes before serving. Skim the gravy in the pan, add more water if necessary, and thicken with flour. Season and serve hot with currant jelly.

MRS. J. W. EDWARDS.

Chicken Jelly.

Joint a chicken, put it into a saucepan with two slices of onion, a stalk of celery, a couple of slices of carrot, a couple of cloves and $\frac{1}{4}$ bay leaf; cover with hot water and cook slowly till the meat will come from the bones. When about half cooked add salt, pepper and a light dash of cayenne. When thoroughly cooked take out the meat and set both meat and liquor away to cool. Soak two tablespoonfuls of gelatine in a little cold water. Take every bit of fat off the liquor and put it into a saucepan. Add a sprig of parsley, and, if you have no celery, a little celery salt. Taste for seasoning and simmer about fifteen or twenty minutes; then add the gelatine, and when it is dissolved, a tablespoonful of sherry, or more to your taste. There should be about $1\frac{1}{2}$ pints of the liquor. Take the skin and bones from the chicken and pull apart lengthwise in small pieces. Put a little of the liquor in a mould; a narrow bread tin is good; then a layer of hard-boiled eggs sliced; then the chicken laid lengthwise of the tin; then more of the liquor and another layer of eggs, and cover all with the liquor. If you like, a layer of chopped mushrooms may be put through the center of the chicken, making two layers of chicken. Set aside to harden. Turn out of the mould and cut in thin slices.

1 tablespoonful of butter	1 onion
1 dozen lamb kidneys	$\frac{1}{2}$ cup of stock
1 lemon	Salt, pepper and flour
Mushrooms	Sherry
	Worcestershire sauce

Put the butter in a saucepan and add the onion slices, and when brown add the kidneys sliced thin, and cook

MRS. NEUFELDER.

Steak and Kidney Pudding.

Will Serve Six.

1 heaping cup chopped suet	1½ cups of flour
1 level teaspoonful of bak- ing powder	2 pounds round steak
Pepper and salt	2 veal kidneys
	1 large onion

Chop the suet very fine, put in the flour, salt and baking powder; then mix to a stiff dough with cold water. Roll out, not too thin, line a basin holding about two quarts with part of it. Cut the steak into pieces about an inch square, rejecting all bones, gristle and fat; have salt and pepper mixed in the proportion of one small teaspoonful of pepper to two large ones of salt, in a small dish. Now dip your pieces of steak and kidney on one side in the mixed salt and pepper, lay evenly on the crust in the bottom of the basin. When the bottom is covered put a layer of the onion very thinly sliced and finish with the seasoned meat, making three layers. Wet the edges of the crust, put on the top crust, press the edges closely together and leave no holes in the top. Wring a cloth out of hot water, flour well and tie very tightly over the basin, put in a kettle of boiling water and boil for three hours. Serve in the dish in which it is cooked.

The kidneys may be omitted and more steak used in place of them.

In using the kidneys cut out the centers well.

MRS. EDMUND BOWDEN.

Sweetbreads.

In whatever manner sweetbreads are to be served they must first be parboiled and blanched. The following is a good way to do this:

As soon as received they should be put into cold water, and this should be changed two or three times, if they are bloody, until they are quite white; then put them in a saucepan, cover with boiling water, add $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful of salt, and let them simmer on the back of the range for twenty minutes. If to this water you add $\frac{1}{2}$ a blade of mace, a couple of cloves, a bit of stick cinnamon, $\frac{1}{2}$ a bay leaf and a very slight grating of onion, they will be much finer flavored in whatever way they are prepared. After simmering, drain and throw them into ice water and let them stand for an hour. Drain free from fat and membrane, and they are ready to be cooked by any of the various methods.

MRS. RICHARD C. STEVENS.

Creamed Sweetbreads.

Will Serve Four.

2 sweetbreads	$\frac{1}{2}$ cup cream
6 slices bread	1 tablespoonful butter
Small teaspoonful flour	Pepper and salt

	1 teaspoonful butter

Cut the sweetbreads into small pieces, put in a small saucepan, pour over them the cream, and when boiling add the flour (previously mixed with a little of the cream); boil three minutes, being careful not to burn, and add the pepper and salt. Have the six slices of bread nicely toasted, cut into rounds with a large-sized biscuit cutter; butter, dip the lower side in hot salted water, arrange on a small platter and heap the sweetbreads on them.

Potato Patties.

Rub cold potatoes through a sieve, add a little clarified butter and one egg; mould them into balls with a little flour to keep them smooth; take them in your hands, and with your thumbs in the middle work them round to form the shell. Fry them in hot fat and fill with any kind of minced meat or fish. Mackerel with parsley sauce is very good.

MRS. BEATRICE GREEN.

Baked Mushrooms.

Peel the mushrooms, then cut the tops and upper portion of the stems into pieces of uniform size. Place in a buttered pan with salt, pepper and bits of butter, and bake until the mushrooms seem tender, or about fifteen or twenty minutes. When almost ready to serve pour over them enough sweet cream to cover them; let all heat up together and serve very hot. In the absence of cream milk may be used, but more butter must then be added.

MRS. C. P. DAM.

Mushroom Entree.

Cut the chicken into dice, or if you use sweetbreads, which are even more delicate than chicken, boil and cut into small pieces. Cut the mushrooms in halves and mix with the meat. Make a white sauce and season with salt, pepper, a dash of onion juice and a hint of bay leaf. Stir the mixture into this sauce and serve very hot in small entrée dishes. Just before sending to the table put a tablespoonful of whipped cream on each dish.

Cut fresh bread into slices a full inch thick, then cut with a large biscuit cutter into round pieces (without crust), scoop out of the center of the bread circle a hole half way to the bottom; drop them into boiling lard and fry a delicate golden brown. Meanwhile prepare a white sauce. Heat it and stir in while hot small pieces of lobster. Fill the holes in the bread circles with this creamed lobster preparation, grate a little of the coral over the top and put small claws in like handles to the baskets, tied at the top with red baby ribbon, if you can get fresh lobsters; if not, lay each filled basket on a lettuce leaf and serve on an individual plate. The baskets and "filling" must be served very hot. Add a little sherry to the lobster if desired.

MRS. NATHANIEL WALDO EMERSON, Boston.

MRS. J. F. WAGNER.

A LITTLE DINNER

“Without good company, all dainties
Lose their true relish, and like painted grapes
Are only seen, not tasted.”

The giving of a small dinner in a household where several trained servants are kept is a matter of little moment to the hostess, who has simply to notify her cook of the number of guests expected, give her orders as to menu, etc., and then dismiss from her mind all feeling of responsibility, and await with composure the arrival of her guests. In the ordinary home, however, where as a rule one, or at most, two maids are kept, the addition of several guests to the dinner table requires much thought and preparation, which necessarily must devolve upon the mistress. Successful dinner-giving, like genius, implies an infinite capacity for taking pains. In giving a small dinner of, say, six guests in addition to the family, it is necessary to first consider the resources of the household in the way of dishes, silver, etc., as upon these will depend the number of courses in the menu. This inspection completed, the next step is the preparation of the menu, not forgetting in the consideration of each dish the possibilities of the cook in the way of losing her head at the prospect of guests. It is a good plan to select only those dishes which the cook has tried before, as even the best of cooks frequently fails to succeed in the first trial of a new receipt. As far as possible it is advisable to select dishes which may be prepared the preceding day, thus lessening the work and confusion on the day of the dinner. Salted almonds, cheese sticks, paté shells and all kinds of blancmange and jellies should be prepared the day before. The question of menu settled, all orders should be given the day before, so that no harrowing non-arrival of some essential article shall mar the composure of the hostess. On the morning of the day for the dinner the mistress should explain to the waitress which plates and other dishes are to be used for each course. It is a good plan to write on slips of paper the words "Fish," "Roast," "Salad," "Entree," etc., and put the paper on top of the pile of plates to be used for that purpose. A menu should be prepared very plainly and distinctly written, giving the exact order in which the courses are to be served, stating what dishes are to be passed with each course and when to use the crumb knife. The menu may be written thus:

MENU.

- | | | | |
|---------------------|--------|------------------------|-------|
| 1. Raw Oysters. | | | |
| 2. Soup. | Pass | creckers. | |
| 3. Fish. | Pass | potatoes, then bread. | |
| 4. Roast. | Pass | vegetables and celery. | |
| 5. Entree. | Pass | jelly. | |
| 6. Sorbet. | | | |
| 7. Game. | Pass | olives. | |
| 8. Salad. | Pass | cheese sticks. | |
| 9. Use crumb knife. | | | |
| 10. Pudding. | | | |
| 11. Ice Cream. | | | |
| | Fruit. | Cake. | Nuts. |
| | | Cheese. | |
| 12. Coffee. | | | |

The menu should be pinned in a conspicuous place where the maids may refer to it readily. After the table is set the mistress should make a thorough inspection of the dining room, to see that the necessary extra silver and china is laid out upon the sideboard, that the arrangement of decorations and of lights is satisfactory and that the temperature is neither too high nor too low, as none but a thoroughly competent waitress could be trusted to attend to these details. It is better to err on the side of too low a temperature for the dining room than too high, as with the lights, the warm food and the number of people, the room is likely to become uncomfortably warm. With final admonitions to the maids in regard to the different viands, the warmth of the soup, the coolness of the water and other details, the mistress should try to slip up to her room in time to insure at least a few moments quiet and rest before dressing to receive her guests. At the appointed time the maid should throw open the doors of the dining room, and upon the signal "Dinner is served," the host should lead to the dining room, escorting the lady in whose honor the dinner is given, the other guests following, and the hostess last of all with the gentleman to be most honored. Confusion is avoided by having name cards at each place, the guests of honor of course being seated at the right of the host and hostess. If the first course consists of oysters these are upon the table when the guests enter the dining room, and as either a cube of bread or a roll has previously been placed in a fold of the napkin for each guest, no dishes are to be passed during this course. The maid stations herself back of the chair of the host, and after the oysters are eaten, at a look from the mistress, she removes the plates. The dishes should always be served at the left side and removed from the right side. Taking care not to pile too many dishes upon her tray at once, the maid, swiftly and noiselessly transfers the oyster plates to a table in the kitchen assigned to that purpose. After the oysters follow soup, with which crackers are usually passed; then fish with its accompanying cucumbers or other relish; then roast entrees, sorbet, game and salad, each in turn served with its accompanying dishes in strict accordance with the written menu. When the salad is finished, all side dishes and salts and peppers should be taken away and all crumbs removed neatly with a crumb knife or napkin, and the maid should see that the necessary dessert forks and spoons are at each cover. If preferred the dessert may be placed before either the host or hostess, who will serve her guests, the maid standing ready to pass each plate as it is served. After the pudding course has been removed comes either the pastry or ice. When this course is finished finger bowls may be placed at each plate, and at the same time come fruits, nuts, and raisins. Last of all the coffee in small cups, which should be served fresh and very hot. When dinner is over the hostess gives the signal to arise and the host leads to the drawing room, after which the gentlemen, if they wish, may retire to smoke.

CHAFING DISH

A true epicure can dine well on one dish, provided it is excellent of its kind.

While the use of the chafing dish is said to date from the days of Homer, its present popularity is due to a revival of the past few years, and although the possession of one is a thing to be desired by the "gude wife" in her housekeeping, it is equally popular in the bachelor apartments, the artists' quarters in modern Bohemia, the light housekeeping of flats, the summer outing in a houseboat or to put in one's canoe, for a dainty tidbit on shore, after an evening's paddle. The modern chafing dish when complete consists of the stand and lamp, dish proper, cutlet dish, and hot water pan, and while preferable in sterling silver, just as good results have been made with a granite iron one, especially if to the delights of the palate there is added "A congenial group who make possible the feast of reason and flow of soul." Some objection has been made on account of the expense of fuel. In the Gorham Manufacturing Company's Chafing Dish book they claim ten of the recipes were prepared in one of their dishes and less than a pint of alcohol was used. Wood alcohol we recommend as cheaper and just as good as grain alcohol. Except for coffee and tea, which can be made over another spirit lamp, almost any light breakfast or luncheon can be prepared on a chafing dish, and for late suppers for a few, no other way is as practicable. It is also an attractive way of serving an entrée at dinner.

Always use a wooden spoon to avoid scratching the dish. Most of these recipes are improved by serving on fresh toasted bread or crackers.

Any ordinary cooking done in a saucepan on the range can be done in a chafing dish. Chops and steak can be daintily done by using a scant amount of butter. Chicken, trout, frogs' legs, crab chops, liver and bacon can all be done equally well. The limits of the chafing dish include most breakfast and luncheon dishes and the majority of entrées. For a quick meal on a chafing dish nothing equals one of the many preparations of eggs, boiled, poached, fried with bacon, scrambled or in one of the many omelettes.

English Monkey.

Butter size of an egg	1 cup grated cheese
½ teaspoonful mustard	1 tablespoonful Worcester-
Two-thirds cup of stale	shire sauce
bread crumbs	1 egg
	1 cup milk

Soak the crumbs in the milk fifteen minutes. Put the ingredients into the chafing dish. After it is melted add the crumbs and milk and the eggs. Add the seasoning and cook until it thickens—usually about ten minutes.

MRS. FRED RICE ROWELL.

Scrambled Eggs.

Put a walnut of butter in chafing dish and drop eggs in whole. When they begin to set stir lightly, so when cooked the mixture is even white and yellow in appearance. Some add a tablespoonful or two of cream or milk.

Plain Omelette.

The number of eggs depends on size of chafing dish as well as the number to serve. Five eggs make a good omelette. Beat whites and yolks separately, the former very stiff. Give the yolks about twelve good beats; add a large tablespoonful of milk to every two yolks, or if you find after making once you prefer it more moist, take a small tablespoonful of milk to each egg, add pepper and salt to yolks, then put yolks and beaten whites together, mixing quickly. Have ready the hot chafing dish with a walnut of butter sizzling hot and pour in your mixture. Do not stir. This is perhaps the only chafing dish preparation that requires the use of a knife, but for the success of an omelette a broad-bladed knife must be slipped about the edges and under the omelette to lift it just a little all the time, to keep from burning. When it is set, run the knife under one edge and slip on a hot platter, deftly folding over one-half of the omelette on the other.

Cheese Omelette.

Is made as above, with the addition of grated cheese according to taste.

Oyster Omelette.

When a plain omelette is prepared to serve, have ready a small oyster stew, and before folding the omelette lift several spoonfuls of oysters into the center of the omelette and fold over.

Peas Omelette.

Peas left from dinner may be heated over and folded in plain omelette. Asparagus heads, corn, tomatoes, minced ham and other combinations will suggest themselves, and a little ingenuity can develop original omelettes.

Sweetbreads.

There are many excellent ways of cooking sweetbreads in a chafing dish, but whether cooked at table or on the kitchen range, they must first stand in cold water an hour or two, then they should be parboiled, cooled, and all rough edges, membranes and sinews removed. They should then be put in cold water and kept on ice until wanted for the chafing dish. Calf's brains are prepared in the same way and may be cooked in any style sweetbreads are.

Creamed Sweetbreads.

thin nor yet too thick, or if preferred, cut in dice and sauté in butter. Open a can of French mushrooms, rinse in cold water, cut half of them into quarters, add them to sweetbread with 1 pint of cream; season with salt and pepper. Dissolve 1 heaping tablespoonful of flour, add it and simmer until the sauce is thick and smooth.

Sweetbreads With Peas.

Will Serve Four.

Put into the hot water dish a teaspoonful of butter; toss about in the dish the three small sweetbreads which have been prepared as in the foregoing recipe. They may be larded also. When they have absorbed the butter and are in danger of burning, add $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of strong beef or veal broth or gravy, 1 celery leaf chopped fine, salt, pepper, and $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful of browned flour. Turn the sweetbreads, and when the sauce is reduced one-half the dish is ready.

Open a can of best green peas, or cooked fresh ones are better; put them into cutlet dish with 1 tablespoonful of butter, salt and pepper. When the peas are warmed through they are done. Serve both together.

Lobster or Crab á la Newburg.

The first important step is to select the proper cut of corned beef; the second is to be positive that raw potatoes only are used; cold boiled potatoes will spoil the dish.

Select a very fine piece of navel corned beef, weighing about 3 pounds; boil it half an hour in hot water, then take it out, throw the water away and cover the meat with tepid water. Simmer on back of the range two and a half hours; remove the pot from the range and allow the meat to cool in the water. Skim off the fat and remove the meat, placing it in ice box until next day. Cut into small pieces 2 pounds of the beef; peel, slice and cut into dice enough raw potatoes, which when cut up will equal in quantity the cut meat. Peel and cut up fine 1 large sour apple; chop these ingredients together in a chopping bowl. Cut up fine 2 medium sized onions; also a large sweet Spanish pepper, not the hot variety. Now put into a large frying pan a scant tablespoonful of beef drippings—butter will not do. When hot add the onion and fry a delicate brown. Next add the pepper, toss about for a few moments, then add a gill of strong beef stock, after which the other chopped ingredients, with a pint of beef stock or strong broth; mix well, cover and simmer thirty minutes. Should the moisture evaporate too quickly add more of the broth. Stir to prevent sticking to the pan, and also to assist in evaporating the moisture finally. Taste for seasoning and put away until next day, when it should be warmed in the chafing dish with the hot water dish underneath it.

(Recommended by Mrs. M. F. Backus.)

Fresh Mushrooms.

Peel one dozen medium-sized mushrooms; remove the stems; melt $\frac{1}{2}$ a teaspoonful of butter in the cutlet dish, and before it gets hot lift the dish off and put it on a plate; cover the bottom of the dish with mushrooms; on top of each mushroom put a bit of butter the size of a marble; season each with a little salt and pepper. Return the dish to the flame and cook from two to three minutes, according to the size of the mushrooms.

(Gorham Chafing Dish Recipes.)

Fresh Mushrooms.

To every quart of mushrooms add 1 tablespoonful of butter, cut into bits and well floured; cook fifteen minutes; add 1 tablespoonful of cream to a quart of mushrooms; salt and pepper to taste. Remove from the fire, add one well-beaten egg and small wineglassful of sherry. Serve at once, with or without toast.

SALADS

“We may pick a thousand salads e’re we light on such an herb.”

Mayonnaise No. 1.

2 eggs (yolks only)	1 teaspoonful dry mustard
1 teaspoonful sugar	1 teaspoonful salt
2 tablespoonfuls vinegar	Juice of 1 lemon
1 pint best olive oil	A dash of cayenne

Rub the inside of a bowl with a slice of onion; beat the yolks of the eggs with the dry ingredients and with a silver fork beat in the oil, pouring in only a drop or two at a time. Always stir one way, and always be sure that the last drops of oil are stirred in thoroughly before adding more. After the mixture becomes thick and ropy the oil may be added in a little larger quantities, but it is better to be too careful rather than not enough so. If the mixture separates it is probably because it is not chilled enough or because the oil has been added too rapidly. Set the bowl on the ice in the refrigerator for fifteen or twenty minutes, then try again; if it still will not mix, add the yolk (very cold) of another egg, and perhaps a second one may be added. If it is still obstinate and it is necessary to finish the dressing at once, it will be best to set this away and begin over again, taking great care that all the materials and utensils are well chilled; and in warm weather, or a warm room, set the bowl in a dish of cracked ice while beating. Some times two or three hours' chilling will bring the old dressing out all right; sometimes a few drops of lemon juice or a little unbeaten white of egg will restore consistency.

After the dressing becomes quite stiff and hard to stir, a few drops of lemon or vinegar may be added, then more oil, and so on till all the oil has been used. It is impossible to give exact quantities of vinegar and seasoning for a salad dressing, so much depends upon the strength of the materials; so that much must be left to the taste. But lemon juice is better than all vinegar, and tarragon vinegar is a great improvement upon cider vinegar.

To keep, this dressing should be thick enough to cut with a knife, put into a fruit jar, sealed and kept in the ice chest. The quantity needed may be thinned to the proper consistency by adding whipped cream, thick sweet cream, or sour cream. The white of an egg beaten to a stiff froth and added at the last makes it very light and delicate.

MRS. RICHARD C. STEVENS.

Cream Salad Dressing.

Mixture for Seasoning.

8 teaspoonfuls of salt 4 teaspoonfuls of mustard
1 even teaspoonful of red pepper

Mix well together and place in a tin or glass can for future use.

Dressing.

To 5 tablespoonfuls of boiling vinegar add the well-beaten yolks of 5 eggs, piece of butter size of an egg, and boil until it thickens; then remove from the stove and beat until cool; add 1 teaspoonful of the mixture to this and the juice of 1 lemon. Beat $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of cream stiff and stir into the paste when ready to serve.

MRS. CHARLES STIMSON.

Sour Cream Salad Dressing.

5 tablespoonfuls of vinegar Yolks of 5 eggs
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of butter or salad oil 1 teaspoonful of salt
1 saltspoonful of pepper 1 tablespoonful of sugar
1 teaspoonful of prepared 1 cup of sour cream mustard

Heat vinegar to boiling point and pour gradually into beaten yolks; stir until thick, then add butter gradually until all is dissolved, and lastly other ingredients.

C. HOWELL KIRBY.

Cooked Salad Dressing.

4 eggs	$\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoonful red pepper
1 teaspoonful of dry mustard	1 cup of best salad oil
$\frac{3}{4}$ cup of vinegar	$1\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonfuls of sugar
	$1\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonfuls of salt

Beat the yolks and add the dry ingredients, then very slowly add the oil. This, if rightly done, will become waxy and thick. Add the vinegar a little at a time; then the beaten whites of the eggs. Put into the double boiler and stir from the edges and bottom carefully till it thickens.

Lemon juice is much nicer than vinegar, or more lemon juice than vinegar. Put in a glass jar, keep in a cool place and use as required.

MRS. GEO. OSGOOD, Tacoma.

Lactiola Dressing.

4 tablespoonfuls of butter	1 tablespoonful of flour
1 tablespoonful of salt	1 ounce of sugar
1 large teaspoonful of mustard	1 cup of milk
3 eggs	$\frac{1}{2}$ cup of vinegar
	A pinch of cayenne

Heat the butter in custard kettle; add flour, stirring until smooth, being careful not to brown. Add the milk and boil up. Beat the eggs, salt, pepper, mustard and sugar together and add vinegar. Mix with the boiling mixture and stir until it thickens like soft custard. Let cool and bottle, and it will keep in a cool place for weeks. Yolks of eggs may be used, requiring six yolks for this quantity.

MRS. CORWIN S. SHANK.

Boiled Sweet Dressing.

1 whole egg	1 cup cream or milk
1 tablespoonful sugar	$\frac{1}{2}$ cup cream (whipped)
1 tablespoonful flour	1 tablespoonful lemon juice

Heat the milk, then to it add the egg, well beaten, and then the flour and sugar, which have been dissolved in a little milk. Cook as you would a custard, then remove from stove, and when cold and ready to serve beat in the whipped cream and lemon juice.

MRS. ELLEN R. MILLER.

Salad Dressing.

Two medium-sized boiled potatoes. While hot pass through a sieve; add well-beaten yolks of two raw eggs, mixed mustard and salt to taste, and when well mixed and cold beat in gradually and thoroughly as much oil as it will bear until stiff enough to bear up a fork. Put in vinegar, using your judgment as to quantity, and a dash of red pepper. If the oil does not mix readily, add a drop or two of vinegar or cold water. It needs a deal of beating and should be quite thick and creamy when done.

MRS. B. W. BAKER.

French Salad Dressing.

Take four parts of oil to one of vinegar or lemon juice; season highly with salt, pepper, drop of Tobasco, and add a little Worcestershire sauce if desired. Mix very thoroughly.

Dressing for Cold Slaw.

1 cup milk	2 eggs
1 tablespoonful butter	$\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful mustard
1 tablespoonful sugar	$\frac{1}{2}$ cup vinegar
1 small tablespoonful salt	Cayenne
1 small tablespoonful of flour

Boil the milk and to it add the beaten eggs. Remove from the fire and add the butter and flour (creamed together); stir constantly and add slowly the other ingredients, one at a time, finishing with the vinegar. Cool before using.

MRS. L. B. STEDMAN.

Fruit Salad Dressing.

4 tablespoonfuls sugar $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful cinnamon
 1 gill sherry 2 tablespoonfuls Maderia

Mix sugar and cinnamon together, add the wine and stir constantly until sugar is dissolved.

By permission of

MRS. S. T. RORER and ARNOLD & CO.

Egg Salad.

1 tablespoonful of butter 3 raw eggs
 1 cup of cream $\frac{2}{3}$ cup of vinegar
 1 teaspoonful of pepper 1 teaspoonful of salt
 2 teaspoonfuls of dry mustard

Beat the eggs separately, then mix and to them add pepper, vinegar, salt and mustard and stir all in a sauce pan in which is the tablespoonful of butter melted. Let it come to a boil, then cool before adding the cream. Cut celery as for chicken salad and cut hard-boiled eggs in quarters or slices, having equal quantities of celery and eggs. Mix all together and stir in dressing.

MRS. R. C. WASHBURN.

Chicken Salad.

Use mayonnaise recipe No. 1, but make it with a Dover egg-beater instead of a fork. When the dressing is made add to it a teaspoonful of Worcestershire sauce and several dashes of Tobasco sauce. Cut the chicken into small pieces with a knife or scissors. Do not chop. Fix the celery the same way. To this add blanched almonds, some capers and olives, all chopped, but not too fine. Put in the mayonnaise dressing and serve on shredded lettuce—shredded lettuce because it is so much more convenient to eat when served in that way.

MRS. S. L. CRAWFORD.

Three chickens with an equal amount of celery will serve forty people.

See Kilbourne & Clark Co., Seattle, Before Buying Fixtures and Glassware.

A Few Combinations that Make Good Salads, Served With Mayonnaise Dressing.

Herring Salad.

8 herrings	Cold roast veal
Raw apples	Pickled red beets
Cucumber pickles	2 onions
6 hard	boiled eggs

Soak the herring for twelve hours, pick out bones and skin, cut in small pieces; add the same quantity of finely cut cold roast veal, almost as much of apples and red beets, and 1 saucerful of chopped pickles and 2 chopped onions. Shortly before using cut the whites of 6 hard-boiled eggs into it, and stir the yolks into the milt of the herrings, which has been previously beaten with vinegar; then add thereto pepper, salt, a little mustard and more vinegar. Pour over the rest, and when ready to use ornament with beets, pickles, hard-boiled eggs (each chopped separately), and some capers. Enough olive oil and vinegar to moisten.

L. M. THEDINGA.

Asparagus and Chicken Salad.

Marinate cold boiled asparagus tips in French dressing and place on top of chicken or veal mayonnaise. Garnish with mayonnaise.

MRS. RICHARD C. STEVENS.

Macedoine Salad.

Vegetables which are ordinarily cooked before serving should be cooked before using for salad. Mayonnaise should be added just before serving it, as it liquifies as soon as mixed with vegetables.

1 head celery	1 tablespoonful green peas
½ cauliflower	1 tablespoonful string beans
	1 small beet

Cut into small pieces, cover with mayonnaise and serve at once. Any combination of vegetables may be used.

MRS. WINFIELD R. SMITH.

Potato Salad.

Boil four good-sized potatoes in their jackets, peel, cut in dice, put into a colander and marinate with French dressing in which has been grated a few drops of onion. When cold moisten slightly with mayonnaise which has had one teaspoonful of minced cucumber pickles and one of minced capers mixed with it. Put a layer in the salad bowl, a thin layer of sliced and salted cucumbers, a spoonful or two of mayonnaise on this, then more potatoes, etc., until all are used, putting potatoes last and mayonnaise liberally on top. Garnish with pitted olives, cold boiled beets cut in any shape desired, hard-boiled eggs or capers. It is hardly possible to put too many good things into potato salad.

MRS. RICHARD C. STEVENS.

Apple and Celery Salad.

Select several ripe mealy apples and about half as much celery. Make a mayonnaise dressing, using lemon juice instead of vinegar. Add to this the well-beaten white of one egg. Peel and slice the apples thin. Cut the celery fine. Stir these into the dressing. Garnish with celery tips and serve.

MRS. PETERS.

Waldorf Salad.

1 cup of apples 2 cups of celery
2 tablespoonfuls of chopped walnuts

Cut the apples and celery into one-half inch pieces. Chop the nuts very fine. Mix with mayonnaise just before serving, and garnish with halves of walnuts. Serve very cold.

Tomato Jelly Salad.

Will Serve Eight.

1 can tomatoes $\frac{1}{2}$ box gelatine
Pepper and salt

latter. Strain through a fine sieve, add the gelatine (dissolved) and fill a mould. Set in ice box until cold. Cut in thin slices and serve on lettuce leaves with mayonnaise. Cucumbers sliced very thin may be added if desired.

MRS. NATHANIEL WALDO EMERSON, Boston.

Tomato Salad.

MRS. L. C. SAULSBERRY.

Sweetbread Salad.

Parboil one pair of sweetbreads; put in cold water for half an hour; remove the skin, add salt and simmer gently for twenty minutes. When cold, slice thin, marinate with French dressing, and add shredded celery. Serve with mayonnaise.

Fruit Macedoine.

Two bananas, cut in quarters lengthwise and then in inch-long pieces; 2 oranges, having the pulp separated as nearly whole as possible; a small pineapple, shredded; a bunch of grapes, seeded, and $\frac{3}{4}$ cupful of nuts (pecans are best, but almonds or walnuts may be used, or a mixture). Have the fruit thoroughly chilled; moisten lightly with French dressing. Serve at once on lettuce leaves with mayonnaise on top. A great many combinations of fruits can be prepared in this way. Oranges alone, or oranges with nuts are good.

MRS. RICHARD C. STEVENS.

Golden Chestnut Salad.

Shell, blanch and boil until tender one pint of chestnuts; drain, dust with salt and stand aside to cool; hard-boil two eggs. At serving time arrange the lettuce in a salad bowl, put the chestnuts over and moisten with a nice French dressing, using lemon juice instead of vinegar. Hold a small sieve over the bowl and rub the yolks through it, with which cover the salad slightly. By permission of MRS. S. T. RORER and The Household News.

Celery as a Garnish Salad.

Take a large cork, as from a wide-mouthed bottle, drive in needles head first quite close and regularly. Have nice white celery cut about two inches long, draw over the needles from the center (nearly) to one end, then turn and draw to the other end, making the celery into fringes, held together in the center. Throw into ice water for a half hour, and it will curl and crisp beautifully. This is also a pretty way to prepare celery for a salad.

MRS. RICHARD C. STEVENS.

Apples.

Select fine, large red apples; cut off the tops scoop out center and fill with any preferred salad. Apple and celery or any meat salad is good. Serve whole on lettuce.

Cucumbers.

Peppers.

Slice cucumbers with French dressing and fill the peppers. Serve on lettuce.

Bananas.

Remove two sections of the banana skin and take out fruit. Cut into dice, mix with mayonnaise and refill the skins. Serve on lettuce.

Pears.

Cut in half; take out centers and fill with chopped celery mixed with mayonnaise. Serve on lettuce.

Cherry Salad.

Remove the seeds from sour cherries; place a filbert in each one. Heap the fruit on a lettuce leaf and serve with French dressing or mayonnaise.

MRS. ALBERT T. TIMMERMAN.

Slice oranges thin; free from seeds; and mix with a dressing made of 3 tablespoonfuls of oil, 1 tablespoonful of lemon juice, salt, cayenne. Delicious.

MRS. ERASTUS BRAINERD.

A Dainty Way to Serve Chicken Salad.

Cut out the stem end of tomatoes and remove the pulp; moisten the inside slightly with French dressing and chill thoroughly. At serving time fill with chicken mayonnaise (chicken salad without the celery); put a spoonful of mayonnaise on top, garnish with capers or chopped pickles and serve on lettuce leaves.

Tomato Baskets.

Select fine large tomatoes, carefully peel and put on ice. Leave a strip of the tomato in the middle to serve as the handle of basket. Prepare celery by splitting lengthwise the thickness of a straw and cut in half-inch pieces. Mix with mayonnaise and fill the baskets. Mayonnaise of sweetbreads is very nice in these baskets.

Mushroom Salad.

1 can mushrooms 1 cup of cut celery
Pecans if desired

Soak mushrooms in cold salt water for an hour or two before using. Mix with celery and pecans and a mayonnaise and serve on lettuce leaves.

Oyster Salad.

Drain the liquor from a pint of Sound oysters, pour boiling water over them and let them stand until they plump. Set away until perfectly cold, then mix with half a cup of mayonnaise and serve on crisp lettuce.

Pecan Salad.

1 cup pecans, shelled $\frac{3}{4}$ cup celery, cut fine

Marinate with French dressing; chill well and arrange on lettuce leaves and garnish with mayonnaise.

MRS. RICHARD C. STEVENS.

Chestnut and English Walnut Salad.

Have the chestnuts shelled and blanched; boil till they are soft and tender. Pour boiling water on the walnuts to remove the skins.

Mix the nuts together, pour over a French dressing and serve on lettuce leaves.

Celery may be cut into small pieces and mixed with them, or apples may be used instead of the celery. Garnish with mayonnaise.

MRS. S. T. RORER and The Household News Co.

Nut Jelly Salad.

In a sauce pan put 3 cupfuls of walnut meats, 2 slices of onion, 1 teaspoonful of salt, 2 blades of mace, 2 bay leaves. Cover with boiling water and boil ten minutes; drain and drop into ice water until needed. Then dry thoroughly in a towel and with a sharp knife cut (not chop) each nut into several pieces and add enough mayonnaise to mix well together.

In a sauce pan put one quart of boiling water, 4 cloves, 2 blades of mace, $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoonful of celery seed, 1 slice of onion, 1 bay leaf, 4 slices of carrot, 2 slices of turnip, 2 teaspoonfuls of beef extract, and simmer gently for thirty minutes. Season to taste. Add 2-3 box of gelatine which has been soaked in water and stir till dissolved. Strain very carefully and add 4 tablespoonfuls of tarragon vinegar. Have ready a dozen medium sized timbale moulds dipped in cold water. Pour into them the aspic and put away until set. Then scoop out the center of each and fill with the nut mixture. Put the fragments of jelly where they will melt without heating and when liquid put a little on the top of each mould. Keep on ice until ready to use, then turn out and serve on lettuce leaves, garnishing with mayonnaise and paprika.

From TABLE TALK.

Place the mixture in a well buttered dish and bake until light brown on top. A little minced parsley may be added, or a little finely chopped cooked meat of any kind, or white fish minced fine. Serve immediately in the dish in which it is baked.

Wash, scrub and bake three smooth potatoes. Cut in halves lengthwise, and without breaking the skin scoop out the potato into a hot bowl. Mash and add 1 tablespoonful of butter, 2 tablespoonfuls of hot cream, 1 tablespoonful of chopped parsley, salt and pepper to taste. Beat the whites of 2 eggs stiff and mix with the potato. Fill the skins with the potato mixture, heaping it lightly on the top. Brown slightly. One tablespoonful of grated cheese may be used instead of the parsley.

MRS. CHARLES SHEPARD.

Potato Croquettes.

Boil 6 large potatoes, mash fine, season with pepper and salt and 2 tablespoonfuls of melted butter. Beat separately the yolks of 2 eggs and the white of one; first beat the yolks thoroughly into the potato, then add the white, beating all very light. Form into balls and roll, first in beaten egg, then into cracker crumbs, and fry in hot lard.

MRS. J. C. HAINES.

Scalloped Potatoes No. 1.

Slice raw potatoes fine, put a layer in a baking dish; put over them a dust of flour, small pieces of butter, salt and pepper and celery salt, and a little milk (cream is better if you have it); fill the dish in this way. Roll 3 crackers fine, sprinkle over the top, and bake one hour in a moderate oven.

MRS. J. C. HAINES.

Scalloped Potatoes No. 2.

Cut cold boiled potatoes into dice and alternate them in a baking dish with layers of cream sauce, to which may have been added a little onion juice or parsley. Strew bread crumbs and bits of butter on top and bake about thirty minutes.

MRS. CALVIN VILAS.

French Fried Potatoes.

Pare the potatoes and cut into three-cornered pieces. Fry as doughnuts in boiling lard. When brown add pepper and salt.

H. VAUGHAN HOWELL.

Potatoes and Eggs.

Eight or ten potatoes, six hard-boiled eggs. Boil and mash potatoes, season with cream, butter and salt. Put a layer of this in buttered baking dish. Separate yolks from whites; mash the yolks, adding a teaspoonful of mustard, very little cayenne, tablespoonful of butter, dessert spoonful of vinegar, cream sufficient to soften. Mix this with the chopped whites; add a layer of this, then the potatoes till the dish is filled, putting bits of butter on top. Put in the oven and brown twenty minutes or a half hour.

MRS. LOUISE A. TOMPSON.

Potato Timbale.

Pare eight good-sized potatoes, cover them with boiling water, let them cook until soft, drain water from them and mash smooth and light. Add 3 tablespoonfuls of butter, two of finely chopped parsley; season with pepper, salt and celery salt, and then gradually beat in 1 teacupful of hot milk, stirring hard; beat the yolks of 3 eggs and stir into the mixture; butter baking dish and cover it thickly with fine crumbs; lastly beat the whites of the 3 eggs very stiff; beat well into prepared potato; turn all into dish and bake in a moderate oven for half an hour. Let the dish stand a few minutes after it comes from the oven; then place a heated platter over the top and turn them over together. If the timbale does not readily come from the dish, loosen with a thin-bladed knife.

MRS. J. C. HAINES.

Moulded Potato.

Boil until mealy half a dozen large potatoes; mash smooth and light; stir into them 2 generous tablespoonfuls of butter and 3 tablespoonfuls of cream and 2 tablespoonfuls of finely chopped parsley; season with pepper and salt. Beat very light the whites of 3 eggs, stir into potato, beating all well together. Have a quart tin jelly mould well buttered, pour the mixture into it, pressing down well into form; let stand a few minutes, then reverse mould on a buttered baking tin. Brush the moulded potato over with the beaten yolks of the 3 eggs; place in oven and brown lightly. This makes a sightly dish placed in the center of a hot platter and French mutton chops piled around it. Garnish with lemon and parsley.

MRS. J. C. HAINES.

Creamed Potatoes au Gratin.

Put in sauce pan 1 cup of thin cream, 1 small tablespoonful of butter; season with salt and pepper; cut into rather fine dice half a dozen cold boiled potatoes. When the cream mixture comes to a boil add the potatoes, let them boil up once and remove from fire. Place a layer of potatoes in a buttered baking dish and scatter over them some grated cheese, and then layers of potatoes and cheese until the dish is filled. Sprinkle over the top a layer of crumbs and bits of butter over all. Put dish in oven and bake until crumbs are brown, which will be in fifteen or twenty minutes.

MRS. J. C. HAINES.

Sweet Potatoes with Sugar.

Boil the potatoes, then slice them. Put them in a baking dish, make a syrup by adding water and a little butter to the sugar; do not cook the syrup, but pour it over the potatoes and bake them in the oven. A very little while will suffice for the syrup to permeate the potatoes. A crust of sugar will form on the top of potatoes.

MRS. THOMAS GREEN.

Spinach With Cream.

Boil spinach and chop fine. In a sauce pan over the fire put 4 ounces of butter, 1 tablespoonful of flour, salt, nutmeg and $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of cream. Stir well until it boils; add spinach, and when hot serve with bread fried in butter.

MRS. ERASTUS BRAINERD.

Boiled Cabbage.

Prepare the cabbage by cutting as for cold slaw and allow it to lie in cold water at least half an hour before cooking. Cover with cold water and cook slowly until tender, changing the water three times during the process in order to remove the strong cabbage taste and odor. When tender, drain off all water and add $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of milk (this amount for about half a head of cabbage), butter, pepper and salt. Heat the milk through and serve at once. Cabbage cooked in this way is as delicate as cauliflower.

MRS. J. D. LOWMAN.

French Cabbage.

Wash cabbage in salt water, cut in quarters and boil twenty minutes. Drain the water from it, but do not squeeze. Brown $\frac{1}{4}$ pound of butter in pan, put in cabbage and a teacup of cream and let simmer another twenty minutes. Good.

MRS. CHARLOTTE B. CHURCH.

Winter Succotash.

Boil half a pint of dry Lima beans until tender; add 1 can of corn, season with butter, salt and pepper and add 1 cup of cream or milk.

1 cup of tomatoes	1 cup of bread crumbs

Garnish with parsley.

MRS. V. A. RITON.

Hash.

Use equal quantities of chopped meat and fresh grated bread; moisten well with milk, stock or gravy; season well with salt, pepper, and a little tomato, walnut or mushroom catsup. MRS. RICHARD C. STEVENS.

Corned Beef Hash.

Equal quantities of cold corned beef, chopped, and cold boiled potatoes, chopped (mashed potatoes may be used but are not so nice); put into a stew pan and moisten with stock, water or milk; a little left-over gravy is a nice addition. Let simmer, season with salt, cayenne and butter, and any sauce or catsup that is liked. Have an omelette pan very hot, put in a bit of butter, sufficient to moisten the bottom thoroughly, put the hash in and spread evenly. Draw onto the back of the stove and let brown without stirring. Fold like an omelette, toss onto a hot platter and serve with tartare sauce. A few table-spoonfuls of chopped beets make a pleasant change.

MRS. RICHARD C. STEVENS.

Chicken or Turkey Hash.

Chop the meat and potatoes, not too fine; also two green bell peppers. Put plenty of butter and a little hot water into the frying pan. When cooked add a little Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper to taste. Do not let the hash get too dry. Serve on buttered toast.

Place a cooked beef tongue in the center of cavity in the joint and surround it with the dressing, packing it in firmly and evenly. Tie up tightly in a cloth and boil steadily, but not too hard, for three hours. When cold remove the cloth carefully without breaking the meat and place in a mould which will fit closely, and fill any space with a jelly made with one dessertspoonful of gelatine dissolved in a very little wa-

MRS. CORWIN S. SHANK.

Suggestion for Meat Loaf.

In making any kind of meat loaf, putting in a cup or two of cold boiled rice makes the loaf much more delicate, and grating in the rind of two lemons makes an agreeable change in seasoning.

1 tablespoonful salt	6 soda crackers

Beat the eggs well and roll the crackers very fine. Cover the brains with cold water, to which add a tablespoonful of salt, and let stand over night. In the morning put them in warm water for a few minutes, after which carefully remove all particles of the tissue which surround the solid part. Next put them into boiling water and let them simmer for ten minutes to make them firm. Take them up, drain and wipe, and dip, one at a time, first in the egg, then in the cracker, and lastly in the egg. Take equal parts of butter and drippings (lard or cololene if preferred), and when very hot fry the brains. Turn them often and be careful that they are thoroughly cooked. When done they should be a rich brown color. Season with pepper and serve very hot.

Creamed Frogs.

Parboil the frogs, then make a rich cream sauce of 3 tablespoonfuls of butter, 1 tablespoonful of flour, 1 cup of cream and a tiny bit of mace, salt and cayenne. Chicken Hollandaise.

1 tablespoonful butter	Yolks of 2 eggs
$\frac{1}{4}$ saltspoonful cayenne	1 tablespoonful chopped
1 saltspoonful chopped	parsley
onion	1 tablespoonful corn starch
2 cups hot chicken broth	$\frac{3}{4}$ cup celery (cut fine)
2 cups chicken (cut fine)	Salt to taste

MRS. HENRY DRISLER.

Chicken Timbales.

Chop uncooked lean chicken, freed from skin and bones, very fine; pound with a potato masher and rub through a sieve. There should be half a pint of meat. Cook 1 cup of cream, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of grated bread, and a tiny bit of mace for fifteen minutes. Take out the mace and beat and mash the mixture till it is a smooth paste; add 3 ounces of butter, salt and pepper to taste, and the chopped meat; beat well and add the stiffly beaten whites of 2 eggs. Set away to cool. When cold butter the timbale moulds and line with the paste. This must be done very evenly, and great care must be taken that there are no thin places. When this is done fill with creamed chicken made as follows:

Try Wheat Manna for Breakfast Food.

- 1 cup of cold diced chicken
- 3 tablespoonfuls of mushrooms (chopped), or
- 2 tablespoonfuls of mushrooms and 1 of hard-boiled eggs (chopped)
- 1 dessert spoonful of flour
- $\frac{3}{4}$ cup of cream

Mix the flour with a little of the cream, put the remainder on to cook in the double boiler. When this boils add the flour and cook for a minute to thicken the flour; add the chicken and the mushrooms, salt and pepper to taste. Mix thoroughly and cook about five minutes; take from the fire, grate in a hint of onion, and, if you use it, a tablespoonful of sherry, in which case omit a tablespoonful of cream. Fill the lined moulds with this mixture, putting in a little at a time that there may be no air bubbles. Fill almost to the top and cover with paste, being careful to cover every part of the filling and not to heap it, but to have the top perfectly level with the edges of the mould. Put the moulds into a bain marie, or a deep pan, fill nearly to the top of the mould with warm water and bake half an hour. The oven should be about right for custards, so that the mixture will never bubble. Cover the moulds with buttered paper. They may be served on a napkin or on a hot dish with cream mushroom, Suprême or Béchamel sauce. Nice for luncheons, card parties or entrées.

MRS. RICHARD C. STEVENS.

Sweetbread Timbales.

These are prepared almost the same as chicken timbales, substituting sweetbreads for chicken in the filling, or part sweetbreads and part breast of chicken. Use the same paste for lining the moulds. If you wish them very elaborate, after buttering the moulds stick slices of mushrooms around the sides and bottom of the moulds; then line with the paste very carefully, so as not to displace them; hard-boiled eggs, chopped, or almonds blanched, browned a little and chopped, may be used in the same manner.

Quaking Omelette.

Four eggs, $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of milk, a rounded tablespoonful of flour and a teaspoonful of salt. Beat together the yolks of eggs, flour and salt; add them to milk. Then whip whites to a froth and stir into mixture. Put a tablespoonful of butter into a hot frying pan; turn mixture in. In about one minute put the pan into the oven; remain six minutes. Have a hot platter ready and a cup of cream sauce well seasoned. Turn the omelette on the platter, but do not try to fold it. Pour sauce around it. Serve at once; will fall if let stand.

MRS. L. H. GRAY.

Ham Omelette.

4 eggs	1 tablespoonful of butter
1 teaspoonful of grated onion	1 teaspoonful of chopped parsley
1 tablespoonful of chopped ham	Salt and pepper

Melt the butter in hot omelette pan. Beat the eggs lightly, just enough to mix, stir in the other ingredients, and pour in the hot pan. As soon as the edges begin to set fold half over, cook one minute longer, turn on a hot dish and serve immediately.

These same ingredients, omitting the eggs, cooked with the butter until very hot, and spread on buttered toast, make a breakfast or luncheon dish which is excellent.

MRS. BONE.

Oyster Omelette.

Will Serve Four.

6 eggs, beaten separately	6 tablespoonfuls of flour
6 tablespoonfuls of cream	Oysters

Chop the oyster fine and sprinkle with flour. Place where they will keep warm. Beat yolks of eggs, flour and cream together, then add well-beaten whites of eggs. Fry on a griddle in butter. When omelette is firmly set put in some chopped oyster and double the omelette over it. Serve at once.

Omelette Souflé.

Six eggs, the whites beaten to a stiff froth, the yolks well beaten with four tablespoonfuls of white sugar. To the latter add the grated rind of half a lemon with the juice of the whole. Put in the whites and bake fifteen minutes. Serve in the pudding dish in which it was baked.

MISS COWAP.

Fricasseed Eggs.

Boil six eggs hard. Remove the shells and slice them. Cook 1 cup of milk, 1 tablespoonful of flour, 2 tablespoonfuls of butter, 1 teaspoonful of chopped onion, 1 teaspoonful or more of chopped parsley, pepper and salt to taste. Pour this over the eggs and serve hot.

MRS. M. H. YOUNG.

Egg Patties.

For four people take four pieces of bread three inches in diameter, three also in height. Make in the middle of each a hole two inches deep and one or two inches across. Fry these toasts in butter. Put them on a buttered dish, break a fresh egg in every hole, sprinkle over salt and pepper and about a teaspoonful of butter in each egg. Bake five minutes.

Another way: Butter the gem pan, drop an egg in each; salt. Take from oven when the whites set.

MRS. L. H. GRAY.

Golden Rod Pie.

Boil 12 eggs hard, make a white sauce; line a deep dish with toast, put a layer of white sauce, then a layer of white rings of eggs sliced thin, then some of the grated or lightly mashed yolks, repeating until the dish is full, seasoning with salt and pepper to taste; a few bread crumbs on top. Bake about fifteen minutes but do not let it get brown.

MRS. MAURICE McMICKEN.

Stuffed Eggs.

Boil good fresh eggs twenty minutes; when cold remove shells and carefully cut through the middle; remove the yolks into a dish by themselves. Mash the yolks well and add sufficient soft butter, oil, vinegar, pepper and salt to taste quite sharp. Refill the whites evenly. For picnics wrap in tissue paper to keep moist.

MRS. CORWIN S. SHANK.

Deviled Eggs.

Boil half a dozen eggs hard, remove the shell and cut in half lengthwise; take out the yolks and mash them fine; add some finely minced tongue, season well with salt, pepper and mustard. Mould in balls about the size of egg yolks and put one in each half of the whites. Serve on lettuce leaves.

MRS. M. A. KELLOGG.

Curried Eggs.

Will Serve Two.

Boil 3 eggs 20 minutes, then remove shells and cut in slices; fry a bit of onion in a little butter and add 1 teaspoonful of corn starch mixed with a saltspoonful of curry powder; add slowly $\frac{3}{4}$ cup of milk, season with salt and butter to taste and simmer until the onion is soft. Add the eggs and serve when they are thoroughly heated.

MRS. HATFIELD.

"Egg Nests on Toast."

Will Serve Six.

6 eggs	$\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful salt
$1\frac{1}{2}$ tablespoonfuls butter	6 slices toast

Separate the eggs and keep the yolks whole by letting them remain in the half-shell until ready for use; beat the whites with the salt to a stiff froth; toast the bread and dip the edges in hot water, then butter and heap the whites high on the toast. Make a depression in the center of each mound, add a little butter and the whole yolk of the egg. Place the nests on a pan in a moderate oven and cook for three minutes, or until the whites are a light brown. Serve on a warm dish

MRS. MOORE.

Russian Eggs.

Boil two pounds of veal in salted water, or, much better, use cold chicken, turkey or veal that may have been left from dinner the day before. Put through a meat chopper, then add one cup of stock; season well with pepper, salt and a little Worcestershire sauce; stir well together on stove until hot, then set away to cool. Boil six eggs twenty minutes, take from shell and while hot cover with meat mixture until about the size of goose eggs. Roll in fine bread crumbs and fry in deep fat until a nice brown. Slice each egg in half lengthwise, garnish with parsley and lemon and serve.

The eggs must be used while hot as the frying is not sufficient to heat the eggs. Three minutes is about the length of time required to fry them.

MRS. J. C. HAINES.

Baked Eggs.

Butter small patty pans, line them with fine crumbs, drop an egg into each, cover lightly with crumbs which have been peppered, salted and moistened with melted butter. Bake until crumbs are brown.

Egg Timbales.

Will Serve Eight.

6 eggs	1 teaspoonful salt
1½ cups milk	Dash pepper
1 teaspoonful chopped parsley

Beat the eggs separately; add seasoning, parsley and milk to the yolks. Stir for five minutes, then add the beaten whites. Butter small moulds and divide the mixture into them. Place in a pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven until centers are firm. Turn out on a heated platter and pour over them a cream or tomato sauce.

Irish Potato Yeast.

6 medium-sized potatoes $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of sugar
2 tablespoonfuls of salt 1 "Magic" yeast cake
3 pints of water

Boil the potatoes in the water. When done mash in the water remaining and add sufficient cold water to make the consistency of thick cream. When lukewarm add sugar, salt and yeast cake. Press out carefully all the lumps, using the hands in doing so. Set in a moderately warm place to rise, then remove to a cold place and the yeast will keep sweet until consumed. One small teacupful is sufficient for a quart of flour.

MRS. W. H. H. GREEN.

Bread and Rolls.

Put 3 quarts of flour in a pan and make a hollow in the middle of it, into which pour a pint of lukewarm water in which half a yeast cake has been dissolved. Let this stand over night where it will not become chilled. In the morning, to $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of lukewarm water and the same of milk add a tablespoonful each of salt, sugar and shortening, and stir this into the sponge. Let it rise for about an hour and a half, then add flour until stiff, kneading well. Let it stand from one and a half to two hours, or until light; then make into loaves.

Centennial Best Flour, Specially for Family Use.

For rolls.—Save out one quart of the bread dough and add to it one tablespoonful each of sugar, lard and butter. Mix well and let it rise again, then make into rolls.

This quantity makes three loaves of bread and about three dozen rolls.

MRS. CHARLES E. SHEPARD.

Bread.

3 quarts of sifted flour	1 handful of salt
1 handful of sugar	2 small potatoes
1 cake of compressed yeast

Mix flour, sugar and salt. Mash the potatoes in one quart of potato water (taken after boiling potatoes for a meal). Dissolve the yeast in a little cold water. Pour warm potato water into the flour mixture; add yeast; mix stiff and knead thoroughly; cover and let rise over night. In the morning knead thoroughly again and form into loaves. Place in well-greased pans and butter the top of loaves also to make the crust moist. Let rise and bake in an oven about forty-five minutes. When done remove from pans, rub over the crust with butter, cover carefully with towels or napkins, then wrap well in woolen goods—for instance, an old clean small blanket.

MRS. CORWIN S. SHANK.

Salt Rising Bread.

Pour upon a teacupful of milk sufficient boiling water to bring it to blood temperature, or about 90 degrees (must not be too hot or your bread will fail). Add $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoonful each of salt and sugar, stir in one large tablespoonful corn meal or graham flour, and two tablespoonfuls of wheat flour. Mix well and set to rise by placing the bowl in warm water. Should water gather on top sprinkle in a little flour and stir. If set at early morning it will rise at noon. Mix as other bread, put in pans at once, let stand until light bake as quickly as possible, and when done brush top crust with butter.

MRS. W. B. GAFFNEY.

Centennial Best Flour, Specially for Family Use.

Oat Meal Bread.

1 cup Quaker oats	$\frac{1}{2}$ cup molasses
2 cups boiling water	$4\frac{1}{2}$ cups flour
$\frac{1}{2}$ tablespoonful salt	$\frac{1}{2}$ yeast cake

Pour the water over the oats and let stand one hour. Dissolve the yeast cake in a half pint of lukewarm water. Mix all together and in the morning put in pans, or cups. Do not knead, but let rise like other bread.

MRS. L. B. STEDMAN.

Oat Meal Bread No. 2.

One cup of oat meal boiled a little thicker than for mush and salted; $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of sugar; butter the size of an English walnut. Beat well, and when cool add one-third of a cake of compressed yeast dissolved in a little water, or $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of home-made yeast. Stir in all the flour it will take and allow it to raise until very light. Then work in flour again to form a loaf. Put in a bread pan and let raise until very light. Bake slowly about half an hour.

MRS. H. N. RICHMOND.

Whole Wheat Bread.

Two or Three Loaves.

1 heaped tablespoonful of sugar	2 tablespoonfuls of butter

stand without stirring until lukewarm, when add the yeast dissolved in $\frac{1}{4}$ cup of warm water; stir all together to make a soft batter, still leaving a little flour around the edges; cover closely and set to rise. When very light mix in the rest of the flour in the bowl, together with enough more to make a soft dough; knead well and set to rise again. If there is time after the second rising to cut down with a knife a few times the rolls will be much more delicate. About an hour before tea, roll out with as little flour as possible to one-half inch thickness; cut out with large biscuit cutter and spread with melted butter, fold over and place together in pan. Let them rise to twice their original size. Bake in a hot oven.

Boston Brown Bread.

“The Bostonians, you know, are most cultured ’tis said,
 And its greatly on account of their Boston brown bread.
 The secret of making, I’m privileged to tell,
 So one cup of corn meal, dear sister, sift well;
 Then add to the same one cup of *graham,
 And a cup and a half of white flour;
 Of molasses a cup, and an egg beaten up,
 And one cup of milk that is sour.
 One teaspoon and a half of soda to raise it,
 And one of salt, or none would praise it;
 Stir it up well, and four hours steam it,
 And rest assured all will deem it
 A greater treat than finest cake
 That one could eat, or cook or bake.”

*A cup of rye flour in place of the graham makes a darker and more moist bread. A half cup of seeded raisins is a great addition.

MRS. O. T. O. NUTT.

Blackberry Pudding.

1 egg, well beaten
 1 cup flour
 1 small tablespoonful sugar
 $\frac{1}{2}$ cup milk
 1 heaping teaspoonful baking powder
 Stewed blackberries

Fill a dish half full of hot stewed blackberries, sweetened; make a batter of the preceding ingredients and is pleasing to the eye and delicious to the taste. Soak the prunes for twelve hours in water enough to cover them. Put them in this same water over a slow fire to cook, adding a little sugar if not sweet enough for your taste. Let them simmer slowly until well cooked. This slow cooking will expand them more than the water has done, and does not destroy the flavor.

Another way is equally as good. Wash your prunes nicely, as in the first process, put in a porcelain-lined stew pan or kettle, pour over them enough cold water to cover them. Set them on the back of the cooking range, which is supposed to have fire in it, and let them stay there, heating through slowly, until nearly ready to serve. At the last moment bring them forward to the hot portion of the range and let them boil up quickly. Some prefer this method to the first. Slow heat and the soaking process, to make the fruit expand, brings out all the flavor, and is the secret of disfavor or popularity.

Add to the water one teaspoonful of vanilla sugar, or a tiny bit of vanilla bean, and a half cup of sugar; bring to a boil and skim. Boil two minutes, add prunes; when hot lift carefully and put aside to cool. A tablespoonful of soaked gelatine may be added when the prunes are hot. This will give a creamy, clear sauce. Charlotte Russe.

1 quart of good cream	$\frac{1}{2}$ pound of lady fingers
$\frac{3}{4}$ cup of powdered sugar	$\frac{1}{2}$ box of gelatine
$\frac{1}{2}$ gill of sherry (if you use wine)	1 teaspoonful of vanilla

Cover the gelatine with cold water and let it soak for a half hour. Whip the cream and lay it on a sieve to drain. Line two plain two-quart moulds with the lady fingers. Now turn the cream into a large basin and place it in a pan of cracked ice; add to the soaked gelatine just enough boiling water to dissolve it. Now add the sugar carefully to the cream, then the vanilla and wine, and last, strain in the gelatine. Commence to stir immediately; stir from the sides and bottom of the basin until it begins to thicken, then pour into the moulds and set away on the ice to harden.

Chopped pistachio nuts may be sprinkled over the top just before serving. By permission of MRS. S. T. RORER and Arnold & Co.

Parisian Charlotte.

$\frac{1}{4}$ box of gelatine	1 quart of cream
1 cup of grated cocoanut	$\frac{1}{4}$ lb. of stale lady fingers
$\frac{1}{4}$ pound of macaroons	2 tablespoonfuls of sugar
4 eggs

Cover the gelatine with cold water and let it soak a half hour. Whip one-half the cream and stand it away until wanted. Put the remaining half to boil in a farina boiler. Beat the eggs and sugar together until light (do not separate the eggs), stir into boiling cream and stir one minute until it thickens; add the gelatine, take from the fire, add a teaspoonful of vanilla and the lady fingers, macaroons and cocoanut, and turn into a basin. Now place the basin in a pan of cracked ice, and stir constantly until it just begins to thicken; then add the whipped cream and stir very carefully until thoroughly mixed. Wet a fancy mould with cold water, turn in the mixture and stand on the ice to harden.

Or, cut the center out of a one-pound stale sponge cake, leaving a bottom and sides about a half inch thick, and pour the mixture into this instead of the mould. Serve with sauce. By permission of

MRS. S. T. RORER and Arnold & Co.

Cocoanut Charlotte.

Grate one cocoanut, pour over it one pint of boiling water. Stir well. When cool wring it in a cheese cloth and set this water, or milk, away until cold. Whip 1 pint of cream, skim the cocoanut cream from the top of the milk and add to the gelatine; add $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of the water also and stir over the fire a moment till the gelatine is dissolved. Add to the whipped cream $\frac{2}{3}$ cup of powdered sugar; then the gelatine and cocoanut cream; stir it at once and stir continually until it begins to thicken. Turn in a mould and stand away to harden. When ready to serve turn out and garnish with preserved chestnuts. Pour over the chestnut syrup as a sauce. This is both good and sightly. By permission of

MRS. S. T. RORER and The Household News Co.

Virginia Caramel Custard.

1 quart milk 1/4 pound sugar
 5 eggs Pinch of salt

Flavor, rosewater or almond, 1 dessert spoonful

Separate the whites from the yolks of the eggs; beat sugar and yolks together, add the well-beaten whites and mix with the milk, flavor and pour into a buttered mould or tin; set immediately into a pan of boiling water in a moderately hot oven. About half an hour will be required to set it firmly. When nicely browned and puffed up touch the middle with a knife blade; if it cuts as smooth there as around the sides it is done. Be careful not to overdo. Let the custard stand until perfectly cold, turn out gently on a plate, dust thickly with sugar, place in upper part of hot oven. The sugar melts at once and browns without heating the custard.

$\frac{1}{2}$ cup of brandy	3 tablespoonfuls of sugar

In each piece stick half a blanched almond. Then treat the macaroons in the same way and place a layer of them on the lady fingers and finish with another layer of lady fingers, using almonds in each layer. Make the upper layer of the lady fingers very even and spread the raspberry jam smoothly over them.

Make a soft boiled custard thus: Bring the milk to a boil (reserving two tablespoonfuls to mix with the corn starch); add the sugar; let boil up again. Stir the corn starch into the two tablespoonfuls of milk; stir this into the well-beaten eggs and add slowly to the boiling milk. Let it come just to a boil, stirring constantly. Re-cakes should be well soaked. Over the cake put grated lemon rind and sweet almonds, blanched and cut into strips, and a layer of jam.

ICE CREAM AND ICES

“I always thought cold victuals nice—
My choice would be vanilla ice.”—Holmes.

Foundations for Ice Cream.

The two principal foundations for ice creams are Philadelphia and Neapolitan, and nearly all the principal creams may be made from these by varying the flavoring, with the addition of fruits (fresh, candied or preserved), nuts, small cakes, wines, etc., and by various methods of moulding and combining a bewildering variety of delicious ice creams may be made.

Philadelphia Ice Cream is made with pure cream. To a quart of cream, scalded not boiled, add a cup of sugar; stir till dissolved; add the flavoring, strain and freeze. Or, whip the cream, let it stand a few minutes, skim off the whipped part, put sugar and flavoring with the unwhipped part, which has been scalded, and when partly frozen add the whipped cream and finish freezing. This will give a larger quantity when frozen, and it will be very light and delicate. If fruits are to be used it is better to scald the cream, as that will prevent curdling. A quicker way is to use the cream without either scalding or whipping, but the ice cream will not be so rich or delicate.

Neapolitan Ice Cream is made by adding eggs, in the proportion of four to a quart of cream. The cream should be scalded, the eggs thoroughly beaten separately, the sugar added, then the hot cream, and the mixture cooked like soft custard. Or the custard may be made with the yolks alone, and the stiffly beaten whites added when the cream is partly frozen. Flavorings should be added when the custard has cooled.

Vanilla, Lemon, Fruit Creams and Bisque.

For vanilla ice cream, add about two tablespoonfuls of vanilla extract, according to strength, to either of the above foundations.

For lemon ice cream, mix about two tablespoonfuls of lemon juice with a half cup of the sugar, stir into the mixture, strain and freeze.

For fruit creams, add about a pint of strained fruit juice, mash a quart of fresh fruit to a pulp, press through a sieve and add to the prepared cream. More or less sugar must be added, according to the acidity of the fruit, and in almost all instances the juice of a lemon is an improvement.

For bisque ice cream, add about a cupful of any kind of fine dried sweet crumbs, preferably macaroons, lady fingers or fancy wafers. Flavor the cream with almond, vanilla or caramel, not too strong, and after adding the crumbs a slight flavoring of sherry may be added to advantage.

MRS. RICHARD C. STEVENS.

Peach, Chocolate, and Baked Apple.

For Peach Ice Cream—To a quart of plain ice cream add about a dozen peaches. Mash half of them to a pulp and cut half of them in quite small pieces. Sweeten to taste and add to the cream.

For Chocolate Ice Cream—To a quart of ice cream use two bars of sweetened chocolate. Melt the chocolate in a little milk or water and add to the cream. Vanilla is the best flavoring with chocolate.

For Baked Apple Ice Cream—To a quart of cream use from four to eight apples, according to size. Bake well and mash through a sieve. Sweeten to taste and add to the cream. This is delicious.

MRS. WINFIELD R. SMITH.

 3 pints of cream A very small piece of butter
 Vanilla to flavor

Mix the flour into the sugar and add to the boiling milk with the butter. Boil until thick and remove from the fire. When perfectly cold add the cream and the vanilla and freeze. If not sweet enough add plain sugar (too much of the brown sugar will make the mixture bitter).

One cupful of blanched almonds may be added.

To make raspberry, strawberry, pineapple or plum ice add to the above 1 pint of either juice before freezing. Make an ice after the rule for lemon ice, using peach (or raspberry) juice in place of lemon, and then add the juice of 1 lemon. When frozen add the beaten white of 1 egg, and 1 cup of peaches, candied cherries and nuts cut in small pieces. Any preferred combination of fruits may be used, such as the French candied fruits or the candied fruits and nuts, angelica, citron and fresh oranges; or dates, figs, currants, raisins¹ and citron. Canned fruits may also be used in various combinations and the canned tutti frutti.

Mint Sorbet.

Will Serve Six.

Mint

Pare the yellow rind from the lemons, taking care to get none of the white; put this into a bowl with a good handful of mint, which has been well bruised with the sugar; add the boiling water and let stand several hours, covered close. Taste to see that the flavor of mint is strong enough, as the stalks vary in size and strength. Add the lemon juice and strain into the freezer and freeze slightly; it should almost pour. Just before serving add the stiffly beaten white of egg and beat in well. The glasses in which it is to be served should be well chilled. Very nice as a substitute for mint sauce with spring lamb.

Then take off the cover, remove the beater and add 1 gill of sherry, 2 tablespoonfuls Jamaica rum and the meringue, mixing this well with a spoon into the frozen mixture. Cocoanut Filling.

Use fresh cocoanut, grated. To a boiled icing add from one-half to three-fourths of a cup of the cocoanut, and sprinkle the top freely with it. It makes a cake slightly to put the cocoanut on top in little mounds, pressed through a pastry bag.

Chopped walnuts or pecans or candied fruit. Cherries or ginger are particularly fine.

Flavor with almond extract and add sliced almonds.

HOW TO KEEP HOUSE WITH ONE SERVANT

The problem of how to get on with one servant at times confronts most housekeepers, and particularly young housekeepers.

To be successful, one must be systematic and must require that the work be done, as near as practicable, at the designated time. However, too much must not be demanded, and, although requiring the table to be always carefully served and the house kept in order, the housekeeper may, by a little attention to details, arrange her work so that on days when it falls heaviest her menus will consist of dishes most easily prepared and served. On such days she may assist materially by dusting and attending to minor matters, which, while not laborious, require considerable time.

In the first place it is essential to provide good utensils, of which by far the most important is a reliable stove or range. The servant should rise at least one and one-half hours before the breakfast, when much of the routine work of the house, such as building the fires, airing the rooms, taking up ashes, etc., can be done.

After the breakfast is cleared away the house should first be put in order and all of the rougher work attended to; after luncheon the lighter and neater work, such as baking, ironing, etc., can be done. This will enable the servant to be more neatly dressed to answer the door when most likely to be summoned; although at all times a fresh white apron must be kept in a convenient place so that it can be easily put on when she is called from the kitchen for any purpose.

Dinner being over, the kitchen should be put in order and arrangements made for the morning's breakfast.

CARNATION CREAM—Large Can—Full Pint—10c.

After this the servant, as far as practicable when the mistress is at home, should be free to occupy her time as she pleases. The answering of the door may then be done by some member of the family.

The manner of preparing and serving should be as follows: The table should be carefully laid in ample time and always furnished with fresh linen. Require the same care and attention when the family is alone as when guests are present, by doing which confusion will be avoided if strangers come unexpectedly. Have everything for the proper serving of the meal in readiness and arrange conveniently the dishes required for the various courses. The first course should be placed upon the table and the water glasses filled before the dinner is announced. After serving this the next course should be prepared for the table and kept warm, if necessary, until the first course has been removed, and each course in its turn in the same manner.

The maid should stand at the left of the host or hostess, who is serving, and take the plate on her tray, placing it from the left, directly in front of each person. Anything, such as bread, vegetables, celery, etc., should be offered from the left in such a position that it may be easily taken.

In removing a course, take first the dish from which the host or hostess has been serving, and then the plates, removing them from the right, one or two only at a time. Have the crumb knife used as often as required. In serving be careful to avoid unnecessary noise and haste. As the various dishes are removed they should be carefully placed on a table in the kitchen, set aside for that purpose.

Servants will not find it difficult, after a little experience, to do the work of an ordinary household in a systematic manner, having a time for everything as well as a place for everything.

A simple menu, carefully cooked and served, will be found much more appetizing and attractive than an elaborate one poorly cooked and carelessly served.

SANDWICHES

“A crust of bread and liberty.”—Horace.

The secret of a sandwich is entirely in the manipulation. Given good bread and good butter, and the rest is largely a matter of patience. The bread must be delicately thin and crustless, the butter must be soft and evenly spread, cheese must be finely grated, and meat or fish chopped or pounded to a paste. The best bread is bakers' water bread a day old, though the loaf must not be cut before using. Brown bread, being much more moist, may be used on the day of baking. Sandwiches should never be made long before serving. If, however, they must stand any length of time, their freshness is insured by wrapping them in a thick brown paper, over which a double napkin wrung out in cold water is folded, and setting them in a cold place.—Harper's Bazaar.

Cheese Sandwiches.

Mix cheese (Deilcatesse or Club House) with mayonnaise or prepared mustard, and with some hard-boiled eggs chopped exceedingly fine. Put this mixture into a mortar and rub together into a paste. Spread on buttered squares of bread, or thin crackers, or, best of all, thin slices of buttered toast.

MRS. NATHANIEL WALDO EMERSON, Boston.

Lobster Sandwiches.

Chop the meat of a fresh or canned lobster very fine; add a few drops lemon juice, a dash of cayenne, and mix quite soft with mayonnaise. A tablespoonful of finely chopped capers, cucumber pickles or olives improve it greatly. Spread between thin buttered slices of brown or graham bread.

MRS. RICHARD C. STEVENS.

American Sandwiches.

Chop half a pound of ham very fine, together with two chopped pickles; mustard, salt and pepper to taste. Beat six ounces of butter to a cream, add the chopped ham and mix well. PRESERVES, PICKLES, ETC.

“Peter Piper picked a peck of pickled peppers.”

Canning.

Have the jars and tops in hot water, and the rubbers in cold water. Cook only enough syrup at one time for one can, and by using two kettles no time is lost by having the syrup for the second can cooking in one kettle, while the fruit for the first can cooks in the other.

For small fruits make a thin syrup of 1 cup of sugar to 1 cup of water for each can; put in enough fruit for the one can, allow it just to come to a boil, pour into the can and seal at once. Be sure the can is brimming full. If the syrup was a little short fill the can with boiling water.

For large fruits make a syrup of 1½ cups of sugar to 1 cup of water. When it boils put in the fruit and let it cook until nearly tender. Seal quickly.

In the evening screw the tops as tight as possible and again in the morning; then set in a cool, dark place.

If large cans are used proportionately more syrup must be made.

Blackberries and Raspberries.

Blackberries and raspberries require one teacupful each of water and sugar to every quart (by actual measurement) of fruit. Make a thin syrup of the water and one-half of the sugar. When it boils, skim and add the fruit. Let it simmer gently for five minutes, add the rest of the sugar, let it come to a boil again, can, and seal at once. Press the berries gently under the syrup while cooking, but do not break or mash them.

Canned Blueberries.

Can blueberries exactly as directed for blackberries, only adding the juice of one lemon to every three quarts of the fruit.

Elderberries and Currants.

Can elderberries as directed for blackberries, omitting half the amount of water. Currants should be washed, drained and stemmed. To each quart add one and one-half cupfuls of sugar; mix well and allow to stand two hours. Place over the fire, bring quickly to the boiling point, let simmer five minutes and seal.

Gooseberries.

For canned gooseberries allow one-half cupful of water and two cupfuls of sugar to each quart of fruit, either green or ripe. Make a syrup with the sugar and water, add the fruit, bring quickly to the boiling point, simmer very gently for five minutes; seal at once. The stems and buds should be removed from gooseberries.

Cherries.

Sour cherries should be stoned and then measured. For every quart allow one and one-half cupfuls of sugar and one cupful of water. Put the fruit and sugar into a preserving kettle in layers and let it stand one hour. During this time simmer in the water to be added one tablespoonful of cherry stones for every quart of fruit; strain and add sufficient boiling water to make up for the amount that has boiled away. Add this to the fruit, boil steadily for eight or ten minutes, then seal at once. For ox-hart cherries allow one cupful of sugar and two cupfuls of water for each quart of fruit. Do not stone, but puncture each cherry three times with a fine darning needle. Cook in the syrup for ten minutes.

Damsons and Green Gages.

Damsons, green gages and yellow gages require one teacupful and a half of sugar to each quart of fruit. Puncture each plum three times with a darning needle. Bring slowly to the boiling point and let simmer until the fruit is tender, but not broken. Skin and seal.

Peaches.

Peaches should be thinly pared, or skinned in boiling water, halved, stoned, and thrown into cold water. For every four quarts of peaches make a syrup with two cupfuls of sugar and four cupfuls of water. When it boils, drain the peaches from the cold water and put them in syrup. Bring quickly to boiling point, then remove to back of range and let simmer very gently until tender, but not soft. Seal at once.

Pears.

In canning pears use same proportions of fruit, sugar and water as directed for peaches. Pare and halve the pears, cook in boiling water until tender, drain, and add them to the boiling syrup. Let simmer for five minutes and seal.

Apricots.

Apricots should be treated same as peaches, only the skin is not removed. Wash them in cold water, wipe gently, halve and stone them. Can as directed for peaches.

MRS. W. B. GAFFNEY.

Canned Peaches.

Make a syrup of 1 pint of sugar and $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of water to a quart of fruit. Boil syrup till clear, skimming carefully; put in the fruit, cook till tender and seal at once.

MRS. F. W. PARKER.

Tutti Frutti.

Put in a two-gallon jar one quart of brandy and three pounds of granulated sugar. As various kinds of fruit are obtained, add one pound of sugar for each pound of fruit. Begin with strawberries, cherries stoned, bananas, pineapples cut in pieces, etc. Keep in a cool place and stir every few days until the last of the fruit has been added. The quantity of brandy and sugar mentioned at first will bear seven or eight pounds of fruit and extra sugar. Put in small cans or jars, or cover with a paper wet in brandy, and tie a second paper over the first. This is an easy way to preserve fruit so that it will retain its natural flavor, and is delicious for tutti frutti ice cream, or for jellies or sauces.

Preserves.

Pears, quinces, and clingstone peaches should be first cooked in clear water until almost tender. Drain and add $\frac{3}{4}$ pound of sugar and $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of water (in which fruit was cooked) to each pound of fruit. After skimming add fruit a little at a time to avoid crushing, and cook till clear. When all is cooked boil the syrup down and seal. If the fruit is not to be sealed use a pound instead of $\frac{3}{4}$ of a pound of sugar to each pound of fruit. Care should be taken to skim the syrup frequently, to keep clear.

MRS. F. W. PARKER.

Preserved Strawberries.

Take one cup of sugar with a little water and boil it until it shreds. Into this thick syrup put one cup of strawberries and gently lift the syrup around them. Boil hard for a few minutes. The juice of the berries will thin the syrup and it should boil until the colored syrup shreds. Remove and pour in glasses. The secret of having the color light lies in doing a small amount. Three vessels may be kept going and in that way expedite the work.

MRS. J. F. WAGNER.

Strawberry or Raspberry Jam.

To use the pulp the jelly is made from; let the berries after being cooked drain over night, but do not squeeze any more juice out; put the pulp through a sieve or a potato masher; add as much currant or apple juice as you have pulp; add to this a little more than three-fourths as much sugar as you have pulp and juice. Cook until it jellies—about half an hour.

Wild Blackberries.

Wild blackberry juice jellies without being mixed with any other juice. If desired, use the pulp for jam, fix the same as the strawberries, but add apple juice to it.

Apricot Jelly.

A delicious jelly can be made by mixing apricots with crabapples, using about one-quarter as much crabapple as apricot. Crack a cupful of the apricot seeds, so as to get the flavor of the kernels. Cook all together, drain, and make the same as crabapple jelly.

MRS. S. L. CRAWFORD.

A Few Hints About Jelly Making.

Cook only five or six glassfuls at a time if you want the fruit to jelly quickly and be clear.

Have measuring cup full of juice but not quite full of sugar.

Cook until the jelly strings from the spoon.

Strawberry Jelly.—To three cupfuls of strawberry juice take two cupfuls of currant juice.

Raspberry Jelly.—To three cupfuls of raspberry juice take two cupfuls of currant juice. If you cannot get currants, the juice of either sour apples or crabapples will do.

Concord Grape Jelly.—To half a box of crabapples take one basket of Concord grapes. Stem the grapes, cut the crabapples in half, barely cover with water, cook until well done, strain and make the same as crabapple jelly. This carries all the flavor of the grape.

MRS. S. L. CRAWFORD.

Currant Jelly.

Pick over but do not stem the currants. Mash them a little; add a cup of water if necessary to keep them from burning and cook gently (do not let them boil) until they look ragged. Put in a bag made of two thicknesses of cheese cloth and let them drip over night. Next morning strain the juice thus obtained, measure it and weigh the sugar—a pound of sugar for every pint of juice. While the juice is heating put the sugar in shallow dishes and set in the oven, stirring occasionally. Boil the juice just ten minutes, skimming until clear; then put in gradually the hot sugar and stir constantly until it is dissolved. As soon as it comes to a boil again remove from the fire and pour into glasses. When cold lay neatly-fitted rounds of white paper, dipped in brandy, next the jelly, taking care to exclude the air bubbles and to entirely cover it. Then paste paper covers over the tops of the cups. The currants are better for not being very ripe. A clear day is preferable for jelly-making. Many people like a little raspberry juice mixed with the currant juice.

MRS. CHARLES E. SHEPARD.

Crabapple Jelly.

Select fruit not too ripe. Cut apples into quarters and cover freely with boiling water. Cook until they fall to pieces, keeping well covered with hot water. Allow the juice to drip, then allow as usual one bowl of sugar to one bowl of juice.

The pulp may be squeezed and a second quality of jelly made, which, while not so clear, is very good for cooking purposes.

A sprig of rose geranium dipped in the crabapple jelly just before putting into glasses gives a pleasant flavor.

MRS. T. M. DAULTON.

Plum Jelly.

Cut the plums into pieces and cover with boiling water and cook. Prepare the same as for crabapple jelly. Boil the juice five minutes before adding the sugar.

Apricot or peach marmalade is improved by mixing one-third as much crabapple juice as you have pulp. To this add two-thirds as much sugar.

MRS. S. L. CRAWFORD.

Orange Marmalade No. 1.

12 oranges (medium size)	2 quarts water
2 lemons	9 pounds sugar

Wash the oranges clean, wipe dry and cut in thin slices (just as you would slice potatoes for frying), using peel and pulp but rejecting the seeds. Pour over them two quarts of cold water and boil until very tender (about an hour and a half); add nine pounds of sugar and boil an hour or a little longer.

MISS MALTRY.

Orange Marmalade No. 2.

Take the juice and pulp of 12 oranges; add the grated rinds of six. Put equal weight of sugar and oranges together and boil slowly to the consistency of thick syrup. If the bitter taste is preferred, the rind of the six oranges may be sliced in extremely thin strips and boiled until tender, changing the water several times, and then added to the boiling fruit about ten minutes before it is taken from the stove. Bottle while very hot.

MRS. BANGS.

Brandied Peaches.

3 pounds peaches	1 pound sugar
------------------	---------------

Boil syrup until it shreds. Add peaches, letting them remain until tender. Remove the peaches to jars. Boil syrup five minutes longer, then pour over fruit. Put four tablespoonfuls of brandy in each jar.

MRS. J. F. WAGNER.

Pickled Peaches or Pears.

Prepare a syrup in proportion of:

3 pounds sugar	1 pint vinegar
1 tablespoonful each of	4 tablespoonfuls cinnamon whole and ground cloves to each gallon of fruit. Boil sugar, vinegar and spices five minutes. Pare the fruit, cut in halves and core. Put part at a time into the syrup and cook till a silver fork will pierce it easily. Skim out the fruit and put in a stone jar. When all the fruit is cooked boil the syrup ten minutes longer and pour over all. In the morning drain off the syrup and cook fifteen minutes and pour over the fruit again. Repeat three mornings. The third morning thoroughly heat the fruit and boil the syrup till like maple syrup; pour over the fruit; tie the covers down with cloth. Not necessary to seal. MRS. F. W. PARKER.

Peach Mangoes.

Use large, solid peaches. Cut in halves, removing stones and keeping the two halves of each peach together. Chop celery or cabbage very fine; mix into it white mustard seed, celery seed and a little salt. Let this stand while preparing the peaches. Then squeeze it with the hands, getting all the juice. Fill the center of the peaches with the mixture and tie them together with cheese cloth or muslin. Make a syrup with

1 cup vinegar	2 sticks cinnamon
$\frac{1}{2}$ cup water	2 dozen whole cloves
2 cups sugar

Tie the spices in a bag and boil all together. Put in the peaches just long enough to be tender. Put the peaches in jars, boil the syrup about five minutes and pour over the fruit. Seal. MRS. J. F. WAGNER.

Spiced Plums or Prunes.

7 pounds plums	1 pint sour vinegar
4 pounds sugar	1 tablespoonful mace
2 tablespoonfuls each of	cloves and cinnamon

Put sugar and vinegar on to boil; add spices, in a thin muslin bag, and boil fifteen minutes. Put in the plums and just heat through; skim them out into jars. Let the syrup boil down a few minutes longer, then pour over the plums and seal the jars.

MRS. F. W. PARKER.

Currant Catsup.

Take 2 quarts of ripe red currants, stem and put them in a stewpan with $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of boiling water; let them boil ten minutes; strain through a colander. Then add $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of best vinegar, 1 pound of brown sugar, 1 tablespoonful each of mace, ground cloves and cinnamon, 1 teaspoonful of alspice. Boil quickly for half an hour; bottle and seal for use. This is delicious and improves with age.

MRS. A. W. ENGLE.

Spiced Currants.

5 pints ripe currants after stripping from stem.
 3 pints sugar
 1 pint vinegar
 1 tablespoonful each of cloves, cinnamon, alspice and black pepper.
 $\frac{1}{2}$ tablespoonful salt

Boil all together until sufficiently thick.

MRS. H. C. HENRY.

Spiced Gooseberry.

8 pounds berries 4 pounds sugar
 1 pint vinegar 2 ounces whole cloves
 2 ounces cinnamon

Boil four hours and seal carefully.

If you wish the berries whole boil the vinegar and spices to a thick syrup first and pour over the berries. The next morning heat the syrup again and pour over the fruit.

MRS. WINFIELD R. SMITH.

Apricot Catsup.

1 gallon sliced ripe apricots	1 teaspoonful corn starch
1 tablespoonful allspice	2 tablespoonfuls salt
1 pint best cider vinegar	1 tablespoonful black pepper
6 red peppers
1 small onion or a table- spoonful of onion juice	$\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful cloves
	2 teaspoonfuls dry mustard

Cook $2\frac{1}{2}$ hours, then cool and run through a colander. Put in a kettle and boil (careful not to burn), then add the corn starch dissolved in a little vinegar. After it comes from the stove add the cloves, or same amount of mace. Bottle.

Cucumber Catsup.

3 dozen cucumbers	12 onions
$\frac{1}{2}$ pint salt	1 teacup mustard seed
$\frac{1}{2}$ teacup ground black pepper

Pare and chop the cucumbers and onions very fine, sprinkle over them the salt, put the whole in a sieve or bag and let drain over night. Mix well with the mustard seed and pepper; place in jars and cover with vinegar. This is delicious with oysters. It is better if kept from the light.

MRS. EDWARD WHEELER.

Tomato Catsup.

1 gallon tomatoes	1 teaspoonful cayenne
1 tablespoonful mustard seed	$\frac{1}{2}$ tablespoonful of whole cloves
Small stick cinnamon	1 tablespoonful whole allspice

Stew and strain the tomatoes, then cook again till thick. When about half thick enough add spices tied loosely in a thin muslin bag; also 1 tablespoonful of sugar, 1 cup of strong vinegar, and salt to taste. If onions are liked they should be put in while stewing. This will not be discolored by spices, but as bright as stewed tomatoes. If liked more highly colored, like the prepared catsups, a little fruit red and mandarin yellow fruit paste may be used.

MRS. RICHARD C. STEVENS.

Spiced Tomatoes.

5 pounds green tomatoes	2 pounds brown sugar
1 pint best cider vinegar	$\frac{1}{2}$ ounce whole cloves
1 ounce stick cinnamon	$\frac{1}{4}$ ounce mace

Cut the tomatoes into small pieces and boil them with the sugar, vinegar and spices (in a muslin bag) until cooked through; then remove the fruit, leaving the spices and syrup to be boiled together until the syrup is sufficiently spiced. MRS. L. B. STEDMAN.

CONFECTIONERY

“A wilderness of sweets.”

Fondant.

1 pint granulated sugar $\frac{1}{2}$ pint (scant) cold water

Mix well together and put on to boil, being careful not to disturb until done. (Never stir it.) After ten minutes of boiling gently try it with a fork, and if it hairs keep close watch of it, trying it in cold water until it forms a soft ball. Remove quickly from the stove, pour into an earthen bowl and set away to cool. At blood heat a thin icing will have formed on top, which should be gently lifted off with a wide-tined fork, in order that not a bit remain and none of the syrup be wasted. When this is done beat hard with a fork until stiff; then take in the hands and work until smooth and creamy. Not a grain should remain. This will keep for weeks in a cool place. If a quantity of fondant be made the skimmings may be all boiled over, with the addition of a little water.

To insure success in making, close watch must be kept during the boiling, and quick judgment used as to the time for removing from the fire. Boiling sugar is full of whims and is better than any barometer in forecasting the weather. Therefore watch it! On a windy day the syrup is likely to grain; on a damp day it may take much longer to boil and may refuse even to stiffen, and will need a second boiling.

These minute directions may discourage some from attempting fondant, but with a little practice one soon learns to avoid “breakers” and becomes fascinated with the infinite possibilities for variety. Individual ingenuity will devise new kinds, so we give but a few which have already been tested:

Peppermints or Wintergreen.

Take a portion of the fondant and melt again by putting it into a small bowl set in boiling water. When melted flavor with one or two drops of oil of peppermint and drop on paraffine paper. For wintergreens use oil of wintergreen and color a delicate pink.

Orange Creams.

Grated rind of 1 orange 1 tablespoonful juice
Confectioners' sugar to stiffen

Roll into small balls and dip into fondant melted as for peppermints. If the fondant stiffen again with the continued heat, add a drop or two of boiling water. Use a wide-tined fork for dipping in order that the surplus fondant may fall back into the bowl. It will harden almost at once on the paraffine paper. Variety of form and color is desirable, so we suggest that these creams be made round and small, giving the coating a tinting of orange.

Lemon creams are made the same way, using lemon in place of orange. These may be moulded into oblong pieces.

Cocoanut Creams.

Mix shredded cocoanut into some fondant and flavor with vanilla. Form into cones, dip in fondant and sprinkle with cocoanut.

For Fig creams use chopped figs in place of cocoanut.

Nut creams are made by using chopped nuts in place of cocoanut; flavor with almond, color green. Chopped citron, raisins, dates, raspberry jam or chocolate may be used instead.

MRS. CALVIN E. VILAS.

French Fondant.

White of one egg and equal amount of cold water beaten briskly; one teaspoonful of vanilla (or any preferred flavoring) and sufficient confectioners' sugar to make it stiff enough to form into balls. Before it is quite stiff it can be divided and the various portions flavored and colored according to fancy. Those balls to be covered with chocolate should stand several hours before covering. We have found vanilla or pineapple better for walnut creams; vanilla with figs or dates. A mixture of flavorings is very nice, such as lemon and cinnamon.

Flavorings and coloring can be varied according to taste. Candied fruits cut in small pieces may be encased in the fondant or used on top of ball.

The fruit colorings are preferable and can be obtained at a grocers.

French fondant is the simplest way of making candy, but we much prefer the cooked fondant, made as above.

Chocolate Fondant for Dipping.

Add two tablespoonfuls of grated chocolate to about one pound of fondant. Melt the chocolate and stir the fondant into it. Nut balls and fig balls dipped in this are delicious.

Walnut Creams.

Cook some fondant, flavor with pineapple or vanilla, make into balls and put half a walnut on the top.

Date Creams.

Remove the stone and fill with fondant.

Stuffed Dates.

Remove the stones; have ready blanched walnuts. If you leave the nuts in halves use two dates to one piece. Place one date on each side of the nut and pinch together, completely covering the nut, or use one-quarter of a walnut and but one date. Roll in powdered sugar.

MRS. WINFIELD R. SMITH.

Stuffed Dates No. 2.

Remove stones, fill with German breakfast cheese and roll in powdered sugar.

MRS. E. A. STROUT.

Peanut Caramel.

1½ cups granulated sugar 1 cup chopped peanuts

Have the pan hot; pour in the sugar, stirring constantly until it is caramel, when quickly add the nuts; stir once and pour into buttered tins; mark into squares. This candy hardens very quickly, so it must be marked very soon after it is poured out.

MRS. HINCHLIFFE.

Vassar Fudgies.

2 cups white sugar ½ cup hot water
 1 cup sweet milk 2 squares unsweetened
 Butter size of small egg chocolate
 1 teaspoonful vanilla

Put sugar and water in a kettle on the back of the stove until the sugar is dissolved; then set the kettle over the fire and add the milk and the chocolate. Cook until you can make a soft ball in water. It will need to boil about fifteen minutes. Add the butter a few minutes before it is done, and the last thing add the vanilla. Pour it into a buttered pan to cool. When cool but not cold beat vigorously with a fork until it is stiff enough to cut into squares. If this is cooked too much it will be sugary and hard.

MRS. WINFIELD R. SMITH.

Pinochee.

3 cups finest light brown 1 cup of cream
 sugar Butter size of walnut
 1 tablespoonful vanilla 1 cup walnuts, broken a little

Boil sugar, cream and butter about twenty minutes until when it is dropped in a cup of cold water it can be gathered into a ball, soft but not sticky; then remove from fire and add vanilla. Put the kettle of candy into a pan of cold water and stir until it begins to grain; stir in the nuts and pour quickly into buttered pans. Cut into squares when cold. If it is stirred too long it will be too hard to mould in the pans; if, on the other hand, it has been poured into the pans too soon, before it is sugared, if a fork is run through it in the pans for a few moments, it will help it grain. Milk can be used by adding more butter, but it is not as good, as the candy will not be as creamy. When the candy is on the stove do not stir at first, and only enough at the last to keep from burning.

MISS BOYER, Walla Walla, Wash.

Maple sugar may be used in place of brown sugar by melting it first in a very little water; then use a little less butter, as it is rather rich, but is delicious.

Nut Candy.

2 cups granulated sugar	$\frac{1}{2}$ cup water
$\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoonful cream tartar	1 pound nuts

Boil sugar and water without stirring until it forms soft ball. When cool stir until it creams, flavor and add nuts. Drop on waxed paper.

MRS. CHARLES E. SHEPARD.

Molasses Nut Candy.

1 cup granulated sugar	4 tablespoonfuls molasses
4 tablespoonfuls water	4 tablespoonfuls vinegar
Butter size of an egg	1 pound nuts

Boil all together, except nuts, until it makes a soft ball in water. Take from fire and add nuts. Pour on buttered plates. Score before it hardens.

MRS. CHARLES E. SHEPARD.

Molasses Taffy.

2 cups brown sugar	1 cup molasses
1 tablespoonful vinegar	$\frac{3}{4}$ cup water

Boil until it makes a crisp ball in cold water. Stir in half a teaspoonful of soda. Pour on buttered plates to cool, then pull.

Pulled Sugar Candy.

4 cups sugar	$\frac{1}{2}$ cup vinegar
$\frac{1}{2}$ cup water	3 tablespoonfuls cream

Boil without stirring over a quick fire; when it begins to rope from the spoon drop a small quantity into a cup of cold water; if it hardens it is ready to be poured upon a buttered dish. Flavor with vanilla. Begin to pull as soon as it can be handled, using only the fingers.

MRS. THOMAS GREEN.

Chocolate Caramels.

2 pints brown sugar	$1\frac{1}{2}$ squares Baker's chocolate
1 cup new milk	Butter size of a walnut

Boil quickly, stirring all the time. Just before removing from the fire add vanilla. Try in cold water; if brittle, it is done. Pour in buttered tins to cool. When nearly cold mark in squares.

M. E. BLUM.

Turkish Delight.

1 ounce imported sheet gelatine	1 orange (rind and juice)
1 cup cold water	1 lemon (juice)
1 pound granulated sugar	1 tablespoonful rum

Break gelatine and soak in half a cup of the water for two hours. Mix the sugar and remaining water and bring to boiling point. Add the soaked gelatine and boil for 20 minutes. Remove from fire and flavor with the orange and lemon and rum. Wet tin in cold water and pour in the mixture to about an inch thick. When it is jellied cut in pieces and roll in powdered sugar. Chopped nuts may be added if desired and fruit coloring may be used. It is better after two or three days.

MRS. IVAN HYLAND.

Butter Scotch.

Popcorn Candy.

2 cups shelled corn 2 tablespoonfuls lard
2 cups molasses

Pop the corn in the lard when it is smoking hot in a deep kettle. Boil molasses until it threads; add 1 tablespoonful of butter and 1 teaspoonful of vanilla. Pour over corn, stirring constantly. Pack tightly the corn in a deep, narrow bread tin. When cold it will slice nicely.

MISS N. BREWER.

THE SICK ROOM

“A few strong instincts and a few plain rules.”

Recipes for Invalid Cooking.

Beef Tea.—Free a pound of lean beef from fat, tendon, cartilage, bone and vessels; chop up fine; put into a pint of cold water to digest two hours. Simmer on the range or stove three hours, but do not boil. Make up for water lost by adding cold water, so that a pint of beef tea represents one pound of beef. Press beef carefully and strain.

Beef Juice.—Cut a thin, juicy steak into pieces one and one-half inches square; brown separately one and one-half minutes on each side before a hot fire; squeeze in a hot lemon squeezer; flavor with salt and pepper. May add to milk or pour on toast.

Mutton Broth.—Lean loin of mutton, 1½ pounds, including bone; water 3 pints. Boil gently till tender, throwing in a little salt and onion, according to taste. Pour out broth in basin; when cold skim off fat. Warm up as wanted.

Chicken Broth.—Skin and chop up small a small chicken or half of a large fowl. Boil it, bones and all, with a blade of mace, a sprig of parsley, 1 tablespoonful of rice, and a crust of bread in a quart of water, for an hour, skimming it from time to time. Strain through a coarse colander.

Clam Broth.—Wash thoroughly six large clams in shell; put in kettle with one cup of water; bring to boil and keep there one minute; the shells open, the water takes up the proper quantity of juice, and the broth is ready to pour off and serve hot.

Cream Soup.—Take one quart of good stock (mutton or veal), cut 1 onion into quarters, slice 3 potatoes very thin, and put them into the stock with a small piece of mace; boil gently for an hour; then strain out the onion and mace; the potatoes should by this time have dissolved in the stock. Add one pint of milk, mixed with a very little corn flour to make it about as thick as cream. A little butter improves it. This soup may be made with milk instead of stock, if a little cream is used.

Apple Soup.—Two cups of apple, 2 cups of water, 2 teaspoonfuls of corn starch, $1\frac{1}{2}$ tablespoonful of sugar, 1 saltspoonful of cinnamon and a bit of salt. Stew the apple in the water until it is very soft, then mix together into a smooth paste the corn starch, sugar, salt and cinnamon with a little cold water; pour this into the apple and boil for five minutes. Strain it and keep it hot until ready to serve.

Raw Meat Diet.—Scrape pulp from a good steak, season to taste, smear on thin slices of bread. Sear bread slightly and serve as sandwich.

Nutritious Coffee.—Dissolve a little gelatine in water, put $\frac{1}{2}$ ounce of freshly ground coffee into sauce pan with 1 pint of new milk, which should be nearly boiling before the coffee is added; boil both together for three minutes; clear by pouring some of it into a cup and dashing back again; add the gelatine and leave it to settle for a few minutes. Beat up an egg in a breakfast cup and pour the coffee upon it. If preferred, drink without the egg.

Rum Punch.—White sugar 2 teaspoonfuls; 1 egg stirred and beaten up; warm milk, large wineglassful; Jamaica rum, 2 to 4 teaspoonfuls; nutmeg.

Champagne Whey.—Boil half a pint of milk, strain through cheese cloth; add one wineglass of champagne.

Toast Water.—Toast three slices stale bread to dark brown, but do not burn. Put into pitcher, pour over them one quart of boiling water; cover closely and let stand on ice until cold; strain. May add wine and sugar.

Rice Water.—Pick over and wash 2 tablespoonfuls of rice. Put into granite saucepan with 1 quart of boiling water; simmer two hours, when rice should be softened and partially dissolved; strain, add 1 saltspoonful of salt; serve warm or cold. May add sherry or port, 2 table-spoonfuls.

Barley Water.—Wash 2 ounces (wineglassful) of pearl barley with cold water; boil five minutes in fresh water; throw both waters away. Pour on 2 quarts of boiling water; boil down to one quart. Flavor with thinly cut lemon rind; add sugar to taste. Do not strain unless at patient's request.

Koumiss.—Take ordinary beer bottle with shifting cork; put in 1 pint of milk $\frac{1}{6}$ cake of Fleischmann's yeast or 1 tablespoonful of fresh lager beer yeast (brewer's), $\frac{1}{2}$ tablespoonful of white sugar reduced to syrup; shake well and allow to stand in refrigerator two or three days, when it may be used. It will keep there indefinitely if laid on its side. Much waste can be saved by preparing the bottles with ordinary corks wired in position and drawing off the koumiss with a champagne tap.

Wine Whey.—Put 2 pints of new milk in a sauce pan and stir over a clear fire until nearly boiling; then add 1 gill (2 wineglassfuls) of sherry and simmer a quarter of an hour, skimming off curd as it rises. Add 1 table-spoonful more of sherry and skim again for a few minutes; strain through coarse muslin. May use 2 table-spoonfuls of lemon juice instead of wine.

Junket.—Take $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of fresh milk, heated lukewarm, and 1 teaspoonful essence of pepsin, and stir just enough to mix. Pour into custard cups, let stand until firmly curded. Serve plain or with sugar and grated nutmeg. May add sherry.

Baked Flour Porridge.—Take 1 pint of flour and pack tightly in a small muslin bag; throw into boiling water and boil five or six hours; cut off the outer sodden portion; grate the hard core fine. Blend thoroughly with a little milk and stir into boiling milk to the desired thickness.

Rice Jelly.—Mix 1 heaping tablespoonful of rice with cold water until it is in a smooth paste; add 1 scant pint of boiling water, sweeten with loaf sugar, boil until quite clear. Flavor with lemon juice.

Egg-Nog.—One egg, 1 tablespoonful of brandy, 1 tablespoonful of sugar, scant $\frac{1}{2}$ glass of milk. Beat the white and yolk of egg separately; put brandy, sugar and milk in glass and stir thoroughly, then add the beaten eggs and serve.

Rye Coffee.

When one is not allowed coffee or tea a good substitute can be made by browning rye as coffee is browned; then to 1 cup of rye add 1 cup of cold water. Let it boil slowly for ten minutes, then add 2 cups of boiling water and serve with sugar and cream.

Egg Broth.

Beat an egg up high in a broth basin. When quite frothy stir into it $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of good mutton or veal broth, quite hot, a little salt and serve with toast.

Tapioca.

Soak over night 2 tablespoonfuls of tapioca in 2 cups of water. In the morning add 1 pint of milk, sugar to taste and a pinch of salt; simmer until soft, stirring frequently. When dished add 1 tablespoonful of wine and grate over a little nutmeg.

MRS. A. J. FISKEN.

Blanc Mange.

Mix 1 tablespoonful of corn starch in a little cold water, add $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of boiling water and boil for a few moments. Take from the fire and when cold add the well-beaten white of an egg, sugar and flavoring (lemon, wine or brandy), and pour into a mould to set. Serve with a custard made of $\frac{1}{2}$ cup of milk, the yolk of the egg, sugar and flavoring.

MRS. SILLITOE.

Crackers and Cream.

A nicely toasted cracker, with sweet cream poured over it, is delicate and nourishing for an invalid.

MRS. A. J. FISKEN.

Iced Egg.

Beat very light the yolk of one egg with a tablespoonful of sugar; stir in tumblerful of very finely crushed ice; add a tablespoonful of brandy and a little grated nutmeg. Beat together and drink immediately.

MRS. A. J. FISKEN.

Beef Tea.

Take two pounds of lean beef and cut it up in pieces half an inch long. Put in a double boiler and cover with cold water for half an hour; then press with potato masher. Add a pinch of salt and cook for two hours in the double boiler.

MISS MURRAY.

Bread Soup.

Cut bread in half-inch cubes; melt one tablespoonful of butter in skillet. When hot put in cubes and stir constantly until they are brown. Remove cubes. Into the pan put rich milk, a pinch of salt, dash of pepper. When thoroughly heated pour over cubes and serve at once. Very appetizing.

MRS. J. F. WAGNER.

Prune Jelly.

Stew prunes until perfectly tender and squeeze out the juice; add gelatine (dissolved) in the proportion of half a box to three cups of juice. Sweeten to taste. Very nice for invalids and little children.

MRS. NATHANIEL WALDO EMERSON, Boston.

Chicken Jelly.

Clean and disjoint a chicken, removing all the fat, and cut the meat into small pieces; break the bones; lay the feet in boiling water, then remove the skins and nails. Put the meat, bones and feet into a granite sauce pan, cover with cold water, heat gradually and simmer till the meat is tender; strain and when cold remove the fat; add salt, pepper, lemon juice and the shell and white of an egg. Put it on the stove, stirring well till hot. Boil five minutes, skim and pour it through a fine cloth. Set aside in a mould. Turn out and garnish and serve with thin slices of bread and butter.

MRS. PETERS.

Panada for a New-Born Infant.

Take $\frac{1}{2}$ a soda cracker or 2 tiny oyster crackers; roll them as fine as possible; add a bit of butter the size of a pea; sweeten to taste; add a bit of nutmeg. Set this upon the stove and add $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of boiling water and stir until it forms a complete jelly. After the babe is two months old the butter may be omitted and 2 spoonfuls of thick cream added while it is warm. This is the recipe of a celebrated physician of Albany, N. Y., and is much better than cows' milk for a young infant.

MRS. RIPLEY.

Panada.

Boil one tablespoonful of cracker crumbs five minutes in one cup of boiling water, slightly sweetened, salted and flavored with lemon.

Food for Infants.

Dissolve a pinch of Cox's gelatine in enough cold water to cover it, then pour over it $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of boiling water; mix to a paste with a little milk, 1 teaspoonful of arrowroot, 1 teaspoonful of granulated sugar and a little salt. Add this to the water and gelatine, then add sufficient milk to make a pint in all. Put it over the fire and let it come to a good boil, stirring often. It is then ready for use. To improve this add 1 teaspoonful of cream. The proportion of milk may be increased, also the cream to 2 tablespoonfuls as the child grows older. This food is very easily digested and is particularly good for a baby whose digestive organs are weak.

MRS. PETERS.

Mustard Plaster.

Mix with boiling water vinegar or white of an egg to the same consistency as when prepared for table use. If too strong, add a little flour. Spread one-half of a thin muslin cloth with the prepared mustard and cover the mustard with the other half of the cloth, or put mustard on cloth and put over it a thin piece of gauze. Apply, and when removed wash the skin with a soft sponge and apply a little sweet cream or oil to the skin.

Mustard Poultice.

Take eight teaspoonfuls of flaxseed meal, flour or corn meal; one teaspoonful of mustard; pour on boiling water until it is of the consistency of mush; spread on cloth the same as in mustard plaster recipe, and moisten the side of the cloth next to the skin and apply warm.

Soda Mint.

In 2 quarts of warm water dissolve $\frac{1}{4}$ pound of bicarbonate of soda. When cold add $\frac{1}{2}$ large tablespoonful of essence of peppermint. Cork tightly. Good for indigestion.

Cough Mixture No. 1.

An English physician's prescription for a cough or weak lungs:

2 ounces honey	2 ounces cod liver oil
Juice of 2 lemons

Put all together in a bottle and shake until thoroughly mixed. Take 1 tablespoonful directly after meals. It is an excellent remedy if persevered with.

MRS. M. P. ZINDORF.

Cough Mixture No. 2.

2 ounces juniper berries	2 sticks licorice
3 grains opium	1 pint New Orleans molasses
1 pint water

Put all but the opium in a granite vessel and let it simmer half a day on the back of the stove. Strain off the liquor, add the opium, boil up once and bottle. The opium is to soothe the irritation of the throat.

MRS. DOUGLAS YOUNG.

(From an Old Sea Captain.)

For insomnia, a glass of very hot milk has a most soothing effect.

For burns, use a cream made of lime water and olive oil. Place the oil in a bowl and add the lime water gradually, beating with a silver fork all the time. This will make a cream which is very cooling.

Stings of insects may be relieved by the application of ammonia or common table salt, well rubbed in.

For Cold in the Head.—When you first feel the cold coming on, put a teaspoonful of sugar in a glass, pour upon it six drops of camphor, stir and fill the glass half full of warm water. Stir this until the sugar is dissolved, then take a dessert spoonful every twenty minutes until relieved. This remedy is good if carefully followed.

For burn from iodine use a plaster made from flour and water.

Coffee.

Allow one large tablespoonful of coffee to one cup. Put the coffee in the pot and first cover with cold water; stand over the fire until it comes to a boil, then move back on the stove where it will just keep below the boiling point. Add to it, a little at a time, sufficient boiling water to make the required amount. Do not boil. It needs no clearing. MRS. WINFIELD R. SMITH.

Coffee No. 2.

Allow one tablespoonful of coffee to every cup of cold water and one tablespoonful for the pot. Mix the coffee and one egg (shell and all) with a little water, add the number of cupfuls of water required and bring to a boil. Stir thoroughly, bring to a boil again, clear with a little cold water and serve. MRS. E. A. STROUT.

Chocolate.

Allow for each large cup (coffee cup) of chocolate 1 tablespoonful of chocolate, 1 coffee cup of milk, heated, 1 teaspoonful of brandy or 1 tablespoonful of sherry; sugar to taste if the unsweetened chocolate is used. Add enough water to the chocolate to dissolve it; add the sugar, if needed, and let come to a boil; add the hot milk, and when it boils up again pour into the chocolate pot onto the brandy or sherry, and if the chocolate is unflavored, a little vanilla. Serve at once.

To make thick add a little corn starch dissolved in milk.

MRS. CALVIN VILAS.

Cocoa.

Cocoa

Milk

Vanilla

For each cupful wanted take 1 teaspoonful (good) of cocoa; dissolve it in enough boiling water to make it about the consistency of cream. For each spoonful of cocoa used take 1 cupful of good rich milk (one-third water may be used if preferred) and let it come to the boiling point; add the cocoa, stirring carefully, and let it boil two minutes. Sweeten to taste, usually about 1 teaspoonful of sugar to a cup of cocoa, just before removing, and when it is taken off the fire flavor with a little vanilla. This is improved by serving with whipped cream.

MRS. CHARLES I. RILEY.

slowly. Add to it one teaspoonful each of cloves, cinnamon and nutmeg. Boil all together twenty minutes. On removing from the fire add a wineglassful of brandy. Put in bottles while hot and seal. Use a teaspoonful for a glass of iced water. MRS. WM. H. DE WOLFE.

Blackberry Wine.

Wash the berries and pour on one quart of boiling water to each gallon of berries. Let the mixture stand twenty-four hours, stirring occasionally; then strain and add 2 pounds of sugar and 1 pint best rye whiskey, or $\frac{1}{2}$ pint alcohol, to each gallon of juice. Cork tightly and let stand until October, when rack off and bottle.

MRS. THOMAS W. PROSCH.

1 gallon boiling water	$\frac{1}{3}$ cup of yeast

Slice the lemons, pour over them the boiling water, and when lukewarm add the yeast. Let stand over night and bottle in patent bottles, or if corks are used tie down very securely. The beer will be ready for use on the day following, and during the first night should be kept as warm as dough for bread.

MRS. G. O. HALLER.

To every five pounds of Eastern Concord grapes, picked from the stems, add one quart of water. Place in kettle and crush slightly; scald well for a few minutes and strain thoroughly through a flannel bag. Allow $\frac{3}{4}$ of a pound of sugar to every 5 pounds of the fruit. Return to the kettle, bring to a boil, bottle immediately and seal thoroughly. Will not keep longer than two days when opened. Is delicious frozen.

MRS. C. R. COLLINS.

Punch.

Pare very thin the yellow rind of 12 large lemons. Put 2 pounds of sugar in a large bowl; squeeze over it the juice of the lemons and add 1 quart of best rum and $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of brandy; cover this mixture and let stand two or three hours; add $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of wine (sherry or Madeira). MRS. RICHARD C. STEVENS.

HOUSEHOLD ECONOMY

“For nothing lovelier can be found in a woman than to study household good.”

No one can entirely solve for some one else, if they ever do for themselves, the difficult problem of household economy; but when it has passed into a proverb that “A French family can live on what an American family throws away,” it is time for us to give the subject more attention. The economical management of the household is not accomplished without “eternal vigilance” on the part of the mistress, and the woman who delegates to a servant duties that belong to the mistress only, and who does not personally supervise every department of her household, can never hope to be a good manager.

Hoping that they may be found useful, we give the following suggestions for the care of food and a few ways of utilizing the “left-overs:”

Muffins left from breakfast may be split into halves and toasted for lunch.

Cold mashed potatoes may be saved for croquettes or potato puff. One cupful makes six croquettes.

Small pieces of plain or puff paste trimmed from pies or patties may be used for cheese sticks.

Fat from stock, suet from chops and steaks should be saved, tried out, clarified and strained into the dripping pail for use in frying. It is preferable to lard.

Save every scrap of bread for crumbs to use for bread-ing croquettes, chops, scollop dishes, etc.

Use Frye Bruhn's Lard Substitute for Cakes.

It is well to have two kinds of crumbs, using the white ones for outside of fried articles, as they give a better color. To prepare the crumbs, dry them slowly on the shelf of the range. When dry, roll, sift and place them in glass preserve jars until wanted.

When an egg is opened for the white alone, drop the yolk carefully into a cup, cover the cup with a wet cloth, and keep it in the ice box until wanted. When whites are left over make a small angel cake, or cover any dessert with meringue.

Oatmeal, hominy, cracked wheat and other cereals which are left over can be added next day to the fresh supply, for they are improved by long boiling.

Any of the cereals make good pancakes, or a small amount added to the ordinary pancake batter improves it. It can also be moulded and used for fried mush.

Sour milk can be used for cottage cheese and makes good biscuits or pancakes.

When fruits show signs of deterioration stew them at once instead of letting them decay.

Grate cheese which becomes dry and use for pies or soup; or it can be served with crackers, or bottled and kept for future use.

Lard is hot when a blue smoke arises from it.

To freshen stale crackers put them into a hot oven for a few minutes.

To prevent flour from lumping, add a little salt before mixing with milk or water.

Chop the tough ends of steaks very fine, season and form them into balls or cakes.

Everything good too small to utilize in other ways should be put into the soup kettle—the French woman's stronghold—and should be boiled up, in winter, twice a week, and in summer every day. A spoonful of gravy or rice, any kind of vegetables, the bones from roasts, steaks, chops or poultry, the tough end of a steak, the trimmings from roasts, steaks and chops, which will be sent with the meat if asked for, all should go into that invaluable soup kettle, and will give a stock far richer in flavor and more nutritious than if prepared in the usual manner. It will, of course, not do for clear soups, but for thick soups or tomato, bean or vegetable soups, sauces, minces, scollops, meat pies and the like, it is most excellent.

The coarse stalks and roots of celery make a good vegetable when cut in pieces and boiled, or they make a good cream of celery soup.

The leaves are valuable in the soup kettle for flavor; are also useful for garnishing.

To Clean Currants.

Add one cup of flour to every quart of currants and rub them well between the hands. This will free them from stems and stones. Then turn them into a colander and shake until the stems have passed through. Now put them in a pan of cold water, thoroughly drain and wash a number of times. Spread on boards or flat dishes and stand in a warm place to dry.

To Make a Pastry Bag.

Fold a piece of very strong muslin (one foot square) from two opposite corners; fell the edges tightly together, thus forming a triangular bag. Cut off the point to make an opening large enough to insert a tin pastry tube. It is better to have two or three pastry bags, each fitting their respective tubes.

To Use the Pastry Bag.

Put the tin tubes into the bag and fit it into the opening. Fill the bag with the mixture, close the top of the bag, give it a twist and hold it tightly with the right hand. Put the point of the tube close to the place where the mixture is to be spread; press with the left hand and guide the mixture into any shape desired—eclaires, lady fingers, etc.

Ask for CARNATION CREAM. There is no other
"Just as Good."

Celery Vinegar.

Soak 1 ounce of celery seed in $\frac{1}{2}$ pint of vinegar; bottle it and use to flavor soups and gravies.

THE HOME COOK BOOK.

Baking Powder.

9 ounces cream of tartar $4\frac{1}{2}$ ounces bicarbonate soda
 $2\frac{1}{2}$ ounces flour or corn starch

Sift thoroughly several times and keep in a dry place.

C. HOWELL KIRBY.

Cleansing Fluid.

$\frac{1}{2}$ ounce chloroform $\frac{1}{2}$ ounce ether
 $\frac{1}{4}$ ounce oil of wintergreen 1 ounce alcohol

Shake well and add one-half gallon of deodorized benzine. One-half this quantity makes a large bottle full. This mixture is highly inflammable and should not be used at night or near a fire. Is especially nice for cleaning gloves.

MRS. M. F. BACKUS.

To Wash Blankets.

Use warm (not hot) water and add to each gallon a tablespoonful of ammonia and the same quantity of powdered borax. Put the blankets in and rub through the hands and rinse up and down. Wring by hand. Prepare another tub of water of the same temperature in the same way, using a little less ammonia and borax; the last tub (and three are usually required) need not contain any and ought to look entirely clean when the blankets come out. Choose a bright day.

MRS. CHARLES E. SHEPARD.

To Wash Flannels.

Two bars of Ivory soap, $4\frac{1}{2}$ gallons of soft water, 2 ounces of borax, ammonia enough to give a strong odor.

Use a cupful of the preparation in tepid water when washing flannels. It will remove all dirt and the flannels will not shrink.

MRS. H. C. HENRY.

To Remove Stains.

Take an ounce of hartshorn and one of salts of tartar; mix them well; add a pint of soft water and bottle for use. Keep very tightly corked always. To use, pour a little of the liquid in a saucer and wash in it white articles which are stained with ink, mildew, fruit or wine. Rinse carefully in cold water, after the stains are removed; then wash in the usual manner.

MRS. RIPLEY.

White stains on polished tables may be removed with spirits of camphor.

To remove iron-rust, wet the spot, cover with salts of lemon and lay in the sun. Keep wet until gone.

Ink spots, when fresh, may be removed by washing in sweet milk.

A little salt rubbed on a discolored egg spoon will remove the stains.

To take out fruit stains, stretch the stained part over a bowl and pour on boiling water.

To Take Grease From Cloth.

Make a paste of Fuller's earth and turpentine. Rub on fabric until turpentine evaporates and a white powder remains. The latter can be brushed off, and the grease will have disappeared.

To remove tar or pitch, rub well with clean lard; afterwards wash with soap and warm water. For either hands or clothing.

Library Paste.

This will not sour and will keep indefinitely. One tablespoonful of flour mixed dry with $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoonful of powdered alum. Mix smoothly with a teaspoonful of cold water; then set on the stove and pour in about 2

To destroy odor when cooking cauliflower, cabbage, etc., put a slice of stale bread in the kettle.

To take fish odors from pans, wash with strong soda water.

A teaspoonful of vinegar in the water when boiling sweetbreads and brains will blanch them.

Mix a mustard plaster with the white of an egg to prevent blistering.

To keep silver bright rinse in hot water with household ammonia; one teaspoonful to one quart.

“A Sweet Disposition—Three grains common sense, 1 large heart, 1 good liver, plenty of fresh air and sunlight, 1 bushel contentment and 1 good husband. Do not bring to a boil.”

Corn starch is a good substitute for eggs in cookies and doughnuts. One tablespoonful is equal to an egg.

A very good substitute for cream in coffee may be made by pouring one cup of scalded milk onto a beaten egg and adding a bit of butter the size of a pea.

To keep glass jars from breaking when pouring in boiling fruit, wrap a cold wet cloth around the jar.

In making corn bread always have the bowl you mix it in hot.

To keep fruit from raising to the top of the jar, cook in a thick syrup and lay the can on its side.

If a clove of garlic is kept in salad oil it will give the hint of garlic desirable in salad, and keep the oil from getting rancid.—Mrs. T. M. Daulton.

Strew the store room shelves with a few cloves to drive away ants.

Clean white ivory knife handles or white marble with damp salt.

Clean the outside of windows in cold weather with kerosene.

For new windows use alcohol; it cuts the putty and oil.

Put a few drops of ammonia on a moist cloth to clean windows. Vinegar is also good for the same purpose.

One lemon is usually equal to two tablespoonfuls of juice.

Who Shall Be First.

There are different opinions regarding the propriety of serving first the most distinguished guest—the lady at the right of the host or the hostess herself. The custom of serving the hostess first which obtains so largely has its origin far back in the olden times when poisoning was much in vogue, and it was deemed wiser and safer to observe whether the hostess partook of a dish before one tasted it oneself.

MRS. D. C. GARRETT.

The Expert Waitress says; There are good reasons for serving the lady of the house first, although this rule is often waived to do honor to the distinguished guest for whom luncheon or dinner is given. In a country house several distinguished guests or dear friends are entertained at one time; to serve the hostess first and follow in regular order along the table makes no distinction. Novelties are often introduced, both in food and in service. Dishes are served before which a guest hesitates as to which fork or which spoon to use until he glances at his hostess to see which one she takes up.
* * * A hostess who takes pride in having her forks made to suit special courses, like asparagus, and who has several forks laid by each plate before dinner is served, finds it necessary to take up the right one before her guests make a choice. I have in mind a dinner where the hostess delayed the tasting of a course, the absent-minded host took the wrong fork, some guests took another and some another. The butler did his best to replace the right ones; but after all his efforts somebody had a wrong fork to the end of the dinner.

THE CHEAPEST RATES FOR ROUND-THE-WORLD TICKETS

THE SERVICE is maintained with six steamers, of which the "Aki Maru," the "Shinano Maru," the "Kaga Maru," and "Iyo Maru" are new twin screw steamers over 6,300 tons.

Of the above mentioned steamers, the "Aki Maru" is the newest; having been completed in February of this year. She has superb accommodation for fifty first-class passengers amidship on the upper and bridge decks, while the whole of the upper bridge deck, with the exception of the captain's cabin and a smoking room, is devoted to promenading purposes. The spacious and elegantly fitted dining saloon on the upper deck and the luxuriously furnished library above with walls panelled in cut velvet pictures representing noted scenic beauties of Japan, are worthy of special attention. A well qualified surgeon on board each of the six steamers attends gratis to passengers, and stewaresses are employed on the four vessels enumerated above.
