CYCLOPEDIA

OF

LAW AND PROCEDURE

WILLIAM MACK
EDITOR-IN-CHIEF

VOLUME XVIII

NEW YORK
THE AMERICAN LAW BOOK COMPANY
LONDON: BUTTERWORTH & CO., 12 BELL YARD
1905

J. B. LYON COMPANY
PRINTERS AND BINDERS
ALBANY, N. Y.

TABLE OF TITLES, EDITORS, AND CONTRIBUTORS

CITE THIS VOLUME

18 Cyc.

FOLLOWED BY PAGE.

EXECUTORS AND ADMINISTRATORS

By James Schouler*

---

* Formerly Professor in the Boston University Law School; and Author of Treatises on the "Law of Executors and Administrators," "Law of Bailments," "Law of Domestic Relations," "Law of Husband and Wife," "Law of Personal Property," "Law of Wills," etc.

CROSS-REFERENCES

For Matters Relating to:

Abatement and Revival of Action, see ABATEMENT AND REVIVAL.

Accord and Satisfaction by Executor or Administrator, see ACCORD AND SATISFACTION.

Action:

By Executor or Administrator For Death of Decedent, see DEATH.

To Construe Will, see WILLS.

Administration of:

Community Property, see HUSBAND AND WIFE.

Estate by Consular Officer, see AMBASSADORS AND CONSULS.

Estate of:

Absentee, see ABSENTEES.

Partnership, see PARTNERSHIP.

Appeal From Probate of Will as Staying Proceedings For Appointment of Executor or Administrator, see WILLS.

Appellate Proceedings by Executor or Administrator Generally, see APPEAL AND ERROR.

Assignment of Dower Incident to Administration, see DOWER.

Attachment Against Executor or Administrator, see ATTACHMENT.

For Matters Relating to — (continued)
Claim of Estate Against Heir or Distributee, see DESCENT AND DISTRIBUTION.
Collateral Attack on Judgment in Probate Proceedings, see JUDGMENTS.
Collateral Inheritance Tax, see TAXATION.
Condemnation Proceedings Against Decedent's Estate, see EMINENT DOMAIN.
Constitutionality of Statute Relating to Administration, see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW.
Construction and Operation of Will, see WILLS.
Contempt by Executor or Administrator, see CONTEMPT.
Contest of Will, see WILLS.
Continuance of Action By or Against Executor or Administrator, see ABATEMENT AND REVIVAL.
Corporation as Executor or Administrator, see CORPORATIONS.
Costs in Suit to Procure Construction of Will, see WILLS.
Court of Probate, see COURTS.
Damages For:
  Causing Death of Decedent, see DEATH.
  Detention of Property by Executor or Administrator, see DAMAGES.
Descent of:
  Copyright to Executor or Administrator, see COPYRIGHT.
  Property Generally, see DESCENT AND DISTRIBUTION.
  Shares of Stock to Executor or Administrator, see CORPORATIONS.
Determination of Heirship, see DESCENT AND DISTRIBUTION.
Detinue by Executor or Administrator, see DETINUE.
Devise, see WILLS.
Distribution of:
  Community Property, see HUSBAND AND WIFE.
  Intestate Estates, see DESCENT AND DISTRIBUTION.
Distribution Without Administration, see DESCENT AND DISTRIBUTION.
Dower in Lands Under Control of Executor or Administrator, see DOWER.
Effect of Administration on Limitations, see LIMITATIONS OF ACTIONS.
Embezzlement by Executor or Administrator, see EMBEZZLEMENT.
Enforcement of:
  Debt of Intestate Against Heir or Distributee, see DESCENT AND DISTRIBUTION.
  Lien For Special Assessment Against Property of Decedent, see MUNICIPAL CORPORATIONS.
Equitable Jurisdiction, see EQUITY.
Establishment of Will, see WILLS.
Estoppel of Executor or Administrator, see ESTOPPEL.
Evidence of Transactions With Decedent, see WITNESSES.
Executor as Trustee, see TRUSTS.
Executor of Trustee as Successor in Trust, see TRUSTS.
Foreclosure and Sale Under Mortgage of Decedent's Property, see MORTGAGES.
Garnishment Against Executor or Administrator, see GARNISHMENT.
Inheritance, see DESCENT AND DISTRIBUTION.
Inheritance Tax, see TAXATION.
Interest on Legacy, see WILLS.
Intermeddling in Administration of Estate of Absentee, see ABSENTEES.
Investment by Executor or Administrator, see TRUSTS.
Judgment Generally, see JUDGMENTS.
Land Held by Executor or Administrator Subject to Dower, see DOWER.
Legacy, see WILLS.
Legacy:
  To Debtor as Satisfaction of Debt, see WILLS.
  To Executor as Release of Indebtedness, see WILLS.

For Matters Relating to — (continued)
- Legacy Tax, see Taxation.
- Liability of Executor or Administrator to Attorney For Fees, see Attorney and Client.
- Liquidation of Partnership Affairs by Surviving Partner, see Partnership.
- Mandamus to Compel Grant of Administration, see Mandamus.
- Measure of Damages For Detention of Property by Executor or Administrator, see Damages.
- Nature of Probate Proceedings, see Actions.
- Necessity of Administration:
  - Before Collection of Inheritance Tax, see Taxation.
  - Before Trying Question of Fraudulent Conveyance, see Fraudulent Conveyances.
- Necessity of Distribution, see Descent and Distribution.
- Partition of Estate, see Partition.
- Power of Corporation to Act as Executor or Administrator, see Corporations.
- Priorities Between Legacies, see Wills.
- Privity Between Executor or Administrator and Devisee, Legatee, Heir, or Distributee, see Judgments.
- Probate Court, see Courts.
- Probate Jurisdiction Generally, see Courts.
- Probate of Will, see Wills.
- Proof and Presumption of Death, see Death.
- Public Administrator as Guardian of Minor, see Guardian and Ward.
- Revival of:
  - Action By or Against Executor or Administrator, see Abatement and Revival.
  - Dormant Judgment by Executor or Administrator, see Judgments.
- Right of:
  - Executor or Administrator:
    - As to Dead Body of Decedent, see Dead Bodies.
    - To Vote Corporate Stock of Estate, see Corporations.
  - Heir or Distributee to Collect Assets, see Descent and Distribution.
  - Legatee or Devisee Against Executor, see Wills.
  - Surviving Husband in Property of Deceased Wife, see Curtesy.
  - Surviving Wife to Separate Maintenance, see Husband and Wife.
- Right to:
  - Proceeds of Judgment Recovered For Causing Death of Decedent, see Death.
  - Proceeds of Life-Insurance Policy as Between Representative and Widow or Next of Kin, see Insurance.
  - Sale of Decedent's Land in Partition, see Partition.
- Statements of Executor or Administrator, see Evidence.
- Succession Tax, see Taxation.
- Tacking Possession of Executor or Administrator, see Adverse Possession.
- Taxation of:
  - Decedent's Property, see Taxation.
  - Inheritance, see Taxation.
  - Legacy, see Taxation.
- Testamentary Capacity, see Wills.
- Testamentary Power, see Powers.
- Testamentary Trust, see Trusts.
- Testimony as to Transactions With Decedent, see Witnesses.
- Transfer of Stock by Executor or Administrator, see Corporations.
- Voting at Corporate Election, see Corporations.
- Wills, see Wills.

I. Administration in General.

A. Modern Settlement of Estates. When a person dies leaving property, his estate is usually set apart to be administered or settled under the immediate supervision of the courts. The jurisdiction, powers, and functions connected with such settlement are usually confided to special tribunals, ordinarily styled probate, surrogate, or orphans' courts, which are usually county tribunals with jurisdiction and powers defined or created by statute;[1] although in sparsely settled states the county court sometimes exercises such functions as a special branch of jurisdiction, and in addition to this the chancery courts have both in England and in some of the United States a considerable supervision of such matters.[2] The main objects of such jurisdiction are that the personalty of the deceased, together with income and profits, be properly collected, preserved, and duly accounted for, that his just debts and the charges consequent upon his death and the settlement of his estate be paid and adjusted, and that the residue of the estate be distributed among such persons and in such proportions as the will of the deceased, if there be one, or, if not, the statutes of distribution, may have prescribed. Where the deceased left what purports to be a will, the solemn establishment of that will and its public authentication require further attention from such tribunals.[3]

B. Personal Representatives — 1. Classes. The duty of settling and distributing the estate, under the supervision of the courts, is confided to persons who are termed the "personal representatives" of the deceased.[4] These personal representatives are of two classes, executors and administrators. An executor is

1. Schouler Ex. § 1. And see Roman v. Roman, 4 La. 202; Dupey v. Greffin, 1 Mart. N. S. (La.) 198.

In the absence of statutory directions the modes of procedure adopted by the ecclesiastical courts of England are necessarily in force in our probate courts. Cowden v. Dobyns, 5 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 82.

Rules established by supreme court.— The supreme judicial court (which is the supreme court of probate) may frame and promulgate general rules to which each local probate tribunal must conform. Baker v. Blood, 128 Mass. 543.

2. Search v. Search, 27 N. J. Eq. 137. See also New England Trust Co. v. Eaton, 140 Mass. 532, 4 N. E. 69, 54 Am. Rep. 493. And see Equity, 16 Cyc. 1 et seq.

Statutes relating to probate jurisdiction will not be presumed to divest the usual chancery courts of their equitable jurisdiction, even though a concurrent jurisdiction be conferred, and in matters of purely equitable cognizance relating to estates the probate court has presumably no jurisdiction without an enabling act. Butler v. Lawson, 72 Mo. 227; Winton's Appeal, 111 Pa. St. 387, 5 Atl. 240.

A court of equity will not intervene at the instance of an executor or an administrator and take jurisdiction of the settlement of his administration unless it is affirmatively shown that the court of probate cannot because of its limited powers afford adequate relief. Draper v. Draper, 64 Ala. 545; McNeil v. McNeil, 36 Ala. 109, 76 Am. Dec. 320; Moore v. Lesueur, 33 Ala. 237; Horton v. Moseley, 17 Ala. 794.

3. Schouler Ex. § 1.

A petition to revise a decree establishing a will, which has been affirmed by the supreme court, must be heard in the first instance in the probate court. Gale v. Nickerson, 144 Mass. 415, 11 N. E. 714.

4. As ordinarily used, in statutes or otherwise, the term "personal representatives" means executors or administrators.

Georgia.— Gunn v. Pettygrew, 93 Ga. 327, 20 S. E. 328 [quoted in Austin v. Collier, 112 Ga. 247, 250, 37 S. E. 434].

Minnesota.— Atkinson v. Duffy, 16 Minn. 45; Boutiller v. The Milwaukee, 8 Minn. 97.

Missouri.— Oates v. Union Pac. R. Co., 104 Mo. 514, 16 S. W. 487, 24 Am. St. Rep. 348.

England.— In re Cohen, [1902] 1 Ch. 187, 71 L. J. Ch. 164, 86 L. T. Rep. N. S. 73, 50 Wkly. Rep. 117; Smith v. Barneby, 2 Coll. 728, 736, 10 Jur. 748, 33 Eng. Ch. 728.

Canada.— Simpson v. Stewart, 10 Manitoba 176.

But compare In re Wilcox, etc., Co., 70 Conn. 220, 231, 39 Atl. 163 (where the court said: "The words 'personal representatives' standing alone, do not necessarily include only executors and administrators; they have acquired no such fixed, definite, technical meaning. A trustee in insolvency and an assignee in bankruptcy, for many purposes stands in the shoes of the debtor and represents him, and speaking generally is, to the extent of the estate committed to his charge and for such purposes, as truly the personal representative of the debtor, as the executor or administrator is the personal representative of the deceased; and for all practical purposes, and speaking generally, no a person appointed by a testator to carry out the directions and requests in his will, and to dispose of the property according to his testamentary provisions after his decease.[5] An administrator is a person appointed by the court to perform similar functions.[6]

2. Source of Powers. The executor was formerly said to derive his authority from the will rather than any judicial appointment,[7] while an administrator's distinction can be made, in this respect, between a trustee in insolvency or an assignee in bankruptcy, and a receiver appointed under our statutes. We think the words 'personal representatives,' as used in this statute, may reasonably be held to include in addition to executors and administrators, at least trustees in insolvency and receivers"); Wells v. Bente, 86 Mo. App. 264 (where the court said that the words "personal representatives" may sometimes mean "heirs" and may include "assigns" within their meaning).

Next of kin not personal representatives.— Shaver v. Shaver, 1 N. J. Eq. 437.

5. Black L. Dict.

For other definitions see In re Lamb, 122 Mich. 239, 241, 80 N. W. 1081; Compton v. McMahan, 19 Mo. App. 494, 505; Conklin v. Egerton, 21 Wend. (N. Y.) 430, 447; Worth v. McAden, 21 N. C. 199, 209.

Distinction between executor and testamentary trustee.— A person who takes a trust as a devisee under a will is a trustee; and one who takes under the probate of the will is an executor. The title of a devisee never depends upon the probate of the will; he becomes vested with all his title the moment the testator dies. An executor is not vested with any title or power until he becomes so vested by letters testamentary. When a testator by his will devises his real estate to an executor in trust, to recover the rents and profits, or to accumulate the same, such executor takes as trustee by devise the instant the testator dies, and becomes vested with all the estate and all the power conferred in respect to the same. The probate of the will or letters, neither add to, nor subtract from, his estate, or his powers over it. If such exeeutor die, the court of chancery must supply his place, for he is a trustee. No letters of administration with the will annexed could confer any rights over such an estate upon the person to whom they would be granted, for there is a fee or a devise of land involved, and a fee never can be held under letters testamentary or of administration. When a testator devises his real estate to his executor in trust to sell the same to pay debts or legacies, the executor takes no estate by the will, as trustee or otherwise. It is a mere power, and is an incident of the office of executor, as executor enabling him to convert into actual personalty that which is made equitably so by the will. This being merely a power in trust without an interest, pertains to the office and the duties of executor ex officio, and cannot be exercised without letters testamentary, no matter what terms the testator uses. He may make the grant to the executor, his heirs and assigns in the strongest language of feoffment known to the common law, in trust to pay debts or legacies, and he takes no title or trust estate by such devise, but the title and estate descends to the heirs at law, if not otherwise devised, subject to the execution by the executor of the trust (so called) as a power merely. Hence it will be seen that he only is a trustee in the sense of a statute which distinguishes such office from the office of executor, to whom an estate is devised in trust to receive the rents and profits thereof, and apply them, or to accumulate them. Where any other power or (nominal) trust is conferred upon an exeeutor in his name of executor, he takes, holds, and exercises it in the capacity of exeeutor under the probate of the will and not under the will. Matter of Anderson, 5 N. Y. Leg. Obs. 302. See also Simpson v. Cook, 24 Minn. 180, 187, where the court said: "When a power or trust beyond that requisite to the duties of executor is granted to an executor, eo nomine, he may accept and execute the trust or power without accepting and qualifying as exeeutor, unless the will expressly annex the trust or power to the office of executor."

Right of executor to administer estate undisposed of by will.— In cases of partial intestacy, or where provisions of a will have become inoperative, the executor is entitled to administer and distribute the property undisposed of, and it is not necessary or even proper to appoint an administrator for that purpose. McGreevy v. McGrath, 152 Mass. 24, 25 N. E. 29; In re Haughian, 37 Misc. (N. Y.) 457, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 932; Parris v. Cobb, 5 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 450.

6. See Smith v. Gentry, 16 Ga. 31, 32 (where the court said: "An administrator 'is a person lawfully appointed to manage and settle the estate of a deceased person, who has left no executor'"); Matter of Sudds, 32 Misc. (N. Y.) 182, 186, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 231 (where the court said: "The word 'exeeutor' merely distinguishes one who is named in a will as the person who administers the estate from one who administers either under the law of intestacy or under the will without being named therein").

The administrator represents the person of the intestate in relation to his personal estate, which vests in him immediately on the grant of letters of administration, and such grant has relation to the time of the intestate's death. McVaughters v. Elder, 2 Brev. (S. C.) 307.

Particular kinds of administrators see infra, II, C, D, E, G.

7. Schouler Ex. § 2.

An executor is not a public officer, his office is a private trust. Ex p. Powell, 8 Rob. (La.) 95.

authority came wholly from his appointment made by the court. But the modern tendency is to assimilate the powers and duties of these two classes of legal representatives, and to require both executors and administrators to take out letters and qualify in the same special court, rendering their accounts upon a similar plan and under a like judicial supervision.[8]

C. Real Representatives. At common law the heir succeeded to the real estate of the deceased ancestor, and was for this reason sometimes called a "real" representative,[9] but the term "real representative" has also been used to designate a representative of the deceased who is invested by statute with the same powers with respect to real estate of the deceased, with a slight exception, as he already has in respect to personal estate.[10]

D. Administration. "Administration" means the management of the estate of a decedent and expresses the jurisdiction assumed by the proper court over it.[11] It includes more than the mere collection of the assets, the payment of debts and legacies, and distribution to the next of kin. It involves all that may be done rightfully in the preservation of the assets, and all which may be done legally by the administrator in his dealings with creditors, distributees, or legatees, or which may be done by them in securing their rights; and it includes all which may be done, and rightfully done, in relation to adverse claims to assets which have come to the possession of the administrator as the property of the testator or intestate.[12]

E. Estates Testate and Intestate. The estates of deceased persons fall into two classes: first testate, which includes those estates as to the settlement of which the deceased has left directions embodied in a will, in which case the deceased is termed the testator;[13] and second intestate, which includes the estates of persons

8. See McNeely's Succession, 50 La. Ann. 823, 24 So. 338; In re Haughian, 37 Misc. (N. Y.) 457, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 932.

Similarity of office of executor and administrator.— See Finney v. Barnes, 97 Mass. 401; Sheldon v. Smith, 97 Mass. 34; Cooper v. Robinson, 2 Cush. (Mass.) 184; Trethewy v. Helyar, 4 Ch. D. 53, 46 L. J. Ch. 125.

9. In re Wilcox, etc., Co., 70 Conn. 220, 39 Atl. 163.

10. In re Cohen, [1902] 1 Ch. 187, 71 L. J. Ch. 164, 86 L. T. Rep. N. S. 73, 50 Wkly. Rep. 117.

11. Crossan v. McCrary, 37 Iowa 684.

In a strict sense the term means the management of the estate of an intestate or of a testator who has no executor, but it is also applied broadly to denote the management of an estate by an executor. See Bouvier L. Dict. (Rawle ed.).

Jurisdiction is assumed by the appointment of the administrator; when that is done, administration is said to have been granted. Crossan v. McCrary, 37 Iowa 684.

Second appointment.— The term "administration" does not refer simply to the act of appointment of the administrator, although that act is included in the thought expressed, for administration, or management of the estate, is assumed by the appointment. The word would not be applicable to an administrator appointed to fill a vacancy occurring in the office on account of the death or removal of a former incumbent, or on account of one appointed refusing to qualify and discharge its duties. Upon the court assuming jurisdiction of the estate and making the appointment of an administrator it may be said that administration has been granted. The person so appointed is under the control and power of the court and may be removed or he may resign, and his place may in such cases be filled. The power of the court to make a second appointment does not depend upon jurisdiction to be newly acquired by proper application, etc., although that may be necessary to call into exercise such authority. The court having jurisdiction of the estate may do all things necessary for its proper administration and settlement, and to this end may appoint such administrators as are authorized by law and necessary to the discharge of its probate powers. It cannot be said that, in the case of the appointment of a second administrator, administration is then assumed by the court over the estate. It was possessed and exercised before, and such an appointment is simply made in discharge of proper authority. Crossan v. McCrary, 37 Iowa 684.

12. Martin v. Ellerbe, 70 Ala. 326.

The mere conversion of specific assets into money does not consummate administration, the application of the proceeds according to law in payment of debts and in distribution is also essential to its completion. Rhame v. Lewis, 13 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 269.

"Matters of administration."— The object of administration is to pay the debts of the deceased, and distribute his personal estate among those entitled to it, and any act that may properly be performed by an administrator looking to this end is a matter of administration. Herndon v. Moore, 18 S. C. 339.

13. See Black L. Dict.

who have left no wills.[14] The term "intestate" is also used to designate a person who has died without leaving a valid will.[15] There may, however, also be cases of partial intestacy, where the deceased has left a will containing directions as to the disposition of a portion of his property, but such instrument leaves a portion undisposed of.[16] In the collection and preservation of effects, and the payment of debts, charges, and allowances, there is little or no difference between the two classes, the essential difference being that testate estates are distributed, after the payment of debts, and the like, according to the directions of the testator,[17] while intestate estates are distributed according to the rules established by the various statutes of distribution.[18]

F. Property Subject to Administration. It may be laid down as a general rule that all property which a deceased person owned at the time of his death is properly subject to administration and is regarded as being in the custody of the law for the benefit of all persons interested therein.[19] At the common law it was held that real property descended directly to the heir of the decedent, and with that the executor or administrator had no concern, the management, settlement, or administration of the estates of deceased persons relating primarily and fundamentally to personal property alone.[20] But nevertheless debts and charges remain obligatory upon the estate so long as property of the deceased may be found for their satisfaction, and hence if the personal assets prove insufficient the real estate may be applied to make up the deficiency on license of the court, modern statutes in England and the United States greatly enlarging all earlier facilities in this respect.[21] And while, in the absence of a will making inconsistent provisions, the land may still be said, as formerly, to vest at once in the heir, upon the owner's death, an encumbrance or cloud upon the title thereto remains, until it appears, from lapse of time or otherwise, that the representative will not be compelled to resort to the land because of some deficiency in the personal assets, for settling debts, legacies, or other legal charges against the estate.[22]

G. Retroactive Effect of Statutes. It has been held that statutes relating to the administration and settlement of the estates of deceased persons may have a retroactive effect so that their provisions may govern the administration of the estates of persons who died before such statutes were adopted.[23]

H. When Administration Necessary or Proper — 1. In General. As a general rule all estates of decedents are subject to administration, as the policy and intent of the statutes on the subject clearly contemplate that property of decedents left undisposed of at death shall, for the purpose of collecting the same, ascertaining and protecting the rights of creditors and heirs, and properly Testatrix means a female testator; and the term "testator" includes testatrix. Walker v. Hyland, (N. J. Sup. 1903) 56 Atl. 268.

14. See Black L. Dict.

What law governs as to intestacy.— In determining the question whether or not a decedent died intestate, the law of the place where he was domiciled at the time of his death governs. Moultrie v. Hunt, 23 N. Y. 394. See, generally, Wills.

15. See Matter of Cameron, 47 N. Y. App. Div. 120, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 187 [affirmed in 166 N. Y. 610, 59 N. E. 1120]; In re Haughian, 37 Misc. (N. Y.) 457, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 932.

16. See In re Haughian, 37 Misc. (N. Y.) 457, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 932.

17. See Wills.

18. See Descent and Distribution, 14 Cyc. 1 et seq.

19. See Bartlett v. Hyde, 3 Mo. 490; and infra, III.

20. In re Lawrence, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 310; In re Place, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 276. See also Farrington v. Knightly, 1 P. Wms. 548, 24 Eng. Reprint 509. See infra, III, B, C.

21. See infra, III, C, 1; X, D, 8, b; XII.

22. Alabama.— Thornton v. Moore, 61 Ala. 347.

Kentucky.— Renfro v. Trent, 1 J. J. Marsh. 604.

Massachusetts.— Opinion of Justices, 117 Mass. 603.

Missouri.— French v. Stratton, 79 Mo. 560.

Tennessee.— Brien v. Hart, 6 Humphr. 131.

England.— Charter v. Charter, L. R. 7 H. L. 364, 43 L. J. P. & M. 73.

23. People v. Senter, 28 Cal. 502.

Death previous to organization of state government.— The statute of California with transmitting the title of record, be subjected to the process of administration in the probate court, and indeed there is no other method provided by statute whereby the existence of creditors or heirs of decedent may be conclusively established and the estate distributed.[24] So also where anything remains to be done in execution of a will after the death of the executor, the appointment of an administrator de bonis non with the will annexed is proper, even though the debts and all charges of administration have been paid.[25] But the principle that the title to the personal estate of a decedent can be transmitted only through the instrumentality of letters of administration has no application where neither the title or right to possession to the property in question was in the decedent,[26] and reference to the settlement of the estates of deceased persons had no application to the estates of persons who died previous to the organization of the state government. Tevis v. Pitcher, 10 Cal. 465; Grimes v. Norris, 6 Cal. 621, 65 Am. Dec. 545; Hardy v. Harbin, 11 Fed. Cas. No. 6,060, 4 Sawy. 536. See also Downer v. Smith, 24 Cal. 114.

24. Alabama.— Marshall v. Gayle, 58 Ala. 284.

Arkansas.— Pryor v. Ryburn, 16 Ark. 671.

California.— Strong's Estate, 119 Cal. 663, 51 Pac. 1078; Pina's Estate, 112 Cal. 14, 44 Pac. 332.

Connecticut.— Munson v. Munson, 3 Day 260, holding that the estate of a decedent cannot be distributed by arbitrators appointed by the heirs and devisees, and a distribution so made confers no title on the distributees.

Kansas.— Cox v. Grubb, 47 Kan. 435, 28 Pac. 157, 27 Am. St. Rep. 303.

Louisiana.— See Lumsden's Succession, 17 La. Ann. 38.

Maryland.— Barnitz v. Reddington, 80 Md. 622, 24 Atl. 409; Rockwell v. Young, 60 Md. 563; Hagthorp v. Hook, 1 Gill & J. 270.

Mississippi.— Marshall v. King, 24 Miss. 85.

Missouri.— Jacobs v. Maloney, 64 Mo. App. 270; Becraft v. Lewis, 41 Mo. App. 546, 552 (where the court said: "The heir or devisee of personal property can only secure the title through administration. And this is true though there are no debts, and the heir be the sole distributee"); State v. Moore, 18 Mo. App. 406. See also Craslin v. Baker, 8 Mo. 437, where the court recognized the general rule stated in the text, although it considered that, under the peculiar circumstances of the case, the widow having taken the property of the deceased, which was less in amount than the allowance to which she was entitled, and having paid the debts and applied the property to the maintenance of the children, it would be unjust to allow an administrator appointed eight years later to take from her the property, which had meanwhile been increased by her labor.

New York.— Woodin v. Bagley, 13 Wend. 453; Jenkins v. Freyer, 4 Paige 47.

North Carolina.— Mitchell v. Mitchell, 132 N. C. 350, 43 S. E. 914; Patterson v. High, 43 N. C. 52.

Pennsylvania.— Beatty v. Henry, 10 Phila. 35, holding that, where a person purchased a claim from the claimant's widow who simply signed the receipt for the purchase-money with her name but not as widow, or as acting for herself and the heirs of claimant, and no administrator was appointed to the estate of claimant, the purchaser was not legally entitled to the claim.

South Carolina.— Richardson v. Cooley, 20 S. C. 347; McVaughters v. Elder, 2 Brev. 307; Elders v. Vauters, 4 Desauss. 155.

Tennessee.— Thurman v. Shelton, 10 Yerg. 383.

Wisconsin.— Clark v. Clark, 76 Wis. 306, 45 N. W. 121.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 3.

A mortgagee of chattels cannot take possession of the same after the death of the mortgagor under a power contained in the mortgage, for upon the death of the mortgagor all his personal estate in possession passed into the custody of the law to be administered for the benefit of all persons interested. Kater v. Steinruck, 40 Pa. St. 501.

Where no personal estate or debts.— Where a decedent has left no personal estate to be administered or debts to be paid, there is no necessity for an administration. See Redmond v. Redmond, 112 Ky. 760, 66 S. W. 745, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 2161.

Texas statutes concerning estates of deceased soldiers.— The Texas acts of May 18, 1838, and Jan. 14, 1841, restricting the right of administration upon estates of deceased soldiers did not apply to the estates of soldiers who were citizens of Texas (Vogelsang v. Dougherty, 46 Tex. 466), and the latter statute did not apply to the estates of soldiers who died after its passage (Hill v. Grant, (Civ. App. 1898) 44 S. W. 1016).

25. Cushman v. Albee, 183 Mass. 108, 66 N. E. 590, holding that where a testatrix bequeathed to her executrix the use of her house for life, and provided that after the decease of the executrix the house should fall into the residue of the estate and be disposed of as provided by the will with reference to such residue, and the will also gave to the executrix power to sell and dispose of any or all real estate, the appointment of an administrator de bonis non with the will annexed was proper after the death of the executrix, the house not having yet been disposed of as provided in the will. See infra, II. D.

26. Biemuller v. Schneider, 62 Md. 547, holding that where A intrusted certain chattels to B to use and replenish as occasion arose for B's benefit, with the privilege of where, after the estate of a decedent has been administered as intestate, the debts all paid, and the property assigned to a certain person as sole heir, a will is discovered and admitted to probate by which the real estate is devised to other persons, there is no need for the appointment of a new administrator.[27] It may be stated generally that the question of necessity for administration is one for the court having probate jurisdiction,[28] and it appears to be a matter resting largely in the discretion of the court, especially where there are no debts, whether an administration shall be had or the estate awarded to the persons entitled to it without any administration.[29] In some states there are statutes providing that administration shall not be granted after a certain time from the death of the decedent,[30] and even in the absence of statute a long lapse of time since the death of the decedent without administration may raise a presumption against the necessity for any administration.[31]

2. EXISTENCE OF DEBTS. Administration is usually a necessity where a person dies leaving unpaid debts and property which may be made available to pay them,[32] and, where a person claiming to be a creditor of the estate applies for the repossession at any time, on the death of B and the retention of the chattels by his widow A could bring replevin before the appointment of an administrator.

27. Thompson's Estate, 57 Minn. 109, 58 N. W. 682.

28. Ferguson v. Templeton, (Tex. Civ. App. 1895) 32 S. W. 148 (holding that a grant of administration will not be held void on collateral attack on the ground that there was no necessity for it, but the question of necessity being one for the probate court, its judgment will be upheld until reversed on appeal or writ of error); Saul v. Frame, 3 Tex. Civ. App. 596, 22 S. W. 984 (holding that in administration proceedings under the Texas Probate Act of 1848 to determine whether or not an administration is void, the court should consider not only the time which elapsed before it was applied for but also the entire record of the proceedings, and ascertain therefrom whether there was a necessity for the administration, and whether the application to administer was made in good faith to benefit the estate by persons interested in taking care of it and who were entitled to administer).

29. Story's Succession, 3 La. Ann. 502; Schrack's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 149; Rittenhouse's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 700.

Money in possession of creditor of distributee.— Where a creditor of the distributees of an estate has rightfully in his possession moneys belonging to the estate, and there are no unpaid debts of the estate, the court may appropriate the fund immediately to the payment of such creditor's claim, without requiring it to be paid over to the administrator. Elliott v. Lewis, 3 Edw. (N. Y.) 40.

30. Under Conn. Gen. St. (1902) § 321, providing that administration shall not be granted after ten years from the death of a person unless the probate court finds on petition and notice that administration ought to be granted, the probate court may and should determine whether the claim on which application made after ten years is based is an existing and available one, and on appeal from its decision the superior court has a similar power and duty. Colburn's Appeal, 76 Conn. 378, 56 Atl. 608. Under Iowa Code, § 3305, providing that administration will not be originally granted after five years from the death of the decedent, an application for the appointment of an administrator more than five years after decedent's death, which failed to show that the applicant had any interest in the estate either as an heir or a creditor, and alleged that deceased left no personal property, but that the object of the application was to complete the title to real estate left by deceased, which was untrue, was insufficient to justify an order appointing an administrator. Cummings v. Lynn, 121 Iowa 344, 96 N. W. 857.

31. Anderson v. Smith, 3 Metc. (Ky.) 491 (twenty-eight years); Duncan v. Veal, 49 Tex. 603 (fourteen years).

32. Alabama.— Brennan v. Harris, 20 Ala. 185.

Georgia.— Conyers v. Bruce, 109 Ga. 190, 34 S. E. 279.

Illinois.— Leamon v. McCubbin, 82 Ill. 263.

Indiana.— Bowen v. Stewart, 128 Ind. 507, 26 N. E. 168, 28 N. E. 73 (holding that the heirs of a decedent, although of full age, cannot by agreement among themselves settle his estate so as to defeat the right of a county to which decedent was largely indebted for taxes to have such estate administered in due course of law); Leonard v. Blair, 59 Ind. 510.

Louisiana.— Bulliard's Succession, 111 La. 186, 35 So. 508; Barber's Succession, 52 La. Ann. 957, 27 So. 361; Clark's Succession, 30 La. Ann. 801; McMicken v. Ficklin, 1 La. 45. But see Wintz's Succession, 111 La. 40, 35 So. 377, holding that where the largest claim against a succession is one made by an heir, and the debts to third persons are insignificant, and one of the heirs offers to secure them by bond, and the heirs are all majors, it is proper to refuse to appoint an administrator.

Massachusetts.— Royce v. Burrell, 12 Mass. 395.

Pennsylvania.— Lee v. Wright, 1 Rawle 149; Bungard v. Miller, 5 Pa. Cas. 122, 8 Atl. 209.

appointment of an administrator, it is not necessary that he should conclusively prove the existence of the alleged debt, but if he makes a prima facie case this is sufficient to authorize and require the appointment of an administrator;[33] but in order for an alleged debt to form the basis of a grant of administration it must be a legal claim upon the deceased or his estate.[34] It is to be noted, however, that the power to grant administration is not restricted to cases in which the estate is indebted.[35]

3. For Collection of Assets. It has been frequently asserted that where debts or assets of the estate are to be collected or choses in action are to be sued upon

Texas.— Gurley v. Ward, 37 Tex. 20.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit "Executors and Administrators," § 8.

Estates of married women.— The Married Women's Acts which have conferred upon married women the right to contract in relation to their property render administration upon the estate of a married woman necessary to protect creditors, and have to this extent modified the Md. Test. Act (1798), c. 101, subc. 5, in so far as it relieved the husband of an intestate wife from the necessity of taking out letters of administration on her estate. McCarthy v. McCarthy, 20 App. Cas. (D. C.) 195.

Where a creditor wishes to avail himself of the lands of the deceased for the payment of his debt he should apply for administration where the next of kin refuses to take it. Mitchel v. Lunt, 4 Mass. 654.

A creditor cannot attach property in Louisiana left by a decedent who died in another state. The succession is considered vacant, and should be administered by a curator. Brown v. Richardson, 1 Mart. (La.) 202.

Where an estate is insolvent the family can make no legal disposition of it of any kind except through an administrator. Beatty v. Henry, 10 Phila. (Pa.) 35.

Where there may be debts an administration is proper. Cobb v. Brown, Speers Eq. (S. C.) 564.

A statute casting the descent immediately upon the heirs and distributees, both of the real and personal property subject to an administration, does not change the rule that there must be an executor or administrator representing the estate, in order to enable a creditor to bring suit and subject the property of the estate to the payment of his debt. Green v. Rugely, 23 Tex. 539.

A creditor has no right to collect a debt due the estate from another person and apply it on his own demand. Richardson v. Dreyfus, 64 Mo. App. 600; Cook v. Jordan, 21 Tex. 221. See also Louaillier v. Castille, 14 La. Ann. 777.

A creditor cannot maintain an action upon his claim, where there has been no administration, either against the heirs of the decedent (Leonard v. Blair, 59 Ind. 510; Royce v. Burrell, 12 Mass. 395) or against the estate of his deceased debtor unless a person in possession of the estate has rendered himself executor de son tort (Screven v. Bostick, 2 McCord Eq. (S. C.) 410, 16 Am. Dec. 664).

Order putting heirs in unconditional possession.— The ex parte action of the widow and heirs of a deceased debtor in obtaining an order putting them in unconditional possession of the property of the deceased does not deprive the creditor of his right to promptly demand security or an administration under the Louisiana code. Bray's Succession, 50 La. Ann. 1209, 24 So. 601.

Debt apparently barred by limitation.— On appeal from a decree granting administration on the estate of a person dead more than ten years, it appeared of record that there was a note belonging to the estate to be collected, and while it was apparently barred by limitation there was nothing to show that it was in fact so barred. The petition to the probate court was not in the record, nor did it appear, aside from the reasons of appeal filed, that grounds other than the existence of the note induced the grant of administration. It was held that there was nothing to show that the probate court erred or abused its discretion in granting administration, or that the superior court erred in affirming its decree. Colburn's Appeal, 76 Conn. 378, 56 Atl. 608, holding further that where the court finds that the claim on which an application, under Conn. Gen. St. (1902) § 321, for administration on the estate of a person dead more than ten years is based, has no foundation, or that administration will be unavailable, or will be used for an illegitimate or improper purpose, administration should not be granted.

33. Conyers v. Bruce, 109 Ga. 190, 34 S. E. 279.

34. Hunt v. Holden, 2 Mass. 168 (holding that where a testator authorized his executor to sell lands for the support of his widow under certain circumstances and upon the contingency happening after the executor's death a stranger supplied the widow such person did not have a legal claim upon the estate so as to authorize an administration de bonis non); Duncan v. Veal, 49 Tex. 603 (holding that costs of a previous abandoned attempt to obtain administration, or of a previous void administration, are not justly chargeable against the deceased or his property and hence are not such debts as may form a basis for an administration); Summerlin v. Rabb, 11 Tex. Civ. App. 53, 31 S. W. 711 (holding that a debt incurred for the expenses of procuring a land certificate to which the heirs are entitled by law on the death of their intestate is not a debt against the estate, nor a ground for granting administration). See infra, X, A.

35. Ferguson v. Templeton, (Tex. Civ. App. 1895) 32 S. W. 148. But see Saul v. Frame, 3 Tex. Civ. App. 596, 22 S. W. 984, where an administration is necessary in order that there may be some authorized representative of the decedent to act in the premises, as the heirs are not, merely as such, entitled to sue for the recovery of his property or of debts due to him.[36] But on the other hand there are many cases holding that where there are no debts of the estate the heirs may collect, and even if necessary sue for, the debts due to and the property of the decedent,[37] although the existence of this right does not prevent the appointment of an administrator for the purpose of collecting such debts.[38]

4. FOR PURPOSE OF DISTRIBUTION. In a number of states it is held that administration is unnecessary where there are no debts of the estate or the debts have all been paid, the courts considering that when the only duty devolving on an administrator would be to make a distribution of the estate, and the heirs or distributees make or are able to make a satisfactory distribution or disposition thereof themselves, or there is only one heir, administration would be merely a useless ceremony involving unnecessary expense,[39] and the same is true where no administration has been applied for and the claims of creditors, if any exist, are barred because they have not been presented to the probate court within the time the court referred to "the jurisdictional fact of debts."

36. Roberts v. Eales, 10 Ky. L. Rep. 360; Lee v. Wright, 1 Rawle (Pa.) 149; Brown v. Niethammer, 2 Pa. Cas. 54, 4 Atl. 918 (holding that a husband cannot sue for the personal estate of his deceased wife without taking out letters of administration); Bradford v. Felder, 2 McCord Eq. (S. C.) 168; Clark v. Clark, 76 Wis. 306, 45 N. W. 121.

Where the administrator refuses on demand to sue for debts due to or upon choses in action of the intestate the heir at law may do so, but in such case the administrator must be made a defendant. Roberts v. Eales, 10 Ky. L. Rep. 360.

Benefit of covenants in equity suits.— Although a surviving husband is entitled to his wife's choses in action and only the equitable right thereto passes to his executors, so that they cannot maintain an ordinary action thereon without administering upon her estate; in a suit in equity brought against the executors, where the heirs of the deceased wife were parties, and it might be inferred from the record that she owed no debts rendering administration on the estate necessary, the husband's executors were entitled to the benefits of covenants in favor of the wife. Nunnally v. White, 3 Metc. (Ky.) 584.

37. Alabama.— McGhee v. Alexander, 104 Ala. 116, 16 So. 148.

Colorado.— Austin v. Snider, 17 Colo. App. 182, 68 Pac. 125.

Indiana.— Holzman v. Hibben, 100 Ind. 338; Langsdale v. Woollen, 99 Ind. 575.

Mississippi.— Ricks v. Hilliard, 45 Miss. 359.

Texas.— McIntyre v. Chappell, 4 Tex. 187 [distinguishing Moore v. Morse, 2 Tex. 400] (holding administration not necessary to enable a guardian of an heir to recover property of the decedent); Angier v. Jones, 28 Tex. Civ. App. 402, 67 S. W. 449 (holding that an application for administration of a decedent's estate by one not interested therein, which merely shows that there are debts due the estate, and does not show any creditors or heirs under disability, should be denied, since in such case the heirs may sue and make distribution).

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 10.

The right of a husband to sue for choses in action of his wife without taking out letters of administration, given by Md. Test. Act (1798), c. 101, subc. 5, § 8, is a special statutory power and does not extend by construction to any case other than that expressly declared by the statute. Ferguson v. Washington, etc., R. Co., 6 App. Cas. (D. C.) 525.

Specific legacy.— Where a mortgage is bequeathed to an infant subject to a life-estate in the income in the executrix and the estate is solvent the principal may be paid to the infant on the death of the executrix without the appointment of an administrator with the will annexed of the testator. In re Robinson, 37 Misc. (N. Y.) 336, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 490.

38. Langsdale v. Woollen, 99 Ind. 575.

39. See DESCENT AND DISTRIBUTION, 14 Cyc. 132 note 13.

A court of chancery may decree a distribution of the property and assets of a decedent among the distributees when no administration has been granted in the state, without any letters of administration being taken out. Wood v. Ford, 29 Miss. 57.

A suit for partition of personalty among the heirs of the deceased owner is maintainable where the estate is not indebted, the heirs are all of age, and there is no administration upon the estate and no necessity therefor. Jordan v. Jordan, 2 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 830.

Even where there is a will the parties interested, all being adults, may pay the debts and divide the property among themselves according to the directions of the will without probating the same, and the effect of such division is to invest each party with a complete equitable title to the property allotted to him. Carter v. Owens, 41 Ala. 217.

limited for that purpose,[40] or by the statute of limitations.[41] But if any of the heirs or distributees demand an administration it must be had.[42]

5. Providing Party to Suit. It has been held that where a defendant dies pending a suit and no administrator is appointed plaintiff may have one appointed for the purpose of providing a proper party defendant to his suit.[43]

6. Particular Kinds of Estates — a. Estates of Husband and Wife.[44] Some statutes have dispensed with the necessity of administration upon the estate of a married person who dies leaving his or her wife or husband as sole heir, in case there are no debts,[45] or, if there are debts, in case the heir will pay them.[46]

b. Estates of Infants. Administration may be granted upon the estate of an infant notwithstanding the fact that infants are usually without legal capacity to make a will,[47] but in some jurisdictions an administration is not necessary upon the estate of a person who died in infancy leaving no debts.[48]

40. Granger v. Harriman, 89 Minn. 303, 94 N. W. 869. See infra, X, B, 1.

41. Ogden's Estate, 9 Kulp (Pa.) 412; Mott v. Riddell, 2 Tex. Unrep. Cas. 107. See also Sarrazin's Succession, 34 La. Ann. 1168. And see Limitations of Actions.

42. Blake v. Kearney, 30 La. Ann. 388. See also Marshall v. Crow, 29 Ala. 278.

43. Parshall v. Moody, 24 Iowa 314. But see In re Murray, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 208, holding that an application for appointment of an administrator merely to be a party to a suit to quiet title should be denied.

44. See, generally, Husband and Wife.

45. In re Lee, 76 Md. 108, 24 Atl. 422.

Debtors to the estate are protected in making payment to the husband as sole heir of his deceased wife without any administration upon the estate. In re Lee, 76 Md. 108, 24 Atl. 422.

A written agreement of separation does not deprive the husband of his rights, or render administration on the wife's estate proper, where it contains nothing showing an intention of the husband to abandon his rights. Willis v. Jones, 42 Md. 422.

Where the husband dies after the wife, but before administration, his executor, administrator, or assignee is entitled under the North Carolina code to receive the personal property of the wife as part of the estate of the husband, subject to the payment of the wife's debts, and in such case the appointment of an administrator of the wife's estate is improper. Wooten v. Wooten, 123 N. C. 219, 31 S. E. 491.

A cause of action for libel, against the decedent who died pending a suit thereon, is not such a debt as will prevent the widow as sole heir at law from taking possession of the decedent's estate, without administration. McElhaney v. Crawford, 96 Ga. 174, 22 S. E. 895.

46. McElhaney v. Crawford, 96 Ga. 174, 22 S. E. 895.

Failure to pay debts.— Although where a wife dies leaving her husband as her sole heir at law he is upon payment of her debts entitled to her whole estate without administration, yet where the wife has been separated from her husband and provision has been made for her separate support debts contracted by her are her own individual debts, and if the husband fails to take out administration himself or to pay the debts the legal necessity of the case, so far as it concerns the payment of creditors, requires that administration should be taken out by someone. McLaren v. Bradford, 52 Ga. 648.

47. Horton v. Trompeter, 53 Kan. 150, 35 Pac. 1106; Wheeler v. St. Joseph, etc., R. Co., 31 Kan. 640, 3 Pac. 297; Roberts v. Eales, 10 Ky. L. Rep. 360; Kennedy v. Ryall, 67 N. Y. 379; Edwards v. Halbert, 64 Tex. 667.

Administration before final settlement of guardian.— Where a ward dies owing debts and owning property the county court of the county where the death occurred has jurisdiction to appoint an administrator of the estate, although the guardian has not made final settlement. Alford v. Halbert, 74 Tex. 346, 12 S. W. 75.

48. Alabama.— Campbell v. Conner, 42 Ala. 131.

Illinois.— McCleary v. Menke, 109 Ill. 294.

Louisiana.— Hair v. McDade, 10 La. Ann. 534.

Missouri.— Norton v. Thompson, 68 Mo. 143.

South Carolina.— Cobb v. Brown, Speers Eq. 564.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 4.

Married minor.— The provision of Mo. Rev. St. (1855) p. 829, § 34, that no letters of administration shall be granted on the estate of a minor, must be construed with reference to the statutes concerning dower and administration, and so construed it is apparent that it refers only to the estates of minors dying unmarried; when a minor who is married dies there must be administration on his estate in order that the widow may be able to claim and receive the dower and allowances to which she is entitled. Norton v. Thompson, 68 Mo. 143.

Where there are demands for which the minor would have been liable to an action administration is necessary for the prohibition in the Missouri act concerning guardians and curators (Rev. Code (1845), § 552), against the issuing of letters of administration upon the estate of a deceased minor applies to those cases only where there are no debts except those which the guardian himself has allowed to be created. George v. Dawson, 18 Mo. 407.

c. Estates of Indians. The power of a state court to issue letters of administration upon the estate of a deceased Indian has been both asserted [49] and denied.[50]

d. Escheated Estates. The appointment of an administrator is unnecessary in the case of an escheated estate.[51]

e. Small Estates. Under the statutes of some states, where the estate of a decedent does not exceed a specified amount, administration is dispensed with and the whole set apart to the widow or minor children,[52] and even independent of statute it has been held that where the estate was not sufficient to defray the expenses of administration the widow was not bound to have it administered.[53]

7. Withholding or Withdrawing Estate From Administration. In some states statutes have been enacted empowering a testator, by provisions to that effect in his will, to withhold the settlement of his estate from the probate court [54] or permitting the heirs by giving bond for the payment of the debts of the deceased to withdraw the estate from administration.[55]

I. Nature of Administration Proceedings. The probate of a will is technically and purely a proceeding in rem, for it defines and fixes the status of the 49. Reed v. Brasher, 9 Port. (Ala.) 438, holding that under Ala. Act (1829), § 3, extending the jurisdiction of the state of Alabama over the Creek nation, and the statute (Aikin Dig. p. 251, § 28), providing for administration upon the estates of persons having no known place of residence within any county of this state, the county court has jurisdiction of the estate of a deceased Indian of the Creek tribe.

50. Dole v. Irish, 2 Barb. (N. Y.) 639; U. S. v. Payne, 27 Fed. Cas. No. 16,014, 4 Dill. 387.

51. Smith v. Gentry, 16 Ga. 31. See Escheat, 16 Cyc. 548 et seq.

52. See infra, IX, D, 5.

53. Soubiran v. Rivollet, 4 La. Ann. 328.

54. Hogue v. Sims, 9 Tex. 546; Newport v. Newport, 5 Wash. 114, 31 Pac. 428. See also Lininger's Appeal, 101 Pa. St. 161, holding that where a testator explicitly declared in his will that the executors named should not assume or exercise any duties as such until after the death of his widow to whom he gave the use of his property for life with the right to use the principal of the personalty if she chose and there were no creditors the children to whom the property was given after the widow's death could not compel the executors to assume any functions during the widow's life. See infra, XXIII.

Appointment of administrator de bonis non. — Tex. Rev. St. (1895) art. 1995, authorizing a person to provide by will that no other action shall be had in the county court in relation to the settlement of the estate than the probate of the will and the return of the inventory and list of claims, withdraws the estate from the court's jurisdiction only so far as its settlement is concerned and does not deprive the county court of jurisdiction to appoint an administrator de bonis non in place of an independent executor who has resigned. Roy v. Whitaker, 92 Tex. 346, 49 S. W. 367, 48 S. W. 892.

The Texas statute requires in order to take the administration of the estate out of the probate court not only that the will should contain a provision to that effect but also that there should be the assent of the persons entitled to the estate and that they should if required by creditors give bond to pay the debts of the testator to the extent of the estate. Unless they comply with the provisions of the statute in this respect the estate must be settled in the probate court as in other cases. Henderson v. Van Hook, 25 Tex. Suppl. 453; Hogue v. Sims, 9 Tex. 546. See also Rummels v. Kownslar, 27 Tex. 528.

Jurisdiction of the probate court is presumed where administration is had therein notwithstanding a provision in the will for independent administration, where the record is silent as to whether the heirs gave bond to pay the testator's debts to the extent of the estate as required by statute on the application of creditors. Wood v. Mistretta, 20 Tex. Civ. App. 236, 49 S. W. 236, 50 S. W. 135.

55. Harris v. McClure, (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 25 S. W. 1095, holding that where on an application by the heir to withdraw the estate from administration the administrator files his account and the heir files objections thereto action by the court on the account is not a prerequisite to the withdrawal of the estate from administration but the court should order an immediate delivery to the heir.

Liability of sureties.— Sureties on the bond of an heir given for the purpose of withdrawing the estate from administration under the Texas statute are liable for all the unpaid debts of the estate, and their liability is not limited by the assets of the estate or to the share of the estate to which the heir whose sureties they are is personally entitled on the distribution. Thomas v. Bonnie, 66 Tex. 635, 2 S. W. 724.

Defense in action on withdrawal bond.— In an action brought by a creditor against one of the heirs and his sureties on a bond given for the purpose of withdrawing the estate from administration such heir cannot be heard to say in defense that the bond is estate,[56] and in the grant of letters testamentary or of administration, while the proceeding is in some aspects in personam it is in its most important bearing a proceeding in rem, for property must have a living owner and when the owner dies his title ceases, and as to personalty the title remains undefined and in abeyance until a personal representative is appointed and qualifies. When that is done the title of the decedent vests eo instanti in such personal representative, not by virtue of a conveyance, for there is none, but the appointment effects the transfer proprio vigore.[57]

J Jurisdiction — 1. No Federal Jurisdiction. In the United States each state regulates the settlement of the estates of decedents in its own jurisdiction, and no administration is extraterritorial. The United States courts have no constitutional jurisdiction to affirm or set aside the probate of a will in the proper state forum, nor to disturb or interfere with the due administration of an estate under state probate direction.[58] But to some extent an equitable jurisdiction incidental to the enforcement of trusts or the construction of wills is there recognized.[59]

2. Particular Courts or Officers. In determining what particular courts have jurisdiction in the administration of estates, the statute regulating such matters in the particular jurisdiction must govern.[60] In some states the clerk of the court having probate jurisdiction has power to appoint an administrator during a vacation or recess of the regular sessions of such court.[61]

3. Jurisdictional Requisites[62] — a. Death. It is absolutely essential to the validity of a grant of administration that the person upon whose estate the invalid because the inventory and list of claims have not been returned. Thomas v. Bonnie, 66 Tex. 635, 2 S. W. 724.

56. Nelson v. Boynton, 54 Ala. 368. See, generally, Wills.

57. Nelson v. Boynton, 54 Ala. 368; Steen v. Steen, 25 Miss. 513. See also Hutchins v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 44 Minn. 5, 46 N. W. 79.

58. Dickinson v. Seaver, 44 Mich. 624, 7 N. W. 182; Byers v. McAuley, 149 U. S. 608, 13 S. Ct. 906, 37 L. ed. 867; Ellis v. Davis, 109 U. S. 485, 3 S. Ct. 327, 27 L. ed. 1006; Kieley v. McGlynn, 21 Wall. (U. S.) 503, 22 L. ed. 599.

59. Hayes v. Pratt, 147 U. S. 557, 13 S. Ct. 503, 37 L. ed. 279; Colton v. Colton, 127 U. S. 300, 8 S. Ct. 1164, 32 L. ed. 138.

60. See the following cases which are of purely local importance:

Alabama.— Ex p. Lunsford, 117 Ala. 221, 23 So. 528, 122 Ala. 242, 25 So. 171.

Arizona.— Territory v. Mix, 1 Ariz. 52, 25 Pac. 528.

Arkansas.— Hynds v. Imboden, 5 Ark. 385.

California.— Hardy v. Harbin, 11 Fed. Cas. No. 6,060, 4 Sawy. 536, prefect under Mexican government in California without jurisdiction over decedents' estates.

Illinois.—Kennedy v. Kennedy, 105 Ill. 350.

Louisiana.— McManus v. West, 18 La. 41.

Missouri.— Miller v. Woodward, 8 Mo. 169.

New Jersey.— In re Bracher, 60 N. J. Eq. 350, 51 Atl. 63.

North Carolina.— Kirkman v. Phipps, 86 N. C. 428.

Ohio.— Schumacher v. McCallip, 69 Ohio St. 500, 69 N. E. 986.

South Carolina.— Swandale v. Swandale, 25 S. C. 389; Roberts v. Johns, 10 S. C. 101.

Tennessee.— Ragio v. Collins, 101 Tenn. 662, 49 S. W. 750.

Wisconsin.— Meyer v. Garthwaite, 92 Wis. 571, 66 N. W. 704.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 26.

61. Picard's Succession, 33 La. Ann. 1135; Rayburn v. Rayburn, 34 W. Va. 400, 12 S. E. 493.

It need not affirmatively appear by the appointment that it was made in vacation. Drake v. Sigafoos, 39 Minn. 367, 40 N. W. 257.

Status of administrator.— In Indiana it has been held that an appointment of an administrator by a clerk during vacation must be confirmed by an order of the court at its next succeeding term or the appointment will then cease to be of effect. State v. Chrisman, 2 Ind. 126. In West Virginia, however, where the clerk appoints an administrator, taking from him the necessary bond, the powers of such administrator are not inchoate, needing confirmation by the court before he can act, but he becomes at once the administrator as of right as well as in fact for the time being, who may and should at once proceed to discharge the duties of his office. If his appointment is not confirmed, yet, if valid in the beginning, the order of appointment made by the clerk should not be set aside and annulled, but the court should revoke his letters of administration, or rather order that his powers cease. Rayburn v. Rayburn, 34 W. Va. 400, 12 S. E. 493.

Duty of court to ratify.— By the express provisions of the Indiana statute the acts of the clerk in vacation in granting letters should be ratified by the court unless good cause be shown for vacating such acts. Barricklow v. Stewart, 31 Ind. App. 446, 68 N. E. 316.

62. As to intestacy see infra, II, B, 1.

administration is granted should be dead; any administration upon the estate of a living person is void,[63] and while it is true that the presumption of death arising from a person's absence, unheard from, for a considerable length of time[64] may present a prima facie case sufficient to warrant a grant of administration on his estate,[65] the arising of such presumption does not take the case out of the opera-

63. Alabama.— Duncan v. Stewart, 25 Ala. 408, 60 Am. Dec. 527.
Illinois.— Thomas v. People, 107 Ill. 517, 47 Am. Rep. 458.
Louisiana.— Burns v. Van Loan, 29 La. Ann. 560.
Massachusetts.— Jochumsen v. Suffolk Sav. Bank, 3 Allen 87.
New Hampshire.— Morgan v. Dodge, 44 N. H. 255, 82 Am. Dec. 213.
New Jersey.— Quidort v. Pergeaux, 18 N. J. Eq. 472.
North Carolina.— Springer v. Shavender, 116 N. C. 12, 21 S. E. 397, 47 Am. St. Rep. 791, 33 L. R. A. 772, 118 N. C. 33, 23 S. E. 976, 54 Am. St. Rep. 708.
North Dakota.— Clapp v. Houg, 12 N. D. 600, 98 N. W. 710, 65 L. R. A. 757.
Pennsylvania.— Devlin v. Com., 101 Pa. St. 273, 47 Am. Rep. 710; McPherson v. Cunliff, 11 Serg. & R. 422, 14 Am. Dec. 642; Cummins v. Reading School Dist., 25 Pa. Co. Ct. 17.
South Carolina.— Moore v. Smith, 11 Rich. 569, 73 Am. Dec. 122.
Tennessee.— D'Arusment v. Jones, 4 Lea 251, 40 Am. Rep. 12.
Texas.— Fisk v. Norvel, 9 Tex. 13, 58 Am. Dec. 128; Schleicher v. Guthrod, (Civ. App. 1896) 34 S. W. 657.
Vermont.— Manning v. Leighton, 65 Vt. 84, 26 Atl. 258, 24 L. R. A. 684.
Virginia.— Andrews v. Avory, 14 Gratt. 229, 73 Am. Dec. 355.
Wisconsin.— Melia v. Simmons, 45 Wis. 334, 30 Am. Rep. 746.
United States.— Scott v. McNeal, 154 U. S. 34, 14 S. Ct. 1108, 38 L. ed. 896 [reversing 5 Wash. 309, 31 Pac. 873, 34 Am. St. Rep. 863]; U. S. v. Payne, 27 Fed. Cas. No. 16,014, 4 Dill. 387.
England.— In re Napier, 1 Phillim. 83. See also Allen v. Dundas, 3 T. R. 125.
See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 15.

Certification of death.— R. I. Gen. Laws (1896), tit. xiv, c. 101, § 15, provides that "no letters of administration or letters testamentary shall be granted by any court of probate, upon the estate of any person, until the death of such person, or the facts from which the same is presumed, shall be duly certified, as near as may be, to the town clerk, in order that the same may be duly registered according to the provisions of this chapter." Under this statute the death must be certified to the town clerk of the town where the court of probate is held, and not of the town where the person died. Baker v. Coventry Probate Ct., 15 R. I. 400, 401, 6 Atl. 865.

Money paid to an administrator appointed to take charge of the estate of a living person may be recovered back where the administrator voluntarily undertook to act as such, and does not claim to have paid the money over to the persons entitled. U. S. v. Payne, 27 Fed. Cas. No. 16,014, 4 Dill. 387. So also payment to an administrator upon the presentation of ancillary letters duly issued by a surrogate upon proof of the original letters issued under a statute of a sister state, providing that administration may be granted upon the estate of a person who has been absent and unheard of for a specified time as if he were dead, is not available as a defense to a subsequent demand of the creditor who proves to be alive. Lavin v. Emigrant Industrial Sav. Bank, 1 Fed. 641, 18 Blatchf. 1. But in New York, on the other hand, it has been held that under the statute (2 Rev. St. 74, §§ 23, 26) conferring upon surrogates jurisdiction over the granting of letters of administration, the inquiry by the surrogate as to the death of the person upon whose estate administration is applied for is judicial in its nature; and letters of administration issued upon due proof are conclusive evidence of the authority of the administrator to act until the order granting them is reversed, or the letters are revoked or set aside, so far at least as to protect innocent persons acting upon the faith of them; and that consequently where a savings institution, upon demand and presentation of letters of administration, paid over in good faith to the administrator the amount of a deposit made by the person upon whose estate the administration was granted, an action could not afterward be maintained to recover the deposit, although it appeared that the person who made the same was not dead at the time of the administration. Roderigas v. East River Sav. Inst., 63 N. Y. 460, 20 Am. Rep. 555 [reversing 48 How. Pr. 166]. In a subsequent unreported decision of this same case, however, the court of appeals held that to sustain the letters of administration, where the person was alive, there must have been produced to the surrogate some competent evidence of the person's death, and the surrogate must himself have passed on the question judicially, and therefore as it appeared that this had not been done the defense of payment to the person holding such letters was overruled. See Lavin v. Emigrant Industrial Sav. Inst., 1 Fed. 641, 18 Blatchf. 1, where these facts are stated in the opinion by Choate, J.

A decree of distribution made in case of a fairly presumed death may protect the representative himself. Schaub v. Griffin, 84 Md. 557, 36 Atl. 443.

64. See DEATH, 13 Cyc. 297 note 14.

65. Georgia.— Adams v. Jones, 39 Ga. 479.
Indiana.— Baugh v. Boles, 66 Ind. 376.
New York.—In re Nolting, 43 Hun 456.

tion of the general rule on the subject, and if it be made to appear that the person was in fact alive at the time such administration was granted, the administration is absolutely void.[66]

b. Assets. It has been broadly asserted that in order to render administration upon the estate of a decedent proper, the decedent must have died possessed of some assets or property.[67] This cannot be held to be established beyond dispute where administration is sought in the domicile of the decedent,[68] but there is no doubt that assets within the jurisdiction are necessary when administration is sought elsewhere than in the domicile.[69]

c. Determination of Fundamental Facts. The probate court has a sound discretion to investigate and determine on due proof as to fundamental facts.[70]

4. Where Administration May Be Granted — a. Domicile. The general rule is that the place of a decedent's last domicile shall determine the probate jurisdiction to grant letters and supervise the settlement of his estate, and the sole, or at least the principal, grant of letters ought to be taken out and the will proved in the country, the state, and indeed the very county where decedent was domiciled at the time of his death.[71] In case one dies while traveling, outside the state or Pennsylvania.— Renner's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 84 [disapproving Beck's Estate, 4 Pa. Dist. 222].

Wisconsin.— Wisconsin Trust Co. v. Wisconsin M. & F. Ins. Co.'s Bank, 105 Wis. 464, 81 N. W. 642.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 15.

66. California.— Stevenson v. San Francisco Super. Ct., 62 Cal. 60.

North Dakota.— Clapp v. Houg, 12 N. D. 600, 98 N. W. 710, 65 L. R. A. 757.

Pennsylvania.— Devlin v. Com., 101 Pa. St. 273, 47 Am. Rep. 710.

South Carolina.— Moore v. Smith, 11 Rich. 569, 73 Am. Dec. 122.

United States.— Scott v. McNeal, 154 U. S. 34, 14 S. Ct. 1108, 38 L. ed. 896 [reversing 5 Wash. 309, 31 Pac. 873, 34 Am. St. Rep. 863].

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 15.

Proof of identity.— Where a person is supposed to be dead, and his estate is settled upon that supposition, but afterward someone turns up claiming to be that person, and seeks to have the settlement set aside, the burden of proof is on him to establish his identity. Rachel v. Jones, 34 La. Ann. 108.

Estoppel of supposed decedent.— Where a husband deserted his family for fifteen years, and an administrator appointed on the supposition of his death collected one hundred and seventy-four dollars from the sale of the husband's property, it was held in an action by the husband against such administrator, that, in the absence of a showing to the contrary, the presumption was that the money was paid to the wife, who was entitled to a year's support, on the supposition that her husband was dead, and that, as she was entitled to support out of the husband's property if he was alive, his conduct estopped him from claiming that the payment to her was unauthorized. Brent v. First, 41 Ohio St. 436.

67. In re Murray, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 208; Merriweather v. Kennard, 41 Tex. 273.

A mere contingency on the happening of which a certain amount would be payable to a decedent or his estate does not constitute such an estate as will authorize the appointment of an administrator. Guerry v. Pullen, 112 Ga. 314, 37 S. E. 391.

The interest of the wife in the common property while the community exists is a mere expectancy and after death constitutes neither a legal nor an equitable estate which the probate court can act on in granting administration. Packard v. Arellanes, 17 Cal. 525.

68. See infra, I, J, 4, a.

69. See Watson v. Collins, 37 Ala. 587; Williams v. Ripley, 25 R. I. 510, 56 Atl. 777; and infra, I, J, 4, d.

70. Illinois.— Hobson v. Ewan, 62 Ill. 146.

Louisiana.— Burns v. Van Loan, 29 La. Ann. 560; Vogel's Succession, 16 La. Ann. 139, 79 Am. Dec. 571.

Massachusetts.— McFeely v. Scott, 128 Mass. 16.

New Jersey.— Plume v. Howard Sav. Inst., 46 N. J. L. 211.

New York.— Roderigas v. East River Sav. Inst., 76 N. Y. 316, 32 Am. Rep. 309.

71. California.— In re Harlan, 24 Cal. 182, 85 Am. Dec. 58; In re Milliken, Myr. Prob. 88.

Colorado.— Liddicoat v. Treglown, 6 Colo. 47.

Georgia.— McBain v. Wimbish, 27 Ga. 259; Royston v. Royston, 21 Ga. 161.

Indiana.— Jeffersonville R. Co. v. Swayne, 26 Ind. 477.

Iowa.— In re King, 105 Iowa 320, 75 N. W. 187. See also McFarland v. Stewart, 109 Iowa 561, 80 N. W. 657, holding that want of jurisdiction in a district court over the administration of an estate of a deceased person is not shown from the fact that deceased died in another county, leaving real and personal property therein, in the absence of any evidence that he was a resident of that county.

Kansas.— Ewing v. Mallison, 65 Kan. 484, 70 Pac. 369, 93 Am. St. Rep. 299.

country of his domicile, the foreign court should take no jurisdiction, unless it be

Kentucky.— McChord v. Fisher, 13 B. Mon. 193; Jones v. Lay, 66 S. W. 720, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 2113.

Louisiana.— Carney's Succession, 15 La. Ann. 699; Williamson's Succession, 3 La. Ann. 261. See also Gary v. Sandoz, 16 La. 11.

Maine.— Moore v. Philbrick, 32 Me. 102, 52 Am. Dec. 642.

Massachusetts.— Holyoke v. Haskins, 5 Pick. 20, 16 Am. Dec. 372.

Nebraska.— Atkinson v. Hasty, 21 Nebr. 663, 33 N. W. 206.

New Hampshire.— Tilton v. O'Connor, 68 N. H. 215, 44 Atl. 303.

New York.— Kennedy v. Ryall, 67 N. Y. 379 [affirming 40 N. Y. Super. Ct. 347]; Matter of Hyland, 24 Misc. 357, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 717; James v. Adams, 22 How. Pr. 409.

North Carolina.— Johnson v. Corpenning, 39 N. C. 216, 44 Am. Dec. 106.

Ohio.— Limes v. Irwin, 16 Ohio St. 488.

Oregon.— See Henkle v. Slate, 40 Oreg. 349, 68 Pac. 399.

Pennsylvania.— Lewis' Estate, 10 Pa. Co. Ct. 331; Watts' Appeal, 31 Leg. Int. 182; In re Ash, 29 Pittsb. L. J. N. S. 61.

Tennessee.— Wilson v. Frazier, 2 Humphr. 30; Nelson v. Griffin, 2 Yerg. 624.

Wisconsin.— In re Hess, 97 Wis. 244, 72 N. W. 638.

United States.— Providence Rubber Co. v. Goodyear, 9 Wall. 788, 19 L. ed. 566; Fletcher v. McArthur, 68 Fed. 65, 15 C. C. A. 224.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 22.

Legal residence or inhabitancy is often used as though synonymous with domicile; but these terms are not in strictness convertible. See Krone v. Cooper, 43 Ark. 547; Hallet v. Bassett, 100 Mass. 167; Udny v. Udny, L. R. 1 H. L. Sc. 441; King v. Foxwell, 3 Ch. D. 518, 45 L. J. Ch. 693, 24 Wkly. Rep. 629.

Special administrator.— The same showing as to residence of the deceased is required for the appointment of a special as for the appointment of a general administrator. Nash v. Sawyer, 114 Iowa 742, 87 N. W. 707.

Where the decedent was a minor the court of the county where his guardian resides has jurisdiction to grant administration. Trumbo v. Richardson, 38 S. W. 700, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 878.

Domicile of person non compos mentis.— Where a non compos mentis removed from the county where her guardian resided with his implied consent and lived in another county as a part of her brother's family many years before her death her domicile was in the county to which she removed, and letters of administration granted in the county where the guardian lived were void for want of jurisdiction. Holyoke v. Haskins, 5 Pick. (Mass.) 20, 16 Am. Dec. 372.

The fact that a petition is filed in another county prior to the filing of a petition for administration in the proper county is no objection to the appointment of an administrator under the latter petition. Tilton v. O'Connor, 68 N. H. 215, 44 Atl. 303.

By marriage the wife acquires the domicile of the husband, and the fact that she remains for a while in the state of her former residence for the purpose of winding up her business, and dies while so engaged and before her actual removal to the state where her husband resides, in no way affects the question of her legal domicile in the latter state for the purpose of administration. McPherson v. McPherson, 70 Mo. App. 330.

County where real estate "devised" located. — Hill Annot. Laws Oreg. § 1085, provides that administration of the estate of a decedent may be granted by the county court which would have been empowered to admit his will to probate if he had died testate, and section 1083 provides that the proof of a will may be made before the county court of the county in which the decedent was an inhabitant at his death, or in any county where there was real estate "devised by the testator," if no other court had gained jurisdiction under the preceding portions of the section. Under these statutes, where the owner of land in one county of the state died intestate in another county in which he was a resident, the county court of the county in which the land was situated had not jurisdiction to grant administration of his estate, there being no real estate "devised" in such county. Henkle v. Slate, 40 Oreg. 349, 68 Pac. 399.

If a decedent had no fixed residence in the state his estate should be opened in the parish where he died unless, if he have effects in different parishes, his principal property be in another parish. Gary v. Sandoz, 16 La. 11.

Change of county boundaries.— The probate court of the county where the decedent was domiciled at the time of his death has jurisdiction over the administration of his estate notwithstanding the fact that by reason of the subsequent formation of a new county or a change of county boundaries the place where he actually lived has become a part of another county. Harlan's Estate, 24 Cal. 182, 85 Am. Dec. 58; Clemens v. Comfort, 26 La. Ann. 269; Beale v. Walden, 11 Rob. (La.) 67; Harang v. Harang, 7 Mart. N. S. (La.) 51; Bugbee v. Yates County, 2 Cow. (N. Y.) 471. The provision of N. Y. Code Civ. Proc. § 2479, that where territory is transferred from one county to another the jurisdiction of the surrogate's court of each of the counties affected thereby to take the proof of a will or to grant letters depends on the locality, "when the petition is presented," of the place where the property of the decedent is situated or the event occurred which determines jurisdiction refers to the time when the petition came before the surrogate on the return of the citation, and not to the time when it was filed. Matter of McGinness, 13 Misc. (N. Y.) 714, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 820.

ancillary merely,[72] although one who roams after leaving permanently one domicile is sometimes held to have settled down where he died.[73] It has been held that where jurisdiction is based upon domicile it is not necessary that there should be assets in order for the administration to be properly granted.[74]

b. Place of Death. In some states, where the deceased had no fixed residence within the state, jurisdiction over the administration of his estate is conferred upon the probate court of the county where he died,[75] but such jurisdiction is usually given in the alternative, to such court or to the court of the county wherein the decedent's property or the greater part thereof is situated.[76]

c. Place Where Assets Located — (i) In General. Locality of personal assets belonging to the estate of a decedent confers a local probate jurisdiction, regardless of the consideration of last domicile or residence, although ancillary as matter of comity. Such jurisdiction being founded in universal convenience, the courts of one country or state do not feel compelled to wait until those of another have acted, nor remit their own domestic claimants to foreign jurisdictions.[77]

How jurisdiction contested.— Under Mass. Pub. St. c. 156, § 4, providing that the jurisdiction assumed by the probate court so far as it depends on the residence of a person shall not be contested except by appeal a decree appointing an administrator cannot be declared void on a petition on the ground that the intestate did not reside in the county. Cummings v. Hodgdon, 147 Mass. 21, 16 N. E. 732.

Evidence.— Where an infant about five years old died in New York on the day of his arrival but it was shown that his father lived and for seven months prior thereto had lived in New York and that his wife and child, the decedent, were coming to join and live with him, it was held that the evidence was prima facie sufficient to show that the father was domiciled in New York and so that his child was an inhabitant thereof and letters of administration were properly issued to the father by the surrogate of New York. And it was further held that evidence of the father that he came to New York for the purpose of making a home and living there was proper and material on the question of residence. Kennedy v. Ryall, 67 N. Y. 379 [affirming 40 N. Y. Super. Ct. 347].

Status of administration in county other than that of domicile.— A grant of administration by the probate court of a county other than that in which decedent had his domicile is not void and cannot be disregarded by the probate court of another county in the same state where the decedent was actually domiciled. In re Davidson, 100 Mo. App. 263, 73 S. W. 373. See also McDonnell v. Farrow, 132 Ala. 227, 31 So. 475.

A private act of the legislature removing the administration of a decedent's estate from the county of his residence at the time of his death to another county does not violate any constitutional provision. Wright v. Ware, 50 Ala. 549.

Circumstances not showing residence in county.— See In re Damke, 133 Cal. 433, 65 Pac. 888.

Engaging in business.— Under a statute providing for the appointment of an administrator for a non-resident who had been engaged in the prosecution of business in the state at the time of his decease it is not sufficient to show that at some time the deceased had been so engaged in business, but the fact that he was so engaged at the time of his death must be shown. In re McCreight, 9 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 450, 6 Ohio N. P. 479.

72. Armstrong v. Bakewell, 18 La. Ann. 30; Aspinwall v. Queen's Proctor, 2 Curt. Eccl. 241. See infra, XVI.

73. Olson's Will, 63 Iowa 145, 18 N. W. 854; Leake v. Gilchrist, 13 N. C. 73; Hearn v. Camp, 18 Tex. 545.

74. Watson v. Collins, 37 Ala. 587; Holburn v. Pfanmiller, 114 Ky. 831, 71 S. W. 940, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 1613. See also Taylor v. Public Administrator, 13 N. Y. St. 176, 6 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 158, holding that the provision of the Public Administrator's Act (Laws (1871), c. 335, as amended by Laws (1882), c. 124) that the person dying must leave assets or effects in Kings county in order to confer jurisdiction upon the surrogate to grant letters of administration to the public administrator related exclusively to persons who were not residents of the state. But see supra, I, J, 3, b.

75. Bliler v. Boswell, 9 Wyo. 57, 61 Pac. 867, 59 Pac. 798, holding that where a non-resident dies within the state leaving personal property, the court of the county where the decedent died leaving estate therein has jurisdiction to grant administration.

76. Burnett v. Meadows, 7 B. Mon. (Ky.) 277, 46 Am. Dec. 517; Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Shumaker, 108 Ky. 263, 56 S. W. 155, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 1701, 53 S. W. 12, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 803; Wright v. Beck, 10 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 277; Angier v. Jones, 28 Tex. Civ. App. 402, 67 S. W. 449. See infra, I, J, 4, c, (v).

77. Alabama.— Equitable L. Assur. Soc. v. Vogel, 76 Ala. 441, 52 Am. Rep. 319.

Georgia.— Wright v. Roberts, 116 Ga. 194, 42 S. E. 369; Ott v. Hutchinson, 91 Ga. 31, 16 S. E. 106.

Illinois.— Bowles v. Rouse, 8 Ill. 409.

(II) TANGIBLE ASSETS NOT NECESSARY. It is not necessary for the purpose of conferring local jurisdiction that there should be tangible assets,[78] but administration may be granted where it appears that the estate has a right of action for the death of the decedent,[79] even though strictly speaking such right of action may not be an asset of the estate.[80] But such a claim will not warrant administration in one state where the decedent was a resident of another state in which the death and the negligence causing the same occurred and under the statutes of which the right of action arose.[81]

(III) JURISDICTION BASED ON REAL ESTATE. Administration may be granted

Iowa.— Christy v. Vest, 36 Iowa 285.

Kentucky.— Turner v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 110 Ky. 879, 62 S. W. 1025, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 340; Fletchers v. Sanders, 7 Dana 345, 32 Am. Dec. 96; Morrison v. Hampton, 49 S. W. 781, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 1573.

Louisiana.— Linton's Succession, 27 La. Ann. 351.

Maine.— In re Shaw, 81 Me. 207, 16 Atl. 662.

Massachusetts.— Bowdoin v. Holland, 10 Cush. 17.

Mississippi.— Still v. Woodville, 38 Miss. 646.

Missouri.— Wood v. Matthews, 73 Mo. 477; Bartlett v. Hyde, 3 Mo. 490.

Nebraska.— Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Bradley, 51 Nebr. 596, 71 N. W. 283.

New York.— Lawrence v. Elmendorf, 5 Barb. 73.

North Carolina.— Jones v. Gerock, 59 N. C. 190; Hyman v. Gaskin, 27 N. C. 267.

United States.— Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Thiebaud, 114 Fed. 918, 52 C. C. A. 538.

England.— Ewing v. Ewing, 9 App. Cas. 34.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 24; and infra, XVI.

A bona fide claim of the deceased will sustain the jurisdiction, even though it should prove invalid after letters are actually issued. Sullivan v. Fosdick, 10 Hun (N. Y.) 173.

A right to a distributive share of an intestate's estate constitutes such bona notabilia as will authorize administration on the estate of the distributee in the county where the intestate died and where his administrator resides. Smith v. Munroe, 23 N. C. 345.

A claim against the United States is not a local asset in the District of Columbia. King v. U. S., 27 Ct. Cl. 529. But see Manning v. Leighton, 65 Vt. 84, 26 Atl. 258, 24 L. R. A. 684, holding that a claim enforceable in the District of Columbia and nowhere else, such as an "Alabama" claim, is an asset there upon which administration may be granted, especially where the court having jurisdiction to pass upon such claim refuses to give judgment save in the name of an administrator appointed in that district.

Special deposits.— United States bonds deposited for safe-keeping in one state by a person who at the time of his death is domiciled in another state under a special certificate of deposit are not a part of the decedent's estate in the state where they are deposited. Shakespeare v. Fidelity Ins., etc., Co., 97 Pa. St. 173.

78. Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Reeves, 8 Ind. App. 667, 35 N. E. 199.

79. Alabama.— Griswold v. Griswold, 111 Ala. 572, 20 So. 437.

Connecticut.— Hartford, etc., R. Co. v. Andrews, 36 Conn. 213.

District of Columbia.— Washington Asphalt Block, etc., Co. v. Mackey, 15 App. Cas. 410.

Illinois.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Smith, 77 Ill. App. 492.

Indiana.— Ex p. Jenkins, 25 Ind. App. 532, 58 N. E. 560, 81 Am. St. Rep. 114; Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Reeves, 8 Ind. App. 667, 35 N. E. 199. Contra, Jeffersonville R. Co. v. Swayne, 26 Ind. 477.

Iowa.— Morris v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 65 Iowa 727, 23 N. W. 143, 54 Am. Rep. 39.

Kentucky.— Brown v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 97 Ky. 228, 30 S. W. 639, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 145.

Massachusetts.— Pinney v. McGregory, 102 Mass. 186.

Michigan.— Findley v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 106 Mich. 700, 64 N. W. 732; Merkle v. Bennington, 68 Mich. 133, 35 N. W. 846.

Minnesota.— Hutchins v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 44 Minn. 5, 46 N. W. 79.

Nebraska.— Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Bradley, 51 Nebr. 596, 71 N. W. 283; Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Lewis, 24 Nebr. 848, 40 N. W. 401, 2 L. R. A. 67.

New York.— Lang v. Houston, etc., R. Co., 75 Hun 151, 27 N. Y. Suppl. 90.

South Carolina.— In re Mayo, 60 S. C. 401, 38 S. E. 634, 54 L. R. A. 660.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 25.

Contra.— Perry v. St. Joseph, etc., R. Co., 29 Kan. 420.

Claim that right barred by limitation.— Where an application for letters of administration alleged that the only asset of the estate was a cause of action for the death of decedent it was error to deny the application on the ground that limitations had run against such an action since the applicant was only required to show a prima facie right to letters, and limitations might not prevent the prosecution of the action in that they might have been waived or might not be relied on. Ex p. Jenkins, 25 Ind. App. 532, 58 N. E. 560, 81 Am. St. Rep. 114.

80. Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Reeves, 8 Ind. App. 667, 35 N. E. 199; Brown v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 97 Ky. 228, 30 S. W. 639.

81. Hall v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 102 Ky. 480, 43 S. W. 698, 80 Am. St. Rep. 358 [fol- upon the basis of local real property alone under suitable circumstances conformably to the legislative policy of many American states.[82]

(iv) Value of Assets. In some states the mere existence of local assets irrespective of their value may support a local grant of administration,[83] and even articles or money rights of trifling consequence, if bona fide within the local jurisdiction, will suffice;[84] but in others there must be personal property of a specified value, or debts to a fixed amount and local real estate chargeable therewith.[85]

(v) County Jurisdiction. In a good many states jurisdiction over the administration of the estate of a decedent who had no fixed residence within the state is given to the probate court where his property or the greater part thereof is situated,[86] but even within the same sovereign jurisdiction the locality of personal property may sometimes afford occasion for probate jurisdiction in two or more local courts, as where one domiciled abroad and intestate leaves effects in two different counties, in which case local statute regulates the matter of jurisdiclowed in Turner v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 110 Ky. 879, 62 S. W. 1025, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 340].

82. Alabama.— Beasley v. Howell, 117 Ala. 499, 22 So. 989; Nicrosi v. Giuly, 85 Ala. 365, 5 So. 156; Bishop v. Lalouette, 67 Ala. 197.

Arkansas.— Apperson v. Bolton, 29 Ark. 418.

Georgia.— Sprayberry v. Culberson, 32 Ga. 299.

Illinois.— Rosenthal v. Renick, 44 Ill. 202.

Iowa.— Lees v. Wetmore, 58 Iowa 107, 12 N. W. 238; Little v. Sinnett, 7 Iowa 324.

Massachusetts.— Prescott v. Durfee, 131 Mass. 477.

Michigan.— Sheldon v. Rice, 30 Mich. 296, 18 Am. Rep. 136.

Mississippi.— Temples v. Cain, 60 Miss. 478.

Nebraska.— Moore v. Moore, 33 Nebr. 509, 50 N. W. 443.

New York.— Hart v. Colrain, 19 Wend. 378. But see Hollister v. Hollister, 10 How. Pr. 532.

Texas.— Grande v. Herrera, 15 Tex. 533.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 25.

Real estate fraudulently conveyed.— If a judge of probate is satisfied that a creditor of a deceased non-resident has reasonable grounds for an averment that the debtor has fraudulently conveyed his real estate within the state administration should be granted upon the estate of the debtor. Bowdoin v. Holland, 10 Cush. (Mass.) 17.

83. Horton v. Trompeter, 53 Kan. 150, 35 Pac. 1106; Union Pac. R. Co. v. Dunden, 37 Kan. 1, 14 Pac. 501; Wheeler v. St. Joseph, etc., R. Co., 31 Kan. 640, 3 Pac. 297; Pinney v. McGregory, 102 Mass. 186; Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Bradley, 51 Nebr. 596, 71 N. W. 283; Welch v. New York Cent. R. Co., 53 N. Y. 610.

84. Emery v. Hildreth, 2 Gray (Mass.) 231; White v. Nelson, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 265; Wilkins v. Ellett, 108 U. S. 256, 2 S. Ct. 641, 27 L. ed. 718.

85. Watson v. Collins, 37 Ala. 587; Harlan's Estate, 24 Cal. 182, 85 Am. Dec. 58; Murphy v. Creighton, 45 Iowa 179; Gross v. Howard, 52 Me. 192; Bean v. Bumpus, 22 Me. 549.

The property must be assets of the deceased liable for his individual debts or to be distributed among his widow and heirs; partnership property which is insufficient to pay the debts of the firm or property held in trust will not suffice. Shaw's Appeal, 81 Me. 207, 16 Atl. 662.

A prior appointment of an administrator who never qualified is not conclusive as to the amount and location of the property at the time of a subsequent petition for administration, for there might have been sufficient assets at the time of the first application, and yet not be at the time of the second. Shaw's Appeal, 81 Me. 207, 16 Atl. 662.

86. Harrington v. Brown, 5 Pick. (Mass.) 519; Smith v. Munroe, 23 N. C. 345; In re Mayo, 60 S. C. 401, 38 S. E. 634, 54 L. R. A. 660. See supra, I, J, 4, b.

Residents and non-residents.— Ky. St. §§ 3894, 4849, establishing the rule stated in the text with reference to the estates of persons having "no known place of residence in this commonwealth" has reference to residents of the state (Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Shumaker, 108 Ky. 263, 56 S. W. 155, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 1701, 53 S. W. 12, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 803 [following Thumb v. Gresham, 2 Metc. 306]) but it also applies to non-residents (Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Shumaker, 108 Ky. 263, 56 S. W. 155, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 1701 [following Hyatt v. James, 8 Bush 9, and modifying the former opinion in Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Shumaker, 53 S. W. 12, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 803, so far as apparently in conflict therewith]).

Claim against state as sole asset.— It has been held that where a non-resident intestate left no property within the state except a claim against the state, the court of the county where the seat of government was located had jurisdiction to grant administration on his estate (Com. v. Hudgin, 2 Leigh (Va.) 248), but it has also been asserted that in such case any judge of a court of probate within the state might grant administration, and that the administration which was first granted should hold good (Ex p. Dauthereau, 2 Brev. (S. C.) 459).

Assets in custody of United States court.— Unclaimed assets of a decedent which are in the registry of a United States district court, although sitting customarily or always in a tion, which usually, however, belongs to the court of the county where proceedings are first commenced.[87]

(vi) Property Brought Into Jurisdiction After Decedent's Death. The old rule assumed that the thing was in the jurisdiction at the time of the deceased owner's or creditor's death, but such an interpretation was found too narrow to meet the practical wants of modern administration, and hence for the welfare of creditors or other interested persons local jurisdiction is usually upheld where there are local bona notabilia at the time when letters are applied for, notwithstanding the goods were brought into the county or the debtor removed thither after the death of the owner or creditor.[88]

(vii) Where Particular Assets Deemed Located. The general rule is that simple contract debts are, for the purpose of founding administration, assets where the debtor resides,[89] and as bills of exchange and promissory notes are merely evidence of indebtedness or of title the debts due on these instruments particular county, may be administered on in the absence of special determining circumstances, such as residence, priority of proceedings, etc., in any county in the district, as the fund is ubiquitous in each county, and the fact that a dead body floating on the high seas is brought to shore in a certain county, the assets found thereon being libeled by the salvors in the United States district court usually sitting in another county, does not make the first county the place of administration to the exclusion of the second. U. S. v. Tyndale, 116 Fed. 820, 54 C. C. A. 324.

87. Arnold v. Arnold, 62 Ga. 627; In re Worthington, 4 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 381. See also Rutherford v. Clark, 4 Bush (Ky.) 27; In re Holt, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 13.

Appointment of special administrator. — The court of a particular county, in taking jurisdiction over the administration for the purpose of appointing a special administrator, does not thereby secure jurisdiction over the estate for the purpose of appointing a general administrator, and if subsequently a petition for general administration is first filed in the court of another county the latter court has jurisdiction of the general administration. In re Damke, 133 Cal. 430, 65 Pac. 888, 889.

88. Alabama.— Varner v. Bevil, 17 Ala. 286. Contra, Treadwell v. Rainey, 9 Ala. 590.

Iowa.— Christy v. Vest, 36 Iowa 285.

Massachusetts.— Pinney v. McGregory, 102 Mass. 186.

New Hampshire.— See Ela's Appeal, 68 N. H. 35, 38 Atl. 501, holding that even though the probate court had no power to appoint an administrator for the reason that the deceased left no property in the county the subsequent bringing of property into the county by the administrator would confer jurisdiction of the subject-matter upon the court and authorize it to charge him with the property in the exercise of its common-law jurisdiction over the estates of deceased persons.

New York.— Fox v. Carr, 16 Hun 434; Hollister v. Hollister, 10 How. Pr. 532; Matter of Hopper, 5 Dem. Surr. 242.

Texas.— Green v. Rugely, 23 Tex. 539. See also Minter v. Burnett, 90 Tex. 245, 38 S. W. 350.

England.— Scarth v. London, 1 Hagg. Eccl. 625.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 24.

Contra.— Burnett v. Meadows, 7 B. Mon. (Ky.) 277, 46 Am. Dec. 517; Embry v. Millar, 1 A. K. Marsh. (Ky.) 300, 10 Am. Dec. 732; Wright v. Beck, 10 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 277.

Property brought in temporarily or for a special purpose and removed before an administrator is appointed cannot serve as a basis for a grant of administration. Christy v. Vest, 36 Iowa 285; Kohler v. Knapp, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 241.

89. Georgia.— Arnold v. Arnold, 62 Ga. 627.

Iowa.— Murphy v. Creighton, 45 Iowa 179.

Massachusetts.— Pinney v. McGregory, 102 Mass. 186; Emery v. Hildreth, 2 Gray 228; In re Picquet, 5 Pick. 65.

New York.— Holyoke v. Union Mut. L. Ins. Co., 22 Hun 75; Fox v. Carr, 16 Hun 434; Kohler v. Knapp, 1 Bradf. Surr. 241.

Vermont.— Abbott v. Coburn, 28 Vt. 663, 67 Am. Dec. 735; Vaughan v. Barret, 5 Vt. 333, 26 Am. Dec. 306.

A claim against a corporation arising out of a contract (in the case at bar, an insurance policy not under seal) entered into in one state may serve as assets for the purpose of founding administration in another state in which the corporation does business and, as required by the statute of such latter state, has an agent on whom process against it may be served. New England Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Woodworth, 111 U. S. 138, 4 S. Ct. 364, 28 L. ed. 379.

Debts due from the government of the United States have no locality at the seat of government and are not to be treated like the debts of a private debtor, which constitute local assets at his own domicile, but may be received wherever the government may choose to pay, and therefore a claim against the government does not furnish the foundation for local administration in the District of Columbia. In re Coit, 3 App. Cas. (D. C.) 246.

are assets where the debtor lives and not where the instrument is found.[90] Specialty debts are assets for the purpose of jurisdiction where the instrument happens to be.[91] It has been laid down as the rule that judgment debts are assets for the purpose of jurisdiction where the judgments are recorded,[92] but it has also been held that a judgment, like a simple contract debt, is an asset where the debtor resides, and hence will support a grant of administration in the state and county of the debtor's residence upon the estate of the deceased creditor who lived in another state,[93] and that for the purposes of administration the situs of a judgment follows the owner's residence.[94] Cash, furniture, and other corporeal chattels are bona notabilia where they happen to lie,[95] and this is true, although a bill of sale transferring the chattel to the decedent may be found in another state.[96] For the purpose of determining where administration is proper, shares of corporate stock have been considered personal property in the county where the corporate property is located,[97] but shares in the capital stock of a railroad corporation have been held to be bona notabilia in the county where the stock-books are kept, transfers made, and dividends paid.[98]

d. Where Neither Domicile Nor Assets Within Jurisdiction. A court cannot grant administration upon the estate of a non-resident decedent who left no property within the jurisdiction.[99]

90. Becraft v. Lewis, 41 Mo. App. 546; Owen v. Miller, 10 Ohio St. 136, 75 Am. Dec. 502; Wyman v. Halstead, 109 U. S. 654, 3 S. Ct. 417, 27 L. ed. 1068; Atty.-Gen. v. Bouwens, 1 H. & H. 319, 7 L. J. Exch. 297, 4 M. & W. 171. But see St. John v. Hodges, 9 Baxt. (Tenn.) 334 [followed in Ellis v. Northwestern Mut. L. Ins. Co., 100 Tenn. 177, 43 S. W. 766; Goodlett v. Anderson, 7 Lea (Tenn.) 286], holding that promissory notes are bona notabilia at the domicile of the decedent when left there at the time of his death and that administration taken out in another state does not draw thereto the title or right to the notes unless they actually come to the hands of the administrator.

91. Beers v. Shannon, 73 N. Y. 292; Owen v. Miller, 10 Ohio St. 136, 75 Am. Dec. 502; Vaughan v. Barret, 5 Vt. 333, 26 Am. Dec. 306; Atty.-Gen. v. Bouwens, 1 H. & H. 319, 7 L. J. Exch. 297, 4 M. & W. 171.

A life-insurance policy is not a specialty within the rule stated in the text. Sulz v. Mutual Reserve Fund L. Assoc., 7 Misc. (N. Y.) 593, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 263 [affirmed in 83 Hun 139, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 1133 (reversed on other grounds in 145 N. Y. 563, 40 N. E. 242, 28 L. R. A. 379)]. See also Re Ontario Mut. L. Assur. Co., 30 Ont. 666, holding that the assignees of an insurance policy are entitled to have an administrator for the insured appointed in the country of their residence, although the insured died in a foreign country where he had been domiciled for some time with the policy in his actual possession, especially where the insurance company could not be sued in such foreign country.

92. Owen v. Miller, 10 Ohio St. 136, 75 Am. Dec. 502; Vaughan v. Barrett, 5 Vt. 333, 26 Am. Dec. 306; Atty.-Gen. v. Bouwens, 1 H. & H. 319, 7 L. J. Exch. 297, 4 M. & W. 171.

93. Swancy v. Scott, 9 Humphr. (Tenn.) 327.

94. Angier v. Jones, 28 Tex. Civ. App. 402, 67 S. W. 449, holding that, where a decedent had no fixed domicile and no property save a judgment, administration should be taken in the county where the decedent died and was not authorized in the county where the judgment was rendered.

95. Emery v. Hildreth, 2 Gray (Mass.) 228; White v. Nelson, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 265; Wilkins v. Ellett, 108 U. S. 256, 2 S. Ct. 641, 27 L. ed. 718.

96. Holyoke v. Union Mut. L. Ins. Co., 22 Hun (N. Y.) 75.

97. In re Fitch, 160 N. Y. 87, 54 N. E. 701, 30 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 1 [affirming 39 N. Y. App. Div. 609, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 786].

98. Arnold v. Arnold, 62 Ga. 627.

99. Georgia.—Adams v. Brooks, 35 Ga. 63; Patillo v. Backsdale, 22 Ga. 356.

Illinois.— Illinois, etc., R. Co. v. Cragin, 71 Ill. 177.

Iowa.— Christy v. Vest, 36 Iowa 285.

Kansas.— Mallory v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 53 Kan. 557, 36 Pac. 1059; Perry v. S. Joseph, etc., R. Co., 29 Kan. 420.

Kentucky.— Thumb v. Gresham, 2 Metc. 306. See also Hall v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 102 Ky. 480, 43 S. W. 698, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1529, 80 Am. St. Rep. 358.

Louisiana.— Moise v. Mutual Reserve Fund L. Assoc., 45 La. Ann. 736, 13 So. 170; Miltenberger v. Knox, 21 La. Ann. 399.

New York.—Goodrich v. Pendleton, 4 Johns. Ch. 549.

Pennsylvania.— Van Dyke's Appeal, 31 Leg. Int. 69.

Vermont.— Manning v. Leighton, 65 Vt. 84, 26 Atl. 258, 24 L. R. A. 684.

United States.— Union Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Lewis, 97 U. S. 682, 24 L. ed. 1114; Tryon v. U. S., 32 Ct. Cl. 425.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 22.

Discretion of court.— It has been held that the granting of letters of administration to a creditor of an intestate dying within the state was discretionary with the court when

5. Action Under Confederate Authority. The probate of a will and qualification of executors or the appointment of administrators by a probate court of one of the Confederate states during the Civil war cannot be regarded by the courts of the same state after the close of the war as the acts of a foreign court but such acts are in every respect legal and binding.[1]

K. What Law Governs. With regard to creditors the administration of the assets of a deceased person is governed exclusively by the law of the place where the executor or administrator acts and from which he derives his authority, and the domicile of the decedent or of the creditor cannot authorize the introduction of another law to defeat the law of the situs of the administration.[2] With regard to heirs and distributees the rule is that personal estate is to be administered according to the law of the decedent's last domicile while real estate is administered according to the law of the place where it is situated.[3]

II. Appointment, Qualification, and Tenure.

A. Executors — 1. Appointment — a. Nomination by Will in General. An executor derives his authority primarily from the will.[4] Whenever one commits by will the execution of a trust to the executors named therein no other person can execute the trust while any of the executors is living and has not declined the office nor been shown to be unsuitable.[5] The interest of every executor in his testator's estate is what the testator gives him, and a testator may make the trust absolute or qualified respecting either the subject-matter, the place where the trust shall be discharged, or the time when the executor shall begin, or during which he shall continue to act as such.[6] The executor's appointment also may be made the intestate was not a resident and at the time of the application there was no personalty belonging to him within the state; but as the surrogate was not required to issue letters of administration, when it was made to appear that they must for all purposes prove to be entirely ineffectual, it was a proper exercise of discretion to refuse the application. In re Schoonmaker, 18 N. Y. Wkly. Dig. 410.

1. Nelson v. Boynton, 54 Ala. 368 [overruling Bibb v. Avery, 45 Ala. 691]; Erwin v. Hill, 51 Ala. 580; Berry v. Bellows, 30 Ark. 198. But letters of administration issued by a clerk of probate under the authority of a Confederate state constitution, after it had been superseded by a new and valid one, are null and void. Page v. Cook, 26 Ark. 122.

2. Jones v. Drewry, 72 Ala. 311.

3. Gaines' Succession, 45 La. Ann. 1237, 14 So. 223; De Roffignac's Succession, 21 La. Ann. 364; Fay v. Haven, 3 Metc. (Mass.) 109; Lewis v. Chester County, 60 Pa. St. 325. See also Hamilton v. Dallas, 38 L. T. Rep. N. S. 215, 26 Wkly. Rep. 326. And see Descent and Distribution, 14 Cyc. 1 et seq.

4. Schouler Ex. § 30.

A reference in a marginal note to certain persons as executors, whose express appointment as executors has been canceled, but who are left trustees of the will, may have the effect of appointing them executors. In re Nussey, 78 L. T. Rep. N. S. 169.

Will not showing appointment.— Where a will did not name any executor, but contained the following clause: "I leave the sum of one sovereign each to the executor and witness of my will for their trouble," and opposite the signatures of the witnesses were the words "witnesses and executors" written by one of the witnesses, who it was testified wrote them at the request of the testatrix, it was held that there was no appointment of an executor. In re Woods, L. R. 1 P. 556.

Identifying executor.— There should be some means of identifying the person designated by the will to serve as executor, else the designation cannot operate. But extrinsic evidence may be adduced to identify the person actually intended wherever the description of the executor is imperfect or ambiguous. Matter of Hardy, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 91; Clayton v. Nugent, 13 L. J. Exch. 363, 13 M. & W. 200; In re De Rosaz, 2 P. D. 66, 46 L. J. P. & Adm. 6, 36 L. T. Rep. N. S. 263, 25 Wkly. Rep. 352.

When appointment inoperative.— When the legatees die before the testator and the latter leaves no debts to be paid, the appointment of an executor becomes inoperative. Dupuy's Succession, 4 La. Ann. 570.

5. Hayes v. Pratt, 147 U. S. 557, 13 S. Ct. 503, 37 L. ed. 279.

6. Hill v. Tucker, 15 How. (U. S.) 458, 14 L. ed. 223.

For example a testator may appoint or designate different executors for different jurisdictions in which his effects may lie or different executors as to different parts of his estate in the same jurisdiction (Hunter v. Bryson, 5 Gill & J. (Md.) 483, 25 Am. Dec. 313; Despard v. Churchill, 53 N. Y. 192; Mordecai v. Boylan, 59 N. C. 365. See also In re Green, 79 L. T. Rep. N. S. 738) or one executor for general purposes and another for some limited or special purpose (Velho v. Leite, 33 L. J. P. & M. 107, 3 Swab. & Tr. 456; Lynch v. Bellew, 3 Phillim. 424). So conditional, as upon his giving security for paying the debts and legacies, or possessing certain qualifications at the time of the testator's decease, or provided he prove the will within a specified time after the testator's death, or otherwise, and unless the conditions are fulfilled the nomination goes for naught.[7] Where several executors are named or designated together they are presumably intended to be coexecutors and should be qualified together, all being thus legally regarded as an individual in place of a sole executor, and of various persons named as coexecutors he or they who may be alive and willing and competent to accept the trust on the testator's decease can alone be deemed qualified for the office.[8] The appointment of an executor may be by way of request or suggestion rather than mandate, on the testator's part.[9] The appointment of executors under a will may be revoked by the substitution of others in a codicil[10] or a subsequent will,[11] or a reappointment with others may be made instead.[12]

b. Appointment by the Tenor. It is not necessary to the designation of an executor that the word "executor" should be used, but any words which substantially confer upon a person, whether expressly or by implication, the rights, powers, and duties of an executor, amount to a due appointment under the will; and the person thus clothed with the essential functions of the office is said to be an executor under the will according to the tenor.[13] But executorship according to too one may be appointed for a designated period of time only, as during a son's minority or a wife's widowhood, or for so many years, or while one instituted executor is absent from the country. Carte v. Carte, Ambl. 28, 27 Eng. Reprint 15, 3 Atk. 174, 26 Eng. Reprint 902, Ridg. 210; Pemberton v. Cony, Cro. Eliz. 164.

Extension of power by codicil.— A person expressly appointed executor for limited purposes may by a codicil receive expressly or by implication full general powers. In re Aird, 1 Hagg. Eccl. 336.

Where authority of executor is restricted this should appear in letters testamentary. Gibbons v. Riley, 7 Gill (Md.) 81; In re Barnes, 7 Jur. N. S. 195.

7. Knox v. Newman, 44 N. J. Eq. 309, 15 Atl. 415; In re Wilmot, 1 Curt. Eccl. 1.

Successive nominations.— Instead of appointing coexecutors to serve together a testator may name two or more, substituting one after another in order, so that if the first dies or cannot act, the next may act, and so on. In re Cornell, 17 Misc. (N. Y.) 468, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 255; Edwards' Estate, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 85; In re Langford, L. R. 1 P. 458, 37 L. J. P. & M. 20, 17 L. T. Rep. N. S. 415; In re Wilmot, 2 Rob. Eccl. 579. A direction in a will that if the executor appointed thereby should die a certain other person should be his successor with all the authority and power that he would have had if appointed in the first instance requires the appointment of such person on the death of the executor, although it occurred after testator's death. In re Cornell, 17 Misc. (N. Y.) 468, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 255. A successor thus duly appointed to discharge duties which were left unperformed by the predecessor or to act in case the predecessor cannot is an executor by substitution and not a mere administrator de bonis non. State v. Rogers, 1 Houst. (Del.) 569; Kinney v. Keplinger, 172 Ill. 449, 50 N. E. 131 [reversing 71 Ill. App. 334].

8. Schouler Ex. § 40.

Different nominations in will and codicil.— Joint letters have been granted to two persons of whom one was named as sole executor in the will, and the other as sole executor in a codicil. Geaves v. Price, 32 L. J. P. & M. 113, 8 L. T. Rep. N. S. 610, 3 Swab. & Tr. 71, 11 Wkly. Rep. 809; In re Leese, 31 L. J. P. & M. 169, 5 L. T. Rep. N. S. 848, 2 Swab. & Tr. 442. See also Stolzel v. Cruikshank, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 352, where under such circumstances, but the codicil not having been proved, letters were issued to the person named in the will, the court not deciding, however, whether his functions would cease upon the codicil being proved and letters issued to the person named therein.

9. In re Brown, 2 P. D. 110, 46 L. J. P. & Adm. 31, 36 L. T. Rep. N. S. 519, 25 Wkly. Rep. 431.

Adviser or counsel.— One whom the will authorizes or directs the executor to consult or employ as adviser is not thereby constituted an executor, although he may advise, complaining to the court if his advice is injuriously neglected or if another is employed instead of himself. But a will is not readily construed to require peremptorily the employment of any particular person as legal adviser or absolute guidance by his counsel. In re Ogier, 101 Cal. 381, 35 Pac. 900, 40 Am. St. Rep. 61; Foster v. Elsley, 19 Ch. D. 518, 51 L. J. Ch. 275, 30 Wkly. Rep. 596. See also Young v. Alexander, 16 Lea (Tenn.) 108.

10. In re Ringot, 124 Cal. 45, 56 Pac. 781; Bowles' Succession, 3 Rob. (La.) 31; In re Baily, L. R. 1 P. 628.

11. Nelson's Estate, 147 Pa. St. 160, 23 Atl. 373, even though it reënacts some parts of the former will.

12. In re Leese, 31 L. J. P. & M. 169, 5 L. T. Rep. N. S. 848, 2 Swab. & Tr. 442.

13. California.— In re Ringot, 124 Cal. 45, 56 Pac. 781.

Delaware.— State v. Rogers, 1 Houst. 569.

the tenor will not be granted where the will does not import that the person named shall collect dues, pay debts and legacies, and settle the estate, like an executor, as in the mere designation to perform some trust or to be guardian,[14] or where the will makes the nugatory direction that the testator's property shall go at once to the legatees or to trustees as if to dispense with administration and the payment of debts altogether,[15] or where the will does not sufficiently confer an executor's rights and duties upon any one or upon the person claiming the office;[16] and it may be stated generally that the appointment of executors by construction or implication from the terms of the will should not be favored, but in doubtful cases administration with the will annexed should be resorted to.[17]

c. Delegation of Power to Nominate. In England and in some of the United States the testator may delegate to some person or persons named in the will or to the probate court the power to name an executor, and letters testamentary may be issued by a person nominated pursuant to such power.[18]

Kentucky.— Myers v. Daviess, 10 B. Mon. 394.

Mississippi.— Grant v. Spann, 34 Miss. 294.

Missouri.— In re Hill, 102 Mo. App. 617, 77 S. W. 110.

New York.— Hartnett v. Wandell, 60 N. Y. 346, 19 Am. Rep. 194; Baker v. Baker, 18 N. Y. App. Div. 189, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 870 (holding that a direction in a will that the public administrator shall "sell out all real and personal estate" is an appointment of the public administrator as executor of the will); Ex p. McDonnell, 2 Bradf. Surr. 32. And see Matter of Blancan, 4 Redf. Surr. 151; Ex p. McCormick, 2 Bradf. Surr. 169. But compare Conklin v. Egerton, 21 Wend. 430.

Pennsylvania.— Carpenter v. Cameron, 7 Watts 51; In re Hayes, 7 Pa. Super. Ct. 160.

South Carolina.—Nunn v. Owens, 2 Strobh. 101.

Texas.— Stone v. Brown, 16 Tex. 425.

Virginia.— Fleming v. Bolling, 3 Call 75.

England.— In re Kirby, [1902] P. 188, 71 L. J. P. & Adm. 116, 87 L. T. Rep. N. S. 141; In re Cook, [1902] P. 114, 71 L. J. P. & Adm. 49, 86 L. T. Rep. N. S. 537; In re Way, [1901] P. 345, 71 L. J. P. & Adm. 13, 85 L. T. Rep. N. S. 643; In re Bell, 4 P. D. 85.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 29.

One named "trustee" may be thus substantially invested with powers as executor by the tenor; or even be executor, trustee, and testamentary guardian, although such offices should be kept distinct and letters issued accordingly.

Kentucky.— Myers v. Daviess, 10 B. Mon. 394.

Maine.— Knight v. Loomis, 30 Me. 204.

Minnesota.— Simpson v. Cook, 24 Minn. 180.

New Jersey.— Mulford v. Mulford, 42 N. J. Eq. 68, 6 Atl. 609.

New York.— Bayeaux v. Bayeaux, 8 Paige 333; Richards v. Moore, 5 Redf. Surr. 278.

Pennsylvania.— Wheatly v. Badger, 7 Pa. St. 459.

Joint letters with an executor expressly named may be issued to an executor by the tenor. Grant v. Leslie, 3 Phillim. 116.

14. In re Hill, 102 Mo. App. 617, 77 S. W. 110; State v. Watson, 2 Speers (S. C.) 97. But compare Wheatly v. Badger, 7 Pa. St. 459; Watson v. Mayrant, 1 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 449; In re Punchard, L. R. 2 P. 369, 41 L. J. P. & M. 25, 26 L. T. Rep. N. S. 526, 20 Wkly. Rep. 446.

15. Hunter v. Bryson, 5 Gill & J. (Md.) 483, 25 Am. Dec. 313; Drury v. Natick, 10 Allen (Mass.) 169; Newcomb v. Williams, 9 Metc. (Mass.) 525; In re Toomy, 34 L. J. P. & M. 3, 3 Swab. & Tr. 562, 13 Wkly. Rep. 106.

16. Frisby v. Withers, 61 Tex. 134 (holding that a request in a will that certain executors shall serve until the testator's son is twenty-one is not an appointment of the son at majority); In re Adamson, L. R. 3 P. & D. 253; In re Oliphant, 6 Jur. N. S. 256, 30 L. J. P. & M. 82, 1 L. T. Rep. N. S. 446, 1 Swab. & Tr. 525.

17. In re Hill, 102 Mo. App. 617, 77 S. W. 110; Hartnett v. Wandell, 2 Hun (N. Y.) 552. See infra, II, C.

18. Connecticut.— Bishop v. Bishop, 56 Conn. 208, 14 Atl. 808.

Delaware.— State v. Rogers, 1 Houst. 569.

Indiana.— Wilson v. Curtis, 151 Ind. 471, 51 N. E. 913, 68 Am. St. Rep. 236.

Michigan.— Brown v. Just, 118 Mich. 678, 77 N. W. 263.

New Jersey.— Mulford v. Mulford, 42 N. J. Eq. 68, 6 Atl. 609.

New York.— Hartnett v. Wandell, 60 N. Y. 346, 19 Am. Rep. 194; Matter of Alexander, 16 Abb. Pr. N. S. 9. Contra, Hartnett v. Wandell, 5 Thomps. & C. 98; Matter of Bronson, Tuck. Surr. 464.

England.— In re Cringan, 1 Hagg. Eccl. 548. See also Jackson v. Paulet, 2 Rob. Eccl. 344.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 30.

Person authorized to nominate executor may nominate himself. In re Ryder, 7 Jur. N. S. 196, 31 L. J. P. & M. 215, 3 L. T. Rep. N. S. 756, 2 Swab. & Tr. 127.

Approval by court.— Where a will directs that, whenever the number of the executors and trustees shall from any cause be reduced to two, they shall petition the orphans' court to appoint another and nominate to the court "such person as shall be a satisfactory colleague and be approved by the court for

2. Qualification. Although executors are designated by the testator's will [19] and a court of probate has no power to appoint as executor a person not so nominated,[20] the full powers of an executor according to modern English and American practice come from the court of probate jurisdiction, which recognizing and confirming the testator's selection clothes the executor therein named with plenary authority by issuing to him letters testamentary, which are usually granted in connection with the probate of the will.[21] Where a will is proved it is the duty of the court to issue letters testamentary to the person named as executor upon his application, unless he is for some reason incompetent.[22] Where a testator nominates two or more persons as executors but only one qualifies, that one has all the authority which all would have had if all had qualified.[23]

3. Competency.[24] All persons, generally speaking, who are capable of making wills are capable of becoming executors,[25] and indeed the favor of the law extends even further in this respect.[26] Thus for example under the common law a mar-capability and good character," the court should not approve the nomination unless it clearly appears to be to the interest and advantage of the estate and the beneficiaries under the trusts created. Lafferty's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 385.

Where the power is delegated to several persons, each is entitled to notice of the time and place when and where the appointment is to be made and if some of them refuse to join in making an appointment the court may direct them to do so upon the application of the others. Hutton v. Hutton, 41 N. J. Eq. 267, 3 Atl. 882.

When the king is appointed executor letters testamentary are issued to a person appointed by him for that purpose. In re Kirkpatrick, 22 N. J. Eq. 463, 466 [citing 4 Inst. 335; Toller 30; Went. 29 note a].

19. See supra, II, A, 1, a.

20. Blakely v. Frazier, 20 S. C. 144.

21. Stagg v. Green, 47 Mo. 500; Tappan v. Tappan, 30 N. H. 50; Sabine v. Rounds, 50 Vt. 74. See also Hunter v. Bryson, 5 Gill & J. (Md.) 483, 25 Am. Dec. 313; Matter of Richardson, 8 Misc. (N. Y.) 140, 29 N. Y. Suppl. 1079.

Powers before qualification see infra, V, L.

Powers pending appeal from appointment or probate see infra, V, M.

A person claiming under a will proved in one state cannot intermeddle with or sue for the effects of the testator in another state unless the will be proved in such other state or unless he is permitted to do so by some law of that state. Kerr v. Moon, 9 Wheat. (U. S.) 565, 6 L. ed. 161.

When qualification unnecessary. — Executors in whom a legal estate is vested merely for the purpose of sale and conveyance need not qualify fully nor report their proceedings to the probate court. Hogan v. Wyman, 2 Oreg. 302.

22. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Smith, 74 Conn. 625, 51 Atl. 609; Bowman's Succession, 28 La. Ann. 611 (holding that the person named as executor in the will of the testator is entitled to the office in preference to the public administrator, and the fact that the executor has by mistake qualified in a court which had no jurisdiction does not deprive him of the right to the office); In re Sultzbach, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 516, 5 Ohio N. P. 218; Holladay v. Holladay, 16 Oreg. 147, 19 Pac. 81.

Letters must necessarily issue to the executor named if the will has been admitted to probate; the remedy in case of his unfitness is by motion to remove. In re Oskamp, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 584, 7 Ohio N. P. 665.

Misdescription of executor.— Where a testator has misdescribed the name and residence of an executor probate may be granted to the executor in his real name and as of his real residence. In re Baskett, 78 L. T. Rep. N. S. 843.

Time for application.— Under Ala. Code, § 52, which provides that if any person named in a will as executor fails to apply for letters testamentary within thirty days after probate of the will, and any others named therein as executors apply for such letters, they must issue to such persons, where one of several executors failed to apply for letters within thirty days after probate the exclusive right to administration was vested in the executors who applied within such period and the court had no jurisdiction to grant letters to the executor who failed to apply within the thirty days. Pruett v. Pruett, 131 Ala. 578, 32 So. 638.

The fact that a contest is pending to set aside a will or that the person named in the will as executor is opposed by a large number of the devisees and his interests are hostile to theirs will not prevent his appointment. In re Sultzbach, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 516, 5 Ohio N. P. 218.

Appointment by court of one of two executors named.— Where a probate court has made a decree appointing one of two executors named in a will as sole executor its power in the premises is exhausted and while such decree stands it cannot appoint the other person named as coexecutor. Cogswell v. Hall, 183 Mass. 575, 67 N. E. 638 [following Jewett v. Turner, 172 Mass. 496, 52 N. E. 1082].

23. Bodley v. McKinney, 9 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 339; Phillips v. Stewart, 59 Mo. 491.

24. Of administrators see infra, II, B, 3.

25. Smith's Appeal, 61 Conn. 420, 24 Atl. 273, 16 L. R. A. 538; Stewart's Appeal, 56 Me. 300. See also Holbrook v. Head, 6 S. W. 592, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 755.

26. 2 Blackstone Comm. 503.

ried woman, although incapable of making a valid will or contract, might become an executrix provided her husband concurred in her appointment.[27] An infant too, although not of full testamentary capacity, might, however young, and even while en ventre sa mere, be appointed executor,[28] but statutes often disqualify an infant from performing the functions of sole executor so that some other person must be appointed administrator until the executor reaches his majority.[29] The fact that a person named as executor is an alien or a non-resident does not disqualify him or the office either at common law or, as a general rule, under the various statutes.[30] By both the common and civil law, and under the statutes, idiots and lunatics are incapable of becoming executors, and if one who has been appointed becomes insane the court may commit administration to another.[31] It has been held that a partnership firm may be nominated as executors and that letters testamentary will be granted to the individual members of the firm.[32] Mere poverty or even insolvency constitutes no legal cause for refusing the executorship to the testator's chosen appointee and courts have thus respected the testator's choice even where the insolvency occurred after the testator's death.[33] But courts of equity have intervened in consequence of the hardships thus inflicted upon creditors and legatees, and appointed receivers under strict judicial direction, restraining the bankrupt or insolvent from committing acts injurious to the estate,[34] or they have required the insolvent executor to furnish secu-

Power or right of corporation to act as executor or administrator see CORPORATIONS, 10 Cyc. 1141, 1142.

27. Louisiana.— Dussumier v. Coiron, 2 Rob. 368.

Maine.— Stewart's Appeal, 56 Me. 300.

Massachusetts.— Barber v. Bush, 7 Mass. 510.

Michigan.— Palmer v. Oakley, 2 Dougl. 433, 47 Am. Dec. 41.

Mississippi.— Edmundson v. Roberts, 1 How. 322.

South Carolina.— See Lindsay v. Lindsay, 1 Desauss. 150.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 34.

Joinder of husband in bond.— Statutes sometimes require the husband to join in his wife's bond as executrix. Cassedy v. Jackson, 45 Miss. 397; Airhart v. Murphy, 32 Tex. 131.

If a married woman may not become legally bound on her bond as executrix this constitutes still a practical objection to her appointment, especially if the bond taken is without sureties. Hammond v. Wood, 15 R. I. 566, 10 Atl. 623.

A man marrying an executrix becomes executor in her right and as such accountable. Wood v. Chetwood, 27 N. J. Eq. 311. See infra, II, N, 6.

Letters may be granted to the wife's attorney where she was named as sole executrix and the husband objects to her serving in that capacity. Clerke v. Clerke, 6 P. D. 103, 45 J. P. 588, 50 L. J. P. & Adm. 78, 29 Wkly. Rep. 823.

Disqualification of husband.— The appointment of a wife as executrix does not ipso facto make her husband a coexecutor, so that his disqualification to act as such will disqualify her to act alone. Lippincott v. Wikoff, 54 N. J. Eq. 107, 33 Atl. 305.

28. Piggot's Case, 5 Coke 29*a*.

29. See infra, I, E, 2, a.

The policy of modern legislation in this respect is to curb the former rights of an infant. See Christopher v. Cox, 25 Miss. 162.

Grant of probate to infant executor along with adult not a nullity.—Cumming v. Landed Banking, etc., Co., 20 Ont. 382.

30. California.— Brown's Estate, 80 Cal. 381, 22 Pac. 233.

Montana.— In re Connor, 16 Mont. 465, 41 Pac. 271.

Pennsylvania.— Sarkie's Appeal, 2 Pa. St. 157.

Rhode Island.— Hammond v. Wood, 15 R. I. 566, 10 Atl. 623.

Wisconsin.— Cutler v. Howard, 9 Wis. 309.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 33.

Contra.— Matter of Taylor, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 259.

Even an alien enemy is not disqualified at common law. Cutler v. Howard, 9 Wis. 309. But see Smith's Appeal, 61 Conn. 420, 24 Atl. 273, 16 L. R. A. 538.

Citizens of United States.— A statute making "an alien, not being an inhabitant of this state," incompetent to serve as an executor, has been held to apply only to persons not citizens of the United States and not to disqualify a citizen of the United States who resided out of the state. McGregor v. McGregor, 3 Abb. Dec. (N. Y.) 92, 1 Keyes (N. Y.) 133, 33 How Pr. (N. Y.) 456; Demarest's Estate, 1 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 302.

31. Evans v. Tyler, 2 Rob. Eccl. 128. See also McGregor v. McGregor, 3 Abb. Dec. (N. Y.) 92, 1 Keyes (N. Y.) 133, 33 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 456. See infra, II, N, 12, b.

32. In re Fernie, 6 Notes of Cas. 657.

33. Hovey v. McLean, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 396; Hathornthwaite v. Russel, 2 Atk. 126, 26 Eng. Reprint 480.

34. Elmendorf v. Lansing, 4 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 562; Stairley v. Rabe, McMull. Eq. (S. C.) 22; Ex p. Ellis, 1 Atk. 101, 26 Eng.

rity,[35] although aside from statute they have hesitated to control the executor thus, where it was shown that the testator made his choice while fully aware of his appointee's insolvency.[36] Certainly the mere fact that the executor named is worth less than the testator affords no ground for withholding letters.[37] The common law paid so great regard to a testator's wishes, that crime, drunkenness, or dissolute habits seldom disqualified one from serving as executor.[38] Modern statutes, however, consider detriment to the estate more carefully and have enlarged the discretionary powers of the probate tribunal so that it may refuse to qualify persons who are dissolute, lacking in integrity, or otherwise evidently unsuitable.[39] But although the courts are invested with considerable discretion as to refusing to qualify persons named as executors for the reasons set forth in the various statutes they are not at liberty to invent new causes of disqualification, or to add to those prescribed by statute, or to refuse to qualify an executor who is not within any of the classes declared incompetent by statute.[40]

Reprint 66; Utterson v. Mair, 4 Bro. Ch. 270, 29 Eng. Reprint 887, 2 Ves. Jr. 95, 30 Eng. Reprint 540; Rex v. Simpson, 1 W. Bl. 456.

35. Mandeville v. Mandeville, 8 Paige (N. Y.) 475; Slanning v. Style, 3 P. Wms. 334, 24 Eng. Reprint 1089.

36. Bowman v. Wootton, 8 B. Mon. (Ky.) 67; Mandeville v. Mandeville, 8 Paige (N. Y.) 475; Wilkins v. Harris, 60 N. C. 592; Fairbairn v. Fisher, 57 N. C. 390; Hathornthwaite v. Russel, 2 Atk. 126, 26 Eng. Reprint 480.

37. Grubb v. Hamilton, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 414; Ballard v. Charlesworth, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 501.

38. Berry v. Hamilton, 12 B. Mon. (Ky.) 191, 54 Am. Dec. 515; Sill v. McKnight, 7 Watts & S. (Pa.) 244.

39. Bauquier's Estate, 88 Cal. 302, 26 Pac. 178, 532; In re Cady, 103 N. Y. 678, 9 N. E. 442; Matter of Cady, 36 Hun (N. Y.) 122; Webb v. Dietrich, 7 Watts & S. (Pa.) 401.

Gross immorality as shown by the mode of life of the person named as executor is evidence of such "lack of integrity" as will authorize the court to refuse to qualify him under the California statute. In re Plaisance, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 117.

Person charged with murder.— An applicant for confirmation as a testamentary executor who is in duress under a prosecution for the murder of the testatrix is not in a condition of body and mind to discharge the functions of the office in the manner in which the law expects an executor to do so, and letters will not be issued to him. Townsend's Succession, 36 La. Ann. 535.

Person maintaining suit against estate.— A person named in a will as a coexecutor should not be appointed as such by the court pending a suit by him on a claim against the estate. Cogswell v. Hall, 183 Mass. 575, 67 N. E. 638, 97 Am. St. Rep. 450, where it was further held, however, that the court having already appointed the other executor named in the will as sole executor had exhausted its powers in the premises and could not while such decree remained in force appoint a coexecutor. But see Perry v. De Wolf, 2 R. I. 103, holding that it is no disqualification of an executor that he is the executor of a prior executor between whom and the estate of the testator there are unsettled accounts, or that he is a trustee under the will of a large amount of real and personal estate respecting which there are unsettled accounts, or that a lawsuit is pending between him and the estate of the testator, respecting the title of certain real estate which he holds adversely to the claimants under the will of said testator.

A mere inability to speak English and lack of instruction as to the constitution of the state does not constitute such a want of understanding as will disqualify under the California statute. Li Po Tai's Estate, 108 Cal. 484, 41 Pac. 486.

Clear and convincing evidence is necessary to establish the want of integrity which will under the California statute authorize the court to refuse to appoint an executor named in the will. Bauquier's Estate, 88 Cal. 302, 26 Pac. 178, 532.

Proof of disqualification should be brought down to date. Drake v. Green, 10 Allen (Mass.) 124. And see Lynch v. Lively, 32 Ga. 575; Levan's Appeal, 112 Pa. St. 294, 3 Atl. 804; Cornpropst's Appeal, 33 Pa. St. 537.

40. Alabama.— Kidd v. Bates, 120 Ala. 79, 23 So. 735, 74 Am. St. Rep. 17, 41 L. R. A. 154.

California.— Bauquier's Estate, 88 Cal. 302, 26 Pac. 178, 532, holding that a simple conflict of interest in regard to the estate between the legatees and the executor does not show a "want of integrity" on the part of the latter so as to authorize the court under the California statute in refusing to qualify him.

Connecticut.— Smith's Appeal, 61 Conn. 420, 24 Atl. 273, 16 L. R. A. 538, holding that a lack of honesty, integrity, or business experience did not render a person "incapable to accept the trust" within the meaning of the Connecticut statute.

New York.— McGregor v. McGregor, 3 Abb. Dec. 92, 1 Keyes 133, 33 How. Pr. 456.

Wisconsin.— Saxe v. Saxe, 119 Wis. 557, 97 N. W. 187, holding that under the Wisconsin statute an executor named in a will who is capable of performing his duties, on accepting the trust and presenting the requisite bond, cannot be denied appointment because

4. Acceptance or Renunciation[41] — a. In General. A person nominated as an executor cannot be compelled to act as such,[42] but the office may be accepted or refused at discretion, although one should refuse entirely or not at all.[43] An executor has, however, no right to the property of the testator unless he accepts the executorship.[44]

b. What Constitutes. Although there may be a formal acceptance or renunciation in writing of the office of executor[45] and in some jurisdictions it has been required that the renunciation must appear of record,[46] the general rule is that no formal or particular act of the person named as executor is necessary.[47] Any acts of the executor with relation to his decedent's estate showing his intention to assume the trust confided to him may be alleged as evidence that he of objections to his disposition and moral character by heirs to whom he is obnoxious.

Illiteracy does not render one incompetent. Li Po Tai's Estate, 108 Cal. 484, 41 Pac. 486.

41. Renunciation by persons entitled to administer see infra, II, B, 4, a.

42. Steel v. Steel, 4 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 231.

43. Kentucky. — Steel v. Steel, 4 J. J. Marsh. 231.

New York. — Matter of Baldwin, 27 N. Y. App. Div. 506, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 872 [appeal dismissed in 158 N. Y. 713, 53 N. E. 218].

North Carolina. — Mitchell v. Adams, 23 N. C. 298.

Pennsylvania. — Ross v. Barclay, 18 Pa. St. 179, 55 Am. Dec. 616; Miller v. Meetch, 8 Pa. St. 417.

South Carolina. — Ashe v. Ashe, Rich. Eq. Cas. 380.

Virginia. — Thornton v. Winston, 4 Leigh 152.

Wisconsin. — Finch v. Houghton, 19 Wis. 149.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 37.

Where two or more are designated under a will simply as coexecutors, each has equally the right to serve or refuse the office. The refusal of one coexecutor does not exclude the others, nor prevent succession, substitution, or a sole execution of the trust, as the testator's wishes or the interests of the estate may require. But one coexecutor having renounced and refused the joint trust, letters will be granted to the others named in the will who consent to serve, and unless it appears imprudent to the court a sole executor may thus receive the office. Matter of Stevenson, 3 Paige (N. Y.) 420; Miller v. Meetch, 8 Pa. St. 417; Briggs v. Westerly Probate Ct., 23 R. I. 125, 50 Atl. 335.

The time of exercising such discretion is postponed to the testator's death, whatever might have been promised to him during his lifetime. Doyle v. Blake, 2 Sch. & Lef. 392.

Renunciation after probate. — Renunciation has been accepted in suitable instances after the probate of the will and before qualification, and if a bond with sureties must be furnished under the local code, the inconvenience of giving such a bond may induce one's renunciation at the last moment. Davis v. Inscoe, 84 N. C. 396; Miller v. Meetch, 8 Pa. St. 417.

Renouncing after qualification. — While an executor may resign or be removed (Thayer v. Homer, 11 Metc. (Mass.) 104; Morgan v. Dodge, 44 N. H. 255, 82 Am. Dec. 213; Harrison v. Henderson, 7 Heisk. (Tenn.) 315. See infra, II, N, 9, 11, 12) one who qualifies as executor and receives letters testamentary cannot afterward renounce (Sears v. Dillingham, 12 Mass. 358; Matter of Suarez, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 164; Washington v. Blunt, 43 N. C. 253. But compare Miller v. Meetch, 8 Pa. St. 417; Finch v. Houghton, 19 Wis. 149; Easby v. Easby, 30 Fed. Cas. No. 18,293, 2 Hayw. & H. 207).

Although the effect of renunciation be to deprive others of certain benefits intended under the will, the executor is left free to accept or refuse. Beekman v. Bonsor, 23 N. Y. 298, 80 Am. Dec. 269.

Agreements to renounce. — An agreement to renounce an executorship for a consideration is generally regarded in courts of equity as illegal and unenforceable (Nelson v. Boynton, 54 Ala. 368; Ellicott v. Chamberlin, 38 N. J. Eq. 604, 48 Am. Rep. 327; Staunton v. Parker, 19 Hun (N. Y.) 55. See infra, II, B, 4, a), but a renunciation in consideration of a share of the commissions from a coexecutor has been upheld as legal (Ohlendorf v. Kanne, 66 Md. 495, 8 Atl. 351).

44. Calloway v. Doe, 1 Blackf. (Ind.) 372.

45. See In re Cornell, 17 Misc. (N. Y.) 468, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 255, as to the requirements under the New York code.

A renunciation in writing, although not sealed, made before the surrogate and produced from his office is sufficient to entitle the remaining executors to act under 21 Hen. VIII, c. 4. Doe v. McGill, 8 U. C. Q. B. 224.

46. Newton v. Cocke, 10 Ark. 169.

Any wrting which shows the intention of the executor to renounce is sufficient for that purpose provided it be filed in the proper office. Com. v. Mateer, 16 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 416.

47. Herme's Estate, 32 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 474, holding that it is not necessary to the acceptance of office by the executor that he should be formally sworn and recognized by the register but it may be made by any act of administration. See also Thornton v. Winston, 4 Leigh (Va.) 152.

Executor may renounce by oral statement in open court. Matter of Baldwin, 27 N. Y. App. Div. 506, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 872.

elected to take the office,[48] and where the executor intermeddles with the estate, he loses his right to renounce, and may be compelled to take up probate.[49] In general the probate of a will by the executor therein named and his taking out letters testamentary are sufficient evidence of his acceptance of the trust, and the proof becomes the stronger if he has duly qualified by giving bond under the local statute.[50] So also to constitute a renunciation of the executorship an express declaration to that effect is not requisite, but one's refusal to act may be implied from circumstances, such as lapse of time and neglect to qualify in connection with his conduct after becoming aware of the testator's death and his own appointment under the will, and upon such a showing the court may accordingly commit the trust to others.[51]

c. Retraction of Renunciation.[52] An executor's retraction of his refusal is indulged, so long as no grant of letters has issued to another, or if such other grant was founded upon some error or misapprehension deserving correction, or was allowed for some temporary purpose not inconsistent with an appointment under letters testamentary;[53] but where upon his own request and due renuncia-

48. Van Horne v. Fonda, 5 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 388; Vickes v. Bell, 4 De G. J. & S. 274, 69 Eng. Ch. 213, 46 Eng. Reprint 924.

Representing himself as prepared to act on behalf of the estate has been held sufficient. Vickers v. Bell, 4 De G. J. & S. 274, 69 Eng. Ch. 213, 46 Eng. Reprint 924; Long v. Symes, 3 Hagg. Eccl. 771.

Merely assisting as agent or attorney one who is regularly appointed is not sufficient. Orr v. Newton, 2 Cox Ch. 274, 2 Rev. Rep. 44, 30 Eng. Reprint 127.

49. In re Coates, 78 L. T. Rep. N. S. 820 (so holding, although from his conduct the person named appeared to be an undesirable person to fill the office of executor); In re Badenach, 10 Jur. N. S. 521, 33 L. J. P. & M. 179, 11 L. T. Rep. N. S. 275, 3 Swab. & Tr. 465.

An application by the executor for the payment of a debt due the estate before probate, although unsuccessful, constitutes a sufficient act of intermeddling to preclude a subsequent renunciation. In re Stevens, [1897] 1 Ch. 422, 66 L. J. Ch. 155, 76 L. T. Rep. N. S. 18, 45 Wkly. Rep. 284.

50. Hanson v. Worthington, 12 Md. 418; Worth v. McAden, 21 N. C. 199.

51. Connecticut.— Solomon v. Wixon, 27 Conn. 520; Ayres v. Weed, 16 Conn. 291.

Illinois.— Ayres v. Clinefelter, 20 Ill. 465.

Iowa.— In re Van Vleck, 123 Iowa 89, 98 N. W. 557.

Kentucky.— Muldrow v. Fox, 2 Dana 74.

New York.— Beekman v. Bonsor, 23 N. Y. 298, 80 Am. Dec. 269.

North Carolina.— Wood v. Sparks, 18 N. C. 389; Marr v. Peay, 6 N. C. 84, 5 Am. Dec. 521.

South Carolina.— Uldrick v. Simpson, 1 S. C. 283.

Tennessee.— See also Drane v. Bayliss, 1 Humphr. 174, holding that under the Tennessee statute the failure of the executor of an executor to give bond for the administration of the first testator's estate was a renunciation of his executorship of that estate, although he gave bond for the administration of the estate of his own testator.

Virginia.— Thornton v. Winston, 4 Leigh 152.

Wisconsin.— Finch v. Houghton, 19 Wis. 149.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 37.

Where a person named executor and trustee qualifies in one capacity only it is presumed that he declines in the other. Deering v. Adams, 37 Me. 264; Williams v. Cushing, 34 Me. 370.

The Iowa statute providing that if a person nominated as executor refuses to accept or neglects to appear within ten days after his appointment the office shall be vacant has no application to the right to appointment of one who was nominated but who had never been appointed. In re Van Vleck, 123 Iowa 89, 98 N. W. 557.

Circumstances not showing renunciation.— Acting as administrator under due appointment of the court is not to be deemed renunciation of the executorship under a will, should such a will be afterward proved (Taylor v. Tibbatts, 13 B. Mon. (Ky.) 177), nor is filing a caveat or otherwise opposing the probate of a will equivalent to a renunciation (Gaither v. Gaither, 23 Ga. 521; In re Maxwell, 3 N. J. Eq. 611. Contra, Briggs v. Westerly Probate Ct., 23 R. I. 125, 50 Atl. 335, holding that where one named as a joint executor in a will does not accept but appeals from the order admitting the will to probate such acts are a constructive declination of the trust, and authorize the appointment of the other executor alone).

52. By persons entitled to administer see infra, II, B, 4, b.

53. California.— In re True, 120 Cal. 352, 52 Pac. 815.

Kentucky.— Taylor v. Tibbatts, 13 B. Mon. 177.

New York.— Matter of Baldwin, 27 N. Y. App. Div. 506, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 872 [appeal dismissed in 158 N. Y. 713, 53 N. E. 218]; In re Cornell, 17 Misc. 468, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 255; Robertson v. McGeoch, 11 Paige 640; Casey v. Gardiner, 4 Bradf. Surr. 13.

tion, not only has the designated executor been excused from the office but another has been appointed and qualified instead, his election once made is for the time being irrevocable,[54] although a fresh opportunity to accept the office is afforded him whenever a vacancy occurs, especially should a new state of things arise, as in case of the death, resignation, or removal of the person appointed in his stead.[55]

B. Administrators — 1. Intestacy a Requisite to Appointment. There may of course be a grant of administration with the will annexed,[56] and the law also provides for various kinds of special administration which recognize the existence or possible existence of a valid will;[57] but it is a necessary prerequisite to a grant of ordinary administration on the estate of a decedent that he should have died intestate.[58] That fact is ordinarily proved by showing that no will can be found,[59] but such a determination does not preclude any party in interest from subsequently instituting proceedings to establish a will.[60] A grant of administration as in case of intestacy, where the decedent left a valid will which was not known of at the time, but is afterward produced and probated, is voidable only and not void;[61] but general letters of administration granted during the pendency of a United States.— In re Benton, 30 Fed. Cas. No. 18,234, 2 Hayw. & H. 315.

England.— Thompson v. Dixon, 3 Add. Eccl. 272; McDonnell v. Prendergast, 3 Hagg. Eccl. 212.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 39.

Retraction may be oral if renunciation was. Matter of Baldwin, 27 N. Y. App. Div. 506, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 872 [appeal dismissed in 158 N. Y. 713, 53 N. E. 218].

Acceptance of retraction discretionary with surrogate.— Matter of Baldwin, 27 N. Y. App. Div. 506, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 872 [appeal dismissed in 158 N. Y. 713, 53 N. E. 218].

54. Matter of Baldwin, 27 N. Y. App. Div. 506, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 872; Trow v. Shannon, 59 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 214; Briggs v. Westerly Probate Ct., 23 R. I. 125, 50 Atl. 335, holding that where the probate court has issued letters testamentary to one of two joint executors on the other declining the trust, its authority to appoint is thereby exhausted and a subsequent petition by the declining executor cannot be entertained); In re Thornton, 1 Add. Eccl. 273. And see Jewett v. Turner, 172 Mass. 496, 52 N. E. 1082.

55. New Jersey.— In re Maxwell, 3 N. J. Eq. 611.

New York.— Codding v. Newman, 63 N. Y. 639; In re Cornell, 17 Misc. 468, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 255; Judson v. Gibbons, 5 Wend. 224; Robertson v. McGeoch, 11 Paige 640; Dempsey's Will, Tuck. Surr. 51.

North Carolina.— Davis v. Inscoe, 84 N. C. 396.

Pennsylvania.— Gallagher v. Gallagher, 6 Watts 473.

Rhode Island.— Perry v. De Wolf, 2 R. I. 103.

England.— In re Stiles, [1898] P. 12, 67 L. J. P. & Adm. 23, 78 L. T. Rep. N. S. 82, 46 Wkly. Rep. 444; In re Wheelwright, 3 P. D. 71, 45 L. J. P. & Adm. 87, 39 L. T. Rep. N. S. 127, 27 Wkly. Rep. 139.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 39.

Contra.— Thornton v. Winston, 4 Leigh (Va.) 152.

Discretion of court.— An application for letters testamentary by an executor who formerly renounced but who revokes such renunciation is addressed to the discretion of the surrogate and is properly denied where the person applying is aged and infirm and the estate is large and complicated. In re Cornell, 17 Misc. (N. Y.) 468, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 255.

Right to possession of assets.— The grant of letters to a succeeding executor entitles him to the possession of the assets of the estate of his testator, including those in the hands of the prior executrix at the date of her death. Kinney v. Keplinger, 172 Ill. 449, 50 N. E. 131 [reversing 71 Ill. App. 334].

56. See infra, II, C.

57. See infra, II, E.

58. In re Davis, 11 Mont. 196, 28 Pac. 645; Bulkley v. Redmond, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 281; Slade v. Washburn, 25 N. C. 557; Graysbook v. Fox, Plowd. 276.

Where decedent left a document purporting to be a will it has been held in New York that administration cannot be granted until the question of the validity of the will has been disposed of even though the next of kin declare their purpose not to offer it for probate. Matter of Taggart, 16 N. Y. Suppl. 514, Pow. Surr. (N. Y.) 8. But in England the settlement of the estate cannot be thus retarded, for if the validity of an alleged will is disputed and those interested therein decline to take steps to establish its validity the court may grant administration to the next of kin as in cases of intestacy. In re Dennis, [1899] P. 191, 68 L. J. P. & Adm. 67; In re Quick, [1899] P. 187, 68 L. J. P. & Adm. 64, 80 L. T. Rep. N. S. 808.

59. Bulkley v. Redmond, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 281.

60. Bulkley v. Redmond, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 281.

61. Sands v. Hickey, 135 Ala. 322, 33 So. 827; Floyd v. Clayton, 67 Ala. 265; Broughton v. Bradley, 34 Ala. 694, 73 Am. Dec. 474; Shephard v. Rhodes, 60 Ill. 301; Schluter v. Bowery Sav. Bank, 117 N. Y. 125, 22 N. E.

contest respecting the probate of an alleged will are utterly null and void,[62] and the same is necessarily true where such letters are issued after a will has been admitted to probate and an executor qualified, and while the action of the court in respect to the will remains unrevoked and unreversed.[63]

2. Persons Entitled to Appointment — a. Statutory Regulation. The right of particular persons to administer on the estate of a decedent and the priority of right between two or more persons who ask for the issuance of letters to them are matters which are entirely regulated by statute; and the grant of administration must be to the persons in the order and under the contingencies provided by the local statute,[64] the court having as a rule no discretion in the matter,[65] save where there are two or more persons equally entitled under the

572, 15 Am. St. Rep. 494, 5 L. R. A. 541. See infra, II, N, 4.

Persons acting in good faith are protected in dealing with the administrator prior to the revocation of his letters. Schluter v. Bowery Sav. Bank, 117 N. Y. 125, 22 N. E. 572, 15 Am. St. Rep. 494, 5 L. R. A. 541. See infra, II, N, 11, f.

62. Slade v. Washburn, 25 N. C. 557, and cannot be supported as a grant of administration pendente lite. See also In re Davis, 11 Mont. 196, 28 Pac. 645, holding that where an alleged will was presented for probate and a contest over the same commenced after an order had been made directing letters of administration to issue to a certain person who failed to qualify, another person should not be appointed general administrator during the pendency of the contest over the will.

Where an alleged will has been finally adjudged invalid a considerable time before and the condition of the estate is not adapted to a special or limited administration the court of probate may rightfully grant general administration, although the judgment annulling the will has not been certified to it according to statutory requirements. Green v. Clark, 24 Vt. 136.

63. Ryno v. Ryno, 27 N. J. Eq. 522. See also Landers v. Stone, 45 Ind. 404. But see Watson v. Glover, 77 Ala. 323, 325, where upon its being made to appear that letters of administration had been granted to a certain person upon his representation that the decedent died intestate whereas the fact was that the last will and testament of the decedent had previously been admitted to probate the court said: "The grant was voidable, and it was both the right and duty of the Probate Court to revoke such letters, as having been irregularly and improvidently granted."

64. Georgia.— Watson v. Warnock, 31 Ga. 694.

Maryland.— Dalrymple v. Gamble, 66 Md. 298, 7 Atl. 683, 8 Atl. 468.

Michigan.— Breen v. Pangborn, 51 Mich. 29, 16 N. W. 188.

New York.— Sweezy v. Willis, 1 Bradf. Surr. 495.

Virginia.— Thornton v. Winston, 4 Leigh 152.

Washington.— McLean v. Roller, 33 Wash. 166, 73 Pac. 1123.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 44.

The situation at the time of the application for administration and not that at the time of the intestate's death governs in determining who is entitled to administer. Griffith v. Coleman, 61 Md. 250; In re Sprague, 125 Mich. 357, 84 N. W. 293.

Where a decedent left a valid will which did not name any executor he did not die intestate within the meaning of a statute prescribing the order in which persons were entitled to administer upon the estate of a person dying intestate, and hence the court in granting administration with the will annexed was not limited to the order prescribed in such statute. In re Barton, 52 Cal. 538, where administration with the will annexed was under such circumstances granted to the public administrator.

The law of the place where the estate is to be administered and not the law of the domicile of the decedent governs in determining who is entitled to administer. Public Administrator v. Hughes, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 125.

Necessity for interest.— In order to entitle one to letters of administration he must have some interest in the estate either as heir or creditor or as assignee of an heir or creditor which would entitle him to recover something in the distribution of the estate, or in an action against the estate. Brann's Estate, 7 Kulp (Pa.) 369.

Grant to wrong person not void.— Wilson v. Frazier, 2 Humphr. (Tenn.) 30.

Attorney of person entitled.— Where the person solely entitled to a grant of administration was resident in the country and able to take it himself the court declined to decree it to his attorney for his benefit. In re Burch, 30 L. J. P. & M. 171, 4 L. T. Rep. N. S. 451, 2 Swab. & Tr. 139, 9 Wkly. Rep. 639.

Where the verified application shows the applicant to be entitled to letters, the proceeding being purely ex parte, letters should be granted. Ex p. Jenkins, 25 Ind. App. 532, 58 N. E. 560, 81 Am. St. Rep. 114.

65. Indiana.— Hayes v. Hayes, 75 Ind. 395.

Maryland.— Owings v. Bates, 9 Gill 463.

Missouri.— State v. Collier, 62 Mo. App. 38.

Nevada.— In re Nickal, 21 Nev. 462, 34 Pac. 250.

New York.— Coope v. Lowerre, 1 Barb. Ch. 45; Matter of Williams, 5 Dem. Surr. 292.

Pennsylvania.— In re Swart, 189 Pa. St.

statute,[66] or where a question arises as to the fitness or qualifications of the person or persons primarily entitled to the appointment,[67] or where the preference is given to two or more persons or classes of persons in the alternative. Where all the persons who under the statute have a right to administer have renounced or otherwise lost their right, the court has a considerable discretion in the appointment of the administrator.[68]

b. Husband. The almost universal rule is that where it becomes necessary or proper to appoint an administrator of the estate of a deceased married woman, her surviving husband is entitled to the appointment in preference to all other persons.[69] Both in England and the United States a marriage voidable only and neither void nor annulled before the wife died leaves the surviving husband entitled to administer; nor is his right affected by a mere judicial decree of sepa-

71, 41 Atl. 1000; In re Guldin, 81* Pa. St. 362. But compare Spencer's Estate, 7 Pa. Dist. 216.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 43.

"Special circumstances" are recognized in England as affording ground for departure from the rule of priority. In re Keane, 1 Hagg. Eccl. 692.

66. Alabama.— Davis v. Swearingen, 56 Ala. 539.

Kentucky.— Halley v. Haney, 3 T. B. Mon. 141.

Louisiana.— Boudreaux's Succession, 42 La. Ann. 296, 7 So. 453; Martin's Succession, 13 La. Ann. 557, holding that a judge is not bound to appoint two beneficiary heirs, even with equal claims, administrators of a succession, the law leaving it discretionary with him to appoint one or two, regard being had to the solidity of the appointee.

Michigan.— See Rajnowski v. Detroit, etc., R. Co., 74 Mich. 20, 41 N. W. 847, holding that where both parents are equally interested in the fund recoverable under a local statute for negligently killing a child the mother is entitled to administration equally with the father and her appointment as administratrix is not objectionable.

Pennsylvania.— Lœffler's Estate, 8 Kulp 199.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 43; and infra, II, B, 2, d, (II).

Choice limited to those who apply for administration.— Halley v. Haney, 3 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 141.

Selection by jury.— Upon an appeal to the superior court from the court of ordinary, the evidence being such as to authorize a finding in favor of either of two brothers seeking letters of administration upon their father's estate, the selection is a matter for the jury. Jackson v. Jackson, 101 Ga. 132, 28 S. E. 608.

67. See In re Nickal, 21 Nev. 462, 34 Pac. 250; Matter of Williams, 5 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 292; Spencer's Estate, 7 Pa. Dist. 216, 20 Pa. Co. Ct. 657; and infra, II, B, 3.

68. Davis v. Swearingen, 56 Ala. 539; Byrd v. Gibson, 1 How. (Miss.) 568.

69. California.— In re Dow, 132 Cal. 309, 64 Pac. 402; Carmody's Estate, 88 Cal. 616, 26 Pac. 373.

Georgia.— Miller v. Reinhart, 18 Ga. 239.

Illinois.— O'Rear v. Crum, 135 Ill. 294, 25 N. E. 1097.

Kentucky.— Hart v. Soward, 12 B. Mon. 391.

Maryland.— Willis v. Jones, 42 Md. 422; Hubbard v. Barcas, 38 Md. 175.

Michigan.— Osmun v. Galbraith, 131 Mich. 577, 92 N. W. 101.

Missouri.— In re Hill, 102 Mo. App. 617, 77 S. W. 110.

Montana.— In re Stewart, 18 Mont. 595, 46 Pac. 806.

New Hampshire.— Probate Judge v. Chamberlain, 3 N. H. 129.

New Jersey.— Donnington v. Mitchell, 2 N. J. Eq. 243.

New York.— Dewey v. Goodenough, 56 Barb. 54; Shumway v. Cooper, 16 Barb. 556; Gilman v. McArdle, 49 N. Y. Super. Ct. 463; McCosker v. Golden, 1 Bradf. Surr. 64.

North Carolina.— Hoppiss v. Eskridge, 37 N. C. 54.

Pennsylvania.— Clark v. Clark, 6 Watts & S. 85; Biggert v. Biggert, 7 Watts 563; Brittain's Appeal, 1 Am. L. J. 426.

Rhode Island.— Battey v. Mathewson, 23 R. I. 474, 51 Atl. 102; Weaver v. Chace, 5 R. I. 356.

Tennessee.— Fairbanks v. Hill, 3 Lea 732.

Texas.— Truesdale v. Putegnat, (Civ. App. 1900) 59 S. W. 307.

Washington.— In re Sutton, 31 Wash. 340, 71 Pac. 1012.

West Virginia.— Bridgman v. Bridgman, 30 W. Va. 212, 3 S. E. 580.

England.— Copeland v. Simister, [1893] P. 16, 62 L. J. P. & Adm. 38, 68 L. T. Rep. N. S. 257, 1 Reports 469, 41 Wkly. Rep. 269.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 45.

Under the codes of some states the husband is not entitled to administer on his wife's estate to the exclusion of her children also beneficially entitled therein. Randall v. Shrader, 17 Ala. 333; Goodrich v. Treat, 3 Colo. 408; Williamson's Succession, 3 La. Ann. 261. See infra, II, B, 2, d, (I).

The wife's will, when limited in operation, calls for a limited probate and administration of the rest belongs to her husband. Stevens v. Bagwell, 15 Ves. Jr. 139, 33 Eng. Reprint 707.

ration from bed and board; but where a divorce is absolute or where the marriage is void or else annulled during the lifetime of the spouses the survivor has no right to administer.[70]

c. Widow. The right of a widow to administer upon the estate of her deceased husband is not so absolute as that of a husband to administer on the estate of his deceased wife; for while under some statutes the widow is entitled to administer in preference to the next of kin, the right is usually given in the alternative to the widow or next of kin, although as a matter of practice the widow is usually accorded the preference if she is a suitable person to perform the trust.[71] The widow should, however, be the legal and bona fide surviving Husband may be excluded for misconduct. Coover's Appeal, 52 Pa. St. 427; Cooper v. Maddox, 2 Sneed (Tenn.) 135; In re Ardern, [1898] P. 147, 67 L. J. P. & Adm. 70, 78 L. T. Rep. N. S. 536. See infra, II, B, 3.

Representative of husband.— It has been held that where a husband survives his wife but afterward dies, his executor is entitled to administration upon the estate of the wife. Matter of Harvey, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 214. But see Matter of O'Neil, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 544, holding the contrary in the case of an administrator.

70. Alabama.— Williams v. McConico, 27 Ala. 572.

Iowa.— Read v. Howe, 13 Iowa 50.

New York.— In re Ensign, 103 N. Y. 284, 8 N. E. 544, 57 Am. Rep. 717; Wyles v. Gibbs, 1 Redf. Surr. 382; White v. Lowe, 1 Redf. Surr. 376; Davis v. Brown, 1 Redf. Surr. 259.

Ohio.— Garretson v. Garretson, 4 Ohio Cir. Ct. 336, 2 Ohio Cir. Dec. 581.

Pennsylvania.— Zerfass' Appeal, 135 Pa. St. 522, 19 Atl. 1056; Parker's Appeal, 44 Pa. St. 309; Clark v. Clark, 6 Watts & S. 85; Altemus' Case, 1 Ashm. 49.

Washington.— In re Smith, 4 Wash. 702, 30 Pac. 1059, 17 L. R. A. 573.

England.— Copeland v. Simister, [1893] P. 16, 62 L. J. P. & Adm. 38, 68 L. T. Rep. N. S. 257, 1 Reports 469, 41 Wkly. Rep. 269. But see In re Stephenson, L. R. 1 P. 287, 36 L. J. P. & M. 20, 15 L. T. Rep. N. S. 296, 15 Wkly. Rep. 286, where a married woman who lived separate from her husband and had obtained a protection order died leaving the husband and a minor son surviving and the court granted administration to a guardian elected by the son without citing the father.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 45.

A decree of divorce nisi or otherwise incomplete does not deprive the husband of his right to administer. Barry's Succession, 47 La. Ann. 838, 17 So. 307; Nusz v. Grove, 27 Md. 391.

Property acquired after separation.— Where a married woman was deserted by her husband and obtained a protection order by reason of such desertion and afterward died intestate during the life of her husband the court decreed that letters of administration limited to such property as she had acquired or become possessed of since the desertion be granted to one of her next of kin. In re Worman, 1 Swab. & Tr. 513.

71. Alabama.— Curtis v. Williams, 33 Ala. 570; Dunham v. Roberts, 27 Ala. 701; Brennan v. Harris, 20 Ala. 185.

Arkansas.— Grantham v. Williams, 1 Ark. 270.

California.— In re Dow, 132 Cal. 309, 64 Pac. 402; Carmody's Estate, 88 Cal. 616, 26 Pac. 373.

Louisiana.— Barber's Succession, 52 La. Ann. 957, 27 So. 361; Block's Succession, 6 La. Ann. 810. But see Coste's Succession, 43 La. Ann. 144, 9 So. 62 (holding that in a contest for administration the mother has preference over the wife); Richardson v. Hook, 4 La. 568 (holding that the widow cannot be appointed curatrix of her husband's succession and be allowed to administer it when the mother and sisters of the husband present themselves as heirs and claim administration and acceptance of the estate with benefit of inventory); and infra, II, B, 2, d, (I).

Massachusetts.— Cobb v. Newcomb, 19 Pick. 336; McGooch v. McGooch, 4 Mass. 348.

Mississippi.— Pendleton v. Pendleton, 6 Sm. & M. 448.

Missouri.— In re Hill, 102 Mo. App. 617, 77 S. W. 110.

Montana.— In re Stewart, 18 Mont. 595, 46 Pac. 806.

Nebraska.— Atkinson v. Hasty, 21 Nebr. 663, 33 N. W. 206.

New York.— Lathrop v. Smith, 24 N. Y. 417.

Ohio.— Garretson v. Garretson, 4 Ohio Cir. Ct. 336, 2 Ohio Cir. Dec. 581 [affirming Ohio Prob. 187].

Pennsylvania.—In re Gyger, 65 Pa. St. 311.

South Carolina.— McBeth v. Hunt, 2 Strobh. 335.

Tennessee.— Rodes v. Boyers, 106 Tenn. 434, 61 S. W. 776; Swan v. Swan, 3 Head 163. See also Wilson v. Frazier, 2 Humphr. 30.

West Virginia.—Bridgman v. Bridgman, 30 W. Va. 212, 3 S. E. 580.

England.— Webb v. Needham, 1 Add. Eccl. 494; Widgery v. Tepper, 5 Ch. D. 516; Goddard v. Cressonier, 3 Phillim. 637; Wells v. Brook, 25 Wkly. Rep. 463. But compare In re Rogerson, 2 Curt. Eccl. 656.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators." § 45.

But see Govane v. Govane, 1 Harr. & M. (Md.) 346, holding that administration will be granted to natural children who are residuary legatees in preference to the widow.

Remarriage of the widow since her husband's death is per se no valid objection to wife, and not the partner of a void or annulled marriage nor the survivor of a conjugal pair who have been absolutely and finally divorced.[72]

d. Next of Kin — (i) In General. Apart from the claim of a surviving spouse, the right to administer belongs usually to the next of kin of the decedent, that is to say those persons who are entitled under the statute of distributions to the decedent's property, the theory of the law being that the right to administer should follow the interest or right of property in the estate.[73] her claim to administer, but if the children unite against her they ought in fairness to have at all events a coadministrator appointed. Webb v. Needham, 1 Add. Eccl. 494.

Disagreements between a widow and her husband during his lifetime and with other members of the family after his death are insufficient to deprive her of her right to administer his estate. Scanlon's Estate, 2 Pa. Dist. 742, 12 Pa. Co. Ct. 339.

A contest over the necessity of administration on the ground that no debt existed against the estate does not defeat the right of a surviving wife to priority over creditors, although the existence of the debt is established. Truesdale v. Putegnat, (Tex. Civ. App. 1900) 59 S. W. 307.

The fact that a wife lived apart from her husband for a few years previous to his death without objection on his part does not amount to desertion nor deprive her of her statutory preference in the administration of her husband's estate. Ross' Estate, 1 Pa. Dist. 744, 11 Pa. Co. Ct. 601.

When next of kin preferred.— Where it appears that there are minors concerned, that the heirs of age are from different marriages, that there are debts due by and to the succession, that the heirs of age and the widow do not agree, and that there exists property which must be under control of one person for its preservation and notes the payment of which may have to be judicially enforced, the preference in appointing an administrator should be given to the heirs of age present, over the widow. Romero's Succession, 42 La. Ann. 894, 8 So. 632.

Misconduct or other cause of unsuitableness for the trust may debar the widow from the appointment. Nusz v. Grove, 27 Md. 391; Odiorne's Appeal, 54 Pa. St. 175, 93 Am. Dec. 683 (desertion); In re Stevens, [1898] P. 126, 67 L. J. P. & Adm. 60, 78 L. T. Rep. N. S. 389 (dissipation and eloping); In re Davies, 2 Curt. Eccl. 628 (adultery after divorce from bed and board). See infra, II, B, 3.

72. Estill v. Rogers, 1 Bush (Ky.) 62; In re Ensign, 103 N. Y. 284, 8 N. E. 544, 57 Am. Rep. 717; O'Gara v. Eisenlohr, 38 N. Y. 296.

A widow's right is not defeated by a void divorce (Platt's Appeal, 80 Pa. St. 501), or one which is void in the state of their domicile (Andrews v. Andrews, 176 Mass. 92, 57 N. E. 333; In re House, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 275, 20 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 130, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 524), or one which has been vacated and annulled even after the husband's death (Boyd's Appeal, 38 Pa. St. 246).

Voidable marriage.—The nullity of a merely voidable marriage must be pronounced by a court of competent jurisdiction before the fact of its invalidity can be taken advantage of in any proceeding. If not declared void it remains good and legal for all purposes and either party surviving the other has a prior right under the statute to letters of administration. White v. Lowe, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 376.

Valid marriage after slave marriage see Randall's Succession, 26 La. Ann. 163.

Second marriage while former wife living.— Where a marriage was duly solemnized in Texas according to law while Texas was subject to the laws of Mexico, but the husband had a former wife living in Missouri, of which fact the second wife was ignorant until after the death of the husband, such second wife was entitled to administration to the exclusion of the son of her husband by the first marriage. Smith v. Smith, 1 Tex. 621, 46 Am. Dec. 121.

73. Alabama.— Brennan v. Harris, 20 Ala. 185.

Georgia.— Leverett v. Dismukes, 10 Ga. 98; Clay v. Jackson, T. U. P. Charlt. 71.

Indiana.— See Hayes v. Hayes, 75 Ind. 395.

Kentucky.— Hawkins v. Robinson, 3 T. B. Mon. 143; Halley v. Haney, 3 T. B. Mon. 141.

Louisiana.— Under Civ. Code, arts. 1042, 1121, the beneficiary heir of age, present or represented in the state, is to be preferred to the surviving husband or wife in the appointment of an administrator. Bulliard's Succession, 111 La. 186, 35 So. 508.

Massachusetts.— Cobb v. Newcomb, 19 Pick. 336.

Missouri.— In re Hill, 102 Mo. App. 617, 77 S. W. 110.

Nebraska.— Atkinson v. Hasty, 21 Nebr. 663, 33 N. W. 206.

North Carolina.— Carthey v. Webb, 6 N. C. 268.

Pennsylvania.— Cantlin's Estate, 2 Pa. Dist. 522; Snowden's Estate, 25 Pittsb. Leg. J. 81. See also Gause's Estate, 1 Chest. Co. Rep. 105.

Tennessee.— Fitzgerald v. Smith, (Sup. 1904) 78 S. W. 1050.

Virginia.— Thornton v. Winston, 4 Leigh 152.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 44.

Marriage relation distinguished.— Neither husband nor wife can be regarded as next of kin one to the other by virtue of the marriage tie alone, and this reservation extends to all marriage connections, since common blood is the test of consanguinity. Whitaker v. Whitaker, 6 Johns. (N. Y.) 112; Watt v. Watt, 3 Ves. Jr. 244, 30 Eng. Reprint 992.

(II) Preferences.[74] The right to administration arising from kinship being usually dependent upon the right to share in the distribution of the decedent's estate,[75] the nearest of kin to the decedent are as a rule preferred to those more remotely related.[76] From among two or more persons equally akin to the deceased who seek the appointment the court may choose the most suitable, judging fairly as to each one's fitness for the trust and exercising a sound discretion in the interests of the distributees generally.[77] The policy of some states distinctly places the male next of kin before the female for receiving the appointment.[78] In some jurisdictions a feme sole is preferred to a married

A distributee must be preferred to a creditor as administrator when they both apply together. Haxall v. Lee, 2 Leigh (Va.) 267. See also Barber's Succession, 52 La. Ann. 957, 27 So. 361; Matter of Barr, 38 Misc. (N. Y.) 355, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 935, holding that a creditor has no right to administer if there are any next of kin.

In cases of adoption of illegitimacy the peculiar rules of distribution as established by statute usually but not necessarily determine the right to administer.

California.— In re Pico, 56 Cal. 413.

New Jersey.— In re Potter, 8 N. J. L. J. 137, holding that an illegitimate feme covert, entitled under the statute to all her deceased mother's estate, should be preferred in the administration to the decedent's non-resident brother.

New York.— Ferrie v. Public Administrator, 3 Bradf. Surr. 249; Public Administrator v. Hughes, 1 Bradf. Surr. 125, holding that under the New York statute giving the right to administer to the next of kin entitled to share in the distribution of the estate, where the intestate was domiciled in a foreign country, the law of the domicile determining who succeeds to the estate also determines who has that interest which by the New York law is a necessary qualification to administer, and that hence where an illegitimate person domiciled in England died intestate and unmarried leaving assets in New York, as there was by the law of England an absolute obstruction in the course of succession, she having no lineal descendants and no lawful ancestors or collateral relatives, a son of the decedent's mother was not entitled to letters of administration.

Pennsylvania.—McCully's Estate, 13 Phila. 296, holding that the next of kin is entitled to preference over an adopted child with no right in the estate.

England.— In re Goodman, 17 Ch. D. 266, 50 L. J. Ch. 425, 44 L. T. Rep. N. S. 527, 29 Wkly. Rep. 586.

A stepson of an intestate has no right to administer on his estate, that right passing to the next of kin. Pfarr's Estate, 38 Misc. (N. Y.) 223, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 326.

Assignee.— Where the sole next of kin of an intestate has renounced her right to administration and assigned her rights in the property of the decedent to a certain person, letters of administration may be granted to such person. In re Quilliam, 68 L. J. P. & Adm. 17, 79 L. T. Rep. N. S. 472. See also Osmun v. Galbraith, 131 Mich. 577, 92 N. W. 101, holding that the trustee in bankruptcy of a person having an interest in an unadministered estate may be appointed administrator.

74. See infra, II, B, 3.

75. In re Eggers, 114 Cal. 464, 46 Pac. 380; Matter of Seymour, 33 Misc. (N. Y.) 271, 68 N. Y. Suppl. 638; Matter of Haug, 29 Misc. (N. Y.) 36, 60 N. Y. Suppl. 382; Rapp's Estate, 3 Pa. Dist. 521. But compare Lathrop v. Smith, 24 N. Y. 417; Butler v. Perrott, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 9.

In a contest between relatives whose priority is not settled by the statute the single point to be ascertained is who will be entitled to the surplus of the personal estate and that person is entitled to administer. Sweezey v. Willis, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 495.

76. Anderson v. Potter, 5 Cal. 63; In re Hawley, 37 Misc. (N. Y.) 667, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 461; Matter of Williams, 5 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 292; Churchill v. Prescott, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 304; Carthey v. Webb, 6 N. C. 268; McClellan's Appeal, 16 Pa. St. 110.

Preferences between particular relations.— A grandparent is preferred to an uncle or aunt. Matter of Afflick, 3 MacArthur (D. C.) 95; Blackborough v. Davies, 1 Ld. Raym. 684. If one dies leaving parents but no children the parents are of the first degree by reckoning and their rights are accordingly superior to those of brothers and sisters who stand in the second degree. Brown v. Hay, 1 Stew. & P. (Ala.) 102. When the widow is incompetent by reason of her minority a child of the decedent in ventre sa mere will deprive the father of the decedent of a share in the personal estate and consequently of the right to letters. Fulmer's Estate, 2 C. Pl. (Pa.) 65. A daughter has been preferred to the son of the eldest son of intestate. Lee v. Sedgwick, 1 Root (Conn.) 52.

77. Taylor v. Delancy, 2 Cai. Cas. (N. Y.) 143; Moore v. Moore, 12 N. C. 352; Bridgman v. Bridgman, 30 W. Va. 212, 3 S. E. 580.

Moral fitness is to be regarded in a selection of individuals from the same class. McMahon v. Harrison, 6 N. Y. 443; Coope v. Lowerre, 1 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 45.

78. California.— In re Brundage, 141 Cal. 538, 75 Pac. 175; In re Coan, 132 Cal. 401, 64 Pac. 691.

Maryland.— Cook v. Carr, 19 Md. 1.

New Jersey.— In re Hill, 55 N. J. Eq. 764, 37 Atl. 952.

woman.[79] So also the older may properly be given a preference over the younger and less discreet, especially if the one be an adult and the other a minor.[80] One determining consideration as between next of kin in cases of doubt may be their relative extent of interest,[81] but another is the confidence reposed by kindred and hence it is not uncommon to appoint the one upon whom a majority of the parties in interest agree,[82] and the wishes of the person or persons having the largest amount of interest may in certain respects preponderate in the selection.[83] It has also been held that the person first seeking the appointment has some claim to precedence.[84]

e. Guardian or Trustee of Person Entitled. In some states where a person entitled to administration is a minor or incompetent, letters of administration may be granted to the guardian of such person.[85] But it is not necessary that the guardian should be appointed administrator,[86] and in general a cestui que trust if rational and competent is entitled rather than his trustee.[87]

New York.— In re Hawley, 37 Misc. 667, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 461.

Pennsylvania.— Lœffler's Estate, 8 Kulp 199.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 44.

Superior personal fitness may strengthen this preference. In re Hill, 55 N. J. Eq. 764, 37 Atl. 952.

An assignee of a daughter's interest in the estate acquires no greater right to administration than she had as against a son of the decedent. In re Brundage, 141 Cal. 538, 75 Pac. 175.

Joint letters to male and female.— Under the California statute providing that of several persons claiming and equally entitled to administer males must be preferred to females, an order appointing both son and daughter of deceased to administer her estate is error notwithstanding the fact that another section of the statute authorizes the court to grant letters to one or more of several persons equally entitled to the administration. In re Coan, 132 Cal. 401, 64 Pac. 691.

Other considerations, such as the minority or non-residence of the male next of kin, may control this rule. Wickwire v. Chapman, 15 Barb. (N. Y.) 302.

Brothers of the half blood take precedence over sisters of the whole blood where the code treats half-blood and whole-blood kindred alike. Matter of Moran, 5 Misc. (N. Y.) 176, 25 N. Y. Suppl. 702; Single's Appeal, 59 Pa. St. 55.

The discretion of the register will not be disturbed where he has granted letters to a niece and refuses to revoke them in favor of a nephew, it appearing that the niece, but for the disability of sex, is preëminently entitled to them. Spencer's Estate, 7 Pa. Dist. 216, 20 Pa. Co. Ct. 657.

Where male dissolute, etc.— Administration of an estate will be granted to a non-resident married daughter in preference to a dissolute, irresponsible, and dishonest son of the intestate, although a resident of the state. In re Selling, 2 N. Y. Suppl. 634.

79. Owings v. Bates, 9 Gill (Md.) 463; Smith v. Young, 5 Gill (Md.) 197; In re Curser, 89 N. Y. 401.

This applies to children of the decedent as well as to collaterals. Smith v. Young, 5 Gill (Md.) 197.

80. Owings v. Bates, 9 Gill (Md.) 463; In re Hill, 55 N. J. Eq. 764, 37 Atl. 952; Wickwire v. Chapman, 15 Barb. (N. Y.) 302.

Hence the minor's guardian is postponed. Sloane's Succession, 12 La. Ann. 610; Cottle v. Vanderheyden, 56 Barb. (N. Y.) 622; Levan's Appeal, 112 Pa. St. 294, 3 Atl. 804.

81. Leverett v. Dismukes, 10 Ga. 98.

82. Mandeville v. Mandeville, 35 Ga. 243; In re Stainton, L. R. 2 P. 212; Wetdrill v. Wright, 2 Phillim. 243; Budd v. Silver, 2 Phillim. 115.

83. McClellan's Appeal, 16 Pa. St. 110.

84. Baraud's Succession, 21 La. Ann. 666; Cordeux v. Trasler, 11 Jur. N. S. 587, 34 L. J. P. & M. 127, 4 Swab. & Tr. 48.

85. California.— Clough v. Borello, (1897) 48 Pac. 330; In re McLaughlin, 103 Cal. 429, 37 Pac. 410.

Louisiana.— Sutton's Succession, 20 La. Ann. 150; Vincent v. D'Aubigne, 19 La. Ann. 528; McKinney's Succession, 4 La. Ann. 25; Bryan v. Atchison, 2 La. Ann. 462; Arthur v. Cochran, 12 Rob. 41; Beale v. Walden, 11 Rob. 67; Hall v. Parks, 9 Rob. 138; Self v. Morris, 7 Rob. 24; Tildon v. Dees, 1 Rob. 407; Jacobs v. Tricou, 17 La. 104; Erwin v. Orillion, 6 La. 205.

Mississippi.— Langan v. Bowman, 12 Sm. & M. 715.

Montana.— See In re Stewart, 18 Mont. 595, 46 Pac. 806.

New Jersey.— Woodruff v. Snoover, (Prerog. 1900) 45 Atl. 980.

New York.— Blanck's Estate, 3 How. Pr. N. S. 58.

Rhode Island.— Mowry v. Latham, 20 R. I. 786, 40 Atl. 236, 341; Mowry v. Latham, 17 R. I. 480, 23 Atl. 13.

United States.— Thomas v. Tensas Police Jury, 14 Fed. 390, 4 Woods 167.

England.— In re Leese, [1894] P. 160, 63 L. J. P. & Adm. 124, 70 L. T. Rep. N. S. 810.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 48.

86. See Manson's Succession, 1 Rob. (La.) 235.

87. In re Thompson, 33 Barb. (N. Y.) 334.

f. Creditors. The statutes generally provide for the appointment of a creditor of the deceased as administrator where no application is made within a suitable time by those having legal priority or where the latter prove incompetent. Under some statutes the creditor first applying takes the precedence, but under others it is rather the largest or some principal creditor.[88] The reason

88. Alabama.— Curtis v. Williams, 33 Ala. 570; Brennan v. Harris, 20 Ala. 185.

Georgia.— Tanner v. Huss, 80 Ga. 614, 6 S. E. 18.

Illinois.— Rosenthal v. Prussing, 108 Ill. 128.

Indiana.— Bowen v. Stewart, 128 Ind. 507, 26 N. E. 168, 28 N. E. 73; Gale v. Corey, 112 Ind. 39, 13 N. E. 108, 14 N. E. 362; Brown v. King, 2 Ind. 520.

Louisiana.— Martin's Succession, 13 La. Ann. 557; Nicolas' Succession, 2 La. Ann. 97; Turner v. Kirkman, 11 La. 289; Chew v. Flint, 7 La. 395.

Massachusetts.— Stebbins v. Palmer, 1 Pick. 71, 11 Am. Dec. 146; Mitchel v. Lunt, 4 Mass. 654.

Michigan.— Carpenter v. Wood, 131 Mich. 314, 91 N. W. 162; Wilkinson v. Conaty, 65 Mich. 614, 32 N. W. 841; Aldrich v. Annin, 54 Mich. 230, 19 N. W. 964.

Nebraska.— Atkinson v. Hasty, 21 Nebr. 663, 33 N. W. 206.

Tennessee.— Fitzgerald v. Smith, (Sup. 1904) 78 S. W. 1050; Rodes v. Boyers, 106 Tenn. 434, 61 S. W. 776. See also Smiley v. Bell, Mart. & Y. 378, 17 Am. Dec. 813.

Texas.— Nickelson v. Ingram, 24 Tex. 630. But see Cain v. Haas, 18 Tex. 616, holding that a creditor as such has no special claim to the appointment.

Washington.— In re Sullivan, 25 Wash. 430, 65 Pac. 793, holding that where one creditor's claim is for sixty thousand dollars, and the claims of other creditors are each less than one hundred dollars, the former is entitled to administer as a "principal creditor."

West Virginia.— Bridgman v. Bridgman, 30 W. Va. 212, 3 S. E. 580.

England.— By English practice a creditor may take out administration on an intestate estate if none of the next of kin or others in legal priority do so, but this rule rests in custom and not statute law, and the court frequently selects another and larger creditor than the one applying. Maidman v. All Persons, 1 Phillim. 51.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 653.

But compare McCandlish v. Hopkins, 6 Call (Va.) 208.

One who has a cause of action against the decedent which by law survives is a creditor entitled to administration if the next of kin do not administer (Smith v. Sherman, 4 Cush. (Mass.) 408; Royce v. Burrell, 12 Mass. 395; Mitchel v. Lunt, 4 Mass. 654), but it is otherwise if the cause of action does not survive (Smith v. Sherman, 4 Cush. (Mass.) 408; Stebbins v. Palmer, 1 Pick. (Mass.) 71, 11 Am. Dec. 146).

The largest creditor is preferred in the court's discretion to one desired by the majority of the creditors and by the intestate's widow. Ex p. Ostendorff, 17 S. C. 22. See further Hoffman v. Gold, 8 Gill & J. (Md.) 79.

A relative who becomes sole creditor has a strong claim. Lentz v. Pilert, 60 Md. 296, 45 Am. Rep. 732.

Under the Georgia code which provides that "among creditors as a general rule, the one having the greatest interest will be preferred," it is error in a contest between two creditors of an insolvent estate for administration to exclude evidence showing that a large portion of the other creditors, some of whom hold claims of superior dignity to those of the creditors seeking administration, prefer the appointment of the applicant holding the smallest claim, for the language of the code implies that the rule of preference is not imperative but that other circumstances may be considered and the wishes of the majority of those in interest are material, especially the wishes of those who by reason of the superiority of their claims have the largest interest in the estate. Freeman v. Worrill, 42 Ga. 401.

Formal filing of claim not requisite.— In re Miller, 32 Nebr. 480, 49 N. W. 427.

The creditor should make affidavit and be prepared to prove his claim before the probate court as a prerequisite to obtaining the appointment. Aitkin v. Ford, 3 Hagg. Eccl. 193.

Payment of one claimant by another.— If during a contest for appointment one applicant receives from the other payment of his claims against the succession he is no longer a creditor and loses his right to be appointed. Rust v. Randolph, 5 Mart. (La.) 89.

A tender by the heirs of the amount of his claim deprives the creditor of his right to be appointed. Culley v. Mohlenbrock, 36 Ill. App. 84.

Where the claim is a doubtful one and must be established by parol evidence and expensive litigation the claimant's application for administration will be rejected. Bourgeois' Succession, 43 La. Ann. 247, 9 So. 34.

That claim would be barred if limitations were pleaded is no objection. Ex p. Caig, T. U. P. Charlt. (Ga.) 159; Coombs v. Coombs, L. R. 1 P. 288, 36 L. J. P. & M. 21, 15 Wkly. Rep. 286.

A creditor of an alleged distributee has no right as such to apply for letters of administration upon the personal estate of the intestate. In re Pitchlynn, 20 D. C. 55.

The holder of a promissory note of a married woman in the execution of which her husband did not join is, without evidence as to its consideration, such a creditor of her

why a creditor is selected under these circumstances is that should the estate be plainly inadequate for yielding a surplus over the debts the next of kin have comparatively but slight interest in settling it, while under no circumstances ought an honest creditor's claim to be lost for want of an administrator,[89] and indeed administration has been granted to a creditor in preference to the next of kin, where it has been made to appear that the estate of the decedent was insolvent or barely sufficient for the payment of debts.[90] One may be a creditor by representation, entitled to administer in certain cases,[91] and a claimant whose claim arises in strictness after the death of the intestate and yet in close connection with the last offices, like an undertaker, has been held entitled to administration.[92] A creditor will be preferred to a person not a creditor,[93] although the latter is supported in his application by some of the creditors.[94] The creditor appointed should be a suitable and competent person for the trust estate as entitles him to assert a right to letters of administration thereon. Nickelson v. Ingram, 24 Tex. 630.

A person indebted to the estate of a decedent in a sum greater than his claim against the estate is not a "creditor" within the meaning of the Illinois statute so as to be entitled to be appointed administrator. In re Wilson, 80 Ill. App. 217.

Circumstances not showing applicant to be a creditor see Matter of Frye, 75 Hun (N. Y.) 402, 27 N. Y. Suppl. 14.

An unsuccessful applicant for letters of administration cannot thereafter be granted letters because of the fact that he has paid out his own money in seeking the appointment. State v. Woody, 20 Mont. 413, 51 Pac. 975.

Necessity of assets within jurisdiction.— A creditor will not be granted letters of administration to defeat the right of retainer of the next of kin unless he can show the existence of assets in the jurisdiction. A general allegation of information and belief as to the existence of assets is useless. In re Foy, 78 L. T. Rep. N. S. 49.

89. Stevens v. Gaylord, 11 Mass. 256; Elme v. Da Costa, 1 Phillim. 173.

90. Sturges v. Tufts, R. M. Charlt. (Ga.) 17. But compare Lynch v. Lively, 32 Ga. 575, holding that if the widow of an intestate, seeking the administration, join with herself in the application one of acknowledged probity and capacity having no personal interest in the estate but representing the wishes and interests of a portion of the creditors, they jointly will be preferred to a creditor having a large claim and sustained by other creditors, whether the estate be insolvent or not.

In cases of doubtful insolvency, depending upon the solvency of divers debtors of the intestate, or upon the validity of intestate's title to property held by him at the time of his death but claimed by strangers, or upon the validity of disputed claims against his estate, or like doubtful questions, insolvency should not be recognized as a sufficient ground of caveat against the claim of the heir at law to the administration. Lynch v. Lively, 32 Ga. 575, 579, where the court said, however: "We do not now rule that under all circumstances (e. g., the admitted insolvency of the intestate) the heir-at-law shall be preferred over a creditor in a contest for administration."

91. Vick's Succession, 19 La. Ann. 75 (holding that by the death of a creditor his universal legatee who is one of the forced heirs becomes a creditor in his stead); Ex p. Ostendorff, 17 S. C. 22; In re Lowe, 78 L. T. Rep. N. S. 566 (assignee of claim charged on estate); Downward v. Dickinson, 3 Swab. & Tr. 564 (assignee in bankruptcy of a creditor).

The treasurer of a county which has a claim against the estate for taxes may be appointed administrator. Bowen v. Stewart, 128 Ind. 507, 26 N. E. 168, 28 N. E. 73.

Representative as "largest creditor." — A person claiming as a trustee or fiduciary and not in his individual capacity is not entitled as "largest creditor" (Glenn v. Reed, 74 Md. 238, 24 Atl. 155), nor is the president of a corporation so preferred where the corporation is a creditor (Myers v. Cann, 95 Ga. 383, 22 S. E. 611. And see Holland v. Wheaton, 6 La. 443, 26 Am. Dec. 481).

Assignment after death.— Debts from a deceased person assigned after the death of the debtor will not constitute the assignee such a creditor as to entitle him to administration. Pearce v. Castrix, 53 N. C. 71.

92. Newcombe v. Beloe, L. R. 1 P. 314, 36 L. J. P. & M. 37, 16 L. T. Rep. N. S. 33 [explaining In re Fowler, 16 Jur. 894]. Contra, Sullivan's Estate, 25 Wash. 430, 65 Pac. 793.

Payment for burial clothes with the purpose of obtaining administration does not constitute a person making such payment a creditor so as to entitle him to appointment. In re Neubert, 58 S. C. 469, 36 S. E. 908.

93. Tanner v. Huss, 80 Ga. 614, 6 S. E. 18; Kaiser v. Hoffman, 18 La. 493.

A special agent or attorney of a creditor is not entitled to such a preference. Pitet's Succession, 9 La. Ann. 207; Chew v. Flint, 7 La. 395.

Resident creditor of non-resident intestate preferred to public administrator. Rosenthal v. Prussing, 108 Ill. 128.

94. Tanner v. Huss, 80 Ga. 614, 6 S. E. 18. But compare Brown v. King, 2 Ind. 520, holding that, where the largest creditor of an esas in other cases, and he should give security to administer justly or otherwise comply with the legal requirements as to qualifying for the office.[95]

g. Strangers. Some codes designate such "proper person" as may be willing to accept, without preference of creditors, and the general rule has been more or less confirmed by legislation both in England and the United States, that if there is no husband, widow, next of kin, or creditor willing and competent to undertake the trust, administration may be granted to such other person as the court deems fit.[96] But administration cannot in general be granted to a creditor or other third person until after the lapse of the statute time allowed for the application of husband, widow, next of kin, or others entitled to priority and suitable, nor except upon their failure to pursue their respective rights notwithstanding a due citation.[97]

h. Nominee of Person Entitled. In some jurisdictions the statutes give to the persons primarily entitled to administration the right to nominate a person to serve in their stead who, if suitable for the office, should be appointed by the tate applied for administration, and asked that two persons who were not creditors be associated with her, the clerk was authorized to appoint such persons as requested and it was error to revoke such appointment at the instance of other creditors.

95. In re Brackenbury, 2 P. D. 272, 46 L. J. P. & Adm. 42, 36 L. T. Rep. N. S. 744, 25 Wkly. Rep. 698. See infra, II, B, 3; II, J, 1, b.

96. California.— Clough v. Borello, (1897) 48 Pac. 330.

Maryland.— Jones v. Harbaugh, 93 Md. 269, 48 Atl. 827.

Michigan.— Wilkinson v. Conaty, 65 Mich. 614, 32 N. W. 841.

Missouri.— In re Hill, 102 Mo. App. 617, 77 S. W. 110; In re Gerstacker, 57 Mo. App. 71.

New York.— Matter of Paola, 36 Misc. 514, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 1062, holding that where it was desired to bring an action to recover for the death of a decedent by negligence, and his children and widow lived in Italy and the children were minors, letters of administration would be granted to a person described in the petition as the nearest friend of the decedent.

North Carolina.— Garrison v. Cox, 95 N. C. 353.

South Carolina.— Thompson v. Hucket, 2 Hill 347.

Texas.— Cain v. Haas, 18 Tex. 616.

Virginia.— McCandlish v. Hopkins, 6 Call 208.

Washington.—In re Sullivan, 25 Wash. 430, 65 Pac. 793.

West Virginia.— Bridgman v. Bridgman, 30 W. Va. 212, 3 S. E. 580.

England.— See In re Tyndall, 46 J. P. 169, 51 L. J. P. & Adm. 12, 30 Wkly. Rep. 231.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 53.

But compare Tanner v. Huss, 80 Ga. 614, 6 S. E. 18.

An impartial stranger may be preferable to widow or kindred where these are unsuitable (Hassinger's Appeal, 10 Pa. St. 454) or bitterly antagonistic (In re Warner, 207 Pa. St. 580, 57 Atl. 35, 99 Am. St. Rep. 804).

Widow may have stranger associated with her in trust. Shropshire v. Withers, 5 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 210.

Stranger not entitled to letters as matter of right.— In re Hill, 102 Mo. App. 617, 77 S. W. 110.

A coroner has no right by virtue of his office to ask to be appointed as administrator of a person found dead within his jurisdiction. Jones v. Harbaugh, 93 Md. 269, 48 Atl. 827.

One not a debtor to the estate will be preferred for the curatorship of a succession to another who is, even though the latter deposit in court the amount due by him. Lindner v. Goldenbow, 4 La. 143.

Appointee under marriage settlement.— Where a married woman died leaving a will which was not executed according to the law of her domicile, but was valid as an execution of a power of appointment in her marriage settlement, the court granted administration to the executrix named in the will as appointee under the settlement, but limited the grant to such property as the deceased had power to dispose of and did dispose of to her by the will, saying, however, that if the consent of the husband could be obtained a full grant might be taken. In re Trefond, [1899] P. 247, 68 L. J. P. & Adm. 82, 81 L. T. Rep. N. S. 56.

97. Alabama.— Markland v. Albes, 81 Ala. 433, 2 So. 123; Davis v. Swearingen, 56 Ala. 539.

Massachusetts.—Cobb v. Newcomb, 19 Pick. 336.

Missouri.— Mullanphy v. St. Louis County Ct., 6 Mo. 563.

Nebraska.— In re Miller, 32 Nebr. 480, 49 N. W. 427.

New Hampshire.— Munsey v. Webster, 24 N. H. 126.

North Carolina.— Hill v. Alspaugh, 72 N. C. 402.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 53.

Time for application see infra, II, H, 2.

Citation and notice see infra, II, H, 4.

Incompetency or unwillingness need not be alleged with reference to those entitled to the court;[98] but in others a person entitled to precedence in administration cannot himself renounce the office and vest the right of appointment in his nominee to the exclusion of those who are next entitled in the statute order.[99] Where, however, some or all of the persons to whom the statute gives the right to administer agree in nominating for the office or express a preference for the appointment of a certain person, whether one of their number or a stranger, the court, while it must be governed by its own sound discretion in the premises and is under no absolute duty to appoint the person so selected, will as a rule give great con-preference after such statute time has expired. Atkinson v. Hasty, 21 Nebr. 663, 33 N. W. 206.

98. California.— In re Wakefield, 136 Cal. 110, 68 Pac. 499; In re Shiel, 120 Cal. 347, 52 Pac. 808; In re Donovan, 104 Cal. 623, 38 Pac. 456; Dorris' Estate, 93 Cal. 611, 29 Pac. 244; Stevenson's Estate, 72 Cal. 164, 13 Pac. 404; In re Cotter, 54 Cal. 215; In re Robie, Myr. Prob. 226; In re Wyche, Myr. Prob. 85.

Illinois.— Strong v. Dignan, 207 Ill. 385, 69 N. E. 909, 99 Am. St. Rep. 225.

Montana.— In re Craigie, 24 Mont. 37, 60 Pac. 495; State v. Woody, 20 Mont. 413, 51 Pac. 975; In re Stewart, 18 Mont. 595, 46 Pac. 806.

Nebraska.— Atkinson v. Hasty, 21 Nebr. 665, 33 N. W. 206.

North Carolina.— Williams v. Neville, 108 N. C. 559, 13 S. E. 240; Little v. Berry, 94 N. C. 433; Wallis v. Wallis, 60 N. C. 78; Pearce v. Castrix, 53 N. C. 71; Ritchie v. McAuslin, 2 N. C. 220.

Washington.— McLean v. Roller, 33 Wash. 166, 73 Pac. 1123.

Wisconsin.— Sargent's Estate, 62 Wis. 130, 22 N. W. 131.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 57.

When the next of kin resides abroad it is within the power and is the duty of the probate court to grant administration to the appointee of the next of kin. Smith v. Munroe, 23 N. C. 345; Ritchie v. McAuslin, 2 N. C. 220. See also Strong v. Dignan, 207 Ill. 385, 69 N. E. 909, 99 Am. St. Rep. 225.

A widow who has married again before letters of administration are issued has nevertheless, under the California statute, the right to have the person whom she has nominated in writing appointed. In re Dow, 132 Cal. 309, 64 Pac. 402.

The guardian of a minor heir does not belong to any of the classes specified in Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1365, to whom administration shall be granted, and hence section 1379 which provides that "administration may be granted to one or more competent persons, although not otherwise entitled to the same, at the written request of the person entitled" does not entitle a guardian, conceding that he himself has a right to letters, to confer upon another person the right to administer. Woods' Estate, 97 Cal. 428, 32 Pac. 516.

Appointment of nominee is within discretion of court. In re Healy, 122 Cal. 162, 54 Pac. 736.

Right of nominee to have letters previously issued revoked.— Under Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1383, when letters of administration have been granted to "any person other than the surviving husband or wife, child, father, mother, brother, or sister of the intestate, any one of them who is competent or any competent person at the written request of any one of them may obtain the revocation of the letters and be entitled to the administration. Under section 1386 the surviving husband or wife, when letters of administration have been granted to "a child, father, brother, or sister of the intestate," may assert his or her prior right and obtain letters of administration. But neither the section last referred to nor any other gives to a nominee of the surviving husband or wife the right to obtain a revocation of letters which have been previously issued to a child, father, brother, or sister of the intestate and the appointment of himself as administrator in the stead of such person. In re Shiels, 120 Cal. 347, 52 Pac. 808.

A nomination may be revoked at any time before it has been acted upon. In re Shiels, 120 Cal. 347, 52 Pac. 808; Bedell's Estate, 97 Cal. 339, 32 Pac. 323.

When nomination too late.— On an appeal from an order of a county court granting letters of administration to one person and refusing them to another a petition, then first filed, asking the appointment of a third person may properly be disregarded, as the request comes too late. Sargent's Estate, 62 Wis. 130, 22 N. W. 131.

In English practice the right to select a third person appears not favored when the person entitled is resident in the jurisdiction and able to take letters himself, although it is otherwise in the case of non-residents. In re Burch, 30 L. J. P. & M. 171, 4 L. T. Rep. N. S. 451, 2 Swab. & Tr. 139, 9 Wkly. Rep. 639. See also Chambers v. Bicknell, 2 Hare 536, 7 Jur. 167, 24 Eng. Ch. 536.

Nominee of the crown.— In England where a person died intestate leaving no next of kin and the personal estate thus belonged to the crown administration has been granted to the nominee of the crown. See Atty.-Gen. v. Kohler, 9 H. L. Cas. 654, 8 Jur. N. S. 467, 5 L. T. Rep. N. S. 35, 9 Wkly. Rep. 933, 11 Eng. Reprint 885.

99. Kentucky.— Triplett v. Wells, Litt. Sel. Cas. 49.

Maryland.— Georgetown College v. Browne, 34 Md. 450.

Massachusetts.—Cobb v. Newcomb, 19 Pick. 336.

New Jersey.— Cresse's Case, 28 N. J. Eq. 236.

sideration to the wishes of the persons entitled to administer,[1] and under some statutes it is the absolute duty of the court to appoint the person selected by the majority of those entitled.[2] Administration may be granted to a person nominated by one who has a power of nomination expressly given by statute, notwithstanding the person making the nomination would himself be incompetent to serve as administrator;[3] but a statute merely permitting letters to issue to any competent person upon a written request of a person entitled to letters does not authorize the issuance of letters to a person nominated by one who for some reason is himself disqualified for the office.[4]

i. Joint Administrators. As the court ordinarily prefers a sole to a joint administration,[5] it has been held that, in order to authorize a joint grant to the widow and one of the next of kin, all the other next of kin must consent that the grant shall be so made.[6]

3. Competency or Suitableness to Serve[7]— a. In General. In many jurisdictions the court may pass over a person whose relation to the decedent would otherwise entitle him to preference, because of his unsuitableness for the trust.[8] Unsuitableness may consist in an adverse interest of some kind or hostility to

New York.— Matter of Root, 1 Redf. Surr. 257.

Pennsylvania.— McClellan's Appeal, 16 Pa. St. 110; William's Appeal, 7 Pa. St. 259; Lœffler's Estate, 8 Kulp 199. See also Heron's Estate, 6 Phila. 87.

South Carolina.— See McBeth v. Hunt, 2 Strobh. 335.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 57.

1. Louisiana.— Chaler's Succession, 39 La. Ann. 308, 1 So. 820. See also McNeely v. McNeely, 50 La. Ann. 823, 24 So. 338.

New Hampshire.— See Munsey v. Webster, 24 N. H. 126.

New Jersey.—Cramer v. Sharp, 49 N. J. Eq. 558, 24 Atl. 962. Compare Rinehart v. Rinehart, 27 N. J. Eq. 475.

New York.— Sheldon v. Wright, 5 N. Y. 497.

Pennsylvania.— In re Swarts, 189 Pa. St. 71, 41 Atl. 1000; Woods' Appeal, 55 Pa. St. 332; Scaufuss' Estate, 5 Kulp 275; Jones' Appeal, 10 Wkly. Notes Cas. 249.

South Carolina.— Ex. p. Ostendorff, 17 S. C. 22; McBeth v. Hunt, 2 Strobh. 335.

England.— Williams v. Wilkins, 2 Phillim. 100.

Creditor may select if next of kin do not. Lovering v. King, 97 Ind. 130.

Nominee of persons not next of kin.— Where the register of wills has improvidently issued letters of administration to one who was nominated by persons who were not the next of kin of the decedent it is proper for the orphans' court to revoke the letters so granted on the petition of the next of kin and direct the register to issue letters to the person nominated by the next of kin. In re Neidig, 183 Pa. St. 492, 38 Atl. 1033.

2. Halliday v. Du Bose, 59 Ga. 268; Mandeville v. Mandeville, 35 Ga. 243.

In a selection by attorneys for next of kin the special authority of the attorneys should appear in writing. Long v. Huggins, 72 Ga. 776.

3. Dorris' Estate, 93 Cal. 611, 29 Pac. 244; Stevenson's Estate, 72 Cal. 164, 13 Pac. 404; In re Cotter, 54 Cal. 215; In re Stewart, 18 Mont. 595, 46 Pac. 806; McLean v. Roller, 33 Wash. 166, 73 Pac. 1123.

Nomination by minor.— Mont. Prob. Pr. Act, § 58, gave the right of administration, first to "the surviving husband or wife, or some competent person whom he or she may request to have appointed." Section 59 provided that if the person entitled to letters was a minor, letters must issue to his guardian or any other person entitled to letters of administration in the discretion of the court. This latter section applied only to minors generally and not to a surviving husband or wife under the age of majority yet old enough to lawfully contract the marital relation, and as to minors sustaining such relation the section giving the right to nominate was special and controlled. In re Stewart, 18 Mont. 595, 46 Pac. 806.

4. In re Donovan, 104 Cal. 623, 38 Pac. 456; In re Muersing, 103 Cal. 585, 37 Pac. 520; State v. Woody, 20 Mont. 413, 51 Pac. 975; Sutton v. Public Administrator, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 33.

Incompetency resulting from non-residence.— Under Mont. Code Civ. Proc. § 2434, a person who is a non-resident of the state and for that reason incompetent to serve as administrator may, if incompetent only by reason of such non-residence, request the appointment of a resident and letters may issue to such resident. In re Craigie, 24 Mont. 37, 60 Pac. 495, where the court, however, recognized the decision in State v. Woody, 20 Mont. 413, 51 Pac. 975, holding that a non-resident could not nominate, as correct under the statute by which it was governed.

5. See infra, II, F, 2.

6. In re Newbold, L. R. 1 P. 285, 36 L. J. P. & M. 14, 15 L. T. Rep. N. S. 248, 15 Wkly. Rep. 262, holding that the consent of children who are minors is not sufficient to justify the court in making such a joint grant.

7. As to executors see supra, II, A, 3.

8. Chaler's Succession, 39 La. Ann. 308, 1 So. 820; Sears v. Wilson, 5 La. Ann. 689; those immediately interested in the estate, whether as creditors or distributees,[9] or of an interest adverse to the estate itself;[10] but a person otherwise suitable is not to be deemed incompetent merely because he is or represents a creditor,[11] nor is a person who is indebted to the estate necessarily disqualified.[12] That a person habitually industrious and solvent owes something or is poor does not disqualify him, but a bankrupt or insolvent, especially one who is habitually shiftless or embarrassed, would be an unsuitable person.[13] Weakness of mind or will, such as would or might subject one to sinister influence or coercion against the general interest of the estate, will constitute a sufficient objection.[14] Drunkenness may constitute a disqualification,[15] but something more gross than occasional intoxication must appear in order to preclude the appointment of the person entitled.[16] A person may also be disqualified by reason of improvidence,[17] a lack of integ-

Stearns v. Fiske, 18 Pick. (Mass.) 24; Pendleton v. Pendleton, 6 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 448; Fitzgerald v. Smith, (Tenn. Sup. 1904) 78 S. W. 1050.

Readiness to give bond does not overcome the objection of unsuitableness or incompetency. Stearns v. Fiske, 18 Pick. (Mass.) 24; In re Diller, 6 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 182.

9. California.— Cornell v. Gallaher, 16 Cal. 367.

Georgia.— Moody v. Moody, 29 Ga. 519.

Louisiana.— Weis' Succession, 43 La. Ann. 475, 9 So. 95.

Michigan.— Carpenter v. Wood, 131 Mich. 314, 91 N. W. 162.

Missouri.— State v. Reinhardt, 31 Mo. 95.

New Hampshire.— Drews' Appeal, 58 N. H. 319; Pickering v. Pendexter, 46 N. H. 69.

New Mexico.— Territory v. Valdez, 1 N. M. 548.

New York.— Churchill v. Prescott, 2 Bradf. Surr. 304.

Ohio.— In re Brennan, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 499, 5 Ohio N. P. 490.

Pennsylvania.— In re Schmidt, 183 Pa. St. 129, 38 Atl. 464; Bieber's Appeal, 11 Pa. St. 157; Robertson's Estate, 1 Pa. Dist. 317; Heron's Estate, 6 Phila. 87; Fulmer's Estate, 2 C. Pl. 65.

West Virginia.—Bridgman v. Bridgman, 30 W. Va. 212, 30 S. E. 580.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 66, 67.

But compare Wright v. Wright, 72 Ind. 149.

The case should be a clear one. Bauquier's Estate, 88 Cal. 478, 26 Pac. 373.

10. Harris' Estate, 3 Pa. Co. Ct. 220, 19 Wkly. Notes Cas. 538, holding that an administrator having such an interest should either abandon his own private claim against the interest of his trust or settle up his accounts and resign the trust. Contra, In re Brundage, 141 Cal. 538, 75 Pac. 175, holding that as between two persons, one of whom has as against the other an absolute right to letters of administration, the fact that he makes an adverse claim to property claimed by the estate, which is not made a ground of disqualification by the statute, does not authorize the denial of letters to him and the granting of them to the other.

11. Bowen v. Stewart, 128 Ind. 507, 26 N. E. 168, 28 N. E. 73. See supra, II, B, 2, f.

12. Weis' Succession, 43 La. Ann. 475, 9 So. 95; Kailer v. Kailer, 92 Md. 147, 48 Atl. 712; Morgan's Estate, 8 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 77, 2 How. Pr. N. S. (N. Y.) 194; Churchill v. Prescott, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 304. But compare Territory v. Valdez, 1 N. M. 548.

13. Levan's Appeal, 112 Pa. St. 294, 3 Atl. 804; Cornpropst's Appeal, 33 Pa. St. 537; Failor's Estate, 10 Pa. Super. Ct. 253; Robert's Estate, 3 Montg. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 212; Bell v. Timiswood, 2 Phillim. 22.

Insolvency is not to be inferred in doubtful cases. Lynch v. Lively, 32 Ga. 575.

14. Stearns v. Fiske, 18 Pick. (Mass.) 24, holding this especially so in choosing out of a class.

15. See Matter of Reichert, 34 Misc. (N. Y.) 288, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 644, 9 N. Y. Annot. Cas. 472.

16. Root v. Davis, 10 Mont. 228, 25 Pac. 105; Matter of Reichert, 34 Misc. (N. Y.) 288, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 644, 9 N. Y. Annot. Cas. 472; Matter of Manley, 12 Misc. (N. Y.) 472, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 258; Elmer v. Kechele, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 472; In re Kechele, Tuck. Surr. (N. Y.) 52.

17. Carmody's Estate, 88 Cal. 616, 26 Pac. 373; Root v. Davis, 10 Mont. 228, 25 Pac. 105; Cramer v. Sharp, 49 N. J. Eq. 558, 24 Atl. 962; Matter of Ferguson, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 465, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 1102.

What constitutes improvidence.— The improvidence which constitutes a ground of exclusion is that want of care or foresight in the management of property which would be likely to render the estate and effects of the intestate unsafe and liable to be lost or diminished in value by imprudence in case administration thereof should be committed to the improvident person. Emerson v. Bowers, 14 N. Y. 449; Coggshall v. Green, 9 Hun (N. Y.) 471; Coope v. Lowerre, 1 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 45; Matter of Cutting, 5 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 456. Thus gambling habits might establish improvidence. Emerson v. Bowers, 14 N. Y. 449; McMahon v. Harrison, 6 N. Y. 443 [affirming 10 Barb. 659 (reversing 1 Bradf. Surr. 283)]. But vicious conduct, improper and dishonest acquisition of property, and even loose habits of business do not constitute improvidence within the meaning of the statute, nor does the fact that the petitioner is indebted to the estate. Emerson v. Bowers, supra; Coggshall v. Green, supra; McMahon v. Harrison, 10 Barb. (N. Y.) 659; Coope v. Lowerre, supra. A conviction of larceny cannot of itself afford satisfactory evi-rity,[18] bad character,[19] or illiteracy,[20] although one who is intelligent and upright in accounts and business is not necessarily not incompetent simply because of illiteracy.[21] Under some statutes letters of administration must not be granted to a person who has been convicted of an infamous crime.[22] In some jurisdictions a surviving partner of the deceased is not competent as his administrator.[23] Insane persons are incompetent to be appointed or serve as administrators,[24] and so too are infants.[25] A corporation cannot lawfully be appointed unless the right to administer has been conferred by its charter.[26] For a judge of probate to be concerned in his own appointment as administrator is plainly unsuitable, and so also would be his appointment of an immediate relative, for the disqualification of personal interest applies to a judge even though wrong motive be absent.[27] Old age or merely physical disability does not disqualify,[28] nor does the fact that a woman entitled to the appointment is a nun.[29] A technical intermeddling with the effects before appointment does not of itself where not wilfully wrong disqualify the intermeddler from being appointed.[30]

b. Aliens or Non-Residents. Alienage is considered no incapacity in England as concerns personal property,[31] and in the United States also a citizen of a dence of the person so convicted being incompetent for appointment as administrator by reason of improvidence. O'Brien v. Neubert, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 156. A lack of property does not necessarily show improvidence. Root v. Davis, 10 Mont. 228, 25 Pac. 105. But see Matter of Ferguson, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 465, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 1102.

18. See Carmody's Estate, 88 Cal. 616, 26 Pac. 373.

Circumstances not showing lack of integrity.— See Carmody's Estate, 88 Cal. 616, 26 Pac. 373 (claim of entire estate); Root v. Davis, 10 Mont. 228, 25 Pac. 105.

19. In re Diller, 6 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 182.

Infidelity of wife.— That a wife has been unfaithful and violated her marital obligation does not disqualify her to act as administratrix of her husband's estate. In re Newman, 124 Cal. 688, 57 Pac. 686, 45 L. R. A. 780.

Undue intimacy with a distributee of the estate does not sufficiently import unsuitableness. Bennett v. Howard, 18 R. I. 384, 28 Atl. 333.

A suspicion that he will abuse his trust will not warrant the exclusion of a person not excluded by law. Rust v. Randolph, 5 Mart. (La.) 89.

20. Matter of Haley, 21 Misc. (N. Y.) 777, 49 N. Y. Suppl. 397 (person unable to read, write, or count money); Stephenson v. Stephenson, 49 N. C. 472.

21. Li Po Tai's Estate, 108 Cal. 484, 41 Pac. 486; In re Pacheco, 23 Cal. 476; In re Shilton, Tuck. Surr. (N. Y.) 73; Bowersox's Appeal, 100 Pa. St. 434, 45 Am. Rep. 387; Altemus' Case, 1 Ashm. (Pa.) 49.

22. McMahon v. Harrison, 6 N. Y. 443; Coope v. Lowerre, 1 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 45.

Actual conviction necessary.— Coggshall v. Green, 9 Hun (N. Y.) 471; Coope v. Lowerre, 1 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 45; O'Brien v. Neubert, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 156.

A conviction of crime in a foreign state does not disqualify a person under the New York statute as being "a person convicted of an infamous crime," for that statute refers only to crimes which are infamous within the meaning of the New York statutes. O'Brien v. Neubert, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 156.

23. Garber's Estate, 74 Cal. 338, 16 Pac. 233; Cornell v. Gallaher, 16 Cal. 367; Heward v. Slagle, 52 Ill. 336; Tilden v. Kendrick, 3 La. 471; Brown's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 127.

24. McGooch v. McGooch, 4 Mass. 348; McMahon v. Harrison, 6 N. Y. 443.

25. Collins v. Spears, Walk. (Miss.) 310; Carow v. Mowatt, 2 Edw. (N. Y.) 57.

A minor is not qualified by reason of the fact that he or she is married (Briscoe v. Tarkington, 5 La. Ann. 692), that she is a widow (Collins v. Spears, Walk. (Miss.) 310; Wallis v. Wallis, 60 N. C. 78), or that there are no other next of kin capable of administering (Rea v. Englesing, 56 Miss. 463).

Letters to a minor are voidable only and not void and by duly ratifying upon reaching majority the late infant continues in effect an adult administrator. Davis v. Miller, 106 Ala. 154, 17 So. 323. Contra, Knox v. Nobel, 77 Hun (N. Y.) 230, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 355.

26. Fidelity Ins., etc., Co. v. Niven, 5 Houst. (Del.) 163; Georgetown College v. Browne, 34 Md. 450; In re Thompson, 33 Barb. (N. Y.) 334.

Express grant of power to administer.— Certain corporations chartered of late years in England and in American states are expressly empowered to serve as executor or administrator. See In re Goddard, 94 N. Y. 544; Union Bank, etc., Co. v. Wright, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1900) 58 S. W. 755; In re Hunt, [1896] P. 288, 66 L. J. P. & Adm. 8.

27. Thornton v. Moore, 61 Ala. 347; Plowman v. Henderson, 59 Ala. 559; Echols v. Barrett, 6 Ga. 443; Hall v. Thayer, 105 Mass. 219, 7 Am. Rep. 513.

28. Matter of Berrien, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 263; Wilkey's Appeal, 108 Pa. St. 567.

29. Smith v. Young, 5 Gill (Md.) 197.

30. Bingham v. Crenshaw, 34 Ala. 683.

31. Schouler Ex. § 109.

foreign country has been appointed administrator;[32] but some of the states exclude or restrict the right of aliens, and particularly non-resident aliens to administer.[33] Mere non-residence as distinguished from alienage in the sense of citizenship in a foreign country is a disqualification in some states,[34] but in others a non-resident may be appointed administrator if he is a citizen of the United States.[35] Even where non-residence is not expressly made a disqualification it is a matter to be considered in determining the propriety of the appointment,[36] and as a general rule in the absence of special circumstances a non-resident should not be appointed so long as any other distributee competent to act and willing to assume the trust is within the jurisdiction of the court.[37]

c. Married Women. Under the common law and even under some codes a married woman is not competent to be an administratrix unless her husband consents or is joined with her in the trust,[38] but the general rule in modern

32. In re Picquet, 5 Pick. (Mass.) 65; Tanas v. Municipal Gas Co., 88 N. Y. App. Div. 251, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 1053, holding that N. Y. Code Civ. Proc. § 2661, enumerating the persons who shall not be appointed administrators and providing that letters shall not be issued "to a person not a citizen of the United States, unless he is a resident of the state," permits the appointment of one not a citizen if a resident of the state.

33. Schouler Ex. § 109. And see Tanas v. Municipal Gas Co., 88 N. Y. App. Div. 251, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 1053; Sutton v. Public Administrator, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 33.

34. California.— Stevenson's Estate, 72 Cal. 164, 13 Pac. 404; In re Beech, 63 Cal. 458.

Illinois.— Child v. Gratiot, 41 Ill. 357.

Ohio.— In re Ulhorn, 12 Ohio Cir. Ct. 765, 4 Ohio Cir. Dec. 526.

Pennsylvania.— Frick's Appeal, 114 Pa. St. 29, 6 Atl. 363; In re Bullock, 28 Pittsb. Leg. J. 252.

South Carolina.— In re Neubert, 58 S. C. 469, 36 S. E. 908 [distinguishing Jones v. Jones, 12 Rich. 623, as having been decided prior to the act of 1878, Rev. St. (1893) §§ 2067, 2068].

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 65.

Intention as bearing on residence.— Where a non-resident goes to a state to procure letters of administration on the estate of her husband, declaring her intention to remain there, the question of her residence depends on her intentions. In re Newman, 124 Cal. 688, 57 Pac. 686, 45 L. R. A. 780.

Evidence insufficient to show non-residence see In re Gordon, 142 Cal. 125, 75 Pac. 672.

35. Alabama.— Fulgham v. Fulgham, 119 Ala. 403, 24 So. 851.

Iowa.— Foley v. Cudahy Packing Co., 119 Iowa 246, 93 N. W. 284; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Gould, 64 Iowa 343, 20 N. W. 464.

Louisiana.— Penney's Succession, 10 La. Ann. 290.

Maryland.— Ehlen v. Ehlen, 64 Md. 360, 1 Atl. 880.

New York.— Libbey v. Mason, 112 N. Y. 525, 20 N. E. 355, 2 L. R. A. 795; In re Williams, 111 N. Y. 680, 19 N. E. 284; In re Page, 107 N. Y. 266, 14 N. E. 193; In re Williams, 44 Hun 67; Sterling's Estate, 9 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 448; Matter of Williams, 5 Dem. Surr. 292.

Rhode Island.— Weaver v. Chace, 5 R. I. 356.

Virginia.— Ex p. Barker, 2 Leigh 719.

West Virginia.— Bridgman v. Bridgman, 30 W. Va. 212, 3 S. E. 580.

Wisconsin.— Sargent's Estate, 62 Wis. 130, 22 N. W. 131.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 65.

Actual presence when application made sufficient.— Penney's Succession, 10 La. Ann. 290.

Non-residence within parish.— Persons living out of the parish where a succession is opened but within the state may be appointed curators. Tilden v. Kendrick, 3 La. 471.

36. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Gould, 64 Iowa 343, 20 N. W. 464.

37. Iowa.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Gould, 64 Iowa 343, 20 N. W. 464; O'Brien's Estate, 63 Iowa 622, 19 N. W. 797.

Kentucky.— Radford v. Radford, 5 Dana 156.

Virginia.— Ex p. Barker, 2 Leigh 719.

West Virginia.— Bridgman v. Bridgman, 30 W. Va. 212, 3 S. E. 580.

Wisconsin.— Sargent's Estate, 62 Wis. 130, 22 N. W. 131.

Non-residence does not deprive one of statutory priority of right to administration nor authorize the court to appoint a resident whose right is subordinate where the non-resident has applied for the appointment. Matter of Williams, 5 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 292.

38. Alabama.— Dowty v. Hall, 83 Ala. 165, 3 So. 315; English v. McNair, 34 Ala. 40.

Arkansas.— Ferguson v. Collins, 8 Ark. 241.

Georgia.— Leverett v. Dismukes, 10 Ga. 98, absolute disqualification under act of 1828.

Indiana.— Jenkins v. Jenkins, 23 Ind. 79; Keister v. Howe, 3 Ind. 268.

Maine.— Stewart's Appeal, 56 Me. 300.

New York.— Woodruff v. Cox, 2 Bradf. Surr. 153.

Texas.— Nickelson v. Ingram, 24 Tex. 630.

England.— In re Barber, 11 Ch. D. 442, 40 L. T. Rep. N. S. 649, 27 Wkly. Rep. 813.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 72.

times is that coverture does not constitute a disqualification for the office of administratrix.[39]

4. Renunciation or Waiver of Right[40]— a. In General. Renunciation or waiver of a precedent right to administer is clearly permissible.[41] Such renunciation should usually appear by writing[42] or as the result of non-appearance when duly cited.[43] Whether a writing amounts to renunciation or not depends upon its fair and reasonable import.[44] Long delay to assert priority may amount to tacit acquiescence in another's appointment,[45] and under some statutes persons entitled to priority in administration must assert their right within a fixed time or be deemed to have relinquished it.[46] A renunciation or waiver is shown by endeavoring to

When administratrix marries she and husband must give bond. Cramer v. Sharpe, 49 N. J. Eq. 558, 24 Atl. 962.

A wife living apart from her husband under a deed of separation may be appointed. In re Hardinge, 2 Curt. Eccl. 640. And see In re Maychell, 4 P. D. 74, 47 L. J. P. & Adm. 31, 39 L. T. Rep. N. S. 94, 26 Wkly. Rep. 439.

A married woman may resign without the concurrence of her husband and her resignation necessarily terminates the co-administration of her husband. Rambo v. Wyatt, 32 Ala. 363, 70 Am. Dec. 544.

39. Binnerman v. Weaver, 8 Md. 517; In re Guldin, 81* Pa. St. 362; In re Gyger, 65 Pa. St. 311; In re Nurnberger, 40 S. C. 334, 18 S. E. 935. And see Sloane's Succession, 12 La. Ann. 610, holding that a woman, although she cannot be a curatrix, may yet administer as a beneficiary heir.

40. Renunciation by executors see supra, II, A, 4.

41. See Triplett v. Wells, Litt. Sel. Cas. (Ky.) 49.

A creditor entitled to administer may, like persons prior in right, renounce the trust or fail to respond when cited in. Carpenter v. Jones, 44 Md. 625.

Person may renounce without appearing in court. Triplett v. Wells, Litt. Sel. Cas. (Ky.) 49.

Ineffective renunciation.— Where a son renounces in the common form his right to letters of administration in favor of a stranger, but the other children do not ratify his nomination, his renunciation does not have the effect of depriving him of his right to letters of administration. Lœffler's Estate, 8 Kulp (Pa.) 199.

Conditional renunciation.— Where a person legally entitled to administration on the estate of a deceased person renounces in favor of another and requests that letters be granted to him such renunciation is conditional and not absolute and, the letters granted to such person having been subsequently revoked, the person so renouncing is entitled to claim administration. Gause's Estate, 1 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 105.

Agreement to renounce.— The law considers an agreement whose consideration is the relinquishment of the right to administer by one party to another against sound policy. Bowers v. Bowers, 26 Pa. St. 74, 67 Am. Dec. 398. See also Brown v. Stewart, 4 Md. Ch. 368; Swiggertt v. White, 8 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 452, 8 Cinc. L. Bul. 22; and supra, II, A, 4, a. But compare Bassett v. Miller, 8 Md. 548 [explaining Owings v. Owings, 1 Harr. & G. (Md.) 484].

42. Barbee v. Converse, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 330. See also Muirhead v. Muirhead, 6 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 451.

Renunciation by attorney.—In England the usual practice of the registry has been to require renunciations of the right to administer on the estate of an intestate to be under the hand of the person entitled to the grant, but in a case where the person entitled to the grant, being resident out of England, had by a power of attorney specially authorized his brother to execute for him an instrument of renunciation and consent the court acted on a renunciation and consent so executed. In re Rosser, 33 L. J. P. & M. 155, 10 L. T. Rep. N. S. 695, 3 Swab. & Tr. 490, 12 Wkly. Rep. 1014.

43. See Stebbins v. Lathrop, 4 Pick. (Mass.) 33.

44. Maryland.— Carpenter v. Jones, 44 Md. 625.

Massachusetts.— Arnold v. Sabin, 1 Cush. 525.

New Jersey.— Rinehart v. Rinehart, 27 N. J. Eq. 475.

North Carolina.— Williams v. Neville, 108 N. C. 559, 13 S. E. 240.

Pennsylvania.— McClellan's Appeal, 16 Pa. St. 110.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 78.

45. McColgan v. Kenny, 68 Md. 258, 11 Atl. 819; Hill v. Alspaugh, 72 N. C. 402; Jinkins v. Sapp, 48 N. C. 510; Sutton's Estate, 31 Wash. 340, 71 Pac. 1012.

It is a question of law for the court whether the delay to take out letters of administration by one having the prior right thereto is so unreasonable as to entitle another person to letters. Hughes v. Pipkin, 61 N. C. 4.

46. Alabama.— Forrester v. Forrester, 37 Ala. 398; Curtis v. Burt, 34 Ala. 729; Curtis v. Williams, 33 Ala. 570.

Arkansas.— Grantham v. Williams, 1 Ark. 270.

Kentucky.— Cotton v. Taylor, 4 B. Mon. 357.

Michigan.— In re Sprague, 125 Mich. 357, 84 N. W. 293.

Nebraska.— Spencer v. Wolfe, 49 Nebr. 8, 67 N. W. 858.

North Carolina.— Williams v. Neville, 108 N. C. 559, 13 S. E. 240.

procure the appointment of another,[47] and the right to administration of the estate of a spouse may also be either expressly or impliedly renounced by antenuptial or post-nuptial agreements.[48]

b. Retraction of Renunciation.[49] In some jurisdictions a renunciation of the right to administer may be retracted at any time before a grant of administration is made to another;[50] but as a general rule a retraction of a renunciation is not favored,[51] and it is certainly not permissible after another person has been appointed to the office[52] or even while proceedings for such appointment are pending.[53]

C. Administrators With Will Annexed[54] — 1. In General. Where a decedent has left a will but such will does not nominate any executors, or none of the persons named as executors can or will act as such, the court appoints a person to perform the necessary duties connected with the settlement of the estate, and such appointee is termed an administrator "with the will annexed," or "cum testamento annexo."[55] Administration with the will annexed should Rhode Island.— Johnson v. Johnson, 15 R. I. 109, 23 Atl. 106.

Washington.— McLean v. Roller, 33 Wash. 166, 73 Pac. 1123.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 79.

47. In re Silvar, (Cal. 1896) 46 Pac. 296; In re Sullivan, 25 Wash. 430, 65 Pac. 793.

48. California.— In re Davis, 106 Cal. 453, 39 Pac. 756.

Maryland.— Ward v. Thompson, 6 Gill & J. 349. And see Maurer v. Naill, 5 Md. 324.

Mississippi.— Fowler v. Kell, 14 Sm. & M. 68.

New York.— See Matter of Wilson, 92 Hun 318, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 882.

Virginia.— Charles v. Charles, 8 Gratt. 486, 56 Am. Dec. 155; Bray v. Dudgeon, 6 Munf. 132.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 80.

Agreement not showing renunciation.— An antenuptial agreement allowing the wife in case she survived her husband a certain share in his personal estate and the income from his real estate and providing that she would not claim any further interest in the estate did not deprive her of the right to administer. Sieber's Appeal, 1 Pennyp. (Pa.) 191.

A marriage settlement merely modifying or relinquishing the husband's property rights in his wife's estate does not deprive him of his right of administration. Miller v. Reinhart, 18 Ga. 239; O'Rear v. Crum, 135 Ill. 294, 25 N. E. 1097; Hart v. Soward, 12 B. Mon. (Ky.) 391.

Separation agreement.— The fact that a wife agreed with her husband for a consideration to live separate from him during their natural lives, and did so, and to make no claim against his estate, does not deprive her of her first right to administer on the estate of such husband. In re Garrettson, 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 396, 21 Cinc. L. Bul. 54.

49. By executors see supra, II, A, 4, c.

50. In re Treadwell, 37 Misc. (N. Y.) 584, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 1058; Casey v. Gardiner, 4 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 13; West v. Willby, 3 Phillim. 374.

Grant to person not entitled.— A renunciation by decedent's next of kin in favor of one who was subsequently held not entitled to letters of administration will not preclude the next of kin from intervening and claiming letters as against a contestant in a proceeding to revoke the letters erroneously granted. Matter of Haug, 29 Misc. (N. Y.) 36, 60 N. Y. Suppl. 382.

The right of retraction is not absolute, but the renunciation cannot be withdrawn without the consent of the surrogate. In re Clute, 37 Misc. (N. Y.) 710, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 456.

51. In re Kirtlan, 16 Cal. 161; Triplett v. Wells, Litt. Sel. Cas. (Ky.) 49; Lutz v. Mahan, 80 Md. 233, 30 Atl. 645.

52. Lewis' Estate, 15 Pa. Co. Ct. 397.

Renunciation by mistake.— Where one entitled to administration has renounced and recommended another who has been appointed and it afterward appears to the satisfaction of the orphan's court that such renunciation was executed by mistake the court will cancel the appointment and restore the person entitled to the right of administration. Thomas v. Knighton, 23 Md. 318, 87 Am. Dec. 571.

53. In re Silvar, (Cal. 1896) 46 Pac. 296.

54. Powers and duties see infra, XIX.

55. California.— In re McCullough, Myr. Prob. 76.

Kentucky.— Peebles v. Watts, 9 Dana 102, 33 Am. Dec. 531.

Louisiana.— Rice's Succession, 21 La. Ann. 614; Girod v. Girod, 18 La. 394.

Massachusetts.— Stebbins v. Lathrop, 4 Pick. 33.

Mississippi.— Vick v. Vicksburg, 1 How. 379, 31 Am. Dec. 167. See also Cox v. Cox, 8 Sim. & M. 292.

New Hampshire.— Leavitt v. Leavitt, 65 N. H. 102, 18 Atl. 920.

New Jersey.— In re Maxwell, 3 N. J. Eq. 611.

New York.— In re Depau, Tuck. Surr. 290.

North Carolina.—Suttle v. Turner, 53 N. C. 403; Springs v. Erwin, 28 N. C. 27.

England.— In re Crawshay, [1893] P. 108, 62 L. J. P. & M. 91, 68 L. T. Rep. N. S. 260, 1 Reports 477, 41 Wkly. Rep. 303; In re Alston, [1892] P. 142, 61 L. J. P. & Adm. 92, 66 L. T. Rep. N. S. 591.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 107.

not be granted unless the exigency is made apparent;[56] and executors named, if alive and competent, should have full opportunity to take or renounce the trust.[57] It is also necessary that there should be a valid will,[58] but where there is such a will a grant of administration must be with the will annexed.[59]

2. Persons Entitled to Appointment — a. Statutory Regulation. The selection of an administrator with the will annexed, like that of an ordinary administrator, is largely regulated by statutes prescribing the order in which particular persons shall be entitled to preference.[60] The governing principle is that the person most beneficially interested under the will shall have the preference, and as a general

Dative testamentary executor.— Under La. Civ. Code (1900), arts. 1678–1679, if a testator has omitted to name a testamentary executor or if the one named refuses to accept, a person is appointed by the court to execute the will and such appointee is termed the "dative testamentary executor." In so far, however, as there are distinctions between executors and administrators such appointee appears to belong more properly to the latter class. See Gusman's Succession, 35 La. Ann. 404.

Where the executor dies without having applied for letters, administration with the will annexed must be granted. In re McDonald, 118 Cal. 277, 50 Pac. 399.

Letters should be granted in proper jurisdiction for probating will. In re Eyster, 5 Watts (Pa.) 132.

Record should show cause for granting such administration. See Peebles v. Watts, 9 Dana (Ky.) 102, 33 Am. Dec. 531; Van Giessen v. Bridgford, 83 N. Y. 348.

Where the testator withdraws administration from the county court as he has a right to do under the Texas statutes, he cannot delegate the power to nominate an executor to succeed the executor named in the will and keep his estate under the administration of such successor free from the control of the county court, but upon the death of the executor or executors named in the will an administrator de bonis non with the will annexed is properly appointed and the estate administered under the orders of the court notwithstanding a provision in the will that if the executors fail to qualify or die after qualification the probate court shall appoint one or more executors with the will annexed, in which case the independent character of the administration shall be maintained. In re Grant, 93 Tex. 68, 53 S. W. 372.

Time for application.— A grant of administration with the will annexed is governed by the statute providing that "no will shall be proved after ten years from the death of the testator," and not by the statute providing that "administration upon the estate of any person shall not be granted after seven years from his decease," the latter being applicable only to intestate estates. In re Lawrence, 49 Conn. 411.

Executor whose nomination revoked.— A person originally appointed executor by a will but whose name was afterward stricken out by direction of the testator has not a sufficient interest to warrant the issuing of a supersedeas at his request to reverse an order appointing an administrator with the will annexed in default of executors. Sayre v. Grymes, 1 Hen. & M. (Va.) 404.

56. See In re Butler, [1898] P. 9, 67 L. J. P. & Adm. 15, 46 Wkly. Rep. 445; Goods of Ponsonby, [1895] P. 287, 64 L. J. P. & Adm. 119, 11 Reports 613, 44 Wkly. Rep. 240, where, an executor being bodily incapacitated by illness, temporary letters were granted to a residuary legatee for the use of the executor until his recovery.

Where an executor dies after qualification administration with the will annexed will not be granted to the next of kin of the testator as the chain of executorship may be continued in the executors of the deceased executor. In re Reid, [1896] P. 129, 65 L. J. P. & Adm. 60, 74 L. T. Rep. N. S. 462.

Previous qualification of executor.— The appointment of an administrator with the will annexed is not necessarily void because an executor had previously been duly qualified and letters testamentary issued to him, for the executor may have resigned or been removed before the administrator was appointed. Printup v. Patton, 91 Ga. 422, 18 S. E. 311. But such an appointment while an executor properly appointed and qualified is in office is absolutely void. Kane v. Paul, 14 Pet. (U. S.) 33, 10 L. ed. 311.

57. Wheeler v. Stifler, 82 Md. 648, 33 Atl. 434; Baldwin v. Buford, 4 Yerg. (Tenn.) 16; Thompson v. Meek, 7 Leigh (Va.) 419.

58. Coleman's Estate, 2 Pa. Dist. 206, 13 Pa. Co. Ct. 81. See infra, II, N, 4.

Pending an appeal from probate of the will administration with the will annexed cannot properly be granted. In re Fisher, 15 Wis. 511.

59. Ewing v. Sneed, 5 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 459, holding that after a will made in another state has been recorded in the court of appeals an appointment of an administrator by a county court without the will annexed is void.

60. See In re Clute, 37 Misc. (N. Y.) 710, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 456; Matter of Beakes, 5 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 128; Quintard v. Morgan, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 168; In re Ward, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 254.

The same order as in case of intestacy prevails in some states. Garber's Estate, 74 Cal. 338, 16 Pac. 233; In re Meyers, 113 N. C. 545, 18 S. E. 689.

In the case of a testate non-resident, if the executor neglects or refuses to act in the state where property is located, the appointment of the administrator with the will annexed should be left wholly to the discretion of the judge of probate the same as the ap-rule to cover the cases not specially provided for the person having the right to the estate ought to have the right of administration.[61]

b. Residuary Legatee. As a general rule the residuary legatee is preferred in the appointment before all other persons.[62] Even though the estate be such that the residuary legatee is not likely to have a residue or by the terms of the will he must hold that residue with limitations the presumption of the testator's favor upholds his claim to be first considered,[63] and where a person is not only sole residuary legatee but sole beneficiary under the will, his claim for appointment where an executor is wanting becomes still stronger.[64]

c. Principal or Specified Legatee. In New York the right to administration with the will annexed belongs, subject only to the prior right of the residuary legatee, to a principal or specified legatee.[65]

pointment of the administrator in the case of a non-resident intestate. In such case the statute providing that "when a person living out of a state shall die intestate, leaving property within the state, administration may be granted in any district where the estate or some part thereof shall be, to such person as the court shall see fit" governs, and not the statute providing that "upon the refusal of an executor to accept the trust or give a bond the court shall commit administration of the estate with the will annexed to the widow or next of kin of the deceased, and may cite them to appear before it, and upon their refusal, or neglect of appearance, or incapacity, may grant administration to one of the principal creditors, or on their refusal to such other person as the court shall think fit"; for the latter statute is a rule for the guidance of the probate court only in confiding administration upon the estates of deceased residents. Lawrence's Appeal, 49 Conn. 411, 420.

Removal of appointee not primarily entitled.—The California statute providing that when letters of administration have been granted to any person other than the surviving wife, child, etc., of the intestate any one of them may obtain the revocation of letters and become entitled to the administration, is expressly limited to the estates of those who died intestate, and does not apply to letters of administration with the will annexed. Li Po Tai's Estate, (Cal. 1895) 39 Pac. 30.

61. Long v. Huggins, 72 Ga. 776.

62. Mississippi.— Jordan v. Ball, 44 Miss. 194.

New Hampshire.— Leavitt v. Leavitt, 65 N. H. 102, 18 Atl. 920.

New Jersey.— In re Booraem, 55 N. J. Eq. 759, 37 Atl. 727; In re Kirkpatrick, 22 N. J. Eq. 463.

New York.— In re Clute, 37 Misc. 710, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 456; Matter of Milhau, 28 Misc. 366, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 910; Matter of Place, 4 N. Y. St. 533.

Pennsylvania.— In re Padelford, 189 Pa. St. 634, 42 Atl. 287.

England.— In re Campion, [1900] P. 13, 69 L. J. P. & Adm. 19, 81 L. T. Rep. N. S. 790, 48 Wkly. Rep. 288; In re McAuliffe, [1895] P. 290, 64 L. J. P. & Adm. 126, 73 L. T. Rep. N. S. 193, 11 Reports 610; Jones v. Beytagh, 3 Phillim. 635; Atkinson v. Barnard, 2 Phillim. 316.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 108.

Upon the death of a sole executor the residuary legatee is first entitled to letters, as against the widow, in like manner as if the executor had renounced. Bradley v. Bradley, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 512.

Where there are several residuary legatees any one or more of them may be appointed as the courts may see fit (Matter of Powell, 5 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 281; Matter of Beakes, 5 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 128) and where one legatee refuses to act the other must be appointed (Matter of Place, 4 N. Y. St. 533).

Who is the residuary legatee.— Where a will creates a residuary estate and places it in trust for the wife of the testator during her life or until her marriage and after her decease or marriage gives the residuary estate to other persons, such persons are the residuary legatees and not the widow. Matter of Drowne, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 279, 1 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 163. See also Matter of Ferguson, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 465, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 1102.

Testamentary provisions constituting one residuary legatees.— See Elliott's Estate, 2 Pa. Dist. 382, 12 Pa. Co. Ct. 410.

63. Mallory's Appeal, 62 Conn. 218, 25 Atl. 109; Hutchinson v. Lambert, 3 Add. Eccl. 27; Atkinson v. Barnard, 2 Phillim. 316.

A mere trustee of the residue is not entitled to appointment, for in that case the cestui que trust should be preferred as the real beneficiary. Girod v. Girod, 18 La. 394; In re Thompson, 33 Barb. (N. Y.) 334; Matter of Roux, 5 Dem. (N. Y.) 523; In re Ditchfield, L. R. 2 P. 152, 23 L. T. Rep. N. S. 325, 18 Wkly. Rep. 1144.

64. Horskins v. Morel, T. U. P. Charlt. (Ga.) 69; Robert's Estate, 3 Montg. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 212; In re Campion, [1900] P. 13, 69 L. J. P. & Adm. 19, 81 L. T. Rep. N. S. 790, 48 Wkly. Rep. 288; In re Crawshay, [1893] P. 108, 62 L. J. P. & Adm. 91, 68 L. T. Rep. N. S. 260, 1 Reports 477, 41 Wkly. Rep. 303.

65. In re Clute, 37 Misc. (N. Y.) 710, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 456; Matter of Milhau, 28 Misc. (N. Y.) 366, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 910.

The word "principal" as used in the New York statute is not used as a synonym for chief or most important, but has the force and

d. Surviving Spouse. In some jurisdictions the surviving husband or widow has the first right,[66] but as a general rule the right of the surviving spouse is subsequent to that of persons interested under the will.[67]

e. Next of Kin. The next of kin of a testator, especially if they have a beneficial interest in the estate or if the will contains no clear disposition of the residue, have a right to administration with the will annexed, which right is usually subsequent to that of legatees or the surviving spouse but prior to that of any creditor or stranger.[68]

f. Creditors. In some jurisdictions a creditor may be appointed, his right being, however, subsequent to that of all the classes previously discussed.[69]

g. Other Persons. In case no person belonging to any one of the classes before mentioned applies for or is willing to take administration with the will annexed the court may appoint some other suitable person.[70] effect rather of the word "general" and is meant to be descriptive of all legatees who are neither specific nor residuary. Morgan's Estate, 8 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 77.

One who is a legatee, although not named in the will, is entitled to apply for letters of administration with the will annexed. Wood's Estate, 17 N. Y. Suppl. 354, 27 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 329, so holding where a bequest was made to M and others and the issue of such as should be dead and application was made by a child of M after his death.

Beneficiary of trust.— Where testator devised his real estate equally to his seven children, and to a trustee for the eighth for life, with remainder over to his issue, the beneficiary was entitled equally with the other children to be appointed administrator. In re Treadwell, 37 Misc. (N. Y.) 584, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 1058.

Preferences.— Where a testator devised his entire estate "as provided by the laws in case of intestacy" and the legatees entitled thereunder are of the same grade and character no one of them has any absolute legal right as such to be chosen in preference to any other as administrator with the will annexed, although the one having the greatest interest has a superior claim to the appointment. Morgan's Estate, 8 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 77.

66. Brodie v. Mitchell, 85 Md. 516, 37 Atl. 169; In re Meyers, 113 N. C. 545, 18 S. E. 689.

67. Thornton v. Winston, 4 Leigh (Va.) 152; In re Bailey, 30 L. J. P. & M. 190, 4 L. T. Rep. N. S. 90, 9 Wkly. Rep. 540, 2 Swab. & Tr. 135. Contra, Salmon v. Hays, 4 Hagg. Eccl. 382.

Under the New York code the surviving spouse and the next of kin are placed on an equality with reference to the right to administration with the will annexed, their right coming after that of legatees. See Bradley v. Bradley, 3 Redf. Surr. 512. But the widow is entitled to preference over the guardian of an infant next of kin, who is not a residuary or specified legatee. Cluett v. Mattice, 43 Barb. (N. Y.) 417.

Preference of trustee under will.— In a case where testatrix had been deserted by her husband fifteen years prior to her death and had not heard of or from him after such desertion the court passed over the husband without citation of any kind and granted administration with the will annexed to the son of the testatrix who by the will was nominated trustee and manager of certain property which represented substantially the whole estate of testatrix. In re Shoosmith, [1894] P. 23, 63 L. J. P. & Adm. 64, 70 L. T. Rep. N. S. 809, 6 Reports 567.

68. Massachusetts.—Stebbins v. Lathrop, 4 Pick. 33.

New York.— Kircheis v. Scheig, 3 Redf. Surr. 277, holding that where the sole legatee of the testatrix died letters of administration which had been issued to sisters of the half blood of the testatrix who were her only next of kin could not be revoked on the petition of one claiming under the will of the sole legatee.

North Carolina.— Little v. Berry, 94 N. C. 433.

Pennsylvania.— See Job's Estate, 23 Pa. Super. Ct. 611.

Wisconsin.— Finch v. Houghton, 19 Wis. 149.

England.— In re Alston, [1892] P. 142, 61 L. J. P. & Adm. 92, 66 L. T. Rep. N. S. 591; In re Aston, 6 P. D. 203, 45 J. P. 816, 46 J. P. 104, 50 L. J. P. & Adm. 77, 30 Wkly. Rep. 92; Kooystra v. Buyskes, 3 Phillim. 531.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 108.

69. In re Clute, 37 Misc. (N. Y.) 710, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 456.

A claimant under a contract with executors is not a creditor of the estate in such sense as to entitle him to appointment. Fowler v. Walter, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 240.

70. In re Neave, 9 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 186 (where the son of an executor who was administrator to his father was appointed); In re Butler, [1898] P. 9, 67 L. J. P. & Adm. 15, 46 Wkly. Rep. 445 (where a testator having died insolvent, after executing a deed of assignment for the benefit of his creditors, his executors having renounced, and no one interested under the will applying for a grant of administration with the will annexed, but a personal representative being required for the purpose of conveying certain leaseholds to the trustee of the deed of

h. Representative of Person Entitled. The right to administration with the will annexed has been held to pass to the assignee of the person entitled,[71] or in case of such person's death to his personal representative,[72] and where the person entitled is a minor administration should, it has been held, be granted to his guardian.[73] Letters have also been granted to the attorney of the person entitled,[74] and a custom has been recognized in some courts to grant letters to the attorney of a foreign executor.[75]

i. Nominee of Person Entitled. In some jurisdictions the right of the person entitled to administration with the will annexed to nominate a person to act as such administrator in his stead has been sustained,[76] and it has also been held that a person having a prior right to be appointed administrator with the will annexed may have another person appointed with him as his co-administrator, even though such person be a stranger.[77]

j. Person Nominated as Executor. Under certain circumstances a person nominated as executor by the will may be unwilling or unable to act as such and yet may serve as administrator with the will annexed.[78]

k. Preferences. The preferences which are recognized in the appointment of ordinary administrators[79] obtain where there are several persons equally entitled to administration with the will annexed,[80] and the will, or even the tes-assignment, it was held proper to make a grant of administration with the will annexed to the trustee or his nominee, limited to the property to be conveyed).

71. In re Clute, 37 Misc. (N. Y.) 710, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 456. See also In re Campion, [1900] P. 13, 69 L. J. P. & Adm. 19, 81 L. T. Rep. N. S. 790, 48 Wkly. Rep. 288.

72. In re Booraem, 55 N. J. Eq. 759, 37 Atl. 727. Contra, In re Brown, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 785, 19 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 278, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 386, holding that, where a residuary legatee survives the testator but dies before the will is admitted to probate, letters will not be issued to his personal representatives, but the right to administration will pass to the next class named in the statute.

73. Gusman's Succession, 36 La. Ann. 299; In re Lasak, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 740; Matter of Tyler, 19 N. Y. St. 897, 6 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 48; Blanck v. Morrison, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 297.

A trust company which is the guardian of the sole residuary legatee is not entitled to letters of administration with the will annexed in preference to a general legatee under the will. Matter of Milhau, 28 Misc. (N. Y.) 366, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 910.

74. Rice's Succession, 21 La. Ann. 614 (holding that an attorney to collect a legacy has a sufficient interest in the estate of the testator to entitle him to be appointed dative testamentary executor); Russell v. Hartt, 87 N. Y. 19.

75. St. Jurjo v. Dunscomb, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 105; In re Bayard, 1 Rob. Eccl. 768.

76. In re Padelford, 189 Pa. St. 634, 42 Atl. 287. See also Job's Estate, 23 Pa. Super. Ct. 611.

The nominee of the guardian of infant residuary legatees should be appointed. Gunton's Estate, 3 Kulp (Pa.) 34.

The nominee of an assignee of the residuary legatee has been appointed. In re Campion, [1900] P. 13, 69 L. J. P. & Adm. 19, 81 L. T. Rep. N. S. 790, 48 Wkly. Rep. 288.

An executor cannot nominate a person for appointment as administrator with the will annexed. Garber's Estate, 74 Cal. 338, 16 Pac. 233. See also Brodie v. Mitchell, 85 Md. 516, 37 Atl. 169. Contra, Coleman's Estate, 3 Pa. Dist. 558, 15 Pa. Co. Ct. 252.

Where several are equally entitled one of them who desires the appointment is entitled thereto in preference to a stranger whom others desire to act. Williams' Appeal, 7 Pa. St. 259, where letters which had been granted to the nominee of the executor were revoked and administration granted to one of the children of the deceased, although some of the other children did not wish the appointee removed.

In Maryland the right of administration cannot be delegated. Brodie v. Mitchell, 85 Md. 516, 37 Atl. 169; Georgetown College v. Browne, 34 Md. 450.

77. Matter of Moehring, 24 Misc. (N. Y.) 418, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 730; Morgan's Estate, 8 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 77; In re Meyers, 113 N. C. 545, 18 S. E. 689.

78. Murphy v. Murphy, 24 Mo. 526 (where an executor's appointment was avoided because he was an attesting witness); In re Kirkpatrick, 22 N. J. Eq. 463; In re Blisset, 44 L. T. Rep. N. S. 816 (where a surviving husband and universal legatee renounced the executorship and afterward probated the will).

One may decline to be sole executor and yet be appointed jointly with some other person as administrator with the will annexed. Briscoe v. Wickliffe, 6 Dana (Ky.) 157; Quintard v. Morgan, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 168.

79. See supra, II, B, 2, d, (II).

80. See Matter of Drowne, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 279, 1 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 163.

Males preferred to females.— Wood's Estate, 17 N. Y. Suppl. 354, 27 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 329, Pow. Surr. (N. Y.) 25; Matter of Drowne, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 279, 1 Connoly Surr.

tator's expressed wish as between persons having equal rights, may also conclude the choice in case of doubt.[81]

3. Competency. With reference to the eligibility and qualifications of persons for the office of administrators with the will annexed, the rules are practically the same as with respect to ordinary administrators,[82] and a person who would have been ineligible for appointment as administrator if the decedent had died intestate cannot be appointed administrator with the will annexed.[83]

4. Proceedings For Appointment. Notice of the application for letters must be given to persons having a right prior to the applicant,[84] but a written petition for probate of the will is not necessary to give the court jurisdiction to appoint an administrator with the will annexed.[85]

5. Renunciation. The right to administration with the will annexed may of course be renounced,[86] but the fact that a person who is entitled to administer generally renounced that right when it was supposed that the decedent had died intestate does not deprive him of the right to administration with the will annexed, upon the subsequent discovery of a will and renunciation by the executor.[87]

D. Administrators De Bonis Non[88]— 1. In General. In case the office of an executor or administrator becomes vacant before the estate is completely settled there is a new appointment by the court to complete the settlement of the estate, the appointee in such case being termed an administrator "de bonis non,"[89]

(N. Y.) 163; Williams' Appeal, 7 Pa. St. 259.

Where some of the legatees are infants any claim that might be made by their guardian is secondary to the claim of an adult legatee legally qualified. Morgan's Estate, 8 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 77.

Discretion of court.— Where there are two or more persons equally entitled to the appointment the selection rests in the discretion of the court. Huie's Succession, 23 La. Ann. 401; Bernard's Succession, 3 La. Ann. 565.

81. Womack v. Watson, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 907; Matter of Powell, 5 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 281; Quintard v. Morgan, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 168; Groves' Estate, 2 Del. Co. (Pa.) 64.

Reversal of grant already made.— While an expressed wish of decedent that a certain person should settle up her estate would be strong ground to sustain the appointment of such person or to secure it pending a question of discretion before the register, it is not of any weight to reverse a grant of letters already made to a fit person of the right class. Groves' Estate, 2 Del. Co. (Pa.) 64.

82. See supra, II, B, 3.

A married woman may be appointed dative testamentary executrix with the consent of her husband. Cordeviolle's Succession, 24 La. Ann. 47.

Contestant in proceeding involving will.— A legatee is not disqualified under the statute from being appointed as administrator with the will annexed merely because he is the contestant in a proceeding involving the construction of the will and the ascertainment of the amount to which the several legatees are entitled. Morgan's Estate, 8 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 77.

Adverse interest.— Where a testator leaves a will without naming an executor and it appears that in his lifetime he had begun a suit against his daughter which suit was pending at his death it is improper to appoint the daughter as administratrix with the will annexed. Job's Estate, 23 Pa. Super. Ct. 611.

Where husband of legatee engaged in contest with estate.— The fact that a demand against the husband of a residuary legatee had been put in suit and resulted in a judgment in his favor from which the personal representatives had appealed is no objection to appointing the residuary legatee administratrix with the will annexed. Matter of Place, 4 N. Y. St. 533.

83. Garber's Estate, 74 Cal. 338, 16 Pac. 233.

84. Pfarr v. Belmont, 39 La. Ann. 294, 1 So. 681; Brodie v. Mitchell, 85 Md. 516, 37 Atl. 169.

A contingent appointment of a dative executor on the condition that public notices shall be given and that it be not opposed is of no avail where after the advertisements have been published, although the application has not been opposed, the appointment is not confirmed by a subsequent formal decree conferring it on the petitioner. Pfarr v. Belmont, 39 La. Ann. 294, 1 So. 681.

Persons having no prior right need not be cited. In re Treadwell, 37 Misc. (N. Y.) 584, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 1058; In re Wood, 17 N. Y. Suppl. 354, 27 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 329, Pow. Surr. (N. Y.) 25.

85. Seery v. Murray, 107 Iowa 384, 77 N. W. 1058.

For general rules governing proceedings for appointment of all representations see infra, II, H.

86. See Brodie v. Mitchell, 85 Md. 516, 37 Atl. 169.

87. Brodie v. Mitchell, 85 Md. 516, 37 Atl. 169.

88. Powers and duties see infra, XVIII.

89. Alabama.— Clemens v. Walker, 40 Ala. 189.

or in case he represents a testate estate "de bonis non with the will annexed," or "cum testamento annexo."[90] Every administrator after the first is an administrator de bonis non in fact, even though the record should not show it.[91]

2. When Appointment Necessary or Proper. Succession to a vacancy in the office is essential to the validity of a grant of administration de bonis non; there must have been a previous grant of letters,[92] and the previous incumbency must have actually ended, leaving the administration of the estate incomplete.[93] When-

Arkansas.— Barkman v. Duncan, 10 Ark. 465.

Connecticut.— Chamberlin's Appeal, 70 Conn. 363, 39 Atl. 734, 41 L. R. A. 204.

Georgia.— Jepson v. Martin, 116 Ga. 772, 43 S. E. 75.

Maryland.— Neal v. Charlton, 52 Md. 495; Scott v. Fox, 14 Md. 388.

Massachusetts.— Chapin v. Hastings, 2 Pick. 361.

Mississippi.—Hendricks v. Snodgrass, Walk. 86.

Missouri.— Scott v. Crews, 72 Mo. 261.

Pennsylvania.—Tucker v. Horner, 10 Phila. 122.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 267.

This title is an abbreviation of "de bonis non administratis" which means of the goods not administered. Black L. Dict.

Nature of office.— The administrator de bonis non is appointed to finish a business already commenced (Hinton v. Bland, 81 Va. 588), but he derives his title from the deceased and not from his predecessor in office (Weeks v. Love, 19 Ala. 25; In re Foreign Missions American Bd., 27 Conn. 344; Echols v. Barrett, 6 Ga. 443; Blake v. Dexter, 12 Cush. (Mass.) 559; Catherwood v. Chabaud, 1 B. & C. 150, 8 E. C. L. 65). He, and not the widow or distributees of the estate, is the new personal representative of the deceased. Smith v. Billing, 22 Fed. Cas. No. 13,014, 3 Cranch C. C. 355.

Grant may be limited to particular interest. In re Hammond, 6 P. D. 104, 45 J. P. 619, 50 L. J. P. & Adm. 70, 73, 44 L. T. Rep. N. S. 649, 29 Wkly. Rep. 807; In re Burdett, 1 P. D. 427, 45 L. J. P. & Adm. 71, 34 L. T. Rep. N. S. 855.

The old rule as to the executor of an executor being the proper person to continue the administration of the estate of the first decedent (see In re Reid, [1896] P. 129, 65 L. J. P. & Adm. 60, 74 L. T. Rep. N. S. 462; In re Grant, 1 P. D. 435, 45 L. J. P. & Adm. 88, 24 Wkly. Rep. 929) does not prevail in the United States, but upon the death of an executor the appointment of an administrator de bonis non is proper. Jepson v. Martin, 116 Ga. 772, 43 S. E. 75.

Appointment presumed valid in absence of contrary showing.—Jepson v. Martin, 116 Ga. 772, 43 S. E. 75. But compare Sitzman v. Pacquette, 13 Wis. 291.

Where the administrator has become bankrupt and absconded and the estate is not fully settled administration de bonis non should be granted. Brattle v. Gustin, 1 Root (Conn.) 425.

Under the New Jersey statute, Act March 22, 1901, § 4, providing for the appointment of a substituted administrator, an administration de bonis non is no more to be granted in that state. Hoagland v. Cooper, 65 N. J. Eq. 407, 56 Atl. 705.

90. Clemens v. Walker, 40 Ala. 189. See also Tucker v. Horner, 10 Phila. (Pa.) 122.

When appointment proper.— When the sole executor or sole administrator with will annexed, whose functions have ceased, has not completed the administration of the estate, as where he has not paid all the legacies, satisfied all the lawful claims, and delivered over the balance in his hand to the residuary legatees or other persons entitled thereto, an administrator de bonis non with the will annexed may be rightfully appointed. Brattle v. Converse, 1 Root (Conn.) 174; Alexander v. Stewart, 8 Gill & J. (Md.) 226. The old common law may have stopped somewhat short of this conclusion, but according to the tenor of modern legislation the prevailing rule is substantially as stated. Chamberlin's Appeal, 70 Conn. 363, 39 Atl. 734, 41 L. R. A. 204.

91. Ex p. Maxwell, 37 Ala. 362, 79 Am. Dec. 62; Moseley v. Martin, 37 Ala. 216; Grande v. Herrera, 15 Tex. 533; Steen v. Bennett, 24 Vt. 303; Veach v. Rice, 131 U. S. 293, 9 S. Ct. 730, 33 L. ed. 163. See also Sands v. Hickey, 135 Ala. 322, 33 So. 827, holding that although, under the direct provisions of the code, an administration de bonis non should be granted when a vacancy occurs in the administration in chief, the appointment of a second administrator without such restriction has only the effect of an excess of power, and is not void in toto.

92. Chase v. Ross, 36 Wis. 267.

93. Alabama.— Sands v. Hickey, 135 Ala. 322, 33 So. 827; Sims v. Waters, 65 Ala. 442; McDowell v. Jones, 58 Ala. 25; Rambo v. Wyatt, 32 Ala. 363, 70 Am. Dec. 544; Matthews v. Douthitt, 27 Ala. 273, 62 Am. Dec. 765.

Indiana.— Croxten v. Renner, 103 Ind. 223, 2 N. E. 601; Pate v. Moore, 79 Ind. 20.

Kentucky.— Creath v. Brent, 3 Dana 129.

Minnesota.— Wilkinson v. Winne, 15 Minn. 159.

Missouri.— Macey v. Stark, 116 Mo. 481, 21 S. W. 1088.

Texas.—Brockenborough v. Melton, 55 Tex. 493.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 268.

So long as there remains a single survivor under an original joint grant of letters administration de bonis non should not be granted. Lewis v. Brooks, 6 Yerg. (Tenn.) 167. See also Packer v. Owens, 164 Pa. St. 185, 30 Atl. 314, holding that where one of ever in case of a vacancy in the office of executor or administrator it appears that full settlement and distribution has not been properly made a de bonis non successor should be appointed to finish and set matters right,[94] and prima facie proof of unadministered assets is all that is required;[95] but no such appointment two co-executors or co-administrators dies and a de bonis non appointment is made in his stead this does not vacate the letters of the survivor.

Good cause for making a vacancy is insufficient. Hooper v. Scarborough, 57 Ala. 510.

Where an executor was removed without compliance with the statute for removal an administrator de bonis non appointed to succeed him had no authority over the estate. Godwin v. Hooper, 45 Ala. 613.

Appointment of previous incumbent.— Where application for letters de bonis non showed that the applicant had been the former administrator, but did not show that he had been discharged, his appointment as administrator de bonis non was not void, as such appointment and qualification thereunder was a relinquishment or resignation of the former letters. Henley v. Johnston, 134 Ala. 646, 32 So. 1009, 92 Am. St. Rep. 48, holding further that where the application showed that the applicant had rendered his final accounts which had been approved, but did not show his discharge, the appointment was not void, as the rendition of final account was not inconsistent with the presumption of resignation or removal.

In a collateral proceeding the appointment by the court of an administrator de bonis non is prima facie evidence that there was a vacancy, that the estate had not been fully administered, and that the order of appointment was valid. Sands v. Hickey, 135 Ala. 322, 33 So. 827; Henley v. Johnson, 134 Ala. 646, 32 So. 1009, 92 Am. St. Rep. 48; Morgan v. Casey, 73 Ala. 222; Bean v. Chapman, 73 Ala. 140; Sims v. Waters, 65 Ala. 442; Chappell v. Doe, 49 Ala. 153; Clemens v. Wilson, 40 Ala. 219; Warfield v. Brand, 13 Bush (Ky.) 77; Rogers v. Johnson, 125 Mo. 202, 28 S. W. 635.

94. Brattle v. Converse, 1 Root (Conn.) 174; Alexander v. Stewart, 8 Gill & J. (Md.) 226; Taylor v. Brooks, 20 N. C. 273; Frost v. Frost, 45 Tex. 324; Adams v. Richardson, 5 Tex. Civ. App. 439, 27 S. W. 29; Baker v. De Zavalla, 1 Tex. Unrep. Cas. 621.

Reducing assets to cash is not necessarily a full settlement of the estate. Donaldson v. Raborg, 26 Md. 312.

The facts that allowed claims have not been paid in full, and that there remains property unsold, give a probate court jurisdiction to appoint an administrator de bonis non, although the first administrator has made a final settlement. Howell v. Jump, 140 Mo. 441, 41 S. W. 976.

Existence of claims against estate not necessary.— Francisco v. Wingfield, 161 Mo. 542, 61 S. W. 842; Strickland v. Sandmeyer, 21 Tex. Civ. App. 351, 52 S. W. 87.

Where personal property remains undisposed of after the decedent's debts have been paid and the property has been delivered by the executor to a testamentary trustee an administrator de bonis non is necessary, since an estate must be pending for settlement in the probate court before that court, which alone can decide the question, can determine who are the distributees. Chamberlin's Appeal, 70 Conn. 363, 39 Atl. 734, 41 L. R. A. 204.

Assets subsequently discovered.— An appointment de bonis non is proper whenever, after the former executor or administrator has been discharged, assets of the estate are discovered (Ratliff v. Magee, 165 Mo. 461, 65 S. W. 713), even though the original administrator was unable to discover assets and was discharged in consequence (Langsdale v. Woollen, 99 Ind. 575). But although a deed of homestead by a husband to his wife which is void to the extent of one thousand dollars in value because she did not join is not attached until after the discharge of the executrix, the one-thousand-dollar homestead is not subsequently discovered assets so as to require an administration de bonis non and the intervention of such an administrator in a suit by the heir attacking the deed. Stickel v. Crane, 189 Ill. 211, 59 N. E. 595. See also Derge v. Hill, 103 Mo. App. 281, 77 S. W. 105.

Pendency of proceeding to test validity of will.— Where, in consequence of the death of an executor, there is no legal representative of an estate, the probate court may grant letters of administration de bonis non, even while an appeal from a proceeding to test the validity of the will is pending. Finn v. Hempstead, 24 Ark. 111.

Retroactive effect of statute.— The Indiana act of March 5, 1891 (Rev. St. (1894) § 2395), providing that on a showing that an administrator has been finally discharged, that no administration is pending, and that there are assets within the jurisdiction of the state which have not been but should be administered, a court of probate having jurisdiction may on the application of any unpaid creditor or legatee or of any one entitled to share in the estate appoint an administrator de bonis non with the powers of an administrator, applies to estates administered upon and in which final reports had been made and approved before the passage of the act. Wahl v. Schierling, 11 Ind. App. 696, 39 N. E. 533.

Necessity of appointment cannot be questioned collaterally. Ormsbee v. Piper, 123 Mich. 265, 82 N. W. 36; Barney v. Babcock, 115 Wis. 409, 91 N. W. 982.

95. Postal v. Kreps, 23 Ind. App. 101, 54 N. E. 816; Scott v. Fox, 14 Md. 388; Pumpelly v. Tinkham, 23 Barb. (N. Y.) 321.

Prima facie showing of assets necessary.— Owen v. Ward, 127 Mich. 693, 87 N. W. 70.

The approval of the final account of an administrator is not an adjudication that he should be made where the estate has already been fully administered.[96] Protection of the rights of distributees may give occasion for the appointment,[97] or an administrator may be appointed to give good title to specific assets.[98] A right of action which survives for the benefit of the estate may suffice for such appointment,[99] and so also may a lawful claim with right of action against the predecessor.[1] Where after the death of a general administrator who has not fully administered litigation arises respecting the validity of a will the new appointees for such a litigation should be designated as de bonis non.[2] Administration de bonis non may be granted for bringing a suit to recover assets which the predecessor refused to prosecute,[3] where the predecessor had advanced from his own funds without opportunity to reimburse himself,[4] or where the predecessor had reported debts as desperate which prove collectable, or had turned over as belonging elsewhere personalty which proves recoverable for the estate.[5] But a personal trust conferred under a will upon the executrix after settling the estate is not in case of a vacancy following such settlement to go de bonis non.[6]

3. Right to Appointment. The general rule is that persons are entitled to administration de bonis non in the same order as they would have been entitled to an original grant in case of intestacy or to letters with the will annexed in case there is a will.[7] In the case of administration granted to the surviving spouse, has turned into the estate all the assets belonging to it, but, without setting a final settlement aside, an administrator de bonis non may be appointed to take charge of any assets omitted from the former administration. Michigan Trust Co. v. Probasco, 29 Ind. App. 109, 63 N. E. 255.

Whether claims if collected will render estate solvent need not be considered. Mallory's Appeal, 62 Conn. 218, 25 Atl. 109.

96. Myers v. Baltimore Safe-Deposit, etc., Co., 73 Md. 413, 21 Atl. 58; Wilcoxon v. Reese, 63 Md. 542; In re Hess, 4 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 413; In re Herckelrath, 1 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 696. See also Haven v. Haven, 69 N. H. 204, 39 Atl. 972.

Where the only office of administration would be distribution and there is but one distributee the estate will not be subjected to the unnecessary costs and expenses of an administration de bonis non. Glover v. Hill, 85 Ala. 41, 4 So. 613.

Where an estate has been practically settled, although irregularly, administration de bonis non will not be granted when not requested by someone having an interest in the estate. Mercer v. Pike, 58 N. H. 286.

Debts due from decedent.— A legacy is not a debt within the meaning of a statute authorizing a grant of administration de bonis non, where there are "debts due from the deceased person unpaid." Chapin v. Hastings, 2 Pick. (Mass.) 361.

Order not showing complete administration see Barney v. Babcock, 115 Wis. 409, 91 N. W. 982.

Lapse of time and other circumstances may raise a presumption that all debts against an estate are either barred or paid and that the remaining assets belong to the distributee, and in such a case the court is indisposed to reopen the estate by an appointment de bonis non. San Roman v. Watson, 54 Tex. 254; Frost v. Frost, 45 Tex. 324; Gilleland v. Drake, 36 Tex. 676; Murphy v. Menard, 14 Tex. 62. See also In re Hubbard, 185 Mass. 22, 69 N. E. 349; Derge v. Hill, 103 Mo. App. 281, 77 S. W. 105.

Where no valid subsisting claims are shown against the estate on an application for administration de bonis non by a person claiming to be a creditor letters should be refused. Chandler v. Hudson, 11 Tex. 32.

The unwise exercise of a legal discretion vested in the court as to whether an administrator de bonis non should be appointed cannot vacate the appointment. Frost v. Frost, 45 Tex. 324.

97. Byerly v. Donlin, 72 Mo. 270, where the final settlement of a deceased administrator was set aside by the court.

98. Deans v. Wilcoxon, 25 Fla. 980, 7 So. 163; Kirby v. State, 51 Md. 383 (foreclosure of a mortgage); Alexander v. Stewart, 8 Gill & J. (Md.) 226; Hinton v. Bland, 81 Va. 588.

99. Merkle v. Bennington, 68 Mich. 133, 35 N. W. 846; Hayward v. Place, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 487.

1. Newcomb v. Williams, 9 Metc. (Mass.) 525; Scott v. Crews, 72 Mo. 261; In re Nesmith, 1 N. Y. Suppl. 343.

2. Clemens v. Walker, 40 Ala. 189; Finn v. Hempstead, 24 Ark. 111.

3. Merkle v. Bennington, 68 Mich. 133, 35 N. W. 846.

4. Munroe v. Holmes, 13 Allen (Mass.) 109.

5. Mallory's Appeal, 62 Conn. 218, 25 Atl. 109; Adams v. Internal Imp. Fund, 37 Fla. 266, 20 So. 266; Hinton v. Bland, 81 Va. 588.

6. Hinson v. Williamson, 74 Ala. 180; Enlow v. Bethel College, 67 S. W. 989, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 31.

7. Alabama.— Burke v. Mutch, 66 Ala. 568.
Connecticut.— Mallory's Appeal, 62 Conn. 218, 25 Atl. 109.
Georgia.— Jones v. Whitehead, 66 Ga. 290.
Maryland.—Wilcoxon v. Reese, 63 Md. 542; especially when granted for his or her own benefit, followed by the death of the latter, administration de bonis non ordinarily goes by the interest as between kindred of the wife and husband, and hence the representatives of the spouse who survived are as a rule preferred unless others have really the beneficial interest.[3] The person appointed must of course be qualified to act.[9] It has been held that a renunciation of the right to letters de bonis non cannot be retracted.[10]

4. Jurisdiction. The court which granted the original letters testamentary or of administration and holds supervision of the estate has alone the right to grant administration de bonis non.[11]

5. Time For Application. A broad period is usually allowed for granting administration de bonis non, according as the opportunity to realize something for the estate may present itself; nor does even statutory limit to original administration bar by inference the grant of letters de bonis non.[12]

6. Proceedings. Before a grant of administration de bonis non to a person

Kearney v. Turner, 28 Md. 408; Thomas v. Knighton, 23 Md. 318, 87 Am. Dec. 571.

Michigan.— Buss v. Buss, 75 Mich. 163, 42 N. W. 688. See also Cole v. Shaw, (1903) 96 N. W. 573, holding an unpaid legatee entitled to appointment.

New Jersey.— Donahay v. Hall, 45 N. J. Eq. 720, 18 Atl. 163.

New York.— Bradley v. Bradley, 3 Redf. Surr. 512.

Pennsylvania.— Padelford's Estate, 7 Pa. Dist. 711.

Rhode Island.— Emsley v. Young, 19 R. I. 65, 31 Atl. 692.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 270.

Contra.— Russell v. Hoar, 3 Metc. (Mass.) 187, holding that under Rev. St. c. 64, § 14, the probate court has discretionary authority to grant letters of administration de bonis non to any suitable person.

As between persons having an equal right the choice lies in the discretion of the court. Bowie v. Bowie, 73 Md. 232, 20 Atl. 916. And the same is true as to the nominees of such persons. Matter of Muhlenburg, 4 Phila. (Pa.) 192, where a joint grant was made to two such nominees.

An executrix who has renounced has no preferential right to be appointed administratrix de bonis non with the will annexed after the death of the administratrix with the will annexed. Thornton v. Winston, 4 Leigh (Va.) 152.

Creditors of an estate, insolvent or desperate, have a fair right to be considered.

Alabama.— Long v. Easly, 13 Ala. 239.

Illinois.— Tillson v. Ward, 46 Ill. App. 179.

Maryland.— McGuire v. Rogers, 71 Md. 587, 18 Atl. 888.

New York.— Spinning's Will, Tuck. Surr. 78.

North Carolina.— Cutlar v. Quince, 3 N. C. 60.

Pennsylvania.— Coyle's Estate, 16 Phila. 350.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 270.

Under "special circumstances" the usual priority may be disregarded. In re Grundy, L. R. 1 P. 459, 37 L. J. P. & M. 21, 17 L. T. Rep. N. S. 451, 16 Wkly. Rep. 406.

Second appointment of person having equal right with appointee.— Where an executor has been removed from office and an administrator de bonis non has been substituted in his place, another person having an equal claim with the one substituted cannot come in at a subsequent term and be allowed administration, the power of the court over the subject-matter having ceased. Ex p. Clarke, 2 Va. Cas. 230.

8. Georgia.— Bryan v. Rooks, 25 Ga. 622, 71 Am. Dec. 194.

New York.— In re Sturtzkober, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 501; Whitaker v. Whitaker, 6 Johns. 112; Matter of Harvey, 3 Redf. Surr. 214. See also Lockwood v. Stockholm, 11 Paige 87.

North Carolina.— Patterson v. High, 43 N. C. 52.

Virginia.—Hendren v. Colgin, 4 Munf. 231; Cutchin v. Wilkinson, 1 Call 1.

England.— Fielder v. Hanger, 3 Hagg. Eccl. 769.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 270.

9. McDevitt's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 474, holding that letters of administration de bonis non cannot be granted to a non-resident of the state.

10. Stockdale v. Conaway, 14 Md. 99, 74 Am. Dec. 515.

11. Alabama.— Beasley v. Howell, 117 Ala. 499, 22 So. 989.

Illinois.— People v. White, 11 Ill. 341.

Kentucky.— Burnett v. Meadows, 7 B. Mon. 277, 46 Am. Dec. 517; Pawling v. Speed, 5 T. B. Mon. 580.

Missouri.— Byerly v. Donlin, 72 Mo. 270.

Virginia.— Ex p. Lyons, 2 Leigh 761.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 273.

Change in district boundaries.— An administration de bonis non granted by the probate court of a district other than the one in which administration was first granted, but to which the town where the deceased resided had been attached by a later statute, is not void but only voidable on appeal. Clapp v. Beardsley, 1 Vt. 151.

12. In re Holmes, 33 Me. 577; Neal v. Charlton, 52 Md. 495; Bancroft v. Andrews, 6 Cush. (Mass.) 493; Adams v. Richardson, 5 Tex. Civ. App. 439, 27 S. W. 29. But not primarily entitled thereto there should be a summons or legal notice to persons having a prior right to the appointment.[13] It is not essential to the validity of the appointment of such an administrator that the necessity therefor should appear on the face of the application for letters.[14] As a general rule it may be laid down that the rules governing proceedings for the appointment of an administrator de bonis non are substantially the same as obtain in proceedings for the appointment of an ordinary administrator.[15]

E. Temporary or Special Administrators[16] — 1. In General. Administration limited to a certain time, certain specific effects of the deceased, or the performance of some particular acts may be granted in various appropriate instances.[17]

2. Classes — a. Durante Minoritate. Where the person entitled by prececompare Dodge v. Phelan, 2 Tex. Civ. App. 441, 21 S. W. 309.

13. Wilcoxon v. Reese, 63 Md. 542; Thomas v. Knighton, 23 Md. 318, 87 Am. Dec. 571.

Notice of resignation of former incumbent. — The Mississippi statute requiring notice to distributees or legatees of a surrender of his trust by an executor or administrator as a condition precedent to a valid settlement with the court of the administration account of the person resigning is not inconsistent with the right of the court to accept a resignation and appoint a successor at once, requiring the outgoing executor or administrator to give notice and make settlement, until which he remains liable on his bond, and hence the appointment of an administrator de bonis non with the will annexed, without notice to the legatees of the surrender of his trust by the executor, is not void. Sivley v. Summers, 57 Miss. 712.

Under the Maryland code the largest creditor is not required to be notified or summoned before administration is granted to a stranger, although he is entitled to administration if he applies for the same and the law fixes no time within which he must assert his claim, nor is the court required to wait any time for him to do so. Consequently this is a matter left to the discretion of the court, and while as a general rule it is proper for the orphans' court to give some reasonable time for creditors and other persons who are not required to be notified to assert their claim, there may be cases where the security of the estate and the rights of creditors require immediate action, and of this the orphans' court is the best judge. Hence the court has a right if it sees proper to appoint an administrator de bonis non on the same day that original letters of administration are revoked. McGuire v. Rogers, 71 Md. 587, 18 Atl. 888.

Where letters of administration are revoked as being informally or illegally granted new letters may be granted to the same person, or, it seems, to any other without a new application. Delany v. Noble, 3 N. J. Eq. 559.

14. Williams v. Verne, 68 Tex. 414, 4 S. W. 548, holding further that even if this were necessary an application alleging that a certain person had been appointed and qualified as administrator of the estate and had died before winding up the same was sufficient.

15. See infra, II, H.

An appointment made on a day different from that fixed in the order and notice of a hearing for the appointment is void. Kammerer v. Morlock, 125 Mich. 320, 84 N. W. 319, where the appointment was made four days earlier than the date fixed in the order for the hearing.

Who may oppose grant. — A trustee receiving property of an estate under a judgment of a competent court still in force and unappealed from is such an interested party as to be entitled under the Texas statute to contest a grant of administration de bonis non. San Roman v. Watson, 54 Tex. 254.

Objection to mere informality should be seasonably made. Moore v. Willamette Transp., etc., Co., 7 Oreg. 359.

The court should not try title to property nor determine questions of estoppel or other collateral points in such proceedings. Mallory's Appeal, 62 Conn. 218, 25 Atl. 109.

Who may appeal. — A purchaser of the reversionary interest in land of a deceased insolvent person assigned to his widow as dower may appeal from a decree appointing an administrator de bonis non. Bancroft v. Andrews, 6 Cush. (Mass.) 493. Where an intestate's widow, being administratrix of his estate, has married, whereby her authority as administratrix is extinguished, and she applies for the appointment of her husband as administrator, but the children apply for the appointment of another person, and such other person is appointed, the widow may appeal. Hilliard v. McDaniels, 48 Vt. 122.

Presumption of regularity on collateral attack see Lyon v. Odom, 31 Ala. 234; Oakes v. Buckley, 49 Wis. 592, 6 N. W. 321.

16. Powers and duties see infra, XX.

17. Georgia. — Dean v. Biggers, 27 Ga. 73.

Louisiana. — De Flechier's Succession, 1 La. Ann. 20.

Mississippi. — Browning v. Watkins, 10 Sm. & M. 482.

New York. — Martin v. Dry Dock, etc., R. Co., 92 N. Y. 70.

Tennessee. — Jordan v. Polk, 1 Sneed 430; McNairy v. Bell, 6 Yerg. 302.

Texas. — Alexander v. Barfield, 6 Tex. 400; Ball v. Ball, (Civ. App. 1898) 45 S. W. 605.

England. — In re Hammond, 6 P. D. 104, 45 J. P. 619, 50 L. J. P. & Adm. 70, 44 L. T. Rep. N. S. 649, 29 Wkly. Rep. 807.

dence to administration or the executor named in a will is an infant, the court may appoint an administrator to serve until such person attains his majority, who is termed an administrator durante minoritate or durante minore ætate.[18] If several executors are named and one of them is of full age and capacity, administration during minority need not be granted, because the person of full age may serve, notwithstanding the non-age of the others.[19]

b. Durante Absentia. A temporary appointment is recognized during the absence from the jurisdiction of the designated executor or the person entitled to administration, the appointee being termed an administrator durante absentia.[20]

c. Pendente Lite. In case litigation arises over the right to administration or the probate of the will, an administrator may be appointed to take charge of the estate while such contest is pending and until its termination, the appointee being termed an administrator pendente lite.[21] Upon the termination of the litigation,

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 116.

Where no application for administration in chief is pending temporary letters cannot be granted. Dock's Estate, 7 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 237, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 55.

Qualified appointment.— Where a supposed deceased had not been heard of for about six years and ten months, and there was no other evidence of death, and a grant of administration was required for use in certain chancery proceedings, the court gave the applicant leave to swear that the death had occurred on the date the alleged deceased was last heard of, but directed that the grant should, except in so far as it might be required in the chancery division, remain in the registry until the expiration of seven years from that date. In re Winstone, [1898] P. 143, 67 L. J. P. & Adm. 76, 78 L. T. Rep. N. S. 535.

Errors in temporary administration proceedings.—Errors and irregularities in a judgment rendered in a temporary administration cannot be corrected in the permanent administration, as they are distinct proceedings and a judgment in one cannot be collaterally attacked in the other. Ball v. Ball, (Tex. Civ. App. 1898) 45 S. W. 605.

Estoppel to object to appointment.—Where parties interested in the estate fail to move to set aside the appointment of a temporary administrator in apt time, they cannot claim that the appointment was not properly made. Stone v. Haskins, 97 Ill. App. 3.

Limited grants should not be made unless strong reason given.— In re Somerset, L. R. 1 P. 350; In re Watts, 29 L. J. P. & M. 108, 1 Swab. & Tr. 538, 8 Wkly. Rep. 340.

18. Mississippi.—Pitcher v. Armat, 6 Miss. 288.

Missouri.— State v. Guinotte, 156 Mo. 513, 57 S. W. 281, 50 L. R. A. 787.

New Hampshire.— Taylor v. Barron, 35 N. H. 484.

North Carolina.—Wallis v. Wallis, 60 N. C. 78; Ritchie v. McAuslin, 2 N. C. 220.

Pennsylvania.— In re Ellmaker, 4 Watts 34; Riegel's Appeal, 2 Pa. Cas. 58, 4 Atl. 173.

England.— In re Cope, 16 Ch. D. 49, 50 L. J. Ch. 13, 43 L. T. Rep. N. S. 566, 29 Wkly. Rep. 98.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 118.

19. Schouler Ex. § 132; 1 Williams Ex. (7th Am. ed.) 577 [citing Pigot's Case, Brownl. & G. 46]. But see Cartright's Case, 1 Freem. 258 (where four persons being equally entitled to administration, and only one of them being of age, the court granted administration durante minore ætate to the mother of the other three as guardian); Colborne v. Wright, 2 Lev. 239 (holding that, where one of the executors is an infant and cannot prove the will, administration durante sua minoritate may be granted to the other).

20. Missouri.— State v. Guinotte, 156 Mo. 513, 57 S. W. 281, 50 L. R. A. 787; In re Estes, 65 Mo. App. 38.

North Carolina.— Ritchie v. McAustin, 2 N. C. 220.

Pennsylvania.— Willing v. Perot, 5 Rawle 264.

United States.— Griffith v. Frazier, 8 Cranch 9, 3 L. ed. 471.

England.— In re Ruddy, L. R. 2 P. D. 330, 41 L. J. P. & M. 63, 25 L. T. Rep. N. S. 950, 20 Wkly. Rep. 319; In re Swarez, [1897] P. 82, 66 L. J. P. & Adm. 98, 77 L. T. Rep. N. S. 137, 45 Wkly. Rep. 704; In re Richardson, 35 L. T. Rep. N. S. 767; Clare's Case [cited in Major v. Peck, 1 Lutw. 338, 342].

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 121.

Person entitled may qualify on return. In re Estes, 65 Mo. App. 38; Rainsford v. Taynton, 7 Ves. Jr. 460, 32 Eng. Reprint 186. Aliter, where, after an unreasonable absence, the person entitled finds upon his return that the estate has been fully settled. Nicholson's Succession, 5 La. Ann. 358.

21. Alabama.— McDonnell v. Farrow, 132 Ala. 227, 31 So. 475; Breeding v. Breeding, 128 Ala. 412, 30 So. 881; Clemens v. Walker, 40 Ala. 189.

Arkansas.— Wade v. Bridges, 24 Ark. 569.

Georgia.— Walker v. Dougherty, 14 Ga. 653.

Maryland.— Harrison v. Clark, 95 Md. 308, 52 Atl. 514; Munnikhuysen v. Magraw, 35 Md. 280.

Michigan.— Greece v. Helm, 91 Mich. 450, 51 N. W. 1106.

Missouri.— State v. Guinotte, 156 Mo. 513, there is no further need of the services of the administrator pendente lite and his authority ceases.[22]

d. Ad Litem. A special administrator is sometimes appointed for the sole purpose of supplying a necessary party to an action to which the deceased was or his

57 S. W. 281, 50 L. R. A. 787; Lamb v. Helm, 56 Mo. 420.

Montana.— Quinn v. Quinn, 22 Mont. 403, 56 Pac. 824.

New York.— Matter of Eddy, 10 Misc. 211, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 423; Lawrence v. Parsons, 27 How. Pr. 26; West v. Mapes, 14 N. Y. Wkly. Dig. 92.

Pennsylvania.— Ellmaker's Estate, 4 Watts 34; Wickersham's Estate, 4 Leg. Gaz. 331.

Tennessee.— Crozier v. Goodwin, 1 Lea 368.

England.— Smyth v. Smyth, 3 Keb. 54; Robins' Case, Moore 636; Walker v. Woollaston, 2 P. Wms. 576, 24 Eng. Reprint 868.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 120.

Where probate has been granted a further contest over the will does not, in Kentucky, authorize the appointment of a special administrator. McClure v. Allphin, 41 S. W. 1, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 576; Worthington v. Worthington, 35 S. W. 113, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 62. But in Missouri the rule is otherwise and the probate court has jurisdiction to suspend an executor and appoint a temporary administrator pending a contest of the will. State v. Moehlenkamp, 133 Mo. 134, 34 S. W. 468; Lamb v. Helm, 56 Mo. 420; Rogers v. Dively, 51 Mo. 193.

Where an appeal has been taken from the appointment of an administrator the probate court should on application appoint a special administrator. People v. Wayne Probate Judge, 39 Mich. 302.

Where a decree for the probate of a will has been reversed the surrogate has jurisdiction to appoint a temporary administrator and may make such an appointment, although letters testamentary had been issued at the time of the probate. Matter of Hopkins, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 83, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 890.

Pending an appeal of a general appointee upon the question of bonds, etc., the probate court may appoint a special administrator. People v. Wayne Probate Judge, 39 Mich. 302; Sarle v. Scituate Probate Ct., 7 R. I. 270.

Power of surrogate after transfer of cause. — Where proceedings for the probate of a will have been transferred by the surrogate to the court of common pleas under a statute authorizing such transfer for the purpose of trying by jury issues of fact arising therein, the surrogate's court, while the proceeding is pending in the common pleas, is not deprived of the power to appoint a temporary administrator in order to preserve the estate. Matter of Blair, 60 Hun (N. Y.) 523, 15 N. Y. Suppl. 212.

Jurisdiction must appear. The facts giving jurisdiction to the county court, under the statute regulating its power to appoint curators, must be made to appear, and in the absence of such facts, it is not error for the circuit court to render judgment on appeal holding an order of the county court appointing a curator to be void. McClure v. Allphin, 41 S. W. 1, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 576.

When appointment unnecessary.— No appointment pendente lite should be made after the general administrator has fully settled the estate, or where it otherwise appears that there is no occasion for such administration (Elwell v. Universalist Church, 63 Tex. 220; Fisk v. Norvel, 9 Tex. 13, 58 Am. Dec. 128); nor should a decedent's estate be subjected to the cost and encumbrance of such an administration when a rightful and regular executor or administrator whose appointment is not questioned can discharge the duties of the office during the emergency, but the consent of the contesting parties to the special appointment pendente lite obviates objections of this character (Patton's Appeal, 31 Pa. St. 465; Mortimer v. Paull, L. R. 2 P. 85, 39 L. J. P. & M. 47, 22 L. T. Rep. N. S. 631, 18 Wkly. Rep. 901). Where, on an appeal from a decree removing an executor, it appears that the estate consists of securities and cash deposited in a bank, and that an order made by the lower court restraining the removed executor from disposing of the estate during the pendency of the proceedings has not been appealed from, and there is no claim that the estate has been diminished in value since the appeal was taken, the prerogative court will not appoint an administrator pendente lite on a motion based on the misconduct for which the executor was removed. In re Marsh, (N. J. Prerog. 1903) 55 Atl. 299. Where a will names no executor and merely devises real estate a controversy over the probate thereof does not warrant the appointment of a temporary administrator or receiver under a statute providing for a temporary appointment "where delay necessarily occurs in the granting letters testamentary or of general administration." Tooker v. Bell, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 52.

22. Maryland.— Baldwin v. Mitchell, 86 Md. 379, 38 Atl. 775.

Missouri.— RoBards v. Lamb, 89 Mo. 303, 1 S. W. 222.

New Jersey.— Cole v. Wooden, 18 N. J. L. 15.

Pennsylvania.— In re Ellmaker, 4 Watts 34.

England.— Wieland v. Bird, [1894] P. 262, 63 L. J. P. & Adm. 162, 71 L. T. Rep. N. S. 267, 6 Reports 574.

Notice in court of settlement not necessary. — RoBards v. Lamb, 89 Mo. 303, 1 S. W. 222.

Where an appeal is taken after judgment entered the administration pendente lite continues or revives. Offutt v. Gott, 12 Gill & J. (Md.) 385; State v. Guinotte, 156 Mo. 513, 57 S. W. 281, 50 L. R. A. 787; Brown v. Ryder, 42 N. J. Eq. 356, 7 Atl. 568.

Contest over two wills propounded.—Under estate is a necessary party, and the administrator so appointed is termed an administrator ad litem.[23]

e. Ad Colligendum. Administration is sometimes granted for the sole purpose of collecting and preserving the goods of the decedent, and such a grant is termed "ad colligendum" or more properly "ad colligendum bona defuncti." [24]

f. Other Temporary or Special Appointments. Various other occasions may arise for requiring a temporary administrator; as where the testator appoints a person to be his executor at the expiration of five years,[25] or the representative a statute providing for letters of administration pendente lite where a will is contested, and that the grant of letters testamentary or of administration shall revoke a previous grant of letters pendente lite, where two wills were offered for probate, and both contested, letters of administration pendente lite issued before the trial of the contest over the last will were not revoked by the mere termination of that contest, but the administrators were entitled to serve, unless removed for cause, until the issuance of letters testamentary or of administration at the conclusion of the controversy over the other will. Harrison v. Clark, 95 Md. 308, 52 Atl. 514, holding further that the court was not required, on the termination of the first contest, to appoint as administrator pendente lite the executor named under the other will, to enable him to use the assets of the estate to defend the caveat thereto.

23. Alabama.— Malone v. Hill, 68 Ala. 225.

Michigan.— See In re Nugent, 77 Mich. 500, 43 N. W. 889.

Tennessee.— McKamy v. McNabb, 97 Tenn. 236, 36 S. W. 1091. But compare Bandy v. Walker, 3 Head 568.

England.— See In re Hesse, 1 Hagg. Eccl. 93.

Canada.— See Hunter v. Boyd, 3 Ont. L. Rep. 183; Re Tobin, 6 Ont. Pr. 40, 9 Can. L. J. 191.

See 1 Cyc. 88 note 34.

Where the regular administrator is interested adversely to the estate it is the duty of the court under some statutes to appoint an administrator ad litem. Ex p. Baker, 118 Ala. 185, 23 So. 996; Denning v. Todd, 91 Tenn. 422, 19 S. W. 228. But an administrator ad litem will not be appointed where all the parties interested in the final settlement of the estate are before the court. Ex p. Baker, 118 Ala. 185, 23 So. 996.

A temporary administrator may be appointed to sue the administrator as an individual and prosecute the suit to final judgment. Stone v. Haskins, 97 Ill. App. 3.

Power of court when suit pending.— Where a party dies pending a suit, the court in which the suit is pending has power to appoint a special administrator to conduct or defend the case. Mangum v. Cooper, 28 Ark. 253. Contra, Chartier v. Plaquemines Police Jury, 9 La. Ann. 42.

Administrator ad prosequendum.—In a foreclosure suit by a prior mortgagee the court has granted letters of limited jurisdiction on the estate of a deceased subsequent mortgagee, such letters being limited to the purpose only of attending, supplying, substantiating, and confirming the proceedings already had or which might thereafter be had in the foreclosure suit or any other suit or suits which might thereafter be commenced in that or any other court for the relief sought by the bill in the chancery foreclosure suit, the letters to continue until a final decree should be made therein and such decree carried into execution and the execution thereof fully completed, the administrator being termed administrator ad prosequendum. In re Lothrop, 33 N. J. Eq. 246, 247, where the court said further: "The administrator ad prosequendum thus appointed will have no authority to receive any money realized on the mortgage which he represents, or on the decree or execution."

24. Flora v. Mennice, 12 Ala. 836; In re Bolton, [1899] P. 186, 68 L. J. P. & Adm. 63, 80 L. T. Rep. N. S. 631; In re Schwerdtfeger, 1 P. D. 424, 45 L. J. P. & Adm. 46, 34 L. T. Rep. N. S. 72, 24 Wkly. Rep. 298; In re Clarkington, 8 Jur. N. S. 84, 7 L. T. Rep. N. S. 218, 2 Swab. & Tr. 380, 10 Wkly. Rep. 124. See also Dean v. Biggers, 27 Ga. 73; McNairy v. Bell, 6 Yerg. (Tenn.) 302.

When there are neither kindred nor creditors this class of administration only is authorized. Thompson v. Buckner, 2 Hill Eq. (S. C.) 499.

Where a sole next of kin refuses to take administration, the court, on cause shown, will decree letters ad colligendum limited according to the special circumstances of the case. In re Radnall, 2 Add. Eccl. 232.

Nature of office.— The administrator ad colligendum is the mere agent or officer of the court and may be compelled at any time to give way to an administrator in chief. Flora v. Mennice, 12 Ala. 836.

French spoliation claim.—The probate court can appoint an administrator for the sole purpose of collecting and receiving a claim under the French spoliation act, although the fund will not be general assets of the estate of the intestate or liable for his debts but will belong to particular persons who by law or contract with decedent will be entitled thereto. Sargent v. Sargent, 168 Mass. 421, 47 N. E. 121.

Proof of death.— Much weaker proof is sufficient to raise the presumption of the death of an intestate on an application for the appointment of a temporary administrator to collect than a permanent administrator. Czech v. Bean, 35 Misc. (N. Y.) 729, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 402.

25. Godolph, pt. 2, c. 30, § 5.

duly appointed has become disabled by sickness or temporarily insane.[26] So also an administrator may be appointed to act until a will is presented and proved,[27] especially where the will is left in some distant place, or is missing, so as to require a long search for it.[28]

g. Special Administration Under Statutes. Under modern policy, and more especially as the result of legislation in various American states, the enumerated occasions for temporary or limited grants lose much of their force, inasmuch as the appointment of a special or temporary administrator wherever an emergency arises which calls for such appointment is distinctly provided for.[29]

h. Appointment of Receiver. Under certain circumstances and upon a proper showing being made, the court of probate may appoint a receiver for the estate of a decedent, who usually corresponds to a sort of special administrator.[30]

3. Selection. In the selection of a temporary or special administrator the surviving spouse, next of kin, legatees, and beneficiaries have as a rule no such absolute right to preference as in case of a general grant of letters;[31] but the selection is rather controlled by the sound discretion of the court in view of the situation,[32] aided by the consent and confidence of those who may be interested in

26. In re Ponsonby, [1895] P. 287, 64 L. J. P. & Adm. 119, 11 Reports 613, 44 Wkly. Rep. 240; In re Phillip, 2 Add. Eccl. 335; Ex p. Evelyn, 2 Myl. & K. 3, 7 Eng. Ch. 3, 39 Eng. Reprint 846; Hills v. Mills, 1 Salk. 36.

27. Sager v. Mead, 164 Pa. St. 125, 30 Atl. 284.

28. Howell v. Metcalfe, 2 Add. Eccl. 348.

29. Alabama.— Ex p. Lyon, 60 Ala. 650.

California.—Schroeder v. San Mateo County Super. Ct., 70 Cal. 343, 11 Pac. 651.

Indiana.— Bruning v. Golden, 159 Ind. 199, 64 N. E. 657.

Iowa.— Pickering v. Weiting, 47 Iowa 242.

Louisiana.— Rogers v. Beiller, 3 Mart. 665.

Michigan.—People v. Wayne Probate Judge, 39 Mich. 302.

Mississippi.— See Boyd v. Swing, 38 Miss. 182.

Missouri.— Lamb v. Helm, 56 Mo. 420.

Rhode Island.— Sarle v. Scituate Probate Ct., 7 R. I. 270.

A "special collector" is thus recognized in New York practice, wherever by reason of contest or other cause there is likely to be delay in the general grant. Crandall v. Shaw, 2 Redf. (N. Y.) 100; Mootrie v. Hunt, 4 Bradf. (N. Y.) 173.

No such officer as "provisional administrator" is known to the law of Louisiana, but, if such an officer be appointed by the court pending a contest, he has only the functions of a keeper, and may be set aside at the discretion of the court. Clark's Succession, 30 La. Ann. 801.

30. Price v. Price, 23 N. J. Eq. 428 (waste and misappropriation of funds by executor); Harmon v. Wagener, 33 S. C. 487, 12 S. E. 98 (waste and mismanagement by executor). See, generally, Receivers.

Exclusive possession by one of two executors.— The mere fact that one of two joint executors maintains exclusive possession of the securities belonging to the estate, and refuses to deliver them, or any of them, to his coexecutor, there being no evidence of maladministration, or that the interests of the estate are endangered, is not sufficient ground for removing the securities of the estate from the custody of such executor, and transferring them to a special receiver. Burt v. Burt, 41 N. Y. 46.

Where the application is based upon the incompetency of the executrix her resignation and the appointment of an administrator de bonis non by the probate court will defeat the application. Lunsford v. Lunsford, 122 Ala. 242, 25 So. 171.

31. Lamb v. Helm, 56 Mo. 420.

32. Dietz v. Dietz, 38 N. J. Eq. 483; Pratt v. Kitterell, 15 N. C. 168; McClanahan v. McClanahan, 12 Heisk. (Tenn.) 379; In re Stewart, L. R. 3 P. 244, 44 L. J. P. & M. 37, 33 L. T. Rep. N. S. 72, 23 Wkly. Rep. 683; In re Burchmore, L. R. 3 P. 139, 43 L. J. P. & Adm. 1, 29 L. T. Rep. N. S. 377, 22 Wkly. Rep. 70.

Appointment of executor.— There is no law preventing the appointment of a person named as executor in the will as temporary administrator of the estate (In re Bankard, 19 N. Y. Wkly. Dig. 452), but whether it is proper to appoint such person is a question that must be decided in each case that presents itself upon its own peculiar facts and circumstances (Jones v. Hamersley, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 286). It has been held that the executor should not be appointed collector of the estate against the objection of the contestants of the will, especially where he has an interest in any degree hostile to the estate (Howard v. Dougherty, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 535), and also that an executor who is charged with undue influence in procuring the execution of the will should not be appointed (In re Wanninger, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 137; Cornwell v. Cornwell, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 1. See also In re Stearn, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 748, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 272, where in addition to the charge of undue influence, the executor had large unsettled transactions with the estate and his relations with certain members of the testator's family were unfriendly), but it has also been held that where the allegations of improper the estate or in the permanent appointment.[33] As a general rule the choice should fall upon some person who is disinterested[34] and not one of the litigants.[35] In some jurisdictions there are statutory provisions as to who shall be entitled to appointment as temporary or special administrator.[36]

4. Proceedings.[37] A special or temporary administrator should be appointed by the court having authority to grant letters testamentary or of general administration.[38] An application for such appointment pending proceedings for the revocation of letters testamentary is premature.[39] No petition is necessary to the validity of the appointment.[40] An appeal will lie from a refusal to appoint a temporary administrator.[41] Any party interested in the estate may move to set aside an appointment.[42]

F. Second Appointment and Co-Administration — 1. Second Appointment. As a general rule there cannot be two valid grants of administration on the same estate at the same time, within the same state jurisdiction, but the second appointment is a nullity, while the first continues.[43] Even though the first appointment in one county be erroneous to the extent of being voidable (although not void) another appointment cannot properly be made until due revocation of the former influence are general and conjectural and the majority of persons interested both numerically and in amount of interest desire the appointment of the executor as special administrator pending the contest, and it is to the interest of the estate so to appoint him, he should be appointed (Matter of Hilton, 29 Misc. (N. Y.) 532, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 1073. See also Haas v. Childs, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 137), and the court has even gone so far as to say that where the only ground of opposition to the appointment of a person as temporary administrator was the bare fact that he would be entitled to letters testamentary if the paper in dispute should be established as a will, that fact of itself tended rather to support than to defeat his claim to the appointment, for, other things being equal, it was advisable to save to the estate the increased expense which would result from the selection of any person other than one of those named as executors (Jones v. Hamersley, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 286).

Greater interest.— Where two brothers applied for administration pendente lite while there was a dispute as to which of two wills of decedent was entitled to probate, and one brother was named as executor in both wills, and the other brother was entitled to the residue under both wills, letters were granted to the latter, as having the greater interest in the estate. Winpenny's Estate, 5 Leg. Gaz. (Pa.) 140.

Selection not limited to those entitled to ordinary administration.— Matter of Plath, 56 Hun (N. Y.) 223, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 251.

33. Matter of Hilton, 29 Misc. (N. Y.) 532, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 1073.

34. Matter of Eddy, 10 Misc. (N. Y.) 211, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 423. See also Mootrie v. Hunt, 4 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 173.

35. Mootrie v. Hunt, 4 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 173.

36. Maryland.— See Harrison v. Clark, 95 Md. 308, 52 Atl. 514.

Montana.— See In re Ming, 15 Mont. 79, 38 Pac. 228; State v. Judge Second Judicial Dist. Ct., 10 Mont. 401, 25 Pac. 1053.

The statutory right to letters is not renounced by signing and filing a petition consenting to the probate of the will and asking for the appointment of the executors therein named. McIntire v. Worthington, 68 Md. 203, 12 Atl. 251.

37. See, generally, infra, II, H.

38. Cadman v. Richards, 13 Nebr. 383, 14 N. W. 159.

39. Sohn's Estate, 1 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 373.

40. Breeding v. Breeding, 128 Ala. 412, 30 So. 881, holding that consequently the fact that a petition did not show sufficient grounds for the issue of letters of special administration in the contest of a will was immaterial.

41. Long v. Richardson, 26 Tex. Civ. App. 197, 62 S. W. 964.

"Party aggrieved."— Where two persons, each presenting a will and objecting to the will presented by the other, each applied for the appointment of an administrator pendente lite, and the court appointed a disinterested person not related to either petitioner, neither petitioner was "a party aggrieved" by the order, entitled to appeal. Dietz v. Dietz, 38 N. J. Eq. 483.

42. Stone v. Haskins, 97 Ill. App. 3.

43. Alabama.— Nelson v. Boynton, 54 Ala. 368.

Georgia.— Justices Morgan County Inferior Ct. v. Selman, 6 Ga. 432.

Mississippi.— Watkins v. Adams, 32 Miss. 333.

North Carolina.— In re Bowman, 121 N. C. 373, 28 S. E. 404.

Oregon.— Oh Chow v. Brockway, 21 Oreg. 440, 28 Pac. 384.

Pennsylvania.— Ubil v. Miller, 16 Pa. Super. Ct. 497.

Texas.— Grande v. Chaves, 15 Tex. 550.

United States.— Kane v. Paul, 14 Pet. 33, 10 L. ed. 311; Holmes v. Oregon, etc., R. Co., 5 Fed. 523, 6 Sawy. 262; Paul v. Kane, 18 Fed. Cas. No. 10,843, 5 Cranch C. C. 549 [affirmed in 14 Pet. 33, 10 L. ed. 311].

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 129.

letters;[44] nor is an existing executor or administrator removed simply by the appointment of another person to his place in the same jurisdiction; but the office must have first been made vacant by an accepted resignation or a removal of the first appointee, or by the occurrence of such events as by law create a vacancy.[45] Where, however, the appointment of an administrator is void because of a lack of jurisdiction in the probate court of the county where it was granted, the court having jurisdiction may properly ignore such appointment and take any necessary steps for the settlement of the estate,[46] and if a sole administrator has become incapable as distinguished from incompetent, as where he becomes and is adjudged to be insane, the court may grant new letters without citing the incapable person.[47] If the procedure be regular in the various steps, the probate court may at the same term appoint an administrator, remove him, and reappoint him, with or without an additional administrator, or appoint another in his place.[48]

2. Co-Administration.[49] It has been laid down that all other things being equal a sole administration is preferred to a joint one;[50] but where the estate is large, or from any cause an intricate and perplexing one to settle, the appointment of two or more administrators may be wise and preferable; hence in American practice at least the court may exercise a liberal discretion in this respect, even though interested parties should oppose.[51]

G. Public Administrators[52] — 1. In General. In a number of states the statutes provide for the appointment or election of an officer known as a public administrator, to whom is committed the administration of the estates of decedents under certain circumstances, usually where there is no relative 44. Alabama.— Coltart v. Allen, 40 Ala. 155, 88 Am. Dec. 757. See also Ragland v. King, 37 Ala. 80.

Indiana.— Razor v. Mehl, 25 Ind. App. 645, 57 N. E. 274, 58 N. E. 734.

Kentucky.— White v. Brown, 7 T. B. Mon. 446.

Minnesota.— Culver v. Hardenbergh, 37 Minn. 225, 33 N. W. 792.

South Carolina.— Petigru v. Ferguson, 6 Rich. Eq. 378.

Texas.— Lovering v. McKinney, 7 Tex. 521.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 129.

On collateral attack a second grant of administration will not be declared void on the ground that there was no formal order for the removal of the first administrator, when the facts necessary to sustain such an order are recited in the minutes of the court as the reason for such second grant. Ragland v. King, 37 Ala. 80.

45. Alabama.— Allen v. Kellam, 69 Ala. 442.

California.— Haynes v. Weeks, 20 Cal. 288.

Indiana.— Jones v. Bittinger, 110 Ind. 476, 11 N. E. 456; Landers v. Stone, 45 Ind. 404.

North Carolina.— Springs v. Erwin, 28 N. C. 27.

Pennsylvania.— Brubaker's Appeal, 98 Pa. St. 21.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 129.

46. In re King, 105 Iowa 320, 75 N. W. 187.

47. In re Blinn, 99 Cal. 216, 33 Pac. 841.

48. Harris v. Henderson, 7 Heisk. (Tenn.) 315; Lingle v. Cook, 32 Gratt. (Va.) 262; Goff v. Norfolk, etc., R. Co., 36 Fed. 299.

49. Powers, duties, and liabilities of co-executors and co-administrators see infra, XXI.

50. Brubaker's Appeal, 98 Pa. St. 21; In re Newbold, L. R. 1 P. 285, 36 L. J. P. & M. 14, 15 L. T. Rep. N. S. 248, 15 Wkly. Rep. 262; Coppin v. Dillon, 4 Hagg. Eccl. 361; Bell v. Timiswood, 2 Phillim. 22.

51. Iowa.— Read v. Howe, 13 Iowa 50, where an additional administrator was appointed against the protest of one already appointed.

Kentucky.— Shropshire v. Withers, 5 J. J. Marsh. 210, where a stranger to the blood was appointed co-administrator with the widow at her request, although the blood relations objected.

Maryland.— Thomas v. Knighton, 23 Md. 318, 87 Am. Dec. 871.

Mississippi.— Jordan v. Ball, 44 Miss. 194.

New York.— In re Williams, Tuck. Surr. 8.

North Carolina.— In re Meyer, 113 N. C. 545, 18 S. E. 689.

Tennessee.— Phillips v. Green, 4 Heisk. 350.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 130.

Discretion to refuse.— An order denying the joint petition of a widow and a son of deceased to appoint the son co-administrator with the widow will not be disturbed on appeal in the absence of evidence that the trial court abused its discretion. Shrum v. Naugle, 22 Ind. App. 98, 53 N. E. 243.

Executor and administrator cannot be joined, and the appointment of an administrator as the associate of an executor would be void. Terry's Appeal, 67 Conn. 181, 34 Atl. 1032.

52. As to oath see infra, II, I.

As to bond see infra, II, J, 1, b.

within the jurisdiction who is competent or willing to take out letters of administration.[53]

2. Right to Administer. A public administrator is authorized to take charge of and administer on an estate only when property of the estate was in his county at the time of the decedent's death.[54] The court is not limited, in appointing the public administrator to take charge of an estate, to the estate of such persons as die within his county, but he is competent to administer upon the estate within his county of any decedent, irrespective of the place of death.[55] In California the public administrator has a right to letters only in case of intestacy and in the case of a decedent who left a will the court may exercise its discretion.[56] When the heirs are present or represented, administration cannot, in Louisiana, be committed to the public administrator,[57] and in Wisconsin the statute authorizes the appointment of the public administrator only until those authorized by statute to administer the estate apply for letters.[58] The fact that the public administra-

53. Alabama.— McGuire v. Buckley, 58 Ala. 120; Russell v. Erwin, 41 Ala. 292.

California.— In re Morgan, 53 Cal. 243; Beckett v. Selover, 7 Cal. 215, 68 Am. Dec. 237.

Illinois.— Langworthy v. Baker, 23 Ill. 484.

Louisiana.— Townsend's Succession, 36 La. Ann. 535.

Missouri.— State v. McDonald, 38 Mo. 529; Callahan v. Griswold, 9 Mo. 784, holding that the county court may order the public administrator to take possession of an estate in any case in which no administration has been taken out under the general law.

New York.— Douglass v. New York, 56 How. Pr. 178; Public Administrator v. Watts, 1 Paige 347.

North Carolina.— Taylor v. Biddle, 71 N. C. 1.

Tennessee.— State v. Anderson, 16 Lea 32.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 132.

Time of election.— Where the court, by oversight, failed to elect a public administrator at the term when the term of office of the prior incumbent expired, it was proper to elect at a subsequent term of court, the duty being a continuing one. State v. Anderson, 16 Lea (Tenn.) 321.

Appointment for unexpired term.—One who is appointed to the office of public administrator at any time during an unexpired term of that office is entitled to hold it, in virtue of such appointment, only to the end of the unexpired term. State v. Parker, 30 La. Ann. 1182.

Continuance in office.— Under a statute providing that each probate judge shall appoint a general administrator in his county, whose office shall expire at the end of the term of the appointing judge, unless the succeeding judge shall continue him in office; where a judge who had appointed a general administrator was reëlected at the end of his term and neither appointed any other person as general administrator nor made nor entered any formal order continuing the previous incumbent, but continued to treat him as the continuing administrator, and committed the administration of estates to him as such, there was a sufficient continuance of the incumbent, notwithstanding a statute making it the duty of the probate judge to keep minutes of all his official acts and proceedings, and to record them in books, and there was no hiatus in the administrator's tenure of office. Daly v. Mallory, 123 Ala. 170, 26 So. 217.

54. McCabe v. Lewis, 76 Mo. 296.

Assets in custody of United States court.— Unclaimed assets of a decedent, which are in the custody of a United States district court, are within the purview of a statute providing that the public administrator in each county shall administer on the estates of persons who die leaving property to be administered and not leaving a known husband, widow, or heir in the commonwealth. U. S. v. Tyndale, 116 Fed. 820, 54 C. C. A. 324.

55. In re Richardson, 120 Cal. 344, 52 Pac. 832; In re Hickman, 101 Cal. 609, 36 Pac. 118.

56. In re Nunan, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 238.

Will naming no executor.— A person who dies leaving a will wherein no executor is named does not die intestate so as to give the public administrator the right to letters upon his estate. In re Barton, 52 Cal. 538 [followed in In re Von Buncken, 120 Cal. 343, 52 Pac. 819]. But compare In re Yee Yun, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 181.

57. Smith's Succession, 40 La. Ann. 105, 3 So. 539; Miller's Succession, 28 La. Ann. 573 (where the heir was in possession); Daiglee's Succession, 27 La. Ann. 524; Gee's Succession, 26 La. Ann. 666.

Temporary absence from the state of the surviving wife or heirs of the deceased gives the public administrator no right to administer his succession (Longuefosse's Succession, 34 La. Ann. 583), and the heir is entitled to the appointment if present in time to oppose the appointment of the public administrator, although absent at the time of the latter's application for administration (White's Succession, 45 La. Ann. 632, 12 So. 758).

58. Welsh v. Manwaring, 120 Wis. 377, 98 N. W. 214.

tor is a creditor or holds a demand against the estate does not disqualify him.[59] The public administrator's right to administer the estate cannot be collaterally attacked,[60] nor can the question whether the person appointed was the public administrator be raised in a collateral proceeding.[61]

3. Preference. The order of preference of the public administrator as against other persons having or claiming the right to administer is a matter which is regulated by local statutes differing in some particulars in the various jurisdictions.[62] As a general rule, however, his right is subsequent to that of persons beneficially interested in the estate,[63] but prior to that of kindred having no beneficial interest.[64] He is also usually entitled to administration in preference to

59. In re Muersing, 103 Cal. 585, 37 Pac. 520.

60. In re Strong, 119 Cal. 663, 51 Pac. 1078; Vermillion v. Le Clare, 89 Mo. App. 55.

61. Simmons v. Saul, 138 U. S. 439, 11 S. Ct. 369, 34 L. ed. 1054; McNitt v. Turner, 16 Wall. (U. S.) 352, 21 L. ed. 351; Comstock v. Crawford, 3 Wall. (U. S.) 396, 18 L. ed. 34.

62. See In re Goddard, 94 N. Y. 544.

Foreign administrator.— An administrator with the will annexed appointed according to the laws of another state cannot be appointed dative testamentary executor to administer property of the succession situated in Louisiana, but in such case the public administrator for the parish where the property belonging to the succession is situated must be appointed to administer it. Taylor's Succession, 23 La. Ann. 22.

Where an appointment has been made under Mo. Rev. St. § 8, authorizing the court under certain circumstances to grant letters to any person who may be deemed suitable, before the public administrator has taken charge of the estate, the appointee cannot be removed on the ground that the public administrator's right to administer is superior; for the purpose of the statute relating to public administrators is merely to provide a bonded officer who shall take charge of the estates of decedent in cases where they are liable to be wasted by reason of the fact of no executor qualifying or no administrator being appointed under the general law, and it is auxiliary to the general law relating to administration and was intended merely to supply its deficiency in the particular named and not to repeal or supplant any of its provisions. Tittman v. Edwards, 27 Mo. App. 492, where the court said further that, if the public administrator had taken charge of the estate, it would not be a proper exercise of power for the probate court to subsequently appoint an administrator under the statute in question.

63. In re Engle, 124 Cal. 292, 56 Pac. 1022; Reynolds v. McMullen, 55 Mich. 568, 22 N. W. 41, 54 Am. Rep. 386; Public Administrator v. Peters, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 100; Welsh v. Manwaring, 120 Wis. 377, 98 N. W. 214.

If the next of kin is legally disqualified the public administrator is entitled. In re Muersing, 103 Cal. 585, 37 Pac. 520; Public Administrator v. Watts, 1 Paige (N. Y.) 382; Matter of Blank, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 443.

Guardian of incompetent kindred may be preferred. In re McLaughlin, 103 Cal. 429, 34 Pac. 410; In re Hudson, 37 Misc. (N. Y.) 539, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 1053.

Nominee.— In California the nominee of the next of kin is not, as a matter of right, entitled to administration in preference to the public administrator (In re Morgan, 53 Cal. 243), especially where the next of kin is incompetent (In re Muersing, 103 Cal. 585, 37 Pac. 520; In re Kelly, 57 Cal. 81; In re Morgan, supra), but the nominee of a nonresident widow should be preferred (In re Cotter, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 179). See supra, II, B, 2, h.

The attorney in fact of an heir who applies for administration and tenders the requisite security is properly appointed in preference to the public administrator, especially if the heir be present. Henry's Succession, 31 La. Ann. 555. But see Matter of Blank, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 443, holding that the public administrator had a right to administration with the will annexed in preference to the attorney in fact of a disqualified next of kin, except where the will was made by a testator dying domiciled abroad, and was proved by exemplification of a foreign probate.

A resident devisee under a will probated abroad is preferred to the public administrator. In re Bergin, 100 Cal. 376, 34 Pac. 867.

A judgment, rendered after public notice, regularly appointing a public administrator as administrator of an apparently vacant estate will not be reversed on appeal because of subsequent evidence tending to show the existence of heirs. St. Hubert's Succession, 36 La. Ann. 388.

General and local statutes.— Where under a general act the guardian of the next of kin would be entitled to administer, but under a later local act the right is conferred upon the public administrator, the latter is entitled to letters. Speckles v. Public Administrator, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 475.

64. Matter of Gilchrist, 79 N. Y. App. Div. 637, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 1135 [affirming 37 Misc. 543, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 1055]; Public Administrator v. Peters, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 100. See also Public Administrator v. Watts, 1 Paige (N. Y.) 347. But compare Langworthy v. Baker, 23 Ill. 484.

In cases of illegitimacy the public administrator is preferred. Ferrie v. Public Administrator, 3 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 249.

creditors,[65] or strangers.[66] As between the public administrator and another person applying for administration the choice sometimes rests in the discretion of the court.[67]

4. Duty to Administer. A public administrator cannot refuse to enter upon or to continue the administration of an estate which by law he should administer.[68]

5. Appointment. A public administrator is not merely as such entitled to take charge of and administer estates,[69] although he may under certain circumstances take charge temporarily;[70] but it is ordinarily necessary that he should be appointed administrator by the court[71] upon his petition being duly filed[72] and due notice being given.[73] In appointing the public administrator to administer any particular estate the court exercises the same jurisdiction that it does in the grant of letters in ordinary cases,[74] and when he is so appointed he holds the same

Persons entitled to "succeed" to property. — Under a statute giving the brothers of a decedent "when they are entitled to succeed to his personal estate, or some portion thereof," a right of administration prior to that of the public administrator, the brothers are not entitled to priority where the deceased died leaving her mother as her sole heir at law and the mother thereafter died leaving a will bequeathing her property to her two sons, for in such case the brothers do not "succeed" to the decedent's estate. In re Wakefield, 136 Cal. 110, 68 Pac. 499.

65. Hyde's Estate, 64 Cal. 228, 30 Pac. 804; McKinnon's Estate, 64 Cal. 226, 30 Pac. 437; Matter of Blank, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 443; Public Administrator v. Peters, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 100. See also In re Doak, 46 Cal. 573, holding that if there is a contest between the public administrator and a creditor as to which shall administer, and other creditors request the court to appoint the public administrator, it is within the discretionary power of the court to appoint him. Contra, Rosenthal v. Prussing, 108 Ill. 128; Langworthy v. Baker, 23 Ill. 484.

A public administrator who is also a creditor does not by applying for letters in his individual capacity as creditor waive his right to make a subsequent application in his official capacity. McKinnon's Estate, 64 Cal. 226, 30 Pac. 437.

66. Hyde's Estate, 64 Cal. 228, 30 Pac. 804; Public Administrator v. Peters, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 100.

67. In re Yee Yun, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 181, holding that where applications were made by the public administrator and by a Chinaman who did not intend to reside permanently in the state, and did not speak English, letters should be issued to the public administrator.

68. State v. Kennedy, 73 Mo. App. 384. See also Johnson v. Tatum, 20 Ga. 775, clerk of court may be forced to serve.

69. In re Hamilton, 34 Cal. 464. See also Williamson v. Furbush, 31 Ark. 539; Wilson v. Dibble, 16 Fla. 782.

70. See McCabe v. Lewis, 76 Mo. 296, holding that while the public administrator may in the first instance act on his own judgment in taking charge of an estate, his determination is by no means final and conclusive on the question of his authority to do so.

Notice of taking charge.— Where the statute requires the public administrator immediately upon taking charge of an estate, except where he acts under the order of court, for the purpose of administering the same, to file a notice of the fact in the office of the clerk having probate jurisdiction, the public administrator's omission to file the notice would not render the whole administration void, especially in view of a provision in the statute that failure to file the notice shall subject the public administrator to a penalty. Adams v. Larrimore, 51 Mo. 130.

71. In re Hamilton, 34 Cal. 464; Sandifer v. Mackey, (Miss. 1888) 3 So. 570. Contra, In re Hill, 102 Mo. App. 617, 77 S. W. 110.

Presumption of appointment.— In the absence of evidence to the contrary it will be presumed that a public administrator taking charge of an estate procured letters of appointment as required by statute. State v. Woody, 20 Mont. 413, 51 Pac. 975.

Where a public administrator is reëlected and qualifies, he becomes his own successor as guardian of an estate committed to him during his first term, and there is no necessity of a special order of the probate court, after his reëlection. State v. Kennedy, 163 Mo. 510, 63 S. W. 678.

72. In re Hamilton, 34 Cal. 464.

73. Proctor v. Wanmaker, 1 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 302.

Notice to a relative not entitled to share in estate is unnecessary, although such person's claim to administration is superior to that of the public administrator. Matter of Brewster, 5 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 259.

Where no order was made on the day named in the citation and notice, either adjourning the hearing or determining the matter, the surrogate lost jurisdiction to proceed further without either due service of another citation or a voluntary appearance of the widow and next of kin, and an order made on a day subsequent granting the public administrator's application for appointment without such notice or appearance was void. In re Page, 107 N. Y. 266, 14 N. E. 193.

74. State v. Anderson, 16 Lea (Tenn.) 321.

Trial of right to appointment.— Where a public administrator made application to be relation to each individual estate that a private administrator would.[75] In some states the public administrator cannot apply for administration or be appointed to the trust until the lapse of a specified time after the death of the decedent.[76]

6. Termination of Office. Under the statutes of some jurisdictions a public administrator to whom the administration of an estate has been committed during his term of office has the right to continue in charge of the estate after his term of office expires and his successor is elected and qualified,[77] but upon his resignation and the appointment of his successor his functions cease and he should settle and turn over the assets to his successor.[78] A public administrator, by filing his application to administer an estate, does not acquire a vested right to administer, and to the fees pertaining thereto, as against his successor acquiring the office before an appointment is made.[79]

7. Administration by Other Public Officials. In states or counties where there is no public administrator the administration of vacant estates is frequently committed to some other public officer, such as the sheriff or clerk of the court.[80] appointed administrator of a vacant estate it was error to refuse to take any judicial action in relation to the application merely because a person representing himself to be the brother and heir of the deceased had appeared praying to be appointed administrator, but the application of the public administrator should have been filed and after due notice given tried contradictorily with the application of any other person and the rights of all parties settled by a judicial decree. State v. Plaquemines Parish Judge, 25 La. Ann. 329.

75. Olsen v. Rich, 2 Ky. L. Rep. 257; Tymon v. Cromwell, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 650.

76. Underwood v. Underwood, 111 Ky. 966, 65 S. W. 130, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 1287; Varnell v. Loague, 9 Lea (Tenn.) 158.

77. Alabama.— Eubank v. Clark, 78 Ala. 73. See also King v. Griffin, 6 Ala. 387.

California.— Rogers v. Hoberlein, 11 Cal. 120.

Georgia.— Beale v. Hall, 22 Ga. 431.

Kentucky.— Olsen v. Rich, 2 Ky. L. Rep. 257.

Louisiana.— Cabrol's Succession, 28 La. Ann. 602.

Mississippi.— Hull v. Neal, 27 Miss. 424.

Missouri.— State v. Kennedy, 163 Mo. 510, 63 S. W. 678; Garner v. Tucker, 61 Mo. App. 427; State v. Holman, 93 Mo. App. 611, 67 S. W. 747; State v. Kennedy, 73 Mo. App. 384.

Montana.— In re Craigie, 24 Mont. 37, 60 Pac. 495.

South Carolina.— Levi v. Huggins, 14 Rich. 166.

Tennessee.— Thornton v. Loague, 95 Tenn. 93, 31 S. W. 986.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 189.

Contra.— Cocke v. Harrison, 3 Rand. (Va.) 494, holding that a sheriff to whom the estate of a decedent is committed is not administrator and is not responsible for the due administration of the estate after his office of sheriff expires.

78. State v. Kennedy, 163 Mo. 510, 63 S. W. 678 (holding that in Rev. St. (1889) § 301, which declares that, when the public administrator has been appointed to take charge of an estate, he shall continue the administration until finally settled, unless he resigns, dies, is removed for cause, or is discharged in the course of law, the word "resigns" has reference to his office as public administrator, and not his appointment by the probate court to take charge of any particular estate; and hence, on his resignation, accepted by the governor, and his successor having been appointed, he becomes incapacitated to administer estates in his hands); State v. Kennedy, 73 Mo. App. 384.

79. In re Pingree, 100 Cal. 78, 34 Pac. 521; State v. Woody, 20 Mont. 413, 51 Pac. 975. See also Landford v. Dunklin, 71 Ala. 594; Wilson v. Wiltz, 32 La. Ann. 688.

80. Arkansas.— Williamson v. Furbush, 31 Ark. 539.

Florida.— Wilson v. Dibble, 16 Fla. 782; Davis v. Shuler, 14 Fla. 438.

Georgia.— Johnston v. Tatum, 20 Ga. 775.

Kentucky.— Scarce v. Page, 12 B. Mon. 311; Hammon v. Pearl, 6 T. B. Mon. 410.

Mississippi.— Cocke v. Finley, 29 Miss. 127.

New York.— In re Ward, 1 Redf. Surr. 254, county treasurer.

Virginia.— Hutcheson v. Priddy, 12 Gratt. 85.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 138, 139.

The powers of commissioners of emigration in cases where the minor children of alien passengers have become orphans by their parents or last surviving parent dying on their passage to the port of New York see Ex p. Emigration Com'rs, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 259.

The consul-general of a foreign country has been appointed administrator of a citizen of that country who died intestate in New York leaving no resident next of kin or creditors, the public administrator, although duly cited, having made default. But the consul-general was required to give bond. Matter of Logirato, 34 Misc. (N. Y.) 31, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 507.

H. Proceedings For Appointment — 1. Who May Apply For Administration. A probate court having jurisdiction is bound to commit the estate to administration on the application of any one having an interest therein,[81] and a person claiming the right to be heard in proceedings for the appointment of an administrator must show that he has an interest in the choice of an appointee.[82] But a grant of administration on the application of one who is neither next of kin nor creditor is valid unless reversed on appeal.[83]

2. Time For Application. The time within which original administration may or must be applied for is expressly limited by statute in some jurisdictions,[84] and, even apart from statute, long acquiescence by persons sui juris in an informal distribution of an estate in which they are interested will debar them from seeking administration merely to disturb such settlement, there being no creditors interested.[85] But an application for administration by a creditor a considerable number of years after the death of decedent has been held not too late.[86] In District marshal.— Under a statute, providing that if all executors shall refuse, or in case of intestacy if no person apply for administration, the general court, or other court having jurisdiction of probate, shall order the sheriff or other officer of the county to take the estate in his possession and make sale thereof for the payment of debts, the orphans' court of the county of Alexandria had no authority to order the marshal of the District of Columbia to administer the estate of any deceased person, he not being a county or corporation officer, but the officer of the whole district. Ex p. Ringgold, 20 Fed. Cas. No. 11,841, 3 Cranch C. C. 86.

81. Brennan v. Harris, 20 Ala. 185; In re Sprague, 125 Mich. 357, 84 N. W. 293.

A kinsman of the decedent, even though not entitled to administration, has been held to have such an interest as entitles him to appeal from an order refusing to set aside an order made the day after the decedent's death placing the estate in the hands of the public administrator. Underwood v. Underwood, 111 Ky. 966, 65 S. W. 130, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 1287.

A creditor has such an interest in the estate as gives him a legal right to demand that it shall be administered (Brennan v. Harris, 20 Ala. 185), even though such creditor is a non-resident (Branch v. Raukin, 108 Ill. 444 [following Rosenthal v. Renick, 44 Ill. 202]), and where a testator has authorized his executor to carry on his business, it has been held that an order for administration of the estate may be made at the suit of a subsequent creditor of the business, although there are no creditors of the testator himself (Re Shorey, 79 L. T. Rep. N. S. 349, 47 Wkly. Rep. 188). But an attorney's claim for services performed for the administrator is a claim against the administrator personally to be charged against the estate upon the accounting, and if the administrator is discharged without payment for such services the attorney is not a creditor of the estate so as to be entitled to apply for the appointment of an administrator de bonis non. Wiesmann v. Daniels, 114 Wis. 240, 90 N. W. 162.

82. Williams v. Williams, 113 Ga. 1006, 39 S. E. 474.

83. Mowry v. Latham, 20 R. I. 786, 40 Atl. 236, 341.

84. Connecticut.— Lawrence's Appeal, 49 Conn. 411.

Idaho.— Gwinn v. Melvin, (1903) 72 Pac. 961.

Iowa.— Crossan v. McCrary, 37 Iowa 684.

Massachusetts.— Parsons v. Spaulding, 130 Mass. 83.

Michigan.— In re Brook, 110 Mich. 8, 67 N. W. 975.

North Carolina.— Whit v. Ray, 26 N. C. 14.

Pennsylvania.— Foster v. Com., 35 Pa. St. 148; Hambest's Estate, 21 Pa. Super. Ct. 427, holding that the act of March 15, 1832, providing that "no letters of administration shall in any case be originally granted upon the estate of any decedent after the expiration of twenty-one years from the day of his decease except by the order of the register's (orphans') court upon due cause shown," applies not only to cases in which no letters of administration have been previously granted, but also to cases in which previous letters have been issued.

Tennessee.— Rice v. Henly, 90 Tenn. 69, 15 S. W. 748; Townsend v. Townsend, 4 Coldw. 70, 94 Am. Dec. 185.

Texas.— Martin v. Robinson, 67 Tex. 368, 3 S. W. 550; Loyd v. Mason, 38 Tex. 212.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 83.

In some states there is no express provision limiting the time for granting original administration. See Healy v. Buchanan, 34 Cal. 567; Langmade v. Tuggle, 78 Ga. 770, 3 S. E. 666.

85. Wales v. Willard, 2 Mass. 120 (holding that an original grant of administration is void, if made more than twenty years after the deceased's death); Beardslee v. Reeves, 76 Mich. 661, 43 N. W. 677; Ledyard v. Bull, 119 N. Y. 62, 23 N. E. 444; Stone Land, etc., Co. v. Boon, 73 Tex. 548, 11 S. W. 544 (holding that administration opened fifteen years after the death of the intestate, without any allegation of indebtedness, and when, under the longest period allowed by law, any debt that he may have owed and that had matured at the time of his death would have been barred, is void). See also Harwood v. Wylie, 70 Tex. 538, 7 S. W. 789.

86. Ray v. Strickland, 89 Ga. 840, 16 S. E. 90, where a judgment debtor having died in-some states there are also statutory provisions that administration shall not be granted until the expiration of a certain period after the decedent's death,[87] but in the absence of some such statute letters granted after the decedent's death, no matter how soon after, are valid.[88]

3. Parties. In a contest as to the right of administration, there are strictly no plaintiffs or defendants. All applicants are actors, and some may withdraw and others come in at any time during the progress of the cause, even after an appeal.[89] Filing a caveat against an application does not amount to making one a party to such application in the full sense.[90] A person who is neither a creditor, legatee, nor distributee of the estate cannot make himself a party to the petition filed in the probate court for letters of administration.[91]

4. Citation and Notice. Before creditors or strangers in interest can be admitted to the trust it is usual to require proceedings on the part of the petitioner tantamount to citing in or summoning those entitled to preference to appear and exercise their right if they so desire.[92] To dispense with such citation, those of

testate and an execution on the judgment having become dormant after his death, it was held that about twenty years after the decedent's death, no administration having ever been granted and all the heirs being of age, it was not too late for the owner of the judgment and fieri facias to apply as a creditor for administration, since, although the judgment was dormant and the right to sue on it barred, the bar having attached after the debtor's death could be waived by the administrator. But compare Roth v. Holland, 56 Ark. 633, 20 So. 521, 35 Am. St. Rep. 126, holding that unnecessary delay for the period of more than seven years on the part of the creditor in procuring letters of administration to be issued upon the estate of his debtor was such laches as would defeat an application of the administrator to sell lands of the estate which had been in the possession of the decedent's heirs during that period of time.

87. Brunson v. Burnett, 2 Pinn. (Wis.) 185, 1 Chandl. (Wis.) 136.

"Supposed" intestacy.—The Maryland statute applies only to cases of "supposed" intestacy and not where the intestacy is admitted (Williams v. Addison, 93 Md. 41, 48 Atl. 458) or is notorious or satisfactorily proven, which will be presumed from the making of the appointment (Jones v. Harbaugh, 93 Md. 269, 48 Atl. 827). The question whether there is a notorious intestacy, so as to justify the appointment of the administrator forthwith, is for the appointing court alone, and cannot be raised in a proceeding by the administrator as claimant in the court of claims. Eslin v. District of Columbia, 22 Ct. Cl. 160.

Application before expiration of time.—The appointment of an administrator after the lapse of the prescribed period is not invalidated by the mere fact that the application therefor was made before such time. Mowry v. Latham, 20 R. I. 786, 40 Atl. 236, 341.

In Louisiana an administrator cannot be appointed until after the heirs have been called on by the creditors of the succession to renounce or to take the inheritance and asked time to deliberate. Lamm's Succession, 40 La. Ann. 312, 4 So. 53.

88. Comfort's Estate, 12 Pa. Co. Ct. 571.

The pendency of a bill for the construction of a will is no objection to a defendant making application for the appointment of an executor according to the requirements of the will before the question of construction is concluded. Hutton v. Hutton, 41 N. J. Eq. 267, 3 Atl. 882.

89. De Lorme v. Pease, 19 Ga. 220; Atkins v. McCormick, 49 N. C. 274; Woerner Adm. § 263.

90. Ex p. Crafts, 28 S. C. 281, 5 S. E. 718.

91. Miller v. Keith, 26 Miss. 166.

92. Georgia.— Rusk v. Hill, 117 Ga. 722, 45 S. E. 42; Torrance v. McDougald, 12 Ga. 526.

Louisiana.— See Elkins v. Canfield, 5 Mart. N. S. 505.

Massachusetts.—Cobb v. Newcomb, 19 Pick. 336.

New Jersey.— Gans v. Dabergott, 40 N. J. Eq. 184.

New York.— In re Page, 107 N. Y. 266, 14 N. E. 193; Batchelor v. Batchelor, 1 Dem. Surr. 209.

England.— Windeatt v. Sharland, L. R. 2 P. 217; In re Bruce, 68 L. J. P. Adm. 120, 81 L. T. Rep. N. S. 458; In re Harper, [1899] P. 59, 68 L. J. P. & Adm. 48, 80 L. T. Rep. N. S. 294; In re Megson, 80 L. T. Rep. N. S. 295.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 85.

Rules of court may require due notice of application even when the statute is silent. Sayre v. Sayre, 48 N. J. Eq. 267, 22 Atl. 198.

Notice to guardian of next of kin necessary. — Maupay's Estate, 2 Brewst. (Pa.) 491.

Notice to creditor's next of kin not necessary.— In re McCreight, 9 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 450, 6 Ohio N. P. 479.

Notice to husband's administrator.— Under the New York statute providing that if the husband dies leaving assets of the estate of his deceased wife unadministered such assets shall pass to the husband's executor or administrator as part of his personal property if the wife left no descendant, letters of admin-the class entitled to preference should renounce their claim or else signify their assent to the grant of the petitioner's request for appointment by indorsement of his petition or by other writing of record.[93] The grant of letters by the court should follow reasonably soon upon such citation, as otherwise a new citation or notice may be requisite.[94] Citation is required only where there are persons having a right prior to the person applying for letters of administration,[95] and formal citation is sometimes dispensed with where several are equally entitled, among whom the court is free to select.[96] On the hearing letters may be denied to the original applicant and granted to another person, and in such case no new citation is necessary with reference to those already cited.[97] On a petition for the probate of a will and letters testamentary to an executor, citation to the next of kin and others interested is likewise proper.[98] Under some statutes it is not necessary that the citation should state the name of any person as contemplated for appointment as administrator.[99] One who has actual notice and seasonably appears cannot complain that the citation was insufficient.[1] It is usual to publish the citation in a newspaper, or post copies thereof in conspicuous places, or both, the manner of publication and the time at which it must be made or during which it must continue being regulated by statute or rule of court or even by particular directions of the court in individual cases.[2] It will be presumed in the absence of evidence istration should not be granted on the wife's estate after the husband's death without notice to the husband's administrator. Matter of Thomas, 33 Misc. 729, 68 N. Y. Suppl. 1116.

Persons not entitled to share in the estate must be cited if they have a right to administer prior or equal to that of the petitioner. Matter of Lowenstein, 29 Misc. (N. Y.) 722, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 819.

An administrator and receiver pendente lite will not be appointed without notice to the heir at law. Wiggins v. Hudson, 80 L. T. Rep. N. S. 296.

Administrator with will annexed.—In a case where a minor executor elected his stepmother, the widow of the testator, his guardian for the purpose of taking administration with the will annexed for his use and benefit, such administration was granted to her under the circumstances without citing those having a prior right. In re Widger, 3 Curt. Eccl. 55.

In small estates citation is sometimes dispensed with and informal notice if actual is held sufficient so as to save expense. In re Teece, [1896] P. 6, 65 L. J. P. & Adm. 41, 73 L. T. Rep. N. S. 631, 44 Wkly. Rep. 400.

93. Georgia.— Torrance v. McDougald, 12 Ga. 526.

Louisiana.— Talbert's Succession, 16 La. Ann. 230.

Massachusetts.— Arnold v. Sabin, 1 Cush. 525; Cobb v. Newcomb, 19 Pick. 336.

Oregon.— Ramp v. McDaniel, 12 Oreg. 108, 6 Pac. 456.

Pennsylvania.— Frick's Appeal, 114 Pa. St. 29, 6 Atl. 363.

South Carolina.— Ex p. White, 38 S. C. 41, 16 S. E. 286.

Texas.— Cole v. Dial, 12 Tex. 100.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 85.

94. McGehee v. Ragan, 9 Ga. 135 (holding that letters of administration must be granted at the term immediately succeeding the publication of the notice and citation unless the application is regularly continued by the action of the court); Elgutter v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 53 Nebr. 748, 74 N. W. 255.

95. In re Curser, 89 N. Y. 401; Cobb v. Beardsley, 37 Barb. (N. Y.) 192; Matter of Gooseberry, 52 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 310; West v. Mapes, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 496.

Where the widow has lost her right by lapse of time, she is not entitled to a citation. Grantham v. Williams, 1 Ark. 270.

Under the Maryland statute it is not necessary to give notice to collateral relations more remote than brothers or sisters of the intestate in order to exclude them from administration, but such persons are not considered as entitled to letters unless they apply for the same. Williams v. Addison, 93 Md. 41, 48 Atl. 458.

96. Decker v. Decker, 74 Me. 465; Bean v. Bumpas, 22 Me. 549; Peters v. Public Administrator, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 200.

97. Mandeville v. Mandeville, 35 Ga. 243; Shannon v. Shannon, 111 Mass. 331.

98. King v. Lastrapes, 13 La. Ann. 582; Shannon v. Shannon, 111 Mass. 331; Perry v. De Wolf, 2 R. I. 103.

Acting under will.— A judge of probate may, in some appointment designated by a will, act under the will instead of as a court, and in that sense dispense with a citation. National Webster Bank v. Eldridge, 115 Mass. 424.

99. Robinson v. Epping, 24 Fla. 237, 4 So. 812.

1. Arnold v. Sabin, 1 Cush. (Mass.) 525; In re Brooks, 110 Mich. 8, 67 N. W. 975; Spencer v. Wolfe, 49 Nebr. 8, 67 N. W. 858; Davis v. Smith, 58 N. H. 16.

2. Robinson v. Epping, 24 Fla. 237, 4 So. 812 (newspaper publication and posting for six weeks); In re Talbert, 16 La. Ann. 230 (ten days' advertisement); Chew v. Flint, 7 La. 395 (publication and posting).

Where there is no local newspaper posting a notice is favored in probate orders. Herriman v. Janney, 31 La. Ann. 276.

Reading in church.—Citation in South Caroto the contrary that the required publication was made,[3] and a statement or recital in the order granting administration that citation has been published as required by law is an adjudication that this has been done which cannot be inquired into in a collateral proceeding.[4]

5. Petition or Bill. The usual and regular method of applying for administration is by a petition or bill[5] asking the appointment of the petitioner,[6] or in some cases of some other person; and it has been held that an administrator can be appointed only when a proper petition is filed for that purpose.[7] Jurisdiction to appoint should appear affirmatively on the face of the petition[8] and the necessary facts should be alleged,[9] such as death,[10] last residence of decedent,[11] the existence and situs if need be of assets,[12] intestacy, where this is relied on,[13] the right of the person who seeks administration, as next of kin, creditor, or otherlina, as from a spiritual court, has been published by being read in church by an officiating clergyman. Sargent v. Fox, 2 McCord (S. C.) 309.

Failure to publish notice for prescribed period a jurisdictional defect.— Hartley v. Glover, 56 S. C. 69, 33 S. E. 796.

Evidence of publication.— Where the order appointing an administrator refers to an affidavit of publication, filed as authorized by statute, as evidence of publication, and such affidavit does not conform to the statutory requirements, the appointment is invalid because the court has acted without evidence on the jurisdictional fact of notice. Gillett v. Needham, 37 Mich. 143.

3. Hendrix v. Holden, 58 S. C. 495, 36 S. E. 1010.

4. Robinson v. Epping, 24 Fla. 237, 4 So. 812.

5. See Robinson v. Epping, 24 Fla. 237, 4 So. 812; Moore v. Moore, 33 Nebr. 509, 50 N. W. 443.

Affidavit in connection with petition.— Under a statute providing that application for letters of administration shall be made by petition in writing, signed by the applicant or his attorney, and filed in the superior court, which petition shall set forth the facts essential to give the court jurisdiction of the case, and such applicant at the time of making the application shall make an affidavit stating to the best of his knowledge and belief the names and places of residence of the heirs of the deceased, and that deceased died without a will, it has been held that the jurisdiction of the superior court was based on the petition required and was not dependent on the affidavit specified, and hence where a petition for letters set out all the facts required the court was not deprived of jurisdiction by reason of the petitioner's failure to make the affidavit at the time of filing the petition. McLean v. Roller, 33 Wash. 166, 73 Pac. 1123.

6. Matter of Batchelor, 64 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 350.

7. Haug v. Primeau, 98 Mich. 91, 57 N. W. 25. Contra, Robinson v. Epping, 24 Fla. 237, 4 So. 812.

8. Shipman v. Butterfield, 47 Mich. 487, 11 N. W. 283; Moore v. Moore, 33 Nebr. 509, 50 N. W. 443.

9. See Paul v. Willis, 69 Tex. 261, 7 S. W. 357.

Details unessential to jurisdiction need not be averred. Florida.— Emerson v. Ross, 17 Fla. 122.

Nebraska.— In re Miller, 32 Nebr. 480, 49 N. W. 427.

Tennessee.—Baker v. Huddleston, 3 Baxt. 1.

Texas.— George v. Watson, 19 Tex. 354.

Washington.— Scott v. McNeal, 5 Wash. 309, 31 Pac. 873, 34 Am. St. Rep. 863.

Wisconsin.— Sargent's Estate, 62 Wis. 130, 22 N. W. 131.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 88.

The only necessary averments in a petition for administration are that decedent died intestate, and was at the time of his death a resident or inhabitant of the county where the petition is filed, or if he was a non-resident of the state that he left an estate in such county to be administered. Larson v. Union Pac. R. Co., (Nebr. 1903) 97 N. W. 313.

10. See Beckett v. Selover, 7 Cal. 215, 68 Am. Dec. 237; and supra, I, J, 3, a.

Allegation on belief.— An allegation that petitioner "verily believed" that the alleged decedent had departed this life has been held sufficient. Pleasants v. Dunkin, 47 Tex. 343. But compare Roderigas v. East River Sav. Inst., 76 N. Y. 316, 32 Am. Rep. 309 [affirming 43 N. Y. Super. Ct. 217].

11. Townsend v. Gordon, 19 Cal. 188 (holding that a petition addressed to the probate court of Santa Clara county, stating that decedent was late a resident of "the county aforesaid" sufficiently showed that decedent was a resident of Santa Clara county); Beckett v. Selover, 7 Cal. 215, 68 Am. Dec. 237 (holding an allegation that the decedent was "late" a resident of the county where the petition was brought sufficient); Larson v. Union Pac. R. Co., (Nebr. 1903) 97 N. W. 313. See also Sargent's Estate, 62 Wis. 130, 22 N. W. 131; and supra, I, J, 4, a.

When jurisdiction is not founded on residence but on locality of assets an allegation of residence is not necessary. Rankin v. Anderson, 8 Baxt. (Tenn.) 240.

12. See Larson v. Union Pac. R. Co., (Nebr. 1903) 97 N. W. 313; Sargent's Estate, 62 Wis. 130, 22 N. W. 131; and supra, I, J, 3, b; I, J, 4, c.

13. See Beckett v. Selover, 7 Cal. 215, 68 Am. Dec. 237; Larson v. Union Pac. R. Co., (Nebr. 1903) 97 N. W. 313; Sargent's Es-wise, to be appointed,[14] and, it has been held, the fact that he is qualified for the office;[15] but it is not necessary that the petition should contain a description of either the real or the personal property belonging to the estate.[16] As jurisdictional facts and their correctness may be determined at the hearing, a misnomer or inaccuracy in the petition, or even the omission of essential allegations, is often indulgently treated.[17] Verification of the petition has been held not necessary.[18]

6. Answer or Traverse. An answer or traverse to the petition, or a demurrer, is found in the practice of some states.[19]

7. Objections to Appointment. Objections, more or less formal, to a petition may be offered at or before the open hearing, and parties in opposition duly enter an appearance, by attorney or otherwise, in token that they desire to be heard; the caveat customary in some jurisdictions being filed for similar effect.[20] Objections to the issuance of letters testamentary or of administration can be made only by persons having an interest in the estate.[21] The objection must tate, 62 Wis. 130, 22 N. W. 131; and supra, II, B, 1.

14. Towner v. Griffin, 115 Ga. 965, 42 S. E. 262; Shipman v. Butterfield, 47 Mich. 487, 11 N. W. 283. But compare Pollet's Succession, 1 Rob. (La.) 559, holding that an applicant for the curatorship of a succession, if legally opposed, may show in a supplemental petition the grounds of his claim, but he need not do so until then.

As to right to appointment see supra, II, B, 2.

Unnecessary allegations.— After the expiration of the thirty days provided by the Nebraska statute within which the widow or next of kin of intestate may apply for administration of the estate, it is not necessary that a petition for the appointment of an administrator should allege that the person whose appointment is sought is the next of kin, or selected by the next of kin, to the intestate. Nor would it be necessary after the expiration of about two years after the decease to allege that there were no creditors competent or willing to accept the trust, in order to confer jurisdiction to appoint some other suitable person whom the county judge might think proper. Atkinson v. Hasty, 21 Nebr. 663, 33 N. W. 206.

15. Andis v. Lowe, 8 Ind. App. 687, 34 N. E. 850. Contra, In re Gordon, 142 Cal. 125, 75 Pac. 672.

As to competency see infra, II, A, 3; II, B, 3.

16. In re Miller, 32 Nebr. 480, 49 N. W. 427.

17. Alabama.— Davis v. Miller, 106 Ala. 154, 17 So. 323.

Illinois.— Judd v. Ross, 146 Ill. 40, 34 N. E. 631.

Louisiana.— Ford v. Newcomer, 14 La. Ann. 706.

Maine.— Danby v. Dawes, 81 Me. 30, 16 Atl. 255.

Michigan.— Wilkinson v. Conaty, 65 Mich. 614, 32 N. W. 841.

Nebraska.— Stacks v. Crawford, 63 Nebr. 662, 88 N. W. 852.

New York.— Johnston v. Smith, 25 Hun 171.

Tennessee.— Hall v. Calvert, (Ch. App. 1897) 46 S. W. 1120.

Texas.— Odell v. Kennedy, 26 Tex. Civ. App. 439, 64 S. W. 802.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 88.

18. Davis v. Miller, 106 Ala. 154, 17 So. 323; In re Miller, 32 Nebr. 480, 49 N. W. 427. But compare In re Pina, (Cal. 1902) 71 Pac. 171.

19. In re Wooten, 56 Cal. 322; In re Brooks, 110 Mich. 8, 67 N. W. 975.

20. In re Aronstein, 51 La. Ann. 1052, 25 So. 932.

Allegations of fraud cannot be noticed in an opposition to an application for administration as they form the subject of an independent litigation and should not be tried collaterally. Martin's Succession, 13 La. Ann. 557.

A limitation of time within which opposition to the appointment of a curator must be made has been held to apply only to cases where due and regular notice has been given of the application to be appointed. Yilden v. Kendrick, 3 La. 471.

21. Augusta, etc., R. Co. v. Peacock, 56 Ga. 146; Williams' Succession, 107 La. 610, 32 So. 65; In re De Armas, 1 Rob. (La.) 461; Matter of Willink, 4 Phila. (Pa.) 188; Angier v. Jones, 28 Tex. Civ. App. 402, 67 S. W. 449.

The Louisiana code requires the opposer to state objections in writing and show a better right in himself. In re De Armas, 1 Rob. (La.) 461.

Under the North Carolina statute no one except a person entitled to administer can object to the appointment of another. Garrison v. Cox, 95 N. C. 353.

The public administrator is a person "interested" who may contest a petition for administration. In re Healy, 122 Cal. 162, 54 Pac. 736.

A person claiming under oath to be a creditor may be heard to object to the issuing of letters testamentary, although the person named as executor in the will alleges the objector to be a debtor instead of a creditor. In re Ferris, Tuck. Surr. (N. Y.) 15.

A person in possession of certain of the property under circumstances indicating a claim of right has such an interest in the matter as entitles him to appear and oppose show that the applicant for letters is incompetent upon some ground specified by statute or is not entitled to the appointment.[22] Where objection has been duly made by a party in interest, the issue of letters should be suspended until the determination of the objection or its withdrawal.[23]

8. TRIAL OR HEARING. The proceedings in county probate courts are often somewhat informal, as though in the disposition of executive business, and may be conducted without even the employment of legal counsel,[24] yet the essentials of judicial investigation and decree should be preserved.[25] The probate court has in each case a sound discretion to investigate and determine as to death and other facts fundamental to the grant of administration;[26] but it is not within the province of the court on an application for letters of administration to determine questions of title or property rights,[27] or other matters not directly involved in the application before it.[28]

9. EVIDENCE. It is incumbent upon the person seeking administration to establish the facts showing administration to be necessary or proper.[29] He must also show his right to the administration,[30] and evidence which tends to establish this right is always admissible,[31] as is also evidence to show the superior claims of the application. Wiesmann v. Daniels, 114 Wis. 240, 90 N. W. 162.

A debtor to the estate is not "a party in interest" in such sense (Swan v. Picquet, 3 Pick. (Mass.) 443), nor is the garnishee of a debtor (Veazie Bank v. Young, 53 Me. 555).

The objector's right to appear may be disputed notwithstanding his affidavit. Burwell v. Shaw, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 322. And see In re Welch, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 202; Burton v. Waples, 4 Harr. (Del.) 73.

22. Bauquier's Estate, 88 Cal. 302, 26 Pac. 178, 532.

23. McGregor v. Buel, 24 N. Y. 166, holding that this applies to all where the petition is for joint letters and objection is made to one of them.

24. De Lorme v. Pease, 19 Ga. 220.

25. See Burns v. Van Loan, 29 La. Ann. 560; Vogel's Succession, 16 La. Ann. 139, 79 Am. Dec. 571; Roderigas v. East River Sav. Inst., 63 N. Y. 460, 20 Am. Rep. 555. But compare Pleasants v. Dunkin, 47 Tex. 343.

Original applicant entitled to open and close. — Weeks v. Sego, 9 Ga. 199.

A proceeding for the appointment of an administrator is an action within the meaning of that term as used in the Idaho statutes. Gwinn v. Melvin, (Ida. 1903) 72 Pac. 961.

26. Ferrie v. Public Administrator, 3 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 151, legitimacy of son claiming appointment.

Inquiry into time, place, and manner of death see Farley v. McConnell, 7 Lans. (N. Y.) 428 [affirmed in 52 N. Y. 630].

27. California.— Pina's Estate, 112 Cal. 14, 44 Pac. 332.

Maryland.— Grimes v. Talbert, 14 Md. 169.

Michigan.— In re McCarty, 81 Mich. 460, 45 N. W. 996; In re Nugent, 77 Mich. 500, 43 N. W. 889.

North Carolina.— See In re Tapp, 114 N. C. 248, 19 S. E. 150.

Texas.— Chapman v. Chapman, 88 Tex. 641, 32 S. W. 871 [affirming 11 Tex. Civ. App. 392, 32 S. W. 564].

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 97.

28. Kearney v. Turner, 28 Md. 408, holding that a court of probate has no power to try the question of the alleged unsoundness of mind of a person entitled to administration but this question must be decided by a writ de lunatico inquirendo.

29. Grimes v. Talbert, 14 Md. 169 (death, existence, and locality of assets, and intestacy); Wright v. Smith, 19 Nev. 143, 7 Pac. 365 (existence and locality of assets).

As to intestacy it has been held that as the existence of a valid will cannot be presumed, the burden of proving a will is upon the person denying the intestacy. Matter of Cameron, 47 N. Y. App. Div. 120, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 187 [affirmed in 166 N. Y. 610, 59 N. E. 1120], holding the facts shown not sufficient to prove the authenticity and due execution of an alleged will and codicil. But compare Farley v. McConnell, 7 Lans. (N. Y.) 428 [affirmed in 52 N. Y. 630].

Claim that will was made and destroyed.— A person who opposes an application for letters of administration and is interested under a will of the decedent claimed to have been destroyed must in the same proceeding prove the will and that it has never been revoked; and where the petitioner for letters has made the proof required by statute that the decedent died without leaving a will, and the person opposing the application adduces no evidence, the petition for administration should be granted. Matter of Demmert, 5 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 299. See also In re Ellis, 55 Minn. 401, 56 N. W. 1056, 43 Am. St. Rep. 514, 23 L. R. A. 287, holding that proof that a decedent executed a will, which he afterward destroyed, will not defeat an application for an administration, unless its contents can be proved with such degree of certainty that it may be established as a will.

30. Berfuse's Succession, 34 La. Ann. 599.

31. Boe v. Filleul, 26 La. Ann. 126.

one applicant over those of another,[32] or to disprove the applicant's right to administer.[33] The person opposing the application is entitled to introduce evidence of any facts which tend to show that administration is not necessary.[34]

10. Order or Decree of Appointment. It is necessary to the appointment of an administrator that there should be an order to that effect,[35] which must of course designate the estate upon which administration is granted.[36] But even though an order does not in apt language show the appointment of an administrator it will be held sufficient if the language used shows that the appointment was intended.[37] A court cannot attach to an order granting administration any conditions[38] save such as are provided by law,[39] but an order granting administration will not be construed as conditional where the language does not render this construction necessary.[40]

11. Review or Appeal. The various state codes usually provide for an appeal from an appointment or refusal to appoint a representative, by any aggrieved party in interest, the usual effect of such appeal being to stay proceedings under the appointment.[41] The appellate courts are not, however, disposed to set aside

A marriage with the deceased may be proved by evidence of cohabitation, declarations, and repute. Renholn v. Public Administrator, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 456, holding further that evidence of the declaration of the deceased that she was not married is not necessarily inconsistent therewith, for that may have referred to a ceremonial marriage.

Where a creditor applies for administration evidence to show the existence of the debt should be admitted. Einstein v. Latimer, 46 Ga. 315, holding that the court should not exclude notes and a mortgage securing the same made by the debtor and offered in evidence to show the indebtedness, on the ground that no affidavit of payment of taxes thereon had been filed under the Georgia act of Oct. 13, 1870.

Proof of debts may be by book of account and suppletory oath. Arnold v. Sabin, 1 Cush. (Mass.) 525; In re Miller, 32 Nebr. 480, 49 N. W. 427.

32. Rust v. Randolph, 4 Mart. (La.) 370.

33. In re Davis, 106 Cal. 453, 39 Pac. 756, holding that where the right to inherit is necessarily involved in the application for letters a contract showing that the applicant has released her inheritable interest in the decedent's estate is admissible.

34. Pratt's Succession, 11 La. Ann. 201, holding that the opponent was entitled to show that she was publicly acknowledged and upheld as the decedent's wife, and that all property belonging to the succession was community property for the administration of which and for the payment of all the debts of the succession, the opponent had the right to give security, which security the creditors of the succession were willing to accept.

35. Picard's Succession, 33 La. Ann. 1135. See also Callahan v. Fluker, 49 La. Ann. 237, 21 So. 253.

General or special grant.— An order reciting an applicant's former appointment as "general administrator of the county," and then directing that "special letters on the estate of the decedent issue to him," shows a grant of general, and not of limited, letters, the word "special" being used in contradistinction to "general" or county administrator. Jones v. Ritter, 56 Ala. 270.

A statute giving clerks of court power to appoint administrators does not dispense with the necessity of rendering an order in making the appointment. Picard's Succession, 33 La. Ann. 1135.

36. Harwood v. Wylie, 70 Tex. 538, 7 S. W. 789.

37. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Edmund, 64 S. W. 727, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 1049 (where an order of a county court reciting that a certain person, "having been appointed" administratrix, executed bond, was treated as making the appointment); Moseley v. Stucken, 26 Tex. Civ. App. 290, 62 S. W. 1103 (holding that the action of the probate court after a certain person had given bond and taken oath as administrator, recognizing him as such administrator, directing him to make a sale, and approving his report of sale, should be deemed equivalent to a formal appointment of him as such administrator).

38. Hoskins v. Miller, 13 N. C. 360; Cain v. Haas, 18 Tex. 616.

39. Cain v. Haas, 18 Tex. 616, holding that the court cannot annex a condition that the administrator shall pay the costs of a pro tem. appointment or a privileged claim.

40. Tucker v. Harris, 13 Ga. 1, 58 Am. Dec. 488; Spencer v. Cohoon, 18 N. C. 27; Hoskins v. Miller, 13 N. C. 360.

41. Alabama.— Alexander v. Nelson, 42 Ala. 462. But see Phillips v. Peteet, 35 Ala. 696 (holding the refusal of the probate court to grant letters of administration to a petitioner not entitled to administer of right not appealable); Brennan v. Harris, 20 Ala. 185.

Arkansas.— See Bankhead v. Hubbard, 14 Ark. 298.

California.— Wood's Estate, 94 Cal. 566, 29 Pac. 1108.

an appointment regularly made by the probate judge except where the latter has abused the wide discretion which the law confides to him,[42] and where the judg-Connecticut.— Richardson v. Richardson, 2 Root 219.

Georgia.— Glisson v. Carter, 28 Ga. 516.

Indiana.— See Wallis v. Cooper, 123 Ind. 40, 23 N. E. 977.

Kentucky.— See Mitchell v. Apperson, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 368.

Louisiana.— Wintz's Succession, 111 La. 40, 35 So. 377; State v. Plaquemines Parish Judge, 22 La. Ann. 23; State v. Judge New Orleans Probate Ct., 18 La. 392. But see State v. Hingle, 50 La. Ann. 683, 23 So. 616.

Maine.— See Shaw's Appellant, 81 Me. 207, 16 Atl. 662.

Massachusetts.— Swan v. Piquet, 3 Pick. 443.

Mississippi.— See Lee v. Bennett, 31 Miss. 119.

New Jersey.—Holmes v. Morris, 16 N. J. L. 526; Quidort v. Pergeaux, 18 N. J. Eq. 472.

New York.— Devin v. Patchin, 26 N. Y. 441. See In re Chase, 32 Hun 318. But compare McGregor v. Buel, 24 N. Y. 166.

North Carolina.— Ledbetter v. Lofton, 5 N. C. 224.

Pennsylvania.— Wood's Appeal, 55 Pa. St. 332.

Rhode Island.— Emsley v. Young, 19 R. I. 65, 31 Atl. 692, appointment of administrator de bonis non with will annexed.

South Carolina.—State v. Mitchell, 3 Brev. 520.

Tennessee.— Wright v. Wright, Mart. & Y. 43.

Texas.— Hall v. Claiborne, 27 Tex. 217.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 102.

But compare State v. Fowler, 108 Mo. 465, 18 S. W. 968; Covey v. Charles, 49 Md. 314.

Interest necessary to sustain appeal.—Jones v. Jones, 12 Utah 72, 41 Pac. 563.

The widow and sole distributee may appeal from an adverse decree in an action for the appointment of an administrator and settlement of the estate. Stanley v. McKinzer, 7 Lea (Tenn.) 454.

The guardian of the next of kin who is non compos mentis has a sufficient interest to entitle him to appeal from a grant of administration. Mowry v. Latham, 20 R. I. 786, 40 Atl. 236, 341.

A creditor, although served by citation only, is a party to the proceeding and may within the time prescribed by law appeal from the decision of the ordinary appointing an administrator, whether he objected to it in court or not. Mitchell v. Pyron, 17 Ga. 416.

A public administrator of one county who claims the right to administer on an estate has the right to appeal from an order of the court of another county appointing another person as administrator. In re Damke, 133 Cal. 433, 65 Pac. 888.

Person liable to suit by administrator.— A person against whom an administrator brings or is entitled to bring suit under statute for the killing of an intestate cannot appeal from the order appointing such administrator. In re Hardy, 35 Minn. 193, 28 N. W. 219.

A failure to demur below to a petition to set aside the appointment of an administrator is a waiver of the objection that, under a statute providing that any party to a judgment or decree may appeal therefrom, the petitioner cannot appeal from a denial of his petition because not a party to the probate proceedings. In re Tasanen, 25 Utah 396, 71 Pac. 984.

There is no such acquiescence as will prevent an appeal from a judgment contradictorily rendered in a contest between two applicants for the appointment of an administrator because the unsuccessful party has thereafter joined issue on the merits with the successful party in a suit instituted by him as administrator of the succession. Lamm's Succession, 40 La. Ann. 312, 4 So. 53.

Remedy by appeal rather than writ of prohibition.— State v. Ayer, 17 Wash. 127, 49 Pac. 226.

Death of appellant.— Where letters of administration on the estate of a deceased person were resisted, and the issue was decided in favor of the claimant, from which the exceptant appealed, and died pending such appeal, the applicant, before decision of the appeal, was not entitled to have orders granted authorizing him to proceed with the administration; but such other parties as were interested should have been brought in, and the appeal determined, before the administration proceeded. Glisson v. Carter, 28 Ga. 516.

Appeal as to discretionary matters.— An appeal which does not call in question the necessity for the appointment of an administrator pendente lite, but questions only the selection of the person appointed and the amount of security to be given, is ineffective, these matters being within the discretion of the court. In re Davenport, (N. J. Prerog. 1903) 56 Atl. 295.

Grounds for dismissal of appeal see In re Damke, 133 Cal. 433, 65 Pac. 888; Hancock v. Minshew, 111 Ga. 843, 36 S. E. 296; Headman v. Rose, 63 Ga. 458.

42. Arkansas.— Bankhead v. Hubbard, 14 Ark. 298.

Indiana.— Wallis v. Cooper, 123 Ind. 40, 23 N. E. 977.

Louisiana.— Chaler's Succession, 39 La. Ann. 308, 1 So. 820.

Mississippi.— Lee v. Bennett, 31 Miss. 119.

New York.— In re Chase, 32 Hun 318.

Pennsylvania.— Wood's Appeal, 55 Pa. St. 332.

Rhode Island.— Knowles v. Lester, 16 R. I. 542, 18 Atl. 159.

Texas.— Hall v. Claiborne, 27 Tex. 217.

ment below was erroneous they incline to reverse only so far as may be needful, once more remanding the cause so that the probate judge may proceed to exercise a sound discretion in making the due appointment accordingly.[43] In some jurisdictions, however, the matter may be tried de novo in the appellate court.[44] The time within which an appeal must be taken is regulated by statute.[45] Pending an appeal from an order granting letters of administration the court is without jurisdiction to order the discharge of the administrators so appointed and appoint others in their stead.[46]

12. Costs. It has been held that a party failing in his application for a curatorship, from whatever cause, must pay costs,[47] and where the probate court finds that a party to a proceeding to appoint an administrator did not act in good faith in contesting the petitioner's right to the appointment, costs are properly awarded against such contestant.[48]

I. Oath of Office. As a general rule an executor or administrator is required, before entering upon his duties as such, to take an oath of office prescribed by statute,[49] but informalities in the taking of the oath are regarded with

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 102.

Some codes expressly declare that the judgment of the probate court shall be conclusive on the facts of appointment except on original appeal or where no jurisdiction appears on the face of the record. Shaw's Appellant, 81 Me. 207, 16 Atl. 662.

The objection that letters were issued without due notice to all persons interested ought not as a rule to be made for the first time on appeal. In re Nesmith, 1 N. Y. Suppl. 343.

43. In re Wood, 36 Cal. 75 (holding that where probate of a will has been refused but the supreme court on appeal directs it to be admitted to probate, the probate court will not be directed to issue letters of administration with the will annexed to the petitioner unless the probate court has found that he is a proper person to receive letters); Dexter v. Brown, 3 Mass. 43 (holding that upon an appeal from a decree of the probate court granting letters of administration to a certain person, the appellate court may reverse the decree as to the appointment of such person and affirm it as to the residue and remand the case to the probate court with directions to grant administration to one of two or more named persons); Wallis v. Wallis, 60 N. C. 78 (holding that the proper course upon reversal of an order appointing an administrator is for the appellate court not to grant administration but to direct a procedendo to the court of probate jurisdiction). But compare Blunt v. Moore, 18 N. C. 10, holding that, on appeal from an order of the county court granting letters of administration, the appellate court may grant letters to one who was not originally a party to the contest.

44. In re Miller, 32 Nebr. 480, 49 N. W. 427; Gause's Estate, 1 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 105, holding that where an order granting letters of administration on the estate of a deceased person is entered by the register of wills, and an appeal is taken to the orphans' court, such court has jurisdiction to direct to whom letters of administration shall be granted, but in its discretion may remit the matter to the register, although his order is reversed. See also Jackson v. Jackson, 101 Ga. 132, 28 S. E. 608. But compare Devin v. Patchin, 26 N. Y. 441, 445, holding that upon an appeal from the decree of a surrogate on an application for letters of administration, the supreme court is to review the determination upon the proofs before the surrogate, and it cannot receive further evidence or award an issue to be tried by jury at circuit, the court saying: "The only cases in which the Supreme Court is authorized by statute to direct that an issue be made up and tried by a jury at a circuit court, on appeals from the decisions of surrogates, are those by which wills have been admitted to probate or refused to be admitted to record or probate."

45. In re Heldt, 98 Cal. 553, 33 Pac. 549 (sixty days); Mitchell v. Pyron, 17 Ga. 416.

Allowance of appeal after statutory time.— Under a statute providing that if without fault on his part a party failed to appeal within the statutory period of thirty days, the appellate court might still allow the appeal, it has been held that where administration was taken out on the estate of a non-resident eighteen years after his death, it was not improper to grant an application made by the heirs and others interested, within sixty days of the order of appointment, praying the right of appeal therefrom and showing that they knew nothing of the administrator's intention nor of his appointment until after the expiration of the thirty days and that it was a question of importance whether the administrator was entitled to be appointed. Reynolds v. Miller, 6 Iowa 459.

46. In re Hill, 55 N. J. Eq. 764, 37 Atl. 952.

47. Kaiser v. Hoffman, 18 La. 493; Hook v. Richardson, 4 La. 569.

48. In re Clark, 15 N. Y. Suppl. 370.

49. Echols v. Barrett, 6 Ga. 443; Questi v. Rills, 8 Mart. N. S. (La.) 581.

lenience,[50] and one who takes charge of an estate as administrator cannot escape liability by reason of his having failed to take the oath and file the bond required by law.[51] Letters of administration are presumptive evidence that the requisite oath has been taken, and that letters were not issued until the duty was performed.[52]

J. Bond — 1. Requirement — a. Of Executors — (I) English Rule. In English practice the spiritual court exerted from early times so little authority over an executor that it could not require him to give bond, but chancery came to afford better protection to those interested beneficially, and it became the rule that an executor could be compelled, in chancery, to furnish security before entering actively upon the discharge of his trust.[53]

(II) American Rule — (A) Bond Required. In the United States, however, the jurisdiction of the probate courts is greater in this respect, and an executor is very generally required to give bond satisfactory to that court,[54] although in some Oath must be taken before court of ordinary. Echols v. Barrett, 6 Ga. 443.

General official oath of public administrator sufficient.— Healy v. Lassen County Super. Ct., 127 Cal. 659, 60 Pac. 428; Beckett v. Selover, 7 Cal. 215, 68 Am. Dec. 237.

When oath unnecessary.— Under the Oregon statute requiring an executor to take an oath to faithfully fulfil his trust, where the will dispenses with a bond, such oath is not necessary where the will fixes the amount of the bond at a sum which is reasonable in proportion to the value of the estate, although considerably less than what the law would require in the absence of any testamentary provision, and such bond is given. In re Conser, 40 Oreg. 138, 66 Pac. 607.

50. Penny's Succession, 13 La. Ann. 94.

Informalities not invalidating appointment. —An appointment is not void because the oath was taken before the actual appointment (Morris v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 65 Iowa 727, 23 N. W. 143, 54 Am. Rep. 39; Gallagher v. Holland, 20 Nev. 164, 18 Pac. 834), filed with the judge instead of the clerk (Emerson v. Ross, 17 Fla. 122), or sworn before a notary instead of a clerk of court (Picken v. Hill, 30 Ind. 269); because of the omission of the name of the succession in the body of the oath (Herriman v. Janney, 31 La. Ann. 276); nor because unessential recitals are omitted (In re Maxwell, 3 N. J. Eq. 611; Williams v. Verne, 68 Tex. 414, 4 S. W. 548).

51. Harris v. Coates, (Ida. 1902) 69 Pac. 475.

52. Brooks v. Walker, 3 La. Ann. 150; Dayton v. Johnson, 69 N. Y. 419.

53. Slanning v. Style, 3 P. Wms. 334, 24 Eng. Reprint 1089, 1 Equity Cas. Abr. 238, pl. 21.

54. Alabama.— Gardner v. Gantt, 19 Ala. 666.

Arkansas.— Bankhead v. Hubbard, 14 Ark. 298.

Georgia.— Echols v. Barrett, 6 Ga. 443.

Kentucky.— Moore v. Ridgeway, 1 B. Mon. 234.

Louisiana.— Peale v. White, 7 La. Ann. 449.

Maine.— Pettingill v. Pettingill, 60 Me. 411.

Massachusetts.— Hall v. Cushing, 9 Pick. 395.

Michigan.— Gray v. Franks, 86 Mich. 382, 49 N. W. 130.

New Hampshire.— Davis v. Davis, 72 N. H. 326, 56 Atl. 747 (holding that under Pub. St. (1901) c. 188, § 12, providing that no person shall be considered as having the trust of a decedent's estate until he has given bond, where letters have been issued by the probate court to an executor, but no bond has been given, the probate court has no jurisdiction to require him to account for property of the decedent lost through his negligence); Heydock v. Duncan, 43 N. H. 95.

New York.—Matter of Roffo, 51 N. Y. App. Div. 35, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 455; Shields v. Shields, 60 Barb. 56; Freeman v. Kellogg, 4 Redf. Surr. 218; Senior v. Ackerman, 2 Redf. Surr. 302.

Pennsylvania.— Webb v. Dietrich, 7 Watts & S. 401.

Rhode Island.— Sarle v. Scituate Probate Ct., 7 R. I. 270.

Vermont.— Trask v. Donoghue, 1 Aik. 370.

Virginia.— Fairfax v. Fairfax, 7 Gratt. 36.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 144.

Where executors are also trustees they must give bonds in both capacities. Deering v. Adams, 37 Me. 264; P. C. & St. L. R. Co. v. Schmidt, 8 Ohio Cir. Ct. 355, 4 Ohio Cir. Dec. 535.

The bond is for the benefit of all interested in the testator's estate, and not merely for those who ask for security. Holmes v. Cock, 2 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 426.

An executor who is life-tenant of the estate cannot be compelled to give security unless waste or other circumstances require it. In re Sherer, 3 Walk. (Pa.) 284; In re Lindsay, 14 Phila. (Pa.) 269.

Foreign wills.— The Michigan statute providing for the probate of foreign wills does not require any bond on the part of the executor. Gray v. Franks, 86 Mich. 382, 49 N. W. 130.

The executor must have notice and an opportunity to be heard on the question whether a bond or an additional bond is necessary. Leonard v. Clark, 24 R. I. 470, 53 Atl. 636.

jurisdictions statutes requiring executors to give bond have been considered as directory merely, leaving it within the discretion of the court in some instances to dispense with security.[55] Among reasons which may lead to a person nominated as executor being required to give bond may be mentioned the fact that he is a non-resident,[56] that he is insolvent,[57] or that his financial circumstances are precarious[58] or not such as to afford adequate security for the due administration of the estate.[59] A bond is also properly required where the conduct of the executor shows a want of fidelity in the execution of the trust,[60] or where he has wasted or mismanaged the estate, or there is reasonable ground for apprehending that he will do so.[61]

Except for the reasons specified by statute executors cannot be called upon to furnish bonds. Matter of Lowery, 19 Misc. (N. Y.) 83, 43 N. Y. Suppl. 972.

55. Bankhead v. Hubbard, 14 Ark. 298; Demarest's Estate, 1 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 302, where all persons interested in the estate consent or offer no objection upon being cited. See also Sharp's Appeal, 7 Pa. Cas. 123, 9 Atl. 860.

The clerk has no such discretion but must always take bond and security when he issues letters. Bankhead v. Hubbard, 14 Ark. 298.

56. Grigsby v. Cocke, 85 Ky. 314, 3 S. W. 418, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 12; Davis' Succession, 12 La. Ann. 399; Yerkes v. Broom, 10 La. Ann. 94; Van Wyck v. Van Wyck, 22 Hun (N. Y.) 9; Emery's Estate, 13 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 365; Wood v. Wood, 4 Paige (N. Y.) 299; Freeman v. Kellogg, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 218; Harberger's Appeal, 98 Pa. St. 29; Forster's Estate, 2 Lanc. L. Rev. 206.

Where the executor is about to remove from the state security should be required of him, even though the testator by his will directed the executor to remove with the property bequeathed to another state. Wood v. Wood, 4 Paige (N. Y.) 299.

In the absence of any objection letters testamentary may be issued to a non-resident without security. Sterling's Estate, 9 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 448, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 492 [disapproved in Emery's Estate, 13 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 365]; Vernon's Estate, 1 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 304 note; Demarest's Estate, 1 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 302.

57. Johns v. Johns, 23 Ga. 31; Levan's Estate, 1 Woodw. (Pa.) 104, holding insolvency occurring after testator's death a sufficient ground for requiring security. Contra, Wilson v. Whitfield, 38 Ga. 269, holding that the insolvency of executors is not per se a sufficient ground to require security, especially when it appears that their pecuniary condition is as good as it was at the time of their appointment by the testator.

58. Freeman v. Kellogg, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 218; Colton's Appeal, 2 Pa. Cas. 477, 5 Atl. 55.

59. Wood v. Wood, 4 Paige (N. Y.) 299; Freeman v. Kellogg, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 218.

The testator's knowledge of the executor's pecuniary condition at the time the will was executed does not prevent a bond being required. Wood v. Wood, 4 Paige (N. Y.) 299; Freeman v. Kellogg, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 218. Contra, Neighbors v. Hamlin, 78 N. C. 42; Levan's Estate, 1 Woodw. (Pa.) 104.

A mere allegation of irresponsibility is not enough to compel an executor to give security but if the allegation is denied the charge must be proved. Cotterell v. Brock, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 148.

In determining the question, whether or not the executor is in such precarious circumstances as to make it proper to require security, the proportion of the estate belonging to the executor by the provisions of the will may be taken into consideration in estimating the executor's pecuniary means — regard also being had to the extent of the claims existing against the estate. Cotterell v. Brock, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 148.

The fact that the executor's property is not equal to the estate to be administered is not a sufficient ground for requiring him to give security if he is otherwise unobjectionable, especially if his property exceeds the amount which he will probably have in his hands unadministered at any one time. Mandeville v. Mandeville, 8 Paige (N. Y.) 475; Martin v. Duke, 5 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 597 [criticizing Freeman v. Kellogg, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 218].

60. Holcomb v. Coryell, 12 N. J. Eq. 289.

61. Georgia.— Johns v. Johns, 23 Ga. 31.

Iowa.— In re Holderbaum, 82 Iowa 69, 47 N. W. 898.

New Jersey.— Bird v. Wiggins, 35 N. J. Eq. 111; Holcomb v. Coryell, 12 N. J. Eq. 289.

Pennsylvania.— McKennan's Appeal, 27 Pa. St. 237, 1 Grant 364; Cryder's Appeal, 11 Pa. St. 72.

West Virginia.— Amiss v. Williamson, 17 W. Va. 673.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 147.

Decrepitude.— A widow appointed executrix, and given by the will the entire personal estate, and the use for life, and power of sale of the real estate, will be required to give bond or be removed where she has fallen into a state of mental and physical decrepitude rendering her incapable of transacting business. Cohen's Estate, 9 Kulp (Pa.) 116.

Solvency of the executor is no answer to an established charge of mismanagement.

(B) Limited Bond Where Executor Is Residuary Legatee. When the executor is residuary legatee and it appears that so extensive a security is not needful for the protection of any person interested in the estate, the usual bond is sometimes dispensed with, and the executor allowed at his option to give a bond with condition merely to pay all funeral charges, debts, legacies, and statutory allowances.[62]

(C) Testamentary Provisions Dispensing With Security. A testamentary provision that the executor need give no bond or need have no sureties on the bond given merely empowers the court to dispense with the bond or sureties which it would otherwise be its duty to require in case the court deems it prudent to do so, but does not deprive the court of power to require the executor to give bond or sureties if this is deemed necessary or prudent, or some person interested in the estate demands it;[63] but the testator's directions in this respect will be regarded unless good reason to the contrary is made to appear.[64]

McKennan's Appeal, 27 Pa. St. 237, 1 Grant (Pa.) 364.

Where the husband of an executrix misconducted himself so as to endanger the assets of the intestate he was compelled to give security for the property. Powell v. Thompson, 4 Desauss. (S. C.) 162.

Circumstances not showing mismanagement. — Upon an application to require three executors to give bond on the ground of mismanagement, the fact that one of them had received a large amount of evidences of debt belonging to the estate, which he continued to hold with the consent of the two others, but against the wishes and protest of a fourth executor, showed no mismanagement. Willson v. Whitfield, 38 Ga. 269.

62. State v. Snowden, 7 Gill & J. (Md.) 430; Colwell v. Alger, 5 Gray (Mass.) 67; Stebbins v. Smith, 4 Pick. (Mass.) 97; Morgan v. Dodge, 44 N. H. 255, 82 Am. Dec. 213; Heydock v. Duncan, 43 N. H. 95; Leonard v. Clark, 24 R. I. 470, 53 Atl. 636, holding that where the executor is residuary legatee a bond for an inventory cannot be required.

Such bond does not vest the assets in the residuary legatee or close the administration in any such sense as to prejudice other legatees and creditors. Kreamer v. Kreamer, 52 Kan. 597, 35 Pac. 214; Lafferty v. People's Sav. Bank, 76 Mich. 35, 43 N. W. 34; Moody v. Davis, 67 N. H. 300, 38 Atl. 464.

Such a bond renders the executor absolutely liable, to the extent of the penalty, for the payment of all debts, legacies, and allowances, regardless of the actual amount or value of the assets. Kreamer v. Kreamer, 52 Kan. 597, 35 Pac. 214; Jones v. Richardson, 5 Metc. (Mass.) 247. See also Cleaves v. Dockray, 67 Me. 118; Morgan v. Dodge, 44 N. H. 255, 82 Am. Dec. 213.

Cancellation.— A bond of this character given by an executor and residuary legatee who has thus been excused from returning an inventory within three months cannot be canceled or surrendered after the expiration of a year and a half. Alger v. Colwell, 2 Gray (Mass.) 404.

63. Kentucky.— Grigsbey v. Cocke, 85 Ky. 314, 3 S. W. 418, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 12; Atwell v. Helm, 7 Bush 504; Busch v. Rapp, 63 S. W. 479, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 605; Gibson v. Fishback, 60 S. W. 396, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1267; Million v. Million, 13 Ky. L. Rep. 143.

Mississippi.— Clark v. Niles, 42 Miss. 460.

New York.— Freeman v. Kellogg, 4 Redf. Surr. 218.

Oregon.— Bellinger v. Thompson, 26 Oreg. 320, 37 Pac. 714, 40 Pac. 229.

Vermont.— Felton v. Sowles, 57 Vt. 382.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 148.

The discretion of the court is not limited to cases of insolvency, or of fraud or bad faith, but extends to all cases where the circumstances show it to be proper that a bond should be executed. Gibson v. Fishback, 60 S. W. 396, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1267.

Special bond on sale of realty.— A testator cannot exonerate his executor from giving such special bonds as may be needful where land must be sold in order to pay debts. Buckner v. Wood, 45 Miss. 57.

The clerk of the probate court who grants letters testamentary upon the estates of deceased persons cannot in any case dispense with the bond and security required by statute but is bound to require it even though the will directs otherwise. Bankhead v. Hubbard, 14 Ark. 298.

Notice to persons beneficially interested.— Persons beneficially interested in the estate are sometimes entitled to notice and an opportunity to oppose before letters testamentary are issued to the executor named without a bond or without sureties pursuant to the provisions of the will. Wells v. Child, 12 Allen (Mass.) 330 (holding publication in a newspaper addressed to the heirs at law, next of kin, and all other persons interested sufficient, even though a minor who has no guardian is interested in the estate); Abercrombie v. Sheldon, 8 Allen (Mass.) 532.

Effect of testamentary provisions.— Where a will appointed executors and directed that they should not be required to give the security provided by statute, and a subsequent codicil appointed an additional executor but contained no express direction as to security, the executor named in the codicil should not qualify without giving security. Fairfax v. Fairfax, 7 Gratt. (Va.) 36.

64. Bowman v. Wooton, 8 B. Mon. (Ky.) 67; Dengler v. Dengler, 1 S. W. 645, 8 Ky. L.

b. Of Administrators. It is the universal rule to require an administrator to give bond,[65] and this is true not only in the case of an ordinary administrator, but also of an administrator de bonis non,[66] or with the will annexed,[67] or a special or temporary administrator.[68] As a general rule the official bond of a public administrator covers estates committed to his care and he is not required to give further security,[69] although the court may exact it when deemed necessary.[70] An administrator's failure to give a bond merely makes the appointment voidable and does not render it void or subject to collateral attack.[71]

2. Amount. The amount of the penalty of an executor's or administrator's bond is usually regulated by statute, being as a general rule double the estimated value of the personalty.[72] In computing the value of the estate on which the

Rep. 344; Amiss v. Williamson, 17 W. Va. 673.

65. California.— Healy v. Lassen County Super. Ct., 127 Cal. 659, 60 Pac. 428.

Indiana.— Salyer v. State, 5 Ind. 202.

Louisiana.— Levy's Succession, 48 La. Ann. 1520, 21 So. 82.

Tennessee.— Feltz v. Clark, 4 Humphr. 79.

Virginia.— Morrow v. Peyton, 8 Leigh 54.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 158.

Tutor of minor heirs.— The tutor, natural or otherwise, who, as representing the minor beneficiary heirs, claims the administration, must give the same security as any other administrator. Arthur v. Cochran, 12 Rob. (La.) 41; Hall v. Parks, 9 Rob. (La.) 138; Self v. Morris, 7 Rob. (La.) 24; Tildon v. Dees, 1 Rob. (La.) 407; Jacobs v. Tricou, 17 La. 104.

Sale of real estate.— The general bond given by an administrator on receiving his letters renders the obligors responsible for the proper application by the administrator of the assets derived from the sale of real estate. Salyer v. State, 5 Ind. 202 (holding further that, although it was discretionary with the court to require an additional bond upon the sale of real estate, a suit could not, under the Tennessee statute of 1831, be maintained upon such additional bond until the penalty of the original bond had been exhausted); Wade v. Graham, 4 Ohio 126.

66. Morrow v. Peyton, 8 Leigh (Va.) 54; In re Oakey, [1896] P. 7, 65 L. J. P. & Adm. 38, 44 Wkly. Rep. 432; Rous v. Noble, 2 Vern. Ch. 249, 23 Eng. Reprint 761.

67. Louisiana.— Girod v. Girod, 18 La. 394.

New York.— Ex p. Brown, 2 Bradf. Surr. 22.

Pennsylvania.— Small v. Com., 8 Pa. St. 101.

Virginia.— Frazier v. Frazier, 2 Leigh 642.

England.— Rous v. Noble, 2 Vern. Ch. 249, 23 Eng. Reprint 761.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 158.

A testamentary exemption of the executor from furnishing security cannot operate for the benefit of an administrator with the will annexed. Langley v. Harris, 23 Tex. 564; Fairfax v. Fairfax, 7 Gratt. (Va.) 36.

68. In re Colvin, 3 Md. Ch. 278; Bloomfield v. Ash, 4 N. J. L. 314.

69. Healy v. Lassen County Super. Ct., 127 Cal. 659, 60 Pac. 428; Beckett v. Selover, 7 Cal. 215, 68 Am. Dec. 237. See also Buckley v. McGuire, 58 Ala. 226; State v. Purdy, 67 Mo. 89.

The official bond of a sheriff may cover administration committed to him ex officio. Payne v. Thompson, 48 Ala. 535.

70. Healy v. Lassen County Super. Ct., 127 Cal. 659, 60 Pac. 428.

71. Alabama.—Leatherwood v. Sullivan, 81 Ala. 458, 1 So. 718; Cunningham v. Thomas, 59 Ala. 158; Ex p. Maxwell, 37 Ala. 362, 79 Am. Dec. 62.

California.— Ions v. Harbison, 112 Cal. 260, 44 Pac. 572.

New York.— Sullivan v. Tioga R. Co., 112 N. Y. 643, 20 N. E. 569, 8 Am. St. Rep. 793; Bloom v. Burdick, 1 Hill 130, 37 Am. Dec. 299.

Ohio.— Mitchell v. Albright, 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 301, 20 Cinc. L. Bul. 101.

Utah.— Harris v. Chipman, 9 Utah 101, 33 Pac. 242.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 170; and infra, II, L, 4.

Failure to give bond cannot relieve from liability as administrator. Harris v. Coates, (Ida. 1902) 69 Pac. 475.

The cancellation of an administrator's bond by the probate court does not revoke the appointment of the administrator nor disqualify him from bringing suit as such. Clarke v. Rice, 15 R. I. 132, 23 Atl. 301.

72. California.— In re Kidd, Myr. Prob. 239.

Louisiana.— Feray's Succession, 31 La. Ann. 727.

Maryland.— Alexander v. Stewart, 8 Gill & J. 226.

Mississippi.— Ellis v. Witty, 63 Miss. 117.

New York.— Matter of Nesmith, 6 Dem. Surr. 333, 15 N. Y. St. 436; Peck v. Peck, 3 Dem. Surr. 548; Sutton v. Weeks, 5 Redf. Surr. 353; Matter of Hart, 2 Redf. Surr. 156.

Ohio.— Chatfield v. Swing, 6 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 666, 7 Am. L. Rec. 326.

Rhode Island.— Sarle v. Scituate Probate Ct., 7 R. I. 270.

Texas.— Williams v. Verne, 68 Tex. 414, 4 S. W. 548; In re Bowden, 33 Tex. 730.

Virginia.— Beckwith v. Avery, 31 Gratt. 533; Atkinson v. Christian, 3 Gratt. 428, holding that the general practice of requiring security in double the estimated value of penal sum is based, property personally possessed as well as choses in action and all other property to the actual possession of which the decedent was entitled as legal owner should be considered,[73] and the whole amount of the assets, not the surplus of assets over debts, furnishes the criterion;[74] but security should not be required on an estimate of more property than that which the local administration will cover,[75] and on an application for letters de bonis non the court may properly allow security to be given in only double the amount of so much of the estate as remains unadministered.[76] Exempt property which does not form any part of the estate of the decedent should not be considered,[77] nor should property of the legal title to which the decedent divested himself in his lifetime whether such transfer was procured by fraud or otherwise.[78] Where property has been pledged only its value in excess of the debt for which it is pledged should be considered.[79] After the amount of the bond has once been fixed it cannot be reduced by showing that property of the succession has been sold at less than its inventoried value, that the assets have been reduced by the payment of debts, and that the debts presently due do not require for their payment a bond as large as that furnished.[80] Statutory provisions for modified security, that is for a smaller bond than is usually required, are strictly construed.[81] the estate is a proper exercise of the discretion vested in the courts by statute as to the amount of the security.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 152, 162.

When a special bond is required of a public administrator in addition to his official bond it is not incumbent upon the court to require a bond in twice the amount of the value of the personal property of the estate. Healy v. Lassen County Super. Ct., 127 Cal. 659, 60 Pac. 428.

On a grant of limited administration a bond is sometimes taken in a merely nominal penal sum. In re Bowlby, 45 L. J. P. & Adm. 100. And a special administrator is sometimes permitted to deposit the personalty in court and thus have his bond reduced. In re Lewis, 28 N. J. Eq. 234.

Requiring bond for more than double estimated value of property is error. Sarle v. Scituate Probate Ct., 7 R. I. 270; In re Bowden, 33 Tex. 730.

Discretion of court.— The provision of La. Civ. Code. § 1041, that the court shall require an administrator to give bond with "sufficient security," justifies the court under certain circumstances in exercising its discretion to some extent, as to the amount of the bond, although section 1048 declares that the bond shall be for one fourth more than the estimated value of the decedent's property, less the bad debts. Levy's Succession, 48 La. Ann. 1520, 21 So. 82.

The bond to be required from one of several co-executors is to be fixed in view of the actual amount of the fund, and cannot be reduced by reason of an arrangement between him and his colleagues by which they assume the exclusive control and responsibility of the trust. Senior v. Ackerman, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 302.

The value of the property of the succession, and not the amount of the claims against it, furnishes the criterion by which the amount of the bond of the administrator is measured. Weeks' Succession, 104 La. 573, 29 So. 219.

73. Peck v. Peck, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 548.

Amount of assigned insurance policies.— Where an insured assigned policies on his life for a valuable consideration, and the assignees agreed to pay the subsequent premiums, the insured's administratrix could not be compelled to give security for the amount of such policies until the rights of creditors, who claimed that the assignments were fraudulent and void, could be determined. McCord v. Noyes, 3 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 139.

74. Senior v. Ackerman, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 302.

75. Lewis v. Grognard, 17 N. J. Eq. 425.

76. In re Oakey, [1896] P. 7, 65 L. J. P. & Adm. 38, 44 Wkly. Rep. 432.

77. In re Bowden, 33 Tex. 730.

78. Peck v. Peck, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 548.

79. In re Kidd, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 239.

80. Weeks' Succession, 104 La. 573, 29 So. 219, so holding on the ground that an administrator's bond is a continuing one to cover the performance of duty until final discharge, and is an entirety.

81. In re Le Roy, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 555, 16 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 343, 1 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 491 [disapproving Allen's Estate, 7 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 159, 3 Dem. Surr. 63] (holding that a statute providing for modified security "where all the next of kin to the intestate consent thereto" did not apply to the case of an application for a grant of administration with the will annexed); Weeks' Estate, 1 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 164 (holding that modified security could not be taken on any terms except those provided for in the statute); Matter of Malloy, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 421 (holding that a statute providing that, where a right of action was granted to an executor or administrator by special provision of law and it appeared to be impracticable to give a bond sufficient to cover the probable amount to be recovered, the surrogate might in his discretion accept modified security, did not

3. Sureties. Under the present English policy the judge has discretion to dispense with sureties at his discretion, although this is done only by way of rare exception to the rule, and so at all events as to insist upon a bond.[82] In the United States sureties are necessary and the number is regulated by statute, two or more being usually required;[83] but the fact that a bond is accepted without sureties, or without the requisite number of sureties, does not render the appointment invalid.[84] Who may or may not be sureties is a matter of statutory regulation.[85] In England sureties should be residents of the country,[86] and in the United States they are usually required to be residents of the state,[87] although they need not reside in the county where letters are granted.[88] Approval of the sureties by the court or judge is sometimes required.[89] Each surety ought to be worth at least the amount of the penalty of the bond over and above all debts and property exempt from execution.[90] A bond which divides up the penal liability of sureties authorize the surrogate to accept less security than double the value of the personal property of the deceased exclusive of such claim).

82. In re Powis, 34 L. J. P. & M. 55; In re Cleverly, 31 L. J. P. & M. 53, 5 L. T. Rep. N. S. 689, 2 Swab. & Tr. 335, 10 Wkly. Rep. 265 (where administration de bonis non with the will annexed was granted to a residuary legatee for life, bond to be given by her husband without sureties); Astbury's Estate, 80 L. T. Rep. N. S. 296 (holding that letters of administration may be granted to the trustee in bankruptcy of the next of kin without requiring sureties); In re Leach, 80 L. T. Rep. N. S. 170.

Bond with one surety may be allowed under some circumstances. In re Bellamy, 44 L. J. P. & M. 49, 33 L. T. Rep. N. S. 71, 23 Wkly. Rep. 552.

A limited company has been accepted as sole security for its manager who has been appointed administrator. In re Hunt, [1896] P. 288, 66 L. J. P. & Adm. 8, 45 Wkly. Rep. 236.

83. Tappan v. Tappan, 24 N. H. 400; State v. Brasher, 3 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 346; Bradley v. Com., 31 Pa. St. 522; McRae v. David, 5 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 475.

A corporation authorized by statute to become sole surety for the faithful performance of any trust, etc., is a sufficient surety on an executor's bond, although a prior general statute requires two sureties. Com. v. Miller, 195 Pa. St. 230, 45 Atl. 921.

84. Jones v. Gordon, 55 N. C. 352; Slagle v. Entrekin, 44 Ohio St. 637, 10 N. E. 675. See also Steele v. Tutwiler, 68 Ala. 107; Delk v. Punchard, 64 Tex. 360. But compare McWilliams v. Hopkins, 4 Rawle (Pa.) 382.

85. See Cuppy v. Coffman, 82 Iowa 214, 47 N. W. 1005; Wright v. Schmidt, 47 Iowa 233; Hicks v. Chouteau, 12 Mo. 341.

Husband of administratrix competent.— Matter of Grove, 13 N. Y. St. 179, 6 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 369.

Fidelity insurance companies, suitably chartered, are sometimes expressly allowed to act as surety on fiduciary bonds. See In re Hunt, [1896] P. 288, 66 L. J. P. & Adm. 8, 45 Wkly. Rep. 236.

86. Herbert v. Shill, 33 L. J. P. & M. 142, 3 Swab. & Tr. 479; In re Reed, 3 Swab. & Tr. 439.

Where the administrator was the only person beneficially interested and there were no creditors the court allowed bond to be given with non-resident sureties. In re Houston, L. R. 1 P. 85, 35 L. J. P. & M. 41; In re Fernandez, 4 P. D. 229, 48 L. J. P. & Adm. 31, 40 L. T. Rep. N. S. 366, 27 Wkly. Rep. 664.

87. Clarke v. Chapin, 7 Allen (Mass.) 425. But see Jones v. Jones, 12 Rich. (S. C.) 623.

Where there are a sufficient number of resident sureties the bond is not rendered less effectual because a non-resident has also joined in it as a surety. Clarke v. Chapin, 7 Allen (Mass.) 425.

If there is no statute expressly requiring that the sureties be residents of the state the fact that they are all non-residents will not render the bond invalid. Rutherford v. Clark, 4 Bush (Ky.) 27.

88. Barksdale v. Cobb, 16 Ga. 13.

89. See Mathews v. Patterson, 42 Me. 257, holding that under a statute providing that no bonds filed with the judge of probate shall be deemed sufficient until they have been approved by the judge under his official signature, approval of sureties on a prior bond is not an approval of the same sureties on a subsequent bond. See infra, II, J, 4.

Jurisdiction over exceptions.— Under the Pennsylvania act of March 5, 1832, providing that bonds taken by the register may be excepted to before him by persons interested in respect to the sufficiency of the sureties therein, the jurisdiction over exceptions to bond of the administrator is in the register of wills, and not the orphans' court. Simmons' Estate, 3 Phila. (Pa.) 172.

90. Sutton v. Weeks, 5 Redf. (N. Y.) 353.

Ability of sureties only should be considered. McRae v. David, 5 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 475.

Proof of sufficiency.— Sureties are usually permitted to prove their sufficiency under their own oaths, as in the qualifying of bail, and it then devolves on the opponent to show insufficiency if he can by cross-examination or evidence aliunde. Carpenter v. Ottawa County, 48 Mich. 318, 12 N. W. 197; Ross v. Mims, 7 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 121; In re Thompson, 6 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 56, 19 N. Y. St. 900. See also Bissell v. Wayne County, 58 so as to limit it to a fixed amount for each is not favored, but such a bond if approved holds good.[91]

4. Form and Requisites. The form and requisites of an executor's or administrator's bond are usually prescribed by statute.[92] The bond is usually executed with the state or the judge of probate and his successors as obligee,[93] and approval of the bond by the probate court is ordinarily required.[94] Where sureties are necessary, the bond should be signed and executed by both the principal and the sureties.[95] A substantial compliance with the statutory requirements is usually deemed sufficient, and mere informalities or immaterial omissions will not necessarily invalidate the bond or defeat the appointment,[96] nor will the fact that a

Mich. 237, 24 N. W. 886; Garrison v. Cox, 96 N. C. 353.

Incorporeal rights owned by the surety are to be considered in testing solvency, if within the state and liable to seizure. Weeks' Succession, 104 La. 573, 29 So. 219.

Insufficient surety.—Where the surety upon an administrator's bond is not insolvent, but simply insufficient, she should not be released and a new bond given. The administrator should be compelled to make the suretyship sufficient and a judgment of court to that effect should decree to what extent the existing suretyship is deemed sufficient. Weeks' Succession, 104 La. 573, 29 So. 219.

Acceptance of insolvent surety does not invalidate appointment. Herriman v. Janney, 31 La. Ann. 276.

Liability of ordinary.— The ordinary is liable for loss resulting from his having accepted insufficient sureties, unless such loss has resulted from causes which he could not foresee and not from his negligence, as to which the burden of proof is on him. McRae v. David, 5 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 475.

91. Baldwin v. Standish, 7 Cush. (Mass.) 207.

92. See Holbrook v. Bentley, 32 Conn. 502; Newton v. Cox, 76 Mo. 352.

Where there are several executors.— Under the Rhode Island statute authorizing the probate court to prescribe the forms of bonds to be given by executors, the court may, when there are two or more executors, require a joint bond or several bonds as it may deem proper. Chamberlain v. Anthony, 21 R. I. 331, 43 Atl. 646.

93. Johnson v. Fuquay, 1 Dana (Ky.) 514; Vanhook v. Barnett, 15 N. C. 268; Cowling v. Nansemond County, 6 Rand. (Va.) 349.

Where the will requires executors to give security the bond should be to the legatees and not to the people of the state. In re Sullivan, Tuck. Surr. (N. Y.) 94.

A bond naming no obligee is void since it is neither a statutory nor a common-law bond. Tidball v. Young, 58 Nebr. 261, 78 N. W. 507, 76 Am. St. Rep. 98; Cowling v. Nansemond County, 6 Rand. (Va.) 349.

94. Ford v. Adams, 43 Ga. 340; Austin v. Austin, 50 Me. 74, 79 Am. Dec. 597; Spencer v. Cahoon, 15 N. C. 225. See supra, II, J, 3.

Prima facie evidence of approval is furnished by the signing, sealing, and delivering of an administration bond, in the absence of specific statute requirement beyond this. Wilson v. Ireland, 4 Md. 444.

Approval in writing is not in all states an essential. Brown v. Weatherby, 71 Mo. 152; State v. Farmer, 54 Mo. 539; James v. Dixon, 21 Mo. 538.

Approval not essential to validity of bond. — Brown v. Weatherby, 71 Mo. 152; State v. Creusbauer, 68 Mo. 254; State v. Farmer, 54 Mo. 439; Cameron v. Cameron, 15 Wis. 1, 82 Am. Dec. 652.

95. Weir v. Mead, 101 Cal. 125, 35 Pac. 567, 40 Am. St. Rep. 46; Heydock v. Duncan, 43 N. H. 95.

The bond must be executed by the principal in order to bind the sureties. Wood v. Washburn, 2 Pick. (Mass.) 24.

A requirement that the administrator shall "give" bond with sureties does not imply that he must necessarily and in all contingencies execute the bond, for an administrator may literally comply with the law by giving a bond with the necessary sureties without executing it himself. English v. McNair, 34 Ala. 40, where the court said that a construction which required an executor or administrator to execute or sign the bond in every case would render nugatory the statute allowing a married woman to be the representative of an estate when her husband consented thereto.

Administrator may execute bond by attorney in fact. Hall v. Monroe, 27 Tex. 700.

A sworn justification of sureties is sometimes requisite, besides the executor's oath. Foley v. Hamilton, 89 Iowa 686, 57 N. W. 439.

A mere expression of willingness to become a surety is not sufficient to render a person liable as such. Canal, etc., Co. v. Grayson, 4 La. Ann. 511.

96. Alabama.—Burnett v. Nesmith, 62 Ala. 261; Moore v. Chapman, 2 Stew. 466, 20 Am. Dec. 56.

Georgia.— White v. Spillers, 85 Ga. 555, 11 S. E. 616; Columbia Inferior Justices v. Wynn, Dudley 22.

Kansas.— Johnson v. Clark, 18 Kan. 157.

Kentucky.— Johnson v. Fuquay, 1 Dana 514.

Maine.— Frye v. Crockett, 77 Me. 157; Cleaves v. Dockray, 67 Me. 118.

Maryland.—Hamilton v. State, 3 Harr. & J. 503.

Minnesota.— Lanier v. Irvine, 21 Minn. 447.

Mississippi.— Paddleford v. State, 57 Miss. 118; Cohen v. State, 34 Miss. 179.

bond contains conditions and recitals in addition to those required by statute invalidate it,[97] and even though the bond is fatally defective as a statute bond it may be upheld as a common-law bond;[98] and the appointment of the repre-

Missouri.— State v. Price, 15 Mo. 375; Hall v. Chouteau, 12 Mo. 341.

Nebraska.— Buel v. Dickey, 9 Nebr. 285, 2 N. W. 884, omission of name of probate judge.

New Hampshire.— Probate Judge v. Claggett, 36 N. H. 381, 72 Am. Dec. 314.

New Jersey.— Ordinary v. Cooley, 30 N. J. L. 179; Vroom v. Smith, 14 N. J. L. 479.

New York.— Farley v. McConnell, 52 N. Y. 630; Farley v. McConnell, 7 Lans. 428; McManus v. Harrigan, 41 Misc. 615, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 220, omission of amount of penalty.

North Carolina.— Vanhook v. Barnett, 15 N. C. 268; Spencer v. Cahoon, 15 N. C. 225.

Ohio.— Newberger v. Twiney, 17 Ohio Cir. Ct. 215, 9 Ohio Cir. Dec. 720.

Pennsylvania.— Com. v. Miller, 195 Pa. St. 230, 45 Atl. 921; Small v. Com., 8 Pa. St. 101. See also Carl v. Com., 9 Serg. & R. 63.

Tennessee.— Hibbits v. Canada, 10 Yerg. 465.

Texas.— Rose v. Winn, 51 Tex. 545.

Virginia.— Gibson v. Beckham, 16 Gratt. 321 [explaining Roberts v. Colvin, 3 Gratt. 358; Frazier v. Frazier, 2 Leigh 642, and disapproving Morrow v. Peyton, 8 Leigh 54]; Luster v. Middlecoff, 8 Gratt. 54, 56 Am. Dec. 129.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 151, 160, 2361, 2362.

But compare Security Co. v. Pratt, 65 Conn. 161, 32 Atl. 396, holding that a statutory provision that all probate bonds "shall be conditioned for the faithful discharge, by the principal in the bond, of the duties of his trust according to law" left no room for variation in the language of the condition, but this must be the same in every bond.

The bond of an administrator with the will annexed has been upheld, although in the ordinary form required of general administrators. Probate Judge v. Claggett, 36 N. H. 381, 72 Am. Dec. 314; Casoni v. Jerome, 58 N. Y. 315.

The bond of an administrator de bonis non expressed to be "with the will annexed" and with conditions to make a true inventory, administer according to law, account, and pay over the balance to the person appointed by the decree of the orphans' court is valid, although in other respects in the form of an ordinary administration bond except that the clauses relating to collateral inheritances and surrendering the letters in case a will shall be found, are omitted. Hartzell v. Com., 42 Pa. St. 453.

The failure of the principal to file the bond with the surrogate as required by law does not affect the liability of the surety. Haywood v. Townsend, 4 N. Y. App. Div. 246, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 517.

A bond which by mistake names the surrogate of the wrong county but is further conditioned to obey the orders of that surrogate "or of any other officer or court having jurisdiction in the premises" is valid. Gerould v. Wilson, 81 N. Y. 573 [affirming 16 Hun 530].

An omission beneficial to the obligor cannot be set up by him as a ground of invalidity. Columbia Inferior Justices v. Wynn, Dudley (Ga.) 22.

Bonds fatally defective.— A bond which does not name any obligee and in which the name of the executor and the court to which he is to return his account are left blank is fatally defective and no action can be maintained thereon. Cowling v. Nansemond County Justices, 6 Rand. (Va.) 349. A bond signed in blank but in which the date, amount, name of the principal obligor, and obligation are never filled in has no legal signification upon which any claim of obligation can rest. Chretien v. Bienvenu, 41 La. Ann. 728, 6 So. 553. A bond which does not name any amount for which the obligors are to be bound and contains no blank for the filling in of such amount is not binding upon the sureties and equity will not reform the bond by inserting a penalty therein. Evarts v. Steger, 6 Oreg. 55. But see Soldini v. Hyams, 15 La. Ann. 551, holding that sureties by signing a bond in which the amount of the penalty is not named impliedly bind themselves for the amount for which the law requires the bond to be given. See also McManus v. Harrigan, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 615, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 220.

97. Hall v. Cushing, 9 Pick. (Mass.) 395; Woods v. State, 10 Mo. 698; Gandolfo v. Walker, 15 Ohio St. 251; Gibson v. Beckham, 16 Gratt. (Va.) 321.

If the bond be given for more than is required by law it is void as to the surplus only. Denys v. Armitage, 5 Mart. (La.) 629.

The bond may be sued on as a statutory bond, although it contains more conditions than the statute prescribes, the unauthorized conditions being rejected as surplusage. Woods v. State, 10 Mo. 698. Contra, Cleaves v. Dockray, 67 Me. 118, holding that such a bond is enforceable as a common-law bond but not as a statutory bond.

98. Georgia.— Awtrey v. Campbell, 118 Ga. 464, 45 S. E. 301.

Kentucky.— McChord v. Fisher, 13 B. Mon. 193.

Maine.— Frye v. Crockett, 77 Me. 157; Cleaves v. Dockray, 67 Me. 118; Pettingill v. Pettingill, 60 Me. 411.

North Carolina.— Vanhook v. Barnett, 15 N. C. 268; Gabie v. Meilan, 4 N. C. 346.

Oregon.— Bellinger v. Thompson, 26 Oreg. 320, 37 Pac. 714, 40 Pac. 229.

Pennsylvania.— Shalter's Appeal, 43 Pa. St. 83, 82 Am. Dec. 552.

South Carolina.— Kershaw Dist. v. Blanchard, 3 Brev. 136; Walker v. Crosland, 3 Rich. Eq. 23.

sentative will not be a nullity but may be effective as being de facto and voidable only.[99]

5. New or Additional Security. Statutes frequently provide for requiring new bonds or additional security to be furnished by the executor or administrator in certain cases where the interest of the estate requires it, and especially where some new situation arises, as an increase of assets, or the insufficiency of one or both sureties since qualification;[1] and even after an executor has been qualified Virginia.— See Frazier v. Frazier, 2 Leigh 642.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 2362.

99. Ex p. Maxwell, 37 Ala. 362, 79 Am. Dec. 62; Herriman v. Janney, 31 La. Ann. 276; Mumford v. Hall, 25 Minn. 347; Jones v. Gordon, 55 N. C. 352.

1. Alabama.— Nelson v. Boynton, 54 Ala. 368.

Arkansas.— Renfro v. White, 23 Ark. 195.

California.— Barrett v. Placer County Super. Ct., 111 Cal. 154, 43 Pac. 519.

District of Columbia.— Cropper v. McLane, 6 App. Cas. 119.

Louisiana.— Weeks' Succession, 104 La. 573, 29 So. 219 (holding that where certain property has been omitted from the inventory upon which the bond is based additional security may be required); Hardy's Estate, 46 La. Ann. 1309, 16 So. 208. See also Broom's Succession, 14 La. Ann. 67.

Massachusetts.— Dunham v. Dunham, 16 Gray 577.

Mississippi.— Ward v. State, 40 Miss. 108; Meyer v. Dorrance, 32 Miss. 263; Ellis v. McBride, 27 Miss. 155; Killcrease v. Killcrease, 7 How. 311.

New Jersey.— Camden Mut. Ins. Assoc. v. Jones, 23 N. J. Eq. 171.

New York.— Berkeley v. Kennedy, 62 N. Y. App. Div. 609, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 762 (holding that where an administratrix alleged in her application for letters that the estate amounted to one hundred dollars, and gave bond for two hundred dollars, it was error to order one thousand and eighty dollars paid to her as administratrix without requiring additional security); Sutton v. Weeks, 5 Redf. Surr. 353; In re Patullo, Tuck. Surr. 140.

North Carolina.— In re Sellars, 118 N. C. 573, 24 S. E. 430.

Oregon.— Palicio v. Bigne, 15 Oreg. 320.

Pennsylvania.— Longenberger's Estate, 148 Pa. St. 564, 24 Atl. 120; Sharkey's Estate, 2 Phila. 276.

West Virginia.— See Amiss v. Williamson, 17 W. Va. 673.

United States.— Richardson v. Cameron, 20 Fed. Cas. No. 11,780*a*, 2 Hayw. & H. 155, holding that where a large sum of money may be appropriated by congress the administrator should be required to enlarge his bond in an amount sufficient to cover what is in equity due to the representatives of the deceased.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 157, 167.

Statute held prospective only see Weigel's Estate, 4 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 92.

The marriage of an administratrix may warrant an order requiring a new bond. See Cassedy v. Jackson, 45 Miss. 397.

Where the executor takes a life-interest in the personalty a bond in the ordinary form is no continuing security to those entitled in remainder for their interest in the property, and other special security may be desirable. Sarle v. Scituate Probate Ct., 7 R. I. 270. And see Atmore v. Walker, 46 Fed. 429 [affirmed in 50 Fed. 644, 1 C. C. A. 595].

The death of one of the two sureties on an executor's bond is not a cause requiring an additional bond or surety if the ability to pay the amount of the bond is not impaired, although two sureties are required by the statute, since the heirs of the deceased surety are bound by the bond. State v. Brasher, 3 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 346.

When additional security not necessary see Wilson's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 742.

New bonds may be permitted by substitution, upon due procedure, for the prospective relief of those already bound. People v. Lott, 27 Ill. 215; Norris v. Fristoe, 3 La. Ann. 646.

Proceeding may be by rule. Block v. Bordelon, 39 La. Ann. 872, 2 So. 833.

Court may proceed of its own motion. Million v. Million, 13 Ky. L. Rep. 143; Ward v. State, 40 Miss. 108.

Service of the order requiring a new bond on the administrator is not required under the California statute, and even if it were it is waived by taking an exception to the order when made and subsequently requesting the court to approve a bond executed pursuant to such order. Barrett v. Placer County Super. Ct., 111 Cal. 154, 43 Pac. 519.

Jurisdiction vested in clerk of superior court as judge of probate.— Hunt v. Sneed, 64 N. C. 180.

Discretion of clerk.— The necessity for requiring an administrator to give a better bond is a matter for the clerk before whom the special proceeding for that purpose is had. In re Sellars, 118 N. C. 573, 24 S. E. 430.

Error in respect to new bond.— Where an administratrix married and the probate court passed an order requiring her husband and herself to execute a new bond, the error of the court in requiring her to join in the bond did not affect her rights as administratrix by virtue of her original appointment nor deprive her of authority, in conjunction with her husband, to prosecute a suit on a cause of action due to her intestate. Cassedy v. Jackson, 45 Miss. 397.

The administrator may plead no funds in his hands belonging to the estate in an ac-without a bond, if some change in the situation or circumstances of the executor or his conduct of the trust appear to render this a prudent measure, the court may in its discretion subsequently require a bond to be given.[2] In determining the amount to which additional security should be required, regard ought to be had to the value of the estate remaining unadministered, including any accessions thereto beyond the original estimate, and to the extent of the available security still furnished by the original bond.[3]

6. WHO MAY REQUIRE BOND. The court may of its own motion require security, either in the first instance or in addition to that already given,[4] or this may be demanded by any person interested in the estate whether as creditor, legatee, or distributee.[5] Proceedings may also be entertained at the instance of sureties, after due notice to all interested, for their discharge, reserving existing rights tion by the heirs to compel him to give a new bond. Hanlon v. Wheeler, (Tex. Civ. App. 1898) 45 S. W. 821.

Powers of representative after service of notice to give new bond see Hitson v. Dillahunty, 38 Tex. 585.

2. Alabama.— Smith v. Phillips, 54 Ala. 8.

Georgia.— Sheehan v. Kennelly, 32 Ga. 145.

Mississippi.— Clark v. Niles, 42 Miss. 460.

New York.— Matter of Wischmann, 80 N. Y. App. Div. 520, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 789.

North Carolina.—Gray v. Gaither, 74 N. C. 237.

Vermont.— Felton v. Sowles, 57 Vt. 382.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 157, 167.

A change is not necessary in the circumstances of the executor in order to warrant requiring a bond, but if the circumstances are such as to render the taking of a bond proper this may be done even though there has been no material change since he was qualified without bond. See Freeman v. Kellogg, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 218. Contra, Bowman v. Wootton, 8 B. Mon. (Ky.) 67.

Issue as to testamentary capacity.— Where a will has been admitted to probate, and letters testamentary granted to the executor, he will not be required to give security merely because of the pendency of an issue as to testator's testamentary capacity. Smith's Estate, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 161.

Investigation necessary before an executor who has been properly qualified without giving security can thereafter be required to give security it should upon investigation appear proper to require it. Farmers Nat. Bank v. McFerran, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 183, holding that consequently an order made in the absence of an executrix and without notice to her, requiring her to appear on a certain day and give security, must be regarded as a preliminary step to an investigation thereafter to be had in which the propriety of requiring the security would be determined.

Effect of order for security.— An order requiring an executor to give security does not have the effect of suspending his right to exercise the functions of his office in the interim between the time of his appointment and the time fixed at which he is to give security. Farmers' Nat. Bank v. McFerran, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 183.

3. Atkinson v. Christian, 3 Gratt. (Va.) 448.

4. Smith v. Phillips, 54 Ala. 8.

5. Smith v. Phillips, 54 Ala. 8; Duggan v. Lamar, 106 Ga. 855, 33 S. E. 43.

A creditor may require security (Smith v. Phillips, 54 Ala. 8; Frazier's Succession, 33 La. Ann. 593) and his right in this respect is not tested by the amount of his claim (Weeks' Succession, 104 La. 573, 29 So. 219).

A judgment creditor of an insolvent estate has the right to proceed against the administrator for better security, although he has not presented his judgment before the commissioner of insolvency, if the time for such presentation has not elapsed. Meyer v. Dorrance, 32 Miss. 263.

A single legatee may require the giving of the full bond required by law, although other legatees may be satisfied with less security. Weeks' Estate, 1 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 164.

Legatee under alleged later will.— The proponent who is also the executrix and a legatee under an alleged will of the testator of a later date than that already admitted to probate has such an interest in the estate of the deceased, pending proceedings for the probate of the paper propounded by her, as entitles her to petition for an order compelling the executrix of the will already admitted to give security or be superseded. Cunningham v. Souza, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 462.

A remainder-man has such an interest as authorizes him to move the court to require a bond of the executrix. Amiss v. Williamson, 17 W. Va. 673.

One who has the right to interest on a bequest but no right to the principal until a future day cannot demand that the executor shall give security. Johnson's Appeal, 12 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 317.

The interest of a claimant will be assumed prima facie proven when sworn to and will not be tried on an application for the giving of security. Merchant's Will, Tuck. Surr. (N. Y.) 17.

The right to demand security may be waived, but not by the guardian of infants to others, so as to compel the executor or administrator to file a new bond or else vacate the office.[6]

7. Proceedings. Proceedings to compel the giving of security by an executor who has received letters without a bond, or to compel the giving of new or additional security may be by petition, allegation, and answer,[7] or in some cases by an order to show cause without petition.[8] The decree made in the premises may be opened, vacated, or modified where sufficient cause is shown.[9] An appeal will usually lie from the action of the probate court.[10]

K. Issuance of Letters. The authority of an executor or administrator is evidenced by letters testamentary or of administration[11] issued to him pursuant beneficially interested. Freeman v. Kellogg, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 218.

Escheated estates.— Under the Georgia statutes providing that the estate of one dying intestate and without heirs shall escheat to the state, for the distribution of such estate to the school fund of the county, and that, where one is appointed administrator without being required to give bond and security, any person interested in such estate as creditor, distributee, or legatee may require the administrator to give bond as such, the county school commissioner and treasurer of the public school fund in the county of the residence of one dying intestate without heirs has such interest, in his official capacity, as distributee of such estate, as entitles him to maintain a proceeding to require the administrator to give bond. Duggan v. Lamar, 106 Ga. 855, 33 S. E. 43.

Requiring bond of public officer.—The Georgia statute providing that where one is appointed administrator without being required to give bond one interested in the estate may require the administrator to give bond applies to a clerk of the superior court who has been appointed administrator and has given no bond as such. Duggan v. Lamar, 106 Ga. 855, 33 S. E. 43.

6. See Stevens v. Stevens, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 469; Bellinger v. Thompson, 26 Oreg. 320, 37 Pac. 714, 40 Pac. 229.

7. Alabama.— Allen v. Draper, 98 Ala. 590, 13 So. 529; Phillips v. Smith, 62 Ala. 575; Smith v. Phillips, 54 Ala. 8.

California.— In re White, 53 Cal. 19.

Louisiana.—Bobb's Succession, 27 La. Ann. 344.

New York.— Colegrove v. Horton, 11 Paige 261; Cotterell v. Brock, 1 Bradf. Surr. 148.

North Carolina.— Neighbors v. Hamlin, 78 N. C. 42.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 153, 157, 168.

Irrelevant answer.—Where testator's widow filed a petition asking that the executor be required to give bond on the ground that her interest would be endangered unless security were given, an answer alleging that defendant was a merchant and that he furnished testator's widow and children with supplies at cost, for which reason it would not be to petitioner's interest to remove him, was insufficient as containing matter wholly irrelevant to the petition. Johnson v. Clements, (Ala. 1893) 14 So. 14.

8. Bird v. Wiggins, 35 N. J. Eq. 111.

9. In re Filley, 20 N. Y. Suppl. 427, Pow. Surr. (N. Y.) 234.

Showing not sufficient to warrant modification.— Where a decree requiring an executor to give a bond was made on the theory that testator owned certain land, as alleged by a creditor, and the executor did not deny testator's title, but submitted proof that the land was of less value than alleged, the penalty of the bond should not be reduced on the application of the executor alleging that decedent had conveyed the land to him, and that he had transferred it to another, as the executor should have so alleged on the application to require bond. In re Filley, 20 N. Y. Suppl. 427, Pow. Surr. (N. Y.) 234.

10. Grigsby v. Cocke, 85 Ky. 314, 3 S. W. 418, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 12; Williams v. Pointer, 3 Lea (Tenn.) 366; Fairfax v. Fairfax, 7 Gratt. (Va.) 36. See also Vreedenburgh v. Calf, 9 Paige (N. Y.) 128. Contra, Cropper v. McLane, 6 App. Cas. (D. C.) 119.

11. See Schouler Ex. §§ 52, 119.

Letters of administration are to be considered as process. Denver, etc., R. Co. v. Woodward, 4 Colo. 1.

General letters cannot issue while an appeal is pending concerning the right to administration or the probate of the will. State v. Williams, 9 Gill (Md.) 172; Slade v. Washburn, 25 N. C. 557.

Letters should issue in conformity to law then existing. Peters v. Public Administrator, 1 Bradf. (N. Y.) 200.

Originals certified as copies.— Letters testamentary, which when granted were entered of record, and were afterward, when delivered to the executor, certified by the clerk to be true copies of the record, were valid as the original letters. Bales v. Binford, 6 Blackf. (Ind.) 415.

Variance from the usual form is immaterial where the law prescribes no specific form in which appointments are to be made. Carlon's Succession, 26 La. Ann. 329.

When issuance of letters presumed see Lancaster v. Washington L. Ins. Co., 62 Mo. 121; Foulks v. Foulks, 2 Silv. Supreme (N. Y.) 516, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 112; Piatt v. McCullough, 19 Fed. Cas. No. 11,113, 1 McLean 69.

When issuance of letters not presumed see Smith v. Wilson, 17 Md. 460, 79 Am. Dec. 665.

Letters as evidence of appointment.— Let-to order of the court upon his appointment and qualification.[12] Such letters are, however, usually considered merely as credentials furnished him for his own convenience, and are not necessary where the decree and records of the court show his right to act.[13] Letters should be granted by the proper judicial authority without delegation of power,[14] and in general they bear the seal of the court and the signature of the judge, and are countersigned by the register or clerk.[15]

L. Operation and Effect of Appointment — 1. In General. The estate of a decedent, wherever he may reside at the time of his death, and in whatsoever different states or countries portions of the property and assets may be situated, is a unit; but, where administrations are granted in different states or countries, in which part of the property is situated, they are separate and independent of one another,[16] for a grant of administration strictly speaking operates only within ters of administration are prima facie evidence of appointment. Eller v. Richardson, 89 Tenn. 575, 15 S. W. 650. And in some jurisdictions they are conclusive. Johnson v. Kyser, 127 Ala. 309, 27 So. 784 (so holding under the Alabama statute, even though the letters showed the testator to have been a resident of another state at the time of her death and failed to show proper antecedent proceedings necessary to authorize the issuance of such letters); Hamblin's Succession, 3 Rob. (La.) 130.

12. See Glover v. Lyon, 57 Ala. 365; Wirt v. Pintard, 40 La. Ann. 233, 4 So. 14; Mumford v. Hall, 25 Minn. 347.

Order necessary.— There can be no valid appointment of an administrator except under authority of an order therefor signed either by the judge or clerk. Letters otherwise issued are null and void. Wirt v. Pintard, 40 La. Ann. 233, 4 So. 14.

Duty of register to issue letters.— When, in case of removal or discharge of an executor or administrator, the court awards new letters, it is the duty of the register to issue the same, and in so doing he is protected from liability. Forster's Estate, 2 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 206.

Issuance to wrong person.— Where the court orders letters to issue to one person, an issue of letters to another is unauthorized and void. In re Frey, 52 Cal. 658.

13. Alabama.— Hosey v. Brasher, 8 Port. 559, 33 Am. Dec. 299.

California.—Beckett v. Selover, 7 Cal. 215, 68 Am. Dec. 237.

Georgia.— See Burkhalter v. Ector, 25 Ga. 55, holding that an order of the court appointing a certain person administrator of an estate, on his giving bond and security in a certain sum, with a subsequent order granting such person leave to sell land as such administrator, was admissible to prove the administration, and that such person was in fact a legal administrator of the estate.

Mississippi.— Weir v. Monahan, 67 Miss. 434, 7 So. 291. See also Barr v. Sullivan, 75 Miss. 536, 23 So. 772, holding that the record of administration is admissible on an issue whether defendant is an administrator.

Missouri.— State v. Price, 21 Mo. 434.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 171.

An administrator's authority and qualification may be presumed after the lapse of more than thirty years, from the existence of an inventory and a schedule of claims in the probate office, attested by his oath, and a petition preferred by him to the court of common pleas for license to sell the real estate of his intestate, with the original certificate of the judge of probate thereon, recognizing him as an administrator; the probate records and files of that period appearing to have been loosely kept, and no other vestige of his appointment being discoverable. Battles v. Holley, 6 Me. 145.

A receipt of a husband, as administrator of his deceased wife, for money due her is prima facie evidence that he was such administrator. Murray v. Barden, 132 N. C. 136, 43 S. E. 600.

Letters need not be issued to public administrator. Abel v. Love, 17 Cal. 233 [explaining Rogers v. Hoberlein, 11 Cal. 120]; Weir v. Monahan, 67 Miss. 434, 7 So. 291.

14. Roderigas v. East River Sav. Inst., 76 N. Y. 316, 32 Am. Rep. 309, holding that letters which the judge signs in blank by way of delegating his power of appointment to the clerk are absolutely void.

The clerk exercises functions of appointment in North Carolina. Edwards v. Cobb, 95 N. C. 4.

A deputy clerk cannot grant letters of administration in his own name. Stewart v. Cave, 1 Mo. 752.

15. See Sharp v. Dyre, 64 Cal. 9, 27 Pac. 789; Witzel v. Pierce, 22 Ga. 112; Bales v. Binford, 6 Blackf. (Ind.) 415.

The want of the clerk's signature renders letters in due form purporting to be duly granted and bearing the official seal merely voidable. Post v. Caulk, 3 Mo. 35.

The omission of a seal from letters of administration cannot be called in question in proceedings by heirs attacking a sale by the administratrix duly confirmed, where the letters recite that the seal is affixed, and the administratrix has acted as such, and the court has repeatedly made orders recognizing her as such. Dennis v. Bint, 122 Cal. 39, 54 Pac. 378, 68 Am. St. Rep. 17.

16. Equitable L. Assur. Soc. v. Vogel, 76 Ala. 441, 52 Am. Rep. 344. See, generally, infra, XVI.

the jurisdiction where it is made.[17] The appointment of an administrator may relate back so as to preclude his questioning an agreement made with a creditor of the estate, with reference to the settlement of the claim, before the appointment.[18] A grant of administration cannot be regarded as an adjudication that the deceased died intestate where the form of oath provided by statute for administrators expressly provides for the surrender of the letters of administration, if it subsequently appears that a last will and testament was made by the deceased and the same is proved according to law.[19] The responsibilities of the representative are fixed by the appointment.[20] An executor, whether named in the will or by delegated power, has the right to defend in the courts his authority to act.[21]

2. MATTERS CONCLUDED AND PRESUMPTIONS. Letters testamentary or of administration are presumed to have been rightfully issued after due judicial investigation and procedure save so far as this is contradicted by the record, and they are prima facie evidence of all they purport to show, and conclusive of the appointment and qualification of the legal representative, in the absence of rebutting evidence.[22] It will be presumed that an appointment was necessary[23] and was made on sufficient grounds,[24] that the court acted on proof of facts essential to its jurisdiction,[25] that the proceedings were in all respects regular,[26] and that the person appointed administrator was a proper person for the appointment, both in respect to his possessing the qualifications rendering him suitable to

17. Normand v. Grognard, 17 N. J. Eq. 425.

18. Bennett v. Lyndon, 8 N. Y. App. Div. 387, 40 N. Y. Suppl. 786.

19. Buchle's Estate, 3 Pa. Dist. 16, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 99.

20. Brownson v. Baker, 11 La. 409, holding that the appointment of a curator to a succession as a vacant estate fixes conclusively the capacity in which he acts, although in fact the estate is not vacant and the minor heirs are known.

21. Brown v. Just, 118 Mich. 678, 77 N. W. 263.

22. Alabama.— Burke v. Mutch, 66 Ala. 568; Burnett v. Nesmith, 62 Ala. 261; English v. McNair, 34 Ala. 40.

California.— Griffith's Estate, 84 Cal. 107, 23 Pac. 523, 24 Pac. 381.

Iowa.— Masters v. Brown, 51 Iowa 442, 1 N. W. 791; Milligan v. Bowman, 46 Iowa 55; Shawhan v. Loffer, 24 Iowa 217.

Louisiana.— Davis v. Greve, 32 La. Ann. 420.

Missouri.— Lackland v. Stevenson, 54 Mo. 108.

New York.— Roderigas v. East River Sav. Inst., 63 N. Y. 460, 20 Am. Rep. 555; Farley v. McConnell, 52 N. Y. 630; Westcott v. Cady, 5 Johns. Ch. 334, 9 Am. Dec. 306.

North Carolina.—Brickhouse v. Brickhouse, 33 N. C. 404.

Virginia.— Burnley v. Duke, 2 Rob. 102; Thompson v. Meek, 7 Leigh 419. See also Reherd v. Long, 77 Va. 839.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 181.

Lapse of time strengthens presumption. Gantt v. Phillips, 23 Ala. 275; Lawrence v. Englesby, 24 Vt. 42.

How questions raised.— Matters of this kind may be disputed on appeal or in direct proceedings to revoke, etc., although not collaterally. In re Haskell, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 204; Moreland v. Lawrence, 23 Minn. 84. See infra, II, L, 4, 5.

23. Stewart v. Smiley, 46 Ark. 373.

24. Peterson v. Erwin, 28 Ind. App. 330, 62 N. E. 719; McCooey v. New York, etc., R. Co., 182 Mass. 205, 65 N. E. 62.

25. Alabama.— Kling v. Connell, 105 Ala. 590, 17 So. 121, 53 Am. St. Rep. 144.

Illinois.— People v. Cole, 84 Ill. 327; Hobson v. Ewan, 62 Ill. 146; Langworthy v. Baker, 23 Ill. 484.

Kentucky.— Brents v. Vittatoe, 8 Ky. L. Rep. 427.

Mississippi.— Weir v. Monahan, 67 Miss. 434, 7 So. 291.

Missouri.— Hall v. Harrison, 21 Mo. 227, 64 Am. Dec. 225.

South Carolina.— Heyward v. Williams, 57 S. C. 235, 35 S. E. 503.

Texas.— State v. Zanco, 18 Tex. Civ. App. 127, 44 S. W. 527.

United States.— Holmes v. Oregon, etc., R. Co., 9 Fed. 229, 7 Sawy. 380.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 181.

A grant not showing affirmatively that a vacancy existed in the administration is not void, for such vacancy must be presumed. Wolffe v. Eberlein, 74 Ala. 99, 49 Am. Rep. 809. See also in this connection Bean v. Chapman, 62 Ala. 58, where the appointment of an administrator de bonis non was sustained.

26. Barclay v. Kimsey, 72 Ga. 725 (holding that it cannot be presumed that the bond required by law was not given because it is not recited in the order appointing the administrator); Pendleton v. Shaw, 18 Tex. Civ. App. 439, 44 S. W. 1002; Halbert v. De Bode, 15 Tex. Civ. App. 615, 40 S. W. 1011 (holding that one who has been recognized as the administrator of an estate, both by the court in which the administration is pending and by all parties interested in the estate, for a period of about eighteen years, is con-undertake and capable of performing the duties of the office, and there being no available person having a prior right to administer.[27]

3. Validity of Representative's Acts. As a general rule all acts by an executor or administrator done in the due and legal course of administration are valid and binding, even though the appointment is voidable and the letters issued by the court are afterward revoked or the incumbent discharged from his trust,[28] and he will be protected in all lawful and bona fide acts done before revocation of his letters.[29]

4. Collateral Attack. As a general rule a grant of administration which is not void, although it may be voidable, is not open to collateral attack,[30] either on clusively presumed the legal administrator, when his acts are collaterally attacked).

Conformity to statutory delays, etc., will be presumed. Judd v. Ross, 146 Ill. 40, 34 N. E. 631; Lees v. Wetmore, 58 Iowa 170, 12 N. W. 238.

27. Wheat v. Fuller, 82 Ala. 572, 2 So. 628; Burnett v. Nesmith, 62 Ala. 261; Davis v. Swearingen, 56 Ala. 31; Flinn v. Chase, 4 Den. (N. Y.) 85; Wilson v. Hoos, 3 Humphr. (Tenn.) 142; Caujolle v. Curtiss, 13 Wall. (U. S.) 465, 20 L. ed. 507; Berney v. Drexel, 12 Fed. 393.

28. Illinois.— Shephard v. Rhodes, 60 Ill. 301; Wight v. Wallbaum, 39 Ill. 554.

Indiana.— Bowen v. Stewart, 128 Ind. 507, 26 N. E. 168, 28 N. E. 73; Ray v. Doughty, 4 Blackf. 115.

Iowa.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Gould, 64 Iowa 343, 20 N. W. 464.

Kentucky.—Gilbert v. Bartlett, 9 Bush 49.

Louisiana.—Robertson's Succession, 49 La. Ann. 80, 21 So. 197; Vinet v. Bres, 48 La. Ann. 1254, 20 So. 693.

Maryland.— Phippard v. Forbes, 4 Harr. & M. 481.

Nebraska.— Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Bradley, 51 Nebr. 596, 71 N. W. 283.

New Hampshire.— Sherburne v. Goodwin, 44 N. H. 271; Boody v. Emerson, 17 N. H. 577.

New Jersey.— See Quidort v. Pergeaux, 18 N. J. Eq. 472.

North Carolina.— See Hyman v. Gaskins, 27 N. C. 267.

Ohio.— Bigelow v. Bigelow, 4 Ohio 138, 19 Am. Dec. 591.

Oregon.— Brown v. Brown, 7 Oreg. 285.

South Carolina.— Foster v. Brown, 1 Bailey 221, 19 Am. Dec. 672.

Virginia.— Fisher v. Bassett, 9 Leigh 119, 33 Am. Dec. 227.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 177.

The receipt of an administrator regularly appointed will bar any subsequent action for the recovery of the debt, notwithstanding irregularities may have intervened in the appointment of the administrator which would be fatal upon appeal or error. People v. Cole, 84 Ill. 327.

Rule otherwise where appointment void.— Gay v. Minot, 3 Cush. (Mass.) 352.

29. Meek v. Allison, 67 Ill. 46; Woods v. Nelson, 9 B. Mon. (Ky.) 600; Hughes v. Hodges, 94 N. C. 56; Ralston v. Telfair, 22 N. C. 414; Brown v. Brown, 7 Oreg. 285.

Acts done after notice of will appointing another person executor.—An executor or administrator is not protected in his acts done under his appointment after notice of a will or a subsequent will by which another person is appointed as executor. Woolley v. Clark, 5 B. & Ald. 744, 7 E. C. L. 405.

30. Alabama.— Bromberg v. Sands, 127 Ala. 411, 30 So. 510; Wolffe v. Eberlein, 74 Ala. 99, 49 Am. Rep. 809; Broughton v. Bradley, 34 Ala. 694, 73 Am. Dec. 474.

Delaware.— Wilcox v. Wilmington City R. Co., (1898) 42 Atl. 704.

District of Columbia.— Richmond, etc., R. Co. v. Gorman, 7 App. Cas. 91.

Georgia.— Bryan v. Walton, 14 Ga. 185; Harris v. Wynne, 4 Ga. 521.

Illinois.— Salomon v. People, 191 Ill. 290, 61 N. E. 83 [affirming 89 Ill. App. 374]; Walker v. Welker, 55 Ill. App. 118.

Indiana.— Ferguson v. State, 90 Ind. 38.

Louisiana.— Duson v. Dupré, 32 La. Ann. 896; In re Altemus, 32 La. Ann. 364; Dougart's Succession, 30 La. Ann. 268; Morgan v. Locke, 28 La. Ann. 806; Lee's Succession, 28 La. Ann. 23; Wilson v. Imboden, 8 La. Ann. 140; Maskell v. Roussel, 5 Rob. 500; Roboaum's Succession, 1 Rob. 258; Derbigny v. Peirce, 18 La. 551; Ferrari v. Lambeth, 11 La. 101; Stewart v. Row, 10 La. 530; Rils v. Questi, 2 La. 249.

Maine.— Clark v. Pishon, 31 Me. 503.

Maryland.— Donohue v. Daniel, 58 Md. 595; Fishwick v. Sewell, 4 Harr. & J. 393.

Massachusetts.— McCooey v. New York, etc., R. Co., 182 Mass. 205, 65 N. E. 62; McFeely v. Scott, 128 Mass. 16; Emery v. Hildreth, 2 Gray 228.

Missouri.— Dunn v. German-American Bank, 109 Mo. 90, 18 S. W. 1139; Naylor v. Moffatt, 29 Mo. 126.

Nebraska.— Lasson v. Union Pac. R. Co., (1903) 97 N. W. 313; Elgutter v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 53 Nebr. 748, 74 N. W. 255; Bradley v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 51 Nebr. 653, 71 N. W. 282, 66 Am. St. Rep. 474; Moore v. Moore, 33 Nebr. 509, 50 N. W. 443; Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Lewis, 24 Nebr. 848, 40 N. W. 401, 2 L. R. A. 67. See also Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Jay, 53 Nebr. 747, 74 N. W. 259; Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Bradley, 51 Nebr. 596, 71 N. W. 283.

New Hampshire.— Stearns v. Wright, 51 N. H. 600.

the ground of irregularity in the proceedings,[31] a mistake in the character of letters granted where a proper case for administration existed,[32] that the grant was

New Jersey.— Quidort v. Pergeaux, 18 N. J. Eq. 472.

New Mexico.— See Huntington v. Moore, 1 N. M. 489.

New York.— Tanas v. Municipal Gas Co., 88 N. Y. App. Div. 251, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 1053; Van Gaasbeek v. Staples, 85 N. Y. App. Div. 271, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 225 [affirmed in 177 N. Y. 524, 69 N. E. 1132]; More v. Finch, 65 Hun 404, 20 N. Y. Suppl. 164; Sullivan v. Fosdick, 10 Hun 173.

North Carolina.— London v. Wilmington, etc., R. Co., 88 N. C. 584.

Pennsylvania.— Cunnius v. Reading School Dist., 206 Pa. St. 469, 56 Atl. 16, 98 Am. St. Rep. 790; Ubil v. Miller, 16 Pa. Super. Ct. 497.

Tennessee.— Kendrick v. Mason, (Ch. App. 1901) 62 S. W. 359.

Texas.— See Claiborne v. Yoeman, 15 Tex. 44. But compare Cain v. Haas, 18 Tex. 616.

Vermont.— See Taylor v. Phillips, 30 Vt. 238.

United States.— Veach v. Rice, 131 U. S. 293, 9 S. Ct. 730, 33 L. ed. 163; McGehee v. McCarley, 91 Fed. 462, 33 C. C. A. 629.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 178.

Question as to right to possession of personalty.— In an action by the public administrator to recover personalty paid to one of the heirs under a written agreement of all the heirs, who were of age, assigning their interests to such heir, the defense that there were no debts and that the personalty had been rightfully assigned to defendant was not a collateral attack on the order of the probate court directing plaintiff to take charge of the estate. Richardson v. Cole, 160 Mo. 372, 61 S. W. 182, 83 Am. St. Rep. 479.

In an action by a public administrator the defendant may properly put in an answer which does not ask a revocation of plaintiff's letters of administration or dispute the validity of his appointment as public administrator, but, recognizing his right to perform all the functions which by the laws of the state pertain to that office, denies that plaintiff had any authority under the statutes of the state or by virtue of his appointment as such administrator, to take charge of the particular estate in question. Union Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Lewis, 97 U. S. 682, 24 L. ed. 1114.

31. Alabama.— Winter v. London, 99 Ala. 263, 12 So. 438; Savage v. Benham, 17 Ala. 119; Eslava v. Elliott, 5 Ala. 264, 39 Am. Dec. 326.

Colorado.— Denver, etc., R. Co. v. Woodward, 4 Colo. 1.

District of Columbia.—Tucker v. Nebecker, 2 App. Cas. 326.

Georgia.— Barclay v. Kimsey, 72 Ga. 725; Bryan v. Walton, 14 Ga. 185.

Illinois.— Frothingham v. Petty, 197 Ill. 418, 64 N. E. 270; Wight v. Wallbaum, 39 Ill. 554; Brink v. O'Donnell, 88 Ill. App. 459.

Kansas.— Ewing v. Mallison, 65 Kan. 484, 70 Pac. 369, 93 Am. St. Rep. 299; Taylor v. Hosick, 13 Kan. 518.

Louisiana.— Davie v. Stevens, 10 La. Ann. 496.

Maine.— Clark v. Pishon, 31 Me. 503.

Maryland.— Edelen v. Edelen, 6 Md. 288.

Massachusetts.— McCooey v. New York, etc., R. Co., 182 Mass. 205, 65 N. E. 62; Emery v. Hildreth, 2 Gray 228. See also Dickey v. Taft, 175 Mass. 4, 55 N. E. 318.

Michigan.— Johnson v. Johnson, 66 Mich. 525, 33 N. W. 413.

Minnesota.— Pick v. Strong, 26 Minn. 303, 3 N. W. 697.

Mississippi.— Grant v. Spann, 34 Miss. 294.

Missouri.— Johnson v. Beazley, 65 Mo. 250, 27 Am. Rep. 276; Riley v. McCord, 24 Mo. 265.

Nebraska.— Jackson v. Phillips, 57 Nebr. 189, 77 N. W. 683.

New Hampshire.— Boody v. Emerson, 17 N. H. 577.

New York.— O'Connor v. Huggins, 113 N. Y. 511, 21 N. E. 184; Kelly v. West, 80 N. Y. 139; James v. Adams, 22 How. Pr. 409.

Ohio.— Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Beard, 20 Ohio Cir. Ct. 681, 11 Ohio Cir. Dec. 406.

South Carolina.— Petigru v. Ferguson, 6 Rich. Eq. 378.

Texas.— Templeton v. Ferguson, 89 Tex. 47, 33 S. W. 329.

Utah.— Chilton v. Union Pac. R. Co., 8 Utah 47, 29 Pac. 963.

Vermont.—McFarland v. Stone, 17 Vt. 165, 44 Am. Dec. 325.

Virginia.— Fisher v. Bassett, 9 Leigh 119, 33 Am. Dec. 227.

United States.— Garrett v. Boeing, 68 Fed. 51, 15 C. C. A. 209; Francisco v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 35 Fed. 647.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 180.

The action of the court in extending the time for qualification of an administrator cannot be collaterally attacked. Willard v. Cleveland, 14 Tex. Civ. App. 557, 38 S. W. 222.

Where two or more estates are included in one administration this is a manifest irregularity but does not render the grant void or subject to collateral attack. Templeton v. Ferguson, 89 Tex. 47, 33 S. W. 329; Grande v. Herrera, 15 Tex. 533.

32. Jackson v. Reeve, 44 Ark. 496; Wight v. Wallbaum, 39 Ill. 554; Smith v. Pistole, 10 Humphr. (Tenn.) 205.

General grant of administration where decedent left will.— A grant of general letters of administration on the estate of a nonresident decedent, who died in the state of his residence, leaving a valid last will and testament, and owning property in the county in which such letters of administration were granted, although irregular and voidable, premature,[33] or that the person to whom letters of administration have been granted was not entitled by priority to administer[34] or lacked the required qualifications.[35] Even a want of jurisdiction, when not apparent on the face of the record, is not as a rule a ground of collateral attack,[36] for where, as is usually the case, the probate court is a court of general jurisdiction in regard to probates and the grant of administrations, and has jurisdiction in regard to the whole subject-matter, although it may err in taking jurisdiction of a particular case, yet the order is generally not void but only voidable.[37] But the appointment may be attacked collaterally when the record affirmatively shows that the court granting the letters acted without jurisdiction,[38] and indeed any appointment which is void, as distinguished from voidable merely, may be collaterally cannot be held void when collaterally attacked. Broughton v. Bradley, 34 Ala. 694, 73 Am. Dec. 474.

33. Hutcheson v. Priddy, 12 Gratt. (Va.) 85.

34. Delaware.— Burton v. Waples, 4 Harr. 73.

Nebraska.— Larson v. Union Pac. R. Co., (1903) 97 N. W. 313.

North Carolina.— Lyle v. Siler, 103 N. C. 261, 9 S. E. 491; Garrison v. Cox, 95 N. C. 353.

Oregon.— Ramp v. McDaniel, 12 Oreg. 108, 6 Pac. 456.

Pennsylvania.— Clark v. Clark, 6 Watts & S. 85.

Tennessee.— Wilson v. Frazier, 2 Humphr. 30.

United States.—Simmons v. Saul, 138 U. S. 439, 11 S. Ct. 369, 34 L. ed. 1054.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 178.

35. Davis v. Miller, 109 Ala. 589, 19 So. 699; Maybin v. Knighton, 67 Ga. 103; Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. McWherter, 59 Kan. 345, 53 Pac. 135; Caujolle v. Curtiss, 13 Wall. (U. S.) 465, 20 L. ed. 507.

36. Alabama.— McGhee v. Willis, 134 Ala. 281, 32 So. 301; Beasley v. Howell, 117 Ala. 499, 22 So. 989; Kling v. Connell, 105 Ala. 590, 17 So. 121, 53 Am. St. Rep. 144. Contra, Miller v. Jones, 26 Ala. 247. And see Barclift v. Treece, 77 Ala. 528, 531, where the court said: "In support of the jurisdiction, everything which the record does not disprove is presumed, and the presumption is conclusive on a collateral attack, when the record asserts the jurisdictional fact. But, when it is silent, it may be that the entire want of jurisdiction can be shown."

California.— Irwin v. Scriber, 18 Cal. 499.

Florida.— Robinson v. Epping, 24 Fla. 237, 4 So. 812; Epping v. Robinson, 21 Fla. 36.

Iowa.— Murphy v. Creighton, 45 Iowa 179.

Kentucky.— Gilchrist v. Williams, 1 B. Mon. 133. Contra, Hall v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 102 Ky. 480, 43 S. W. 698, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1529, 80 Am. St. Rep. 358; Jacobs v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 10 Bush 263.

Louisiana.— Hamblin's Succession, 3 Rob. 130.

Maine.— Record v. Howard, 58 Me. 225, so holding "unless there is fraud."

Massachusetts.— McFeely v. Scott, 128 Mass. 16.

Nebraska.— Bradley v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 51 Nebr. 653, 71 N. W. 282, 66 Am. St. Rep. 473.

New Hampshire.— Ela's Appeal, 68 N. H. 35, 38 Atl. 501. But compare Stearns v. Wright, 51 N. H. 600.

New Jersey.— Plume v. Howard Sav. Inst., 46 N. J. L. 211; Buecker v. Carr, 60 N. J. Eq. 300, 47 Atl. 34.

New York.— Van Gaasbeek v. Staples, 85 N. Y. App. Div. 271, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 225 [affirmed in 177 N. Y. 524, 69 N. E. 1132]; Kelly v. Jay, 79 Hun 535, 29 N. Y. Suppl. 933, holding this to be true in the absence of any charge of fraud or collusion.

South Carolina.— In re Mayo, 60 S. C. 401, 38 S. E. 634, 54 L. R. A. 660.

Tennessee.— Eller v. Richardson, 89 Tenn. 575, 15 S. W. 650; East Tennessee, etc., R. Co. v. Mahoney, 89 Tenn. 311, 15 S. W. 652; Ferrell v. Grigsby, (Ch. App. 1899) 51 S. W. 114.

Texas.— Strickland v. Sandmeyer, 21 Tex. Civ. App. 351, 52 S. W. 87.

Vermont.— Abbott v. Coburn, 28 Vt. 663, 67 Am. Dec. 735.

Virginia.— Andrews v. Avory, 14 Gratt. 229, 73 Am. Dec. 355.

United States.— Boston, etc., R. v. Hurd, 108 Fed. 116, 47 C. C. A. 615, 56 L. R. A. 193; Garrett v. Boeing, 68 Fed. 51, 15 C. C. A. 209.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 179.

Contra.— Griffith v. Wright, 18 Ga. 173; People's Sav. Bank v. Wilcox, 15 R. I. 258, 3 Atl. 211, 2 Am. St. Rep. 894.

37. Andrews v. Avory, 14 Gratt. (Va.) 229, 73 Am. Dec. 355, where administration had been granted on the estate of a decedent who was not a resident of the county, and did not die or have any estate therein. And see Sager v. Lindsey, 118 Pa. St. 25, 13 Atl. 211.

Where probate courts are courts of limited jurisdiction a lack of jurisdiction may be shown collaterally. People's Sav. Bank v. Wilcox, 15 R. I. 258, 3 Atl. 211, 2 Am. St. Rep. 894.

38. Georgia.— Griffith v. Wright, 18 Ga. 173.

Iowa.— Nash v. Sawyer, 114 Iowa 742, 87 N. W. 707.

Maine.— Record v. Howard, 58 Me. 225; Moore v. Philbrick, 32 Me. 102, 52 Am. Dec. 642.

Michigan.— Gillett v. Needham, 37 Mich. 143.

Minnesota.— Davis v. Hudson, 29 Minn. 27, 11 N. W. 136.

attacked.[39] Thus it may be shown collaterally that the alleged decedent was not dead at the time of the grant of administration,[40] that the estate had already been fully administered and closed,[41] or that at the time of the grant the probate court of another county had previously taken jurisdiction of and granted administration on the same estate, and that there was no vacancy in the administration;[42] and where an appointment is void because of a lack of jurisdiction in the county where it is made, the court of the county having jurisdiction may ignore the former appointment and take any necessary steps to settle the estate.[43]

5. DIRECT ATTACK. Any person may directly attack a void grant of administration,[44] but a grant of administration valid on its face can be attacked only by a creditor or next of kin of the decedent or some other person in some way interested in the estate.[45] Where a direct attack on an appointment is made, and such appointment is claimed to be void and ultra vires, no right or title to the property of the succession can absolutely vest in the appointee so long as the opposition remains undisposed of.[46]

M. Failure to Qualify or Act. In the absence of statute no action will lie by heirs to compel the person nominated as executor to either qualify or formally renounce,[47] but in general the court itself takes cognizance that the person nominated as executor or appointed administrator has not qualified within a reasonable time, and appoints another person to serve in his place,[48] and this having Nebraska.— Elgutter v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 53 Nebr. 748, 74 N. W. 255; Moore v. Moore, 32 Nebr. 509, 50 N. W. 443.

New York.— Flinn v. Chase, 4 Den. 85.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 179.

39. Griffith v. Wright, 18 Ga. 173; In re King, 105 Iowa 320, 75 N. W. 187; Wilson v. Imboden, 8 La. Ann. 140. See also Harwood v. Wylie, 70 Tex. 538, 7 S. W. 789.

Lapse of time cannot validate letters of administration which were originally void for want of jurisdiction, and evidence showing such want of jurisdiction is admissible in a collateral suit brought after the lapse of twenty years. Holyoke v. Haskins, 5 Pick. (Mass.) 20, 16 Am. Dec. 372, 9 Pick. (Mass.) 259.

A court of equity may enjoin a special administrator whose appointment is void, from acting thereunder. Hussey v. Southard, 90 Me. 296, 38 Atl. 221.

40. Fisk v. Norvel, 9 Tex. 13, 58 Am. Dec. 128. But compare Plume v. Howard Sav. Inst., 46 N. J. L. 211, holding that a grant of administration founded on petition and proofs presenting a colorable case of the decease of the alleged intestate could not be collaterally questioned. It is to be noticed, however, that in this case not only was there no affirmative showing that the alleged decedent was actually alive at the time of the issuance of letters, but there was no reason for even surmising such to be the fact. See supra, I, J, 3, a.

In a grant of temporary administration it is not to be expected, so far as the presumption of death is concerned, that there should be the same certainty as in cases of general administration, and slight proof of death will suffice to preclude a collateral attack on the appointment of such an administrator. Czech v. Bean, 35 Misc. (N. Y.) 729, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 402.

41. Fisk v. Norvel, 9 Tex. 13, 58 Am. Dec. 128.

42. Beasley v. Howell, 117 Ala. 499, 506, 22 So. 989, where the court said: "There cannot be at the same time and in the same jurisdiction two administrations of the same estate, yet this would be the effect if the presumption arising from the second grant was conclusive against the non-existence of any former grant."

43. In re King, 105 Iowa 320, 75 N. W. 187. See also Ex p. Barker, 2 Leigh (Va.) 719.

44. Stewart v. Golden, 98 Ga. 479, 25 S. E. 528 (holding that where letters of administration were granted on the estate of a deceased non-resident, and the administrator, under an order of the court appointing him, sold land as the property of the estate, third persons claiming to own the land, against whom the alleged title acquired at the administrator's sale was being asserted, were entitled to petition the court granting administration to have the judgment granting the letters set aside because void ab initio for want of jurisdiction); Griffith v. Wright, 18 Ga. 173.

45. Breen v. Pangborn, 51 Mich. 29, 16 N. W. 188. See also Buecker v. Carr, 60 N. J. Eq. 300, 47 Atl. 34.

46. State v. Hingle, 50 La. Ann. 683, 23 So. 616.

47. Cable v. Cable, 76 Iowa 163, 40 N. W. 700.

48. Louisiana.— Gusman's Succession, 35 La. Ann. 404.

Mississippi.— Wingate v. Wooten, 5 Sm. & M. 245.

Pennsylvania.— Jakey's Estate, 3 Pa. Dist. 750, 15 Pa. Co. Ct. 377.

South Carolina.— Smith v. Wingo, 1 Rice 287.

Tennessee.— Crozier v. Goodwin, 1 Lea 125.

See supra, I, A, 4, b; I, B, 4, a.

been done the person who was primarily entitled to letters loses his right and cannot subsequently have the appointee removed merely because he becomes prepared to qualify and desires the appointment,[49] nor can he even intervene in a subsequent contest for administration.[50]

N. Termination of Authority[51] — 1. Statutory Limitation. In a few jurisdictions the statutes set a limit for the administration of an estate, whether by an executor or administrator; but extensions are provided for in suitable cases,[52] and it is not readily to be presumed that at the expiration of the period named by statute the estate shall vest immediately by mutation of title in the heirs, as though fully settled, or that the legal representative becomes discharged by operation of law.[53]

2. Final Discharge. Action of the probate court evidenced by order or decree is necessary to close administration and relieve executors or administrators from their responsibility or change their possession as representatives into possession as legatees or distributees.[54] The court has no legal authority to discharge the executor or administrator, pending a complete settlement of the estate, except as the statute may have permitted, and the usual rule is that a representative is not entitled to his final discharge until after full settlement of the estate, including final payment and delivery of all the property by way of distribution to those entitled to the balance, and the rendering and approval of his final accounts.[55]

Court should not wait for complaint. White's Succession, 9 Rob. (La.) 353.

Notice to executor or administrator necessary.—Gusman's Succession, 35 La. Ann. 404; King v. Lastrapes, 13 La. Ann. 582.

A second appointment before the lapse of ten days after the first is null and void under the Louisiana statute providing that whenever an administrator shall suffer ten days to elapse after his appointment without having qualified or caused an inventory to be begun a successor shall forthwith be appointed, etc. Horlor's Succession, 23 La. Ann. 396.

The court may refuse to allow an administrator to qualify where he does not take the oath nor obtain an order for the inventory until more than ten days after the appointment, but if it permits the oath to be taken it is too late to object afterward. Hart's Succession, 7 Rob. (La.) 534.

Where the heirs have consented to the executor's acting without qualifying and he has acted, the fact that he has not qualified within the time limited by statute does not amount to a waiver of his right. Hays v. Vickery, 41 Ind. 583.

49. Williams' Case, 18 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 350.

50. Howard v. Worrill, 42 Ga. 397.

51. Of administrator pendente lite see supra, II, E, 2, c.

Of public administrator see supra, II, G, 6.

52. Deranco v. Montgomery, 13 La. Ann. 513; Furguson v. Glaze, 12 La. Ann. 667; Brown v. Williams, 16 La. 344; Citizens' Nat. Bank v. Sharp, 53 Md. 521; Bayne v. Garrett, 17 Tex. 330; Bartlett v. Cocke, 15 Tex. 471; Moody v. Looscan, (Tex. Civ. App. 1898) 44 S. W. 621. See also Drapean v. St.-Denis, 15 Quebec Super. Ct. 179.

The functions of an administrator do not, like those of an executor, cease at the end of a year, but continue until the administration is finished. Furguson v. Glaze, 12 La. Ann. 667.

A testamentary provision giving an executor five years to wind up the estate has been held not to fix an arbitrary limit beyond which the administration could not extend if necessary, but to have been merely intended as an enlargement of the time allowed by law and an expression of opinion that the estate could not be wound up in less than five years. Ensley v. Ensley, 105 Tenn. 107, 58 S. W. 288.

Duration of extended authority.— An executor who is authorized to act beyond the year and settle the estate may act as long as is necessary for that purpose. Gayoso de Lemos v. Garcia, 1 Mart. N. S. (La.) 324.

53. Citizens' Nat. Bank v. Sharp, 53 Md. 521.

54. In re Scheffer, 58 Minn. 29, 59 N. W. 956. And see Green v. Brown, 146 Ind. 1, 44 N. E. 805.

Conditional order of discharge.— An order discharging an administratrix upon the condition of paying a certain sum to the heirs of the estate and filing vouchers therefor does not, under the statutes of Kansas, effect the discharge until the money is paid and the vouchers filed. Cosgrove v. U. S., 33 Ct. Cl. 167.

When revocation of discharge presumed.— Where an administrator on settlement of his final account was discharged by the probate court, but he was afterward recognized by and acted in such court as administrator, it was held that it was to be presumed, in an action to compel an accounting, that the order of discharge was revoked. Bayne v. Garrett, 17 Tex. 330. See also Poor v. Boyce, 12 Tex. 440; Townsend v. Munger, 9 Tex. 300.

55. California.— Clary's Estate, 112 Cal. 292, 44 Pac. 569.

Colorado.— Green v. Taney, 16 Colo. 398, 27 Pac. 249.

Florida.— Lott v. Meacham, 4 Fla. 144.

3. Final Account and Settlement. The functions of an executor or administrator do not necessarily cease upon a final settlement and approval of his account, but he may if occasion arises pursue his duties further for the benefit of the estate, unless the probate records show a formal discharge from the trust.[56]

Illinois.— People v. Lanham, 189 Ill. 326, 59 N. E. 610 [reversing 91 Ill. App. 101]; Blanchard v. Williamson, 70 Ill. 647; Dunaway v. Campbell, 59 Ill. App. 665.

Louisiana.— Bry v. Dowell, 1 Rob. 111. See also Conery's Succession, 111 La. 113, 35 So. 479.

Nebraska.— Cowherd v. Kitchen, 57 Nebr. 426, 77 N. W. 1107.

New York.— Matter of Van Wyck, 1 Barb. Ch. 565.

Ohio.—Flickinger v. Saum, 40 Ohio St. 591.

Pennsylvania.— Matter of Taggart, 1 Ashm. 321; Wiseman's Estate, 4 Wkly. Notes Cas. 59, 12 Phila. 11; Gready's Estate, 14 Phila. 259. See also Buzby's Estate, 2 Wkly. Notes Cas. 31.

Final accounting of co-administrator.— An administrator who, having been ruled by his co-administrator into a settlement because he had become a non-resident, appears and makes a final settlement of his administration, accounting fully for all assets which had come into his hands, and showing their proper administration, is entitled to a discharge from the trust and all liability on account thereof, so far as his administration is concerned and no further. Jones v. Jones, 42 Ala. 218.

Publication of citation for three months is required in Georgia before final discharge. Anderson v. Seifert, 112 Ga. 912, 38 S. E. 346.

Order of discharge before administration completed.— An order of the probate court, made on what purports to be the settlement of an administrator's final account, directing that he be discharged from his trust, does not extinguish his authority to administer choses in action and other assets belonging to the estate which remain in his hands unadministered, since such an order is not a removal of the administrator for good cause, or an acceptance of his resignation, which are the only methods prescribed by the Ohio statutes by which an administrator's authority may be terminated before the estate is fully administered. Weyer v. Watt, 48 Ohio St. 545, 28 N. E. 670.

Consent of parties interested.— In Pennsylvania it has been held that the petition of an executor or administrator for his final discharge must be accompanied by an agreement in writing of all interested parties consenting to the discharge, and signed, in the case of an administrator, by his sureties. Wiseman's Estate, 4 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 59, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 11.

Insufficient objection see De Berry v. Wootters, (Tex. Civ. App. 1900) 57 S. W. 885.

Conditional order for discharge.— An order directing that an administrator be discharged upon making distribution, and obtaining from the heirs receipts for their respective shares, does not discharge the administrator until the order is made absolute. State v. Walla Walla County Super. Ct., 13 Wash. 25, 42 Pac. 630.

Payment into court.— An order directing that an administrator on payment to the clerk of the court of all moneys of the estate in his hands for distribution shall be entitled to his discharge is erroneous, for the administrator is responsible for the assets in his hands, and so long as he remains in office is entitled to retain them in his possession until disposed of to the parties entitled thereto under the directions of the court, and upon the entry of an order for the payment of the claims against the estate, the administrator becomes liable therefor to the creditors both personally and upon his bond, and cannot escape liability by complying with an order which the court had no power to make. In re Sarment, 123 Cal. 331, 55 Pac. 1015.

56. Whetstone v. McQueen, 137 Ala. 301, 34 So. 229; Ligon v. Ligon, 84 Ala. 555, 4 So. 405; Carter v. Carter, 53 Ala. 365; Simmons v. Price, 18 Ala. 405; Norman v. Norman, 3 Ala. 389; McCrea v. Haraszthy, 51 Cal. 146; Lowry v. Tilleny, 31 Minn. 500, 18 N. W. 452; Francisco v. Wingfield, 161 Mo. 542, 61 S. W. 842; Clough v. Clark, 63 N. H. 403, 1 Atl. 201; Security Trust Co. v. Dent, 104 Fed. 380, 43 C. C. A. 594; Fewlass v. Keeshan, 88 Fed. 573, 32 C. C. A. 8; McClaskey v. Barr, 79 Fed. 408. See also Clay's Estate, 112 Cal. 292, 44 Pac. 569; Barr v. Sullivan, 75 Miss. 536, 23 So. 772; Alexander v. Maverick, 18 Tex. 179, 67 Am. Dec. 693; Denny v. Sayward, 10 Wash. 422, 39 Pac. 119; Hazelton v. Bogardus, 8 Wash. 102, 35 Pac. 602. Contra, Decuir's Succession, 26 La. Ann. 222; Anderson's Succession, 12 La. Ann. 95. And see Vandever's Appeal, 42 Pa. St. 74; Krogman's Estate, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 567.

Representative's liability continues until account settled and estate fully administered. — Wallber v. Wilmanns, 116 Wis. 246, 93 N. W. 47. See also In re Higgins, 15 Mont. 474, 39 Pac. 506, 28 L. R. A. 116.

Order setting aside all property to widow concludes administration. Floyd v. Terrell, 60 Tex. 284.

Ineffective order of distribution.— Where an order of distribution is ineffectual to bind the heirs, the administrator is not thereby discharged. Scruggs v. Scruggs, 105 Fed. 28.

The assumption of possession during the administration by a universal legatee, who is also the testamentary executor, of the property bequeathed to him by the will does not have effect ipso facto of closing the succession and discharging the executor. McNeely v. McNeely, 50 La. Ann. 823, 24 So. 338.

Court cannot discharge representative merely on settlement of final account. Hazlett v. Blakely, (Nebr. 1903) 97 N. W. 808, holding further that, as the trust of an administrator

4. Testacy or Intestacy Apparent After Action Based on Contrary Supposition. The office of an executor ceases when the will is set aside,[57] and the same has been held true of an administrator with the will annexed.[58] On the other hand administration granted on the assumption of intestacy is held in some jurisdictions to be ipso facto superseded by the admission of a will to probate,[59] although the more general view is that the subsequent establishment of a will is only ground for revocation of the letters of administration.[60]

5. Cessation of Reason For Temporary or Special Grant. The powers of a temporary or special administrator are determined when the reason for his appointment ceases to exist and a general administrator is appointed or an executor qualified.[61] In such case it is usually considered by the courts that a formal is an enduring one, his discharge in a decree on final accounting does not destroy the relation, but merely discharges him from liability for the past.

57. Heffner's Succession, 49 La. Ann. 407, 21 So. 905; Clagett v. Hawkins, 11 Md. 381; Schwilke's Appeal, 100 Pa. St. 628; Kilton v. Anderson, 18 R. I. 136, 25 Atl. 907, 49 Am. St. Rep. 751. But compare Morgan v. Dodge, 44 N. H. 255, 82 Am. Dec. 213.

The court may order a delivery of the property of the succession in the hands of the displaced executor to the heirs, and it is no answer to such an order for the executor to avow that he has violated his trust by disposing of the property. Heffner's Succession, 49 La. Ann. 1443, 22 So. 380.

Revocation of will by birth of posthumous child.— Implied revocation of letters testamentary is held to have arisen where after the letters have been issued the birth of a posthumous child revokes the will. Hart v. Hart, 70 Ga. 764.

58. Smith v. Stockbridge, 39 Md. 640; Kilton v. Anderson, 18 R. I. 136, 25 Atl. 907, 49 Am. St. Rep. 751. Contra, Ward v. Oates, 42 Ala. 225 (holding that if the decedent died intestate or the probate of an instrument as his will is void administration with the will annexed would not be void but only voidable); Floyd v. Herring, 64 N. C. 409.

59. Thomas v. Morrisett, 76 Ga. 384; In re Davis, 11 Mont. 196, 28 Pac. 645; Bigelow v. Bigelow, 4 Ohio 138, 19 Am. Dec. 591.

60. Alabama.— Sands v. Hickey, 135 Ala. 322, 33 So. 827; Watson v. Glover, 77 Ala. 323. See also Broughton v. Bradley, 34 Ala. 694, 73 Am. Dec. 474.

Arkansas.— Clark v. Holt, 16 Ark. 257, holding that where letters of administration have been granted on the estate of a decedent, and afterward his will is probated in another state, being that of his domicile, and letters testamentary granted, the letters of administration previously granted are not thereby vacated.

Kentucky.— McChord v. Fisher, 13 B. Mon. 193.

Louisiana.— Dwight v. Simon, 4 La. Ann. 490.

Maryland.— Dalrymple v. Gamble, 66 Md. 298, 7 Atl. 683, 8 Atl. 468.

New York.— Bulkley v. Redmond, 2 Bradf. Surr. 281.

South Carolina.— Moore v. Smith, 11 Rich. 569, 73 Am. Dec. 122.

England.— Jacob v. Allen, 1 Salk. 27. But see Abram v. Cunningham, 2 Lev. 182; Graysbrook v. Fox, Plowd. 275.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 191; and supra, II, B, 1.

Where the deceased left a nuncupative will a general grant of administration upon his estate as in cases of intestacy is voidable and revocable. Jennings v. Moses, 38 Ala. 402.

Rejection of will subsequently proved.— Where a will offered for probate in common form is adjudged not proved and letters of administration issued, and the will is, upon appeal, subsequently proved in solemn form, the letters of administration should be revoked. Kittredge v. Folsom, 8 N. H. 88; Patton's Appeal, 31 Pa. St. 465.

61. Louisiana.— See Hook v. Richardson, 4 La. 569, holding that as the heirs present have a preference in the administration over everyone, the powers of a curator unadvisedly appointed cease when they present themselves.

Maryland.— Ex p. Worthington, 54 Md. 359; State v. Williams, 9 Gill 172.

Missouri.— In re Estes, 65 Mo. App. 38.

New Jersey.— Cole v. Wooden, 18 N. J. L. 15; Woolley v. Pemberton, 41 N. J. Eq. 394, 5 Atl. 139.

New York.— In re Lewis, 17 N. Y. Wkly. Dig. 311, collector.

North Carolina.— Wallis v. Wallis, 60 N. C. 78.

Pennsylvania.— Riegel's Appeal, 2 Pa. Cas. 58, 4 Atl. 173.

United States.— Yeaton v. Lynn, 5 Pet. 224, 8 L. ed. 105.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 188.

A special administrator to collect is usually the mere agent or officer of the court liable to supersedure at any time. Flora v. Mennice, 12 Ala. 836.

If the general appointment is contested and an appeal taken or if otherwise the executor or general administrator is hindered in qualifying and receiving letters, the special appointee is not yet superseded. Briarfield Iron Works Co. v. Foster, 54 Ala. 622.

Qualification necessary.— A special administrator of an estate who is appointed administrator with the will annexed will hold the property and be responsible therefor in his former capacity until the security required of an administrator with the will annexed has been given by him or expressly waived order of removal is not necessary,[62] although the letters are often revoked under such circumstances.[63]

6. Marriage of Executrix or Administratrix. In some jurisdictions the marriage of an executrix or administratrix has the effect of casting the administration upon her husband;[64] but in others the marriage extinguishes her authority,[65] and where this is the case her authority is not revived by her subsequently becoming a widow.[66] A familiar distinction is that, where a feme sole is executrix or administratrix with others and afterward marries, her power is determined; but that, where she is sole administratrix, her power does not determine, but her husband becomes by the marriage jointly interested with her in the trust.[67] In Rhode Island the marriage of an administratrix does not affect her status as such in any way.[68]

7. Death of Representative. The death of an executor or administrator necessarily terminates his functions as such,[69] and, where the representative is a married woman, the right of her husband as such to administer the estate terminates upon her death.[70]

8. Insanity of Representative. The office of executor or administrator may terminate by the insanity of the incumbent.[71]

9. Resignation and Discharge — a. In General. An executor or administrator by the persons in interest. In re Fisher, 15 Wis. 511.

62. Briarfield Iron Works Co. v. Foster, 54 Ala. 622; In re Lewis, 17 N. Y. Wkly. Dig. 311.

63. Morgan v. Dodge, 44 N. H. 255, 82 Am. Dec. 213; Kittredge v. Folsom, 8 N. H. 98; Howell v. Metcalfe, 2 Add. Eccl. 348; In re Metcalfe, 1 Add. Eccl. 343; Pipon v. Wallis, 1 Cas. t. Lee 402; In re Newton, 3 Curt. Eccl. 428; In re Campbell, 2 Hagg. Eccl. 555; Slater v. May, 2 Ld. Raym. 1071, 1 Salk. 42; Freke v. Thomas, 1 Ld. Raym. 667, 1 Salk. 39; Offley v. Best, 1 Sid. 370; Rainsford v. Taynton, 7 Ves. Jr. 460, 32 Eng. Reprint 186.

64. Kavanaugh v. Thompson, 16 Ala. 817; Pistole v. Street, 5 Port. (Ala.) 64; Wood v. Chetwood, 27 N. J. Eq. 311; Hamilton v. Levy, 41 S. C. 374, 19 S. E. 610; Gates v. Whetstone, 8 S. C. 244, 28 Am. Rep. 284; Lindsay v. Lindsay, 1 Desauss. (S. C.) 150.

65. Arkansas.— Whittaker v. Wright, 35 Ark. 511. See also Ferguson v. Collins, 8 Ark. 241.

California.— McMillan v. Hayward, 94 Cal. 357, 29 Pac. 774; Schroeder v. San Mateo Super. Ct., 70 Cal. 343, 11 Pac. 651; Teschemacher v. Thompson, 18 Cal. 11, 79 Am. Dec. 151.

Indiana.— Jenkins v. Jenkins, 23 Ind. 79.

Kentucky.— Duhme v. Young, 3 Bush 343. But compare Carrol v. Connet, 2 J. J. Marsh. 195.

Mississippi.— Yates v. Clark, 56 Miss. 212.

Missouri.— Frye v. Kimball, 16 Mo. 9.

Nevada.— Buckley v. Buckley, 16 Nev. 180.

Ohio.— Matter of Fagin, 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 180, 19 Cinc. L. Bul. 149.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 226.

Proceedings for removal necessary.— The California statute providing that upon the marriage of an executrix "her authority is extinguished" has been construed to mean simply that in such case she becomes incompetent and must be proceeded against for suspension and removal, and not that the marriage deprives her eo instanti of all her powers. Schroeder v. San Mateo Super. Ct., 70 Cal. 343.

Possession after marriage.—While the marriage of an administratrix extinguishes her authority as such, she has the right to retain possession of the property of the estate until the appointment of her successor, or until otherwise ordered by the court. Buckley v. Buckley, 16 Nev. 180.

66. Matter of Fagin, 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 180, 19 Cinc. L. Bul. 149.

67. Alabama.— Dowty v. Hall, 83 Ala. 165, 3 So. 315.

Georgia.— Fields v. Carlton, 84 Ga. 597, 11 S. E. 124.

Kentucky.— Tribble v. Broaddus, 23 S. W. 349, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 324.

Massachusetts.— Barber v. Bush, 7 Mass. 510.

Missouri.— Frye v. Kimball, 16 Mo. 9.

Ohio.— Cadwallader v. Evans, 1 Disn. 585, 12 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 811.

68. Weaver v. Industrial Trust Co., 24 R. I. 35, 51 Atl. 1050.

69. See Forster's Estate, 2 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 206, holding that, when a vacancy in the office of executor or administrator occurs by death, the register may issue new letters without a decree of the orphans' court.

70. Sands v. Hickey, 135 Ala. 322, 33 So. 827; Edmundson v. Roberts, 1 How. (Miss.) 322.

71. See In re Moore, 68 Cal. 281, 9 Pac. 164, holding that under the California statute providing that the office should become vacant on the happening of the incumbent's insanity, "found upon a commission of lunacy issued to determine the fact," the fact that an administrator was sent to an insane asylum by order of a judge of the superior court did not create an entire vacancy in the administration where no commission of lunacy who has once fully accepted and entered upon his trust cannot resign it unless the statute permits him to do so;[72] but in many jurisdictions the statutes permit the resignation of an executor or administrator, usually leaving it within the discretion of the probate court whether or not this shall be allowed in individual cases, and ordinarily requiring a correct settlement of accounts and a transfer of the balance as the court may direct as a condition.[73] Where there is a personal had issued; and that while the administrator became incapable of executing the trust for the time being, and if during the time of his insanity another person entitled to letters had petitioned for them, she would doubtless have received them, yet a petition by such other person presented after the administrator had been restored to sanity and had again entered upon the discharge of his duties as administrator and had been recognized as such by the court and others was too late.

72. Georgia.— See In re Mussault, T. U. P. Charlt. 259.

Massachusetts.— Sears v. Dillingham, 12 Mass. 358.

Minnesota.— Rumrill v. St. Albans First Nat. Bank, 28 Minn. 202, 9 N. W. 731.

New York.— Flinn v. Chase, 4 Den. 85.

North Carolina.— Washington v. Blunt, 43 N. C. 253.

Pennsylvania.—Strobel's Estate, 11 Phila. 122.

South Carolina.— Chapman v. Charleston, 30 S. C. 549, 9 S. E. 591, 3 L. R. A. 311; Haigood v. Wells, 1 Hill Eq. 59.

Wisconsin.—Sitzman v. Pacquette, 13 Wis. 291.

England.— Anonymous, 1 Vent. 335.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 213.

Resignation before taking control.— Aside from statute, an executor or administrator who has already qualified has sometimes been permitted to terminate his trust before he has taken actual possession of the assets or attempted to exercise any control whatever over the estate; in which case the acceptance of his resignation is followed, as usual, by the appointment of a successor; the power in the court to accept the resignation and to make the second appointment under such circumstances being deemed incidents of the power to make the first appointment. Comstock v. Crawford, 3 Wall. (U. S.) 396, 18 L. ed. 34. Due proof should, however, appear that the representative has not received any of the assets. Buckley's Case, 1 Browne (Pa.) 289.

73. Alabama.— Rambo v. Wyatt, 32 Ala. 363, 70 Am. Dec. 544; Driver v. Riddle, 8 Port. 343.

California.— Allen's Estate, 78 Cal. 581, 21 Pac. 426; Haynes v. Meeks, 10 Cal. 110, 70 Am. Dec. 703.

Georgia.— Carter v. Anderson, 4 Ga. 516.

Massachusetts.— Thayer v. Homer, 11 Metc. 104.

Nebraska.— Hazlett v. Blakely, (1903) 97 N. W. 808; Trumble v. Williams, 18 Nebr. 144, 24 N. W. 716.

New Hampshire.— Morgan v. Dodge, 44 N. H. 255, 82 Am. Dec. 213.

North Carolina.— Tulburt v. Hollar, 102 N. C. 406, 9 S. E. 430.

Pennsylvania.— Marley's Estate, 18 Pa. Super. Ct. 303.

Tennessee.— Coleman v. Raynor, 3 Coldw. 25.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 213.

Executor cannot resign without consent of court. Forster's Estate, 2 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 206.

Power to remove includes power to accept resignation. Thayer v. Homer, 11 Metc. (Mass.) 104.

Independent executor may resign. Roy v. Whitaker, 92 Tex. 346, 48 S. W. 892, 49 S. W. 367.

Resignation of co-executor or co-administrator.— Some statutes extend this permission to co-executors or co-administrators, in which case the probate court has discretion to leave the colleague remaining in office sole executor or administrator. Davenport v. Reynolds, 6 Ill. App. 532; Veach v. Rice, 131 U. S. 293, 9 S. Ct. 730, 33 L. ed. 163.

An executor to whose office a trust is attached cannot resign the executorship and retain the trust. Strobel's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 122.

Resignation cannot be accepted until accounts settled.—Haynes v. Meeks, 10 Cal. 110, 70 Am. Dec. 703, holding, however, that improper action of the court in the premises was merely voidable and not void and could not be collaterally attacked. But an administrator who invokes an order accepting his resignation and appointing his successor cannot complain that the order was made before his accounts were settled. In re McDermott, 127 Cal. 450, 59 Pac. 783.

Presumption of acceptance.— Where an executor files his resignation and final account and the court appoints an administrator de bonis non the acceptance of the resignation and the revocation of the letters testamentary will be inferred in the absence of the record or the court minutes. Jennings v. Le Breton, 80 Cal. 8, 21 Pac 1127.

Presumption of delivery of assets.— Where an executor's resignation has been accepted it will be presumed that he complied with the statute requiring him to deliver up all assets in his hands as a condition precedent to his right to resign. Jennings v. Le Breton, 80 Cal. 8, 21 Pac. 1127.

Executor cannot retract resignation. Matter of Beakes, 5 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 128.

Diverse interests.— In a case where a copartner of the testator was appointed one of his executors and unwittingly assumed his duties as such he was held to be entitled trust reposed in an executor under the will, he ought not to be discharged upon the tender of his resignation until he has performed that duty; nor in general ought one's resignation to be accepted on trivial grounds, regardless of the detriment which the estate may suffer in consequence of such action, or the wishes of its beneficiaries.[74]

b. Application and Procedure. The representative desiring to resign should apply to the court which appointed him and in which the administration of the estate is pending,[75] by petition in due form,[76] setting forth his reasons for wishing to be relieved from the trust,[77] and requesting the appointment of some suitable person in his place.[78] It would also seem proper to file an account with such petition.[79] Notice to the parties in interest is necessary unless waived.[80] The acceptance of the resignation is properly in the form of an order[81] made and entered of record.[82]

c. Operation and Effect. The acceptance by the court of an executor's or administrator's resignation or his discharge has in general the effect of a revocation of his letters.[83] Discharge from office by resignation relieves from further responsibility, but not from the consequences of malfeasance and neglect while in office. One cannot by resigning avoid the rendition of judgments or decrees against him in suits already begun, for assets unadministered upon at the time of

to a discharge on a petition by him showing that his interests as partner of the deceased and as fiduciary were diverse. Malone's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 115.

Insufficient grounds of opposition.— The discharge of an executor cannot be resisted by the life-tenant of the estate because he failed to sue for a certain debt due the estate and took credit for certain legal expenses, where it appears that the estate was in no way injured by the neglect to bring suit and that the expenses complained of were occasioned by the life-tenant herself. Marley's Estate, 18 Pa. Super. Ct. 303.

74. Lott v. Meacham, 4 Fla. 144; Matter of Van Wyck, 1 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 565; Baier v. Baier, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 162.

75. Wells v. Houston, (Tex. Civ. App. 1900) 56 S. W. 233, holding that no other court has power to accept the resignation. See also Lunsford v. Lunsford, 122 Ala. 242, 25 So. 171, holding that an executrix appointed by the probate court may at any time file her resignation with such court, although the administration has been removed to the chancery court, since the court from which she received her appointment is the proper tribunal in which to file the resignation.

76. See Balch v. Hooper, 32 Minn. 158, 20 N. W. 124.

77. See Balch v. Hooper, 32 Minn. 158, 20 N. W. 124.

78. See Balch v. Hooper, 32 Minn. 158, 20 N. W. 124.

79. See Balch v. Hooper, 32 Minn. 158, 20 N. W. 124.

80. Head v. Bridges, 67 Ga. 227; Brasfield v. French, 59 Miss. 632. See also Balch v. Hooper, 32 Minn. 158, 20 N. W. 124; Vail v. Male, 37 N. J. Eq. 521, where a decree of the orphans' court discharging an executor on his own application was reversed because it did not appear that any notice was given nor that for any reason it was deemed proper by the orphans' court to dispense with notice.

Giving of proper notice presumed.— Macey v. Stark, 116 Mo. 481, 21 S. W. 1088.

81. See Balch v. Hooper, 32 Minn. 158, 20 N. W. 124.

Order amounting to acceptance.— See Haynes v. Meeks, 10 Cal. 110, 70 Am. Dec. 703.

82. See Balch v. Hooper, 32 Minn. 158, 20 N. W. 124.

83. Upton v. Dennis, 133 Mich. 238, 94 N. W. 728; Balch v. Hooper, 32 Minn. 158, 20 N. W. 124. See infra, II, N, 11, f.

Right of resigning executor to realize on assets.— Where an executor who had deposited bonds with a bank resigned, and a decree was entered charging him with the assets in his possession, including the bonds, and providing that he should be discharged on payment of the money, it was held that, although the bonds would remain assets of the estate until payment of the decree, the resigning executor could recover them from the bank, since he was entitled to realize on them in order to pay the decree, and since his successor could not be entitled to both the bonds and the money. Van Buren v. Cooperstown First Nat. Bank, 53 N. Y. App. Div. 80, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 703 [affirmed in 169 N. Y. 610, 62 N. E. 1101].

Administration de bonis non.— Where an executrix, who was residuary legatee, obtained her discharge without filing or publishing notice of the hearing of her application, and no notice thereof was given to a legatee whose legacy the executrix had failed to pay, such discharge was no bar to the legatee's right to the appointment of an administrator de bonis non. Cole v. Shaw, (Mich. 1903) 96 N. W. 573.

A decree against an administrator who has been discharged by a judgment of the court of ordinary and a successor appointed during the pendency of the cause is a nullity so far as the estate is concerned. Groce v. Field, 13 Ga. 24.

resignation, nor can he thereby escape personal liability for official acts and contracts in his own name.[84]

d. Vacation of Order. An order dismissing an administrator on his own application may be vacated by the court where it has been procured by the fraud of the parties or was irregularly or improvidently passed.[85]

e. Collateral Attack. An order accepting the resignation of an executor or administrator cannot be collaterally attacked.[86]

10. Forfeiture of Office. It has been held that an executor forfeited his trust by joining the Confederate army,[87] and also that he became functus officio by refusing to take the oath of allegiance and going beyond the jurisdiction of the proper authorities.[88] But the office of an administrator is not forfeited by the mere omission to file an account.[89]

11. Revocation of Letters — a. Power to Revoke. The probate court has always exercised a plenary jurisdiction in revoking or vacating its own decrees improperly rendered, and even after the time for an appeal has expired letters testamentary or of administration which have been issued illegally or without jurisdiction may be revoked.[90]

b. Distinction Between Revocation and Removal. Strictly speaking a revocation of letters testamentary or of administration is proper when it is made to appear that for some reason the letters should not have been issued or were improperly issued and were thus either void or voidable ab initio,[91] while removal is proper where the letters were perfectly valid when issued, but some circumstances arising since the issuance of the letters render it improper or unadvisable to continue the person to whom they were issued in office any longer.[92] As a matter of fact, however, this distinction is not observed to any great extent,[93] and many instances may be found in the reports where letters have been

84. Grimball v. Mastin, 77 Ala. 553; Tomkies v. Reynolds, 17 Ala. 109; Starke v. Keenan, 5 Ala. 590; Thomason v. Blackwell, 5 Stew. & P. (Ala.) 181; Gadsden v. Jones, 1 Fla. 332. See also Driver v. Riddle, 8 Port. (Ala.) 343.

85. Collier v. Cross, 20 Ga. 1.

Who may oppose vacation.— A person who had been sued by an administrator has not such an interest in the settlement of the estate as will authorize him to resist an application made to vacate an order discharging the administrator. Edney v. Baum, 59 Nebr. 147, 80 N. W. 502.

86. Luco v. Commercial Bank, 70 Cal. 339, 11 Pac. 650; Trumble v. Williams, 18 Nebr. 144, 24 N. W. 716.

87. Gilbert v. Hebert, 28 La. Ann. 429; Hebert v. Jackson, 28 La. Ann. 377.

88. Vogel's Succession, 20 La. Ann. 81; Poindexter's Succession, 19 La. Ann. 22.

89. McCleland v. Bideman, 5 La. Ann. 563.

90. Massachusetts.— Waters v. Stickney, 12 Allen 1, 90 Am. Dec. 122.

Missouri.— Skelly v. Veerkamp, 30 Mo. App. 49.

New Hampshire.— Morgan v. Dodge, 44 N. H. 255, 82 Am. Dec. 213.

New York.— Kerr v. Kerr, 41 N. Y. 272; In re Wood, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 884; Barber v. Converse, 1 Redf. Surr. 330.

Texas.— Vance v. Upson, 64 Tex. 266.

Statutory authority not necessary.— McCabe v. Lewis, 76 Mo. 296.

Pending an appeal the probate court should not revoke its own letters and make an inconsistent appointment. Gause's Estate, 1 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 105.

Letters should not be revoked except for sufficient cause. Brubaker's Appeal, 98 Pa. St. 21.

This power does not affect the conclusiveness of the decree of a court of probate in any other court nor in any way impair the probate jurisdiction, but it renders that jurisdiction more complete and effectual so as to entitle it better to the confidence of other courts. Waters v. Stickney, 12 Allen (Mass.) 1, 90 Am. Dec. 122.

91. Waters v. Stickney, 12 Allen (Mass.) 1, 90 Am. Dec. 122; Prosser v. Wagner, 1 C. B. N. S. 289, 26 L. J. C. P. 81, 5 Wkly. Rep. 146, 87 E. C. L. 289. See also Curtis v. Williams, 33 Ala. 570, holding that statutory provisions specifying certain causes for which an administrator may be removed do not apply to a case where letters were granted prematurely to a person not primarily entitled thereto or destroy the inherent right of the court to revoke letters improvidently granted.

92. See infra, II, N, 12, b.

93. See In re Rathgeb, 125 Cal. 302, 57 Pac. 1010; In re Kelley, 122 Cal. 379, 55 Pac. 136; Rumrill v. St. Albans First Nat. Bank, 28 Minn. 202, 9 N. W. 731; Matter of Jacob, 5 N. Y. App. Div. 508, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 1083 (where the court held that certain misconduct of executors was sufficient to call for their "removal" and ordered that a motion to "revoke" the letters testamentary should be granted); People v. Hart-

"revoked" when, according to the distinction noted, removal would have been proper.[94]

c. Grounds For Revocation. Letters testamentary or of administration are properly revoked whenever it is made to appear that they were irregularly or improperly granted,[95] and, even though the grant of letters may be void, revocation may still be proper before a new appointment is made, in order to prevent abuses and preserve order in the record.[96] Revocation is proper when it is made to appear that the supposed decedent was living at the time the letters were issued,[97] that his last residence or the situs of his property conferred the whole jurisdiction elsewhere than in the court by which the letters were issued,[98] that the letters were procured by fraud[99] or a false statement or suggestion as to a material fact,[1] that the issuance of letters was premature,[2] improvident,[3] or without authority of law,[4] that letters of administration were issued without regard man, 2 Sweeny (N. Y.) 576; Wilson v. Hoss, 3 Humphr. (Tenn.) 142.

94. Letters have been "revoked" because of the representative's abandonment of his home and business and enlistment in the army (Berry v. Bellows, 30 Ark. 198), embezzlement and breach of trust (In re Walsh, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 251), improvidence and drunken habits (In re Connors, 110 Cal. 408, 42 Pac. 906; Harrison v. Clark, 87 N. Y. 572; Emerson v. Bowers, 14 N. Y. 449), or insanity (see Matter of Taggart, 1 Ashm. (Pa.) 321), and because of a failure to account (In re Stow, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 97; Biddison v. Mosely, 57 Md. 89; Jones v. Jones, 41 Md. 354). A power to revoke for failure to file an inventory within the prescribed time has also been recognized. Graber's Estate, 111 Cal. 432, 44 Pac. 165, holding revocation discretionary with the court under such circumstances. See also infra, notes 16, 17.

95. Massachusetts.—Waters v. Stickney, 12 Allen 1, 90 Am. Dec. 122.

Missouri.— Skelly v. Veerkamp, 30 Mo. App. 49.

New Hampshire.— Morgan v. Dodge, 44 N. H. 255, 82 Am. Dec. 213; Kittredge v. Folsom, 8 N. H. 98.

North Carolina.— Ritchie v. McAuslin, 2 N. C. 220.

England.— Prosser v. Wagner, 1 C. B. N. S. 289, 26 L. J. C. P. 81, 5 Wkly. Rep. 146, 87 E. C. L. 289; Packman's Case, 6 Coke 18*b*, Cro. Eliz. 459; Blackborough v. Davies, 1 Ld. Raym. 684, 1 Salk. 38; Semine v. Semine, 2 Lev. 90; Wilson v. Pateman, Moore 396.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 191.

The fact that an administrator is accountable as trustee for the fund upon which he is required to administer furnishes no sufficient cause for revoking letters granted him before he commits any default in the course of the administration. Ehlen v. Ehlen, 64 Md. 360, 1 Atl. 880.

96. Pruett v. Pruett, 131 Ala. 578, 32 So. 638, holding that it is the duty of the probate court to revoke void letters. See also Gasque v. Moody, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 153; Morgan v. Dodge, 44 N. H. 255, 82 Am. Dec. 213. But compare Caperton v. Ballard, 4 W. Va. 420, holding that a grant of administration void for want of jurisdiction need not be set aside in order to give effect to a grant by a competent tribunal.

97. Duncan v. Stuart, 25 Ala. 408, 60 Am. Dec. 527; In re Napier, 1 Phillim. 83. See supra, I, J, 3, a.

98. Holyoke v. Haskins, 5 Pick. (Mass.) 20, 16 Am. Dec. 372; Cutts v. Haskins, 9 Mass. 543; Johnson v. Corpenning, 39 N. C. 216, 44 Am. Dec. 106; Wilson v. Frazier, 2 Humphr. (Tenn.) 30. See supra, I, J, 4, a, c, d.

Analogous cases in England would be the grant of letters testamentary or of administration by a bishop where there were bona notabilia or by an archbishop where there were none. Allens v. Andrews, Cro. Eliz. 283; Blackborough v. Davies, 1 Ld. Raym. 684, 1 Salk. 38.

99. McArthur v. Matthewson, 67 Ga. 134.

1. Lutz v. Mahan, 80 Md. 233, 30 Atl. 645; Corn's Estate, 9 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 243, 3 How. Pr. N. S. (N. Y.) 357, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 394.

2. Alabama.— Ward v. Cameron, 37 Ala. 691.

Indiana.— Mills v. Carter, 8 Blackf. 203.

Maryland.— Owings v. Bates, 9 Gill 463.

Missouri.— Skelly v. Veerkamp, 30 Mo. App. 49.

Ohio.— Todhunter v. Stewart, 39 Ohio St. 181.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 194.

Where the person entitled fails to apply within the time prescribed by law for a grant of letters, a grant made before the expiration of such time to another person, although premature, will not be revoked. Sowell v. Sowell, 41 Ala. 359.

3. Alabama.— Curtis v. Williams, 33 Ala. 570.

Maryland.— Owings v. Bates, 9 Gill 463.

Massachusetts.— Waters v. Stickney, 12 Allen 1, 90 Am. Dec. 122.

Tennessee.— Wilson v. Hoss, 3 Humphr. 142.

England.— Prosser v. Wagner, 1 C. B. N. S. 289, 26 L. J. C. P. 81, 5 Wkly. Rep. 146, 87 E. C. L. 289.

4. McCabe v. Lewis, 76 Mo. 296.

to the legal priorities[5] without a renunciation of the person primarily entitled[6] or upon a renunciation executed by mistake,[7] that a person having a right to intervene was not cited or cognizant of the proceedings,[8] that the person appointed does not bear the relationship to the decedent which was made the basis of the grant of administration,[9] that administration with the will annexed was granted regardless of the executor's rights,[10] that an administrator de bonis non has been appointed while there was an executor acting with powers not limited by the will,[11] that letters of general administration have been issued when letters de bonis non were proper,[12] that letters have been issued to a disqualified person[13] or one having no right whatever to letters,[14] that no security had been given or that which was given is insufficient,[15] that the representative has since

5. Alabama.— Ward v. Cameron, 37 Ala. 691.

California.— Li Po Tai's Estate, 108 Cal. 484, 41 Pac. 486, 39 Pac. 30 (administration with will annexed); In re Pacheco, 23 Cal. 476.

Indiana.— Mills v. Carter, 8 Blackf. 203.

Massachusetts.— Stebbins v. Lathrop, 4 Pick. 33.

Missouri.— Skelly v. Veerkamp, 30 Mo. App. 49.

New Hampshire.— Munsey v. Webster, 24 N. H. 126.

New Jersey.— Gans v. Dabergott, 40 N. J. Eq. 184. See also Rinehart v. Rinehart, 27 N. J. Eq. 475.

New York.— See Matter of Tyer, 41 Misc. 378, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 934.

Ohio.— Todhunter v. Stewart, 39 Ohio St. 181.

Pennsylvania.— Williams' Appeal, 7 Pa. St. 259; In re Saulnier, 3 Whart. 442; Comfort's Estate, 12 Pa. Co. Ct. 571; Jones' Appeal, 10 Wkly. Notes Cas. 249; McCaffrey's Estate, 4 Phila. 194.

South Carolina.— Rollin v. Whipper, 17 S. C. 32; Thompson v. Hucket, 2 Hill 347.

Tennessee.— Wilson v. Hoss, 3 Humphr. 142.

England.— Copeland v. Simister, [1893] P. 16, 62 L. J. P. & Adm. 38, 68 L. T. Rep. N. S. 257, 1 Reports 469, 41 Wkly. Rep. 269; Anonymous, Het. 48; Price v. Parker, 1 Lev. 157

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 195; and supra, II, B, 2.

Maladministration of appointee not necessary.— Thompson v. Hucket, 2 Hill (S. C.) 347.

Where there has been selection from a class primarily entitled the letters issued ought not to be revoked without good cause. Brubaker's Appeal, 98 Pa. St. 21.

Grant to another at instance of person entitled.— Where at the instance and request of the person entitled to administration letters have been granted to another person who has nearly completed the settlement of the estate, the letters will not be revoked at the instance of the person entitled. Pollard v. Mohler, 55 Md. 284, 290, where the court said: "To revoke letters of administration under such circumstances, would be a fraud upon the rights of an administrator."

6. Gans v. Dabergott, 40 N. J. Eq. 184.

7. Thomas v. Knighton, 23 Md. 318, 87 Am. Dec. 571.

8. Elkins v. Canfield, 5 Mart. N. S. (La.) 505; Gans v. Dabergott, 40 N. J. Eq. 184; Matter of Tyer, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 378, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 934; Proctor v. Wanmaker, 1 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 302; Young v. Holloway, [1895] P. 87, 64 L. J. P. & Adm. 55, 72 L. T. Rep. N. S. 118, 11 Reports 596, 43 Wkly. Rep. 429; Harrison v. Mitchell, Fitzg. 303; Ravenscroft v. Ravenscroft, 1 Lev. 305; Harrison v. Weldon, 2 Str. 911. See supra, II, H, 4.

9. Kerr v. Kerr, 41 N. Y. 272; Stanley v. Stanley, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 416.

10. Thomas v. Knighton, 23 Md. 318; Patton's Appeal, 31 Pa. St. 465; Baldwin v. Buford, 4 Yerg. (Tenn.) 16.

11. Matthews v. Douthitt, 27 Ala. 273, 62 Am. Dec. 765; Creath v. Brent, 3 Dana (Ky.) 129; Springs v. Erwin, 28 N. C. 27; Griffith v. Frazier, 8 Cranch (U. S.) 9, 3 L. ed. 471.

12. Gasque v. Moody, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 153. But see supra, II, D, 1.

13. Carow v. Mowatt, 2 Edw. (N. Y.) 57. But see Sterling's Estate, 9 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 448, holding that where letters testamentary have been issued to a non-resident they cannot be revoked because of his continued non-residence.

14. Curtis v. Williams, 33 Ala. 570; Carew's Case, And. 303; Harrison v. Mitchell, Fitzg. 303.

15. Wingate v. Wooten, 5 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 245; In re O'Brien, 19 N. Y. Suppl. 541, Pow. Surr. (N. Y.) 41; Cottrell v. Brock, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 148; Laird v. Dick, 14 Fed. Cas. No. 7,990, 4 Cranch C. C. 666, holding that letters testamentary, granted without security, agreeably with the will of the testator, may be revoked by the orphans' court upon the petition of creditors.

The administrator should be given an opportunity to perfect his bond or give further security before the letters are revoked on the ground that good security was not required or that the security has afterward become insufficient. Collier v. Kilcrease, 27 Ark. 10; Wingate v. Wooten, 5 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 245.

Letters cannot be revoked pending an appeal from an order requiring further security, on account of the administrator's neglect to comply. Vreedenburgh v. Calf, 9 Paige (N. Y.) 128.

his appointment removed from the state,[16] that the administrator has not given notice to creditors as required by statute,[17] or that the judge who granted the letters was disqualified by interest.[18] Where the estate has not suffered and is not likely to suffer any evil results from the executor's imperfect knowledge of the English language, his letters will not be revoked for that cause.[19]

d. Proceedings — (1) JURISDICTION. The court granting the letters is as a general rule the proper one to revoke them, and proceedings for revocation (appeal not having been resorted to) should be commenced in that court.[20] This

16. Haynes v. Semmes, 39 Ark. 399; McCreary v. Taylor, 38 Ark. 393; In re Kelley, 122 Cal. 379, 55 Pac. 136 (holding that while the phrase "has permanently removed from the state" in the California statute may more properly refer to a resident executor who has permanently removed from the state, the reason for revoking the letters in such case applies equally to a non-resident executor who comes to the state to receive his appointment and then permanently withdraws from the state and remains away); Walker v. Torrance, 12 Ga. 604; Sohn's Estate, 1 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 373.

Removal does not ipso facto vacate letters. Alabama.— Hooper v. Scarborough, 57 Ala. 510.

Arkansas.— McCreary v. Taylor, 38 Ark. 393.

Georgia.—Brown v. Strickland, 28 Ga. 387; Walker v. Torrance, 12 Ga. 604.

Kansas.— Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. McWherter, 59 Kan. 345, 53 Pac. 135.

Missouri.— Chouteau v. Burlando, 20 Mo. 482.

United States.— See Rice v. Houston, 13 Wall. 66, 20 L. ed. 484; Edmonds v. Crenshaw, 14 Pet. 166, 10 L. ed. 402.

17. See Atwood's Estate, 127 Cal. 427, 59 Pac. 770, holding, however, that letters granted to a widow could not be revoked for this reason when the value of the estate was less than fifteen hundred dollars, because of the statutory provision that when the estate did not exceed this amount the whole should be assigned to the widow and there should be no further proceedings in the administration unless further estate was discovered. See infra, IX, D, 5.

18. Koger v. Franklin, 79 Ala. 505; Echols v. Barrett, 6 Ga. 443; Sigourney v. Sibley, 21 Pick. (Mass.) 101, 32 Am. Dec. 248, 22 Pick. (Mass.) 507, 33 Am. Dec. 762; Coffin v. Cottle, 9 Pick. (Mass.) 287; In re Cottle, 5 Pick. (Mass.) 480. See also Whitworth v. Oliver, 39 Ala. 286.

19. Hassey v. Keller, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 577.

20. Alabama.— Pruett v. Pruett, 131 Ala. 578, 32 So. 638.

Illinois.— Marston v. Wilcox, 2 Ill. 60.

Louisiana.—Graham v. Gibson, 14 La. 146; McCombs v. Dunbar, 1 La. 18.

Maryland.— Raborg v. Hammond, 2 Harr. & G. 42.

Mississippi.— Gasque v. Moody, 12 Sm. & M. 153.

New Jersey.— Rinehart v. Rinehart, 27 N. J. Eq. 475, holding that the orphans' court cannot revoke letters granted by the surrogate except when his proceedings are brought before it by appeal, and in certain cases provided by statute.

New York.— Corn's Estate, 9 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 243, 3 How. Pr. N. S. 357, 4 Dem. Surr. 394; Perley v. Sands, 3 Edw. 325; Hood v. Hood, 2 Dem. Surr. 583.

North Carolina.— Ledbetter v. Lofton, 5 N. C. 224.

Oregon.— Henkle v. Slate, 40 Oreg. 349, 68 Pac. 399.

Pennsylvania.— In re McCaffrey, 38 Pa. St. 331; Matter of Taggart, 1 Ashm. 321.

South Carolina.— Thompson v. Hucket, 2 Hill 347.

Tennessee.— Wilson v. Frazier, 2 Humphr. 30.

Virginia.— Hutcheson v. Priddy, 12 Gratt. 85.

Canada.— McPherson v. Irvine, 26 Ont. 438, holding that the high court of justice for Ontario has no jurisdiction to revoke the grant of letters by a surrogate court.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 202.

Court may revoke and grant letters elsewhere during same term. Moore v. Moore, 12 N. C. 352.

Revocation of letters issued pendente lite before contest terminated.— Where suit is brought in a circuit court to contest the validity of a will, the jurisdiction of the court is not original, but derivative, the matter being transferred to that tribunal from the probate court as if on appeal; and hence on the institution of such suit the probate court loses jurisdiction to revoke letters of administration issued pendente lite, and cannot regain such jurisdiction until the result of the will contest had been officially certified to it from the appellate tribunal; and an order revoking such letters, made by the probate court in the interim, is coram non judice and void. State v. Guinotte, 156 Mo. 513, 57 S. W. 281, 50 L. R. A. 787.

The district court has jurisdiction of a suit by a surviving wife, as guardian of her children, to revoke an order granting letters of administration on the estate of her deceased husband, to vacate a judgment allowing a claim against the estate, and to enjoin the administrator from acting as such. Ramirez v. McClane, 50 Tex. 598.

A court of equity has jurisdiction to set aside a grant of letters of administration by the ordinary. McArthur v. Matthewson, 67 Ga. 134; Wallace v. Walker, 37 Ga. 265, 92 Am. Dec. 70.

power is not affected by the pendency of proceedings for relief elsewhere,[21] or by the fact that a court of equity has assumed jurisdiction of the administration of the estate.[22] Where the court of probate is a court of general jurisdiction every presumption is in favor of the jurisdiction until the contrary appears,[23] but where it is a court of limited jurisdiction its jurisdiction to revoke letters testamentary will not be presumed but jurisdictional facts must be averred and proved by the party relying upon the decree of revocation.[24]

(II) TIME FOR APPLICATION. It would seem on principle that where a person entitled to priority in administration must assert such priority within a specified time after the death of the decedent or lose his right, the same limitation of time would apply to an application by him for the revocation of letters granted to another person, on the ground that they were prematurely granted to a person not entitled to priority.[25] But it has been held that the application to revoke letters of administration can be made within the same time after the applicant has knowledge that letters have been granted as that provided by law within which an original application for letters is to be made,[26] and also that a motion to set aside the appointment of an administrator, filed within a reasonable time after the appointment, should be considered when made by one not having had notice of the appointment.[27]

(III) WHO MAY APPLY. While a court of probate jurisdiction may upon its own mere motion institute and carry on proceedings to revoke letters testamentary,[28] the revocation of letters testamentary or of administration can be asked for only by those who are interested in the estate.[29] A person who is entitled to administration in preference to the one who has been appointed has always the right to procure the revocation of the appointment and the issuance of letters to himself,[30] unless his right to do this has been waived or lost by a failure to apply for letters within the time prescribed by law,[31] but revocation on the ground that priorities were not observed can be asked only by one having a right prior to the appointee.[32] Persons entitled to citation or notice in proceed-

21. Hood v. Hood, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 583.

22. Pruett v. Pruett, 131 Ala. 578, 32 So. 638.

23. Langmade v. Hamilton, 89 Ga. 441, 15 S. E. 535.

24. People v. Hartman, 2 Sweeny (N. Y.) 576.

25. See Sowell v. Sowell, 41 Ala. 359; Curtis v. Williams, 33 Ala. 570.

26. Stocksdale v. Conaway, 14 Md. 99, 74 Am. Dec. 515; Edwards v. Bruce, 8 Md. 387 [followed in Clagett v. Hawkins, 11 Md. 381], holding that an application to revoke can be made only within such time.

27. In re McCreight, 9 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 450, 6 Ohio N. P. 479.

28. Gasque v. Moody, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 153; Mecklenburg County Ct. v. Bissell, 47 N. C. 387. See also Jeffersonville R. Co. v. Swayne, 26 Ind. 477.

Revocation may be upon suggestion of amicus curiæ. Gasque v. Moody, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 153. See also Jeffersonville R. Co. v. Swayne, 26 Ind. 477.

29. In re Atwood, 127 Cal. 427, 59 Pac. 770; Woodruff v. Woodruff, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 505.

Assignment of interest — Allegation of fraud. — A widow who has assigned her interest in the estate of the decedent cannot maintain proceedings for the revocation of letters of administration, notwithstanding an allegation that the assignment was procured by fraud, for the question of fraud cannot be tried by the surrogate's court, and until the instrument is set aside for fraud the widow is not a person interested or even contingently interested. Woodruff v. Woodruff, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 505.

A debtor cannot intervene as one interested in mere irregularities of appointment. Drexel v. Berney, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 163.

30. Li Po Tai's Estate, 108 Cal. 484, 41 Pac. 486, 39 Pac. 30 (so holding in a case of a grant of administration with the will annexed); In re Pacheco, 23 Cal. 476; Gans v. Dabergott, 40 N. J. Eq. 184; Rollins v. Whipper, 17 S. C. 32; Wilson v. Hoss, 3 Humphr. (Tenn.) 142.

One who was incompetent when letters were issued to another cannot subsequently obtain a revocation of such letters. Sharpe's Appeal, 87 Pa. St. 163.

31. Alabama.— Sowell v. Sowell, 41 Ala. 359.

California.— In re Keane, 56 Cal. 407.

Maryland.— Ehlen v. Ehlen, 64 Md. 360, 1 Atl. 880.

North Carolina.— Stoker v. Kendall, 44 N. C. 242.

Texas.— Cole v. Dial, 12 Tex. 100.

32. Alabama.— Ward v. Cameron, 37 Ala. 691.

California.— In re Carr, 25 Cal. 585.

Illinois.— Myatt v. Myatt, 44 Ill. 473.

ings for letters testamentary or of administration may ask revocation on the ground that letters were issued without these formalities or prematurely as to them. And the same holds true where a will is admitted to solemn probate in disregard of statute formalities.[33] A creditor of the estate is sometimes given the right to ask for the revocation of letters.[34] It has been asserted that a corporation, against whom an action is being prosecuted by an administrator for injuries causing the death of the intestate, has a right to petition the court for a revocation of the letters of administration.[35]

(IV) PARTIES. The letters cannot be revoked without making the executor or administrator a party to the proceedings.[36]

(V) NOTICE. Ex parte proceedings for the revocation of letters testamentary or of administration are improper,[37] the representative being entitled to citation and notice.[38] But his appearance may be a waiver of citation.[39]

(VI) SUSPENSION. Under a statute providing that the court may suspend the Louisiana.— Saloy's Succession, 44 La. Ann. 433, 10 So. 872.

Mississippi.— Hardaway v. Parham, 27 Miss. 103; Edmundson v. Roberts, 1 How. 322.

New York.— Kelly v. West, 80 N. Y. 139; Quin v. Hill, 6 Dem. Surr. 39, 19 N. Y. St. 830; Stapler v. Hoffman, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 63.

North Carolina.— Mecklenburg County Ct. v. Bissell, 47 N. C. 387.

South Carolina.— De Lane's Case, 2 Brev. 167.

Vermont.—Woodward v. Spear, 10 Vt. 420.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 203.

The nominee of decedent's wife cannot obtain the revocation of letters issued to decedent's brother. In re Shiels, 120 Cal. 347, 52 Pac. 808.

33. Georgia.— Wallace v. Walker, 37 Ga. 265, 92 Am. Dec. 70.

Massachusetts.— Waters v. Stickney, 12 Allen 1, 90 Am. Dec. 122.

New Hampshire.— Morgan v. Dodge, 44 N. H. 255, 82 Am. Dec. 213.

New Jersey.— In re Lawrence, 7 N. J. Eq. 215.

New York.— Kerr v. Kerr, 41 N. Y. 272.

Pennsylvania.—In re McCaffrey, 38 Pa. St. 331.

34. Gillingham's Estate, 10 N. Y. St. 864. See also Curtis v. Burt, 34 Ala. 729; Matter of Stern, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 445, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 204.

A right to administer given to a creditor by statute necessarily includes the right to ask for the revocation of letters prematurely and improvidently issued to another. Curtis v. Williams, 33 Ala. 570.

Court must be satisfied that petitioner is a creditor. In re McCreight, 9 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 450, 6 Ohio N. P. 479.

Surrogate has jurisdiction to determine whether petitioner is a creditor. Gillingham's Estate, 10 N. Y. St. 864.

Who is a creditor of the estate.— One who sold goods to a firm composed of a surviving partner and the executors of a deceased partner, under whose will the executors could devote to the firm business only so much of the estate as was invested in the firm at testator's death, could not apply for revocation of the letters, as he could not sue the executors as such on his claim, but could subject thereto only the particular fund embarked in the business. Matter of Stern, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 445, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 204.

35. Jeffersonville R. Co. v. Swayne, 26 Ind. 477; Mallory v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 53 Kan. 557, 36 Pac. 1059. Contra, Kent v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 6 Mackey (D. C.) 335; Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Jay, 53 Nebr. 747, 74 N. W. 259; Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Bradley, 51 Nebr. 596, 71 N. W. 283.

36. Watson v. Mayrant, 1 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 449.

37. Bieber's Appeal, 11 Pa. St. 157.

38. California.— Schroeder v. San Mateo County Super. Ct., 70 Cal. 343, 11 Pac. 651.

Mississippi.— Gasque v. Moody, 12 Sm. & M. 153; Wingate v. Wooten, 5 Sm. & M. 245.

New York.— People v. Hartman, 2 Sweeny 576.

Pennsylvania.— Schwilke's Appeal, 100 Pa. St. 628; Hostetter's Appeal, 6 Watts 244.

Tennessee.— Wilson v. Hoss, 3 Humphr. 142.

Virginia.— Hutcheson v. Priddy, 12 Gratt. 85.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 207.

Where the representative is a fugitive from justice his letters may be revoked by the surrogate upon petition of a creditor without issuing a citation. Sutherland v. St. Lawrence County, 42 Misc. (N. Y.) 38, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 696.

When notice of order of revocation unnecessary.— Under a statute providing that if sufficient security is not given within the time fixed, the right of an administrator to the administration shall cease, an administratrix who fails to comply with an order requiring her to furnish additional security, and obtains no further time, is not entitled to notice of an order revoking her letters after the limitation has expired. Barrett v. Placer County Super. Ct., (Cal. 1897) 47 Pac. 592.

39. Wilson v. Hoss, 3 Humphr. (Tenn.) 142. But see Briggs v. Westerly Probate Ct., 23 R. I. 125, 50 Atl. 335.

powers of an executor for various causes, and upon so doing must cite the executor to appear and show cause why his letters should not be revoked, it has been held that suspension is not a necessary step toward the revocation of the letters.[40]

(VII) PLEADING. It is necessary in order to a revocation of letters that there should be a petition or complaint,[41] which must state reasons sufficient to warrant such action on the part of the court.[42]

(VIII) TRIAL OR HEARING. Letters can be revoked only for cause shown after due hearing.[43] On the trial the court has power to pass upon all matters brought in issue and properly involved in the questions before it for decision;[44] but it cannot determine matters not involved in the issue,[45] or not affecting the right to letters.[46]

(IX) EVIDENCE. On an application for the revocation of letters the facts necessary to induce the court to act should be made to appear by proof,[47] and a mere statement of such facts in the petition is not to be regarded as evidence thereof.[48]

(X) ORDER OR DECREE. As a rule the order of revocation is not required to be in any particular form, but it is sufficient if it shows a purpose that the powers of the representative shall cease.[49] It is proper to incorporate in a decree of

40. In re Kelley, 122 Cal. 379, 55 Pac. 136.

41. Briggs v. Westerly Probate Ct., 23 R. I. 125, 50 Atl. 335.

One statement of charges sufficient.—When charges sufficient to warrant removal have been formulated in a sworn statement on the basis of which the executor has been suspended and cited to show cause why he should not be removed, there is no reason why they should be afterward reiterated in a separate document. In re Rathgeb, 125 Cal. 202, 52 Pac. 1010.

42. In re Craigie, 24 Mont. 37, 60 Pac. 495.

Sufficiency.— A complaint alleging generally that an administrator failed to administer an estate according to law, and to inventory personalty of the estate, and to wind up the estate within the time prescribed by statute, is sufficient after verdict to support a judgment revoking the letters. Lewellyn v. Lewellyn, 87 Mo. App. 9. But a petition alleging simply that executors are "men of inconsiderable means not themselves transacting any business or having any place of business" is not sufficient to warrant revocation on the ground that the executors' circumstances are such that they do not afford adequate security for the due administration of the estate. Sterling's Estate, 9 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 448. It is not sufficient to allege that the decedent at the time of his death was not a resident of the county in which the administration was granted, for this allegation would not show affirmatively that the ordinary of that county had no jurisdiction, inasmuch as the decedent may have been a non-resident of the state, and may have left property or effects in the county in which administration was granted, so as to invest the ordinary of that county with jurisdiction. Langmade v. Hamilton, 89 Ga. 441, 15 S. E. 535.

43. Schwilke's Appeal, 100 Pa. St. 628.

44. In re Hetherington, 25 N. Y. Wkly. Dig. 4, holding that on an application to revoke letters issued to a widow of the decedent, the surrogate can pass upon the validity of a former marriage of such widow, where the question affects the validity of her marriage with the decedent.

45. In re Neidig, 183 Pa. St. 492, 38 Atl. 1033, holding that where a petition to the register of wills prayed that letters of administration improvidently issued to R be revoked, and in his answer R denied that they were improvidently granted, and averred that those by whom he was nominated were the next of kin of the intestate and that petitioners were not such next of kin as were entitled to administer, it was the register's duty to revoke the letters as soon as it was shown that the persons who nominated R were not the next of kin, and that petitioners were, and it was error to refuse to do so because the next of kin were incompetent to administer.

46. In re King, 105 Iowa 320, 75 N. W. 187, holding that in proceedings to annul letters of administration granted without jurisdiction, the court has no power to pass on the validity of a settlement made by the administrator.

47. Collier v. Kilcrease, 27 Ark. 10; Hassey v. Keller, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 577; Wilson v. Hoss, 3 Humphr. (Tenn.) 142. See also Hood v. Hood, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 392.

48. Holland v. Ferris, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 334; Wilson v. Hoss, 3 Humphr. (Tenn.) 142.

49. Barrett v. Placer County Super. Ct., (Cal. 1897) 47 Pac. 592 (holding that when there has been a failure by an administratrix to comply with an order requiring her to give additional security an order "that the right of the administratrix to the administration of this estate cease" cuts off her powers and ousts her from office); Vosler v. Brock, 84 Mo. 574 (holding that where one of two executors removes from the state, and the court treats the other as the sole testamentary representative of the deceased the former is in effect discharged, although no formal entry of discharge is made); State v. Rucker, 59 Mo. 17 (holding that in the absence of any appeal from the final settlement of an adrevocation an order for the issuance of letters to the persons who are entitled thereto.[50]

(xi) APPEAL. An appeal will lie from a decree revoking letters testamentary or of administration,[51] but can be taken only by parties in interest, or as sometimes recited "aggrieved."[52] An appeal suspends the operation of the decree and leaves the executor or administrator in office as before.[53] On appeal the matter should be tried de novo.[54] Where the appeal was not seasonable or the court of review has not before it all the evidence upon which the revocation was based, or where it does not appear manifest that the probate court abused its discretion or disregarded its duty in the premises, an appellate court is disinclined to reverse the decree rendered below.[55] Where the appeal is dismissed on the sole ground that ministrator made during the non-residence of his co-administrator, an order approving the settlement and completely ignoring the co-administrator has the force and effect of an order revoking his letters); Scott v. Burch, 6 Harr. & J. (Md.) 67 (holding that where counter security has been ordered and not given, an order of the court directing that the intestate's goods be delivered to the surety of the administrator divests and extinguishes the right of the administrator derived from the administration); McLaurin v. Thompson, Dudley (S. C.) 335 (holding that an order granting administration to another person without any other formality is a sufficient judgment of revocation of the authority of the first administrator).

Conditional order of revocation.— An order of the surrogate directing an executor to file a bond contained this provision: "If the said executor fail to execute and file said bond within twenty days . . . it is hereby ordered that the letters testamentary . . . be revoked and annulled." Before the expiration of the twenty days the executor perfected an appeal to the supreme court, and an application was subsequently made for an absolute decree revoking the letters testamentary on the ground that the twenty days had elapsed and no bond had been placed on file. The court refused to enter such order on the ground that if the first order was "a decree revoking letters" no further decree was necessary, while if it was not the appeal had operated as a stay. Halsey v. Halsey, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 196.

Entry not showing revocation.—Acceptance by the probate court indorsed on the resignation of an administrator, and filed, there being no entry in the record of appointments of administrators, etc., and orders relating to the same, and nothing further being done, is not equivalent to an order of removal or revoking the letters. Rumrill v. St. Albans First Nat. Bank, 28 Minn. 202, 9 N. W. 731.

50. In re Neidig, 183 Pa. St. 492, 38 Atl. 1033.

51. Duncan v. Hawks, 18 La. 548; Mullanphy v. St. Louis County Ct., 6 Mo. 563; Schwilke's Appeal, 100 Pa. St. 628; Atkinson v. Christian, 3 Gratt. (Va.) 448.

Order refusing to revoke appealable.— Donaldson v. Lewis, 7 Mo. App. 403. Contra, In re Keane, 56 Cal. 407; Montgomery's Estate, 55 Cal. 210.

52. Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Bennett, 58 Kan. 499, 49 Pac. 606 [affirming 5 Kan. App. 231, 47 Pac. 183]; Forney v. Shriner, 60 Md. 419; In re Henriques, 5 N. M. 169, 21 Pac. 80; Krummel's Estate, 2 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 247.

A corporation against which a right of action is claimed on behalf of the estate may suggest to the probate court the invalidity of the appointment of an executor or administrator, but it cannot appeal from the decision of the court refusing to revoke such appointment. Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Bennett, 58 Kan. 499, 49 Pac. 606 [affirming 5 Kan. App. 231, 47 Pac. 183].

53. Biddison v. Story, 57 Md. 96; State v. Williams, 9 Gill (Md.) 172; Muirhead v. Muirhead, 8 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 211. Contra, Harney v. Scott, 28 Mo. 335.

Appeal from revocation of probate.—An appeal by an executor from an order revoking the probate of the will does not continue the powers of the executor pending the appeal, but the court may appoint a special administrator. Crozier's Estate, 65 Cal. 332, 4 Pac. 109; In re Marsh, (N. J. Prerog. 1903) 55 Atl. 299.

54. Collier v. Kilcrease, 27 Ark. 10; Fitzgerald v. Smith, (Tenn. Sup. 1904) 78 S. W. 1050.

R. I. Gen. Laws (1896), c. 248, § 7, authorizes the appellate court in probate matters to ignore any want of jurisdiction appearing on the face of the papers if the court from which the appeal was taken had jurisdiction in fact, and also authorizes the appellate court in any such matter to enter such decree as the justice of the case may require. Under this statute it has been held that where the municipal court of Providence revoked letters issued by it on the ground that the decedent was not a resident of Rhode Island and had no assets within the state at the time of death, and on the trial in the appellate court the jury found simply that the decedent was at the time of death possessed of personal estate in Rhode Island but the verdict did not show that the decedent left assets in the city of Providence, the appellate court might nevertheless reverse the decree of revocation if the evidence submitted to the jury established the fact that the decedent did leave personal estate in that city. Williams v. Ripley, 25 R. I. 510, 56 Atl. 777.

55. Mitchell v. Duncan, 94 Ala. 192, 10 So. 331; Alexander v. Nelson, 42 Ala. 462; the appellant is not entitled to appeal the decree stands as if not appealed from.[56]

(xii) Costs. The imposition of costs in proceedings to revoke is a matter largely within the discretion of the court.[57]

e. Powers of Representative Pending Proceedings For Revocation. Under a statute providing that, pending proceedings for the revocation of probate, the executor must suspend all proceedings relating to the estate except for the recovery or preservation of property, the collection and payment of debts, and such other acts as he is expressly allowed to perform by an order of the surrogate, the mere fact that the executor, pending such proceedings, has withdrawn or proposes to withdraw from a savings bank money deposited by the testator, affords no warrant for the interposition of the surrogate to restrain him.[58]

f. Effect of Revocation. Where letters testamentary are revoked the appointment of the executor ceases to exist as completely as if he had never been named by the testator.[59] But all bona fide acts done previously by the legal representative in the course of administration remain valid and binding; while on the other hand the revocation of his letters does not shield him from liability for his previous official acts.[60] The representative whose letters have been revoked is entitled to be reimbursed for moneys which he has expended and services which he has rendered in good faith pursuant to his appointment.[61]

g. Issuance of New Letters. Upon the revocation of letters of administration the surrogate is authorized to grant new letters to other persons,[62] but if the estate has been settled or partly settled by the former incumbent the new letters should be de bonis non.[63]

12. Removal — a. In General. An executor or administrator is subject to the jurisdiction of the probate court and may be removed from his office whenever a Delany v. Noble, 3 N. J. Eq. 559; In re O'Brien, 145 N. Y. 379, 40 N. E. 18; Wilkey's Appeal, 108 Pa. St. 567.

56. Cleveland v. Quilty, 128 Mass. 578.

57. In re Page, 107 N. Y. 266, 14 N. E. 193 (holding that where an application for the revocation of letters issued to the public administrator was refused by the surrogate and his order affirmed by the supreme court, but on appeal the court ordered the revocation of the letters, the costs should be paid out of the estate, as the decision in the lower courts afforded fair justification for the public administrator's conduct and his entire good faith was not questioned); In re O'Brien, 19 N. Y. Suppl. 541, Pow. Surr. (N. Y.) 41 (holding that under a statute providing that a proceeding to revoke letters of an executor may be dismissed if a bond be filed "upon such terms as to costs as justice requires," the executors will be adjudged to pay costs where they are largely the result of their unwillingness to furnish a bond).

58. Bray v. Smith, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 168.

59. Matter of Dearing, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 81, where the court refused to reinstate an executor whose letters had been revoked because of his insanity upon his being restored to sanity.

60. Illinois.— Meek v. Allison, 67 Ill. 46.

Mississippi.— Brown v. Hill, 27 Miss. 44.

Missouri.— Schwecke v. Mathias, 8 Mo. App. 569.

New Hampshire.— Kittredge v. Folsom, 8 N. H. 98.

New Jersey.— Smith v. Axtell, 1 N. J. Eq. 494.

Oregon.— Brown v. Brown, 7 Oreg. 285.

South Carolina.— Price v. Nesbit, 1 Hill Eq. 445.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 212.

Distribution with knowledge of will.—An administrator appointed on an affidavit alleging the intestacy of decedent, who, knowing of the existence of a paper purporting to be decedent's will, distributes the estate among the next of kin, cannot be said to have acted in good faith, within the meaning of the statute providing that the revocation of letters shall not affect the validity of any act within the lawful powers of the administrator previously done by him in good faith, even though he had good grounds for supposing that such paper was not legally executed. In re Nesmith, 1 N. Y. Suppl. 343.

Jurisdiction to assess damages on an injunction bond against a public administrator and his sureties is not lost by reason of the revocation of the letters of administration pending the motion to assess such damages, and an order that the "cause now proceed in the name of" the substituted administrator. Nolan v. Johns, 108 Mo. 431, 18 S. W. 1107.

61. Brown v. McGee, 117 Wis. 389, 94 N. W. 363.

62. Gasque v. Moody, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 153.

63. Harrison v. Clark, 87 N. Y. 572. See supra, II, D.

proper occasion arises,[64] and one of two or more joint executors or administrators may be removed, leaving the others in office without him.[65]

b. Grounds. Removal of an executor or administrator is proper whenever from any cause he proves to be incapable of discharging his trust or unsuitable for the office,[66] or such removal becomes advisable for the interest of the estate.[67] Misconduct of the representative is always ground for removal;[68] and he may be

64. Hazlett v. Blakely, (Nebr. 1903) 97 N. W. 808; Greentree's Estate, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 10. See also State v. Pitot, 2 La. 266; Holcomb v. Coryell, 12 N. J. Eq. 289.

Statutes providing for removal are cumulative merely and do not take away any common-law remedy. Thomas v. Hardwick, 1 Ga. 78.

An order requiring additional security, made on the hearing of a petition for the removal of an executor, the further hearing of the matter being postponed, and the executor's compliance with such order, did not oust the court of its jurisdiction to remove him. Shreve v. Wampole, 38 N. J. Eq. 490.

Acts not in fiduciary capacity.— Where the acts complained of for the removal of an executor relate to the realty of the testator held by such executor, not in a fiduciary capacity but as tenant in common with others in his own right as residuary devisee, the remedy is not by removal from the executorship but by severance of the cotenancy by proceedings in partition. Bradley's Estate, 17 Phila. (Pa.) 455.

65. Hesson v. Hesson, 14 Md. 8; Winship v. Bass, 12 Mass. 199.

Cause for such removal would be found in perverse refusal, although ill-will to his associates, to join in some needful act of administration, or the perverse withholding of papers from joint inspection, or assets which ought to be disposed of, or his sole maladministration generally. In re West, 111 N. Y. 687, 19 N. E. 286; Chew's Estate, 2 Pars. Eq. Cas. (Pa.) 153; Bicking's Estate, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 661. See also Seed v. Tait, 9 Quebec 145. But, for mere disagreements between such joint fiduciaries, without misconduct one's removal is not favored. See Bronson v. Bronson, 48 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 481; Oliver v. Frisbie, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 22; Fairbairn v. Fisher, 57 N. C. 390.

66. Alabama.— Forrester v. Forrester, 37 Ala. 398.

Kentucky.— Davenport v. Irvine, 4 J. J. Marsh. 60.

Louisiana.— Rogers v. Morrison, 21 La. Ann. 455.

Massachusetts.— Drake v. Green, 10 Allen 124; Thayer v. Homer, 11 Metc. 104.

New Hampshire.— Morgan v. Dodge, 44 N. H. 255, 82 Am. Dec. 213.

New York.— Matter of Ferrigan, 42 N. Y. App. Div. 1, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 920 [affirmed in 160 N. Y. 689, 55 N. E. 1095]; Shields v. Shields, 60 Barb. 56.

North Carolina.— McFadyen v. Council, 81 N. C. 195.

Pennsylvania.— Simon's Estate, 155 Pa. St. 215, 26 Atl. 424.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 227.

Unsuitableness must exist at the time of removal. The representative cannot be removed simply on proof that he was unsuitable at the time of his appointment and without proof that he continues to be so. Drake v. Green, 10 Allen (Mass.) 124.

Unsuitableness at time of appointment.— An executor or administrator may be removed upon proof of unsuitableness, notwithstanding he was equally unsuitable when appointed or qualified. Drake v. Green, 10 Allen (Mass.) 124. Contra, Lehr v. Tarball, 2 How. (Miss.) 905.

Removal can be only for defined statutory cause. Muirhead v. Muirhead, 6 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 451.

67. In re Wheaton, 37 Misc. (N. Y.) 184, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 938; Fox v. Keister, 9 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 316, 6 Ohio N. P. 327; Morgan's Estate, 26 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 236, 20 Phila. (Pa.) 28; Silberman's Estate, 14 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 259; Greentree's Estate, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 10.

68. In re Hood, 104 N. Y. 103, 10 N. E. 35; Matter of Wallace, 68 N. Y. App. Div. 649, 74 N. Y. Suppl. 33; Matter of Havemeyer, 3 N. Y. App. Div. 519, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 292; Matter of Patterson, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 66, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 649; Matter of Place, 4 N. Y. St. 533.

Active hostility to a creditor constitutes such misconduct as calls for the removal of executors. Matter of Jacob, 5 N. Y. App. Div. 508, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 1083.

An omission to file an inventory is a strong circumstance in support of a charge of improper conduct. Hart v. Ten Eyck, 2 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 62.

Circumstances not showing sufficient misconduct to authorize removal see Jones v. Harbaugh, 93 Md. 269, 48 Atl. 827.

Claiming benefit of improper contract with testator.— The fact that an executor claims the benefit of a contract between himself and the testator as to which there is strong evidence that the testator was of unsound mind at the time of its execution and by which the executor secured great pecuniary advantage to the detriment of the estate is misconduct rendering the executor unfit for the execution of his office, for which he may be removed. Matter of Gleason, 17 Misc. (N. Y.) 510, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 418, holding further that such fact did not render the executor "incompetent" or "disqualified."

Claim of benefit to estate.— An executor cannot be heard to defend against a removal, on the ground that his violation of duty has benefited the estate. Hake v. Stott, 5 Colo.

removed for neglect or refusal to perform the duties of his office,[69] waste,[70] negligence,[71] unfaithfulness,[72] mismanagement,[73] maladministration,[74] or because he has 140. See also In re Marsh, (N. J. Prerog. 1904) 56 Atl. 886.

The fact that the representative has made up the loss sustained by the estate out of his own funds does not relieve him from the effect of his dereliction of duty. In re Marsh, (N. J. Prerog. 1904) 56 Atl. 886.

69. Illinois.— Marsh v. People, 15 Ill. 284.

Massachusetts.— Glines v. Weeks, 137 Mass. 547.

Nevada.— Lucich v. Medin, 3 Nev. 93, 93 Am. Dec. 376.

New York.— In re Wheaton, 37 Misc. 184, 74 N. Y. Suppl. 938.

Oregon.— Knight v. Hamaker, 40 Oreg. 424, 67 Pac. 107; In re Partridge, 31 Oreg. 297, 51 Pac. 82.

Pennsylvania.— In re Kellberg, 86 Pa. St. 129; Brophy's Estate, 12 Phila. 18.

Canada.— Cook v. Banque de Quebec, 2 Quebec Super. Ct. 172.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 229.

A failure to publish notice to present claims as required by statute is such unfaithfulness or neglect as warrants the removal of an administrator. In re Barnes, 36 Oreg. 279, 59 Pac. 464.

Delays or omissions satisfactorily explained are no cause for removal. Harris v. Seals, 29 Ga. 585; Andrews v. Carr, 2 R. I. 117.

A refusal to aid heirs outside the scope of his official duty is no cause for removal. Richards v. Sweetland, 6 Cush. (Mass.) 324.

70. Colorado.— Miller v. Hider, 9 Colo. App. 50, 47 Pac. 406.

Georgia.— In re Mussault, T. U. P. Charlt. 259.

Missouri.— Haynes v. Carpenter, 86 Mo. App 30.

Nevada.— Lucich v. Medin, 3 Nev. 93, 93 Am. Dec. 376.

New Jersey.— Gray v. Gray, 39 N. J. Eq. 332.

New York.— Matter of Fernbacher, 17 Abb. N. Cas. 339, 4 Dem. Surr. 227, holding that where an executrix having a life-estate only in the property wastes it, and co-executors have surrendered it to her, knowing that she intended wasting, all should be removed at the instance of a remainder-man.

Pennsylvania.— Morgan's Estate, 26 Wkly. Notes Cas. 236, 20 Phila. 28; Silberman's Estate, 14 Wkly. Notes Cas. 259.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 245.

71. Lucich v. Medin, 3 Nev. 93, 93 Am. Dec. 376; Knight v. Hamakar, 40 Oreg. 424, 67 Pac. 107, holding that an administrator selling real estate under order of court, and ordered by the court to deliver the deed to the vendee on receipt of the purchase-price, may be removed as being guilty of neglect of his trust in delivering such deed without receiving the purchase-price.

Failure to deposit funds in bank, in connection with other improper acts and omissions, may be sufficient ground for removal. Benton's Succession, 106 La. 494, 31 So. 123.

72. Bicking's Estate, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 661, 15 Pa. Co. Ct. 284 (holding that where an executor, as the result of resentment toward his co-executors, refuses to join in a mortgage for the support of the widow of testator, he may be removed); In re Partridge, 31 Oreg. 297, 51 Pac. 82.

Employment of attorney.— An administrator violates no obligation to his trust by retaining in his service as attorney one who is attorney for one of the heirs in a contest respecting the distribution of the estate, and hence this circumstance does not warrant his removal. In re Healy, 137 Cal. 474, 70 Pac. 455, (1901) 66 Pac. 175.

73. Colorado.— Miller v. Hider, 9 Colo. App. 50, 47 Pac. 406.

Illinois.— Frothingham v. Petty, 197 Ill. 418, 64 N. E. 270.

Missouri.— Lewellyn v. Lewellyn, 87 Mo. App. 9; Haynes v. Carpenter, 86 Mo. App 30.

Nevada.— Lucich v. Medin, 3 Nev. 93, 93 Am. Dec. 376.

New York.— Matter of Heyen, 40 Misc. 511, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 791.

Pennsylvania.— Morgan's Estate, 26 Wkly. Notes Cas. 236, 20 Phila. 28; Silberman's Estate, 14 Wkly. Notes Cas. 259.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 245.

A denial of indebtedness to the estate and refusal to pay is sufficient mismanagement to warrant the removal of an executor where there is evidence to sustain a finding that he is indebted to the estate. Haines v. Christie, 17 Colo. App. 272, 68 Pac. 669. Contra, Molony's Estate, 1 Phila. (Pa.) 294.

A refusal to take proper steps to recover money of the conversion of which during the lifetime of the testator the executor is apprised is such gross mismanagement and waste as warrants the removal of the executor. Haynes v. Carpenter, 86 Mo. App. 30.

Funeral expenses.— That an administratrix incurred a large indebtedness for funeral expenses of her husband does not constitute such mismanagement of the estate as would justify her removal in a suit by creditors. Bloomer's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 30.

74. Fox v. Keister, 9 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 316, 6 Ohio N. P. 327.

Collusive settlement of claim in favor of estate warrants removal. Bozeman v. May, 132 Ala. 233, 31 So. 491.

Continuing decedent's business without authority ground for removal.— Matter of Hutchinson, 10 N. Y. St. 10.

Facts not showing maladministration.— See Fox v. Keister, 9 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 316, 6 Ohio N. P. 327.

Misstatement in petition for sale.— An intentional misstatement of the names of the heirs at law in a petition for the sale of real estate for the purposes of division is not committed or is about to commit a fraud on the estate.[75] The representative may be removed because of his improvidence,[76] incompetency,[77] dissolute or drunken habits,[78] or even because he has removed his residence away from the state in which letters were granted.[79] He should be removed where his personal interests conflict with his official duties,[80] or even where there is such a hostile feeling between him and the beneficiaries as would or might interfere with the proper management of the estate.[81] Removal is proper in case of failure to file a proper such maladministration as authorizes removal. Forrester v. Forrester, 37 Ala. 398.

An isolated act of maladministration will not cause the court to remove an executor when it is proved that he acted in good faith, that no loss is likely to result to the estate from what he did, and that his administration was in all other respects most satisfactory. Devine v. Griffin, 25 L. C. Jur. 249.

75. In re Rathgeb, 125 Cal. 302, 57 Pac. 1010 (holding that under a statute authorizing the removal of an executor for this cause an executor who without sufficient reason asserted title to the property of the estate and refused to inventory it as property of the estate might be removed from office); Fox v. Keister, 9 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 316, 6 Ohio N. P. 327.

76. Emerson v. Bowers, 14 Barb. (N. Y.) 658; Freeman v. Kellogg, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 218.

The fact that a trust in real estate has greatly diminished in value and income while in the hands of an administrator will not warrant his removal as being "improvident." In re Treadwell, 37 Misc. (N. Y.) 584, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 1058.

77. Emerson v. Bowers, 14 Barb. (N. Y.) 658; Fox v. Keister, 9 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 316, 6 Ohio N. P. 327.

Inability to read or write does not of itself show such incompetency as warrants the removal of an administrator (Gregg v. Wilson, 24 Ind. 227), but this taken in connection with other facts showing him to be unsuitable may warrant his removal (Emerson v. Bowers, 14 Barb. (N. Y.) 658).

78. Gurley v. Butler, 83 Ind. 501 (holding habitual drunkenness a sufficient cause for the removal of an administrator without an affirmative showing that he had thereby become incapable of discharging his duties); Fox v. Keister, 9 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 316, 6 Ohio N. P. 327.

79. Matter of McKnight, 80 N. Y. App. Div. 284, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 251; James' Estate, 10 Pa. Co. Ct. 220. See also Scott v. Lawson, 10 La. Ann. 547. But compare Walker v. Torrence, 12 Ga. 604.

A temporary residence outside the state, maintained for the benefit of the health of the executor's family, is not such a removal from the state as to necessitate his removal as executor. Matter of McKnight, 80 N. Y. App. Div. 284, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 251. See also Matter of Magoun, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 352, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 940.

Non-residence at time of grant of letters. — Where the fact that executors lived out of the state was known at the time of granting the letters testamentary, the court should not remove them on account of non-residence, upon the application of a person against whom they have commenced a suit to recover a claim. Wiley v. Brainerd, 11 Vt. 107.

Claim of benefit to estate. — On an application to remove an executor because of his removal from the state and the subsequent resignation of the resident executor, it is no ground for denying the application that the executor who has removed states that he changed his residence to the place where a large portion of the property of the estate was situated for the purpose of managing it to better advantage. Ewing v. Ewing, 38 Ind. 390.

80. California.—Bauquier's Estate, 88 Cal. 302, 26 Pac. 178, 532.

Massachusetts.— Putney v. Fletcher, 148 Mass. 247, 19 N. E. 370; Hussey v. Coffin, 1 Allen 354; Thayer v. Homer, 11 Metc. 104.

New Jersey.— Gray v. Gray, 39 N. J. Eq. 332, holding that evidence of a determination on the part of an executor to invoke the aid of the courts of another state to obtain an allowance of a claim rejected by the court wherein he filed it and which had jurisdiction, afforded grounds for his removal from office, especially where it was otherwise apparent that he had wasted and misapplied the estate.

Oregon.— Marks v. Coats, 37 Oreg. 609, 62 Pac. 488; In re Mills, 22 Oreg. 210, 29 Pac. 443.

Pennsylvania.— In re Kellberg, 86 Pa. St. 129.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 236.

But compare Murray v. Angell, 16 R. I. 692, 19 Atl. 246.

Conflicting interest should clearly appear. Randle v. Carter, 62 Ala. 95; Gray's Estate, 4 Kulp (Pa.) 157.

Claim to property.— Where an administrator claims substantially the whole estate as his property, he should be removed, and the fact that he has given bond, and that the question of title may be settled by the surrogate on the final accounting does not justify his retention, since the heirs are entitled to an administrator who can, if so advised, bring suit against such claimant. Matter of Wallace, 68 N. Y. App. Div. 649, 74 N. Y. Suppl. 33.

81. In re Kellberg, 86 Pa. St. 129; Bicking's Estate, 3 Pa. Dist. 454; In re Pike, 45 Wis. 391. See also Seed v. Tait, 9 Quebec 145.

inventory, accounts, or returns, within the required time or after due citation and order,[82] improprieties in regard to the collection or disposition of the assets,[83] failure to prosecute or defend actions,[84] fraudulent or unjust allowance or payment of claims against the estate,[85] culpable failure to sell or to sell prop-

82. Alabama.— Hubbard v. Smith, 45 Ala. 516; Oglesby v. Howard, 43 Ala. 144. But see Hightower v. Moore, 46 Ala. 466.

Indiana.— Evans v. Buchanan, 15 Ind. 438; Pace v. Oppenheim, 12 Ind. 533.

Louisiana.— Benton's Succession, 106 La. 494, 31 So. 123; Brown v. Ventress, 24 La. Ann. 187.

Massachusetts.—Andrews v. Tucker, 7 Pick. 250.

Mississippi.— Dowdy v. Graham, 42 Miss. 451.

New Jersey.— Gray v. Gray, 39 N. J. Eq. 332.

New York.— Matter of Hickey, 34 Misc. 360, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 844.

North Carolina.— Armstrong v. Stowe, 77 N. C. 360.

Oregon.— In re Barnes, 36 Oreg. 279, 59 Pac. 464; In re Holladay, 18 Oreg. 168, 22 Pac. 750.

Pennsylvania.— Rice's Estate, 14 Phila. 327; Brophy's Estate, 12 Phila. 18.

Texas.— Willis v. Ferguson, 46 Tex. 496.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 233, 241.

Where there is nothing to return it is no cause for removal that he makes no returns. Harris v. Seals, 29 Ga. 585.

Matter for which executor not accountable. — A refusal of an executor to account as to a matter for which he was not accountable is not a sufficient ground for his removal. Matter of Pye, 18 N. Y. App. Div. 309, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 836.

The failure of an executor to include a debt owing by him to the estate in his inventory is not sufficient to justify his removal in the absence of any evidence of a fraudulent intent. Lancaster's Estate, 7 Del. Co. (Pa.) 584.

Special inventory.—The proceedings for the removal of an executor failing to return an inventory of the estate within three months after his qualification, authorized by the Maryland statute, apply only to the ordinary inventory, and not to any special inventory which the court may order, and should not be rigorously construed against an executor so failing, when no damage has resulted from the delay, and satisfactory reasons are given therefor, but an extension of time should be granted him in which to make the return. In re Patten, 7 Mackey (D. C.) 392.

Sufficient excuse for failure to file inventory.— In a proceeding by several co-executrices to remove one of their number for failure to file an inventory within the prescribed time, the excuse of defendant was her sickness, and the failure of her co-executrices to exhibit evidence of assets of the estate in their custody. It was held that the excuse was sufficient, although not made until more than two months after the filing of her co-executrices' inventory. In re Patten, 7 Mackey (D. C.) 392.

Omission not constituting ground for removal.— Where an administratrix was appointed, and the entire personal estate was inventoried and appraised at less than three hundred dollars and was thereupon set off to the wife for the use of herself and family, the fact that it was charged that the administratrix had omitted to conclude certain of the real estate in the inventory was no ground for her removal, as if such was the fact, she might be surcharged therewith in her final account. Bloomer's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 30.

Mere omission to present an account is not ground for removing an administrator, but it must also be shown that he has disobeyed an order of court requiring him to account. Head's Succession, 28 La. Ann. 800.

83. Alabama.— Oglesby v. Howard, 43 Ala. 144.

Louisiana.— Travis v. Insley, 28 La. Ann. 784; Peale v. White, 7 La. Ann. 449.

New Jersey.— Lett v. Emmett, 37 N. J. Eq. 535.

New York.— Campbell v. Allen, 142 N. Y. 484, 37 N. E. 517; Fleet v. Simmons, 3 Dem. Surr. 542; Moore's Estate, Tuck. Surr. 41.

Pennsylvania.— James' Estate, 10 Pa. Co. Ct. 220.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 234.

84. Maryland.— Cox v. Chalk, 57 Md. 569.

Massachusetts.—Glines v. Weeks, 137 Mass. 547; Andrews v. Tucker, 7 Pick. 250.

New York.— Emerson v. Bowers, 14 N. Y. 449.

North Carolina.— Simpson v. Jones, 82 N. C. 323.

Pennsylvania.— In re Kellberg, 86 Pa. St. 129.

Rhode Island.— Andrews v. Carr, 2 R. I. 117.

Virginia.— Reynolds v. Zink, 27 Gratt. 29.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 235.

Failure to prosecute an appeal taken by his predecessor in a suit instituted on behalf of the estate may warrant the removal of an administrator. Matter of Place, 4 N. Y. St. 533.

Failure to prosecute doubtful claims is not ground for removal of an executor, especially if the estate be small and no one will indemnify him for the costs. In re Stow, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 97.

85. Killam v. Costley, 52 Ala. 85; Foltz v. Prouse, 17 Ill. 487; Benton's Succession, 106 La. 494, 31 So. 123; Owens v. Link, 48 Mo. App. 534.

Improper payment of an attorney's fee is not ground for removal. Matter of Welch, 110 Cal. 605, 42 Pac. 1089.

erly,[86] failure to complete administration,[87] squandering or embezzling the estate,[88] or making improper use of property belonging thereto.[89] A representative may be removed for failure to obey an order of court,[90] and a prime cause for removal arises where the representative fails to seasonably comply with an order requiring him to give a bond or increase the security previously given.[91] But the fact that the bond given by an executor or administrator is invalid is no ground for his removal, the most that could be required of him being a new bond.[92] Bankruptcy or insolvency of an executor or administrator is usually considered sufficient to warrant his removal,[93] but it is otherwise of mere poverty or indebtedness to the estate, although even these circumstances taken in connection with others may warrant such action.[94] The court is usually invested with consider-

86. Travis v. Insley, 28 La. Ann. 784; Levering v. Levering, 64 Md. 399, 2 Atl. 1; Haight v. Brisbin, 96 N. Y. 132; In re Parson, 82 Pa. St. 465; Silverthorn v. McKinster, 12 Pa. St. 67; Peck's Estate, 5 Kulp (Pa.) 204; Haslam's Estate, 4 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 526; Morris' Estate, 16 Phila. (Pa.) 344.

87. Moore's Estate, 83 Cal. 583, 23 Pac. 794; Ford v. Ford, 88 Wis. 122, 59 N. W. 464.

88. Levering v. Levering, 64 Md. 399, 2 Atl. 1; Newcomb v. Williams, 9 Metc. (Mass.) 525.

89. Greentree's Estate, 3 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 519, holding that the use of money of the estate by an executor in his own business will warrant his removal.

90. Fuhrer v. State, 55 Ind. 150; Van Dusen's Appeal, 102 Pa. St. 224; Wright v. McNatt, 49 Tex. 425.

A refusal to comply with a void order of sale is not a sufficient ground for removal. Shook v. Zentmyer, 90 Md. 705, 45 Atl. 1006.

91. Kentucky.—Davenport v. Irvine, 4 J. J. Marsh. 60.

Louisiana.— De Flechier's Succession, 1 La. Ann. 20.

Maryland.— Carey v. Reed, 82 Md. 383, 33 Atl. 633.

New Hampshire.— Morgan v. Dodge, 44 N. H. 255, 82 Am. Dec. 213.

New Jersey.— See Shreve v. Wampole, 38 N. J. Eq. 490.

New York.— Postley v. Cheyne, 4 Dem. Surr. 492.

North Carolina.— McFadyen v. Council, 81 N. C. 195.

Pennsylvania.—Hodge's Appeal, 1 Am. L. J. 169.

Texas.— Perkins v. Wood, 63 Tex. 396; Bills v. Scott, 49 Tex. 430.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 232.

Removal pending appeal from order.— Conceding an order requiring an executor to give an additional bond to be appealable, he may be removed for failure to comply with it during the pendency of an appeal by him therefrom, where no supersedeas bond was given. Betts v. Cobb, 121 Ala. 154, 25 So. 692.

No proceedings are necessary to remove an executor who has failed to furnish security, when ordered to do so, as mere failure to furnish the security within the time fixed ipso facto removes the delinquent. Guidry's Succession, 40 La. Ann. 671, 4 So. 893.

Offer to renew.— A public administrator, not otherwise in default, cannot be removed for failure to renew his bond, where he offers to renew it in response to the notice served upon him. Matter of Trotter, 115 N. C. 193, 20 S. E. 443.

92. Barricklow v. Stewart, 31 Ind. App. 446, 68 N. E. 316.

93. Georgia.— In re Mussault, T. U. P. Charlt. 259. And see Gibson v. Maxwell, 85 Ga. 235, 11 S. E. 615.

Louisiana.— Dwight v. Simon, 4 La. Ann. 490, holding further that the administrator's bankruptcy does not ipso facto vacate the office.

New York.— Matter of Truesdell, 40 Misc. 336, 81 N. Y. Suppl. 1038.

Pennsylvania.—Greentree's Estate, 3 Wkly. Notes Cas. 519.

England.— See Bowen v. Phillips, [1897] 1 Ch. 174, 66 L. J. Ch. 165, 75 L. T. Rep. N. S. 628, 4 Manson 370, 45 Wkly. Rep. 286.

Canada.— McIntosh v. Dease, 2 L. C. Rep. 71, where executor has become insolvent and is making away with estate. Aliter, in case of mere insolvency. Lespérance v. Gingras, 15 Quebec Super. Ct. 462.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 244.

Contra.— Schanck v. Schanck, 7 N. J. Eq. 140.

It might be otherwise where the representative, especially if executor, is a man of integrity and the estate is so protected that it cannot suffer loss. Loxley's Estate, 14 Phila. (Pa.) 317.

An executor who is a member of an insolvent firm and who is unable to sustain harmonious relations with his co-executors may be removed. Silberman's Estate, 14 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 259.

Where an executor was insolvent when the will was made, and this was known to the testator, the court refused to remove the executor, but required him to execute a bond for the proper administration of the estate, in default of which he would be removed. McFadyen v. Council, 81 N. C. 195. See also Lancaster's Estate, 7 Del. Co. (Pa.) 584.

94. Shields v. Shields, 60 Barb. (N. Y.) 56; Fairbairn v. Fisher, 57 N. C. 390; Fox v. Keister, 9 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 316, 6 Ohio N. P. 327.

able discretion in determining whether or not an executor or administrator shall be removed,[95] and is reluctant to remove where no strong cause therefor exists and it does not clearly appear that retaining the representative in office will jeopardize the interests of the estate.[96]

c. Proceedings — (i) JURISDICTION. Jurisdiction for the removal of an executor or administrator belongs to the probate court by which he was appointed or qualified and in which the administration of the estate is pending.[97] In general chancery has no power to remove an executor, although in a suitable case it has restrained him from acting and taken the estate out of his hands, placing it in the hands of a receiver.[98]

95. Alabama.— Harris v. Dillard, 31 Ala. 191.

California.— In re Bell, 135 Cal. 194, 67 Pac. 123.

Georgia.— Collins v. Carr, 112 Ga. 868, 38 S. E. 346; Cosby v. Weaver, 107 Ga. 761, 33 S. E. 656. And see Gibson v. Maxwell, 85 Ga. 235, 11 S. E. 615.

Pennsylvania.— Young's Estate, 4 Pa. Dist. 44, 16 Pa. Co. Ct. 54; James' Estate, 10 Pa. Co. Ct. 220; Edward's Estate, 12 Phila. 85.

Texas.— Hall v. Monroe, 27 Tex. 700. But see Willis v. Ferguson, 46 Tex. 496, holding that it was the duty of the court to remove an executrix upon her failure to return an inventory within sixty days of the grant of letters.

Washington.—Clancy v. McElroy, 30 Wash. 567, 70 Pac. 1095.

Wisconsin.— Cutler v. Howard, 9 Wis. 309.

Contra.— Miller v. Hider, 9 Colo. App. 50, 47 Pac. 406, holding that the removal of an administrator can only be for statutory cause and the court can exercise no discretionary power.

96. Willis' Succession, 109 La. 281, 33 So. 314; Matter of Kasson, 46 N. Y. App. Div. 348, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 569; Morgan's Estate, 26 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 236, 20 Phila. (Pa.) 28. See also Jones v. Harbaugh, 93 Md. 269, 48 Atl. 827; Molony's Estate, 1 Phila. (Pa.) 294.

Undoubted proof of his utter improvidence and unfitness for the trust will be required for the removal of an executor. Matter of Johnson, 15 N. Y. St. 752.

A slight departure from duty merely is not sufficient to warrant the removal of an executor, but he should be removed only for some devastavit or other dishonest, corrupt, or improper neglect or maladministration of the estate. McFadyen v. Council, 81 N. C. 195.

Errors of judgment not amounting to malfeasance are not sufficient cause for the removal of administrators. Sparrow's Succession, 39 La. Ann. 696, 2 So. 501.

Errors in accounts or in his construction of the will do not furnish sufficient ground for the removal of an executor unless there is wilful misconduct, waste, or improper disposition of the assets. Witherspoon v. Watts, 18 S. C. 396.

The executor should not be held to any greater diligence, care, foresight, and caution than is usual among ordinarily prudent men in the conduct of their business. McFadyen v. Council, 81 N. C. 195.

Matters occurring prior to the appointment of an administrator and having no connection with the administration can furnish no ground for his removal. Miller v. Hider, 9 Colo. App. 50, 47 Pac. 406, holding that the fact that an administrator, while attorney for his predecessor, was paid an exorbitant fee for his services, was not ground for his removal.

97. Indiana.— Bowen v. Stewart, 128 Ind. 507, 26 N. E. 168, 28 N. E. 73.

Kentucky.—Clemens v. Caldwell, 7 B. Mon. 171.

Louisiana.— Sheppard v. Barron, 28 La. Ann. 799.

Minnesota.— Culver v. Hardenbergh, 37 Minn. 225, 33 N. W. 792.

New York.— Hosack v. Rogers, 11 Paige 603. See also Campbell v. Allen, 142 N. Y. 484, 37 N. E. 517.

North Carolina.— In re Brinson, 73 N. C. 278; Taylor v. Biddle, 71 N. C. 1.

Pennsylvania.—Chew v. Chew, 3 Grant 289.

Tennessee.— McGowan v. Wade, 3 Yerg. 375.

Vermont.— Holmes v. Holmes, 26 Vt. 536.

Wisconsin.— Cutler v. Howard, 9 Wis. 309.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 249.

The supreme court has no power to remove an executor. Greenland v. Waddell, 5 N. Y. St. 835.

The clerk of the superior court cannot, upon the filing of a caveat, remove the executor and appoint a collector for the estate, without a hearing, as his authority is limited to the issuance of an order staying all further proceedings except the preservation of the property and the collection of the debts until a decision of the issue is had. In re Palmer, 117 N. C. 133, 23 S. E. 104.

The parish court has not jurisdiction of a suit to remove an administrator. Only the probate court that appointed can remove him, as such suit is purely probate in its character. Sheppard v. Barron, 28 La. Ann. 799. Contra, Williams' Succession, 26 La. Ann. 207.

98. Holbrook v. Campau, 22 Mich. 288; Bentley v. Dixon, 60 N. J. Eq. 353, 46 Atl. 689; Bolles v. Bolles, 44 N. J. Eq. 385, 14 Atl. 593; Leddel v. Starr, 19 N. J. Eq. 159; Hosack v. Rogers, 11 Paige (N. Y.) 603; Ex p. Galluchat, 1 Hill Eq. (S. C.) 148.

(II) DIRECT PROCEEDINGS NECESSARY. Removal cannot be demanded by way of opposition or indirect procedure, but it must be by direct proceedings against the incumbent of the office.[99]

(III) WHO MAY APPLY. While an executor or administrator may sometimes be removed by the court on its own motion,[1] an application for such removal can be made only by a person interested in the estate.[2] But application may be made by any person interested;[3] such as the widow of decedent,[4] an heir or distributee,[5] legatee or devisee,[6] a co-executor or co-administrator,[7] a surety on the representative's bond,[8] or a creditor of the estate.[9] A person who might otherwise be

Even if a court of chancery has power to remove an executor or administrator, only an extreme case will justify its exercise. Kidd v. Bates, 124 Ala. 670, 27 So. 491. See also Randle v. Carter, 62 Ala. 95.

99. Guilbeau's Succession, 25 La. Ann. 474; Boyd's Succession, 12 La. Ann. 611.

1. Crawford v. Tyson, 46 Ala. 299; In re Kelley, 122 Cal. 379, 55 Pac. 136; In re Partridge, 31 Oreg. 297, 51 Pac. 82.

Proceeding not instituted for purpose of removal.— Where an administrator files his final account, and asks to be discharged, and the court removes him for sufficient cause, although not in a proceeding instituted directly for that purpose, the decree will not be disturbed. In re Partridge, 31 Oreg. 297, 51 Pac. 82.

2. Godwin v. Hooper, 45 Ala. 613; Vail v. Givan, 55 Ind. 59; Williams' Succession, 22 La. Ann. 94; McLaurin v. McLaurin, 106 N. C. 331, 10 S. E. 1056. But see In re Kelley, 122 Cal. 379, 383, 55 Pac. 136, holding that under the California code providing that an executor may be suspended "whenever . . . from his own knowledge, or from credible information," the judge of the superior court learns that there is cause for such action, it is immaterial that the person petitioning therefor has no interest in the estate.

Debtor to estate cannot apply.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Gould, 64 Iowa 343, 20 N. W. 464.

The public administrator has no authority in law to invoke the removal of an executor or administrator of a succession. Burnside's Succession, 34 La. Ann. 728.

Guardian of infants.— An application for the removal of an administrator cannot be made by a guardian in his own name. The proper mode of proceeding in such a case is in the name of the infants by the guardian or next friend. Blackman v. Davis, 42 Ala. 184. But see McComas v. Ronquillo, 4 La. Ann. 123.

3. Knight v. Hamakar, 40 Oreg. 424, 67 Pac. 107; In re Partridge, 31 Oreg. 297, 51 Pac. 82; Perrett's Estate, 14 Pa. Super. Ct. 611.

4. Evans v. Buchanan, 15 Ind. 438.

Waiver of right to administer.— Where a widow fails to take out letters of administration within six months, as required by statute, her right to priority is considered to be waived, it is improper to remove, on her petition, an administrator appointed after such time. Withrow v. De Priest, 119 N. C. 541, 26 S. E. 110.

5. Burnside's Succession, 34 La. Ann. 728; Reed v. Crocker, 12 La. Ann. 445; Overton v. Overton, 10 La. 472; In re Partridge, 31 Oreg. 297, 51 Pac. 82.

6. Burnside's Succession, 34 La. Ann. 728; Newhouse v. Gale, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 217; Barnes v. Brown, 79 N. C. 401.

An assignee of a legatee or devisee may apply. Yeaw v. Searle, 2 R. I. 164.

Denial of existence of legatee.— Where the assignee of one claiming to be a legatee seeks the removal of an executor, the executor cannot, by denying the existence of such a person as the legatee named in the will, and by asserting that the proceeding is in effect one to enforce payment of a legacy, oust the surrogate of jurisdiction. Susz v. Forst, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 346.

7. Vail v. Givan, 55 Ind. 59; Hesson v. Hesson, 14 Md. 8; In re Wheaton, 37 Misc. (N. Y.) 184, 74 N. Y. Suppl. 938. But see Dowdy v. Graham, 42 Miss. 451.

The executors of a deceased co-executor cannot apply for the removal of the surviving executor from office. Shook v. Shook, 19 Barb. (N. Y.) 653.

8. Vail v. Givan, 55 Ind. 59.

A surety cannot merely for his own relief ask the removal of the administrator without proof of mismanagement. Girardey v. Dougherty, 18 Ga. 259.

9. Louisiana.— Burnside's Succession, 34 La. Ann. 728; Carroll v. Huie, 21 La. Ann. 561.

Massachusetts.— Brachett v. Williams, 110 Mass. 549.

New York.— In re Wheeler, 46 Hun 64.

North Carolina.—Barnes v. Brown, 79 N. C. 401.

Oregon.—Knight v. Hamakar, 40 Oreg. 424, 67 Pac. 107.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 248.

An attorney who has performed services for the deceased and thus acquired a claim against the administrator which may upon the approval of the court at the final settlement become a valid claim against the estate has an interest therein sufficient to authorize him to petition for the removal of the administrator, notwithstanding the fact that he is not a creditor of the estate until his claim is approved. Knight v. Hamakar, 40 Oreg. 424, 67 Pac. 107.

One whose claim as a creditor is denied cannot disturb an administration in which those interested have acquiesced. Connolly's Succession, 5 La. Ann. 753.

entitled to insist upon removal of an executor may by his conduct become estopped to do so.[10]

(iv) Time For Application. An application for the removal of an executor or administrator must be made within a reasonable time or in some jurisdictions within a time fixed by statute, and an application made later will not be effective.[11]

(v) Citation and Notice. Due service of citation should be made upon the party complained of, or such other precaution taken as the court may order so as to give the latter due notice and a fair opportunity to make defense, unless he appears voluntarily.[12]

(vi) Pleading. There should be a petition,[13] showing that the court has jurisdiction of the cause of complaint and power to grant the relief which is sought in the manner and form prayed for,[14] and that the applicant has a real and existing interest in the decedent's estate,[15] alleging some one or more of the statutory causes for the removal of the representative,[16] and asking that he be

10. Jones v. Harbaugh, 93 Md. 269, 48 Atl. 827, holding that where the sole distributee of an estate induces the administrator to make a distribution before the time for filing claims has expired, which he is under no obligation to do, and whereby he assumes a risk, and the distributee agrees that the administrator may retain a certain compensation for services of himself and his attorney, the distributee cannot afterward insist on the removal of the administrator on the ground of fraud in retaining such agreed compensation.

11. Miller v. Hider, 9 Colo. App. 50, 47 Pac. 406; Tuohay v. Public Administrator, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 412; Mayes v. Houston, 61 Tex. 690.

12. Alabama.— Crawford v. Tyson, 46 Ala. 299.

District of Columbia.— In re Patten, 7 Mackey 392.

Georgia.— Girardey v. Dougherty, 18 Ga. 259.

Illinois.— Hanifan v. Needles, 108 Ill. 403 [affirming 11 Ill. App. 303] (holding that the county court has no power to remove an executor on a citation to appear and settle his accounts, without giving him any notice of the intention to remove him); Munroe v. People, 102 Ill. 406.

Indiana.— Crabb v. Atwood, 10 Ind. 331.

Kentucky.— Murray v. Oliver, 3 B. Mon. 1.

Louisiana.— Guilbeau's Succession, 25 La. Ann. 474; White's Succession, 9 Rob. 353.

Mississippi.— Wingate v. Wooten, 5 Sm. & M. 245.

New York.— Kelly v. West, 80 N. Y. 139; Matter of Engelbrecht, 15 N. Y. App. Div. 541, 44 N. Y. Suppl. 551; Matter of Wadsworth, 2 Barb. Ch. 381.

North Carolina.— Trotter v. Mitchell, 115 N. C. 190, 20 S. E. 386.

Oregon.— In re Partridge, 31 Oreg. 297, 51 Pac. 82.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 251.

Notice waived by voluntary appearance.— Ferris v. Ferris, 89 Ill. 452.

13. Guilbeau's Succession, 25 La. Ann. 474; Matter of Engelbrecht, 15 N. Y. App. Div. 541, 44 N. Y. Suppl. 551.

The petition must be supported by affidavit or testimony before a citation can issue thereon. Moorhouse v. Hutchinson, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 429.

14. Cohen's Appeal, 2 Watts (Pa.) 175.

15. Vail v. Givan, 55 Ind. 59, holding this to be necessary where the applicant is not a co-administrator or surety on the administrator's bond.

A creditor seeking the removal of another creditor who has been appointed administrator and the appointment of himself as being the principal creditor must plead the facts that make him such; a general averment that he is such is not enough. Cusick v. Hammer, 25 Oreg. 472, 36 Pac. 525.

Sufficiency of allegation.— An allegation that petitioner had obtained a judgment against the estate for —— dollars and —— cents is too vague and indefinite to show that he has any interest in the estate. Vail v. Givan, 55 Ind. 59.

16. Vail v. Givan, 55 Ind. 59.

General charge of waste and mismanagement sufficient.— Miller v. Hider, 9 Colo. App. 50, 47 Pac. 406. Contra, Fox v. Keister, 9 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 316, 6 Ohio N. P. 327, holding that facts constituting mismanagement must be alleged.

Statement of belief.— An affidavit upon which an application is based for requiring an executor to give bond or for his removal is insufficient if it states merely a belief that such executor will misapply the funds which may come into his hands; it should set out the facts or circumstances or state the reasons upon which such belief is grounded. Neighbors v. Hamlin, 78 N. C. 42. See also Atkinson v. Striker, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 261.

The strict rules of pleading are not to be applied to petitions to a probate court; and where by fair and reasonable intendment it appears that executors or administrators are conducting themselves to the injury of the beneficiaries or heirs at law of an estate the petition will be sufficient. Treat's Appeal, 40 Conn. 288.

Sufficiency.— Where a complaint alleges generally that an administrator failed to administer an estate according to law, and to removed.[17] The petition should be verified.[18] An answer and other pleadings necessary to form an issue may be filed.[19]

(VII) SUSPENSION. Where on a petition for the removal of an administrator for misfeasance and malfeasance, the facts alleged are denied by the administrator, the court is not required, under the California statute, to make an order of suspension until the truth of the allegations has been established.[20]

(VIII) TRIAL OR HEARING. Before an executor or administrator is removed he must be accorded a hearing,[21] which should be a distinct and separate proceeding from the settlement of his accounts.[22] A demurrer to a petition to remove should be passed on before hearing the cause on its merits and allowing an appeal.[23] The issues are to be tried by the court and the administrator is not entitled to demand a jury.[24] A reference may be ordered to obtain needed information on questions of fact involved.[25] Where the representative admits and attempts to excuse the matters because of which his removal is asked, the court may properly determine the case without evidence.[26] An order of the inventory personalty of the estate, and to wind up the estate within the time prescribed by statute, it charges mismanagement for which an administrator may be removed. Lewellyn v. Lewellyn, 87 Mo. App. 9. A bill by residuary distributees against the executor, the widow, and a third person, which alleges that the executor is unfaithful to his trust, and that he is controlled by a desire to unfairly protect and promote the interests of the other defendants, to the injury of plaintiffs, and that his relations with plaintiffs are such that they dare not confer with him, lest any information they might impart would be used to their disadvantage, and that, controlled by these influences, he will make no effort to require the other defendants to account for money possessed by decedent at his death, and which it is distinctly charged they took and appropriated to their own use, states a case for equitable relief, notwithstanding interrogatories are propounded which defendants are justified in declining to answer as criminating. Dulaney v. Smith, 97 Va. 130, 33 S. E. 533.

Waiver of objection.— An objection that a petition for removal of an administrator does not allege that his neglect has resulted or will result in loss to petitioners, or set out the facts showing that petitioners are creditors of the estate, or that the person whom the court is asked to appoint administrator is a resident of the county, is waived by the administrator appearing and submitting an excuse, without objection to the sufficiency of the petition. In re Barnes, 36 Oreg. 279, 59 Pac. 464.

17. Vail v. Givan, 55 Ind. 59.

18. Vail v. Givan, 55 Ind. 59.

Amendment.— Where heirs filed a petition denying the validity of a claim allowed, and asking the removal of the administrator, a subsequent motion that the allowance of the claim be set aside, and that the administrator be removed, while irregular, was an amendment of the petition, and did not require verification. Riordan v. White, 42 Iowa 432.

19. McFadden v. Ross, 93 Ind. 134. See also Moore's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 5, 19 Pa. Co. Ct. 208. But compare Williams v. Tobias, 37 Ind. 345.

A denial on information and belief, in the answer, of charges that the administrator made certain admissions showing disobedience of an order of court, may be stricken out as such matters are presumptively within defendant's knowledge. Knight v. Hamakar, 40 Oreg. 424, 67 Pac. 107.

Allegations which are immaterial or not responsive to the petition will be stricken out. Knight v. Hamakar, 40 Oreg. 424, 67 Pac. 107.

Answer after reversal on appeal.— Where an application was filed to remove an administrator, and, no answer being filed, the court refused the motion, and the order was reversed on appeal, and the case remanded, the court had power to allow the administrator to answer. Patterson v. Wadsworth, 94 N. C. 538.

20. Healy's Estate, 137 Cal. 474, 70 Pac. 455.

21. Partridge's Estate, 31 Oreg. 297, 51 Pac. 82. See also Moore's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 5, 19 Pa. Co. Ct. 208, holding that an executrix who fails to file an answer to a petition for a decree for her dismissal cannot be summarily dismissed by the entry of a decree pro confesso against her, but the proper proceeding is to enter a decree that the petition be taken pro confesso, and then to take testimony to prove the facts alleged in the petition before an examiner, after which a final decree dismissing her may be entered.

22. In re McIntire, 1 Alaska 73.

23. In re McIntire, 1 Alaska 73.

24. In re Doyle, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 68. But see Capwell v. Murphy, 21 R. I. 262, 43 Atl. 32.

25. Matter of Hale, 45 N. Y. App. Div. 578, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 596, holding further, however, that it is improper to insert, in an order of reference made by a surrogate on his own motion on application to remove an executor, a recital that the petitioner has an unbarred claim; this and other questions being for the determination of the surrogate on the coming in of the referee's report.

26. McFadden v. Ross, 93 Ind. 134, where removal was asked because of the failure of the representative to file an inventory and reports.

probate court removing an executor, made, not at a regular term, but at a special term to which the cause had not been adjourned or appointed, is void.[27]

(IX) EVIDENCE. The person seeking the removal of an executor or administrator must establish the existence of the facts relied upon for such removal,[28] and any proper evidence which tends to establish or refute the charges relied on is admissible.[29]

(X) ORDER OR DECREE. The only judgment which a court can render in proceedings to remove an executor or administrator is one either removing or refusing to remove him.[30] In the former case the intent to remove must be apparent.[31]

(XI) APPEAL AND REVIEW. Any one aggrieved may appeal from the decree of the court making or refusing to make the removal,[32] but the appeal must be

27. Boynton v. Nelson, 46 Ala. 501.

28. Gregg v. Wilson, 24 Ind. 227.

Sufficiency of evidence as to interest.— An order of the county court allowing certain attorney fees against an estate which is not set aside, modified, or reversed is sufficient evidence of the attorney's interest in the estate to support a petition to remove the administrator thereof. Knight v. Hamakar, 40 Oreg. 424, 67 Pac. 107.

Evidence of neglect held sufficient to authorize removal see Knight v. Hamakar, 40 Oreg. 424, 67 Pac. 107.

29. See Betts v. Cobb, 121 Ala. 154, 25 So. 692, holding that on the hearing of an application to remove an executor for misconduct, evidence that he has disposed of lands of the estate without authority from the probate court is admissible.

Derogatory questions asked one of the petitioners for removal as a witness de bene esse in an action in another court, not available to executrix in resistance of her removal, should be stricken out. Matter of Magoun, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 352, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 940.

30. Williams v. Tobias, 37 Ind. 345.

31. See Karn v. Seaton, 62 S. W. 737, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 101, holding that where the court ordered an administrator to execute a new bond on or before a certain day, and in case of his failure to do so "to cease in the further discharge of his duties as administrator," he continued, notwithstanding his failure to execute bond by the time fixed, to be administrator until the court made an order removing him.

32. Alabama.— See Holtzclaw v. Ware, 34 Ala. 307.

Alaska.— In re McIntire, 1 Alaska 73.

Arizona.— See In re Baldridge, 2 Ariz. 299, 15 Pac. 141.

California.— See In re Healy, (1901) 66 Pac. 175. Contra, as to order refusing to remove. In re Moore, 68 Cal. 394, 9 Pac. 315.

Georgia.— See Walker v. Maddox-Rucker Banking Co., 97 Ga. 386, 23 S. E. 897.

Illinois.—See Witter v. Witter, 65 Ill. App. 335.

Indiana.— See McFadden v. Ross, 93 Ind. 134.

Iowa.— See In re Moore, 103 Iowa 474, 72 N. W. 674.

Kentucky.— See White v. Brown, 7 T. B. Mon. 446.

Louisiana.— Bedford's Succession, 38 La. Ann. 244.

New York.—Matter of Thompson, 11 Paige 453. Contra, Rogers v. Hosack, 18 Wend. 319, refusal to remove.

Ohio.—See In re Still, 15 Ohio St. 484. But compare Munger v. Jeffries, 10 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 12, 7 Ohio N. P. 55, holding that one not interested in the estate otherwise than as executor is not prejudiced by an order for his removal so as to enable him to present error in the common pleas.

Pennsylvania.— Simon's Estate, 155 Pa. St. 215, 26 Atl. 424.

Rhode Island.— O'Rourke v. Elsbree, 11 R. I. 430.

Vermont.— In re Bellows, 60 Vt. 224, 14 Atl. 697.

Wisconsin.— Bailey v. Scott, 13 Wis. 618.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 259.

Appointment of successor.— The administrator may appeal from a further order appointing another person to succeed him in the administration of the succession, which appeal will be treated as auxiliary to the first. Bedford's Succession, 38 La. Ann. 244.

Inadmissible objection.— Where an executrix petitioned for the removal of her co-executor, and the petition was granted, and both were dismissed, the co-executor on appeal cannot object to the dismissal of the executrix. Simon's Estate, 155 Pa. St. 215, 26 Atl. 424.

Appeal-bond.— On appeal from an order removing an administrator, the appeal-bond must be filed in the county court. Witter v. Witter, 65 Ill. App. 335.

Parties.— The county judge and county clerk are not proper parties to an appeal from an order removing an administrator. Witter v. Witter, 65 Ill. App. 335.

Record.— Under the California code providing that in proceedings for the removal of an administrator the petition and answer must be in writing, a record on appeal is properly authenticated, although the petition, answer, and order are not incorporated in the bill of exceptions, where the same are in the record certified to by the clerk. In re Healy, (Cal. 1901) 66 Pac. 175.

Review on appeal when error proper.— Where a judgment of the probate court removing an executor is tried in the common taken within the time allowed by statute.[33] The evidence offered to the court below ought to be shown on the record.[34] An appellate court is disinclined to interfere with the action taken by the probate court in the matter of the removal of an executor or administrator unless positive error or gross abuse of discretion is shown.[35] The appellate court does not acquire jurisdiction to appoint or remove, but if a removal is necessary, it must, after determining the question presented by the record, issue a procedendo to the probate court requiring it to appoint some proper person to administer the estate.[36] The authority of a representative is suspended, pending an appeal from an order removing him,[37] and he is not authorized to proceed with the administration,[38] even though he has given an appeal-bond;[39] but he is merely suspended from office and no general administrator can be appointed in his stead, but a special one only.[40] When the right to certain legacies has been established by a decree properly rendered, the court may order their payment by administrators appointed during the pendency of an appeal from an order removing the executor.[41]

(XII) COSTS. The costs of proceedings to remove should not be allowed against the estate when the application is made by persons having no right to apply,[42] and when the charges on which removal is asked are not sustained, costs should not be allowed to both parties against the estate.[43] An executrix has been personally charged with the costs of proceedings to remove her when it was apparent that she had carelessly and wastefully managed the estate and was not a fit person to be executrix.[44]

d. Operation and Effect. The removal of an executor or administrator deprives him of the right to do anything further with respect to the administra-pleas on appeal, when it could only be heard on error, the proceedings in the common pleas are void for want of jurisdiction, and the reversal of such judgment does not operate to reinstate the executor. Walker v. Webb, 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 568, 4 West. L. Month. 32.

33. Holtzclaw v. Ware, 34 Ala. 307; White v. Brown, 7 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 446.

34. Flora v. Mennice, 12 Ala. 836; In re Moore, 103 Iowa 474, 72 N. W. 674.

35. Arizona.—In re Baldridge, 2 Ariz. 299, 15 Pac. 141.

California.— In re Healy, 137 Cal. 474, 70 Pac. 455, 66 Pac. 175; In re Bell, 135 Cal. 194, 67 Pac. 123; Deck v. Gherke, 6 Cal. 666.

Indiana.— McFadden v. Ross, 93 Ind. 134; Whitehall v. State, 19 Ind. 30.

New York.— Matter of Wood, 70 Hun 230, 24 N. Y. Suppl. 64.

Ohio.— Munger v. Jeffries, 10 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 12, 7 Ohio N. P. 55.

Pennsylvania.— Perrett's Estate, 14 Pa. Super. Ct. 611.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 259.

Where no exception was taken in the court below by an administrator to an order removing him he must be deemed on appeal by him to have acquiesced therein. Ex p. Simpson, 55 Ind. 415.

36. Pearce v. Lovinier, 71 N. C. 248.

37. Knight v. Hamakar, 33 Oreg. 154, 54 Pac. 277, 659.

Protection of estate from waste.— Pending an appeal from a decree of the orphans' court removing an executor the prerogative court has power to make proper orders to protect the estate from waste, and can resort to the evidence in the transcript to determine whether the case requires the exercise of the power. In re Marsh, (N. J. Prerog. 1903) 55 Atl. 299.

An administrator pendente lite may be appointed by the prerogative court pending an appeal from a decree removing an executor. In re Marsh, (N. J. Prerog. 1903) 55 Atl. 299, where, however, the court held the circumstances not such as to call for such an appointment.

38. Walker v. Maddox-Rucker Banking Co., 97 Ga. 386, 23 S. E. 897; State v. Judge Second Dist. Ct., 5 La. Ann. 518, holding that an administrator who has been dismissed cannot take a suspensive appeal from the order of dismissal, although he may from such part of the judgment as condemns him in pecuniary damages.

39. Walker v. Maddox-Rucker Banking Co., 97 Ga. 386, 23 S. E. 897.

40. California.— In re Moore, 86 Cal. 72, 24 Pac. 846.

Georgia.— Walker v. Maddox-Rucker Banking Co., 97 Ga. 386, 23 S. E. 897.

Louisiana.— Townsend's Succession, 37 La. Ann. 405.

New York.— Matter of Wood, 70 Hun 230, 24 N. Y. Suppl. 64.

Vermont.— Banfill v. Banfill, 27 Vt. 557.

41. Bowers v. Emerson, 14 Barb. (N. Y.) 652.

42. Shook v. Shook, 19 Barb. (N. Y.) 653.

43. Matter of Engelbrecht, 15 N. Y. App. Div. 541, 44 N. Y. Suppl. 551.

44. Matter of Stanton, 2 N. Y. Suppl. 342, 1 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 108.

tion or settlement of the estate.[45] He should settle his accounts in court and turn over the estate in suitable condition to his successor or to the court without delay, and the court has jurisdiction to compel him to do so.[46] An order of removal cannot be collaterally attacked.[47]

III. ASSETS.

A. In General — 1. What Are Assets. The word "assets," in both English and American law, usually applies to such property belonging to the estate of a deceased person as may rightfully be charged with the obligations which his executor or administrator is bound to discharge. In modern practice, and conformably to modern legislation, all the property of a deceased person, whether real, personal, or mixed, is held liable for his debts and the usual charges incidental to death and the settlement of his estate; but a fundamental distinction has always been recognized between the real and personal estate, in the application of this rule, for the personal estate left by the deceased constitutes the primary fund for the payment of his debts and all purposes of administration and his real estate is merely a secondary fund, which is not available for assets until the personalty has been exhausted leaving obligations still undischarged; nor is it avail-

45. Collins v. Greene, 67 Ala. 211; Dunham v. Grant, 12 Ala. 105; Davenport v. Irvine, 4 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 60. See also Townsend's Succession, 37 La. Ann. 405.

Consent of successor.— Where foreclosure of a mortgage by advertisement was commenced by an administrator, who, pending the proceedings, was removed and a special administrator appointed, but the former administrator completed the proceedings by a sale, it was held that, it not appearing that the special administrator objected to the sale, it would be assumed that it was with his approbation and consent, and therefore valid. Baldwin v. Allison, 4 Minn. 25.

An executor who is also a trustee under the will may be removed as trustee and still exercise the office of executor. Deraismes v. Dunham, 22 Hun (N. Y.) 86.

Where an administrator took a note payable to himself in compromise of a claim due the estate he could sue on the note in his own name after his removal until discharged from liability. McGehee v. Slater, 50 Ala. 431.

Judgment against representative after removal.— After the removal of an administrator from his trust he ceases to have any connection with the estate and no judgment rendered against him while removed can bind the estate or have any validity as evidencing the existence of a claim against the estate. More v. More, 127 Cal. 460, 59 Pac. 823: Troy Nat. Bank v. Stanton, 116 Mass. 435. But if the suit was commenced before his removal, the judgment would be binding on him personally, notwithstanding his removal pending the suit, whether or not such judgment would have any validity as against the assets of the estate. Gibbs v. Hodge, 65 Ala. 366.

Where an administrator is removed after recovering judgment in a suit against a debtor of the estate, and the sheriff has collected the money on the execution upon the judgment, he is entitled to receive the money so collected nevertheless, and to demand it on motion in his own name. Gray v. Keill, 14 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 186.

46. Arkansas.— West v. Waddill, 33 Ark. 575.

Louisiana.— Overton v. Overton, 10 La. 472.

New Jersey.— Aldridge v. McClelland, 34 N. J. Eq. 237. See also Union Nat. Bank v. Poulson, 31 N. J. Eq. 239.

New York.— In re Hood, 104 N. Y. 103, 10 N. E. 35.

Ohio.— Morrison's Estate, 68 Ohio St. 252, 67 N. E. 567.

Pennsylvania.—Schlecht's Estate, 2 Brewst. 397.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 260.

Court may settle accounts without appointing successor. Prentiss v. Weatherly, 68 Hun (N. Y.) 114, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 680.

Court may appoint temporary or special administrator to take immediate charge. De Flechier's Succession, 1 La. Ann. 20.

Form of judgment.— Where an administrator is removed, and a judgment is entered against him for the amount due to the estate in the form of an order to pay the amount over to his successor, the judgment should be against him as an individual and in favor of the estate. McDonald v. Holdom, 99 Ill. App. 656.

47. Alabama.— Boynton v. Nelson, 46 Ala. 501.

Florida.— Mathews v. Durkee, 34 Fla. 559, 16 So. 411. See also Hart v. Bostwick, 14 Fla. 162.

Illinois.— Frothingham v. Petty, 197 Ill. 418, 64 N. E. 270.

Minnesota.— Simpson v. Cook, 24 Minn. 180, holding this to be true even though the decree states a reason for the discharge, which is not under the statute cause for discharge.

Pennsylvania.— Buehler v. Buffington, 43 Pa. St. 278.

Texas.— Grant v. McKinney, 36 Tex. 62.

able at all, without proceedings which courts of equity pursue with strict care and even reluctantly.[48]

2. Legal and Equitable Assets. A distinction has been drawn, particularly in the English law of administration, between legal and equitable assets of an estate; legal assets being those which a creditor may subject to his claim in a court of law, and equitable assets being those which a creditor can subject to his claim only by resorting to a court of equity.[49] The point of the distinction was this, that with regard to the legal assets certain rules of preference or priority among creditors were clearly established, but equity disapproved of those rules and ranked all debts alike, whether founded in specialty or simple contract, and hence the distinction between legal and equitable assets was important in determining rights of creditors among themselves.[50] In the United States, however, the distinction between legal and equitable assets is rarely enforced, the old rules of priority among creditors having been altered by suitable enactments and general rules providing the order in which creditors shall be entitled to share in all assets of the estate regardless of whether they might be strictly termed legal or equitable.[51]

B. Personal Property — 1. In General. The personalty of the deceased goes primarily to the executor or administrator as assets and not to the heir,[52]

48. Schouler Ex. § 198.

49. Schouler Ex. § 221. And see the following cases:

Connecticut.— Catlin v. Eagle Bank, 6 Conn. 233.

Kentucky.— Cloudas v. Adams, 4 Dana 603.

Mississippi.— Pulliam v. Taylor, 50 Miss. 551.

Missouri.— St. Louis v. O'Neil Lumber Co., 114 Mo. 74, 21 S. W. 484; Heiman v. Fisher, 11 Mo. App. 275.

New York.— Matter of Place, 7 N. Y. Leg. Obs. 217.

South Carolina.— Rutledge v. Hazlehurst, 1 McCord Eq. 466.

United States.— Backhouse v. Patton, 5 Pet. 160, 8 L. ed. 82.

England.— Deg v. Deg, 2 P. Wms. 412, 24 Eng. Reprint 791.

Moneys received from the sale of personal property are sometimes called "legal assets," while those arising from the sale of real property are "equitable assets." Blackhouse v. Patton, 5 Pet. (U. S.) 160, 8 L. ed. 82. See also Speed v. Nelson, 8 B. Mon. (Ky.) 499; Bain v. Sadler, L. R. 12 Eq. 570, 40 L. J. Ch. 791, 25 L. T. Rep. N. S. 202, 19 Wkly. Rep. 1077. But compare Lovegrove v. Cooper, 2 Smale & G. 271.

Conversion of real estate into equitable assets was effected where a testator subjected his whole estate to the payment of his debts and empowered his executors to sell his land and convey to the purchaser. Black v. Scott, 3 Fed. Cas. No. 1,464, 2 Brock. 325.

The interest which a creditor has in land of his debtor fraudulently conveyed is of a legal not of an equitable character. Pulliam v. Taylor, 50 Miss. 551. See also Orendorf v. Budlong, 12 Fed. 24.

For English decisions as to whether particular assets are legal or equitable see In re Burrell, L. R. 9 Eq. 443, 39 L. J. Ch. 544, 22 L. T. Rep. N. S. 263; Barker v. May, 9 B. & C. 489, 4 M. & R. 386, 17 E. C. L. 223; Clay v. Willis, 1 B. & C. 364, 2 D. & R. 539, 1 L. J. K. B. O. S. 144, 8 E. C. L. 156; Christy v. Courtenay, 26 Beav. 140; Nash v. Bryant, 25 Beav. 533, 4 Jur. N. S. 550, 27 L. J. Ch. 748, 6 Wkly. Rep. 573; Batson v. Lindegreen, 2 Bro. Ch. 94, 29 Eng. Reprint 55; Lucas v. Calcraft, 1 Bro. Ch. 134, 28 Eng. Reprint 1034; Lowe v. Peskett, 16 C. B. 500, 1 Jur. N. S. 1049, 24 L. J. C. P. 196, 3 Wkly. Rep. 481, 81 E. C. L. 500; In re Poole, 6 Ch. D. 739, 46 L. J. Ch. 803, 37 L. T. Rep. N. S. 119, 25 Wkly. Rep. 862; Shakels v. Richardson, 2 Coll. 31, 33 Eng. Ch. 31; Lyon v. Colville, 1 Coll. 449, 28 Eng. Ch. 449; Mutlow v. Mutlow, 4 De G. & J. 539, 61 Eng. Ch. 426, 45 Eng. Reprint 209; Cook v. Gregson, 3 Drew 547, 2 Jur. N. S. 510, 25 L. J. Ch. 706, 4 Wkly. Rep. 581; Price v. North, 5 Jur. 1147; Duignan v. Croome, 41 L. T. Rep. N. S. 672; Cox's Case, 3 P. Wms. 341, 24 Eng. Reprint 1092; Lovegrove v. Cooper, 2 Smale & G. 271; Hanley v. McDermott, Ir. R. 9 Eq. 35.

50. Benson v. Le Roy, 4 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 651; Schouler Ex. § 221.

51. Lash v. Hauser, 37 N. C. 489; Matter of Sperry, 1 Ashm. (Pa.) 347.

Proceeds of the sale of real estate are equitable assets. Speed v. Nelson, 8 B. Mon. (Ky.) 499; Clay v. Hart, 7 Dana (Ky.) 1.

52. Alabama.— Huddleston v. Huey, 73 Ala. 215; Randall v. Lang, 23 Ala. 751; Snodgrass v. Cabaniss, 15 Ala. 160.

Illinois.— Wells v. Miller, 45 Ill. 382.

Indiana.— Pond v. Sweetser, 85 Ind. 144.

Kansas.— Presbury v. Pickett, 1 Kan. App. 631, 42 Pac. 405.

Kentucky.— Brunk v. Means, 11 B. Mon. 214; Coons v. Nall, 4 Litt. 263.

Michigan.— Hollowell v. Cole, 25 Mich. 345.

Missouri.— Smith v. Denny, 37 Mo. 20.

New York.—Rockwell v. Saunders, 19 Barb. 473. See also Matter of McCabe, 84 N. Y. App. Div. 145, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 180 [affirmed in 177 N. Y. 584, 69 N. E. 1126].

North Carolina.— Foster v. Cook, 8 N. C. 509.

and the title of the representative relates back to the time of the decedent's death.[53]

2. PERSONAL ASSETS ENUMERATED. The executor or administrator becomes vested with the title to all corporeal personal property or things in possession and visible and tangible,[54] such as cash,[55] household provisions, if of appreciable value,[56] furniture,[57] wearing apparel, where no rights of widow or children are involved,[58] jewels,[59] cattle,[60] tools and implements,[61] merchandise or stock in trade,[62] and standing timber specifically reserved in a bill of sale.[63] The representative is also vested with the title to incorporeal property or things in action, whether evidenced by any written instrument or not,[64] such as corporate stock,[65] municipal or other corporate securities,[66] notes or bonds,[67] debts due to the Ohio.— Luce v. McDonald, Wright 654; In re Sattler, Ohio Prob. 183.

South Carolina.— Kaminer v. Hope, 9 S. C. 253.

Texas.— Richardson v. Vaughn, (Civ. App. 1893) 22 S. W. 1112.

United States.— Bodemuller v. U. S., 39 Fed. 437; Kidder v. U. S., 19 Ct. Cl. 561; Chaplin v. U. S., 19 Ct. Cl. 424.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 279.

53. Bullock v. Rogers, 16 Vt. 294; Engle v. Richards, 28 Beav. 366, 6 Jur. N. S. 117, 8 Wkly. Rep. 697.

54. See Bullock v. Rogers, 16 Vt. 294.

A graveyard monument sold to decedent in his lifetime is part of the assets of his estate, and may be sold on the application of creditors to pay debts. Matter of Willard, 9 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 824.

Letters.— The receiver of letters has but a qualified property in them. They pass to the executor or administrator but not in the full sense of assets. Eyre v. Higbee, 35 Barb. (N. Y.) 502.

Personal property of widow.— The executor of a deceased husband cannot recover from the widow the value of presents to her by her husband and others or articles owned by her in her own right at the time of the marriage. Huey v. Huey, 26 Iowa 525.

55. Schouler Ex. § 200.

Where an administrator has charged himself with funds, the prima facie presumption is that such funds are assets belonging to the estate of the decedent, and the orphans' court has jurisdiction over them. Fague's Estate, 19 Pa. Super. Ct. 638.

Money of testator received during his lifetime.— Where it appears that an executor received payment on one of testator's notes before testator's death, and there is no evidence to show payment over to the testator, the executor will be held liable. Hill v. Fly, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1899) 52 S. W. 731.

Confederate treasury notes, having been issued in violation of law, cannot be considered as forming part of a decedent's estate. Cockburn v. Wilson, 20 La. Ann. 39.

56. Griswold v. Chandler, 5 N. H. 492. Aliter under Indiana statute. Coffinberry v. Madden, 30 Ind. App. 360, 66 N. E. 64, 96 Am. St. Rep. 349.

57. Schouler Ex. § 200.

58. Steen's Estate, 1 Pa. Co. Ct. 473. But see Carroll v. Connet, 2 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 195.

Wearing apparel of married woman.— An executor should not be charged with the wardrobe of testatrix, where it is not shown how she acquired it, the presumption being that the husband gave it to her, and hence that the title remained in him. In re Hall, 70 Vt. 458, 41 Atl. 508.

59. Coffinberry v. Madden, 30 Ind. App. 360, 66 N. E. 64, 96 Am. St. Rep. 349, holding that a watch, chain, and charm, a ring, and a diamond stud worth five hundred dollars were not within the meaning of a statute providing that wearing apparel of the decedent should not be considered assets.

60. Schouler Ex. § 200.

61. Schouler Ex. § 200.

62. Schouler Ex. § 200.

63. McClintock's Appeal, 71 Pa. St. 365.

64. See Bullock v. Rogers, 16 Vt. 294.

Estate pur autre vie.—Under the Kentucky statute an estate held by a deceased person for the life of another goes to the personal representative of the deceased as assets, and should be applied as personal estate. Fox v. Long, 8 Bush (Ky.) 551.

The benefit of a license to keep a cart is personalty and belongs to executor. Hunt v. Hunt, 2 Vern. Ch. 83, 23 Eng. Reprint 663.

65. Weyer v. Franklin Second Nat. Bank, 57 Ind. 198; Hobbs v. Western Nat. Bank, 12 Fed. Cas. No. 6,551*a*; Drybutter v. Bartholomew, 2 P. Wms. 127, 24 Eng. Reprint 668; Bligh v. Brent, 2 Y. & C. Exch. 268.

Under a mere contract to deliver stock or bonds it is the right of action under the contract that constitutes assets. Hitchcock v. Mosher, 106 Mo. 578, 17 S. W. 638.

66. Chapman v. Charleston, 30 S. C. 549, 9 S. E. 591, 3 L. R. A. 311.

67. Illinois.—Hickox v. Frank, 102 Ill. 660.

Kansas.— Presbury v. Pickett, 1 Kan. App. 631, 42 Pac. 405.

Mississippi.— Morse v. Clayton, 13 Sm. & M. 373.

Tennessee.— Martin v. Stovall, 103 Tenn. 1, 52 S. W. 296, 48 L. R. A. 130.

Texas.— Whithed v. McAdams, 18 Tex. 551.

Where notes are delivered to an executor to indemnify the estate against a liability arising from the testator being a surety such notes and the money collected on them are not the property of the estate and the estate is not liable for the misconduct of the execu-decedent,[68] the good-will of a business, with the books, addresses, etc., incident thereto,[69] and patent rights or copyrights.[70] Tolls received from a ferry after the death of one of the owners of the exclusive ferry privilege are funds in the hands of his administrator and liable for his debts.[71] The income of a trust fund invested in real estate for decedent's benefit should be treated as assets going to the executor.[72] A liquor license has been held not an asset of the estate of the deceased licensee.[73]

3. Income, Increase, and Accretions. Personal assets are not necessarily restricted to personalty which the deceased owned in his lifetime, but embrace also the proper and just earnings, income, increase, accretions, and accessions of and to those assets, even after the death of the decedent.[74]

4. Legacies and Distributive Shares. A legacy due one under a will without restriction, or the share of a residuary legatee or distributee in an unsettled estate, goes upon his death before receiving payment to his executor or administrator, as the proper representative to collect and receive the fund, irrespective of the persons who may finally inherit;[75] and the same is true as to any portion of a tor with respect to such notes and money. Arbuckle v. Tracy, 15 Ohio 432.

68. See infra, III, B, 5.

Proceeds of a sale of coal made in the lifetime of the testator become personalty passing to his executors. In re Brown, 27 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 228.

69. Thompson v. Winnebago County, 48 Iowa 155; Matter of Randell, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 652, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 29; Reilly's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 252. See also In re Mueller, 190 Pa. St. 601, 42 Atl. 1021; In re Buck, 185 Pa. St. 57, 39 Atl. 821, 64 Am. St. Rep. 616.

The subscription list and good-will of a printing office are not assets, as they are of inappreciable value and of too uncertain and contingent a nature to be the subject of appraisement and estimation. Seighman v. Marshall, 17 Md. 550.

The good-will of an inn is local, and does not exist independently of the house in which it is kept. Hence where a husband kept a tavern in his wife's house, and she became his administratrix upon his death, and continued to keep the tavern, and subsequently sold the good-will, the price of such good-will was not assets of his estate. Elliot's Appeal, 60 Pa. St. 151. But compare Worral v. Hand, Peake 74.

70. Bradley v. Dull, 19 Fed. 913; Shaw Relief Valve Co. v. New Bedford, 19 Fed. 753.

A right to use a patent or copyright, although styled a license, goes to the licensee's estate as assets, unless clearly a personal license. Oliver v. Morgan, 10 Heisk. (Tenn.) 322.

71. Schonberg's Succession, 28 La. Ann. 137.

72. Fassitt's Estate, 2 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 571.

73. In re Mueller, 190 Pa. St. 601, 42 Atl. 1021; In re Buck, 185 Pa. St. 57, 39 Atl. 821, 64 Am. St. Rep. 816; In re Grimm, 181 Pa. St. 233, 37 Atl. 403; Blumenthal's Petition, 125 Pa. St. 412, 18 Atl. 395. Contra, Reilly's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 252.

74. Illinois.— Wingate v. Pool, 25 Ill. 118.

Indiana.— Ray v. Doughty, 4 Blackf. 115.

Massachusetts.— Johnson v. Bridgewater Iron Mfg. Co., 14 Gray 274, dividends of stock and coupon warrants.

New Jersey.— In re Merchant, 39 N. J. Eq. 506 [affirmed in 41 N. J. Eq. 349, 7 Atl. 633], lambs born and wool shorn from a flock of sheep.

Pennsylvania.— Sweigart v. Berk, 8 Serg. & R. 308.

England.— Gibblett v. Read, 9 Mod. 459.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 279.

75. Alabama.— Bromberg v. Sands, 127 Ala. 411, 30 So. 510; Sullivan v. Lawler, 72 Ala. 68.

Arkansas.—Purcelly v. Carter, 45 Ark. 299.

Florida.— Bluett v. Nicholson, 1 Fla. 384.

Georgia.— Blair v. Dickerson, 73 Ga. 146.

Indiana.— See Turner v. Campbell, 34 Ind. 317.

Iowa.— Rhodes v. Stout, 26 Iowa 313.

Louisiana.— Marcenaro v. Mordella, 10 La. Ann. 772.

Maine.— Grant v. Bodwell, 78 Me. 460, 7 Atl. 12; Storer v. Blake, 31 Me. 289.

Maryland.— Hanson v. Hanson, 4 Gill 69; Duvall v. Harwood, 1 Harr. & G. 474.

Massachusetts.— Gale v. Nickerson, 151 Mass. 428, 24 N. E. 400, 9 L. R. A. 200; Osgood v. Foster, 5 Allen 560.

Missouri.— Hanenkamp v. Borgmier, 32 Mo. 569.

New Hampshire.— Weeks v. Jewett, 45 N. H. 540.

New Jersey.—Shaver v. Shaver, 1 N. J. Eq. 437. See also Cohen v. Moss, (Ch. 1894) 29 Atl. 194.

New York.— In re Murphy, 144 N. Y. 557, 69 N. E. 691; Berkeley v. Kennedy, 62 N. Y. App. Div. 609, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 762; Sterrit v. Lee, 44 N. Y. App. Div. 619, 60 N. Y. Suppl. 219; Matter of Maybee, 40 Misc. 518, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 809; Beecher v. Crouse, 19 Wend. 306; Smith v. Lawrence, 11 Paige 206.

Pennsylvania.— In re Moran, 13 Pa. Super. Ct. 251; Wagner's Estate, 2 Pa. Dist. 238; Parson's Estate, 13 Phila. 406; Levy's Estate, 6 Phila. 122; Kemp's Estate, 2 Woodw. Dec. 428.

legacy or distributive share remaining unpaid at the death of the heir or legatee.[76] Where, however, there are no creditors of the heir, legatee, or distributee, and no claim of husband or widow to adjust, a payment directly to his next of kin is valid, for this accomplishes by a more direct method the same result as though payment had been made to the administrator and the fund distributed by him to those entitled.[77]

5. Debts and Rights of Action — a. In General. All debts, claims, and surviving rights of action of the decedent, of every kind, reducible to money, vest in the executor or administrator, to be collected or sued upon or transferred for the benefit of the estate.[78] The representative thus becomes entitled to balances, royalties, and the like, due under contracts,[79] and is also vested with the right to Tennessee.— Puckett v. James, 2 Humphr. 565.

Vermont.— Probate Ct. v. Winch, 57 Vt. 282.

Wisconsin.— Pease v. Walker, 20 Wis. 573.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 298.

Surviving heirs or distributees cannot recover directly. Balley v. Duncan, 4 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 256. But see Maxwell v. Craft, 32 Miss. 307; Brokaw v. Hudson, 27 N. J. Eq. 135; Hays v. Hays, 5 Munf. (Va.) 418.

Widow's allowance.— Under a statute providing that the widow of a decedent, whether he died testate or intestate, may select out of his personal estate articles to the value of five hundred dollars, or, on failure or refusal so to do, be entitled to the same amount in cash, etc., the personal representatives of a widow who has not received such amount during her life, nor elected to take under the husband's will, are entitled to prosecute a claim for such amount against the husband's estate, where it does not affirmatively appear from his will that the provisions thereof were intended to be in lieu of the widow's statutory rights. Welch v. Collier, 27 Ind. App. 502, 61 N. E. 757.

76. Atkins v. Guice, 21 Ark. 164; Hamilton v. Levy, 41 S. C. 374, 19 S. E. 610.

77. Matter of Maybee, 40 Misc. (N. Y.) 518, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 809.

78. Arkansas.— Byrd v. Lipscomb, 20 Ark. 19; Worsham v. Field, 18 Ark. 447; Johnson v. Pierce, 12 Ark. 599.

Illinois.— Garvy v. Coughlan, 92 Ill. App. 582.

Indiana.— Walpole v. Bishop, 31 Ind. 156.

Kentucky.— Mitchel v. Mitchel, 4 B. Mon. 380, 41 Am. Dec. 237; Fowler v. Lewis, 3 A. K. Marsh. 443; Rowland v. Doolin, 10 Ky. L. Rep. 684; Roberts v. Eales, 10 Ky. L. Rep. 360.

Massachusetts.— Webster v. Lowell, 139 Mass. 172, 29 N. E. 543; Clapp v. Stoughton, 10 Pick. 463; Towle v. Lovet, 6 Mass. 394.

Michigan.— Bourget v. Monroe, 58 Mich. 563, 25 N. W. 514; Hollowell v. Cole, 25 Mich. 345.

New Hampshire.— Smith v. Knowlton, 11 N. H. 191.

New Jersey.— Noice v. Brown, 39 N. J. L. 569; Hayes v. Berdan, 47 N. J. Eq. 567, 21 Atl. 339; Hayes v. Hayes, 45 N. J. Eq. 461, 17 Atl. 634; Miller v. Henderson, 10 N. J. Eq. 320.

New York.— Heidenheimer v. Wilson, 31 Barb. 636. See also Kohler v. Knapp, 1 Bradf. Surr. 241.

Ohio.— Rousch v. Hundley, 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 445, 3 West. L. Month. 126.

Pennsylvania.— In re Colgan, 160 Pa. St. 140, 28 Atl. 646; Linsenbigler v. Gourley, 56 Pa. St. 166, 94 Am. Dec. 51; Fretz's Appeal, 4 Watts & S. 433.

South Carolina.— Kaminer v. Hope, 9 S. C. 253; Rutledge v. Hazlehurst, 1 McCord Eq. 466.

South Dakota.— Bem v. Shoemaker, 10 S. D. 453, 74 N. W. 239, holding that where the heirs sue on an appeal-bond given in an action to recover property of the estate, after the administrator's refusal to sue, the judgment on such bond should be paid to the administrator.

Texas.— Sanders v. Devereux, 25 Tex. Suppl. 1.

Virginia.— Chichester v. Vass, 1 Munf. 98, 4 Am. Dec. 531.

Wisconsin.— Evans v. Enloe, 70 Wis. 345, 34 N. W. 918, 36 N. W. 22.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 301.

Damages recovered in an action for personal injuries which is revived on plaintiff's death are assets of his estate. Missouri Pac. R. Co. v. Bennett, 5 Kan. App. 231, 47 Pac. 183.

Cause of action for death of decedent not an asset of estate.— Friend v. Burleigh, 53 Nebr. 674, 74 N. W. 50.

The testator's declarations that he never intended to require payment of a promissory note do not prevent its being held a part of the assets where such assets are insufficient. Byrn v. Godfrey, 4 Ves. Jr. 6, 4 Rev. Rep. 155, 31 Eng. Reprint 3.

Proceedings for accounting.— Where a former guardian of a deceased infant is to be called to account for a fund, the administrator of the infant and not the infant's distributees should proceed. Davis v. Rhame, 1 McCord Eq. (S. C.) 191.

The administrator of a deceased agent cannot collect as assets a claim which vested in the principal. The Brig Hiram, 23 Ct. Cl. 431.

79. East v. Ferguson, 59 Ind. 169; Pitts v. Jameson, 15 Barb. (N. Y.) 310; Richmond recover bank deposits,[80] arrears of wages or salary,[81] dividends on corporate stock due and payable before decedent's death,[82] and other claims lawfully surviving.[83] A claim against the government constitutes assets for the payment of debts,[84] but it has been held otherwise of a sum appropriated to decedent's heirs or estate as a pure gratuity.[85] Causes of action accruing after the decedent's death, but before letters testamentary or of administration were granted, vest in the executor or administrator upon his appointment.[86]

v. Railway Register Mfg. Co., 12 N. Y. Suppl. 358.

The performance of a contract for the construction of a railroad made by a decedent cannot be enforced by his heirs, although the profits are partly in lands, since the contract forms a part of his personalty, and belongs to his personal representatives. Crane v. Kansas Pac. R. Co., 131 U. S. appendix clxviii, 25 L. ed. 782.

80. Holt v. Augusta Bank, 13 Ga. 341; Rhoton's Succession, 34 La. Ann. 893 (holding that money deposited in a bank by a firm to the credit of the intestate, their principal, previous to his death, becomes at his decease an asset of the succession, and cannot be withdrawn by the administrator, one of the firm, and treated as belonging to said firm); Schluter v. Bowery Sav. Bank, 1 N. Y. Suppl. 655.

81. Georgia.— Hawkins v. McCalla, 95 Ga. 192, 22 S. E. 141.

Kansas.— Lappin v. Mumford, 14 Kan. 9.

Kentucky.— Grider v. Rodes, 5 Bush 277.

Michigan.— In re Joslyn, 117 Mich. 442, 75 N. W. 930.

Pennsylvania.— Maitland v. Grissinger, 1 Woodw. 294.

Tennessee.— Ketchum v. Dew, 7 Coldw. 532.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 301.

Salary voted after decease in general terms should be deemed assets. Loring v. Cunningham, 9 Cush. (Mass.) 87.

Uncollected fees of a deceased public officer go to his administrator and not to his widow. Stewart v. Taylor, 9 Lea (Tenn.) 352.

82. Welles v. Cowles, 4 Conn. 182, 10 Am. Dec. 115; People's Nat. Bank v. Cleveland, 117 Ga. 908, 44 S. E. 20.

Dividends declared and payable after decedent's death are usually collected by the executor or administrator for the purposes of his trust, accounting in a proper manner as the directions of the testator or the general law of administration may require. Welles v. Cowles, 4 Conn. 182, 10 Am. Dec. 115.

83. Schouler Ex. § 200.

The representative succeeds to a right of action under a marriage settlement of the decedent (Brunk v. Means, 11 B. Mon. (Ky.) 214; Mitchel v. Mitchel, 4 B. Mon. (Ky.) 380, 41 Am. Dec. 237), a claim for interest due at the time of decedent's death (Sweigart v. Frey, 8 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 299), a judgment in favor of decedent which is collectable (Matter of Jacob, 5 N. Y. App. Div. 508, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 1083), an action for breach of covenant in a sale of decedent's business, where breach occurred before the death of the seller (Mott v. Mott, 11 Barb. (N. Y.) 127), a right under a vendor's lien (Evans v. Enloe, 70 Wis. 345, 34 N. W. 918, 36 N. W. 22), a right of election in a vendor on default of the vendee to sue for the price or avoid the contract (Oakes v. Gillilan, (Nebr. 1901) 95 N. W. 511), a succession claim (Dunbar v. Thomas, 14 La. 332), a suit on a recognizance (Pauley v. Pauley, 7 Watts (Pa.) 159), a claim under a guaranty (Walsh v. Packard, 165 Mass. 189, 42 N. E. 577, 52 Am. St. Rep. 508, 40 L. R. A. 321), or a valuable right of injunction of which equity takes cognizance (Peabody v. Norfolk, 98 Mass. 452, 96 Am. Dec. 664).

84. Louisiana.— Hardy's Estate, 46 La. Ann. 1309, 16 So. 208; Hall v. Emerson, 11 La. 1.

Maine.— Grant v. Bodwell, 78 Me. 460, 7 Atl. 12; Thurston v. Doane, 47 Me. 79; Thurston v. Lowder, 40 Me. 197.

Massachusetts.— Foster v. Fifield, 20 Pick. 67.

Missouri.— Hickey v. Dallmeyer, 44 Mo. 237.

New Jersey.— Price v. Forrest, 54 N. J. Eq. 669, 35 Atl. 1075.

New York.— Rogers v. Hosack, 18 Wend. 319.

United States.— Briggs v. Walker, 171 U. S. 466, 19 S. Ct. 1, 43 L. ed. 243 [affirming 102 Ky. 359, 43 S. W. 479, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1490]; Bodemuller v. U. S., 39 Fed. 437; Thompson v. U. S., 20 Ct. Cl. 276.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 301.

The arrears of a bounty payable by the United States to a volunteer who died in service are payable to the administrator, as part of the assets of the estate, and not to the relatives of the decedent. Seidel's Estate, 2 Woodw. (Pa.) 259.

Accrued pension or arrears of pension do not constitute assets of the pensioner's estate. Donnelly v. U. S., 17 Ct. Cl. 105. But compare Slade v. Slade, 11 Cush. (Mass.) 466; Foot v. Knowles, 4 Metc. (Mass.) 386.

85. Mulledy's Succession, 47 La. Ann. 1580, 18 So. 633; Gillan v. Gillan, 55 Pa. St. 430. See also Eastland v. Lester, 15 Tex. 98; Burton v. Burton, 10 Leigh (Va.) 597.

For a similar distinction as to land grants see infra, III, C, 8.

Money appropriated to the "legal representatives" of a person goes to the administrator and not to the heirs. Thompson v. U. S., 20 Ct. Cl. 276.

86. Daniel v. Holland, 4 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 18; Wooldridge v. Draper, 15 Mo. 470; David v. Bells, Peck (Tenn.) 135.

b. Debts Due From Representative.[87] At common law the appointment of one's debtor as executor was held to extinguish the debt, and the rule was applied even where such executor died before probate or was one of several joint debtors.[88] In equity, however, the effect of the appointment of a debtor to the office of executor was that the debt due from the debtor executor was considered to have been paid by him to himself and upon this supposition the rule was established in equity that the executor was accountable for the amount of his debt as assets.[89] In the United States the rule is well settled that debts owing from executors stand upon the same footing with debts due the decedent's estate from other sources and are to be regarded as assets.[90] An administrator who is indebted to his intestate must account for the debt, and even at common law his appointment, not being through the act and favor of his creditor, does not appear to have extinguished his debt.[91] It is sometimes said that when a debtor becomes

87. See also infra, VII, N.

88. Allin v. Shadburne, 1 Dana (Ky.) 68, 25 Am. Dec. 121; Mitchell v. Rice, 6 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 623; Gardner v. Miller, 19 Johns. (N. Y.) 188; Ferebee v. Doxey, 28 N. C. 448; Cheetham v. Ward, 1 B. & P. 630; Wankford v. Wankford, 1 Salk. 299.

If the debtor renounced the executorship before the ordinary the debt due by him to the testator was not extinguished. Mitchell v. Rice, 6 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 623.

89. 2 Williams Ex. (7th Am. ed.) 628. And see Gardner v. Miller, 19 Johns. (N. Y.) 188; Freakley v. Fox, 9 B. & C. 130, 7 L. J. K. B. O. S. 148, 4 M. & R. 18, 17 E. C. L. 66; Carey v. Goodinge, 3 Bro. Ch. 110, 29 Eng. Reprint 439; Simmons v. Gutteridge, 13 Ves. Jr. 262, 33 Eng. Reprint 292; Byrn v. Godfrey, 4 Ves. Jr. 6, 4 Rev. Rep. 155, 31 Eng. Reprint 3.

90. Alabama.— Weems v. Bryan, 21 Ala. 302.

California.— In re Walker, 125 Cal. 242, 57 Pac. 991, 73 Am. St. Rep. 40.

Connecticut.— Bacon v. Fairman, 6 Conn. 121.

Iowa.— Kaster v. Pierson, 27 Iowa 90, 1 Am. Rep. 254.

Massachusetts.— Ipswich Mfg. Co. v. Story, 5 Metc. 310; Hobart v. Stone, 10 Pick. 215; Winship v. Bass, 12 Mass. 199.

Missouri.— McCarty v. Frazer, 62 Mo. 263.

New Jersey.— Wood v. Tallman, 1 N. J. L. 153. See also Poukon v. Johnson, 29 N. J. Eq. 529.

New York.— Adair v. Brimmer, 74 N. Y. 539; Everts v. Everts, 62 Barb. 577.

North Carolina.— Moore v. Miller, 62 N. C. 359.

Ohio.— McGanhey v. Jacoby, 54 Ohio St. 487, 44 N. E. 231; Tracy v. Card, 2 Ohio St. 431; Bigelow v. Bigelow, 4 Ohio 138, 19 Am. Dec. 591; Martin v. Train, 6 Ohio Cir. Ct. 49, 3 Ohio Cir. Dec. 344; Collins v. Nugent, 7 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 485, 3 Cinc. L. Bul. 519; Slagle v. Slagle, 3 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 549; Mitchell v. Towner, 1 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 352, 7 West. L. J. 581; In re Dair, Ohio Prob. 233.

Pennsylvania.— Anderson v. Anderson, 183 Pa. St. 480, 38 Atl. 1007.

South Carolina.— Hall v. Hall, 2 McCord Eq. 269; Farys v. Farys, Harp. Eq. 261.

Tennessee.— Spurlock v. Earles, 8 Baxt. 437.

Wisconsin.— Robinson v. Hodgkin, 99 Wis. 327, 74 N. W. 791; Finch v. Houghton, 19 Wis. 149.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 302.

Security given for such debt is not thus discharged. Soverhill v. Suydam, 59 N. Y. 140.

Lost note.— The executor will be charged in his account with a note against himself set down in the inventory and alleged to be lost or destroyed by the testator, where the amount, existence, and loss of the note are proved and there are no circumstances sufficient to raise the presumption that it was intentionally destroyed by the testator. Clark v. Hornbeck, 17 N. J. Eq. 430.

Purchase of property at foreclosure sale.— Where, on foreclosure of a mortgage belonging to the estate, the land was bid in by the executor and other legatees, he was chargeable at the instance of creditors with the proceeds of the sale. Davis v. Jackson, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1897) 39 S. W. 1067.

Specific legacy of debt.— Where testator appointed his covenantor his executor, but expressly reserved the obligation, willing it to his wife, an action on the covenant would not lie against the executor in his representative capacity; but the obligation could be enforced against him, in an action of assumpsit on an implied agreement for its performance. Fishel v. Fishel, 7 Watts (Pa.) 44.

Set-off.— An executor who is found to be indebted to the estate should be allowed to set off against such debt an indebtedness to him from the testator. In re Cunningham, 1 Hun (N. Y.) 214.

91. Alabama.— Purdom v. Tipton, 9 Ala. 914; Duffee v. Buchanan, 8 Ala. 27.

Iowa.— Savery v. Sypher, 39 Iowa 675.

Massachusetts.— Bassett v. Granger, 136 Mass. 174.

New York.— Day v. Leal, 14 Johns. 404.

North Carolina.— Ferebee v. Doxey, 28 N. C. 448, holding that when a court appoints one of the obligors to be the administrator of the obligee this only suspends the executor or administrator of the estate of his creditor the debt is extinguished at law,[92] but becomes at once assets in his hands,[93] and the representative is chargeable with the amount thereof as cash,[94] as under such circumstances equity will debt on the bond during the administration of that administrator and does not release or extinguish it. See also Hines v. Hines, 95 N. C. 482.

Pennsylvania.— Simon v. Albright, 12 Serg. & R. 429.

Virginia.— Utterback v. Cooper, 28 Gratt. 233.

England.— Wankford v. Wankford, 1 Salk. 299.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 302.

A special administrator who was individually indebted to the deceased must charge himself with the amount in his special administrator's account. In re Armstrong, 69 Cal. 239, 10 Pac. 335.

The appointment of a surviving partner as administrator does not extinguish an indebtedness of the firm to the estate of the decedent. In re Dair, Ohio Prob. 233.

92. Alabama.— Arnold v. Arnold, 124 Ala. 550, 27 So. 465, 82 Am. St. Rep. 199.

Louisiana.— Boyce v. Davis, 13 La. Ann. 554.

Massachusetts.— Tarbell v. Jewett, 129 Mass. 457.

Ohio.— Shields v. Odell, 27 Ohio St. 398.

South Carolina.— Jacobs v. Woodside, 6 S. C. 490.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 302.

A judgment is extinguished when the judgment debtor becomes administrator of the judgment creditor. Lane v. Westmoreland, 79 Ala. 372; Thomas v. Thompson, 2 Johns. (N. Y.) 471. See also Charles v. Jacobs, 9 S. C. 295.

Resignation before payment.— Where an administrator has purchased land from the estate, but before making payment therefor has resigned and been discharged by the probate court, his co-administrator may subsequently sue him for the debt, which is an asset of the estate. Langley v. Langley, 121 Ala. 70, 25 So. 707.

93. Connecticut.— Davenport v. Richards, 16 Conn. 310.

Kentucky.— Hickman v. Kamp, 3 Bush 205.

Maine.— Hodge v. Hodge, 90 Me. 505, 38 Atl. 535, 60 Am. St. Rep. 285, 40 L. R. A. 33.

Massachusetts.— Tarbell v. Jewett, 129 Mass. 457; Martin v. Smith, 124 Mass. 111; Alvord v. Marsh, 12 Allen 603; Leland v. Felton, 1 Allen 531, holding that debts due to the estate of a testator from the executor named in his will, and from a firm of which he is a member, are to be treated and accounted for as assets, although he and his firm were insolvent at the time when he accepted the trust, and although he has never charged them in his account, and an account has been allowed in which they were not included, but were mentioned as notes which it had been impossible to collect, and although he has resigned his trust, and an administrator de bonis non has been appointed in his place.

Michigan.— Crow v. Conant, 90 Mich. 247, 51 N. W. 450, 30 Am. St. Rep. 427.

New Hampshire.—Norris v. Towle, 54 N. H. 290.

New York.— In re Rugg, 3 N. Y. St. 224. See also Adair v. Brimmer, 74 N. Y. 539.

Ohio.— Shields v. Odell, 27 Ohio St. 398.

South Carolina.— Jacobs v. Woodside, 6 S. C. 490; Charles v. Jacobs, 6 S. C. 295.

Wisconsin.— Robinson v. Hodgkin, 99 Wis. 327, 74 N. W. 791.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 302.

Administrator bound to account for whole debt.— Norris v. Towle, 54 N. H. 290.

Firm or corporation debt.— Even where a partner in a firm, or an officer of a corporation owing the deceased a debt, becomes executor or administrator, the indebtedness becomes assets in his hands. Leland v. Telton, 1 Allen (Mass.) 531; Eaton v. Walsh, 42 Mo. 272; In re Consalus, 95 N. Y. 340. But see James v. West, 67 Ohio St. 28, 65 N. E. 176.

A debt created after the death of the testator becomes assets in the hands of the debtor who is appointed administrator de bonis non with the will annexed. Martin v. Train, 6 Ohio Cir. Ct. 49, 3 Ohio Cir. Dec. 344.

Fact that debt was not included in inventory or accounts immaterial.— Tarbell v. Jewett, 129 Mass. 457; Gilson's Estate, 18 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 570; Robinson v. Hodgkin, 99 Wis. 327, 74 N. W. 791 [disapproving Lynch v. Divan, 66 Wis. 490, 29 N. W. 213].

The question whether such debt is due, and the amount of it, becomes a question of probate administration, in the first instance, to be decided by the judge of probate, on all questions of law and fact, subject to an appeal. Hodge v. Hodge, 90 Me. 505, 38 Atl. 535, 60 Am. St. Rep. 285, 40 L. R. A. 33.

Appointment of surety on bond of previous executor.— The appointment as administrator with the will annexed of one who was surety on the bond of the previous executor does not make a debt due the estate from such predecessor assets in his hands by reason of his suretyship. Shields v. Odell, 27 Ohio St. 398.

Death of representative.— An indebtedness from an administrator to the estate, having been converted into assets by his appointment, is not revived by the death or removal of the administrator, so that it can be sued by an administrator de bonis non. Hodge v. Hodge, 90 Me. 505, 38 Atl. 535, 60 Am. St. Rep. 285, 40 L. R. A. 33. But compare Purcelly v. Carter, 45 Ark. 299.

94. Alabama.— Arnold v. Arnold, 124 Ala. 550, 27 So. 465, 82 Am. St. Rep. 199. See also Ward v. Oates, 42 Ala. 225.

raise a trust[95] or presume that the debt is paid.[96] This rule is, however, subject to some limitations.[97]

c. Rights of Action Connected With Realty. With regard to rights of action relating to or arising out of real property, such as for a breach of covenants relating thereto, for a trespass on or other injury to the real estate, or for damages for the condemnation of or injury to the land in the exercise of the right of eminent domain, the governing consideration is whether the injury accrued and the right of action became complete before the death of the owner. Rights of action

Louisiana.— Boyce v. Davis, 13 La. Ann. 554.

Massachusetts.— Ipswich Mfg. Co. v. Story, 5 Metc. 310.

New York.— Baucus v. Stover, 89 N. Y. 1 [reversing 25 Hun 109].

Ohio.— James v. West, 67 Ohio St. 28, 65 N. E. 156; McGanhey v. Jacoby, 54 Ohio St. 487, 44 N. E. 231; Cheney v. Powell, 20 Ohio Cir. Ct. 398, 11 Ohio Cir. Dec. 279.

Wisconsin.— Robinson v. Hodgkin, 99 Wis. 327, 74 N. W. 791.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 302.

Note signed by another as surety.— The representative's debt as principal on a note signed by another as surety is chargeable to him as money in his hands. James v. West, 67 Ohio St. 28, 65 N. E. 156.

An insolvent executor is properly charged with the full amount of notes executed by him to the testator. Davisson v. Akin, 42 Oreg. 177, 70 Pac. 507. But compare Matter of Georgi, 21 Misc. (N. Y.) 419, 47 N. Y. Suppl. 1061; Brown v. Harshman, 9 Ohio Cir. Ct. 1, 6 Ohio Cir. Dec. 10.

Debt returned as solvent presumed to have been collected.— U. S. v. Eggleston, 25 Fed. Cas. No. 15,027, 4 Sawy. 199.

Debt of co-executor.— Where an executor includes in the final account an indebtedness of his co-executor to the testator, which was incurred prior to the testator's death, the co-executor being insolvent, and the assets are turned over to him as trustee, he is not to be surcharged with the debt on its proving uncollectable. James' Estate, 3 Pa. Dist. 373.

95. Hall v. Pratt, 5 Ohio 72; Eichelberger v. Morris, 6 Watts (Pa.) 42; Porter v. Cheesborough, 1 Strobh. Eq. (S. C.) 275.

96. Alabama.— Cook v. Cook, 69 Ala. 294 (holding that this presumption arises irrespective of the debtor's solvency or the duration of his administration); Flinn v. Carter, 59 Ala. 364.

Maryland.— Lambrecht v. State, 57 Md. 240.

Michigan.— Crow v. Conant, 90 Mich. 247, 51 N. W. 450, 30 Am. St. Rep. 427.

Ohio.— See McGanhey v. Jacoby, 54 Ohio St. 487, 44 N. E. 231.

South Carolina.— Newman v. Clyburn, 41 S. C. 534, 19 S. E. 913; Black v. White, 13 S. C. 37.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 302.

The presumption of payment is greatly strengthened when the administrator enters the debt in the inventory as a debt due from himself to the estate, charges himself with it in account, and assents to a decree in which it is ordered to be distributed as money. Ipswich Mfg. Co. v. Story, 5 Metc. (Mass.) 310.

Where the representative is merely a surety the presumption of payment does not arise until the time of settlement. Flinn v. Carter, 59 Ala. 364.

The rule applies only to legal obligations and not to mere moral obligations, such as debts barred by limitations. Black v. White, 13 S. C. 37.

For a fuller statement of the rule see Charles v. Jacobs, 9 S. C. 295 [reviewing Ipswich Mfg. Co. v. Story, 5 Metc. (Mass.) 310; Kinney v. Ensign, 18 Pick. (Mass.) 232; Winship v. Bass, 12 Mass. 198; Stevens v. Gaylord, 11 Mass. 255; Jacobs v. Woodside, 6 S. C. 490; Clowney v. Cathcart, 2 S. C. 395; Griffin v. Bonham, 9 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 71; Schnell v. Schroder, Bailey Eq. (S. C.) 334].

97. Limitations of the rule.— While the debt must be treated as money in the executor's hands for the purpose of administration it will not for all purposes stand on the same footing as if he had actually received so much money. If wholly unable to pay the money in pursuance of the order or decree of the surrogate on account of his insolvency, he cannot be attached and punished for contempt as he could be if the money had actually been received from some other debtor. Baucus v. Stover, 89 N. Y. 1 [reversing 25 Hun 109]; In re Rugg, 3 N. Y. St. 224. See also Walker's Estate, 125 Cal. 242, 57 Pac. 991, 73 Am. St. Rep. 40. It is also clear that an executor unable to pay his own debt, and thus unable to comply with the decree of the surrogate charging him with it as so much money in his hands, would not be guilty of embezzling the money and could not be convicted of crime as he could be if he embezzled money or property which actually came into his hands. Baucus v. Stover, supra.

In Missouri the courts, while considering a debt due from the executor or administrator as assets of the estate, do not go so far as to hold the representative chargeable with such debts in his trust capacity as for so much money until he has by some unequivocal act, as by charging himself in his account with so much money, canceling the evidence of indebtedness, or otherwise, expressed a plain intention of paying the debt. McCarty v. Frazer, 62 Mo. 263; Young v. Theasher, 48 Mo. App. 327; McManus v. McDowell, 11 Mo. App. 436.

accruing before the death of the owner go to the personal representative as assets,[98] but where the injury occurred or the right of action accrued subsequent to such death, the claim vests in the heirs who were at the time the owners of the property.[99]

C. Real Property and Interests Therein — 1. In General. Real estate at the common law vests at once on the death of the owner in his heirs or devisees; it is not in a primary sense legal assets, and the executor or administrator has as

98. California.— Haight v. Green, 19 Cal. 113.

Connecticut.— Welles v. Cowles, 4 Conn. 182, 10 Am. Dec. 115.

Florida.— Scott v. Lloyd, 16 Fla. 151.

Illinois.— Penn Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Heiss, 141 Ill. 35, 31 N. E. 138, 33 Am. St. Rep. 273.

Indiana.— Indianapolis, etc., R. Co. v. Price, 153 Ind. 31, 53 N. E. 1018; Harshbarger v. Midland R. Co., 131 Ind. 177, 27 N. E. 352, 30 N. E. 1083; Wilson v. Peelle, 78 Ind. 384; Burnham v. Lasselle, 35 Ind. 425; Frink v. Bellis, 33 Ind. 135, 5 Am. Rep. 193.

Kentucky.— Brown v. Wilson, 12 B. Mon. 100; Abney v. Brownlee, 2 Bibb 170; Swart v. Reveal, 29 S. W. 24, 16 Ky. L. Rep. 503.

Maine.— Brooks v. Goss, 61 Me. 307; Hill v. Penny, 17 Me. 409.

Maryland.— Barton Coal Co. v. Cox, 39 Md. 1, 17 Am. Rep. 525; Kennerly v. Wilson, 1 Md. 102; McLaughlin v. Dorsey, 1 Harr. & M. 224.

Minnesota.— Lowry v. Tilleny, 31 Minn. 500, 18 N. W. 452; Connolly v. Connolly, 26 Minn. 350, 4 N. W. 233.

Missouri.— Kellogg v. Malin, 62 Mo. 429.

New York.— Griswold v. Metropolitan El. R. Co., 122 N. Y. 102, 25 N. E. 331; Ballou v. Ballou, 78 N. Y. 325; Van Zandt v. New York, 8 Bosw. 375; Beddoe v. Wadsworth, 21 Wend. 120; Hamilton v. Wilson, 4 Johns. 72, 4 Am. Dec. 253.

North Carolina.— Grist v. Hodges, 14 N. C. 198.

Ohio.— Lawrence R. Co. v. Harra, 50 Ohio St. 667, 36 N. E. 14.

Pennsylvania.— O'Brien v. Pennsylvania Schuylkill Valley R. Co., 119 Pa. St. 184, 13 Atl. 74, holding that the personal representative may sue for an injurious excavation during the decedent's lifetime, even though the excavation was not then completed.

Tennessee.— Hurt v. Dougherty, 3 Sneed 418.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 303–305.

A right of action for injury to the rental value of adjoining real property caused by the operation of an elevated railway is a personal asset accruing to the owner upon the happening of the injury, and upon the owner's death this right of action passes to his personal representatives rather than to his heirs or devisees. Mortimer v. Manhattan R. Co., 129 N. Y. 81, 29 N. E. 5; Paret v. New York El. R. Co., 60 N. Y. Super. Ct. 441, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 580. See also Mitchell v. Metropolitan El. R. Co., 134 N. Y. 11, 31 N. E. 260.

Mere entry under the right of eminent domain without divesting title has not this effect. Oliver v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co., 131 Pa. St. 408, 19 Atl. 47, 17 Am. St. Rep. 814.

99. Georgia.— Chattanooga R., etc., Co. v. McLendon, 86 Ga. 517, 12 S. E. 941; Parker v. Chestnutt, 80 Ga. 12, 5 S. E. 289.

Illinois.— Todemier v. Aspinwall, 43 Ill. 401.

Kentucky.— South v. Hoy, 3 T. B. Mon. 88.

Maine.— Neal v. Knox, etc., R. Co., 61 Me. 298.

Massachusetts.— Boynton v. Peterborough, etc., R. Co., 4 Cush. 467; Kent v. Essex County Com'rs, 10 Pick. 521.

New York.— Kernochan v. New York El. R. Co., 128 N. Y. 559, 29 N. E. 65; Ballou v. Ballou, 78 N. Y. 325.

Ohio.— Lawrence R. Co. v. O'Harra, 50 Ohio St. 667, 36 N. E. 14.

Pennsylvania.— Oliver v. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co., 131 Pa. St. 408, 19 Atl. 47, 17 Am. St. Rep. 814; Pennsylvania Schuylkill Valley R. Co. v. Ziemer, 124 Pa. St. 560, 17 Atl. 187; Mumma v. Harrisburg, etc., R. Co., 1 Pearson 65.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 303–305.

But compare St. Albans v. Seymour, 41 Vt. 579.

A breach of covenant running with the land may be sued on by the heirs (see Bourget v. Monroe, 58 Mich. 563, 25 N. W. 514), and the personal representative should only sue when some special damage to his decedent appears (Martin v. Baker, 5 Blackf. (Ind.) 232; United New Jersey R., etc., Co. v. Hoppock, 28 N. J. Eq. 261; Hamilton v. Wilson, 4 Johns. (N. Y.) 72, 4 Am. Dec. 253).

Representative should not sue for permanent injury to inheritance. Paducah R. Co. v. Dipple, 16 Ky. L. Rep. 62; Hill v. Penny, 17 Me. 409; Chalk v. McAlily, 10 Rich. (S. C.) 92. See also Ford v. Livingston, 140 N. Y. 162, 35 N. E. 437 [affirming 70 Hun 178, 24 N. Y. Suppl. 412].

Appraisal before death and payment afterward.— Where land taken by a railroad company has been appraised before the owner's death, but is not paid for until afterward, the devisees and not the executor have a right to recover the appraised value, and this right is not affected by the fact that in the proceedings to obtain the appraisal judgment was entered for the appraised value. Buckner v. Savannah, etc., R. Co., 7 S. C. 325.

Award payable to executor for distribution. — In condemnation proceedings against a testator's estate in which legatees under the will are interested the award should be paid to the executor to be distributed in the pro-such no inherent power over it.[1] Modern enactments, however, usually permit the lands of a decedent to be subjected to the satisfaction of his just debts and charges when the personalty is insufficient, and make provision for sale by the executor or administrator under a judicial license accordingly,[2] and in a few states legislation permits of considerable control and dominion by the executor or administrator besides, so as in effect to treat one's real estate as assets to be administered quite like personalty.[3]

2. Proceeds of Sale. In a suitable case of conversion from real to personal property, as where a fund is derived from the rightful sale, after decedent's death, of land whose title had vested in decedent, where a sale by the executor of such land is confirmed by all the decedent's heirs, where surplus proceeds are derived from land sold for taxes, or where one dies having a vested interest in the proceeds of land duly sold already on behalf of himself and others, the particular bate court. Detroit v. Schilling, 93 Mich. 429, 53 N. W. 565.

Even though the money be paid to the personal representatives, in such a case it is paid for the use of heirs and cannot be used as assets. Hankins v. Kimball, 57 Ind. 42.

A naked power to sell real estate does not entitle an executor to whom it is given to sue for an award for lands taken by right of eminent domain, but he must in addition show that he is entitled to possession of the money either for administration or as trustee under the will. Cashman v. Wood, 6 Hun (N. Y.) 520.

Insolvent estate.— If land belonging to an estate decreed to be administered as an insolvent estate be taken for a highway the damages should be awarded to the personal representative and not to the heirs. Goodwin v. Milton, 25 N. H. 458. But see Boynton v. Peterborough, etc., R. Co., 4 Cush. (Mass.) 467.

1. Georgia.— See Burke v. Huff, 103 Ga. 598, 30 S. E. 546.

Illinois.— Le Moyne v. Quimby, 70 Ill. 399.

Indiana.— Hankins v. Kimball, 57 Ind. 42.

Kentucky.— Heeter v. Jewell, 6 Bush 510; Mason County v. Lee, 1 T. B. Mon. 247.

Massachusetts.—Drinkwater v. Drinkwater, 4 Mass. 354.

Michigan.— Sheldon v. Rice, 30 Mich. 296, 18 Am. Rep. 136.

Mississippi.— Ashley v. Young, 79 Miss. 129, 29 So. 822; McPike v. Wells, 54 Miss. 136; Hargrove v. Baskin, 50 Miss. 194.

New Hampshire.—Lucy v. Lucy, 55 N. H. 9.

Ohio.— Carr v. Hull, 65 Ohio St. 394, 62 N. E. 439, 87 Am. St. Rep. 623, 58 L. R. A. 641.

West Virginia.— Laidley v. Kline, 8 W. Va. 218.

Canada.— Arbec v. Lamarre, 5 Montreal Super. Ct. 7 [affirming 4 Montreal Super. Ct. 447]. See also Ruggles v. Carfrae, Taylor (U. C.) 211.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 280.

Real estate includes the rails of a fence (Clark v. Burnside, 15 Ill. 62), manure piled upon the land (Fay v. Muzzey, 13 Gray (Mass.) 53, 74 Am. Dec. 619), and a monument on the land (Sabin v. Harkness, 4 N. H. 415, 17 Am. Dec. 437).

A pew is real estate at common law, but statute sometimes changes this. McNabb v. Pond, 4 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 7.

A sheriff's deed of sale of realty for taxes or under an execution should be made to the heirs at law of the purchaser who dies holding a certificate of purchase. Potts v. Davenport, 79 Ill. 455; Rice v. White, 8 Ohio 216.

Conversion of realty into personalty.— Where a testator directs that certain of his realty shall be occupied for a time by a certain person after his death, at the expiration of which the executors shall convert it into money, which they shall distribute in a specified manner, such realty, at the expiration of such time, becomes personalty, and vests in the executors for the purpose of carrying out the provisions of the will. Shumway v. Harmon, 6 Thomps. & C. (N. Y.) 626.

2. See Haines v. Price, 20 N. J. L. 480; Miller v. Harwell, 7 N. C. 194; Matter of St. George's Steam Packet Co., 2 De G. M. & G. 366, 16 Jur. 555, 21 L. J. Ch. 832, 51 Eng. Ch. 287, 42 Eng. Reprint 913; Forsyth v. Hall, Draper (U. C.) 291; Gardiner v. Gardiner, 2 U. C. Q. B. O. S. 520. And see infra, XII, D.

Proof that land required for payment of debts necessary.— An administrator, seeking to recover from the purchaser from an heir land of which he has never had possession, must show that it is necessary for him to have possession for the purpose of paying debts or making proper distribution. Dixon v. Rogers, 110 Ga. 509, 35 S. E. 781.

Land squatted on by decedent.— Where a person enters on land as a squatter, at the time declaring that he has no title or right of possession, although he builds himself a home and lives thereon, he is not seized and possessed of the land; hence on his death the land should not be administered as part of his estate. Holton v. Holton, 99 Ga. 250, 25 S. E. 468.

3. Arkansas.— Tate v. Norton, 94 U. S. 746, 24 L. ed. 222.

California.— Meeks v. Vassault, 16 Fed. Cas. No. 9,393, 3 Sawy. 206 [affirmed in 100 U. S. 564, 25 L. ed. 735].

Delaware.— Vincent v. Platt, 5 Harr. 164.

Texas.— Thompson v. Duncan, 1 Tex. 485.

Washington.— In re Lowe, 17 Wash. 675, 50 Pac. 587.

fund or surplus proceeds should be considered personalty, and the representative, not the heir, is entitled thereto.[4] But in general, so far as executors or administrators are concerned, and except for such conversion, the character of property, whether as real or personal, is that impressed upon it at the death of the decedent and does not change by any subsequent technical conversion in the course of administration.[5]

3. Rents and Profits, Etc. The rents, profits, and income of a decedent's real property accruing before his death vest in the personal representative as assets,[6] but those accruing after his death are not assets, but vest in the heir

See infra, VIII, O; and Descent and Distribution, 14 Cyc. 111 note 94.

4. Georgia.— Carr v. Berry, 116 Ga. 372, 42 S. E. 726.

Kentucky.— Rockford v. Rockford, (1890) 56 S. W. 992.

Massachusetts.—Hammond v. Putnam, 110 Mass. 232; Grout v. Hapgood, 13 Pick. 159.

Missouri.— State v. Harper, 54 Mo. App. 286.

Nebraska.— Solt v. Anderson, (1903) 93 N. W. 205.

North Carolina.— Heckstall v. Powell, 11 N. C. 216.

Pennsylvania.— Morrison's Case, 9 Watts & S. 116.

United States.— Chaplin v. U. S., 19 Ct. Cl. 424.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 282.

Proceeds paid into court.— Where, after a sale of land and payment of the proceeds into court to abide the result of a suit as to title, the party in actual interest dies intestate, her interest in such proceeds is personal estate which vests in her administrator and not in her heirs. Denham v. Cornell, 67 N. Y. 556 [affirming 7 Hun 662].

Sale of ward's land under act of legislature.— Where the land of one under guardianship is sold under an act of the legislature, the proceeds, remaining in personalty, will go on his death to his personal representatives. Smith v. Bayright, 34 N. J. Eq. 424; Snowhill v. Snowhill, 3 N. J. Eq. 20.

5. Kentucky.— Hughes v. Standeford, 3 Dana 285.

Maryland.— Johns Hopkins University v. Williams, 52 Md. 229.

Mississippi.— Franks v. Wanzer, 25 Miss. 121.

Missouri.— Carriger v. Whittington, 26 Mo. 311, 72 Am. Dec. 212.

New Jersey.— Flagg v. Teneick, 29 N. J. L. 25; Jacobus v. Jacobus, 37 N. J. Eq. 17.

New York.— Rogers v. Paterson, 4 Paige 409; Matter of Woodworth, 5 Dem. Surr. 156.

North Carolina.— State v. Robinson, 78 N. C. 222; Moore v. Shields, 68 N. C. 327; Foster v. Cook, 8 N. C. 509.

South Carolina.—Hamer v. Bethea, 11 S. C. 416.

Tennessee.— Smalling v. King, 5 Lea 585.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 282.

Where firm real estate is sold by the surviving partner, the share of the deceased partner in such proceeds goes properly to his heir and not to his executor or administrator. Griffey v. Northcutt, 5 Heisk. (Tenn.) 746.

Rescinded sale.— Where real property, the conveyance of which was obtained by fraud and misrepresentation, is sold during the life of the grantor, on suit by the heirs and administrator of the deceased grantor to rescind the original conveyance, the administrator is entitled to the proceeds of the sale as against the grantee, although as between the administrator and the heirs such proceeds are deemed realty. Parker v. Simpson, 180 Mass. 334, 62 N. E. 401.

6. Alabama.—Brewster v. Buckholts, 3 Ala. 20.

Georgia.— Autrey v. Autrey, 94 Ga. 579, 20 S. E. 431.

Indiana.— Humphries v. Davis, 100 Ind. 369; Dorsett v. Gray, 98 Ind. 273; King v. Anderson, 20 Ind. 385.

Iowa.— Crawford v. Ginn, 35 Iowa 543.

Kentucky.— Ball v. Covington First Nat. Bank, 80 Ky. 501; Rank v. Hill, 8 Bush 66; Combs v. Branch, 4 Dana 547.

Mississippi.— Bloodworth v. Stevens, 51 Miss. 475.

Missouri.— Bealey v. Blake, 70 Mo. App. 229.

New York.— Jay v. Kirkpatrick, 26 Misc. 550, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 476; Miller v. Crawford, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 358, 26 Abb. N. Cas. 376; Van Rensselaer v. Platner, 2 Johns. Cas. 17.

North Carolina.— King v. Little, 77 N. C. 138; Fleming v. Chunn, 57 N. C. 422.

Pennsylvania.— Young v. Jones, 1 Lehigh Val. L. Rep. 175.

Tennessee.— Rowan v. Riley, 6 Baxt. 67.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 283.

Rents payable in advance have "accrued" within the meaning of a statute providing that rents reserved to a decedent which shall have accrued at the time of his death shall be deemed assets and pass as such to his executors and administrators, where they become due before the death of the decedent, although not collected at that time. Miller v. Crawford, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 358, 26 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 376, holding further [following Matter of Weeks, 5 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 194, and disapproving Matter of Eddy, 10 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 396], that a statute providing for the apportionment of rents on the death of the landlord before they are due does not apply to such a case.

or devisee,[7] even though the rent was expressly reserved to the lessor, his

7. Illinois.— Dixon v. Niccolls, 39 Ill. 372, 89 Am. Dec. 312; Foltz v. Prouse, 17 Ill. 487; Sherman v. Dutch, 16 Ill. 283; Crosby v. Loop, 13 Ill. 625; Green v. Massie, 13 Ill. 363.

Indiana.— Dorsett v. Gray, 98 Ind. 273; Trimble v. Pollock, 77 Ind. 576; Evans v. Hardy, 76 Ind. 527; King v. Anderson, 20 Ind. 385.

Iowa.— Crane v. Guthrie, 47 Iowa 542; Shawhan v. Long, 26 Iowa 488, 96 Am. Dec. 164.

Kansas.— Head v. Sutton, 31 Kan. 616, 3 Pac. 280.

Kentucky.— Ball v. Covington First Nat. Bank, 80 Ky. 501; Rank v. Hill, 8 Bush 66; Vance v. Vance, 76 S. W. 370, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 741.

Maine.— Mills v. Merryman, 49 Me. 65; Stinson v. Stinson, 38 Me. 593.

Massachusetts.—Gibson v. Farley, 16 Mass. 280.

Mississippi.— Bloodworth v. Stevens, 51 Miss. 475.

Missouri.— Bealey v. Blake, 70 Mo. App. 229; Shouse v. Krusor, 24 Mo. App. 279; Lewis v. Carson, 16 Mo. App. 342.

New Hampshire.— Sparhawk v. Allen, 25 N. H. 261.

New Jersey.— Allen v. Van Houton, 19 N. J. L. 47; Bittle v. Clement, (Ch. 1903) 54 Atl. 138.

New York.—Peck v. Ingersoll, 7 N. Y. 528; Priester v. Hohloch, 70 N. Y. App. Div. 256, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 405; Matter of Spears, 89 Hun 49, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 35; Fay v. Holloran, 35 Barb. 295; Jay v. Kirkpatrick, 26 Misc. 550, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 476; Matter of Hughey, 7 N. Y. St. 732; Van Rensselaer v. Hayes, 5 Den. 477; Wright v. Williams, 5 Cow. 501; Van Rensselaer v. Platner, 2 Johns. Cas. 17; Kohler v. Knapp, 1 Bradf. Surr. 241.

North Carolina.— King v. Little, 77 N. C. 138; Womble v. George, 64 N. C. 759; Fleming v. Chunn, 57 N. C. 442. See also Scroggs v. Stevenson, 100 N. C. 354, 6 S. E. 111.

Ohio.— Overturf v. Dugan, 29 Ohio St. 230, rents accruing between death of decedent and sale of land to pay debts.

Pennsylvania.— Robb's Appeal, 41 Pa. St. 45; Haslage v. Krugh, 25 Pa. St. 97; Adams v. Adams, 4 Watts 160; Burnell's Estate, 13 Phila. 387; Young v. Jones, 1 Lehigh Val. L. Rep. 175.

Tennessee.— Rowan v. Riley, 6 Baxt. 67.

Virginia.— Lightner v. Speck, (1897) 28 S. E. 326.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 283.

The above rule applies where rent is payable in kind (Cobel v. Cobel, 8 Pa. St. 342; Huff v. Latimer, 33 S. C. 255, 11 S. E. 758), except as to payment in crops not yet ripe (Wadsworth v. Allcott, 6 N. Y. 64. Contra, McDowell v. Addams, 45 Pa. St. 430).

The probate court has no jurisdiction of rents of real estate devised until the personal property of the deceased is exhausted in the payment of debts and legacies. Jones v. East Greenwich Probate Ct., 25 R. I. 361, 55 Atl. 881.

Rents received by the executor from the realty are not assets, even though the land be subsequently sold for payment of debts. Towle v. Swasey, 106 Mass. 100. See also Kimball v. Sumner, 62 Me. 305.

Land leased from the Seneca Indians is real estate for the purpose of administration and rent received therefor by the executors of the lessee under the mistaken idea that his leasehold interest is personalty belongs to the devisee of such leasehold interest. Matter of McKay, 33 Misc. (N. Y.) 520, 68 N. Y. Suppl. 925.

The fact that the land is farmed will not convert the rent into emblements, and as between the devisee of the owner, dying between the two of the times for the payment of the semiannual rent, and the executor, the devisee is entitled to the rent payable on the following rent day. Dye v. Dimick, 6 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 231, 4 Ohio N. P. 185.

Agreement not constituting lease.— The owner of land entered into an agreement with one J providing that the owner agreed to "rent" his farm, with the stock thereon, to J for a certain period; that J should take the milk to the cheese factory, enter it in the name of the owner, to whom the proceeds should be payable, and do all the work on the place as the owner should direct; that each party should furnish half the seed and pay half the taxes; and that "otherwise the place is to be let to the halves." It was held that such agreement was not a lease and therefore the proceeds of the milk sold to the cheese factory were personal assets and did not go to the heirs as rent. Matter of Strickland, 10 Misc. (N. Y.) 486, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 171.

No apportionment is allowable between the executor of a lessor owning the fee and the remainder-man. Fay v. Holloran, 35 Barb. (N. Y.) 195.

A statute providing for the apportionment of the rent of a freehold or other uncertain interest in land between the personal representative and the successor, in case of the lessor's death within the year, should be treated as merely declaratory of what was already the law, and should not be held to invest personal representatives with the right to take as assets rents accruing after the death of the owner of the realty, even though he may have held the same in fee. Rand v. Hill, 8 Bush (Ky.) 66.

Peculiar leases may according to their covenants have a different effect. McDowell v. Hendrix, 67 Ind. 513.

Where the representative has taken charge of the realty, although without authority, the rents collected by him are considered as assets in Missouri. See Dix v. Morris, 66 Mo. 514 [affirming 1 Mo. App. 93]; Gamble v. Gibson, 59 Mo. 585; Lewis v. Carson, 16 Mo. App. 342; Gamage v. Bushell, 1 Mo.

executors, administrators, and assigns,[8] or although the decedent died insolvent.[9] The same distinction governs claims for damages to the land.[10] The testator may of course by his will prevent the application of the usual rule,[11] and where the executor or administrator is empowered to rent the decedent's lands for the convenience and on behalf of all concerned while the estate is being settled the rents collected are deemed assets for the payment of debts.[12]

4. Crops and Products. It is well established that growing and unharvested crops on the land of a decedent at the time of his death, such as are raised annually or periodically by labor and planting, go to the personal representative as assets rather than to the heir at law where the land is not specifically devised.[13] Where, however, there is a devise of the land, the authorities are not uniform, some holding that in such case the crops go with the land to the devisee unless the will provides otherwise,[14] and others asserting that notwithstanding the

App. 416. But it is otherwise in Indiana. Kidwell v. Kidwell, 84 Ind. 224.

8. Fay v. Holloran, 35 Barb. (N. Y.) 295.

9. Brown v. Fessenden, 81 Me. 522, 17 Atl. 709; Gibson v. Farley, 16 Mass. 280; Wood v. Bott, 56 Miss. 128; Boyd v. Martin, 9 Heisk. (Tenn.) 382.

10. Louisville, etc., R. Co. v. Hill, 115 Ala. 334, 22 So. 163; Kernochan v. New York El. R. Co., 128 N. Y. 559, 29 N. E. 65; Hotchkiss v. Auburn, etc., R. Co., 36 Barb. (N. Y.) 600.

11. Tickel v. Quinn, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 425; Ingrem v. Mackey, 5 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 357.

Where a will disposes only of the proceeds of sale of real estate and there is no disposition of the intervening rents these go to the heirs until the sale by the executor. Hallowell's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 90.

12. Alabama.— Palmer v. Steiner, 68 Ala. 400; Griffin v. Bland, 43 Ala. 543; Harkins v. Pope, 10 Ala. 493.

California.— Washington v. Black, 83 Cal. 290, 23 Pac. 300.

Missouri.— Logan v. Caldwell, 23 Mo. 372; Bealey v. Blake, 70 Mo. App. 229.

North Carolina.— Shell v. West, 130 N. C. 171, 41 S. E. 65.

Pennsylvania.—Schlecht's Estate, 2 Brewst. 397.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 283.

The administrator may bring an action for rent, and it is not absolutely necessary that his declaration should set forth the authority under which the lease was made and the permission of the court for the granting thereof, nor is it competent for one who has possessed and enjoyed premises by the permission of and under an agreement with an administrator to controvert his right of recovery. Rector v. Ranken, 1 Mo. 371.

13. Alabama.—Marx v. Nelms, 95 Ala. 304, 10 So. 551; Mitcham v. Moore, 73 Ala. 542.

Connecticut.— See Kinsman v. Kinsman, 1 Root 180, 1 Am. Dec. 37.

Georgia.— Thornton v. Burch, 20 Ga. 791.

Illinois.— Cheney v. Roodhouse, 32 Ill. App. 49.

Indiana.— Humphrey v. Merritt, 51 Ind. 197.

Maine.—Dennett v. Hopkinson, 63 Me. 350, 18 Am. Rep. 227.

Massachusetts.— Penhallow v. Dwight, 7 Mass. 34, 5 Am. Dec. 21.

Michigan.— McGee v. Walker, 106 Mich. 521, 64 N. W. 482.

Mississippi.— A crop growing at the time of the decedent's death is assets and may be dealt with by the administrator in two modes; he may either obtain an order for the sale of the crop or an order allowing him to cultivate and complete it, in which event all property on the plantation may be employed for that purpose. Farley v. Hord, 45 Miss. 96; McCormick v. McCormick, 40 Miss. 760. But if the administrator proceeds in neither of these ways, the heir, who by the death of the ancestor is entitled to the possession, may consider the right of the administrator abandoned and take possession of the land and cultivate and complete the crop, in which case the administrator would not be entitled to the crop completed and matured by the labor and at the expense of the heir. McCormick v. McCormick, supra.

New Jersey.—Budd v. Hiler, 27 N. J. L. 43.

New York.— Wadsworth v. Allcott, 6 N. Y. 64; Matter of Kick, 11 N. Y. St. 688.

North Carolina.— Bradshaw v. Ellis, 22 N. C. 20, 32 Am. Dec. 686.

Pennsylvania.— Kupp's Estate, 2 Woodw. 228.

South Carolina.— McLaurin v. McColl, 3 Strobh. 21; Gwin v. Hicks, 1 Bay 503.

Tennessee.— Shofner v. Shofner, 5 Sneed 94.

England.— Evans v. Roberts, 5 B. & C. 829, 8 D. & R. 611, 4 L. J. K. B. O. S. 313, 11 E. C. L. 700.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 284.

The fact that the crop is growing on exempt property does not change its character as assets. Dickey v. Wilkins, (Miss. 1895) 17 So. 374.

The executor of a life-tenant who dies between the planting and severance is entitled to the crop. Thornton v. Burch, 20 Ga. 791.

Right of gathering crops optional with representative.— Wright v. Watson, 96 Ala. 536, 11 So. 634; Blair v. Murphree, 81 Ala. 454, 2 So. 18.

14. Maine.—Hathorn v. Eaton, 70 Me. 219; Dennett v. Hopkinson, 63 Me. 350, 18 Am. Rep. 227.

devise the crops go to the personal representative.[15] In some jurisdictions statutes have been enacted under which the time of the decedent's death or of severance of the crops determines whether the crops or assets go to the personal representative or not.[16] Natural products of the soil not sown or planted by the decedent, such as clover, grass, fruit, and the like, when not severed from the soil at the time of the decedent's death, go to the devisee or heir.[17] Crops and products of whatever character, actually severed before the death of the decedent, go to the representative,[18] and conversely crops planted after the decedent's death belong to the heir or devisee.[19]

5. Mortgages and Mortgage Interests. A mortgage of real property before foreclosure passes to the executor or administrator of the mortgagee like the money right evidenced by bond or note, which it was given to secure;[20] but Missouri.— Pratte v. Coffman, 27 Mo. 424.

New Jersey.—Budd v. Hiler, 27 N. J. L. 43.
North Carolina.—Thomas v. Lines, 83 N. C. 191; Tayloe v. Bond, 45 N. C. 5; Jones v. Jones, 17 N. C. 287.
Tennessee.— Shofner v. Shofner, 5 Sneed 94.
See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 284.

15. Indiana.— Humphrey v. Merritt, 51 Ind. 197.
Mississippi.—See Dickey v. Wilkins, (1895) 17 So. 374.
New York.— Bradner v. Faulkner, 34 N. Y. 347, holding that growing crops are assets for the payment of debts and legacies, but if not wanted for that purpose they go to the devisee of the land.
South Carolina.— McLaurin v. McColl, 3 Strobh. 21; Waring v. Purcell, 1 Hill Eq. 193.
Virginia.— Shelton v. Shelton, 1 Wash. 53, holding that crops growing on land devised at the time of the testator's death did not pass to the devisees under the word "appurtenances."
See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 284.

16. See Green v. Cutright, Wright (Ohio) 738; Berry v. Berry, 55 S. C. 303, 33 S. E. 363; Thompson v. Thompson, 6 Munf. (Va.) 514.

17. Alabama.— Eubank v. Clark, 78 Ala. 73.
Connecticut.— Maples v. Millon, 31 Conn. 598.
Indiana.— Evans v. Hardy, 76 Ind. 527; Rodman v. Rodman, 54 Ind. 444.
Maryland.— Evans v. Iglehart, 6 Gill & J. 171.
North Carolina.—Gee v. Young, 2 N. C. 17.
England.— Rodwell v. Phillips, 1 Dowl. P. C. N. S. 885, 11 L. J. Exch. 217, 9 M. & W. 501.
See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 284.

Oil.— On the death of the owner of land on which there are producing oil wells, the right to the oil thereafter produced descends to the heirs. Johnson's Estate, 30 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 365.

18. Edwards v. Rainier, 17 Ohio St. 897.

19. Kidwell v. Kidwell, 84 Ind. 224; Rodman v. Rodman, 54 Ind. 444; Fetrow v. Fetrow, 50 Pa. St. 253; Thompson v. Thompson, 6 Munf. (Va.) 514.

20. Alabama.— Terry v. Ferguson, 8 Port. 500.
Colorado.— Buck v. Fischer, 2 Colo. 182.
Iowa.— Burton v. Hintrager, 18 Iowa 348.
Kentucky.— Pemberton v. Riddle, 5 T. B. Mon. 401.
Maine.— Bird v. Keller, 77 Me. 270.
Maryland.— Chase v. Lockerman, 11 Gill & J. 185, 35 Am. Dec. 277.
Massachusetts.— Taft v. Stevens, 3 Gray 504. But see Ex p. Blair, 13 Metc. (Mass.) 126.
Mississippi.— Griffin v. Lovell, 42 Miss. 402.
Vermont.— Pierce v. Brown, 24 Vt. 165.
West Virginia.— Curry v. Hill, 18 W. Va. 370, trust deed.
United States.— Dexter v. Arnold, 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,857, 1 Sumn. 109.
England.— Noy v. Ellis, 2 Ch. Cas. 220, 22 Eng. Reprint 918; Ellis v. Guavas, 2 Ch. Cas. 50, 22 Eng. Reprint 841; Thornbrough v. Baker, 1 Ch. Cas. 283, 22 Eng. Reprint 802, 2 Freem. 143, 22 Eng. Reprint 1117, 3 Swanst. 628, 36 Eng. Reprint 1000; Pawlett v. Atty.-Gen., Hardres 465.
See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 286.

Rule applies to assignee of unforeclosed mortgage. Hemmenway v. Lynde, 79 Me. 209, 9 Atl. 620; Steel v. Steel, 4 Allen (Mass.) 417.

Equitable mortgages.— A statute providing that lands mortgaged to secure the payment of debts and the debts so secured are on the death of the mortgagee assets in the hands of his executors or administrators, of which they shall have control as of a personal pledge, applies to equitable as well as legal mortgages. But when there is no evidence of a debt from the mortgagor that can be enforced at law independent of the security, equitable mortgages may be inventoried as real estate, and only when reduced to cash by redemption or sale would the proceeds become chargeable to the executor or administrator. Hawes v. Williams, 92 Me. 483, 43 Atl. 101.

If the mortgage is paid off by the mortgagor, it is the executor or administrator and not the heirs who should receive payment, and release and acknowledge satisfaction. Woodruff v. Mutschler, 34 N. J. Eq.

where foreclosure has been had in the decedent's lifetime, the rule is otherwise, and the mortgaged land itself having vested absolutely in the mortgagee his heirs take the property on his decease.[21]

6. Widow's Dower Interest. Where the wife survives her husband, and thus becomes entitled to her dower or corresponding interest in his real and personal estate, but dies before it is set off to her, the right to recover, if surviving her death at all,[22] passes to her executor or administrator and not to her heirs or next of kin.[23]

7. Leaseholds. A lease for years, since this is no freehold interest, but a chattel real, vests in the executor or administrator of the lessee,[24] and the same is true of rights incidental to or given by the lease, such as a privilege of renewal[25]

33; Ely v. Scofield, 35 Barb. (N. Y.) 330. And the money received by an administrator of an equitable mortgagee, in redemption of the mortgage, should be charged by the probate court to the administrator, and ordered distributed as personal estate. Hawes v. Williams, 92 Me. 483, 43 Atl. 101.

Foreclosure proceedings should be by representative. Roath v. Smith, 5 Conn. 133; Fay v. Cheney, 14 Pick. (Mass.) 399; Dewey v. Van Deusen, 4 Pick. (Mass.) 19; Hathaway v. Valentine, 14 Mass. 501; Copper v. Wells, 1 N. J. Eq. 10; Bickford v. Daniels, 2 N. H. 71.

The representative may maintain trespass against the heir if the latter enters and commits waste upon the mortgaged premises. Palmer v. Stevens, 11 Cush. (Mass.) 147.

21. See Osborne v. Tunis, 25 N. J. L. 633. But compare Canning v. Hicks, 2 Ch. Cas. 187, 22 Eng. Reprint 905, 1 Vern. Ch. 412, 23 Eng. Reprint 553.

22. See Dower, 14 Cyc. 1009 notes 90, 91.

23. Woodberry v. Matherson, 19 Fla. 778; Coons v. Nall, 4 Litt. (Ky.) 263; Renner v. Bird, 7 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 290, 2 Cinc. L. Bul. 76; Paul v. Paul, 36 Pa. St. 270; Edwards v. Hoopes, 2 Whart. (Pa.) 420. See also Unangst v. Kraemer, 8 Watts & S. (Pa.) 391.

Interest on dower fund.—The personal representative of a widow may distrain for arrears of interest due on her dower fund at the time of her death, but not for that which may subsequently accrue. Henderson v. Boyer, 44 Pa. St. 220.

24. District of Columbia.— Bean v. Reynolds, 15 App. Cas. 125.

Georgia.— Cody v. Quarterman, 12 Ga. 386.

Illinois.— Thornton v. Mehring, 117 Ill. 55, 25 N. E. 958.

Indiana.— Cunningham v. Baxley, 96 Ind. 367.

Kentucky.—Lewis v. Ringo, 3 A. K. Marsh. 247.

Louisiana.— Journe's Succession, 21 La. Ann. 391.

Mississippi.— Faler v. McRae, 56 Miss. 227; Webster v. Parker, 42 Miss. 465; Dillingham v. Jenkins, 7 Sm. & M. 479.

Missouri.— Sutter v. Lackmann, 39 Mo. 91.

New Jersey.— McCormick v. Stephany, 57 N. J. Eq. 257, 41 Atl. 840.

Ohio.— Becker v. Walworth, 45 Ohio St. 169, 12 N. E. 1; Murdock v. Ratcliff, 7 Ohio 119. But a perpetual lease, having been divested by statute of its chattel qualities, is no longer an asset in the hands of the administrator. Gansen v. Moorman, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 287, 5 Ohio N. P. 254.

Pennsylvania.— Keating v. Condon, 68 Pa. St. 75; Wiley's Appeal, 8 Watts & S. 244.

South Carolina.— Payne v. Harris, 3 Strobh. Eq. 39.

Texas.— Wilcox v. Alexander, (Civ. App. 1895) 32 S. W. 561.

Vermont.— Rickard v. Dana, 74 Vt. 74, 52 Atl. 113.

England.— See Reynolds v. Wright, 25 Beav. 100, 4 Jur. N. S. 198, 27 L. J. Ch. 392, 6 Wkly. Rep. 301.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 288.

Contra, under Colorado statute. McKee v. Howe, 17 Colo. 538, 31 Pac. 115.

A lease for ninety-nine years is of no higher dignity than a lease or term for one year; both are mere chattels, and go to the administrator to be administered. Dillingham v. Jenkins, 7 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 479.

The rent is a first charge upon the profits of the land, and only what remains after deducting sufficient for the payment of the rent can be regarded as assets of the estate. Becker v. Walworth, 45 Ohio St. 169, 12 N. E. 1; Mickle v. Miles, 1 Grant (Pa.) 320. But compare Harris v. Meyer, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 450.

The assignee of a lessee for life holds an estate pur autre vie, which is a freehold during the assignee's life, but on his death a chattel real and assets in the hands of his administrator. Mosher v. Yost, 33 Barb. (N. Y.) 277.

How lease valued.—A lease for years owned by the testator should be charged to the executor at the price it would have produced if sold at the testator's death. Cary v. Macon, 4 Call (Va.) 605.

A summary action for an unlawful detainer cannot be brought under Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1161, against an executor who succeeds to the possession of leased premises held by the decedent at the time of his death, but makes default in the payment of rent. Martel v. Meehan, 63 Cal. 47.

25. McCormick v. Stephany, 57 N. J. Eq. 257, 41 Atl. 840; Green v. Green, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 357.

If representative renews new lease becomes assets. Fisher v. Fisher, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 335.

or an unexercised option to purchase the demised premises,[26] these also being mere chattel interests.

8. Interests in Public Land. A preëmption or homestead right with occupancy, or a land patent as usually expressed, is treated as real estate and descends to the heirs;[27] but a mere right to enjoy possession or a land claim is treated as personalty, and as such goes to the representative.[28]

9. Contracts For Sale. Where the vendor in a contract for the sale of land dies before the payment of the purchase-money and the execution of the conveyance, his personal representatives and not his heirs will be entitled to receive the purchase-money,[29] unless a contrary intent is shown by the contract

26. McCormick v. Stephany, 57 N. J. Eq. 257, 41 Atl. 840.

27. Alabama.— Johnson v. Collins, 12 Ala. 322.

California.— Hartley v. Brown, 51 Cal. 465. But see McDonald v. Burton, 68 Cal. 445, 9 Pac. 714.

Illinois.— Lester v. White, 44 Ill. 464.

Indiana.— Shanks v. Lucas, 4 Blackf. 476.

Kentucky.— Moore v. Dodd, 1 A. K. Marsh. 140.

Minnesota.— Dawson v. Mayall, 45 Minn. 408, 48 N. W. 12.

Pennsylvania.— Duncan v. Walker, 2 Dall. 205, 1 L. ed. 350. But see Campbell v. Rheim, 2 Yeates 123.

Tennessee.— See Gray v. Davis, 2 Head 360.

Virginia.— Morrison v. Campbell, 2 Rand. 206.

Wisconsin.—Bowen v. Burnett, 1 Pinn. 658.

United States.— Ware v. Brush, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,171, 1 McLean 533 [affirmed in 15 Pet. 93, 10 L. ed. 672].

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 289.

But see Pelham v. Wilson, 4 Ark. 289; Burch v. McDaniel, 2 Wash. Terr. 58, 3 Pac. 586.

Land acquired by heirs.— A land-office certificate issued in favor of the heirs of a decedent cannot be assigned by his administrator. Hawkins v. Johnson, 4 Blackf. (Ind.) 21. Where lands were acquired, under the donation law of 1850, upon the death of the settler, by his heirs, the administrator had no right or interest therein. Delay v. Chapman, 3 Oreg. 459.

Resulting trust.— The right to enter land under the preëmption laws of congress descending to the heir at law, no trust on the land results to the administrator of a deceased occupant, or the creditors of his estate, from the fact that the administrator voluntarily paid the purchase-money out of the assets of the estate, when he could not have been called on to do so. Johnson v. Collins, 12 Ala. 322.

In Texas the personal representatives have considerable power with respect to land certificates and the like. See Jones v. Lee, 86 Tex. 25, 22 S. W. 386, 1092 [reversing (Civ. App. 1892) 20 S. W. 863]; Allen v. Clark, 21 Tex. 404; Poor v. Boyce, 12 Tex. 440; Pendleton v. Shaw, 18 Tex. Civ. App. 439, 44 S W. 1002; Williams v. Howard, 10 Tex. Civ. App. 527, 31 S. W. 835. Thus headright certificates become assets in the hands of administrators. State v. Zanco, 18 Tex. Civ. App. 127, 44 S. W. 527. A distinction is, however, to be observed that land granted by the government to the heirs of an individual, pursuant to a right existing in him to receive such grant, is an asset of his estate (Lyne v. Sanford, 82 Tex. 58, 19 S. W. 847, 27 Am. St. Rep. 852 [followed in Pendleton v. Shaw, 18 Tex. Civ. App. 439, 44 S. W. 1002]), but land granted as a mere gratuity to the heirs of one who has rendered public service, as a recognition of such service, is not a part of his estate subject to sale by the administrator to pay debts (Todd v. Masterson, 61 Tex. 618). For a similar distinction as to claims or grants other than of land see supra, III, B, 5, a.

28. McDonald v. Burton, 68 Cal. 445, 9 Pac. 714; Grover v. Hawley, 5 Cal. 485; Corbett v. Berryhill, 29 Iowa 157; Bowers v. Keesecker, 14 Iowa 301; Stewart v. Chadwick, 8 Iowa 463; Moody v. Hutchinson, 44 Me. 57; Hubbard v. Horne, 24 Tex. 270; Howard v. Republic, 2 Tex. 311.

29. Illinois.— Skinner v. Newberry, 51 Ill. 203.

Indiana.— Henson v. Ott, 7 Ind. 512.

Iowa.— Grimmell v. Warner, 21 Iowa 111.

Kansas.— Gilmore v. Gilmore, 60 Kan. 606, 57 Pac. 505.

Kentucky.— Muldrow v. Muldrow, 2 Dana 386.

Nebraska.— Solt v. Anderson, (1903) 93 N. W. 205.

New York.— Swartwout v. Burr, 1 Barb. 495; Wagstaff v. Marcy, 25 Misc. 121, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 1021, holding that the personal representative is entitled to receive the price, and hold it for the decedent's creditors, if necessary, but otherwise it goes to his heirs or devisees.

North Dakota.— Clapp v. Bower, 11 N. D. 556, 92 N. W. 862.

Ohio.— Stang v. Newberger, 8 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 80, 6 Ohio N. P. 60.

Pennsylvania.— Simmons' Estate, 140 Pa. St. 567, 21 Atl. 402; Sutter v. Ling, 25 Pa. St. 466.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 290; and Descent and Distribution, 14 Cyc. 26 note 87.

Where specific performance is enforced against the heirs or devisees the money consideration goes to the personal representative. Matter of Everit, 2 Edw. (N. Y.) 597.

An option to rescind on the vendee's default goes to the personal representative.

itself,[30] or by the will of the vendor.[31] The executor or administrator will be entitled to enforce the contract and to hold the proceeds of any unpaid balance thereof, whether as assets of the estate or in trust for heirs or devisees, according as the terms of sale may justify.[32] It has even been held that where the executors have canceled the contract of sale for default of the purchase, and regained title, they may sell and convey such realty, and account for the proceeds as personalty.[33] But it has been asserted that where the contract of sale is void or cannot be enforced the land descends to the vendor's heirs on his death.[34]

10. Contracts For Purchase. Where the purchaser of land pays for it but dies before taking a deed, the land, upon a suitable conveyance thereof, belongs beneficially to his heirs or devisees;[35] and a bond or contract for the conveyance of land passes on the vendee's death to his heir or devisee rather than to his executor or administrator.[36] It has also been held that the purchase-money paid upon an agreement for the sale of land is in equity considered as land, and if the contract is vacated after the death of the vendee it goes to the heir, who is the proper person to sue therefor.[37] But for a mere right to acquire an interest in land, or for breach of condition during the obligee's lifetime, with failure to make title, the personal representative may sue.[38]

11. Buildings or Improvements. Where the decedent has begun erecting an expensive dwelling-house for his personal residence, the personal representative may in his discretion and for the best interests of the estate stop such work and treat materials purchased and furnished as personal assets to be disposed of Stang v. Newberger, 8 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 80, 6 Ohio N. P. 60.

Where the land sold is a homestead, so that the proceeds would stand as exempt and in lieu of the land, the purchase-money, not exceeding two thousand dollars, should be turned over to those to whom the homestead would have descended by operation of law. Solt v. Anderson, (Nebr. 1903) 93 N. W. 205.

30. Stevens v. Flannagan, 131 Ind. 122, 30 N. E. 898, where the contract provided that the price should be paid to the vendor's heirs after his decease.

31. Wright v. Marshall, 72 Ill. 584, holding that where a testator devises land which he has sold, but to which he still holds the legal title, the purchase-money goes to the devisee.

32. Stevenson v. Polk, 71 Iowa 278, 32 N. W. 340; Flagg v. Teneick, 29 N. J. L. 25; Williams v. Haddock, 145 N. Y. 144, 39 N. E. 825; McCarty v. Myers, 5 Hun (N. Y.) 83; Moore v. Burrows, 34 Barb. (N. Y.) 173. See infra, VIII, O, 8, b.

33. Clapp v. Tower, 11 N. D. 556, 93 N. W. 862. See also McMillan v. Reeves, 102 N. C. 550, 9 S. E. 449, holding that where a decedent sold land, giving a bond for title, and taking notes for the purchase-money, and after his death his administrators compromised with the vendees, who were insolvent, by surrendering the notes, and receiving in return the title bond, this did not release the legal title in the heirs from the lien of the title bond, since the administrators were entitled to a sale of the land to reimburse the personal estate for the surrender of the notes.

34. McKay v. Carrington, 16 Fed. Cas. No. 8,841, 1 McLean 50.

35. Hoel v. Coursery, 26 Miss. 511.

36. Cowan v. Hite, 2 A. K. Marsh. (Ky.) 238; Buck v. Buck, 11 Paige (N. Y.) 170; Stephenson v. Yandle, 3 Hayw. (Tenn.) 109.

Certificate of purchase at execution sale.—On the death of a purchaser at an execution sale the legal title to the certificate passes to his executor, whose assignment carries such title. Palmer v. Riddle, 180 Ill. 461, 54 N. E. 227.

Redemption of property purchased at execution sale.—Upon the death of the purchaser of real estate at execution sale, no conveyance having been made to him for the land by the sheriff, if the land is redeemed by the debtor or his assignee, the redemption money would go to the personal representative and constitute a fund in his hands for the payment of debts and for distribution under the statute. Campbell v. Campbell, 3 Head (Tenn.) 325.

37. Young v. Young, 81 N. C. 91; Tate v. Conner, 17 N. C. 224. Contra, Castleberry v. Pierce, 5 Stew. & P. (Ala.) 150, 24 Am. Dec. 774; Laufler v. Ashley, 6 Ky. L. Rep. 748.

A right to enforce a lien for taxes paid on an invalid sale given by statute to "the grantee, his heirs and assigns" belongs to the purchaser's heirs and not to his personal representatives. Stephenson v. Martin, 84 Ind. 160.

38. Alabama.—Allen v. Greene, 19 Ala. 34.

Kentucky.— Ewing v. Handley, 4 Litt. 346, 14 Am. Dec. 140.

Michigan.— Gustin v. Bay City Union School-Dist., 94 Mich. 502, 54 N. W. 156, 34 Am. St. Rep. 361.

Missouri.— Brueggeman v. Jurgensen, 24 Mo. 87; Laberge v. McCausland, 3 Mo. 585.

Pennsylvania.— Irwin v. Hamilton, 6 Serg. & R. 208.

accordingly.[39] And while improvements put upon land ordinarily become part of the realty, the owner of erections upon land of another may, by agreement with the owner of the land, provide otherwise, so that upon the death of either party equity shall provide due reimbursement as for personal property.[40]

12. Mortgaged Property — a. In General. Where the owner of real estate encumbered by a mortgage dies, the land descends to his heirs or devisees, subject to the special encumbrance, or in other words the equity of redemption vests in them.[41] Hence to bar the equity of redemption by a sale of land under foreclosure the proceedings must be against the heirs.[42]

b. Surplus Proceeds of Sale. In case of foreclosure and sale, any surplus proceeds are regarded as realty and go directly to the heirs and devisees, and the representative cannot regard such proceeds as personal assets, nor as a rule sue to recover them.[43]

13. Property as to Which Power of Sale Given.[44] In some states the rule is that an authority given by will to an executor to sell land, unless accompanied with the right to receive the rents and profits, vests no estate in the executor, but the lands descend to the heirs or pass to the devisees subject to the execution of the power;[45] but in others the view prevails that where a testator authorizes or directs his executors to sell his real estate for certain purposes, the legal title to that real estate vests in the executors upon the death of the testator.[46]

D. Interests in Partnerships.[47] Before the liquidation of a partnership its effects are considered personalty not realty, although invested in land; and when a partner dies, his personal representative not his heir succeeds to his unliquidated interest therein;[48] but the legal title to property belonging to the copartnership vests in the surviving partner or partners, who alone should be deemed chargeable at law with the partnership debts, and entitled to realize upon the partnership assets, and who are, unless the articles of agreement provide otherwise, vested with Tennessee.— Shaw v. Wilkins, 8 Humphr. 647, 49 Am. Dec. 692.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 291.

39. Gray v. Hawkins, 8 Ohio St. 449, 72 Am. Dec. 600.

40. See Washburn v. Sproat, 16 Mass. 449; Brown v. Turner, 113 Mo. 27, 20 S. W. 660.

41. Holden v. Dunn, 144 Ill. 413, 43 N. E. 413, 19 L. R. A. 481; Shaw v. Hoadley, 8 Blackf. (Ind.) 165; Snow v. Warwick Sav. Inst., 17 R. I. 66, 20 Atl. 94; Stark v. Brown, 12 Wis. 572, 78 Am. Dec. 762. But see Doe v. Pendleton, 15 Ohio 735; Merriam v. Barton, 14 Vt. 501, holding that a bill to redeem mortgaged premises should be brought in the name of the personal representative.

42. Stark v. Brown, 12 Wis. 572, 78 Am. Dec. 762. Contra, Dixon v. Cuyler, 27 Ga. 248; Magruder v. Offutt, Dudley (Ga.) 227.

43. Dunning v. Ocean Nat. Bank, 61 N. Y. 497, 19 Am. Rep. 293 (so holding even though the mortgage provided that the surplus should be paid to the mortgagor, his executors, or administrators); Moses v. Murgatroyd, 1 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 119; Snow v. Warwick Sav. Inst., 17 R. I. 66, 20 Atl. 94; Charleston Bank v. Inglesby, Speers Eq. (S. C.) 399 (where, however, the proceeds were directed to be delivered to the administrator for the payment of debts upon his giving additional security). See also Cox v. McBurney, 2 Sandf. (N. Y.) 561. But compare Sheldon v. Bradley, 37 Conn. 324; Varnum v. Meserve, 8 Allen (Mass.) 158.

The surplus reassumes its character as personalty when it has vested in the person entitled to it, and at the death of such person it passes to his own personal representatives in its actual form. Sweezey v. Willis, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 495; Sayers' Appeal, 79 Pa. St. 428; Foster's Appeal, 74 Pa. St. 391, 15 Am. Rep. 553.

44. Sale under testamentary authority see infra, VIII, O, 9, d.

45. Ross v. Barr, 53 S. W. 658, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 974; Morse v. Morse, 85 N. Y. 53; Crittenden v. Fairchild, 41 N. Y. 289; Post v. Benchley, 15 N. Y. St. 618; Dunn v. Renick, 33 W. Va. 476, 10 S. E. 810.

46. Arlington State Bank v. Paulsen, 57 Nebr. 717, 78 N. W. 303; Dundas' Appeal, 64 Pa. St. 325.

47. As to including such interests in inventory see infra, IV, D.

48. Fairchild v. Fairchild, 5 Hun (N. Y.) 407 [affirmed in 64 N. Y. 471, and disapproving Cox v. McBurney, 2 Sandf. (N. Y.) 561]; Leaf's Appeal, 105 Pa. St. 505; Griffey v. Northcutt, 5 Heisk. (Tenn.) 746. See also Goodburn v. Stevens, 1 Md. Ch. 420; Brown v. Morrill, 45 Minn. 483, 48 N. W. 328. But compare Roulston v. Washington, 79 Ala. 529, holding that as to real estate purchased with the partnership funds or taken in payment of a partnership debt the legal title vested in the deceased partner descends to his heirs, although as respects a settlement of the partnership debts and accounts it possesses many of the incidents of personal property and will the exclusive right to and management of the firm assets for the purpose of closing the business and distributing such surplus as may remain.[49]

E. Foreign Assets.[50] In general the granting of administration is limited to property within the state or country of the grant so far as the authority conferred is concerned,[51] and hence the representative's failure to return foreign property in his inventory is no breach of his bond;[52] but the domiciliary representative should hold accountable, so far as he reasonably may, those who receive or hold such foreign assets;[53] while if he himself receives such property it becomes assets be treated as such in equity so far as it may be applied to such purpose.

49. Alabama.—Roulston v. Washington, 79 Ala. 529.

Illinois.— Kimball v. Lincoln, 99 Ill. 578 [affirming 7 Ill. App. 470].

Indiana.— Anderson v. Ackerman, 88 Ind. 481.

Missouri.— See Darby v. Swartz, 11 Mo. 217.

New York.— Egberts v. Wood, 3 Paige 517, 24 Am. Dec. 236.

Utah.— In re Auerbach, 23 Utah 529, 65 Pac. 488.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 295; and, generally, PARTNERSHIP.

Partnership books.—The surviving partner, not the decedent's estate, is entitled to possession of the books of the firm. Waring v. Waring, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 205.

Bond.— Under the statutes of some states the surviving partner may be cited and required to give a bond, and if he fails to do so the administrator of the deceased partner is entitled to the possession of the partnership property on giving a bond prescribed by statute. Teney v. Laing, 47 Kan. 297, 27 Pac. 976; Putnam v. Parker, 55 Me. 235; James v. Dixon, 21 Mo. 538.

The executor is not to be deemed an intermeddler where he takes charge of property of a partnership of which his testator was a member, the other partners giving the property no attention. Hewes v. Baxter, 48 La. Ann. 1303, 20 So. 701, 36 L. R. A. 531.

The executor or administrator of a surviving partner stands in the same position as the surviving partner during the latter's lifetime. Although here he has the legal title to the partnership assets, yet they are the legal assets of the firm, and not of his decedent, and should neither be inventoried nor accounted for directly as property of the estate. Such executor or administrator is in fact a trustee, whose duty it is to collect the partnership property and pay the debts of the firm, selling out in a suitable case the good will and stock of the business; and after the surplus is ascertained and the interests of the firm settled he should pay the share of the partner first deceased to his personal representatives and bring the share of the partner last deceased into his account of the estate. Thomson v. Thomson, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 24.

50. Foreign and ancillary administration see infra, XVI.

51. State v. Campbell, 10 Mo. 724; Ordronaux v. Helie, 3 Sandf. Ch. (N. Y.) 512. See also McBride v. Choate, 37 N. C. 610.

Situs of debt.— Where one of two persons dies indebted to another, both being subjects of and domiciled in the same foreign country, and an original administration is granted in such foreign country and an ancillary one in the state where the debt was contracted, such debt will be referred for settlement to the original administration. Dawes v. Head, 3 Pick. (Mass.) 128. Where administration is granted on an estate in two states, what was due to the decedent as partner in a firm carrying on business in one state is payable to the administrator in that state, although the payment is made in the other state where the decedent lives. Jones v. Warren, 70 Miss. 227, 14 So. 25.

The title to a bond or other document of evidence of a foreign debt vests by relation in the executor or administrator where that document lies. Bartlett v. Gray, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 615; Bullock v. Rogers, 16 Vt. 294.

52. Kentucky.— Purdy v. Purdy, 42 S. W. 89, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 823.

Louisiana.— St. John's Succession, 6 La. Ann. 192.

Mississippi.— Anderson v. Gregg, 44 Miss. 170; Riley v. Moseley, 44 Miss. 37.

North Carolina.— Young v. Kennedy, 95 N. C. 265; Grant v. Reese, 94 N. C. 720; Colson v. Martin, 62 N. C. 125; Sanders v. Jones, 43 N. C. 246.

Pennsylvania.— Mothland v. Wireman, 3 Penr. & W. 185, 33 Am. Dec. 71.

Tennessee.— Bowman v. Carr, 5 Lea 571.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 299.

Appointment of separate executors.—Where a testator appoints one executor to take charge of property within the state or country, and another to take charge of foreign property, the former is only bound to account for the property within the state or country. Sherman v. Page, 85 N. Y. 123.

Lands situate and descending in another state, or their rents, or proceeds of their sale, are not usually to be deemed assets in the state of last domicile. Smith v. Smith, 13 Ala. 329; Hubbard v. Hinkley, 1 Root (Conn.) 413; Morrill v. Morrill, 1 Allen (Mass.) 132; Austin v. Gage, 9 Mass. 395; Peck v. Mead, 2 Wend. (N. Y.) 470. But see Dickson v. U. S., 125 Mass. 311, 28 Am. Rep. 230.

A power under a will may confer authority to convey land situated in another state. Newton v. Bronson, 13 N. Y. 587, 67 Am. Dec. 89.

53. Colson v. Martin, 62 N. C. 125.

in his hands which must be accounted for as such.[54] An executor or administrator qualifying in the state of the domicile of the testator has title ultimately to the assets, wherever they may be situated, subject, however, to the satisfaction of local creditors and claimants,[55] and ought to consider all the chattels of his decedent wheresoever situated as assets if by reasonable diligence he may pursue and possess himself of them.[56]

F. Proceeds of Insurance Policies. The right to the proceeds of a policy of insurance as between the personal representative of a decedent and his heirs and others will be treated elsewhere.[57]

G. Exempt Property.[58] On the death of a debtor property which would have been set apart for him under his exemption had he lived remains a part of his estate and goes to his administrator;[59] but in most states there are statutory provisions by which certain property, or property up to a certain value, is not considered assets, but goes to the widow or children free from the decedent's debts.[60]

H. Ownership of Property — 1. In General. In order that property may constitute assets, the decedent must have owned the same at the time of his death,[61] and similarly debts or claims can be assets only where the decedent at 54. Sampson v. Graham, 7 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 497 (proceeds of sale); Collins v. Bankhead, 1 Strobh. (S. C.) 25; Borer v. Chapman, 119 U. S. 587, 7 S. Ct. 342, 30 L. ed. 532; Van Bokkelen v. Cook, 28 Fed. Cas. No. 16,831, 5 Sawy. 587.

Notes or bonds owned by deceased at the time of his death and secured by mortgages on land in another state or country are properly assets in the hands of the domiciliary executor or administrator, who should there account for them and who may sue and enforce them in the state where the land lies. Gray's Estate, 1 Kulp (Pa.) 449; Eells v. Holder, 12 Fed. 668, 2 McCrary 622.

Foreign assets transmitted in trust, etc.— If foreign property is remitted after due administration upon a certain trust or for a certain purpose conformably to law or a testator's direction, the domiciliary court will respect that trust or purpose and disregard such property as assets. Wheelock v. Pierce, 6 Cush. (Mass.) 288; Sedgwick v. Ashburner, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 105.

55. Matter of McCabe, 84 N. Y. App. Div. 145, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 180 [affirmed in 177 N. Y. 584, 69 N. E. 1126]; Pulliam v. Pulliam, 10 Fed. 23. But compare Carmichael v. Ray, 40 N. C. 365.

56. Gayle v. Blackburn, 1 Stew. (Ala.) 429; In re Ortiz, 86 Cal. 306, 24 Pac. 1034, 21 Am. St. Rep. 44; Suarez v. New York, 2 Sandf. Ch. (N. Y.) 173; Gray v. Swain, 9 N. C. 15.

Policies of life insurance issued by a Connecticut company, and held in possession by it in that state as collateral security for a loan to the insured, who was domiciled in New York, are not exclusively Connecticut assets of the deceased insured, but may be sued on in New York by the domiciliary administrator if the insurer can be served in the latter state. Steele v. Connecticut Gen. L. Ins. Co., 31 N. Y. App. Div. 389, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 373.

57. See, generally, Fire Insurance; Insurance; Life Insurance; Marine Insurance; Mutual Benefit Insurance.

58. See, generally, Exemptions.

59. In re Seabolt, 113 Fed. 766.

60. See Armstrong v. Cavitt, 78 Ind. 476; Crawford v. Nassoy, 55 N. Y. App. Div. 433, 67 N. Y. Suppl. 108 (holding that the question whether certain property falls within the meaning of a statute providing that certain property specified shall not be appraised or deemed assets of the estate, but shall be left in the possession of the widow, and, if there be no minor child the property mentioned shall belong to the widow, cannot be determined in an action against the administrator for its conversion, it being a question for the determination of the appraisers in the first instance, subject to review by the surrogate); and infra, IX.

61. Cooper v. White, 19 Ga. 554; In re Miller, 73 Iowa 118, 34 N. W. 769; Day v. Stone, 15 Abb. Pr. N. S. (N. Y.) 137. See also Beazley v. Kendrick, 78 Ga. 121.

The surrender of property by the person in possession upon the representative's demand does not estop him from afterward asserting that he is the owner and reclaiming it. Adler v. Pin, 80 Ala. 351; Sherman v. Sherman, 3 Ind. 337.

Election exercised by decedent.— Where a consignee had a right to purchase the goods he held at a stipulated price, but elected rather to hold them as consignee, his executor or administrator could not after his death elect to hold them as a purchaser. Bacon v. Sondley, 3 Strobh. (S. C.) 542, 51 Am. Dec. 646.

Claim by wife of decedent based on declaration of ownership.— Mere declarations of a husband that property purchased by his wife belongs to her, unaccompanied by any explanation as to how she acquired and paid therefor, are insufficient to vest the property in the wife as against the husband's next of kin so as to entitle her to exclude the same from the inventory of her husband's estate such time was the creditor or claimant,[62] for otherwise the title cannot devolve upon the personal representative.[63] But personal property belonging to the deceased which is in the possession or control of a third person at the time of his death vests as assets in the executor or administrator of the owner.[64] Property bona fide and regularly transferred to others by the decedent during his lifetime with mutual intent that the title should pass, whether by way of sale or gift, does not vest in the executor or administrator,[65] although he may maintain an equita-as his administratrix. Bradford's Appeal, 29 Pa. St. 513.

Bequest of income of deposit.— Where the income of a deposit was bequeathed to A for life and testator declared that the principal should be paid to A's executor or administrator and go to A's heirs, the principal of the fund did not, on A's death, constitute assets of his estate in the hands of his executors but was held by them in trust to distribute to A's heirs. Thayer v. Fairchild, 25 R. I. 509, 56 Atl. 772.

Stock standing in name of decedent.— That stock stands on the transfer book of a corporation in the name of a decedent is not conclusive evidence that it belongs to his estate, but is equally consistent with his holding the stock as collateral, as clearly indicated by circumstances, especially when he kept a careful book-account of his investments, which did not include such stock. Van Winkle v. Blackford, 54 W. Va. 621, 46 S. E. 589.

62. Schouler Ex. § 204.

Effect of inventory.— Where an administrator returns in his inventory as having come into his possession among the effects of the intestate certain packages containing money, each one indorsed with a memorandum indicating that the money contained in it belonged to some third person particularly named, the administrator should not be charged with the money contained in such packages as assets merely upon the strength of his inventory. Judge v. Tison, 42 Ala. 401.

Evidence as to ownership.— Evidence that certain notes were payable to decedent or bearer is not sufficient to establish that they belonged to the estate where at decedent's death they were found in the possession of another person and there is other proof besides such person's possession of his right to the notes. Williams v. Thomas, 65 Iowa 183, 21 N. W. 509.

63. Schouler Ex. § 204.

64. Bean v. Bumpus, 22 Me. 549; Green v. Collins, 28 N. C. 139; Shakespeare v. Fidelity Ins., etc., Co., 97 Pa. St. 173.

65. Alabama.— Wood v. Wood, 3 Ala. 756.

California.— Cunningham's Estate, Myr. Prob. 76.

Georgia.— Howes v. Whipple, 41 Ga. 322.

Illinois.— Harmon v. Harmon, 63 Ill. 512.

Indiana.— Garner v. Graves, 54 Ind. 188.

Louisiana.— Burke v. Bishop, 27 La. Ann. 465, 21 Am. Rep. 567; Hart v. Boni, 6 La. 97.

Maine.— See Thorndike v. Barrett, 2 Me. 312.

Massachusetts.— Coverdale v. Aldrich, 19 Pick. 391 (holding that where property attached in the hands of trustees was assigned by the owner for the benefit of creditors and the attachment was afterward dissolved by his death, the assignee and not the administrator was entitled to the property); Dawes v. Boylston, 9 Mass. 337, 6 Am. Dec. 72.

Missouri.— Scruggs v. Alexander, 72 Mo. 134 (holding that where decedent sold certain property before his death, stipulating that the price should be paid to his wife in a certain manner, the widow and not the executor was entitled to receive the proceeds of the sale); Tye v. Tye, 88 Mo. App. 330.

New York.— Matter of McAleenan, 53 N. Y. App. Div. 193, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 970 [affirmed in 165 N. Y. 645, 59 N. E. 1125]; Anderson v. Thomson, 38 Hun 394; Matter of Hildebrand, 1 Misc. 245, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 148.

North Carolina.— Biddle v. Carraway, 59 N. C. 95.

Oregon.— Deneff v. Helms, 42 Oreg. 161, 70 Pac. 390.

Pennsylvania.—Thomas v. Smith, 3 Whart. 401.

South Carolina.— Sullivan v. Latimer, 38 S. C. 158, 17 S. E. 701; Anderson v. Belcher, 1 Hill 246, 26 Am. Dec. 174.

Texas.— Steven v. Lee, 70 Tex. 279, 8 S. W. 40.

Vermont.— Rutland, etc., R. Co. v. Powers, 25 Vt. 15.

Virginia.— Perdue v. Dillon, 89 Va. 182, 15 S. E. 385.

United States.— Morancy v. Palms, 68 Fed. 64, 15 C. C. A. 223.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 308.

Check cashed after decedent's death.— An administrator of a solvent estate cannot recover moneys obtained from a bank, after decedent's death, upon a check given by him before death, in payment of debts, although the holder knew of his death and failed to inform the bank thereof. McMurray v. Ennis, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 698.

A gift causa mortis is not to be ignored by the representative (Westerlo v. De Witt, 36 N. Y. 340, 93 Am. Dec. 517; Michener v. Dale, 23 Pa. St. 59), although in case of a deficiency of assets the personal representative may pursue a gift causa mortis in the hands of the donee, but he must show the facts constituting the necessity and his recovery will be limited to the extent of such necessity (Seybold v. Grand Forks Nat. Bank, 5 N. D. 460, 67 N. W. 682).

Where part of a fund is absolutely transferred by decedent, the other portion not so transferred may be recovered by the repre-

ble action to cancel an assignment by the decedent on the ground that it was obtained from him by undue influence,[66] or contest the validity of an alleged gift.[67] Conversely, since legal transfer implies parting with dominion over the thing, any professed transfer during one's lifetime which left the possession, control, and power to revoke in the transferee, keeps his title virtually undivested, so that at his decease the chattel must be administered as assets.[68]

2. Presumption as to Ownership. It is a presumption of law that personal property of all kinds found in a person's possession or under his dominion and control at the time of his death belongs to him and constitutes assets of his estate, especially if he has had possession for a long time under circumstances favorable to strengthening his title; and it devolves upon any one claiming any of the property adversely to establish his title.[69]

3. Property Held in Fiduciary Capacity. Property which a decedent held in a fiduciary capacity does not at his death properly constitute assets, but should be devoted to the purposes of the trust,[70] although the account of the trust should sentative after his death. Beals v. Crowley, 59 Cal. 665; Matter of Conklin, 20 N. Y. Suppl. 59, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 176.

Money accepted in trust.— Where decedent gave A certain money stating to him that it was a gift and if he was unwilling to accept it as such to keep it in trust for certain purposes, and A accepted the money, electing to treat it as a trust, the administrator of the decedent was not entitled to the fund. Reyburn v. Bakewell, 88 Mo. App. 640.

Money given for funeral expenses.— Where a decedent gave money to a certain person in trust to expend the same after her death for her funeral, and he thus expended it, the administrator cannot recover such sum where all preferred claims have been paid and it does not appear that the probate court has disapproved of the payments made by such person. Bedell v. Scoggins, (Cal. 1895) 40 Pac. 954.

Attack on title of claimant.— An administrator, in answer to a suit to enjoin the sale of property inventoried as belonging to the succession, may allege and show the simulated character of plaintiff's title. Grant's Succession, 23 La. Ann. 741.

A savings bank deposit belonging to a donee is not assets of the donor, even though the donee may have to recover it from the bank in the name of the donor's representative. Watson v. Watson, 69 Vt. 243, 39 Atl. 201.

A deed delivered after decedent's death does not affect creditor's rights as to his realty. Rosseau v. Bleau, 131 N. Y. 177, 30 N. E. 52, 27 Am. St. Rep. 578.

As to property fraudulently conveyed see infra, III, H, 7.

66. Derrick v. Emmens, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 360; Clapp v. Clark, 49 Fed. 123.

67. Kiff v. Weaver, 94 N. C. 274, 55 Am. Rep. 601. But see Ford v. Hennessy, 70 Mo. 580.

68. Georgia.— Bothwell v. Dobbs, 59 Ga. 787.

Iowa.— Madison v. Shockley, 41 Iowa 451.

Louisiana.— Burke v. Bishop, 27 La. Ann. 465, 21 Am. Rep. 567, undrawn check.

Massachusetts.— Cummings v. Bramhall, 120 Mass. 552.

Michigan.— Bigelow v. Paton, 4 Mich. 170.

Mississippi.— French v. Davis, 38 Miss. 167.

Missouri.— Tye v. Tye, 88 Mo. App. 330.

New Jersey.— Roberts v. Wills, 20 N. J. L. 591.

New York.—Matter of Ward, 2 Redf. Surr. 251.

Virginia.— Spooner v. Hilbish, 92 Va. 333, 23 S. E. 751.

West Virginia.— Tennant v. Headlee, 31 W. Va. 585, 8 S. E. 544.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 308.

A bailment under instructions which death countermands does not divest the bailee's title. Bigelow v. Paton, 4 Mich. 170; Gilman v. McArdle, 99 N. Y. 451, 2 N. E. 464, 52 Am. Rep. 41.

69. Kentucky.— Robbins v. Robbins, 1 S. W. 152, 8 Ky. L. Rep. 54.

Louisiana.—Alexander's Succession, 18 La. Ann. 337; Waters v. Grayson, 3 La. Ann. 595; Lynch v. Benton, 12 Rob. 113.

Maryland.— Getty v. Long, 82 Md. 643, 33 Atl. 639, holding that the fact that a bank-account stands in one's own name is prima facie evidence that it belongs to his estate.

Mississippi.— See Buie v. Buie, 67 Miss. 456, 7 So. 344.

Missouri.— Criddle v. Criddle, 21 Mo. 522.

Pennsylvania.— Cummings' Estate, 153 Pa. St. 397, 25 Atl. 1125.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 306.

The record of a mortgage running to decedent without evidence that he owned it at his death does not support a finding of assets. Steele v. Connecticut Gen. L. Ins. Co., 31 N. Y. App. Div. 389, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 373 [affirmed in 160 N. Y. 703, 57 N. E. 1125].

70. California.— Stanwood v. Sage, 22 Cal. 516.

Colorado.— Central City First Nat. Bank v. Hammel, 14 Colo. 259, 23 Pac. 986, 20 Am. St. Rep. 272, 8 L. R. A. 788.

Florida.— Bloxam v. Crane, 19 Fla. 163.

Georgia.— Perkins v. Keith, 33 Ga. 525.

be settled by the personal representative.[71] But if any trust fund which the decedent held in his lifetime be gone, or its identity lost at his death, the personal representative does not stand in the relation of trustee to the cestui que trust, beyond the obligation imposed by his office as executor or administrator; and no remedy lies against him except such as belongs to a general creditor of the estate, unless assets exist to which the lien of the cestui que trust in equity can properly attach.[72]

4. Life-Estates. Property in which decedent had only a life-estate does not go to his personal representative.[73]

5. Reversions or Remainders. A decedent's interest in reversion or remainder in property may constitute assets.[74]

6. Equitable Estates or Interests. Equitable interests generally in property are recoverable for the decedent's estate by his personal representative;[75] but an Kansas.— Hubbard v. Alamo Irrigating, etc., Co., 53 Kan. 637, 36 Pac. 1053, 37 Pac. 625.

Kentucky.— Schoolfield v. Rudd, 9 B. Mon. 291.

Louisiana.— L'Hommedieu v. Penny, 6 La. 599.

Maine.— Thompson v. White, 45 Me. 445; Richardson v. Woodbury, 43 Me. 206.

Massachusetts.— Childs v. Jordan, 106 Mass. 321; Johnson v. Ames, 11 Pick. 173.

Michigan.—Mains v. Webber, 131 Mich. 213, 91 N. W. 172.

New York.— Crowe v. Brady, 5 Redf. Surr. 1.

North Carolina.— Alamance v. Blair, 76 N. C. 136; Simmons v. Whitaker, 37 N. C. 129; Green v. Collins, 28 N. C. 139.

Ohio.— Quinby v. Walker, 14 Ohio St. 193.

Pennsylvania.— Work v. Work, 14 Pa. St. 316; Merrick's Estate, 8 Watts & S. 402.

South Carolina.— Gary v. People's Nat. Bank, 26 S. C. 538, 2 S. E. 568, 4 Am. St. Rep. 733; Charleston v. Duncan, 3 Brev. 386; Gage v. Allison, 1 Brev. 495, 2 Am. Dec. 682.

Vermont.— Sherman v. Dodge, 28 Vt. 26.

Washington.— In re Belt, 29 Wash. 535, 70 Pac. 74, 92 Am. St. Rep. 916.

United States.—Robison v. Codman, 20 Fed. Cas. No. 11,970, 1 Sumn. 121; U. S. v. Cutts, 25 Fed. Cas. No. 14,912, 1 Sumn. 133. See also De Valengin v. Duffy, 14 Pet. 282, 10 L. ed. 457.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 296, 307.

Trust must be shown where not express.— Belknap v. Caldwell, 82 Ind. 270.

Land subject to resulting trust.— Land nominally of the decedent in which a resulting trust is established may in equity be held fully answerable for what was owing the cestui que trust before decedent's estate can derive benefit therefrom. See Sheldon v. Bradley, 37 Conn. 224; West v. Howard, 20 Conn. 581.

A trust fund wrongfully mingled by a trustee with his other funds and property and retained by him may be followed and reclaimed from the administrator of his estate. Hubbard v. Alamo Irrigating, etc., Co., 53 Kan. 637, 36 Pac. 1053, 37 Pac. 625.

71. Baird's Appeal, 3 Watts & S. (Pa.) 459.

Bank deposits standing in one's own name as "trustee" or with other fiduciary indication are properly recoverable from the bank upon his death by his executor or administator, who may thereupon be held responsible at the instance of his beneficiary for performing such trusts, if any, as had attached to the deposit. Boone v. Citizens' Sav. Bank, 84 N. Y. 83, 38 Am. Rep. 498; Ray v. Simmons, 11 R. I. 266, 23 Am. Rep. 447.

The executor of a consignee is not liable to the consignor for debts due on his account unless there be gross negligence. McConnico v. Curzen, 2 Call (Va.) 358, 1 Am. Dec. 540.

72. Lathrop v. Bampton, 31 Cal. 17, 89 Am. Dec. 141; O'Brien v. New England Trust Co., 183 Mass. 186, 66 N. E. 794; Johnson v. Ames, 11 Pick. (Mass.) 173; Bobbitt v. Jones, 107 N. C. 658, 12 S. E. 267; Trecothick v. Austin, 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,164, 4 Mason 16.

Where a life beneficiary has mingled principal and income as one fund, the division of the property at her death becomes largely a matter of convenience. Kimball v. New Hampshire Bible Soc., 65 N. H. 139, 23 Atl. 83, 85.

73. Connecticut.— See Connecticut Trust, etc., Co. v. Security Co., 67 Conn. 438, 35 Atl. 342.

Georgia.— Sawyer v. Flemister, 29 Ga. 347.

Indiana.— Jester v. Gustin, 158 Ind. 287, 63 N. E. 471.

Kentucky.—Simrall v. Graham, 1 Dana 574.

Michigan.— See Salter v. Sutherland, 123 Mich. 225, 81 N. W. 1070, 50 L. R. A. 140.

Pennsylvania.— King's Estate, 12 Wkly. Notes Cas. 109; Tucker v. Horner, 10 Phila. 122.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 285.

74. Kinaston v. Clark, 2 Atk. 204, 26 Eng. Reprint 526 (reversion come into possession); Warwick v. Edwards, Dick. 51, 21 Eng. Reprint 186 (reversion in fee after tail spent); Tyndale v. Warre, Jac. 212, 4 Eng. Ch. 212 (reversion expectant upon an estate for life and upon estates tail limited to unborn children).

75. Maine.— Bean v. Bumpus, 22 Me. 549.

Missouri.— Atkison v. Henry, 80 Mo. 670.

North Carolina.— Uzzle v. Wood, 54 N. C. 226.

Ohio.— Craig v. Jennings, 31 Ohio St. 84; Avery v. Dufrees, 9 Ohio 145; Duly v. Duly, estate held specifically in trust follows usually the terms of the trust, and is not upon the death of the cestui que trust to be conveyed to his personal representatives to pay such beneficiary's debts.[76]

7. Property Fraudulently Conveyed.[77] The death of the grantor or donor in a sale, transfer, or gift which is fraudulent as to creditors does not have the effect of barring their rights, but the sale or gift may be avoided,[78] although only, it has been held, where otherwise there is or will be a deficiency of assets,[79] and then only to the extent necessary to pay debts,[80] for, if the gift or transfer was

2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 425, 3 West. L. Month. 42.

Pennsylvania.— In re Johnson, 2 Whart. 120.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 296.

But see Rhea v. Tucker, 56 Ala. 450, holding that where a plaintiff in a suit to establish a resulting trust in lands died before a final decree the suit should be revived in the name of his heirs and a decree in favor of his personal representative was erroneous.

Income of trust fund.— The administrator of one for whose benefit during life the income of a trust fund has been given by will, can, if time has elapsed between the last payment and the beneficiary's death, recover a part proportionate to that time. Haraden v. Larrabee, 113 Mass. 430.

76. Leiper v. Irvine, 26 Pa. St. 54.

77. See, generally, Fraudulent Conveyances.

78. Alabama.— Smith v. Cockrell, 66 Ala. 64; Marler v. Marler, 6 Ala. 367.

California.—Field v. Andrada, 106 Cal. 107, 39 Pac. 323.

Indiana.— Bottorff v. Covert, 90 Ind. 508; Burtch v. Elliot, 3 Ind. 99.

Iowa.— Harlin v. Stevenson, 30 Iowa 371.

Kentucky.— Smith v. Pollard, 4 B. Mon. 66.

Louisiana.— Walworth v. Snodgrass, 7 La. Ann. 136.

Maine.— McLean v. Weeks, 61 Me. 277.

Massachusetts.— Welsh v. Welsh, 105 Mass. 229; Wall v. Provident Sav. Inst., 3 Allen 96; Martin v. Root, 17 Mass. 222.

Mississippi.— Blake v. Blake, 53 Miss. 182.

Nebraska.— Becker v. Anderson, 6 Nebr. 499.

New Hampshire.— Preston v. Cutter, 65 N. H. 85, 18 Atl. 92.

New York.— Gilman v. McArdle, 99 N. Y. 451, 2 N. E. 464, 52 Am. Rep. 41; Reade v. Livingston, 3 Johns. Ch. 481, 8 Am. Dec. 520.

Ohio.— Hampson v. Sumner, 18 Ohio 444.

Vermont.— Peaslee v. Barney, 1 D. Chipm. 331, 6 Am. Dec. 743.

Wisconsin.— Cornell v. Radway, 22 Wis. 260.

United States.— Yeaton v. Lynn, 5 Pet. 224, 8 L. ed. 105 [affirming 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,642, 3 Cranch C. C. 182].

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 309.

If decedent dies in possession of property fraudulently transferred by deed the property is to be deemed assets. Kent v. Lyon, 4 Fla. 474, 54 Am. Dec. 404; Hunt v. Butterworth, 21 Tex. 133, 73 Am. Dec. 223. And see Babcock v. Booth, 2 Hill (N. Y.) 181, 38 Am. Dec. 578; Spooner v. Hilbish, 92 Va. 333, 23 S. E. 751.

The representative may resist the collection of a demand against the estate founded upon a fraudulent transfer by decedent. Welsh v. Welsh, 105 Mass. 229; Cross v. Brown, 51 N. H. 486.

Action for money had and received, wrongful taking, etc.— Not only direct proceedings to set aside by bill in equity may be justified, but also actions in assumpsit against the transferee as for money had and received or tortwise as for a wrongful taking, etc.

Maine.— McLean v. Weeks, 61 Me. 277.

Massachusetts.— Wall v. Provident Sav. Inst., 6 Allen 320.

Minnesota.— Bennett v. Schuster, 24 Minn. 383.

New Hampshire.— Everett v. Read, 3 N. H. 55.

New York.— McKnight v. Morgan, 2 Barb. 171.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 309.

Representative not liable for allowing donee to take.— It is not a devastavit for a personal representative to deliver to the donee or suffer the donee to take property conveyed by the decedent in his lifetime, although it turns out that the conveyance was fraudulent. Greenlee v. Hays, 1 Overt. (Tenn.) 300.

Administrator may disaffirm mortgage fraudulent as to creditors. Hangen v. Huchmeister, 114 N. Y. 566, 21 N. E. 1046, 11 Am. St. Rep. 691, 5 L. R. A. 137.

Receiving payment of the consideration by the personal representative does not of itself ratify the transfer in fraud of creditors, unless, perhaps, where the payment is received with full knowledge of all the facts and the representative is a party in interest. Norton v. Norton, 5 Cush. (Mass.) 524.

79. California.— Murphy v. Clayton, 114 Cal. 526, 43 Pac. 613, 46 Pac. 460; Field v. Andrada, 106 Cal. 107, 39 Pac. 323.

Indiana.— Jarrell v. Brubaker, 150 Ind. 260, 49 N. E. 1050.

Missouri.— Bagley v. Harmon, 91 Mo. App. 22.

Vermont.—Allen v. Mower, 17 Vt. 61.

West Virginia.—Boggs v. McCay, 15 W. Va. 344.

Wisconsin.— Ecklor v. Wolcott, 115 Wis. 19, 90 N. W. 1081.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 309.

80. Schwalber v. Ehman, 62 N. J. Eq. 314, 49 Atl. 1085.

good as against the decedent, it is good as against his heirs, distributees, legatees, or devisees, even though it may be fraudulent as to creditors, and hence the donee or transferee is entitled to what remains after the demands of creditors and the expenses of administration are paid,[81] and if the creditors of the estate all waive their right to impeach a conveyance or transfer by the decedent, no cause for setting it aside appears.[82] If the transferee or donee relinquish or fail to assert his own claim the property should be treated as belonging to the estate of the decedent.[83] It has been laid down in some jurisdictions that the executor or administrator may bring proceedings to avoid a fraudulent conveyance by his decedent,[84] while in others the right of a personal representative to impeach a 81. California.— Murphy v. Clayton, 114 Cal. 526, 43 Pac. 613, 46 Pac. 460.

Connecticut.— Bassett v. McKenna, 52 Conn. 437; Andruss v. Doolittle, 11 Conn. 283.

Indiana.— U. S. Bank v. Burke, 4 Blackf. 141.

Maine.— McLean v. Weeks, 61 Me. 277.

Massachusetts.—Welsh v. Welsh, 105 Mass. 229.

Michigan.— Reed v. Jourdan, 109 Mich. 128, 66 N. W. 947; Morris v. Morris, 5 Mich. 171.

New Hampshire.—Cross v. Brown, 51 N. H. 486.

Vermont.— Pease v. Shirlock, 63 Vt. 622, 22 Atl. 661.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 309.

82. Winn v. Barnett, 31 Miss. 653; Snodgrass v. Andrews, 30 Miss. 472, 64 Am. Dec. 169.

83. Warren v. Hall, 6 Dana (Ky.) 450; Sharp v. Caldwell, 7 Humphr. (Tenn.) 415.

84. California.— Emmons v. Barton, 109 Cal. 662, 42 Pac. 303. See also Field v. Andrada, 106 Cal. 107, 39 Pac. 323; Ohm v. San Francisco Super. Ct., 85 Cal. 545, 26 Pac. 244, 20 Am. St. Rep. 245.

Connecticut.—Andruss v. Doolittle, 11 Conn. 283.

Idaho.— See Brown v. Perrault, 5 Ida. 729, 51 Pac. 752.

Indiana.— Jarrell v. Brubaker, 150 Ind. 260, 49 N. E. 1050; Wilson v. Boone, 136 Ind. 142, 35 N. E. 1096; Bottorff v. Covert, 90 Ind. 508; Johnson v. Jones, 79 Ind. 141; Martin v. Bolton, 75 Ind. 295; Hess v. Hess, 19 Ind. 238. But compare Garner v. Graves, 54 Ind. 188.

Iowa.— Doe v. Clark, 42 Iowa 123; Cooley v. Brown, 30 Iowa 470.

Maine.— Frost v. Libby, 79 Me. 56, 8 Atl. 149; McLean v. Weeks, 61 Me. 277; Caswell v. Caswell, 28 Me. 232.

Massachusetts.— Putney v. Fletcher, 148 Mass. 247, 19 N. E. 370; Parker v. Flagg, 127 Mass. 28; Wall v. Provident Sav. Inst., 6 Allen 320; Tenney v. Poor, 14 Gray 500, 77 Am. Dec. 340; Norton v. Norton, 5 Cush. 524; Holland v. Cruft, 20 Pick. 321; Gibbens v. Peeler, 8 Pick. 254; Martin v. Root, 17 Mass. 222.

Michigan.— Beith v. Porter, 119 Mich. 365, 78 N. W. 336, 75 Am. St. Rep. 402 (holding that an administrator can recover property for which the deceased paid, but the title to which he caused to be taken in the name of another person, in fraud of creditors); White v. Newhall, 68 Mich. 641, 36 N. W. 699.

New Hampshire.— Matthews v. Hutchins, 68 N. H. 412, 40 Atl. 1063; Clark v. Clough, 65 N. H. 43, 23 Atl. 526; Preston v. Cutter, 64 N. H. 461, 13 Atl. 874; Janvrin v. Curtis, 63 N. H. 312; Abbott v. Tenney, 18 N. H. 109.

New York.— West Troy Nat. Bank v. Levy, 127 N. Y. 549, 28 N. E. 592 [reversing 2 N. Y. Suppl. 162]; Harvey v. McDonnell, 113 N. Y. 526, 21 N. E. 695; Lichtenberg v. Herdtfelder, 103 N. Y. 302, 8 N. E. 526; Bate v. Graham, 11 N. Y. 237; Barton v. Hosner, 24 Hun 467; Dennison v. Ely, 1 Barb. 610; In re Hathaway, 24 N. Y. Suppl. 468, Pow. Surr. 447; Kendall v. Mellen, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 207; Gilleland v. Failing, 5 Den. 308; Brownell v. Curtis, 10 Paige 210. See also Phelps v. Platt, 50 Barb. 430. But compare Osborne v. Moss, 7 Johns. 161, 5 Am. Dec. 252; Ordronaux v. Helie, 3 Sandf. Ch. 512.

North Carolina.— Webb v. Atkinson, 122 N. C. 683, 29 S. E. 949; Tuck v. Walker, 106 N. C. 285, 11 S. E. 183. But compare Burton v. Farinholt, 86 N. C. 260; Coltraine v. Causey, 38 N. C. 246, 42 Am. Dec. 168; Rhem v. Tull, 35 N. C. 57.

Ohio.— Doney v. Clark, 55 Ohio St. 294, 45 N. E. 316; Hoffman v. Kiefer, 19 Ohio Cir. Ct. 401, 10 Ohio Cir. Dec. 304. And see Kilbourne v. Fay, 29 Ohio St. 264, 23 Am. Rep. 741. But compare Benjamin v. Le Baron, 15 Ohio 517; Doney v. Dunnick, 8 Ohio Cir. Ct. 163, 4 Ohio Cir. Dec. 380.

Pennsylvania.— Stewart v. Kearney, 6 Watts 453, 31 Am. Dec. 482; Gross' Estate, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 113.

South Carolina.— Kirkpatrick v. Atkinson, 11 Rich. Eq. 27; King v. Clarke, 2 Hill Eq. 611. But compare Hargroves v. Meray, 2 Hill Eq. 222.

Tennessee.— Martin v. Crosby, 11 Lea 198; Boxly v. McKay, 4 Sneed 286. But compare Mulloy v. Young, 10 Humphr. 298; Lassiter v. Cole, 8 Humphr. 621; Gilliam v. Spence, 6 Humphr. 160; Moody v. Fry, 3 Humphr. 567.

Vermont.— McLane v. Johnson, 43 Vt. 48; Allen v. Mower, 17 Vt. 61. But compare Martin v. Martin, 1 Vt. 91, 18 Am. Dec. 675; Peaslee v. Barney, 1 D. Chipm. 331, 6 Am. Dec. 743.

Wisconsin.— Ecklor v. Wolcott, 115 Wis. 19, 90 N. W. 1081. See also O'Malley v. O'Malley, 102 Wis. 639, 78 N. W. 753.

transfer of property made by the decedent on the ground that it was fraudulent as to creditors is denied.[85]

IV. Inventory and Appraisal.

A. In General. In England there are statutes requiring every executor or administrator to file an inventory of all the goods and chattels of the deceased,[86] but in modern practice the custom of filing an inventory appears to have fallen into disuse, although the theory still is to compel such exhibit on the petition of any party in interest.[87] In the United States, on the other hand, the inventory has become a settled feature of modern probate practice, and the first duty of an

United States.— Smith v. New York L. Ins. Co., 57 Fed. 133; Clapp v. Clark, 49 Fed. 123. See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 309.

Personal representative may be compelled to bring suit. Ohm v. San Francisco Super. Ct., 85 Cal. 545, 26 Pac. 244, 20 Am. St. Rep. 245 (holding, however, that a person whose claim has been disallowed by the representative and for the establishment of whose claim an action is pending and undetermined is not a creditor within the meaning of the statute providing for the compelling of suit by an executor or administrator to set aside a fraudulent conveyance on application of creditors); Lichtenberg v. Herdtfelder, 103 N. Y. 302, 8 N. E. 526.

The right of a creditor to attack a conveyance by a decedent which is fraudulent as to creditors is not taken away by the statute authorizing the administrator to attack such a conveyance, but when the assets are reached at the suit of a creditor they will be placed in the hands of the administrator to be distributed according to law. Hoffman v. Kiefer, 19 Ohio Cir. Ct. 401, 10 Ohio Cir. Dec. 304.

An administrator is not entitled to a reconveyance of the land, for the law gives him, not a title to the land of his intestate but merely a right to sell the same in a prescribed mode and for certain specified purposes. Crocker v. Smith, 32 Me. 244.

Where the alleged fraudulent grantee is the executrix of the grantor a suit in equity will lie in favor of the creditors to set aside the conveyance. Emmons v. Barton, 109 Cal. 662, 42 Pac. 303.

Where the representative denies the existence of an intent to defraud creditors the conveyance will not be set aside at his instance. Brown v. Perrault, 5 Ida. 729, 51 Pac. 752.

85. Alabama.— Davis v. Swanson, 54 Ala. 277, 25 Am. Rep. 678; Roden v. Murphy, 10 Ala. 804.

Arkansas.—Anderson v. Dunn, 19 Ark. 650; Eubanks v. Dobbs, 4 Ark. 173.

District of Columbia.— Tierney v. Corbett, 2 Mackey 264. But compare Central Nat. Bank v. Hume, 3 Mackey 360.

Georgia.—Anderson v. Brown, 72 Ga. 713; Crosby v. De Graffenreid, 19 Ga. 290; Evans v. Lampkin, Dudley 193. See also Beale v. Hall, 22 Ga. 431.

Illinois.— Majorowicz v. Payson, 153 Ill. 484, 39 N. E. 127; Harmon v. Harmon, 63 Ill. 512; Choteau v. Jones, 11 Ill. 300, 50 Am. Dec. 460; Ellis v. Petty, 51 Ill. App. 636; Eads v. Mason, 16 Ill. App. 545. See also Dearth v. Bute, 71 Ill. App. 487.

Kansas.— Crawford v. Lehr, 20 Kan. 509.

Kentucky.— Com. v. Richardson, 8 B. Mon. 81.

Louisiana.— Carroll v. Castleman, 47 La. Ann. 1364, 17 So. 862; Van Wickle v. Calvin, 23 La. Ann. 205. But compare Walworth v. Snodgrass, 7 La. Ann. 136.

Maryland.— Dorsey v. Smithson, 6 Harr. & J. 61; Kinnemon v. Miller, 2 Md. Ch. 407.

Mississippi.— Blake v. Blake, 53 Miss 182; Winn v. Barnett, 31 Miss. 653; Gully v. Hull, 31 Miss. 20; Armstrong v. Stovall, 26 Miss. 275.

Missouri.— Hall v. Callahan, 66 Mo. 316; Merry v. Fremon, 44 Mo. 518; George v. Williamson, 26 Mo. 190, 72 Am. Dec. 203; McLaughlin v. McLaughlin, 16 Mo. 242; Lewis v. American L. Ins. Co., 7 Mo. App. 112.

Rhode Island.— Gardner v. Gardner, 17 R. I. 751, 24 Atl. 785; Estes v. Howland, 15 R. I. 127, 23 Atl. 624.

Texas.— Wilson v. Demander, 71 Tex. 603, 9 S. W. 678; Willis v. Smith, 65 Tex. 656; Moore v. Minerva, 17 Tex. 20; Connell v. Chandler, 13 Tex. 5, 62 Am. Dec. 545; Cobb v. Norwood, 11 Tex. 556. But compare Danzey v. Smith, 4 Tex. 411.

Virginia.— Spooner v. Hilbish, 92 Va. 333, 23 S. E. 751; Thomas v. Soper. 5 Munf. 28.

West Virginia.—Jones v. Patton, 10 W. Va. 653.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 309.

An executor in possession may defend his possession against a claim which by statute is void as against creditors for the sole benefit of creditors. Kilbourne v. Fay, 29 Ohio St. 264, 23 Am. Rep. 741.

An administrator cannot justify a trespass in taking slaves from the possession of one to whom they had been conveyed by his intestate, on the ground that the estate was represented insolvent and that the deed was made to delay creditors. Roden v. Murphy, 10 Ala 804.

86. St. 22 & 23 Car. II, c. 10; 21 Hen. VIII, c. 5. See Phillips v. Bignell, 1 Phillim. 239.

The executors of a deceased executor may be compelled to bring in an inventory of the effects of the original testator. Gale v. Luttrell, 2 Add. Eccl. 234.

87. Schouler Ex. § 229. See Orr v. Kaines, 2 Ves. 194, 28 Eng. Reprint 125.

executor or an administrator as relates to the probate court is, after obtaining his credentials, to prepare and file an inventory of the assets of the estate.[88] The object of an inventory is to fix presumptively, although not conclusively, the amount and value of items of property constituting the estate, and their respective totals, as to real and personal property, and moreover to furnish from a disinterested appraisal a reasonable basis upon which the accounting and liability of the executor or administrator shall proceed.[89]

B. Time For Making. The time after appointment within which an inventory and appraisement should be made and filed is fixed by statutes, varying somewhat in different jurisdictions, although three months is the usual period;[90] but such statutes do not render invalid an inventory and appraisement filed after the prescribed time.[91] Where an executor is excused for failure to file an inventory within the prescribed time by reason of his having received no assets in that time, it his duty to file an inventory within a reasonable time after he first receives assets.[92]

C. Form and Requisites. An inventory should be specific in its enumera-

88. Moore v. Holmes, 32 Conn. 553; Ludwig v. Blackinton, 24 Me. 25; In re Holladay, 18 Oreg. 168, 22 Pac. 750.

Statute providing for compulsory inventory merely declaratory of existing law.— Matter of McIntyre, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 489.

Appraisal as well as inventory necessary.— In re Selma, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 233.

It is the duty of the personal representative and not of the heirs or legatees to furnish an inventory and appraisal. Turner v. Ellis, 24 Miss. 173; Mills v. Smith, 141 N. Y. 256, 36 N. E. 178.

Administration on estate of one of several joint owners.— When a stranger administers on the estate of one of several wards owning a common fund, he can and ought to procure an actual division of the fund with the guardian of the surviving wards, and file in court an inventory and descriptive list of the items comprising the estate. Calvert v. Peebles, 71 N. C. 274.

The probate court has jurisdiction to hear and determine all controversies respecting the inventory and appraisal. Pickel v. Alpaugh, 42 N. J. Eq. 630, 11 Atl. 16; Langley v. Harris, 23 Tex. 564.

Even where the will directs a special appraisement, it is to be presumed that the appraisement shall be under the direction and control of the probate or corresponding court. Myers' Appeal, 62 Pa. St. 104; Boshart v. Evans, 5 Whart. (Pa.) 551.

Where the local statutes dispense with an administrator in small estates but require an appraisal, if the estate turns out large enough to require an administrator to be appointed, he must proceed de novo to have an appraisal and inventory. Pace v. Oppenheim, 12 Ind. 533.

Executor holding as trustee.—Where on the death of an executor another person nominated in the will as executor qualifies and takes letters testamentary, he must file an inventory, although he has taken no property into his possession as executor, but is holding the property and effects of the estate as trustee solely. In re Dana, Tuck. Surr. (N. Y.) 113.

If the will contains a full inventory of all the effects of the testator, it is unnecessary, under the Mexican law, for the executor to make a new inventory. Panaud v. Jones, 1 Cal. 488.

The executor may take temporary custody of articles given to the widow by statute for the purpose of making an inventory as required by statute, and the widow cannot maintain trespass against him therefor unless he keeps the articles from her an undue length of time or otherwise abuses his right. Voelckner v. Hudson, 1 Sandf. (N. Y.) 215.

In courts other than those of probate jurisdiction, the neglect of an administrator to cause an inventory and appraisal to be made of choses in action of the intestate is of no importance. Adams v. Adams, 22 Vt. 50.

Under the Louisiana code a public inventory, a ministerial act, must be made by a parish judge or public notary; but to decide whether one should be made is a judicial act. State v. Favrot, 1 La. 49.

89. See Thompson v. Thompson, 77 Ga. 692, 3 S. E. 261; Pitkin's Succession, 7 La. Ann. 617; and infra, IV, I.

90. California.— Phelan v. Smith, 100 Cal. 158, 34 Pac. 667.

Iowa.— Where the executor fails to file his inventory within fifteen days after his appointment, as required by Code, § 2370, the court will order it to be filed, although the facts on which the order is based are brought to the court's knowledge by one having no interest in the estate. Poole v. Burnham, 99 Iowa 493, 68 N. W. 816.

Louisiana.— Hart's Succession, 7 Rob. 534.

Massachusetts.— Forbes v. McHugh, 152 Mass. 412, 25 N. E. 622.

Oregon.— In re Conser, 40 Oreg. 138, 66 Pac. 607.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 313.

Time may be extended. In re Patten, 7 Mackey (D. C.) 392.

91. Phelan v. Smith, 100 Cal. 158, 34 Pac. 667.

92. Forbes v. McHugh, 152 Mass. 412, 25 N. E. 622.

tion of such chattels or other property of the deceased as the law may require, not needlessly minute, and yet so full as to separate large items of value, and set out by themselves such special classes as chattels real, household furniture, cattle, stock in trade, cash, and securities of the incorporeal sort, such as notes and bonds.[93] It should be signed by the personal representative[94] and the appraisers,[95] and should also be verified.[96]

D. Property to Be Included. It is the duty of the personal representative to include in his inventory all property belonging to or claimed by the decedent or his estate which has come to the representative's knowledge,[97] but property held in trust by the decedent need not be inventoried.[98] It has been asserted that the inventory should include all the personal property of the decedent, even that situated out of the state;[99] but it would seem proper that where letters are granted in different states or countries, the inventory of each executor or administrator should include only the property within the jurisdiction where his letters are issued, for which alone he is immediately accountable.[1] In some states the statutes require the personal representative to inventory the real estate of the decedent, two separate schedules being made, and the schedule of personal property alone serving as the basis of his accounts;[2] but in the absence of statutory requirement the personal representative is not bound to inventory real estate.[3] The inventory should include property which the decedent's will treats as part of his estate,[4] the decedent's interest in a partnership,[5] a judgment in favor of the

93. Schouler Ex. § 233. And see Harty v. Harty, 8 Mart. N. S. (La.) 518; Pursel v. Pursel, 14 N. J. Eq. 514; Vanmeter v. Jones, 3 N. J. Eq. 520.

Liability for imperfect inventory.— Where an administrator listed a note signed by himself among the assets as "three thousand nine hundred dollars less payments," he was not chargeable with the whole sum of three thousand nine hundred dollars for having failed to file an inventory showing the precise amount claimed as credits, although if the heirs had desired they could have compelled him to file such inventory. Emerick v. Hileman, 71 Ill. App. 512.

94. Parks v. Rucker, 5 Leigh (Va.) 149; Carr v. Anderson, 2 Hen. & M. (Va.) 361.

95. See Michel v. Michel, 11 La. 149.

Lack of formalities.— The fact that the inventory does not mention the residence, ages, and sex of the appraisers and witnesses to it, and that it was made in the presence of the attorney for the absent heirs, does not invalidate it when it is signed by the attorney of absent heirs, and the appraisers and witnesses. Michel v. Michel, 11 La. 149.

96. Phelan v. Smith, 100 Cal. 158, 34 Pac. 667; Matter of Ahrens, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 358.

Clerical error does not vitiate affidavit of representative. Phelan v. Smith, 100 Cal. 158, 34 Pac. 667.

An inventory sworn to by only one of two executors will be considered the act of both where it appears on its face to be returned by both. Hamilton v. Serra, 6 Mackey (D. C.) 168.

97. Potter v. Titcomb, 10 Me. 53; Turner v. Ellis, 24 Miss. 173.

Notes deposited in the hands of a stranger should be inventoried by the administrator if he knows of their existence. Potter v. Titcomb, 10 Me. 53.

Even though the representative asserts a claim to property it should be inventoried. Potter v. Titcomb, 10 Me. 53. But he can note his claim on the inventory. Simms v. Guess, 52 Ill. App. 543.

Property claimed by third persons.— If property found among the effects of the decedent and coming to the possession of the representative is yet claimed by others under a title not yet established, it is proper to include the same in the inventory, with perhaps words or memoranda indicating a doubt concerning the representative's title. Gold's Case, Kirby (Conn.) 100; Carcagno's Succession, 43 La. Ann. 1151, 10 So. 251; Water house v. Bourke, 14 La. Ann. 358; Dilts v. Stevenson, 17 N. J. Eq. 407.

Property given by will to the widow but belonging to the estate should be appraised, for the will may be set aside and the personal representatives required to account for it. Mayrand v. Mayrand, 96 Ill. App. 478.

Effect of failure to appraise.— A failure to appraise certain property belonging to the testator's estate cannot affect the validity of the executor's final account, where it appears that all the property received, or which by reasonable diligence should have been received, has been punctiliously accounted for. In re Conser, 40 Oreg. 138, 66 Pac. 607.

98. In re Belt, 29 Wash. 535, 70 Pac. 74.

99. In re Butler, 38 N. Y. 397, Tuck. Surr. (N. Y.) 87.

1. Normand v. Grognard, 17 N. J. Eq. 425; Sherman v. Page, 21 Hun (N. Y.) 59. See also Strong v. White, 19 Conn. 238.

2. Schouler Ex. § 233.

3. Henshaw v. Blood, 1 Mass. 35.

4. Grounx v. Abat, 7 La. 17.

5. In re Auerbach, 23 Utah 529, 65 Pac. 488. Contra, Shipe's Appeal, 114 Pa. St. 205, 6 Atl. 103.

estate,[6] and property, the right of possession in which was vested in the decedent, although it never came into his actual possession;[7] but it need not include property conveyed by the decedent in fraud of creditors[8] unless it was conveyed to the representative himself,[9] nor, it has been asserted, property held by the executor as life-tenant.[10] A payment made by a decedent for the benefit of another should not be inventoried where the circumstances attending such payment are such as to raise a presumption that he did not intend to charge it, but intended that it should inure to the benefit of such other person and there is no proof to the contrary.[11]

E. Additional or Supplementary Inventory. The general rule is that only one inventory need be returned, and that for additional property coming to the representative's knowledge or control, charging himself in his accounts is sufficient;[12] but in some states an additional or supplementary inventory is recognized,[13] and a representative who has filed an erroneous inventory has been allowed to subsequently file a second inventory correcting the errors.[14]

F. How Appraisal Made. Local statutes ordinarily provide for the appointment by the court[15] of a specified number of suitable disinterested appraisers, usually three,[16] who, having been duly sworn to the faithful discharge of their duties, proceed to appraise the estate of the decedent.[17] The result of the appraisement is noted upon the inventory blank which accompanies the order, and the schedules filled up, and the document when completed is delivered to the executor or administrator by whom it should be returned to the probate court for

Form of inventory.— The inventory of an administrator of a deceased partner should only refer to his interest in the partnership as of a certain character, and where located, without undertaking to give the items of property belonging to such partnership, since the administrator cannot have control of it until the partnership affairs are settled. Loomis v. Armstrong, 63 Mich. 355, 29 N. W. 867. See also Thompson v. Thompson, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 24. But compare Justices Muscogee County Inferior Ct. v. McLaren, 1 Ga. 289.

6. In re Conser, 40 Oreg. 138, 66 Pac. 607.

Foreign judgments.— A judgment debt, being bona notabilia only in the state where judgment was rendered, need not be inventoried by the representative appointed in a different jurisdiction. Strong v. White, 19 Conn. 238.

7. Orangeburgh Dist. v. Geiger, 1 Brev. (S. C.) 484.

8. Bourne v. Stevenson, 58 Me. 499; Andrews v. Tucker, 7 Pick. (Mass.) 250; Snodgrass v. Andrews, 30 Miss. 472, 64 Am. Dec. 169; Gardner v. Gardner, 17 R. I. 751, 24 Atl. 785.

9. Minor v. Mead, 3 Conn. 289.

10. Brooks v. Brooks, 12 S. C. 422, holding further that the right of a remainder-man to demand an inventory of such property depends upon waste.

11. In re Glenn, 23 Ohio Cir. Ct. 397.

12. Panaud v. Jones, 1 Cal. 488; Hooker v. Bancroft, 4 Pick. (Mass.) 50. See also Emory v. Thompson, 2 Harr. & J. (Md.) 244.

13. Frisbie v. Preston, 67 Conn. 448, 35 Atl. 278; Moore v. Holmes, 32 Conn. 553; Beach v. Norton, 9 Conn. 182; Com. v. Bryan, 8 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 128; In re Moke, 11 York Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 162; Texas Loan Agency v. Dinges, (Tex. Civ. App. 1903) 75 S. W. 866.

Where the administrator denies the existence of further assets an application to compel him to file a further inventory will be refused. Matter of McIntyre, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 489.

14. In re Bradford, 1 Browne (Pa.) 87. But see Gallian v. Cox, 9 La. Ann. 500.

15. Schouler Ex. § 230.

Administrator has nothing to do with appointment of appraisers. O'Brien v. Wilson, 82 Miss. 93, 33 So. 946.

Testamentary provisions as to appraisers. — The Pennsylvania act of April 17, 1869, section 1, providing that where a testator directs any part of his estate to be appraised appraisers will be appointed by the orphans' court upon petition of any person interested, applies only when the testator has not indicated by whom the appraisement shall be made, and an appraisement made by competent persons, chosen by the executors under a clause in the will providing that an appraisement of the residuary estate should be made by the executors in such manner as might seem best to them, will not be set aside in the absence of any allegation of fraud or lack of good faith. Supplee's Estate, 5 Pa. Dist. 41, 17 Pa. Co. Ct. 335.

16. Schouler Ex. § 230.

Two sufficient in New York see Salomon v. Heichel, 4 Dem. Surr. 176.

17. Schouler Ex. § 230.

Appraisers presumed to have been sworn. — Horn v. Grayson, 7 Port. (Ala.) 270.

Surrogate cannot order personal representative to estimate value of property. Matter of McCaffrey, 50 Hun (N. Y.) 371, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 96.

Legatees or next of kin cannot interfere with an appraisal, they must wait until the accounting. Vogel v. Arbogast, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 399.

record with his own oath that the list is just and perfect.[18] Property of the estate should be appraised at its market value,[19] but the surrogate has no power to direct the appraisers as to the manner in which they shall estimate the value.[20] For their services appraisers are allowed compensation from the estate at a rate ordinarily fixed by statute.[21]

G. Proceedings to Compel. The court of probate jurisdiction has power to compel the filing of an inventory and appraisal,[22] and to determine whether property prima facie belongs to the estate;[23] and intervention by a court of equity, or on appeal, in such matters is not favored.[24] The court may act of its own motion,[25] or on the petition of one interested as heir, devisee, or creditor,[26] but persons not so interested cannot apply for the filing of an inventory.[27] A petition setting forth facts which if true show the petitioner to be interested in the estate is suf

18. Schouler Ex. § 230. See Dilts v. Stevenson, 17 N. J. Eq. 407.

19. Matter of Shipman, 82 Hun (N. Y.) 108, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 571, holding that bonds should be estimated at their market and not their face value.

Period for averaging market price of securities.— The three months preceding decedent's death is a reasonable period within which to average the market price of securities under a statute providing that such securities as are customarily sold in open market shall be valued by ascertaining the range of the market and the average of prices running through a reasonable period of time. In re Crary, 31 Misc. (N. Y.) 72, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 566.

20. Matter of McCaffrey, 50 Hun (N. Y.) 371, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 96.

21. See In re Harriott, 145 N. Y. 540, 40 N. E. 246 (holding that in fixing the fees of appraisers of personal property belonging to a decedent's estate, under a statute providing that they shall receive not over five dollars per day and expenses, the value of the estate cannot be considered); Bradley's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 87 (holding that appraisers appointed to appraise the personal estate of a decedent can only be paid from the estate one dollar per day for their services).

The fees of experts who appraise succession property at a second or third appraisement ordered by the court cannot be larger than those allowed by law to the appraisers appointed to take the inventory. Hautau's Succession, 32 La. Ann. 54.

The legatees have a right to be heard upon an application to tax the fees of appraisers. In re Harriott, 145 N. Y. 540, 40 N. E. 246.

Allowance held excessive see In re Harriott, 145 N. Y. 540, 40 N. E. 246.

22. Illinois.— Simms v. Guess, 52 Ill. App. 543, county court.

Louisiana.— Le Boeuf v. Webre, 40 La. Ann. 380, 4 So. 223.

Mississippi.— Killcrease v. Killcrease, 7 How. 311.

Missouri.— Walter v. Ford, 74 Mo. 195, 41 Am. Rep. 312.

New York.— In re Steward, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 24; Matter of Nutt, 3 Dem. Surr. 170.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 314.

23. In re Belt, 29 Wash. 535, 70 Pac. 74, 92 Am. St. Rep. 916.

Adjudication not binding on one subsequently claiming property.— In re Belt, 29 Wash. 535, 70 Pac. 74, 92 Am. St. Rep. 916.

The court cannot try an issue as to the ownership of property claimed by the representative in his own right, in proceedings to compel the filing of an inventory. Matter of Goundry, 57 N. Y. App. Div. 232, 68 N. Y. Suppl. 155; Miers v. Betterton, 18 Tex. Civ. App. 430, 45 S. W. 430. See also Greenhough v. Greenhough, 5 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 191, application to amend inventory. Contra, Martin v. Martin, 170 Ill. 18, 48 N. E. 694 [reversing 68 Ill. App. 169].

24. Davis v. Davis, 4 Mo. 204; Morse v. Smith, 17 N. Y. Suppl. 385.

Reappraisal.— Since N. Y. Laws (1896), c. 908, § 232, providing that within two years after appraisal of an estate by a surrogate it may be reappraised by order of a justice of the supreme court, does not provide for a review of the order of appraisal, the supreme court has no jurisdiction to set aside an order of reappraisal made by a justice. Matter of Smith, 40 N. Y. App. Div. 480, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 128.

25. Thompson v. Thompson, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 124.

It is the duty of the court to require an inventory. In re Pickards, 7 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 476, 5 Ohio N. P. 493.

26. Woodruff v. Snowden, 10 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 123, 7 Ohio N. P. 520; Melizett's Appeal, 8 Leg. Int. (Pa) 86 (widow); Langley v. Harris, 23 Tex. 564 (creditor).

Heir or devisee under no duty to compel inventory.— Woodruff v. Snowden, 10 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 123, 7 Ohio N. P. 520.

A joint executor or administrator who is obstructed by his associates in the performance of the duty to make a true inventory should take proceedings to enforce the making of it. Eager v. Roberts, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 247.

27. Matter of Huntington, 39 Misc. (N. Y.) 477, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 220, where the allegations were held insufficient to show the necessary interest in the applicant.

County commissioners have no such interest as entitles them to ask that the executors of a decedent be cited to file an inventory in order that they may have a basis from ficient, even though such facts be disputed, but the court may require the petitioner to show his interest to its satisfaction.[28]

H. Defects and Corrections. The omission of an executor or administrator to disclose some asset is a neglect of duty and authorizes a keen inquiry into his administration, but this does not as a matter of law charge him with that asset regardless of its actual value.[29] The probate court is the proper place, and on the settlement of his administration accounts is as a rule the proper time to charge the representative with property belonging to the estate which he has not inventoried or accounted for, or to otherwise correct errors.[30] Where, however, the inventory is attacked because of items inserted by mistake or omitted through fraud or error, an amendment or correction is sometimes allowed;[31] but the inventory is presumed to be a true and full statement of all the personal property of the decedent, and the burden of proving otherwise is upon the person seeking to falsify it.[32]

I. Operation and Effect. The inventory returned by the personal representative is prima facie evidence as to the items included therein and their respective values, and as to the total of the estate comprised within the jurisdiction;[33] but it is not conclusive as to these matters, and may always be explained which to make an assessment. Stevens' Estate, 2 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) Feb. 4, 1871.

28. Matter of Comins, 9 N. Y. App. Div. 492, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 323; Schmidt v. Heusner, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 275; Matter of Waite, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 261; Creamer v. Waller, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 351; Langley v. Harris, 23 Tex. 564.

The granting of the petition is not compulsory merely because it sets forth an interest in the petitioner and is verified, but the surrogate may first pass on the question of the petitioner's interest. Matter of Comins, 9 N. Y. App. Div. 492, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 323.

29. Moses v. Moses, 50 Ga. 9.

30. Hurlburt v. Wheeler, 40 N. H. 73.

The administrator cannot be proceeded against by rule, but an ordinary action must be resorted to where he refuses to place on the inventory property which he claims as his own. McKinney's Succession, 5 La. Ann. 748.

Failure to set apart allowance.— If on taking the inventory the statutory amount of property was not set apart for the minor children, the error may be corrected on accounting. Clayton v. Wardell, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 1.

Judgment in proceedings to charge.—Where legatees institute proceedings in the probate court to charge an executor with a slave, not included in his inventory, but which he claims as his own property, and the jury find the value of the slave, and for plaintiff, the court cannot render judgment against the executor for the value of said property, but only that the slave belonged to the decedent. and is a part of the assets of the estate, and that the executor stands chargeable with him as such. Mims v. Sturdevant, 36 Ala. 636.

31. Matter of Payne, 78 Hun (N. Y.) 292, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 911; Hallstead's Estate, 2 Kulp (Pa.) 508.

Correction in probate court.— An administrator on discovering a mistake in his inventory should apply to the court of probate for a correction of the error, and if his application is denied may take an appeal. Cronshaw v. Cronshaw, 21 R. I. 54, 41 Atl. 563.

Estoppel to amend.— An administrator returning slaves in his inventory as belonging to the estate, and hiring them out, taking notes payable to himself as administrator, was not thereby estopped from amending his inventory by leaving them out, if they did not belong to the estate. McWilliams v. Ramsay, 23 Ala. 813.

Where possessory rights of another are involved, his remedy is before other appropriate tribunals rather than by an application to the probate court to have the value of such rights stricken from the inventory or appraisement. Spencer v. Ragan, 9 Gill (Md.) 480.

Power of court to order additional items to be inserted.— The judge of probate has the power, after hearing evidence on the facts, to order an executor or administrator to include in the inventory, as property of deceased, articles claimed by other persons; but he cannot require the executor or administrator to swear to an inventory thus amended by his order. In re Ralston, 3 Nova Scotia 195.

32. In re Mullon, 145 N. Y. 98, 39 N. E. 821 [affirming 74 Hun 358, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 683].

Quantum of proof necessary.— On appeal of an administrator on the ground that his inventory includes property not of the deceased, he must show clearly that it is not assets. That there is occasion for doubt is not sufficient. Briggs v. Probate Decree, Brayt. (Vt.) 103.

Evidence held admissible see Mims v. Sturdevant, 36 Ala. 636.

33. Alabama.— Craig v. McGehee, 16 Ala. 41; Steele v. Knox, 10 Ala. 608.

Georgia.— In re Jones, 25 Ga. 414.

Indiana.— Rodman v. Rodman, 54 Ind. 444.

Kentucky.—Carrol v. Connet, 2 J. J. Marsh. 195.

or shown to be incorrect in certain particulars.[34] Thus the fact that the representative has inventoried property as belonging to the estate does not preclude a subsequent showing that it belongs elsewhere,[35] or even estop the representative

Massachusetts.—Chenery v. Davis, 16 Gray 89.

Mississippi.— McWillie v. Van Vacter, 35 Miss. 428, 72 Am. Dec. 127.

New York.— Matter of Shipman, 82 Hun 108, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 571; Bellinger v. Potter, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 9; In re Hodgman, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 491; Hasbrouck v. Hasbrouck, 37 Barb. 579, 24 How. Pr. 24 [reversed on other grounds in 27 N. Y. 182]; Matter of Van Sise, 38 Misc. 155, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 266; Matter of Baker, 27 Misc. 126, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 398; Matter of Child, 5 Misc. 560, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 721; Willoughby v. McCluer, 2 Wend. 608.

Texas.— Devine v. U. S. Mortg. Co., (Civ. App. 1898) 48 S. W. 585; Hamm v. Hutchins, 19 Tex. Civ. App. 209, 46 S. W. 873 (holding the inventory and appraisal of certain land as part of a testator's estate prima facie evidence that it was not his homestead); Ross v. Harbert, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 1019.

Virginia.— Rogers v. Chandler, 3 Munf. 64.

West Virginia.— Hooper v. Hooper, 29 W. Va. 276, 1 S. E. 280.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 321.

An appraisal of corporate stock in the hand of an administrator by three householders appointed by such administrator is not, as between him and the distributees, prima facie the actual value of the stock at the time of the appraisal. Moffitt v. Hereford, 132 Mo. 513, 34 S. W. 252.

34. Alabama.— Craig v. McGehee, 16 Ala. 41.

Georgia.— Hall v. Carter, 8 Ga. 388.

Louisiana.—Dean's Succession, 33 La. Ann. 867; Pipkin's Succession, 7 La. Ann. 617; Babin v. Nolan, 4 Rob. 278.

Maine.— Weed v. Lermond, 33 Me. 492; Reed v. Gilbert, 32 Me. 519; Shirley v. Walker, 31 Me. 541.

Michigan.— Peckham v. Hoag, 57 Mich. 289, 23 N. W. 818; Hilton v. Briggs, 54 Mich. 265, 20 N. W. 47.

Missouri.— Moffitt v. Hereford, 132 Mo. 513, 34 S. W. 252; Camp v. Camp, 74 Mo. 192 [affirming 6 Mo. App. 563].

Nevada.— McNabb v. Wixom, 7 Nev. 163.

New Jersey.—Horton v. Howell, (Ch. 1903) 56 Atl. 702; Duncan v. Davison, 40 N. J. Eq. 535, 5 Atl. 93.

New York.— In re Mullon, 145 N. Y. 98, 39 N. E. 821 [affirming 74 Hun 358, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 683]; Hasbrouck v. Hasbrouck, 37 Barb. 579, 24 How. Pr. 24 [reversed on other grounds in 27 N. Y. 182]; Willoughby v. McCluer, 2 Wend. 608; Thorn v. Underhill, 1 Dem. Surr. 306; Applegate v. Cameron, 2 Bradf. Surr. 119; Ames v. Downing, 1 Bradf. Surr. 321.

North Carolina.— Hoover v. Miller, 51 N. C. 79.

Oregon.— In re Conser, 40 Oreg. 138, 66 Pac. 607.

Pennsylvania.— Nicely's Estate, 2 Kulp 47; Frey's Estate, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 84. See also Campbell's Estate, 28 Pittsb. Leg. J. 436.

South Carolina.— Williams v. Mower, 29 S. C. 332, 7 S. E. 505.

Texas.— Little v. Birdwell, 21 Tex. 597, 73 Am. Dec. 242.

Virginia.— Carr v. Anderson, 2 Hen. & M. 361.

Wisconsin.— Cameron v. Cameron, 15 Wis. 1, 82 Am. Dec. 652.

United States.— Gormley v. Bunyan, 138 U. S. 623, 11 S. Ct. 453, 34 L. ed. 1086.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 321.

Debts inventoried as collectable or good may be shown to be otherwise. Tompkins v. Tompkins, 18 S. C. 1; Anderson v. Piercy, 20 W. Va. 282. But for whatever the representative obtains he is of course accountable. Summers v. Reynolds, 95 N. C. 404.

Record in another state.— The inventory of an estate, part of the record of a probate court in another state, is no more than prima facie evidence to show what property belonged to the estate in that jurisdiction. Sumner v. Child, 2 Conn. 607.

Returns to the ordinary made by an administrator are only prima facie evidence as to what amounts of money had been received by him from various sources, and are not conclusive on him in a settlement between him and the heirs of the estate. Arendale v. Smith, 107 Ga. 494, 33 S. E. 669.

Where the executor converts property to his own use he should be charged with its actual and not its appraised value. Frey's Estate, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 84.

With reference to debts, the representative cannot take them to his own use absolutely at the appraisal, nor is he bound to account for them absolutely at the appraisal, but his responsibility is that of reasonable diligence in realizing upon them. Weed v. Lermond, 33 Me. 492. And see Hooper v. Hooper, 29 W. Va. 276, 1 S. E. 280.

35. California.— Heydenfeldt v. Jacobs, 107 Cal. 373, 40 Pac. 492, holding that a third person is not estopped to claim property or funds by reason of a failure to object to the same being inventoried and treated as assets of the estate, where there is no allegation that the personal representatives did not know and had no means of knowing to whom such property or funds belonged or were induced to treat the same as assets by reason of a reliance on the acts of the claimant.

Georgia.— Fulcher v. Mandell, 83 Ga. 715, 10 S. E. 582.

Maryland.— Harriett v. Ridgely, 9 Gill & J. 174.

New York.— Hasbrouck v. Hasbrouck, 37 Barb. 579, 24 How. Pr. 24 [reversed on other grounds in 27 N. Y. 182].

from claiming title to the same himself,[36] and certainly the mere fact that property is not included in the inventory is not conclusive that it does not belong to the estate.[37] Debts or claims may properly be inventoried as doubtful, desperate, or worthless, where the facts warrant this,[38] and an item so inventoried is not prima facie a charge against the representative;[39] but a debt or claim returned at face value without comment will be presumed collected or collectable,[40] although before an administrator should be charged with notes marked by the appraisers on the inventory as good there should be some proof of their collection or of negligence in collection.[41] An inventory filed by an executor is evidence inter alios to show his consent to the will and transmission of title thereunder.[42] Where the representative inventories a debt owing by himself to the estate, this is evidence of the existence of the debt as a valid and enforceable claim.[43] Where an administrator buys property with the effects of his intestate and inventories it in the probate court and the inventory is recorded in that court, such record is notice of the fiduciary character of the property so pur-

Pennsylvania.— Buchanan v. Buchanan, 46 Pa. St. 186.

Texas.— Little v. Birdwell, 21 Tex. 597, 73 Am. Dec. 242.

Virginia.— Carr v. Anderson, 2 Hen. & M. 361.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 321.

Sureties of the representative are not precluded by the return of the inventory from showing the true ownership of alleged assets. Sanders v. Forgasson, 3 Baxt. (Tenn.) 249.

36. Alabama.— Craig v. McGehee, 16 Ala. 41.

California.— Whelan v. Brickell, (1893) 33 Pac. 396; Baker v. Brickell, 87 Cal. 329, 25 Pac. 489, 1067; Anthony v. Chapman, 65 Cal. 73, 2 Pac. 889.

Georgia.— Dillard v. Ellington, 57 Ga. 567.

Massachusetts.— Dodge v. Lunt, 181 Mass. 320, 63 N. E. 891.

Montana.— Rausch v. Rausch, 14 Mont. 325, 36 Pac. 312.

New York.— See Matter of Maack, 13 Misc. (N. Y.) 368, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 109, holding that on a settlement of an executor's accounts it may be shown that amounts charged in the inventory as assets were part of the income to which the executor was entitled under the will.

Pennsylvania.— Oertlett's Estate, 7 Pa. Dist. 678, 21 Pa. Co. Ct. 616; Hallstead's Estate, 2 Kulp 508; Eichborn's Estate, 7 Pa. Co. Ct. 433.

Texas.— Haley v. Gatewood, 74 Tex. 281, 12 S. W. 25; Teal v. Sevier, 26 Tex. 516; Little v. Birdwell, 21 Tex. 597, 73 Am. Dec. 242; Ross v. Halbert, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 1019.

Washington.— In re Murphy, 30 Wash. 9, 70 Pac. 109.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 321.

A widow is not deemed to have made an election and thereby modified her right to community property by returning, as executrix, an inventory of the whole property as the estate of the deceased. Carroll v. Carroll, 20 Tex. 731.

Where the administrator claims a right in movable property apparently belonging to a succession on account of an alleged partnership with the deceased, the proof of the partnership must be explicit. Sutton v. Mock, 18 La. Ann. 597.

In the absence of any mistake a representative who inventories his own property as property of the decedent will be held to have inventoried it either to defraud his creditors, he being a bankrupt, or to pay a debt of his own to the estate, and he will be held responsible for it in an action on his bond. Wattles v. Hyde, 9 Conn. 10.

37. Walker v. Walker, 25 Ga. 76; Lewis v. Lusk, 35 Miss. 696, 72 Am. Dec. 153; McWillie v. Van Vacter, 35 Miss. 428, 72 Am. Dec. 127; Allen v. Ormsby, 1 Tyler (Vt.) 345. See also Ewers v. White, 114 Mich. 266, 72 N. W. 184.

38. Black v. Whitall, 9 N. J. Eq. 572, 59 Am. Dec. 423; Finch v. Ragland, 17 N. C. 137.

39. Gay v. Grant, 101 N. C. 206, 8 S. E. 99, 106, where a bond was inventoried as "doubtful."

40. Hickman v. Kamp, 3 Bush (Ky.) 205; Graham v. Davidson, 22 N. C. 155.

41. Pettus v. Clawson, 4 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 92.

42. Phillips v. Short, 2 Harr. (Del.) 339.

43. Lloyd v. Lloyd, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 399, holding that the inventory and appraisal by an executor of a note owing by himself to the decedent's estate, without reciting the existence of any set-off thereto, is evidence of the settlement of any claims theretofore existing which might have been set off.

Including barred debts in inventory.— Where the representative includes in his inventory a debt from himself to the testator which was barred by the statute of limitations, this is a sufficient acknowledgment to take the case out of the statute. Clark v. Van Amburgh, 14 Hun (N. Y.) 557; Morrow v. Morrow, 12 Hun (N. Y.) 386; Ross v. Ross, 6 Hun (N. Y.) 80; Matter of Daggett, 1 Misc. (N. Y.) 248, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 911 [affirmed in 75 Hun 612, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 1127]. Contra, In re Bell, 25 Pa. St. 92; Black v. White, 13 S. C. 37.

chased.[44] The appraisal of land is not an eviction of those holding by adverse possession, nor is it a reduction to possession by the administrator,[45] nor does the mere fact that a rental proportion of certain crops growing on land owned by a devisee has been returned by the executor as part of the personal property of the testator's estate show such an invasion of the devisee's rights as entitles him to seek redress in any judicial tribunal.[46]

J. Dispensing With Inventory. A testamentary provision that no inventory need be filed should be disregarded by the court,[47] although an executor will not be required to file an inventory except as to the personalty, where the will leaves it to his discretion and makes his appraisement final.[48] Even the fact that all the personal property of the decedent or its proceeds have been disposed of in the payment of debts does not render an inventory unnecessary,[49] nor is it sufficient to excuse the filing of an inventory that the representative professes to have a large surplus over all debts and offers to deposit security sufficient to pay any debt which may be established.[50] But an inventory may be dispensed with where all the parties in interest waive it,[51] and is unnecessary where no assets or estate have come with the representative's possession or charge.[52] An inventory and account may also be dispensed with if not applied for until after so long a period that the lapse of time, in conjunction with other circumstances, affords a reasonable presumption that there were no assets or that the estate has been fully administered,[53] nor is the court required to order an inventory and account where it appears that the estate was duly settled and distributed among the persons entitled without any proceedings in court.[54]

K. Failure to Make. A mere failure to return an inventory is not alone sufficient to charge the representative absolutely with assets or debts of the decedent; but the question is essentially one of culpable negligence or misconduct on his part, occasioning a loss to some person in interest;[55] neither does such failure deprive the representative of his rights as such,[56] or as a creditor of the 44. Shaw v. Thompson, Sm. & M. Ch. (Miss.) 628.

45. Hall v. Armor, 68 Ga. 449.

46. Spencer v. Ragan, 9 Gill (Md.) 480.

47. Chase v. Mathews, 12 La. 357; Potter v. McAlpine, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 108. Compare Garrity's Estate, 108 Cal. 463, 38 Pac. 628, 41 Pac. 485; Logan's Estate, 1 Pa. Co. Ct. 76.

48. Brainerd v. Birdsall, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 31.

49. Silverbrandt v. Widmayer, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 263 [overruling Matter of Robbins, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 144], where the court said, however, that a verified statement in the form of an inventory showing such matters might be deemed a sufficient inventory if accompanied by an affidavit.

50. Forsyth v. Burr, 37 Barb. (N. Y.) 540.

51. Barnes' Estate, 1 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 59. Contra, Schmeltz v. Garey, 49 Tex. 49.

52. Langton's Estate, 16 Phila. (Pa.) 368.

53. Leroy v. Bayard, 3 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 228 (lapse of twenty-nine years); Ritchie v. Rees, 1 Add. Eccl. 144; Scurrah v. Scurrah, 2 Curt. Eccl. 919; Bowles v. Harvey, 4 Hagg. Eccl. 241.

54. In re Wagners, 119 N. Y. 28, 23 N. E. 200.

55. Georgia.— Moses v. Moses, 50 Ga. 9.

Maryland.— Leeke v. Beanes, 2 Harr. & J. 373.

Pennsylvania.— Connelly's Appeal, 1 Grant 366.

Texas.— Patten v. Cox, 9 Tex. Civ. App. 299, 29 S. W. 182.

Vermont.— Boyden v. Ward, 38 Vt. 628.

England.— Stearn v. Mills, 4 B. & Ad. 657, 2 L. J. K. B. 106, 24 E. C. L. 289.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 322.

A sworn declaration instead of an inventory, setting forth desperate debts, may suffice to discharge the representative where no valuable assets ever came to his possession or knowledge. See Higgins v. Higgins, 4 Hagg. Eccl. 242.

Person without interest cannot complain. Probate Judge v. Southard, 62 N. H. 228.

Estoppel.— An executor who has filed no inventory and appraisement as required by law cannot claim that the value of the property of the estate as stated in his petition for letters testamentary is fictitious. Humphrey v. Conger, 7 App. Cas. (D. C.) 23.

56. Campbell v. Cox, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 526. But compare Jeroms v. Jeroms, 18 Barb. (N. Y.) 24.

Special inventory.— A statute providing that where there are two or more representatives any one or more of them, on neglect of the rest, may return an inventory, and the representative neglecting shall not thereafter interfere with the administration, has been held to apply only to the ordinary inventory required by statute, and not to a special inventory ordered by the court. In re Patten, 7 Mackey (D. C.) 392.

estate.[57] Nevertheless the failure to file an inventory by the time specified amounts technically to an official delinquency or a breach of the condition of the administration bond, which may prove serious, but rarely can, if upon citation the executor or administrator performs his duty, or shows good cause why an inventory should be deferred or dispensed with.[58]

V. AUTHORITY AND DUTY IN GENERAL.

A. Representative Capacity. The executor or administrator is not only the personal representative of the decedent,[59] but is also to a very great extent the representative of the creditors,[60] and of the heirs or legatees.[61]

B. Duty to Prove Will. It is of course the right and duty of a person named in a will as executor to propound the paper for probate.[62]

C. Burial of Decedent. One of the first duties of an executor or administrator is to attend to the decent and proper interment of the remains of his decedent,[63] and a reasonable and judicious expenditure for this purpose will always be approved.[64]

D. Title to Property. The executor or administrator is the legal owner, for the time being, of the personal property of which the decedent died possessed,[65]

57. Sutton v. Read, 176 Ill. 69, 51 N. E. 801.

58. McKim v. Harwood, 129 Mass. 75; Lewis v. Lusk, 35 Miss. 696, 72 Am. Dec. 153; Adams v. Adams, 22 Vt. 50; Ellis v. Johnson, 83 Wis. 394, 53 N. W. 691.

Damages may be assessed for a failure to make and return an inventory (Scott v. Governor, 1 Mo. 686) or for failure to make it "a true and perfect" inventory (Bourne v. Stevenson, 58 Me. 499; Potter v. Titcomb, 10 Me. 53).

Circumstances excusing failure see Dowdy v. Graham, 42 Miss. 451 (co-executor); Mulford v. Mulford, (N. J. Ch. 1902) 53 Atl. 79.

Attachment for not filing — Discharge.—An administrator, who is in prison under an attachment for not filing his inventory and accounts, will not be discharged upon filing a sufficient inventory and account except upon payment of costs. Marshman v. Brookes, 32 L. J. P. & M. 95, 11 Wkly. Rep. 549.

59. See Harris v. Harris, 92 Ill. App. 455; Case v. Spencer, 86 N. Y. App. Div. 454, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 697 (holding that where an administrator discovered in a safety-deposit box belonging to the deceased certain securities which deceased held as another person's depositary, the administrator held such securities in his capacity as administrator, and not as a "finder" thereof); Conrad v. Fuller, 98 Va. 16, 34 S. E. 893.

An executor is entitled to administer all the property of the testator, even though a part of it be not disposed of by the will. Landers v. Stone, 45 Ind. 404; Hays v. Jackson, 6 Mass. 149; Patton's Appeal, 31 Pa. St. 465; Wilson v. Wilson, 3 Binn. (Pa.) 557.

60. Ford v. Stuart First Nat. Bank, 201 Ill. 120, 66 N. E. 316 [reversing 100 Ill. App. 70]; Gragard's Succession, 106 La. 298, 30 So. 885; Veazy v. Trahan, 26 La. Ann. 606; Hemley v. Harmon, 103 Mo. App. 233, 77 S. W. 136; Hughes v. Menefee, 29 Mo. App. 192.

Creditors of partnership.— Where after the property of an intestate, not exceeding three hundred dollars in value, had been vested in his minor child by order of the probate court, the administrator moved to rescind the order, alleging that the property was partnership property and liable for the debts of the partnership, it was held that the administrator had no right to represent the interest of the creditors of the partnership. Bell v. Lawson, 28 Ark. 140.

61. Williams v. Wiggand, 53 Ill. 233; Coulter v. Cresswell, 7 La. Ann. 367; Renwick v. Renwick, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 234.

Executor or administrator not as such guardian of decedent's minor children.— Menifee v. Ball, 7 Ark. 520; Kelley v. Helmkamp, 40 Ill. App. 35.

In assumpsit against executors and heirs for money paid to their use, an averment that it was paid at the request of the executors is not sufficient to charge the heirs, but an allegation that it was paid at their request is necessary. Searcy v. Reardon, 3 Bibb (Ky.) 528.

62. See Gibson v. Brown, 1 Nott & M. (S. C.) 326.

Right to oppose attack on will see, generally, WILLS.

63. Patterson v. Patterson, 59 N. Y. 574, 17 Am. Rep. 384; Meyer's Estate, 18 Phila. (Pa.) 42; Williams v. Williams, 20 Ch. D. 659, 15 Cox C. C. 39, 46 J. P. 726, 51 L. J. Ch. 385, 46 L. T. Rep. N. S. 275, 30 Wkly. Rep. 438, holding that the executors have a right to the possession of the body and their duty is to bury it, although there is a direction in the will that some other person shall cause the body to be burned.

64. See infra, VIII, I, 8, b, (I), (V).

65. Beecher v. Buckingham, 18 Conn. 110, 44 Am. Dec. 580; Carroll v. U. S., 13 Wall. (U. S.) 151, 20 L. ed. 565 [reversing 5 Ct. Cl. 620].

Papers of decedent.— An executor or administrator is not bound to give to per-and his title and authority extends so completely to all such property as to exclude for the time being creditors, legatees, and all others beneficially interested in the estate.[66] They cannot follow such property specifically into the hands of others, much less dispose of it; but the executor or administrator is the only true representative thereof whom the law will regard.[67]

E. Executing Provisions of Will. While any will which purports to extend an executor's powers beyond those conferred by law must be so far disregarded, a testator's wishes and directions, not precatory merely, must be followed if possible in all particulars, unless some appropriate tribunal authorize the executor to swerve aside.[68] Where trusts are raised by the will, but no trustee is appointed by the testator, the law charges the executor with carrying out the trust until the court appoints some other trustee; and consequently the executor may retain funds in his hands for that purpose and otherwise prepare to fulfil the trust.[69]

F. Delegation of Powers. An executor or administrator cannot delegate his authority, and thus avoid any of the liabilities or escape any of the duties imposed on him by law;[70] but he may when necessary employ and pay agents of sons contesting his authority free access to the private papers of decedent in his possession. Sargent v. Sanborn, 66 N. H. 30, 25 Atl. 541.

66. Webre v. Lorio, 42 La. Ann. 178, 7 So. 460.

The legal and equitable title to all the personal property of the deceased, including choses in action and incorporeal rights (and under the provisions of some codes or under the power that may be given by a testator's will, to real property of the decedent, besides, in a measure), vests in fact in the executor or administrator during the suitable period of administration, and he holds this property as a trustee and representative for all persons interested therein. Beecher v. Buckingham, 18 Conn. 110, 44 Am. Dec. 580; Neale v. Hagthorp, 3 Bland (Md.) 551; Alston v. Cohen, 1 Fed. Cas. No. 265, 1 Woods 487. See also Palmer v. Palmer, 55 Mich. 293, 21 N. W. 352.

Specific bequest.— Where articles are given by one's will to persons at the inventoried valuation, the executor is chargeable with them until they are duly appraised and set apart. Matter of Pollock, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 100.

In California both real and personal estate vest in the heir subject to the representative's lien for the payment of debts, etc., and to his right of present possession. Beckett v. Selover, 7 Cal. 215, 68 Am. Dec. 237.

In Michigan the personal representative is not bound to take possession further than is needful for paying debts, etc.; and the probate court may then set off the residue to the parties thereto entitled, vesting thereby a right of action for direct recovery of such property. McDermott v. Copeland, 9 Fed. 536.

67. Beattie v. Abercrombie, 18 Ala. 9; Goodwin v. Jones, 3 Mass. 514, 3 Am. Dec. 173; Nugent v. Gifford, 1 Atk. 463, 26 Eng. Reprint 294; Haynes v. Forshaw, 11 Hare 93, 17 Jur. 930, 22 L. J. Ch. 1060, 1 Wkly. Rep. 346, 45 Eng. Ch. 95.

An heir cannot create a lien on assets in favor of another person as against the personal representative. Boynton v. Payrow, 67 Me. 587.

68. Percy v. Provan, 15 La. 69; Hall v. Cushing, 9 Pick. (Mass.) 395; Voorhees v. Stoothoff, 11 N. J. L. 145; Covenhoven v. Covenhoven, 1 N. J. L. 210; Hutton v Hutton, 41 N. J. Eq. 267, 3 Atl. 882; Matter of Bull, 5 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 461; Matter of Shepard, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 183. See, generally, WILLS.

Duty to pay over.— Executors of a will bequeathing a fund in trust, the income thereof to be paid to one for life, have no authority to make any settlement with the life-tenant; their only duty in the premises being to pay over the fund, with accumulations, to the trustee. Fitzgerald v. Rhode Island Hospital Trust Co., 24 R. I. 59, 52 Atl. 814.

69. Haskell v. Hill, 169 Mass. 124, 47 N. E. 586; Dorr v. Wainwright, 13 Pick. (Mass.) 328; Hall v. Cushing, 9 Pick. (Mass.) 395; Saunderson v. Stearns, 6 Mass. 37.

Testamentary provision for investment.— Where property is willed to one for life, remainder to minor children, with the provision that the minors shall not come into possession or have the use or enjoyment of their shares until they attain their majority, but that the income of their shares during minority shall be withheld and kept at interest until majority, when the same shall be paid to them, there is no occasion for the appointment of a trustee, on the death of the life-tenant, to care for the shares of the minor remainder-men, as that duty may be performed by the executor. Brewster v. Mack, 69 N. H. 52, 44 Atl. 811.

Protection of trust.— The executor should endeavor to protect and maintain a trust declared under a will, against a beneficiary in possession who disregards the rights of other beneficiaries. Lucas v. Lockhart, 10 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 466, 48 Am. Dec. 766.

70. Alabama.— Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227; Driver v. Riddle, 8 Port. 343.

Georgia.— Neal v. Patten, 47 Ga. 73.

Illinois.—Hungate v. Reynolds, 72 Ill. 425; Christy v. McBride, 2 Ill. 75.

Louisiana.— Bird v. Jones, 5 La. Ann 643.

his own, such as professional counsel, collectors, bookkeepers, etc., who respond to him alone for their acts, and for whose acts he as principal must answer.[71]

G. Supervision and Guidance of Courts. It is always the right and frequently becomes the duty of an executor or administrator to apply to the courts for direction and guidance in the performance of the duties of his trust,[72] and the Michigan.— Cheever v. Ellis, (1903) 96 N. W. 1067, even though the agent employed is a person in whom the testator placed great confidence.

New York.— In re Bronson, Tuck. Surr. 464.

Texas.— See Dyer v. Winston, (Civ. App. 1903) 77 S. W. 227.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 333.

Turning over an estate to the residuary legatees upon their agreement to pay debts and legacies does not release an executor from liability to a creditor or legatee of the estate. Brown v. Phelps, 48 Hun (N. Y.) 219 [affirmed in 113 N. Y. 658, 21 N. E. 415].

Where the husband of an administratrix takes exclusive control and management of the estate, excluding the wife from any participation in the same, makes reports for her, and uses the trust funds or places them to his own private account, the heirs may in equity call him to account for funds coming into his hands as agent of the administratrix. Lehmann v. Rothbarth, 111 Ill. 185.

Action by attorney in fact.— The attorney in fact of an executor or administrator cannot maintain an action for the benefit of the estate in his own name. Neely v. Robinson, 17 Fed. Cas. No. 10,082*a*, Hempst. 9.

71. Alabama.— Henderson v. Simmons, 33 Ala. 291, 70 Am. Dec. 590.

Arkansas.— Crowley v. Mellon, 52 Ark. 1, 11 S. W. 876.

Colorado.— Ingham v. Ryan, 18 Colo. App. 347, 71 Pac. 899.

Illinois.— Bucher v. Bucher, 86 Ill. 377; Christy v. McBride, 2 Ill. 75.

Louisiana.— Moise's Succession, 107 La. 717, 31 So. 990; Denegre v. Denegre, 33 La. Ann. 694.

Missouri.— See Julian v. Abbott, 73 Mo. 580.

New Hampshire.— Dodge v. Stickney, 62 N. H. 330.

New York.— O'Gara v. Clearkin, 58 N. Y. 663 [reversing 2 Thomps. & C. 675]; Noe v. Gregory, 7 Daly 283; Wells v. Disbrow, 20 N. Y. Suppl. 518. See also Rayner v. Pearsall, 3 Johns. Ch. 578.

Pennsylvania.—See Webb's Appeal, 165 Pa. St. 330, 30 Atl. 827.

South Carolina.— Jones v. Jenkins, 2 McCord 494.

Texas.— Armstrong v. O'Brien, 83 Tex. 635, 19 S. W. 268; O'Brien v. Armstrong, 79 Tex. 602, 15 S. W. 681; Dyer v. Winston, (Civ. App. 1903) 77 S. W. 227.

Vermont.— See McCloskey v. Gleason, 56 Vt. 264, 48 Am. Rep. 770.

Virginia.— Mills v. Talley, 83 Va. 361, 5 S. E. 368.

United States.—Green v. Hanberry, 10 Fed. Cas. No. 5,759, 2 Brock. 403.

Canada.— Low v. Gemley, 18 Can. Supreme Ct. 685 [affirming 5 Montreal Q. B. 186, 4 Montreal Super. Ct. 92, 21 Rev. Lég. 44].

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 333.

Due care should be exercised in choice of agent. Wakeman v. Hazleton, 3 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 148; McCloskey v. Gleason, 56 Vt. 264, 48 Am. Rep. 770.

Representative accountable for what his authorized attorney receives.— Abercrombie v. Skinner, 42 Ala. 133; Lipscomb v. District of Columbia, 20 Ct. Cl. 135.

The usual limitations as to the liability of a principal for the acts of his agent apply where a debt is lost to an estate by the mismanagement or failure of an agent suitably employed by him. Julian v. Abbott, 73 Mo. 580; Webb's Appeal, 165 Pa. St. 330, 30 Atl. 827. See infra, VIII, L, 6; and, generally, PRINCIPAL AND AGENT.

Liability of agent.— Where an agent appointed by an administratrix has always complied with her directions, he is not chargeable, in an action against him by the heirs, with interest on sums remaining in his hands as such agent; but for sums received by him as rents, over which the administratrix had no control, he is chargeable with interest. Mason v. Roosevelt, 5 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 534.

A power of attorney by an executrix to control a fund bestowed by the will should not be given in her individual name but as executrix. Baldwin v. Wylie, 30 Fed. Cas. No. 18,228, 2 Hayw. & H. 126.

An administrator has power to revoke an ordinary power of attorney to manage the affairs of the estate, and acts done by the attorney after revocation and notice thereof are not binding on the principal. Babin's Succession, 27 La. Ann. 114.

An executor may ratify a contract made by his attorney so as to bind himself. Newton v. Bronson, 13 N. Y. 587, 67 Am. Dec. 89. See also Dyer v. Winston, (Tex. Civ. App. 1903) 77 S. W. 227.

72. Alabama.— Clay v. Gurley, 62 Ala. 14.

Georgia.— Gaines v. Gaines, 116 Ga. 476, 42 S. E. 763; Trammell v. Johnston, 54 Ga. 340; Rogers v. Bottsford, 44 Ga. 652.

Illinois.— Bridges v. Rice, 99 Ill. 414.

New Hampshire.— Stevens v. Clough, 70 N. H. 165, 47 Atl. 615.

New Jersey.— Holcombe v. Holcombe, 13 N. J. Eq. 413.

North Carolina.— Robinson v. McDiarmid, 87 N. C. 455; Horah v. Horah, 60 N. C. 650.

South Carolina.— James v. Spann, 35 S. C. 614, 14 S. E. 955.

courts have jurisdiction to direct and control his acts in the premises.[73] But as a rule the courts will not of their own motion interfere with advice and directions in the details of management, but will rather review the representative's whole course of conduct, should a contest arise, upon his due accounting and settlement,[74] and the representative is not usually chargeable with mismanagement for acting

Canada.— See Re Caldwell, 2 Ch. Chamb. (U. C.) 150.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 335.

Even though individual transactions of an executor may be involved, a petition by him asking the direction of the court is sustainable, it appearing that the estate is interested in all of the property covered, that the persons made defendants are or may be interested in such property, and that all the allegations of the petition are connected with the distribution of the estate. Gaines v. Gaines, 116 Ga. 476, 42 S. E. 763.

The propriety of past conduct of the representative should not be passed on till the termination of the trust. Tierney v. Tierney, (N. J. Ch. 1897) 38 Atl. 971.

There cannot be an accounting to date in the court of chancery, on a bill filed by executors for directions relating to the management of the estate in their hands, unless all the parties are before the court for the construction of the will. Tierney v. Tierney, (N. J. Ch. 1897) 38 Atl. 971.

Representative not obliged to seek assistance of court see In re Stahl, 11 York Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 105.

73. Hunter v. Bryson, 5 Gill & J. (Md.) 483, 25 Am. Dec. 313; Holcomb v. Holcomb, 11 N. J. Eq. 281; Matter of Gilman, 3 N. Y. St. 342 (holding that it is the duty of the surrogate to guard against the probability as well as the possibility of loss); In re John, 30 Oreg. 494, 47 Pac. 341, 50 Pac. 226, 36 L. R. A. 242.

The fact that infants are interested in an estate is sufficient to make it the duty of the surrogate to make any order necessary concerning the safety of the estate. Matter of Gilman, 3 N. Y. St. 342.

Limitation of powers.— A statute enabling the surrogate to control the conduct of executors and administrators does not extend to property which they had no right to take possession of. Calyer v. Calyer, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 305. See also Kidder v. Kidder, (N. J. Ch. 1903) 56 Atl. 154.

A proceeding to revoke the probate of a will, brought more than five years after the original probate, may be considered as a prayer for the direction of the executor in the administration of the personalty. In re John, 30 Oreg. 494, 47 Pac. 341, 50 Pac. 226, 37 L. R. A. 242.

A creditor can call on the courts of competent jurisdiction to see that the administration is properly conducted. Ford v. Kittredge, 26 La. Ann. 190.

What court has jurisdiction.— Courts of probate, being of statutory establishment, are of local and limited authority, while courts of equity on the other hand take a wide range in supervising and directing all fiduciaries in their course of conduct, various decisions of local application are found in consequence, denying jurisdiction to local courts of probate. See In re Welch, 110 Cal. 605, 42 Pac. 1089; People v. Arapahoe County Ct., 3 Colo. App. 425, 34 Pac. 166; Colyer v. Colyer, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 305; Matter of Cohn, 5 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 338. But compare Jones v. Jones, 41 Md. 354.

Discretion of court as to enjoining administrator from acting see Sanders v. Slaughter, 89 Ga. 34, 14 S. E. 873.

Adjournment of hearing.— Where the papers in a proceeding by executors of an estate for instructions showed without dispute that B, one of the executors, was individually entitled to certain money in the hands of the others, it was not error for the surrogate to make an order adjourning the hearing, conditional on the payment of such money to B. Matter of Bodkin, 88 N. Y. App. Div. 33, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 552, holding further that where such order was subsequently amended so as to recite that the answer of two of the executors was one of the papers on which it was made, the addition of another clause, reciting that "the order so amended remain in full force and effect," was immaterial.

Conclusiveness of recitals.— Where an order giving instructions to executors recited that it was made after hearing G, attorney for petitioner, K, attorney for appellants, appearing and not opposing, such recital was conclusive, and precluded appellants from attacking the order. Matter of Bodkin, 88 N. Y. App. Div. 33, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 552.

An order of the orphans' court as to the investment of money is not appealable where the court has not exceeded its jurisdiction. Jones v. Jones, 41 Md. 354.

The direction of the court properly obtained will protect the representative in his acts done pursuant thereto. Waller v. Barrett, 24 Beav. 413, 4 Jur. N. S. 128, 27 L. J. Ch. 214; Dean v. Allen, 20 Beav. 1; Bennett v. Lytton, 2 Johns. & H. 155; Lowndes v. Williams, 24 L. T. Rep. N. S. 465. But see Brewer v. Pocock, 23 Beav. 310; Dobson v. Carpenter, 12 Beav. 370; Cochrane v. Robinson, 5 Jur. 4, 10 L. J. Ch. 109, 11 Sim. 378, 34 Eng. Ch. 378; Garratt v. Lancefield, 2 Jur. N. S. 177.

74. Vernor v. Coville, 54 Mich. 281, 20 N. W. 75; Hirst's Estate, 12 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 323; Wood v. Hammond, 16 R. I. 98, 17 Atl. 324, 18 Atl. 198.

A testamentary provision that the decision of the executors "shall be final and conclusive" on all matters in the will is insufficient to prevent a review by the court. Reilly's Estate, 6 Northam. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 385.

without an order of court, if his act caused no injury or was such as the court would have ordered done.[75]

H. Rights of Action. Executors and administrators have rights of action against third persons corresponding to the liability which the law has imposed upon themselves.[76]

I. Submission to Arbitration or Reference. The personal representative has as a rule the right to agree to submit to an arbitration or reference as to claims in favor of or against the estate;[77] but some of the earlier cases, although admitting this power, held that the representative became liable as for waste if

75. Vernor v. Coville, 54 Mich. 281, 20 N. W. 75; In re Millenovich, 5 Nev. 161; Norris v. Fisher, 2 Ashm. (Pa.) 411; Howe v. Dartmouth, 7 Ves. Jr. 137, 6 Rev. Rep. 96, 32 Eng. Reprint 56. And see Lee v. Brown, 4 Ves. Jr. 362, 4 Rev. Rep. 208, 31 Eng. Reprint 184.

76. Halleck v. Mixer, 16 Cal. 574 (holding that executors have the right to institute an action of replevin for the recovery of wood removed wrongfully from lands of the testator, after it had been first cut therefrom); Snider v. Croy, 2 Johns. (N. Y.) 227 (holding that the representative can sue trespassers for wasting and destroying as well as for taking and carrying away assets of the estate). See also State v. Hogan, 2 Brev. (S. C.) 437, holding that, where the executor or administrator has the right to gather in standing crops as emblements, he may oppose by force any one interrupting him in the exercise of his right.

77. Alabama.— Jones v. Blalock, 31 Ala. 180; Jones v. Deyer, 16 Ala. 221.

Connecticut.— Alling v. Munson, 2 Conn. 691.

Kentucky.— Overly v. Overly, 1 Metc. 117.

Louisiana.— Lattier v. Rachal, 12 La. Ann. 695.

Maine.— Kendall v. Bates, 35 Me. 357.

Massachusetts.—Chadbourn v. Chadbourn, 9 Allen 173; Bean v. Farnam, 6 Pick. 269; Coffin v. Cuttle, 4 Pick. 454.

Mississippi.— Bailey v. Dilworth, 10 Sm. & M. 404, 48 Am. Dec. 760.

New Hampshire.—Cogswell v. Concord, etc., R. Co., 68 N. H. 192, 44 Atl. 293.

New Jersey.— Crum v. Moore, 14 N. J. Eq. 436, 82 Am. Dec. 262.

Pennsylvania.— Christy v. Christy, 176 Pa. St. 421, 35 Atl. 245; Peter's Appeal, 38 Pa. St. 239.

Rhode Island.— Parker v. Providence, etc., Steamboat Co., 17 R. I. 376, 22 Atl. 284, 23 Atl. 102, 33 Am. St. Rep. 869, 14 L. R. A. 414.

South Carolina.—Swicard v. Wilson, 2 Mill 218.

Vermont.— Powers v. Douglass, 53 Vt. 471, 38 Am. Rep. 699.

West Virginia.— Wamsley v. Wamsley, 26 W. Va. 45.

United States.—Hoyt v. Sprague, 103 U. S. 613, 26 L. ed. 585.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 463; and infra, X, C, 2.

Contra.— Reitzell v. Miller, 25 Ill. 67.

Right based upon power to prosecute or defend suits.— Kendall v. Bates, 35 Me. 357; Weston v. Stuart, 11 Me 326; Eaton v. Cole, 10 Me. 137.

What claims may be referred.— Only claims which accrued during decedent's life or would have accrued against him had he lived can be referred. Dodding v. Porter, 17 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 374. But compare McDaniels v. McDaniels, 40 Vt. 340, 94 Am. Dec. 408.

Claim for tort referable.— Brockett v. Bush, 18 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 337.

Jurisdiction of orphans' court.— A statute conferring on orphans' courts the power, with the consent of the parties, to arbitrate between a claimant and an administrator has been held to refer only to claims against the estate of the decedent which are asserted against the administrator in his fiduciary character. Browne v. Preston, 38 Md. 373.

The deputy of a sheriff to whom administration has been committed is not authorized to submit to arbitration a suit to which the decedent was a party and which was revived in the name of the sheriff as administrator. Thompson v. Thompson, 6 Munf. (Va.) 514.

Statutes specially enforcing a submission to arbitration under the authority of the probate court are in addition to and not in impairment of the common-law authority. Wamsley v. Wamsley, 26 W. Va. 45. See also Boynton v. Boynton, 10 Vt. 107.

Signing in fiduciary capacity not necessary. — The representative need not sign a submission to arbitration as "executor" or "administrator" if the body of the instrument shows clearly the capacity in which he submits. Chadbourn v. Chadbourn, 9 Allen (Mass.) 173.

The actual submission of a contested claim to the surrogate, all the parties in interest being present, cannot be sustained as an arbitration. Tucker v. Tucker, 4 Abb. Dec. (N. Y.) 428, 4 Keyes (N. Y.) 136.

Arbitration not a proper mode to establish rejected claim against estate.— Yarborough v. Leggett, 14 Tex. 677.

A surviving partner who is also administrator of the deceased partner cannot submit to arbitration a matter between the partnership and the estate, because in such case he would be acting in the double capacity of a representative and a debtor or creditor of the estate. Boynton v. Boynton, 10 Vt. 107.

If the representative is a mere trustee of another, having the legal title, but no beneficial interest in the matter in controversy, the court will control his action and protect the estate was eventually injured by the award.[78] Where matters are properly submitted the award is binding on the representative in his fiduciary capacity,[79] and also on the legatees or distributees and creditors of the estate.[80] Where claims against a person both individually and in his capacity as executor or administrator are submitted to arbitration, the award should clearly distinguish between moneys which are to be paid by him in his fiduciary character and those for which he is personally bound.[81]

J. Confession of Judgment. The courts view with disfavor a confession of judgment by an executor or administrator, and the usual result should be to charge him in the first place de bonis propriis;[82] but in some states the representative is permitted in a proper case to confess judgment for a debt contracted by the decedent so as to bind the estate.[83]

K. Estoppel. An executor or administrator, in his capacity as such, is as the interest of the cestui que trust. Crumb v. Moore, 14 N. J. Eq. 436, 82 Am. Dec. 262.

78. McKeen v. Oliphant, 18 N. J. L. 442; Crum v. Moore, 14 N. J. Eq. 436, 82 Am. Dec. 262; Nelson v. Cornwell, 11 Gratt. (Va.) 724; Wheatley v. Martin, 6 Leigh (Va.) 62.

79. Cogswell v. Concord, etc., R. Co., 68 N. H. 192, 44 Atl. 293; Wheatley v. Martin, 6 Leigh (Va.) 62.

Construction of award.— Where an administrator submitted to arbitration disputed accounts of his intestate, binding himself and his heirs to abide and perform the award, an award ordering him to pay a specified sum "out of the estate of said deceased" only bound him to pay out of that fund as much as he could pay consistently with the law and rights of other creditors, such being the clear intention of the parties. McKeen v. Oliphant, 18 N. J. L. 442.

Personal liability.— Where an administrator and an heir of the estate submitted their differences to arbitration, it was held that assumpsit would lie against the administrator personally upon the award. Powers v. Douglass, 53 Vt. 471, 38 Am. Rep. 699.

80. Cogswell v. Concord, etc., R. Co., 68 N. H. 192, 44 Atl. 293; Strodes v. Patton, 23 Fed. Cas. No. 13,538, 1 Brock. 228.

81. Lyle v. Rodgers, 5 Wheat. (U. S.) 394, 5 L. ed. 117.

82. California.— In re Isaac, 30 Cal. 105.

Indiana.— Hanna v. Dunham, 10 Ind. App. 611, 38 N. E. 343.

Louisiana.— Decuir's Succession, 23 La. Ann. 166; Ashcraft v. Flint, 4 La. 496.

New York.— Columbus Watch Co. v. Hodenpyl, 61 Hun 557, 16 N. Y. Suppl. 337 [affirmed in 135 N. Y. 430, 32 N. E. 239].

North Carolina.— Finch v. Ragland, 17 N. C. 137 (confession in favor of a co-administrator); Richardson v. Fleming, 4 N. C. 341.

Pennsylvania.— Young v. Weed, 154 Pa. St. 316, 26 Atl. 420, 35 Am. St. Rep. 839; Loud v. Bull, 1 Whart. 238. But see infra, note 83.

Vermont.— Nason v. Smalley, 8 Vt. 118.

Virginia.—Freelands v. Royall, 2 Hen. & M. 575.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 464.

The addition of the word "executor" in a judgment confessed is mere surplusage and does not prevent defendant being charged de bonis propriis with the amount. Hall v. Craige, 65 N. C. 51, 68 N. C. 305.

Equity will take cognizance, if necessary, to prevent a wrongful confession from operating against the estate. Nason v. Smalley, 8 Vt. 118.

Debts of firm of which decedent a member. — The rule that executors have no power to confess judgment is not applicable to offers of judgments to firm creditors by a firm composed of a surviving partner and the executor of a deceased partner conducting the interest of the deceased therein, for such creditors are not creditors of the estate of the deceased partner. Columbus Watch Co. v. Hodenpyl, 61 Hun (N. Y.) 557, 16 N. Y. Suppl. 337 [affirmed in 135 N. Y. 430, 32 N. E. 239].

Presumption.— A judgment obtained by confession against the representative will be presumed well founded until the contrary is shown. Powell v. Myers, 21 N. C. 502.

83. Little v. Brannin, 4 N. J. L. 288; Bennett v. Fulmer, 49 Pa. St. 155; Dickey v. Trainer, 43 Pa. St. 509. But see supra, note 82.

Power under will see Miller v. Ege, 8 Pa. St. 352.

Substitution of creditors.— Where an executor who as such was indebted to one of the legatees confessed judgment to one of the legatees' creditors in lieu of the latter's judgment against the legatee, the amount of the judgment so confessed being less than the amount due the legatee, and took a receipt from the legatee for the amount of the confessed judgment, to be accounted for upon the final settlement of the estate and the accounts, this amounted to a mere change of creditors and the judgment creditor had the right to levy his execution upon the personal property of the estate. Miller v. Ege, 8 Pa. St. 352.

Equity will not relieve executors where assets insufficient.— Where executors confess judgment for a debt of their testator, upon a miscalculation of the amount of the assets in their hands, and with a full understanding of their personal liability in case of a deficiency of assets, they will not be relieved in equity against the judgment, after it appears that the assets are insufficient to sat-much bound by the laws of estoppel as if he were acting in his individual capacity;[84] but his acts merely as an individual cannot operate as an estoppel against him in his representative capacity,[85] although the law of estoppel denies to the personal representative who takes a just possession of property in his fiduciary capacity the right to subsequently deny the title of his decedent or set up adverse title to the injury of those beneficially interested.[86] The laws of estoppel may also operate in favor of an executor or administrator against other persons.[87]

L. Powers Before Qualification — 1. In General. Although the executor has been, and in some jurisdictions still is, somewhat favored in this respect,[88] the isfy it. Freelands v. Royall, 2 Hen. & M. (Va.) 575.

84. Alabama.— Butler v. Gazzam, 81 Ala. 491, 1 So. 16; Williamson v. Ross, 33 Ala. 509; Duncan v. Stewart, 25 Ala. 408, 60 Am. Dec. 527; McLane v. Spence, 6 Ala. 894.

Illinois.— McDonough v. Hanifan, 7 Ill. App. 50.

Indiana.— Hackleman v. Miller, 4 Blackf. 322.

Iowa.— Jones v. Blumenstein, 77 Iowa 361, 42 N. W. 321; Clark v. Tallman, 68 Iowa 372, 27 N. W. 261.

Louisiana.— Scott v. Briscoe, 36 La. Ann. 278; Richmond's Succession, 35 La. Ann. 858.

Mississippi.— Pittman v. Pittman, 59 Miss. 203.

New York.— Deegan v. Von Glahn, 75 Hun 39, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 989; Riley v. Albany Sav. Bank, 36 Hun 513; Hall v. Richardson, 22 Hun 444.

Texas.— Thomas v. Brooks, 6 Tex. 369.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 465, 466.

Circumstances not amounting to estoppel. — Mere silence of the representative, or his failure to assert title, or an ambiguous and doubtful election on his part, do not constitute an estoppel. McLane v. Spence, 11 Ala. 172; Lewis v. Lusk, 35 Miss. 696, 72 Am. Dec. 153. A succession is not estopped to dispute title claimed under a void tax-sale by the fact its administrator and attorney were present at the sale and confirmed it. Gulf State Land, etc., Co. v. Fasnacht, 47 La. Ann. 1294, 17 So. 800. If an executor induces a third person to trade for a note of his testator by representing that there is no offset against it, and that it will certainly be paid, such representations will not bind the estate of the testator, or preclude the executor from showing a failure of the consideration for which the note was executed. Glenn v. Thistle, 23 Miss. 42. The acceptance, by the executor of a creditor of a corporation, of corporate bonds, purporting on their face to be first mortgage bonds, and retention thereof after learning that such bonds were secondary to purchase-money bonds held by his testator for another claim due from the corporation, do not prevent the executor from asserting the priority of the purchase-money bonds; the rights of bona fide purchasers for value not intervening. Moore v. Ensley, 112 Ala. 228, 20 So. 744. Where a judgment rendered against intestate during his lifetime was afterward reversed, the fact that the administratrix purchased part of the decedent's property at the sale under the judgment did not estop her from asserting her right to restitution under a statute providing for restitution when a judgment is reversed. Black v. Vermont Marble Co., 137 Cal. 683, 70 Pac. 776.

85. Baird v. Harper, (Del. Sup. 1902) 51 Atl. 141; Dutcher v. Dutcher, 88 Hun (N. Y.) 221, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 653.

86. Cooper v. Lindsay, 109 Ala. 338, 19 So. 379; Gayle v. Johnson, 80 Ala. 388; Irby v. Kitchell, 42 Ala. 438; Boyd v. Harrison, 36 Ala. 533; Thompson v. Bondurant, 15 Ala. 346, 50 Am. Dec. 136; Miller v. Wilkins, 79 Ga. 675, 4 S. E. 261; Clayton v. McKinney, 10 Heisk. (Tenn.) 72 (receiving rent accruing after testator's death); Drexel v. Berney, 35 Fed. 805; Prince v. Towns, 33 Fed. 161. But compare Crowe v. Brady, 5 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 1.

87. Mackey v. Ballou, 112 Ind. 198, 13 N. E. 715; Whitford v. Crooks, 50 Mich. 40, 14 N. W. 675; In re Alfstad, 27 Wash. 175, 67 Pac. 593.

Heirs, devisees, or distributees may be estopped by their own acts. Payne v. Payne, 5 Mo. App. 188; Tucker v. Tucker, 29 N. J. Eq. 286.

88. Mississippi.— Emanuel v. Norcum, 7 How. 150.

New Hampshire.— Shirley v. Healds, 34 N. H. 407; Strong v. Perkins, 3 N. H. 517.

New Jersey.— Thiefes v. Mason, 55 N. J. Eq. 456, 37 Atl. 455.

New York.— Valentine v. Jackson, 9 Wend. 302; Judson v. Gibbons, 5 Wend. 224.

South Carolina.—Foster v. Brown, 3 Rich. 254; Williams v. Seabrooks, 3 McCord 371.

England.— Whitehead v. Taylor, 10 A. & E. 210, 4 Jur. 247, 9 L. J. Q. B. 65, 2 P. & D. 367, 37 E. C. L. 131; Wills v. Rich, 2 Atk. 285, 26 Eng. Reprint 575; Hudson v. Hudson, 1 Atk. 460, 26 Eng. Reprint 292; Woolley v. Clark, 5 B. & Ald. 744, 1 D. & R. 409, 24 Rev. Rep. 546, 7 E. C. L. 405; Brasier v. Hudson, 5 L. J. Ch. 296, 8 Sim. 67, 8 Eng. Ch. 67; Comber's Case, 1 P. Wms. 766, 24 Eng. Reprint 605; Wankford v. Wankford, 1 Salk. 299.

Canada.— Robinson v. Coyne, 14 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 561. See also Bryce v. Beattie, 12 U. C. C. P. 409.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 326.

It is only in order to assert his right to sue as such that the executor must have first probated the will. Humphreys v. Ingledon, 1 P. Wms. 752, 24 Eng. Reprint 599.

better view, in many jurisdictions established by statute, is that neither executor nor administrator is entitled to exercise power freely as such until he has been duly qualified in the probate court, by giving bond or otherwise, as local statute may have directed,[89] nor can he sue or be sued, either at law or in equity, until after he has been duly qualified.[90] Notwithstanding the representative's want of authority to receive assets before appointment, his taking possession of the decedent's estate for purposes of immediate protection, custody, and management is somewhat favored in practice; and for whatever assets he thus receives he is chargeable in his representative capacity when his appointment becomes completed.[91] But one who undertakes to discharge and settle accounts of the estate of a deceased person before he is appointed and duly qualified as executor or administrator does so without legal authority and at his peril, and will after his appointment be held responsible for his acts.[92]

2. Relation Back of Letters. When letters testamentary or of administration are issued, they relate back so as to vest the decedent's property in the representative as from the time of death and validate the acts of the representative done

Filing bond sufficient without taking out letters testamentary.— Montreal Bank v. Buchanan, 32 Wash. 480, 73 Pac. 482.

The title to the personal estate vests in the person named as executor in the will, as trustee, even before the will is probated (Richardson v. Bailey, 69 N. H. 384, 41 Atl. 263, 76 Am. St. Rep. 176; Shirley v. Healds, 34 N. H. 407); and by the filing of the bond to pay debts and legacies, the title passes to him as an individual (Richardson v. Bailey, 69 N. H. 384, 41 Atl. 263, 76 Am. St. Rep. 176; Mercer v. Pike, 58 N. H. 286; Tappan v. Tappan, 30 N. H. 50; Batchelder v. Russell, 10 N. H. 39).

Sale of interest in business pursuant to partnership articles.— Where partnership articles provide that the surviving partner may purchase the deceased partner's interest within three months after his death by executing and delivering to decedent's personal representatives a bond of specified purport, the persons named in the deceased partner's will as executors have power before probate to accept such bond. Hull v. Cartledge, 18 N. Y. App. Div. 54, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 450.

Service of an attachment of a legacy on one of two executors before either has qualified is good. Sandidge v. Graves, 1 Patt. & H. (Va.) 101.

89. Alabama.— Gardner v. Gantt, 19 Ala. 666; Cleveland v. Chandler, 3 Stew. 489.

California.— Aldrich v. Willis, 55 Cal. 81.

Louisiana.—Vogel's Succession, 20 La. Ann. 81; Labadie v. Guerin, 5 La. 429.

Massachusetts.— Davis v. Davis, 2 Cush. 111.

Michigan.— Gilkey v. Hamilton, 22 Mich. 283.

New York.— Humbert v. Wurster, 22 Hun 405 (unless necessary to preserve estate or provide for payment of funeral expenses); Thomas v. Cameron, 16 Wend. 579.

North Carolina.— Leach v. Jones, 86 N. C. 404.

Vermont.— Tucker v. Starks, Brayt. 99.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 326; and supra, II, A, 2.

An executor is not liable for the loss of property before his qualification unless he had such property then in his possession. Roberts v. Stuart, 80 Tex. 379, 15 S. W. 1108.

90. Alabama.— Wood v. Cosby, 76 Ala. 557.

Arkansas.— Cocke v. Walters, 6 Ark. 404.

Indiana.— Call v. Ewing, 1 Blackf. 301.

Maryland.—Ratrie v. Wheeler, 6 Harr. & J. 94.

New York.— In re Flandrow, 92 N. Y. 256; Thomas v. Cameron, 16 Wend. 579.

Tennessee.— Fay v. Reager, 2 Sneed 200.

England.— Tarn v. Commercial Banking Co., 12 Q. B. D. 294, 50 L. T. Rep. N. S. 365, 32 Wkly. Rep. 492; Grosvenor v. Lane, 2 Atk. 180, 26 Eng. Reprint 512; Gleeson v. Cooke, 1 Hog. 294; Humphreys v. Ingledon, 1 P. Wms. 752, 24 Eng. Reprint 599. But see Wills v. Rich, 2 Atk. 285, 26 Eng. Reprint 575.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 329.

An executor cannot bring a bill of interpleader until after probate. Mitchell v. Smart, 3 Atk. 606, 26 Eng. Reprint 1149.

91. Kansas.— Head v. Sutton, 31 Kan. 616, 3 Pac. 280.

Louisiana.— Locke v. Barrow, 25 La. Ann. 118.

New York.— Daly's Estate, Tuck. Surr. 95.

North Carolina.— Hilborn v. Hester, 43 N. C. 55.

Tennessee.— Killebrew v. Murphy, 3 Heisk. 546.

England.— Wills v. Rich, 2 Atk. 285, 26 Eng. Reprint 575.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 327.

92. Gouldsmith v. Coleman, 57 Ga. 425; Alvord v. Marsh, 12 Allen (Mass.) 603; Roumfort v. McAlarney, 82 Pa. St. 193.

Payment of a proper charge before one's appointment as administrator may be allowed and credited as though made after the grant of letters. Boyer v. Marshall, 5 N. Y. St. 431.

Action on indemnity bond.— One entitled to letters of administration may pay a claim against the estate, and after taking out let-in the interim;[93] but such validation or ratification applies only to acts which might properly have been done by a personal representative and the estate ought not to be prejudiced by wrongful and injurious acts performed before one's appointment.[94]

M. Powers Pending Appeal From Appointment or Probate. An appeal from an order admitting a will to probate or appointing an administrator, or the pendency of an action to set aside a will, suspends the powers of the representative for the time being,[95] but it does not wholly vacate the appointment, and if the appeal is discontinued, or the contest finally terminated by a decision sustaining the letters issued, the representative is restored to full powers, which relate ters maintain an action on a bond given the intestate to indemnify him against the claim. Leber v. Kauffelt, 5 Watts & S. (Pa.) 440.

93. Alabama.— Johnson v. Blair, 132 Ala. 128, 31 So. 92.

Arkansas.— McDearmon v. Maxfield, 38 Ark. 631.

Georgia.— Liptrot v. Holmes, 1 Ga. 381.

Illinois.— Globe Acc. Ins. Co. v. Gerisch, 163 Ill. 625, 45 N. E. 563, 54 Am. St. Rep. 486.

Iowa.— Haynes v. Harris, 33 Iowa 516.

Kentucky.—Baird v. Rowan, 1 A. K. Marsh. 214.

Maine.— Gage v. Johnson, 20 Me. 437.

Maryland.— Dempsey v. McNabb, 73 Md. 433, 21 Atl. 378.

Massachusetts.— Lawrence v. Wright, 23 Pick. 128; Jewett v. Smith, 12 Mass. 309.

New Hampshire.— Brackett v. Hoitt, 20 N. H. 257.

New Jersey.— Brown v. Howell, 66 N. J. L. 25, 48 Atl. 1020.

New York.— Denton v. Sanford, 103 N. Y. 607, 9 N. E. 490; Smith v. Robinson, 30 Hun 269; Allen v. Eighmie, 9 Hun 201; Rockwell v. Saunders, 19 Barb. 473; Thomas v. New York L. Ins. Co., 50 N. Y. Super. Ct. 225; Joyce v. McGuire, 2 N. Y. City Ct. 422. But see Conrad v. Archer, 7 N. Y. St. 646.

North Carolina.— Filhour v. Gibson, 39 N. C. 455.

Pennsylvania.—Holcomb v. Roberts, 57 Pa. St. 493; Shoenberger v. Lancaster Sav. Inst., 28 Pa. St. 459.

Rhode Island.— Brown v. Lewis, 9 R. I. 497.

South Carolina.— Cook v. Cook, 24 S. C. 204; Dealy v. Lance, 2 Speers 487; Miller v. Reigne, 2 Hill 592; McVaughters v. Elder, 2 Brev. 307.

Vermont.— Taylor v. Phillips, 30 Vt. 238; Bullock v. Rogers, 16 Vt. 294.

England.— Brasier v. Hudson, 5 L. J. Ch. 296, 8 Sim. 67, 8 Eng. Ch. 67; Humphreys v. Humphreys, 3 P. Wms. 349, 24 Eng. Reprint 1096.

Canada.— Trice v. Robinson, 16 Ont. 433; Deal v. Potter, 26 U. C. Q. B. 578.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 326.

A creditor for needful immediate supplies or other benefit to the estate may hold the representative liable by relation back. Tucker v. Whaley, 11 R. I. 543.

An administrator may ratify the act of a stranger in receiving money due to an intestate's estate before the administrator's appointment, and sue such person as for money had and received to his use. Dempsey v. McNabb, 73 Md. 433, 21 Atl. 378.

Representative may sue for injury to estate done before appointment. California.—Ham v. Henderson, 50 Cal. 367.

Georgia.— Gouldsmith v. Coleman, 57 Ga. 425.

Indiana.— Gerard v. Jones, 78 Ind. 378.

Maine.— Hutchins v. Adams, 3 Me. 174.

Michigan.— Morton v. Preston, 18 Mich. 60, 100 Am. Dec. 146.

New Hampshire.— Brackett v. Hoitt, 20 N. H. 257.

Pennsylvania.—Holcomb v. Roberts, 57 Pa. St. 493.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 326.

A conveyance made before probate of the will, under a power of sale given by the will, is good if the will be afterward probated. Wilson v. Wilson, 54 Mo. 213.

94. Louisiana.— Sparrow's Succession, 39 La. Ann. 696, 2 So. 501.

Minnesota.— Wiswell v. Wiswell, 35 Minn. 371, 29 N. W. 166.

New York.— Bellinger v. Ford, 21 Barb. 311.

Texas.— Mills v. Herndon, 60 Tex. 353.

United States.— Wall v. Bissell, 125 U. S. 382, 8 S. Ct. 979, 31 L. ed. 772.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 326.

The widow cannot give away property of her deceased husband's estate before letters are granted. Jahns v. Nolting, 29 Cal. 507; Roumfort v. McAlarney, 82 Pa. St. 193.

An unlawful delivery as an individual of property of a decedent, by his widow, who is afterward appointed administratrix, does not estop her from recovering the same as administratrix after her appointment. Gouldsmith v. Coleman, 57 Ga. 425.

95. Georgia.— Thompson v. Knight, 23 Ga. 399.

Massachusetts.— Arnold v. Sabin, 4 Cush. 46.

Missouri.— Carroll v. Reid, 158 Mo. 319, 59 S. W. 69.

New York.— Newhouse v. Gale, 1 Redf. Surr. 217; Matter of Place, 5 Dem. Surr. 228.

Tennessee.— Byrn v. Fleming, 3 Head 658.

Texas.— Garrett v. Garrett, (Civ. App. 1898) 47 S. W. 76.

back as though there had been no contest.[96] So also it has been held that in case of a contest as to the validity of a will, the representative is not relieved from his duties except so far as rights under the will are concerned.[97]

VI. DISCOVERY OF ASSETS.[98]

A. Proceedings in General. Statutory provisions are ordinarily found authorizing the personal representative to bring a bill or petition for the discovery of assets of the estate of the decedent.[99] The proceeding is in the nature of a bill of discovery and should be governed by the principles and practice of equity.[1]

B. Right to Institute. The statutes indicate who has the right to institute such proceedings, ordinarily the executor or administrator.[2] The existence of

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 330–332.

The executor is not entitled to possession of the estate as against an administrator pendente lite. Carroll v. Reid, 158 Mo. 319, 59 S. W. 69.

The public administrator may be allowed to sell property placed in his hands, pending a contest over the administration, if such sale will be for the preservation and benefit of the estate, even though the title to the property be in dispute. Public Administrator v. Burdell, 4 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 252.

General appointee may be continued on pendente lite footing. Bradford v. Boundinot, 3 Fed. Cas. No. 1,765, 3 Wash. 122, Pennsylvania statute. See also Thompson v. Tracy, 60 N. Y. 174.

Special orders of court sometimes apply to such emergencies for the benefit of the estate. See Townshend v. Brooke, 9 Gill (Md.) 90; Fonte v. Horton, 36 Miss. 350; Hawke v. Hawke, 74 Hun (N. Y.) 370, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 803; In re Hoyt, 31 Hun (N. Y.) 176; Swenarton v. Hancock, 22 Hun (N. Y.) 43; Stone v. Spillman, 16 Tex. 432.

96. Fletcher v. Fletcher, 29 Vt. 98.

Contest as to validity of codicil.— Where the sole legatee disputed the validity of a codicil to the will which deprived him of some of the property, and while the litigation was pending took possession of the property and sold some of it, on the codicil being declared valid the executor was entitled to recover in trespass against the legatee. Hathorn v. Eaton, 70 Me. 219.

97. Edmondson v. Carroll, 2 Sneed (Tenn.) 678.

Payment of income to legatee.— Where an action pending by the son of a decedent to revoke the probate of his father's will would, if the son were successful, increase the interest which he has under the will in the income of the estate as legatee, such action is no bar to an order on the executor to pay to the son for his support a balance of income due him under the will. Matter of Hughes, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 75, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 646.

98. Proceedings for recovery see infra, VII, C.

99. See Kinney v. Keplinger, 172 Ill. 449, 50 N. E. 131 [reversing 71 Ill. App. 334]; Caleb v. Mearn, 72 Me. 231; Craig v. Dougherty, 61 Miss. 96; O'Brien v. Baker, 65 N. Y. App. Div. 282, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 1001.

Statutory remedy does not supersede equitable jurisdiction. Grimes v. Hilliary, 38 Ill. App. 246; Starkweather v. Williams, 21 R. I. 55, 41 Atl. 1003.

Whether proceedings are summary or plenary is determined by the rule that whenever a petition or bill is filed, whether or not the parties are cited to appear, if in point of fact they do appear and answer, the proceedings are plenary. Cannon v. Crook, 32 Md. 482.

The jurisdiction of registers of probate to act in disclosure proceedings, as given by Me. Pub. Laws (1887), c. 137, § 3, is not repealed by Me. Pub. Laws (1897), c. 330, providing for the appointment of disclosure commissioners by the governor, instead of by the supreme judicial court, who should perform the duties required by the former statute. Alden v. Thompson, 92 Me. 86, 42 Atl. 227.

Where a public administrator is in charge of an intestate's estate, not by virtue of his office but under letters issued to him out of the surrogate's court, a proceeding on application by him for the discovery of property of such estate alleged to be concealed or withheld is regulated by the statute relating to such an application by executors and administrators generally, and not by the statute relating to such an application by public administrators only. Public Administrator v. Rollins, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 139.

All incidental authority necessary to make the principal grant effective is included in a grant of power to a probate court to proceed for the discovery of assets of an estate. Eckerle v. Wood, 95 Mo. App. 378, 69 S. W. 45.

Discretion of court.— Under the Illinois statute the court in its discretion may or may not examine the person against whom such proceedings are had, since the provision as to examination is not mandatory. Mahoney v. People, 98 Ill. App. 241.

1. Adams v. Adams, 81 Ill. App. 637.

2. Robey v. Prout, 7 D. C. 81.

Administrator de bonis non with the will annexed may petition, under Mass. Pub. St. c. 133, § 1, for an examination of a person suspected of having fraudulently received, concealed, and conveyed away certain of testator's real estate. Dickey v. Taft, 175 Mass. 4, 55 N. E. 318.

Court may proceed upon its own information. Hughes v. People, 5 Colo. 436.

Interest.— Mo. Rev. St. (1899) § 74, au-reasonable grounds for inquiry justifies such proceedings,[3] and they are proper when the representative has no adequate remedy at law.[4] Proceedings may commonly be brought against one within the same general jurisdiction, although a resident of a different county,[5] and an application to compel a foreign temporary administrator of a resident decedent to disclose information necessary to enable the domestic administrator to prepare his inventory has been granted.[6] Even a considerable lapse of time has been held not to bar such proceedings.[7]

C. Property or Claims as to Which Proceeding Proper. The proceeding for discovery properly extends to papers of the estate which are withheld from the executor or administrator,[8] books which it is necessary for him to examine,[9] or property or money placed in the hands of a third person on deposit;[10] and a bill will lie against the general agent of the decedent for an account of his transactions with his principal.[11] But the proceeding does not relate, except for special needs, to real estate.[12]

D. Scope of Inquiry and Relief.[13] The usual object of legislation empowering a probate judge on application to cite and examine on oath persons suspected of having concealed, embezzled, converted, or transferred personal property of the deceased is to provide for the discovery of the identical property,[14] and not for collecting debts[15] or settling disputes over legal title,[16] and this power extends only to compelling such discovery, upon a legal examination, as may serve as a basis for further proceedings, and not to compelling recovery of the property itself.[17] Nevertheless the statutes of some states permit the court to thorizes a "person interested" to file an affidavit preliminary to proceedings for the discovery of assets. Where the probate court issues a citation, in a proceeding for discovery, it necessarily decides that the petitioner is a person interested in the estate, authorized to bring such proceeding. Eckerle v. Wood, 95 Mo. App. 378, 69 S. W. 45. Under Mo. Rev. St. (1899) § 2938, entitling a husband, where there are no children, to one half of the wife's estate absolutely, the husband is a person interested in the estate. Ex p. Gfeller, 178 Mo. 248, 77 S. W. 552.

Aid from judgment creditor.— A judgment creditor of a decedent may not, by proceeding in attachment execution against debtors of the decedent, aid the administrator in the disclosure of assets, if by so doing the effect would be to violate the principle that one such creditor cannot obtain a lien or preference over other creditors by an execution against a personal representative. United Firemen's Ins. Co. v. McCartney, 8 Pa. Dist. 110.

3. Mead v. Sommers, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 296.

4. See Schrafft v. Wolters, 61 N. J. Eq. 467, 48 Atl. 782.

5. Pierpont v. Threlkeld, 13 Tex. 244.

6. Matter of O'Brien, 34 Misc. (N. Y.) 436, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 1022, holding further that an answer by such foreign administrator that he has not possession of any assets in the state, and that as to the assets in the foreign state he is entitled to possession, is insufficient where it does not set out the extent of his special title or describe correctly the property.

7. O'Dee v. McCrate, 7 Me. 467, thirty years. But compare Matter of Cunard, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 883, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 16.

8. Donley v. Cundiff, 35 Tex. 741.

9. Perrin v. Judge Calhoun County Cir. Ct., 49 Mich. 342, 13 N. W. 767, partnership books.

10. Mulvihill v. White, 89 Ill. App. 88; Matter of Richardson, 31 Misc. (N. Y.) 666, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 94.

11. Simmons v. Simmons, 33 Gratt. (Va.) 451.

12. Pease v. Pease, 8 Metc. (Mass.) 395.

13. See infra, VI, I.

14. Williams v. Conley, 20 Ill. 643; Dinsmoor v. Bressler, 56 Ill. App. 207; Matter of Cunard, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 883, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 16 [affirmed in 4 Silv. Supreme 409, 7 N. Y. Suppl. 553].

Extent of right.— When the administrator is given an opportunity to examine documents in the possession of a third person which tend to disclose decedent's interest in property, he obtains all that he is entitled to, and the person in possession of the documents cannot be compelled to furnish a schedule of them and a description of their character. Manly v. Washtenaw County, 99 Mich. 441, 58 N. W. 367.

15. Ives' Appeal, 28 Conn. 416; Williams v. Conley, 20 Ill. 643; Matter of Stewart, 77 Hun (N. Y.) 564, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 1048; Matter of Knittel, 5 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 371. See also Wilson v. Ruthrauff, 82 Mo. App. 435.

16. Moss v. Sandefur, 15 Ark. 381; Johnson v. Johnson, 82 Mo. App. 350; In re Curry, 25 Hun (N. Y.) 321; Matter of Carey, 11 N. Y. App. Div. 289, 42 N. Y. Suppl. 346; Summerfield v. Howie, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 149; Public Administrator v. Ward, 3 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 244.

17. Ex p. Casey, 71 Cal. 269, 12 Pac. 118; O'Dee v. McCrate, 7 Me. 467; Dodge v. McNeil, 62 N. H. 168; Saddington v. Hewitt, 70 Wis. 240, 35 N. W. 552.

order the property in question to be delivered to the executor or administrator, where it finds as a fact that the property belongs solely to the estate, although not otherwise.[18]

E. Parties. The executor or administrator, or in case of joint letters, both or all of the co-executors or co-administrators, should be parties to such proceedings.[19] The heirs are not necessary parties to a bill by an administrator praying an account from alleged agents of the decedent.[20]

F. Citation. Citation or summons should issue and all subsequent proceedings must await its return.[21]

G. Petition or Affidavit. A petition or affidavit for the examination of one charged with withholding assets is naturally based upon information and belief, and the allegations thereof are liberally regarded.[22]

H. Answer or Demurrer. An answer may be filed,[23] the immediate effect of which may be to render a dismissal necessary,[24] but a purely technical demurrer should be overruled.[25]

I. Hearing and Examination.[26] Proceedings of this kind are to be deemed special proceedings; and a probate court once acquiring jurisdiction retains it until the proceeding has been finally disposed of or regularly discontinued.[27] The distributees of the estate cannot file interrogatories to the person cited where the executor or administrator fails to do so.[28] The interrogatories and answers are sometimes required to be in writing,[29] but under other statutes the court has the right to allow the person cited to be examined under oath and may believe and act on his uncontradicted statements.[30] The court is authorized merely to examine a person suspected of having wrongfully taken possession of goods belonging to the decedent, and cannot try and determine the question whether such person has taken wrongful possession as an issue of fact upon general evidence.[31] A person cited for examination has the right to counsel.[32] Attachment and imprisonment are compulsory means sometimes sanctioned by statute, where the defendant fails inexcusably to appear and submit himself, or refuses to answer questions lawfully propounded to him.[33]

J. Dismissal. Where it appears by answer or on examination that the situation is not within the scope of the statutory proceedings, as where there is a mere indebtedness or an admitted possession of property under a claim of rightful title, Statute authorizing search and seizure unless security given unconstitutional.— In re Beebe, 20 Hun (N. Y.) 462.

18. Tilton v. Ormsby, 10 Hun (N. Y.) 7; Mapes v. Fleming, 6 N. Y. St. 668; Gaffney v. Public Administrator, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 223.

Property to be delivered should be specified with certainty. Mahoney v. People, 98 Ill. App. 241.

19. In re Slingerhead, 36 Hun (N. Y.) 575.

20. Sturgeon v. Burrall, 1 Ill. App. 537.

21. In re Paramore, 15 N. Y. St. 449; Mauran v. Hawley, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 396.

22. Blair v. Sennott, 134 Ill. 78, 24 N. E. 969; Walsh v. Downs, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 202; Sadington v. Hewitt, 70 Wis. 240, 35 N. W. 552.

Form of petition see Saddington v. Hewitt, 70 Wis. 240, 35 N. W. 552.

Time for objection.— Objections to the statements in such an affidavit ought to be urged by defendant before submitting himself to a trial, since otherwise he is assumed to waive all defects. Wade v. Pritchard, 69 Ill. 279.

Amendment.— One's affidavit as petitioner may be amended, where he finds himself misinformed, and any order subsequently made can refer only to the amended affidavit. Blair v. Bennett, 134 Ill. 78, 24 N. E. 969.

23. See Basch's Estate, 24 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 264, 33 N. Y. Suppl. 424.

In proceedings by the public administrator for discovery under the New York statute no answer is contemplated. In re Paramore, 15 N. Y. St. 449.

24. See Basch's Estate, 24 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 264, 33 N. Y. Suppl. 424; and infra, VI, J.

25. Markle's Estate, 4 Pa. Dist. 348.

26. See supra, VI, D.

27. Spreen's Estate, 1 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 375, holding that the proceeding is not thrown out of court by a failure to adjourn it to a given day, but the party is not bound to further appear and testify unless his examination has been duly adjourned and his witness' fees paid.

28. Brotherton v. Spence, 52 Mo. App. 664.

29. Palmer v. Jackson County, 90 Mich. 1, 50 N. W. 1086.

30. Kraher v. Launtz, 90 Ill. App. 496.

31. Rickman v. Stanton, 32 Iowa 134.

32. Martin v. Clapp, 99 Mass. 470.

33. Welsh v. Lloyd, 5 Ark. 367.

the proceedings should be dismissed,[34] and the same action is proper where the court is unable to decide whether or not the property belongs to the estate.[35]

K. Appeal. From proceedings of the present character an appeal will usually lie as in other cases.[36]

L. Proceedings Against Executor or Administrator. The summary process for discovery given by local codes may sometimes be invoked against the personal representative himself, if he be suspected of embezzlement or conversion; and statutes are sometimes specific in making such provision.[37]

VII. COLLECTION OF ASSETS.

A. Authority and Duty in General. It is a primary duty of the executor or administrator, to the performance of which his authority of course extends, to collect the assets of the estate, whether corporeal or incorporeal,[38] for the 34. Matter of Peyser, 35 N. Y. App. Div. 447, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 832; Matter of Lynch, 83 Hun (N. Y.) 39, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 767; In re Wing, 41 Hun (N. Y.) 452; Matter of McCarthy, 47 N. Y. Suppl. 1127, 26 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 397; Matter of Nay, 19 N. Y. St. 259, 6 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 346; Masterton's Estate, 6 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 460, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 209; Public Administrator v. Elias, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 139; Metropolitan Trust Co. v. Rogers, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 365.

The surrogate cannot continue the proceedings after the filing of an answer stating that the person sought to be examined is the owner of the property. Basch's Estate, 33 N. Y. Suppl. 424, 24 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 264.

Answers held not sufficient to warrant dismissal.— See O'Brien v. Baker, 65 N. Y. App. Div. 282, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 1001; Matter of Peyser, 35 N. Y. App. Div. 447, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 832; Hastings' Estate, 2 N. Y. Suppl. 22, 6 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 423.

35. Saddington v. Hewitt, 70 Wis. 240, 35 N. W. 552.

36. Grimes v. Hilliary, 38 Ill. App. 246; In re Behren, 104 Iowa 29, 73 N. W. 351; McFeely v. Scott, 128 Mass. 16. But see Palmer v. Jackson County, 90 Mich. 1, 50 N. W. 1086.

37. Alabama.— Blakey v. Blakey, 9 Ala. 391.

Connecticut.— Case's Appeal, 35 Conn. 115.

Maine.— O'Dee v. McCrate, 7 Me. 467.

Missouri.— Stewart v. Glenn, 58 Mo. 481.

New Jersey.— Perrine v. Petty, 34 N. J. Eq. 193.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 345.

Equity may take jurisdiction to compel a discovery of assets by an administrator where an execution is returned "no property found," and no inventory of the estate has been returned. Pilkington v. Gaunt, 5 Dana (Ky.) 410.

Affidavit — Variance.— After the filing of interrogatories and answers thereto, it is immaterial that the affidavit only charged the concealing of assets, whereas the interrogatories and answers did not refer to the concealing of assets, but only to the withholding of the same. Tygard v. Falor, 163 Mo. 234, 63 S. W. 672.

Burden of proof as to gift.— In proceedings against an executor for withholding assets, where defendant admits having received money alleged to have been withheld, but states that it was a gift to him, the burden is on him to establish such fact. Tygard v. Falor, 163 Mo. 234, 63 S. W. 672.

Instructions.— In proceedings against an executor to recover assets alleged to have been withheld, where the executor claims that such property was given to him by his testator, an instruction that if deceased gave it during his lifetime to the executor he was not required to inventory it was as favorable to defendant as the facts authorized. Tygard v. Falor, 163 Mo. 234, 63 S. W. 672.

Where the court finds in the executor's favor after his examination under oath in a proceeding against him to discover assets, he is entitled to an immediate dismissal without further examination of himself or other witnesses. In re Stuart, 67 Mo. App. 61.

38. See Schouler Ex. § 264; McCargar v. McKinnon, 15 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 361.

In discovering assets an administrator is bound to know his intestate's last domicile, the place where his assets are presumed to be, and where the principal administration should be. McNichol v. Eaton, 77 Me. 246.

Personal interest of the representative in assets does not affect his right to recover them. Trimmier v. Thomson, 10 S. C. 164.

Administrator entitled to possession of bond in which he is obligor.— Halstead v. McChesney, 2 Abb. Dec. (N. Y.) 310, 2 Keyes (N. Y.) 92 [affirming 50 Barb. 34].

Property conveyed by distributees.—Where there are no creditors of an estate, and the distributees have conveyed a good equitable title to slaves belonging to the intestate, at a time when no administration has been granted, equity will restrain a subsequent administrator from prosecuting trover for the conversion of the slaves against the equitable owner. Miles v. Wise, 11 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 536, 78 Am. Dec. 461.

Right of administrator to decide as to ownership.— Where an agent credited the account of a husband with the proceeds of the sale of certain land belonging to the wife, and turned the sum over to the administrator of the husband, the administrator had the right to determine for himself whether the benefit both of the creditors and of the next of kin or legatees.[39] In general he has the right to and should take into his possession or custody all personal chattels,[40] even though specifically bequeathed,[41] and proceed to collect all debts or claims due the estate.[42] Wherever assets come to the possession or knowledge of the personal representative, he becomes liable to account for the same satisfactorily or else stand chargeable in the probate court with its full value,[43] although it is otherwise where no knowledge of the thing is brought home to him.[44] The collection and gathering into possession of the assets of an estate call often for fund belonged to the estate of his decedent, and properly refused to be governed by the credit made by the agent. Pattison v. Coons, 56 Mo. 169.

Acceptance of certificate of stock indorsed subject to lien.— An administrator has authority to accept a certificate of corporate stock owned by his intestate, although it bears an indorsement by the corporation purporting to charge it with a lien for an indebtedness by decedent, since, if unauthorized, such indorsement is a nullity. Van Liew v. Barrett, etc., Beverage Co., 144 Mo. 509, 46 S. W. 202.

39. Fortunato v. New York, 31 N. Y. App. Div. 271, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 872 [reversing 23 Misc. 82, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 429]. See also Lore v. Dierkes, 16 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 47, holding that where an administrator sets aside a conveyance by his decedent because made under undue influence, the recovery will be for the next of kin as well as for the creditors.

40. Bohrer's Estate, 7 Pa. Dist. 307.

Adverse possession by surviving widow or next of kin, while there was no administration taken out, does not bar the administrator's right, when appointed, to claim the assets. Whit v. Ray, 26 N. C. 14.

Where a decedent leaves property in the sheriff's custody under attachment, the circuit court may require the sheriff to turn the property over to the administrator. Kendrick v. Huff, 71 Mo. 570.

An administrator is not necessarily entitled to recover all personal estate of which his intestate died seized. Reeves v. Matthews, 17 Ga. 449.

41. Bohrer's Estate, 7 Pa. Dist. 307; Perry v. Meddowcraft, 4 Beav. 197, holding that it is the duty of executors to get in property specifically bequeathed at the expense of the general estate.

When legatee permitted to retain possession.— Where certain chattels are in the possession of a son to whom they were bequeathed, and a manual delivery would entail hardship, and it is doubtful whether the chattels will be needed for payment of debts, the legatee will be permitted, upon giving a refunding bond, to have the custody thereof, subject to be delivered if needed to pay debts. Bohrer's Estate, 7 Pa. Dist. 307.

42. See Craig v. Moorhead, 44 Pa. St. 97.

Executor authorized to collect claims until discharged or estate closed.— Keane v. Goldsmith, 14 La. Ann. 349.

Forbearance enjoined by will.— Whether an executor should be compelled to observe directions contained in a will to forbear the collection of a debt due the testator for a specified time depends on the condition of the estate, and he cannot be compelled to do so unless his refusal is a violation of his trust; and such question cannot be determined in a law action. Howze v. Davis, 76 Ala. 381.

Money received by others should be accounted for to the representative, however expended. Pate v. Oliver, 104 N. C. 458, 10 S. E. 709; Griffin v. Simpson, 33 N. C. 126; Springer's Appeal, 29 Pa. St. 208.

Debts due from the United States have no locality, and an administrator may receive a debt from the United States wherever the government elects to pay it and is liable to account therefor only to the court from which he received his appointment. Vaughan v. Northrup, 15 Pet. (U. S.) 1, 10 L. ed. 639.

Letters granted in the District of Columbia on the assets of a deceased non-resident within the District authorize the administrator to receive and receipt for moneys due his intestate in the treasury of the United States at Washington. U. S. v. Wyman, 2 Mackey (D. C.) 368.

Revival of dormant judgment.— An administrator of a judgment creditor cannot revive the judgment after such a lapse of time as would bar the right of the decedent, were he living, to revive it. Palmer v. Jones, 50 Miss. 657.

Enforcing contribution.— Notes executed jointly by a decedent and another, and which have been allowed against and paid in full by the administrator, must, in the absence of any showing to the contrary, be presumed to be what they purport to be, joint debts created for the equal benefit of the parties, and the administrator should use all reasonable efforts to enforce contribution. The burden of proof is on him to show that he did so, or to show that there was in fact no liability to the estate. Myers v. Myers, 98 Mo. 262, 11 S. W. 617.

Difficulty of collecting arrears of rent does not excuse executors for not collecting them, without some evidence that in fact they could not have been recovered. In re Alexander, 13 Ir. Ch. 137.

43. Milam v. Ragland, 19 Ala. 85; Duffy v. Neale, 7 Fed. Cas. No. 4,119, Taney 271. See also Grubb v. Henderson, 1 Rob. (La.) 4; Longbottom v. Babcock, 9 La. 44.

44. Malinda v. Gardner, 24 Ala. 719; Jones v. Ward, 10 Yerg. (Tenn.) 160. See also Grubb v. Henderson, 1 Rob. (La.) 4.

the aid or interposition of the courts of common law or equity,[45] and statutes sometimes give a certain jurisdiction in these matters to the probate courts;[46] but the representative cannot be authorized by the court to take possession of any property of which the title or right of possession is not in the estate of his decedent.[47]

B. Attempting Collection by Suit. An executor or administrator has of course the right to sue on debts due to or claims of his decedent or the estate,[48] and the rule of reasonable diligence and good faith[49] applies to the decision of the representative as to attempting collection of claims or debts by suit.[50] He is not bound to attempt the collection of bad debts nor to sue on doubtful claims at the undue risk or waste of the estate or of his private means,[51] at least without being indemnified for the costs and expenses of suit,[52] but he should sue where

45. Leigh v. Everheart, 4 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 379, 16 Am. Dec. 160.

46. See Blair v. Sennott, 134 Ill. 78, 24 N. E. 969.

47. Longbottom v. Babcock, 9 La. 44; Crescent City Ice Co. v. Stafford, 6 Fed. Cas. No. 3,387, 3 Woods 94.

48. See Sanders v. Devereux, 25 Tex. Suppl. 1; Marshall v. Dorsett, 16 Fed. Cas. No. 9,128, 4 Cranch C. C. 696.

Entire fund recoverable.— A petitioner, as administratrix, represents not only herself but other legatees entitled to participate in a fund, in a proceeding to recover such fund from the administrator of another estate, and is entitled to recover not only her own share but the entire fund for subsequent administration by her. Matter of Post, 30 Misc. (N. Y.) 551, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 369.

Judgment.— In a suit by an executor upon a receipt given by defendant for notes which upon their face are payable to plaintiff's testator, judgment for the restoration of the claims, and such sums as defendant received upon them since the date of the receipt, and an order of reference to ascertain the amount, with interest, were proper. Knight v. Killebrew, 86 N. C. 400.

A public administrator who has unlawfully taken charge of an estate cannot sue to recover the assets. Lewis v. McCabe, 76 Mo. 307.

Widow cannot sue. Sanders v. Devereux, 25 Tex. Suppl. 1.

Funds placed in agent's hands by decedent. — Where money is placed with an agent, with instructions, for a particular purpose, and such agent has acted in pursuance of such instructions, the administrator of the person so placing the fund cannot sustain an action against such agent for the particular fund, as the administrator had no greater rights than his intestate, who would have had no right of action against such agent, unless he had refused, on demand made, to account for the fund. Simpson v. Barry, 2 McMull. (S. C.) 369.

49. See infra, VIII, A, 1.

50. Orr v. Orr, 34 S. C. 275, 13 S. E. 467; Lupton v. Janney, 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,607, 5 Cranch C. C. 474 [affirmed in 13 Pet. 381, 10 L. ed. 210].

If he takes professional advice and follows it, his course is better justified as to a suit.

51. Alabama.— Bowen v. Montgomery, 48 Ala. 353.

New York.— Gifford v. Carrigan, 117 N. Y. 275, 22 N. E. 756, 15 Am. St. Rep. 508, 6 L. R. A. 610. But see Matter of Hosford, 27 N. Y. App. Div. 427, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 550.

Pennsylvania.— Neff's Appeal, 57 Pa. St. 91.

South Carolina.— Martin v. Jefcoat, 10 Rich. Eq. 118.

Virginia.— Lovett v. Thomas, 81 Va. 245; Mitchell v. Trotter, 7 Gratt. 136.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 363.

52. Alabama.— Munden v. Bailey, 70 Ala. 63.

Florida.— Sherrell v. Shepard, 19 Fla. 300.

Georgia.— Roberts v. Summers, 47 Ga. 434.

Illinois.— Egan v. Clark, 87 Ill. App. 246.

Kentucky.— Thomas v. White, 3 Litt. 177, 14 Am. Dec. 56.

Louisiana.— Pool's Succession, 14 La. Ann. 677.

New Hampshire.— Sanborn v. Goodhue, 28 N. H. 48, 59 Am. Dec. 398; Griswold v. Chandler, 5 N. H. 492.

New York.— Matter of Johnston, 74 Hun 618, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 966 [affirmed in 144 N. Y. 563, 39 N. E. 643]; Shultz v. Pulver, 3 Paige 182; Collamer v. Smith, 2 Dem. Surr. 147; Hepburn v. Hepburn, 2 Bradf. Surr. 74.

North Carolina.— Patterson v. Wadsworth, 89 N. C. 407.

Pennsylvania.— Charlton's Appeal, 34 Pa. St. 473, 75 Am. Dec. 673; Keller's Appeal, 8 Pa. St. 288, 49 Am. Dec. 516.

West Virginia.— Harris v. Orr, 46 W. Va. 261, 33 S. E. 257, 76 Am. St. Rep. 815.

United States.— Lupton v. Janney, 13 Pet. 381, 10 L. ed. 210 [affirming 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,607, 5 Cranch C. C. 474].

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 363.

Where a perfect defense exists the administrator is not required to sue. Egan v. Clark, 87 Ill. App. 246; Matter of Johnston, 74 Hun (N. Y.) 618, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 966 [affirmed in 144 N. Y. 563, 39 N. E. 643].

there is a fair chance to realize something by that course,[53] and it is his duty to litigate a claim of the estate where parties interested in the estate demand this and indemnify him for any expense which may be incurred.[54]

C. Proceedings For Recovery of Assets.[55] The representative has necessarily the right to institute and maintain such proceedings as may be necessary for the recovery of the assets of the estate,[56] and in some states the statutes provide for summary proceedings for recovering assets withheld, concealed, or embezzled, by complaint in the probate court.[57] Such statutes have been held to be applicable

53. Jennings v. Weeks, 1 Rice (S. C.) 452.

Duty to enforce judgment.— Where a judgment assigned to a decedent appears valid on its face, it is the duty of the administrator to enforce it, and he cannot justify his failure to do so on the ground that land had been conveyed to deceased in payment of such judgment. Egan v. Clark, 87 Ill. App. 246.

54. Griswold v. Chandler, 5 N. H. 492.

55. Proceedings for discovery see supra, VI.

56. See Schouler Ex. § 269.

A demand is not necessary before the institution of a suit by an administrator to recover personal property of the decedent held by a transferee under color of title by gift. Knight v. Tripp, (Cal. 1897) 49 Pac. 838. Neither is any demand necessary to the maintenance of a suit either at law or in equity to recover money of the estate from a third person whose receipt thereof was wrongful ab initio. Marshall v. De Cordova, 26 N. Y. App. Div. 615, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 294.

License to sell particular real estate.— An executor, licensed by the probate court to sell for the payment of debts certain real estate conveyed by his testator in fraud of creditors, may maintain a writ of entry to recover it, without first selling the other real estate of his testator. Tenney v. Poor, 14 Gray (Mass.) 500, 77 Am. Dec. 340.

Jurisdiction and venue.— In Kentucky an action by a personal representative to recover possession of land of his decedent is properly brought in the county in which the representative qualified, even though the land be situated and the person in possession thereof resides in another county. De Haven v. De Haven, 104 Ky. 41, 46 S. W. 215, 47 S. W. 597, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 663.

Burden of proof.— Where, in a suit by an executor against a third person to recover moneys belonging to the estate, it is established that the money was received by defendant under circumstances imputing notice to him of its origin, the burden is upon defendant to show that such payments had been made as absolve him from accounting to the estate for its property which he has wrongfully received. Marshall v. De Cordova, 26 N. Y. App. Div. 615, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 294.

Evidence.— In an action by an administrator for possession of notes of his decedent, assessment lists made by decedent in his life would be competent evidence, as tending to prove ownership of the property listed. McAfee v. Montgomery, 21 Ind. App. 196, 51 N. E. 957.

Defenses.— It is no defense to an action brought by an administrator, to recover assets of the estate in the hands of defendant, or for the conversion thereof, that plaintiff has in his individual capacity been guilty of wrong-doing. Lawyers' Surety Co. v. Reinach, 23 Misc. (N. Y.) 242, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 162. In an action by an administrator to recover land of his decedent, an averment by defendant that such land "is held and claimed by her as her own, and was so held and claimed by her prior to the institution of this action" is not a sufficient averment of either title or ownership to constitute a defense or to divest the court of jurisdiction. De Haven v. De Haven, 104 Ky. 41, 45, 46 S. W. 215, 47 S. W. 597, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 663.

Set-off.— Where property of a decedent was retained by defendant, who boarded and nursed her prior to her death, and there was no sufficient evidence showing the amount or value of the property, and defendant in answer to the administrator's claim therefor claimed a large amount for boarding and nursing decedent and for property necessarily destroyed on account of her sickness, but there was no evidence of the value of the property, or of the amount defendant was entitled to for nursing, it was proper to set off one claim against the other and dismiss both bills. Cates v. Gilmer, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1898) 48 S. W. 280.

Acceptance of reparation for conversion.— Where certain bonds belonging to an estate were exchanged by intestate's husband for other bonds, which latter bonds were delivered to the administrator and retained by him with knowledge of the transaction and without any effort to return them, an assumption that the latter bonds were accepted by the administrator as a pro tanto reparation for the conversion of the original bonds was justified, and in estimating the damages for the conversion the value of the substituted bonds should be considered. Storrs v. Robinson, 74 Conn. 443, 51 Atl. 135.

Where the probate of a will has been set aside the property of the deceased vests in the administrator and he can recover it from any one in possession, or its value from any one who has sold it. Poag v. Miller, Dudley (S. C.) 11.

57. Moore's Succession, 18 La. Ann. 512; Taylor v. Bruscup, 27 Md. 219; Eans v. Eans, 79 Mo. 53 (holding that under the Missouri statute providing for the recovery of assets of a decedent's estate where "any person has concealed or embezzled any goods, chattels, money, papers or evidence of debt of the deceased, and has them in his possession or under his control," recovery may be had even only where the person brought before the court has actual possession of or control over the property alleged to be embezzled or concealed,[58] and to be limited to property remaining unchanged and in specie.[59] While the probate court has not always under such statutes jurisdiction to determine the ultimate right to the property,[60] an order requiring the delivery of property to the administrator is prima facie evidence of his right to recover the same.[61] An order for the surrender of property may be enforced by a commitment to jail until compliance.[62]

D. Possession or Transfer by Heirs or Distributees. While an executor or administrator in general takes title to the personal property of his decedent, such title is nevertheless the title of a trustee for creditors and those beneficially entitled; and hence where property is rightfully in the hands of heirs, distributees, or other residuary parties, the courts are not disposed to aid him to dispossess such persons unless he can show that he needs the assets for paying debts or otherwise duly administering the estate.[63] And so too, while the sale of personal property of a decedent by his widow or other residuary beneficiary may be disturbed and the assets or their value pursued by the executor or administrator, when needful to settle debts of the estate, intervention on his part is not favored where no need therefor is shown.[64] where such person openly holds under claim of title); Matter of Scott, 34 Misc. (N. Y.) 446, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 425.

Double penalty recoverable for wrongful alienation.— Spaulding v. Cook, 48 Vt. 145.

The orphans' court has jurisdiction to appoint an examiner to take testimony where the claim that respondent is in possession of personal property belonging to an estate is denied by answer. Friedman's Estate, 7 Pa. Dist. 517, 21 Pa. Co. Ct. 309.

Against whom judgment obtainable.— Under the Ohio statute an executor or administrator can recover judgment against any person charged with the concealing or embezzling of assets of the estate, but not against any person aiding or assisting the person so charged in obtaining possession thereof. In re Sattler, Ohio Prob. 183.

Proceeding commenced by person without interest.— Where a person not shown to have any interest in an estate files an affidavit charging another person with embezzling the property of a decedent, and defendant appeals to the circuit court, the administrator cannot there for the first time appear and file a new affidavit and compel the party accused to proceed to trial thereon. Shaw v. Groomer, 60 Mo. 495.

The statute is not applicable in the case of an attorney for a decedent's estate who has collected money on a claim due the estate while acting in the employ of the administrator. Dinsmoor v. Bressler, 164 Ill. 211, 45 N. E. 1086.

58. Howell v. Howell, 37 Mo. 124; Dameron v. Dameron, 19 Mo. 317.

59. In re Wolford, 10 Kan. App. 283, 62 Pac. 731. Contra, Dinsmoor v. Bressler, 164 Ill. 211, 45 N. E. 1086.

60. Hoehn v. Struttmann, 71 Mo. App. 399, holding that the court can determine only whether one holds under color of title.

Openness and notoriety of possession under a claim of title is not of itself a defense unless such claim is of a valid title and made in good faith. Gordon v. Eans, 97 Mo. 587, 4 S. W. 112, 11 S. W. 64, 370.

61. Bright v. Ecker, 9 S. D. 449, 69 N. W. 824.

62. Martin v. Martin, 170 Ill. 418, 48 N. E. 694 [reversing 68 Ill. App. 169].

63. Connecticut.— Woodhouse v. Phelps, 51 Conn. 521.

Illinois.— Lewis v. Lyons, 13 Ill. 117.

Indiana.— Raugh v. Weis, 138 Ind. 42, 37 N. E. 331.

Louisiana.— O'Neal v. Oakes, 8 La. Ann. 78. But see Boone's Succession, 7 La. Ann. 127.

New York.— Newton v. Stanley, 28 N. Y. 61; Toch v. Toch, 81 Hun 410, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 1003.

South Carolina.— Williams v. Mower, 29 S. C. 332, 7 S. E. 505.

Virginia.— Lewis v. Overby, 31 Gratt. 601.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 364.

But compare Bean v. Bumpus, 22 Me. 549; Carter v. Greenwood, 58 N. C. 410; Ferrell v. Underwood, 13 N. C. 111; In re Sattler, 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 440, 21 Cinc. L. Bul. 161; Marsden's Appeal, 102 Pa. St. 199; Eisenbise v. Eisenbise, 4 Watts (Pa.) 134; King v. Morrison, 1 Penr. & W. (Pa.) 188.

Where some of the heirs have purchased property of the succession, and the other assets are sufficient to pay all the debts and charges due by the estate, the administratrix is not bound to take any steps to enforce the payment of the purchase-money due by the heirs, and consequently cannot be held liable for any loss or damage which may arise from such purchase, by insolvency or otherwise. Harrell's Succession, 12 La. Ann. 337.

Where such assets are needed for the payment of debts, it is the duty of the representative to use all possible diligence in obtaining possession of the same. O'Connor v. Gifford, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 207, 6 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 71.

64. Reid v. Butt, 25 Ga. 28; Wilmington

E. Payments to Heirs or Distributees. A person who pays a debt due to the decedent or delivers assets of the estate to the lawful heir or distributee does not thereby discharge his liability to the personal representative;[65] but the transaction will not readily be set aside or disturbed where no need appears for procuring such assets or holding such person again liable for the debt for the purposes of administration.[66]

F. Secured Claims. An executor or administrator may foreclose a mortgage by peaceable entry and possession or otherwise, just as his decedent might have done, wherever this becomes needful for realizing upon the secured debt or claim.[67] A representative who carelessly or dishonestly parts with security to a debtor of the estate renders himself liable for all ensuing loss to the estate.[68] Statutes in various jurisdictions provide for releasing mortgages upon payment of the secured debt.[69]

G. Interest on Debts. Interest-bearing debts due the estate are to be collected, with the usual observance of due diligence and good faith, with interest as well as principal.[70] The representative is liable for any interest which he may have collected on debts due the estate, and for default in collecting interest justly owing from a debtor the usual principle applies as to charging him individually with the loss.[71]

H. Foreign Assets. The general executor or administrator is bound to take due measures for the collection of foreign demands due the estate and other foreign assets;[72] and wherever the general representative may enforce by domestic

v. Sutton, 6 Iowa 44; Walworth v. Abel, 52 Pa. St. 370. But see Davis v. Davis, 30 Ga. 296.

65. McCustian v. Ramey, 33 Ark. 141; Tucker v. Ronk, 43 Iowa 80.

Distributees have no power to compromise a suit brought by the executor or administrator. Lewis v. Brooks, 6 Yerg. (Tenn.) 167.

A practice of the post-office department to pay small amounts to widows or children without requiring administration does not justify a payment to the widow of a deceased postmaster of salary due him at the time of his death, where an administrator has been appointed and has filed an application for the adjustment of the decedent's salary. Holt v. U. S., 29 Ct. Cl. 36.

A release obtained from the heir while an administration properly exists is not a bar to the administrator's right to recover. Garman v. Shugar, 3 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 121.

Circumstances showing ratification by representative see Ruby v. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co., 8 W. Va. 269.

66. Vail v. Anderson, 61 Minn. 552, 64 N. W. 47; Langley v. Farrington, 66 N. H. 431, 27 Atl. 224, 49 Am. St. Rep. 624; Dolman v. Cook, 14 N. J. Eq. 56.

67. Illinois.— Scott v. Moore, 4 Ill. 306.

Maryland.— Chilton v. Brooks, 71 Md. 445, 18 Atl. 868; Harnickell v. Orndorff, 35 Md. 341.

New Hampshire.—Gibson v. Bailey, 9 N. H. 168.

New York.— In re Hobson, 131 N. Y. 575, 30 N. E. 63.

Virginia.— Wilson v. Barclay, 22 Gratt. 534.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 367.

68. Alabama.— Baldwin v. Hatchett, 56 Ala. 461; Willis v. Willis, 16 Ala. 652.

Missouri.— Booker v. Armstrong, 93 Mo. 49, 4 S. W. 724.

New Jersey.— Fisher v. Skillman, 18 N. J. Eq. 229.

New York.— Matter of Hunt, 3 N. Y. St. 346.

Virginia.— Nelson v. Page, 7 Gratt. 160.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 367.

69. Treadwell v. Brooks, 50 Conn. 262; Connecticut Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Talbot, 113 Ind. 373, 14 N. E. 586, 3 Am. St. Rep. 655.

70. Borland v. Sharp, 1 Root (Conn.) 178; Roberts v. Prior, 20 Ga. 561; Findlay v. Smith, 7 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 264; Allen v. White, 17 Vt. 69.

When the representative has assumed debts of others they ought to be considered as paid to him, and he should, if they were not payable when assumed, be charged as of the time when they became payable. McCall v. Peachy, 3 Munf. (Va.) 288.

71. Indiana.— Ray v. Doughty, 4 Blackf. 115.

Kentucky.— Oldham v. Collins, 4 J. J. Marsh. 49.

Louisiana.— Kemp v. Kemp, 11 La. 19.

Missouri.— Stong v. Wilkson, 14 Mo. 116.

New York.— Stephens' Estate, 2 N. Y. Suppl. 36.

Virginia.— Cavendish v. Fleming, 3 Munf. 198.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 369; and infra, VIII, L.

Representative chargeable with interest unless he shows that he received none.—Graham v. Davidson, 22 N. C. 155.

72. Bingham v. Marine Nat. Bank, 112 N. Y. 661, 19 N. E. 416; Schultz v. Pulver, 11 Wend. (N. Y.) 361; Shinn's Estate, 166 Pa. St. 121, 30 Atl. 1026, 1030, 45 Am. St. Rep. 656; Pulliam v. Pulliam, 10 Fed. 23.

suit the payment of a debt due from a foreign debtor by means of the voucher or document of title he holds, or because the debtor may be locally reached by process without resorting to the courts where such debtor is domiciled, such suit by him will be locally upheld.[73]

I. Property Claimed by Third Persons. Where an executor or administrator receives by mistake and applies as assets of the estate money or chattels belonging to another, the true owner may proceed against him personally, and the representative must at his peril regard notice of adverse claims of title and a demand.[74] As to property found among the assets and prima facie part of the estate the representative should assert title so far as may be proper;[75] but with respect to litigating the title of his decedent to property claimed by third persons, the usual rule of honest and prudent discretion applies.[76] Wherever possible the court will summarily compel the representative to deliver such money or property to the true owner, or at any time before distribution permit the sum due the rightful claimant to be withdrawn and paid over.[77]

J. Receiving Payment — 1. In General. The bona fide payment of a debt due the estate to the executor or administrator is in general a legal discharge to the debtor, even though such appointment be voidable, or perhaps void, or the representative be insolvent, and the representative must account for the amount.[78] On the other hand a payment of assets to any one but the personal representative of the deceased is a mispayment.[79]

2. Medium of Payment — a. In General. In order to discharge a debt to a decedent, payment to the personal representative must usually be in lawful

Where the will names different executors for different jurisdictions the rule is otherwise. Sherman v. Page, 85 N. Y. 123.

Where joint debtors reside in different jurisdictions, an administrator in either may effectually settle and release the demand as against all of them. Beattie v. Abercrombie, 18 Ala. 9.

73. Equitable L. Assur. Soc. v. Vogel, 76 Ala. 441, 52 Am. Rep. 344; Barnes v. Brashear, 2 B. Mon. (Ky.) 380; Saunders v. Weston, 74 Me. 85.

74. Alabama.— Bettis v. Taylor, 8 Port. 564.

Arkansas.— McCustian v. Ramey, 33 Ark. 141.

Maine.— Thompson v. White, 45 Me. 445. But compare Woodward v. Perry, 85 Me. 440, 27 Atl. 345, holding that where an administrator had, as such, collected a judgment of commissioners of Alabama claims for war premiums alleged to have been paid by another person through the intestate, his liability, if there was any, was in his representative capacity only.

Mississippi.— Clayton v. Boyce, 62 Miss. 390, holding that an administrator who receives money not belonging to the estate is not liable to the owner in his representative capacity, unless the money has been appropriated to the use of the estate.

Vermont.— Blanchard v. Sheldon, 43 Vt. 512.

Virginia.— Newsum v. Newsum, 1 Leigh 86, 19 Am. Dec. 739.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 371.

75. Grounx v. Abat, 7 La. 17; Pickle v. Pickle, 10 N. J. L. J. 207; Mulford v. Mulford, 40 N. J. Eq. 163.

76. Chappell v. Brown, 1 Bailey (S. C.) 528. And see infra, VIII, A, 1.

77. Marston v. Paulding, 10 Paige (N. Y.) 40; Brink v. Layton, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 79; Brubaker's Estate, 4 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) 90.

78. Kentucky.— Moore v. Tanner, 5 T. B. Mon. 42, 27 Am. Dec. 35.

Mississippi.—Riley v. Moseley, 44 Miss. 37.

North Carolina.— London v. Wilmington, etc., R. Co., 88 N. C. 584; Hyman v. Gaskins, 27 N. C. 267.

Tennessee.— Bowers v. Thomas, 6 Heisk. 553.

Texas.— Roan v. Raymond, 15 Tex. 78.

United States.— Kane v. Paul, 14 Pet. 33, 10 L. ed. 311.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 374.

Receipt for money not actually received.— Where an intestate's effects were sold under an execution by a sheriff who, after satisfying the debts, etc., had a surplus in his hands, for which the administrator gave a receipt, although he never actually received the money, it was held that in whatever manner such surplus might have been applied the administrator must account for it, and unless he did so his security would be liable on his administration bond. Chouteau v. Hill, 2 Mo. 177.

Payment received by administrator after removal.— An administrator is chargeable on final settlement with money received by him after his removal from office from an attorney who had collected it on debts of the estate which had been placed in his hands for collection by the administrator before his removal. Sloan v. McKinney, 19 Ala. 115.

79. Eisenbise v. Eisenbise, 4 Watts (Pa.) 134.

money, or a legal tender currency, in the absence of any contrary direction in the will of the deceased creditor or the instrument evidencing the debt.[80]

b. Payment Otherwise Than in Money. It has been held that the executor or administrator, instead of receiving payment in money, may in the exercise of good faith and due prudence settle with the debtor by accepting other security or property or by novating or extending the claim,[81] although in some states the right of accepting other property in payment, except perhaps under authority of the probate court, is denied.[82]

c. Acceptance of Depreciated Currency. The executor or administrator will not be upheld in receiving payment in depreciated currency,[83] unless the circumstances show that he acted in good faith and with due prudence for the best interest of the estate.[84] Thus in regard to Confederate money, it has been held that when the representative might have collected the assets in good money before or after the Civil war and failed to do so, he cannot discharge the balance found due from him by payment in Confederate treasury notes,[85] but when he acted in good faith he is not responsible for the loss of funds received by him in Confederate money or notes which at the time he was obliged to accept.[86]

80. Means v. Harrison, 114 Ill. 248, 2 N. E. 64; Jackson v. Chase, 98 Mass. 286; Parham v. Stith, 56 Miss. 465; Rogers v. Tullos, 51 Miss. 685; Scott v. Atchison, 36 Tex. 76.

Notes of bank subsequently failing.—Where an executor receives bank-notes, in good faith and with reasonable prudence, which are the genuine notes of a bank, solvent and paying at the time, the legatees are bound by his act, and cannot demand that he should submit specie in payment to them, although the bank failed in the meantime. Hasting's Estate, 4 Pa. L. J. Rep. 471, 10 Pittsb. Leg. J. 216.

81. Georgia.— Adams v. Reid, 56 Ga. 214.
Indiana.— Hancock v. Morgan, 34 Ind. 524.
Louisiana.— Turnbull v. Freret, 5 Mart. N. S. 703.
Massachusetts.— Gardiner v. Callender, 12 Pick. 374.
Mississippi.— Parham v. Stith, 56 Miss. 465; Anderson v. Gregg, 44 Miss. 170.
New Jersey.— Stark v. Hunton, 3 N. J. Eq. 300.
Vermont.— Blaisdell v. Stevens, 16 Vt. 179.
Canada.—McCargar v. McKinnon, 17 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 525.
See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 374.

82. Illinois.— Means v. Harrison, 114 Ill. 248, 2 N. E. 64.
Missouri.— Haynes v. Carpenter, 86 Mo. App. 30.
North Carolina.—Poston v. Jones, 122 N. C. 536, 29 S. E. 951; Grant v. Bell, 90 N. C. 558; Weir v. Pate, 39 N. C. 264, holding that where an executor takes land in payment of debts, it will be considered as a purchase of his own, and he will be charged with the price allowed by him for the land.
South Carolina.— Cook v. Cook, 24 S. C. 204, holding that an estate is not bound by an administrator's agreement to allow work done on the land as credit on a note due the estate.
Texas.— Atcheson v. Scott, 51 Tex. 213; Edmonson v. Garnett, 33 Tex. 250; Trammell v. Swan, 25 Tex. 473.
Virginia.— Harman v. McMullin, 85 Va. 187, 7 S. E. 349.
West Virginia.— Anderson v. Piercy, 20 W. Va. 282.
See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 374.

83. Hannah v. Boyd, 25 Gratt. (Va.) 692. See also Myrick v. Adams, 4 Munf. (Va.) 366.

Payment in continental money held good.— Hopkins v. Wilson, 2 Yeates (Pa.) 291.

84. Bailey v. Dilworth, 10 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 404, 48 Am. Dec. 760 (holding, however, that a decree of the probate court allowing an executor's account and charging him with a certain amount without qualification must be held to have intended constitutional currency and not depreciated issue); Hannah v. Boyd, 25 Gratt. (Va.) 692; Opie v. Castleman, 32 Fed. 511.

85. Horn v. Lockhart, 17 Wall. (U. S.) 570, 21 L. ed. 657 [affirming 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,445, 1 Woods 628]; Lipse v. Spears, 88 Fed. 952.

86. Alabama.—Anderson v. Wynne, 62 Ala. 329; Hutchinson v. Owen, 59 Ala. 326; Morris v. Morris, 58 Ala. 443; McQueen v. McQueen, 55 Ala. 433.
Arkansas.— Jones v. Graham, 36 Ark. 383; Hendry v. Cline, 29 Ark. 414.
Georgia.— Brandon v. Rowe, 58 Ga. 536; Sharp v. Bonner, 36 Ga. 418.
Louisiana.— Lagarde's Succession, 20 La. Ann. 148.
North Carolina.— Currie v. McNeill, 83 N. C. 176; Whitley v. Alexander, 73 N. C. 444; Wells v. Sluder, 72 N. C. 435.
South Carolina.— Chick v. Farr, 31 S. C. 463, 10 S. E. 176, 390; Koon v. Monro, 18 S. C. 374; Manning v. Manning, 12 Rich. Eq. 410.
Tennessee.— Rockhold v. Blevins, 6 Baxt. 115; Dietz v. Mitchell, 12 Heisk. 676; Morris v. Morris, 9 Heisk. 814.
Texas.— Casey v. Turner, 32 Tex. 64.
Virginia.— Wimbish v. Rawlins, 76 Va. 48; Douglass v. Stephenson, 75 Va. 747; Williams v. Skinker, 25 Gratt. 507; Campbell v. Camp-

d. Payments Received in Gold at Premium. That a representative who receives payment in gold at a time when it is at a premium is chargeable with such premium has been both asserted[87] and denied.[88]

3. Extension of Time For Payment. It has been held that the representative may extend the time for payment of a debt due his decedent.[89]

4. Application of Payments.[90] A debtor of the estate cannot be required to see to the proper application of payments which he makes to the representative.[91] Where an executor or administrator receives money from a person who is indebted to the estate, he may, in case the debtor has not exercised his prior right, avail himself of the power to apply the payment,[92] but he must make the application to debts that are held in the same right as that in which he received the money; that is to say, when he receives the money in his fiduciary capacity he must apply it to the extinguishment of debts due the estate and cannot apply it to a debt due to him personally.[93] In case neither of the parties has made any application of the payment the law will apply it to the items of indebtedness to the estate which are oldest or least secure.[94]

K. Compromise of Claims — 1. Authority in General.[95] As incidental to the power to sue and collect, the executor or administrator has the right to compromise any demand of the decedent,[96] provided he acts honestly and within the bell, 22 Gratt. 649. But compare Patteson v. Bondurant, 30 Gratt. 94.

West Virginia.— Estill v. McClintic, 11 W. Va. 399; Williams v. Buster, 5 W. Va. 342.

United States.— McKenzie v. Anderson, 16 Fed. Cas. No. 8,855, 2 Woods 357. But compare Opie v. Castleman, 32 Fed. 511.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 378.

When liable for scaled value.— Although an executor may not have made himself responsible by receiving in 1862 Confederate money for the distributees, yet, if he did not invest it when received, or make special deposit of it, or keep the identical money separate from all other, he will be liable for the then value of what was received. Shipp v. Hettrick, 63 N. C. 329.

When liable for full amount.— An administrator who received Confederate money in 1862, and does not, by his returns or on the trial of a suit commenced against him in 1871, give any explanation of what became of the money, or what he did with it, cannot complain of being held liable for the full amount so received, especially when the verdict is for four years' less interest than was due. King v. Newton, 48 Ga. 150.

87. Ex p. Glenn, 20 S. C. 64, holding that where the administrator received rents in gold when it was at a premium, he should be required to account at the premium rate, unless the gold was held for estate purposes until it depreciated without fault on his part.

Representative chargeable only with premium actually received.—Cunningham v. Cauthen, 37 S. C. 123, 15 S. E. 917, 44 S. C. 95, 21 S. E. 800.

88. Matter of Shipman, 82 Hun (N. Y.) 108, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 571.

89. Martin v. Tarver, 43 Miss. 517; Campbell v. Linder, 50 S. C. 169, 27 S. E. 648. Contra, Maddock v. Russell, 109 Cal. 417, 42 Pac. 225; Landry v. Delas, 25 La. Ann. 181.

90. See, generally, PAYMENT.

91. Becker's Estate, 13 Phila. (Pa.) 378; Wanner v. Roth, 1 Woodw. (Pa.) 13.

92. In re White, 13 Pa. Super. Ct. 201.

Draft on account of particular debt.— A debtor of a decedent upon whom the administrator draws an order to pay a certain sum to be credited on a particular debt has no right without the administrator's consent to so change the order as to make such payment on a different debt; and in case of his paying the order the law will apply it to the debt designated by the administrator. Long v. Miller, 93 N. C. 233.

93. In re White, 13 Pa. Super. Ct. 201. See also Evans' Estate, 1 Pa. Super. Ct. 37 (holding that an executrix who holds an individual claim and also a claim as executrix against the same person, and cannot collect both, must apply money received from him in payment of the claim due the estate in preference to her individual claim); In re Zuéidinger, 29 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 63.

94. In re White, 13 Pa. Super. Ct. 201.

95. Release of claims see infra, VII, L.

96. Alabama.— Woolfork v. Sullivan, 23 Ala. 548, 58 Am. Dec. 305.

Arkansas.— Wilks v. Slaughter, 49 Ark. 235, 4 S. W. 766.

California.— Siddall v. Clark, 89 Cal. 321, 26 Pac. 829; Moulton v. Holmes, 57 Cal. 337. See also McKeeby v. Los Angeles, 125 Cal. 639, 58 Pac. 263.

Connecticut.— Johnson's Appeal, 71 Conn. 590, 42 Atl. 662.

Georgia.— Neal v. Lamar, 18 Ga. 746.

Illinois.— Washington v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 136 Ill. 49, 26 N. E. 653.

Indiana.— Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Gipe, 160 Ind. 360, 65 N. E. 1034.

Iowa.— Jenkins v. Shields, 47 Iowa 708.

Michigan.— See In re Beecher, 113 Mich. 667, 72 N. W. 11.

Mississippi.— Bailey v. Dilworth, 10 Sm. & M. 404, 48 Am. Dec. 760; Berry v. Parkes, 3 Sm. & M. 625.

New York.— Chouteau v. Suydam, 21 N. Y.

range of a reasonable discretion for the true interests of the estate.[97] Nevertheless the responsibility is a perilous one,[98] and at common law the compromise or release of a debt or claim due the estate was regarded as a waste on the part of the personal representative if it resulted in a loss to the estate.[99] In modern times, however, the universal test is whether, in compromising, the representative acted with due prudence; if he did he is protected,[1] even though it seems probable that the settlement was not the best that could have been made,[2] while, if he 179; Auken v. Kiener, 9 N. Y. St. 669; Matter of Oatman, 5 N. Y. Leg. Obs. 378.

Pennsylvania.— Pusey v. Clemson, 9 Serg. & R. 204.

Rhode Island.— Parker v. Providence, etc., Steamboat Co., 17 R. I. 376, 22 Atl. 284, 23 Atl. 102, 33 Am. St. Rep. 869, 14 L. R. A. 414.

Tennessee.— Alexander v. Kelso, 3 Baxt. 311.

Virginia.— Boyd v. Oglesby, 23 Gratt. 674; McCall v. Peachy, 3 Munf. 288.

United States.— Jeffries v. New York Mut. L. Ins. Co., 110 U. S. 305, 4 S. Ct. 8, 28 L. ed. 156, holding that an administrator who has employed an attorney to prosecute a doubtful claim in favor of the estate may authorize the attorney to compromise the claim.

England.— In re Warren, 53 L. J. Ch. 1016, 51 L. T. Rep. N. S. 561, 32 Wkly. Rep. 916.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 384.

It is the representative's duty to compound and release the debt of the decedent when the interests of the estate require it. Matter of Oatman, 5 N. Y. Leg. Obs. 378.

Statutory power limited to claims existing at the time of death.— Fairbanks v. Mann, 19 R. I. 499, 34 Atl. 1112.

Claim for wrongfully causing death of decedent may be compromised. Hartigan v. Southern Pac. R. Co., 86 Cal. 142, 24 Pac. 851; Washington v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 136 Ill. 49, 26 N. E. 653 [affirming 34 Ill. App. 658]; Brink's Express Co. v. O'Donnell, 88 Ill. App. 459; Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Gipe, 160 Ind. 360, 65 N. E. 1034; Parker v. Providence, etc., Steamboat Co., 17 R. I. 376, 22 Atl. 284, 23 Atl. 102, 33 Am. St. Rep. 869, 14 L. R. A. 414.

A composition deed giving a long term of payment is not sanctioned by a statute empowering the surrogate to authorize executors or administrators to compromise or compound debts. Matter of Loper, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 545.

Ancillary administrator without authority to compromise under peculiar circumstances of case see De Diemar v. Van Wagenen, 7 Johns. (N. Y.) 604.

Settlement by widow.— Where a decedent left a widow and child, but no creditors, a settlement by the widow of a claim against a certain person by an instrument purporting to be a settlement between such person and the decedent of all their accounts, being known of by the child on the day it was made, and not objected to till the claim was, thirty months thereafter, asserted by the child as administratrix, will prevent recovery thereon. Herrington v. Lowman, 22 N. Y. App. Div. 266, 47 N. Y. Suppl. 863.

97. Georgia.— Neal v. Lamar, 18 Ga. 746.

Mississippi.— Bailey v. Dilworth, 10 Sm. & M. 404, 48 Am. Dec. 760.

South Carolina.— Verdier v. Simons, 2 McCord Eq. 385.

Virginia.— Boyd v. Oglesby, 23 Gratt. 674; McCall v. Peachy, 3 Munf. 288.

England.—See Blue v. Marshall, 3 P. Wms. 381, 24 Eng. Reprint 1110.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 384.

Necessity for compromise must exist. Brosnan v. Kramer, 135 Cal. 36, 66 Pac. 979, where the executors of a lessor had reduced the rent.

An authority given by will to compound for, compromise, and settle debts due to the testator authorizes the executor to accept less than is due only when in his judgment this may avoid the loss of the whole or a greater part of the debt. Buerhaus v. De Saussure, 41 S. C. 457, 19 S. E. 926, 20 S. E. 64.

Part payment to one of several administrators will not be allowed as a satisfaction for the whole debt unless it appears that such settlement was beneficial to the estate and free from fraud, negligence, or misconduct. Gulledge v. Berry, 31 Miss. 346.

98. Johnson's Appeal, 71 Conn. 590, 42 Atl. 662; Wyman's Appeal, 13 N. H. 18. See also Blue v. Marshall, 3 P. Wms. 381, 24 Eng. Reprint 1110.

99. See De Diemar v. Van Wagenen, 7 Johns. (N. Y.) 404.

1. Iowa.— Jenkins v. Shields, 47 Iowa 708.

Mississippi.— Bailey v. Dilworth, 10 Sm. & M. 404, 48 Am. Dec. 760; Berry v. Parkes, 3 Sm. & M. 625.

Missouri.— Jacobs v. Jacobs, 99 Mo. 427, 12 S. W. 457.

Pennsylvania.— Pusey v. Clemson, 9 Serg. & R. 204; Scully's Estate, 31 Pittsb. Leg. J. N. S. 307.

Virginia.—Turpin v. Chesterfield Coal, etc., Min. Co., 82 Va. 74.

England.— Pennington v. Healey, 1 Cromp. & M. 402, 2 L. J. Exch. 98, 3 Tyrw. 319; Blue v. Marshall, 3 P. Wms. 381, 24 Eng. Reprint 1110.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 384.

As to compromising secured debts the test seems to lie in the actual value of the security. Sanford v. Story, 15 Misc. (N. Y.) 536, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 104; Buerhaus v. De Saussure, 41 S. C. 457, 19 S. E. 926, 20 S. E. 64.

2. Jenkins v. Shields, 47 Iowa 708.

has been guilty of negligence or fraud in accepting less than the full amount due, he is chargeable with the loss.[3] In general, however, it is only non-assenting parties in beneficial interest who can pursue the representative for an improper release or compromise.[4]

2. SANCTION OF COURT. The power of the representative to compromise debts due the estate which he represents is not dependent upon the previous sanction of the probate court,[5] although where he acts without such sanction the burden is upon him, if interested parties object, to show that he has acted judiciously and for the benefit of the estate.[6] In many jurisdictions, however, probate tribunals have been expressly clothed with jurisdiction to authorize such acts on the part of the representative,[7] and he obtains a more complete immunity from personal

3. Klein v. French, 57 Miss. 662; People v. Pleas, 2 Johns. Cas. (N. Y.) 376; Jones v. Jones, 118 N. C. 440, 24 S. E. 774. See also Rountree v. Stephens, 8 Ky. L. Rep. 433.

That the representative acted under advice of counsel will not excuse him where he has been guilty of negligence. Klein v. French, 57 Miss. 662.

4. Delabigarre v. New Orleans Second Municipality, 3 La. Ann. 230; Jones v. Jones, 118 N. C. 440, 24 S. E. 774; Black's Appeal, 25 Pa. St. 238.

5. California.— Moulton v. Holmes, 57 Cal. 337.

Illinois.— Washington v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 136 Ill. 49, 26 N. E. 653 [affirming 34 Ill. App. 658]; Brink's Express Co. v. O'Donnell, 88 Ill. App. 459.

New Hampshire.— Wyman's Appeal, 13 N. H. 18.

New York.— Wood v. Tunnicliff, 74 N. Y. 38; Chouteau v. Suydam, 21 N. Y. 179; Auken v. Kiener, 9 N. Y. St. 669.

South Carolina— Geigers v. Kaigler, 9 S. C. 401.

Virginia.— Kee v. Kee, 2 Gratt. 116.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 387.

Contra.— Ætna L. Ins. Co. v. Swayze, 30 Kan. 118, 1 Pac. 36.

The Indiana statute requires an administrator to secure an order of the probate court authorizing him to settle or compound claims due the estate before he can legally proceed to do so, but this requirement does not apply to a right of action given for wrongfully causing the death of the decedent. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Gipe, 160 Ind. 360, 65 N. E. 1034.

6. Arkansas.— Wilks v. Slaughter, 49 Ark. 235, 4 S. W. 766.

Louisiana.— Fridge v. Buhler, 6 La. Ann. 272.

Maine.— Chase v. Bradley, 26 Me. 531.

Massachusetts.— Chadbourn v. Chadbourn, 9 Allen 173.

Montana.— See In re Ricker, 14 Mont. 153, 35 Pac. 960, 29 L. R. A. 622.

New Hampshire.— Wyman's Appeal, 13 N. H. 18.

New York.— Chouteau v. Suydam, 21 N. Y. 179; Matter of Farley, 15 N. Y. St. 727.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 387.

7. California.— Hartigan v. Southern Pac. R. Co., 86 Cal. 142, 24 Pac. 851; Moulton v. Holmes, 57 Cal. 337.

Connecticut.— Johnson's Appeal, 71 Conn. 590, 42 Atl. 662, holding that under the Connecticut statute conservators as well as executors and administrators may be authorized by the probate court to settle and adjust disputed or doubtful claims.

Georgia.— Fraley v. Thomas, 98 Ga. 375, 25 S. E. 446.

Montana.— Mulville v. Pacific Mut. L. Ins. Co., 19 Mont. 95, 47 Pac. 650.

New York.— Chouteau v. Suydam, 21 N. Y. 179; Matter of Gilman, 82 N. Y. App. Div. 186, 81 N. Y. Suppl. 713 [reversing 39 Misc. 762, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 1122].

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 387.

The superior court as an appellate court of probate can authorize an administrator to compromise claims. Johnson's Appeal, 71 Conn. 590, 42 Atl. 662.

Authority may be granted to public or private administrator without distinction. Mulville v. Pacific Mut. L. Ins. Co., 19 Mont. 95, 47 Pac. 650.

When compromise may be authorized.—The surrogate may authorize a compromise wherever there is doubt either of the debtor's solvency or as to the validity of the claim. Shepard v. Saltus, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 232; In re Patten, Tuck. Surr. (N. Y.) 56.

Sufficiency of application.— An ex parte application by an executor for leave to compromise a debt due the estate of his testator will be denied where no facts are stated beyond the existence and status of the debt and its nature, and that one of the executors and the attorney in the suit believe the compromise to be advantageous. Matter of Richardson, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 638, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 276.

Oath of representative.— Under the Georgia code the ordinary's direction to compromise a doubtful debt is not available without the executor's oath that the settlement was made in good faith and to the best interest of the parties represented. Ponce v. Wiley, 62 Ga. 118.

Order authorizing compromise merely interlocutory and not conclusive.— In re Hutton, 92 Mo. App. 132.

Authority to compromise to best advantage.— The compromise of a claim against a life-insurance company on a policy issued to liability by thus securing in advance a judicial sanction of the compromise which he proposes to make.[8]

3. Enforcement. A court of equity will not aid in carrying into effect the composition or release of claims by a fiduciary, unless the party praying it makes disclosure sufficient to convince the court that no fraud or mistake existed.[9]

4. Attack. Error or fraud should be alleged in order to reopen a compromise or release effected in due form, and avoidance in such a case should be judicially sought.[10]

L. Release of Claims.[11] The representative has power to release a claim in favor of the estate,[12] where he acts in good faith[13] and upon a sufficient consideration,[14] although he may render himself liable as for a devastavit by so doing.[15]

M. Release of Liens. The representative has also been held to have power to release a lien in favor of the estate.[16]

the decedent may be authorized to be made "to the best possible advantage," although the terms have not been definitely ascertained. Mulville v. Pacific Mut. L. Ins. Co., 19 Mont. 95, 47 Pac. 650.

Vacation of order.— An order of the surrogate authorizing settlement of an action by an administratrix for the death of her husband, by whom she had then had no issue, should not be vacated on the birth of a posthumous child, there being nothing but an affidavit on information and belief to show that the parties settling with her knew of her pregnancy, and this being denied, the settlement having been made and the money paid to her, and the facts on which the order was made indicating that acceptance of the sum received would be advantageous to those for whose benefit the action was brought remaining unaffected and substantially uncontroverted. Matter of Anderson, 84 N. Y. App. Div. 550, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 763.

Surrogate may authorize compounding whether debtor solvent or insolvent.— Berrien's Estate, 16 Abb. Pr. N. S. (N. Y.) 23 [disapproving Howell v. Blodgett, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 323].

8. Johnson's Appeal, 71 Conn. 590, 42 Atl. 662. See also Taylor v. Frink, 2 Iowa 84.

The object of such statutes is not to confer upon executors and administrators any power which otherwise they would not possess, nor to restrict their common-law power as to compromising, but merely to afford them an additional protection when acting in good faith in the exercise of their common-law powers. Wilks v. Slaughter, 49 Ark. 235, 4 S. W. 766; Moulton v. Holmes, 57 Cal. 337; Wyman's Appeal, 13 N. H. 18; Chouteau v. Suydam, 21 N. Y. 179.

Previous negligence.— An order of the ordinary, properly granted, authorizing an executor to compromise a contested claim due the estate, will not relieve the executor from liability for his previous negligence in bringing about the state of affairs rendering the compromise necessary. Fraley v. Thomas, 98 Ga. 375, 25 S. E. 446.

9. Cleere v. Cleere, 82 Ala. 581, 3 So. 107, 60 Am. Rep. 750; Clay v. Williams, 2 Munf. (Va.) 105, 5 Am. Dec. 453.

10. Haile v. McGhee, 29 La. Ann. 350; Struthers v. Peltz, 18 Pa. St. 278; Ellis v. Appleby, 4 R. I. 462; Weir v. Mosher, 19 Wis. 311.

Bill in equity.— One who seeks to set aside a compromise granted by the court, as for alleged fraud or mistake, should bring a bill in equity. Henry County v. Taylor, 36 Iowa 259.

11. As to compromise see supra, VII, K.

12. Caldwell v. McVicar, 12 Ark. 746; Cogswell v. Concord, etc., R. Co., 68 N. H. 192, 44 Atl. 293. But compare Scott v. Scott, 61 Ill. App. 103.

Administrator may release one of the makers of a note. Latta v. Miller, 109 Ind. 302, 10 N. E. 100.

Validity of release.— Prima facie the release by an executor of a claim of the estate is valid and comes within his power to dispose of the effects of the estate. Davenport v. First Cong. Soc., 33 Wis. 387, 390.

Effect of release.— In an action by an administrator seeking to charge defendant on a note on which another person was liable, a release given by the administrator to the latter does not necessarily imply that payment was made to the administrator. Huntington v. Wilder, 6 Vt. 334.

Contract of estate.— A release of a debt due a testator, executed and delivered by the executor under his seal, and signed and acknowledged by him as executor, is a contract of the estate, and not of the executor personally. Auken v. Kiener, 9 N. Y. St. 669.

13. Latta v. Miller, 109 Ind. 302, 10 N. E. 100.

14. Latta v. Miller, 109 Ind. 304, 10 N. E. 100.

Sufficiency of consideration.— Withdrawing objection by an heir to the allowance of the representative's account is a sufficient consideration for the discharge of a debt held by the representative as such against such heir, in a case of good faith. Holbrook v. Blodget, 5 Vt. 520. And see Jones v. Jones, 118 N. C. 440, 24 S. E. 774.

15. Caldwell v. McVicar, 12 Ark. 746.

16. McCleary v. Chipman, 32 Ind. App. 489, 68 N. E. 320; Gill v. Anglo-American Assoc., 58 S. W. 929, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 690 (holding that an executrix empowered by the will to sell any part of the testator's estate and make title thereto has power to release a lien for purchase-money on land sold by

N. Debts Due From Representative[17] — 1. In General. The duty of the personal representative to collect debts due the estate of his decedent is not changed by the fact that he is the debtor;[18] but he must, if solvent or able to pay, pay the debt and account for the amount thereof as assets.[19] He is not, however, debarred from showing that the claim against him is unfounded or unjust or has been paid,[20] and he may also return the debt as uncollectable when the facts warrant this.[21]

the testator; and it is immaterial, as affects the validity of the release, whether she in fact collected the unpaid purchase-money); Mosman v. Bender, 80 Mo. 579 (holding that an administrator may release a second lien for one half the debt if the arrangement is for the best interest of the estate); Stribling v. Splint Coal Co., 31 W. Va. 82, 5 S. E. 321.

Mortgage lien on administrator's property. — A release by an administrator, from a mortgage given by him to intestate, of one of the lots covered thereby, is ineffectual to make a subsequent mortgage given by him thereon a first lien, the mortgagee knowing that the release was merely to enable him to make a loan thereon, and he having failed to see that the administrator used the money, as he said he was going to, to make a payment on the debt he owed the estate. Eastham v. Landon, 17 Wash. 48, 48 Pac. 739.

An executor of a surety cannot consent to the discharge of a mortgage given to secure the debt, for which testator was surety, until all the conditions have been complied with. Monroe v. De Forest, 53 N. J. Eq. 264, 31 Atl. 773.

17. See supra, III, B, 5, b.

18. Condit v. Winslow, 106 Ind. 142, 5 N. E. 751; Haines v. Haines, (N. J. Ch. 1888) 15 Atl. 839. See also Leggett v. Leggett, 24 Hun (N. Y.) 333.

Executor may not favor himself more than other debtors. Matter of Gray, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 208.

Burden of proof as to debt. — The mere fact that an executor during the lifetime of his testator has received certain property from her without paying for it does not show that he received it as her agent or under such circumstances as created an indebtedness to her for the same, but the burden of showing this is upon the persons claiming that such indebtedness exists. Matter of Mitchell, 36 N. Y. App. Div. 542, 55 N. Y. Suppl. 725 [affirmed in 161 N. Y. 654, 57 N. E. 1117].

Evidence insufficient to show indebtedness see Matter of Briggs, 31 Misc. (N. Y.) 486, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 660.

19. Howell v. Anderson, 66 Nebr. 575, 92 N. W. 760, 61 L. R. A. 313; Gay v. Grant, 101 N. C. 206, 8 S. E. 99, 106. See also Farmer v. Yates, 23 Gratt. (Va.) 145.

Security for debt may be made available by parties interested. In re Gilbert, 104 N. Y. 200, 10 N. E. 148; Soverhill v. Suydam, 59 N. Y. 140; Raynor v. Gordon, 16 Hun (N. Y.) 126; Utterback v. Cooper, 28 Gratt. (Va.) 233.

A collusive or fraudulent payment will not avail so as to shift the loss upon the estate. Covington v. Lattimore, 88 N. C. 407.

A pretentious payment to himself as representative in worthless currency will not discharge his individual debt. Wilson v. Powell, 75 N. C. 468. See also Koon v. Munro, 11 S. C. 139.

Facts amounting to payment see Ipswich Mfg. Co. v. Story, 5 Metc. (Mass.) 310; Strantom v. Farmers', etc., Bank, 24 N. Y. 424 [affirming 33 Barb. 527].

Circumstances not amounting to payment see Neustadt's Estate, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 8.

Statutes of limitation. — Where the representative is individually indebted to the estate, no bar of limitation should operate in his favor so long as he remains accountable for the general assets of the estate. Whitlock v. Whitlock, 25 Ala. 543; Thompson v. Thompson, 77 Ga. 692, 3 S. E. 261; Haines v. Haines, (N. J. Ch. 1888) 15 Atl. 839.

20. Everts v. Everts, 62 Barb. (N. Y.) 577, holding further that the question must be tried in the surrogate's court in the same way and for the same reason that claims against the estate in favor of the executor must be tried in that court.

Burden of proof. — Where an executor or administrator claims that the money received by him of the decedent during the latter's life was a gift, he must prove it. Ruth v. Owens, 2 Rand (Va.) 507. And so also where an administrator inventories a debt due from himself to his intestate, and on final settlement contends that such debt was in fact paid to the intestate while living, the burden is on him to show that it was erroneously included in the inventory by mistake or otherwise. Dickie v. Dickie, 80 Ala. 57.

Possession by the representative of notes formerly given by him to his decedent does not alone raise the presumption of payment. Speed v. Nelson, 8 B. Mon. (Ky.) 499; Love v. Dilley, 64 Md. 238, 610, 1 Atl. 59, 4 Atl. 290, 6 Atl. 168.

Effect of testator's possession of commercial paper. — Where an executor included in the inventory of the estate commercial paper made by him and found in the possession of the testator at his death, but in accounting the executor did not charge himself with the amount of such paper, it was held that the evidence to explain away and overcome the presumption arising from the possession of such paper and the solemn admission of liability arising from proving the inventory ought to be clear, consistent, and preponderating, and in the absence of such evidence the executor should be charged therewith. Tichenor v. Tichenor, 45 N. J. Eq. 303, 17 Atl. 631.

21. Henry v. Fiske, 11 R. I. 318, but his liability as an individual will not be af-

2. Interest. An interest-bearing debt[22] due by the representative to the estate follows the rule of similar debts due from others; and the fact that the debt is inventoried does not stop the running of interest per se, but only the fact that the debt is paid or its amount shown to be actually in the hands of the representative as such.[23]

O. Failure to Collect Assets — 1. Liability in General. The personal representative is liable in his accounts for failure to collect assets or realize upon notes or other debts due to the estate if such failure is due to a lack of good faith or due diligence, but not otherwise;[24] and if certain debts are inventoried fected. See also Howell v. Anderson, 66 Nebr. 575, 92 N. W. 760, 61 L. R. A. 313. Contra, Cheney v. Powell, 20 Ohio Cir. Ct. 398, 11 Ohio Cir. Dec. 279.

Claim which might have been collected.— Where, at the time of his appointment, an administrator was in debt to the estate and it appeared that at no time thereafter was his property sufficient to pay his debt, but that had a third person been administrator with the knowledge of the administrator's affairs which he himself had, such person would probably have been able to collect the debt, the administrator could not return the claim as uncollectable. In re Haffey, 10 Mo. App. 232.

Burden of proof as to insolvency.— Where an administrator seeks to be discharged from his official liability for an antecedent debt, because of his insolvency, the burden is on him to establish the fact. Howell v. Anderson, 66 Nebr. 575, 92 N. W. 760, 61 L. R. A. 313.

How ability to pay determined.— The representative's ability or lack of ability to pay should be determined by appointing a special administrator to try to enforce the demand. May v. Leighty, 36 Ill. App. 17.

22. See Webb v. Webb, 6 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 163, for a state of facts under which an administrator was held chargeable with interest.

Where a note provided for more than legal interest, the executor was charged with the unpaid principal together with interest at the legal rate to the time of his qualification. Slagle v. Slagle, 3 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 549.

23. Kentucky.— Com. v. Bracken, 32 S. W. 609, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 785.

Louisiana.—Sharp v. Klienpeter, 7 La. Ann. 264.

New Jersey.— Terhune v. Oldie, 44 N. J. Eq. 146, 14 Atl. 638; Tichenor v. Tichenor, 43 N. J. Eq. 163, 10 Atl. 867; Ackerman's Case, 40 N. J. Eq. 533, 5 Atl. 91.

New York.— In re Davis, 37 Misc. 326, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 493; In re Clark, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 911.

Pennsylvania.— Rodenbach's Appeal, 102 Pa. St. 572; Clark's Appeal, 2 Watts 405; Brenneman's Estate, 14 York Leg. Rec. 14.

South Carolina.— Sebring v. Keith, 2 Hill 340. See also Koon v. Munro, 11 S. C. 139.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 393½.

Where the debt bears interest until maturity, credit of the debt to the estate as collected before maturity does not relieve. Clifford v. Davis, 22 Ill. App. 316.

24. Alabama.— Jenks v. Terrell, 73 Ala. 238; Smyley v. Reese, 53 Ala. 89, 25 Am. Rep. 598; Abercrombie v. Skinner, 42 Ala. 633; Wilkinson v. Hunter, 37 Ala. 268; Douthitt v. Douthitt, 1 Ala. 594. See also Dickie v. Dickie, 80 Ala. 57; Sheppard v. Gill, 49 Ala. 162; Ivey v. Coleman, 42 Ala. 409.

California.— Moore's Estate, 96 Cal. 522, 31 Pac. 584; In re Sanderson, (1887) 13 Pac. 497.

Florida.— Sanderson v. Sanderson, 20 Fla. 292.

Georgia.— Prior v. Prior, 113 Ga. 1154, 39 S. E. 474; Hall v. Carter, 8 Ga. 388.

Iowa.— Lippert v. Lippert, 110 Iowa 550, 81 N. W. 777.

Kentucky.—Fleming v. Jones, 12 Bush 503; Tuggle v. Gilbert, 1 Duv. 340; Scarce v. Page, 12 B. Mon. 311; Blair v. Dade, 9 B. Mon. 61; Moore v. Beauchamp, 4 B. Mon. 71; Johnson v. Beauchamp, 5 Dana 70; Steele v. Morrison, 4 Dana 617; Frazier v. Cavanaugh, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 711.

Louisiana.— Conery's Succession, 111 La. 113, 35 So. 479; Coco's Succession, 32 La. Ann. 325; Whittikam v. Swain, 9 La. Ann. 122; Davis v. Thompson, 9 Rob. 198; Longbottom v. Babcock, 9 La. 44; Lafon v. His Executors, 3 Mart. N. S. 707.

Maryland.— Hoffman v. Armstrong, 90 Md. 123, 44 Atl. 1012.

Michigan.— Hall v. Grovier, 25 Mich. 428.

Mississippi.— Tell City Furniture Co. v. Stiles, 60 Miss. 849; Cole v. Leake, 27 Miss. 767; Smith v. Hurd, 8 Sm. & M. 682. See also Stone v. Morgan, 65 Miss. 247, 3 So. 580.

Missouri.— Myers v. Myers, 98 Mo. 262, 11 S. W. 617; Julian v. Abbott, 73 Mo. 580; Williams v. Petticrew, 62 Mo. 460; Powell v. Hurt, 31 Mo. App. 632.

Nevada.— See In re Millenovich, 5 Nev. 161.

New Jersey.— Mulford v. Mulford, (Ch. 1902) 53 Atl. 79; Wilson v. Staats, 33 N. J. Eq. 524; Cooley v. Vansyckle, 14 N. J. Eq. 496; Holcomb v. Holcomb, 11 N. J. Eq. 281; Stark v. Hunton, 3 N. J. Eq. 300.

New York.— Harrington v. Keteltas, 92 N. Y. 40; In re Van Alstyne, 62 N. Y. App. Div. 626, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 163; Matter of Hosford, 27 N. Y. App. Div. 427, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 550; Matter of Washbon, 60 Hun 576, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 672; Milk v. Hoffman, 26 Hun 594; Hollister v. Burritt, 14 Hun 91; Matter of Guldenkirch, 35 Misc. 123, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 310; Matter of Baker, 27 Misc. 126, as worthless, desperate, or doubtful, the presumption is more favorable to him

57 N. Y. Suppl. 398; Matter of Child, 5 Misc. 560, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 721; In re Millard, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 126, 2 Connoly Surr. 91; Schultz v. Pulver, 11 Wend. 361; Ruggles v. Sherman, 14 Johns. 446.

North Carolina.— Wilson v. Lineberger, 88 N. C. 416; Williams v. Williams, 79 N. C. 417, 28 Am. Rep. 330; Camp v. Smith, 68 N. C. 537; Lee v. Brown, 58 N. C. 379; Hobbs v. Craigie, 23 N. C. 332.

Pennsylvania.— Shaffer's Appeal, 46 Pa. St. 131; In re Long, 6 Watts 46; Edenborn's Estate, 10 Pa. Dist. 184; Morrell's Estate, 8 Wkly. Notes Cas. 183.

South Carolina.—Brooks v. Brooks, 12 S. C. 422; Gates v. Whetstone, 8 S. C. 244, 28 Am. Rep. 284. See also Cunningham v. Cauthen, 37 S. C. 123, 15 S. E. 917; Turbeville v. Flowers, 27 S. C. 331, 3 S. E. 542; Tompkins v. Tompkins, 18 S. C. 1.

Tennessee.— Davis v. Jackson, (Ch. App. 1897) 39 S. W. 1067; James v. Wingo, 7 Lea 148; Molloy v. Elam, Meigs 590; Cartwright v. Cartwright, 4 Hayw. 134.

Texas.— Townsend v. Munger, 9 Tex. 300.

Vermont.— Holmes v. Bridgman, 37 Vt. 28.

Virginia.— Lacy v. Stamper, 27 Gratt. 42; Southall v. Taylor, 14 Gratt. 269. See also Crouch v. Davis, 23 Gratt. 62.

West Virginia.— Evans v. Shroyer, 22 W. Va. 581. See also Estill v. McClintic, 11 W. Va. 399.

England.—Re Owens, 47 L. T. Rep. N. S. 61.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 360, 394.

The burden of proof is upon the representative to show that the failure to collect was not due to his lack of good faith or diligence.

Alabama.— Wilkinson v. Hunter, 37 Ala. 268. But compare Sheppard v. Gill, 49 Ala. 162; Ivey v. Coleman, 42 Ala. 409.

Kentucky.—Moore v. Beauchamp, 4 B. Mon. 71; Steele v. Morrison, 4 Dana 617.

Mississippi.— Stone v. Morgan, 65 Miss. 247, 3 So. 580; Tell City Furniture Co. v. Stiles, 60 Miss. 849.

Missouri.— Julian v. Abbott, 73 Mo. 580; Williams v. Petticrew, 62 Mo. 460.

Pennsylvania.—Billheimer's Estate, 3 Kulp 278. But compare Ritter's Estate, 11 Phila. 12.

South Carolina.— Cunningham v. Cauthen, 37 S. C. 123, 15 S. E. 917; Turbeville v. Flowers, 27 S. C. 331, 3 S. E. 542. But compare Tompkins v. Tompkins, 18 S. C. 1.

Vermont.— Walworth v. Bartholomew, 76 Vt. 1, 56 Atl. 101.

Virginia.— Crouch v. Davis, 23 Gratt. 62.

West Virginia.— Estill v. McClintic, 11 W. Va. 399.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 394, 2172.

But compare In re Millenovich, 5 Nev. 162, where no value was placed on debts in the inventory.

The extension by executors of a note due testator on the personal security of the debtor, he being solvent at its maturity, is at their own risk. In re Gardner, 199 Pa. St. 524, 49 Atl. 346.

A judgment recovered by an administrator against a solvent debtor of the estate does not constitute assets in his hands with which he can be charged at the instance of a creditor of the estate. Rogers v. Grant, 88 N. C. 440.

An executor's failure to pay a note executed by himself in favor of the testator is not a fraudulent misapplication of funds of the estate. Culbreth v. Smith, 124 N. C. 289, 32 S. E. 714.

Where a sheriff, as administrator ex officio, neglects to collect notes due the estate until his term of office expires, he will not be chargeable with the amount thereof if the makers of the notes were perfectly solvent for a considerable time after his administration ceased. Bondurant v. Thompson, 15 Ala. 202.

Failure to offset.— Executors who lose a debt due the estate by negligently failing to offset it against a bequest to the debtor are properly surcharged with the amount of the debt. Shearer's Estate, 13 Montg. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 98.

Justifiable delay.—Where general letters of administration were granted in ignorance of the existence of a will, which was afterward produced and proven, a delay of the administrator to prosecute a claim due the estate, after he had been informed of the existence of the will and before its production and probate, during which delay the debtor became insolvent and the debt was lost, was not such negligence as to subject the administrator to the payment of the amount. Hartsfield v. Allen, 52 N. C. 439.

For loss through indulgence granted by distributees or others in interest, they cannot complain. Perry v. Wooten, 5 Humphr. (Tenn.) 524.

A second administrator takes the goods which remain in specie at decedent's death, and cannot call his predecessor to account for his preceding disposition of the estate, and hence cannot be surcharged because he did not recover assets which the previous administrator had administered. Hartson v. Elden, 58 N. J. Eq. 478, 44 Atl. 156. Neither is he liable for any accounts or notes included in the inventory returned by the former administrator, unless it is shown that he collected or could have collected them by the exercise of due care and proper diligence. Adkins v. Hutchings, 79 Ga. 260, 4 S. E. 887.

Facts showing negligence see Chambers' Appeal, 11 Pa. St. 436.

Waiver of neglect.— The joinder of the heirs in the prayer for the homologation of a tableau is not a waiver of their rights against the administrator for his maladministration, in not proceeding to collect a debt at an earlier date, which was prescribed at the time it was placed on the tableau. Serret v. Labauve, 15 La. Ann. 186.

where he fails to collect than if nothing appearing in the inventory had indicated that such debts were not good.[25]

2. Extent of Liability. Where an executor or administrator was not culpably careless or dishonest, he is chargeable in his accounts for what he actually collects, aside from any prior estimate.[26] But where loss occurs through his want of due diligence, he should be charged with the amount he should have received, and as of the time when he should have received it had he used due diligence.[27] Accrued interest should be collected by him on interest-bearing claims; but otherwise it is not usual to charge the representative absolutely with interest, and still less with compound interest, unless either he received it or some misconduct or gross delinquency be shown against him.[28]

VIII. CUSTODY AND MANAGEMENT OF ESTATE.

A. In General — 1. Fundamental Rule. An executor or administrator is required to use reasonable diligence and act in entire good faith in performing the duties of his trust,[29] and the prudence, care, and judgment which one of fair average capacity and ability exercises in the transaction of his own business — or, as sometimes stated, the prudence, care, and judgment of fiduciaries ordinarily capable under like circumstances — furnishes the standard by which his conduct

25. In re Millenovich, 5 Nev. 161; Finch v. Ragland, 17 N. C. 137. See also Wrightson v. Tydings, 94 Md. 358, 51 Atl. 44.

26. Fauber v. Gentry, 89 Va. 312, 15 S. W. 899.

27. Sterling v. Wilkinson, 83 Va. 791, 3 S. E. 533; Anderson v. Piercy, 20 W. Va. 282.

Where the representative leaves goods with the widow or heirs, he should be charged with them at the appraised value, and cannot show that the value was less. Reiff's Appeal, 2 Pa. St. 256.

Only the actual loss and not a penalty for mismanagement can be charged. Landis' Estate, 4 Phila. (Pa.) 349.

28. Florida.— Sherrell v. Shepard, 19 Fla. 300.

Louisiana.— Stafford v. McIntosh, 39 La. Ann. 836, 2 So. 596.

Mississippi.— Banks v. Machen, 40 Misc. 256.

New Jersey.— Craig v. Manning, 8 N. J. Eq. 806.

New York.— Schultz v. Pulver, 11 Wend. 361 [affirming 3 Paige 182].

Tennessee.— Torbet v. McReynolds, 4 Humphr. 215.

Virginia.— Chapman v. Shepherd, 24 Gratt. 377.

United States.— Taylor v. Benham, 5 How. 233, 12 L. ed. 130.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 395.

Interest on funds collected see infra, VIII, F.

When interest chargeable.— A person who collected and appropriated some of testator's notes, and was afterward appointed executor, is liable for interest on these accounts from the time of collection, and cannot avoid it on the ground of his exemption as executor. Hill v. Fly, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1899) 52 S. W. 731.

29. Alabama.— Clark v. Eubank, 80 Ala. 584, 3 So. 49.

Illinois.— Caruthers v. Caruthers, 99 Ill. App. 402.

Louisiana.— Stafford v. McIntosh, 39 La. Ann. 836, 2 So. 596; Triche's Succession, 39 La. Ann. 289, 2 So. 52; Connolly's Succession, 6 La. Ann. 795.

New Hampshire.— Lane v. Thompson, 43 N. H. 320; Moulton v. Wendell, 37 N. H. 406; Davis v. Lane, 11 N. H. 512.

New Jersey.— Stark v. Hunton, 3 N. J. Eq. 300.

New York.— Hollister v. Burritt, 14 Hun 291.

Pennsylvania.— King v. Morrison, 1 Penr. & W. 188.

South Carolina.— Rainsford v. Rainsford, Dudley Eq. 57.

Tennessee.— Forsey v. Luton, 2 Head 183.

Texas.— Cock v. Carson, 38 Tex. 284.

Virginia.— McCall v. Peachy, 3 Munf. 288.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 360; and infra, note 30.

Allowing debt to remain for investment.— If the personal representative allows a debt due the estate to remain for the purposes of investment, he should give due heed to the character of the security afforded. Lacy v. Stamper, 27 Gratt. (Va.) 42.

A worthless conveyance by an executor in his individual capacity which does not transfer any interest belonging to the estate is not a violation of the executor's duty as such. Wheeler v. Bolton, 92 Cal. 159, 28 Pac. 558.

The administrator of an intestate who was security for the payment of a debt has authority to consent to the creditors granting to the principal debtor an extension of the time of payment if it be for the interest of the estate. Smarr v. McMaster, 35 Mo. 349.

Taking security.— It is proper for an administrator whose intestate had signed certain notes as surety to take from the principal debtor, without an order of court therefor, a chattel mortgage to indemnify the estate against loss on account of such notes. Walling v. Lewis, 119 Ind. 496, 21 N. E. 1108.

is to be judged.[30] The acts of the representative must, however, be judged according to the circumstances which existed at the time,[31] and the trust confided to him is defined by the letters, testamentary or of administration, constituting the commission under which he acts; the mode in which his trust is to be performed being prescribed by the court in accordance with the local statute.[32]

2. Custody of Assets. The personal representative is of course entitled to the custody of the assets of the decedent,[33] and he should not be required to surrender the estate committed to him before a distribution is ordered unless for grave reasons.[34]

3. Custody of Books and Papers. The representative is entitled to the custody of the books and papers of the estate, but must allow parties interested to inspect

30. Illinois.—Whitney v. Peddicord, 63 Ill. 249.

Minnesota.— Harding v. Canfield, 73 Minn. 244, 75 N. W. 1112.

Mississippi.— O'Brien v. Wilson, 82 Miss. 93, 33 So. 946; Bailey v. Dilworth, 10 Sm. & M. 404, 48 Am. Dec. 760.

Nebraska.— Dundas v. Chrisman, 25 Nebr. 495, 41 N. W. 449.

New Jersey.— Voorhees v. Stoothoff, 11 N. J. L. 145.

North Carolina.— Williams v. Harrell, 43 N. C. 123, 55 Am. Dec. 442.

Pennsylvania.— Getz's Estate, 12 Phila. 143.

South Carolina.— Mikell v. Mikell, 5 Rich. Eq. 220.

Texas.— Noble v. Jones, 35 Tex. 692.

Virginia.— Kee v. Kee, 2 Gratt. 116.

West Virginia.— Harris v. Orr, 46 W. Va. 261, 33 S. E. 257, 76 Am. St. Rep. 815.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 397.

Executors and administrators are liable like bailees for the management of their trusts and must answer for actual or constructive neglect or wilful misconduct only. Frazier v. Cavanaugh, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 711.

31. Hall's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 8.

32. White v. Wayne, T. U. P. Charlt. (Ga.) 94; Gibbons v. Riley, 7 Gill (Md.) 81.

The personal representative cannot change the nature of his obligations, or increase or diminish the legal responsibilities of the trust. Morgan v. Locke, 28 La. Ann. 806; State Bank v. Dejean, 12 Rob. (La.) 16.

Knowledge chargeable to persons dealing with representative.— Those who deal with such fiduciaries are chargeable with all the knowledge that one would have acquired by reading the will (if any) and the decree of appointment as expressed on the probate records. Lowry v. Commercial, etc., Bank, 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,581, Brunn. Col. Cas. 331, Taney 310.

33. Normandeau v. McDonnell, 4 Montreal Q. B. 319, 30 L. C. Jur. 120. See Schouler Ex. § 312.

Where a guardian is appointed administrator of his deceased ward and continues to hold the assets of his estate, such continued holding is as administrator and not as guardian, and his right and duty to account as guardian do not affect the title to the property on the death of the ward. Harrison v. Perea, 168 U. S. 311, 18 S. Ct. 129, 42 L. ed. 478. See also Hutton v. Williams, 60 Ala. 107.

The probate court cannot as a rule restrain or control the representative's right to assets; but where occasion for interference arises the bond of the representative and his liability to removal furnish a recourse. Crawford v. Elliott, 1 Bailey (S. C.) 206.

The administrator of a bailee is entitled to continue the possession of his decedent, and has an action to revendicate this possession as against a mere trespasser. Gragard's Succession, 106 La. 298, 30 So. 885.

Custody before appointment made.— Until an appointment of a personal representative is duly made, one in due possession of assets of the decedent remains rightfully in charge of them on a principle analogous to that of a finder or other bailee, and is accountable correspondingly. Crum v. Williams, 29 Ala. 446.

Where receiver appointed before decedent's death.— Where, before the death of an intestate, a receiver of his property has been appointed and qualified, it is the duty of the administratrix to disclose to the receiver the fact of the existence of assets which have come to her possession as administratrix. Reynolds v. Ætna L. Ins. Co., 28 N. Y. App. Div. 591, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 446.

Where a testator directs that his widow shall remain in possession and enjoyment of all his estate, she is entitled to the possession of the moneys and securities for moneys, and the executors are not answerable for her unjust and improvident conduct unless they can be implicated in a fraudulent or collusive management with her in the disposition which she has made of the funds. Van Pelt v. Veghte, 14 N. J. L. 207.

34. Reed v. Reed, 74 S. W. 207, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 2438, holding that where an executor had distributed an estate of some eighty thousand dollars, and was abundantly solvent, an order requiring him to pay into court before distribution a sum of about twenty-one hundred dollars in his hands, on the ground that he was going for a trip out of the state and that it was feared he might not pay over the money promptly if not ordered to do so before his return was erroneous and should be reversed.

Assets subject to seizure on execution.— Weeks v. Gibbs, 9 Mass. 74.

the deeds and other documents relating to lands devised for which purpose the court may require him to produce them.[35]

4. Keeping Accounts. Executors and administrators should keep separate books of accounts of the estate,[36] and if they fail to keep their accounts properly they will be held to a strict liability.[37]

5. Deposits. It is proper for the executor or administrator, for the purpose of safely keeping the funds of the estate during administration, to deposit the same in a bank,[38] and indeed he is sometimes required by law to do so;[39] but the

35. In re Tompkin, 6 Kulp (Pa.) 99.

Right of representative of deceased co-executor to retain papers as vouchers.— Where one of the executors of a decedent has died, the court will not interfere with the possession by his personal representative of satisfied mortgages, insurance policies, and receipts which remained in the possession and custody of that executor at the time of his death, for the reason that such papers may be necessary to enable the representative of the deceased executor to file the executor's account should this be required, and in settlement of such an account the papers may be required as vouchers for payments made by him. Thomas' Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 400, 22 Pa. Co. Ct. 518.

Ordering deposit of documents not safely kept.— Where it is established on the petition of one of the executors that the documents and papers connected with the estate are not kept by the co-executor in a safe place, the court will order that they be deposited in a place sufficiently secure, subject to the joint control of the executors. Papineau v. Papineau, 10 Quebec Super. Ct. 205.

36. Mandeville v. Arnoult, 9 Rob. (La.) 447.

Separate accounts for each beneficiary are unnecessary where it appears by the will that a testator intended that his family should be kept together and his children educated and supported out of the same fund. Wood v. Lee, 5 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 50.

37. Kee v. Kee, 2 Gratt. (Va.) 116.

38. Officer v. Officer, 120 Iowa 389, 94 N. W. 947, 98 Am. St. Rep. 365.

A deposit so as to draw interest in a savings bank or other bank or trust company is sometimes justifiable as by way of temporary investment. Matter of Maxwell, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 422, 1 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 230. And if the representative can readily deposit temporarily in a good bank at a fair rate of interest, he ought at least to do this within a reasonable time. Dalrymple v. Gamble, 68 Md. 156, 11 Atl. 718; Holcomb v. Coryell, 11 N. J. Eq. 476.

Deposit instead of paying debts.— Where, instead of using cash on hand of the estate to pay debts, the personal representative deposits the cash in bank and uses his own money to pay the debts, he incurs the risk of the bank's failure, as for imprudence on his part. Guthrie v. Wheeler, 51 Conn. 207.

Withdrawal by donee.— Where an administrator, who is also sole heir, has agreed with the surety on his bond to deposit the funds of the estate in a certain manner, and not withdraw them except with the surety's consent, the administrator's donee cannot withdraw the funds without consent of the surety. Dickinson v. Colonial Trust Co., 33 Misc. (N. Y.) 668, 68 N. Y. Suppl. 909.

39. See Mt. Carmel Church v. Farrelly, 34 La. Ann. 533; Pasquier's Succession, 11 La. Ann. 279; D'Aquin's Succession, 10 La. Ann. 780; Peytavin's Succession, 7 Rob. (La.) 477.

Claim of retaining amount of legacy.— An administrator cannot keep in his hands the funds which according to law he is bound to deposit in bank on the plea of retaining only the amount of a legacy to him, when according to the will such legacy is to be paid out of a particular fund of which he has not the seizin. Caballero's Succession, 25 La. Ann. 646.

Under the New York statutes, where it appears that the securities belonging to the estate are not safe in the executor's hands, the surrogate may direct him to deposit them with a trust company, subject to the order of the court. In re O'Connor, 1 N. Y. Suppl. 110. See also Matter of Gilman, 3 N. Y. St. 340. A deposit with a trust company may also be ordered so that the estate may have the benefit of interest on the funds. Lockhart v. Public Administrator, 4 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 21. Where executors disagree as to the custody of the estate, the surrogate may make an order directing the property to be deposited in a safe place in the joint custody of the executors or subject to their joint order, and the money to be deposited in a specified bank or trust company to their joint credit and to be drawn out upon their joint order. Matter of Hoagland, 51 N. Y. App. Div. 347, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 920 [affirmed in 164 N. Y. 573, 58 N. E. 1088]; Matter of Delaplaine, 19 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 413; Hassey v. Keller, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 577 (holding that executors may be enjoined from disposing of property in the meantime); Guion v. Underhill, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 302 (holding that the surrogate has no power to order the deposit of money of an estate with a trust company, except in the instance specified by statute). Whether or not such deposit shall be directed is within the discretion of the surrogate. Matter of Hoagland, 51 N. Y. App. Div. 347, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 920 [affirmed in 164 N. Y. 573, 58 N. E. 1088] (holding that where all the parties interested in the estate and two of the executors consented to the deposit, and there was a doubt as to the responsibility of the dissenting executor, who was neither a resident nor a householder of the state, an order directing deposit should always be made with a designation of his fiduciary capacity.[40] If the funds are so deposited and due care is used in selecting the depositary, the representative is not necessarily responsible for a loss resulting from the subsequent failure of the bank,[41] the test being whether he has exercised such care as men of common prudence ordinarily exercise in their own affairs;[42] but if the deposit is made in his individual name, without any designation of the trust, he such deposit was not an abuse of discretion); Matter of Delaplaine, 19 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 413. The most satisfactory test by which to determine whether the deposit should or should not be ordered is whether the circumstances are such that a joint custody pursuant to an agreement of the executors themselves would commend itself to the surrogate as suitable and wise. Matter of Delaplaine, 19 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 413.

Suggestions for removal.— Where funds received by an administrator have been deposited or invested by order of the orphans' court under the Maryland statute it is the duty of the court to hear suggestions from those interested for the purpose of having the money removed if in danger of being lost to the estate. Ex p. Shipley, 4 Md. 493.

Right to interest.— Where funds are deposited in bank by the public administrator to the credit of himself and the controller of the city of New York as required by statute, the interest allowed on such deposit up to the time of settlement and distribution belongs to the estate and not to the city. Sullivan v. Herrera, 7 Hun (N. Y.) 309.

40. See Officer v. Officer, 120 Iowa 389, 94 N. W. 947, 98 Am. St. Rep. 365.

41. Connecticut.— Guthrie v. Wheeler, 51 Conn. 207.

Illinois.— Caruthers v. Caruthers, 99 Ill. App. 402.

Indiana.— Norwood v. Harness, 98 Ind. 134, 49 Am. Rep. 739.

Missouri.— Atterberry v. McDuffee, 31 Mo. App. 603.

New Jersey.— Cox v. Roome, 38 N. J. Eq. 259; Jacobus v. Jacobus, 37 N. J. Eq. 17.

New York.— Sheerin v. Public Administrator, 2 Redf. Surr. 421.

Pennsylvania.— In re Hanbest, 92 Pa. St. 482; Seymour's Estate, 43 Leg. Int. 58; Robinson's Appeal, 2 Walk. 544; In re Seaman, 2 Lack. Leg. N. 271.

South Carolina.— Twitty v. Houser, 7 S. C. 153; Morton v. Smith, 1 Desauss. 123.

Washington.— In re Kohler, 15 Wash. 613, 47 Pac. 30, 55 Am. St. Rep. 904.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 399; and infra, VIII, L, 1.

Executor continuing deposit made by testator not liable for loss.— Cook v. Barnes, 43 S. W. 682, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1533; In re Hanbest, 92 Pa. St. 482; Seidler's Estate, 5 Phila. (Pa.) 85.

A deposit in a bank in another state is not necessarily culpable waste or negligence. Moore v. Eure, 101 N. C. 11, 7 S. E. 471, 9 Am. St. Rep. 17.

The representative is not liable for interest on a fund lost through the failure of a bank in which it was properly deposited any more than for the fund itself. Fitzsimons v. Fitzsimons, 1 S. C. 400. See infra, VIII, L, 1.

42. Harding v. Canfield, 73 Minn. 244, 75 N. W. 1112. See supra, VIII, A, 1.

Circumstances under which representative held liable for loss see Matter of Scudder, 21 Misc. (N. Y.) 179, 47 N. Y. Suppl. 101.

Circumstances under which representative held not liable for loss see Harding v. Canfield, 73 Minn. 244, 75 N. W. 1112; In re Seaman, 2 Lack. Leg. N. (Pa.) 271.

Trust company as administrator.— While it was the duty of a trust company acting as administrator to deposit the funds of the estate in a bank, it was guilty of negligence in depositing them in an insolvent bank, and therefore liable for loss resulting therefrom, where its president had actual knowledge at the time of the insolvent condition of the bank, and its officers whose duty it was to look after deposits of trust accounts had heard rumors sufficient to put them on inquiry, which if made would have revealed to them the true condition of the bank. And in view of these facts the fact that the clerk of the trust company having immediate charge of the deposits acted in good faith, believing the bank to be solvent, did not exonerate the company; nor was the trust company authorized to rely on the general reputation of the bank, where its president was also president of the bank, and thus had the means at hand, coupled with the duty, to acquaint himself with its condition. Germania Safety Vault, etc., Co. v. Driskill, 66 S. W. 610, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 2050.

Estoppel.— The fact that one of the distributees agreed to the appointment of the administrator, and was to receive a part of the administrator's commission for special services rendered by him, does not estop him from questioning the act of the administrator in selecting a bank in which to deposit the funds of the estate, where he had no knowledge of or control over deposits. Germania Safety Vault, etc., Co. v. Driskill, 66 S. W. 610, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 2050.

Effect of settlement in court.— The fact that an ex parte settlement made by the administrator with the county court included as a part of the administrator's receipts the amount the estate had on deposit when the bank closed, as evidenced by a certificate of the receiver of the bank, does not preclude the distributees from claiming from the administrator any balance resulting from the loss of the deposit, after crediting dividends received, where it does not appear that the certificate was ever accepted otherwise than as a memorandum entitling the holder to dividends in the distribution of the assets of the bank. Germania Safety Vault, etc., is liable for any loss which results from such disposition of the funds.[43] There are circumstances under which deposits may be needlessly made or be left too long for a prudent course of administration; and in such a case, or where the representative lends for a fixed time to a bank instead of making a deposit subject to withdrawal at pleasure or lending as payable on demand, he may incur liability for loss in case of the bank's failure.[44]

6. Disposing of Property. The personal representative can dispose of personal property belonging to the estate, being responsible for the faithful execution of the trust.[45]

7. Liability For Assets Received. A personal representative is of course liable and accountable to the estate for all assets which have come into his hands,[46] and where there are two executors one who has received debts due to the estate cannot discharge himself from liability to the estate by a payment of the sums received to his co-executor.[47] An executor has been held authorized, upon the verbal order of the county judge, to pay over to him any moneys in his hands belonging to the estate or legatees thereof, after which the judge will be liable on his bond for the proper disbursement thereof, such payment discharging the executor from all further liability for the moneys so paid over.[48]

8. Persons Acting in Different Capacities. One who is executor or administrator may also act in another capacity concerning the estate, in which case the due sequence of the trusts varies with his present status. Thus if an executor be also a devisee or residuary legatee, or an administrator be next of kin to the decedent, and he enters generally into possession of the property, he does so in his representative capacity.[49] If one is executor or administrator of the estate

Co. v. Driskill, 66 S. W. 610, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 2050.

43. Alabama.— Ditmar v. Boyle, 53 Ala. 169.

California.— Arguello's Estate, 97 Cal. 196, 31 Pac. 937.

Delaware.— Allen v. Leach, 7 Del. Ch. 83, 29 Atl. 1050.

Illinois.—Harward v. Robinson, 14 Ill. App. 560.

Louisiana.— Milmo's Succession, 47 La. Ann. 126, 16 So. 772.

Missouri.— In re Horner, 66 Mo. App. 531.

North Carolina.— Summers v. Reynolds, 95 N. C. 404.

Pennsylvania.— McAllister v. Com., 30 Pa. St. 536; Com. v. McAlister, 28 Pa. St. 480.

Virginia.—Vaiden v. Stubblefield, 28 Gratt. 153.

Wisconsin.— Williams v. Williams, 55 Wis. 300, 12 N. W. 465, 13 N. W. 274, 42 Am. Rep. 708.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 399.

Representative liable regardless of care or prudence.— Arguello's Estate, 97 Cal. 196, 31 Pac. 937.

The representative is not relieved from liability by the fact that it was his intention to use such deposit for the fiduciary account alone (Ditmar v. Boyle, 53 Ala. 169), or that he had no money of his own on deposit in such bank, and hence did not mingle the trust funds with his own (Arguello's Estate, 97 Cal. 196, 31 Pac. 937).

44. Louisiana.— Mandeville v. Arnoult, 9 Rob. 447.

Minnesota.— Wood v. Myrick, 17 Minn. 408.

Nevada.— McNabb v. Wixom, 7 Nev. 163.

North Carolina.— Woodley v. Holley, 111 N. C. 380, 16 S. E. 419.

Pennsylvania.— Baer's Appeal, 127 Pa. St. 360, 18 Atl. 1, 4 L. R. A. 609.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 399.

45. Beecher v. Buckingham, 18 Conn. 110, 44 Am. Dec. 580; Lappin v. Mumford, 14 Kan. 9; Neale v. Hagthrop, 3 Bland (Md.) 551. See Schouler Ex. § 240.

Sale, mortgage, or pledge for individual debt.— In equity an executor or administrator can make no valid sale, mortgage, or pledge of the assets in payment of or as a security for his own debts, because the transaction itself gives the purchaser, mortgagee, or pledgee notice of the misapplication and necessarily involves his participation in the breach of duty. Williamson v. Morton, 2 Md. Ch. 94.

46. See Thomason v. Thomason, 1 Metc. (Ky.) 51; and infra. XV, C.

For the proceeds of an estate converted into money the personal representative remains accountable as before and his control continues. Thomason v. Thomason, 1 Metc. (Ky.) 51.

47. Edmonds v. Crenshaw, 14 Pet. (U. S.) 166, 10 L. ed. 402. See infra, XXI.

48. Doogan v. Elliott, 43 Iowa 342.

49. California.— Abila v. Burnett, 33 Cal. 658.

Kentucky.— Palmer v. Kemp, 2 A. K. Marsh. 355.

Michigan.— See Proctor v. Robinson, 33 Mich. 284.

South Carolina.— Tinklea v. Jordan, 14 Rich. Eq. 160.

and also guardian of a beneficiary he holds the estate first of all as executor or administrator, and does not hold anything as guardian which is not separated from the assets of the estate or placed properly to his account as guardian.[50] So too if an executor be also the designated trustee under a will he comes into possession as executor, and his election afterward to hold as trustee must be manifested by some plain and unequivocal act.[51] Of course, when the functions of the executor or administrator as such have ceased, he holds whatever balance there may be in his hands in his other capacity, whether as trustee, guardian, legatee, distributee, or otherwise.[52] In case of the representative's misappro-

United States.— Labitut v. Prewett, 14 Fed. Cas. No. 7,962, 1 Woods 144; Hanson v. Cox, 11 Fed. Cas. No. 6,040, 1 Hayw. & H. 167.

But compare Camp v. Coleman, 36 Ala. 163.

A representative who is the husband of one of the legatees or distributees holds in his representative capacity. Guier v. Kelly, 2 Binn. (Pa.) 294; Blakey v. Newby, 6 Munf. (Va.) 64. See also Witters v. Sowles, 32 Fed. 130, 24 Blatchf. 550.

An election to take as legatee or distributee may be implied where the executor has exclusive possession of the goods and exercises acts of ownership over them (Palmer v. Kemp, 2 A. K. Marsh. (Ky.) 355), or where there has been a lapse of time sufficient for the settlement of the estate (Gardner v. Simmes, 1 Gill (Md.) 425), or where he brings a suit for partition (Poindexter v. Jeffries, 15 Gratt. (Va.) 363).

50. Alabama.—Davis v. Davis, 10 Ala. 299.

Delaware.— See Burton v. Tunnell, 4 Harr. 424.

Illinois.— Wadsworth v. Connell, 104 Ill. 369.

Indiana.— See Burtch v. Thorn, 7 Ind. 508.

Kentucky.— McCracken v. McCracken, 6 T. B. Mon. 342.

Louisiana.—In re Scarborough, 44 La. Ann. 288, 10 So. 858; Sample v. Scarborough, 43 La. Ann. 315, 8 So. 940; Goux v. Moucla, 30 La. Ann. 743.

Massachusetts.— See Conkey v. Dickinson, 13 Metc. 51.

New Mexico.— Perea v. Harrison, 7 N. M. 666, 41 Pac. 529.

Tennessee.— Drane v. Bayliss, 1 Humphr. 174.

West Virginia.— Hedrick v. Tuckwiller, 20 W. Va. 489.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 398.

Where money is payable to a ward on reaching majority, the executor has no right to transfer the fund to his account as guardian before it becomes payable. Livermore v. Bemis, 2 Allen (Mass.) 394.

A guardian of infant beneficiaries who marries the executrix while she has property of the estate in her possession holds the same as guardian and not as executor in right of his wife. Clancy v. Dickey, 9 N. C. 497.

An order of court is not necessary to entitle an executor or administrator, who is also the guardian of a person interested in the estate, to charge himself in the capacity of guardian with the ward's share or interest. In re Scott, 36 Vt. 297.

51. Alabama.—Perkins v. Moore, 16 Ala. 9.

Georgia.— Mastin v. Barnard, 33 Ga. 520.

Kentucky.— Lasley v. Lasley, 1 Duv. 117.

Maine.— Briggs v. East Auburn Baptist Church, (1887) 8 Atl. 257.

New Hampshire.— Felton v. Sawyer, 41 N. H. 202.

New York.— In re Hobson, 131 N. Y. 575, 30 N. E. 63; Dupre v. Thompson, 8 Barb. 537; Chiff's Estate, 7 N. Y. St. 751.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 398.

A bequest to one in trust as "executor and trustee" keeps the two trusts distinct and in due sequence. Wheatly v. Badger, 7 Pa. St. 459.

How change of capacity shown.— An appointment or qualification as trustee or guardian after that as executor or administrator, together with the rendering of accounts and setting apart a fund for the specific purpose, usually shows the change of capacity. Crocker v. Dillon, 133 Mass. 91; Fisher v. Fisher, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 335; Anderson v. Earle, 9 S. C. 460.

Where the administrator receives funds as trustee and not as administrator, he is not chargeable as administrator and cannot as such settle an account with the cestui que trust. In re Aston, 5 Whart. (Pa.) 228.

Testamentary direction devolving duties as trustee.— Where an executor was directed by will to manage and control the estate, after collection, for the benefit of the testator's children, this duty devolved on him as trustee and not as executor. Stamp v. Parrish, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 55. Where a testator charges his devisees of land with the payment of certain annual sums to his executors for a number of years, to be paid by his executors to certain persons named, the fund arising from such charge is not subject to the general executorial power of the executor. Jackson v. Updegraffe, 1 Rob. (Va.) 107.

52. Alabama.— See Sankey v. Sankey, 8 Ala. 601.

Connecticut.— State v. Whitehouse, 75 Conn. 410, 53 Atl. 897.

District of Columbia.— See U. S. v. May, 4 Mackey 4.

Illinois.— Bell v. People, 94 Ill. 230.

Kentucky.— Karr v. Karr, 6 Dana 3.

Maryland.— State v. Cheston, 51 Md. 352; Seegar v. State, 6 Harr. & J. 162, 14 Am. Dec. 265; In re Williams, 1 Md. Ch. 25.

priation or default the loss should be sustained in what was then his true character.[53]

B. Performance of Decedent's Obligations. Executors or administrators are in general bound by all the covenant or contract obligations of their decedents,[54] except such as are personal in their nature and of which personal Missouri.— State v. Hearst, 12 Mo. 365, 51 Am. Dec. 167. See also Walker v. Walker, 25 Mo. 367.

North Carolina.— Ruffin v. Harrison, 81 N. C. 208.

South Carolina.— Johnson v. Johnson, 2 Hill Eq. 277, 29 Am. Dec. 72.

United States.— Taylor v. Deblois, 23 Fed. Cas. No. 13,790, 4 Mason 131.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1167½.

Expiration of time limited for settlement of estate.— Where the same person sustains the twofold character of executor and guardian, the law will adjudge the ward's proportion of the property in such person's hands after the time limited by law for the settlement of the estate, to be in his hands in his capacity of guardian, whether a final account has been passed by the orphans' court or not. Watkins v. State, 2 Gill & J. (Md.) 220. See also Karr v. Karr, 6 Dana (Ky.) 3; State v. Jordan, 3 Harr. & M. (Md.) 179; Lark v. Linstead, 2 Md. Ch. 162; In re Williams, 1 Md. Ch. 25.

53. Illinois.— Stillman v. Young, 16 Ill. 318.

Kentucky.— See Banton v. Campbell, 9 B. Mon. 587.

Massachusetts.— Crocker v. Dillon, 133 Mass. 91.

Mississippi.— Buckingham v. Walker, 48 Miss. 609.

New York.— In re Blauvelt, 131 N. Y. 249, 30 N. E. 194.

North Carolina.— Muse v. Sawyer, 4 N. C. 637.

Virginia.— Dillard v. Dillard, 77 Va. 820.

Wisconsin.— Cameron v. Cameron, 15 Wis. 1, 82 Am. Dec. 652.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 398.

54. Georgia.— Parker v. Barlow, 93 Ga. 700, 21 S. E. 213, sale of cut lumber.

Illinois.— Mecartney v. Carbine, 108 Ill. App. 282.

Indiana.— Cummins v. Peed, 109 Ind. 71, 9 N. E. 603.

Kentucky.— Roach v. Ames, 3 Ky. L. Rep. 498.

Maine.— How v. How, 48 Me. 428.

Michigan.— McKeown v. Harvey, 40 Mich. 226.

Mississippi.— Woods v. Ridley, 27 Miss. 119.

New Jersey.— Corle v. Monkhouse, 50 N. J. Eq. 537, 25 Atl. 157; Petrie v. Voorhees, 18 N. J. Eq. 285.

New York.— Denton v. Sanford, 103 N. Y. 607, 9 N. E. 490; Matter of Davis, 43 N. Y. App. Div. 331, 60 N. Y. Suppl. 315; Duff v. Gardner, 7 Lans. 165; Kline v. Low, 11 Johns. 74.

North Carolina.—Earle v. Dickson, 12 N. C. 16.

Pennsylvania.— In re Orne, 192 Pa. St. 626, 44 Atl. 287 (holding that where one to whom shares of stock were given for life only pledges them as security for his debt, his property is rightly used by his executor in paying the debt and releasing the stock); In re Derbyshire, 81 Pa. St. 18; Quain's Appeal, 22 Pa. St. 510. See also Gravenstine's Estate, 4 Pa. Co. Ct. 388.

Rhode Island.— Newton v. Newton, 11 R. I. 390, 23 Am. Rep. 476.

South Carolina.— Brisbane v. McCrady, 1 Nott & M. 104, 9 Am. Dec. 676.

Virginia.— Harrison v. Sampson, 2 Wash. 155; Lee v. Cooke, 1 Wash. 306.

United States.— Scott v. Lunt, 7 Pet. 596, 8 L. ed. 797 [reversing 21 Fed. Cas. No. 12,540, 3 Cranch C. C. 285].

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 403.

Covenant of warranty.— An evicted vendee has a remedy against the personal representative of the vendor on a covenant of warranty. Chapman v. Holmes, 10 N. J. L. 20; Townsend v. Morris, 6 Cow. (N. Y.) 123; McClure v. Gamble, 27 Pa. St. 288, covenant for himself and his heirs.

A covenant running with the land conveyed gives no remedy for a breach against the personal representative of the vendor. Carr v. Lowry, 27 Pa. St. 257; Bland v. Umstead, 23 Pa. St. 316.

Contracts for repairs or improvements.— A contract made by decedent during his lifetime for the making of repairs and improvements on his real estate binds his personal representative (Burton's Estate, 16 Pa. Co. Ct. 246; Halyburton v. Kershaw, 3 Desauss. (S. C.) 105) even though nothing has been done during the decedent's lifetime (Pringle v. McPherson, 2 Desauss. (S. C.) 524); but special facts and circumstances will be considered as justifying a discontinuance of such work, where enforcement of specific performance is sought against the executor or administrator and the estate is injuriously affected (Gray v. Hawkins, 8 Ohio St. 449, 72 Am. Dec. 600) or where other arrangements manifestly beneficial to the estate are made (Moore v. O'Brannin, 14 Ohio St. 177); nor can the representative necessarily bind the estate regardless of its interests by a new contract for completing a building, the erection of which the deceased had contracted for (Chicago Lumber Co. v. Tomlinson, 54 Kan. 770, 39 Pac. 694. See also Sturgeon v. Schaumburg, 40 Mo. 486).

Leases.— A lease is not a personal contract (Walker's Estate, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 515); and hence where a lessee of lands devised to him, his heirs and assigns, dies before the performance by the decedent is of the essence;[55] and where the personal representative neglects or refuses to carry out the contract of his decedent, the other party has the usual remedies, as in electing to treat it as rescinded and claiming damages.[56] Conversely the executor or administrator has the right to carry out the contracts of his decedent,[57] and enforce the fulfilment of obligations to his end of the term, his executor or administrator becomes assignee of the term at law and is liable on the covenants of the lease (Montague v. Smith, 13 Mass. 396), and occupation of the premises renders the representative of the lessee liable personally as well as in his representative capacity for the rent accruing after the decedent's death (Howard v. Heinerschit, 16 Hun (N. Y.) 177; Hill's Appeal, 31 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 375; Wollaston v. Hakewill, 3 M. & G. 297, 3 Scott N. R. 593, 42 E. C. L. 161); although the personal liability has been limited to the extent of the profits of the land (Fisher v. Fisher, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 335), and a technical distinction has been made between an executor and an administrator as to taking possession so as to incur liability (see Inches v. Dickinson, 2 Allen (Mass.) 71, 79 Am. Dec. 765; Pugsley v. Aikin, 11 N. Y. 494; Wollaston v. Hakewill, 3 M. & G. 297, 3 Scott N. R. 593, 42 E. C. L. 161).

Ground-rent.—Where a testator directs his executors to sell certain realty subject to a ground-rent, and such executors accept the trust, prove the will, and make partial payment of such ground-rent, they will be deemed to have taken such possession of the land that an action of covenant may be maintained against them for arrears of such rent accruing during their possession, and the judgment therein need not be confined to the land out of which the rent issues. Newkumet v. Davidson, 13 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 10.

Order expiring with death of testator.— An order given by a testator for the delivery of certificates to a third person expires with the death of the testator. McKee v. Myers, Add. (Pa.) 31.

Right to terminate contract.— If an administrator continues a contract of employment of his decedent under the mistaken belief that it is binding after the death of one of the parties to it, he has a right to terminate it without liability thereafter. Zinnel v. Bergdoll, 9 Pa. Super. Ct. 522, 44 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 54, 7 Del. Co. (Pa.) 369.

55. Illinois.— Smith v. Wilmington Coal Min., etc., Co., 83 Ill. 498.

Kentucky.— McGill v. McGill, 2 Metc. 258.

Massachusetts.— Marvel v. Phillips, 162 Mass. 399, 38 N. E. 1117, 44 Am. St. Rep. 370, 26 L. R. A. 416.

Missouri.—Sturgeon v. Schaumburg, 40 Mo. 482, 93 Am. Dec. 311.

North Carolina.— Siler v. Gray, 86 N. C. 566.

Pennsylvania.— White v. Com., 39 Pa. St. 167; Patton v. Patton, 2 Pennyp. 394.

England.—Siboni v. Kirkman, 5 L. J. Exch. 212, 1 M. & W. 418, 1 Tyrw. & G. 777.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 405.

Personal contract to convey on contingency. — Where one covenants for himself without naming his heirs to convey land on the happening of a certain event, and dies before that event happens, his administrators are not liable. Earle v. Dickson, 12 N. C. 16.

Even though the decedent has in terms bound his personal representatives they are released by his death where the covenant was for the performance of an act personal to himself growing out of his skilled labor in any business. Jaquett's Estate, 13 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) 13.

Building contract not personal to owner of building.— Russell v. Buckhout, 87 Hun (N. Y.) 46, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 271.

56. Miller v. Thompson, 22 Ark. 258; Parker v. Barlow, 93 Ga. 700, 21 S. E. 213; Merchants' Bank v. Taylor, 21 Ga. 334.

57. Illinois.— Jessup v. Jessup, 102 Ill. 480; Smith v. Wilmington Coal Min., etc., Co., 83 Ill. 498. See also Mecartney v. Carbine, 108 Ill. App. 282, holding that where a contract made prior to decedent's death is of a personal nature, the administrator may be directed by the probate court to perform it, or he may on his own responsibility and risk undertake to do so for the benefit of the estate.

Missouri.— Bambrick v. Webster Groves Presb. Church Assoc., 53 Mo. App. 225, holding that an ordinary building contract, near completion and not at that stage calling for services personal to the contractor, does not abate by his death, and his executor, even before the issue of letters, has the power to complete it and so realize for the estate the money to become due on its completion, and save it the penalty which would otherwise accrue on the bond.

Ohio.— Gray v. Hawkins, 8 Ohio St. 449, 72 Am. Dec. 600.

Tennessee.— Oliver v. Morgan, 10 Heisk. 322.

England.— Marshall v. Broadhurst, 1 Cromp. & J. 403, 9 L. J. Exch. O. S. 105, 1 Tyrw. 348; Garrett v. Noble, 3 L. J. Ch. 159, 6 Sim. 504, 9 Eng. Ch. 504.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 403.

Approval of court.— Where the executor or administrator proposes performing some executory contract made by his decedent on which the representative was not necessarily bound, or where in some onerous or difficult obligation of the decedent which bound the estate some practical adjustment becomes available which it is desirable to carry out, the approval or direction of the court may be properly sought in advance; and under some statutes this course must be taken by a representative who would avoid a personal responsibility in the transaction. See Jessup decedent where likely to prove beneficial to the estate.[58] But the representative is not empowered to make anew or enlarge a contract for his decedent, to ratify his void transactions, or to waive defenses to which he is entitled by law.[59] If a contract of the decedent carries with it an option to accept or reject, the exercise of such option passes properly to the personal representative.[60] Where the personal representative performs the contract or covenant of his decedent and completes the transaction, the estate will be held bound for any loss sustained thereby, and will be entitled to any profit realized in consequence.[61] The personal representative may avoid his decedent's contract or covenant on the usual grounds of incapacity or fraud,[62] or suspend performance where the other party is bound to proceed first,[63] and in some instances an executory contract inequitable in its consequences to the estate may be avoided or compromised,[64] or an onerous obligation may by its own terms admit sometimes of a legal or equitable rescission to which the personal representative is a party.[65]

C. Engaging in Business — 1. General Rule. The general rule is that neither an executor nor an administrator is justified in placing or leaving assets in trade, for this is a hazardous use to permit of trust moneys; and trading lies outside the scope of administrative functions.[66] So great a breach of trust is it for the representative to engage in business with the funds of the estate that the law charges him with all the losses thereby incurred without on the other hand allowing him to receive the benefit of any profits that he may make, the rule being that the persons beneficially interested in the estate may either hold the representative liable for the amount so used with interest, or at their election

v. Jessup, 102 Ill. 480; Gray v. Hawkins, 8 Ohio St. 449, 72 Am. Dec. 600.

When performance improper.— An executory contract of the decedent should not be performed where the performance will result in giving some of the creditors of the decedent's estate an advantage over others. Jessup v. Jessup, 102 Ill. 480.

58. Catland v. Hoyt, 78 Me. 355, 5 Atl. 775; Duff v. Gardner, 7 Lans. (N. Y.) 165.

The personal representative may ratify a contract of his decedent made during infancy, although the death occurred before the decedent reached majority. Jefford v. Ringgold, 6 Ala. 544.

Failure to renew lease.— The executors are not chargeable with loss from a failure to renew a lease of the testator, where the latter had during his lifetime failed to perform certain covenants of the lease in consequence of which the lessor was not bound to renew. Fisher v. Fisher, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 335.

59. Chicago Lumber Co. v. Tomlinson, 54 Kan. 770, 39 Pac. 694; Smith v. Brennan, 62 Mich. 349, 28 N. W. 892, 4 Am. St. Rep. 867; Woods v. Ridley, 27 Miss. 119.

60. Adams Radiator, etc., Works v. Schnader, 155 Pa. St. 394, 26 Atl. 745, 35 Am. St. Rep. 893; Newton v. Newton, 11 R. I. 390, 23 Am. Rep. 476.

Election to declare contract forfeited.— Where the administratrix of the vendor in a contract for the sale of land elects, on default of the vendee, to declare the contract forfeited, and the vendee acquiesces in her election, her act is binding on the estate and a subsequent administrator cannot revoke it except for fraud. Oakes v. Gillilan, (Nebr. 1901) 95 N. W. 511.

61. Smith v. Wilmington Coal Min., etc., Co., 83 Ill. 498.

62. Vaughan v. Parr, 20 Ark. 600; Eubanks v. Dobbs, 4 Ark. 173.

63. Shultz v. Johnson, 5 B. Mon. (Ky.) 497.

64. Jessup v. Jessup, 102 Ill. 480. See also Billings v. Billings, 42 Leg. Int. (Pa.) 132.

65. Maher v. Garry, 15 Misc. (N. Y.) 359, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 605 [affirmed in 3 N. Y. App. Div. 480, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 436, 448]; Dougherty v. Stephenson, 20 Pa. St. 210.

66. Alabama.— Griffin v. Bland, 43 Ala. 542.

Illinois.— Field v. Colton, 7 Ill. App. 379.

Louisiana.—Florsheim v. Holt, 32 La. Ann. 133.

New York.— Stedman v. Feidler, 20 N. Y. 437; Matter of McCollum, 80 N. Y. App. Div. 362, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 755.

Pennsylvania.— Corr's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 209; In re Kalbfell, 27 Pittsb. Leg. J. N. S. 280.

United States.— Smith v. Harvey, 13 Fed. 16; Gum v. Frost, 4 Fed. 745.

England.— Kirkman v. Booth, 11 Beav. 273, 13 Jur. 525, 18 L. J. Ch. 25.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 407.

The orphans' court has no power to authorize administrators of a decedent's estate to operate mines belonging to such estate except by and with the consent of creditors of the decedent. Jones' Estate, 23 Pa. Co. Ct. 513. But compare Perry v. Perry, Ir. R. 3 Eq. 452, holding that the court has jurisdiction in an administration suit to direct a trade or business in which minors are interested to be continued, and will so direct if it is clearly for their benefit.

take all the profits which the representative has made by such unauthorized use of the funds of the estate.[67]

2. Limitations of the Rule — a. In General. Good discretion, however, may require some latitude in closing out the decedent's business, and this a probate court will duly consider when passing upon the representative's accounts.[68] The personal representative may be justified in continuing the business of the decedent so far as is necessary for the purpose of winding up the same and converting the assets into money[69] or carrying out existing contracts of the decedent.[70] In agricultural states a temporary management of the plantation by the personal representative of the deceased owner under judicial supervision for the benefit of all concerned is sometimes permitted.[71] A personal representative who finds a commodity on hand may lawfully, acting in good faith, put it in a condition in

67. Alabama.— McAllister v. McAllister, 37 Ala. 484; McCreeliss v. Hinkle, 17 Ala. 459; Steele v. Knox, 10 Ala. 608.

Georgia.— See Poullian v. Brown, 82 Ga. 412, 9 S. E. 1131.

Mississippi.— French v. Davis, 38 Miss. 167.

New Jersey.— Merchant v. Comback, 41 N. J. Eq. 349, 7 Atl. 633.

New York.— Matter of Peck, 79 N. Y. App. Div. 296, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 76 [affirmed in 177 N. Y. 538, 69 N. E. 1129]; In re Suess, 37 Misc. 459, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 938.

Pennsylvania.— Robinett's Appeal, 36 Pa. St. 174; Matter of Wood, 1 Ashm. 314.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 407.

Only actual net profits need be accounted for. Matter of Peck, 79 N. Y. App. Div. 296, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 76 [affirmed in 177 N. Y. 538, 69 N. E. 1129]; In re Suess, 37 Misc. (N. Y.) 459, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 938. But the representative is not entitled to a salary for his own services to be deducted out of the gross receipts, since he is not entitled to deal with the trust property to his own advantage. Matter of Peck, 79 N. Y. App. Div. 296, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 76 [affirmed in 177 N. Y. 538, 69 N. E. 1129].

Where assets of decedent were embarked in a stock speculation and the representative by carrying the account realized at length a profit, such profit belongs to the estate. Breckenridge's Appeal, 127 Pa. St. 81, 17 Atl. 874.

Where an administrator continues the farming, instead of selling the immature crops on the land, the burden is on him to show that the estate was benefited by his management. Casner's Estate, 2 Kulp (Pa.) 474.

68. Connecticut.— Martin v. New York, etc., R. Co., 62 Conn. 331, 25 Atl. 239.

Georgia.— Lawton v. Fish, 51 Ga. 647.

Massachusetts.— Smith v. Faulkner, 12 Gray 251.

Mississippi.— Tell City Furniture Co. v. Stiles, 60 Miss. 849.

New Jersey.— Laible v. Ferry, 32 N. J. Eq. 791 [reversing 31 N. J. Eq. 566].

New York.—Brennan v. Lane, 4 Dem. Surr. 322; Gilman v. Wilber, 1 Dem. Surr. 547.

Pennsylvania.— Shinn's Estate, 166 Pa. St. 121, 30 Atl. 1026, 1030, 45 Am. St. Rep. 656; Orne's Estate, 7 Pa. Dist. 337, holding that an executor may in his discretion continue his testator's business, when an immediate sale does not appear advisable.

England.— See Garrett v. Noble, 3 L. J. Ch. 159, 6 Sim. 504, 9 Eng. Ch. 504, where executors who were directed by the will to call in the testator's personal estate, with all convenient speed, continued his trade for some years after his death, and ultimately a considerable loss was sustained, but the court refused to charge them with the loss, as they had acted bona fide, and according to the best of their judgment.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 407.

69. Matter of McCollum, 80 N. Y. App. Div. 362, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 755; Newton v. Poole, 12 Leigh (Va.) 112.

Sale of goods at retail.—It may be prudent and advantageous to the estate to sell out a stock of goods at retail, keeping up the store and a clerk, instead of making a forced sale. Cornwell v. Deck, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 87; Bowker's Estate, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 88; McKee v. Mobley, 3 S. C. 242.

When continuance not incidental to winding up.— The continuance by an executor of the business of deceased could not be regarded as merely incidental to the winding up of the business, where the executor testified that he continued the business in accordance with the decedent's oral request that he should do so. Matter of McCollum, 80 N. Y. App. Div. 362, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 755.

70. Matter of Benedict, 13 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 67. And see supra, VIII, B.

71. Alabama.— Pinckard v. Pinckard, 24 Ala. 250.

Georgia.— Stephens v. James, 77 Ga. 139, 3 S. E. 160.

Louisiana.— Myrick's Succession, 38 La. Ann. 611.

South Carolina.— Herbemont v. Percival, 1 McMull. 59; Huson v. Wallace, 1 Rich. Eq. 1.

Tennessee.— Allen v. Shanks, 90 Tenn. 359, 16 S. W. 715.

Texas.— Reinstein v. Smith, 65 Tex. 247.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 407.

Method of settlement with croppers see Nicholson v. Whitlock, 57 S. C. 36, 35 S. E. 412.

which it is usual to sell it, or in which under the circumstances it can best be sold.[72] The rule is also subject to some limitations where the executor is also the residuary legatee[73] or the business has been specifically bequeathed to him.[74] And it has been held that the consent of all persons interested may authorize the personal representative to carry on the business of the decedent in good faith so as fairly to be allowed for all assets so consumed.[75]

b. Testamentary Directions. Under circumstances not clearly imprudent, an executor may pursue an authority plainly conferred upon him by the will in continuing a decedent's business; although less as an executor perhaps than as one specially empowered and so honored or burdened by his testator's personal confidence;[76] and executors who have carried on a testator's business in obedience to the direction of the will, and have acted in good faith and with ordinary prudence in conducting the same, are not accountable for losses.[77]

3. Liability For Debts — a. In General. It has been laid down that where the personal representative is authorized to carry on the business of the decedent, the debts incurred in so doing are chargeable against the estate and not against

72. McLeod v. Griffis, 45 Ark. 505; Whitney v. Alexander, 73 N. C. 444.

Caring for live stock.— The expense of caring for live stock belonging to the decedent in a good and businesslike manner until they can be advantageously sold is not such a carrying on of the business of the decedent as will render the administrator liable for loss and expense to the estate incurred on account thereof. In re Fernandez, 119 Cal. 579, 51 Pac. 851.

73. In re Mullon, 145 N. Y. 98, 39 N. E. 821 [affirming 74 Hun 358, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 683], holding that where an executor who is also residuary legatee, after having paid all claims under the will and all claims presented in usual course, pursuant to notice, applies to his own use the assets remaining, he can be held accountable only for the actual value of such assets, and cannot be charged with the profits of a business into which he put such assets.

74. Matter of Van Houten, 18 N. Y. App. Div. 301, 46 N. Y. Suppl. 190, holding that where an executor to whom the business of the testator had been specifically bequeathed took possession thereof and conducted it as his own, he would, on the assets proving insufficient to pay the testator's debts, be charged only with the value of the property as appraised and the good-will of the business, and not with the profits of the business conducted by him.

75. Poole v. Munday, 103 Mass. 174; French v. Davis, 38 Miss. 167; Smith's Estate, 30 Pittsb. Leg. J. N. S. (Pa.) 188; Dowse v. Gorton, [1891] A. C. 190, 60 L. J. Ch. 745, 64 L. T. Rep. N. S. 809, 40 Wkly. Rep. 17; In re Brooke, [1894] 2 Ch. 600, 64 L. J. Ch. 21, 71 L. T. Rep. N. S. 398, 8 Reports 444.

76. Alabama.— Hollingsworth v. Hollingsworth, 65 Ala. 321.

Connecticut.— Hallock v. Smith, 50 Conn. 127.

Georgia.— Stephens v. James, 77 Ga. 139, 3 S. E. 160; Johnson v. Parnell, 60 Ga. 661.

Kentucky.— Burgess v. Green, 7 Bush 263.

Maryland.— Bennett v. Rhodes, 58 Md. 78.

New York.— Matter of Hickey, 34 Misc. 360, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 844; In re Rumsey, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 402.

North Carolina.— Lambertson v. Vann, 134 N. C. 108, 46 S. E. 10.

Pennsylvania.— Cline's Appeal, 106 Pa. St. 617. See also Theis's Case, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 396.

Texas.— Dwyer v. Kalteyer, 68 Tex. 554, 5 S. W. 75.

West Virginia.— Hooper v. Hooper, 29 W. Va. 276, 1 S. E. 280.

England.—Kirkman v. Booth, 11 Beav. 273, 13 Jur. 525, 18 L. J. Ch. 25; Re Kidd, 70 L. T. Rep. N. S. 648, 8 Reports 261, 42 Wkly. Rep. 571.

Canada.— Smith v. Smith, 13 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 81.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 407.

There ought to be the most distinct and positive authority and direction given by the will itself for that purpose. Kirkman v. Booth, 11 Beav. 273, 13 Jur. 525, 18 L. J. Ch. 25.

An oral request of a decedent that his executors continue his business after his death does not confer on them authority to do so. Matter of McCollum, 80 N. Y. App. Div. 362, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 755. See also Malone v. Kelley, 54 Ala. 532.

What property may be employed in business.— Where a testator gave his estate in trust for his son, after payment of debts and testamentary expenses, and directed the executor to carry on some legitimate business for the benefit of the son, the executor was not authorized to employ the entire estate in continuing the executor's business, but only the residue after the payment of debts and testamentary expenses. Matter of Sharp, 5 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 516.

Executors are not absolved from liability to account by a direction in the will to continue the testator's business. In re Jones, 103 N. Y. 621, 9 N. E. 493, 57 Am. Rep. 775 [affirming 37 Hun 430 (affirming 2 Dem. Surr. 602)].

77. In re Waddell, 196 Pa. St. 294, 46 Atl.

the representative individually.[78] But there is more authority for the view that the executor is personally liable for debts contracted in carrying on the business under the directions of the will, although the estate should indemnify him.[79] In a proper case the creditors may be subrogated to the representative's right of indemnity,[80] and it has also been held that they may maintain a suit in equity to charge the estate where the executor is insolvent.[81]

b. What Assets Liable. Where the representative is authorized to carry on the decedent's business after his death, only such assets of the estate as are invested in the business at the time of the decedent's death can be considered as trade assets, and in the absence of some clear authority in the will the other prop-

304; In re Whitman, 195 Pa. St. 144, 45 Atl. 673.

78. Fleming v. Kelly, 18 Colo. App. 23, 69 Pac. 272; M. Eisenstadt Jewelry Co. v. Mississippi Valley Trust Co., 72 Mo. App. 514; Reakirt v. Flanagan, 6 Pa. Dist. 402, 40 Wkly. Notes Cas. 375; McMillan v. Hendricks, (Tex. Civ. App. 1898) 46 S. W. 859; Primm v. Mensing, 14 Tex. Civ. App. 395, 38 S. W. 382 [following Reinstein v. Smith, 65 Tex. 247], holding that executors authorized to carry on a plantation have power to incur indebtedness for supplies for the tenants to enable them to make crops.

Liability of widow's share.— Where the widow has not elected to take against the will, but has accepted profits accruing from the management of the estate by the executrix under power given in the will to carry on testator's business, her interest, declared by the will to be what she would be entitled to under the intestate laws, is subject to debts contracted by the executrix in carrying on the business. Furst v. Armstrong, 202 Pa. St. 348, 51 Atl. 996, 90 Am. St. Rep. 653.

Authority must be shown. The authority of the executor to carry on a plantation, furnish it with supplies, etc., must be shown; otherwise the estate is not liable for supplies furnished under his direction. Miltenberger v. Taylor, 23 La. Ann. 188.

Continuance of business without authority. — Where an administrator is carrying on the business of the decedent without any authority a person extending credit to him in the conduct of such business does so on the administrator's own credit, irrespective of whether he acts for the estate or not. Corr's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 209.

79. Alabama.— Foxworth v. White, 72 Ala. 224. See also Colvin v. Owens, 22 Ala. 782.

California.— Rose's Estate, 80 Cal. 166, 22 Pac. 86.

Illinois.— See Miller v. Didisheim, 95 Ill. App. 321, holding that the executor, although conducting the testator's business by an order of the probate court, binds himself personally unless he exacts an agreement from the person with whom he deals to look to the funds of the estate exclusively.

New Jersey.— Laible v. Ferry, 32 N. J. Eq. 791; Krueger v. Ferry, 3 N. J. L. J. 280.

New York.— Willis v. Sharp, 113 N. Y. 586, 21 N. E. 705, 4 L. R. A. 493 [affirming 43 Hun 434]; Delaware, etc., R. Co. v. Gilbert, 112 N. Y. 673, 20 N. E. 416; Kenyon v. Olney, 15 N. Y. Suppl. 416; Boulle v. Tompkins, 5 Redf. Surr. 172. But see Clapp v. Clapp, 10 N. Y. St. 733.

England.— In re Johnson, 15 Ch. D. 548, 49 L. J. Ch. 745, 43 L. T. Rep. N. S. 372, 29 Wkly. Rep. 168; Lucas v. Williams, 3 Giff. 150, 8 Jur. N. S. 207; Re Kidd, 70 L. T. Rep. N. S. 648, 8 Reports 261, 42 Wkly. Rep. 571; Lumsden v. Buchanan, 4 Macq. H. L. 950; Labouchere v. Tupper, 11 Moore P. C. 198, 5 Wkly. Rep. 597, 14 Eng. Reprint 670; Barker v. Parker, 1 T. B. 287, 1 Rev. Rep. 201.

Canada.— Braun v. Braun, 14 Manitoba 346.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 408.

Fraudulent misrepresentations.— A claim that an executor, carrying on the business of his testator under the will, made fraudulent representations as to the value of the estate to obtain credit gives no right of action against the estate, but only against the executor personally. Matter of Hickey, 34 Misc. (N. Y.) 360, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 844.

80. In re Johnson, 15 Ch. D. 548, 49 L. J. Ch. 745, 43 L. T. Rep. N. S. 372, 29 Wkly. Rep. 168; Re Kidd, 70 L. T. Rep. N. S. 648, 8 Reports 261, 42 Wkly. Rep. 571; Braun v. Braun, 14 Manitoba 346. See also Re Shorey, 79 L. T. Rep. N. S. 349, 47 Wkly. Rep. 188.

Where the executor is in default to the specific trust estate devoted to the trade the rule does not apply. In such case, the defaulting executor not being himself entitled to an indemnity except upon terms of making good his default, the creditors are in no better position, and are therefore not entitled to have their debts paid out of the specific assets unless the default is made good. In re Johnson, 15 Ch. D. 548, 49 L. J. Ch. 745, 43 L. T. Rep. N. S. 372, 29 Wkly. Rep. 168.

The executor's inability to account does not result in a loss of his right to indemnity from the estate for debts incurred in the business, and consequently creditors do not lose their right of claiming through that indemnity against the estate. Re Kidd, 70 L. T. Rep. N. S. 648, 8 Reports 261, 42 Wkly. Rep. 571.

81. Willis v. Sharp, 43 Hun (N. Y.) 434 [affirmed in 113 N. Y. 586, 21 N. E. 705, 4 L. R. A. 493].

Rights of decedent's creditors.— Unless the creditors existing at the death of the decedent in some way consented to the carrying on of the business by the executor, they have the right to insist that the estate, as it existed at decedent's death, shall be used for the payment of their debts and the expenses of erty of the estate cannot be subjected to the risks of trade, or be made liable for debts contracted by the representative in carrying on the business.[82]

4. Partnership. The personal representative of a decedent has as a rule no more right to continue in a business in which the decedent was a partner than he has to continue a business of which the decedent was the sole proprietor.[83] The executor of a deceased copartner may, however, continue in the business where the will directs him to do so;[84] and the liability of a deceased copartner as well as his interest in the profits of the concern may by the copartnership contract be continued beyond his death,[85] although in the absence of such a stipulation the death of one of the partners would dissolve the firm even though the copartnership was expressed to be for a term of years.[86] With such a contract the effect must naturally be to bind the estate of the deceased partner in the hands of his executor or administrator without compelling such representative to become a partner personally.[87] Where there are no valid provisions by will or contract for further administration to the exclusion of debts subsequently created by the executor. But if the business was carried on by the executor with the consent of the original creditors, the creditors of the business must either share pro rata with the other creditors in the whole estate (which is probably the correct rule) or be first paid out of the portion of the estate used in the business. Willis v. Sharp, 115 N. Y. 396, 22 N. E. 149, 5 L. R. A. 636 [reversing 46 Hun 540].

82. Florida.—Wilson v. Fridenberg, 21 Fla. 386; Fridenburg v. Wilson, 20 Fla. 359.

Michigan.— See Frey v. Eisenhardt, 116 Mich. 160, 74 N. W. 501, holding that, where the representative exceeds his powers by carrying on the decedent's business, trade debts incurred after the decedent's death can reach only trade assets.

Mississippi.— Brasfield v. French, 59 Miss. 632.

Missouri.— Merritt v. Merritt, 62 Mo. 150.

New Jersey.— Krueger v. Ferry, 3 N. J. L. J. 280.

New York.— Matter of Hickey, 34 Misc. 360, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 844.

Ohio.— Lucht v. Behrens, 28 Ohio St. 231, 22 Am. Rep. 378.

United States.— Smith v. Ayer, 101 U. S. 320, 25 L. ed. 955.

England.— Ex p. Richardson, Buck 202, 3 Madd. 138, 18 Rev. Rep. 204; Thompson v. Andrews, 2 L. J. Ch. 46, 1 Myl. & K. 116, 7 Eng. Ch. 116, 39 Eng. Reprint 625; Ex p. Garland, 10 Ves. Jr. 110, 7 Rev. Rep. 352, 1 Smith K. B. 220, 32 Eng. Reprint 786.

Canada.— Smith v. Smith, 13 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 81.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 408.

Money cannot be raised by pledging or mortgaging general assets. Smith v. Ayer, 101 U. S. 320, 25 L. ed. 955.

Charges against profits.— Bad debts and losses and the expense of replacing old articles with new are properly charged against the profits and not against the capital. In re Jones, 37 Hun (N. Y.) 430 [affirmed in 103 N. Y. 621, 9 N. E. 493, 57 Am. Rep. 775].

Under adequate authority given by the will a purchase of goods on credit for the business may bind the general assets for payment. Willis v. Sharp, 113 N. Y. 586, 21 N. E. 705, 4 L. R. A. 493 [affirming 43 Hun 434].

Where an executor is given "full power" to conduct the business in which testator was engaged he may carry on all testator's business interests and in doing so is not limited to capital invested in the business. Furst v. Armstrong, 202 Pa. St. 348, 51 Atl. 996, 90 Am. St. Rep. 653.

83. See Brown v. Farnham, 55 Minn. 27, 56 N. W. 352.

The executors of a special partner in a limited partnership, which is indebted to such partner for money lent for the partnership business, represent him in his individual claim for money lent and also represent him in any interest the estate may have in carrying on the partnership; and it is for such executors to determine, with or without the sanction of the court, whether it is most for the interest of the estate they represent to continue the partnership or urge their claim for money lent. Walkenshaw v. Perzel, 32 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 233.

84. Laughlin v. Lorenz, 48 Pa. St. 275, 86 Am. Dec. 592; Burwell v. Cawood, 2 How. (U. S.) 560, 11 L. ed. 378.

85. Laughlin v. Lorenz, 48 Pa. St. 275, 86 Am. Dec. 592; Scholefield v. Eichelberger, 7 Pet. (U. S.) 586, 8 L. ed. 793. See, generally, Partnership.

Where the surviving partner is also executor of his deceased copartner, he cannot as executor agree with himself as copartner as to the matters referred to in partnership articles, providing that in case of the death of either partner the business should be continued or sold as might be agreed by the survivor and the legal representatives of the deceased partner. Leavitt's Estate, 20 N. Y. Suppl. 58, 28 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 457.

86. Schofield v. Eichelberger, 7 Pet. (U. S.) 586, 8 L. ed. 793. And see, generally, Partnership.

87. See McArdle v. West Philadelphia Title, etc., Co., 7 Pa. Super. Ct. 328, 42 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 238.

Construction of statute.— A statute authorizing partners to stipulate that, in case of the death of one, the firm should continue as between "the heir of the deceased and the continuing a partnership, either the surviving partner or partners, or else if necessary the personal representative of the decedent, should see that the business is duly wound up and adjusted.[88] A settlement of partnership affairs made with the surviving partners by the personal representative of a deceased partner is binding on the latter's estate, its creditors and beneficiaries, except in cases of fraud or mistake, and for only the share thus received is the representative presumably liable.[89] The rules which have already been stated with reference to the result of the personal representative engaging in business or continuing the decedent's business[90] apply where the personal representative has participated in the business of a partnership of which the decedent was a member during his lifetime, whether he has been duly empowered to do so,[91] or has done so in violation surviving partners" cannot be construed to authorize a stipulation binding an executor of a deceased partner to continue the firm along with the surviving partners. Hart v. Anger, 38 La. Ann. 341.

88. Alabama.— Costley v. Wilkerson, 49 Ala. 210.

California.— Smith v. Walker, 38 Cal. 385, 99 Am. Dec. 415.

Indiana.— Brandon v. Judah, 7 Ind. 545.

Kansas.— Teney v. Laing, 47 Kan. 297, 27 Pac. 976; Boston, etc., Glass Co. v. Ludlum, 8 Kan. 40.

Maine.— Hamlin v. Mansfield, 88 Me. 131, 33 Atl. 788; Cook v. Lewis, 36 Me. 340.

Massachusetts.— Walker v. Maxwell, 1 Mass. 104.

Michigan.— Merritt v. Dickey, 38 Mich. 41.

Mississippi.— Citizens' Mut. Ins. Co. v. Lyon, 59 Miss. 305.

Missouri.— In re Ames, 52 Mo. 290.

New Jersey.—Wild v. Davenport, 48 N. J. L. 129, 7 Atl. 295, 57 Am. Rep. 552; Shipman v. Lord, 58 N. J. Eq. 380, 44 Atl. 215.

New York.— Montgomery v. Dunning, 2 Bradf. Surr. 220.

Pennsylvania.— Stern's Appeal, 95 Pa. St. 504; Laughlin v. Lorenz, 48 Pa. St. 275, 86 Am. Dec. 592.

United States.— Smith v. Ayer, 101 U. S. 320, 25 L. ed. 955; Wickliffe v. Eve, 17 How. 468, 15 L. ed. 163.

England.— Downs v. Collins, 6 Hare 418, 31 Eng. Ch. 418.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 409.

Surviving partner should usually wind up affairs of firm. Wickliffe v. Eve, 17 How. (U. S.) 468, 15 L. ed. 163. See supra, III, D.

Administrator must keep individual and partnership accounts separate. Boston, etc., Co. v. Ludlum, 8 Kan. 40.

Remedies of personal representative.— The executor or administrator may maintain a bill against the surviving partner for an account of profits (Freeman v. Freeman, 136 Mass. 260), but a remedy in the probate court does not usually lie (Searles v. Scott, 6 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 246; Scott v. Searles, 5 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 25; Bennett v. Crain, 41 Hun (N. Y.) 183).

Surviving partner deals with personal representative.— While a surviving partner is usually entitled to control the partnership debts after the death of his copartner, yet his dealings and liability for a settlement should be with the latter's personal representative alone, and not with heirs, distributees, or a surviving widow; and partner or representative must use due diligence and good faith. Gardner v. Cummings, Ga. Dec. 1, Pt. I; Skillen v. Jones, 44 Ind. 136; Alline v. Franz, 91 Iowa 746, 60 N. W. 646; Hosmer v. Burke, 26 Iowa 353; Robertshaw v. Hanway, 52 Miss. 713.

Compensation paid to the surviving partner for winding up the business is not to be allowed to the representative. Loomis v. Armstrong, 49 Mich. 521, 14 N. W. 505; Brown v. McFarland, 41 Pa. St. 129, 80 Am. Dec. 598.

Arbitration.— The personal representative may submit to arbitration the question as to the value of decedent's interest in the partnership. Hoyt v. Sprague, 103 U. S. 613, 26 L. ed. 585. See supra, V, I.

Terms of settlement.— The executor or administrator may settle with the surviving partner on such terms as in the exercise of good faith and reasonable diligence he may choose to accept. Hoyt v. Sprague, 103 U. S. 613, 26 L. ed. 585.

89. Missouri.— Buckham v. Singleton, 10 Mo. 405.

New York.— Sage v. Woodin, 66 N. Y. 578; Montgomery v. Dunning, 2 Bradf. Surr. 220. See also Palmer v. Kingsford, 112 N. Y. 337, 19 N. E. 815.

North Carolina.— Ralston v. Telfair, 22 N. C. 414.

Ohio.— Ludlow v. Cooper, 4 Ohio St. 1.

Pennsylvania.— Holmes' Appeal, 79 Pa. St. 279.

Virginia.— See Shackelford v. Shackelford, 32 Gratt. 481.

Wisconsin.— Roys v. Vilas, 18 Wis. 169.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 409.

90. See supra, VIII, C, 3.

91. Kentucky.— Walker v. Walker, 88 Ky. 615, 11 S. W. 718, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 80.

New Jersey.— Wild v. Davenport, 48 N. J. L. 129, 7 Atl. 295, 57 Am. Rep. 552.

New York.—Palmer v. Kingsford, 112 N. Y. 337, 19 N. E. 815; Browne v. Bedford, 4 Dem. Surr. 304; Luers v. Brunjes, 5 Redf. Surr. 32.

United States.— Burwell v. Cawood, 2 How. 560, 11 L. ed. 378.

England.— In re Leeds Banking Co., L. R. 1 Ch. 231, 12 Jur. N. S. 60, 35 L. J. Ch. 307, 13 L. T. Rep. N. S. 694, 14 Wkly. Rep. 255; of the general rule forbidding an executor or administrator to engage in business with the funds of the estate.[92]

D. Contracts — 1. General Rule. The general rule is that the contracts of an executor or administrator, although made in the interest and for the benefit of the estate he represents, are, if made upon a new and independent consideration moving between the promisee and the representative as promisor, the personal contracts of the executor or administrator and do not bind the estate.[93] Hence the executor or administrator cannot make any agreement enlarging the liability of the estate in his hands, nor creating against it a debt, charge, or lien enforceable at the suit of the person with whom he contracts, since the immediate Labouchere v. Tupper, 11 Moore P. C. 198, 5 Wkly. Rep. 597, 14 Eng. Reprint 670.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 409.

Advancing money under order of court to protect business.— Where the probate court in the due exercise of its statutory jurisdiction authorizes an executor or administrator to advance or borrow money to preserve a bankrupt business in which the estate is interested, such decree is a protection to the representative and those dealing with him. In re Mustin, 188 Pa. St. 544, 41 Atl. 618.

92. Connecticut.—Alsop v. Mather, 8 Conn. 584, 21 Am. Dec. 703.

Mississippi.— Avery v. Myers, 60 Miss. 367; Citizens' Mut. Ins. Co. v. Ligon, 59 Miss. 305.

New Jersey.— Wild v. Davenport, 43 N. J. L. 129, 7 Atl. 295, 57 Am. Rep. 552.

United States.— Smith v. Ayer, 101 U. S. 320, 25 L. ed. 955.

England.— In re Morgan, 18 Ch. D. 93, 50 L. J. Ch. 834, 45 L. T. Rep. N. S. 183; Ex p. Garland, 1 Smith K. B. 220, 10 Ves. Jr. 110, 7 Rev. Rep. 352, 32 Eng. Reprint 786.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 409.

93. Alabama.— Sanford v. Howard, 29 Ala. 684, 68 Am. Dec. 101; Harding v. Evans, 3 Port. 221, 29 Am. Dec. 255.

Arkansas.— Pike v. Thomas, 65 Ark. 437, 47 S. W. 110.

California.— Dwinelle v. Henriquez, 1 Cal. 387.

Connecticut.— Taylor v. Mygatt, 26 Conn. 184.

Delaware.— See Baird v. Harper, (1902) 51 Atl. 141.

Georgia.— Hughes v. Treadaway, 116 Ga. 663, 42 S. E. 1035. See also Rhodes v. Harrison, 60 Ga. 428.

Illinois.— Bauerle v. Long, 187 Ill. 475, 58 N. E. 458, 52 L. R. A. 643 [affirming 88 Ill. App. 177]; Vincent v. Morrison, 1 Ill. 227; McAuley v. O'Connor, 92 Ill. App. 592.

Indiana.— Moody v. Shaw, 85 Ind. 88; Holderbaugh v. Turpin, 75 Ind. 84, 39 Am. Rep. 124.

Iowa.— Valley Nat. Bank v. Crosby, 108 Iowa 651, 79 N. W. 383, holding that an order of the judge on an ex parte hearing, in the absence of any statute, adds nothing to the powers of the administrator.

Kentucky.— Bland v. Gaither, 11 S. W. 423, 10 Ky. L. Rep. 1033; Bland v. Wintersmith, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 52.

Massachusetts.— Durkin v. Langley, 167 Mass. 577, 46 N. E. 119; Phillips v. Blatchford, 137 Mass. 510; Kingman v. Soule, 132 Mass. 285; Luscomb v. Ballard, 5 Gray 402, 66 Am. Dec. 374.

Michigan.— See Roscoe v. McDonald, 91 Mich. 270, 51 N. W. 939.

Mississippi.— Farley v. Hord, 45 Miss. 96; Woods v. Ridley, 27 Miss. 119. But see Steele v. McDowell, 9 Sm. & M. 193.

Nebraska.— Craig v. Anderson, (1902) 92 N. W. 640.

New York.— O'Brien v. Jackson, 167 N. Y. 31, 60 N. E. 238 [reversing 42 N. Y. App. Div. 171, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 1044]; Austin v. Munroe, 47 N. Y. 360; Hillman v. Stephens, 16 N. Y. 278; Chisolm v. Toplitz, 82 N. Y. App. Div. 346, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 1081; Bloodgood v. Gregory, 38 N. Y. Super. Ct. 132; Cary v. Gregory, 38 N. Y. Super. Ct. 127; Olcott v. De Jorrin, 36 Misc. 735, 74 N. Y. Suppl. 393; Van Zandt v. Myers, 7 N. Y. Wkly. Dig. 390. See also Bull v. Bull, 31 Hun 69.

North Carolina.— Lindsay v. Darden, 124 N. C. 307, 32 S. E. 678; Kerchner v. McRae, 80 N. C. 219.

Ohio.— West v. Dean, 15 Ohio Cir. Ct. 261, 8 Ohio Cir. Dec. 797.

Pennsylvania.— Masterson v. Masterson, 5 Rawle 137.

South Carolina.— Harrell v. Witherspoon, 3 McCord 486; Nehbe v. Price, 2 Nott & M. 328.

Vermont.— Rich v. Sowles, 64 Vt. 408. 23 Atl. 723, 15 L. R. A. 850; Lovell v. Field, 5 Vt. 218.

Virginia.— Daingerfield v. Smith, 83 Va. 81, 1 S. E. 599; Fitzhugh v. Fitzhugh, 11 Gratt. 300, 62 Am. Dec. 653.

Wisconsin.— Williams v. Troop, 17 Wis. 463.

United States.— Kelley v. Kelley, 84 Fed. 420; Thompson v. Canterbury, 12 Fed. 485, 2 McCrary 332.

England.— Farhall v. Farhall, L. R. 7 Ch. 123, 41 L. J. Ch. 146, 25 L. T. Rep. N. S. 685, 20 Wkly. Rep. 157; Brice v. Wilson, 8 A. & E. 349 note, 35 E. C. L. 626.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 410.

Contract giving other party right to file mechanic's lien.— The executor cannot make a contract which would give the other party a right to file a mechanic's lien on property liability incurred is a personal one on his part.[94] If the contract was one which he had no right to make, all the more is it he who must respond for it and not the estate;[95] nor will his express promise "as executor" or "as administrator" change his individual liability in regard to it or amount to more than surplusage.[96] But debts incurred for the incidental charges of the due course of administration have been held obligatory upon the estate,[97] and an executor may sometimes create debts against the estate for expenses incurred in complying with the directions of the will,[98] and the necessities of the case may sometimes be such as to

of the estate without an order of the court, and the subsequent consent of the heirs does not validate such a contract. San Francisco Pav. Co. v. Fairfield, 134 Cal. 220, 66 Pac. 255.

Renewal of lease.— The administrator of a lessee in a lease which provides for a renewal only at the option of the lessee, on a valuation of the land only, the improvements belonging to the lessee, and makes no provision for compensation therefor if there is no renewal, cannot bind the estate by a renewal and is properly sued personally for the rent on a lease made by him. Chisolm v. Toplitz, 82 N. Y. App. Div. 346, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 1081.

Warranty.— The personal representative cannot bind the estate by a warranty, but only binds himself. Sumner v. Williams, 8 Mass. 162, 5 Am. Dec. 83. But see Welch v. Hoyt, 24 Ill. 117.

The estate is not liable in damages for a breach of a contract entered into by the executrix. Sterrett v. Barker, 119 Cal. 492, 51 Pac. 695.

Stipulation against individual liability.— Where the executors of one of the makers of a note, by agreement under seal with the other maker, assume as executors all liability on the note, but it is expressly stipulated that they shall not be held liable individually, a judgment on such agreement against the executors individually is erroneous. Beattie v. Latimer, 42 S. C. 313, 20 S. E. 53.

Contract held to be in capacity of legatee.— Where an executrix who was also sole legatee contracted with an attorney to prosecute a suit for land devised to her, and not needed for the payment of the testator's debts, the attorney to receive a certain proportion of the amount recovered, the contract was considered to be that of the legatee and not of the executrix, and hence not be voidable by a succeeding administrator de bonis non with the will annexed, as made by an executrix without direction of court. Bell v. Welch, 38 Ark. 139.

94. Alabama.—Steele v. Steele, 64 Ala. 438, 38 Am. Rep. 15.

Arkansas.—Underwood v. Milligan, 10 Ark. 254.

Maine.— Davis v. French, 20 Me. 21, 37 Am. Dec. 36.

Mississippi.— Hagan v. Barksdale, 44 Miss. 186.

South Carolina.— Johnson v. Henagan, 11 S. C. 93; Guerry v. Capers, Bailey Eq. 159.

Tennessee.— Hoss v. Crouch, (Ch. App. 1898) 48 S. W. 724.

Texas.— McMahan v. Harbert, 35 Tex. 451.

Vermont.— Rich v. Sowles, 64 Vt. 408, 23 Atl. 723, 15 L. R. A. 850.

Virginia.— Staples v. Staples, 85 Va. 76, 7 S. E. 199.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 410.

Representative cannot execute note so as to bind estate. Boyd v. Johnston, 89 Tenn. 284, 14 S. W. 804; East Tennessee Iron Mfg. Co. v. Gaskell, 2 Lea (Tenn.) 742.

Promise without consideration.— For an executor's or administrator's promise without consideration touching the estate he is not liable. McElwee v. Story, 1 Rich. (S. C.) 9.

Admission of personal liability.— Where an administrator charged the price of a coffin in his administration account, and had it allowed to him by the judge of probate, it was an admission by him that he was personally liable for the price. Trueman v. Tilden, 6 N. H. 201.

95. Alabama.— Colvin v. Owens, 22 Ala 782.

Illinois.— Mason v. Caldwell, 10 Ill. 196, 48 Am. Dec. 330.

Kentucky.— Proctor v. Terrill, 8 B. Mon. 451.

Mississippi.— Weathersby v. Sinclair, 43 Miss. 189, building materials for a house.

Rhode Island.— See Brown v. Lewis, 9 R. I. 497.

Utah.— Cain v. Young, 1 Utah 361.

Virginia.— Childress v. Morris, 23 Gratt. 802. See also Staples v. Staples, 85 Va. 76, 7 S. E. 199.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 410.

96. Kentucky.— Ellis v. Merriman, 5 B. Mon. 296.

Louisiana.— Dean v. Wade, 8 La. Ann. 85.

Mississippi.— Steele v. McDowell, 9 Sm. & M. 193; Sims v. Stilwell, 3 How. 176.

New York.— Chouteau v. Suydam, 21 N. Y. 179.

Pennsylvania.— Gebler v. Culin, 6 Phila. 130.

Vermont.— Rich v. Sowles, 64 Vt. 408, 23 Atl. 723, 15 L. R. A. 850.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 410.

97. Farley v. Hord, 45 Miss. 96.

98. See Little v. Bennett, 58 N. C. 156. But compare O'Brien v. Jackson, 167 N. Y. 31, 60 N. E. 238 [reversing 42 N. Y. App. Div. 171, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 1044].

Will held not to give power to create debts. — See Ward v. Harrington, 29 Miss. 238.

permit of the representative binding the estate by his contract made for its benefit,[99] or he may sometimes bind the estate by his contract made with the sanction of the probate court,[1] and statutes sometimes give to the representative certain powers in this respect.[2] Any contract which the personal representative makes relating to the estate will at all events inure to the advantage of its beneficiaries, subject to the due payment of creditors of the estate.[3]

2. Services — a. In General. The personal representative and not the estate is as a rule directly liable to one whom he employs incidentally in the discharge of his trust, as for selling, custody of, or suitable work upon the assets, or clerical or other services in managing the property and the like.[4] Where, however, services are rendered under an employment or agreement by which the person rendering them has confined himself to the estate or the personal representative administering it as his debtor, he will not be at liberty afterward to resort to the personal representative individually.[5]

b. Services of Attorney. The principle that debts contracted by the personal representative are obligatory upon him as individual obligations and do not primarily bind the estate applies to the fees of attorneys and counsel employed by him in the course of administration. The executor or administrator makes himself personally liable to such attorney or counsel and reimburses himself in his accounts subject to the court's allowance.[6] But statutes or local practice

99. Brannon v. G. Ober, etc., Co., 106 Ga. 168, 32 S. E. 16; Murrell v. Wright, 78 Tex. 519, 15 S. W. 156, holding that an executor might employ another person to locate a land certificate belonging to the estate and bind the heirs by his agreement to allow the locator a share in the land so secured. See also Van Zandt v. Myers, 7 N. Y. Wkly. Dig. 390.

1. Halbert v. De Bode, (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 28 S. W. 58. See also Roscoe v. McDonald, 91 Mich. 270, 51 N. W. 939.

2. See Bowen v. Bonner, 45 Miss. 10.

3. Stewart v. Chadwick, 8 Iowa 463; Shearon v. Henderson, 38 Tex. 245.

4. Alabama.— See Vann v. Vann, 71 Ala. 154; Matthews v. Matthews, 56 Ala. 292.

Arkansas.— Belfour v. Raney, 8 Ark. 479.

California.— Maxon v. Jones, 128 Cal. 77, 60 Pac. 516.

Indiana.— Bott v. Barr, 95 Ind. 243.

Louisiana.— McWilliams v. Elder, 52 La. Ann. 995, 27 So. 352.

Maryland.— Gwynn v. Dorsey, 4 Gill & J. 453.

Michigan.— Byrne v. Hume, 73 Mich. 392, 41 N. W. 331.

Mississippi.—Hardee v. Cheatham, 52 Miss. 41.

Missouri.— Yeakle v. Priest, 61 Mo. App. 47.

New York.— Parker v. Day, 155 N. Y. 383, 49 N. E. 1046 [reversing 12 Misc. 510, 33 N. Y. Suppl. 676]; Martin v. Platt, 51 Hun 429, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 359; Foland v. Dayton, 40 Hun 563; Ross v. Harden, 44 N. Y. Super. Ct. 26; McMahon v. Allen, 4 E. D. Smith 519; Balz v. Underhill, 19 Misc. 215, 44 N. Y. Suppl. 419; Douglass v. Leonard, 17 N. Y. Suppl. 491; Lunt v. Lunt, 8 Abb. N. Cas. 83.

Texas.— Halton v. Simmell, 43 Tex. 585.

Vermont.— Gordon v. Clapp, 5 Vt. 129.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 411.

Mere intention does not govern.— The question whether an administrator is personally liable for services rendered by another person does not depend on such person's intention merely. Foland v. Dayton, 40 Hun (N. Y.) 563.

Persons dealing with representative chargeable with notice.— Under a statute authorizing the administrator to procure indispensable labor to care for live stock, crops, etc., left by decedent, "until the meeting of the court," and providing that the court may authorize the employment of further labor, all persons dealing with such administrator are chargeable with notice of the fact that he can exercise such power only in vacation. Powell v. Powell, 23 Mo. App. 365.

An agreement to allow a broker all over a certain amount which he may obtain for property of the estate is invalid and cannot be enforced. Danielwitz v. Sheppard, 62 Cal. 339; In re Ballentine, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 86.

Reimbursement of representative see infra, VIII, I, 8, f.

5. Martin v. Platt, 51 Hun (N. Y.) 429, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 359; Foland v. Dayton, 40 Hun (N. Y.) 563.

6. Alabama.— Taylor v. Crook, 136 Ala. 354, 34 So. 905, 96 Am. St. Rep. 26, except in cases of insolvency of the representative.

Arkansas.— Bry v. Craig, 64 Ark. 438, 44 S. W. 348; Pike v. Thomas, 62 Ark. 223, 35 S. W. 212, 54 Am. St. Rep. 292; Tucker v. Grace, 61 Ark. 410, 33 S. W. 530.

California.— McKee v. Soher, 138 Cal. 367, 71 Pac. 438, 649; In re Page, 57 Cal. 238. See also Briggs v. Breen, 123 Cal. 657, 56 Pac. 633, 886.

Colorado.— Lusk v. Patterson, 2 Colo. App. 306, 30 Pac. 253.

District of Columbia.—MacKie v. Howland, 3 App. Cas. 461.

Florida.—McHardy v. McHardy, 7 Fla. 301.

Georgia.— Lester v. Mathews, 56 Ga. 655; come sometimes in aid of an attorney's recovery of recompense or costs by way of allowance out of a particular fund collected, where the suit itself was duly authorized, although this may not necessarily give an attorney the full recompense to which the representative had bound himself personally;[7] and it seems that the representative may also make a special agreement that the attorney employed to render services beneficial to the estate shall look to the estate alone for recompense.[8]

3. Funeral Expenses, Tombstones, Etc. While the general rule denying the power of the representative to bind the estate by his contracts[9] has been applied so as to hold the executor or administrator who has ordered the funeral of or a tombstone for his decedent liable only personally and not in his representative capacity,[10] although with a right of reimbursement for his expenditure against the Williams v. Walker, 31 Ga. 195. But see Stansell v. Lindsay, 50 Ga. 360.

Illinois.— Barker v. Kunkel, 10 Ill. App. 407.

Indiana.— Long v. Rodman, 58 Ind. 58.

Iowa.— Rickel v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 112 Iowa 148, 83 N. W. 957; Argo v. Blondel, 100 Iowa 353, 69 N. W. 534. See also In re Bruning, 122 Iowa 8, 96 N. W. 780.

Mississippi.— Clopton v. Gholson, 53 Miss. 466.

New Hampshire.— Wait v. Holt, 58 N. H. 467; Livermore v. Rand, 26 N. H. 85.

New York.— Platt v. Platt, 105 N. Y. 488, 12 N. E. 22; Mygatt v. Wilcox, 45 N. Y. 306, 6 Am. Rep. 90; Matter of Blair, 34 Misc. 444, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 1013 [affirmed in 67 N. Y. App. Div. 116, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 675]; Bowman v. Tallman, 2 Rob. 385; Budlong v. Clemens, 3 Dem. Surr. 145.

North Carolina.— Kessler v. Hall, 64 N. C. 60; McKay v. Royal, 52 N. C. 426. See also Lindsay v. Darden, 124 N. C. 307, 32 S. E. 678.

Ohio.— Thomas v. Moore, 52 Ohio St. 200, 39 N. E. 803; Mellen v. West, 5 Ohio Cir. Ct. 89, 3 Ohio Cir. Dec. 46; McBride v. Brucker, 5 Ohio Cir. Ct. 12, 3 Ohio Cir. Dec. 7.

Oregon.— Waite v. Willis, 42 Oreg. 288, 70 Pac. 1034; In re McCullough, 31 Oreg. 86, 49 Pac. 886.

Texas.— McGloin v. Vanderlip, 27 Tex. 366.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 411½.

Right to reimbursement see infra, VIII, I, 8, g.

Prosecuting slayer of decedent.— The personal representative has no power to employ counsel to prosecute the alleged murderer of his decedent at the expense of the estate. Lusk v. Anderson, 1 Metc. (Ky.) 426. And see Sparrow's Succession, 40 La. Ann. 484, 4 So. 513; Anderson's Succession, 28 La. Ann. 335. But compare Killebrew v. Murphy, 3 Heisk. (Tenn.) 546.

The attorney has no lien on the property of the estate for his services. Waite v. Willis, 42 Oreg. 288, 70 Pac. 1034.

Administrator cannot agree to give attorney an interest in land of estate for services. Bryan v. Craig, 64 Ark. 438, 44 S. W. 348. But see Stansell v. Lindsay, 50 Ga. 360.

The probate court has no jurisdiction to render judgment against an administrator for services rendered by an attorney employed by such administrator to prosecute a claim on behalf of the estate, because the liability of the administrator is personal and not in his representative capacity. Pike v. Thomas, 62 Ark. 223, 35 S. W. 212, 54 Am. St. Rep. 292. See also State v. Second Judicial Dist. Ct., 25 Mont. 33, 63 Pac. 717. Nor can its sanction sustain a conveyance of land of the estate in payment for professional services rendered. Teal v. Terrell, 48 Tex. 491.

Contract releasing executor from liability. — A contract between an executor and his attorney that the latter's fee shall be fixed by the court is a release of the executor from any liability therefor. In re Kasson, 119 Cal. 489, 51 Pac. 706.

Any allowance made should be to the representative and not directly to the attorney. Matter of Welling, 51 N. Y. App. Div. 355, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 1025.

7. Arkansas.—Tucker v. Grace, 61 Ark. 410, 33 S. W. 530.

California.— In re Page, 57 Cal. 238.

Illinois.— Greene v. Grimshaw, 11 Ill. 389.

Missouri.— Nichols v. Reyburn, 55 Mo. App. 1.

Pennsylvania.— See In re Lafferty, 23 Pittsb. Leg. J. 157.

Texas.—Jones v. Lewis, 11 Tex. 359; Portis v. Cole, 11 Tex. 157.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 411½.

Under the Michigan statute an executor may procure the aid of legal advisers when necessary and bind the estate for the payment of a reasonable compensation for their services. Jackson v. Leech, 113 Mich. 391, 71 N. W. 846.

8. California.— Briggs v. Breen, 123 Cal. 657, 56 Pac. 633, 886.

Indiana.— Long v. Rodman, 58 Ind. 58.

New York.— See Clapp v. Clapp, 44 Hun 451.

Pennsylvania.— See Wilson's Appeal, 3 Walk. 216.

West Virginia.— See Hoke v. Hoke, 12 W. Va. 427.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 411½.

9. See supra, VIII, D, 1.

10. Fitzhugh v. Fitzhugh, 11 Gratt. (Va.) 300, 62 Am. Dec. 653. See also Brice v.

estate,[11] the better view is that such expenses are charges against the estate, which the representative must pay out of the assets and for which he is liable in his representative capacity.[12]

4. Payment of Decedent's Debts.[13] As a rule the executor or administrator is not bound to pay the debts of his decedent beyond the assets which he receives, nor is he presumed to intend binding himself for payment in a more extensive sense; and even his unequivocal promise, written or oral, to pay a debt of his decedent does not make him personally liable, unless founded on other sufficient consideration;[14] but in various instances, such as extension, forbearance by the creditor, or a substitution of securities, the executor or administrator may make himself personally liable by his direct promise to pay, as for a new and sufficient consideration,[15] and his direct promise may bind him absolutely if the debt of the decedent was already barred by limitations.[16]

5. Borrowing Money.[17] An executor or administrator, as such, has no inherent authority to borrow money, and such loans to the representative do not constitute

Wilson, 8 A. & E. 349 note, 35 E. C. L. 626, ratification of orders given by another. And see infra, X, A, 19, c.

11. Fitzhugh v. Fitzhugh, 11 Gratt. (Va.) 300, 62 Am. Dec. 653. And see infra, VIII, I, 8, b; X, A, 19, c-e.

12. See infra, X, A, 19, c–e.

13. See, generally, infra, X.

14. Alabama.— Russell v. Wright, 98 Ala. 652, 13 So. 594; Martin v. Black, 20 Ala. 309; Hester v. Wesson, 6 Ala. 415.

Connecticut.—Pratt v. Humphrey, 22 Conn. 317.

Indiana.— Vogel v. O'Toole, 2 Ind. App. 196, 28 N. E. 209.

Kentucky.— Crews v. Williams, 2 Bibb 262, 4 Am. Dec. 701.

Louisiana.— Talmage v. Patterson, 6 Mart. N. S. 604.

Minnesota.— Germania Bank v. Michaud, 62 Minn. 459, 65 N. W. 70, 54 Am. St. Rep. 653, 30 L. R. A. 286.

Mississippi.— Waul v. Kirkman, 13 Sm. & M. 599; Byrd v. Holloway, 6 Sm. & M. 199.

New York.— Troy Bank v. Topping, 9 Wend. 273; Ten Eyck v. Vanderpoel, 8 Johns. 120.

North Carolina.— Williams v. Chaffin, 13 N. C. 333.

Pennsylvania.— Hollenback v. Clapp, 103 Pa. St. 60.

Tennessee.— Bedford v. Ingram, 5 Hayw. 155.

Virginia.— Taliaferro v. Robb, 2 Call 258.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 413.

A promise to pay in consideration of assets will support a judgment de bonis testatoris. Faxon v. Dyson, 8 Fed. Cas. No. 4,705, 1 Cranch C. C. 441. And see Adams v. Whiting, 1 Fed. Cas. No. 69, 2 Cranch C. C. 132.

15. Georgia.— Harrison v. McClelland, 57 Ga. 531; Poole v. Hines, 52 Ga. 500.

Indiana.— Cornthwaite v. Rockville First Nat. Bank, 57 Ind. 268.

Iowa.— Thompson v. Maugh, 3 Greene 342.

Kentucky.— Mosely v. Taylor, 4 Dana 542.

Louisiana.— Beatty v. Tete, 9 La. Ann. 129.

Maryland.— Steuart v. Carr, 6 Gill 430.

Massachusetts.—Wilton v. Eaton, 127 Mass. 174.

Mississippi.— Robinson v. Lane, 14 Sm. & M. 161.

Missouri.—Webster v. Switzer, 15 Mo. App. 346.

New York.— Hall v. Richardson, 22 Hun 444.

North Carolina.— Noblet v. Green, 13 N. C. 517, 21 Am. Dec. 347; Sleighter v. Harrington, 4 N. C. 679, 7 Am. Dec. 715. See also Ball v. Felton, 51 N. C. 202.

Pennsylvania.— In re Claghorn, 181 Pa. St. 600, 37 Atl. 918.

Vermont.— Moar v. Wright, 1 Vt. 57.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 413.

Promise on which decedent could not be sued.— Although a husband could not be sued at law on his promise to repay to his wife money received by him for her during her coverture, his executors might be sued on their promise to repay such money. Rusling v. Rusling, 47 N. J. L. 1.

Sufficiency of consideration.— The surrender to an administrator of a promissory note made by his intestate, whether the note at the time of the surrender is capable or incapable of being enforced at law, is a sufficient consideration for the giving of a new note by the administrator, and he is personally liable thereon, although, when the new note is given, his final account has been allowed, and no new assets have since come into his hands. Wilton v. Eaton, 127 Mass. 174.

A covenant releasing the representative from personal liability on notes given by him to take up notes of the decedent will be given effect. McNairy v. Thompson, 1 Sneed (Tenn.) 141.

16. Baker v. Fuller, 69 Me. 152; Oates v. Lilly, 84 N. C. 643 (if in writing and founded on a sufficient consideration); McGrath v. Barnes, 13 S. C. 328, 36 Am. Rep. 687. See also Matter of Miller, 5 Pa. L. J. 265. But see Perry v. Booth, 7 Tex. 493.

17. As to mortgage of realty see infra, VIII, O, 11.

As to pledge or mortgage of personalty see infra, VIII, P, 3.

valid claims against the estate or entitle the lender to interest thereon, although the representative may make himself personally liable;[18] but an equity arises in behalf of the lender where the money has in fact been applied to pay debts or otherwise so as to benefit the estate, and in such case the creditor of the executor or administrator may fairly be subrogated to the latter's rights.[19] Power to borrow money on lien security may, however, be given by will,[20] and moreover statutes are sometimes found which sanction borrowing with the creation of a lien, although usually upon due investigation and a previous order from the court.[21]

6. BILLS AND NOTES. An executor or administrator has no inherent authority to bind the estate directly by giving a note or accepting a bill, nor is such authority deducible from an express power to sell and reinvest the assets.[22] Even

18. Georgia.— McMillan v. Cox, 109 Ga. 42, 34 S. E. 341.

Mississippi.— Farley v. Hood, 45 Miss. 96. Ford v. Russell, Freem. 42.

Nevada.— In re Millenovich, 5 Nev. 189.

New York.— Croft v. Williams, 88 N. Y. 384 (especially if the money borrowed be misapplied); Glenn v. Burrows, 54 Hun 634, 7 N. Y. Suppl. 180.

North Carolina.— Morehead Banking Co. v. Morehead, 116 N. C. 410, 21 S. E. 190, 122 N. C. 318, 30 S. E. 331.

Ohio.— Smith v. Hayward, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 462, 5 Ohio N. P. 501.

South Carolina.— Nicholson v. Whitlock, 57 S. C. 36, 35 S. E. 412.

Tennessee.— Allen v. Shanks, 90 Tenn. 359, 16 S. W. 715.

Virginia.— Robertson v. Breckinridge, 98 Va. 569, 37 S. E. 8.

England.— Farhall v. Farhall, L. R. 7 Ch. 123, 41 L. J. Ch. 146, 25 L. T. Rep. N. S. 685, 20 Wkly. Rep. 157.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 414.

The insolvency of the representative does not make the estate the more liable for the borrowing. Merchants' Nat. Bank v. Weeks, 53 Vt. 115, 38 Am. Rep. 661.

Acknowledgment as distinguished from creation of debt.— A father having died largely in debt, the representative of his succession, in order to pay off his indebtedness, was authorized by the judge, on the recommendation of a family meeting, to borrow a sufficient sum to discharge this indebtedness; and notes were given upon this loan. It was held that this was not the creation of a debt, but was the acknowledgment of one, and providing means to pay it, all of which was done in the interest of the heirs; and the liability of a son therefore was fixed by his interest in his father's succession. Stevenson v. Edwards, 27 La. Ann. 302.

19. Nathan v. Lehman, 39 Ark. 256; Deery v. Hamilton, 41 Iowa 16; Woods v. Ridley, 27 Miss. 119; Johnson v. Kellog, 8 N. Y. St. 413. See infra, VIII, D, 8.

20. Prieto v. Leonards, (Tex. Civ. App. 1903) 74 S. W. 41; Jameson v. Myles, 7 W. Va. 311. See also Robertson v. Breckinridge, 98 Va. 569, 37 S. E. 8. And see infra, VIII, O, 11, a.

Borrowing more than necessary.— Where a will authorizes an executor to raise, in such way as seems best to him, sufficient money to pay testator's debts, and he borrows a short time after testator's death more money than is necessary to pay the debts, the estate is liable to the lender for the full amount, if there is no fraud or collusion between the executor and the lender, and the latter had no notice of the amount of the debts, since he is not bound to ascertain whether there are debts of the testator or not. Fletcher v. American Trust, etc., Co., 111 Ga. 300, 36 S. E. 767, 78 Am. St. Rep. 164.

Will not giving authority to borrow see McMillan v. Cox, 109 Ga. 42, 34 S. E. 341.

A testamentary provision authorizing the executor to make advances to certain legatees does not authorize him to negotiate a loan for that purpose. La Banque Jacques-Cartier v. Gratton, 30 Can. Supreme Ct. 317.

21. See Stevenson v. Edwards, 27 La. Ann. 302; In re Lambie, 94 Mich. 489, 54 N. W. 173. And see infra, VIII, O, 11, a.

22. Georgia.— Lynch v. Kirby, 65 Ga. 279.

Iowa.— Valley Nat. Bank v. Crosby, 108 Iowa 651, 79 N. W. 383; Winter v. Hite, 3 Iowa 142.

Louisiana.— Carroll v. Davidson, 23 La. Ann. 428; Livingston v. Gaussen, 21 La. Ann. 286, 99 Am. Dec. 731; Hestres v. Patrovic, 1 Rob. 119.

Mississippi.— Yerger v. Foote, 48 Miss. 62, renewal of decedent's note.

Missouri.— Stirling v. Winter, 80 Mo. 141; Rittenhouse v. Ammerman, 64 Mo. 197, 27 Am. Rep. 215.

New Jersey.— Hellier v. Lord, 55 N. J. L. 367, 26 Atl. 986.

North Carolina.— See Latham v. Moore, 59 N. C. 167.

Virginia.— Whitten v. Fincastle Bank, 100 Va. 546, 42 S. E. 309.

Washington.— Montreal Bank v. Buchanan, 32 Wash. 480, 73 Pac. 482.

United States.— Boggs v. Wann, 58 Fed. 681.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 415.

The insolvency of the executor or administrator who gives his note does not affect the rule. Merchants' Nat. Bank v. Weeks, 53 Vt. 115, 38 Am. Rep. 661.

Notes as new promise to pay debts of estate.— Notes executed by an executor, payable to the cashier of a bank, cannot be where he signs as "executor" or "administrator," the rule remains that the obligation is his own, and that assets of the estate are only bound for the debts contracted by the decedent during life.[23] But although the executor or administrator be bound out of his own property in the first instance, he may reimburse himself out of the assets where the consideration was just and beneficial to the estate and the obligation was honestly incurred.[24] Statutes sometimes permit of borrowing upon note, usually with the assent of the probate court.[25]

7. Guaranty or Suretyship. The usual rights and liabilities of guaranty or suretyship are protected and enforced in the case of a decedent's assets;[26] but the executor or administrator cannot directly bind the estate by his own new promise by way of guaranty or suretyship, although the transaction be one affecting the decedent's own promise and liability, but charges himself primarily and personally by his undertaking.[27]

8. Subrogation of Contracting Party. While a person who lends or advances money to an executor or administrator upon a promise by note or other contract acquires no right at law or in equity against the estate, unless the money has in fact been applied to pay debts or otherwise to benefit the estate, he will in such case be permitted to take the representative's place and be subrogated to his right of reimbursement from the estate.[28]

E. Investments — 1. Right or Duty to Invest. As a general rule the duty of an executor or administrator is confined to collecting and paying out or dis-treated as constituting a new promise to pay notes held by the bank against the estate, where each purports to be an original undertaking by the executor, and in none of them is there an acknowledgment by him that the bank held any valid claim against the estate, and the notes held by the bank against the estate are not surrendered. Hughes v. Treadaway, 116 Ga. 663, 42 S. E. 1035.

Discounting.— An executor cannot bind the estate by indorsing and discounting promissory notes. Farmers' Nat. Bank v. Griel, 12 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 28.

Stipulation limiting liability.— The representative's note may by its express terms stipulate for payment from the estate only, as in other contracts, and so limit his liability. Studebaker Bros. Mfg. Co. v. Montgomery, 74 Mo. 101; Schmittler v. Simon, 25 Hun (N. Y.) 76 [affirmed in 101 N. Y. 554, 5 N. E. 452, 54 Am. Rep. 737].

23. Florida.— Higgins v. Driggs, 21 Fla. 103.

Georgia.— Harrison v. McClelland, 57 Ga. 531; McFarlin v. Stinson, 56 Ga. 396.

Iowa.— Tryon v. Oxley, 3 Greene 289.

Missouri.— Studebaker Bros. Mfg. Co. v. Montgomery, 74 Mo. 101.

Montana.— White Sulphur Springs First Nat. Bank v. Collins, 17 Mont. 433, 43 Pac. 499, 52 Am. St. Rep. 695.

New York.—Schmittler v. Simon, 101 N. Y. 554, 5 N. E. 452, 54 Am. Rep. 737; Darling v. Powell, 20 Misc. 240, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 794.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 415.

Consideration.— Under the law merchant, a negotiable note made by a fiduciary in his official capacity imports sufficient consideration to bind him personally to the holder of the instrument. Germania Bank v. Michaud, 62 Minn. 459, 65 N. W. 70, 54 Am. St. Rep. 653, 30 L. R. A. 286.

Form of indorsement not binding executor. — An indorsement of negotiable paper, "Estate of Wheeler, Wing Executor," does not bind the executor individually, although the estate may not be bound. Grafton Nat. Bank v. Wing, 172 Mass. 513, 52 N. E. 1067, 70 Am. St. Rep. 303, 43 L. R. A. 831.

An administrator may defeat his personal liability on a note given for the debt of his intestate by showing that he had, when it was executed, no assets of the intestate sufficient to pay it. Jenkins v. Phillips, 41 N. Y. App. Div. 389, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 788.

24. Grimes v. Blake, 16 Ind. 160; Dunne v. Deery, 40 Iowa 251. Aliter where consideration not justly a liability of estate. Steele v. McDowell, 9 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 193.

25. See McCalley v. Wilburn, 77 Ala. 549; Wilburn v. McCalley, 63 Ala. 436; Brightwell v. Jordan, 74 Ga. 486.

26. Stewart v. Davis, 18 Ind. 74; Shiff v. Shiff, 20 La. Ann. 269; Kingman v. Soule, 132 Mass. 285; Johnston v. Union Bank, 37 Miss. 526; Robinson v. Lane, 14 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 161.

27. See Shiff v. Shiff, 20 La. Ann. 269; Johnston v. Union Bank, 37 Miss. 526.

Taking security.— Where an administrator of a surety who has been released erroneously supposes his intestate still liable, he does not, by taking security against the liability, bind the estate to the extent of the security. Hoss v. Crouch, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1898) 48 S. W. 724.

28. Steele v. Steele, 64 Ala. 438, 38 Am. Rep. 15 (where the personal representative becomes insolvent); Woods v. Ridley, 27 Miss. 231; Williamson's Appeal, 94 Pa. St. 231. Compare Merchants' Nat. Bank v. Weeks, 53 Vt. 115, 38 Am. Rep. 661.

tributing the assets of the estate,[29] and it is no part of his duty to invest funds belonging to the estate.[30] This duty may, however, be imposed upon him by will[31] or by statute,[32] or a duty to invest may sometimes arise from the necessities of the case, where there is considerable and unavoidable delay in settling up the estate and making final distribution.[33]

2. Duties and Liabilities With Respect to Investments. In making investments of the funds of the estate, however, the representative acts as trustee rather than as executor or administrator[34] and his duties and liabilities in respect to such investments are governed by the same rules as apply to other trustees. If the will contains directions as to the investments to be made these must be followed. The representative is entitled, although not obliged, to apply to the court for advice and directions, and the sanction of the court for any investment, procured before the investment is made, will, in the absence of fraud in procuring such sanction, protect the representative. Where he acts upon his own judgment he is held to absolute good faith and is required to exercise such prudence and good judgment as ordinarily prudent persons exercise in making investments of their own funds, and if he has done this he is not responsible for a resulting loss. But he is liable for all losses resulting from unauthorized or improper investments, or from his lack of good faith, prudence, or diligence; while on the other hand, if any unauthorized or improper investment or use of the funds of the estate result in a profit, such profit belongs, at the election of those interested, to the estate.[35]

3. Liability For Investing Without Authority. Where the executor or administrator lends or invests assets without authority of law or some power conferred under the will, the beneficiaries may elect to charge him with the fund thus used or to accept the investment with all its accretions of value; and this is the general doctrine where assets are misappropriated by the fiduciary, since his good faith will not shield him if the transaction was unauthorized.[36] Where the fund is thus repudiated and the representative charged personally, the fund, as offset to such a charge, will virtually belong to him.[37]

29. Brenham v. Story, 39 Cal. 179.

30. Brenham v. Story, 39 Cal. 179; Bishop's Estate, 1 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 115.

Temporary administrator.— It is the duty of a temporary administrator to deposit moneys which may come into his hands in a trust company, and on his failure to do so he is chargeable with such interest as a trust company would have paid had the deposit been made. Matter of Philp, 29 Misc. (N. Y.) 263, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 241.

31. Mitchell v. Thomson, 7 Mackey (D. C.) 130; Voorhees v. Stoothoff, 11 N. J. L. 145; Calkins v. Calkins, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 337. And see supra, V, E.

Testamentary provision not giving power to invest see Ballantyne v. Turner, 59 N. C. 224.

32. Moore v. Felkel, 7 Fla. 44; In re Thornton, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 151, 7 Ohio N. P. 335.

33. Wootter v. Burch, 2 Md. Ch. 190; Dortch v. Dortch, 71 N. C. 224; McGonnigle's Estate, 31 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 27.

In case of inability to invest a considerable fund to advantage, or other special circumstances of delay, the personal representative should apply to the court for directions and abide by the result. Ex p. Walsh, 26 Md. 495; Worthington v. Owings, 9 Gill (Md.) 195; Hetfield v. Debaud, 54 N. J. Eq. 371, 34 Atl. 882; Bruner's Appeal, 57 Pa. St. 46.

34. Stamp v. Parrish, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 55; Grinnell v. Baker, 17 R. I. 41, 20 Atl. 8, 23 Atl. 911.

35. See, generally, Trusts.

36. Alabama.— Waring v. Lewis, 53 Ala. 615.

Florida.—Moore v. Felkel, 7 Fla. 44; Moore v. Hamilton, 4 Fla. 112.

Indiana.— Gilbert v. Welsch, 75 Ind. 557.

Maine.— Hanscom v. Marston, 82 Me. 288, 19 Atl. 460.

Maryland.— McCoy v. Horwitz, 62 Md. 183.

Missouri.— Garesche v. Priest, 78 Mo. 126.

New Jersey.— Woodruff v. Lounsberry, 42 N. J. Eq. 699, 11 Atl. 113; Ward v. Kitchen, 30 N. J. Eq. 31; Gray v. Fox, 1 N. J. Eq. 259, 22 Am. Dec. 508; In re Voorhees, 3 N. J. L. J. 211; In re Mundy, 3 N. J. L. J. 185.

Pennsylvania.— In re Strong, 160 Pa. St. 13, 28 Atl. 480; In re Nyce, 5 Watts & S. 254, 40 Am. Dec. 498.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 422.

The beneficiaries reap all the benefits of an unlawful or unauthorized investment. Norris' Appeal, 71 Pa. St. 106; Watson v. Whitten, 3 Rich. (S. C.) 224; Norman v. Storer, 18 Fed. Cas. No. 10,301, 1 Blatchf. 593.

Election must be made on final settlement of administration. Waring v. Lewis, 53 Ala. 615.

37. Waring v. Lewis, 53 Ala. 615; Tompkins v. Weeks, 26 Cal. 50. See also Harwood v. Harper, 54 Ala. 659.

F. Interest on Funds of Estate — 1. In General. Executors and administrators are not chargeable with interest on assets in their hands as of course, unless interest was actually received; but there must be special circumstances to warrant such a charge, as where they make some misuse of the funds for intended profit, or unreasonably detain them, or fail duly to invest and make the funds productive, or are guilty of negligence in collecting or in accounting for them.[38]

38. Alabama.— Noble v. Jackson, 124 Ala. 311, 26 So. 955; Johnson v. Holifield, 82 Ala. 123, 2 So. 753.

Georgia.— Truett v. Williams, 101 Ga. 311, 27 S. E. 851.

Illinois.— Rowan v. Kirkpatrick, 14 Ill. 1.

Iowa.— Dorris v. Miller, 105 Iowa 564, 75 N. W. 482.

Kentucky.— Briggs v. Walker, 102 Ky. 359, 43 S. W. 479, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1490; Karr v. Karr, 6 Dana 3; Overstreet v. Potts, 4 Dana 138; Prewett v. Prewett, 4 Bibb 266.

Louisiana.— Featherstone v. Robinson, 7 La. 596.

Massachusetts.— Boynton v. Dyer, 18 Pick. 1; Stearns v. Brown, 1 Pick. 530; Wyman v. Hubbard, 13 Mass. 232.

Mississippi.— Williams v. Campbell, 46 Miss. 57; Cason v. Cason, 31 Miss. 578.

Missouri.— Myers v. Myers, 98 Mo. 262, 11 S. W. 617; Scott v. Crews, 72 Mo. 261; Madden v. Madden, 27 Mo. 544. See also James v. Withinton, 7 Mo. App. 575.

New Hampshire.— Mathes v. Bennett, 21 N. H. 188; Wendell v. French, 19 N. H. 205.

New Jersey.— Mathis v. Mathis, 18 N. J. L. 59; State v. Mayhew, 9 N. J. L. 70; Hartson v. Elden, 58 N. J. Eq. 478, 44 Atl. 156.

New York.—Greeno v. Greeno, 23 Hun 478; Matter of Woodbury, 40 Misc. 143, 81 N. Y. Suppl. 503; Dunscomb v. Dunscomb, 1 Johns. Ch. 508, 7 Am. Dec. 504.

North Carolina.— Coggins v. Flythe, 113 N. C. 102, 18 S. E. 96; Smith v. Smith, 101 N. C. 461, 8 S. E. 128, 131, 133; Chambers v. Kerns, 59 N. C. 280.

Ohio.— James v. West, 67 Ohio St. 28, 65 N. E. 156.

Pennsylvania.—Wither's Appeal, 16 Pa. St. 151; Betz's Estate, 15 Pa. Super. Ct. 563; Pratt's Estate, 3 Lanc. L. Rev. 203; Pyle's Estate, 3 Lanc. L. Rev. 55.

South Carolina.— Chestnut v. Strong, 1 Hill Eq. 122; McCaw v. Blewitt, Bailey Eq. 98. See also Gee v. Humphries, 49 S. C. 253, 27 S. E. 101.

Tennessee.— Turney v. Williams, 7 Yerg. 172.

Texas.—Stonebreaker v. Friar, 70 Tex. 202, 7 S. W. 799; Davis v. Thorn, 6 Tex. 482.

Vermont.— Morse v. Slason, 16 Vt. 319; Phelps v. Slade, 10 Vt. 192.

Virginia.— Dilliard v. Tomlinson, 1 Munf. 183; Granberry v. Granberry, 1 Wash. 246, 1 Am. Dec. 455.

United States.— Dexter v. Arnold, 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,855, 3 Mason 284.

England.— Dawson v. Massey, 1 Ball & B. 231; Atty.-Gen. v. Alford, 4 De G. M. & G. 843, 1 Jur. N. S. 361, 3 Wkly Rep. 200, 53 Eng. Ch. 659, 43 Eng. Reprint 737.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 423.

The principle upon which the court acts in charging executors with interest is not that of punishment, but of compensating the cestui que trust and depriving the trustee of the advantage he has wrongfully obtained. Inglis v. Beaty, 2 Ont. App. 453.

Burden of proof.— Where an executor is excused from making interest on the funds in his hands, the burden is upon those who would charge him with interest to show that he has received it. Chestnut v. Strong, 2 Hill Eq. (S. C.) 146. But compare Burnside v. Robertson, 28 S. C. 583, 6 S. E. 843.

This rule may be affected by statute. See the following cases:

Alabama.— King v. Cabiness, 12 Ala. 598.

Florida.— Sanderson v. Sanderson, 20 Fla. 292.

Louisiana.— Thomas v. Bourgeat, 1 Rob. 403.

New York.— In re Myers, 131 N. Y. 409, 30 N. E. 135.

North Carolina.— See Peyton v. Smith, 22 N. C. 325.

An oath or affidavit that he has not used the funds is sometimes required to relieve the representative from liability for interest. Smyley v. Reese, 53 Ala. 89, 25 Am. Rep. 598; Bendall v. Bendall, 24 Ala. 295, 60 Am. Dec. 469; Hollis v. Caughman, 22 Ala. 478; McCreeliss v. Hinkle, 17 Ala. 459; Parker v. McGaha, 11 Ala. 521.

When interest should be charged.— Interest should be charged for a premature conversion of assets into cash before paying claims or distributees (In re Verner, 6 Watts (Pa.) 250), or where an administrator has been negligent in the collection of a judgment and guilty of unusual and culpable delay in filing his account (Crouse's Estate, 16 Pa. Super. Ct. 212), or in case of an improper investment so that interest was not yielded (Lockhart v. Horn, 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,446, 3 Woods 542). Interest is also properly charged where a widow or heir takes profitable possession long before receiving letters of appointment (Wilkes v. Rogers, 6 Johns. (N. Y.) 566), or where the representative sets up a claim to funds in his hands, which is decided against him (Howard v. Schmidt, Rich. Eq. Cas. (S. C.) 452. But compare Bruere v. Pemberton, 12 Ves. Jr. 386, 33 Eng. Reprint 146). Where the representative withdraws money from the estate for his commissions before settlement or the due allowance of commissions, he is chargeable with interest thereon (Kenan v. Graham, 135 Ala. 585, 33 So. 699; Matter of Franklin, 26 Misc. (N. Y.) 107, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 858; In re Herrick, 12 N. Y.

Upon general principles the personal representative is bound to render account

Suppl. 105; Whitney v. Phœnix, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 180. Contra, In re Carter, 132 Cal. 113, 64 Pac. 123, 64 Pac. 484; In re Parker, 64 Pa. St. 307), although it has been held otherwise where the commissions were retained after having, with the consent of the legatees, distributed nearly all of the estate out of court (Matter of Franklin, 26 Misc. (N. Y.) 107, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 858). Misconduct of the representative warrants charging him with interest (Ringgold v. Stone, 20 Ark. 526. See also Nixon v. Nixon, 8 Dana (Ky.) 5; Singleton v. Singleton, 5 Dana (Ky.) 87) even though the principal of the sums lost through his misconduct never reached his hands (Sovereign v. Sovereign, 15 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 559. But compare Vanston v. Thompson, 10 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 542). An administrator is properly charged with interest on a sum which stands on the record charged to him with his consent as money which he should have put into his account and held as an identified fund. McIntire v. McIntire, 192 U. S. 116, 24 S. Ct. 196, 48 L. ed. 369 [affirming 20 App. Cas. (D. C.) 134]. Executors or administrators may be charged interest on sums wrongly paid in an erroneous distribution of the assets (In re Hulkes, 33 Ch. D. 552, 55 L. J. Ch. 846, 55 L. T. Rep. N. S. 209, 34 Wkly. Rep. 733, 35 Wkly. Rep. 194 [disapproving Saltmarsh v. Barrett, 31 Beav. 349]; Atty.-Gen. v. Kohler, 9 H. L. Cas. 654, 8 Jur. N. S. 467, 5 L. T. Rep. N. S. 35, 9 Wkly. Rep. 933, 11 Eng. Reprint 885); or on sums in their hands while exceptions to their accounts are pending (Yundt's Appeal, 13 Pa. St. 575, 53 Am. Dec. 496. See also Galloway v. McPherson, 76 Mich. 318, 43 N. W. 449. But compare Hoopes v. Brinton, 8 Watts (Pa.) 73). Where a temporary administrator has paid a creditor more than a pro rata share of the available assets of the estate, he is chargeable with the amount paid above such pro rata share, and interest thereon at such rate as would have been earned if the money had been deposited in a trust company. Philip's Estate, 29 Misc. (N. Y.) 263, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 241. Where a legatee has charged an administrator with the receipt of certain cash, which he has omitted from his inventory of the estate, and after the passage of a consent decree referring the controversy to arbitrators, and providing that, if their finding be against the administrator, he shall be charged with interest on the money, he admits its receipt, and shows that it was disbursed to certain other and special legatees, on his final accounting the administrators should be charged with interest on the money while it was in his possession. McIntire v. McIntire, 14 App. Cas. (D. C.) 337. Interest has also been charged on the balance found to be due the estate upon a settlement. Pettit v. Pettit, 32 Ala. 288; Smith v. Hurd, 8 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 682; In re Brinton, 10 Pa. St. 408. See also Burwell v. Anderson, 3 Leigh (Va.) 348.

When interest should not be charged.— Interest should not be charged against a representative who manages the estate honestly and well for mere neglect to render an account (Binion v. Miller, 27 Ga. 78. See also Blogg v. Johnson, L. R. 2 Ch. 225, 36 L. J. Ch. 859, 16 L. T. Rep. N. S. 306, 15 Wkly. Rep. 626); neither should an executor or administrator be charged absolutely for interest on money in his hands, if it is in dispute to whom he should pay it, and no negligence or bad faith is to be imputed to him (Dilliard v. Tomlinson, 1 Munf. (Va.) 183); nor should unearned interest be charged on a distribution earlier than the regular time (Thrasher v. Lewis, 13 Ky. L. Rep. 926). Interest is not chargeable on money deposited in bank by order of court (Springer v. Oliver, 21 Ga. 517 (or on collections of trifling amount as compared with anticipated outlay (Eubank v. Clark, 78 Ala. 73; Petty v. Taylor, 5 Dana (Ky.) 598) or small balances where neither default in payment nor misconduct appears (Matter of Butler, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 641, 1 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 58; Wood v. Garnett, 6 Leigh (Va.) 271), or on a sum improperly paid by the executor as counsel fees, for which he is refused credit in his account (In re Clauser, 84 Pa. St. 51). Where the representative lived during war in the midst of active hostilities where nearly all business was suspended, he is not readily chargeable for interest not actually received by him. Brent v. Clevinger, 78 Va. 12. Where the executor had no money of the estate, and was compelled to borrow at times to meet the expenses of administration, he should not be held to pay interest on amounts charged to him by reason of his neglecting to collect assets, if he acted honestly and in good faith, and it is not shown that the assets would have realized any interest had he collected them. In re Hall, 70 Vt. 458, 41 Atl. 508. Where testator's will gave his wife the income of his property for life, and the executor invested moneys earned by the estate, the income therefrom being paid to the widow, she was not entitled to charge the executor with interest on the sum invested. Matter of Chapman, 32 Misc. (N. Y.) 187, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 235.

Interim between successive administrations. — Where an administrator died with funds of the estate in his hands, and administration was not granted again for three years, the estate of the first administrator was not liable for interest during the time the estate of his intestate was unrepresented. Davis v. Wright, 2 Hill (S. C.) 560.

Waiver of claim to interest.— Where an administrator's final report accurately indicated the amount of money held by him at different periods during the five years of his administration, such report was sufficient to put persons interested in the estate on inquiry with respect to the administrator's use of the funds and his liability for interest, and their consent to his discharge constituted a of all interest or profit received by him out of the assets of the estate,[39] and may also be charged with interest on an interest-bearing investment made by order of the court, unless it be made to appear that the interest could not be collected by the use of reasonable diligence;[40] but where interest has not been received by him the question recurs as to the exercise of good faith and due diligence on his part as custodian of the particular fund.[41] Where money has been kept on deposit, the representative is chargeable with interest which he might have obtained on such deposit.[42] The allowance of interest against an executor or administrator is within the discretion of the court.[43]

2. FAILURE TO INVEST OR DEPOSIT. An executor or administrator who fails to invest or deposit funds as he might or should have done in the exercise of ordinary care and diligence with the assets is chargeable with interest thereon; and this the more especially if he has been wanting in good faith.[44] A reasonable waiver of their claim thereto. Tucker v. Stewart, 121 Iowa 714, 97 N. W. 148 [withdrawing opinion in 86 N. W. 371].

39. Illinois.— See Haines v. Hay, 169 Ill. 93, 48 N. E. 218 [reversing 67 Ill. App. 445].

Louisiana.— Soldini v. Hyams, 15 La. Ann. 551.

Michigan.— Hall v. Grovier, 25 Mich. 428.

New Hampshire.— Griswold v. Chandler, 5 N. H. 492.

North Carolina.— Pickens v. Miller, 83 N. C. 543; Finch v. Ragland, 17 N. C. 137; Arnett v. Linney, 16 N. C. 369.

Pennsylvania.— Gable's Appeal, 40 Pa. St. 231; Oswald's Appeal, 3 Grant 300.

South Carolina.— McClendon v. Gomillon, Dudley 48.

Tennessee.— Turney v. Williams, 7 Yerg. 172.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 423.

Where usury was stipulated for on a loan, the extra interest should not be charged where the representative has not collected it. White v. White, 3 Dana (Ky.) 374.

Where the administrator is also a distributee he need not account for interest which he has received on his proportion of the fund lent out after he was ready to settle the estate. Spruill v. Cannon, 22 N. C. 400.

40. McIntire v. McIntire, 14 App. Cas. (D. C.) 337.

41. Schieffelin v. Stewart, 1 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 620, 7 Am. Dec. 507; Dunscomb v. Dunscomb, 1 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 508, 7 Am. Dec. 504; Griffin v. Bonham, 9 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 71; Cavendish v. Fleming, 3 Munf. (Va.) 198.

As to a balance on hand for distribution, the representative is not chargeable with interest until after a demand for distribution has been made. Thompson v. Sanders, 6 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 94; Hall v. Sims, 2 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 509.

42. Van Dyke's Appeal, 183 Pa. St. 647, 39 Atl. 2; In re Wirt, 11 York Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 145.

43. In re Gloyd, 93 Iowa 303, 61 N. W. 975; Clyce v. Anderson, 49 Mo. 37; Nicholson v. Whitlock, 57 S. C. 36, 35 S. E. 421.

Court of last domicile should decide such questions. Stevens v. Gaylord, 11 Mass. 256.

Reasonableness of charge.— It was error to arbitrarily charge an administrator, in auditing his account, with interest at ten per cent on all moneys received by him from ten days after receipt thereof, without any investigation as to whether it was reasonable to do so. Howard v. Manning, 65 Ark. 122, 44 S. W. 1126.

Executor indebted to and holding claim against estate.— Where, on an accounting by an executor, it was found that he was indebted to the estate, and that he had a valid claim against the estate for an amount in excess of his indebtedness, it was error to charge him with interest on his debt without allowing him interest on his claim. In re Sutton, 200 Pa. St. 158, 49 Atl. 775.

44. Alabama.— Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227.

Florida.— Eppinger v. Canepa, 20 Fla. 262.

Kentucky.— Jennings v. Davis, 5 Dana 127.

Louisiana.— Saunders' Succession, 37 La. Ann. 769.

Maryland.— Ing v. Baltimore Poor Imp. Assoc., 21 Md. 425.

New Hampshire.—Bartlett v. Fitz, 59 N. H. 502.

New Jersey.— Fluck v. Lake, 54 N. J. Eq. 638, 35 Atl. 643; Frey v. Frey, 17 N. J. Eq. 71.

New York.— Blauvelt v. De Noyelles, 25 Hun 590; Matter of Phip, 29 Misc. 263, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 241; Williamson v. Williamson, 6 Paige 298; Dunscomb v. Dunscomb, 1 Johns. Ch. 508, 7 Am. Dec. 504.

Pennsylvania.— Bruner's Appeal, 57 Pa. St. 46; Mayberry's Appeal, 33 Pa. St. 258; Light's Appeal, 24 Pa. St. 180; McGonnigh's Estate, 31 Pittsb. L. J. 28.

South Carolina.—Lenoir v. Winn, 4 Desauss. 65, 6 Am. Dec. 597; Darrel v. Eden, 3 Desauss. 241, 4 Am. Dec. 613; Stock v. Stock, 1 Desauss. 191.

Tennessee.— Turney v. Williams, 7 Yerg. 172.

Vermont.— Riley v. McInlear, 61 Vt. 254, 17 Atl. 729, 19 Atl. 996.

Virginia.— Handly v. Snodgrass, 9 Leigh 484.

United States.— Hook v. Payne, 14 Wall. 252, 20 L. ed. 887.

England.— Gresley v. Heathcote, 3 L. J. Ch. O. S. 107.

period may be allowed him for exercising this duty, at the expiration of which his liability becomes fixed.[45] But a court disinclines to charge the personal representative, aside from statute, where his conduct was honest and not unreasonable, if he has made no personal use of the fund, where circumstances justify him in not actively investing or placing it at interest, and even where he was merely inert in failing to do so.[46]

3. Improper Use of Funds. An executor or administrator who appropriates money of the estate to his own use is properly charged with interest thereon,[47] and mingling trust moneys with those which the fiduciary owns as an individual

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 424.

The representative should be charged with interest where he suffers funds to lie idle, while outstanding demands draw interest (Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227), neglects unreasonably long to invest or deposit, after being directed or authorized to do so by a court (Nunn v. Nunn, 66 Ala. 35; Monk v. Pinckney, 9 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 279) or by the decedent's will (Benson v. Bruce, 4 Desauss. (S. C.) 463; Jenkins v. Fickling, 4 Desauss. (S. C.) 369; Lenoir v. Winn, 4 Desauss. (S. C.) 65, 6 Am. Dec. 597; Handly v. Snodgrass, 9 Leigh (Va.) 484; Garrett v. Carr, 3 Leigh (Va.) 407), or keeps funds of the estate unproductive, when they ought reasonably to have been made productive (Blake v. Pegram, 100 Mass. 541; Darrel v. Eden, 3 Desauss. (S. C.) 241, 4 Am. Dec. 613; Riley v. McInlear, 61 Vt. 254, 17 Atl. 729, 19 Atl. 996; Hook v. Payne, 14 Wall. (U. S.) 252, 20 L. ed. 887), or where he knows that balances will be long in his hands before he pays over (Sunday's Appeal, 131 Pa. St. 584, 18 Atl. 931; Woods v. Creditors, 4 Vt. 256), or his excuse is trivial and not pertinent to the issue (Duncan v. Dent, 5 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 7).

Withdrawing the fund from where it drew interest safely, and keeping it idle is an unfavorable circumstance. Matter of Bradley, 2 N. Y. Suppl. 751, 1 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 106.

Estoppel to deny performance of duty to invest see Saunders' Succession, 37 La. Ann. 769.

45. Nunn v. Nunn, 66 Ala. 35 (six months); Chase v. Lockerman, 11 Gill & J. (Md.) 185, 35 Am. Dec. 277 (more than a year); Mulford v. Mulford, (N. J. Ch. 1902) 53 Atl. 79; Gilman v. Gilman, 2 Lans. (N. Y.) 1; De Peyster v. Clarkson, 2 Wend. (N. Y.) 77 (six months); Cogswell v. Cogswell, 2 Edw. (N. Y.) 231 (one year).

For statutes applicable to such cases see Moore v. Felkel, 7 Fla. 44; Clifford v. Davis, 22 Ill. App. 316; Christy's Succession, 6 La. Ann. 427.

46. Georgia.— Springer v. Oliver, 21 Ga. 517.

Kentucky.— Webb v. Conn, Litt. Sel. Cas. 475.

Missouri.— Scudder v. Ames, 89 Mo. 496, 14 S. W. 525.

New Hampshire.— Lund v. Lund, 41 N. H. 355.

New York.— Matter of Clark, 16 Misc. 405, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 722; Matter of Black, 19 N. Y. Suppl. 260, 6 Dem. Surr. 331; Burtis v. Dodge, 1 Barb. Ch. 77.

Pennsylvania.— Johnston's Appeal, 8 Pa. St. 205, 11 Atl. 78.

Virginia.— Carter v. Cutting, 5 Munf. 223.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 424.

Where the representative may have to pay over funds very soon, he is not required to invest them and is not liable for interest. Sunday's Appeal, 131 Pa. St. 584, 18 Atl. 931; Woods v. Creditors, 4 Vt. 256.

Where an application for an order to lend has been refused by the court the representative cannot thereafter be charged with interest on the money. Ex p. Walsh, 26 Md. 495.

47. Alabama.— Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227.

Iowa.— In re Brown, 113 Iowa 351, 85 N. W. 617.

New Jersey.— Fluck v. Lake, 54 N. J. Eq. 638, 35 Atl. 643.

New York.— Matter of Adams, 51 N. Y. App. Div. 619, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 591 [modifying 30 Misc. 184, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 751, and affirmed in 166 N. Y. 623, 59 N. E. 1118].

Pennsylvania.— Heck's Estate, 31 Pittsb. Leg. J. 347.

Tennessee.— Turney v. Williams, 7 Yerg. 172.

Canada.— Smith v. Roe, 11 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 311, loan by executors to themselves.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 425.

Affidavit not denying use.— Where an administrator, wishing to avoid the payment of interest on the funds in his hands, makes affidavit "that he always had on hand, or within his immediate control, a sum sufficient to pay the amount due by him as administrator," but does not deny that he used the trust funds, he is chargeable with interest. Farmer v. Farmer, 26 Ala. 671.

Failure to account for the funds raises a presumption of private use and misapplication by the fiduciary. Camp v. Camp, 74 Mo. 192.

Presumption of use for profit.— A presumption arises from the representative's so using the funds of the estate that he intended to use them for his own profit, but this presumption may be repelled by the evidence. In re Beideman, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 66.

Debt due by representative.— The penalty imposed on an executor for improper use of the funds of an estate cannot be imposed on the amount of a debt due by him individually to himself officially, which is not shown to is so reprehensible that the executor or administrator who blends the funds of the estate with his own or uses the same in his business is chargeable with interest during the whole time of such mingling and indiscriminate use.[48] But the distributees or other beneficiaries of the estate may elect either to charge the per-have been actually paid. In re Dimmick, 111 La. 655, 33 So. 801.

48. Alabama.— Ivey v. Coleman, 42 Ala. 409.

Arkansas.— Ringgold v. Stone, 20 Ark. 526.

California.— Herterman's Estate, 73 Cal. 545, 15 Pac. 121; In re Stott, Myr. Prob. 168.

District of Columbia.— Mades v. Miller, 2 App. Cas. 455.

Illinois.— Whitney v. Peddicord, 63 Ill. 249. But see In re Schofield, 99 Ill. 513.

Indiana.— Johnson v. Hedrick, 33 Ind. 129, 5 Am. Rep. 191.

Kentucky.— Grigsby v. Wilkinson, 9 Bush 91; Weir v. Weir, 3 B. Mon. 645, 39 Am. Dec. 487; Webb v. Conn, Litt. Sel. Cas. 475.

Maine.— Paine v. Paulk, 39 Me. 15.

Maryland.— Gwynn v. Dorsey, 4 Gill & J. 453.

Massachusetts.— Stearns v. Brown, 1 Pick. 530.

Mississippi.— Troup v. Rice, 55 Miss. 278.

Missouri.— Cruce v. Cruce, 81 Mo. 676; In re Burke, 96 Mo. App. 295, 70 S. W. 156; Ulrici v. Boeckeler, 72 Mo. App. 661.

New Hampshire.— Griswold v. Chandler, 5 N. H. 492.

New Jersey.— Hetfield v. Debaud, 54 N. J. Eq. 371, 34 Atl. 882; Aldridge v. McClelland, 36 N. J. Eq. 288.

New York.— Matter of Stanton, 41 Misc. 278, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 46; Manning v. Manning, 1 Johns. Ch. 527; Garniss v. Gardiner, 1 Edw. 128; Ogilvie v. Ogilvie, 1 Bradf. Surr. 356; Hood's Estate, Tuck. Surr. 396. See also Matter of Mairs, 4 Redf. Surr. 160.

North Carolina.—Peyton v. Smith, 22 N. C. 325.

Ohio.— Cooch v. Irwin, 7 Ohio St. 22.

Pennsylvania.— In re Clauser, 84 Pa. St. 51; Robinett's Appeal, 36 Pa. St. 174; Fox v. Wilcocks, 1 Binn. 194, 2 Am. Dec. 433; Flynn's Estate, 21 Pa. Super. Ct. 126; Myers' Estate, 13 Pa. Super. Ct. 476; Sourin's Estate, 11 Phila. 14.

Tennessee.— Turney v. Williams, 7 Yerg. 172.

Vermont.— Walworth v. Bartholomew, 76 Vt. 1, 56 Atl. 101; Davis v. Eastman, 68 Vt. 225, 35 Atl. 73.

United States.— Union Bank v. Smith, 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,352, 4 Cranch C. C. 509.

England.— Melland v. Gray, 2 Call 295, 33 Eng. Ch. 295; Goodchild v. Tenton, 3 Y. & J. 481.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 425.

Evidence of wrongful intent not essential. — In re Stott, 52 Cal. 403; Wolfort v. Reilly, 133 Mo. 463, 34 S. W. 847.

Deposit in bank in which representative interested.— The representative has been held not liable for interest merely because he deposited money of the estate in a bank of which he was president (Matter of Johnson, 57 N. Y. App. Div. 494, 67 N. Y. Suppl. 1004. But compare Matter of McKay, 5 Misc. (N. Y.) 123, 25 N. Y. Suppl. 725) or cashier (see Matter of Sudds, 32 Misc. (N. Y.) 182, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 231), but it has been held otherwise when the deposit was in his own private bank (Johnson v. Pulver, 1 Nebr. (Unoff.) 290, 95 N. W. 697; Matter of Thorp, 31 Misc. (N. Y.) 581, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 575; Dolan's Estate, 15 Pa. Super. Ct. 20) or with a banking firm of which he was a member (In re Brewster, 113 Mich. 561, 71 N. W. 1085).

Lending to one's own firm or corporation is a misapplication. St. Paul Trust Co. v. Kittson, 62 Minn. 408, 65 N. W. 74; In re Myers, 131 N. Y. 409, 30 N. E. 135; Du Bois v. Brown, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 317; Prescott's Estate, Tuck. Surr. (N. Y.) 430; Cannon v. Apperson, 14 Lea (Tenn.) 553.

Paying mortgage on property in which representative interested.— Where an administrator converted dividend-paying stock of the estate into money, and paid off a mortgage on real estate in which he was interested as heir, and the payment was disallowed, he was charged with interest on the amount from the day of payment, including the period of litigation. Mount v. Van Ness, 35 N. J. Eq. 113.

Mingling with funds of strangers.— An administrator who mingles the funds of the estate with those of strangers in his possession and under his control may be charged with interest thereon, although he receives no individual benefit therefrom. Westover v. Carman, 49 Nebr. 397, 68 N. W. 501.

When interest not chargeable.— Where an executor was garnished, and during the four years for which he held the funds occasionally mingled them with his own for a short time and in no certain amount, but had the amount always at hand and ready to be taken, and the money in his hands had never earned any interest, and the time when the money might be payable under the garnishment was uncertain, it was error to charge him with interest. Candee v. Skinner, 40 Conn. 464. Where an executor took goods from his own store and added to the stock of his intestate, in order to make the intestate's stock bring more, and the goods so furnished were not kept separate from the others, and the proceeds of the sale of both were deposited alike in his own name, but it was not charged that he received interest on the trust funds, or unreasonably detained them, he was not chargeable with interest thereon. Field v. Colton, 7 Ill. App. 379. An administrator will not be charged with interest where it is not certain that he used the money of the estate, there being only a suspicion that he did. Grant v. Edwards, 93 N. C. 488.

sonal representative with interest during the whole period, or with the profits actually accruing from his misapplication if these can be ascertained.[49]

4. Delay in Settling Estate. Where there has been long and culpable delay by the representative in accounting or in settling the estate and distributing the residue, interest is chargeable after a reasonable time has elapsed;[50] but the representative should not be charged with interest not actually received where the delay was not unreasonable under the circumstances of the case,[51] or was not due to any culpable neglect or misconduct on his part, but was otherwise occasioned, as by some needful judicial preliminaries, the sickness or absence of the judge,

49. Alabama.— Harrison v. Harrison, 39 Ala. 489.

Arkansas.—Ringgold v. Stone, 20 Ark. 526.

Illinois.—Whitney v. Peddicord, 63 Ill. 249.

Minnesota.— St. Paul Trust Co. v. Kittson, 62 Minn. 408, 65 N. W. 74.

Mississippi.— Anderson v. Gregg, 44 Miss. 170; Crowder v. Shackelford, 35 Miss. 321.

Missouri.— Julian v. Wrightsman, 73 Mo. 569.

New Jersey.— Boulton v. Scott, 3 N. J. Eq. 231.

New York.— Brown v. Rickets, 4 Johns. Ch. 303, 8 Am. Dec. 567.

Pennsylvania.— Robinett's Appeal, 36 Pa. St. 174.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 425.

50. Alabama.— Noble v. Jackson, 124 Ala. 311, 26 So. 955; Clark v. Hughes, 71 Ala. 163; Mims v. Mims, 39 Ala. 716; Harrison v. Harrison, 39 Ala. 489.

Arkansas.— Jacoway v. Hall, 67 Ark. 340, 55 S. W. 12.

California.— In re Hilliard, 83 Cal. 423, 23 Pac. 393. See also In re Armstrong, 125 Cal. 603, 58 Pac. 183.

Idaho.— Harris v. Coates, 8 Ida. 491, 69 Pac. 475.

Illinois.—Marshall v. Coleman, 187 Ill. 556, 58 N. E. 628 [modifying 89 Ill. App. 41].

Kentucky.— Blakey v. Blakey, 3 J. J. Marsh. 674; Crawford v. Thomas, 54 S. W. 197, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 1100; Clark v. Newman, 1 S. W. 880, 8 Ky. L. Rep. 515. See also Nixon v. Nixon, 8 Dana 5.

Maryland.— Lyles v. Hatton, 6 Gill & J. 122.

Michigan.— Hall v. Grovier, 25 Mich. 428.

Missouri.— In re Danforth, 66 Mo. App. 586.

Montana.— See In re Ricker, 14 Mont. 153, 35 Pac. 960, 29 L. R. A. 622.

New York.— Dunford v. Weaver, 84 N. Y. 445; Hasler v. Hasler, 1 Bradf. Surr. 248.

Ohio.— Cooch v. Irwin, 7 Ohio St. 22. See also In re Thornton, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 151.

Pennsylvania.—Wilson's Appeal, 8 Pa .Cas. 579, 11 Atl. 678; Fow's Estate, 3 Pa. Dist. 316, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 648.

South Carolina.— Tucker v. Richards, 58 S. C. 22, 36 S. E. 3.

Tennessee.— Davis v. Jackson, (Ch. App. 1897) 39 S. W. 1067; Turney v. Williams, 7 Yerg. 172.

Texas.— McKinney v. Nunn, 82 Tex. 44, 17 S. W. 516.

West Virginia.— Van Winkle v. Blackford, 54 W. Va. 621, 46 S. E. 589.

United States.— McIntire v. McIntire, 192 U. S. 116, 24 S. Ct. 196, 48 L. ed. 369 [affirming 20 App. Cas. (D. C.) 134].

England.— Holgate v. Haworth, 17 Beav. 259; Franklin v. Frith, 3 Bro. Ch. 433, 29 Eng. Reprint 627; Littlehales v. Gascoyne, 3 Bro. Ch. 73, 29 Eng. Reprint 416; Kildare v. Hopson, 4 Bro. P. C. 550, 2 Eng. Reprint 374.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 426.

Failure to pay debt.— Where an administrator appointed Aug. 31, 1895, had a considerable amount of money and cotton belonging to the estate on hand on Jan. 21, 1896, and knew that the principal part of the money in his hands would be credited on a bond which he held against the estate bearing a high rate of interest, he should be charged with interest on the amount in his hands on Jan. 1, 1896, after deducting all expenditures made by him prior to Aug. 31, 1896. Nicholson v. Whitlock, 57 S. C. 36, 35 S. E. 412.

Failure to bring into court.— When the assets of an estate are ordered to be brought into court, and are subsequently intrusted to receivers, by consent of all parties, to be invested pending a contest over the validity of the will, an administrator with the will annexed is chargeable with interest on money retained by him, where it is not shown that it was used or kept for the necessary benefit of the estate. McIntire v. McIntire, 14 App. Cas. (D. C.) 337.

Demand for settlement not necessary.— Haskins v. Martin, 103 Ill. App. 115.

Death of representative.— Where delay in settling an administrator's account after his death is not due to his method of handling the estate, or chargeable to his estate, it will be considered settled as of the date of his death, and his estate will be charged with simple interest only on the balance in his hands at the time. Walworth v. Bartholomew, 76 Vt. 1, 56 Atl. 101.

Damages beyond interest cannot be charged where the delay in the settlement of the estate resulted in no loss to the heirs. In re Armstrong, 125 Cal. 603, 58 Pac. 183.

Penalties for failure to account, etc., are provided by statute in Louisiana. See In re Dimmick, 111 La. 655, 35 So. 801; Conery's Succession, 111 La. 113, 35 So. 479.

51. Siniard v. Green, 123 Ala. 527, 26 So. 661.

litigation, or interference among rival claimants to the fund, the non-ascertainment of those actually entitled, the fact that the person entitled could not be found, or similar causes, and he has not used or made any profit on the funds in his hands.[52]

5. Reserving For Contingencies. An executor or administrator is not necessarily liable to pay interest on a reasonable sum retained in his hands or on deposit to meet expenses and pay judgments recovered against the estate, or so as to abide the contingencies of some litigation concerning assets and the title of parties claimant;[53] but circumstances may arise where, not having procured the protection of the probate court, he may make himself chargeable for interest which the fund would fairly have earned had he dealt prudently with the assets.[54]

6. Time From Which Interest Runs. The time from which an executor or administrator will be charged with interest must depend to a large extent upon the circumstances of the particular case.[55] A reasonable time to collect and apply money or to render accounts should be allowed before interest is charged,[56] and so also a reasonable time should be allowed after appointment or receiving a fund before the representative should be held obliged to make interest, and hence he is not chargeable with interest meanwhile if he receives none.[57] Interest ought not as a rule to be required from him before he actually receives the fund, nor upon an interest-bearing security before the interest thereon begins properly to

52. Alabama.— Kenan v. Graham, 135 Ala. 585, 33 So. 699; Johnson v. Holifield, 82 Ala. 123, 2 So. 753.

California.— In re Seligman, Myr. Prob. 8.

Georgia.— Rogers v. Bottsford, 44 Ga. 652; Binion v. Miller, 27 Ga. 78.

Kentucky.— Miller v. Simpson, 8 Ky. L. Rep. 518, 2 S. W. 171.

Massachusetts.— Forward v. Forward, 6 Allen 494; Lamb v. Lamb, 11 Pick. 371.

Missouri.— In re Davis, 62 Mo. 450.

New Jersey.— In re Corle, 61 N. J. Eq. 409, 48 Atl. 1027.

North Carolina.— Roper v. Burton, 107 N. C. 526, 12 S. E. 334; Smith v. Smith, 101 N. C. 461, 8 S. E. 128, 131, 133.

Pennsylvania.— Reed's Estate, 22 Pa. Super. Ct. 635; In re Breeswine, 11 York Leg. Rec. 141.

Virginia.— Fitzgerald v. Jones, 1 Munf. 150.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 426.

53. Alabama.— Noble v. Jackson, 124 Ala. 311, 26 So. 955.

Georgia.— Doster v. Arnold, 60 Ga. 316.

Maryland.— Wilson v. Wilson, 3 Gill & J. 20.

Missouri.— Booker v. Armstrong, 93 Mo. 49, 4 S. W. 727.

North Carolina.— Hester v. Hester, 38 N. C. 9; Downey v. Smith, 17 N. C. 535.

Pennsylvania.— Davis' Appeal, 23 Pa. St. 206.

South Carolina.— Pace v. Burton, 1 McCord Eq. 247.

United States.— Wade v. Wade, 28 Fed. Cas. No. 17,030, 1 Wash. 477.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 427.

The burden of proof is on an administrator, who, retaining funds to meet probable liabilities of the estate, would avoid being charged with interest, to show that he kept the funds unemployed, and that it was prudent to do so. Burnside v. Robertson, 28 S. C. 583, 6 S. E. 843. But compare Chesnut v. Strong, 2 Hill Eq. (S. C.) 146.

54. Georgia.— Doster v. Arnold, 60 Ga. 316.

Maryland.— Monteith v. Baltimore Poor Imp. Assoc., 21 Md. 426; Lyles v. Hatton, 6 Gill & J. 122.

New York.— Dunscomb v. Dunscomb, 1 Johns. Ch. 508, 7 Am. Dec. 504.

Pennsylvania.— In re Lloyd, 82 Pa. St. 143; Foster v. Harris, 10 Pa. St. 457.

Vermont.— Spaulding v. Wakefield, 53 Vt. 660, 38 Am. Rep. 709.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 427.

55. See the following cases:

California.— In re Marre, 127 Cal. 128, 59 Pac. 385.

Kentucky.— Wood v. Nelson, 10 B. Mon. 229; Moore v. Beauchamp, 4 B. Mon. 71.

New York.—Sherwood v. Wooster, 11 Paige 441.

Pennsylvania.— Gable's Appeal, 40 Pa. St. 231; Flintham's Appeal, 11 Serg. & R. 16; Reed's Estate, 22 Pa. Super. Ct. 635; Kline's Estate, 8 Lanc. L. Rev. 356.

Virginia.— Peale v. Hickle, 9 Gratt. 437.

United States.— Pulliam v. Pulliam, 10 Fed. 53; Norman v. Storer, 18 Fed. Cas. No. 10,301, 1 Blatchf. 593.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 428.

56. Maryland.— Gwynn v. Dorsey, 4 Gill & J. 453.

Pennsylvania.— Bitzer v. Hahn, 14 Serg. & R. 232.

South Carolina.— Taveau v. Ball, 1 McCord Eq. 456.

Virginia.— Dilliard v. Tomlinson, 1 Munf. 183.

United States.— Pulliam v. Pulliam, 10 Fed. 53.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 428.

57. Georgia.— Allen v. Hardee, 30 Ga. 463.

Illinois.— In re Schofield, 99 Ill. 513.

run, unless interest comes to his hands or he has converted the fund to his personal use.[58] Where the representative has applied funds of the estate to his own use and profit, he may be charged with interest from the time he received the same,[59] or even from the time of the decedent's death,[60] and a charge of interest from the time of the receipt of the fund may be proper in other cases of neglect or misconduct.[61]

7. Rate of Interest. In general the personal representative if liable for interest is liable simply for the current interest that may be fairly obtained, or else for the interest he has actually made;[62] but the circumstances of each case should be considered in determining the rate to be charged.[63] Where the representative has merely neglected to make the fund productive, the court may not

Kentucky.— Weir v. Weir, 3 B. Mon. 645, 39 Am. Dec. 487.

Maryland.— Smithers v. Hooper, 23 Md. 273.

Mississippi.—Brandon v. Hoggatt, 32 Miss. 335.

New Jersey.— Frey v. Frey, 17 N. J. Eq. 71.

New York.— Gilman v. Gilman, 2 Lans. 1; Matter of Mapes, 5 Dem. Surr. 446.

Pennsylvania.— Fox v. Wilcocks, 1 Binn. 194, 2 Am. Dec. 433; Matter of Merrick, 1 Ashm. 305.

South Carolina.—Brooks v. Brooks, 12 S. C. 422; Davis v. Wright, 2 Hill 560; Taveau v. Ball, 1 McCord Eq. 456.

Virginia.— Rosser v. Depriest, 5 Gratt. 6, 50 Am. Dec. 94.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 428.

58. Dyer v. Jacoway, 50 Ark. 217, 6 S. W. 902; In re Sarment, 123 Cal. 331, 53 Pac. 1015; McCall v. Peachy, 3 Munf. (Va.) 288; Hooper v. Hooper, 32 W. Va. 326, 9 S. E. 937; Reitz v. Bennett, 6 W. Va. 417.

59. Gwynn v. Dorsey, 4 Gill & J. (Md.) 453.

60. In re Myers, 131 N. Y. 409, 30 N. E. 135, 508 [modifying 58 Hun 173, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 543, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 535]. See also Bassett v. Maryland Fidelity, etc., Co., 184 Mass. 210, 68 N. E. 205.

61. Jackson v. Shields, 87 N. C. 437; Arnett v. Linney, 16 N. C. 369, holding that where an executor neglects to render proper accounts, and to swear that he has not made a profit on the funds in his hands, he will be charged with interest on receipts from the time they came in.

62. Illinois.— Hough v. Harvey, 71 Ill. 72.

New Jersey.— Voorhees v. Stoothoff, 11 N. J. L. 145. But see Frey v. Demarest, 17 N. J. Eq. 71, holding that an administrator is not entitled to a diminution in the legal rate of interest upon funds retained in his hands uninvested on the ground that it would have been difficult to invest in his neighborhood small sums except at less than the legal rate.

New York.— In re Myers, 131 N. Y. 409, 30 N. E. 135; Young v. Brush, 28 N. Y. 667; Matter of Mairs, 4 Redf. Surr. 160; Haskin v. Teller, 3 Redf. Surr. 316.

North Carolina.— See Grant v. Edwards, 92 N. C. 442.

Pennsylvania.—English v. Harvey, 2 Rawle 305.

South Carolina.— Turnipseed v. Sirrine, 60 S. C. 272, 38 S. E. 423.

Virginia.— Wills v. Dunn, 5 Gratt. 384.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 429.

63. King v. Talbot, 40 N. Y. 76.

Illustrative cases.— For rulings as to the proper rate of interest to be charged under the particular circumstances of each case see the following cases:

Illinois.— Marshall v. Coleman, 187 Ill. 556, 58 N. E. 628 [modifying 89 Ill. App. 41].

Missouri.— Ulrici v. Boeckeler, 72 Mo. App. 661; James v. Withinton, 7 Mo. App. 575.

New York.— Matter of Stanton, 41 Misc. 278, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 46; Matter of Downs, 39 Misc. 621, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 659; Matter of Scudder, 21 Misc. 179, 47 N. Y. Suppl. 101; Matter of Knower, 1 N. Y. St. 482.

Pennsylvania.— Bollinger's Estate, 10 Pa. Dist. 223.

England.—Heathcote v. Hulme, 1 Jac. & W. 122, 20 Rev. Rep. 248, 37 Eng. Reprint 322; Gresley v. Heathcote, 3 L. J. Ch. O. S. 107; Re Jones, 49 L. T. Rep. N. S. 91; Piety v. Stace, 4 Ves. Jr. 620, 31 Eng. Reprint 319; Williams v. Williams, 1 Wkly. Rep. 237.

Canada.— Fielder v. O'Hara, 14 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 223; Smith v. Roe, 11 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 311.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 429.

Agreement to pay interest.— Where it is agreed by executors and an objectant to their account "that the executors shall be charged with interest on all unexpended balances," the interest is chargeable at the legal rate, although the executors may have the money deposited at a lower rate. In re Meikle, 20 N. Y. Suppl. 88, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 97.

Refusal of beneficiaries to accept investment.— Where minor heirs have the right on coming of age to refuse to accept investments of trust funds for their benefit made by the executors, and to require the executors to pay the amount of such funds, the rate of interest with which the executors should be charged is six per cent, with annual rests. King v. Talbot, 40 N. Y. 76.

Sum too small for investment.— Where the sum held by an executor in trust is too small visit him with a heavy penalty, while if he has used the money for his own purposes, or has otherwise misconducted himself in the use of it, a higher rate of interest may be imposed.[64]

8. Computation. In charging an executor or administrator with interest on funds in his hands at a final settlement, his commission or recompense, or if he is a distributee his distributive share, should be deducted before a balance is struck and the interest is finally computed against him.[65] Where no account is rendered as to funds which should have been placed at interest, either as to their disposition or as to what was actually received, the representative ought to be charged, as nearly as the sum can be ascertained, with all he might have made or received in the honest exercise of due diligence and exertion, periodical computation being made less the proper deductions.[66] It is proper to make periodical rests for computing balances and charging interest, and annual rests are common in such cases, although the length of periodical rests will depend on circumstances,[67] and a balance should be struck between the receipts for a given period, as a year, and payments and charges for that period.[68]

9. Compound Interest. If compound interest has been received by the representative, he must of course account for it;[69] but otherwise compound interest is rarely charged against an executor or administrator by way of penalty, unless something more appears than ordinary neglect of duty,[70] although where there has been a wilful breach of trust or gross delinquency, or where the representa-to allow an advantageous investment on mortgage, he is not chargeable with any more than the interest paid to him on the fund by a savings bank. Collyer v. Collyer, 6 N. Y. St. 693.

64. Iowa.— In re Young, 97 Iowa 218, 66 N. W. 163; Lommen v. Tobiason, 52 Iowa 665, 3 N. W. 715.

Massachusetts.— Brigham v. Morgan, 185 Mass. 27, 69 N. E. 418.

Missouri.— In re Davis, 62 Mo. 450; James v. Withinton, 7 Mo. App. 575.

Montana.— See In re Ricker, 14 Mont. 153, 35 Pac. 960, 29 L. R. A. 622.

New Jersey.— Salisbury v. Colt, 27 N. J. Eq. 492.

Pennsylvania.— Flynn's Estate, 21 Pa. Super. Ct. 126.

Vermont.— Spaulding v. Wakefield, 53 Vt. 660, 38 Am. Rep. 709.

England.— Woodhead v. Marriott, C. P. Coop. 62; Heathcote v. Hulme, 1 Jac. & W. 122, 20 Rev. Rep. 248, 37 Eng. Reprint 322; Rocke v. Hart, 11 Ves. Jr. 58, 32 Eng. Reprint 1009.

Canada.— Fielder v. O'Hara, 14 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 223; Smith v. Roe, 11 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 311.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 429.

Discretion of court as to rate see Cuffe v. Cuffe, 3 Ir. Eq. 469; Flanagan v. Nolan, 1 Molloy 84.

Allowance of less than rate provided for by statute.— In an action for an account against an executor, although he has grossly abused his trust and is liable under the statute for ten per cent interest, a less rate, if prayed for, may be allowed. Bass v. Chambliss, 9 La. Ann. 376.

65. Miller v. Simpson, 2 S. W. 171, 8 Ky. L. Rep. 518; Mathis v. Mathis, 18 N. J. L. 59; Callaghan v. Hall, 1 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 241.

66. Voorhees v. Stoothoff, 11 N. J. L. 145; Spear v. Tinkham, 2 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 211; Richardson v. Richardson, 9 Pa. St. 428; Heister's Appeal, 7 Pa. St. 455.

67. Florida.— Young v. McKinnie, 5 Fla. 542.

Kentucky.— Clemens v. Caldwell, 7 B. Mon. 171; Johnson v. Beauchamp, 5 Dana 70, triennial rests.

New Jersey.— McKnight v. Walsh, 24 N. J. Eq. 498.

South Carolina.— Buerhaus v. De Saussure, 41 S. C. 457, 19 S. E. 926, 20 S. E. 64; Dixon v. Hunter, 3 Hill 204; Oswald v. Givens, Riley Eq. 38; Black v. Blakely, 2 McCord Eq. 1.

Virginia.— Burwell v. Anderson, 3 Leigh 348.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 431.

68. Koon v. Munro, 11 S. C. 139; Pettus v. Clawson, 4 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 92.

Where disbursements exceed receipts in a particular year the amount on which the administrator is to be charged interest is to be determined by adding to the annual balance in his hands on January 1 the receipts for that year and deducting from the result the amount of the disbursements during the year. Tucker v. Richards, 58 S. C. 22, 36 S. E. 3.

69. Hester v. Hester, 38 N. C. 9; Ryan v. Blount, 16 N. C. 382; Edmonds v. Crenshaw, Harp. Eq. (S. C.) 224.

70. Alabama.— Smith v. Kennard, 38 Ala. 695; Powell v. Powell, 10 Ala. 900.

California.— In re Sarment, 123 Cal. 331, 55 Pac. 1015.

Kentucky.—Johnson v. Beauchamp, 5 Dana 70.

tive has mingled the trust funds with his own or used the same for his own benefit, in order to derive profit therefrom, a charge of compound interest may be proper.[71]

G. Loans. Aside from a loan made under due authority as an investment, an executor or administrator who lends to other persons the money or assets in his hands does so at his own individual risk and may be held personally liable as for conversion or to make good a resulting loss.[72] But it has been held that the executor or administrator may in proper case lend or advance to a distributee

Massachusetts.— Forbes v. Allen, 166 Mass. 569, 44 N. E. 1065; Chapin v. Waters, 116 Mass. 140.

Mississippi.— Crowder v. Shackelford, 35 Miss. 321.

Missouri.— Scudder v. Ames, 89 Mo. 496, 14 S. W. 525.

New Jersey.— Frost v. Denman, 41 N. J. Eq. 47, 2 Atl. 926; King v. Berry, 3 N. J. Eq. 261.

New York.— Thorn v. Garner, 42 Hun 507; Lansing v. Lansing, 45 Barb. 182; Ackerman v. Emott, 4 Barb. 626; Garniss v. Gardiner, 1 Edw. 128; In re Kennedy, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 552, 2 Connoly Surr. 216; Freeman v. Freeman, 4 Redf. Surr. 211.

North Carolina.— Mitchell v. Robards, 17 N. C. 478.

Pennsylvania.— English v. Harvey, 2 Rawle 305; Matter of McCall, 1 Ashm. 357; Fink's Estate, 4 Phila. 191.

South Carolina.— Wright v. Wright, 2 McCord Eq. 185; Black v. Blakely, 2 McCord Eq. 1.

Virginia.— Lovett v. Thomas, 81 Va. 245; Kelly v. Love, 20 Gratt. 124. See also Sheppard v. Starke, 3 Munf. 29.

West Virginia.— Van Winkle v. Blackford, 54 W. Va. 621, 46 S. E. 589.

Canada.— See Inglis v. Beaty, 2 Ont. App. 453.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 432.

Production of new principal.— An administrator will be charged with compound interest only where a new principal has been produced by the settlement of the accounts, by a judgment, or by express agreement. In re Wilson, 1 Pa. Co. Ct. 509.

Funds retained pursuant to testamentary directions.— Where an executor held property of the estate for fifteen years, and did not obtain interest thereon, but used the funds in his own business, the retention having been made in pursuance to an instruction in the will that distribution should not be made until all the heirs attained their majority, he was not chargeable with compound interest on the funds so retained. Cruce v. Cruce, 81 Mo. 676.

Keeping on deposit.— The fact that an administrator kept the funds of the estate on deposit in a bank managed by his brother, who was surety on his bond, and that such funds were used by the bank as the funds of other depositors, does not show that he embezzled the funds, so as to justify charging him with compound interest. In re Sarment, 123 Cal. 331, 55 Pac. 1015.

71. Alabama.— Smith v. Kennard, 38 Ala. 695.

California.— Merrifield v. Longmire, 66 Cal. 180, 4 Pac. 1176; In re Clark, 53 Cal. 355, even though the representative was always ready to respond on demand.

Kentucky.— Clemens v. Caldwell, 7 B. Mon. 171.

Massachusetts.— Fay v. Howe, 1 Pick. 527.

Mississippi.— Troup v. Rice, 55 Miss. 278.

Missouri.— Camp v. Camp, 74 Mo. 192.

New Jersey.— Male v. Williams, 48 N. J. Eq. 33, 21 Atl. 854; McKnight v. Walsh, 23 N. J. Eq. 136.

New York.— Gilman v. Gilman, 2 Lans. 1; Schieffelin v. Stewart, 1 Johns. Ch. 620, 7 Am. Dec. 507; Berwick v. Halsey, 4 Redf. Surr. 18.

North Carolina.— Swindall v. Swindall, 43 N. C. 285.

Vermont.— Foster v. Stone, 67 Vt. 336, 31 Atl. 841.

West Virginia.— Van Winkle v. Blackford, 54 W. Va. 621, 46 S. E. 589.

Canada.— See Inglis v. Beaty, 2 Ont. App. 453.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 432.

Compound interest not necessarily chargeable for mingling see Perkins v. Hollister, 59 Vt. 348, 7 Atl. 605.

72. Alabama.— Walls v. Grigsby, 42 Ala. 473; Gerald v. Bunkley, 17 Ala. 170; Tomkies v. Reynolds, 17 Ala. 109.

California.— Tomkins v. Weeks, 26 Cal. 50; In re Lacoste, Myr. Prob. 67.

Illinois.— Wadsworth v. Connell, 104 Ill. 369; Caruthers v. Caruthers, 99 Ill. App. 402.

Indiana.— State v. Johnson, 7 Blackf. 529.

Mississippi.—Cason v. Cason, 31 Miss. 578.

Missouri.— Garesche v. Priest, 78 Mo. 126.

New Jersey.— Vreeland v. Vreeland, 16 N. J. Eq. 512.

Virginia.— McCall v. Peachy, 3 Munf. 288.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 433.

The representative may be liable for interest to the beneficiaries. Cason v. Cason, 31 Miss. 578. But see Moore's Estate, 72 Cal. 335, 13 Pac. 880, holding that the representative should not be charged with interest agreed to be paid on such loan unless he has collected or could have collected the same. And see, generally, supra, VIII, F.

Deposit amounting to loan.— Where an administrator deposits the funds of the estate he represents in a bank, and receives a certificate payable to his order at a specified time after its date, with interest, such a deposit upon the security of his interest,[73] or in the exercise of due prudence lend to a failing debtor of the estate for the sake of getting security which could not be otherwise obtained.[74] For whatever the representative may receive from the borrower he is duly accountable to the estate.[75]

H. Gifts. The executor or administrator has no right to give away any assets even though of trifling value, nor will the law give effect to such transfer.[76]

I. Expenditures — 1. In General. The executor or administrator is entitled to credit in his accounts for expenses necessarily and properly incurred by him in good faith, in transacting with reasonable care and diligence the business of his trust, upon due proof of the particular items of expense claimed.[77] The practical situation is usually that the executor or administrator makes himself liable de bonis propriis to others by incurring expense, but that he may reimburse himself under appropriate circumstances out of the assets of the estate.[78] is evidence of a loan by him of such funds, and if the bank subsequently becomes insolvent he will be responsible for any loss resulting therefrom. Caruthers v. Caruthers, 99 Ill. App. 402.

The heirs have no privity in the promise of the borrower to the representative, but their remedy is against the latter. Abbott v. Kensett, 33 Conn. 509; Neubrecht v. Santmeyer, 50 Ill. 74. But see Melvain v. Tomes, 14 Hun (N. Y.) 31.

Adoption of contract by administrator de bonis non.— Where an administrator in chief makes an unauthorized loan of money belonging to the estate of his intestate, if the administrator de bonis non accepts such loan, and seeks to hold the borrower as a trustee in invitum, he thereby elects to adopt the contract, and cannot subsequently treat the loan as a devastavit. Wilson v. Stevens, 129 Ala. 630, 29 So. 678, 87 Am. St. Rep. 86.

Testamentary direction as to a loan — Security.— Where a testator before his death was a special partner of a certain person and by his will directed his executors to allow such person to retain as a loan to him the amount contributed by testator to the capital of the firm, such person could not be compelled to give security for the loan. Denike v. Harris, 84 N. Y. 89 [reversing 23 Hun 213].

Returning specific assets lent.— Where a firm borrowed of an executor as part of the estate of his testator shares of the stock and evidences of the loan of a public corporation, under an express agreement to restore to the executor, or his successor in the trust of executing the will, the assets and securities borrowed, the borrowers are compellable in equity to restore to the executor the loan and stock, with the interest and dividends thereon not already received by the executor. Abbott v. Reeves, 49 Pa. St. 494, 88 Am. Dec. 510.

73. People v. Atkins, 7 Ill. App. 105; Delafield v. Schuchardt, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 435. And see infra, XI, H.

Fraud in such transaction not presumed as matter of law.— Moye v. Petway, 76 N. C. 327.

74. Torrence v. Davidson, 92 N. C. 437, 53 Am. Rep. 419.

75. Savage v. Gould, 60 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 217.

Note for money lent inures to benefit of estate. Kalckhoff v. Zœhrlaut, 40 Wis. 427.

76. Radovich's Estate, 74 Cal. 536, 16 Pac. 321, 5 Am. St. Rep. 466; Dickinson v. Colonial Trust Co., 33 Misc. (N. Y.) 668, 68 N. Y. Suppl. 909; Powers v. Powers, 48 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 389. But see Washington v. Emery, 57 N. C. 32.

77. Alabama.— Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227.

California.— In re Smith, 118 Cal. 462, 50 Pac. 701.

Louisiana.—Milne's Succession, 1 Rob. 400; Young v. Chaney, 3 La. 462.

Maryland.— Bantz v. Bantz, 52 Md. 686.

New Hampshire.— Wendell v. French, 19 N. H. 205.

New Jersey.—Bechtold v. Read, (Ch. 1893) 28 Atl. 264.

New York.— Shaffer v. Bacon, 35 N. Y. App. Div. 248, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 796 [affirmed in 161 N. Y. 635, 57 N. E. 1124]; In re Public Parks, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 347.

North Carolina.—Clarke v. Cotton, 17 N. C. 51, in addition to commissions.

Pennsylvania.— Hoopes' Estate, 1 Brewst. 462.

Texas.— Dyer v. Winston, (Civ. App. 1903) 77 S. W. 227.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 435.

Medium in which disbursements made.— Upon an administrator's accounting as to transactions from 1862 to 1865, he cannot receive credit in good and lawful money for disbursements made then, without proof that his payments were not in the depreciated money then current. Stokes v. Wallace, 16 S. C. 619.

While there is a balance due by the representative individually as for waste, he cannot claim to be reimbursed for his payments. Moore v. Davidson, 22 S. C. 92.

Relief where disbursements exceed receipts. — Aside from local probate authority, chancery may give relief out of the assets to a representative whose cash disbursements exceed his cash receipts. Bailey v. Mundin, 58 Ala. 104; Reaves v. Garrett, 34 Ala. 558; Wright v. Wright, 2 McCord Eq. (S. C.) 185.

78. Rittenhouse v. Ammerman, 64 Mo. 197, 27 Am. Rep. 215. And see supra, VIII, D.

2. Allowance a Question For the Court. The allowance or disallowance of expenditures is a question of law for the court and not a question of fact for the jury.[79]

3. Sanction of Court. The representative is always entitled to credit for expenditures made by the order of or with the approval and sanction of the court,[80] even though the court was indiscreet in making the order pursuant to which he acted;[81] but the fact that the representative has expended money upon the faith of an order of the court making an allowance for certain expenses does not preclude the court from annulling such order upon evidence that the petition upon which it was made did not fully and truly state the facts.[82]

4. Necessity of Actual Payment. Credit for an administration expense should not as a rule be allowed to the executor or administrator on his accounting in court, until or unless the amount has been actually paid,[83] and where partial payment only has been made, credit will be allowed as to that part only.[84]

5. Unnecessary Expenditures. As a general rule the representative will not be allowed credit for unnecessary payments or expenditures made by him,[85] especially in the case of needless and extravagant outlays over a small and simple estate,[86] and, although disbursements which ultimately prove to have been unnecessary may be sometimes allowed if made in good faith and under a reasonable belief of their necessity,[87] the representative must show some just explanation before he can legally claim their allowance.[88]

6. Expenses Caused by Misconduct or Unauthorized Acts.[89] Positive misconduct on the part of the representative bars any claim by him against the estate for reimbursement of his expenses caused thereby,[90] nor will he be allowed credit for expenditures which became necessary by reason of his own negligence[91] or were made in the course of or resulted from acts done by him without authority.[92]

7. Representative Improperly Appointed. Due credit or reimbursement for beneficial acts performed in good faith or expenditures properly made will be allowed to an administrator who was appointed upon the assumption that the decedent died intestate before it was discovered that he left a will, or

79. Hapke v. People, 29 Ill. App. 546.

80. In re Millenovich, 5 Nev. 161.

81. In re Millenovich, 5 Nev. 161.

82. Watkins v. Romine, 106 Ind. 378, 7 N. E. 193.

83. Alabama.— Modawell v. Holmes, 40 Ala. 391.

Louisiana.— Gayles v. Gray, 6 Mart. N. S. 693.

Massachusetts.— Thacher v. Dunham, 5 Gray 26; Jennison v. Hapgood, 14 Pick. 345.

New York.— Matter of Spooner, 86 Hun 9, 33 N. Y. Suppl. 136; In re Bailey, 47 Hun 477; In re Van Nostrand, 3 Misc. 396, 24 N. Y. Suppl. 850, Pow. Surr. 495; In re Ingersoll, 20 N. Y. St. 356, 6 Dem. Surr. 184.

Pennsylvania.— Benner's Estate, 3 Brewst. 398.

Rhode Island.— Moulton v. Smith, 16 R. I. 126, 12 Atl. 891, 27 Am. St. Rep. 728.

Vermont.— Pelton v. Johnson, 52 Vt. 138.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 446.

84. Matter of White, 15 N. Y. St. 729, 6 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 375.

85. Bare's Estate, 5 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 36; Johnson v. Henagan, 11 S. C. 93.

86. In re Barber, 12 N. Y. Suppl. 538; Bradley's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 87; Villard v. Roberts, 2 Strobh. Eq. (S. C.) 40, 49 Am. Dec. 654.

87. Robbins v. Wolcott, 27 Conn. 234.

88. Robbins v. Wolcott, 27 Conn. 234.

89. See infra, VIII, I, 8, g, (IX), (B).

90. Robbins v. Wolcott, 27 Conn. 234.

91. Marshall v. Coleman, 187 Ill. 556, 58 N. E. 628 [modifying 89 Ill. App. 41]; Brackett v. Tillotson, 4 N. H. 208.

92. Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227.

Thus an allowance has been refused for expenditures in the unauthorized management of real estate and care of infant children (Benford v. Daniels, 13 Ala. 667; Hennessy's Estate, Tuck. Surr. (N. Y.) 335. Compare Henning v. Conner, 2 Bibb (Ky.) 188), in protecting investments by the representative which should not have been made (Lacey v. Davis, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 402), in surveying a line between the property of decedent and that of an adjoining proprietor where the administrator had not been ordered to take charge of the decedent's real estate (Springfield Grocer Co. v. Walton, 95 Mo. App. 526, 69 S. W. 477), and in conducting leased premises after the decedent's death where the lease terminated upon his death (Jaquette's Estate, 1 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 197).

Those interested cannot accept profits of improper investment without assuming incito an executor who acted under a will which was subsequently decided to be invalid and the probate thereof revoked.[93]

8. Particular Expenditures Considered — a. Expenses of Last Illness. The representative is entitled to credit for payment of the expenses of the last illness of the decedent,[94] but an allowance on this account which is clearly excessive in view of the circumstances of the case will be reduced.[95]

b. Funeral Expenses, Tombstones, Etc. — (i) Funeral Expenses.[96] Reasonable and proper funeral expenses are to be allowed, where incurred with ordinary prudence and regard of decency and respectability, according to the condition in life of the decedent and the apprehended extent of his fortune;[97] but where a beneficial association of which decedent was a member pays or contributes to the payment of the funeral expenses, the executor or administrator is not entitled to credit in his account for the amount so paid or contributed.[98]

(ii) Tombstones and Monuments.[99] Credit should be allowed to a reason-dental outlays. Wheelwright v. Rhoades, 28 Hun (N. Y.) 57.

93. Edwards v. Ela, 5 Allen (Mass.) 87; Read v. Franklin, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1900) 60 S. W. 215.

94. McNeely v. McNeely, 50 La. Ann. 823, 24 So. 338.

95. Matter of Ogden, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 158, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 977.

Apparently extravagant charges will be allowed an executor where they are no more than the usual charges for like services at the time. In re Millenovich, 5 Nev. 161.

96. See infra, X, A, 19, c.

97. California.— Galland's Estate, 92 Cal. 293, 28 Pac. 287.

District of Columbia.— See Sinnott v. Kenaday, 14 App. Cas. 1 [reversed on other grounds in 179 U. S. 606, 21 S. Ct. 233, 49 L. ed. 339].

Louisiana.— McNeely v. McNeely, 50 La. Ann. 823, 24 So. 338.

Massachusetts.— Sweeney v. Muldoon, 139 Mass. 304, 31 N. E. 720, 52 Am. Rep. 708.

Nevada.— In re Millenovich, 5 Nev. 161.

New York.—Matter of Ogden, 41 Misc. 158, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 977; Matter of Very, 24 Misc. 139, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 389, 28 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 163; Matter of Hildebrand, 1 Misc. 245, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 148.

Pennsylvania.—In re Malony, 11 Serg. & R. 204; Meyer's Estate, 18 Phila. 42; Bradley's Estate, 11 Phila. 87.

Tennessee.— See Loftis v. Loftis, 94 Tenn. 232, 28 S. W. 1091.

England.— Edwards v. Edwards, 2 Cromp. & M. 612, 3 L. J. Exch. 204, 4 Tyrw. 438; Pitchford v. Hulme, 3 L. J. Ch. O. S. 223, even though the estate is insolvent.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 436.

The expenses of a wake, if not unreasonable, have been held to constitute a proper item of funeral charges. Johnson's Estate, 8 Pa. Co. Ct. 1. Contra, White's Estate, 13 Phila. (Pa.) 287.

Commandery parade.— A donation of two hundred and fifty dollars, made by an executor to his testator's commandery for parading at the funeral, is not a proper charge against the estate, where it does not appear that the commandery required the payment of that sum or any other as a condition of their participation in the funeral. In re Reynolds, 124 N. Y. 388, 26 N. E. 954.

Transportation of body.— An allowance of six hundred and fifty dollars against decedent's estate for funeral expenses incurred in the transportation of the bodies of decedent and his wife and child from Texas to New Jersey, and their burial, has been held not an unreasonable allowance. Sullivan v. Horner, 41 N. J. Eq. 299, 7 Atl. 411.

Funeral expenses incurred before appointment.— Under the Massachusetts statute an administrator is bound to pay, out of the assets in his hands, the funeral expenses, including the purchase of a burial lot, at the request of the widow and next of kin, although such expenses are incurred before his appointment. Sweeney v. Muldoon, 139 Mass. 304, 31 N. E. 720, 52 Am. Rep. 708.

A husband acting as executor of his deceased wife may be allowed funeral expenditures made by him from her separate estate. Freeman v. Coit, 27 Hun (N. Y.) 447.

Expenditures not allowed.— An administrator will not be allowed, on the settlement of his account, for money paid out for car or coach fare for himself and wife, or for a sister and her husband, to attend the funeral of a brother; nor will the administrator be allowed pay for his time or services in attending such funeral. Lund v. Lund, 41 N. H. 355.

Changing place of burial.— An allowance to an administratrix, who was the second wife of the decedent, for expenses incurred in removing the body of the decedent from one cemetery to another has been set aside where it was shown that the place where decedent was first interred was a suitable one, selected by him prior to his death, was the place where his children desired that he should be interred, was in the same cemetery in which his first wife was buried, and was nearer to his home than the place chosen by the second wife. Watkins v. Romine, 106 Ind. 378, 7 N. E. 193.

98. Haas' Estate, 3 Pa. Co. Ct. 345; Nixon's Appeal, 6 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 496; Sharp's Estate, 2 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 631.

99. See infra, X, A, 19, d.

able amount for a tombstone for the decedent, and in suitable cases of sufficient means even for a monument,[1] and this notwithstanding the objection of some of the legatees and next of kin where the expenditure has been approved by the majority of those beneficially interested.[2] A moderate expenditure for a tombstone is sometimes allowed, even though title to the estate is insolvent,[3] although in some states the rule is otherwise.[4]

(III) BURIAL LOTS.[5] The cost of a suitable burial lot follows the same general rule of allowance;[6] and it has been held that an administratrix should be allowed the sum paid for a grave for the decedent even though the lot was taken in her own name personally.[7]

(IV) MOURNING FOR FAMILY. It has been held that the executor or administrator is entitled to a moderate allowance for moneys which he has properly

1. Alabama.— Hatchett v. Curbow, 59 Ala. 516; Bendall v. Bendall, 24 Ala. 295.

California.— Van Emon v. Tulare County Super. Ct., 76 Cal. 589, 18 Pac. 877, 9 Am. St. Rep. 258.

Connecticut.— Fairman's Appeal, 30 Conn. 205.

District of Columbia.—Sinnctt v. Kenaday, 14 App. Cas. 1 [reversed on other grounds in 179 U. S. 606, 21 S. Ct. 233, 45 L. ed. 339].

Illinois.— Spire v. Lovell, 17 Ill. App. 559.

Iowa.— Lutz v. Gates, 62 Iowa 513, 17 N. W. 747; Crapo v. Armstrong, 61 Iowa 697, 17 N. W. 41.

Michigan.—Pistorius' Appeal, 53 Mich. 350, 19 N. W. 31.

Mississippi.— Donald v. McWhorter, 44 Miss. 124.

New Hampshire.— Bell v. Briggs, 63 N. H. 592, 4 Atl. 702.

New Jersey.— Griggs v. Veghte, 47 N. J. Eq. 179, 19 Atl. 867.

New York.— Owens v. Bloomer, 14 Hun 296; Matter of Howard, 3 Misc. 170, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 836; Matter of Beach, 1 Misc. 27, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 1079; Campbell v. Purdy, 5 Redf. Surr. 434.

Pennsylvania.— Webb's Appeal, 165 Pa. St. 330, 30 Atl. 827; In re Porter, 77 Pa. St. 43; Conway's Estate, 10 Pa. Dist. 509; Barclay's Estate, 11 Phila. 123; Sheetz's Estate, 2 Woodw. 407; Connelly's Estate, 28 Pittsb. Leg. J. 352.

Tennessee.— Cannon v. Apperson, 14 Lea 553.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 436.

Testamentary direction to erect monument not a legacy.—Wood v. Vandenburgh, 6 Paige (N. Y.) 277.

The widow is not entitled to an injunction to prevent the executor from putting up a tombstone, although she is sole devisee and legatee and is willing to put up a tombstone herself, and to give bond to the court that she will do so. Duffy's Estate, 9 Kulp (Pa.) 409.

Keeping tomb in repair.— A statute allowing an executor of a solvent estate to erect a monument at the testator's grave at the expense of the estate includes a power of making reasonably necessary repairs on the tomb of the deceased during the time of the administration, although the cost thereof exceeds the sum set apart by decedent's will for the maintenance of the monument. Bell v. Briggs, 63 N. H. 592, 4 Atl. 702.

Place of erecting monument.— Where an administratrix, the widow of the intestate, obtained leave of the court to spend a certain sum for the erection of a monument "on the burial lot of said intestate," but afterward, preferring that her husband should be buried elsewhere, bought another lot with her own money, moved her husband's body there, and put up the monument there, she was allowed the amount expended. Dudley v. Sanborn, 159 Mass. 185, 34 N. E. 181.

Provision by decedent in his lifetime.— An executor cannot be allowed the expense of procuring a burial lot and monument where the testator in his lifetime provided one himself. Matter of Woodbury, 40 Misc. (N. Y.) 143, 81 N. Y. Suppl. 503.

2. Barclay's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 123.

3. Owens v. Bloomer, 14 Hun (N. Y.) 296; Cornwell v. Deck, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 87. See also Burbridge v. Rogers, 7 Ky. L. Rep. 42.

4. Lund v. Lund, 41 N. H. 355; Moyer's Estate, 5 Kulp (Pa.) 167; Villee's Estate, 9 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 353.

5. See infra, X, A, 19, e.

6. Sinnott v. Kenaday, 14 App. Cas. (D. C.) 1 [reversed on other grounds in 179 U. S. 606, 21 S. Ct. 233, 45 L. ed. 339]; Sweeney v. Muldoon, 139 Mass. 304, 31 N. E. 720, 52 Am. Rep. 708; In re Frazer, 92 N. Y. 239 (authority under will); Chalker v. Chalker, 5 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 480; Valentine v. Valentine, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 265; Matter of Erlacher, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 8.

The cost of improvement and inclosure of a burial lot will not be allowed an executor against objection. Barclay's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 123. See also Tuttle v. Robinson, 33 N. H. 104. But where the will directs the executors to erect and maintain a fence around a cemetery and charges all expenses directed by it upon lands devised, the executors can maintain a suit in equity against the devisees of the land or their assigns for the expenses of erecting such fence. Cool v. Higgins, 23 N. J. Eq. 308.

7. Birkholm v. Wardwell, 42 N. J. Eq. 337, 7 Atl. 569.

expended in obtaining suitable mourning apparel for the widow and children of the decedent.[8]

(v) Amount of Expenditure. The expenditure for funeral expenses, tombstones, and the like must be reasonable in amount, taking into consideration the value of the estate left by the decedent, his solvency or insolvency, and his station in life;[9] and as there is more time for circumspection and prudence in selecting a tombstone or even perhaps a permanent burial lot than with reference to the immediate funeral or interment, consultation in regard to such matters with the family of the decedent, in addition to a consideration of the actual condition of the estate, is prudent and desirable.[10] An executor is of course to be allowed expenditures for the funeral, a monument, or similar expenses which are expressly authorized by the will,[11] and a testamentary direction authorizing the executors to expend not more than a fixed sum has the effect of prohibiting the expenditure of a greater sum,[12] but the executor's duty does not require him to expend the entire sum mentioned.[13]

c. Expenditures For Benefit of Particular Legatees or Distributees. The representative has been held not entitled to credit in his general account of the 8. Allen v. Allen, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 524; Matter of Wood, 1 Ashm. (Pa.) 314 (even though estate insolvent); Paice v. Canterbury, 14 Ves. Jr. 364, 33 Eng. Reprint 560. See also Badillo v. Tio, 7 La. Ann. 487, mourning dresses for slaves. Contra, Griswold v. Chandler, 5 N. H. 492; Johnson v. Baker, 2 C. & P. 207, 31 Rev. Rep. 663, 12 E. C. L. 530.

9. Colorado.— Clemes v. Fox, 6 Colo. App. 377, 40 Pac. 843.

New Hampshire.— Lund v. Lund, 41 N. H. 355.

New York.— Matter of Shipman, 82 Hun 108, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 571; Owens v. Bloomer, 14 Hun 296; Burnett v. Noble, 5 Redf. Surr. 69; Matter of Luckey, 4 Redf. Surr. 95.

Pennsylvania.— Bradley's Estate, 11 Phila. 87; McKenna's Estate, 1 Leg. Gaz. 12; Connolly's Estate, 28 Pittsb. Leg. J. 352.

England.—Hancock v. Podmore, 1 B. & Ad. 260, 8 L. J. K. B. O. S. 403, 20 E. C. L. 477; Edwards v. Edwards, 2 Cromp. & M. 612, 3 L. J. Exch. 204, 4 Tyrw. 438.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 436.

Allowance limited by law and to be made by court.— Scott v. Dorsey, 1 Harr. & J. (Md.) 227.

Statute limiting funeral expenses.— Expenses incurred for a cemetery lot and monument for the decedent are not funeral expenses within the meaning of a statute limiting funeral expenses to three hundred dollars. Sinnott v. Kenaday, 14 App. Cas. (D. C.) 1 [reversed on other grounds in 179 U. S. 606, 21 S. Ct. 233, 45 L. ed. 339].

The usual allowance from an insolvent estate for funeral expenses has been stated in England to be twenty pounds. Yardley v. Arnold, C. & M. 434, 2 Dowl. P. C. N. S. 311, 6 Jur. 718, 11 L. J. Exch. 413, 41 E. C. L. 239.

Expenditures held reasonable see the following cases:

Alabama.— Bendall v. Bendall, 24 Ala. 295.

New York.—Matter of Ogden, 41 Misc. 158, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 977; Matter of Howard, 3 Misc. 170, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 863; Hildebrand's Estate, 1 Misc. 245, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 148; Matter of Beach, 1 Misc. 27, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 1079; Chalker v. Chalker, 5 Redf. Surr. 480; Campbell v. Purdy, 5 Redf. Surr. 434; Valentine v. Valentine, 4 Redf. Surr. 265.

Pennsylvania.— Geiger's Estate, 12 Wkly. Notes Cas. 439; Conway's Estate, 18 Lanc. L. Rev. 129.

Tennessee.— Cannon v. Apperson, 14 Lea 553.

England.— Reeves v. Ward, 2 Bing. N. Cas. 235, 1 Hodges 300, 5 L. J. C. P. 67, 2 Scott 390, 29 E. C. L. 516.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 436; and infra, X, A, 19, c–e.

Expenditures held excessive see Burbridge v. Rogers, 7 Ky. L. Rep. 42; Matter of Shipman, 82 Hun (N. Y.) 108, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 571; Matter of Luckey, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 95; Matter of Mount, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 9 note; Matter of Erlacher, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 8; Bradley's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 87; Hancock v. Podmore, 1 B. & Ad. 260, 8 L. J. K. B. O. S. 403, 20 E. C. L. 477; Bissett v. Antrobus, 4 Sim. 512, 6 Eng. Ch. 512; Bridge v. Brown, 2 Y. & Coll. 181, 21 Eng. Ch. 181. And see infra, X, A, 19, c–e.

10. See Little v. Williams, 7 Ill. App. 67; Hisem v. Lemel, 19 La. 425; Lund v. Lund, 41 N. H. 355; Brackett v. Tillotson, 4 N. H. 208.

11. See In re Frazer, 92 N. Y. 239.

Discretion of executor see Bainbridge's Appeal, 97 Pa. St. 482.

12. Canfield v. Canfield, 62 N. J. Eq. 578, 50 Atl. 471.

Will not received until after expenditure made.— Where a will directed that the testator's funeral expenses should not exceed a certain amount, but the will was not received by the executor until after the funeral, it was error to refuse reasonable and proper charges in excess of the sum named. Galland's Estate, 92 Cal. 293, 28 Pac. 287.

13. Canfield v. Canfield, 62 N. J. Eq. 578, 50 Atl. 471. See also In re Frazer, 92 N. Y. 239; Bainbridge's Appeal, 97 Pa. St. 482.

administration for disbursements made or expenses incurred for the benefit of particular legatees or distributees,[14] or payments or advances to them,[15] beyond the statutory allowance to the widow and children,[16] although where such payments or expenditures are made under order of court or pursuant to statute or directions in the will credit may be allowed,[17] and in any event such disbursements may be allowed as credits on the distributive share of the heir or legatee when a settlement with him is made.[18]

d. Payment of Decedent's Debts. An executor or administrator is of course entitled to credit for debts of the decedent which he has paid,[19] or for the amount paid out in settling a bona fide claim against the estate, whereby a saving has

14. Alabama.— Martin v. Foster, 38 Ala. 688; Willis v. Willis, 9 Ala. 330.

California.— Rose's Estate, 80 Cal. 166, 22 Pac. 86.

Pennsylvania.— In re Acor, 29 Leg. Int. 398. See also In re Frauenfelt, 3 Whart. 415. But compare Pettit's Appeal, 39 Pa. St. 324.

Tennessee.— See Read v. Franklin, (Ch. App. 1900) 60 S. W. 215.

Washington.— In re Murphy, 30 Wash. 9, 70 Pac. 109.

But compare Finley v. Pearson, 76 S. W. 374, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 766; Rogers v. Traphagen, 42 N. J. Eq. 421, 11 Atl. 336; Sparrow's Succession, 42 La. Ann. 500, 7 So. 611, 44 La. Ann. 475, 10 So. 882; Hyland v. Baxter, 42 Hun (N. Y.) 9 (holding that the surrogate has power to allow an administrator for payments made by him in good faith for the support of infant beneficiaries who have no guardian, if at the time of such payments they were substantially without means for support except from the estate); Matter of Gearns, 27 Misc. (N. Y.) 76, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 200; Matter of Butler, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 641, 1 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 58 (burial expenses of minor legatee).

15. Alabama.— Dickie v. Dickie, 80 Ala. 57; Parker v. McGaha, 11 Ala. 521.

Georgia.— See Williams v. Adams, 94 Ga. 270, 21 S. E. 526, payment to mother of minor for his education and support.

Maine.— Hanscom v. Marston, 82 Me. 288, 19 Atl. 460.

Massachusetts.— Granger v. Bassett, 98 Mass. 462.

New York.— Atlantic Trust Co. v. Powell, 23 Misc. 289, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 866; Matter of Smith, 1 Misc. 269, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 1067. See also Matter of Butler, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 641, 1 Connoly Surr. 58, holding that payments of cash to a minor legatee for whose support there is ample provision, the purpose of which is not explained, and for which no receipts are shown, are not allowable to the executor; but that he is entitled to credit for a payment made to a minor legatee to provide her a wedding outfit which it does not appear she was able to provide otherwise, where she long acquiesced in such payment and does not claim that it was not for necessaries.

Pennsylvania.— Rittenhouse v. Levering, 6 Watts & S. 190.

16. In re Acor, 29 Leg. Int. (Pa.) 298. See also Watts v. Watts, 38 Ohio St. 480. And see infra, IX.

17. Indiana.— See Powell v. North, 3 Ind. 392, 56 Am. Dec. 513.

Kentucky.— Trigg v. Daniel, 2 Bibb 301; Finley v. Pearson, 76 S. W. 374, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 766.

Maryland.— Scott v. Dorsey, 1 Harr. & J. 227.

New York.— Matter of Scherrer, 24 Misc. 58, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 392. See also Matter of Lancaster, 28 Misc. 595, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 1022.

Pennsylvania.— In re Semple, 189 Pa. St. 385, 42 Atl. 28; Bourguignon's Estate, 28 Wkly. Notes Cas. 315. But compare In re Yundt, 6 Pa. St. 35.

Power of court to order advance see Dubois v. Sands, 43 Barb. (N. Y.) 412; Hoyt v. Jackson, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 553; Lockwood v. Lockwood, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 330.

Manner of crediting payments to distributees see Adair v. Brimmer, 74 N. Y. 539.

Payment to widow before order for family allowance.— When the court grants an order for family allowance for a past period pending administration, payable in twenty days, the executors, having without an order paid the widow more than the sum allowed, are entitled to a present credit for the sum allowed. In re Lux, 100 Cal. 606, 35 Pac. 345.

Where an administrator has received an allowance out of the estate for the maintenance of his minor child, the sum thus expended is a proper subject of credit in his administrator's account. Groome's Estate, 14 Phila. (Pa.) 246.

Payment to mother of beneficiaries.—Where an administrator paid a portion of a trust fund due to infant beneficiaries to their mother, he was not entitled to credit for the same unless it appeared that such moneys were devoted to the support, maintenance, and education of such infants. It was not enough that it appeared that they were devoted to the support of the mother and children. Matter of Hobson, 61 Hun (N. Y.) 504, 16 N. Y. Suppl. 371 [affirmed in 131 N. Y. 575, 30 N. E. 63].

18. See supra, XI, H.

19. See infra, XV, D.

Payment by surety who waives claim for reimbursement.— Where one who is a surety on a debt due by the estate of a decedent, and also surety on the bond of the administrator of that estate, after paying off the debt waives all claim for reimbursement, either from the estate or the administrator, the latter is not, in a settlement with the heirs, entitled to credit for the amount paid by such surety in been effected,[20] but he cannot be allowed for an illegal claim which he paid to avoid family disgrace;[21] and where the assets are insufficient to pay all the demands of one class, and such demands must, under the statute, be paid proportionately, a representative who pays on any one claim more than its just proportion without an order of court must make good to the estate the excessive payment.[22]

e. Repairs and Improvements. With regard to personal property, an executor or administrator may be properly credited with amounts necessarily expended for repairs while it was in his custody.[23] With respect to real estate, however, the personal representative is not as a rule entitled to the immediate possession and control thereof,[24] and hence he is usually entitled to no credit for amounts expended in repairs or improvements of said property.[25] Where, however, he is duly invested with the control or management of such property, he may be allowed credit for what he has expended in good faith in necessary repairs,[26] unless he has personally received benefits from such control and possession commensurate with the amounts expended,[27] although expenditures and outlays in improvements are less favored, especially where the corresponding enhancement satisfaction of that debt. Ross v. Battle, 113 Ga. 742, 39 S. E. 287.

20. Matter of Wagner, 40 Misc. (N. Y.) 490, 42 N. Y. Suppl. 797.

21. Jones v. Ward, 10 Yerg. (Tenn.) 160.

22. Springfield Grocer Co. v. Walton, 95 Mo. App. 526, 69 S. W. 477. And see infra, X.

23. Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227; Pinckard v. Pinckard, 24 Ala. 250.

24. See infra, VIII, O, 2, a.

25. Alabama.— Cannon v. Copeland, 43 Ala. 252.

Massachusetts.— Cobb v. Muzzey, 13 Gray 57.

Missouri.—Langston v. Canterbury, 173 Mo. 122, 73 S. W. 151.

New Hampshire.— Lucy v. Lucy, 55 N. H. 9; Brackett v. Tillotson, 4 N. H. 208.

New Jersey.— Aldridge v. McClelland, 36 N. J. Eq. 228.

New York.— Matter of Very, 24 Misc. 139, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 389, 28 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 163.

Pennsylvania.— Walker's Appeal, 116 Pa. St. 419, 9 Atl. 654; McKinney v. Watson, 8 Serg. & R. 347; O'Donnell's Estate, 9 Kulp 123; Benner's Estate, 3 Brewst. 398; Montier's Estate, 7 Phila. 491; Dunkle's Estate, 17 Lanc. L. Rev. 61.

South Carolina.— Trimmier v. Darden, 61 S. C. 220, 39 S. E. 373.

Tennessee.— Wilson v. Whitman, 3 Tenn. Ch. 37.

Utah.— Rolfson v. Cannon, 3 Utah 232, 2 Pac. 205.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 437, 545.

Where the estate is insolvent the administrator must not repair the real estate but can only sell it as it stands for payment of debts. Brackett v. Tillotson, 4 N. H. 208.

An executor who is also life-tenant of decedent's real estate has no right to pay insurance, taxes, and cost of repairs thereon out of decedent's personal estate. Matter of Very, 24 Misc. (N. Y.) 139, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 389, 28 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 163.

Under exceptional circumstances a widow and administratrix who acted in perfect good faith in applying the personalty for repairs to and other expenditures for the benefit of the realty, in order to protect it for herself and her children, of whom she was guardian and who lived with her on the property, has been allowed credit therefor. Matter of Rolph, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 293, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 191.

Expenditures for repairs credited out of rents collected.—Taylor v. Roulstone, 60 S. W. 867, 61 S. W. 354, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1515.

26. Alabama.— Henderson v. Simmons, 33 Ala. 291, 70 Am. Dec. 590.

Connecticut.— Atwater v. Barnes, 21 Conn. 237.

Louisiana.— Sparrow's Succession, 40 La. Ann. 484, 4 So. 513; Henderson's Succession, 24 La. Ann. 435.

Maine.— Webber v. Webber, 6 Me. 127.

Maryland.— Sewell v. Slingluff, 62 Md. 592.

New Jersey.— Dey v. Codman, 39 N. J. Eq. 258.

New York.— Matter of Thomson, 14 N. Y. St. 615.

Ohio.— In re Turpin, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 410, 7 Ohio N. P. 569.

Pennsylvania.— Schrack's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 149.

Rhode Island.— Almy v. Newport Probate Ct., 18 R. I. 612, 30 Atl. 458.

South Carolina.— Ex p. Palmer, 2 Hill Eq. 215; Myers v. Myers, Bailey Eq. 23.

Canada.— Hill v. Hill, 6 Ont. 244.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 437.

A previous order from the probate court will strengthen the representative's position in a doubtful case, although this may not be essential. Gerald v. Bunkley, 17 Ala. 170; In re Clos, 110 Cal. 494, 42 Pac. 971; In re Millenovich, 5 Nev. 161.

When erection of new buildings considered as repairs see In re Clos, 110 Cal. 494, 42 Pac. 971.

27. In re Graff, 123 Mich. 456, 82 N. W. 248; Clough v. Clough, 71 N. H. 412, 52 Atl. 449; Villee's Estate, 9 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 353.

in value seems remote and uncertain, and where he sacrifices the personal property for the benefit of the realty, or otherwise disturbs the just equilibrium of a beneficial settlement of the estate, the representative makes expenditures at his peril.[28] An executor is of course protected in carrying out the provisions of the will with reference to the improvement of the testator's real estate,[29] and, without considering whether an administrator had authority to collect rents, it has been held that administrators who have charged themselves with the rents are entitled to a credit for repairs.[30]

f. Services.[31] An executor or administrator should be allowed credit for amounts paid for the services of agents, clerks, assistants, bookkeepers, and other persons employed by him to assist him in the performance of his duties, where the employment of such persons is reasonably necessary and the employment is bona fide for the benefit of the estate;[32] but the estate cannot be charged for serv-

28. Alabama.—Cannon v. Copeland, 43 Ala. 252.

California.— Moore's Estate, 72 Cal. 335, 13 Pac. 880; In re Knight, 12 Cal. 200, 73 Am. Dec. 531.

Massachusetts.— Cobb v. Muzzey, 13 Gray 57.

Missouri.— Clark v. Bettelheim, 144 Mo. 258, 46 S. W. 135.

Washington.— In re Alfstad, 27 Wash. 175, 67 Pac. 593.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 437.

But compare Armstrong v. Cashion, (Ark. 1891) 16 S. W. 666; Henderson's Succession, 24 La. Ann. 435.

Division fence.— An administrator is not personally liable for a portion of the cost of a division fence bordering the land of his intestate. Cummings v. Brock, 56 Vt. 308.

Concurrence of heirs may justify expenditure for improvement. Hall v. Anthony, 13 R. I. 221.

Assessment upon permanent beneficiaries.— In the permanent improvement of real estate, the cost may be equitably assessed upon the permanent beneficiaries rather than charged generally to the estate. Englehardt v. Yung, 76 Ala. 534; Foteaux v. Lapage, 6 Iowa 123; Stevens v. Burgess, 61 Me. 89; Hudson v. Hudson, 5 Munf. (Va.) 180.

Improvements which court would have ordered.— An executor will be entitled to remuneration for improvements which the court would have ordered him to make, although made without an order of court. Palmer v. Miller, Cheves Eq. (S. C.) 62, 34 Am. Dec. 602.

Standard of allowance when credit given.— An administrator, being also a tenant in common as a distributee of the estate, will be allowed credit, not for the cost, but for the value to the premises, of improvements put by him on the land. Lewis v. Price, 3 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 172.

29. Finley v. Pearson, 76 S. W. 374, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 766.

30. Matter of Turpin, Ohio Prob. 124.

31. See also infra, VIII, I, 8, g.

32. Alabama.— Eubank v. Clark, 78 Ala. 73; Pinckard v. Pinckard, 24 Ala. 250.

California.— Moore's Estate, 72 Cal. 335, 13 Pac. 880.

Florida.— Sherrell v. Shepard, 19 Fla. 300.

Louisiana.— Hautau's Succession, 32 La. Ann. 54; Dorville's Succession, 30 La. Ann. 133; Schmidt's Succession, 16 La. Ann. 256.

Mississippi.— Byrd v. Wells, 40 Miss. 711.

Missouri.— Ansley v. Richardson, 95 Mo. App. 332, 68 S. W. 609.

New Jersey.— Dey v. Codman, 39 N. J. Eq. 258; Howard v. Francis, 30 N. J. Eq. 444.

New York.— Merritt v. Merritt, 32 N. Y. App. Div. 442, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 127 [affirmed in 161 N. Y. 634, 57 N. E. 1117]; Matter of Harbeck, 81 Hun 26, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 521, 1 N. Y. Annot. Cas. 51 [affirmed in 145 N. Y. 648, 41 N. E. 89]; Willcox v. Smith, 26 Barb. 316; Matter of Wagner, 40 Misc. 490, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 797; Bronson v. Bronson, 48 How. Pr. 481; McWhorter v. Benson, Hopk. 28; Meeker v. Crawford, 5 Redf. Surr. 450; Glover v. Holley, 2 Bradf. Surr. 291.

North Carolina.— Edwards v. Love, 94 N. C. 365; Clarke v. Cotton, 17 N. C. 51.

South Carolina.— Garrett v. Garrett, 2 Strobh. Eq. 272.

Texas.— Armstrong v. O'Brien, 83 Tex. 635, 19 S. W. 268.

Vermont.— Sowles v. Hall, 73 Vt. 55, 50 Atl. 550.

Virginia.— Crouch v. Davis, 23 Gratt. 62; Hipkins v. Bernard, 4 Munf. 83.

England.— Henderson v. McIver, 3 Madd. 275. See also Weiss v. Dill, 3 Myl. & K. 26, 10 Eng. Ch. 26, 40 Eng. Reprint 10, only under very special circumstances.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 438.

The allowance of such charges is the exception and not the rule, and when they are brought forward it is the duty of the court to scrutinize them with a jealous and watchful eye. O'Neill v. Donnell, 9 Ala. 734.

Representative must show that services were necessary. See Journault v. Ferris, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 320.

Executor may employ his own son to collect rents. Matter of Wagner, 40 Misc. (N. Y.) 490, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 797.

Estoppel to object.— Where services not obviously alien to the administration have been rendered at the special request and advice of a person interested in the estate, such person is estopped from objecting to the allowance of a just compensation for them in ices which the representative should have performed himself and for which his general recompense ought to be ample remuneration, and which he procured to be performed by others for his own benefit or convenience.[33] With respect to the amount to be allowed, it must be reasonable and such as is usually or customarily paid for such services.[34]

g. Counsel Fees and Costs[35] — (i) General Rule. Subject to the general requirement of good faith and reasonable prudence, an executor or administrator is entitled to employ and pay an attorney for advice in reference to the management of the estate,[36] the performance of legal services which the representative cannot himself perform,[37] and the prosecution or defense of actions or suits on behalf of or against the estate,[38] and is entitled to credit in his account or indemnity from the estate for the reasonable charges of counsel and the costs and other expenses of litigation.[39] It is not necessary to entitle the representative to this the settlement of the administrator's account. Wendell v. French, 19 N. H. 205.

Discretion of court.— The question whether an administrator is entitled to employ a bookkeeper depends on the circumstances of the estate and should be left to the discretion of the court. In re More, 121 Cal. 609, 54 Pac. 97.

33. Alabama.— Noble v. Jackson, 132 Ala. 230, 31 So. 450; Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227; O'Neill v. Donnell, 9 Ala. 734.

California.— Moore's Estate, 72 Cal. 335, 13 Pac. 880.

Georgia.— Miles v. Peabody, 64 Ga. 729.

Louisiana.— Kernan's Succession, 105 La. 592, 30 So. 239.

New York.— In re Harbeck, 145 N. Y. 648, 41 N. E. 89; Matter of Ogden, 41 Misc. 158, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 977; Matter of Beach, 1 Misc. 27, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 1079; Matter of Ingersoll, 20 N. Y. St. 356, 6 Dem. Surr. 184; In re Brown, 16 Abb. Pr. N. S. 457; Fowler v. Lockwood, 3 Redf. Surr. 465; Larrour v. Larrour, 2 Redf. Surr. 69.

South Carolina.— McGougan v. Hall, 21 S. C. 600; Jenkins v. Hanahan, Cheves Eq. 129.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 463; and infra, VIII, I, 8, g, (IX), (F).

The fact that the executors are busy men and have not as much time to give to the management of the estate as other individuals cannot be permitted to affect the rule that executors must perform within reasonable limits the actual manual labor requisite to the due execution of the trust, nor can such rule be affected by the fact that the executors in employing a bookkeeper and fixing his compensation acted precisely as they would have done in the management of their own affairs. Matter of Harbeck, 81 Hun (N. Y.) 26, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 521, 1 N. Y. Annot. Cas. 51 [affirmed in 145 N. Y. 648, 41 N. E. 89].

34. Jacobs v. Jacobs, 99 Mo. 427, 12 S. W. 457; Matter of Wagner, 40 Misc. (N. Y.) 490, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 797.

Compensation held proper see Matter of Ogden, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 158, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 977; Meeker v. Crawford, 5 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 450; Kennedy's Appeal, 4 Pa. St. 149.

35. On accounting and settlement see infra, XV, K.

36. Alabama.— Smyley v. Reese, 53 Ala. 89, 25 Am. Rep. 598; Pickens v. Pickens, 35 Ala. 442.

Florida.— Eppinger v. Canepa, 20 Fla. 262.

New Jersey.— King v. Berry, 3 N. J. Eq. 261.

Ohio.— In re McAlpin, 8 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 654.

Pennsylvania.— McGregor's Estate, 131 Pa. St. 359, 18 Atl. 902; Sterrett's Appeal, 2 Penr. & W. 419.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 448.

But compare Satterwhite v. Littlefield, 13 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 302.

37. Langston v. Canterbury, 173 Mo. 122, 73 S. W. 151; Ansley v. Richardson, 95 Mo. App. 332, 68 S. W. 609; In re McAlpin, 8 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 654. See infra, VIII, I, 8, g, (IX), (F).

38. Satterwhite v. Littlefield, 13 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 302; Scudder v. Ames, 142 Mo. 187, 43 S. W. 659; Turnipseed v. Sirrine, 60 S. C. 272, 38 S. E. 423. See also Crutcher v. Board of Missions M. E. Church, 62 S. W. 895, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 257.

Although a special administrator is an attorney it is not his duty to act as such in his own defense. Powell v. Foster, 71 Vt. 160, 44 Atl. 96.

39. Alabama.— Noble v. Jackson, 124 Ala. 311, 26 So. 955; Clark v. Eubank, 80 Ala. 584, 3 So. 49; Moore v. Randolph, 70 Ala. 575; Smyley v. Reese, 53 Ala. 89, 25 Am. Rep. 598; Holman v. Sims, 39 Ala. 709; Pickens v. Pickens, 35 Ala. 442; Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227; Pinckard v. Pinckard, 24 Ala. 250; Hutchinson v. Gamble, 12 Ala. 36; Bettis v. Taylor, 8 Port. 564.

California.— In re Simmons, 43 Cal. 543; Hicox v. Graham, 6 Cal. 167.

Florida.—Eppinger v. Canepa, 20 Fla. 262; Sherrell v. Shepard, 19 Fla. 300.

Indiana.— Bruning v. Golden, 159 Ind. 199, 64 N. E. 657; Mackey v. Ballou, 112 Ind. 198, 13 N. E. 715.

Kansas.— Sill v. Sill, 31 Kan. 248, 1 Pac. 556; Whitford v. Horn, 18 Kan. 455.

Kentucky.— Floyd v. Floyd, 7 B. Mon. 290; Cox v. Doty, 45 S. W. 1044, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 287.

allowance that he should have been successful in the litigation which he undertook, but he is entitled thereto regardless of whether he succeeds or fails,[40] provided the litigation relates to property of or claims in favor of or against the estate,[41] was undertaken in good faith,[42] for the benefit of the estate,[43] and was reasonably necessary,[44] either because the rights concerned were complicated and conflicting,[45] or because the questions involved in the dispute were such that there Louisiana.— McNeely v. McNeely, 50 La. Ann. 823, 24 So. 338; Harris' Succession, 29 La. Ann. 743, public administrator.

Maine.— Ticonic Nat. Bank v. Turner, 96 Me. 380, 52 Atl. 793; Healey v. Cole, 95 Me. 272, 49 Atl. 1065; Crofton v. Ilsley, 6 Me. 48.

Maryland.— Edelen v. Edelen, 11 Md. 415.

Michigan.— Porter v. Long, 124 Mich. 584, 83 N. W. 601.

Mississippi.— See Satterwhite v. Littlefield, 13 Sm. & M. 302.

Missouri.— Scudder v. Ames, 142 Mo. 187, 43 S. W. 659; In re Soulard, 141 Mo. 642, 43 S. W. 617; In re Handfield, 16 Mo. App. 332; Garnett v. Carson, 11 Mo. App. 290.

Nevada.— In re Nicholson, 1 Nev. 518.

New Hampshire.— Tuttle v. Robinson, 33 N. H. 104; Wendell v. French, 19 N. H. 205.

New Jersey.— Liddel v. McVickar, 11 N. J. L. 44, 19 Am. Dec. 369; Dey v. Codman, 39 N. J. Eq. 258; Kingsland v. Scudder, 36 N. J. Eq. 284; Keeler v. Keeler, 18 N. J. Eq. 267; King v. Berry, 3 N. J. Eq. 261.

New York.— Gilman v. Gilman, 63 N. Y. 41; Wilcox v. Smith, 26 Barb. 316; Matter of Miller, 4 Redf. Surr. 302. See also Matter of Welling, 51 N. Y. App. Div. 355, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 1025, 53 N. Y. App. Div. 639, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 1060.

North Carolina.— Young v. Kennedy, 95 N. C. 265; Poindexter v. Gibson, 54 N. C. 44; Clarke v. Cotton, 17 N. C. 51.

Ohio.— In re McAlpin, 8 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 654.

Pennsylvania.— McGregor's Estate, 131 Pa. St. 359, 18 Atl. 902; Sterrett's Appeal, 2 Penr. & W. 419; Neal's Estate, 17 Phila. 486. See also Sunday's Appeal, 131 Pa. St. 584, 18 Atl. 931.

South Carolina.— Turnipseed v. Sirrine, 60 S. C. 272, 38 S. E. 423; McKnight v. Wright, 12 Rich. Eq. 229; Capehart v. Huey, 1 Hill Eq. 405.

Texas.— Gammage v. Rather, 46 Tex. 105.

Vermont.— Foster v. Stone, 67 Vt. 336, 31 Atl. 841; Wilson v. Bates, 28 Vt. 765; Woods v. Creditors, 4 Vt. 256.

West Virginia.—Turk v. Hevener, 49 W. Va. 204, 38 S. E. 476; Hoke v. Hoke, 12 W. Va. 427.

Wisconsin.— Opitz v. Karel, 118 Wis. 527, 95 N. W. 945, 99 Am. St. Rep. 1004, 62 L. R. A. 582.

England.— Macnamara v. Jones, Dick. 587, 21 Eng. Reprint 399.

Canada.— See Story v. Dunlop, 13 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 375.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 448.

An administrator who was removed on account of his infancy at the time of appointment, after the commencement of a suit against him, has been allowed his costs out of the estate. Carow v. Mowatt, 2 Edw. (N. Y.) 57.

In what account allowance to be made.— Where an executor under a will, the probate of which was reversed, became liable for fees of counsel engaged to prosecute an appeal, and afterward, on being appointed administrator, actually paid such counsel fees, he was not entitled to include the fees in his account as administrator, and receive reimbursement from the estate, without first having the item of the fees allowed in his account as executor. Matter of Blair, 67 N. Y. App. Div. 116, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 675 [affirming 34 Misc. 444, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 1013].

40. Noble v. Jackson, 124 Ala. 311, 26 So. 955; Bruning v. Golden, 159 Ind. 199, 64 N. E. 657; Mackey v. Ballou, 112 Ind. 198, 13 N. E. 715; Capehart v. Huey, 1 Hill Eq. (S. C.) 405; Woods v. Creditors, 4 Vt. 256. And see infra, note 64.

Where effect is to throw expense on successful party.— On the final account of a special administrator of a testator, he claimed credits for fees in a suit brought by him against an heir for a partnership accounting, in which suit the administrator was defeated. The heir in question had obtained a decree enforcing a lien on all real estate descending to the only other heir; and he contended that the items of the account should not be allowed, because the amount of the lien being greater than the property devised to the other heir, an allowance of the items would in effect compel him to pay the whole of the items. It was held, however, that this contention was of no merit. Bruning v. Golden, 159 Ind. 199, 64 N. E. 657.

41. Cullen v. State, 28 Ind. App. 335, 62 N. E. 759; Porter v. Long, 124 Mich. 584, 83 N. W. 601.

42. Alabama.—Alexander v. Bates, 127 Ala. 328, 28 So. 415; Pickens v. Pickens, 35 Ala. 442.

Florida.— Eppinger v. Canepa, 20 Fla. 262.

Kansas.— Whitford v. Horn, 18 Kan. 455.

New Jersey.— King v. Berry, 3 N. J. Eq. 261.

New York.— Wilcox v. Smith, 26 Barb. 316.

Pennsylvania.— Sterrett's Appeal, 2 Penr. & W. 49.

West Virginia.—Turk v. Hevener, 49 W. Va. 204, 38 S. E. 476.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 448.

43. Sherrell v. Shepard, 19 Fla. 300.

44. Cox v. Doty, 45 S. W. 1044, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 287; Ticonic Nat. Bank v. Turner, 96 Me. 380, 52 Atl. 793.

45. Scudder v. Ames, 142 Mo. 187, 43 S. W. 659.

might reasonably be an honest and sincere difference of opinion as to the proper solution thereof.[46]

(II) Personal Liability For Costs. In general executors or administrators are individually responsible for costs recovered against them, but are allowed to be reimbursed from the estate;[47] but in some states the statutes have relieved them from individual liability for costs.[48]

(III) Showing Necessary For Allowance. In order that a representative may be allowed for attorney's fees he must show what the services were[49] and that the fees or charges have been actually paid.[50]

(IV) Approval of Court. It is not necessary that attorney's fees paid by an executor or administrator should have been fixed or approved by the court before payment in order to entitle him to credit therefor;[51] but aside from a sanction previously given, the probate court may in its just discretion allow a credit for professional services reasonably and honestly employed.[52]

(V) Consent of Persons Beneficially Interested. The consent or instance of the heirs, distributees, or others beneficially interested in the estate may be adduced to justify expenses incurred by the personal representative in engaging counsel or pursuing a litigation.[53]

(VI) Employment by Co-Fiduciaries. For co-executors or co-administrators separate counsel are not usually allowed;[54] but circumstances may arise to justify a separate employment, if the cost to the estate be not duplicated thereby.[55]

(VII) Charges in Particular Matters. Executors are entitled to be allowed for the services of an attorney to assist in obtaining the probate of the will,[56] and it has also been held that they are entitled to charge the estate with counsel fees and costs prudently and honestly incurred or paid by them in

46. Porter v. Long, 124 Mich. 584, 83 N. W. 601.

Erroneous advice of attorney.— Reasonable compensation for the services of an eminent attorney engaged by a special administrator in good faith to interplead in a suit against the executors, in which the special administrator was summoned as trustee, was properly allowed the administrator, although the expense was unnecessary, and the bill of interpleader would not have been advised if the attorney had not been afflicted with a mental disability of which the administrator was unaware. Powell v. Foster, 71 Vt. 160, 44 Atl. 96.

47. California.— Briggs v. Brun, 123 Cal. 657, 56 Pac. 633, 886; Hicox v. Graham, 6 Cal. 167.

Kentucky.— Frazier v. Cavanaugh, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 711.

Louisiana.— Rolland's Succession, 1 La. Ann. 224.

Mississippi.— Williamson v. Childress, 26 Miss. 328.

New York.—Seaman v. Whitehead, 78 N. Y. 306.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 448.

48. See Bruning v. Golden, 159 Ind. 199, 64 N. E. 657.

49. Matter of Baker, 27 Misc. (N. Y.) 126, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 398.

50. In re Blair, 49 N. Y. App. Div. 417, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 678 [modifying and affirming 28 Misc. 611, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 1090]; Matter of Baker, 27 Misc. (N. Y.) 126, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 398. And see supra, VIII, I, 4.

Note not operating as payment.— Where an executor of a will, who was unsuccessful in procuring its admission to probate, employed additional counsel to prosecute the case in the court of appeals, and gave his note for such services, which was not delivered until after the letters were revoked, such note did not constitute an actual payment, and was properly disallowed by the referee in passing on the allowance of payments made by such executor. Matter of Blair, 28 Misc. (N. Y.) 611, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 1090.

51. Filbeck v. Davies, 8 Colo. App. 320, 46 Pac. 214.

52. Reynolds v. Canal, etc., Co., 30 Ark. 520; Turner v. Tapscott, 30 Ark. 312.

The judge who passes finally upon the account has ample discretion and is not bound by the refusal of another judge (not appellate) in an earlier stage of the cause. Brooks v. Brooks, 12 S. C. 422.

Interested parties may object to such allowance when the account is rendered. Tell City Furniture Co. v. Stiles, 60 Miss. 849.

53. Moore v. Moore, 8 Ky. L. Rep. 57; Matter of Hauxhurst, 76 Hun (N. Y.) 36, 27 N. Y. Suppl. 613; Matter of Butler, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 641, 1 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 58.

54. McDaniel's Estate, 9 Pa. Co. Ct. 232.

55. Matter of Delaplaine, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 202, 1 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 1.

56. Gairdner v. Tate, 110 Ga. 456, 35 S. E. 697; Reed v. Reed, 74 S. W. 207, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 2438.

Where probate in another state becomes essential, the counsel fees, costs, and expenses of such probate follow the general rule. Young v. Brush, 28 N. Y. 667.

attempting to sustain the will against attacks on its validity.[57] But it has been held that an administrator who opposes the probate of a paper offered as the last will of the decedent cannot, although contesting honestly, be allowed reimbursement for the costs, expenses, and counsel fees for which he has made himself liable, in case the will becomes established.[58] The better opinion appears to be that an executor or administrator is entitled to reimbursement for the just and reasonable legal expenses incurred in procuring his appointment or qualification in the probate court,[59] although in some jurisdictions this is denied.[60] Executors and adminis-

Where probate refused.— One who in good faith and in the exercise of a reasonable discretion has failed in establishing a will naming him as executor, is entitled to reimbursement from the estate of counsel fees and proper expenditures as well as taxable costs. Phillips v. Phillips, 81 Ky. 328. But compare Brown v. Eggleston, 53 Conn. 110, 2 Atl. 321.

57. Georgia.— Gairdner v. Tate, 110 Ga. 456, 35 S. E. 697.

Illinois.—Methodist Episcopal Church Missionary Soc. v. Goheen, 84 Ill. App. 474; Shaw v. Camp, 56 Ill. App. 23 [following Pingree v. Jones, 80 Ill. 177, and refusing to follow Moyer v. Swygart, 125 Ill. 262, 17 S. E. 450, and Shaw v. Moderwell, 104 Ill. 64, further than to concede that the rule that an executor cannot be held individually liable for costs is not an inflexible one, but may in any particular case be departed from if the peculiar circumstances warrant such a course, as if the executor acts in bad faith, or is personally interested in the result or makes the defense for his own protection or advantage or other like reason].

Kentucky.— Phillips v. Phillips, 81 Ky. 328.

Louisiana.— McNeely v. McNeely, 50 La. Ann. 823, 24 So. 338; Heffner's Succession, 49 La. Ann. 407, 21 So. 905.

Maryland.— Glass v. Ramsey, 9 Gill 456; Compton v. Barnes, 4 Gill 55, 45 Am. Dec. 115.

New York.— Young v. Brush, 28 N. Y. 667; Douglas v. Yost, 64 Hun 155, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 830; Frith v. Campbell, 53 Barb. 325; Matter of Blair, 28 Misc. 611, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 1090.

North Carolina.— Mariner v. Bateman, 4 N. C. 350.

Pennsylvania.— In re Scott, 9 Watts & S. 98. Contra, Mumper's Appeal, 3 Watts & S. 441.

Rhode Island.—Hazard v. Engs, 14 R. I. 5.

South Carolina.— Butler v. Jennings, 8 Rich. Eq. 87. Contra, Brown v. Vinyard, Bailey Eq. 460.

Tennessee.— Bowden v. Higgs, 9 Lea 343.

England.— See In re Prince, [1898] 2 Ch. 225, 67 L. J. Ch. 531, 78 L. T. Rep. N. S. 790, 47 Wkly. Rep. 25.

Canada.— See Hill v. Hill, 6 Ont. 244.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 451.

Contra.— Gayle v. Johnson, 80 Ala. 388; Kelly v. Davis, 37 Miss. 76; In re Soulard, 141 Mo. 642, 43 S. W. 617; In re Fry, 96 Mo. App. 208, 70 S. W. 172; Andrews v. Andrews, 7 Ohio St. 143.

Rule applies to administrator with will annexed. McIntire v. McIntire, 14 App. Cas. (D. C.) 337.

Rule applies although executor personally interested in result.— Matter of Blair, 28 Misc. (N. Y.) 611, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 1090.

Contesting will subsequently propounded.— Where a person named as an executor in a will which has been proved contests the probate of another paper produced as a will after a considerable interval, and under circumstances fitted to awaken suspicion, he will be permitted to charge the expense of litigation to the estate, although the second will be afterward established. Mariner v. Bateman, 4 N. C. 350.

The test of the right of the executor to allowance is not so much his good or bad faith as whether or not the litigation was for the benefit of those entitled to the estate. Sheetz's Appeal, 100 Pa. St. 197. See also Yerkes' Appeal, 99 Pa. St. 401.

Where the will directs payment by the executors of "testamentary charges and expenses," charges incurred for legal services rendered the executors in proceedings for the revocation of probate are chargeable to the corpus of the estate. Wolfe v. Wolfe, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 305.

58. Lester v. Mathews, 56 Ga. 655; Edelen v. Edelen, 11 Md. 415; Edwards v. Ela, 5 Allen (Mass.) 87; Matter of Black, 19 N. Y. St. 260, 6 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 331.

59. Ex p. Young, 8 Gill (Md.) 285; Matter of Pond, 42 Misc. (N. Y.) 165, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 1080; Matter of Van Nostrand, 3 Misc. (N. Y.) 396, 24 N. Y. Suppl. 850, Pow. Surr. (N. Y.) 495; Huston v. King, 7 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 575, 3 Cinc. L. Bul. 1142; Chatfield v. Swing, 6 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 666, 7 Am. L. Rec. 326. But compare In re Bankard, 19 N. Y. Wkly. Dig. 452.

Administrator entitled to expenses incurred in setting aside alleged will.—Huston v. King, 7 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 575, 3 Cinc. L. Bul. 1142.

60. In re Barton, 55 Cal. 87; Gourjon's Succession, 10 Rob. (La.) 541; Bowman v. Bowman, (Nev. 1904) 76 Pac. 634, 636 (where the court, although holding in deference to the authority of cases cited that a fee to an attorney for procuring letters of administration cannot be allowed, said: "The reasoning of the cases does not give complete satisfaction"); In re Nicholson, 1 Nev. 518; Wilbur v. Wilbur, 17 Wash. 683, 50 Pac. 589. See also In re Simmons, 43 Cal. 543, 548, where the court said: "Where a bona fide contest as to the right to admintrators may take the opinion of the court or procure its advice, aid, protection, or sanction at the expense of the estate, in cases where their rights and duties are left in reasonable doubt; and so too in similar proceedings commenced by others to which they are made parties their reasonable counsel fees and expenses will be allowed.[61] The representative is entitled to credit for attorney's fees paid in an action necessary to collect debts or assets of the estate,[62] and counsel fees and costs incurred in asserting or defending title to assets are properly allowed.[63] The usual standard of reasonable prudence and good faith, and not necessarily the successful or unsuccessful result of the suit, applies in determining whether or not the personal representative shall be reimbursed for his counsel fees and expenses in resisting a claim brought against the estate he represents.[64] An executor or administrator is not entitled to credit in his account for counsel fees paid by him for services rendered in contesting a proper charge against him;[65] but he is entitled to credit for reasonable counsel fees and other expenses incurred in resisting improper charges,[66] opposition to his proper official acts,[67] or an attempt to remove him.[68] The representative may be allowed for his counsel fees and costs in probate proceedings in the line of his duty,[69] an appeal justly taken,[70] continuing in good faith a suit begun by his decedent,[71] foreclosing a mortgage,[72] or enforcing notes or contracts running to himself for the benefit of the estate,[73] or in a suit properly brought by an administrator de bonis non for a settlement ister has arisen and been determined, in which the employment of counsel was necessary, it may be in the discretion of the Court to allow the necessary expenses of all the parties concerned, including a reasonable counsel fee; but this has no reference to the mere ordinary proceedings to obtain letters of administration."

61. Massachusetts.— Dudley v. Sanborn, 159 Mass. 185, 34 N. E. 181.

New Jersey.— Baxter v. Baxter, 43 N. J. Eq. 82, 10 Atl. 814 [affirmed in 44 N. J. Eq. 298, 18 Atl. 80].

New York.— Matter of Hutchinson, 84 Hun 563, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 869; In re Washbon, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 672; Irving v. De Kay, 9 Paige 521; Decker v. Miller, 2 Paige 149; Rogers v. Ross, 4 Johns. Ch. 608.

South Carolina.— De Leon v. Barrett, 22 S. C. 412; Bryson v. Nickols, 2 Hill Eq. 113.

Wisconsin.— Heiss v. Murphey, 43 Wis. 45.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 453.

When full reimbursement denied.— For a judicial direction sought needlessly or in bad faith or with needless accumulation of expense, full reimbursement from the estate will not be granted. Baxter v. Baxter, 43 N. J. Eq. 82, 10 Atl. 814 [affirmed in 44 N. J. Eq. 298, 18 Atl. 80]; Colson v. Martin, 62 N. C. 125.

62. Alabama.— Chandler v. Chandler, 87 Ala. 300, 6 So. 153.

Colorado.— Filbeck v. Davies, 8 Colo. App. 320, 46 Pac. 214, where the fee was contingent on collection.

Florida.— Sherrell v. Shepard, 19 Fla. 300.

Massachusetts.— Newell v. West, 149 Mass. 520, 21 N. E. 954, prosecuting "Alabama claims."

South Carolina.— Watson v. Mayrant, 1 Rich. Eq. 449.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 449.

63. Branham v. Com., 7 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 190; Drysdale's Appeal, 14 Pa. St. 531; Hapgood v. Jennison, 2 Vt. 294.

64. Alabama.— Clark v. Guard, 73 Ala. 456; Henderson v. Simmons, 33 Ala. 291, 70 Am. Dec. 590; Green v. Fagan, 15 Ala. 335.

Connecticut.— Clement's Appeal, 49 Conn. 519.

Delaware.— Davis v. Rawlins, 2 Harr. 346.

New Jersey.— Polhemus v. Middleton, 37 N. J. Eq. 240.

New York.— Grout v. Carver, 15 Hun 361; McKee v. Lavery, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 990.

Pennsylvania.— Ammon's Appeal, 31 Pa. St. 311; In re Armstrong, 6 Watts 236; Donnelly's Estate, 3 Phila. 18.

Canada.—See Griffith v. Paterson, 20 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 615.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 454; and supra, note 40.

65. Anderson v. Anderson, 37 Ala. 683; Jacoway v. Hall, 67 Ark. 340, 55 S. W. 12; Crawford v. Thomas, 54 S. W. 197, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 1100.

66. Harris v. Parker, 41 Ala. 604; Leigh v. Lockwood, 15 N. C. 577; Atcheson v. Robertson, 4 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 39.

67. Rudolph v. Underwood, 88 Ga. 664, 16 S. E. 55; Miller v. Simpson, 2 S. W. 171, 8 Ky. L. Rep. 518.

68. Noble v. Jackson, 124 Ala. 311, 26 So. 955; In re Watkins, 2 Lack. Leg. N. (Pa.) 255. But compare In re Byrne, 122 Cal. 260, 54 Pac. 957.

69. Williamson v. Mason, 23 Ala. 488; Warden v. Burts, 2 McCord Eq. (S. C.) 73.

70. Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227; Marston v. Marston, 21 N. H. 491.

71. Clapp v. Coble, 21 N. C. 177.

72. In re Miner, 46 Cal. 564.

73. Brown v. Dortch, 12 Heisk. (Tenn.) 740; Abingdon v. Tyler, 6 Coldw. (Tenn.) 502.

of the estate,[74] or criminal proceedings against an impostor or one personating an heir, when proper for the protection of the estate.[75] Expenses incurred in preparation for expected litigation will be allowed, although the dispute results in a compromise,[76] as will also the costs of setting aside a sale of decedent's real estate where a subsequent sale realizes more than the first.[77] Where the nominated executor in good faith appeals from an order of the court rejecting the will, it is proper for him to bring a suit in equity to prevent a threatened distribution of the estate by the administrator, and he is entitled to be reimbursed for the costs thereof, although he does not succeed on his appeal.[78] Reasonable and necessary traveling expenses of the attorney have also been allowed.[79] The representative should not be allowed for counsel fees and costs in proceedings undertaken merely to vindicate the good name of the decedent,[80] litigation with reference to real estate not in his charge,[81] resisting payment of a bill for reasonable funeral expenses,[82] or attempting to enforce a contract by which the widow agrees to take a child's share in lieu of dower, the contract having been set aside as fraudulent.[83] No allowance should be made for a payment merely as a retainer,[84] for attendance of counsel at sales of land by the executor when no necessity therefor is shown,[85] for the services of an attorney in the management of the estate while the representative was enjoined from transacting the business of the estate,[86] or in procuring evidence in actions brought against the estate.[87] The expense incurred in a controversy between executors, one opposing the qualification of the others, is not a proper charge against the estate.[88] The counsel fees and expenses of an executor in attending a reference for distribution when there was a contest with the legatees have been disallowed.[89] The attorney's fees of an executor in a contested will case, which was amicably settled without trial, are not a proper subject of charge against the estate, when the settlement did not distribute the testator's property in accordance with the provisions of the will.[90]

(VIII) AMOUNT OF ALLOWANCE. In order to entitle an executor or administrator to credit for counsel fees and other expenses of litigation, his expenditures must be reasonable,[91] and in passing upon the question of reasonableness the court

74. Seibert v. Bloomfield, 63 S. W. 584, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 646.

75. Gerald v. Bunkley, 17 Ala. 170.

76. In re Semple, 28 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 431.

77. Ennis' Estate, 2 Del. Co. (Pa.) 498.

78. Phillips v. Phillips, 7 Ky. L. Rep. 679.

79. Moore's Estate, 72 Cal. 335, 13 Pac. 880. See also infra, VIII, I, 8, l.

80. Woodard v. Woodard, 36 S. C. 118, 15 S. E. 355, 16 L. R. A. 743.

81. Rudolph v. Underwood, 88 Ga. 664, 16 S. E. 55; Reeves v. McMillan, 101 N. C. 479, 7 S. E. 906.

82. Matter of Huntley, 13 Misc. (N. Y.) 375, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 113, 25 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 78.

83. Corbett v. Johnson, 6 Ky. L. Rep. 596.

84. Matter of Collyer, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 297, 1 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 546; Pate v. Maples, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1897) 43 S. W. 740.

85. McGregor's Estate, 131 Pa. St. 359, 18 Atl. 902.

86. Matter of O'Brien, 5 Misc. (N. Y.) 436, 25 N. Y. Suppl. 704.

87. Matter of Collyer, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 297, 1 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 546.

88. In re Millenovich, 5 Nev. 161.

89. Heister's Appeal, 7 Pa. St. 455.

90. Matter of Seeger, 1 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 113, 7 Ohio N. P. 207.

91. Alabama.— Holman v. Sims, 39 Ala. 709.

California.— Levinson's Estate, 108 Cal. 450, 41 Pac. 483, 42 Pac. 479. See also In re Brignole, 133 Cal. 162, 65 Pac. 294.

Colorado.— Filbeck v. Davies, 8 Colo. App. 320, 46 Pac. 214.

Georgia.— See Gairdner v. Tate, 110 Ga. 456, 35 S. E. 697.

Louisiana.— Porche v. Banks, 8 La. Ann. 65.

Missouri.— Langston v. Canterbury, 173 Mo. 122, 73 S. W. 151.

New York.— Matter of Collyer, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 297, 1 Connoly Surr. 546.

Pennsylvania.— Mutchmore's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 293, 24 Pa. Co. Ct. 257.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 456.

The burden of proof is upon the representative to show that the sum paid for the services and advice of counsel is reasonable and proper under all the circumstances of the case. Mutchmore's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 293, 24 Pa. Co. Ct. 257.

Time for fixing amount.— The amount to be allowed an executor for attorney's fees may be fixed by the court during the progress of the administration before settlement of the executor's account. In re Kasson, 119 Cal. 489, 51 Pac. 706.

should not be governed absolutely by the opinion of professional men, the charge made by the counsel, or the contract of employment, but should exercise its own fair judgment and fix the amount allowable with reference to the labor, skill, and care required, the value of the estate, the advantages gained or sought by the services or litigation, and the good faith and reasonable prudence shown by the representative who claims the allowance.[92]

(IX) WHEN ALLOWANCE REFUSED — (A) In General. The representative will not be allowed credit where the services were not for the benefit of the estate,[93] where the advice of counsel was taken and inexcusably disregarded,[94] where the representative exceeded his powers in acting in reference to the matter as to which the fees are claimed,[95] or where the charges paid or incurred by the personal representative were illegal or grossly excessive.[96] So also an allowance of credit may properly be refused where the litigation was improper,[97] unnecessary,[98]

Allowances held reasonable see the following cases:

Arkansas.— Pike v. Thomas, 65 Ark. 437, 47 S. W. 110.

Kentucky.— Clarke v. Garrison, 79 S. W. 240, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1999; Clark v. Young, 74 S. W. 245, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 2395.

New York.— Matter of Hosford, 62 N. Y. App. Div. 626, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 163; Gross v. Moore, 14 N. Y. App. Div. 353, 43 N. Y. Suppl. 945; Matter of Ogden, 41 Misc. 158, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 977; Matter of O'Neill, 28 Misc. 599, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 1020.

Ohio.—In re Wolffe, 7 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 220, 4 Ohio N. P. 336.

Oregon.— In re Osburn, 36 Oreg. 8, 58 Pac. 521; Muldrick v. Galbraith, 31 Oreg. 86, 49 Pac. 886.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 456.

Fees held excessive see Clarke v. Garrison, 79 S. W. 240, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1999; Clark v. Young, 74 S. W. 245, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 2395; Matter of Peck, 79 N. Y. App. Div. 296, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 76 [affirmed in 177 N. Y. 538, 69 N. E. 1129]; Frith v. Campbell, 53 Barb. (N. Y.) 325; Matter of O'Neill, 28 Misc. (N. Y.) 599, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 1020; Matter of Collyer, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 297, 1 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 546; Fairbairn v. Fisher, 58 N. C. 385; McGregor's Estate, 131 Pa. St. 359, 18 Atl. 902; Becher's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 115.

92. Alabama.— Bendall v. Bendall, 24 Ala. 295.

California.— In re Kasson, 119 Cal. 489, 51 Pac. 706; Freese v. Pennie, 110 Cal. 467, 42 Pac. 978; Painter v. Painter, 78 Cal. 625, 21 Pac. 433.

Louisiana.— Henry's Succession, 45 La. Ann. 156, 12 So. 365; Osborn's Succession, 40 La. Ann. 615, 4 So. 580; Linton's Succession, 31 La. Ann. 130; Mager's Succession, 12 Rob. 413; Labatut v. Rogers, 6 Mart. 416; Morel v. Misotiere, 3 Mart. 363.

Mississippi.— Noel v. Harvey, 29 Miss. 72.

New York.— Matter of Hutchinson, 84 Hun 563, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 869; Frith v. Campbell, 53 Barb. 325; Matter of Jones, 28 Misc. 599, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 1020; Matter of Collyer, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 297, 1 Connoly Surr. 546; Matter of White, 15 N. Y. St. 729, 6 Dem. Surr. 375.

North Carolina.— Fairbairn v. Fisher, 58 N. C. 385.

Oregon.— Steel v. Holladay, 20 Oreg. 462, 26 Pac. 562.

Pennsylvania.— McGregor's Estate, 131 Pa. St. 359, 18 Atl. 902; St. Clair's Appeal, (1888) 15 Atl. 914.

Virginia.— Baker v. Baker, 87 Va. 180, 12 S. E. 346; Lindsay v. Howerton, 2 Hen. & M. 9.

England.— Johnson v. Telford, 3 Russ. 477, 27 Rev. Rep. 116, 3 Eng. Ch. 477, 38 Eng. Reprint 654.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 456.

The value of the services is the sole test without reference to the size of the estate. Becher's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 115.

Court fees.— No allowance can be made to an administrator for court fees by way of expenses for the judges beyond the items fixed by statute. Liddel v. McVickar, 11 N. J. L. 44, 19 Am. Dec. 369.

93. Cullen v. State, 28 Ind. App. 335, 62 N. E. 759; Renshaw v. Stafford, 34 La. Ann. 1138; Hasler v. Hasler, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 248; Stout's Estate, 16 Montg. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 193. See also Matter of Welling, 51 N. Y. App. Div. 355, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 1025, 53 N. Y. App. Div. 639, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 1060; Matter of Collyer, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 297, 1 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 546.

94. Munden v. Bailey, 70 Ala. 63.

95. In re Wincox, 186 Ill. 445, 57 N. E. 1073 [affirming 85 Ill. App. 613].

96. Sherrell v. Shepard, 19 Fla. 300. See also Matter of Gates, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 144. And see Schouler Ex. § 544.

Ordering attorney to refund.— The probate court, on a hearing in the matter of an estate and guardianship, has no jurisdiction to peremptorily order an attorney to refund money received from the executrix and guardian in payment of attorney's fees in excess of what the court considers reasonable for the services performed, since the attorney has a right to be heard with reference thereto. Tomsky v. San Francisco Super. Ct., 131 Cal. 620, 63 Pac. 1020.

97. Pryor v. Davis, 109 Ala. 117, 19 So. 440.

98. In re Koch, 121 Mich. 667, 80 N. W. 641; In re Stevens, 3 Silv. Supreme (N. Y.)

or unnecessarily protracted,[99] where a proceeding instituted by the representative has been allowed to fail for lack of reasonable diligence in prosecuting it,[1] where the action should not have been brought by the representative in his fiduciary capacity,[2] where the representative's contentions were groundless,[3] or where it was understood that the fees and costs would be paid elsewhere and not by the estate.[4] Where more counsel than were necessary have been employed, the court has refused to allow all the fees paid,[5] and a charge for an attorney's services in attempting to rectify his own neglect in failing to interpose a proper plea has been disallowed.[6]

(B) Litigation Caused by Representative's Fault or Misconduct. An executor or administrator is not entitled to any allowance or credit for his fees, costs, or other expenses in a litigation made necessary by his own negligence, misconduct, or maladministration.[7]

(C) Litigation For Benefit of Particular Persons. The costs, fees, and expenses attending a litigation for the benefit of particular heirs, legatees, next of kin, or other persons, should be allowed, if at all, as against their own particular funds or interests, proportionately or wholly, as the case may be, rather than out of the general estate.[8]

(D) Personal Benefit of Representative. An executor or administrator can-

305, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 638; McGregor's Estate, 131 Pa. St. 359, 18 Atl. 902. See also Sutton v. Sutton, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1900) 58 S. W. 891.

99. See Phillips v. Phillips, 7 Ky. L. Rep. 679.

1. Clark v. Guard, 73 Ala. 456.

2. Thompson v. Thompson, 65 S. W. 457, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 1535.

3. Bendall v. Bendall, 24 Ala. 295; Whitford v. Horn, 18 Kan. 455; Williamson v. Childress, 26 Miss. 328; Hosack v. Rogers, 9 Paige (N. Y.) 461.

Advice of counsel.— Where an executor conducts fruitless suits, he will not be allowed the expense thereof, although they were brought under advice of counsel. Matter of Stanton, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 278, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 46.

4. In re Stephens, 2 N. Y. Suppl. 36.

5. California.— In re Byrne, 122 Cal. 260, 54 Pac. 957.

Louisiana.—Gayle's Succession, 27 La. Ann. 547. See also Porche v. Banks, 8 La. Ann. 65.

Mississippi.— Crowder v. Shackelford, 35 Miss. 321.

New York.— Matter of Collyer, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 297, 1 Connoly Surr. 546.

Oregon.— Muldrick v. Galbraith, 31 Oreg. 86, 49 Pac. 886.

Pennsylvania.— In re Kalbfell, 30 Pittsb. Leg. J. 325.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 448.

6. Matter of Collyer, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 297, 1 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 546.

7. Alabama.— Morrow v. Allison, 39 Ala. 70; Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227; Green v. Fagan, 15 Ala. 335.

California.— Stuttmeister's Estate, 75 Cal. 346, 17 Pac. 223; In re Holbert, 48 Cal. 627.

Georgia.— Ross v. Battle, 113 Ga. 742, 39 S. E. 287; Lilly v. Griffin, 71 Ga. 535.

Illinois.— Switzer v. Kee, 69 Ill. App. 499.

New Jersey.— Fluck v. Lake, 54 N. J. Eq. 638, 35 Atl. 643; Post v. Stevens, 13 N. J. Eq. 293.

New York.— Matter of Van de Veer, 63 N. Y. App. Div. 495, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 849; Matter of Swart, 2 Silv. Supreme 585, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 608; Matter of Baker, 27 Misc. 126, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 398; Matter of O'Brien, 5 Misc. 136, 25 N. Y. Suppl. 704.

North Carolina.— Stonestreet v. Frost, 123 N. C. 640, 31 S. E. 846. See also Johnson v. Marcom, 121 N. C. 83, 28 S. E. 58.

Pennsylvania.— Sterrett's Appeal, 2 Penr. & W. 419; Koehler's Estate, 8 Kulp 529; Hoffman's Estate, 21 Pa. Co. Ct. 203; In re Shuck, 30 Pittsb. Leg. J. 431; In re Brenneman, 14 York Leg. Rec. 14.

South Carolina.— Thomson v. Palmer, 3 Rich. Eq. 139.

West Virginia.— Cranmer v. McSwords, 26 W. Va. 412.

Canada.— See Kennedy v. Pingle, 27 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 305; McGill v. Courtice, 17 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 271; Ashbough v. Ashbough, 10 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 433.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 460; and supra, VIII, I, 6.

Negligence which did not cause the litigation will not prevent the allowance of sums paid for counsel fees. Forward v. Forward, 6 Allen (Mass.) 494.

8. Alabama.— Johnson v. Holifield, 82 Ala. 123, 2 So. 753; Hicks v. Barrett, 40 Ala. 291.

California.— Jessup's Estate, 80 Cal. 625, 22 Pac. 260.

Illinois.— Shaw v. Moderwell, 104 Ill. 64.

Kentucky.— Hart v. Hart, 2 Bibb 609.

New Jersey.— Kingsland v. Scudder, 36 N. J. Eq. 284.

New York.— Platt v. Moore, 1 Dem. Surr. 191.

North Carolina.— Harrell v. Davenport, 58 N. C. 4.

Pennsylvania.— McGregor's Estate, 131 Pa. St. 359, 18 Atl. 902.

not be allowed as against the estate the costs and expenses of litigation or the employment of counsel for his own individual benefit.[9] Such is the rule where the fiduciary has a special interest as legatee, devisee, heir, or distributee, to protect which he contests against others,[10] and to some extent the same rule applies to the asserting of his personal claims in the probate court for allowance against the estate where he was reasonably opposed by others and failed of success.[11] Apportionment of such costs and expenses as between representative and estate may, however, be sometimes proper.[12]

(E) Services of Representative as Attorney. In many jurisdictions the view prevails that an executor or administrator cannot be allowed credit for his services to the estate as an attorney,[13] or even for attorney's fees incurred by him

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 461.

9. Noble v. Jackson, 132 Ala. 230, 31 So. 450.

The representative is not entitled to an allowance from the estate for the services of an attorney in advising him as to his charges for administering (In re McAlpin, 8 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 654), in litigation with respect to his compensation (Bell v. Goss, (Tex. Civ. App. 1903) 76 S. W. 315), or in an unsuccessful attempt to retain ancillary administration, where false statements were made in the application therefor (Dorris v. Miller, 105 Iowa 564, 75 N. W. 482); and an allowance has also been refused for the costs of a suit by him to determine the right to administer (Cate v. Cate, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1899) 43 S. W. 365), or for the expense of a suit brought, not against the estate but against him individually (Ex p. Allen, 89 Ill. 474).

10. Alabama.— Mims v. Mims, 39 Ala. 716; Henderson v. Simmons, 33 Ala. 291, 70 Am. Dec. 590.

California.— Firebaugh v. Burbank, 121 Cal. 186, 53 Pac. 560; Marrey's Estate, 65 Cal. 287, 3 Pac. 896; In re Stott, Myr. Prob. 168; In re Chinmark, Myr. Prob. 128.

Illinois.— Wilkinson v. Ward, 42 Ill. App. 541.

Kentucky.— Wood v. Goff, 7 Bush 59; Caldwell v. Hampton, 53 S. W. 14, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 793; Wakefield v. Gilliland, 18 S. W. 768, 13 Ky. L. Rep. 845.

Minnesota.— In re Glynn, 57 Minn. 21, 58 N. W. 684.

Missouri.— Hughes v. Hughes, 8 Mo. 38.

New York.— Gross v. Moore, 14 N. Y. App. Div. 353, 43 N. Y. Suppl. 945.

North Carolina.— Ralston v. Telfair, 22 N. C. 414.

Pennsylvania.— Wither's Appeal, 13 Pa. St. 582.

South Carolina.— Pell v. Ball, Speers Eq. 48; Wham v. Love, Rice Eq. 51.

Tennessee.— German v. German, 7 Coldw. 180.

Washington.— Wilbur v. Wilbur, 17 Wash. 683, 50 Pac. 589.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 462.

11. Connecticut.— Clement's Appeal, 49 Conn. 519.

Maryland.— Dalrymple v. Gamble, 68 Md. 156, 11 Atl. 718; Billingslea v. Henry, 20 Md. 282.

New York.— Shakespeare v. Markham, 72 N. Y. 400.

Pennsylvania.— Fox's Appeal, 125 Pa. St. 518, 17 Atl. 451; Stephens' Appeal, 56 Pa. St. 409; Geiger's Appeal, (1889) 18 Atl. 851.

South Carolina.— Garrett v. Garrett, 2 Strobh. Eq. 272; Villard v. Robert, 1 Strobh. Eq. 40, 49 Am. Dec. 654.

Tennessee.— German v. German, 7 Coldw. 180.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 462.

12. Clement's Appeal, 49 Conn. 519; Nelson v. Bush, 9 Dana (Ky.) 104; Reeser's Appeal, 100 Pa. St. 79.

Attempt to uphold will.— Where an executor who is also a beneficiary under the will employs counsel to uphold the will against a contest in which the will is set aside, it is proper for the court to apportion such counsel fees as between such person in his individual capacity and as executor. Bruning v. Golden, 159 Ind. 199, 64 N. E. 657; Roll v. Mason, 9 Ind. App. 651, 37 N. E. 298.

13. California.— See In re Coursen, (1901) 65 Pac. 965, holding that services rendered by an executor as attorney "did not necessarily entitle him to extra compensation."

Colorado.— Doss v. Stevens, 13 Colo. App. 535, 59 Pac. 67.

Illinois.—Hough v. Harvey, 71 Ill. 72; Willard v. Bassett, 27 Ill. 37, 79 Am. Dec. 393.

Indiana.— Taylor v. Wright, 93 Ind. 121.

Kentucky.— Sims v. Birdsong, 59 S. W. 749, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1049.

Louisiana.— Lile's Succession, 24 La. Ann. 490; Key's Succession, 5 La. Ann. 567; Baldwin v. Carleton, 15 La. 394.

New York.— Lent v. Howard, 89 N. Y. 169; Collier v. Munn, 41 N. Y. 143 [affirming Tuck. Surr. 136]; Matter of Howard, 3 Misc. 170, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 836; Matter of Reed, 12 N. Y. St. 139; In re Valentine, 9 Abb. N. Cas. 313; Campbell v. Mackie, 1 Dem. Surr. 185; Campbell v. Purdy, 5 Redf. Surr. 434.

Tennessee.— It has been held that a public administrator ought not to be allowed compensation as attorney in addition to his commission. Loague v. Brennan, 86 Tenn. 634, 9 S. W. 693. And Fulton v. Davidson, 3 Heisk. 614, which held that where there were three executors, one of whom was a and paid to a firm of lawyers of which he is a member where his membership entitles him to a share in such fees;[14] but in other jurisdictions an executor or administrator who performs legal services for the estate is held entitled to an allowance therefor by way of extra compensation.[15]

(F) Services Which Representative Should Perform. An executor or administrator is not entitled to devolve his own fiduciary duties upon an attorney engaged at the cost of the estate; nor to claim allowance from the estate for extravagant counsel hire, nor for his payments made to others for doing work of the estate which did not require professional or expert skill, but was within his own general province as personal representative, and might fairly be compensated for by the usual allowance to a fiduciary.[16] lawyer, who by agreement was to attend to the legal duties, he could be allowed for legal services rendered the estate, while not overruled, was questioned and limited to its precise facts in State v. Butler, 15 Lea 113.

Utah.— In re Evans, 22 Utah 366, 62 Pac. 913, 93 Am. St. Rep. 794, 53 L. R. A. 952.

England.— Burge v. Brutton, 2 Hare 373, 7 Jur. 988, 12 L. J. Ch. 368, 24 Eng. Ch. 373.

Costs against the adversary may be recovered by the executor or administrator who prevails as attorney; but where the judgment for costs cannot be collected by him, he cannot be allowed the amount thereof out of the estate, although he may have his disbursements and expenses. Campbell v. Purdy, 5 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 434.

If one named as executor has never taken out letters nor exercised any control over the estate, his relations thereto as counsel are the same as those of any other person. Campbell v. Mackie, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 185.

14. Taylor v. Wright, 93 Ind. 121; Parker v. Day, 155 N. Y. 383, 49 N. E. 1046 [reversing 12 Misc. 510, 33 N. Y. Suppl. 676, and affirming 9 Misc. 298, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 267]; Burge v. Brutton, 2 Hare 373, 7 Jur. 988, 12 L. J. Ch. 368, 24 Eng. Ch. 373.

Employment of copartner as individual.— An executor may employ his partner as an individual to do work for him in matters relating to the estate, and services rendered pursuant to such employment give the partner a right to payment, and render the executor liable, with the right of reimbursement from the estate, if he is excluded from all participation in the compensation. Parker v. Day, 155 N. Y. 383, 49 N. E. 1046 [reversing 12 Misc. 510, 33 N. Y. Suppl. 676, and affirming 9 Misc. 298, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 267].

15. Alabama.—Alexander v. Bates, 127 Ala. 328, 28 So. 415; Clark v. Knox, 70 Ala. 607, 45 Am. Rep. 93; Teague v. Corbitt, 57 Ala. 529; Morgan v. Nelson, 43 Ala. 586; Harris v. Martin, 9 Ala. 895.

Massachusetts.— Newell v. West, 149 Mass. 520, 21 N. E. 954.

Michigan.— Wisner v. Mabley, 74 Mich. 143, 41 N. W. 835.

Ohio.— Chatfield v. Swing, 6 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 666, 7 Am. L. Rec. 326.

Pennsylvania.— If an executor prefers to act as his own counsel, he cannot charge the estate therefor and receive compensation for professional services in the nature of advice; but if an executor, who is an attorney, institutes or defends suits or other legal proceedings for the protection and benefit of the estate, these services, not being required of him as executor or administrator, or within the line of his duty as such, he is entitled to compensation therefor. McCloskey's Estate, 11 Phila. 95. See also In re Mumma, 6 Am. L. Reg. 489.

Wisconsin.— Sloan v. Duffy, 117 Wis. 480, 94 N. W. 342.

Amount of allowance.— The representative should be deemed entitled, not to the usual professional charges as a specific sum, but to a fair and reasonable allowance for his own services. Clark v. Knox, 70 Ala. 607, 45 Am. Rep. 93.

Extra fees.— Where an executor, in accepting the trust, is compelled to abandon his general practice at law, such fact is not a ground for the allowance of extra fees, unless his time has been occupied in performing extraordinary services. Chatfield v. Swing, 6 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 666, 7 Am. L. Rec. 326.

16. California.— In re Brignole, 133 Cal. 162, 65 Pac. 294.

Louisiana.— Macarty's Succession, 3 La. Ann. 517.

Nevada.— Lucich v. Medin, 3 Nev. 93, 93 Am. Dec. 376.

New Jersey.— Hurlbut v. Hutton, 44 N. J. Eq. 302, 15 Atl. 417; Kingsland v. Scudder, 36 N. J. Eq. 284.

New York.— Matter of Murray, 40 Misc. 433, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 394; Matter of Arkenbaugh, 13 Misc. 744, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 251; Matter of Van Nostrand, 3 Misc. 396, 24 N. Y. Suppl. 850, 2 Pow. Surr. 495; Matter of Knapp, 59 How. Pr. 367; Raymond v. Dayton, 4 Dem. Surr. 333; O'Reilly v. Meyer, 4 Dem. Surr. 161.

Pennsylvania.—Kalbfell's Estate, 30 Pittsb. Leg. J. 325.

South Carolina.— Edmonds v. Crenshaw, 1 Harp. Eq. 224.

Texas.— Trammel v. Philleo, 33 Tex. 395.

England.— Harbin v. Darby, 28 Beav. 325, 6 Jur. N. S. 906, 29 L. J. Ch. 622, 2 L. T. Rep. N. S. 531, 8 Wkly. Rep. 512, holding that where a solicitor who is appointed executor is authorized by the will to charge for his professional services he is only entitled to charge for what are strictly professional services, and not for work or services which ought to be done or rendered by an executor in a lay capacity.

(x) Fund Out of Which Allowance Made. Where an executor brought a suit to test the validity of a bequest and the bequest was upheld, he was not entitled to costs and counsel fees out of the proceeds of the sale of the property bequeathed.[17] Where an action by an executor to determine the rights of defendants to share in certain fund in his hands was determined in favor of defendants, the executor was not entitled to deduct counsel fees from the fund before distribution, where there was a sufficient estate left in his hands for that purpose.[18] Where a will was admitted to probate, and one of the heirs was appointed executor, and by undue means an election by the widow to take under the will was procured, but on suit brought by her was afterward set aside, the costs and attorney's fees incurred by the executor in defending the action could not be paid out of the estate until after the widow obtained her share.[19] Where, on partition of realty for purposes of distribution, the court ordered one portion thereof sold, the executor who made the sale had no authority to pay attorney's fees, except so far as the court might order them to be paid out of the proceeds of the sale.[20] In a case where a substituted trustee, accounting for the acts of a prior deceased trustee, was also executor to that trustee, the court divided between the estates a bill of his attorneys for services which were beneficial to both estates.[21]

h. Taxes and Assessments. An executor or administrator is entitled to credit for taxes and assessments properly paid by him in the exercise of his duties as such,[22] and this notwithstanding the fact that there is some technical defect in the

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 455.

Allowance has been denied for ordinary legal services in preparing an inventory (Matter of Collyer, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 297, 1 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 546; Pullman v. Willets, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 536), in the matter of the execution of the bond (Matter of Collyer, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 297, 1 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 546), or for depositing mortgages in the recorder's office for record (McGregor's Estate, 131 Pa. St. 359, 18 Atl. 902).

A transfer of securities held by the decedent as trustee, to which no claim was made by the heirs, when all that the administrator was required to do was to require identification of the securities in trust, is not a matter requiring the services of an attorney. In re McAlpin, 8 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 654.

17. Stevens v. Stevens, 37 N. J. Eq. 3.

18. Briggs v. Walker, 102 Ky. 359, 43 S. W. 479, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1490.

19. Sill v. Sill, 31 Kan. 248, 1 Pac. 556.

20. Snyder's Appeal, 54 Pa. St. 67.

21. Matter of Rowe, 42 Misc. (N. Y.) 172, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 253.

22. See Armstrong v. Cashion, (Ark. 1891) 16 S. W. 666; Howle v. Anderson, 44 S. W. 37, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1748; Bowers v. Williams, 34 Miss. 324; Atlantic Trust Co. v. Powell, 23 Misc. (N. Y.) 289, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 866.

As to what taxes representative should pay see infra, X, A, 15.

The duty of the representative to pay taxes at his peril depends upon whether he has or ought to have the money with which to do so. Thompson v. Thompson, 77 Ga. 692, 3 S. E. 261.

Working out highway tax.— Where an executor works out a highway tax personally instead of paying the money or hiring another person to do the work he should be allowed therefor in his account. Lansing v. Lansing, 45 Barb. (N. Y.) 182, 1 Abb. Pr. N. S. (N. Y.) 280, 31 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 55.

Time for payment of transfer tax see Matter of Sudds, 32 Misc. (N. Y.) 182, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 231.

Taxes accruing after commencement of action to settle estate.— In an action by a legatee to settle testator's estate, the personal representative was entitled to credit for taxes paid by her which accrued after the action was instituted. Hood v. Maxwell, 66 S. W. 276, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 1791.

Where title proves defective.— Where an executor had in good faith paid taxes upon lands supposed to belong to the testator, and purchased by himself, but the testator's title proved defective, he was allowed such taxes in his account upon his conveying all his interest in the lands to the parties interested in the estate, with warranty against encumbrances created by himself. Jennison v. Hapgood, 10 Pick. (Mass.) 77.

Where testator did not die seized of all the property on which taxes were paid, the executor is not entitled to credit for the payment of taxes where it is not shown what portion was on the testator's property. In re Selleck, 111 N. Y. 284, 19 N. E. 66.

Property out of the state.— Payment of taxes by an executor on lands in a state where he had not taken out administration, being voluntary and without authority, is like the payment of a debt by any stranger, and furnishes no foundation of a legal claim by him. Jennison v. Hapgood, 10 Pick. (Mass.) 77.

Penalty.— A claim by a personal representative for money paid as a penalty on taxes should be disallowed where the penalty accrued by reason of the representative's neg-assessment,[23] or the law under which the assessment was paid is afterward declared unconstitutional.[24] Even where the personal representative has paid out taxes not strictly in the line of his official duty, an adjustment of taxes among the persons in interest may properly reimburse him, and the land may be subjected to his lien or a set-off allowed.[25]

i. Insurance Premiums. The personal representative is not entitled to credit for the payment of assessments on a policy in which his decedent had no interest and in which his estate has none;[26] but where, in the exercise of good faith and reasonable prudence, he insures personal property, as assets of the estate, against fire, he is entitled to reimbursement for the premium paid,[27] and while he is usually not concerned in insurance upon the real property, since that belongs rather to the heirs or devisees,[28] yet where he has direction and control of the property, or reasonably expects that an insufficiency of the personal assets to pay the debts of the estate may render a sale of the real estate necessary, the insurance by him of the buildings may be prudent and an allowance therefor justified.[29] The court may refuse to allow credit for money paid for insurance where the amount paid is so greatly out of proportion to the amount realized by a sale of the property as to indicate that the payment was imprudent and reckless.[30]

j. Judgments Against Representative. Where a creditor of the estate has recovered and collected a judgment against the executor or administrator, the representative will be allowed credit in his accounts for the amount thereof, including costs, when it appears that he acted within the rule of reasonable prudence and discretion and was not guilty of negligence, bad faith, or other improper conduct;[31] but it is otherwise where the circumstances indicate bad faith or culpable remissness on the part of the representative.[32]

k. Interest Paid. Where it is not shown that the personal representative had lect. Williams v. Petticrew, 62 Mo. 460; Tickel v. Quinn, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 425.

23. Sanderson v. Sanderson, 20 Fla. 292. See also Adams v. Monroe County, 154 N. Y. 619, 49 N. E. 144.

24. Dey v. Chapman, 39 N. J. Eq. 258.

25. Arkansas.— Armstrong v. Cashion, (1891) 16 S. W. 666.

California.— In re Mogan, Myr. Prob. 80.

Florida.— Merritt v. Jenkins, 17 Fla. 593.

New York.—Matter of Sworthout, 38 Misc. 56, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 961.

Vermont.— See Hapgood v. Jennison, 2 Vt. 294.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 439.

26. Pryor v. Davis, 109 Ala. 117, 19 So. 440.

Property which is security for debt to estate.— An executor having insured property which was the security for his debt to the estate, pursuant to an order requiring him to do so at his own expense or file a bond, the estate is not chargeable with the cost thereof. Good's Estate, 150 Pa. St. 307, 24 Atl. 623.

27. Cornwell v. Deck, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 87.

28. Missouri.— Langston v. Canterbury, 173 Mo. 122, 73 S. W. 151.

New York.— Matter of Very, 24 Misc. 139, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 389, 28 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 163. See also Cornwell v. Deck, 2 Redf. Surr. 87.

North Carolina.—Hahn v. Mosely, 119 N. C. 73, 25 S. E. 713.

Pennsylvania.— In re Dunkle, 17 Lanc. L. Rev. 61.

England.— Bailey v. Gould, 9 L. J. Exch. Eq. 43, 4 Y. & C. Exch. 221. See also Fry v. Fry, 27 Beav. 144, 5 Jur. N. S. 1047, 28 L. J. Ch. 593.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 440; and supra, III, C, 1; infra, VIII, O, 1, a.

29. Sparrow's Succession, 40 La. Ann. 484, 4 So. 513; Wiggin v. Swett, 6 Metc. (Mass.) 194, 39 Am. Dec. 716; Howard v. Francis, 30 N. J. Eq. 444; Matter of Fould, 35 Misc. (N. Y.) 171, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 473; Matter of Van Houten, 18 Misc. (N. Y.) 524, 42 N. Y. Suppl. 1115; Rolph's Estate, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 293, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 191; Cornwell v. Deck, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 87.

Where assessments for fire insurance constitute a lien upon the property insured, but the value of the property exceeds the amount of the lien, it is the duty of the administrator of the insured to remove the lien by paying the assessments if there are sufficient assets. Tuttle v. Robinson, 33 N. H. 104. And see Kimball v. Sumner, 62 Me. 305.

30. In re Nicholson, 1 Nev. 518.

31. Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227; White v. White, 3 Dana (Ky.) 374; Scott v. Dorsey, 1 Harr. & J. (Md.) 227; Lambert v. Hobson, 56 N. C. 424.

32. Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227; George v. Bean, 30 Miss. 147; Hurlbut v. Hutton, 44 N. J. Eq. 302, 15 Atl. 417; Tucker v. Tucker, 29 N. J. Eq. 286; Moulson's Estate, 1 Brewst. (Pa.) 296.

moneys in hand sufficient to take up notes of the decedent, he is entitled to credit for interest paid to procure the extension of such notes;[33] and where, under the terms of a will, the executor had large discretionary powers, the court has allowed him to charge the estate with usurious interest paid in order to prevent the sacrifice of the property.[34] But where a special administrator has been ordered not to pay out money without an order of court, he is not entitled to credit for money paid without an order, as interest on notes held against the estate.[35] As a rule the representative should not, after the death of the decedent, pay interest on mortgages or other encumbrances on the land, accruing after the decedent's death.[36]

l. Traveling Expenses. In the settlement of an executor's or administrator's account, reasonable and necessary traveling expenses incurred in performing the duties of his trust should be allowed;[37] but it is otherwise where the expenses were needlessly or unreasonably incurred, or the representative was put to no actual cost, or journeyed rather upon his own business, or that of the heirs.[38]

m. Procuring Bond. The amount paid by the personal representative to a guaranty or indemnity company or to individual bondsmen, in order to procure sureties on his official bond is not, in the absence of some statute so providing, chargeable against the estate, in addition to his usual recompense,[39] and an allowance of the amount expended in procuring a revenue stamp for the bond has also been refused.[40]

n. Redemption of Property. Where the personal representative honestly and in the exercise of due prudence and diligence redeems mortgaged property, the value of which is fairly in excess of the mortgage debt, he may be allowed credit

33. Hale's Succession, 26 La. Ann. 195.

34. Coffee v. Ruffin, 4 Coldw. (Tenn.) 487.

35. James v. Craighead, (Tex. Civ. App. 1902) 69 S. W. 241.

36. Springfield Grocer Co. v. Walton, 95 Mo. App. 526, 69 S. W. 477.

Right to reimbursement from heirs.—Where an administratrix pays out of the personalty mortgage interest accruing after her intestate's death, she is entitled to be reimbursed by the heirs out of the realty. Matter of Sworthout, 38 Misc. (N. Y.) 56, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 961.

37. Alabama.— Pinckard v. Pinckard, 24 Ala. 250.

California.— In re Byrne, 122 Cal. 260, 54 Pac. 957; Rose's Estate, 80 Cal. 166, 22 Pac. 86.

Georgia.— Thomas v. Payne, 88 Ga. 246, 14 S. E. 573.

Kentucky.— Quaintance v. Darnell, 14 Ky. L. Rep. 238, 322.

Missouri.— Ladd v. Stephens, 147 Mo. 319, 48 S. W. 915; Williams v. Petticrew, 62 Mo. 460.

New Hampshire.— Wendell v. French, 19 N. H. 205.

New Jersey.— Dey v. Codman, 39 N. J. Eq. 258. But compare King v. Berry, 3 N. J. Eq. 261.

New York.—Everts v. Everts, 62 Barb. 577.

North Carolina.—Clarke v. Cotton, 17 N. C. 51.

Oregon.— Muldrick v. Galbraith, 31 Oreg. 86, 49 Pac. 886.

South Carolina.—Roberts v. Johns, 24 S. C. 580.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 443.

Expenses of messenger.— Where part of the assets of an estate consist of a note made by a resident of another state, the executor is entitled to be allowed the expenses incurred by a messenger sent to the residence of the maker in an attempt to collect. Bowman v. Carr, 5 Lea (Tenn.) 571.

38. Purdy v. Purdy, 42 S. W. 89, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 823; Lafon v. His Creditors, 3 Mart. N. S. (La.) 707; Matter of Biggars, 39 Misc. (N. Y.) 426, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 214; In re Ingersoll, 20 N. Y. St. 356, 6 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 184; Pullman v. Willets, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 536; Marsh v. Gilbert, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 465; Berryhill's Appeal, 35 Pa. St. 245.

39. Jenkins v. Shaffer, 19 N. Y. St. 900, 6 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 59; In re Eby, 164 Pa. St. 249, 30 Atl. 124; Pickering's Estate, 4 Pa. Dist. 263; Miller's Estate, 13 Pa. Co. Ct. 137; Wilson's Estate, 1 Pa. Co. Ct. 509, 18 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 483. But see In re Lucas, [1900] 1 Ir. 292.

In Louisiana the rule stated in the text has been asserted (Rabasse's Succession, 51 La. Ann. 590, 25 So. 326 [followed in Kernan's Succession, 105 La. 592, 30 So. 239]), but act 76 of 1900 allows such a payment to be charged among the expenses of administration.

Testamentary provision dispensing with bond.— A non-resident executor nominated by the will "without bond," will, on being appointed ancillary executor, be allowed the fee expended in obtaining security which is required of non-residents who are appointed as ancillary executors, provided such allowance has not already been made by the domiciliary court. Yerkes' Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 36.

40. In re Ford, 29 Mont. 283, 74 Pac. 735. Contra, Edelen v. Edelen, 11 Md. 415.

for the outlay in his accounts,[41] but outlays because of his own bad judgment or remissness of duty and without benefit to the estate are not thus favored.[42]

o. Miscellaneous Expenditures. The personal representative has been allowed credit for advertising and printing done in the course of official duty,[43] special transactions which were prudent in protecting assets or settling debts of the estate,[44] the expenses of the journey of decedent's wife or near relative for whom decedent sent during his last illness,[45] the rent of an office used exclusively for the business of the estate,[46] the rent of a box in a safe deposit vault where necessary,[47] the charges of reasonable storage and custody,[48] tools, machinery, and hard ware purchased for the decedent's farm with the approval of the county judge,[49] buying out the interest of tenants of the decedent where necessary,[50] dues paid on building and loan stock belonging to the estate and pledged to a bank as security,[51] payments made for the preservation of the real property of the estate,[52] rent paid on an outstanding lease,[53] the expenses of acquiring title to land which the executor was obliged to purchase at judicial sale in collecting a debt to the estate,[54] expenses incurred in good faith in taking steps to recover foreign assets,[55] and expenses incurred in good faith, with the knowledge of and without objection from the heirs at law in securing growing fruit and crops and taking care of stock upon decedent's farm.[56] Where an administrator is allowed by the probate court to keep the estate together, he should be allowed credit for the expense which he has necessarily incurred in cultivating the plantation and disposing of the crops.[57] The court has refused to allow the representative credit for money paid out at the mere verbal request of the decedent on his death-bed,[58] or for 41. Cummings v. Bradley, 57 Ala. 224; Russell v. Wheeler, 129 Mich. 41, 88 N. W. 73; Meeker v. Straat, 38 Mo. App. 239.

42. Brackett v. Tillotson, 4 N. H. 208.

43. Reynolds v. Reynolds, 11 Ala. 1023.

44. Alabama.— Walker v. Walker, 26 Ala. 262.

Illinois.— Wingate v. Pool, 25 Ill. 102.

Kentucky.— Branham v. Com., 7 J. J. Marsh. 190.

Massachusetts.— Ripley v. Sampson, 10 Pick. 371.

New York.— Adair v. Brimmer, 74 N. Y. 539.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 435.

45. Jennison v. Hapgood, 10 Pick. (Mass.) 77.

46. Newell v. West, 149 Mass. 520, 21 N. E. 954; Bronson v. Bronson, 48 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 481; In re Semple, 189 Pa. St. 385, 42 Atl. 28.

47. Dudley v. Sanborn, 159 Mass. 185, 34 N. E. 181.

48. Nicholson v. Whitlock, 57 S. C. 36, 35 S. E. 412 (holding that an allowance for storage and insurance of cotton should not be refused because it was stored in a warehouse of which the administrator was part owner, in the absence of bad faith); Foster v. Stone, 67 Vt. 336, 31 Atl. 841.

Rent of apartments where goods are at decedent's death.— Where, on the contest of a will, the contestant alleged that the main provision of the will was void, and that the executor was an unfit person, the account of the latter should not be surcharged with the difference between the rent of a warehouse to store the goods of the decedent and the rent of the apartments in which she died and in which he allowed her goods to remain. Matter of Murray, 40 Misc. (N. Y.) 433, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 394.

49. James v. Craighead, (Tex. Civ. App. 1902) 69 S. W. 241.

50. Lambertson v. Vann, 134 N. C. 108, 46 S. E. 10.

51. State v. Taylor, 100 Mo. App. 481, 74 S. W. 1032, holding such payment proper without any order of court.

52. Hall's Estate, 10 Pa. Dist. 215.

Searching title.— An executor who necessarily incurs expense in searching the title of land belonging to his testator's estate for the purpose of paying off and obtaining an assignment of a mortgage thereon should be allowed the sum so paid. In re Bettels, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 393.

53. Matter of Peck, 79 N. Y. App. Div. 296, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 76 [affirmed in 177 N. Y. 538, 69 N. E. 1129].

54. Bowler's Estate, 8 Pa. Co. Ct. 522.

55. Bowman v. Carr, 5 Lea (Tenn.) 571.

56. Edwards v. Ela, 5 Allen (Mass.) 87.

57. Hinson v. Williamson, 74 Ala. 180.

Expenditures exceeding proceeds of sale.— Where an intestate had planted and at the time of his death was engaged in cultivating crops, the administrator, under Ala. Code (1876), §§ 2439, 2440, might be compelled to continue the cultivation of the crops and gather them for the market, and was entitled to credit on settlement for his reasonable expenses, although on account of natural causes the expenditures largely exceeded the proceeds of the sale of the crops. Tayloe v. Bush, 75 Ala. 432.

58. Matter of Teyn, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 306; Turnipseed v. Sirrine, 60 S. C. 272, 38 pew-rent,[59] expenses incurred upon property while in another jurisdiction,[60] liquors used at an auction sale of assets,[61] money expended in carrying out a void trust,[62] the administrator's expenses preliminary to applying for letters,[63] or his time and money expended while endeavoring to effect a private settlement with the heirs.[64] An executor has no right to buy off contestants of the will and charge the expense against the estate.[65]

9. Interest on Expenditures. Under due circumstances the advance of money to the estate by an executor or administrator will not only be justified but commended, so as to entitle him to a fair allowance of interest thereon;[66] but such a charge will be viewed with caution and the circumstances scrutinized, and where no necessity existed justifying such advance, or where the advantage claimed did not actually exist, interest may be disallowed.[67]

J. Individual Interest in Transactions — 1. In General. An executor or administrator cannot be allowed to acquire individual interests inconsistent with the representative capacity he sustains for the benefit of the estate, nor to make a personal profit out of his dealings with the property of the estate,[68] and trans-

S. E. 423; Kerr v. Hill, 2 Desauss. (S. C.) 279.

59. Milmo's Succession, 47 La. Ann. 126, 16 So. 772.

60. Roberts v. Rogers, 28 Miss. 152, 61 Am. Dec. 542.

61. Griswold v. Chandler, 5 N. H. 492.

62. O'Connor v. Gifford, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 207, 6 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 71.

63. In re Byrne, 122 Cal. 260, 54 Pac. 957.

64. Clarke v. Clay, 31 N. H. 393.

65. Bolles v. Bacon, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 43.

66. Alabama.— Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227.

Arkansas.— Trimble v. James, 40 Ark. 393, simple interest only.

New Jersey.— Liddel v. McVickar, 11 N. J. L. 44, 19 Am. Dec. 369.

New York.— Mann v. Lawrence, 3 Bradf. Surr. 424.

Pennsylvania.— Callaghan v. Hall, 1 Serg. & R. 241.

Virginia.— Jackson v. Jackson, 1 Gratt. 143.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 447.

67. Kentucky.— McCracken v. McCracken, 6 T. B. Mon. 342.

Missouri.— Booker v. Armstrong, 93 Mo. 49, 4 S. W. 727.

New Jersey.— Liddel v. McVickar, 11 N. J. L. 44, 19 Am. Dec. 369.

North Carolina.—Arnett v. Linney, 16 N. C. 369.

Tennessee.— Royston v. McCulley, (Ch. App. 1900) 59 S. W. 725, 52 L. R. A. 899.

England.— See Gordon v. Trail, 8 Price 416.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 447.

68. Arkansas.— Jacoway v. Hall, 67 Ark. 340, 55 S. W. 12.

Louisiana.— See Thomas v. Bienvenu, 35 La. Ann. 936.

Michigan.— Loomis v. Armstrong, 49 Mich. 521, 14 N. W. 505.

New York.— Parker v. Day, 155 N. Y. 383, 49 N. E. 1046 [reversing 12 Misc. 510, 33 N. Y. Suppl. 676]; Matter of Rainforth, 40 Misc. 609, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 57.

Ohio.— Cox v. John, 32 Ohio St. 532.

Pennsylvania.— Low's Estate, 3 Pa. Dist. 316.

South Carolina.— Turnipseed v. Sirrine, 60 S. C. 272, 38 S. E. 423.

Tennessee.— Johnson v. Kay, 8 Humphr. 142.

Virginia.— Cross v. Cross, 4 Gratt. 257.

England.— Ex p. James, 8 Ves. Jr. 337, 7 Rev. Rep. 56, 32 Eng. Reprint 385.

Canada.— In re Sinclair, 2 Ont. L. Rep. 349.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 467.

Purchase of claims at discount see infra, X, A, 21.

The representative is presumed to act for the benefit of the estate and not for his individual benefit when acting in reference to the subject of his trust. Johnson v. Blackman, 11 Conn. 342. See, generally, Trusts.

Subscription to additional corporate stock in individual capacity.— An executor of a deceased stock-holder of a corporation which has increased its stock has no right to make a profit for himself by taking additional shares which the estate is entitled to subscribe for in his own name, and he must surrender such shares, with the dividends earned thereon; but he is entitled to credit his accounts for the amount paid on the stock from his own funds. Turnipseed v. Sirrine, 60 S. C. 272, 38 S. E. 423. See also In re Sinclair, 2 Ont. L. Rep. 349.

Salary as corporate officer.— Where the majority of the stock and bonds of a corporation belonged to an estate, and the executors elected one of their number president at the same salary as was paid the president during the lifetime of deceased, they were entitled to allowance for their proportion of the amount paid for such salary. Matter of Fidelity Loan, etc., Co., 23 Misc. (N. Y.) 211, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 1124. See also Matter of Schaefer, 65 N. Y. App. Div. 378, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 57 [modifying 34 Misc. 34, 69 N. Y.

actions in which the representative as an individual deals with himself in his representative capacity are always regarded with suspicion and will be set aside if inequitable.[69] Thus while his general right to dispose of assets is conceded the executor or administrator should not purchase or speculate with property of the estate for his individual benefit,[70] divert the funds of the estate into business or investment for his own private gain,[71] buy out for himself his decedent's share in a partnership,[72] or sell his own property to the estate.[73] The representative cannot settle his own debts to the estate at undue personal advantage to himself,[74] take secret fees, commissions, or discounts, from creditors or others with whom he deals as representative, at the cost of the estate,[75] use money of the estate for his individual benefit,[76] sell or pledge assets as special security for or payment of his individual debt or for some individual advantage,[77] or in general take for his own benefit a position regarding the estate in which his interest will conflict with his duty.[78] The representative may, however, properly apply the assets of the Suppl. 489, and affirmed in 171 N. Y. 686, 64 N. E. 1125].

Purchase of mortgage at discount in belief that property belongs to estate.— Where an executor in the belief that mortgaged property belongs to the estate purchases the mortgage at a discount with his own individual money but makes no profit out of the transaction the mortgagor will not be entitled to a rebate of the discount. Pinneo v. Goodspeed, 120 Ill. 524, 12 N. E. 196 [affirming 22 Ill. App. 50].

69. Hyland v. Baxter, 42 Hun (N. Y.) 9; Bryan v. Kales, 134 U. S. 126, 10 S. Ct. 435, 33 L. ed. 829.

70. Kentucky.—Kellar v. Beelor, 5 T. B. Mon. 573.

Maryland.— Scott v. Burch, 6 Harr. & J. 67.

Minnesota.— St. Paul Trust Co. v. Kittson, 62 Minn. 408, 65 N. W. 74.

New Jersey.— Arrowsmith v. Van Harlingen, 1 N. J. L. 26; King v. Berry, 3 N. J. Eq. 261.

New York.— Ackerman v. Emott, 4 Barb. 626.

Pennsylvania.—Haberman's Appeal, 101 Pa. St. 329.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 467; and infra, VIII, O, 9, d, (VI), (B); VIII, O, 12, a; VIII, P, 2, f, (I); VIII, P, 4, b; XII, M, 4, a.

Transfer of corporate stock.— Where an executor holding shares in bank-stock as such transfers them to himself, he will be liable for the value of the stock as of the time of such transfer, and interest thereon afterward. Jameson v. Shelby, 2 Humphr. (Tenn.) 198.

71. Malone v. Kelley, 54 Ala. 532; Williamson v. Mobile Branch Bank, 7 Ala. 906, 42 Am. Dec. 617; Field v. Colton, 7 Ill. App. 379; Wiley's Appeal, 8 Watts & S. (Pa.) 244. See also St. Paul Trust Co. v. Kittson, 62 Minn. 408, 65 N. W. 74.

72. Bagwell v. Bagwell, 72 Ga. 92; Moses v. Moses, 50 Ga. 9. See also Matter of Barlow, 15 N. Y. St. 721; Hall's Appeal, 40 Pa. St. 409.

73. Baldwin v. Carleton, 15 La. 394.

74. Grant v. Reese, 94 N. C. 720.

Settlement of claim against executor's wife. — Where a testatrix herself had invested one thousand dollars on mortgage, and there was no reason to suppose that she was unaware that the terre-tenant was the wife of her executor, and a legatee who was ignorant of the ownership joined in a written request to the executors to accept five hundred dollars in full settlement rather than incur the expense incident to foreclosure, the validity of the agreement was not affected by such ignorance, after it had been acted on by the executors, especially when on a sale of the property the amount realized was only about nine dollars in excess of what was received under the settlement. Edenborn's Estate, 10 Pa. Dist. 184.

75. Reeside v. Reeside, 6 Phila. (Pa.) 507; Chapman v. Comings, 43 Vt. 16.

76. Matter of Meagley, 39 N. Y. App. Div. 83, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 503.

77. Alabama.—Williamson v. Mobile Branch Bank, 7 Ala. 906, 42 Am. Dec. 617.

Missouri.— State v. Berning, 74 Mo. 87.

Pennsylvania.— Miller v. Ege, 8 Pa. St. 352.

South Carolina.— Simons v. Bryce, 10 S. C. 354.

Virginia.—Dodson v. Simpson, 2 Rand. 294.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 467.

Transaction held not void as mortgage for individual debt see Roarty v. McDermott, 146 N. Y. 296, 41 N. E. 30 [reversing 84 Hun 527, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 853].

Who may attack mortgage.—Where a legatee, who was also the executor of an estate, gave to a stranger a mortgage on personal property of the estate to secure his individual debt, it could not be questioned by the mortgagee for want of title in the mortgagor, for being legatee in possession he had an inchoate title, and none but persons interested in the estate could dispute his right as executor to give the mortgage. Boeger v. Langenberg, 42 Mo. App. 7.

78. California.— In re Adams, 131 Cal. 415, 63 Pac. 838.

Kentucky.— Floyd v. Massie, 4 Bibb 427.

Michigan.— Sheldon v. Rice, 30 Mich. 296, 18 Am. Rep. 136.

New York.— Kyle v. Kyle, 67 N. Y. 400.

Pennsylvania.— Mueller's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 70.

estate to the payment of a debt of his decedent in its due order, although he is individually liable as the decedent's surety,[79] or even, it has been held, where he is in his individual capacity the principal debtor, and the decedent the surety.[80] The representative cannot of course acquire title by adverse holding to any of the assets,[81] nor is he entitled to retain assets of the estate at their inventoried value;[82] but he may retain assets at a fair rate of valuation of which the appraisement is prima facie proof,[83] although he cannot make a profit by retaining them at a price lower than what others have offered and he has refused.[84] An executor who without authority sells corporate stock belonging to the estate is liable only for the loss then resulting to the estate, and legatees cannot hold him to account as trustee for profits made by him some years subsequently in the repurchase and sale of such stock.[85]

2. As Affecting Person Dealing With Representative. The representative's sale or pledge of assets or other transactions made for other purposes than the due discharge of his duty as fiduciary will not be sustained against the interests of the estate, where the person with whom he dealt had notice of his bad faith or breach of trust, and in such case the transaction may be set aside and restitution enforced;[86] but a third person who in dealing with the representative acted in good faith and without notice of the representative's bad faith, and parted with consideration, will be protected in the transaction.[87]

79. Rowland v. Cocke, 2 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 79.

80. Shelton v. Carpenter, 60 Ala. 201.

81. Dozier v. McWhorter, 117 Ga. 786, 45 S. E. 61.

82. Lindsay v. Lindsay, 1 Desauss. (S. C.) 150; Chifflet v. Willis, 74 Tex. 245, 11 S. W. 1105.

83. Ely v. Com., 5 Dana (Ky.) 398. See also Miller v. Towles, 4 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 255 (where the court, although denying the legal right of the representative to purchase any of the estate in his hands, said that he might retain a chattel, advancing his own money, being chargeable in such case with its appraised value); Meridith v. Nichols, 1 A. K. Marsh. (Ky.) 595. But compare Hall v. Griffith, 2 Harr. & J. (Md.) 483.

Where the representative appropriates or makes use of personalty of the estate as his own, he will be charged with such property at its appraised value. Keenan's Estate, 6 Kulp (Pa.) 73 (with interest); Benson v. Bruce, 4 Desauss. (S. C.) 463.

84. Wiley's Appeal, 8 Watts & S. (Pa.) 244.

85. Hiller v. Ladd, 85 Fed. 703, 29 C. C. A. 394.

86. Alabama.—Swink v. Snodgrass, 17 Ala. 653, 52 Am. Dec. 190.

Georgia.— Rogers v. Fort, 19 Ga. 94; Carnes v. Jones, Ga. Dec. 170.

Indiana.— Nugent v. Laduke, 87 Ind. 482; Rogers v. Zook, 86 Ind. 237; Krutz v. Stewart, 76 Ind. 9; Thomasson v. Brown, 43 Ind. 203; Austin v. Willson, 21 Ind. 252.

Maryland.— Miller v. Williamson, 5 Md. 219; Williamson v. Morton, 2 Md. Ch. 94.

Mississippi.— Booyer v. Hodges, 45 Miss. 78; Miller v. Helm, 2 Sm. & M. 687; Prosser v. Leatherman, 4 How. 237, 34 Am. Dec. 121.

New York.— Moore v. American L. & T. Co., 115 N. Y. 65, 21 N. E. 681; Colt v. Lasnier, 9 Cow. 320.

North Carolina.— Grant v. Bell, 87 N. C. 34; Latham v. Moore, 59 N. C. 167; Smith v. Fortescue, 45 N. C. 127, 57 Am. Dec. 593; Wilson v. Doster, 42 N. C. 231; Huson v. McKenzie, 16 N. C. 463.

Pennsylvania.— Petrie v. Clark, 11 Serg. & R. 377, 14 Am. Dec. 636; Parrish v. Brooks, 4 Brewst. 154; Ellis' Appeal, 8 Wkly. Notes Cas. 538; Oram's Estate, 9 Phila. 358.

South Carolina.— Rhame v. Lewis, 13 Rich. Eq. 269; Thomas v. Gage, Harp. Eq. 197.

Tennessee.— Smartt v. Watterhouse, 6 Humphr. 158.

Texas.— Williams v. Verne, 68 Tex. 414, 4 S. W. 548; Bledsoe v. White, 42 Tex. 130.

Virginia.—Dodson v. Simpson, 2 Rand. 294.

United States.— Smith v. Ayer, 101 U. S. 320, 25 L. ed. 955.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 468.

In what bad faith may consist.— The bad faith of an executor or administrator, such as may charge the person with whom he deals, may consist in bad faith toward his co-executor or co-administrator (Johnson v. Mangum, 65 N. C. 146), or in some wrongful transaction whereby the debt one owes to the estate is set off against a private debt of the representative (Thomas v. Gage, Harp. Eq. (S. C.) 197).

87. Ward v. Lewis, 3 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 505; Sutherland v. Brush, 7 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 17, 11 Am. Dec. 383; Hemmy v. Hawkins, 102 Wis. 56, 78 N. W. 177, 72 Am. St. Rep. 863; Lowry v. Commercial, etc., Bank, 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,581, Brunn. Col. Cas. 331, Taney 310.

Where equities equal law must prevail.— Thackum v. Longworth, 2 Hill Eq. (S. C.) 267. See, generally, Equity, 16 Cyc. 1.

K. Waste, Conversion, or Embezzlement of Assets — 1. In General. An executor or administrator is personally liable for waste,[88] or for conversion,[89] misapplication,[90] or embezzlement of the assets of the estate,[91] and in modern practice a convenient remedy is found by action upon his official bond,[92] although statute penalties are also prescribed for conversion, embezzlement, and kindred offenses committed by the representative.[93] The beneficiaries of an estate may elect in case of conversion either to charge the representative with the value of the substituted property and its natural increase, or else to claim and pursue the converted property wherever it can be traced.[94] One cannot charge as a devastavit in the personal representative an act done with his own consent and concurrence.[95]

2. What Constitutes Waste.[96] Waste may consist in cutting timber from the land without authority,[97] or in using fallen timber for individual purposes.[98] Acquiescence in waste or conversion by another may render the representative liable.[99] The payment of interest on obligations of the decedent, although it

88. Kentucky.— McCracken v. McCracken, 6 T. B. Mon. 342; Finley v. Pearson, 76 S. W. 374, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 766; Harpending v. Daniel, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 858.

New Hampshire.— Gordon v. West, 8 N. H. 444.

New York.— Matter of Feierabend, 38 Misc. 524, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 1106.

Pennsylvania.— Montier's Estate, 7 Phila. 491; Zweidinger's Estate, 29 Pittsb. Leg. J. 63.

England.— Dunne v. Doran, 13 Ir. Eq. 545.

Canada.— Sovereign v. Sovereign, 15 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 559.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 469.

Nature of liability.— A devastavit by an administrator only creates a simple contract debt to the next of kin. Dunne v. Doran, 13 Ir. Eq. 545.

How waste established.— In an action of debt against an executor merely suggesting a devastavit, the executor is not to be held personally liable, as a devastavit can only be established by establishing the debt against the estate by matter of record, and showing assets admitted by defendant's plea, confession, or default, or found by the verdict of a jury, against a plea of plene administravit generally, and that defendant has wasted such assets. Ford v. Rouse, Rice (S. C.) 219.

The time of a devastavit of an administrator is properly ascertained from the return of nulla bona on an execution issued against him in his representative character. Greenup v. Woodworth, 1 Ill. 254.

Equitable assets.— An executor or administrator is not liable at law as for a devastavit in relation to equitable assets unless by force of some statute. Green v. Collins, 28 N. C. 139.

89. Miller v. Miller, 73 Md. 442, 21 Atl. 321; In re Buck, 185 Pa. St. 57, 39 Atl. 821, 64 Am. St. Rep. 816. See also Matter of Feierabend, 38 Misc. (N. Y.) 524, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 1106.

90. Matter of Meagley, 39 N. Y. App. Div. 83, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 503.

An agreement of distributees to indemnify against loss in defending an action does not save the executor from the consequences of a misapplication of the funds by himself or his attorney. Reilly v. Porcher, 46 N. Y. App. Div. 290, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 662.

91. See Connor v. Akin, 34 Ill. App. 431.

92. In re Richart, 58 Ill. App. 91; Hagthorp v. Hook, 1 Gill & J. (Md.) 270; Smith v. Jewett, 40 N. H. 513. And see, generally, infra, XVII.

Proceeds of sale not belonging to estate.— Where an administrator sells realty of the estate under order of court directing that one third of the proceeds be paid to the widow of the intestate, and pays out for the estate a sum exceeding two thirds of the total proceeds of the sale, but fails to account to the widow for the balance, he is not liable to the estate on his bond for a devastavit, as the sum for which he failed to account belongs to the widow, and not to the estate. Cullen v. State, 28 Ind. App. 335, 62 N. E. 759.

93. See Connor v. Akin, 34 Ill. App. 431; Phelps v. Martin, 74 Ind. 339; State v. Pannell, (Miss. 1903) 34 So. 388; Spaulding v. Cook, 48 Vt. 145; Roys v. Roys, 13 Vt. 543.

Construction of statute.— The Mississippi statute making it a felony for any executor to unlawfully convert to his own use money or other property of the estate, or to fail to immediately pay such money or deliver such thing over according to his legal obligation when lawfully required to do so, does not apply to a refusal by an executor to pay a debt due from the estate on its reduction to judgment. State v. Pannell, (1903) 34 So. 388.

94. Blackwell v. Blackwell, 33 Ala. 57, 70 Am. Dec. 556.

95. Cain v. Hawkins, 50 N. C. 192.

96. See, generally, Waste.

97. McCracken v. McCracken, 6 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 342; Finley v. Pearson, 76 S. W. 374, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 766; Gordon v. West, 8 N. H. 444; Casto v. Kintzel, 27 W. Va. 750.

Cutting timber from wild lands in a careful and prudent manner is not waste. McNichol v. Eaton, 77 Me. 246.

98. McCracken v. McCracken, 6 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 342.

99. Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227.

might have been avoided, is not necessarily waste.[1] Nor is the mere fact that an administrator expends money in a reasonable effort to save property of his intestate situated in another state sufficient to convict him of a devastavit.[2] In Arkansas it has been held that there can be no devastavit which will sustain an action against an administrator until he has violated an order of the probate court to pay creditors.[3]

3. What Constitutes Conversion. Where an administrator had certain railroad stock belonging to his intestate assigned to himself personally and for his own benefit, this was a conversion of the stock for which he was responsible.[4] A bona fide claim by an executor that a slave which had belonged to his testatrix belonged to him by virtue of a gift from the testatrix was not such a tortious act as made the executor liable for the value of the slave, who died before the settlement of the estate.[5] Where the administrator married the widow of the intestate and there were children of the intestate in their minority, the possession and use of the property by the administrator was not evidence of a conversion.[6]

4. Mingling Trust and Personal Funds or Property. An executor or administrator should preserve the funds and property of the decedent's estate distinct from his own so that such assets may be known and readily identified;[7] and if he mingles the trust property with his own or with other property so that the two are indistinguishable, he becomes personally liable,[8] and beneficiaries may at their option elect to hold him accountable as for conversion in doing so.[9] There is, however, an inclination to respect innocent motive and the absence of intent or opportunity to make an individual profit, where due prudence was exercised under all the circumstances, so as to relieve the representative in such a case from strict liability as though for conversion.[10]

Waste by co-executor.— Where an executor saw the estate wasted from time to time by his co-executrix and an agent she had appointed, and took no steps to prevent the same, he was charged with the loss. Sovereign v. Sovereign, 15 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 559.

Timber cut by heir.— Where the heirs of one who died intestate, supposing that all the debts had been paid by the administrator, divided the real estate among them, after which one of them cut wood and timber on the lands to a large amount, it was held in a suit brought by a creditor against the administrator on his bond that this did not constitute waste by the administrator, and that he was not bound to account for the value of the wood and timber cut, although such estate ultimately proved insolvent and the administrator was one of the heirs and participated in the division. Fuller v. Young, 10 Me. 365.

1. Beale v. Barnett, 64 S. W. 838, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 1118; In re Stevens, [1898] 1 Ch. 162, 67 L. J. Ch. 118, 77 L. T. Rep. N. S. 508, 46 Wkly. Rep. 177 [affirming [1897] 1 Ch. 422, 66 L. J. Ch. 155, 76 L. T. Rep. N. S. 18, 45 Wkly. Rep. 284].

2. Shinn's Estate, 166 Pa. St. 121, 30 Atl. 1026, 1030, 45 Am. St. Rep. 656.

3. Outlaw v. Yell, 5 Ark. 468; Tate v. Norton, 94 U. S. 746, 24 L. ed. 222.

4. Whitley v. Alexander, 73 N. C. 444.

5. Smith v. Rosser, 37 Ga. 353.

6. Montgomery Branch Bank v. Wade, 13 Ala. 427.

7. Key v. Boyd, 10 Ala. 154; Field v. Colton, 7 Ill. App. 379; Brackenridge v. Holland, 2 Blackf. (Ind.) 377, 20 Am. Dec. 123; Hagthorp v. Hook, 1 Gill & J. (Md.) 270.

An executrix of a will which gives her a life-estate in the real and personal property of testator becomes a trustee for the residuary legatees, on proving the will, and under obligations to keep accurate accounts of the estate, and keep its funds separate from her own. Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church v. Smith, 58 N. J. Eq. 25, 43 Atl. 428.

8. Adams v. Westbrook, 41 Miss. 385; Zion Evangelical Lutheran Church v. Smith, 58 N. J. Eq. 25, 43 Atl. 428; Matter of Hayes, 40 Misc. (N. Y.) 500, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 792; Lippard v. Roseman, 72 N. C. 427.

The doctrine of confusion of goods does not apply so as to cause the representative to forfeit his own property in cases of mingling. Matter of Mullon, 74 Hun (N. Y.) 358, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 683 [affirmed in 145 N. Y. 98, 39 N. E. 821].

Mere delay by executors in calling in a debt due to the testator from a firm of which some of the executors are members does not give the estate any right to share in the profits of the business. Vyse v. Foster, L. R. 8 Ch. 309, 42 L. J. Ch. 245, 27 L. T. Rep. N. S. 774, 21 Wkly. Rep. 207 [affirmed in L. R. 7 H. L. 318, 44 L. J. Ch. 37, 31 L. T. Rep. N. S. 177, 23 Wkly. Rep. 355].

9. Henderson v. Henderson, 58 Ala. 582; Ditmar v. Bogle, 53 Ala. 169; Raines v. Raines, 51 Ala. 237; McElroy v. Thompson, 42 Ala. 656; Norwood v. Duncan, 10 Mart. (La.) 708.

10. State v. Cheston, 51 Md. 352; Coggins' Appeal, 3 Walk. (Pa.) 426; Burnham v. Marshall, 56 Vt. 365.

5. Extent of Liability. Actual value of the assets at the time of their waste, conversion, embezzlement, or misappropriation, computed in lawful money, is usually the measure of the liability of the executor or administrator who was at fault.[11]

6. Rank of Claims For Waste. It has been held that a creditor holding a specialty debt due from an intestate and coming against the estate of his administrator, on account of a devastavit, can only take equally with such administrator's simple contract creditors, while his sureties must make up the balance.[12]

7. Lien on Property of Representative. There is no specific lien on the property of the representative to make good his waste or embezzlement.[13]

8. Discharge From Liability. An administratrix who allows her husband to receive and convert to his own use the funds of an infant next of kin is not discharged from liability therefor upon the subsequent appointment of the husband as guardian of the said infant, but is equally liable with such guardian.[14] The fact that the representative has distributed the estate of the decedent does not relieve him from liability to a creditor who sues him for a devastavit within the period fixed by statute.[15]

9. Restraining Waste. The representative may be restrained from committing waste[16] or ruining the estate by collusion with pretended creditors.[17]

L. Loss or Depreciation of Assets — 1. In General. Executors and administrators are not insurers, nor will they be chargeable with the loss or depreciation of the assets where they have acted in good faith and with due prudence and diligence in the care and management of the estate;[18] but they are liable for 11. Glenn v. Glenn, 41 Ala. 571; Frey's Estate, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 84; Moses v. Hart, 25 Gratt. (Va.) 795.

In case of tortious conversion, the representative is chargeable with the highest value of the property. Irby v. Kitchell, 42 Ala. 438.

Value and profits.— Where an administratrix permitted the saloon of her intestate to pass into the control of her husband, she was held chargeable with the value of the saloon and with its profits if it was conducted in her interest. In re Suess, 37 Misc. (N. Y.) 459, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 938.

When inventory value conclusive on representative.— Where an administrator, on final accounting, was charged with the inventory value of certain chattels which he had allowed the widow to take, he cannot object that such value was too high, since, if he does not subject the goods to the proper test of their value by public sale, the inventory value is conclusive on him. Reiff's Estate, 3 Pa. L. J. Rep. 310, 5 Pa. L. J. 255.

12. Carow v. Mowatt, 2 Edw. (N. Y.) 57.

13. Wilkes v. Harper, 2 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 338 [affirmed in 1 N. Y. 586].

Lien of judgment.— In an action for embezzling the estate of an intestate, the county court has no authority to make its judgment a lien on all the lands of defendants, and the circuit court on appeal has no more power. Connor v. Akin, 34 Ill. App. 431.

14. Altman v. Wile, 19 N. Y. Suppl. 500 [affirmed in 141 N. Y. 574, 36 N. E. 228].

15. Herpending v. Daniels, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 858.

16. Overton v. Overton, 10 La. 472.

Who may bring suit to restrain.— Minor children, who are beneficiaries of their deceased father's estate after the expiration of the life-estate of the mother, who is also executrix, may bring suit to restrain waste by the executrix in attempting to maintain a high standard of living for herself and children. Bentley v. Bentley, (N. J. Ch. 1897) 38 Atl. 286.

17. Overton v. Overton, 10 La. 472.

18. Alabama.— Waller v. Ray, 48 Ala. 468, failure to collect rent.

Arkansas.— Dyer v. Jacoway, 59 Ark. 217, 6 S. W. 902.

California.— In re Fernandez, 119 Cal. 579, 51 Pac. 851.

Kentucky.— Messmore v. Stone, 6 Ky. L. Rep. 596.

Louisiana.— Stirling v. Lawrason, 31 La. Ann. 169.

Mississippi.— Conwill v. Livingston, 61 Miss. 641.

Missouri.— Powell v. Hurt, 108 Mo. 507, 17 S. W. 985; Stong v. Wilkson, 14 Mo. 116.

New Hampshire.—Stevens v. Gage, 55 N. H. 175, 20 Am. Rep. 191.

New Jersey.— In re Barcalow, 29 N. J. Eq. 282.

New York.— McCabe v. Fowler, 84 N. Y. 314; Matter of Thompson, 41 Misc. 420, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 1111; Upson v. Badeau, 3 Bradf. Surr. 13.

North Carolina.— Pate v. Oliver, 104 N. C. 458, 10 S. E. 709; Keener v. Finger, 70 N. C. 35; Womble v. George, 64 N. C. 759; Finger v. Finger, 64 N. C. 183; Nelson v. Hall, 58 N. C. 32; Holderness v. Palmer, 57 N. C. 107; Deberry v. Ivey, 55 N. C. 370; Williams v. Maitland, 36 N. C. 92; Utly v. Rawlins, 22 N. C. 438; Perry v. Maxwell, 17 N. C. 488.

Oregon.— See In re Osburn, 36 Oreg. 8, 58 Pac. 521.

losses which are the consequence of bad faith or the want of due prudence and diligence.[19]

Pennsylvania.— Dabney's Appeal, 120 Pa. St. 344, 14 Atl. 158; In re Calhoun, 6 Watts 185; Donnelly's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 182. See also Thomas' Estate, 2 Kulp 213.

South Carolina.— Tompkins v. Tompkins, 18 S. C. 1; Johnson v. Henagan, 11 S. C. 93; Twitty v. Houser, 7 S. C. 153; O'Dell v. Young, McMull. Eq. 155; Taveau v. Ball, 1 McCord Eq. 456; Doud v. Sanders, Harp. Eq. 277; Webb v. Bellinger, 2 Desauss. 482.

Tennessee.— In re Cator, 14 Lea 408; Mickle v. Brown, 4 Baxt. 468.

Texas.— Townsend v. Munger, 9 Tex. 300.

Virginia.— Jones v. Jones, 86 Va. 845, 11 S. E. 426; Le Grand v. Fitch, 79 Va. 635; Cooper v. Cooper, 77 Va. 198; Tanner v. Bennett, 33 Gratt. 251.

West Virginia.— Van Winkle v. Blackford, 54 W. Va. 621, 46 S. E. 589; Anderson v. Piercy, 20 W. Va. 282.

United States.— Peyatte v. English, 19 Fed. Cas. No. 11,054*a*, Hempst. 24.

England.— Job v. Job, 6 Ch. D. 562, 26 Wkly. Rep. 206; Selby v. Bowie, 4 Giff. 300, 9 Jur. N. S. 432 [affirmed in 9 Jur. N. S. 425, 8 L. T. Rep. N. S. 372, 11 Wkly. Rep. 606].

Canada.— Higgins v. Ontario, 27 Ont. App. 432 [affirming 30 Ont. 684].

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 360, 472.

A failure to enter deficiency judgments in foreclosures brought by the administrator does not render him personally liable for the deficiency where the judgments would have been worthless. Matter of Hayes, 40 Misc. (N. Y.) 500, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 792.

A loss of interest arising from a debtor's refusal to pay an executor a debt before probate is too remote a consequence of a delay in proving the will to render the executor liable to account on the footing of wilful default. In re Stevens, [1897] 1 Ch. 422, 66 L. J. Ch. 155, 76 L. T. Rep. N. S. 18, 45 Wkly. Rep. 284 [affirmed in [1898] 1 Ch. 162, 67 L. J. Ch. 118, 77 L. T. Rep. N. S. 508, 46 Wkly. Rep. 177].

The fact that an administrator pays off a lien on personal property of the estate, which, on a subsequent sale at public auction, fails to bring the amount of the lien, does not establish gross mismanagement of the estate, and the administrator is not chargeable with the loss, where he acted in good faith, and with reasonable care and purdence. In re Armstrong, 125 Cal. 603, 58 Pac. 183.

The burden of proof is on those charging the representative with negligence. Johnson's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 83. But see In re Conser, 40 Oreg. 138, 66 Pac. 607, holding that it is incumbent upon the representative, if there is any loss, to show the cause thereof, so that the court can see if it was incurred without his fault.

19. Alabama.— Eubank v. Clark, 78 Ala. 73; Harris v. Parker, 41 Ala. 604; Dean v. Rathbone, 15 Ala. 328.

Indiana.— Rubottom v. Morrow, 24 Ind. 202, 87 Am. Dec. 324.

Kentucky.— Henderson Trust Co. v. Stuart, 108 Ky. 167, 55 S. W. 1082, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 1164, 48 L. R. A. 49; Foster v. Foster, 71 S. W. 524, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 1396.

Louisiana.—Stone's Succession, 31 La. Ann. 311; Lafon v. His Creditors, 3 Mart. N. S. 707.

New Hampshire.— Tuttle v. Robinson, 33 N. H. 104.

New Jersey.— Lindsley v. Dodd, 53 N. J. Eq. 69, 30 Atl. 896.

New York.— Brinckerhoff v. Farias, 52 N. Y. App. Div. 256, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 358; Prescott's Estate, Tuck. Surr. 430.

North Carolina.— Smith v. Smith, 79 N. C. 455; Beall v. Darden, 39 N. C. 76.

Pennsylvania.— Wilson's Appeal, 115 Pa. St. 95, 9 Atl. 473; Callaghan v. Hill, 1 Serg. & R. 241; Schada's Estate, 14 Wkly. Notes Cas. 360.

Vermont.— In re Hall, 70 Vt. 458, 41 Atl. 508.

Virginia.— Davis v. Chapman, 83 Va. 67, 1 S. E. 472, 5 Am. St. Rep. 251; Strother v. Hull, 23 Gratt. 652; Miller v. Jeffress, 4 Gratt. 472.

West Virginia.— Brewer v. Hutton, 45 W. Va. 106, 30 S. E. 81, 72 Am. St. Rep. 804.

England.— Job v. Job, 6 Ch. D. 562, 26 Wkly. Rep. 206; Piety v. Stace, 4 Ves. Jr. 620, 31 Eng. Reprint 319.

Canada.— Lawson v. Crookshank, 2 Ch. Chamb. (U. C.) 426.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 360, 472.

The representative has been held liable for a loss resulting from neglect to have a "vacancy permit" from an insurance company extended, the property having been destroyed by fire within the time for which the company had agreed to extend the permit upon application (Henderson Trust Co. v. Stuart, 108 Ky. 167, 55 S. W. 1082, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 1164, 48 L. R. A. 49), for a loss resulting from his granting a solvent surety on a note, the maker of which was insolvent, an extension of time until the note was barred (Foster v. Foster, 71 S. W. 524, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 1396), and for money paid under an erroneous order of court which he failed to oppose (Brewer v. Hutton, 45 W. Va. 106, 30 S. E. 81, 72 Am. St. Rep. 804).

Money improperly retained.— An administrator who improperly retains money which it is his duty to pay over at once to the persons entitled thereto is liable if it is subsequently lost through the failure of the bank in which he has deposited it. Harlow v. Mills, 58 Hun (N. Y.) 391, 12 N. Y. Suppl. 197.

Even though property never came into the representative's possession, he should be charged with its value if it was lost through his negligence. Tuttle v. Robinson, 33 N. H. 104.

2. Real Property. Wherever an executor or administrator becomes chargeable, under statute or otherwise, with the entire estate of the decedent, the rule stated above should apply to the real estate.[20]

3. Depreciation of Currency. In case funds of the estate become worthless through depreciation of the legal currency the usual standard of good faith and due diligence should apply.[21]

4. Loss Through War or Public Authority. The effect of war or public authority exercised de facto is that of vis major, and a personal representative who exercises good faith and such due care and diligence as the circumstances exact should not be charged personally for a loss to the estate thereby occasioned.[22]

5. Theft. The representative is not generally responsible for the loss resulting from property or funds of the estate being stolen,[23] although it is otherwise where the theft is attributable to his own negligence.[24]

The duty of the personal representative is active not passive and his negligent failure to act may charge him. In re Holladay, 18 Oreg. 168, 22 Pac. 750.

A testamentary limitation of the executor's liability will not readily be construed into an exemption from liability for mismanagement. Richardson's Estate, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 32.

Advice of counsel.— The fact that the representative acted bona fide by advice of counsel does not conclusively excuse him, although the fact is entitled to great weight in his favor. King v. Berry, 3 N. J. Eq. 261.

Estoppel.— Where an administrator permitted a third person to acquire a title by possession to personal property of which the intestate died possessed, it was held that he could not, in a suit by the distributees for an account, deny the title of the intestate, and set up a title in a third person which had never been enforced. Holladay v. Holladay, McMull. Eq. (S. C.) 279.

20. Wheeler v. Bolton, 92 Cal. 159, 28 Pac. 558; Herteman's Estate, 73 Cal. 545, 15 Pac. 121.

Illegally causing sale of land.—An administrator who has illegally caused to be sold at sheriff's sale land claimed by his intestate under articles of agreement of which he had possession at his death is liable to an action by the heir for damages, and the measure of damages is the value of the land at private sale at the time of its sale by the sheriff, with interest. Weiting v. Nissley, 13 Pa. St. 650.

21. Alabama.— Pitts v. Singleton, 44 Ala. 363.

Mississippi.— Rogers v. Tullos, 51 Miss. 685; Still v. Davidson, 51 Miss. 153; Williams v. Campbell, 46 Miss. 57.

North Carolina.— Coggins v. Flythe, 113 N. C. 102, 18 S. E. 96; Williams v. Williams, 73 N. C. 413; Hagans v. Huffsteller, 65 N. C. 443.

South Carolina.— Koon v. Munro, 11 S. C. 139; West v. Cauthen, 9 S. C. 45; Stock v. Stock, 1 Desauss. 191.

Virginia.—Dromgoole v. Smith, 78 Va. 665; Powell v. Stratton, 11 Gratt. 792.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 475.

Exchanging currency for gold.— Where an executor in order to pay a coin debt of the estate exchanged five hundred dollars in currency, the property of the estate, for three hundred and seventy dollars in gold, getting current value for the greenbacks, it was held that he was liable to account only for the three hundred and seventy dollars. Sanderson's Estate, 74 Cal. 199, 15 Pac. 753.

Money paid out.— An administrator cannot be allowed credit for payments alleged to have been received in Confederate money which "perished on his hands," when the fact of such perishing is not proved, but, on the contrary, his accounts show that he paid out a portion of the sum received. Turbeville v. Flowers, 27 S. C. 331, 3 S. E. 542.

The burden of proving that he could not invest Confederate money which perished on his hands is on the administrator. Dromgoole v. Smith, 78 Va. 665.

22. Fudge v. Durn, 51 Mo. 264; Gay v. Grant, 101 N. C. 206, 8 S. E. 99, 106; Green v. Barbee, 84 N. C. 69; Currie v. McNeill, 83 N. C. 176; Lacy v. Stamper, 27 Gratt. (Va.) 42; Newton v. Bushong, 22 Gratt. (Va.) 628, 12 Am. Rep. 553; Anderson v. Piercy, 20 W. Va. 282; Estill v. McClintic, 11 W. Va. 399.

23. State v. Powell, 67 Mo. 395, 29 Am. Rep. 512; Fudge v. Durn, 51 Mo. 264; State v. Meagher, 44 Mo. 356, 100 Am. Dec. 298; Stevens v. Gage, 55 N. H. 175, 20 Am. Rep. 191; Furman v. Coe, 1 Cai. Cas. (N. Y.) 96; Carpenter v. Carpenter, 12 R. I. 544, 34 Am. Dec. 716.

Destruction or theft of non-negotiable notes.— An administrator is not entitled to a credit for non-negotiable notes belonging to the estate which have been destroyed or stolen, as they may still be sued on and collected as lost instruments. Williams v. Cubage, 36 Ark. 307.

Proof of manner of loss.— Where an executor undertakes to discharge himself from responsibility for the funds in his hands on the ground that such funds have been stolen from him, the fact of the loss in the manner asserted should be made to appear as clearly as the case admits. Foster v. Davis, 46 Mo. 268.

24. Tarver v. Torrance, 81 Ga. 261, 6 S. E. 177, 12 Am. St. Rep. 311.

Money retained too long.— An administrator who retains money of the estate in his hands long after the law requires its distribu-

6. Negligence or Fault of Agents or Servants. While the representative has been held liable for loss resulting from the negligence or fault of agents or servants employed by him,[25] there are also cases in which he has been excused from liability where he was free from negligence in the selection of his employee and the loss was attributable to no act of his.[26]

7. Failure to Deposit or Safeguard. The representative should be held liable for a loss caused by his failure to deposit or safeguard funds or property according to their character, where he has been lacking in good faith or ordinary prudence, but not otherwise.[27]

8. Failure to Sell or Delay in Selling. A representative who retains property or assets of the estate instead of selling the same is not, if he acted properly and prudently in so doing, liable for loss or depreciation in value which takes place while such property is retained;[28] but it is otherwise where he acted imprudently or improperly or exceeded his powers in retaining such property.[29] It has been said that a more liberal view of a representative's discretion in converting the decedent's assets into cash will be taken as regards legatees than as regards tion is liable for it if stolen. Black v. Hurlbut, 73 Wis. 126, 40 N. W. 673.

25. Harris' Succession, 29 La. Ann. 743; Noblet's Succession, 2 La. Ann. 281; Matter of Hayes, 40 Misc. (N. Y.) 500, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 792; Schott's Estate, Tuck. Surr. (N. Y.) 337; Kilbee v. Sneyd, 2 Molloy 186. See also Bayly's Succession, 30 La. Ann. 75.

26. In re Taylor, 52 Cal. 477; In re Sharp, 61 N. J. Eq. 601, 48 Atl. 327; In re Colhoun, 6 Watts (Pa.) 185. See also Dorchester v. Effingham, Taml. 279, 31 Rev. Rep. 97, 12 Eng. Ch. 279, 48 Eng. Reprint 111.

If the testator recommend a particular person to be employed the executor is not liable merely for his default unless there has also been laches on the executor's part in not making him account. Kilbee v. Sneyd, 2 Molloy 186.

27. Lehman v. Robertson, 84 Ala. 489, 4 So. 728; Rubottom v. Morrow, 24 Ind. 202, 87 Am. Dec. 324 (failure to insure); Cornwell v. Deck, 8 Hun (N. Y.) 122; Lawson v. Crookshank, 2 Ch. Chamb. (U. C.) 426 (keeping money in house for several years until destroyed by fire).

28. Louisiana.— Sparrow's Succession, 44 La. Ann. 475, 10 So. 882, death of live stock.

Maryland.— Dugan v. Hollins, 11 Md. 41.

Mississippi.— Troup v. Rice, 55 Miss. 278.

New Jersey.— Parker v. Glover, 42 N. J. Eq. 559, 9 Atl. 217.

New York.— Hancox v. Meeker, 95 N. Y. 528; Matter of Hosford, 27 N. Y. App. Div. 427, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 550; In re Gray, 27 Hun 455; Matter of Thompson, 41 Misc. 420, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 1111; Weston v. Ward, 4 Redf. Surr. 415; McRae v. McRae, 3 Bradf. Surr. 199; Shumway v. Graves, 13 N. Y. Wkly. Dig. 402.

Pennsylvania.— Stewart's Appeal, 110 Pa. St. 410, 6 Atl. 321; Newkirk's Appeal, 3 Grant 323; Bosio's Estate, 2 Ashm. 437; Coggin's Appeal, 3 Walk. 426; Williamson's Estate, 13 Phila. 195.

South Carolina.— Nicholson v. Whitlock, 57 S. C. 36, 35 S. E. 412.

Tennessee.— Pearson v. Gillenwaters, 99 Tenn. 462, 42 S. W. 199.

Virginia.— Watkins v. Stewart, 78 Va. 111.

West Virginia.— Van Winkle v. Blackford, 54 W. Va. 621, 46 S. E. 589.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 481.

Unavoidable delay in settling estate.— Where an administrator could not settle the estate until another estate in which the heirs were interested was settled, and on that account deferred the sale of bank-stock of the estate until it had greatly decreased in value, he was not liable for the loss. Matter of Thorp, 31 Misc. (N. Y.) 581, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 575.

Injunction against disposing of assets.— Where an administratrix assigned certain stock of the estate through her counsel to herself in her individual capacity, and the transaction was declared fraudulent, and the administratrix was ordered to hold the stock, and to account for it and its accumulations, and enjoined from disposing of it, she was entitled to an allowance in her account for depreciation of the stock pending the injunction. Greiner v. Greiner, 35 N. J. Eq. 134.

Assessments on stock.— Executors paying assessments on stock shares take the risk of the shares not being worth the assessment. If they allow the stock to be sold out for assessments, they take the risk that it is then worth more than the assessment. There is no law under which a court can authorize an executor to pay stock assessments. Unless creditors or heirs agree to hold him free from liability he should sell the stock as perishable. In re Stow, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 97.

29. New Jersey.— In re Voorhees, 3 N. J. L. J. 211.

New York.— Mills v. Hoffman, 26 Hun 594; Matter of Macdonald, 4 Redf. Surr. 321; Gillespie v. Brooks, 2 Redf. Surr. 349.

Pennsylvania.— Sunday's Appeal, 131 Pa. St. 584, 18 Atl. 931; Luffbarry's Estate, 12 Phila. 6; Doyle's Estate, 2 Del. Co. 196.

England.— Davenport v. Stafford, 14 Beav. 319.

Canada.— Emes v. Emes, 11 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 325.

creditors.[30] A representative who has acted in good faith and by retaining certain assets of the estate realized large profits and eventually disposed of a portion for more than the inventoried value of the whole will not be charged with losses on another portion because of a technical violation of his duty in not disposing of them.[31]

9. Assent of Heirs or Distributees. A request or authority from the heirs or distributees or their assent to a certain course of conduct is often found an element in excusing the executor or administrator who has acted upon it, but in such case the representative's own good faith and a clear authority given him, upon due knowledge of all the material facts, must appear.[32]

M. Torts. An executor or administrator cannot as such commit a tort, but any tort committed by him is committed individually, and renders him as an individual, and not the estate, liable in damages,[33] especially where the estate has derived no benefit from the representative's tortious act.[34] But property or money actually received by the estate as assets through his tortious conduct may sometimes be reached by the injured person.[35]

N. Fraud. The same general principle applies in case of fraud by the representative. The estate of the decedent is not liable for the fraud, false representations, or misconduct of the executor or administrator, but the fiduciary who practises the fraud is answerable personally therefor to the injured per-

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 481.

30. Coggin's Appeal, 3 Walk. (Pa.) 426.

31. Matter of Porter, 5 Misc. (N. Y.) 274, 25 N. Y. Suppl. 822. But see Gillespie v. Brooks, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 349.

32. Louisiana.—Dickson v. Dickson, 23 La. Ann. 583.

Michigan.—Ward v. Tinkham, 65 Mich. 695, 32 N. W. 901.

New York.—Matter of Hosford, 62 N. Y. App. Div. 626, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 163; Matter of Douglas, 60 N. Y. App. Div. 64, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 687; Luers v. Brunjes, 5 Redf. Surr. 32.

Pennsylvania.—Seaton's Appeal, 34 Leg. Int. 87; Semple's Estate, 28 Pittsb. Leg. J. 431.

United States.—Hiller v. Ladd, 85 Fed. 703, 29 C. C. A. 394.

33. Alabama.—Clark v. Knox, 70 Ala. 607, 45 Am. Rep. 93; Shorter v. Urquhart, 28 Ala. 360; Gilmer v. Wier, 8 Ala. 72.

California.—Sterrett v. Barker, 119 Cal. 492, 51 Pac. 695.

Georgia.—Carr v. Tate, 107 Ga. 237, 33 S. E. 47.

Indiana.—Moore v. Moore, 155 Ind. 261, 57 N. E. 242; Riley v. Kepler, 94 Ind. 308; Rose v. Cash, 58 Ind. 278; Hawkins v. Kimball, 57 Ind. 42; Rodman v. Rodman, 54 Ind. 444.

Iowa.—Herd v. Herd, 71 Iowa 497, 32 N. W. 469.

Maine.—Goulding v. Horbury, 85 Me. 227, 27 Atl. 127, 35 Am. St. Rep. 357; Plimpton v. Richards, 59 Me. 115.

Maryland.—Spencer v. Ragan, 9 Gill 480.

Massachusetts.—Gridley v. Balston, Quincy 65.

Mississippi.—Fonte v. Horton, 36 Miss. 350.

New York.—Blum v. Dabritz, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 207 [affirmed in 39 Misc. 800, 81 N. Y. Suppl. 315, 33 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 290]; McCue v. Finck, 20 Misc. 506, 46 N. Y. Suppl. 242; Watson v. Moriarty, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 73.

Pennsylvania.—Moulson's Estate, 1 Brewst. 296.

Virginia.—Belvin v. French, 84 Va. 81, 3 S. E. 891.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 483.

Negligence in care of property.—Executors in full possession and control of premises under the will are personally liable for personal injuries to tenants or strangers resulting from their neglect to keep the property in good order or repair. Donohue v. Kendall, 50 N. Y. Super. Ct. 386; Belvin v. French, 84 Va. 81, 3 S. E. 891.

Remedy for tort cannot be sought in orphans' court. Spencer v. Ragan, 9 Gill (Md.) 480.

An executor empowered merely to receive the rent of a building until the guardian of the infant devisee is appointed, and owning no estate therein, is not personally responsible for damages caused by the overflow of water from a basin or other fixture therein, which he had no agency, active or passive, in producing. Robbins v. Mount, 4 Rob. (N. Y.) 553, 33 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 24.

34. Carr v. Tate, 107 Ga. 237, 33 S. E. 47.

35. Von Schmidt v. Bourn, 50 Cal. 616; Herd v. Herd, 71 Iowa 497, 32 N. W. 469; Simpson v. Snyder, 54 Iowa 557, 6 N. W. 730.

Extent of recovery.—Where a special administrator made an unauthorized sale of stock pledged to the decedent, and turned the proceeds over to executors subsequently appointed, the estate does not become liable to the pledgor for a conversion, so as to enable him to recover from it the enhanced value of the stock, although he might maintain an action against the executors to recover the proceeds of the sale or what actually became a part of the assets of the estate. Von Schmidt v. Bourn, 50 Cal. 616.

son.[36] The executor or administrator in the performance of his duties is, however, bound to act fairly and not fraudulently, and the estate cannot be permitted to derive any unjust or unconscionable advantage from his unauthorized or fraudulent misbehavior,[37] and where it appears that property fraudulently obtained was treated or used as assets of the estate, or that the estate received some benefit from his conduct, recourse may be had accordingly to a corresponding extent.[38] If the fraud be practised upon or at the expense of the estate or those interested therein, the representative must of course respond therefor individually.[39] The fiduciary is entitled to the presumption of good faith in the discharge of his duties, and fraud, like any other tort, ought to be proved against him.[40]

O. Real Property and Interests Therein — 1. Title and Authority in General — a. General Rule. Neither an executor nor an administrator has, as such, any inherent interest in, title to, or control over the realty of his decedent.[41] The 36. Delaware.— Barwick v. White, 2 Del. Ch. 284.

Iowa.— Hazlett v. Burge, 22 Iowa 535.

Kansas.— Brown v. Evans, 15 Kan. 88.

Kentucky.— Heath v. Allin, 1 A. K. Marsh. 442.

Minnesota.— Winston v. Young, 52 Minn. 1, 53 N. W. 1015; Fritz v. McGill, 31 Minn. 536, 18 N. W. 753.

North Carolina.—Pettijohn v. Williams, 46 N. C. 145.

Texas.— Coutlett v. U. S. Mortgage Co., 94 Tex. 164, 58 S. W. 997.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 484.

But compare Crowley v. Hicks, 98 Wis. 566, 74 N. W. 348.

37. Able v. Chandler, 12 Tex. 88, 62 Am. Dec. 518.

38. Fritz v. McGill, 31 Minn. 536, 18 N. W. 753; Able v. Chandler, 12 Tex. 88, 62 Am. Dec. 518.

39. Branner v. Nichols, 61 Kan. 356, 59 Pac. 633 (holding that where an administrator purchases property in fraud of the heirs, and erects improvements thereon with money belonging to them, it is proper in an action to recover such property to charge him with rents and profits on it in its improved condition); Porter v. Long, 124 Mich. 584, 83 N. W. 601.

No lien on account of fraud.— Heirs of an estate have no equitable lien upon the share of a coheir who is executor or administrator, on account of his fraudulent administration of the estate. McClellan v. Solomon, 23 Fla. 437, 2 So. 825, 11 Am. St. Rep. 381.

A general charge of fraud and confederation is not a sufficient ground upon which a court of equity will give aid against administrators alleged to have taken property of an intestate to the creditors of the intestate, where each defendant is sought to be made liable only for such portion of the property as he may have converted to his own use. Beck v. Rainey, 28 Miss. 111.

40. Roach v. Ames, 80 Ky. 6; Mitchell v. Berry, 1 Metc. (Ky.) 602.

Circumstances amounting to fraud see Sorrels v. Trantham, 48 Ark. 386, 3 S. W. 198, 4 S. W. 281; Ringgold v. Stone, 20 Ark. 526; Barwick v. White, 2 Del. Ch. 284; Kelly v. Pratt, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 31, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 636, holding that where an administrator, having personalty in his hands sufficient to pay taxes imposed on the lands of the estate, permits the city to sell them for non-payment, and bids them in, and takes from the city in his own name an assignment of the tax lease, he is guilty of an actual fraud.

Circumstances not amounting to fraud see the following cases:

Iowa.— Hazlett v. Burge, 22 Iowa 535.

Kentucky.— Goodloe v. Rodes, 2 B. Mon. (Ky.) 86.

Michigan.— Owen v. Potter, 115 Mich. 556, 73 N. W. 977.

Minnesota.—Winston v. Young, 52 Minn. 1, 53 N. W. 1015, holding that since the paymen of money at the request of an executor to relieve the estate from an encumbrance does not create a debt, payable as such out of the estate, an action for deceit cannot be founded on a representation, made by the executor to induce plaintiff to pay such money, that the estate was solvent and able to pay all debts.

Missouri.— Baldwin v. Dalton, 168 Mo. 20, 67 S. W. 599, holding that the mere purchase by an administrator of claims against the estate, although improper, is not fraud of such a character as will authorize a setting aside of his final settlement.

New York.— Matter of Sprague, 40 N. Y. App. Div. 615, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 1128 [affirmed in 162 N. Y. 646, 57 N. E. 1125].

Pennsylvania.— Johnston v. McCain, 188 Pa. St. 513, 41 Atl. 592.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 484.

41. Alabama.— Brown v. Mize, 119 Ala. 10, 24 So. 453; Nelson v. Murfee, 69 Ala. 598; Turner v. Kelly, 67 Ala. 173; Tyson v. Brown, 64 Ala. 244; Crawford v. McLeod, 64 Ala. 240; Cockrell v. Coleman, 55 Ala. 583.

Arkansas.—Anderson v. Levy, 33 Ark. 665; Kiernan v. Blackwell, 27 Ark. 235.

Connecticut.— Lockwood v. Lockwood, 2 Root 409.

Georgia.— Sorrell v. Ham, 9 Ga. 55.

Illinois.— Gammon v. Gammon, 153 Ill. 41, 38 N. E. 890; Sebastian v. Johnson, 72 Ill. 282, 22 Am. Rep. 144; Le Moyne v. Quimby, 70 Ill. 399; Phelps v. Funkhouser, 39 Ill. 401; Walbridge v. Day, 31 Ill. 379, 83 Am. Dec. 227; Buck v. Eaman, 18 Ill. 529; Smith v.

testator may, however, by his will, give to his executor such authority and control

Hall, 19 Ill. App. 17. See also Boudinot v. Winter, 91 Ill. App. 106 [affirmed in 190 Ill. 394, 60 N. E. 553].

Indiana.— Taylor v. Fickas, 64 Ind. 167, 31 Am. Rep. 114; Hankins v. Kimball, 57 Ind. 42.

Iowa.— Gray v. Myers, 45 Iowa 158; Gladson v. Whitney, 9 Iowa 267.

Louisiana.— See Coste's Succession, 43 La. Ann. 144, 9 So. 62; Bird v. Jones, 5 La. Ann. 643.

Maine.— Crocker v. Smith, 32 Me. 244.

Massachusetts.— Brown v. Kelsey, 2 Cush. 243; Stearns v. Stearns, 1 Pick. 157; Gibson v. Farley, 16 Mass. 280; Drinkwater v. Drinkwater, 4 Mass. 354; Henshaw v. Blood, 1 Mass. 35.

Michigan.— Thayer v. Lane, Walk. 200.

Mississippi.— Hargrove v. Baskin, 50 Miss. 194; Farley v. Hord, 45 Miss. 96; Hall v. Hall, 27 Miss. 458; Pinson v. Williams, 23 Miss. 64. See also Clayton v. Boyce, 62 Miss. 390.

Nebraska.— State v. Reeder, 5 Nebr. 203.

New Hampshire.— Lane v. Thompson, 43 N. H. 320; Gregg v. Currier, 36 N. H. 200.

New York.— Matter of Woodard, 13 N. Y. St. 161.

Ohio.— Overturf v. Dugan, 29 Ohio St. 230; Piatt v. St. Clair, Wright 261.

Pennsylvania.— Landis v. Scott, 32 Pa. St. 495; Jones' Appeal, 3 Grant 250; Bartholet's Appeal, 1 Walk. 77.

Tennessee.— Vance v. Fisher, 10 Humphr. 211; Stephenson v. Yandle, 3 Hayw. 109.

Vermont.— Hawkins v. Hewitt, 56 Vt. 430; Austin v. Bailey, 37 Vt. 219, 86 Am. Dec. 703; Hyde v. Barney, 17 Vt. 280, 44 Am. Dec. 335. See also Tracy v. Spear, 10 Vt. 490.

Virginia.— Eppes v. Demoville, 2 Call 22.

Wisconsin.— Volk v. Stowell, 98 Wis. 385, 74 N. W. 118; Marsh v. Waupaca County, 38 Wis. 250; Jones v. Billstein, 28 Wis. 221.

United States.— Kohn v. McKinnon, 90 Fed. 623; Jones v. Lamar, 34 Fed. 454.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 533; and supra, III, C, 1; infra, VIII, O, 2, a.

An executor or administrator cannot release or give rights in the land (Hoagland v. Crum, 113 Ill. 365, 55 Am. Rep. 424; Mowe v. Stevens, 61 Me. 592), release a right of way over the land (Hankins v. Kimball, 57 Ind. 42), bind the heirs by consenting to a proceeding for laying out a highway over the land (Rush v. McDermott, 50 Cal. 471), dedicate land of the estate to public use (Kaime v. Harty, 73 Mo. 316 [reversing 4 Mo. App. 357]), recover the surplus realized at a tax-sale, even though he was in possession (Fripp v. U. S., 19 Ct. Cl. 667), bind the heir by admissions relative to the land or the title thereto (Walbridge v. Day, 31 Ill. 379, 83 Am. Dec. 227; Jacobs v. Locke, 37 N. C. 286. See also Mooers v. White, 6 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 360), object to a judgment vesting the title to the real estate in decedent's widow where the court has, on the administrator's petition to sell real estate to pay debts, found that he had no right to sell it (Shobe v. Brinson, 148 Ind. 285, 47 N. E. 625), or discharge from liability one who has assumed payment of the purchase-price of land sold by the testator and secured by rent privileges, which amount had been donated by the testator to a specified person, where such amount is not needed to pay the debts of the succession (Consumers' Cordage Co. v. Converse, 8 Quebec Q. B. 511); neither can he sue for damage done to the land subsequent to the decedent's death (Taylor v. Fickas, 64 Ind. 167, 31 Am. Rep. 114; Hook v. Garfield Coal Co., 112 Iowa 210, 83 N. W. 963; Webb v. Bennett's Branch Imp. Co., 161 Pa. St. 623, 29 Atl. 260), to set aside a sheriff's sale under foreclosure, on the ground of fraud (Thorp v. Miller, 137 Mo. 231, 38 S. W. 929), to set aside a conveyance made by decedent in his lifetime (Field v. Andrada, 106 Cal. 107, 39 Pac. 323), to recover real estate which once belonged to decedent, but was set off on an execution issued against him on a judgment obtained by fraud (Richards v. Sweetland, 6 Cush. (Mass.) 324), to adjudicate title to real estate conveyed by the will (Nelson v. Nelson, (N. J. Ch. 1897) 36 Atl. 280), to enforce a trust and to compel a conveyance of land to himself (Janes v. Throckmorton, 57 Cal. 368), to remove a cloud on the title to lands of the decedent (Gridley v. Watson, 53 Ill. 186; Cutter v. Thompson, 51 Ill. 390; Phelps v. Funkhouser, 39 Ill. 401; Smith v. McConnell, 17 Ill. 135, 63 Am. Dec. 340), to quiet title to a water-right (Travelers' Ins. Co. v. Childs, 25 Colo. 360, 54 Pac. 1020), to enforce a resulting trust in land not needed for payment of debts (Matlock v. Nave, 28 Ind. 35), or to reform a deed made to the decedent in his lifetime (Shoemate v. Lockridge, 53 Ill. 503); nor can he institute proceedings for the partition of land in which his decedent was interested (Terrell v. Weymouth, 32 Fla. 255, 13 So. 429, 37 Am. St. Rep. 94), or commence or prosecute a writ of review in a real action not brought to foreclose a mortgage (Berry v. Whitaker, 58 Me. 422).

If an heir or devisee conveys real estate of his decedent by a deed, he can presumably convey thereby no more than his own individual interest, even though he should purport to convey as personal representative of the decedent. Fields v. Bush, 94 Ga. 664, 21 S. E. 827.

Possession of deeds.— Where the executor has no power of sale or conversion of the real estate, the deeds and title papers will not be removed from the possession of one of the devisees who has equal rights with the others. Thomas' Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 400, 22 Pa. Co. Ct. 518.

An administrator sustains no fiduciary relationship to the heirs, since he has no claim on the realty unless the debts exceed the personalty. New York, etc., Land Co. v. Wiedner, 3 Lack. Leg. N. (Pa.) 250.

over real estate as he sees proper;[42] and in some jurisdictions the statutes give to the executor or administrator a certain control over the land of the decedent,[43] usually either for the purpose of preserving the same from waste during the course of administration,[44] effecting a division and distribution among those entitled,[45] or of subjecting the same to the payment of the decedent's debts in case the personal assets prove insufficient for this purpose.[46] The authority of an executor in this respect is, however, strictly limited by the terms of the will,[47] while a statutory grant to the personal representative of authority or control over the real estate of his decedent, being in derogation of the common law, must be strictly construed and the rights of the representative confined to those which are clearly given to him.[48]

b. Actions For Trespass and Waste. Actions for trespass and waste accruing after the death of his decedent are maintainable by an executor or administrator where he is given the right of possession by the provisions of the will or by statute,[49] but in the absence of any testamentary or statutory provision giving him

The administrator is merely the agent of the heirs, although he assumes to act in his representative capacity in the management of the real estate and the collection of the income thereof. In re Morrison, 196 Pa. St. 80, 46 Atl. 257.

42. Flowers v. Foreman, 23 How. (U. S.) 132, 16 L. ed. 405; Kohn v. McKinnon, 90 Fed. 623. See also Evey v. Adams, 135 Ill. 80, 25 N. E. 1013, 10 L. R. A. 162; Gray v. Henderson, 71 Pa. St. 368; and infra, VIII, O, 2, a.

The actual seizin of an executor is distinct from and paramount to the fictitious seizin which is said to vest in the heir immediately upon the death of the ancestor; and when that seizin is conferred upon the executor by the will, confirmed by judicial sanction, and actually assumed by his entering upon his functions, the heir can only take it from him afterward upon the performance of certain conditions, one of which is that the heir may be compelled to give security to the creditors. Bird v. Jones, 5 La. Ann. 643.

43. Furlong v. Soule, 39 Me. 122; King v. Boyd, 4 Oreg. 326; Kohn v. McKinnon, 90 Fed. 623. And see infra, VIII, O, 2, a.

Administrator has no greater rights than decedent would have if alive with respect to his property. Whitworth v. Wofford, 73 Ga. 259.

44. King v. Boyd, 4 Oreg. 326.

45. Brown v. Mize, 119 Ala. 10, 26 So. 453.

46. Brown v. Mize, 119 Ala. 10, 24 So. 453; King v. Boyd, 4 Oreg. 326.

After all debts are discharged and the administration practically closed, the administrator has no interest in the realty, although no formal order discharging him has been entered. Reed v. Ash, 30 Ark. 775.

Need of land for payment of debts must be shown. Myers v. Jones, 4 Tex. Civ. App. 330, 23 S. W. 562.

The prayer of a bill by an administrator to divest title to land out of adverse claimants, alleging that a sale of the land is necessary to pay intestate's debts, should be that the title be vested in intestate's heirs, and not in the administrator, and then on proper showing that the land be sold for the debts. Brown v. Mize, 119 Ala. 10, 24 So. 453.

47. See Downing v. Marshall, 1 Abb. Dec. (N. Y.) 525, holding that where executors have not the legal title, but only a power in trust, if the trust is declared void, there is no necessity of a conveyance to the heirs.

Construction of testamentary powers see the following cases:

Arkansas.— Chase v. Cartright, 53 Ark. 358, 14 S. W. 90, 22 Am. St. Rep. 207.

California.— Bennalack v. Richards, 116 Cal. 405, 48 Pac. 622.

New York.— People v. Robinson, 29 Barb. 77, 17 How. Pr. 534; Ensign v. Ensign, 14 N. Y. St. 181; Matter of Sixty-seventh St., 60 How. Pr. 264; James v. Beesly, 4 Redf. Surr. 236.

Ohio.— Rapp v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 302, 12 Cinc. L. Bul. 119.

Pennsylvania.—Wilkinson v. Chambers, 181 Pa. St. 437, 37 Atl. 569.

United States.— Flowers v. Foreman, 23 How. 132, 16 L. ed. 405.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 533; and, generally, WILLS.

No title is vested by a power to sell (In re Journey, 7 Del. Ch. 1, 44 Atl. 795; Floyd v. Herring, 64 N. C. 409; Moore v. Bedford, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1900) 56 S. W. 1038. But compare Arlington State Bank v. Paulsen, 57 Nebr. 717, 78 N. W. 303) either to pay debts (Doe v. Lanius, 3 Ind. 441, 56 Am. Dec. 518; Floyd v. Herring, 64 N. C. 409; Thomson v. Gaillard, 3 Rich. (S. C.) 418, 45 Am. Dec. 778; Gordon v. Overton, 8 Yerg. (Tenn.) 121) or legacies (Doe v. Lanius, 3 Ind. 441, 56 Am. Dec. 518), or to make distribution (Doe v. Lanius, 3 Ind. 441, 56 Am. Dec. 518), or a grant of authority to divide the estate (McCampbell v. Gilbert, 6 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 592); nor does direction to divide rents, income, and profits vest the fee in the executor by implication (Robert v. Corning, 23 Hun (N. Y.) 299).

Authority to carry on a farm for a year gives no longer estate. Cohea v. Jemison, 68 Miss. 510, 10 So. 46.

48. Edwards v. Haverstick, 47 Ind. 138; Hall v. Farmers', etc., Bank, 145 Mo. 418, 46 S. W. 1000; King v. Boyd, 4 Oreg. 326.

49. Alabama.— Drake v. Lady Ensley Coal, etc., Co., 102 Ala. 501, 14 So. 749, 48 Am. St.

such a right of possession the general rule that the representative has no concern with the realty precludes the maintenance by him of such an action.[50]

c. Actions to Quiet Title. Actions to quiet or remove a cloud from the title to a decedent's real estate are also deemed authorized on the part of an executor or administrator whose right of possession of such land at the time is established by will or statute,[51] but otherwise the representative has no such right.[52]

2. Possession and Use — a. In General. While the common-law rule is that an executor or administrator is not entitled to the possession and use of the real estate of his decedent,[53] an executor is entitled thereto when the testator has by his will directed or permitted him to take possession of the realty for any purpose,[54]

Rep. 77, 24 L. R. A. 64; Sullivan v. Rabb, 86 Ala. 433, 5 So. 746.

Indiana.— Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Swinney, 97 Ind. 586.

Maine.— McNichol v. Eaton, 77 Me. 246.

Massachusetts.— Dascomb v. Davis, 5 Metc. 335.

Minnesota.— Noon v. Finnegan, 29 Minn. 418, 13 N. W. 197.

New York.— Ogsbury v. Ogsbury, 45 Hun 388; Meeks v. Metropolitan El. R. Co., 58 N. Y. Super. Ct. 466, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 697.

Texas.— Burdett v. Haley, 51 Tex. 540.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 535.

50. Noon v. Finnegan, 29 Minn. 418, 13 N. W. 197, 32 Minn. 81, 19 N. W. 391; Aubuchon v. Lory, 23 Mo. 99. See also McKay v. Broad, 70 Ala. 377.

An administrator who is out of possession of real estate, whether disseized or having surrendered the possession to the heir, can neither maintain trespass nor an action on the case in behalf of the heir for an act which is a damage to the inheritance. Lyman v. Webber, 17 Vt. 489.

51. California.— Curtis v. Sutter, 15 Cal. 259.

Colorado.— McKee v. Howe, 17 Colo. 538, 31 Pac. 115.

Connecticut.—Hall v. Pierson, 63 Conn. 332, 28 Atl. 544.

Iowa.— Laverty v. Sexton, 41 Iowa 435.

Wisconsin.— Wheeler v. Single, 62 Wis. 380, 22 N. W. 569.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 536.

Ferry franchise.— An executor directed by will to lease a ferry may maintain proceedings in equity to be quieted in the enjoyment of the franchise. Newport v. Taylor, 16 B. Mon. (Ky.) 699.

Necessary averments.— Under a statute providing that the real estate of an intestate shall descend to his heirs subject to the payment of debts and that if the personalty is insufficient to pay the debts resort may be had to the realty, which may be sold, mortgaged, or leased by the administrator, a complaint by an administrator in his representative capacity to remove a cloud from the title to realty which fails to aver that the estate is insolvent, or that it is necessary to dispose of the realty to pay the debts, or that there are debts against the estate, does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action. McKee v. Howe, 17 Colo. 538, 31 Pac. 115.

A creditor of an estate cannot bring suit to remove a cloud from the title of land belonging to the estate, except by leave of court, after refusal of the administrator to bring suit. Marshall v. Blass, 82 Mich. 518, 46 N. W. 947, 47 N. W. 516.

52. McKee v. Howe, 17 Colo. 538, 31 Pac. 115; Jenkins v. Bacon, 30 Mich. 154; Paine v. First Div. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 14 Minn. 65; King v. Boyd, 4 Oreg. 326.

Authority to sell.— An administrator cannot maintain a suit to quiet or remove cloud from the title to realty, even though he is authorized to sell the land for the payment of debts (Ryan v. Duncan, 88 Ill. 144; Gridley v. Watson, 53 Ill. 186; Smith v. McConnell, 17 Ill. 135, 63 Am. Dec. 340); nor can he sue to remove an encumbrance with a view to obtaining a better price at the sale (Cutter v. Thompson, 51 Ill. 531; Phelps v. Funkhouser, 39 Ill. 401. See also Stark v. Brown, 101 Ill. 395).

53. Alabama.— Leavens v. Butler, 8 Port. 380.

Arkansas.— Hill v. Mitchell, 5 Ark. 608.

Connecticut.—Goodrich v. Thompson, 4 Day 215.

Georgia.— Johnson v. Johnson, 80 Ga. 260, 5 S. E. 629.

Illinois.— Roberts v. Baker, 65 Ill. App. 111.

Indiana.—Hendrix v. Hendrix, 65 Ind. 329; Thompson v. Schenck, 16 Ind. 194; Comparet v. Randall, 4 Ind. 55.

Michigan.— Marvin v. Schilling, 12 Mich. 356; Streeter v. Paton, 7 Mich. 341.

Mississippi.—Billingslea v. Young, 33 Miss. 95.

New Hampshire.— Lucy v. Lucy, 55 N. H. 9; Lane v. Thompson, 43 N. H. 320.

Pennsylvania.— Sunday's Appeal, 131 Pa. St. 584, 18 Atl. 931.

Rhode Island.— Draper v. Barnes, 12 R. I. 156.

South Carolina.— Reeves v. Brayton, 36 S. C. 384, 15 S. E. 658; Thompson v. Caldwell, 2 McCord 390.

Vermont.— Tryon v. Tryon, 16 Vt. 313.

West Virginia.— Laidley v. Kline, 8 W. Va. 218.

United States.— Penn v. Butler, 19 Fed. Cas. No. 10,930, 4 Dall. 354, 1 L. ed. 864.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 537; and supra, III, C, 1; VIII, O, 1, a.

54. Illinois.— Mather v. Mather, 103 Ill. 607.

and in addition to this the common-law rule has been much modified by statutes giving to the personal representative, whether executor or administrator, the right under certain circumstances, or even generally, to take possession of the realty either for the purpose of sale or in order to apply as assets the proceeds realized from its use during the period of administration.[55] A representative who is authorized to sell is entitled to the control and possession of the title deeds if this is necessary to a proper discharge of his duties,[56] but a mere power of sale gives no right of possession or use of the property itself until the sale.[57]

Indiana.— Hendrix v. Hendrix, 65 Ind. 329.

Louisiana.—Charmbury's Succession, 34 La. Ann. 21; Dunlap v. Bailey, 7 La. 368.

New Jersey.— Stevens v. Stevens, 26 N. J. Eq. 154.

North Carolina.— Drumright v. Jones, 39 N. C. 253.

Ohio.— Roberts v. Roberts, 1 Disn. 177, 12 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 560.

South Carolina.— Brooks v. Brooks, 12 S. C. 422; Lawton v. Hunt, 4 Strobh. Eq. 1.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 537; and supra, III, C, 1; VIII, O, 1, a.

55. Alabama.— Banks v. Speers, 97 Ala. 560, 11 So. 841; Cruikshank v. Luttrell, 67 Ala. 318; Calhoun v. Fletcher, 63 Ala. 574; Phillips v. Gray, 1 Ala. 226.

Arkansas.— Chowning v. Stanfield, 49 Ark. 87, 4 S. W. 276; Carnall v. Wilson, 21 Ark. 62, 76 Am. Dec. 351; Menifee v. Menifee, 8 Ark. 9.

California.— McCrea v. Haraszthy, 51 Cal. 146; Meeks v. Kirby, 47 Cal. 169; Meeks v. Hahn, 20 Cal. 620; Harwood v. Marye, 8 Cal. 580.

Florida.— See Johnson v. McKinnon, (1903) 34 So. 272.

Georgia.— Holt v. Anderson, 98 Ga. 220, 25 S. E. 496.

Illinois.— Mather v. Mather, 103 Ill. 607.

Massachusetts.—Stearns v. Stearns, 1 Pick. 157.

Michigan.— Wilmarth v. Reed, 83 Mich. 44, 46 N. W. 1031; Holbrooke v. Campau, 22 Mich. 288; Marvin v. Schilling, 12 Mich. 356; Kline v. Moulton, 11 Mich. 370; Streeter v. Paton, 7 Mich. 341.

Minnesota.— Kern v. Cooper, 91 Minn. 121, 97 N. W. 648; Noon v. Finnegan, 29 Minn. 418, 13 N. W. 197; Miller v. Hoberg, 22 Minn. 249; Paine v. First Div. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 14 Minn. 65.

Mississippi.— Farley v. Hord, 45 Miss. 96.

Montana.— In re Higgins, 15 Mont. 474, 39 Pac. 506, 28 L. R. A. 116.

Nevada.— Gossage v. Crown Point Gold, etc., Min. Co., 14 Nev. 153.

Oregon.— Hanner v. Silver, 2 Oreg. 336.

Vermont.— Perrin v. Granger, 33 Vt. 101.

Washington.— Balch v. Smith, 4 Wash. 497, 30 Pac. 648.

Wisconsin.— McManany v. Sheridan, 81 Wis. 538, 51 N. W. 1011; Flood v. Pilgrim, 32 Wis. 376; Jones v. Billstein, 28 Wis. 221; Edwards v. Evans, 16 Wis. 181.

United States.— Meeks v. Olpherts, 100 U. S. 564, 25 L. ed. 735 [affirming 16 Fed. Cas. No. 9,393, 3 Sawy. 206]; Kohn v. McKinnon, 90 Fed. 623.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 537; and supra, III, C, 1; VIII, O, 1, a; XII, A.

Statute not retrospective.—Philips v. Gray, 1 Ala. 226.

Where there is no heir or devisee present at the time of the decedent's death to take possession of his real estate, the executor is entitled to take possession. Hendrix v. Hendrix, 65 Ind. 329.

There must be a necessity for possession.— The exercise of the right given to an executor by the Michigan statute to the possession of the real estate of the deceased is only permissible when the necessity therefor arises, and until then the heir or devisee who has entered upon the enjoyment of his estate cannot be disturbed. Rough v. Womer, 76 Mich. 375, 43 N. W. 573.

Exception of homestead.— Where real estate devised was the homestead of testator, the executor is not, under the Wisconsin statute, entitled to possession thereof as against the devisee. McManany v. Sheridan, 81 Wis. 538, 51 N. W. 1011. See also Cooley v. Jansen, 54 Nebr. 33, 74 N. W. 391, holding that as the right of an administrator to possession of the real estate of which his decedent died seized arises from its being subject to payment of debts of the decedent, such right is not of force with relation to a homestead.

When right to possession cannot be asserted against heirs.—If administration upon the estate of a deceased person has been closed, and the land surrendered to the heirs, or if enough time has elapsed since the death of the intestate (thirty years being sufficient) to show that the lands are not required for the purposes of administration, the heirs or their grantees, being in possession, cannot be disturbed by the administrator. Cox v. Ingleston, 30 Vt. 258.

Heir or devisee cannot as such maintain ejectment against executor. Plass v. Plass, 121 Cal. 131, 133, 53 Pac. 448 [citing Harper v. Strautz, 53 Cal. 655; Meeks v. Kirby, 47 Cal. 169; Chapman v. Hollister, 42 Cal. 462; Meeks v. Hahn, 20 Cal. 620].

Order of court necessary.— Under Fla. Rev. St. (1892) § 1917, the real estate descends to the heirs, and an administrator has no right to possession until an order of the court authorizing him to take possession has been made. Johnson v. McKinnon, (1903) 34 So. 272; Rose v. Withers, 39 Fla. 460, 22 So. 724.

56. Mills v. Mead, 7 Hun (N. Y.) 36.

57. Draper v. Barnes, 12 R. I. 156; Reeves v. Brayton, 36 S. C. 384, 15 S. E. 658. See

b. Actions to Recover Possession — (i) In General. By virtue of the directions of a will or under statute an executor or administrator may be temporarily entitled to prosecute or defend actions for recovering possession of the decedent's land, as a sort of trustee or representative of the heirs or devisees and of the general interests of the estate;[58] but, where no interest in the realty of his decedent is thus vested in him, he has no such authority.[59]

(ii) Ejectment or Writ of Entry. An executor or administrator entitled to temporary possession of his decedent's realty for the purpose of settling the estate may prosecute or defend an action of ejectment or a writ of entry;[60] but where he is not thus entitled to possession, or where the title vests directly in the also Labrot v. Seiler, 45 S. W. 102, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 57.

58. Alabama.— Banks v. Speers, 97 Ala. 560, 11 So. 841; Waddell v. Lanier, 62 Ala. 347; Patton v. Crow, 26 Ala. 426.

Kentucky.— De Haven v. De Haven, 104 Ky. 41, 46 S. W. 215, 47 S. W. 597, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 663; Jennings v. Monks, 4 Metc. 103.

Louisiana.— Smith v. Sinnott, 44 La. Ann. 51, 10 So. 413; Woodward v. Thomas, 38 La. Ann. 238.

Montana.— Black v. Story, 7 Mont. 238, 14 Pac. 703.

New Jersey.— Besson v. Gribble, 39 N. J. Eq. 111.

New York.— Mosher v. Yost, 33 Barb. 277.

Texas.— Gunter v. Fox, 51 Tex. 383.

Vermont.— Burnell v. Maloney, 36 Vt. 636; McFarland v. Stone, 17 Vt. 165, 44 Am. Dec. 325.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 538.

Necessity for possession must be shown. Holt v. Anderson, 98 Ga. 220, 25 S. E. 496.

59. Connecticut.— Hubbel v. Prat, 1 Root 518.

Illinois.— Roberts v. Baker, 65 Ill. App. 111.

Indiana.— Thompson v. Schenck, 16 Ind. 194.

Iowa.— Kinsell v. Billings, 35 Iowa 154.

Maine.— Brown v. Strickland, 32 Me. 174.

Massachusetts.—Drinkwater v. Drinkwater, 4 Mass. 354.

Missouri.— Holliday v. Doyon, 15 Mo. 407.

North Carolina.— Floyd v. Herring, 64 N. C. 409.

Washington.— Dunn v. Peterson, 4 Wash. 170, 29 Pac. 998.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 538.

60. Alabama.—Pendley v. Madison, 83 Ala. 484, 3 So. 618; Russell v. Erwin, 41 Ala. 292; Golding v. Golding, 24 Ala. 122.

Arkansas.— Chowning v. Staufield, 49 Ark. 87, 4 S. W. 276; Culberhouse v. Shirley, 42 Ark. 25; Carnall v. Wilson, 21 Ark. 62, 76 Am. Dec. 351.

California.—Harper v. Strautz, 53 Cal. 655; Meeks v. Hahn, 20 Cal. 620; Soto v. Kroder, 19 Cal. 87; Curtis v. Herrick, 14 Cal. 117, 73 Am. Dec. 632.

Florida.— Jacksonville, etc., R. Co. v. Adams, 27 Fla. 443, 9 So. 2; Doyle v. Wade, 23 Fla. 90, 1 So. 516, 11 Am. St. Rep. 334; Sanchez v. Hart, 17 Fla. 507.

Georgia.— Carter v. Darnell, 94 Ga. 656, 21 S. E. 849; Beaver v. Morrison, 22 Ga. 107, 68 Am. Dec. 486; Williams v. Rawlins, 10 Ga. 491.

Indiana.— Doe v. Mace, 7 Blackf. 2; Duchane v. Goodtitle, 1 Blackf. 117.

Kentucky.— Chapman v. Headley, 4 S. W. 189, 8 Ky. L. Rep. 957.

Montana.— Black v. Story, 7 Mont. 238, 14 Pac. 703.

Nebraska.— Carson v. Dundas, 39 Nebr. 503, 58 N. W. 141.

New Hampshire.— Pierce v. Jaquith, 48 N. H. 231.

New York.— Landon v. Townsend, 60 Hun 578, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 522.

North Carolina.— Smathers v. Moody, 112 N. C. 791, 17 S. E. 532.

Oregon.— Humphreys v. Taylor, 5 Oreg. 260.

Pennsylvania.— Kirk v. Carr, 54 Pa. St. 285; Chew v. Chew, 28 Pa. St. 17; Carpenter v. Cameron, 7 Watts 51.

Utah.— McClelland v. Dickenson, 2 Utah 100.

Vermont.— Alexander v. Stewart, 50 Vt. 87; Burnell v. Malony, 36 Vt. 636.

Washington.— Hazelton v. Bogardus, 8 Wash. 102, 35 Pac. 602.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 539.

The administrator of a mortgagee who during his lifetime recovered a conditional judgment on a writ of entry to foreclose the mortgage may maintain a writ of entry in the supreme court against a disseizor to recover possession of the mortgaged premises. Richardson v. Hildreth, 8 Cush. (Mass.) 225.

Order of court for possession necessary.— Under the Missouri statute an administrator cannot maintain ejectment for the land, nor a suit to remove a cloud from the title, in the absence of an order authorizing him to take possession. Hall v. Farmers', etc., Bank, 145 Mo. 418, 46 S. W. 1000.

Proof necessary to sustain action.— Under Fla. Rev. St. (1892) § 1917, providing that real estate shall descend to the heir or devisee of a decedent, and remain in his possession until the executor or administrator shall take possession of or sell the same, under the order of the court, for the payment of debts, an administrator cannot maintain ejectment for land on proof of title and possession in his intestate at the time of his death, where the action was not commenced until after such statute took effect, and it does not appear when his decedent died, or when plain-heirs or devisees, with at most a power of sale in the representative, he has no such authority.[61]

(III) Forcible Entry and Detainer. An executor or administrator is entitled to maintain an action of forcible entry and detainer where he is entitled to possession of the land,[62] or where the decedent had a mere chattel interest therein,[63] but not otherwise.[64]

3. Rents and Profits — a. In General. The personal representative has at common law no title or right to the rents and profits of the real estate of his decedent, accruing after the latter's death;[65] but possession and control of real estate such as will carry the right to rents and profits may be given to the execu-tiff was appointed, or that he has ever been in possession. Rose v. Withers, 39 Fla. 460, 22 So. 724.

Construction of will.— A will which authorizes executors, not only to sell at their option, but also to make valuation, division, and allotments of the estate devised, and to make deeds of conveyance therefor, breaks the descent, and vests the estate in the executors, so that the heir at law cannot maintain ejectment therefor. Wallace v. Wallace, 1 Am. L. Reg. N. S. (Pa.) 42.

61. Alabama.— Stovall v. Clay, 108 Ala. 105, 20 So. 387; Morgan v. Carey, 73 Ala. 222.

Arkansas.— Carnall v. Wilson, 21 Ark. 62, 76 Am. Dec. 351; Morrill v. Menifee, 5 Ark. 629.

Connecticut.— Livingston v. Bird, 2 Root 438.

Georgia.— Head v. Driver, 79 Ga. 179, 3 S. E. 621.

Kentucky.— Reynolds v. Boyd, 92 Ky. 249, 17 S. W. 572, 13 Ky. L. Rep. 525.

Maryland.— Fredericks v. Cisco, 72 Md. 393, 20 Atl. 190.

Missouri.— Burdyne v. Mackey, 7 Mo. 374.

Montana.— Carrhart v. Montana Mineral Land, etc., Co., 1 Mont. 245.

New Hampshire.— Pierce v. Jaquith, 48 N. H. 231.

New York.— Chamberlain v. Taylor, 105 N. Y. 185, 11 N. E. 625; Smith v. Chase, 90 Hun 99, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 615; Van Rensselaer v. Hayes, 5 Den. 477; Jackson v. McVey, 15 Johns. 234.

Tennessee.— Peck v. Henderson, 7 Yerg. 18.

Vermont.— Roberts v. Morgan, 30 Vt. 319; Cushman v. Jordan, 13 Vt. 597; Stone v. Gribbin, 3 Vt. 400; Chipman v. Sawyer, 1 Tyler 83.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 539.

62. Alabama.— Espalla v. Gottschalk, 95 Ala. 254, 10 So. 755.

California.— Knowles v. Murphy, 107 Cal. 107, 40 Pac. 111.

Florida.— Scott v. Lloyd, 16 Fla. 151.

Illinois.— McDole v. Shepardson, 53 Ill. App. 513.

Iowa.— Beezley v. Burgett, 15 Iowa 192.

Vermont.— Edmonds v. Morrill, Brayt. 20.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 540.

63. Winningham v. Crouch, 2 Swan (Tenn.) 170.

64. McMullen v. Mayo, 8 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 298; Carmichael v. Davis, Walk. (Miss.) 221.

65. Alabama.— Masterson v. Girard, 10 Ala. 60.

Illinois.— Dixon v. Niccolls, 39 Ill. 372, 89 Am. Dec. 312; Foltz v. Prouse, 17 Ill. 487; Sherman v. Dutch, 16 Ill. 283.

Indiana.— Kidwell v. Kidwell, 84 Ind. 224; Trimble v. Pollock, 77 Ind. 576; King v. Anderson, 20 Ind. 385.

Iowa.— Crane v. Guthrie, 47 Iowa 542; Shawhan v. Long, 26 Iowa 488, 96 Am. Dec. 164; Laverty v. Woodward, 16 Iowa 1.

Kansas.— Head v. Sutton, 31 Kan. 616, 3 Pac. 280.

Kentucky.— Ball v. Covington First Nat. Bank, 80 Ky. 501; Combs v. Branch, 4 Dana 547.

Maine.— Mills v. Merryman, 49 Me. 65; Stinson v. Stinson, 38 Me. 593.

Maryland.— Getzandaffer v. Caylor, 38 Md. 280.

Massachusetts.— Cummings v. Watson, 149 Mass. 262, 21 N. E. 365; Lobdell v. Hayes, 12 Gray 236.

Mississippi.— Bloodworth v. Stevens, 51 Miss. 475.

New Jersey.— Allen v. Van Houten, 19 N. J. L. 47.

New York.— Matter of Speara, 89 Hun 49, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 35; Fay v. Holloran, 35 Barb. 295; Wright v. Williams, 5 Cow. 501; Kohler v. Knapp, 1 Bradf. Surr. 241.

North Carolina.— Fleming v. Chunn, 57 N. C. 422.

Pennsylvania.— Haslage v. Krugh, 25 Pa. St. 97; Adams v. Adams, 4 Watts 160; McManus' Estate, 3 Pa. Dist. 183, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 379; O'Donnell's Estate, 9 Kulp 123; Burnell's Estate, 13 Phila. 387.

South Carolina.— Huff v. Latimer, 33 S. C. 255, 11 S. E. 758.

Tennessee.— Smith v. Thomas, 14 Lea 324; Rowan v. Riley, 6 Baxt. 67; Combs v. Young, 4 Yerg. 218, 26 Am. Dec. 225.

Vermont.— Stockwell v. Sargent, 37 Vt. 16.

Virginia.— Lightner v. Speck, (1897) 28 S. E. 326; Roberts v. Stanton, 2 Munf. 129, 5 Am. Dec. 463.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 541; and supra, III, C, 3.

An executor may be enjoined from leasing the real estate and collecting the rent where he has no right to do so under the will. Stevens v. Stevens, 69 Hun (N. Y.) 332, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 520.

Rents received by one who is both administrator and guardian go to the guardianship account. Foteaux v. Lepage, 6 Iowa 123.

tor or administrator by the will,[66] and statutes frequently give the representative the right under appropriate circumstances to receive the rents and profits either for the purpose of using them for payment of the debts or for other proper purposes connected with the administration.[67] In order to entitle the representative to the rents and profits under such statutes it must appear that the contingency contemplated by the statute has arisen and that the representative has complied with the requirements of the statute with reference to establishing his right,[68] one of the most usual of which is that there shall be an order of court authorizing the representative to rent or use the land and apply the rents and profits to the purposes of the administration.[69] A mere naked or contingent power to sell does not give the representative a right to the rents and profits, but in such case the heirs or devisees may enter upon the estate and receive all rents and profits until such power is appropriately exercised.[70]

Consent of heirs.— Where rents and profits of real estate have been received by the administrator with the consent of the heirs, this gives him a lawful possession and a good title against all persons except the heirs. Wilson v. Shearer, 9 Metc. (Mass.) 504.

Testamentary provision for payment of encumbrance out of rent.— Although ordinarily the debts of an estate are payable by executors only, where a will devised to testator's son a certain quarry, and provided that the rents arising from the quarry should be applied to discharge the encumbrance on the same, the son was entitled to the rents, in order to apply them on the debt, and they did not go to the executors. Emery v. Owings, 6 Gill (Md.) 191.

Distraining for rent against devisee.— Where a will directed that testator's estate be divided among the children as they came of age or married, and one child married and with her husband occupied lands of the estate, and the executors refused to pay over her share of the estate or account for it, they could not distrain against the husband for rent due. McCracken v. McCracken, 6 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 342.

66. Madigan v. Burns, 58 N. H. 405; Hannahs v. Hannahs, 68 N. Y. 610; Jones' Appeal, 3 Grant (Pa.) 250; Clark v. Clark, 58 Vt. 527, 3 Atl. 508. See supra, III, C, 3.

This power may be implied where the provisions of the will are of such character as to indicate that such was the intention of the testator. Peirce v. Peirce, 195 Pa. St. 417, 46 Atl. 78; Bush v. Allen, 5 Mod. 63.

An express authority to take possession of the land, given to the executor by the will, carries with it, as a necessary incident to the possession, the right to take the rents and profits, and this right is not to be deemed as denied because the will contains no provision for their disposition when collected, the implication being that they are to go to the persons beneficially interested in the estate. Hubbard v. Housley, 43 N. Y. App. Div. 129, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 392 [affirming 27 Misc. 276, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 432, and affirmed in 160 N. Y. 688, 55 N. E. 1096].

Will not giving right to collect rents.— Where the only duty imposed upon the executors under the will with regard to the residuary real estate is to divide it into three equal parts and convey them to trustees, they have no right to lease or collect rents from the land, notwithstanding the fact that such residuary real estate is charged with a trust legacy in favor of one of the executors. Stevens v. Stevens, 69 Hun (N. Y.) 332, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 520.

67. Alabama.— Harkins v. Pope, 10 Ala. 493.

Colorado.— Rupp v. Rupp, 11 Colo. App. 36, 52 Pac. 290.

Georgia.— Chisolm v. Spullock, 87 Ga. 665, 13 S. E. 571.

Indiana.— Kidwell v. Kidwell, 84 Ind. 224; McClead v. Davis, 83 Ind. 263.

Iowa.— Laverty v. Woodward, 16 Iowa 1.

Louisiana.— Hoss v. Jones, 26 La. Ann. 659.

New Hampshire.— Gregg v. Currier, 36 N. H. 200.

New Jersey.— Condit v. Neighbor, 13 N. J. L. 83.

Pennsylvania.— Bakes v. Reese, 150 Pa. St. 44, 24 Atl. 634.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 541.

Determination of lease.—A statute authorizing administrators to receive, take possession of, sue for, and recover the rents, issues, and profits of the land of their intestates does not give an administrator power to determine an existing lease and sue for possession of the leased premises. Rupp v. Rupp, 11 Colo. App. 36, 52 Pac. 290.

68. Brent v. Chipley, 104 Mo. App. 645, 78 S. W. 270.

69. Brent v. Chipley, 104 Mo. App. 645, 78 S. W. 270; Bealey v. Blake, 70 Mo. App. 229.

Order not retrospective.— An order of the probate court directing the administrator to take possession of and rent the real estate for the payment of debts can have no retrospective effect, nor can it authorize an administrator to recover from the heir rents collected by him after the decedent's death, but prior to the order. Bealy v. Blake, 70 Mo. App. 229.

70. Indiana.— Doe v. Lanius, 3 Ind. 441, 56 Am. Dec. 518.

Maryland.— Guyer v. Maynard, 6 Gill & J. 420.

Massachusetts.— Brooks v. Jackson, 125 Mass. 307; Lobdell v. Hayes, 12 Gray 236.

b. Actions to Recover. Where the right to possess or control the decedent's land is given by will or local statute, the executor or administrator may recover rent or sue for use and occupation,[71] but he cannot do so where no such rightful control exists.[72]

c. Disposition. The representative who has collected rents may be protected where, instead of paying the same over to the heirs or other distributees, he has under prudent and reasonable circumstances applied the same beneficially for the premises, as in keeping down mortgage interest and preventing foreclosure at a sacrifice,[73] for needful labor on the premises,[74] or keeping the buildings in proper repair;[75] but it has been held that an administrator has no authority to apply rents collected to taxes and arrears of ground-rent accruing subsequent to the death of the decedent.[76] The court has also refused to call a widow who was administratrix to account for rents and profits expended in the support of infant children of the deceased.[77] It has been held that under a statute giving executors and administrators possession and control of the real estate not specifically devised during the settlement of the estate, such possession and control was for the benefit of the persons entitled to the real estate and that rents and profits not needed for the payment of debts went on distribution with the land as incident thereto, and did not go to the residuary legatees.[78]

d. Liability of Representative — (1) In General. An executor or administrator who has taken possession or control of the real estate of his decedent must account for the rents and profits thereof,[79] but whether his liability is to account

Michigan.— Howard v. Patrick, 38 Mich. 795.

Mississippi.— Bullock v. Sneed, 13 Sm. & M. 293.

New Hampshire.— Gregg v. Currier, 36 N. H. 200.

New York.—Campbell v. Johnston, 1 Sandf. Ch. 148.

Pennsylvania.— Peirce v. Peirce, 195 Pa. St. 417, 46 Atl. 78; Pennsylvania Co.'s Appeal, 168 Pa. St. 431, 32 Atl. 25, 47 Am. St. Rep. 893; Myers' Estate, 9 Phila. 310; Blight v. Wright, 1 Phila. 549. See also Howard's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 125.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 541.

Where the devisee is made sole executor, rents and profits of real estate belong to him as devisee, subject to the contingent duty of exercising a power of sale of the land to pay debts of the estate. Bucher v. Bucher, 86 Ill. 377.

71. Alabama.— Nicrosi v. Phillipi, 91 Ala. 299, 8 So. 561.

Indiana.— McDowell v. Hendrix, 71 Ind. 286, rents accruing upon lease from decedent.

Iowa.— Durlam v. Steele, 88 Iowa 498, 55 N. W. 509; Toerring v. Lamp, 77 Iowa 488, 42 N. W. 378.

Missouri.— Logan v. Caldwell, 23 Mo. 372.

Pennsylvania.— Blight v. Ewing, 26 Pa. St. 135; Cobb v. Biddle, 14 Pa. St. 444.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 543.

Chattel interest of testator.— An executor, in his declaration for rent falling due after the testator's death, must show that the estate of the testator in the premises was but a chattel. Williamson v. Richardsons, 6 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 596.

Ownership or contract to pay.— In order to enable an administrator to maintain an action for the use and occupation of a farm, plaintiff or his intestate must have been the owner of the premises, or there must have been an express contract on the part of defendant to pay. Bailey v. Campbell, 2 Ill. 110.

Defenses.— That defendant paid the rent demanded to a guardian appointed in another county, where the intestate died, there being no debtors or creditors of the estate, and the heirs being minors, is a defense which should be allowed to be made to a suit by an administrator not appointed until six years after the death of the intestate. Homuth v. Zapp, 20 Tex. 807.

72. Stewart v. Smiley, 46 Ark. 373; Landree v. Warren, 53 Mo. App. 442; Bagwell v. Jamison, Cheves (S. C.) 249; Filbey v. Carrier, 45 Wis. 469.

73. Patapsco Guano Co. v. Ballard, 107 Ala. 710, 19 So. 777, 54 Am. St. Rep. 131. See also Reynolds v. New Orleans Canal, etc., Co., 30 Ark. 520.

74. Ferguson v. Collins, 8 Ark. 241.

75. See Henderson's Succession, 24 La. Ann. 435. And see supra, VIII, I, 8, e; infra, VIII, O, 4.

76. McManus' Estate, 3 Pa. Dist. 183, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 379. And see infra, X, A, 15.

77. Thompson v. Brown, 4 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 619.

78. Remington v. American Bible Soc., 44 Conn. 512.

79. Alabama.— Smith v. King, 22 Ala. 558.

Connecticut.— See Storer v. Hinkly, 1 Root 182.

Missouri.— Lewis v. Carson, 16 Mo. App. 342.

New Jersey.— Brearley v. Brearley, 9 N. J. Eq. 21.

New York.— Griffith v. Beecher, 10 Barb. 432; Matter of Boyd, 4 Redf. Surr. 154.

in his representative or his individual capacity depends upon the facts of the particular case.[80] He is not, however, responsible for rents for a time when the real estate was not in his possession or control unless he has been guilty of some laches or lack of good faith which has resulted in a loss to those entitled to the rents.[81]

(II) IN WHAT CAPACITY LIABLE. The general rule is that where the representative is lawfully in possession or control under authority of the will or some local statute, he accounts in his representative capacity for the rents and profits received as assets for the payment of debts or distribution as the case may be,[82] although negligence in the management of the property may subject him to personal liability;[83] while if he has taken possession or control without authority he is not in his representative capacity chargeable with or liable to account for the rents

North Carolina.— Jennings v. Copeland, 90 N. C. 572.

Pennsylvania.— Straub's Appeal, 1 Pa. St. 86.

South Carolina.— Garlington v. Copeland, 32 S. C. 57, 10 S. E. 616.

Washington.— In re Alfstad, 27 Wash. 175, 67 Pac. 593.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 542.

Administrator not liable to widow for rents until her distributive share set aside.— In re Pennock, 122 Iowa 622, 98 N. W. 480.

Where the estate is unsettled and possibly insolvent, an action will not lie by devisees against the executor for rents collected by him, although he took charge of and leased the property without a formal order of the probate court. Gamage v. Bushell, 1 Mo. App. 416.

An executor who is also residuary devisee is not liable to account for rents and profits received by him. Newcomb v. Stebbins, 9 Metc. (Mass.) 540. But see McNeely's Succession, 50 La. Ann. 823, 24 So. 338, holding that an executor, who is also the universal legatee, who takes possession ex parte of all the property of the succession, and deals with it as his own, with knowledge of the existence of a minor forced heir, is chargeable with the rent of the portion of the succession which vested in such heir.

Executor as life-tenant.— Where an estate is left to the widow for life, she is entitled to the rents and profits until disposition by due process of law; and, if she be executrix and reside on the property, she need not charge herself in her account with rents for the same. In re Bare, 5 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 36. See also Clough v. Clough, 71 N. H. 412, 52 Atl. 449, holding that an executor who occupied real estate in which a life-interest has been devised to his co-executor is not chargeable with rent as executor and cannot be credited in that capacity with money expended for taxes, repairs, etc.

Rents collected by heirs as agents of executor.— The rule holding an executor responsible to the estate for transcending his power in taking charge of the real estate and collecting the rents applies, although the heirs collect them, if they do so as his agents and he receives a commission thereon. Gamble v. Gibson, 59 Mo. 585.

Occupation as tenant of person entitled.— An executor is not chargeable in his official capacity with timber, coal, and limestone taken from the testator's land, where he occupied the same as tenant of the life-tenant. Lynn's Appeal, 31 Pa. St. 44, 72 Am. Dec. 721. See also McCormick's Appeal, 104 Pa. St. 146, when the court refused in a proceeding for distribution to charge the administrator de bonis non with the will annexed with rent for land which he occupied before his appointment under lease from one who held it in trust for the heirs.

80. Patrick v. Roach, 27 Tex. 579. See infra, VIII, O, 3, d, (II).

81. Clark v. Guard, 73 Ala. 456; Jenks v. Terrell, 73 Ala. 238; Cross v. Johnson, 82 Ga. 67, 8 S. E. 56; Tunnicliffe v. Fox, (Nebr. 1903) 94 N. W. 1032, holding that an executor cannot be charged with the rent of real estate until it becomes necessary to reduce it to actual possession for the protection of the creditors, or until he is ordered so to do by the proper court.

A mere power to sell real estate, given to an executor, does not render him responsible for the rents thereof. Rubottom v. Morrow, 24 Ind. 202, 87 Am. Dec. 324.

When chargeable.— An executor who has permitted land, a life-estate in which is charged by the will with the payment of expenses of administration, to pass into the possession of the devisee for life, and suffered him to enjoy the rents and profits thereof for more than twenty years, is justly chargeable with those rents and profits to the amount of those expenses. Tilton v. Tilton, 41 N. H. 479. An administrator is liable for the rent of lands necessary to be sold for the payment of debts, if he fails to take the proper steps within a reasonable time. Clark v. Knox, 70 Ala. 607, 45 Am. Rep. 93.

82. Dix v. Morris, 66 Mo. 514 [affirming 1 Mo. App. 93]; Stagg v. Jackson, 1 N. Y. 206.

Agreement with devisee.— Where executors managed a farm under an arrangement with the sole devisee that they should take the products and account for them as assets, the fact that such sole devisee was also an executor would not prevent the executors from occupying the farm for the benefit of the estate so as to be chargeable with the income, and the products belonged to them in their representative capacity. Brigham v. Elwell, 145 Mass. 520, 14 N. E. 780.

83. Eppinger v. Canepa, 20 Fla. 262.

and profits or proceeds received,[84] but is held to account therefor in his individual capacity on the theory that they have been received as agent or implied trustee for those entitled to the realty.[85] Where the representative has received rents and accounted therefor or paid them out in discharge of the debts of his decedent, he is precluded from alleging that they belong to the heir and he received them without authority, and those entitled to the rents may charge him therewith in his representative capacity as for assets rightfully received;[86] and while if he received them without authority he is also chargeable in his individual capacity

84. Connecticut.— Goodrich v. Thompson, 4 Day 215.

Indiana.— Kidwell v. Kidwell, 84 Ind. 224.

Kansas.— Head v. Sutton, 31 Kan. 616, 3 Pac. 280.

New Hampshire.— Lucy v. Lucy, 55 N. H. 9.

Pennsylvania.— Hartz's Appeal, 2 Grant 83.

South Carolina.— See Jewell v. Jewell, 11 Rich. Eq. 296.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 542.

Sureties on bond not liable for rents and profits received by representative.— Perkins v. Perkins, 46 N. H. 110; Gregg v. Currier, 36 N. H. 200; Jewell v. Jewell, 11 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 296. See also Hartz's Appeal, 2 Grant (Pa.) 83.

Executrix as devisee.— Where realty is devised to a widow for life, subject to the payment of debts and legacies, and she is appointed executrix, she is not liable to account for the rents as executrix and appropriate them to the payment of the debts and legacies, since, as she cannot collect the rent except as devisee, she cannot account for them as executrix. In re Stoop, 31 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 34.

In Missouri the rule is that, although the realty descends to the heirs, and the administrator has as a general rule nothing to do with it, yet when, as a matter of fact, he does retain the realty and collects the rents, he is to account for them to the probate court and his sureties are liable. Dix v. Morris, 66 Mo. 514 [affirming 1 Mo. App. 93]; Gamble v. Gibson, 59 Mo. 585; Lewis v. Carson, 16 Mo. App. 342; Gamage v. Bushell, 1 Mo. App. 416. But an administrator is not chargeable as such for rents collected by him from land of the intestate in another state, where such rents accrued after the intestate's death, in the absence of any proof that the laws of such state gave him as administrator any power to collect such rents. McPike v. McPike, 111 Mo. 216, 20 S. W. 12.

85. Alabama.— Boyd v. Hunter, 44 Ala. 705; Powell v. Powell, 10 Ala. 900.

Indiana.— Evans v. Hardy, 76 Ind. 527; Hendrix v. Hendrix, 65 Ind. 329; Rodman v. Rodman, 54 Ind. 444.

Kansas.— Head v. Sutton, 31 Kan. 616, 3 Pac. 280.

Kentucky.—Wilson v. Unselt, 12 Bush 215.

Maine.— Kimball v. Sumner, 62 Me. 305.

Massachusetts.— Newcomb v. Stebbins, 9 Metc. 540.

Michigan.— Byrne v. Hume, 73 Mich. 392, 41 N. W. 331.

New Hampshire.— Lucy v. Lucy, 55 N. H. 9; Gregg v. Currier, 36 N. H. 200.

New York.— Calyer v. Calyer, 4 Redf. Surr. 305; Levy's Estate, Tuck. Surr. 148.

North Carolina.— Scroggs v. Stevenson, 100 N. C. 354, 6 S. E. 111.

Pennsylvania.— Walker's Appeal, 116 Pa. St. 419, 9 Atl. 654; Robb's Appeal, 41 Pa. St. 45; Jones' Appeal, 3 Grant 250; McCoy v. Scott, 2 Rawle 222, 19 Am. Dec. 640; Hall's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 8.

Rhode Island.— Belcher v. Branch, 11 R. I. 226.

South Carolina.— Jewell v. Jewell, 11 Rich. Eq. 296.

Virginia.— Baker v. Baker, 87 Va. 180, 12 S. E. 346.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 542.

Limitation of actions.— Where a man who is executor of his deceased wife remains in possession of her land after her death, the statute of limitations will bar her devisees from recovering from him for the use of land except for the period of five years before suit, since his liability for such use is a personal one and not as executor. Baker v. Baker, 87 Va. 180, 12 S. E. 346.

Presumption of occupation under homestead and dower right.— Where a husband dies leaving a farm, and his widow, who is also administratrix, continues to occupy it with their children, and the statute does not authorize an administrator to have possession of the real estate, her possession will be presumed to be under her homestead and dower right, and she should not be charged with rent in her account as administratrix. Russell v. Wheeler, 129 Mich. 41, 88 N. W. 73.

86. Alabama.— See Terry v. Ferguson, 8 Port. 500.

Kansas.— See Kothman v. Markson, 34 Kan. 542, 9 Pac. 218.

Mississippi.— Crowder v. Shackelford, 35 Miss. 321. See also Satterwhite v. Littlefield, 13 Sm. & M. 302.

Missouri.— Lyons v. Lyons, 101 Mo. App. 494, 74 S. W. 467.

New York.— Griffith v. Beecher, 10 Barb. 432.

Ohio.— Conger v. Atwood, 28 Ohio St. 134, 22 Am. Rep. 462.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 542.

But compare Evans v. Hardy, 76 Ind. 527; Hendrix v. Hendrix, 65 Ind. 329.

for what he has paid out,[87] the one entitled to the rents has the right to elect in which capacity he shall be charged, and he cannot defeat a recovery against him in his representative capacity on the ground that he is personally liable.[88]

(III) EXTENT OF LIABILITY. An executor or administrator who takes possession of and uses the land of the decedent is properly chargeable with its rental value,[89] subject, however, to the qualifications that where he manages the property honestly and with due diligence he is liable only for such rents and profits as he may have received,[90] and that rents or profits to be accounted for by the representative are net, and subject to suitable deductions for his outlays, expenses, and services,[91] although not necessarily for improvements, nor for any outlays or expenses inconsistent with an honest and prudent management of the prop-

No estoppel against creditors as to surplus. — Where an administrator, on the assumption that the rents were assets, has paid some simple contract debts out of them, he is not thereby estopped from setting up the truth as to the surplus and insisting, when called to account by a simple contract creditor, that the moneys thus received were not assets. Griffith v. Beecher, 10 Barb. (N. Y.) 432.

87. Conger v. Atwood, 28 Ohio St. 134, 22 Am. Rep. 462.

88. Conger v. Atwood, 28 Ohio St. 134, 140, 22 Am. Rep. 462 [citing Arbuckle v. Tracy, 15 Ohio 432; Howard v. Powers, 6 Ohio 92].

89. Alabama.— Henderson v. Simmons, 33 Ala. 291, 70 Am. Dec. 590.

California.— Misamore's Estate, 90 Cal. 169, 27 Pac. 68.

Georgia.— Burks v. Beall, 77 Ga. 271, 3 S. E. 155.

Iowa.— In re Holderbaum, 82 Iowa 69, 47 N. W. 898.

Massachusetts.—Stearns v. Stearns, 1 Pick. 157; Gibson v. Farley, 16 Mass. 280.

New Jersey.— Bray v. Neill, 21 N. J. Eq. 343.

North Carolina.— Shuffler v. Turner, 111 N. C. 297, 16 S. E. 417.

Tennessee.— Allen v. Shanks, 90 Tenn. 359, 16 S. W. 715.

Virginia.— Davies v. Hughes, 86 Va. 909, 11 S. E. 488.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 542.

Representative must account for highest rent that can be obtained. McCracken v. McCracken, 6 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 342; Burns v. Cox, 10 Phila. (Pa.) 8.

A statute providing a mode for determining the amount due for the use or income of real estate, when the occupation is such as to create a liability therefor, and the disposition of such amount, does not make an executor or administrator liable for the use and occupation of real estate for which he would not otherwise be liable in some form. Almy v. Crapo, 100 Mass. 218.

Construction of parties to lease.— Where an estate consisted in part of a homestead and a lot adjoining, on which was a building, both of which were rented for a gross sum, and testator, the tenant, and the executor considered the rental of the building to be one half of such sum, it was held that the construction placed on the lease by the parties controlled, and the executor should be charged in his account with one half of the rent. Robinson v. Hadgkin, 99 Wis. 327, 74 N. W. 791.

Value of product taken.— Executors who enter upon land of the decedent, of which the devisee is in peaceable possession, and forcibly take possession of and carry away wheat growing thereon at the time of the testator's death, which the devisee is threshing, are liable to such devisee in an action of trover for the value of the property so taken. Rough v. Wormer, 76 Mich. 375, 43 N. W. 573.

Representative not chargeable with increased rental caused by improvements made by him.— In re Brazill, 11 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 253.

90. Florida.— Anderson v. Northrop, 44 Fla. 472, 33 So. 419.

Kentucky.— McCracken v. McCracken, 6 T. B. Mon. 342.

Louisiana.— Henderson's Succession, 24 La. Ann. 435.

Pennsylvania.— Burns v. Cox, 10 Phila. 8.

Tennessee.— Coffee v. Ruffin, 4 Coldw. 487.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 542.

Uncollected royalties.— Where a lease of coal land belonging to an estate required the mining of a certain amount each year, and the payment of royalties thereon, but did not require the payment of royalties on such amount, whether mined or not, and the leased land and all unmined coal therein were subsequently sold by order of court, the administrator of the estate could not be surcharged on accounting with uncollected royalties on coal which ought to have been but was not mined, as all such unmined coal was covered by the sale, and the estate thereby received its value. In re Hodgson, 158 Pa. St. 151, 27 Atl. 878.

91. Florida.— Anderson v. Northrop, 44 Fla. 472, 33 So. 419.

Kentucky.— Saunders v. Saunders, 2 Litt. 314.

New Hampshire.— Sparhawk v. Allen, 25 N. H. 261.

New York.— Matter of Meikle, 20 N. Y. Suppl. 88, 2 Connoly Surr. 97.

Pennsylvania.— Eavenson's Appeal, 84 Pa. St. 172.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 542.

erty.[92] Interest on the value of the rents may sometimes be charged against the representative.[93]

4. Repairs and Improvements. As a general rule the executor or administrator is not authorized to make repairs or improvements thereon and subject the estate or those beneficially interested to such expenditures,[94] but the power to make necessary repairs may of course be given to the executor by the terms of the will[95] or by statute.[96] An executor has been held authorized to make reasonable repairs and improvements on leasehold property of the decedent occupied by the legatees or parties in interest jointly, where the lease contained a covenant of renewal, and to pay the value of improvements.[97]

5. Taxes and Insurance. The personal representative should not as a general rule pay taxes assessed on real estate after the decedent's death, nor insurance on buildings, although under particular wills or by virtue of local legislation it may become his duty to do so.[98]

6. Mortgaged and Encumbered Property — a. Purchase of Encumbrance by Representative. The representative cannot buy for his own benefit a mortgage upon the land of the estate;[99] but if he has advanced his own funds to prevent the property from being sacrificed and benefited the estate thereby, the mere fact that he took a transfer of the debt to himself does not render the transaction void,[1] or preclude his being credited with the amounts advanced.[2]

b. Discharge of Encumbrance — (i) To Protect Estate Generally. While in some states it is considered proper for the personal representative to protect mortgaged or encumbered real estate by paying the interest or even the principal of the debt,[3] in others the courts apply more strictly the rule that the representative is not concerned with the realty,[4] and deny any right or duty of

No credit for losses incurred in management where possession unauthorized.— Allen v. Shanks, 90 Tenn. 357, 16 S. W. 715.

92. McCracken v. McCracken, 6 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 342; Wright v. Wright, 2 McCord Eq. (S. C.) 185; In re Brazill, 11 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 253. But compare Morley v. Mathews, 14 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 551. See supra, VIII, I, 8, e.

93. Harrison v. Harrison, 39 Ala. 489; Harvin v. Riggs, Rich. Eq. Cas. (S. C.) 287. See supra, VIII, F.

94. Rolfson v. Cannon, 3 Utah 232, 2 Pac. 205. And see supra, VIII, I, 8, e.

95. Matter of Johnson, 32 N. Y. App. Div. 634, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 1081.

Power to manage and control real estate for the benefit of devisees, given to the executor by the will, may justify him in making necessary repairs or improvements. Henry v. Henderson, 81 Miss. 743, 33 So. 960, 63 L. R. A. 616. See also Matter of Johnson, 32 N. Y. App. Div. 634, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 1081; Rankin's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 603.

A naked power to sell does not authorize the representative to make repairs (Ashby v. Ashby, 59 N. J. Eq. 547, 46 Atl. 522; Hopper v. Adee, 3 Duer, (N. Y.) 235. Contra, Corby's Estate, 5 Kulp (Pa.) 160), nor in such case is the representative liable as such for repairs made at his request (Hopper v. Adee, supra).

96. Vandegrift v. Abbott, 75 Ala. 487, holding that a representative who has under the statute power to lease lands of his decedent has implied power to contract to repair the leased premises.

97. Ames v. Downing, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 321.

98. See supra, VIII, I, 8, h; infra, X, A, 15.

99. McCreedy v. Mier, 64 Ill. 495; Evertson v. Tappen, 5 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 497; Van Horne v. Fonda, 5 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 388.

1. Furth v. Wyatt, 17 Nev. 180, 30 Pac. 828.

2. Burnett v. Lyford, 93 Cal. 114, 25 Pac. 855.

3. Matter of Van Houten, 18 Misc. (N. Y.) 524, 42 N. Y. Suppl. 1115; Matter of Rolph, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 293, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 191; Pate v. Oliver, 104 N. C. 458, 10 S. E. 709, power under statute. See also Matter of Hosford, 27 N. Y. App. Div. 427, 50 N. Y Suppl. 550.

Court may order administrator to redeem. Scudder v. Ames, 89 Mo. 496, 14 S. W. 525.

Approval of previous redemption.— Where an administrator used the personal assets to redeem land of the intestate from a mortgage not due and paid a bonus to further his purpose, a subsequent approval by the probate court is retroactive and has the same effect as an order to redeem previously made. Scudder v. Ames, 89 Mo. 496, 14 S. W. 525.

4. See Nixon v. Seal, (Miss. 1900) 27 So. 875; and supra, VIII, O, 1, a.

Agreement for usury.— An administrator cannot for the purpose of preventing a sale under a decree make an agreement binding the estate for the payment of interest at a higher rate than allowed by law. Williams v. Troop, 17 Wis. 463.

the representative to make any payments out of the assets for the benefit of land[5] which is not needed for the payment of debts or for purposes of administration.[6] In some states the representative can maintain a bill to redeem,[7] or an action to cancel a mortgage purporting to be executed by his decedent, as fraudulent and void,[8] or to compel an assignment of a mortgage on the realty to prevent foreclosure and thus to save the estate from loss;[9] but in other states he has not these powers.[10] The representative who goes beyond his duty in such matters must bear all losses resulting to the estate.[11]

(II) IN INTEREST OF HEIR OR DEVISEE. The common-law rule that the personalty is the primary fund for payment of the decedent's personal debts, to the exoneration of the realty, has been extended so far as to allow the heir or devisee to call upon the executor or administrator to exonerate the realty from a debt constituting a lien thereon, unless the testator has expressed his intention to the contrary in plain and unequivocal terms.[12] The rule relates, however, only to

The right to release an equity of redemption to the holder of the mortgage who agreed to receive the equity in payment of the debt which exceeded the value of the equity, is doubtful enough to entitle the grantees to a decree confirming the arrangement. U. S. Bank v. Piatt, 5 Ohio 540.

5. See In re Holladay, 18 Oreg. 168, 22 Pac. 750.

The executor cannot extinguish a claim of dower by the payment of money without the consent of all the devisees. Forward v. Forward, 6 Allen (Mass.) 494.

6. Young v. Tarbell, 37 Me. 509.

7. Mason v. Daly, 117 Mass. 403. See also Aiken v. Morse, 104 Mass. 277. Contra, under earlier statute. Smith v. Manning, 9 Mass. 422.

8. West Troy Nat. Bank v. Levy, 127 N. Y. 549, 28 N. E. 592 [reversing 2 N. Y. Suppl. 162], where the mortgage was in fact forged, and it was further held that a creditor was entitled to bring an action to cancel the same on the refusal of the administrator to do so.

9. Mabbett v. Mabbett, 29 N. Y. App. Div. 609, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 529.

10. Nixon v. Seal, (Miss. 1900) 27 So. 875.

11. In re Knight, 12 Cal. 200, 73 Am. Dec. 531; Olin v. Arendt, 27 Misc. (N. Y.) 270, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 429. See also Williams v. Troop, 17 Wis. 463.

Presumptions in favor of the administrator will be indulged in the absence of proof that the condition of the estate did not warrant his redeeming mortgaged property of the decedent. Goodrich v. Leland, 18 Mich. 110.

Where lands never belonged to the decedent the representative is not entitled to credit for money advanced by him to disencumber them. Cary v. Simmons, 87 Ala. 524, 6 So. 416, where the land had come from another source to the distributees of the estate.

12. California.— See In re Woodworth, 31 Cal. 595, holding as between the legatee of the personalty and the devisee of the realty, that the executor is not authorized to appropriate rents accruing after the testator's death to the satisfaction of a mortgage.

Connecticut.— See Turner v. Laird, 68 Conn. 198, 35 Atl. 1124, holding that a specific devise of land mortgaged by the testator to secure his own debt prima facie imports an intention that such debt shall be satisfied out of the general personal assets.

Illinois.— Sutherland v. Harrison, 86 Ill. 363.

Indiana.— See Linton v. Potts, 5 Blackf. 396.

Massachusetts.—Brown v. Baron, 162 Mass. 56, 37 N. E. 772, 44 Am. St. Rep. 331, holding that under this rule an executor may pay a mortgage on property devised to him out of the funds of the estate.

New Hampshire.— Tuttle v. Robinson, 33 N. H. 104.

New Jersey.— Higbie v. Morris, 53 N. J. Eq. 173, 32 Atl. 372; Krueger v. Ferry, 41 N. J. Eq. 432, 5 Atl. 452; Slack v. Emery, 30 N. J. Eq. 458; Keene v. Munn, 16 N. J. Eq. 398. See also Whitehead v. Gibbons, 10 N. J. Eq. 230.

Pennsylvania.— In re Lennig, 52 Pa. St. 135; Meanor v. Hamilton, 27 Pa. St. 137.

Rhode Island.— Wood v. Hammond, 16 R. I. 98, 17 Atl. 324, 18 Atl. 198.

Virginia.— Dandridge v. Minge, 4 Rand. 397.

England.— See Evelyn v. Evelyn, 2 Barn. 118, Fitzg. 131, 2 P. Wms. 659, Selw. 18, 24 Eng. Reprint 904; Tower v. Rous, 18 Ves. Jr. 132, 11 Rev. Rep. 169, 34 Eng. Reprint 267; Hamilton v. Worley, 2 Ves. Jr. 62, 30 Eng. Reprint 523.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 548.

The reason of the rule is said to be that the personal estate is presumed to have had the benefit of the money for which the mortgage was given and therefore has the duty of discharging the debt. See Keene v. Munn, 16 N. J. Eq. 398.

Interest on sums advanced by an administrator to redeem a mortgage should be allowed. Jennison v. Hapgood, 10 Pick. (Mass.) 77.

Testamentary direction.— If the will directs that a mortgage upon property devised shall be paid out of other property of the estate, the executor should pay off the mortgage (Bradford v. Forbes, 9 Allen (Mass.) 365) and the court will compel him to do personal debts of the decedent; and if the decedent acquired land already subject to a mortgage the representative cannot be called upon to discharge it unless the decedent made the debt his own[13] or directed by his will that his personal estate should discharge the lien.[14] The common-law rule has been changed by statute in a few jurisdictions so that the person who takes land by descent or devise must satisfy a lien thereon out of his own property without resorting to the representative unless the testator expressly directs that the lien be otherwise paid.[15] The common-law rule, in modern times at least, would not apply as between the creditors of an estate and the heirs or devisees,[16] nor were the statutes referred to meant to affect the rights of creditors,[17] but only to govern so (In re Heydenfeldt, 106 Cal. 434, 39 Pac. 788, holding that the probate court has jurisdiction to compel action by the executor).

Rights of strangers.— The rule exists only in favor of the heir or devisee or the widow, but not for the benefit of a stranger. A person acquiring title by purchase after the death of the decedent takes subject to the encumbrance. In re Swan, 54 Mo. App. 17; Krueger v. Ferry, 41 N. J. Eq. 432, 5 Atl. 452; Keene v. Munn, 16 N. J. Eq. 398.

A direction to pay the just debts and funeral expenses supports the presumed intention of the testator that all the debts, including mortgage debts, shall be paid out of the personalty. Turner v. Laird, 68 Conn. 198, 35 Atl. 1124. See also Shreve v. Shreve, 17 N. J. Eq. 487.

Specific legacy.— The heir or devisee cannot have his land exonerated out of a specific legacy. Ruston v. Ruston, 2 Yeates (Pa.) 54; Tankerville v. Fawcet, 2 Bro. Ch. 57, 1 Cox Ch. 237, 29 Eng. Reprint 31.

Where the estate is insolvent the administrator cannot apply the personal assets to the redemption of a mortgage made by the intestate for the benefit of the widow and heirs, as the lien of the creditors upon the personal assets is paramount to the claims of the widow and heirs. Gibson v. Crehore, 5 Pick. (Mass.) 146.

13. Illinois.— See Stiger v. Bent, 111 Ill. 328.

Massachusetts.—Creesy v. Willis, 159 Mass. 249, 34 N. E. 265.

Michigan.— See In re Wisner, 20 Mich. 442.

Rhode Island.— See Gould v. Winthrop, 5 R. I. 319.

England.— Evelyn v. Evelyn. 2 Barn. 118, Fitzg. 131, 2 P. Wms. 659, Selw. 18, 24 Eng. Reprint 904.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 548.

Contra, under statute. Newcomer v. Wallace, 30 Ind. 216.

A mere collateral undertaking is not sufficient to show that the testator has made the debt his own. In re Hunt, 19 R. I. 139, 32 Atl. 204, 61 Am. St. Rep. 743; Pleasants v. Flood, 89 Va. 96, 15 S. E. 504. See also Gould v. Winthrop, 5 R. I. 319.

Agreement to pay.— Where the decedent by contract with the vendor agreed to pay the debt either to the vendor directly or some third person designated by the vendor, in discharge of the preëxisting lien on the land, the heir was entitled to have the land exonerated. O'Conner v. O'Conner, 88 Tenn. 76, 12 S. W. 447, 7 L. R. A. 33.

14. Thompson v. Thompson, 4 Ohio St. 333.

15. Banks N. Y. Rev. St. (9th ed.) 1822; 17 & 18 Vict. c. 113. See Meyer v. Cahen, 111 N. Y. 270, 18 N. E. 852; Moseley v. Marshall, 22 N. Y. 200 [reversing 27 Barb. 42]; Willcox v. Smith, 26 Barb. (N. Y.) 316; House v. House, 10 Paige (N. Y.) 158; Halsey v. Reed, 9 Paige (N. Y.) 446; Williams v. Eaton, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 503.

An equitable lien for the purchase-price of land bought by the decedent is not within the statute and the heir can call upon the representative to have the lien discharged out of the personalty. Wright v. Holbrook, 32 N. Y. 587 [affirming 2 Rob. 516]. See also Lamport v. Beeman, 34 Barb. (N. Y.) 239.

A general direction for the payment of debts as soon after testator's decease as it can conveniently be done does not affect the rule. Meyer v. Cahen, 111 N. Y. 270, 18 N. E. 852.

Payment under revoked will.— A payment in good faith, under direction by the will subsequently adjudged to have been revoked, will be credited to the administrator. The legatees and next of kin will be left to their claim against the land itself for the sum so paid. Bloomer v. Bloomer, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 339.

Testamentary provisions showing intention that executor shall pay.— See Sutherland v. Gesner, 27 Hun (N. Y.) 282.

16. See Rossiter v. Cossit, 15 N. H. 38; Dandridge v. Minge, 4 Rand. (Va.) 397; Bartholomew v. May, 1 Atk. 487, 26 Eng. Reprint 309.

Application of rents and profits to mortgage debt.— Creditors cannot complain of the administrator being allowed to remain in possession, where the mortgagee permitted him to take the rents and profits for the benefit of the heirs in extinguishment of the mortgage debt, and the administrator cannot be charged with the rents and profits in his account. See Reynolds v. New Orleans Canal, etc., Co., 30 Ark. 520.

17. Roosevelt v. Carpenter, 28 Barb. (N. Y.) 426, holding that the statute does not prevent a mortgagee from suing on the bond given him instead of enforcing his mortgage. See also Wright v. Holbrook, 32 N. Y. 587.

A reservation out of personalty will be directed by the surrogate to an amount sufficient to afford the mortgagee his proportion of his demand against the estate pro rata the rule of marshaling between the personal representative and the heirs or devisees.[18]

c. Mortgagee as Administrator. Where a mortgagee becomes administrator of the mortgagor he is not precluded by his character as administrator from disposing of his mortgage in any manner he might deem best. If he sells the property and gives a general warranty he does not thereby prejudice any right of the heirs to redeem, and he is not chargeable as administrator with the proceeds of the sale.[19]

7. Leaseholds — a. In General. Since a lease of lands is a chattel interest going to the personal representative as assets,[20] it devolves upon the personal representative to perform the contract and he is liable for a breach of it,[21] while on the other hand he may maintain ejectment with relation to the leased lands,[22] sue for a trespass when he is in possession,[23] or sue the landlord for forcible entry and taking possession on the death of the lessee.[24] A sale of a lease or the unexpired term as a chattel interest in the representative's hands may be valid, although made without a license from the court,[25] but the representative cannot lawfully surrender the lease and take another lease in his own name.[26]

b. Liability For Rent. It has been laid down as the rule that the personal representative who takes possession under a lease to his decedent is personally liable for rent accruing,[27] at least to the extent of the profits of the land,[28] and in with the other creditors where there is reason to anticipate a deficiency upon the foreclosure of the mortgage. Williams v. Eaton, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 503.

18. Roosevelt v. Carpenter, 28 Barb. (N. Y.) 426. See also Rice v. Harbeson, 2 Thomps. & C. (N. Y.) 4.

19. Dexter v. Arnold, 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,855, 3 Mason 284.

20. See supra, III, C, 7.

21. Greenleaf v. Allen, 127 Mass. 248; Hovey v. Newton, 11 Pick. (Mass.) 421; Wilcox v. Alexander, (Tex. Civ. App. 1895) 32 S. W. 561.

22. Duchane v. Goodtitle, 1 Blackf. (Ind.) 117; Mosher v. Yost, 33 Barb. (N. Y.) 277.

An executrix who assented to a bequest of a leasehold cannot maintain ejectment against the legatee for recovery of the leasehold. Cole v. Cole, 1 Harr. & J. (Md.) 572.

23. Cunningham v. Baxley, 96 Ind. 367; Schee v. Wiseman, 79 Ind. 389.

24. Smith v. Dodds, 35 Ind. 452.

25. Amory v. Francis, 16 Mass. 308; In re Gay, 5 Mass. 419; Dillingham v. Jenkins, 7 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 479; Coppels' Estate, 4 Phila. (Pa.) 378. See also Keilar v. Blanchard, 21 La. Ann. 38.

26. Keating v. Condon, 68 Pa. St. 75; Charles v. Byrd, 29 S. C. 544, 8 S. E. 1.

27. Inches v. Dickinson, 2 Allen (Mass.) 71, 79 Am. Dec. 765; Becker v. Walworth, 45 Ohio St. 169, 12 N. E. 1; In re Kemp, 34 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 82; Hill's Appeal, 31 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 375.

If the representative enters during a current quarter and takes the profits from an under tenant or otherwise, he is personally liable for the rent for that quarter, although it commenced before the death of the lessee. Inches v. Dickinson, 2 Allen (Mass.) 71, 79 Am. Dec. 765; Ipswich v. Martin, Cro. Jac. 411; Wollaston v. Hakewill, 3 M. & G. 297, 3 Scott N. R. 593, 42 E. C. L. 161; Buckley v. Pirk, 1 Salk. 316; Bristol v. Guyse, 1 Saund. 111; Jevens v. Harridge, 1 Saund. 1.

The representative may be relieved from personal liability if he can show an express contract on the part of the lessor to look to him as representative only, or such conduct on the part of the lessor as precludes him from enforcing personal liability. Becker v. Walworth, 45 Ohio St. 169, 12 N. E. 1.

When the lease is divested of its chattel qualities by statute the representative is not personally liable for rent. Gausen v. Moormann, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 287, 5 Ohio N. P. 254.

In Arkansas, where a decedent has hired land by contract, complete and binding at the time of his death, it is the duty of his administrator to take possession of the term as assets of his estate; and he will not be personally liable on the contract, whether or not the probate court orders him to proceed with the cultivation of the land and fulfilment of the contract. But if the contract be incomplete, and not binding at the intestate's death, and be completed by his administrator, either of his own will or by order of the probate court, the claim will be against the administrator personally and not against the estate. Yarborough v. Ward, 34 Ark. 204.

28. Fisher v. Fisher, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 335; Becker v. Walworth, 45 Ohio St. 169, 12 N. E. 1.

The representative is liable only for the real worth of the premises, and while the rent reserved by the lease is prima facie evidence of the value of the premises and the extent of the representative's liability, it is open to him to show that the estate, during the time for which he is liable, was of less value. Inches v. Dickinson, 2 Allen (Mass.) 71, 79 Am. Dec. 765; Hornidge v. Wilson, 11 A. & E. 645, 9 L. J. Q. B. 72, 3 P. & D. 641, 39 E. C. L. 347; Rubery v. Stevens, 4 B. & Ad. 241, 2 L. J. K. B. 46, 1 N. & M.

such case the lessor has an election either to look to the estate alone or to hold the representative personally liable.[29] But where the representative has not entered or held possession after the death of the lessee, he is liable for rent only in his representative capacity and not personally.[30] The goods of a deceased lessee in the hands of his administrator are not subject to distress by the lessor or his representative.[31]

8. Contracts of Decedent — a. In General. While the executor or administrator cannot as a general rule maintain an action on or perform a contract or covenant relating to real property of his decedent, since this devolves rather upon heirs or devisees,[32] he may be given ample authority by statute or the express provisions of the will under which he acts.[33] The intervention of the probate court is also frequently provided for in such matters; or equity will intervene to carry into practical effect a realty transaction beneficial to the estate.[34]

183, 24 E. C. L. 112; Hopwood v. Whaley, 6 C. B. 744, 6 D. & L. 342, 18 L. J. C. P. 43, 60 E. C. L. 744. But see Beeman's Succession, 47 La. Ann. 1355, 17 So. 820.

For that portion of the rents which exceeds the profits the representative is chargeable only as such. Fisher v. Fisher, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 335.

29. Becker v. Walworth, 45 Ohio St. 169, 12 N. E. 1.

Receipts not showing election.— The mere fact that certain receipts for rent paid by the executor acknowledged the payment of the money by him as executor does not go to show that the lessor exercised an election between the personal liability of the executor and that of the estate, where the receipts were drawn in that form at the request of the executor, so that he might use them as vouchers, and where the insolvency of the estate was not known at the time the receipts were given. Becker v. Walworth, 45 Ohio St. 169, 12 N. E. 1.

30. Inches v. Dickinson, 2 Allen (Mass.) 71, 79 Am. Dec. 765. See also Traylor v. Cabanne, 8 Mo. App. 131.

Assumpsit will lie against the representative for the rent if the decedent entered into possession under a lease containing an agreement to pay rent. Traylor v. Cabanne, 8 Mo. App. 131.

The rent provided for in the lease can be recovered and the representative, having assets, cannot defend on the ground that the yearly value is less than the rent reserved. Traylor v. Cabanne, 8 Mo. App. 131.

An action for rent of land in another state may be brought against the representative in the state in which he was appointed where the decedent had taken a lease. Traylor v. Cabanne, 8 Mo. App. 131.

31. Gandy v. Dickson, 166 Pa. St. 422, 31 Atl. 127, holding this to be so, although the lease gives the lessor a right of distress and extends the rights and liabilities of the parties to their respective "heirs, executors, administrators, successors, and assigns."

32. Alabama.— Lewis v. Moorman, 7 Port. 522. See Porter v. Worthington, 14 Ala. 584.

Louisiana.— Delassus v. Roumage, 3 La. Ann. 510.

Massachusetts.— Caverly v. Simpson, 132 Mass. 462.

Michigan.— Baxter v. Robinson, 11 Mich. 520.

New York.— Palmer v. Morrison, 104 N. Y. 132, 10 N. E. 144.

North Carolina.— Thrower v. McIntire, 20 N. C. 493, 34 Am. Dec. 382.

Wisconsin.— Carpenter v. Fopper, 94 Wis. 146, 68 N. W. 874.

United States.— McKay v. Carrington, 16 Fed. Cas. No. 8,841, 1 McLean 50.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 551, 552.

The acceptance of a deed by the administrator of a deceased vendee does not bind the estate to pay for the land. Shire v. Johnson, 38 S. W. 694, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 853.

An administrator cannot sell the interest of the estate in an executory contract for the purchase of lands, except as real estate, and after a license obtained from the court. Hovorka v. Havlik, (Nebr. 1903) 93 N. W. 990.

33. Alabama.— Seabury v. Doe, 22 Ala. 207, 58 Am. Dec. 254.

Illinois.— Burger v. Potter, 32 Ill. 66.

Michigan.— King v. Merritt, 67 Mich. 194, 34 N. W. 689.

Missouri.— Lake v. Meier, 42 Mo. 389.

Ohio.— Pollock v. Pine, 2 Ohio Cir. Ct. 359.

Pennsylvania.— Bender v. Luckenbach, 162 Pa. St. 18, 29 Atl. 295, 296; Wetherill v. Seitzinger, 4 Pittsb. Leg. J. 189.

South Carolina.— Douglass v. Dickson, 11 Rich. 417.

Washington.— Hyde v. Heller, 10 Wash. 586, 39 Pac. 249.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 551, 552.

The heirs or devisees may confer power upon the executor or administrator in such matters, at least so as to conclude their own rights. Du Bose v. Ball, 64 Ga. 350.

A devise of land held under a bond for a deed shows the testator's election to complete the purchase. Dawson v. Clay, 1 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 165.

34. Alabama.— Stewart v. Stewart, 31 Ala. 207.

Illinois.— Burger v. Potter, 32 Ill. 66.

b. Actions. The personal representative of the vendor is generally the proper party to enforce specific performance or recover purchase-money which is unpaid at the death of the vendor,[35] although if a conveyance has to be made the vendor's heirs or devisees may also be necessary parties;[36] and in some jurisdictions a person to whom a decedent had contracted to convey land may bring suit against the personal representative for specific performance.[37] Upon the refusal of a party to convey land according to an agreement made on valuable consideration with a

Michigan.— King v. Merritt, 67 Mich. 194, 34 N. W. 689.

Missouri.— Lake v. Meier, 42 Mo. 389.

United States.— Aspley v. Murphy, 52 Fed. 570, 3 C. C. A. 205.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 551, 552.

If the executor carries out the transaction he is bound to account for the purchase-money received by him. Loring v. Cunningham, 9 Cush. (Mass.) 87.

Suit by stranger to rescind decree.— The orphans' court cannot entertain a suit to rescind its decree for the specific performance of a decedent's contract for the sale of real estate, brought by a stranger to the litigation. Rafferty's Estate, 9 Phila. (Pa.) 336.

35. Connecticut.— Weed v. Peck, 38 Conn. 86.

Illinois.— Hulshizer v. Lamoreux, 58 Ill. 72.

Kentucky.— Rachford v. Rachford, (1890) 13 S. W. 1075.

Missouri.— Scott v. Davis, 141 Mo. 213, 42 S. W. 714.

Nebraska.— Solt v. Anderson, (1903) 93 N. W. 205.

New Jersey.— Miller v. Miller, 25 N. J. Eq. 354.

New York.— Wheeler v. Crosby, 20 Hun 140.

Pennsylvania.— Simmons' Estate, 140 Pa. St. 567, 21 Atl. 402; West Hickory Min. Assoc. v. Reed, 80 Pa. St. 38.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 553.

Notice to widow and heirs not necessary.— Simmons' Estate, 140 Pa. St. 561, 21 Atl. 402; West Hickory Min. Assoc. v. Reed, 80 Pa. St. 38. See also Sutter v. Ling, 25 Pa. St. 466.

36. Scott v. Davis, 141 Mo. 213, 42 S. W. 714.

Where the property was a homestead the heirs should be made parties, and the decree should provide that they and not the personal representative recover the purchase-money. Solt v. Anderson, (Nebr. 1903) 93 N. W. 205.

Where last payment due on delivery of deed.— Where the vendees have paid all that can be required of them before the giving of a deed for the land, and the heirs of the vendor will not give the necessary deed, the administrator of the vendor may bring a suit against the vendee and the heirs for specific performance; and under such circumstances the tender of a deed is not a prerequisite to the bringing of the action. Wheeler v. Crosby, 20 Hun (N. Y.) 140.

37. Iowa.— Collins v. Vandever, 1 Iowa 573; Fulwider v. Peterkin, 2 Greene 522.

Minnesota.— In re Mousseau, 40 Minn. 236, 41 N. W. 977.

Missouri.— Ferguson v. Bell, 17 Mo. 347.

North Carolina.— Orr v. Irwin, 4 N. C. 351.

Ohio.— See Pollock v. Pine, 2 Ohio Cir. Ct. 359, 5 Ohio Cir. Dec. 695.

Texas.— Walker v. Myers, 36 Tex. 203; Buchanan v. Park, (Civ. App. 1896) 36 S. W. 807.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 553.

Land in another state.— A bill in equity will lie to compel executors to convey lands in another state under contract entered into by their decedent, if defendants be within the jurisdiction of the court. Orr v. Irwin, 4 N. C. 351.

Heirs not necessary parties.— Fulwider v. Peterkin, 2 Greene (Iowa) 522.

Notice to the heirs is necessary and service of the notice on resident heirs must be personal and on non-resident heirs by publication. Grudds v. Steele, 15 B. Mon. (Ky.) 570.

The petition should disclose that decedent was the owner of the land at the time of his death. Driver v. Hudspeth, 16 Ala. 348.

The petition must be verified by the affidavit of the petitioner under the Missouri statute; without such affidavit the probate court acquires no jurisdiction to make the order prayed for. Baldwin v. Whitcomb, 71 Mo. 651.

Proof of consideration necessary.— Lindsay v. Coble, 37 N. C. 602.

Where a suit is brought against the heirs of the deceased vendor for specific performance, the personal representative is a necessary party. Muldrow v. Muldrow, 2 Dana (Ky.) 386; Massie v. Donaldson, 8 Ohio 377.

Validity of order.—Under a statute providing that the vendee of a decedent, in a suit against the administrator for a conveyance, must file his complaint in writing, that the court must find that the sale was legally made, and that the order must be for title in conformity with the tenor of the bond for conveyance, an order of the probate court, in a suit by a vendee against an administrator, to execute titles to all lands for which the estate stands bound is a nullity, as it is not made on consideration of the matters presented in the particular cause, but extends to all obligations of the deceased to convey. Jones v. Taylor, 7 Tex. 240, 56 Am. Dec. 48.

Agreement of executor to sell at reduced price.— An agreement by the executor to sell for a less price than that fixed in the contract decedent, the personal representative cannot as a rule proceed to compel specific performance,[38] although he may sometimes bring an action to recover the purchase-price[39] or damages for the breach of contract.[40] The vendor of land to a decedent who has not complied with the terms of sale has been held entitled to enforce specific performance against the vendee's personal representative.[41] In some states the probate court has been given jurisdiction over the specific enforcement of contracts of a decedent relative to real estate,[42] and authorized to empower the personal representative to fulfil a contract to convey real estate made by his decedent in his lifetime,[43] but it cannot compel him to do so unless with his decedent is unauthorized and will not be enforced against the estate, even though he was given power by the will to sell the real estate, giving deeds and doing all lawful acts which the testator might do if living. Pollock v. Pine, 2 Ohio Cir. Ct. 359, 5 Ohio Cir. Dec. 695.

38. McKay v. Broad, 70 Ala. 377 (holding that an administrator cannot join with an heir to compel the conveyance of land purchased and paid for by the decedent); Cowan v. Hite, 2 A. K. Marsh. (Ky.) 238; Buck v. Buck, 11 Paige (N. Y.) 170 (holding that where testator dies before the performance of the contract to convey lands to him, his executors, although directed by the will to take all just and proper means to insure a conveyance of the land to the devisees, cannot sue to compel such conveyance). But compare Dougherty v. Goggin, 1 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 373; Godfrey v. Dwinell, 40 Me. 94. And see Estes v. Browning, 11 Tex. 237, 60 Am. Dec. 238. See supra, III, C, 10.

Suit by representative who has refused to complete contract.— Where an administrator has bona fide refused to complete an executory contract of the intestate to purchase land, on which a part of the purchase-money has been paid, he may afterward avoid the consequences of his refusal by praying a specific performance. Estes v. Browning, 11 Tex. 237, 60 Am. Dec. 238.

Allowance of claim for purchase-money.— In an action to enforce decedent's contract to purchase land, where the tender of a deed is necessary before the vendor has an absolute right to the purchase-money, the county court may allow a claim for such money against the estate of the purchaser, and direct it to be paid on condition that such deed be executed and tendered. Gale v. Best, 20 Wis. 44.

39. Dougherty v. Goggan, 1 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 373. See also Wise v. Walker, 7 Pa. Cas. 87, 10 Atl. 28, holding, however, that the heirs are necessary parties.

40. Godfrey v. Dwinell, 40 Me. 94.

Rescinding election of decedent.— Where, in an action for specific enforcement of a contract to assign a bond for a deed, defendant placed it out of the power of plaintiff to obtain title to a portion of the land, and he elected to accept such as could be conveyed, with damages for the loss of the remainder, but died before final decree, his executors, being substituted, might by leave of court withdraw such election and elect to take compensation in damages for the loss of all the land embraced in the contract. Pingree v. Coffin, 12 Gray (Mass.) 288.

41. See Corkin v. Blake, 4 Phila. (Pa.) 10, holding that where a vendee paid a part of the price and agreed to secure the balance by bond and mortgage on the land, but died before executing the mortgage, the vendor could maintain a bill in equity against the vendee's administrator to compel specific performance of the contract to execute the mortgage.

42. Mousseau v. Mousseau, 40 Minn. 236, 41 N. W. 977; Baldwin v. Whitcomb, 71 Mo. 651; Ferguson v. Bell, 17 Mo. 347; West Hickory Min. Assoc. v. Reed, 80 Pa. St. 38; Buchanan v. Park, (Tex. Civ. App. 1896) 36 S. W. 807. See also In re Huggins, 204 Pa. St. 167, 53 Atl. 746.

In Texas, prior to the act of Feb. 2, 1844, the probate courts had no jurisdiction in cases for specific performance of contract. Houston v. Killough, 80 Tex. 296, 16 S. W. 56; Hooper v. Hall, 30 Tex. 154; McCarty v. Merry, (Civ. App. 1900) 59 S. W. 304.

The power of the legislature over the succession and conveyance of land being plenary, it may provide that a court of probate shall have jurisdiction to require an executor or administrator to convey land in pursuance of the written contract or bond of his decedent. Adams v. Lewis, 1 Fed. Cas. No. 60, 5 Sawy. 229.

An adversary proceeding is contemplated by the Texas statute and the probate court has no jurisdiction to decree specific performance of a contract of a decedent to convey land in an ex parte proceeding, on petition of the administrator for authority to convey to which the holder of the contract is not a party. Buchanan v. Parks, (Tex. Civ. App. 1896) 36 S. W. 807.

Procedure on denying relief.— Where the court is not satisfied that it ought to direct the representative to execute a conveyance pursuant to his decedent's contract to convey real estate, it cannot decide against the applicant on the merits, but must dismiss the petition, leaving him to his ordinary remedy by action. Mousseau v. Mousseau, 40 Minn. 236, 41 N. W. 977.

43. Weed v. Peck, 38 Conn. 86; Bates v. Sargent, 51 Me. 423. See also Collins v. Vandever, 1 Iowa 573; Wythe v. Palmer, 30 Fed. Cas. No. 18,120, 3 Sawy. 412; and infra, VIII, O, 8, c.

A petition for authority to convey land according to a contract of sale by the decedent the contract of the decedent was in writing,[44] and the other party has complied with its conditions.[45]

c. Conveyance. Ordinarily the executor or administrator has no power to execute conveyances in accordance with bonds for title or other executory contracts or covenants on the part of his decedent, this duty devolving rather upon the heir or devisee;[46] but such authority may be conferred by the will[47] or by statute.[48] A deed to an administrator in pursuance of a contract with the intestate relates back to the time of the death so far as regards the capacity of the heirs to take.[49]

d. Rescission or Revival. An executor or administrator has ordinarily no authority as such to waive or rescind a contract or covenant for the sale or purchase of land made by his decedent,[50] although such a power may be exercised pursuant to an order of the probate court where the personal property is insuffi-need not set out such contract in terms; it is sufficient if the substance be stated. Carter v. Jackson, 56 N. H. 364.

Notice to persons interested necessary.— Nazro v. Long, 179 Mass. 451, 61 N. E. 43.

44. Alabama.—Griggs v. Woodruff, 14 Ala. 9. See also Wilkerson v. Vinson, 20 Ala. 131.

California.— Cory v. Hyde, 49 Cal. 469.

Georgia.— Ford v. Holmes, 61 Ga. 419, bond for title necessary.

Maine.— Bates v. Sargent, 51 Me. 423.

Missouri.— Schulter v. Bockwinkle, 19 Mo. 647.

Pennsylvania.— Lindsay's Petition, 2 Del. Co. 197.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 553.

Petition must state that contract was in writing. Cory v. Hyde, 49 Cal. 469.

45. Ford v. Holmes, 61 Ga. 419.

Where the vendee has defaulted in the contract the probate judge cannot empower the administrator to execute the deed, but if the vendee makes payments after the breach he can enforce his rights arising thereunder only by a bill in equity. Bates v. Sargent, 51 Me. 423.

46. Grimmell v. Warne, 21 Iowa 11.

Administrator need not join in deed given by heirs.—Gates v. McWilliams, 6 Dana (Ky.) 42.

The executor may deliver a deed executed by the testator in his lifetime upon the vendee's compliance with his part of the contract at the time stipulated. Loring v. Cunningham, 9 Cush. (Mass.) 87. But compare Karmane v. Hoober, 3 Watts & S. (Pa.) 253.

Deed prepared by decedent.— Where a deed expressing an unequivocal declaration of trust had been prepared but not executed by a decedent and was found among his papers indorsed to be delivered to certain named beneficiaries when desired, the executor was ordered to execute the deed. Raybold v. Raybold, 1 Phila. (Pa.) 369.

47. Hite v. Shrader, 3 Litt. (Ky.) 444; Rearich v. Swinehart, 11 Pa. St. 233, 51 Am. Dec. 540.

Effect of deed.—Where executors are vested by will with the naked power to execute a deed, in compliance with contracts to convey entered into by the testator, and a deed is executed by them, the recital in the deed of the contract is insufficient, where the grantee seeks to assert title under it without proof of such contract. Hite v. Shrader, 3 Litt. (Ky.) 444.

48. Chance v. Beall, 20 Ga. 142 (holding a statute authorizing the representative to make title permissive only and not imperative); Hodges v. Hodges, 22 N. C. 72; Bartlett v. Watson, 3 Sneed (Tenn.) 287. See supra, VIII, O, 8, c.

Statute held to apply only to sale for valuable consideration.— Hodges v. Hodges, 22 N. C. 72.

An administrator pendente lite may make a deed in execution of the contract of a decedent for the sale of lands, according to the Pennsylvania act of March 21, 1792. Park v. Marshall, 4 Watts (Pa.) 382.

Existence of bond for title must be established. Bartlett v. Watson, 3 Sneed (Tenn.) 287.

49. Blythe v. Easterling, 20 Tex. 565.

50. Ward v. Grayson, 9 Dana (Ky.) 280; Hunt v. Thorn, 2 Mich. 213; Owens v. Phelps, 92 N. C. 231; Cotham v. Britt, 10 Heisk. (Tenn.) 469; Wilkins v. Frierson, 2 Sneed (Tenn.) 701. Contra, Pennock v. Freeman, 1 Watts (Pa.) 401; Hilliard's Estate, 8 Luz. Leg. Reg. (Pa.) 237. And see Rice v. Spotswood, 6 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 40, 17 Am. Dec. 115; McMillan v. Reeves, 102 N. C. 550, 9 S. E. 449.

An administrator's consent to a decree of rescission in a suit brought against him and the heirs of his intestate to have a purchase of land by the intestate rescinded cannot divest the interest of the heirs; nor is such a decree authorized by the additional fact that the unpaid balance of purchase-money, together with other debts of the estate, will render it insolvent. Matthews v. Dowling, 54 Ala. 202.

Effect of lapse of time.— Where the administrator of a vendee of real estate in good faith, and when it might reasonably be considered for the interest of the heirs of the vendee to do so, rescinds an executory contract with the vendor, a court of equity will not after the lapse of many years disturb the contract of rescission on the application of the heirs. Ludlow v. Cooper, 4 Ohio St. 1.

cient to pay the debts;[51] and in some jurisdictions the probate court has, under statute, power to order the rescission of such a contract under other circumstances.[52] Where a vendee has rightfully abandoned a contract for the conveyance of land, having the right to rescind, such contract is at an end, and cannot be revived by the action of his administrator in treating it as still in force.[53]

9. Sale[54] — a. In General. In the absence of some power contained in the will, or of authority derived from statute or an order of court, neither an executor nor an administrator has any power whatever to sell the real estate of his decedent,[55] and consequently a contract of sale entered into by the representative is not binding upon and cannot be enforced against the estate.[56]

b. Special Acts. From time to time the various state legislatures have passed

51. Hunt v. Thorn, 2 Mich. 213.

52. See Hamner v. Holmes, 12 Kan. 526.

Ex parte order.— An order of the probate court authorizing an administrator on his ex parte petition to relinquish land belonging to the estate of his decedent to the vendor thereof upon the latter's surrender of the notes given for the purchase-money does not operate to divest the title of the estate and vest it in the vendor, since it is not binding upon him. Bender v. Bean, 52 Ark. 132, 12 S. W. 180, 241.

53. Todd v. Caldwell, 10 Tex. 236.

54. Sales under order of court see infra, XII.

55. Alabama.— Woods v. Legg, 91 Ala. 511, 8 So. 342; Hall v. Hall, 47 Ala. 290.

Arkansas.—Burgauer v. Laird, 26 Ark. 256.

Georgia.— See Beaty v. Stapleton, 110 Ga. 580, 35 S. E. 770.

Indiana.— Moore v. Moore, 155 Ind. 261, 57 N. E. 242; Duncan v. Gainey, 108 Ind. 579, 9 N. E. 470; Kidwell v. Kidwell, 84 Ind. 224; Hankins v. Kimball, 57 Ind. 42; Edwards v. Haverstick, 47 Ind. 138; Ward v. Crane, 3 Blackf. 393.

Kentucky.—Buckner v. Cromie, 5 Bush 603.

Louisiana.—Townsend v. Sykes, 38 La. Ann. 859.

Maryland.— Carroll v. Andrews, 4 Harr. & M. 485.

Massachusetts.—Drinkwater v. Drinkwater, 4 Mass. 354.

Mississippi.— Hargrove v. Baskin, 50 Miss. 194; Adams v. Harris, 47 Miss. 144; Chew v. Calvert, Walk. 54, Spanish law.

New Hampshire.— Ticknor v. Harris, 14 N. H. 272, 40 Am. Dec. 186.

New York.— Bridgewater v. Brookfield, 3 Cow. 299; Craig v. Craig, 3 Barb. Ch. 76. See also Guthmann v. Meuer, 31 Misc. 810, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 971.

North Carolina.— Gay v. Grant, 101 N. C. 206, 8 S. E. 99, 106.

Ohio.— Ludlow v. Johnston, 3 Ohio 553, 17 Am. Dec. 609. See also Paine v. Skinner, 8 Ohio 159.

Pennsylvania.— Wildemuth v. Long, 196 Pa. St. 541, 46 Atl. 927; Karns v. Tanner, 74 Pa. St. 339. See also Gumaer v. Barber, 2 Lack. Leg. N. 237.

South Carolina.— Perry v. Brown, 1 Bailey 45.

Texas.— Bartley v. Harris, 70 Tex. 181, 7 S. W. 797; Ball v. Collins, (Sup. 1887) 5 S. W. 622; Williams v. San Saba County, 59 Tex. 442. See also Grimes v. Smith, 70 Tex. 217, 8 S. W. 33.

Washington.—Demaris v. Barker, 33 Wash. 200, 74 Pac. 362.

United States.— Rafferty v. Mallory, 20 Fed. Cas. No. 11,526, 3 Biss. 362.

England.— Bentham v. Wiltshire, 4 Madd. 44, 20 Rev. Rep. 271.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 558.

Land of an alien decedent is subject to and protected by the same rule. Mobile Cong. Church v. Morris, 8 Ala. 182.

An unauthorized conveyance may be enjoined at the suit of the devisees. McClane v. McClane, 207 Pa. St. 465, 56 Atl. 996.

Person dealing with administrator bound to take notice of disability to sell.— Rafferty v. Mallory, 20 Fed. Cas. No. 11,526, 3 Biss. 362.

Executors who are sole residuary devisees and legatees and give bond as such for the payment of debts and legacies acquire absolute title to the land and may sell without a license of the probate court. Clarke v. Tufts, 5 Pick. (Mass.) 337; Thompson v. Brown, 16 Mass. 172. And see Wells v. Wells, 30 La. Ann. 935.

Status of purchaser.— Although a sale by an administrator is void because made without an order of court for that purpose, yet the purchaser who goes into possession by consent of the administrator is not a trespasser, nor is he wrongfully in possession, and hence he cannot be subjected to a suit unless he has refused to surrender possession upon demand. Burgauer v. Laird, 26 Ark. 256. Although a contract of sale from an executrix was not authorized or ratified by the probate court, yet where the executrix was the sole residuary legatee of the estate, and, at the time of her agreement to sell the land, the time for claims against the estate had expired, and all debts and legacies had been paid, leaving in her hands more than sufficient to close the administration, and the executrix had thus become the sole beneficial owner of the land, the contract of sale is binding on her personally and the purchaser must be regarded in equity as the real owner of the land. Moffitt v. Rosencrans, 136 Cal. 416, 69 Pac. 87.

56. Logan v. Gigley, 9 Ga. 114 (bond of administrator to convey given in contemplation of sale under order of court); Bridgewater v. Brookfield, 3 Cow. (N. Y.) 229 (contract by administrator to sell upon obtaining special or private acts authorizing or confirming in particular cases the sale of a decedent's real estate by his personal representative,[57] but, while there are decisions upholding such acts,[58] they have been frequently declared void as involving unauthorized usurpation by the legislature of judicial functions,[59] or on other constitutional grounds.[60]

c. Liability For Unauthorized Sale. Executors who sell without authority in the will or an order of court are bound to show the necessity of the sale and to account for the value of the property, whether such value was realized at the sale or not.[61]

d. Sale Under Testamentary Authority — (i) Power to Sell — (a) In General. A testator may of course by his will give to his executor power to sell his realty,[62] and when such power is given the executor may proceed to sell the order granting leave); Litterall v. Jackson, 80 Va. 604.

Personal liability.— A contract of executors, not in pursuance of their official duty, to sell and convey with a clear and satisfactory title land of the testator's estate, the title to which is in the heir, subject to payment of the testator's debts and legacies and the charges of administration, is not necessarily void, but binds them individually. Dresel v. Jordan, 104 Mass. 107.

Contract of widow and heirs.— Where a contract for the sale of the land of a decedent is entered into by the widow and heirs, there is no such mutuality of obligation between the administrator and the vendee as will entitle the administrator to enforce the contract. Phillips v. Van Schaick, 37 Iowa 229.

57. As to such acts and their construction and effect see the following cases:

Alabama.— Holman v. Norfolk Bank, 12 Ala. 369.

Connecticut.—Manwaring v. Dishon, 1 Root 478.

Illinois.— Davenport v. Young, 16 Ill. 548, 63 Am. Dec. 320; Doe v. Herbert, 1 Ill. 354, 12 Am. Dec. 192.

Michigan.— King v. Merritt, 67 Mich. 194. 34 N. W. 689; Browning v. Howard, 19 Mich. 323.

Mississippi.— Williamson v. Williamson, 3 Sm. & M. 715, 41 Am. Dec. 636.

Missouri.—Gannett v. Leonard, 47 Mo. 205.

Virginia.— Corbell v. Zeluff, 12 Gratt. 226.

United States.— Florentine v. Barton, 2 Wall. 210, 17 L. ed. 782; Leland v. Wilkinson, 10 Pet. 294, 9 L. ed. 430; Dubois v. McLean, 7 Fed. Cas. No. 4,107, 4 McLean 486.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 559.

58. Lane v. Nelson, 79 Pa. St. 407; Leland v. Wilkinson, 10 Pet. (U. S.) 294, 9 L. ed. 430.

In Missouri, prior to the constitution of 1865, such acts were within the power of the legislature. Clusky v. Burns, 120 Mo. 567, 25 S. W. 585; Cargile v. Fernald, 63 Mo. 304.

59. Pryor v. Downey, 50 Cal. 388, 19 Am. Rep. 656; Rozier v. Fagan, 46 Ill. 404; Lane v. Doe, 4 Ill. 238, 36 Am. Dec. 543. See also Jones v. Perry, 10 Yerg. (Tenn.) 59, 30 Am. Dec. 430.

60. Pryor v. Downey, 50 Cal. 388, 19 Am. Rep. 656; Brenham v. Story, 39 Cal. 179; Hegarty's Appeal, 75 Pa. St. 503; Culbertson v. Coleman, 47 Wis. 193, 2 N. W. 124.

61. Wellborn v. Rogers, 24 Ga. 558.

Executor chargeable only with value of property and interest.— Wright v. Wright, 2 McCord Eq. (S. C.) 185.

62. Alabama.— See Walker v. Murphy, 34 Ala. 591.

California.— Sharp v. Loupe, 120 Cal. 89, 52 Pac. 134, 586.

Delaware.— In re Journey, 7 Del. Ch. 1, 44 Atl. 795.

District of Columbia.— Rathbone v. Hamilton, 4 App. Cas. 475.

Florida.— See Simmons v. Spratt, 26 Fla. 449, 8 So. 123, 9 L. R. A. 343.

Georgia.—Harwell v. Foster, 102 Ga. 38, 28 S. E. 967.

Illinois.— Mulligan v. Lambe, 178 Ill. 130, 52 N. E. 1052; Penn v. Fogler, 77 Ill. App. 365.

Kentucky.— See Waller v. Logan, 5 B. Mon. 515.

Maine.—See Chadbourne v. Rackliff, 30 Me. 354.

Maryland.— Magruder v. Peter, 11 Gill & J. 217.

Massachusetts.— See Allen v. Dean, 148 Mass. 594, 20 N. E. 314; Greenough v. Wells, 10 Cush. 571; Fay v. Fay, 1 Cush. 93.

Mississippi.— See Cohea v. Jemison, 68 Miss. 510, 10 So. 46.

Nebraska.— Arlington State Bank v. Paulsen, 57 Nebr. 717, 78 N. W. 303.

New Jersey.— See Lindley v. O'Reilly, 50 N. J. L. 636, 15 Atl. 379, 7 Am. St. Rep. 802, 1 L. R. A. 79.

New York.— Matter of Hosford, 27 N. Y. App. Div. 427, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 550; Carpenter v. Bonner, 26 N. Y. App. Div. 462, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 298; Clifford v. Morrell, 22 N. Y. App. Div. 470, 48 N. Y. Suppl. 83; Simmons v. Taylor, 19 N. Y. App. Div. 499, 46 N. Y. Suppl. 730; Campbell v. Jennings, 22 Misc. 406, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 278; Frost v. Frost, 4 Edw. 733. See also Jackson v. Burr, 9 Johns. 104.

North Carolina.— Johnson v. Johnson, 108 N. C. 619, 13 S. E. 183; Floyd v. Herring, 64 N. C. 409. See also Beam v. Jennings, 89 N. C. 451; Den v. Proctor, 19 N. C. 439.

Ohio.— Pollock v. Pine, 2 Ohio Cir. Ct. 359, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 529.

realty without recourse to the courts for a license,[63] although it has been said that an executor derives his power to act as such in the transfer of immovable property from a compliance with the law of the place where he attempts to operate under the will and not from the will alone,[64] and the executor must take Pennsylvania.— Tarrance v. Reuther, 185 Pa. St. 279, 39 Atl. 956; Tinney's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 765.

Tennessee.— Fitzgerald v. Standish, 102 Tenn. 383, 52 S. W. 294; Moore v. Bedford, (Ch. App. 1900) 56 S. W. 1038; Lockhart v. Northington, 1 Sneed 318.

United States.— See Beadle v. Beadle, 40 Fed. 315, 2 McCrary 586; Lindenberger v. Matlock, 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,360, 4 Wash. 278.

England.— Monsell v. Armstrong, L. R. 14 Eq. 423, 41 L. J. Ch. 715, 20 Wkly. Rep. 921; In re Clay, 16 Ch. D. 3, 43 L. T. Rep. N. S. 402, 29 Wkly. Rep. 5; Forbes v. Peacock, 12 L. J. Exch. 460, 11 M. & W. 630; Bentham v. Wiltshire, 4 Madd. 44, 20 Rev. Rep. 271.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 560, 561.

Probate court may construe power. Ogle v. Reynolds, 75 Md. 145, 23 Atl. 137.

The law of the testator's domicile governs in the construction of such a power rather than that of the state where the land is situated. Crusoe v. Butler, 36 Miss. 150.

The executor's right to sell is superior to the right of partition vested in the purchaser of an undivided interest from a devisee. Hatt v. Rich, 59 N. J. Eq. 492, 45 Atl. 969.

Power not limited because not coupled with interest.— Jones v. Lewis, 8 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 368, 7 Cinc. L. Bul. 211.

The death of the sole beneficiary under a will before the executor has sold property of the estate to pay the debts, as directed by the will, does not deprive the executor of that power. McCown v. Terrell, 9 Tex. Civ. App. 66, 29 S. W. 484.

Power not affected by pendency of suit by creditor for settlement of estate.— Mersman v. Worthington, 72 S. W. 1094, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 2115.

Burden of proof as to power.— One who asserts a title to real estate based upon a purchase from executors must show that a power of sale was conferred on the executors by the will. Banks v. Johnson, 4 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 649.

Settlement of controversy between heirs.— Where a testator's will provided that his executors should have full power to sell, etc., and do everything for the benefit of the estate for the period of ten years, and a subsequent settlement of controversies between the heirs provided that such settlement should not preclude the executors from administering the estate to pay debts as soon as practicable, and that their power to sell was continued until provision for the payment of testator's debts had been made, the executors had full power to sell testator's real estate to pay debts. Mersman v. Worthington, 72 S. W. 1094, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 2115.

When power inoperative.— Where testator directs realty to be sold by his executor and the proceeds to be divided, if the devisees elect to take the same as realty, and retain it without conversion, the executor cannot sell. Trask v. Sturges, 170 N. Y. 482, 63 N. E. 534 [reversing 56 N. Y. App. Div. 625, 68 N. Y. Suppl. 1149]; Reeser's Estate, 4 Pa. Co. Ct. 417.

Where validity of alleged will in controversy.— An injunction against the sale of land is properly granted on motion of the heirs of a decedent, where the land has been advertised under a power contained in an instrument purporting to be a will, which has been admitted to probate without notice to the heirs and upon insufficient testimony, and the validity of which is in controversy. Galbreath v. Everett, 84 N. C. 546.

63. California.— In re Durham, 49 Cal. 490; In re Delaney, 49 Cal. 76; Larco v. Casaneuava, 30 Cal. 560; Payne v. Payne, 18 Cal. 291.

Maryland.— Brooks v. Bergner, 83 Md. 352, 35 Atl. 98. See also Magruder v. Peter, 11 Gill & J. 217.

Michigan.— Battelle v. Parks, 2 Mich. 531.

Missouri.— Wisker v. Rische, 167 Mo. 522, 67 S. W. 218.

Ohio.— In re Crawford, 21 Ohio Cir. Ct. 554, 11 Ohio Cir. Dec. 605; Wanzer v. Widow, 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 323, 2 West. L. Month. 426.

Pennsylvania.— See Tinney's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 765.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 560.

Bond.—A statute requiring persons licensed by the probate court to give bond before proceeding to make sales of real estate does not apply to an executor who makes a sale of real estate in execution of the power vested in him by the will. Bradt v. Hodgdon, 94 Me. 559, 48 Atl. 179.

Interposition of claim by third persons.— The Georgia statute with reference to the interposition of claims by third persons to arrest the sale of land by executors or administrators limits the right to cases where the sale is proceeding under an order of court or where proceedings are being taken in court for legal authority to make a sale and does not apply in case of a sale by an executor under power contained in the will. Harwell v. Foster, 102 Ga. 38, 28 S. E. 967.

Creditors of an estate by account have no right to enjoin the executrix from selling the real estate in the due course of administration, because she is insolvent, and twelve months have not elapsed since the grant of letters of administration, and because they fear that if she receives the proceeds they will lose their claims, no waste or mismanagement, or attempt thereat, being alleged. Elam v. Elam, 72 Ga. 162.

64. Lucas v. Tucker, 17 Ind. 41.

out letters testamentary in order to lawfully exercise the power which the testator has thus conferred upon him.[65]

(B) Implied Power. It is not necessary that the power to sell should be expressly given in terms by the will, but it may be implied[66] when it is clear that the testator intended that his executor should have such power or the directions of the will are such that a power of sale is necessary in order that they may be properly carried out;[67] but the courts will not put a strained construction upon

65. In re Crawford, 21 Ohio Cir. Ct. 554, 11 Ohio Cir. Dec. 605.

66. New Jersey.— See Jones v. Jones, 13 N. J. Eq. 236.

New York.— Matter of Hesdra, 20 N. Y. Suppl. 79, 2 Connoly Surr. 514.

Pennsylvania.— Gray v. Henderson, 71 Pa. St. 368.

Tennessee.— Cowan v. Cowan, (Ch. App. 1899) 53 S. W. 1101.

England.— Gosling v. Carter, 1 Coll. 644, 9 Jur. 324, 14 L. J. Ch. 218, 28 Eng. Ch. 644; Greville v. Browne, 7 H. L. Cas. 689, 5 Jur. N. S. 849, 7 Wkly. Rep. 673, 11 Eng. Reprint 275; Mather v. Norton, 16 Jur. 309, 21 L. J. Ch. 15; Bench v. Biles, 4 Madd. 187, 20 Rev. Rep. 292; Bentham v. Wiltshire, 4 Madd. 44, 20 Rev. Rep. 271.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 562.

67. Illinois.— Stoff v. McGinn, 178 Ill. 46, 52 N. E. 1048.

Louisiana.— Hart v. Schmidt, 6 La. 167.

Massachusetts.— Going v. Emery, 16 Pick. 107, 26 Am. Dec. 645.

New Jersey.— Haggerty v. Lanterman, 30 N. J. Eq. 37; Cook v. Cook, (Ch. 1900) 47 Atl. 732.

New York.— Corse v. Chapman, 153 N. Y. 466, 47 N. E. 812 [affirming 36 N. Y. Suppl. 1124]; Cahill v. Russell, 140 N. Y. 402, 35 N. E. 664; Meehan v. Brennan, 16 N. Y. App. Div. 395, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 57; Siefke v. Siefke, 34 Misc. 77, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 514. See also Salmon v. Salmon, 24 Misc. 416, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 648.

Texas.— Carlton v. Goebler, 94 Tex. 93, 58 S. W. 829.

West Virginia.— Dearing v. Selvey, 50 W. Va. 4, 40 S. E. 478.

England.— Elton v. Harrison, 2 Swanst. 276, 36 Eng. Reprint 621.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 562.

A power of sale will be implied where a testator has devised all his property, of whatever kind, to executors, in trust "to hold and invest" as might seem best, and certain amounts "to be paid from time to time" to beneficiaries, since the use of terms applicable to personalty particularly and exclusively indicates that all the property is to be converted into personalty. Cook v. Cook, (N. J. Ch. 1900) 47 Atl. 732. Where a will authorizes the executor to invest, manage, and control the estate according to his best judgment, in order to combine safety and productiveness, the executor is authorized to contract for the sale of unproductive real estate. Sargent v. Sibley, 8 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 434, 8 Cinc. L. Bul. 6. Where a testator, by his will, gives his executors power to do any and everything with his property that he could have done during his life, the executors have power to execute a deed confirming a deed given by their testator, but lost before registration. Coal Creek Consol. Coal Co. v. East Tennessee Iron, etc., Co., 105 Tenn. 563, 59 S. W. 634. Where a will directs payment of all the testator's just debts and funeral expenses and devises "all the rest, residue, and remainder" of the estate to the executor, in trust, etc., the executor has an implied power of sale for the purpose of paying the debts. Coogan v. Ockershausen, 55 N. Y. Super. Ct. 286, 18 N. Y. St. 366. A power of sale may also be implied from a power to manage the estate to the best advantage for the benefit of creditors. Carlton v. Goebler, 94 Tex. 93, 58 S. W. 829.

A charge of debts on the realty is considered in England to give the executor an implied power of sale. Bateman v. Bateman, 1 Atk. 421, 26 Eng. Reprint 268; Blatch v. Wilder, 1 Atk. 420, 26 Eng. Reprint 267; Cook v. Dawson, 29 Beav. 123, 7 Jur. N. S. 130, 30 L. J. Ch. 311, 3 L. T. Rep. N. S. 801, 9 Wkly. Rep. 305 [affirmed in 3 De G. F. & J. 127, 30 L. J. Ch. 359, 4 L. T. Rep. N. S. 226, 9 Wkly. Rep. 434, 64 Eng. Ch. 100, 45 Eng. Reprint 826]; Wrigley v. Sykes, 21 Beav. 337, 2 Jur. N. S. 78, 25 L. J. Ch. 458, 4 Wkly. Rep. 228; Robinson v. Lowater, 5 De G. M. & G. 272, 18 Jur. 363, 23 L. J. Ch. 641, 2 Wkly. Rep. 394, 54 Eng. Ch. 215, 43 Eng. Reprint 875; Colyer v. Finch, 5 H. L. Cas. 905, 3 Jur. N. S. 25, 26 L. J. Ch. 65, 10 Eng. Reprint 1159 (holding that where there is a general charge of debts, but no legal estate is given, the executors may have implied authority to convey the legal estate in order to raise the money to satisfy the charge; but where there is a devise of the legal estate to a particular person, and the estate is charged with payment of debts or legacies, the money must be raised through the instrumentality of the devisee, and he is the only person who can make legal title); Ball v. Harris, 3 Jur. 140, 8 L. J. Ch. 114, 4 Myl. & C. 264, 18 Eng. Ch. 264 [affirming 1 Jur. 706, 8 Sim. 485, 8 Eng. Ch. 485]. Contra, Doe v. Hughes, 6 Exch. 223, 20 L. J. Exch. 148. In the United States, however, a power to sell lands will not be implied from a charge of debts thereon. Snedeker v. Allen, 2 N. J. L. 35; In re Fox, 52 N. Y. 530, 11 Am. Rep. 751 [affirming 63 Barb. 157].

A charge of legacies on land devised beneficially does not give the executor an implied power to sell the same. Snedeker v. Allen, 2 N. J. L. 35; In re Rebbeck, 63 L. J. Ch. 596, 71 L. T. Rep. N. S. 741, 8 Reports 376, 42 the language of the will in order to extract such a power from it when the testator's intention to give or the necessity for such a power is not clear.[68]

(c) General or Limited Power. Where executors are given a general power of sale they may sell at their discretion, as prudence may dictate, during the continuance of the trust, and are not limited to a sale for purposes of administration,[69] although they must not act arbitrarily or capriciously in the matter,[70] while if the power is limited it can be exercised only under the circumstances, for the purposes, and in the manner provided for or contemplated in the will.[71] The power

Wkly. Rep. 473. See also Rambo v. Rumer, 4 Del. Ch. 9.

68. Alabama.— Williams v. Williams, 49 Ala. 439.

California.— Hill v. Den, 54 Cal. 6.

Illinois.— Poulter v. Poulter, 193 Ill. 641, 61 N. E. 1056.

New Jersey.— Chandler v. Thompson, 63 N. J. Eq. 723, 48 Atl. 583; Smalley v. Smalley, 54 N. J. Eq. 591, 35 Atl. 374.

New York.— Murdock v. Kelly, 62 N. Y. App. Div. 562, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 152.

Pennsylvania.— Clark v. Riddle, 11 Serg. & R. 311; Waddington's Estate, 7 Pa. Dist. 499.

United States.— See Dunlap v. Pyle, 8 Fed. Cas. No. 4,163, 5 McLean 322.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 562.

69. Busch v. Rapp, 63 S. W. 479, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 605; Hatt v. Rich, 59 N. J. Eq. 492, 45 Atl. 969; Matter of Ryder, 41 N. Y. App. Div. 247, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 635. See also Walter v. Tomkins, 71 N. Y. App. Div. 21, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 557.

Sale must be in usual course of administration. Clark v. Clark, 172 Ill. 355, 50 N. E. 101.

Testamentary provisions giving general power of sale see Walter v. Tomkins, 71 N. Y. App. Div. 21, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 557; McCready v. Metropolitan L. Ins. Co., 83 Hun 526, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 489; Manier v. Phelps, 15 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 123.

An executor may sell to pay debts and legacies where the will empowers him to sell the real estate, but expresses no object for the sale thereof and does not charge the payment of legacies therefrom. Wardwell v. McDowell, 31 Ill. 364.

70. Thomas v. Atty.-Gen., 2 Y. & C. Exch. 525.

71. Colorado.— Cowell v. South Denver Real Estate Co., 16 Colo. App. 108, 63 Pac. 991.

Illinois.—McFarland v. McFarland, 177 Ill. 208, 52 N. E. 281.

Michigan.— Petit v. Flint, etc., R. Co., 114 Mich. 362, 72 N. W. 238.

Nebraska.— Arlington State Bank v. Paulsen, 57 Nebr. 717, 78 N. W. 303.

New Jersey.— Ryan v. Dodds, (Ch. 1903) 56 Atl. 131; Dougherty v. Connolly, 61 N. J. Eq. 421, 48 Atl. 777.

New York.— Allen v. De Witt, 3 N. Y. 276; In re Duffy, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 724.

Pennsylvania.— McClane v. McClane, 207 Pa. St. 465, 56 Atl. 996; Columbia Ave. Sav. Fund, etc., Co. v. Lewis, 190 Pa. St. 558, 42 Atl. 1094; Swift's Appeal, 87 Pa. St. 502; Allshouse's Estate, 23 Pa. Super. Ct. 146; Adams' Estate, 9 Pa. Co. Ct. 664.

South Carolina.— South Carolina R. Co. v. Toomer, 9 Rich. Eq. 270.

Texas.— McCown v. Terrell, 9 Tex. Civ. App. 66, 29 S. W. 484.

Power to sell "if necessary."—Where a testator has given his executors power to sell real estate if necessary for certain purposes, a sale will not be upheld unless the necessity is made to appear. Lyons v. Shannahan, 64 N. Y. App. Div. 264, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 72, where the evidence was held insufficient to show such necessity. See also Roseboom v. Mosher, 2 Denio (N. Y.) 61. But when the power is to sell if "in their opinion" it shall become necessary for the purpose of paying debts and legacies, the necessity need not be shown, the conveyance being conclusive. Roseboom v. Mosher, 2 Den. (N. Y.) 61.

Power to sell for best interest of estate.— Where a power of sale was given by will to the executrix as such, and embraced only the right to make a sale for the best interests of the estate, it was a mere naked power to carry out the purposes of the will, and could not be used to divest the estates of devisees, unless such exercise was necessary in the execution of such purposes. Cowell v. South Denver Real Estate Co., 16 Colo. App. 108, 63 Pac. 991.

Sale of more land than necessary.— Where executors empowered by will to sell land for payment of debts sold more than enough to pay all the debts of their testator, they were liable to the heirs therefor, but bona fide purchasers could not be affected. Larue v. Larue, 3 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 156.

A power to sell with the consent of a designated person terminates on the death of such person before consenting. Gulick v. Griswold, 160 N. Y. 399, 54 N. E. 780 [affirming 14 N. Y. App. Div. 85, 43 N. Y. Suppl. 443].

Executor may sell for any of the purposes named. Wetherill v. Com., 1 Pa. Cas. 22, 1 Atl. 185.

What provisions of will govern.— Where a will provided that a specific piece of realty should be sold to create a fund for the necessities of testator's widow, and to pay a legacy, the realty, if unsold on the death of the widow because such sale was unnecessary, fell into the residue with other unsold property, under a clause of the will directing a sale after the widow's death of all the remaining real estate for certain specified purposes, and was controlled as to the manner of sale and distribution of the proceeds by the contained in the will should, however, be given a liberal construction in order to carry into effect the true purpose of the testator.[72]

(D) Contract of Sale. Where the will directs an executor to sell property with discretion as to terms and conditions, he has power to make a contract of sale and to enforce specific performance thereof,[73] and a contract of sale may be enforced against him.[74]

(E) Exchange. A mere power to sell given to an executor does not authorize him to exchange the land, either in whole or in part, for other land.[75]

(F) Control of Court. Although an executor may go into court for direction and guidance in the matter,[76] unless he does so of his own accord the courts will not as a rule interpose to control him in an honest exercise of a discretion or a power with regard to the sale of the decedent's real estate vested in him by the will.[77]

(G) Who May Exercise Power.[78] It is axiomatic that where a testator authorizes or directs his executor to sell his real property, the executor is the proper person to make the sale,[79] although he has not power to sell after his discharge as provisions of the latter clause. Trask v. Sturges, 170 N. Y. 482, 63 N. E. 534 [reversing 56 N. Y. App. Div. 625, 68 N. Y. Suppl. 1149].

Injunction against sale.— Grantees of devisees of land may enjoin the executrix from exercising her power to sell such land for payment of debts of the testator, which are barred by limitation; such debts constituting no claim against the estate, and it being the executrix's duty to set up the bar. Butler v. Johnson, 111 N. Y. 204, 18 N. E. 643 [affirming 41 Hun 206].

72. Ross v. Barr, 53 S. W. 658, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 974.

73. Strauss v. Bendheim, 162 N. Y. 469, 56 N. E. 1007 [reversing 44 N. Y. App. Div. 82, 60 N. Y. Suppl. 398 (reversing 28 Misc. 660, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 1054)], holding that in an action by the executor for specific performance judgment can be entered that defendant specifically perform, and if he refuses to do so that the property be sold by a referee, whose deed to the purchaser will convey all the title to the premises which the executor could have conveyed under the power in the will. See also Crouse v. Peterson, 130 Cal. 169, 62 Pac. 475, 615, 80 Am. St. Rep. 89.

74. Coles v. Kearney, 8 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 733, 9 Cinc. L. Bul. 245.

The fact that the title is encumbered does not relieve an executor who has power to sell from liability for specific performance of his contract of sale. Jones v. Lewis, 8 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 268, 7 Cinc. L. Bul. 211.

75. Ross v. Barr, 53 S. W. 658, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 974 (holding that consequently a contract of sale whereby the executor agrees to accept other land in part payment at a stipulated price is void); Taylor v. Galloway, 1 Ohio 232, 13 Am. Dec. 605; Fleischman v. Shoemaker, 2 Ohio Cir. Ct. 152, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 415; King v. Whiton, 15 Wis. 684.

Testamentary provisions giving power to exchange.— Where a testator expressly impresses the character of realty upon the proceeds of sale of his real estate during the existence of a life-estate given by the will, and expressly confers power upon his executor to sell his real estate and with the proceeds purchase other real estate and to continue the transfer and disposition thereof in his discretion, this power authorizes a direct exchange. Mayer v. McCune, 59 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 78.

76. Hinton v. Cole, 3 Humphr. (Tenn.) 656. See also Curren's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 59; and supra, V, G.

77. Andrews' Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 24; Castor's Estate, 16 Phila. (Pa.) 360 (in the absence of proof of error or mistake, or wilful disregard of duty); Bedford v. Bedford, 110 Tenn. 204, 75 S. W. 1017; Dixon v. McCue, 14 Gratt. (Va.) 540. See also American Bible Soc. v. Noble, 11 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 156, holding that the court will not direct that a sale of land which the will authorizes the executor to make shall be made by a commissioner, where there is no charge of insolvency or misconduct against the executor. See supra, V, G.

Jurisdiction of orphans' court to hold executor to account.— Under the Pennsylvania act of June 16, 1836, section 19, extending the jurisdiction of the orphans' court to all cases wherein executors may be in any way accountable for their testator's property, the orphans' court has exclusive jurisdiction to hold an executrix to account for the performance of a testator's trust vested in her to sell land. Erie Dime Sav., etc., Co. v. Vincent, 105 Pa. St. 315.

78. Exercise of power by administrator with the will annexed see infra, XIX, C.

Exercise by administrator durante minoritate see infra, XX.

Who may make sale under order of court see infra, XII.

79. See Bruce v. Goodbar, 104 Tenn. 638, 58 S. W. 282.

Where the power is given to two executors, only one of whom has proved the will or remains in office, such executor can exercise the power alone. Wells v. Lewis, 4 Metc. (Ky.) 269; In re Fisher, 13 L. R. Ir. 546. And where two executors named in a will were directed by it to sell a particular parcel of land to an individual named, for a specified executor,[80] or where he has renounced the office.[81] It frequently happens, however, that a testator directs or authorizes a sale without expressly declaring by whom it shall be made, and in such case the rule is that the executor will take a power of sale by implication if the will imposes upon him the duty, or he is bound by law, to see to the application of the proceeds,[82] but not otherwise.[83] Where a will directing a sale of realty nominates no executor, there is no implied power of sale in any one, and the only way a sale can legally be made is by an application to the court.[84] An executor cannot delegate a discretionary power to sell land given him by the will,[85] but he may allow his agent or attorney in fact, subject to his supervision or approval, to negotiate and make sales.[86]

(H) What Property May Be Sold.[87] With reference to what property may be sold by the executor the provisions of the will must govern.[88] If the power sum, and to sell the other estate, if deemed necessary, to pay debts, etc., and both joined in the conveyance of the particular parcel, but afterward one of them alone sold and conveyed other lands of the testator, the purchaser of the last-mentioned land was not precluded from showing that the executor who did not join in the conveyance had refused and neglected to take upon himself the execution of the will, after joining in the first-mentioned conveyance. Roseboom v. Mosher, 2 Den. (N. Y.) 61. At common law where there is a naked power given to coexecutors to sell land it does not survive to one executor, but where the power is coupled with an interest it will survive. Muldrow v. Fox, 2 Dana (Ky.) 74; Wooldridge v. Watkins, 3 Bibb (Ky.) 349.

Substitution of executors.— Where a will appointed certain persons executors with power to sell the testator's real estate, but a codicil annulled the section of the will in which such persons were appointed executors, and appointed certain other executors, and exonerated them from giving bond, such codicil did not annul the power to sell given the executors by the original will, but its effect was merely to substitute another set of executors with the same powers, duties, and discretion. Bruce v. Goodbar, 104 Tenn. 638, 58 S. W. 282.

80. Boland v. Tiernay, 118 Iowa 59, 91 N. W. 836.

81. Travers v. Gustin, 20 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 106, so holding where the power was given to the executors merely as such and not by name.

82. Connecticut.—State v. Hunter, 73 Conn. 435, 47 Atl. 665.

District of Columbia.— Rathbone v. Hamilton, 4 App. Cas. 475.

Illinois.— Rankin v. Rankin, 36 Ill. 293, 87 Am. Dec. 205.

Indiana.— Davis v. Hoover, 112 Ind. 423, 14 N. E. 468.

Maryland.— Magruder v. Peter, 4 Gill & J. 323. See also Baumeister v. Silver, 98 Md. 418, 56 Atl. 825.

Michigan.— Mandlebaum v. McDonell, 29 Mich. 78, 18 Am. Rep. 61.

Mississippi.— Clark v. Hornthal, 47 Miss. 434.

Missouri.— Wisker v. Rische, 167 Mo. 522, 67 S. W. 218.

North Carolina.— Vaughan v. Farmer, 90 N. C. 607. See also Hester v. Hester, 37 N. C. 330.

Ohio.— Martin v. Spurrier, 23 Ohio Cir. Ct. 110.

Pennsylvania.— Silverthorn v. McKinster, 12 Pa. St. 67; Maguire's Estate, 10 Pa. Dist. 238.

Tennessee.— Bedford v. Bedford, 110 Tenn. 204, 75 S. W. 1017; Queener v. Trew, 6 Heisk. 59; Parker v. Sparkman, 2 Tenn. Cas. 544.

Wisconsin.— Lawrence v. Barber, 116 Wis. 294, 93 N. W. 30.

United States.— Taylor v. Benham, 5 How. 233, 12 L. ed. 130; Peter v. Beverly, 70 Pet. 532, 9 L. ed. 522.

If the person appointed to sell refuses to perform the trust or dies before he has completed it, the sale should be made, under the Missouri statute, by the executor. Wisker v. Rische, 167 Mo. 522, 67 S. W. 218.

83. Lippincott v. Lippincott, 19 N. J. Eq. 121. See also Council v. Averett, 95 N. C. 131; McElroy v. McElroy, 110 Tenn. 137, 73 S. W. 105.

84. Baumeister v. Silver, 98 Md. 418, 56 Atl. 825.

85. Terrell v. McCown, 91 Tex. 231, 43 S. W. 2 [reversing (Civ. App. 1897) 40 S. W. 54].

86. Colsten v. Chaudet, 4 Bush (Ky.) 666; Gates v. Dudgeon, 173 N. Y. 426, 66 N. E. 116, 93 Am. St. Rep. 608 [reversing 72 N. Y. App. Div. 562, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 561]; Terrell v. McCown, 91 Tex. 231, 43 S. W. 2 [reversing (Civ. App. 1897) 40 S. W. 54].

87. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, D.

88. See Petit v. Flint, etc., R. Co., 114 Mich. 362, 72 N. W. 238.

Construction of particular wills see Petit v. Flint, etc., R. Co., 114 Mich. 362, 72 N. W. 238; Matter of Levy, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 68, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 647; Bedford v. Bedford, 110 Tenn. 204, 75 S. W. 1017; Holmes v. Sanders, (Tex. Civ. App. 1899) 51 S. W. 333.

Under a power to sell all of testator's realty, the executors may sell all of his title and interest in the land as well as all the territorial extent of the land. Hatt v. Rich, 59 N. J. Eq. 492, 45 Atl. 969.

Under a provision that the homestead shall not be sold until necessary, and that the same given is to sell only certain specified realty, or only a certain part of the realty, the executor cannot sell any of the other realty without an order of court,[89] unless a power of sale in respect thereto can be fairly implied.[90] Where an executor is empowered by the will to sell any portion of the real estate, he is vested with a discretion to determine what property shall be sold.[91]

(I) Compelling Exercise of Power. A mandatory direction in a will to sell lands leaves the executor no discretion; and if he refuses or neglects to sell the court may compel him to do so at the instance of an interested person.[92]

(II) Time For Selling.[93] Where the will contains directions as to the time at which the property shall be sold, such directions should of course be followed,[94] shall be used by wife and children, the executors have authority to sell the homestead if it becomes necessary. Etcheborne v. Auzerais, 45 Cal. 121.

Land decreed to be sold under mortgage.— Although a tract of land is decreed to be sold to satisfy a mortgage, the executor of the mortgagor, authorized by the will to sell all the testator's real and personal estate, may sell it for a full and fair price, with the consent of the mortgagee or his attorney. Nelson v. Carrington, 4 Munf. (Va.) 332, 6 Am. Dec. 519.

89. Walker v. Murphy, 34 Ala. 591; Kinney v. Knoebel, 51 Ill. 112; Dike v. Ricks, Cro. Car. 335, holding that where the power was to sell all the tenements or so much as with the goods were sufficient to pay debts, etc., there must be a deficiency and a sale could only be made to the extent thereof. See also O'Reilly v. Platt, 80 N. Y. App. Div. 348, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 829.

Where a testator authorized his executors to sell either one of two tracts the sale of one exhausted their power and they could not subsequently sell the other. Brown v. Beard, 6 N. C. 125.

90. See Corse v. Chapman, 153 N. Y. 466, 47 N. E. 812.

After-acquired property.—Where a testator directs his executor to sell the real estate owned by him at the time he made the will, describing it as "my said home farm," and the disposition of his estate is such that the purposes disclosed by the will cannot be effectuated without a sale of all the real estate of the testator, a power of sale as to after-acquired property is implied, and should be exercised by the executor. Dearing v. Selvey, 50 W. Va. 4, 40 S. E. 478.

91. Sharp v. Loupe, 120 Cal. 89, 52 Pac. 134, 586, holding that in such case a sale by the executor of one portion of the property to pay claims secured by other portions is not an abuse of discretion.

Sale of remainder in lands devised for life. — Where a testator, having agreed with his second wife to pay her daughter three hundred dollars when she became of age or married, devised certain lands to his widow for life, with remainder over to his lawful heirs, and his estate was insolvent, his executors, under a power in the will to sell to pay debts, properly sold the remainder interest in the lands so devised to the widow to her, as guardian of her daughter, in settlement of such three-hundred-dollar claim. Sneed v. Russell, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1897) 42 S. W. 213.

92. Green v. Johnson, 4 Bush (Ky.) 164; Erie Dime Sav., etc., Co. v. Vincent, 105 Pa. St. 315; Houck v. Houck, 5 Pa. St. 273.

93. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, K, 2.

94. See Gehr v. McDowell, 206 Pa. St. 100, 55 Atl. 851.

A direction not to sell until a named price can be obtained attached to a general clause in a will authorizing executors to sell real estate is to be construed, not as a limitation upon the authority of the executors, but merely as evidencing a desire on the part of the testator to reasonably conserve the estate to the best advantage. In such case the property should be withheld a reasonable time from sale in the hope of realizing the price fixed, but, if it is not realized within a reasonable period, the sale should take its course under the general provisions of the will. Kurtz v. Graybill, 91 Ill. App. 76 [affirmed in 192 Ill. 445, 61 N. E. 475], where a sale at less than the price fixed, after a lapse of five years, was upheld. Where a will directed that certain "ore land shall remain unsold until it shall bring ten thousand dollars," and provided further that "after the death of my wife all my real estate, and the real estate and personal property hereby bequeathed to my said wife, is to be sold," the two clauses, taken together, were construed to mean that the ore land could not be sold during the life of the testator's wife for less than ten thousand dollars, but after her death it should be sold without any limitation. Knaub's Estate, 13 York Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 161.

Where a testator devised land to be sold to educate his children it may be thence inferred that he intended the sale to be made during their minority. Muldrow v. Fox, 2 Dana (Ky.) 74.

Extension by agreement.— The time specified in a will for the conversion of real estate may be extended by agreement of all the parties, and the court will not, on petition of an assignee of one of the parties, direct the public sale of such property in the face of a probable loss of one-third of its value. Harrah's Estate, 7 Pa. Dist. 170, 20 Pa. Co. Ct. 606.

Execution of deed.— A power of sale in an executor to be executed within a given time does not necessitate the execution of a deed within that period if the sale itself has been and in the absence of any testamentary direction upon the subject it is the duty of the executor to sell within a reasonable time.[95] But a long lapse of time since the probate of a will does not constitute any objection to the exercise of a power to sell real estate, if the duty to sell it still exists,[96] nor is an executor's power to sell terminated by his failure to do so within the time directed by the will.[97]

(III) MANNER AND CONDUCT OF SALE.[98] An executor who is given a power of sale by the will has as a rule considerable discretion as to the manner and conduct thereof.[99] While public auction sales are insisted on in a few states,[1] the more general rule permits a private sale at the discretion of the executor, prudently and honestly exercised.[2] Statutes with respect to appraisement, advertisement, notice, and the like are usually held applicable only to sales under judicial license and not to those made under a power in the will;[3] and it has been held that a testamentary direction that an appraisal by the executor shall precede the sale of property under a power created by the will does not necessarily make the appraisal a positive prerequisite to the exercise of the power.[4]

(IV) TERMS AND CONDITIONS.[5] The power of sale given to executors by will can only be exercised by a conveyance to an actual, bona fide, money purchaser.[6] The safer and more prudent course when exercising a power is to sell for cash or its equivalent;[7] but where the will gives the executor power to sell on credit within it, and parol evidence is admissible to show that a deed dated after the expiration of the period is in consummation of a sale made within the period. Harlan v. Brown, 2 Gill (Md.) 475, 41 Am. Dec. 436.

95. Davis v. Hoover, 112 Ind. 423, 14 N. E. 468. See also In re Weston, 91 N. Y. 502.

What is a reasonable time within which an executor should execute a direction to convert land into money depends on the circumstances of each particular case. In the absence of special modifying facts, the eighteen months within which an executor must account might be considered a reasonable time. In re Weston, 91 N. Y. 502.

The sale should be made as soon as possible without sacrifice where the direction to sell is imperative, and the executors, offering the land for sale a year after the probate of the will, should sell to the highest bidder, and where they have refused a reasonable price, no allowance will be made for the cost of again offering the property for sale or for after-accruing taxes and insurance. In re Quin, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 261, 1 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 381.

96. Clifford v. Morrell, 22 N. Y. App. Div. 470, 48 N. Y. Suppl. 83, where twenty-nine years had elapsed. And see Muldrow v. Fox, 2 Dana (Ky.) 74.

The statute of limitations may be invoked by an heir or devisee, or by a purchaser from either, to prevent the sale of the land to pay debts and legacies, when the executor's right to sell is derived from the will alone. Butler v. Johnson, 41 Hun (N. Y.) 206 [affirmed in 111 N. Y. 204, 18 N. E. 643].

97. Spitzer v. Spitzer, 38 N. Y. App. Div. 436, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 470; Myers v. Cady, 22 R. I. 549, 48 Atl. 797. But see Muldrow v. Fox, 2 Dana (Ky.) 74; Herb v. Walther, 6 Pa. Dist. 687.

98. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, K.

99. Andrews' Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 24, 19 Pa. Co. Ct. 215, holding that the orphans' court has no power in any case to control the discretion of an executor as to the sale of real estate when it has been honestly and correctly exercised.

1. Ashurst v. Ashurst, 13 Ala. 781; Gaines v. New Orleans, 6 Wall. (U. S.) 642, 18 L. ed. 950.

2. Georgia.— Wright v. Zeigler, 1 Ga. 324, 44 Am. Dec. 656.

Indiana.— Munson v. Cole, 98 Ind. 502.

Mississippi.— Buckingham v. Wesson, 54 Miss. 526.

New York.—McDermut v. Lorillard, 1 Edw. 273.

South Carolina.— Huger v. Huger, 9 Rich. Eq. 217.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 576.

3. Munson v. Cole, 98 Ind. 502; McDermut v. Lorillard, 1 Edw. (N. Y.) 273. See also Jackson v. Williams, 50 Ga. 553; Huger v. Huger, 9 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 217.

4. Clifford v. Morrell, 22 N. Y. App. Div. 470, 48 N. Y. Suppl. 83.

5. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, L.

6. Arlington State Bank v. Paulsen, 57 Nebr. 717, 78 N. W. 303, holding that where the executors under a will giving them power "to sell and convey" if necessary for the payment of debts conveyed the real estate to one of the testator's heirs upon the sole consideration that she would mortgage it to secure money for the use of the executors, and then reconvey to them subject to the mortgage, which was done, this transaction was not a sale and conveyance within the meaning of the will.

7. McLarty v. Broom, 67 N. C. 311 (holding that it is not due prudence to sell on credit or for a depreciated currency); Taylor v. Galloway, 1 Ohio 232, 13 Am. Dec. 605; Wayland v. Crank, 79 Va. 602.

he may do so at his discretion,[8] and sales with mortgage security on the land itself for deferred payment are sometimes justified, in the exercise of good faith and reasonable prudence.[9]

(v) Confirmation.[10] In some jurisdictions confirmation or ratification by the court is required in the case of a sale by an executor under a power in the will.[11]

(vi) Who May Purchase—(a) In General.[12] As a general rule where an executor is authorized to sell he may sell to any person.[13]

(b) Executor or Administrator—(1) General Rule.[14] It is well established

What is a sale for money.— Where executors made a sale of land, and a part of the consideration money was secured by a judgment of the purchaser against another man, assigned to the executors and guaranteed by the purchaser, the sale was for money and not void. Shippen v. Clapp, 29 Pa. St. 265.

Where some special consideration is taken in lieu of money by the representative on his own responsibility he may make himself individually liable for realizing a full equivalent. Parshall's Appeal, 65 Pa. St. 224; Mitchell's Estate, 1 Leg. Gaz. (Pa.) 74.

8. Jackson v. Williams, 50 Ga. 553.

Improper security.— A copartner of the purchaser is not such security for the purchase-money as the executor is authorized to take. Southall v. Taylor, 14 Gratt. (Va.) 269.

9. Woodruff v. Lounsberry, 40 N. J. Eq. 545, 5 Atl. 99.

10. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, Q.

11. In re Durham, 49 Cal. 490; Ogle v. Reynolds, 75 Md. 145, 23 Atl. 137; Northrop v. Marquam, 16 Oreg. 173, 18 Pac. 449. See also Provident Life, etc., Co. v. Mills, 91 Fed. 435, citing Washington statute to that effect, but holding it not applicable to a sale by an independent executor.

Notice of hearing.— Where a will gives the executors a naked power, not coupled with an interest, to sell the estate without any special directions, the sale must be reported to and confirmed by the probate court, and if not made at public auction the judge must make an order fixing a day for hearing the report, and the clerk must give notice thereof; and in the absence of such order and notice by the clerk, the court has no power to confirm the sale, and, if it make an order of confirmation, may, on its own motion, set it aside. Perkins v. Gridley, 50 Cal. 97. See also In re Durham, 49 Cal. 490.

Revocation or correction of ratification.— Where the order of ratification of a sale, made and reported by executors under authority conferred by the will, has been procured by an honest mistake, the orphans' court has the power of revocation and correction, provided the application be made within a reasonable time. Montgomery v. Williamson, 37 Md. 421.

On appeal from an order confirming a sale of real estate by executors it is the duty of appellant to furnish the return of sale. In re Robinson, 142 Cal. 152, 75 Pac. 777.

The orphans' court will ratify a sale of land by executors with power to sell, and allow security to be entered, in order that the lien of debts not of record may be discharged. Wainwright's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 147.

Contract for sale.— Under Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1552, declaring that on a return of a sale by the executors, if it appears that the price is disproportionate and a sum exceeding the bid by ten per cent can be had, the sale may be vacated, where executors acting under a power of sale in the will orally agreed to sell certain property, and received a portion of the purchase-money, such contract for sale must be confirmed, unless the price paid was disproportionate, and an increased bid of ten per cent can be obtained. In re Robinson, 142 Cal. 152, 75 Pac. 777.

Objections not sufficient to prevent confirmation.— As a sale by an executor passes only such interest as the testator had in the property it is not a ground of objection to a confirmation of the sale that another person has an interest in the property, nor, when it is within the discretion of the executor whether he will make a sale under the power, can confirmation be successfully opposed on the ground that the sale is not for the best interest of the estate or of some particular heir. Wickersham's Estate, 139 Cal. 652, 73 Pac. 541, (1902) 70 Pac. 1079.

Order of orphans' court approving sale will not be reviewed. Dundas' Appeal, 7 Pa. Cas. 629, 12 Atl. 485.

If a will devises real estate to the executor in trust for purposes mentioned in the will, and directs him to sell the real estate, sales made by him as executor do not require to be confirmed by the probate court. In re Delaney, 49 Cal. 76 [affirming Myr. Prob. 9].

12. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, M, 1.

13. See Mason v. Devenny, 30 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 216, 14 York Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 75.

Testamentary direction to offer land to particular person.— Where the will directed the executor to offer the testator's land to a certain person at a fixed price, and if he refused to sell at public or private sale for the best price offered, the person named could refuse the option and afterward buy at a less price from the executor, and a deed from the executor to such person at a price less than that named in the will was a valid execution of the power and conveyed a good title. Mason v. Devenny, 30 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 216, 14 York Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 75.

14. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, M, 4, a.

as a general rule that an executor or administrator cannot become the purchaser at his own sale of the property of his decedent.[15] Neither can one executor or administrator lawfully become the purchaser at a sale made by his co-executors or co-administrators.[16] The rule precludes the representative not only from purchasing outright but also from being interested in any purchase at a sale by him,[17] neither is it confined in its application to a direct purchase, but an indirect purchase by means of an agent or a third person who is the ostensible purchaser but who really acts for the representative in order to enable him to acquire title may also be avoided.[18]

15. Georgia.— Griffin v. Stephens, 119 Ga. 138, 46 S. E. 66; Moore v. Carey, 116 Ga. 28, 42 S. E. 258; Pirkle v. Cooper, 113 Ga. 828, 39 S. E. 289; Anderson v. Green, 46 Ga. 361.

Illinois.— Stickel v. Crane, 189 Ill. 211, 59 N. E. 595; Elting v. Biggsville First Nat. Bank, 173 Ill. 368, 50 N. E. 1095 [affirming 68 Ill. App. 204]; Ebelmesser v. Ebelmesser, 99 Ill. 541; Sloan v. Graham, 85 Ill. 26.

Kentucky.—Faucett v. Faucett, 1 Bush 511, 89 Am. Dec. 639; Darcus v. Crump, 6 B. Mon. 363.

Mississippi.— McGowan v. McGowan, 48 Miss. 553.

New Jersey.— Wright v. Wright, 7 N. J. L. 175, 11 Am. Dec. 546; Booraem v. Wells, 19 N. J. Eq. 87.

New York.— Reynolds v. Ætna L. Ins. Co., 28 N. Y. App. Div. 591, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 446; Stiles v. Burch, 5 Paige 132.

Virginia.— Staples v. Staples, 24 Gratt. 225; Bailey v. Robinson, 1 Gratt. 4, 42 Am. Dec. 540.

Wisconsin.— O'Dell v. Rogers, 44 Wis. 136.

United States.— Michoud v. Girod, 4 How. 503, 11 L. ed. 1076; Price v. Morris, 19 Fed. Cas. No. 11,414, 5 McLean 4.

England.— Crowe v. Ballard, 3 Bro. Ch. 117, 29 Eng. Reprint 443, 2 Cox C. C. 253, 1 Ves. Jr. 215, 30 Eng. Reprint 308, 1 Rev. Rep. 122; Fox v. Mackreth, 2 Bro. Ch. 400, 29 Eng. Reprint 224; Lister v. Lister, 6 Ves. Jr. 631, 31 Eng. Reprint 1231; Ex p. Hughes, 6 Ves. Jr. 617, 6 Rev. Rep. 1, 31 Eng. Reprint 1223; Ex p. Reynolds, 5 Ves. Jr. 707, 5 Rev. Rep. 143, 31 Eng. Reprint 816; Campbell v. Walker, 5 Ves. Jr. 678, 5 Rev. Rep. 135, 31 Eng. Reprint 801.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 579.

A contrary doctrine finds support in a few early cases. Hampton v. Shehan, 7 Ala. 295; Brannan v. Oliver, 2 Stew. (Ala.) 47, 19 Am. Dec. 39; Huger v. Huger, 9 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 217 (statute authorizing purchase); Lindsay v. Lindsay, 1 Desauss. (S. C.) 150.

Representative cannot acquire title by paying debts from his own funds. Haslett v. Glenn, 7 Harr. & J. (Md.) 17; Graham v. Jones, 24 S. C. 241.

Matters not affecting right to set aside sale. — The right to have a purchase by the executor or administrator at his own sale set aside cannot be defeated because of the insolvency of the estate, because on a resale the property will bring less than at the first sale, because the representative used money of his own to pay debts of the estate believing that the sale to himself would be allowed to stand, or because he procured a creditor of the decedent who was secured by a deed to the land to allow it to be sold free from the encumbrance of the deed. Pirkle v. Cooper, 113 Ga. 828, 39 S. E. 289.

16. Georgia.— Newton v. Roe, 33 Ga. 163.

New Jersey.— Skillman v. Skillman, 15 N. J. Eq. 388.

New York.— Pease v. Creque, 15 N. Y. Wkly. Dig. 15.

Pennsylvania.— Bunting's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 623.

Canada.— Carter v. Molson, 8 Montreal Leg. N. 281 [affirming 6 Montreal Leg. N. 372].

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 580.

Testamentary authority.— Where a testator directs by his will that if either of his executors at public sale purchase any part of his real estate, the other executor shall execute a deed conveying the land so purchased, either of the executors has a right to purchase, and the other is bound to execute the necessary conveyance; and the latter is not entitled to insist on the payment of the purchase-money to him as a condition of his making a conveyance, but the purchaser may retain the purchase-money to be accounted for by him as executor. Fennimore v. Fennimore, 3 N. J. Eq. 292.

17. See Colgate v. Colgate, 23 N. J. Eq. 372.

Sale to firm of which representative a member.— A contract made by an executor with a firm of which he himself is a member for the sale of the whole of his testator's real estate, if opposed by any of the cestuis que trustent, will not be required to be specifically performed. Colgate v. Colgate, 23 N. J. Eq. 372.

Circumstances not sufficient to show interest see Larzelere v. Starkweather, 38 Mich. 96.

18. Georgia.— Houston v. Bryan, 78 Ga. 181, 1 S. E. 252, 6 Am. St. Rep. 252.

Illinois.— Elmstedt v. Nicholson, 186 Ill. 580, 58 N. E. 381.

Maryland.— Singstack v. Harding, 4 Harr. & J. 186, 7 Am. Dec. 669.

Massachusetts.— Jenison v. Hapgood, 7 Pick. 1, 19 Am. Dec. 258.

Mississippi.— Buckingham v. Wesson, 54 Miss. 526.

(2) Limitations of the Rule.[19] It has been asserted, however, that where the representative has a personal interest in the property he may become the purchaser,[20] and a purchase by the representative has also been upheld where the sale was a fair one and a fair price was given for the property.[21] Where a mortgagee was appointed administrator of the estate of the mortgagor, but did not take possession of the mortgaged premises or take any steps to have them sold for the payment of debts, but foreclosed his mortgage while he was acting as administrator, he had the right to become the purchaser at the foreclosure sale.[22] Where a member of a firm owning realty dies, the administrator of the deceased partner may, in his private or individual capacity, purchase the land from the survivor.[23] There is no reason why an administrator appointed in one state should not become the purchaser of land of his decedent situated in another state.[24] A person who was nominated as an executor in the will, but has not qualified or acted as such, may purchase the property of the testator at a sale made by the executor or executors who did qualify,[25] or a representative who has resigned or been discharged may become a purchaser at a sale subsequently made by the personal representatives remaining in office, or by his successor.[26] The representative who has sold real property of his decedent may purchase the same for himself from the purchaser at his sale, provided the first sale was real and bona fide and not a mere sham or pretense to enable the representative to acquire title.[27]

(3) Whether Sale Void or Voidable.[28] A purchase by an executor or administrator at his own sale is usually held to be not void but merely voidable at the option of those interested,[29] but where the transaction is tainted with actual fraud it is void.[30]

New Jersey.— Hance v. McKnight, 11 N. J. L. 385; Skillman v. Skillman, 15 N. J. Eq. 388; Winter v. Geroe, 5 N. J. Eq. 319.

New York.— People v. Open Bd. Stock Brokers Bldg. Co., 92 N. Y. 98; Reynolds v. Ætna L. Ins. Co., 28 N. Y. App. Div. 591, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 446; Jackson v. Walsh, 14 Johns. 407.

Pennsylvania.— Bunting's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 623.

Virginia.— Davies v. Hughes, 86 Va. 909, 11 S. E. 488. See also Buckles v. Lafferty, 2 Rob. 292, 40 Am. Dec. 752, where the agent of the administratrix purchased through another person.

United States.— See Tufts v. Tufts, 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,233, 3 Woodb. & M. 456, holding that a contract made by prospective purchasers with the executrix to hold the land for her benefit, on her paying the interest quarterly, till she should find it convenient to pay the principal, and then to convey to her, they purchasing the land at less than its true value at that time, was against public policy and voidable.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 581.

19. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, M, 4, b.

20. Julian v. Reynolds, 8 Ala. 680; McLane v. Spence, 6 Ala. 894; Brannan v. Oliver, 2 Stew. (Ala.) 47, 19 Am. Dec. 39. Contra, Michoud v. Girod, 4 How. (U. S.) 503, 11 L. ed. 1076.

21. Brannan v. Oliver, 2 Stew. (Ala.) 47, 19 Am. Dec. 39; McKey v. Young, 4 Hen. & M. (Va.) 430; Toler v. Toler, 2 Patt. & H. (Va.) 71.

22. Fleming v. McCutcheon, 85 Minn. 152, 88 N. W. 433.

23. Jones v. Sharp, 9 Heisk. (Tenn.) 660.

24. See Sheldon v. Rice, 30 Mich. 296, 18 Am. Rep. 136.

25. Valentine v. Duryea, 37 Hun (N. Y.) 427.

26. Clark v. Denton, 36 N. J. Eq. 419.

27. Silverthorn v. McKinster, 12 Pa. St. 67 (holding further that if executors have made a parol sale of land, and taken the vendee's notes, and one of them purchases the vendee's interest, he may if solvent use the notes taken from the vendee by the executors in payment of his purchase-money, and the original sale will not be abrogated); Wayland v. Crank, 79 Va. 602; Staples v. Staples, 24 Gratt. (Va.) 225. See also Henninger v. Boyer, 10 Pa. Co. Ct. 506.

28. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, M, 4, c.

29. Georgia.— Griffin v. Stephens, 119 Ga. 138, 46 S. E. 66; Moore v. Carey, 116 Ga. 28, 42 S. E. 258; Anderson v. Green, 46 Ga. 361; Newton v. Roe, 33 Ga. 163.

Illinois.— Stickel v. Crane, 189 Ill. 211, 59 N. E. 595; Ebelmesser v. Ebelmesser, 99 Ill. 541; Sloan v. Graham, 85 Ill. 26.

New York.— Pease v. Creque, 15 N. Y. Wkly. Dig. 15.

Ohio.— Harrison v. Heckler, 6 Ohio Cir. Ct. 443.

Pennsylvania.— Bruch v. Lantz, 2 Rawle 392, 21 Am. Dec. 458; Bunting's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 623.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 579.

30. Sheldon v. Woodbridge, 2 Root (Conn.) 473.

(4) Ratification.[31] A purchase by an executor or administrator at his own sale may be ratified by the persons interested.[32] An acquiescence in the sale by the heirs for a long time will create a presumption of ratification,[33] and an heir or legatee who receives the proceeds with knowledge of the facts thereby ratifies the sale or becomes estopped to subsequently attack it;[34] but a release or formal approval given to the executor or administrator does not conclude an heir or devisee who was at the time in ignorance of the invalid sale.[35]

(5) Representative Not a Bona Fide Purchaser.[36] Even though a purchase by a representative at a sale by himself or by his co-representatives pursuant to a power in the will is not set aside, still he is not a bona fide purchaser and entitled to protection as such.[37]

(6) Bona Fide Purchaser From Representative.[38] Although a purchase by a representative at his own sale is voidable, a deed from him conveying the property to a bona fide purchaser who pays a valuable consideration will pass title,[39] and after there has been such a conveyance by the representative the original purchase by him will not be set aside.[40]

(7) Liability of Representative Who Has Purchased.[41] An executor or administrator who has purchased or been interested in the purchase of real estate of his decedent sold by him is chargeable with the actual value of the property and not merely with the amount realized at the sale,[42] and he must also account for the profits made by a resale of the property to a bona fide purchaser;[43] but he is not chargeable with the value of land bid off by him at his sale, but lost through want of title in the testator.[44] Where the personal representative has improperly become the purchaser at a sale unnecessarily made by him, the heirs or devisees have a remedy in equity against him to compel a reconveyance of the property

31. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, M, 4, d.

32. Georgia.— Brantley v. Cheeley, 42 Ga. 209; Newton v. Roe, 33 Ga. 163.

Illinois.— Stickel v. Crane, 189 Ill. 211, 59 N. E. 595; Ebelmesser v. Ebelmesser, 99 Ill. 541; Sloan v. Graham, 85 Ill. 26.

Louisiana.— Prothro v. Prothro, 33 La. Ann. 598.

New Jersey.— Hance v. McKnight, 11 N. J. L. 385.

New York.— Geyer v. Snyder, 140 N. Y. 394, 35 N. E. 784.

Pennsylvania.— Bunting's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 623.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 583.

The guardian of a minor cannot consent that the administrator may purchase property of the estate at a given price; and where the administrator does so purchase the property, and pays over to the guardian the portion due to the minor, he does not estop the latter from seeking to set aside the purchase, when the minor has had no settlement with the guardian, and has received no part of the proceeds of the sale. Moore v. Carey, 116 Ga. 28, 42 S. E. 258, holding further that where in an action to set aside such sale it is sought to estop plaintiff on the ground that his guardian had collected the amount due him as his portion of the proceeds of the sale, and had paid it over to him on his arrival at majority after putting him in possession of all the facts, testimony of the guardian that when he made the payment it was stipulated by the ward that it should have no other effect than to pass the fund into his possession and should not estop him from seeking to set aside the sale was relevant.

33. Griffin v. Stephens, 119 Ga. 138, 46 S. E. 66; Brantley v. Cheeley, 42 Ga. 209; Newton v. Roe, 33 Ga. 163.

34. Crane v. Lowe, 59 Kan. 606, 54 Pac. 666; Pease v. Creque, 15 N. Y. Wkly. Dig. 15.

35. Latham v. Barney, 14 Fed. 433, 4 McCrary 587.

36. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, M, 4, a.

37. Bruch v. Lantz, 2 Rawle (Pa.) 392, 21 Am. Dec. 458, holding that the Pennsylvania act of 1794 limiting the lien of debts on a decedent's lands to seven years applies only with respect to bona fide purchasers and not in favor of an executor who purchased at a sale by the executors. See also Houston v. Bryan, 78 Ga. 181, 1 S. E. 252, 6 Am. St. Rep. 252.

38. As to bona fide purchasers generally see Vendor and Purchaser.

39. Moore v. Carey, 116 Ga. 28, 42 S. E. 258, where the administrator conveyed to his wife.

40. Harrison v. Heckler, 6 Ohio Cir. Ct. 443, 3 Ohio Cir. Dec. 530.

41. Sale of personalty see infra, VIII, P, 2, f, (I).

42. Matter of Yetter, 44 N. Y. App. Div. 404, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 175 [affirmed in 162 N. Y. 615, 57 N. E. 1128]; In re Scheidt, 2 Woodw. (Pa.) 355.

43. Elting v. Biggsville First Nat. Bank, 173 Ill. 368, 50 N. E. 1095 [affirming 68 Ill. App. 204].

44. Hapgood v. Jennison, 2 Vt. 294.

or a payment of the excess of the value, as ascertained by a second sale, over the price paid.[45]

(c) Relative of Representative.[46] A sale to a near relative of the representative is improper and voidable,[47] especially if the representative has unduly favored such purchaser.[48]

(d) Agent or Partner of Representative.[49] A sale by a personal representative to his agent or partner or to a firm of which he is a member cannot be upheld against the objection of the heirs or devisees,[50] especially where there has been bad faith in the transaction.[51]

(e) Attorney of Representative.[52] A sale by an executor or administrator to his own attorney is improper for the reason that the sale may be supposed to be made under the influence, if not the pressure, of legal advice and induced by confidential relations which ought to be above suspicion.[53] This is especially true where the representative is illiterate and incompetent for the trust,[54] and in such case the attorney may at the option of the parties in interest be charged as trustee of the property purchased and required to account therefor,[55] without any evidence that the sale was in fact unfair or the price inadequate.[56]

(vii) Conveyance—(a) Form and Contents in General.[57] Although it is the better practice for a conveyance by an executor pursuant to a power to include a recital of such power,[58] such a recital is not necessary to the validity of the conveyance,[59] provided that the instrument shows that the grantor had in view the subject of the power.[60] Neither is it necessary that the conveyance should show that the sale was made in the manner authorized.[61] Where the power is given to two or more executors all should join in executing the deed, if all remain in office;[62] but if one or more fail to qualify or vacate the office those who do

45. Jennison v. Hapgood, 7 Pick. (Mass.) 1, 19 Am. Dec. 258.

46. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, M, 5.

47. Scott v. Gamble, 9 N. J. Eq. 218 (husband of executrix); Schaefer's Estate, 10 Pa. Co. Ct. 100 (husband of executrix). See also Buckingham v. Wesson, 54 Miss. 526.

48. Oberlin College v. Fowler, 10 Allen (Mass.) 545.

Where the court has authorized the executor's wife to bid at a sale of real estate under testamentary power, the executor should be surcharged with the difference between the amount received on a sale to his wife and what the property would have brought at a fair sale. Dunda's Appeal, 64 Pa. St. 325.

49. Sale under an order of court see infra, XII, M, 6.

50. Jackson v. Larche, 11 Mart. (La.) 284; Colgate v. Colgate, 23 N. J. Eq. 372. See also Buckles v. Lafferty, 2 Rob. (Va.) 292, 40 Am. Dec. 752.

51. Buckles v. Lafferty, 2 Rob. (Va.) 292, 40 Am. Dec. 752; Summers v. Reynolds, 95 N. C. 404.

52. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, M, 6.

53. O'Dell v. Rogers, 44 Wis. 136. See also Cook v. Berlin Woolen Mill Co., 43 Wis. 433; In re Taylor Orphan Asylum, 36 Wis. 534; Gillett v. Gillett, 9 Wis. 194.

54. O'Dell v. Rogers, 44 Wis. 136. See also Mills v. Mills, 26 Conn. 213.

55. O'Dell v. Rogers, 44 Wis. 136.

56. O'Dell v. Rogers, 44 Wis. 136.

57. Deed pursuant to sale under order of court see infra, XII, U.

58. Smith v. Henning, 10 W. Va. 596.

59. District of Columbia.— Coombs v. O'Neal, 1 MacArthur 405.

Georgia.— Terry v. Rodahan, 79 Ga. 278, 5 S. E. 38, 11 Am. St. Rep. 420.

New York.— Doody v. Hollwedel, 22 N. Y. App. Div. 456, 48 N. Y. Suppl. 93.

Pennsylvania.— Allison v. Kurtz, 2 Watts 185.

West Virginia.— Smith v. Henning, 10 W. Va. 596.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 586.

60. Coombs v. O'Neal, 1 MacArthur (D. C.) 405; Terry v. Rodahan, 79 Ga. 278, 5 S. E. 38, 11 Am. St. Rep. 420. See, generally, Powers.

Deed held sufficient see Carpenter v. Webb, (Del. 1902) 55 Atl. 1011.

Power must be shown in evidence.— A deed from the administrator of a deceased owner of property is not evidence of title in the grantee without the authority under which the administrator acted being shown. Forrest v. Wallace, 3 Walk. (Pa.) 86.

61. Turnipseed v. Hawkins, 1 McCord (S. C.) 272.

62. Wells v. Lewis, 4 Metc. (Ky.) 269; Halbert v. Grant, 4 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 580; Mohn v. King, 41 N. Y. App. Div. 611, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 97.

A deed from the devisee of the land and its proceeds tendered by the executors cannot without the purchaser's consent validate a deed under a power in the will, which was void because executed by only one of two qualify or who remain in office may execute the deed alone.[63] A mere power to sell gives to executors power only to convey whatever title the testator had, and does not give them power to bind the estate by covenants of warranty or otherwise in the deed.[64]

(B) Construction and Effect.[65] In matters of description the usual rules of construction as applied to conveyances will apply to a deed of land from an executor or administrator.[66] A covenant by the representative against his own acts does not by implication warrant the title nor amount to a covenant that his decedent was seized of the premises.[67] The deed of an executor who had no estate whatever in the land, but only a power to sell, will be considered an exercise of that power;[68] but, where the executor who conveyed had an individual interest but no power of sale, his conveyance passes his individual interest only,[69] and even where he had both an individual interest and a power to convey as executor, his conveyance made without actual reference to the power has been presumed a deed of his individual interest alone.[70] Where the grantor in a conveyance styles himself the executor of a person last seized, and possession accompanies the deed, it will be presumed after the lapse of many years that the grantor had authority to make the deed.[71] Under a statute excepting out of a will the interest of any child or children not named or provided for, a sale by an executor under a power in the will, while it transfers to the purchaser all that the executor could lawfully sell, does not affect the interest of such child or children.[72] The mere form of a conveyance by an executor under a power in the will may be disregarded and the effect of the conveyance determined by the power.[73]

(VIII) Payment and Recovery of Purchase-Money—(A) In General.[74] Where real property is sold by executors under a power in the will, the executors are authorized to collect and receive the purchase-money and enforce any security given for deferred payments,[75] and they do not lose their power as such joint executors. Wells v. Lewis, 4 Metc. (Ky.) 269.

63. Wells v. Lewis, 4 Metc. (Ky.) 269; In re Fisher, 13 L. R. Ir. 546.

Presumption.—Fifty years after the execution of a deed by two executors it will be presumed that all the acting executors signed it, although it is shown that there was a third executor. Fleming v. Burnham, 36 Hun (N. Y.) 456.

64. Bauerle v. Long, 187 Ill. 475, 58 N. E. 458, 52 L. R. A. 643 [affirming 88 Ill. App. 177]; Ramsey v. Wandell, 32 Hun (N. Y.) 482; Mayer v. McCune, 59 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 78; Grantland v. Wight, 5 Munf. (Va.) 295, holding that an executor, selling the lands of his testator under a power in the will, is not bound to convey with general warranty, but only with special warranty against himself and all persons claiming under him.

An executor may give his personal warranty of title, assuming the consequences, and sell accordingly. Mayer v. McCune, 59 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 78; Baley v. Measam, 2 Rev. de Lég. 337.

65. Deed pursuant to sale under order of court see infra, XII, U, 5, 6.

66. Floyd v. Adams, 1 A. K. Marsh. (Ky.) 72. See also Hiss v. McCabe, 45 Md. 77.

Description carrying right or easement in street see Bloomfield v. Ketcham, 95 N. Y. 657.

67. Sandford v. Travers, 7 Bosw. (N. Y.) 498.

68. Jones v. Wood, 16 Pa. St. 25.

69. Morrison v. Bowman, 29 Cal. 337.

70. Reeves v. Barrett, (Ark. 1890) 13 S. W. 77; Jones v. Wood, 16 Pa. St. 25; Hay v. Mayer, 8 Watts (Pa.) 203, 34 Am. Dec. 453. See also Frisby v. Withers, 61 Tex. 134. But compare Burchard v. Wright, 11 Leigh (Va.) 463.

Where the conveyance shows that it was intended as an execution of the trust under the will it will not be considered an individual conveyance of the executors, although they had an individual interest in the property. Arlington State Bank v. Paulsen, 57 Nebr. 717, 78 N. W. 303.

71. Maverick v. Austin, 1 Bailey (S. C.) 59, where thirty years had elapsed.

72. Northrop v. Marquam, 16 Oreg. 173, 18 Pac. 449.

73. Robeno v. Marlatt, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 251.

74. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, O, 1.

75. McElroy v. Nucleus Assoc., 131 Pa. St. 393, 18 Atl. 1063.

Security given by legatees who purchased. —Where real estate sold by an executor as directed by the will is purchased by legatees under the will, who give a mortgage for part of the purchase-money, it is not a sufficient defense to a scire facias issued on the mortgage that the money due from the purchasers on the mortgage is due to themselves as legatees. Nelson v. McLaughlin, 20 Pa. Co. Ct. 385.

to receive the money, nor is the purchaser relieved of his duty to pay to them because an unsuccessful effort has been made to secure the payment of the principal sum to the persons ultimately entitled to receive it from the executors.[76] Where an executor having power under the will to sell at any time makes a sale before the time of distribution under the will has arrived, he is authorized to take notes payable to himself in payment for the property.[77]

(B) Payment in Confederate Money.[78] Payment of purchase-money or of a bond and mortgage given to secure the same, when due, in Confederate money, may be good and discharge the debt if the payment was made and accepted in good faith,[79] and an executor or administrator receiving such payment in good faith at a time when Confederate money was the only currency in general circulation is not liable for the resulting loss.[80]

(C) Actions to Recover — (1) IN GENERAL.[81] The right of the executor to sue for the purchase-money and coerce payment follows as incidental to his right to receive the same,[82] but where he had no legal right to sell he cannot maintain an action for the purchase-money.[83]

(2) DEFENSES.[84] Fraud in the sale has been held a good defense to an action by the executor for the purchase-money.[85] Where the property was sold without any contract as to encumbrances, and conveyed by deed without covenants, the fact that taxes were a lien thereon at the time of the sale, and were paid by the purchaser to remove the encumbrance thereof, constitutes no defense to an action for the price.[86] In an action on a note given to an executor for the purchase-price of property sold by the executor to defendant, an answer that the testator was indebted to defendant in a sum named is not good as a counter-claim,[87] nor can a note for a certain amount executed by one of defendants to the mother of one of the minor legatees, which was not agreed to by the executor and which has never been paid, be allowed as a credit.[88] Although an executor's deed may have been

Unauthorized sale by third person.—Where a person without authority of law sold land belonging to an estate, after the death of decedent and before administration, and received part of the purchase-money therefor, the representatives of decedent could not maintain an action against such person or his executor for money had and received to their use, nor for the use of the estate, since they had not been deprived of any legal or equitable interest in the land by such sale. Crews v. Heard, 7 Ga. 60.

76. McElroy v. Nucleus Assoc., 131 Pa. St. 393, 18 Atl. 1063.

77. Rogers v. Jones, 13 Tex. Civ. App. 453, 35 S. W. 812. See also Smith v. Blair, 5 Ky. L. Rep. 687.

78. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, O, 3.

79. Glasgow v. Lipse, 117 U. S. 327, 6 S. Ct. 757, 29 L. ed. 901.

In case of fraud the rule is otherwise. See McBurney v. Carson, 99 U. S. 567, 25 L. ed. 378.

80. Womack's Succession, 29 La. Ann. 577 (holding that the representative can be held for only what the money he received was at that time worth in gold); Mills v. Mills, 28 Gratt. (Va.) 442.

Sale for Confederate money — Scaling by property standard see Moore v. Harnsberger, 26 Gratt. (Va.) 667, construing and applying the Virginia statute.

81. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, O, 9.

82. Crouse v. Peterson, 130 Cal. 169, 62 Pac. 475, 615, 80 Am. St. Rep. 89; Duer v. Harrill, 9 N. C. 50.

83. Fambro v. Gantt, 12 Ala. 298; Richardson v. Crooker, 7 Gray (Mass.) 190.

84. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, O, 9, c.

85. Miller v. Raynard, 2 Houst. (Del.) 559, 83 Am. Dec. 168, where the executor employed a puffer, by reason of which the purchaser was compelled to bid twelve dollars an acre more for the property than he would otherwise have been compelled to pay. But see Westfall v. Dungan, 14 Ohio St. 276, holding that false and fraudulent representations made by the executor at the time of the sale in respect to its subject-matter are not available either as a defense or by way of recoupment or counter-claim in such an action, the remedy of the purchaser, if any, being against the executor personally.

86. Boaz v. McChesney, 53 Ind. 193.

87. Dunn v. Carpenter, 10 Ky. L. Rep. 494. See also Mellen v. Boarman, 13 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 100.

Advances to decedent for purchase.—Where A and B purchased land, A advancing B's part of the price and taking the title in his own name, and B afterward died insolvent, and the property was sold at auction by agreement of the executor and A, and A bought it, he was entitled to retain his advances out of the proceeds in his hands. Blanchard v. Lockett, 3 La. Ann. 98.

88. Wright v. Heffner, 57 Tex. 518.

defective, as purporting to convey his own interest only in the property, he having no legal interest in it, but only a naked power to sell, still the purchaser acquires an equitable estate by the deed which he must reconvey or offer to reconvey, before he can make any defense to the payment of notes given for the purchase-money;[89] but where the sale itself is invalid, the purchaser is not bound to offer to surrender possession to entitle him to resist the collection of the purchase-money.[90]

(D) Resale and Recovery of Difference in Price.[91] In most jurisdictions where the purchaser refuses to complete his purchase, the executor has a remedy in the probate court by making a resale and proceeding against the purchaser for the difference in price,[92] but this remedy is not exclusive and does not preclude an action for the purchase-money.[93]

(IX) PROCEEDS—(A) Liability of Representative.[94] An executor will be compelled to account in the probate court for the proceeds of real estate sold by him pursuant to the directions of the will,[95] and in a proper case an executor into whose hands proceeds of the sale of realty have come or are to come may be required to give security therefor;[96] but where a sale is made by the representative without authority he cannot be compelled to account in his representative capacity for the proceeds.[97]

(B) How Far Regarded as Personalty.[98] In case of a sale of a decedent's realty there is a conversion into personalty only to the extent to which the purchase-money may be required as personalty for the particular object for which the sale is made, otherwise such proceeds, although in the form of money, remain impressed with the character of realty so far as to determine who is entitled thereto.[99]

89. Bond v. Ramsey, 89 Ill. 29, holding further that where a second deed is made and tendered before the bringing of an action upon such notes, which does convey all the interest the testator had, this is all the purchaser can exact, and a recovery can be had on the notes.

90. Fambro v. Gantt, 12 Ala. 298; Washington v. McCaughan, 34 Miss. 304.

91. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, O, 10.

92. Crouse v. Peterson, 130 Cal. 169, 62 Pac. 475, 615, 80 Am. St. Rep. 89.

Sufficiency of averments in declaration.— An averment, in a declaration to recover a deficiency in price on resale of land previously sold to defendant, that the vendor had power to sell as executor is sufficient, without an allegation that the title of the vendor's testator was good. Adams v. McMillan, 7 Port. (Ala.) 73.

93. Crouse v. Peterson, 130 Cal. 169, 62 Pac. 475, 615, 80 Am. St. Rep. 89.

94. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, V.

95. Hood v. Hood, 85 N. Y. 561 [reversing 19 Hun 300]; Stagg v. Jackson, 1 N. Y. 206; Matter of Collins, 70 Hun (N. Y.) 273, 24 N. Y. Suppl. 226 [affirmed in 144 N. Y. 522, 39 N. E. 629]; Matter of Blauvelt, 60 Hun (N. Y.) 394, 15 N. Y. Suppl. 586 [reversed on other grounds in 131 N. Y. 249, 30 N. E. 194]; Mayer v. McCune, 59 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 78; Bloodgood v. Bruen, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 8; Nimmo v. Com., 4 Hen. & M. (Va.) 57, 4 Am. Dec. 488.

Proceeds not received as executor.— Where the executor sells lands under a power conferred by the will on him personally, and not as executor, he should not include the proceeds of sale in his executor's account (Matter of Brown, 5 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 223), nor should proceeds received as trustees and not as executor be brought into the administration account (In re Aston, 5 Whart. (Pa.) 228).

Conveyance of individual interest.— One who before his appointment as administrator deeds "all his rights, title, and interest of and in" land of which intestate died seized is not liable to the personal representatives or heirs of intestate for the purchase-money, since his deed neither conveys nor attempts to convey any interest of the intestate or of the heirs. Wildermuth v. Long, 196 Pa. St. 541, 46 Atl. 927.

Amount paid in satisfaction of dower should be credited. Meeks v. Thompson, 8 Gratt. (Va.) 134, 56 Am. Dec. 134.

96. Holmes v. Cock, 2 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 426.

97. Matter of Hodgman, 11 N. Y. App. Div. 42 N. Y. Suppl. 1004.

Where the interest of a devisee has been improperly sold by the executor, the devisee may waive the tort and pursue the purchase-money in an action for money had and received against the person to whom the executor paid it. Stoner v. Zimmerman, 21 Pa. St. 394.

98. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, V.

99. Cronise v. Hardt, 47 Md. 433; In re Raleigh, 206 Pa. St. 451, 55 Atl. 1119; Maguire's Estate, 10 Pa. Dist. 238, holding that the proceeds of a sale of real estate by an executor under a power in a will are to be regarded as realty, although greatly enhanced by the fact that the property had a retail liquor license. See also Post v. Benchley, 15 N. Y. St. 618.

(c) Disposition of Proceeds.[1] Where a power of sale is lawfully exercised for certain specified purposes, it is the duty of the executor to devote the proceeds to such purposes, and to pay over the surplus, if any remains after the special purpose has been carried out, to such persons as the will intended.[2] Where the testator has authorized or directed a sale of land for the payment of debts, the money arising therefrom becomes legal assets for that purpose,[3] and it has been held that even though a sale is not made for the payment of debts the proceeds must be applicable to the debts if needed therefor because the sale cuts off the remedy of creditors against the land.[4] Where an executor by mistake or otherwise has sold land not belonging to his testator the true owner is entitled to the purchase-money.[5]

(d) Liability of Purchaser as to Application of Proceeds.[6] Where a purchaser from an executor who sells under a power contained in the will pays over the purchase-money in good faith to his vendor, he is under no duty or obligation to see to the proper application or distribution of the money by the latter.[7]

1. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, V.

2. Illinois.— In re Whitman, 22 Ill. 511.

Kentucky.— Ducker v. Stubblefield, 9 B. Mon. 577.

Maryland.— Cronise v. Hardt, 47 Md. 433; State v. Nicols, 10 Gill & J. 27.

New Jersey.—Tonnele v. Zabriskie, 51 N. J. Eq. 557, 26 Atl. 808.

New York.— Bogert v. Hertell, 4 Hill 492.

North Carolina.— Peacock v. Harris, 85 N. C. 146.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 591.

3. Kentucky.— Loftus v. Locker, 1 J. J. Marsh. 297.

Missouri.— Governor v. Chouteau, 1 Mo. 731.

New Jersey.— Smith v. Bloomsbury First Presb. Church, 26 N. J. Eq. 132.

Ohio.— Stiver v. Stiver, 8 Ohio 217.

Pennsylvania.— Philadelphia's Appeal, 112 Pa. St. 470, 4 Atl. 4.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 591.

Payment of mortgage.— Where a testatrix charged her real estate with the payment of her debts, and empowered her executors to sell so much thereof as should be necessary for that purpose, the proceeds of land sold to pay debts could not be applied to the payment of mortgage debts, to the prejudice of creditors not secured by mortgage. Van Vechten v. Keator, 63 N. Y. 52.

4. Matter of Newell, 38 Misc. (N. Y.) 563, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 1116. See also In re Bolton, 146 N. Y. 257, 40 N. E. 737; Cahill v. Russell, 140 N. Y. 402, 35 N. E. 664. But see In re McComb, 117 N. Y. 378, 22 N. E. 1070; Mayer v. McCune, 59 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 78; Hannum v. Spear, 2 Dall. (Pa.) 291, 1 L. ed. 386.

A power to sell when for the best interests of the estate will be deemed to authorize executors to apply the proceeds to the payment of debts which would be a burden on property unsold, and this, although the power does not expressly direct such application of the property. Olyphant v. Phyfe, 27 Misc. (N. Y.) 64, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 217.

Right lost by limitations.— A testator who died in 1839, directed his executors to sell his real estate, but they neglected to do so till 1856. In 1842 the executors rendered their final account of the personal estate, which was insufficient to pay the debts of the testator, and a dividend was declared, and the executors were directed by the surrogate to distribute among the creditors any surplus that might be left after paying expenses of administration. It was held that creditors who received their dividend were barred by the statute of limitations from obtaining, in 1857, payment of the remainder of their claim out of the real estate sold by the executors in 1856. Warren v. Paff, 4 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 260.

Arrangement as to discharge of liens.— Where the real estate of two deceased tenants in common was sold by their executors, and in order to make clear title the executors paid off liens on the real estate, one paying a larger amount than the other under an agreement that on the distribution of the estate a proper adjustment should be made, a simple contract creditor of one decedent could not object to this adjustment. Strough's Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 291.

5. Miller's Appeal, 84 Pa. St. 391.

Partnership land.— A sale by an executor of a partner of the whole of a lot of land, in ignorance of the partnership, entitles the claimant under the other partner to his proportion of the purchase-money, with interest. Lee v. Craig, 1 A. K. Marsh. (Ky.) 177.

6. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, V, 6.

7. Arkansas.—Ludlow v. Flournoy, 34 Ark. 451.

Georgia.— Wright v. Zeigler, 1 Ga. 324, 44 Am. Dec. 656.

Illinois.— Whitman v. Fisher, 74 Ill. 147 (holding that the validity of the executors' deed under a power to sell for payment of legacies is not impaired by their using the

(E) Proceedings For Distribution.[8] Equity formerly took exclusive jurisdiction over the proceeds of a sale of real estate under a will as to compelling distribution,[9] but probate courts are now vested by statute with authority over such matters.[10]

(X) Nature, Validity, and Effect of Sale.[11] A sale by an executor acting under the authority of a power conferred by the will is in no sense judicial in its character,[12] and the purchaser deals with the executor as he would with any other vendor.[13] A sale or conveyance under a power in the will transfers all title that the testator had and divests the heirs of all title by descent,[14] but where a conveyance of the testator's land by the executor is invalid because of a lack of power the title remains in the heirs or devisees.[15] A testator cannot by any power money for paying debts); Wardwell v. McDowell, 31 Ill. 364.

Indiana.— Munson v. Cole, 98 Ind. 502.

Maryland.— Seldner v. McCreery, 75 Md. 287, 23 Atl. 641; Alther v. Barroll, 22 Md. 500.

New Jersey.— Barnes v. Trenton Gas Light Co., 27 N. J. Eq. 33; Dewey v. Ruggles, 25 N. J. Eq. 35.

New York.— Coogan v. Ockershausen, 55 N. Y. Super. Ct. 286, 18 N. Y. St. 366.

North Carolina.— Hauser v. Shore, 40 N. C. 357.

Pennsylvania.— In re Cochrane, 202 Pa. St. 415, 51 Atl. 989; Grant v. Hook, 13 Serg. & R. 259; Dinsmore v. Kelso, 4 Brewst. 34; McCartney's Estate, 2 Pa. Co. Ct. 202, 18 Wkly. Notes Cas. 51.

South Carolina.— Laurens v. Lucas, 6 Rich. Eq. 217.

Texas.— Rogers v. Jones, 13 Tex. Civ. App. 453, 35 S. W. 812.

Virginia.— Hughes v. Tabb, 78 Va. 313; Davis v. Christian, 15 Gratt. 11; Meeks v. Thompson, 8 Gratt. 134, 56 Am. Dec. 134.

United States.— Garnett v. Macon, 10 Fed. Cas. No. 5,245, 2 Brock. 185, 6 Call (Va.) 308; Greenway v. Roberts, 10 Fed. Cas. No. 5,790, 2 Cranch C. C. 246.

England.— Corser v. Cartwright, L. R. 7 H. L. 731, 45 L. J. Ch. 605; Robinson v. Lowater, 17 Beav. 592 [affirmed in 5 De G. M. & G. 272, 18 Jur. 363, 23 L. J. Ch. 641, 2 Wkly. Rep. 394, 54 Eng. Ch. 215, 43 Eng. Reprint 875]; Smith v. Guyon, 1 Bro. Ch. 186, 28 Eng. Reprint 1072; Colyer v. Finch, 5 H. L. Cas. 905, 3 Jur. N. S. 25, 26 L. J. Ch. 65, 10 Eng. Reprint 1159; Ball v. Harris, 3 Jur. 140, 8 L. J. Ch. 114, 4 Myl. & C. 264, 18 Eng. Ch. 264 [affirming 1 Jur. 706, 8 Sim. 485, 8 Eng. Ch. 485]; Jones v. Noyes, 4 Jur. N. S. 1033, 28 L. J. Ch. 47, 7 Wkly. Rep. 21; Shaw v. Borrer, 1 Keen 559, 5 L. J. Ch. 364, 15 Eng. Ch. 559, 48 Eng. Reprint 422; Forbes v. Peacock, 15 L. J. Ch. 31, 1 Phil. 717, 19 Eng. Ch. 717, 41 Eng. Reprint 805 [reversing 7 Jur. 688, 13 L. J. Ch. 46, 12 Sim. 528, 35 Eng. Ch. 447]; Eland v. Eland, 3 Jur. 474, 8 L. J. Ch. 289, 4 Myl. & C. 420, 18 Eng. Ch. 420. See also Sabin v. Heape, 27 Beav. 553, 5 Jur. N. S. 1146, 29 L. J. Ch. 79, 1 L. T. Rep. N. S. 51, 8 Wkly. Rep. 120.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 592.

Certain limitations of this rule have been recognized in England. See Horne v. Horne, 4 L. J. Ch. O. S. 52, 2 Sim. & St. 448, 1 Eng. Ch. 448; Abbot v. Gibbs, 1 Eq. Cas. Abr. 358, 21 Eng. Reprint 1101; Haynes v. Forshaw, 11 Hare 93, 17 Jur. 930, 22 L. J. Ch. 1060, 1 Wkly. Rep. 346, 45 Eng. Ch. 93; Johnson v. Kennett, 3 Myl. & K. 624, 10 Eng. Ch. 624, 40 Eng. Reprint 238 [reversing 6 Sim. 384, 9 Eng. Ch. 384]; Watkins v. Cheek, 2 Sim. & St. 199, 25 Rev. Rep. 181, 1 Eng. Ch. 199; Spalding v. Shalmer, 1 Vern. Ch. 301, 23 Eng. Reprint 483.

The purchaser's knowledge that the executor is embarrassed in his affairs is not such proof that the money is likely to be misapplied as to be notice to the purchaser of the bad faith of the executor. Davis v. Christian, 15 Gratt. (Va.) 11.

8. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, V.

9. Monroe v. Wilson, 6 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 122.

10. Ex p. Hayes, 88 Ind. 1; Hart v. Durbar, 4 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 273; Holmes v. Cock, 2 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 426; In re Vandervoort, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 270; Bloodgood v. Bruen, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 8.

In an action to sell certain real estate of decedent and to make distribution of the proceeds arising from the sale, moneys received by the executor from a sale of property under a power of sale in the will cannot be directed to be applied to the payment of the debts of the estate. Matter of Gedney, 30 Misc. (N. Y.) 18, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 1023.

11. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, T.

12. In re Pearson, 98 Cal. 603, 33 Pac. 451, 102 Cal. 569, 36 Pac. 934; Harwell v. Foster, 102 Ga. 38, 28 S. E. 967.

13. In re Pearson, 102 Cal. 569, 36 Pac. 934. See, generally, VENDOR AND PURCHASER.

14. Peebles v. Watts, 9 Dana (Ky.) 102, 33 Am. Dec. 531.

Judgment against heir.— The title of the purchaser goes behind the lien of a judgment against an heir or residuary legatee and cuts it off. Penn v. Mutual Cotton Oil Co., 106 Ga. 152, 32 S. E. 17. And even a levy against the devisee does not prevent the execution of the power of sale or affect the title of the purchaser. Smyth v. Anderson, 31 Ohio St. 144.

15. King v. Whiton, 15 Wis. 684.

of sale in his will relieve his land from liability for his debts in case the personalty is insufficient to pay them,[16] and while a sale of land by executors under a power in the will to sell for the payment of debts is good against creditors[17] and discharges the land from the lien of debts not of record,[18] or even of a judgment rendered against decedent in his lifetime,[19] a sale for purposes other than the payment of debts has been considered not to give the purchaser a title discharged from all claim and demand on account of the debts.[20] Where the will charges the debts generally upon the land and a sale is made with the collusion of the purchaser for the purpose of preventing the payment of the debts the land will remain charged with the debts in the hands of the purchaser.[21] A sale by an executor pursuant to direction in the will is not invalid because of the invalidity of the testamentary directions as to the disposition of the proceeds.[22] Where the will contains a power of sale, but gives no power to mortgage the realty, a conveyance made for the purpose of indirectly subjecting the property to a mortgage is invalid.[23]

(XI) TITLE AND RIGHTS OF PURCHASER—(A) In General.[24] After a will is admitted to probate it is the law for the administration of the testator's estate, and a sale by virtue of a power conferred thereby is as complete an administration of the property and passes title thereto as effectually as if made under an order of court.[25] A purchaser in good faith from an executor who has power to sell gets a title and possession which is good at law, even though the sale be prematurely or indiscreetly made, or the necessity for the exercise of the power has not arisen, or that the sale was made for an inadequate consideration, or in violation of the executor's duty; the relief against him, if any can be had, being only in equity and at the instance of the beneficiary whose interests have been prejudiced.[26] Neither is the purchaser's title as against beneficiaries affected by Sale under will subsequently set aside.— A sale by executors under one will passes no title as against the universal legatee under a subsequent will duly probated. Gaines v. New Orleans, 6 Wall. (U. S.) 642, 18 L. ed. 950. See also Gaines v. De la Croix, 6 Wall. (U. S.) 719, 18 L. ed. 965.

16. See Betts v. Cobb, 121 Ala. 154, 25 So. 692.

Protection of bona fide purchaser.— Property in the hands of a bona fide purchaser from executors who have power to sell will be protected by compelling the executors if they have assets to pay claims against it. Latrobe v. Tiernan, 2 Md. Ch. 474.

17. Hannum v. Spear, 2 Dall. (Pa.) 291, 1 L. ed. 386. See also Grant v. Hook, 13 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 259.

18. Cadbury v. Duval, 10 Pa. St. 265; Connelly's Estate, 3 Del. Co. (Pa.) 402.

19. McDaniel v. Edwards, 56 Ga. 444; Stallings v. Ivey, 49 Ga. 274; Carhart v. Vann, 46 Ga. 389; Sims v. Ferrill, 45 Ga. 585.

Effect as to lands not sold.— Where land subject to the lien of a judgment against the decedent is sold by his executors and the proceeds applied to the payment of junior liens, this does not discharge, in favor of the heirs or devisees, the lien of the judgment upon other lands remaining in their possession. Konigmaker v. Brown, 14 Pa. St. 269 [following Wells v. Baird, 3 Pa. St. 351].

20. Hannum v. Spear, 2 Dall. (Pa.) 291, 1 L. ed. 386, power to sell for payment of legacies. See also Mayer v. McCune, 59 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 78, holding that where after testator's death judgment was entered against his executrix in a suit commenced against him in his lifetime, and under a testamentary power the executrix contracted to convey his lands in fee simple, she could not compel specific performance of the agreement before satisfaction of the judgment, since the lands might be subjected to payment of the judgment under the New York statute authorizing the surrogate to compel mortgaging of the estate to pay the debts of testator where the personal estate is insufficient for that purpose. But see In re Bolton, 146 N. Y. 257, 40 N. E. 737; Cahill v. Russell, 140 N. Y. 402, 35 N. E. 664; Matter of Newell, 38 Misc. (N. Y.) 563, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 1116.

21. Garnett v. Macon, 10 Fed. Cas. No. 5,245, 2 Brock. 185, 6 Call (Va.) 308.

22. Peters v. Bowman, 19 Fed. Cas. No. 11,029 [affirmed in 98 U. S. 56, 25 L. ed. 91].

23. Arnoux v. Phyfe, 6 N. Y. App. Div. 505, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 973 [affirmed in 159 N. Y. 552, 54 N. E. 1089].

24. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, T, 3.

Rights of divested purchaser see infra, VIII, O, 9, d, (XIII).

25. Penn v. Mutual Cotton Oil Co., 106 Ga. 152, 32 S. E. 17.

26. Alabama.— Traylor v. Marshall, 11 Ala. 458.

Georgia.— Reeves v. Bolles, 95 Ga. 402, 22 S. E. 626; Fields v. Carlton, 84 Ga. 597, 11 S. E. 124; Bagley v. Stephens, 78 Ga. 304, 2 S. E. 545; Atkinson v. Central Georgia Agricultural, etc., Co., 58 Ga. 227.

the executor's misappropriation of the proceeds.[27] But a sale of land by executors without consideration and outside the scope of the power given them by the will is void as to the immediate grantee, and subsequent grantees with notice, at the suit of the estate of the testator and his creditors, or at the suit of prior judgment creditors of the beneficiaries in such estate.[28]

(B) Rule of Caveat Emptor.[29] A sale by an executor passes only such interest as testator had in the property,[30] and a purchaser whose deed contains no covenants to cover defects in title takes at his own risk, and unless he can show fraudulent representations upon which he relied as an inducement to his purchase, he is without remedy in case the title proves defective or he otherwise gets less than he expected to secure by his purchase.[31] But where the executor assures one about to purchase that he will make him a clear title and the purchase is made accordingly the purchaser is entitled to a title free from encumbrance.[32]

(C) Protection as Bona Fide Purchaser.[33] Where one purchases land from an executor as such he is bound to know whether or not the latter is authorized by the will to make the sale,[34] and if the executor has no such power the purchaser is not an innocent or bona fide purchaser.[35] But where the executor has power to sell, a purchaser from him acquires good title notwithstanding the bad faith of the executor in making the sale where he had no knowledge of such bad faith,[36] for the purchaser has a right to presume that the executor is acting in good faith,[37] and is not bound to inquire whether a necessity for the exercise of the power given by the will exists,[38] although he must not disregard information which he cannot avoid receiving without extraordinary negligence;[39] and if he has notice that the sale is made for a purpose other than that for which the will empowers the executor to sell, or is otherwise unauthorized, the legal title of the devisees is not divested.[40] Where the sale is tainted with fraud and covin between Kentucky.— Reed v. Reed, 91 Ky. 267, 15 S. W. 525, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 513; Coleman v. McKinney, 3 J. J. Marsh. 246.

Maryland.— Jenifer v. Beard, 4 Harr. & M. 73.

New Jersey.— Lindley v. O'Reilly, 50 N. J. L. 636, 15 Atl. 379, 7 Am. St. Rep. 802, 1 L. R. A. 79.

North Carolina.— Simpson v. Simpson, 93 N. C. 373.

Pennsylvania.— Corby's Estate, 4 Kulp 169.

Virginia.— Mills v. Mills, 28 Gratt. 442.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 595.

Conveyance before patent issued.— A deed executed by an executor under a will before the emanation of a patent can convey no legal title to the land; but if the patent issue in the name of the executor it operates in favor of the prior conveyance by way of estoppel. Lewis v. Baird, 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,316, 3 McLean 56.

A positive showing that the executor sold as such is not necessary to show a good title in a purchaser from an executor, there being no question of good faith. Harvey v. Van Cott, 71 Hun (N. Y.) 394, 25 N. Y. Suppl. 25.

27. Cochrane's Estate, 202 Pa. St. 415, 51 Atl. 989. See supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (IX), (D).

28. Arlington State Bank v. Paulsen, 57 Nebr. 717, 78 N. W. 303.

29. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, T, 3, b.

30. Wickersham's Estate, 139 Cal. 652, 73 Pac. 541, (1902) 70 Pac. 1079.

31. California.— Miller v. Gray, 136 Cal. 261, 68 Pac. 770.

Georgia.— Jones v. Warnock, 67 Ga. 484.

Illinois.— Bond v. Ramsey, 89 Ill. 29.

Kansas.— Headrick v. Yount, 22 Kan. 344.

Nebraska.— Neary v. Neary, (1903) 97 N. W. 302.

Virginia.— Syme v. Johnston, 3 Call 558.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 595.

32. Reiner's Appeal, (Pa. 1888) 12 Atl. 850.

33. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, T, 3, c.

34. Johnson v. Porter, 115 Ga. 401, 41 S. E. 644; Brush v. Ware, 15 Pet. (U. S.) 93, 10 L. ed. 672.

35. Masterson v. Stevens, (Tex. Civ. App. 1896) 37 S. W. 364.

36. Scudder v. Stout, 10 N. J. Eq. 377; Staples v. Staples, 24 Gratt. (Va.) 225.

37. Davis v. Christian, 15 Gratt. (Va.) 11.

38. Rutherford v. Clark, 4 Bush (Ky.) 27; Smith v. Henning, 10 W. Va. 596; Smith v. McIntyre, 95 Fed. 585, 37 C. C. A. 177. See also Wright v. Zeigler, 1 Ga. 324, 44 Am. Dec. 656.

39. Davis v. Christian, 15 Gratt. (Va.) 11.

40. Johnson v. Porter, 115 Ga. 401, 41 S. E. 644; Rutherford v. Clark, 4 Bush (Ky.) 27; Luke v. Marshall, 5 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 353; Smith v. Henning, 10 W. Va. 596.

the executor and the purchaser, it is absolutely void and the title to the property remains unchanged.[41]

(XII) SETTING ASIDE SALE—(A) Jurisdiction.[42] In some states the probate court has power to set aside a sale of realty by an executor,[43] unless the circumstances are such that the estate is no longer interested;[44] but in others the jurisdiction of the probate court to set aside an executor's sale for fraud has been denied,[45] this being a matter of which equity takes jurisdiction.[46]

(B) Grounds.[47] A false representation by the executor or administrator, selling without an order of court, to the effect that the sale is authorized by the will entitles the purchaser who was thereby misled and induced to buy to a rescission of the contract in equity.[48] A sale of real estate by the executor under power conferred by a will which is imperfectly executed will be set aside.[49] A sale may be set aside where it is made to appear that it is tainted with fraud and collusion between the executor and the purchaser by reason of which the interests of the estate or of the heirs or devisees have been injuriously affected;[50] and it has been held that the mere fact that in conducting the sale the executor placed himself in antagonism to the interests of the devisees, by collusion with the real purchaser, was sufficient to entitle the devisees to have the sale set aside whether they were in fact prejudiced or not.[51] Mere inadequacy of price is not usually considered a sufficient ground for setting aside a sale by an executor,[52] but it is otherwise where the inadequacy is so gross as to indicate fraud, undue advantage, improvidence, or an abuse of the power conferred;[53] and in some states the fact that on a resale a sum at least ten per cent greater than that paid at the first sale, exclusive of the expenses of the resale, can be obtained, is a sufficient ground for setting aside the sale and ordering a resale.[54] The mere fact that an executor received Confederate currency in payment for his testator's land sold by him is

41. Wright v. Zeigler, 1 Ga. 324, 44 Am. Dec. 656.

42. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, S, 5, a.

43. Daily's Appeal, 87 Pa. St. 487 (holding that, although the orphans' court has no jurisdiction over a sale under a testamentary power when rightly executed, it has authority to set a sale of land aside under such power where it appears that one only of two executors acted in execution of the power); Dundas' Appeal, 64 Pa. St. 325; Fricke's Estate, 16 Pa. Super. Ct. 38 (inadequacy of price).

44. Barber's Appeal, 125 Pa. St. 564, 18 Atl. 394.

45. Matter of Valentine, 1 Misc. (N. Y.) 491, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 289; Hawley v. Tesch, 72 Wis. 299, 39 N. W. 483.

46. Hawley v. Tesch, 72 Wis. 299, 39 N. W. 483.

47. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, S, 4.

48. Stark v. Henderson, 30 Ala. 438; Lowry v. McDonald, Sm. & M. Ch. (Miss.) 620; Crisman v. Beasley, Sm. & M. Ch. (Miss.) 561; Woods v. North, 6 Humphr. (Tenn.) 309, 44 Am. Dec. 312.

An express representation is not necessary, for the mere offering of the property for sale by the executor amounts to a representation that he has power to sell. Lowry v. McDonald, Sm. & M. Ch. (Miss.) 620; Crisman v. Beasley, Sm. & M. Ch. (Miss.) 561; Woods v. North, 6 Humphr. (Tenn.) 309, 44 Am. Dec. 312.

49. Dunlap v. Dunlap, 4 Desauss. (S. C.) 305.

50. Howell v. Sebring, 14 N. J. Eq. 84.

The fact that the administrator purchased at his own sale, although it may not be relied on as a substantial ground of relief, may give character to his conduct in regard to the sale and thus tend to substantiate a charge of fraud. Howell v. Sebring, 14 N. J. Eq. 84.

Evidence not sufficient to show fraud see Brown v. Brown, 64 Mich. 75, 31 N. W. 34.

51. Larkin v. Crawford, 5 Ky. L. Rep. 326.

52. Kimball v. Lincoln, 99 Ill. 578 [affirming 7 Ill. App. 470]; Osgood v. Franklin, 2 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 1, 7 Am. Dec. 513; Dietrich's Estate, 1 Lehigh Val. L. Rep. (Pa.) 193; Bradford v. McConihay, 15 W. Va. 732.

Inadequate rate of interest in purchase-money mortgage.—A trustee of persons interested in the estate cannot object to the confirmation of a sale by the executor under a power in a will on the ground that the interest provided for by the purchase-money mortgage will not furnish his beneficiaries sufficient revenue, unless he shows that an equally secure investment of the trust funds can be obtained at a higher rate of interest. Knight's Estate, 7 Pa. Dist. 469.

53. Osgood v. Franklin, 2 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 1, 7 Am. Dec. 513; Fricke's Estate, 16 Pa. Super. Ct. 38; Dietrich's Estate, 1 Lehigh Val. L. Rep. (Pa.) 193.

Evidence not showing such inadequacy as to indicate fraud see Brown v. Brown, 64 Mich. 75, 31 N. W. 34; Sharp v. Greene, 22 Wash. 677, 62 Pac. 147.

54. Perkins v. Gridley, 50 Cal. 97; In re Durham, 49 Cal. 490; Pollard v. McFillen, 6 Phila. (Pa.) 125.

not ground for setting the sale aside if the payment was made and received in good faith.[55]

(c) Who May Attack Sale.[56] Creditors,[57] legatees,[58] or distributees[59] are in such immediate interest that if the proceeds of an improper, fraudulent, or improvident sale be insufficient to settle their specific claims in full they may seek such redress; but devisees[60] or heirs[61] are usually the persons injuriously affected by an improper sale and these may proceed by virtue of their several interests, where the sale should be set aside. Even these, however, may become estopped to attack the sale,[62] and this is the result where they have ratified or acquiesced in the sale, received their respective portions of the purchase-money, or otherwise participated knowingly in the benefits of the transaction.[63] Proceedings by the executor or administrator to set aside may be upheld in a case where he himself is free from fault;[64] but an executor or administrator who becomes a party to improper dealings with the estate or who himself is culpable as to the occasion of setting the sale aside, especially when he receives the proceeds, cannot be heard in equity to impeach the sale of the land or to deny its validity.[65]

55. Blount v. Moore, 54 Ala. 360.

56. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, S, 1.

57. Elting v. Biggsville First Nat. Bank, 173 Ill. 368, 50 N. E. 1095 [affirming 68 Ill. App. 204; Lothrop v. Wightman, 41 Pa. St. 297.

58. Bledsoe v. Bledsoe, 29 Ga. 385. But see Randle v. Carter, 62 Ala. 95.

59. Anderson v. Anderson, 64 Ala. 403.

60. Pirkle v. Cooper, 113 Ga. 828, 39 S. E. 289. See also Randle v. Carter, 62 Ala. 95.

Sale of homestead.—Where a husband dies, leaving as the only constituent member of his family his wife, in whom by law and by her husband's will the homestead rights vest, a child who is a devisee of a portion of the remainder cannot question the power of the executor to sell the homestead unless it affirmatively appears that the sale was not to pay debts and legacies. Holmes v. Stone, (Tex. Civ. App. 1899) 51 S. W. 518.

61. Pirkle v. Cooper, 113 Ga. 828, 39 S. E. 289; Woods v. Woods, 13 La. Ann. 189; Lothrop v. Wightman, 41 Pa. St. 297. But where testator provided that his lands should not be sold for distribution except under certain circumstances for thirteen years from the date of his will, but before the expiration of this period the executrix sold at a private sale, the heirs at law of the testator, as such, could not recover in ejectment against the purchaser, for if the executrix did not have authority to make the aforesaid sale the title remained in her for the purpose of executing the will of the testator and did not pass to plaintiffs. Neisler v. Moore, 58 Ga. 334.

What law governs as to majority of heirs. — The question when an heir became of full age so as to entitle her within a reasonable time to sue to avoid executors' sales of her ancestor's property for irregularities therein is to be determined by the law of the state where such property was situated and the testator had his domicile. O'Dell v. Rogers, 44 Wis. 136.

62. Cox v. Rust, (Tex. Civ. App. 1895) 29 S. W. 807.

When devisees not estopped.— Where there was testimony that there was ample personal estate of a testator to educate and support his children without selling any of his land, and that the money received by the executrix for land sold by her was lent out, and there was no evidence that any of the children ever received any portion of it, they were not estopped from asserting their title to the land devised to them by the father. Foote v. Sanders, 72 Mo. 616.

63. Alabama.— Creamer v. Holbrook, 99 Ala. 52, 11 So. 830. But see Walker v. Murphy, 34 Ala. 591.

Georgia.— Battle v. Wright, 116 Ga. 218, 42 S. E. 347; Knox v. Laird, 92 Ga. 123, 17 S. E. 988.

Kansas.— Crane v. Lowe, 59 Kan. 606, 54 Pac. 666.

Louisiana.— Ray v. McLain, 106 La. 780, 31 So. 315.

Michigan.— Cleland v. Casgrain, 92 Mich. 139, 52 N. W. 460.

Minnesota.—Lovejoy v. McDonald, 59 Minn. 393, 61 N. W. 320.

North Carolina.— Spainhour v. Walraven, 36 N. C. 352.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 604.

What amounts to ratification.— Where heirs at law bring an administrator to an accounting and obtain judgment against him, in part based upon the proceeds of land of the intestate purporting to have been regularly sold by him, their conduct amounts to a ratification of the sale. Battle v. Wright, 116 Ga. 218, 42 S. E. 347.

64. See infra, note 65.

65. Alabama.— Hopper v. Steele, 18 Ala. 828.

California.— Larco v. Casaneuava, 30 Cal. 560.

New Jersey.— Hance v. McKnight, 11 N. J. L. 385.

Washington.— Davis v. Ford, 15 Wash. 107, 45 Pac. 739, 46 Pac. 393.

Wisconsin.— O'Dell v. Rogers, 44 Wis. 136.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 604.

Strangers or third persons having no interest in the estate cannot make any attack upon the sale.[66]

(D) Proceedings.[67] The purchaser[68] as well as the executor[69] must be made a party to proceedings to avoid a sale of real estate by the latter. In some states there are statutes limiting the time within which an action by heirs or devisees to recover land improperly sold by an executor or administrator may be commenced.[70] The complainant must make out a case for relief in his pleadings,[71] and a party is bound by the admissions in his pleadings.[72] Where there is no showing that plaintiff secured any part of the purchase-price, the fact that there is no offer to return the price is immaterial.[73] When a representative's sale to himself is set aside by the court the annulment must be complete, it cannot be partial;[74] but a judgment setting aside such a sale affects only those who are before the court when it is rendered.[75] On setting aside a purchase by the representative at his own sale, it is the duty of the court to adjust the equities between the parties.[76] Where a will gives the executor a power of sale of land he has a

66. Hance v. McKnight, 11 N. J. L. 385; McDonald v. Hamblen, 78 Tex. 628, 14 S. W. 1042.

A creditor of one of the heirs cannot have the sale avoided. Lothrop v. Wightman, 41 Pa. St. 297.

In an action against a mere wrong-doer by one in possession of the land, where plaintiff offered in evidence his deed, which appeared to be a deed from one executor to another, defendant could not object that the sale by the executors had not been made as directed by the will of the testator. Hillegass v. Hillegass, 5 Pa. St. 97.

67. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, S, 5.

68. Dundas' Appeal, 64 Pa. St. 325.

Purchase by agent of executor.— One who bids in property as an agent for an executor at a sale made by authority of the executor is not a necessary party to a suit to set aside the sale, brought on the ground that the executor could not purchase at his own sale. Stilly v. Rice, 67 N. C. 178.

69. Dundas' Appeal, 64 Pa. St. 325.

Waiver of objection.— Where the widow and executrix is not made a party to a suit to set aside a sale by her of the testator's property to defendant under power in the will, the failure to take advantage of the defect either by demurrer or answer constitutes a waiver of the objection. Cowell v. South Denver Real Estate Co., 16 Colo. App. 108, 63 Pac. 991.

Executors under superseded will.— In a bill filed after the probate of a will to recover property sold by executors appointed by a former will, previously admitted to probate, it is not necessary to make such executors parties. Gaines v. Hennen, 24 How. (U. S.) 553, 16 L. ed. 770.

70. See Campbell v. Drais, 125 Cal. 253, 57 Pac. 994.

When statute not applicable.— Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1573, providing that action for recovery of an estate sold by an administrator shall be commenced within three years next after the settlement of the final account, does not prevent action after that time by children of deceased to quiet title to their half interest in the land as to which the sale was void, where the purchaser at such sale acknowledged their title and held for them as tenant in common, and the action was against the mortgagee of such purchaser, who when taking the mortgage was informed of their title and who purchased under foreclosure of the mortgage, they not being obliged to bring their action till he sought to gain possession under the title founded on the foreclosure. Campbell v. Drais, 125 Cal. 253, 57 Pac. 994.

71. Hughes v. Hughes, 87 Ala. 652, 6 So. 353, holding that a complaint in an action to set aside a sale of land on account of fraud, which alleged collusion between the executrix and the purchaser, by which they became jointly interested, although the deed was taken in the name of the purchaser alone; that the buyer afterward conveyed to the executrix a half interest in the lots for one half of the original purchase-price; that two months thereafter they both sold the lots for a large amount; and that at the time of the first sale the price of the lots was rising and there was no necessity for the sale, which allegations were denied in the answer, did not make out a case for relief, as it failed to aver that the market price of the lots when first sold exceeded the price obtained therefor, and whether any, or what, improvements were put upon them between that time and the second sale.

A failure to allege non-acquiescence in the complaint was immaterial where the answer averred that plaintiff in a suit to set aside a sale of land acquiesced in such sale, and the replication denied the allegation. Cowell v. South Denver Real Estate Co., 16 Colo. App. 108, 63 Pac. 991.

72. Hughes v. Hughes, 87 Ala. 652, 6 So. 353.

73. Cowell v. South Denver Real Estate Co., 16 Colo. App. 108, 63 Pac. 991.

74. Pirkle v. Cooper, 113 Ga. 828, 39 S. E. 289.

75. Pirkle v. Cooper, 113 Ga. 828, 39 S. E. 289.

76. Stickel v. Crane, 189 Ill. 211, 59 N. E. 595, holding that this is done by requiring right of appeal from an order setting aside a sale made under the power.[77] A contention that a sale of real estate by an executor should be set aside because made for an inadequate sum cannot be considered on objections to his final accounting.[78]

(XIII) Divested Purchaser's Rights, Remedies, and Liabilities.[79] A purchaser from an executor must rely on the covenants in his deed,[80] or upon the personal liability of the executor,[81] and cannot usually have relief against the heirs or devisees in case the property is lost to him through a defect of title or a lack of authority to sell in the executor.[82] But restitution of the purchase-money or payments made is favored in equity as far as possible, where an unauthorized sale is set aside, especially if the purchaser has parted with his consideration in good faith,[83] and the estate or the beneficiaries have received benefit therefrom;[84] and where debts of the estate have been paid out of the proceeds of an invalid sale, the divested purchaser is entitled to be subrogated to the rights of such creditors and to be indemnified out of the land.[85] On the setting aside of a sale by an executor or administrator the purchaser may be called on to account for rents and profits;[86] but he has been allowed reimbursements for necessary expenditures for the preservation of the property[87] and compensation for proper improvements,[88] although interest on the purchase-money has been denied.[89] It has been the heirs or devisees to account to the representative for the money paid by him and the debts of the estate assumed by him at the time of the conveyance.

Charging debt on land.— Where a sale by executors of the remainder interest in certain land was set aside after many years as invalid, a debt of the testator was properly fixed as a charge on such land, it appearing that such sale had been made in good faith for the purpose of paying the same. Sneed v. Russell, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1897) 42 S. W. 213.

77. In re Bagger, 78 Iowa 171, 42 N. W. 639.

78. In re Conser, 40 Oreg. 138, 66 Pac. 607, so holding on the ground that the purchaser is not ordinarily a party to the proceeding for final accounting, nor is there any process by which he may be brought in, and the proceeding is wholly inappropriate for the purpose of setting aside a sale.

79. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, S, 6.

Title and rights generally see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (XI).

80. Nicholas v. Jones, 3 A. K. Marsh. (Ky.) 385; Spring v. Parkman, 12 Me. 127.

The purchaser cannot maintain assumpsit against the executor to recover back the consideration paid in case of a defect of title or authority. Spring v. Parkman, 12 Me. 127.

81. Frazier v. Tubb, 2 Heisk. (Tenn.) 662, holding that where land sold and intended to be conveyed by an executor is omitted from the deed, and it turns out that the executor had no title, the executor is personally liable to the vendee for the money received, although the estate of his testator is settled.

82. Nicholas v. Jones, 3 A. K. Marsh. (Ky.) 385.

83. Young v. Twigg, 27 Md. 620; Weaver v. Norwood, 59 Miss. 665; Frick's Estate, 16 Pa. Super. Ct. 38; Winslow v. Crowell, 32 Wis. 639; Blodgett v. Hitt, 29 Wis. 169.

Restitution not an indispensable prerequisite to setting aside wrongful sale.— Walker v. Quigg, 6 Watts (Pa.) 87, 31 Am. Dec. 452.

84. Mayes v. Blanton, 67 Tex. 245, 3 S. W. 40.

Failure of sale through executors' inability to pass clear title.— Where executors under a power of sale contained in the will have entered into a contract of sale, but such contract is not carried out because of their inability to convey a clear title, the purchaser is entitled to recover from them as executors, a portion of the purchase-price paid at or before the execution of the contract, for the estate must be deemed to have received the benefit of such amount; but the executors are not chargeable as such with the sum paid by the prospective purchaser for examination of the title. Carideo v. Austin, 88 N. Y. App. Div. 35, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 777.

85. Duncan v. Gainey, 108 Ind. 579, 9 N. E. 470; Springs v. Harven, 56 N. C. 96; Scott v. Dunn, 21 N. C. 425, 30 Am. Dec. 174; Stone v. Crawford, 1 Tex. Unrep. Cas. 605, holding that the purchaser is entitled to retain possession of the land until the amount he paid for it with interest has been repaid to him, although the sale was void. But compare Hampton v. Nicholson, 23 N. J. Eq. 423.

86. Wood v. Nicholls, 33 La. Ann. 744; Weaver v. Norwood, 59 Miss. 665.

Basis of accounting.— Where an executor sells lands under a defective power, the purchaser should only be required to account to the beneficiaries under the will for the rents and profits actually received, and not for the rental value. Hunter v. Hunter, 63 S. C. 78, 41 S. E. 33, 90 Am. St. Rep. 663.

87. Wood v. Nichols, 33 La. Ann. 744, where an administrator had purchased in bad faith and in breach of his trust.

88. Wood v. Nichols, 33 La. Ann. 744.

89. Layton v. Hogue, 5 Oreg. 93, purchase by executor through agent.

held that where a sale of realty has been set aside because made to the administratrix's agent, the extent of the interest of the legatees ought to be ascertained by a proper account, so that the purchaser may if he thinks proper remove the interest by paying to them the parts unsatisfied of their legacies.[90]

(XIV) LIABILITIES OF EXECUTOR OR ADMINISTRATOR.[91] An executor or administrator selling land is chargeable with the consideration acknowledged or shown to have been received by him in the transaction,[92] and any profit arising from such a sale beyond his just recompense belongs properly not to the representative personally, but to those beneficially interested in the estate.[93] He is ordinarily to be charged only with what was actually obtained or received by him;[94] but he may be surcharged in his account with such price as he ought to have obtained rather than with that which was actually realized, where culpable negligence or misconduct on his part induced a loss.[95] Where an executor without authority under the will to enter into covenants conveys with covenants, they do not bind the estate or the heirs or devisees, but will be deemed his personal covenants,[96] and

90. Buckles v. Lafferty, 2 Rob. (Va.) 292, 40 Am. Dec. 752.

91. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, W.

92. Speed v. Nelson, 8 B. Mon. (Ky.) 499 (price named in deed); Matter of Mitchell, 1 Pearson (Pa.) 428; Davis v. Wright, 2 Hill (S. C.) 560.

93. Fisher's Appeal, 34 Pa. St. 29; Rosenberger's Appeal, 26 Pa. St. 67; Lamberton v. Smith, 13 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 309.

94. Louisiana.— Pipkin's Succession, 7 La. Ann. 617.

New Jersey.— Rolfe v. Van Sickle, 40 N. J. Eq. 158; Dey v. Codman, 39 N. J. Eq. 258.

Pennsylvania.— In re Springer, 51 Pa. St. 342; Hinkle's Estate, 4 Pa. Co. Ct. 2, 20 Wkly. Notes Cas. 351. See also Hazzard's Estate, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 637.

Tennessee.—Stretch v. McCampbell, 1 Tenn. Ch. 41.

Virginia.— Wayland v. Crank, 79 Va. 602; Elliott v. Carter, 9 Gratt. 541. See also Lawrason v. Davenport, 2 Call 95.

Wisconsin.— King v. Whiton, 15 Wis. 684.

United States.— Strodes v. Patton, 23 Fed. Cas. No. 13,538, 1 Brock. 228.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 606½.

95. Illinois.— In re Corrington, 124 Ill. 363, 16 N. E. 252; McDonough v. Hanifan, 7 Ill. App. 50.

Maryland.— Hurtt v. Fisher, 1 Harr. & G. 88.

New Jersey.— Fisher v. Skillman, 18 N. J. Eq. 229.

Ohio.— Reed v. Brown, 10 Ohio Cir. Ct. 44, 6 Ohio Cir. Dec. 15.

Pennsylvania.— Leslie's Appeal, 63 Pa. St. 355.

Vermont.— Woods v. Creditors, 4 Vt. 256.

United States.—Pulliam v. Pulliam, 10 Fed. 23.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 606½.

96. Jones v. Noe, 71 Ind. 368; Nicholas v. Jones, 3 A. K. Marsh. (Ky.) 385; Godley v. Taylor, 14 N. C. 178, holding that executors having a power to sell lands of their testator are personally bound by a covenant that they, "executors," etc., "do forever warrant and defend," etc. See also Ross v. Barr, 53 S. W. 658, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 974; Collins v. Sanders, 5 Ky. L. Rep. 860; Wurdeman v. Robertson, Riley Eq. (S. C.) 115. But compare Manifee v. Morrison, 1 Dana (Ky.) 208; Alexander v. Greacen, 36 Misc. (N. Y.) 526, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 1001 [reversing 36 Misc. 133, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 1085], holding that where on a sale of real estate under a power in the will the executors stipulated that all taxes, assessments, etc., would be allowed out of the purchase-money and the property conveyed free from all encumbrances, and several years afterward an unpaid assessment which was a lien on the property was discovered, the purchaser might recover the amount of such assessment from the executors as such.

Extent of liability.— Where executors conveyed land by deed and covenanted to the extent of assets to warrant and defend title, they rendered themselves personally liable to the extent of assets in their hands, and a failure to answer on a prayer for a discovery was an implied admission of assets. Nicholas v. Jones, 3 A. K. Marsh. (Ky.) 385. See also Manifee v. Morrison, 1 Dana (Ky.) 208, where the court, although considering the liability of an executor on such a covenant to be in his representative character, also considered that it was limited to the extent of the assets.

A covenant of warranty against encumbrances done or suffered by himself does not render an executor to whom a discretionary power to sell land was given, liable to his vendee where the land is sold for taxes assessed prior to his sale. Jackson v. Sassaman, 29 Pa. St. 106.

Knowledge of purchaser that executor is without power to sell.— An executor, selling property of the testator, with warranty, cannot protect himself against a suit for breach of the warranty on the ground that the purchaser had notice of the will, under which the executor had no power to sell. Wurdeman v. Robertson, Riley Eq. (S. C.) 115.

A covenant as executor, "but not otherwise," in a conveyance by an executor does not bind him personally, even though it may not be binding on the estate of the testator.

so also an agreement by an executor in a contract of sale to buy off the widow's dower right or to pay off encumbrances created by the testator binds, not the estate, but only the executor personally.[97] If the executor makes false representations concerning the land he is to sell he is personally liable.[98] Executors who have conveyed under a power of sale land of which their testator was in equity a mere trustee are liable as such to the person having the equitable title to such land for the damages sustained by him to the extent of the purchase-money.[99]

10. Lease — a. Power to Lease. As a general rule an executor or administrator is without authority to lease his decedent's land;[1] but such power may exist by virtue of testamentary or statutory provisions or an order of court,[2] or the act of an administrator in renting the lands of the decedent, with the acquiescence of heirs, who waive their rights, for the purpose of paying the debts, may be valid.[3] If such authority be conferred at all it must be strictly Thayer v. Wendell, 23 Fed. Cas. No. 13,873, 1 Gall. 37.

97. Bostwick v. Beach, 31 Hun (N. Y.) 343 [affirmed in 103 N. Y. 414, 9 N. E. 41, 25 N. Y. Wkly. Dig. 98].

98. West v. Wright, 98 Ind. 335.

99. Wall v. Kellogg, 16 N. Y. 385.

1. Rutherford v. Clark, 4 Bush. (Ky.) 27; Murphy v. Thomas, 41 Miss. 429; Stevens v. Stevens, 69 Hun (N. Y.) 332, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 520; Ely v. Scofield, 35 Barb. (N. Y.) 330. See also Hill v. Mitchell, 5 Ark. 608.

Executors cannot modify or alter an existing lease entered into by their testator. Brosnan v. Kramer, 135 Cal. 36, 66 Pac. 979.

2. Alabama.— Nicrosi v. Phillipi, 91 Ala. 299, 8 So. 561; Griffin v. Bland, 43 Ala. 542; Harrison v. Harrison, 39 Ala. 489; Chighizola v. Le Baron, 21 Ala. 406.

Arkansas.— Hill v. Mitchell. 5 Ark. 608.

California.— Brosnan v. Kramer, 135 Cal. 36, 66 Pac. 979; Doolan v. McCauley, 66 Cal. 476, 6 Pac. 130.

Michigan.— Grady v. Warrell, 105 Mich. 310, 63 N. W. 204.

Missouri.— Lass v. Eisleben, 50 Mo. 122; Eoff v. Tompkins, 2 Mo. App. 464 [affirmed in 66 Mo. 225].

New York.—Killam v. Allen, 52 Barb. 605; Hedges v. Riker, 5 Johns. Ch. 163.

North Carolina.— Hoyle v. Stowe, 13 N. C. 318.

Ohio.— Breuer v. Hayes, 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 391, 21 Cinc. L. Bul. 29 [affirmed in 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 583, 22 Cinc. L. Bul. 144].

Virginia.— McCall v. Peachy, 3 Munf. 288.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 608.

Statutes not retroactive.— Philips v. Gray, 1 Ala. 226; Carpenter v. Harris, 51 Mich. 223, 16 N. W. 383; Van Fleet v. Van Fleet, 49 Mich. 610, 14 N. W. 566.

Lease of unopened coal-mines.— Where the chief if not the sole value of land is for coal-mining purposes, and the only profit to be derived therefrom is by sale or lease of the coal, either of which the executor in his discretion has power to do, the fact that the coal-mines were not opened in the life of the testator does not affect the authority of the executor to lease the same, so as to make the rental thereof income of the estate. Reynolds v. Hanna, 55 Fed. 783 [reversed on other grounds in 59 Fed. 923, 8 C. C. A. 370].

Implied power.— A devise to executors in trust for a cestui que trust for life, and in default of issue over to a third person, with power to the executors to sell and dispose of so much of the realty as will be necessary to fulfil the will, is sufficient to authorize the executors to execute leases of the realty on such terms as are reasonable and necessary to carry into effect the testator's intention as expressed in the will. Hedges v. Riker, 5 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 163. Where a testator by his will directs that certain moneys, including the rent of his lands, be invested by his executor, there is an implied authority to the executor to lease lands. McCall v. Peachy, 3 Munf. (Va.) 288.

A power to sell real estate in order to pay debts, and to divide the estate, given by will does not authorize executors to make a perpetual lease with privilege of purchase. Breuer v. Hayes, 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 391, 21 Cinc. L. Bul. 29 [affirmed in 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 583, 22 Cinc. L. Bul. 144].

Construction of power.— Where a testator directed that his widow should cultivate as much of his land during her life or widowhood as she pleased, and empowered his executors to rent out the balance, the executors had power on her decease to lease the whole of the premises. Hoyle v. Stowe, 13 N. C. 318.

Effect of authority to lease, etc.— An authority given by will to executors to rent and lease, to repair and insure, by necessary implication vests them with the legal title. Killam v. Allen, 52 Barb. (N. Y.) 605.

Acknowledgment of lease by married executrix.— An executrix who while sole enters into an agreement to lease land belonging to the estate is competent to acknowledge the lease for registration after her marriage, without being privily examined, as directed by N. C. Code, § 1246, subs. 6, in cases where the acknowledgment of any instrument concerning the interest of a married woman is taken, for such lease does not convey any interest of hers. Darden v. Neuse, etc., Steam-Boat Co., 107 N. C. 437, 12 S. E. 46.

3. Ashley v. Young, 79 Miss. 129, 29 So. 822.

pursued,[4] otherwise the rights of heirs, devisees, or other beneficiaries in such property are not controlled or concluded.[5]

b. Term. Leases by executors or administrators, when authorized, should ordinarily be for short terms,[6] and any lease by such a representative for a definite term is subject to termination by the final distribution of the estate and discharge of the representative.[7]

c. Recovery of Rent. A power to lease in the personal representative carries with it the power to receive and collect rent,[8] and a tenant who takes possession under a lease from the representative cannot in an action against him for rent dispute the representative's power to make the contract.[9] A lessee from an executor cannot purchase judgments against the testator and set them off against the rent unless the executor acknowledges a sufficiency of assets to pay all the debts of the estate.[10]

d. Recovery of Possession. The personal representative is the proper person to bring an action to recover possession from a tenant holding under a lease from him, while the estate remains unsettled.[11]

e. Actions For Waste. Although an executor who has no interest as reversioner cannot maintain an action against a lessee for waste committed on premises leased by him,[12] he may maintain an action on covenants in the lease against committing waste.[13]

f. Rights of Lessee. An executor's or administrator's lease does not imply any covenant of quiet enjoyment,[14] and if the lessee lose part or all of the land he cannot recover back from the estate the rent paid or any portion thereof.[15]

g. Liability of Representative. If the representative rents out the land of his decedent he holds the rent collected as assets of the estate, and for the use of those legally entitled to it,[16] and he cannot escape liability therefor by setting up

Acquiescence in previous acts.— The trustees of a residuary estate are not estopped to maintain an action to enjoin the executrix from leasing and collecting rents from residuary real estate by acquiescence in previous acts of the executrix of the same character. Stevens v. Stevens, 69 Hun (N. Y.) 332, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 520.

4. Chighizola v. Le Baron, 21 Ala. 406; Martin v. Williams, 18 Ala. 190.

Sustaining lease wherein power exceeded.— Under a statute allowing an executor to take possession of the real and personal property of his testator, and to lease the same "from year to year," a lease for two years, although void as a lease for that term, is valid as a lease from year to year. Grady v. Warrell, 105 Mich. 310, 63 N. W. 204.

5. Chighizola v. Le Baron, 21 La. 406.

6. Lass v. Eisleben, 50 Mo. 122.

7. Doolan v. McCauley, 66 Cal. 476, 6 Pac. 130.

8. Morse v. Morse, 85 N. Y. 53.

Covenant to repair in part payment of rent. — In an action by an administrator on a covenant to him as such to make repairs in part payment of rent, his recovery is limited to the damages from the breach, and does not extend to an injury to the inheritance or a depreciation in the rental value of the land after the term expires. Manion v. Lambert, 10 Bush (Ky.) 295.

Lease by executor under will subsequently set aside.— Where an executor, acting under a will which was afterward set aside, leased the land of his supposed testator for a year, and the tenant enjoyed the demised premises without interruption, neither the administrator subsequently appointed nor the heir of the intestate could maintain an action against the tenant for use and occupation. Boyd v. Sloan, 2 Bailey (S. C.) 311.

9. Caldwell v. Harris, 4 Humphr. (Tenn.) 24. But see Bowler v. Erhard, 4 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 256, 1 Clev. L. Rep. 173, holding that such an objection cannot be made by demurrer, but only in the answer by way of defense.

10. White v. Bannister, 1 Wash. (Va.) 166.

11. Nicrosi v. Phillipi, 91 Ala. 299, 8 So. 561; Lass v. Eisleben, 50 Mo. 122; Eoff v. Tompkins, 2 Mo. App. 464 [affirmed in 66 Mo. 225].

12. Page v. Davidson, 22 Ill. 111.

13. Page v. Davidson, 22 Ill. 111.

14. Miller v. Gray, 136 Cal. 261, 68 Pac. 770.

15. Miller v. Gray, 136 Cal. 261, 68 Pac. 770.

16. Terry v. Ferguson, 8 Port. (Ala.) 500. See also In re McKee, 30 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 392.

Lease by administrator to himself.—Where an administrator, who was also one of the heirs, publicly rented out the lands of the estate without authority, and himself became the lessee of the most valuable plantation, these facts alone do not justify a charge against him in his account of a higher rent than that bid at the public letting. Harrison v. Harrison, 39 Ala. 489.

that he leased the land without authority.[17] He is not liable for losses of rent which could not have been avoided by the exercise of good faith and ordinary prudence and diligence,[18] but for losses resulting from his fraud or culpable negligence, whether in reference to collection, taking security, or otherwise, he is liable.[19]

11. Mortgage[20] — a. Authority in General. The personal representative cannot, merely by virtue of his office, mortgage the lands of his decedent,[21] but authority to do so is frequently conferred by will, or by statute authorizing this to be done pursuant to an order of or license from the probate court.[22] A power

Ground-rent.— An executor who has let lands of the estate on ground-rent is not chargeable with the principal of the ground-rent. Apple's Estate, 2 Phila. (Pa.) 239.

17. Hartnett v. Fegan, 3 Mo. App. 1. See also Terry v. Ferguson, 8 Port. (Ala.) 500.

18. Patapsco Guano Co. v. Ballard, 107 Ala. 710, 19 So. 777, 54 Am. St. Rep. 131; Clark v. Eubank, 80 Ala. 584, 3 So. 49.

19. Clark v. Eubank, 80 Ala. 584, 3 So. 49; Eubank v. Clark, 78 Ala. 73; Allen v. Shanks, 90 Tenn. 359, 16 S. W. 715.

Extent of liability.— Where rents are lost through an executor's negligence, he is liable only for such amount as could have been realized by the use of due diligence, and not for the entire stipulated rent. Matter of Hunt, 3 N. Y. St. 346. See also Smith's Estate, 6 Kulp (Pa.) 76.

Failure to rent out property.— An administrator who has power to rent out real estate, but through whose negligence it is not rented, is chargeable with the rental value. James v. Faulk, 54 Ala. 184. But where executors are given a naked power to sell real estate, without the legal title or the right to possession, they are not liable for the rents which might have been made by leasing the same until a sale could be made. Dunn v. Renick, 33 W. Va. 476, 10 S. E. 810.

20. Mortgage or pledge of personalty see infra, VIII, P, 3.

Mortgage under order of court being largely governed by the same principles as a sale under order of the court is treated in connection with that subject. See infra, XII.

21. Illinois.— Smith v. Hutchinson, 108 Ill. 662.

Kansas.— Black v. Dressell, 20 Kan. 153, holding a mortgage by an administrator invalid, although directed by the probate court.

Michigan.— Detroit F. & M. Ins. Co. v. Aspinall, 45 Mich. 330, 7 N. W. 907.

Texas.— Smithwick v. Kelly, 79 Tex. 564, 15 S. W. 486.

Vermont.— Green v. Sargeant, 23 Vt. 466, 56 Am. Dec. 88.

England.— Doe v. Hughes, 6 Exch. 223, 20 L. J. Exch. 148.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 614.

Sustaining instrument as individual mortgage.— A mortgage executed upon the estate of a decedent by devisees under his will, some of whom are executors of his estate and sign as such, but who have no authority from the probate court so to do, is a valid instrument, binding the respective obligors, including the executors, in their individual capacity, and constitutes a lien upon the respective interests of the mortgagors in the mortgaged estate. Shrigley v. Black, 59 Kan. 487, 53 Pac. 477.

22. California.— Stambach v. Emerson, (1902) 69 Pac. 856.

Georgia.— Fletcher v. American Trust, etc., Co., 111 Ga. 300, 36 S. E. 767, 78 Am. St. Rep. 164.

Illinois.— Starr v. Moulton, 97 Ill. 525.

Indiana.— De Coudres v. Union Trust Co., 25 Ind. App. 271, 58 N. E. 90, 81 Am. St. Rep. 95.

Iowa.— Iowa L. & T. Co. v. Holderbaum, 86 Iowa 1, 52 N. W. 550.

Louisiana.— De Lerno's Succession, 34 La. Ann. 38.

Michigan.— Long v. Landman, 118 Mich. 174, 76 N. W. 374; Detroit F. & M. Ins. Co. v. Aspinall, 45 Mich. 330, 7 N. W. 907.

Minnesota.— Brown v. Morrill, 45 Minn. 483, 48 N. W. 328.

Mississippi.—Stokes v. Payne, 58 Miss. 614, 38 Am. Rep. 340.

New York.— Freifeld v. Mankowski, 37 Misc. 303, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 454.

Oregon.— Lawrey v. Sterling, 41 Oreg. 518, 69 Pac. 460.

Pennsylvania.— West v. Cochran, 104 Pa. St. 482; Steffy's Appeal, 76 Pa. St. 94; Burton's Estate, 16 Pa. Co. Ct. 289; Laughlin's Estate, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 447.

South Carolina.—Spencer v. Godfrey, Bailey Eq. 468.

Texas.— Faulk v. Dashiell, 62 Tex. 642, 50 Am. Rep. 542.

United States.— Ames v. Holderbaum, 44 Fed. 224.

England.— Re Wilson, 54 L. T. Rep. N. S. 600, 34 Wkly. Rep. 512.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 614.

Power not exhausted by a single exercise. — Iowa L. & T. Co. v. Holderbaum, 86 Iowa 1, 52 N. W. 550; Ames v. Holderbaum, 44 Fed. 224.

Order of court not necessary where power to mortgage given by will.— Iowa L. & T. Co. v. Holderbaum, 86 Iowa 1, 52 N. W. 550.

Purpose for which mortgage proper.— Under Howell Annot. St. Mich. § 6105, authorizing the execution of a mortgage for the "purpose of paying the debts against the estate of any deceased person," the probate court may authorize a mortgage for the payment of debts and charges accruing after the deto mortgage need not be expressed in the will, but may be implied from the powers and instructions given therein to the executor,[23] but a mere naked power to sell does not include a power to mortgage.[24]

b. Stipulations and Provisions of Mortgage. Authority given to the representative by will or by statute to mortgage the realty authorizes him to stipulate for the payment of attorney's fees in the event of its becoming necessary to collect the debt by suit.[25] An executor giving a mortgage on his testator's property may in England include a power of sale.[26]

c. Construction of Mortgage. Whether or not a mortgage is that of the representative as such, or simply his individual mortgage, should, in a jurisdiction under the statutes of which a mortgage is not an instrument under seal, be determined not only from the form of the instrument itself, but by reading it in the cease of testator. Long v. Landman, 118 Mich. 174, 76 N. W. 374. Under Oreg. Laws (1898), p. 34, authorizing executors and administrators to mortgage estate real property for the purpose of funding the estate debt, an administrator may mortgage estate real property to secure money to pay estate indebtedness, although it consist of but one debt. Lawrey v. Sterling, 41 Oreg. 518, 69 Pac. 460.

Equity may authorize a mortgage instead of a sale of lands expressly charged by the will with the payment of testator's debts. Loebenthal v. Raleigh, 36 N. J. Eq. 169.

Remarriage of executrix.— Where a testator appointed his widow executrix and guardian of their minor children, gave the entire estate for her own use, and the residue to the children on her death or remarriage, and authorized the executrix to mortgage and convey the whole of testator's property as she should deem best for carrying the provisions of the will into effect, a mortgage executed by her after remarriage was valid, in the absence of proof that it was for any other purpose than to carry out the provisions of the will, or that the mortgagee was chargeable with notice. Mutual L. Ins. Co. v. Shipman, 108 N. Y. 19, 15 N. E. 58.

Will not giving power to mortgage.— A testamentary provision that it is the wish of testatrix that certain realty be retained by her executor, as the investment of the principal of the trust, "so long as the same may be expedient in a judicious administration" of her estate, does not authorize him to mortgage the same, but is simply a request to defer a sale so long as practicable under the law. Brown v. Brown, 70 N. H. 623, 47 Atl. 591.

Consent to mortgage of heir's interest.— Where a will provided that the executor should keep the property together until a granddaughter should become of age, unless he should think it would be better for all the heirs to make an earlier division, such power did not authorize the executor to consent to a mortgage of the undivided interest of one of the heirs prior to the granddaughter's arrival at majority. Garman v. Hawley, 132 Mich. 321, 93 N. W. 871.

Persons nominated as executors but who have not qualified have no power to execute a mortgage of the testator's real estate to secure a debt owing by him, even though the will gives the executors as such power to sell and convey real estate and make such provision for the payment of debts as they deem best. Andrews v. Minor, 58 S. W. 443, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 561.

23. See Fletcher v. American Trust, etc., Co., 111 Ga. 300, 36 S. E. 767, 78 Am. St. Rep. 164.

24. California.— Webb v. Winter, (1901) 65 Pac. 1028.

Georgia.— See McMillan v. Cox, 109 Ga. 42, 34 S. E. 341.

Michigan.— Parkhurst v. Trumbull, 130 Mich. 408, 90 N. W. 25.

Nebraska.— See Arlington State Bank v. Paulsen, 57 Nebr. 717, 78 N. W. 303.

New Jersey.—Dubois v. Van Valen, 61 N. J. Eq. 331, 48 Atl. 241; Rutherford Land, etc., Co. v. Sannstock, 60 N. J. Eq. 471, 46 Atl. 648 [disapproving as to this point but affirming (Ch. 1899) 44 Atl. 938], where the power was to "dispose of" realty.

New York.— Arnoux v. Phyfe, 6 N. Y. App. Div. 605; Freifeld v. Mankowski, 37 Misc. 303, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 454; Olyphant v. Phyfee, 27 Misc. 64, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 217. See also Coutant v. Servoss, 3 Barb. 128.

South Carolina.—Allen v. Ruddell, 51 S. C. 366, 29 S. E. 198.

Contra.— Columbia Ave. Sav. Fund, etc., Co. v. Lewis, 190 Pa. St. 558, 42 Atl. 1094; Stevenson v. Roberts, (Tex. Civ. App. 1901) 64 S. W. 230.

The true principle is, that a power to sell and convey may include the power to mortgage, but it does not necessarily do so; and whether such power is or is not included depends upon the character of the estate, the words granting the power, and the purpose for which the debt was created. McMillan v. Cox, 109 Ga. 42, 49, 34 S. E. 341. See also Arlington State Bank v. Paulsen, 57 Nebr. 717, 78 N. W. 303.

25. Fletcher v. American Trust, etc., Co., 111 Ga. 300, 36 S. E. 767, 78 Am. St. Rep. 164; Lawrey v. Sterling, 41 Oreg. 518, 69 Pac. 460.

26. Cruikshank v. Duffin, L. R. 13 Eq. 555, 41 L. J. Ch. 317, 26 L. T. Rep. N. S. 121, 20 Wkly. Rep. 354; Russell v. Plaice, 18 Beav. 21, 18 Jur. 254, 23 L. J. Ch. 441, 2 Wkly. Rep. 243 [overruling Sanders v. Richards, 2 Coll. 568, 33 Eng. Ch. 568, and followed in Vane v. Rigden, L. R. 5 Ch. 663, 39 L. J. Ch. 797, 18 Wkly. Rep. 1092; In re Chawner, light of the facts and circumstances attending its execution, and considering the situation of the parties.[27]

d. Title, Rights, and Liabilities of Mortgagee. The rule of caveat emptor applies to mortgagees of property from executors or administrators.[28] But a bona fide mortgagee who advances upon the security of a decedent's land is not bound to see to the representative's application of the fund realized by the mortgage,[29] nor does the fact that payment of claims against the land of a testator was made by the executor without the approbation of the court affect the validity of a mortgage given under a power in the will to secure the loan with which such payment was made.[30]

e. Estoppel to Attack Mortgage. Creditors of a testator may by their acquiescence for a number of years in the executor's management of the estate under the provisions of the will become estopped to question the validity of mortgages executed by him under authority given by the will;[31] but although an administrator by mortgaging the land of decedent, title to which had not been perfected, was enabled to purchase it for the heirs, the latter are not estopped in an action to foreclose the mortgage to plead the invalidity of the administrator's act because of the benefits resulting to them, it appearing that the money was not borrowed by the heirs or by any one in their name or at their request.[32]

f. Personal Liability of Representative. Where an executor empowered by a will to mortgage his testator's property executes a mortgage in his capacity as executor containing warranties of title and a promise to pay taxes and attorney's fees, and gives his notes for the money secured thereby, he is personally bound therefor, as giving the notes and making the warranties are not necessary to the execution of the power.[33]

12. Acquisition by Representative[34] — a. In His Individual Capacity — (i) In General. The office of an executor or administrator does not per se disable him as an individual from buying bona fide with his own money property to which the estate has no right,[35] and the heirs or devisees of the decedent cannot compel him to give them the benefit of such a purchase, even though decedent

L. R. 8 Eq. 569, 38 L. J. Ch. 726, 22 L. T. Rep. N. S. 262].

27. Ames v. Holderbaum, 44 Fed. 224. See also Iowa L. & T. Co. v. Holderbaum, 86 Iowa 1, 52 N. W. 550.

28. Neary v. Neary, (Nebr. 1903) 97 N. W. 302. See also Columbia Ave. Sav. Fund, etc., Co. v. Lewis, 190 Pa. St. 558, 42 Atl. 1094.

Where the mortgagee lends prematurely or the transaction is unauthorized he obtains no title or security as against a subsequent purchaser, although he will be entitled to repayment out of the proceeds of the sale. Dancy v. Duncan, 96 N. C. 111, 1 S. E. 455.

29. Iowa L. & T. Co. v. Holderbaum, 86 Iowa 1, 52 N. W. 550; Danziger v. Deline, 25 Misc. (N. Y.) 635, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 354 [affirmed in 51 N. Y. App. Div. 618, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 1134]; Farhall v. Farhall, L. R. 7 Eq. 286, 38 L. J. Ch. 281, 17 Wkly. Rep. 350; Shalcross v. Dixon, 7 L. J. Ch. 180.

30. Iowa L. & T. Co. v. Holderbaum, 86 Iowa 1, 52 N. W. 550.

31. Iowa L. & T. Co. v. Holderbaum, 86 Iowa 1, 52 N. W. 550; Ames v. Holderbaum, 44 Fed. 224.

32. Black v. Dressell, 20 Kan. 153.

33. De Coudres v. Union Trust Co., 25 Ind. App. 271, 58 N. E. 90, 81 Am. St. Rep. 95.

34. Acquisition of personalty see infra, VIII, P, 4.

35. Mosely v. Lane, 27 Ala. 62, 62 Am. Dec. 752.

Purchase of property of decedent's debtor. — Pending a suit in equity brought by an executor to subject land of his testator's debtor to the payment of the debt, the vendor of the land to the debtor obtained a decree for the sale of the land for a balance of the purchase-money, and at the sale the executor bought the land. He afterward sold it and applied a portion of the proceeds to the payment of the debt due his testator, leaving a balance in his hands more than sufficient to reimburse him for his purchase. It was held that he was bound to apply the proceeds to the payment of the debt, but was entitled to retain the surplus profits. Longest v. Tyler, 1 Duv. (Ky.) 192.

Purchase with assets of estate.— An executor or administrator may sustain a title to the land which he has purchased in his own name with assets of the estate upon clear proof that he was in advance to the estate for more than the amount paid. Buckingham v. Wesson, 54 Miss. 526. But otherwise, if he purchases lands or other property with the money of the estate, and afterward resells it at a profit, the benefit of the purchase inures to the estate and not to himself individually. Mosely v. Lane, 27 Ala. 62, 62 Am. Dec. 752.

in his lifetime had been in negotiation for the purchase of the same property.[36] But his duty does preclude him from purchasing an outstanding adverse title to land of which his decedent died seized and claiming title to such land for his own benefit, and any title so acquired by him will inure to the benefit of the estate;[37] and generally speaking, where he buys or redeems land with funds of the estate, or procures judgment satisfied from land in right of the estate, or in dereliction of duty abuses the confidence reposed in him by seeking an undue personal advantage in the acquisition of property from the exercise of his representative authority, he will be considered in equity, whatever may have been the formal expression of the conveyance or of notes given for the purchase-money, as holding the property in his representative capacity or as a trustee of the estate and those in interest, and his acts will inure to the benefit of those interested therein, at the same time that his rights and title are effective as against others.[38] Ratification by heirs or other parties in interest, or long acquiescence with full knowledge of the facts, may, however, estop them to object and debar third persons from questioning the transaction.[39]

36. Gay v. Gay, 5 Allen (Mass.) 181; Glenn v. Thistle, 23 Miss. 42.

37. Lucich v. Medin, 3 Nev. 93, 93 Am. Dec. 376; North v. Barnum, 10 Vt. 220.

38. Alabama.— Wells v. Elliott, 68 Ala. 183.

Arkansas.— Reeves v. Barrett, (1890) 13 S. W. 77; Atchley v. Reeves, 23 Ark. 233.

Georgia.— Benjamin v. Gill, 45 Ga. 110.

Illinois.— McCreedy v. Mier, 64 Ill. 495; Willenborg v. Murphy, 36 Ill. 344; Kenney v. Keplinger, 89 Ill. App. 570.

Indiana.— Murphy v. Teter, 56 Ind. 545.

Iowa.— McCrory v. Foster, 1 Iowa 271.

Kentucky.—Blakey v. Blakey, 3 J. J. Marsh. 674; Aulbach v. Read, 77 S. W. 204, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1130; Stone v. Burge, 74 S. W. 250, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 2424; Scott v. Proctor, 13 S. W. 790, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 57.

Maine.— Tebbetts v. Estes, 52 Me. 566; Webber v. Webber, 6 Me. 127.

Massachusetts.— Phillips v. Rogers, 12 Metc. 405; Brooks v. Whitney, 11 Metc. 413; Johnson v. Bartlett, 17 Pick. 477; Hancock v. Minot, 8 Pick. 29; Boylston v. Carver, 4 Mass. 598.

Michigan.— Kunzie v. Wixom, 39 Mich. 384; Sheldon v. Rice, 30 Mich. 296, 18 Am. Rep. 136.

Mississippi.— Buie v. Pollock, 54 Miss. 9; Williams v. Stratton, 10 Sm. & M. 418.

New Hampshire.— Thurston v. Kennett, 22 N. H. 15; Smith v. Smith, 11 N. H. 459; Gibson v. Bailey, 9 N. H. 168.

New Jersey.— Hunt v. Smith, 58 N. J. Eq. 25, 43 Atl. 428; Brownlee v. Lockwood, 20 N. J. Eq. 239; Rutherford Land, etc., Co. v. Sanntrock, (Ch. 1899) 44 Atl. 938 [affirmed in 60 N. J. Eq. 471, 46 Atl. 648].

New York.— Zilkin v. Carhart, 3 Bradf. 376.

North Carolina.— Jones v. Slaughter, 96 N. C. 541, 2 S. E. 681.

South Carolina.— Henry v. Archer, Bailey Eq. 535.

Tennessee.— Phillips v. Terrell, 10 Heisk. 417; Cox v. Cox, Peck 443; Myrick v. Boyd, 3 Hayw. 179.

Vermont.— Shaw v. Partridge, 17 Vt. 626; Tryon v. Tryon, 16 Vt. 313.

Virginia.— Morgan v. Fisher, 82 Va. 417.

Wisconsin.— Gillett v. Gillett, 9 Wis. 194.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 621.

Title not void but voidable.— Murphy v. Teter, 56 Ind. 545.

Executor trustee for heirs and not for legatees and devisees.— Watson v. Child, 9 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 129.

The heirs may bring trespass to try title after the estate has been administered as to land conveyed to the representative. Easterling v. Blythe, 7 Tex. 210, 56 Am. Dec. 45.

Right as against creditors.— Where a purchaser of land under a bond for title made permanent improvements upon the land, which so greatly enhanced its value that it became unquestionably worth considerably more than the amount of the purchase-money debt, and then died, his estate, although no portion of the purchase-money had been paid, had an equitable interest in the property, which his administrator could not, as against the rights of creditors, lawfully acquire by paying the purchase-money, and taking to himself personally a deed from the original vendor. Whiddon v. Williams, 98 Ga. 310, 24 S. E. 437.

Right of purchaser.— A purchaser of lands of a testator from the executrix with notice that she had purchased them with assets of the estate is a trustee for testator's creditors to the extent that the lands were paid for by the executrix with such assets. Buckingham v. Wesson, 54 Miss. 526.

A compromise between an administratrix and the heirs by which the heirs on certain considerations give a receipt "in full satisfaction of all liabilities" incurred by the administratrix on account of matters connected with the estate "discharging her from her trust as administratrix" changes her bare title as trustee of certain lands purchased by her individually with assets of the estate into a fee simple. Jones v. Slaughter, 96 N. C. 541, 2 S. E. 681.

39. Hicks v. Weems, 14 La. Ann. 629. See also Foley v. Leva, 101 Ala. 395, 13 So. 747, holding that in an action by the heirs of an estate to declare a lien in their favor on a

(II) PURCHASE FROM WIDOW, HEIR, OR DEVISEE.[40] While the purchase by an executor or administrator of real estate of his decedent or any interest therein from the widow, heirs, devisees, or others in interest is highly disfavored,[41] the judicial disposition is usually to do no more than presume strongly against the validity of such a purchase and require the fiduciary to show affirmatively adequacy of consideration and the general fairness of the transaction,[42] and if the transaction is in good faith and without fraud it may be treated as a similar transaction between strangers would be.[43]

(III) PURCHASE OF DECEDENT'S REALTY AT JUDICIAL OR EXECUTION SALE.[44] With reference to an executor or administrator purchasing land of the decedent for himself at a judicial or execution sale, the rule is applicable that he shall not be allowed to purchase property which he holds in trust, either directly or indirectly, nor to antagonize the interests of the estate he represents by taking an adverse interest;[45] but in cases where the representative was not a trustee of the certain lot, alleged to have been purchased and improved by defendant administratrix with funds of the estate, and mortgaged by her to her co-defendants to secure her individual debt to them, there is no error in a decree applying the rents of the lot to the satisfaction of the mortgage, as the heirs, by electing to have a lien declared on the lot instead of claiming the lot itself, confirm the title of the administratrix to it.

40. As to personalty see infra, VIII, P, 4, b.

41. Alabama.—Williams v. Powell, 66 Ala. 20, 41 Am. Rep. 742; Coster v. Brack, 19 Ala. 210; Ashurst v. Ashurst, 13 Ala. 781.

California.— Golson v. Dunlap, 73 Cal. 157, 14 Pac. 576.

Kentucky.— Wright v. Arnold, 14 B. Mon. 638, 61 Am. Dec. 172; Black v. Keenan, 5 Dana 570 (purchase from a guardian of his ward's interest); Moore v. Moore, 5 Dana 464 (holding that the purchase by executors of the widow's dower interest will inure to the estate for the benefit of those entitled to it).

Maryland.— Pairo v. Vickery, 37 Md. 467.

Missouri.— State v. Jones, 53 Mo. App. 207.

New York.— In re Randall, 152 N. Y. 508, 46 N. E. 945.

North Carolina.—Peyton v. Smith, 22 N. C. 325.

Pennsylvania.— Parshall's Appeal, 65 Pa. St. 224; Miller's Appeal, 30 Pa. St. 478.

South Carolina.— Watson v. Hill, 1 Strobh. 78.

Texas.— Blackwell v. Blackwell, 86 Tex. 207, 24 S. W. 389 [reversing (Civ. App. 1893) 23 S. W. 31], holding that as an executor cannot acquire title adverse to the heirs, where testator gives a life-estate in land to his wife with remainder to his heirs, and the wife conveys her interest to the executor, on the death of the wife the remainder vests in the heirs and is held by the executor for their benefit, and is a part of the estate, subject to distribution under the will. But under the laws of the late republic of Texas in force on June 1, 1844, an administrator could purchase from an heir of his intestate the interest of such heir in the lands belonging to the succession. Erskine v. De la Baum, 3 Tex. 406, 49 Am. Dec. 751.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 622.

Where no fiduciary relation exists.—Where the executor or administrator does not hold lands for sale to pay debts nor as trustee for the heirs, and no fiduciary relation exists, he is entitled to purchase. Barker v. Barker, 14 Wis. 131. And see Herron v. Herron, 71 Iowa 428, 32 N. W. 407.

The sale is good at law, although disfavored and voidable in equity. Jackson v. Potter, 4 Wend. (N. Y.) 672.

While the sale remains uncontested the administrator has the usual rights against tenants. Carter v. Lee, 51 Ind. 292.

Who may attack purchase.— One beneficiary cannot dispute the purchase by the representative of another beneficiary's share. Peyton v. Smith, 22 N. C. 325.

42. California.— Golson v. Dunlap, 73 Cal. 157, 14 Pac. 576.

Illinois.— Dowdall v. Cannedy, 32 Ill. App. 207, holding that the expression by an administrator of his honest opinion as to a question of law in negotiating for the purchase of an heir's interest in the estate is not ground for setting aside the sale to him as obtained by fraud and misrepresentation, although he may have been mistaken in his opinion.

Kentucky.— Wright v. Arnold, 14 B. Mon. 638, 61 Am. Dec. 172; Handlin v. Davis, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 675.

Missouri.— State v. Jones, 53 Mo. App. 207.

New Hampshire.— Lovell v. Briggs, 2 N. H. 218.

New York.— Matter of Ledrich, 68 Hun 396, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 978.

Utah.— Haight v. Pearson, 11 Utah 51, 39 Pac. 479.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 622.

43. Shelby v. Creighton, 2 Nebr. (Unoff.) 264, 267, 96 N. W. 382; Clark v. Jacobs, 56 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 519.

44. As to personalty see infra, VIII, P, 4, c.

45. Arkansas.— Wright v. Campbell, 27 Ark. 637.

Georgia.— Fleming v. Foran, 12 Ga. 594.

Indiana.— Hunsucker v. Smith, 49 Ind.

real estate at the time of the purchase, and the transaction was a fair one, and the sale was not due to any neglect or failure of duty on his part, a purchase by him has been allowed to stand.[46] Where the property is purchased at the sale by a third person, who makes the purchase in good faith, there is no reason why the administrator should not subsequently purchase the property from him.[47]

b. In His Representative Capacity[48]—(i) In General. An executor or administrator has as a rule no power to buy land with personalty of the estate, unless authorized to do so by the will or by statute;[49] but if he so purchases the property purchased will be considered in equity as part of the decedent's estate and as impressed with the character of the purchase-money, and an equitable lien of creditors of the decedent is sometimes favorably regarded in such a connec-

114; Martin v. Wyncoop, 12 Ind. 266, 74 Am. Dec. 209.

Iowa.— Welch v. McGrath, 59 Iowa 519, 10 N. W. 810, 13 N. W. 638.

Kentucky.— Bartlett v. Gray, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 615.

Louisiana.— Stanbrough's Succession, 37 La. Ann. 275.

Maryland.— Turner v. Bouchell, 3 Harr. & J. 99.

Missouri.— Dillinger v. Kelley, 84 Mo. 561; Harper v. Mansfield, 58 Mo. 17.

New Jersey.— Rickey v. Hillman, 7 N. J. L. 180; Bechtold v. Read, 49 N. J. Eq. 111, 22 Atl. 1085; Marshall v. Carson, 38 N. J. Eq. 250, 48 Am. Rep. 319; Carson v. Marshall, 37 N. J. Eq. 213.

New York.— Prindle v. Beveridge, 58 N. Y. 592 [affirming 7 Lans. 225]; Rogers v. Rogers, 3 Wend. 503, 20 Am. Dec. 716 [affirming Hopk. Ch. 515].

North Carolina.— See Johns v. Norris, 27 N. J. Eq. 485.

Pennsylvania.—Guier v. Kelly, 2 Binn. 294.

United States.— Allan v. Gillet, 21 Fed. 273; Rafferty v. Mallory, 20 Fed. Cas. No. 11,526, 3 Biss. 362.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 624.

Purchase not void but voidable merely.— Welch v. McGrath, 59 Iowa 519, 10 N. W. 810, 13 N. W. 638.

In whose favor trust results — Participation in fraud.— A decedent's widow and his administrator agreed to procure a foreclosure sale of the intestate's land, at which the administrator was to buy the land in at an inadequate price by giving out at the sale that he was purchasing for the widow, and thus dissuading others from bidding. Thereafter the administrator purchased the land at the sale and agreed to convey it to the widow for the price at which it was struck off to him. On his refusal subsequently to do so, the widow and the intestate's only child filed a bill to redeem. It was held that, although the widow, having participated in the fraud, was not entitled to relief, the property acquired by the administrator would be regarded as held for the benefit of the child. Johns v. Norris, 27 N. J. Eq. 485.

Extent of liability see Dilworth's Appeal, 108 Pa. St. 92.

46. Illinois.—Stark v. Brown, 101 Ill. 395, 401, where the court upheld a purchase by the administrator of his decedent's realty at a tax-sale, as he was under no obligation to pay taxes assessed against the land, saying: "His purchase conflicting with no duty he owed the heirs at law in regard to the land, in allowing it to be made, no temptation is afforded to a betrayal of trust."

Iowa.— Welch v. McGrath, 59 Iowa 519, 10 N. W. 810, 13 N. W. 638.

Missouri.— Dillinger v. Kelley, 84 Mo. 561.

New Jersey.— Johns v. Norris, 22 N. J. Eq. 102. And see Rickey v. Hillman, 7 N. J. L. 180.

New York.— Hollingsworth v. Spaulding, 54 N. Y. 636.

Pennsylvania.—Meanor v. Hamilton, 27 Pa. St. 137; McManus' Estate, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 379.

Tennessee.— Woman's College v. Horne, (Ch. App. 1900) 60 S. W. 609.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 624.

Burden of proof as to fairness.— Where an administrator, who was also guardian of the infant heirs, purchased the real estate of the intestate at a sale under a decree in partition, it was held that the burden of proof was on him to show that he gave a full price; and he having sold the land six years afterward at a great advance was compelled to account for the advanced price. Huson v. Wallace, 1 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 1.

47. O'Brien v. Wilson, 82 Miss. 93, 33 So. 946.

48. As to personalty see infra, VIII, P, 4, a.

49. Wilson v. Mason, 158 Ill. 304, 42 N. E. 134, 49 Am. St. Rep. 162 [affirming 57 Ill. App. 325].

Purchase for benefit of creditors and heirs.— If the owner of an improvement on land forfeited to the state for taxes and subsequently donated dies, his administrator is entitled to be paid by the donee for the improvements, and upon failure of the donee to pay for the same may purchase the land in his representative capacity for the benefit of the creditors and heirs. Surginer v. Paddock, 31 Ark. 528.

Status of property purchased under power in will.— Where an executor invests the proceeds of an estate consisting of personal property in realty, under discretionary power conferred in the will, the realty thus acquired is realty in law and in fact, and subject to all the incidents of such property. Holmes v. Picket, 51 S. C. 271, 29 S. E. 82.

tion.[50] Where a decedent at the time of his death has an inchoate right in land under a contract of purchase or otherwise, the personal representative may complete the purchase and take a deed to himself in his representative capacity in trust for the persons interested in the estate,[51] and, even though the representative completes the purchase in his own name, the purchase may be held to be made for the benefit of the estate where it sufficiently appears from the evidence that this was the intention of the representative.[52] Where executors have a discretion in regard to investment in real property, or where there is a necessity of receiving real estate in payment of a debt, the beneficiaries are bound to accept the property thus acquired.[53]

(II) PURCHASE AT JUDICIAL OR EXECUTION SALE. When it is for the interest of the estate that he should do so, the executor or administrator is justified in purchasing in favor of the estate at a foreclosure sale under a mortgage belonging to the estate,[54] or an execution sale under a judgment in his favor on some debt due the decedent.[55] In such a case the representative may take a deed in his own name and by a deed executed in his own name give a good title to others which the beneficiaries of the estate cannot dispute;[56] but the purchase is presumed to be intended for the benefit of the estate, and requires him to account and turn over the property or its proceeds to the parties who would have been entitled to the mortgage or judgment debt if paid, the premises in his hands taking that character accordingly; and while he is chargeable with rents and profits later received or justly accruing, he should be reimbursed for his reasonable outlays and for such sum as he actually paid in the purchase.[57]

(III) PROPERTY TAKEN IN PAYMENT OF DEBTS. Where land is taken by the executor or administrator in payment of a debt due the estate, the land becomes assets in his hands and not property held in his individual right, and it should by

50. Arkansas.— Collins v. Warner, 32 Ark. 87.

Kansas.— Merket v. Smith, 33 Kan. 66, 5 Pac. 394.

Mississippi.—Shaw v. Thompson, Sm. & M. Ch. 628.

Nebraska.— Blake v. Chambers, 4 Nebr. 90.

Texas.— Shelton v. Bone, (Civ. App. 1894) 26 S. W. 224.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 625.

51. Lewis v. Wells, 50 Ala. 198. See supra, III, C, 10.

Legal title of representative.— A conveyance of land to which a deceased person was entitled before his death, to his administrator as such, places the legal title to the land in the administrator, and he may maintain an action to assert rights in the land. In re Smith, 4 Nev. 254, 97 Am. Dec. 531.

52. Avila v. Pereira, 120 Cal. 589, 52 Pac. 840. See also Coleman v. Florey, (Tex. Civ. App. 1901) 61 S. W. 412.

53. Blaisdell v. Stevens, 16 Vt. 179.

54. Arkansas.— Jones v. Graham, 36 Ark. 383.

California.— In re Miner, 46 Cal. 564.

Colorado.— Dusing v. Nelson, 7 Colo. 184, 2 Pac. 922.

Kansas.— Briggs v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 56 Kan. 526, 43 Pac. 1131.

Louisiana.— Sojourner v. Fourney, 35 La. Ann. 918.

Minnesota.— Lewis v. Welch, 47 Minn. 193, 48 N. W. 608, 49 N. W. 665.

New Jersey.— Holcomb v. Coryell, 11 N. J. Eq. 476.

United States.— Rafferty v. Mallory, 20 Fed. Cas. No. 11,526, 3 Biss. 362.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 623.

55. Arkansas.— Williamson v. Furbush, 31 Ark. 539.

Georgia.— Crawford v. Tribble, 69 Ga. 519.

Indiana.— Murphy v. Teter, 56 Ind. 545.

Kentucky.— Jackson v. Roberts, 95 Ky. 410, 25 S. W. 879, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 831.

Louisiana.— Lafayette v. Preston, 3 La. Ann. 381.

Maryland.— Wilson v. Miller, 30 Md. 82, 96 Am. Dec. 568.

Pennsylvania.— Oeslager v. Fisher, 2 Pa. St. 467.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 623.

Contra.— Sedgwick v. Sedgwick, (Cal. 1884) 4 Pac. 570.

Representative may maintain forcible detainer against one withholding possession. Rice v. Brown, 77 Ill. 549.

56. Fifield v. Sperry, 20 N. H. 338; Lockman v. Reilly, 95 N. Y. 64; Higley v. Smith, 1 D. Chipm. (Vt.) 409, 12 Am. Dec. 701.

Error in making out the deed to the heirs does not preclude the title of the representative as to an asset of the estate. Bennett v. Kiber, 76 Tex. 385, 13 S. W. 220.

57. Indiana.— Murphy v. Teter, 56 Ind. 545.

Louisiana.— Sojourner v. Fourney, 35 La. Ann. 918.

Maryland.— Wilson v. Miller, 30 Md. 82, 96 Am. Dec. 568.

way of substitution be subjected by him to the payment of debts and legacies, and to distribution, like other personalty.[58]

(iv) Sale or Mortgage of Property Acquired. It has been asserted that a representative, unless of course he has a power of sale under the will, cannot sell, without an order of court, realty acquired by him in his representative capacity;[59] but the weight of authority is in support of the representative's power to sell such realty in his discretion without any order of court,[60] and a power to mortgage property so acquired has also been asserted.[61] A sale by an executor of such property may of course be set aside when tainted with fraud in which the purchaser participated.[62]

Minnesota.— Lewis v. Welch, 47 Minn. 193, 48 N. W. 608, 49 N. W. 665.

Missouri.— Mabary v. Dollarhide, 98 Mo. 198, 11 S. W. 611, 14 Am. St. Rep. 639.

New York.— Haberman v. Baker, 128 N. Y. 253, 28 N. E. 370, 13 L. R. A. 611; Lockman v. Reilly, 95 N. Y. 64; Fellows v. Fellows, 4 Cow. 682, 15 Am. Dec. 412; Clark v. Clark, 8 Paige 152, 35 Am. Dec. 676.

Pennsylvania.— Drysdale's Appeal, 14 Pa. St. 531; Oeslager v. Fisher, 2 Pa. St. 467.

South Carolina.— Haynsworth v. Bischoff, 6 S. C. 159.

Tennessee.— Phillips v. Terrell, 10 Heisk. 417.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 623.

Property so purchased remains personalty so far as estate concerned.— Mustin's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 180.

Executor not chargeable with land as so much money.— Bowler's Estate, 8 Pa. Co. Ct. 522.

58. Illinois.— Greer v. Walker, 42 Ill. 401.

Michigan.—Williams v. Towl, 65 Mich. 204, 31 N. W. 835.

New Jersey.— See Lippincott v. Bechtold, 54 N. J. Eq. 407, 34 Atl. 1079.

New York.—Yonkers Sav. Bank v. Kinsley, 78 Hun 186, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 925; In re Potter, 32 Hun 599.

Pennsylvania.— In re Billington, 3 Rawle 48.

South Carolina.— See Reynolds v. Rees, 23 S. C. 438.

Tennessee.— Evans v. Beaumont, 16 Lea 713.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 626.

Heirs cannot disaffirm the purchase of a debtor's realty if the representative acted prudently and for the good of the estate, especially if they delay unduly to proceed in the matter. In re Billington, 3 Rawle (Pa.) 48.

59. Johnson v. Bartlett, 17 Pick. (Mass.) 477; Foster v. Huntington, 5 N. H. 108; Rafferty v. Mallory, 20 Fed. Cas. No. 11,526, 3 Biss. 362.

Who may avoid sale.— An administrator who recovers judgment as such and levies execution on land holds the legal estate in the land to the use of the heirs of his intestate; and if he sells and conveys the same without having obtained license so to do the conveyance can be avoided only by those for whose use he was seized. Thomas v. Le Baron, 10 Metc. (Mass.) 403.

Heirs or devisees may be estopped to disaffirm by knowingly receiving proceeds of the sale and similar acts. Baldwin v. Timmins, 3 Gray (Mass.) 302; Thomas v. Le Baron, 10 Metc. (Mass.) 403; Ward v. Ward, 15 Pick. (Mass.) 511.

Effect of power of sale.— Where a testator owned two tracts of land — one in partnership with his brother and another individually — and empowered his executors to sell and convey the latter, and after his death the deed to the partnership tract, although in form absolute, was held a mortgage only, and the land being ordered sold to pay the mortgage, the executors bought it in, they took it with the same power to sell and convey it afterward as was given with reference to the other tract. Cummins v. Carrick, 2 S. W. 490, 8 Ky. L. Rep. 600.

60. California.— Christy v. Fisher, 58 Cal. 256, holding it immaterial whether the executors conveyed as such or in their individual capacity.

Iowa.— Stevenson v. Polk, 71 Iowa 278, 32 N. W. 340.

Michigan.— Little v. Lesia, 5 Mich. 119.

Missouri.— Hogan v. Welcher, 14 Mo. 177.

New Jersey.— Banta v. School Dist. No. 3, 39 N. J. Eq. 123.

New York.— Cook v. Ryan, 29 Hun 249; Valentine v. Belden, 20 Hun 537.

Pennsylvania.— Oeslager v. Fisher, 2 Pa. St. 467.

United States.— Long v. O'Fallon, 19 How. 116, 15 L. ed. 550.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 627.

The representative is chargeable with the purchase-money and should appropriate it duly and account for it. Bechtold v. Read, (N. J. Ch. 1893) 28 Atl. 264; Capehart v. Huey, 1 Hill Eq. (S. C.) 405; Harrison v. Henderson, 7 Heisk. (Tenn.) 315.

Purchaser not obliged to look to application of purchase-money.— Long v. O'Fallon, 19 How. (U. S.) 116, 15 L. ed. 550.

61. McLean v. Ladd, 66 Hun (N. Y.) 341, 21 N. Y. Suppl. 196; Edmonds v. Crenshaw, Harp. Eq. (S. C.) 224.

62. See Thomson v. Shackelford, 6 Tex. Civ. App. 121, 24 S. W. 980.

Partial avoidance.— Where a will directed the executor to collect the debts due testator

P. Personal Property — 1. Title and Authority — a. In General. The general rule is that the title to personal property of a decedent, testate or intestate, vests in the personal representative until administration is completed and the estate fully settled or distributed, or until he chooses or becomes forced to part with it earlier;[63] and the rule applies to contingent as well as absolute interests of the decedent in personal property, whether of a corporeal or incorporeal description, including rights in bonds, contracts, and choses in action, as well as goods and chattels.[64] The representative, as such, takes, however, no beneficial interest in the personalty, but takes it only for the purpose of administration and distribution to those entitled,[65] and as to the surplus remaining after the payment of and divide them equally between five persons, one of whom was the executor, and to defraud one of such legatees, who was also a creditor of the executor, the latter conveyed land taken in satisfaction of such debts to one having knowledge of his intent, it was held that in a suit by such defrauded legatee alone, the conveyance would be held void only as to two fifths of the land; the executor being authorized by the will to sell any portion of the estate to satisfy legacies. Thomson v. Shackelford, 6 Tex. Civ. App. 121, 24 S. W. 980.

63. Alabama.— Beattie v. Abercrombie, 18 Ala. 9; Brashear v. Williams, 10 Ala. 630.

Arkansas.— Whelan v. Edwards, 31 Ark. 723; Pryor v. Ryburn, 16 Ark. 671; Lemon v. Rector, 15 Ark. 436.

California.— See Rankin v. Newman, 114 Cal. 635, 46 Pac. 742, 34 L. R. A. 265, where the court recognized the rule stated in the text as being the common-law rule, but said that under the California statute the title to personalty as well as to realty vests in the heirs subject only to the right of the executor to take possession of it for specific purposes.

Connecticut.— Roorbach v. Lord, 4 Conn. 347; Taber v. Packwood, 1 Day 150.

Illinois.— Lewis v. Lyons, 13 Ill. 117.

Indiana.— Pond v. Sweetser, 85 Ind. 144.

Iowa.— Wilson v. Breeding, 50 Iowa 629.

Kansas.— Presbury v. Pickett, 1 Kan. App. 631, 42 Pac. 405.

Kentucky.— Brunk v. Means, 11 B. Mon. 214.

Louisiana.— Cresswell's Succession, 8 La. Ann. 122; Watts v. Frazer, 5 La. 383.

Maryland.— Hagthorp v. Hook, 1 Gill & J. 270; Neale v. Hagthrop, 3 Bland 551.

Massachusetts.— Goodwin v. Jones, 3 Mass. 514, 3 Am. Dec. 173.

Michigan.—Hollowell v. Cole, 25 Mich. 345.

Missouri.— Brueggeman v. Jurgenson, 24 Mo. 87; State v. Moore, 18 Mo. App. 406; Rouggley v. Teichmann, 10 Mo. App. 257.

New York.— Robinson v. Adams, 30 Misc. 537, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 816.

North Carolina.— Varner v. Johnston, 112 N. C. 570, 17 S. E. 483; Whit v. Ray, 26 N. C. 14; Foster v. Cook, 8 N. C. 509.

Ohio.— In re Sattler, Ohio Prob. 183, 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 440, 21 Cinc. L. Bul. 161.

Pennsylvania.— Bungard v. Miller, 5 Pa. Cas. 122, 8 Atl. 209; Shugar v. Garman, 2 Pa. Cas. 490, 4 Atl. 56.

South Carolina.— Kaminer v. Hope, 9 S. C. 253; Crosland v. Murdock, 4 McCord 217.

Tennessee.— Thurman v. Shelton, 10 Yerg. 383.

Texas.— Richardson v. Vaughn, (Civ. App. 1893) 22 S. W. 1112.

United States.— Bodemuller v. U. S., 39 Fed. 437; Kidder v. U. S., 19 Ct. Cl. 561; Chaplin v. U. S., 19 Ct. Cl. 424.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 629; and supra, III, B, 1.

Extent of title and authority.—At common law an executor or administrator had the same property in and the same powers over the personal effects or estate of his decedent that such decedent had at and before his death. This power has, however, been limited by statute. Weyer v. Franklin Second Nat. Bank, 57 Ind. 198.

Lien of factor.— If a person die in possession of goods, and they come into the hands of his administrator, the title is changed; and a factor who may afterward receive the goods from an administrator cannot hold them or their proceeds, on account of advances made to deceased in his lifetime, without the assent of the administrator. Swilley v. Lyon, 18 Ala. 552.

Where property is willed to executors to convert into a fund, and keep and distribute, etc., the title remains in them until it is actually distributed; and where a discretion is to be exercised before distribution the ultimate distributee has no vested interest in the property until such discretion has been exercised. In re Jones, 13 Fed. Cas. No. 7,444, 6 Biss. 68.

64. Clapp v. Stoughton, 10 Pick. (Mass.) 463; Dawes v. Boylston, 9 Mass. 337, 6 Am. Dec. 72.

The legal title to a note remains in the administrator of the payee, although in a division of the personal property, made before his appointment, it fell to one whose agent had demanded payment of the maker, and had agreed to accept interest at a certain rate for an unlimited length of time. Prouty v. Wilson, 123 Mass. 297.

65. Sinnott v. Kenaday, 14 App. Cas. (D. C.) 1 [reversed on other grounds in 179 U. S. 606, 1 S. Ct. 233, 45 L. ed. 339]; Broome v. Alston, 8 Fla. 307; Lessing v. Vertrees, 32 Mo. 431.

Rights of creditors of representative.—The effects of the decedent cannot be seized by a judgment creditor of the administrator in payment of the debt of such administrator:

debts he is a mere trustee for those beneficially entitled.[66] Where executors are also appointed trustees, their title to the testator's personalty as executors is superior to and takes precedence over that as trustees.[67]

b. Possession and Use. The right to the possession or use of the personal estate of a decedent, whether testate or intestate, vests at once in the personal representative,[68] and consequently he is the proper person to sue for property of the decedent which another person has converted to his use.[69] The mere possession of personal property, not wholly wrongful, by a decedent at the time of his death under a claim of title devolves upon his executor or administrator the immediate right of possession,[70] and the latter may recover the possession in an action of trover against any one who may have dispossessed or withheld possession from him;[71] but trover will not lie by an administrator to recover a chattel which, nor are the makers of a note given to the administrator for goods of the decedent sold by him liable as garnishees to a judgment creditor, as being debtors of such administrator. Lessing v. Vertrees, 32 Mo. 431.

Where the representative charges himself with the value of goods in his administration account, this is not a conversion of the goods such as will render them subject to execution for his debts. Robinson v. Burton, 2 Del. Ch. 814.

66. Chamberlin's Appeal, 70 Conn. 363, 39 Atl. 734, 41 L. R. A. 204.

The representative cannot acquire the title to the property of the decedent by merely paying the debts or discharging the obligations of the estate. Wilson v. Taylor, 30 Fed. Cas. No. 17,840*a*, 2 Hayw. & H. 334.

67. Lockman v. Reilly, 95 N. Y. 64; Harris v. Ely, 25 N. Y. 138. See also Grasser v. Eckart, 1 Binn. (Pa.) 575.

68. California.— Freese v. Hibernia Sav., etc., Soc., 139 Cal. 392, 73 Pac. 172; Page v. Tucker, 54 Cal. 121; Jahns v. Nolting, 29 Cal. 507.

Connecticut.— Roorbach v. Lord, 4 Conn. 347; Taber v. Packwood, 1 Day 150.

Kentucky.— Cook v. Burton, 5 Bush 64.

Michigan.— Ormsbee v. Piper, 123 Mich. 265, 82 N. W. 36; Palmer v. Palmer, 55 Mich. 293, 21 N. W. 352.

Missouri.— Gillet v. Camp, 19 Mo. 404.

Nevada.— See Buckley v. Buckley, 16 Nev. 180.

New Hampshire.— Tappan v. Tappan, 30 N. H. 50.

North Carolina.— Anonymous, 3 N. C. 161.

Ohio.— See In re Sattler, 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 440, 21 Cinc. L. Bul. 161.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 631.

Right of possession not impaired by injunction forbidding distribution.— McCutchen v. McCutchen, 8 Port. (Ala.) 151.

Family furniture.— Where no provision is made by will or statute for maintaining and keeping the family in possession of the family furniture or disposing of such property, and the same may be needful for sale or settlement of the estate, the representative may assume its virtual possession and control and the family can assert no title against him. Graydon v. Graydon, 23 N. J. Eq. 229; Moseley's Estate, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 50.

Right as between executor and guardian of legatee.— Where a testator bequeathed certain slaves to B, "should she attain the age of eighteen years," making other disposition of them if she should die before attaining that age, and gave the income to support the legatee and another person, the executor and not the guardian of the legatee was entitled to the possession of the slaves while she was under eighteen. Hanson v. Brawner, 2 Md. 90.

Agreement of beneficiaries to dispense with administration.— An administrator duly appointed without appeal is entitled to the possession of the uncollected choses in action belonging to the estate in the hands of the widow's administrator, although the heirs and the widow had agreed that there should be no administration. Ormsbee v. Piper, 123 Mich. 265, 82 N. W. 36.

Marriage of administratrix.— While the marriage of an administratrix extinguishes her authority as such (see supra, II, N, 6), it does not follow that she has not the right to retain possession of the property of the estate until the appointment of her successor, or until otherwise ordered by the court. Buckley v. Buckley, 16 Nev. 180.

Special statute not depriving administrator of right to possession see Tillinghast v. Holbrook, 7 R. I. 230.

When administrator cannot recover possession.— Where the personal property left by the intestate is disposed of by the sole heir and distributee, and there are no debts to be proved against the estate, an administrator subsequently appointed on the petition of such sole distributee cannot recover the property so disposed of. Cooper v. Hayward, 71 Minn. 374, 74 N. W. 152, 70 Am. St. Rep. 330. But compare In re Sattler, 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 440, 21 Cinc. L. Bul. 161.

69. Niehaus v. Cooper, 22 Ind. App. 610, 52 N. E. 761. See also Easley v. Easley, 18 B. Mon. (Ky.) 86. And see supra, VII, C.

When suit in equity necessary.— An executor, having merely a naked power of sale of a slave, can only enforce his right to the possession of the slave, for the purpose of sale, by a suit in equity. O'Neal v. Beall, 10 B. Mon. (Ky.) 272.

70. Cullen v. O'Hara, 4 Mich. 132.

71. Cullen v. O'Hara, 4 Mich. 132. See supra, VII, C.

although inventoried and appraised as the property of the decedent, is claimed adversely, and has never been in the administrator's possession.[72]

c. Rights of Action. The personal representative is also invested with the general rights of action pertaining to such personal property.[73]

d. Pledged or Mortgaged Property. It is the duty of the personal representative in the exercise of good faith and ordinary or reasonable prudence to employ funds of the estate in redeeming from pledge or chattel mortgage whatever personalty of the estate may have been placed in security, which is worth redeeming by reason of a greater value than the secured indebtedness;[74] and contracts of pledge or mortgage which bound the decedent will also bind his executor or administrator to the extent of available assets in his hands,[75] and the pledgee's or mortgagee's rights on default must be respected by him.[76]

72. Hill v. Beall, 41 Ga. 607.

73. Alabama.— Blakeney v. Blakeney, 6 Port. 109, 30 Am. Dec. 574.

Arkansas.— Collins v. Warner, 32 Ark. 87.

California.— Ham v. Henderson, 50 Cal. 367.

Georgia.— Johnson v. Stewart, 41 Ga. 549.

Iowa.—Morrison v. Burlington, etc., R. Co. 84 Iowa 663, 51 N. W. 75.

North Carolina.— Allen v. Watson, 5 N. C. 189.

Pennsylvania.— Young v. Patterson, 165 Pa. St. 423, 30 Atl. 1011, holding that where a bond binds the obligor to pay to the obligee, her executors, administrators, or assigns, a certain sum "for her own interest and as trustee" for certain others, the administrator of the obligee can sue thereon.

Tennessee.— Winningham v. Crouch, 2 Swan 170.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 629.

The possession and production of a note by the executor of one of two persons to whom it was given is prima facie evidence that the note is his in his right as executor and that it is unpaid. Tisdale v. Maxwell, 58 Ala. 40.

Action to enforce performance of contract. — Upon compliance by an administrator with the conditions of a contract entered into by his intestate whereby, upon the payment of a stipulated sum within a limited time, certain stock held by another in trust was to be transferred to the intestate, the administrator may bring an action for the performance of the contract. Sayward v. Houghton, 119 Cal. 545, 51 Pac. 853, 52 Pac. 44.

74. Pryor v. Davis, 109 Ala. 117, 19 So. 440; Chorn v. Chorn, 98 Ky. 627, 33 S. W. 1107, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 1178.

Property must be worth more than amount required to discharge lien. Richardson v. Kennedy, 74 Tex. 507, 12 S. W. 279.

Redemption before presentation of claim.— An administrator may redeem pledged property of the estate without waiting for a claim to be presented, provided he is willing to take the risk that the debt will not exceed the value of the property pledged. In re Eidenmuller, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 87.

Where the estate is insolvent the executor may pay a chattel mortgage executed by the testator if this is necessary to save the property from foreclosure (Matter of Van Houten, 18 Misc. (N. Y.) 524, 42 N. Y. Suppl. 1115), but he cannot do so where the lien of the mortgage has expired by failure of the mortgagee to renew it, since the mortgagee is in such case entitled only to be paid pro rata with the general creditors (Matter of Van Houten, 18 Misc. (N. Y.) 524, 42 N. Y. Suppl. 1115. See also Rock Spring First Nat. Bank v. Ludvigsen, 8 Wyo. 230, 56 Pac. 994, 57 Pac. 934, 80 Am. St. Rep. 928).

An executor may pay dues on stock pledged by the testator as additional security for a mortgage loan, although the estate is insolvent. Matter of Van Houten, 18 Misc. (N. Y.) 524, 42 N. Y. Suppl. 1115.

Pledge by partnership.— Executors should not be surcharged with the difference between what stocks were sold for and their present value, where the stocks had been pledged as collateral by a firm of which testator was a member, and they were sold for payment of the debt by the survivor, pursuant to an agreement between the partners that if either of them died the survivor should regulate the sale at his discretion. In re Moore, 198 Pa. St. 611, 48 Atl. 884.

When executor not liable for failure to redeem.— Where a testator before his death had pledged stock as collateral for a loan, and the stock stood in the pledgee's name, and the executors, having no assets with which to pay the debt, without selling securities specifically bequeathed, allowed the stock to remain in the broker's name, receiving the dividends less the interest, and subsequently the broker died insolvent, and had pledged the stock, their conduct was not so negligent as to render them personally liable. McCourt's Appeal, 11 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 161.

75. Stewart v. Fry, 3 Ala. 573.

Possession of pledged property.— A pledgee of certificates of stock is entitled to hold them as against an administrator of the pledgor, and is entitled to receive and enforce dividends or other benefits attaching thereto so long as his claim is unsatisfied, and a statute providing that the administrator shall have the right to the possession of the estate as it existed at the death of intestate does not authorize him to recover possession of such property. Fulton v. Denison Nat. Bank, 26 Tex. Civ. App. 115, 62 S. W. 84.

76. Mathew v. Mathew, 138 Cal. 334, 71 Pac. 344 (holding that a provision in a chat-

2. Sale — a. Power to Sell and Transfer Title — (i) Personalty in General — (a) At Common Law. Under the common-law rule, and in the absence of any statute providing otherwise, an executor or administrator has the absolute power to sell or dispose of the personal assets of the estate as he sees fit and can pass good title to a purchaser.[77]

(b) Under Modern Statutes. In many jurisdictions, however, statutes have been enacted requiring the sanction of the court before the representative can tel mortgage that on default in the payment of the debt secured the mortgagee may take possession of the property is operative against the executor of the mortgagor, who is personally liable for a refusal to yield possession, although he was about to sell the property under an order of court); Levin v. Russell, 42 N. Y. 251 (holding that the public administrator of the city of New York is liable personally for the taking or detention of personal property from the possession of a mortgagee of the property, where the mortgagee had obtained possession of the property on default in payment of his mortgage during the lifetime of the mortgagor, although the public administrator acted in his official capacity and in good faith, and in the belief that the property belonged to the mortgagor at the time of his death).

77. Alabama.— See Waring v. Lewis, 53 Ala. 615; Reynolds v. Kirkland, 44 Ala. 312; Ikelheimer v. Chapman, 32 Ala. 676; Wier v. Davis, 4 Ala. 442.

Arkansas.— Pelham v. Wilson, 4 Ark. 289.

California.— See Rankin v. Newman, 114 Cal. 635, 46 Pac. 742, 34 L. R. A. 265.

Florida.— See May v. May, 7 Fla. 207, 68 Am. Dec. 431.

Illinois.— Makepeace v. Moore, 10 Ill. 474.

Indiana.— See Rogers v. Zook, 86 Ind. 237.

Iowa.— Marshall County v. Hanna, 57 Iowa 372, 10 N. W. 745.

Kansas.— Lappin v. Mumford, 14 Kan. 9.

Kentucky.— Anderson v. Irvine, 6 B. Mon. 231; Smith v. Pollard, 4 B. Mon. 66; Ward v. Lewis, 3 J. J. Marsh. 505; Stamps v. Beaty, Hard. 337.

Louisiana.—See Morrill v. Carr, 2 La. Ann. 807, recognizing the common-law rule as existing in Arkansas, but holding that an administrator's powers are different in Louisiana.

Maine.— Carter v. Manufacturers' Nat. Bank, 71 Me. 448, 36 Am. Rep. 338.

Maryland.— Miller v. Williamson, 5 Md. 219; Evans v. Iglehart, 6 Gill & J. 171; Phippard v. Forbes, 4 Harr. & M. 481; Lark v. Linstead, 2 Md. Ch. 162.

Massachusetts.— In re Gay, 5 Mass. 419.

Michigan.— Gustin v. Bay City Union School-Dist., 94 Mich. 502, 54 N. W. 156, 34 Am. St. Rep. 361.

Mississippi.— Hutchins v. Brooks, 31 Miss. 430; Bland v. Muncaster, 24 Miss. 62, 57 Am. Dec. 162.

Missouri.— Overfield v. Bullitt, 1 Mo. 749. See also Boeger v. Langenberg, 42 Mo. App. 7.

Nebraska.— Mulloy v. Kyle, 26 Nebr. 313, 41 N. W. 1117. See also Edney v. Baum, (1903) 97 N. W. 252.

New York.— Leitch v. Wells, 48 N. Y. 585; Sherman v. Willett, 42 N. Y. 146; Gibbs v. Flour City Nat. Bank, 86 Hun 103, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 195; In re Scott, 5 N. Y. Leg. Obs. 378. See also Rogers v. Squires, 26 Hun 388.

North Carolina.—Tyrrell v. Morris, 21 N. C. 559. See also Wilson v. Doster, 42 N. C. 231.

Ohio.—Jelke v. Goldsmith, 52 Ohio St. 449, 40 N. E. 467, 49 Am. St. Rep. 730.

Oregon.— Weider v. Osborn, 20 Oreg. 307, 25 Pac. 715.

Pennsylvania.— Bayard v. Farmers', etc., Bank, 52 Pa. St. 232; Jaquett's Estate, 13 Lanc. Bar 13.

South Carolina.— Rhame v. Lewis, 13 Rich. Eq. 269.

Tennessee.— Sneed v. Hooper, Cooke 200, 5 Am. Dec. 691. See also Hadley v. Kendrick, 10 Lea 525.

Vermont.— See Mead v. Byington, 10 Vt. 116.

Virginia.— Knight v. Yarborough, 4 Rand. 566.

Wisconsin.— An executor or administrator may dispose of the personal assets of the estate without an order from the court, but is liable for the appraised value. Munteith v. Rahn, 14 Wis. 210; Williams v. Ely, 13 Wis. 1.

United States.— See Newell v. West, 18 Fed. Cas. No. 10,150, 2 Ban. & A. 113, 13 Blatchf. 114.

England.— See Hill v. Simpson, 7 Ves. Jr. 152, 6 Rev. Rep. 105, 32 Eng. Reprint 63.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 634.

The common-law rule is presumed to prevail in another state in the absence of any showing that it has been changed by statute. Brannan v. Oliver, 2 Stew. (Ala.) 47, 19 Am. Dec. 39; Rogers v. Zook, 86 Ind. 237.

Non-perishable property.— Executors and administrators are not required to sell non-perishable property unless the will so directs or unless it be necessary to pay debts or legacies. Matter of Mullon, 74 Hun (N. Y.) 358, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 683 [distinguishing Utica Ins. Co. v. Lynch, 1 Paige (N. Y.) 520].

An assignment of a patent by an administrator is valid. Brooks v. Jenkins, 4 Fed. Cas. No. 1,953, 3 McLean 432, where the patent had been renewed in the administrator's name.

A mining contract not for a term certain, with stipulations for payment of a yearly amount until mining operations commence, is a chattel capable of sale as such by the lessee's administrator. Horn v. Bowen, 4 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 419, 2 Clev. L. Rep. 133.

sell or otherwise dispose of the personalty,[78] although some of the statutory provisions as to the sale of personalty have been considered to be merely directory and for the protection of the representative, and not to affect his jus disponendi and power to pass a good title.[79]

(c) Testamentary Provisions. As a general rule statutes requiring an order of court to authorize a sale of personalty do not apply it in cases where the testator has by his will expressly authorized the executor to sell,[80] although it has been held that if the testator desires the power to be exercised without such order it should be so expressed in the will and otherwise an order is necessary.[81] An executor may sometimes, however, be justified in selling notwithstanding the sale is in opposition to a direction of the will.[82]

(II) Perishable Property and Annual Crops. Although the law requires the representative to obtain authority from the court to sell the personalty, yet if he is unable to obtain the order from the court in time to prevent loss and he makes a sale, the maxim lex non cogit ad impossibilia is applicable.[83] As a general rule when perishable property is given by a will to one for life with remainder to another it is the duty of the executor to sell the property and invest the fund, on which only the interest would belong to the person having the life-estate; but if the will indicates that the life-tenant shall enjoy the property in

78. Alabama.—Riddle v. Hill, 51 Ala. 224; Reynolds v. Kirkland, 44 Ala. 312; Ikelheimer v. Chapman, 32 Ala. 676; Wyatt v. Rambo. 29 Ala. 510, 68 Am. Dec. 89. And see Chandler v. Chandler, 87 Ala. 300, 6 So. 153; Ventress v. Smith, 10 Pet. (U. S.) 161, 9 L. ed. 382.

Arkansas.— Tate v. Norton, 94 U. S. 746, 24 L. ed. 222.

California.— Rankin v. Newman, 114 Cal. 635, 46 Pac. 742, 34 L. R. A. 265; Wickersham v. Johnston, 104 Cal. 407, 38 Pac. 89, 43 Am. St. Rep. 118; In re Sanderson, (1887) 13 Pac. 497.

Georgia.— Poullain v. Brown, 82 Ga. 412, 9 S. E. 1131; Lawrence v. Philpot, 27 Ga. 585.

Illinois.— Wilkinson v. Ward, 42 Ill. App. 541.

Indiana.— Rogers v. Zook, 86 Ind. 237.

Louisiana.— See De Egana's Succession, 18 La. Ann. 59.

Maryland.— Lark v. Linstead, 2 Md. Ch. 162.

Mississippi.— Joslin v. Caughlin, 32 Miss. 104; Henderson v. Clarke, 27 Miss. 436.

Missouri.— Weil v. Jones, 70 Mo. 560; Boeger v. Langenberg, 42 Mo. App. 7.

Nebraska.— Edney v. Baum, (1903) 97 N. W. 252.

South Carolina.— Rhame v. Lewis, 13 Rich. Eq. 269. And see Harth v. Heddlestone, 2 Bay 321; Saxon v. Barksdale, 4 Desauss. 522.

Tennessee.— Cheek v. Wheatley, 3 Sneed 484; Bell v. Speight, 11 Humphr. 451; Bryan v. Martin, 5 Humphr. 565; Herron v. Marshall, 5 Humphr. 443, 42 Am. Dec. 444.

Texas.— Mitchell v. De Witt, 20 Tex. 294; Robinson v. Martell, 11 Tex. 149; Massenberg v. Denison, 107 Fed. 18, 46 C. C. A. 120.

Virginia.— Green v. Thompson, 84 Va. 376, 5 S. E. 507.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 634.

Statutes changing common-law rule strictly construed.— Bland v. Muncaster, 24 Miss. 62, 57 Am. Dec. 162.

79. Nebraska.— See Edney v. Baum, (1903) 97 N. W. 252.

New York.— Matter of Oakman, 5 N. Y. Leg. Obs. 378.

North Carolina.— Fanshaw v. Fanshaw, 22 N. C. 59 note; Wynns v. Alexander, 22 N. C. 58.

South Carolina.— Harth v. Heddlestone, 2 Bay 321. But compare Pistole v. Street, 5 Port. (Ala.) 64, construing a South Carolina statute.

Wisconsin.—Munteith v. Rehn, 14 Wis. 210.

United States.— Newell v. West, 18 Fed. Cas. No. 10,150, 2 Ban. & A. 113, 13 Blatchf. 114, construing the Massachusetts statute.

80. McCollum v. McCollum, 33 Ala. 711; Winningham v. Holloway, 51 Ark. 385, 11 S. W. 579; Lawrence v. Philpot, 27 Ga. 585; Wright v. Zeigler, 1 Ga. 324, 44 Am. Dec 656; Trimble v. Lebus, 94 Ky. 304, 22 S. W. 329, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 85. See also Chandler v. Chandler, 87 Ala. 300, 6 So. 153.

Power to sell must be clearly given. Chandler v. Chandler, 87 Ala. 300, 6 So. 153; Neal v. Patten, 40 Ga. 363, holding that a mere direction to pay the debts does not authorize the executor to sell without an order of the ordinary.

The court has no authority to order a sale of the decedent's personalty if the power is vested in the executor by the will. McCollum v. McCollum, 33 Ala. 711.

81. Brooks v. Bergner, 83 Md. 352, 35 Atl. 98.

82. Stephens v. Milnor, 24 N. J. Eq. 358 (sale below part of constantly depreciating stock, although testator expressed a wish that it should not be sold below par); Meeker v. Crawford, 5 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 450 (sale necessary for distribution).

83. Levering v. Levering, 64 Md. 399, 2 Atl. 1, holding that a subsequent ratification specie the sale should not be made.[84] The administrator has authority to sell sufficient of the annual crops to reimburse one who has made advances to him to aid in putting in the crops on the estate.[85]

(III) CHOSES IN ACTION—(A) In General. It was early decided in this country that an executor or administrator might assign a chose in action.[86] This early rule has been retained in some jurisdictions,[87] and it has been asserted that statutes requiring sales of personalty to be under order of court apply only to tangible personalty, and do not affect the representative's power to dispose of choses in action.[88] In other states, however, the right of an executor or administrator to assign choses in action of the decedent has been subjected to the same restriction as exists with reference to tangible personalty.[89]

(B) Commercial Paper. According to the common-law rule it is within the power of an executor or administrator to indorse over and transfer commercial paper payable to his decedent,[90] and it necessarily follows from this that he may transfer such paper when it is payable to himself in his representative capacity.[91] of the sale would be equivalent to a prior order.

84. Woods v. Sullivan, 1 Swan (Tenn.) 507.

85. Starling v. Wyatt, (Miss. 1900) 27 So. 526.

86. Sutherland v. Brush, 7 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 17, 11 Am. Dec. 383. See also Low v. Burrows, 12 Cal. 181.

87. Connecticut.— Beecher v. Buckingham, 18 Conn. 110, 44 Am. Dec. 580.

Maine.— Chase v. Bradley, 26 Me. 531.

New York.— Petersen v. Chemical Bank, 32 N. Y. 21, 29 How. Pr. 240, 88 Am. Dec. 298; Matter of Fould, 35 Misc. 171, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 473.

North Carolina.— Dickson v. Crawley, 112 N. C. 629, 17 S. E. 158.

Virginia.— See Trevelyan v. Lofft, 83 Va. 141, 1 S. E. 901.

United States.— May v. Logan County, 30 Fed. 250.

Land certificate.— A certificate for a league and labor of land is not a chose in action, but a chose in possession, and therefore a vendible commodity for the payment of the debts of the deceased. Peevy v. Hurt, 32 Tex. 146.

88. Chandler v. Chandler, 87 Ala. 300, 6 So. 153; Curry v. Peebles, 83 Ala. 225, 3 So. 622; Weider v. Osborn, 20 Oreg. 307, 25 Pac. 715; Chapman v. Charleston, 30 S. C. 549, 9 S. E. 591, 3 L. R. A. 311; Rhame v. Lewis, 13 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 269. See also Butler v. Gazzam, 81 Ala. 491, 1 So. 16; Ladd v. Wiggin, 35 N. H. 421, 69 Am. Dec. 551.

89. Arkansas.— Winningham v. Holloway, 51 Ark. 385, 11 S. W. 579.

California.— Wickersham v. Johnston, 104 Cal. 407, 38 Pac. 89, 43 Am. St. Rep. 118.

Georgia.— Smith v. Griffin, 32 Ga. 81.

Kansas.— Pierce v. Batten, 3 Kan. App. 396, 42 Pac. 924.

Missouri.— Weil v. Jones, 70 Mo. 560.

90. Connecticut.— Hough v. Bailey, 32 Conn. 288.

Illinois.— Walker v. Craig, 18 Ill. 116; Dwight v. Newell, 15 Ill. 533; Walker v. Kirk, 14 Ill. 55; Makepeace v. Moore, 10 Ill. 474.

Indiana.— Hamrick v. Craven, 39 Ind. 241; Thomas v. Reister, 3 Ind. 369.

Iowa.— Marshall County v. Hanna, 57 Iowa 372, 10 N. W. 745.

Kentucky.—Sanders v. Blain, 6 J. J. Marsh. 446, 22 Am. Dec. 86.

Maine.— Malbon v. Southard, 36 Me. 147.

Maryland.— See Lucas v. Byrne, 35 Md 485.

Michigan.— Drake v. Cloonan, 99 Mich. 121, 57 N. W. 1098, 41 Am. St. Rep. 586.

Mississippi.— Owen v. Moody, 29 Miss. 79; Andrews v. Carr, 26 Miss. 577. And see Prosser v. Leatherman, 4 How. 237, 34 Am. Dec. 121.

New York.— Bogert v. Hertell, 4 Hill 492; Wheeler v. Wheeler, 9 Cow. 34; Southerland v. Brush, 7 Johns. Ch. 17, 11 Am. Dec. 383.

North Carolina.— Cox v. Wilson First Nat. Bank, 119 N. C. 302, 26 S. E. 22; Bradshaw v. Simpson, 41 N. C. 243; Gray v. Armistead, 41 N. C. 74. See also Wilson v. Doster, 42 N. C. 231.

Ohio.— Jelke v. Goldsmith, 52 Ohio St. 499, 40 N. E. 167, 49 Am. St. Rep. 730.

Oregon.— Weider v. Osborn, 20 Oreg. 207, 35 Pac. 715.

Rhode Island.— Mackay v. St. Mary's Church, 15 R. I. 121, 23 Atl. 103, 2 Am. St. Rep. 881.

Texas.— See Abercrombie v. Stillman, 77 Tex. 589, 14 S. W. 196.

Vermont.— Griswold v. Barnum, 5 Vt. 269.

Wisconsin.— Cleveland v. Harrison, 15 Wis. 670.

United States.— See Wilkins v. Ellett, 108 U. S. 256, 2 S. Ct. 641, 27 L. ed. 718.

England.— Rawlinson v. Stone, 3 Wils. C. P. 1.

An administrator may ratify the act of decedent's wife, when decedent was unconscious from illness, in indorsing over a note of which decedent was payee, where the proceeds of the note went into the estate before the death of the decedent. Seaver v. Weston, 163 Mass. 202, 39 N. E. 1013.

91. Alabama.— Nelson v. Stollenwerck, 60 Ala. 140; Moses v. Clark, 46 Ala. 229.

Illinois.— Walter v. Kirk, 14 Ill. 55.

Indiana.— Daffey v. State, 15 Ind. 441.

In some jurisdictions the representative is held to have power to transfer negotiable paper without an order of court authorizing him to do so, although the statute requires an order of court to authorize the transfer of personalty, it being considered that such statutes do not apply to negotiable instruments,[92] but in other jurisdictions such statutes are held to include negotiable instruments.[93] In some jurisdictions the power of the executor or administrator to transfer notes is limited to certain specific cases.[94] In those states where the administrator has power to indorse and assign notes due the decedent it will be presumed that an administrator in another state has the same power,[95] unless it is alleged or shown that the administrator's power is regulated or restricted by statute in that state,[96] while in a state where the administrator must be authorized by order of court before he can assign a note it has been presumed that the law of a foreign country is the same.[97]

(iv) Stocks and Bonds. In some jurisdictions the representative has the common-law power to transfer stocks and bonds,[98] while in others the statutes specifically prohibit their sale without an order of court.[99] Where a transfer is to be made, it may be made in the representative's own name.[1] In the absence of ancillary administration or statutory prohibition the domiciliary administrator duly appointed has authority to sell and assign the stock of the decedent in a foreign corporation.[2]

(v) Mortgages. In some jurisdictions the representative of a mortgagee may assign the mortgage debt without an order of court,[3] while in others the represent-

Mississippi.— Booyer v. Hodges, 45 Miss. 78; Miller v. Helm, 2 Sm. & M. 687.

Texas.— Groce v. Herndon, 2 Tex. 410; Lipscombe v. Ward, 2 Tex. 277.

92. Alabama.— Nelson v. Stollenwerck, 60 Ala. 140.

Illinois.— Wooley v. Lyon, 117 Ill. 244, 6 N. E. 885, 57 Am. Rep. 867.

Indiana.— Rogers v. Zook, 86 Ind. 237.

Mississippi.— Booyer v. Hodges, 45 Miss. 78; Owen v. Moody, 29 Miss. 79; Andrews v. Carr, 26 Miss. 577.

New Hampshire.— Ladd v. Wiggins, 35 N. H. 421, 69 Am. Dec. 551.

Oregon.— Weider v. Osborn, 20 Oreg. 307, 25 Pac. 715.

South Carolina.— Rhame v. Lewis, 13 Rich. Eq. 269.

93. Wickersham v. Johnston, 104 Cal. 407, 38 Pac. 89, 43 Am. St. Rep. 118; Burbank v. Payne, 17 La. Ann. 15, 87 Am. Dec. 513. See also Thompson v. Thompson, 77 Ga. 692, 3 S. E. 261; Stagg v. Linnenfelser, 59 Mo. 336.

If the transfer is not detrimental to the estate of the deceased it is not necessarily void. Marston v. Winter, 10 La. Ann. 210.

94. Arkansas.—Payne v. Flournoy, 29 Ark. 500. See also Whittaker v. Wright, 35 Ark. 511.

Missouri.— Stagg v. Linnenfelser, 59 Mo. 336. See also Cowgill v. Linville, 20 Mo. App. 138.

Ohio.— Jelke v. Goldsmith, 52 Ohio St. 499, 40 N. E. 167, 49 Am. St. Rep. 730.

95. Rogers v. Zook, 86 Ind. 237. See also Clark v. Blackington, 110 Mass. 369.

96. Rogers v. Zook, 86 Ind. 237.

97. Wickersham v. Johnston, 104 Cal. 407, 38 Pac. 89, 43 Am. St. Rep. 118.

98. Leitch v. Wells, 48 N. Y. 585. See also Hutchins v. State Bank, 12 Metc. (Mass.) 421; Ex p. Jones, 13 Fed. Cas. No. 7,443, 4 Cranch C. C. 185.

99. See Stinson v. Thornton, 56 Ga. 377; Weyer v. Franklin Second Nat. Bank, 57 Ind. 198; Trimble v. Lebus, 94 Ky. 304, 22 S. W. 329, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 85; Butler v. Butler, 10 R. I. 501.

In New Hampshire if the administrator would make a legal sale and transfer of stock as administrator, he must strictly pursue one of two courses: he must either assume the whole inventory of the personal estate of the intestate at the appraised value, or he must under the license of the judge of probate sell the same at public auction upon a sufficient previous notice of sale. French v. Currier, 47 N. H. 88.

1. Mahaney v. Walsh, 16 N. Y. App. Div. 601, 44 N. Y. Suppl. 969; Henke's Appeal, 10 Pa. Cas. 295, 14 Atl. 45, where title to certificates of state loans was in executors.

2. Luce v. Manchester, etc., R. Co., 63 N. H. 588, 3 Atl. 618. See also Hutchins v. State Bank, 12 Metc. (Mass.) 421.

3. Maine.— Libby v. Mayberry, 80 Me. 137, 13 Atl. 577; Crooker v. Jewell, 31 Me. 306.

Maryland.— McCauseland v. Baltimore Humane Impartial Soc., 95 Md. 741, 54 Atl. 918.

Massachusetts.— Burt v. Ricker, 6 Allen 77 [distinguishing Ex p. Blair, 13 Metc. 126].

Michigan.—Drake v. Cloonan, 99 Mich. 121, 57 N. W. 1098, 41 Am. St. Rep. 586; Reynolds v. Smith, 57 Mich. 194, 23 N. W. 727.

New Hampshire.—Ladd v. Wiggin, 35 N. H. 421, 69 Am. Dec. 551.

New York.— Smith v. Tiffany, 16 Hun 552. See also Washburn v. Benedict, 46 N. Y. App. Div. 484, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 387; Read v. Knell, 69 Hun 541, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 941.

ative cannot, without being duly authorized by the court, assign a mortgage given to the decedent in his lifetime.[4]

b. Time of Sale.[5] So far as an executor or administrator may be bound to sell and dispose of the decedent's personalty, he should proceed within a reasonable time to do so,[6] but an executor should not attempt to sell the personalty of his testator before probate of the will and the issuance of letters testamentary.[7] In England the lapse of many years since a testator's death may raise a presumption that all debts have been paid, so as to put a subsequent purchaser on inquiry.[8]

c. Manner and Conduct.[9] At common law the manner of sale is a matter resting in the discretion of the personal representative,[10] who may sell at either private or public sale as he may deem best;[11] but in some states the statutes require a public or auction sale unless the probate court has specially authorized a private sale.[12] It has been held in England to be a matter of indifference

Wisconsin.—Cleveland v. Harrison, 15 Wis. 670.

A decree of foreclosure of a mortgage on realty may be assigned by the administrator and the assignment will carry with it the note and mortgage. Brand v. Smith, 99 Mich. 395, 58 N. W. 363.

4. Pierce v. Batten, 3 Kan. App. 396, 42 Pac. 924.

Under the Pennsylvania act of 1885 it must appear to the court that all parties in interest in the land encumbered have joined in the application for the assignment. Weimer v. Karch, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 203.

5. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, K, 2.

6. Griswold v. Chandler, 5 N. H. 492; In re Gray, 91 N. Y. 502; Matter of Thompson, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 420, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 1111; Campbell v. Purdy, 5 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 434; Pulliam v. Pulliam, 10 Fed. 53.

Sale should be made within one year after appointment. Sunday's Appeal, 131 Pa. St. 584, 18 Atl. 931.

Liability for failure to sell or delay in selling see supra, VIII, L, 8.

7. Smith v. Barham, 17 N. C. 420, 25 Am. Dec. 721; Monroe v. James, 4 Munf. (Va.) 194.

8. In re Tanqueray-Willaume, 20 Ch. D. 465, 51 L. J. Ch. 434, 46 L. T. Rep. N. S. 542, 30 Wkly. Rep. 801. See also In re Molyneaux, 15 L. R. Ir. 383.

Rule not applicable to sale of leaseholds.— In re Venn, [1894] 2 Ch. 101, 63 L. J. Ch. 303, 70 L. T. Rep. N. S. 312, 8 Reports 220, 42 Wkly. Rep. 440; In re Whistler, 35 Ch. D. 561, 51 J. P. 820, 56 L. J. Ch. 827, 57 L. T. Rep. N. S. 77, 35 Wkly. Rep. 662.

9. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, K.

10. Cannon v. Jenkins, 16 N. C. 422. See also Wier v. Davis, 4 Ala. 442.

11. Johnson v. Kay, 8 Humphr. (Tenn.) 142.

12. Alabama.— Hopper v. Steele, 18 Ala. 828; Wier v. Davis, 4 Ala. 442.

Florida.— May v. May, 7 Fla. 207, 68 Am. Dec. 431.

Illinois.— Burnap v. Dennis, 4 Ill. 478.

Indiana.— Weyer v. Franklin Second Nat. Bank, 57 Ind. 198.

Louisiana.— Pinard v. George, 30 La. Ann. 384. See also Donaldson v. Hull, 7 Mart. N. S. 112.

Mississippi.— Ware v. Houghton, 41 Miss. 370, 93 Am. Dec. 258; Worten v. Howard, 2 Sm. & M. 527, 41 Am. Dec. 607; Baines v. McGee, 1 Sm. & M. 208; Cable v. Martin, 1 How. 558.

Ohio.— See Jelke v. Goldsmith, 52 Ohio St. 499, 40 N. E. 167, 49 Am. St. Rep. 730.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 637.

Private sale by representative void see McArthur v. Carrie, 32 Ala. 75, 70 Am. Dec. 529.

The North Carolina statute requiring sales by executors to be public and under an order of the county court is merely directory, and a private sale to a bona fide purchaser is valid. Wynns v. Alexander, 22 N. C. 58. See also Tyrrell v. Morris, 21 N. C. 559.

Liability for private sale.— An executor or administrator who sells at private sale for cash ought to be charged with such sum as the property would have sold for at public auction for cash. Hudson v. Hudson, 5 Munf. (Va.) 180.

Sale not within statute.— La. Code, art. 1167, providing that property belonging to vacant successions can only be sold at public auction after advertisement, does not apply to sales under article 1190, which provides that if a succession is so small that no one will accept the curatorship the judge after ordering an inventory shall appoint the district attorney curator, who shall cause the effects to be sold and the proceeds applied to payment of the debts, the whole to be done in as summary a manner as possible to diminish costs. Simmons v. Saul, 138 U. S. 439, 11 S. Ct. 369, 34 L. ed. 1054.

Sale of crops at market.— In Georgia an executor may sell annual crops at private sale, but they must be actually carried to market and sold there and cannot be sold at private sale on the estate. Neal v. Patten, 40 Ga. 363. And the crops must not be sent to a foreign market; to do this is a devastavit, for which it is no excuse that it was done to avoid seizure by the government. Poullian v. Brown, 82 Ga. 412, 9 S. E. 1131.

Private sale in usual course of business.— The Mississippi statute providing that when whether an executor or trustee observes the order of sale enjoined in the will or not, provided that no depreciation takes place in the property whose sale is irregularly postponed.[13] An executor cannot delegate to another the execution of a special power of sale committed to him by the will in personal trust and confidence.[14]

d. Price. The Louisiana statute providing that unless the purchase-price of property belonging to a succession be equal to its actual value its sale for less than the amount of its appraisement is void relates only to the first offering, and when the property is readvertised for sale and at a second offering sold on a twelve-months' credit it may be validly sold for whatever it will bring.[15]

e. Terms and Conditions.[16] It has been said that if the representative sells for anything but cash, except in rare and exceptional cases, he becomes the guarantor of the results of the transaction, and if it proves unfortunate he may be charged as for a devastavit.[17] But the more general rule allows him to sell upon reasonable credit,[18] although where he does so he must take good security for the deferred payments,[19] and if he fails to take security or takes insufficient security he is liable for any resulting loss.[20] one dies, leaving a stock of merchandise, the court may allow the executor or administrator to dispose of the same at private sale, the terms being first made known to the court, was intended to confer authority to permit a private sale, upon certain terms, and this presupposes some definite offer by one proposing to buy the whole or a portion of the stock. An order authorizing a private sale of such stock in the usual course of business is void. Tell City Furniture Co. v. Stiles, 60 Miss. 849. But see In re Osborn, 36 Oreg. 8, 38 Pac. 521.

13. Olliver v. King, 1 Jur. N. S. 1066.

14. Berger v. Duff, 4 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 368. See also Neal v. Patten, 47 Ga. 73.

15. Campbell v. Owens, 32 La. Ann. 265.

16. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, L.

17. Matter of Gilman, 39 Misc. (N. Y.) 762, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 1122 [reversed on other grounds in 82 N. Y. App. Div. 186, 81 N. Y. Suppl. 713]. See also Foster v. Thomas, 21 Conn. 285; Estill v. McClintic, 11 W. Va. 399 [followed in Hoke v. Hoke, 12 W. Va. 427], holding that where an administrator sells personalty of his decedent, and takes bonds therefor, this is a conversion of the assets of the estate, rendering the administrator liable to account for the amount of the sales, the bonds becoming his individual property; but a court of equity will relieve him from responsibility upon its being shown that they were rendered unavailable without any fault on his part, he having acted prudently, diligently, and conscientiously in the premises.

18. Matter of Woodbury, 13 Misc. (N. Y.) 474, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 485; Stone v. Hinton, 36 N. C. 15 (holding that where a will directed a sale and did not prescribe the terms of sale, a sale on a credit of twelve months was proper); Bradshaw v. Cruise, 4 Heisk. (Tenn.) 260.

Sale must be for payment of debts and legacies. N. Y. Code Civ. Proc. § 2717, authorizing executors, when necessary for the payment of debts and legacies, to sell sufficient of decedent's personalty on credit, with "approved security," does not authorize an executor to sell on credit except for the payment of debts and legacies. Matter of Woodbury, 13 Misc. 474, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 485.

Liability for not selling on credit.— Where an executor or administrator sells at private sale for cash, he ought to be charged therefor such further sum as the property would have brought upon a reasonable credit, if the situation of the estate would admit such credit. Hudson v. Hudson, 5 Munf. (Va.) 180.

19. Vreeland v. Schoonmaker, 16 N. J. Eq. 512; Matter of Woodbury, 13 Misc. (N. Y.) 474, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 485.

"Approved security."— Under a statute authorizing an executor or administrator to sell on credit "with approved security," it has been held that the security must be national or state bonds or mortgages on real estate and must be approved by the surrogate. Matter of Woodbury, 13 Misc. (N. Y.) 474, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 485.

Taking the note of a third person indorsed by the purchaser is not a compliance with a statute requiring the representative to take a bond of the purchaser with approved security. Steger v. Bush, Sm. & M. Ch. (Miss.) 172.

Sufficiency of security.—Where an executor sold goods of testator on credit, and accepted as security a man generally reputed as good for the amount, this was sufficient to relieve him from liability, although the security did not possess a freehold. Konigmacher v. Kimmel, 1 Penr. & W. (Pa.) 207, 21 Am. Dec. 374.

Failure of distributee's husband to object. — The omission of an administrator to take the security required by law on selling the property of the estate cannot be excused upon the mere ground that the distributee's husband, who may not have known what was the administrator's duty, was present and made no objection; nor is the distributee estopped from objecting to the credit. Walls v. Grigsby, 42 Ala. 473.

20. Alabama.— See Stewart v. Stewart, 31 Ala. 207.

Connecticut.— Foster v. Thomas, 21 Conn. 285.

f. Who May Purchase — (i) Personal Representative.[21] It has been laid down that an executor or administrator has no right to become the purchaser of assets of the estate at his own sale, whether public or private.[22] Such a purchase is, however, not void, but only voidable at the option of those interested,[23] and may be allowed to stand where it appears that the price was fair and that the Florida.— Sherrell v. Shepard, 19 Fla. 300.

Indiana.— Lindley v. State, 116 Ind. 235, 18 N. E. 45.

New Jersey.— Vreeland v. Schoonmaker, 16 N. J. Eq. 512.

New York.— Matter of Beach, 1 Misc. 27, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 1079; Orcutt v. Orms, 3 Paige 459.

Pennsylvania.— Paul v. Kennedy, 1 Grant 399; McGee's Estate, 1 Phila. 443.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 638; and infra, XIII, P, 2, n.

Representative liable for whole of purchase-money.— An administrator who sells the estate of his intestate on credit, and without security, is to be charged with the whole purchase-money, and is precluded from showing that the price was too high. Hasbrouck v. Hasbrouck, 27 N. Y. 182 [reversing 37 Barb. 579].

Unauthorized approval of probate judge.— The administrator cannot shield himself by showing that the probate judge approved the security, in the absence of any law conferring such power on the probate judge. Sherrell v. Shepard, 19 Fla. 300.

Representative chargeable with interest.— Lindley v. State, 116 Ind. 235, 18 N. E. 45.

Delay in giving security.— The representative is not chargeable with the value of property sold by him and delivered to the purchaser before the latter has complied with the terms of sale as to security, if the purchaser afterward complies therewith. Dean v. Rathbone, 15 Ala. 328.

Sale as for cash through factors — Delivery before payment.— Where factors employed by an executor sold crops to a house of unsuspected credit, and did not require security because the sale was intended as a cash sale, and payment was demanded on the fourth day after the sale, and frequently thereafter, but the purchaser failed, it was held that the executor was not negligent in parting with the crop without security for the payment and hence was not chargeable with the loss. Taveau v. Ball, 1 McCord Eq. (S. C.) 456.

21. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, M, 4.

22. Kentucky.— Ely v. Com., 5 Dana 398; Miller v. Towles, 4 J. J. Marsh. 255.

Mississippi.— Baines v. McGee, 1 Sm. & M. 208.

New York.— Matter of Van Houten, 18 Misc. (N. Y.) 524, 42 N. Y. Suppl. 1115.

North Carolina.— Villines v. Norfleet, 17 N. C. 167; Carraway v. Burbank, 12 N. C. 306; Ryden v. Jones, 8 N. C. 497, 9 Am. Dec. 660; Britton v. Browne, 4 N. C. 332.

Pennsylvania.— Coppel's Estate, 4 Phila. 378.

Vermont.— Green v. Sargeant, 23 Vt. 466, 56 Am. Dec. 88; Mead v. Byington, 10 Vt. 116.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 640.

Indirect purchase within prohibition.— Matter of Bach, 12 N. Y. Suppl. 712, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 490.

In South Carolina it is expressly provided by statute that an executor or administrator may purchase property of his decedent. Cunningham v. Cauthen, 37 S. C. 123, 15 S. E. 917; Finch v. Finch, 28 S. C. 164, 5 S. E. 348, 13 Am. St. Rep. 665. And it has been held that where an administrator purchased cotton at such a sale, and charged himself with the full market value, and then resold the cotton, taking a mortgage on land to secure the price, the distributees of the estate, on foreclosure of the mortgage and purchase of the land by the administrator, had no interest in such land, although the notes taken on the resale of the cotton were payable to the administrator in his representative capacity. Cunningham v. Cauthen, 37 S. C. 123, 15 S. E. 917.

Lien for price against property in the hands of subsequent purchaser.— Where an administrator becomes a purchaser at his own sale, even if the purchase be valid, the statutory lien for the price of the property still exists on the property in his hands and may be enforced against the property in the hands of his vendee, although he paid the price to the administrator, since payment to the estate is the only thing that can discharge the lien. Baines v. McGee, 1 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 208.

Purchase by executor who has not qualified.— A sale is not to be avoided merely because the purchaser has the power to become executor or trustee of the property purchased, as by proving the will which relates thereto, where in point of fact he never does become such. Such a purchaser is under no disability, and in order to avoid such sale it must be shown that he in fact used his power in such a way as to render it inequitable that the sale should be upheld. Clark v. Clark, 9 App. Cas. 733, 52 L. J. P. C. 99, 51 L. T. Rep. N. S. 750.

The representative may purchase from a purchaser, if the original transaction was in good faith and without collusion (In re Millenovich, 5 Nev. 161; Britton v. Lewis, 8 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 271; Johnson v. Kay, 8 Humphr. (Tenn.) 142), but the court will look with great jealousy at such a transaction, particularly where the transfer of bids or title takes place very soon after the sale (Britton v. Lewis, 8 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 271. See also In re Millenovich, 5 Nev. 161).

23. Tate v. Dalton, 41 N. C. 562; Grim's Appeal, 105 Pa. St. 375. See also Brannan v. Oliver, 2 Stew. (Ala.) 47, 19 Am. Dec. 39.

transaction was for the benefit of the estate, and satisfactory to those beneficially interested;[24] or the acquiescence of those beneficially interested or their failure to object within a reasonable time may amount to a ratification.[25] The representative who purchases the property of the estate becomes personally liable for the price,[26] and is chargeable with the amount as cash after the expiration of the term of credit.[27] It has been held that if the representative purchases at less than the appraised value he will be accountable for the difference,[28] and also that if he purchases and resells at a profit, such profit belongs to the estate.[29]

(II) Relative of Representative.[30] In England a sale by an executor or administrator to his son has been considered improper;[31] but in Pennsylvania it has been held that a public sale of the assets of an estate to the son of the executor was not invalid, where a proper notice was given, and the price obtained was the best price bid, and there was no pretense that the purchase in any way operated to the benefit of the executor.[32]

(III) Surviving Partner of Decedent.[33] A surviving partner who is disposing of the property of the partnership in the absence of an executor or administrator of the deceased partner cannot buy the partnership effects himself, for he cannot at the same time occupy the position of vendor and purchaser;[34] but the reason which would forbid a transaction of this character has no application to a case where a surviving partner purchases property from the executor or administrator of the deceased partner, and such a purchase is permissible.[35]

24. Raines v. Raines, 51 Ala. 237; Childress v. Childress, 3 Ala. 752; In re Millenovich, 5 Nev. 161; Anderson v. Fox, 2 Hen. & M. (Va.) 245; Whatton v. Toone, 5 Madd. 54.

Bona fide purchaser from representative.— Where an executor at his own sale bid fairly in order to enhance the price of the same, and the property was struck off to him, and he sold it, without collusion, to one who had bid against him, the purchaser acquired an absolute title. Cannon v. Jenkins, 16 N. C. 422.

25. Tate v. Dalton, 41 N. C. 562; Grim's Appeal, 105 Pa. St. 375; Todd v. Moore, 1 Leigh (Va.) 457.

26. Raines v. Raines, 51 Ala. 237; Mouton v. Beauchamp, 10 La. Ann. 666.

Liability for full price.— Where an administrator bought two slaves of the estate at his own sale in 1864, at twelve hundred dollars, he is liable therefor at such price, in the absence of proof that they were worth less in good currency. McDonald v. Jacobs, 85 Ala. 64, 4 So. 605.

Liability to creditors.— Where an executor makes purchases at a sale of the testator's goods, he is liable to creditors for the amount, unless he applies it to a debt of his own of as high dignity as that of the creditor who claims it. Young v. Wickliffe, 7 Dana (Ky.) 447.

Representative chargeable with interest.— Julian v. Wrightsman, 73 Mo. 569.

27. Childress v. Childress, 3 Ala. 752.

The obligation of an executor to account to a legatee springs out of the relation of the parties; and a purchase by the former at his own sale of chattels belonging to the estate of his testator does not convert the obligation into one arising from the contract of sale. Hence an executor who at the sale of the chattels constituting the personal estate of his testator purchased slaves belonging to such estate cannot in accounting to a legatee set up as a defense that his liability grew out of a contract the consideration of which was the purchase-money of slaves. Berry v. Hart, 1 S. C. 125.

28. Griswold v. Chandler, 5 N. H. 492.

In South Carolina it is provided by statute that if an executor or administrator purchases property of his decedent at an underprice he shall be liable to the parties interested for its actual value at the time of sale. Cunningham v. Cauthen, 37 S. C. 123, 15 S. E. 917; Finch v. Finch, 28 S. C. 164, 5 S. E. 348, 13 Am. St. Rep. 665.

29. Matter of Ver Valen, 24 N. Y. Suppl. 133, Pow. Surr. (N. Y.) 435; Coppels' Estate, 4 Phila (Pa.) 378. See also Johnson v. Kay, 8 Humphr. (Tenn.) 142.

A representative who subsequently acquires an interest in goods sold by him in good faith to a third person is not required to account for any profits. Johnson v. Kay, 8 Humphr. (Tenn.) 142.

In England an executor purchasing assets belonging to the estate with the assent of the persons then interested will not after a length of time be answerable for a profit which he has made, unless he purchased with a fraudulent intention. Whatton v. Toone, 5 Madd. 54.

30. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, M, 5.

31. John v. Jones, 34 L. T. Rep. N. S. 570.

32. Bowker's Estate, 5 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 493.

33. As to rights of surviving partners generally see PARTNERSHIP.

34. Kimball v. Lincoln, 99 Ill. 578 [affirming 7 Ill. App. 470].

35. Kimball v. Lincoln, 99 Ill. 578 [affirming 7 Ill. App. 470]; Roys v. Vilas, 18

g. Conveyance and Transfer.[36] If a sale is made under a power created by a will, and is absolute, and possession is delivered by the executor, no bill of sale or other written evidence is necessary to transfer the title to the purchaser.[37] Where there is a written conveyance in which the executor neglects to recite his authority to convey, the conveyance will nevertheless be referred to such authority.[38]

h. Payment or Recovery of Price.[39] The giving of a note for property purchased at an administrator's sale is not a payment therefor.[40] Where the representative sells through an agent, partly for cash and partly on credit, and the vendees make a cash payment to the agent, he receives it to the use of the representative.[41] A payment in Confederate money during the Civil war might be effective,[42] and the representative is not chargeable with a loss resulting from his acceptance of such money in payment, where in so doing he acted in good faith and without negligence,[43] and where a sale was made with reference to Confederate money, and after the close of the war the executors settled with the purchaser at one-tenth of the price bid, such settlement being made in good faith and the amount realized being more than the value of the Confederate currency at the date of the purchase, the executors were accountable only for the amount actually received.[44] Fraudulent representations in the sale may be set up by a deceived purchaser, either by action as against the representative personally or by way of defense against his own note given for the purchase-money,[45] and in an action on such a note the purchaser may also show that the property for which the note was given was taken out of his possession and sold under judgments against the estate, and that the consideration of the note thus failed.[46] But the purchaser upon discovering any irregularity or defect which justifies him either in rescinding the sale or in claiming damages should act promptly and so far as possible on his part seek to place the representative and estate in statu quo.[47] A creditor of an intestate cannot resist payment of a note given to the administrator for goods of the estate by setting off his demands, either in law or equity, where the assets are exhausted by claims having precedence in law;[48] but the purchaser may by agreement with the representative discharge his note given for the purchase-money by applying the amount to the payment of the creditors of the

Wis. 169; Chambers v. Howell, 11 Beav. 6, 12 Jur. 905.

36. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, U.

37. Woods v. Burrough, 2 Head (Tenn.) 202.

38. Holladay v. Holladay, McMull. Eq. (S. C.) 279.

39. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, O.

40. Dedman v. Williams, 2 Ill. 154.

41. Heffernan v. Grymes, 2 Leigh (Va.) 512.

42. Wright v. Stott, 46 Ala. 200.

Liability under scaling act see Depriest v. Patterson, 92 N. C. 399.

43. Moffatt v. Loughridge, 51 Miss. 211; Williams v. Williams, 43 Miss. 430; Kerns v. Wallace, 64 N. C. 187; Finger v. Finger, 64 N. C. 183; Johnson v. Henagan, 11 S. C. 93; Kennedy v. Briere, 45 Tex. 305. But compare Bruce v. Strickland, 47 Ala. 192; White v. Gardner, 37 Tex. 407. See supra, VII, J, 2, c.

Improper receipt and retainer of Confederate money.— An administrator who during the Civil war was authorized by the probate court to sell property on credit, but sold for cash and instead of paying creditors, as he might have done, kept the Confederate money received in payment, which became valueless, is chargeable with the loss, although he acted in good faith and sold the property for a fair price. Williams v. Campbell, 46 Miss. 57.

44. Smith v. Prothro, 2 S. C. 371.

45. Williamson v. Walker, 24 Ga. 257, 71 Am. Dec. 119; Ray v. Virgin, 12 Ill. 216; George v. Bean, 30 Miss. 147. See also Phillips v. Keifer, 2 Metc. (Ky.) 478.

46. Buckels v. Cunningham, 6 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 358. See also Welch v. Hoyt, 24 Ill. 117.

Tax-sale.— One purchasing personal property of an administrator individually and permitting it to be sold without resistance for a tax due by the estate and repurchasing it is estopped to set up the eviction as a defense to the notes given to the administrator for the price. Johnson v. Dunbar, 26 La. Ann. 188.

47. Joslin v. Caughlin, 30 Miss. 502.

Where the sale is void in its inception the representative cannot coerce payment of the purchase-money, and the purchaser may set up the invalidity of the contract without placing the representative in statu quo by a return of the property. Fambro v. Gantt, 12 Ala. 298.

48. Willis v. Loan, 2 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 141. See also Bales v. Hyman, 57 Miss. 330.

estate.[49] Where an administrator takes the note of a third person, indorsed by the purchaser at the sale, and also the bond of the purchaser, and agrees to collect the note and apply the proceeds to the payment of the bond, the administrator's neglect in collecting the note, and a loss thereby, cannot relieve the purchaser from the payment of his bond, or the property from the statutory mortgage thereon.[50] Where an executor sold tobacco, made on his testator's estate, and collected a part only of the money, the residue belonged to the devisees, who might pursue the debtors without recourse to the executor.[51]

i. Application of Proceeds.[52] The price of property sold, whether it be in cash or by the purchaser's note, and all other consideration or security realized, should be applied by the executor or administrator for the benefit of the estate in due course of law, and he will be held accountable accordingly;[53] but the purchaser is not bound to see to the application of the proceeds nor is he responsible for any misapplication thereof,[54] unless he had at the time of payment reasonable ground for believing that the executor intended to misapply the money or was in the very transaction applying it to his own private use, in which event he is responsible to the persons injured.[55]

j. Validity and Effect of Sale.[56] In the absence of any showing to the contrary it is presumed that an executor or administrator who has made a sale or transfer has exercised his power rightfully.[57] A sale of property by an agent appointed by a power of attorney made by an executor, but not authorized by will to be made, is illegal as against creditors.[58] A sale of property belonging to the estate by a person named as executor, but who did not qualify, is void as against an executor who did qualify;[59] but where under the existing law of a state an administrator has power to sell personalty, a sale by him is valid, although his letters are subsequently revoked upon the admission of a will to probate.[60] The fact that personalty belonging to an estate is traded by the executor for real estate without authority does not prevent the vendee getting title to the personalty which is delivered to him.[61] While a sale of personal property by an administrator without an order of court, where this is required, would be void as to distributees, if the distributees assent to it no one can complain, except per-

49. Pittman v. Pittman, 59 Miss. 203 [distinguishing Bales v. Hyman, 57 Miss. 330].

50. Steger v. Bush, Sm. & M. Ch. (Miss.) 172.

51. Cary v. Macon, 4 Call (Va.) 605.

52. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, V.

53. Morrison v. Page, 9 Dana (Ky.) 428; Montmollin v. Gaunt, 5 Dana (Ky.) 405; Godwin v. Godwin, 4 Leigh (Va.) 410.

Discharging mortgage on property sold.— The proceeds of cattle of decedent's estate, sold by his administrator, should be withdrawn from the general assets, and applied to discharging a mortgage thereon exceeding such proceeds. Baker v. Becker, 67 Kan. 831, 72 Pac. 860.

Sale of property of third person.— Where an administrator innocently sells another's property, believing that it belongs to his estate, the owner is entitled to the fund realized from the sale; and if its amount cannot be shown he may claim distribution pro rata on the value of the property with the other creditors. Kemp's Estate, 34 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 82.

54. Kentucky.— Morrison v. Page, 9 Dana 428.

North Carolina.—Tyrrell v. Morris, 21 N. C. 559.

Tennessee.— Hadley v. Kendrick, 10 Lea 525.

Virginia.— Brockenbrough v. Turner, 78 Va. 438; Jones v. Clark, 25 Gratt. 642.

United States.— Lowry v. Commercial, etc., Bank, 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,581, Brunn. Col. Cas. 331, Taney 310.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 643.

55. Lowry v. Commercial, etc., Bank, 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,581, Brunn. Col. Cas. 331, Taney 310. See also Morrison v. Page, 9 Dana (Ky.) 428.

56. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, T.

57. Marshall County v. Hanna, 57 Iowa 372, 10 N. W. 745. See also Booyer v. Hodges, 45 Miss. 78.

58. Neal v. Patten, 47 Ga. 73.

59. Monroe v. James, 4 Munf. (Va.) 194. But see Legge v. Magwood, Harp. (S. C.) 116.

60. Phippard v. Forbes, 4 Harr. & M. (Md.) 481.

61. Edney v. Baum, (Nebr. 1903) 97 N. W. 252, holding further that the vendee, having obtained title to the goods, is liable in an action for damages by reason of fraud in the purchase if the executors elect to affirm the sale.

haps creditors whose debts are unpaid or an administrator de bonis non seeking the property as assets to pay debts.[62] Where an administrator acquires possession of property previously disposed of by him at a private sale, conducted in his individual capacity, he may not set up as against his vendees the invalidity of the sale made by himself.[63] Lapse of time accompanied with proof of possession under the sale will raise a presumption in favor of the regularity of the proceedings[64] and cure informalities,[65] but it cannot cure a total want of authority.[66]

k. Ratification of Unauthorized Sale. An unauthorized sale of personalty may be ratified by sanction of or confirmation by the probate court,[67] or through acquiescence of the beneficiaries,[68] or the right to attack the sale may be lost through laches;[69] but the representative cannot ratify a sale made by his own agent to the prejudice of creditors of the estate and others in interest.[70]

l. Title and Rights of Purchaser.[71] A purchaser at a sale by an executor or administrator having power to sell acquires a good title,[72] although the situation of the estate did not warrant or necessitate the sale,[73] or although the representative was committing a fraud or devastavit upon the estate,[74] unless he knew of the facts,[75]

62. Boeger v. Langenberg, 42 Mo. App. 7; Kelso v. Vance, 2 Baxt. (Tenn.) 334. See infra, XVIII.

63. Bragg v. Massie, 38 Ala. 89, 79 Am. Dec. 82.

64. Wyatt v. Scott, 33 Ala. 313.

65. Wyatt v. Scott, 33 Ala. 313; Roberts v. Brown, 14 La. Ann. 597.

66. Wyatt v. Scott, 33 Ala. 313; Robert v. Brown, 14 La. Ann. 597.

67. Hicks v. Stone, 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 132, 11 Cinc. L. Bul. 67; Brewster v. Baxter, 2 Wash. Terr. 135, 3 Pac. 844. See also Holt v. Rust-Owen Lumber Co., (Nebr. 1901) 96 N. W. 613.

68. Cloud v. Hartridge, 28 Ga. 272.

69. Shelby v. Creighton, 65 Nebr. 485, 91 N. W. 369.

70. Neal v. Patten, 47 Ga. 73.

71. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, T, 3.

72. Alabama.— Nelson v. Stollenwerck, 60 Ala. 140. See also Moses v. Clark, 46 Ala. 229.

Connecticut.— Hough v. Bailey, 32 Conn. 288.

Iowa.— Marshall County v. Hanna, 57 Iowa 372, 10 N. W. 745.

Mississippi.— Miller v. Helm, 2 Sm. & M. 687.

Virginia.— Knight v. Yarborough, 4 Rand. 566.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 644.

After a sale by one co-administrator, and payment in full of the price, no fraud or collusion being charged, the administrators cannot maintain conversion. Kenyon v. Olney, 15 N. Y. Suppl. 416.

Previous contract of sale with another person by co-executor.— Where one of several executors contracted to sell slaves of the testator, and another of the executors sold and delivered the same slaves to another person, who had full knowledge of the previous sale, the first purchaser had only an equitable right, and the second sale vested the legal title, which in a court of law must prevail. Smith v. Mabry, 9 Yerg. (Tenn.) 313.

Previous sale by decedent without delivery of possession.— Where a bill of sale was executed by A to B, and A was permitted to remain in possession of the slaves and died in possession, a sale made to C by executors of A for valuable consideration and without notice was good against the first sale. Rocheblave v. Potter, 1 Mo. 561, 14 Am. Dec. 305.

Sale after levy of execution.— Where a sheriff, after levying upon the personal estate of a deceased debtor, allowed the administrators to sell the same, the execution creditor could not impeach the title of the purchaser, but must take his remedy against the sheriff. Massey v. Farmers' Bank, 1 Del. Ch. 399.

Valuables secreted in chattel.— The purchaser of a chattel does not obtain title to money and other valuables which had been secreted therein by the deceased and which none of the parties knew that it contained, but holds such money and valuables, on discovery thereof, as treasure trove for the personal representative of the deceased owner. Huthmacher v. Harris, 38 Pa. St. 491, 80 Am. Dec. 502.

73. Weyer v. Franklin Second Nat. Bank, 57 Ind. 198; Stamps v. Beaty, Hard. (Ky.) 337; Knight v. Yarborough, 4 Rand. (Va.) 566; Sale v. Roy, 2 Hen. & M. (Va.) 69; Langley v. Oxford, Ambl. 795.

Legatee's remedy is against executor. Sale v. Roy, 2 Hen. & M. (Va.) 69.

Purchaser not bound to inquire into representative's purpose in selling.— Miller v. Williamson, 5 Md. 219.

The purchaser cannot compel the executor to rescind a sale of property specifically bequeathed, whether or not the sale was necessary for the payment of debts. Sale v. Roy, 2 Hen. & M. (Va.) 69.

74. Van Hoose v. Bush, 54 Ala. 342; Jelke v. Goldsmith, 52 Ohio St. 499, 40 N. E. 167, 49 Am. St. Rep. 730; Schell v. Deperven, 198 Pa. St. 600, 48 Atl. 813, 82 Am. St. Rep. 820; Lipscomb v. Ward, 2 Tex. 277.

75. Kentucky.— Morrison v. Page, 9 Dana 428.

Maryland.— Williamson v. Morton, 2 Md. Ch. 94.

or is chargeable with constructive notice.[76] Neither does the fact that the representative misapplies the proceeds prevent a purchaser for value and in good faith from acquiring a good title.[77] The purchaser acquires no title, however, where the sale was made without authority or in an unauthorized manner,[78] or where the sale is tainted with fraud by reason of collusion between himself and the representative;[79] nor is even a purchaser for value protected where the conveyance by the representative was in payment of his private debt.[80] In all such Mississippi.— Miller v. Helm, 2 Sm. & M. 687; Prosser v. Leatherman, 4 How. 237, 34 Am. Dec. 121.

North Carolina.—Wilson v. Doster, 42 N. C. 231; Bradshaw v. Simpson, 41 N. C. 243.

Pennsylvania.— See Schell v. Deperven, 198 Pa. St. 600, 48 Atl. 813, 82 Am. St. Rep. 820.

South Carolina.— See Rhame v. Lewis, 13 Rich. Eq. 269.

Virginia.— Jones v. Clark, 25 Gratt. 642; Pinckard v. Woods, 8 Gratt. 140; Sale v. Roy, 2 Hen. & M. 69.

Wisconsin.— Stronach v. Stronach, 20 Wis. 129.

United States.— Garnett v. Macon, 10 Fed. Cas. No. 5,245, 2 Brock. 185, 6 Call (Va.) 308.

England.— Walker v. Taylor, 8 Jur. N. S. 681, 4 L. T. Rep. N. S. 845; Ewer v. Corbet, 2 P. Wms. 148, 24 Eng. Reprint 676.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 644.

Actual collusion must be shown between the executor and the purchaser or creditor in order to defeat the title of the alienee of an executor in a court of law. Williamson v. Morton, 2 Md. Ch. 94.

If a balance is due the executor to the amount of a note transferred, it is not a fraud on his part to appropriate the note for the payment of his own debts. Ward v. Turner, 42 N. C. 73.

76. See Schell v. Deperven, 198 Pa. St. 600, 48 Atl. 813, 82 Am. St. Rep. 820.

Circumstances putting purchaser on inquiry.— The fact that an executor applies estate assets in payment of his own debt is of itself a circumstance of suspicion which ought to put a purchaser on inquiry as to the propriety of the transaction. Lang v. Metzger, 86 Ill. App. 117.

77. Leitch v. Wells, 49 N. Y. 585; Clark v. Coe, 52 Hun (N. Y.) 279, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 243.

78. Fambro v. Gantt, 12 Ala. 298 (private sale); Worthy v. Johnson, 10 Ga. 358, 54 Am. Dec. 393; Herron v. Marshall, 5 Humphr. (Tenn.) 443, 42 Am. Dec. 444.

Purchaser bound to see that representative is apparently proceeding according to law. Neal v. Patten, 40 Ga. 363.

Notice of contents of will.— A party dealing with an executor, as such, has notice of the existence of a will and its contents, the will being open to inspection upon the public records. Williamson v. Morton, 2 Md. Ch. 94.

Where representative entitled to part of property.— Where an administrator, in right of his wife, was entitled to one third of the property sold by him at private sale, the vendee acquired title to that extent. Cable v. Martin, 1 How. (Miss.) 558.

Sale of specific legacy.— A bequeathed a life-estate in a slave to his wife, B, with remainder over to his son C. The executor of A assented to the legacy and B had possession of the slave during her lifetime. An administrator de bonis non with the will annexed of A's estate, appointed after the final settlement of the executor, sold a child of the slave in question under authority from the probate court. It was held that the administrator of C was entitled to recover the slave so sold and that this right was not affected by the fact that the same persons would inherit the estates of A and C. Magee v. Gregg, 11 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 70.

Expense in keeping slaves.— One who purchases slaves from an executor who sells without authority is a wrong-doer, and is not entitled to compensation for the support and raising of the slaves, and for physicians' bills, taxes, etc., beyond the hire; but this relief is afforded him incidentally, by allowing him to recoup against the claim for hire. Gee v. Graves, 2 Head (Tenn.) 239.

Protection of subsequent bona fide purchaser.— Where an administrator sells railroad stock, the property of the estate which he represents, at private sale, and his vendee sells a bona fide purchaser without notice, the title of such purchaser will be protected as against the heirs of said estate. Stinson v. Thornton, 56 Ga. 377; Nutting v. Thomason, 46 Ga. 34. See, generally, SALES.

79. Alabama.— Waring v. Lewis, 53 Ala. 615.

Illinois.— Makepeace v. Moore, 10 Ill. 474.

Maryland.— Lark v. Linstead, 2 Md. Ch. 162.

Missouri.— Boeger v. Langenberg, 42 Mo. App. 7.

North Carolina.—Tyrrell v. Morris, 21 N. C. 559.

Tennessee.— Sneed v. Hooper, Cooke 200, 5 Am. Dec. 691.

Virginia.— Knight v. Yarborough, 4 Rand. 566.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 644.

80. Clark v. Coe, 52 Hun (N. Y.) 379, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 243.

Sale by executor who is also residuary legatee.— If an executor who is also residuary legatee sells or mortgages for his own purposes an asset of the testator, for valuable consideration, to a person who has no notice of unsatisfied debts of the testator, or of any grounds which render it improper for an executor so to deal with the asset, the purchase cases the distributees may recover the property,[81] although the representative is estopped by his own act from recovering the property by an action at law in his own name.[82] The usual rule of caveat emptor applies to a purchase of personalty from an executor or administrator,[83] and there is no implied warranty;[84] but the representative may make a warranty and thus bind himself personally,[85] although he cannot bind the estate by a warranty.[86] A purchaser of choses in action, sold at an administrator's sale, who buys in good faith, takes them discharged of all equities which attach on them merely as assets;[87] but equity will follow the property into the hands of one who is not a purchaser for value,[88] or who, although he paid a valuable consideration, has been guilty of fraud and collusion with the representative to the injury of the estate.[89] A purchaser who has paid the purchase-money, which has been applied to the payment of debts and to exonerate other property, cannot be compelled to surrender the property because of an irregularity in the appointment of the administrator without the purchase-money being first refunded.[90] The estate of a decedent is not liable to a purchaser of property thereof on the ground that the executor induced the purchase by false representations.[91]

m. Setting Aside Sale.[92] An action to avoid a sale by an executor or administrator for his own debt may be brought by creditors, legatees, or distributees,[93] or mortgage is valid against any unsatisfied creditor of the testator. Mead v. Orrery, 3 Atk. 235, 26 Eng. Reprint 937; Nugent v. Gifford, 1 Atk. 463, 26 Eng. Reprint 294; Storry v. Walsh, 18 Beav. 559; Graham v. Drummond, [1896] 1 Ch. 968, 65 L. J. Ch. 472, 74 L. T. Rep. N. S. 417, 44 Wkly. Rep. 596; Whale v. Booth, 4 T. R. 625 note, 2 Rev. Rep. 483 note. And this rule applies even though such purchaser or mortgagee has thereby acquired only an equitable interest in the asset, if perfected by giving any necessary notice to the legal owner; but it does not apply when the executor, or the court administering the estate, still retains sufficient control over the asset to apply it for the benefit of creditors. Graham v. Drummond, [1896] 1 Ch. 968, 65 L. J. Ch. 472, 74 L. T. Rep. N. S. 417, 44 Wkly. Rep. 596.

81. Herron v. Marshall, 5 Humphr. (Tenn.) 443, 42 Am. Dec. 444.

82. Fambro v. Gantt, 12 Ala. 298; Herron v. Marshall, 5 Humphr. (Tenn.) 443, 42 Am. Dec. 444.

83. Mississippi.— Ware v. Houghton, 41 Miss. 370, 93 Am. Dec. 258; Hutchins v. Brooks, 31 Miss. 430; George v. Bean, 30 Miss. 147.

Missouri.— Richardson v. Palmer, 36 Mo. App. 88.

New York.— Sherman v. Willett, 42 N. Y. 146.

North Carolina.— Andres v. Lee, 21 N. C. 318.

South Carolina.— See Eastland v. Longshorn, 1 Nott & M. 194.

Texas.— Doxey v. Burns, 37 Tex. 719.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 644.

84. Richardson v. Palmer, 36 Mo. App. 88.

No warranty of soundness.— George v. Bean, 30 Miss. 147. Contra, Duncan v. Bell, 2 Nott & M. (S. C.) 153, holding that there is an implied warranty where a full price is given, but that the estate alone is liable, and the representative is not personally liable unless for misrepresentation. See also Eastland v. Longshorn, 1 Nott & M. (S. C.) 194.

Circumstances negativing warranty of soundness see McLean v. Green, 2 McMull. (S. C.) 17.

No warranty of title.— Ware v. Houghton, 41 Miss. 370, 93 Am. Dec. 258; Ranney v. Meisenheimer, 61 Mo. App. 434.

85. Stoudenmeier v. Williamson, 29 Ala. 558; Huffman v. Hendry, 9 Ind. App. 324, 36 N. E. 727, 53 Am. St. Rep. 351; Sypert v. Sawyer, 7 Humphr. (Tenn.) 413.

86. Ramsey v. Blalock, 32 Ga. 376 (warranty of soundness); Hutchins v. Brooks, 31 Miss. 430; George v. Bean, 30 Miss. 147. And see Welch v. Hoyt, 24 Ill. 117.

87. Rhame v. Lewis, 13 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 269.

88. Petrie v. Clark, 11 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 377, 14 Am. Dec. 636.

89. Barnawell v. Threadgill, 40 N. C. 86; Petrie v. Clark, 11 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 377, 14 Am. Dec. 636.

90. Ragland v. Green, 14 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 194.

91. Huffman v. Hendry, 9 Ind. App. 324, 36 N. E. 727, 53 Am. St. Rep. 351.

92. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, S.

93. Stronach v. Stronach, 20 Wis. 129. See also Anderson v. Fox, 2 Hen. & M. (Va.) 245.

Where there are no creditors or legatees, the distributees are the proper persons to bring action. Stronach v. Stronach, 20 Wis. 129.

When heirs cannot object.— Where succession property has been sold to pay for work done for its preservation, the sale being conducted under the direction of the executor and coöwners, and the proceeding has been recognized in the executor's final account, and the succession is insolvent, the judgment of homologation concludes the heirs, who cannot but the personal representative cannot attack his own sale on the ground that it was made without authority.[94] If the widow of an intestate is surviving she as well as the heirs should be made a party to an action to avoid a sale.[95] Mere inadequacy of price does not invalidate a sale of personalty by an executor or administrator and is not in itself a sufficient ground for setting the sale aside,[96] but inadequacy of price coupled with other suspicious circumstances or irregularities in the sale may warrant setting the same aside.[97] It has been laid down that a sale regularly made at a public auction as required by law can be avoided only for fraud or collusion between the purchaser and the representative making the sale.[98] But on the other hand it has been held that the fact that the purchaser has chilled the bidding at a public sale may furnish ground for setting aside the sale,[99] and an unnecessary sale at which the representative becomes the purchaser may be set aside.[1]

n. Liability of Representative.[2] The usual rule requiring good faith, due diligence, and sound judgment applies in cases of sales by a personal representative.[3] Where the representative sells property of the estate he is chargeable with the price realized,[4] especially if the sale was made without author-set the sale aside. Lesseps v. Lapène, 34 La. Ann. 112.

94. Bragg v. Massie, 38 Ala. 89, 79 Am. Dec. 82; Hopper v. Steele, 18 Ala. 828; Fambro v. Gantt, 12 Ala. 298. See also Pistole v. Street, 5 Port. (Ala.) 64.

95. Stronach v. Stronach, 20 Wis. 129.

96. Kimball v. Lincoln, 99 Ill. 578 [affirming 7 Ill. App. 470].

97. Gayle v. Singleton, 1 Stew. (Ala.) 566.

Circumstances not showing inadequacy see Geyer v. Snyder, 140 N. Y. 394, 35 N. E. 784 [affirming 69 Hun 115, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 200]; Matter of Bolton, 71 Hun (N. Y.) 32, 24 N. Y. Suppl. 799.

98. Weyer v. Franklin Second Nat. Bank, 57 Ind. 198.

99. Anderson v. Pedigo, 126 Ind. 564, 26 N. E. 397, holding that a widow who induces the creditors of her deceased husband to stay away from the executor's sale of the personalty by her representation that she will bid a designated sum for the property, and who bids it off for a smaller amount, and at much less than its actual value, acquires no valid title, and the sale will be set aside.

Statements by a brother of the purchaser, not authorized to act for her, that she would bid a designated sum for the property, are not binding on her, and will not affect her title, although in reliance on such statements some of the creditors absented themselves from the sale. Anderson v. Pedigo, 126 Ind. 564, 26 N. E. 397.

1. Anderson v. Fox, 2 Hen. & M. (Va.) 245. See also Rosser v. Depriest, 5 Gratt. (Va.) 6, 50 Am. Dec. 94.

An offer of indemnity is unnecessary where a bill in equity is filed to set aside a purchase by the representative at his own sale. Payne v. Turner, 36 Ala. 623.

2. Sale under order of court see infra, XII, W.

3. New Jersey.— Schweitzer v. Bonn, 55 N. J. Eq. 107, 31 Atl. 24; In re Green, 37 N. J. Eq. 254.

New York.— Matter of Thompson, 41 Misc. 420, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 1111; Matter of Fidelity Loan, etc., Co., 23 Misc. 211, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 1124.

North Carolina.— Tayloe v. Tayloe, 108 N. C. 69, 12 S. E. 836.

Pennsylvania.— Stewart's Appeal, 110 Pa. St. 410, 6 Atl. 321; Matter of McCann, 2 Pearson 486.

Virginia.— Lingle v. Cook, 32 Gratt. 262; Pickard v. Woods, 8 Gratt. 140.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 646½.

4. Irby v. Kitchell, 42 Ala. 438, holding that an administrator who finds property among the assets of the estate, takes possession of it as the property of the estate, and sells it, having no claim to it himself, and it not being claimed by any other person, is estopped from setting up a claim adverse to the estate, and is liable to the estate for the property thus sold.

If the representative sells for more than the appraised value, he is of course chargeable with the price actually realized. Radovich's Estate, 74 Cal. 536, 16 Pac. 321, 5 Am. St. Rep. 466 (with interest); Boaz v. Hammer, 27 Gratt. (Va.) 382.

Property not inventoried.— The representative is chargeable with the price received for property of the decedent sold by him, although it was not inventoried and he did not charge himself with the price. Shick v. Grote, 42 N. J. Eq. 352, 7 Atl. 852; In re Merchant, 39 N. J. Eq. 506 [affirmed in 41 N. J. Eq. 349, 7 Atl. 633].

Where sale set aside.— A representative who makes a sale is liable to his successor for the cash received by him, although the sale is set aside, where the possession of the purchaser is not interfered with, nor the sale actually disturbed, nor the cash paid or notes given by the purchaser returned, and the successor sues on and collects the notes. Musick v. Beebe, 17 Kan. 47.

Where title defective.— Where the representative receives money for property sold to which the title proves defective, he must be charged with the money unless he can show himself to be under a legal obligation to re-ity,[5] in which case the failure of the security taken does not relieve him from liability.[6] Even though personal property may have been sold by the representative for less than its full value, he is not chargeable with more than the price actually realized where he has been guilty of no bad faith or negligence in the transaction;[7] but he is chargeable with the actual or appraised value where he sells for less without authority[8] or in an unauthorized manner;[9] where he is guilty of improperly making or conducting a sale at which less than the true or appraised value is realized,[10] or where he has failed to keep an account of the amount actually realized.[11] If the representative acting in good faith and without negligence takes security which is apparently good and sufficient when taken, he is not liable if it finally proves insufficient,[12] nor is he liable if otherwise a loss occurs not attributable to his fault or laches;[13] but he is liable for any loss due to his lack of diligence in collecting or realizing on the security.[14] Where a representative acting in good faith has sold at what is apparently a fair price, he is not chargeable with profits made by the purchaser on a new sale shortly afterward.[15] Where an executor sells property of the estate, together with property of his own, for a gross sum, a portion of which he receives, the amount received will be presumed to be on account of the property belonging to the estate.[16] fund. Jennison v. Hapgood, 10 Pick. (Mass.) 77.

5. Smith v. Smith, 1 Desauss. (S. C.) 304 (where an executor who had sold without authority was decreed to account for the amount of the sale, except so much as was directed by the will to be borrowed to pay a legacy, saying that as to such amount it was immaterial whether the executor sold to pay the legacy or borrowed for that purpose, as it must have been paid, and as the estate was not sufficiently productive to do so out of the profits, recourse must ultimately have been had to a sale); Little v. Cook, 10 Lea (Tenn.) 715. See also Henning v. Conner, 2 Bibb (Ky.) 188.

6. Smith v. Smith, 1 Desauss. (S. C.) 304.

7. Clary v. Sanders, 43 Ala. 287; Bailey v. Penick, 10 Ky. L. Rep. 239; In re Bolton, 141 N. Y. 554, 35 N. E. 1079 [affirming 5 Misc. 475, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 333]; In re Semple, 189 Pa. St. 385, 42 Atl. 28. See Matter of New York L. Ins., etc., Co., 86 N. Y. App. Div. 247, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 883.

Chilling of sale by widow.— Where the personal property of an intestate is sold by the administrator, and the widow purchases many articles at the sale at a nominal price, on account of the bystanders forbearing to bid against her, the administrator cannot be charged with a devastavit if he conducted the sale fairly, after due public notice, and without connivance with the widow. Woody v. Smith, 65 N. C. 116.

8. Radovich's Estate, 74 Cal. 536, 16 Pac. 321, 5 Am. St. Rep. 466; Harris' Succession, 29 La. Ann. 743; Munteith v. Rahm, 14 Wis. 210.

Improvident sale.— Where an administrator sold at auction one eighth of a leasehold estate for one hundred and ten dollars, and it appeared from the consideration on the sale of another eighth conveyed by the intestate in his lifetime and thereafter sold, that its value was one thousand five hundred dollars, it was held that the sale by the administrator was improvidently made and he should be charged with the value of the one eighth of the leasehold estate with interest. Matter of Johnston, 74 Hun (N. Y.) 618, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 966.

9. Cannon v. Jenkins, 16 N. C. 422.

A statute imposing a penalty for selling otherwise than at public auction is not applicable to a case where an executor gave a part of a standing crop for hauling the remainder to the crib. McDaniel v. Johns, 53 N. C. 414.

10. Brackett v. Tillotson, 4 N. H. 208; Harvey v. Steptoe, 17 Gratt. (Va.) 289.

11. Hunt v. Smith, 58 N. J. Eq. 25, 43 Atl. 428.

12. Searcy v. Holmes, 45 Ala. 225; In re Johnston, 9 Watts & S. (Pa.) 107; Wilson's Appeal, 4 Pennyp. (Pa.) 432. See supra, VIII, P, 2, e.

13. Alabama.— Stewart v. Stewart, 31 Ala. 207.

Maryland.— Watkins v. Bevans, 6 Md. 489.

New Jersey.— Green v. Groocock, 35 N. J. Eq. 474.

South Carolina.—Bryan v. Mulligan, 2 Hill Eq. 361.

Vermont.— Mead v. Byington, 10 Vt. 116.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 646½; and supra, VIII, L, 1.

14. Beeman's Succession, 47 La. Ann. 1355, 17 So. 820; In re Johnston, 9 Watts & S. (Pa.) 107; Southall v. Taylor, 14 Gratt. (Va.) 269. See also Raines v. Raines, 51 Ala. 237.

15. Fisher's Appeal, 34 Pa. St. 29; Bewley's Estate, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 56.

Property taken by representative at appraised value.— Where an administratrix elects to take certain of the effects of the decedent at the appraised value and sells them for much more, she is accountable for the proceeds of the sale. Pilkington v. Gaunt, 5 Dana (Ky.) 410.

16. Rolain v. Darby, 1 McCord Eq. (S. C.) 472.

3. Pledge or Mortgage.[17] In the absence of any statutory or testamentary provision to the contrary, an executor or administrator has power to raise money on the security of the assets in his hands by pledge or mortgage in order to pay the debts or fulfil other purposes of administration.[18] The pledgee or mortgagee acquires good title as such where he acts in good faith;[19] but where he knew or might have known that the loan was not for any just purpose of administration he becomes a participant in the wrong and cannot hold the pledged or mortgaged property against the beneficiaries,[20] although his possession will generally hold good as against the representative.[21]

4. Acquisition by Representative — a. In General.[22] Money received or property acquired by the representative in his fiduciary capacity and in the exercise of his official duties becomes assets of the estate in his hands,[23] and the same is

17. Mortgage of realty see supra, VIII, O, 11.

18. Connecticut.— Blodgett v. American Nat. Bank, 49 Conn. 9; Goodwin v. American Nat. Bank, 48 Conn. 550.

Iowa.— Deery v. Hamilton, 41 Iowa 16.

Maine.— Carter v. Manufacturers' Nat. Bank, 71 Me. 448, 36 Am. Rep. 345.

North Carolina.— Tyrrell v. Morris, 21 N. C. 559.

England.— Vane v. Rigden, L. R. 5 Ch. 663, 39 L. J. Ch. 797, 18 Wkly. Rep. 1092; Farhall v. Farhall, L. R. 7 Ch. 123, 41 L. J. Ch. 146, 25 L. T. Rep. N. S. 685, 20 Wkly. Rep. 157; Russell v. Plaice, 18 Beav. 21, 18 Jur. 254, 23 L. J. Ch. 441, 2 Wkly. Rep. 243; Andrew v. Wrigley, 4 Bro. Ch. 125, 29 Eng. Reprint 812; McLeod v. Drummond, 17 Ves. Jr. 152, 11 Rev. Rep. 41, 34 Eng. Reprint 59 [affirming 14 Ves. Jr. 353, 33 Eng. Reprint 556].

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 647.

But compare Jones v. Peebles, 133 Ala. 290. 32 So. 60,

The representative cannot pledge the credit of the estate generally, but only specific assets. Farhall v. Farhall, L. R. 7 Ch. 123, 41 L. J. Ch. 146, 25 L. T. Rep. N. S. 685, 20 Wkly. Rep. 157.

Power of sale.—An executor or administrator may not only pledge or mortgage the assets, but may also give to the mortgagee of leaseholds a power of sale and to give valid receipts for the purchase-money. Russell v. Plaice, 18 Beav. 21, 18 Jur. 254, 23 L. J. Ch. 441, 2 Wkly. Rep. 243.

19. Schell v. Deperven, 198 Pa. St. 600, 48 Atl. 813, 82 Am. St. Rep. 820; Schell v. Deperven, 198 Pa. St. 591, 48 Atl. 815.

Debt originally contracted on personal security of executor.— It is not enough to impeach a mortgage of part of the assets that it was made to secure a debt originally contracted on the personal security of the executor, and without reference to the assets. Miles v. Durnford, 2 De G. M. & G. 641, 21 L. J. Ch. 667, 51 Eng. Ch. 501, 42 Eng. Reprint 1022.

Property specifically bequeathed.—The fact that property fraudulently pledged by a coexecutor, without the knowledge of the pledgee, while the estate is in the course of administration, is specifically bequeathed to the executor as trustee does not impose a greater duty of making inquiry on the pledgee to prevent charging him with constructive notice of the fraud, and thus defeat his claim as a bona fide pledgee than if the property was a simple asset of the estate. Schell v. Deperven, 198 Pa. St. 600, 48 Atl. 813, 82 Am. St. Rep. 820.

20. Clagett v. Salmon, 5 Gill & J. (Md.) 314; Allender v. Riston, 2 Gill & J. (Md.) 86; Salmon v. Clagett, 3 Bland (Md.) 125; Leitch v. Wells, 48 N. Y. 585; Moore v. American L. & T. Co., 15 N. Y. Suppl. 382; Schell v. Deperven, 198 Pa. St. 591, 48 Atl. 815; Allegheny First Nat. Bank's Appeal, 19 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 309; Ricketts v. Lewis, 20 Ch. D. 745, 51 L. J. Ch. 837, 46 L. T. Rep. N. S. 368, 30 Wkly. Rep. 609; Collinson v. Lister, 7 De G. M. & G. 634, 2 Jur. N. S. 75, 25 L. J. Ch. 38, 4 Wkly. Rep. 133, 56 Eng. Ch. 491, 44 Eng. Reprint 247. See also Downes v. Power, 2 Ball & B. 491; Hall v. Andrews, 27 L. T. Rep. N. S. 195, 20 Wkly. Rep. 799.

21. Salmon v. Clagett, 3 Bland (Md.) 125; Kenyon v. Olney, 15 N. Y. Suppl. 416. See also Lyman v. National Bank of Republic, 181 Mass. 437, 63 N. E. 923. But see State v. Berning, 74 Mo. 87.

22. Acquisition of realty see supra, VIII, O, 12, b.

23. Emerson v. Hewins, 64 Me. 297; Harper v. Archer, 28 Miss. 212. See also Burton v. Slaughter, 26 Gratt. (Va.) 914.

Proceeds of insurance policy.—Where a policy of insurance was issued in favor of a life-tenant and after her death the house was destroyed by fire and the amount of the policy was paid to her administrator, the money was held by him in trust for her estate and was a charge against him, whether or not the estate was entitled to the fund. Overstreet v. Reddick, 117 Ga. 331, 43 S. E. 723.

Assignment of mortgage.— An assignment taken by an administrator of a mortgage of his intestate is presumed to inure to the estate, and one claiming under it as inuring to the administrator individually must rebut the presumption, as by showing that administrator purchased with his own funds, or he must show himself ignorant of any of the circumstances raising the presumption. Clapp v. Beardsley, 1 Vt. 151.

Renewal of charter.— Where, upon the true of securities taken for debts due the decedent or on a sale of the decedent's assets.[24] So also property purchased by the representative with the funds of his decedent is the property of the estate held by him in trust for the heirs and distributees.[25] Whatever may have been gained or saved by an executor or administrator to the estate by way of compromise or award, and whatever profit may have accrued to the representative acting as such, belongs rightfully to the estate and should be accounted for.[26] Where the representative recovers in his own name upon a contract made with him personally after the death of his decedent, respecting the estate, or receives money for the use of the estate, he is answerable as representative for the amount.[27]

b. Purchase of Interest of Heir or Legatee.[28] While an executor or administrator may, if the transaction is fair and the consideration adequate, purchase the interest of a legatee or distributee,[29] the relation of the parties makes such a dealing suspicious and imposes on the representative the burden of showing that death of a person having a charter for a ferry, his wife, who was his administratrix, and had the care of the children, although not their legal guardian, obtained a renewal of the charter in her own name, she took the charter as trustee for the estate. Huson v. Wallace, 1 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 1.

Extra allowance from debtor.— If an executor or administrator receives from a debtor an allowance over and above the amount of the demand, for extra trouble in the settlement and adjustment of it, he is not bound to account for it; and if he should exact and receive extra interest he could not be charged with it in his administration account. Gordon v. West, 8 N. H. 444.

Goods purchased to carry on decedent's business.— Where an executor, without authority to carry on a business of his testator, purchases goods for that purpose, the title to such goods vests in him individually. Eufaula Nat. Bank v. Manassas, 124 Ala. 379, 27 So. 258.

24. King v. Green, 2 Stew. (Ala.) 133, 19 Am. Dec. 46, holding that a bond payable to an administrator as such is assets in the hands of an administrator de bonis non.

The execution of a note to one as administrator is prima facie evidence that the consideration of the note was the assets of the estate of the intestate. Jones v. Everman, 15 B. Mon. (Ky.) 631, 63 Am. Dec. 521.

Note taken in individual name.— The court will follow a note of hand, as the property of an estate, if given for assets of the estate sold by the administrator, although taken in the private name of the administrator, and will enjoin proceedings to enforce execution on the part of the private creditors of the administrator. Glass v. Baxter, 4 Desauss. Eq. (S. C.) 153.

Transfer.— The representative's transfer without due consideration of a note or bond given him for a debt of the estate, even though expressed to himself individually, is a breach of trust. Krutz v. Stewart, 76 Ind. 9; Dalton v. Dalton, 51 Me. 170; Pulliam v. Winston, 5 Leigh (Va.) 324. See also Rhame v. Lewis, 13 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 269.

Assumption of debt.— Where an administrator sells property of an intestate and takes notes therefor, it is competent for him to consider himself the debtor of the estate and hold the notes as his own. Rix v. Nevins, 26 Vt. 384. See also Smith v. Gregory, 75 Mo. 121.

25. Parker v. Portis, 14 Tex. 166, holding further that this is true whether or not the person acting as administrator is rightfully such. Compare Lyles v. Sims, Harp. (S. C.) 42.

26. Louisiana.— Longbottom v. Babcock, 9 La. 44.

Maryland.—Gephart v. Strong, 20 Md. 522.

New Jersey.— Vreeland v. Westervelt, 45 N. J. Eq. 572, 17 Atl. 695.

New York.— Paff v. Kinney, 1 Bradf. Surr. 1.

Pennsylvania.— Saeger v. Wilson, 4 Watts & S. 501; In re Heager, 15 Serg. & R. 65.

Wisconsin.— Gillett v. Gillett, 9 Wis. 194.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 650½.

27. Mowry v. Adams, 14 Mass. 327; Dawes v. Boyleston, 9 Mass. 337, 6 Am. Dec. 72.

28. As to realty see supra, VIII, O, 12, a, (II).

29. Crow v. Griffin, 6 La. Ann. 316; Ross v. Ross, 3 La. Ann. 533; Wilson v. Wilson, 17 N. C. 181; Lombard v. Carter, 36 Oreg. 266, 268, 59 Pac. 473.

Compromise of judgment of testator against executor.—An agreement between an executor and the beneficiaries under the will, whereby the beneficiaries agreed to assign to the executor the benefit of two judgments in favor of the testator against him upon debts in which he was surety, the executor agreeing to charge himself with one half of the judgments, has been upheld, it appearing that the agreement was entered into at the instance of the beneficiaries under the advice of their attorneys, that all defendants in the two judgments, the executor included, were insolvent, and that the beneficiaries were fully informed as to their interest in the claims. Downy v. Talbott, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 453.

A presumption that the representative purchased from the legatees may arise where he retains property which belonged to the estate, claiming it as his own, for a considerable time after the close of the administration. Cole v. Collett, Litt. Sel. Cas. (Ky.) 47.

no advantage has been taken by him,[30] and if the transaction is tainted with fraud or imposition it will not be allowed to stand.[31] In any event, however, where the personal representative purchases the interest of a particular heir or legatee, only the vendor can object to the transaction, and the other heirs or legatees have no right to object.[32]

c. Purchase of Decedent's Property at Judicial or Execution Sale.[33] A personal representative is at liberty to purchase the goods of his decedent at a judicial or execution sale,[34] unless he has in some way caused the sale to be made or is indirectly the vendor therein.[35]

IX. ALLOWANCE TO SURVIVING WIFE, HUSBAND, OR CHILDREN.

A. In General — 1. Nature and Purpose. What is commonly known as the "widow's allowance" is usually an absolute provision to which a widow is entitled in her own right and which she may dispose of as she sees proper.[36] It is usually intended for the present support only of herself, and minor children surviving the decedent until the estate is settled,[37] although the allowance itself does not depend upon whether such children exist or whether the decedent left a family with her.[38] It is given to her independent of her distributive share in her husband's estate.[39] It cannot be treated as a debt against the deceased husband's 30. State v. Jones, 131 Mo. 194, 33 S. W. 23; Wilson v. Wilson, 17 N. C. 181; In re Biel, L. R. 16 Eq. 577, 42 L. J. Ch. 556, 28 L. T. Rep. N. S. 835, 21 Wkly. Rep. 808.

31. Baxter v. Costin, 45 N. C. 262. See also Johnson v. Johnson, 5 Ala. 90.

32. Peyton v. Enos, 16 La. Ann. 135; Hale v. Aaron, 77 N. C. 371, holding that a purchase by an executor of a special legacy is not in fraud of the rights of the residuary legatees, and he can be held to no accountability to them for any profit he may make by such purchase.

33. Purchase of realty see supra, VIII, O, 12, a, (III).

34. Haddix v. Haddix, 5 Litt. (Ky.) 201; Earl v. Halsey, 14 N. J. Eq. 332; Blount v. Davis, 13 N. C. 19.

35. Boatwell v. Reynell, 3 N. C. 1.

36. Newman v. Winlock, 3 Bush (Ky.) 241; Miller v. Miller, 6 Ky. L. Rep. 738; Moore v. Moore, 48 Mich. 271, 12 N. W. 180; Mowser v. Mowser, 87 Mo. 437; Sawyer v. Sawyer, 28 Vt. 245.

This provision applies to cases of testacy as well as intestacy, and whether the estate is solvent or insolvent. Graves v. Graves, 10 B. Mon. (Ky.) 31; Turner v. Turner, 30 Miss. 428; McReary v. Robinson, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 318. But see In re Harrison, 2 Ont. L. Rep. 217 [following In re Twigg, [1892] 1 Ch. 579, 61 L. J. Ch. 444, 66 L. T. Rep. N. S. 604, 40 Wkly. Rep. 297], holding that section 12 of the Devolution of Estates Act (Ont. Rev. St. (1897) c. 127), as to the widow's statutory claim for one thousand dollars, does not apply where there is a partial intestacy.

37. California.—Walkerley's Estate, 77 Cal. 642, 20 Pac. 150.

Connecticut.— Barnum v. Boughton, 55 Conn. 117, 10 Atl. 514.

Florida.— See Carter v. Carter, 20 Fla. 558, 51 Am. Rep. 618.

Iowa.— Zunkel v. Colson, 109 Iowa 695, 81 N. W. 175; Newaus v. Newaus, 79 Iowa 32, 44 N. W. 213.

Kentucky.— Newman v. Winlock, 3 Bush 241. See also Short v. Galway, 83 Ky. 501, 4 Am. St. Rep. 168.

Massachusetts.— Dale v. Hanover Nat. Bank, 155 Mass. 141, 29 N. E. 371; Paine v. Hollister, 139 Mass. 144, 29 N. E. 541; Drew v. Gordon, 13 Allen 120; Hollenbeck v. Pixley, 3 Gray 521; Adams v. Adams, 10 Metc. 170.

Michigan.— Moore v. Moore, 48 Mich. 271, 12 N. W. 180.

Missouri.— Mowser v. Mowser, 87 Mo. 437.

New Hampshire.—Foster v. Foster, 36 N. H. 437; Kingman v. Kingman, 31 N. H. 182; Mathes v. Bennett, 21 N. H. 188; Hubbard v. Wood, 15 N. H. 74.

North Carolina.—Little v. Bennett, 58 N. C. 156.

Pennsylvania.— Saunder's Estate, 12 Lanc. Bar 77.

Vermont.— Sawyer v. Sawyer, 28 Vt. 245.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 651.

A homestead subject to final partition and distribution is not assets in the hands of the administrator, but the use of it as a homestead is reserved to the family during the period of administration. O'Docherty v. McGloin, 25 Tex. 67.

38. Moore v. Moore, 48 Mich. 271, 12 N. W. 180; Mowser v. Mowser, 87 Mo. 437; Sawyer v. Sawyer, 28 Vt. 245.

39. Hays v. Buffington, 2 Ind. 369.

Discretion of court and condition at distribution.— In some states the allowance is so purely for present and immediate support that it may or may not be treated as part of the widow's share in her husband's estate, according to the court's discretion and the eventual condition at distribution. See Thompson v. Thompson, 51 Ala. 493; Strawn v. Strawn, 53 Ill. 263; Foster v. Foster, 36 N. H. 437.

estate,[40] nor be set off against a debt due by the widow to the estate;[41] but it may be denied her pending litigation.[42] If the decedent left no estate or assets sufficient for providing the statutory allowance, no obligation rests upon the executor or administrator to furnish it.[43]

2. NECESSITOUS CIRCUMSTANCES. Usually the allowances or exemptions granted by statute that take priority of debts due by the estate presuppose the surviving widow, children, or family to be in necessitous circumstances.[44]

3. WHAT LAW GOVERNS. The widow's allowance is to be determined by the law of the domicile of the deceased husband,[45] in force at his death.[46]

4. CONSTRUCTION OF STATUTES. Statutes providing for a widow's allowance are generally presumed to be prospective and not retrospective,[47] and should be beneficially construed.[48]

Certain assets are to be set aside as exempted for the widow, under some statutes. They are sometimes defined as the property exempt from execution. Such articles are not to be treated as assets, nor are they subject to distribution, nor can they be claimed from her by the representative of the estate.

Alabama.— Byrd v. Jones, 84 Ala. 336, 4 So. 375; Davis v. Davis, 63 Ala. 293.

California.— Walkerley's Estate, 77 Cal. 642, 20 Pac. 150.

Illinois.— Strawn v. Strawn, 53 Ill. 263.

Kentucky.— Ballard v. Ballard, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 574.

Missouri.— Hasenritter v. Hasenritter, 77 Mo. 162.

New York.— Kain v. Fisher, 6 N. Y. 597; Kapp v. Public Administrator, 2 Bradf. Surr. 258.

Pennsylvania.— Palethorp's Estate, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 286; Kern v. Clark, 3 C. Pl. 112; Barr's Appeal, 3 Walk. 93.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 651.

Effect of testamentary provisions and election see infra, IX, I, 3.

40. Barnum v. Boughton, 55 Conn. 117, 10 Atl. 514; Short v. Galway, 83 Ky. 501, 4 Am. St. Rep. 168.

41. Leaverton v. Leaverton, 40 Tex. 218.

42. Cooke v. Barker, 1 Hopk. Ch. (N. Y.) 134.

43. Weckerly's Estate, 11 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 287.

44. Chase v. Webster, 168 Mass. 228, 46 N. E. 705; Porter v. Porter, 165 Mass. 157, 42 N. E. 565; Dale v. Hanover Nat. Bank, 155 Mass. 141, 29 N. E. 371; Hollenbeck v. Pixley, 3 Gray (Mass.) 521; Foster v. Foster, 36 N. H. 437.

In Louisiana the code regards the two essential facts, that the deceased died rich, and that the surviving widow and children are in necessitous circumstances, in which case she can recover from the succession of her husband one thousand dollars. Comeau v. Miller, 46 La. Ann. 1324, 16 So. 172; Waddell's Succession, 44 La. Ann. 361, 10 So. 808; Tugwell's Succession, 43 La. Ann. 879, 9 So. 499; Wellmayer's Succession, 34 La. Ann. 819; De Boroblanc's Succession, 32 La. Ann. 17; Sabalot v. Populus, 31 La. Ann. 854; White's Succession, 29 La. Ann. 702; Claudel v. Palao, 28 La. Ann. 872; Newman's Succession, 27 La. Ann. 593; McCoy v. McCoy, 26 La. Ann. 686; Bouvet's Succession, 25 La. Ann. 431; Liles' Succession, 24 La. Ann. 490; Mangum v. Bacon, 24 La. Ann. 130; Cerise's Succession, 24 La. Ann. 96; Liddell's Succession, 22 La. Ann. 9; Leatt v. Williams, 22 La. Ann. 81; Harrell v. Harrell, 17 La. 374; Stewart v. Stewart, 13 La. Ann. 398; Yarborough's Succession, 13 La. Ann. 378 (widow without children); Hunter's Succession, 13 La. Ann. 257 (widow's claim privileged); Duchamp v. Butterly, 11 La. Ann. 67. If the amount of the entire property of the widow and children amounts to one thousand dollars nothing can be withdrawn from the estate for their support, although some of them have nothing. Elliott v. Elliott, 31 La. Ann. 31; Melancon's Succession, 25 La. Ann. 535; Stewart v. Stewart, 13 La. Ann. 398. But their pecuniary circumstances at any time subsequent to the decedent's death do not affect their rights. Marx's Succession, 27 La. Ann. 99. Where the mother claims the widow's homestead, and proves the necessitous circumstances of herself and the children, she is entitled to the usufruct, and the children to the amount. Fatjo's Succession, 52 La. Ann. 1561, 28 So. 135.

An allowance may be refused where no good reason is shown for granting it. Kersey v. Bailey, 52 Me. 198; Hollenbeck v. Pixley, 3 Gray (Mass.) 521.

45. Mitchell v. Word, 64 Ga. 208; Short v. Galway, 83 Ky. 501, 4 Am. St. Rep. 168; Gilman v. Gilman, 53 Me. 184; Richardson v. Lewis, 21 Mo. App. 531.

46. Taylor v. Pettus, 52 Ala. 287; Shumate v. McGarity, 83 Pa. St. 38.

47. Swayze v. Wade, 25 Kan. 551; Cook v. Sexton, 79 N. C. 305; Shumate v. McGarity, 83 Pa. St. 38.

48. Hamilton v. Matlock, 22 Ind. 47; Graves v. Graves, 10 B. Mon. (Ky.) 31; Van Norden v. Primm, 3 N. C. 149; Hill v. Hill, 42 Pa. St. 198; Bald's Appeal, 40 Pa. St. 328.

Cumulative grant.— A statute granting support to a widow out of the husband's estate is cumulative with a statute allowing a certain amount of a deceased insolvent's effects to the family. Bonds v. Allen, 25 Ga. 343.

The word "may" in a statute providing that the probate judge "may set apart" all personal property for the use of the family

B. Quarantine or Other Occupation or Use — 1. Widow's Right in General. A widow's quarantine is her right to enjoy the mansion-house together with its farm or plantation, rent free, for a fixed time after her husband's death[49] or until dower is assigned her.[50] Actual possession or affirmative assertion of such claim on her part is not essential, possession by her agent or tenant being sufficient;[51] nor is her right affected by the removal of the children.[52] The right of the widow is, however, effective only against those claiming under her deceased husband and not against those claiming under a title adverse to him.[53]

2. Nature of Right. As a general rule this right of quarantine is not an estate in land but is a mere personal privilege belonging to the widow[54] which under certain circumstances is to be construed as "shall." In re Walley, 11 Nev. 260.

49. Indiana.— Hoover v. Agnew, 91 Ind. 370, one year.

Maine.— Young v. Estes, 59 Me. 441, ninety days.

New York.— Corey v. People, 45 Barb. 262; Jackson v. O'Donaghy, 7 Johns. 247, forty days.

Ohio.— Wanzer v. Smith, 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 323, 2 West. L. Month. 426, one year unless dower assigned sooner.

Pennsylvania.— Kline's Estate, 1 Leg. Gaz. 428, for life.

South Carolina.— McCully v. Smith, 2 Bailey 103.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 655, 658.

The time was originally forty days, whence the term "quarantine" is derived. See Coke Litt. 34*b*.

Trespass or ejectment may be maintained against her if she stay beyond her time, although the dower has not been assigned her. Jackson v. O'Donaghy, 7 Johns. (N. Y.) 247; McCully v. Smith, 2 Bailey (S. C.) 103; Tool v. Pride, 1 Overt. (Tenn.) 234.

50. Alabama.— Callahan v. Nelson, 128 Ala. 671, 29 So. 555; Norton v. Norton, 94 Ala. 481, 10 So. 436; Clancy v. Stephens, 92 Ala. 577, 9 So. 522, 524; Renagh v. Turrentine, 60 Ala. 557; Perrine v. Perrine, 35 Ala. 644; Oakley v. Oakley, 30 Ala. 131; Pharis v. Leachman, 20 Ala. 662; Shelton v. Carrol, 16 Ala. 148.

Arkansas.— Reagan v. Hodges, 70 Ark. 563, 69 S. W. 581; Davenport v. Davenaux, 45 Ark. 341; Carnall v. Wilson, 21 Ark. 62, 76 Am. Dec. 351.

Florida.— Palmer v. Palmer, (1904) 35 So. 983.

Georgia.— Calhoun v. Calhoun, 58 Ga. 247; Rambo v. Bell, 3 Ga. 207.

Illinois.— Walker v. Doane, 108 Ill. 236; Attridge v. Billings, 57 Ill. 489; Trask v. Baxter, 48 Ill. 406.

Kentucky.—Morton v. Morton, 112 Ky. 706, 66 S. W. 641, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 2079; Driskell v. Hanks, 18 B. Mon. 855; White v. Clark, 7 T. B. Mon. 640; Roach v. Hubbard, Litt. Sel. Cas. 235.

Michigan.— In re Graff, 123 Mich. 456, 82 N. W. 248; Zoellner v. Zoellner, 53 Mich. 620, 19 N. W. 556.

Mississippi.— Wallis v. Doe, 2 Sm. & M. 220.

Missouri.— Casteel v. Potter, 176 Mo. 76, 75 S. W. 597; Quick v. Rufe, 164 Mo. 408, 64 S. W. 102; Westmeyer v. Gallenkamp, 154 Mo. 28, 55 S. W. 231, 77 Am. St. Rep. 747; Carey v. West, 139 Mo. 146, 40 S. W. 661; Fischer v. Siekmann, 125 Mo. 165, 28 S. W. 435; Gentry v. Gentry, 122 Mo. 202, 26 S. W. 1090; Roberts v. Nelson, 86 Mo. 21; Whaley v. Whaley, 50 Mo. 577; Orrick v. Pratt, 34 Mo. 226; Stokes v. McAllister, 2 Mo. 163, special provision for insolvent estate.

New Jersey.— Moffett v. Trent, (Ch. 1904) 56 Atl. 1035; De Roche v. Myers, 69 N. J. L. 14, 54 Atl. 558; Ackerman v. Shelp, 8 N. J. L. 125; Davis v. Lowden, 56 N. J. Eq. 126, 38 Atl. 648.

Virginia.— Devaughn v. Devaughn, 19 Gratt. 556.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 655.

A widow who has a statutory separate estate is not entitled to retain the possession of the dwelling-house as quarantine except to the extent that it may be necessary to make her separate estate equal to her dower interest. Billingslea v. Glen, 45 Ala. 540.

The California statute makes provision for a probate homestead and allows it to be set apart to the widow during the administration of the estate and until its final distribution. In re Leavy, 141 Cal. 646, 75 Pac. 301, 99 Am. St. Rep. 92.

If the widow is executrix or administratrix she should be reasonably prompt in proceeding for the allotment of dower, otherwise she may lose her right to quarantine. Benagh v. Turrentine, 60 Ala. 557.

51. Alabama.— Clancy v. Stephens, 92 Ala. 577, 9 So. 522, 524; Oakley v. Oakley, 30 Ala. 131.

Arkansas.— Davenport v. Devenaux, 45 Ark. 341.

Illinois.— Trask v. Baxter, 48 Ill. 406.

Kentucky.— White v. Clarke, 7 T. B. Mon. 640.

New Jersey.— Craige v. Morris, 25 N. J. Eq. 467.

Ohio.— Conger v. Atwood, 28 Ohio St. 134, 22 Am. Rep. 462.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 655.

52. Zoellner v. Zoellner, 53 Mich. 620, 19 N. W. 556.

53. Taylor v. McCrackin, 2 Blackf. (Ind.) 260.

54. Morton v. Morton, 112 Ky. 706, 66 S. W. 641, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 2079 (holding the right not subject to execution); Burk v. Os-dies with her;[55] and which in general she cannot assign,[56] although in Missouri the rule is otherwise.[57] It may be forfeited by her removal from or abandonment of the premises,[58] and it has been held that a widow who occupies a portion of the decedent's premises with the family and rents the remainder is not entitled to the whole under the right of quarantine;[59] but the right is not lost by her remarriage[60] or insanity.[61] It is in addition to and independent of her allowance for support[62] and not in lieu of dower.[63]

3. Property Subject to Quarantine. In general the right extends only to houses and lands of which the widow is dowable,[64] and on which the decedent born, 9 B. Mon. (Ky.) 579; Acor's Estate, 29 Leg. Int. (Pa.) 398; Roach v. Davidson, 3 Brev. (S. C.) 80 (holding that during the continuance of quarantine the widow is considered as continuing her husband's estate). But see Ackerman v. Shelp, 8 N. J. L. 125, holding that, under the New Jersey law, a widow before assignment of dower has a freehold estate for life in the land of her husband, unless sooner defeated by the heir.

The statute of limitations does not begin to run against a husband's heirs and in favor of the widow in possession under her right of quarantine until the assignment of dower. Westmeyer v. Gallenkamp, 154 Mo. 28, 55 S. W. 231, 77 Am. St. Rep. 747.

55. Clancy v. Stephens, 92 Ala. 577, 9 So. 522.

56. Norton v. Norton, 94 Ala. 481, 10 So. 436; Wallis v. Doe, 2 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 220.

57. In this state a widow's right to quarantine is a possessory right which may be assigned, the assignee taking all the incidents of the right belonging to her prior to the transfer, among which is a right to the use and possession of the land until dower has been assigned, or during her life if not assigned, and to defend an action of ejectment therefor. Phillips v. Presson, 172 Mo. 24, 72 S. W. 501; Graham v. Stafford, 171 Mo. 692, 72 S. W. 507 [distinguishing Quick v. Rufe, 164 Mo. 408, 64 S. W. 102]; Westmeyer v. Gallenkamp, 154 Mo. 28, 55 S. W. 231, 77 Am. St. Rep. 747; Carey v. West, 139 Mo. 146, 40 S. W. 661; Fischer v. Siekmann, 125 Mo. 165, 28 S. W. 435; Brown v. Moore, 74 Mo. 633; Jones v. Manly, 58 Mo. 559; Stokes v. McAllister, 2 Mo. 163. A deed from the widow conveys to the grantee the right to exclusive possession until dower is assigned as against adult children of the homesteader but not as against his minor children. Phillips v. Presson, 172 Mo. 24, 72 S. W. 501. If the assignee and his heirs have been in continuous possession since the assignment the statute of limitations does not begin to run in their favor or against the heirs of the deceased husband until assignment of dower or the death of the widow. Graham v. Stafford, 171 Mo. 692, 72 S. W. 507; Osborn v. Weldon, 146 Mo. 185, 47 S. W. 936; Carey v. West, 139 Mo. 146, 40 S. W. 661; Brown v. Moore, 74 Mo. 633.

58. Norton v. Norton, 94 Ala. 481, 10 So. 436; Burk v. Osborn, 9 B. Mon. (Ky.) 579.

59. Keeney v. Henning, 58 N. J. Eq. 74, 42 Atl. 807. See also Davis v. Lowden, 56 N. J. Eq. 126, 38 Atl. 648.

60. Westmeyer v. Gallenkamp, 154 Mo. 28, 55 S. W. 231, 77 Am. St. Rep. 747.

61. Clancy v. Stephens, 92 Ala. 577, 9 So. 522, 524.

62. Calhoun v. Calhoun, 58 Ga. 247.

63. Perrine v. Perrine, 35 Ala. 644.

64. Alabama.— Callahan v. Nelson, 128 Ala. 671, 29 So. 555; Melton v. Andrews, 76 Ala. 586; Slatter v. Meek, 35 Ala. 528; Inge v. Murphy, 14 Ala. 289.

Arkansas.— Reagan v. Hodges, 70 Ark. 563, 69 S. W. 581.

Georgia.— Hill v. Hill, 81 Ga. 516, 8 S. E. 879.

Kentucky.—Under the present law the right extends only to the mansion-house and curtilage, although under the former statute she had the use of the farm on which was the family residence. Morton v. Morton, 112 Ky. 706, 66 S. W. 641, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 2079. And see Stewart v. Stewart, 3 J. J. Marsh. 48.

Maine.— Young v. Estes, 59 Me. 441.

Missouri.— Casteel v. Potter, 176 Mo. 76, 75 S. W. 597; Gentry v. Gentry, 122 Mo. 202, 26 S. W. 1090.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 656.

A house erected after decedent's death is not within the statute. McClurg v. Turner, 74 Mo. 45.

The word "messuage" in a statute authorizing a widow to remain in possession of the mansion-house and messuage of her deceased husband includes only lands adjoining the house to the extent of a few acres. Grimes v. Wilson, 4 Blackf. (Ind.) 331. But see Orrick v. Pratt, 34 Mo. 226, where such term was held to include the plantation on which the mansion was situated.

A right of quarantine is not confined to contiguous lands, especially where the different parts have been used together and not as separate and independent holdings. Gentry v. Gentry, 122 Mo. 202, 26 S. W. 1090.

Mansion-house on land not owned in fee.— That the mansion-house is located on land in which the husband had only a life-estate does not affect the widow's right of quarantine in that part of the land owned by her husband in fee. Gentry v. Gentry, 122 Mo. 202, 26 S. W. 1090.

A probate homestead, as provided for by the California statute, extends to the dwelling-house in which the claimant resides and the land on which the same is situated, with no specified limitation of value if the estate is not insolvent. In re Levy, 141 Cal. 646, 75 Pac. 301, 99 Am. St. Rep. 92.

resided at the time of his death;[65] but it is not necessary that the widow should have resided in the mansion-house at the time of her husband's death.[66] It does not extend to mortgaged[67] or leased premises.[68]

4. Right to Rents and Profits. The terms "mansion" and "messuages" under the statutes entitling a widow to quarantine therein include the rents and profits thereof during the period of occupancy[69] unless, where her right continues until dower is assigned, she is at fault in delaying such assignment.[70] This right is not affected by the fact that her possession of the house and land is detrimental to the best interests of the estate.[71] If the rent of the dwelling-house and land which she is entitled to occupy has been received by the executor, administrator, or other person during the period allowed her, she may maintain an action at law against him for its recovery.[72]

5. Liabilities Incident to Occupancy. A widow in possession of quarantine property for a considerable period may be charged with her fair proportion of

That premises suitable for probate homestead purposes are indivisible and constitute in value nearly one half the estate does not impair the homestead right in the absence of a statutory limitation as to value. In re Levy, 141 Cal. 646, 75 Pac. 301, 99 Am. St. Rep. 92.

65. Callahan v. Nelson, 128 Ala. 671, 29 So. 555; Reeves v. Brooks, 80 Ala. 26; Melton v. Andrews, 76 Ala. 586; Clary v. Sanders, 43 Ala. 287; Waters v. Williams, 38 Ala. 680; McAllister v. McAllister, 37 Ala. 484; Oakley v. Oakley, 30 Ala. 131; Inge v. Murphy, 14 Ala. 289; Palmer v. Palmer, (Fla. 1904) 35 So. 983; King v. King, 155 Mo. 406, 56 S. W. 534.

A farm without buildings on it which adjoins and was used by the husband in connection with a farm belonging to the wife, upon which latter was a mansion-house occupied by them both until the husband's death, cannot be included in the widow's quarantine. McKaig v. McKaig, 50 N. J. Eq. 325, 25 Atl. 181.

66. King v. King, 155 Mo. 406, 56 S. W. 534, holding further that evidence of abandonment of the husband's mansion-house by the wife is not competent to show abandonment by the husband and thereby defeat her claim to quarantine.

67. Young v. Estes, 59 Me. 441.

68. Ogbourne v. Ogbourne, 60 Ala. 616; Pizzala v. Campbell, 46 Ala. 35; Tincher v. Phillips, 37 Mo. App. 621; Voelckner v. Hudson, 1 Sandf. (N. Y.) 215.

Where a portion of a building is rented as a store and the remainder occupied as a dwelling, the widow is not entitled to remain in possession of the rented portion. Davis v. Lowden, 56 N. J. Eq. 126, 38 Atl. 648.

69. Alabama.— Reeves v. Brooks, 80 Ala. 26; Inge v. Murphy, 14 Ala. 289. Compare Smith v. Smith, 13 Ala. 329.

Indiana.— Willetts v. Schuyler, 3 Ind. App. 118, 29 N. E. 273.

Kentucky.— By a recent statute the widow is entitled to one third of the rents and profits of all her husband's dowable real estate from his death until dower is assigned, without any deduction for taxes, insurance, or repairs (Morton v. Morton, 112 Ky. 706, 66 S. W. 641, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 2079); but under a former statute she was entitled to all the rents and profits of the farm on which was the family residence (Brewer v. Vanarsdale, 6 Dana 204; Graham v. Graham, 6 T. B. Mon. 561, 17 Am. Dec. 166).

Missouri.— Smith v. Stephens, 164 Mo. 415, 64 S. W. 260; Gentry v. Gentry, 122 Mo. 202, 26 S. W. 1090; Orrick v. Pratt, 34 Mo. 226.

New Jersey.— Flynn v. O'Malley, (Ch. 1895) 33 Atl. 402; Merchant v. Comback, 41 N. J. Eq. 349, 7 Atl. 633; Craige v. Morris, 25 N. J. Eq. 467.

Ohio.— Conger v. Atwood, 28 Ohio St. 134, 22 Am. Rep. 462.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 657.

A growing crop is included in the rents and profits. Blair v. Murthree, 81 Ala. 454, 2 So. 18; Engle v. Engle, 3 W. Va. 246. And see Jones v. Jones, 81 Ind. 292.

Where there is a mortgage on the premises the widow is entitled to rents until the mortgagee forecloses or takes possession. Boynton v. Sawyer, 35 Ala. 497.

If the widow collects rents as administratrix, and does not charge herself with them, it will be held that she takes the same under her quarantine right. Smith v. Stephens, 164 Mo. 415, 64 S. W. 260.

70. Benagh v. Turrentine, 60 Ala. 557.

71. Gentry v. Gentry, 122 Mo. 202, 26 S. W. 1090.

72. Reeves v. Brooks, 80 Ala. 26; Boynton v. Sawyer, 35 Ala. 497; Oakley v. Oakley, 30 Ala. 131; Inge v. Murphy, 14 Ala. 289; Orrick v. Pratt, 34 Mo. 226; Conger v. Atwood, 28 Ohio St. 134, 22 Am. Rep. 462.

Defenses.— It is no defense in a suit by the widow against the executor to recover the rent of the plantation between the time of the husband's death and the assignment of dower that he paid the debts of the estate from the income of the plantation, leaving the entire personalty to be divided, of which the widow received her share, but he is entitled to credit for the share so received by her. McAllister v. McAllister, 37 Ala. 484.

Action for assignment of dower may be maintained at same time with action for accounting. Gentry v. Gentry, 122 Mo. 202, 26 S. W. 1090.

the cost of incidental repairs upon the dwelling-house,[73] but not for the cost of permanent repairs.[74] Prior to the assignment of dower she is not chargeable with rent for her occupancy,[75] nor may an action for use and occupation be maintained against her.[76] Neither is she chargeable with interest on mortgages on the quarantine property.[77]

6. Enforcement or Defense of Right. The widow's right to the possession of the mansion-house, messuage, and plantation may be enforced by an action of ejectment,[78] but not by an action for forcible entry and detainer.[79] Until the period of her occupancy has expired she may successfully defend an action of ejectment against her.[80]

C. Maintenance and Support — 1. Liability of Estate in General. Under various statutes the property of a deceased husband and father may be used or expended, pending administration, for the necessary maintenance of his widow and young children, for a limited period, and to a reasonable amount, regardless of the solvency of the estate,[81] and even though the widow may have an income

73. Benagh v. Turrentine, 60 Ala. 557.

74. Nelson v. Barnett, 123 Mo. 564, 27 S. W. 520.

75. Slatter v. Meek, 35 Ala. 528 (so holding, although she was not dowable of the house for want of title in her husband); In re Graff, 123 Mich. 456, 82 N. W. 248; Moffett v. Trent, (N. J. Ch. 1904) 56 Atl. 1035. See also Clairteaux's Succession, 35 La. Ann. 1178. And see supra, IX, B, 1.

76. In re Graff, 123 Mich. 456, 82 N. W. 248.

77. Gentry v. Gentry, 122 Mo. 202, 26 S. W. 1090; Cronley v. Cronley, 40 N. J. Eq. 30.

78. Clancy v. Stephens, 92 Ala. 577, 9 So. 522, 524 (against a purchaser in possession); Phillips v. Presson, 172 Mo. 24, 72 S. W. 501; King v. King, 155 Mo. 406, 56 S. W. 534; Roberts v. Nelson, 86 Mo. 21; Miller v. Talley, 48 Mo. 503; Stokes v. McAllister, 2 Mo. 163.

The widow's neglect to apply for the assignment of dower is not a good defense against her assertion of her right of quarantine. Callahan v. Nelson, 128 Ala. 671, 29 So. 555.

79. Aiken v. Aiken, 12 Oreg. 203, 6 Pac. 682.

80. Shelton v. Carrol, 16 Ala. 148; Carnall v. Wilson, 21 Ark. 62, 76 Am. Dec. 351; Phillips v. Presson, 172 Mo. 24, 76 S. W. 501; Graham v. Stafford, 171 Mo. 692, 72 S. W. 507; Fischer v. Siekmann, 125 Mo. 165, 28 S. W. 435; Jones v. Manly, 58 Mo. 559; Kane v. McCown, 55 Mo. 181; Stokes v. McAllister, 2 Mo. 163; Den v. Bilderback, 16 N. J. L. 497; Den v. Dodd, 6 N. J. L. 367.

81. Alabama.— Hinson v. Williamson, 74 Ala. 180; Pickens v. Pickens, 35 Ala. 442; Pinckard v. Pinckard, 24 Ala. 250.

California.— In re Lux, 100 Cal. 593, 35 Pac. 341.

Georgia.— Cole v. Elfe, 23 Ga. 235; Hopkins v. Long, 9 Ga. 261.

Kentucky.— Bronaugh v. Bronaugh, 6 Dana 124.

Louisiana.—Fatjo's Succession, 52 La. Ann. 1561, 28 So. 135; Broadway's Succession, 3 La. Ann. 591.

Massachusetts.— Fellows v. Smith, 130 Mass. 376, forty days.

Michigan.—Marskey v. Lawrence, 121 Mich. 577, 80 N. W. 571.

Mississippi.—Nelson v. Smith, 12 Sm. & M. 662; McNulty v. Lewis, 8 Sm. & M. 520.

New York.— In re Hitchler, 21 Misc. 417, 47 N. Y. Suppl. 1069, holding that the total advance to a widow for her support during a contest of her husband's will should be deducted from her share as next of kin, if the will is broken, or from her interest under the will, if it be sustained.

Oregon.— In re Dekum, 28 Oreg. 97, 41 Pac. 159, holding that if the property of the decedent exempt from execution is insufficient to support her for a year, a monthly allowance may be ordered to the widow.

Pennsylvania.— Pettit's Appeal, 39 Pa. St. 324.

Wisconsin.— Henry's Estate, 65 Wis. 551, 27 N. W. 351.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 661.

But compare Scott v. Dorsey, 1 Harr. & J. (Md.) 227.

Expenses of sickness in family.— Expenses preliminary and incidental to the confinement of an insane adult daughter may be paid by the widow out of the deceased husband's estate. Matter of Morris, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 201, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 372.

An allowance in lieu of provisions to which a widow is entitled under the statute out of her husband's estate is an appropriation to cover only a deficiency in grain, meat, vegetables, groceries, and other provisions, and should not include compensation for the lack of any other articles allowed her as her absolute property. See v. See, 66 Mo. App. 566.

Where an estate is kept together under an order of the probate court, according to the Alabama statute, the administrator has no authority to keep up the family establishment and to support the family at the expense of the estate, but the reasonable expenses of the several members of the family should be charged against each separately. Hinson v. Williamson, 74 Ala. 180; Pickens v. Pickens, 35 Ala. 442.

That the widow is a legatee under the will of her husband does not as a matter of law prevent her from obtaining such an allow-of her own, or be financially able to support herself without any aid from her deceased husband's estate.[82]

2. Estate of Mother. Unless provided by will[83] the minor children of a deceased mother are not as a general rule entitled to maintenance and support out of her estate;[84] although in some states this is allowed where she survived the father.[85]

3. Period of Allowance. A year's support is usually the extreme statutory limit,[86] and in some states the period specified is considerably less.[87] Under a statute providing that certain specified articles shall remain in the possession of the widow during the time she lives with and provides for such minor child or children as there may be, the widow has been held entitled to such articles so long as she is able and willing to keep up the family circle and provide for minor children, although the minor children leave her without her fault.[88]

4. Maintenance Prior to Allowance. If the representative makes any advance to the widow or children before a decree of allowance, he does so at his own risk, as an advance upon such allowance as may be afterward made by the probate court,[89] but the courts generally pursue a liberal course both in permitting expenditures in advance of judicial allowance and in allowing a reasonable credit therefor to the executor or administrator in his probate accounts.[90] Where a widow ance as a court of probate, in view of such legacy and all the circumstances, judges to be necessary. Havens' Appeal, 69 Conn. 684, 38 Atl. 795.

82. In re Lux, 100 Cal. 593, 35 Pac. 341, 114 Cal. 73, 45 Pac. 1023; Busby v. Busby, 120 Iowa 536, 95 N. W. 191.

83. Freeman v. Coit, 27 Hun (N. Y.) 447.

84. Phelps v. Daniel, 86 Ga. 363, 12 S. E. 584 (holding that a year's support for a minor child of a married woman cannot be assigned out of her estate, upon her death intestate, leaving her husband, the father of the child, surviving); Geisler's Succession, 32 La. Ann. 1289 [overruling Coleman's Succession, 27 La. Ann. 289]; King's Appeal, 84 Pa. St. 345. But see In re Murphy, 30 Wash. 9, 70 Pac. 109.

Under the Alabama statute (Acts (1894–1895), p. 1162, Code, § 2707), minor children are entitled to exemptions out of the mother's estate notwithstanding she dies leaving her husband surviving her. Quinn v. Campbell, 126 Ala. 280, 28 So. 676. But see Davenport v. Brooks, 92 Ala. 627, 9 So. 153.

85. Brown v. Hemphill, 74 Ga. 795; Lesher v. Wirth, 14 Ill. 39; Baer v. Pfaff, 44 Mo. App. 35; Lewis v. Castello, 17 Mo. App. 593; Hime's Appeal, 94 Pa. St. 381 [distinguishing King's Appeal, 84 Pa. St. 345].

Where a widow acquires land by devise from her husband she takes it subject to the lien of his outstanding debts, and upon her death a minor child is not entitled to three hundred dollars' exemption out of such land as the property of his mother to the exclusion of the creditors of his deceased father. Wanger's Appeal, 105 Pa. St. 346 [distinguishing Hime's Appeal, 94 Pa. St. 381; King's Appeal, 84 Pa. St. 345].

Under the Ohio statute children under fifteen years of age are entitled to have set off and allowed to them out of the estate of their deceased mother sufficient property or money to support them for twelve months in like manner as they were entitled to such support out of the estate of their deceased father. In re Hinton, 64 Ohio St. 485, 60 N. E. 621; In re Glenn, 23 Ohio Cir. Ct. 397. But see Hance v. Chappell, 20 Ohio Cir. Ct. 214, 11 Ohio Cir. Dec. 139.

86. California.—Walkerley's Estate, 77 Cal. 642, 20 Pac. 150; In re Montgomery, 60 Cal. 648.

Georgia.— Smith v. Foster, 119 Ga. 376, 46 S. E. 425; Miller v. Ennis, 107 Ga. 663, 34 S. E. 302; Hill v. Lewis, 91 Ga. 796, 18 S. E. 63; Phelps v. Daniel, 86 Ga. 363, 12 S. E. 584; Wells v. Wilder, 36 Ga. 194; Blassingame v. Rose, 34 Ga. 418; Cole v. Elfe, 23 Ga. 235.

Illinois.— Strawn v. Strawn, 53 Ill. 263.

Iowa.— Busby v. Busby, 120 Iowa 536, 95 N. W. 191.

Michigan.—Marskey v. Lawrence, 121 Mich. 577, 80 N. W. 571.

Mississippi.— Turner v. Turner, 30 Miss. 428; Nelson v. Smith, 12 Sm. & M. 662; McReary v. Robinson, 12 Sm. & M. 318; McNulty v. Lewis, 8 Sm. & M. 520.

Missouri.— In re Austin, 73 Mo. App. 61.

Ohio.— Bause v. Muhme, 13 Ohio Cir. Ct. 501, 7 Ohio Cir. Dec. 224; In re Diller, 6 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 182.

Texas.— Woolley v. Sullivan, 92 Tex. 28, 45 S. W. 377, 46 S. W. 629; Crocker v. Crocker, 19 Tex. Civ. App. 296, 46 S. W. 870, holding that where a widow and minor children have used sufficient personal property to live upon for one year they are properly refused an allowance under the statutes for another year.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators, § 663.

87. Fellows v. Smith, 130 Mass. 376; Duncan v. Eaton, 17 N. H. 441.

88. Scofield v. Scofield, 6 Hill (N. Y.) 642.

89. Washburn v. Hale, 10 Pick. (Mass.) 429.

90. California.— In re Fernandez, 119 Cal. 579, 51 Pac. 851.

applies for an assignment of the year's support, she must be charged with the value of what she has previously consumed.[91]

5. Education and Support of Children. Strictly speaking an executor or administrator should not make expenditures for the education and maintenance of the decedent's infant children and will not be allowed the same in his administration accounts;[92] but such expenditures have frequently been allowed where they were reasonable, made in good faith, and suitable to the condition and circumstances of the children, and the decedent's estate was sufficient,[93] and where there was no appointed guardian,[94] or where the right to make them was vested in the executor or administrator by the will of the decedent.[95]

6. Maintenance During Quarantine. The widow of a decedent, while fully conforming to the statutory requirements, is entitled to her reasonable support out of the estate, whether it be solvent or insolvent, during her quarantine.[96]

Georgia.— Simmons v. Byrd, 49 Ga. 285.

New York.— Shepard v. Stebbins, 48 Hun 247; Matter of Hitchler, 21 Misc. 417, 47 N. Y. Suppl. 1069.

Pennsylvania.—Norton's Estate, 4 Pa. Dist. 198.

Vermont.— Huntley v. Denny, 65 Vt. 185, 26 Atl. 486; Sawyer v. Sawyer, 28 Vt. 245.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 664.

91. Wells v. Wilder, 36 Ga. 194.

92. Alabama.— Wright v. Wright, 64 Ala. 88.

Arkansas.— Martin v. Campbell, 35 Ark. 137; Harris v. Foster, 6 Ark. 388.

Louisiana.— Broderick's Succession, 12 La. Ann. 521.

Massachusetts.— Brewster v. Brewster, 8 Mass. 131.

Mississippi.— Price v. Mitchell, 10 Sm. & M. 179; Washburn v. Phillips, 5 Sm. & M. 600.

Missouri.— Clark v. Bettelheim, 144 Mo 258, 46 S. W. 135, where the estate is insolvent.

New Jersey.— Stiles v. Stiles, 2 N. J. L. 348.

New York.— Johnson v. Corbett, 11 Paige 265; Black's Estate, Tuck. Surr. 145.

North Carolina.— Latta v. Russ, 53 N. C. 111.

Texas.— Mitchell v. Harrison, 32 Tex. 331.

Vermont.— Mead v. Byington, 10 Vt. 116, children older than seven.

United States.— Patterson v. Phillips, 18 Fed. Cas. No. 10,829*a*, Hempst. 69.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 665.

93. Alabama.— Wright v. Wright, 64 Ala. 88.

Arkansas.— Martin v. Campbell, 35 Ark. 137.

California.— Moore v. Moore, 60 Cal. 526, sums paid for education of children by administrator out of amount allowed by probate court for widow and children, the widow consenting.

Georgia.— Cheney v. Cheney, 73 Ga. 66.

Missouri.— McPike v. McPike, 111 Mo. 216, 20 S. W. 12.

New York.— Clark v. Clark, 8 Paige 152, 35 Am. Dec. 676.

South Carolina.— Darby v. Darby, 2 McCord Eq. 451, before notice of insolvency.

Tennessee.— Faver v. Parker, 101 Tenn. 141, 46 S. W. 453.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 665.

It is no ground for disallowing an administrator's claim for the support of the intestate's infant children that a separate account was not kept of the expenditures for each child, where it appears that the children were given a common home and the necessaries for all supplied from the common fund. Shepard v. Stebbins, 48 Hun (N. Y.) 247.

A surviving widow is entitled to such allowance for the maintenance and education of minor children, according to their fortune left them by their father. Wilkes v. Rogers, 6 Johns. (N. Y.) 566.

94. Glover v. Hill, 85 Ala. 41, 4 So. 613; Munden v. Bailey, 70 Ala. 63; Perry v. Field, 40 Ark. 175; Johnston v. Maples, 49 Ill. 101; Browne v. Bedford, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 304.

95. In re Van Houten, 3 N. J. Eq. 220, 29 Am. Dec. 707.

An executor may be compelled by the court to use the principal for the support of the testator's child where he is given such discretion by the decedent's will, and his refusal to do so is not honest and in good faith. Matter of Berry, 5 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 458.

Compelling beneficiaries to work.— It is not within the discretion of an executor under a will vesting in him discretion as to the application of an income to maintain the beneficiaries thereunder, to oblige such beneficiaries to labor for a living in order that a fund may accumulate for their future benefit, if the income is adequate for their support. Levy's Estate, 2 Phila. (Pa.) 138.

96. Lowery v. Rowland, 104 Ala. 420, 16 So. 88; Matter of Wachter, 16 Misc. (N. Y.) 137, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 941 (although an inventory of the estate has been made, and the statutory portion of the assets set off for the widow); Johnson v. Corbett, 11 Paige (N. Y.) 265.

Absence from home.— Where at the time of the husband's death the widow is away from home attending him, and does not return immediately afterward, she will not be entitled

D. Amount or Value — 1. In General. The amount of the allowance is usually left to the discretion of the court,[97] subject, however, in some jurisdictions to statutory provisions that it shall not exceed a designated sum.[98] The widow is entitled to interest, after appraisal, on an amount allotted but not turned over to her,[99] but not to rents and profits pending an appeal from the allotment.[1]

2. Dependent Upon Condition and Social Station. A reasonable amount, as allowed under some statutes, depends upon the social station and wants of the widow and children, and the degree and estate of the husband at the time of his death;[2] due regard being had to the value of the widow's expected dower or distributive interests,[3] and private estate, not received from her husband.[4] In fixing the amount due regard should also be had to the condition of the estate.[5]

3. Effect of Dower and Other Interests. In general the widow's or child's allowance is intended as a provision independent of any dower or other distribu-to charge the estate for her support during the forty days succeeding his decease. Fisk v. Cushman, 6 Cush. (Mass.) 20, 52 Am. Dec. 761.

97. California.— In re Lufkin, 131 Cal. 291, 63 Pac. 469.

Illinois.— Gillett v. Gillett, 207 Ill. 136, 69 N. E. 942 [affirming 109 Ill. App. 126].

Maine.— Kersey v. Bailey, 52 Me. 198.

Massachusetts.— Chase v. Webster, 168 Mass. 228, 46 N. E. 705.

Michigan.— Maney v. Casserly, (1903) 96 N. W. 478.

Vermont.— Sawyer v. Sawyer, 28 Vt. 249.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 667.

98. Wilson v. Massie, 70 Ark. 25, 65 S. W. 942 (three hundred dollars); Hampton v. Physick, 24 Ark. 561; Smith v. Smith, 115 Ga. 692, 42 S. E. 72; Donaldson v. Anderson, 104 Ga. 673, 30 S. E. 883; Stewart v. Stewart, 74 Ga. 355; Hays v. Buffington, 2 Ind. 369; Daggett v. Daggett, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 182 [affirming 9 N. Y. Suppl. 652, 2 Connoly Surr. 230]; In re Koch, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 814, 24 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 468; Kelly v. Moore, 18 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 468.

The widow is not absolutely entitled to the amount named in the statute but the court may fix the allowance at less. Smith v. Smith, 115 Ga. 692, 42 S. E. 72.

99. Huey v. Huey, 26 Iowa 525; Gilman v. Gilman, 54 Me. 531.

1. Dyer v. Dyer, 17 R. I. 547, 23 Atl. 910.

2. Alabama.— Pinckard v. Pinckard, 24 Ala. 250.

California.— In re Lux, 100 Cal. 593, 35 Pac. 341.

Georgia.— Smith v. Smith, 115 Ga. 692, 42 N. E. 72; Stewart v. Stewart, 74 Ga. 355.

Maine.— Walker's Appeal, 83 Me. 17, 21 Atl. 176.

Massachusetts.— Porter v. Porter, 165 Mass. 157, 42 N. E. 565; Dale v. Hanover Nat. Bank, 155 Mass. 141, 29 N. E. 371; Washburn v. Washburn, 10 Pick. 374.

Mississippi.— Haughton v. Brandon, 40 Miss. 729.

New Jersey.— Read v. Patterson, 47 N. J. Eq. 595, 22 Atl. 1076.

New York.— Freeman v. Coit, 27 Hun 447; Thompson v. Carmichael, 3 Sandf. Ch. 120.

Ohio.— Howland's Estate, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 582, 7 Ohio N. P. 606.

Pennsylvania.— Pettit's Appeal, 39 Pa. St. 324.

Tennessee.— Read v. Franklin, (Ch. App. 1900) 60 S. W. 215; Vincent v. Vincent, 1 Heisk. 333.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 668.

Illustrative cases.— As to the reasonableness or unreasonableness of particular allowances see the following cases:

Georgia.— Whitt v. Ketchum, 84 Ga. 128, 10 S. E. 503; Lang v. Hopkins, 10 Ga. 37.

Illinois.— Strawn v. Strawn, 53 Ill. 263.

Iowa.— In re Dewell, 88 Iowa 14, 55 N. W. 11; McReynold's Estate, 61 Iowa 585, 16 N. W. 729.

Massachusetts.— Lisk v. Lisk, 155 Mass. 153, 29 N. E. 375; Dale v. Hanover Nat. Bank, 155 Mass. 141, 29 N. E. 371; Allen v. Allen, 117 Mass. 27.

Michigan.— Bacon v. Perkins, 100 Mich. 183, 58 N. W. 835.

Mississippi.— McReary v. Robinson, 12 Sm. & M. 318.

New Hampshire.— Woodbury v. Woodbury, 58 N. H. 44; Foster v. Foster, 36 N. H. 437; Piper v. Piper, 34 N. H. 563; Buffum v. Sparhawk, 20 N. H. 81.

Tennessee.— Sanderlin v. Sanderlin, 1 Swan 441.

Vermont.— Richardson v. Merrill, 32 Vt. 27.

Wisconsin.— Ford v. Ford, 80 Wis. 565, 50 N. W. 409.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 727.

A trip to a summer resort, when suitable to the station of the family and customary, may be allowed. Pickens v. Pickens, 35 Ala. 442.

3. In re Hieschler, 13 Iowa 597; Duncan v. Eaton, 17 N. H. 441; Jones' Appeal, 62 Pa. St. 324; Minnick's Estate, 18 Phila. (Pa.) 40.

4. In re Lufkin, 131 Cal. 291, 63 Pac. 469; Walker's Appeal, 83 Me. 17, 21 Atl. 176; Dale v. Hanover Nat. Bank, 155 Mass. 141, 29 N. E. 371.

5. In re Mullen, 6 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 134, 5 Ohio N. P. 392.

tive interest in the estate,[6] and usually exists independent of testamentary provisions in lieu of dower or other rights.[7]

4. Specific Articles. In some jurisdictions the statutes provide certain specific articles which the widow shall be entitled to take.[8] Things thus specifically exempted to the widow are hers absolutely, irrespective of value and free from all set-off against any interest she may have in the balance of her husband's estate upon its distribution,[9] and if any of such articles are wanting she is entitled to an allowance of money or other property in lieu thereof.[10] Where, however, all the

6. Robson v. Lindrum, 47 Ga. 250; Nelson v. Wilson, 61 Ind. 255; Loring v. Craft, 16 Ind. 110; Cheek v. Wilson, 7 Ind. 354; Miller v. Miller, 7 Ky. L. Rep. 149; Banse v. Muhme, 13 Ohio Cir. Ct. 501, 7 Ohio Cir. Dec. 224.

That property has been set apart as a homestead for the benefit of the wife and minor children does not defeat their right after the husband's death to the statutory year's support, even though for more than a year succeeding his death they may have lived on the homestead estate and derived a support from it. Bardwell v. Edwards, 117 Ga. 824, 45 S. E. 40.

The widow is not entitled to a homestead and a year's supply where the aggregate of the two provisions exceed the amount which may be set apart as a homestead and exemption. Green v. Hambrick, 118 Ga. 569, 45 S. E. 420.

7. Alabama.— Chandler v. Chandler, 87 Ala. 300, 6 So. 153.

California.— In re Lufkin, 131 Cal. 291, 63 Pac. 469.

Maine.— Brown v. Hodgdon, 31 Me. 65.

Massachusetts.— Williams v. Williams, 5 Gray 24.

Michigan.— Moore v. Moore, 48 Mich. 271, 12 N. W. 180.

Missouri.— State v. Taylor, 72 Mo. 656.

New Jersey.— Mulford v. Mulford, 42 N. J. Eq. 68, 6 Atl. 609.

New York.— Vedder v. Saxton, 46 Barb. 188.

Ohio.— In re Rierdon, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 606, 5 Ohio N. P. 516.

Pennsylvania.— Stineman's Appeal, 34 Pa. St. 394; Compher v. Compher, 25 Pa. St. 31; Snider's Estate, 16 Pa. Co. Ct. 233; In re Friedlinger, 12 Phila. 80.

Tennessee.— Wilson v. Morris, 94 Tenn. 547, 29 S. W. 966.

Vermont.— Meech v. Weston, 33 Vt. 561.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 669; and infra, IX, I, 3.

But compare Nelson v. Lyster, (Tex. Civ. App. 1903) 74 S. W. 54, holding that the widow was not entitled to accept a devise of the real estate, and in addition claim the right to have other property sold and to be allowed a year's support from the proceeds thereof.

8. See Matter of Allen, 36 Misc. (N. Y.) 398, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 750 (holding that a piano is household furniture, within a statute providing for the setting aside of certain household furniture to the widow); Sawyer v. Sawyer, 28 Vt. 245 (holding that "wearing apparel," within a statute giving the same to the widow, includes the epaulets and bosom pin of a naval officer but not his watch, watch-key, watch-chain, cords and seals, finger ring, and sword and sword-belt).

9. Alabama.— Jackson v. Wilson, 117 Ala. 432, 23 So. 521; Carter v. Hinkle, 13 Ala. 529.

Illinois.— Boyer v. Boyer, 21 Ill. App. 534; Rutledge v. Rutledge, 21 Ill. App. 357.

Kentucky.— Welch v. Lewis, 104 Ky. 531, 47 S. W. 454, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 716; Husbands v. Bullock, 1 Duv. 21; Harris v. Adams, 78 S. W. 156, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1492; Woods v. Robinson, 46 S. W. 23, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1659; Fedder v. Fedder, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 191.

Maryland.— Crow v. Hubard, 62 Md. 560.

Missouri.— State v. Taylor, 72 Mo. 656.

New York.— Crawford v. Nassoy, 173 N. Y. 163, 65 N. E. 962 [reversing 55 N. Y. App. Div. 433, 67 N. Y. Suppl. 108]; Brigham v. Bush, 33 Barb. 596. But see Matter of Perry, 38 Misc. 167, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 271 [disapproving Matter of Williams, 31 N. Y. App. Div. 617, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 700; In re Hembury, 37 Misc. 454, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 933].

Tennessee.— Bayless v. Bayless, 4 Coldw. 359; Curd v. Curd, 9 Humphr. 171.

Vermont.— Sawyer v. Sawyer, 28 Vt. 245.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 670.

Trespass may be maintained by the widow against the executor for selling such property under an order of the orphans' court. Carter v. Hinkle, 13 Ala. 529.

Conversion may be maintained by the widow against the representative where he has refused upon demand to make an inventory as required by the statute, and has appropriated to his own use property and money belonging to her. Crawford v. Nassoy, 173 N. Y. 163, 65 N. E. 962 [reversing 55 N. Y. App. Div. 433, 67 N. Y. Suppl. 108].

10. Colorado.— Pueblo Western Nat. Bank v. Rizer, 12 Colo. App. 202, 55 Pac. 268.

Georgia.— Taylor v. Flint, 35 Ga. 124.

Kentucky.— Welch v. Lewis, 104 Ky. 531, 47 S. W. 454, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 716; Wood v. Robinson, 46 S. W. 23, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1659; Welch v. Welch, 44 S. W. 960, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1945; Fedder v. Fedder, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 191.

New York.— Matter of Bidgood, 36 Misc. 516, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 1061. But see Matter of Keough, 42 Misc. 387, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 807.

Pennsylvania.— Hunt's Appeal, 100 Pa. St. 590.

Texas.— Linares v. Linares, 93 Tex. 84, 53 S. W. 578 [affirming (Civ. App. 1899) 51 S. W. 510] (holding the widow entitled to an allowance in lieu of homestead, although decearticles specified are on hand, she is entitled to all of them, but to nothing more in the way of exemptions, whatever may be their value, although the statute provides that the property or money which may be set apart in lieu of articles not on hand shall not exceed a designated amount.[11] As to other articles not exempted which she may keep or receive the general rule charging her with their value must apply.[12]

5. When Whole Estate Set Apart. In some jurisdictions statutes have been enacted providing that in case the estate of a decedent does not exceed a certain specified amount, there shall be no administration thereon, or if administration has commenced there shall be no further proceedings therein, but the whole shall be set apart to the widow or minor children of the decedent;[13] and where it is made to appear that the value of the estate brings it within the statute, all of it must be so set apart regardless of whether the estate is solvent or insolvent.[14] In dent's residence, not being the homestead of the family, could not be awarded to her as such); Woolley v. Sullivan, 92 Tex. 28, 45 S. W. 377, 46 S. W. 629.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 670.

An allowance in money must be made on the widow's election where the inventory shows that there are only a few of the specified articles belonging to the estate, and that a half interest in them belongs to another. Pueblo Western Nat. Bank v. Rizer, 12 Colo. App. 202, 55 Pac. 268.

11. Welch v. Lewis, 104 Ky. 531, 47 S. W. 454, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 717. See also Welch v. Welch, 44 S. W. 960, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1945.

12. Menifee v. Menifee, 8 Ark. 9; Swayze v. Wade, 25 Kan. 551; Drum's Succession, 26 La. Ann. 539.

The rent of a pew in church rented by the widow for the use of herself and children after the testator's death cannot be allowed to her on her accounting as executrix. Scott v. Monell, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 431.

13. Alabama.— Quinn v. Campbell, 126 Ala. 280, 28 So. 676; Jackson v. Wilson, 117 Ala. 432, 23 So. 521; Chandler v. Chandler, 87 Ala. 300, 6 So. 153; Nance v. Nance, 84 Ala. 375, 4 So. 699, 5 Am. St. Rep. 378.

Arkansas.— Wilson v. Massie, 70 Ark. 25, 65 S. W. 942; Harrison v. Lamar, 33 Ark. 824; Hampton v. Physick, 24 Ark. 561. The act of Jan. 2, 1851, providing that, where the whole of a decedent's estate did not exceed in value three hundred dollars, the same should be allowed to the widow, was repealed by the act of Dec. 8, 1852, commonly known as the "Homestead Act," in so far at least as regarded the homestead rights of the minor children conferred by the latter act. Rowland v. Wadly, 71 Ark. 273, 72 S. W. 994.

California.— In re Neff, 139 Cal. 71, 72 Pac. 632; In re Atwood, 127 Cal. 427, 59 Pac. 770; McGuire v. Lynch, 126 Cal. 579, 59 Pac. 27; In re Bachelder, 123 Cal. 466, 56 Pac. 97; In re Leslie, 118 Cal. 72, 50 Pac. 29.

Georgia.— Smith v. Smith, 115 Ga. 692, 42 S. E. 72; Lowery v. Powell, 109 Ga. 192, 34 S. E. 296; Stewart v. Stewart, 74 Ga. 355.

Iowa.— Adkinson v. Breeding, 56 Iowa 26, 8 N. W. 685.

Massachusetts.— Brazer v. Dean, 15 Mass. 183.

Michigan.— Stanton v. Foster, 122 Mich. 219, 80 N. W. 1084.

Missouri.— Pidcock v. Buffam, 61 Mo. 370.

Pennsylvania.— Henry's Estate, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 28; Welsh's Estate, 14 Wkly. Notes Cas. 175.

South Dakota.— See Smith v. Terry Peak Miners' Union, 16 S. D. 631, 94 N. W. 694.

Utah.— In re Farmer, 17 Utah 80, 53 Pac. 972.

Statute applicable to separate estate of wife.— In re Leslie, 118 Cal. 72, 50 Pac. 29.

Settlement by probate judge — Power of appointee.— Under S. D. Laws (1901), p. 205, c. 123, § 2, providing that when a person dies leaving no estate, except personal property of trifling value, the judge of the county court shall take charge of the estate personally, or by some person he may appoint, and pay out of it the burial and other expenses, and set apart to the widow and minor children, if any, the residue, the responsibility of gathering and distributing such property is on the judge, and a person appointed by him to take physical possession of the property is a mere custodian, and has not legal capacity to sue, as agent of the county court, to collect from a fraternal society of which deceased was a member a sum for funeral expenses. Smith v. Terry Peak Miners' Union, 16 S. D. 631, 94 N. W. 694.

Abatement of proceedings.— Proceedings by a widow to have the whole of an estate set aside to her without administration, as authorized by Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1469, abate on her death, where there are no minor children; and hence, where she dies pending an appeal from an order denying her application, the appeal will be dismissed. In re Bachelder, 123 Cal. 466, 56 Pac. 97.

Sale by husband before death.— Where a husband executed a bill of sale of his personal property immediately before his death, a decree of court setting aside the estate to the widow pursuant to a statute vesting it in her, when it does not exceed five hundred dollars, does not operate to divest title from the purchaser under the bill of sale, although possession of the property was not delivered until after the husband's death. Warner v. Warner, 30 Ind. App. 578, 66 N. E. 760.

14. Smith v. Smith, 115 Ga. 692, 42 S. E. 72.

some jurisdictions the statutes to this effect are applicable only to personal property and not to realty.[15] An order or decree of the probate court is usually necessary to vest the property in the widow,[16] but if the court fails to make such an order the widow may in a proceeding against her to account for the estate show that it does not exceed the statutory amount and thus avail herself of the benefit of the statute.[17]

E. Persons Entitled — 1. In General. The object of these statutes is to provide temporary support for those only who are dependent upon the deceased.[18] While usually only widows and minor children are within the positive intendment of this beneficial legislation, the word "family" when used may embrace such persons as constituted the domestic circle of the decedent at the time of his death, such as servants or near relatives,[19] but not mere boarders or lodgers.[20]

2. Widow. The alleged widow must have been lawfully married to the decedent, or at least must bear the responsibilities of surviving spouse under an honest belief that such was the case;[21] and must as a rule have been a member of his family at the time of his death.[22]

3. Children — a. In General. If no lawful widow survives, the allowance usually goes to the decedent's surviving children, if any.[23] Minor children, or children not over a specified age, are the usual sole objects of such legislation, next to or in connection with the widow;[24] but some statutes embrace even adult children, provided they are actually in the decedent's household and have a legal or moral right to be clothed and fed by the widow,[25] or out of the decedent's

15. Wilson v. Massie, 70 Ark. 25, 65 S. W. 942 (holding that the act of April 1, 1887, which is in its terms confined to personal estate, repealed the former statute. Mansfield Dig. § 3, which was construed in Harrison v. Lamar, 33 Ark. 824, to include both real and personal property); Pidcock v. Buffam, 61 Mo. 370.

16. Stanton v. Foster, 122 Mich. 219, 80 N. W. 1084.

17. Hampton v. Physick, 24 Ark. 561.

18. Miller v. Ennis, 107 Ga. 663, 34 S. E. 302.

19. Strawn v. Strawn, 53 Ill. 263; Durkin's Succession, 30 La. Ann. 669. But see Whaley v. Whaley, 50 Mo. 577, holding that the word "family" does not include assistants who may be necessary to the house or manage the farm.

A grandmother in destitute circumstances and without the means of support is entitled to an allowance as alimony from the estate of her grandchildren. Lyon's Succession, 22 La. Ann. 627.

20. Strawn v. Strawn, 53 Ill. 263.

21. In re Byrne, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 1; Young's Appeal, 52 Mich. 592, 18 N. W. 373; Grimm's Estate, 131 Pa. St. 199, 18 Atl. 1061, 17 Am. St. Rep. 796, 6 L. R. A. 717; Foster's Estate, 4 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 75; Green's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 605.

22. See infra, IX, I, 6.

23. Georgia.— Miller v. Ennis, 107 Ga. 663, 34 S. E. 302.

Illinois.— Wolford v. Deemer, 89 Ill. App. 524.

Kentucky.— Burgett v. Clarke, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 518.

Pennsylvania.— Alexander's Estate, 13 Phila. 564; McElroy's Estate, 13 Phila. 320.

Texas.— Lockhart v. White, 18 Tex. 102.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 674.

24. Alabama.—Quinn v. Campbell, 126 Ala. 280, 28 So. 676; Wiggins v. Mertins, 111 Ala. 164, 20 So. 356; Henderson v. Tucker, 70 Ala. 381; Turner v. Whitten, 40 Ala. 530.

Arkansas.— Quattlebaum v. Triplett, 69 Ark. 91, 61 S. W. 162, construing the word "children" to mean minor children.

Georgia.— Miller v. Ennis, 107 Ga. 663, 34 S. E. 302; Whitt v. Ketchum, 84 Ga. 128, 10 S. E. 503.

Louisiana.— Durkin's Succession, 30 La. Ann. 669.

North Carolina.— In re Hayes, 112 N. C. 76, 16 S. E. 904, under fifteen years.

Ohio.— Banse v. Muhme, 13 Ohio Cir. Ct. 501, 7 Ohio Cir. Dec. 224, under fifteen years.

Tennessee.— Thompson v. Alexander, 11 Heisk. 313 (under fifteen years); Sanderlin v. Sanderlin, 1 Swan 441.

Texas.— Cooper v. Pierce, 74 Tex. 526, 12 S. W. 211.

Washington.— In re Murphy, 30 Wash. 9, 70 Pac. 109.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 674.

A child over eighteen but under twenty-one years of age is a minor within the meaning of the Alabama statute. Lanford v. Lee, 119 Ala. 248, 24 So. 578, 72 Am. St. Rep. 914.

A married minor daughter, not a member of her father's household but living with and supported by her husband, is not entitled to share in the allowance granted to a widow and minor children. Goss v. Harris, 117 Ga. 345, 43 S. E. 724; Miller v. Ennis, 107 Ga. 663, 34 S. E. 302. Contra, under Alabama statute. Lanford v. Lee, 119 Ala. 248, 24 So. 578, 72 Am. St. Rep. 914.

25. Strawn v. Strawn, 53 Ill. 263; Gillett v. Gillett, 109 Ill. App. 126 [affirmed in estate, where there is no widow.[26] Where after a year's support has been set apart to a widow for herself and a minor child, the child voluntarily removes from the residence of her mother and relinquishes further care and support by the mother, she cannot recover for her own separate use any part of the sum so set apart.[27] It has been held that, when the family of a decedent embraces two sets of minor children by different wives, each set is entitled to an allowance, and the portion going to each should be specified.[28]

b. Posthumous Children. A posthumous child is entitled to share in the statutory apportionment with the other young children.[29]

c. Illegitimate Children. As a general rule illegitimate children are not entitled to an allowance for support, out of their deceased father's estate.[30]

d. Children of Decedent by Former Wife. Children of the decedent by a former wife have been held to share in the allowance,[31] unless they do not reside with the widow.[32]

e. Stepchildren of Decedent. A statute making provision for the widow "and her family" has been held to apply to children of the widow by a former husband, who are under age and reside with her.[33]

4. Grandchildren. Grandchildren in necessitous circumstances have been allowed to share in the allowance.[34]

5. Husband. Usually a surviving husband is not entitled to any allowance from the estate of his deceased wife.[35]

6. Non-Residents. Most statutes grant the allowance only to widows, children, or families resident within the state at the time of the decedent's death,[36] unless 207 Ill. 136, 69 N. E. 942]; Whaley v. Whaley, 50 Mo. 577; Lane's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 618; Nelson v. Thomson, 2 Pa. Dist. 844; Kelly's Estate, 1 Kulp (Pa.) 365; Young's Estate, 15 Pa. Co. Ct. 374, 35 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 316; Halbe's Estate, 9 Pa. Co. Ct. 512, 20 Phila. (Pa.) 117.

A married adult daughter dependent upon the decedent for support may be entitled to the statutory allowance out of his estate. Wolford v. Deemer, 89 Ill. App. 524; Armstrong's Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 496.

Married adult children possessed of means are not entitled to the statutory exemption from their father's estate. Steel's Estate, 13 Phila. (Pa.) 398.

26. Gillett v. Gillett, 109 Ill. App. 126 [affirmed in 207 Ill. 136, 69 N. E. 942]; Wolford v. Deemer, 89 Ill. App. 524; Lane's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 618; Barr's Appeal, 1 Mona. (Pa.) 764, 3 Walk. (Pa.) 93.

27. Miller v. Ennis, 107 Ga. 663, 34 S. E. 302.

28. Miller v. Ennis, 107 Ga. 663, 34 S. E. 302; Taylor v. Flint, 35 Ga. 124.

29. Husbands v. Bullock, 1 Duv. (Ky.) 21; Womack v. Boyd, 31 Miss. 443. See also Shelby v. Shelby, 1 B. Mon. (Ky.) 266.

30. Dalton v. Halpin, 27 La. Ann. 382. But compare Collins v. Hallier, 12 La. Ann. 678.

31. Nevins' Appeal, 47 Pa. St. 230, holding that in such case one third of the money should be paid to the widow and the remainder applied for the benefit of the children.

32. Alexander v. Alexander, 86 Ky. 688, 7 S. W. 156, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 839; Major v. Major, 111 Tenn. 193, 76 S. W. 817. Contra, Lanford v. Lee, 119 Ala. 248, 24 So. 578, 72 Am. St. Rep. 914.

Children placed in custody of guardian.— Stepchildren of the widow provided for by the decedent's will and placed in the custody of a guardian do not constitute part of the family after his death, and the widow is not entitled to an extra allowance for their support. Holloman v. Holloman, 125 N. C. 29, 34 S. E. 99.

Children taken away from widow after death of father.— Where children of a decedent by a former wife, who were living in the household of their father at the time of his death, are afterward taken away against the widow's consent, it is error to direct any part of the allowance to be paid to their guardian. Vincent v. Vincent, 1 Heisk. (Tenn.) 333.

33. Sanderlin v. Sanderlin, 1 Swan (Tenn.) 441.

34. Vives' Succession, 35 La. Ann. 371; Durkin's Succession, 30 La. Ann. 669.

35. Matter of Klingler, 2 Pearson (Pa.) 533; Hall's Estate, 1 Del. Co. (Pa.) 327; Bertolet's Estate, 2 Woodw. (Pa.) 439. But see In re Murphy, 30 Wash. 9, 70 Pac. 109, holding a surviving husband entitled to an allowance for the maintenance of minor children.

36. Alabama.— Ex p. Pearson, 76 Ala. 521.

Illinois.— Veile v. Koch, 27 Ill. 129.

Mississippi.— Barber v. Ellis, 68 Miss. 172, 8 So. 390.

Missouri.— In re Austin, 73 Mo. App. 61; Richardson v. Lewis, 21 Mo. App. 531.

North Carolina.— Hollomon v. Hollomon, 125 N. C. 29, 34 S. E. 99; In re Hayes, 112 N. C. 76, 16 S. E. 904; Simpson v. Cureton, 97 N. C. 112, 2 S. E. 668; Medley v. Dunlap, 90 N. C. 527.

their non-residence was caused by the decedent's wrongful acts.[37] Where such provisions obtain, the right is not lost by becoming a non-resident after the decedent's death,[38] while on the other hand a widow who becomes a resident after the death of her husband does not thereby become entitled to the allowance.[39]

F. Property Subject to Allowance — 1. PERSONALTY. The statutory allowance comes from all personalty belonging unqualifiedly[40] to the decedent notwithstanding specific or general bequests elsewhere.[41] But advancements made to children during a decedent's lifetime form no part of the estate and are not subject to be brought into hotchpot for the benefit of an allowance to the widow.[42] A decedent's unascertained share in the assets of a partnership of which he was a member,[43] or in any other unliquidated fund which others share or control,[44] cannot be applied to the widow's allowance.

2. REALTY. In some jurisdictions the allowance is payable from personalty only, and even though the personalty is insufficient to pay the full amount authorized by law, the deficiency cannot be supplied from real estate, or the surplus proceeds of a sale thereof;[45] but in others the allowance is payable out of Pennsylvania.— Platt's Appeal, 80 Pa. St. 501; Spier's Appeal, 26 Pa. St. 233; Coates' Estate, 12 Phila. 171; Troxell's Estate, 13 Montg. Co. Rep. 68; Monk's Estate, 9 Montg. Co. Rep. 113; In re Strain, 32 Pittsb. Leg. J. 369.

Tennessee.— Graham v. Stull, 92 Tenn. 673, 22 S. W. 738, 21 L. R. A. 241.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 679.

The rule is otherwise in Georgia (Maddox v. Patterson, 80 Ga. 719, 6 S. E. 581; Farris v. Battle, 80 Ga. 187, 7 S. E. 262; Mitchell v. Word, 64 Ga. 208) and Ohio (Banse v. Muhme, 13 Ohio Cir. Ct. 501, 7 Ohio Cir. Dec. 224).

37. Grieve's Estate, 165 Pa. St. 126, 30 Atl. 727 (desertion); Coates' Estate, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 171.

38. White's Succession, 29 La. Ann. 702; Campbell v. Whitsett, 66 Mo. App. 444.

39. Simpson v. Cureton, 97 N. C. 112, 2 S. E. 668; Medley v. Dunlap, 90 N. C. 527; Spier's Appeal, 26 Pa. St. 233.

40. Summerford v. Gilbert, 37 Ga. 59; Sterritt v. Lingo, 6 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 481, 4 Ohio N. P. 366; Eddy's Estate, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 17.

Proceeds of property levied upon before the husband's death cannot be taken for the widow's exemption if the property was subject to attachment against the husband. Blake v. Durrell, 103 Ky. 600, 45 S. W. 883, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 270.

Personal property subject to a chattel mortgage, although duly appraised and set off to a widow by order of court, may be replevied by the mortgagee; but the widow may redeem it by paying the debt or probably obtain an order for the sale of the property and payment to her of the proceeds of such sale in excess of the debt. Recker v. Kilgore, 62 Ind. 10.

41. Indiana.— Jelly v. Elliott, 1 Ind. 119, 1 Smith 32.

Kentucky.— Burtle v. Thomas, 6 B. Mon. 401.

Maine.— Paine v. Paulk, 39 Me. 15; Brown v. Hodgdon, 31 Me. 65.

Maryland.— Negro William v. Kelly, 5 Harr. & J. 59.

Massachusetts.— Bush v. Clark, 127 Mass. 111.

Missouri.— Elstroth v. Dickmeyer, 88 Mo. App. 418; In re Motier, 7 Mo. App. 514.

Nebraska.— Godman v. Converse, 43 Nebr. 463, 61 N. W. 756 [overruling 38 Nebr. 657, 57 N. W. 394].

New York.— Banks v. Taylor, 10 Abb. Pr. 199.

North Carolina.— Van Norden v. Primm, 3 N. C. 149.

Pennsylvania.— Graves' Estate, 134 Pa. St. 377, 19 Atl. 684; Nerpel's Appeal, 91 Pa. St. 334.

Tennessee.— Bayless v. Bayless, 4 Coldw. 359; Turner v. Fisher, 4 Sneed 209.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 681.

In Minnesota, under Gen. St. (1878) c. 51, § 1, a widow was only entitled to an allowance of such personal estate of her husband as was not lawfully disposed of by his last will. In re Rausch, 35 Minn. 291, 28 N. W. 920; Johnson v. Johnson, 32 Minn. 513, 21 N. W. 725.

Allowance to specific legatee.— A daughter is not compelled to take her exemption out of property specifically bequeathed to her, but may take it out of property bequeathed to others or to herself and others. Lane's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 618.

42. Miller's Estate, 2 Brewst. (Pa.) 355.

43. Stauffer's Succession, 21 La. Ann. 520; Julian v. Wrightsman, 73 Mo. 569; Burroughs v. Knutton, (R. I. 1888) 13 Atl. 108. Contra, Bush v. Clark, 127 Mass. 111.

A husband's interest in firm property in the hands of a receiver is not subject to the widow's allowance until the lien acquired thereon by means of a creditor's bill during the husband's lifetime is discharged. King v. Goodwin, 130 Ill. 102, 22 N. E. 535, 17 Am. St. Rep. 277.

44. Rust v. Billingslea, 44 Ga. 306; Summerford v. Gilbert, 37 Ga. 59.

45. District of Columbia.— Hansel v. Chapman, 2 App. Cas. 361.

real estate, either equally with the personalty, or whenever the latter proves insufficient.[46]

G. Priority Over Other Claims — 1. In General. The widow's allowance or claim to exempt personalty usually takes precedence over the claims of legatees or distributees,[47] and of all other claims against the estate of her deceased husband,[48] except debts due the United States,[49] liens for taxes,[50] and vendors'[51] or landlords'

Indiana.— Jelly v. Elliott, 1 Ind. 119, Smith 32.

Kentucky.— Bowling v. Shepherd, 91 Ky. 273, 15 S. W. 527, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 831.

Maine.— Paine v. Paulk, 39 Me. 15.

Massachusetts.— Hale v. Hale, 1 Gray 518.

Missouri.—Ritchey v. Withers, 72 Mo. 556; Drowry v. Bauer, 68 Mo. 155; Pidcock v. Buffam, 61 Mo. 370; Elstroth v. Dickmeyer, 88 Mo. App. 418; In re Lloyd, 44 Mo. App. 670; Jewell v. Knettle, 39 Mo. App. 262.

Tennessee.— Loftis v. Loftis, 94 Tenn. 232, 28 S. W. 1091; Cate v. Cate, (Ch. App. 1897) 43 S. W. 365.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 684, 685.

46. California.— In re Tittel, 139 Cal. 149, 72 Pac. 909.

Georgia.— Cully v. Bloomingdale, 68 Ga. 756.

Illinois.— Deltzer v. Scheuster, 37 Ill. 301; Rector v. Reavill, 3 Ill. App. 232.

Minnesota.— Blakeman v. Blakeman, 64 Minn. 315, 67 N. W. 69.

New York.— In re Collard, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 176, Pow. Surr. 1.

Ohio.— Allen v. Allen, 18 Ohio St. 234.

Pennsylvania.— Thomas' Estate, 152 Pa. St. 63, 25 Atl. 164; Graves' Estate, 134 Pa. St. 377, 19 Atl. 684; Nerpel's Appeal, 91 Pa. St. 334; Hufman's Appeal, 81 Pa. St. 329; Detweiler's Appeal, 44 Pa. St. 243; Klein's Estate No. 1, 2 Pa. Dist. 813, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 72; Williams' Estate, 1 Kulp 362; Graves' Estate, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 312; Raybold's Estate, 2 Pa. Co. Ct. 257; Bank's Estate, 12 Phila. 67; Bryan's Estate, 4 Phila. 228; Scott's Estate, 2 Phila. 135.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 684.

These statutes do not apply to real estate which decedent held at his death as trustee in another's right (Hill v. Hill, 81 Ga. 516, 8 S. E. 879), nor to lands in another state or country (Hopper's Estate, 2 Phila. (Pa.) 367), nor to proceeds of sale under a foreclosed mortgage which belong to the mortgagee (Nerpel's Appeal, 91 Pa. St. 334).

Where the real and personal estate together are sufficient to pay debts and leave a surplus, wants of the children may be supplied out of the personal estate, although it is not alone sufficient to satisfy the debts. In re Billington, 3 Rawle (Pa.) 48.

The widow is not authorized to make a selection from the real estate so as to render it liable to be sold. Scott's Estate, 2 Phila. (Pa.) 135.

Remainder interest in homestead.— Under the California statute it has been held that where a homestead has been set apart to the widow the interest of decedent's heirs in remainder in such homestead is liable to be sold to pay a family allowance made in favor of the widow. In re Tittel, 139 Cal. 149, 72 Pac. 909.

47. Hill v. Mitchell, 5 Ark. 608; Miller v. Stepper, 32 Mich. 194; Glenn v. Gunn, 88 Mo. App. 442; Williams v. Jones, 95 N. C. 504.

48. Alabama.— Wiggins v. Mertins, 111 Ala. 164, 20 So. 356.

Arkansas.— Hill v. Mitchell, 5 Ark. 608, partial priority.

Georgia.—Ullman v. Brunswick Title Guarantee, etc., Co., 96 Ga. 625, 24 S. E. 409; Livingston v. Langley, 79 Ga. 169, 3 S. E. 909.

Iowa.— Buttschaw v. Miller, 72 Iowa 225, 33 N. W. 642; Adkinson v. Breeding, 56 Iowa 26, 8 N. W. 685.

Mississippi.— O'Brien v. Wilson, 82 Miss. 93, 33 So. 946.

Missouri.— Glenn v. Gunn, 88 Mo. App. 442.

North Carolina.— Denton v. Tyson, 118 N. C. 542, 24 S. E. 116; Williams v. Jones, 95 N. C. 504.

Pennsylvania.—Peebles' Estate, 157 Pa. St. 605, 27 Atl. 792; Allentown's Appeal, 109 Pa. St. 75; Hill v. Hill, 32 Pa. St. 511; Beetem v. Getz, 5 Pa. Super. Ct. 71, 41 Wkly. Notes Cas. 69; Book v. O'Neil, 2 Pa. Super. Ct. 306.

Texas.— In re Laurence, (Civ. App. 1903) 74 S. W. 779. But see Parlin, etc., Co. v. Davis, (Civ. App. 1903) 74 S. W. 951.

Utah.— In re Farmer, 17 Utah 80, 53 Pac. 972.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 686.

But compare McDougall v. Brokaw, 22 Fla. 98.

A minor child's allowance out of his mother's estate is good as against his mother's debts but not as against the debts of his father who devised the estate to his mother. Lewis' Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 42.

Debts not liens against the husband's estate prior to the passage of the act making the allowance are postponed to the widow's claim to the statutory exemption. Hill v. Hill, 42 Pa. St. 198; Baldy's Appeal, 40 Pa. St. 328; Mulford v. Thatcher, 4 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) 46, 1 Leg. Chron. (Pa.) 97. But see Young's Estate, 1 Phila. (Pa.) 403.

49. Cupp's Estate, 14 York Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 16.

50. State v. Jordan, 25 Tex. Civ. App. 17, 59 S. W. 826, 60 S. W. 1008. But see Allentown's Appeal, 109 Pa. St. 75.

51. Georgia.— Ullman v. Brunswick Title Guarantee, etc., Co., 96 Ga. 625, 24 S. E. 409.

Kentucky.— Collier v. Kant, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 845.

liens.[52] Priority over the allowance is usually given to necessary administration expenses;[53] and also to the expenses of the last sickness and funeral,[54] although in some jurisdictions the rule is otherwise.[55] The widow's claim to an allowance out of the decedent's share in partnership assets is postponed to partnership debts.[56]

2. MORTGAGES AND PLEDGES. Unless the widow relinquishes her claim to an allowance or exemption,[57] it is usually preferred to a mortgage against the estate created by the decedent,[58] but not to a mortgage lien adhering to the title when the decedent acquired it,[59] nor to a mortgage executed by the widow as executrix for money borrowed to be used in lieu of a family allowance.[60] The same distinction has been applied to a pledge.[61]

3. MECHANICS' LIENS. A mechanic's lien creditor is usually postponed to the widow's allowance.[62]

Louisiana.— Rawls' Succession, 27 La. Ann. 560; Foulkes' Succession, 12 La. Ann. 537.

Pennsylvania.—Kauffman's Appeal, 112 Pa. St. 645, 4 Atl. 20; Hildebrand's Appeal, 39 Pa. St. 133; Beetem v. Getz, 5 Pa. Super. Ct. 71, 41 Wkly. Notes Cas. 69; Rizer's Estate, 11 Wkly. Notes Cas. 563; Ramberger's Estate, 14 Lanc. Bar 110; Cupp's Estate, 14 York Leg. Rec. 16.

Texas.— Mabry v. Ward, 50 Tex. 404; Parlin, etc., Co. v. Davis, (Civ. App. 1903) 74 S. W. 951 (holding that the statute giving preference to the vendor's lien applies to insolvent estates); Fulton v. Denison Nat. Bank, 26 Tex. Civ. App. 115, 62 S. W. 84.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 687.

52. Walker v. Patterson, (Tex. Civ. App. 1902) 77 S. W. 437, holding a landlord's lien on a tenant's crop for supplies and advances superior to a claim of the tenant's widow and children for an allowance for support.

53. Loeb v. Richardson, 74 Ala. 311. But see Hays v. Buffington, 2 Ind. 369; Denton v. Tyson, 118 N. C. 542, 24 S. E. 116.

54. Illinois.— McCord v. McKinley, 92 Ill. 11.

Indiana.— Weir v. Sanders, 124 Ind. 391, 24 N. E. 980; Fleming v. Henderson, 123 Ind. 234, 24 N. E. 236; Green v. Weever, 78 Ind. 494.

Iowa.— Buttschaw v. Miller, 72 Iowa 225, 33 N. W. 642.

Louisiana.— Sparrow's Succession, 44 La. Ann. 475, 10 So. 882; Foulkes' Succession, 12 La. Ann. 537.

Texas.— In re Laurence, (Civ. App. 1903) 74 S. W. 779, if prosecuted within sixty days. Compare Krueger v. Wolf, 12 Tex. Civ. App. 167, 33 S. W. 663.

Utah.— In re Thorn, 24 Utah 209, 67 Pac. 22.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 692.

55. Georgia.— Whitehead v. McBride, 73 Ga. 741.

Kentucky.— Russell v. Russell, 14 Ky. L. Rep. 236.

Massachusetts.— Kingsbury v. Wilmarth, 2 Allen 310.

North Carolina.— Denton v. Tyson, 118 N. C. 542, 24 S. E. 116.

Pennsylvania.—Norton's Estate, 4 Pa. Dist. 198; Formad's Estate, 3 Pa. Dist. 13, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 104; Weir's Estate, 10 Pa. Co. Ct. 187, 20 Phila. 146; Groome's Estate, 7 Pa. Co. Ct. 519; Cupp's Estate, 14 York Leg. Rec. 16.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 692.

56. Ferris v. Van Ingen, 110 Ga. 102, 35 S. E. 347; Boone v. Sirrine, 38 Ga. 121.

57. Sumner v. McKee, 89 Ill. 127; McCollum v. Perigo, 16 Pa. Super. Ct. 566.

58. In re Fleury, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 227; Derrick v. Sams, 114 Ga. 81, 39 S. E. 924; Miller v. McDonald, 72 Ga. 20; Cully v. Bloomingdale, 68 Ga. 756; Murphy v. Vaughan, 55 Ga. 361; Elfe v. Cole, 26 Ga. 197; Comeau v. Miller, 46 La. Ann. 1324, 16 So. 172; Cason's Succession, 32 La. Ann. 790; Krueger v. Wolf, 12 Tex. Civ. App. 167, 33 S. W. 663.

Contra.— Kauffman's Appeal, 112 Pa. St. 645, 4 Atl. 20; Nerpel's Appeal, 91 Pa. St. 334; Rowe's Estate, 22 Pa. Super. Ct. 597; Beetem v. Getz, 5 Pa. Super. Ct. 71, 41 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 69; Graves' Estate, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 312; Bilger v. Bilger, 4 Pa. Co. Ct. 109; Cupp's Estate, 14 York Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 16. But see Lambert's Estate, 2 Woodw. (Pa.) 239.

59. Murphy v. Vaughan, 55 Ga. 361.

The lien of a purchase-money mortgage is superior to the widow's claim for allowance. Fairbanks v. Robinson, 64 Cal. 250, 30 Pac. 812; Brigham v. Brigham, 113 Ga. 810, 39 S. E. 309; Lambert's Estate, 2 Woodw. (Pa.) 239. But see Wilson v. Peeples, 61 Ga. 218.

A purchase-money mortgage of personal property is postponed to a widow's claim for allowances. Puffer v. Caldwell, 111 Ga. 798, 36 S. E. 927.

60. Curtis v. Schell, 129 Cal. 208, 61 Pac. 951, 79 Am. St. Rep. 107.

61. Ullman v. Brunswick Title Guarantee, etc., Co., 96 Ga. 625, 24 S. E. 409.

Burden of proof.— The burden of showing that the pledgee's claim is of a character which does not take precedence of her demand for allowances is on the widow. Fulton v. Denison Nat. Bank, 26 Tex. Civ. App. 115, 62 S. W. 84.

62. Gleason v. Traynham, 111 Ga. 887, 36 S. E. 969; In re Dennis, 67 Iowa 110, 24

4. Judgments. A judgment creditor, except for purchase-money,[63] is usually postponed to the widow's allowance,[64] unless execution has been levied during the decedent's lifetime,[65] or the judgment was obtained prior to the enactment of the statute granting the allowance and continued a lien until the husband's death.[66]

5. Attachments and Executions. The widow's allowance usually takes precedence of all liens by attachment and execution,[67] except where the specific property was levied upon during the decedent's lifetime,[68] and even in such case where the particular property is exempted from levy by statute.[69]

H. How Allowance Paid.[70] The widow is usually entitled to have her statutory allowance allotted to her in money,[71] but it may sometimes be allotted in notes payable to her husband.[72] If the widow claims her allowance in cash it must be taken usually either out of money actually in possession, or from the proceeds of stocks, bonds, loans, or other investments, or of indebtedness due the decedent, when converted or reduced to money;[73] she cannot compel the legal rep-

N. W. 746 (incomplete lien); Hildebrand's Appeal, 39 Pa. St. 133; Enos v. Brant, 24 Pa. Co. Ct. 416; Bilger v. Bilger, 4 Pa. Co. Ct. 109; Bower's Estate, 18 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 124. But see Molz's Estate, 4 Phila. (Pa.) 187.

63. Ramberger's Estate, 14 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) 110.

64. Augusta Commercial Bank v. Burckhalter, 98 Ga. 736, 25 S. E. 917; Jackson v. Corbin, 39 Ga. 102; Spicer v. Spicer, 21 Ga. 200; Quakenbush v. Taylor, 86 Ind. 270; Mead v. McFadden, 68 Ind. 340; Kauffman's Appeal, 112 Pa. St. 645, 4 Atl. 20; Horn's Estate, 1 Lehigh Val. Rep. (Pa.) 222; Giddings v. Crosby, 24 Tex. 295.

65. Mead v. McFadden, 68 Ind. 340.

66. Rishell v. Rishell, 48 Pa. St. 243.

67. James v. Marcus, 18 Ark. 421; Williams v. Jones, 95 N. C. 504; Mulford v. Thatcher, 1 Leg. Chron. (Pa.) 97, 4 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) April 12, 1873. But see Grant v. Hughes, 82 N. C. 216, 697.

68. James v. Marcus, 18 Ark. 421; Singleton v. Huff, 49 Ga. 582; Thompson's Appeal, 36 Pa. St. 418; Barrett v. Barrett, 9 Pa. Co. Ct. 454. But see Beetem v. Getz, 5 Pa. Super. Ct. 71, 41 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 69 (judgment waiving exemption); McMullin's Estate, 15 Phila. (Pa.) 558, 11 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 562.

69. Dixon v. Aldrich, 127 Ind. 296, 26 N. E. 843.

70. Money in lieu of articles specifically exempted see supra, IX, D, 4.

71. Alabama.— Ex p. Reavis, 50 Ala. 210.

Arkansas.— Green v. Ford, 17 Ark. 586, holding that the court may allow her a certain sum by way of commutation for the provisions on hand at her husband's death but which had been used by the administrator.

Indiana.— Leib v. Wilson, 51 Ind. 550.

Iowa.— McReynolds' Estate, 61 Iowa 585, 16 N. W. 729.

Mississippi.— Nelson v. Smith, 12 Sm. & M. 662; McNulty v. Lewis, 8 Sm. & M. 520.

New York.— Matter of Durscheidt, 65 Hun 136, 19 N. Y. Suppl. 973.

Pennsylvania.— Finney's Appeal, 113 Pa. St. 11, 4 Atl. 60.

Tennessee.— Rice v. Hunt, 7 Lea 33.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 683.

An allowance to a widow acting as personal representative may be set off on judicial settlement of her account as representative. Matter of Warner, 53 N. Y. App. Div. 565, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 1022; Williamson's Estate, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 144.

Money received on a policy of life insurance, payable to the administrator or executor, the annual premiums of which do not exceed a given amount, may be set apart for the widow as exempt from execution. In re Miller, 121 Cal. 353, 53 Pac. 906.

Election.— An exception by a claimant to an administrator's report, showing a money allowance to the widow, on the ground that she "had elected" to take money in lieu of the statutory personal property without accounting for the latter, is a solemn and conclusive admission that an election was made, within Colo. Gen. St. §§ 1049, 1050, requiring an allowance of either to be made "at her election." Western Nat. Bank v. Rizer, 12 Colo. App. 202, 55 Pac. 268.

72. Howle v. Edwards, 113 Ala. 187, 20 So. 956; Cummings v. Cummings, 51 Mo. 261; Groff's Estate, 2 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 413; Williams v. Hall, 33 Tex. 212.

Notes disposed of in the testator's lifetime for a specific purpose cannot be applied to the payment of the widow's statutory exemption. Matter of Hildebrand, 1 Misc. (N. Y.) 245, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 148.

A judgment on a note may be selected by the widow for her allowance. Gilman v. Gilman, 54 Me. 531.

73. Iowa.— McReynolds' Estate, 61 Iowa 585, 16 N. W. 729.

Maine.— Gilman v. Gilman, 54 Me. 531.

Missouri.—Cummings v. Cummings, 51 Mo. 261.

Pennsylvania.— Speakman's Appeal, 71 Pa. St. 25; Larrison's Appeal, 36 Pa. St. 130; McChesney's Estate, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 663; Gensemer's Estate, 3 Lanc. L. Rev. 26.

Tennessee.— Cate v. Cate, (Ch. App. 1897) 43 S. W. 365.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 683.

In Pennsylvania a distinction is recognized, where the cash in hand does not equal the resentative to sell goods so as to give her the amount which is exempted to her by statute.[74]

I. Bar, Waiver, or Relinquishment — 1. In General. A widow's right to an allowance or exemption may be waived by her acts inconsistent with her assertion of the right;[75] but is not lost by acts capable of another explanation, and not amounting to an estoppel,[76] and unless she assents her right cannot be barred by her husband's waiver of his exemption rights,[77] nor by any act of his personal representative.[78] A waiver by the widow may wholly or in part conclude others of the family whom she represents.[79]

2. Antenuptial or Post-Nuptial Agreement. The widow's allowance is not commonly affected by an antenuptial agreement, relinquishing such rights as dower, homestead, or inheritance in her intended husband's estate, especially if no special consideration appears for her doing so;[80] but by appropriate and sweeping terms she may exclude all such statutory rights, so far at least as concerns herself, especially where a fair consideration is stipulated which she accepts from his estate when a widow.[81] A wife may also relinquish her right to a widow's amount claimed, based upon whether the widow claims the exemption in money or out of moneys due; it being held that in the former case she cannot wait until the personalty has been sold and converted into cash and then apply for an exemption out of the proceeds (Hunt's Appeal, 100 Pa. St. 590; Dorscheimer's Estate, 12 Pa. Super. Ct. 34, 7 Pa. Dist. 726; Tyler's Estate, 4 Kulp 300; Groff's Estate, 2 Lanc. L. Rev. 413; Venus' Estate, 2 York Leg. Rec. 193), while if she claims her exemption out of moneys due to the estate she is entitled to have it paid out of such moneys after they have been collected by the executors, although at the time it was claimed there may have been no money in their hands (Rigby's Estate, 18 Pa. Super. Ct. 5).

74. Witmer's Estate, 2 Pearson (Pa.) 473; Gensemer's Estate, 3 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 26.

75. Salinger v. Black, 68 Ark. 449, 60 S. W. 229.

A waiver may be shown by her electing to retain less than the statutory amount (Baskin's Appeal, 38 Pa. St. 65; Davis' Appeal, 34 Pa. St. 256), or instituting proceedings requiring the executor to account, by which the assets of the estate are consumed (Mulhollen's Estate, 5 Pa. Dist. 70).

A widow's acts as executrix or administratrix do not bar her claim unless they amount to a mismanagement of the estate or a failure to fulfil her legal duties. King v. Johnson, 96 Ga. 497, 23 S. E. 500; Moore v. Sweeney, 28 Ill. App. 547; Matter of Hulse, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 307, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 220; Kelly's Estate, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 51.

76. Wissel's Appeal, 4 Pennyp. (Pa.) 236.

A waiver is not shown by a partial selection of exempt articles (Denny v. Denny, 113 Ind. 22, 14 N. E. 593) or by consenting to a sale without waiving her right (McCann's Estate, 9 Pa. Co. Ct. 408).

Receipt of rents.— Children of an insolvent decedent are not estopped from claiming their statutory exemption by receiving rents of the estate amounting to more than such exemption. McElroy's Estate, 8 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 184.

77. Spencer's Appeal, 27 Pa. St. 218; Beetem v. Getz, 5 Pa. Super. Ct. 71, 41 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 69; McMullin's Estate, 11 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 562.

78. Little v. McPherson, 76 Ala. 552. See also Moore v. McLure, 124 Ala. 120, 27 So. 499.

79. Norris v. Dunn, 70 Ga. 796 (widow's stepchildren barred); Henkel's Estate, 13 Pa. Super. Ct. 337.

80. Illinois.— Brenner v. Gauch, 85 Ill. 368 (executory contract); Phelps v. Phelps, 72 Ill. 545, 22 Am. Rep. 149.

Indiana.— Claypool v. Jaqua, 135 Ind. 499, 35 N. E. 285.

Iowa.— In re Peet, 79 Iowa 185, 44 N. W. 354; Mahaffy v. Mahaffy, 61 Iowa 679, 17 N. W. 46; McReynold's Estate, 61 Iowa 585, 16 N. W. 729.

Maine.— Wentworth v. Wentworth, 69 Me. 247.

Massachusetts.— Blackinton v. Blackinton, 110 Mass. 461.

Michigan.— Pulling v. Durfee, 85 Mich. 34, 48 N. W. 48.

Missouri.— Mowser v. Mowser, 87 Mo. 437.

New York.— Sheldon v. Bliss, 8 N. Y. 31.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 695.

Repudiation of contract.— An executory antenuptial contract releasing the widow's award may be repudiated by her, especially where the family consists in part of a child of the deceased husband. Zachmann v. Zachmann, 201 Ill. 380, 66 N. E. 256, 94 Am. St. Rep. 180.

81. Connecticut.— Cowles v. Cowles, 74 Conn. 24, 49 Atl. 195; Staub's Appeal, 66 Conn. 127, 33 Atl. 615.

Illinois.— McMahill v. McMahill, 113 Ill. 461; Weaver v. Weaver, 109 Ill. 225; Brenner v. Gauch, 85 Ill. 368; Edwards v. Martin, 39 Ill. App. 145.

Indiana.—Buffington v. Buffington, 151 Ind. 200, 51 N. E. 328; Shaffer v. Matthews, 77 Ind. 83.

New Hampshire.— In re Heald, 22 N. H. 265.

New York.— Young v. Hicks, 92 N. Y. 235.

allowance or exemption by a post-nuptial agreement based upon a valid consideration.[82]

3. Testamentary Provisions and Election. If a widow elects to accept provision made for her in the decedent's will she cannot in some jurisdictions claim her statutory allowance in addition thereto;[83] but in others the widow is entitled to her statutory allowance in addition to any provision made for her by the will,[84] unless such allowance would be inconsistent with the provisions of the will.[85]

North Carolina.— Perkins v. Brinkley, 133 N. C. 86, 45 S. E. 465; Cauley v. Lawson, 58 N. C. 132.

Ohio.— Phillips v. Phillips, 14 Ohio St. 308; Broadstone v. Baldwin, 8 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 236, 5 Ohio N. P. 39.

Pennsylvania.— Ludwig's Appeal, 101 Pa. St. 535; Tiernan v. Binns, 92 Pa. St. 248; Dillinger's Appeal, 35 Pa. St. 357; Plank's Estate, 1 York Leg. Rec. 108. And see Bean's Appeal, 2 Leg. Gaz. 244.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 695.

82. In re Roth, 9 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 429, 6 Ohio N. P. 498; Schmitt's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 183. And see Spangler v. Dukes, 39 Ohio St. 642. But see Odenwelder's Estate, 16 Pa. Co. Ct. 459, holding that a married woman cannot, without statutory authority, make a post-nuptial agreement relinquishing her right to her widow's exemption, and that the Pennsylvania Married Persons Property Act of 1893 does not give her such power.

An oral agreement by which the wife relinquishes her statutory allowance for a valuable consideration moving to a third person in the event that she survive her husband does not bind her. Yelton v. Kerns, 16 Ind. App. 92, 44 N. E. 687.

As to articles of separation see infra, IX, I, 6.

83. Cowdrey v. Hitchcock, 103 Ill. 262; McGaughey v. Eades, 78 Miss. 853, 29 So. 516 (provision in lieu of all exemptions and demands); Turner v. Turner, 30 Miss. 428; Flippin v. Flippin, 117 N. C. 376, 23 S. E. 321; Trousdale v. Trousdale, 35 Tex. 756; Nelson v. Lyster, (Tex. Civ. App. 1903) 74 S. W. 54.

An executor is not bound to advise the widow as to her best course in accepting or not accepting such provision, but if he assumes to advise her he should do so with honest purpose and good discretion. Bolin v. Barker, 75 N. C. 47.

84. California.—Walkerley's Estate, 77 Cal. 642, 20 Pac. 150.

Indiana.— Shafer v. Shafer, 129 Ind. 394, 28 N. E. 867; Shipman v. Keys, 127 Ind. 353, 26 N. E. 896; Smith v. Smith, 76 Ind. 236; Nelson v. Wilson, 61 Ind. 255; Dunham v. Tappan, 31 Ind. 173; Loring v. Craft, 16 Ind. 110; Cheek v. Wilson, 7 Ind. 354; Pierce v. Pierce, 21 Ind. App. 184, 51 N. E. 954; Whisnand v. Fee, 21 Ind. App. 270, 52 N. E. 229; Richards v. Hollis, 8 Ind. App. 353, 35 N. E. 572.

Massachusetts.— Williams v. Williams, 5 Gray 24.

Michigan.— Hill v. Kalamazoo Probate Judge, 123 Mich. 77, 87 N. W. 113, allowance for her maintenance during progress of administration. But see Miller v. Stepper, 32 Mich. 194.

Missouri.— Hasenritter v. Hasenritter, 77 Mo. 162; Glenn v. Gunn, 88 Mo. App. 423; In re Klosterman, 6 Mo. App. 314. But see Tyler v. Cartwright, 40 Mo. App. 378, holding that the widow's quarantine will be barred by her electing to take an undivided share of her husband's estate under his will.

New York.— Vedder v. Saxton, 46 Barb. 188. But see Peck v. Sherwood, 56 N. Y. 615.

Ohio.— Wanzer v. Widow, 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 323, 2 West. L. Month. 426; In re Rierdon, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 606, 5 Ohio N. P. 516.

Pennsylvania.—Peebles' Estate, 157 Pa. St. 605, 27 Atl. 792. And see Lutz's Estate, 1 Pa. Co. Ct. 157.

Wisconsin.— Baker v. Baker, 57 Wis. 382, 15 N. W. 425.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 696.

The right of minor children to have an allowance set apart for their support is not affected by a devise of all the testator's property to his widow. Woolley v. Sullivan, 92 Tex. 28, 45 S. W. 377, 46 S. W. 629.

An adopted son of the decedent cannot claim the statutory exemption where the widow elected to take under the will leaving her all the decedent's property. Semple's Estate, 3 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 328.

85. Like v. Cooper, 132 Ind. 391, 31 N. E. 1118; Shafer v. Shafer, 129 Ind. 394, 28 N. E. 867; Shipman v. Keys, 127 Ind. 353, 26 N. E. 896; Hurley v. McIver, 119 Ind. 53, 21 N. E. 325; Langley v. Mayhew, 107 Ind. 198, 6 N. E. 317, 8 N. E. 157; Whetsell v. Louden, 25 Ind. App. 257, 57 N. E. 952; McDonald v. Moak, 24 Ind. App. 528, 57 N. E. 159; Snodgrass v. Meeks, 12 Ind. App. 70, 38 N. E. 833; Richards v. Hollis, 8 Ind. App. 353, 35 N. E. 572; Matter of Allen, 36 Misc. (N. Y.) 398, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 750; In re Witner, 10 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 30, 7 Ohio N. P. 143; In re Rierdon, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 606, 5 Ohio N. P. 516; Matter of Maier, 1 Pearson (Pa.) 420; McManus' Estate, 14 Phila. (Pa.) 660.

Where decedent has disposed of all his property by will a reservation under the statute for his family will conflict with the will and hence cannot be had. Carey v. Monroe, 54 N. J. Eq. 632, 35 Atl. 456.

Repudiation of acceptance.— The acceptance by the widow of a legacy in lieu of her dower and year's support and taking the executor's personal note in satisfaction of the legacy may be repudiated by her at any time before the record of the will and qualification

Where the widow elects not to take under the will, she is usually held entitled to her allowance.[86] If no provision is made for her in the will she may claim her allowance or exemption without dissenting from it.[87]

4. Separate Estate or Homestead. Notwithstanding the widow may have a separate estate of her own, or may continue to occupy the homestead, she is usually granted the statutory allowance and exemption, especially if the income from such separate property be insufficient for a due maintenance.[88]

5. Misconduct. A widow's allowance may be denied for her misconduct; as in case of her adultery or a separation because of her own misconduct, while the marriage existed,[89] or her fraud or misconduct during administration, especially if she be executrix or administratrix, may debar her.[90]

6. Separation. The special allowance to a widow is usually denied where she was not living in a family relation with her husband at the time of his death,[91] unless her separation was involuntary and through no fault of hers or was based of the executor on return of the note to its maker. Hill v. Hill, 88 Ga. 612, 15 S. E. 674.

86. Illinois.— See Brack v. Boyd, 202 Ill. 440, 66 N. E. 1073.

Indiana.— Ratliff v. Baldwin, 29 Ind. 16, 92 Am. Dec. 330.

Maine.— Brown v. Hodgdon, 31 Me. 65.

Massachusetts.— Crane v. Crane, 17 Pick. 422. But see In re Currier, 3 Pick. 375.

Missouri.—Register v. Hensley, 70 Mo. 189. But see Griffith v. Canning, 54 Mo. 282.

Pennsylvania.— Irwin's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 351.

Texas.— Runnels v. Runnels, 27 Tex. 515; Nelson v. Lyster, (Civ. App. 1903) 74 S. W. 54.

Wisconsin.— In re Wilber, 52 Wis. 295, 9 N. W. 162.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 696.

But compare Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227; Worthen v. Pearson, 33 Ga. 385, 81 Am. Dec. 213; Perkins v. Brinkley, 133 N. C. 86, 45 S. E. 465.

87. Turner v. Cole, 24 Ala. 364; In re Peet, 79 Iowa 185, 44 N. W. 354; Godman v. Converse, 38 Nebr. 657, 57 N. W. 394; Piper v. Piper, 34 N. H. 563. But see Turner v. Turner, 30 Miss. 428 (holding that the widow's right to an allowance of one year's provision out of her husband's property is contingent on the event of no provision being made for her by the will, but if she desires to take it she must renounce the will); Nash v. Young, 31 Miss. 134 (holding that if no provision be made for the widow in the will and she renounce it she will be entitled only to her share of the estate generally, and not to any specific part of it which has been disposed of by the will).

88. Arkansas.— Word v. West, 38 Ark. 243.

Iowa.— Newans v. Newans, 79 Iowa 32, 44 N. W. 213.

Mississippi.— Hardin v. Osborne, 43 Miss. 532; Wally v. Wally, 41 Miss. 657; Coleman v. Brooke, 37 Miss. 71.

Texas.— Mabry v. Ward, 50 Tex. 404. But see Sloan v. Webb, 20 Tex. 189, holding that two minor children having property valued at twenty-five hundred dollars were not entitled to an allowance for maintenance.

Vermont.— Sawyer v. Sawyer, 28 Vt. 249.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 697.

But compare Leavenworth v. Marshall, 19 Conn. 408.

89. Owen v. Owen, 57 Ind. 291; Shaffer v. Richardson, 27 Ind. 122; Lyons v. Lyons, 101 Mo. App. 494, 74 S. W. 467; Leonard v. Leonard, 107 N. C. 171, 12 S. E. 60; Cook v. Sexton, 79 N. C. 305; Walters v. Jordan, 34 N. C. 170; Hill v. Hill, 42 Pa. St. 198; Scullin's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 188. But see Chase v. Webster, 168 Mass. 228, 46 N. E. 705; In re Diller, 6 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 182, holding that the wife's living in adultery does not forfeit her right where there has been no divorce. See infra, IX, I, 6.

The fact that the widow had been her husband's concubine does not impair her claim. Sabalot v. Populus, 31 La. Ann. 854.

90. King v. Johnson, 94 Ga. 665, 21 S. E. 895; Nowling v. McIntosh, 89 Ind. 593; Speakman's Appeal, 71 Pa. St. 25.

91. California.— In re Byrne, Myr. Prob. 1.

Louisiana.— Richard v. Lazard, 108 La. 540, 32 So. 559. But see Liddell's Succession, 22 La. Ann. 9.

Maine.— Kersey v. Bailey, 52 Me. 198.

Massachusetts.— Hollenbeck v. Pixley, 3 Gray 521. But a recent statute (Pub. St. c. 131, § 2) has been construed to establish a different rule. Welch v. Welch, 181 Mass. 37, 63 N. E. 982; Chase v. Webster, 168 Mass. 228, 46 N. E. 705.

Ohio.— In re Roth, 9 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 429, 6 Ohio N. P. 498.

Pennsylvania.— Nye's Appeal, 126 Pa. St. 341, 17 Atl. 618, 12 Am. St. Rep. 873; Platt's Appeal, 80 Pa. St. 501; Hettrick v. Hettrick, 55 Pa. St. 290; Odiorne's Appeal, 54 Pa. St. 175, 93 Am. Dec. 683; Adose v. Fossit, 1 Pearson 304; Ross' Estate, 6 Kulp 521; Welsh's Estate, 5 Pa. Dist. 675, 18 Pa. Co. Ct. 517, 39 Wkly. Notes Cas. 167; Kahn's Estate, 3 Pa. Dist. 806, 16 Pa. Co. Ct. 72; Price's Appeal, 2 Mona. 554; Scullin's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 188; Nye's Appeal, 24 Wkly. Notes Cas. 121; Coates' Estate, 6 Wkly. Notes Cas. 367; In re Martin, 12 Lanc. Bar 504; In re Grove, 12 Lanc. Bar 498; Saunder's Estate, 12 Lanc. Bar 77; Sander's Es-upon reasons constituting a sufficient ground for divorce.[92] But in some states the widow's right appears to be absolute where there is a mere separation.[93]

7. Divorce. The widow's special allowance or exemption does not apply to a woman who was divorced from her husband;[94] nor generally to a woman who has obtained an incomplete or invalid divorce, by virtue of which she has long lived voluntarily apart from her husband.[95] But a void divorce procured by the husband from a foreign tribunal does not deprive the widow of the statutory allowance.[96]

8. Relinquishment After Husband's Death. While a widow's release of her allowance and exemptions after her husband's death does not necessarily conclude the rights of the children residing with her,[97] it will debar her, especially when settlement of the estate has proceeded upon the faith of it,[98] unless she was imposed upon by others.[99] But she will not be barred unless the instrument executed by her clearly shows an intention to release these statutory rights.[1]

9. Remarriage. While the remarriage of the widow does not divest her or minor children of allowances and exemptions already vested,[2] it bars her from tate, 1 York Leg. Rec. 115; Tozer v. Tozer, 2 Am. L. Reg. 510.

Texas.— Earle v. Earle, 9 Tex. 630.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 699.

Articles of separation, except where induced by the husband's cruel treatment (Linares v. De Linares, 93 Tex. 84, 52 S. W. 579) may bar the widow's allowance (Noah's Estate, 73 Cal. 583, 15 Pac. 287, 2 Am. St. Rep. 829; Speidel's Appeal, 107 Pa. St. 18; Dillinger's Appeal, 35 Pa. St. 357; Henkel's Estate, 13 Pa. Super. Ct. 337; Schmitt's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 183; Linares v. De Linares, 93 Tex. 84, 53 S. W. 579; In re Park, 25 Utah 161, 69 Pac. 671), but not the right of a minor child (Henkel's Estate, 13 Pa. Super. Ct. 337).

92. Slack v. Slack, 123 Mass. 443; Newton v. Truesdale, 69 N. H. 634, 45 Atl. 646; In re Roth, 9 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 429, 6 Ohio N. P. 498; Nye's Appeal, 126 Pa. St. 341, 17 Atl. 618, 12 Am. St. Rep. 873; Terry's Appeal, 55 Pa. St. 344; Welsh's Estate, 5 Pa. Dist. 675, 18 Pa. Co. Ct. 517, 39 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 167; Moore's Appeal, 40 Leg. Int. (Pa.) 350; Spence's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 494; Simpson's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 326, 22 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 172; Wright's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 228; Saunder's Estate, 12 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) 77; Groom's Estate, 6 York Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 139; Linares v. De Linares, 93 Tex. 84, 53 S. W. 579. But see Creighton's Estate, 7 Pa. Dist. 251, 21 Pa. Co. Ct. 83; Burkett's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 501; Grove's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 498.

Minor children living apart from their father at his death by reason of his desertion of and failure to provide for them are entitled to the statutory exemption notwithstanding a statute requiring residence with deceased at the time of his death. Rappe's Estate, 4 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 316.

The burden of showing that the separation was not for sufficient cause is on the person claiming that the widow has forfeited her allowance. Linares v. De Linares, 93 Tex. 84, 53 S. W. 579.

93. Smith v. Smith, 112 Ga. 351, 37 S. E. 407; Mowser v. Mowser, 87 Mo. 437; Comerford v. Coulter, 82 Mo. App. 362; King v. King, 64 Mo. App. 301; Shedd's Estate, 133 N. Y. 601, 30 N. E. 1147 [affirming 60 Hun 367, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 841].

94. Dobson v. Butler, 17 Mo. 87; Fyock's Estate, 9 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 89.

A decree of divorce a mensa et thoro with an order for alimony at the suit of the wife will defeat her claim to exemption. Evans' Estate, 21 Pa. Super. Ct. 430.

95. Byrne's Estate, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 1.

96. Platt's Appeal, 80 Pa. St. 501.

97. Phelps v. Phelps, 72 Ill. 545, 22 Am. Rep. 149.

98. Telford v. Baggs, 64 Ill. 498; Berg's Estate, 1 Woodw. (Pa.) 75.

99. Mayrand v. Mayrand, 194 Ill. 45, 61 N. E. 1040 [affirming 96 Ill. App. 481]; Ellsworth v. Ellsworth, 33 Iowa 164; Potter's Estate, 6 Pa. Super. Ct. 627; Nace's Estate, 14 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) 42.

1. In re Moore, 57 Cal. 446 (holding that a bill of sale expressly limited to property owned by her "as heir at law of her said husband" did not deprive the widow of her statutory exemption); In re Moore, 57 Cal. 437 (holding that a quitclaim deed executed by the widow after her husband's death conveyed only her interest in the property which she received upon his death by succession, and did not deprive her of her homestead right in such property).

2. Alabama.— Shelton v. Carrol, 16 Ala. 148, quarantine before dower.

Georgia.— Swain v. Stewart, 98 Ga. 366, 25 S. E. 831.

Kentucky.— Burgett v. Clarke, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 518.

Michigan.— Bacon v. Perkins, 100 Mich. 183, 58 N. W. 85.

Pennsylvania.— Davis' Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 505; Somers' Estate, 9 Wkly. Notes Cas. 559; Venus' Estate, 1 York Leg. Rec. 193.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 702.

The interest of infant children in property set apart for the use of a widow and minor any subsequent claim upon the estate, the order of allowance thereupon terminating without any further order of the court.[3]

10. Delay in Applying. It is the duty of a widow to make her claim for an allowance or exemption promptly,[4] and while a delay which is reasonable under existing circumstances may be allowed,[5] an unreasonable delay will usually have the effect of defeating her right,[6] at all events where the tardy assertion of her children is not destroyed by her remarriage. Burgett v. Clarke, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 518.

3. Hamilton's Estate, 66 Cal. 576, 6 Pac. 493; Machemer's Estate, 140 Pa. St. 544, 21 Atl. 441; Seittenspinner's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 454; Davis' Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 505; Cronan v. Scranton, 2 Lack. Jur. (Pa.) 413.

4. Hunt's Estate, 14 Phila. (Pa.) 330. As a general rule an application for allowance can only be entertained during the time for which support is intended. Zunkel v. Colson, 109 Iowa 695, 81 N. W. 175.

Delay in taking out letters of administration is chargeable to the widow, and hence she cannot set up such delay as an excuse for a delay in claiming exemption of her statutory allowance. Cronan v. Scranton, 2 Lack. Jur. (Pa.) 413; Hughes' Estate, 1 Lack Jur. (Pa.) 85. But see Ex p. Rogers, 63 N. C. 110.

5. Alabama.— See Little v. McPherson, 76 Ala. 552, holding that there must concur the failure of the widow to select and the failure of the judge of probate to appoint persons to make the selection.

Arkansas.— Henry v. Tillar, 70 Ark. 246, 67 S. W. 310, holding that failure to cause appraisement to be made within the time required by statute does not bar her rights.

California.— In re Welch, 106 Cal. 427, 39 Pac. 805, four years.

Illinois.— Miller v. Miller, 82 Ill. 463, two years.

Massachusetts.—Welch v. Welch, 181 Mass. 37, 62 N. E. 982; Lisk v. Lisk, 155 Mass. 153, 29 S. E. 375, two years and eight months.

Missouri.— Campbell v. Whitsett, 66 Mo. App. 444.

New Hampshire.— Kingman v. Kingman, 31 N. H. 182.

North Carolina.— Ex p. Rogers, 63 N. C. 110.

Pennsylvania.— Terry's Appeal, 55 Pa. St. 344 (delay in learning of husband's death); Towanda Bank Appeal, 1 Mona. 463; Bower's Estate, 17 Pa. Super. Ct. 59; Potter's Estate, 6 Pa. Super. Ct. 627 (two years and eighteen days); Kelly's Estate, 3 Pa. Dist. 15, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 51; Snider's Estate, 16 Pa. Co. Ct. 238; Birk's Estate, 11 Pa. Co. Ct. 569; McCann's Estate, 9 Pa. Co. Ct. 408; Groome's Estate, 7 Pa. Co. Ct. 519; Buddy's Estate, 7 Pa. Co. Ct. 466 (a year's delay, she being administratrix); Spence's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 494; Koch's Estate, 12 Wkly. Notes Cas. 305; Rizer's Estate, 11 Wkly. Notes Cas. 563; Rank's Estate, 5 Wkly. Notes Cas. 555; Hurley's Estate, 12 Phila. 47; Kirkpatrick's Estate, 5 Phila 98; Nace's Estate, 14 Lanc. Bar 42; Groome's Estate, 6 York Leg. Rec. 139.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 703.

The burden is on the widow to show that she made her claim promptly on hearing of the decedent's death, or other facts tending to excuse the delay. Grove's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 498; Simpson's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 326, 22 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 172.

Delay caused by the parties who object to the allowance to the widow of her exemption estops them from taking advantage of such delay, as against the widow. Kirchner's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 138, 19 Pa. Co. Ct. 216.

Where representations of heirs have prevented the widow from claiming her exemption, she may do so in her account as executrix. Ferguson's Estate, 10 Kulp (Pa.) 141.

6. Alabama.— Henderson v. Tucker, 70 Ala. 381, delay until after an administrator's sale.

Georgia.— Birt v. Brown, 106 Ga. 23, 31 S. E. 755.

Illinois.— Tarrant v. Kelly, 81 Ill. App. 118, nearly ten years.

Indiana.— Johnson v. Robertson, 7 Blackf. 425, application after sale of property by executor.

Iowa.— Zunkel v. Colson, 109 Iowa 695, 81 N. W. 175, delay until discharged as administratrix.

Mississippi.— Dease v. Cooper, 40 Miss. 114.

Missouri.— Drowry v. Bauer, 68 Mo. 155.

New Hampshire.— Kingman v. Kingman, 31 N. H. 182; Hubbard v. Wood, 15 N. H. 74, four years.

North Carolina.— Perkins v. Brinkley, 133 N. C. 86, 45 S. E. 465, holding that a widow who has failed to dissent from the will cannot maintain an action to recover a year's support brought six months after probate.

Pennsylvania.—Machemer's Estate, 140 Pa. St. 544, 21 Atl. 441 (more than three years); Kern's Appeal, 120 Pa. St. 523, 14 Atl. 435; Williams' Appeal, 92 Pa. St. 69; Burk v. Gleason, 46 Pa. St. 297; Baskin's Appeal, 38 Pa. St. 65; Elsasser's Estate, 17 Pa. Super. Ct. 622; Davies v. Murbach, 17 Pa. Super. Ct. 207; Beetem v. Getz, 5 Pa. Super. Ct. 71, 41 Wkly. Notes Cas. 69; Bayington's Estate, 5 Pa. Dist. 285; Snider's Estate, 4 Pa. Dist. 458; Hoffeditz's Estate, 4 Pa. Dist. 125; Formad's Estate, 3 Pa. Dist. 13, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 104; Matter of Clark, 2 Pearson 491; Matter of Maier, 1 Pearson 420; McNeill's Estate, 6 Kulp 168; Fox's Estate, 5 Kulp 218; Holmes' Estate, 20 Pa. Co. Ct. 434 (two years); Ehrehart's Estate, 18 Pa. Co. Ct. 536; Neill v. Kuhn, 15 Pa. Co. Ct. 565; In re Kelly, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 51; Davey's Estate, 9 Pa. Co. Ct. 125; Davis' Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 505; Grove's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct.

claim would cause embarrassment and difficulty in settling the estate[7] or unduly prejudice intervening rights.[8]

11. Death of Beneficiary. The death of the widow before her right to the statutory allowance and exemptions has become vested causes it to lapse;[9] but in the event of her death after the right has vested in her the benefit passes to her legal representatives,[10] or to the infant children.[11]

J. Selection or Setting Apart — 1. By Persons Entitled. The right to exempted property cannot usually ripen into a full title until selection is made and the property separated from the rest of the estate,[12] although under some statutes a selection or setting apart is not necessary where the value of the dece-

498 (two years and a half unless there be sufficient excuse for her delay); Michel's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 321; McLaughlin's Estate, 4 Pa. Co. Ct. 295; Roberts' Estate, 3 Pa. Co. Ct. 365, 20 Wkly. Notes Cas. 380; Pratt's Estate, 23 Wkly. Notes Cas. 543; Silvius' Estate, 20 Wkly. Notes Cas. 389; Weckerly's Estate, 11 Wkly. Notes Cas. 287; Donoghue's Estate, 19 Phila. 220; Heller's Estate, 11 Phila. 120; Dech's Estate, 6 Phila. 72; Cranse's Estate, 6 Phila. 71 (four months after sale); In re Bryan, 4 Phila. 228; John's Estate, 1 Chest. Co. Rep. 311; Berg's Estate, 1 Woodw. 75; In re Hughes, 1 Lack. Jur. 85; In re Griffiths, 1 Lack. Leg. N. 311; McLaughlin's Estate, 4 Lanc. L. Rev. 410; Pickett's Estate, 1 Susq. Leg. Chron. 39 (until property sold or converted); Maier's Estate, 1 Leg. Gaz. 475, 2 Luz. L. Obs. 66 (after appraisement); Dutch's Estate, 31 Pittsb. Leg. J. 55 (delay by guardian for five years after probate to claim exemption for minor child).

South Carolina.— Haltiwanger v. Windhorn, 44 S. C. 413, 22 S. E. 446.

Texas.— Tiebout v. Millican, 61 Tex. 514, twenty-five years' delay.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 703.

Where minor children allowed over two years to elapse after the remarriage of their mother before making application for statutory exemption allowances their claim was barred, notwithstanding their minority. Cronan v. Scranton, 2 Lack. Jur. (Pa.) 413.

Where a demand is not required of the widow and minor children in order to secure a year's allowance, mere lapse of time will not be considered as a waiver or relinquishment of such right. In re Rierdon, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 606, 5 Ohio N. P. 516.

7. Kingman v. Kingman, 31 N. H. 182; Lawley's Appeal, (Pa. 1887) 9 Atl. 327; Davis' Estate, 2 Kulp (Pa.) 84; Hunt's Estate, 11 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 123; Somer's Estate, 9 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 559.

8. Kelly's Estate, 3 Pa. Dist. 15, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 51; Birk's Estate, 11 Pa. Co. Ct. 569 [distinguishing Kern's Appeal, 120 Pa. St. 523, 14 Atl. 435]; McCann's Estate, 9 Pa. Co. Ct. 408; Scullin's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 188; Roberts' Estate, 3 Pa. Co. Ct. 365, 20 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 380; Koch's Estate, 12 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 305; Hurley's Estate, 5 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 101; Tibbin's Estate, 5 Phila. (Pa.) 100; Kirkpatrick's Estate, 5 Phila. (Pa.) 98; Pott's Appeal, 3 Walk. (Pa.) 135.

9. Iowa.— Zunkel v. Colson, 109 Iowa 695, 81 N. W. 175.

Maine.— Tarbox v. Fisher, 50 Me. 236.

Massachusetts.—Adams v. Adams, 10 Metc. 170.

North Carolina.— Simpson v. Cureton, 97 N. C. 114, 28 S. E. 668; Ex p. Dunn, 63 N. C. 137 (death after allotment but before confirmation); Kimball v. Deming, 27 N. C. 418; Cox v. Brown, 27 N. C. 194.

Pennsylvania.— Mulhollen's Estate, 5 Pa. Dist. 70; Lafferty's Estate, 12 Wkly. Notes Cas. 535, 16 Phila. 211; Beck's Estate, 7 York Leg. Rec. 118.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 704.

10. Georgia.— Brown v. Joiner, 77 Ga. 232, 3 S. E. 157.

Indiana.— Bratney v. Curry, 33 Ind. 399.

Massachusetts.— Drew v. Gordon, 13 Allen 120.

Missouri.— Hastings v. Myers, 21 Mo. 519.

New York.— Matter of Hulse, 41 Misc. 307, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 220.

Ohio.— Bane v. Wick, 14 Ohio St. 505; Dorah v. Dorah, 4 Ohio St. 292.

Pennsylvania.— Pickett's Estate, 1 Susq. Leg. Chron. 39.

Vermont.— Johnson's Estate, 41 Vt. 467.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 704.

11. Dickerson v. Nash, 74 Ga. 357; Mallory v. Mallory, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 684; Price v. Nichols, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 421; Crabtree v. Crabtree, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 812. But see Kimball v. Deming, 27 N. C. 418; Cox v. Brown, 27 N. C. 194, holding children entitled to support only as members of the widow's family.

12. Mitcham v. Moore, 73 Ala. 542; Tucker v. Henderson, 63 Ala. 280; Harrell v. Hammond, 25 Ind. 104; Jelly v. Elliott, Smith (Ind.) 32; Carey v. Monroe, 54 N. J. Eq. 632, 35 Atl. 456.

Selection may be made at appraised value of property (Harrell v. Hammond, 25 Ind. 104; Hays v. Buffington, 2 Ind. 369) notwithstanding a rise in value after appraisal (Overturf v. Wear, 26 Ohio St. 538).

Selection from both realty and personalty may be made at same time. Bobb's Estate, 1 Woodw. (Pa.) 317.

Widow restricted to designation made.— Dorscheimer's Estate, 12 Pa. Super. Ct. 34.

The guardian of one minor child may select dent's property does not exceed a given amount.[13] Whether with or without an order of court, and whether before or during administration, the fact of such selection should be established as the statute may have provided.[14]

2. By Executors, Administrators, Etc.— a. In General. Under some statutes the property must be set apart by the decedent's personal representatives,[15] by commissioners appointed for that purpose,[16] or by appraisers,[17] upon the widow's seasonable and proper demand.[18]

b. Liability For Refusing to Act or Abusing Power. If the personal representative wrongfully refuses to act or abuses his power in the premises he may be controlled by the court and made to rectify,[19] or he may be held liable in an action by the widow for the recovery of the allowance or exemption,[20] or for its as next friend of another minor child. Jones' Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 302.

Under a general setting apart, without specifying different sets of children, children of a former wife cannot claim a benefit. Horn v. Truett, 114 Ga. 995, 41 S. E. 498.

A widow who is executrix or administratrix need not make demand, but may take the exempted property and claim credit in her account. Atherton's Estate, 8 Kulp (Pa.) 150. Contra, Chiffet v. Willis, 74 Tex. 245, 11 S. W. 1105.

The right to select continues as long as the statute designates, and the representative cannot defeat such selection by prematurely or improperly using the assets for other purposes of administration. Little v. McPherson, 76 Ala. 552; Heller v. Leisse, 13 Mo. App. 180.

13. Jackson v. Wilson, 117 Ala. 432, 23 So. 521 (appropriation being equivalent to a selection); Gamble v. Kellum, 97 Ala. 677, 12 So. 82; Chandler v. Chandler, 87 Ala. 300, 6 So. 153; Nance v. Nance, 84 Ala. 375, 4 So. 699, 5 Am. St. Rep. 378. See also Toner's Estate, 5 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 387. And see supra, IX, D, 5.

14. Alabama.— Mitcham v. Moore, 73 Ala. 542.

Georgia.— Horn v. Truett, 114 Ga. 995, 41 S. E. 498.

Indiana.— Hoover v. Agnew, 91 Ind. 370.

Texas.— Chifflet v. Willis, 74 Tex. 245, 11 S. W. 1105.

Wisconsin.— Wilcox v. Matteson, 53 Wis. 23, 9 N. W. 814, 40 Am. Rep. 754; Tomlinson v. Nelson, 49 Wis. 679, 6 N. W. 366.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 705.

15. Indiana.—Harrell v. Hammond, 25 Ind. 104.

New Jersey.— Read v. Patterson, 47 N. J. Eq. 595, 22 Atl. 1076.

Pennsylvania.— Compher v. Compher, 25 Pa. St. 31; Rigby's Estate, 42 Wkly. Notes Cas. 434.

Tennessee.— Rhea v. Creer, 86 Tenn. 59, 5 S. W. 595.

Texas.— Mitchell v. Harrison, 32 Tex. 331.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 706.

Assets not exempt should not be set apart to the widow but should be inventoried as assets of the estate. In re Holderbaum, 22 Iowa 69, 47 N. W. 898. An administrator cannot set apart exempt property for the use of children as against the claim of a married daughter whose interest would be affected thereby. Shannon v. Davis, 64 Miss. 717, 2 So. 240.

16. Vaughn v. Fitzgerald, 112 Ga. 517, 37 S. E. 752; Rhea v. Green, 86 Tenn. 59, 5 S. W. 595.

A nunc pro tunc order that the commissioners' return be entered of record may be made where it does not appear that there are any objections to the return, and the failure to enter it on the records was through the mistake or negligence of the ordinary. Vaughn v. Fitzgerald, 112 Ga. 517, 37 S. E. 752.

17. Jacobson v. Jacobson, 107 Ga. 29, 32 S. E. 877; Clark v. Fleming, 78 Ga. 782, 4 S. E. 12; Holliday v. Holland, 41 Miss. 528; Matter of Bidgood, 36 Misc. (N. Y.) 516, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 1061 (holding that the statute requiring appraisers to set apart property is mandatory and that they have no discretion except as to the nature of the property); Daggett v. Daggett, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 182 [affirming 9 N. Y. Suppl. 652, 2 Connoly Surr. 230]; Heck v. Heck, 6 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 604, 7 Am. L. Rec. 13. And see infra, IX, J, 3.

18. Hamilton v. Matlock, 22 Ind. 47; McNulty v. Lewis, 8 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 520 (before final settlement); Lyman v. Byam, 38 Pa. St. 475 (before sale); Compher v. Compher, 25 Pa. St. 31; Torstenson's Estate, 3 Pa. Co. Ct. 13; Bryan's Estate, 4 Phila. (Pa.) 228; Groff's Estate, 2 Lanc. L. Lev. (Pa.) 413.

Demand by widow inures to benefit of her assignee. Brown v. Bernhamer, 159 Ind. 538, 65 N. E. 580.

19. Read v. Patterson, 47 N. J. Eq. 595, 22 Atl. 1076 (holding that if the executor makes an unreasonable allowance the court may interfere and make such an allowance as he in the exercise of a proper discretion ought to have made); Sheldon v. Bliss, 8 N. Y. 31 [affirming 7 Barb. 152]; Bryan's Estate, 4 Phila. (Pa.) 228.

The duty of making return to the probate court of the exemption claimed by the widow or guardian of minors rests on the personal representative and he is accountable for negligence or failure to make it. Jarrell v. Payne, 75 Ala. 577.

20. Brown v. Bernhamer, 159 Ind. 538, 65 N. E. 580; Hamilton v. Matlock, 22 Ind. 47 (holding that the widow is not required to conversion,[21] or in an action for damages.[22] Interest may be allowed from the date of the representative's refusal to pay the allowance.[23]

c. Credit For Allowance in Accounts. An order of court is not always necessary to enable the executor or administrator to make reasonable and proper payments to the widow for a family allowance,[24] and if he actually appropriates assets for allowance to the widow, or proceeds fairly with her permission to appropriate, he is entitled to credit accordingly.[25]

3. Appraisement — a. Necessity. An actual appraisement of the estate is usually a prerequisite to a proper setting apart of the widow's allowance,[26] unless she elects to claim her exemption in money or out of evidences of debts,[27] or the estate had previously been appraised,[28] or unless the statute dispenses therewith.[29]

b. Demand. A seasonable demand of appraisement by the widow is required, where such appraisement is an essential preliminary to her allowance.[30] make a specific selection before maintaining an action for the exempt property); Conger v. Atwood, 28 Ohio St. 134, 22 Am. Rep. 462; Neely v. McCormick, 25 Pa. St. 255.

21. Taylor v. Taylor, 53 Ala. 135; Barwick v. Rackley, 46 Ala. 402; Neely v. McCormick, 25 Pa. St. 255; Torstenson's Estate, 3 Pa. Co. Ct. 13.

Previous order for delivery necessary.— Noblett v. Dillinger, 23 Ind. 505.

22. Compher v. Compher, 25 Pa. St. 31; Torstenson's Estate, 3 Pa. Co. Ct. 13.

23. Brown v. Bernhamer, 159 Ind. 538, 65 N. E. 580.

24. In re Lux, 114 Cal. 89, 45 Pac. 1028; Dickinson v. Henderson, 122 Mich. 583, 81 N. W. 583.

25. Alabama.—Barwick v. Rackley, 46 Ala. 402.

Kentucky.— Grider v. Rodes, 5 Bush 277.

Massachusetts.— Newell v. West, 149 Mass. 520, 21 N. E. 954.

New Jersey.— Cooley v. Vansyckle, 14 N. J. Eq. 496.

Ohio.— Watts v. Watts, 38 Ohio St. 480.

Pennsylvania.—See Williamson's Estate, 12 Phila. 144; Avery's Estate, 1 C. Pl. 151.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 707.

26. Alabama.— Mattox v. Feagan, 57 Ala. 274.

Georgia.— Clark v. Fleming, 78 Ga. 782, 4 S. E. 12.

Indiana.— Harrell v. Hammond, 25 Ind. 104.

Iowa.— Adkinson v. Breeding, 56 Iowa 26, 8 N. W. 685, for identification only.

Ohio.— Heck v. Heck, 6 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 604, 7 Am. L. Rec. 13.

Pennsylvania.— Hufman's Appeal, 81 Pa. St. 329; Beetem v. Getz, 5 Pa. Super. Ct. 71, 41 Wkly. Notes Cas. 69; Nixon's Appeal, 6 Wkly. Notes Cas. 496; Avery's Estate, 1 C. Pl. 151; Grove's Estate, 12 York Leg. Rec. 180, holding that personalty retained by the widow without appraisement may be surcharged against her, but is no ground for exception to the appraisement.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 708.

Appointment of auditor.—Where the widow has had set apart to her articles of personal property and cash from the estate, the administrator cannot pay the cash out of the proceeds of the sale of the real estate without the appointment of an auditor. Avery's Estate, 1 C. Pl. (Pa.) 751.

27. Seller's Estate, 82 Pa. St. 153; Larrison's Appeal, 36 Pa. St. 130; Towanda Bank's Appeal, 1 Mona. (Pa.) 463; Rigby's Estate, 8 Pa. Super. Ct. 108, 42 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 434; Beetem v. Getz, 5 Pa. Super. Ct. 71, 41 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 69; Weckerly's Estate, 11 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 287; Gerrity's Estate, 1 Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 214.

Where the widow claims her exemption out of the proceeds of real estate converted into personalty appraisement is not necessary. Good's Appeal, 152 Pa. St. 63, 25 Atl. 164; Beetem v. Getz, 5 Pa. Super. Ct. 71, 41 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 69; Gibson's Estate, 5 Pa. Super. Ct. 57; Silvius' Estate, 17 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 447. It has also been held that an appraisement of real estate is not necessary. Klein's Estate No. 1, 2 Pa. Dist. 813, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 72. But see Towanda Bank's Appeal, 1 Mona. (Pa.) 463; Torstenson's Estate, 3 Pa. Co. Ct. 13.

28. McCann's Estate, 9 Pa. Co. Ct. 408.

29. Crawford v. Nassoy, 173 N. Y. 163, 65 N. E. 962 [reversing 55 N. Y. App. Div. 433, 67 N. Y. Suppl. 108].

30. Hamilton v. Matlock, 22 Ind. 47; McNulty v. Lewis, 8 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 520; Hufman's Appeal, 81 Pa. St. 329; Larrison's Appeal, 36 Pa. St. 130; Davis' Appeal, 34 Pa. St. 256; Andress' Estate, 10 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 52, 14 Phila. (Pa.) 263; Somer's Estate, 14 Phila. (Pa.) 261; Heller's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 120; Bryan's Estate, 4 Phila. (Pa.) 228; Gerrity's Estate, 1 Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 214.

While estate unsettled.— An appraisement will be ordered on the widow's application at any time while the estate remains unsettled. In re Rierdon, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 606, 5 Ohio N. P. 516.

The administrator, instead of the widow, may demand the appraisement. Cash v. Cash, 67 Ark. 278, 54 S. W. 744; In re Rierdon, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 606, 5 Ohio N. P. 516; Lane's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 618.

c. Appraisers. The appraisers should usually be disinterested persons, and the same who appraise the general estate of the decedent.[31]

d. Proceedings. Whether appraisers are to set apart specifically or merely to certify value and report to the court, they should perform their duty diligently,[32] and should make and file a true return[33] within the time limited by statute.[34] The appraisers' return is taken to be prima facie correct[35] and is accepted as showing the true value of the property unless fraud be made to appear.[36]

e. Confirmation and Review. The probate court has usually the power to confirm or disallow the report of appraisers; and the judge's confirmation when made is conclusive as a judgment in rem, binds all others in interest unless attacked on the special grounds available for such judgments, and fixes at once the widow's award as her exclusive property.[37] Some codes permit an appeal

31. Calvit v. Calvit, 32 Miss. 124; Vandevort's Appeal, 43 Pa. St. 462; Bushley's Estate, 20 Pa. Co. Ct. 188; Eddy's Estate, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 17.

Where the appraisers were sureties for the widow as administratrix they were not disinterested persons and their appraisement should be set aside. Grove's Estate, 12 York Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 180. But see Macaltioner's Estate, 8 Pa. Co. Ct. 252, one only being surety.

Appraisers to set off an allowance to a minor child cannot be appointed by the minor or his guardian. Eddy's Estate, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 17.

32. See In re Wincox, 186 Ill. 445, 57 N. E. 1073 [affirming 85 Ill. App. 613]; York v. York, 38 Ill. 522; Applegate v. Cameron, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 119 (holding that appraisers cannot set apart more than the specified value); Matter of Pollard, Ohio Prob. 216.

If any portion of the estate has been used by the widow for her support, the same should be taken into consideration by the appraisers in making her allowance. In re Rierdon, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 606, 5 Ohio N. P. 516.

Items should be appraised separately. Drake's Estate, 1 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 85.

Things which belong to the widow absolutely need not be appraised. Boyer v. Boyer, 21 Ill. App. 534; Rutledge v. Rutledge, 21 Ill. App. 357.

Death of widow.— Appraisers appointed on the application of the widow cannot appraise if she dies meanwhile. Brown v. Joiner, 77 Ga. 232, 3 S. E. 157. See also Kapp v. Public Administrator, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 258.

33. An appraisement may be invalid for uncertainty (Kiff v. Kiff, 95 N. C. 71. See also Galloway's Estate, 1 Pearson (Pa.) 404); or for setting down the value too low or too high (Drygalski's Estate, 6 Kulp (Pa.) 50; Davis' Estate, 5 Kulp (Pa.) 162; Wallace's Estate, 6 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 503); but not for a mere inaccuracy in describing the property (Allen v. Lindsay, 113 Ga. 521, 38 S. E. 975; Smith v. Smith, 112 Ga. 351, 37 S. E. 407).

Alterations after filing are not permitted. Miller's Estate, 1 Leg. Gaz. (Pa.) 59.

Certificate as to feasibility of division.— A certificate in writing that the division returned can be made without injury to the whole property is required under the Pennsylvania statute. Bushley's Estate, 20 Pa. Co. Ct. 188. See also Henry's Estate, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 28.

Effect of report.— A report purporting merely to allow the property to the widow does not exclude the children. Allen v. Lindsay, 113 Ga. 521, 28 S. E. 975.

34. Cowan v. Corbett, 68 Ga. 66; Williams' Estate, 141 Pa. St. 436, 21 Atl. 673; Rhea v. Greer, 86 Tenn. 59, 5 S. W. 595.

Mere delay in recording the appraisers' return does not divest interests thereunder. Roberts v. Dickerson, 95 Ga. 727, 22 S. E. 654.

35. Smith v. Smith, 115 Ga. 692, 42 S. E. 72; Birt v. Brown, 106 Ga. 23, 31 S. E. 755; Robson v. Harris, 82 Ga. 153, 7 S. E. 926; Crouch v. Smith, 1 Md. Ch. 401; Williams v. Hale, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 562.

The burden of showing the return to be incorrect is on the person objecting thereto. Smith v. Smith, 115 Ga. 692, 42 S. E. 72; Lee v. English, 107 Ga. 152, 33 S. E. 39; Gunn v. Pettygrew, 93 Ga. 327, 20 S. E. 328; Robson v. Harris, 82 Ga. 153, 7 S. E. 926.

36. Drygalski's Estate, 6 Kulp (Pa.) 50.

37. Illinois.— Scoville's Estate, 20 Ill. App. 426; Wood v. Johnson, 13 Ill. App. 548.

Mississippi.— Holliday v. Holland, 41 Miss. 528; Ex p. Buck, 40 Miss. 239; Williams v. Hale, 12 Sm. & M. 562; McNulty v. Lewis, 8 Sm. & M. 520.

New York.—Applegate v. Cameron, 2 Bradf. Surr. 119.

Ohio.— Heck v. Heck, 34 Ohio St. 369 [affirming 6 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 604, 7 Am. L. Rec. 13], holding that if a new appraisement is ordered notice of proceedings therein should be given to the executor or administrator.

Oregon.— McAtee v. McAtee, 23 Oreg. 469, 32 Pac. 297.

Pennsylvania.— Williams' Estate, 141 Pa. St. 436, 21 Atl. 673 (second appraisement); Seller's Estate, 82 Pa. St. 153; Baldy's Appeal, 40 Pa. St. 328; Runyan's Appeal, 27 Pa. St. 121; Scott's Estate, 18 Pa. Super. Ct. 375; Henry's Estate, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 28; Frey's Estate, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 84; Kunkle's Estate, 4 Pa. Co. Ct. 234; Berg's Estate, 1 Woodw. 75; McLaughlin's Estate, 4 Lanc. L. Rev. 410.

from the probate court,[38] either in all cases or where the allowance of the appraisers has been increased or diminished.[39]

K. Allowance by Court — 1. In General. Usually the property set off to the widow should regularly pass through the probate court with other administration of the estate;[40] and it is within the discretion of such court to apportion a reasonable allowance for the maintenance of the decedent's family pending administration,[41] either upon its own motion[42] or upon the widow's petition.[43]

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 712.

Where the property selected is destroyed before the appraisement is approved and no interests of creditors are involved the court may decline to approve the appraisement. Kunkle's Estate, 4 Pa. Co. Ct. 234.

A claim that the property was valued too low will not suffice to set aside the appraisement except on very clear testimony. Davenport's Estate, 4 Kulp (Pa.) 255; Dixon's Estate, 1 Kulp (Pa.) 141. But an appraisement will be set aside where many articles were clearly undervalued, and some were appraised without being seen. Grove's Estate, 12 York Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 180.

Probate court cannot set aside allotment on its own motion. Ex p. Reavis, 50 Ala. 210.

Formal judgment necessary only where appraisers set apart a sum of money.— Cowan v. Corbett, 68 Ga. 66, holding that otherwise the title vests in the family after six months without judgment.

Confirmation conclusive only of matters to which it relates.— Seller's Estate, 82 Pa. St. 153.

A judgment lien against land appraised to the widow is not sufficient to prevent confirmation when the title vested in her is made subject to the lien. In re Simons, 11 Pa. Super. Ct. 13.

Laches may bar the widow's right to have a decree of confirmation opened, and the appraisement set aside, even as to a single item. McLaughlin's Estate, 4 Pa. Co. Ct. 295.

38. Daniel v. Phelps, 86 Ga. 363, 12 S. E. 584; Robson v. Harris, 82 Ga. 153, 7 S. E. 926. See also Durham v. Durham, 107 Ga. 285, 33 S. E. 76.

The objector is entitled to open and close upon appeal from the appraisers' return where both parties introduce evidence. Lee v. English, 107 Ga. 152, 33 S. E. 39; Gunn v. Pettygrew, 93 Ga. 327, 20 S. E. 328; Robson v. Harris, 82 Ga. 153, 7 S. E. 926. But see Cheney v. Cheney, 73 Ga. 66.

A caveat to the appraisers' report cannot be amended on appeal so as to bring in issue an objection not made in the lower court. Jacobson v. Jacobson, 107 Ga. 29, 32 S. E. 877.

39. Reidermann v. Tafel, 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 393, 12 Cinc. L. Bul. 284, discussing the change effected by the Ohio act of Apr. 15, 1882.

40. Griswold v. Mattix, 21 Mo. App. 282.

41. In re Slade, 122 Cal. 434, 55 Pac. 158; Garrity's Estate, 108 Cal. 463, 38 Pac. 628, 41 Pac. 481 (also holding that the court may make such allowance without first setting apart a homestead); In re Lux, 100 Cal. 593, 35 Pac. 341; Lawrence v. Security Co., 56 Conn. 423, 15 Atl. 406, 1 L. R. A. 342; In re Power, 92 Mich. 106, 52 N. W. 298; North v. Van Tassel, 84 Mich. 69, 47 N. W. 663; Babcock v. Hopkinton Probate Ct., 18 R. I. 555, 30 Atl. 461; State v. Lichtenberg, 4 Wash. 231, 29 Pac. 999.

Where the widow and children live apart and the latter are elsewhere maintained, the court should apportion the statute allowance. Womack v. Boyd, 31 Miss. 443.

Physician's charges and funeral expenses incurred for the benefit of minor children are properly allowable. In re Murphy, 30 Wash. 9, 70 Pac. 109.

Expenditures made by representative.— It is error for the court to direct the executor to treat the expenditures made by him, the question for the necessity of which is reserved until a final accounting, as money in hand, and to apply the same to paying a family allowance. In re Smith, 118 Cal. 462, 50 Pac. 701.

Pending an appeal on the question of the marriage one claiming to be the decedent's widow, but whose claim is contested, cannot be granted an allowance. State v. Lichtenberg, 4 Wash. 231, 29 Pac. 999.

Contest of probate.— It has been held that a decree for maintenance pending a contest of the will, where the testamentary provision for the widow is the income of a trust fund, should be limited to the present earning capacity of such fund, with arrears for the amount so earned up to the date of the decree. Matter of Hitchler, 21 Misc. (N. Y.) 417, 47 N. Y. Suppl. 1069. And it has even been held that no allowance can be made to a widow by the surrogate pending an appeal from the probate of the will, although she is executrix and legatee. Riegelmann's Estate, 2 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 98, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 86.

Maintenance pending a suit by an executor, for leave to account and be discharged from his trust, will not be ordered for the benefit of a person interested in the estate when there is no money in court. Bogert v. Bogert, 2 Edw. (N. Y.) 399.

42. Leach v. Pierce, 93 Cal. 614, 29 Pac. 235; People v. Cass County, 35 Mich. 220; Chifflet v. Willis, 74 Tex. 245, 11 S. W. 1105; Connell v. Chandler, 11 Tex. 249; Phelps v. Phelps, 16 Vt. 73.

43. Alabama.— Jordan v. Strickland, 42 Ala. 315.

California.— In re Slade, 122 Cal. 434, 55 Pac. 158.

North Carolina.— Gillespie v. Hymans, 15 N. C. 119.

Ohio.— Matter of Pollard, Ohio Prob. 216.

This court also has power to grant such orders or entertain such proceedings as may be necessary to enforce a setting apart of the allowance or exemption.[43]

2. JURISDICTION. A probate court has only such jurisdiction or authority in making the widow's allowance as is given by statute,[45] as in settling the accounts of executors and administrators;[46] and its jurisdiction does not usually extend to an allowance to the widow of a non-resident decedent from assets in the jurisdiction subject to ancillary administration.[47] Neither should the probate court in this connection determine matters which lie outside its own statutory jurisdiction and pertain to the ordinary courts of justice[48] or matters of which jurisdiction has previously been obtained by another court.[49]

3. NOTICE. Notice of the widow's petition and proceedings thereunder should usually be given to the executor or administrator,[50] unless he otherwise has notice[51] or has waived formal notice by his voluntary appearance;[52] but notice to general creditors is not ordinarily required.[53]

4. PARTIES. A petition for an allowance on behalf of the widow may be made by the personal representative[54] or by a committee of lunacy if she is Pennsylvania.— Potts' Appeal, 3 Walk. 135.

Rhode Island.— Babcock v. Hopkinton Probate Ct., 18 R. I. 555, 30 Atl. 461.
See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 713.

The death of the widow abates her petition, if no final decree of allowance has been made. Tarbox v. Fisher, 50 Me. 236.

Time for filing petition.— The filing of the petition may be within a reasonable time after the decedent's death (Benagh v. Turrentine, 60 Ala. 557; Birt v. Brown, 106 Ga. 23, 31 S. E. 755; Irwin's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 351; Rank's Estate, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 67), at the term of the county court where letters of administration are taken out (Gillespie v. Hymans, 15 N. C. 119), or at the term at which final settlement is made (Coulter v. Lyda, 102 Mo. App. 401, 76 S. W. 720). See also supra, IX, I, 10.

44. Smith v. Smith, 96 Ga. 772, 22 S. E. 332, holding that a receiver may be appointed to rent the property and pay monthly sums to the widow where the right to the property is contested by adult children of the decedent by a former marriage.

Attachment may issue from the probate court to compel the administrator to pay to the widow money in his hands set apart for her support. Rocco v. Citalla, 12 Heisk. (Tenn.) 508.

45. Turner v. Whitten, 40 Ala. 530; North v. Van Tassel, 84 Mich. 69, 47 N. W. 663; Bliss v. Sheldon, 7 Barb. (N. Y.) 152; Wanzer v. Smith, 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 323, 2 West. L. Month. 426.

Annulment of bequest.— A probate court has no jurisdiction of a widow's application to annul or suspend a clause bequeathing certain notes to another, and to have such notes sold and an allowance made to her from the proceeds, where she has not applied for an administration upon the estate and disclaimed all right under the will. Nelson v. Lyster, (Tex. Civ. App. 1903) 74 S. W. 54.

46. Burroughs v. Knutton, (R. I. 1888) 13 Atl. 108.

Where no executor or administrator has been appointed the orphans' court in Pennsylvania cannot entertain a petition by the decedent's widow for her exemption out of funds in the sheriff's hands representing the surplus derived from a foreclosure sale to satisfy a mortgage on decedent's lands. Cox's Estate, 11 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 137. But compare Towanda Bank's Appeal, 1 Mona. (Pa.) 463.

47. Smith v. Howard, 86 Me. 203, 29 Atl. 1008, 41 Am. St. Rep. 537. But see Mitchell v. Word, 64 Ga. 208.

48. Cauley v. Truitt, 63 Mo. App. 356; Bulkley v. Staats, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 524; Barrett v. Barrett, 9 Pa. Co. Ct. 454. See also Taylor v. Taylor, 53 Ala. 135, holding that the probate court cannot allow the widow's exemption out of funds of an insolvent estate in the hands of the administrator de bonis non where the administrator in chief sold the property exempt from administration and applied the proceeds in the course of administration; her remedy in such case being against the administrator for the conversion.

49. Hall v. Hall, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1900) 59 S. W. 203.

50. Mackie v. Glendenning, 49 Ga. 367; Bacon v. Perkins, 100 Mich. 183, 58 N. W. 835 (holding oral notice sufficient); Freeman v. Washtenaw Probate Judge, 79 Mich. 390, 44 N. W. 856. But see Morgan v. Morgan, 36 Miss. 348; Babcock v. Hopkinton Probate Ct., 18 R. I. 555, 30 Atl. 461, holding that an allowance will not be disturbed for want of notice to the executor.

51. Forbes v. Anderson, 54 Ga. 93.

52. Johnson v. Tyson, 45 Cal. 257; Butts v. Pugh, 54 Ga. 465.

53. In re Palomares, 63 Cal. 402; Goss v. Greenaway, 70 Ga. 130. Contra, Fischesser v. Thompson, 45 Ga. 459.

54. Bardwell v. Edwards, 117 Ga. 824, 45 S. E. 40; Brown v. Joiner, 77 Ga. 232, 3 S. E. 157; Forbes v. Anderson, 54 Ga. 93; Mackie v. Glendenning, 49 Ga. 367.

An adult son who is executor may petition for the widow. Garrity's Estate, 108 Cal. 463, 38 Pac. 628, 41 Pac. 485.

A new application may be made by the administrator without waiting for the entry of insane;[55] and on behalf of minors by a guardian[56] or next friend.[57] All persons interested should be made parties, such as the administrator[58] and minor[59] or adult children.[60]

5. Pleading. In some states the widow's application need not be in writing;[61] and even where a written petition is required its allegations need not be precise, but informalities and omissions are treated with leniency.[62]

6. Objections and Exceptions. Objections and exceptions to the allowance should be clear and specific, as well as seasonably made.[63]

7. Evidence. It is incumbent upon the petitioner to show all facts necessary to a recovery, under the statute,[64] as that she was the decedent's lawful wife at the time of his death,[65] that the allowance is necessary,[66] or that the children have no other resources.[67] But the burden is upon the one asserting it to show the fact of divorce[68] or the non-residence of the decedent.[69]

8. Trial. An application for an allowance is wholly within the discretion of the court,[70] in the determination or enforcing of which it may exercise summary powers,[71] as by allowing an amendment of the petition,[72] by granting a stay of proceedings,[73] or by trying issues out of regular order.[74]

9. Judgment or Order — a. In General. The granting of the widow's allowance or exemption should be made by a proper judgment or order,[75] which should a remittitur where an order vacating a judgment setting apart a widow's allowance is affirmed by the supreme court, the widow having died before the commissioners had acted. Brown v. Joiner, 80 Ga. 486, 5 S. E. 497.

55. Garrett's Estate, 14 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 310.

56. Edwards v. McGee, 27 Miss. 92; Eddy's Estate, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 17.

57. Butts v. Pugh, 54 Ga. 465.

58. McElmurray v. Loomis, 31 Fed. 395.

59. Woolley v. Sullivan, 92 Tex. 28, 45 S. W. 377, 46 S. W. 629.

60. Schmitt v. Kahrs, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 114.

61. Cummings v. Cummings, 51 Mo. 261. Contra, Fischesser v. Thompson, 45 Ga. 459.

62. Jordan v. Strickland, 42 Ala. 315; Freeman v. Washtenaw, 79 Mich. 390, 44 N. W. 856. But see Luther's Estate, 67 Cal. 319, 7 Pac. 708.

A petition stating the sum necessary for support of herself and children was not fraudulent, although the widow had means of her own when the petition was made, since the allegations as to the amount required for support did not amount to a statement that she had no resources of her own. Busby v. Busby, 120 Iowa 536, 95 N. W. 191.

A petition in the nature of a bill in equity for a new trial, asking that a judgment of foreclosure be set aside, and also asking the court to fix and pay an allowance out of certain property, is sufficient as to the prayer for allowance. Woolley v. Sullivan, 92 Tex. 28, 45 S. W. 377, 46 S. W. 629.

63. Kelly v. Garrett, 67 Ala. 304; Jackson v. Warthen, 110 Ga. 812, 36 S. E. 234; Laslie v. Laslie, 87 Ga. 477, 13 S. E. 596; Parks v. Johnson, 79 Ga. 567, 5 S. E. 243; Bray's Estate, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 54; Storey's Estate, 16 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 571.

64. Wilson v. Allen, 108 Ga. 275, 33 S. E. 975.

65. Wilson v. Allen, 108 Ga. 275, 33 S. E. 975; King's Estate, 9 Kulp (Pa.) 56; Guyger's Estate, 8 Pa. Co. Ct. 308.

A slight preponderance of evidence in her favor is sufficient. Guyger's Estate, 8 Pa. Co. Ct. 308.

66. Caldwell v. Caldwell, 54 Iowa 456, 6 N. W. 714.

67. Caldwell v. Caldwell, 54 Iowa 456, 6 N. W. 714; Stewin v. Thrift, 30 Wash. 36, 70 Pac. 116.

68. In re Edwards, 58 Iowa 431, 10 N. W. 793.

69. O'Neill's Estate, 11 Pa. Co. Ct. 491.

Where the decedent's will recited that he was a non-resident the burden was on the widow to show that he was a resident. Shannon v. White, 109 Mass. 146.

70. Kersey v. Bailey, 52 Me. 198; Whaley v. Whaley, 50 Mo. 577 (holding that it should not be submitted to the jury); Sawyer v. Sawyer, 28 Vt. 249 (holding also that it cannot refuse an allowance altogether on the ground of the widow's ample means).

71. Smith v. Smith, 12 R. I. 456, holding that an examination and decision of claims against a husband's estate may be made by the court to enable it to decide whether the realty prayed for by the widow will probably be needed to pay his debts.

A new trial is not authorized where, on a widow's petition, written objections were filed and after a hearing the allowance was granted. Leach v. Pierce, 93 Cal. 614, 29 Pac. 235.

72. Hudson v. Stewart, 48 Ala. 204.

73. O'Neill's Estate, 11 Pa. Co. Ct. 491.

74. Leaverton v. Leaverton, 40 Tex. 218, holding that a motion filed to compel an administrator to pay over the widow's allowance may be called for disposal before it is regularly reached on the docket.

75. Dickinson v. Henderson, 122 Mich. 583, 81 N. W. 583, holding that a memorandum of the amount allowed the widow for her support, entered by the probate judge on his docket, does not constitute such an order.

recite notice to the personal representative,[76] and afford relief by an appropriation of assets in the hands of the executor or administrator rather than by a judgment against him personally.[77] A judgment in the alternative is improper,[78] but mere informalities or immaterial omissions in the judgment do not usually affect its validity.[79]

b. Nunc Pro Tunc Order. An order nunc pro tunc may be made covering the same items included in the original order upon objection thereto and due notice given of a subsequent hearing.[80]

c. Operation and Effect. An order for an allowance during settlement covers the entire period required for settlement,[81] and continues in effect, although erroneous or improper, so long as it is not set aside.[82] Every presumption is in favor of the judgment or order and it cannot be attacked collaterally.[83]

10. Costs.[84] Costs are usually in the discretion of the court.[85]

11. Review. An appeal usually lies from the judgment or decree of the probate court giving or refusing an allowance to the widow out of the estate of her husband,[86] except where the issue is as to the amount of the allowance and the kind of property of which it shall consist,[87] or where the order is merely

76. Fischesser v. Thompson, 45 Ga. 459, holding that a judgment not reciting that the representatives of the estate have been notified is void as against a creditor who had no notice of the application therefor.

77. Whaley v. Whaley, 50 Mo. 577; Cupps' Estate, 14 York Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 16. See also Bower's Estate, 17 Pa. Super. Ct. 59.

78. Cash v. Cash, 67 Ark. 278, 54 S. W. 744.

79. Baker v. Baker, 51 Wis. 538, 8 N. W. 289, holding that the fact that it is not signed by judge or entered of record does not affect its validity.

The judgment or order need not contain a finding of the necessity for the allowance (Haven's Appeal, 69 Conn. 684, 38 Atl. 795), that property exempt from execution and already set apart is insufficient (In re Welch, 106 Cal. 427, 39 Pac. 805), or that the value of exempt property set apart is not in excess of the statutory limit (In re Slade, 122 Cal. 434, 55 Pac. 158).

80. In re Murphy, 30 Wash. 9, 70 Pac. 109.

81. Haven's Appeal, 69 Conn. 684, 38 Atl. 795 (holding this to be true notwithstanding a previous order limiting twelve months for the settlement of the estate); Marskey v. Lawrence, 121 Mich. 577, 80 N. W. 571.

An order making a temporary allowance before the return of the inventory of the estate by the executors ceases to be operative upon such return notwithstanding it contains the words "until further order of this court." In re Bell, 142 Cal. 97, 75 Pac. 679; Crew v. Pratt, 119 Cal. 131, 51 Pac. 44; In re Lux, 100 Cal. 593, 35 Pac. 341.

82. Downs v. Downs, 17 Ind. 95; Mathes v. Bennett, 21 N. H. 188; Richardson v. Merrill, 32 Vt. 27.

83. California.— Crew v. Pratt, 119 Cal. 131, 51 Pac. 44.

Georgia.— Groover v. Brown, 118 Ga. 491, 45 S. E. 310; Fulghum v. Fulghum, 111 Ga. 635, 36 S. E. 602; Goss v. Greenaway, 70 Ga. 130; Tabb v. Collier, 68 Ga. 641.

Pennsylvania.— Carr's Estate, 15 Pa. Co. Ct. 354; Greenawalt's Estate, 16 Pa. Super. Ct. 263.

Texas.— Leaverton v. Leaverton, 40 Tex. 218; Lockhart v. White, 18 Tex. 102.

Vermont.—Richardson v. Merrill, 32 Vt. 27.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 721.

84. See, generally, Costs, 11 Cyc. 1.

85. See Tarbox v. Fisher, 50 Me. 236 (costs allowed out of estate where widow died after filing a petition); Kingman v. Kingman, 31 N. H. 182 (neither party allowed costs of appeal).

Decree may be amended so as to include costs. Simpson's Appeal, 1 Mona. (Pa.) 202.

86. Alabama.— Chandler v. Chandler, 87 Ala. 300, 6 So. 153.

California.— Pennie v. San Francisco Super. Ct., 89 Cal. 31, 26 Pac. 617. See also Stevens' Estate, 83 Cal. 322, 23 Pac. 379, 17 Am. St. Rep. 252.

Illinois.— Lane v. Thorn, 103 Ill. App. 215.

Kansas.— Swayze v. Wade, 25 Kan. 551.

Louisiana.— Easum's Succession, 49 La. Ann. 1345, 22 So. 364.

Maine.— In re Cooper, 19 Me. 260.

Massachusetts.— Chase v. Webster, 168 Mass. 228, 46 N. E. 705; Wright v. Wright, 13 Allen 207; Washburn v. Washburn, 10 Pick. 374.

Michigan.—People v. Cass County, 35 Mich. 220.

Missouri.— Coulter v. Lyda, 102 Mo. App. 401, 76 S. W. 720.

New Hampshire.— Woodbury's Appeal, 57 N. H. 483; Piper v. Piper, 34 N. H. 563.

Vermont.— The discretion of the probate court is subject to reëxamination on appeal by the county court but cannot be revised by the supreme court. Leach v. Leach, 51 Vt. 440; Frost v. Frost, 40 Vt. 625; Phelps v. Phelps, 16 Vt. 73.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 723.

Objection not raised in probate court cannot be considered on appeal. Johnston v. Davenport, 42 Ala. 317.

87. Dunn v. Kelley, 69 Me. 145; Litchfield v. Cudworth, 15 Pick. (Mass.) 23; Bordwell interlocutory.[88] An appeal when allowed may be taken by any party aggrieved by the decree below,[89] such as the personal representative,[90] a creditor,[91] or a distributee.[92] The discretion of the probate judge will not be disturbed on appeal unless he has abused it,[93] has been guilty of manifest error,[94] or has exceeded his jurisdiction.[95]

L. Effect of Allowance — 1. In General. Property of a decedent, which is directed by statute to be set apart to a widow, vests in her at once by operation of law on the death of her husband.[96] The setting apart of property to her by way of such allowance vests in her or in her and her children a complete title under most codes,[97] and payment or delivery of the allowance or exemption should be made directly to the widow to be held in trust for the maintenance of herself and minor children.[98]

2. Right of Disposal. This title usually gives the widow the right to mortgage or dispose of the property and appropriate the proceeds for the support of herself and children in any manner[99] that does not deprive the children of the benefit thereof.[1]

3. Lien. An allowance awarded to a widow out of her husband's estate but

v. Saginaw Cir. Judge, 119 Mich. 421, 78 N. W. 468, holding that an appeal as to such issue would not lie at the instance of the heirs, although there was a dispute as to whether the person claiming the allowance was the widow or not.

88. Bond v. Marx, 53 Ala. 177; Catterson's Appeal, 100 Pa. St. 9.

89. In re Levy, 141 Cal. 646, 75 Pac. 301, 99 Am. St. Rep. 92.

90. In re Levy, 141 Cal. 646, 75 Pac. 301, 99 Am. St. Rep. 92; In re Carriger, (Cal. 1895) 41 Pac. 700; In re Welch, 106 Cal. 427, 39 Pac. 805; Lane v. Thorn, 103 Ill. App. 215; Saunders v. Russell, 60 N. C. 97; In re Cannon, 18 Wash. 101, 50 Pac. 1021.

91. Woodbury's Appeal, 57 N. H. 483.

92. In re Levy, 141 Cal. 646, 75 Pac. 301, 99 Am. St. Rep. 92; Perry v. Perry, 4 N. C. 617.

93. In re Lux, 100 Cal. 593, 35 Pac. 341; Power's Estate, 92 Mich. 106, 52 N. W. 298; Freeman v. Washtenaw, 79 Mich. 390, 44 N. W. 856.

94. Chase v. Webster, 168 Mass. 228, 46 N. E. 705.

95. Bliss v. Sheldon, 7 Barb. (N. Y.) 152.

96. Brown v. Joiner, 77 Ga. 232, 3 S. E. 157; Kellogg v. Graves, 5 Ind. 509; Mallory v. Mallory, 92 Ky. 316, 17 S. W. 737, 13 Ky. L. Rep. 579; Singleton v. McQuerry, 8 Ky. L. Rep. 782.

97. Alabama.— Mitcham v. Moore, 73 Ala. 542; Brooks v. Martin, 43 Ala. 360, 94 Am. Dec. 686.

California.— McGuire v. Lynch, 126 Cal. 576, 59 Pac. 27, holding that the children take an undivided one half.

Georgia.—Anderson v. Walker, 114 Ga. 505, 40 S. E. 705 (holding that where the land is set apart to the widow only the children take no beneficial interest therein); Stringfellow v. Stringfellow, 112 Ga. 494, 37 S. E. 767; Miller v. Miller, 105 Ga. 305, 31 S. E. 186; Doyle v. Martin, 61 Ga. 410.

Illinois.— York v. York, 38 Ill. 522; Kellogg v. Holly, 29 Ill. 437.

Kentucky.—Harris v. Adams, 78 S. W. 1492, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1492, holding that where there is a widow the setting apart is to her alone, and vests in her complete title.

Minnesota.—Benjamin v. Laroche, 39 Minn. 334, 40 N. W. 156.

Missouri.—Cummings v. Cummings, 51 Mo. 261; Bryant v. McCune, 49 Mo. 546.

Pennsylvania.— Runyan's Appeal, 27 Pa. St. 121; Daggett's Estate, 7 Pa. Co. Ct. 338.

Texas.— Woolley v. Sullivan, 92 Tex. 28, 45 S. W. 377, 46 S. W. 629.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 724.

Contra.— Meyer v. Meyer, 23 Iowa 359, 92 Am. Dec. 432; Wilmington v. Sutton, 6 Iowa 44.

Money payable to the widow under an order of the court belongs to her estate, although payment was stayed by an appeal from the order, which was not affirmed until after her death. In re Lux, 114 Cal. 73, 45 Pac. 1023.

98. Lanford v. Lee, 119 Ala. 248, 24 So. 578, 72 Am. St. Rep. 914; Nevin's Appeal, 47 Pa. St. 230; Henkel's Estate, 13 Pa. Super. Ct. 337.

99. Bardwell v. Edwards, 117 Ga. 824, 45 S. E. 40; Allen v. Lindsey, 113 Ga. 521, 38 S. E. 975; Stringfellow v. Stringfellow, 112 Ga. 494, 37 S. E. 767; Swain v. Stewart, 98 Ga. 366, 25 S. E. 831 (holding that the widow could dispose of land, included in her allowance, to pay a fine in order to obtain her release from imprisonment and to obtain supplies for herself and child); Whitt v. Ketchum, 84 Ga. 128, 10 S. E. 503; Cox v. Cody, 75 Ga. 175; Steed v. Cruise, 70 Ga. 168; Cleghorn v. Johnson, 69 Ga. 369; Burgett v. Clarke, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 518; Sipes v. Mann, 39 Pa. St. 414. Contra, Meyer v. Meyer, 23 Iowa 359, 92 Am. Dec. 432; Gaskell v. Case, 18 Iowa 147; Schaffner v. Grutzmacher, 6 Iowa 137; Wilmington v. Sutton, 6 Iowa 44; Rands v. Brain, 5 Utah 197, 14 Pac. 129, 5 Utah 272, 15 Pac. 1.

1. Hill v. Van Duzer, 111 Ga. 867, 36 S. E. 966 (holding that the widow cannot apply the proceeds of such property to the payment for which no property has been assigned constitutes a lien to be enforced like other liens.[2]

M. Increase or Further Allowance. Allowance for a limited period is allowed under some codes with a further discretionary allowance during the progress of administration upon the petition of the widow, or children, if she be dead, if the estate be solvent, and the former allowance insufficient.[3] So also a further allowance may sometimes be made where new assets have come to the estate.[4] Such increase or further allowance should be granted at a just discretion and with due regard to the rights of others who may be interested in the estate.[5]

N. Decrease or Revocation of Allowance. Upon an application within a reasonable time an order of the court may be made modifying or revoking a former order of allowance,[6] but such an order cannot be made retroactive in its effect or require the widow to account for any portion of what she may already of her individual debts); Vandigrift v. Cox, 72 Ga. 665 (holding that where the widow has remarried she cannot sell the land and buy other land taking title in herself and her second husband); Nanny v. Allen, 77 Tex. 240, 13 S. W. 989. But see In re Maier, 1 Leg. Gaz. (Pa.) 455, 2 Luz. Leg. Obs. (Pa.) 65.

2. Josey v. Gordon, 107 Ga. 108, 32 S. E. 951; Reilly v. Reilly, (Ill. 1891) 26 N. E. 604 (also holding that such award does not cease to be a lien because the widow, who is also administratrix, has received more than the amount of the award from the rent of the homestead, and in settling up a claim for causing decedent's death); Scott v. Greathouse, 71 Ind. 581 (statutory lien upon deceased husband's real estate for the amount of the personal estate she is allowed to take at its appraised value).

An independent intervention cannot be filed by a minor son for the purpose of securing the payment of a judgment for a year's support unless the widow has failed or neglected to intervene or is in collusion with other creditors. Ferris v. Van Ingen, 110 Ga. 102, 28 S. E. 347.

3. California.— In re Lux, 100 Cal. 593, 35 Pac. 341; Matter of Roberts, 67 Cal. 349, 7 Pac. 733.

Georgia.— Birt v. Brown, 106 Ga. 23, 31 S. E. 755; Woodbridge v. Woodbridge, 70 Ga. 733.

Maine.— Davis v. Gower, 85 Me. 167, 26 Atl. 1048.

Massachusetts.— Hale v. Hale, 1 Gray 518.

Michigan.—Pulling v. Durfee, 88 Mich. 387, 50 N. W. 319.

Nebraska.— In re James, (1903) 97 N. W. 22.

New Hampshire.— Cummings v. Allen, 34 N. H. 194.

Ohio.— Moore v. Moore, 46 Ohio St. 89, 18 N. E. 489; Sherman v. Sherman, 21 Ohio St. 631.

Washington.—Griesemer v. Boyer, 13 Wash. 171, 43 Pac. 17.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 725.

Interested person.— One having a valid claim against the widow's estate for taking care of her in her last sickness is an "interested person" who may make such petition under the Ohio statute. Sherman v. Sherman, 21 Ohio St. 631.

4. Paine v. Forsaith, 84 Me. 66, 24 Atl. 590.

5. Maine.— Davis v. Gower, 85 Me. 167, 26 Atl. 1048.

Massachusetts.—Porter v. Porter, 165 Mass. 157, 42 N. E. 565; Hale v. Hale, 1 Gray 518.

Michigan.—Pulling v. Durfee, 88 Mich. 387, 50 N. W. 319.

New Hampshire.— Cummings v. Allen, 34 N. H. 194.

Ohio.— Moore v. Moore, 46 Ohio St. 89, 18 N. E. 489.

Pennsylvania.— Davis' Appeal, 34 Pa. St. 256.

Texas.— Marks v. Hill, 46 Tex. 345; Little v. Birdwell, 27 Tex. 688.

Washington.—Griesemer v. Boyer, 13 Wash. 171, 43 Pac. 17.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 725.

It is no ground for denying such further allowance that the widow had abundant means of her own (In re Lux, 100 Cal. 593, 35 Pac. 341; Griesemer v. Boyer, 13 Wash. 171, 43 Pac. 17), or that she and the children left the state on the decedent's death and continued to reside outside thereof (Griesemer v. Boyer, 13 Wash. 171, 43 Pac. 17).

An appeal lies from a modifying order making an allowance to a widow and intended to supersede the previous order similar in character containing different provisions. In re Cannon, 18 Wash. 101, 50 Pac. 1021.

After the probate court has overruled an application for a further allowance, unless its action is vacated by appeal of other proceeding, it cannot review and increase the allowance. Moore v. Moore, 46 Ohio St. 89, 18 N. E. 489.

6. Busby v. Busby, 120 Iowa 536, 95 N. W. 191 (holding, however, that where an executor does not make application to set aside such order until two years later his application cannot be maintained even though the widow was guilty of fraud in applying for the allowance); McDonald v. Hollywood, 130 Mich. 691, 90 N. W. 666.

have expended.[7] Where, upon showing a change in the condition of the estate or her own circumstances, a reasonable reduction or stoppage appears justified, all further property will fall into the general personal estate of the deceased as assets.[8] An executor or administrator is charged with knowledge of the power of the court to modify or set aside orders for allowances and pays out money without or on such orders at his own risk.[9]

O. Rights of Creditors — 1. In General. An allowance by order of the court for the widow and children is not subject to the demands of the decedent's creditors, either in the widow's own hands[10] or in the hands of her assignee.[11] But a creditor may have such judgment or order vacated for good cause shown, as for fraud or mistake.[12] Where the widow selects and claims or disposes of property to which she is not entitled as against the decedent's creditors their rights will be judicially protected.[13]

2. Laches. Creditors will be denied relief, even where the allowances are extravagant or otherwise improper, where they are guilty of laches in applying for such relief,[14] as where they fail to object thereto until after final settlement of the executor's accounts including such payments,[15] or where they do not appeal from the order granting the allowance or ask that it be set aside.[16]

P. Rights of Heirs, Distributees, or Legatees. The allowance is good as against the distributees, heirs, or legatees of the decedent, unless strong reasons are shown for setting it aside.[17]

X. Allowance and Payment of Claims.

A. Liabilities of Estate — 1. Obligations of Decedent in General. So far as assets may have reached his hands in due course every executor or administrator is bound to administer the estate committed to him according to law, by paying the debts, claims, and charges upon it, in their legal order of preference, before settling legacies or gifts or making any distribution to the heirs.[18] This duty is enjoined upon him by law, by his oath and bond, and by a sound public policy, which treats each decedent's estate, except for the widow's or children's allowance,[19] as a fund, subject to all lawful debts of and demands against him, and to all reasonable charges consequent upon his death. Obligations incurred by the decedent during his lifetime may in general be presented in the modes pointed out by local statute, against his executor or administrator and be duly enforced against the estate;[20] but in order for a claim to be allowed, it must appear that

7. Harshman v. Slonaker, 53 Iowa 467, 5 N. W. 685; Pettee v. Wilmarth, 5 Allen (Mass.) 144; Frey v. Eisenhardt, 116 Mich. 160, 74 N. W. 501 (holding that funds paid out of a solvent estate by order of court to the widow and minor children for their support during its settlement need not be repaid because the estate has become insolvent); Ford v. Ford, 80 Wis. 565, 50 N. W. 409.

8. Dessaint v. Foster, 72 Iowa 639, 34 N. W. 454; Paup v. Sylvester, 22 Iowa 371; Gaskell v. Case, 18 Iowa 147; Baker v. Baker, 51 Wis. 538, 8 N. W. 289.

9. In re Lux, 100 Cal. 606, 35 Pac. 345 (holding that, where an executor without an order of court pays the widow a family allowance in excess of what the court afterward allows, he is liable for interest on the excess at the legal rate compounded annually); Clemes v. Fox, 25 Colo. 39, 53 Pac. 225.

10. Leaverton v. Leaverton, 40 Tex. 218; Boyden v. Ward, 38 Vt. 628. And see Marshall v. Charland, 106 Ga. 42, 31 S. E. 791.

A minor child's attaining majority before the exemptions are selected or set apart does not entitle a creditor of the estate to that child's proportionate share of the exemption, but the entire amount will go to the other children. Wiggins v. Mertins, 111 Ala. 164, 20 So. 356.

11. See Schmidt v. Wieland, 35 Cal. 343.

12. Clemes v. Fox, 25 Colo. 39, 53 Pac. 225; Central Nat. Bank v. Fitzgerald, 94 Fed. 16.

13. Bell v. Hall, 76 Ala. 546.

14. Central Nat. Bank v. Fitzgerald, 94 Fed. 16.

15. In re Bell, 142 Cal. 97, 75 Pac. 679.

16. Thompson v. Staacke, 131 Cal. 1, 63 Pac. 81, 668; In re Fernandez, 119 Cal. 579, 51 Pac. 851.

17. Miller v. Defoor, 50 Ga. 566; Grafton v. Smith, 66 Miss. 408, 6 So. 209; Stonebreaker v. Friar, 70 Tex. 202, 7 S. W. 799; Greenawalt's Estate, 16 Pa. Super. Ct. 263.

18. See infra, XI, B.

19. See supra, IX.

20. Alabama.—Dean v. Portis, 11 Ala. 104.

there is an actual indebtedness or a just claim for compensation[21] against the decedent or his estate,[22] and it is only the legal, and not the merely moral, obliga-

Connecticut.— Kingsbury v. Tolland, 2 Root 355.

Georgia.— McIntosh v. Humbleton, 35 Ga. 94, 89 Am. Dec. 276.

Louisiana.— Union Bank v. McDonogh, 7 La. Ann. 231.

Maine.— Hamlin v. Mansfield, 88 Me. 131, 33 Atl. 788.

New York.— Riblet v. Wallis, 1 Daly 360.

Pennsylvania.— McNair's Appeal, 4 Rawle 148.

England.— Lee v. Muggeridge, 5 Taunt. 36, 1 E. C. L. 32.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 730.

An order on trustees who hold a fund for the decedent, although inoperative as such, may be evidence of indebtedness as against his individual estate on which the allowance of a claim may be based. Newton's Appeal, 5 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 521.

21. Connecticut.— Merwin's Appeal, 72 Conn. 167, 43 Atl. 1055.

Indiana.— Fuller v. Fuller, 21 Ind. App. 42, 51 N. E. 373.

Iowa.— See McCormick v. Hanks, 105 Iowa 639, 75 N. W. 494.

Kentucky.— See Hale v. Howard, 38 S. W. 1085, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 1041.

Nebraska.— Brown v. Jacobs, 24 Nebr. 712, 40 N. W. 137, holding that where upon the removal of an administrator his sole bondsman is appointed administrator de bonis non, and by order of court charges himself in his account with the penalty of the bond, such penalty cannot upon his death be presented as a claim against his estate.

New York.— Matter of Warner, 53 N. Y. App. Div. 565, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 1022.

Oregon.— Muldrick v. Galbraith, 31 Oreg. 86, 49 Pac. 886; Weill v. Clark, 9 Oreg. 387.

Pennsylvania.— Kline's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 386; Gilman's Estate, 9 Pa. Co. Ct. 111.

Vermont.— Potter v. Potter, 64 Vt. 298, 23 Atl. 856.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 730.

Liquidated demands.— A claim acknowledged by the debtor to be correct, and so entered on his books, which were referred to on the day preceding his death as correctly stating the amount to his expected administrator, has been held to be a "liquidated demand," within the Georgia statute, upon the creditor's limiting his claim against the estate to that amount. McNulty v. Pruden, 62 Ga. 135. Under the Georgia statute making one-half the fee of an attorney a retainer and payable immediately, such half is a "liquidated demand" against the estate of a client who died before the services were rendered under a parol agreement of counsel to defend certain indictments at a gross sum. McNulty v. Pruden, 62 Ga. 135.

22. Arkansas.— Bender v. Wooten, 35 Ark. 31, holding that where a debt due one merchant was included in a mortgage taken by another from a joint customer, and the mortgage was not paid before the death of the mortgagee, the surviving merchant's debt could not be proved against the decedent's estate.

Colorado.— Pastorius v. Davis, 9 Colo. App. 426, 48 Pac. 833 (holding that an unliquidated claim for breach of a covenant of warranty committed by an heir of the covenantor cannot be filed and allowed as a claim against the estate of the ancestor); Hulbert v. Walley, 3 Colo. App. 250, 32 Pac. 985.

Kansas.— Hayner v. Trott, 4 Kan. App. 679, 46 Pac. 37.

Massachusetts.— Johnson v. Kimball, 172 Mass. 398, 52 N. E. 386, holding that to recover against the estate of a decedent for funeral expenses of his wife or for her care and nursing, it must be shown that they were incurred on the credit of the decedent, or with the intent to collect them from his estate, or that he promised to pay them.

Mississippi.— Smith v. Jeffreys, (1894) 16 So. 377.

Missouri.— Wernecke v. Kenyon, 66 Mo. 275, holding that sureties of an administrator, who have been compelled to pay a debt against the estate, and have obtained against the administrator a judgment for the amount of such debt and the costs of the suit, are not entitled to have such judgment allowed by the probate court as a claim against the estate.

North Carolina.—Baker v. Dawson, 131 N. C. 227, 42 S. E. 588; Lindsay v. Darden, 124 N. C. 307, 32 S. E. 678, holding that an attorney's claim against the administrator on his personal contract for assisting him in his duties cannot be enforced against the estate.

Oregon.— Weill v. Clark, 9 Oreg. 387.

Pennsylvania.— Hauck v. Stauffer, 31 Pa. St. 235, holding that an executor who, under a power in the will of his testator, enters into a contract to lease the real estate for a term of years, and dies without having executed the lease or given possession of the premises, does not render his own estate liable for the breach of such contract, and no action therefor can be maintained against his representatives.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 730.

Debts contracted by the widow or heirs of the decedent are not properly and immediately debts of the estate. Harkins v. Hughes, 60 Ala. 316; Hulbert v. Walley, 3 Colo. App. 250, 32 Pac. 985; Normand v. Barbin, 18 La. Ann. 611; Potter v. Potter, 64 Vt. 298, 23 Atl. 856.

The occupancy of a dwelling-house by a widow after the death of her husband does not render his estate liable for the rent of such house. Carter v. Tippins, 113 Ga. 636, 38 S. E. 946.

tions of decedent which are thus upheld.[23] Where a creditor of the decedent holds pledge, mortgage, or other lien security on his own behalf, he has the option after his debtor's death to enforce such security for his own indemnity or to file his claim as a general creditor of the estate;[24] but where a decedent dies seized of land subject to a mortgage given by a prior owner, such mortgage is not a debt of the decedent which can be paid out of his personal estate in the absence of a contract by him assuming the mortgage debt.[25] Among general obligations of the

23. Connecticut.— Merwin's Appeal, 72 Conn. 167, 43 Atl. 1055.

Kentucky.— Lucking v. Gegg, 12 Bush 298.

Massachusetts.— Stone v. Gerrish, 1 Allen 175.

Missouri.— Greenabaum v. Elliott, 60 Mo. 25. See also Wheeler v. Ball, 26 Mo. App. 443.

New York.— Matter of Hamilton, 34 Misc. 607, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 426; Franklin v. Low, 1 Johns. 396.

Pennsylvania.— Phillips' Appeal, 34 Pa. St. 489; In re Dettermaier, 13 Pa. Super. Ct. 170; Sutch's Estate, 31 Pittsb. Leg. J. 123.

England.— Smith v. White, L. R. 1 Eq. 626, 35 L. J. Ch. 454, 14 L. T. Rep. N. S. 350, 14 Wkly. Rep. 510; Gough v. Findon, 7 Exch. 48, 21 L. J. Exch. 58; Beyer v. Adams, 3 Jur. N. S. 709, 26 L. J. Ch. 841, 5 Wkly. Rep. 795; Garth v. Earnshaw, 3 Y. & C. Exch. 584. See also Hatch v. Searles, 24 L. J. Ch. 22, 3 Wkly. Rep. 49 [affirming 2 Sm. & G. 147].

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 730.

Voluntary bonds and covenants are binding upon the estate at common law, although postponed in the order of payment to debts founded upon a valuable consideration. Stephens v. Harris, 41 N. C. 57; Jones v. Powell, 1 Eq. Cas. Abr. 84, 21 Eng. Reprint 896; Garrard v. Dinorben, 5 Hare 213, 10 Jur. 772, 15 L. J. Ch. 439, 26 Eng. Ch. 213; Clough v. Lambert, 3 Jur. 672, 10 Sim. 174, 16 Eng. Ch. 174; Dawson v. Kearton, 2 Jur. N. S. 113, 25 L. J. Ch. 166, 3 Sm. & G. 186, 4 Wkly. Rep. 222; Lomas v. Wright, 3 L. J. Ch. 68, 2 Myl. & K. 769, 7 Eng. Ch. 769, 39 Eng. Reprint 769; Lechmere v. Carlisle, 3 P. Wms. 211, 24 Eng. Reprint 1033; 2 Williams Ex. 217. See also Isenhart v. Brown, 2 Edw. (N. Y.) 341; Cox v. Barnard, 8 Hare 310, 32 Eng. Ch. 310. Compare Hervey v. Audland, 9 Jur. 419, 14 Sim. 531, 37 Eng. Ch. 531. As to the order of payment of debts see infra, X, D.

24. Arkansas.— See Lofland v. Cowger, 68 Ark. 274, 57 S. W. 797; Richardson v. Hickman, 32 Ark. 406; Barber v. Peay, 31 Ark. 392; Nicholls v. Gee, 30 Ark. 135; Hall v. Denckla, 28 Ark. 506.

California.— Mathew v. Mathew, 138 Cal. 334, 71 Pac. 344.

Iowa.— Black v. Black, 40 Iowa 88; Moores v. Ellsworth, 22 Iowa 299; Allen v. Moer, 16 Iowa 307.

Kansas.— Crooker v. Pearson, 41 Kan. 410, 21 Pac. 270.

Maryland.— See Ellicott v. Ellicott, 6 Gill & J. 35.

Missouri.— Cassatt v. Vogel, 14 Mo. App. 317.

Nebraska.— Appleget v. Greene, 12 Nebr. 304, 11 N. W. 322.

New York.— Wright v. Holbrook, 32 N. Y. 587 [affirming 2 Rob. 516, 18 Abb. Pr. 202]. See also Mills v. Mills, 50 N. Y. App. Div. 221, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 771 [modifying 28 Misc. 633, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 1048]; Thompson v. Sullivan, 60 How. Pr. 71.

Pennsylvania.— See Tubbs' Estate, 161 Pa. St. 252, 28 Atl. 1109.

Canada.— Chamberlen v. Clark, 1 Ont. 135 [affirmed in 9 Ont. App. 273].

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 730; and infra, X, B, 2, g; XIII, I, 4.

Money received from the sale of the security operates as part payment of the claim. Jamison v. Adler-Goldman Commission Co., 59 Ark. 548, 28 S. W. 35.

A decedent's undertaking to assume an encumbrance on land purchased by him creates a debt enforceable against his estate. Pate v. Oliver, 104 N. C. 458, 10 S. E. 709.

Allowance of attorney's fees.—A mortgagee may present his mortgage to an auditor of the orphans' court for allowance during the pendency of a scire facias sur mortgage in the court of common pleas, and the auditor may not only allow the amount of the mortgage debt, but also the attorney's commissions specified in the mortgage. Rowe's Estate, 22 Pa. Super. Ct. 597.

Surrender or exhaustion of lien.— A mortgage creditor of a decedent cannot prove his claim against the estate without either surrendering his mortgage lien, or exhausting it by sale and applying the proceeds thereof toward the debt. Macgill v. Hyatt, 80 Md. 253, 30 Atl. 710; Moore v. Dunn, 92 N. C. 63, holding that one holding a mortgage on land of an intestate may not insist that the mortgage shall be paid out of personalty, to the exoneration of the realty, but must first enforce his lien, looking to the personal estate only for any deficiency.

25. Creesy v. Willis, 159 Mass. 249, 34 N. E. 265; Matter of Mason, 1 Pars. Eq. Cas. (Pa.) 129; Baldwin's Estate, 1 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 315. See also Ryan v. Holliday, 110 Cal. 335, 42 Pac. 891; Andrews v. Bishop, 5 Allen (Mass.) 490.

Even though decedent covenanted with his vendor to pay the debt, it is not payable out of his personal estate. Creesy v. Willis, 159 Mass. 249, 34 N. E. 265; Matter of Mason, 1 Pars. Eq. Cas. (Pa.) 129. Compare Newcomer v. Wallace, 30 Ind. 216.

decedent recoverable against the estate are the expenses of his last illness,[26] claims arising out of the relation of husband and wife[27] or the severance of such relation,[28] a judicial sale which has been set aside,[29] the receipt of usury,[30] the liability of a life-tenant to the remainder-man,[31] the personal liability of a stock-holder in a corporation,[32] the execution of an appeal-bond,[33] decedent's contract for board and lodging[34] or to support another person[35] or to contribute money for the building of a church,[36] the failure of the consideration of a contract,[37] or a note or due-bill of the decedent.[38] A check drawn[39] or note made by a husband in favor of his wife which has not been presented or paid may be allowed against his estate.[40] Equitable waste by tenant for life is a breach of trust, and his assets after his death are answerable for the same.[41] A penalty incurred by decedent in a contract made while living, or damages as for careless or wrongful performance or for a breach may be allowed against the estate.[42] A parol promise to pay a debt

For exoneration of encumbered lands, descended or devised, see DESCENT AND DISTRIBUTION, 14 Cyc. 198 et seq.; and, generally, WILLS.

26. McNeely v. McNeely, 50 La. Ann. 823, 24 So. 338.

27. Connecticut.— Scutt's Appeal, 43 Conn. 108.

Delaware.— Burton v. Rodney, 5 Harr. 441.

Indiana.— Worth v. Patton, 5 Ind. App. 272, 31 N. E. 1130.

Louisiana.— McCloskey's Succession, 29 La. Ann. 237.

New York.— Dalrymple v. Arnold, 21 Hun 110.

North Carolina.— Steel v. Steel, 36 N. C. 452, arrears of income from separate property of wife.

Pennsylvania.— Shield's Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. 473.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 730.

28. Hassaurek v. Markbreit, 68 Ohio St. 554, 67 N. E. 1066, decree allowing divorced wife a share of husband's property.

29. Westerfield v. Williams, 59 Ind. 221.

30. Proctor v. Terrill, 8 B. Mon. (Ky.) 451.

31. Farris v. Stoutz, 78 Ala. 130.

32. See Cooper v. Ives, 62 Kan. 395, 63 Pac. 434. And see, generally, CORPORATIONS, 10 Cyc. 719, 720, 721.

33. Shepperd v. Tyler, 92 Cal. 552, 28 Pac. 601.

34. Nine's Estate, 2 Woodw. (Pa.) 403.

Recovery limited to agreed price.— Laird v. Laird, 127 Mich. 24, 86 N. W. 436.

35. Norris v. Archibald, 29 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 289.

36. Anderson v. Kilborn, 22 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 385.

37. Garber v. Armentrout, 32 Gratt. (Va.) 235.

38. Savory's Succession, 32 La. Ann. 506; Clinton's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 455, 24 Pa. Co. Ct. 218; Dawson v. Kearton, 2 Jur. N. S. 113, 25 L. J. Ch. 166, 3 Sm. & G. 186, 4 Wkly. Rep. 222.

A note given for the purchase-price of land is enforceable against the personal estate of the purchaser after his decease, like any other personal debt. Smith v. Goodrich, 167 Ill. 46, 47 N. E. 316 [reversing 67 Ill. App. 418].

39. Wilkinson's Estate, 192 Pa. St. 117, 43 Atl. 466.

40. Wilkinson's Estate, 192 Pa. St. 117, 43 Atl. 466. See also Martin v. Curd, 1 Bush (Ky.) 327, holding that the wife holding a note on her husband which was given to her by her father as her separate estate is entitled to the same rights and privileges, to the extent of such note, as his other creditors.

Presumption as to payment.— Where a note and a check drawn by a husband in favor of his wife some time before his death are in her possession at the time of his death, and are afterward presented by her executors as claims against his estate, the fact that he was at all times able to pay them raises no presumption that they were paid, nor does the fact that she was her husband's executrix raise any presumption that they had been paid, and that she took them from among his papers after his death. In re Wilkinson, 192 Pa. St. 117, 43 Atl. 466.

41. Ormonde v. Kynersley, 5 Madd. 369, 21 Rev. Rep. 313.

42. Wabash R. Co. v. Ordelheide, 88 Mo. App. 589; Price v. Haeberle, 25 Mo. App. 201; Atkins v. Kinnan, 20 Wend. (N. Y.) 241, 32 Am. Dec. 534; Troup v. Smith, 20 Johns. (N. Y.) 33; Dougherty v. Stephenson, 20 Pa. St. 210. But see Fowle v. Barnes, 99 Mich. 8, 58 N. W. 63.

Termination of contract on death of decedent.— Where an employee was hired by the month under a parol contract, such contract was terminated by the death of his employer, and the employee could not recover damages for breach of the contract resulting from his employer's death. Womrath's Estate, 23 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 434.

Breach by administrator.— Where decedent held lands as security for advancements to claimant, and they agreed that decedent should sell the lands or the timber therefrom to pay the debt and certain commissions, and that whatever land remained after such payments should be owned by decedent and claimant in common, a breach of the agreement by decedent's administrator did not give rise to a claim against the estate of which the probate court had jurisdiction, but is sufficient to warrant a judgment against the assets of a decedent.[43] A personal obligation to pay an annuity secured by a deed of trust in which, as well as in his last will, the obligor manifests an intention to make it an exclusive charge against his real estate, has been held to be notwithstanding a proper claim for allowance against the estate.[44] Where the claim against the decedent has been discharged, it cannot of course be allowed.[45]

2. Joint Obligations. At common law where one of two or more joint contractors or obligors dies, the survivor alone is held liable;[46] but equity will charge the estate where some good reason therefor is shown,[47] such as the insolvency of the survivor, in which case the estate may be charged for the whole debt,[48] and in a number of states the common-law rule has been changed by statute so as to permit the creditor or obligee to enforce his claim against the estate of the decedent.[49] Where the obligation is joint and several, the estate of a deceased obligor is liable the same as he would be if living.[50]

3. Services Rendered to Decedent — a. In General. A claim for services rendered to the decedent may be allowed against his estate, whether such services were rendered upon an express contract for a fixed payment, or merely as meritorious and needful, without any express contract, but with the expectation of reasonable compensation therefor;[51] but compensation cannot be allowed where such services were performed without any claim for payment during decedent's claimant's remedy was in equity for an accounting of the trust. Nester v. Ross, 98 Mich. 200, 57 N. W. 122.

43. Rann v. Hughes, 4 Bro. P. C. 27, 7 T. R. 350, 2 Eng. Reprint 18.

44. Doellner v. Schmieding, 16 Mo. App. 559.

45. Lear v. Friedlander, 45 Miss. 559.

Things done in satisfaction of debt.—Where the obligee in a bond requested the obligor to keep her children for the debt, and he did this until his death, when the bond was found among his private papers, it was held that the bond should not be treated as paid, but that the estate should be allowed a fair compensation for the maintenance of the children until the decedent's death, less the value of their services, and charged with the remainder, if any. Hughes v. Patterson, 91 Va. 664, 22 S. E. 485.

46. Gere v. Clark, 6 Hill (N. Y.) 350; Pecker v. Julius, 2 Browne (Pa.) 31; Richardson v. Horton, 6 Beav. 185, 12 L. J. Ch. 333, 49 Eng. Reprint 796; Other v. Iveson, 3 Drew. 177, 3 Eq. Rep. 562, 1 Jur. N. S. 568, 24 L. J. Ch. 654, 3 Wkly. Rep. 332. And see 9 Cyc. 653 note 24.

47. See 9 Cyc. 654 note 28.

Extent of charge.— Equity seeks to know whether the deceased was equally bound or not; and the disposition is to charge the estate with only one half at the utmost, unless it appears that the decedent was principal debtor or that the survivor is insolvent. Watkins v. Worthington, 2 Bland (Md.) 509; Brooks v. Dent, 1 Md. Ch. 523; Yorks v. Peck, 14 Barb. (N. Y.) 644.

When remedy against survivor barred by statute of limitations see Limitation of Actions.

48. Brown v. Benight, 3 Blackf. (Ind.) 39, 23 Am. Dec. 373; Richardson v. Draper, 87 N. Y. 337; Hauck v. Craighead, 67 N. Y. 432; Barnes v. Seligman, 55 Hun (N. Y.) 339, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 834; Bowman v. Kistler, 33 Pa. St. 106; Cowell v. Sikes, 2 Russ. 191, 26 Rev. Rep. 46, 3 Eng. Ch. 191, 38 Eng. Reprint 307.

Inability to procure satisfaction from survivor must be averred. Hauck v. Craighead, 67 N. Y. 432 [reversing 8 Hun 237].

49. Indiana.— Ralston v. Moore, 105 Ind. 243, 4 N. E. 673; Fiscus v. Robbins, 60 Ind. 100 (only one half against estate); Milam v. Milam, 60 Ind. 58.

Iowa.— Sellon v. Braden, 13 Iowa 365.

Massachusetts.— Foster v. Hooper, 2 Mass. 572.

Michigan.— Stewart v. Bruen, 39 Mich. 619.

New York.— Matter of Robinson, 40 N. Y. App. Div. 23, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 502.

Ohio.— Burgoyne v. Ohio L. Ins. Co., 5 Ohio St. 586.

Pennsylvania.— Bouman v. Kistler, 33 Pa. St. 106; Judd's Estate, 9 Kulp 326.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 731; and 9 Cyc. 653 note 25.

The creditor must exhaust his remedy against the survivor before proceeding against the estate for the full amount of the debt. Matter of Robinson, 40 N. Y. App. Div. 23, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 502. See also Voorhis v. Childs, 17 N. Y. 354; Hosack v. Rogers, 25 Wend. (N. Y.) 213; Hammond v. Hoffman, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 92. And it has been held that the estate of a deceased joint debtor is not liable where it is not shown that the surviving joint debtors are insolvent. Booth Bros., etc., Granite Co. v. Baird, 83 N. Y. App. Div. 495, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 432.

50. Hughes' Estate, 9 Kulp (Pa.) 333; Tippins v. Coates, 18 Beav. 401, 52 Eng. Reprint 158.

51. Illinois.— Harrison v. Lindley, 104 Ill. 245.

Louisiana.—Alexander's Succession, 110 La.

lifetime, or any expectation of being paid specifically therefor, and without any express or implied promise of remuneration, even though their performance may have been prompted by the hope of obtaining a gift or legacy, which has not been fulfilled.[52] Where, however, persons were induced to support a decedent for several years by her fraudulent pretense that she was destitute, the fact being 1027, 35 So. 273; Schmidt's Succession, 108 La. 293, 32 So. 413; Dauenhauer v. Browne, 47 La. Ann. 341, 16 So. 827.

Maryland.— Wallace v. Schaub, 81 Md. 594, 32 Atl. 324.

Michigan.— Gray v. Seeley, 133 Mich. 319, 94 N. W. 1061; Van Slambrook v. Little, 127 Mich. 61, 86 N. W. 402.

Missouri.—Hayden v. Parsons, 70 Mo. App. 493; McQueen v. Wilson, 51 Mo. App. 138.

New York.—In re Stringer, 15 N. Y. Suppl. 461.

Pennsylvania.— Wall's Appeal, 38 Pa. St. 464; Rouse v. Morris, 17 Serg. & R. 328; Metz's Appeal, 11 Serg. & R. 204. See also Harrar v. Edwards, 17 Lanc. L. Rev. 223.

Utah.— Reed v. Hume, 25 Utah 248, 70 Pac. 998.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 732.

Evidence must clearly establish contract either express or implied. In re Weaver, 182 Pa. St. 349, 38 Atl. 12.

Void contract with wife of decedent.— Although the nursing of a husband was performed under a contract with the wife void because of her inability to contract, his estate was liable for the services under an implied promise. Flannery v. Chidgey, (Tex. Civ. App. 1903) 77 S. W. 1034.

Medical services to decedent's children.— Where medical services rendered to a woman's children are recognized by her as constituting a liability against her, her husband and executor may after her death pay such bills out of her estate. Baker v. Baker, 87 Va. 180, 12 S. E. 346.

A physician's bill for attendance on a married woman has been held not chargeable against her estate, since such bill constitutes a personal debt of her husband. In re Very, 24 Misc. (N. Y.) 139, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 389, 28 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 163; Moulton v. Smith, 16 R. I. 126, 12 Atl. 891, 27 Am. St. Rep. 728.

The fact that board is not collected when due during the lifetime of the decedent does not prevent its collection after his death where it appears that he had promised to pay all he owed and that there was a good cause for the leniency shown in collecting. Patterson's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 259, 23 Pa. Co. Ct. 567.

Promise of payment a question for jury.— Hamilton v. Hamilton, 26 Ind. App. 114, 59 N. E. 344.

The mere rendition and acceptance of services is sufficient to raise an obligation on the part of a decedent to pay therefor in the absence of proof that they were not to be paid for. Wallace v. Schaud, 81 Md. 594, 32 Atl. 324.

The uncontradicted testimony of one witness as to the rendition and value of services rendered a decedent is sufficient to establish the same in an action against the estate. Berry v. Ballard, 3 Ky. L. Rep. 58.

52. Alabama.— Morrow v. Allison, 39 Ala. 70.

California.— Hanson's Estate, 133 Cal. 38, 65 Pac. 14.

Kentucky.— Finley v. Keinningham, 79 S. W. 236, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1955.

Louisiana.— See Benton's Succession, 106 La. 494, 31 So. 123, 59 L. R. A. 135.

Maryland.— Lee v. Lee, 6 Gill & J. 316.

Missouri.—Hayden v. Parsons, 70 Mo. App. 493.

New Jersey.— Egerton v. Egerton, 17 N. J. Eq. 419.

New York.— Weidman v. Thompson, 53 N. Y. App. Div. 22, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 481; Clark v. Todd, 16 N. Y. Suppl. 491.

Pennsylvania.— Normile v. Osborne, 207 Pa. St. 367, 56 Atl. 937; In re Weaver, 182 Pa. St. 349, 38 Atl. 12; Miller's Estate, 136 Pa. St. 239, 20 Atl. 796; Carman's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 16; Clark's Estate, 12 Phila. 147; Cousty's Estate, 12 Phila. 98; Abercrombie's Estate, 11 Phila. 21. See also Cridland's Estate, 8 Pa. Co. Ct. 6.

Rhode Island.—Slocum v. Wilbour, 24 R. I. 11, 51 Atl. 1050.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 732.

Failure to demand payment during the decedent's lifetime will not necessarily defeat a claim against his estate for meritorious and valuable services performed at his request (Gaines v. Del Campo, 30 La. Ann. 245; Bugh's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 276, 23 Pa. Co. Ct. 660), but where a claim for services or board is first made after the decease of the alleged debtor, the presumption obtains that payment was made or that it was not intended to demand payment (Kelly's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 685; Sayers' Estate, 8 Pa. Co. Ct. 32. See also McGeever's Estate, 9 Kulp (Pa.) 399; Conaughton's Estate, 2 Pa. Dist. 189, 12 Pa. Co. Ct. 590), and evidence to establish a claim for services against a decedent's estate not made during his lifetime must be other than mere loose declarations, and must clearly and distinctly establish a contract between claimant and decedent (In re Weaver, 182 Pa. St. 349, 38 Atl. 12).

Statement of claimant that services gratuitous.— Where a claim for services for nursing is filed against a decedent's estate, the claimant's declaration to a third person that she was serving the decedent solely from the love she bore to him will bar her claim, when made in reply to the repeated proposals of the decedent's brother to furnish a nurse, and otherwise, they were entitled to be compensated out of her estate.[53] It must of course be shown that services have been actually rendered,[54] and that the decedent consented to or contracted for the performance thereof.[55] Where services are rendered in consideration of a promise to compensate for the same by a conveyance of lands, and the promisor dies without making the conveyance, the value of the services may be recovered in an action against his personal representatives.[56] Where services have been fully paid for in the lifetime of the decedent, there cannot of course be any further recovery on that account against the estate,[57] and where the claimant has received a stated sum periodically for wages or salary, in payment of board or otherwise, the presumption is against a larger allowance, unless decedent is shown to have agreed accordingly.[58] A when no proof is given of the value or duration of the services. Engle's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 743.

Agreement to compensate by will see infra, X, A, 3, d.

53. Eggers v. Anderson, 63 N. J. Eq. 264, 49 Atl. 578, 55 L. R. A. 570 [reversing 61 N. J. Eq. 85, 47 Atl. 727].

54. Miller's Estate, 136 Pa. St. 239, 20 Atl. 796. See also Alexander's Succession, 110 La. 1027, 35 So. 273; Johnston's Estate, 12 York Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 181.

Evidence sufficient to show rendition of services see Kellogg v. Ogden, 27 N. Y. App. Div. 214, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 650.

55. Johnson v. Kimball, 172 Mass. 398, 52 N. E. 386 (consent or ratification); McGrath v. Alger, 43 N. Y. App. Div. 496, 60 N. Y. Suppl. 122; Marggraf v. McLean, 31 Misc. (N. Y.) 820, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 1112.

Evidence sufficient to show contract or obligation to pay see Wallace v. Schaub, 81 Md. 594, 32 Atl. 324; and infra, X, C, 3, f, (III), (B).

Evidence not showing contract or obligation to pay see Carpenter v. Hays, 153 Pa. St. 432, 25 Atl. 1127; and infra, X, C, 3, f, (III), (B).

Express request not necessary.— Services may have been rendered to a decedent under such circumstances that proof of their rendition will be sufficient to charge his estate therefor, without proof of an expressed request for such services. Todd v. Martin, (Cal. 1894) 37 Pac. 872.

A mere bequest of money is not evidence of a contract or debt against the testator, nor, although expressed to be for a particular service, should it be regarded as evidence of a debt or previous contract to pay the money therefor. Montgomery v. Miller, 4 B. Mon. (Ky.) 470.

Agreement with third person.— One who cared for a decedent during her life under an agreement with a third person has no claim for his services against the estate. Montgomery v. Clark, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1898) 46 S. W. 466. See also Merwin's Appeal, 72 Conn. 167, 43 Atl. 1055, an express contract with the conservator of an insane person. But compare Flannery v. Chidgey, (Tex. Civ. App. 1903) 77 S. W. 1034.

56. Ritchie v. Bennett, 35 N. Y. App. Div. 68, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 379, holding further that a recovery therefor may be had without demanding a conveyance from the heirs.

57. See Watson's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 341, holding that where a contract for services alleged to have been entered into between the decedent and the claimant had apparently been abandoned, and the claimant had accepted without demur, during the lifetime of decedent, a less sum, the claimant could not be allowed to recover against the estate for services at a certain rate fixed by herself.

Donation during lifetime.— Where a physician, the relative of an aged and infirm lady, rendered her professional services extending through several years, without contract with her, but being told she would compensate him, and shortly before her death she gave into his hands five thousand dollars in cash, which he claimed was a donation to his wife, but which passed under his administration and control, it was held that said donation was the remuneration referred to, and that he was not entitled to recover on a large claim for professional services made first after her death. Littell's Estate, 50 La. Ann. 299, 23 So. 314.

Claimant must show non-payment. Harrar v. Edwards, 17 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 223.

58. Stanberry v. Robinson, 27 S. W. 973, 16 Ky. L. Rep. 309; Turnell's Succession, 34 La. Ann. 888; Stadermann v. Heins, 78 N. Y. App. Div. 563, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 674 (holding that an instrument signed merely by deceased reciting "I, . . . being of sound mind, desire that Mrs. Susanna Stadermann, for her sacrifices day and night and diligent nursing for me, to receive two hundred and fifty dollars," while prima facie an evidence of indebtedness, was shown not to be so by the fact that said party had no connection with its execution, and was at the time engaged in nursing deceased at an agreed rate per week); Ross v. Harden, 44 N. Y. Super. Ct. 26; Wartman's Estate, 19 Pa. Co. Ct. 143; Womrath's Estate, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 262; Robinson's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 578; Springer's Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 44; Cain's Estate, 31 Pittsb. Leg. J. 367 (holding that a claim for nursing, not made until after decedent's death, should be disallowed where board was paid regularly by the decedent, and a legacy was given to the claimant, a stranger in blood). See also Alexander's Succession, 110 La. 1027, 35 So. 273.

sufficient legacy or devise to a person who has performed services for decedent may also discharge a claim for such services.[59]

b. Persons in Family Relation. The courts regard with suspicion and disfavor claims brought against a decedent's estate for personal services rendered by relatives, especially where the latter are members of his immediate family or household, as the presumption is that such services, between persons occupying such relations, are intended to be gratuitous,[60] and hence claims against the Statement by decedent that compensation insufficient.— A claim for extra compensation for nursing decedent, in addition to the compensation for services for general housework, cannot be sustained on expressions and indications of belief by decedent that plaintiff was not sufficiently paid under her contract for housework; these not constituting a new contract. Howard v. Drexler, 14 Pa. Super. Ct. 59.

59. Eaton v. Benton, 2 Hill (N. Y.) 576; Trinick's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 126, holding that where, during the last three years of decedent's life, a sister cared for her, without demanding any pay, and without the making of any contract to receive pay, other than decedent's promise to "pay her well for waiting on her," and decedent bequeathed an annuity of one hundred dollars per year to the sister, she was not entitled to any further compensation than that provided by the will. See also Benton's Succession, 106 La. 494, 31 So. 123, 59 L. R. A. 135; Cain's Estate, 31 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 367.

60. District of Columbia.— Tuohy v. Trail, 19 App. Cas. 79.

Illinois.—Marshall v. Coleman, 187 Ill. 556, 58 N. E. 628 [modifying 89 Ill. App. 41]; Smith v. Birdsall, 106 Ill. App. 264; Hickman v. Eggmann, 53 Ill. App. 561; Patterson v. Collar, 31 Ill. App. 340; Ginders v. Ginders, 21 Ill. App. 522; Hayden v. Henderson, 21 Ill. App. 299; Dawdy v. Nelson, 12 Ill. App. 74.

Indiana.— Wright v. McLarinan, 92 Ind. 103; Ellis v. Baird, 31 Ind. App. 295, 67 N. E. 960.

Iowa.— Scully v. Scully, 28 Iowa 548.

Kansas.— Greenwell v. Greenwell, 28 Kan. 675; Ayres v. Hull, 5 Kan. 419; Jones v. Humphreys, 10 Kan. App. 545, 63 Pac. 26.

Kentucky.— Peak v. Grover, 14 Ky. L. Rep. 206; Griggs v. Love, 13 Ky. L. Rep. 175.

Louisiana.— Oubre's Succession, 109 La. 516, 33 So. 583.

Maryland.—Wallace v. Schaub, 81 Md. 594, 32 Atl. 324. See also Duckworth v. Duckworth, 98 Md. 92, 56 Atl. 490.

Massachusetts.— Marple v. Morse, 180 Mass. 508, 62 N. E. 966.

Missouri.— Shannon v. Carter, 99 Mo. App. 134, 72 S. W. 495.

New Jersey.— Disbrow v. Durand, 54 N. J. L. 343, 24 Atl. 545, 33 Am. St. Rep. 678; Ridgway v. English, 22 N. J. L. 409; Hammond v. Cronkright, 47 N. J. Eq. 447, 20 Atl. 847; Updike v. Titus, 13 N. J. Eq. 151.

New York.— Collyer v. Collyer, 113 N. Y. 442, 21 N. E. 114; Platt v. Hollands, 85 N. Y. App. Div. 231, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 556; Matter of Stevenson, 86 Hun 325, 33 N. Y. Suppl. 493; Lyon v. Smith, 35 Hun 275; Carpenter v. Weller, 15 Hun 134; Green v. Roberts, 47 Barb. 521; Dye v. Kerr, 15 Barb. 444; Ulrich v. Ulrich, 60 N. Y. Super. Ct. 237, 17 N. Y. Suppl. 721; Matter of Warner, 39 Misc. 432, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 363; Matter of Liddle, 35 Misc. 173, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 474; Matter of Reuter, 5 Dem. Surr. 162; Keller v. Stuck, 4 Redf. Surr. 294; Roblee v. Gallentine, 19 N. Y. Wkly. Dig. 153.

Ohio.— Hinkle v. Sage, 67 Ohio St. 256, 65 N. E. 999; In re Skelton, 20 Ohio Cir. Ct. 704, 11 Ohio Cir. Dec. 372.

Oregon.—Wilkes v. Cornelius, 21 Oreg. 348, 28 Pac. 135.

Pennsylvania.— In re Payne, 204 Pa. St. 535, 54 Atl. 337; Ulrich v. Arnold, 120 Pa. St. 170, 13 Atl. 831; Houck v. Houck, 99 Pa. St. 552; Hertzog v. Hertzog, 29 Pa. St. 465; Lynn v. Lynn, 29 Pa. St. 369; Lafferty's Estate, 2 Pa. Dist. 205, 13 Pa. Co. Ct. 82; Thomas' Estate, 5 Kulp 213; Cooper's Estate, 7 Pa. Co. Ct. 365; Lally's Estate, 4 Pa. Co. Ct. 177; Monk's Estate, 9 Montg. Co. Rep. 113; Heathcote's Estate, 16 Phila. 389; Kelly's Estate, 16 Phila. 285; Hess' Estate, 13 Phila. 285; Enoch's Estate, 3 Phila. 147. But see Ewing's Estate, 18 Lanc. L. Rev. 73 (holding that where a claimant against decedent's estate for services to the decedent in her lifetime is a niece of the decedent, the relationship tends to rebut the presumption of a contract to pay, but is not sufficient to overcome such presumption unless other circumstances against the presumption are also shown); Weber's Estate, 7 Northam. Co. Rep. 1, 13 York Leg. Rec. 66 (holding that no relationship, other than that of parent and child, between a claimant and decedent whose estate is sought to be charged for services rendered in a last illness will per se rebut the presumption of a promise to pay for them).

Rhode Island.— Newell v. Lawton, 20 R. I. 307, 38 Atl. 946.

South Carolina.— Wessinger v. Roberts, 67 S. C. 240, 45 S. E. 169.

Vermont.— In re Bryant, 73 Vt. 240, 50 Atl. 1065; Andrus v. Foster, 17 Vt. 556; Fitch v. Peckham, 16 Vt. 150.

Virginia.—Williams v. Stonestreet, 3 Rand. 559. But see Cary v. Macon, 4 Call 605 (holding that a mother's estate will be allowed from the father's estate, for her services in boarding their children during her lifetime, although she made no charge therefor); Chancellor v. Ashby, 2 Patt. & H. 26.

estate of a decedent made by near relatives for personal services require stronger proof to establish them than ordinary claims by strangers.[61] The rule does not, however, prevent a recovery by a person standing in such relation to a decedent for services rendered where there was an express contract or promise to pay,[62] or

West Virginia.— Hanly v. Potts, 52 W. Va. 263, 43 S. E. 218.

Wisconsin.— Martin v. Martin, 108 Wis. 284, 84 N. W. 439, 81 Am. St. Rep. 895; Leitgabel v. Belt, 108 Wis. 107, 83 N. W. 1111; Tyler v. Burrington, 39 Wis. 376; Hall v. Finch, 29 Wis. 278, 9 Am. Rep. 559.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 733, 901.

This rule has been applied to a claim for support or services by a child against the estate of a parent (Tuohy v. Trail, 19 App. Cas. (D. C.) 79; Jones v. Humphreys, 10 Kan. App. 545, 63 Pac. 26; Duckworth v. Duckworth, 98 Md. 92, 56 Atl. 490; Marple v. Morse, 180 Mass. 508, 62 N. E. 966; Shannon v. Carter, 99 Mo. App. 134, 72 S. W. 495; Ridgway v. English, 22 N. J. L. 409; Hammond v. Cronkright, 47 N. J. Eq. 447, 20 Atl. 847; Green v. Roberts, 47 Barb. (N. Y.) 521; Houck v. Houck, 99 Pa. St. 552; Wessinger v. Roberts, 67 S. C. 240, 45 S. E. 169) or one standing in loco parentis (Smith v. Birdsall, 106 Ill. App. 264; Fross' Appeal, 105 Pa. St. 258), by one standing in loco parentis against the estate of a child (Smith v. Birdsall, 106 Ill. App. 264. See also Marshall v. Coleman, 187 Ill. 556, 58 N. E. 628 [modifying 89 Ill. App. 41]), or by a brother or sister against the estate of a brother or sister (Oubre's Succession, 109 La. 516, 33 So. 583; Rogan's Estate, 10 Kulp (Pa.) 138; Moffett's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 79, holding that the brother of a decedent can recover from the estate for his services as physician only the usual charge, and not for an uninterrupted attendance and service, it appearing that he slept and ate at the house, and went in and out at his pleasure. See also Moore v. Renick, 95 Mo. App. 202, 68 S. W. 936), a claim by a wife for work done for her husband in his business (Matter of Reuter, 5 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 162), a claim by a son-in-law against his mother-in-law's estate for board and services (Gall v. Stark, 98 Ill. App. 121; Betz's Estate, 15 Pa. Super. Ct. 563; Eckert's Estate, 18 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 58), a claim by a son-in-law for nursing his father-in-law in his last illness (Williams v. Stonestreet, 3 Rand. (Va.) 559), a claim by a niece for services to an uncle with whom she lived (Martin v. Martin, 89 Ill. App. 147; Lafferty's Estate, 2 Pa. Dist. 205, 13 Pa. Co. Ct. 82; Larkins' Estate, 17 Phila. (Pa.) 503; Heathcote's Estate, 16 Phila. (Pa.) 389; Leitgabel v. Belt, 108 Wis. 107, 83 N. W. 1111), or for board of and attendance on an aunt (Enoch's Estate, 3 Phila. (Pa.) 147), and a claim by a nephew against the estate of his uncle for board and care furnished the latter, who made his home with the claimant on the latter's repeated invitation (Matter of Jones, 28 Misc. (N. Y.) 338, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 893). A claim for services by an adopted son will not be allowed, even though the adoption papers are defective. Martin Martin, 108 Wis. 284, 84 N. W. 439, 81 Am. St. Rep. 895.

Whether the family relation in fact exists where a person not a relative is taken into the family of another must be determined from the particular facts of the case. Boyd v. Starbuck, 18 Ind. App. 310, 47 N. E. 1079.

61. Maryland.— Wallace v. Schaub, 81 Md. 594, 32 Atl. 324.

Missouri.— Shannon v. Carter, 99 Mo. App. 134, 72 S. W. 495.

New York.—Meehan v. Heffernan, 73 N. Y. App. Div. 615, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 789; Ulrich v. Ulrich, 60 N. Y. Super. Ct. 237, 17 N. Y. Suppl. 721; Matter of Warner, 39 Misc. 432, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 363; Matter of Liddle, 35 Misc. 173, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 474; Havens v. Havens, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 219.

Vermont.— In re Bryant, 73 Vt. 240, 50 Atl. 1065.

Wisconsin.—Oates v. Erskine, 116 Wis. 586, 93 N. W. 444.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 733.

Evidence sufficient to show contract or obligation to pay see Crampton v. Logan, 28 Ind. App. 405, 63 N. E. 51; Allen v. Allen, 101 Mo. App. 676, 74 S. W. 396; Shannon v. Carter, 99 Mo. App. 134, 72 S. W. 495; Ely v. Ely, 64 N. J. Eq. 790, 53 Atl. 1125 [affirming (Ch. 1901) 50 Atl. 657]; and infra, X, C, 3, f, (III), (B).

Evidence not showing contract or agreement to pay see Landers v. Forbes, 70 N. Y. App. Div. 619, 74 N. Y. Suppl. 833; Newell v. Lawton, 20 R. I. 307, 38 Atl. 946; and infra, X, C, 3, f, (III), (B).

62. New Jersey.—Updike v. Ten Broeck, 32 N. J. L. 105.

New York.— See Hallock v. Teller, 2 Dem. Surr. 206.

Ohio.— Hinkle v. Sage, 67 Ohio St. 256, 65 N. E. 999.

Pennsylvania.— Ewing's Estate, 18 Lanc. L. Rev. 73. See also Dettenmaier's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 273.

Virginia.— Baker v. Baker, 3 Munf. 222.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 733.

Contract may be written or verbal. Updike v. Ten Broeck, 32 N. J. L. 105; Hinkle v. Sage, 67 Ohio St. 256, 65 N. E. 999.

No specific sum need be fixed in promise to pay. Baker v. Baker, 3 Munf. (Va.) 222.

Affirmative evidence of contract necessary. —Kelly's Estate, Tuck. Surr. (N. Y.) 28.

A person who has supported and cared for one relative at the request of another and upon the promise of the latter to pay therefor has a valid claim against the estate of where the circumstances are such as to clearly show a mutual intention that the services should be paid for and thus raise an implied contract;[63] and where, although the decedent and the claimant were relatives, the relation was not such as imposed any special obligation on the claimant of support of, care for, or tenderness toward the decedent, a claim for compensation will be more favorably regarded, and in a suitable case upheld, especially where decedent and claimant did not live together.[64]

c. Amount of Allowance. Where the services rendered were based upon an express contract for a specified remuneration such contract must govern,[65] but where the services are rendered upon merely an implied contract to pay or in the the latter for compensation. Grimm v. Taylor, 96 Mich. 5, 55 N. W. 447; In re Payne, 204 Pa. St. 535, 54 Atl. 337.

Absence of demand.— Where services were rendered by a niece to her aunt for four years periodically up to the time of the aunt's death, there is no presumption of payment, or of the absence of a contract to pay, because no demand for payment is shown to have been made before decedent's death; a promise to pay being shown, and the claimant not depending on these services for a living. Ewing's Estate, 18 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 73.

63. Alabama.— See Kinnebrew v. Kinnebrew, 35 Ala. 628.

Illinois.— Byers v. Thompson, 66 Ill. 421 (house built by son on father's land); Freeman v. Freeman, 65 Ill. 106; Overbeck v. Ahlmeier, 106 Ill. App. 606; Jones v. Adams, 81 Ill. App. 183; Killpatrick v. Helston, 25 Ill. App. 127.

Iowa.— Wence v. Wykoff, 52 Iowa 644, 3 N. W. 685.

Michigan.— O'Connor v. Beckwith, 41 Mich. 657, 3 N. W. 166.

Missouri.— Allen v. Allen, 101 Mo. App. 676, 74 S. W. 396; Ramsey v. Hicks, 53 Mo. App. 190.

New Jersey.— De Camp v. Wilson, 31 N. J. Eq. 656.

New York.—Benedict v. Sliter, 82 Hun 190, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 413, where a contract between claimant and the other children of the decedent with reference to decedent's support, which was afterward rescinded, was held not to affect claimant's right. See also Clark v. Brauly, 20 N. Y. Suppl. 452.

Ohio.— In re Skelton, 20 Ohio Cir. Ct. 704, 11 Ohio Cir. Dec. 372.

Pennsylvania.— In re Silvius, 3 Lack. Leg. N. 84. See also Cridland's Estate, 8 Pa. Co. Ct. 6; Embree's Estate, 18 Lanc. L. Rev. 57.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 733.

Loose expressions, by an infirm parent, of gratitude for the personal services of a child, and of a desire that compensation should be rendered after his death, not, however, indicative of the terms of a contract, are insufficient to entitle the child to compensation. Smith v. Birdsall, 106 Ill. App. 264. See also Wildonger's Estate, 2 Pa. Dist. 192, 12 Pa. Co. Ct. 616, 32 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 184.

Claim must be proved according to law.— Declarations of a father that his son should be paid for work performed for him can be regarded as referring to an account presented by the son after the father's death, or to the services claimed for therein, only where the correctness of the claim is otherwise proved according to law. Duckworth v. Duckworth, 98 Md. 92, 56 Atl. 490.

That a mother and daughter were not members of the same household, while insufficient of itself to destroy the presumption that services rendered the mother by the daughter were gratuitous, may be regarded with other facts to establish an implied contract to pay for such services. Wessinger v. Roberts, 67 S. C. 240, 45 S. E. 169.

64. Illinois.— Waldron v. Alexander, 133 Ill. 30, 24 N. E. 557.

Mississippi.— Peeler v. Peeler, (1891) 11 So. 318.

Missouri.— Sprague v. Sea, 152 Mo. 327, 53 S. W. 1074 (second cousin of decedent); Truesdail v. Truesdail, 72 Mo. App. 155 (mother-in-law).

New York.— Doremus v. Lott, 49 Hun 284, 1 N. Y. Suppl. 793; Fleer v. Finken, 15 N. Y. Suppl. 514; Valentine v. Valentine, 4 Redf. Surr. 265.

Pennsylvania.— Smith v. Milligan, 43 Pa. St. 107; Lillich's Estate, 9 Pa. Co. Ct. 25; McCarty's Estate, 9 Phila. 318; Russell's Estate, 7 Phila. 64, brother's wife.

Vermont.— McDowell v. McDowell, 75 Vt. 401, 56 Atl. 98, 98 Am. St. Rep. 831, holding that where a grandfather hires a minor grandson at a stated monthly compensation, no presumption arises from the relationship that the grandson's services for the second month were gratuitously rendered.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 733.

Even a near relative may be allowed for services to or support of the decedent in the absence of any express or implied contract on his part to pay, where the claimant is under no obligation to furnish such services or support and the circumstances show such allowance to be just, as in a case of support and maintenance by a mother of an adult son possessed of means but incapable of taking care of himself or his property by reason of intemperance. Strawbridge's Appeal, 5 Whart. (Pa.) 568.

65. Hallock v. Teller, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 206; Wartman's Estate, 19 Pa. Co. Ct. 143.

expectation of compensation, such compensation as is reasonable under the circumstances will be allowed.[66]

d. Agreement to Compensate by Will. An agreement of a decedent whereby he undertook to compensate another out of his estate for services rendered or to be rendered binds his estate, and the person who renders the services, failing to receive the promised legacy or bequest, may claim a reasonable recompense from the estate,[67] and even though a parol agreement of this kind would be void under the statute of frauds, it is sufficient foundation for a claim against the promisor's estate.[68]

66. Alexander's Succession, 110 La. 1027, 35 So. 273; Lacoste's Succession, 108 La. 57, 32 So. 181.

Matters to be considered.— Where a neighbor had rendered personal attendance and service to a decedent, and decedent had agreed to pay therefor, the value of the services is not to be measured by those of an ordinary house servant, who receives not only wages, but also board and lodging, but the additional labor in going to decedent whenever her services should be required must be considered. McDonough's Estate, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 527. Where decedent allowed his son to plant an orchard and put other costly improvements on a farm as though it belonged to the son, it was inequitable, on settling decedent's estate, to charge the son with full rental value of the farm, and allow him to set off merely the cost of the trees and the planting thereof, without regard to their value when in full bearing, and the care and attention bestowed on them for years. Lightner v. Speck, (Va. 1897) 28 S. E. 326. The value of the succession may be considered by the court in fixing the fees due by a succession for professional services of physicians. Haley's Succession, 50 La. Ann. 840, 24 So. 285.

The amount for which the claim is placed on the account of the representative is not conclusive if it be shown that the services were really of greater value. Schmidt's Succession, 108 La. 293, 32 So. 413.

67. Colorado.—Snowden v. Clemons, 5 Colo. App. 251, 38 Pac. 475.

District of Columbia.— Robeson v. Niles, 7 Mackey 182.

Illinois.— See Freeman v. Freeman, 65 Ill. 106.

Indiana.—Bell v. Hewitt, 24 Ind. 280; Carroll v. Swift, 10 Ind. App. 170, 37 N. E. 1061.

Kentucky.— See Story v. Story, 61 S. W. 279, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1731, 62 S. W. 865, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1869.

Louisiana.—Nimmo v. Walker, 14 La. Ann. 581.

Michigan.—Ewers v. White, 114 Mich. 266, 72 N. W. 184; Rhea v. Meyers, 111 Mich. 140, 69 N. W. 239; Plant v. Weeks, 39 Mich. 117.

Minnesota.— Schwab v. Pierro, 43 Minn. 520, 46 N. W. 71.

New Jersey.— See Gay v. Mooney, 67 N. J. L. 27, 50 Atl. 596; Titus v. Hoagland, 39 N. J. Eq. 294.

New York.— Shakespeare v. Markham, 72 N. Y. 400; Leahy v. Campbell, 70 N. Y. App. Div. 127, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 72; Gall v. Gall, 27 N. Y. App. Div. 173, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 563; Shimer v. Kinder, 12 N. Y. St. 728.

North Carolina.— Miller v. Lash, 85 N. C. 51, 39 Am. Rep. 678.

Pennsylvania.— Moorhead v. Fry, 24 Pa. St. 37. See also Cridland's Estate, 8 Pa. Co. Ct. 6.

Tennessee.— Taylor v. Wood, 4 Lea 504.

Texas.—Von Carlowitz v. Bernstein, 28 Tex. Civ. App. 8, 66 S. W. 464.

Wisconsin.— Jilson v. Gilbert, 26 Wis. 637, 7 Am. Rep. 100; Bayliss v. Priciure, 24 Wis. 651, agreement to compensate in part by testamentary provision.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 737.

Promise must have been contractual and irrevocable. Eggers v. Anderson, 63 N. J. Eq. 264, 49 Atl. 578 [reversing 61 N. J. Eq. 85, 47 Atl. 727]; Jordan v. Dutton, 1 Phila. (Pa.) 437.

Indefinite promise.— An agreement by a testator during his lifetime to bequeath, to one who has rendered services to him, "as much as to any relative on earth," is too indefinite to be enforced against the executor. Graham v. Graham, 34 Pa. St. 475.

Uncorroborated evidence of a daughter that her father, to whom she had made advances for the support of his family, and her mother, had promised in consideration for the advances to leave her a portion of their property, is insufficient in equity, after the death of the father and mother, to create a charge on the estate of either. Cochrane v. McEntee, (N. J. Ch. 1896) 51 Atl. 279.

Revocation of will by birth of issue.— The principle stated in the text is applicable where the employer executes a will providing for the agreed compensation, which is revoked by his subsequent marriage and the birth of issue. Gall v. Gall, 27 N. Y. App. Div. 173, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 563.

Insufficient legacy.— Even where a legacy has been left to the claimant, a claim for compensation in addition thereto has been allowed where the legacy was clearly insufficient to compensate for the services rendered. Porter v. Dunn, 131 N. Y. 314, 30 N. E. 122 [reversing 61 Hun 310, 16 N. Y. Suppl. 77]; Reynolds v. Robinson, 64 N. Y. 589.

Services in mere hope or expectation of legacy or devise but without a promise see supra, X, A, 3, a.

68. Indiana.— Schoonover v. Vachon, 121 Ind. 3, 22 N. E. 777; Bell v. Hewitt, 24 Ind. 280.

It has been held that where the agreement of the decedent was specific as to the amount which the claimant should receive, such amount should be allowed without regard to the actual value of the services.[69]

4. Loans or Advances to Decedent. Money paid out for the use and benefit of the decedent, with his knowledge and consent, can be recovered against the estate without showing a positive direction or a definite writing,[70] and loans and advances are sometimes allowed in equity by way of adjustment between the estate of a deceased spouse and the survivor,[71] or to other persons standing in a family relation to the decedent.[72]

5. Covenants of Decedent. A covenant on the part of the decedent by deed, mortgage, or other instrument will bind his estate, if broken during his lifetime,[73] and for a breach of a personal covenant of the decedent the estate will be liable,

Kentucky.— See Story v. Story, 61 S. W. 279, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1731, 62 S. W. 865, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1869.

Michigan.— In re Williams, 106 Mich. 490, 64 N. W. 490.

New Jersey.— Updike v. Ten Broeck, 32 N. J. L. 105; Smith v. Smith, 28 N. J. L. 208, 74 Am. Dec. 49.

Wisconsin.— Martin v. Martin, 108 Wis. 284, 84 N. W. 439, 81 Am. St. Rep. 895.

69. Sword v. Keith, 31 Mich. 247; Matter of Mallory, 13 Misc. (N. Y.) 595, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 155; Cottrell's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 93, holding that under a contract with one deceased to leave the claimant in comfortable circumstances, so that she should not have to work for a livelihood, if she would take care of him and attend to him during his lifetime, the claimant is entitled to an amount from the estate sufficient to keep her without work, taking into consideration her condition in life. See also Koch v. Hebel, 32 Mo. App. 103, holding that if the devise or bequest was to be of specific value, or of specific property, the recovery cannot exceed such value. Contra, Nelson v. Masterson, 2 Ind. App. 524, 28 N. E. 731. And see Moorhead v. Fry, 24 Pa. St. 37.

70. Donovan's Appeal, 41 Conn. 551; Wilson v. Hotchkiss, 81 Mich. 172, 45 N. W. 838; Matter of Stringer, 60 Hun (N. Y.) 585, 15 N. Y. Suppl. 501; Broome v. Van Hook, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 444; Sutton v. Page, 4 Tex. 142.

Relation of debtor and creditor must be established. Winter v. Winter, 90 Mich. 197, 51 N. W. 363.

71. Alabama.— Martin v. Foster, 38 Ala. 688; Andrews v. Huckabee, 30 Ala. 143.

Arkansas.— Black v. Black, 60 Ark. 390, 30 S. W. 755.

Illinois.—Pinneo v. Goodspeed, 104 Ill. 184, mortgage on wife's land to secure a husband's indebtedness.

New York.— See Herrington v. Robertson, 7 Hun 368.

Pennsylvania.— See Kern's Estate, 171 Pa. St. 55, 33 Atl. 129.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 734.

Contributions by both spouses.— Moneys derived partially from the husband, and partially from the wife's own earnings, and used in improving the real estate during the husband's lifetime, will not be allowed the widow. McMonigle v. McMonigle, 42 N. J. Eq. 64, 6 Atl. 314.

72. Litchfield v. Carpenter, 49 S. W. 22, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 1189; Titus v. Hoagland, 39 N. J. Eq. 294.

Measure of recovery.— Where, in consideration of the support of his parents and the payment of debts against the father existing at the date of the agreement, plaintiff was to have the use of the father's farm and the personal property thereon, and its avails were to belong to him, and he provided for the support and care of his parents, and paid the greater portion of the father's debts, and disposed of some of the personal property, the measure of his recovery against the father's estate, where the personal property had been taken by the representatives of the estate, was the value of the property taken, less the amount of the unpaid debts. Wamsley v. Wamsley, 48 N. Y. App. Div. 330, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 954.

Set-off.— Where A advanced money for his mother's support under an agreement that at her death he should be repaid from her estate, which money A procured from his wife, promising her that she should stand in his stead, it was held that equity would enforce the wife's claim against the mother's estate, but that the mother having a claim against her son and not being aware of the assignment this claim should be set off against the wife's claim. Titus v. Hoagland, 39 N. J. Eq. 294.

73. Iowa.— Goodnow v. Wells, 67 Iowa 654, 25 N. W. 864.

Massachusetts.— Estabrook v. Hapgood, 10 Mass. 313.

Michigan.— Sheldon v. Warner, 59 Mich. 444, 26 N. W. 667; Dennis v. Sharer, 56 Mich. 224, 22 N. W. 879.

North Carolina.— Wiggins v. Pender, 132 N. C. 628, 44 S. E. 362, 61 L. R. A. 772.

Virginia.—Tabb v. Binford, 4 Leigh 132, 26 Am. Dec. 317.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 735.

Costs incurred in an action against the representative on a covenant of the decedent may be allowed. Lot v. Parish, 1 Litt. (Ky.) 393.

although such breach occurs after his death;[74] but a claim for a breach of covenant running with the land, occurring after the death of the covenantor, is usually enforceable against the heir or devisee rather than against the estate.[75]

6. Contracts of Guaranty or Suretyship. The estate of a deceased guarantor or surety remains liable on the obligation after his death and claims growing out of the same are allowable;[76] but equity will not enforce payment out of a decedent's estate of a debt on which the decedent was surety where it does not appear that the principal is unable to pay,[77] nor while such liability remains contingent does it constitute a claim which the obligee may prove against the estate in the probate court.[78] The claim of a surety for a matured debt of a decedent is provable against his estate, after the surety has paid it.[79]

7. Claims For Trust Funds. Upon a trustee's death, his indebtedness to the trust becomes a demand against his estate, to be authenticated, allowed, classed, and paid out of the assets as other demands,[80] and where the decedent in his lifetime made improper investments, commingled trust funds with his own so that

74. Hunt's Appeal, 105 Pa. St. 128; Jones' Estate, 12 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 388, holding further that liability on the personal covenant of a testator for the payment of money not running with the land, after his death, is not restricted to the lands affected by the covenant.

75. Booth v. Starr, 5 Day (Conn.) 275, 5 Am. Dec. 149; Keteltas v. Penfold, 4 E. D. Smith (N. Y.) 122; Scott v. Scott, 70 Pa. St. 244; Kershaw v. Supplee, 1 Rawle (Pa.) 131.

Covenant by life-tenant.— If a tenant for life makes a lease for years, and dies before its expiration, and the remainder-man evicts the lessee, no action on the implied covenant will lie against the executor of the lessor, as the covenant in law expired with the term. McClowry v. Croghan, 1 Grant (Pa.) 307.

76. Kentucky.— Black v. Bush, 7 B. Mon. 210.

Minnesota.— Palmer v. Pollock, 26 Minn. 433, 4 N. W. 1113, special statute as to presentment.

New York.— Wood v. Fisk, 63 N. Y. 245, 20 Am. Rep. 528.

Pennsylvania.— Jones' Appeal, 11 Wkly. Notes Cas. 554.

Rhode Island.—In re Hunt, 19 R. I. 139, 32 Atl. 204, 61 Am. St. Rep. 743.

Virginia.— Coleman v. Stone, 85 Va. 386, 7 S. E. 241.

England.— Atkinson v. Grey, 18 Jur. 282, 1 Sm. & G. 577.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 736.

Contribution at instance of cosurety.— One of several sureties who discharges the debt may enforce contribution from the estate of a deceased cosurety (McAllister v. Irwin, 31 Colo. 254, 73 Pac. 47; McKenna v. George, 2 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 15) and the county court has jurisdiction to hear and determine such a claim for contribution (McAllister v. Irwin, supra).

Liability of estate after administration closed.— The Texas statute declaring bonds joint in form to be joint and several, and charging the "representatives" of a deceased surety with liability thereon, did not intend to charge the administrator and not the estate in the hands of the heirs, but the liability of the estate for breaches occurring after the death of the surety continues after the administration is closed. Allen v. Stovall, (Tex. Civ. App. 1901) 62 S. W. 87 [affirmed on this point but reversed on other grounds in 94 Tex. 618, 63 S. W. 863, 64 S. W. 777].

Stipulation prohibiting judgment against surety during principal's lifetime.— A copy or written statement of a bond payable after the death of the principal debtor, filed for the purpose of continuing the lien created by the intestate laws against the real estate of the surety after his death, will not be stricken off, notwithstanding such bond contained a stipulation that no judgment should be entered thereon against the surety during the lifetime of the principal. Stevenson v. Long, 23 Pa. Co. Ct. 391.

Liability on agreement and not on account.— A, of the first part, entered into an agreement, under seal, with B as principal and C as surety of the second part, that A should furnish B with merchandise, B should sell and account to A for the proceeds, A to allow him one half of the profits for his services. C died and A filed an account in the probate court for allowance against his administrator for a balance in the hands of B under the above agreement. It was held that the claim was properly rejected, as the liability of C's administrator, if any existed, was upon the agreement and not upon the account. Willamouicz v. Strong, 8 Ark. 467.

77. Shropshire v. Reno, 5 Dana (Ky.) 583.

78. Sauer v. Griffin, 67 Mo. 654. But see Atkinson v. Grey, 18 Jur. 282, 1 Sm. & G. 577, holding that a covenant by a surety for payment of a debt at a future day is not a contingent, but an actually existing debt. See, generally, as to presentation of contingent claims infra, X, B, 2, b.

79. Hill's Estate, 67 Cal. 238, 7 Pac. 664; Walker v. Drew, 20 Fla. 908.

80. Hill v. State, 23 Ark. 604; Gaffney's Estate, 146 Pa. St. 49, 23 Atl. 163; Moore v. Moore, 89 Tex. 29, 33 S. W. 217.

they cannot be identified, or wasted or embezzled the trust funds in his hands, the claims of the beneficiaries whether for a partial or total satisfaction become those of ordinary creditors against decedent's estate.[81]

8. Contracts of Purchase. Purchase-money due from a deceased vendee upon a valid contract of sale is such a debt of the decedent as the representative may rightfully pay;[82] but it has been held otherwise as to a contract of sale purely executory, under which the decedent did not receive the property, where the estate of the deceased vendee cannot complete the sale to advantage.[83]

9. Alimony to Illegitimate Child. It has been held in Louisiana that an illegitimate child has a right of action for alimony only against the parent or his heirs and it is not a debt against the succession, and hence an action therefor cannot be properly brought against the administrator.[84]

10. Claims Invalid as Against Decedent. Claims which would be illegal and void as against the decedent if living are not enforceable against the estate.[85]

11. Unmatured Claims. Unmatured claims against an estate are usually provided for by statute, and as to those which will become absolutely due at some definite future time the usual rule is to allow them to be proved.[86]

12. Debts Payable After Death. Even though a debt or obligation of a

81. Alabama.— Pryor v. Davis, 109 Ala. 117, 19 So. 440.

Arkansas.— Green v. Brooks, 25 Ark. 318.

Indiana.— Benson v. Liggett, 78 Ind. 452.

Louisiana.— Shall v. Foley, 27 La. Ann. 651.

Michigan.—Frank v. Morley, 106 Mich. 635, 64 N. W. 577.

Ohio.— In re Turpin, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 410, 7 Ohio N. P. 569.

Pennsylvania.— Leonard's Estate, 9 Pa. Co. Ct. 410; Gaw's Estate, 12 Phila. 4.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 738.

82. Probasco v. Cook, 39 Mich. 714; Chapman v. Merritt, 45 Mo. App. 179; Riegelman's Estate, 174 Pa. St. 476, 34 Atl. 120; Thompson v. Adams, 55 Pa. St. 479; In re McCracken, 29 Pa. St. 426; Graham's Estate, 6 Kulp (Pa.) 269; Cox v. Cox, Peck (Tenn.) 443.

The assertion of a vendor's lien on the land debars the presentment of a claim against the personal assets. Pott's Appeal, 5 Pa. St. 500.

A vendor who has brought ejectment to enforce payment of the purchase-money has no claim on the personal estate of the deceased vendee. Pott's Appeal, 5 Pa. St. 500.

83. Riner v. Husted, 13 Colo. App. 523, 58 Pac. 793 (holding that, conceding that a tender of bonds which decedent had agreed to purchase to decedent's administratrix was sufficient acceptance by the seller, and her refusal to take them created a new liability, it was not one which could be enforced as a claim in probate against his estate, but was a liability incurred by the administratrix, enforceable in another tribunal); Miskimen v. Culbertson, 162 Ill. 236, 44 N. E. 396; Gantt v. Mechin, 30 Mo. App. 532.

84. Drouet v. Drouet, 26 La. Ann. 323.

85. Watrous v. Chalker, 7 Conn. 224; Smith v. Mayo, 9 Mass. 62, 6 Am. Dec. 28; Imhoff v. Witmer, 31 Pa. St. 243; McTier v. Hunter, Riley (S. C.) 159, But see infra, note 87.

A testamentary provision for payment of all "just debts" does not embrace illegal or invalid claims. Smith v. Mayo, 9 Mass. 62, 6 Am. Dec. 28; Smith's Appeal, 1 Pennyp. (Pa.) 48.

The declaration of an executor that "we will settle the account" cannot make his testatrix's estate liable for a debt, for which, being a married woman, she was not liable in her lifetime. McTier v. Hunter, Riley (S. C.) 159.

86. Illinois.— Dunnigan v. Stevens, 122 Ill. 396, 13 N. E. 651, 3 Am. St. Rep. 496 [reversing 19 Ill. App. 310]; Hall v. Hoxsey, 84 Ill. 616; Mackin v. Haven, 88 Ill. App. 434 [affirmed in 187 Ill. 480, 58 N. E. 448].

Indiana.— Maddox v. Maddox, 97 Ind. 537; Hathaway v. Roll, 81 Ind. 567.

Massachusetts.— Ames v. Ames, 128 Mass. 277 (funds to be retained by representative for payment or bond given); Haverhill Loan, etc., Assoc. v. Cronin, 4 Allen 141.

Missouri.— Empire Paving, etc., Co. v. Prather, 58 Mo. App. 487; Schmieding v. Doellner, 13 Mo. App. 228.

Texas.— Dunn v. Sublett, 14 Tex. 521.

Vermont.— Brown v. Dunn, 75 Vt. 264, 55 Atl. 364.

Wisconsin.— Austin v. Saveland, 77 Wis. 108, 45 N. W. 955.

United States.— U. S. v. North Carolina Bank, 6 Pet. 29, 8 L. ed. 308.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 745.

A rebate of interest is provided for by the Illinois statute. See Dunnigan v. Stevens, 122 Ill. 396, 13 N. E. 651, 3 Am. St. Rep. 496 [reversing 19 Ill. App. 310]; Hall v. Hoxsey, 84 Ill. 616.

The present value of an annuity may be proved against the estate of the obligor as a demand not yet due. Schmieding v. Doellner, 13 Mo. App. 228. See also Hinklebein v. Tatten, 60 S. W. 641, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1357, present value of amount payable in future.

decedent contracted by a decedent in his lifetime is by its terms not payable until after his death, it may be enforced against his estate.[87]

13. Contingent Claims. A debt depending upon some contingency which may never happen is not as a general rule one which may be said to be owing by the deceased in such sense as to be an immediate burden on the assets or presently provable against the estate,[88] although it is otherwise of course where the contingency happened and the claim thus became absolute in the decedent's lifetime.[89] The presentation, proof, and allowance of contingent claims are, however, matters which in many states are regulated by statute,[90] and it is frequently provided that the personal representative must retain funds for the purpose of meeting such claims when they shall accrue.[91]

87. Corr's Appeal, 62 Conn. 403, 26 Atl. 478; Hegeman v. Moon, 60 Hun (N. Y.) 412, 15 N. Y. Suppl. 596; Powell v. Graham, 1 Moore C. P. 305, 18 Rev. Rep. 593, 7 Taunt. 580, 2 E. C. L. 501.

Promise to pay at or before death.— An express promise on valuable consideration to pay a certain sum at or before the death of the promisor may be enforced after his death against his estate. Woods v. Matlock, 19 Ind. App. 364, 48 N. E. 384.

Inadequacy of consideration.— Where decedent in his lifetime wrote a letter acknowledging a debt, and directing his creditor to prove it against his estate, it was held that proof of a gross deficiency of consideration would tend to show an intent to evade Minn. Gen. St. (1894) § 4426, relative to the execution of wills, in which case the claim should be allowed for only the amount of the consideration. Fitzgerald v. English, 73 Minn. 266, 76 N. W. 27.

Claim not enforceable in decedent's lifetime.— At common law a husband or wife might enforce against the estate of a deceased spouse claims on contract which could not be asserted at law during the lifetime of the other party. Grimes v. Reynolds, 94 Mo. App. 576, 68 S. W. 588. See also Corr's Appeal, 62 Conn. 403, 26 Atl. 478. But see supra, note 85.

88. Arkansas.— Walker v. Byers, 14 Ark. 246.

Massachusetts.— Ames v. Ames, 128 Mass. 277.

New Jersey.— Terhune v. White, 34 N. J. Eq. 98 [followed in Field v. Thisble, 58 N. J. Eq. 339, 43 Atl. 1072 (affirmed in 60 N. J. Eq. 444, 46 Atl. 1099)], holding that a claim against the estate of a decedent on his assumption of a mortgage is, before foreclosure, only contingent.

Texas.— Dunn v. Sublett, 14 Tex. 521.

Vermont.— Jones v. Cooper, 2 Aik. 54, 16 Am. Dec. 678, bond of indemnity, the condition of which not broken.

England.— See Henderson v. Gilchrist, 17 Jur. 570, 22 L. J. Ch. 970, 1 Wkly. Rep. 426; Wentworth v. Chevell, 3 Jur. N. S. 805, 26 L. J. Ch. 760, 5 Wkly. Rep. 743; Read v. Blunt, 5 Sim. 567, 9 Eng. Ch. 567.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 744.

Claims not contingent.— Where decedent made a written acknowledgment of an indebtedness, with an executory promise to pay it out of the proceeds of land named, and gave plaintiff an option to take the land for the debt and a certain amount in addition, and decedent's administrator subsequently sold the land, plaintiff could recover the amount of the debt from the decedent's estate, as the indebtedness was not dependent on the sale of the land. Calloway v. Angel, 127 N. C. 414, 37 S. E. 454. The indorser of a negotiable promissory note containing a stipulation that "the drawers and indorsers severally waive presentment for payment, protest and notice of protest, and non-payment of this note" is liable absolutely for its payment and hence it may, under the Illinois statute, be presented against the estate for settlement before maturity. Dunigan v. Stevens, 122 Ill. 396, 13 N. E. 651, 3 Am. St. Rep. 496 [reversing 19 Ill. App. 310]. Compare Cockrill v. Hobson, 16 Ala. 391.

89. Alabama.— McDowell v. Jones, 58 Ala. 25.

Illinois.— Morse v. Pacific R. Co., 191 Ill. 356, 61 N. E. 104 [affirming 93 Ill. App. 31]; Morse v. Gillette, 93 Ill. App. 23 [affirmed in 191 Ill. 371, 61 N. E. 1136].

Minnesota.— Fitzhugh v. Harrison, 75 Minn. 481, 78 N. W. 95.

Nebraska.— Stichter v. Cox, 52 Nebr. 532, 72 N. W. 848.

Vermont.— Sargent v. Kimball, 37 Vt. 320.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 744.

90. See Berryhill v. Peabody, 72 Minn. 232, 75 N. W. 220; Huntzch v. Massolt, 61 Minn. 361, 63 N. W. 1069; McKeen v. Waldron, 25 Minn. 466; Logan v. Dixon, 73 Wis. 533, 41 N. W. 713; Mann v. Everts, 64 Wis. 372, 25 N. W. 209; Hall v. Wilson, 6 Wis. 433, holding that where one presenting a claim against an estate gives credit for property received by him from the widow of the deceased, and takes judgment for the balance only, and the administrator afterward recovers from him the value of the property so received, he may prove against the estate the sum so credited, it being within the statute relating to contingent claims.

Necessity of presenting contingent claims see infra, X, B, 2, b.

91. Greene v. Dyer, 32 Me. 460; Mann v. Everts, 64 Wis. 372, 25 N. W. 209. And see Hoyt v. Bonnett, 50 N. Y. 538 [reversing 58 Barb. 529]. See infra, X, D, 13; XI, Q.

14. Claims Founded in Tort. As torts died with the person at common law claims founded in tort were not in earlier times considered in connection with the settlement of estates;[92] but in modern practice, based to some extent upon statute, a claim growing out of a tort may survive against the tort-feasor's estate, especially if the estate has been directly or indirectly increased or benefited by the tort.[93]

15. Taxes and Assessments.[94] Personal assessments charged against the decedent during his lifetime, or taxes or assessments chargeable rightfully against the personal estate in the due process of settlement, are payable by the representative on their preferential footing,[95] and the representative should also pay assessed taxes which became a lien on the decedent's real estate before his death.[96] An

92. See Abatement and Revival, 1 Cyc. 50 note 59.

93. State v. Givan, 45 Ind. 267; Wineburg v. U. S. Steam, etc., R. Advertising Co., 173 Mass. 60, 53 N. E. 145, 73 Am. St. Rep. 261; Cooper v. Crane, 9 N. J. L. 173. See also Stock v. Parker, 2 McCord Eq. (S. C.) 376. See Abatement and Revival, 1 Cyc. 51, 52.

94. See supra, VIII, I, 8, h.

95. Connecticut.— Bulkley v. Clark, 2 Root 60.

Iowa.— Findley v. Taylor, 97 Iowa 420, 66 N. W. 744.

Kentucky.— Floyd v. Floyd, 7 B. Mon. 290; Thrasher v. Lewis, 13 Ky. L. Rep. 926.

Massachusetts.— See Ratch v. Morgan, 105 Mass. 426; Wood v. Torrey, 97 Mass. 321.

Minnesota.— In re Jefferson, 35 Minn. 215, 28 N. W. 256.

Missouri.— State v. Tittmann, 103 Mo. 553, 569, 15 S. W. 936, 941.

Nevada.— In re Millenovich, 5 Nev. 161.

New Jersey.— Dey v. Codman, 39 N. J. Eq. 258; Holcombe v. Holcombe, 29 N. J. Eq. 597.

New York.— Matter of Sudds, 32 Misc. 182, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 231; In re McMahon, 67 How. Pr. 113, 152, 14 Abb. N. Cas. 405, 406; McMahon v. Beekman, 65 How. Pr. 427; Seabury v. Bowen, 3 Bradf. Surr. 207, holding that a special assessment on real estate which was confirmed at the time of decedent's decease, although a lien on the lands, was also a personal debt of the decedent, and should be paid out of her personal estate.

North Carolina.—James v. Withers, 126 N. C. 715, 36 S. E. 178.

Pennsylvania.— Littleton's Appeal, 93 Pa. St. 177 (income tax); Behee's Estate, 8 Kulp 157 (water rates); Casner's Estate, 2 Kulp 474; Fell's Estate, 13 Phila. 289.

Rhode Island.— Williams v. Herrick, 18 R. I. 120, 25 Atl. 1099.

Tennessee.— Wooten v. House, (Ch. App. 1895) 36 S. W. 932.

Virginia.— Nimme v. Com., 4 Hen. & M. 57, 4 Am. Dec. 488.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 439, 747.

Retaining funds which might have been distributed.— The fact that an executor retained in his hands during his administration funds that he might have distributed among the legatees was not ground for charging him with taxes paid by him on such funds, since it is presumed the funds would have been assessed to the legatees if in their hands. Matter of Sudds, 32 Misc. (N. Y.) 182, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 231.

Where an executor makes a false return of property of the estate for taxation, the penalty provided by statute for such an offense cannot be inflicted on the estate of the decedent. Leper v. Pulsifer, 37 Ill. 110.

Apportionment of tax.— Where a tax is assessed against a decedent's estate as a whole, a decree, on final accounting, apportioning the tax ratably against a trust fund and the balance of the estate is just. Matter of Kenworthy, 63 Hun (N. Y.) 165, 17 N. Y. Suppl. 655.

96. Alabama.— Chandler v. Chandler, 87 Ala. 300, 6 So. 153.

Illinois.— Shaw v. Camp, 56 Ill. App. 23.

Mississippi.— Bowers v. Williams, 34 Miss. 324.

New York.— In re Babcock, 115 N. Y. 450, 22 N. E. 263; Smith v. Cornell, 113 N. Y. 320, 21 N. E. 140 [affirming 52 N. Y. Super. Ct. 499]; Stewart's Estate, 90 Hun 94, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 366; Krueger v. Schlinger, 19 Misc. 221, 43 N. Y. Suppl. 205; Mitchell v. Bowne, 63 How. Pr. 1; Matter of Noyes, 3 Dem. Surr. 369; Griswold v. Griswold, 4 Bradf. Surr. 216; Seabury v. Bowen, 3 Bradf. Surr. 207; Dugan's Estate, Tuck. Surr. 338. But compare Matter of Hewitt, 40 Misc. 322, 81 N. Y. Suppl. 1030, holding that taxes on land in the city of New York, accruing before a testator's death, being a lien on the particular property, and not a personal charge against the owner, cannot be paid out of the personalty, under Code Civ. Proc. § 2719, as debts of the decedent.

Pennsylvania.— Fell's Estate, 13 Phila. 289.

Virginia.— Dillard v. Dillard, 77 Va. 820.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 439.

Assessment for street improvements.— A statute requiring executors to pay taxes assessed against the decedent previous to his death does not include an assessment for street improvements, which is merely a charge against the property, and not a personal debt. In re Hun, 144 N. Y. 472, 39 N. E. 376.

Although a tax had not become a lien at the time of decedent's death, yet the fact that he had become personally liable to pay executor or administrator who is lawfully and properly in possession or control of the real estate belonging to his decedent may properly pay taxes assessed thereon after the decedent's death, and should receive credit therefor in his accounts,[97] unless the benefits which he has personally derived from such possession are such as to offset the expenditure for this purpose;[98] but, save so far as he may have special authority over the real estate of the decedent to sell or manage it, or may need it specially to sell for the payment of debts, he is not warranted in paying taxes on it assessed or levied after the decedent's death, since these are charges on the land for the heirs or devisees to pay.[99] If the land be sold or partitioned under order of the court, taxes or assessments accruing subsequent thereto are it when it should be levied by the proper officers on the assessment rolls, which had become complete, made it a debt of decedent, which could be properly paid by his executors out of his estate. Matter of Franklin, 26 Misc. (N. Y.) 107, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 858.

97. Arkansas.— See Armstrong v. Cashion, (1901) 16 S. W. 666.

Michigan.—Long v. Landman, 118 Mich. 174, 76 N. W. 374.

New Jersey.— Dey v. Codman, 39 N. J. Eq. 258.

Pennsylvania.— Roup's Estate, 31 Pittsb. Leg. J. 101, executors with authority to sell.

Tennessee.— Read v. Franklin, (Ch. App. 1900) 60 S. W. 215, holding that where a widow, claiming under an alleged will of her husband, held the estate as life-tenant and executrix, and the will was thereafter declared invalid, on an accounting with the heir and an administrator it was proper to allow her taxes paid out of her separate estate.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 439.

Duty to pay taxes.— It is the duty of administrators if lands are in their possession and capable of yielding rents to pay the taxes out of the rents and not to permit the premises to be sold for taxes. Cummings v. Bradley, 57 Ala. 224.

98. Delaware.— See Spruance v. Darlington, 7 Del. Ch. 111, 30 Atl. 663.

Massachusetts.— Wiggin v. Swett, 6 Metc. 194, 39 Am. Dec. 716, holding that where testator devised to his wife, whom he appointed executrix, the use of his dwelling-house for life, directing that it should be kept in repair out of his other estate, she was not entitled to charge the estate for taxes assessed on the house when in her possession under the will.

Michigan.— In re Graff, 123 Mich. 456, 82 N. W. 248, holding that a widow who is also administratrix of the decedent cannot be allowed to occupy the premises of the decedent as a residence, rent free, and then charge against the estate items for taxes paid during such occupation.

New Hampshire.— Clough v. Clough, 71 N. H. 412, 52 Atl. 449.

Pennsylvania.— Villee's Estate, 9 Lanc. L. Rev. 353; Pratt's Estate, 3 Lanc. L. Rev. 203.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 439.

99. Illinois.— Stark v. Brown, 101 Ill. 395; Phelps v. Funkhouser, 39 Ill. 401; Shaw v. Camp, 56 Ill. App. 23.

Kansas.— Reading v. Wier, 29 Kan. 429.

Missouri.— Langston v. Canterbury, 173 Mo. 122, 73 S. W. 151.

New Hampshire.—Lucy v. Lucy, 55 N. H. 9.

New Jersey.— Polhemus v. Middleton, 37 N. J. Eq. 240; Howard v. Francis, 30 N. J. Eq. 444; Holcombe v. Holcombe, 29 N. J. Eq. 597.

New York.— In re Selleck, 111 N. Y. 284, 19 N. E. 66; Willcox v. Smith, 26 Barb. 316; Matter of Foulds, 35 Misc. 171, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 473 (holding this to be true even although the administrator and the next of kin are tenants in common of the realty); Matter of Very, 24 Misc. 139, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 389, 28 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 163; Matter of Hun, 7 Misc. 409, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 253; Matter of Benedict, 15 N. Y. St. 746; Matter of Kick, 11 N. Y. St. 688; Bates v. Underhill, 3 Redf. Surr. 365; Griswold v. Griswold, 4 Bradf. Surr. 216.

North Carolina.— Hahn v. Mosely, 119 N. C. 73, 25 S. E. 713; Young v. Kennedy, 95 N. C. 265.

Ohio.— Piatt v. St. Clair, Wright 526; Matter of Turpin, Ohio Prob. 124.

Pennsylvania.— Walker's Appeal, 116 Pa. St. 419, 9 Atl. 654; Jackson v. Sassaman, 29 Pa. St. 106; Dunkle's Estate, 17 Lanc. L. Rev. 61; Watson's Estate, 6 Luz. Leg. Reg. 13.

Texas.—Moore v. Bryant, 10 Tex. Civ. App. 131, 31 S. W. 223.

Virginia.— See Dillard v. Dillard, 77 Va. 820.

West Virginia.— See Creigh v. Boggs, 19 W. Va. 240, holding the heirs and not the administrator of a deceased vendor liable to the vendee for delinquent taxes by him paid to prevent a sale of the land for taxes.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 439, 762.

But compare Rudolph v. Underwood, 88 Ga. 664, 16 S. E. 55, holding that the estate, while not liable for taxes accruing upon land after it has been sold by the administrator, is liable for taxes assessed upon the land before it was sold, although the assessment was made in the name of one of the heirs or legatees.

When charge allowable.— The payment by the executor of taxes accruing on the real estate subsequent to the testator's death being for the benefit of the heirs, the court, not debts of the decedent which it is the right or duty of the executor or administrator to pay.[1]

16. Continuing Obligations. The policy of the law does not favor the continuance of the liability of a deceased contracting party after the time at which estates of decedents are usually administered, and it ought not to be so continued unless the terms of the instrument and the attending circumstances are such that no other result is possible.[2]

17. Agreement of Representative to Pay. While the personal representative may render himself personally liable to pay a claim presented against the estate, he cannot bind the estate by his express or implied promise to pay a claim which was not an obligation of the decedent in his lifetime or for which the estate is not properly and directly liable.[3] But where the consideration of a representative's contract to pay is a debt due by his decedent, the representative is not liable further than he has received assets, and if he has received no assets is not liable at all.[4]

18. Claims Barred by Limitation[5] — a. In General. As a general rule a claim which was barred by the statute of limitations at the time of the debtor's death after a long lapse of time, will presume a request, and allow it as a charge against the estate (Broome v. Van Hook, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 444), especially when such payment was not objected to at the time by any of those interested (Robertson v. Breckinbridge, (Va. 1898) 31 S. E. 892). So also if the heirs permit real estate to be returned delinquent for the non-payment of taxes, and the executors pay such taxes to prevent the loss of the land, they will be entitled, as against the residuary legatees, to credit for the taxes so paid, whether or not the executors, having a naked power to sell, were under a duty to pay such taxes. Dunn v. Renick, 33 W. Va. 476, 10 S. E. 810. Where the estate is insolvent it is proper for the executor to preserve the real estate by the payment of taxes. Matter of Van Houten, 18 Misc. (N. Y.) 524, 42 N. Y. Suppl. 1115. It has also been held, without considering whether an administrator has authority to collect rents, that administrators who have charged themselves with the rents are entitled to credit for taxes paid. Matter of Turpin, Ohio Prob. 124.

Taxes paid by mortgagee purchasing at foreclosure sale.— The payment of taxes assessed upon real estate of the deceased before his death, by the mortgagee of such estate, who has bought it at a foreclosure sale at a price less than the amount due on the mortgage, the terms of the sale providing for such payment out of the purchase-money, does not entitle such purchaser to be reimbursed for the taxes out of the assets of the estate. Leviness v. Cassebeer, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 491.

1. Ambleton v. Dyer, 53 Ark. 224, 13 S. W. 926; Rudolph v. Underwood, 88 Ga. 664, 16 S. E. 55; Dillard v. Dillard, 77 Va. 820. But compare Eddy's Estate, 13 Phila. (Pa.) 262, holding that where land has been sold to pay debts the executor may be allowed in his account for taxes and arrears of ground-rent accruing after the confirmation of the sale and before the execution of the deed, and for the amount of a city claim for work done to the premises during the same period.

2. Loftis' Estate, 3 Pa. Co. Ct. 195, holding that where, before the death of a lessee, and before the expiration of the lease, the business carried on by him upon the demised premises was sold under execution and purchased by his wife, who continued the business, it would be presumed that the lease was sold as part of the business, and hence the lessor was not entitled to claim rent accruing under the lease after the lessee's death against his estate.

3. Alabama.—Colvin v. Owens, 22 Ala. 782.
Arkansas.— Yarborough v. Ward, 34 Ark. 204.
Florida.— May v. May, 7 Fla. 207, 68 Am. Dec. 431.
Louisiana.— Reihl v. Martin, 29 La. Ann. 15.
Massachusetts.— Shepherd v. Young, 8 Gray 152, 69 Am. Dec. 242 [following Washburn v. Hale, 10 Pick. 429; Ripley v. Sampson, 10 Pick. 371].
New York.— O'Brien v. Jackson, 167 N. Y. 31, 60 N. E. 238; Van Slooten v. Dodge, 145 N. Y. 327, 39 N. E. 950.
North Carolina.— Williams v. Chaffin, 13 N. C. 333.
Pennsylvania.— Solliday v. Bissey, 12 Pa. St. 347; Beeson v. McNabb, 2 Pa. St. 422; Grier v. Huston, 8 Serg. & R. 402, 11 Am. Dec. 627; Wireman's Appeal, 7 Pa. Dist. 759, 43 Wkly. Notes Cas. 334; Bowen v. Miller, 3 Pa. L. J. Rep. 326.
South Carolina.— Milwer v. Jay, 47 S. C. 430, 25 S. E. 298; McGrath v. Barnes, 13 S. C. 328, 36 Am. Rep. 687.
Virginia.— Braxton v. Harrison, 11 Gratt. 30.
England.— See Bradley v. Heath, 3 Sim. 543, 30 Rev. Rep. 217, 6 Eng. Ch. 543.
See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 748.

4. Lair v. Miller, 2 Litt. (Ky.) 66 [followed in Rucker v. Wadlington, 5 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 238].

5. See, generally, Limitations of Actions.

cannot be properly allowed against his estate,[6] and the personal representative is under no legal obligation to pay it;[7] but in some jurisdictions where the period required to bar the claim expires after the decedent's death but before the presentment of the claim or the settlement and distribution of the estate, the claim is not barred[8] unless it is not enforced within the prescribed time after the issuing of letters testamentary or of administration.[9] In computing the time under the statute of limitations, when pleaded by the personal representative or heirs of the deceased, the time after the granting of letters during which the personal representative cannot be sued must be deducted.[10] If a creditor of a decedent is appointed executor or administrator of the latter's estate, the running of the statute of limitations against the representative's claim is suspended.[11]

6. California.— Etchas v. Orena, 127 Cal. 588, 60 Pac. 45; McGrath v. Carroll, 110 Cal. 79, 42 Pac. 466.

Florida.— Patterson v. Cobb, 4 Fla. 481.

Illinois.— Bromwell v. Bromwell, 139 Ill. 424, 28 N. E. 1057.

Louisiana.— In re Romero, 38 La. Ann. 947.

Massachusetts.— Grinnell v. Baxter, 17 Pick. 383.

Michigan.— Kimball v. Kimball, 16 Mich. 211.

Missouri.—Bambrick v. Bambrick, 157 Mo. 423, 58 S. W. 8.

Montana.— In re Mouillerat, 14 Mont. 245, 36 Pac. 185.

New Jersey.— Pursel v. Pursel, 14 N. J. Eq. 514.

New York.— Butler v. Johnson, 111 N. Y. 204, 18 N. E. 643; Hamlin v. Smith, 72 N. Y. App. Div. 601, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 258; Mooers v. White, 6 Johns. Ch. 360; Burnett v. Noble, 5 Redf. Surr. 69.

South Carolina.— Hunter v. Hunter, 63 S. C. 78, 41 S. E. 33, 90 Am. St. Rep. 663.

Virginia.— Tazewell v. Whittle, 13 Gratt. 329.

Wyoming.— See O'Keefe v. Foster, 5 Wyo. 343, 40 Pac. 525.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 749.

Rule applicable to claims of personal representative.— Grinnell v. Baxter, 17 Pick. (Mass.) 383; Burnett v. Noble, 5 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 59; Hoch's Appeal, 21 Pa. St. 280; Monroe's Estate, 9 Kulp (Pa.) 334. See also Gilbert v. Comstock, 93 N. Y. 484. Compare Payne v. Pusey, 8 Bush (Ky.) 564.

A presumption of payment for services rendered the decedent six years previously arises on account of such delay where the claim might have been made to decedent during his lifetime (Monroe's Estate, 9 Kulp (Pa.) 334; In re Beecher, 29 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 84), but where the debt is one of record nothing less than the lapse of twenty years will raise such a presumption (In re Breeswine, 11 York Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 141). See, generally, PAYMENT.

Acknowledgments by the debtor in his lifetime may of course take a debt out of the operation of the statute so that the claim may be properly allowed against his estate. Rogers v. Southern, 4 Baxt. (Tenn.) 67.

7. Bambrick v. Bambrick, 157 Mo. 423, 58 S. W. 8; King v. Rogers, 31 Ont. 573. See also McGrath v. Carroll, 110 Cal. 79, 42 Pac. 466.

8. McClintock's Appeal, 29 Pa. St. 360; Montreal Bank v. Buchanan, 32 Wash. 480, 73 Pac. 482; Gleason v. Hawkins, 32 Wash. 464, 73 Pac. 533, holding that a mortgage debt not barred at the time of the decedent's death is payable out of the personalty, although a suit to foreclose the mortgage is barred. And see Bromwell v. Bromwell, 139 Ill. 424, 28 N. E. 1057; Hunter v. Hunter, 63 S. C. 78, 41 S. E. 33. Contra, Perry v. Munger, 7 Tex. 589.

Where a suit is abated by the death of defendant and cannot be revived against his administrator because of the insolvency of his estate the debt is not barred by limitations as a claim against the estate if at the time the suit was brought it was not so barred. Bassett v. McKenna, 52 Conn. 437.

9. Montreal Bank v. Buchanan, 32 Wash. 480, 73 Pac. 482 (holding that the qualification of the executor or administrator and filing of his bond is equivalent to taking out letters, within the meaning of this rule); Gleason v. Hawkins, 32 Wash. 464, 73 Pac. 533.

The fact that an executor fails to proceed with the administration does not excuse a creditor who allows his claim to become barred, inasmuch as he has a statutory remedy whereby he could enforce administrative proceedings. Montreal Bank v. Buchanan, 32 Wash. 480, 73 Pac. 482.

10. Lee v. Downey, 68 Ala. 98; Steele v. Steele, 64 Ala. 438, 38 Am. Rep. 15.

11. Semmes v. Magruder, 10 Md. 242; State v. Reigart, 1 Gill (Md.) 1, 39 Am. Dec. 628; Spencer v. Spencer, 4 Md. Ch. 456; Brown v. Stewart, 4 Md. Ch. 368; Matthews v. Matthews, 66 Miss. 239, 6 So. 201; Preston v. Cutter, 64 N. H. 461, 13 Atl. 874; McLaughlin v. Newton, 53 N. H. 531. See also Grinnell v. Baxter, 17 Pick. (Mass.) 383. But see In re Kuhlman, 178 Pa. St. 43, 35 Atl. 918. See infra, XIV, F. 2.

Under the New York statute suspending the running of the statute of limitations against a debt due from a decedent to his personal representative until the first judicial settlement of the latter's account (Code Civ. Proc. § 2740) a demand in the representative's favor, accruing during the decedent's lifetime, is not barred where presented

b. Power of Representative to Waive Bar — (i) In General. The rule in some jurisdictions is that a personal representative cannot waive the bar of the statute of limitations as to claims against the estate, but is bound to interpose the statute as a defense wherever applicable;[12] although the statute may be waived on an accounting on his own petition fourteen years after his appointment, there having been no previous judicial settlement. In re Powers, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 396. The statute applies only to "a debt due from the decedent to the accounting party" and not to a debt which was owing to a third person but which has been assigned to the representative. Matter of Robbins, 7 Misc. (N. Y.) 264, 27 N. Y. Suppl. 1009.

12. California.— Etchas v. Orena, 127 Cal. 588, 60 Pac. 45; Vrooman v. Li Po Tai, 113 Cal. 302, 45 Pac. 470. See also McGrath v. Carroll, 110 Cal. 79, 42 Pac. 466.

Florida.— Patterson v. Cobb, 4 Fla. 481.

Illinois.— Langworthy v. Baker, 23 Ill. 484; McCoy v. Morrow, 18 Ill. 519, 68 Am. Dec. 578; Bromwell v. Shubert, 40 Ill. App. 330. See also Marshall v. Coleman, 187 Ill. 556, 58 N. E. 628 [modifying 89 Ill. App. 41].

Louisiana.— Romero's Succession, 31 La. Ann. 721; Villere v. Villere, 26 La. Ann. 380; Flanner v. Lecompte, 23 La. Ann. 193; Sevier v. Gordan, 21 La. Ann. 373.

Mississippi.— The representative cannot lawfully waive the bar or pay claims against which the statute of limitations had run at the time of his decedent's death or of his own qualification as representative (Woods v. Elliott, 49 Miss. 168; Byrd v. Wells, 40 Miss. 711; Trotter v. Trotter, 40 Miss. 704), but he may be allowed credit for money paid on debts of the estate which were barred by the statute of limitations at the time of their payment if they were not barred at the time of his appointment (Byrd v. Wells, 40 Miss. 711).

Missouri.— Bambrick v. Bambrick, 157 Mo. 423, 58 S. W. 8. And see Stiles v. Smith, 55 Mo. 363.

Montana.— In re Mouillerat, 14 Mont. 245, 36 Pac. 185.

Nevada.— Jones v. Powning, 25 Nev. 399, 60 Pac. 833.

New York.— Schutz v. Morette, 146 N. Y. 137, 40 N. E. 780 [reversing 81 Hun 518, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 39]; Butler v. Johnson, 111 N. Y. 204, 18 N. E. 643; Hamlin v. Smith, 72 N. Y. App. Div. 601, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 258; Bucklin v. Chapin, 1 Lans. 443; Matter of Bradley, 25 Misc. 261, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 555; Balz v. Underhill, 19 Misc. 215, 44 N. Y. Suppl. 419; Matter of Oosterhoudt, 15 Misc. 566, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 179; In re Hill, 7 N. Y. Suppl. 328, 2 Connoly Surr. 25; Burnett v. Noble, 5 Redf. Surr. 69. Compare Broome v. Van Hook, 1 Redf. Surr. 444.

Virginia.— Smith v. Pattie, 81 Va. 654; Tazewell v. Whittle, 13 Gratt. 329. And see Tunstall v. Pollard, 11 Leigh 1. But Compare West v. Smith, 8 How. (U. S.) 402, 12 L. ed. 1130, decided under the laws of Virginia.

West Virginia.— Van Winkle v. Blackford, 33 W. Va. 573, 11 S. E. 26.

Wyoming.— See O'Keefe v. Foster, 5 Wyo. 343, 40 Pac. 525.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 750.

No credit for payment of barred debt.— Matter of Oosterhoudt, 15 Misc. (N. Y.) 556, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 179; In re Hill, 7 N. Y. Suppl. 328, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 25; Willson v. Willson, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 462; Burnett v. Noble, 5 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 69; Freeman v. Freeman, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 137. See also Marshall v. Coleman, 187 Ill. 556, 58 N. E. 628 [modifying 89 Ill. App. 41]; Woods v. Elliott, 49 Miss. 168; Van Winkle v. Blackford, 33 W. Va. 573, 11 S. E. 26. But where the representative has paid a debt barred by the statute before the decedent's death, the court will presume, after a lapse of more than twenty years, that the executor had evidence of a new promise by the debtor in his lifetime, and that credit should be allowed for the payment. Broome v. Van Hook, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 444. Where it appeared in the settlement of an executor's account that a note executed by him and testator was barred by the statute of limitations, except for partial payments made thereon; that such payments were made by the executor with money furnished by testator for that purpose; that the note was given to aid the executor, who was testator's son, in purchasing a team; and that testator had designed paying the note himself, the executor was entitled to credit for the amount paid to cancel the note. Matter of Beach, 1 Misc. (N. Y.) 27, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 1079. Where the representative claims credit for the payment of barred debts, the allowance must be contested in the manner prescribed by law, but this must be done in the lower court and cannot be done for the first time on appeal, for La. Code, art. 3427, which declares that prescription may be pleaded in every stage of the cause, even after appeal, does not apply to such a case. Blakey's Succession, 12 Rob. (La.) 155.

Where the representative knows facts making the statute inapplicable he is not required to plead the statute of limitations, although the claim is apparently barred. Radford v. Fowlkes, 85 Va. 820, 8 S. E. 817.

A representative's unreasonable delay in making objections to a claim presented to him does not preclude him from asserting the statute of limitations as a bar to such claim. Bucklin v. Chapin, 1 Lans. (N. Y.) 443.

A former adjudication of the surrogate's court, dismissing a creditor's petition for an accounting and containing the statement that the proceeding was barred by the statute of limitations does not, under the New York statutes, constitute a final adjudication upon with the consent of the persons interested in the estate.[13] But the rule supported by the weight of authority is that the representative may exercise his discretion, and although as a general rule it is his duty to interpose the statute as a defense where the claim was barred at the time of the decedent's death,[14] or has been judicially declared outlawed by a competent court,[15] or is so stale as to raise the presumption of payment,[16] he is not bound to do so in all cases but may waive the bar where he believes the claim to be well founded and just,[17] where the per-the validity of the creditor's claim. Holly v. Gibbons, 176 N. Y. 520, 68 N. E. 889, 98 Am. St. Rep. 694 [reversing 67 N. Y. App. Div. 628, 74 N. Y. Suppl. 1132].

Keeping subsisting debt in force.— The rule preventing the personal representative from reviving a barred debt does not prevent him from keeping a subsisting debt in force as by making payments thereon. Holly v. Gibbons, 176 N. Y. 520, 68 N. E. 889, 98 Am. St. Rep. 694 [reversing 67 N. Y. App. Div. 628, 74 N. Y. Suppl. 1132]; Heath v. Grenell, 61 Barb. (N. Y.) 190.

13. Spicer v. Raplee, 4 N. Y. App. Div. 471, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 806, holding that a claim is relieved of the bar where, in addition to a written acknowledgment and promise by the executor, the heirs, devisees, and legatees of the deceased sign another paper requesting the executor to pay the claim, and reciting that if it is paid they will make no claim against him on account thereof.

14. Rector v. Conway, 20 Ark. 79; Rogers v. Wilson, 13 Ark. 507; McBride v. Hunter, 64 Ga. 655; Du Bignon v. Backer, 61 Ga. 206; Moore v. Porcher, Bailey Eq. (S. C.) 195; King v. Cassidy, 36 Tex. 531; Moore v. Hardison, 10 Tex. 467. See also Wilson v. Wilson, McMull. Eq. (S. C.) 329.

15. Crabtree v. Graham, 81 Ga. 290, 6 S. E. 426; Midgley v. Midgley, [1893] 3 Ch. 282, 62 L. J. Ch. 905, 69 L. T. Rep. N. S. 241, 2 Reports 561, 41 Wkly. Rep. 659.

16. Rogers v. Wilson, 13 Ark. 507; Barnawell v. Smith, 58 N. C. 168. And see McCulloch v. Dawes, 9 D. & R. 40, 5 L. J. K. B. O. S. 56, 30 Rev. Rep. 515, 22 E. C. L. 587.

As to presumption of payment from lapse of time see, generally, PAYMENT.

17. Alabama.— Steele v. Steele, 64 Ala. 438, 38 Am. Rep. 15; Scott v. Ware, 64 Ala. 174; Ex p. Perryman, 25 Ala. 79, 60 Am. Dec. 494; Knight v. Godbolt, 7 Ala. 304.

Arkansas.— Conway v. Reyburn, 22 Ark. 290 [distinguishing Rector v. Conway, 20 Ark. 79; Rogers v. Wilson, 13 Ark. 507].

Delaware.—Chambers v. Fennemore, 4 Harr. 368.

Kentucky.— Payne v. Pusey, 8 Bush 564. See also Lee v. Colston, 5 T. B. Mon. 238.

Maryland.— Semmes v. Magruder, 10 Md. 242; Quynn v. Carroll, 10 Md. 197; Miller v. Dorsey, 9 Md. 317; Chapman v. Dixon, 4 Harr. & J. 527; Forbes v. Perrie, 1 Harr. & J. 109.

Massachusetts.— Emerson v. Thompson, 16 Mass. 429; Scott v. Hancock, 13 Mass. 162.

New Hampshire.— Hodgdon v. White, 11 N. H. 208.

New Jersey.— Pursel v. Pursel, 14 N. J. Eq. 514.

North Carolina.— Halliburton v. Carson, 100 N. C. 99, 5 S. E. 912, 6 Am. St. Rep. 565; Barnawell v. Smith, 58 N. C. 168; Leigh v. Smith, 38 N. C. 442, 42 Am. Dec. 182; Williams v. Maitland, 36 N. C. 92.

Ohio.— See Joyce v. Hart, 11 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 487, 27 Cinc. L. Bul. 144.

Pennsylvania.— Woods v. Irwin, 141 Pa. St. 278, 21 Atl. 603, 23 Am. St. Rep. 282; Ritter's Appeal, 23 Pa. St. 95; Steel v. Steel, 12 Pa. St. 64; Kennedy's Appeal, 4 Pa. St. 149; Fritz v. Thomas, 1 Whart. 66, 29 Am. Dec. 39; Smith v. Porter, 1 Binn. 209; Smith's Estate, 1 Ashm. 352.

South Carolina.— Bolt v. Dawkins, 16 S. C. 198; Walter v. Radcliffe, 2 Desauss. 577. Compare Millwee v. Jay, 47 S. C. 430, 25 S. E. 298.

Tennessee.— Bates v. Elrod, 13 Lea 156; Batson v. Murrell, 10 Humphr. 301, 51 Am. Dec. 707; Brown v. Porter, 7 Humphr. 373.

United States.— In re Huger, 100 Fed. 805; Fairfax v. Fairfax, 8 Fed. Cas. No. 4,613, 2 Cranch C. C. 25.

England.— Norton v. Frecker, 1 Atk. 526, 26 Eng. Reprint 330; Midgley v. Midgley, [1893] 3 Ch. 282, 62 L. J. Ch. 905, 69 L. T. Rep. N. S. 241, 2 Reports 561, 41 Wkly. Rep. 659; In re Rownson, 29 Ch. D. 358, 49 J. P. 759, 54 L. J. Ch. 950, 52 L. T. Rep. N. S. 825, 33 Wkly. Rep. 604; Hunter v. Baxter, 3 Giff. 214, 31 L. J. Ch. 432, 5 L. T. Rep. N. S. 46; Hill v. Walker, 4 Kay & J. 166; Stahlschmidt v. Lett, 1 Sm. & G. 415.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 750.

The rule applies to an appointee in trust under a will executed by a married woman who acted under a power of appointment. Leigh v. Smith, 38 N. C. 442, 42 Am. Dec. 182.

Although a presumption of payment may have arisen from lapse of time, the representative may properly pay the debt if he has personal knowledge or ample proof that it still subsists. Halliburton v. Carson, 100 N. C. 99, 5 S. E. 912, 6 Am. St. Rep. 565 [distinguishing Barnawell v. Smith, 58 N. C. 168].

Representative who has paid barred debt entitled to credit.— Halliburton v. Carson, 100 N. C. 99, 5 S. E. 912, 6 Am. St. Rep. 565; Anderson's Appeal, 3 Walk. (Pa.) 497; Hunter v. Baxter, 3 Giff. 214, 31 L. J. Ch. 432, 5 L. T. Rep. N. S. 46. See also Pursel v. Pursel, 14 N. J. Eq. 514.

Negligent conduct of defense.— Although the representative is not bound to plead the sonal estate is sufficient to pay the debt without resorting to the realty,[18] where interposing the statute would cut off rights of the estate against third persons,[19] or where the bar did not accrue until after the decedent's death.[20] But it has been said that the rule allowing the personal representative to waive the bar of the statute is anomalous and ought not to be extended.[21] Where the personal representative is entitled to the entire estate as sole distributee, legatee, or devisee he has the same power to waive the statute of limitations as the debtor had in his lifetime.[22]

(II) As to Representative's Own Claim.[23] In some jurisdictions the representative may waive the statute of limitations as to a claim of his own, or may exercise his right of retainer although his claim is barred,[24] although in other jurisdictions the rule is otherwise where the claim was barred in the debtor's lifetime,[25] or at the date of the representative's qualification,[26] or before his intention to retain for the debt was made known.[27]

(III) Waiver by One of Several Representatives. In jurisdictions where the personal representative has the power to take a debt of the estate out of the operation of the statute of limitations, a promise by one of several co-executors or co-administrators may be sufficient for this purpose,[28] and likewise the statute statute, yet if he refuses payment on the sole ground that the claim is barred, and thereby induces litigation in which he acts as his own attorney, he must exercise the same degree of diligence that would be required of him in making any other defense, especially where he stands in intimate and confidential relations to the creditor; and under such circumstances, if he so negligently conducts the defense that the creditor recovers judgment, he is not entitled to credit for the judgment, although he is forced to pay it. Teague v. Corbitt, 57 Ala. 529.

18. Lee v. Downey, 68 Ala. 98; Steele v. Steele, 64 Ala. 438, 38 Am. Rep. 15; Scott v. Ware, 64 Ala. 174; Pollard v. Scears, 28 Ala. 484, 65 Am. Dec. 364.

19. King v. Cassidy, 36 Tex. 531.

20. Jordan v. Brown, 72 Ga. 495; Marietta Sav. Bank v. Janes, 66 Ga. 286; Smith v. Hudspeth, 63 Ga. 212; Castellaw v. Guilmartin, 54 Ga. 299.

21. Midgley v. Midgley, [1893] 3 Ch. 282, 62 L. J. Ch. 905, 69 L. T. Rep. N. S. 241, 2 Reports 561, 41 Wkly. Rep. 659; In re Rownson, 29 Ch. D. 358, 49 J. P. 759, 54 L. J. Ch. 950, 52 L. T. Rep. N. S. 825, 33 Wkly. Rep. 604.

22. Suhre v. Benton, (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 25 S. W. 822. See also Sumter v. Morse, 2 Hill Eq. (S. C.) 87.

23. As to the right of retainer generally see infra, X, D, 3, a.

24. Alabama.—Harwood v. Harper, 54 Ala. 659; Knight v. Godbolt, 7 Ala. 304.

Kentucky.— Payne v. Pusey, 8 Bush 564.

Maryland.— Semmes v. Magruder, 10 Md. 242, holding that so long as a creditor is administrator the statute of limitations can have no effect upon the demand.

England.— Hill v. Walker, 4 Kay & J. 166; Stahlschmidt v. Lett, 1 Sm. & G. 415. See also In re Rownson, 29 Ch. D. 358, 49 J. P. 759, 54 L. J. Ch. 950, 52 L. T. Rep. N. S. 825, 33 Wkly. Rep. 604; Hunter v. Baxter, 3 Giff. 214, 31 L. J. Ch. 432, 5 L. T. Rep. N. S. 46; Sharman v. Rudd, 4 Jur. N. S. 527, 27 L. J. Ch. 844.

Canada.— Crooks v. Crooks, 4 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 615. See also Emes v. Emes, 11 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 325.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 750–753, 1014.

25. Arkansas.— See Rector v. Conway, 20 Ark. 79.

Connecticut.—Ensign v. Batterson, 68 Conn. 298, 36 Atl. 51.

Florida.— Sanderson v. Sanderson, 17 Fla. 820, holding this to be true where the debt was not barred in the lifetime of the testator or at the date of the issuing of letters.

Georgia.— Beckham v. Beckham, 113 Ga. 381, 38 S. E. 817. But see Baker v. Bush, 25 Ga. 594, 71 Am. Dec. 193.

Massachusetts.— In re Richmond, 2 Pick. 567.

New York.— Rogers v. Rogers, 3 Wend. 503, 20 Am. Dec. 716; Burnett v. Noble, 5 Redf. Surr. 69. See also Gilbert v. Comstock, 93 N. Y. 484, holding, however, that by reason of a part payment made by the testator, the liability for whatever was unpaid six years prior thereto was renewed.

Pennsylvania.— Hoch's Appeal, 21 Pa. St. 280.

South Carolina.— Cooper v. Peyton, Rich. Eq. Cas. 259.

Tennessee.— Williams v. Williams, 15 Lea 438.

West Virginia.— See Cann v. Cann, 40 W. Va. 138, 20 S. E. 910.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 750–753, 1074.

26. Sanderson v. Sanderson, 17 Fla. 820; Godbold v. Vance, 14 S. C. 458; Batson v. Murrell, 10 Humphr. (Tenn.) 301, 51 Am. Dec. 707.

27. Harrison v. Henderson, 7 Heisk. (Tenn.) 315; Byrn v. Fleming, 3 Head (Tenn.) 658; Wharton v. Marberry, 3 Sneed (Tenn.) 603.

28. Delaware.— Conoway v. Spicer, 5 Harr. 425.

of limitations may be tolled by a part payment made by one of several representatives.[29]

c. Power of Heirs or Devisees to Waive Bar. Inasmuch as the heir or devisee has no authority over the estate of his decedent, he cannot by any acknowledgment, promise, or part payment, affect the operation of the statute of limitations or the presumption of payment as to a debt of the decedent, so far as the estate is concerned;[30] although he is managing the estate without letters of administration,[31] or has been appointed personal representative but has not yet qualified.[32] But so far as his own rights or property are concerned the statute of limitations is a personal defense to him, and he may of course waive it or by reason of his conduct be estopped to plead it.[33]

d. Acts Constituting Waiver — (i) Acknowledgment of Promise to Pay — (a) In General. In many jurisdictions a representative's acknowledgment and promise to pay an indebtedness barred by the statute of limitations is not sufficient to waive the bar;[34] and it is held in some of these jurisdictions that the Kentucky.— Northcut v. Wilkinson, 12 B. Mon. 408; Head v. Manners, 5 J. J. Marsh. 255; Hord v. Lee, 4 T. B. Mon. 36.

New Jersey.— Shreve v. Joyce, 36 N. J. L. 44, 13 Am. Rep. 417.

New York.— See Hammon v. Huntley, 4 Cow. 493, holding that while an acknowledgment that a debt was due from the deceased might be sufficient to remove it from the statute of limitations, it was not sufficient evidence to authorize a verdict against all of the executors.

South Carolina.— Lomax v. Spierin, Dudley 365; Briggs v. Starke, 2 Mill 111, 12 Am. Dec. 659.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 750½.

In England the rule was formerly to the contrary (Tullock v. Dunn, R. & M. 416, 21 E. C. L. 784) but under Lord Tenterden's Act a promise in writing made and signed by one of several executors in his representative capacity is binding upon the decedent's estate and takes the debt out of the statute of limitations (In re Macdonald, [1897] 2 Ch. 181, 66 L. J. Ch. 630, 76 L. T. Rep. N. S. 713, 45 Wkly. Rep. 628).

Debt of co-representative.— One of two joint representatives cannot, by his admission and acknowledgment, revive a debt of the other against the estate which was barred at the decedent's death. Seig v. Acord, 21 Gratt. (Va.) 365, 8 Am. Rep. 605.

In Alabama a promise by one of two administrators to pay a debt is sufficient to take it out of the statute of limitations, when the action is against him only after the decease of his co-administrator (Hall v. Darrington, 9 Ala. 502), but where the promise is made by one acting alone it will not take the case out of the statute, if the action is against both representatives (Pitts v. Wooten, 24 Ala. 474; Caruthers v. Mardis, 3 Ala. 599).

In Maryland a promise or acknowledgment by one of several representatives will take the case out of the statute, where the promise or acknowledgment was made before the statute had fully run against the claim (McCann v. Sloan, 25 Md. 575); but the claim must be established by other proof and the promise or acknowledgment cannot be relied on for the purpose of establishing the existence of the debt as against the other representative (Pole v. Simmons, 49 Md. 14; McCann v. Sloan, supra); and as the promise or acknowledgment operates only to interrupt or toll the statute, it can have no effect unless made before the claim becomes barred (Pole v. Simmons, supra).

One of several representatives may plead the statute where the others stand neutral. Scull v. Wallace, 15 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 231; Davis' Estate, 1 Phila. (Pa.) 360. See also Midgley v. Midgley, [1893] 3 Ch. 282, 62 L. J. Ch. 905, 69 L. T. Rep. N. S. 241, 2 Reports 561, 41 Wkly. Rep. 659.

29. Heath v. Grenell, 61 Barb. (N. Y.) 190; Matter of Bradley, 25 Misc. (N. Y.) 261, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 555.

30. Gibson v. Lowndes, 28 S. C. 285, 5 S. E. 727; Bolt v. Dawkins, 16 S. C. 198. See also Smith v. Pattie, 81 Va. 654.

31. Bolt v. Dawkins, 16 S. C. 198.

32. Gibson v. Lowndes, 28 S. C. 285, 5 S. E. 727; Bolt v. Dawkins, 16 S. C. 198.

33. Grimball v. Mastin, 77 Ala. 553; Lengar v. Hazlewood, 11 Lea (Tenn.) 539. See also infra, X, A, 18, f, (v).

34. Florida.— Sanderson v. Sanderson, 17 Fla. 820; Patterson v. Cobb, 4 Fla. 481.

Louisiana.— Romero's Succession, 31 La. Ann. 721; Dickson v. Compton, 24 La. Ann. 83; Flanner v. Lecompte, 23 La. Ann. 193. But see Dejean's Succession, 8 La. Ann. 505.

Mississippi.— Huntington v. Bobbitt, 46 Miss. 528; Waul v. Kirkman, 25 Miss. 609; Bingaman v. Robertson, 25 Miss. 501; Sanders v. Robertson, 23 Miss. 389; Henderson v. Ilsley, 11 Sm. & M. 9, 49 Am. Dec. 41.

Missouri.— Cape Girardeau County v. Harbison, 58 Mo. 90.

New York.— Schutz v. Morette, 146 N. Y. 137, 40 N. E. 780 [reversing 81 Hun 518, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 39]; In re Kendrick, 107 N. Y. 104, 13 N. E. 762 [affirming 15 Abb. N. Cas. 189, 3 Dem. Surr. 301]; Bloodgood v. Bruen, 8 N. Y. 362; Yates v. Wing, 42 N. Y. App.

representative's promise to pay before the debt becomes barred does not interrupt the running of the statute in favor of the estate,[35] but that whether the promise is made before or after the expiration of the statutory period if it is supported by a valid consideration[36] it binds the representative as his personal contract,[37] and precludes him from deriving any advantage from the previous lapse of time.[38] The distinction has been made, however, that, while the representative's promise will not revive a debt barred in the debtor's lifetime, if the statutory period expires after his death the promise will remove the bar[39] or interrupt the running

Div. 356, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 78; Bucklin v. Chapin, 1 Lans. 443; Heath v. Grenell, 61 Barb. 190; Balz v. Underhill, 19 Misc. 215, 44 N. Y. Suppl. 419; Clark v. Clark, 8 Paige 152, 35 Am. Dec. 676; Stiles v. Burch, 5 Paige 132. But see Hammon v. Huntley, 4 Cow. 493; Johnson v. Beardslee, 15 Johns. 3.

North Carolina.— Grady v. Wilson, 115 N. C. 344, 20 S. E. 518, 44 Am. St. Rep. 461; Flemming v. Flemming, 85 N. C. 127; Oates v. Lilly, 84 N. C. 643. But see Cobham v. Administrators, 3 N. C. 6, 2 Am. Dec. 612, holding an admission by an administrator, when a note of his intestate was presented to him, in the form "it is the signature of the deceased, and all his just debts shall be paid" sufficient to take the case out of the statute of limitations.

Ohio.— Drouilliard v. Wilson, 1 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 555, 10 West. L. J. 385.

Pennsylvania.— In re Claghorn, 181 Pa. St. 608, 37 Atl. 921; In re Claghorn, 181 Pa. St. 600, 37 Atl. 918, 59 Am. St. Rep. 680; Clark v. McGuire, 35 Pa. St. 259; Steel v. Steel, 12 Pa. St. 64; Forney v. Benedict, 5 Pa. St. 225; Reynolds v. Hamilton, 7 Watts 420; Fritz v. Thomas, 1 Whart. 66, 29 Am. Dec. 39; Matter of McWilliams, 5 Pa. L. J. 265. See also Jones v. Moore, 5 Binn. 573, 6 Am. Dec. 428, holding that an acknowledgment does not revive an old debt but is some evidence of a promise to pay.

South Carolina.— Bolt v. Dawkins, 16 S. C. 198; Reigne v. Desportes, Dudley 118; Pearce v. Zimmerman, Harp. 305; Knox v. McCall, 1 Brev. 531; Wilson v. Wilson, McMull. Eq. 329. And see Milwe v. Jay, 47 S. C. 430, 25 S. E. 298; Jones v. Jenkins, 2 McCord 494.

Tennessee.— Ricketts v. Ricketts, 4 Lea 163; Peck v. Wheaton, Mart. & Y. 353.

Virginia.— Smith v. Pattie, 81 Va. 654; Seig v. Acord, 21 Gratt. 365, 8 Am. Rep. 605; Tazewell v. Whittle, 13 Gratt. 329. And see Fisher v. Duncan, 1 Hen. & M. (Va.) 563, 3 Am. Dec. 605.

Washington.— Montreal Bank v. Buchanan, 32 Wash. 480, 73 Pac. 482.

West Virginia.— Findley v. Cunningham, 53 W. Va. 1, 44 S. E. 472; Stiles v. Laurel Fork Oil, etc., Co., 47 W. Va. 838, 35 S. E. 986; Van Winkle v. Blackford, 33 W. Va. 573, 11 S. E. 26.

United States.— Thompson v. Peter, 12 Wheat. 565, 6 L. ed. 730. And see Wilkins v. Murphey, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,663, Brunn. Col. Cas. 21, 3 N. C. 282.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 752.

Giving a new note in place of one already prescribed does not revive the debt. Dickson v. Compton, 24 La. Ann. 83.

A surrogate's decree establishing the indebtedness of an estate upon a promissory note given by the decedent, and ordering a pro rata payment thereon out of the assets, does not in law amount to a promise by the representative to pay the balance of the debt so as to deprive him of the benefit of the statute of limitations. Arnold v. Downing, 11 Barb. (N. Y.) 554.

35. In re Claghorn, 181 Pa. St. 608, 37 Atl. 921; In re Claghorn, 181 Pa. St. 600, 37 Atl. 918, 59 Am. St. Rep. 680; Forney v. Benedict, 5 Pa. St. 225; Van Winkle v. Blackford, 33 W. Va. 573, 11 S. E. 26. See also Oates v. Lilly, 84 N. C. 643.

36. Such a promise must, like other promises, have a valid consideration, but the detriment suffered by the creditor in forbearing to enforce his demand against the estate constitutes a sufficient consideration. Forney v. Benedict, 5 Pa. St. 225 [explaining Case v. Cushman, 1 Pa. St. 241]. See also CONTRACTS, 9 Cyc. 343.

37. In re Claghorn, 181 Pa. St. 608, 37 Atl. 921; In re Claghorn, 181 Pa. St. 600, 37 Atl. 918, 59 Am. St. Rep. 680; Forney v. Benedict, 5 Pa. St. 225. See also Oates v. Lilly, 84 N. C. 643; and supra, VIII, D, 4.

38. Forney v. Benedict, 5 Pa. St. 225.

39. Pearce v. Zimmerman, Harp. (S. C.) 305.

It is provided by the Georgia code (Code (1895), § 3433; Code (1892), § 2542) that the personal representative may in his discretion relieve a debt from the bar interposed by the lapse of time, by a new promise to pay, provided such bar had not occurred in the lifetime of the debtor; but that in such cases the distributees can make the representative responsible by proving that the claim against the estate was in reality unjust. Jordan v. Brown, 72 Ga. 495; Marietta Sav. Bank v. Janes, 66 Ga. 286; Du Bignon v. Backer, 61 Ga. 206, holding that it must appear that the cause of action was not barred before the debtor's death. Although the administrator has this discretionary power, yet where he has filed a bill to marshal assets and has brought the creditors with their claims before the court, he cannot arbitrarily relieve certain claims of the bar of the statute and plead the statute as to others. He will either be compelled to abstain from all interference in the matter, or, if allowed to interfere, it will be upon the condition of the statute.[40] In a number of jurisdictions, however, a representative may revive a barred debt if his acknowledgment is unqualified, amounting to an implied promise to pay,[41] or if he makes an express promise to pay[42] in writing.[43]

(B) Sufficiency of Acknowledgment or Promise.[44] In order that the representative's acknowledgment or promise may have the effect of taking a claim out of the statute as to the estate, it must be made in his representative capacity,[45] and voluntarily;[46] must be made to the creditor himself or his agent, not to a third person,[47] or if made to a third person must be intended to be communi-that he applies the same rule to all who have equally meritorious claims. Jordan v. Brown, 72 Ga. 495.

40. McLaren v. McMartin, 36 N. Y. 88; Matter of Robbins, 7 Misc. (N. Y.) 264, 27 N. Y. Suppl. 1009; Johnson v. Ballard, 11 Rich. (S. C.) 178; Lomax v. Spierin, Dudley (S. C.) 365; Reigne v. Desportes, Dudley (S. C.) 118; Wilson v. Wilson, McMull. Eq. (S. C.) 329; Walter v. Radcliffe, 2 Desauss. (S. C.) 577; Braxton v. Harrison, 11 Gratt. (Va.) 30; Bishop v. Harrison, 2 Leigh (Va.) 532. See also Sevier v. Gordon, 21 La. Ann. 373; Johnson v. Beardslee, 15 Johns. (N. Y.) 3.

A promise by a former representative is, it seems, equally available in an action against an administrator de bonis non. Bishop v. Harrison, 2 Leigh (Va.) 532 [followed in Braxton v. Harrison, 11 Gratt (Va.) 30].

In Louisiana it is held that where the claim of a creditor is duly presented and thereupon formally acknowledged by the representative, the latter becomes from that time the trustee of the creditor, and that prescription does not run against the claim as long as the decedent's heirs allow the assets of the estate to remain in the representative's custody. Renshaw v. Stafford, 30 La. Ann. 853 [explaining and distinguishing Sevier v. Gordon, 21 La. Ann. 373]; Romero's Succession, 29 La. Ann. 493; Johnson v. Waters, 111 U. S. 640, 4 S. Ct. 619, 28 L. ed. 547. See also Willis' Succession, 109 La. 281, 33 So. 314; Clothier v. Lemée, 33 La. Ann. 305. The filing by the representative of a statement of debts including the claim in question is a sufficient acknowledgment within the foregoing rule (Porter v. Hornsby, 32 La. Ann. 337) and so is the placing of the debt on the representative's account and asking for authority to pay it (Maraist v. Guilbeau, 31 La. Ann. 713). The written acknowledgment or judicial admission of a judgment debt of a succession, made by the executor before the debt is prescribed, will interrupt prescription. Patrick's Succession, 30 La. Ann. 1071.

41. Alabama.— Steele v. Steele, 64 Ala. 438, 38 Am. Rep. 15; Townes v. Ferguson, 20 Ala. 147; Hall v. Darrington, 9 Ala. 502. See also Scott v. Ware, 64 Ala. 174.

Delaware.— Chambers v. Fennemore, 4 Harr. 368; Bennington v. Parkins, 1 Harr. 128. But see Gailey v. Washington, 2 Harr. 204; Parkins v. Bennington, 1 Harr. 209, both decided under section 5 of the act of 1792, which has been repealed.

Kentucky.— Northcut v. Wilkinson, 12 B. Mon. 408; Head v. Manner, 5 J. J. Marsh. 255.

Massachusetts.— Emerson v. Thompson, 16 Mass. 429; Sullivan v. Holker, 15 Mass. 374. See also Baxter v. Penniman, 8 Mass. 133.

New Hampshire.— Preston v. Cutter, 64 N. H. 461, 13 Atl. 874; Brewster v. Brewster, 52 N. H. 52. And see Buswell v. Roby, 3 N. H. 468.

Texas.— Russ v. Cunningham, (Sup. 1891) 16 S. W. 446. But see Moore v. Hillebrant, 14 Tex. 312, 65 Am. Dec. 118.

England.— Phillips v. Beal, 32 Beav. 26; McCulloch v. Dawes, 9 D. & R. 40, 5 L. J. K. B. O. S. 56, 30 Rev. Rep. 515, 22 E. C. L. 587; Tullock v. Dunn, R. & M. 416, 21 E. C. L. 784.

Canada.— King v. Rogers, 31 Ont. 573, holding, however, that the acknowledgment proved was insufficient.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 752.

The promise of a former representative is equally available in an action against an administrator de bonis non. Emerson v. Thompson, 16 Mass. 429; Sullivan v. Holker, 15 Mass. 374.

42. Head v. Manner, 5 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 255; Bunker v. Athearn, 35 Me. 364; Oakes v. Mitchell, 15 Me. 360; Quynn v. Carroll, 10 Md. 197; Chapman v. Dixon, 4 Harr. & J. (Md.) 527; Forbes v. Perrie, 1 Harr. & J. (Md.) 109. And see Manson v. Gardiner, 5 Me. 108; Ecker v. New Windsor First Nat. Bank, 59 Md. 291.

43. Ensign v. Batterson, 68 Conn. 298, 36 Atl. 51; Peck v. Botsford, 7 Conn. 172, 18 Am. Dec. 92; Clawson v. McCune, 20 Kan. 337; Hewes v. Hurff, (N. J Err. & App. 1903) 55 Atl. 275; Shreve v. Joyce, 36 N. J. L. 44, 13 Am. Rep. 417. But see Hanson v. Towle, 19 Kan. 273. See, generally, LIMITATION OF ACTIONS.

44. See, generally, LIMITATION OF ACTIONS.

45. Chapman v. Dixon, 4 Harr. & J. (Md.) 527; Heath v. Grenell, 61 Barb. (N. Y.) 190; Bishop v. Harrison, 2 Leigh (Va.) 532.

An unauthorized promise of the representative's brother is not sufficient to take the debt out of the statute. Jones v. Jenkins, 2 McCord (S. C.) 494.

46. Everitt v. Williams, 45 N. J. L. 140. Compare Ritchey's Estate, 8 Pa. Super. Ct. 527, 43 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 194.

47. King v. Rogers, 31 Ont. 573.

cated to the creditor and to influence his conduct,[48] and must be definite and unequivocal.[49] A mere recognition of the debt is not sufficient, there must be a distinct promise to pay or such an acknowledgment as amounts to a promise.[50] In jurisdictions where an acknowledgment or promise by the personal representative will toll or waive the statute of limitations, an acknowledgment contained in a petition or pleading by him in a proceeding to which the creditor is a party may be sufficient,[51] but it is otherwise where the creditor is not a party.[52]

(II) PARTIAL PAYMENT.[53] Partial payment of a debt affected by the statute of limitations, whether the payment is made by the debtor in his lifetime or by his personal representative after his death, is regarded as a constructive acknowledgment of the debt's existence and as an act from which a promise to pay the balance may be implied; in other words, the act of making part payment is treated as evidence of an intention to waive the benefit of the statute, and, like other facts in evidence, is given weight according to the attending circumstances.[54]

48. In re Kendrick, 107 N. Y. 104, 13 N. E. 762 [affirming 15 Abb. N. Cas. 189, 3 Dem. Surr. 301].

49. Pole v. Simmons, 49 Md. 14; Everitt v. Williams, 45 N. J. L. 140; King v. Rogers, 31 Ont. 573, 575, where it is said: "One of three things must be proved: (1) A distinct acknowledgment of the debt; (2) a distinct promise to pay the debt; or (3) a conditional promise as to which the condition has happened." See also Reigne v. Desportes, Dudley (S. C.) 118, as to the happening of the condition.

50. Reigne v. Desportes, Dudley (S. C.) 118; Briggs v. Wilson, 5 De G. M. & G. 12, 54 Eng. Ch. 10; King v. Rogers, 31 Ont. 573.

The principle is this: A slight acknowledgment of an existing debt is sufficient to take the case out of the statute; because the jury may, and ought to presume a new promise; but the acknowledgment is to be taken altogether, and if, on the whole, it is inconsistent with a new promise, no new promise shall be implied, and the statute shall bar. Scull v. Wallace, 15 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 231.

Retaining assets to pay a claim, even when the act of retainer is evidenced by the record, does not amount to such a promise, admission, or acknowledgment as will waive the statutory bar. Pole v. Simmons, 49 Md. 14 [followed in Washington Market Co. v. Beckley, 4 Mackey (D. C.) 163].

51. McMillan v. Toombs, 74 Ga. 535.

Including a debt in a petition for the sale of property to pay debts of the estate has been held a sufficient acknowledgment to interrupt the running of the statute. Troendle v. De Bouchel, 33 La. Ann. 753; Berens v. Boutee, 31 La. Ann. 112. See also Matter of Robbins, 7 Misc. (N. Y.) 264, 27 N. Y. Suppl. 1009; Woodlief v. Bragg, 108 N. C. 571, 13 S. E. 211. But the contrary has been held on the ground that the representative was compelled by law to insert the debt and thus that there could be no inference of an intention to renew or extend the liability. Everitt v. Williams, 45 N. J. L. 140.

The filing of an account by an executor in the orphans' court, whether under the compulsion of a citation sur petition or by a voluntary act, tolls the running of the statute as to the fund brought into court by the account in respect to claims presented before final adjudication. Ritchey's Estate, 8 Pa. Super. Ct. 527, 43 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 194. But where the representative in his petition for judicial settlement of his accounts named the holder of a judgment as a creditor to be cited, merely describing him as a "judgment creditor" without specifying the amount of the judgment or the date of its recovery and without stating that any sum was due thereon, it was held that there was not such a written acknowledgment of the debt as would take it out of the operation of N. Y. Code Civ. Proc. § 376, which provides that a judgment shall be presumed to be paid after the expiration of twenty years unless within that time there be a payment made or an acknowledgment in writing signed by the party to be charged. In re Kendrick, 107 N. Y. 104, 13 N. E. 762 [affirming 15 Abb. N. Cas. 189, 3 Dem. Surr. 301].

52. Everitt v. Williams, 45 N. J. L. 140; In re Kendrick, 107 N. Y. 104, 13 N. E. 762 [affirming 15 Abb. N. Cas. 189, 3 Dem. Surr. 301].

Order to sell lands to pay debts.— It has been held in New Jersey that an order to sell lands to pay debts is not such an adjudication in favor of a creditor whose debt is included therein as prevents the administrator from setting up the statute of limitations in an action against him for the debt, for the creditor is not a party to the order or to the proceeding in which it is rendered; and that if the proceeds of a sale of lands under such an order are impressed with a trust for the payment of debts, the administrator is not thereby estopped from resorting to the statute at law, but if relief may be had on that ground it must be sought in a court of equity. Everitt v. Williams, 45 N. J. L. 140.

53. See, generally, LIMITATIONS OF ACTIONS.

54. See Cox v. Phelps, 65 Ark. 1, 45 S. W. 990; Foster v. Starkey, 12 Cush. (Mass.) 324; McLaren v. McMartin, 36 N. Y. 88; Arnold v. Downing, 11 Barb. (N. Y.) 554; In re Claghorn, 181 Pa. St. 608, 37 Atl. 921; Forney v. Benedict, 5 Pa. St. 225.

In some jurisdictions part payment by the representative will not revive a debt which was barred in the debtor's lifetime,[55] but it is generally held that a partial payment made by the personal representative on a debt of the estate before the period of limitations has expired operates to interrupt or toll the statute as to the unpaid residue,[56] and the same rule applies with respect to the common-law presumption of payment from lapse of time.[57] In order, however, that a part payment may toll the statute, it must be such a payment as can be treated as an admission of the continued existence of the debt and as an implied promise to pay the balance.[58]

e. Effect of Testamentary Provisions.[59] An explicit direction in a testator's will to disregard the statute of limitations in the payment of his debts authorizes the representative to pay all just debts, although barred by limitation,[60] and a direction to the executor to pay a specified debt is clearly a recognition of the debt, and an expression of an intention that it shall be paid regardless of the statute.[61] Likewise power may be conferred upon an executor by will which

55. McLaren v. McMartin, 36 N. Y. 88, 1 Transcr. App. (N. Y.) 226, 3 Abb. Pr. N. S. (N. Y.) 345, 33 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 449; Hamlin v. Smith, 72 N. Y. App. Div. 601, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 258; Heath v. Grenell, 61 Barb. (N. Y.) 190; Matter of Dunn, 5 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 124; In re Claghorn, 181 Pa. St. 608, 37 Atl. 921. See also Lafon v. His Executors, 3 Mart. N. S. (La.) 707; Milwee v. Jay, 47 S. C. 430, 25 S. E. 298.

56. Louisiana.— Beatty v. Tete, 9 La. Ann. 131.

Maryland.— Semmes v. Magruder, 10 Md. 242; Quynn v. Carroll, 10 Md. 197.

Massachusetts.— Foster v. Starkey, 12 Cush. 324 [followed in Slattery v. Doyle, 180 Mass. 27, 61 N. E. 264].

New Hampshire.— See Brewster v. Brewster, 52 N. H. 52.

New York.— Holly v. Gibbons, 176 N. Y. 520, 68 N. E. 889, 98 Am. St. Rep. 694 [reversing 67 N. Y. App. Div. 628, 74 N. Y. Suppl. 1132]; Hamlin v. Smith, 72 N. Y. App. Div. 601, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 258; Heath v. Grenell, 61 Barb. 190; Matter of Bradley, 25 Misc. 261, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 555.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 752.

An express promise to pay the balance is not necessary, the implied promise arising from the fact of part payment is sufficient. Foster v. Starkey, 12 Cush. (Mass.) 324.

Part payment by a former representative tolls the statute as against the administrator de bonis non. Semmes v. Magruder, 10 Md. 242; Quynn v. Carroll, 10 Md. 197. But see Miller v. Dorsey, 9 Md. 317.

Where a person administers both as tutor and curator, any payment which he makes upon the debt, whether made in the one capacity or the other, interrupts prescription. Ducker's Succession, 10 La. Ann. 758.

Payment on claim afterward assigned to administrator.— A payment made by an administrator on the claim of a third person stops the running of the statute against the claim, although it is afterward assigned to the administrator. Matter of Robbins, 7 Misc. (N. Y.) 264, 27 N. Y. Suppl. 1009.

Joint settlement.— The payment of interest on the individual note of a testator, given at the time of a joint settlement by him and his wife, before her death, does not operate to prevent the statute of limitations from running against his deceased wife's note, which was included in the settlement. Shipman v. Lord, 58 N. J. Eq. 380, 44 Atl. 215.

57. Bell v. Wood, 94 Va. 677, 27 S. E. 504. And see PAYMENT.

58. Cox v. Phelps, 65 Ark. 1, 45 S. W. 990; Arnold v. Downing, 11 Barb. (N. Y.) 554.

A part payment out of representative's own funds on an overdue note of his decedent will not stop the running of the statute in favor of the estate. Heath v. Grennell, 61 Barb. (N. Y.) 190.

A claim not authenticated by affidavit as required by the statute of non-claim cannot be legally allowed or paid by the representative, hence a part payment or the payment of interest on such a claim does not suspend the statute of limitations, although such payments be subsequently approved by the probate court. Cox v. Phelps, 65 Ark. 1, 45 S. W. 990.

Payment must be voluntary. Arnold v. Downing, 11 Barb. (N. Y.) 554.

59. Testamentary charge or trust to pay debts as affecting the statute of limitations see, generally, WILLS.

60. Williams v. Williams, 15 Lea (Tenn.) 438; Campbell v. Shotwell, 51 Tex. 27.

Claims of the representative barred by statute cannot be paid under a provision empowering him to pay if he sees proper just debts barred by the statute of limitations (Williams v. Williams, 15 Lea (Tenn.) 438) unless the provision empowers him to make a settlement of the account between himself and the testator without limitation as to time (Hamner v. Hamner, 3 Head (Tenn.) 398).

Right to interpose statute.— The executors are not precluded by such a provision from pleading the statute of limitations in bar of a suit on one of the liabilities embraced within such provision. Bosworth v. Smith, 9 R. I. 67.

61. Gilbert v. Morrison, 53 Hun (N. Y.) 442, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 491. See also McHardy will authorize him to make an acknowledgment or promise to pay which will take a debt out of the operation of the statute.[62] An acknowledgment or admission contained in a will in which the debt is specifically mentioned may be sufficient to toll the statute of limitations, and it appears to be quite sufficient if in the form of a direction to the executor to pay the debt,[63] but it cannot have this effect if the instrument is not properly attested and therefore does not constitute a valid will,[64] or if the will is revoked before the creditor knows of the promise or acknowledgment.[65] The promise or acknowledgment in the will must be unconditional, or if coupled with terms and conditions of any kind they must be fulfilled;[66] and if a legacy or devise is relied upon as an admission of a debt, the legatee or devisee by electing to enforce his claim as creditor renounces the provision in his favor,[67] and therefore waives the admission and cannot rely upon it to prevent the operation of the statute.[68]

f. Who May Interpose Statute When Waived by Representative — (i) CREDITORS. As a general rule a creditor whose claim is not barred by the statute of limitations is entitled to interpose the statute against claims which are barred where the assets are insufficient to pay all in full, and the failure of the representative to interpose the statute does not affect the right of the creditor to do so.[69] Where the statute is thus interposed the personal representative has no longer any power to bind the objecting creditor by acknowledging the debt as a subsisting claim,[70] but it has been said that a creditor's resistance of a barred claim of another creditor is effectual only when it would have been effectual if made by the representative himself.[71] The rule permitting a creditor to inter-

v. McHardy, 7 Fla. 301; Perkins v. Seigfried, 97 Va. 444, 34 S. E. 64.

Where the will recognizes the debt and directs payment of the principal and interest by the testamentary trustee, and the trustee pays the interest, the debt is taken out of the operation of the statute. Waughop v. Bartlett, 165 Ill. 124, 46 N. E. 197 [affirming 61 Ill. App. 252].

62. Waul v. Kirkman, 25 Miss. 609.

63. Illinois.— Waughop v. Bartlett, 165 Ill. 124, 46 N. E. 197 [affirming 61 Ill. App. 252]; Miller v. Simons, 71 Ill. App. 369.

Iowa.— Stewart v. McFarland, 84 Iowa 55, 50 N. W. 221.

New York.— Gilbert v. Morrison, 53 Hun 442, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 491.

Pennsylvania.— Pillion's Estate, 15 Pa. Co. Ct. 8, 35 Wkly. Notes Cas. 68.

Virginia.— See Perkins v. Seigfried, 97 Va. 444, 34 S. E. 64.

See, generally, WILLS.

64. Allen v. Collier, 70 Mo. 138, 35 Am. Rep. 416.

65. Smith v. Camp, 58 Hun (N. Y.) 434, 12 N. Y. Suppl. 363. See also Petrie v. Mott, 38 Hun (N. Y.) 259.

66. Stewart v. McFarland, 84 Iowa 551, 50 N. W. 221; Stansbury v. Stansbury, 20 W. Va. 23.

67. See, generally, WILLS.

68. Stewart v. McFarland, 84 Iowa 55, 50 N. W. 221; Cresman v. Caster, 2 Browne (Pa.) 123; Stansbury v. Stansbury, 20 W. Va. 23.

69. Georgia.— See McBride v. Hunter, 64 Ga. 655.

Louisiana.— See Lafon v. His Executors, 3 Mart. N. S. 707.

New York.— In re Kendrick, 107 N. Y. 104, 13 N. E. 762 [affirming 15 Abb. N. Cas. 189, 3 Dem. Surr. 301].

North Carolina.— Oates v. Lilly, 84 N. C. 643. Compare Moore v. Edwards, 92 N. C. 43.

Pennsylvania.— In re Claghorn, 181 Pa. St. 608, 37 Atl. 921; In re Claghorn, 181 Pa. St. 600, 37 Atl. 918, 59 Am. St. Rep. 680 [distinguishing McWilliams' Appeal, 117 Pa. St. 111, 11 Atl. 383]; Ritter's Appeal, 23 Pa. St. 95; In re Kittera, 17 Pa. St. 416; Felton's Estate, 7 Pa. Dist. 262. But see Matter of Smith, 1 Ashm. 352.

South Carolina.— Wilson v. Wilson, McMull. Eq. 329.

Tennessee.— Bates v. Elrod, 13 Lea 156.

Virginia.— See Smith v. Pattie, 81 Va. 654.

Confession of judgment on barred claim.— It has been held in Pennsylvania that the representative may confess a judgment on a debt barred by the statute of limitations even though the estate is insolvent; that this does not constitute a fraud in law upon the creditors; and that unless fraud or collusion be alleged the creditors have no standing to ask that the judgment be opened so that they may interpose the statute. Woods v. Irwin, 141 Pa. St. 248, 21 Atl. 603, 23 Am. St. Rep. 282.

The individual creditors of a sole heir who is also administrator may plead the statute of limitations against debts of the decedent, and as against such creditors the administrator cannot by any promise revive the barred debts. Smith v. Pattie, 81 Va. 654.

70. In re Kendrick, 107 N. Y. 104, 13 N. E. 762 [affirming 15 Abb. N. Cas. 189, 3 Dem. Surr. 301].

71. Oates v. Lilly, 84 N. C. 643.

pose the statute of limitations against the claim of another creditor applies where the claimant is the personal representative.[72]

(II) Legatees and Distributees. In jurisdictions where the representative has a discretion as to interposing the statute of limitations,[73] it is clear on principle that his failure or refusal to plead the statute should be binding on those entitled to the personal estate as legatees or next of kin and should preclude them from taking advantage of the statute, and it has been so held,[74] although the rule has not always been strictly adhered to;[75] but in jurisdictions where the representative cannot waive the statute[76] his failure to interpose it does not bind the legatees or next of kin and the statute may be pleaded by them.[77] Where the personal representative as a creditor of the estate seeks to obtain payment of a claim barred in the decedent's lifetime, a legatee or distributee may successfully interpose the statute of limitations.[78]

(III) Heirs and Devisees. An heir or devisee may interpose the statute of limitations against a claim sought to be enforced against the real estate descended or devised,[79] and, since the personal representative has no power or control over the real estate of his decedent, his failure to interpose the statute of limitations to

72. Burnett v. Noble, 5 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 69; Re Ross, 29 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 385. See also Hoch's Appeal, 21 Pa. St. 280.

73. See supra, X, A, 18, b, (I).

74. Ex p. Perryman, 25 Ala. 79, 60 Am. Dec. 494; Leigh v. Smith, 38 N. C. 442, 42 Am. Dec. 182. See also Clinton v. Brophy, 10 Ir. Eq. 139.

In Maryland the right to interpose the statute of limitations as a technical plea against a creditor's claim in proceedings in the orphans' court is vested solely in the personal representative, although the court may consider the fact of the bar in connection with other evidence in determining the justice of the claim; but no decision of the orphans' court will divest the jurisdiction of a court of law over the same subject-matter. Bowling v. Lemar, 1 Gill 358, where the court did not decide whether in proceedings at law the legatee or distributee can defeat the claims of creditors by the plea of limitations. See also Yingling v. Hesson, 16 Md. 112.

75. See Ritter's Appeal, 23 Pa. St. 95; Hoch's Appeal, 21 Pa. St. 280; Clarke's Estate, 1 Phila. (Pa.) 356.

In England the rule appears to depend upon the proceeding in which the legatee or distributee attempts to set up the statute. See In re Wenham, [1892] 3 Ch. 59, 61 L. J. Ch. 565, 67 L. T. Rep. N. S. 648, 40 Wkly. Rep. 636; Briggs v. Wilson, 5 De G. M. & G. 12, 2 Eq. Rep. 153, 54 Eng. Ch. 10; Shewen v. Vanderhorst, 1 Russ. & M. 347, 5 Eng. Ch. 347, 39 Eng. Reprint 134, 1 L. J. Ch. 107, 2 Russ. & M. 75, 11 Eng. Ch. 75, 39 Eng. Reprint 323.

Acknowledgment by representative.— In South Carolina while the representative is generally not bound to plead the statute of limitations (see supra, X, A, 18, b, (I)) his acknowledgment or promise to pay a barred debt will not revive it against the estate (see supra, X, A, 18, d, (I), (A)) or against the legatees and distributees; hence his acknowledgment of a barred debt will not prevent the legatees and distributees from interposing the statute. Clarke v. Jenkins, 3 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 318; Wilson v. Wilson, McMull. Eq. (S. C.) 329.

76. See supra, X, A, 18, b, (I).

77. Lafon v. His Executors, 3 Mart. N. S. (La.) 707; Partridge v. Mitchell, 3 Edw. (N. Y.) 180; Burnett v. Noble, 5 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 69; Treat v. Fortune, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 116. Compare Willcox v. Smith, 26 Barb. (N. Y.) 316.

The statute may be set up at a reference to take an account of debts and of the administration. Partridge v. Mitchell, 3 Edw. (N. Y.) 180.

78. Hoch's Appeal, 21 Pa. St. 280; Cooper v. Peyton, Rich. Eq. Cas. (S. C.) 259. See also Burnett v. Noble, 5 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 69; Treat v. Fortune, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 116; Sumter v. Morse, 2 Hill Eq. (S. C.) 87. But see Clinton v. Brophy, 10 Ir. Eq. 139.

In Maryland the legatee or distributee cannot set up the statute in the orphans' court as a plea against the representative's claim, but the court may look to the fact of such a bar as evidence to be weighed with all other testimony in relation to any claim in determining on its justice and the propriety of passing or rejecting it. Yingling v. Hesson, 16 Md. 112; Bowling v. Lemar, 1 Gill 358.

79. Alabama.— Steele v. Steele, 64 Ala. 438, 38 Am. Rep. 15; Bond v. Smith, 2 Ala. 660.

Illinois.— Langworthy v. Baker, 23 Ill. 484; McCoy v. Morrow, 18 Ill. 519, 68 Am. Dec. 578.

Kentucky.— Payne v. Pusey, 8 Bush 564.

Maryland.— Collinson v. Owens, 6 Gill & J. 4. See also Dent v. Maddox, 4 Md. 522.

New York.— Willcox v. Smith, 26 Barb. 316; Mooers v. White, 6 Johns. Ch. 360; Warren v. Paff, 4 Bradf. Surr. 260; Skidmore v. Romaine, 2 Bradf. Surr. 122. See also Butler v. Johnson, 111 N. Y. 204, 18 N. E. 643 [reversing 4 Hun 206].

South Carolina.— McKinlay v. Gaddy, 26 S. C. 573, 2 S. E. 497 [distinguishing Bolt v. Dawkins, 16 S. C. 198].

Tennessee.— Bates v. Elrod, 13 Lea 156; Peck v. Wheaton, Mart. & Y. 353.

a creditor's claim can have no effect to subject the real estate to the creditor's demand and cannot prevent the heir or devisee from invoking the statute.[80] So also the representative's acknowledgment of the debt or his promise to pay it does not bind the real estate belonging to the heirs or devisees or affect their right to plead the statute,[81] and the same is true of a part payment[82] or a payment of interest by the representative,[83] although the rule appears to be otherwise where there is a devise to the executor in trust to pay debts.[84] It is generally held

Texas.— See Tucker v. Bryan, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 1157.

West Virginia.—See McClaugherty v. Croft, 43 W. Va. 270, 27 S. E. 246.

80. Alabama.— Steele v. Steele, 64 Ala. 438, 38 Am. Rep. 15; Scott v. Ware, 64 Ala. 174; Teague v. Corbitt, 57 Ala. 529.

Illinois.— Langworthy v. Baker, 23 Ill. 484; McCoy v. Morrow, 18 Ill. 519, 68 Am. Dec. 578.

Kentucky.— Grotenkemper v. Bryson, 79 Ky. 353; Payne v. Pusey, 8 Bush 564; Jones v. Mitchell, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 858. Under the act of Feb. 23, 1846 (Gen. Acts (1846), p. 53) the heir or devisee entitled to the real estate after the payment of debts may by a proper proceeding require the personal representative to plead the statute of limitations and upon his refusal to do so will be permitted to defend. Payne v. Pusey, 8 Bush 564; Lusk v. Anderson, 1 Metc. 426.

Louisiana.— See Lafon v. His Executors, 3 Mart. N. S. 707.

Maryland.— Collinson v. Owens, 6 Gill & J. 4. See also Dent v. Maddox, 4 Md. 522.

New York.— Mooers v. White, 6 Johns. Ch. 360. See also Butler v. Johnson, 111 N. Y. 204, 18 N. E. 643 [reversing 41 Hun 206].

North Carolina.— As to such claims as have not been reduced to judgment against the representative, the heirs and devisees may interpose the statute, although the representative has not done so. Proctor v. Proctor, 105 N. C. 222, 10 S. E. 1036; Smith v. Brown, 101 N. C. 347, 7 S. E. 890; Speer v. James, 94 N. C. 417; Bevers v. Parks, 88 N. C. 456. Compare Woodlief v. Bragg, 108 N. C. 571, 13 S. E. 211.

Pennsylvania.— See Hemphill v. Pry, 183 Pa. St. 593, 38 Atl. 1020.

South Carolina.— McKinlay v. Gaddy, 26 S. C. 573, 2 S. E. 497 [distinguishing Bolt v. Dawkins, 16 S. C. 128]. Compare Walter v. Radcliff, 2 Desauss. 577.

Tennessee.— Bates v. Elrod, 13 Lea 156; Peck v. Wheaton, Mart. & Y. 353. See also Woodfin v. Anderson, 2 Tenn. Ch. 331.

United States.— Ingle v. Jones, 9 Wall. 486, 19 L. ed. 621, applying the law of Maryland.

England.— See Briggs v. Wilson, 5 De G. M. & G. 12, 2 Eq. Rep. 153, 54 Eng. Ch. 10.

Contra.— Hodgdon v. White, 11 N. H. 208.

81. Alabama.— Scott v. Ware, 64 Ala. 174; Teague v. Corbitt, 57 Ala. 529; Bond v. Smith, 2 Ala. 660. See also Grimball v. Mastin, 77 Ala. 553; Steele v. Steele, 64 Ala. 438, 38 Am. Rep. 15; Harwood v. Harper, 54 Ala. 659.

Kentucky.— Grotenkemper v. Bryson, 79 Ky. 353; Jones v. Mitchell, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 858.

Maryland.— Collinson v. Owens, 6 Gill & J. 4. See also McDowell v. Goldsmith, 24 Md. 214.

New York.— Mooers v. White, 6 Johns. Ch. 360.

South Carolina.— Gibson v. Lowndes, 28 S. C. 285, 5 S. E. 727. Compare Walter v. Radcliff, 2 Desauss. 577.

Tennessee.— Peck v. Wheaton, Mart. & Y. 353. See also Woodfin v. Anderson, 2 Tenn. Ch. 331.

England.— Fordham v. Wallis, 10 Hare 217, 17 Jur. 228, 22 L. J. Ch. 548, 1 Wkly. Rep. 118, 44 Eng. Ch. 210.

Contra.— Hodgdon v. White, 11 N. H. 208; Woodlief v. Bragg, 108 N. C. 571, 13 S. E. 211.

Where the executors were also devisees and promised to pay the debt, the promise being made before the statutory period expired, and an action was brought to enforce the debt against the heirs and devisees, it was held upon the principle that the promise of one joint debtor will take the debt out of the statute as to the other, that the promise was binding upon the heirs and the other devisees, although they had not acknowledged the demand. Johnson v. Beardslee, 15 Johns. (N. Y.) 3.

82. Gibson v. Lowndes, 28 S. C. 285, 5 S. E. 727; Gilpin v. Phemmer, 10 Fed. Cas. No. 5,451, 2 Cranch C. C. 54, applying the law of Maryland. See also Grimball v. Mastin, 77 Ala. 553; Lafon v. His Executors, 3 Mart. N. S. (La.) 707.

Where a judgment had been rendered against the debtor in his lifetime and existed as a lien on the land at the time of his death, and judgment on a scire facias was rendered against the representative, it was held that a part payment by the representative would repel the presumption of payment arising from lapse of time, although it would be otherwise had the debt not been reduced to judgment. Lattimer v. Peterson, 2 Harr. (Del.) 366.

83. Fordham v. Wallis, 10 Hare 217, 17 Jur. 228, 22 L. J. Ch. 548, 1 Wkly. Rep. 118, 44 Eng. Ch. 210.

Consent.— The payment of interest by the personal representative tolls the statute as to all parties who consent to the payment, but not as to minor heirs, since they are incapable of giving their consent. Hemphill v. Pry, 183 Pa. St. 593, 38 Atl. 1020.

84. Waughop v. Bartlett, 165 Ill. 124, 46 N. E. 197 [affirming 61 Ill. App. 252]; Fordham v. Wallis, 10 Hare 217, 17 Jur. 228, 22 that where a creditor of the estate recovers judgment against the representative and payment of the judgment is claimed from the real estate, or if the personal representative has paid the judgment and claims reimbursement from land, the heir or devisee may protect his interests by showing that the debt on which the judgment is founded was barred at the time of its rendition.[85] Where the personal representative, as a creditor, seeks to enforce against the land or the proceeds thereof a claim barred in the lifetime of the decedent, the statute of limitations may be interposed by the heirs and devisees,[86] and as against them the representative cannot revive the claim.[87]

(iv) State Holding by Escheat. Where land of a decedent has escheated to the state neither the failure of the representative to plead the statute of limitations nor his acknowledgment of the debt affects the right of the state to interpose the statute.[88]

(v) Estoppel to Plead Statute.[89] Where legatees or distributees induce a creditor to delay enforcement of his claim until it becomes barred by the statute of limitations, they are estopped by their conduct from pleading the statute;[90] and, where they stand by without making inquiry into the affairs of the estate or offering any objection and permit the personal representative to pay a debt barred by the statute, they are bound by his payment and cannot object to his being credited therewith.[91] The heirs also may by their conduct be estopped to plead the statute.[92] On the other hand, although the heirs, legatees, or distributees may be estopped to plead the statute, a creditor may plead it in protection of his own claim,[93] or if the barred debt has been paid a creditor may object

L. J. Ch. 548, 1 Wkly. Rep. 118, 44 Eng. Ch. 210. See, generally, Wills.

85. Alabama.— Scott v. Ware, 64 Ala. 174; Teague v. Corbitt, 57 Ala. 529; Darrington v. Borland, 3 Port. 9. See also Steele v. Steele, 64 Ala. 438.

Kentucky.— See Jones v. Commercial Bank, 78 Ky. 413.

Maryland.— See Collinson v. Owens, 6 Gill & J. 4; Dent v. Maddox, 4 Md. 522.

New York.— See Sharpe v. Freeman, 45 N. Y. 802.

South Carolina.— Gilliland v. Caldwell, 1 S. C. 194. Compare Walter v. Radcliff, 2 Desauss. 577.

Tennessee.—Pea v. Waggoner, 5 Hayw. 242. See also Woodfin v. Anderson, 2 Tenn. Ch. 331.

West Virginia.— Saddler v. Kennedy, 26 W. Va. 636; Laidley v. Kline, 8 W. Va. 218.

United States.— Ingle v. Jones, 9 Wall. 486, 19 L. ed. 621, applying the law of Maryland. See also Deneale v. Stump, 8 Pet. 526, 528, 8 L. ed. 1032, 1033, applying the law of Virginia.

See Descent and Distribution, 14 Cyc. 212, 214.

Aliter in North Carolina, unless fraud or collusion be shown. Woodlief v. Bragg, 108 N. C. 571, 13 S. E. 211; Long v. Oxford, 108 N. C. 280, 13 S. E. 112; Proctor v. Proctor, 105 N. C. 222, 10 S. E. 1036; Smith v. Brown, 101 N. C. 347, 7 S. E. 890; Speer v. James, 94 N. C. 417.

86. Payne v. Pusey, 8 Bush (Ky.) 564; In re Richmond, 2 Pick. (Mass.) 567; Dring v. Greetham, 23 L. J. Ch. 156, 1 Wkly. Rep. 528.

Obtaining payment out of personalty.— Where the representative may waive the statute as to his own claim (see supra, X, A, 18, b, (II)), it has been said that if on the settlement of his accounts he obtains out of the personal estate payment of a claim which has been properly proved and allowed, the heir has no remedy, although the statute of limitations might have been pleaded by the debtor in his lifetime and the personal estate is insufficient to pay all the debts. Payne v. Pusey, 8 Bush (Ky.) 564.

87. In re Richmond, 2 Pick. (Mass.) 567.

88. Mooers v. White, 6 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 360.

89. See, generally, Estoppel, 16 Cyc. 671.

90. In re Claghorn, 181 Pa. St. 608, 37 Atl. 921 (where the executors were sole legatees and were held to be estopped); McWilliams' Appeal, 117 Pa. St. 111, 11 Atl. 383 [distinguishing York's Appeal, 110 Pa. St. 69, 1 Atl. 162, 2 Atl. 65].

91. Ritter's Appeal, 23 Pa. St. 95. Compare Matter of Oosterhoudt, 15 Misc. (N. Y.) 556, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 179.

92. Lengar v. Hazlewood, 11 Lea (Tenn.) 539.

Heirs inducing third persons to take up debts.— Where the heirs recognized certain claims as subsisting debts of the estate, and the deed of trust securing the debts as being an encumbrance upon the land, and by asserting that the debts were valid liens upon the land induced other persons to take up the debts, assuring such persons that they should have the land in satisfaction thereof, the heirs could not rely upon the statute of limitations. Lengar v. Hazlewood, 11 Lea (Tenn.) 539.

93. In re Claghorn, 181 Pa. St. 608, 37 Atl. 921 [distinguishing McWilliams' Appeal, to the allowance to the representative of credit in his accounts for the payment so made.[94]

19. Claims Arising After Death of Decedent[95] — a. In General. As a general rule claims arising after a decedent's death are not allowable directly against the estate,[96] although in many cases where the representative has rendered himself personally liable on such claim, if the claim properly arose out of some matter connected with the administration, he is allowed, after paying the same, to reimburse himself from the assets.[97] But to this rule there are many exceptions.[98]

117 Pa. St. 111, 11 Atl. 383]; Felton's Estate, 7 Pa. Dist. 262.

Fraudulent concealment of right of action.— Where through the fraud of the decedent in his lifetime and of the legatees (who were also executors) after his death, the claimant's right of action was concealed and not discovered by him until the statutory period had expired, it was held that the claim dated only from the discovery of the fraud, and therefore that another creditor could not successfully interpose the statute. In re Claghorn, 181 Pa. St. 608, 37 Atl. 921.

94. Matter of Oosterhoudt, 15 Misc. (N. Y.) 556, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 179, holding that the consent of the heirs to payment of an outlawed debt is not binding on creditors of the estate.

95. As to taxes and assessments see supra, X, A, 15.

96. California.— In re Williams, (1893) 32 Pac. 241.

Illinois.— Smith v. McLaughlin, 77 Ill. 596, charge of a physician for a post mortem examination, made on a coroner's inquest.

Indiana.— Mills v. Kuykendall, 2 Blackf. 47.

Kentucky.— Lucking v. Gegg, 12 Bush 298.

Maryland.— Simmons v. Tongue, 3 Bland 341; Watkins v. Worthington, 2 Bland 509.

Massachusetts.— Browne v. McDonald, 129 Mass. 66.

Missouri.— U. S. Presbyterian Church v. McElhinney, 61 Mo. 540. See also Ferguson v. Carson, 86 Mo. 673 [affirming 9 Mo. App. 497].

North Carolina.— Alexander v. Alexander, 120 N. C. 472, 27 S. E. 121.

Pennsylvania.— See In re Keyzey, 9 Serg. & R. 71, holding that a devisee of unpatented land belonging to the testator cannot call on the personal estate of the testator to pay the purchase-money and fees for patenting the land on taking out title.

Texas.— Giddings v. Heiskill, 44 Tex. 386.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 754.

Conversion by executor.— A decedent's estate is not liable for the conversion by the executor of property claimed by him as part of the estate, the executor being personally liable. Van Slooten v. Dodge, 145 N. Y. 327, 39 N. E. 950 [reversing 76 Hun 55, 27 N. Y. Suppl. 666].

Costs adjudged before decedent died, although assessed after, are a valid claim against the estate. Salter v. Neaville, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 488.

Insurance of realty.— Where premises were insured five years after the owner's death, and a note for premiums was given by the heirs and indorsed by the administrator, the insurer had no claim against the estate, the title being in the heirs, and it appearing that they had insured on their own account for the benefit of the mortgagee. Freehold First Nat. Bank v. Thompson, 61 N. J. Eq. 188, 48 Atl. 333.

97. See supra, VIII, C, 3, a; VIII, I, 8.

98. Indiana.— Bond v. Orndorf, 77 Ind. 583, holding that in an action against the estate of a deceased person on a note stipulating for the payment of attorney's fees, such fees may be recovered as a proper claim against the estate.

Kentucky.— Congrove v. Sanders, 3 J. J. Marsh. 574, holding that if an executor receives the amount of a judgment which the testator had assigned, and charges himself with it as executor, the estate of the testator is responsible for it.

Mississippi.— Evans v. Robertson, 54 Miss. 683, holding that while a person who advances supplies for the making of a crop to an administrator who is carrying on the decedent's farm under orders of the court must look alone to the crop for reimbursement and cannot subject the corpus of the estate, still where the proceeds of the crop have been applied to the payment of general creditors, he is subrogated to their rights and is entitled to satisfaction of his demand pro tanto out of the general assets.

Missouri.— Ferguson v. Carson, 86 Mo. 673 [affirming 9 Mo. App. 497] (holding that, where in an action commenced against decedent before his death, his administrator gave an appeal-bond with surety, and the surety had to pay the judgment, his claim was not within the rule prohibiting the allowance of any claim against the estate not in existence at the time of the death of the deceased); Manville v. Edgar, 8 Mo. App. 324 (holding that where, under a charter, a stock-holder is liable for debts of a corporation to the amount of his stock, the liability arises out of a contract; and where the debt accrues after the stock-holder's death, it is a claim for which the executor is liable).

Pennsylvania.— Miller v. Ege, 8 Pa. St. 352, holding that where executors confessed judgment against the estate in lieu of a judgment against a creditor of the estate, who was also a legatee, and took the latter's receipt for so much, to be accounted for on settlement, such transaction, being merely a substitution of creditors, and not an undertaking to pay a third person's debt, is a

b. Claims Arising Out of Performance of Contract With Decedent. The estate of a decedent may be held liable for a claim arising out of the performance after the decedent's death of an executory contract made with him during his lifetime.[99]

c. Funeral Expenses.[1] The estate of a decedent is liable for the reasonable expenses of his funeral and burial,[2] but where the undertaker or other person furnishing work or accessaries for the funeral or burial has done so upon the order and credit of a third person, he should look immediately to such person for payment.[3] Where the representative or a third person has rendered himself charge upon the estate, and execution may issue against the personal property thereof.

99. Toland v. Wells, 59 Ind. 529; Toland v. Stevenson, 59 Ind. 485; Nine's Estate, 2 Woodw. (Pa.) 403; Ferguson v. Willis, 88 Va. 136, 13 S. E. 392; Lenz v. Brown, 41 Wis. 172.

Notice from representative not to proceed under contract.— Where one has contracted with a person since deceased to build a church the fact that the administrator shortly after the work was commenced gave notice not to proceed therewith and that the estate would not be responsible therefor was no bar to a recovery for work done afterward when the church was completed according to the contract. Ferguson v. Willis, 88 Va. 136, 13 S. E. 392.

A verbal request by testator in his last illness is insufficient to bind the estate in law or equity. Deas v. McRae, 65 Ga. 531.

1. See supra, VIII, I, 8, b, (I).

2. California.— O'Donnell v. Slack, 123 Cal. 285, 55 Pac. 906, 43 L. R. A. 388.

Iowa.— Clark v. Sayre, 122 Iowa 591, 98 N. W. 484.

Louisiana.— McNeely's Succession, 50 La. Ann. 823, 24 So. 338.

Maine.— Fogg v. Holbrook, 88 Me. 169, 33 Atl. 792, 33 L. R. A. 660 (expenses incurred before appointment of administrator); Phillips v. Phillips, 87 Me. 324, 32 Atl. 963.

Massachusetts.— Studley v. Willis, 134 Mass. 155; Luscomb v. Ballard, 5 Gray 403, 66 Am. Dec. 374.

Missouri.— Hayden v. Maher, 67 Mo. App. 434.

New Hampshire.— Trueman v. Tilden, 6 N. H. 201.

New Jersey.— Sullivan v. Horner, 41 N. J. Eq. 299, 7 Atl. 411.

New York.— The decisions are not uniform, but the better supported rule appears to be that the funeral expenses, although not strictly speaking a debt of the decedent (Matter of Franklin, 26 Misc. 107, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 858) are a charge against the estate which the representatives must pay out of the assets. Patterson v. Patterson, 59 N. Y. 574, 17 Am. Rep. 384; Benedict v. Ferguson, 15 N. Y. App. Div. 96, 44 N. Y. Suppl. 307; Laird v. Arnold, 42 Hun 136; Laird v. Arnold, 25 Hun 4; Dalrymple v. Arnold, 21 Hun 110; McCue v. Garvey, 14 Hun 562; Lucas v. Hessen, 13 Daly 347; Rappelyea v. Russell, 1 Daly 214; Huhna v. Theller, 35 Misc. 296, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 752; Matter of Smith, 18 Misc. 139, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 1093; Kessell v. Hapen, 8 N. Y. St. 352. But see Ferrin v. Myrick, 41 N. Y. 315 [reversing 53 Barb. 76]; Murphy v. Naughton, 68 Hun 424, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 52; Matter of Schulz, 26 Misc. 688, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 952; Tracy v. Frost, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 561. This rule is now embodied in the New York Code of Civil Procedure (Laws (1901), c. 293, amending Code Civ. Proc. § 2729), which provides a remedy for enforcing payment by the representative. Whether this statute has any retroactive operation is a question upon which the different departments of the appellate division of the supreme court have taken apparently divergent views. See Matter of Kalbfleisch, 78 N. Y. App. Div. 464, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 651; Matter of Kipp, 70 N. Y. App. Div. 567, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 589.

Pennsylvania.—Flintham's Appeal, 11 Serg. & R. 16; Hoopes' Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. 67.

Rhode Island.— Moulton v. Smith, 16 R. I. 126, 12 Atl. 891, 27 Am. St. Rep. 728; Buxton v. Barrett, 14 R. I. 40, funeral expenses of deceased married woman chargeable to her estate.

Tennessee.— Nashville Trust Co. v. Carr, (Ch. App. 1900) 62 S. W. 204.

Vermont.— Sawyer v. Hebard, 58 Vt. 375, 3 Atl. 529; Shaw v. Hallihan, 46 Vt. 389, 14 Am. Rep. 628. But see Walton v. Hall, 66 Vt. 455, 29 Atl. 803.

England.— Green v. Salmon, 8 A. & E. 348, 2 Jur. 567, 7 L. J. Q. B. 236, 3 N. & P. 388, 1 W. W. & H. 460, 35 E. C. L. 625; Stag v. Punter, 3 Atk. 119, 26 Eng. Reprint 872; Hancock v. Podmore, 1 B. & Ad. 260, 8 L. J. K. B. O. S. 403, 20 E. C. L. 477; Rogers v. Price, 3 Y. & J. 28.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 755.

The representative is liable on an implied promise to persons furnishing a funeral suitable to the degree of the decedent, although this be done by direction of a third person. Sullivan v. Horner, 41 N. J. Eq. 299, 7 Atl. 411; Tugwell v. Heyman, 3 Campb. 298, 13 Rev. Rep. 810; Rogers v. Price, 3 Y. & J. 28.

3. Lucas v. Hessen, 13 Daly (N. Y.) 347; Hoffman v. Kanze, 7 Misc. (N. Y.) 237, 27 N. Y. Suppl. 260; Kessell v. Hapen, 8 N. Y. St. 352; Matter of Hill, 17 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 273; Quin v. Hill, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 69; Green v. Salmon, 8 A. & E. 348, 2 Jur. 567, 7 L. J. Q. B. 236, 3 N. & P. 388, 1 W. W. & H. 460, 35 E. C. L. 625 [explaining Brice v. Wilson, 3 L. J. K. B. 93, 3 N. & M. 512, 28 E. C. L. 615].

liable for the funeral expenses and has been compelled to pay them, or has defrayed such expenses in an emergency and under proper circumstances, he is entitled to reimbursement from the estate so far as the expenditures were reasonable and proper.[4] What shall be the reasonable expenses of funeral or burial for reimbursement from the estate, and what items may be properly included in such a charge, must depend largely upon the station in life of the decedent and his family, and the condition of his estate; and justice to creditors as well as to the surviving family demands that there shall be no extravagant outlay to their loss.[5] The funeral expenses of the decedent's wife and family

A mere request by the widow for the funeral or burial does not imply a personal obligation on her part to pay therefor. Hayden v. Maher, 67 Mo. App. 434. See also Nashville Trust Co. v. Carr, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1900) 62 S. W. 204, husband of decedent.

4. Massachusetts.— Marple v. Morse, 180 Mass. 508, 62 N. E. 966; Sweeney v. Muldoon, 139 Mass. 304, 31 N. E. 720, 52 Am. Rep. 708; Hapgood v. Houghton, 10 Pick. 154.

Minnesota.— Dampier v. St. Paul Trust Co., 46 Minn. 526, 49 N. W. 286; McNally v. Weld, 30 Minn. 209, 14 N. W. 895.

New Jersey.— Sullivan v. Horner, 41 N. J. Eq. 299, 7 Atl. 411.

New York.— Patterson v. Patterson, 59 N. Y. 574, 17 Am. Rep. 384; Pache v. Oppenheim, 93 N. Y. App. Div. 221, 87 N. Y. Suppl. 704 [affirming as to this point but reversing on other grounds 84 N. Y. Suppl. 926]; Hewett v. Bronson, 5 Daly 1; Rappelyea v. Russell, 1 Daly 214; Kessell v. Hapen, 8 N. Y. St. 352; Matter of Miller, 4 Redf. Surr. 302.

North Carolina.— Ray v. Honeycutt, 119 N. C. 510, 26 S. E. 127. But see Gregory v. Hooker, 8 N. C. 394, 9 Am. Dec. 646, holding that where a person of his own motion buries a deceased person, and without giving the administrator notice of the expenses, sues him, he cannot recover.

Pennsylvania.— France's Appeal, 75 Pa. St. 220; Harding's Estate, 7 Pa. Dist. 679, 21 Pa. Co. Ct. 641; Meyer's Estate, 18 Phila. 42.

Tennessee.— Loftis v. Loftis, 94 Tenn. 232, 28 S. W. 1091.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 755.

But compare Coleby v. Coleby, 12 Jur. N. S. 496, 14 L. T. Rep. N. S. 697, holding that, where an heir at law had voluntarily paid the funeral expenses of an intestate, the court would not allow the expenses to be refunded out of the intestate's personal estate.

Where a husband acting as personal representative of his deceased wife pays her funeral expenses, he is entitled to credit therefor in his accounts. McCue v. Garvey, 14 Hun (N. Y.) 562; Matter of Very, 24 Misc. (N. Y.) 139, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 389, 28 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 163.

Where the widow has received money from benevolent societies to defray her husband's funeral expenses, she can be reimbursed only for the excess paid over such amount. In re Griffiths, 1 Lack. Leg. N. (Pa.) 311; Meyer's Estate, 18 Phila. (Pa.) 42; Hyneman's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 135, 2 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 571. See supra, VIII, I, 8, b, (I).

5. District of Columbia.— Matter of Butler, 3 MacArthur 535.

Louisiana.— Hearing's Succession, 28 La. Ann. 149.

New Jersey.— Sullivan v. Horner, 41 N. J. Eq. 299, 7 Atl. 411.

New York.— Kittle v. Huntley, 67 Hun 617, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 519.

North Carolina.— Barbee v. Green, 92 N. C. 471.

Pennsylvania.— Cullen's Estate, 7 Pa. Dist. 394; Gorman's Estate, 2 Kulp 61, holding that where a decedent's estate is insolvent, and a family of minor children is left, no more can be allowed for funeral expenses than is necessary for a decent christian burial.

Tennessee.— Steger v. Frizzell, 2 Tenn. Ch. 369.

England.— Stag v. Punter, 3 Atk. 119, 26 Eng. Reprint 872; Hancock v. Podmore, 1 B. & Ad. 260, 8 L. J. K. B. O. S. 403, 20 E. C. L. 477; Yardley v. Arnold, C. & M. 434, 2 Dowl. P. C. N. S. 311, 6 Jur. 718, 11 L. J. Exch. 413, 10 M. & W. 141, 41 E. C. L. 239.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 755; and supra, VIII, I, 8, b, (v).

Estate not liable beyond reasonable expenses.— Green v. Salmon, 8 A. & E. 348, 2 Jur. 567, 7 L. J. Q. B. 236, 3 N. & P. 388, 1 W. W. & H. 460, 35 E. C. L. 625.

Special circumstances may justify an expenditure unusually great in one or more particulars, as if one should die far from home or from his proper burial place, and transportation of the body become necessary and proper (Sullivan v. Horner, 41 N. J. Eq. 299, 7 Atl. 411; In re Parry, 188 Pa. St. 38, 41 Atl. 384, 68 Am. St. Rep. 850; Harding's Estate, 7 Pa. Dist. 679, 21 Pa. Co. Ct. 641; Carpenter's Estate, 16 Phila. (Pa.) 290; Stag v. Hunter, 3 Atk. 119, 26 Eng. Reprint 872) or where kindred and friends are summoned from a distance to attend the funeral or accompany remains from a distant point (Jennison v. Hapgood, 10 Pick. (Mass.) 77; Mann v. Lawrence, 3 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 424; Wall's Appeal, 38 Pa. St. 464; Harding's Estate, 7 Pa. Dist. 679, 21 Pa. Co. Ct. 641; Carpenter's Estate, 16 Phila. (Pa.) 290).

Claims held excessive see Foley v. Brocksmit, 119 Iowa 457, 93 N. W. 344, 97 Am. St. Rep. 324, 60 L. R. A. 571; Matter of Kiernan, 38 Misc. (N. Y.) 394, 77 N. Y. Suppl.

are, by some statutes, as in Louisiana, made a charge upon his estate,[6] and they have been held to be payable out of his estate even in the absence of an express statutory provision where the decedent and his wife and children perished in a common disaster.[7]

d. Tombstones and Monuments.[8] The expense of erecting a tombstone or monument at the grave of the decedent is usually allowed against the estate,[9] especially where the estate is ample,[10] such expenditure being considered in some jurisdictions a part of the "funeral expenses."[11] But the expenditure in this 924; Cullen's Estate, 8 Pa. Super. Ct. 494; Bauman's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 579; Hasson's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 19.

Claims held not excessive see Kittle v. Huntley, 67 Hun (N. Y.) 617, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 519; Allen v. Allen, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 524; Campbell's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 729, 24 Pa. Co. Ct. 480.

Items of expenditure.— A suit of clothes for burial seems a proper item for allowance (Steger v. Frizzell, 2 Tenn. Ch. 369), and flowers (O'Reilly v. Kelly, 22 R. I. 151, 46 Atl. 681, 84 Am. St. Rep. 833, 50 L. R. A. 483) and carriage hire, vaults, and tombstones may be added in various instances where the decedent's estate will bear it (Donald v. McWhorter, 44 Miss. 124), but not dinners furnished to persons attending the funeral or feed for their horses (Shaeffer v. Shaeffer, 54 Md. 679, 39 Am. Rep. 406; Santee's Estate, 9 Kulp (Pa.) 142). Charges for mere kindly offices or for use of one's house for funeral services, if by a relative, are looked upon with disfavor. Hewett v. Bronson, 5 Daly (N. Y.) 1; McHugh's Estate, 152 Pa. St. 442, 25 Atl. 875. Out of regard to particular circumstances or a decedent's last directions, an allowance from the estate has sometimes been made for items not strictly within the rules of funeral charges, such as a moderate outlay for the mourning apparel of the widow and children (Holbert's Succession, 3 La. Ann. 436; In re Wachter, 16 Misc. (N. Y.) 137, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 941; Allen v. Allen, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 524; Matter of Wood, 1 Ashm. (Pa.) 314. But see Jenks v. Mathews, 31 Me. 318), or even mourning rings for the relatives, under an earlier fashion (Paice v. Canterbury, 14 Ves. Jr. 364, 33 Eng. Reprint 560), but where the estate is insolvent such charges seem hardly allowable (Jenks v. Mathews, supra; Flintham's Estate, 11 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 16; Johnson v. Baker, 2 C. & P. 207, 31 Rev. Rep. 663, 12 E. C. L. 530). In an early case where the estate was insolvent, no expenses were allowed except for coffin, ringing of the bell, and the fees of the clerk and bearers. Shelly's Case, 1 Salk. 296. A charge for disinterment and reburial has been allowed. Allen v. Allen, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 524.

6. Alter v. O'Brien, 31 La. Ann. 452.

7. Sullivan v. Horner, 41 N. J. Eq. 299, 7 Atl. 441.

8. See supra, VIII, I, 8, b, (II).

9. Indiana.— Pease v. Christman, 158 Ind. 642, 64 N. E. 90.

Louisiana.— Smith's Succession, 9 La. Ann. 107.

Michigan.— Jackson v. Leech, 113 Mich. 391, 71 N. W. 846.

New York.— Laird v. Arnold, 42 Hun 136; Laird v. Arnold, 25 Hun 4. But see Ferrin v. Myrick, 41 N. Y. 315 [reversing 53 Barb. 76]; Hoctor v. Lavery, 51 N. Y. App. Div. 74, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 518.

Pennsylvania.— In re Porter, 77 Pa. St. 43; McGlinsey's Appeal, 14 Serg. & R. 64; Lutton's Estate, 17 Pa. Super. Ct. 342 [affirming 10 Kulp 161]; Duffy's Estate, 9 Kulp 409; Meyer's Estate, 18 Phila. 42. See also Crosson's Appeal, 125 Pa. St. 380, 17 Atl. 423.

Rhode Island.— Moulton v. Smith, 16 R. I. 126, 12 Atl. 891, 27 Am. St. Rep. 728.

Tennessee.— Cate v. Cate, (Ch. App. 1897) 43 S. W. 365, where the monument was ordered at the expense and request of decedent, who approved the contract of purchase, and promised to pay the cost.

Canada.— Menzies v. Ridley, 2 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 544.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 756.

Contra.— Walton v. Hall, 66 Vt. 455, 29 Atl. 803.

An executor can bind the estate for the purchase-price of a suitable tombstone for his testator. Jackson v. Leech, 113 Mich. 291, 71 N. W. 846. See also Menzies v. Ridley, 2 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 544. Contra, Durkin v. Langley, 167 Mass. 577, 46 N. E. 119.

Vendor of tombstone may subject real estate to payment of price. Laird v. Arnold, 42 Hun (N. Y.) 136.

A claim for a tomb is not a debt against the community but must be borne by the estate of the deceased partner. Smith's Succession, 9 La. Ann. 107.

Where the testator has created a special fund for the purpose of erecting a monument, no allowance will be made out of the general assets. Durkin v. Langley, 167 Mass. 577, 46 N. E. 119.

10. Allen v. Allen, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 524.

11. Pease v. Christman, 158 Ind. 642, 64 N. E. 90; Laird v. Arnold, 42 Hun (N. Y.) 136; Owens v. Bloomer, 14 Hun (N. Y.) 296; Moulton v. Smith, 16 R. I. 126, 12 Atl. 891, 27 Am. St. Rep. 728. Contra, Sinnott v. Kenaday, 14 App. Cas. (D. C.) 1 [reversed on other grounds in 179 U. S. 606, 21 S. Ct. 233, 45 L. ed. 339], holding the expenses of a cemetery lot and monument not funeral expenses within a statute limiting such expenses.

connection which will be allowed against the estate must be reasonable, taking into consideration the amount of the estate and also its condition as to solvency or insolvency,[12] and as the erection of a monument is not a matter of such urgent and immediate necessity as the funeral and interment of the decedent, this expense should be incurred only by or at least with the consent of the personal representative, and where a person having no authority in the premises from the representative has ordered and procured the erection of a tombstone or monument, the courts have refused to hold the estate liable either to the person who actually furnished the tombstone or monument, or to the person who ordered and procured the same in case he has paid therefor.[13]

e. Burial Lots.[14] The cost of a burial lot wherein to inter the decedent, especially where the purchase of a place of burial is immediately necessary, is allowed either as a direct charge against the estate or by holding the estate liable to reimburse a person who has paid for the same,[15] subject like other similar charges to the rule that it must be reasonable;[16] but a debt incurred by the widow in inclosing the burial lot is not payable out of the estate.[17]

f. Services Rendered to Estate.[18] A reasonable compensation for services rendered to the estate after the decedent's death is payable out of the estate,[19] either

12. Fairman's Appeal, 30 Conn. 205; Lund v. Lund, 41 N. H. 355; Brackett v. Tillotson, 4 N. H. 208; Springsteen v. Samson, 32 N. Y. 703; Tickel v. Quinn, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 425; Webb's Estate, 165 Pa. St. 330, 30 Atl. 827, 44 Am. St. Rep. 666; Lutton's Estate, 17 Pa. Super. Ct. 342; Duffy's Estate, 9 Kulp (Pa.) 409; In re Connolly, 28 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 355. See supra, VIII, I, 8, b, (v).

Illustrative cases.— As to the reasonableness of particular claims or expenditures see the following cases:

Alabama.— Bendall v. Bendall, 24 Ala. 295, 60 Am. Dec. 469.

Kentucky.— Burbridge v. Roberts, 7 Ky. L. Rep. 42.

New Hampshire.— Lund v. Lund, 41 N. H. 355.

New York.— Matter of Smith, 75 N. Y. App. Div. 339, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 130, 11 N. Y. Annot. Cas. 427; Matter of Shipman, 82 Hun 108, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 571; Matter of Howard, 3 Misc. 170, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 836; Matter of Beach, 1 Misc. 27, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 1079; Campbell v. Purdy, 5 Redf. Surr. 434; Burnett v. Noble, 5 Redf. Surr. 69; Matter of Luckey, 4 Redf. Surr. 95; Matter of Erlacher, 3 Redf. Surr. 8.

Pennsylvania.— In re Connolly, 28 Pittsb. Leg. J. 355; Geiger's Estate, 12 Wkly. Notes Cas. 439.

Tennessee.— Cannon v. Apperson, 14 Lea 553.

Canada.— Archer v. Severn, 13 Ont. 316.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 756.

13. Illinois.— Foley v. Bushway, 71 Ill. 386, holding further that the fact that the administrator knew of the work being done and did not object made no difference.

Indiana.— Lerch v. Emmett, 44 Ind. 331.

Iowa.— Argo v. Donover, 80 Iowa 214, 45 N. W. 744.

Massachusetts.— Sweeney v. Muldoon, 139 Mass. 304, 31 N. E. 720, 52 Am. Rep. 708, holding that the Massachusetts statute does not authorize the administrator to pay for a tombstone purchased after his appointment, but not at his request.

Wisconsin.— Samuel v. Thomas, 51 Wis. 549, 8 N. W. 361.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 756.

But see Menzies v. Ridley, 2 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 544, where testator's sister had procured the monument, and the widow, who was the acting executrix, having in hand no funds of the estate, gave her note to the sister, and it was held that, although the note was not paid the amount thereof should be allowed to the executrix as against objections of the testamentary guardian of infant legatees.

14. See supra, VIII, I, 8, b, (III).

15. Marple v. Morse, 180 Mass. 508, 62 N. E. 966; Pettengill v. Abbott, 167 Mass. 307, 45 N. E. 748; Sweeney v. Muldoon, 139 Mass. 304, 31 N. E. 720, 52 Am. Rep. 708. And see Donald v. McWhorter, 44 Miss. 124; Allen v. Allen, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 524.

16. Pettengill v. Abbott, 167 Mass. 307, 45 N. E. 748. See supra, VIII, I, 8, b, (v).

17. Meyer's Estate, 18 Phila. (Pa.) 42.

18. See also infra, X, A, 19, h.

19. McNeely v. McNeely, 50 La. Ann. 823, 24 So. 338; Friend v. Graham, 10 La. 438 (holding that services of an attorney in removing an administrator inure to the creditors and heirs, and should be paid for from the succession, although he was employed at the request of some of the heirs); Bryan's Estate, 180 Pa. St. 192, 36 Atl. 738 (holding that decedent's business manager, who, on his employer's death without known heirs, took charge of the property in good faith until the heirs were found, was entitled to compensation for his services).

Services rendered after death pursuant to previous employment.— Where an attorney was retained in a suit, and after the client's death he performed legal services in the same by allowing a claim directly against the estate in favor of the person who has rendered such services,[20] or by allowing the representative credit in his accounts for the amount expended by him for services, which is the more usual course where the services were rendered under a contract or agreement directly with him.[21] In order to justify such an allowance, however, the services must have been performed for the estate itself; claims for services for the widow, heirs, or other suit for the administrator, a claim presented to the administrator for fees in the suit, without going into details, must be considered as a claim against the estate for services rendered to the deceased during his lifetime. Stark v. Hart, 22 Tex. Civ. App. 543, 55 S. W. 378.

Services in preservation of estate.— In Missouri it is provided by statute (Rev. St. §§ 100, 101) that if a decedent leaves horses or other stock that require attention, crops ungathered, property so exposed as to be in danger of loss in value, or work in an unfinished state, so that the estate would suffer material loss from the want of care and additional labor, the personal representative may, until the meeting of the court, procure labor to be performed for the preservation of such property; and the court, on the application of any person interested, may in such cases authorize further labor to be performed as the interest of the estate requires; and all sums thus paid, if approved by the court, shall be allowed as expenses of administration. In the instances enumerated the representative has full authority to act, and whatever he does is legalized, but in other instances if he proceeds without the direction or sanction of the court he does so at his peril and will be held to a strict accountability. Merritt v. Merritt, 62 Mo. 150; Powell v. Powell, 23 Mo. App. 365.

Defense of action by cosurety of decedent. — Where the surviving cosurety on a bond has defended an action brought to collect it after decedent's death and thereby saved several hundred dollars, the estate of decedent is liable to him for one half of the counsel fees and costs incurred in such defense. Connolly v. Dolan, 22 R. I. 60, 46 Atl. 36, 84 Am. St. Rep. 816.

Litigation by creditor on behalf of estate. — One of the creditors of an estate, who in good faith maintains necessary litigation to save the property and secure its proper application is entitled to have the fees of his attorney paid from the estate. In re Weed, 163 Pa. St. 600, 30 Atl. 278.

Allowance of representative's commission to person performing services.— On a bill brought to enforce against an administratrix an agreement to give the complainant certain of the real estate of her intestate, in consideration that he would effect a compromise of certain claims against the estate, it was held that he might reasonably be allowed, as damages for non-performance, besides his advances and interest, the commission of ten per cent for extra trouble in collecting the debts which the law would have allowed the administratrix. Shepherd v. Hammond, 3 W. Va. 484.

Fees of auctioneer at void sale.— Where an auctioneer sold property at the request of the curator of a vacant estate, and it turned out that the estate was not vacant and the sale was therefore void for want of legal authority of the curator to sell, the auctioneer had no claim against the estate for his fees as auctioneer. Navarro's Succession, 24 La. Ann. 105.

20. Indiana.— Baker v. Cauthorn, 23 Ind. App. 611, 55 N. E. 963, 77 Am. St. Rep. 443.

Kentucky.— Newcomb v. Newcomb, 60 S. W. 642, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1359; Jones v. Jones, 39 S. W. 251, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 129.

Louisiana.— Kernan's Succession, 105 La. 592, 30 So. 239.

Oregon.— Knight v. Hamaker, 40 Oreg. 424, 67 Pac. 107, holding that the failure of an administrator, authorized to employ an attorney, to perform his duties as administrator, does not prevent an attorney employed by him, and rendering services for the estate, from having a valid claim against the estate for fees, although such claim is also a personal claim against the administrator.

Pennsylvania.— In re Parry, 188 Pa. St. 38, 41 Atl. 384, 68 Am. St. Rep. 850.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 757.

Insolvency of representative.— Where services of value to an estate have been rendered by an attorney in performance of a contract with the administrator, and the administrator is insolvent, a suit in equity will lie to enforce payment for such services out of the assets, but the attorney is not entitled to relief against the estate where it is not alleged or proved that the administrator is insolvent. Pike v. Thomas, 65 Ark. 437, 47 S. W. 110. See also Taylor v. Crook, 136 Ala. 354, 34 So. 905, 96 Am. St. Rep. 26.

21. Arkansas.— Yarborough v. Ward, 34 Ark. 204. See also Pike v. Thomas, 62 Ark. 223, 35 S. W. 212, 54 Am. St. Rep. 292.

Iowa.— Clark v. Sayre, 122 Iowa 591, 98 N. W. 484, attorney's fees.

Missouri.— Stephens v. Cassity, 104 Mo. App. 210, 77 S. W. 1089. Compare Powell v. Powell, 23 Mo. App. 365.

New York.— See Matter of Welling, 51 N. Y. App. Div. 355, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 1025, 53 N. Y. App. Div. 639, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 1060; Balz v. Underhill, 19 Misc. 215, 44 N. Y. Suppl. 419.

Oregon.— Waite v. Willis, 42 Oreg. 288, 70 Pac. 1034; In re McCullough, 31 Oreg. 86, 49 Pac. 886.

South Carolina.— Nicholson v. Whitlock, 57 S. C. 36, 35 S. E. 412.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 757; and supra, VIII, D, 2; VIII, I, 8, f, g.

parties in interest cannot be so allowed.[22] It is also necessary that the services should have been performed either at the request of the decedent made before his death or at the instance of some person having some authority, or at least some apparent authority, to act for the decedent or his estate.[23] The person performing the services must have done so in the expectation of being compensated therefor, and one who at the time of performing the services intended them to be gratuitous cannot thereafter obtain compensation therefor against the estate.[24] The allowance must be a reasonable one, taking into consideration the amount of the estate, the value of the services, and the time and trouble which their performance entailed.[25]

22. Arkansas.— Paget v. Bergan, 67 Ark. 522, 55 S. W. 938; McPaxton v. Dixon, 15 Ark. 97.

California.— Matter of Marrey, 65 Cal. 287, 3 Pac. 896.

Connecticut.— In re Simons, 55 Conn. 239, 11 Atl. 36.

Florida.— Hedlick v. Hedlick, 38 Fla. 252, 21 So. 101.

Kentucky.— Clarke v. Garrison, 79 S. W. 240, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1999.

Louisiana.— Benton's Succession, 106 La. 494, 31 So. 123; Kernan's Succession, 105 La. 592, 30 So. 239; Florence's Succession, 36 La. Ann. 304 (holding that in a contest for the administration of a succession, the attorney of the defeated applicant has no claim for his services against the succession, but in a case where the defeated applicant is named as an alternate executor in the will of the deceased, his attorney will be entitled to a reasonable compensation from the succession for such of his services as were beneficial to the estate, such as procuring an inventory and the appointment of an attorney of absent heirs and the like); Hughes' Succession, 14 La. Ann. 863 (holding that the expenses of litigation between the heirs of an intestate as to their respective rights cannot be made a general charge against the succession); Muntz v. Brown, 11 La. Ann. 472.

Michigan.— Gray v. Seeley, 132 Mich. 319, 94 N. W. 1061.

North Carolina.— James v. Withers, 126 N. C. 715, 36 S. E. 178.

Pennsylvania.— McGregor's Estate, 131 Pa. St. 359, 18 Atl. 902; Lewis' Estate, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 457. See also Grant's Estate, 18 Lanc. L. Rev. 36.

Tennessee.— Royston v. McCulley, (Ch. App. 1900) 59 S. W. 725, 52 L. R. A. 899.

Wisconsin.— Ford v. Ford, 88 Wis. 122, 59 N. W. 464.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 757.

Where allowance made to suspended administrator for services.— Where, on settling the account of an administrator who had been suspended, the court allowed him a certain sum for the services of a certain attorney, such attorney cannot recover such sum from the successor of such administrator or from the estate, but he must look for pay to his employer. McKee v. Soher, 138 Cal. 367, 71 Pac. 438, 649.

Attorney's fees of infant who is a necessary party to suits involving estate.— Where an infant who has no property except his prospective interest in a decedent's estate is a necessary party to suits for construction of the will and involving the estate, none of which are commenced by him or on his behalf, expenses for an attorney, incurred by his guardian ad litem will be allowed out of the estate as part of the expenses of settlement. Ford v. Ford, 88 Wis. 122, 59 N. W. 464.

23. Alabama.— Hearrin v. Savage, 16 Ala. 286.

Colorado.— In re Currier, (App. 1903) 74 Pac. 340.

Iowa.— In re Officer, 122 Iowa 553, 98 N. W. 314.

Ohio.— In re Ward, 21 Ohio Cir. Ct. 753, 12 Ohio Cir. Dec. 44.

Pennsylvania.—Cary's Estate, 10 Kulp 227.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 757.

Acts of representative prior to qualification.—Acts done by an executor in the interest of his trust, prior to his qualification as such, become binding on the estate upon his qualification; hence attorneys who, previous to an executor's qualification, gave him advice as to whether he could qualify and as to his bond and rendered services in procuring such bond, are entitled to file their claim therefor against, and collect the same out of, the estate. Baker v. Cauthorn, 23 Ind. App. 611, 55 N. E. 963, 77 Am. St. Rep. 443.

24. Royston v. McCulley, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1900) 59 S. W. 725, 52 L. R. A. 899.

25. Clarke v. Garrison, 79 S. W. 240, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1999 (holding that the court should also consider the fact that part of the services were not properly chargeable to the estate, but to devisees or claimants); Bickel v. Bickel, 79 S. W. 215, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1945 (holding that an allowance of twelve hundred dollars to attorneys representing an estate is excessive where it appeared that their services were largely rendered in promoting the individual interests of heirs); Lynch v. Spicer, 53 W. Va. 426, 44 S. E. 255; Fowler v. Lewis, 36 W. Va. 112, 14 S. E. 447; Florida Internal Imp. Fund v. Greenough, 105 U. S. 527, 26 L. ed. 1157. See also In re Parry, 188 Pa. St. 38, 41 Atl. 384, 68 Am. St. Rep. 850, where the allowance was held reasonable.

Attorney's fee held reasonable.— Where an administrator was sued on two notes, one for fifteen thousand dollars and the other for twenty-one thousand pounds English money, and defeated the action as to the latter note,

g. Loans or Advances to Estate. While advances to an estate are not commonly recoverable by action at law against the executor or administrator,[26] the equity and probate rule favors the reimbursement of loans or advances made suitably and in good faith by the representative, the surviving spouse, kindred, distributees, or creditors for the immediate benefit of the estate.[27]

h. Expenses of Administration.[28] The legitimate expenses of administration are to be met out of the assets of the estate,[29] but the proper mode of doing this the allowance to his attorneys of a fee of twenty-five hundred dollars will not be disturbed on appeal, there being uncontradicted evidence that the fee is reasonable and customary. Newcomb v. Newcomb, 60 S. W. 642, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1359, holding further that the fact that in litigation then pending the bulk of the estate was afterward adjudged to plaintiff in such action as executrix under a foreign probate of a will of decedent, and that there would have been no occasion for her action if she had waited until the termination of that litigation, did not affect the amount of compensation to which the attorneys for the administrator were entitled for defending that action.

26. Benedict v. Chase, 58 Conn. 196, 20 Atl. 448, 8 L. R. A. 120; Brandon v. Brandon, 4 Thomps. & C. (N. Y.) 385; Hourquebie v. Girard, 12 Fed. Cas. No. 6,732, 2 Wash. 212.

27. Alabama.— Jenks v. Terrell, 73 Ala. 238, debts paid by widow before administrator appointed.

Arkansas.— Whittaker v. Wright, 35 Ark. 511, holding that a creditor may pay taxes to protect his interest and be reimbursed out of the proceeds of a foreclosure sale.

Connecticut.— Benedict v. Chase, 58 Conn. 196, 20 Atl. 448.

Massachusetts.— Jennison v. Hapgood, 10 Pick. 77.

Missouri.— Maupin v. Boyd, 5 Mo. 106.

New Jersey.— Van Duin v. Van Duin, 42 N. J. Eq. 325, 5 Atl. 647, holding that debts of a testator, paid in good faith by his executrix and residuary life legatee, will be allowed against his estate, although the legatee took possession of the estate without proving the will.

New York.— Bolton v. Myers, 146 N. Y. 257, 40 N. E. 737 ; Atlantic Trust Co. v. Powell, 23 Misc. 289, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 866. See also Brandon v. Brandon, 4 Thomps. & C. 385, holding that where testator bequeathed his estate to his wife, with directions to support and educate the children until they were of age, and provided that after her death the property should be divided among his children, and letters of administration were granted to the widow and testator's brother, and after the widow's death the brother continued the maintenance of the minor children as one family for two years, until the appointment of a general guardian, and in so doing expended his own money, equity could allow him to be reimbursed, he having done what on application the court would have directed him to do.

North Carolina.— Johnston v. Cutchin, 133 N. C. 119, 45 S. E. 522.

Ohio.— Veldman v. Lindeman, 7 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 676, 4 Cinc. L. Bul. 911.

Pennsylvania.— In re Bentley, 196 Pa. St. 497, 46 Atl. 898; In re Mustin, 188 Pa. St. 544, 41 Atl. 618 (loan decree permitting executrices to borrow); McCurdy's Appeal, 5 Watts & S. 397.

United States.— Baring v. Putnam, 2 Fed. Cas. No. 984, 1 Holmes 261, holding that an administrator de bonis non is liable to a banker for money credited by mistake to the intestate in his lifetime, and drawn by and paid to the original administrator in the belief that it belonged to the estate.

England.— Robison v. Killey, 30 Beav. 520; Spackman v. Holbrook, 2 Giff. 198, 6 Jur. N. S. 881, 2 L. T. Rep. N. S. 367.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 758.

An allowance to reimburse an annuitant under the will for debts of the testator paid from the annuity is erroneous where there is no proof that any money from which the annuity could have been paid has been applied to the payment of testator's debts. Matter of Gedney, 33 Misc. (N. Y.) 160, 68 N. Y. Suppl. 627.

Dower in mortgaged land.— The fact that the widow of one who had given a mortgage upon realty took dower in the land does not entitle the mortgagee, in a distribution of the assets of the estate of the deceased husband, to be treated as having "contributed" anything toward the payment of its liabilities. Bellerby v. Thomas, 105 Ga. 477, 30 S. E. 425.

Loan to pay debt barred by limitations.— A note executed by an executor for money borrowed to pay a debt of testator's which was barred by limitations is not a charge against the estate, but is binding against the executor and the beneficiaries under the will who authorized the executor to make such loan. Hamlin v. Smith, 72 N. Y. App. Div. 601, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 258.

28. See also supra, X, A, 19, f.

Costs of administration as preferred claim see infra, X, D, 2, c, (II), (B), (1).

29. Arkansas.— Yarborough v. Ward, 34 Ark. 204.

Georgia.— Mapp v. Long, 62 Ga. 568.

Louisiana.— McNeely's Succession, 50 La. Ann. 823, 24 So. 338.

Massachusetts.— Brown v. Kelsey, 2 Cush. 243; Sawyer v. Baldwin, 20 Pick. 378.

New York.— Douglas v. Yost, 64 Hun 155, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 830 (expenses of probating will); In re Mahoney, 37 Misc. 472, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 1056.

Pennsylvania.— Cobaugh's Appeal, 24 Pa. St. 143 (compensation of executors); Cary's is for the representative to make the necessary disbursements, for which he will be allowed credit in his accounts, rather than by allowing such expenses as a

Estate, 10 Kulp 227; France's Estate, 16 Wkly. Notes Cas. 350; Wilson's Appeal, 3 Walk. 216.

Rhode Island.— Moulton v. Smith, 16 R. I. 126, 12 Atl. 891, 27 Am. St. Rep. 728; Hazard v. Engs, 14 R. I. 5, expenses of resisting appeal from decree admitting will to probate.

West Virginia.— Crim v. England, 46 W. Va. 480, 33 S. E. 310, 76 Am. St. Rep. 826.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 759.

Expenses incurred by the executor in carrying out directions of the will stand upon the same footing as the expenses of administration. Edwards v. Love, 94 N. C. 365. See also Sharp v. Lush, 10 Ch. D. 468, 48 L. J. Ch. 231, 27 Wkly. Rep. 528.

Meaning of "testamentary expenses" as used in will see In re King, [1904] 1 Ch. 363, 73 L. J. Ch. 210, 90 L. T. Rep. N. S. 281, 20 T. L. R. 187, 52 Wkly. Rep. 187; In re St. Albans, [1900] 2 Ch. 873, 69 L. J. Ch. 863, 49 Wkly. Rep. 74; In re Lewis, [1900] 2 Ch. 176, 69 L. J. Ch. 406, 82 L. T. Rep. N. S. 291, 48 Wkly. Rep. 426; In re Maryon-Wilson, [1900] 1 Ch. 565, 69 L. J. Ch. 310, 82 L. T. Rep. N. S. 171, 48 Wkly. Rep. 338. See also, generally, WILLS.

Meaning of "executorship expenses" as used in will see Sharp v. Lush, 10 Ch. D. 468, 48 L. J. Ch. 231, 27 Wkly. Rep. 528. See also, generally, WILLS.

Expenses of litigation.— Expenses and costs, properly incurred by the representative in litigation on behalf of the estate, as in prosecuting suits to collect the assets or in defending actions against the estate, are properly included in the expenses of administration. In re Mahoney, 37 Misc. (N. Y.) 472, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 1056; France's Estate, 16 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 350; Manning v. Mayes, 79 Tex. 653, 15 S. W. 638. See also In re Casey, 2 Silv. Supreme (N. Y.) 585, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 608. And in England a similar rule obtains as to costs in creditor's suits. Loomes v. Stotherd, 1 L. J. Ch. O. S. 220, 1 Sim. & St. 458, 1 Eng. Ch. 458; Barker v. Wardle, 2 Myl. & K. 818, 7 Eng. Ch. 818, 39 Eng. Reprint 1157; Larkins v. Paxton, 2 Myl. & K. 320, 7 Eng. Ch. 320, 39 Eng. Reprint 965. See also Sanderson v. Stoddart, 32 Beav. 155, 9 Jur. N. S. 1216, 7 L. T. Rep. N. S. 662, 11 Wkly. Rep. 275; Newbegin v. Bell, 23 Beav. 386, 53 Eng. Reprint 152; Sutton v. Doggett, 3 Beav. 9, 4 Jur. 959, 9 L. J. Ch. 335, 4 Eng. Ch. 9, 49 Eng. Reprint 4; Gaunt v. Taylor, 2 Hare 413, 24 Eng. Ch. 413. See supra, VIII, I, 8, g.

Attorney's fees for services rendered to the representative are part of the expenses of administration and are payable out of the assets of the estate (Stephens v. Cassity, 104 Mo. App. 210, 77 S. W. 1089; In re Thompson, 41 Barb. 237; Matter of Crough, 41 Misc. 349, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 936; Fitzsimmons v. Safe Deposit, etc., Co., 189 Pa. St. 514, 42 Atl. 41; Callaghan v. Grenet, 66 Tex. 236, 18 S. W. 507; Williamson v. Robinson, 56 Tex. 347; Gammage v. Rather, 46 Tex. 105; Crim v. England, 46 W. Va. 480, 33 S. E. 310, 76 Am. St. Rep. 826. See supra, VIII, I, 8, g; X, A, 19, f; and ATTORNEY AND CLIENT, 4 Cyc. 1013) and the lien of the attorney is not lost by the transfer of the assets, unadministered, to a co-executor by order of the surrogate (In re Crough, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 349, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 936). A judgment recovered against an administrator for attorney's services rendered in the administration of the estate adjudges that the services constituted actual, necessary, just, and reasonable expenses of the administration, which must be borne by the estate. In re Thompson, 41 Barb. (N. Y.) 237 [affirming 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 490]. As to enforcement of judgment under New York statutes see In re Thompson, 41 Barb. (N. Y.) 237 [affirming 1 Redf. Surr. 490]. See also Hall v. Dusenbury, 38 Hun (N. Y.) 125.

Costs of the executors incurred in defending an action brought to obtain a revocation of probate are included within "testamentary expenses" charged by the will upon the testator's realty. In re Prince, [1898] 2 Ch. 225, 67 L. J. Ch. 531, 78 L. T. Rep. N. S. 790, 40 Wkly. Rep. 25. See supra, VIII, I, 8, g.

Claim against realty.— A claim for the expenses of having a will probated is not a liability against the real estate, except where the land has to be sold for payment of debts. Taylor v. Crook, 136 Ala. 354, 34 So. 905, 96 Am. St. Rep. 26.

The expense of managing a fund, the income of which is given to a legatee for life, is a general charge upon the whole estate. Brown v. Kelsey, 2 Cush. (Mass.) 243; Sawyer v. Baldwin, 20 Pick. (Mass.) 378.

A claim of an administrator whose appointment has been revoked for reimbursement for moneys expended and services rendered in good faith pursuant to his appointment is to be allowed, if at all, as a part of the expenses of administration. Brown v. McGee, 117 Wis. 389, 94 N. W. 363.

Expenses of administration of husband's estate not chargeable against estate of widow. — Moreland v. Gilliam, 21 Ark. 507.

No allowance for expenses connected with a pending contest.— Credit will not be allowed a representative for expenditures made in connection with a contest over a will which is still pending, as liability for such expenditures cannot be fixed until the contest is determined. Titlow's Estate, 11 Pa. Co. Ct. 625.

Costs of administration do not include the costs of a suit in which plaintiff, whose rights as heir, although recognized, have been extinguished by confusion, fails to take anything (Truxillo v. Truxillo, 11 La. Ann. 412), costs of an unsuccessful plaintiff in an action direct charge against the estate,[30] as the expenses of administration are not debts of the decedent.[31] A statute limiting the lien of debts of a deceased person against his real estate does not run against claims of executors for compensation due them, for such a claim is not a debt of the decedent but a part of the expenses of administration.[32]

i. Support, Etc., Furnished to Decedent's Family. Support, attendance, and the like furnished by the executor or administrator to the surviving members of decedent's family should be charged by him against their respective shares or allowances in the decedent's estate; and debts incurred or expenditures made for these purposes do not constitute proper claims against the estate itself, nor entitle him to reimbursement therefrom; nor may others sue the representative on such claims;[33] but where the decedent by suitable provision in his will has imposed a brought to obtain a revocation of a grant of probate of the will (In re Prince, [1898] 2 Ch. 225, 67 L. J. Ch. 531, 78 L. T. Rep. N. S. 790, 47 Wkly. Rep. 25), or the expenses of an heir, incurred after an administrator is appointed, in hunting up other heirs or next of kin (In re Glynn, 57 Minn. 21, 58 N. W. 684). The expenses of a sale of decedent's land by a stranger cannot be allowed against the estate, although made under color of an order of the probate court. Swan v. Wheeler, 4 Day (Conn.) 137. It is not proper to charge the recording of deeds to an administrator against the estate of which the grantee is administrator. Calvert v. Holland, 9 B. Mon. (Ky.) 458. Expenses incurred in taking testimony on a contest of a will are not expenses of the administration of an estate by a temporary administrator which it is proper for him to pay from the funds of the estate. Matter of McNamee, 25 Misc. (N. Y.) 260, 55 N. Y. Suppl. 425. An allowance will not be made for the services of an attorney employed to try to probate an invalid will. Gilbert v. Bartley, 9 Bush (Ky.) 49. Costs and expenses incurred in the propounding, establishing, and probate of a will by a person who is not therein named as executor and upon whom is cast no legal or moral duty to establish the will are not a proper charge against the estate. Gayle v. Johnson, 80 Ala. 388. The cost of raising a fund, including counsel fees, auctioneer's charges, commissions, etc., fall upon the fund, and are not chargeable as "costs of administration." Teaf's Estate, 7 Pa. Co. Ct. 463. Where a testator gave his widow the income of all his property for life for her benefit and support, but provided that out of the income she should pay all necessary repairs on the buildings and all taxes, besides insurance, and the executors were empowered to pay all debts, it was held that, the executors having under a power from the wife collected the income from the property, the estate was not chargeable with the expense of collecting the same, or with repairs, taxes, and insurance. In re Turfler, 24 N. Y. Suppl. 91, Pow. Surr. (N. Y.) 421.

Ascertaining pregnancy of widow see Rollwagen v. Powell, 8 Hun (N. Y.) 210.

Charges of detectives for collecting evidence. —An administrator should not be allowed as necessary expenses, under N. Y. Code Civ. Proc. § 2730, the charges of detectives for collecting evidence to defend an action against an estate, where the administrator is himself a lawyer and has been allowed the fees of attorneys in the action, and the testimony collected was never used. Matter of Van Buren, 19 Misc. (N. Y.) 373, 44 N. Y. Suppl. 357. See also In re Collyer, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 297, 1 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 546.

30. Arkansas.— Yarborough v. Ward, 34 Ark. 204.

Connecticut.— Chambers v. Robbins, 28 Conn. 544.

Iowa.— Clark v. Sayre, 122 Iowa 591, 98 N. W. 484.

Missouri.— See Stephens v. Cassity, 104 Mo. App. 210, 77 S. W. 1089.

Wisconsin.— Brown v. McGee, 117 Wis. 389, 94 N. W. 363.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 759.

Testamentary provision excluding personal liability of representative.— Where a will provided that the expenses of administration shall be charged upon and paid out of the estate of the testator both real and personal, the administratrix, to whom one half of the estate has been devised for life, and who is the assignee of the other half, is not personally liable for such expenses. Boynton v. Laddy, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 622.

31. Clarke v. Sayre, 122 Iowa 591, 98 N. W. 484; In re Mahoney, 37 Misc. (N. Y.) 472, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 1056; Matter of Franklin, 26 Misc. (N. Y.) 107, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 858; Brown v. McGee, 117 Wis. 389, 94 N. W. 363.

32. Cobaugh's Appeal, 24 Pa. St. 143.

33. Alabama.— Pinckard v. Pinckard, 24 Ala. 250, medical attendance on widow.

Arkansas.— Bomford v. Grimes, 17 Ark. 567, medical attendance on surviving family.

Georgia.— Pryor v. West, 72 Ga. 140, supplies to surviving minor child.

Indiana.— Sorin v. Olinger, 12 Ind. 29, board and education of surviving minor children.

New Hampshire.— Flanders v. Greely, 64 N. H. 357, 10 Atl. 686, services to widow.

New Jersey.— Johnston v. Morrow, 28 N. J. Eq. 327.

Pennsylvania.— Lawall v. Kreidler, 3 Rawle 300. See also Marshall's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 313.

duty of support upon his personal representative, reimbursement from the estate may be proper.[34]

20. Claims of Executors or Administrators. A claim of an executor or administrator against the estate stands upon an equal footing with other claims,[35] and the fact that he treats a fund as assets of the estate does not prevent him

South Carolina.— Wilson v. Huggins, 11 Rich. 410.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 763.

Compare Gee v. Hasbrouck, 128 Mich. 509, 87 N. W. 621.

34. Reid v. Porter, 54 Mo. 265; Hammond v. Cronkright, 47 N. J. Eq. 447, 20 Atl. 847; Wilson v. Staats, 33 N. J. Eq. 524.

Amount of allowance.— Where a testator has directed that his executrix, his daughter, should use so much of the proceeds of sales of his real estate as should be necessary to support his wife, the daughter, with whom the mother boarded, may recover from the estate of testator for the actual cost of the board, and for money actually paid out for attendance for the mother, but should not be allowed for profits or for her own services, and no items being furnished as to clothing and spending money alleged to have been furnished to the mother by the daughter, the latter should not be allowed anything in that behalf. Hammond v. Cronkright, 47 N. J. Eq. 447, 20 Atl. 847.

Testamentary direction to support out of rents and profits.— Where a will empowered the executor to use the rents and profits of the whole real estate for the support of an infant legatee until she reached the age of twenty-one, and he made certain alleged expenditures in her behalf for board and other necessities, when he did not at the time have any money in his hands to which she was entitled, and it did not appear that he was related to the infant, or owed any duty to provide her with the alleged necessaries, he was not entitled to have his claim for money paid out for the infant's support adjudged a lien on the proceeds of a sale of the realty. Johnson v. Weir, 72 N. Y. App. Div. 325, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 76 [affirming 36 Misc. 737, 74 N. Y. Suppl. 358].

35. Florida.— Deans v. Wilcoxon, 25 Fla. 980, 7 So. 163.

Georgia.— Oliver v. Hammond, 85 Ga. 323, 11 S. E. 655.

Illinois.— Johnson v. Gillett, 52 Ill. 358.

Maryland.— Edelen v. Edelen, 11 Md. 415.

New York.— Matter of Perry, 5 Misc. 149, 25 N. Y. Suppl. 716. See also Matter of Furniss, 86 N. Y. App. Div. 96, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 530.

United States.— Nichols v. Hodges, 1 Pet. 562, 7 L. ed. 263.

England.— In re Gilbert, [1898] 1 Q. B. 282, 67 L. J. Q. B. 229, 77 L. T. Rep. N. S. 775, 4 Manson 337, 46 Wkly. Rep. 351.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 760.

Proof of claim to procure order to sell realty.— Where an estate is not fully settled, and the administrator has exhausted the personal assets in the payment of debts not his own, he may prove a claim due to him personally, preparatory to obtaining an order to sell the real estate. Johnson v. Gillett, 52 Ill. 358.

Legacy to executor in payment — Proof of will.— Where a testator leaves to his executor, who is a creditor, a less amount than is due in payment of the debt, and the executor proves the will, he cannot claim more than the amount so given to him. Syme v. Badger, 92 N. C. 706.

Failure of representative to collect note on which decedent surety.— Where an administrator owns a note upon which the intestate is surety, and wilfully omits to collect it when he can, and the principal afterward becomes insolvent, the estate is discharged. Jones v. Graham, 36 Ark. 383.

