Claim for services may be allowed. Edelen v. Edelen, 11 Md. 415 (holding that the personal services of a widow and administratrix after the death of her husband, in nursing his slaves and furnishing them with necessaries, are a proper subject for a claim against the estate); Evarts v. Nason, 11 Vt. 122 (holding that the time spent and the expenses incurred by an executor in procuring an injunction against a judgment obtained through the fraud of his co-executor and a third person against the estate, without his knowledge, may be allowed to him in his account); Rix v. Smith, 8 Vt. 365 (holding that it is not a sufficient objection to allowance to an administrator for services that they were for the purpose of realizing a balance supposed to be due to himself). See also Matter of McCord, 2 N. Y. App. Div. 324, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 852, 3 N. Y. Annot. Cas. 64.

Indebtedness to estate.— It is not a valid objection to a charge in an executor's account for expenses of sickness and burial of testator's wife during his lifetime that the executor was at the time he paid such expenses indebted to the estate. Titlow's Estate, 11 Pa. Co. Ct. 625.

Debts of estate paid by representative.— An executor can be allowed for debts of the estate paid by him out of his own means only as assignee of such debts in place of the original creditors. Vulte v. Martin, 44 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 18.

Credit on notes of representative held by others.— A debt owing an executor by the estate cannot be paid by giving the executor credit on notes against him individually, held by strangers or by the heirs. Honeywell's Estate, 10 Kulp (Pa.) 164.

Interest.— An executor having a private demand against the testator upon which the testator told him to charge reasonable interest will not be allowed compound interest. Jennison v. Hapgood, 10 Pick. (Mass.) 77.

from claiming a share in that fund as his own by reason of such demand.[36] Such a claim must, however, be established by legal evidence in the same manner as that of any other claimant,[37] and the representative must show that the demand is a valid[38] and existing one.[39]

21. Purchase of Claims Against Estate. An executor or administrator is not allowed to make a profit by purchasing claims against the estate for less than their face value and then procuring an allowance for the full amount, but he is entitled to credit for only the amount actually expended in the purchase of such claim,[40] and the same rule applies where the purchase is made before the appointment as

36. Buckley v. Buckley, 157 Mass. 536, 32 N. E. 863.

37. Matter of Furniss, 86 N. Y. App. Div. 96, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 530 (where the evidence was held insufficient); Vulte v. Martin, 44 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 18.

38. Clancey v. Clancey, 7 N. M. 405, 37 Pac. 1105, 38 Pac. 168; Cann v. Cann, 40 W. Va. 138, 20 S. E. 910. See also Pursel v. Pursel, 14 N. J. Eq. 514; Kydd v. Dalrymple, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 630.

Reimbursement of sureties by administrator.— On an accounting by an administrator de bonis non, the principal administrator is not entitled to repayment of money paid by him to his sureties to recompense them for money paid by them on account of his devastavit. Spear v. Banks, 125 Ala. 227, 27 So. 979.

Representative cannot charge estate with burial lot owned by himself in which decedent buried. Bland v. Gollaher, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1898) 48 S. W. 320.

Claim for payment of ground-rent.— Administrators settling the accounts of an insolvent estate cannot be substituted for a ground landlord whom they have paid, and receive credit for the money so paid, although the intestate covenanted to pay the rent. In re Torr, 2 Rawle (Pa.) 250.

Services to decedent.— An executor is not entitled to compensation for services rendered his testator during the latter's life, where the services were mutually beneficial, and no evidence is given that any compensation was expected or intended, and the charge was not made until after the account was filed and exceptions thereto had been taken. Egerton v. Egerton, 17 N. J. Eq. 419.

39. Burnet v. Denniston, 5 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 35, holding that where an executor, twenty-five years after the death of the testator, set up a book debt against the estate, but it appeared that the testator possessed personal estate, and no account was given of the disposition of it by the executor, it was presumed that his debt, if any, had been satisfied out of the assets.

40. Alabama.— Powell v. Powell, 80 Ala. 11; Eubank v. Clark, 78 Ala. 73.

Arkansas.— Wolf v. Banks, 41 Ark. 104; Trimble v. James, 40 Ark. 393.

Kentucky.— Calvert v. Holland, 9 B. Mon. 458; Mitchum v. Mitchum, 3 Dana 260; Miller v. Towles, 4 J. J. Marsh. 255; Desha v. Desha, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 405.

Louisiana.— Draughon v. Quillen, 23 La. Ann. 237.

Nevada.— Furth v. Wyatt, 17 Nev. 180, 30 Pac. 828.

New York.— Matter of Rainforth, 40 Misc. 609, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 57. See also Paff v. Kinney, 1 Bradf. Surr. 1.

Pennsylvania.— In re Heager, 15 Serg. & R. 65; Woods v. Irwin, 13 Pa. Co. Ct. 276.

South Carolina.— See Robinson v. Gist, 2 Hill Eq. 467.

Texas.— Chevallier v. Wilson, 1 Tex. 161.

Wisconsin.— Gillett v. Gillett, 9 Wis. 194.

England.— Ex p. James, 8 Ves. Jr. 337, 7 Rev. Rep. 56, 32 Eng. Reprint 385.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 761; and supra, VIII, J, 1.

The transferee of a judgment against a succession, who holds it by virtue of a transfer made by the agent of the heirs and administrator of the estate who acquired the judgment by compromise with the creditor, can recover from the succession only the amount which the agent and administrator paid the judgment creditor. Draughon v. Quillen, 23 La. Ann. 237.

Transaction presumed to be a payment.— It being the duty of the representative to discharge claims instead of purchasing them on his own account, it will generally be presumed that where he pays a creditor and takes the latter's securities the transaction is a payment of the claim and not a purchase thereof. Therefore the securities in the representative's hands will be deemed extinguished and he can be allowed only the sum paid for them. Borst v. Bovee, 5 Hill (N. Y.) 219 (holding that the indorsers on the creditor's note were discharged and that evidence as to the insolvency of the estate was not admissible); Gillett v. Gillett, 9 Wis. 194. Compare Johnson v. Blackman, 11 Conn. 342.

Claims which may be purchased.— An executor has a right to purchase claims against his testator for moneys received by testator as a guardian and agent, where none of the funds received by the testator in such manner ever came into the hands of the executor, and there is no fraud or concealment on his part. Murray v. Barden, 132 N. C. 136, 43 S. E. 600.

Claim presented to representative.— Where a creditor of an intestate gave to the administratrix a receipted bill for his debt, stating that he intended to present the amount thereof to the administratrix, and not to discharge the estate, the administratrix could charge the estate with the amount of the receipt. Buxton v. Barrett, 14 R. I. 40.

administrator but in contemplation thereof.[41] But a third person who purchases claims against the estate becomes a creditor of the estate[42] and is entitled to receive the full amount of his claim (or in case of insolvency his percentage on the full amount) regardless of what he had paid for it;[43] and the personal representative cannot be held liable for the difference.[44]

B. Presentation and Allowance[45] — 1. Necessity For Presentation — a. In General. In most of the states there are express statutory provisions, commonly termed statutes of non-claim, to the effect that claims against the estate of a decedent shall be exhibited or presented to the personal representative or to the probate court, usually within a specific time after the death of the debtor, the appointment of an executor or administrator of his estate, or the publication of a notice calling for claims;[46] although in some states the period for presentation is 41. Chevallier v. Wilson, 1 Tex. 161.

42. Moffatt v. Loughridge, 51 Miss. 211; Veldman v. Lindeman, 7 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 676, 4 Cinc. L. Bul. 911, holding that a person who lent money to an administratrix to save the estate from forced sale and to whom the claims paid off with such money were transferred could recover thereon from the estate.

Effect of authority from administrator.— An administrator may bind himself but cannot bind the estate by authorizing a person to buy up claims against the estate, and one who incurs expense by purchasing such claims at the instance of the administrator must look to him and not to the estate for reimbursement unless they are established as valid subsisting claims against the estate in the manner prescribed by law. Johnson v. Brown, 25 Tex. Suppl. 120 [distinguishing Swenson v. Walker, 3 Tex. 93].

When representative precluded from contesting claim.—Where a person has purchased a claim against the estate upon the faith of its allowance and approval by the probate judge, and the assurance of the administrator that it will be paid, the administrator is precluded from contesting its original justice or that it is binding on the estate. Swenson v. Walker, 3 Tex. 93.

43. Owen v. Potter, 115 Mich. 556, 73 N. W. 977; Halsted v. Hyman, 3 Bradf. (N. Y.) 426 (purchase by surety on administrator's bond); Luther v. Hunter, 7 N. D. 544, 75 N. W. 916 (holding that a surety on the administrator's bond occupies no fiduciary relation to the estate, and may therefore purchase claims against the estate); In re Ralston, 158 Pa. St. 645, 28 Atl. 139 (purchase by person who was named as executor but renounced).

Applying assigned claims to purchase-price of property.— Where the testator's widow and her two brothers formed a partnership to buy at a discount claims against the estate, which was generally believed to be insolvent, and to apply them at their full value to the purchase of property belonging to the estate (an order of the probate court permitting them to be so applied to the amount of forty per cent of the purchase-price), which the parties did, thereby acquiring the bulk of the property of the estate at a large profit to themselves, it was held that these transactions were not fraudulent as to legatees and creditors whose claims remained unsatisfied. Owen v. Potter, 115 Mich. 556, 73 N. W. 977.

Right of debtor to set off claims purchased at a discount in action by representative see infra, XIV, D, 1, i.

Where a stranger and an administrator unite in the purchase at a discount of a debt due from the intestate, they stand in the same relation that the administrator would occupy if he alone had made the purchase, and can recover of the estate no more than they paid for the debt. Mitchum v. Mitchum, 3 Dana (Ky.) 260.

44. Owen v. Potter, 115 Mich. 556, 73 N. W. 977. This is true even though the assignor of the claim, being a corporation in which the executor was a stock-holder, would have sold it to the estate at the same discount allowed to the claimant. Neither is the executor culpable in sharing as a stockholder in the proceeds of the sale by the corporation. Owen v. Potter, 115 Mich. 556, 73 N. W. 977.

45. Claims against insolvent estates see infra, XIII, G.

Presentation of claim as condition precedent to an action thereon see infra, XIV, B, 1, b, (I).

Presentation as a prerequisite to an action against heirs and devisees see DESCENT AND DISTRIBUTION, 14 Cyc. 208, 209.

46. Alabama.— Farris v. Stoutz, 78 Ala. 130; Floyd v. Clayton, 67 Ala. 265 (describing the methods in which claims may be presented); McDowell v. Jones, 58 Ala. 25; Fretwell v. McLemore, 52 Ala. 124; Halfman v. Ellison, 51 Ala. 543; Erwin v. Mobile Branch Bank, 14 Ala. 307; Jones v. Lightfoot, 10 Ala. 17.

Arizona.— O'Doherty v. Toole, 2 Ariz. 288, 15 Pac. 28.

Arkansas.— Cox v. Phelps, 65 Ark. 1, 45 S. W. 990; Gist v. Gans, 30 Ark. 285; Meyer v. Quartermous, 28 Ark. 45.

California.— Barthe v. Rogers, 127 Cal. 52, 59 Pac. 310; Morrow v. Barker, 119 Cal. 65, 51 Pac. 12; In re Halleck, 49 Cal. 111. See also Marsh v. Dooley, 52 Cal. 232 [explained in In re Crosby, 55 Cal. 574].

Colorado.— Thompson v. White, 25 Colo. 226, 54 Pac. 718.

Florida.— May v. Vann, 15 Fla. 553; Ellison v. Allen, 8 Fla. 206.

fixed by order of court within limits prescribed by statute.[47] The provisions of some of these statutes make it necessary for the creditor not only to exhibit his claim to the personal representative within the statutory period, but also to present

Illinois.—Waughop v. Bartlett, 165 Ill. 124, 46 N. E. 197; Kittredge v. Nicholes, 162 Ill. 410, 44 N. E. 742 [affirming 60 Ill. App. 604]; Barnard v. Barnard, 119 Ill. 92, 8 N. E. 320; Blanchard v. Williamson, 70 Ill. 647; Harris v. Douglas, 64 Ill. 466; Rosenthal v. Magee, 41 Ill. 370; Reitzell v. Miller, 25 Ill. 67; Thorn v. Watson, 10 Ill. 26; Tinker v. Babcock, 107 Ill. App. 78 [affirmed in 204 Ill. 571, 68 N. E. 445]; Wallace v. Monroe, 22 Ill. App. 602. See also Wilding v. Rhein, 12 Ill. App. 384.

Indiana.—Armacost v. Lindley, 116 Ind. 295, 19 N. E. 138; Tracewell v. Peacock, 55 Ind. 572; State v. Givan, 45 Ind. 267; Hyatt v. Mavity, 34 Ind. 415.

Iowa.— Wickham v. Hull, 102 Iowa 469, 71 N. W. 352; Schlutter v. Duhling, 100 Iowa 515, 69 N. W. 884; Cory v. Gillespie, 94 Iowa 347, 62 N. W. 837; Bayless v. Powers, 62 Iowa 601, 17 N. W. 907; Willcox v. Jackson, 51 Iowa 296, 1 N. W. 536; O'Donnell v. Hermann, 42 Iowa 60; Braught v. Griffith, 16 Iowa 26; Galloway v. Trout, 2 Greene 595.

Kansas.— Scroggs v. Tutt, 23 Kan. 181; Clawson v. McCune, 20 Kan. 337.

Kentucky.— Holmes v. Lusk, 78 Ky. 548.

Maine.— Marshall v. Perkins, 72 Me. 343.

Massachusetts.—Aiken v. Morse, 104 Mass. 277.

Minnesota.— Berryhill v. Gasquoine, 88 Minn. 281, 92 N. W. 1121; Jorgensen v. Larson, 85 Minn. 134, 88 N. W. 439; Gilman v. Maxwell, 79 Minn. 377, 82 N. W. 669; Hill v. Nichols, 47 Minn. 382, 50 N. W. 367; Fern v. Lenthold, 39 Minn. 212, 39 N. W. 399; State v. Ramsey County Probate Ct., 25 Minn. 22; Kentucky Commercial Bank v. Slater, 21 Minn. 172.

Mississippi.—Harris v. Hutcheson, 65 Miss. 9, 3 So. 34; Robertson v. Demoss, 23 Miss. 298; Cohen v. Sinking Fund Com'rs, 7 Sm. & M. 437.

Missouri.— Richardson v. Harrison, 36 Mo. 96; State v. Browning, 102 Mo. App. 455, 76 S. W. 719; Waltemar v. Schnick, 102 Mo. App. 133, 76 S. W. 1053; Wilks v. Murphy, 19 Mo. App. 221; Bauer v. Gray, 18 Mo. App. 173.

Montana.—Melton v. Martin, 28 Mont. 150, 72 Pac. 414.

New Hampshire.— Amoskeag Mfg. Co. v. Barnes, 48 N. H. 25; Walker v. Cheever, 39 N. H. 420; Harris v. Davis, 1 N. H. 248.

New Mexico.— Janes v. Brunswick, 8 N. M. 105, 42 Pac. 72.

New York.— Cornes v. Wilkin, 79 N. Y. 129 [affirming 14 Hun 428]; Thayer v. Clark, 48 Barb. 243.

North Carolina.— See Ridley v. Thorp, 3 N. C. 343; Ogden v. Witherspoon, 18 Fed. Cas. No. 10,461, 3 N. C. 227.

Pennsylvania.— Emerick's Estate, 172 Pa. St. 191, 33 Atl. 550; Oliver's Appeal, 101 Pa. St. 299; Stoever's Appeal, 3 Watts & S. 154; Cowan's Estate, 28 Pittsb. Leg. J. 119; Wright's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 228.

South Carolina.— Miller v. Mitchell, Bailey Eq. 437. See also Edwards v. King, 7 S. C. 370.

Texas.—Buchanan v. Wagnon, 62 Tex. 375; Converse v. Sorley, 39 Tex. 515; Green v. Rugely, 23 Tex. 539; Danzey v. Swinney, 7 Tex. 617; McDougald v. Hadley, 1 Tex. 490; National Guaranty Loan, etc., Co. v. Fly, 29 Tex. Civ. App. 533, 69 S. W. 231.

Utah.— Fullerton v. Bailey, 17 Utah 85, 53 Pac. 1020.

Wyoming.— O'Keefe v. Foster, 5 Wyo. 343, 40 Pac. 525.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 764; and Schouler Ex. §§ 390, 418.

An administratrix ad colligendum is not such a representative of the estate as to require a presentation of a claim against the estate within eighteen months after the grant of letters to her. Erwin v. Mobile Branch Bank, 14 Ala. 307.

When statutes not applicable.— The Indiana statute providing that claims against estates shall be filed in the court of common pleas does not apply to cases where the legal representative of a deceased joint obligor is a proper party defendant to an action against the survivor. Braxton v. State, 25 Ind. 82. See also Martin v. Asher, 25 Ind. 237. The Pennsylvania statute providing that a claim not exhibited to the administrator within twelve months after notice of letters of administration, or until after distribution of the assets has been made, shall be barred, does not apply where the distribution was made by the administrator without the appointment of an auditor as provided by such statute. Clunk's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 280; Loder's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 276; Wright's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 228. It has been held in Kentucky that if the personal representative has no assets in his hands with which to pay debts there is no necessity for creditors to present their demands to him for payment, but that after an action to settle the estate is commenced it is within the sound discretion of the chancellor to prescribe the time within which creditors may present their claims, proved and verified according to law, and that the question of the validity of the claims is subject to his decision. Grey v. Lewis, 79 Ky. 453.

The fact that the personal representative includes the claim in a report made to the court as a foundation for a proceeding to sell land to pay debts does not relieve the creditor from the necessity of complying with a statute requiring that claims be exhibited to the court. Roberts v. Flatt, 142 Ill. 485, 32 N. E. 484 [affirming 42 Ill. App. 608].

47. Cone v. Dunham, 59 Conn. 145, 20 Atl. 311, 8 L. R. A. 647; Weeks v. Hull, 19 Conn. 376, 50 Am. Dec. 249; Wooden v. Cowles, 11

it to the probate court for allowance[48] or to file it in the court having probate jurisdiction;[49] but statutes requiring such filing have been held to be directory only, on the ground that presentation to the personal representative is of itself sufficient to prevent the claim from being barred.[50] In some states it is required that the creditor shall not only present but prove his claim within a limited period, presentation alone not being sufficient to prevent the statutory bar;[51] while in other states nothing more than formal, ex parte proof is required at the time of presentation.[52] By some statutes it is provided that no claim against a decedent shall be a charge against, or a lien upon, his estate, unless presented or filed within a certain time,[53] while under others, the effect of non-presentation within the statutory time is merely to postpone the claimant to those creditors who have duly presented their claims,[54] or to release the representative from liability to the creditor for payment of debts, legacies, and distributive shares before the claim is presented, and to confine the creditor to such assets as remain undistributed or, in the absence thereof, to remit him to his remedy against the heirs, devisees, legatees, and distributees to whom assets have come.[55] Where statutes of the latter character are found, it has been held that the claim may be filed and an accounting demanded at any time before the final discharge of the representative,[56] unless the circumstances are such that the creditor is estopped by his delay.[57] The statutes of non-claim are in some states considered as statutes of limitation,[58] but in others they are considered merely as special acts designed for the purpose of facilitating the speedy settlement of decedents' estates.[59] These Conn. 292; Fitzgerald v. Chariton First Nat. Bank, 64 Nebr. 260, 89 N. W. 813; Young v. Young, 45 N. J. L. 197; Freehold First Nat. Bank v. Thompson, 61 N. J. Eq. 188, 48 Atl. 333; Lewis v. Champion, 40 N. J. Eq. 59; Gould v. Tingley, 16 N. J. Eq. 501; Pereles v. Leiser, 119 Wis. 347, 96 N. W. 799; Butler v. Templeton, 115 Wis. 382, 91 N. W. 969; Fields v. Mundy, 106 Wis. 383, 82 N. W. 343, 80 Am. St. Rep. 39; Austin v. Saveland, 77 Wis. 108, 45 N. W. 955 [distinguishing Brill v. Ide, 75 Wis. 113, 43 N. W. 559].

48. Farmers' Sav. Bank v. Burgin, 73 Mo. App. 108; Price v. McCause, 30 Mo. App. 627 See infra, X, B, 14, c.

In Arkansas it has been held that the exhibition of a properly authenticated claim to the personal representative arrests the statute of non-claim, and the law does not limit the time for presenting the claim to the probate court for classification. Randolph v. Ward, 29 Ark. 238.

49. Cory v. Gillespie, 94 Iowa 347, 62 N. W. 837.

50. Willis v. Farley, 24 Cal. 490. See also In re Schroeder, 46 Cal. 304; Bell v. Mills, 123 Fed. 24, 59 C. C. A. 104, construing the California statutes.

51. Collamore v. Wilder, 19 Kan. 67.

In Iowa a claim of the fourth class must be filed and proved within a certain time after notice of the representative's appointment or it will be barred unless the claim is pending in court or peculiar circumstances entitle the claimant to equitable relief. Pearson v. Christman, 93 Iowa 703, 91 N. W. 1085; Orcutt v. Hanson, 70 Iowa 604, 31 N. W. 950; Clark v. Tallman, 68 Iowa 372, 27 N. W. 261; Colby v. King, 67 Iowa 458, 25 N. W. 704; Brownell v. Williams, 54 Iowa 353, 6 N. W. 530; Lacey v. Loughridge, 51 Iowa 629, 2 N. W. 515; Noble v. Morrey, 19 Iowa 509; Woodward v. Laverty, 14 Iowa 381.

52. Posey v. Decatur Bank, 12 Ala. 802 (holding that witnesses need not then be produced); Mardis v. Shakleford, 4 Ala. 493; Jones v. Pharr, 3 Ala. 283.

53. See O'Brien v. Larson, 71 Minn. 371, 74 N. W. 148, holding, however, that where the probate court erroneously allows a claim not presented within the statutory period, the error does not go to the jurisdiction of the court. See also Emerick's Estate, 172 Pa. St. 191, 33 Atl. 550; Demmy's Appeal, 43 Pa. St. 155.

54. See infra, X, D, 2, c, (II), (B), (12).

55. In re Mullon, 145 N. Y. 98, 39 N. E. 821; O'Conner v. Gifford, 117 N. Y. 275, 22 N. E. 1036 [affirming 3 N. Y. Suppl. 337 (reversing 3 N. Y. Suppl. 207, 6 Dem. Surr. 71)]; Erwin v. Loper, 43 N. Y. 521; Ford v. Rouse, 1 Rice (S. C.) 219. See infra, X, B, 12.

56. In re Mullon, 145 N. Y. 98, 39 N. E. 821; Lawyers' Surety Co. v. Reinach, 25 Misc. (N. Y.) 150, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 205 [affirming 23 Misc. 242, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 162]. See also Ford v. Rouse, 1 Rice (S. C.) 219.

57. O'Conner v. Gifford, 117 N. Y. 275, 22 N. E. 1036 [affirming 3 N. Y. Suppl. 337 (reversing 3 N. Y. Suppl. 207, 6 Dem. Surr. 71)]. See also Matter of Crise, 7 N. Y. Suppl. 202, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 59.

58. Williamson v. McCrary, 33 Ark. 470; Linthicum v. Tapscott, 28 Ark. 267; Cohea v. Sinking Fund Com'rs, 7 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 437; Ryans v. Boogher, 169 Mo. 673, 67 S. W. 1048. See also Whitmore v. San Francisco Sav. Union, 50 Cal. 145.

59. Alabama.— Yniestra v. Tarleton, 67 Ala. 126.

statutes are not usually given a retroactive effect.[60] Even independent of statute a failure to present and prove a claim against a decedent's estate within a reasonable time may amount to waiver of the same,[61] or through long failure to present the claim or to take any steps to enforce it the creditor may be barred by laches.[62] There can be no judicial determination that there are no claims against an estate until the expiration of the statutory time for filing claims.[63] If a valid presentation of a claim has once been made, a change in the administration by the appointment of another representative does not necessitate a second presentation.[64] Where a claim has been duly presented by a creditor and is afterward assigned, presentation by the assignee is unnecessary,[65] and where a creditor has duly presented or filed his claim against the estate of his deceased debtor a surety who pays the debt stands in the place of the creditor as to the steps already taken to enforce the claim and is subrogated to the creditor's rights to prosecute the claim to allowance and payment.[66] Where a claim has been originally presented or filed in time a mere substitution of parties, made necessary by a decision of the supreme court, after the expiration of the time limited for presentation, does not make the claim a new one so as to be barred because not presented within the required period.[67]

b. Effect of Representative's Knowledge of Existence of Debt. According to the weight of authority knowledge on the part of an executor or administrator of the existence of a debt or claim against the estate is not sufficient to dispense with the necessity of presentation.[68]

Illinois.— Waughop v. Bartlett, 165 Ill. 124, 46 N. E. 197; Morse v. Gillette, 93 Ill. App. 23 [affirmed in 191 Ill. 371, 61 N. E. 1136]; Smith v. Preston, 82 Ill. App. 285. See also Curry v. Mack, 90 Ill. 606, holding that a statutory provision that the failure of a holder of a note to present it for allowance against the deceased principal's estate within two years after the granting of letters testamentary or of administration will release the surety enters into and forms a part of the contract, and is not merely a statute of limitation.

New Jersey.— Newbold v. Fenimore, 53 N. J. L. 307, 21 Atl. 939.

Texas.— Standifer v. Hubbard, 39 Tex. 417; Ryan v. Flint, 30 Tex. 382.

Vermont.— Briggs v. Thomas, 32 Vt. 176.

60. Alabama.— Morrissett v. Carr, (1900) 27 So. 844; Aycock v. Johnson, 119 Ala. 405, 24 So. 543; Andrews v. Huckabee, 30 Ala. 143; McHenry v. Wells, 28 Ala. 451.

California.— Hibernia Sav., etc., Soc. v. Hayes, 56 Cal. 297.

Kentucky.— Holmes v. Lusk, 78 Ky. 548, 1 Ky. L. Rep. 259.

Minnesota.— State v. Ramsey County Probate Ct., 25 Minn. 22.

Missouri.— Ambs v. Caspari, 13 Mo. App. 587.

Pennsylvania.— Benner v. Phillips, 9 Watts & S. 13.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 767.

Estates in progress of administration.— The Texas act of 1840, requiring claims against estates of decedents to be presented to the executor or administrator for his approval, governed the procedure in the administration of the estates then in progress of administration, as well as those of which the administration was subsequently opened. Harrison v. Knight, 7 Tex. 47.

61. Barnard v. Barnard, 119 Ill. 92, 8 N. E. 320. See also Harris v. Douglas, 64 Ill. 466; O'Connor v. Gifford, 117 N. Y. 275, 22 N. E. 1036 [affirming 3 N. Y. Suppl. 337 (reversing 3 N. Y. Suppl. 207, 6 Dem. Surr. 71)].

62. Minnesota.— Hill v. Nichols, 47 Minn. 382, 50 N. W. 367; O'Mulcahy v. Gragg, 45 Minn. 112, 47 N. W. 543.

New York.— O'Connor v. Gifford, 117 N. Y. 275, 22 N. E. 1036 [affirming 3 N. Y. Suppl. 337 (reversing 3 N. Y. Suppl. 207, 6 Dem. Surr. 71)].

Pennsylvania.— Haage's Appeal, 17 Pa. St. 181; Clarke's Estate, 1 Phila. 356; Simpson's Estate, 1 Phila. 300.

Texas.— Chandler v. Hudson, 11 Tex. 32.

United States.— Rogers v. Law, 1 Black 253, 17 L. ed. 58.

63. Seery v. Murray, 107 Iowa 384, 77 N. W. 1058; In re Higgins, 15 Mont. 474, 39 Pac. 506, 28 L. R. A. 116.

64. Floyd v. Clayton, 67 Ala. 265; McHardy v. McHardy, 7 Fla. 301; Parks v. Lubbock, (Tex. Civ. App. 1899) 50 S. W. 466. See also Cochran v. Germania Bank, 10 Ky. L. Rep. 449.

65. Ryan v. Flanagan, 38 N. J. L. 161.

66. Braught v. Griffith, 16 Iowa 26, holding also that the surety is entitled to demand payment of the claim as in the class in which the claim was placed by the original filing. See also Harman v. Harman, 62 Nebr. 452, 87 N. W. 177.

67. McCall v. Lee, 120 Ill. 261, 11 N. E. 522 [affirming 24 Ill. App. 585].

68. Alabama.— Borum v. Bell, 132 Ala. 85, 31 So. 454; McDowell v. Jones, 58 Ala. 25; Jones v. Lightfoot, 10 Ala. 17.

c. Effect of Suit on Claim — (i) In General. According to the weight of authority the commencement of a suit and its continuous prosecution operates as a presentation of a claim or obviates the necessity of presentation.[69] But this result is not produced where plaintiff voluntarily submits to a nonsuit,[70] or where Connecticut.— Dime Savings Bank v. McAlenney, 76 Conn. 141, 55 Atl. 1019. See also Pike v. Thorp, 44 Conn. 450.

Florida.— Bush v. Adams, 22 Fla. 177; Fillyau v. Laverty, 3 Fla. 72.

Illinois.— Morse v. Pacific R. Co. 191 Ill. 356, 61 N. E. 104 [affirming 93 Ill. App. 31]; Roberts v. Flatt, 142 Ill. 485, 32 N. E. 484 [affirming 42 Ill. App. 608].

Maryland.— See Steuart v. Carr, 6 Gill 430, statute.

Missouri.— See Madison County Bank v. Suman, 79 Mo. 527.

New Jersey.— Vandyke v. Chandler, 10 N. J. L. 49.

New York.— Niles v. Crocker, 88 Hun 312, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 761; Matter of Morton, 7 Misc. 343, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 82.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 766.

Contra.— Perry v. West, 40 Miss. 233; Mobile Branch Bank v. Rhew, 37 Miss. 110; Brown v. Hill, 26 Miss. 643; Ellis v. Carlisle, 8 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 552; Miller v. Jefferson College, 5 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 651; Edwards v. King, 7 S. C. 370.

Representative acting in dual capacity.— Where the same person is the executor or administrator of both the debtor and creditor, formal presentation of the claim appears to be unnecessary. Thomas v. Chamberlain, 39 Ohio St. 112. So also where A was executor of B and was also the president of a corporation which held a note given by B in his lifetime, it was held that A's knowledge and possession of the note as president of the corporation were equivalent to knowledge and possession of the note as executor, and dispensed with presentation of the claim. Brown v. Brown, 56 Conn. 249, 14 Atl. 718, 7 Am. St. Rep. 307, 58 Conn. 85, 19 Atl. 236.

69. Alabama.—Freeman v. Pullen, 119 Ala. 235, 24 So. 57; Floyd v. Clayton, 67 Ala. 265; McDougald v. Dawson, 30 Ala. 553; Hunley v. Shuford, 11 Ala. 203; Jones v. Lightfoot, 10 Ala. 17.

Arkansas.— See Clark v. Shelton, 16 Ark. 474.

Florida.— Fillyau v. Laverty, 3 Fla. 72.

Illinois.— Scheel v. Eidman, 68 Ill. 193 [distinguishing Gilbert v. Guptill, 34 Ill. 112]. The creditor is not compelled to present his claim to the probate court for allowance but may choose his forum and resort in the first instance to the circuit court if that court has jurisdiction. Rosenthal v. Magee, 41 Ill. 370.

Iowa.— The statute requiring claims to be filed and proved within a certain time contains an exception as to claims "pending in the district or supreme court." See Moore v. McKinley, 60 Iowa 367, 14 N. W. 768; O'Donnell v. Hermann, 42 Iowa 60; McCrary v. Deming, 38 Iowa 527; Cooley v. Smith, 17 Iowa 99. But this provision does not apply to proceedings in the district court for the establishment of the claim; the statute contemplates claims pending on the law or equity side of the district court, and not those pending within its probate jurisdiction. Farmers', etc., Bank v. Cleveling, 84 Iowa 677, 51 N. W. 178.

Maryland.— See Steuart v. Carr, 6 Gill 430.

Missouri.— Ryans v. Boogher, 169 Mo. 673, 69 S. W. 1048; Madison County Bank v. Suman, 79 Mo. 527; Farrar v. Comfort, 33 Mo. 44; Tevis v. Tevis, 23 Mo. 256; Waltemar v. Schnick, 102 Mo. App. 133, 76 S. W. 1053; Gewe v. Hanszen, 85 Mo. App. 136.

New York.— See Rauth v. Davenport, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 721, 22 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 121.

Contra.— Newbold v. Fenimore, 53 N. J. L. 307, 21 Atl. 939; Robins v. Arnold, 42 N. J. Eq. 511, 8 Atl. 721 (bill to discover and follow trust funds); Mutual Ben. L. Ins. Co. v. Howell, 32 N. J. Eq. 146 (bill to foreclose a mortgage); Dickinson's Estate, 4 Pa. Dist. 777.

The issuing of a citation in the orphans' court in the effort to collect a claim against a decedent's estate is commencing an action, and is equivalent to a suit at law in the common pleas, and hence is sufficient to toll the limitation of liens. Bartley's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 436.

Judgments obtained in suits against an executor or administrator begun within the period of limitation are not included within the statute requiring that claims shall be both exhibited and presented. Gewe v. Hanszen, 85 Mo. App. 136. So also a judgment rendered by a court of competent jurisdiction against a personal representative in an action brought within two years from the grant of letters will be as binding as if the claim had been presented and allowed in the county court. Roberts v. Flatt, 142 Ill. 485, 32 N. E. 484 [affirming 42 Ill. App. 608]; Darling v. McDonald, 101 Ill. 370. But in a foreclosure proceeding this effect is not produced if the decree of foreclosure merely provides for a sale on failure to pay the sum found due, and does not require the personal representative to pay any deficiency after the sale. Roberts v. Flatt, supra.

Amendment of petition.— A suit upon the agreement recited in a bond is a sufficient exhibition of plaintiff's demand to save it from the operation of the statute, although plaintiff afterward amends his petition and sues upon the bond for the penalty. Farrar v. Comfort, 33 Mo. 44.

70. Dilbone v. Moorer, 14 Ala. 426; Bigger v. Hutchings, 2 Stew. (Ala.) 445.

the proceedings instituted are voluntarily abandoned by him,[71] or vacated for irregularity,[72] and are not renewed.

(II) Claims in Suit at Decedent's Death. The mere pendency of a suit against the decedent at his death is not a presentation or exhibition of the claim within the meaning of the statute of non-claim, nor does it dispense with the necessity of presentation unless the statute so provides;[73] but where plaintiff within the time limited for the presentation of claims obtains an order of revivor or making the administrator a party to such suit, this order is generally equivalent to and dispenses with the actual presentation of the claim.[74] There must, however, be a revivor within the period limited by statute for presentation in order to prevent the claim becoming barred.[75]

If plaintiff suffers a nonsuit under the ruling of the court against his right to recover on the case as presented, it seems that the institution of the suit would, if sufficiently descriptive of the claim, be regarded as a sufficient presentation. Dilbone v. Moorer, 14 Ala. 426.

71. Pipkin v. Hewlett, 17 Ala. 291.

72. Boggs v. Mobile Branch Bank, 10 Ala. 970.

73. Bush v. Adams, 22 Fla. 177; Schlutter v. Dahling, 100 Iowa 515, 69 N. W. 884. Compare Woodward v. Laverty, 14 Iowa 381; Fern v. Leuthold, 39 Minn. 212, 39 N. W. 399; Berkey v. Judd, 27 Minn. 475, 8 N. W. 383.

74. Alabama.— Malone v. Hundley, 52 Ala. 147; Garrow v. Carpenter, 1 Port. 359.

Arkansas.— Eddins v. Graddy, 28 Ark. 500; McCoy v. Jackson, 21 Ark. 472; Goodrich v. Fritz, 9 Ark. 440, holding also that the statutory affidavit is unnecessary in such a case. See also Walker v. Byers, 14 Ark. 246.

Florida.— Anderson v. Agnew, 38 Fla. 30, 20 So. 766; Ellison v. Allen, 8 Fla. 206.

Iowa.— See O'Donnell v. Hermann, 42 Iowa 60.

New York.— Tindal v. Jones, 11 Abb. Pr. 258.

Texas.— See Simpson v. Knox, 1 Tex. Unrep. Cas. 569.

Presentment or demand not a prerequisite to revivor.— Clodfelter v. Hulett, 92 Ind. 426; Cochran v. Whittaker, 10 Ky. L. Rep. 495 (holding, however, that plaintiff must make the expurgatory affidavit required by statute); Gray v. Patton, 3 Ky. L. Rep. 393; Apperson v. Hazelrigg, 2 Ky. L. Rep. 64; Musser v. Chase, 29 Ohio St. 577; Strong v. Eldridge, 8 Wash. 595, 36 Pac. 696.

Where a defendant dies pending his appeal from a judgment, and his executors are substituted, and obtain a reversal, the claim need not be presented to his executors before a retrial. Megrath v. Gilmore, 15 Wash. 558, 46 Pac. 1032.

If plaintiff suffers a nonsuit after such revivor and institutes a new suit within a year, it is not necessary to exhibit the claim again to the administrator. McCoy v. Jackson, 21 Ark. 472.

The service of a scire facias to revive a judgment upon the personal representative would be in effect a presentment of the claim. See Jones v. Lightfoot, 10 Ala. 17. But it is otherwise if the scire facias is voluntarily abandoned (Pipkin v. Hewlett, 17 Ala. 291. See also Waddill v. John, 57 Ala. 93, where the scire facias was abandoned because void) and in such case the issuance of an alias scire facias after eighteen months from the grant of letters, on which the executor is made a party, is not such a presentation as will save the claim from the bar (Waddill v. John, supra).

Under the statutes of California and Idaho if an action is pending against the decedent at the time of his death, plaintiff must present his claim against the estate for allowance, and no recovery can be had in the action unless such presentation is shown. Frazier v. Murphy, 133 Cal. 91, 65 Pac. 326; Faulkner v. Hendy, 123 Cal. 467, 56 Pac. 99; Vermont Marble Co. v. Black, 123 Cal. 21, 55 Pac. 599; Falkner v. Hendy, 107 Cal. 49, 40 Pac. 21, 386; Derby v. Jackman, 89 Cal 1, 26 Pac. 610; Bollinger v. Manning, 79 Cal. 7, 21 Pac. 375; U. S. v. Hailey, 2 Ida. (Hasb.) 22, 3 Pac. 263. See also Hibernia Sav., etc., Soc. v. Wackenreuder, 99 Cal. 503, 34 Pac. 219. The presentation of the claim must be proved, although it is not denied in the answer. Derby v. Jackman, 89 Cal. 1, 26 Pac. 610. But see In re Page, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 61. Where a judgment rendered against a decedent in his lifetime is reversed on an appeal taken by the administratrix as substituted defendant, the judgment creditor cannot recover from the administratrix if he has failed to present his claim against the estate, as the action is deemed to be pending until its final determination on appeal unless the judgment is sooner satisfied, and the judgment cannot be considered satisfied by an execution issued and levy made before decedent's death and a sale thereunder after the appeal was taken. Vermont Marble Co. v. Black, 123 Cal. 21, 55 Pac. 599. The Idaho statute applies to suits by the United States as well as to suits by private individuals. U. S. v. Hailey, 2 Ida. (Hasb.) 22, 3 Pac. 263.

75. Travis v. Tartt, 8 Ala. 574; State Bank v. Tucker, 15 Ark. 39; Bush v. Adams, 22 Fla. 177. See also Waddill v. John, 57 Ala. 93. But see Berkey v. Judd, 27 Minn. 475, 8 N. W. 383.

d. Effect of Insolvency of Estate. In the absence of special statutory provisions the ordinary statutes of non-claim requiring presentation of claims within a certain period are applicable, although the estate is declared insolvent.[76]

e. Effect of Testamentary Provisions. A formal direction in a will that all the testator's just debts shall be paid does not obviate the necessity of presenting and proving claims within the statutory period;[77] but under the statutes of some states if the will empowers and directs the executor as to the sale of property, the payment of debts and legacies, and the management of the estate, and especially if it confers upon him a power to sell, or vests in him an express trust for the purpose of paying debts, etc., or directs that the estate be managed and settled without the intervention of the court the claims of creditors need not be presented,[78] although to impose a trust on the land so as to produce this effect the intention of the testator must be clear, certain, and free from ambiguity.[79]

2. What Claims Should Be Presented — a. In General. As a general rule all claims against the deceased should be presented for allowance,[80] and as used in the statutes under discussion the word "claims" is held to include such debts or demands as existed against the decedent in his lifetime and might have been enforced against him by personal actions for the recovery of money.[81] Debts or demands not falling within this category need not as a general rule be presented.[82]

76. Cawthorne v. Weisinger, 6 Ala. 714. See also McDowell v. Jones, 58 Ala. 25. And see infra, XIII, G, 1, a.

The Tennessee statute limiting the time within which creditors can demand their respective accounts and claims from the personal representative of the estate is not affected by the laws regulating the administration of an insolvent estate. Marley v. Cummings, 5 Sneed 479.

77. Collamore v. Wilder, 19 Kan. 67; O'Neil v. Freeman, 45 N. J. L. 208

78. Abbay v. Hill, 64 Miss. 340, 1 So. 484; Smythe v. Caswell, 65 Tex. 379; Bell v. Farmers', etc., Bank, (Tex. Civ. App. 1903) 76 S. W. 798; Parks v. Lubbock, (Tex. Civ. App. 1899) 50 S. W. 466; In re Macdonald, 29 Wash. 422, 69 Pac. 1111; Moore v. Kirkman, 19 Wash. 605, 54 Pac. 24. See infra, XXIII.

79. Gwin v. Nettles, (Miss. 1895) 18 So. 798; Abbay v. Hill, 64 Miss. 340, 1 So. 484.

Parol evidence of destroyed will.— Where the testator's will, together with the book in which it had been recorded, had been destroyed by fire, and the contents of the will was proved by a witness, who testified that he had often examined the will, that his recollection of its contents was that it provided that the testator's debts should be paid out of his estate by his executor, and that it authorized his executor to sell any part of the estate, real or personal, for the payment of debts, it was held that the evidence was not sufficiently certain to impose upon the testator's real estate a trust for the payment of debts, so as to prevent a claim from being barred. Gwin v. Nettles, (Miss. 1895) 18 So. 798.

80. Fretwell v. McLemore, 52 Ala. 124; Walker v. Byers, 14 Ark. 246; In re Halleck, 49 Cal. 111; Cornes v. Wilkin, 79 N. Y. 129 [affirming 14 Hun 428]; Ridley v. Thorpe, 3 N. C. 525.

81. Fallon v. Butler, 21 Cal. 24, 81 Am. Dec. 140; Stichter v. Cox, 52 Nebr. 532, 72 N. W. 843; Rice v. Connelly, 71 N. H. 382, 52 Atl. 446; Sawyer v. Hebard, 58 Vt. 375, 3 Atl. 529.

"Claim" means legal demand. Gray v. Palmer, 9 Cal. 616.

82. Alabama.— Locke v. Palmer, 26 Ala. 312.

California.— Hibernia Sav., etc., Soc. v. Conlin, 67 Cal. 178, 7 Pac. 477 (claim on a mortgage given to secure the debt of a third person); Fallon v. Butler, 21 Cal. 24, 81 Am. Dec. 140.

Iowa.— Pratt v. Fishwild, 121 Iowa 642, 96 N. W. 1089 (holding that where a claim has been filed against an estate and the parties jointly liable are insisting that the estate shall pay the whole debt, and that their liability to the estate shall not exceed half the amount so paid, such claim is not such a claim as is required to be presented within twelve months); Rogers v. Gillett, 56 Iowa 266, 9 N. W. 204 (holding that the claim by an heir to an extra allowance on final distribution of the estate, by virtue of an agreement with the other heirs, not being a debt against the decedent, is not a claim against the estate, in the sense that it must be filed within a year from the granting of letters of administration).

New Hampshire.— Rice v. Connelly, 71 N. H. 382, 52 Atl. 446.

Vermont.— Manning v. Leighton, 65 Vt. 84, 26 Atl. 258, 24 L. R. A. 684.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 768.

But see Walker v. Byers, 14 Ark. 246, 253, where the court said: "We think it clear that the claims and demands which the statute contemplates shall be exhibited . . . are all claims capable of being asserted in any court of justice, either of law or equity, existing either at the time of the death of the deceased, or coming into existence at any time after the death, and before the expiration of the two years."

Among claims which should be presented may be mentioned claims founded on contract generally,[83] a claim arising out of a contract of guaranty[84] or indemnity,[85] a claim for damages for breach of contract or covenant,[86] a claim founded on a devastavit committed by an executor or administrator since deceased,[87] a claim founded on services to decedent,[88] a claim by a surety who has paid his principal's debt, for reimbursement from his estate,[89] a claim of a principal debtor against the estate of a person sued as his trustee in "trustee process,"[90] a claim against decedent as tenant in common,[91] a claim against the estate of a deceased life-tenant for dissipating the goods in which he had only the life-estate,[92] a sheriff's claim for money advanced to decedent for taxes,[93] and claims of heirs based on the appropriation of community property by one member of the community after the death of the other.[94] Debts contracted out of the state are within the statute of non-claim and must be presented.[95] Among claims which need not be presented may be mentioned purely equitable claims,[96] claims for funeral expenses,[97] claims for legacies or distributive shares[98] or the widow's award out of the personal property of the estate,[99] unliquidated claims,[1] including claims

Division of fund in claimant's hands.— Where, by the division of a fund in a certain person's hands, and a retention of his own portion, his claim is satisfied, he need not present a claim. Sharpstein v. Friedlander, 54 Cal. 58.

Allowance of credit on note due decedent.— An administrator may properly allow credits on a note due the decedent, which he knows to be just and such as could be established, without requiring a suit and without the credits being established in the manner prescribed by statute for other claims against the estate. Stonebreaker v. Friar, 70 Tex. 202, 7 S. W. 799.

83. Gilman v. Maxwell, 79 Minn. 377, 82 N. W. 669.

84. National Guaranty L. & T. Co. v. Fly, 29 Tex. Civ. App. 533, 69 S. W. 231.

85. Maddock v. Russell, 109 Cal. 417, 42 Pac. 139.

86. McDowell v. Jones, 58 Ala. 25; Ratcliff v. Leuning, 30 Ind. 289; Hartman v. Lee, 30 Ind. 281; Clark v. Gates, 84 Minn. 381, 87 N. W. 941 (breach of warranty); Pickett v. Ford, 4 How. (Miss.) 246.

A money claim arising out of a breach of contract of sale must be presented. Jorgensen v. Larson, 85 Minn. 134, 88 N. W. 439; Smith v. Hickman, Cooke (Tenn.) 330; Lewis v. Hickman, 2 Overt. (Tenn.) 317. Contra, Bullion v. Campbell, 27 Tex. 653; Peters v. Phillips, 19 Tex. 70, 70 Am. Dec. 319; Evans v. Hardeman, 15 Tex. 480; Robinson v. McDonald, 11 Tex. 385, 62 Am. Dec. 480. But see Sutton v. Page, 4 Tex. 142.

87. Page v. Bartlett, 101 Ala. 193, 13 So. 768; Taylor v. Robinson, 69 Ala. 269; McDowell v. Jones, 58 Ala. 25; Fretwell v. McLemore, 52 Ala. 124. Aliter where the claim is on the administration bond. Gordon v. Gibbs, 3 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 473.

Fraudulent concealment.— That the devastavit was fraudulently concealed by the deceased administrator in his lifetime does not affect the statute of non-claim. Taylor v. Robinson, 69 Ala. 269. See infra, X, B, 4, c, (II).

88. Etchas v. Orena, 127 Cal. 588, 60 Pac. 45; Grant v. Grant, 63 Conn. 530, 29 Atl. 15, 38 Am. St. Rep. 379; In re Kessler, 87 Wis. 660, 59 N. W. 129, 41 Am. St. Rep. 74.

89. Bauer v. Gray, 18 Mo. App. 164.

90. Chapman v. Gayle, 32 N. H. 141, holding that the claim will be barred by a failure to present it or by its disallowance and a neglect to appeal.

91. McKneely v. Terry, 61 Ark. 527, 33 S. W. 953.

92. Quicksall v. Chew, (N. J. Ch. 1897) 38 Atl. 442.

93. Brown v. Porter, 7 Humphr. (Tenn.) 373.

94. Rose v. England, 51 Tex. 617.

95. Jones v. Drewry, 72 Ala. 311. They were, however, expressly excepted from the operation of the Alabama statute of non-claim of 1815, which was superseded by the code of 1852. See Jones v. Drewry, 72 Ala. 311; Sanford v. Wicks, 3 Ala. 369; Bigger v. Hutchings, 2 Stew. (Ala.) 445.

96. Toulouse v. Burkett, 2 Ida. (Hasb.) 184, 10 Pac. 26; Barton Nat. Bank v. Atkins, 72 Vt. 33, 47 Atl. 176; Herrick v. Belknap, 27 Vt. 673; Heaton v. Thatcher, 59 Fed. 731.

97. Potter v. Lewin, 123 Cal. 146, 55 Pac. 783; Dampeir v. St. Paul Trust Co., 46 Minn. 526, 49 N. W. 286; Sawyer v. Hebard, 58 Vt. 375, 3 Atl. 529. Compare Walley v. Gentry, 68 Mo. App. 298.

98. Amos v. Campbell, 9 Fla. 187; Cook v. Cook, 92 Ind. 398.

Complaint for allowance of legacy may be in form of claim against estate. Fickle v. Snepp, 97 Ind. 289, 49 Am. Rep. 449.

99. Miller v. Miller, 82 Ill. 463.

1. Jacobs' Succession, 5 Rob. (La.) 270; Anderson v. Birdsall, 19 La. 441; King v. Cassidy, 36 Tex. 531; Garrett v. Gaines, 6 Tex. 435; National Guaranty L. & T. Co. v. Fly, 29 Tex. Civ. App. 533, 69 S. W. 231. But see Hamblin v. Hook, 6 La. 73.

A claim on a guaranty by a locator, to the obligee, of a dollar per acre for land, if he will accept of a certain selection, is a claim for unliquidated damages, being the amount which the value of the land falls short of that price; and such claim need not be presented founded in tort,[2] and claims of title or for possession or recovery of property.[3] A right acquired by garnishment against a decedent, being a mere liability and not a "claim," need not be registered.[4]

b. Contingent Claims.[5] Within the meaning of the statutes relating to presentation of claims against a decedent's estate, a contingent claim is one under which the existence of any right or liability is not presently certain or absolute but is dependent upon some future event which may or may not happen. If the right or liability exists independent of the event, the claim is absolute, notwithstanding the fact that until the happening of the event it may be uncertain in amount or unenforceable.[6] In many jurisdictions contingent claims are not within the to an administrator before suit. Evans v. Hardeman, 15 Tex. 480.

A demand for discovery and accounting, since it necessarily involves an uncertain amount, need not be presented to the administrator for allowance. Neis v. Farquharson, 9 Wash. 508, 37 Pac. 697.

2. Blum v. Welborne, 58 Tex. 157; Ferrill v. Mooney, 33 Tex. 219. See also Hardin v. Sin Claire, 115 Cal. 460, 47 Pac. 363. Contra, Warner v. Crane, 16 Vt. 79.

3. Alabama.— Smith v. Gillam, 80 Ala. 296; Andrews v. Huckabee, 30 Ala. 143; Locke v. Palmer, 26 Ala. 312.

California.— Kerns v. McKean, 65 Cal. 411, 4 Pac. 404 [followed in Kerns v. Dean, 77 Cal. 555, 19 Pac. 817]. But see Rowland's Estate, 74 Cal. 523, 16 Pac. 315, 8 Am. St. Rep. 464.

Massachusetts.— See Haven v. Haven, 181 Mass. 573, 64 N. E. 410.

New Hampshire.— Rice v. Connelly, 71 N. H. 382, 52 Atl. 446.

South Dakota.— Purdin v. Archer, 4 S. D. 54, 54 N. W. 1043.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 768.

Contra.— Hall v. McCormick, 7 Tex. 269.

4. Harris v. Hutcheson, 65 Miss. 9, 3 So. 34.

5. Presentation as a prerequisite to an action against heirs and devisees see DESCENT AND DISTRIBUTION, 14 Cyc. 208, 209.

As to contingent claims arising out of stock-holder's liability see CORPORATIONS, 10 Cyc. 720.

6. Alabama.— Farris v. Stoutz, 78 Ala. 130; McDowell v. Jones, 58 Ala. 25; Fretwell v. McLemore, 52 Ala. 124; Jones v. Lightfoot, 10 Ala. 17.

California.— Verdier v. Roach, 96 Cal. 467, 31 Pac. 554; In re Halleck, Myr. Prob. 46 [affirmed in 49 Cal. 111].

Illinois.— Morse v. Gillette, 93 Ill. App. 23 [affirmed in 191 Ill. 371, 61 N. E. 1136].

Maine.— Greene v. Dyer, 32 Me. 460.

Minnesota.— Jorgenson v. Larson, 85 Minn. 134, 88 N. W. 439.

Nebraska.— Stichter v. Cox, 52 Nebr. 532, 72 N. W. 848.

Vermont.— Brown v. Dunn, 75 Vt. 264, 55 Atl. 364; Curley v. Hand, 53 Vt. 524; Sargent v. Kimball, 37 Vt. 320.

Wisconsin.— South Milwaukee Co. v. Murphy, 112 Wis. 614, 88 N. W. 583, 58 L. R. A. 82 [explaining Greene v. Dyer, 32 Me. 460]; Austin v. Saveland, 77 Wis. 108, 45 N. W. 955. Compare Mann v. Everts, 64 Wis. 372, 25 N. W. 209.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 769.

Distinction between contingent and unmatured claims see Verdier v. Roach, 96 Cal. 467, 31 Pac. 554. As to claims not due see infra, X, B, 2, c.

A claim payable on a third person's death is an absolute and unconditional claim payable in the future, only the time of payment being uncertain; it is an accrued claim when created, payment merely being postponed until the death occurs. Farris v. Stoutz, 78 Ala. 130; Brown v. Dunn, 75 Vt. 264, 55 Atl. 364. But in Missouri such a claim has been held to be contingent. Tenney v. Lasley, 80 Mo. 664.

Claim dependent upon action of court.— In some states it is held that a claim dependent upon the action of a court in granting or refusing relief is not a contingent claim; that if the claimant is not entitled to a judgment or decree he has no claim, but that if he is entitled his claim cannot be regarded as contingent on whether its enforcement by suit will be granted or refused. Jones v. Lightfoot, 10 Ala. 17 (demand dependent upon correction of mistake in a deed); Jorgenson v. Larson, 85 Minn. 134, 88 N. W. 439. See also McDowell v. Jones, 58 Ala. 25; Fretwell v. McLemore, 52 Ala. 124. But in other states claims depending for their validity upon the action of a court are deemed contingent. Backus v. Cleaveland, Kirby (Conn.) 36; Sankey v. Cook, 82 Iowa 125, 47 N. W. 1077; Senat v. Findley, 51 Iowa 20, 50 N. W. 575. See also Atherton v. Fullam, 55 Vt. 388.

A subsisting demand which had matured and was capable of being enforced by suit during the lifetime of the debtor is not a contingent claim, and therefore must be presented within the ordinary period of limitation. McDowell v. Jones, 58 Ala. 25; Morse v. Pacific R. Co., 191 Ill. 356, 61 N. E. 104 [affirming 93 Ill. App. 31]; Morse v. Gillette, 93 Ill. App. 23 [affirmed in 191 Ill. 371, 61 N. E. 1136]; Stichter v. Cox, 52 Nebr. 532, 72 N. W. 848.

Note not due.— An absolute liability on a note payable at a future day is not a contingent claim and must be presented within the time limited for presenting existing statutory requirement of presentation, but may be enforced whenever the liability becomes fixed by the happening of the contingency, even though this occurs after the time limited for presentation.[7] But this rule is often limited either by the express provisions of the statutes or by the decisions, so that the statute requiring presentation does not apply while the claim remains contingent, but begins to run upon the happening of the contingency which fixes the liability, or at the time when the claim accrues, even though this date is after the expiration of the general period limited for presenting claims,[8] or after the administration claims. Austin v. Saveland, 77 Wis. 108, 45 N. W. 955. See also Pratt v. Lamson, 128 Mass. 528. See infra, X, B, 2, c.

The liability of an indorser of a promissory note is contingent until maturity, demand, and notice of dishonor, and where the indorser dies before the maturity of the note the statute of non-claim does not run until the liability becomes absolute, and the fact that the indorser without the knowledge of the indorsee was indemnified by the maker so that demand and notice were waived cannot have the effect to set the statute of non-claim in operation before the note matures. Cockrill v. Hobson, 16 Ala. 391.

Claim of indorser against maker's estate.— Where an unmatured negotiable note is indorsed by the payee and held by the indorsee, and after the probate court fixes the time for presenting claims against the deceased maker's estate the indorser is compelled to pay the note, he then becomes a creditor and is entitled to present his claim within the statutory period thereafter. Meriden Steam Mill Lumber Co. v. Guy, 40 Conn. 163.

Claim founded on executor's breach of duty. — The claim which the creditor of an estate may have against the executor, by reason of his acts or omissions as executor, is one which becomes fixed in the lifetime of the executor, and is not contingent on the fact that the estate may prove insolvent on an account taken after the death of the executor, and in the event of his death such claim must be presented for allowance to the administrator of his estate within the time fixed in the notice to creditors. In re Halleck, 49 Cal. 111 [affirming Myr. Prob. 46].

7. Iowa.— Easton v. Somerville, 111 Iowa 164, 82 N. W. 475, 82 Am. St. Rep. 502; Security F. Ins. Co. v. Hansen, 104 Iowa 264, 73 N. W. 596; Wickham v. Hull, 102 Iowa 469, 71 N. W. 352; Sankey v. Cook, 82 Iowa 125, 47 N. W. 1077; Senat v. Findley, 51 Iowa 20, 50 N. W. 575. Code, § 3343, provides, however, that "contingent liabilities must be presented and proved or the executor or administrator shall be under no obligation to make any provision for satisfying them when they accrue." See In re Allen, 116 Iowa 697, 88 N. W. 1091.

Mississippi.— Savings, etc., Assoc. v. Tartt, 81 Miss. 276, 32 So. 115; Robinett v. Starling, 72 Miss. 652, 18 So. 421; Jones v. Carrollton Bank, 71 Miss. 1023, 16 So. 344; McWilliams v. Norfleet, 60 Miss. 987; Gordon v. Gibbs, 3 Sm. & M. 473. See also Buckingham v. Walker, 48 Miss. 609.

Missouri.— Chambers v. Smith, 23 Mo. 174; Morgan v. Gibson, 42 Mo. App. 234.

New Jersey.— Wakeman v. Paulmier, 39 N. J. L. 340; Field v. Thistle, 58 N. J. Eq. 339, 43 Atl. 1072 [affirmed in 60 N. J. Eq. 444, 46 Atl. 1099]; Terhune v. White, 34 N. J. Eq. 98.

North Carolina.— Godley v. Taylor, 14 N. C. 178.

Tennessee.— Bradford v. McLemore, 3 Yerg. 318.

Texas.— National Guarantee L. & T. Co. v. Fly, 29 Tex. Civ. App. 533, 69 S. W. 231.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 769, 790.

Unauthorized investment by guardian.— Where a guardian invested funds of her ward in a note and mortgage without authority of court, the statute limiting the time of filing claims against the estate of one deceased did not apply to the filing of a claim for the amount of such mortgage with the executor of such guardian, since deceased, since such claim was contingent on the acceptance of the investment by the ward on coming of age, and also because the ward was not a creditor of the estate until coming of age. Easton v. Somerville, 111 Iowa 164, 82 N. W. 475, 82 Am. St. Rep. 502.

8. Alabama.— Glass v. Woolf, 82 Ala. 281, 3 So. 11; Farris v. Stoutz, 78 Ala. 130; McDowell v. Jones, 58 Ala. 25; Fretwell v. McLemore, 52 Ala. 124; Jones v. Lightfoot, 10 Ala. 17; Pinkston v. Huie, 9 Ala. 252; Neil v. Cunningham, 2 Port. 171.

Connecticut.— Gay's Appeal, 61 Conn. 445, 23 Atl. 829; Bacon v. Thorp, 27 Conn. 251; Hawley v. Botsford, 27 Conn. 80; Davis v. Weed, 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,658, 44 Conn. 569. See also Meriden Steam Mill Lumber Co. v. Guy, 40 Conn. 163. Formerly there was no limitation of the time for presenting contingent claims, but they might be presented at any time after they accrued (Bacon v. Thorp, 27 Conn. 251 [explaining Griswold v. Bigelow, 6 Conn. 258; Booth v. Starr, 5 Day 419]; Backus v. Cleaveland, Kirby 36; Pendleton v. Phelps, 19 Fed. Cas. No. 10,923, Brunn. Col. Cas. 95, 4 Day 476), even though they accrued after settlement and distribution of the estate (Griswold v. Bigelow, 6 Conn. 258. But see Painter v. Smith, 2 Root 142).

Florida.— May v. Vann, 15 Fla. 553.

Michigan.— Hancock Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Hill, 108 Mich. 126, 65 N. W. 758.

Missouri.— State v. Tittmann, 134 Mo. 162, 35 S. W. 579; Tenney v. Lasley, 80 Mo. 664;

has been closed or the estate settled;[9] claims arising out of suretyship frequently calling for the application of this principle.[10] It has been held, however, that if

Chambers v. Smith, 23 Mo. 174; Finney v. State, 9 Mo. 227. Compare State v. Browning, 102 Mo. App. 455, 76 S. W. 719.

Nebraska.— Hazlett v. Blakely, (1903) 97 N. W. 808 (in which it is said, however, that the Nebraska statute was changed by Acts (1901), c. 28, which did not affect the case at bar, inasmuch as the proceedings had been instituted before the act went into operation); Fitzgerald v. Union Sav. Bank, 65 Nebr. 97, 90 N. W. 994.

Wisconsin.— South Milwaukee Co. v. Murphy, 112 Wis. 614, 88 N. W. 583, 58 L. R. A. 82; Blakely v. Smock, 96 Wis. 611, 71 N. W. 1052; Webster v. Lawson, 73 Wis. 561, 41 N. W. 710; Ernst v. Nau, 63 Wis. 134, 23 N. W. 492.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 769, 790.

Accrual of claim and accrual of right of action.— In some states the meaning of these statutory provisions concerning contingent claims is not that a claim must be presented within a certain period after the right of action has accrued, but that it must be presented within that period after the claim itself has accrued. A claim may fall within the operation of the statute and thus require presentation, although the right of action thereon has not accrued; it is enough that a definite right to demand in the future exists. Glass v. Woolf, 82 Ala. 281, 3 So. 11; McDowell v. Jones, 58 Ala. 25; Jones v. Lightfoot, 10 Ala. 17; King v. Mosely, 5 Ala. 610; Austin v. Saveland, 77 Wis. 108, 45 N. W. 955. But in other states the period for presentation begins when the right of action accrues. Gay's Appeal, 61 Conn. 445, 23 Atl. 829; Meriden Steam Mill Lumber Co. v. Guy, 40 Conn. 163. Thus in Missouri the statute does not begin to run until the right to recover substantial damages accrues. State v. Tittmann, 134 Mo. 162, 35 S. W. 579; Tenney v. Lasley, 80 Mo. 664; Chambers v. Smith, 23 Mo. 174; Miller v. Woodward, 8 Mo. 169. See also Greenabaum v. Elliott, 60 Mo. 25. But see Burckhartt v. Helfrich, 77 Mo. 376. And no distinction is recognized between a merely nominal right of recovery and no right of recovery at all. Chambers v. Smith, supra. Thus while a cause of action accrues on a bond or covenant at the breach thereof, yet where the breach is merely formal and substantial damages afterward result therefrom, the statutory period begins to run only from the time when the right to recover such damages accrues. State v. Tittmann, supra; Chambers v. Smith, supra. Where there has been a change in the statutory period the statute in force when the cause of action accrued is controlling. Greenabaum v. Elliott, supra.

Presentation before maturity of the claim is sufficient. Russell v. Bristol, 49 Conn. 251.

The claim of surviving partners against the estate of a deceased partner for contribution for losses sustained by the firm is a contingent claim which does not become absolute until the business of the firm is settled, the assets converted, and the debts paid, and which, under Wis. Rev. St. § 3860, need not be presented for allowance before that time. Logan v. Dixon, 73 Wis. 533, 41 N. W. 713. See, generally, PARTNERSHIP.

9. State v. Tittmann, 134 Mo. 162, 35 S. W. 579; Davis v. Weed, 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,658, 44 Conn. 569. The contingent claim provided for by the Wisconsin statutes is one which accrues and becomes absolute before the administration of the estate is closed and before a decree of distribution has been rendered by the county court. The statutes do not apply to a contingent claim which does not accrue and is incapable of being established by proof until after the estate has been fully administered. Such a claim need not be presented for allowance. Mann v. Everts, 64 Wis. 372, 25 N. W. 209 [distinguishing Ernst v. Nau, 63 Wis. 134, 23 N. W. 492]. See also South Milwaukee Co. v. Murphy, 112 Wis. 614, 88 N. W. 583, 58 L. R. A. 82. Where the estate has been fully settled and the assets have been distributed before a contingent claim becomes absolute, and the claim is then presented, if the executor or administrator has not sufficient assets to pay the whole of the claim the creditors may recover the balance from the heirs, devisees, or legatees who have received sufficient real and personal property from the debtor's estate. Logan v. Dixon, 73 Wis. 533, 41 N. W. 713; Mann v. Everts, 64 Wis. 372, 25 N. W. 209. See infra, XI, R.

Claim accruing after partial settlement of estate.— Under the Wisconsin statutes if a creditor, after a contingent claim has become absolute, presents it within the statutory period thereafter, he can be paid only out of the assets still remaining in the hands of the personal representative and not then lawfully distributed or applied to the payment of other debts previously presented and allowed against the estate. Logan v. Dixon, 73 Wis. 533, 41 N. W. 713.

10. A claim of a surety for contribution from a cosurety is contingent until payment of the debt, at which time it accrues or becomes absolute, and where the cosurety dies before the debt is paid the presentation of such claim against the estate of the deceased cosurety is governed by the rule of the text. May v. Vann, 15 Fla. 553; Ernst v. Nau, 63 Wis. 134, 23 N. W. 492. But see Burckhartt v. Helfrich, 77 Mo. 376.

A claim of a surety for reimbursement from the principal debtor remains contingent until the surety pays the debt, and where the principal debtor dies before payment by the surety the period in which the surety must present his claim is computed from the time of payment. Cawthorne v. Weisinger, 6 Ala. 714; McBroom v. Governor, 6 Port. (Ala.)

there is no personal representative when the claim accrues the statute does not begin to run until an administrator is appointed.[11] In some states the statutes requiring presentation of claims within a fixed period include, either expressly or by implication, contingent claims,[12] any difficulty as to the amount and time of 32; Burton v. Rutherford, 49 Mo. 255; Miller v. Woodward, 8 Mo. 169; Bauer v. Gray, 18 Mo. App. 164; Webster v. Lawson, 73 Wis. 561, 41 N. W. 710. And it has been held that the right of the surety to present his claim within the statutory period thereafter is not affected by the fact that the creditor failed to present his own claim against the deceased principal's estate. Cawthorne v. Weisinger, supra; McBroom v. Governor, supra. But the due presentation of the creditor's claim against the deceased debtor's estate relieves the surety, upon payment of the debt, of the necessity of presenting his claim against the estate; for he is subrogated to the creditor's rights and remedies and stands in the latter's place as to the steps already taken to enforce the claim. Braught v. Griffith, 16 Iowa 26; Fisher v. Columbia Bldg., etc., Assoc., 59 Mo. App. 430.

A claim against the estate of a deceased surety on a bond in favor of the obligee named therein accrues at the time when suit might have been brought against the surety if living, and not at the time of the rendition of judgment against the principal and a surviving surety. Hancock Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Hill, 108 Mich. 126, 65 N. W. 758. Compare Atherton v. Fullam, 55 Vt. 388.

A claim against a surety on a trustee's bond, which is conditioned for a faithful performance of the trustee's duties, does not accrue until a breach of condition by a default of the trustee, and the statute of non-claim does not begin to run until the breach occurs. McDowell v. Brantley, 80 Ala. 173.

Claim against surety on agent's bond.— Where the decedent was surety on a bond given by an agent to plaintiff and conditioned for the faithful performance of his contract of agency until his final discharge, and the agent continued in the employment of plaintiff until after the decedent had died, and his estate had been settled, and then absconded in default to plaintiff, it was held that, although parts of plaintiff's claim against the agent might have been deemed due at an earlier date, yet they became merged in the one claim which accrued and matured at the termination of the agency, and the same was a proper claim to be audited and allowed against the decedent's estate, under Wis. St. § 3860, after the time limited for that purpose. Michel Brewing Co. v. Wightman, 97 Wis. 657, 75 N. W. 316.

Claim against surety on personal representative's bond.— A claim against the estate of a deceased surety on the bond of an insolvent executor, for a legacy which vested at the testator's death, must be presented to the surety's personal representative within the prescribed period after the grant of administration, although the time of payment of the legacy was postponed until after the surety's death. Foster v. Holland, 56 Ala. 474. A claim against the estate of a deceased surety of an administrator to recover for a devastavit committed by the administrator in the surety's lifetime is absolute, not contingent; such a claim accrues at the time when the devastavit is committed and is not rendered uncertain or contingent by the fact that the devastavit must be established by suit, since the suit is only for the purpose of reducing to judgment the claim against the administrator so that the right of action at law on the bond will be complete. McDowell v. Jones, 58 Ala. 25; Fretwell v. McLemore, 52 Ala. 124. See also Page v. Bartlett, 101 Ala. 193, 13 So. 768; Taylor v. Robinson, 69 Ala. 269.

A claim against a surety on a guardian's bond accrues at the time when the ward dies or attains his majority and the guardian fails forthwith to make a settlement of his accounts; the statute of non-claim begins to run at this date and is not postponed until a judicial ascertainment of the guardian's liability. Glass v. Woolf, 82 Ala. 281, 3 So. 11. See also State v. Browning, 102 Mo. App. 455, 76 S. W. 719.

See, generally, PRINCIPAL AND SURETY.

11. Gay's Appeal, 61 Conn. 445, 23 Atl. 829.

12. Arkansas.—Bennett v. Dawson, 15 Ark. 412, 18 Ark. 334; Walker v. Byers, 14 Ark. 246 [overruling Allen v. Byers, 12 Ark. 593; Burton v. Lockert, 9 Ark. 411].

California.— Verdier v. Roach, 96 Cal. 467, 31 Pac. 554; Janin v. Browne, 59 Cal. 37. By the former statute (Prob. Act, § 130) provision was made for presenting a contingent claim within ten months after it became absolute. See Verdier v. Roach, supra; Davidson v. Rankin, 34 Cal. 503; Gleason v. White, 34 Cal. 258; Pico v. De la Guerra, 18 Cal. 432.

Illinois.— A contingent claim must be presented within the statutory period in order that the claimant may participate in the inventoried assets; if the claim is not presented within that period the creditor will be confined to uninventoried assets subsequently discovered, even though the claim does not accrue until the period has expired. Snydacker v. Swan Land, etc., Co., 154 Ill. 220, 40 N. E. 466 [reversing 51 Ill. App. 211, disapproving Suppiger v. Gruaz, 137 Ill. 216, 27 N. E. 22]; Stone v. Clarke, 40 Ill. 411. See also Morse v. Pacific R. Co., 191 Ill. 356, 61 N. E. 104 [affirming 93 Ill. App. 31]; Morse v. Gillette, 93 Ill. App. 23 [affirmed in 191 Ill. 371, 61 N. E. 1136]. Compare Mackin v. Haven, 187 Ill. 480, 58 N. E. 448 [affirming 88 Ill. App. 434]. This rule, however, is entirely distinct from the rule applicable in suits by creditors to enforce payment being obviated by the statutes providing for the reservation of sufficient assets to pay such claims when they shall accrue.[13] In a few states the statutes provide that contingent claims which cannot be proved or allowed as debts may be presented with the proofs thereof to the probate court, or to the commissioners for a report thereon.[14] In these states a claim which was contingent at the time of the debtor's death but became absolute before the expiration of the time limited for creditors to present their claims to the commissioners cannot thereafter, and while the commission remains open, be properly presented to the probate court for allowance as a contingent claim, but must be presented to the commissioners for allowance as an absolute debt;[15] but where the claim accrues or becomes absolute after the time for presentation to the commissioners has expired, it may be presented to the personal representative within a limited time after its accrual.[16] against the deceased debtor's heirs and devisees claims which have accrued or become absolute after the period of presentation. Snydacker v. Swan Land, etc., Co., 154 Ill. 220, 40 N. E. 466 [reversing 51 Ill. App. 211, and distinguishing Dugger v. Ogelsby, 99 Ill. 405; Payson v. Hadduck, 19 Fed. Cas. No. 10,862, 8 Biss. 293]. See also Mackin v. Haven, supra. See DESCENT AND DISTRIBUTION, 14 Cyc. 208, 209.

Minnesota.— Under Gen. St. (1894) §§ 4511, 4514, it has been held a contingent claim which arises on a contract and which does not become absolute and capable of liquidation before the expiration of the time limited for creditors to present their claims is not barred; the only contingent claims barred by the statute being those which become certain and absolute before the time fixed for the presentation of claims has expired. Berryhill v. Peabody, 72 Minn. 232, 75 N. W. 220; Oswald v. Pillsbury, 61 Minn. 520, 63 N. W. 1072; Hantzch v. Massolt, 61 Minn. 361, 63 N. W. 1069. See also McKeen v. Waldron, 25 Minn. 466. But in Hunt v. Burns, 90 Minn. 172, 95 N. W. 1110, it was held that although the claim accrues or becomes absolute after the expiration of the time limited for the presentation of claims it will be barred if not presented before the administration is finally closed; the reason being that, under the statute (see infra, X, B, 12, b, (II)) the creditor may on application to the court be allowed to present his claim, although the regular period for presentation has expired. See also Jorgenson v. Larson, 85 Minn. 134, 88 N. W. 439.

New Hampshire.— Walker v. Cheever, 39 N. H. 420, construing Rev. St. c. 161, §§ 2, 3. But under the earlier statutes contingent claims were excepted. Walker v. Cheever, supra; Parker v. Read, 9 N. H. 121; Sibley v. McAllaster, 8 N. H. 389.

New York.— It appears to have been the intention of the legislature to require that claims of every name, nature, and description which exist or are likely to exist against an estate shall be presented as required, although the statutes do not define with precision the character of such claims. The requirements, however, embrace claims which are due, as well as such as are contingent and likely to become due, or which by any possibility may be established. Cornes v. Wilkin, 79 N. Y. 129 [affirming 14 Hun 428]. See also Hoyt v. Bonnett, 50 N. Y. 538 [reversing 58 Barb. 529].

Washington.— Barto v. Stewart, 21 Wash. 605, 59 Pac. 480 [overruling Neis v. Farquharson, 9 Wash. 508, 37 Pac. 697]. Compare Macdonald v. Frater, 29 Wash. 422, 69 Pac. 1111.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 769, 790.

13. See infra, XI, Q.

14. Osmun v. Oakland Cir. Judge, 107 Mich. 27, 64 N. W. 949 (holding that a note payable absolutely and secured by a real-estate mortgage is not, as between the holder and the estate of the maker, a contingent claim within the meaning of the statute); Brown v. Dunn, 75 Vt. 264, 55 Atl. 364; Curley v. Hand, 53 Vt. 524 (holding that under the Vermont statute an indorsement may be allowed as a contingent claim against the estate of a decedent); Lytle v. Bond, 39 Vt. 388; Sargent v. Kimball, 37 Vt. 320. See also Clark v. Winchell, 53 Vt. 408, holding that the liability of the decedent's widow who was his devisee and legatee, for a breach of a covenant of warranty contained in a deed executed by the testator, was not, under the facts involved, such a contingent claim as required presentation under the statute. If there is outstanding against the estate a claim which is now due to A but which upon the happening of some future event, which may or may not happen, will become due to B, then B is entitled to have it allowed as a contingent claim. Curley v. Hand, supra.

A claim against the estate of an administrator, founded upon the latter's failure to pay over to creditors the amount which was in his hands upon the settlement of his account, and which was ordered by the probate court to be paid to them, is an absolute claim which accrued in the lifetime of the administrator and must be prosecuted as such before the commissioners; it cannot properly be allowed by the probate court as a contingent claim. Sargent v. Kimball, 37 Vt. 320.

15. Lytle v. Bond, 39 Vt. 388.

16. Atherton v. Fullam, 55 Vt. 388. Compare Hancock Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Hill, 108 Mich. 126, 65 N. W. 758.

c. Claims Not Due. As a general rule claims which are not yet due but run to a certain maturity should be presented within the statutory period,[17] even though they will not mature within the time limited for presenting demands.[18] Where a claim against a decedent's estate has been presented and exhibited

17. Alabama.— McDowell v. Jones, 58 Ala. 25; Jones v. Lightfoot, 10 Ala. 17; King v. Mosely, 5 Ala. 610.

Arkansas.— Bennett v. Dawson, 15 Ark. 412, holding that it is no objection to the law requiring claims against the estate of the deceased to be exhibited within two years after the grant of letters of administration that it may leave an unreasonably short space of time to the creditor. See also Walker v. Byers, 14 Ark. 246.

California.— Swain's Estate, 67 Cal. 637, 8 Pac. 497.

Florida.— May v. Vann, 15 Fla. 553; Fillyau v. Laverty, 3 Fla. 72.

Illinois.— Hall v. Hoxsey, 84 Ill. 616; McElroy v. Brooke, 104 Ill. App. 220; Johnson v. Tryon, 78 Ill. App. 158; Robison v. Harrington, 61 Ill. App. 543.

Indiana.— Maddox v. Maddox, 97 Ind. 537.

Mississippi.—Harris v. Hutcheson, 65 Miss. 9, 3 So. 34.

Missouri.— Garesché v. Lewis, 15 Mo. App. 565. The words "justly due," as used in Rev. St. § 195, refer to the validity of the claim and not to the time of its payment. Cassatt v. Vogel, 12 Mo. App. 323. See also Kavanaugh v. Shaughnessy, 41 Mo. App. 657; Traylor v. Cabanne, 8 Mo. App. 131. Compare Tenny v. Lasley, 80 Mo. 664, holding that under the Missouri statute relating to demands not due, a demand, in order to require a presentation, must exist in favor of a person in being in whose favor a judgment may be rendered upon the demand prior to the maturity of the same, and must have some fixed or certain date of maturity; and therefore, that a promissory note payable after the death of a husband and wife and to the husband's heirs, administrators, or assigns, need not be presented for allowance before its maturity.

New York.— See Cornes v. Wilkin, 79 N. Y. 129 [affirming 14 Hun 428].

Texas.— See Dunn v. Sublett, 14 Tex. 521.

Washington.— Barto v. Stewart, 21 Wash. 605, 59 Pac. 480 [overruling Neis v. Farquharson, 9 Wash. 517, 37 Pac. 697].

Wisconsin.—Austin v. Saveland, 77 Wis. 108, 45 N. W. 955.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 769.

A contract to pay rent for the whole term, containing a clause providing that for certain contingencies the term may be shortened, may be presented as a claim for allowance and settlement against an estate, under the Illinois statute. McElroy v. Brooke, 104 Ill. App. 220. And decisions to the same effect have been rendered under the Missouri statutes. Kavanaugh v. Shaughnessy, 41 Mo. App. 657; Traylor v. Cabanne, 8 Mo. App. 131.

Interest.— The Kentucky statute providing that no interest accruing after his death shall be allowed on any claim against the decedent's estate unless the claim be demanded of the personal representative within one year after his appointment does not apply to a claim not due until after the appointment of the administrator. Pepper v. Harper, 47 S. W. 620, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 837.

Uncertain contracts.— Contracts so uncertain as to be declared void at any time on default of payment of instalments are not within the purport of a statute providing for the presentation of claims not yet due. Robison v. Harrington, 61 Ill. App. 543.

Where time of maturity uncertain.— The Missouri statute with reference to the presentation and allowance of claims not due does not apply to a claim the time of maturity of which is uncertain, and such claim cannot be presented for payment before maturity and a rebate had thereon. Tenney v. Lasley, 80 Mo. 664. See also Morgan v. Gibson, 42 Mo. App. 234. Compare Kavanaugh v. Shaughnessy, 41 Mo. App. 657; Traylor v. Cabanne, 8 Mo. App. 131.

18. Alabama.— Farris v. Stoutz, 78 Ala. 130.

California.— See Verdier v. Roach, 96 Cal. 467, 31 Pac. 554; Janin v. Browne, 59 Cal. 37.

Maine.— Pettengill v. Patterson, 39 Me. 498. But see Sampson v. Sampson, 63 Me. 328.

Minnesota.— Oswald v. Pillsbury, 61 Minn. 520, 63 N. W. 1072.

Pennsylvania.— See Oliver's Appeal, 101 Pa. St. 299.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 771, 790.

Contra.— Middletown Fourth Ecclesiastical Soc. v. Mather, 15 Conn. 587; Morgan v. Gibson, 42 Mo. App. 234; Bradford v. McLemore, 3 Yerg. (Tenn.) 318; Davis v. Weed, 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,658, 44 Conn. 569.

Under the Massachusetts statute a creditor whose right of action does not accrue within two years after the giving of the administration bond may present his claim to the probate court at any time before the estate is fully administered. Cobb v. Kempton, 154 Mass. 266, 28 N. E. 264 (holding that a claim by the executrix of a ward against the administrators of the guardian for a balance due on the guardian's final account, which was not allowed by the probate court until more than two years after the appointment of the administrators, might be presented at any time before the guardian's estate was fully administered since such claim did not "accrue" until it was allowed); Pratt v. Lamson, 128 Mass. 528; Hammond v. Granger, 128 Mass. 272.

Reservation of assets see infra, XI, Q.

before the time when payment is due, it is unnecessary to present and exhibit it again after maturity.[19]

d. Claims Arising After Death of Decedent.[20] The statutes of non-claim usually apply only to claims which existed against the decedent in his lifetime, and do not require the presentation of claims which come into existence after his death;[21] but some statutes which provide that such claims shall be charges against the estate require that they shall be presented to the probate court for inspection and allowance.[22]

e. Claims of Representative. In some states the only difference between the claims held by the executor or administrator against the estate and those held by others is that the presentation and proof should be made directly to the court or a judge thereof in the first instance; the representative, as well as other claimants, being required to make presentation within the time limited by statute.[23] But in other states the executor or administrator is accorded a full

19. Pease v. Phelps, 10 Conn. 62.

20. See supra, X, A, 19.

21. Arkansas.— Perry v. Field, 40 Ark. 175; Yarborough v. Ward, 34 Ark. 204, services rendered to estate. See also Bomford v. Grimes, 17 Ark. 567. But such claims may be presented to the probate court for the purpose of obtaining an order directing the representative to pay them as expenses of administration. Yarborough v. Ward, 34 Ark. 204.

Iowa.— Savery v. Sypher, 39 Iowa 675.

Tennessee.— Brown v. Porter, 7 Humphr. 373, advances by representative for benefit of estate.

Vermont.— Manning v. Leighton, 65 Vt. 84, 26 Atl. 258, 24 L. R. A. 684.

Wisconsin.— The claims which it is the duty of the court to receive, examine, and adjust are those which existed at the time of the debtor's death or result from contracts made by him; they do not include claims or liabilities incurred by the personal representative in executing the trust, but his claims for reimbursement must be presented in his accounts and allowed, if at all, as a part of the expenses of administration. Brown v. McGee, 117 Wis. 389, 94 N. W. 363; McLaughlin v. Winner, 63 Wis. 120, 23 N. W. 402, 53 Am. Rep. 273.

22. Powell v. Powell, 23 Mo. App. 365. Although the Texas statutes regulating the presentation and allowance of claims against a decedent's estate do not in terms apply to claims coming into existence after the debtor's death, if the holder of such a claim elects to enforce the liability of the estate instead of that of the representative personally, he must bring his case within the provisions of the statute for the establishment of claims against the estate. Price v. McIver, 25 Tex. 769, 78 Am. Dec. 558. See also Gammage v. Rathes, 46 Tex. 105.

23. California.— Hildebrandt's Estate, 92 Cal. 433, 28 Pac. 486; In re Taylor, 10 Cal. 482, 16 Cal. 434.

Indiana.— Wright v. Wright, 72 Ind. 149, holding this to be true whether the claim be held in his personal right, or in some other fiduciary relation. See also Chidester v. Chidester, 42 Ind. 469.

Iowa.— See Clark v. Tallman, 68 Iowa 372, 27 N. W. 261; Janes v. Brown, 48 Iowa 568.

Massachusetts.— Newell v. West, 149 Mass. 520, 21 N. E. 954.

Missouri.— Williamson v. Anthony, 47 Mo. 299 (holding that where an administrator acting in good faith presented to the probate judge a claim against the estate and the judge passed upon it without appointing any person to defend, this should be construed as amounting to an exhibition of the claim so as to prevent its being barred); Nelson v. Russell, 15 Mo. 356.

Oregon.— Farrow v. Nevin, 44 Oreg. 496, 75 Pac. 711.

Pennsylvania.— In re Clauser, 1 Watts & S. 208.

Tennessee.— See Smith v. Sprout, (Ch. App. 1900) 58 S. W. 376; Williams v. Williams, 15 Lea 438; Byrn v. Fleming, 3 Head 658. But the statutory requirements as to exhibiting and enforcing claims do not apply to claims of the representative for advances made on behalf of the estate. Brown v. Porter, 7 Humphr. 373.

Vermont.— Riley v. McInlear, 61 Vt. 254, 17 Atl. 729, 19 Atl. 996 [distinguishing French v. Winsor, 24 Vt. 402].

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 770.

In Texas a special mode is provided by statute which executors and administrators shall pursue to have their claims approved for payment. See Puckett v. McCall, 30 Tex. 457.

If the representative has an equitable interest in a creditor's claim, presentation is properly made to the court or a judge thereof. In re Crosby, 55 Cal. 574. See also Hill's Estate, 67 Cal. 238, 7 Pac. 664.

Where there are several personal representatives, one of whom is a creditor of the estate, his claim should be presented to the others, not to the court or judge. Galivan v. Jones, 102 Fed. 423, 42 C. C. A. 408, construing Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1510. See also Williamson v. Anthony, 47 Mo. 299; Nelson v. Russell, 15 Mo. 356.

Estoppel of heirs to object that executor's claim was not presented and allowed see right of retainer of the assets,[24] whether as to his own claim as an ordinary creditor against the decedent, or such demands as arise on his behalf in the due course of administration; and he is permitted, regardless of the non-claim barrier, to assert and prove his own claim in the course of an accounting.[25]

f. Judgments. As a general rule the fact that a claim against a decedent has been reduced to judgment does not preclude the necessity of presenting the claim for allowance,[26] but in some jurisdictions the presentation and filing of a Hopkins v. Hopkins, 99 Mich. 56, 57 N. W. 1083.

24. See infra, X, D, 3, a, (I), (A).

25. Florida.— Sanderson v. Sanderson, 17 Fla. 820.

Illinois.— Millard v. Harris, 119 Ill. 185, 10 N. E. 387 [affirming 17 Ill. App. 512].

Maryland.— State v. Reigart, 1 Gill 1, 39 Am. Dec. 628.

New Hampshire.— See McLaughlin v. Newton, 53 N. H. 531.

Ohio.— Thomas v. Chamberlain, 39 Ohio St. 112.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 770.

26. Alabama.— Ray v. Thompson, 43 Ala. 434, 94 Am. Dec. 696; Ready v. Thompson, 4 Stew. & P. 52.

Arizona.— O'Doherty v. Toole, 2 Ariz. 288, 15 Pac. 28.

Arkansas.— Powell v. Macon, 40 Ark. 541; Keith v. Parks, 31 Ark. 664.

California.— Sanders v. Russell, 86 Cal. 119, 24 Pac. 852, 21 Am. St. Rep. 26.

Florida.— Union Bank v. Powell, 3 Fla. 175, 52 Am. Dec. 367.

Illinois.— Winslow v. Leland, 128 Ill. 304, 21 N. E. 588. See also Clingman v. Hopkie, 78 Ill. 152.

Iowa.— Bayless v. Powers, 62 Iowa 601, 17 N. W. 907, holding that before a judgment can be paid out of the personalty it must be filed and allowed as a claim against the estate.

Kansas.— Scroggs v. Tutt, 20 Kan. 271, 23 Kan. 181.

Louisiana.— Bertin v. Phillips, 1 La. Ann. 173, judgment for costs.

Missouri.— There is some apparent confusion in the Missouri cases as to whether a judgment is to be presented for allowance or merely for classification. See Beekman v. Richardson, 150 Mo. 430, 51 S. W. 689; McGinnis v. Loring, 126 Mo. 404, 28 S. W. 750; Wernse v. McPike, 100 Mo. 476, 13 S. W. 809 [overruling Wernse v. McPike, 76 Mo. 249; Ewing v. Taylor, 70 Mo. 394; Bryan v. Mundy, 14 Mo. 458]; Brown v. Woody, 64 Mo. 547; Gibson v. Vaughan, 61 Mo. 418; Carondelet v. Desnoyer, 27 Mo. 36; Gewe v. Hanszen, 85 Mo. App. 136. But the question seems to be finally settled in McFaul v. Haley, 166 Mo. 56, 65 S. W. 995 [followed in Wencker v. Thompson, 96 Mo. App. 59, 69 S. W. 743], reviewing the earlier decisions and holding that the action of the court upon the judgment presented, even if denominated merely "classifying," is a judgment, and not "a mere ministerial, or clerical or nondescript act," and the proceeding may involve a trial of fact inasmuch as while the court cannot go behind the judgment to inquire into the merits of the cause of action, yet the representative may defeat the claim if he can establish that the judgment has been paid or has for any cause ceased to subsist as a valid demand. Hence it may be considered as settled in Missouri that to this extent a judgment is to be presented for allowance.

New York.— See Matter of Morton, 7 Misc. 343, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 82.

Texas.— Jenkins v. Cain, 72 Tex. 88, 10 S. W. 391 (judgment foreclosing vendor's lien); Converse v. Sorley, 39 Tex. 515; Birdwell v. Kauffman, 25 Tex. 189; Hall v. McCormick, 7 Tex. 269. But see Cole v. Robertson, 6 Tex. 356, 55 Am. Dec. 784.

Wisconsin.—Fields v. Mundy, 106 Wis. 383, 82 N. W. 343, 80 Am. St. Rep. 39.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 772.

Contra.— Knott v. Shaw, 5 Oreg. 482. And see Berkey v. Judd, 27 Minn. 475, 8 N. W. 383.

Especially where the judgment has become dormant is presentation necessary. Davis v. Shawhan, 34 Iowa 91 (holding that a judgment rendered against a decedent prior to his death can be enforced against the real estate upon which it is a lien, without being filed as a claim against the estate, only while the judgment lien exists); Robertson v. Demoss, 23 Miss. 298; Hall v. McCormick, 7 Tex. 269.

Where suit is brought against an administrator to revive a judgment against the intestate, the lien of which has been pursued, presentation of the claim is not necessary. Cole v. Robertson, 6 Tex. 356, 55 Am. Dec. 784.

Judgment in another state allowing claim. — Wis. Rev. St. § 3844, barring all claims against the estate if not filed within the time limited by section 3840, applies to a judgment allowing a claim against a decedent in a proceeding to settle his estate in a court of another state. Fields v. Mundy, 106 Wis. 383, 82 N. W. 343, 80 Am. St. Rep. 39.

Where an execution was placed in the hands of the sheriff and the administrator of the judgment debtor on seeing the execution applied to the creditor for indulgence, which was granted to him, these facts afforded sufficient proof of a presentation of the demand to avoid a plea of the statute of nonclaim. Harrison v. Jones, 33 Ala. 258.

A judgment which merely forecloses a vendor's lien upon real property of the decedent, without including any personal award against the estate, need not be certified to the probate court for payment. Ferguson v. Mc-judgment is necessary only in order to secure its payment out of the personal assets and a failure to file the judgment does not affect its lien upon the decedent's realty.[27]

g. Secured Claims. According to the weight of authority, a debtor whose claim is secured by mortgage, pledge, or any specific lien need not present his claim for allowance in order to preserve his right to subject the property covered by the lien to the satisfaction of his claim,[28] for the reason that such claims can-

Crary, 20 Tex. Civ. App. 529, 50 S. W. 472. But see Converse v. Sorley, 39 Tex. 515.

Judgment of which representative has obtained modification.— When an executrix substituted as defendant, after the death of judgment defendant, pending a motion for a new trial, appears on such motion, and obtains a modification of the judgment, such judgment need not be presented to the executrix. Brennan v. Brennan, 65 Cal. 517, 4 Pac. 561.

Judgments against personal representative. — In Illinois it is held that the statutory requirements for presenting claims to the county court do not apply to a judgment regularly obtained against the executor or administrator in his representative capacity. Darling v. McDonald, 101 Ill. 370. But in Missouri such a judgment must be filed in the probate court and there classified as required by statute; although where executors take an appeal from a judgment against them, operating as a supersedeas, so that the probate court would not have jurisdiction to classify it, a failure to file in the probate court until after affirmance on appeal is not laches. Ryans v. Boogher, 169 Mo. 673, 69 S. W. 1048.

A judgment for costs against an administrator does not lose its priority, although not presented in the county court within thirty days after it was rendered, as required by statute, since the statute applies only to judgments obtained on claims which have been rejected by the administrator. Manning v. Mayes, 79 Tex. 653, 15 S. W. 638.

27. Illinois.— Winslow v. Leland, 128 Ill. 304, 21 N. E. 588.

Iowa.— Boyd v. Collins, 70 Iowa 296, 30 N. W. 574 [distinguishing Bayless v. Powers, 62 Iowa 601, 17 N. W. 907]; Baldwin v. Tuttle, 23 Iowa 66.

Missouri.— Peters v. Holliday, 40 Mo. 544.

New York.— See Matter of Morton, 7 Misc. 343, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 82.

Ohio.— Ambrose v. Byrne, 61 Ohio St. 146, 55 N. E. 408.

Pennsylvania.— See McMurray v. Hopper, 43 Pa. St. 468.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 772.

Subjecting property fraudulently conveyed. —Although under the statute of non-claim a judgment becomes forever barred as a claim against the estate if it is not presented or filed within the time limited, the statute does not bar an action to subject property fraudulently conveyed by the decedent in his lifetime to a judgment not so presented or filed. O'Doherty v. Toole, 2 Ariz. 288, 15 Pac. 28; Harlin v. Stevenson, 30 Iowa 371.

28. Alabama.— Smith v. Gillam, 80 Ala. 296; George v. George, 67 Ala. 192; Flinn v. Barber, 61 Ala. 530 (vendor's lien); Mahone v. Haddock, 44 Ala. 92; Inge v. Boardman, 2 Ala. 331; Duval v. McLoskey, 1 Ala. 708.

Arkansas.— Hodges v. Taylor, (1890) 13 S. W. 129; McClure v. Owens, 32 Ark. 443; Simms v. Richardson, 32 Ark. 297; Barber v. Peay, 31 Ark. 392 (specific lien acquired by levy under execution); Nicholls v. Gee, 30 Ark. 135; Hall v. Denckla, 28 Ark. 506; Pope v. Boyd, 22 Ark. 535.

California.— Under the present statute (Code Civ. Proc. § 1500) the holder of a mortgage or other lien may enforce the same without presentation (Brown v. Sweet, 127 Cal. 332, 59 Pac. 774; Hibernia Sav., etc., Soc. v. Wackenreuder, 99 Cal. 593, 34 Pac. 219; More v. Calkins, 95 Cal. 435, 30 Pac. 583, 29 Am. St. Rep. 128; German Sav., etc., Soc. v. Fisher, 92 Cal. 502, 28 Pac. 591; Anglo-Nevada Assur. Corp. v. Nadeau, 90 Cal. 393, 27 Pac. 302; Sonoma County Bank v. Charles, 86 Cal. 322, 24 Pac. 1019; Mechanics' Bldg., etc., Assoc. v. King, 83 Cal. 440, 23 Pac. 376; Dreyfuss v. Giles, 79 Cal. 409, 21 Pac. 840; Bollinger v. Manning, 79 Cal. 7, 21 Pac. 375; Bull v. Coe, 77 Cal. 54, 18 Pac. 808, 11 Am. St. Rep. 235; Hibernia Sav., etc., Soc. v. Conlin, 67 Cal. 178, 7 Pac. 477; Security Sav. Bank v. Connell, 65 Cal. 574, 4 Pac. 580; Camp v. Grider, 62 Cal. 20; In re Kibbe, 57 Cal. 407) where all recourse against any other property of the estate is expressly waived (Ryan v. Holliday, 110 Cal. 335, 42 Pac. 891; More v. Calkins, supra; German Sav., etc., Soc. v. Fisher, supra; Anglo-Nevada Assur. Corp. v. Nadeau, supra; Sonoma County Bank v. Charles, supra; Mechanics' Bldg., etc., Assoc. v. King, supra; Dreyfuss v. Giles supra; Security Sav. Bank v. Connell, supra), but no counsel fees can be recovered unless the claim is presented (Sonoma County Bank v. Charles, supra). If, however, there are liens or encumbrances on the homestead, the claims secured thereby must, under Code Civ. Proc. § 1475, be presented and allowed as other claims against the estate. McGahey v. Forrest, 109 Cal. 63, 41 Pac. 817; Wise v. Williams, 88 Cal. 30, 25 Pac. 1064; Perkins v. Onyett, 86 Cal. 348, 24 Pac. 1024; Sanders v. Russell, 86 Cal. 119, 24 Pac. 852, 21 Am. St. Rep. 26; Rosenberg v. Ford, 85 Cal. 610, 24 Pac. 779; Hearn v. Kennedy, 85 Cal. 55, 24 Pac. 606; Mechanics' Bldg., etc., Assoc. v. King, supra; Bollinger v. Manning, supra; Camp v. Grider, supra. See also Browne v. Sweet, 127 Cal. 332, 59 Pac. 774. Where a mortgage on homestead property is executed by a husband and wife, and upon the death of one of them the property is set apart to the survivor, the mortgagee can neither foreclose the mortgage nor have personal judgment on the notes against the survivor unless he first duly presents his claim against the estate of the decedent (Hibernia Sav., etc., Soc. v. Thornton, 109 Cal. 427, 42 Pac. 447, 50 Am. St. Rep. 52; Hearn v. Kennedy, supra; Mechanics' Bldg., etc., Assoc. v. King, supra; Bollinger v. Manning, supra; Camp v. Grider, supra); even though there are no other assets of the estate that can be subjected to the payment of the mortgage (Bollinger v. Manning, supra). The provisions of section 1475 do not apply, however, where the homestead did not exist at the time of decedent's death, but was set apart subsequently by the court (McGahey v. Forrest, supra), and where, in connection with a mortgage on the homestead given to a building and loan association, the stock held by the decedent in the association is also pledged, the pledge may be foreclosed without any presentation of the claim against the estate (Mechanics' Bldg., etc., Assoc. v. King, supra). For earlier decisions of little if any value at the present time see Hibernia Sav., etc., Soc. v. Hayes, 56 Cal. 297; Whitmore v. San Francisco Sav. Union, 50 Cal. 145; Harp v. Calahan, 46 Cal. 222; Pitte v. Shipley, 46 Cal. 154; Schadt v. Heppe, 45 Cal. 433; Sichel v. Carrillo, 42 Cal. 493; Wright v. Ross, 36 Cal. 414; Willis v. Farley, 24 Cal. 490; Ellissen v. Halleck, 6 Cal. 386.

not in any just sense be considered claims against the estate, but the right to subject specific property to the claim arises from the contract of the debtor

Colorado.— In the state the general statute of non-claim (Mills Annot. St. (1891) § 4780) is held not to apply to claims secured by mortgage or deed of trust, but a statute particularly applicable to such claims (Mills Annot. St. (1891) § 4783) prohibits foreclosure within one year from the death of the decedent unless by permission of the court and in any event until the claims have been proved and allowed. Townsend v. Thompson, 24 Colo. 411, 51 Pac. 433; Sullivan v. Sheets, 22 Colo. 153, 43 Pac. 1012; Reid v. Sullivan, 20 Colo. 498, 39 Pac. 338.

Illinois.— Kittredge v. Nicholes, 162 Ill. 410, 44 N. E. 742 [affirming 60 Ill. App. 604]; Dodge v. Mack, 22 Ill. 93; Waughop v. Bartlett, 61 Ill. App. 252 [affirmed in 165 Ill. 24, 46 N. E. 197]. See also Mulvey v. Johnson, 90 Ill. 457; Judy v. Kelley, 11 Ill. 211, 50 Am. Dec. 455.

Indiana.— Beach v. Bell, 139 Ind. 167, 38 N. E. 819; La Plante v. Convery, 98 Ind. 499; McCallam v. Pleasants, 67 Ind. 542; Bell v. Hobaugh, 65 Ind. 598; Noble v. McGinnis, 55 Ind. 528; Cole v. McMickle, 30 Ind. 94.

Iowa.—Allen v. Moer, 16 Iowa 307.

Kansas.—Andrews v. Morse, 51 Kan. 30, 32 Pac. 640.

Michigan.— Willard v. Van Leeuwen, 56 Mich. 15, 22 N. W. 185. See also Clark v. Davis, 32 Mich. 154.

Minnesota.— See Hill v. Townley, 45 Minn. 167, 47 N. W. 653.

Mississippi.— Miller v. Jefferson College, 5 Sm. & M. 651; Miller v. Helm, 2 Sm. & M. 687; Jefferson College v. Dickson, Freem. 474.

Missouri.— Tucker v. Wells, 111 Mo. 399, 20 S. W. 114.

Nevada.— Kirnan v. Powning, 25 Nev. 378, 60 Pac. 834, 61 Pac. 1090; Rickards v. Hutchinson, 18 Nev. 215, 2 Pac. 52, 4 Pac. 702.

New York.— Matter of Eadie, 39 Misc. 117, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 967.

Ohio.— See Fisher v. Mossman, 11 Ohio 42.

Oregon.— Teel v. Winston, 22 Oreg. 489, 29 Pac. 142.

South Dakota.— Fish v. De Laray, 8 S. D. 320, 66 N. W. 465, 59 Am. St. Rep. 764 (mechanics' lien); Kelsey v. Welch, 8 S. D. 255, 66 N. W. 390.

Vermont.— Hurlbert v. Brigham, 56 Vt. 368; Pelton v. Johnson, 52 Vt. 138; Walker v. Baxter, 26 Vt. 710; Richmond v. Aiken, 25 Vt. 324; Grafton Bank v. Doe, 19 Vt. 463, 47 Am. Dec. 697; Putnam v. Russell, 17 Vt. 54, 42 Am. Dec. 478.

Washington.— Reed v. Miller, 1 Wash. 426, 25 Pac. 334; Scammon v. Ward, 1 Wash. 179, 23 Pac. 439. See also Casey v. Auld, 4 Wash. 167, 29 Pac. 1048.

Wisconsin.—Edgerton v. Schneider, 26 Wis. 385.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 773.

Contra.— Bush v. Adams, 22 Fla. 177; Wilson v. Harris, 91 Tex. 427, 44 S. W. 65 [affirming (Civ. App. 1897) 40 S. W. 868]; Buchanan v. Wagnon, 62 Tex. 375; Gaston v. Boyd, 52 Tex. 282; Cannon v. McDaniel, 46 Tex. 303; Cundiff v. Simpson, 32 Tex. 144; Robertson v. Paul, 16 Tex. 472; Danzey v. Swinney, 7 Tex. 617; Graham v. Vining, 1 Tex. 639, 2 Tex. 433; Tiboldi v. Palms, (Tex. Civ. App. 1904) 78 S. W. 726 [affirmed in 97 Tex. 414, 79 S. W. 23]; Texas Loan Agency v. Dingee, (Tex. Civ. App. 1903) 75 S. W. 866. But see Cole v. Robertson, 6 Tex. 356, 55 Am. Dec. 784.

A laborer's lien on saw logs arises by operation of law and stands upon an entirely different basis from a lien created by mortgage, and such a lien cannot be enforced against the estate of a decedent unless it has been first presented to the executor or administrator. Casey v. Ault, 4 Wash. 167, 29 Pac. 1048.

A vendor's lien reserved in the deed need not be presented (Allen v. Smith, 29 Ark. 74), but a vendor's equitable lien cannot be distinguished from the debt itself and requires presentation (Linthicum v. Tapscott, 28 Ark. 267 [followed in McKneely v. Terry, 61 Ark. 527, 33 S. W. 953]).

A mortgage existing at the time decedent purchased land is not a claim against his estate and is not within the California statute providing that mortgages can be enforced without presentation only where all recourse whereby he has during life set aside certain property for its payment, and such property does not, except in so far as its value may exceed the debt, belong to the estate, and the instrument being of record or the property being in the possession of the creditor is notice to all the world of the contract.[29] But where a mortgagee, pledgee, or other secured creditor seeks to obtain payment either in full or of a deficiency out of the general assets of the estate and thus to enforce his claim against property not covered by his lien or held by him as security, his claim stands on the same footing with the claims of other creditors and must be presented for allowance.[30] The security of a mortgagee, pledgee, or other secured creditor is not affected by his presentation and securing the allowance of his claim.[31] against the general estate is expressly waived. Ryan v. Holliday, 110 Cal. 335, 42 Pac. 891.

A power of sale contained in a deed of trust continues in full force after the grantor's death, and no judicial foreclosure is required, and hence in such case Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1500, allowing an action for foreclosure of a mortgage against a decedent's estate without presentation of the claim secured to the executor or administrator, only "when all recourse against any other property of the estate is expressly waived in the complaint," does not apply. More v. Calkins, 95 Cal. 435, 30 Pac. 583, 29 Am. St. Rep. 128. But see Robertson v. Paul, 16 Tex. 472.

The holder of a note secured by mortgage need not under the Texas rule present both note and mortgage for approval, but the presentation of the note is sufficient. Cannon v. McDaniel, 46 Tex. 303; Cundiff v. Simpson, 32 Tex. 144. See also Simpson v. Reily, 31 Tex. 298. Aliter under the probate law of 1840, as to a note secured by a trust deed. Wilson v. Harris, 91 Tex. 427, 44 S. W. 65 [affirming (Civ. App. 1897) 40 S. W. 868].

29. Smith v. Gillam, 80 Ala. 296; Reid v. Sullivan, 20 Colo. 498, 39 Pac. 338. See also Miller v. Jefferson College, 5 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 651; Miller v. Helm, 2 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 687; Jefferson College v. Dickson, Freem. (Miss.) 474.

30. Alabama.—Mahone v. Haddock, 44 Ala. 92; Duval v. McLoskey, 1 Ala. 708.

California.— In re Kibbe, 57 Cal. 407; Marsh v. Dooley, 52 Cal. 232; Wright v. Ross, 36 Cal. 414.

Illinois.— Roberts v. Flatt, 142 Ill. 485, 32 N. E. 484 [affirming 42 Ill. App. 608]; Mulvey v. Johnson, 90 Ill. 457.

Indiana.— See Beach v. Bell, 139 Ind. 167, 38 N. E. 819. Contra, as to mortgages. Cole v. McMickle, 30 Ind. 94; Swift v. Harley, 20 Ind. App. 614, 49 N. E. 1069.

Iowa.— Colby v. King, 67 Iowa 458, 25 N. W. 704, holding a claim on a note originally secured by chattel mortgage barred by reason of non-presentation notwithstanding the fact that the mortgagee had permitted the mortgaged property to be sold under the belief that there was plenty of property to pay the debts of the decedent and the agreement of the administrator that he should be paid.

Kansas.—Andrews v. Morse, 51 Kan. 30, 32 Pac. 640.

Michigan.— Willard v. Van Leeuwen, 56 Mich. 15, 22 N. W. 185; Clark v. Davis, 32 Mich. 154.

Minnesota.— Hill v. Townley, 45 Minn. 167, 47 N. W. 653.

Mississippi.— Jefferson College v. Dickson, Freem. 474.

Missouri.— See Tucker v. Wells, 111 Mo. 399, 20 S. W. 114.

Nevada.— Kirman v. Powning, 25 Nev. 378, 60 Pac. 834, 61 Pac. 1090. See also Rickards v. Hutchinson, 18 Nev. 215, 2 Pac. 52, 4 Pac. 702.

New Jersey.— Mutual Ben. L. Ins. Co. v. Howell, 32 N. J. Eq. 146. See also Smith v. Crater, 43 N. J. Eq. 636, 12 Atl. 530. But compare Terhune v. White, 34 N. J. Eq. 98 [followed in Field v. Thistle, 58 N. J. Eq. 339, 43 Atl. 1072], holding that a claim against the estate of a decedent on his assumption of a mortgage is, before foreclosure, only contingent, and consequently cannot be proved as a debt against his estate before that time.

Oregon.— Teel v. Winston, 22 Oreg. 489, 29 Pac. 142.

South Dakota.—Thurber v. Miller, 11 S. D. 124, 75 N. W. 900; Kelsey v. Welch, 8 S. D. 255, 66 N. W. 390.

Vermont.— Hurlbert v. Brigham, 56 Vt. 368; Pelton v. Johnson, 52 Vt. 138; Walker v. Baxter, 26 Vt. 710; Richmond v. Aiken, 25 Vt. 324; Grafton Bank v. Doe, 19 Vt. 463, 47 Am. Dec. 697.

Washington.— Reed v. Miller, 1 Wash. 426, 25 Pac. 334; Scammon v. Ward, 1 Wash. 179, 23 Pac. 439.

Wisconsin.— Pereles v. Leiser, 119 Wis. 347, 96 N. W. 799.

Wyoming.— O'Keefe v. Foster, 5 Wyo. 343, 40 Pac. 525.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 773.

Compare In re Smith, 194 Pa. St. 259, 45 Atl. 82.

Presentation of claim before enforcing security.— A claim founded upon a bond of decedent secured by mortgage may be presented to the administrator before the mortgaged premises are sold. Smith v. Crater, 43 N. J. Eq. 636, 12 Atl. 530.

31. Arkansas.— Simms v. Richardson, 32 Ark. 297.

h. Claims For Trust Funds and Enforcement of Trusts. The statutory requirement of presentation does not apply to the claims of a cestui que trust for whom the decedent was trustee so long as the trust fund or property can be traced and the trust enforced by suitable proceedings;[32] but where the fund or property cannot be traced and the cestui que trust seeks redress as a general creditor of the estate of the deceased fiduciary he must present his claim.[33]

i. Taxes and Assessments. The requirement of presentation does not apply to claims for taxes and assessments, whether assessed before or after the death of the decedent.[34]

3. Against Whom Statutes of Non-Claim Run. The limitation of time within which claims must be presented for allowance in the probate court is inseparable from the peculiar procedure prescribed in each jurisdiction;[35] it is a part of that procedure and so not like a general statute of limitations, and can only be applied California.— Morton v. Adams, 124 Cal. 229, 56 Pac. 1038, 71 Am. St. Rep. 53; Sonoma County Bank v. Charles, 86 Cal. 322, 24 Pac. 1019; Moran v. Gardemeyer, 82 Cal. 96, 23 Pac. 6.

Illinois.— See People v. Phelps, 78 Ill. 147.

Indiana.— Hight v. Taylor, 97 Ind. 392; Clarke v. Henshaw, 30 Ind. 144.

Iowa.— Moores v. Ellsworth, 22 Iowa 299.

Kansas.— Crooker v. Pearson, 41 Kan. 410, 21 Pac. 270.

Vermont.— Putnam v. Russell, 17 Vt. 54, 42 Am. Dec. 478.

United States.— Schuelenburg v. Martin, 2 Fed. 747, 1 McCrary 348.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 773; and, generally, Mortgages.

32. Arkansas.— Pope v. Boyd, 22 Ark. 535.

California.— Elizalde v. Graves, (1901) 66 Pac. 369; Tyler v. Mayre, 95 Cal. 160, 27 Pac. 160, 30 Pac. 196; Roach v. Caraffa, 85 Cal. 436, 25 Pac. 22. See also Gillespie v. Winn, 65 Cal. 429, 4 Pac. 411; Sharpstein v. Friedlander, 54 Cal. 58; Gunter v. Janes, 9 Cal. 643.

Colorado.— See Central City First Nat. Bank v. Hummel, 14 Colo. 259, 23 Pac. 986, 20 Am. St. Rep. 257, 8 L. R. A. 788.

Florida.— Bloxham v. Crane, 19 Fla. 163.

Illinois.— Gillett v. Hickling, 16 Ill. App. 392.

Missouri.— See Bramell v. Adams, 146 Mo. 70, 47 S. W. 931.

Nevada.—See Thompson v. Reno Sav. Bank, 19 Nev. 242, 9 Pac. 121, 3 Am. St. Rep. 883.

New Jersey.— Harrison v. Patterson, (Ch. 1901) 50 Atl. 113; Smith v. Combs, 49 N. J. Eq. 420, 24 Atl. 9.

Texas.— Vandever v. Freeman, 20 Tex. 233, 70 Am. Dec. 391.

Utah.— Hamilton v. Dooly, 15 Utah 280, 49 Pac. 769.

Wisconsin.— Biron v. Scott, 80 Wis. 206, 49 N. W. 747.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 777.

33. Alabama.— Taylor v. Robinson, 69 Ala. 269 (claim against estate of deceased administrator for devastavit); Rhodes v. Hannah, 66 Ala. 215.

Arkansas.—Nichols v. Shearon, 49 Ark. 75, 4 S. W. 167; Padgett v. State, 45 Ark. 495; Purcelly v. Carter, 45 Ark. 299 (holding that while an administrator is in his lifetime a trustee for the distributees of the estate, at his death he ceases to be such and his indebtedness to the trust becomes a demand against his estate, to be authenticated, allowed, classed, and paid like any other demand); Patterson v. McCann, 39 Ark. 577; Connelly v. Weatherly, 33 Ark. 658; Hill v. State, 23 Ark. 604.

California.— McGrath v. Carroll, 110 Cal. 79, 42 Pac. 466; Gillespie v. Winn, 65 Cal. 429, 4 Pac. 411; Lathrop v. Pampton, 31 Cal. 17, 89 Am. Dec. 141. See also Sharpstein v. Friedlander, 54 Cal. 58; In re Halleck, 49 Cal. 111. But see Gunter v. Janes, 9 Cal. 643.

Indiana.— Spicer v. Hockman, 72 Ind. 120.

Maine.— See Hodge v. Hodge, 90 Me. 505, 38 Atl. 535, 60 Am. St. Rep. 285, 40 L. R. A. 33; Fowler v. True, 76 Me. 43.

Massachusetts.— See Atty.-Gen. v. Brigham, 142 Mass. 248, 7 N. E. 851.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 777.

34. California.— Hancock v. Whittemore, 50 Cal. 522; People v. Olvera, 43 Cal. 492.

Indiana.— Graham v. Russell, 152 Ind. 186, 52 N. E. 806.

Iowa.— Findley v. Taylor, 97 Iowa 420, 66 N. W. 744.

Maryland.—Bonaparte v. State, 63 Md. 465.

Missouri.— State v. Tittmann, 103 Mo. 553, 569, 15 S. W. 936, 941.

Ohio.— Gager v. Prout, 48 Ohio St. 89, 26 N. E. 1013.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 775.

But compare Millett v. Early, 16 Nebr. 266, 20 N. W. 352.

Payments for taxes and street assessments made by a mortgagee as provided for in a mortgage made by decedent, after presentation of the claim founded on the note and mortgage, are allowable on foreclosure without presentation. Humboldt Sav., etc., Soc. v. Burnham, 111 Cal. 343, 43 Pac. 971 (holding the same to be true also of payments of insurance); German Sav., etc., Soc. v. Hutchinson, 68 Cal. 52, 8 Pac. 627.

35. Hartman v. Fishbeck, 18 Fed. 291.

to persons who are bound by such special mode of procedure.[36] But where the statute of non-claim makes no exception as to any persons or class of persons, the courts can make none;[37] and hence in the absence of some provision to the contrary, the statutes of non-claim run against non-resident as well as resident,[38] and infant as well as adult claimants,[39] and also against insane persons,[40] and the estate of a deceased creditor.[41] According to the weight of authority the statutes of non-claim, unlike the general statutes of limitations, run against the state,[42] and against counties.[43] Claims of the federal government sought to be enforced in the federal courts are not affected by the state statutes of non-claim,[44] but where such claims are sought to be enforced in the state or territorial courts the local statutes of non-claim are applicable.[45]

4. Time For Presentation[46]— a. In General. The statutes requiring claims against a decedent's estate to be presented or filed within a limited time vary in the different jurisdictions as to the period for presentation or filing, some statutes allowing only a few months and others allowing several years.[47] As to the time

36. Hartman v. Fishbeck, 18 Fed. 291.

37. Connecticut.— Cone v. Dunham, 59 Conn. 145, 20 Atl. 311, 8 L. R. A. 647.

Maine.— Rowell v. Patterson, 76 Me. 196.

New Hampshire.— Chapman v. Gale, 32 N. H. 141; Phillips v. Leavitt, Smith 130.

North Carolina.—Ridley v. Thorpe, 3 N. C. 343.

Wisconsin.— Fields v. Mundy, 106 Wis. 383, 82 N. W. 343, 80 Am. St. Rep. 39.

38. Arkansas.— Turner v. Risor, 54 Ark. 33, 15 S. W. 13 (holding that presentation to a foreign administrator in an ancillary administration is no presentation to the representative in the domestic state); Erwin v. Turner, 6 Ark. 14.

Iowa.— Roaf v. Knight, 77 Iowa 506, 42 N. W. 433.

New Hampshire.— Phillips v. Leavitt, Smith 130.

Wisconsin.— Fields v. Mundy, 106 Wis. 383, 82 N. W. 343, 80 Am. St. Rep. 39 (holding also that the fact that the claim of a non-resident may have been allowed against the estate of the same decedent in a foreign jurisdiction does not affect the bar of the domestic statute); Winter v. Winter, 101 Wis. 494, 77 N. W. 883 (holding that Rev. St. (1898) § 3844, providing that claims against decedents not presented to the probate court within the time appointed therefor shall be forever barred, applies to claims of non-resident creditors in the administration of domestic, as well as ancillary administrations of foreign estates).

United States.— Morgan v. Hamlet, 113 U. S. 449, 5 S. Ct. 583, 28 L. ed. 1043, construing the Arkansas statute.

Special provisions applicable to non-resident claimants have been enacted in some states. See Cullerton v. Mead, 22 Cal. 95; Williams v. Belden, 1 Root (Conn.) 464; Wilkinson v. Barringer, 23 Miss. 319; Grubb v. Clayton, 11 Fed. Cas. No. 5,849*a*, Brunn. Col. Cas. 30, 3 N. C. 378.

39. Padgett v. State, 45 Ark. 495; Rayner v. Watford, 13 N. C. 338; Morgan v. Hamlet, 113 U. S. 449, 5 S. Ct. 583, 28 L. ed. 1043.

Exceptions as to infants exist, however, in the statutes of non-claim in some states; the statutory period not beginning to run until the removal of the disability. Whetstone v. McQueen, 137 Ala. 301, 34 So. 229; Burford v. Steele, 80 Ala. 147; Walker v. Crews, 73 Ala. 412; Moore v. Wallis, 18 Ala. 458; People v. Brooks, 22 Ill. App. 594 [affirmed in 123 Ill. 246, 14 N. E. 39]. And under the Alabama statute the fact that the infant has a guardian does not exclude him from the benefit of the exception. Burford v. Steele, supra; Moore v. Wallis, supra.

40. Rowell v. Patterson, 76 Me. 196, holding also that this is true, although the insane person has no guardian for two years next after the notice of the administrator's appointment.

41. Beasley v. Waugh, 51 Ala. 156; Phillips v. Leavitt, Smith (N. H.) 130. See also Milan v. Pemberton, 12 Mo. 598.

The fact that administration is not granted on the estate of the creditor until after the expiration of the time limited for the presentation of claims against the estate of the debtor does not take the case out of the operation of the statute. Glass v. Woolf, 82 Ala. 281, 3 So. 11; Beasley v. Waugh, 51 Ala. 156. See also Milan v. Pemberton, 12 Mo. 598.

42. Hill v. State, 23 Ark. 604; State v. Edwards, 11 Ind. App. 226, 38 N. E. 544; In re Mitchell, 2 Watts (Pa.) 87. See also Mahone v. Central Bank, 17 Ga. 111; State v. Crutcher, 2 Swan (Tenn.) 504. Contra, Parmilee v. McNutt, 1 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 179.

A debt due to the Central Bank of Georgia has been held to be within the Georgia statute requiring presentation of claims. Mahone v. Central Bank, 17 Ga. 111.

43. In re Jacob, 119 Iowa 176, 93 N. W. 94.

44. U. S. v. Backus, 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,491, 6 McLean 443. See also U. S. v. Hoar, 26 Fed. Cas. No. 15,373, 2 Mason 311.

45. U. S. v. Hailey, 2 Ida. (Hasb.) 22, 3 Pac. 263.

46. See also supra, X, B, 1, a.

As affecting priority see infra, X, D, 2, c, (II), (B), (12).

47. See the statutes of the various states.

of presentation the statutes of non-claim, not the general statutes of limitations, are controlling,[48] although where there is no statute of non-claim the general statute of limitations will be applied by analogy to furnish a limit to the time within which claims may be presented,[49] and where, through the failure of the personal representative to proceed with the usual and ordinary settlement of the estate, the statute of non-claim cannot be called into operation, the general statute of limitations will revive and run against claims from the date of the representative's appointment and qualification.[50] When the statute requires that the court shall by its order fix the times and places for receiving and examining claims, and shall give notice of such times and places and of the time limited for presenting claims, the order must state such times and places,[51] and the notice must be given according to the terms of the statute or claims not presented will not be barred.[52] The notice cannot cure defects in the original order.[53] Where the statute provides that a period for presenting claims shall be fixed by the court, and that after the expiration of this period the court shall by final decree order that all claims not presented within that period shall be barred except as to subsequently discovered assets, the fixed period is not extended by implication until the rendition of the final decree, and a claim is barred if not presented within the time limited.[54] The presentation of claims is not conditional upon the inventory; but the creditors must file their claims within the time limited or be barred, and are not entitled to wait until an inventory is filed showing property which can be devoted to the payment of debts.[55]

b. Computation of Time.[56] Under the statutes in most jurisdictions the period within which claims against an estate must be presented runs from the

Under the California statutes the time for presentation of claims varies according to the value of the estate, a longer time being allowed when the value is over a certain sum; and the time must be stated in the representative's notice to creditors. Paterson v. Schmidt, 111 Cal. 457, 44 Pac. 161; In re Loeven, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 203. The ascertainment of the value of the estate by the personal representative cannot be impeached or contradicted by him when he has stated it in his inventory and appraisal (In re Loeven, supra), but may be impeached or contradicted by a creditor (Paterson v. Schmidt, supra).

48. Alabama.— Griestra v. Tarleton, 67 Ala. 126.

Arkansas.— Biscoe v. Sandefur, 14 Ark. 568; Walker v. Byers, 14 Ark. 246; State Bank v. Walker, 14 Ark. 234.

Missouri.— Montelius v. Sarpy, 11 Mo. 237; State v. Browning, 102 Mo. App. 455, 76 S. W. 719.

New Hampshire.— Walker v. Cheever, 39 N. H. 420 [distinguishing Whipple v. Stevens, 19 N. H. 150; Boardman v. Paige, 11 N. H. 431; Peaslee v. Breed, 10 N. H. 498, 34 Am. Dec. 178].

Texas.— Gaston v. Boyd, 52 Tex. 282.

Vermont.— See Grafton Bank v. Doe, 19 Vt. 463, 47 Am. Dec. 697.

United States.— Mills v. Scott, 99 U. S. 25, 25 L. ed. 294, construing the Georgia statute of March 16, 1869.

49. O'Mulcahey v. Gragg, 45 Minn. 112, 47 N. W. 543.

Payment will not be presumed from mere lapse of time less than the period fixed by the general statute of limitations. Grafton Bank v. Doe, 19 Vt. 463, 47 Am. Dec. 697. See, generally, PAYMENT.

50. Mason's Appeal, 75 Conn. 406, 53 Atl. 895.

51. Brill v. Ide, 75 Wis. 113, 43 N. W. 559. See also Hart v. Nance, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 625.

52. Brill v. Ide, 75 Wis. 113, 43 N. W. 559; Gardner v. Callaghan, 61 Wis. 91, 20 N. W. 685.

53. Brill v. Ide, 75 Wis. 113, 43 N. W. 559.

54. Young v. Young, 45 N. J. L. 197. See also Fitzgerald v. Chariton First Nat. Bank, 64 Nebr. 260, 89 N. W. 813; Freehold First Nat. Bank v. Thompson, 61 N. J. Eq. 188, 48 Atl. 333.

Earlier decisions in New Jersey were to the contrary. Ryder v. Wilson, 41 N. J. L. 9; Parker v. Combs, 34 N. J. Eq. 522; Miller v. Harrison, 34 N. J. Eq. 374; Terhune v. White, 34 N. J. Eq. 98.

For construction of the earlier New Jersey statutes on the period for presentation of claims see Ryder v. Wilson, 41 N. J. L. 9; Ryan v. Flanagan, 38 N. J. L. 161; Campfield v. Ely, 13 N. J. L. 150; Miller v. Harrison, 34 N. J. Eq. 374; Terhune v. White, 34 N. J. Eq. 98.

55. In re Jacob, 119 Iowa 176, 93 N. W. 94; Paw Paw First Nat. Bank v. Sherman, 117 Mich. 602, 76 N. W. 97. See also Jacobs v. Jacobs, 7 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 486.

56. As to contingent claims see supra, X, B, 2, b.

As to claims not due see supra, X, B, 2, c.

time when letters testamentary or of administration are granted,[57] not from the representative's advertisement or publication of notice;[58] and until administration has been granted the statute of non-claim does not become operative.[59] In computing the period of limitation under these statutes the day on which the letters were granted is excluded.[60] In some jurisdictions, however, the time within which claims must be presented is expressly fixed at a certain period after the publication of a notice setting forth the grant of letters or calling on creditors to present their claims,[61] but in these jurisdictions claims may nevertheless be presented before notice is published.[62] In some jurisdictions where the claim is to be filed in court rather than presented to the executor or administrator, the time for filing begins to run from the death of the decedent.[63] Under some statutes a claim is barred if not presented within a certain time before final settlement of the estate,[64] but a statute prohibiting the filing of claims against an

57. Alabama.— Merchants' Nat. Bank v. McGee, 108 Ala. 304, 19 So. 356; Halfman v. Ellison, 51 Ala. 543; Cawthorne v. Weisinger, 6 Ala. 714.

Arkansas.— Connelly v. Weatherly, 33 Ark. 658; Walker v. Byers, 14 Ark. 246 [overruling Allen v. Byers, 12 Ark. 593; Burton v. Lockert, 9 Ark. 411].

Illinois.— Morse v. Pacific R. Co., 191 Ill. 356, 61 N. E. 104 [affirming 93 Ill. App. 31]; Shephard v. Rhodes, 60 Ill. 301; People v. White, 11 Ill. 341; Tinker v. Babcock, 107 Ill. App. 78 [affirmed in 204 Ill. 571, 68 N. E. 445].

Missouri.— Kimm v. Osgood, 19 Mo. 60; State v. Browning, 102 Mo. App. 455, 76 S. W. 719; Waltemar v. Schnick, 102 Mo. App. 133, 76 S. W. 1053. Compare Spaulding v. Suss, 4 Mo. App. 541.

New Hampshire.— Walker v. Cheever, 39 N. H. 420.

Pennsylvania.— In re Cowan, 28 Pittsb. Leg. J. 119.

Texas.— Buchanan v. Wagnon, 62 Tex. 375; McDougald v. Hadley, 1 Tex. 490.

Revocation of original grant.— If, on the discovery of a will, letters of administration previously granted are revoked and letters of administration with the will annexed are issued to another person, claims against the estate, in order to share equally in the distribution, must be presented for allowance within two years from the granting of the first letters of administration. Shephard v. Rhodes, 60 Ill. 301.

The claim of a ward against the estate of a deceased guardian must be presented within the period prescribed by the statute of non-claim whether the guardian has made a final settlement or not. The statute of non-claim, unlike the statute of limitations, runs from the grant of administration, not from the final settlement. Connelly v. Weatherly, 33 Ark. 658. Compare Glass v. Woolf, 82 Ala. 281, 3 So. 11.

58. Cawthorne v. Weisinger, 6 Ala. 714; People v. White, 11 Ill. 341. See also Hooper v. Bryant, 3 Yerg. (Tenn.) 1.

59. Merchants' Nat. Bank v. McGee, 108 Ala. 304, 19 So. 356; Baker v. Halleck, 128 Mich. 180, 87 N. W. 100.

60. Kimm v. Osgood, 19 Mo. 60.

61. California.— Janin v. Browne, 59 Cal. 37.

Iowa.— Easton v. Somerville, 111 Iowa 164, 82 N. W. 475, 82 Am. St. Rep. 502; Wickham v. Hull, 102 Iowa 469, 71 N. W. 352; Schlutter v. Dahling, 100 Iowa 515, 69 N. W. 884.

Mississippi.— Robertson v. Demoss, 23 Miss. 298, holding that the act of 1846 did not change the principles of the previous statute, but altered only the period of time for presentation. The statutory bar does not attach unless publication has been made, and the statutory period does not begin to run until the expiration of the time required by law for the publication. Henderson v. Ilsley, 11 Sm. & M. 9, 49 Am. Dec. 41; Dowell v. Weber, 2 Sm. & M. 452; Helm v. Smith, 2 Sm. & M. 403.

New York.— O'Connor v. Gifford, 117 N. Y. 275, 22 N. E 1036.

Oregon.— In re Conant, 43 Oreg. 530, 73 Pac. 1018.

South Carolina.— Miller v. Mitchell, Bailey Eq. 437.

Utah.— Fullerton v. Baily, 17 Utah 25, 53 Pac. 1020.

See infra, X, B, 7.

Where there has been a change in the statute the law in force when publication was made governs as to the time within which claims must be presented. Robertson v. Demoss, 23 Miss. 298. See also Hibernia Sav., etc., Soc. v. Hayes, 56 Cal. 297.

Date of filing proof of publication.— Where the period for presentation begins to run from the first publication of the notice to creditors, it is not affected by the date of filing the proof of publication. In re Conant, 43 Oreg. 530, 73 Pac. 1018.

62. Janin v. Browne, 59 Cal. 37; Ricketson v. Richardson, 19 Cal. 330; Field v. Field, 77 N. Y. 294; Russell v. Lane, 1 Barb. (N. Y.) 519.

63. Janes v. Brunswick, 8 N. M. 105, 42 Pac. 72; Demmy's Appeal, 43 Pa. St. 155.

64. Schrichte v. Stites, 127 Ind. 472, 26 N. E. 77, 1009, holding that a claim filed two days before the time set for making such settlement was barred, the limit being thirty days.

The term "final settlement," as used in estate after the order for partition and distribution permits by implication the filing of claims at any time prior thereto, although the representative's application for final settlement is on file.[65] Under a statute requiring that commissioners be appointed to allow claims against an estate, and that the court or judge fix the time and place for the presentation of claims the rights of creditors to enforce their demands are not barred so long as no commissioners are appointed and no time or place is fixed.[66] Where the statutes require that the time for exhibiting claims against an estate be fixed by an order of court, the time is computed from the making of the order and not from its publication,[67] but the day on which the order is made is excluded from the computation.[68]

c. Postponement and Interruption of Statute — (I) In General. It is generally held that the statute of non-claim, when once it begins to run, continues to run; no exceptions or interruptions being allowed to intervene unless expressly provided for.[69]

(II) Fraudulent Concealment of Claim or Cause of Action. It is generally held that unless otherwise provided by the statute, the fraudulent concealment of the existence of the claim or cause of action, either by the decedent in his lifetime[70] or by his personal representative,[71] does not affect the operation of the non-claim statute or defer the beginning of the statutory period to the time when the facts are discovered, and that provisions of the general statute of limitations on this point are not applicable by analogy.[72]

(III) Absence of Representative From State. In some states it is held that where the statute of non-claim has begun to run it will continue, notwithstanding the personal representative removes from the state and continues absent until the statutory period has expired;[73] and, where the statutes require that the personal representative shall notify creditors to present their claims at a statute providing that claims not filed at least thirty days before the final settlement of the estate shall be barred, means the presentation of the account for final settlement at the time fixed by law, and claims not filed thirty days before that time will be barred. Schrichte v. Stites, 127 Ind. 472, 26 N. E. 77, 1009; Roberts v. Spencer, 112 Ind. 85, 13 N. E. 129.

A premature settlement by the representative cannot operate to defeat a creditor's right to file his claim, and the fact that the representative has no notice of the claim does not justify a settlement in advance of the time named in the statute. Shirley v. Thompson, 123 Ind. 454, 24 N. E. 253 [citing Dillman v. Barber, 114 Ind. 403, 16 N. E. 825; Floyd v. Miller, 61 Ind. 224].

A claim for contribution by a joint judgment debtor who has paid joint judgments rendered against himself and the decedent's estate cannot be defeated by the filing and approving of the representative's final settlement report; and it is not necessary that the whole of the debt be paid at the time of settlement if it is paid when contribution is sought. Harter v. Songer, 138 Ind. 161, 37 N. E. 595.

Effect of vacating settlement.— Where an order approving the representative's report and discharging the representative is vacated and set aside, the estate is left as if no final report had ever been filed, and the period for filing claims is reopened. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Harshman, 21 Ind. App. 23, 51 N. E. 343.

65. Bledsoe v. Beiler, 66 Tex. 437, 1 S. W. 164.

66. Pratt v. Houghtaling, 45 Mich. 457, 8 N. W. 72. See also Wilkinson v. Winne, 15 Minn. 159.

67. Wooden v. Coles, 11 Conn. 292.

68. Weeks v. Hull, 19 Conn. 376, 50 Am. Dec. 249.

69. Alabama.— Lowe v. Jones, 15 Ala. 545; Decatur Branch Bank v. Donelson, 12 Ala. 741.

Connecticut.— Cone v. Dunham, 59 Conn. 145, 20 Atl. 311, 8 L. R. A. 647.

Illinois.— People v. White, 11 Ill. 341.

Missouri.— Richardson v. Harrison, 36 Mo. 96.

North Carolina.— See Ridley v. Thorpe, 3 N. C. 343.

Wisconsin.— Butler v. Templeton, 115 Wis. 382, 91 N. W. 969.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 796.

70. Taylor v. Robinson, 69 Ala. 269; Yniestra v. Tarleton, 67 Ala. 126.

71. Roberts v. Spencer, 112 Ind. 85, 13 N. E. 129.

72. Yniestra v. Tarleton, 67 Ala. 126.

In New Hampshire the construction of the general statute of limitations is adopted, and the creditor is afforded relief in equity, if he proceeds with due diligence and institutes proceedings for relief promptly after discovering his claim. Sugar River Bank v. Fairbank, 49 N. H. 131.

73. Lowe v. Jones, 15 Ala. 545; Decatur Branch Bank v. Donelson, 12 Ala. 741.

the place where he resides or transacts business, claims may be legally presented at such place whether the representative is there to receive them or not, and therefore his absence from the state is immaterial.[74] In other states if the executor or administrator by his absence from the state prevents the presentation of a claim the claim will not be barred,[75] although a merely temporary absence which does not prevent the creditor from presenting his claim by the exercise of reasonable diligence will not extend the statutory period.[76] Some statutes, however, expressly provide that the period of the representative's absence from the state shall be excluded in computing the period for presentation,[77] but even under such a statute if there are two executors it is only the period during which both are absent that will be excluded.[78]

(iv) Death of Representative. In some states, where the statutory period begins to run from the grant of letters testamentary or of administration, the death of the personal representative after the grant of letters does not interrupt the running of the statute; the reason being that the creditor can have an administrator appointed or can himself apply in certain cases, and hence presentation of his claim is not impossible.[79]

(v) Creditor's Death Presumed From Absence. Where a creditor disappeared two years before his debtor's death and was never heard from, there was no presumption that he was not living during the period for presenting claims against the deceased debtor's estate, and the period was not extended.[80]

(vi) Appeal From Probate. Where an order is rendered limiting the time for the presentation of claims against a testator's estate, a subsequent appeal from an order admitting the will to probate does not suspend the period of limitation,[81] and, where the creditor has died, an appeal from the probate of his will does not relieve his executors from the necessity of presenting his claim against the debtor's estate within the period limited.[82]

(vii) War. It has been held that the statutes of non-claim did not run during the Civil war,[83] and, on the other hand, that where the statute began to run before the civil law was suspended on account of the war, it did not stop running,[84] and that constitutional provisions suspending the statute of limitations during the Civil war did not apply to the statutes of non-claim.[85] A statute passed during the war of the Revolution disabling British subjects from suing in the state courts was held to suspend the operation of the state statute of non-claim.[86]

d. Extension by Agreement With Representative. The personal representative has authority to make a contract with a creditor of the estate, whereby the time of payment of the creditor's claim is extended, provided that the contract is for the benefit of the estate, and such a contract operates to extend the period limited for the presentation of the claim and relieves the creditor from the imputation of laches if he presents his claim within the period thus extended,[87] but

74. Douglass v. Folsom, 21 Nev. 441, 33 Pac. 660.

75. Walker v. Cheever, 39 N. H. 420.

76. Walker v. Cheever, 39 N. H. 420.

77. Adoue v. Gonzales, 22 Tex. Civ. App. 73, 54 S. W. 367.

78. Adoue v. Gonzales, 22 Tex. Civ. App. 73, 54 S. W. 367.

79. Pipkin v. Hewlett, 17 Ala. 291; Lowe v. Jones, 15 Ala. 545; People v. White, 11 Ill. 341. But see Walker v. Byers, 14 Ark. 246.

80. Cone v. Dunham, 59 Conn. 145, 20 Atl. 311, 8 L. R. A. 647.

81. Butler v. Templeton, 115 Wis. 382, 91 N. W. 969. See also Delaplane v. Smith, 38 Ohio St. 413.

82. Cone v. Dunham, 59 Conn. 145, 20 Atl. 311, 8 L. R. A. 647.

83. Williamson v. McCrary, 33 Ark. 470.

84. Richardson v. Harrison, 36 Mo. 96.

85. Standifer v. Hubbard, 39 Tex. 417; Ryan v. Flint, 30 Tex. 382.

86. Ogden v. Witherspoon, 18 Fed. Cas. No. 10,461, 3 N. C. 227. Compare Ridley v. Thorpe, 3 N. C. 343.

87. North v. Walker, 66 Mo. 453 [affirming 2 Mo. App. 174]; Smarr v. McMaster, 35 Mo. 349. See infra, X, B, 12, b, (II).

where such a contract would be prejudicial to the interests of the estate it cannot be given this effect.[88]

5. Place of Presentation. Where a certain place is designated for the presentation of claims to the personal representative, presentation at that place is sufficient, although the representative is not there to receive the claim.[89] Under a statute authorizing presentation to be made to the personal representative at his residence or place of business, the words "place of business" are construed to include the place selected for the transaction of the business of the estate, although the representative may be engaged in business elsewhere,[90] and the designation in the notice to creditors of a certain place where claims shall be presented makes that place the representative's residence or place of business within the meaning of the statute.[91] In Illinois filing a copy of the claim with the clerk of the county court within the statutory period is sufficient to keep the claim from being barred,[92] and presentation to the representative has been held to be equally effective.[93]

6. By and to Whom Presentation May Be Made — a. By Whom Made. The presentation of a claim against a decedent's estate can be made only by a person having an interest in the claim and a legal or equitable right to its enforcement,[94] and it has been held that no one but the creditor himself or a person duly authorized by him can make a presentation of a claim against an estate so as to bind the creditor.[95] So where the statement of the claim shows a cause of action in favor of a person other than the claimant it is insufficient.[96] If the creditor is of full age he is the proper person to present his claim; there is no authority for his appearance by a next friend;[97] although if he is not mentally competent to make an affidavit the claim should be presented by his guardian or a committee of his person and estate.[98] The fact that a person not interested is united with the real owner of a claim filed against the decedent's estate is immaterial, since a payment to either would be by consent of the other, their association being voluntary.[99] A valid presentation may be made by the equitable owner of the claim.[1]

88. Fitzgerald v. Chariton First Nat. Bank, 64 Nebr. 260, 89 N. W. 813.

89. Roddan v. Doane, 92 Cal. 555, 28 Pac. 604. See also Douglass v. Folsom, 21 Nev. 441, 33 Pac. 660.

90. Roddan v. Doane, 92 Cal. 555, 28 Pac. 604; Bollinger v. Manning, 79 Cal. 7, 21 Pac. 375; Hoyt v. Bonnett, 58 Barb. (N. Y.) 529 [reversed on other grounds in 50 N. Y. 538, and disapproving Murray v. Smith, 9 Bosw. (N. Y.) 689].

The office of the representative's attorney may be the proper place for presenting claims. Roddan v. Doane, 92 Cal. 555, 28 Pac. 604; Bollinger v. Manning, 79 Cal. 7, 21 Pac. 375.

91. Douglass v. Folsom, 21 Nev. 441, 33 Pac. 660; Hoyt v. Bonnett, 58 Barb. (N. Y.) 529 [reversed on other grounds in 50 N. Y. 538, and disapproving Murray v. Smith, 9 Bosw. (N. Y.) 689].

92. Wallace v. Gatchell, 106 Ill. 315; Barbero v. Thurman, 49 Ill. 283, holding also that the clerk's neglect to keep the claim on the docket, and the omission of a special order to continue the case from term to term, cannot affect the validity of the exhibition of the claim.

93. Wells v. Miller, 45 Ill. 33 [followed in Mason v. Tiffany, 45 Ill. 392].

94. Rayburn v. Rayburn, 130 Ala. 217, 30 So. 365; Allen v. Elliott, 67 Ala. 432; McDowell v. Jones, 58 Ala. 25; Cook v. Davis, 12 Ala. 551; Walker v. Heller, 104 Ind. 327, 3 N. E. 114; Marshall v. Perkins, 72 Me. 343.

95. Whitcomb v. Davenport, 63 Vt. 656, 22 Atl. 723; Moore v. Batchelder, 51 Vt. 50.

96. Walker v. Heller, 104 Ind. 327, 3 N. E. 114; Marshall v. Perkins, 72 Me. 343.

Indorsee of note.— Where a negotiable promissory note not yet due is indorsed by the payee and held by the indorsee, the indorsee, not the indorser, is the creditor of the deceased maker's estate, and as long as he holds the note he is the only person who may present it. Meriden Steam Mill Lumber Co. v. Guy, 40 Conn. 163. See also Cook v. Davis, 12 Ala. 551.

Where a promissory note is indorsed in blank, it may be presented in the name of anybody consenting. Whitford v. Herting, 60 Ill. App. 413.

97. Kline's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 386.

98. Kline's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 386. See also Thurston v. Holbrook, 31 Vt. 354.

99. Perkins v. Berry, 103 N. C. 131, 9 S. E. 621.

1. Hogan v. Calvert, 21 Ala. 194; In re Crosby, 55 Cal. 574 [distinguishing Marsh v. Dooley, 52 Cal. 232]. But see Amory v. Greer, 58 Vt. 58, 2 Atl. 719, in which the claims were presented in the name of the legal owner and it was also held that an ap-

The assignee of a claim may present and enforce it in his own name,[2] and a claim against the estate of a deceased surety on an executor's bond may be filed in the name of the actual claimant, although it is provided by statute that actions on executors' bonds shall be prosecuted in the name of the people for the use of the persons injured.[3] The properly appointed and duly qualified[4] executor or administrator of a deceased creditor has of course full authority to present claims in favor of the estate which he represents,[5] and he may exercise this authority at any time before his formal discharge and during the period of presentation, although his final settlement has been filed and an order of distribution entered;[6] but unless otherwise provided by statute the personal representative of the deceased debtor has no authority to present the claim of a creditor against the estate,[7] and a statute providing for the presentation of claims of the estate by way of set-off to the claims of creditors does not authorize the personal representative to present a creditor's claim for the purpose of setting off against it a claim of the estate against the creditor.[8] It has been held that, if a claim is presented by the wrong person and it appears that it is a proper claim for adjustment against the estate, the court may allow the proper person to appear and prosecute the demand;[9] and where a claim presented by an unauthorized person is disallowed, it has been held that upon becoming vested with the proper authority the person who presented the claim may, by taking an appeal from the order of disallowance, ratify and make valid the original presentation.[10]

b. To Whom Made. Where letters of administration are voidable only and have not been revoked, a valid presentation of a claim may be made to the administrator thus appointed; and upon subsequent revocation of the letters and the appointment of a new representative a second presentation is unnecessary.[11] The presentation of a claim to the personal representative before his qualification[12] or after he has been discharged[13] is of no effect. As a general rule if there are two or more personal representatives presentation of a claim to one of them is sufficient.[14] If the statute requires presentation to be made to the personal representative and does not provide for presentation to his agent or attorney, claims peal from the disallowance of the claim was properly taken in the legal owner's name.

2. Dixon v. Buell, 21 Ill. 203.

3. Thomson v. Black, 200 Ill. 465, 65 N. E. 1092 [affirming 102 Ill. App. 304].

4. Henry v. Roe, 83 Tex. 446, 18 S. W. 806, holding that before qualification the personal representative of a deceased creditor cannot make a valid presentation of a claim in favor of his decedent.

Where letters of administration on the creditor's estate are absolutely void, the administrator is without authority to make a valid presentation of claims due the estate which he purports to represent, and an attempted presentation of such claims by him is, in legal effect, the act of a stranger, and does not prevent the operation of the statute of non-claim. McDowell v. Jones, 58 Ala. 25.

5. Davis v. Browning, 91 Cal. 603, 27 Pac. 937; Tonnies v. McIntyre, 82 Mo. App. 268.

Foreign executor.— An executor appointed by the will of a foreign creditor may file a claim due his testator's estate against the estate of the deceased debtor in the domestic state before proving the foreign will in the latter state, since the probate of the foreign will merely furnishes evidence of the executor's existing rights, and if this evidence is furnished at the trial it is sufficient. Feustmann v. Gott, 65 Mich. 592, 32 N. W. 869.

6. Tonnies v. McIntyre, 82 Mo. App. 268.

7. Roberts v. Flatt, 42 Ill. App. 608 [affirmed in 142 Ill. 485, 32 N. E. 484]; Moore v. Bachelder, 51 Vt. 50.

8. Moore v. Bachelder, 51 Vt. 50, holding also that an unauthorized presentation of a creditor's claim by the administrator did not give the commissioners any jurisdiction over the creditor or over his claim, notwithstanding that the claim had been adjudicated by the commissioners and their report accepted and recorded by the probate court.

9. Holdridge v. Holdridge, 53 Vt. 546.

10. Thurston v. Holbrook, 31 Vt. 354, in which the claim was presented on behalf of a person non compos mentis, and after the disallowance the person who had presented the claim was appointed guardian of the creditor.

11. Floyd v. Clayton, 67 Ala. 265.

12. Mobile Branch Bank v. Hallett, 12 Ala. 671 [followed in Borum v. Bell, 132 Ala. 85, 31 So. 454]. See also Bambrick v. Bambrick, 157 Mo. 423, 58 S. W. 8. Compare Brown v. Lone, 3 N. C. 159.

13. Gibson v. Mitchell, 16 Fla. 519.

14. Carrington v. Odom, 124 Ala. 529, 27 So. 510; Mardis v. Shackleford, 4 Ala. 493; Acre v. Ross, 3 Stew. (Ala.) 288; Willis v. Farley, 24 Cal. 490; Barnes v. Scott, 29 Fla. 285, 11 So. 48; Dean v. Duffield, 8 Tex. 235, 58 Am. Dec. 108.

must be presented to the representative in person, and presentation to his agent or attorney is insufficient, unless it be shown that the agent or attorney delivered the demand or notice to his principal in due time.[15] The law does not contemplate that in a mere claim against a decedent's estate third persons shall be joined as defendants with the representative.[16] The allowance of a claim against a partnership is not an exhibition of the claim against the individual estate of a deceased partner.[17]

7. Notice to Creditors[18] — a. Necessity For Notice. The personal representative of a decedent is generally required by statute to publish a notice to creditors, informing them of his appointment or of the granting of letters to him, and calling upon them to present their claims; the statutes usually making express provision as to the time when the notice shall be given, the manner and period of publication, etc.[19] In some states under the statutes of which commissioners are appointed to examine claims against decedent's estates, the notice to creditors of the time limited for filing claims is required to be given by the commissioners.[20] Unless the statutes expressly so provide, the giving of notice to creditors by the personal representative is in no sense a prerequisite to his entering upon the discharge of his duties,[21] and his failure to give the notice does not operate to annul his appointment.[22] In some jurisdictions the statutes providing for the publication of notice by the personal representative are intended solely for his own protection, and, so far as concerns the rights of creditors to payment out of the estate there is no legal obligation on him to give notice at all;[23] but in these jurisdictions, as in others, if the personal representative has paid out the assets to legatees or distributees, he cannot escape personal liability to an unpaid creditor without showing full compliance with the statutes requiring notice.[24] In states where the period for presenting claims dates from some other time than the publication of notice to creditors by the representative, the omission of the repre-

15. Rawson v. Knight, 71 Me. 99; Douglass v. Folsom, 21 Nev. 441, 33 Pac. 660, 22 Nev. 217, 38 Pac. 111.

The fact that the attorney's name was appended to the notice to creditors as "attorney for the estate" does not change the rule, the law recognizing no such officer as a general attorney for a decedent's estate. Douglass v. Folsom, 21 Nev. 441, 33 Pac. 660.

A distinction, however, is to be observed between cases where the creditor's failure to make due and proper presentation of his claim affects his right to share in the assets of the estate, and cases where it affects merely his right of action against the personal representative, as where the statute is intended for the latter's protection; in the latter class of cases it is held that if the personal representative, without statutory authority, appoints an agent or attorney to receive claims, he cannot avail himself of the protection of the statute. Rawson v. Knight, 71 Me. 99; Hardy v. Ames, 47 Barb. (N. Y.) 413; Whitmore v. Foose, 1 Den. (N. Y.) 159. See also Johnson v. Myers, 103 N. Y. 666, 9 N. E. 55.

16. Niblack v. Goodman, 67 Ind. 174; Noble v. McGinnis, 55 Ind. 528.

17. Burton v. Rutherford, 49 Mo. 255. See, generally, Partnership.

18. Notice by court see supra, X, B, 4, a.

19. See the statutes of the various states.

20. See Ribble v. Furmin, (Nebr. 1904) 98 N. W. 420.

21. Johnson v. Barker, 57 Iowa 32, 10 N. W. 289; In re Conser, 40 Oreg. 138, 66 Pac. 607.

22. Johnson v. Barker, 57 Iowa 32, 10 N. W. 289.

23. Fliess v. Buckley, 90 N. Y. 286 [affirming 24 Hun 514]; Field v. Field, 77 N. Y. 294. See also Wood v. Weightman, L. R. 13 Eq. 434, 26 L. T. Rep. N. S. 385, 20 Wkly. Rep. 459.

24. Maryland.— Glenn v. Smith, 17 Md. 260; Rawlings v. Adams, 7 Md. 26; Steuart v. Carr, 6 Gill 430.

New York.— Clayton v. Wardell, 2 Bradf. Surr. 1.

North Carolina.— See also Lee v. Patrick, 31 N. C. 135; McLin v. McNamara, 22 N. C. 82. Compare Fike v. Green, 64 N. C. 665.

England.— Wood v. Weightman, L. R. 13 Eq. 435, 26 L. T. Rep. N. S. 385, 20 Wkly. Rep. 459.

Canada.— Stewart v. Snyder, 27 Ont. App. 423 [affirming 30 Ont. 110].

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 808.

Practice under the English statutes (22 & 23 Vict. c. 35, § 29) see In re Bracken, 43 Ch. D. 1, 59 L. J. Ch. 18, 61 L. T. Rep. N. S. 531, 38 Wkly. Rep. 48 [explaining Wood v. Weightman, L. R. 13 Eq. 434, 26 L. T. Rep. N. S. 385, 20 Wkly. Rep. 459].

Advertisement in Ontario Gazette unnecessary.— Re Cameron, 15 Ont. Pr. 272 [distinguishing Wood v. Weightman, L. R. 13 Eq. 434, 26 L. T. Rep. N. S. 385, 20 Wkly. Rep. 459].

sentative to give this notice does not relieve the creditors from the necessity of presenting their demands, but the statute of non-claim runs whether the notice is published or not,[25] it being held that, so far as the statute of non-claim is concerned, the requirements as to notice are merely directory.[26] But in other states, especially those where the period for presenting the claims begins at the publication of notice to creditors,[27] the statute of non-claim does not operate to bar claims not presented unless notice has been given within the time and in the manner prescribed by law,[28] and it has been held that unless such notice has been duly given, an order cannot properly be made closing the allowance of claims.[29] If the proper statutory notice has been given, the creditor's want of actual notice is not material and will not affect the running of the non-claim statute against his demand,[30] unless the latter statute excepts from its operation, as it does in some states, creditors who have not received notice.[31] It has been said that creditors of an estate are not bound to take any cognizance of a notice the publication of which is not made within the time stated in the statute.[32] But actual notice that the debtor has died and that administration has been granted upon his estate has the same effect as the statutory notice, and necessitates the creditor's compliance with the statute of non-claim, although the personal representative wholly neglects to give the notice required by law;[33] especially where the creditor deals with the appointee as the legal representative of the estate.[34] Where the personal representative seeks to enforce a claim of his own against the estate, he cannot take advantage of his own neglect to give the statutory notice to creditors.[35] The failure of the personal representative to give notice to creditors does not affect the general statute of limitations,[36] or estop him from claiming the benefit of that statute.[37]

25. Montgomery Bank v. Plannett, 37 Ala. 222; Cawthorne v. Weisinger, 6 Ala. 714; Thrash v. Sumwalt, 5 Ala. 13; People v. White, 11 Ill. 341; Todd v. Wright, 12 Heisk. (Tenn.) 442; Hooper v. Bryant, 3 Yerg. (Tenn.) 1. See also Atkinson v. Settle, 5 Yerg. (Tenn.) 299.

26. Todd v. Wright, 12 Heisk. (Tenn.) 442; Hooper v. Bryant, 3 Yerg. (Tenn.) 1. See also Crabaugh v. Hart, 3 Yerg. (Tenn.) 431.

27. See supra, X, B, 4, b.

28. California.— Wise v. Williams, 88 Cal. 30, 25 Pac. 1064; Smith v. Hall, 19 Cal. 85.

Delaware.— Bradley v. Kent, 7 Houst. 372, 32 Atl. 286.

Iowa.— McConaughy v. Wilsey, 115 Iowa 589, 88 N. W. 1101; Easton v. Somerville, 111 Iowa 164, 82 N. W. 475, 82 Am. St. Rep. 502; Johnson v. Barker, 57 Iowa 32, 10 N. W. 289.

Mississippi.— Alabama Branch Bank v. Windham, 31 Miss. 317; Henderson v. Ilsley, 11 Sm. & M. 9, 49 Am. Dec. 41; Pearl v. Conley, 7 Sm. & M. 356; Dowell v. Webber, 2 Sm. & M. 452; Helm v. Smith, 2 Sm. & M. 403.

Missouri.— Wilson v. Gregory, 61 Mo. 421; Stiles v. Smith, 55 Mo. 363; Clark v. Collins, 31 Mo. 260; Bryan v. Mundy, 17 Mo. 556; Hawkins v. Ridenhour, 13 Mo. 125.

Montana.— See In re Higgins, 15 Mont. 474, 39 Pac. 506, 28 L. R. A. 116.

Nebraska.— Ribble v. Furmin, (1904) 98 N. W. 420.

New Jersey.— Petrie v. Voorhees, 18 N. J. Eq. 285.

North Carolina.— Valentine v. Britton, 127 N. C. 57, 37 S. E. 74.

Washington.— Failure to give notice to creditors dispenses with the presentation of a claim within the time limited by statute, but does not dispense with presentation before suit. McFarland v. Fairlamb, 18 Wash. 601, 52 Pac. 239 [explaining Donnerberg v. Oppenheimer, 15 Wash. 290, 46 Pac. 254].

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 806, 808.

29. See North v. Van Tassel, 84 Mich. 69, 47 N. W. 663, holding that an order granted under such circumstances did not operate to prevent an allowance to a decedent's widow for the support of herself and minor children during the progress of settlement.

30. Hawkeye Ins. Co. v. Lisker, 122 Iowa 341, 98 N. W. 127.

31. See Pacific States Sav., etc., Co. v. Fox, 25 Nev. 229, 59 Pac. 4.

32. Pearl v. Conley, 7 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 356.

33. Walker v. Gill, 2 Bailey (S. C.) 105.

34. Collamore v. Wilder, 19 Kan. 67. See also Clawson v. McCune, 20 Kan. 337.

A claimant who presents his claim to the administrator for allowance is estopped by his own act from denying that he had notice of the grant of administration, and in such a case it is immaterial whether publication was made or not. Danzey v. Swinney, 7 Tex. 617.

35. In re Ward, 21 Ohio Cir. Ct. 753, 12 Ohio Cir. Dec. 44.

36. McMillan v. Hayward, 94 Cal. 357, 29 Pac. 774.

37. York's Appeal, 110 Pa. St. 69, 1 Atl. 162, 2 Atl. 65 [overruling In re McCandles, 61 Pa. St. 9; McClintock's Appeal, 29 Pa. St. 360]. See also Keyser's Appeal, 124 Pa. St.

b Sufficiency of Notice and Publication — (i) In General. In jurisdictions where notice to creditors is necessary all the statutory requirements as to the notice and as to the time, place, and manner of its publication must be strictly complied with;[38] but the statutes should be given a construction which will be reasonable, in view of local conditions as to means and facilities for publication,[39] and slight errors and omissions which are not misleading and do not affect the substance of the notice are immaterial.[40] If the statute does not prescribe any particular form, the notice should be made so ample and clear in its terms that it will operate as a warning to creditors.[41] Publication of a notice to creditors in advance of the order directing or regulating the notice is invalid.[42] If the statute imposes upon the personal representative the duty to publish the notice in a newspaper, and does not restrict him in his choice, the selection of the newspaper rests with him.[43] Under a statute providing that the notice shall be published as often as the court or judge shall direct, but not less than a specified number of times in a stated period, the order of the court or judge need not specify the period or frequency of publication unless the court requires more than the minimum fixed by law.[44]

(ii) Statement of Time For Presenting Claims. Although it is better practice for the notice to specify the time for the presentation of claims,[45] this is 80, 16 Atl. 577, 2 L. R. A. 159 [explaining and reaffirming York's Appeal, supra].

38. Pearl v. Conley, 7 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 356; Stiles v. Smith, 55 Mo. 363; Lee v. Patrick, 31 N. C. 135; McLin v. McNamara, 22 N. C. 82.

Calendar and not lunar months are contemplated by the Maryland statute. Glenn v. Hobb, 17 Md. 260.

Notice by a special administrator is of no effect. Pickering v. Weiting, 47 Iowa 242. And where letters pendente lite have been revoked by the grant of letters testamentary or of administration, the new representative should give the statutory notice to creditors, although such notice may have been given by his predecessor. In re Worthington, 54 Md. 359.

Publication in a newspaper printed and published in the county is not a sufficient compliance with a statute requiring advertisement at the court-house and at other public places (McLin v. McNamara, 22 N. C. 82), although it is a substantial compliance with that part of the statute requiring advertisement at other public places (Blount v. Porterfield, 3 N. C. 161).

Newspaper must be printed in English.— Where the statute requires notice to be published in a newspaper the publication must be made in a newspaper printed in the English language, unless the statute makes some exception; and this has been held true, although the decedent was a German and nearly all his business transactions had been made with Germans. In re Ringwald, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 452, 5 Ohio N. P. 496.

A change in the date of publication of a weekly newspaper from a certain day in the week to a subsequent day in the same week does not invalidate a notice published for a certain number of successive weeks as required by statute. Stœver's Appeal, 3 Watts & S. (Pa.) 154.

39. Montelius v. Sarpy, 11 Mo. 237, holding also that under the Missouri statute then in force the publication of the notice of the grant of letters of administration need not be completed within thirty days from the grant of letters but need only be begun in that time.

40. Acre v. Ross, 3 Stew. (Ala.) 288.

41. Amos v. Campbell, 9 Fla. 187; Ellison v. Allen, 8 Fla. 206.

Description of representative.— A notice given by an executor is sufficient, although it describes him as administrator. Finney v. Barnes, 97 Mass. 401.

42. Wise v. Williams, 88 Cal. 30, 25 Pac. 1064; Ribble v. Furmin, (Nebr. 1904) 98 N. W. 420.

Evidence of the mere fact of publication is not sufficient to establish the regularity of the notice under a statute providing that the personal representative shall give such notice as the court or clerk may direct, in the absence of any evidence showing that the publication was made pursuant to any order; and the court will not presume from the mere fact of publication that an order directing publication was made. McConaughy v. Wilsey, 115 Iowa 589, 88 N. W. 1101.

43. Brouse v. Law, 127 Cal. 152, 59 Pac. 384, holding that under Code Civ. Proc. § 1490, giving to the court the power to select a newspaper where no newspaper is published in the county, the power of the court is limited to the case specified, and that the power conferred upon the court to examine the character of a notice that has been published and to adjudge whether or not due publication has been made does not involve the power to designate in the original order the newspaper in which the notice shall be published.

44. Hensley v. Sacramento County Super. Ct., 111 Cal. 541, 44 Pac. 232 [distinguishing Wise v. Williams, 88 Cal. 30, 25 Pac. 1064].

45. May v. Mann, 15 Fla. 553; Amos v. Campbell, 9 Fla. 187; Ellison v. Allen, 8 Fla. 206.

not necessary in the absence of express statutory requirement, but it is sufficient if it calls for presentation "within the time prescribed by law."[46] If, however, the personal representative undertakes to state in the notice the period for presentation, he must do so correctly; and if the notice provides that claims shall be presented within a longer period than that prescribed by statute it is nugatory and claims will not be barred by failure to present them within the statutory period.[47] Under a statute providing for a longer period for presentation where the value of the estate exceeds a certain sum, and requiring the period to be stated in the representative's notice to creditors, if the representative erroneously states a shorter period he does not thereby affect the creditors' rights to present their claims within the longer period.[48]

(III) STATEMENT OF PLACE FOR PRESENTING CLAIMS. Under a statute requiring that the notice shall direct the creditors to present their claims to the personal representative at the place of his residence or business, to be specified in the notice, if the notice states the place for presentation it need not further state that the designated place is the representative's residence or place of business.[49]

c. Waiver of Irregularities. A creditor may waive irregularities in the notice or its publication, by failing to object thereto at the proper time.[50]

d. Proof of Notice. In states where due notice to creditors is a prerequisite to the operation of the non-claim statute, if the personal representative relies on the statute as a bar to a claim of a creditor, he must affirmatively prove that he gave the statutory notice to creditors in the manner and within the time prescribed by law.[51] Publication of the notice may be proved by producing the newspaper containing the same.[52] Some statutes provide that the giving of the statutory notice may be proved by affidavit,[53] but under such a statute the affidavit has been held to be only prima facie evidence; the newspaper in which the notice was published being more satisfactory evidence of its contents,[54] and it has been held that the giving of due notice may be proved by any competent evidence, the affidavit being deemed unnecessary.[55] The California statutes require that an order or decree be made showing that due notice to creditors has been given,[56] and performance of this requirement can be enforced by mandamus;[57] but such an order or decree is not conclusive and may be contradicted by evidence that the publi-

46. May v. Vann, 15 Fla. 553; Fillyau v. Laverty, 3 Fla. 72.

47. Wilson v. Gregory, 61 Mo. 421. See also Brill v. Ide, 75 Wis. 113, 43 N. W. 559.

48. Paterson v. Schmidt, 111 Cal. 457, 44 Pac. 161; In re Loeven, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 203.

Representative's determination of value of estate not binding upon creditors.— Paterson v. Schmidt, 111 Cal. 457, 44 Pac. 161.

49. Douglass v. Folsom, 21 Nev. 441, 33 Pac. 660.

A notice signed by administrators and dated at a certain place sufficiently designates their place of business. Stœver's Appeal, 3 Watts & S. (Pa.) 154.

50. Bush v. Adams, 25 Fla. 809, 6 So. 860; Robertson v. Agricultural Bank, 28 Miss. 237, appearance and failure to object.

51. Pearl v. Conley, 7 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 356; Stiles v. Smith, 55 Mo. 363; Wiggins v. Lovering, 9 Mo. 262.

Presumption of due posting.— Where the probate court issued an order requiring an administrator to give notice of his appointment by advertising in a newspaper and by posting up notifications, and it was proved that he advertised in a newspaper but not that he posted up notifications, the presumption of due compliance with the law was not sufficient to enable the jury to find affirmatively that the administrator had obeyed the order, such a finding being necessary to sustain a title. Hudson v. Hulbert, 15 Pick. (Mass.) 423.

52. Wise v. Williams, 88 Cal. 30, 25 Pac. 1064; Hudson v. Hulbert, 15 Pick. (Mass.) 423, holding also that this may be done without producing evidence showing the newspaper to be genuine, provided that there is no evidence to impeach its genuineness.

53. See Brownell v. Williams, 54 Iowa 353, 6 N. W. 530.

The personal representative is competent to prove the giving of notice, under Iowa Code (1873), § 3698, providing that the proof may be made "by the affidavit of any competent witness." Brownell v. Williams, 54 Iowa 353, 6 N. W. 530.

54. Wise v. Williams, 88 Cal. 30, 25 Pac. 1064.

55. Estes v. Wilkes, 16 Gray (Mass.) 363.

56. Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1492.

57. Hensley v. Sacramento County Super. Ct., 111 Cal. 541, 44 Pac. 232. See also cation was insufficient.[58] It has been held that a statute requiring proof of publication of the notice to be filed with the clerk of the court within a certain time is directory, not mandatory, and that where the publication has in fact been duly made the date of the filing of proof is not jurisdictional.[59] So also the jurisdiction of commissioners to hear and allow claims does not depend upon the making of proof before them that notice to creditors of the hearing and allowance has been published; but if such notice has in fact been published the commissioners may act, although no formal proof thereof is made before them.[60] The statutes requiring that notice be given and proof thereof made are intended for the benefit of creditors, and a residuary legatee, not being a creditor, is not entitled to object at the final settlement that the proof of publication of the notice was irregular, especially where he has not been injured by the irregularity.[61]

8. Notice of Presentation or Filing. In some jurisdictions notice of the filing of a claim in court is required to be given to the personal representative,[62] but in others the filing and entering of the claim constitutes sufficient notice to the representative and prevents the statutory bar, summons, or personal notice to him within the statutory period for filing or presentation not being required for this purpose,[63] although it is required in order to obtain jurisdiction of his person so that the court may adjudicate the claim.[64] Although the statutes do not provide that heirs and distributees shall have notice of claims presented for allowance against the estate, circumstances may exist under which it becomes the legal duty of the representative to give notice to the heirs, distributees, or other persons interested in the estate.[65]

9. Sufficiency of Presentation — a. In General. As a general rule a creditor can exhibit his claim against the estate of his deceased debtor only in the manner indicated by the local statute.[66] A substantial compliance with the provisions of the statute may, however, be sufficient,[67] especially where accepted by the probate court in passing upon the claim;[68] but to constitute a valid presentation the claim must not only be properly brought to the notice of the representative but the creditor must plainly show an intention to look to the deceased debtor's estate for payment.[69]

Johnston v. Napa County Super. Ct., 105 Cal. 666, 39 Pac. 36. See, generally, Mandamus.

58. Wise v. Williams, 88 Cal. 30, 25 Pac. 1064.

59. In re Conant, 43 Oreg. 530, 73 Pac. 1018.

60. Wilkinson v. Conaty, 65 Mich. 614, 32 N. W. 841.

61. In re Conser, 40 Oreg. 138, 66 Pac. 607.

62. Ashton v. Miles, 49 Iowa 564 [distinguishing Noble v. Morrey, 19 Iowa 509]; Baker v. Chittuck, 4 Greene (Iowa) 480.

Service on one of two administrators is sufficient. Clark v. Parkville, etc., R. Co., 5 Kan. 654.

Presentation of judgment.— Compliance with this requirement has been held to be necessary where a judgment is presented to the court for allowance (Gibson v. Vaughan, 61 Mo. 418 [overruled on another point in Johnson v. Beazley, 65 Mo. 250, 27 Am. Rep. 276]), but not where it is presented for classification (Stephens v. Bernays, 119 Mo. 143, 24 S. W. 46; Wernse v. McPike, 100 Mo. 476, 13 S. W. 809 [overruling Wernse v. McPike, 76 Mo. 249; Ewing v. Taylor, 70 Mo. 394; Bryan v. Mundy, 14 Mo. 458]).

63. Wallace v. Gatchell, 106 Ill. 315; Phœnix Ins. Co. v. Guderyahn, 20 Ill. App. 161; Noble v. McGinnis, 55 Ind. 528; Campbell v. Lindlay, 18 Ind. 234.

64. Wallace v. Gatchell, 106 Ill. 315; Hales v. Holland, 92 Ill. 494; Propst v. Meadows, 13 Ill. 157; Foley v. Wallace, 2 Ind. 174.

65. Link v. Link, 48 Mo. App. 345, holding that such circumstances may exist where the personal representative, after assuring the heirs and distributees that he has no claim against the estate, proceeds without their knowledge to present and have allowed a claim in his own favor.

66. Pfeiffer v. Suss, 73 Mo. 245; Burton v. Rutherford, 49 Mo. 255.

67. See Swain's Estate, 67 Cal. 637, 8 Pac. 497; Hammett v. Starkweather, 47 Conn. 439; Smith v. Smith, 3 How. (Miss.) 216; North v. Walker, 66 Mo. 453 [affirming 2 Mo. App. 174]; Hicks v. Jamison, 10 Mo. App. 35.

Placing a file-mark on an envelope containing claims has been held a sufficient filing. Smith v. Goodrich, 167 Ill. 46, 47 N. E. 316 [reversing on other grounds 67 Ill. App. 418].

68. Hicks v. Jamison, 10 Mo. App. 35 [citing Williamson v. Anthony, 47 Mo. 299].

69. Jones v. Peebles, 130 Ala. 269, 30 So. 564; Allen v. Elliott, 67 Ala. 432; Smith v. Fellows, 58 Ala. 467; McDowell v. Jones, 58

b. Statement and Verification of Claims — (i) Statement[70] — (a) In General. The statutes requiring the presentation or filing of claims against a decedent's estate usually expressly provide or clearly contemplate that the claims shall be stated in writing;[71] and even if the statute does not expressly so require, claims against an estate ought properly to be presented in writing.[72] Casual conversations with the personal representative regarding the claim do not amount to a sufficient presentation.[73] In stating a claim no fixed form is ordinarily required, nor is the technical accuracy and certainty of description which is essential in pleading necessary. All that is necessary as a general rule is that the statement shall give to the personal representative notice that a claim exists against the estate, for payment of which the creditor looks to the estate, that the statement shall be so clear and unambiguous as to distinguish the claim with reasonable certainty from all other similar claims, and that it shall give to the personal representative such information concerning the nature and amount of the demand as to enable him to act intelligently in providing for its payment or in rejecting it.[74]

Ala. 25; Dime Sav. Bank v. McAlenney, 76 Conn. 141, 55 Atl. 1019; Hicks v. Jamison, 10 Mo. App. 35; Spaulding v. Suss, 4 Mo. App. 541. See also Culver v. Yundt, 112 Ind. 401, 14 N. E. 91.

"Present" and "exhibit."— In the absence of any special statutory signification the terms "present" or "exhibit" are synonymous and when found in a statute they must be taken to have been used in their ordinary meaning; hence a statute requiring claims against a decedent's estate to be presented or exhibited has been held to mean simply a display or a profert of the claim (accompanied with a proper voucher or affidavit) with a reasonable opportunity to the representative to examine into and determine for himself the justness and validity of the demand. Willis v. Marks, 29 Oreg. 493, 45 Pac. 293. Under the Missouri statute a claim is not "exhibited" to an administrator unless shown with a view to procuring its allowance. An exhibition in the course of negotiations for a compromise is not the exhibition contemplated; nor is a mere delivery of the demand sufficient, nothing being said, done, or written to show the intention to procure an allowance. Neither is exhibiting a claim for classification presenting it for allowance. Pfeiffer v. Suss, 73 Mo. 245.

Requisites of filing.— A claim filed in the office of the probate judge must be brought to the attention of the judge or his clerk within the statutory period; merely placing it in a box appropriated for such papers without the knowledge of the judge or his clerk is insufficient. Phillips v. Beene, 38 Ala. 248. See also Beene v. Phillips, 37 Ala. 312.

70. Right to possession of claim.— Under the Oregon statutes the representative upon presentation of a claim has no right to retain the written evidence of the claim (i. e. the statement and voucher or affidavit) for a longer period of time than will be sufficient for him properly to inspect it and determine upon its justness and validity; while he can retain the claim for a reasonable time, this is the extent of his right and beyond this the creditor is entitled to the possession of the claim and may recover it by an action of replevin. Willis v. Marks, 29 Oreg. 493, 45 Pac. 293.

71. Marshall v. Perkins, 72 Me. 343; Bambrick v. Bambrick, 157 Mo. 423, 58 S. W. 8; Williams v. Gerber, 75 Mo. App. 18; Ulster County Sav. Inst. v. Young, 161 N. Y. 23, 55 N. E. 483 [affirming 15 N. Y. App. Div. 181, 44 N. Y. Suppl. 493]; Niles v. Crocker, 88 Hun (N. Y.) 312, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 761; Matter of Morton, 7 Misc. (N. Y.) 343, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 82; King v. Todd, 15 N. Y. Suppl. 156, 21 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 114. 27 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 149. See also Cruikshank v. Cruikshank, 9 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 350; Robert v. Ditmas, 7 Wend. (N. Y.) 522.

Signature.—Under the Maine statute, while the claim must be in writing it need not be signed by the party making it. Millett v. Millett, 72 Me. 117.

72. Smith v. Fellows, 58 Ala. 467; Bigger v. Hutchings, 2 Stew. (Ala.) 445; Pike v. Thorp, 44 Conn. 450; Ulster County Sav. Inst. v. Young, 161 N. Y. 23, 55 N. E. 483 [affirming 15 N. Y. App. Div. 181, 44 N. Y. Suppl. 493]. But see Lafferty v. Lafferty, 10 Ark. 268; Little v. Little, 36 N. H. 224; Mathes v. Jackson, 7 N. H. 259.

73. Pike v. Thorp, 44 Conn. 450; Matter of Morton, 7 Misc. (N. Y.) 343, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 82.

74. Alabama.— Kornegay v. Mayer, 135 Ala. 141, 33 So. 36; Borum v. Bell, 132 Ala. 85, 31 So. 454; Jones v. Peebles, 130 Ala. 269, 30 So. 564; Parker v. Eufaula Nat. Bank, 121 Ala. 516, 25 So. 1001; Agnew v. Walden, 95 Ala. 108, 10 So. 224, 84 Ala. 502, 4 So. 672; Floyd v. Clayton, 67 Ala. 265; Bibb v. Mitchell, 58 Ala. 657; Smith v. Fellows, 58 Ala. 467; Flinn v. Shackleford, 42 Ala. 202; Harrison v. Jones, 33 Ala. 258; Pollard v. Scears, 28 Ala. 484, 65 Am. Dec. 364; Hogan v. Calvert, 21 Ala. 194; Posey v. Decatur Bank, 12 Ala. 802; Hallett v. Mobile Branch Bank, 12 Ala. 193. See also Ransom v. Quarles, 16 Ala. 437.

Arkansas.— See Lafferty v. Lafferty, 10 Ark. 268.

California.— Etchas v. Orena, 127 Cal. 588, 60 Pac. 45; Faulkner v. Hendy, 123 Cal. 467, 56 Pac. 99; McGrath v. Carroll, 110 Cal.

What will be a sufficient compliance with these requirements must depend largely upon the character of each case and more or less particularity of description will 79, 42 Pac. 466. See also Duncan v. Thomas, 81 Cal. 56, 22 Pac. 297; Swain's Estate, 67 Cal. 637, 8 Pac. 497; Aguirre v. Packard, 14 Cal. 171, 73 Am. Dec. 645.

Connecticut.— Hammett v. Starkweather, 47 Conn. 439 (where the written statement, although somewhat informal, was accompanied by oral explanation); White v. Brown, 19 Conn. 577. The principle stated in the text applies to statement of claims presented to commissioners. Mead's Appeal, 46 Conn. 417. On appeal from the commissioners, however, the requirements, under a rule of court (see 58 Conn. 588) are more strict. See Merwin's Appeal, 72 Conn. 167, 43 Atl. 1055; Donahue's Appeal, 62 Conn. 370, 26 Atl. 399. Prior to this rule all that was necessary was that the claim should be so stated that it could be understood. Corr's Appeal, 62 Conn. 403, 26 Atl. 478 [citing Tolles' Appeal, 54 Conn. 521, 9 Atl. 402; Mead's Appeal, supra; American Bd. Foreign Mission Com'rs' Appeal, 27 Conn. 344; Mills v. Wildman, 18 Conn. 124].

Florida.— Fillyau v. Laverty, 3 Fla. 72.

Illinois.— Thompson v. Black, 200 Ill. 465, 65 N. E. 1092 [affirming 102 Ill. App. 304]; Wells v. Miller, 45 Ill. 33. See also Thorp v. Goewey, 85 Ill. 611, holding that written pleadings are not necessary where a claim is presented for allowance in the county court and that they are not necessary on appeal therefrom.

Indiana.— The statement must contain all the facts necessary to constitute a prima facie cause of action in the claimant's favor due or to become due from the decedent's estate, although a formal complaint under the ordinary rules of pleading is not necessary. Miller v. Eldridge, 126 Ind. 461, 27 N. E. 132; Lockwood v. Robbins, 125 Ind. 398, 25 N. E. 455; Thomas v. Merry, 113 Ind. 83, 15 N. E. 244; Culver v. Vundt, 112 Ind. 401, 14 N. E. 91; Walker v. Heller, 104 Ind. 327, 3 N. E. 114; Moore v. Stephens, 97 Ind. 271; Huston v. Centerville First Nat. Bank, 85 Ind. 21; Hileman v. Hileman, 85 Ind. 1; Davis v. Huston, 84 Ind. 272; Dodds v. Dodds, 57 Ind. 293; Post v. Pedrick, 52 Ind. 490; Ginn v. Collins, 43 Ind. 271; Thompson v. Ristine, 13 Ind. 459; Hannum v. Curtis, 13 Ind. 206; McCulloch v. Smith, 24 Ind. App. 536, 57 N. E. 143, 79 Am. St. Rep. 281; Woods v. Matlock, 19 Ind. App. 364, 48 N. E. 384; Hyatt v. Bonham, 19 Ind. App. 256, 49 N. E. 361; Cooper v. Griffin, 13 Ind. App. 212, 40 N. E. 710; Stewart v. Small, 11 Ind. App. 100, 38 N. E. 826; Parrett v. Palmer, 8 Ind. App. 356, 35 N. E. 713, 52 Am. St. Rep. 479; Doan v. Dow, 8 Ind. App. 324, 35 N. E. 709; Sheeks v. Fillion, 3 Ind. App. 262, 29 N. E. 786; Worley v. Hineman, (App. 1892) 29 N. E. 570; Wolfe v. Wilsey, 2 Ind. App. 549, 28 N. E. 1004; Taggart v. Tevanny, 1 Ind. App. 339, 27 N. E. 511. See also Price v. Jones, 105 Ind. 543, 5 N. E. 683, 55 Am. Rep. 230; Hathaway v. Roll, 81 Ind. 567; Wright v. Jordan, 71 Ind. 1; Niblack v. Goodman, 67 Ind. 174; Ramsay v. Fouts, 67 Ind. 78; Noble v. McGinnis, 55 Ind. 528; Bryson v. Kelley, 53 Ind. 486; Crabb v. Atwood, 10 Ind. 322; Gibbs v. Ely, 13 Ind. App. 130, 41 N. E. 351. The rule that where the complaint is based upon an implied contract a recovery cannot be had on an express contract does not apply to a mere statement of a claim filed against a decedent's estate. Masters v. Jones, 158 Ind. 647, 64 N. E. 213. The personal representative need not be formally made a party to the statement or named therein, especially if he appears and contests the claim. Niblack v. Goodman, 67 Ind. 174; Taggart v. Tevanny, 1 Ind. App. 339, 27 N. E. 511 [distinguishing Wells v. Wells, 71 Ind. 509].

Kansas.— See Hayner v. Trott, 46 Kan. 70, 26 Pac. 415.

Maine.— See Millett v. Millett, 72 Me. 117.

Michigan.— See Grimm v. Taylor, 96 Mich. 5, 55 N. W. 447; Schlee v. Darrow, 65 Mich. 362, 32 N. W. 717, where the claim referred to orders of court rendered on specified dates.

Mississippi.— Henderson v. Ilsley, 11 Sm. & M. 9, 49 Am. Dec. 41; Smith v. Smith, 3 How. 216.

Missouri.— Watkins v. Donley, 88 Mo. 322; Corson v. Waller, 104 Mo. App. 621, 78 S. W. 656; Walker v. Gay, 73 Mo. App. 89; Wood v. Land, 35 Mo. App. 381; Lenk Wine Co. v. Caspari, 11 Mo. App. 382.

Nebraska.— Fitzgerald v. Union Sav. Bank, 65 Nebr. 97, 90 N. W. 994.

Nevada.— See Kirman v. Powning, 25 Nev. 378, 60 Pac. 834, 61 Pac. 1090.

New Hampshire.—Little v. Little, 36 N. H. 224; Tebbetts v. Tilton, 31 N. H. 273. See also Ross v. Knox, 71 N. H. 249, 51 Atl. 910; Mathes v. Jackson, 7 N. H. 259.

New York.— Ulster County Sav. Inst. v. Young, 161 N. Y. 23, 55 N. E. 483 [affirming 15 N. Y. App. Div. 181, 44 N. Y. Suppl. 493]; Niles v. Crocker, 88 Hun 312, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 761; Matter of Morton, 7 Misc. 343, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 82; King v. Todd, 15 N. Y. Suppl. 156, 21 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 114, 27 Abb. N. Cas. 149; Gansevoort v. Nelson, 6 Hill 389. See also Cruikshank v. Cruikshank, 9 How. Pr. 350.

Ohio.— Miller v. Ewing, 68 Ohio St. 176, 67 N. E. 292.

Oregon.— Goltra v. Penland, 42 Oreg. 18, 69 Pac. 925.

Texas.— Gaston v. McKnight, 43 Tex. 619; Cherry v. Speight, 28 Tex. 503; Chandler v. Meckling, 22 Tex. 36; Trigg v. Moore, 10 Tex. 197; Hansell v. Gregg, 7 Tex. 223.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 811.

Where a person files a claim as administrator of another estate he does so in his representative capacity and in favor only of the estate named (Barker v. Thompson, 98 Ill. App. 78); and where a statement of a claim is presented by a person who therein describes himself simply as an administrator, be required according to the nature of the claim.[75] The statement must of course show that a liability exists on the part of the estate and in favor of the claimant,[76] and the claim must be exhibited or presented in its entirety; the creditor has no without naming the estate which he represents or showing whether the claim is in favor of that estate or of himself personally, the presentation is insufficient (Bibb v. Mitchell, 58 Ala. 657).

A misnomer of the decedent in the statement of a claim filed in the office of the probate judge invalidates the presentation, since the statement would not on examination by the representative show that the claim was against the decedent. Halfman v. Ellison, 51 Ala. 543. See also Beene v. Collenberger, 38 Ala. 647. But the fact that a demand is made out against the decedent by name instead of against his estate or his personal representative will not justify a refusal to admit evidence to support it. Coots v. Morgan, 24 Mo. 522.

Statement of consideration.— Where the claim is founded upon a parol promise, the consideration must be stated with such particularity that the court may determine whether it is legally sufficient. Windell v. Hudson, 102 Ind. 521, 2 N. E. 303.

A personal interview between the creditor and the representative is not necessary. Gansevoort v. Nelson, 6 Hill (N. Y.) 389.

The claim may be presented by letter or in any other way which deals fairly with the administrator and the interests which he represents. Gansevoort v. Nelson, 6 Hill (N. Y.) 389. But see Adoue v. Gonzales, 22 Tex. Civ. App. 73, 54 S. W. 367, holding that the mailing of a claim to the personal representative is not such a presentation as is required by Tex. Rev. St. art. 2068.

A motion duly made in the circuit court pursuant to a statute against an administrator to compel him to refund money which had been paid as security for the decedent, and an appearance and resistance of the motion by the administrator, was a sufficient presentation. Smith v. Smith, 3 How. (Miss.) 216.

Where the creditor and the representative entered into a contract in writing in which the creditor's claim against the estate was set forth and described, and the representative bound himself to devote the rents and profits of the decedent's lands to the payment of the claim, it was held that there was a sufficient presentation. Jones v. Peebles, 130 Ala. 269, 30 So. 564.

Immaterial details need not be stated. Thompson v. Oreña, 134 Cal. 26, 66 Pac. 24.

A claim for services of a physician need not allege that the physician was licensed to practice. Cooper v. Griffin, 13 Ind. App. 212, 40 N. E. 710.

The insufficiency of the statement of one or more separate items in a claim does not render the entire claim insufficient. Sheeks v. Fillion, 3 Ind. App. 262, 29 N. E. 786; Taggart v. Tevanny, 1 Ind. App. 339, 27 N. E. 511.

Sufficiency of statement should be questioned by demurrer. Merwin's Appeal, 72 Conn. 167, 43 Atl. 1055.

75. See Floyd v. Clayton, 67 Ala. 265; Bibb v. Mitchell, 58 Ala. 657.

Particulars of unmatured and contingent claims.— Under Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1494, which requires that where an unmatured or contingent claim is presented its particulars must be stated, a claim upon an unmatured promissory note is sufficient if in usual form, containing a copy of the note and being followed by the statutory affidavit. Crocker-Woolworth Nat. Bank v. Carle, 133 Cal. 409, 65 Pac. 951; Landis v. Woodman, 126 Cal. 454, 58 Pac. 857. See also Maurer v. King, 127 Cal. 114, 59 Pac. 290.

Filing or presenting the original note on which the claim is based is sufficient. Floyd v. Clayton, 67 Ala. 265; Price v. Jones, 105 Ind. 543, 5 N. E. 683, 55 Am. Rep. 230. See also Borden v. Fowler, 14 Ark. 471; Lafferty v. Lafferty, 10 Ark. 268; Hansell v. Gregg, 7 Tex. 223, holding a presentation of the original note and the mortgage securing it accompanied by the proper affidavit sufficient.

A notice of the non-payment of a promissory note, personally served on the executor of an indorser of the note, or which is shown to have come to his hands, although it may come from a notary protesting the note, will be sufficient to withdraw the claim from the operation of the statute of non-claim, if it describes the note with accuracy, and informs the personal representative who the holder is and that he looks to the representative for payment. Mobile Branch Bank v. Hallett, 12 Ala. 671. See also Walker v. Wigginton, 50 Ala. 579 (construing Rev. Code, § 2196; Code (1896), § 133, which provides for the filing of a claim in the office of the probate judge instead of presentation); Helm v. Smith, 2 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 403.

Balance of account.— Unless otherwise required by statute a balance struck in an account between parties may be presented as a claim without specifying the particular items of the account. In re Swain, 67 Cal. 637, 8 Pac. 497 [followed in Parker v. Eufaula Nat. Bank, 121 Ala. 516, 25 So. 1001, holding the presentation of a balanced bank book sufficient]. Compare Roethlisberger v. Caspari, 12 Mo. App. 514.

A claim for "services in the care and aiding and support" of decedent's sister and minor children is broad enough to include aid and support by the contribution of money. Grimm v. Taylor, 96 Mich. 5, 55 N. W. 447.

Claim for back taxes.— Under Mo. Rev. St. (1889) §§ 199, 7626, no pleading other than the tax bill need be filed in the probate court on a demand for back personal taxes against the estate of a decedent. State v. Seehorn, 139 Mo. 582, 39 S. W. 809.

76. Alabama.— Cook v. Davis, 12 Ala. 551.

right to divide it into parts and exhibit or present it piecemeal.[77] Under the statutes in some states the statement of the claim takes the place of a petition and must be regarded as a statement of the cause of action; hence the cause of action must be sufficiently set forth in the statement filed.[78] The fact that the statement of the claim is for a larger amount than is due does not justify the exclusion of evidence to prove the actual amount of the debt.[79] Where the statute provides for filing a claim or the statement thereof in the office of the judge of probate, if the creditor properly files his claim or a proper statement thereof, he has discharged his duty, and the fact that the judge in docketing the claim describes it insufficiently cannot affect the creditor's rights.[80]

(B) Necessity For Producing Original Instrument or Copy. Where the claim is founded on a written instrument, such as a bill or note, it is not necessary to present or file the original instrument, unless the statute expressly so requires, if the claim and the instrument are properly and sufficiently described in the statement presented,[81] and the filing or presentation of a copy of the instrument accompanied by the statutory affidavit is generally held sufficient.[82] The presentation of even a copy of the note or other written instrument on which the claim is based is not necessary unless required by statute, but the presentation is sufficient if the claim or note is properly described.[83] Some statutes, however,

Indiana.— Walker v. Heller, 104 Ind. 327, 3 N. E. 114.

Iowa.— Pickrell v. Hiatt, 81 Iowa 537, 46 N. W. 1062.

Maine.— Marshall v. Perkins, 72 Me. 343.

New York.— Bloodgood v. Sears, 64 Barb. 71.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 811.

A note which is payable to a third person and which contains nothing to show that the claimant is its holder, either by indorsement, assignment, or delivery, will not support the claim unless the affidavit shows that the claimant has either a legal or equitable interest in the note. Cook v. Davis, 12 Ala. 551. See also Marshall v. Perkins, 72 Me. 343.

77. Pfeiffer v. Suss, 73 Mo. 245. See also Clawson v. McCune, 20 Kan. 337.

78. Bremer County v. Curtis, 54 Iowa 72, 6 N. W. 135; Baker v. Chittuck, 4 Greene (Iowa) 480; Headley v. Jenkins, 13 Ky. L. Rep. 463, holding that the proof of a claim against a decedent's estate, which the statute requires to be tendered to the personal representative, should show every fact touching its validity which it would be necessary to aver in a petition, and if it does not, the personal representative should refuse payment.

When creditor not a natural person.—Under Iowa Code, § 3338 et seq., requiring claims against an estate to be entitled in the name of the claimant against the administrator of the estate, as such, with the name of the estate, etc., the claimant need not aver in what capacity — whether as a corporation, partnership, or person — it acted in presenting the claim, as is required in ordinary actions by section 3627, unless the pleading is assailed by motion. Chicago University v. Emmert, 108 Iowa 500, 79 N. W. 285.

Representative need not plead.— An Indiana statute providing that creditors shall file statements of their demands in the clerk's office and give notice thereof to the representative was held not to contemplate that a claim thus filed should stand for a declaration to which the representative should be compelled to plead; and therefore it was held that the representative could not be required against his consent to appear and plead to a claim so filed. Stewart v. Cantrall, 6 Blackf. 74.

79. Mead's Appeal, 46 Conn. 417.

80. Floyd v. Clayton, 67 Ala. 265. See also Barbero v. Thurman, 49 Ill. 283.

81. Agnew v. Walden, 95 Ala. 108, 10 So. 224, 84 Ala. 502, 4 So. 672; Flinn v. Shackleford, 42 Ala. 202; Posey v. Decatur Bank, 12 Ala. 802; White v. Brown, 19 Conn. 577. See also Rutherford v. Mobile Branch Bank, 14 Ala. 92.

82. Alabama.— Flinn v. Shackleford, 42 Ala. 202; Rutherford v. Mobile Branch Bank, 14 Ala. 92; Rowdon v. Young, 12 Ala. 234.

Indiana.— Pulley v. Perfect, 30 Ind. 379; Wolfe v. Wilsey, 2 Ind. App. 549, 28 N. E. 1004. See also Crabb v. Atwood, 10 Ind. 322.

Iowa.—Braught v. Griffith, 16 Iowa 26.

New Hampshire.— See Tebbetts v. Tilton, 31 N. H. 273.

Washington.— Olympia First Nat. Bank v. Root, 19 Wash. 111, 52 Pac. 521; McFarland v. Fairlamb, 18 Wash. 601, 52 Pac. 239, holding that where the creditor presents an affidavit setting forth the claim and a copy of the instrument, presentation of the original instrument is unnecessary unless required by the personal representative.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 813.

83. Agnew v. Walden, 84 Ala. 502, 4 So. 672, 95 Ala. 108, 10 So. 224.

Where the claim is based on a judgment it is not necessary that a certified copy of the judgment should be presented as part of the claim unless the statute so provides; although it may be the duty of the representative to expressly require that where the claim is founded upon a written instrument or an account, either the original or a copy must accompany the claim,[84] but such statutes do not apply to cases where the instrument has been lost and no copy can be obtained,[85] or where the instrument is only collaterally involved and is not the basis of the claim;[86] and it has been held that presentation of a copy may be waived by the personal representative.[87]

(c) Necessity For Producing Vouchers.[88] Unless the statute expressly so requires, the creditor need not present vouchers in support of his claim,[89] and if the statute provides that the representative may require satisfactory vouchers, they need not be presented unless the representative makes a request for them.[90]

(d) Special Requirements as to Secured Claims. Provision is made by some statutes whereby a statement of a claim which is secured by a mortgage or other lien which has been recorded shall describe the same and refer to the date, volume, and page of the record.[91] Under such a statute merely presenting a copy of a note which states that it is secured by mortgage is not a sufficient presentation of the mortgage,[92] and has been held to operate as a waiver of the mortgage lien.[93] But a statute providing that if the claim be secured by mortgage or other evidence of lien, the mortgage, etc., or a certified copy from the record shall be attached to the claim and filed therewith, has been held to be merely directory, it being sufficient if the claim is otherwise sufficiently described in the statement;[94] and the creditor's failure to assert his lien in the affidavit authenticating his claim has been held not to constitute a waiver of the lien.[95] require evidence or vouchers sufficient to establish to his satisfaction the justice of the claim. In re Crosby, 55 Cal. 574 (holding that prior to Hittel Gen. Laws, pp. 881–884, a claim based on a judgment might properly consist, so far as presentation was concerned, only of a statement of the material parts of the judgment); Gaston v. McKnight, 43 Tex. 619 (holding that an abstract which properly describes the judgment, its date, amount, parties, etc., and which is accompanied by the affidavit of the holder, is sufficient). See also Ransom v. Quarles, 16 Ala. 437, holding that the certificate of the clerk of the court in which judgment was rendered is sufficient if it substantially describes the judgment, and that the omission to specify the costs is immaterial.

84. Sonoma County Bank v. Charles, 86 Cal. 322, 24 Pac. 1019; Blasingame v. Blasingame, 24 Ind. 86; McCullough v. Smith, 24 Ind. App. 536, 57 N. E. 143, 79 Am. St. Rep. 281; Baker v. Chittuck, 4 Greene (Iowa) 480; Waltemar v. Schnick, 102 Mo. App. 133, 76 S. W. 1053; Roethlisberger v. Caspari, 12 Mo. App. 514.

Mutilated note.— Where the claim is founded on a promissory note which has been mutilated since execution by having the signature torn away and the torn portion lost, the statement of the claim must account for the mutilation and show that the holder is innocent thereof. McCullough v. Smith, 24 Ind. App. 536, 57 N. E. 143, 79 Am. St. Rep. 281.

85. Blasingame v. Blasingame, 24 Ind. 86.

86. Bryson v. Kelley, 53 Ind. 486.

87. Grimes v. Booth, 19 Ark. 224; Grimes v. Bush, 16 Ark. 647; Borden v. Fowler, 14 Ark. 471.

The question of waiver is one of fact to be determined by the jury or by the court sitting as a jury. Grimes v. Booth, 19 Ark. 224; Grimes v. Bush, 16 Ark. 647.

88. The word "voucher" used in the Oreg. Code, § 1131, means the affidavit of the claimant to the effect that the amount claimed is justly due, etc. Willis v. Marks, 29 Oreg. 493, 45 Pac. 293.

89. Gansevoort v. Nelson, 6 Hill (N. Y.) 389.

90. Willcox v. Smith, 26 Barb. (N. Y.) 316; Russell v. Lane, 1 Barb. (N. Y.) 519; Townsend v. New York L. Ins. Co., 4 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 398; Gansevoort v. Nelson, 6 Hill (N. Y.) 389; Morgan v. Bartlette, 3 Ohio Cir. Ct. 431, 2 Ohio Cir. Dec. 244; Olympia First Nat. Bank v. Root, 19 Wash. 111, 52 Pac. 521.

91. Moore v. Russell, 133 Cal. 297, 65 Pac. 624, 85 Am. St. Rep. 166; Worley v. Hineman, (Ind. App. 1892) 29 N. E. 570. See also Culver v. Yundt, 112 Ind. 401, 13 N. E. 91.

Description held sufficient see Moore v. Russell, 133 Cal. 297, 65 Pac. 624, 85 Am. St. Rep. 166; San Diego Consol. Nat. Bank v. Hayes, 112 Cal. 75, 44 Pac. 469.

Description held insufficient see Worley v. Hineman, (Ind. App. 1892) 29 N. E. 570.

92. In re Turner, 128 Cal. 328, 60 Pac. 967; Sonoma County Bank v. Charles, 86 Cal. 322, 24 Pac. 1019.

93. In re Turner, 128 Cal. 328, 60 Pac. 967. Compare Sonoma County Bank v. Charles, 86 Cal. 322, 24 Pac. 1019.

94. Kirman v. Powning, 25 Nev. 378, 60 Pac. 834, 61 Pac. 1090.

95. Ball v. Hill, 48 Tex. 634; Sutherland v. Elmendorf, 24 Tex. Civ. App. 137, 57 S. W. 890.

(E) Amendment. Statements of claims against decedents' estates are generally subject to amendment, provided that substantial justice will be promoted thereby, that the cause of action embraced in the original statement be not changed, that new items be not added, and of course that the original statement contain allegations upon which an amendment may be predicated; such amendments being allowed either under the general statutes relating to amendments of pleadings or under special statutes applicable to claims of creditors in administration proceedings.[96] It seems that the courts can permit a claim to be amended to the same extent as pleadings, and in certain contingencies amendments may be made by the parties without leave of court.[97] In New York the personal representative to whom a claim is presented may require the creditor to make the statement of the claim more definite and certain.[98] If a creditor makes an invalid presentation of his claim, he is not thereby estopped from presenting it in due form within the statutory period;[99] and it has been held that a second presentation of a claim may be treated as an amendment.[1] After the time for presenting or filing claims has expired amendments will not ordinarily be allowed.[2]

(II) VERIFICATION[3]—(A) Necessity—(1) IN GENERAL. It is very generally provided by statute that claims presented or filed against a decedent's estate shall be verified by an affidavit as to their correctness and justness, and such requirements are usually held to be imperative.[4] It has even been held that the

96. Illinois.— McCall v. Lee, 120 Ill. 261, 11 N. E. 522 [affirming 24 Ill. App. 585]; Belleville Sav. Bank v. Bornman, (1886) 7 N. E. 686, (1887) 10 N. E. 552.

Indiana.— Peden v. King, 30 Ind. 181.

Iowa.— Baker v. Chittuck, 4 Greene 480.

Missouri.— Corson v. Waller, 104 Mo. App. 621, 78 S. W. 656.

Nevada.— Kirman v. Powning, 25 Nev. 378, 60 Pac. 834, 61 Pac. 1090, amendment by attaching note and mortgage to claim.

Vermont.— Maughan v. Burns, 64 Vt. 316, 23 Atl. 583.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 817; and, generally, PLEADING.

The amount of the claim may be increased by amendment where the claim is based upon a quantum meruit and its nature and identity are not changed. Maughan v. Burns, 64 Vt. 316, 23 Atl. 583. See also Bogue v. Corwine, 80 Mo. App. 616.

Amendment allowable on appeal.—Corson v. Waller, 104 Mo. App. 621, 78 S. W. 656; Maughan v. Burns, 64 Vt. 316, 23 Atl. 583.

Amendment must not change ground of action. Donahue's Appeal, 62 Conn. 370, 26 Atl. 399. Compare Merwin's Appeal, 72 Conn. 167, 43 Atl. 1055.

97. Wolfe v. Wilsey, 2 Ind. App. 549, 28 N. E. 1004. See also Kirman v. Powning, 25 Nev. 378, 60 Pac. 834, 61 Pac. 1090.

98. Weller v. Weller, 4 Hun 195; Townsend v. New York L. Ins. Co., 4 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 398.

99. Westbay v. Gray, 116 Cal. 660, 48 Pac. 800. See also Warren v. McGill, 103 Cal. 153, 37 Pac. 144.

1. Wolfe v. Wilsey, 2 Ind. App. 549, 28 N. E. 1004. See also Simmons v. Tongue, 3 Bland (Md.) 341.

2. In re Turner, 128 Cal. 388, 60 Pac. 967; Sullenberger's Estate, 72 Cal. 549, 14 Pac. 513; Dickey v. Dickey, 8 Colo. App. 141, 45 Pac. 228. See also Wernse v. McPike, 100 Mo. 476, 13 S. W. 809 [overruling Wernse v. McPike, 86 Mo. 565].

3. For a general discussion of affidavits see AFFIDAVITS, 2 Cyc. 1.

4. Arkansas.— McIlroy Banking Co. v. Dickson, 66 Ark. 327, 50 S. W. 868; Cox v. Phelps, 65 Ark. 1, 45 S. W. 990; Wilkerson v. Gordon, 48 Ark. 360, 3 S. W. 183; Ross v. Hine, 48 Ark. 304, 3 S. W. 190; Alter v. Kinsworthy, 30 Ark. 756; Rogers v. Wilson, 13 Ark. 507.

Illinois.— See Smith v. Goodrich, 167 Ill. 46, 47 N. E. 316 [reversing 67 Ill. App. 418].

Indiana.— Worley v. Hineman, (App. 1892) 29 N. E. 570. As to the earlier Indiana statutes see Smith v. Denman, 48 Ind. 65.

Kansas.— Clawson v. McCune, 20 Kan. 337.

Kentucky.— Leach v. Kendall, 13 Bush 424; Trabue v. Harris, 1 Metc. 597; Hayden v. Kale, 7 Ky. L. Rep. 375. See also Curry v. Bryant, 7 Bush 301.

Maryland.— Dyson v. West, 1 Harr. & J. 567. See also Kent v. O'Hara, 7 Gill & J. 212.

Mississippi.— The code of 1892 requires the affidavit as an indispensable jurisdictional prerequisite to the allowance and registration of the claim. Cheairs v. Cheairs, 81 Miss. 662, 33 So. 414, 60 L. R. A. 549. But under the former statutes the rule was not so strict. See Cheairs v. Cheairs, supra; Sims v. Sims, 30 Miss. 333; Smith v. Smith, 3 How. 216.

New Mexico.— Clancey v. Clancey, 7 N. M. 405, 37 Pac. 1105, 38 Pac. 168, holding that the verification of the claim is essential to the jurisdiction of the probate court and cannot be supplied on appeal.

Oregon.—Zachary v. Chambers, 1 Oreg. 321.

Texas.— Converse v. Sorley, 39 Tex. 515; Gillmore v. Dunson, 35 Tex. 435; Walters v. Prestidge, 30 Tex. 65.

affidavit cannot be waived by the personal representative or dispensed with by the probate court,[5] although where the statute provides merely that such an affidavit may be required by the representative[6] the creditor need not make the affidavit unless the representative requests him to do so.[7] It has also been held that, while the creditor cannot enforce payment unless his claim is properly verified, if objection is taken on that ground, the representative may pay an unverified claim and be allowed credit for the payment, provided that he knows and can prove that the claim is valid, subsisting, and just,[8] especially if the claim has been passed by the probate court;[9] and, where an executor who is also residuary legatee gives bond to pay debts and legacies, he may settle and pay claims at his discretion, subject to objections from no one except the sureties in his bond.[10] In the absence of any statute so providing, a claim against a decedent's estate need not as a rule be verified or authenticated by the oath or affidavit of the claimant,[11] although in a few states local practice, independent of

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 814.

In Iowa the statutory provisions requiring an oath in support of the claim are held to be merely directory and an oath may be administered after the claim is filed. Wile v. Wright, 32 Iowa 451; Goodrich v. Conrad, 24 Iowa 254. See also Moore v. McKinley, 60 Iowa 367, 4 N. W. 768.

In Missouri the statutory requirement for an affidavit in support of the creditor's claim applies only where the creditor presents his demand to the probate court for allowance and has no application to an action in another court. Stiles v. Smith, 55 Mo. 363.

The affidavit entitles the claim to be allowed without further proof if no exception is taken. Flinn v. Shackleford, 42 Ala. 202; Cook v. Davis, 12 Ala. 551.

5. Arkansas.— Cox v. Phelps, 65 Ark. 1, 45 S. W. 990; Alter v. Kinsworthy, 30 Ark. 750; Rogers v. Wilson, 13 Ark. 507. See also Green v. Brooks, 25 Ark. 318. Compare Leake v. Sutherland, 25 Ark. 219.

Kansas.— See Clawson v. McCune, 20 Kan. 337.

New Mexico.— Clancey v. Clancey, 7 N. M. 405, 37 Pac. 1105, 38 Pac. 168.

Texas.— Converse v. Sorley, 39 Tex. 515; Gillmore v. Dunson, 35 Tex. 435.

West Virginia.— See Crotty v. Eagle, 35 W. Va. 143, 13 S. E. 59.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 814.

6. See Matter of Morton, 7 Misc. (N. Y.) 343, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 82; King v. Todd, 15 N. Y. Suppl. 156, 21 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 114, 27 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 149.

7. Willcox v. Smith, 26 Barb. (N. Y.) 316; Russell v. Lane, 1 Barb. (N. Y.) 519; Townsend v. New York L. Ins. Co., 4 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 398; Gansevoort v. Nelson, 6 Hill (N. Y.) 389.

8. Terrell v. Roland, 86 Ky. 67, 4 S. W. 825, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 258. See also Overly v. Overly, 1 Metc. (Ky.) 117, holding that where the personal representative, acting in good faith, has paid an unverified claim, his failure to require an affidavit being a mere oversight, he may subsequently require an affidavit to be made and may thus be entitled to credit for the payment even after an order settling his accounts has been reversed on appeal.

In Mississippi under the earlier statutes the law was as stated in the text (see Cheairs v. Cheairs, 81 Miss. 662, 33 So. 414, 60 L. R. A. 549; Sims v. Sims, 30 Miss. 333; Smith v. Smith, 3 How. 216); but the later statutes expressly forbid the representative to pay unverified claims (Cheairs v. Cheairs, supra).

In New Jersey it was formerly stated that no recognition of a claim by the personal representative or by the probate court could dispense with the requirement that claims be presented under oath and within the statutory period (Lewis v. Champion, 40 N. J. Eq. 959; Gould v. Tingley, 16 N. J. Eq. 501), although it had been decided that where the estate was solvent the representative could pay debts which he was satisfied were just even though the claims were not verified (Kinnan v. Wight, 39 N. J. Eq. 501); but it has been provided by statute (Gen. St. p. 2408; Pub. Laws (1898), p. 739, § 68), that if the personal representative in good faith pays a claim not presented under oath, and the claim is proved to have been a just one, he shall have allowance for the payment if there be sufficient assets to pay the debts of equal degree in full, and that if the assets are not sufficient the representative shall be allowed for the pro rata amount which the creditor would have been entitled to receive if the claim had been presented duly verified (see Freehold First Nat. Bank v. Thompson, 61 N. J. Eq. 188, 48 Atl. 333).

9. Owens v. Collinson, 3 Gill & J. (Md.) 25, holding also that this rule applies where the representative seeks to retain for the amount of his own claim. See also Semmes v. Magruder, 10 Md. 242.

10. Durfee v. Abbott, 50 Mich. 278, 15 N. W. 454. See also Wheeler v. Hatheway, 58 Mich. 77, 24 N. W. 780.

11. Marsh v. Dooley, 52 Cal. 232; Probate Judge v. Hairston, 4 How. (Miss.) 242.

Under the Alabama statutes verification of a claim is required only when presentation is made by filing the claim or a state-any express legislative enactment, requires that such claims be supported by affidavit.[12]

(2) What Claims Must Be Verified — (a) In General.[13] The statutes requiring the verification of claims against a decedent's estate do not apply to demands for which the estate is not directly or properly liable, such as claims arising after the decedent's death and on obligations contracted by the personal representative.[14] It has been held that the claim of a bank seeking to enforce its statutory lien on the stock of a deceased debtor need not be accompanied by the statutory affidavit,[15] but an affidavit has been held necessary to authenticate a claim arising out of an alleged breach of trust by the decedent.[16]

(b) Claims Reduced to Judgment. It has been held that unless the statute expressly so provides, a claim based on a judgment need not be verified,[17] and that, where a judgment has been rendered against an executor or administrator in his representative capacity, the judgment[18] or duly certified copy thereof[19] constitutes a sufficient proof or authentication of the claim on which the judgment is founded. But in some jurisdictions a judgment rendered against the decedent in his lifetime must be verified in the same manner as other claims.[20] Whatever may be the rule as to a domestic judgment, a judgment allowing a claim against the estate in a foreign administration must, when exhibited against the estate in the domestic administration, be accompanied by the affidavit required by the law of the forum.[21]

(c) Claims of State or Municipality. It has been held that a statute requiring verification of claims against the estates of deceased persons does not, in the absence of an expressed intention, include claims of the state or its agents;[22] but on the other hand it has been held that claims of a municipality for unpaid taxes must be verified by the statutory affidavit,[23] except where the taxes have accrued after the decedent's death.[24]

(d) Claims of Personal Representative. In a number of jurisdictions the statutes require that a claim asserted by the personal representative as a creditor shall be supported by his affidavit to the effect that the claim is justly due and unpaid and that there are no offsets, etc.,[25] and the affidavit required of the repre-

ment thereof in the office of the probate judge; a valid presentation may be made to the representative personally without verification by affidavit or otherwise. Peevey v. Farmers', etc., Bank, 132 Ala. 82, 31 So. 466 [followed in Nicholas v. Sands, 136 Ala. 267, 33 So. 815]; Rayburn v. Rayburn, 130 Ala. 217, 30 So. 365. See also Jones v. Pharr, 3 Ala. 283.

12. Brown v. Brown, 45 S. C. 408, 23 S. E. 127; Westfield v. Westfield, 13 S. C. 482; Ex p. Hanks, Dudley Eq. 231. See also Hahnlin's Appeal, 45 Pa. St. 343.

13. Mortgage — Texas statute.— A mortgage is not a "claim for money" within the Texas act of 1848 (Paschal Dig. art. 1095), specifying the manner in which "claims for money," etc., against a decedent's estate shall be verified before presentation to the executor or administrator. Simpson v. Reily, 31 Tex. 298. But see Robertson v. Paul, 16 Tex. 472.

14. Crenshaw v. Duff, 113 Ky. 912, 69 S. W. 962, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 718; Berry v. Graddy, 1 Metc. (Ky.) 553. See also Lucking v. Gegg, 12 Bush (Ky.) 298; Eggen v. Huston, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 235; Polly v. Covington, 10 Ky. L. Rep. 361.

15. McIlroy Banking Co. v. Dixon, 66 Ark. 327, 50 S. W. 868.

16. McIlroy Banking Co. v. Dixon, 66 Ark. 327, 50 S. W. 868 (defalcation by bank cashier); Green v. Brooks, 25 Ark. 318.

17. Marsh v. Dooley, 52 Cal. 232.

18. Smith v. Smith, 3 How. (Miss.) 216. See also Crane v. Moses, 13 S. C. 561.

19. Bradwell v. Wilson, 158 Ill. 346, 42 N. E. 145 [reversing 57 Ill. App. 162]; Darling v. McDonald, 101 Ill. 370.

20. Bayless v. Powers, 62 Iowa 601, 17 N. W. 907; Scroggs v. Tutt, 20 Kan. 271; Curry v. Bryant, 7 Bush (Ky.) 301.

21. Smith v. Goodrich, 167 Ill. 46, 47 N. E. 316 [reversing 67 Ill. App. 418].

22. Arnold v. Com., 80 Ky. 135, motion to recover against the representative of a surety on a bail-bond.

23. Gay v. Louisville, 93 Ky. 349, 20 S. W. 266, 14 Ky. L. Rep. 327. See also Leach v. Kendall, 13 Bush (Ky.) 424.

24. Polly v. Covington, 10 Ky. L. Rep. 361.

25. Hildebrandt's Estate, 92 Cal. 433, 28 Pac. 486; Hood v. Maxwell, 66 S. W. 276, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 1791; Terry v. Dayton, 31 Barb. (N. Y.) 519; Matter of Clapsaddle, 4 Misc. (N. Y.) 355, 24 N. Y. Suppl. 313, Pow. Surr. (N. Y.) 111; Clark v. Clark, 8 Paige (N. Y.) 152, 35 Am. Dec. 676; Williams v. Purdy, 6 Paige (N. Y.) 166; Puckett v.

sentative must, like the affidavit of any other creditor, substantially conform to the statute.[26]

(e) Amended Claims. Where an original statement of a claim is accompanied by the proper affidavit, an amended or additional statement thereafter filed by leave of court need not be supported by another affidavit.[27]

(B) Who May Make Affidavit. Ordinarily the affidavit should be made by the creditor himself,[28] or at least by someone having a legal or equitable interest in the claim asserted;[29] and an affidavit by a third person, such as the creditor's agent or attorney[30] or husband,[31] is not sufficient even when based upon his own knowledge.[32] Likewise where a third person has paid a debt of the decedent and, without showing by independent proof that the payment was made at the decedent's request, seeks reimbursement from the estate, his own affidavit in support of his claim is not sufficient but he must obtain the affidavit of the original creditor.[33] The statutes in some states, however, provide that the affidavit may be made by a third person who is acquainted with the facts to be sworn to and who is otherwise competent to testify,[34] or by the agent or attorney of the claimant.[35] It has been held that a joint claim may be sufficiently verified by the affidavit of one of the joint claimants;[36] but the rule is otherwise where the claim is due to several persons not jointly but severally.[37] It has been held in Delaware that where the claim is in favor of a partnership, all the acting or managing partners must join in making probate of the claim, and therefore a probate by only one of the members of the firm is insufficient unless it appears that the other members are not active partners.[38] Where the claimant is a corporation and the statute does not expressly require a particular officer or agent to make the affidavit, it is properly made by that officer or agent who is most familiar with the facts relating to the debt;[39] but if the statute requires that the McCall, 30 Tex. 457. See also Wood v. Rusco, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 380.

Funds of estate not an "offset."— The fact that the representative holds in his official capacity more money than the amount of his claim against the estate does not preclude his making the affidavit alleging "that there are no offsets" to his claim. Hildebrandt's Estate, 92 Cal. 433, 28 Pac. 486.

26. Matter of Clapsaddle, 4 Misc. (N. Y.) 335, 24 N. Y. Suppl. 313, Pow. Surr. (N. Y.) 111.

27. Pence v. Young, 22 Ind. App. 427, 53 N. E. 1060; Taggart v. Tevanny, 1 Ind. App. 339, 27 N. E. 511. See also Gibbs v. Ely, 13 Ind. App. 130, 41 N. E. 351. Where a creditor who presented to the executor a properly authenticated account for services performed had rendered to the testator in his lifetime an account for the same services but for a smaller amount, it was held that upon rejection of the verified account presented to the executor, the smaller account might be allowed without further verification, and that even if verification were necessary the objection came too late after final judgment. Clark v. Bomford, 20 Ark. 440.

28. Arkansas.—Beirne v. Imboden, 14 Ark. 237.

California.— See Macoleta v. Packard, 14 Cal. 178.

Mississippi.— McWhorter v. Donald, 39 Miss. 779, 80 Am. Dec. 97.

Oregon.— Zachary v. Chambers, 1 Oreg. 321.

South Carolina.— Westfield v. Westfield, 13 S. C. 482.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §816.

29. Cook v. Davis, 12 Ala. 551.

The personal representative of a deceased creditor is of course the proper person to make the affidavit in support of a claim in favor of the deceased creditor's estate. Davis v. Browning, 91 Cal. 603, 27 Pac. 937; Deringer v. Deringer, 6 Houst. (Del.) 64. Where the creditor's administrator is a corporation an affidavit by the proper officer thereof is as valid as an affidavit made by any other administrator. Deringer v. Deringer, supra.

30. Beirne v. Imboden, 14 Ark. 237; Zachary v. Chambers, 1 Oreg. 321; Westfield v. Westfield, 13 S. C. 482. See also Macoleta v. Packard, 14 Cal. 178. Contra, McIntosh v. Greenwood, 15 Tex. 116; Hansell v. Gregg, 7 Tex. 223.

31. McWhorter v. Donald, 39 Miss. 779, 80 Am. Dec. 97.

32. Beirne v. Imboden, 14 Ark. 237.

33. McWhorter v. Donald, 39 Miss. 779, 80 Am. Dec. 97. Compare Winningham v. Halloway, 51 Ark. 385, 11 S. W. 579.

34. Mason v. Bull, 26 Ark. 164.

35. Mason v. Bull, 26 Ark. 164. See also Peter v. King, 13 Mo. 143; Dawson v. Wombles, 104 Mo. App. 272, 78 S. W. 823.

36. Ashley v. Gunton, 15 Ark. 415.

37. Cecil v. Negro Rose, 17 Md. 92.

38. Gregory v. Bailey, 4 Harr. (Del.) 256.

39. Cox v. Higginbotham, 76 S. W. 1079, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1057.

affidavit shall be made by a designated officer, an affidavit by another officer is insufficient.[40]

(c) Who May Take Affidavit — (1) In General.[41] Under a general statutory authority to take affidavits a clerk of court may take the affidavit required by statute to accompany claims against decedents' estates,[42] and commissioners of deeds appointed by the governor to act in other states have authority to take the affidavits necessary to support claims against decedent's estates.[43]

(2) Necessity For Showing Officer's Authority.[44] An affidavit made before a magistrate or other officer of another state must be accompanied by the proper authentication of his official character and authority,[45] but it is otherwise as to commissioners of deeds appointed by the governor to act in other states, as they are officers of the state by whose authority they are appointed, and their official character and authority are matters of which the courts of that state will take judicial notice.[46]

(d) Form and Sufficiency of Affidavit — (1) In General. The statutes usually either expressly require or clearly contemplate that the oath supporting a claim against the decedent's estate shall be in the form of an affidavit in writing;[47] but it has been held that the want of the statutory affidavit may be supplied by the claimant's oath as a witness in open court.[48] Unless the statute or a rule of court requires the affidavit to be signed by the affiant, an affidavit otherwise sufficient is not rendered invalid by the omission of the affiant's signature;[49] but where the statute requires the affidavit to be signed by the party making it, the signature of the affiant is essential to the validity of the presentation.[50] The affidavit must substantially comply with all the material requirements of the statute.[51] Thus where the statute requires the affidavit to be made

40. Lanigan v. North, 69 Ark. 62, 63 S. W. 62.

41. See, generally, Affidavits, 2 Cyc. 9.

42. Lafferty v. Lafferty, 10 Ark. 268 (holding that a statute authorizing judges, justices of the peace, and notaries public to take such affidavits does not exclude the authority of the clerk of court); Etter v. Dugan, 1 Tex. Unrep. Cas. 175.

43. Smith v. Van Gilder, 26 Ark. 527; Kaufman v. Stone, 25 Ark. 336; Hailey v. McGee, 19 Tex. 107; Greenwood v. Woodward, 18 Tex. 1.

44. See, generally, Affidavits, 2 Cyc. 31 et seq.

45. Alter v. Kinsworthy, 30 Ark. 756. See, generally, Affidavits, 2 Cyc. 14 et seq.

46. Smith v. Van Gilder, 26 Ark. 527. See also Kaufman v. Stone, 25 Ark. 336, holding that the certificate and official seal of the commissioner are sufficient evidence of his official character. See Affidavits, 2 Cyc. 32.

47. See Anderson v. Cochran, 93 Tex. 583, 57 S. W. 29; Shelton v. Berry, 19 Tex. 154, 70 Am. Dec. 326.

48. Overly v. Overly, 1 Metc. (Ky.) 117; Kincheloe v. Gorman, 29 Mo. 421. See also Terrell v. Rowland, 86 Ky. 67, 4 S. W. 825, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 258.

49. Mahan v. Owen, 23 Ark. 347 [citing Gill v. Ward, 23 Ark. 16]; Shelton v. Berry, 19 Tex. 154, 70 Am. Dec. 326; Alford v. Cochrane, 7 Tex. 485. See, generally, Affidavits, 2 Cyc. 26.

50. Anderson v. Cochran, 93 Tex. 583, 57 S. W. 29; Lanier v. Taylor, (Tex. Civ. App. 1897) 41 S. W. 516.

51. Alabama.— Dennis v. Coker, 34 Ala. 611; Pickle v. Ezzel, 27 Ala. 623; Cook v. Davis, 12 Ala. 551, holding that the affidavit should show something for which the estate is responsible as a money demand or as ascertained damages.

California.— Perkins v. Onyett, 86 Cal. 348, 24 Pac. 1024.

Delaware.— Lolley v. Needham, 1 Harr. 86, holding that the affidavit must disclose all the credits and that it is not sufficient to refer generally to the books of the decedent.

Kentucky.— Dewhurst v. Shepherd, 102 Ky. 239, 43 S. W. 253, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1260; Leach v. Kendall, 13 Bush 424; Trabue v. Harris, 1 Metc. 597 (holding that "offset" does not include "discount"); Smithson v. Baker, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 494; Hayden v. Kale, 7 Ky. L. Rep. 375; Hansford v. Parrish, 7 Ky. L. Rep. 94.

Maryland.— Cecil v. Negro Rose, 17 Md. 92; Dyson v. West, 1 Harr. & J. 567; Smoot v. Bunbury, 1 Harr. & J. 136, omission to state that creditor had not received any security.

Mississippi.— Cheairs v. Cheairs, 81 Miss. 662, 33 So. 414, 60 L. R. A. 549; McWhorter v. Donald, 39 Miss. 779, 80 Am. Dec. 97.

Texas.— Walters v. Prestidge, 30 Tex. 65; Strickland v. Sandmeyer, 21 Tex. Civ. App. 351, 52 S. W. 87.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 814, 815, 842.

An affidavit made in the debtor's lifetime is clearly insufficient. Wilkerson v. Gordon, 48 Ark. 360, 3 S. W. 183.

by the claimant or some other person who knows that the claim is correct and that it is due, the affidavit must be made upon the affiant's knowledge, and if made "to the best of his knowledge, information, and belief" it is not sufficient.[52] But a substantial compliance with the statute is ordinarily held sufficient and immaterial errors and omissions or slight departures from the strict statutory form will be disregarded.[53] Thus, although the statute requires that the verified

A copy of the affidavit is insufficient, the original is required. Ash v. Clark, 32 Wash. 390, 73 Pac. 351.

Compliance with the statute must appear on the face of the affidavit; a mere statement in the affidavit that the affiant appeared and made oath "according to law" is not sufficient. Evans v. Bonner, 2 Harr. & M. (Md.) 377.

Where there are two affidavits made on different dates, an omission of a substantial averment in the later one is not supplied by the earlier one. Dyson v. West, 1 Harr. & J. (Md.) 567.

Additional affidavit of third person required in Kentucky see Ky. St. § 3870; Dewhurst v. Shepherd, 102 Ky. 239, 43 S. W. 253, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1260; Nutall v. Brannin, 5 Bush (Ky.) 11; Trabue v. Harris, 1 Metc. (Ky.) 597; Hansford v. Parrish, 7 Ky. L. Rep. 94. If the executor or administrator is the only competent witness, his refusal to make the affidavit dispenses with further proof, except the claimant's own oath. Trabue v. Harris, supra.

A statement that the claim is not usurious is required by the Mississippi statute to be incorporated in the affidavit. Cheairs v. Cheairs, 81 Miss. 662, 33 So. 414, 60 L. R. A. 549.

52. Pickle v. Ezzell, 27 Ala. 623 [followed in Dennis v. Coker, 34 Ala. 611]. See also Lanigan v. North, 69 Ark. 62, 63 S. W. 62; Trabue v. Harris, 1 Metc. (Ky.) 597. Compare Prestridge v. Irwin, 46 Ala. 653.

53. Arkansas.— Smith v. Van Gilder, 26 Ark. 527; State v. Collins, 16 Ark. 32. See also Beirne v. Imboden, 14 Ark. 237.

California.— Guerian v. Joyce, 133 Cal. 405, 65 Pac. 972; Griffith v. Lewin, 129 Cal. 596, 62 Pac. 172; Davis v. Browning, 91 Cal. 603, 27 Pac. 937. See also Hall v. San Francisco Super. Ct., 69 Cal. 79, 10 Pac. 257.

Indiana.— Story v. Story, 32 Ind. 137.

Kentucky.— See Cochran v. Germania Nat. Bank, 8 Ky. L. Rep. 790 (erroneous statement of fact not required to be stated by the statute); Thompson v. Bailey, 1 Ky. L. Rep. 321 (holding that where the amount of the claim is left blank in the affidavit, the defect is not fatal if the amount can be ascertained from the record, as from the commissioner's report on file in the case). See also Sherley v. Sherley, 17 S. W. 628, 13 Ky. L. Rep. 565.

Missouri.— Merchants' Bank v. Ward, 45 Mo. 310 [distinguishing Peter v. King, 13 Mo. 143]; Waltemar v. Schnick, 102 Mo. App. 133, 76 S. W. 1053; Lenk Wine Co. v. Caspari, 11 Mo. App. 382.

Montana.— Empire State Min. Co. v. Mitchell, 29 Mont. 55, 74 Pac. 81.

Texas.— Crosby v. McWillie, 11 Tex. 94.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 814, 815.

The use of the word "claimant" instead of "affiant" in the affidavit is immaterial where it appears from the affidavit that the same person is both claimant and affiant. Warren v. McGill, 103 Cal. 153, 37 Pac. 144; Davis v. Browning, 91 Cal. 603, 27 Pac. 937. Aliter where the affidavit is made by the claimant's agent. Perkins v. Onyett, 86 Cal. 348, 24 Pac. 1024, where the affidavit stated that there were no offsets "to the knowledge of the claimant" instead of "to the knowledge of the affiant."

Affidavits held sufficient see Guerian v. Joyce, 133 Cal. 405, 65 Pac. 972; Taggart v. Tevanny, 1 Ind. App. 339, 27 N. E. 511.

Affidavit by officer of corporation held sufficient.— State v. Collins, 16 Ark. 32.

The object of requiring the affidavit of the creditor is not to prove the existence of the debt, as it is not evidence for that purpose, but it is to prevent the exhibition against the estate of claims which are fictitious or which were discharged by the debtor in his lifetime; and also to prevent the allowance of claims against which there exist legal offsets which are known only to the claimant, and which those who are interested in the estate may be unable to establish by legal proof. Williams v. Purdy, 6 Paige (N. Y.) 166. Therefore a claimant is not required to specify in his affidavit an independent demand which is known to the personal representative and which is conceded to be due from the claimant to the estate, but which the administrator may or may not plead as a counter-claim at his option. Osborne v. Parker, 66 N. Y. App. Div. 277, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 894.

The fact that the claimant is a relative of the decedent does not necessitate a stronger verification of his claim than is required of any other creditor. Valentine v. Valentine, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 265.

Irregularities in the affidavit may be waived by the representative's failure to make seasonable and specific objection thereto. Morgan v. Bartlette, 3 Ohio Cir. Ct. 431, 2 Ohio Cir. Dec. 244; Cannon v. McDaniel, 46 Tex. 303 (holding that after allowance and approval the affidavit cannot be impeached except in a direct proceeding); Heath v. Garrett, 46 Tex. 23; Shelton v. Berry, 19 Tex. 154, 70 Am. Dec. 326. See also Etter v. Dugan, 1 Tex. Unrep. Cas. 175. Contra, Alter v. Kinsworthy, 30 Ark. 756. And see Gillmore v. Dunson, 35 Tex. 435; Walters v.

statement filed shall set forth the credits and deductions, if it does not expressly require succinctness and definiteness in stating them, a simple statement of them is sufficient,[54] and may be contained either in the statement of the claim or in the affidavit supporting it.[55] The statutory affidavit reciting that the claim is "justly due" may properly be used to support a claim which is payable at a future day or which while absolute in its obligation is payable upon the happening of some contingency; the word "due" in the affidavit being given the meaning of "owing."[56] Where the affidavit is made by the creditor's agent or attorney it must be shown in some way that the affiant is the agent or attorney, and that he has knowledge or means of knowledge of the facts contained in the affidavit;[57] but unless the statute otherwise provides, the fact of the agency need not appear on the face of the affidavit if it is known to the personal representative,[58] and the fact of the affiant's knowledge or means of knowledge need not be recited in the affidavit but may be shown by evidence aliunde.[59] Some of the statutes, however, allowing the affidavit to be made by a person other than the claimant, require that if this is done the affidavit shall set forth the reason why it is not made by the claimant himself,[60] shall recite that the affiant is the claimant's agent or attorney if such is the case,[61] and shall state that the affiant is cognizant of the facts contained therein.[62] Where the claimant is a partnership, an affidavit which does not show that the affiant is a member of the firm or is acquainted with the facts sworn to is insufficient.[63]

(2) AMENDMENT. In some jurisdictions a defective affidavit supporting a claim against a decedent's estate may be cured by amendment,[64] but a defective affidavit cannot be amended under a statute not enacted until the period for filing or presenting claims has expired.[65]

10. EVIDENCE AS TO PRESENTATION — a. Presumptions. In the absence of proof of the time when a claim was presented against an estate, and of any objection in the probate court that it was not presented within the time limited, it must be presumed that it was presented in due time.[66]

b. Admissions and Part Payment by Representative.[67] Where the personal representative admits or acknowledges that a claim has been duly presented, his admission or acknowledgment is competent evidence of the fact,[68] whether he Prestige, 30 Tex. 65; Lanier v. Taylor, (Tex. Civ. App. 1897) 41 S. W. 516.

54. Miller v. Eldridge, 126 Ind. 461, 27 N. E. 132.

55. Wolfe v. Wilsey, 2 Ind. App. 549, 28 N. E. 1004.

56. Crocker-Woolworth Nat. Bank v. Carle, 133 Cal. 409, 65 Pac. 951. See also Cassatt v. Vogle, 12 Mo. App. 323; Barto v. Stewart, 21 Wash. 605, 59 Pac. 480.

57. Peter v. King, 13 Mo. 143.

58. Heath v. Garrett, 46 Tex. 23. See also Hanna v. Fisher, 95 Ind. 383.

59. Dawson v. Wombles, 104 Mo. App. 272, 78 S. W. 823.

60. Perkins v. Onyett, 86 Cal. 348, 24 Pac. 1024. The requirements of such a statute are satisfied by an affidavit made by one of the claimant's attorneys, stating that the claimant is a corporation and that none of its officers except its attorneys reside in the county. Empire State Min. Co. v. Mitchell, 29 Mont. 55, 74 Pac. 81.

61. Dawson v. Wombles, 104 Mo. App. 272, 78 S. W. 823.

62. Strickland v. Sandmeyer, 21 Tex. Civ. App. 351, 52 S. W. 87. See also Perkins v. Onyett, 86 Cal. 348, 24 Pac. 1024.

63. Lanigan v. North, 69 Ark. 62, 63 S. W. 62.

64. Walker v. Wigginton, 50 Ala. 579; Chadwell v. Chadwell, 98 Ky. 643, 33 S. W. 1118; Dawson v. Wombles, 104 Mo. App. 272, 78 S. W. 823; Lonkey v. Powning, 25 Nev. 428, 62 Pac. 235. See also Fox v. Lawson, 44 Ala. 319. Contra, Alter v. Kinsworthy, 30 Ark. 756.

65. Dennis v. Coker, 34 Ala. 611.

66. Oakes v. Buckley, 49 Wis. 592, 6 N. W. 321. See also Francis v. Williams, 14 Tex. 158.

67. See, generally, EVIDENCE, 16 Cyc. 1036, 1037.

68. Grimball v. Mastin, 77 Ala. 553; Pharis v. Leachman, 20 Ala. 662; Starke v. Keenan, 5 Ala. 590. See also Brown v. Brown, 56 Conn. 249, 14 Atl. 718, 7 Am. St. Rep. 307.

An admission that a demand is a subsisting debt against the estate is equivalent to an admission that it is an enforceable liability of the estate; i. e. one not barred by the statute of non-claim. Grimball v. Mastin, 77 Ala. 553; Pharis v. Leachman, 20 Ala. 662. See also Frazier v. Praytor, 36 Ala. 691; Mathes v. Jackson, 7 N. H. 259, admission that claim was due, and promise to pay.

made it before or after the expiration of the statutory period for presentation, if he was then the acting personal representative,[69] and the competency of this evidence is not impaired by his subsequent resignation.[70] But it has been held that where an administrator makes a report of insolvency, founded on his knowledge of claims, the report does not indicate that a claim included therein has been duly presented, although on the basis of this report the estate is declared insolvent.[71] A part payment made by the representative after the expiration of the period limited for presenting claims is a fact tending to show that the claim was duly presented.[72]

c. Best and Secondary Evidence. Where the fact of due presentation or filing of a claim is a matter properly appearing of record in the probate court, the record is the appropriate medium of proof under the best evidence rule, and unless the record evidence is produced or its absence explained, parol evidence is not admissible.[73]

d. Weight and Sufficiency of Evidence. In cases tried before a jury the sufficiency of the evidence to establish the due presentation of a claim against a decedent's estate is a matter solely for the jury's determination.[74] An indorsement on an instrument on which the claim is founded to the effect that the claim was presented to the personal representative at a certain date which was within the statutory period, it being shown that the claimant was the sole owner of the instrument, has been held sufficient evidence of presentation.[75] Where defendants claim the benefit of the statute of non-claim by way of plea, but do not positively deny in their answer the presentation of complainant's demand, proof of presentation by one witness is sufficient.[76]

11. Withdrawal of Claim. Where the statute provides that a claim may be presented by filing it or a statement thereof in the office of the judge of probate, the claim or statement filed must remain on file during the rest of the statutory period, and if the creditor after filing the claim withdraws it, and does not leave in its place a proper statement or restore the claim to the files, his act operates as an abandonment of the presentation, as otherwise the personal representative might be misled or deceived;[77] but the withdrawal of the statement of a claim for a mere temporary purpose and under such circumstances that no inference Admissions or acknowledgments by one of several representatives are equally competent. Starke v. Keenan, 5 Ala. 590.

Against whom admission is competent.— Where the suit is in chancery, for the purpose of subjecting to the payment of the intestate's debts property which is standing in the name of a trustee for the benefit of his wife and children, and which is alleged to have been purchased by the intestate with his individual means, and fraudulently added to the trust estate, the admission by the administrator of the presentation of the complainant's demand is evidence not only against the administrator, but also against the cestuis que trustent. Pharis v. Leachman, 20 Ala. 662.

69. Grimball v. Mastin, 77 Ala. 553; Pharis v. Leachman, 20 Ala. 662.

70. Starke v. Keenan, 5 Ala. 590. See also Grimball v. Mastin, 77 Ala. 553.

71. McDowell v. Jones, 58 Ala. 25. Contra, Pharis v. Leachman, 20 Ala. 662.

72. Pharis v. Leachman, 20 Ala. 662. See also Francis v. Williams, 14 Tex. 158.

Payment of interest by representative who is sole legatee and devisee.— Where a personal representative, who was also sole legatee and devisee, paid interest on a mortgage note after the expiration of the period for presentation, some of the payments being made after the settlement of the estate, and the mortgage was afterward discovered to be void for want of title in the deceased mortgagor, it was held that the payments constituted no evidence of due presentation of the claim, but were more in consonance with an intention of the parties to continue the loan and not have it paid out of the estate in settlement. Dime Sav. Bank v. McAlenney, 76 Conn. 141, 55 Atl. 1019.

73. Kornegay v. Mayer, 135 Ala. 141, 33 So. 36 (docket entry); Franklin v. Brownson, 2 Tyler (Vt.) 103 (commissioners' report containing list of claims presented). See Evidence, 17 Cyc. 466, 471, 497, 500.

Even the testimony of the probate judge is inadmissible. Kornegay v. Mayer, 135 Ala. 141, 33 So. 36.

74. Frazier v. Praytor, 36 Ala. 691.

Evidence held sufficient to show due filing see Carhart v. Clark, 31 Ala. 396.

75. Rayburn v. Rayburn, 130 Ala. 217, 30 So. 365.

76. Pharis v. Leachman, 20 Ala. 662.

77. Floyd v. Clayton, 67 Ala. 265. See also Wernse v. McPike, 100 Mo. 476, 13 S. W. 809.

of an intention to abandon the claim can arise does not affect the rights acquired by the creditor through the presentation or filing,[78] and where the claim presented is the result of a compromise agreement with the representative, which is afterward repudiated by him, the creditor may withdraw the claim and substitute another for the amount justly due, although the latter claim is for a greater amount than the former.[79]

12. Effect of Failure to Make Due Presentation[80] — a. In General. Under the statutes of many states a claim not presented within the statutory period is, as between the creditor and the estate, forever barred and extinguished both as to the remedy and as to the right;[81] but in other states the failure to present a claim within the statutory period does not of itself absolutely bar the claim, but precludes the creditor from participating in the inventoried assets of the estate and confines him to uninventoried assets afterward discovered,[82] while in still others the creditor who has not duly presented his claim is merely postponed to creditors whose claims have been duly presented, and if assets have been paid out he can obtain payment only out of the residue, if any,[83] or if the estate has been distributed he loses his remedy against the personal representative and can look only to the property in the hands of the distributees.[84] Where a claim has not been presented within the statutory period, it cannot thereafter be allowed either in a court of original jurisdiction[85] or on appeal,[86] unless a special statute grants relief from the consequences of the delay and the remedy provided has been duly taken.[87] The creditor's failure to present his demand within the time prescribed by the statute has been held to prevent him from compelling legatees to refund if sufficient assets to pay the claim were retained by the executor, and this although the assets retained have subsequently been wasted or have become unavailable and the executor is insolvent.[88] Where the delay of a creditor in presenting his

78. Clough v. Ide, 107 Iowa 669, 78 N. W. 697 (claim withdrawn for purpose of preparing petition for its allowance and returned); Braught v. Griffith, 16 Iowa 26 (note withdrawn from files for purpose of suing other parties).

79. Bogue v. Corwine, 80 Mo. App. 616.

80. See also Descent and Distribution, 14 Cyc. 210 note 46; and, generally, Wills.

As to secured claims see supra, X, B, 2, g.

Failure to present as affecting right of action against representative see infra, XIV, B, 1, b.

Questions of suretyship.—For the creditor's failure to present his claim as affecting the rights of a surety and the creditor's right of subrogation to securities held by the surety for indemnity see Principal and Surety.

81. Alabama.— Allen v. Elliott, 67 Ala. 432; Yniestra v. Tarleton, 67 Ala. 126; McDowell v. Jones, 58 Ala. 25; Halfman v. Ellison, 51 Ala. 543; Decatur Branch Bank v. Hawkins, 12 Ala. 755; Thrash v. Sumwalt, 5 Ala. 13. See also Badger v. Kelly, 10 Ala. 944. Compare Walker v. Crews, 73 Ala. 412.

Connecticut.— Cone v. Dunham, 59 Conn. 145, 20 Atl. 311, 8 L. R. A. 647; Brown v. Reed, 2 Root 189; Painter v. Smith, 2 Root 142; Fanning v. Coit, Kirby 423.

Missouri.—Beekman v. Richardson, 150 Mo. 430, 51 S. W. 689; Richardson v. Harrison, 36 Mo. 96; State v. Browning, 102 Mo. App. 455, 76 S. W. 719; Price v. McCause, 30 Mo. App. 627. See also Waltemar v. Schnick, 102 Mo. App. 133, 76 S. W. 1053; Wilks v. Murphy, 19 Mo. App. 221.

Nebraska.— Fitzgerald v. Chariton First Nat. Bank, 64 Nebr. 260, 89 N. W. 813; Stichter v. Cox, 52 Nebr. 532, 72 N. W. 848; Huebner v. Sesseman, 38 Nebr. 78, 56 N. W. 697.

New Hampshire.— Chapman v. Gale, 32 N. H. 141; Gookin v. Sanborn, 3 N. H. 491.

Tennessee.— Hooper v. Bryant, 3 Yerg. 1.

Vermont.— Probate Ct. v. Gale, 47 Vt. 473; Soule v. Benton, 44 Vt. 309; Briggs v. Thomas, 32 Vt. 176.

Wisconsin.— Pereles v. Leiser, 119 Wis. 347, 96 N. W. 799; Fields v. Mundy, 106 Wis. 383, 82 N. W. 343, 80 Am. St. Rep. 39; Austin v. Saveland, 77 Wis. 108, 45 N. W. 955; Carpenter v. Murphey, 57 Wis. 541, 15 N. W. 798. See also Winter v. Winter, 101 Wis. 494, 77 N. W. 883.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 829.

82. See infra, X, B, 12, c.

83. See infra, X, B, 12, c.

84. Hood v. Hood, 80 Ky. 39; Stull v. Davidson, 12 Bush (Ky.) 167; Brown v. Forsche, 43 Mich. 492, 5 N. W. 1011; Smith's Estate, 1 Ashm. (Pa.) 352; Bledsoe v. Beiler, 66 Tex. 437, 1 S. W. 164.

85. McGee v. McDonald, 66 Mich. 628, 33 N. W. 737; Fitzgerald v. Chariton First Nat. Bank, 64 Nebr. 260, 89 N. W. 813; Farrow v. Nevin, 44 Oreg. 496, 75 Pac. 711. See also Wilks v. Murphy, 19 Mo. App. 221.

86. McGee v. McDonald, 66 Mich. 628, 33 N. W. 737; Fitzgerald v. Chariton First Nat. Bank, 64 Nebr. 260, 89 N. W. 813.

87. See infra, X, B, 12, b, (II).

88. Miller v. Mitchell, Bailey Eq. (S. C.) 437.

claim does not defeat but merely defers his right to payment, he is still entitled to require of the personal representative a proper administration of the estate,[89] and to contest the settlement of the representative's accounts.[90] The fact that a claim based upon a bond was not presented within the required time has been held to be no evidence that the execution of the bond was procured through fraud or mistake.[91]

b. Excuses and Relief — (i) In General. It may be stated broadly that, according to the weight of authority, a creditor cannot be excused for failure to present his claim, and cannot be relieved of the consequences of his neglect, unless granted indulgence by virtue of some statutory provision.[92]

(ii) Statutory Provisions. In a number of states there are statutes providing either expressly[93] or by implication[94] that in proper cases the court or a judge thereof may extend the time for the presentation of claims of creditors against a decedent's estate.[95] Such a statute does not affect the operation of the general statute of limitations but merely gives the claimant an opportunity to present

89. Harpending v. Daniels, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 858.

90. Martine's Estate, 11 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 50.

91. Johnston v. Derr, 110 N. C. 1, 14 S. E. 641.

92. See Burckhartt v. Helfrich, 77 Mo. 376; and see supra, X, B, 4, c.

Relief in equity.— In the absence of statutory authority a court of equity will not interpose to grant relief to a creditor whose claim is barred by his neglect to comply with the statute of non-claim. Beekman v. Richardson, 150 Mo. 430, 51 S. W. 689; Bauer v. Gray, 18 Mo. App. 173. See also Smith v. Smith, 174 Ill. 52, 50 N. E. 1083, 43 L. R. A. 403 [affirming 63 Ill. App. 534]; Blanchard v. Williamson, 70 Ill. 647. Compare Sugar River Bank v. Fairbank, 49 N. H. 131.

The fact that a creditor expects to receive as a legacy under the decedent's will a greater sum than the amount of his claim does not relieve him from the necessity of duly presenting his claim, and does not remove the statutory bar when it has once attached. Gordon v. Ballentine, 50 Ala. 99.

A previous professional engagement of the creditor's attorneys does not constitute an excuse for failure to present or file his claim within the statutory period. Roberts v. Spencer, 112 Ind. 85, 13 N. E. 129.

An unauthorized discharge of the personal representative before settlement of the estate, the order being a nullity, does not excuse a creditor's failure to exhibit his claim. Blanchard v. Williamson, 70 Ill. 647.

The creditor's ignorance of the debtor's death does not afford a sufficient excuse. Beekman v. Richardson, 150 Mo. 430, 51 S. W. 689.

93. Michigan.— Heavenrich v. Nichols, 113 Mich. 508, 71 N. W. 852; McGee v. McDonald, 66 Mich. 628, 33 N. W. 737; Hart v. Shiawassee Cir. Judge, 56 Mich. 592, 23 N. W. 326; People v. Monroe County Probate Judge, 16 Mich. 204.

Minnesota.— Hunt v. Burns, 90 Minn. 172, 95 N. W. 1110; St. Croix Boom Corp. v. Brown, 47 Minn. 281, 50 N. W. 197; Gibson v. Brennan, 46 Minn. 92, 48 N. W. 460; Massachusetts Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Elliot, 24 Minn. 134.

Nebraska.— Ribble v. Furmin, (1904) 98 N. W. 420; Fitzgerald v. Chariton First Nat. Bank, 64 Nebr. 260, 89 N. W. 813.

New Hampshire.— Parker v. Gregg, 23 N. H. 416.

New Jersey.— Freehold First Nat. Bank v. Thompson, 61 N. J. Eq. 188, 48 Atl. 333.

Vermont.— Sleeper v. Gould, 53 Vt. 111.

Wisconsin.— Brill v. Ide, 75 Wis. 113, 43 N. W. 559; Tredway v. Allen, 20 Wis. 475; Boyce v. Foote, 19 Wis. 199.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 800.

94. In California where the period for presenting claims begins to run from the publication of a notice to creditors, the notice being published by order of the court or a judge thereof, if, upon proof of the publication, the judge determines that the publication has not given proper notice to creditors he may, within the period limited, direct a new notice to be given as though there had been no previous attempt to do so, and in such a case the time for the presentation of claims begins to run only from the giving of the new notice. But where the court recognizes that a publication already made gives notice, although in the opinion of the judge not the best notice, the judge cannot, after the expiration of the time for presentation, extend that time by ordering additional notice, but will be compelled to sign an order or decree showing that due notice to creditors has been given. Johnston v. Napa County Super. Ct., 105 Cal. 666, 39 Pac. 36.

95. Unauthorized presentation.— A creditor whose claim has been presented without his authority and has been disallowed is nevertheless "a creditor who has failed to present his claim," within the meaning of a statute authorizing an extension of time for such creditors. Whitcomb v. Davenport, 63 Vt. 656, 22 Atl. 723.

An extension to enable an heir to contest a creditor's claim is not authorized by a statute allowing an extension of time for creditors to prove claims. Graves v. Graves, 58 N. H. 24.

and litigate his claim, subject to all legal defenses which may have attached thereto.[96] Whether these statutes are mandatory or vest a purely discretionary power in the court or judge appears not to be very definitely settled.[97] Good cause must be shown for the extension of time, and the court should consider all the attendant circumstances, including the conduct of the creditor and the condition of the estate,[98] and the diligence of the creditor not only in endeavoring to present his claim within the statutory period but also in applying for the extension.[99] Some of the statutes moreover provide that extensions shall not be granted after a certain period from the expiration of the time originally limited for presenting claims.[1] The special proceedings pointed out by the statute for extending 96. Briggs v. Thomas, 32 Vt. 176.

97. In Michigan the granting of an extension of time under Howell St. § 5893, is within the discretion of the probate judge, and when the period for presentation has expired he cannot be compelled by mandamus to extend it. People v. Monroe County Probate Judge, 16 Mich. 204. But the revival of the commission under Howell St. § 5894, before the estate is closed, is a matter of right, not of discretion, and can be enforced by mandamus. Heavenrich v. Nichols, 113 Mich. 508, 71 N. W. 852; Hart v. Shiawassee County Cir. Judge, 56 Mich. 592, 23 N. W. 326.

In Minnesota it has been held that the statute is mandatory where good cause is shown for the exercise of the power. Massachusetts Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Elliot, 24 Minn. 134. See also State v. Polk County Probate Ct., 79 Minn. 257, 82 N. W. 580. Compare St. Croix Boom Corp v. Brown, 47 Minn. 281, 50 N. W. 197; Gibson v. Brennan, 46 Minn. 92, 48 N. W. 460.

In Nebraska the discretion of the county court with respect to belated claims is the same kind of discretion that a court of equity has in actions for the specific performance of contracts; it is not to be arbitrarily exercised, but when proper and timely application is made and good cause is shown, the court must extend the time as the circumstances of the case may require. Ribble v. Furmin, (Nebr. 1904) 98 N. W. 420.

98. See State v. Polk County Probate Ct., 79 Minn. 257, 82 N. W. 580; State v. Rock County Probate Ct., 67 Minn. 51, 69 N. W. 609, 908; St. Croix Boom Corp. v. Brown, 47 Minn. 281, 50 N. W. 197; Gibson v. Brennan, 46 Minn. 92, 48 N. W. 460; State v. Ramsey County Probate Ct., 42 Minn. 54, 43 N. W. 692; In re Mills, 34 Minn. 296, 25 N. W. 631; Fitzgerald v. Chariton First Nat. Bank, 64 Nebr. 260, 89 N. W. 813.

When extension proper.— The probate court should extend the time for presentation of claims, so as to allow a claimant who has used due diligence to file his claim, where such extension will not delay the settlement of the estate, even though the claim has already been presented and allowed in the state of decedent's residence. State v. Rock County Probate Ct., 67 Minn. 51, 69 N. W. 609, 908. Where a claim founded on a foreign judgment had been presented, but had been disallowed on the ground that the judgment was void for want of jurisdiction, and an application was made in due time thereafter to obtain an extension of time within which to present a claim based upon the original demand upon which the judgment was founded, it was held that the application ought to have been granted. Smith v. Grady, 68 Wis. 215, 31 N. W. 477.

Judicial discretion.—Whether good cause is shown is to a certain extent within the sound discretion of the court. Gibson v. Brennan, 46 Minn. 92, 48 N. W. 460; In re Mills, 34 Minn. 296, 25 N. W. 631; Ribble v. Furmin, (Nebr. 1904) 98 N. W. 420. See also State v. Polk County Probate Ct., 79 Minn. 257, 82 N. W. 580. And the decision of the court will not be disturbed on review by a higher court unless there has been an abuse of discretion. Gibson v. Brennan, 46 Minn. 92, 48 N. W. 460. But where the court in refusing an application for extension exceeds the limits of a sound and just discretion, its judgment will be reversed. Smith v. Grady, 68 Wis. 215, 31 N. W. 477. See also State v. Polk County Probate Ct., 79 Minn. 257, 82 N. W. 580; Ribble v. Furmin, (Nebr. 1904) 98 N. W. 420.

99. St. Croix Boom Corp. v. Brown, 47 Minn. 281, 50 N. W. 197; Gibson v. Brennan, 46 Minn. 92, 48 N. W. 460; State v. Ramsay County Probate Ct., 42 Minn. 54, 43 N. W. 692 (refusal of application for second extension of time); Massachusetts Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Elliot, 24 Minn. 134.

The same strictness of proof is not required as where an application is made to obtain relief from a default in a civil action. State v. Rock County Probate Ct., 67 Minn. 51, 69 N. W. 609, 908; In re Mills, 34 Minn. 296, 25 N. W. 631.

1. Fitzgerald v. Chariton First Nat. Bank, 64 Nebr. 260, 89 N. W. 813 [criticizing Tredway v. Allen, 20 Wis. 475]; Gardner v. Callaghan, 61 Wis. 91, 20 N. W. 685, holding, however, that where the county court has failed to comply with Rev. St. § 3829, in giving notice of the time for presentation of claims it may remedy this error by extending the time, even though more than the prescribed period has elapsed from the time originally limited, inasmuch as Rev. St. § 3840, which prohibits extensions after the expiration of a certain period does not apply if the original order is invalid. Compare Tredway v. Allen, 20 Wis. 475, decided under an earlier statute.

Under the Vermont statutes the application to the probate court to renew the com-

the time must be duly taken or a claim not presented within the regular period cannot be allowed.[2] Under some of the statutes the personal representative and other persons interested have the right to appear and contest the application for the reopening or revivor of the commission and for the extension of the time of presentation,[3] but unless otherwise provided by statute it is not necessary to give notice to the personal representative before granting an order of extension.[4] Upon an application to the probate court for the revivor of a commission or upon an application for mandamus to compel such revivor, the merits of the claim for which the revivor is sought are not open for investigation.[5] Where a commission on claims has been revived the failure of the commissioners to meet, take final action, and make their report within the time fixed by the order does not defeat the claims of creditors.[6] Where an order extending the time for exhibiting claims to the commissioner has been granted after an order accepting the commissioner's first report, the probate court can vacate the order of acceptance.[7] The Iowa statutes permit claims to be filed and proved after the expiration of the statutory period where peculiar circumstances entitle the claimant to equitable relief.[8] There appears to have been no rule adopted as to the facts necessary to arrest the operation of the statute, and each case must be considered largely upon its own merits;[9] but a claimant seeking this exemption from the statutory bar must show mission and extend the time for presenting claims must, where there is no question as to notice to the creditor, be made within six months after the expiration of the time previously limited, and cannot be made at any time during the settlement of the estate. Sleeper v. Gould, 53 Vt. 111. See also Whitcomb v. Davenport, 63 Vt. 656, 22 Atl. 723.

Averment in petition.— Ordinarily it is not necessary that the petition for the extension should aver that it was filed within the required time. Where there is nothing in the record before a reviewing court to preclude the possibility that the fact of due filing appeared and was acted upon in the court of original jurisdiction, the reviewing court will not deprive the petitioner of his remedy because of his omission to allege the fact. Whitcomb v. Davenport, 63 Vt. 656, 22 Atl. 723.

For the proper procedure on appeal where the record does not show that the petition for extension was presented within the required time see Whitcomb v. Davenport, 63 Vt. 656, 22 Atl. 723.

2. McGee v. McDonald, 66 Mich. 628, 33 N. W. 737; Fitzgerald v. Chariton First Nat. Bank, 64 Nebr. 260, 89 N. W. 813, holding that this is true whether the allowance is sought in the county court or on appeal to the district court. See also Hunt v. Burns, 90 Minn. 172, 95 N. W. 1110.

3. McGee v. McDonald, 66 Mich. 628, 33 N. W. 737.

4. Parker v. Gregg, 23 N. H. 416. See also Heavenrich v. Nichols, 113 Mich. 508, 71 N. W. 852.

5. Hart v. Shiawassee County Cir. Judge, 56 Mich. 592, 23 N. W. 326.

6. Heavenrich v. Nichols, 113 Mich. 508, 71 N. W. 852.

7. Parker v. Gregg, 23 N. H. 416.

8. See Schlutter v. Dahling, 100 Iowa 515, 69 N. W. 884; Ury v. Bush, 85 Iowa 698, 52 N. W. 666; Brewster v. Kendrick, 17 Iowa 479.

Whether the remedy would be equitable rather than legal is not material, and it makes but little difference whether the claim in its origin was legal or equitable; but the court must determine from the circumstances, rather than from the character of the remedy, whether the facts are such as to excuse the delay and whether consistently with the interest of the estate the claim should be audited and paid. In considering this question, however, equitable principles, rather than strict rules of law, are regarded as controlling. Brewster v. Kendrick, 17 Iowa 479.

The representative need not prove the date of his appointment where the claimant pleads excuse for not filing a claim in time. Manning v. Stout, 93 Iowa 233, 61 N. W. 963.

Mode of trial.— Where a claimant seeks to prove his claim after the expiration of the statutory period the court should first determine whether the circumstances are such as in equity should remove the bar of the statute, and if this question is determined in favor of the claimant the case should be disposed of in the same manner as cases arising on other claims; and issues of fact must be tried by a jury unless a jury is waived. Lamm v. Sooy, 79 Iowa 593, 44 N. W. 893. See also Ingham v. Dudley, 60 Iowa 16, 4 N. W. 82.

9. Hawkeye Ins. Co. v. Lisker, 122 Iowa 341, 98 N. W. 127; Ury v. Bush, 85 Iowa 698, 52 N. W. 666; Lamm v. Sooy, 79 Iowa 593, 44 N. W. 893; Roaf v. Knight, 77 Iowa 506, 42 N. W. 433; Johnston v. Johnston, 36 Iowa 608; Brewster v. Kendrick, 17 Iowa 479.

The fact that a creditor permitted a sale of property on which he held a chattel mortgage, believing that there was plenty of property to pay the debts of the estate, is immaterial. Colby v. King, 67 Iowa 458, 25 N. W. 704.

the exercise of proper diligence.[10] The fact that the estate is solvent and unsettled when the claim is filed is an important consideration in determining whether the delay should be excused;[11] but this fact alone is not sufficient,[12] and after final settlement of the estate a belated claimant should be held to very strict proof of equitable circumstances to warrant the allowance of his claim, especially where he knew all the time of the circumstances on which he relies and of the debtor's death.[13] That negotiations have been had with the personal representative or his attorney for the purpose of effecting a settlement of the claim is also an important consideration, and where the delay has been caused by statements or requests of the personal representative and by his promise to pay the claim a sufficient excuse is shown.[14]

(III) REVIEW. An order of a court of probate jurisdiction, denying to a creditor who has not duly presented or filed his claim the relief afforded by the

Where the owner of a note relied upon a false statement of a bank cashier that the note, which had been deposited in the bank, had been duly filed against the estate of the maker, the delay should have been excused. Manatt v. Reynolds, 114 Iowa 688, 87 N. W. 683.

Relying on traveling collector not sufficient diligence.— Hawkeye Ins. Co. v. Lisker, 122 Iowa 341, 98 N. W. 127.

For facts held sufficient to excuse delay and to entitle the claimant to equitable relief against the bar of the statute see Ury v. Bush, 85 Iowa 698, 52 N. W. 666; Sankey v. Cook, 82 Iowa 125, 47 N. W. 1077; Lamm v. Sooy, 79 Iowa 593, 44 N. W. 893; Orcutt v. Hanson, 70 Iowa 604, 31 N. W. 950 [distinguishing Clark v. Tallman, 68 Iowa 372, 27 N. W. 261]; Pettus v. Ferrell, 59 Iowa 296, 13 N. W. 319; Wilcox v. Jackson, 57 Iowa 278, 10 N. W. 661; Senat v. Findley, 51 Iowa 20, 50 N. W. 575; Johnston v. Johnston, 36 Iowa 608; Wile v. Wright, 32 Iowa 451; McCormack v. Cook, 11 Iowa 267.

For facts held insufficient to excuse delay and entitle the claimant to equitable relief against the bar of the statute see In re Jacob, 119 Iowa 176, 93 N. W. 94 (failure of representative to file inventory); Schlutter v. Dahling, 100 Iowa 515, 69 N. W. 884; Corey v. Gillespie, 94 Iowa 347, 62 N. W. 837; Pearson v. Christman, 93 Iowa 703, 61 N. W. 1085; Roaf v. Knight, 77 Iowa 506, 42 N. W. 433 (relying on erroneous statement of non-resident attorney); Colby v. King, 67 Iowa 458, 25 N. W. 704; Lacey v. Loughridge, 51 Iowa 629, 2 N. W. 515; Phelps v. Thompson, 48 Iowa 641; Davis v. Shawhan, 34 Iowa 91; Shomo v. Bissell, 20 Iowa 68; Preston v. Day, 19 Iowa 127.

Want of actual notice of the representative's appointment is insufficient ground where the required statutory notice has been given. Hawkeye Ins. Co. v. Lisker, 122 Iowa 341, 98 N. W. 127.

10. Porter v. Brentlinger, 117 Iowa 536, 91 N. W. 809; Schlutter v. Dahling, 100 Iowa 515, 69 N. W. 884; Cory v. Gillespie, 94 Iowa 347, 62 N. W. 837; Roaf v. Knight, 77 Iowa 506, 42 N. W. 433; Lacey v. Loughridge, 51 Iowa 629, 2 N. W. 515; Phelps v. Thompson, 48 Iowa 641; Davis v. Shawhan, 34 Iowa 91; Ferrall v. Irvine, 12 Iowa 52.

The unexplained forgetfulness of the creditor as to the existence of the claim is no ground for relief. Porter v. Brentlinger, 117 Iowa 536, 91 N. W. 809.

11. Ury v. Bush, 85 Iowa 698, 52 N. W. 666; Sankey v. Cook, 82 Iowa 125, 47 N. W. 1077; Lamm v. Sooy, 79 Iowa 593, 44 N. W. 893; Pettus v. Farrell, 59 Iowa 296, 13 N. W. 319; Senat v. Findley, 51 Iowa 20, 50 N. W. 525; Baldwin v. Dougherty, 39 Iowa 50; Johnston v. Johnston, 36 Iowa 608; Bragley v. Ross, 33 Iowa 505; Brewster v. Kendrick, 17 Iowa 479; McCormack v. Cook, 11 Iowa 267.

The fact that the personal representative has made a final report will not preclude the filing and allowance of a delayed claim, if the delay has been sufficiently excused, where the report has not been acted upon by the court and notice of it has not been given or waived. Ury v. Bush, 85 Iowa 698, 52 N. W. 666.

12. In re Jacob, 119 Iowa 176, 93 N. W. 94; Brownell v. Williams, 54 Iowa 353, 6 N. W. 530. See also Davis v. Shawhan, 34 Iowa 91.

13. Shomo v. Bissell, 20 Iowa 68. See also Potter v. Brentlinger, 117 Iowa 536, 91 N. W. 809.

When allowance proper.— Although the estate has been settled and the personal property distributed, the claim may be allowed where there is sufficient real estate to pay it and the delay has been satisfactorily explained. Manatt v. Reynolds, 114 Iowa 688, 87 N. W. 683.

14. Henry v. Day, 114 Iowa 454, 87 N. W. 416 (false representations by executor); Pettus v. Farrell, 59 Iowa 296, 13 N. W. 319; Baldwin v. Dougherty, 39 Iowa 50; Burroughs v. McLain, 37 Iowa 189; Brayley v. Ross, 33 Iowa 505. See also Brewster v. Kendrick, 17 Iowa 479. Compare Colby v. King, 67 Iowa 458, 25 N. W. 704; Davis v. Shawhan, 34 Iowa 91; Preston v. Day, 19 Iowa 127.

Failure to file another claim.— A delay caused by the representative's request not to file a certain claim, and his promise to pay it, will not excuse the failure to file another claim of which the representative had no notice. Manning v. Stout, 93 Iowa 233, 61 N. W. 963.

A continuance by consent of the parties local statutes allowing extensions of time, is generally held to be a final order from which an appeal may be taken.[15]

c. Rights as to Assets Remaining or Subsequently Discovered. In some states a creditor who has not presented his claim within the regular statutory period, although precluded from sharing in the inventoried assets of the estate, is entitled to participate in subsequently discovered assets not inventoried or accounted for by the personal representative,[16] provided, however, that his claim is proved and constitutes a sufficient excuse for not proving a claim within the statutory period. Ingham v. Dudley, 60 Iowa 16, 14 N. W. 82. See also Wile v. Wright, 32 Iowa 451.

15. Hart v. Shiawassee County Cir. Judge, 56 Mich. 592, 23 N. W. 326 (refusal to revive commission); Ribble v. Furmin, (Nebr. 1904) 98 N. W. 420; Whitcomb v. Davenport, 63 Vt. 656, 22 Atl. 723 (refusal to revive commission).

The personal representatives of a deceased creditor may appeal. Hart v. Shiawassee County Cir. Judge, 56 Mich. 592, 23 N. W. 326.

A decision on appeal in an intermediate court affirming an order which extends a commission on claims and directs the commissioners to hear and adjudicate upon a specified claim is not a judgment or final order according to the course of the common law and therefore cannot be reviewed on writ of error. Churchill v. Burt, 32 Mich. 490, decision of circuit court affirming order of probate court.

Judgment on appeal.— A judgment of the district court upon such an appeal, remanding the cause to the county court, with direction to "permit the filing of the claim, and to set a day for hearing, and to proceed and hear and pass upon the same," is not the proper judgment, but a hearing in the district court on such claim should be had in the same manner as though the appeal had been from an order disallowing the claim upon hearing before the county court. Ribble v. Furmin, (Nebr. 1904) 98 N. W. 420.

In Minnesota it has been held that the statutes do not authorize the review of such an order of refusal by an appeal and hence that a writ of certiorari is available (Massachusetts Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Elliot, 24 Minn. 134), but where the probate court grants to a creditor an extension of time for presentation and also allows his claim against the estate, the adjudication as to the extension of time may be reviewed upon appeal from the order allowing the claim, and hence a writ of certiorari will not lie (State v. Hennepin County Probate Ct., 28 Minn. 381, 10 N. W. 209 [distinguishing Massachusetts Mut. L. Ins. Co. v. Elliot, supra]).

16. Colorado.— Thompson v. White, 25 Colo. 226, 54 Pac. 718; Townsend v. Thompson, 24 Colo. 411, 51 Pac. 433; McClure v. La Plata County, 23 Colo. 130, 46 Pac. 677.

Illinois.— Morse v. Pacific R. Co., 191 Ill. 356, 61 N. E. 104; Waughop v. Bartlett, 165 Ill. 124, 46 N. E. 197 [affirming 61 Ill. App. 252]; Snydacker v. Swan Land, etc., Co., 154 Ill. 220, 40 N. E. 466; Darling v. McDonald, 101 Ill. 370; Mulvey v. Johnson, 90 Ill. 457; Blanchard v. Williamson, 70 Ill. 647; Shepard v. Lawrence County Nat. Bank, 67 Ill. 292; Russell v. Hubbard, 59 Ill. 335; Stone v. Clarke, 40 Ill. 411; Wingate v. Pool, 25 Ill. 118; Peacock v. Haven, 22 Ill. 23; Bradford v. Jones, 17 Ill. 93; Stillman v. Young, 16 Ill. 318; Sloo v. Pool, 15 Ill. 47; Ryan v. Jones, 15 Ill. 1; Rowan v. Kirkpatrick, 14 Ill. 1; People v. White, 11 Ill. 341; Judy v. Kelley, 11 Ill. 211, 50 Am. Dec. 455; Thorn v. Watson, 10 Ill. 26; Tinker v. Babcock, 107 Ill. App. 78 [affirmed in 204 Ill. 571, 68 N. E. 445]; Morse v. Gillette, 93 Ill. App. 23 [affirmed in 191 Ill. 371, 61 N. E. 1136]; Smith v. Preston, 82 Ill. App. 285; Tillson v. Ward, 46 Ill. App. 179; People v. Brooks, 22 Ill. App. 594 [affirmed in 123 Ill. 246, 14 N. E. 39].

Maine.— Littlefield v. Eaton, 74 Me. 516.

Massachusetts.— Aiken v. Morse, 104 Mass. 277; Holland v. Cruft, 20 Pick. 321.

New Jersey.— Cunningham v. Stanford, 69 N. J. L. 9, 54 Atl. 245; Ryder v. Wilson, 41 N. J. L. 9; Vandyke v. Chandler, 10 N. J. L. 49; Terhune v. White, 34 N. J. Eq. 98.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 829.

Debts due to the United States are payable out of subsequently discovered assets according to the rule of the text. Holland v. Cruft, 20 Pick. (Mass.) 321.

The property liable is that which has not been inventoried or accounted for by the personal representative, regardless of the time when, or the person by whom, it is discovered. It makes no difference with the creditor's rights whether the property not inventoried is discovered before or after he obtains his judgment or brings his suit, or whether it is first discovered by him or by the personal representative. Shepard v. Lawrence County Nat. Bank, 67 Ill. 292; Stone v. Clark, 40 Ill. 411; Bradford v. Jones, 17 Ill. 93. See also Townsend v. Thompson, 24 Colo. 411, 51 Pac. 433; Durston v. Pollock, 91 Iowa 668, 60 N. W. 221, construing the Illinois statute.

What are subsequently discovered assets. As a general rule no property can be considered new assets which has been in the hands and under the control of the personal representative, or has been inventoried, or which is the product, profits, or proceeds of such property, although it may have assumed, or have been converted into, a new and different form. Littlefield v. Eaton, 74 Me. 516; Alden v. Stebbins, 99 Mass. 616; Chenery v. Webster, 8 Allen (Mass.) 76; Sturtevant v. Stur-allowed for this purpose.[17] The subsequent presentation and allowance of the claim may be had at any time before the debt is barred by the general statute of limitations,[18] although it will be at the expense of the claimant.[19] The creditor, if successful in establishing his claim, is entitled to a special judgment, to be satisfied out of the uninventoried assets subsequently discovered.[20] Under the statutes of other states a creditor who has failed to present or file his claim within the required time is postponed to other creditors and not entitled to share with them in the pro rata distribution, but may obtain payment out of the assets remaining unadministered, if there are any;[21] but it has been held that the sole tevant, 4 Allen (Mass.) 122. The following have been held not to be new assets subject to the claims of belated creditors: Money accruing from patent rights that were inventoried (Robinson v. Hodge, 117 Mass. 222); the proceeds of inventoried real estate which has been sold for the payment of debts (Alden v. Stebbins, supra; Chenery v. Webster, supra [followed in Aiken v. Morse, 104 Mass. 277]), the proceeds of a judgment rendered in a suit begun in the decedent's lifetime (Bradford v. Forbes, 9 Allen (Mass.) 365), property received by an administrator de bonis non in satisfaction of the liability by a surety of a former administrator who had failed to account for property inventoried (Veazie v. Marrett, 6 Allen (Mass.) 372), the proceeds of notes received in payment for an inventoried interest in a partnership (Sturtevant v. Sturtevant, supra), the rents of inventoried real estate (Littlefield v. Eaton, supra; Alden v. Stebbins, supra), the proceeds of logs and lumber sold from inventoried land (Littlefield v. Eaton, supra), the earnings of an inventoried schooner (Littlefield v. Eaton, supra), money received by the heirs on a mortgage of the decedent's real estate and turned over to the representative to pay debts of the estate; where the representative with the assent of the probate judge has entered the sum on his account (Littlefield v. Eaton, supra). Land is subsequently discovered estate within the Illinois statutes, where under an erroneous construction of the will it was treated for over two years by all the parties as not belonging to the estate. Sutton v. Read, 176 Ill. 69, 51 N. E. 801.

What constitutes accounting for property. — Where executors fixed an appraised value to an insufficient description which they intended to represent certain land which testator had owned, and subsequently conveyed the land to the persons entitled to take under the will, and reported to the court, it was held that they had " accounted for " the land within a statute permitting a creditor not presenting his claim within two years to subject property not accounted for to the payment thereof. Auburn State Bank v. Brown, 172 Ill. 284, 50 N. E. 144 [affirming 72 Ill. App. 584].

Property recovered by setting aside a fraudulent assignment made by the intestate in his lifetime is assets which the belated creditor can subject to his claim. Holland v. Cruft, 20 Pick. (Mass.) 321.

Legacy in executor's hands. — Under the New Jersey statutes a creditor who has not presented his claim in due time, and who is bound by a decree of the orphans' court barring claims of creditors against the executors, may nevertheless maintain an action against the executors to obtain payment of a ratable portion of his debt from any legacy which has not been paid over by the executors or has been attached in their hands (Dodson v. Sevars, 52 N. J. Eq. 611, 30 Atl. 477); but these statutes give the right of action only after final settlement has been made in the court where the executor's account must be passed (Cunningham v. Stanford, (N. J. Sup. 1902) 52 Atl. 374; Emson v. Allen, 62 N. J. L. 491, 41 Atl. 703; O'Neill v. Freeman, 45 N. J. L. 208).

17. Wingate v. Poole, 25 Ill. 118.

18. Blanchard v. Williamson, 70 Ill. 647. Compare Tillson v. Ward, 46 Ill. App. 179.

19. Blanchard v. Williamson, 70 Ill. 647.

20. McClure v. La Plata County, 23 Colo. 130, 46 Pac. 677; Mulvey v. Johnson, 90 Ill. 457; Shepard v. Lawrence County Nat. Bank, 67 Ill. 292; Stone v. Clarke, 40 Ill. 411; Peacock v. Haven, 22 Ill. 23; Bradford v. Jones, 17 Ill. 93; Judy v. Kelley, 11 Ill. 211, 50 Am. Dec. 455; Smith v. Preston, 82 Ill. App. 285.

The judgment must be special, not general, and should direct that execution be levied out of property which has not been inventoried or accounted for by the personal representative; but should not be limited by reason of the time when, or the person by whom, the property is first discovered. Mulvey v. Johnson, 90 Ill. 457; Russell v. Hubbard, 59 Ill. 335; Stone v. Clarke, 40 Ill. 411; Bradford v. Jones, 17 Ill. 93. See also Townsend v. Thompson, 24 Colo. 411, 51 Pac. 433; Darling v. McDonald, 101 Ill. 370.

21. Georgia.— Goodwin v. Hightower, 30 Ga. 249; Yerby v. Matthews, 26 Ga. 549; Mahone v. Georgia Cent. Bank, 17 Ga. 111.

Kentucky.— Grey v. Lewis, 79 Ky. 453.

Mississippi.— Ales v. Plant, 61 Miss. 259.

New York.— Baggott v. Boulger, 2 Duer 160; Matter of Morton, 7 Misc. 343, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 82; Lesser v. Keller, 29 N. Y. Suppl. 829; Martine's Estate, 11 Abb. N. Cas. 50; Matter of Phyfe, 5 N. Y. Leg. Obs. 331. See also New York v. Gorman, 26 N. Y. App. Div. 191, 49 N. Y. Suppl. 1026, holding that Code Civ. Proc. § 2718, does not mean that a debt against the estate not presented within the time limited shall not be liquidated by a formal judgment.

Pennsylvania.— Stœver's Appeal, 3 Watts object of such a provision is to permit the belated creditor to reach the personal estate while subject to the control of the administrator, and that it does not give him the right to compel a sale of the land when the personal estate is exhausted.[22]

13. Waiver of Due Presentation.[23] The personal representative being in a sense a trustee for all the parties interested in the estate, it is his duty to protect them against every demand which is not legally enforceable against the estate.[24] As a general rule therefore the personal representative cannot waive the requirements of the statutes of non-claim,[25] and if he pays a claim which has not been duly presented he is not entitled to credit for the payment.[26] In conformity to

& S. 154; Matter of Smith, 1 Ashm. 352. See also In re Mitchell, 2 Watts 87; McClintock's Estate, 32 Pittsb. Leg. J. 287; In re Cowan, 28 Pittsb. Leg. N. 119.

South Carolina.— Ford v. Rouse, Rice 219. See also Sebring v. Keith, 2 Hill 340; Ex p. Hanks, Dudley Eq. 231.

Texas.— Buchanan v. Wagnon, 62 Tex. 375; Ryan v. Flint, 30 Tex. 382; Hall v. McCormick, 7 Tex. 269. But under the act of 1840 the claim was barred if not presented in the required time. Buchanan v. Wagnon, supra; Graham v. Vining, 1 Tex. 639, 2 Tex. 433; McDougald v. Hadley, 1 Tex. 490.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 829.

The claims of non-resident creditors are included in Kentucky, subject, however, to a deduction for sums received or receivable from the foreign assets (if any) of the estate. Grey v. Lewis, 79 Ky. 453.

Mortgage creditor foreclosing after first distribution.— Where a mortgage creditor, without presenting his claim prior to an intermediate acounting, foreclosed his mortgage and obtained a deficiency judgment after distribution under the intermediate accounting, it was held that in view of a statute providing that no preference should be given in the payment of any debt over other debts of the same class, he was entitled upon the final accounting to be allowed out of the assets then on hand the same share or dividend that he would have received had he presented his claim in time for the first distribution. Home Ins. Co. v. Lyon, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 69.

22. Nagle v. Ball, 71 Miss. 330, 13 So. 929; Ales v. Plant, 61 Miss. 259.

23. See also supra, X, B, 4, d.

24. Rogers v. Wilson, 13 Ark. 507; Winchell v. Sanger, 73 Conn. 399, 47 Atl. 706, 66 L. R. A. 935. See infra, X, C, 1, b.

25. Alabama.—Grimball v. Mastin, 77 Ala. 553. See also Pipkin v. Hewlett, 17 Ala. 291.

Arkansas.— Nichols v. Shearon, 49 Ark. 75, 4 S. W. 167; Rogers v. Wilson, 13 Ark. 507.

California.— Harp v. Calahan, 46 Cal. 222.

Connecticut.— See Winchell v. Sanger, 73 Conn. 399, 47 Atl. 706, 66 L. R. A. 935; Pike v. Thorp, 44 Conn. 450.

Illinois.— Hapke v. People, 29 Ill. App. 546.

Kansas.— See Collamore v. Wilder, 19 Kan. 67.

Michigan.— Clark v. Davis, 32 Mich. 154, 157 [citing Fish v. Morse, 8 Mich. 34], per Cooley, J.

Minnesota.— Gilman v. Maxwell, 79 Minn. 377, 82 N. W. 669; Bunnell v. Post, 25 Minn. 376.

Mississippi.—Cockrell v. Seasongood, (1902) 33 So. 77; Nagle v. Ball, 71 Miss. 330, 13 So. 929.

Missouri.— The notice of demand required to place a claim in the fifth class cannot be waived by the personal representative (Hicks v. Jamison, 10 Mo. App. 35; Spaulding v. Suss, 4 Mo. App. 541); and even though he has misled the creditor by false and fraudulent statements as to the terms of the law requiring notice, he is not estopped thereby (Spaulding v. Suss, supra). The personal representative may, however, enter his appearance and waive notice of demand for the purpose of allowance (Madison County Bank v. Suman, 79 Mo. 527; Waltemar v. Schnick, 102 Mo. App. 133, 76 S. W. 1053), and by appearing and contesting the claim on its merits he waives his right to object that he did not receive such notice (Kincheloe v. Gorman, 29 Mo. 421; Wencker v. Thompson, 96 Mo. App. 59, 69 S. W. 743); but the date of the waiver is to be taken as the date of the exhibition or presentation of the demand (Madison County Bank v. Suman, supra; Wencker v. Thompson, supra). The representative's parol promise to pay, made before his qualification, is inoperative to bind the estate or to waive notice of the claim. Bambrick v. Bambrick, 157 Mo. 423, 58 S. W. 8.

Nebraska.— Fitzgerald v. Chariton First Nat. Bank, 64 Nebr. 260, 89 N. W. 813; Huebner v. Sesseman, 38 Nebr. 78, 56 N. W. 697.

Nevada.— Adams v. Smith, 19 Nev. 259, 9 Pac. 337, 10 Pac. 553.

Tennessee.— Brown v. Porter, 7 Humphr. 372. See also Apperson v. Harris, 7 Lea 323.

Texas.— Converse v. Sorley, 39 Tex. 515.

Utah.— Fullerton v. Bailey, 17 Utah 85, 53 Pac. 1020.

Wyoming.— O'Keefe v. Foster, 5 Wyo. 343, 40 Pac. 525.

United States.— Pulliam v. Pulliam, 10 Fed. 23, construing the Tennessee statute.

Neither the personal representative nor the probate court has the power to dispense with the requirements of the statute. Converse v. Sorley, 39 Tex. 515. See also Wilks v. Murphy, 19 Mo. App. 221.

26. Nichols v. Shearon, 49 Ark. 75, 4 S. W. 167; Bunnell v. Post, 25 Minn. 376; Huebthis principle it is generally held that he is bound to plead the statute, and that his failure to do so cannot avail the claimant[27] or preclude the heirs and legatees from pleading the statute on settlement of the representative's account.[28] In some jurisdictions, moreover, the representative's failure to plead the statute renders him liable for a devastavit in case payment is enforced against the estate.[29] Although by misleading statements and assurances he induces a creditor to omit compliance with the statute, the claim will nevertheless become barred and the representative will not be estopped to contest it,[30] unless some statutory provision intervenes whereby the creditor may be afforded relief.[31] A part payment of a claim on condition that the creditor holds the representative harmless in case of a deficiency does not affect the operation of the statute of non-claim, or prevent the representative from objecting that the claim has not been duly presented;[32]

ner v. Sesseman, 38 Nebr. 78, 56 N. W. 697. Contra, Pennock's Estate, 122 Iowa 622, 98 N. W. 480.

Waiver of right to object.— The heirs or other persons entitled to object may, however, waive their right by entering into a bona fide settlement with the representative. Hanlon v. Wheeler, (Tex. Civ. App. 1898) 45 S. W. 821.

In New Jersey it was formerly stated that no recognition of a claim by the personal representative or by the probate court could dispense with the requirement that claims be presented under oath and within the statutory period (Lewis v. Champion, 40 N. J. Eq. 59; Gould v. Tingley, 16 N. J. Eq. 501), although it had been decided that where the estate was solvent the representative could pay debts which he was satisfied were just even though the claims were not verified (Kinnan v. Wight, 39 N. J. Eq. 501). But it has been provided by statute (Gen. St. p. 2408; Pub. Laws (1898), p. 739, § 68), that if the personal representative in good faith pays a claim not presented under oath, and the claim is proved to have been a just one, the representative shall have allowance for the payment if there be sufficient assets to pay the debts of equal degree in full, and that if the assets are not sufficient the representative shall be allowed for the pro rata amount which the creditor would have been entitled to receive if the claim had been presented duly verified. See Freehold First Nat. Bank v. Thompson, 61 N. J. Eq. 188, 48 Atl. 333.

Recovery back of payment.— In Nevada it has been held that if, in the absence of any fraud or deceit, the representative, with full knowledge of all the facts, voluntarily pays a claim which has not been presented, he cannot recover from the claimant the amount paid. Adams v. Smith, 19 Nev. 259, 9 Pac. 337, 10 Pac. 553. But in Michigan a contrary view has been asserted. Miner v. Raymond, 113 Mich. 28, 71 N. W. 501.

27. Arkansas.— Rogers v. Wilson, 13 Ark. 507.

Georgia.— Hoskins v. Sheddon, 70 Ga. 528, construing the Tennessee statute.

Illinois.— Hapke v. People, 29 Ill. App. 546.

Nebraska.— Fitzgerald v. Chariton First Nat. Bank, 64 Nebr. 260, 89 N. W. 813.

Tennessee.— Brown v. Porter, 7 Humphr. 373. See also Apperson v. Harris, 7 Lea 323.

Utah.— Fullerton v. Bailey, 17 Utah 85, 53 Pac. 1020.

United States.— Pulliam v. Pulliam, 10 Fed. 23, construing the Tennessee statute.

In North Carolina it has been held that where the claim is a just one the personal representative is not bound to plead the statute. Williams v. Maitland, 36 N. C. 92.

In Iowa the decisions are apparently inconsistent. In Brownell v. Williams, 54 Iowa 353, 6 N. W. 530, it was held that the personal representative is not bound to plead the statute but that whenever it appears to the court from an inspection of the claim or otherwise that the claim has not been filed or proved as required it is the duty of the court to reject it. But in In re Pennock, 122 Iowa 622, 98 N. W. 480, it was held that the representative might pay claims and have credit for the payment, although the claims had not been properly filed against the estate. See also In re Wonn, 80 Iowa 750, 45 N. W. 1063.

28. Stillman v. Young, 16 Ill. 318; Bunnell v. Post, 25 Minn. 376. See also Pulliam v. Pulliam, 10 Fed. 23, construing the Tennessee statute. Compare Hanlon v. Wheeler, (Tex. Civ. App. 1898) 45 S. W. 821.

Estoppel.— Where a testator gave a certain fund to his children, and the latter gave to the testator's creditors orders on the executors for payment out of the fund, thereby leading the creditors to believe that no demand need be made of the executors, the children were estopped to object that such a demand was not made. Drye v. Cunningham, 74 S. W. 272, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 2500.

29. Hoskins v. Sheddon, 70 Ga. 528 (construing the Tennessee statute); Byrn v. Fleming, 3 Head (Tenn.) 658; Brown v. Porter, 7 Humphr. (Tenn.) 373. See also Apperson v. Harris, 7 Lea (Tenn.) 323.

30. Cockrell v. Seasongood, (Miss. 1902) 33 So. 77; Nagle v. Ball, 71 Miss. 330, 13 So. 929; Spaulding v. Suss, 4 Mo. App. 541. See also Bambrick v. Bambrick, 157 Mo. 423, 58 S. W. 8; Lewis v. Champion, 40 N. J. Eq. 59. Compare Sugar River Bank v. Fairbank, 49 N. H. 131.

31. See supra, X, B, 12, b, (II).

32. Gorman v. Nairne, 12 Ala. 338.

and the representative cannot by a promise to pay revive against the estate a debt barred by the statute.[33] In a few jurisdictions it is held that formal requirements as to presentation may be waived by the personal representative, and will be held to be waived where he fails to make seasonable objection,[34] and even in jurisdictions where the representative cannot dispense with presentation there are cases holding that if he appears in court and, without raising any objection to the creditor's failure to comply with the statute, contests the claim on its merits, he waives his right of objection.[35]

14. Allowance — a. By Personal Representative — (i) In General. In many jurisdictions the personal representative is authorized to pass upon the justice of claims presented against the decedent's estate, and to allow or reject the same in his discretion, in lieu of any formal action by the probate court;[36] approval, however, by the probate court, after the admission of the claim by the personal representative, being made by some statutes essential to its due allowance and payment.[37]

(ii) Form and Sufficiency — (a) General Rule. As a general rule it may be laid down that any acts or statements of the representative which evince an intention to pay a claim against the estate or amount to an admission of its validity and justice will be sufficient to constitute an allowance thereof;[38] but it is necessary that the acts or statements should be of this character, and equivocal

33. Decatur Branch Bank v. Hawkins, 12 Ala. 755. See also Halfman v. Ellison, 51 Ala. 543; Colby v. King, 67 Iowa 458, 25 N. W. 704.

34. Rawson v. Knight, 71 Me. 99; Ross v. Knox, 71 N. H. 249, 51 Atl. 910.

Where an administrator has seen and examined a claim against the estate, and is subsequently requested to allow it, which he refuses to do, the claim being present in the pocket of its owner, and the administrator being so told, a formal presentation of the claim is not necessary, but may be presumed to be waived. Cheeseman v. Kyle, 15 Ohio St. 15. See also Howard v. Leavell, 10 Bush (Ky.) 481. Compare Pike v. Thorp, 44 Conn. 450.

35. Leake v. Sutherland, 25 Ark. 219; Guerian v. Joyce, 133 Cal. 405, 65 Pac. 972; Hentsch v. Porter, 10 Cal. 555; Pepper v. Sidwell, 36 Ohio St. 454; Daykin v. Emery, 10 Ohio Cir. Ct. 652, 5 Ohio Cir. Dec. 121. See infra, XIV, B, 1, b, (iv).

36. Indiana.— Lasure v. Carter, 5 Ind. 498.

Louisiana.— Beeman's Succession, 47 La. Ann. 1355, 17 So. 820; Richmond's Succession, 35 La. Ann. 858; Prudhomme's Succession, 23 La. Ann. 228.

New York.— Matter of Le Baron, 67 How. Pr. 346; Wright v. Beirne, 2 Dem. Surr. 539.

Ohio.— Thomas v. Chamberlain, 39 Ohio St. 112; Jackson v. Jackson, 8 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 105, 5 Cinc. L. Bul. 647, holding that the district court has no jurisdiction to instruct an administrator as to whether he shall reject or allow a claim filed against the estate.

Texas.— See Oldham v. Smith, 26 Tex. 530.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 832.

37. Arkansas.— Gist v. Gans, 30 Ark. 285; Meyer v. Quartermous, 28 Ark. 45; Walker v. Byers, 14 Ark. 246; Hudson v. Breeding, 7 Ark. 445.

California.— Nally v. McDonald, 66 Cal. 530, 6 Pac. 390.

Iowa.— Byer v. Healy, 84 Iowa 1, 50 N. W. 70; In re Seavey, 82 Iowa 440, 48 N. W. 924; Schriver v. Holderbaum, 75 Iowa 33, 39 N. W. 125; Bayless v. Powers, 62 Iowa 601, 17 N. W. 907; Karr v. Stivers, 34 Iowa 123. See also Marlow v. Marlow, 48 Iowa 639, holding that an order by the court to an administrator to pay a claim duly sworn to and filed is sufficient to indicate that the claim is approved by the court, even where it has not been formally proved up.

Maryland.—Coburn v. Harris, 58 Md. 87.

Texas.— Wygel v. Woodlief, 76 Tex. 604, 13 S. W. 569; Price v. McIver, 25 Tex. 769, 78 Am. Dec. 558 (holding, however, that the probate court cannot enforce payment of the claim until the same has been allowed by the administrator); Danzey v. Swanney, 7 Tex. 617; Neill v. Hodge, 5 Tex. 487.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 831.

In Kansas a personal representative is not allowed to pay any demand against the estate over the sum of fifty dollars, until the same has been allowed or approved by the probate court, and the statute cannot be evaded by splitting up a single and entire demand into demands of less than fifty dollars each. Clawson v. McCune, 20 Kan. 337.

38. See Maraist v. Guilbeau, 31 La. Ann. 713 (placing debt on account and asking authority to pay it); Western Reserve Bank v. McIntire, 40 Ohio St. 528 (agreement to pay decree); Thomas v. Chamberlain, 39 Ohio St. 112 (holding a part payment without dispute, to be an allowance of the whole claim); Smock v. Bouse, 12 Ohio Cir. Ct. 46, 5 Ohio Cir. Dec. 293 (filing a petition for the sale of land, and including therein a claim of a credacts or statements not evincing such an intention or amounting to such an admission are not sufficient.[39] A disallowance of a claim by the personal representative and notice thereof to the creditor should be in terms so unequivocal that the latter may know with certainty when his claim, if not sued upon, will be barred by the statute of limitations;[40] and where the personal representative does or says anything from which the creditor may reasonably infer that the determination to reject the claim is not final, but that it will be further examined and considered, such claim is not rejected within the meaning of the statutes.[41] Where the representative directs his attorney to reject a particular claim, the rejection by the attorney is as effectual as though the representative had personally notified the claimant of the rejection.[42] A claim indorsed as rejected is not reinstated by an erasure of the representative's signature thereto more than three months afterward.[43]

(B) Effect of Failure to Act on Claim. In some jurisdictions claims not acted on by the personal representative within a specified time after their presentation are deemed rejected,[44] but it has also been held that the failure of the representative to indorse on a claim his rejection thereof within the specified time operates as an allowance.[45]

(III) Time For Allowance. Executors and administrators are entitled to a reasonable time for the examination of claims and accounts against the estate before indorsing thereon their allowance or rejection.[46]

(IV) Conflict of Interests. Where the executor or administrator is interested in a claim against his decedent's estate, he is disqualified from passing upon itor whom the administrator had frequently assured would be paid the same as other creditors); Heath v. Garrett, 46 Tex. 23 (withdrawing answer in suit on rejected claim and consenting to judgment).

39. Iowa.— Lamm v. Sooy, 79 Iowa 593, 44 N. W. 893.

Louisiana.— Figuras v. Benoist, 11 La. Ann. 683.

Rhode Island.— Providence Municipal Ct. v. Wilbour, 23 R. I. 95, 49 Atl. 488.

South Carolina.— McKinlay v. Gaddy, 26 S. C. 573, 2 S. E. 479.

Wisconsin.— Hepp v. Huefner, 61 Wis. 148, 20 N. W. 923.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 834.

A bare acknowledgment that an account is just, made by the representative, is not sufficient to charge the estate with the debt. Ciples v. Alexander, 2 Treadw. (S. C.) 767.

The execution and delivery of a note for services to be rendered to the estate is not an allowance of the claim. Price v. McIver, 25 Tex. 769, 78 Am. Dec. 558.

40. Bradley v. Vail, 48 Conn. 375.

A distinct refusal to allow a claim is a rejection, although no formal demand is made at the time that the executors should indorse their allowance upon the claim. Harter v. Taggart, 14 Ohio St. 122.

Waiver of notice.— In Arkansas, when a claim is presented to the administrator within the required time, and a waiver of notice indorsed thereon, it is tantamount to a rejection and reference of it to the probate court. Randolph v. Ward, 29 Ark. 238.

If the representative relies on a defect in form alone he should say so, or he will be deemed to have waived it. Aiken v. Coolidge, 12 Oreg. 244, 6 Pac. 712.

41. Hoyt v. Bonnett, 50 N. Y. 538; Reynolds v. Collins, 3 Hill (N. Y.) 36; Kidd v. Chapman, 2 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 414; Barsalou v. Wright, 4 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 164. See also Elliot v. Cronk, 13 Wend. (N. Y.) 35.

42. Selover v. Coe, 63 N. Y. 438; Wintermeyer v. Sherwood, 77 Hun (N. Y.) 193, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 449.

43. Burks v. Bennett, 62 Tex. 277.

44. Bellows v. Chief, 20 Ark. 424; In re Callahan, 152 N. Y. 320, 46 N. E. 486; Schutz v. Morette, 146 N. Y. 137, 40 N. E. 780 [reversing 81 Hun 518, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 39]; Matter of Whitehead, 38 N. Y. App. Div. 319, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 989; Matter of Doran, 2 N. Y. Annot. Cas. 40, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 544; Farwell v. Richardson, 10 N. D. 34, 84 N. W. 558. See also Providence Municipal Ct. v. Wilbour, 23 R. I. 95, 49 Atl. 488, holding that the executor's failure to file a statement in the probate court denying the validity of a duly presented claim is not equivalent to the allowance of the claim. But compare Lambert v. Craft, 98 N. Y. 342; Matter of Miller, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 60, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 134; Matter of Cowgrey, 5 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 453; Underhill v. Newburger, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 499; Matter of Phyfe, 5 N. Y. Leg. Obs. 331.

45. Kirman v. Powning, 25 Nev. 378, 60 Pac. 834, 61 Pac. 1090; Dickey v. Corliss, 41 Vt. 127.

46. Dredla v. Baache, 60 Nebr. 655, 83 N. W. 916; Keenan v. Saxton, 13 Ohio 41. And see Large v. Large, 29 Wis. 60.

such claim,[47] the statute usually providing for the probate or other designated court to pass upon the claim in such case.[48]

(v) Action by One of Several Representatives. Since the act of one personal representative is the act of all of the representatives of the estate, the better rule seems to be that the allowance or rejection of a claim against the estate by one of two or more personal representatives is binding upon the estate.[49]

b. By Commissioners — (i) In General. Some of the statutes provide for the appointment of commissioners, for the purpose of passing upon and adjusting claims against decedents' estates.[50]

(ii) Appointment and Qualifications. The power and duty to appoint commissioners is usually vested in the probate court, which is accorded a liberal interpretation as to its exercise.[51] The appointment of commissioners may be

47. Hildebrandt's Estate, 92 Cal. 433, 28 Pac. 486; Hill's Estate, 67 Cal. 238, 7 Pac. 664; Henderson v. Ayres, 23 Tex. 96 (where the administrator served as attorney of a creditor of the estate); Johnson v. Brown, 25 Tex. Suppl. 120. See also In re Crosby, 55 Cal. 574.

Where the same person is administrator of two estates whose interests conflict, as where there is a demand in behalf of one to be presented for allowance against the other, he cannot legally act as administrator of both estates in the matter of obtaining an allowance of the demand, but should resign the administration of one of the estates. If he fails to resign, and attempts to act in the same capacity for both estates, and the demand is allowed, the proceeding will be regarded as a nullity. State v. Reinhardt, 31 Mo. 95; State v. Bidlingmaier, 26 Mo. 483. See also Clark v. Crosswhite, 28 Mo. App. 34.

An administrator who authorizes a person to purchase claims against the estate is not thereby precluded from passing upon them. Johnson v. Brown, 25 Tex. Suppl. 120.

48. Hubbard v. Hubbard, 16 Ind. 25; Ludlow v. Ludlow, 4 N. J. L. 189 (holding that if one of several joint executors has a claim against the estate he cannot compel his co-executors to allow and credit it before the ordinary, but must resort to a court of equity); In re Marcelle, 165 N. Y. 70, 58 N. E. 796; Snyder v. Snyder, 96 N. Y. 88 [reversing 30 Hun 186, 4 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 370].

Where the representative has assigned his claim against the estate his assignee is not confined to the remedy provided by statute to enable the executor himself to enforce his claim. Snyder v. Snyder, 96 N. Y. 88 [reversing 30 Hun 186, 4 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 370].

49. Willis v. Farley, 24 Cal. 490; Cross v. Long, 66 Kan. 293, 71 Pac. 524; Coburn v. Harris, 53 Md. 367; Dean v. Duffield, 8 Tex. 235, 58 Am. Dec. 108. But see In re Whitmore, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 103; McLane v. Belvin, 47 Tex. 493, holding that where by will three executors were appointed with authority to administer without control of a court of probate, and all qualified as such, two of such executors could not allow a claim against the estate.

Claim of one executor.— The orphans' court cannot allow one executor the amount of the debt claimed by him from testator's estate, if his co-executor disputes its payment. Middleton v. Middleton, 35 N. J. Eq. 115.

50. Connecticut.— Mills v. Wildman, 18 Conn. 124.

Kentucky.— Story v. Story, 35 S. W. 540, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 97, report by commissioners and confirmation by court.

Maine.— See Rogers v. Rogers, 67 Me. 456, commissioners of exorbitant claims.

Massachusetts.— Ripley v. Collins, 162 Mass. 450, 38 N. E. 1133.

Michigan.—Crosby v. Montcalm Cir. Judge, 125 Mich. 24, 83 N. W. 1040; In re Vedder, 122 Mich. 439, 81 N. W. 356 (holding that the right to have claims against the estate presented to and passed upon by commissioners exists, even where the executor is also residuary legatee and gives a bond to pay all debts and legacies); Heavenrich v. Nichols, 113 Mich. 508, 71 N. W. 852; Campau v. Miller, 46 Mich. 148, 9 N. W. 140; Buchoz v. Pray, 36 Mich. 429. See also Osmun v. Oakland Cir. Judge, 107 Mich. 27, 64 N. W. 949.

Minnesota.— State v. Ramsey County Probate Ct., 25 Minn. 22.

Nebraska.— Dredla v. Baache, 60 Nebr. 655, 83 N. W. 916; Schaberg v. McDonald, 60 Nebr. 493, 83 N. W. 737. See also Craig v. Anderson, 3 Nebr. (Unoff.) 638, 92 N. W. 640.

Rhode Island.— Mason v. Taft, 23 R. I. 388, 50 Atl. 648.

South Carolina.— Rouse v. Raynal, Riley Eq. 210.

Virginia.— Marshal v. Cheatham, 88 Va. 31, 13 S. E. 308.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 837.

Auditor.— In Pennsylvania an officer appointed by the court to pass upon and allow such claims is called an auditor. Axtell's Appeal, 3 Pa. Cas. 488, 6 Atl. 560; Fehl's Estate, 13 Pa. Super. Ct. 601.

51. Smith v. Lloyd, 76 Mich. 619, 39 N. W. 756; State v. Ramsey County Probate Ct., 25 Minn. 28; Bryant v. Livermore, 20 Minn.

made at any time during the progress of the administration.[52] Such commissioners should be disinterested persons, and should be duly appointed and sworn before entering upon the duties of office.[53]

(III) POWER AND DUTIES. In respect to claims accruing in the lifetime of the decedent, which by law survive, and where the facts necessary to give jurisdiction and authority exist, the commissioners act judicially,[54] and their judgment, rendered upon due investigation of the claim, should be respected in the probate court and elsewhere.[55] They are usually, however, not authorized to pass upon debts and expenses incurred subsequent to decedent's death,[56] or claims which are contingent,[57] or purely equitable in their nature.[58]

(IV) REPORT. The report of the commissioners should be filed within the time specified in the order appointing them or designated by statute,[59] but claims against the estate cannot be defeated by the failure of the commissioners to take final action and make their report within the time fixed by the order.[60] Neither does the fact that the report was returned before the expiration of the time for the presentment of claims render the same void.[61] The probate court has power to accept or reject the report of the commissioners, and in passing upon it is not confined to matters appearing on the face thereof, but may exercise its discretion in inquiring into the genuineness and identity of the claims and the regularity of the report generally.[62] The report of the commissioners allowing or dis-

313; Wilkinson v. Winne, 15 Minn. 159. See also Axtell's Appeal, 3 Pa. Cas. 488, 6 Atl. 560.

Where the court neglects to appoint commissioners, the creditor has the right to call for them. Powers v. Powers, 57 Vt. 49.

A third commissioner should not be appointed without notice, and on ex parte application, where the two already appointed disagree as to a claim. Smith v. Lloyd, 76 Mich. 619, 39 N. W. 756.

52. Wilkinson v. Winne, 15 Minn. 159.

Commissioners may be appointed before inventory filed.— Bryant v. Livermore, 20 Minn. 313.

53. Cummings v. Halsted, 26 Minn. 151, 1 N. W. 1052; Bryant v. Livermore, 20 Minn. 313; Ashley v. Eggers, 59 Wis. 563, 18 N. W. 471.

The judge of probate is not barred from acting as commissioner. Cummings v. Halsted, 26 Minn. 151, 1 N. W. 1052.

Where a creditor presents his claim to commissioners whom he deems disqualified by reason of interest, he thereby waives such objection. Bryant v. Livermore, 20 Minn. 313.

54. Finley v. Dubay, 112 Mich. 334, 70 N. W. 885; Clark v. Davis, 32 Mich. 154; Mason v. Taft, 23 R. I. 388, 50 Atl. 648.

55. Finley v. Dubay, 112 Mich. 334, 70 N. W. 885; Wilkinson v. Conaty, 65 Mich. 614, 32 N. W. 841; Lothrop v. Conely, 39 Mich. 757; Axdell's Appeal, 43 Leg. Int. (Pa.) 476.

56. Greenleaf v. Sabin, 1 Root (Conn.) 468; Mason v. Taft, 23 R. I. 388, 50 Atl. 648; Hatch v. Hatch, 60 Vt. 160, 13 Atl. 791. See, however, Booth v. Radford, 57 Mich. 357, 24 N. W. 102, holding that funeral expenses and the expenses of decedent's last sickness may properly be allowed as preferred claims by the commissioners.

57. Campau v. Miller, 46 Mich. 148, 9 N. W. 140; Shurbun v. Hooper, 40 Mich. 503; Buchoz v. Pray, 36 Mich. 429.

The commissioners can only receive and report the evidence relating to such claims, the claims are not definitely adjudicated until they are supposed to have become absolute. Campau v. Miller, 46 Mich. 148, 9 N. W. 140; Buchoz v. Pray, 36 Mich. 429.

58. Brown v. Sumner, 31 Vt. 671. See also McKinney v. Hamilton, 53 Mich. 497, 19 N. W. 263. But see Spaulding v. Warner, 52 Vt. 29, holding that they have jurisdiction of claims originating in equitable principles, where the right and extent of recovery are readily ascertainable. See also Moore v. Bachelder, 51 Vt. 50.

59. Hansell's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 47.

60. Heavenrich v. Nichols, 113 Mich. 508, 71 N. W. 852.

61. Johnson v. Johnson, 66 Mich. 525, 23 N. W. 413 (holding that, on an appeal by heirs from the allowance of a claim against the estate, they cannot object to a premature return by the commissioners on claims which could damnify no one but a creditor who had no opportunity to present his claim); Sowles v. Quinn, 61 Vt. 354, 17 Atl. 493.

62. Peck v. Sturges, 11 Conn. 420; Palmer v. Palmer, 61 Me. 236; Hodges v. Thacher, 23 Vt. 455; Newel v. Keith, 11 Vt. 214 (holding likewise that it is no objection to the report that other and prior items to the account presented were considered, where those items were not included in the settlement); Armentrout v. Shafer, 89 Va. 566, 16 S. E. 726. See also Whitcomb v. Hutchinson, 48 Vt. 310.

Reconsideration of acceptance.— Although the court has caused to be entered on the report "filed, accepted, and ordered to be recorded," it may, before the report is actually recorded, reject the same for errors found therein, and send it back to the commissioners for correction. Adarene v. Marlow, 33 Vt. 558.

allowing a claim, when filed and approved by the probate court, is final, and has the effect of a judgment, unless duly appealed from.[63]

c. By the Court — (i) In General. In many jurisdictions the statutes require all claims to be presented to the probate court for allowance in the first instance, and, upon due notice and opportunity given to the personal representative to appear, and upon proof of claim presented the court will allow or disallow the claim;[64] and, under these statutes, the personal representative cannot pay any claims out of the assets of the estate until allowed by the probate court.[65]

(ii) Notice of Filing. In some jurisdictions notice of the filing of a claim in court is required to be given to the personal representative, in order to obtain jurisdiction of his person, as a condition precedent to the adjudication of the claim by the court.[66]

(iii) Order or Decree. The order or decree entered by the court on passing upon a claim against a decedent's estate should be against the executor or administrator[67] for the allowance of the claim at an amount certain to be paid out of the assets of the estate,[68] or for the disallowance of

63. Maine.— Palmer v. Palmer, 61 Me. 236.
Michigan.—Finley v. Dubay, 112 Mich. 334, 70 N. W. 885.
Minnesota.— State v. Ramsey County Probate Ct., 25 Minn. 22.
Ohio.— Cromwell v. Herron, 11 Ohio Cir. Ct. 448, 5 Ohio Cir. Dec. 196.
Vermont.— Tute v. Janes, 50 Vt. 124; Whitcomb v. Hutchinson, 48 Vt. 310, holding that objection to a report on the ground of irregularity comes too late where the correction of the report might have been seasonably sought on appeal.
See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 840.

64. Alabama.— Lapsley v. Goldsby, 14 Ala. 73; Parks v. Stonum, 8 Ala. 752.
Illinois.— Hales v. Holland, 92 Ill. 494; Kingan v. Burn, 104 Ill. App. 661. See also Miller v. Simons, 71 Ill. App. 369.
Kansas.— Scroggs v. Tutt, 20 Kan. 271.
Mississippi.— See Mobile Branch Bank v. Rhew, 37 Miss. 110.
Missouri.— Church v. Church, 73 Mo. App. 421; State v. Walsh, 67 Mo. App. 348 (holding that the probate court has jurisdiction to allow a demand for legal services rendered the administrator in the course of his administration on the estate); Dingle v. Pollick, 49 Mo. App. 479. See also Cassatt v. Vogel, 94 Mo. 646, 8 S. W. 169.
New Mexico.— Chaves v. Perea, 3 N. M. 71, 2 Pac. 73.
See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 841.
Claims cannot be allowed by probate judge in vacation. Dingle v. Pollick, 49 Mo. App. 479; Chaves v. Perea, 3 N. M. 71, 2 Pac. 73.

65. Reitzell v. Miller, 25 Ill. 67; Wallace v. Monroe, 22 Ill. App. 602; Wilks v. Murphy, 19 Mo. App. 221.

66. Wallace v. Gatchell, 106 Ill. 315; Hales v. Holland, 92 Ill. 494; Propst v. Meadows, 13 Ill. 157; Phœnix Ins. Co. v. Guderyahn, 20 Ill. App. 161; Foley v. Wallace, 2 Ind. 174; Scroggs v. Tutt, 20 Kan. 271; Chaves v. Perea, 3 N. M. 71, 2 Pac. 73. See supra, X, B, 8.
Service upon one of two administrators only.— A claim against an estate can be allowed, although the summons was served on one of two administrators only and was void for want of a seal, where such administrator was the active one and he and the attorney for both administrators appeared. Tewalt v. Irwin, 164 Ill. 592, 46 N. E. 13.
Waiver.— Where the administrator, who was not served with a notice, was actually present at the hearing, and entered exceptions to the allowance of the claim, he thereby waived the irregularity of want of service. McLeary v. Doran, 79 Iowa 210, 44 N. W. 360.

67. West v. Krebaum, 88 Ill. 263 (holding, however, that an order allowing a claim against an estate is not bad because entitled against the estate, instead of against the administrator, where the administrator appeared in the case); Maddox v. Maddox, 97 Ind. 537; Martin v. Shannon, 101 Iowa 620, 70 N. W. 720; Roberts v. Weadock, 98 Wis. 400, 74 N. W. 93.
Order should be for costs also in proper cases. Maddox v. Maddox, 97 Ind. 537.
Attorney's fees.— The probate court may allow attorney's fees for services rendered to the administrator directly in favor of the attorney instead of in favor of the administrator, and order payment out of the assets of the estate. State v. Walsh, 67 Mo. App. 348.

68. La Roe v. Freeland, 8 Mich. 531. See also State v. James, 82 Mo. 509.
The order of entry and allowance is sufficient, although not signed by the county judge, where the claim appears on the schedule of claims, showing its allowance on the day fixed for hearing claims, and also on the entry book, in the handwriting of the county judge, showing the name of the claimant, the amount of the claim, and the amount allowed on said day. McCormack v. McCormack, 53 Nebr. 255, 73 N. W. 693.
What will be determined.— On an application for a decree for the payment of a judgment against a deceased person, the surrogate the claim.[69] The court has inherent power to correct or amend its own order or decree,[70] or its records.[71] A claim shown to have been filed after it was barred by limitations will not be presumed to have been allowed by the court unless that fact affirmatively appears upon the record.[72]

d. Set-Off. The statutes usually provide that where a creditor of the deceased presents a claim to the commissioners, or to the court of probate, the personal representative may exhibit claims of the deceased as a set-off to the claim of the creditor, and the commissioners or the court shall ascertain and allow the balance against or in favor of the estate, as they shall find the same to be;[73] and it has been held that a claim not so asserted cannot subsequently be enforced against the creditor, or set off by the personal representative in an action to enforce an allowance against the estate.[74]

e. Setting Aside Allowance — (i) In General. The probate court has as a general rule power to set aside the allowance or disallowance of a claim against a decedent's estate,[75] especially where such allowance or disallowance was obtained will determine the amount remaining due on the judgment, and who is the owner, but not whether there has been an accord and satisfaction, or whether the estate is entitled in equity to a release or discharge in whole or in part. McNulty v. Hurd, 72 N. Y. 518.

69. La Roe v. Freeland, 8 Mich. 531.

Order held sufficient.— An order of the county court in respect to a claim presented against the estate that "after having taken the matter under advisement, the court this day, after due deliberation, rejects the claim" is a sufficiently formal judgment. Johnson v. Gillett, 52 Ill. 358.

70. Page v. Ralph, 55 Ark. 52, 17 S. W. 365. See also Schwartz's Estate, 2 Woodw. (Pa.) 393. And see, generally, JUDGMENTS.

71. Ritchey v. Withers, 72 Mo. 556, holding that where the probate judge allowed a claim against the estate of the deceased, and placed it in a certain class, and the clerk in making the indorsement on the demand, and in the book of abstracts of demands, made a mistake and put the claim in another class this might be corrected by a nunc pro tunc entry.

72. Janes v. Brunswick, 8 N. M. 345, 45 Pac. 878.

73. People v. McCutcheon, 40 Mich. 244 (holding likewise that a set-off when once asserted cannot be withdrawn); Willard v. Fralick, 31 Mich. 431 (holding, however, that such set-off must be confined to claims of the deceased, and cannot include demands which never belonged to the deceased); Robinson v. Walker, 50 Mo. 19; Bliss v. Little, 63 Vt. 86, 22 Atl. 13; Hatch v. Hatch, 60 Vt. 160, 13 Atl. 791. See also Cassatt v. Vogel, 94 Mo. 646, 8 S. W. 169.

74. Olmstead v. Bailey, 35 Conn. 584; Jamison v. Wickham, 67 Mo. App. 575; Bliss v. Little, 63 Vt. 86, 22 Atl. 13; Hatch v. Hatch, 60 Vt. 160, 13 Atl. 791. See also McMorrin v. Overholt, 14 Ark. 244.

75. Alabama.— Wills v. Rand, 41 Ala. 198.

Arkansas.— Scott v. Penn, 68 Ark. 492, 60 S. W. 235.

Colorado.— Clemes v. Fox, 25 Colo. 39, 53 Pac. 225, holding likewise that the county court in vacating an order allowing a claim against decedent's estate is presumed to have had jurisdiction over the person of the claimant, unless the contrary affirmatively appears by the record.

Illinois.— Schlink v. Maxton, 153 Ill. 447, 38 N. E. 1063 [affirming 48 Ill. App. 471], holding that where fraud or mistake has intervened in the allowance of a claim the county court has jurisdiction to set it aside after the close of the term at which it was allowed, if the facts are such that a court of equity would entertain jurisdiction of a bill to set aside a judgment.

Indiana.— Beard v. Peru First Presb. Church, 15 Ind. 490, holding likewise that the pendency of an appeal from the allowance of a claim will not prevent claimant from instituting proceedings before the court making the allowance to set the same aside.

Iowa.— In re Davenport, 85 Iowa 293, 52 N. W. 197.

Kansas.— Wolfley v. McPherson, 61 Kan. 492, 59 Pac. 1054 [reversing (App. 1899) 57 Pac. 257]; Lutz v. Balcom, (Sup. 1898) 53 Pac. 523.

Michigan.—See Lyle v. Anderson, 122 Mich. 601, 82 N. W. 246.

Missouri.— See Casey v. Murphy, 7 Mo. App. 247.

Nebraska.— McGrew v. Humboldt State Bank, 60 Nebr. 716, 84 N. W. 99; McKenna v. McCormick, 60 Nebr. 595, 83 N. W. 844.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 844.

In Texas an allowance and approval of a claim by the administrator and the chief justice of the county court can only be set aside or nullified by an original proceeding commenced in the district court for that purpose; it cannot be done by the county court. Cone v. Crum, 52 Tex. 348; Swan v. House, 50 Tex. 650; Hoffner v. Brander, 23 Tex. 631; Eccles v. Daniels, 16 Tex. 136; Moore v. Hillebrant, 14 Tex. 312, 65 Am. Dec. 118.

Claim payable in Confederate money.— An administrator's allowance of a claim payable in Confederate money and approval thereof by the probate court are absolute nullities, and proof that the allowance and approval were made or obtained by fraud is not necessary. McGar v. Nixon, 36 Tex. 289.

ex parte.[76] A suit in equity may also be maintained to set aside for fraud an order or decree of the probate court allowing a claim against a decedent's estate.[77] An administrator who has disallowed a claim may afterward, it has been held, revoke his action, and allow the same;[78] but it has been held that where the administrator has allowed a claim in full he cannot withdraw such allowance by protesting against an approval thereof by the court.[79]

(II) WHO MAY ATTACK ALLOWANCE. Heirs and devisees[80] and distributees and legatees as well as personal representatives may move to have an allowance set aside on proper grounds, when injuriously affected thereby, no matter how small their interests in the estate may be.[81] A receiver of the decedent's estate represents the interests of the creditors as well as of the estate, and if a motion by the receiver to set aside an order of the surrogate granting allowances out of the estate is denied, the motion cannot be renewed by the creditors or any one of them without leave of court.[82]

(III) TIME FOR APPLICATION. Proceedings to vacate an order of allowance or classification of claims must be brought within the time limited by statute if there be any statute applicable thereto,[83] and otherwise they must be brought within a reasonable time.[84]

(IV) GROUNDS. The discretionary power of the probate court to amend or vacate its own orders or judgments continues only until the expiration of the term at which such orders or judgments were rendered,[85] and after that time the court can act in respect to the matter only according to fixed principles of law,[86] and unless a motion to vacate made at a subsequent term presents some of the grounds enumerated in the statute it cannot be granted.[87] The usual grounds for vacating or setting aside an order or decree of the probate court allowing or disallowing a claim against an estate are that such order or judgment was procured by fraud or misrepresentation, or through mistake, surprise, or excusable inadvertence or neglect,[88] or that proper notice was not given to the personal

76. California.— Sullenberger's Estate, 72 Cal. 549, 14 Pac. 513.

Missouri.— Martin v. La Master, 63 Mo. App. 342. See also State v. James, 82 Mo. 509.

New Hampshire.— Parker v. Gregg, 23 N. H. 416.

New York.— Matter of Warrin, 28 Misc. 695, 60 N. Y. Suppl. 191.

South Carolina.— Fraser v. Charleston, 23 S. C. 373.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 844.

77. Jones v. Brinker, 20 Mo. 87; Purdy v. Gault, 19 Mo. App. 191; Central Nat. Bank v. Fitzgerald, 94 Fed. 16. See also In re Lindsay, 184 Pa. St. 262, 39 Atl. 82.

78. Husted v. Hoyt, 12 Conn. 160.

79. Hensel v. International Bldg., etc., Assoc., 85 Tex. 215, 20 S. W. 116.

80. Schlink v. Maxton, 153 Ill. 447, 38 N. E. 1063 [affirming 48 Ill. App. 471]; Lancaster v. Gould, 46 Ind. 397; Martin v. La Master, 63 Mo. App. 342; Link v. Link, 48 Mo. App. 345; Giddings v. Steele, 28 Tex. 732, 91 Am. Dec. 336; Claiborne v. Tanner, 18 Tex. 68.

81. Sherman v. Whiteside, 190 Ill. 576, 60 N. E. 838; Lancaster v. Gould, 46 Ind. 397; Bell v. Ayres, 24 Ind. 92; In re Davenport, 85 Iowa 293, 52 N. W. 197; Cone v. Crum, 52 Tex. 348.

82. Irving Nat. Bank v. Kernan, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 1.

83. Wolfley v. McPherson, 61 Kan. 492, 59 Pac. 1054 [reversing (App. 1899) 57 Pac. 257]. See also McKenna v. McCormick, 60 Nebr. 595, 83 N. W. 844.

84. Eccles v. Daniels, 16 Tex. 136; Weadock v. Ray, 111 Wis. 489, 87 N. W. 477. See also Snow v. Mather, 52 Tex. 650.

85. McGrew v. Humboldt State Bank, 60 Nebr. 716, 84 N. W. 99.

86. McGrew v. Humboldt State Bank, 60 Nebr. 716, 84 N. W. 99.

87. McGrew v. Humboldt State Bank, 60 Nebr. 716, 84 N. W. 99. See also Hendron v. Kinner, 110 Iowa 544, 80 N. W. 419, 81 N. W. 783; McKenna v. McCormick, 60 Nebr. 595, 83 N. W. 844.

88. Arkansas.— Scott v. Penn, 68 Ark. 492, 60 S. W. 235.

Colorado.— Clemes v. Fox, 25 Colo. 39, 53 Pac. 225, holding that where the grounds on which a county court at a subsequent term vacated orders allowing claims and approving the widow's allowance do not appear, the vacation is presumed to have been for fraud or mistake.

Illinois.— Sherman v. Whiteside, 190 Ill. 576, 60 N. E. 838 [affirming 93 Ill. App. 572], holding that it must be shown that the claim was allowed through fraud and collusion with the executor, and not through negligence. Schlink v. Maxton, 153 Ill. 447, 38 N. E. 1063 [affirming 48 Ill. App. 471].

Indiana.— Statelar v. Sample, 29 Ind. 315, holding, however, that the complaint did representative or the creditors of the estate.[89] The mere fact that a claim was barred by the general statute of limitations when allowed has been held to be no ground for setting aside an allowance thereof,[90] particularly where the personal representative had not availed himself of such plea.[91] Where the allowance or disallowance of a claim is sought to be set aside on the ground of newly discovered evidence, it should be shown why such evidence could not with due diligence have been furnished earlier, and to be available as a ground for reopening the case such evidence should be controlling and not cumulative only.[92]

(v) Proceedings. Since an order or judgment of the probate court allowing or disallowing a claim against the decedent's estate has largely the effect of a judgment,[93] where proceedings are instituted to vacate such order or decree, the presumption is that the allowance was made upon satisfactory vouchers and proofs, or that the claim was disallowed for want of sufficient evidence or some fatal irregularity, and the burden of proving otherwise is upon the party seeking to vacate the order or decree.[94] But it has been held that the court may set aside or modify the allowance of a claim against the estate approved by the administrator and allowed by the clerk in vacation without any evidence except what may be shown by the papers.[95] If an order is made out of court and without notice allowing a claim against an estate, no notice of a motion to set it aside is necessary.[96]

f. Effect of Allowance[97] — (i) By Probate Court — (a) Upon Claimant and Personal Representative. In many jurisdictions, while the allowance or disallowance of a claim against an estate by the probate court, either directly or by way of approval of the act of commissioners or the personal representative in not present a case justifying the intervention of a court of equity on the ground of fraud.

Iowa.— Snelling v. Kroger, 89 Iowa 247, 56 N. W. 446.

Minnesota.— In re Gragg, 32 Minn. 142, 19 N. W. 651.

Texas.— Cone v. Crum, 52 Tex. 348; Lott v. Ballaud, 21 Tex. 167; Eccles v. Daniels, 16 Tex. 136. See also Hicks v. Oliver, 78 Tex. 233, 14 S. W. 575; Jones v. Underwood, 11 Tex. 116.

Wisconsin.— McLachlan v. Staples, 13 Wis. 448.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 847.

89. Illinois.— Propst v. Meadows, 13 Ill. 157.

Iowa.— McLeary v. Doran, 79 Iowa 210, 44 N. W. 360.

Missouri.— Martin v. Nichols, 63 Mo. App. 342.

Oregon.—Knight v. Hamaker, 40 Oreg. 424, 67 Pac. 107.

Pennsylvania.—Carroll's Estate, 4 Pa. Dist. 680, 17 Pa. Co. Ct. 273.

Vermont.— Wells v. Morse, 11 Vt. 9.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 847.

Excuse for non-appearance held insufficient. — Where a claim against an estate filed by an administrator was allowed a subsequent vacation of the allowance on the application of one who knew of the time for hearing, but failed to appear and oppose the claim, and whose only excuse for not appearing was that he felt confident that the administrator would administer the estate honestly and not permit unjust claims to be allowed, was an abuse of discretion. In re Kidder, 53 Minn. 529, 55 N. W. 738.

90. Dyer v. Jacoway, 50 Ark. 217, 6 S. W. 902; Cone v. Crum, 52 Tex. 348; Campbell v. Shotwell, 51 Tex. 27; Mosely v. Gray, 23 Tex. 496; Hillebrant v. Burton, 17 Tex. 138.

91. Marshall v. Coleman, 187 Ill. 556, 58 N. E. 628 [modifying 89 Ill. App. 41]; Lott v. Cloud, 23 Tex. 254.

92. Williams v. Price, 11 Cal. 212; McDaniels v. Van Fosen, 11 Iowa 195; Bowen v. Steere, 6 R. I. 251.

93. Wright v. Campbell, 27 Ark. 637; Jones v. Brinker, 20 Mo. 87. See infra, X, B, 14, f, (I), (A).

94. California.— Swain's Estate, 67 Cal. 637, 8 Pac. 497.

Colorado.— Jones v. Bradley, 8 Colo. App. 178, 45 Pac. 229.

Indiana.— Stout v. Morgan, 6 Ind. 369.

Missouri.— See Jones v. Brinker, 20 Mo. 87, holding that a statement that the administrator illegally procured an allowance in his favor does not make out a case for equitable relief.

New York.— Matter of Warrin, 56 N. Y. App. Div. 414, 67 N. Y. Suppl. 763.

Texas.— Henderson v. Ayres, 23 Tex. 96; Hillebrant v. Burton, 17 Tex. 138.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 848.

95. Ordway v. Phelps, 45 Iowa 279.

96. Sullenberger's Estate, 72 Cal. 549, 14 Pac. 513.

97. Effect of disallowance by commissioners.— It has been held in an early Connecticut case that a creditor is barred of his claim by a disallowance by the commissioners. Penderson v. Avery, 1 Root (Conn.) 103. But reference to such claim, may not be regarded as a judgment in the strict sense of the term, yet it operates as an adjudication between the claimant and the personal representative, and binds the latter and the estate equally with the former.[98] It follows that such allowance or disallowance is not subject to collateral attack.[99]

(B) Upon Heirs, Distributees, Etc. While the allowance of a claim against the estate by the court has been held to be prima facie binding on the heirs where they had due notice of the hearing and an opportunity to oppose the claim,[1] the general rule is that the allowance of a claim by the probate or county court is not conclusive as against the heir or distributee, and that he may contest such allowance when the representative's final account is presented for approval.[2] Neither does the allowance of a claim against the personal representative have the effect of creating a technical lien on the land as against the heir or devisee.[3]

(II) By Personal Representative. In some jurisdictions claims presented to the personal representatives and admitted and allowed by them acquire the character of liquidated and undisputed debts against the estate;[4] and the repre-

in Vermont the mere fact that a creditor's claim was disallowed by the commissioner raises no presumption that it was not presented in good faith or that he was not a "creditor" within the meaning of the statute. Bliss v. Little, 63 Vt. 86, 22 Atl. 13.

98. California.— Holt Mfg. Co. v. Ewing, 109 Cal. 353, 42 Pac. 435; Walkerly v. Bacon, 85 Cal. 137, 24 Pac. 638; In re McKinley, 49 Cal. 152.

Illinois.— Mason v. Bair, 33 Ill. 194.

Indiana.— La Porte v. Organ, 5 Ind. App. 369, 32 N. E. 342.

Iowa.— In re Pennock, 122 Iowa 622, 98 N. W. 480; Hendron v. Kinner, 110 Iowa 544, 80 N. W. 419, 81 N. W. 783; Ashton v. Miles, 49 Iowa 564; Little v. Sinnett, 7 Iowa 324.

Massachusetts.— See Mitchell v. Pease, 7 Cush. 350.

Minnesota.—McCord v. Knowlton, 79 Minn. 299, 82 N. W. 589; Barber v. Bowen, 47 Minn. 118, 49 N. W. 684.

Missouri.— Clark v. Bettelheim, 144 Mo. 258, 46 S. W. 135; Munday v. Leeper, 120 Mo. 417, 25 S. W. 381; Funk v. Seehorn, 99 Mo. App. 587, 74 S. W. 445.

Nebraska.— Yeatman v. Yeatman, 35 Nebr. 422, 53 N. W. 385.

Oregon.—Johnston v. Shofner, 23 Oreg. 111, 31 Pac. 254.

Texas.— Howard v. Battle, 18 Tex. 673. See also Swan v. House, 50 Tex. 650.

West Virginia.— Hurxthal v. St. Lawrence Boom, etc., Co., 53 W. Va. 87, 44 S. E. 520, 97 Am. St. Rep. 954.

Wisconsin.— Roberts v. Weadock, 98 Wis. 400, 74 N. W. 93.

United States.— Tate v. Norton, 94 U. S. 746, 24 L. ed. 222.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 849.

Mortgage.— Upon a claim against an estate being presented, contested, and disallowed, a mortgage given to secure it falls with it, and cannot afterward be enforced as a separate claim. Sanger v. Palmer, 36 Ill. App. 485.

Allowance of portion of claim.— The allowance by the personal representative of a portion of a claim against a decedent's estate and its approval by the probate court is not an adjudication as to the balance of the claim, which may be considered and disposed of just as if no such allowance had been made. Smith v. McFadden, 56 Iowa 482, 9 N. W. 350.

99. Stokes v. Pillow, 64 Ark. 1, 40 S. W. 580; Palm's Appeal, 44 Mich. 637, 7 N. W. 200; Clark v. Thias, 173 Mo. 628, 73 S. W. 616; Clark v. Bettelheim, 144 Mo. 258, 46 S. W. 135; Sutherland v. St. Lawrence County, 42 Misc. (N. Y.) 38, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 696.

1. Mason v. Bair, 33 Ill. 194, even though they did not avail themselves of such opportunity.

2. California.— Wise v. Williams, 88 Cal. 30, 25 Pac. 1064.

Florida.— Sanderson v. Sanderson, 17 Fla. 820.

Illinois.— Marshall v. Coleman, 187 Ill. 556, 58 N. E. 628 [modifying 89 Ill. App. 41]; Schlink v. Maxton, 153 Ill. 447, 38 N. E. 1063; Shepard v. Speer, 140 Ill. 238, 29 N. E. 718; Ward v. Derham, 134 Ill. 195, 25 N. E. 745; In re Corrington, 124 Ill. 363, 16 N. E. 252. See also Goeppner v. Leitzelmann, 98 Ill. 409.

Louisiana.— Minor v. Harding, 4 La. 378, if approval ex parte.

Montana.— In re Barker, 26 Mont. 279, 67 Pac. 941.

Vermont.— Wells v. Morse, 11 Vt. 9.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 531.

3. Noe v. Moutray, 170 Ill. 169, 48 N. E. 709; Hight v. Taylor, 97 Ind. 392; Hunt v. Rabitoay, 125 Mich. 137, 84 N. W. 59, 84 Am. St. Rep. 563; Mott v. Newark German Hospital, 55 N. J. Eq. 722, 37 Atl. 757, holding this to be true, even though the executor is the devisee.

4. Prudhomme's Succession, 23 La. Ann. 228; Schutz v. Morette, 146 N. Y. 137, 40 N. E. 780; Lambert v. Craft, 98 N. Y. 342; Magee v. Vedder, 6 Barb. (N. Y.) 352; Matter of Miner, 39 Misc. (N. Y.) 605, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 643; Matter of Von der Lieth, 25 Misc. (N. Y.) 255, 55 N. Y. Suppl. 428; Stonestreet v. Frost, 123 N. C. 640, 31 S. E. 836. See sentatives cannot thereafter question the propriety of their approval of a claim, unless there is manifest error.[5] But the heir is not bound by the extrajudicial statement of the personal representative that he believes the debt to be due.[6] The rejection of a claim by an executor or administrator is of no judicial force whatever, and cannot affect the creditor's right of action, but it merely remits him to his remedy by an action at law or the special proceeding allowed by statute to establish and enforce his claim.[7]

g. Appeal and Review — (i) In General. The statutes usually provide for an appeal from a final order, judgment, or decree of the probate court or commissioners, allowing a claim against a decedent's estate,[8] and the disallowance of also Baillio v. Wilson, 6 Mart. N. S. (La.) 334; Matter of Warrin, 56 N. Y. App. Div. 414, 67 N. Y. Suppl. 763.

Compromise agreement.— An executor who for a sufficient consideration has entered into a compromise agreement with a claimant against the estate is estopped to repudiate anything conceded thereby. Todd v. Terry, 26 Mo. App. 598.

Contingent claim.— An executor's approval of a claim, upon its face merely contingent, whether in conjunction with the ex parte act of the probate judge or not, cannot give it the validity of a judgment. Pico v. De la Guerra, 18 Cal. 422. See also Blanchard v. Conger, 61 Iowa 153, 16 N. W. 59, to the same effect.

Where there is no legal foundation for a claim the representative's recognition of it as proper to be paid is not binding upon him or the estate. Webster v. Le Compte, 74 Md. 249, 22 Atl. 232.

5. Beeman's Succession, 47 La. Ann. 1355, 17 So. 820; Winn's Succession, 33 La. Ann. 1392; Lilley's Succession, 6 Rob. (La.) 24.

In Ohio where a claim has been duly presented to and allowed by the administrator, no further allowance by a succeeding administrator de bonis non is required, but the allowance of the claim is not conclusive of its validity against the estate, and it may be contested by either the administrator who allowed it or the administrator de bonis non. Thomas v. Chamberlain, 39 Ohio St. 112.

6. Minor v. Harding, 4 La. 378.

7. Maryland.— See State v. Reigart, 1 Gill 1, 30 Am. Dec. 628.

New York.— Matter of Phyfe, 5 N. Y. Leg. Obs. 331.

Ohio.— Morgan v. Bartlette, 3 Ohio Cir. Ct. 431, 2 Ohio Cir. Dec. 244.

Pennsylvania.— Cowen v. Gonder, 5 Phila. 15.

United States.— U. S. v. Fidelity Trust Co., 121 Fed. 766, 58 C. C. A. 42.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 849.

8. Arkansas.— Page v. Ralph, 55 Ark. 52, 17 S. W. 365, holding likewise that since the remedy at law of the party aggrieved is ample a bill in chancery for correction will not lie.

California.— See In re Williams, (1893) 32 Pac. 241.

Colorado.— Clemes v. Fox, 6 Colo. App. 377, 40 Pac. 843.

Connecticut.— Peck v. Sturges, 11 Conn. 420.

Illinois.— Ramsley v. Whitbeck, 183 Ill. 550, 56 N. E. 322 [reversing 81 Ill. App. 210].

Indiana.— Taggart v. Tevanny, 1 Ind. App. 339, 27 N. E. 511.

Maryland.— Stevenson v. Schriver, 9 Gill & J. 324.

Michigan.— Smith v. Lloyd, 76 Mich. 619, 39 N. W. 756 (holding, however, that by appealing from the rejection of a claim by the commissioners, the claimant waives his right to ask for the appointment of a third commissioner); Patton v. Bostwick, 39 Mich. 218 (holding that an appeal is the only remedy, and that a bill in chancery will not lie); La Roe v. Freeland, 8 Mich. 531.

Minnesota.—State v. Hennepin County Probate Ct., 28 Minn. 381, 10 N. W. 209.

Nebraska.— Herman v. Beck, (Sup. 1903) 94 N. W. 512.

New Hampshire.— Cossar v. Truesdale, 69 N. H. 490, 45 Atl. 252.

Rhode Island.— Donnelly v. McNally, 19 R. I. 665, 37 Atl. 810, holding, however, that the statute [Gen. Laws, c. 215, § 6] providing for an appeal from a decree of the probate court, confirming the report of the commissioners, repeals that section of the statute [Pub. Laws, c. 186, § 13] providing for an appeal from the judgment of the commissioners.

Texas.— Glenn v. Kimbrough, 70 Tex. 147, 8 S. W. 81.

Vermont.— Robinson v. Robinson, 32 Vt. 738; Adams v. Adams, 22 Vt. 50, holding that where there are claims existing between the personal representative and the estate, the allowance of the claim by the commissioners may be reviewed and adjusted by the court of chancery.

Wisconsin.— Parry v. Wright, 20 Wis. 483.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 850.

But compare Treece v. Carr, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1900) 58 S. W. 1078, holding that where a master has reported a claim against an estate as just, and a chancellor has concurred therein, it is conclusive on appeal.

Order vacating order allowing claim appealable.— McKenna v. McCormick, 60 Nebr. 595, 83 N. W. 844.

Review of allowance of claim by certiorari see CERTIORARI, 6 Cyc. 730.

When appeal unnecessary.— No appeal is necessary from a decree of the probate court a claim by the court is also usually regarded as a final order which may be reviewed by appeal or writ of error;[9] but in several jurisdictions no appeal will lie from the disallowance of a claim by the personal representative or the probate court, the remedy of the party aggrieved being an action at law to enforce his claim.[10] Merely interlocutory orders or decrees with reference to the allowance of claims are not appealable,[11] nor will any appeal lie from a merely ministerial act of the judge.[12]

(II) OBJECTIONS AND EXCEPTIONS. Objections in the nature of exceptions to irregularities in the proceedings, on the hearing on a claim against a decedent's estate, previous to the final decree, must be taken at the time of the hearing, in order to be available on appeal.[13]

(III) WHO MAY APPEAL. As a general rule any person affected by a judgment or decree of the probate court may appeal therefrom, whether a party to the record or not.[14] The appellant must, however, show an interest in the matter litigated; a grievance, in the legal sense, existing only when the judgment, order, or decree complained of bears upon his interest;[15] and in several jurisdictions, creditors, devisees, legatees, or heirs can only appeal from the decision of the commissioners or the probate court, where the personal representative fails or declines to take such appeal.[16] which is wholly unauthorized and a mere nullity. Bond v. Dunbar, 2 N. H. 216.

Submission by mutual agreement.— Where by mutual agreement a contested claim is submitted to the decision of the probate court, such decision is final and no appeal lies. Piper v. Clark, 18 N. H. 415.

9. Alabama.— McNiel v. Macon, 20 Ala. 772.

California.— See In re Williams, (1893) 32 Pac. 241.

Colorado.— Clemes v. Fox, 6 Colo. App. 377, 40 Pac. 843.

Minnesota.— Capehart v. Logan, 20 Minn. 442, holding, however, that a creditor, in case of disallowance of a part of his claim, must appeal from the decision on the claim as presented, and not from that part of the decision disallowing a portion of his claim.

New Hampshire.— Chapman v. Gale, 32 N. H. 141.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 851.

10. In re Barker, 26 Mont. 279, 67 Pac. 941; In re Powning, 25 Nev. 428, 62 Pac. 235; Campbell v. Tackaberry, 51 Tex. 37; Wilkins v. Wilkins, 1 Wash. 87, 23 Pac. 411. See also Glenn v. Kimbrough, 70 Tex. 147, 8 S. W. 81.

11. In re Turner, 128 Cal. 388, 60 Pac. 967 (refusal to permit amendment of claim); Churchill v. Burt, 32 Mich. 490.

12. Kennedy v. Cress, 19 Iowa 42.

13. Alabama.— Watson v. McClanahan, 13 Ala. 57; Cook v. Davis, 12 Ala. 551. But see Street v. Street, 113 Ala. 333, 21 So. 138.

Indiana.— Brown v. Sullivan, 3 Ind. App. 211, 29 N. E. 453.

Kentucky.— McCarty v. McCarty, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 366.

Louisiana.— Gollain's Succession, 31 La. Ann. 173.

Missouri.— Chidsey v. Howell, 91 Mo. 622, 4 S. W. 446, 60 Am. Rep. 267.

Vermont.— Thorp v. Thorp, 75 Vt. 34, 52 Atl. 105.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 852.

14. Arkansas.— Jamison v. Adler-Goldman Commission Co., 59 Ark. 548, 28 S. W. 35.

Connecticut.— Fairweather v. Curtiss, 2 Root 32; Staniford v. Hide, 1 Root 263.

Maryland.— Stevenson v. Schriver, 9 Gill & J. 324.

Minnesota.— Lake v. Albert, 37 Minn. 453, 35 N. W. 177. See also Schultz v. Brown, 47 Minn. 255, 257, 49 N. W. 982.

New Hampshire.— Chapman v. Haley, 43 N. H. 300.

Texas.— Glenn v. Kimbrough, 70 Tex. 147, 8 S. W. 81; Harper v. Stroud, 41 Tex. 367.

Vermont.— Arnold v. Brook, 36 Vt. 204.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 853.

15. Alabama.— Anderson v. Anderson, 37 Ala. 683.

Connecticut.— Banks v. Basset, 2 Root 297, holding that an appeal from a judgment in probate does not lie in favor of a creditor, because another creditor is allowed too much by the commissioners, but the appeal must be taken by the personal representative.

Louisiana.— Pettis's Succession, 11 La. Ann. 177.

Montana.— See In re Barker, 26 Mont. 279, 67 Pac. 941, holding that a person in his capacity as administrator cannot appeal from an order disallowing his individual claim against the estate, and on such an appeal his individual rights will not be considered.

Pennsylvania.—Kern's Estate, 18 Pa. Super. Ct. 506.

Texas.— Stark v. Seale, 59 Tex. 1.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 853.

16. Downing v. Porter, 9 Mass. 386; Crouch v. Wayne Cir. Judges, 52 Mich. 596, 18 N. W. 374; Herman v. Beck, (Nebr. 1903) 94 N. W. 512; Gilbert v. Howe, 47 Vt. 402.

(iv) TIME FOR APPEALING. Statutes giving the right of appeal from an order or decree of the probate court usually fix the time within which such appeal must be taken, and the time runs from the date of entry of such order or decree.[17]

(v) APPLICATION, BOND, AND NOTICE. An application for appeal need not set forth upon oath a formal statement of the facts, but records of the probate court, or if need be evidence aliunde may supply the appellate court with the requisite proof.[18] Under the statutes of several states, the giving of a bond with sureties approved by the court is a condition precedent to the right to appeal,[19] and it is also ordinarily required that a notice of appeal should be given by the appellant to the other parties in interest.[20]

(vi) EFFECT OF APPEAL. The general rule is that an appeal from an order or decree of the probate court allowing or disallowing a claim has the effect of vacating such order or decree.[21]

(vii) PROCEEDINGS IN APPELLATE COURT. In several jurisdictions, on appeal from the order or decree of the probate court, there is a trial de novo, each party being entitled to a trial by jury at his election.[22] On the trial of an

17. In re Charles, 35 Minn. 438, 29 N. W. 170; Auerbach v. Gloyd, 34 Minn. 500, 27 N. W. 193; Schooley's Estate, 7 Kulp (Pa.) 226; Robinson v. Robinson, 32 Vt. 738. See also Cilley v. Flander, 62 Vt. 82, 19 Atl. 116.

Extension of time.— In Vermont, where the administrator failed to appeal from an order of allowance, a petition by the decedent's widow for leave to appeal after the time to appeal had expired, on the ground of "fraud, accident, or mistake," setting forth the facts of the case, was sufficient to call for the exercise of the discretion of the court and not demurrable. Congden v. Congden, 59 Vt. 597, 10 Atl. 732.

18. Connecticut.— Comstock's Appeal, 55 Conn. 214, 10 Atl. 559.

Illinois.— Thorp v. Goewey, 85 Ill. 611.

Michigan.— Winter v. Winter, 90 Mich. 197, 51 N. W. 363.

New Hampshire.— Cossar v. Truesdale, 69 N. H. 490, 45 Atl. 252.

Vermont.— Thorp v. Thorp, 75 Vt. 34, 52 Atl. 1051; Whitcomb v. Davenport, 63 Vt. 656, 22 Atl. 723; Woodbury v. Woodbury, 48 Vt. 94.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 858.

On appeal from the rejection of a claim by commissioners, the declaration must conform to the claim and the bill of particulars. Hilebrands v. Nibbelink, 40 Mich. 646.

Report of commissioners as declaration.— Where on appeal no new issue is formed in the circuit court and no declaration is filed, the report of the commissioners setting forth the nature of the claim will stand as a declaration in the case, and any judgment beyond the claim presented to the commissioners is erroneous. White v. Allen, 18 Mich. 194.

19. Sullivan v. Breen, 93 Ill. App. 526; Home Sav. Bank v. Lillibridge, 113 Mich. 385, 71 N. W. 638; King v. Gridley, 69 Mich. 84, 37 N. W. 50; Dickinson's Appeal, 2 Mich. 337; Arnold v. Brook, 36 Vt. 204.

The power to approve such bond cannot be delegated to the clerk of the court. Sullivan v. Breen, 93 Ill. App. 526.

The personal representative is specially exempted from giving bond on appeal from an order granting an allowance, under the Texas statute. Adoue v. Gonzales, 22 Tex. Civ. App. 73, 54 S. W. 367.

20. McIntosh v. Wheeler, 58 Kan. 324, 49 Pac. 77; Home Sav. Bank v. Lillibridge, 113 Mich. 385, 71 N. W. 638 (holding, however, that under Howell Annot. St. § 5910, providing that on appeal from the decision of the commissioners on a claim against a decedent's estate appellant shall give notice in such manner as the judge of probate shall direct, notice need not be given to other creditors of the estate by a claimant appealing from the disallowance of his claim, where the probate judge does not direct it to be given them); Schultz v. Brown, 47 Minn. 255, 257, 49 N. W. 982; Lake v. Albert, 37 Minn. 453, 35 N. W. 117; Field v. Smith, 62 N. H. 698 (holding that an appeal from the decision of a commissioner disallowing a claim will be dismissed where it appears that no service of the petition and declaration has been made upon the administrator). But see Glenn v. Kimbrough, 70 Tex. 147, 8 S. W. 81, holding that under the Texas statutes the heirs may appeal from the allowance of a claim against the estate, without giving notice of such appeal, although they did not appear and contest the claim in the probate court.

21. Smith v. Lloyd, 76 Mich. 619, 39 N. W. 756; Callaghan v. Grenet, 66 Tex. 236, 17 S. W. 507; Manchester Dist. Probate Ct. v. Kent, 49 Vt. 380; Woodbury v. Woodbury, 48 Vt. 94; Stearns v. Stearns, 30 Vt. 213.

An appeal from the decision of commissioners whether taken within twenty days, or allowed by the supreme or county court after twenty days have expired, is but a continuance of the same proceeding, and simply transfers the case from one tribunal to another. Calderwood v. Calderwood, 38 Vt. 171.

22. Connecticut.— Comstock's Appeal, 55 Conn. 214, 10 Atl. 559; Middletown Fourth Ecclesiastical Soc. v. Mather, 15 Conn. 587.

appeal the case cannot be enlarged and no claim can be heard which was not passed upon in the first instance;[23] but upon motion of the appellant the court may require the claimant to make his claim more specific and definite.[24] The presumption is in favor of the regularity of the presentment and proof in the lower tribunal,[25] but upon a review of matters wholly within the discretion of the probate court, all of the facts which may have actuated the court should be presented.[26] As a general rule, the order, judgment, or decree of the lower tribunal will not be reversed where the error complained of is harmless, nor for causes not apparent of record.[27]

h. Costs. In some jurisdictions, where a formal presentment and establishment of claims against the estate is requisite, costs are allowed the successful claimant where his claim is contested.[28] But an estate is not liable for the costs on claims filed after the term of court designated by the statutes for the adjustment thereof.[29] The allowance of costs to the party prevailing and against the unsuccessful party is usually within the discretion of the court.[30]

C. Disputed Claims — 1. Contest of Claims in General — a. Who May Contest or Object to Claims. The representative may contest any claim which in his opinion ought not be allowed against the estate,[1] and any person having an inter-

Illinois.— Thorp v. Goewey, 85 Ill. 611.

Michigan.— Patrick v. Howard, 47 Mich. 40, 10 N. W. 71.

Missouri.— Watkins v. Donnelly, 88 Mo. 322.

New Hampshire.— See Elwell v. Roper, 72 N. H. 254, 56 Atl. 242.

Oregon.— Johnston v. Shofner, 23 Oreg. 111, 31 Pac. 254.

Vermont.— Lynde v. Davenport, 57 Vt. 597; Woodbury v. Woodbury, 48 Vt. 94. But see Hurlburt v. Miller, 72 Vt. 110, 47 Atl. 393, holding that the allowance of the trial of an issue of fact by a jury is discretionery with the county court.

Wisconsin.— York v. Orton, 65 Wis. 6, 26 N. W. 166. But see Moerchen v. Stoll, 48 Wis. 307, 4 N. W. 352.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 860–861.

23. Patrick v. Howard, 47 Mich. 40, 10 N. W. 71.

24. Watkins v. Donnelly, 88 Mo. 322.

25. Boggs v. Mobile Branch Bank, 12 Ala. 494; Cox v. Higginbotham, 76 S. W. 1079, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1057; Wright v. Pate, (Tex. Sup. 1886) 1 S. W. 661. See also In re Osburn, 36 Oreg. 8, 58 Pac. 521.

Where the action of the lower tribunal was dependent upon questions of fact, such action will not be disturbed unless manifest error be made to appear. Gilliland's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 138, 19 Pa. Co. Ct. 285.

26. Gibson v. Brennan, 46 Minn. 92, 48 N. W. 460.

27. Baskins v. Wylds, 39 Ark. 347 (where, however, the judgment was reversed for want of due notice to the personal representative which fact appeared of record); Anderson v. Greensburgh, etc., Turnpike Co., 48 Ind. 467; Harman v. McMullin, 85 Va. 187, 7 S. E. 349; Tredway v. Allen, 20 Wis. 475.

28. Crane v. Hopkins, 6 Ind. 44; Gibbs v. Mann, 4 Mo. 55; Carter v. Barnum, 24 Misc. (N. Y.) 220, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 539, 28 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 161; Browning v. Vanderhoven, 4 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 166; Mason v. Codwise, 6 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 297; Sutton v. Sutton, 21 Vt. 74. See also O'Hear v. Skeeles, 22 Vt. 152.

29. Russell v. Hubbard, 59 Ill. 335; Floyd v. Miller, 61 Ind. 224, holding, however, that the costs cannot be taxed against a claimant against decedent's estate, unless such claim was filed more than a year after the issuance of letters of administration and due notice thereof. And see Walters v. Hutchins, 29 Ind. 136.

30. Gillett v. McFarlan, 106 Iowa 746, 76 N. W. 663; Munn v. Munn, 20 N. J. Eq. 472; Resser's Appeal, 39 Leg. Int. (Pa.) 421; Bartolet's Appeal, 1 Walk. (Pa.) 77 (holding that where an executor presents an unfounded claim against the estate, the court may charge him with the costs of witnesses called in support of the claim); Danner's Estate, 2 Lehigh Val. L. Rep. (Pa.) 442 (holding that the fees of witnesses produced before the auditor in support of a claim which the auditor rejected as unfounded were properly disallowed as against the estate); Sharp's Estate, 1 Lehigh Val. L. Rep. (Pa.) 228. See also Metzger's Estate, 18 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 43; Burbaker's Estate, 4 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 90 (holding that where moneys wrongfully paid under mistake of fact to an administrator are directed by the court to be paid by the administrator to the party rightfully entitled, the costs of audit will be directed to be paid from the two funds, each bearing its proportionate part); Miers v. Betterton, 18 Tex. Civ. App. 430, 45 S. W. 430. See, however, McCullough's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 87, 20 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 471, holding that if a claimant is unsuccessful in the prosecution of his claim against the estate he becomes personally liable for the costs.

1. Bell v. Faison, 53 Miss. 354; Overstreet v. Trainer, 24 Miss. 484; Matter of Parker, 1 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 154. See also Richard v. Ouviere, 10 La. Ann. 723.

est in the estate adverse to the allowance of the claim may contest it.[2] Heirs and distributees may contest the allowance of the claims of creditors,[3] or of the representative;[4] and one creditor may contest the claims of other creditors,[5] provided the assets are insufficient to pay the claims of all;[6] but an objection cannot be made by a person who, although interested in the estate, could not be benefited by a disallowance of the claim.[7]

b. Duty of Representative to Contest Claims.[8] It is the duty of the representative to contest all claims presented against the estate which he believes, or has reason to believe, are unfounded or unjust,[9] or which are not presented and authenticated according to the requirements of the statute.[10] But the propriety of contesting particular claims must frequently be left largely to the representative's discretion and no presumption of bad faith or misconduct will be made against him.[11]

c. Grounds of Objection. Objections to a claim may be based on a denial of its justice or validity,[12] or may rest on the ground that the claim is barred,[13] or that the claimant has not complied with the statutory requirements as to its presentation and authentication.[14] But it is not a valid objection to the claim of a creditor that a similar demand has been presented against another estate,[15] or to the claim of a representative that he has not filed his administration bond.[16]

A special administrator may contest claims against the estate but his authority ceases upon the appointment and qualification of a general administrator. Cadman v. Richards, 13 Nebr. 383, 14 N. W. 159.

2. Mackey v. Ballou, 112 Ind. 198, 13 N. E. 715; King v. Rockhill, 41 N. J. Eq. 273, 7 Atl. 437; Mason v. Taft, 23 R. I. 388, 50 Atl. 648. See also Matter of Parker, 1 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 154.

One who has purchased real estate, which, there being no personal property, is liable to be sold by the administrator to make assets to pay an allowance, if it is a legal charge against the estate, has such an interest as gives him a right to contest its validity. Mackey v. Ballou, 112 Ind. 198, 13 N. E. 715.

A judgment in favor of a representative upon a claim presented by him and rejected by the judge may be contested by any person interested in the estate in the same manner as other allowed claims; but in such cases the burden is upon the person contesting to show that the claim was not properly allowed. In re More, 121 Cal. 635, 54 Pac. 148.

3. Romero's Succession, 28 La. Ann. 607.

Under the Ohio statute an heir may file a requisition on the representative to disallow and reject a claim, but this provision does not apply to the payment of legacies, nor can a legatee or devisee file such a requisition. Hunt v. Hayes, 19 Ohio Cir. Ct. 151, 10 Ohio Cir. Dec. 388.

4. Cover v. Stockdale, 16 Md. 1; Willcox v. Smith, 26 Barb. (N. Y.) 316; Hoch's Appeal, 21 Pa. St. 280.

5. Cavaroc v. Fournet, 28 La. Ann. 587; Oates v. Lilly, 84 N. C. 643; Mason v. Taft, 23 R. I. 388, 50 Atl. 648.

One not shown to be a creditor of the succession cannot oppose the allowance of claims set up by others. Floyd's Succession, 12 Rob. (La.) 197.

6. See Cavaroc v. Fournet, 28 La. Ann. 587; Mason v. Taft, 23 R. I. 388, 50 Atl. 648.

7. Hoopes' Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 67.

8. Duty to interpose statute of limitations see supra, X, A, 18, b.

Duty to interpose statute of non-claim see supra, X, B, 13.

9. Alabama.— Teague v. Corbitt, 57 Ala. 529; Green v. Fagan, 15 Ala. 335.

Arkansas.— Rogers v. Wilson, 13 Ark. 507.

Connecticut.—Winchell v. Sanger, 73 Conn. 399, 47 Atl. 706, 66 L. R. A. 935.

Illinois.— Marshall v. Coleman, 187 Ill. 556, 58 N. E. 628 [modifying 89 Ill. App. 41].

Indiana.— Ray v. Moore, 24 Ind. App. 480, 56 N. E. 937.

Maryland.— Strasbaugh v. Dallam, 93 Md. 712, 50 Atl. 417.

New York.— In re Lydicker, 1 N. Y. Suppl. 895.

West Virginia.—Crotty v. Eagle, 35 W. Va. 143, 13 S. E. 59.

England.— In re Rownson, 29 Ch. D. 358, 49 J. P. 759, 54 L. J. Ch. 950, 52 L. T. Rep. N. S. 825, 35 Wkly. Rep. 605.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 866.

The same degree of diligence must be exercised as in the prosecution of actions accruing to him in his representative capacity. Teague v. Corbitt, 57 Ala. 529.

10. Walker v. Byers, 14 Ark. 246.

11. Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227.

12. Koch v. Alker, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 148. See also In re Depuy, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 121.

13. Bowling v. Lamar, 1 Gill (Md.) 358; Oates v. Lilly, 84 N. C. 643. See also Yingling v. Hesson, 16 Md. 112.

14. Beirne v. Imboden, 14 Ark. 237, holding further that an objection for want of proper authentication may be taken by either plea, motion, or objection to the admissibility of evidence.

15. Montgomery's Estate, 3 Brewst. (Pa.) 306.

16. In re Houck, 23 Oreg. 10, 17 Pac. 461.

d. Time For Making Objection. Where the time for making objections is limited by statute no objection can be made after the time limited on any ground existing prior to the expiration of this period,[17] but objections founded on matters subsequently occurring may be interposed at any time prior to the rendition of a final decree in favor of the creditor,[18] and the court may also in its discretion extend the time originally limited.[19] An objection for want of proper authentication of a claim may be made at any time before final judgment,[20] but not thereafter.[21] Distributees may contest a claim of the representative without waiting for him to exhibit an administration account including the same.[22]

e. Waiver of Objections and Estoppel. Mere silence on the part of a representative after presentation of a claim, accompanied by lapse of time, will not preclude him from thereafter contesting its validity,[23] but by filing at the instance of an alleged creditor an account including the latter's claim he will be estopped to dispute its validity,[24] and if by verbally admitting the validity of a claim and stating that it will be paid he induces a third person to take the claim he cannot thereafter contest it in the hands of such third person.[25] The heirs may also be estopped by their conduct from contesting a claim,[26] and where the heirs are estopped the representative is also estopped in a proceeding where he represents only their interests.[27] Refusal to pay a claim on the sole ground that it was not presented in time is a waiver of objections as to the manner in which it was presented,[28] and objections based on irregularities in filing and docketing a claim are waived by a general appearance of the representative.[29]

2. Arbitration, Reference, and Hearing Before Commissioners — a. Arbitration[30] — (i) Right to Submit Disputed Claims. An executor or administrator has the right, both at common law and under express statutes in some jurisdictions, to submit to arbitration claims against the estate which he represents.[31] No special authority from the probate court is required for the exercise of this right,[32] nor is the right affected by statutory provisions authorizing a reference of disputed claims.[33] The heirs or other persons beneficially interested have

17. Chandler v. Wynne, 85 Ala. 301, 4 So. 653; Moore v. Winston, 66 Ala. 296; Thornton v. Moore, 61 Ala. 347.

18. Thames v. Herbert, 61 Ala. 340. See also in this connection Thornton v. Moore, 61 Ala. 347.

19. King v. Rockhill, 41 N. J. Eq. 273, 7 Atl. 437.

20. Beirne v. Imboden, 14 Ark. 237.

21. Clark v. Bomford, 20 Ark. 440.

22. Cover v. Stockdale, 16 Md. 1.

23. In re Callahan, 152 N. Y. 320, 46 N. E. 486 [reversing 87 Hun 210, 33 N. Y. Suppl. 1016]; Matter of Brown, 76 N. Y. App. Div. 185, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 297, 12 N. Y. Annot. Cas. 37; Matter of Clauss, 16 N. Y. App. Div. 34, 44 N. Y. Suppl. 805. Compare Wright v. Beirne, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 539.

24. Wright v. Beirne, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 539.

25. Swenson v. Walker, 3 Tex. 93.

26. Jenks v. Black, 96 Mich. 122, 55 N. W. 563.

27. Jenks v. Black, 96 Mich. 122, 55 N. W. 563.

28. Kentucky Title Co. v. English, 50 S. W. 968, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 2024.

29. Sanders v. Hartge, 17 Ind. App. 243, 46 N. E. 604.

30. See supra, V, I.

31. New York.— Wood v. Tunnicliff, 74 N. Y. 38.

Ohio.— Childs v. Updyke, 9 Ohio St. 333. See also Bradstreet v. Pross, 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 154, 11 Cinc. L. Bul. 117.

Pennsylvania.— Grace v. Sutton, 5 Watts 540.

South Dakota.— Unterrainer v. Seelig, 13 S. D. 148, 82 N. W. 394.

Texas.— Yarborough v. Leggett, 14 Tex. 677. Compare Callaghan v. Grenet, 66 Tex. 236, 18 S. W. 507.

Vermont.— Dickinson v. Dutcher, Brayt. 104.

Virginia.— Nelson v. Cornwell, 11 Gratt. 724; Wheatley v. Martin, 6 Leigh 62.

United States.— Strodes v. Patton, 23 Fed. Cas. No. 13,538, 1 Brock. 228.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 873.

Contra.— Clark v. Hogle, 52 Ill. 427.

One of two administrators may submit a matter in dispute between himself in right of his intestate and another to arbitration and the award will bind the estate. Grace v. Sutton, 5 Watts (Pa.) 540.

Claims not referable under the statute may be submitted to arbitration. Wood v. Tunnicliff, 74 N. Y. 38.

32. Unterrainer v. Seelig, 13 S. D. 148, 82 N. W. 394; Dickinson v. Dutcher, Brayt. (Vt.) 104.

33. Wood v. Tunnicliff, 74 N. Y. 38; Childs v. Updyke, 9 Ohio St. 333; Unterrainer v. Seelig, 13 S. D. 148, 82 N. W. 394; Powers v. Douglass, 53 Vt. 471, 38 Am. Rep. 699.

no right to submit a claim against the estate to arbitration while the estate is subject to administration.[34]

(II) Submission— (A) Form. A valid submission to arbitration may be made by parol,[35] and there need not be any express agreement to abide by the award, as this will be implied from the fact of submission.[36]

(B) Effect. An agreement to submit to arbitration is not an admission of assets,[37] unless the representative covenants to abide by and pay the amount of the award,[38] and not even then if from the articles of submission a contrary intention appears.[39]

(III) Powers of Arbitrators. The powers of arbitrators and the extent of their authority depend upon the terms of the agreement between the parties,[40] which will be strictly construed.[41]

(IV) Operation and Effect of Award.[42] At common law a representative who submitted disputed claims to arbitration acted at his peril, and if the award was less favorable to the estate than an action at law would have been he might be held liable to account for the deficiency to the heirs or other persons interested in the estate;[43] but the award was binding and the injury could be redressed only by charging the representative with a devastavit.[44] This rule has, however, been changed by statute in some jurisdictions.[45] The award is binding upon the representative,[46] and upon the creditors of the estate,[47] and also upon the heirs and devisees, although they may in some cases hold the representative individually liable.[48] As against the representative it has been held that if he covenants to abide by and pay the amount of the award he will be personally bound for the full amount awarded,[49] although in form he covenanted as representative,[50] unless from a fair construction of the articles of submission a contrary intention appears;[51] but in the absence of such an agreement he is bound only in his representative capacity and according to the amount of assets.[52] The submis-

34. Stahl v. Brown, 72 Iowa 720, 32 N. W. 105.

35. Whitney v. Phœnix, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 180; Valentine v. Valentine, 2 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 430.

36. Valentine v. Valentine, 2 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 430.

37. Grace v. Sutton, 5 Watts (Pa.) 540; Pearson v. Henry, 5 T. R. 6, 2 Rev. Rep. 523 [disapproving Barry v. Rush, 1 T. R. 691, 1 Rev. Rep. 360]. See infra, X, C, 2, b, (IV), (B). Contra, Riddell v. Sutton, 5 Bing. 200, 7 L. J. C. P. O. S. 60, 2 M. & P. 345, 30 Rev. Rep. 569, 15 E. C. L. 541.

38. Barry v. Rush, 1 T. R. 691, 1 Rev. Rep. 360. See also Wood v. Tunnicliff, 74 N. Y. 38.

39. McKeen v. Oliphant, 18 N. J. L. 442.

40. Alexander v. Burton, 21 N. C. 469. See also Montgomery's Appeal, 3 Pa. Cas. 514, 7 Atl. 231.

41. Alexander v. Burton, 21 N. C. 469.

42. See supra, V, I.

43. Kentucky.— Overly v. Overly, 1 Metc. 117.

Massachusetts.— Bean v. Farnam, 6 Pick. 269.

New Jersey.— Crum v. Moore, 14 N. J. Eq. 436, 82 Am. Dec. 262.

New York.— Wood v. Tunnicliff, 74 N. Y. 38.

Texas.— Yarborough v. Leggett, 14 Tex. 677.

Virginia.— Nelson v. Cornwell, 11 Gratt. 724; Wheatley v. Martin, 6 Leigh 62.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 887.

44. Wheatley v. Martin, 6 Leigh (Va.) 62.

45. Overly v. Overly, 1 Metc. (Ky.) 117; Chadbourn v. Chadbourn, 9 Allen (Mass.) 173; Yarborough v. Leggett, 14 Tex. 677.

46. Massachusetts.— Bean v. Farnam, 6 Pick. 269.

New Jersey.— Crum v. Moore, 14 N. J. Eq. 436, 82 Am. Dec. 262.

New York.— Wood v. Tunnicliff, 74 N. Y. 38.

Virginia.— Wheatley v. Martin, 6 Leigh 62.

United States.— Strodes v. Patton, 23 Fed. Cas. No. 13,538, 1 Brock. 228.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 885, 887.

47. Strodes v. Patton, 23 Fed. Cas. No. 13,538, 1 Brock. 228.

48. Wheatley v. Martin, 6 Leigh (Va.) 62.

49. Powers v. Douglass, 53 Vt. 471, 38 Am. Rep. 699; Barry v. Rush, 1 T. R. 691, 1 Rev. Rep. 360. See also Wood v. Tunnicliff, 74 N. Y. 38.

50. Barry v. Rush, 1 T. R. 691, 1 Rev. Rep. 360. See also Wood v. Tunnicliff, 74 N. Y. 38.

51. McKeen v. Oliphant, 18 N. J. L. 442. See also Wood v. Tunnicliff, 74 N. Y. 38.

52. Grace v. Sutton, 5 Watts (Pa.) 540; Powers v. Douglass, 53 Vt. 471, 38 Am. Rep. 699; Wheatley v. Martin, 6 Leigh (Va.) 62; Pearson v. Henry, 5 T. R. 6, 2 Rev. Rep. 523 [distinguishing Barry v. Rush, 1 T. R. 691, 1 Rev. Rep. 360].

sion is an implied promise to pay from the assets in his hands and no further promise is necessary to sustain an action on this award.[53] As between different creditors, an award in favor of one does not entitle him to any priority of payment over other creditors but merely establishes and liquidates the claim.[54]

b. Reference[55] — (I) STATUTORY PROVISIONS. There are in many jurisdictions statutory provisions expressly authorizing a submission of disputed claims to referees.[56] These statutes are designed merely to afford an expeditious and inexpensive method of determining such claims,[57] and do not preclude the right of the parties to resort to arbitration[58] or to an ordinary action at law,[59] nor do they make it the duty of either party to offer to refer.[60] The statutory reference has been said to be not an action but a special proceeding,[61] but it is a judicial proceeding terminating in a judgment,[62] and is substantially a suit.[63]

(II) WHAT CLAIMS MAY BE REFERRED. Only such claims may be referred as the statutes permitting the reference authorize.[64] Statutes providing generally for a reference of all claims against the estate cover all claims of whatever nature which the representative is competent to settle and adjust,[65] which have been rejected or disputed by him;[66] and so include claims of an equitable as well as of

53. Swicard v. Wilson, 2 Mill (S. C.) 218.

54. Wood v. Tunnicliff, 74 N. Y. 38.

55. See supra, V, I.

56. Maryland.—Browne v. Preston, 38 Md. 373.

Michigan.— Shepherd v. Shepherd, 108 Mich. 82, 65 N. W. 580.

Mississippi.— Bell v. Faison, 53 Miss. 354; Boyd v. Lowry, 53 Miss. 352; Allen v. Miles, 36 Miss. 640.

New Hampshire.— McLaughlin v. Newton, 53 N. H. 531; Kingman v. Probate Judge, 31 N. H. 171.

New York.— Hustis v. Aldridge, 144 N. Y. 508, 39 N. E. 649; Wood v. Tunnicliff, 74 N. Y. 38; Eighmie v. Strong, 49 Hun 16, 1 N. Y. Suppl. 502, 15 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 119; Francisco v. Fitch, 25 Barb. 130; Russell v. Lane, 1 Barb. 519; Brockett v. Bush, 18 Abb. Pr. 337.

North Carolina.— McLeod v. Graham, 132 N. C. 473, 43 S. E. 935; Dunn v. Beaman, 126 N. C. 766, 36 S. E. 172; Lassiter v. Upchurch, 107 N. C. 411, 12 S. E. 63.

Ohio.— Anderson v. Baker, 15 Ohio St. 173; Childs v. Updyke, 9 Ohio St. 333; Bradstreet v. Pross, 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 154, 11 Cinc. L. Bul. 117.

South Dakota.— Unterrainer v. Seelig, 13 S. D. 148, 82 N. W. 394.

Vermont.— Noyes v. Phillips, 57 Vt. 229.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 870 et seq.

Under the New York statute, as amended in 1893 on entry of the order of reference, the proceeding becomes an action in the supreme court and the reference is given the same standing as a reference in an action. Lee v. Lee, 85 Hun 588, 33 N. Y. Suppl. 115; Rutherford v. Soop, 85 Hun 119, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 636; Jenkinson v. Harris, 27 Misc. 714, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 548.

In Pennsylvania the statute provides for the reference of disputed claims to an auditor for determination. See Coulston's Estate, 161 Pa. St. 151, 28 Atl. 1020 [affirming 3 Pa. Dist. 99, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 243]; Curley's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 276, 23 Pa. Co. Ct. 659; Burton's Estate, 3 Pa. Dist. 755, 15 Pa. Co. Ct. 367; Seybert's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 35.

57. Roulston v. Roulston, 5 Misc. (N. Y.) 569, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 667; Lassiter v. Upchurch, 107 N. C. 411, 12 S. E. 63.

58. Wood v. Tunnicliff, 74 N. Y. 38; Childs v. Updyke, 9 Ohio St. 333; Unterrainer v. Seelig, 13 S. D. 148, 82 N. W. 394; Powers v. Douglass, 53 Vt. 471, 38 Am. Rep. 699.

59. Mowell v. Van Buren, 77 Hun (N. Y.) 569, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 1035.

60. Proude v. Whiton, 15 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 304.

Privilege of reference may be waived by representative. Terry v. Cape Fear Bank, 20 Fed. 773.

61. Eldred v. Eames, 115 N. Y. 401, 22 N. E. 216; Mowry v. Peet, 88 N. Y. 453; Mowell v. Van Buren, 77 Hun (N. Y.) 569, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 1035; Denise v. Denise, 41 Hun (N. Y.) 9; Coe v. Coe, 37 Barb. (N. Y.) 232, 14 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 86; Robert v. Ditmas, 7 Wend. (N. Y.) 522.

62. Coe v. Coe, 37 Barb. (N. Y.) 232, 14 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 86.

63. Coe v. Coe, 37 Barb. (N. Y.) 232, 14 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 86; Robert v. Ditmas, 7 Wend. (N. Y.) 522.

64. Dana v. Prescott, 1 Mass. 200.

65. Skidmore v. Post, 32 Hun (N. Y.) 54; Francisco v. Fitch, 25 Barb. (N. Y.) 130; Russell v. Lane, 1 Barb. (N. Y.) 519; Brockett v. Bush, 18 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 337; Noyes v. Phillips, 57 Vt. 229.

Individual claim of representative may be referred. Dana v. Prescott, 1 Mass. 200; McLaughlin v. Newton, 53 N. H. 531.

A claim of a ward of the deceased accruing in his lifetime for a balance of a trust fund is a claim "against deceased" for which his estate is liable, and may be referred. Fowler v. Hebbard, 40 N. Y. App. Div. 108, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 531.

66. Buckhout v. Hunt, 16 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 407. holding that until a claim has been rejected or disputed by the representative the a legal nature,[67] and claims arising out of tort as well as out of contract;[68] but claims against the estate within the meaning of the statutes comprise only such as accrued during the life of the decedent or would have accrued against him if he had lived,[69] and a statute providing only for a reference of claims against the estate does not authorize a reference of claims in favor of the estate.[70]

(III) Refusal to Refer. Either the representative or the claimant may refuse to refer a disputed claim upon an offer to refer made by the other party,[71] but the probate court has no discretion to refuse a reference where the representative and claimant mutually agree thereto.[72] Neither party can be said to have refused to refer until the other has in some way manifested his willingness to do so,[73] but a neglect to answer an offer or proposition to refer might be deemed a refusal.[74]

(IV) Agreement to Refer—(A) Form. In the case of a statutory reference, although the offer to refer may be by parol,[75] the agreement itself must be in writing,[76] and must be submitted to the surrogate or probate judge for approval,[77] and filed in the office of the county clerk.[78] The agreement to refer should substantially present the issues between the parties,[79] but matters of defense need not be set up therein.[80]

(B) Effect. An agreement to refer and the filing of such agreement in the office of the clerk operates as a voluntary appearance by the parties,[81] and is also a waiver of the right to have the matter in dispute tried by a jury.[82] The agree-claimant is not in a position to propose a reference.

A judgment docketed against the decedent in his lifetime is not a claim which may be rejected and referred, but is a debt, the validity of which has been established by a court of competent jurisdiction. Matter of Browne, 35 Misc. (N. Y.) 362, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 1034.

67. Skidmore v. Post, 32 Hun (N. Y.) 54; White v. Story, 43 Barb. (N. Y.) 124; Francisco v. Fitch, 25 Barb. (N. Y.) 130; Brockett v. Bush, 18 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 337. Compare Sands v. Craft, 10 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 216, 18 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 438.

68. Brockett v. Bush, 18 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 337 [disapproving Akely v. Akely, 17 How. Pr. 21].

69. Van Slooten v. Dodge, 145 N. Y. 327, 39 N. E. 950; Shorter v. Mackey, 13 N. Y. App. Div. 20, 43 N. Y. Suppl. 112; Godding v. Porter, 17 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 374; Joyce v. McGuire, 2 N. Y. City Ct. 422. See also Skidmore v. Post, 32 Hun (N. Y.) 54.

A claim of the representative as such against the estate cannot be referred. Dana v. Prescott, 1 Mass. 200.

A claim for a legacy is not a claim against the estate which an executor may refer under the statute. Godding v. Porter, 17 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 374.

The claim of an executor against the estate of his deceased co-executor for property, the use of which was given to the co-executor for life by the will, is not a claim against the testator's estate which may be referred if disputed but is a claim against the estate of the co-executor. Shorter v. Mackey, 13 N. Y. App. Div. 20, 43 N. Y. Suppl. 112.

The fact that an item of the claim accrued after decedent's death does not deprive the referees of authority to allow it. McDaniels v. McDaniels, 40 Vt. 340, 94 Am. Dec. 408.

70. Wood v. Tunnicliff, 74 N. Y. 38.

71. Wood v. Tunnicliff, 74 N. Y. 38; Proude v. Whiton, 15 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 304.

72. Kingman v. Probate Judge, 31 N. H. 171.

73. Buckhout v. Hunt, 16 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 407; Proude v. Whiton, 15 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 304.

An unqualified rejection of a claim by a representative, unaccompanied by an offer to refer, is not equivalent to a refusal to do so. Buckhout v. Hunt, 16 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 407; Proude v. Whiton, 15 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 304 [overruling Fort v. Gooding, 9 Barb. 388].

74. See Proude v. Whiton, 15 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 304.

75. Roberts v. Pike, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 559, 19 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 422 [affirmed in 14 N. Y. Suppl. 957].

76. Bucklin v. Chapin, 53 Barb. (N. Y.) 488, 35 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 155. See also Roberts v. Pike, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 559, 19 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 422; Noyes v. Phillips, 57 Vt. 229.

77. Burnett v. Gould, 27 Hun (N. Y.) 366. See also Anderson v. Baker, 15 Ohio St. 173.

78. Burnett v. Gould, 27 Hun (N. Y.) 366. See also Anderson v. Baker, 15 Ohio St. 173.

79. Woodin v. Bagley, 13 Wend. (N. Y.) 453.

80. Tracy v. Suydam, 30 Barb. (N. Y.) 110.

81. Tracy v. Suydam, 30 Barb. (N. Y.) 110.

82. Adams v. Brady, 67 Hun (N. Y.) 521, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 466 [affirmed in 139 N. Y. 608, 35 N. E. 203]; Masten v. Budington, 18 Hun (N. Y.) 105.

The waiver is not restricted to the first reference to which the parties consented, and if the report is rejected the court may against the consent of one of the parties appoint a new referee and resubmit the claim. Adams ment to refer is not an admission on the part of the representative of sufficient assets to pay the claim,[83] nor is an offer to refer made by a representative after a refusal to pay a claim a waiver of the statute of limitations, unless the offer is accepted before the claim is barred and there is an actual submission as proposed.[84]

(v) Waiver of Defects. Statutory provisions which are not jurisdictional but relate merely to matters of procedure may be waived by the parties,[85] and where the court has jurisdiction of the subject-matter the voluntary appearance of the parties confers jurisdiction of their persons and is a waiver of all irregularities in the prior proceedings,[86] but the representative by consenting to refer does not waive the objection that the claim was not referable under the statute.[87]

(vi) Selection and Appointment of Referees. Under some of the statutes the selection of the referees is made by the parties agreeing to the reference as a part of their agreement and then submitted to the probate court for approval,[88] and the probate judge cannot make the selection unless the parties have failed to agree and consent to accept such persons as he may select,[89] or one of the referees selected refuses to serve,[90] or the report of the first referees is rejected and the claim is referred to new referees.[91] Under other statutes the selection is made by the probate judge[92] upon notice to all persons who may be affected by the proceedings.[93] The number of referees is ordinarily specified by statute,[94] but the parties may agree to the appointment of a different number,[95] or that the probate judge shall himself act as referee.[96]

(vii) Powers of Referees. The referees possess only such powers as are expressly conferred or may be fairly inferred from the provisions of the statute authorizing the reference.[97]

v. Brady, 67 Hun (N. Y.) 521, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 466.

83. Sinclair v. Wilson, 3 Penr. & W. (Pa.) 167; Hoare v. Muloy, 2 Yeates (Pa.) 161. See supra, X, C, 2, a, (II), (B).

84. Cornes v. Wilkin, 79 N. Y. 129 [affirming 14 Hun 428].

85. Shepherd v. Shepherd, 108 Mich. 82, 65 N. W. 580; Bradstreet v. Pross, 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 154, 11 Cinc. L. Bul. 117.

86. Montgomery v. Burgess, 92 Hun (N. Y.) 289, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 711; Bucklin v. Chapin, 53 Barb. (N. Y.) 488, 35 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 155. See also Regan v. Stone, 7 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 104; In re Ludlam, 13 Pa. St. 188; Benedict's Estate, 4 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 99.

87. Van Slooten v. Dodge, 145 N. Y. 327, 29 N. E. 950; Shorter v. Mackey, 13 N. Y. App. Div. 20, 43 N. Y. Suppl. 112.

88. Tilney v. Clendenning, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 212.

89. Tilney v. Clendenning, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 212.

90. Hustis v. Aldridge, 144 N. Y. 508, 39 N. E. 649, holding that in such case, under the New York statute, the court cannot vacate the reference but must appoint another referee unless the stipulation expressly provides otherwise.

91. Adams v. Brady, 67 Hun (N. Y.) 521, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 466 [affirmed in 139 N. Y. 608, 35 N. E. 203]; Masten v. Budington, 18 Hun (N. Y.) 105.

92. Kingman v. Probate Judge, 31 N. H. 171; Noyes v. Phillips, 57 Vt. 229.

93. Kingman v. Probate Judge, 31 N. H. 171.

94. Shepherd v. Shepherd, 108 Mich. 82, 65 N. W. 580; Tilney v. Clendenning, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 212.

95. Shepherd v. Shepherd, 108 Mich. 82, 65 N. W. 580.

96. McLaughlin v. Newton, 53 N. H. 531.

97. Eldred v. Eames, 115 N. Y. 401, 22 N. E. 216 [reversing 48 Hun 253]. See also Bell v. Faison, 53 Miss. 354; Roulston v. Roulston, 5 Misc. (N. Y.) 569, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 667.

They do not possess the same powers as referees in ordinary actions (Eldred v. Eames, 115 N. Y. 401, 22 N. E. 216 [reversing 48 Hun, 253]) unless such powers are expressly conferred by statute (Jenkinson v. Harris, 27 Misc. (N. Y.) 714, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 548; Lassiter v. Upchurch, 107 N. C. 411 12 S. E. 63).

Under the New York statute, prior to the amendment of 1893, it was held in accordance with the rule stated in the text that the referee could not require a bill of particulars (Townsend v. New York L. Ins. Co., 4 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 398) or permit the claimant to amend his claim (Eldred v. Eames, 115 N. Y. 401, 22 N. E. 216 [reversing 48 Hun 253]; Mowell v. Van Buren, 77 Hun 569, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 1035) or in any way vary or enlarge the matter referred (Townsend v. New York L. Ins. Co., supra; Rowlston v. Rowlston, 5 Misc. 569, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 667); but under the amendment of 1893 giving the referee the same powers as referees in ordinary actions (see Lee v. Lee, 85 Hun 588, 33 N. Y. Suppl. 115; Rutherford v. Soop, 85 Hun 119, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 636; Jenkinson v. Harris, 27 Misc. 714, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 548) the referee may allow an amendment of the claim (Louns-

(VIII) REVOCATION OF ORDER OF REFERENCE. The court may revoke an order of reference while the reference is pending upon proof of facts which might render further proceedings before the referees fraudulent or injurious to the rights of persons interested in the claim referred or in the estate, and may do so on the application of one who is not a party to the reference and against the consent of those who are parties thereto.[98]

(IX) HEARING. The hearing on a statutory reference is conducted without filing any pleadings,[99] the agreement to refer supplying the place of both pleadings and process;[1] but notice of the time of the hearing should be given.[2] The hearing must be confined strictly to the particular claim referred,[3] and the claimant must satisfy the referees of its justice and validity.[4] Any defense may be urged which is available to defeat the claim,[5] including the statute of limitations,[6] and every species of legal proof adapted to show the injustice or invalidity of the claim in whole or in part is admissible.[7] If while the reference is pending it appears that the presence of other persons is necessary to a complete determination of the controversy the court may on motion order them to be brought in and made parties.[8] It is not necessary that the testimony taken on the hearing before the referees should be signed and filed.[9] In Pennsylvania, on a hearing before an auditor, an issue may be demanded to try a disputed question of fact before a jury.[10]

(X) FINDINGS. The only finding that the referees are authorized to make is that the claim in question be allowed or disallowed,[11] and they cannot after rejecting the claim make an affirmative finding in favor of the estate against the claimant.[12] The award is a nullity as to any finding by the referees which is in bury v. Sherwood, 53 N. Y. App. Div. 318, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 676; Lee v. Lee, supra), and adjudicate upon the question of costs (Jenkinson v. Harris, supra), but that he cannot require a bill of particulars (Rutherford v. Soop, supra).

98. Lathrop v. Hitchcock, 38 Vt. 496.

99. Rutherford v. Soop, 85 Hun (N. Y.) 119, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 636; Tracy v. Suydam, 30 Barb. (N. Y.) 110; Woodin v. Bagley, 13 Wend. (N. Y.) 453.

1. Robert v. Ditmas, 7 Wend. (N. Y.) 522.

2. Wasserman's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 343; Carroll's Estate, 4 Pa. Dist. 680.

The representative need not give notice to his cestuis que trustent of the hearing, although such notice would be prudent and proper. Mayer v. Gilligan, 2 N. Y. St. 702.

3. Mowell v. Van Buren, 77 Hun (N. Y.) 569, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 1035; Rowlston v. Rowlston, 5 Misc. (N. Y.) 569, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 667.

4. Tracy v. Suydam, 30 Barb. (N. Y.) 110. See also Street v. Ranson, 62 N. Y. App. Div. 519, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 93; Yates v. Root, 4 N. Y. App. Div. 439, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 663.

Claims should be carefully scrutinized and should be established only upon clear and satisfactory proof. Barrett v. Bailey, 59 N. Y. App. Div. 300, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 246.

5. Simons v. Steele, 82 N. Y. App. Div. 202, 81 N. Y. Suppl. 737.

Any defense which the decedent could have made alive may be set up. Tracy v. Suydam, 30 Barb. (N. Y.) 110.

Non-residence of the representative is no ground for rejecting his individual claim against the estate. Newton's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 100.

6. Simons v. Steele, 82 N. Y. App. Div. 202, 81 N. Y. Suppl. 737; Rutherford v. Soop, 85 Hun (N. Y.) 119, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 636; Tracy v. Suydam, 30 Barb. (N. Y.) 110; Woodin v. Bagley, 13 Wend. (N. Y.) 453.

The referee may of his own motion give effect to the statute of limitations where the defense is not raised by the representative. Simons v. Steele, 82 N. Y. App. Div. 202, 81 N. Y. Suppl. 737 [affirmed in 177 N. Y. 542, 69 N. E. 1131].

7. Tracy v. Suydam, 30 Barb. (N. Y.) 110, holding that within this rule a set-off or part payment may be proved in reduction of the amount of the claim.

8. Mowry v. Peet, 7 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 195.

9. Kellogg v. Werner, 6 Hun (N. Y.) 452.

10. Hansell's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 47.

An issue is not a matter of right on every disputed claim but it must be shown that some disputed fact exists for the determination of which a jury is necessary. Hansell's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 47; Beehler's Estate, 3 Phila. (Pa.) 254.

An application for an issue is too late after the audit is closed and notice given that the report is prepared for filing (White's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 100), or after all the evidence on both sides has been given on a rehearing (Tassey's Appeal, 1 Pa. Cas. 341, 3 Atl. 101).

Mere delay in presenting a sealed note for payment is not sufficient of itself to authorize the granting of an issue by an auditor to determine whether the debt has been paid, or has lost its value by the delay. Hummel's Estate, 3 Phila. (Pa.) 442.

11. Bell v. Faison, 53 Miss. 354.

12. Gilmore v. Hubbard, 12 Cush. (Mass.) 220; Mowry v. Peet, 88 N. Y. 453. But see excess of their authority,[13] but if that part of their award which is within the scope of their authority is independent of and clearly distinguishable from the rest it may be affirmed as to that part and rejected as to the balance.[14] The findings of a referee upon questions of fact will be sustained unless clearly contrary to the evidence.[15]

(xi) Return and Approval of Report. In the absence of a statute giving the reference the same standing as a reference in an action and authorizing judgment to be entered upon the report,[16] the report of the referees must be returned to and approved by the court before judgment can be entered thereon,[17] the return being made not to the surrogate or probate judge who approved the selection of the referees but to the court of general jurisdiction in which the rule for their appointment was entered.[18] On presentation of the report the court may either set it aside or accept it and render judgment thereon.[19] If the report is rejected, the court may appoint new referees and resubmit the claim to them,[20] or if the report is merely defective in form it may be sent back to the same referee for correction;[21] but if the report is not accepted the court cannot substitute its own finding for that which the referee should have made and render judgment thereon.[22] The statutes as to the time within which referees appointed in ordinary actions must make and deliver their report do not apply to a statutory reference of a disputed claim.[23]

(xii) Effect of Award. Under the North Carolina statute the award is equivalent to a judgment and can be attacked only for fraud or collusion,[24] and is binding upon the heirs, although they were not parties to the proceeding.[25]

c. Hearing Before Commissioners. In some jurisdictions provision is made Hendrickson v. Dickson, 19 Hun (N. Y.) 290, holding that where a referee reports that the claim is unfounded the court may on application of the representative direct the referee to report on any claim in favor of the estate against the claimant.

13. Gilmore v. Hubbard, 12 Cush. (Mass.) 220.

14. Gilmore v. Hubbard, 12 Cush. (Mass.) 220; Unterrainer v. Seelig, 13 S. D. 148, 82 N. W. 394.

15. Hart v. Tuite, 75 N. Y. App. Div. 323, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 154; Coale v. Coale, 63 N. Y. App. Div. 32, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 214; O'Neill v. Barry, 20 N. Y. App. Div. 121, 46 N. Y. Suppl. 752. See also Hendron v. Kinner, 110 Iowa 544, 80 N. W. 419, 81 N. W. 783.

The findings of an auditor, under the Pennsylvania statute, upon questions of fact will not be disturbed unless clearly contrary to the evidence. In re Coulston, 161 Pa. St. 151, 28 Atl. 1020 [affirming 3 Pa. Dist. 99, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 243]; Curley's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 276, 23 Pa. Co. Ct. 659; Burton's Estate, 3 Pa. Dist. 755, 15 Pa. Co. Ct. 367; Seybert's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 35; Bromley's Estate, 18 Phila. (Pa.) 7; White's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 100; Wedekind's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 68; Sheetz's Estate, 2 Woodw. (Pa.) 407; Scott's Estate, 14 York Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 77); but such findings will not be sustained on appeal where the appellate court is of the opinion that there was not sufficient evidence in law to sustain them (Fiscus' Estate, 13 Pa. Super. Ct. 615; Fehl's Estate, 13 Pa. Super. Ct. 601).

16. See Jenkinson v. Harris, 27 Misc. (N. Y.) 714, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 548, holding that under the New York statute as amended in 1893 a confirmation of the report by the court is no longer necessary.

17. Harmon v. Haines, 68 N. H. 28, 38 Atl. 734; Burnett v. Gould, 27 Hun (N. Y.) 366.

18. Anderson v. Baker, 15 Ohio St. 173. See also Burnett v. Gould, 27 Hun (N. Y.) 366.

19. Coe v. Coe, 37 Barb. (N. Y.) 232, 14 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 86; Boyd v. Bigelow, 14 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 511. See also Harmon v. Haines, 68 N. H. 28, 38 Atl. 734.

A motion for a new trial upon case and exceptions may be made after the referee's report is confirmed. Eighmie v. Strong, 49 Hun (N. Y.) 16, 1 N. Y. Suppl. 502, 15 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 119.

The court may vacate the judgment rendered upon confirmation of the report, the power to do so being an incident of the power to set aside the report. Young v. Cuddy, 23 Hun (N. Y.) 249.

20. Adams v. Brady, 67 Hun (N. Y.) 521, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 466 [affirmed in 139 N. Y. 608, 35 N. E. 203]; Masten v. Budington, 18 Hun (N. Y.) 105.

21. Shea v. Cornish, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 168, 29 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 289.

22. Coe v. Coe, 37 Barb. (N. Y.) 232, 14 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 86.

23. Godding v. Porter, 17 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 374.

24. Lassiter v. Upchurch, 107 N. C. 411, 12 S. E. 63. See also Speer v. James, 94 N. C. 417.

25. Lassiter v. Upchurch, 107 N. C. 411, 12 S. E. 63.

by statute for the appointment of commissioners to pass upon disputed claims,[26] and a court of chancery may in a suit against the representative appoint commissioners to ascertain and report upon claims against the estate.[27] The commissioners, although in a sense they act judicially, are not strictly speaking a court,[28] but are appointed to act in a particular case only, after which their authority ceases;[29] but the court may on the application of a creditor revive a commission after its report is filed at any time before the estate is settled.[30] The hearing should be had on notice to the parties interested,[31] but is conducted without formal pleadings,[32] and any objections and defenses may be interposed which would be available in an action on the claim.[33] The evidence taken before the commissioners should be returned to the probate court.[34] The commissioners have no jurisdiction of claims in behalf of the estate except as offsets to adversary claims.[35] An appeal will lie from the decision of commissioners,[36] but their adjudication as to matters within their authority is final and conclusive unless appealed from,[37] and unless the appeal is prosecuted according to the requirements of the statute.[38] Under the Maine statute if a claim is not paid within thirty days after the report of the commissioners is accepted, the claimant may file a copy of the report in the office of the clerk of the court and execution may be issued thereon.[39]

3. Proceedings in Probate Court — a. Probate Jurisdiction as to Disputed Claims — (i) In General. In the absence of statute probate courts have no jurisdiction to try and determine disputed claims against an estate,[40] even with

26. Maine.— Palmer v. Palmer, 61 Me. 236; Bates v. Ward, 49 Me. 87.

Michigan.— Heavenrich v. Nichols, 113 Mich. 508, 71 N. W. 852.

Rhode Island.— Mason v. Taft, 23 R. I. 388, 50 Atl. 648.

Vermont.— Martin v. White, 58 Vt. 389, 3 Atl. 498. See also Davis v. Flint, 67 Vt. 485, 32 Atl. 473.

Wisconsin.— Price v. Dietrich, 12 Wis. 626.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 890.

Where an executor is residuary legatee and has given bond to pay the debts and legacies no commission need be issued to consider claims against the estate. Durfee v. Abbott, 50 Mich. 278, 15 N. W. 454.

27. Gayle v. Singleton, 1 Stew. (Ala.) 566; Wilson v. Wilson, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 450; Davis v. Roberts, Sm. & M. Ch. (Miss.) 543.

The regular practice in a suit to settle a decedent's estate is for creditors to file their claims before the commissioners; and where so filed, either party may at once take proof on the same, or they can wait until the report is filed and then except to the report, and the court will allow time to take proof on the exceptions. Exceptions may allege any fact showing that the claim ought not to be paid, including a plea of limitations. Wilson v. Wilson, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 450.

28. Shurbun v. Hooper, 40 Mich. 503; Mason v. Taft, 23 R. I. 388, 50 Atl. 648.

29. Shurbun v. Hooper, 40 Mich. 503.

30. Havenrich v. Nichols, 113 Mich. 508, 71 N. W. 852. See also Martin v. White, 58 Vt. 398, 3 Atl. 498.

31. Gayle v. Singleton, 1 Stew. (Ala.) 566.

If the representative appears and is present at the hearing he cannot object to want of notice. Heavenrich v. Nichols, 113 Mich. 508, 71 N. W. 852.

32. See Mason v. Taft, 23 R. I. 388, 50 Atl. 648.

33. Mason v. Taft, 23 R. I. 388, 50 Atl. 648, holding that the statute of limitations is available without being specially pleaded.

34. Buchoz v. Pray, 37 Mich. 512, holding further that mandamus will lie to compel the commissioners to return evidence to the probate court.

35. Allen v. Rice, 22 Vt. 333.

36. Palmer v. Palmer, 61 Me. 236; Price v. Dietrich, 12 Wis. 626.

37. Palmer v. Palmer, 61 Me. 236; Shurbun v. Hooper, 40 Mich. 503; Price v. Dietrich, 12 Wis. 626.

38. Palmer v. Palmer, 61 Me. 236; Bates v. Ward, 49 Me. 87.

39. Palmer v. Palmer, 61 Me. 236.

40. Connecticut.— Isaacs v. Stevens, 13 Conn. 499.

District of Columbia.— Keyser v. Breitbarth, 3 Mackey 19. See also Mercer v. Hogan, 4 Mackey 520.

Maryland.—Bowie v. Ghiselin, 30 Md. 553; Miller v. Dorsey, 9 Md. 317. See also Levering v. Levering, 64 Md. 399, 2 Atl. 1.

Mississippi.— Arnold v. Hamer, Freem. 509.

New Jersey.— Miller v. Pettit, 16 N. J. L. 421; Partridge v. Partridge, 46 N. J. Eq. 434, 19 Atl. 662, 47 N. J. Eq. 601, 22 Atl. 1075; Middleton v. Middleton, 35 N. J. Eq. 115; Vreeland v. Vreeland, 16 N. J. Eq. 512.

New York.— Glacius v. Fogel, 88 N. Y. 434 [affirming 25 Hun 227]; McNulty v. Hurd, 72 N. Y. 518; Tucker v. Tucker, 4 Abb. Dec. 428, 4 Keyes 136; Matter of Hammond, 92 Hun 478, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 1074; Barker v. Laney, 90 Hun 108, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 626;

the consent of the parties;[41] and where the same court is both a court of probate and a court of general jurisdiction, it cannot while sitting as a court of probate try disputed claims, but a suit must be brought on the civil side of the docket.[42] As soon as a claim is disputed the jurisdiction of the probate court over it is suspended until its validity is established in another forum,[43] and any proceedings then pending in the probate court to enforce its payment should be dismissed.[44] By a disputed claim, however, is meant one which is disputed by the representative and not a claim which an heir, legatee, or other person interested in the estate may deem unfounded or unjust;[45] and where the claim has been allowed by the representative its validity may be passed upon by the probate court if on the settlement of the representative's accounts it is disputed by some person interested in the estate.[46] The probate court may also determine whether the claim was ever presented to the representative,[47] and whether it was allowed or rejected by him.[48]

Ashley v. Lamb, 50 Hun 568, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 715; Cooper v. Felter, 6 Lans. 485; Montross v. Wheeler, 4 Lans. 99; Curtis v. Stilwell, 32 Barb. 354; Andrews v. Wallace, 29 Barb. 350; Disoway v. Washington Bank, 24 Barb. 60; Wilson v. Baptist Education Soc., 10 Barb. 308; Magee v. Vedder, 6 Barb. 352 [distinguishing Fitzpatrick v. Brady, 6 Hill 581; Kidd v. Chapman, 2 Barb. Ch. 414]; Forman v. Lawrence, 6 Thomps. & C. 640; Matter of Von der Lieth, 25 Misc. 255, 55 N. Y. Suppl. 428; Matter of Strickland, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 851, 1 Connoly Surr. 435; Wellenberger's Estate, 15 N. Y. St. 719, 6 Dem. Surr. 364 [disapproving Dakin v. Demming, 6 Paige 95]; Matter of Dunn, 8 N. Y. St. 766; In re Brown, 3 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 39, 1 Dem. Surr. 136; Adams v. Glidden, 6 Dem. Surr. 197 [distinguishing Lambert v. Craft, 98 N. Y. 342]; Stevens v. Stevens, 2 Redf. Surr. 265; In re Jones, 1 Redf. Surr. 263; Jennings v. Phelps, 1 Bradf. Surr. 485; Shaw's Estate, Tuck. Surr. 352 [disapproving Campbell v. Bruen, 1 Bradf. Surr. 224]; Matter of Phyfe, 5 N. Y. Leg. Obs. 331. Compare Sellis' Case, 4 Abb. Pr. 272; Babcock v. Lillis, 4 Bradf. Surr. 218.

Pennsylvania.— In re Warner, 2 Whart. 295; Metts' Appeal, 1 Whart. 7; Matter of Latimer, 2 Ashm. 520; Frantz's Estate, 6 Lanc. Bar 1.

South Carolina.— Brown v. McWhite, 30 S. C. 356, 9 S. E. 277.

Texas.— Neill v. Hodge, 5 Tex. 487; Marx v. Freeman, 21 Tex. Civ. App. 429, 52 S. W. 647.

Wisconsin.— Hooe v. Lockwood, 3 Pinn. 42, 3 Chandl. 41.

United States.— Davis v. Weed, 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,658, 44 Conn. 569. See also Nicholls v. Hodge, 18 Fed. Cas. No. 10,231, 2 Cranch C. C. 582.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 893.

The jurisdiction of probate courts is special and limited and defined by statute (Bowie v. Ghiselin, 30 Md. 553; S. Albert Grocer Co. v. Painter, 66 Mo. App. 480; Wilson v. Baptist Education Soc., 10 Barb. (N. Y.) 308), and they have only such powers as are expressly or impliedly conferred by such statutes (Bowie v. Ghiselin, supra; Case v. Spencer, 86 N. Y. App. Div. 454, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 697; Matter of Wait, 39 Misc. (N. Y.) 74, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 869, 12 N. Y. Annot. Cas. 141).

Where the validity of a judgment debt is disputed, the surrogate's court has no jurisdiction to determine questions as to its validity, although it may pass upon any payments made and determine the balance due and may also determine who is the owner of the judgment and entitled to the money. McNulty v. Hurd, 72 N. Y. 518; Matter of Wait, 39 Misc. (N. Y.) 74, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 869, 12 N. Y. Annot. Cas. 141; Matter of Browne, 35 Misc. (N. Y.) 366, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 1037.

41. In re Walker, 136 N. Y. 20, 32 N. E. 633.

42. Marx v. Freeman, 21 Tex. Civ. App. 429, 52 S. W. 647.

43. Wilson v. Baptist Education Soc., 10 Barb. (N. Y.) 308; Bauer v. Kastner, 3 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 39, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 136.

44. Matter of Hammond, 92 Hun (N. Y.) 478, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 1074; Matter of Corbett, 90 Hun (N. Y.) 182, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 945; In re Lyman, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 530.

The objection under the New York statute, when made in opposition to a petition for a decree for payment of a claim, should be in writing (Kiernan's Estate, 4 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 218) and verified, but the defect will be considered waived if not objected to by the other party (Matter of Corbett, 90 Hun 182, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 945).

The dismissal may be made without allowing the claimant to reply to the representative's objection to the claim. Matter of Hammond, 92 Hun (N. Y.) 478, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 1074.

45. Vreeland v. Vreeland, 16 N. J. Eq. 512; Matter of Strickland, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 851, 1 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 436.

46. In re Strickland, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 851, 1 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 436.

47. Matter of Reinach, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 78, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 651.

48. In re Miles, 170 N. Y. 75, 62 N. E. 1084 [reversing 61 N. Y. App. Div. 562, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 71]; Matter of Reinach, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 78, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 651; Matter of Von der Lieth, 25 Misc. (N. Y.) 255, 55 N. Y. Suppl. 428; Bowne v. Lange, 4 Dem.

(II) EQUITABLE JURISDICTION. Probate courts do not possess the general powers of courts of equity,[49] their equitable jurisdiction being limited to such as is expressly conferred by statute or is necessarily incident to the proper exercise of duties directly imposed.[50] Under statutes conferring jurisdiction on probate courts to pass upon disputed claims they may determine simple demands whether of a legal or equitable nature,[51] but as to matters of purely equitable cognizance they have no jurisdiction,[52] and such cases must be decided either by an amicable reference or by a bill in equity.[53]

(III) STATUTORY PROVISIONS. In some of the states jurisdiction to try disputed claims has been conferred upon probate courts by statute.[54] In some cases this jurisdiction is limited and can be exercised only under certain circumstances or as to particular classes of claims,[55] and in such cases the statute will be Surr. (N. Y.) 350. See also In re Lydecker, 1 N. Y. Suppl. 895.

49. Moore v. Winston, 66 Ala. 296; Butler v. Lawson, 72 Mo. 227; McNulty v. Hurd, 72 N. Y. 518; Matter of Wait, 39 Misc. (N. Y.) 74, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 869, 12 N. Y. Annot. Cas. 141; Hall v. Bruen, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 435; Leonard v. Leonard, 67 Vt. 318, 31 Atl. 783. See also Castlio v. Martin, 11 Mo. App. 251. Compare McCall v. Lee, 120 Ill. 261, 11 N. E. 522 [affirming 24 Ill. App. 585]; Hurd v. Slaten, 43 Ill. 348; Esterly v. Rua, 122 Fed. 609, 58 C. C. A. 548.

50. Mt. Olive, etc., Coal Co. v. Slevin, 56 Mo. App. 107. See also Maginn v. Green, 67 Mo. App. 616.

51. Dixon v. Buell, 21 Ill. 203; Hoffmann v. Hoffmann, 126 Mo. 486, 29 S. W. 603; Hammons v. Renfrow, 84 Mo. 332; Maginn v. Green, 67 Mo. App. 616; Mt. Olive, etc., Coal Co. v. Slevin, 56 Mo. App. 107. See also Clark v. Carr, 45 Ill. App. 469; State v. Reigart, 1 Gill (Md.) 1, 39 Am. Dec. 628.

52. Bellows v. Cheek, 20 Ark. 424; Butler v. Lawson, 72 Mo. 227; Holliday v. Nolan, 93 Mo. App. 403, 67 S. W. 663; Miller v. Fulton, 206 Pa. St. 595, 56 Atl. 74; In re Fulton, 200 Pa. St. 545, 50 Atl. 187. See also Mt. Olive, etc., Coal Co. v. Slevin, 56 Mo. App. 107.

The probate court has no jurisdiction where the claim involves an accounting (Miller v. Fulton, 206 Pa. St. 595, 56 Atl. 74), the rescission of a contract (Bellows v. Cheek, 20 Ark. 424), or the following of a trust fund through various transmutations (Butler v. Lawson, 72 Mo. 227).

53. In re Fulton, 200 Pa. St. 545, 50 Atl. 187.

54. Alaska.—In re Gladough, 1 Alaska 649.

Arkansas.— Bellows v. Cheek, 20 Ark. 424; Pennington v. Gibson, 6 Ark. 447.

Illinois.— Thomson v. Black, 200 Ill. 465, 65 N. E. 1092 [affirming 102 Ill. App. 304]; Deiterman v. Ruppel, 200 Ill. 199, 65 N. E. 707; Ward v. Durham, 134 Ill. 195, 25 N. E. 745.

Louisiana.—Irwin's Succession, 33 La. Ann. 63; Smith v. Wilson, 2 La. 257. See also Kerley's Succession, 18 La. Ann. 583.

Missouri.— Wabash R. Co. v. Ordelheide, 172 Mo. 436, 72 S. W. 684; Hoffmann v. Hoffmann, 126 Mo. 486, 29 S. W. 603; Mitchell v. Martin, 63 Mo. App. 560; Mt. Olive, etc., Coal Co. v. Slevin, 56 Mo. App. 107.

Pennsylvania.— Phillips v. Allegheny Valley R. Co., 107 Pa. St. 465; McMurray's Appeal, 101 Pa. St. 421; Hammett's Appeal, 83 Pa. St. 392; Bull's Appeal, 24 Pa. St. 286; In re Gochenaur, 23 Pa. St. 460; Guth's Appeal, (1886) 5 Atl. 728; In re Kittera, 17 Pa. St. 416; Boy's Estate, 1 Pa. Co. Ct. 66. See also Kalbfell's Estate, 30 Pittsb. Leg. J. 325.

Vermont.— Sherman v. Abell, 46 Vt. 547.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 893.

In Indiana the circuit courts are by statute also courts of probate and have jurisdiction to try disputed claims (Noble v. McGinnis, 55 Ind. 528) this jurisdiction having been transferred from the courts of common pleas by the act of 1873 (Alexander v. Alexander, 48 Ind. 559). Claims are first placed upon the appearance docket and if not allowed are transferred to the issue docket for trial. Stanford v. Stanford, 42 Ind. 485.

Equity will not control the probate court in its province of determining and adjudicating questions of the allowance or disallowance of claims against estates of decedents. Sherman v. Abell, 46 Vt. 547.

Cross demands against claimant.— Under the present Missouri statute where there is a cross demand against the claimant larger than his claim against the estate the probate court may adjust the claim and give judgment against the claimant for the excess. Mitchell v. Martin, 63 Mo. App. 560 [distinguishing Thomas v. Dunninca, 15 Mo. 385, which was decided under the administration law of 1845 prior to the revision of 1855].

Claims against the representative in favor of the estate cannot be tried by the probate court. Winton's Appeal, 111 Pa. St. 387, 5 Atl. 240. See also McManus v. McDowell, 11 Mo. App. 436.

55. In Maryland the act of 1798 provides that the orphans' court may with the consent of both the parties arbitrate between a claimant and the representative, but the statute does not apply to claims against the representative in his individual capacity. Browne v. Preston, 38 Md. 373.

In New York the act of 1895, amending Code Civ. Proc. §§ 1822, 2743, provides that the surrogate may try disputed claims upon the written consent of the parties (Clark v. Hyland, 88 N. Y. App. Div. 392, 84 N. Y.

strictly construed and held to confer no new jurisdiction other than that clearly provided.[56]

(iv) Claims of Representative. In some states jurisdiction is conferred by statute upon probate courts to pass upon claims of the representative against the estate which he represents,[57] and under such statutes the court may pass upon claims of an equitable as well as a legal nature.[58] The probate court may also pass upon a claim of the representative under statutes giving it jurisdiction to determine claims of creditors presented on an application to sell real estate.[59] But in the absence of statute the general rule as to lack of jurisdiction to determine disputed claims applies to claims of the representative.[60]

b. Nature of Proceeding. Proceedings in the probate court for the trial and determination of disputed claims are usually summary.[61] The proceeding is neither a suit at law or in equity but is distinctively statutory and sui generis,[62] and is not governed by the technical rules of pleading, procedure, evidence, and the like which apply to formal suits at law.[63] In the absence of statute the pro-

Suppl. 640; Matter of Edmonds, 47 N. Y. App. Div. 229, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 652) but the act is strictly construed (Clark v. Hyland, supra) and confers no jurisdiction except where the parties consent in writing (Clark v. Hyland, supra; Matter of Edmonds, supra; Matter of Warner, 39 Misc. 432, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 363; Matter of Kirby, 36 Misc. 312, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 509) and even then only upon a judicial settlement of the representative's accounts (Clark v. Hyland, supra).

In Wisconsin the probate court may hear and determine "contingent claims" which cannot be presented as debts before the commissioners and allowed by them. Hall v. Wilson, 6 Wis. 433.

Insolvent estates.— In some jurisdictions the probate court has jurisdiction only in the case of insolvent estates. See Miller v. Pettit, 16 N. J. L. 421; Middleton v. Middleton, 35 N. J. Eq. 115; Davis v. Weed, 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,658, 44 Conn. 569.

In proceedings for the sale of real estate for the payment of debts the surrogate may, under the New York statutes, try the validity of claims rejected by the representative. In re Haxtun, 102 N. Y. 157, 6 N. E. 111 [reversing 33 Hun 364]; Hopkins v. Van Valkenburgh, 16 Hun (N. Y.) 3; Matter of Williams, 1 Misc. (N. Y.) 35, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 906; People v. Westbrook, 61 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 138. See infra, XII, G, 10.

56. Clark v. Hyland, 88 N. Y. App. Div. 392, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 640.

57. Mercer v. Hogan, 4 Mackey (D. C.) 520; Neilley v. Neilley, 89 N. Y. 352 [reversing 23 Hun 651]; Boughton v. Flint, 74 N. Y. 476 [reversing 13 Hun 206]; Shakespeare v. Markham, 72 N. Y. 400 [reversing on this point 10 Hun 311]; Kyle v. Kyle, 67 N. Y. 400 [affirming 3 Hun 458]; Sexton v. Sexton, 64 N. Y. App. Div. 385, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 213 [affirmed in 174 N. Y. 510, 66 N. E. 1116].

In New York the statute formerly provided that such claims might be proved either on the service and return of a citation for that purpose or upon final accounting (Matter of Flood, 16 Abb. Pr. N. S. 407; Barras v. Barras, 4 Redf. Surr. 263); but these provisions are superseded by the code of civil procedure which restricts the jurisdiction to the "judicial settlement" of the representative's accounts and the surrogate cannot now entertain an independent proceeding to determine such claims (Matter of Ryder, 129 N. Y. 640, 29 N. E. 309 [reversing 13 N. Y. Suppl. 542, 2 Connoly Surr. 224]; Starbuck v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 28 N. Y. App. Div. 308, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 8). This restriction does not, however, affect the surrogate's jurisdiction to determine such claims on an application for the sale of real estate. Matter of Williams, 1 Misc. 35, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 906.

Only claims of which the representative is sole owner can be determined by the surrogate's court. Matter of Jones, 2 Misc. (N. Y.) 221, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 767 [criticizing Shakespeare v. Markham, 72 N. Y. 400].

58. Boughton v. Flint, 74 N. Y. 476 [reversing 13 Hun 206]; Sexton v. Sexton, 64 N. Y. App. Div. 385, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 213 [affirmed in 174 N. Y. 510, 66 N. E. 1116].

59. Matter of Williams, 1 Misc. (N. Y.) 35, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 906. See infra, XII, G, 10.

60. Middleton v. Middleton, 35 N. J. Eq. 115, holding that the probate court cannot try the validity of a claim of a representative disputed by his co-representative.

The fact that a claim is presented and proved in a proceeding where the surrogate has no jurisdiction to try the claim and order it paid will not prevent the claimant from setting up the claim in another action. Thornton v. Moore, 26 Misc. (N. Y.) 120, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 1100.

61. Hayner v. Trott, 46 Kan. 70, 26 Pac. 415; Sublett v. Nelson, 38 Mo. 487; Phillips v. Russell, 24 Mo. 527; Pruitt v. Muldrick, 39 Oreg. 353, 65 Pac. 20.

62. Grier v. Cable, 159 Ill. 29, 42 N. E. 395 [affirming 53 Ill. App. 350].

63. Thompson v. Black, 200 Ill. 465 [affirming 102 Ill. App. 304]; Scheel v. Eidman, 68 Ill. 193; Stanley v. Pence, 160 Ind. 636, 66 N. E. 51, 67 N. E. 441]; Strasbaugh v. Dullam, 93 Md. 712, 50 Atl. 417; Wilkes v. Cornelius, 21 Oreg. 348, 28 Pac. 135.

ceeding need not be formally entitled but any entitling or description which will identify it is sufficient.[64]

c. Citation, Notice, and Appearance. Where proceedings are instituted in the probate court to establish a disputed claim notice must be given to the representative,[65] but this requirement will be deemed to be waived if he appears and contests the claim upon its merits[66] or consents to a continuance.[67] In the case of a claim of the representative against the estate notice should be given to the heirs who are of age.[68]

d. Pleadings. Proceedings in the probate court for the trial and determination of disputed claims are ordinarily conducted without formal pleadings,[69] it being sufficient for the claimant to merely file a succinct statement of his claim.[70] The claim should be presented in writing,[71] but need not conform to the technical requirements of a complaint,[72] or contain a formal demand for judgment of any kind,[73] and is sufficient if it apprises defendant of the nature and amount of the claim and shows enough to bar another action for the same demand.[74] If the

64. In re Jefferson, 35 Minn. 215, 28 N. W. 256.

65. Bellows v. Cheek, 20 Ark. 424; Pennington v. Gibson, 6 Ark. 447; Durfee v. Abbott, 50 Mich. 278, 15 N. W. 454; McFaul v. Haley, 166 Mo. 56, 65 S. W. 995.

Where an executor has given bond as residuary legatee he and his sureties are entitled to personal service, and notice by publication as in ordinary proceedings to adjust claims against the estate is not sufficient. Durfee v. Abbott, 50 Mich. 278, 15 N. W. 454.

66. Bellows v. Cheek, 20 Ark. 424.

Failure to present the claim on the day named in the notice is immaterial where the statute only requires the term to be stated and the representative is present on the day the claim is presented. Phillips v. Russell, 24 Mo. 527.

67. Sullivan v. Deadman, 19 Ark. 484 [distinguishing Pennington v. Gibson, 6 Ark. 447]; State v. Walker, 14 Ark. 234; Voorhies v. Eubank, 6 Iowa 274.

Failure to furnish a copy of the claim to the representative is also waived by appearance and consent to a continuance. Borden v. Fowler, 14 Ark. 471.

68. Patterson v. Phillips, 18 Fed. Cas. No. 10,829*a*, Hempst. 69.

69. Arkansas.— Bellows v. Cheek, 20 Ark. 424; Pennington v. Gibson, 6 Ark. 447.

Illinois.— Thomson v. Black, 200 Ill. 465, 65 N. E. 1092 [affirming 102 Ill. App. 304]; Thorp v. Goewey, 85 Ill. 611.

Indiana.— Stanley v. Pence, 160 Ind. 636, 66 N. E. 51, 67 N. E. 441; Stricker v. Barnes, 122 Ind. 348, 23 N. E. 263; Hanna v. Fisher, 95 Ind. 383; Stapp v. Messeke, 94 Ind. 423; Hileman v. Hileman, 85 Ind. 1.

Iowa.— Scovil v. Fisher, 77 Iowa 97, 41 N. W. 583.

Kansas.— Hayner v. Trott, 46 Kan. 70, 26 Pac. 415.

Michigan.— Patrick v. Howard, 47 Mich. 40, 10 N. W. 71.

Missouri.— Sublett v. Nelson, 38 Mo. 487; Phillips v. Russell, 24 Mo. 527; Monumental Bronze Co. v. Doty, 99 Mo. App. 195, 73 S. W. 234, 78 S. W. 850.

Nebraska.— Fitzgerald v. Union Sav. Bank, 65 Nebr. 97, 90 N. W. 994.

Ohio.— Matter of Gerke, Ohio Prob. 289.

Oregon.— Wilkes v. Cornelius, 21 Oreg. 348, 28 Pac. 135.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 899.

70. Stanley v. Pence, 160 Ind. 636, 66 N. E. 51, 67 N. E. 441; Stricker v. Barnes, 122 Ind. 348, 23 N. E. 263; Davis v. Huston, 84 Ind. 272; Post v. Pedrick, 52 Ind. 490.

The statement must contain sufficient facts to show, prima facie at least, that the estate is indebted to the claimant. Walker v. Heller, 104 Ind. 327, 3 N. E. 114.

71. Thomson v. Black, 200 Ill. 465, 65 N. E. 1092 [affirming 102 Ill. App. 304]; Hayner v. Trott, 46 Kan. 70, 26 Pac. 415. See also Van Vleck v. Burroughs, 6 Barb. (N. Y.) 341.

72. Thomson v. Black, 200 Ill. 465, 65 N. E. 1092 [affirming 102 Ill. App. 304]; Davis v. Huston, 84 Ind. 272; Ginn v. Collins, 43 Ind. 271; Hannum v. Curtis, 13 Ind. 206; Sublett v. Nelson, 38 Mo. 487; Wilkes v. Cornelius, 21 Oreg. 348, 28 Pac. 135. Compare Johnson v. Kent, 9 Ind. 252.

73. Hanna v. Fisher, 95 Ind. 383.

74. Stapp v. Messeke, 94 Ind. 423; Davis v. Huston, 84 Ind. 272; Post v. Pedrick, 52 Ind. 490; Ginn v. Collins, 43 Ind. 271; Hannum v. Curtis, 13 Ind. 206; Phillips v. Russell, 24 Mo. 527; Fitzgerald v. Union Sav. Bank, 65 Nebr. 97, 90 N. W. 994. See also Hayner v. Trott, 46 Kan. 70, 26 Pac. 415.

The claim is sufficient if filed in such form as to unmistakably disclose the nature of the transaction that gave rise to it. Monumental Bronze Co. v. Doty, 99 Mo. App. 195, 73 S. W. 234, 78 S. W. 850.

Demurrer is not ordinarily a proper mode of questioning the sufficiency of a statement of a claim (Hayner v. Trott, 46 Kan. 70, 26 Pac. 415), but in Indiana it is provided by the statute that the sufficiency of the statement or of any subsequent pleading may be so tested (Pence v. Young, 22 Ind. App. 427, 53 N. E. 1060. See also Stapp v. Messeke, 94 Ind. 423).

statement is insufficient the claimant should be allowed to amend by filing a more full and particular statement.[75] The resistance of defendant, without a written answer, puts in issue all matters upon which a defense to the claim could be based, usually set up by a general denial,[76] and no matters need be specially pleaded unless required by statute.[77] It has been held that if a party elects to file a formal written plea in a proceeding of this kind he must conform to the rules of pleading.[78]

e. Defenses. Whatever would be a good defense in an ordinary suit on a claim is equally good in a proceeding to establish the claim in the probate court,[79] but where the claim presented is based upon a judgment, it cannot be defeated by matters which might have been interposed as a defense to the action in which the judgment was rendered.[80] The statute of limitations is a good defense,[81] and is available without being specially pleaded.[82]

f. Evidence[83] — (i) Presumptions and Burden of Proof. There is no legal presumption that a decedent was indebted at the time of his death and the burden of proving the existence of such indebtedness is upon the party asserting it,[84] but where an indebtedness is evidenced by a bond and note, the creditor need not prove that it has not been paid, but the burden of proving payment or other matter in discharge is upon the opposite party,[85] and an opposition based solely on the ground that the debt has been extinguished impliedly admits that it was once due, and like the plea of payment imposes the burden of proof upon the party urging it.[86] A claim which has been allowed or admitted by the representative is prima facie valid and the burden of proving its invalidity is upon the party opposing it,[87] but if the admission of the claim is denied by the representative, the burden is upon the claimant to show that it was admitted.[88] Long delay in presenting or prosecuting a claim creates a strong presumption against its 75. In re Hidden, 23 Cal. 362. See also Wolfe v. Wilsey, 2 Ind. App. 549, 28 N. E. 1004.

If the claim is not enlarged by the amendment it may be allowed. Dayton v. Dakin, 103 Mich. 65, 61 N. W. 349.

An amendment may be denied if the effect would be to cause a continuance and it relates to a distinct claim which need not be determined in the same proceeding. Guion v. Giller, 101 Iowa 333, 70 N. W. 201.

76. Scovil v. Fisher, 77 Iowa 97, 41 N. W. 583.

77. Dick v. Dumbauld, 10 Ind. App. 508, 38 N. E. 78, holding that under the Indiana statute nothing need be specially pleaded except a set-off or counter-claim. See also Pence v. Young, 22 Ind. App. 427, 53 N. E. 1060.

The defense of payment in whole or in part is available without a special plea. Simons v. Beaver, 15 Ind. App. 510, 43 N. E. 478.

78. Bellows v. Cheek, 20 Ark. 424; Pennington v. Gibson, 6 Ark. 447. See also Holman v. Mayhew, 15 Ind. 263; Norman v. Norman, 11 Ind. 288; Jackson v. Butts, 5 Ind. App. 384, 32 N. E. 96.

Verification of answer.— Where a promissory note purporting to have been made by a decedent is filed as a claim against his estate the answer of the administrator denying the execution of the instrument need not be sworn to in order to put plaintiff to proof of its execution. Barnett v. Cabinet Makers' Union, 28 Ind. 254.

79. Lucas v. Cassaday, 2 Greene (Iowa) 208; Turner v. Ellis, 24 Miss. 173; McFaul v. Haley, 166 Mo. 56, 65 S. W. 995; Burnett v. Noble, 5 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 69.

Equitable defenses as well as legal may be interposed. Wilcox v. Powers, 6 Mo. 145.

80. McClain's Estate, 5 Pa. Dist. 155, 17 Pa. Co. Ct. 432.

81. Pennington v. Gibson, 6 Ark. 447.

82. Bromwell v. Bromwell, 139 Ill. 424, 28 N. E. 1057; Bromwell v. Schubert, 40 Ill. App. 330; Brownell v. Williams, 54 Iowa 353, 6 N. W. 530.

83. See, generally, EVIDENCE.

84. Markwell v. Thorn, 28 Wis. 548.

If it is doubtful whether the deceased debtor was principal or surety on a claim set up, the burden is upon the creditor to show that he was principal, or that the principal was insolvent. Simmons v. Tongue, 3 Bland (Md.) 341.

85. Matter of Macomber, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 198, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 279; Moore v. Brown, 51 N. C. 106.

86. Rhodes' Succession, 39 La. Ann. 473, 2 So. 36.

87. In re Loshe, 62 Cal. 413; Matter of Le Baron, 67 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 346; Valentine v. Valentine, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 265. See also Montgomery v. Nash, 23 Tex. 157. Compare Matter of Warrin, 28 Misc. (N. Y.) 695, 60 N. Y. Suppl. 191; In re Chambers, 38 Oreg. 131, 62 Pac. 1013.

88. Matter of Phyfe, 5 N. Y. Leg. Obs. 331. See also Romero's Succession, 43 La. Ann. 975, 9 So. 919.

validity,[89] particularly where the claim was not asserted in the lifetime of the alleged debtor.[90] Where a claim is based on a receipt for money paid for the decedent during his lifetime, it will be presumed that it was paid by the claimant as the agent of the decedent and not with funds advanced by him, where the form of the receipt is consistent with such payment,[91] and, where the representative pays outstanding debts against the estate, it will be presumed that he did so as representative, and if he claims to have advanced money therefor, the burden is upon him to show this fact, and also the amount actually paid.[92] Ordinarily the fact that services were rendered a decedent at his request or with his approval raises a presumption that they were to be paid for,[93] but where the claimant was a member of the decedent's immediate family, or a relative living with him as such, or a person not a relative but living as a member of the family, it will be presumed that the services were gratuitous and the burden is upon the claimant to show the contrary.[94] In the case of claims for domestic services, it will be presumed that wages were regularly paid when due, or that it was understood that no compensation was to be made.[95]

(II) Admissibility. In an action to establish a disputed claim it is competent to inquire into all the facts and circumstances having a tendency to prove or disprove the existence or validity of the claim.[96] So where the claim is based upon an alleged loan to the decedent, evidence is admissible of the financial condition of the parties,[97] or of the fact that at the time of the alleged loan the claimant was indebted to the decedent.[98] Evidence of declarations of the decedent is admissible on an issue as to whether services were understood as being gratuitous or for compensation,[99] and evidence that the claim was previously presented for a smaller amount is admissible as an admission on the part of the claimant as to the amount rightfully due.[1] The claimant's books of account are admissible in evidence where the claim is based upon an open account,[2] or for services rendered,[3] or, where the claim is based upon a note against the estate which is contested, as a circumstance to show that the note was for the same amount as the books showed to be due.[4] A memorandum against his interest found among the papers of the deceased showing a debt due by him is admissible in favor of a party seeking to establish the fact stated,[5] and conversely papers found among the effects of the decedent, the genuineness of which is sufficiently proved, and which tend to show a payment by him of the claim presented are admissible in evi-

89. Bodenheimer v. Bodenheimer, 35 La. Ann. 1005; Seybert's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 35; McQuinn's Estate, 18 Phila. (Pa.) 78; Rogers v. Law, 1 Black (U. S.) 253, 17 L. ed. 58. See also In re Fosbinders, 2 Lehigh Val. L. Rep. (Pa.) 270.

90. Seacord v. Matteson, 56 Ill. App. 439; McQuinn's Estate, 18 Phila. (Pa.) 78.

91. Pursel v. Pursel, 14 N. J. Eq. 514.

92. Gillett v. Gillett, 9 Wis. 194.

93. Bugh's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 276, 23 Pa. Co. Ct. 660; Michael's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 321. See also Ginders v. Ginders, 21 Ill. App. 522; Hess' Estate, 13 Phila. (Pa.) 285. And see supra, X, A, 3, a.

94. See supra, X, A, 3, b.

95. Koecker's Estate, 9 Pa. Co. Ct. 238; Kelly's Estate, 16 Phila. (Pa.) 285; Walker's Estate, 14 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) 64; In re Fosbinders, 2 Lehigh Val. L. Rep. (Pa.) 270.

96. Wilson v. Hotchkiss, 81 Mich. 172, 45 N. W. 838. See also Mark v. Miles, 59 Ill. App. 102.

Offer to sell claim.— Where the claim is based on a note the rightful possession of which is disputed evidence is admissible on the part of the claimant that prior to the decedent's death he made repeated and public offers to sell the same, such evidence tending to show that he was asserting it as a claim against decedent in his lifetime. Passmore v. Passmore, 50 Mich. 626, 16 N. W. 170, 45 Am. Rep. 62.

97. Wilson v. Hotchkiss, 81 Mich. 172, 45 N. W. 838.

98. Graham v. Graham, 111 N. Y. 502, 19 N. E. 53.

99. Knight v. Knight, 6 Ind. App. 268, 33 N. E. 456. See also Ginders v. Ginders, 21 Ill. App. 522.

1. Ludlow v. Pearl, 55 Mich. 312, 21 N. W. 315.

2. Kilbourn v. Anderson, 77 Iowa 501, 42 N. W. 431.

3. Yearsley's Appeal, 48 Pa. St. 531.

4. Baker v. Halleck, 128 Mich. 180, 87 N. W. 100.

5. Gallagher v. Brewster, 153 N. Y. 364, 47 N. E. 450 [reversing 1 N. Y. App. Div. 65, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 1081].

dence.[6] Tax lists are admissible as evidence of the value of personal property.[7] Evidence which is not relevant or material to the particular facts in issue,[8] or which tends to raise a new or collateral issue[9] is not admissible. A paper executed by the decedent which is testamentary in its nature is not admissible unless it has been admitted to probate.[10]

(III) WEIGHT AND SUFFICIENCY—(A) In General. While the uncontradicted testimony of a single witness whose competency or credibility is not impeached is sufficient, if believed, to establish a claim against a decedent's estate,[11] unless corroboration is required by statute,[12] the general rule is that claims against estates of deceased persons should be established by very satisfactory evidence, and that such claims and the evidence adduced to support them should be carefully scrutinized, so as to prevent as far as possible the allowance of unjust or fictitious demands.[13] This rule is very strictly applied where the proof con-

6. Taylor v. Greene, 129 Mich. 564, 89 N. W. 343.

7. Daniels v. Fowler, 123 N. C. 35, 31 S. E. 598.

8. Illinois.— Seacord v. Matteson, 56 Ill. App. 439.

Indiana.— Sullivan v. Sullivan, 6 Ind. App. 65, 32 N. E. 1132.

Iowa.— Smith v. McFadden, 56 Iowa 482, 9 N. W. 350.

Michigan.— Laird v. Laird, 127 Mich. 24, 86 N. W. 436.

New York.— Vaughn v. Strong, 12 N. Y. Suppl. 251.

Wisconsin.— Fitzpatrick v. Phelan, 58 Wis. 250, 16 N. W. 606.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 902.

On an issue as to payment of the claim the fact that the decedent had money on deposit to the claimant's knowledge is no evidence of payment and is properly excluded. McDowell v. McDowell, 75 Vt. 401, 56 Atl. 98, 98 Am. St. Rep. 831.

Evidence as to the mental and physical condition of decedent in the latter part of his life is properly excluded where defendant does not offer to show in what manner if any plaintiff took an undue advantage of such condition. Sullivan v. Sullivan, 6 Ind. App. 65, 32 N. E. 1132.

Letters written by the decedent are not admissible unless they relate to matters embraced in plaintiff's claim. Shirts v. Rooker, 21 Ind. App. 420, 52 N. E. 629.

Evidence of declarations of the deceased as to unpleasant relations with his other children is not admissible in support of a claim by one child for boarding the deceased parent. Laird v. Laird, 127 Mich. 24, 86 N. W. 436.

Where a claim is based on a specific contract for a certain amount for services rendered, evidence of the actual value of the service is immaterial and inadmissible. Matter of Johnson, 32 N. Y. App. Div. 634, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 1081.

In an action on a claim to recover the purchase-price of land bought at a sheriff's sale under an execution against the decedent, the deed to which has been set aside, it is error to admit evidence of the amount expended by the purchaser in improvements on the property, since there can be no recovery for improvements, except on a proceeding taken under the occupying claimant law. Westerfield v. Williams, 59 Ind. 221.

Evidence of the relations of the parties which is merely preliminary and will aid in the better appreciation of the other evidence as it is adduced may be admitted, although having no direct bearing upon the particular fact in issue. Kinney v. McFaul, 122 Iowa 452, 98 N. W. 276.

9. Curd v. Wisser, 120 Iowa 743, 95 N. W. 266.

10. Wilson v. Van Leer, 103 Pa. St. 600.

11. Banes' Estate, 4 Pa. Co. Ct. 495.

12. Moise's Succession, 107 La. 717, 31 So. 990, holding that under the Louisiana statute the testimony of one witness is not alone sufficient, where the amount of the claim is over five hundred dollars, but that it may be sufficient when supported by corroborative circumstances. See also Piffet's Succession, 37 La. Ann. 871.

13. Iowa.— Holmes v. Connable, 111 Iowa 298, 82 N. W. 780.

Louisiana.— Gates v. Walker, 8 La. Ann. 277.

Mississippi.— North v. Lowe, 63 Miss. 31; McWhorter v. Donald, 39 Miss. 779, 80 Am. Dec. 97.

New York.— In re Marcellus, 165 N. Y. 70, 58 N. E. 796; Van Slooten v. Wheeler, 140 N. Y. 624, 35 N. E. 583; Robinson v. Carpenter, 77 N. Y. App. Div. 520, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 283; Matter of Arkenburgh, 58 N. Y. App. Div. 583, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 125; Porter v. Rhoades, 48 N. Y. App. Div. 635, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 112; Rix v. Hunt, 16 N. Y. App. Div. 540, 44 N. Y. Suppl. 988; Wheeler v. Eastwood, 88 Hun 160, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 513.

Pennsylvania.— In re Mueller, 159 Pa. St. 590, 28 Atl. 491; Graham v. Graham, 34 Pa. St. 475; Atkinson's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 404.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 903.

Evidence sufficient to establish claim see the following cases:

Alabama.— Linch v. McLemore, 15 Ala. 632.

Illinois.— Grant v. Odiorne, 43 Ill. App. 402.

Indiana.— Cunningham v. Packard, 6 Ind.

sists of parol evidence as to admissions or declarations of the decedent;[14] and in cases where the claim is made by the personal representative,[15] and where the

App. 34, 32 N. E. 333; Wolfe v. Wilsey, 2 Ind. App. 549, 28 N. E. 1004.

Iowa.—In re Reeve, 111 Iowa 260, 82 N. W. 912.

Louisiana.— Moise's Succession, 107 La. 717, 31 So. 990.

Maryland.— Steele v. Steele, 75 Md. 477, 23 Atl. 959.

Michigan.— Crampton v. Newton, 132 Mich. 149, 93 N. W. 250; Van Buskirk v. Hoy, 114 Mich. 425, 72 N. W. 246.

New Jersey.— Middleton v. Middleton, 35 N. J. Eq. 141.

New York.— Matter of Hamilton, 70 N. Y. App. Div. 73, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 66 [reversing 34 Misc. 607, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 426]; Coale v. Coale, 63 N. Y. App. Div. 32, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 214; Breed v. Breed, 55 N. Y. App. Div. 121, 67 N. Y. Suppl. 162; Fisher v. Filon, 90 Hun 605, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 283; Kingston Nat. Bank v. Van Buren, 88 Hun 564, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 772; Heyne v. Dorflier, 57 Hun 591, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 908; Matter of Neil, 35 Misc. 254, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 840; In re Powers, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 396.

Pennsylvania.— Kuhlman's Estate, 178 Pa. St. 43, 35 Atl. 918; Shirk's Appeal, 10 Pa. Cas. 631, 14 Atl. 413; Patterson's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 259, 23 Pa. Co. Ct. 567; Hess' Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 19; Walton's Estate, 4 Kulp 487; Bradley's Estate, 16 Phila. 219; Arnold's Estate, 5 Phila. 215.

Tennessee.— Treece v. Carr, (Ch. App. 1900) 58 S. W. 1078.

West Virginia.— Faulkner v. Thomas, 48 W. Va. 148, 35 S. E. 915.

Wisconsin.— Gudden v. Gudden, 113 Wis. 297, 89 N. W. 111.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 903.

Evidence insufficient to establish claim see the following cases:

Arkansas.— Leigh v. Williams, 64 Ark. 165, 41 S. W. 323; Mahan v. Owen, 23 Ark. 347.

Colorado.— Dickey v. Dickey, 8 Colo. App. 141, 45 Pac. 228.

Illinois.— Mark v. Miles, 59 Ill. App. 102.

Iowa.— Murphy v. McCarthy, 108 Iowa 38, 78 N. W. 819.

Kentucky.— Dewhurst v. Shepherd, 102 Ky. 239, 43 S. W. 253, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1260; Webb v. Webb, 6 T. B. Mon. 163; Allsop v. Owensboro Deposit Bank, 69 S. W. 1102, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 762.

Louisiana.— Floyd's Succession, 12 Rob. 197.

Maryland.— Justis v. Justis, 99 Md. 69, 57 Atl. 23; Young v. Mackall, 4 Md. 362.

Minnesota.— In re Mintzer, 33 Minn. 470, 23 N. W. 845.

Nebraska.— Gillett v. Sweeney, (1903) 97 N. W. 795; In re Devries, (1903) 97 N. W. 590.

New York.— Van Slooten v. Wheeler, 140 N. Y. 624, 35 N. E. 583 [reversing 21 N. Y. Suppl. 329, 15 N. Y. Suppl. 591]; Matter of Clarke, 57 N. Y. App. Div. 430, 68 N. Y. Suppl. 243; Crippen v. Crippen, 53 Hun 232, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 378; Matter of Kirkpatrick, 9 Misc. 228, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 283; De Mets v. Moss, 17 N. Y. Suppl. 902 [appeal dismissed in 136 N. Y. 620, 32 N. E. 1014]; Van Horne v. Fonda, 5 Johns. Ch. 388.

Pennsylvania.— In re Clymer, 202 Pa. St. 580, 52 Atl. 52; In re McKown, 198 Pa. St. 102, 47 Atl. 1113; Hunter's Estate, 147 Pa. St. 549, 23 Atl. 973; Loftis' Estate, 3 Pa. Co. Ct. 195; McFarland's Estate, 12 Phila. 122.

Virginia.— Nottingham v. Lynchburg Trust, etc., Bank, (1898) 29 S. E. 684.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 903.

A due-bill signed by a decedent, and found among his private papers after his death, is not alone sufficient evidence of a debt, but may be so when coupled with confidential instructions, oral and written, to his executor to pay the same. O'Neill v. O'Neill, 18 S. C. 360, 44 Am. Rep. 579.

A book-account of sums of money lent to a person since deceased is not sufficient, in the absence of other evidence, to support a claim therefor against the decedent's estate. Matter of Linn, 2 Pearson (Pa.) 487.

14. Iowa.— Holmes v. Connable, 111 Iowa 298, 82 N. W. 780.

Kentucky.— Brewer v. Hieronymus, 41 S. W. 310, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 645.

Louisiana.— Wilder v. Franklin, 10 La. Ann. 279; Gates v. Walker, 8 La. Ann. 277.

Michigan.— Clancy v. Leach, 125 Mich. 630, 84 N. W. 1105.

Missouri.— Benne v. Benne, 56 Mo. App. 504.

Pennsylvania.— Heffner's Estate, 134 Pa. St. 436, 19 Atl. 693; McMahon's Estate, 132 Pa. St. 175, 19 Atl. 68; Graham v. Graham, 34 Pa. St. 475; Thompson's Appeal, 10 Pa. Cas. 574, 13 Atl. 952; Rhoades' Estate, 18 Phila. 18.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 903.

Where such evidence is clear, positive, and specific it may be sufficient to establish the validity of the claim. McCann's Appeal, 6 Pa. Cas. 15, 9 Atl. 48.

15. Matter of Humfreville, 6 N. Y. App. Div. 535, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 550; Wright's Accounting, 16 Abb. Pr. N. S. (N. Y.) 429. See also Matter of Arkenburgh, 58 N. Y. App. Div. 583, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 125; Adams' Estate, Tuck. Surr. (N. Y.) 109; In re Hoffer, 156 Pa. St. 473, 27 Atl. 11.

Where the statute requires the representative's claim to be proved, it contemplates the same proof which is required to prove any other claim against the estate which is objected to, and the affidavit of the representative verifying his claim is insufficient. Underhill v. Newburger, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 499.

only evidence in support of the claim is the testimony of the claimant himself.[16] In the absence of statute the uncorroborated testimony of the claimant may be sufficient to establish his claim, if the court is entirely satisfied as to its truthfulness,[17] there being no absolute rule of law that corroboration is necessary;[18] but in some jurisdictions it is provided by statute that a disputed claim cannot be established by the testimony of the claimant alone.[19] Stale claims are regarded with special disfavor, and require very strong and conclusive testimony to establish them,[20] particularly where the claim was never asserted in the decedent's lifetime.[21]

(B) Claims For Services. To establish a claim for services, proof of an express contract is not in all cases essential,[22] but the claimant must show either

See also Williams v. Purdy, 6 Paige (N. Y.) 166.

Evidence sufficient to establish claim of representative see Matter of Van Buren, 19 Misc. (N. Y.) 373, 44 N. Y. Suppl. 357.

16. In re Marcellus, 165 N. Y. 70, 58 N. E. 796; Matter of Arkenburgh, 58 N. Y. App. Div. 583, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 125; Rawlinson v. Scholes, 79 L. T. Rep. N. S. 350.

The affidavit of the claimant is not sufficient to establish a claim for paying a decedent's debt in his lifetime, without showing by independent proof that the payment was made at the request of decedent, or that he recognized the validity of the debt, or the propriety of its payment for him by the claimant. McWhorter v. Donald, 39 Miss. 779, 80 Am. Dec. 97.

The sole testimony of a son is not sufficient to establish a contract with his deceased father to support the latter for a certain consideration as the basis of a claim against the estate of the father, where, at the time he claimed to be supporting his father he was living on the latter's farm. Bratcher v. Bratcher, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1900) 62 S. W. 1108.

17. Re Griffin, 79 L. T. Rep. N. S. 442; Rawlinson v. Scholes, 79 L. T. Rep. N. S. 350.

18. In re Hodgson, 31 Ch. D. 177, 55 L. J. Ch. 241, 54 L. T. Rep. N. S. 222, 34 Wkly. Rep. 127; Re Griffin, 79 L. T. Rep. N. S. 442; Rawlinson v. Scholes, 79 L. T. Rep. N. S. 350 [disapproving In re Finch, 23 Ch. D. 267, 48 L. T. Rep. N. S. 129, 31 Wkly. Rep. 526].

19. Kingan v. Burns, 104 Ill. App. 661; Harding v. Grim, 25 Oreg. 506, 36 Pac. 634.

20. Louisiana.— Rogge v. Nouvet, 50 La. Ann. 1220, 23 So. 933; Bodenheimer v. Bodenheimer, 35 La. Ann. 1005; Woods' Succession, 30 La. Ann. 1002; Wilder v. Franklin, 10 La. Ann. 279. See also Wood v. Egan, 39 La. Ann. 684, 2 So. 191; Simpson v. Powell, 7 La. Ann. 555.

New York.— Matter of Humfreville, 6 N. Y. App. Div. 535, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 550.

Pennsylvania.— In re Miller, 188 Pa. St. 214, 41 Atl. 532; Heffner's Estate, 134 Pa. St. 436, 19 Atl. 693; Irwin's Estate, 133 Pa. St. 1, 19 Atl. 284; Geiger's Appeal, (1889) 16 Atl. 851, 1 Mona. 547; Geiger's Estate, 14 Pa. Super. Ct. 523; Seybert's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 35. See also Williamson's Estate, 12 Phila. 144.

South Carolina.— Chalmers v. Kinard, 38 S. C. 126, 16 S. E. 778, 895. See also Hanks v. Williams, Cheves Eq. 203.

Virginia.— Perkins v. Lane, 82 Va. 59.

United States.— Rogers v. Law, 1 Black 253, 17 L. ed. 58.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 903; and infra, note 32.

Delay in presenting a check of the decedent until after his death, which was eighteen months after the date of the check, does not make it a stale demand, and in the absence of evidence of payment by the decedent, after the date of the check, the claim should be allowed. Barnes v. Dunn, 19 N. Y. App. Div. 326, 46 N. Y. Suppl. 115.

21. Illinois.— Brock v. Slaten, 82 Ill. 282; Seacord v. Matteson, 56 Ill. App. 439.

Louisiana.— Woods' Succession, 30 La. Ann. 1002.

Mississippi.— Carter v. Judge Adams County Probate Ct., 2 Sm. & M. 42.

New York.— Kearney v. McKeon, 85 N. Y. 136; Porter v. Rhoades, 48 N. Y. App. Div. 635, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 112; Matter of De Freest, 41 Misc. 535, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 74; Matter of Wilmot, 39 Misc. 686, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 651; Wright v. Wright, 4 Redf. Surr. 345.

Pennsylvania.— Flood's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 634, 23 Pa. Co. Ct. 304.

United States.— Rogers v. Law, 1 Black 253, 17 L. ed. 58.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 903; and infra, note 33.

When it appears that there were subsequent dealings in which the claimant was to some extent a debtor of the decedent, but that he never presented his claim in reduction of his debt, the weight of suspicion becomes very great, and justifies a demand for distinct and definite proof, and the clearest indication of honesty and fairness. Kearney v. McKeon, 85 N. Y. 136; Porter v. Rhoades, 48 N. Y. App. Div. 635, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 112. See also Seacord v. Matteson, 56 Ill. App. 439.

22. Neish v. Gannon, 198 Ill. 219, 64 N. E. 1000 [affirming 98 Ill. App. 248]; Sherman v. Whiteside, 190 Ill. 576, 60 N. E. 838 [affirming 93 Ill. App. 572]; Chapman v. Barnes, 29 Ill. App. 184; Killpatrick v. Helston, 25 Ill. App. 127; Ginders v. Ginders, 21 Ill. App. 522; Decker v. Kanous, 129 Mich. 146, 88 N. W. 398; De Camp v. Wilson, 31 N. J. Eq.

an express contract or an implied agreement or mutual understanding that the services were to be paid for,[23] and in the latter case the facts showing such agreement or understanding must be clearly established.[24] The existence or non-existence of such an implied agreement or mutual understanding may be established from the circumstances of the particular case,[25] as by proof of the character of the services rendered,[26] particular relations between the parties, as of friendship,[27] or obligation,[28] the financial condition of the parties,[29] or proof of whether similar services previously performed were gratuitous or for compensation;[30] but no general rule can be laid down applicable to all cases as to what facts and circumstances are sufficient to show the existence or non-existence of such agreement or understanding.[31] Particularly strong and convincing proof is required where the claim is stale,[32] or where the services extended over a considerable period and no demand for compensation was ever made during the decedent's lifetime,[33] or where there are any circumstances connected with the claim tending to render it 656. Compare Wright v. Senn, 85 Mich. 191, 48 N. W. 545; Leitgabel v. Belt, 108 Wis. 107, 83 N. W. 1111. See supra, X, A, 3, a.

23. Illinois.— Ginders v. Ginders, 21 Ill. App. 522.

Indiana.— Ellis v. Baird, 31 Ind. App. 295, 67 N. E. 960.

Oregon.—Wilkes v. Cornelius, 21 Oreg. 348, 28 Pac. 135.

Pennsylvania.— Hess' Estate, 13 Phila. 285.

Wisconsin.— Tyler v. Burrington, 39 Wis. 376; Hall v. Finch, 29 Wis. 278, 9 Am. Rep. 559.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 903½; and supra, X, A, 3, a.

24. Michigan.— Decker v. Kanous, 129 Mich. 146, 88 N. W. 398.

New York.— Matter of Stevenson, 86 Hun 325, 33 N. Y. Suppl. 493; Matter of Warner, 39 Misc. 432, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 363.

Oregon.— Wilkes v. Cornelius, 21 Oreg. 348, 28 Pac. 135.

South Carolina.— Sullivan v. Latimer, 38 S. C. 158, 17 S. E. 701.

Wisconsin.— Tyler v. Burrington, 39 Wis. 376; Hall v. Finch, 29 Wis. 278, 9 Am. Rep. 559.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 903½.

25. Chapman v. Barnes, 29 Ill. App. 184.

The claimant need not have kept an account with the deceased and charged him with each item of service at the time it was rendered in order to establish an understanding that the services were to be paid for. McCleery v. McLean, 11 Ill. App. 344.

26. Chapman v. Barnes, 29 Ill. App. 184; De Camp v. Wilson, 31 N. J. Eq. 656.

27. Clark v. Todd, 16 N. Y. Suppl. 491; Graham v. Gulliver, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 33; West's Estate, 2 Pa. Dist. 268; 13 Pa. Co. Ct. 93; Voldemar's Estate, 4 Pa. Co. Ct. 577.

Where services were first rendered through motives of friendship and neighborly kindness it will be presumed that the original relation continued in the absence of proof to the contrary. Conaughton's Estate, 2 Pa. Dist. 189, 12 Pa. Co. Ct. 590.

28. Graham v. Gulliver, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 33; Sullivan v. Latimer, 38 S. C. 158, 17 S. E. 701.

29. Matter of Childs, 5 Misc. (N. Y.) 560, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 721; Sullivan v. Latimer, 38 S. C. 158, 17 S. E. 701.

30. O'Brien's Estate, 17 Phila. (Pa.) 456.

The fact that gratuitous services were rendered raises no presumption that subsequent services of a different character and rendered under different conditions were also gratuitous. Hayden v. Henderson, 21 Ill. App. 299.

31. In re Young, 39 Mich. 429.

Evidence held sufficient see Galloway v. Galloway, 70 S. W. 48, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 857; Robinson v. Raynor, 28 N. Y. 494 [reversing 36 Barb. 128]; Matter of Hamilton, 70 N. Y. App. Div. 73, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 66 [affirmed in 172 N. Y. 652, 65 N. E. 1117]; In re Harper, 196 Pa. St. 137, 46 Atl. 302; Lindsey's Appeal, (Pa. 1888) 15 Atl. 434.

Evidence held insufficient see Clawson v. Moore, 29 Ill. App. 296; Kibby v. Kibby, 8 Ind. App. 698, 35 N. E. 840; Gaunce v. Barlow, 70 S. W. 284, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 929; In re O'Neill, 49 N. Y. App. Div. 414, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 291; In re Hewlett, 19 N. Y. Suppl. 193.

32. Malone v. Malone, 106 Ala. 567, 17 So. 676; Gaines' Succession, 45 La. Ann. 1424, 14 So. 251; Rice's Succession, 14 La. Ann. 317; Matter of Childs, 5 Misc. (N. Y.) 560, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 721; Wait's Appeal, 4 Pa. Cas. 511, 9 Atl. 943; McQuinn's Estate, 18 Phila. (Pa.) 78; Kelly's Estate, 16 Phila. (Pa.) 285. See also supra, note 20.

33. Alabama.—Malone v. Malone, 106 Ala. 567, 17 So. 676.

Louisiana.— Rice's Succession, 14 La. Ann. 317.

Michigan.—Wright v. Senn, 85 Mich. 191, 48 N. W. 545.

Mississippi.— Carter v. Judge Adams County Probate Ct., 2 Sm. & M. 42.

New York.— Hart v. Tuite, 75 N. Y. App. Div. 323, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 154; Hughes v. Davenport, 1 N. Y. App. Div. 182, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 243; Rowland v. Howard, 75 Hun 1, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 1018; Matter of Pray, 40 Misc. 516, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 807; Matter of Wilmot, 39 Misc. 686, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 651; Matter of Childs, 5 Misc. 560, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 721; Clark v. Todd, 16 N. Y. Suppl. 491.

improbable or suspicious.[34] Since services rendered a decedent by a member of his immediate family, or a person living with him as such, are presumed to be gratuitous,[35] the proof in such cases must be sufficient to overcome this presumption.[36]

g. Hearing. The probate court cannot, against the consent of the representative, proceed with the hearing of a disputed claim unless the statutory requirements as to filing and docketing the same have been complied with.[37] On the hearing the person seeking to establish a claim against the estate has the affirmative of the issue and is entitled to open and close the case.[38] The submission of disputed questions of fact to a jury is discretionary with the probate court,[39] and it may do so of its own motion.[40]

h. Judgment. The judgment rendered in a probate court on the trial of a disputed claim is not a judgment in the technical sense, on which execution may issue,[41] but it simply ascertains whether the claim should be allowed and if allowed it is ordered to be paid from the assets of the estate.[42] It is, however, a final adjudication as to the validity and amount of the claim and is to that extent a judgment,[43] and has the same conclusive force as the judgments of other tribunals,[44] is entitled to the same presumptions as to regularity and validity,[45] and cannot be questioned in a collateral proceeding.[46] It is binding upon the repre-

Pennsylvania.— Miller's Estate, 136 Pa. St. 239, 20 Atl. 796; Conaughton's Estate, 2 Pa. Dist. 189, 12 Pa. Co. Ct. 590; Koecker's Estate, 9 Pa. Co. Ct. 238; Keith's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 581; Voldemar's Estate, 4 Pa. Co. Ct. 577; Kelly's Estate, 16 Phila. 285; Shaffer's Estate, 6 Lack. Leg. N. 137.

Rhode Island.— Gorton v. Johnson, 23 R. I. 138, 49 Atl. 499.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 903½; and supra, note 21.

34. Moore v. Smith, 103 Mich. 387, 61 N. W. 538; Hughes v. Davenport, 1 N. Y. App. Div. 182, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 182; Wood v. Rusco, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 380.

35. See supra, X, A, 3, b.

36. Decker v. Kanous, 129 Mich. 146, 88 N. W. 398; Wilkes v. Cornelius, 21 Oreg. 348, 28 Pac. 135. See also Bostwick v. Bostwick, 71 Wis. 273, 37 N. W. 405.

37. Scott v. Dailey, 89 Ind. 477.

38. Yingling v. Hesson, 16 Md. 112.

39. Kates' Estate, 148 Pa. St. 471, 24 Atl. 77; Ike's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 501, 23 Pa. Co. Ct. 7.

A trial by jury cannot be demanded by the parties as a matter of right, but both issues of law and of fact are to be tried by the court unless referred. Esterly v. Rua, 122 Fed. 609, 58 C. C. A. 548.

An issue will not be granted on a mere naked allegation where the evidence is not sufficient to show any real matter in dispute. Ike's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 501, 23 Pa. Co. Ct. 7.

40. In re Dutton, 205 Pa. St. 244, 54 Atl. 903.

41. Bentley v. Brown, 123 Ind. 552, 24 N. E. 507; Voorhies v. Eubank, 6 Iowa 274. See also Russell v. Hubbard, 59 Ill. 335.

The judgment only establishes the claim in the same manner as if allowed by the representative and approved by the court. Hall v. Cayot, 141 Cal. 13, 74 Pac. 299.

42. Voorhies v. Eubank, 6 Iowa 274.

A formal order of allowance is not necessary but if the judgment as rendered is such in effect it is sufficient. Boyl v. Simpson, 23 Ind. 393.

Upon proof of a claim payable in instalments some of which are not yet due judgment may be rendered for its payment at different times as the instalments fall due. Wolfe v. Wilsey, 2 Ind. App. 549, 28 N. E. 1004.

Where the claim was not filed within the proper time and can be paid only out of subsequently discovered assets the judgment should in this regard be special and not general. Russell v. Hubbard, 59 Ill. 335.

Counter-claim.— The surrogate has no authority to render an affirmative judgment against the claimant on a counter-claim in favor of the estate. Matter of Wilmot, 39 Misc. (N. Y.) 686, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 651.

43. Bentley v. Brown, 123 Ind. 552, 24 N. E. 507.

44. Moody v. Peyton, 135 Mo. 482, 36 S. W. 621, 58 Am. St. Rep. 604.

In the absence of fraud or collusion the judgment is final and conclusive.

Arkansas.— Jackson v. Gorman, 70 Ark. 88, 66 S. W. 346.

Illinois.— Ford v. Stuart First Nat. Bank, 201 Ill. 120, 66 N. E. 316 [reversing 100 Ill. App. 70]; Ward v. Durham, 134 Ill. 195, 25 N. E. 745.

Louisiana.— Sturges v. Sheriff, 14 La. Ann. 231.

Missouri.— Moody v. Peyton, 135 Mo. 482, 36 S. W. 621, 58 Am. St. Rep. 604.

Vermont.— Sherman v. Abell, 46 Vt. 547.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 907, 908.

45. People v. Gray, 72 Ill. 343; Little v. Sinnett, 7 Iowa 324. See also Million v. Ohnsorg, 10 Mo. App. 432.

46. Jackson v. Gorman, 70 Ark. 88, 66 S. W. 346; In re Cook, 14 Cal. 129; Tenk v. Lock, 26 Ill. App. 216.

sentative,[47] the claimant,[48] the heirs[49] and legatees,[50] and other creditors.[51] Judgment cannot be rendered for more than the amount of the claim.[52]

i. Vacating or Setting Aside Judgment. Probate courts have no jurisdiction to set aside their own adjudications and grant rehearings;[53] nor will a court of chancery grant such relief in the absence of a clear showing of fraud or mistake.[54]

4. Appeal[55] — a. Right to Appeal. Appeals from judgments or orders of probate courts allowing or rejecting disputed claims are in most jurisdictions expressly permitted by statute.[56] Where there is a remedy by appeal a suit in equity cannot be maintained to enjoin the enforcement of the probate decree,[57] nor will mandamus lie to compel a probate judge to allow a rejected claim.[58] The decision of a referee under a statutory reference may be reviewed either by a motion for a new trial by way of opposing the motion to confirm the report or by a direct appeal from the judgment entered on the report.[59]

47. Bentley v. Brown, 123 Ind. 552, 24 N. E. 507; Knecht v. U. S. Savings Inst., 2 Mo. App. 563.

A judgment on a claim in favor of the representative is equally binding upon the estate and upon subsequent representatives as would be the allowance of a claim in favor of any other creditor. Bentley v. Brown, 123 Ind. 552, 24 N. E. 507.

48. Shepherd v. Bevans, 4 Md. Ch. 408.

49. Sturges v. Sheriff, 14 La. Ann. 231; Moody v. Peyton, 135 Mo. 482, 36 S. W. 621, 58 Am. St. Rep. 604.

50. Ward v. Durham, 134 Ill. 195, 25 N. E. 745.

51. Ford v. Stuart First Nat. Bank, 201 Ill. 120, 66 N. E. 316 [reversing 100 Ill. App. 70].

52. Russell v. Hubbard, 59 Ill. 335.

Where the representative pleads a set-off judgment cannot be rendered in his favor and against the claimant for a larger amount than the set-off claimed. Jones v. Jones, 21 Ark. 409.

53. Hitchcock v. Genesee Probate Judge, 99 Mich. 128, 57 N. W. 1097. See also In re Cook, 14 Cal. 129; Ford v. Stuart First Nat. Bank, 201 Ill. 120, 66 N. E. 316; Moore v. Hillebrant, 14 Tex. 312, 65 Am. Dec. 118.

Under the Pennsylvania statute it is the duty of the orphans' court to grant a review of the auditing of claims where a proper case is set forth on the face of the petition for review and the facts are verified by affidavit. Meckel's Appeal, 112 Pa. St. 554, 4 Atl. 447.

54. Ward v. Durham, 134 Ill. 195, 25 N. E. 745; Hendron v. Kinner, 110 Iowa 544, 80 N. W. 419, 81 N. W. 783.

To authorize relief against a judgment on the ground of fraud, accident, or mistake there must have been a valid defense thereto on the merits which has been lost, which loss was occasioned by the fraud or act of the prevailing party or by mistake on the part of the losing party unmixed with any negligence or default on his part. Ward v. Durham, 134 Ill. 195, 25 N. E. 745.

55. See, generally, Appeal and Error.

56. Arkansas.— Ex p. Cheatham, 6 Ark. 437.

Colorado.— Corning v. Ryan, 3 Colo. 525.

Illinois.— Ford v. Stuart First Nat. Bank, 201 Ill. 120, 66 N. E. 316 [reversing 100 Ill. App. 70]; Grier v. Cable, 159 Ill. 29, 42 N. E. 395 [affirming 53 Ill. App. 350]; Bassett v. Noble, 15 Ill. App. 360.

Indiana.— Walker v. Heller, 104 Ind. 327, 3 N. E. 114.

Kansas.— Morgan v. Saline Valley Bank, 4 Kan. App. 668, 46 Pac. 61.

Michigan.— Bartlett v. Wayne Cir. Judge, 133 Mich. 604, 95 N. W. 721.

Minnesota.— See Smith v. Pence, 62 Minn. 321, 64 N. W. 822.

Nebraska.— Ribble v. Furmin, (1904) 98 N. W. 420.

New Hampshire.— Harmon v. Haines, 68 N. H. 28, 38 Atl. 734; Sawyer v. Copp, 6 N. H. 42.

Texas.— Glenn v. Kimbrough, 70 Tex. 147, 8 S. W. 81.

Vermont.— Lathrop v. Hitchcock, 38 Vt. 496.

Wisconsin.— Groner v. Hield, 22 Wis. 200.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 910.

Appeal to circuit court see Ex p. Cheatham, 6 Ark. 437; Ford v. Stuart First Nat. Bank, 201 Ill. 120, 66 N. E. 316 [reversing 100 Ill. App. 70]; Grier v. Cable, 159 Ill. 29, 42 N. E. 395 [affirming 53 Ill. App. 350]; Bartlett v. Wayne Cir. Judge, 133 Mich. 604, 95 N. W. 721; Groner v. Hield, 22 Wis. 200.

Appeal to district court see Corning v. Ryan, 3 Colo. 525; Morgan v. Saline Valley Bank, 4 Kan. App. 668, 46 Pac. 61.

Appeal to county court see Lathrop v. Hitchcock, 38 Vt. 496.

A formal entry of judgment is not necessary to authorize an appeal, but any entry which plainly indicates the determination of the probate court to allow or disallow the claim is sufficient. Corning v. Ryan, 3 Colo. 525.

57. Reily v. Porcher, 46 N. Y. App. Div. 290, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 662.

58. Ex p. Cheatham, 6 Ark. 437.

59. Coe v. Coe, 37 Barb. (N. Y.) 232. See also Foote v. Valentine, 48 Hun (N. Y.) 475, 1 N. Y. Suppl. 410; Boyd v. Bigelow, 14 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 511.

Motion for new trial not necessary.— Where a party appears and unsuccessfully opposes a motion for confirmation of the report he may appeal from the judgment entered

b. Who May Appeal. The statutes in some of the states provide that any person who may consider himself aggrieved may appeal,[60] in which case it is not necessary that the appellant should be a party of record to the proceedings in the probate court but merely that he should be aggrieved thereby.[61] Heirs or distributees are parties interested in the allowance of claims against the estate and are entitled to appeal[62] in their own names,[63] although not parties to the record.[64] Under the statutes in some states, however, the heirs can maintain an appeal on their own account only where the representative refuses to do so,[65] but in such cases they are entitled to control the proceedings without interference from the representative.[66] Where, in the case of claims presented by the representative the court appoints some person to defend the action in the probate court, the estate may appeal, through the person appointed, from an allowance of the claim;[67] and a co-representative who is also a legatee may in either capacity appeal from the allowance of a claim in favor of the other representative.[68] The representative is a proper party to appeal in behalf of those whose interests he represents from the allowance of the claims of creditors against the estate,[69] but creditors whose claims have been rejected must appeal on their own account,[70] since as to them the representative is a party adversely interested.[71]

c. Time For Taking Appeal. The time within which appeals may be taken is ordinarily prescribed by statute,[72] and if the appeal is not taken within the thereon without first moving at a special term for a new trial on a case and exceptions. Kellogg v. Clark, 23 Hun (N. Y.) 393.

Costs in proceedings on a statutory reference of a claim against a decedent's estate are within the discretion of the court and its decision will not be reviewed. Hauxhurst v. Ritch, 119 N. Y. 621, 23 N. E. 176.

60. Weer v. Gand, 88 Ill. 490; Pfirshing v. Falsh, 87 Ill. 260; Darwin v. Jones, 82 Ill. 107; Glenn v. Kimbrough, 70 Tex. 147, 8 S. W. 81; Lathrop v. Hitchcock, 38 Vt. 496. See also Daboll v. Field, 9 R. I. 266.

The appellant must be a person aggrieved, although the statute literally provides that any person "who may consider" himself aggrieved may appeal, and so before one as a creditor can appeal from an order of the probate court he must have filed a claim as a creditor. Wallace v. Chicago, etc., Stove Co., 46 Ill. App. 571.

61. Weer v. Gand, 88 Ill. 490; Glenn v. Kimbrough, 70 Tex. 147, 8 S. W. 81; Lathrop v. Hitchcock, 38 Vt. 496.

62. Murphy v. Murphy, 2 Mo. App. 156.

63. Pfirshing v. Falsh, 87 Ill. 260; Burns v. Keas, 20 Iowa 16.

64. Murphy v. Murphy, 2 Mo. App. 156. Contra, Johnson v. Williams, 28 Ark. 478.

65. King v. Ingham Cir. Judge, 69 Mich. 84, 37 N. W. 50; Daniels v. Stevens, 60 Mich. 219, 27 N. W. 1; Groner v. Hield, 22 Wis. 200.

A neglect to appeal within the time limited for taking an appeal is equivalent to "declining" to do so within the meaning of the statute and gives the heirs the right to appeal. Groner v. Hield, 22 Wis. 200.

In Nebraska the statute providing that parties in interest cannot appeal except where the representative refuses to do so is impliedly repealed by the act of 1881. Ribble v. Furmin, (1904) 98 N. W. 420; Drexel v. Rochester Loan, etc., Co., 65 Nebr. 231, 91 N. W. 254.

66. King v. Ingham Cir. Judge, 69 Mich. 84, 37 N. W. 50.

67. Bassett v. Noble, 15 Ill. App. 360.

68. Hesson v. Hesson, 14 Md. 8.

69. Daboll v. Field, 9 R. I. 266. See also Overstreet v. Trainer, 24 Miss. 484.

Where appeals are not taken as a matter of right but must be allowed by the court a representative will not be allowed to appeal, as he is not personally interested, unless it is shown that he does so in the interest of heirs or others affected by the allowance of the claims. In re Gladough, 1 Alaska 649.

If the representative declines to appear and a judgment is rendered in the probate court, upon his default, allowing a claim he cannot appeal. In re Carver, 10 S. D. 609, 74 N. W. 1056.

70. Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227; Trouilly's Succession, 52 La. Ann. 276, 26 So. 851.

71. Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227.

72. Illinois.— Darwin v. Jones, 82 Ill. 107.

Indiana.— Miller v. Carmichael, 98 Ind. 236; Yearley v. Sharp, 96 Ind. 469; Bell v. Mousset, 71 Ind. 347.

Maryland.—Porter v. Timanus, 12 Md. 283; Mayhew v. Soper, 10 Gill & J. 366.

Missouri.— Stephens v. Bernays, 119 Mo. 143, 24 S. W. 46.

Nebraska.— Drexel v. Rochester Loan, etc., Co., 65 Nebr. 231, 91 N. W. 254; Baacke v. Dredla, 57 Nebr. 92, 77 N. W. 341.

Wisconsin.— Groner v. Hield, 22 Wis. 200.

United States.— Mauro v. Ritchie, 16 Fed. Cas. No. 9,312, 3 Cranch C. C. 147.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 915.

The order allowing the appeal may be made after the time limited by the statute if the time limited it may be dismissed on motion;[73] but under the statutes of some states the court may under certain circumstances allow an appeal after the regular time has expired.[74]

d. Record and Proceedings. The proceedings for taking an appeal from judgments of the probate court are regulated by statute.[75] In some cases it is provided that the appeal shall be taken in the same manner as appeals from a justice of the peace;[76] in others in the same manner as actions are commenced in the court where the appeal is heard;[77] and in still others on a case made and settled by the surrogate as upon an appeal in an ordinary action.[78] The transcript of the record must show all the proceedings in the probate court and contain all the evidence.[79] On an appeal by a claimant from a rejection of his claim process need only be issued to and served upon the representative who is the nominal party to the record, and other persons interested in the estate must take notice of such service.[80]

e. Bond. On appeal from judgments of the probate court the appellant is ordinarily required by statute to give a bond,[81] which must be approved,[82] and filed within the time prescribed by the statute.[83] If the bond is defective the appeal should not be dismissed absolutely in the first instance, but conditionally, in case a new or amended bond is not filed within a reasonable time to be fixed by the court.[84]

f. Objections and Exceptions. Objections to the allowance of a claim not made in the probate court cannot be urged for the first time on appeal,[85] but will be considered as waived,[86] unless the objection is one which the representative has no right to waive.[87] In the case of an heir appealing from the allowance of a application for the order was made before the expiration of this period and the appellant was without fault in making and prosecuting the same. Burns v. Keas, 20 Iowa 16.

73. Miller v. Carmichael, 98 Ind. 236; Yearley v. Sharp, 96 Ind. 469; Baacke v. Dredla, 57 Nebr. 92, 77 N. W. 341.

74. See Yearley v. Sharp, 96 Ind. 469; Rutherford v. Allen, 62 Vt. 260, 19 Atl. 714; Groner v. Hield, 22 Wis. 200.

Where the right to appeal is contingent on the refusal of the representative to do so and he does not expressly decline to appeal during the time limited the heirs should be allowed to appeal after its expiration. Groner v. Hield, 22 Wis. 200.

75. See the statutes of the different states, and cases cited supra, X, C, 4, a.

76. Ford v. Stuart First Nat. Bank, 201 Ill. 120, 66 N. E. 316 [reversing 100 Ill. App. 70]; Beardsley v. Hill, 61 Ill. 354; Fitzgerald v. Union Sav. Bank, 65 Nebr. 97, 90 N. W. 994.

77. Voorhies v. Eubank, 6 Iowa 274.

78. Matter of Sunderlin, 69 Hun (N. Y.) 403, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 648. See also Matter of Sherwood, 75 N. Y. App. Div. 342, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 186.

79. Baker v. Hentig, 22 Kan. 323. See also Matter of Sunderlin, 69 Hun (N. Y.) 403, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 648; In re Carpenter, 4 Pa. St. 222.

Where there is a conflict of testimony touching a claim against an estate and the record does not afford sufficient information to enable the court to estimate it the judgment of the lower court thereon will not be disturbed. In re Labauve, 39 La. Ann. 388, 1 So. 830.

A writ of certiorari will be allowed to supply papers necessary to the record which have been accidentally omitted. Woods' Succession, 30 La. Ann. 1002.

80. Motsinger v. Coleman, 16 Ill. 71.

81. Darwin v. Jones, 82 Ill. 107; Bell v. Mousset, 71 Ind. 347; King v. Ingham Cir. Judge, 69 Mich. 84, 37 N. W. 50; Daniels v. Stevens, 60 Mich. 219, 27 N. W. 1.

On an appeal by a creditor from a disallowance of his claim the bond properly runs to the representative. Daniels v. Stevens, 60 Mich. 219, 27 N. W. 1.

Representative may appeal without filing bond. Walker v. Heller, 104 Ind. 327, 3 N. E. 114; Miller v. Carmichael, 98 Ind. 236; Winter v. Winter, 90 Mich. 197, 51 N. W. 363.

82. Bartlett v. Wayne Cir. Judge, 133 Mich. 604, 95 N. W. 721.

83. Darwin v. Jones, 82 Ill. 107; Bartlett v. Wayne Cir. Judge, 133 Mich. 604, 95 N. W. 721.

84. King v. Ingham Cir. Judge, 69 Mich. 84, 37 N. W. 50.

85. Cummins v. Peed, 109 Ind. 71, 9 N. E. 603; Clough v. Ide, 107 Iowa 669, 78 N. W. 697 (objection that the claim was not properly entitled); Stevens v. Witter, 88 Iowa 636, 55 N. W. 535.

An objection that a claim was not referable if not made on the reference cannot be urged for the first time on appeal from the decision of the referee. Weller v. Weller, 4 Hun (N. Y.) 195.

86. Boggs v. Mobile Branch Bank, 12 Ala. 494; Weller v. Weller, 4 Hun (N. Y.) 195.

87. Reay v. Heazelton, 128 Cal. 335, 60 Pac. 977.

claim where the representative refuses to appeal, it is not necessary, to sustain his right of appeal, that the act of the probate court in allowing the claim should have been objected to.[88]

g. Parties. On an appeal by a creditor from a disallowance of his claim the representative is the only necessary defendant in error and other creditors need not be made parties.[89] Under the Indiana statute if it appears that another person is jointly liable by contract with the decedent on the claim presented such person may be made a party.[90] Where after disallowance in the probate court the claim is assigned, the court may permit the assignee to be substituted as claimant on the appeal.[91]

h. Hearing on Appeal. On appeal from a judgment of a probate court the case is tried de novo.[92] The trial is usually conducted without filing any formal pleadings,[93] unless required by the court;[94] and no technical form for framing the issues is necessary, the only requirement being that the nature of the controversy shall clearly appear.[95] The issues on appeal must be the same as in the probate court,[96] and the claimant cannot base his right to recover on a theory different from and inconsistent with that asserted in the court below,[97] nor can he present a new and different claim;[98] but if his previous statement did not correctly set forth his claim it may be amended.[99] If the appellant does not prosecute his

88. Groner v. Hield, 22 Wis. 200.

89. Huntsville Branch Bank v. Steele, 10 Ala. 915.

90. See Claypool v. Gish, 108 Ind. 424, 9 N. E. 382.

91. Harman v. Harman, 62 Nebr. 452, 87 N. W. 177.

92. Arkansas.— Grimes v. Bush, 16 Ark. 647.

Iowa.— Voorhies v. Eubank, 6 Iowa 274.

Kansas.— Neil v. Case, 25 Kan. 510, 37 Am. Rep. 259; Morgan v. Saline Valley Bank, 4 Kan. App. 668, 46 Pac. 61.

Missouri.— Berry v. Henslee, 38 Mo. 392; Elstroth v. Young, 78 Mo. App. 651.

Texas.— Glenn v. Kimbrough, 70 Tex. 147, 8 S. W. 81.

Wisconsin.— Central Bank v. St. John, 17 Wis. 157.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 818.

The jurisdiction of the district court on appeal is no greater than that of the probate court, and where the statute requires the claim to be established by competent testimony in the probate court it must be established in the same manner on appeal (Phillips v. Faherty, 9 Kan. App. 380, 58 Pac. 861; Morgan v. Saline Valley Bank, 4 Kan. App. 668, 46 Pac. 61) and the administrator cannot confess judgment (Phillips v. Faherty, supra).

On appeal from an allowance by commissioners where no formal issue is made in the circuit court the case is tried in the same manner as if it were before the commissioners. Westra v. Westra, 101 Mich. 526, 60 N. W. 55.

93. Haffamier v. Hund, 10 Kan. App. 579, 63 Pac. 659; Hoffman v. Pope, 74 Mich. 235, 41 N. W. 907; Wencker v. Thompson, 96 Mo. App. 59, 69 S. W. 743; Fitzgerald v. Union Sav. Bank, 65 Nebr. 97, 90 N. W. 994.

A set-off cannot be given in evidence in a court of record unless specially pleaded, and where proceedings are conducted summarily without formal pleadings the record cannot be amended to include such a defense where it was not presented in the probate court, but to be admissible it must be filed in the probate court. Berry v. Henslee, 38 Mo. 392.

The statute of limitations may be invoked without a written plea. Wencker v. Thompson, 96 Mo. App. 59, 69 S. W. 743.

Even where the statutes provide for formal written pleadings on appeal (Stuart v. Stuart, 70 Minn. 46, 72 N. W. 819; Lake v. Albert, 37 Minn. 453, 35 N. W. 177) the fact that a trial is had without such pleadings is a mere irregularity not affecting the jurisdiction of the court (Lake v. Albert, 37 Minn. 453, 35 N. W. 177).

94. See Fitzgerald v. Union Sav. Bank, 65 Nebr. 97, 90 N. W. 994.

95. Comstock v. Smith, 26 Mich. 306. See also King v. Brewer, 121 Mich. 339, 80 N. W. 238.

96. Raub v. Nisbett, 111 Mich. 38, 69 N. W. 77; Fitzgerald v. Union Sav. Bank, 65 Nebr. 97, 90 N. W. 994. See also Graham v. Townsend, 62 Nebr. 364, 87 N. W. 169.

In a case where no pleadings are filed, if either party tries to introduce new issues objection may be taken by objecting to evidence introduced in support of such issues. Fitzgerald v. Union Sav. Bank, 64 Nebr. 97, 90 N. W. 994.

97. Raub v. Nisbett, 111 Mich. 38, 69 N. W. 77.

98. Patrick v. Howard, 47 Mich. 40, 10 N. W. 71. See also Stuart v. Stuart, 70 Minn. 46, 72 N. W. 819.

In Vermont the statute provides that the claimant may recover on claims not previously presented where the failure to do so was due to fraud, accident, or mistake. Cutting v. Ellis, 67 Vt. 70, 30 Atl. 688.

99. Cutting v. Ellis, 67 Vt. 70, 30 Atl. 688.

The claimant may increase the amount of his claim where the amount is a matter of appeal it may be dismissed and the judgment of the lower court allowed to stand.[1]

i. Judgment. The judgment rendered in the appellate court is not an ordinary judgment against the representative on which execution may be issued, but is merely an allowance or disallowance of the claim which is certified to the probate court.[2]

5. Costs[3] — a. On Trial in Probate Court. Costs on the trial of disputed claims in probate courts are usually regulated by statute.[4] In the absence of a statute providing expressly for the allowance of costs in such cases it has been held that the equity powers of a probate court were broad enough to authorize an allowance against the estate of costs necessarily incurred in sustaining a valid claim.[5]

b. On Reference. The costs to be awarded on a statutory reference are also regulated by statute.[6] The New York statutes have been several times altered and amended,[7] but by a recent amendment[8] it is provided that upon the entry of the order of reference the proceeding shall become an action in the supreme court,[9] and the costs are awarded according to the provisions relating to actions against executors and administrators,[10] and by the referee instead of by the court.[11] opinion and not of express contract and he thinks the claim as at first presented was too small. Killpatrick v. Helston, 25 Ill. App. 127.

1. Voorhies v. Eubank, 6 Iowa 274.

2. Voorhies v. Eubank, 6 Iowa 274; Tyler v. Gallop, 68 Mich. 185, 35 N. W. 902, 13 Am. St. Rep. 336; Wood v. Flanery, 89 Mo. App. 632; Ambs v. Caspari, 13 Mo. App. 587; Bennett v. Taylor, (Nebr. 1903) 96 N. W. 669.

The judgment may classify the claim against the estate (Ambs v. Caspare, 13 Mo. App. 587), but it is not essential to its validity that it should do so (McCall v. Lee, 120 Ill. 261, 11 N. E. 522 [affirming 24 Ill. App. 585]).

3. See, generally, Costs.

4. Richardson v. Allman, 40 Ill. App. 90; Matter of Ingraham, 35 Misc. (N. Y.) 577, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 62.

In Illinois the statute provides that the estate shall be answerable for costs on claims filed at or before the time selected for the adjustment of claims, and as to claims subsequently filed where a defense is made the court may in its discretion order the whole or some part of the costs occasioned by such defense to be paid by the estate. Richardson v. Allman, 40 Ill. App. 90. See also Robnett v. Robnett, 43 Ill. App. 191. Prior to the act of 1872, the estate was answerable for the costs on claims filed at or before the term selected for adjustment but not on those filed thereafter. Russell v. Hubbard, 59 Ill. 335. See also Beardsley v. Hill, 61 Ill. 354; Richardson v. Allman, 40 Ill. App. 90.

In New York, on the hearing of a disputed claim before the surrogate on the judicial settlement of the representative's accounts, costs are within the discretion of the surrogate. Matter of Coonley, 38 Misc. 219, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 269; Matter of Ingraham, 35 Misc. 577, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 62.

5. Decker's Estate, 22 Pa. Co. Ct. 46.

6. Robert v. Ditmas, 7 Wend. (N. Y.) 552.

7. For decisions prior to the act of 1893 amending N. Y. Code Civ. Proc. § 2718 see Denise v. Denise, 110 N. Y. 562, 18 N. E. 368 [affirming 41 Hun 9]; Kearney v. McKeon, 85 N. Y. 136; Babbage v. Webster, 72 Hun (N. Y.) 456, 25 N. Y. Suppl. 300; Matter of McQueen, 58 Hun (N. Y.) 172, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 509, 19 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 290, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 510; Agar v. Tibbets, 56 Hun (N. Y.) 272, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 591, 18 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 338; Dryer v. Brown, 55 Hun (N. Y.) 612, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 53, 24 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 59, 144; Walker v. Gardener, 8 Misc. (N. Y.) 468, 29 N. Y. Suppl. 669; Hallock v. Bacon, 16 N. Y. Suppl. 725, 21 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 255; Hearn v. Sullivan, 13 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 371; Munson v. Howell, 12 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 77, 20 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 59; Radley v. Fisher, 24 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 404; Avery v. Smith, 9 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 349; Van Sickler v. Graham, 7 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 208; Newton v. Sweet, 4 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 134, 2 Code Rep. (N. Y.) 61; Lansing v. Cole, 3 Code Rep. (N. Y.) 246.

8. N. Y. Laws (1893), c. 686, amending Code Civ. Proc. § 2718.

9. Outhouse v. Odell, 84 Hun (N. Y.) 494, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 388, 24 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 289; Henning v. Miller, 83 Hun (N. Y.) 403, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 878; Adams v. Olin, 78 Hun (N. Y.) 309, 29 N. Y. Suppl. 131.

10. Whitcomb v. Whitcomb, 92 Hun (N. Y.) 443, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 607; Outhouse v. Odell, 84 Hun (N. Y.) 494, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 388, 24 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 289; Henning v. Miller, 83 Hun (N. Y.) 403, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 878; Adams v. Olin, 78 Hun (N. Y.) 309, 29 N. Y. Suppl. 131.

If the representative is successful in resisting the claim, he is entitled to costs as a matter of right. Winne v. Hills, 91 Hun (N. Y.) 89, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 683.

11. Jenkinson v. Harris, 27 Misc. (N. Y.) 714, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 548; Fisher v. Bennett, 21 Misc. (N. Y.) 178, 47 N. Y. Suppl. 114.

This amendment does not, however, repeal the previous law relating to disbursements,[12] and a claimant may be allowed his disbursements, although under the present statute he would not be entitled to costs.[13]

c. Effect of Refusal to Refer. Under the New York statutes costs may be awarded against the representative in favor of a successful claimant where the representative refused to submit the claim to reference.[14] But to entitle the claimant to costs he must bring himself strictly within the statute,[15] and it must affirmatively appear that he made an offer to refer,[16] and that the offer was refused.[17] Under the statute allowing the surrogate to pass upon disputed claims by consent of the parties on a judicial settlement of the representative's accounts, costs may be awarded against a representative who does not consent to have the claim so determined,[18] but if the claimant commences his action before the expiration of the time within which the representative may file such consent he thereby waives his right to costs.[19]

d. Effect of Unreasonable Resistance of Claim. Under the New York statute costs cannot be taxed against a representative where it does not appear that his resistance of the claim was unreasonable.[20] But if the claim was unreasonably resisted the representative is chargeable with costs,[21] provided the demand was presented within the time limited by a notice published as prescribed by law;[22] and in such cases the costs may be taxed either against the representative personally or be paid out of the estate as the court, under the circumstances of the particular case, may direct.[23] These provisions apply to references as well as

12. Niles v. Crocker, 88 Hun (N. Y.) 312, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 761; Outhouse v. Odell, 84 Hun (N. Y.) 494, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 388, 24 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 289.

Rule as to disbursements.— Under the old code of procedure the prevailing party was entitled to recover the fees of witnesses and of referees and other necessary disbursements (Larkins v. Maxon, 103 N. Y. 680, 9 N. E. 56; Krill v. Brownell, 40 Hun (N. Y.) 72, 10 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 8; Hallock v. Bacon, 16 N. Y. Suppl. 725, 21 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 255); and this provision was retained by the laws of 1880 repealing the code of procedure (Larkins v. Maxon, supra; Niles v. Crocker, 88 Hun (N. Y.) 312, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 761; Hallock v. Bacon, supra; Hatch v. Stewart, 42 Hun (N. Y.) 164; Krill v. Brownell, supra [overruling Miller v. Miller, 32 Hun 481, 67 How. Pr. 135; Daggett v. Mead, 11 Abb. N. Cas. 116]; Hallock v. Bacon, supra; Hall v. Edmunds, 67 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 202); and was not repealed by the amendment of 1893 which makes provision only as to costs (Outhouse v. Odell, 84 Hun (N. Y.) 494, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 388, 24 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 289).

13. Osborne v. Parker, 66 N. Y. App. Div. 277, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 894; Whitcomb v. Whitcomb, 92 Hun (N. Y.) 443, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 607; Outhouse v. Odell, 84 Hun (N. Y.) 494, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 388, 24 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 289.

14. Davis v. Gallagher, 37 N. Y. App. Div. 626, 55 N. Y. Suppl. 1066; Snyder v. Snyder, 26 Hun (N. Y.) 324; Effray v. Masson, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 350, 22 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 59; Nellis v. Duesler, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 315; Roberts v. Pike, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 559, 19 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 422; Wilkinson v. Littlewood, 67 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 474; Robertson v. Sheill, 3 Den. (N. Y.) 161.

Where a claim was not presented within the time fixed by statute plaintiff cannot recover costs against the executor or administrator. Bradley v. Burwell, 3 Den. (N. Y.) 261.

15. Cruikshank v. Cruikshank, 9 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 350; Swift v. Blair, 12 Wend. (N. Y.) 278.

16. Buckhout v. Hunt, 16 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 407.

17. Buckhout v. Hunt, 16 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 407; Stephenson v. Clark, 12 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 282; Cruikshank v. Cruikshank, 9 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 350.

It is insufficient to show a refusal to submit to arbitration. Cruikshank v. Cruikshank, 9 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 350; Swift v. Blair, 12 Wend. (N. Y.) 278.

18. Carter v. Barnum, 24 Misc. (N. Y.) 220, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 539, 28 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 161.

19. Hart v. Hart, 45 N. Y. App. Div. 280, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 131.

20. Johnson v. Myers, 103 N. Y. 666, 9 N. E. 55; Matter of Raab, 47 N. Y. App. Div. 33, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 332; Vaughn v. Strong, 66 Hun (N. Y.) 278, 21 N. Y. Suppl. 154; Harrison v. Ayers, 18 Hun (N. Y.) 336; Ehrenreich v. Lichtenberg, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 383; Buckhout v. Hunt, 16 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 407; Stephenson v. Clark, 12 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 282.

21. Matter of Post, 30 Misc. (N. Y.) 551, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 369; Brainerd v. De Graef, 29 Misc. (N. Y.) 560, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 953; Dukelow v. Searles, 20 N. Y. Suppl. 348; Darling v. Halsey, 2 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 105; Linn v. Clow, 14 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 508.

22. Niles v. Crocker, 88 Hun (N. Y.) 312, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 761.

23. Osborne v. Parker, 66 N. Y. App. Div. 277, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 894. See also Matter of to actions.[24] Where the action is in the supreme court the facts showing such unreasonable resistance must be certified by the judge or referee before whom the trial took place,[25] but this requirement does not affect the right of the prevailing party to recover his disbursements.[26] What will amount to an unreasonable resistance depends upon the circumstances of the particular case.[27]

e. Costs on Appeal.[28] In some jurisdictions the statutes provide that the costs on appeal from a judgment of the probate court shall be within the discretion of the appellate court;[29] and in others that the prevailing party shall recover his costs against the other party.[30]

D. Priorities and Payment — 1. Authority and Duty to Pay. One of the most important duties of the personal representative is the payment of debts which have been legally established against the estate.[31] Where there is no lien

Post, 30 Misc. (N. Y.) 551, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 369.

24. Brainerd v. De Graef, 29 Misc. (N. Y.) 560, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 953; Fisher v. Bennett, 21 Misc. (N. Y.) 178, 47 N. Y. Suppl. 114.

25. Lounsbury v. Sherwood, 53 N. Y. App. Div. 318, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 676; Whitcomb v. Whitcomb, 92 Hun (N. Y.) 443, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 607; Brainerd v. De Graef, 29 Misc. (N. Y.) 560, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 953.

Certificate necessary where costs taxed by referee.— Whitcomb v. Whitcomb, 92 Hun (N. Y.) 443, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 607.

The certificate need not be incorporated in the report of the referee but may be made separately and after the report is filed. Brainerd v. De Graef, 29 Misc. (N. Y.) 560, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 953.

26. Osborne v. Parker, 66 N. Y. App. Div. 277, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 894; Lounsbury v. Sherwood, 53 N. Y. App. Div. 318, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 676; Whitcomb v. Whitcomb, 92 Hun (N. Y.) 443, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 607.

27. Robert v. Ditmas, 7 Wend. (N. Y.) 522.

The fact that the resistance of the representative is ineffectual does not necessarily show that it was improper to make it. Nicholson v. Showerman, 6 Wend. (N. Y.) 554.

If the amount of the claim as presented is materially reduced the resistance will be held not to be unreasonable. Johnson v. Myers, 103 N. Y. 666, 9 N. E. 55; Rauth v. Davenport, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 721, 22 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 121; Daggett v. Mead, 11 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 116; Pinkernelli v. Bischoff, 2 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 107; Buckhout v. Hunt, 16 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 407; Robert v. Ditmas, 7 Wend. (N. Y.) 522. It has been held that the resistance was not unreasonable where the amount of the claim was reduced from three thousand dollars to three hundred dollars (Rauth v. Davenport, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 721, 22 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 121), from thirteen hundred dollars to nine hundred and ninety-two dollars and fifty cents (Matter of Raab, 47 N. Y. App. Div. 33, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 332), from forty-five hundred and seventy-two dollars and eighty-eight cents to eleven hundred and seventy-nine dollars and twenty cents (Matter of Ingraham, 35 Misc. (N. Y.) 577, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 62), from one thousand dollars to three hundred and fifty dollars (Cruikshank v. Cruikshank, 9 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 350), and from one hundred and fifty-seven dollars to one hundred and ten dollars (Comstock v. Olmstead, 6 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 77); but where a claim was reduced from one hundred and ninety-six dollars to one hundred and seventy-eight dollars and fifty cents, the representative denying any liability, this was held not to be such a material reduction as to relieve the representative from liability for costs (Dukelow v. Searles, 20 N. Y. Suppl. 348).

28. See, generally, Costs, 11 Cyc. 204.

29. Donaldson v. Raborg, 28 Md. 34; Shepherd v. Shepherd, 108 Mich. 82, 65 N. W. 580; Dodge v. Stanton, 12 Mich. 408. See also Richardson v. Allman, 40 Ill. App. 90.

Where the representative appeals without reasonable ground for resisting the allowance and taking the appeal it is proper that the claimant should recover the costs of the appeal. Dodge v. Stanton, 12 Mich. 408.

Where the representative is claimant and the court appoints a special representative to defend the claim, to entitle the special representative to recover the costs of an appeal from an allowance it must appear that he acted in good faith and with reasonable prudence in appealing. Switzer v. Kee, 69 Ill. App. 499.

On appeal from the decision of commissioners where their allowance is greatly decreased it is proper to apportion the costs. Hatch v. Hatch, 60 Vt. 160, 13 Atl. 791.

30. Harrington v. Evans, 49 Mo. App. 372, holding that where an heir appeals in the name of the representative from the allowance of a claim and the allowance is sustained the costs should be taxed against the estate and not against the heir. See also Martin v. Nichols, 54 Mo. App. 594.

31. Georgia.— Churchill v. Bee, 66 Ga. 621; Windsor v. Bell, 61 Ga. 671; McIntosh v. Hambleton, 35 Ga. 94, 89 Am. Dec. 276.

Louisiana.— Willis' Succession, 109 La. 281, 33 So. 314; Hoss' Succession, 42 La. Ann. 1022, 8 So. 833; Meissonier v. Laurent, 14 La. Ann. 14.

Maryland.— Baldwin v. Mitchell, 86 Md. 379, 38 Atl. 775; Emery v. Owings, 6 Gill 191.

New York.— Schmitz v. Langhaar, 88 N. Y. 503; Matter of Miner, 39 Misc. 605, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 643.

North Carolina.— Holden v. Strickland, 116

the assets of the estate, real or personal, can as a rule be applied to the payment of the debts only by or through the personal representative unless a contrary provision is made in the decedent's will;[32] but it has been held in England that a personal representative may assign the assets to trustees for the benefit of the decedent's creditors and that the assignment is valid as against a judgment obtained by a creditor against the representative.[33]

2. Classification and Priorities of Debts[34] — a. What Law Governs.[35] In the administration of a decedent's estate the priorities of debts are governed wholly by the law of the jurisdiction in which the representative acts and from which he derives his authority.[36]

b. At Common Law — (I) Classification.[37] At common law the proper expenses of the funeral and of proving the will, if one existed, had priority over all debts of the decedent, and this priority has not been taken away by modern statutes.[38] Apart from these expenses the debts of the decedent were, under the common-law system, divided into three main classes: (1) Debts of record; (2) debts by specialty; and (3) debts by simple contract.[39] These were payable in the N. C. 185, 21 S. E. 684; Wadsworth v. Davis, 63 N. C. 251.

Pennsylvania.— Duval's Appeal, 38 Pa. St. 112.

South Carolina.— Farys v. Farys, Harp. Eq. 261.

Wisconsin.— Gillett v. Gillett, 9 Wis. 194.

England.— See Nicholls v. Judson, 2 Atk. 300, 26 Eng. Reprint 583.

Canada.— McPhadden v. Bacon, 13 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 591.

See supra, VIII, I, 8, d; X, A, 1.

Liability for failure to make payment see infra, X, D, 11.

Failure to pay debts as breach of administration bond see infra, XVII, E, 5.

Liability for paying legatees and distributees before creditors see infra, XI, L, 5.

Upon removal by the court the representative has of course no further authority to pay debts. Rutenic v. Hamaker, 40 Oreg. 444, 67 Pac. 196.

32. Holden v. Strickland, 116 N. C. 185, 21 S. E. 684; Tuck v. Walker, 106 N. C. 285, 11 S. E. 183; Mauney v. Holmes, 87 N. C. 428; Murchison v. Williams, 71 N. C. 135; Duval's Appeal, 38 Pa. St. 112. See also Emery v. Owings, 6 Gill (Md.) 191, per Dorsey, J.

Effect of testamentary trust.— Where a testator names an executor in his will, and devises land to others in trust with a direction to sell, the proceeds to be applied to the payment of debts, he does not thereby confer upon the testamentary trustees the powers and duties of the executor as to paying the debts, unless the will contains a clear expression of an intention to that effect. Duval's Appeal, 38 Pa. St. 112. See, generally, Wills.

33. Wolverhampton, etc., Banking Co. v. Marston, 7 H. & N. 148, 7 Jur. N. S. 1040, 30 L. J. Exch. 402, 4 L. T. Rep. N. S. 524, 9 Wkly. Rep. 790.

34. Power of testator to prefer creditors by will see, generally, Wills.

35. In administration generally, see supra, I, K.

36. Louisiana.— Mary's Succession, 2 Rob. 438.

New Hampshire.— Goodall v. Marshall, 11 N. H. 88, 35 Am. Dec. 472.

North Carolina.— Moye v. May, 43 N. C. 131, 54 N. C. 84.

Pennsylvania.— In re Miller, 3 Rawle 312, 24 Am. Dec. 345.

Virginia.— Tunstall v. Pollard, 11 Leigh 1.

United States.— Smith v. Union Bank, 5 Pet. 518, 8 L. ed. 212 [affirming 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,362, 4 Cranch C. C. 21].

England.— In re Klœbe, 28 Ch. D. 175, 54 L. J. Ch. 297, 52 L. T. Rep. N. S. 19, 33 Wkly. Rep. 391 [explaining Cook v. Gregson, 2 Drew 286, 23 L. J. Ch. 734, 2 Wkly. Rep. 401, and disapproving Wilson v. Dunsany, 18 Beav. 293, 18 Jur. 762, 23 L. J. Ch. 492, 2 Wkly. Rep. 288, 52 Eng. Reprint 115]. See also Pardo v. Bingham, L. R. 6 Eq. 485.

Canada.— Milne v. Moore, 24 Ont. 456.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 927; and infra, XVI, D, 1.

Compare Caruthers v. Corbin, 38 Ga. 75.

37. A declaration by a debtor on his deathbed that a specified debt is sacred, and a request that it shall be paid, will not affect the order of payment. Mason v. Man, 3 Desauss. (S. C.) 116.

Where the assets were sufficient to pay all the debts it seems that the order of priority was considered immaterial and was not strictly followed. Turner v. Turner, 1 Jac. & W. 39, 37 Eng. Reprint 290.

38. See infra, X, D, 2, c, (II), (B), (1).

39. 4 Bacon Abr. 105. See also Com. v. Logan, 1 Bibb (Ky.) 529.

A debt or obligation of record is a writing obligatory, acknowledged before a judge or other officer having authority for that purpose, and enrolled in a court of record. Public Accounts v. Greenwood, 1 Desauss. (S. C.) 450. See also 13 Cyc. 425. The mere fact that a bond is recorded does not make it a debt of record in the legal sense of the term. Public Accounts v. Greenwood, 1 Desauss. (S. C.) 450.

Debt by specialty see 13 Cyc. 424.

Debt by simple contract see 13 Cyc. 424.

following order: (1) Debts of record or by specialty due to the crown;[40] (2) other debts of record, such as final judgments rendered against the decedent in his lifetime,[41] final decrees of a court of equity being upon the same footing;[42] (3) specialty debts, such as debts due on bonds, covenants, and other sealed instruments, when founded on a consideration,[43] and rent in arrear in the decedent's lifetime;[44] (4) debts due by simple contract, that is, contracts not under seal, such as bills and notes, and promises resting in parol or implied in law;[45] and (5) specialty debts

40. See Com. v. Logan, 1 Bibb (Ky.) 529. But debts due the crown did not have priority over debts which were otherwise of superior dignity; the preference extended only to debts of equal or inferior degree. Com. v. Logan, 1 Bibb (Ky.) 529; Public Accounts v. Greenwood, 1 Desauss. (S. C.) 450.

Debts to state see infra, X, D, 2, c, (II), (B), (2), (b), aa.

41. Illinois.— Woodworth v. Paine, 1 Ill. 374.

Kentucky.— Place v. Oldham, 10 B. Mon. 400; Com. v. Barstow, 3 B. Mon. 290.

New Jersey.— Newark Second Nat. Bank v. Blauvelt, 44 N. J. Eq. 173, 14 Atl. 618.

New York.— Hamed's Case, 4 Abb. Pr. 270; Ainslie v. Radcliff, 7 Paige 439; Trust v. Harned, 4 Bradf. Surr. 213.

Pennsylvania.— See Ramsay's Appeal, 4 Watts 71.

England.— See Berrington v. Evans, 3 Y. & C. Exch. 384.

Canada.— Frontenac Loan Co. v. Morice, 3 Manitoba 462.

The priority was not founded on any supposed lien on the decedent's land. Ainslie v. Radcliff, 7 Paige (N. Y.) 439.

A judgment of a justice of the peace, not being a matter of record, did not rank with judgments of courts of record, but when the representative had notice of the judgment he was bound to pay it before specialties. Garrett v. Johnson, 29 N. C. 231.

The dormancy of a judgment did not affect its dignity in administration. Garrett v. Johnson, 29 N. C. 231.

Among several judgments or decrees no priority was recognized by reason of prior date of recovery. Newark Second Nat. Bank v. Blauvelt, 44 N. J. Eq. 173, 14 Atl. 618 [distinguishing Thompson v. Brown, 4 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 619]; Ainslie v. Radcliff, 7 Paige (N. Y.) 439 [distinguishing Thompson v. Brown, 4 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 619].

42. Newark Second Nat. Bank v. Blauvelt, 44 N. J. Eq. 173, 14 Atl. 618; Ainslie v. Radcliff, 7 Paige (N. Y.) 439; Woddrop v. Ward, 3 Desauss. (S. C.) 203; Searle v. Lane, 2 Vern. Ch. 88, 23 Eng. Reprint 667. See also Garner v. Briggs, 4 Jur. N. S. 230, 27 L. J. Ch. 483, 6 Wkly. Rep. 378; Perry v. Phelips, 10 Ves. Jr. 33, 7 Rev. Rep. 31, 32 Eng. Reprint 756.

Judgment or decree must be final.— Ex p. Farrars, 13 S. C. 254; McIntosh v. Brooks, 3 Strobh. (S. C.) 133 note; McIntosh v. Wright, Rich. Eq. Cas. (S. C.) 385.

A judgment in the lord mayor's court against a garnishee did not entitle plaintiff to rank as a judgment creditor in the administration of the garnishee's assets. Holt v. Murray, 1 Sim. 485, 2 Eng. Ch. 485. See also Redhead v. Welton, 30 L. J. Ch. 577, 4 L. T. Rep. N. S. 230, 9 Wkly. Rep. 473.

Thus a debt due by recognizance of special bail had priority over a debt by specialty. Moon v. Pasteur, 4 Leigh (Va.) 35.

Until enrolment a recognizance had no preference over specialty debts. Bernes v. Weisser, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 212; Bothomly v. Fairfax, 1 P. Wms. 334, 24 Eng. Reprint 413, 2 Vern. Ch. 750, 23 Eng. Reprint 1090. See also Glynn v. Thorpe, 1 B. & Ald. 153.

43. Kentucky.—Com. v. Barstow, 3 B. Mon. 290; Com. v. Logan, 1 Bibb 529.

North Carolina.— Roundtree v. Sawyer, 15 N. C. 44.

South Carolina.— Rippon v. Townsend, 1 Bay 445; Harbison v. Giles, 1 Bay 275.

Texas.— Dunn v. Sublett, 14 Tex. 521.

England.— Pinchon's Case, 9 Coke 86*b*; Atkinson v. Grey, 18 Jur. 282, 1 Sm. & G. 577.

Canada.—Hutchinson v. Edmison, 11 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 477.

Effect of naming heir in bond.—In applying the proceeds of the real estate a creditor by bond in which the heirs were named took priority over a specialty creditor under a security in which the heirs were not expressly named. Richardson v. Jenkins, 1 Drew. 477, 1 Eq. Rep. 123, 17 Jur. 446, 22 L. J. Ch. 874, 1 Wkly. Rep. 298.

Separate property of deceased married woman.— In distributing the separate property of a deceased married woman, a bond was not entitled to any priority over debts by simple contract since the bond, considered merely as a bond, was void. Anonymous, 18 Ves. Jr. 258, 11 Rev. Rep. 194, 34 Eng. Reprint 315.

44. Kidd v. Boone, L. R. 12 Eq. 89, 40 L. J. Ch. 531, 24 L. T. Rep. N. S. 356; In re Hastings, 6 Ch. D. 610, 612, 47 L. J. Ch. 137, 25 Wkly. Rep. 842 (per Manlins, V. C.); Clough v. French, 2 Coll. 277, 9 Jur. 1029, 15 L. J. Ch. 24, 33 Eng. Ch. 277; Thompson v. Thompson, 9 Price 464. Compare Talbot v. Shrewsbury, L. R. 16 Eq. 26, 42 L. J. Ch. 877, 21 Wkly. Rep. 473; Vincent v. Godson, 4 De G. M. & G. 546, 24 L. J. Ch. 121, 2 Wkly. Rep. 408, 53 Eng. Ch. 438, 43 Eng. Reprint 620 [affirming 17 Jur. 295], holding that the rule whereby rent was classed as a specialty debt did not apply to rents of lands outside of England.

Relation of landlord and tenant essential.— Vincent v. Godson, 4 De G. M. & G. 546, 24 L. J. Ch. 121, 2 Wkly. Rep. 408 [affirming 17 Jur. 295].

45. Com. v. Barstow, 3 B. Mon. (Ky.) 290; Com. v. Logan, 1 Bibb (Ky.) 529; Rip-not founded on a valuable consideration.[46] At the present time, however, this order of classification is but little observed, if at all.

(II) Preference Among Debts of Same Class — (A) Right of Representative to Give Preference. At common law an executor or administrator has the right to pay one creditor of a given class in full, although the assets are insufficient to satisfy the claims of other creditors of the same class.[47] But if a creditor obtains a judgment or decree against the executor or administrator, such creditor must be satisfied before any others of the same class;[48] and after the representative has notice of the commencement of an action at law against him by a creditor he cannot make a voluntary payment to any other creditor of equal degree,[49] although he may give preference to another creditor of equal degree by confessing judgment in his favor.[50] Notice of the commencement of a suit in equity does not, however, have the effect of destroying the representative's right of preference,[51] and he can make a voluntary payment to another creditor of the same class at any time before final decree.[52] If a creditor files a bill in equity pon v. Townsend, 1 Bay (S. C.) 445; Harbison v. Giles, 1 Bay (S. C.) 275.

46. Stephens v. Harris, 41 N. C. 57; Jones v. Powell, 1 Eq. Cas. Abr. 84, 21 Eng. Reprint 896; Dawson v. Kearton, 2 Jur. N. S. 113, 25 L. J. Ch. 166, 3 Sm. & G. 186, 4 Wkly. Rep. 222; Lomas v. Wright, 3 L. J. Ch. 68, 2 Myl. & K. 769, 7 Eng. Ch. 769, 39 Eng. Reprint 1138; Lechmere v. Carlisle, 3 P. Wms. 211, 24 Eng. Reprint 1033; 2 Williams Ex. 217. See also Isenhart v. Brown, 2 Edw. (N. Y.) 341; Garrard v. Dinorben, 5 Hare 213, 10 Jur. 772, 15 L. J. Ch. 439, 26 Eng. Ch. 213; Clough v. Lambert, 3 Jur. 672, 10 Sim. 174, 16 Eng. Ch. 174; Fairbeard v. Bowers, Prec. Ch. 17, 24 Eng. Reprint 9, 2 Vern. Ch. 202, 23 Eng. Reprint 731.

47. Georgia.— Green v. Allen, 45 Ga. 205; Bomgaux v. Bevan, Dudley 110.

New York.— Schmitz v. Langhaar, 88 N. Y. 503; McKay v. Green, 3 Johns. Ch. 56.

North Carolina.—McLean v. Leach, 68 N. C. 95; Brandon v. Allison, 66 N. C. 532; Wadsworth v. Davis, 63 N. C. 251; Anonymous, 2 N. C. 295.

United States.— Wilson v. Wilson, 30 Fed. Cas. No. 17,848, 1 Cranch C. C. 255.

England.—Lyttleton v. Cross, 3 B. & C. 317, 10 E. C. L. 150; In re Hankey, [1899] 1 Ch. 541, 68 L. J. Ch. 242, 80 L. T. Rep. N. S. 47, 47 Wkly. Rep. 444; In re Harris, 56 L. J. Ch. 754, 56 L. T. Rep. N. S. 507, 35 Wkly. Rep. 710; Waring v. Danvers, 1 P. Wms. 295, 24 Eng. Reprint 396.

Contra, under modern statutes.— See infra, X, D, 10, b, (II).

48. See infra, X, D, 2, b, (II), (B).

49. Georgia.— Bomgaux v. Bevan, Dudley 110.

Kentucky.— Gregg v. Com., 9 Dana 343.

New York.— See Schmitz v. Langhaar, 88 N. Y. 503.

North Carolina.—Wadsworth v. Davis, 63 N. C. 251; Hall v. Gully, 26 N. C. 345; White v. Arrington, 25 N. C. 166 (holding that under Rev. St. c. 46, § 23, allowing executors and administrators nine months before they are required to plead, an executor or administrator can no more avail himself under the plea of plene administravit of voluntary payment of a debt after notice of a writ sued out than he could at common law); Anonymous, 2 N. C. 295.

England.— Waring v. Danvers, 1 P. Wms. 295, 24 Eng. Reprint 396; Parker v. Dee, 3 Swanst. 529 note, 36 Eng. Reprint 968. But since the Judicature Act of 1873, which provides that when the rules of equity and those of common law conflict the former shall prevail, the rule in equity must be followed; and an administrator is entitled after notice of an action brought against him by one creditor to apply the assets in payment of the debt of another creditor. Vibart v. Coles, 24 Q. B. D. 364, 59 L. J. Q. B. 152, 62 L. T. Rep. N. S. 551, 38 Wkly. Rep. 359 [following In re Radcliffe, 7 Ch. D. 733].

50. Gregg v. Com., 9 Dana (Ky.) 343; Allison v. Davidson, 21 N. C. 46; Anonymous, 2 N. C. 295; Wilson v. Wilson, 30 Fed. Cas. No. 17,848, 1 Cranch C. C. 255; Lyttleton v. Cross, 3 B. & C. 317, 10 E. C. L. 150; Waring v. Danvers, 1 P. Wms. 295, 24 Eng. Reprint 396; Parker v. Dee, 3 Swanst. 529 note, 36 Eng. Reprint 968.

A court of equity will not interfere by injunction to restrain the representative from confessing judgment. Wilson v. Wilson, 30 Fed. Cas. No. 17,848, 1 Cranch C. C. 255.

51. Sandridge v. Spurgen, 37 N. C. 269; Allison v. Davidson, 21 N. C. 46; Vibart v. Coles, 24 Q. B. D. 364, 59 L. J. Q. B. 152, 62 L. T. Rep. N. S. 551, 38 Wkly. Rep. 359; Oxford v. Daston, Colles 229, 1 Eng. Reprint 262; Maltby v. Russell, 3 L. J. Ch. O. S. 85, 25 Rev. Rep. 191, 2 Sim. & St. 227, 1 Eng. Ch. 227; Mason v. Williams, 2 Salk. 507. See also Schmitz v. Langhaar, 88 N. Y. 503.

52. Wadsworth v. Davis, 63 N. C. 251; Sandridge v. Spurgen, 37 N. C. 269; Allison v. Davidson, 21 N. C. 46; Mason v. Williams, 2 Salk. 507.

A decree quod computet on a bill filed by a creditor against an executor for the purpose of collecting his own debt does not prevent the executor from paying other claims of equal dignity before final decree. Sandridge v. Spurgen, 37 N. C. 269; Allison v. Davidson, 21 N. C. 46; Smith v. Eyles, 2 Atk. 385, 26 Eng. Reprint 633; Mason v. Williams, 2 against an executor or administrator for the benefit of himself and all other creditors, and a decree is had for an account and distribution, this is in the nature of a decree in favor of all the creditors,[53] and, although the legal priorities of creditors are not affected by the decree,[54] the right of a preference among creditors of equal degree is gone.[55]

(B) Right of Creditor to Obtain Preference. At common law, among creditors of the same class, the one who first reduces his claim to judgment against the personal representative has priority over the others as a reward for his superior diligence;[56] and the same rule applies to decrees in equity against the personal representative;[57] but in order to entitle the creditor to preference his judgment or decree must be final.[58] Judgments or decrees obtained by a creditor against the personal representative do not, however, belong to the same class as judgments recovered against the decedent in his lifetime,[59] and a creditor who obtains judgment against the personal representative does not thereby acquire priority over creditors whose claims are of superior dignity to that upon which the judgment is founded.[60] The mere bringing of an action against a personal representative, while it may prevent him from making voluntary payments to other creditors of the same class,[61] does not entitle the creditor bringing the action to any priority over other creditors who may institute actions,[62] but the priority of the claims of the several creditors who institute actions is determined according to the dates of their respective judgments.[63] A decree made for the administration of the estate on a bill in equity filed on behalf of all the creditors operates as a decree in favor of all the creditors, and a subsequent judg-

Salk. 507. But it is otherwise where the bill is filed on behalf of all the creditors. Sandridge v. Spurgen, supra; Allison v. Davidson, supra; Jones v. Jukes, 2 Ves. Jr. 518, 2 Rev. Rep. 308, 30 Eng. Reprint 753.

53. Perry v. Phelips, 10 Ves. Jr. 34, 7 Rev. Rep. 31, 32 Eng. Reprint 756; Paxton v. Douglas, 8 Ves. Jr. 520, 32 Eng. Reprint 456.

54. Nunn v. ——, 2 L. J. Ch. O. S. 123, 1 Sim. & St. 588, 24 Rev. Rep. 242, 1 Eng. Ch. 588.

55. Sandridge v. Spurgen, 37 N. C. 269; Allison v. Davidson, 21 N. C. 46; In re Harris, 56 L. J. Ch. 754, 56 L. T. Rep. N. S. 507, 35 Wkly. Rep. 710; Mitchelson v. Piper, 5 L. J. Ch. 294, 8 Sim. 64, 8 Eng. Ch. 64.

56. Henderson v. Burton, 38 N. C. 259; Lidderdale v. Robinson, 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,337, 2 Brock. 159 [affirmed in 12 Wheat. 594, 6 L. ed. 740]; In re Williams, L. R. 15 Eq. 270, 42 L. J. Ch. 158, 28 L. T. Rep. N. S. 17, 21 Wkly. Rep. 160; Ashley v. Pocock, 3 Atk. 208, 26 Eng. Reprint 921; In re Bentinck [1897], 1 Ch. 673, 66 L. J. Ch. 359, 76 L. T. Rep. N. S. 284, 45 Wkly. Rep. 397 (per Sterling, J.); In re Stubbs, 8 Ch. D. 154, 47 L. J. Ch. 671, 26 Wkly. Rep. 736; Vincent v. Godson, 3 De G. & Sm. 717; Fowler v. Roberts, 2 Giff. 226, 6 Jur. N. S. 1189, 8 Wkly. Rep. 492. See also Mapes v. Coffin, 5 Paige (N. Y.) 296; Jennings v. Rigby, 33 Beav. 198, 33 L. J. Ch. 149, 9 L. T. Rep. N. S. 308, 12 Wkly. Rep. 32.

57. Bank of England v. Morice, 2 Bro. P. C. 465, 1 Eng. Reprint 1068. See also Perry v. Phelips, 10 Ves. Jr. 34, 7 Rev. Rep. 31, 32 Eng. Reprint 756.

58. Perry v. Phelips, 10 Ves. Jr. 34, 7 Rev. Rep. 31, 32 Eng. Reprint 756. See also Garner v. Briggs, 4 Jur. N. S. 230, 27 L. J. Ch. 483, 6 Wkly. Rep. 378.

Decree quod computet.— A mere decree against the executor for an accounting with a direction for payment according to the result of the account does not entitle the creditor obtaining the decree to any priority over a judgment subsequently obtained. Smith v. Eyles, 2 Atk. 385, 26 Eng. Reprint 633; Perry v. Phelips, 10 Ves. Jr. 34, 7 Rev. Rep. 31, 32 Eng. Reprint 756.

Judgment quod recuperet.— Where in an action of covenant an interlocutory judgment quod recuperet was signed, but before final judgment defendant died, and his executor confessed judgment to a bond creditor, it was held that the executor could plead the judgment confessed in bar to a scire facias in the action of covenant. Smith v. Eyles, 2 Atk. 385, 26 Eng. Reprint 633.

59. 2 Williams Ex. 201.

60. Henderson v. Burton, 38 N. C. 259; Roundtree v. Sawyer, 15 N. C. 44; Lidderdale v. Robinson, 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,337, 2 Brock. 159 [affirmed in 12 Wheat. 594, 6 L. ed. 740].

61. See supra, X, D, 2, b, (II), (A).

62. Anonymous, 2 N. C. 296.

63. Lidderdale v. Robinson, 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,337, 2 Brock. 159 [affirmed in 12 Wheat. 594, 6 L. ed. 740]; Ashley v. Pocock, 3 Atk. 208, 26 Eng. Reprint 921; Dollond v. Johnson, 2 Eq. Rep. 621, 18 Jur. 767, 23 L. J. Ch. 637, 2 Sm. & G. 301, 2 Wkly. Rep. 505. See also Perry v. Phelips, 10 Ves. Jr. 34, 7 Rev. Rep. 31, 32 Eng. Reprint 756. But see Dancy v. Pope, 68 N. C. 147; McLean v. Leach, 68 N. C. 95, holding that the creditor who first proceeds upon his judgment quando and fixes the administrator with assets, must first be paid without any regard to the priority of the judgments.

ment in favor of a single creditor entitles him to no preference with regard to the payment of his claim.[64]

c. Under Modern Statutes — (I) In General. The common-law order of priority still exists in so far as it has not been expressly abrogated or superseded by the local administration laws;[65] but the power of state legislatures to regulate the priorities of claims against decedents' estates is well settled,[66] and the common-law rules have been very generally superseded by statutes, differing widely in the various jurisdictions, classifying the debts of decedents and specifying the order in which they shall be paid.[67] The provisions of the local statutes fixing the order of payment are mandatory; they cannot be changed or disregarded by the court,[68] or by the representative.[69] The representative's right to prefer one 64. Parker v. Ringham, 33 Beav. 535. See also In re Stubbs, 8 Ch. D. 154, 47 L. J. Ch. 671, 26 Wkly. Rep. 736; Shepherd v. Kent, Prec. Ch. 190, 24 Eng. Reprint 92, 2 Vern. Ch. 435, 23 Eng. Reprint 879.

65. Woodworth v. Paine, 1 Ill. 374; Newark Second Nat. Bank v. Blauvelt, 44 N. J. Eq. 173, 14 Atl. 618; Sullivan v. Horner, 41 N. J. Eq. 299, 7 Atl. 411; Patterson v. Patterson, 59 N. Y. 574, 17 Am. Rep. 384.

In New Mexico, if the statutes are silent as to the priority of a particular class of debts, the courts are compelled to resort to the civil law of Spain and Mexico. Crenshaw v. Delgado, 1 N. M. 376.

66. Chicago Title, etc., Co. v. McGlew, 193 Ill. 457, 61 N. E. 1018 [affirming 90 Ill. App. 58]. See also Central Bank v. Little, 11 Ga. 346.

67. See Rains v. Rainey, 11 Humphr. (Tenn.) 261; Mosier v. Zimmerman, 5 Humphr. (Tenn.) 61.

In England the priority of specialty debts over debts by simple contract has been abolished by 32 & 33 Vict. c. 46, under which all creditors of the decedent, whether by specialty or simple contract, are treated as standing in equal degree and entitled to be paid accordingly out of the assets whether legal or equitable. Crowder v. Stewart, 16 Ch. D. 368, 50 L. J. Ch. 136, 29 Wkly. Rep. 331; Re Orsmond, 58 L. T. Rep. N. S. 24. Under this statute the manner of applying assets to pay a simple contract debt due to the crown is to apportion the assets ratably between the specialty and simple contract debts, and to pay the crown debt out of the amount apportioned to the latter class. In re Bentinck, [1897] 1 Ch. 673, 66 L. J. Ch. 359, 76 L. T. Rep. N. S. 284, 45 Wkly. Rep. 397. This statute abolished the priority of a debt for rent, which formerly ranked as a specialty debt. In re Hastings, 6 Ch. D. 610, 47 L. J. Ch. 137, 25 Wkly. Rep. 842.

In Canada the statute of 29 Vict. c. 28, § 28, in express terms makes all debts of the decedent, including those due to the crown, payable pari passu; all priorities being abolished except as to liens existing in the debtor's lifetime, on his real or personal estate. Parsons v. Gooding, 33 U. C. Q. B. 499; Taylor v. Brodie, 21 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 607.

In the United States some of the early statutes retained the common-law priority of debts by specialty over debts by simple contract (Frazer v. Tunis, 1 Binn. (Pa.) 254; Heath v. Belk, 12 S. C. 582; Rippon v. Townsend, 1 Bay (S. C.) 445; Harrison v. Giles, 1 Bay (S. C.) 275; Rice v. Cannon, Bailey Eq. (S. C.) 172. See also Evans v. Norris, 2 N. C. 411. Compare Hargroves v. Cooke, 15 Ga. 321; Smith v. Ellington, 14 Ga. 379, both construing certain peculiar provisions of the early Georgia statutes), and of recognizances over both specialties and simple contracts (Dorsey v. Tunis, 4 Yeates (Pa.) 93, recognizance of bail). But with very few exceptions the law at the present day is that debts by specialty and debts by simple contract stand on a footing of equality. See Scott v. Ware, 64 Ala. 174; Heath v. Belk, 12 S. C. 582. Such an exception is found in Delaware where the common-law order of payment has with a few modifications been retained and adopted by Rev. St. (1893) c. 89, § 25, debts of record, specialties, and simple contracts being payable in the order named as at common law. Under this statute a distributive balance under an administrator's account falls within the seventh class as a debt due by obligation. Robinson v. Robinson, 3 Harr. (Del.) 433.

68. California.— Tompkins v. Weeks, 26 Cal. 50.

Illinois.— Colton v. Field, 131 Ill. 398, 22 N. E. 545.

Indiana.— Jenkins v. Jenkins, 63 Ind. 120.

Iowa.— Hart v. Jewett, 11 Iowa 276.

New York.— Thomson v. Taylor, 71 N. Y. 217, holding that if the decree of a surrogate authorized by 2 Rev. St. c. 116, § 18, for an executor's payment of a debt before the final accounting, remains unexecuted when the general decree for the distribution of the estate among the creditors is made, it must, in case of insufficiency of assets to pay the debts in full, give way to the paramount authority of the statute providing for equality between the creditors; and the creditor obtaining the decree cannot claim a preference under it.

Oregon.— In re Osburn, 36 Oreg. 8, 58 Pac. 521.

Virginia.— Deering v. Kerfoot, 89 Va. 491, 16 S. E. 671.

West Virginia.— Gardner v. Gardner, 47 W. Va. 368, 34 S. E. 792.

69. Tompkins v. Weeks, 26 Cal. 50 (holding the representative not entitled to credit for payment in disregard of the statutory creditor over another is generally abolished and all debts of the same class are made payable pro rata in case of deficiency of assets.[70] Neither is it any longer possible for a creditor, by the exercise of superior diligence, to obtain any preference over other creditors; but a judgment recovered by him against the personal representative has no higher rank than the claim on which it is founded and gives the claim no preference.[71] Even the fact that a creditor by his diligence has order, although made under order of the probate court); In re Dennis, 67 Iowa 110, 24 N. W. 746; Mason's Appeal, 89 Pa. St. 402. See infra, X, D, 10, b.

An executor de son tort is as much bound by such statutes as a rightful executor. Bennett v. Ives, 30 Conn. 329.

70. Alabama.— Scott v. Ware, 64 Ala. 174.

Arkansas.— Payne v. Flournoy, 29 Ark. 500.

Connecticut.— Bennett v. Ives, 30 Conn. 329.

Georgia.— Carter v. Penn, 79 Ga. 747, 4 S. E. 896; Green v. Allen, 45 Ga. 205; Bomgaux v. Bevan, Dudley 110; Wylly v. King, Ga. Dec. 7, Pt. II.

Illinois.— Colton v. Field, 131 Ill. 398, 22 N. E. 545; Dunlap v. McGehee, 98 Ill. 287; People v. Phelps, 78 Ill. 147. See also Armstrong v. Cooper, 11 Ill. 560; Ramsay v. Ramsay, 97 Ill. App. 270.

Iowa.— Hart v. Jewett, 11 Iowa 276.

Kentucky.— See Com. v. Richardson, 8 B. Mon. 81.

Louisiana.— Boyce v. Escoffie, 2 La. Ann. 872. See also Harkin's Succession, 2 La. Ann. 923.

Massachusetts.— See Harriman v. Tyndale, 184 Mass. 534, 69 N. E. 353.

New York.— Thomson v. Taylor, 71 N. Y. 217; Mount v. Mitchell, 31 N. Y. 356; Little Falls Nat. Bank v. King, 53 N. Y. App. Div. 541, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 1010; Matter of Phipp, 29 Misc. 263, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 241; Allen v. Bishop, 25 Wend. 414 (per Nelson, C. J.); In re St. John, Tuck. Surr. 126.

North Carolina.— Moore v. Byers, 65 N. C. 240.

Ohio.— McDonald v. Aten, 1 Ohio St. 293.

Oregon.— See In re Osburn, 36 Oreg. 8, 58 Pac. 521.

Pennsylvania.— Stephens v. Cotterell, 99 Pa. St. 188; Prevost v. Nicholls, 4 Yeates 479; Cairn's Estate, 13 Phila. 350; Ritter's Estate, 11 Phila. 12. See also In re Hofelt, 28 Pittsb. Leg. J. 402.

South Carolina.— Lenoir v. Winn, 4 Desauss. 65, 6 Am. Dec. 597. See also Wulbern v. Timmons, 55 S. C. 456, 33 S. E. 568.

Tennessee.— Rains v. Rainey, 11 Humphr. 261.

Virginia.— Scott v. Cheatham, 78 Va. 82.

England.— St. 32 & 33 Vict. c. 46, which placed specialty and simple contract debts on the same footing in the distribution of decedents' estates, did not have the effect of enlarging the representative's right of preference among creditors of the same class, and under this act a simple contract debt cannot be paid in preference to the specialty debts when the estate is insolvent. In re Hankey, [1899] 1 Ch. 541, 68 L. J. Ch. 242, 80 L. T. Rep. N. S. 470, 47 Wkly. Rep. 444 [refusing to follow Re Orsmond, 58 L. T. Rep. N. S. 24, which holds to the contrary]. See also In re Jones, 55 L. J. Ch. 350.

Canada.— Parsons v. Gooding, 33 U. C. Q. B. 499; Douer v. Ross, 19 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 229.

A parol contract between the representative and a creditor cannot operate to give the creditor a lien on the decedent's land so as to entitle him to any preference. Moyer v. Moyer, 17 Misc. (N. Y.) 648, 40 N. Y. Suppl. 772.

A personal collateral security given by the representative to a creditor cannot give the latter any greater rights as to the real estate than he has without the security. Wyse v. Smith, 4 Gill & J. (Md.) 295.

Liens existing on land at debtor's death see infra, X, D, 2, c, (III), (A), (3); X, D, 2, c, (III), (B), (3).

71. Alabama.— Scott v. Ware, 64 Ala. 174, per Breckell, C. J.

Arkansas.— Yonley v. Lavender, 27 Ark. 252 [affirmed in 21 Wall. (U. S.) 276, 22 L. ed. 536].

California.—Vance v. Smith, 124 Cal. 219, 56 Pac. 1031, construing Code Civ. Proc. § 1504. See also McLean v. Crow, 88 Cal. 644, 26 Pac. 596.

Georgia.— Herrington v. Tolbert, 110 Ga. 528, 35 S. E. 687; Carter v. Penn, 79 Ga. 747, 4 S. E. 896; Turk v. Ross, 59 Ga. 378; Green v. Allen, 45 Ga. 205; Dupree v. Adkins, 43 Ga. 475; Davis v. Smith, 5 Ga. 274, 47 Am. Dec. 279; Bomgaux v. Bevan, Dudley 110.

Illinois.— Armstrong v. Cooper, 11 Ill. 560. See also Clingman v. Hopkie, 78 Ill. 152.

New York.— In re Fox, 92 N. Y. 93; Schmitz v. Langhaar, 88 N. Y. 503 (reviewing earlier decisions); Matter of Miner, 39 Misc. 605, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 643; Allen v. Bishop, 25 Wend. 414 (per Nelson, C. J.); Parker v. Gaines, 17 Wend. 559; St. John's Estate, Tuck. Surr. 126.

Ohio.— McDonald v. Aten, 1 Ohio St. 293.

Pennsylvania.— Strouse v. Lawrence, 160 Pa. St. 421, 28 Atl. 930 (attachment execution on judgment against representative); Patterson's Appeal, 96 Pa. St. 93; Prevost v. Nicholls, 4 Yeates 479; Wootering v. Stewart, 2 Yeates 483. See also Matter of Patterson, 1 Ashm. 336.

South Carolina.— Fraser v. Charleston, 23 S. C. 373; Hutchison v. Bates, 1 Bailey 111; Summers v. Tidmore, 1 McCord 270; Tucker v. Condy, 7 Rich. Eq. 281.

increased the assets by the discovery of a fund applicable to the claims of creditors does not entitle him to any preference over other creditors of the same class; but the newly discovered fund will be distributed among all the creditors according to the local statute.[72] Where an unpreferred creditor has received a dividend on the first annual distribution, and afterward, but within the time limited for the exhibition and allowance of claims, other demands of the same class are allowed, the latter must be paid an equal percentage with the first before the first can share in a second distribution.[73] The rights of creditors and the relative priorities of their claims become fixed at the time of the debtor's death,[74] and the law then in force controls,[75] and it is immaterial that the debt was contracted[76] or the claim reduced to judgment before the enactment of that law.[77]

(II) PREFERRED CLAIMS—(A) In General. Where preferred claims are enumerated in the same class the order in which they are enumerated is immaterial, and if the statute does not expressly prefer any one of them over another all are payable pro rata if the assets are insufficient to pay them in full,[78] and if, by the common law, one of the claims enumerated in the statute as preferred was entitled to priority over the others, this priority is not displaced by reason of the Tennessee.— Mosier v. Zimmerman, 5 Humphr. 62. See also Rains v. Rainey, 11 Humphr. 261.

Texas.— Buchanan v. Wagnon, 62 Tex. 375.

Canada.— Bank of British North America v. Mallory, 17 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 102, holding that creditors who had recovered judgments against the representative and obtained payment in full were bound to refund the excess over their pro rata shares. See also Taylor v. Brodie, 21 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 607. Compare Henry v. Sharp, 18 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 16.

Contra.— In re Williams, L. R. 15 Eq. 270, 42 L. J. Ch. 158, 28 L. T. Rep. N. S. 17, 21 Wkly. Rep. 160; In re Stubbs, 8 Ch. D. 154, 47 L. J. Ch. 671, 26 Wkly. Rep. 736.

A statute giving priority to judgments and executions applies only to such judgments and executions as existed in the lifetime of the decedent. Bomgaux v. Bevan, Dudley (Ga.) 110.

As between several judgments obtained against the representative at different times and on claims of equal degree, their dates are immaterial; all the judgments share pro rata. Carter v. Penn, 79 Ga. 747, 4 S. E. 896. Compare Dupree v. Adkins, 43 Ga. 475, holding the judgments payable in the order of their seniority.

72. Colton v. Field, 131 Ill. 398, 22 N. E. 545; McDonald v. Aten, 1 Ohio St. 293; Wulbern v. Timmons, 55 S. C. 456, 33 S. E. 568 (ascertainment of an overpayment by the representative); Rains v. Rainey, 11 Humphr. (Tenn.) 261 (setting aside fraudulent assignment by debtor in his lifetime).

73. Dunlap v. McGhee, 98 Ill. 287. Compare Home Ins. Co. v. Lyon, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 69.

74. Georgia.— Green v. Allen, 45 Ga. 205; Williams v. Price, 21 Ga. 507, 510; Bomgaux v. Bevan, Dudley 110.

Illinois.— Chicago Title, etc., Co. v. McGlew, 193 Ill. 457, 61 N. E. 1018 [affirming 90 Ill. 58]; Clingman v. Hopkie, 78 Ill. 152.

Louisiana.— Gragard's Succession, 106 La. 298, 30 So. 885; Boyce v. Escoffie, 2 La. Ann. 872.

New York.— Little Falls Nat. Bank v. King, 53 N. Y. App. Div. 541, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 1010; Ainslie v. Radcliff, 7 Paige 439.

North Carolina.— Mauney v. Holmes, 87 N. C. 428.

Pennsylvania.— Strouse v. Lawrence, 160 Pa. St. 421, 28 Atl. 930; Patterson's Appeal, 96 Pa. St. 93; Deichman's Appeal, 2 Whart. 395, 30 Am. Dec. 271; Scott v. Ramsey, 1 Binn. 221; Matter of Patterson, 1 Ashm. 336.

South Carolina.— Thomas v. McElwee, 3 Strobh. 131; Hutchison v. Bates, 1 Bailey 111; Tucker v. Condy, 7 Rich. Eq. 281.

75. Chicago Title, etc., Co. v. McGlew, 193 Ill. 457, 61 N. E. 1018 [affirming 90 Ill. 58]; Paschall v. Hailman, 9 Ill. 285; Deichman's Appeal, 2 Whart. (Pa.) 395, 30 Am. Dec. 271.

Statutes not retroactive.— Statutes regulating the priorities of debts do not apply to the estates of persons who died before such statutes were enacted. Woodworth v. Paine, 1 Ill. 374; Betts v. Bond, 1 Ill. 287; Price v. Harrison, 31 Gratt. (Va.) 114. But see Place v. Oldham, 10 B. Mon. (Ky.) 400.

76. Chicago Title, etc., Co. v. McGlew, 193 Ill. 457, 61 N. E. 1018 [affirming 90 Ill. App. 58]; Deichman's Appeal, 2 Whart. (Pa.) 395, 30 Am. Dec. 271. See also State v. Dickson, 38 Ga. 171.

77. Paschal v Hailman, 9 Ill. 285 [distinguishing Woodworth v. Paine, 1 Ill. 374; Betts v. Bond, 1 Ill. 287]; Deichman's Appeal, 2 Whart. (Pa.) 395, 30 Am. Dec. 271. See also State v. Dickson, 38 Ga. 171.

Constitutionality of statute.— A statute which abolishes the priority of judgments with respect to payment out of the personal estate is not unconstitutional as impairing the obligations of contracts because it applies to judgments in existence at the date of its enactment. Deichman's Appeal, 2 Whart. (Pa.) 395, 30 Am. Dec. 271. See also State v. Dickson, 38 Ga. 171.

78. Ritter's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 12.

fact that the statute mentions this claim after the others which it places in the same class.[79]

(B) As to General Assets — (1) EXPENSES OF FUNERAL AND ADMINISTRATION. Both by the common law and the modern statutes the proper expenses of the decedent's funeral are given preference, in payment out of the assets, over all debts of the decedent;[80] and a like priority is accorded to the legitimate expenses incident to and necessarily incurred in the administration of the estate.[81]

79. Sullivan v. Horner, 41 N. J. Eq. 299, 7 Atl. 411.

80. Georgia.— White v. Stephens, R. M. Charlt. 56.

Iowa.— Hart v. Jewett, 11 Iowa 276.

Kentucky.— Best v. Spooner, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 602.

Louisiana.— Alter v. O'Brien, 31 La. Ann. 452; Halbert's Succession, 3 La. Ann. 436.

Michigan.— Booth v. Radford, 57 Mich. 357, 24 N. W. 102.

Minnesota.— Dampier v. St. Paul Trust Co., 46 Minn. 526, 49 N. W. 286.

New Jersey.— Sullivan v. Horner, 41 N. J. Eq. 299, 7 Atl. 411.

New York.— Patterson v. Patterson, 59 N. Y. 574, 17 Am. Rep. 384.

North Carolina.— Ray v. Honeycutt, 119 N. C. 510, 26 S. E. 127; Parker v. Lewis, 13 N. C. 21, holding that this is true independently of any promise by the representative.

Pennsylvania.— Luton's Estate, 10 Kulp 161 (bill for tombstone included); Saving Fund v. Cartwright, 1 Leg. Rec. 171.

South Carolina.— Ex p. Worley, 49 S. C. 41, 26 S. E. 949; Salvo v. Schmidt, 2 Speers 512.

Tennessee.— Steger v. Frizzell, 2 Tenn. Ch. 369.

Texas.— McLane v. Paschal, 47 Tex. 365. See also Robertson v. Paul, 16 Tex. 472.

Vermont.— Sawyer v. Hebard, 58 Vt. 375, 3 Atl. 529; Shaw v. Hallihan, 46 Vt. 389, 14 Am. Rep. 628.

England.— Sharp v. Lush, 10 Ch. D. 468, 48 L. J. Ch. 231, 27 Wkly. Rep. 528. See also Rex v. Wade, 5 Price 621, 19 Rev. Rep. 664.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 945, 976.

Funeral expenses are preferred to debts due the United States (U. S. v. Eggleston, 25 Fed. Cas. No. 15,027, 4 Sawy. 199), debts of record, such as judgments (Holbert's Succession, 3 La. Ann. 436; Sullivan v. Horner, 41 N. J. Eq. 299, 7 Atl. 411; Parker v. Lewis, 13 N. C. 21), claims secured by trust deeds (McLane v. Paschal, 47 Tex. 365), and rents in arrear in the decedent's lifetime (Ritter's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 12; Salvo v. Schmidt, 2 Speers (S. C.) 512).

Advance by representative.— Where an administrator has paid for funeral expenses an amount in excess of the personal assets, such amount should be refunded to him out of the proceeds of the realty in preference to all debts not specific liens thereon. Clayton v. Somers, 27 N. J. Eq. 230; Loftis v. Loftis, 94 Tenn. 232, 28 S. W. 1091.

Funeral expenses of decedent's family.— In some jurisdictions the statutes giving preference to funeral expenses include expressly or by implication the funeral expenses of the decedent's wife and children. Alter v. O'Brien, 31 La. Ann. 452; Sullivan v. Horner, 41 N. J. Eq. 299, 7 Atl. 441, where all were killed in a common disaster.

81. Georgia.— Mapp v. Long, 62 Ga. 568.

Indiana.— See Taylor v. Wright, 93 Ind. 121.

Iowa.— Hart v. Jewett, 11 Iowa 276.

Kentucky.— Best v. Spooner, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 602.

Louisiana.— Moise's Succession, 107 La. 717, 31 So. 990 (attorney's fee); Well's Succession, 24 La. Ann. 162 (attorney's fee); Lauve's Succession, 18 La. Ann. 721 [following Friend v. Graham, 10 La. 438]; Holbert's Succession, 3 La. Ann. 436. See also Hautau's Succession, 32 La. Ann. 54.

Minnesota.— Dampier v. St. Paul Trust Co., 46 Minn. 526, 49 N. W. 286.

Missouri.— Elstroth v. Young, 88 Mo. App. 418.

New York.— In re Thompson, 41 Barb. 237 [affirming 1 Redf. Surr. 490] (judgment against representative for value of attorney's services); In re Mahoney, 37 Misc. 472, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 1056 (judgment for costs recovered against the representative in an action by him to recover a claim alleged to be due the decedent in his lifetime). See also Patterson v. Patterson, 59 N. Y. 574, 17 Am. Rep. 384.

Pennsylvania.— France's Estate, 16 Wkly. Notes Cas. 350.

Rhode Island.— Hazard v. Engs, 14 R. I. 5.

South Carolina.— Ex p. Worley, 49 S. C. 41, 26 S. E. 949.

Texas.— Manning v. Mayes, 79 Tex. 653, 15 S. W. 638; Callaghan v. Grenet, 66 Tex. 236, 18 S. W. 507 (attorney's fees); Williams v. Robinson, 56 Tex. 347 (attorney's fees); McLane v. Paschal, 47 Tex. 365 (prior to claim secured by trust deed). See also Robertson v. Paul, 16 Tex. 472.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 950.

The costs of administration have priority over debts due the United States (U. S. v. Eggleston, 25 Fed. Cas. No. 15,027, 4 Sawy. 199, holding, however, that these costs do not include the costs and expenses of defending an action brought by the United States to enforce a claim that was prima facie just and ought to have been allowed and paid. See also U. S. v. Hahn, 37 Mo. App. 580; U. S. v. Hunter, 26 Fed. Cas. No. 15,427, 5 Mason 229) and also over a judgment in favor of a creditor against the personal representative (Williams v. Robinson, 56 Tex. 347).

(2) Debts Due to the Public or Sovereignty — (a) To United States. By virtue of acts of congress[82] debts due to the United States must be paid before all other debts of the decedent.[83] The statutes giving this priority supersede and control all state laws so far as priorities of claims are concerned,[84] so that the absence of a similar provision in a state statute is immaterial;[85] but the state statutes usually recognize the priority of debts due the United States by including them among the preferred claims.[86]

(b) To State or County — aa. In General. The common law of England giving preference to debts due the crown[87] has in some states been declared to be in force so as to give priority to debts due the state, it being held that such debts have priority over the claims of citizens except as against antecedent liens.[88] In many states the statutes expressly give a preference to debts due the state or "the public,"[89] but such statutes apply only where the debt of the state and that of the Costs in suits by creditors.— In England costs in creditors' suits have priority. Loomes v. Stotherd, 1 L. J. Ch. O. S. 220, 1 Sim. & St. 458, 1 Eng. Ch. 458; Barker v. Wardle, 2 Myl. & K. 818, 7 Eng. Ch. 818, 39 Eng. Reprint 1157; Larkins v. Paxton, 2 Myl. & K. 320, 7 Eng. Ch. 320, 39 Eng. Reprint 965. See also Sanderson v. Stoddart, 32 Beav. 155, 9 Jur. N. S. 1216, 7 L. T. Rep. N. S. 662, 11 Wkly. Rep. 275; Newbegin v. Bell, 23 Beav. 386, 53 Eng. Reprint 152; Gaunt v. Taylor, 2 Hare 413, 24 Eng. Ch. 413. In the United States there are several cases holding that costs thus recovered are preferred claims (Matter of Randell, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 652, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 29; Shields v. Sullivan, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 296. See also Hautau's Succession, 32 La. Ann. 54; In re Casey, 2 Silv. Supreme (N. Y.) 585, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 608); but the contrary has been asserted on the ground that the costs are part of the judgment (Shute v. Shute, 5 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 1), and it has been held that such costs are not proper expenses of administration (Taylor v. Wright, 93 Ind. 121. See also U. S. v. Eggleston, 25 Fed. Cas. No. 15,027, 4 Sawy. 199), and do not even rank with the debt on which the creditor's judgment is founded but are postponed to debts of every degree incurred by the decedent in his lifetime (Hutchison v. Bates, 1 Bailey (S. C.) 111).

Expenses incurred by decedent as administrator.— The expenses of administration which are preferred do not include the costs and expenses of settling an estate of which the decedent was the administrator. Hullett v. Hood, 109 Ala. 345, 19 So. 419.

82. U. S. Rev. St. §§ 3466, 3467 [U. S. Comp. St. (1901) p. 2314].

83. U. S. v. Hahn, 37 Mo. App. 580; Com. v. Lewis, 6 Binn. (Pa.) 266; Gregory's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 126; Brent v. Washington Bank, 10 Pet. (U. S.) 596, 9 L. ed. 547; U. S. v. North Carolina Bank, 6 Pet. (U. S.) 29, 8 L. ed. 308; U. S. v. Duncan, 25 Fed. Cas. No. 15,003, 4 McLean 607, 12 Ill. 523.

Debts payable at a future day included.— U. S. v. North Carolina Bank, 6 Pet. (U. S.) 29, 8 L. ed. 308.

Priority not affected by rule of marshaling assets.— U. S. v. Duncan, 25 Fed. Cas. No. 15,003, 4 McLean 607, 12 Ill. 523.

Statute liberally construed.— U. S. v. Duncan, 25 Fed Cas. No. 15,003, 4 McLean 607, 12 Ill. 523.

A debt to the United States is not a lien upon the property of the decedent but has only a priority of payment. Postmaster Gen. v. Robbins, 19 Fed. Cas. No. 11,314, 1 Ware 163; U. S. v. Eggleston, 25 Fed. Cas. No. 15,027, 4 Sawy. 199 [citing U. S. v. Fisher, 2 Cranch (U. S.) 358, 2 L. ed. 304].

The expenses of the decedent's last illness are a debt due from the deceased and claims due the United States have priority over them. Postmaster Gen. v. Robbins, 19 Fed. Cas. No. 11,314, 1 Ware 163; U. S. v. Eggleston, 25 Fed. Cas. No. 15,027, 4 Sawy. 199.

Priority over widow's allowance see supra, IX, G, 1.

Allowance and classification by the probate court are not essential to justify the representative in paying a debt due the United States. U. S. v. Hahn, 37 Mo. App. 580.

84. U. S. v. Duncan, 25 Fed. Cas. No. 15,003, 4 McLean 607, 12 Ill. 523.

85. U. S. v. Hahn, 37 Mo. App. 580.

86. See Hart v. Jewett, 11 Iowa 276.

87. See supra, X, D, 2, b, (I).

88. Robinson v. Darien Bank, 18 Ga. 65; Orem v. Wrightson, 51 Md. 34, 34 Am. Rep. 286; Smith v. State, 5 Gill (Md.) 45; State v. State Bank, 6 Gill & J. (Md.) 205, 26 Am. Dec. 561; Murray v. Ridley, 3 Harr. & M. (Md.) 171. See also Com. v. Logan, 1 Bibb (Ky.) 529.

A judgment belonging to the state has priority over a judgment in favor of an individual. Contee v. Chew, 1 Harr. & J. (Md.) 417.

A specialty debt due to a citizen has been preferred to a simple contract debt due the commonwealth. Com. v. Logan, 1 Bibb (Ky.) 529.

In South Carolina it has been held that the common law on this point is not in force, and that the only priority to which the state is entitled is that afforded by the statute. State v. Harris, 2 Bailey (S. C.) 598; Klinck v. Keckley, 2 Hill Eq. (S. C.) 250.

89. See Baxter v. Baxter, 23 S. C. 114.

In Pennsylvania debts due to the commonwealth are payable after all other debts. 1 Brightly Purdon Dig. p. 591. But a judgment in favor of the commonwealth ranks individual are otherwise of equal degree and equally entitled to payment.[90] In the absence of a statute giving a preference to debts due to a county, such debts have no priority over the general debts of the decedent.[91]

bb. What Debts Included—(aa) In General. In determining what debts are within the meaning of a statute giving priority to debts due the state or the public, the wording of the particular statute is of course controlling, and the settled rules of statutory construction must be followed.[92] The preference given by statute to a claim due the state is not affected by the fact that the state holds a mortgage as security.[93]

(bb) Debts to Corporation Owned by State—aaa. Under General Statutes. A debt due to a bank owned and controlled entirely by the state is not a debt due to the state or "the public" within the meaning of a general statute giving such debts a preference.[94]

bbb. Under Special Statutes. It is, however, competent for the legislature, by a special enactment, to give debts due to such corporations priority.[95]

(c) Taxes. The statutes usually include taxes among the preferred debts of decedents,[96] but, where the assessment is made after the death of the decedent, the taxes are not preferred claims.[97] with other judgments. Ramsey's Appeal, 4 Watts (Pa.) 71.

90. Klinck v. Keckley, 2 Hill Eq. (S. C.) 250; Dunlap v. Bynum, 4 Desauss. (S. C.) 646; Public Accounts v. Greenwood, 1 Desauss. (S. C.) 450.

91. Hargrove v. Lilly, 69 Ga. 326.

Construction of statutes.— A statute giving priority to debts due the state does not include debts due a county (Hargrove v. Lilly, 69 Ga. 326), but it seems that such debts are included in a statute giving priority to "debts due to the public" (Baxter v. Baxter, 23 S. C. 114).

92. Baxter v. Baxter, 23 S. C. 114. See, generally, Statutes.

General terms used will not be limited. Baxter v. Baxter, 23 S. C. 114.

Liability as surety on county treasurer's bond.— The liability of the decedent as surety on the bond of a county treasurer who defaulted is a "debt due to the public" within the meaning of a statute preferring such debts. Baxter v. Baxter, 23 S. C. 114.

Taxes collected and retained by decedent.— A statute which gives priority to taxes and levies assessed on a decedent prior to his death gives no lien or priority in favor of the state on the estate of a deceased defaulting sheriff for taxes collected and unaccounted for by him. Spillman v. Payne, 84 Va. 435, 4 S. E. 749. See also Hargrove v. Lilly, 69 Ga. 326.

93. Lenoir v. Winn, 4 Desauss. (S. C.) 65, 6 Am. Dec. 597.

94. Georgia Cent. Bank v. Little, 11 Ga. 346; State Bank v. Gibbs, 3 McCord (S. C.) 377 [citing U. S. Bank v. Planters Bank, 9 Wheat. (U. S.) 904, 6 L. ed. 244]; Fields v. Wheatley, 1 Sneed (Tenn.) 351. Compare Robinson v. Darien Bank, 18 Ga. 65.

95. Central Bank v. Little, 11 Ga. 346. See also State v. Dickson, 38 Ga. 171.

96. See Hart v. Jewett, 11 Iowa 276; Bonaparte v. State, 63 Md. 465; Fulton v. Nicholson, 7 Md. 104; State v. Donaldson, 28 Mo. App. 190; In re Babcock, 115 N. Y. 450, 22 N. E. 263 [affirming 52 Hun 142, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 903]; Mitchell v. Bowne, 63 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 1; Coleman v. Coleman, 5 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 524. See also Naftel v. Osborn, 96 Ala. 623, 12 So. 182.

Taxes prior to debts due United States.— U. S. v. Eggleston, 25 Fed. Cas. No. 15,027, 4 Sawy. 199.

Assessment on life-estate.— Under a statute giving a preference to "taxes assessed on the estate of the deceased previous to his death," where an assessment was made during the decedent's lifetime on realty in which he had a life-estate and the taxes remained unpaid at the time of his death, they were entitled to preferential payment out of his personal estate. Coleman v. Coleman, 5 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 524.

Street assessment.— Under a statute which directs that the representative shall pay "the debts" of the decedent in a certain order and provides that "taxes assessed upon the estate of the deceased previous to his death" shall be preferred, a street assessment is not entitled to preference unless it was a personal debt of the decedent and not merely a charge on land. Matter of Hun, 7 Misc. (N. Y.) 409, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 253. See also Seabury v. Bowen, 3 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 207.

97. Pryor v. Davis, 109 Ala. 117, 19 So. 440. See also In re Selleck, 111 N. Y. 284, 19 N. E. 66. Compare U. S. v. Eggleston, 25 Fed. Cas. No. 15,027, 4 Sawy. 199, applying the law of Oregon.

What taxes within statute.— Under a statute giving a preference to "taxes assessed upon the estate of the deceased previous to his death" an assessment so far completed before decedent's death that the name of the person described as owner cannot be changed or altered by the assessment officers is payable from his estate as a preferred claim in due course of administration. In re Babcock, 115 N. Y. 450, 22 N. E. 263 [affirming 52 Hun 142, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 903].

(3) Expenses of Last Illness. The expenses of the decedent's last illness, including the charges of physicians, bills for medicines, etc., are entitled to preference under some statutes.[98]

(4) Wages of Servants, Etc. Wages due to servants, employees, or laborers for a certain period prior to the decedent's death are in some states given a preference.[99]

98. Iowa.— Hart v. Jewett, 11 Iowa 276.

Louisiana.— Schmidt's Succession, 108 La. 293, 32 So. 413; Holbert's Succession, 3 La. Ann. 436. But under the civil code the claim must be recorded or it cannot rank as privileged. Elliott v. Elliott, 31 La. Ann. 31.

Maine.— Huse v. Brown, 8 Me. 167.

Michigan.— Booth v. Radford, 57 Mich. 357, 24 N. W. 102.

Pennsylvania.— Staggers' Estate, 8 Pa. Super. Ct. 260, 43 Wkly. Notes Cas. 79; Wasson's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 480, 22 Pa. Co. Ct. 111, 15 Montg. Co. Rep. 26; Jones' Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. 302; In re Silvius, 3 Lack. Leg. N. 84; Pottsville Union Sav. Fund Assoc. v. Cartwright, 1 Leg. Rec. 171.

South Carolina.— Ex p. Worley, 49 S. C. 41, 26 S. E. 949; McVoy v. Percival, Dudley 337.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 946.

Validity of claim.— It must be shown that the physician's services, for which a preference is claimed, were actually rendered. Spiro v. Leibenguth, 51 La. Ann. 152, 24 So. 785.

Services of a nurse are included. In re Silvius, 3 Lack. Leg. N. (Pa.) 84; McVoy v. Percival, Dudley (S. C.) 337.

What constitutes last sickness.— The "last sickness," the expenses of which are preferred by statute, is the sickness which terminated in the patient's death, and the right to preference is limited to services performed and expense incurred during that sickness (Whitaker's Succession, 7 Rob. (La.) 91; Huse v. Brown, 8 Me. 167; Wasson's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 480, 22 Pa. Co. Ct. 111, 15 Montg. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 26; Duckett's Estate, 1 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 78, the illness after the patient is prostrated and when services are constantly necessary), but in the absence of statute no particular period preceding the death can be fixed as constituting the last illness of which the expenses are preferred, as the duration of the last illness must vary considerably according to the nature of the disease and the condition of the patient (Huse v. Brown, 8 Me. 167; Stagger's Estate, 8 Pa. Super. Ct. 260, 43 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 79; Wasson's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 480, 22 Pa. Co. Ct. 111, 15 Montg. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 26; McVoy v. Percival, Dudley (S. C.) 337).

Services to others than decedent.— A statute placing among preferred debts of an estate a debt for "medical services within the twelve months preceding the decease" means services to the decedent only and not to his wife, child, or tenant. Baker v. Dawson, 131 N. C. 227, 32 S. E. 588.

Expenses of administration preferred to expenses of last illness.— France's Estate, 16 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 350.

99. Hullett v. Hood, 109 Ala. 345, 19 So. 419 (holding, however, that the evidence in support of the claim was insufficient to show how much had been earned and was due in the year of the decedent's death); Chicago Title, etc., Co. v. McGlew, 193 Ill. 457, 61 N. E. 1018 [affirming 90 Ill. App. 58]; Cawood v. Wolfley, 56 Kan. 281, 43 Pac. 236, 54 Am. St. Rep. 590, 31 L. R. A. 538; Martin's Appeal, 33 Pa. St. 395; Boniface v. Scott, 3 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 351; Ex p. Meason, 5 Binn. (Pa.) 167; Miller's Estate, 1 Ashm. (Pa.) 323; Hotz's Estate, 16 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 351; McKim's Estate, 2 Pa. L. J. Rep. 224, 3 Pa. L. J. 502; Pottsville Union Sav. Fund Assoc. v. Cartwright, 1 Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 171. See also Naftel v. Osborn, 96 Ala. 623.

Who are servants.— The term "servant" as used in these statutes has been held to include a clerk in a store (Cawood v. Wolfley, 56 Kan. 281, 43 Pac. 236, 54 Am. St. Rep. 590, 31 L. R. A. 538), a bar-keeper (Boniface v. Scott, 3 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 351), and a person hired at a monthly salary, who resided in the house of his employer and whenever required assisted in the domestic labor of the family, although principally employed in aiding the decedent in his market and slaughter-house (Miller's Estate, 1 Ashm. (Pa.) 323); but the term has been held to mean household servants and not to include persons employed in iron works (Ex p. Meason, 5 Binn. (Pa.) 167).

A farm laborer is not a servant within the meaning of the Pennsylvania act of 1834, preferring servants' wages for a period of one year, but under the act of 1891 the wages of such a laborer for six months preceding the decedent's death are preferred. Sollenberger's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 626, 15 Montg. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 145.

Effect of leaving service.—If a year's wages are due from a decedent's estate to a servant, she is entitled to that amount as a preferred claim, although she left his service several months before his death. Martin's Appeal, 33 Pa. St. 395.

Inclusion of unpreferred claim.— The fact that a servant lent money to her employer and included it in her claim for wages did not affect her statutory right of preference if the sums lent could be easily separated from the sums due for wages. Chicago Title, etc., Co. v. McGlew, 193 Ill. 457, 61 N. E. 1018 [affirming 90 Ill. App. 58].

Claims of illegitimate children and of their mother.— Where the mother of illegitimate children allowed the father to have their

(5) RENT. Among the claims preferred by the local statutes rent is frequently included.[1]

(6) CLAIMS FOUNDED ON FIDUCIARY RELATIONS — (a) IN GENERAL. Property held in trust does not on the trustee's death become assets of his estate, but, although mingled with the trustee's own funds or used by him in the purchase of property for his own benefit, may, if it can be traced, be followed and reclaimed by the cestui que trust in the hands of the decedent's personal representative, regardless of the claims of the decedent's creditors; but where the trust funds were wasted by the trustee or can no longer be traced, the cestui que trust can claim only as a general creditor of the estate unless some statute entitles him to a preference.[2] Before the enactment of statutes abolishing the distinction between services until they reached majority, in consideration of his agreement to bring them up and to provide a home for her at his death, neither her claim under the contract nor the claims of the children under an agreement by which they worked for the father after arriving at age and permitted him to hold their wages for them are preferred claims against his estate after his death. Story v. Story, 61 S. W. 279, 62 S. W. 865, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1731, 1869.

1. Longwell v. Ridinger, 1 Gill (Md.) 57; Greenough's Appeal, 9 Pa. St. 18; Morgan's Estate, 11 Pa. Co. Ct. 536; Walker's Estate, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 515; McEwen v. Joy, 7 Rich. (S. C.) 33. See also Naftel v. Osborn, 96 Ala. 623, 12 So. 182. Under N. Y. Code Civ. Proc. § 2719, the surrogate may give to rents due or accruing on leases held by the decedent at the time of his death a preference over claims of the fourth class, if it appears to the satisfaction of the surrogate that such a preference will benefit the estate. Hovey v. Smith, 1 Barb. 372.

Liability of cotenant under mining lease. —A claim for money payable as rent by a cotenant, for the privilege of taking coal out of a mine at a certain sum per cubic yard, is a preferred debt under the Pennsylvania statute. Greenough's Appeal, 9 Pa. St. 18.

Rent due for a pew in a church is not a preferred debt under the New York statute unless due on a lease of the pew for a term of years which is assets in the hands of the administrator, or unless giving the rent a preference would in some way benefit the personal estate of the decedent. Johnson v. Corbett, 11 Paige (N. Y.) 265.

Taxes included in rent.— Where the terms of the lease include taxes to be paid by the lessee as a part of the rent, such taxes may be allowed as a preferred claim. Morgan's Estate, 11 Pa. Co. Ct. 536.

The preference is not confined to the last year's rent, under the Pennsylvania statute, but no more than one year's rent can be included. Morgan's Estate, 11 Pa. Co. Ct. 536.

Rent accruing after tenant's death.—Under the South Carolina statute which simply uses the word "rent" without any limitation, rent accruing after the tenant's death is preferred as well as rent which accrued in his lifetime. McEwen v. Joy, 7 Rich. (S. C.) 33. But under the Pennsylvania statute rent accruing after the tenant's death is not preferred; but whether the rent can be apportioned so that what was due at the death may be preferred appears to be unsettled. See Walker's Estate, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 515; McKim's Estate, 2 Pa. L. J. Rep. 224, 3 Pa. L. J. 502; Kemp's Estate, 34 Pittsb. Leg. J. 82.

The relation of landlord and tenant must have existed; the relation of innkeeper and guest is not sufficient. Ferris' Estate, 7 Pa. Dist. 425.

2. California.— Pierce v. Robinson, 13 Cal. 116.

Kansas.— Hubbard v. Alamo Irrigating, etc., Co., 53 Kan. 637, 36 Pac. 1053, 37 Pac. 625.

Louisiana.— See Stone's Succession, 31 La. Ann. 311; Longbottom v. Babcock, 9 La. 44.

Massachusetts.—Johnson v. Ames, 11 Pick. 173.

New Hampshire.— Rockwood v. Brookline School Dist., 70 N. H. 388, 47 Atl. 704.

New Jersey.— Smith v. Combs, 49 N. J. Eq. 420, 24 Atl. 9.

New York.— In re Fox, 92 N. Y. 93 (conversion of assets by executor); Barlow v. Yeomans, 50 Barb. 187 (conversion of assets by executor); Matter of Van Duzer, 51 How. Pr. 410; Moses v. Murgatroyd, 1 Johns. Ch. 119, 7 Am. Dec. 478; Graham v. Van Duzer, 2 Redf. Surr. 322.

Ohio.— Deering Harvester Co. v. Keifer, 20 Ohio Cir. Ct. 311, 11 Ohio Cir. Dec. 270.

Pennsylvania.— Rado's Estate, 30 Pittsb. Leg. J. 410.

South Carolina.— See Phælon v. Perman, 2 McCord Eq. 423.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 960, 961–983; supra, III, H, 3; X, A, 7; and, generally, TRUSTS.

Breach of duty by guardian.— The claim of a ward against the estate of his deceased guardian, based on the guardian's failure to collect money belonging to the ward, is a mere claim for damages and an accounting, and in the absence of a statute giving it a preference it is payable ratably with the claims of other general creditors of the estate. But it would be otherwise if the money had been collected and retained. Dodson v. McKelvey, 93 Mich. 263, 53 N. W. 517.

specialty and simple contract debts in administration,[3] a claim against a decedent's estate for a breach of trust committed by the decedent in his lifetime ranked merely as a simple contract debt,[4] unless the breach of trust was also a breach of a bond or covenant executed by the trustee or fiduciary, in which case the claim ranked as a debt by specialty.[5] Local statutes in the United States, however, frequently give a preference to claims against the decedent as executor or administrator,[6] guardian,[7] or trustee.[8]

(b) Estate of Foreign Fiduciary. In Georgia a statute of this character has been held to apply solely to the estates of fiduciaries appointed under the laws of that state, the debts of foreign fiduciaries being payable according to their ordinary dignity,[9] but in Virginia such a statute has been held applicable to the

3. See supra, X, D, 2, c, (I).

4. Bateman v. Latham, 56 N. C. 35; Benbury v. Benbury, 22 N. C. 235; Rolain v. Darby, 1 McCord Eq. (S. C.) 472; Burton v. Smith, 4 Fed. Cas. No. 2,219, 4 Wash. 522; Vernon v. Vawdry, 2 Atk. 119, 26 Eng. Reprint 474. See also Cox v. Bateman, 2 Ves. 19, 28 Eng. Reprint 13. But see Smith v. Ellington, 14 Ga. 379; Gardsden v. Lord, 1 Desauss. (S. C.) 208.

5. Benbury v. Benbury, 22 N. C. 235; Rice v. Cannon, Bailey Eq. (S. C.) 172 (breach of trust by administrator who had given bond); McDowell v. Caldwell, 2 McCord Eq. (S. C.) 43, 16 Am. Dec. 635 (breach of guardian's bond); Burton v. Smith, 4 Fed. Cas. No. 2,219, 4 Wash. 522; Primrose v. Bromley, 1 Atk. 89, 26 Eng. Reprint 58 (covenant by assignee of bankrupt); Benson v. Benson, 1 P. Wms. 130, 24 Eng. Reprint 324. But see Stock v. Parker, 2 McCord Eq. (S. C.) 376; Rolain v. Darby, 1 McCord Eq. (S. C.) 472.

6. Johnson v. Brady, 24 Ga. 131; Fitzsimmons v. Cassell, 98 Ill. 332 [affirming 6 Ill. App. 525]; Tunstall v. Pollard, 11 Leigh (Va.) 1. See also Godbold v. Godbold, 13 S. C. 601; Shearman v. Christian, 6 Rand. (Va.) 49.

Where one of two executors receives money due the estate, which is not accounted for either by him in his lifetime or by his legal representative, the surviving executor may have the amount so received by his co-executor allowed against the latter's estate as a sixth-class claim. Fitzsimmons v. Cassell, 98 Ill. 332 [affirming 6 Ill. App. 525].

Waste by husband of executrix.— Where a man marries an executrix, administers the estate which she represents, and dies leaving her surviving, no judgment having been rendered against him in his lifetime for the waste committed, a claim founded on the waste committed by the husband does not constitute a debt due from him to the original estate, and in the administration of his own estate it is not entitled to a preference over his own debts. Henrico Justices v. Turner, 6 Leigh (Va.) 116.

Where a legatee takes the individual note of the executor secured by a mortgage on his individual property in discharge of the legacy, and gives a receipt to the representative as executor, the claim for the legacy becomes the individual debt of the executor and on his death has no fiduciary character entitling it to a preference. Lawton v. Fish, 51 Ga. 647. Compare Smith v. Blackwell, 31 Gratt. (Va.) 291.

7. Georgia.— Ragland v. Justices Inferior Ct., 10 Ga. 65; Watson v. Watson, 1 Ga. 266.

Illinois.— Cruce v. Cruce, 21 Ill. 46. See also Perry v. Carmichael, 95 Ill. 519.

Kentucky.— White v. Carrico, 2 Metc. 232; Curle v. Curle, 9 B. Mon. 309; Com. v. Barstow, 3 B. Mon. 290.

Virginia.— Smith v. Blackwell, 31 Gratt. 291.

United States.— Black v. Scott, 3 Fed. Cas. No. 1,464, 2 Brock. 325, construing the Virginia statute.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 961, 984.

Claim not preferred to widow's allowance. —Cruce v. Cruce, 21 Ill. 46. See supra, IX, G, 1.

Creditors of ward may be substituted to his rights. White v. Carrico, 2 Metc. (Ky.) 232.

Giving bonds for amount due ward.—Where a guardian on settlement with his ward executes bonds to the ward for the amount due him, the original indebtedness does not become merged or extinguished unless there is full and satisfactory evidence that this result was intended; therefore the bonds being for a fiduciary debt, the debt retains that character and is entitled to preference. Smith v. Blackwell, 31 Gratt. (Va.) 291. Compare Lawton v. Fish, 51 Ga. 647.

8. Latimer v. Sayre, 45 Ga. 468; Svanoe v. Jurgens, 144 Ill. 507, 33 N. E. 955 [reversing 44 Ill. App. 277]; Perry v. Carmichael, 95 Ill. 519; Wilson v. Kirby, 88 Ill. 566. Compare Lathrop v. Brown, 65 Ga. 312.

The relation of trustee and cestui que trust must have existed between the decedent and the claimant; there must have been a trust in the technical sense of the term. Southern Star Copper Lightning Rod Co. v. Cleghorn, 59 Ga. 782; Shipherd v. Furness, 153 Ill. 590, 39 N. E. 1096 [affirming 46 Ill. App. 319]; Svanoe v. Jurgens, 144 Ill. 507, 33 N. E. 955 [reversing 44 Ill. App. 277]; Wilson v. Kirby, 88 Ill. 566; Weer v. Gand, 88 Ill. 490; Ford v. Stuart First Nat. Bank, 100 Ill. App. 70. See also Latimer v. Sayre, 45 Ga. 468; Chappell v. Craig, 96 Iowa 273, 65 N. W. 146.

9. Caruthers v. Corbin, 38 Ga. 75.

estate of a foreign executor who had never qualified in that state but died holding assets of his testator there.[10]

(7) Claims For Provisions Furnished. In Louisiana supplies of provisions furnished to the debtor or his family "during the last six months" are privileged claims against his succession.[11]

(8) Liquidated Demands. Under the statutes in a few states liquidated demands have preference over debts on open account,[12] a demand being liquidated whenever the amount due was agreed upon by the parties or fixed by operation of law.[13]

(9) Debts Incurred by Representative[14]—(a) In Performing Decedent's Contracts.[15] Debts incurred by the decedent in his lifetime have priority over debts contracted by the personal representative in performing the decedent's executory contracts.[16]

(b) In Carrying on Decedent's Business.[17] Debts created by the decedent in his lifetime have also priority of payment out of his general estate over debts incurred by the representative in carrying on the decedent's business pursuant to testamentary directions.[18]

(10) Priority Between Matured and Unmatured Claims. Between debts of the same class no distinction in dignity or priority exists by reason of the fact that one is due presently and another not due until a future day,[19] but a debt owing presently, although not yet due, retains its priority over debts of lower degree, and without providing for its payment the representative cannot lawfully pay debts of inferior dignity.[20] The existence of merely contingent debts does not, however, in the absence of express statute, prevent the representative from applying the assets to debts of inferior degree.[21]

10. Tunstall v. Pollard, 11 Leigh (Va.) 1.

11. See Moise's Succession, 107 La. 717, 31 So. 990; Duke's Succession, 41 La. Ann. 209, 6 So. 502.

12. See Kelley v. Terhune, 113 Ga. 365, 38 S. E. 839; Boyd v. Flournoy, 67 Ga. 575.

13. Hargroves v. Cooke, 15 Ga. 321. See also Furman v. Moore, 64 N. C. 358.

Assent to account rendered.—Where the debtor in his lifetime assented to the correctness of an account rendered to him, the account is a liquidated demand within the meaning of the statute. Kelley v. Terhune, 113 Ga. 365, 38 S. E. 839.

Claim for money collected and retained.—A claim against the estate of a deceased attorney for a certain sum of money collected and retained by him is a liquidated demand. Smith v. Ellington, 14 Ga. 379.

14. Expenses of funeral and of administration see supra, X, D, 2, c, (II), (B), (1).

15. See also supra, VIII, B.

16. In re Allaim, 199 Pa. St. 573, 49 Atl. 252, building contracts.

17. See also supra, VIII, C, 3, b.

18. Morrow v. Morrow, 2 Tenn. Ch. 549, holding that this is true, although the will directs that all the testator's property shall be chargeable with the debts thus contracted by the representative. See also Willis v. Sharp, 115 N. Y. 396, 22 N. E. 149, 5 L. R. A. 636 [reversing 46 Hun 540]; In re Allam, 199 Pa. St. 573, 49 Atl. 252; Cutbush v. Cutbush, 1 Beav. 184, 3 Jur. 142, 8 L. J. Ch. 175, 17 Eng. Ch. 185, 48 Eng. Reprint 912; Lucas v. Williams, 4 De G. F. & J. 436, 10 Wkly. Rep. 677, 65 Eng. Ch. 339, 45 Eng. Reprint 1253.

Debts contracted in making crops.—All debts contracted by an administrator, who is lawfully carrying on a farm and completing a crop growing at the time of the death of the intestate, are privileged claims on the income of the place, although not on other property; and a subsequent administrator is bound to pay such debts. But if the proceeds of the crop have been appropriated to the payment of debts due from the deceased in his lifetime, or have been declared assets, then such creditor is entitled to payment out of any other fund of the estate. Emanuel v. Norcum, 7 How. (Miss.) 150. Under Ala. Code, 1886, § 2098, which provides that "any crop commenced by a decedent may be completed and gathered by the executor or administrator, and, the expenses of the plantation being deducted therefrom, is assets in his hands," the rent of land, taxes, the cost of completing, harvesting, and selling the crop, hauling, and the charge for preserving the property, are proper allowances to an administratrix before any creditor can claim payment out of the proceeds of the crop. Naftel v. Osborn, 96 Ala. 623, 12 So. 182.

19. Hutchinson v. Bates, 1 Bailey (S. C.) 111. See also Cook v. Woodard, 5 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 97; Dunn v. Sublett, 14 Tex. 521. But compare Evans v. Norris, 2 N. C. 411.

20. U. S. v. North Carolina Bank, 6 Pet. (U. S.) 29, 8 L. ed. 308 (debt due the United States); Atkinson v. Grey, 18 Jur. 282, 1 Sm. & G. 577; Lemun v. Fooke, 3 Lev. 57. See also Dunn v. Sublett, 14 Tex. 521.

21. Delamothe v. Lanier, 4 N. C. 296; Dunlap v. Bynum, 4 Desauss. (S. C.) 646;

(11) Priority Between Resident and Non-Resident Creditors. In the absence of a statute so providing, resident creditors as such have no priority over non-residents but both stand on a footing of equality according to the ordinary rank and dignity of their claims,[22] notwithstanding the fact that the assets in the domestic state are insufficient to pay all the creditors in full and that in the state where the foreign creditors reside there are other assets upon which they can administer.[23]

(12) Priority Dependent on Time of Filing or Proving Claim. Under the statutory system prevailing in some states debts not in the preferred classes have priority according to the time when they are exhibited or filed, those exhibited or filed within a certain period being placed in a class by themselves to be paid in priority to debts exhibited or filed thereafter.[24] This mode of obtaining priority does not, however, exist except where expressly provided for by statute; but in the absence of such a provision all unpreferred claims exhibited Henderson v. Gilchist, 17 Jur. 570, 22 L. J. Ch. 970, 1 Wkly. Rep. 426. See also Dunn v. Sublett, 14 Tex. 521.

22. Arkansas.— Yonley v. Lavender, 27 Ark. 252 [affirmed in 21 Wall. (U. S.) 276, 22 L. ed. 536].

Kentucky.—Grey v. Lewis, 79 Ky. 453.

Maryland.—See Murray v. Ridley, 3 Harr. & M. 171.

Massachusetts.—See Dawes v. Head, 3 Pick. 128.

New Hampshire.—See Goodall v. Marshall, 11 N. H. 88, 35 Am. Dec. 472.

North Carolina.— Findley v. Gidney, 75 N. C. 395.

Pennsylvania.— See In re Miller, 3 Rawle 312, 24 Am. Dec. 345.

Texas.— Tyler v. Thompson, 44 Tex. 497, 23 Am. Rep. 600.

England.— In re Klœbe, 28 Ch. D. 175, 54 L. J. Ch. 297, 52 L. T. Rep. N. S. 19, 33 Wkly. Rep. 391.

Canada.— Milne v. Moore, 24 Ont. 456.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1000; and infra, XVI, D, 2.

Construction of statute.— The object of the South Carolina act of 1788, providing that, where an alien died indebted to citizens of that state, the claims of such citizens, although founded on simple contracts, were payable in the same manner as if liquidated by bond or other specialty, was to give citizens of the state a preference over foreigners in the administration of the estate of a deceased alien; but it was not intended that the debts of South Carolina citizens should be paid first to the total exclusion of foreign creditors. Mitchell v. Fayolle, 4 McCord (S. C.) 28.

23. Findley v. Gidney, 75 N. C. 395. See also Tyler v. Thompson, 44 Tex. 497, 23 Am. Rep. 600.

24. See Keith v. Parks, 31 Ark. 664; Phelps v. Greenbaum, 87 Iowa 347, 54 N. W. 76; In re Wonn, 80 Iowa 750, 45 N. W. 1063; Chandler v. Hockett, 12 Iowa 269; Hart v. Jewett, 11 Iowa 276; Madison County Bank v. Suman, 79 Mo. 527; Buckhartt v. Helfrich, 77 Mo. 376; State Bank v. Tutt, 44 Mo. 366; Miller v. Janney, 15 Mo. 265; Jones v. Davis, 37 Mo. App. 69; Williams v. Penn, 12 Mo. App. 393 (claims not accruing until after death of debtor); Converse v. Sorley, 39 Tex. 515.

The mere filing within the time limited is sufficient to give a claim its statutory rank; proving or establishing the claim within such time is not necessary, provided that it be finally established within the time allowed for the proof of claims. Smith v. McFadden, 56 Iowa 482, 9 N. W. 350; Goodrich v. Conrad, 24 Iowa 254; Noble v. Morrey, 19 Iowa 509; Chandler v. Hackett, 12 Iowa 269.

Claims presented and approved but not formally filed.— Under the Iowa statute providing that claims filed within a certain period after notice of representative's appointment are entitled to be paid in a certain order, valid claims presented and approved by the representative within the statutory period are entitled to rank accordingly, although not formally filed if, under the circumstances, other parties in interest are not prejudiced. In re Wonn, 80 Iowa 750, 45 N. W. 1063.

Contingent claims.— Where a claim has been filed against an estate as a contingent claim, and it appears by the register of claims in probate that the claim has been allowed and established by the court as a claim of the third class, it must be presumed, in the absence of any other evidence, that it was allowed and established only as a contingent claim; and upon such showing alone it is proper for the court to overrule a motion for unconditional payment by the administrator. Blanchard v. Conger, 61 Iowa 153, 16 N. W. 59.

As to judgments see Keith v. Parks, 31 Ark. 664; Cooley v. Smith, 17 Iowa 99; Madison County Bank v. Suman, 79 Mo. 527; State Bank v. Tutt, 44 Mo. 366; Converse v. Sorley, 39 Tex. 515; Simpson v. Knox, 1 Tex. Unrep. Cas. 569.

Excuse for delay.— Under Iowa Rev. St. § 2405, a claim, although not filed within the statutory period of eighteen months, may nevertheless be given priority as a claim of the third class (i. e. those filed within six months) if "peculiar circumstances entitle the claimant to equitable relief." Brewster v. Kendrick, 17 Iowa 479. See also Kells v. Lewis, 91 Iowa 128, 58 N. W. 1074, refusing relief under the circumstances of the case.

and allowed within the general period limited for that purpose are payable pro rata.[25]

(c) As to Encumbered Property. Property which is subject to a lien or encumbrance can in a strict sense be considered assets of the estate only so far as its value exceeds the amount of the encumbrance,[26] and hence it follows that the rules of priority applicable in the case of general assets of the estate must be subject to considerable modification when applied to encumbered property.[27]

(III) Liens — (A) Judgments and Decrees — (1) Priority as to General Assets — (a) In General. Under the statutes of some states judgments rendered against the decedent in his lifetime are preferred claims as against the general assets of the estate.[28] In some states the statutes preferring judgments contemplate that the judgments shall be subsisting liens at the debtor's death or at least be capable of being liens;[29] but in the absence of any such provision a judgment is entitled to preference, although it did not constitute a lien on the debtor's land at the time of his death or would not have constituted such a lien if the debtor had owned any land.[30] As a general rule in order for a judgment to be preferred it must have been rendered against the decedent in his lifetime;[31] and it is also sometimes required that the judgment shall have been docketed prior to

25. Dunlap v. McGhee, 98 Ill. 287; Ramsay v. Ramsay, 97 Ill. App. 270.

26. See supra, X, B, 2, g.

The residue of the proceeds of the encumbered realty after paying off judgments may, together with the proceeds of the unencumbered land, be applied to the preferred claims. Wade's Appeal, 29 Pa. St. 328; Ramsey's Appeal, 4 Watts (Pa.) 71.

27. See infra, X, D, 2, c, (III).

28. Arkansas.— Eddins v. Graddy, 28 Ark. 500 (delivery bond judgment); Tucker v. Yell, 25 Ark. 420.

California.— In re Smith, 122 Cal. 462, 55 Pac. 249.

Kansas.— See Wolfe v. Robbins, 10 Kan. App. 222, 63 Pac. 278.

Missouri.— Tonnies v. McIntyre, 82 Mo. App. 268.

New Jersey.— Newark Second Nat. Bank v. Blauvelt, 44 N. J. Eq. 173, 14 Atl. 618.

New York.— McNulty v. Hurd, 72 N. Y. 518 [modifying 11 Hun 339]; Matter of Blackford, 35 N. Y. App. Div. 330, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 972; Matter of Foster, 8 Misc. 344, 29 N. Y. Suppl. 316; Hamed's Case, 4 Abb. Pr. 270; Trust v. Harned, 4 Bradf. Surr. 213.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 957, 981.

The preference thus given is absolute and cannot be defeated by any inquiry into the cause of action on which the judgment was recovered. Matter of Blackford, 35 N. Y. App. Div. 330, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 972.

Final decrees in equity stand on the same footing with judgments and are entitled to the same priority, although not mentioned in the statute giving priority to judgments. Newark Second Nat. Bank v. Blauvelt, 44 N. J. Eq. 173, 14 Atl. 618.

Judgment of justice of the peace.— Whether a judgment rendered by a justice of the peace ranks with judgments rendered by courts of record depends upon whether under the local statutes the judgment is or can be made a judgment of record. See Garrett v. Johnson, 29 N. C. 231; Scott v. Ramsay, 1 Binn. (Pa.) 221; Bettinger v. Ridgway, 3 Fed. Cas. No. 1,369, 4 Cranch C. C. 340 (construing Md. Act (1798), c. 101, in its application to the District of Columbia). See also, generally, Judgments; Justices of the Peace.

29. Tucker v. Yell, 25 Ark. 420. See also Eddins v. Graddy, 28 Ark. 500; Wolfe v. Robbins, 10 Kan. App. 222, 63 Pac. 278, construing Gen. St. (1897) c. 107, § 80, subd. 4, to mean that judgments which are liens upon real estate of the deceased, where the estate is insolvent, shall, to the extent of the lien, be paid, without reference to classification, with the exception therein stated, but the deficiency shall only be paid as other judgments rendered against the deceased in his lifetime are paid.

A dormant judgment did not rank with other judgments under the Georgia statute of 1792, but was classed with "bonds and other obligations"; and its revival after the debtor's death did not alter its rank. Williams v. Price, 21 Ga. 507. But judgments which were liens at the debtor's death but became dormant thereafter and are revived before the assets are distributed operate by relation as of the date of the decedent's death, and take rank as preferred claims accordingly. King v. Morris, 40 Ga. 63.

30. Matter of Foster, 8 Misc. (N. Y.) 344, 29 N. Y. Suppl. 316; Hamed's Case, 4 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 270; Ainslie v. Radcliff, 7 Paige (N. Y.) 439; Trust v. Harned, 4 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 213. The fact that a judgment lost its lien on the land and has not been revived does not affect its classification for payment out of the general assets. Tonnies v. McIntyre, 82 Mo. App. 268.

31. Rutledge v. Simpson, 141 Mo. 290, 42 S. W. 820; James v. Beesly, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 236; Bernes v. Weisser, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 212; Reinig v. Hartman, 69 Wis. 28, 32 N. W. 639. See also Patterson's Appeal, 96 Pa. St. 93.

the debtor's death.[32] The judgment or decree must be final;[33] and must not only ascertain that a certain sum of money is due but also order payment.[34] In a number of states the statutes have abolished the common-law priority of judgments over specialty and simple contract debts and made them all payable pro rata out of the general assets.[35]

(b) Foreign Judgments. It is generally held that foreign judgments, including the judgments of sister states, do not have the priority accorded by statute to domestic judgments but rank merely as simple contract debts.[36]

(2) Priority as to Property Subject to Lien. Where the personal estate is insufficient, judgments existing in the debtor's lifetime are payable out of the proceeds of the land covered by them in priority to all unsecured debts,[37] but in

Where the death occurs after the rendition of a verdict or the assessment of damages, and under the provisions of the statutes final judgment is entered against decedent after his death, the judgment so rendered is entitled to preference in the class with judgments rendered in the debtor's lifetime. Matter of Dunn, 5 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 27; Mills v. Jones, 2 Rich. (S. C.) 393.

A deficiency judgment in foreclosure rendered against the personal representative is not a preferred claim against the estate of the deceased mortgagor (James v. Beesly, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 236; Reinig v. Hartman, 69 Wis. 28, 32 N. W. 639. See, generally, Mortgages), even though the action was pending at the time of the mortgagor's death (Reinig v. Hartman, 69 Wis. 28, 32 N. W. 639. See also Cook v. Jennings, 40 S. C. 204, 18 S. E. 640, deficiency judgment rendered in defendant's lifetime but deficiency not ascertained until after his death), but the judgment is nevertheless payable out of the personal estate (Mitchell v. Bowne, 63 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 1).

32. Mitchell v. Mount, 19 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 1; Clark's Case, 15 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 227; Stevenson v. Weisser, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 343.

The New York statute refers only to docketing in the court in which the judgment was rendered. Hamed's Case, 4 Abb. Pr. 270; Trust v. Harned, 4 Bradf. Surr. 213.

33. Rutledge v. Simpson, 141 Mo. 290, 42 S. W. 820; Ex p. Farrars, 13 S. C. 254; McIntosh v. Brooks, 3 Strobh. (S. C.) 133 note; Thomas v. McElwee, 3 Strobh. (S. C.) 131, holding that, where the death of a defendant occurs between interlocutory and final judgment, the final judgment being entered up against his representative, the right to a preference does not exist. McIntosh v. Wright, Rich. Eq. Cas. (S. C.) 385.

An allowance of alimony pendente lite in an action against a husband for permanent support of his wife is in the nature of a final judgment, and the claim for unpaid alimony is a preferred claim against his estate. In re Smith, 122 Cal. 462, 55 Pac. 249.

34. Ex p. Farrars, 13 S. C. 254. See also Cook v. Jennings, 40 S. C. 204, 18 S. E. 640.

A decree settling the accounts of an executor or administrator and showing a balance in his hands is not a judgment and is not entitled to preference as a judgment. In re Kehoe, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 127. See also Rutledge v. Simpson, 141 Mo. 290, 42 S. W. 820; Ramsey's Appeal, 4 Watts (Pa.) 71.

35. Illinois.— Clingman v. Hopkie, 78 Ill. 152; Paschall v. Hailman, 9 Ill. 285.

Kentucky.— Place v. Oldham, 10 B. Mon. 400.

Mississippi.—Robertson v. Demoss, 23 Miss. 298.

North Carolina.— Jenkins v. Carter, 70 N. C. 500.

Pennsylvania.— Mason's Appeal, 89 Pa. St. 402 (priority out of proceeds of realty but not out of proceeds of personalty); Deichman's Appeal, 2 Whart. 395, 30 Am. Dec. 271; Ramsey's Estate, 1 Lack. Leg. Rec. 367.

Tennessee.— Prewett v. Goodlett, 98 Tenn. 82, 38 S. W. 434.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 957, 981.

In New Mexico, there being no express statute on this point, a creditor who recovered judgment against his debtor in the latter's lifetime, but has not sued out execution, is not entitled to any priority over general creditors and gains no priority by reviving the judgment by scire facias; and he may be enjoined from enforcing his judgment beyond his pro rata share. Crenshaw v. Delgado, 1 N. M. 376.

36. Maryland.— Brengle v. McClellan, 7 Gill & J. 434.

Missouri.— Gainey v. Sexton, 29 Mo. 449; Harness v. Green, 20 Mo. 316.

New York.— Brown v. Public Administrator, 2 Bradf. Surr. 103.

South Carolina.— Cameron v. Wurtz, 4 McCord 278.

United States.— McElmoyle v. Cohen, 13 Pet. 312, 10 L. ed. 177 (construing the Georgia statute); Norton v. Stevens, 18 Fed. Cas. No. 10,353*a*, 1 Hayw. & H. 94 (construing the Maryland act of 1798).

England.— Wilson v. Dunsany, 18 Beav. 293, 18 Jur. 762, 23 L. J. Ch. 492, 2 Wkly. Rep. 288, 52 Eng. Reprint 115. See also Walker v. Witter, Dougl. (3d ed.) 1; Dupleix v. De Roven, 2 Vern. Ch. 540, 23 Eng. Reprint 950.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 958, 981.

Aliter as to judgments of sister states. In re Colt, 4 Watts & S. (Pa.) 314.

37. Georgia.— See Hargrove v. Lilly, 69 order that a judgment may have this priority it must have been a lien on the land at the time of the debtor's death,[38] and proceedings thereafter to make it a lien are ineffectual to give it priority.[39]

(3) Priority Inter Sese.[40] By statute in many states judgments and decrees are payable according to their priority in point of time, the oldest being paid first; the priority, however, being generally determined by the date of docketing or enrolment.[41] But, in the absence of such a statute, judgments and decrees, regardless of their relative priorities in point of time, are payable pro rata on deficiency of assets.[42]

(B) Specific Liens — (1) Priority as to General Assets. A mortgage is entitled to no preference out of the general assets merely by reason of the fact that it is a mortgage, but ranks as against the general assets according to the nature of the instrument which it was given to secure;[43] and in some states a similar rule is embodied in the statutes, the mortgagee being placed, so far as property not covered by his mortgage is concerned, on a footing of equality with unsecured creditors.[44] In a number of states, however, the statutes give to mortgages a preference in payment out of the general assets.[45]

Ga. 326. But compare State v. Dickson, 38 Ga. 171; Ragland v. Justices Inferior Ct., 10 Ga. 65.

Kansas.— Wolfe v. Robbins, 10 Kan. App. 222, 63 Pac. 278.

Mississippi.— See Robertson v. Demoss, 23 Miss. 298.

Missouri.— Bassett v. Slater, 81 Mo. 75; Finley v. Caldwell, 1 Mo. 512.

North Carolina.— Jerkins v. Carter, 70 N. C. 500.

Pennsylvania. — Mason's Appeal, 89 Pa. St. 402; Wade's Appeal, 29 Pa. St. 328; Ramsey's Appeal, 4 Watts 71; Matter of Hocker, 2 Pearson 493, 14 Phila. 659; O'Brien's Estate, 19 Pa. Co. Ct. 467; In re Bryan, 4 Phila. 228; Ramsey's Estate, 1 Lack. Leg. Rec. 367.

South Carolina.— Baxter v. Baxter, 23 S. C. 114; Public Account Com'rs v. Greenwood, 1 Desauss. 450.

Rule applies to judgments by confession. Finley v. Caldwell, 1 Mo. 512.

To what claims preferred.— A judgment is entitled to payment out of the proceeds of the encumbered land, where the personal estate is insufficient, in priority to such preferred claims as the funeral expenses and the expense of the decedent's last illness (Wade's Appeal, 29 Pa. St. 328; Matter of Hocker, 2 Pearson (Pa.) 493, 14 Phila. (Pa.) 659; In re Bryan, 4 Phila. (Pa.) 228; Pottsville Union Sav. Fund v. Cartwright, 11 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) 136, 1 Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 171), claims arising out of fiduciary relations with the decedent (Alderson v. Henderson, 5 W. Va. 182), debts due the state (Finley v. Caldwell, 1 Mo. 512; Baxter v. Baxter, 23 S. C. 114; Dunlap v. Bynum, 4 Desauss. (S. C.) 646; Public Account Com'rs v. Greenwood, 1 Desauss. (S. C.) 450), and the wages of miners, laborers, and mechanics (Wade's Appeal, 29 Pa. St. 328).

Priority defeated by sale under trust deed see Pahlman v. Shumway, 24 Ill. 127.

38. Clingman v. Hopkie, 78 Ill. 152; Turney v. Gates, 12 Ill. 141; Patterson's Appeal, 96 Pa. St. 93; Matter of Patterson, 1 Ashm. (Pa.) 336. See also Williams v. Price, 21 Ga. 507; Robertson v. Demoss, 23 Miss. 298.

Judgment entered on day of death.— Where the death of the debtor and the entry of judgment occur on the same day, but the judgment is entered after the death, the judgment is not entitled to priority of payment out of the proceeds of the land. Patterson's Appeal, 96 Pa. St. 93.

39. Clingman v. Hopkie, 78 Ill. 152; Patterson's Appeal, 96 Pa. St. 93; Matter of Patterson, 1 Ashm. (Pa.) 336. See also Williams v. Price, 21 Ga. 507; Robertson v. Demoss, 23 Miss. 298.

40. See, generally, Judgments.

41. See King v. Morris, 40 Ga. 63; Moore v. Dortic, Ga. Dec. Pt. II, 84; Matter of Townsend, 83 Hun (N. Y.) 200, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 409; Matter of Foster, 8 Misc. (N. Y.) 344, 29 N. Y. Suppl. 316; Ainslie v. Radcliff, 7 Paige (N. Y.) 439; Trust v. Harned, 4 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 213; Mauney v. Holmes, 87 N. C. 428; Galloway v. Bradfield, 86 N. C. 163; Klinck v. Keckley, 2 Hill Eq. (S. C.) 250.

Judgment in favor of state.— Where a statute makes judgments payable in the order of their seniority, a senior judgment in favor of a citizen is prior to a junior judgment in favor of the state, although debts due the state are preferred by statute. Klinck v. Keckley, 2 Hill Eq. (S. C.) 250. Aliter in Georgia. State v. Dickson, 38 Ga. 171.

42. Newark Second Nat. Bank v. Blauvelt, 44 N. J. Eq. 173, 14 Atl. 618.

43. Piester v. Piester, 22 S. C. 139, 53 Am. Rep. 711 [overruling Edwards v. Sanders, 6 S. C. 316]; Tunno v. Happoldt, 2 McCord (S. C.) 188; Kinard v. Young, 2 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 247.

44. See Woolley v. Johnson, 102 Ky. 155, 43 S. W. 678, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 159; Baldwin v. Criswell, 14 La. 166; Piester v. Piester, 22 S. C. 139, 53 Am. Rep. 711; Chandler v. Burdett, 20 Tex. 42.

45. Moore v. Dortic, Ga. Dec. Pt. II, 84; State v. Mason, 21 Ind. 171; Swift v. Har-

(2) Priority as to Encumbered Property. When the personal estate is insufficient, a specific lien binding decedent's land at the time of his death has priority as to the land bound thereby over all unsecured debts of the decedent or claims against the estate and in distributing the proceeds of the land among creditors the holder of the lien is entitled to be first paid.[46] The most frequent application of this rule is in the case of land subject to a mortgage or deed of trust,[47] ley, 20 Ind. App. 614, 49 N. E. 1069. Contra, Rogers v. State, 6 Ind. 31.

A vendor's lien is not entitled to a preference under a statute giving a preference to mortgages. Kimmell v. Burns, 84 Ind. 370.

46. California.— In re Murray, 18 Cal. 686.

Indiana.— Ryker v. Vawter, 117 Ind. 425, 20 N. E. 294.

Kentucky.— Day v. Davis, 47 S. W. 769, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 869; Milward v. Shields, 43 S. W. 184, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1076, 39 L. R. A. 506.

Louisiana.— Rogers' Succession, 41 La. Ann. 400, 7 So. 692 (priority over all other privileges, except expenses of sale, affixing seals, costs of inventory, etc.); Markey's Succession, 22 La. Ann. 265. But compare Alter v. O'Brien, 31 La. Ann. 452; Patrick's Succession, 30 La. Ann. 1071, holding that a special mortgage creditor of a succession is entitled to be paid out of the proceeds of the property on which his mortgage rests in preference to the expenses and charges of the administration only when there are other funds of the succession out of which such expenses may be paid.

Missouri.— Finley v. Caldwell, 1 Mo. 512.

Oregon.— Shepard v. Saltzman, 34 Oreg. 40, 54 Pac. 882.

Pennsylvania.— Wade's Appeal, 29 Pa. St. 328; Boud's Appeal, 2 Pennyp. 241; Saving Fund v. Cartwright, 1 Leg. Rec. 171.

South Carolina.— Shell v. Young, 32 S. C. 462, 11 S. E. 299; Baxter v. Baxter, 23 S. C. 114.

Tennessee.— Fields v. Wheatley, 1 Sneed 351.

Virginia.— McCandlish v. Keen, 13 Gratt. 615.

United States.— Brent v. Washington Bank, 10 Pet. 596, 9 L. ed. 547; U. S. v. Duncan, 25 Fed. Cas. No. 15,003, 4 McLean 607.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1002 et seq.

But compare State v. Dickson, 38 Ga. 171; Ragland v. Justices Inferior Ct., 10 Ga. 65; Watson v. Watson, 1 Ga. 266; Moore v. Dortic, Ga. Dec. Pt. II, 84.

The same rule applies to personal property subject to a mortgage given by the decedent in his lifetime. Horsfall v. Roylcs, 20 Mont. 495, 52 Pac. 199.

A laborer's lien on logs constitutes a primary claim on the property covered by it and takes precedence to the extent of such property. Casey v. Ault, 4 Wash. 167, 29 Pac. 1048.

Attorney's lien see Blankenbaker v. Bank of Commerce, 85 Ind. 459 [distinguishing Jenkins v. Jenkins, 63 Ind. 120]; and, generally, Attorney and Client, 4 Cyc. 1017, 1021.

Where the personal representative has paid preferred claims he cannot obtain an allowance out of the proceeds of the encumbered land in priority to the encumbrance. Boud's Appeal, 2 Pennyp. (Pa.) 241. See also Felton's Estate, 7 Pa. Dist. 262.

In Texas the general rule obtains as to the lien of an unpaid vendor (Robertson v. Paul, 16 Tex. 472; Toullerton v. Manchke, 11 Tex. Civ. App. 148, 32 S. W. 238. See also Stell v. Lewis, 2 Tex. Unrep. Cas. 533), but not as to other specific liens (McLane v. Paschal, 47 Tex. 365; Robertson v. Paul, 16 Tex. 472; Barnes v. Scottish-American Mortg. Co., 29 Tex. Civ. App. 443, 68 S. W. 529); and mortgaged land and mortgaged chattels contribute ratably to pay the preferred debts (Barnes v. Scottish-American Mortg. Co., 29 Tex. Civ. App. 443, 68 S. W. 529).

47. In re Murray, 18 Cal. 686; Baxter v. Baxter, 23 S. C. 114; Fields v. Wheatley, 1 Sneed (Tenn.) 351; McCandlish v. Keen, 13 Gratt. (Va.) 615.

New mortgages given by the heirs in substitution of old mortgages, securing and continuing an indebtedness incurred by decedent, will be treated in the settlement of the estate as though given by decedent. Jacobs v. Jacobs, 7 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 486.

Mortgage and judgment.— A mortgagee may exhaust his security in payment of the mortgage notwithstanding that a judgment has been filed and classified against the estate, especially where the local statute provides that the mortgaged property is the primary fund for the satisfaction of the mortgage. Tucker v. Wells, 111 Mo. 399, 20 S. W. 114. See also Kiolbassa v. Raley, 1 Tex. Civ. App. 165, 23 S. W. 253.

Where an executor mortgages the decedent's real estate under a valid provision of the will directing that the property be mortgaged and the debts paid with the proceeds, the mortgage so far as concerns the property covered thereby is a lien superior to other debts established against the estate. Iowa L. & T. Co. v. Holderbaum, 86 Iowa 1, 52 N. W. 550.

Necessity for recording.— Whether a mortgage or deed of trust must have been recorded in the debtor's lifetime in order to constitute a preferred lien on the land after his death depends upon the effect of the local statutes requiring such instruments to be recorded. See Sorrels v. Stamper, 27 La. Ann. 630; Gayle's Succession, 27 La. Ann. 547 (both holding that reinscription of a perempted mortgage after a mortgagor's death is inoperative); Nice's Appeal, 54 Pa.

but it applies also in the case of a vendor's lien.[48] The proceeds of the encumbered property must be applied to the payment of the lien in priority to the expenses of the decedent's funeral[49] or last sickness,[50] and of administering the estate,[51] debts due the United States[52] or the state,[53] and taxes not constituting a prior lien on the land.[54] The rule is not affected by a statute providing that a decedent's real estate not subjected by his will to the payment of his debts shall be assets for the payment of debts in the order in which personal estate is to be applied,[55] or directing a ratable division of the assets among creditors, the encumbered land not being general assets;[56] neither is the operation of the rule affected by a general testamentary charge of debts upon the decedent's lands.[57] Statutes changing the common-law classification of debts and placing unsecured debts on a footing of equality do not affect a lien acquired under an execution before the debtor's death,[58] but it has been held in Louisiana that the privilege acquired by the creditor by the seizure of real property of the debtor under a fieri facias

St. 200 (holding that a debt secured by an unrecorded mortgage, without possession having been taken under it in the lifetime of the mortgagor, cannot upon his death take precedence over his general debts, but is payable only pro rata with them); Adams' Appeal, 1 Penr. & W. (Pa.) 447 (holding recording necessary to give mortgage a lien); McCandlish v. Keen, 13 Gratt. (Va.) 615 (holding recording not necessary). See, generally, MORTGAGES.

Chattel mortgages.— Where possession by the mortgagee is necessary to the validity of a chattel mortgage as against other creditors (see CHATTEL MORTGAGES, 6 Cyc. 1053), property covered by such a mortgage, but of which the decedent has retained possession until his death, passes into the custody of the law for administration, and the mortgagee is entitled to no preference over other creditors of the decedent. Kater v. Steinruck, 40 Pa. St. 501; Heft's Appeal, 5 Pa. Cas. 573, 9 Atl. 87.

48. Rogers' Succession, 41 La. Ann. 400, 7 So. 692; Markey's Succession, 22 La. Ann. 265; Robertson v. Paul, 16 Tex. 472; Toullerton v. Manchke, 11 Tex. Civ. App. 148, 32 S. W. 238. See also Hargrove v. Lilly, 69 Ga. 326, decree in favor of an unpaid vendor, fixing a lien on the land.

Recognizance to secure purchase-money.— Where the decedent in his lifetime entered into a recognizance in the orphans' court to secure the purchase-money of land purchased by him, the recognizance constituted a specific lien which on sale of the land to pay debts was entitled to priority of payment out of the proceeds. Ramsey's Appeal, 4 Watts (Pa.) 71.

Where vendor's liens have been abolished by statute the vendor of land is entitled to no priority in the distribution of any of the assets of the decedent's estate, but the debt takes rank not by its consideration but by the form in which the decedent left it. Jones v. James, 56 Ga. 325.

49. Ryker v. Vawter, 117 Ind. 425, 20 N. E. 294; Milward v. Shields, 43 S. W. 184, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1076, 39 L. R. A. 506 [overruling Best v. Spooner, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 602]; Boud's Appeal, 2 Pennyp. (Pa.) 241. See also Wade's Appeal, 29 Pa. St. 328. Contra, Alter v. O'Brien, 31 La. Ann. 452.

50. Ryker v. Vawter, 117 Ind. 425, 20 N. E. 294; Boud's Appeal, 2 Pennyp. (Pa.) 241; Saving Fund v. Cartwright, 1 Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 171.

51. California.— In re Murray, 18 Cal. 686.

Indiana.— Ryker v. Vawter, 117 Ind. 425, 20 N. E. 294.

Kentucky.— Day v. Davis, 47 S. W. 769, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 869, attorney's fee in action by representative to settle the estate.

Oregon.— Shepard v. Saltzman, 34 Oreg. 40, 54 Pac. 882.

South Carolina.— See Shell v. Young, 32 S. C. 462, 11 S. E. 299.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1008.

52. Brent v. Washington Bank, 10 Pet. (U. S.) 596, 9 L. ed. 547; U. S. v. Duncan, 25 Fed. Cas. No. 15,003, 4 McLean 607.

53. Baxter v. Baxter, 23 S. C. 114. See also Finley v. Caldwell, 1 Mo. 512; Dunlap v. Bynum, 4 Desauss. (S. C.) 646; Public Account Com'rs v. Greenwood, 1 Desauss. (S. C.) 450.

54. Boud's Appeal, 2 Pennyp. (Pa.) 241. Under the Maryland statutes (Act (1843), c. 208; Act (1797), c. 90) taxes are a lien on the land and are entitled to priority of payment out of the proceeds of the mortgaged property, notwithstanding that there is personalty in the hands of the representative; but when the taxes have been thus paid the mortgagee will be subrogated to the rights of the state and county and be entitled to a preference in the personal estate according to his proper priority in the course of administration. Fulton v. Nicholson, 7 Md. 104.

55. McCandlish v. Keen, 13 Gratt. (Va.) 615.

56. Fields v. Wheatley, 1 Sneed (Tenn.) 351.

57. McCandlish v. Keen, 13 Gratt. (Va.) 615.

58. Black v. Planters' Bank, 4 Humphr. (Tenn.) 367. See also Hullett v. Hood, 109 Ala. 345, 19 So. 419; Meyers v. Meyers, 19 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 185.

must be postponed in case of the subsequent death of the debtor to funeral and law charges, and expenses of the debtor's last illness.[59]

(3) Priority Inter Sese.[60] The statutes frequently provide that mortgages and other specific liens shall be paid according to their priority in point of time, the oldest being payable first.[61]

(iv) Proceedings For Classification.[62] The classification of claims against a decedent's estate is a matter over which the probate court is often given original jurisdiction by statute,[63] and the original jurisdiction thus conferred is held to be exclusive.[64] A fortiori any classification of debts by the personal representative is subject to revision by the probate court.[65] A creditor with a claim acknowledged by the executor cannot have it classed as privileged without making him a party.[66] The classification of a claim has been considered as a proceeding in rem, requiring a general notice as a jurisdictional fact.[67] Probate courts in passing upon and classifying claims against a decedent's estate exercise equitable powers and regard substance rather than form.[68] If the statute does not require that the classification of a demand should be entered on the record at large, an indorsement of its class on the claim itself, and an entry on the abstract book, is sufficient to give the classification validity.[69] And it has been held that, since the statute fixes the class to which a claim belongs, a judgment allowing a claim need not specify the class in which the claim is to be placed, but a direction that the claim be paid in the due course of administration is sufficient.[70] In some states the classification of a claim by the probate court is not such a final judgment as to be conclusive,[71] and, although it may be appealed from when erroneous,[72] yet it is within the jurisdiction of the court to correct the erroneous classification, and to do this at a subsequent term,[73] and if fraud or mistake be shown to have affected the original classification the court may reëxamine the claim and place it in its proper class.[74] But in other states the classification of a claim by the probate court is a judicial act having the same force and effect as a judgment of any court of general jurisdiction,[75] and it is held that as to change the classification made by the probate court is to change the force of the judgment as to all creditors in the prior classes, this should be done only where such facts exist as would authorize the court to modify or set aside its judgments in other respects.[76]

59. Holbert's Succession, 3 La. Ann. 436.

60. See, generally, Mortgages.

61. See Moore v. Dortic, Ga. Dec. Pt. II, 84.

62. Allowance see supra, X, B, 14.

63. See Tucker v. Yell, 25 Ark. 420; McLean v. Crow, 88 Cal. 644, 26 Pac. 596; Porter v. Sweeney, 61 Tex. 213; Williams v. liams v. Robinson, 56 Tex. 347.

In Illinois the county court has jurisdiction to classify a judgment rendered by the circuit court on appeal from the county court, and left unclassified by the circuit court. McCall v. Lee, 24 Ill. App. 585 [affirmed in 120 Ill. 261, 11 N. E. 522].

64. McLean v. Crow, 88 Cal. 644, 26 Pac. 596; Porter v. Sweeney, 61 Tex. 213; Williams v. Robinson, 56 Tex. 347.

65. Tucker v. Yell, 25 Ark. 420. See also McLean v. Crow, 88 Cal. 644, 26 Pac. 596.

66. Lilley's Succession, 6 Rob. (La.) 24.

67. In re Smith, 122 Cal. 462, 55 Pac. 249, holding that, in the absence of an express statutory provision, an adjudication as to an alleged preference of a claim can be made only at the same time and under the same notice as is required upon settlement of the representative's accounts.

68. Chicago Title, etc., Co. v. McGlew, 193 Ill. 457, 61 N. E. 1018 [affirming 90 Ill. App. 58]. See also McCall v. Lee, 120 Ill. 261, 11 N. E. 522 [affirming 24 Ill. App. 585].

69. Nelson v. Russell, 15 Mo. 356.

70. McCall v. Lee, 120 Ill. 261, 11 N. E. 522 [affirming 24 Ill. App. 585].

71. McPherson v. Wolfley, 9 Kan. App. 67, 57 Pac. 257.

72. McPherson v. Wolfley, 9 Kan. App. 67, 57 Pac. 257.

73. Ford v. Stuart First Nat. Bank, 100 Ill. App. 70.

74. Ford v. Stuart First Nat. Bank, 100 Ill. App. 70.

75. Tucker v. Yell, 25 Ark. 420; Cossitt v. Biscoe, 12 Ark. 95; Miller v. Janney, 15 Mo. 265; Cooper v. Duncan, 20 Mo. App. 355.

The adjudication cannot be set aside in equity on the ground that it was made under a mistake of law, but the party aggrieved is confined to his remedy by appeal or writ of error. Cooper v. Duncan, 20 Mo. App. 355.

76. Miller v. Janney, 15 Mo. 265. See also Cossitt v. Biscoe, 12 Ark. 95; Nelson v. Russell, 15 Mo. 356.

(v) Waiver or Loss of Priority. A creditor may by his laches lose his right to priority of payment.[77] But, under a statute classifying claims according to the time of their exhibition to the representative[78] and providing that actions commenced against the representative shall be considered demands legally exhibited from the time of serving the original process, a creditor who has begun an action against the representative does not lose his priority by taking a nonsuit.[79] It has been held in Pennsylvania that the statutory right of preference given to the wages of servants does not exist where the servants received from the debtor in his lifetime single bills payable at a future day with interest,[80] but this decision has been disapproved in Illinois on the ground that the taking of a note bearing interest is not a discharge or waiver of the creditor's lien.[81] In Louisiana it has been held that an administrator who claims a privilege on personal property sold to the succession, and who sells the real estate and personal property in bulk, without separate appraisement, loses his privilege.[82]

3. Claims of Executor or Administrator — a. Right to Retain Assets in Payment — (i) At Common Law — (a) In General. It is a well-settled rule of the common law that if a creditor becomes executor or administrator of his debtor's estate he may retain so much of the assets in his hands as is sufficient to pay his debt, in preference to all other creditors of equal degree.[83]

(b) Who May Exercise Right. The right of retainer extends to a temporary or special administrator,[84] to each of several joint executors or adminis-

If an improper classification is the result of a clerical error of the judge, the proper remedy is by motion in the probate court for an order correcting the error nunc pro tunc; and in such a case equity will not interfere by injunction. Jillett v. Union Nat. Bank, 56 Mo. 304.

77. Reakirt v. Flanagan, 6 Pa. Dist. 402, 40 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 375.

78. See supra, X, D, 2, c, (II), (B), (12).

79. Tevis v. Tevis, 23 Mo. 256.

80. Silver v. Williams, 17 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 292.

81. Chicago Title, etc., Co. v. McGlew, 193 Ill. 457, 61 N. E. 1018 [affirming 90 Ill. App. 58].

82. Rogers' Succession, 41 La. Ann. 400, 7 So. 692.

83. Alabama.— Trimble v. Farris, 78 Ala. 260; Miller v. Irby, 63 Ala. 477; Kirksey v. Kirksey, 41 Ala. 626.

Connecticut.— Pitkin v. Pitkin, 8 Conn. 325.

Florida.— Sanderson v. Sanderson, 17 Fla. 820; Sealey v. Thomas, 6 Fla. 25.

Kentucky.— Payne v. Pusey, 8 Bush 564; Berry v. Graddy, 1 Metc. 553; Buckner v. Morris, 2 J. J. Marsh. 121; Saunders v. Saunders, 2 Litt. 314.

Maryland.— State v. Reigart, 1 Gill 1, 39 Am. Dec. 628.

Missouri.— Nelson v. Russell, 15 Mo. 356.

New Jersey.— Personette v. Personette, 35 N. J. Eq. 472; Dolman v. Cook, 14 N. J. Eq. 56.

New York.— Rogers v. Hosack, 18 Wend. 319 [reversing 6 Paige 415]; Rogers v. Rogers, 3 Wend. 503, 20 Am. Dec. 716; Decker v. Miller, 2 Paige 149.

North Carolina.— Hassell v. Griffin, 55 N. C. 117; White v. Griffin, 47 N. C. 3.

Ohio.— Hall v. Pratt, 5 Ohio 72.

Pennsylvania.— Ex p. Meason, 5 Binn. 167.

Rhode Island.— Perkins v. Perkins, 11 R. I. 270.

South Carolina.— Sebring v. Keith, 2 Hill 340.

Tennessee.— Shields v. Alsup, 5 Lea 508; Harrison v. Henderson, 7 Heisk. 315; Smith v. Watkins, 8 Humphr. 331.

Virginia.— Shores v. Wares, 1 Rob. 1.

United States.— Page v. Lloyd, 5 Pet. 304, 8 L. ed. 134.

England.— In re Compton, 30 Ch. D. 15, 54 L. J. Ch. 904, 53 L. T. Rep. N. S. 410; Robinson v. Cumming, 2 Atk. 409, 26 Eng. Reprint 646; Middleton v. Poole, 2 Coll. Ch. 246, 33 Eng. Ch. 246; Potter v. Fowler, 6 L. J. Ch. 273; Woodward v. Darcy, Plowd. 184.

Canada.— Kline v. Kline, 3 Ch. Chamb. (U. C.) 161.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1012.

The right of retainer is a remedy by mere operation of law, and is founded upon the fact that the personal representative cannot maintain a suit against himself, as the representative of the decedent, to recover a debt due him in his private capacity; and as the creditor who first sues and obtains judgment against the personal representative must be first paid, the representative must lose his debt if the estate is insolvent, unless he has the right of retainer. Wynch v. Grant, 2 Drew. 312, 3 Eq. Rep. 60, 18 Jur. 1010, 24 L. J. Ch. 6, 3 Wkly. Rep. 6; In re Dunning, 54 L. J. Ch. 900, 53 L. T. Rep. N. S. 413, 33 Wkly. Rep. 760; Re Faithful, 57 L. T. Rep. N. S. 14; Wankford v. Wankford, 1 Salk. 299. And see cases cited above.

84. Rattoon v. Overacker, 8 Johns. (N. Y.) 126; Kinard v. Young, 2 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 247; Whitehead v. Sampson, Freem. 265; trators,[85] and to the representative of a deceased executor, where such representative represents the estate of the original testator.[86] But the right may be exercised only by the legal personal representative of the estate under administration,[87] and not by an executor named in the will who has renounced probate,[88] or a representative who has resigned,[89] or has been removed.[90] An executor de son tort cannot retain for his own debt,[91] even against a debt of inferior degree,[92] or although the rightful representative consents to the retainer.[93]

(c) As to What Claims Right Exists. A personal representative is entitled to retain for any valid claim held by him against the estate,[94] although his claim can Vaughan v. Browne, 2 Str. 1106; Williamson v. Norwitch, Styles 337; Franks v. Cooper, 4 Ves. Jr. 763, 31 Eng. Reprint 394. An administrator durante minoritate may retain for a debt due to himself (Briers v. Goddard, Hob. 351; Roskelley v. Godolphin, T. Raym. 483) or to the infant in whose stead he was appointed (Franks v. Cooper, 4 Ves. Jr. 763, 31 Eng. Reprint 394).

85. Decker v. Miller, 2 Paige (N. Y.) 149; Crowder v. Stewart, 16 Ch. D. 368, 50 L. J. Ch. 136, 29 Wkly. Rep. 331; Sharman v. Rudd, 4 Jur. N. S. 527, 27 L. J. Ch. 844; Kent v. Pickering, 2 Keen 1, 6 L. J. Ch. 375, 15 Eng. Ch. 1, 48 Eng. Reprint 528; Jacomb v. Harwood, 2 Ves. 265, 28 Eng. Reprint 172.

86. In re Rhoades, [1899] 2 Q. B. 347, 68 L. J. Q. B. 804, 80 L. T. Rep. N. S. 742, 6 Manson 277, 47 Wkly. Rep. 561; In re Compton, 30 Ch. D. 15, 54 L. J. Ch. 904, 53 L. T. Rep. N. S. 410. See infra, XXII.

An executor of a sole executor may retain for a debt due to himself in his individual capacity (In re Compton, 30 Ch. D. 15, 54 L. J. Ch. 904, 53 L. T. Rep. N. S. 410; Hopton v. Dryden, Prec. Ch. 179, 24 Eng. Reprint 87; Thomson v. Grant, 1 Russ. 540 note, 46 Eng. Ch. 481, 38 Eng. Reprint 209); or as executor of the deceased executor (Lay v. Lay, 10 S. C. 208; Thomson v. Grant, supra).

An executor of one of several executors cannot retain for a debt due from the original testator; because the surviving executors become the representatives of the original testator. In re Compton, 30 Ch. D. 15, 54 L. J. Ch. 904, 53 L. T. Rep. N. S. 410; Hopton v. Dryden, Prec. Ch. 179, 24 Eng. Reprint 87.

87. In re Rhoades, [1899] 2 Q. B. 347, 68 L. J. Q. B. 804, 80 L. T. Rep. N. S. 742, 6 Manson 277, 47 Wkly. Rep. 561; In re Compton, 30 Ch. D. 15, 54 L. J. Ch. 904, 53 L. T. Rep. N. S. 410.

88. Smith v. North, 13 Jur. 998.

89. Fort v. Battle, 13 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 133.

90. See Rutenie v. Hamaker, 40 Oreg. 444, 67 Pac. 196.

91. Kentucky.—McMeekin v. Hynes, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 177.

Louisiana.— See McGinnis' Succession, 18 La. Ann. 268.

Maryland.— Baumgartner v. Haas, 68 Md. 32, 11 Atl. 588; Glenn v. Smith, 2 Gill & J. 493, 20 Am. Dec. 452.

Massachusetts.— Carey v. Guillow, 105 Mass. 18, 7 Am. Rep. 494.

Mississippi.— Hardy v. Thomas, 23 Miss. 544, 57 Am. Dec. 152.

New Hampshire.— Brown v. Leavitt, 26 N. H. 493.

North Carolina.— Turner v. Child, 12 N. C. 331, 17 Am. Dec. 555.

South Carolina.—Cook v. Sanders, 15 Rich. 63, 94 Am. Dec. 139; Leach v. House, 1 Bailey 42; Kinard v. Young, 2 Rich. Eq. 247.

Tennessee.— Winn v. Slaughter, 5 Heisk. 191; Hutchinson v. Fulghum, 4 Heisk. 550; Sharp v. Caldwell, 7 Humphr. 415; Partee v. Caughran, 9 Yerg. 460.

Virginia.— Shields v. Anderson, 3 Leigh 729.

England.— Ayre v. Ayre, 1 Ch. Cas. 33, 22 Eng. Reprint 680; Coulter's Case, 5 Coke 30*a*; Vernon v. Curtis, 2 H. Bl. 18; Prince v. Rowson, 1 Mod. 208; Alexander v. Lane, Yelv. 137.

Grant of letters pendente lite.— If a person who is sued as executor de son tort takes out administration pending the suit, the subsequent grant of administration will justify a retainer. Rattoon v. Overacker, 8 Johns. (N. Y.) 126; Kinard v. Young, 2 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 247; Whitehead v. Sampson, Freem. 265; Vaughan v. Browne, 2 Str. 1106; Williamson v. Norwitch, Styles 337.

92. Brown v. Leavitt, 26 N. H. 493; Leach v. House, 1 Bailey (S. C.) 42; Vernon v. Curtis, 2 H. Bl. 18.

93. Brown v. Leavitt, 26 N. H. 493; Vernon v. Curtis, 2 H. Bl. 18.

If the distributees consent to an irregular administration, the persons so administering may, as against the distributees, retain an amount sufficient to discharge a debt due them by the decedent in his lifetime. Josey v. Rogers, 13 Ga. 478.

94. Kline v. Kline, 3 Ch. Chamb. (U. C.) 161.

Damages arising from the breach of a pecuniary contract for which there is a certain measure may be retained. In re Compton, 30 Ch. D. 15, 54 L. J. Ch. 904, 53 L. T. Rep. N. S. 410 [following Loane v. Casey, 2 W. Bl. 965].

Claim for indemnity or reimbursement.— Where an executor is surety for his testator and is compelled to pay the debt, he has a right of retainer in respect to his claim for reimbursement. Milam v. Ragland, 19 Ala. 85; Boyd v. Brooks, 34 Beav. 7 [affirmed in 34 L. J. Ch. 605, 12 L. T. Rep. N. S. 38, 13 Wkly. Rep. 419]; Bathurst v. De la Zouch, only be ascertained by taking accounts in a court of equity.[95] A personal representative who is one of several joint creditors of the decedent is entitled to retain for the whole debt;[96] and the administrator of a deceased partner has been allowed to retain a debt due to him by the firm out of the individual assets of his intestate, even as against an individual creditor of the intestate.[97] If the right to receive payment and the liability to pay are centered in the same personal representative, he has a right to retain for the debt,[98] although it be due to him as the representative of another estate,[99] or as trustee for another,[1] or be due to another in trust for him.[2] The representative cannot retain for a claim due to other

Dick. 460, 21 Eng. Reprint 348. See also Wildes v. Dudlaw, L. R. 19 Eq. 198, 44 L. J. Ch. 341, 23 Wkly. Rep. 435. And it has been held that an executor who is surety for his testator has a right of retainer by way of indemnity, although he has not paid, or been called upon to pay, the debt. Ferguson v. Gibson, L. R. 14 Eq. 379, 41 L. J. Ch. 640; In re Giles, [1896] 1 Ch. 956, 65 L. J. Ch. 419, 74 L. T. Rep. N. S. 21, 44 Wkly. Rep. 283. See also In re Allen, [1896] 2 Ch. 345, 65 L. J. Ch. 760, 75 L. T. Rep. N. S. 136, 44 Wkly. Rep. 644; Re Orme, 50 L. T. Rep. N. S. 51.

Claim not due.— Although a debt due from the intestate to the administrator may not have fallen due, the administrator may retain funds for the payment of it in preference to debts of an inferior grade. Relph v. Gist, 4 McCord (S. C.) 267.

Claim acquired after decedent's death.—An administrator may retain assets to satisfy a debt due to him on a note of his intestate, indorsed to him after the death of his intestate, but prior to the grant of administration. Reynolds v. Putney, 8 N. C. 318. But an executor has no right to retain for a debt proved by a creditor under a decree in an administration suit, and subsequently bequeathed by him to the executor. Jones v. Evans, 2 Ch. D. 420, 45 L. J. Ch. 751, 24 Wkly. Rep. 778.

Claim unenforceable by reason of statute of frauds.— In England it has been held that an administrator cannot retain for a claim held by him against his intestate, which is not in writing as required by the statute of frauds (In re Rownson, 29 Ch. D. 358, 49 J. P. 759, 54 L. J. Ch. 950, 52 L. T. Rep. N. S. 825, 35 Wkly. Rep. 604); but the contrary has been held in Kentucky (Berry v. Graddy, 1 Metc. (Ky.) 553).

Expenses of administration.— Under the plea of plene administravit an administrator may prove the expenses of administration and show that he has retained money to that amount. Gillies v. Smither, 2 Stark. 528, 3 E. C. L. 517.

Debt due wife as part of separate estate.— An administratrix may retain out of her husband's estate what was due her for money lent to him and deposited with him from her separate estate. Personette v. Personette, 35 N. J. Eq. 472.

95. Morris v. Morris, 4 Gratt. (Va.) 293; In re Morris, L. R. 10 Ch. 68, 44 L. J. Ch. 178, 31 L. T. Rep. N. S. 491, 23 Wkly. Rep. 120; Kline v. Kline, 3 Ch. Chamb. (U. C.) 161. But see De Tastet v. Shaw, 1 B. & Ald. 664.

96. Hosack v. Rogers, 6 Paige (N. Y.) 415 [reversed in 18 Wend. 319]; In re Hubback, 29 Ch. D. 934, 54 L. J. Ch. 923, 52 L. T. Rep. N. S. 908, 33 Wkly. Rep. 666; Crowder v. Stewart, 16 Ch. D. 368, 50 L. J. Ch. 136, 29 Wkly. Rep. 331.

97. See Hassell v. Griffin, 55 N. C. 117; White v. Griffin, 47 N. C. 3.

98. In re Dunning, 54 L. J. Ch. 900, 53 L. T. Rep. N. S. 413, 33 Wkly. Rep. 760; Re Faithfull, 57 L. T. Rep. N. S. 14; Thompson v. Thompson, 9 Price 464.

99. Alabama.—Miller v. Irby, 63 Ala. 477; Kimball v. Moody, 27 Ala. 130.

North Carolina.— Chaffin v. Chaffin, 22 N. C. 255; Muse v. Sawyer, 4 N. C. 637.

Virginia.— See Green v. Thompson, 84 Va. 376, 5 S. E. 507.

England.— Fox v. Garrett, 28 Beav. 16; Thompson v. Cooper, 1 Coll. Ch. 81, 8 Jur. 164, 13 L. J. Ch. 416, 28 Eng. Ch. 81; Wynch v. Grant, 2 Drew. 312, 3 Eq. Rep. 60, 18 Jur. 1010, 24 L. J. Ch. 6, 2 Wkly. Rep. 6; Fryer v. Gildridge, Hob. 14.

Canada.— Kline v. Kline, 3 Ch. Chamb. (U. C.) 161.

1. Hosack v. Rogers, 6 Paige (N. Y.) 415 [reversed in 18 Wend. 319]; Sander v. Heathfield, L. R. 19 Eq. 21, 44 L. J. Ch. 113, 31 L. T. Rep. N. S. 400, 23 Wkly. Rep. 331; Davies v. Parry, [1899] 1 Ch. 602, 68 L. J. Ch. 346, 47 Wkly. Rep. 429; In re Barrett, 43 Ch. D. 70, 59 L. J. Ch. 218, 38 Wkly. Rep. 59; Crowder v. Stewart, 16 Ch. D. 368, 50 L. J. Ch. 136, 29 Wkly. Rep. 331.

The administrator of a sole trustee who has died insolvent is entitled, in respect of the trusteeship, which has devolved upon him as such administrator, to exercise the legal right of retainer in respect of any debts due to the trust estate. Sander v. Heathfield, L. R. 19 Eq. 21, 44 L. J. Ch. 113, 31 L. T. Rep. N. S. 400, 23 Wkly. Rep. 331; Re Faithfull, 57 L. T. Rep. N. S. 14.

2. Loomes v. Stotherd, 1 L. J. Ch. O. S. 220, 1 Sim. & St. 458, 1 Eng. Ch. 458; Cockroft v. Black, 2 P. Wms. 298, 24 Eng. Reprint 738; Franks v. Cooper, 4 Ves. Jr. 763, 31 Eng. Reprint 394; Loane v. Casey, 2 W. Bl. 965. But see In re Dunning, 54 L. J. Ch. 900, 53 L. T. Rep. N. S. 413, 33 Wkly. Rep. 760; Thompson v. Thompson, 9 Price 464.

persons,[3] or exercise the right of retainer as to his own claim for arbitrary damages, such as damages founded on tort.[4]

(D) What Assets May Be Retained. An executor or administrator may retain for his own debt out of any legal assets that come into his possession or control,[5] or into the hands of his co-executor or administrator.[6] The doctrine of retainer, however, has no application to equitable assets.[7]

(E) Priority Over Other Claims. While the representative is entitled to retain for his debt in preference to all other debts of equal or inferior dignity,[8] he

3. In re Richards, [1901] 2 Ch. 399, 70 L. J. Ch. 699, 85 L. T. Rep. N. S. 273, 50 Wkly. Rep. 57, holding that a person to whom a grant of administration has been made as nominee of a creditor of an intestate cannot retain for a debt due to his principal, where the grant is not expressed to be for the use of his principal.

Claim assigned by executor.— An executor cannot retain the amount of a debt due to him from the estate of his testator, where such debt has been duly assigned by him to a third person. Pitkin v. Pitkin, 8 Conn. 325.

4. Lane v. Casey, 2 W. Bl. 965.

5. In re Rhoades, [1899] 2 Q. B. 347, 68 L. J. Q. B. 804, 80 L. T. Rep. N. S. 742, 6 Manson 277, 47 Wkly. Rep. 561; In re Compton, 30 Ch. D. 15, 54 L. J. Ch. 904, 53 L. T. Rep. N. S. 410; Walters v. Walters, 18 Ch. D. 182, 50 L. J. Ch. 819, 44 L. T. Rep. N. S. 769, 29 Wkly. Rep. 888.

Possession necessary.— In re Jones, 31 Ch. D. 440, 55 L. J. Ch. 350, 53 L. T. Rep. N. S. 855, 34 Wkly. Rep. 249.

Assets coming in after death of representative.— The assertion by an executor in his lifetime of his right of retainer as against future assets of his testator will not bind assets which after his death fall into the testator's estate. In re Compton, 30 Ch. D. 15, 54 L. J. Ch. 904, 53 L. T. Rep. N. S. 410 [modifying Wilson v. Coxwell, 23 Ch. D. 764, 52 L. J. Ch. 975].

Retaining assets in specie.— At common law an executor is not required to sell the assets and pay himself out of the money, but he may retain the assets in specie. Muse v. Sawyer, 4 N. C. 637; Yost v. Crombie, 8 U. C. C. P. 159. See also Miller v. Irby, 63 Ala. 477; Kimball v. Moody, 27 Ala. 130; Woodward v. Darcy, Plowd. 184. But see In re Gilbert, [1898] 1 Q. B. 282, 67 L. J. Q. B. 229, 77 L. T. Rep. N. S. 775, 4 Manson 337, 46 Wkly. Rep. 351 (where the court, although holding that an executor whose debt largely exceeded the value of his testator's estate might retain the entire assets in specie, without first realizing them, said that if the assets had been of greater value than the debt the executor might not have been entitled to retain before he had realized, or at least had clearly appropriated some specific assets in payment of the debt); Chapman v. Turner, 9 Mod. 268.

6. Decker v. Miller, 2 Paige (N. Y.) 149, holding, however, that an executor who is indebted to the estate may refuse to pay, out of such debt, a demand held against the estate by his co-executor, until he is satisfied that the other assets are insufficient to discharge the claim of his co-executor.

7. Harrison v. Henderson, 7 Heisk. (Tenn.) 315; Bain v. Sadler, L. R. 12 Eq. 570, 40 L. J. Ch. 791, 25 L. T. Rep. N. S. 202, 19 Wkly. Rep. 1077; In re Baker, 44 Ch. D. 262, 59 L. J. Ch. 661, 62 L. T. Rep. N. S. 817, 38 Wkly. Rep. 417; Walters v. Walters, 18 Ch. D. 182, 50 L. J. Ch. 819, 44 L. T. Rep. N. S. 769, 29 Wkly. Rep. 888; In re Poole, 6 Ch. D. 739, 46 L. J. Ch. 803, 37 L. T. Rep. N. S. 119, 25 Wkly. Rep. 862; Duignan v. Croome, 41 L. T. Rep. N. S. 672; Hopton v. Dryden, Prec. Ch. 179, 24 Eng. Reprint 87. But see Kline v. Kline, 3 Ch. Chamb. (U. C.) 161.

Proceeds of realty.— Land devised to be sold for the payment of debts constitutes equitable assets, and the personal representative has no right to retain from the proceeds of the sale a debt due to him from the testator. Harrison v. Henderson, 7 Heisk. (Tenn.) 315; Bain v. Sadler, L. R. 12 Eq. 570, 40 L. J. Ch. 791, 25 L. T. Rep. N. S. 202, 19 Wkly. Rep. 1077; Anonymous, 2 Ch. Cas. 54, 22 Eng. Reprint 843. But see Hall v. Macdonald, 14 Sim. 1, 37 Eng. Ch. 1. And the same rule applies to the proceeds of land made liable in equity by statute for the debts of the decedent. Walters v. Walters, 18 Ch. D. 182, 50 L. J. Ch. 819, 44 L. T. Rep. N. S. 769, 29 Wkly. Rep. 888. See also In re Williams, [1904] 1 Ch. 52, 73 L. J. Ch. 82, 89 L. T. Rep. N. S. 580, 20 T. L. R. 54, 52 Wkly. Rep. 318.

On a bill in equity to foreclose a mortgage, it is doubtful whether the right of an executor to retain out of the funds of the estate in his hands, or from the amount due by him to the estate, sufficient to satisfy his claim against the estate, will be recognized where it would operate merely as a set-off. Dolman v. Cook, 14 N. J. Eq. 56.

8. Alabama.— Trimble v. Farris, 78 Ala. 260; Miller v. Irby, 63 Ala. 477.

Kentucky.— Buckner v. Morris, 2 J. J. Marsh. 121. See also Young v. Wickliffe, 7 Dana 447.

New Jersey.— Dolman v. Cook, 14 N. J. Eq. 56.

New York.— Rogers v. Hosack, 18 Wend. 319; Decker v. Miller, 2 Paige 149.

Pennsylvania.— Ex p. Meason, 5 Binn. 167.

Virginia.— Morris v. Morris, 4 Gratt. 293; Cookus v. Peyton, 1 Gratt. 431; Shores v. Wares, 1 Rob. 1; Shearman v. Christian, 9 Leigh 571.

cannot exercise the right so as to obtain a preference over debts of superior dignity.[9]

(F) Loss of Right. A personal representative may lose his right to retain by acts on his part inconsistent with the existence of the right.[10] But a decree of administration, made in a creditor's suit, does not deprive the personal representative of his right of retainer,[11] although the assets out of which he seeks to retain come into his hands after the decree;[12] nor does the payment into court of money recovered on account of the estate prevent him from exercising his right of retainer.[13] The executor or administrator has no right of retainer out of

United States.— Page v. Lloyd, 5 Pet. 304, 8 L. ed. 134.

England.— Ferguson v. Gibson, L. R. 14 Eq. 379, 41 L. J. Ch. 640; In re Allen, [1896] 2 Ch. 345, 65 L. J. Ch. 760, 75 L. T. Rep. N. S. 136, 44 Wkly. Rep. 644; Horne v. Shepherd, 3 Jur. N. S. 806, 26 L. J. Ch. 817.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1013.

Claims in individual and in fiduciary capacity.— Where a personal representative has claims against the estate both in his individual capacity and as representative of another estate, he cannot retain for the debt due to him in his individual capacity in preference to the claim held by him as representative. Chaffin v. Chaffin, 22 N. C. 255.

9. New Jersey.— Dolman v. Cook, 14 N. J. Eq. 56.

North Carolina.—Chaffin v. Chaffin, 22 N. C. 55.

Pennsylvania.— Ex p. Meason, 5 Binn. 167.

United States.— Page v. Lloyd, 5 Pet. 304, 8 L. ed. 134.

England.— Talbot v. Frere, 9 Ch. D. 568, 27 Wkly. Rep. 148; Ferguson v. Gibson, L. R. 14 Eq. 379, 41 L. J. Ch. 640.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1013.

Retainer without notice of claim of higher dignity.— It has been held that if an executor has fully administered the estate, and has retained a portion of the assets in payment of a debt due himself, without notice of a claim of higher dignity, such claim cannot be enforced against the portion of the assets retained by him. In re Fludyer, [1898] 2 Ch. 562, 67 L. J. Ch. 620, 79 L. T. Rep. N. S. 298, 47 Wkly. Rep. 5. Contra, Cookus v. Peyton, 1 Gratt. (Va.) 431.

Retainer must be for debt of highest dignity.— Where a foreign administrator was a creditor of the intestate by specialty and also by simple contract, and received assets insufficient to discharge both debts, it was held that he must retain in satisfaction of the specialty debt, and that he would be allowed to rank only as a simple contract creditor in respect to the assets in the hands of the domestic administrator. Johnson v. Ward, 2 L. J. Ch. O. S. 137.

10. Fort v. Bottle, 13 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 133; Redman v. Turner, 65 N. C. 445, holding that an administrator will not be allowed to retain out of assets of his intestate the amount of a note payable to him as guardian, and on which his intestate was surety, where he has paid over to the maker of the note, who is insolvent, a claim against his intestate for a sum more than sufficient to have discharged the note.

11. Davies v. Parry, [1899] 1 Ch. 602, 68 L. J. Ch. 346, 47 Wkly. Rep. 429; Sharman v. Rudd, 4 Jur. N. S. 527, 27 L. J. Ch. 844; Nunn v. ——, 2 L. J. Ch. O. S. 123, 1 Sim. & St. 588, 24 Rev. Rep. 242, 1 Eng. Ch. 588; Re Orme, 50 L. T. Rep. N. S. 51. See also In re Hubback, 29 Ch. D. 934, 54 L. J. Ch. 923, 52 L. T. Rep. N. S. 908, 33 Wkly. Rep. 666.

Executor suing on behalf of himself and all other creditors.— In the administration of a testator's estate, the right of an executor to retain for his debt is not affected by the circumstances that he is himself plaintiff, suing on behalf of himself and all other creditors, and that he has submitted to account in the ordinary form. Ex p. Campbell, 16 Ch. D. 198, 43 L. T. Rep. N. S. 727, 29 Wkly. Rep. 233.

12. Davies v. Parry, [1899] 1 Ch. 602, 68 L. J. Ch. 346, 47 Wkly. Rep. 429; Nunn v. ——, 2 L. J. Ch. O. S. 123, 1 Sim. & St. 588, 24 Rev. Rep. 242, 1 Eng. Ch. 588.

13. Hosack v. Rogers, 6 Paige (N. Y.) 415 [reversed on other grounds in 18 Wend. 319]; In re Compton, 30 Ch. D. 15, 54 L. J. Ch. 904, 53 L. T. Rep. N. S. 410; Richmond v. White, 12 Ch. D. 361, 48 L. J. Ch. 798, 41 L. T. Rep. N. S. 570, 27 Wkly. Rep. 878; Tipping v. Power, 1 Hare 405, 6 Jur. 434, 11 L. J. Ch. 257, 23 Eng. Ch. 405; In re Langley, 68 L. J. Ch. 361; Langton v. Higgs, 1 L. J. Ch. 150, 5 Sim. 228, 9 Eng. Ch. 228; Chissum v. Dewes, 5 Russ. 29, 29 Rev. Rep. 10, 5 Eng. Ch. 29, 38 Eng. Reprint 938; Hall v. Macdonald, 14 Sim. 1, 37 Eng. Ch. 1; Stahlschmidt v. Lett, 1 Sm. & G. 415.

Payment by person other than representative.— Where, in pursuance of an order made on motion of the residuary legatee, and in the presence of the executor, an insurance company pays into court money which forms a part of the assets of the estate, the executor is not thereby deprived of his right of retainer in priority to the costs of the suit and the debts of other creditors, since the payment into court by the insurance company is in substance a payment by the executor. Richmond v. White, 12 Ch. D. 34, 48 L. J. Ch. 798, 41 L. T. Rep. N. S. 570, 27 Wkly. Rep. 878.

Priority over costs of suit.— If the fund paid into court is insufficient to discharge the administrator's debt, his right of retainer will prevail against plaintiff's right to have assets collected by a receiver appointed in a creditor's suit,[14] although he may retain out of assets previously collected by him and paid over to the receiver.[15]

(II) Under Modern Statutes. In England the right of retainer still exists as at common law,[16] but in the United States and Canada the statutes have greatly modified the right of retainer and confined its full operation to solvent estates,[17]

the cost of the suit satisfied. Richmond v. White, 12 Ch. D. 361, 48 L. J. Ch. 798, 41 L. T. Rep. N. S. 570, 27 Wkly. Rep. 878; Chissum v. Dewes, 5 Russ. 29, 29 Rev. Rep. 10, 5 Eng. Ch. 29, 38 Eng. Reprint 938. See also Tipping v. Power, 1 Hare 405, 6 Jur. 434, 11 L. J. Ch. 257, 23 Eng. Ch. 405.

14. In re Harrison, 32 Ch. D. 395, 55 L. J. Ch. 687, 55 L. T. Rep. N. S. 150, 34 Wkly. Rep. 736; In re Jones, 31 Ch. D. 440, 55 L. J. Ch. 350, 53 L. T. Rep. N. S. 855, 34 Wkly. Rep. 249 [following In re Birt, 22 Ch. D. 604, 52 L. J. Ch. 397, 48 L. T. Rep. N. S. 67, 31 Wkly. Rep. 334; Richmond v. White, 12 Ch. D. 361, 48 L. J. Ch. 798, 41 L. T. Rep. N. S. 570, 27 Wkly. Rep. 878]; Davenport v. Moss, 14 L. T. Rep. N. S. 133, 14 Wkly. Rep. 453.

15. Hosack v. Rogers, 6 Paige (N. Y.) 415 [reversed on other grounds in 18 Wend. 319]; In re Harrison, 32 Ch. D. 395, 55 L. J. Ch. 687, 55 L. T. Rep. N. S. 150, 34 Wkly. Rep. 736; In re Jones, 31 Ch. D. 440, 55 L. J. Ch. 350, 53 L. T. Rep. N. S. 855, 34 Wkly. Rep. 249.

16. Hinde Palmer's Act (32 & 33 Vict. c. 46), which abolished the distinction between specialty and simple contract debts in the administration of the estate of a deceased person, did not abolish the representative's right of retainer (Crowder v. Stewart, 16 Ch. D. 368, 50 L. J. Ch. 136, 29 Wkly. Rep. 331), nor did it enlarge his right so as to enable him to retain in full for a simple contract debt as against a specialty debt (In re Jones, 31 Ch. D. 440, 55 L. J. Ch. 350, 53 L. T. Rep. N. S. 855, 34 Wkly. Rep. 249; Wilson v. Coxwell, 23 Ch. D. 764, 52 L. J. Ch. 975).

Judicature Act of 1875.— An executor's right to retain a debt due to himself does not make him a secured creditor within the meaning of the Judicature Act (1875), § 10, and his right to retain is not affected by that section. Lee v. Nuttall, 12 Ch. D. 61, 48 L. J. Ch. 616, 41 L. T. Rep. N. S. 363, 27 Wkly. Rep. 805. See also In re May, 45 Ch. D. 499, 60 L. J. Ch. 34, 63 L. T. Rep. N. S. 375, 38 Wkly. Rep. 765.

17. Alabama.— If the estate is insolvent the administrator has, since the act of 1843, no right of retainer, but the debts are to be paid pro rata. Miller v. Irby, 63 Ala. 477; Smith v. Bryant, 60 Ala. 235; Kimball v. Moody, 27 Ala. 130; Shortridge v. Easley, 10 Ala. 520. See also Trimble v. Fariss, 78 Ala. 260.

Florida.— The right of retainer exists except where the estate is insolvent. Sanderson v. Sanderson, 17 Fla. 820; Sealey v. Thomas, 6 Fla. 25.

Illinois.— See Paschall v. Hailman, 9 Ill. 285.

Kentucky.— The right of retainer is not taken away, but it is modified by St. § 3868, which makes all debts of equal dignity and requires them to be paid ratably. Payne v. Pusey, 8 Bush 564; Berry v. Graddy, 1 Metc. 553.

Louisiana.— See Bujac v. Loste, 12 La. Ann. 96.

Maryland.— The claims of executors or administrators stand on an equal footing with other claims of the same nature. Pub. Gen. Laws (1904), art. 93, § 95; Semmes v. Magruder, 10 Md. 242.

Missouri.— The common-law doctrine of retainer is abolished. Nelson v. Russell, 15 Mo. 356.

New Jersey.— See Dolman v. Cook, 14 N. J. Eq. 56.

New York.— Under the New York statutes (2 Rev. St. (3d ed.) p. 642, § 35; Code Civ. Proc. § 2719) the claim of an executor or administrator has no priority over others of the same class. Matter of Gardner, 5 Redf. Surr. 14; Treat v. Fortune, 2 Bradf. Surr. 116. Previous to the passage of the Revised Statutes the common law prevailed and an executor or administrator had a right to pay his own claim in preference to all other claims of equal degree (Neilly v. Neilly, 89 N. Y. 352; Starbuck v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 28 N. Y. App. Div. 308, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 8; Rogers v. Rogers, 3 Wend. 503, 20 Am. Dec. 716; Hosack v. Rogers, 6 Paige 415 [reversed on other grounds in 18 Wend. 319]; In re Rogers, 1 Redf. Surr. 231; Treat v. Fortune, 2 Bradf. Surr. 16); and the Revised Statutes did not apply where a testator died previous to the date of their passage, although assets came into the hands of his personal representative after that date (Rogers v. Hosack, 18 Wend. 319 [reversing on other grounds 6 Paige 415]).

Pennsylvania.— Under Pa. Act, Sept. 19, 1794, § 14, giving preference to certain debts against decedent's estate, not including debts due to an administrator or executor, and placing all other debts on the same footing, an administrator cannot on a deficiency of assets retain his whole debt, as against creditors in an equal degree. Ex p. Meason, 5 Binn. 167.

South Carolina.— An administrator cannot retain more than his proportion of the debts due to himself where the estate is insolvent (Leonir v. Winn, 4 Desauss. 65, 6 Am. Dec. 597); but an administrator, as against a creditor who has not rendered a statement of his debt within the time prescribed by law is entitled to retain for his whole debt, although the assets are not enough to pay all (Sebring v. Keith, 2 Hill 340).

Tennessee.— The right of retainer still exand in some jurisdictions the personal representative can apply no part of the assets of the estate in payment of a claim held by him, until his claim has been allowed by the probate court.[18]

b. Presumption of Payment From Receipt of Assets. At common law, as a consequence of the right of retainer, if a personal representative receives assets sufficient to pay a claim held by him against the decedent, and which he may lawfully retain for that purpose, his retainer for his debt and its consequent extinguishment are conclusively presumed.[19] The mere fact that a creditor becomes the personal representative of his debtor does not raise any presumption of the extinguishment of the debt;[20] but in order to have that effect there must be a receipt of assets by the personal representative sufficient to pay his debt, and which he may lawfully retain for that purpose.[21] No act on the part of the repre-

ists, except in the case of insolvent estates, which are required to be distributed pro rata among all the creditors (Smith v. Watkins, 8 Humphr. 331); but the personal representative, if he has funds in his hands, must manifest his intention to retain by settlement with the county court, or some other equivalent act of appropriation, within the period limiting suits against him by other creditors, or his claim will be barred (Williams v. Williams, 15 Lea 438; Shields v. Alsup, 5 Lea 508; Byrn v. Fleming, 3 Head 658; Hamner v. Hamner, 3 Head 398).

Canada.— If the estate of a deceased person is insolvent, the provisions of the Property and Trusts Act apply so as to displace any right on the part of the executor to retain in full for his claim. Re Ross, 29 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 385. See also Kline v. Kline, 3 Ch. Chamb. (U. C.) 161.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1012 et seq.

Presumption that common law prevails in foreign state.— In the absence of proof of the laws of a foreign state, the presumption is that the common law, giving preference to the claims of an executor over those of equal degree, prevails. Dix v. Hozier, 6 N. Y. St. 745.

18. Semmes v. Magruder, 10 Md. 242; Owens v. Collinson, 3 Gill & J. (Md.) 25; Neilley v. Neilley, 89 N. Y. 352; Kyle v. Kyle, 67 N. Y. 400; Matter of Arkenburgh, 58 N. Y. App. Div. 583, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 125; Starbuck v. Farmers' L. & T. Co., 28 N. Y. App. Div. 308, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 8; Wilcox v. Smith, 26 Barb. (N. Y.) 316. See also Broome v. Van Hook, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 444; In re Rogers, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 251; Treat v. Fortune, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 116. But see State v. Reigart, 1 Gill (Md.) 1, 39 Am. Dec. 628.

Interest on amount retained.— An executor who retains any part of the assets in satisfaction of his disputed claim against the estate is chargeable with interest on the amount retained. Matter of Gardner, 5 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 14.

19. Alabama.— Beadle v. Steele, 86 Ala. 413, 5 So. 169; Trimble v. Fariss, 78 Ala. 260; Miller v. Irby, 63 Ala. 477.

Delaware.— Miller v. Miller, 5 Harr. 333.

Florida.— Sealey v. Thomas, 6 Fla. 25.

Ohio.— Hall v. Pratt, 5 Ohio 72.

South Carolina.— See Johnson v. Brockelbank, 2 Hill 353; Evans v. Evans, 1 Desauss. 515.

United States.— See Page v. Lloyd, 5 Pet. 304, 8 L. ed. 134.

England.— Woodward v. Darcy, Plowd. 184.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1020.

Debts due to representative in fiduciary capacity.— The presumption of extinguishment extends to debts due to the representative as trustee (Miller v. Irby, 63 Ala. 477) or as the representative of another estate (Miller v. Irby, supra; Muse v. Sawyer, 4 N. C. 637; Thomas v. Chamberlain, 39 Ohio St. 112; Fryer v. Gildridge, Hob. 14; Wangford v. Wangford, 11 Mod. 38, 1 Salk. 299. See also Dorchester v. Webb, Cro. Car. 372).

20. Muse v. Sawyer, 4 N. C. 637; Hall v. Pratt, 5 Ohio 72; Wangford v. Wangford, 11 Mod. 38, 1 Salk. 299.

21. Alabama.— Dickie v. Dickie, 80 Ala. 57; Trimble v. Fariss, 78 Ala. 260; Miller v. Irby, 63 Ala. 477; Kimball v. Moody, 27 Ala. 130.

Florida.— Sealey v. Thomas, 6 Fla. 25.

Massachusetts.— Bemis v. Call, 10 Allen 512.

New York.— See Thompson v. Thompson, 2 Johns. 471.

North Carolina.— Chaffin v. Hanes, 15 N. C. 103; Muse v. Sawyer, 4 N. C. 637.

Ohio.— Hall v. Pratt, 5 Ohio 72.

South Carolina.— Porter v. Cheesborough, 1 Strobh. Eq. 275.

England.— Lowe v. Peskett, 16 C. B. 500, 1 Jur. N. S. 1049, 24 L. J. C. P. 196, 3 Wkly. Rep. 481, 81 E. C. L. 500; Dorchester v. Webb, 1 Cro. Car. 372; Wangford v. Wangford, 11 Mod. 38, 1 Salk. 299.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1020.

Receipt of assets insufficient to pay debt.— If an executor, who is also a creditor, receives and disposes of property of the estate and dies before accounting therefor, the presumption of payment of his debt by retainer does not arise, unless the value of the property so received equaled the amount of the debt. Jordan v. Hardie, 131 Ala. 72, 31 So. 504. See also Woodward v. Darcy, Plowd. 184.

sentative in applying the assets in payment of his debt is necessary in order to work an extinguishment thereof;[22] but by operation of law the property in the assets, to an amount sufficient to extinguish his debt, is vested in him, and his debt is paid,[23] and it is not in his discretion to keep alive or continue the debt or by any subsequent act to revive it.[24] This doctrine, being a consequence of the right of retainer, does not apply where the right of retainer has been abolished or materially modified by statute;[25] and under statutes which prevent the personal representative from disposing of tangible personal property except by sale under order of the probate court, the debt of the personal representative is not extinguished unless he receives money,[26] or has possession of other personal assets for a sufficient length of time to enable him to convert them into money.[27] It has been held that the failure of the representative to apply for an order to sell the real estate of the decedent to pay debts for such a length of time as to render him chargeable at the suit of other creditors will raise a presumption of the extinguishment of his own debt.[28]

c. Secured Claims. A personal representative whose claim against the decedent's estate is secured is entitled to the benefit of his security.[29]

d. Set-Off and Counter-Claim. An executor or administrator indebted to the estate of his decedent will not be allowed to pay in full a claim that he holds against that estate, but will be required to offset the debt against his claim.[30]

4. Advances to Pay Claims — a. Advances by Executor or Administrator — (i) In General. Although the duty of a personal representative to serve the best interests of the estate he represents does not impose any obligation on him to use his own funds for that purpose, it authorizes him to do so; and if, in good faith and for the benefit of the estate, he advances his own funds to pay debts or discharge contracts which are just charges against the estate he is entitled to reimbursement.[31] And if with good reason the representative pays the just debts

Death of representative before receiving assets.— If an administrator dies without receiving assets, his debt is not presumed to have been extinguished. Hall v. Pratt, 5 Ohio 72.

22. Beadle v. Steele, 86 Ala. 413, 5 So. 169; Miller v. Irby, 63 Ala. 477; Muse v. Sawyer, 4 N. C. 637; Woodward v. Darcy, Plowd. 184. But see Shields v. Alsup, 5 Lea (Tenn.) 508.

23. Beadle v. Steele, 86 Ala. 413, 5 So. 169; Trimble v. Fariss, 78 Ala. 260; Muse v. Sawyer, 4 N. C. 637; Woodward v. Darcy, Plowd. 184.

24. Beadle v. Steele, 86 Ala. 413, 5 So. 169; Dickie v. Dickie, 80 Ala. 57; Miller v. Irby, 63 Ala. 477; Chaffin v. Hanes, 15 N. C. 103. See also Harkins v. Hughes, 60 Ala. 316; Prentice v. Dehon, 10 Allen (Mass.) 353. But see Page v. Lloyd, 5 Pet. (U. S.) 304, 8 L. ed. 134.

25. Miller v. Irby, 63 Ala. 477; Sealey v. Thomas, 6 Fla. 25; Matter of Saunders, 4 Misc. (N. Y.) 28, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 829, Pow. Surr. (N. Y.) 336; Smith v. Watkins, 8 Humphr. (Tenn.) 331.

26. Miller v. Irby, 63 Ala. 477; Kimball v. Moody, 27 Ala. 130; Harrison v. Henderson, 7 Heisk. (Tenn.) 315 [overruling Smith v. Watkins, 8 Humphr. (Tenn.) 331]. See also Ross v. Wharton, 10 Yerg. (Tenn.) 190.

Receipt of depreciated currency.— A personal representative who is a creditor of the decedent will not be permitted to receive depreciated currency in payment of debts due the estate, suffer it to become worthless in his hands, and then devolve the whole loss on the distributees; but he must retain in payment of his own claim the same kind of money which he receives in payment of debts due the estate. Dickie v. Dickie, 80 Ala. 57.

27. Miller v. Irby, 63 Ala. 477; Glenn v. Glenn, 41 Ala. 571 (holding that an administrator's retention in specie for six or seven years of sufficient personalty to pay a debt due to him raised a presumption that the debt was paid, and he was entitled to credit in his accounts for the amount of the debt); Kimball v. Moody, 27 Ala. 130 (failure for twelve years to convert assets into money).

28. Miller v. Irby, 63 Ala. 477. See also Trimble v. Fariss, 78 Ala. 260; Kimball v. Moody, 27 Ala. 130.

29. Dexter v. Arnold, 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,855, 3 Mason 284. See also Kern v. Noble, 57 Ill. App. 27 [affirmed in 159 Ill. 311, 42 N. E. 844].

30. Terhune v. Oldis, 44 N. J. Eq. 146, 14 Atl. 638. See also Whipple v. Crocker, 6 Ill. App. 133. And see infra, X, D, 4, a, (v).

The liability of an administrator for assets wasted should be applied in payment of a debt due to him to the intestate. Pool v. Ellis, 64 Miss. 555, 1 So. 725.

31. Alabama.— Martin v. Foster, 38 Ala. 688.

Arkansas.— Trimble v. James, 40 Ark. 393.

California.— Burnett v. Lyford, 93 Cal. 114, 28 Pac. 855, holding that Code Civ. Proc. § 1617, forbidding the purchase by an of the decedent from his own means after the personalty is exhausted, he is entitled to repayment from the proceeds of the decedent's lands which were originally liable for such debts,[32] although where he seeks to subject the real estate administrator of a claim against the estate which he represents, is inapplicable to a case where an administrator, for the purpose of protecting the estate against a sacrifice under the foreclosure of a mortgage, advances his own funds and takes an assignment of the mortgage to himself or a third person.

Connecticut.— Lawrence v. Kitteridge, 21 Conn. 577, 56 Am. Dec. 385.

Kentucky.— Mitcherson v. Mercer, 6 J. J. Marsh. 381; Haddix v. Haddix, 5 Litt. 201.

Maryland.— Dennis v. Dennis, 15 Md. 73; Edelen v. Edelen, 11 Md. 415.

Mississippi.— Slaton v. Alcorn, 51 Miss. 72; Short v. Porter, 44 Miss. 533; Woods v. Ridley, 27 Miss. 119.

Missouri.— Hill v. Buford, 9 Mo. 869.

New Jersey.— Freehold First Nat. Bank v. Thompson, 61 N. J. Eq. 188, 48 Atl. 333. See also Ver Duin v. Ver Duin, 42 N. J. Eq. 325, 5 Atl. 647.

New York.— Stilwell v. Melrose, 15 Hun 378; In re Randell, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 652, 2 Connoly Surr. 29; Livingston v. Newkirk, 3 Johns. Ch. 312.

North Carolina.— Chesson v. Chesson, 43 N. C. 141; Williams v. Williams, 17 N. C. 69, 22 Am. Dec. 729.

Pennsylvania.— In re Connolly, 198 Pa. St. 146, 48 Atl. 489; In re Bentley, 196 Pa. St. 497, 46 Atl. 898; In re Mustin, 188 Pa. St. 544, 41 Atl. 618; Blank's Appeal, 3 Grant 192; McCurdy's Appeal, 5 Watts & S. 397.

South Carolina.— Brooks v. Brooks, 12 S. C. 422; Watts v. Watts, 2 McCord Eq. 77.

Texas.— Dunson v. Payne, 44 Tex. 539.

Wisconsin.— Gundry v. Henry, 65 Wis. 559, 27 N. W. 401.

United States.— Manson v. Duncanson, 166 U. S. 533, 17 S. Ct. 647, 41 L. ed. 1105.

England.—See Woodward v. Darcy, Plowd. 184.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators, § 1023; and supra, X, A, 19, g.

Payment of claims not presented or allowed.— Where commissioners appointed to receive and adjust all claims against an estate regularly complete and file their report, the administrator is not entitled to an allowance in his account for payments made out of his own funds on claims which were never presented to the commissioners and allowed by them, although the claims so paid were valid against the estate, and would have been properly allowed by the commissioners had they been presented. Bunnell v. Post, 25 Minn. 376.

Necessity for accounting.— In Pennsylvania an executor who claims for advances to the estate must establish his standing by settling an account. In re Bently, 196 Pa. St. 497, 46 Atl. 898; Blank's Appeal, 3 Grant 192.

Repayment by successor in the trust.— Where an administrator de bonis non pays to his predecessor a sum of money which the latter advanced to satisfy a just demand against the estate, he is entitled to an allowance in his accounts for the sum so paid. Hearrin v. Savage, 16 Ala. 286.

Advances out of property of third person. — The representative is also entitled to reimbursement for advances made out of property belonging to a third person where he is liable to account therefor to the owner. Birkholm v. Wardell, 42 N. J. Eq. 337, 7 Atl. 569, where an administrator was allowed reimbursement for advances made from funds held by him as guardian. See also Cordell v. McCullough, 20 La. Ann. 174.

32. Alabama.— McCullough v. Wise, 57 Ala. 623.

Kentucky.— Doty v. Cox, 22 S. W. 321, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 68; Taylor v. Taylor, 8 B. Mon. 419, 48 Am. Dec. 400.

Missouri.— Roberts v. Bartlett, 26 Mo. App. 611.

New Jersey.— Liddel v. McVicar, 11 N. J. L. 44, 19 Am. Dec. 369; Clayton v. Somers, 27 N. J. Eq. 230.

New York.— Livingston v. Newkirk, 3 Johns. Ch. 312. See also Bolton v. Myers, 146 N. Y. 257, 40 N. E. 737.

North Carolina.— Denton v. Tyson, 118 N. C. 542, 24 S. E. 116; Turner v. Shuffler, 108 N. C. 642, 13 S. E. 243; Sanders v. Sanders, 17 N. C. 262; Williams v. Williams, 17 N. C. 69, 22 Am. Dec. 729.

Pennsylvania.— McKerrahan v. Crawford, 59 Pa. St. 390.

Tennessee.— Loftis v. Loftis, 94 Tenn. 232, 28 S. W. 1091.

Virginia.— Gaw v. Huffman, 12 Gratt. 628.

West Virginia.— Surber v. Kent, 5 W. Va. 96, advance of Confederate currency.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1023; and DESCENT AND DISTRIBUTION, 14 Cyc. 198.

Right to subject property charged by will with payment of debts.— Where the executors pay a debt, or the creditor accepts their note in place of the note of the testator, so that the executors become the debtors and personally responsible to the creditor, the only effect is that the executors become the creditors of the estate instead of the original creditors, and they may resort to the fund set apart by the will for the payment of debts. Peter v. Beverly, 10 Pet. (U. S.) 532, 9 L. ed. 522 [reaffirmed in 1 How. 134, 11 L. ed. 75]. See also In re Lefevre, 200 Pa. St. 531, 50 Atl. 185.

Representative acting in bad faith.—Where an administrator, with knowledge that the personal estate is insolvent, pays debts of the intestate to a larger amount than the to reimburse him for his advances he must show that the fund or property primarily chargeable with the debts has been faithfully administered and has proved inadequate.[33] The personal representative occupies, however, as to debts paid by him from his own funds, merely the position of the original creditors, and is entitled to no greater preference;[34] and in no case will he be allowed to make a profit for himself from the transaction.[35]

(II) RETAINER OF ASSETS IN SATISFACTION.[36] At common law, if an executor or administrator makes advances out of his own funds to the value of the personal assets of the estate, he may elect to apply those assets to reimburse himself, and by such election the assets become his own property;[37] but the statutes which in many states prevent the personal representative from disposing of personal property except by sale under order of the probate court,[38] have abrogated the right of the personal representative to appropriate specific personal property in satisfaction of his advances.[39]

(III) INTEREST ON ADVANCES. A change of interest by a personal representative on advances made by him is not favored, and the circumstances offered to personal assets, for the purpose of making the heir his debtor and withdrawing the question of debt or no debt from the proper forum, he is entitled to no relief. Williams v. Williams, 17 N. C. 69, 22 Am. Dec. 729. See also Sanders v. Sanders, 17 N. C. 262.

33. Frary v. Booth, 37 Vt. 78. See infra, XII, B, 2, c.

Ex parte settlement not evidence against heirs.— Street v. Street, 11 Leigh (Va.) 498.

34. Hearrin v. Savage, 16 Ala. 286; In re Randell, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 652, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 29; In re Greiner, 2 Watts (Pa.) 414; Cooper's Estate, 4 Pa. Super. Ct. 615; Smith's Estate, 8 Pa. Co. Ct. 159; Willis v. Willis, 20 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 396. But see Spackman v. Holbrook, 2 Giff. 198, 6 Jur. N. S. 881, 2 L. T. Rep. N. S. 367.

Payment of the funeral expenses of the decedent by an administrator out of his own money gives him a preferred claim against the estate chargeable on the land, and payable therefrom after such debts as are specific liens on the land. Loftis v. Loftis, 94 Tenn. 232, 28 S. W. 1091.

35. Amos v. Heatherby, 7 Dana (Ky.) 45 (where an administrator paid a debt of the estate with his own property estimated above its actual value, and was allowed credit for its actual value only); Desha v. Desha, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 405. See supra, VIII, J, 1; X, A, 21.

Payment for representative's own benefit. — Where an administratrix, for her own benefit, pays a mortgage lien to relieve personal property which had been valued and set apart to her as exempt, and there is no other personal property belonging to the estate, she cannot charge the estate with the amount so paid. Patapsco Guano Co. v. Ballard, 107 Ala. 710, 19 So. 777, 54 Am. St. Rep. 131.

36. Right of retainer generally see supra, X, D, 3, a.

37. Kentucky.— Mitcherson v. Mercer, 6 J. J. Marsh. 381; Haddix v. Haddix, 5 Litt. 201.

New York.— Livingston v. Newkirk, 3 Johns. Ch. 312.

North Carolina.— Chesson v. Chesson, 43 N. C. 141.

England.— Merchant v. Driver, 1 Saund. 307; Dyer 2*a*, 187*b*.

Canada.— Yost v. Crombie, 8 U. C. C. P. 159.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1023.

Land directed by the will to be sold cannot be retained by the personal representative in satisfaction of his advances. See Livingston v. Newkirk, 3 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 312. But he can apply the proceeds of the realty for this purpose. Livingston v. Newkirk, supra. See also Miller v. Irby, 63 Ala. 477; Bolton v. Myers, 146 N. Y. 257, 40 N. E. 737.

Election to take chattel no evidence of payment of debts.— Although an executor who has paid debts of the estate with his own money may sometimes elect to take a specific chattel in satisfaction, the mere election to take a chattel is not evidence that the executor has paid debts to the value thereof. Mitcherson v. Mercer, 6 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 381.

38. See supra, VIII, P, 2, a, (I), (B).

39. Lindsay v. Lindsay, 1 Desauss. (S. C.) 150, holding that the executors cannot, on paying debts of the estate, take the estate to themselves without a regular sale. A personal representative cannot, by paying debts and legacies beyond the amount of cash received from sales, transfer to himself in his own right the title to any portion of the property of the decedent at its appraised value (Gavin v. Carling, 55 Md. 530; Dennis v. Dennis, 15 Md. 73; Haslett v. Glenn, 7 Harr. & J. (Md.) 17; Hall v. Griffith, 2 Harr. & J. (Md.) 483); nor can the orphans' court authorize such a transaction (Gavin v. Carling, supra); but where a court of equity is called upon to pass a decree recognizing the correctness of this proposition, it will provide for the reimbursement of the representative out of the decedent's property for all proper disbursements on account of the estate appearing to have been legally made by him (Dennis v. Dennis, supra).

sustain it will be examined with scrupulous care,[40] and interest will not be allowed where funds amply sufficient to meet all claims against the estate were in the possession of the personal representative, or where the failure to obtain sufficient funds was due to his negligence in converting the assets of the estate into money.[41] On the other hand interest will be allowed where the advances were meritorious and beneficial, and the personal representative has been guilty of no neglect or delay in settling the estate.[42]

(iv) Effect of Limitations. The statute of limitations does not begin to run against the claim of an administrator or executor for advances made to pay debts of the estate until he has stated his account.[43] But the payment by the representative out of his own funds of debts against the estate will not prolong the lien of such debts upon the real estate of the decedent, beyond the statutory period, in favor of the representative.[44]

(v) Set-Off of Advances Against Debts. On a settlement of the accounts of an executor or administrator, advances made by him for the estate should be set off against amounts found to be due from him to the estate.[45]

40. Pettingill v. Pettingill, 60 Me. 411; Liddell v. McVicar, 11 N. J. L. 44, 19 Am. Dec. 369; Evarts v. Mason, 11 Vt. 122.

41. Maryland.— Billingslea v. Henry, 20 Md. 282.

Massachusetts.— Storer v. Storer, 9 Mass. 37.

Missouri.— McPike v. McPike, 111 Mo. 216, 20 S. W. 12; Booker v. Armstrong, 93 Mo. 49, 4 S. W. 727.

New Jersey.— Liddel v. McVickar, 11 N. J. L. 44, 19 Am. Dec. 369.

South Carolina.— McGougan v. Hall, 21 S. C. 600, where the executor permitted all the assets of the estate to go to the hands of the legatees without providing for outstanding debts.

Vermont.— Evarts v. Nason, 11 Vt. 122; Rix v. Smith, 8 Vt. 365.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1029.

Where the executor has a life-estate in the residuum of the estate, he is not entitled to interest on money advanced by him to pay debts of the testator, as under his life-tenancy he has had the use of the property of the estate, which was subject to the discharge of the debts. Brooks v. Brooks, 12 S. C. 422.

42. Arkansas.— Trimble v. James, 40 Ark. 393.

Georgia.— See Crawford v. Tibble, 69 Ga. 519.

Maine.— Pettingill v. Pettingill, 60 Me. 411.

Maryland.— Billingslea v. Henry, 20 Md. 282.

Massachusetts.— Jennison v. Hapgood, 10 Pick. 77, where an executor, having no assets from the estate, advanced his own money to redeem land of the testator mortgaged for less than its value, and to prevent a foreclosure.

New Jersey.— Liddel v. McVickar, 11 N. J. L. 44, 19 Am. Dec. 369.

New York.— Stilwell v. Melrose, 15 Hun 378 (advances to pay interest-bearing debts); Mann v. Lawrence, 3 Bradf. Surr. 424 (holding that an executor should be allowed interest on his advances where the money advanced was expended for taxes, necessary expenses, and repairs, and debts which carried interest).

Pennsylvania.— Callaghan v. Hall, 1 Serg. & R. 241; In re Hobson, 25 Pittsb. Leg. J. 456.

Vermont.— Rix v. Smith, 8 Vt. 365.

Virginia.— See Jones v. Williams, 2 Call 102.

England.— Finch v. Pescott, L. R. 17 Eq. 554, 43 L. J. Ch. 728, 30 L. T. Rep. N. S. 156, 22 Wkly. Rep. 437; Small v. Wing, 5 Bro. P. C. 66, 2 Eng. Reprint 537; Biggar v. Eastwood, 15 L. R. Ir. 219.

Canada.— Menzies v. Ridley, 2 Grant Ch. 544.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1029.

Compound interest will not be allowed on advances made by a personal representative. Trimble v. James, 40 Ark. 393. See also Walker's Estate, 3 Rawle (Pa.) 243.

Interest on costs paid by an executor pending a suit regarding the estate will not be allowed. Lewis v. Lewis, 13 Beav. 82, 51 Eng. Reprint 32; Gordon v. Trail, 8 Price 416.

43. In re Bentley, 196 Pa. St. 497, 46 Atl. 898. See also Nowell v. Bragdon, 14 Me. 320.

44. Battersby v. Castor, 181 Pa. St. 555, 37 Atl. 572; Merkel's Estate, 154 Pa. St. 285, 26 Atl. 428; Demmy's Appeal, 43 Pa. St. 155; Loomis' Appeal, 29 Pa. St. 237; McCurdy's Appeal, 5 Watts & S. (Pa.) 397; Villee's Estate, 2 Pa. Dist. 74.

An agreement by the heirs that the representative shall receive reimbursement out of the proceeds of the real estate for his advances may prevent the running of the statute of limitations against such advances, so far as the heirs and persons claiming under them are concerned. Wallace's Appeal, 5 Pa. St. 103.

45. Hall v. Griffith, 2 Harr. & J. (Md.) 482. See also Dreisbach's Appeal, 17 Pa. St. 120; Falconer v. Powe, Bailey Eq. (S. C.) 150. And see supra, X, D, 3, d.

b. Advances by Third Persons. Advances by third persons to the representative for the purpose of paying the debts of an estate ordinarily create only a personal liability on the part of the representative;[46] but, in cases where the representative is entitled to reimbursement from the estate for the debts paid by him, equity will subrogate the person advancing the money to the rights of the representative and allow him to be repaid directly from the estate,[47] but only to the extent that the money advanced has been actually used in the payment of debts for which the estate was legally bound.[48] Payments by third persons directly to the creditors of an estate are not favored, but reimbursement will generally be allowed where the payments are made in good faith and for the benefit of the estate, especially where they are made by the widow, or an heir or distributee, intending thereby to avoid the expense of administration.[49]

5. Interest on Claims — a. When Allowed — (I) In General. Interest is not allowable from a decedent's estate, where from the nature of the claim no interest is due; and the claims of creditors with whom settlement is made in the ordinary course of administration are usually dealt with on the footing they occupied in this respect at the date of decedent's death.[50] Claims bearing interest by their terms should be paid with interest accruing before and after the decedent's death, according to their tenor;[51] but interest is not usually allowed on unliquidated claims,[52] although it has been held that such claims bear interest from the time they are due and payable.[53]

(II) Necessity and Effect of Demand. In some jurisdictions claims not otherwise bearing interest begin to draw interest from the date that demand is made upon the personal representative for their payment.[54] By statute in Ken-

46. See supra, VIII, D, 5.

47. Short v. Porter, 44 Miss. 533; Woods v. Ridley, 27 Miss. 119; Freehold First Nat. Bank v. Thompson, 61 N. J. Eq. 188, 48 Atl. 333; De Concillio v. Brownrigg, 51 N. J. Eq. 532, 25 Atl. 383; Hamlin v. Smith, 72 N. Y. App. Div. 601, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 258; Johnson v. Kellog, 8 N. Y. St. 413. See supra, VIII, D, 5.

A surety on a note given by an executor in renewal of a note of the decedent, after being compelled to pay the note, is entitled to be substituted to the claim of the executor and the creditor against the assets of the estate, and there being a balance due the executor from the estate by reason of the payment of the debt by the surety, the surety is entitled to such balance in preference to a subsequent assignee of the executor. Heart v. Bryan, 17 N. C. 147.

48. Woods v. Ridley, 27 Miss. 119; Freehold First Nat. Bank v. Thompson, 61 N. J. Eq. 188, 48 Atl. 333; De Concillio v. Brownrigg, 51 N. J. Eq. 532, 25 Atl. 383.

Money used to pay representative's own debts.— Where a creditor of an estate advanced money to the administrator to pay off certain claims, the creditor cannot claim to be reimbursed from the estate as to a portion of the sum advanced which the administrator used for individual purposes, although the agreement was that it was all to be used for the estate. But where the money advanced was mixed with other funds from which the administrator paid some individual claims, it should be treated as a trust fund in determining the rights of the creditor as against the estate for the money advanced, and payments of individual claims should be assumed to have been made from individual funds. Freehold First Nat. Bank v. Thompson, 61 N. J. Eq. 188, 48 Atl. 333.

49. Jenks v. Terrell, 73 Ala. 238; Brearley v. Norris, 23 Ark. 166. See also Chase v. Barratt, 4 Paige (N. Y.) 148.

Purchase of claims against estate see supra, X, A, 21.

50. In re Selby, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 125; Durnford's Succession, 1 La. Ann. 92. See also Re Kirkpatrick, 10 Ont. Pr. 4. And see Schouler Ex. § 440.

Interest is never allowed on expenses of administration. Wilson's Appeal, 3 Walk. (Pa.) 216.

Advances by representative see supra, X, D, 4, a, (III).

51. See Brownson v. Baker, 11 La. 409; Reber's Estate, 143 Pa. St. 308, 22 Atl. 880.

52. Pursell v. Fry, 19 Hun (N. Y.) 595; In re Merchant, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 875; Greenawalt's Estate, 9 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) 50.

Claim liquidated by agreement with representative see Elder's Appeal, 94 Pa. St. 461.

53. Anderson v. Birdsall, 19 La. 441. See also Parker v. Parker, 33 Ala. 459; Newel v. Keith, 11 Vt. 214.

54. Pico v. Stevens, 18 Cal. 376; Yarborough's Succession, 16 La. Ann. 258; Shepherd v. Shepherd, 108 Mich. 82, 65 N. W. 580. But see Pursell v. Fry, 19 Hun (N. Y.) 595.

Demand of administrator pendente lite.— Under Mo. Rev. St. § 3705, providing that creditors shall be allowed interest at the rate of six per cent per annum on accounts after they become due and demand of payment is made, a creditor of a decedent whose claim is allowed against the estate is entitled to tucky it is a condition precedent to the recovery of interest accruing on a claim after the death of the debtor that the claim be duly verified and demanded of the personal representative within one year after his appointment.[55]

(III) Effect of Allowance. In some jurisdictions all claims bear interest from the date of their allowance, at the rate prescribed for judgments, although the original demand did not bear interest.[56]

(IV) Representative's Agreement to Pay Interest. An executor or interest thereon from the date of the demand of payment of the administrator pendente lite. Ryans v. Hospes, 167 Mo. 342, 67 S. W. 285.

Interest may be recovered, although not called for in the statement of the claim presented to the administrator. Harwood v. Larramore, 50 Mo. 414. See also Wilson v. Van Winkle, 7 Ill. 684. Contra, Aguirre v. Packard, 14 Cal. 171, 73 Am. Dec. 645.

55. Ky. St. § 3884. See McCann v. Bell, 79 Ky. 112 (holding that where a note executed for the purchase-price of land is not to bear interest until after maturity, the interest stipulated for is no part of the price of the land, but is the consideration for the forbearance, and unless such note is duly verified and demanded of the representative within a year after his appointment, no interest accruing after the maker's death can be recovered); Guill v. Corinth Deposit Bank, 68 S. W. 870, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 482.

The statute authorizes the same proceedings against a curator for the collection of a debt due from the decedent as are authorized to be had against an executor or administrator. Moran v. Hammer, 58 S. W. 988, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 831.

Claims not due.— The demand required by Ky. St. § 3884, applies to claims due and bearing interest at the death of the decedent or at the time of the appointment of his personal representative, and as to claims that are not due at these dates the statute has no application until they mature. Kentucky Title Co. v. English, 50 S. W. 968, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 2024; Pepper v. Harper, 47 S. W. 620, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 837. See also Jones v. Louisville Sav., etc., Co., 58 S. W. 534, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 570.

Where there is no representative upon whom demand may be made, demand is excused. Tatum v. Gibbs, 41 S. W. 565, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 695.

Waiver of demand.— Demand may be waived by the representative where other persons interested in the estate are not prejudiced thereby. Cox v. Higgenbotham, 79 S. W. 1079, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1057; Botts v. Utley, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 555; Croninger v. Marthen, 7 Ky. L. Rep. 599, holding that a request by an executor that creditors should postpone collection of their demands to enable him to pay without a sale of the real estate, accompanied by an assurance that their claims should be paid in full, amounted to a waiver of the demand necessary to the allowance of interest where the executor was the only other creditor of the estate, which was insolvent.

Partial payment before demand.— A personal representative by merely making a payment upon a claim before it is verified does not waive his right to require, as a condition precedent to a recovery of interest accruing after the debtor's death, that the claim be verified and the payment of the balance due thereon be demanded within a year from the time of his qualification. Jett v. Cockrill, 85 Ky. 348, 3 S. W. 422, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 16. Nor does a part payment of interest operate as a waiver of demand. Davis v. Banta, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 368.

Reference to commissioner.— Where a representative within one year from his appointment files a petition in equity for a settlement of the estate of his decedent, and the case is referred to a commissioner to audit claims against the estate, a demand by a creditor is not necessary in order to entitle him to interest. Richardson v. Banta, 23 S. W. 350, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 348; Hamilton v. Tarlton, 3 Ky. L. Rep. 471. See also Jones v. Louisville Sav., etc., Co., 58 S. W. 534, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 570.

56. Glenn's Estate, 74 Cal. 567, 16 Pac. 396; Wheeler v. Dawson, 63 Ill. 54; Finley v. Carothers, 9 Tex. 517, 60 Am. Dec. 179. See also Wainwright's Estate, 13 Phila. (Pa.) 336. But see In re Selby, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 125, holding that the allowance of a claim by the executor and the probate judge is not a judgment of a court, so as to bear interest until the claim has passed the final accounting and been ordered paid.

The report of commissioners upon the estate of a deceased insolvent is in the nature of a judgment ascertaining the sums which were due from the deceased at the time of his death, and from and after that time interest is allowable on such claims as upon a judgment. Mowry v. Peck, 2 R. I. 260. But see Bowers v. Hammond, 139 Mass. 360, 31 N. E. 729.

Recovery of judgment on rejected claim.— If an administrator rejects a legal claim against the estate and the claimant afterward sues and recovers a judgment thereon, he is entitled to interest on his claim from the time of its presentation to the administrator. Kennedy's Estate, 94 Cal. 22, 29 Pac. 412; Pico v. Stevens, 18 Cal. 376. But the probate court cannot, in ordering the judgment to be paid, allow such interest, where the same is not included in the judgment recovered, since the probate court can base its order only on the transcript of the judgment. Kennedy's Estate, 94 Cal. 22, 29 Pac. 412.

administrator may agree to pay interest on a claim so as to bind himself personally, but the estate will not be bound by the agreement.[57]

b. Computation of Interest — (I) Period of Computation. Where claims are paid in the ordinary course of administration, interest is computed up to the time of payment.[58] On a sale of land under order of court for the payment of debts, interest on the debts payable out of the proceeds of the sale should be computed only up to the day of sale[59] or confirmation of the sale.[60] But creditors are entitled to their proportionate shares of the interest earned by the fund arising from the sale.[61]

(II) Rate. Interest on claims against estates under administration is usually allowed at the contract rate,[62] or in the absence of contract at the legal

57. Fairfield v. Bonner, 2 Hill (S. C.) 468; Pinckney v. Singleton, 2 Hill (S. C.) 343. See also Staples v. Staples, 85 Va. 76, 7 S. E. 199, holding that where a note made by an executor for the amount of the principal and accrued interest of a debt due by the estate was allowed to run two years, when the interest then due was added and the whole embraced in a judgment confessed by the executor, the estate should be charged only with the principal sum originally due and simple interest at legal rate, the executor having no authority to bind the estate to pay compound interest. See supra, VIII, D, 1.

58. Andrews v. Withers, 6 La. 360; Wissel's Appeal, 4 Pennyp. (Pa.) 236. See also Green v. Abbott, 2 Root (Conn.) 242; Brownson v. Baker, 11 La. 409.

Where the estate is insolvent interest can be computed only to decedent's death. Keebler's Estate, 4 Pa. Dist. 346.

Debt due representative.— Whenever an administrator is in funds, a debt due to himself must be regarded as paid, and can no longer draw interest. Sebring v. Keith, 2 Hill (S. C.) 340. But a personal representative cannot be prevented from charging interest up to the time of final settlement, where he has no right to retain any part of the assets in payment of his claim until it has been allowed by the surrogate on final accounting. Matter of Sanders, 4 Misc. (N. Y.) 28, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 829, Pow Surr. (N. Y.) 336. The personal representative cannot, however, prolong the running of interest on his claim by delaying the settlement of the estate, and he will be allowed interest only for the period within which by the exercise of due diligence he might have settled the estate. In re Richmond, 2 Pick. (Mass.) 567. See also Sutton's Estate, 13 Pa. Super. Ct. 492.

Secured claims.— Where a debt due to the personal representative is secured and he realizes from his security a sum sufficient to pay his debt, he is not entitled to interest thereafter. Matter of Babcock, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 554, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 82; Rainow's Estate, 4 Kulp (Pa.) 153.

59. Ellicott v. Ellicott, 6 Gill & J. (Md.) 35.

60. Stultzfoos' Appeal, 3 Penr. & W. (Pa.) 265; O'Hara's Estate, 4 Leg. Gaz. (Pa.) 130.

Interest on liens.— On a sale of land of an insolvent estate for the payment of debts, interest on liens on the property sold ceases on the day of the confirmation of the sale. Yeatman's Appeal, 102 Pa. St. 297 [reversing 1 Chest. Co. Rep. 508]; Ramsey's Appeal, 4 Watts (Pa.) 71; Stultzfoos' Appeal, 3 Penr. & W. (Pa.) 265; Sollenberger's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 626; Smith's Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 212; Lang's Estate, 1 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 287; Dutton v. Horne, 1 Del. Co. (Pa.) 33; In re O'Hara, 4 Leg. Gaz. (Pa.) 130. Nor will interest accruing after the confirmation of the sale be allowed to the lien creditor as a claim payable from the personal estate. In re Wilson, 1 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 60. But where the estate is solvent and the sale is made on motion of the personal representative for the purpose of paying debts and legacies, interest should be allowed for the time elapsing between the day of confirmation and the day of payment. Yeatman's Appeal, 102 Pa. St. 297 [reversing 1 Chest. Co. Rep. 508, and distinguishing Ramsey's Appeal, 4 Watts 71].

In Louisiana interest is computed up to the time of payment. Zeigler v. Creditors, 49 La. Ann. 144, 21 So. 606 (holding that the sale in a succession of property on which there are mortgages, and the payment of the proceeds of the sale into the hands of the administrator, will not stop the running of interest on the claims): Brownson v. Baker, 11 La. 409.

61. Ellicott v. Ellicott, 6 Gill & J. (Md.) 35; Campbell's Estate, 22 Pa. Super. Ct. 430; Lang's Estate, 1 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 287.

62. Richardson v. Diss, 127 Cal. 58, 59 Pac. 197 (holding that Code Civ. Proc. § 1494, which limits the rate of interest on claims after allowance to that allowed on judgments, applies only to claims against insolvent estates); Desorme's Succession, 10 Rob. (La.) 474; Bowers v. Hammond, 139 Mass. 360, 31 N. E. 729 (holding that the allowance of a claim against an estate represented to be insolvent but which subsequently proves to be solvent, by the commissioners appointed under Pub. St. c. 137, to audit and allow claims against insolvent estates, is not a judgment, and the claim thus allowed continues to bear interest at the rate specified in the original contract and not at the rate allowed by statute on judgrate.[63] In some jurisdictions, however, statutes prescribe a different rule as to insolvent estates.[64]

(III) COMPOUND INTEREST. Compound interest is not allowed in the absence of a special agreement to pay the same.[65]

c. Preference of Interest on Preferred Claims. The interest accruing on a preferred claim, being a mere incident of the claim, is also preferred.[66]

6. TIME OF PAYMENT. It is the duty of a personal representative to pay off claims against an estate as speedily as possible, consistent with the rights and interests of all the parties interested;[67] and he should not retain amounts that he has collected for the estate and allow interest to accumulate on claims.[68] As a general rule, however, a claim against the estate of a decedent is not payable by his personal representative until after the expiration of the period allowed creditors for presenting their claims has expired,[69] and until such claim has been established by a court of competent jurisdiction or its payment duly authorized by the probate court.[70] It is sometimes provided by statute that the estate must be settled and claims paid before the expiration of a certain time;[71] and in any event the personal representative should pay claims during the period within which creditors may sue him. The statute limiting the time for creditors to bring suit is binding upon him as well as upon them, and if he pays a claim barred by this statute he pays it in his own wrong and cannot have reimbursement from the estate.[72] Under the general authority conferred upon a personal representa-ments). But see Dillman v. Hastings, 144 U. S. 136, 12 S. Ct. 662, 36 L. ed. 378.

Directions in the will for the payment of interest on a debt of the testator at a rate in excess of the legal rate entitle the creditor to interest at that rate as against the legatees. Watson v. McClanahan, 13 Ala. 57.

63. Desorme's Succession, 10 Rob. (La.) 474; Gillet v. Rachal, 9 Rob. (La.) 276.

64. Ellis v. Polhemus, 27 Cal. 350. See also Richardson v. Diss, 127 Cal. 58, 59 Pac. 197.

A mortgage debt is within the provisions of Cal. Prob. Act, § 131, which allows only ten per cent interest on claims against an insolvent estate after the date of issuance of letters of administration, although the rate of interest specified in the mortgage is more than ten per cent. Ellis v. Polhemus, 27 Cal. 350.

65. Anderson v. Northrop, 44 Fla. 472, 33 So. 419; Desorme's Succession, 10 Rob. (La.) 474; Hosack v. Rogers, 9 Paige (N. Y.) 461, holding that under the right of retainer an executor had no authority to make a rest in a debt due to himself on the day he took out letters testamentary, so as to charge interest upon the interest then due.

66. Eddy v. People, 187 Ill. 304, 58 N. E. 297 [reversing 88 Ill. App. 265]; Shultz's Appeal, 11 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 182, holding that where the estate was insufficient to pay both specialty and simple contract debts, the specialty creditors were entitled to interest up to the time of the apportionment of the assets. But see Vandegriff's Estate, 3 Pa. Dist. 421.

67. Iowa.— Hart v. Jewett, 17 Iowa 234.

New York.— Matter of Miner, 39 Misc. 605, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 643.

South Carolina.— Farys v. Farys, Harp. Eq. 261.

England.— See Nicholls v. Judson, 2 Atk. 300, 26 Eng. Reprint 583.

Canada.— McPhadden v. Bacon, 13 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 591.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1075.

68. Hoss' Succession, 42 La. Ann. 1022, 8 So. 833.

69. Nicols v. Chapman, 9 Wend. (N. Y.) 452. See also Lewis v. Houston, 7 Blackf. (Ind.) 335; Dullard v. Hardy, 47 Mo. 403. But see Dunlap v. McGhee, 98 Ill. 287; Pope v. Wickliffe, 7 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 412.

70. See In re Spanier, 120 Cal. 698, 53 Pac. 357; Lobit v. Castille, 14 La. Ann. 779. Compare Union Bank v. McDonough, 7 La. Ann. 231. Under Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1513, providing that a personal representative may at any time under order of the court pay all interest-bearing debts of his decedent, the court cannot on the application of a creditor compel the personal representative to pay any claim in advance of the filing of an inventory and account of administration and has authority to make only a permissive order for the advance payment of a claim against the estate. In re Hope, 106 Cal. 153, 39 Pac. 523.

71. Pratt v. Houghtaling, 45 Mich. 457, 8 N. W. 72, holding that where a widow, after being made executrix, remarries and an administrator de bonis non is appointed, the interim between her disqualification and the new appointment may be added to the four years and six months allowed by law for the payment of claims against the estate. And see supra, II, N, 1.

72. Ames v. Jackson, 115 Mass. 508. See also Dickinson v. Arms, 8 Pick. (Mass.) 394.

Where no injury has resulted to the legatees or others interested in the estate, the representative may be allowed credit for the tive to preserve the estate, he has the power to make a valid contract with a creditor extending the time of payment of a claim owing by the estate, provided that the claim is not already barred by the statute of non-claim and that the contract is for the benefit of the estate.[73]

7. Mode and Sufficiency of Payment[74] — a. Medium of Payment. The court may require a personal representative to pay a debt of his decedent's estate in the kind of money which he has received as property of the estate.[75] Although a personal representative's settlement in depreciated currency is set aside as null and void, yet such creditors as received depreciated currency willingly in discharge of their debts will not be allowed to revive their claims against the estate, and, the estate being insolvent, the pro rata dividends to which such creditors would, if paid in legal currency, be entitled are to be allowed to the personal representative as credits.[76] Where a personal representative, out of depreciated currency collected by him in the course of his administration, pays specie debts of his decedent, in the settlement of his account he should be credited with the debts so paid at their nominal amount;[77] but when he advances his own depreciated currency in payment of debts of the estate he must account to the estate for the difference between the nominal and real value of such currency.[78] It is no objection that certain payments and allowances were not met and discharged as they accrued, in depreciated money, but were allowed against the estate on a basis of money current at the time of the settlement, when it is shown that the estate benefited thereby.[79] The rule of law that a creditor is paid his debt when he becomes executor of his debtor's estate and as such receives assets applicable to such debt does not apply when the assets so received are depreciated currency, unless the creditor is willing to receive it in payment.[80]

b. Giving of Note by Personal Representative. A promissory note given by a personal representative for a debt of his decedent is neither a payment nor an extinguishment of such debt,[81] unless it is shown that the parties intended that it should operate as such.[82]

c. Assignment of Note Due Decedent. A personal representative has authority to assign bills and notes due to the decedent in satisfaction of debts due by him,[83] but he has no power by assignment or otherwise to appropriate them to payment, but the amount of the allowance should be reduced in so far as such persons have been prejudiced. Forward v. Forward, 6 Allen (Mass.) 494.

73. North v. Walker, 66 Mo. 453 [affirming 2 Mo. App. 174]; Smarr v. McMaster, 35 Mo. 349.

74. An award by the probate court to a creditor of a decedent of the amount of his claim out of funds adjudged to be in the hands of a personal representative is not the equivalent in law of the actual payment of the claim, and if such creditor, by reason of the personal representative's insolvency, fails to receive payment of the sum awarded him, he is entitled to come in and share in a subsequently raised fund of the estate. Pomeroy's Appeal, 127 Pa. St. 492, 18 Atl. 4, 4 L. R. A. 367.

Conveyance of property by heir not payment.— Where an heir of the decedent makes a conveyance of certain property coming to him from the estate of the decedent to one having a claim against the estate, which conveyance is not intended or accepted as a payment of such claim, the estate is not discharged. Waddell v. Waddell, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1897) 42 S. W. 46.

75. Magraw v. McGlynn, 26 Cal. 420. See also In re Dem, 39 Cal. 70, holding that where executors selling property of the estate for the payment of debts made the sale for and received payment in legal tender notes, it was error for the probate court to order payment in gold coin.

76. Trammel v. Philleo, 33 Tex. 395.

77. Moss v. Morrman, 24 Gratt. (Va.) 97.

78. Caruthers v. Corbin, 38 Ga. 75.

79. Cummings v. Bradley, 57 Ala. 224.

80. Crawford v. Crawford, 17 S. C. 521.

81. Taylor v. Perry, 48 Ala. 240; Woods v. Ridley, 27 Miss. 119 (holding that the creditor may at his election hold the executor primarily liable or proceed by bill against the estate); Douglas v. Fraser, 2 McCord Eq. (S. C.) 105; Crim v. England, 46 W. Va. 480, 33 S. E. 310, 76 Am. St. Rep. 826 (note signed in representative capacity).

82. Glenn v. Smith, 2 Gill & J. (Md.) 493, 20 Am. Dec. 452; Yerger v. Foote, 48 Miss. 62; Glenn v. Burrows, 37 Hun (N. Y.) 602; McLure v. Askew, 5 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 162. See also James v. Hackley, 16 Johns. (N. Y.) 273.

83. Marshall County v. Hana, 57 Iowa 372, 10 N. W. 745.

the payment of the debt of one creditor to the exclusion of others of equal or higher rank.[84] If a creditor of an estate accepts notes and obligations in favor of an estate as collateral security to collect and apply to his debt and fails to collect or to show good reason for his failure, he will be charged with the amount of such notes and obligations, and if this amount is equal to his claim against the estate such claim is extinguished.[85]

d. Transfer of Assets — (I) In General. An agreement under which a creditor of the deceased who has purchased certain of his property pays for it by giving credit upon an account which he claims against the estate has been held binding upon both the representative and the creditor.[86] But it has also been held that, until the rendition of an account and the classification of the debts of the estate, the personal representative cannot, even under an order of the court, transfer an asset of the estate to a creditor in payment of his debt.[87]

(II) Rights of Creditors When Assets Improperly Transferred. Creditors may follow and recover assets of the estate which have been improperly transferred by the personal representative,[88] where they are acquired from him by persons with knowledge of his trust and of his disregard of its obligation.[89] Where assets have been transferred to a creditor of the personal representative, other creditors may elect to avoid such transaction, and hold the creditor liable for assets thus received, or may let the transaction stand and charge the personal representative for a devastavit.[90]

e. Set-Off.[91] Any debt or demand which constitutes a legal set-off for or against a party in his lifetime, if still subsisting at the time of his death, will constitute a good set-off for or against his personal representative,[92] and a personal representative has no right to pay a debt due by the estate which he represents to a person who is himself indebted to the estate, without first having set off the debt due to the estate against that due by the estate.[93] In determining what are proper set-offs between personal representatives and claimants against the estate, the rule requiring mutuality of debts or demands has been applied;[94] but it has also been held that a personal representative may accept claims against the estate in dis-

Assignment of notes not belonging to decedent.— Where negotiable notes were received by a feme covert for certain property which she had previously purchased of her husband, on whose death said notes were not claimed by his administrators, nor included in their account, but were given by the widow in part payment to a creditor of herself and husband, with a stipulation that the claim was to be paid out of future funds pro rata, it was held that the auditors could not add the amount of such notes to the account and then deduct it from the aforesaid creditor's dividend, but it must be deducted from said creditor's claim, and the residue paid pro rata. In re Leech, 27 Pa. St. 318.

84. Payne v. Flournoy, 29 Ark. 500. See also Wittaker v. Wright, 35 Ark. 515.

85. Lile's Succession, 24 La. Ann. 550.

86. Neely v. Blair, 157 Pa. St. 417, 27 Atl. 777.

87. Snider v. Cutliff, 30 La. Ann. 1195.

88. Russell v. Walker, Rich. Eq. Cas. (S. C.) 229.

89. Smith v. Ayer, 101 U. S. 320, 25 L. ed. 955.

90. Frank v. Thompson, 105 Ala. 211, 16 So. 634.

91. See, generally, Recoupment, Set-Off, and Counter-Claim.

92. Ely v. Com., 5 Dana (Ky.) 398.

Cancellation of creditors' notes.— A claim against an estate may be paid by the cancellation of notes due by the creditor to the estate. Severson v. Langland, (Iowa 1899) 78 N. W. 206.

93. Tell City Furniture Co. v. Stiles, 60 Miss. 849. See also Green v. Fagan, 15 Ala. 335; Hyman v. Rollans, 70 Miss. 412, 12 So. 339; Moorhead's Appeal, 32 Pa. St. 297.

Demand of estate not barred by failure to set off.— Where there is no statutory provision requiring a personal representative, upon the exhibition by a creditor of his claim against the estate, in the probate court, to set off any debt or demand such estate may have against such creditor, the representative's neglect to do so will not bar such demand. Morton v. Bailey, 2 Ill. 213, 27 Am. Dec. 767.

94. Bishop v. Dillard, 49 Ark. 285, 5 S. W. 341; Bizzell v. Stone, 12 Ark. 378; Dudley v. Griswold, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 24 (holding that an executor cannot set off a debt due him individually against a demand upon him as executor); Carter's Appeal, 10 Pa. St. 114; Cotton's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 205 (holding that an executor sued in his official capacity may set off only those claims which his testator might have pleaded and which are due to his estate). See also Mathewson v. Stafford Bank, 45 N. H. 104.

charge of claims accruing after the decedent's death, and is entitled to set off the one against the other,[95] and that an administrator who has sold property of the decedent to a creditor of the estate may set off the price against the pro rata dividend of such creditor upon the distribution of the funds of the estate.[96]

f. Compromise. A personal representative may effect the settlement of claims against the estate by compromising them, and should be allowed any sums paid out by him in so doing if he has acted in good faith and with the care and judgment of a man of ordinary prudence and sagacity.[97] But a compromise by the personal representative of a claim due by the estate will not be enforced in equity unless it is shown to be to the interest of the estate and a proper one for such representative to make.[98]

8. Application of Payments. The doctrine that where a debtor makes a payment he may, if he chooses, direct its application, that if he does not direct, the creditor may elect as to the application, and that if a payment has been made and neither party has elected as to the application, the court will direct the application to those debts which have the poorest security, applies when a payment is made by a personal representative to a creditor of his decedent.[99]

9. Payment Before Allowance or Order. The personal representative is not authorized to pay a claim against the estate until it has been allowed,[1] and in some jurisdictions he should not pay a claim until its payment is expressly ordered by the court.[2] If he pays any claim whatever without due authority, he acts at his

95. Dickenson v. McDermott, 13 Tex. 248.

96. Grier's Appeal, 25 Pa. St. 352.

97. Massachusetts.— Cook v. Richardson, 178 Mass. 125, 59 N. E. 675; Newell v. West, 149 Mass. 520, 21 N. E. 954.

New Jersey.— Meeker v. Vanderveer, 15 N. J. L. 392; Rogers v. Hand, 39 N. J. Eq. 270. See also Heisler v. Sharp, 44 N. J. Eq. 167, 14 Atl. 624 [affirmed in 45 N. J. Eq. 367, 19 Atl. 621].

New York.— Under Laws (1893), c. 100, a surrogate has power to authorize the compromise of a debt or claim against the estate of the decedent (Matter of Bronson, 69 N. Y. App. Div. 487, 74 N. Y. Suppl. 1052); but before the enactment of this statute, it had been decided that while the surrogate had power to authorize the compromise of a claim due the estate, he had no power to authorize the compromise of a claim against the estate (Matter of Farley, 15 N. Y. St. 727).

Ohio.— See In re Worthington, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 524.

Pennsylvania.— Bruner's Appeal, 57 Pa. St. 46.

Canada.—Re Robbins, 23 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 162.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1092.

The consent of the probate court is necessary to enable a personal representative to pay money to compromise a suit against the estate. Lucich v. Medin, 3 Nev. 93, 93 Am. Dec. 376.

Estoppel.— An executor who, for a sufficient consideration, has entered into a compromise agreement with a claimant against the estate, is estopped to repudiate anything conceded thereby. Todd v. Terry, 26 Mo. App. 598.

A transfer of assets of the estate by an administrator in his official capacity by way of compromise of a pending suit against him in his representative capacity is a violation of a statute prohibiting a private sale by executors or administrators. Bogan v. Camp, 30 Ala. 276.

Right to complete compromise made by decedent.— If a debtor has compromised with his creditors, payments to be made at a future day, and the debtor dies before all the payments are made, his personal representatives have the right to complete the payments contemplated by the compromise and release his estate from the payment of the debts in full, in conformity with the terms of the compromise. Matter of Leslie, 10 Daly (N. Y.) 76.

Compromise of claims in favor of estate see supra, VII, K.

98. Pullin v. Smith, 106 Ky. 418, 50 S. W. 833, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 1993.

99. Cresson's Estate, 3 Pa. Co. Ct. 419; Putnam v. Russell, 17 Vt. 54, 42 Am. Dec. 478; Backhouse v. Patten, 5 Pet. (U. S.) 160, 8 L. ed. 82. See, generally, Payment.

1. Walker v. Diehl, 79 Ill. 473; Wysong v. Nealis, 13 Ind. App. 165, 41 N. E. 388; Lockhart v. White, 18 Tex. 102. See also Clark v. Clark, 21 Vt. 490.

Allowance.— See supra, X, B, 14.

2. Whittaker v. Wright, 35 Ark. 511; Payne v. Flournoy, 29 Ark. 500; In re Fernandez, 119 Cal. 579, 51 Pac. 851; In re Titcomb, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 55; Young v. Scott, 59 Kan. 621, 54 Pac. 670; Price's Succession, 35 La. Ann. 905; Beatty v. McCleod, 11 La. Ann. 76; Kenner v. Duncan, 3 Mart. N. S. (La.) 563.

Duty of court to order payment.— Where a tableau of distribution, filed by the executor, has been advertised and published in the manner required by law, after the ex-peril,[3] but he will generally be credited on his accounting with any claim paid by him, even without authority, upon his showing that it was a proper claim against the estate.[4]

10. Improper Payments — a. In General. A personal representative will not of course as a general rule be allowed credit for the payment of a claim which is not a proper charge upon the estate, and if he pays such a claim out of assets of the estate he commits a devastavit.[5] So also if a personal representative pays piration of the delay given by such notice, if no opposition be made the law makes it the duty of the judge to grant an order authorizing the executor to pay the creditors according to his tableau. Minvielle's Succession, 12 La. Ann. 72.

3. Whittaker v. Wright, 35 Ark. 511; Payne v. Flournoy, 29 Ark. 500; McPaxton v. Dickson, 15 Ark. 41; In re Fernandez, 119 Cal. 579, 51 Pac. 851; Walker v. Diehl, 79 Ill. 473; Lynch v. Hickey, 13 Ill. App. 139; Price's Succession, 35 La. Ann. 905. See also Robson's Succession, 19 La. Ann. 97.

Personal representative must prove claim. —Where a personal representative pays a claim before it is authorized by the court he takes the risk of proving it and getting it allowed the same as any other creditor. See also Millard v. Harris, 119 Ill. 185, 10 N. E. 387 [affirming 17 Ill. App. 512]; Walker v. Diehl, 79 Ill. 473; Roberts v. Rogers, 28 Miss. 152, 61 Am. Dec. 542.

Where a succession is insolvent, an administrator, on being removed, cannot claim credit for debts of the succession which he has paid without judicial order or authority. Chaffe v. Farmer, 36 La. Ann. 813.

The enforcement of penalties for the failure of a representative to obtain a proper order to pay a claim against an estate is a matter within the sound discretion of the court. Mt. Carmel Church v. Farrelly, 34 La. Ann. 533.

4. California.— In re Fernandez, 119 Cal. 579, 51 Pac. 851; In re Galland, 92 Cal. 293, 28 Pac. 287.

Illinois.— Hapke v. People, 29 Ill. App. 546, holding that where a personal representative makes payments on claims not presented and allowed he will be allowed credit for payments made before the expiration of the statutory period for filing claims but not for those made thereafter.

Indiana.— Wysong v. Nealis, 13 Ind. App. 165, 41 N. E. 388.

Kansas.— Young v. Scott, 59 Kan. 621, 54 Pac. 670.

Louisiana.— Depas v. Riez, 2 La. Ann. 30; Rouly v. Berard, 11 Rob. 478; Williams' Succession, 7 Rob. 46. See also McCombs v. Dunbar, 3 La. 517.

Texas.— Lockhart v. White, 18 Tex. 102.

Virginia.— See Kee v. Kee, 2 Gratt. 116.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 1099, 1100.

But see Bunnell v. Post, 25 Minn. 376; Langston v. Canterbury, 173 Mo. 122, 73 S. W. 151 [distinguishing McPike v. McPike, 111 Mo. 216, 20 S. W. 12; Jacobs v. Jacobs, 99 Mo. 427, 12 S. W. 457]; Springfield Grocer Co. v. Walton, 95 Mo. App. 526, 69 S. W. 477; Huebner v. Sesseman, 38 Nebr. 78, 56 N. W. 697; Johnson v. Pulver, 1 Nebr. (Unoff.) 290, 95 N. W. 697.

Ratification equivalent to prior order. Geiger's Estate, 12 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 439. See also King v. Whiton, 15 Wis. 684.

Enforceable claim allowed.— An administrator is entitled to an allowance in his account for any claim paid by him which could have been enforced against him either in law or at equity. Richardson v. Merrill, 32 Vt. 27.

Not necessary to await suit.—When a debt is not barred by statute an administrator may pay it if confessedly just and due, without waiting to be sued, and ordinarily when he has funds of the decedent it is his duty to do so and to credit himself with such payment in his settlement. Van Winkle v. Blackford, 33 W. Va. 573, 11 S. E. 26.

Not necessary to sue for settlement before paying.— Where an estate is solvent, an administrator is not compelled, under penalty of being charged with a devastavit, to sue for the settlement of the estate before paying debts. Rothschild v. Wald, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 685.

5. Alabama.— Teague v. Corbitt, 57 Ala. 529; Harris v. Parker, 41 Ala. 604.

California.— See In re Kennedy, 120 Cal. 458, 52 Pac. 820; Moore's Estate, 96 Cal. 522, 31 Pac. 584.

Illinois.— Marshall v. Coleman, 187 Ill. 556, 58 N. E. 628 [modifying 89 Ill. App. 41]; Leon v. Leon, 56 Ill. App. 153.

Indiana.— See State v. Lemonds, 29 Ind. 437.

Iowa.— Kintz v. Schoentgen, (1900) 84 N. W. 679.

Massachusetts.—Phillips v. Frye, 14 Allen 36; Ripley v. Sampson, 10 Pick. 371.

New Jersey.—Stark v. Hunton, 3 N. J. Eq. 300.

New York.— Poughkeepsie Bank v. Hazbrouck, 6 N. Y. 216; Matter of Peyser, 5 Dem. Surr. 244.

Pennsylvania.— Hottenstein's Appeal, 2 Grant 301; Bolick's Estate, 2 Leg. Rec. 187.

Tennessee.— Jones v. Ward, 10 Yerg. 160.

Vermont.— French v. Winsor, 24 Vt. 402.

Canada.— Re Williams, 27 Ont. 405.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1102.

Gaming debts.— A personal representative should not be allowed for a payment of a debt of his decedent which appears on its face to have been for money lost at gaming (Carter v. Cutting, 5 Munf. (Va.) 223); but notes given by the decedent for gaming debts funds of the estate to persons who are not entitled to receive them he will not be protected.[6]

b. Payment Out of Order of Priority — (i) In General. Where a personal representative having notice of claims of superior degree[7] pays claims of an inferior degree and there are not funds remaining sufficient to pay such superior claims he commits a devastavit[8] and is personally liable to the preferred creditor and paid by a personal representative, without knowledge on his part at the time of payment of the illegal consideration, will be allowed him on the settlement of the estate (Coffee v. Ruffin, 4 Coldw. (Tenn.) 487).

Usurious debts.— A personal representative should be denied credit in his account for usurious debts of his decedent paid by him, if he has notice of their usurious character. Smith v. Britton, 2 Patt. & H. (Va.) 124.

Liability for payment of excess of interest see In re Dunne, 58 Cal. 543; Ellicott v. Ellicott, 6 Gill & J. (Md.) 35; Cole v. Leake, 27 Miss. 767.

Liability for interest on sums paid on improper claims see Clement's Appeal, 49 Conn. 519; Jones v. Ward, 10 Yerg. (Tenn.) 160.

Allowance of debts fairly due.— A personal representative will be allowed credit for debts of the estate paid by him if they appear to have been fairly due. It is not a sufficient ground for a disallowance that their payment might possibly have been successfully resisted. In re Frazer, 92 N. Y. 239.

Payment in excess of direction in will.— Where on the settlement of an executor it appeared that certain creditors whose claims the testator had, in his will, directed to be paid had received more than the amount specified in the will but no more than was justly due, it was held that the executor was justified in making such payments. Beecher v. Barber, 20 N. Y. St. 136, 6 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 129.

Illegal taxes.— A personal representative is not chargeable for the payment of taxes levied under an ordinance which is afterward held void, if in making such payment he exercised the decree of care which cautious persons employ in their own business. Scudder v. Ames, 142 Mo. 187, 43 S. W. 659.

Judgment confessed by decedent.— An administrator cannot question the validity of a judgment confessed by his intestate, upon any ground for which the intestate himself could not have questioned it; as for instance mere inadequacy of consideration, or that it was intended as a fraud upon creditors; nor, it seems, can his creditors question it if the estate is sufficient for the payment of debts. Wise v. Hardin, 5 S. C. 325.

A judgment confessed by a personal representative is prima facie fair and just, and, in the absence of any proof that it is otherwise, if he pays it such payment should be allowed him on his settlement. Powell v. Myers, 21 N. C. 502.

Relief against overpayment.— In a proper case equity may afford relief to a personal representative who through some inadvertence has overpaid a claim. Richardson v. Ransom, 99 Ill. App. 258.

6. Davis v. Bagley, 40 Ga. 181, 2 Am. Rep. 570; Matter of Van Buren, 19 Misc. (N. Y.) 373, 44 N. Y. Suppl. 357. See also Von Voorhis' Appeal, 8 Pa. Cas. 374, 11 Atl. 233.

Protection of judgment in favor of person not entitled thereto.— If a judgment for a debt properly due from the estate is recovered by a person not entitled thereto, the personal representative will be protected in paying it out of the personal estate; but such judgment forms no ground for a claim of the personal representative against the heirs, as for money disbursed by him for the benefit of the estate, beyond the personal assets he has received. Newsom v. Newsom, 38 N. C. 411.

7. Place v. Oldham, 10 B. Mon. (Ky.) 400; Hutchcraft v. Tilford, 5 Dana (Ky.) 353; Logan v. Troutman, 2 A. K. Marsh. (Ky.) 66; Webster v. Hammond, 3 Harr. & M. (Md.) 131.

Judgment as notice see Com. v. Barstow, 3 B. Mon. (Ky.) 290; Stephens v. Barnett, 7 Dana (Ky.) 257; Garrett v. Johnson, 29 N. C. 231 (judgment of justice of the peace); Nimmo v. Com., 4 Hen. & M. (Va.) 57, 4 Am. Dec. 488; Mayo v. Bentley, 4 Call (Va.) 528; Hall v. Tapper, 3 B. & Ad. 655, 23 E. C. L. 289; Fuller v. Redmon, 26 Beav. 600, 5 Jur. N. S. 1045, 29 L. J. Ch. 324, 7 Wkly. Rep. 430, 53 Eng. Reprint 1030; Waller v. Turner, 10 Jur. N. S. 147, 33 L. J. Ch. 232, 9 L. T. Rep. N. S. 758, 3 New. Rep. 413, 12 Wkly. Rep. 337; Landon v. Ferguson, 3 Russ. 349, 3 Eng. Ch. 349, 38 Eng. Reprint 607; Searle v. Lane, 2 Vern. Ch. 37, 88, 23 Eng. Reprint 634, 667 (decree in equity).

Notice need not be by institution of a suit. Webster v. Hammond, 3 Harr. & M. (Md.) 131; Brown v. Lone, 3 N. C. 159.

Exhibition of a bond to the administrator before letters of administration are taken out is sufficient notice. Brown v. Lone, 3 N. C. 159.

8. Georgia.— Bomgaux v. Bevan, Dudley 110.

Indiana.— State v. Mason, 21 Ind. 171.

Kentucky.— Place v. Oldham, 10 B. Mon. 400; Stephens v. Barnett, 7 Dana 257; Cochran v. Davis, 5 Litt. 118; Logan v. Trautman, 3 A. K. Marsh. 66.

North Carolina.— Howell v. Reams, 73 N. C. 391; Laws v. Thompson, 49 N. C. 104; Moye v. Albritton, 42 N. C. 62 (a devastavit committed even though the improper payment made because of an honest mistake); Garrett v. Johnson, 29 N. C. 231.

South Carolina.— Swift v. Miles, 2 Rich. Eq. 147.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1109.

for the deficiency;[9] but if he had no notice actual or constructive of the claims entitled to preference he incurs no personal liability by reason of paying debts of inferior dignity.[10] If the claim of higher degree is merely contingent, the common-law rule is that even if the representative has notice of such a claim he may exhaust the assets in paying debts of inferior degree without incurring any liability to the holder of the contingent claim, although the claim subsequently becomes due by the happening of the contingency,[11] but it is otherwise where the claim of higher degree is not contingent but merely payable at a future day.[12]

(II) PREFERRING ONE CREDITOR OF A CLASS. Under the modern statutes

If the representative reserves assets to pay the superior claims the payment of debts of inferior dignity is not a devastavit (Braxton v. Winslow, 4 Call (Va.) 308), although the assets reserved are lost, if no blame for such loss can be imputed to the personal representative (Hinton v. Kennedy, 3 S. C. 459).

No devastavit when right to priority accrued after payment.— Coltraine v. Spurgin, 31 N. C. 52.

9. Alabama.— Hullett v. Hood, 109 Ala. 345, 19 So. 419; Pryor v. Davis, 109 Ala. 117, 19 So. 440. See also Byrd v. Jones, 84 Ala. 336, 4 So. 375; McNeill v. McNeill, 36 Ala. 109, 76 Am. Dec. 320.

Indiana.— Cunningham v. Cunningham, 94 Ind. 557.

Missouri.— See Bassett v. Slater, 81 Mo. 75.

New York.— In re Mahoney, 37 Misc. 472, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 1056.

North Carolina.— Roundtree v. Sawyer, 15 N. C. 44; Brown v. Lone, 3 N. C. 159.

South Carolina.— Huger v. Dawson, 3 Rich. 328; Lenoir v. Winn, 4 Desauss. 65, 6 Am. Dec. 597.

Texas.— Clifford v. Campbell, 65 Tex. 243.

Virginia.— Mimmo v. Com., 4 Hen. & M. 57, 4 Am. Dec. 488.

England.— Searle v. Lane, 2 Vern. Ch. 37, 23 Eng. Reprint 634.

Canada.— Hutchinson v. Edmison, 11 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 477.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1109.

Payment out of order without order of court.— An administrator pays at his own risk demands of one class in advance of their proper order, and without an order of court. Dullard v. Hardy, 47 Mo. 403; Schoeneich v. Reed, 8 Mo. App. 356.

A judgment quando does not alter the dignity of the debt or charge the representative with assets. Hence, where a creditor obtains a judgment quando on an open account the representative is not protected in paying the judgment after notice of an outstanding debt of higher degree. Roundtree v. Sawyer, 15 N. C. 44.

Setting aside assignment of assets to creditors of lower degree see Frontenac Loan Co. v. Morice, 3 Manitoba 462.

Subrogation to rights of creditors paid.— The representative is entitled to be subrogated to the rights of the creditors whose claims he has paid and to receive the shares to which they would have been entitled had they not been paid in full. Hullett v. Hood, 109 Ala. 345, 19 So. 419.

10. Kentucky.—Com. v. Barstow, 3 B. Mon. 290; Hutchcraft v. Tilford, 5 Dana 353; Pope v. Wickliffe, 7 T. B. Mon. 412.

Missouri.— See Simonds v. Pettibone, 3 Mo. 330.

New Jersey.— See Miller v. Harrison, 34 N. J. Eq. 374.

North Carolina.— Delamothe v. Lanier, 4 N. C. 296.

Virginia.— Mayo v. Bentley, 4 Call 528.

United States.— U. S. v. Fisher, 2 Cranch 358, 390 note, 2 L. ed. 304; U. S. v. Eggleston, 25 Fed. Cas. No. 15,027, 4 Sawy. 199; U. S. v. Ricketts, 27 Fed. Cas. No. 16,159, 2 Cranch C. C. 553.

England.— Hawkins v. Day, Ambl. 160, 27 Eng. Reprint 107, Dick. 155, 21 Eng. Reprint 228; Clough v. French, 2 Coll. 277, 9 Jur. 1029, 15 L. J. Ch. 24, 33 Eng. Ch. 277; Bettenson v. Winder, Dick. 468, 21 Eng. Reprint 351. Compare Searle v. Lane, 2 Vern. 37, 88, 23 Eng. Reprint 634, 637.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1110.

A reasonable time must have elapsed since the decedent's death or the representative will not be protected in his payment, although he had no notice of the debt entitled to priority, for a precipitate payment is evidence of fraud. Hutchinson v. Edmison, 11 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 477. Compare Nosotti v. Jefferson, 3 De G. J. & S. 570, 9 Jur. N. S. 656, 8 L. T. Rep. N. S. 589, 11 Wkly. Rep. 841, 68 Eng. Ch. 570, 46 Eng. Reprint 757.

Avoidance of means of knowledge.— The representative will not be protected where his asserted ignorance of a debt of higher degree is the result of his voluntary avoidance of the means of knowledge. Hutchinson v. Edmison, 11 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 477.

11. Delamothe v. Lanier, 4 N. C. 296; Hawkins v. Day, Ambl. 160, 27 Eng. Reprint 107, Dick. 155, 21 Eng. Reprint 228; Henderson v. Gilchrist, 17 Jur. 570, 22 L. J. Ch. 970, 1 Wkly. Rep. 426; Wildridge v. McKane, 1 Molloy 122; Norman v. Baldry, 6 Sim. 621, 9 Eng. Ch. 621.

Reservation of assets under statute see infra, X, D, 13.

12. Atkinson v. Grey, 1 Smale & G. 577, 18 Jur. 282.

in the United States and Canada if the personal representative pays one debt of a class to the exclusion of others of the same class he commits a devastavit or renders himself personally liable for the deficiency, if any, resulting therefrom.[13]

c. Payment Out of Funds Not Belonging to Estate.[14] Funds which have been trust funds in the hands of a decedent remain the property of the cestui que trust and cannot be held liable for the decedent's debts,[15] and where an executor wrongfully makes payment of debts of the estate out of trust funds not primarily liable therefor, the beneficiary can be reimbursed to the extent of such misappropriation out of the property primarily liable, if it or its proceeds still exist.[16] If money is collected by a personal representative and improperly appropriated to the payment of the debts of his decedent under a mistaken belief as to his right to do so, and without collusion with the heirs, he becomes individually liable therefor, and land descending to the heirs cannot be subjected to its repayment.[17] Where a personal representative under a misconception that certain moneys coming to his hands are assets of the estate pays a portion of the creditors of a certain class a dividend on the amount of their claims, and it afterward turns out that such moneys are not assets, and there is nothing left to pay any of the claims of this class, a court of equity will not require the personal representative to pay the same pro rata share on the claims of other creditors of this class.[18]

d. Payment Under Authority of Court. A personal representative will be protected in the payment of a claim which has been duly allowed or ordered paid by the court, although such claim was not a proper one for payment,[19] or although it should not have been paid in full,[20] unless it be made to appear that

13. Alabama.— Jackson v. Wood, 108 Ala. 209, 19 So. 312, holding that the representative can have credit only for the share to which the overpaid creditor was entitled.

Georgia.— Bomgaux v. Bevan, Dudley 110.

Mississippi.— Gay v. Lemle, 32 Miss. 309.

Ohio.— See In re Wakefield, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 395, 7 Ohio N. P. 562.

West Virginia.— An administrator cannot, within twelve months after his qualification, pay one debt in full, or in excess of its ratable share of assets over another of the same class, either with or without notice of such other debt; and if he does he is personally liable to the omitted creditor for his share of money applied in such payment. If such payment be made after twelve months he is not liable unless he had notice of the other debt. McCoy v. Jack, 47 W. Va. 201, 34 S. E. 991.

Canada.— Parsons v. Gooding, 33 U. C. Q. B. 499; Taylor v. Brodie, 21 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 607; Doner v. Ross, 19 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 229.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1109.

Contra, at common law. See supra, X, D, 2, b, (II), (A).

Representative entitled to credit for share properly payable.— Where a personal representative pays the entire claim of a creditor who is entitled to a pro rata payment only, he is entitled to a credit to the extent of such creditor's pro rata share. Jackson v. Wood, 108 Ala. 209, 19 So. 312; Walker v. Kerr, 7 Tex. Civ. App. 498, 27 S. W. 299. See also Hullett v. Hood, 109 Ala. 345, 19 So. 419; Taylor's Estate, 4 Pa. Dist. 691, 17 Pa. Co. Ct. 166.

14. Property available for payment generally see infra, X, D, 16.

15. In re Belt, 29 Wash. 535, 70 Pac. 74, 92 Am. St. Rep. 916, holding further that where an administrator as such recovers a judgment in an action commenced by his decedent as a trustee he is not estopped as against a creditor of the estate to set up that the funds are not the property of the estate.

16. Milly v. Harrison, 7 Coldw. (Tenn.) 191.

17. Story v. Harrison, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 54.

18. Pinneo v. Goodspeed, 120 Ill. 524, 12 N. E. 196 [affirming 22 Ill. App. 50].

19. Iowa.— See Buttschaw v. Miller, 72 Iowa 225, 33 N. W. 642.

Kentucky.— See Story v. Story, 62 S. W. 865, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1869.

Louisiana.— Baldwin v. Carleton, 2 Rob. 54.

Maryland.—Owens v. Collinson, 3 Gill & J. 25. See also Garrison v. Hill, 81 Md. 206, 31 Atl. 794; Conner v. Ogle, 4 Md. Ch. 425.

Nevada.— In re Millenovich, 5 Nev. 161.

Texas.— See Cameron v. Morris, 83 Tex. 14, 18 S. W. 422.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1103.

Compare Hunt v. Russ, 18 D. C. 527, holding that the fact that a claim is duly verified and passed by the court does not relieve the personal representative from the duty of defending against it if he knows of any defense; but if he knows of none he may safely pay it and it will be allowed as a credit in his account.

If the court is without authority to make the order it affords no protection. In re Kennedy, 120 Cal. 458, 52 Pac. 820.

20. Thomson v. Taylor, 71 N. Y. 217.

such allowance of the claim or order for the payment thereof was obtained through his collusion or bad faith.[21]

11. Failure to Make Payment — a. Individual Liability of Personal Representative. A personal representative by failure to pay a claim which it is his duty to pay may become personally liable therefor.[22]

b. Liability For Interest or Costs. A personal representative having assets of the estate in his hands is chargeable individually with interest[23] or costs[24] accruing because of his failure to pay at the proper time claims against the estate which it was his duty to pay.

c. Penalty For Failure to Pay. A personal representative who fails to pay a claim when so ordered is, by statute in some jurisdictions, subject to a penalty.[25]

12. Proceedings to Enforce Payment — a. In General. Probate courts generally have jurisdiction to order the payment of the duly allowed or established claims of creditors;[26] but a claim against a decedent cannot be enforced in a 21. Turner v. Turner, 21 Ill. App. 427; Garr v. Harding, 37 Mo. App. 24. See also Garrison v. Hill, 81 Md. 206, 31 Atl. 794; Dodd v. Ghilselin, 27 Fed. 405.

22. Kentucky.— Jeeter v. Durham, 6 J. J. Marsh. 228.

Louisiana.— Lobit v. Castille, 14 La. Ann. 779; Waters v. Wilson, 3 Mart. N. S. 135.

Michigan.— Palm's Appeal, 44 Mich. 637, 7 N. W. 200.

Minnesota.—Dampier v. St. Paul Trust Co., 46 Minn. 526, 49 N. W. 286.

Missouri.— Schwecke v. Mathias, 8 Mo. App. 569.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1116; and infra, XVII, E, 5.

Where a personal representative is indebted to the estate, and instead of applying the amount of the debt to the payment of claims permits the land to be sold to satisfy creditors, he commits a devastavit and is liable to the heirs and devisees for the full amount of the injury they sustain by the sale. Farys v. Farys, Harp. Eq. (S. C.) 261. See also McPhadden v. Bacon, 13 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 591.

Failure to subject realty to payment of debts.— An administrator is guilty of waste where he fails to cause the real estate of his decedent to be applied to the payment of his debts, when the personal property is insufficient. New Hampshire Strafford Bank v. Mellen, Smith (N. H.) 385.

Liability for tax.—The individual property of a personal representative may be taken for a tax imposed on him in his representative capacity, when no property of the estate can be found. In re McMahon, 66 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 190.

In Vermont under the statute regulating the settlement of estates, personal representatives are not personally liable to the creditors for their debts against the estate until after a decree has been made by the probate court for the distribution of the assets among the creditors, and the expiration of the time limited for payment. Orange County Bank v. Kidder, 20 Vt. 519.

23. Maryland.— Scott v. Dorsey, 1 Harr. & J. 227.

Massachusetts.— Forward v. Forward, 6 Allen 494.

Missouri.— In re Motier, 7 Mo. App. 514.

New York.— Willcox v. Smith, 26 Barb. 316; In re Goetschius, 2 Misc. 278, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 970.

Pennsylvania.— Callaghan v. Hall, 1 Serg. & R. 241. Compare Coggin's Appeal, 3 Walk. 426.

Texas.— Finley v. Carothers, 9 Tex. 517, 60 Am. Dec. 179.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1117.

24. Callaghan v. Hall, 1 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 241; Davis v. Davis, 2 Hill Eq. (S. C.) 377.

25. See Minvielle's Succession, 12 La. Ann. 72; Van Hook v. Letchford, 35 Tex. 598.

26. See Erwin v. Lowry, 1 La. Ann. 276; Bull's Appeal, 24 Pa. St. 286; In re Kittera, 17 Pa. St. 416; Porter v. Sweeney, 61 Tex. 213. But compare Miller v. Pettit, 16 N. J. L. 421.

Notice.— In the absence of statutory requirement, no notice need be given to authorize a probate court to decree payment of debts, and distribution of assets among creditors. Lanier v. Irvine, 24 Minn. 116.

Where a final settlement has been set aside, the probate court becomes repossessed of the administration of the estate, and is the proper tribunal in which to enforce a demand allowed against the estate. Ferguson v. Carson, 9 Mo. App. 497.

Implied condition of order.— If a representative's account on a settlement before the county court shows that he has no cash, but only property in his hands, and the court makes an order that all demands of a particular class be paid, it is upon the implied condition that funds sufficient for that purpose first come into his hands; and a creditor of that class who sues out a scire facias to compel payment of his demand must show that the property has been converted into cash. Polk v. Farar, 12 Mo. 356.

Requisites of decree.—N. Y. Code Civ. Proc. § 2743, provides that, where the validity of a debt or claim is admitted or has been established, the surrogate's decree must determine to whom it is payable, the sum to be paid, summary proceeding by rule to show cause,[27] unless such a proceeding is authorized by statute.[28] It has been held that where a claimant against an estate neglects to take advantage of the means provided by statute for satisfying his claim, he has no remedy at law or in equity.[29]

b. Statutory Proceedings. Special proceedings for enforcing the payment of claims against the estates of decedents are sometimes provided by statute.[30]

c. Creditors' Suits.[31] The creditor of a deceased debtor, like any other creditor, may resort to equity for the purpose of reaching assets for the payment of his claim,[32] but, contrary to the general rule, it has been held in a number of and all other questions concerning the same. See Oser's Estate, 4 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 129.

Enforcement of decree.— Where imprisonment for debt has been abolished, a final decree against a personal representative for the payment of a debt due from his decedent cannot be enforced by attachment and sequestration. The remedy, where there are no funds in the hands of the representative belonging to the estate of the decedent which can be reached, is by execution against the individual property of the personal representative, if he has wasted the estate which came into his hands. Hosack v. Rogers, 11 Paige (N. Y.) 603.

27. Thurman v. Morgan, 79 Va. 367.

28. In Louisiana a creditor in whose favor a judgment has been rendered against the personal representative for a sum of money may proceed summarily by rule to enforce its payment. Maraist v. Guilbeau, 30 La. Ann. 1089; Dubuch v. Wildermuth, 3 La. Ann. 407. See also Jamison's Succession, 108 La. 279, 32 So. 381.

29. Winegar v. Newland, 44 Mich. 367, 6 N. W. 841.

30. In Iowa summary proceedings to compel a personal representative to pay money in accordance with an order of the court is provided for by Rev. (1860) §§ 2419, 2420. See Hart v. Jewett, 17 Iowa 234.

In New York it is provided by statute (Code Civ. Proc. § 2722) that a petition may be presented to the surrogate by a creditor at any time after six months have expired since letters were granted, praying for a decree directing the personal representative to pay the petitioner's claim, and that he be cited to show cause why such a decree should not be made, and it is further provided that on the presentation of such a petition the surrogate must issue a citation accordingly, and on the return thereof must make such a decree in the premises as justice requires; but such petition must be dismissed where the personal representative files a written answer duly verified setting forth facts which show that it is doubtful whether the petitioner's claim is valid and legal, and denying its validity or legality, or where it is not proved to the satisfaction of the surrogate that there is money or other personal property of the estate which can be applied to the payment of such claim without injuriously affecting the rights of others. See Willis v. Sharp, 115 N. Y. 396, 22 N. E. 149, 5 L. R. A. 636 [reversing 46 Hun 540]; Matter of Walker, 70 N. Y. App. Div. 263, 74 N. Y. Suppl. 971; Matter of Stevenson, 77 Hun 203, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 362; Matter of Miller, 70 Hun 61, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 1104; Matter of Miner, 39 Misc. 605, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 643; Matter of Hitchler, 21 Misc. 417, 47 N. Y. Suppl. 1069; Kenny v. Geoghegan, 9 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 378; Mitchell v. Mount, 19 Abb. Pr. 1; Sellis' Case, 4 Abb. Pr. 272; Matter of Mills, 11 How. Pr. 126; Kidd v. Chapman, 2 Barb. Ch. 414; In re Coit, 3 Dem. Surr. 58; Babcock v. Lillis, 4 Bradf. Surr. 218; Campbell v. Bruen, 1 Bradf. Surr. 224. A creditor, within the meaning of this statute, is a person to whom the deceased was indebted during his lifetime (Hall v. Dusenbury, 38 Hun 125, 4 Dem. Surr. 181) or an assignee of such a person (Matter of Moderno, 63 Hun 261, 17 N. Y. Suppl. 781, 28 Abb. N. Cas. 57, 22 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 72). This statute prohibits the surrogate from adjudicating upon a disputed claim, but does not either expressly or by implication deprive him of the right to decide whether or not a claim has been rejected or allowed, and where, upon competent and sufficient evidence, he decides it was admitted and allowed, he may properly direct its payment. In re Miles, 170 N. Y. 75, 62 N. E. 1084 [reversing 61 N. Y. App. Div. 562, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 71]. See also Ruthven v. Patten, 1 Rob. 416, 2 Abb. Pr. N. S. 121. There is also a statute in this state which makes special provision for the collection of funeral expenses. Laws (1901), c. 293, amending Code Civ. Proc. § 2729. See Matter of Kalbfleisch, 78 N. Y. App. Div. 464, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 651; Matter of Kipp, 70 N. Y. App. Div. 567, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 589.

Suit on judgment unnecessary to authorize decree for payment.— McNulty v. Hurd, 72 N. Y. 518 [modifying 11 Hun 339]. See also Matter of Lyman, 60 Hun (N. Y.) 82, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 198, 20 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 421 [affirmed in 128 N. Y. 614, 28 N. E. 252].

31. See, generally, CREDITORS' SUITS, 12 Cyc. 1.

32. Kennedy v. Creswell, 101 U. S. 641, 25 L. ed. 1075; Johnson v. Powers, 13 Fed. 315.

In Wisconsin creditors are expressly authorized by statute to bring an action to reach real estate or other assets of the decedent which are not included in the inventory of his personal representative and which ought to be subjected to the payment of his debts. See Allen v. McRae, 91 Wis. 226, 64 cases that the creditor is not obliged to obtain a judgment at law before he can avail himself of this remedy.[33]

d. Execution. Where a judgment has been obtained against a personal representative, who without paying the judgment proceeds to distribute all the decedent's property among his legal distributees, the judgment creditor may levy his execution on any of the property distributed.[34] In Illinois when a claim is filed and allowed against an estate it becomes a judgment, and the creditor may have execution thereon, but the execution must follow the judgment and two separate and distinct claims should not be included in one execution.[35] In Michigan, where in the prosecution of a claim a lien has been acquired by attachment against a defendant who dies pending the suit, plaintiff may, on obtaining judgment against the personal representative of the decedent, have execution against the property so attached, whether or not commissioners have been appointed to hear claims against the estate of the decedent.[36]

e. Review. Orders directing the payment of claims against the estate of decedents are generally appealable,[37] and an order of the probate court dismissing

N. W. 889; German Bank v. Leyser, 50 Wis. 258, 6 N. W. 809, holding that real estate conveyed by a decedent in his lifetime in fraud of his creditors may be reached in such an action.

Personal representative a necessary party. — Abraham v. Hall, 59 Ala. 386.

Necessity for showing representative and sureties irresponsible. — A creditor of a decedent has no right to follow the personal estate of the decedent into the hands of a third person to whom it is alleged that the representative has paid it in his own wrong, without showing that the representative and his sureties are irresponsible. Jackson v. Forrest, 2 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 576.

Suit to prevent misapplication. — A creditor has the right to pursue the assets of an estate whenever he has reason to apprehend their misapplication by the personal representative, either voluntarily or by coercion of execution in satisfaction of his own debts. Williamson v. Mobile Branch Bank, 7 Ala. 906, 42 Am. Dec. 617.

Property fraudulently disposed of by debtor. — Where a debtor in his lifetime made a fraudulent disposition of his property equity will entertain a bill filed by a creditor and subject such property to the payment of the debts of the decedent. White v. Russell, 79 Ill. 155. See also Stephens v. Harris, 41 N. C. 57; Spoon v. Smith, 36 S. C. 558, 15 S. E. 800. But see Caswell v. Caswell, 28 Me. 232, holding that a creditor of an insolvent estate cannot maintain an action to recover property conveyed by a decedent to defraud his creditors, although such an action might be maintained by the personal representative of the estate. In Alabama the court will entertain a bill filed by a simple contract creditor of a deceased debtor averring a deficiency of legal assets to satisfy his demand and asking that property fraudulently conveyed by the debtor while in life be subjected to the payment thereof (Houston v. Blackman, 66 Ala. 559, 41 Am. Rep. 756; Jenkins v. Lockard, 66 Ala. 377; Pharis v. Leachman, 20 Ala. 662), but such a bill will not be entertained unless a deficiency of legal assets is alleged (Sharp v. Sharp, 76 Ala. 312; State Bank v. Ellis, 30 Ala. 478). In California, if a decedent in his lifetime conveyed any part of his real estate with intent to defraud his creditors, his personal representative, on their application and their paying or securing to be paid certain costs, is bound to bring an action for the recovery of the property so conveyed. Mesmer v. Jenkins, 61 Cal. 151. See supra, III, H, 7.

A creditor may follow the assets in the hands of legatees and other persons claiming as volunteers or fraudulent alienees of an unfaithful and insolvent representative; and such a volunteer is not protected by the fact that the representative had sufficient assets to pay all the debts, if he has not wasted them. Barnawell v. Threadgill, 56 N. C. 50. See also Everingham v. Vanderbilt, 51 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 177.

In North Carolina jurisdiction of creditors' bills is in the superior and not in the probate court. Wadsworth v. Davis, 63 N. C. 251.

33. Jenkins v. Lockard, 66 Ala. 377; Halfman v. Ellison, 51 Ala. 543; Watts v. Gayle, 20 Ala. 817; Everingham v. Vanderbilt, 51 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 177; Kennedy v. Creswell, 101 U. S. 641, 25 L. ed. 1075; Johnson v. Powers, 13 Fed. 315. And see CREDITORS' SUITS, 12 Cyc. 10. But see Caswell v. Caswell, 28 Me. 232.

34. Van Houten v. Reily, 6 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 440.

35. Cohen v. Menard, 31 Ill. App. 503 [affirmed in 136 Ill. 130, 24 N. E. 604].

36. Smith v. Jones, 15 Mich. 281.

37. Stuttmeister v. San Francisco Super. Ct., 72 Cal. 487, 14 Pac. 35; Weadock v. Ray, 111 Wis. 489, 87 N. W. 477, holding that where a personal representative, with full knowledge of the facts, has neglected to prosecute an appeal directly from an order for the payment of claims, as authorized by the statute, he cannot be relieved from the order on an application for its vacation. See also Bennett v. Bennett, 102 Ind. 86, 1 N. E. 199. But compare Webb v. Stillman, 26 Kan. 371, holding that an order directing the pay-a petition to have the personal representative show cause why a claim that has been allowed shall not be paid has been held to be appealable.[38]

13. Reservation of Assets. In some jurisdictions personal representatives are required by statute to reserve a portion of the assets of the estate for the payment of claims which are contingent, or as to which suits are pending, or which are not yet due.[39] And a court of equity has power, in cases where there is a clear debt to be paid or duty to be performed at a future day, to order that sufficient assets for the discharge of it be retained and secured by the personal representative, before the distribution of the estate.[40]

14. Liability of Creditor to Refund. At common law a creditor who had received his just debt in good faith from a personal representative could not be compelled to refund any part of it,[41] even though preferred debts of the estate remained unpaid;[42] but according to the rule which now generally obtains, when a personal representative under an honest belief that the estate is solvent pays a creditor in excess of his pro rata distributive share, he may upon its being ascertained that the estate is really insolvent recover the overpayment from the creditor.[43] Where, owing to an erroneous computation as to the amount of the claim of a creditor, a personal representative has made an overpayment, he may ment of a claim already allowed is not a final order and is not appealable.

38. In re McKinley, 49 Cal. 152.

39. California.— In re Sigourney, 61 Cal. 71.

Maine.— Greene v. Dyer, 32 Me. 460.

Maryland.— Pole v. Simmons, 49 Md. 14; Ing v. Baltimore Assoc., etc., 21 Md. 426.

Massachusetts.— Cobb v. Kempton, 154 Mass. 266, 28 N. E. 264; Hammond v. Granger, 131 Mass. 351.

New Hampshire.— Wheeler v. Joslin, 63 N. H. 164.

New York.— In re Henshaw, 37 Misc. 536, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 1047; Hallett v. Hare, 5 Paige 315; Field v. Field, 2 Redf. Surr. 106. See also In re Truslow, 37 Misc. 189, 74 N. Y. Suppl. 944.

Pennsylvania.— Upon the distribution of the estate of a decedent in the orphans' court, it is within the sound discretion of the court to direct a portion of the funds to be withheld to meet a claim against the estate as to which there is a suit pending in a common-law court. Bennett's Estate, 132 Pa. St. 201, 19 Atl. 58. See also Fitzpatrick's Estate, 14 Wkly. Notes Cas. 472.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1133; and infra, XI, Q.

Retaining a sum to pay tax.— Where the validity of a tax against a decedent's estate is in question upon a final accounting the decree should provide for the retention of the amount of tax. Matter of Kenworthy, 63 Hun (N. Y.) 165, 17 N. Y. Suppl. 655.

Reservation of money to apply on canceled contract.— An administrator cannot retain money remaining in his hands unadministered to apply on a contract made for the sale of land to the decedent, where the contract has been annulled and canceled by the vendors; he would thus benefit the heirs seeking enforcement of the contract, at the expense of the creditors of the estate. Harmon v. Durham, 3 Wend. (N. Y.) 367.

40. Petrie v. Voorhees, 18 N. J. Eq. 285.

41. Indiana.— See Tarplee v. Capp, 25 Ind. App. 56, 56 N. E. 270.

Massachusetts.— Walker v. Hill, 17 Mass. 380.

Pennsylvania.— Carson v. McFarland, 2 Rawle 118, 19 Am. Dec. 627. See also Yocum v. Commercial Nat. Bank, 8 Pa. Dist. 631.

Tennessee.— Johnson v. Molsbee, 5 Lea 444.

England.— See Dillon v. Burton, 3 Ridg. 101.

Canada.— Doner v. Ross, 19 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 229.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1134.

42. Staples v. Staples, 85 Va. 76, 7 S. E. 199; Findlay v. Trigg, 83 Va. 539, 3 S. E. 142; Hodges v. Waddington, 2 Vent. 360. See also Whitted v. Nash, 66 N. C. 590.

43. Arkansas.— See Boles v. Jessup, 57 Ark. 469, 21 S. W. 880.

Connecticut.— See Mansfield v. Lynch, 59 Conn. 320, 22 Atl. 313, 12 L. R. A. 285.

Illinois.— Wolf v. Beaird, 123 Ill. 585, 15 N. E. 161, 5 Am. St. Rep. 565 [reversing on other grounds 23 Ill. App. 482].

Indiana.— Tarplee v. Capp, 25 Ind. App. 56, 56 N. E. 270. See also East v. Ferguson, 59 Ind. 169. But compare Beardsley v. Marsteller, 120 Ind. 319, 22 N. E. 315.

Kentucky.— Moore v. Moore, 88 Ky. 683, 11 S. W. 780, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 210; Masonic's Sav. Bank v. Bang, 10 S. W. 633, 10 Ky. L. Rep. 743.

Maine.— Morris v. Porter, 87 Me. 510, 33 Atl. 15.

Massachusetts.— Heard v. Drake, 4 Gray 514; Bliss v. Lee, 17 Pick. 83; Walker v. Bradley, 3 Pick. 261; Walker v. Hill, 17 Mass. 380.

Ohio.— Rogers v. Weaver, 5 Ohio 536, Wright 174.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1134.

Form of action.— The personal representative may recover the overpayment in an action for money had and received for the use maintain an action in his representative capacity to recover the amount overpaid,[44] and where plaintiffs in a creditor's suit turn out to have been overpaid, the court has jurisdiction to order them to refund such overpayment.[45] A personal representative who on competent advice pays a claim bona fide made against the estate of his decedent, cannot afterward, upon further advice taken, recover the amount of the claim so paid upon the suggestion that the payment was made under a mistake of law.[46] Money paid out of the assets of an intestate's estate that is solvent, by one who afterward becomes administrator, in discharge of a bona fide indebtedness of the estate which the administrator would have been bound to pay in due course of administration, cannot be recovered by him.[47]

15. Release by Creditors. A person having a claim against an estate may by express agreement release it,[48] and if the agreement is in writing, in construing it the primary consideration is to arrive at the intention of the parties thereto.[49] A receipt given to a personal representative for the payment of a claim against an

of the estate (Wolf v. Beaird, 123 Ill. 585, 15 N. E. 161, 5 Am. St. Rep. 565 [reversing 23 Ill. App. 486 (following Beaird v. Wolf, 19 Ill. App. 36; Foskett v. Wolf, 19 Ill. App. 33)]), and after his final settlement, for his own use (Wolf v. Beaird, supra; Rogers v. Weaver, 5 Ohio 536, Wright (Ohio) 174).

Agreement to refund.— An agreement entered into by a creditor with the personal representative that he will refund the amount received less the dividend, to which he is entitled, in the event the estate is found to be insolvent, is based upon a sufficient consideration, and if the estate proves to be insolvent, the personal representative may enforce repayment. Beardsley v. Marsteller, 120 Ind. 319, 22 N. E. 315. See also Gorman v. Nairne, 12 Ala. 338.

Setting off improper payment.— Where through a mistake of fact, a personal representative makes a payment on a claim of a class to which there are no funds of the estate applicable, the claimant should be charged with such payment when a claim for which there are assets applicable is paid him. Pinneo v. Goodspeed, 120 Ill. 524, 12 N. E. 196 [affirming 22 Ill. App. 50].

If the creditor has been prejudiced by the failure of the personal representative to comply with the law governing the settlement of estates, or by his bad faith or negligence in any respect, the personal representative cannot recover back the overpayment. Brooking v. Farmers' Bank, 83 Ky. 431 [explaining and distinguishing Lawson v. Hansborough, 10 B. Mon. (Ky.) 147].

Insufficiency resulting from representative's fault.— Money paid by a personal representative to a creditor out of the proceeds of property subject to a mortgage in favor of another creditor cannot be recovered by the personal representative when at the time of payment there were funds in his hands proceeding from the sale of the mortgaged property sufficient to extinguish it, although by his laches in suffering the mortgage claim to remain unpaid and from the accumulation of interest the fund has become insufficient to extinguish it. Foster's Succession, 4 La. Ann. 497.

In Canada, under Ont. Rev. St. c. 110, § 36, where it appears that one creditor has received more than his pro rata share, he will be ordered to refund at the instance of other creditors (Chamberlen v. Clark, 9 Ont. App. 273 [affirming 1 Ont. 135], but it seems that a personal representative cannot maintain an action to recover the excess so paid (see Leitch v. Molson's Bank, 27 Ont. 621).

44. Grimes v. Blake, 16 Ind. 160.

45. Graves v. Wright, 1 C. & L. 267, 2 Dr. & War. 77.

46. Mayhew v. Stone, 26 Can. Supreme Ct. 58.

47. Rainwater v. Harris, 51 Ark. 401, 11 S. W. 583, 3 L. R. A. 845.

48. Winslow v. Leland, 128 Ill. 304, 24 N. E. 588; Freeland First Nat. Bank v. Thompson, 61 N. J. Eq. 188, 48 Atl. 333, holding that where one having a claim against an estate entered into an agreement with the heirs, one of whom was also administrator, whereby the claimant agreed to accept a stipulated consideration in full settlement of all claims "against the estate, heirs or administrators," the release was valid as to any claim against the administrator, although he was not an express party in his official capacity. See also Horne v. McRae, 53 S. C. 51, 30 S. E. 701. Compare Glenn v. Froman, 13 Ky. L. Rep. 540.

Covenant in favor of one of two representatives.— Where there is a joint decree against the executors of two persons and a creditor receives a moiety of the debt from the representatives of one of them, a covenant not to levy the residue of the decree upon the estate of that one does not discharge the representatives of the other, although a release would have operated to discharge both executors. Garnett v. Macon, 10 Fed. Cas. No. 5,245, 2 Brock. 185, 6 Call (Va.) 308.

49. Colton v. Field, 131 Ill. 398, 22 N. E. 545 [reversing 28 Ill. App. 354].

Waiver of all claim in excess of a certain amount.— A stipulation in writing indorsed on a claim by which a claimant waives any claim against the estate beyond a certain sum constitutes a waiver of interest on that sum. In re Bleakley, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 235.

estate is not conclusive evidence of payment, and where payment has not in fact been made the estate is still liable, notwithstanding the receipt;[50] but it has been held that where a personal representative makes a settlement with a creditor by a payment pro rata upon his claim, taking a receipt in full, such receipt is conclusive unless it is shown that it was obtained by fraud, or through mistake, or upon some condition.[51]

16. Property Available For Payment — a. In General. As a general rule it may be laid down that all of the property of a decedent of whatever character is liable for the payment of his debts.[52] The debts of a decedent are charges upon the corpus of his estate and not merely upon the income,[53] although it may in certain cases be proper to apply the income to the payment of debts and expenses in preference to the corpus.[54] Where a community is unliquidated and owes debts, the administration of the estate of the husband involves that of the community, and hence community property may be validly sold by the administrator of the husband's succession for the payment of community debts.[55] Where the expenses of administration are of a general nature, they should be charged pro rata on the community property and separate estate; but expenses which

50. Shropshire v. Long, 68 Iowa 537, 27 N. W. 737. Compare Taylor v. McCall, 71 Ala. 52, holding that, where attorneys gave an administrator their receipt for money which they had not in fact received, and he obtained credit on such receipt in his account, they thereby discharged the estate and must look to the administrator personally.

Receipt prima facie evidence of payment.— McCreeliss v. Hinkle, 17 Ala. 459.

51. Adriance v. Crews, 38 Tex. 148. See also Miller v. Harrison, 34 N. J. Eq. 374.

52. See Thompson v. Bailey, 1 Ky. L. Rep. 321; U. S. v. Drennen, 25 Fed. Cas. No. 14,992, Hempst. 320.

Balance of insurance policy assigned as security.— Where the balance of a sum paid on a policy of insurance on the life of a decedent which had been assigned as security has been paid over by the pledgee to the administrator, the money must be used by the administrator to pay the debts of the decedent, and should not be paid to his minor children at the direction of the creditor. Harrisburg Nat. Bank v. Hiester, 2 Pearson (Pa.) 253.

Legal assets primarily liable.— Before a creditor having a judgment against an intestate can seek satisfaction out of purely equitable assets in the hands of a stranger, he must make it appear that the estate is otherwise insufficient. Jones v. McCleod, 61 Ga. 602.

Debts are not a lien upon the property, unless expressly charged thereon. Hines v. Spruill, 22 N. C. 93.

Stock held by an administrator of surety. — An administrator of a surety, having bank-stock certificates in his hands as such administrator when the principal debtor becomes insolvent, may and should apply on the debt for which the decedent is bound as surety the value of the stock and any dividends thereon remaining in his hands. Van Winkle v. Blackford, (W. Va. 1904) 46 S. E. 589.

53. Smith v. Barham, 17 N. C. 420, 25 Am. Dec. 721, holding that in case of a residuary bequest to one for life, with remainder over, the whole is subject to the immediate payment of debts, and the executor should sell immediately, instead of waiting for the debts to be paid out of the profits.

Where the testator has not appropriated any particular fund for the payment of debts and has disposed of both the fee and the income, the fee is primarily liable for the payment of the debts. Duncan v. Tobin, Dudley Eq. (S. C.) 161.

As between a life-tenant and a remainderman, where a testator does not direct the fund out of which his debts are to be paid, they are chargeable, not on the income, but on the corpus of the estate as it existed at the testator's demise. Gillam v. Caldwell, 11 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 73.

Counsel fees as against annuitant.— The court has a right to refuse to charge, against the income of the estate in which a widow appears to be interested as an annuitant, the counsel fees paid by its executor on a successful suit brought by him against the widow to recover assets of the estate, but may allow a counsel fee payable out of the corpus in the matter of exceptions. Bonney v. Haydock, 40 N. J. Eq. 513, 4 Atl. 766.

54. See De Peyster v. Clarkson, 2 Wend. (N. Y.) 77; Hawley v. James, 5 Paige (N. Y.) 318 [reversed on other grounds in 16 Wend. 61]. Compare Vanderford's Appeal, (Pa. 1888) 12 Atl. 491.

Current expenses.— The income of property in the hands of an executor is the primary fund for payment of current expenses; and a person seeking to charge the capital for a debt contracted by the executor must show that the debt was necessary, that the executor has no funds of the estate, and that the executor is insolvent. Manigault v. Holmes, Bailey Eq. (S. C.) 283.

55. Oriol v. Herndon, 38 La. Ann. 759. As to administration of community property generally see Husband and Wife.

attach specifically to particular pieces of estate are to be charged against such pieces.[56]

b. Real and Personal Property.[57] Under the modern law of administration the whole estate of a decedent, real as well as personal, is subject to the payment of debts.[58] The general rule as to the order in which a decedent's property is liable for the payment of his debts is that the personal estate must be first applied.

56. In re Patton, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 241.

57. The equitable doctrine as to marshaling of assets for payment of debts of a decedent has no application in Missouri since the enactment of the statute of administration. Titterington v. Hooker, 58 Mo. 593; Elstroth v. Dickmeyer, 88 Mo. App. 418; McAllister v. Williams, 23 Mo. App. 286.

58. Alabama.— Scott v. Ware, 64 Ala. 174.

Illinois.— Vansyckle v. Richardson, 13 Ill. 171.

Indiana.— Moncrief v. Moncrief, 73 Ind. 587.

Missouri.— See Titterington v. Hooker, 58 Mo. 593; Elstroth v. Dickmeyer, 88 Mo. App. 418.

New Jersey.— Hattersley v. Bissett, 52 N. J. Eq. 693, 30 Atl. 86.

New York.— Glacius v. Fogel, 88 N. Y. 434 [affirming 25 Hun 227]; Platt v. Platt, 4 N. Y. St. 651.

North Carolina.— Hines v. Spruill, 22 N. C. 93.

Ohio.— Piatt v. St. Clair, 6 Ohio 227, Wright 261.

Pennsylvania.— Chilcott's Appeal, 134 Pa. St. 240, 19 Atl. 850; Steel v. Henry, 9 Watts 523; Quigley v. Beatty, 4 Watts 13; Penn v. Hamilton, 2 Watts 53; Trevor v. Ellenberger, 2 Penr. & W. 94; Morris v. Griffith, 1 Yeates 189; Morris v. McConnaughy, 2 Dall. 189, 1 L. ed. 343; Klein's Estate, 2 Pa. Dist. 813, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 94. See also Blank's Appeal, 3 Grant 192; Bailey v. Bowman, 6 Watts & S. 118; Shorman v. Farmers' Bank, 5 Watts & S. 373; Benner's Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. 233.

South Carolina.— Galphin v. McKinney, 1 McCord Eq. 280.

Tennessee.— Morrow v. Morrow, 2 Tenn. Ch. 549.

Virginia.— McCandlish v. Keen, 13 Gratt. 615. See also Murphy v. Carter, 23 Gratt. 477.

United States.— Davis v. Weed, 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,658, 44 Conn. 569; U. S. v. Drennen, 25 Fed. Cas. No. 14,992, Hempst. 320.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1052.

Real estate is legal "assets" for the payment of a decedent's debts after the personalty is exhausted. Best v. Spooner, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 602.

Land cannot be applied until widow's dower assigned.— Hill v. Mitchell, 5 Ark. 608.

Sale of realty necessary.— Real estate is not assets for the payment of the debts of a decedent before it has been sold and the proceeds received by the administrator. Vaughn v. Deloatch, 65 N. C. 378. See infra, XII.

Promise to pay out of personalty.— Where for a valuable consideration one promises to pay a debt out of his personal estate at his death, without a specific limitation to that estate alone, if the personal estate proves insufficient, the real estate may be resorted to. Judy v. Louderman, 48 Ohio St. 562, 29 N. E. 181.

Lien of debts on realty see Cooper's Estate, 206 Pa. St. 628, 56 Atl. 67, 98 Am. St. Rep. 759; In re Emerick, 172 Pa. St. 191, 33 Atl. 550; Bailey v. Bowman, 6 Watts & S. (Pa.) 118; Shorman v. Farmers' Bank, 5 Watts & S. (Pa.) 373; Steel v. Henry, 9 Watts (Pa.) 523; Quigley v. Beatty, 4 Watts (Pa.) 13; Penn v. Hamilton, 2 Watts (Pa.) 53; Trevor v. Ellenberger, 2 Penr. & W. (Pa.) 94; Schreck's Estate, 2 Kulp (Pa.) 166; Benner's Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 233.

Consent of representative to sale by heir.— An administrator cannot, by consenting to the sale of land by the heir, divest the creditor of his right to have his debt made out of such land, although it might create an estoppel against him, if the right of creditors were not affected. Moncrief v. Moncrief, 73 Ind. 587. See also Pell v. Farquar, 3 Blackf. (Ind.) 331.

Selection of particular tract.— A general creditor of a decedent, asserting no lien upon any portion of decedent's land, cannot select a particular tract, and subject it to the payment of his debt. Hundley v. Taylor, 25 S. W. 887, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 808.

Although the time has expired within which creditors can apply for a sale of real estate to pay debts, yet, if there is a deficiency in the personal estate, debts and funeral expenses are payable out of the surplus proceeds of real estate previously sold on foreclosure. Matter of Callaghan, 69 Hun (N. Y.) 161, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 378. See also Powell v. Harrison, 88 N. Y. App. Div. 228, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 452.

Where funds used for benefit of realty.— Where an executor who is also a trustee under the will has used funds in his hands to keep down the interest upon encumbrances upon a portion of the trust property and for repairs of the same instead of applying such funds in payment of the debts of the deceased, equity will charge such premises in favor of the creditors of the deceased, to the extent of the amount so laid out upon them. Ferris v. Van Vechten, 9 Hun (N. Y.) 12.

Remedy of heir.— If, by the fault of the executor or administrator in not collecting personal estate, or in not applying it to the payment of debts, lands are taken from the heir or devisee, the representative is liable and then the realty,[59] and even though a debt is secured by a mortgage or other lien on land, if it is a personal debt of the decedent it is to be paid primarily out to the person injured in an action of waste. Mitchel v. Lunt, 4 Mass. 654.

59. Alabama.— Scott v. Ware, 64 Ala. 174. See also Quarles v. Grigsby, 31 Ala. 172.

Colorado.— Whitsett v. Kershow, 4 Colo. 419.

Delaware.— See Grose v. McMullen, 2 Del. Ch. 227.

Illinois.— People v. Phelps, 78 Ill. 147.

Indiana.— Clarke v. Henshaw, 30 Ind. 144; Scott v. Morrison, 5 Ind. 551; Swift v. Harley, 20 Ind. App. 614, 49 N. E. 1069.

Kentucky.— Broadwell v. Broadwell, 4 Metc. 290. See also Alexander v. Waller, 6 Bush 330; Best v. Spooner, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 602.

Maine.— Hanson v. Hanson, 70 Me. 508.

Maryland.— Wyse v. Smith, 4 Gill & J. 295; Hoye v. Brewer, 3 Gill & J. 153; Hammond v. Hammond, 2 Bland 306.

Massachusetts.— See Hays v. Jackson, 6 Mass. 149.

Mississippi.— Anderson v. Newman, 60 Miss. 532.

Missouri.— Stokes v. O'Fallon, 2 Mo. 32.

New Jersey.— Whitehead v. Gibbons, 10 N. J. Eq. 230. See also Ford v. Westervelt, 55 N. J. Eq. 485, 40 Atl. 26; Hattersley v. Bissett, 52 N. J. Eq. 693, 30 Atl. 86.

New York.— Russell v. Russell, 36 N. Y. 581, 93 Am. Dec. 540; Matter of Barker, 27 Misc. 395, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 868; Matter of Oosterhoudt, 15 Misc. 566, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 179; Hoes v. Van Hoesen, 1 Barb. Ch. 379 [affirmed in 1 N. Y. 120]; Livingston v. Newkirk, 3 Johns. Ch. 312; Matter of Noyes, 3 Dem. Surr. 369; Griswold v. Griswold, 4 Bradf. Surr. 216; Seabury v. Bowen, 3 Bradf. Surr. 207.

North Carolina.— North Carolina Baptist Female University v. Borden, 132 N. C. 476, 44 S. E. 47; Graham v. Little, 40 N. C. 407.

Ohio.— Pittsburg, etc., R. Co. v. Schmidt, 8 Ohio Cir. Ct. 355, 4 Ohio Cir. Dec. 535. See also Piatt v. St. Clair, 6 Ohio 227, Wright 261.

Pennsylvania.— Sunday's Appeal, 131 Pa. St. 584, 18 Atl. 931; Risk's Appeal, 110 Pa. St. 171, 1 Atl. 85; Mason's Appeal, 89 Pa. St. 402; Eavenson's Appeal, 84 Pa. St. 172; Foster's Appeal, 74 Pa. St. 391, 15 Am. Rep. 553; Kinter's Appeal, 62 Pa. St. 318; Ramsey's Appeal, 4 Watts 71; In re Walker, 3 Rawle 229; Todd v. Todd, 1 Serg. & R. 453; Crowley's Estate, 7 Pa. Dist. 322; Alter's Estate, 4 Pa. Co. Ct. 558; Mansell's Estate, 1 Pars. Eq. Cas. 367; Lane's Estate, 1 Del. Co. 334 (whether the estate be solvent or insolvent); Ramsey's Estate, 1 Lack. Leg. Rec. 367; McKeown's Estate, 8 Wkly. Notes Cas. 343.

South Carolina.— North v. Valk, Dudley Eq. 212; Hall v. Hall, 2 McCord Eq. 269.

Tennessee.— Nashville Trust Co. v. Carr, (Ch. App. 1900) 62 S. W. 204; Morrow v. Morrow, 2 Tenn. Ch. 549.

Virginia.— Elliott v. George, 23 Gratt. 780. See Cary v. Macon, 4 Call 605. But see Suckley v. Rotchford, 12 Gratt. 60, 65 Am. Dec. 240.

England.— Lanoy v. Athol, 2 Atk. 446, 26 Eng. Reprint 668; Ancaster v. Mayer, 1 Bro. Ch. 454, 28 Eng. Reprint 1237; Barry v. Harding, 7 Ir. Eq. 313, 1 J. & L. 475; Cope v. Cope, 2 Salk. 449; Brummel v. Prothero, 3 Ves. Jr. 111, 30 Eng. Reprint 921. See also Powis v. Corbet, 3 Atk. 556, 26 Eng. Reprint 1120; Palmer v. Mason, 1 Atk. 505, 26 Eng. Reprint 319; Reeves v. Newenharn, 2 Ridg. 11; Chaplin v. Chaplin, 3 P. Wms. 365, 24 Eng. Reprint 1103.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 1061–1073.

The cost of improvements to the real estate of a decedent which are necessary and proper to adapt the premises to the requirements of business, and which result in an increased income to the widow, is properly charged and allowed out of the personal estate. Culp's Estate, 5 Phila. (Pa.) 97.

When income of realty properly applicable. — Where personal estate of decedent is insufficient, and during the contest over the probate of the will the income of the realty has accumulated as a fund in the executors' hands, and there are controversies between legatees and devisees, the debts may be paid from the fund, and the legatees and devisees be left to settle their disputes before a competent tribunal. Skidmore v. Romaine, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 122.

Foreign assets.— An action in one state by a judgment creditor of an insolvent corporation organized in that state against the widow and the sole heir of a deceased stockholder to enforce his personal liability to the extent of the value of land in such state inherited by the widow cannot be defeated by showing that there are personal assets of decedent's estate in another state sufficient to pay plaintiff's claim. Cooper v. Ives, 62 Kan. 395, 63 Pac. 434.

The legislature has power to subject the lands of a person to the payment of his debts, to the exclusion of the personal property. Watkins v. Holmon, 16 Pet. (U. S.) 25, 10 L. ed. 873. See also Shehan v. Barnett, 6 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 592.

Obligation of support charged on land.— Where a deed made by a father to his son in pursuance to a previous agreement recited that "for, and in consideration of two hundred dollars, and the faithful maintenance" of the grantor's wife, the grantor "hath given and granted unto the said" grantee "a certain tract of land, to have and to hold," etc., the maintenance of the grantor's wife was not a charge upon the personalty of the estate of the grantee, deceased, in the hands of his administrator, but a charge upon the land sold in the hands of the grantee's heirs. Laxton v. Tilly, 66 N. C. 327.

of the personalty.[60] Where the decedent has left a will disposing of his property, the provisions thereof may give rise to a different order of marshaling, which will be discussed in its appropriate place,[61] but to change the natural order of applying the assets of a testator for the payment of debts, an intention to that effect must be clearly expressed in the will.[62] With regard to what constitutes Agreements between administrator and creditors.— An administrator cannot make a valid agreement with a creditor of the estate that part of the claim shall be charged against the land. In re Jenkins, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 551.

Where a will disposing of both realty and personalty was contested the expenses of the contest and those of administration were chargeable against the personal estate, although, under a failure of the will to have disposed of it, one half of the personal estate would have passed to the next of kin. Matter of Ogden, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 158, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 977.

When contribution pro rata proper see Farnum v. Bascom, 122 Mass. 282; Wootering v. Stewart, 2 Yeates (Pa.) 483; McLearn v. Wallace, 10 Pet. (U. S.) 625, 9 L. ed. 558.

60. Illinois.—People v. Phelps, 78 Ill. 147.

Indiana.— Swift v. Harley, 20 Ind. App. 614, 49 N. E. 1069. But compare Kirkpatrick v. Caldwell, 32 Ind. 299.

Maryland.— Lansdale v. Ghequiere, 4 Harr. & J. 257.

Massachusetts.—Creesy v. Willis, 159 Mass. 249, 34 N. E. 265; Plimpton v. Fuller, 11 Allen 139.

North Carolina.— Mahoney v. Stewart, 123 N. C. 106, 31 S. E. 384 [following Pate v. Oliver, 104 N. C. 458, 10 S. E. 709, and distinguishing Moore v. Dunn, 92 N. C. 63].

Pennsylvania.— Sunday's Appeal, 131 Pa. St. 584, 18 Atl. 931 (interest on mortgage); Lennig's Appeal, 52 Pa. St. 135; Peters' Estate, 16 Pa. Super. Ct. 462; Burton's Estate, 3 Pa. Dist. 755, 15 Pa. Co. Ct. 367; Mansel's Estate, 1 Pars. Eq. Cas. 367; Matter of Mason, 1 Pars. Eq. Cas. 129; Lane's Estate, 1 Del. Co. 334.

South Carolina.— Henagan v. Harllee, 10 Rich. Eq. 285.

Virginia.—Dandridge v. Minge, 4 Rand. 397.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 1068–1069; supra, X, A, 1; and DESCENT AND DISTRIBUTION, 14 Cyc. 199.

Contra.— Johnson v. Corbett, 11 Paige (N. Y.) 265. And see Hawley v. James, 16 Wend. (N. Y.) 61 [reversing 5 Paige 318]; In re Treharne, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 152; Cornwell v. Deck, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 87; In re Williams, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 208. And see Haggerty's Succession, 27 La. Ann. 667; In re Swan, 54 Mo. App. 17.

Taxes or assessments on realty, if assessed or becoming due before the decedent's death, are payable primarily from the personalty (Matter of Noyes, 3 Dem. Surr (N. Y.) 369; Griswold v. Griswold, 4 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 216; Seabury v. Bowen, 3 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 207; Alter's Estate, 4 Pa. Co. Ct. 558. See also Pugh v. Russell, 27 Gratt. (Va.) 789. But compare Boring v. Jobe, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1899) 53 S. W. 763, holding that where taxes have become a lien on realty, which has descended to the heirs, by reason of an administrator's failure to pay them, they may be enforced against such realty, although sufficient personal assets have come into the hands of the administrator, and there has been devastavit by him), but those accruing subsequently are a charge on the land (Griswold v. Griswold, 4 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 216. See also Piatt v. St. Clair, Wright (Ohio) 526. See supra, X, A, 15).

Contract by subsequent purchaser to pay mortgage.— Where one purchases land, giving a mortgage for part of the price, and thereafter sells the land, and the purchaser assumes the mortgage, and the original purchaser dies, and the mortgagee obtains judgment against decedent's estate, proceedings may be suspended for enforcing such judgment, and the mortgagee ordered to sell the mortgaged premises before coming in on the personalty. Gould's Estate, 6 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 562.

Vendor's lien on homestead.— An administrator has no right without an order of court to apply the general assets of the estate to the discharge of a debt secured by a vendor's lien upon the homestead set apart to the family of the deceased. Mullins v. Yarborough, 44 Tex. 14.

Where a married woman gives a mortgage or a judgment to secure the purchase-money of real estate conveyed to her, it may be enforced against the land on the equitable principle that she cannot hold the price and retain the land; but it is not such a personal obligation as will entitle the holder to participate in the distribution of the assets of her estate in the hands of her administrator. Sawtelle's Appeal, 84 Pa. St. 306.

61. See, generally, WILLS.

The general rule of marshaling in the case of testate estates is that the assets are to be applied to the payment of debts in the following order: (1) The general or residuary personalty not specifically bequeathed, exonerated, or exempted; (2) real estate appropriated to, and not merely charged with, the payment of debts; (3) real estate descended, whether acquired before or after the making of the will; (4) real estate devised charged with the payment of debts; (5) general pecuniary legacies pro rata; (6) specific and residuary devises and specific legacies pro rata. 3 Williams Ex. (7th Am. ed.) 214, 215.

62. Delaware.— Grose v. McMullen, 2 Del. Ch. 227.

Indiana.— Scott v. Morrison, 5 Ind. 551.

New Jersey.— Bird v. Hawkins, 58 N. J. Eq. 229, 42 Atl. 588.

realty and what personalty, it may be laid down as a general rule that no part of an estate is personal property which was not such at the death of the owner,[63] although of course this rule may be affected by testamentary provisions by which realty is converted into personalty.[64]

c. Rents of Realty. Rents of real estate accruing subsequent to the death of a decedent are, for the purpose of marshaling assets, regarded as realty rather than as personalty,[65] and hence are not primarily liable for the payment of debts;[66] but they may, like the realty itself, be made subject to the decedent's debts where the personalty is insufficient,[67] and under appropriate circumstances it may be proper to apply the rents to the payment of debts instead of selling the realty itself for this purpose.[68]

d. Proceedings to Marshal Assets. Proceedings to marshal assets of a decedent's estate are, with certain modifications necessarily resulting from the nature of the case, governed by practically the same rules as apply in the case of the ordinary proceedings for marshaling assets.[69]

XI. DISTRIBUTION OF ESTATE.

A. Authority and Duty to Make — 1. In General. It is the right and duty of a personal representative, upon the settlement of his decedent's estate, and after payment of debts to make distribution of the decedent's property, in the manner

North Carolina.— Robards v. Wortham, 17 N. C. 173, 22 Am. Dec. 738. See also Graham v. Little, 40 N. C. 407.

Ohio.— See Pittsburg, etc., R. Co. v. Schmidt, 8 Ohio Cir. Ct. 355, 4 Ohio Cir. Dec. 535.

South Carolina.— See North v. Valk, Dudley Eq. 212.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1065; and, generally, WILLS.

63. Winants v. Terhune, 15 N. J. Eq. 185. See also Cloudas v. Adams, 4 Dana (Ky.) 603, holding money arising from a sale of realty to be equitable assets.

Direction to sell to pay specified debts.— Where an executor was ordered by a will to sell real estate to pay debts for which the testator was surety, and after such payment the balance was to be given to a daughter-in-law, the proceeds of the sale after payment of such debts was not personal property applicable to the payment of debts of the estate before a resort could be had to the realty. Winants v. Terhune, 15 N. J. Eq. 185.

Direction to sell lands and invest proceeds. — Where a will authorized the executor to sell testator's lands and invest the proceeds in securities, or purchase other lands therewith, and provided that such proceeds should always be considered as real estate, creditors of the deceased could not subject the proceeds to payment of their claims as personal property, but could follow them only in equity. Mayer v. McCune, 59 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 78.

A judicial sale of decedent's realty will not convert it into personalty, and an application to the supreme court by a creditor for payment of the surplus must be founded on an order of the surrogate for the sale of such realty, and payment of the applicant's demand. Hoey v. Kinney, 10 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 400. See also Young's Estate, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 454.

Where real estate is appropriated under the right of eminent domain, the damages assessed thereafter are personal property, and hence liable in the first instance for debts. Hay's Estate, 29 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 311.

64. See, generally, WILLS.

65. In re Woodworth, 31 Cal. 595; Indianapolis First Nat. Bank No. 2,556 v. Hanna, 12 Ind. App. 240, 39 N. E. 1054; Robb's Appeal, 41 Pa. St. 45. See also Draper v. Barnes, 12 R. I. 156.

66. Richardson v. Richardson, 87 Ill. App. 354 (in the absence of a specific provision in the will); Robb's Appeal, 41 Pa. St. 45. See also Zoellner v. Zoellner, 53 Mich. 620, 19 N. W. 566.

Heirs may authorize the administrator to collect rents and apply them on the debts of the decedent; yet such payment will not inure to the benefit of any creditors not paid, unless it be proven that the payment was to be a pure gift to all the creditors, or that those who are not so paid have suffered some loss by the arrangement. Giblin's Estate, 2 Kulp (Pa.) 292.

67. Indianapolis First Nat. Bank No. 2,556 v. Hanna, 12 Ind. App. 240, 39 N. E. 1054, special order of court in renting property. See also Pharis v. Leachman, 20 Ala. 662; Thompson v. Bailey, 1 Ky. L. Rep. 321; Glacius v. Fogel, 88 N. Y. 434 [affirming 25 Hun 227]; McCandlish v. Edloe, 3 Gratt. (Va.) 330.

68. See infra, XII, B, 2, d.

69. See Stephens v. James, 77 Ga. 139, 3 S. E. 160; Jordan v. Brown, 72 Ga. 495; Coleman v. Franklin, 26 Ga. 368; Macon, etc., R. Co. v. Parker, 9 Ga. 377; Matoon v. Clapp, 8 Ohio 248; Brubaker's Estate, 17 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 390; Pugh v. Russell, 27 Gratt. (Va.) 789. And see, generally, MARSHALING ASSETS.

directed by the will,[1] as in the payment of legacies;[2] or in case of intestacy, or as to property not disposed of by the will, in the manner prescribed by statute,[3] upon an order of the court.[4] But it is no part of his duty to partition or convey among heirs or devisees the real estate of his decedent[5] or to pay legacies charged upon the land,[6] unless empowered by the will to do so.[7] The power of making distribution cannot be delegated by the personal representatives to another, and it has been held not even to the probate court.[8] A surviving executor has

1. Alabama.— Colbert v. Daniel, 32 Ala. 314.

California.— In re Levinson, 98 Cal. 654, 33 Pac. 726 (holding that upon the failure of a trust provided for in the will distribution may be decreed in accordance with the testator's intention as expressed in the will); Cronin's Estate, Myr. Prob. 252.

North Carolina.— Johnson v. Johnson, 108 N. C. 619, 13 S. E. 183.

Ohio.— Ratliff v. Warner, 32 Ohio St. 334.

Pennsylvania.— Beck's Appeal, 116 Pa. St. 547, 9 Atl. 942; Callahan's Estate, 5 Lack. Leg. N. 105.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1136.

2. Maryland.— Hindman v. State, 61 Md. 471, also holding that the probate court has no power to relieve an executor of a duty imposed upon him by the will in respect to the legacy.

New Hampshire.— Parker v. Cowell, 16 N. H. 149.

New York.— Prattsville Reformed Dutch Church v. Brandow, 52 Barb. 228; Frost v. Frost, 4 Edw. 733.

North Carolina.— Johnson v. Johnson, 108 N. C. 619, 13 S. E. 183.

Pennsylvania.— McDowell's Estate, 8 Del. Co. 172, 17 Montg. Co. Rep. 43.

Tennessee.— Lockart v. Northington, 1 Sneed 318.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1136.

The investment of a fund for the benefit of minor legatees must be made by the executor where the will so directs. Hindman v. State, 61 Md. 471.

An improper bequest imposes no duty or obligation on the executor. Wickham v. Bath, 35 Beav. 59.

3. Harrison v. Harrison, 9 Ala. 470; Hampton's Case, 17 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 144 (holding that a personal representative cannot take the property at an appraised value and divide it arbitrarily among the heirs); In re Rendell, [1901] 1 Ch. 230, 70 L. J. Ch. 265, 83 L. T. Rep. N. S. 625, 49 Wkly. Rep. 131.

Personal property bequeathed to executors for a purpose which fails must be distributed by them among the next of kin. McDonald's Estate, 2 Nova Scotia 123.

The power of distribution is not barred by the filing by the distributees of a bill to prevent the execution of an order of sale (Harrison v. Harrison, 9 Ala. 470), or by failure of the administrator to make a sale of personal estate (Harrison v. Harrison, supra); nor does an outstanding and undetermined claim of the widow to her share of the real estate prevent the administrator from paying to the children and distributees the sums respectively due them (Quarles v. Garrett, 4 Desauss. (S. C.) 145).

4. Wood v. Stone, 39 N. H. 572; Rankin's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 603.

After an order for distribution it is the duty of the personal representative to hold the funds in his hands subject to the order of the court, and to pay them to such parties as the court may direct; and further than this he has no standing in court or before an auditor respecting the distribution of the funds in his hands. Michael's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 321. See also Leland v. Kingsbury, 24 Pick. (Mass.) 315.

A distribution by both of two administrators may be ordered where on an accounting by one of them the parties stipulated that the other should also account in the same proceeding, and thereupon the proceedings were consolidated. Matter of Smith, 40 Misc. (N. Y.) 331, 81 N. Y. Suppl. 1035.

A public administrator may be ordered by the probate court to distribute the balance of an estate among the next of kin of the intestate under Mass. Gen. St. c. 95. Parker v. Kückens, 7 Allen (Mass.) 509.

Distributers may be appointed by the probate court in Connecticut to complete a selection of part of the estate which the widow was allowed to make under the will, where she died before completing the selection, but such selection cannot be made by the executor. Walker v. Upson, 74 Conn. 128, 49 Atl. 904.

A second husband acting as administrator of his deceased wife's estate is entitled only to one third of her share in property which she held as administratrix of her former husband, and may be compelled to make distribution accordingly. Sturgineger v. Hannah, 2 Nott & M. (S. C.) 147.

5. Gay v. Gay, 29 Ga. 549; Smith v. McCormick, 46 Ind. 135; Geddes' Succession, 36 La. Ann. 963; Miller's Succession, 28 La. Ann. 316; Kachlein's Appeal, 5 Pa. St. 95.

6. Conard's Appeal, 33 Pa. St. 47.

7. Johnson v. Johnson, 108 N. C. 619, 13 S. E. 183; Conrad's Appeal, 33 Pa. St. 47.

8. Matter of Te Culver, 22 Misc. (N. Y.) 217, 49 N. Y. Suppl. 820, holding that where an administrator paid to the surrogate upon the judicial settlement of his accounts the sum found remaining in his hands, to be distributed to the heirs, the surrogate received the money for the purpose of distribution in his individual capacity as agent of the adthe duty of completing the distribution of the estate upon the death of his co-executor.[9]

2. Authority After Discharge. The termination of a representative's authority deprives him of all power of further distribution,[10] and it is his duty thereafter to turn over the funds to his successor.[11] He cannot surrender the estate to a person claiming it as heir without proof of the heirship.[12]

3. Administrator Pendente Lite. An administrator pendente lite is an officer of the court and holds the property only until the suit terminates, and he is therefore under no obligation to distribute the assets of the estate;[13] but he will not be compelled to refund, where he has made distribution according to law.[14]

4. Distribution of Money Recovered on Representative's Bond. Money recovered by way of penalty on the bond of the executor or administrator must in some states be distributed by the judge of probate.[15] It must go to the heirs on whose share it has accrued.[16]

5. Security For Future Payment of Legacy, or Payment Into Court. A court of equity may intervene at the instance of a pecuniary legatee to require security for the payment of a legacy in the future, whether vested or contingent,[17] where there is danger that the principal of the legacy will be wasted or lost;[18] or else to order the fund to be paid by the representative into court.[19]

6. Request For Directions. The personal representative has the right to maintain a petition or bill at any time after his qualification[20] for directions from the court as to the application or distribution of funds of the estate which are in his hands, where he is in doubt as to how they should properly be distributed,[21] ministrator, and that the latter was accordingly responsible for such money.

9. In re Steencken, 51 N. Y. App. Div. 417, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 660, 30 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 329.

10. Connelly's Appeal, 1 Grant (Pa.) 366; Babin v. D'Astugue, 7 Mart. N. S. (La.) 615.

11. Connelly's Appeal, 1 Grant (Pa.) 366.

12. Babin v. D'Astugue, 7 Mart. N. S. (La.) 615. But see Geddes' Succession, 36 La. Ann. 963, holding that, after an executor has paid debts and legacies and homologated his account, he is bound on demand of the widow or heirs to surrender the property to them.

13. Lilly v. Menke, 126 Mo. 190, 28 S. W. 643, 994; Winpenny's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 20.

14. Bradford's Case, 1 Browne (Pa.) 87.

15. See Ordinary v. Barcalow, 36 N. J. L. 15.

16. In re Dimmick, 111 La. 655, 35 So. 801.

17. Randle v. Carter, 62 Ala. 95; Lupton v. Lupton, 2 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 614; Love v. Love, 3 Hayw. (Tenn.) 13. The legatee's right to relief in such cases depends on the existence of assets liable for the satisfaction of the legacy, which it is the executor's duty to hold for its payment, when due. Randle v. Carter, 62 Ala. 95.

18. Howard v. Howard, 16 N. J. Eq. 486; Lindsay's Estate, 10 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 36; Higginson v. Fabre, 3 Desauss. (S. C.) 89 (contingent legacy); Hopkins v. Wainwright, 1 Desauss. (S. C.) 302.

19. Lupton v. Lupton, 2 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 614.

20. Gordon v. Groesbeck, 1 Ohio Cir. Ct. 320, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 176.

21. Georgia.— Hamberger v. Easter, 57 Ga. 71.

Kentucky.— Fraser v. Page, 82 Ky. 73.

Massachusetts.— Hills v. Putnam, 152 Mass. 123, 25 N. E. 40; Putnam v. Collamore, 109 Mass. 509; Stevens v. Warren, 101 Mass. 564.

New Hampshire.— Gafney v. Kenison, 64 N. H. 354, 10 Atl. 706.

New Jersey.— Dunn v. Campbell, 47 N. J. Eq. 4, 9 Atl. 1099.

Ohio.— Noble r. Martin, 4 Ohio Cir. Ct. 365, 2 Ohio Cir. Dec. 598.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1148.

Want of parties defendant does not render such a bill defective if the numerous claimants of the fund, representing every possible interest, are fully represented before the court by those having similar interests. Hills v. Putnam, 152 Mass. 123, 25 N. E. 40.

An appeal from the judgment in such a case need not be taken by the representative (Fraser v. Page, 82 Ky. 73; Bryant r. Thompson, 128 N. Y. 426, 28 N. E. 522, 13 L. R. A. 745 [reversing 14 N. Y. Suppl. 386]); but the legatees, devisees, or other defendants, if not satisfied with the decision, may take an appeal (Fraser r. Page, 82 Ky. 73; Noble r. Martin, 4 Ohio Cir. Ct. 365, 2 Ohio Cir. Dec. 598).

Where division of the fund is not to be made until the expiration of a given term, the court will not undertake to instruct as to such division until such term has expired. Gafney r. Kenison, 64 N. H. 354, 10 Atl. 706.

Where the executor has an adequate remedy by way of defense, he cannot maintain such a bill. Dodge r. Morse, 129 Mass. 423, as where there is a dispute as to who is entitled to the same,[22] or there is reason to believe that a legacy made by the testator is invalid.[23]

7. Admission of or Charging With Assets. Where one receives money in his capacity as personal representative, he cannot withhold it from distribution on the ground that it is not a part of the estate;[24] and if he admits that he has sufficient assets in his hands to satisfy legatees or distributees, a judgment or decree may be rendered against him accordingly.[25] After the entry of a decree charging the representative with sufficient assets to pay all legacies, the legatees are remitted entirely to the personal responsibility of the representative, and unless they seasonably assert their rights they stand in no better position than other creditors.[26]

B. Priority of Debts to Legacies and Distributive Shares. The right of a legatee or distributee to his legacy or distributive share is suspended until all debts and liabilities of the decedent's estate have been satisfied,[27] although every holding that where there is no doubt as to the person entitled to the fund, but there is some question as to the right of a trustee to receive it without giving bond, the executor cannot maintain such a bill, as he has an adequate remedy by way of defense to any suit that might be brought against him by the trustee without having given bond.

22. Bryant v. Thompson, 128 N. Y. 426, 28 N. E. 522, 13 L. R. A. 745.

23. Gordon v. Groesbeck, 1 Ohio Cir. Ct. 320, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 176.

24. Sain v. Bailey, 90 N. C. 566.

25. Smith v. Smith, 4 Paige (N. Y.) 271; Buchanan v. Buchanan, 4 Strobh. (S. C.) 63; Sharpe v. Lockwood, 78 Va. 24.

A bond to pay debts and legacies given by an executor is a conclusive admission of sufficent assets. Stebbins v. Smith, 4 Pick. (Mass.) 97.

Overpayment under a mistake as to the value of the assets is not such an admission of assets as should bind the executor or administrator to make a like overpayment to the other legatees or distributees. Anderson v. Piercy, 20 W. Va. 282.

Representative's charge to himself or admission controlled by other evidence.— Hills v. Putman, 152 Mass. 123, 25 N. E. 40.

26. Bellows v. Sowles, 53 Fed. 325.

Where an executor serves without giving bond with sureties, under a request in the will, and becomes insolvent after a decree of distribution, the heirs or distributees who have not seasonably guarded against this condition of things stand in no better position than his other creditors for enforcing their claims. Bellows v. Sowles, 53 Fed. 325.

Where the executors pay a judgment fixing them with assets they cannot afterward recover the amount thus paid out of the estate of their testator, the judgment against them being personal. Perkins v. Berry, 103 N. C. 131, 9 S. E. 621.

27. Alabama.— Leavens v. Butler, 8 Port. 380.

Colorado.— Hanna v. Palmer, 6 Colo. 156, 45 Am. Rep. 524, rights of widow.

Georgia.— Ferguson v. Ferguson, 51 Ga. 340.

Illinois.— Sherman v. Saylor, 36 Ill. App. 356.

Kentucky.— Smith v. Vertrees, 2 Bush 63; Hammon v. Pearl, 6 T. B. Mon. 410.

Louisiana.— Wilson v. Wilson, 107 La. 139, 31 So. 643; Bachemin's Succession, 19 La. Ann. 488.

Maine.— Hamlin v. Mansfield, 88 Me. 131, 33 Atl. 788.

Michigan.— Miller v. Stepper, 32 Mich. 194.

Missouri.— Lewis v. Carson, 93 Mo. 587, 3 S. W. 483, 6 S. W. 365.

New Jersey.— Coddington v. Bispham, 36 N. J. Eq. 574; Blauvelt v. Winkle, 29 N. J. Eq. 111.

New York.— Wilkes v. Harper, 1 N. Y. 586 [affirming 2 Barb. Ch. 338]; Hallock v. Hallock, 79 N. Y. App. Div. 508, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 61; In re Keef, 43 Hun 98; Harrison v. Peck, 56 Barb. 251.

North Carolina.— Pullen v. Hutchins, 67 N. C. 428.

Pennsylvania.— In re McCracken, 29 Pa. St. 426; Hoover v. Hoover, 5 Pa. St. 351; Hulse's Estate, 12 Phila. 130.

South Carolina.— Swift v. Miles, 2 Rich. Eq. 147; Porter v. Cheeseborough, Speers Eq. 496; Carnes v. Smith, 2 Desauss. 299.

Texas.— Wade v. Freese, (Civ. App. 1902) 71 S. W. 69.

Utah.— In re Thorn, 24 Utah 209, 67 Pac. 22.

United States.— Sibley v. Simonton, 20 Fed. 784.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1150. See also Descent and Distribution, 14 Cyc. 184 et seq.; and, generally, Wills.

Debts, within the meaning of this rule, include expenses of last illness and funeral, charges of administration, widow's allowance, costs, and interest (Dean's Succession, 33 La. Ann. 867; In re Casey, 2 Silv. Supreme (N. Y.) 585, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 608; In re Thorn, 24 Utah 209, 67 Pac. 22); and even a voluntary bond executed by the testator during his life in consideration of love and affection (Gordon v. Small, 53 Md. 550); but not claims not admitted to be due, nor sued for, legacy and devise may be thereby defeated,[28] or until the suspension is removed by the assent of the personal representative, where he is satisfied that the estate is solvent,[29] or by lapse of time for settlement of the estate.[30] Although a legatee or distributee may compel satisfaction or distribution after the lapse of the statutory period for paying debts, it has been held that the rights of legal creditors must be fully protected before such satisfaction or distribution will be ordered.[31]

C. Assent to Legacy or Devise — 1. In General. At law a legacy, whether specific or general, does not vest in the legatee, so as to be subject to his debts[32] or to be enforceable by him, until it is assented to by the personal representative,[33] under section 16 of the Louisiana statute of March 25, 1828 (Graves v. Routh, 4 La. Ann. 126).

A subsequent judgment creditor's rights are inferior to those of a distributee where the distribution is made without fraud. Justices Baker County Inferior Ct. v. Moreland, 20 Ga. 145.

The residuary fund of an estate must bear the burden of all debts, not otherwise provided for, before it can be distributed to the residuary legatees. In re McCracken, 29 Pa. St. 426; McGlaughlin v. McGlaughlin, 24 Pa. St. 20. And see, generally, Wills.

Mortgaged real estate may be distributed among the heirs or devisees subject to the mortgage, where the mortgagee waives all recourse against any other portion of the estate to satisfy his claim. In re Hinckley, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 189.

28. Leavens v. Butler, 8 Port. (Ala.) 380; Gresham v. Baugh, 66 Ga. 189; Hamlin v. Mansfield, 88 Me. 131, 33 Atl. 788.

29. Jackson v. Rowell, 87 Ala. 685, 6 So. 95, 4 L. R. A. 637; Refeld v. Bellette, 14 Ark. 148; Anderson v. Irvine, 6 B. Mon. (Ky.) 231.

Presumption of consent.— Munsell v. Bartlett, 6 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 20.

That the time to present claims has not expired does not justify a refusal by executors having sufficient funds in their possession to make a payment on account of a legacy more than one year after their appointment, where they have been dilatory in publishing notice to creditors, unless they can point out with certainty the existence of claims which may be made against the estate, and which may impair the legatee's right. In re Cain, 17 N. Y. Suppl. 11.

30. Alabama.— Jackson v. Rowell, 87 Ala. 685, 6 So. 95, 4 L. R. A. 637.

Arkansas.— Refeld v. Bellette, 14 Ark. 148.

Maryland.— Coward v. State, 7 Gill & J. 475. And see Mitchell v. Mitchell, 1 Gill 66.

Massachusetts.— Sturtevant v. Sturtevant, 4 Allen 122, holding that the receipt of notes by an administrator after the expiration of two years from the time of giving bond and notice of his appointment does not authorize a delay in the distribution of the estate for the purpose of allowing him to retain assets sufficient to satisfy the claim of a non-resident creditor who has given notice of his demand, and who commenced a bill in equity in another state against the intestate in his lifetime to establish it.

Mississippi.— Grant v. Spawn, 33 Miss. 134; Murdock v. Washburn, 1 Sm. & M. 546.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1150.

31. Grant v. Spann, 33 Miss. 134. See also infra, XI, Q.

32. Suggs v. Sapp, 20 Ga. 100.

33. Alabama.— Bonner v. Young, 68 Ala. 35; Upchurch v. Norsworthy, 12 Ala. 532.

Arkansas.— Ross v. Davis, 17 Ark. 113 (previous to the time allowed for the settlement of the estate); Carter v. Cantwell, 16 Ark. 154; Refeld v. Billette, 14 Ark. 148.

Connecticut.—Johnson v. Connecticut Bank, 21 Conn. 148.

Florida.— Lott v. Meacham, 4 Fla. 144.

Georgia.— Phillips v. Smith, 119 Ga. 556, 46 S. E. 640; Suggs v. Sapp, 20 Ga. 100.

Indiana.— Jennings v. Sturdevant, 140 Ind. 641, 40 N. E. 61; Highnote v. White, 67 Ind. 596; Crist v. Crist, 1 Ind. 570, 50 Am. Dec. 481.

Kentucky.— Nancy v. Snell, 6 Dana 148.

Maryland.— Wilson v. Rine, 1 Harr. & J. 138; Lark v. Linstead, 2 Md. Ch. 162.

Michigan.— Wheeler v. Hatheway, 54 Mich. 547, 20 N. W. 579.

New York.— Tole v. Hardy, 6 Cow. 333.

North Carolina.— Wooten v. Jarman, 52 N. C. 238; James v. Masters, 7 N. C. 110.

South Carolina.— Adams v. Rees, 9 Rich. 116; Lenoir v. Sylvester, 1 Bailey 632; Moore v. Barry, Bailey 504; Cannon v. Ulmer, Bailey Eq. 204.

Tennessee.— Finch v. Rogers, 11 Humphr. 559.

Virginia.— Nelson v. Cornwell, 11 Gratt. 724; Hairston v. Hall, 3 Call 218.

England.— Northey v. Northey, 2 Atk. 77, 9 Mod. 270, 26 Eng. Reprint 447.

Canada.— Archer v. Severn, 12 Ont. 615.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1153.

Forgiving a debt by will is in the nature of a legacy, and must be assented to by the executor before the debt is extinguished. Cheshire v. Cheshire, 19 N. C. 254.

Trover will not lie against an executor for the conversion of a legacy to which he has never assented. Adams v. Rees, 9 Rich. (S. C.) 116.

Trespass or trover may be maintained by the executor, against a legatee, who takes or at least until it may be seen with reasonable certainty that it will not be needed to pay claims of a higher rank,[34] unless the legacy is charged on the land.[35] In equity, however, the executor is considered as a trustee and may be compelled to give his assent if he refuses it without just cause,[36] unless a condition precedent required of the legatee has not been complied with or non-compliance excused.[37]

2. Acts of Assent and Presumptions — a. In General. The representative's assent need not be in writing.[38] It may be express or implied, and may be either shown by direct proof or inferred from circumstances consistent with the intent to surrender to the legatee or devisee the legal title and control,[39] as where a con-possession of the legacy without the executor's assent. Crist v. Crist, 1 Ind. 570, 50 Am. Dec. 481; Wilson v. Rine, 1 Harr. & J. (Md.) 138.

In Mississippi by statute (Howard & Hutch. 412) a legatee may maintain an action at law for his legacy without the assent of the executor, and the executor's only defense is that the property is necessary for the payment of debts or that a final settlement has been made. Magee v. Gregg, 11 Sm. & M. 70; Worten v. Howard, 2 Sm. & M. 527, 41 Am. Dec. 607.

34. Suggs v. Sapp, 20 Ga. 100. See also Finch v. Rogers, 11 Humphr. (Tenn.) 559.

35. Jennings v. Sturdevant, 140 Ind. 641, 40 N. E. 61; Tole v. Hardy, 6 Cow. (N. Y.) 333.

36. Alabama.— Millsap v. Stanley, 50 Ala. 319; Vaughan v. Vaughan, 30 Ala. 329. And see Bonner v. Young, 68 Ala. 35.

Georgia.— Lester v. Stephens, 113 Ga. 495, 39 S. E. 109.

Indiana.— Crist v. Crist, 1 Ind. 570, 50 Am. Dec. 481.

Maryland.— Lark v. Linstead, 2 Md. Ch. 162.

South Carolina.— Price v. Nesbit, 1 Hill Eq. 445; Stuart v. Carson, 1 Desauss. 500.

United States.— Fenwick v. Chapman, 9 Pet. 461, 9 L. ed. 193 [affirming 5 Fed. Cas. No. 2,604, 4 Cranch C. C. 431].

England.— Northey v. Northey, 2 Atk. 77, 9 Mod. 270, 26 Eng. Reprint 447.

Canada.— Archer v. Severn, 12 Ont. 615.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 1153, 1161.

37. Vaughan v. Vaughan, 30 Ala. 329, holding that where a selection by a legatee is annexed as a condition precedent to his right to the legacy, it must be made, and the notice thereof given, before filing the bill, unless it is prevented by the executor.

38. Griffith v. Roseborough, 52 N. C. 520.

39. Alabama.— Whorton v. Moragne, 62 Ala. 201; Cox v. McKinney, 32 Ala. 461; George v. Goldsby, 23 Ala. 326.

Georgia.— Phillips v. Smith, 119 Ga. 556, 46 S. E. 640; King v. Skellie, 79 Ga. 147, 3 S. E. 614.

Indiana.— Crist v. Crist, 1 Ind. 570, 1 Am. Rep. 481.

Kentucky.— Nancy v. Snell, 6 Dana 148; Pirtle v. Cowan, 4 Dana 302; Simrall v. Graham, 1 Dana 574.

New York.— Wheeler v. Lester, 1 Bradf. Surr. 293.

North Carolina.— Edney v. Bryson, 47 N. C. 365; Rea v. Rhodes, 40 N. C. 148; Buffaloe v. Baugh, 34 N. C. 201; Merritt v. Windley, 14 N. C. 399.

South Carolina.— Green v. Iredell, 31 S. C. 588, 10 S. E. 545; Thompson v. Schmidt, 3 Hill 156; Harley v. Bates, 2 Brev. 419.

Tennessee.— Chester v. Greer, 5 Humphr. 26.

Virginia.— Lynch v. Thomas, 3 Leigh 682; Royall v. Eppes, 2 Munf. 479.

United States.— McClanahan v. Davis, 8 How. 170, 12 L. ed. 1033.

England.— Doe v. Mabberley, 6 C. & P. 126, 25 E. C. L. 354; Tudor v. Guest, 27 L. J. Exch. 395; Barnard v. Pumfrett, 5 Myl. & C. 63, 46 Eng. Ch. 63, 41 Eng. Reprint 295; Austin v. Beddoe, 3 Reports 580, 41 Wkly. Rep. 619; Hawkins v. Williams, 10 Wkly. Rep. 692.

Canada.— Honsberger v. Honsberger, 5 U. C. Q. B. O. S. 479.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1154.

Slight expressions or equivocal acts of the representative will not amount to an assent. George v. Goldsby, 23 Ala. 326; Burkhead v. Colson, 22 N. C. 77; Martin v. Peck, 2 Yerg. (Tenn.) 298; Thorne v. Thorne, [1893] 3 Ch. 196, 63 L. J. Ch. 38, 69 L. T. Rep. N. S. 378, 8 Reports 282, 42 Wkly. Rep. 282; Doe v. Sturges, 2 Marsh. 505, 7 Taunt. 217, 17 Rev. Rep. 491, 2 E. C. L. 333.

Mere setting apart of certain property by the executor amounts to nothing more than a mental determination and does not bind the estate. Sherman v. Jerome, 120 U. S. 319, 7 S. Ct. 577, 30 L. ed. 680. But see Page's Appeal, 71 Pa. St. 402, holding that where executors are put in charge of a special fund for a legatee, to manage for his benefit, the legatee's right to the product of such fund may be inferred from setting it apart for him.

Where there is a deficiency of assets an executor's assent should not be implied, but in such case there ought to be an express assent, because of the great prejudice which otherwise might come to him. Wheeler v. Lester, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 293; Southward v. Milward, 8 Vin. Abr. 176.

It is a question of fact for the jury whether or not assent has been given. Merritt v. Windley, 14 N. C. 399; Mason v. Farnell, 1 siderable length of time has elapsed,[40] or where the legatee or devisee has been in possession for some time with the consent, express or implied, of the representative,[41] and the same rule applies where the representative is legatee or devisee.[42]

b. Legacy or Devise in Remainder. An executor's assent to a legacy or devise of an estate for life or other particular estate amounts to an assent to the legacy or devise in remainder,[43] although the personal representative himself is

D. & L. 576, 13 L. J. Exch. 142, 12 M. & W. 674; Elliott v. Elliott, 11 L. J. Exch. 3, 9 M. & W. 23; Barnard v. Pumfrett, 5 Myl. & C. 63, 46 Eng. Ch. 63, 41 Eng. Reprint 295; Richardson v. Gifford, 3 N. & M. 325.

The burden of overcoming the presumption of assent is on the party denying it. Phillips v. Smith, 119 Ga. 556, 46 S. E. 640.

To repel the presumption of assent, the record of the orphans' court in another state may be used as prima facie evidence, but only prima facie, of outstanding debts against the estate. Nancy v. Snell, 6 Dana (Ky.) 148.

Possession of a legacy by an executor is not necessary to his assent to it. Spruill v. Spruill, 6 N. C. 175.

40. Phillips v. Smith, 119 Ga. 556, 46 S. E. 640; Coleman v. Lane, 26 Ga. 515; Wheeler v. Hatheway, 54 Mich. 547, 20 N. W. 579, one year from the granting of letters testamentary.

41. Alabama.— Whorton v. Moragne, 62 Ala. 201.

Arkansas.— Refeld v. Bellette, 14 Ark. 148.

Connecticut.—Johnson v. Connecticut Bank, 21 Conn. 148.

Georgia.— Thaggard v. Crawford, 112 Ga. 326, 37 S. E. 367; Vaughn v. Howard, 75 Ga. 285; Parker v. Chambers, 24 Ga. 518; Jordan v. Thornton, 7 Ga. 517.

Massachusetts.— Andrews v. Hunneman, 6 Pick. 126.

Mississippi.— Hall v. Hall, 27 Miss. 458.

New Hampshire.— Haven v. Haven, 69 N. H. 204, 39 Atl. 972.

North Carolina.— Gums v. Capehart, 58 N. C. 242; Propst v. Roseman, 49 N. C. 130; Lillard v. Reynolds, 25 N. C. 366; Lewis v. Smith, 23 N. C. 145; White v. White, 29 N. C. 536.

South Carolina.— Green v. Iredell, 31 S. C. 588, 10 S. E. 545.

Tennessee.— Squires v. Old, 7 Humphr. 454.

United States.— McClanahan v. Davis, 8 How. (U. S.) 170, 10 L. ed. 1033; Schley v. Collis, 47 Fed. 250, 13 L. R. A. 567.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1154.

The assent of the executor need not be proved, where the legatee had possession during the lifetime of the executor. Lowry v. Mountjoy, 6 Call (Va.) 55. But see Bothwell v. Dobbs, 59 Ga. 787, holding that where the testator, after making his will containing a specific bequest to the legatee, placed her in possession of the property, the title did not vest absolutely so as to prevent the property from being assets, and to render the assent of the executor unnecessary.

42. Alabama.— Murphree v. Singleton, 37 Ala. 412; Walker v. Walker, 26 Ala. 262; Gantt v. Phillips, 23 Ala. 275. And see Whorton v. Moragne, 62 Ala. 201, where the assent was given by a co-executor.

Georgia.— Shipp v. Gibbs, 88 Ga. 184, 14 S. E. 196; Vanzant v. Bigham, 76 Ga. 759; Thursby v. Myers, 57 Ga. 155; Parker v. Chambers, 24 Ga. 518.

Kentucky.— Adie v. Cornwell, 3 T. B. Mon. 276.

Maryland.— Kopp v. Herrman, 82 Md. 339, 33 Atl. 646.

New York.— Hudson v. Reeve, 1 Barb. 89.

North Carolina.— Hearne v. Kevan, 37 N. C. 34; Lewis v. Smith, 20 N. C. 471; Jones v. Zollicoffer, 4 N. C. 645, 7 Am. Dec. 708.

Tennessee.— Chester v. Greer, 5 Humphr. 26.

Virginia.— Frazer v. Bebill, 11 Gratt. 9.

England.— Fenton v. Clegg, 2 C. L. R. 1014, 9 Exch. 680, 23 L. J. Exch. 197; Doe v. Sturges, 2 Marsh. 505, 7 Taunt. 217, 17 Rev. Rep. 491, 2 E. C. L. 333.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1156.

Assent by a representative to a legacy or devise to himself will be presumed where he uses the property as his own for a considerable time (Camp v. Coleman, 36 Ala. 163; Hearne v. Kevan, 37 N. C. 34), where he makes a sale or transfer thereof (Murphree v. Singleton, 37 Ala. 412), where he is in possession of the personal estate of the testator (Stuart v. Carson, 1 Desauss. (S. C.) 500), or where he divides the fund with another legatee (Frazer v. Bevill, 11 Gratt. (Va.) 9); but the assent of the representative will not be presumed where his acts are equivocal (Doe v. Sturges, 2 Marsh. 505, 7 Taunt. 217, 17 Rev. Rep. 491, 2 E. C. L. 333).

A widow qualifying as executrix and taking possession of the estate thereby vests in herself legal title to a legacy bequeathed to her unless she expressly dissents from the will. Gantt v. Phillips, 23 Ala. 275.

43. Alabama.— Hemphill v. Moody, 64 Ala. 468; Harkins v. Hughes, 60 Ala. 316; Thrasher v. Ingram, 32 Ala. 645; Gibson v. Land, 27 Ala. 117.

Florida.— Lott v. Meacham, 4 Fla. 144.

Georgia.— Akin v. Akin, 78 Ga. 24, 1 S. E. 267; Vanzant v. Bigham, 76 Ga. 759; McGlawn v. Lowe, 74 Ga. 34; Gay v. Gay, 29 Ga. 549; Perkins v. Brown, 29 Ga. 412; Coleman v. Lane, 26 Ga. 515; Parker v. Chambers, 24 Ga. 518; Jordan v. Thornton, 7 Ga. 517. And see Harris v. Cole, 114 Ga. 295, 40 S. E. 271.

Mississippi.— Hall v. Hall, 27 Miss. 458.

North Carolina.— McKoy v. Guirkin, 102 N. C. 21, 8 S. E. 776; Windley v. Gaylord, the legatee or devisee of the particular estate,[44] unless the assent is restricted to one estate alone,[45] or unless the executor has some trust or duty to perform after the expiration of the particular estate.[46]

3. Time For Assent. An executor may lawfully assent to a specific legacy before the debts of the estate are paid;[47] and in those jurisdictions in which the common-law rule that an executor acquires his authority from the will prevails he may assent even before probate or before he qualifies,[48] except where he is a non-resident,[49] or refuses or neglects to accept office.[50] But in those jurisdictions in which he is held to acquire his authority from the probate court he cannot assent until he has qualified according to law.[51]

4. Operation and Effect. Assent to a legacy or devise, properly given, is usually irrevocable,[52] even though it may leave insufficient assets to pay 52 N. C. 55; Hotchkiss v. Thomas, 51 N. C. 537; Rea v. Rhodes, 40 N. C. 148; Robertson v. Houlder, 37 N. C. 341; Hearne v. Kevan, 37 N. C. 34; Lewis v. Smith, 20 N. C. 471; Conner v. Satchwell, 20 N. C. 202; Smith v. Barham, 17 N. C. 420, 25 Am. Dec. 721; Alston v. Foster, 16 N. C. 337; Burnett v. Roberts, 15 N. C. 81; Ingrams v. Terry, 9 N. C. 122.

South Carolina.— Finley v. Hunter, 2 Strobh. Eq. 208.

Tennessee.— Finch v. Rogers, 11 Humphr. 559.

Virginia.— Lynch v. Thomas, 3 Leigh 682; Bishop v. Bishop, 2 Leigh 484.

United States.— McClanahan v. Davis, 8 How. 170, 12 L. ed. 1033.

England.— Stevenson v. Liverpool, L. R. 10 Q. B. 81, 44 L. J. Q. B. 34, 31 L. T. Rep. N. S. 673, 23 Wkly. Rep. 246; Foley v. Burnell, 4 Bro. P. C. 34, 2 Eng. Reprint 23; Adams v. Peirce, 3 P. Wms. 11, 24 Eng. Reprint 948. And see Webster v. Johnson, 3 Wkly. Rep. 60.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1155.

The assent of one of several executors is sufficient to vest both the particular estate and the remainder over. Boone v. Dyks, 3 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 529; Adie v. Cornwell, 3 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 276.

An administrator de bonis non cannot recover from a remainder-man a legacy which has vested in him by the assent of the executor to the original bequest. Windley v. Gaylord, 52 N. C. 55; Etheridge v. Bell, 27 N. C. 87.

If the remainder over is a contingent one, the assent to the particular estate is qualified as to the remainder, and becomes absolute upon the happening of the contingency (Gay v. Gay, 29 Ga. 549; Acheson v. McCombs, 38 N. C. 554; Conner v. Satchwell, 20 N. C. 202), unless the interest in the property during the interval between the termination of the particular estate and the happening of the contingency is not disposed of by the will (Nixon v. Robbins, 24 Ala. 663).

Adjustment of claims in remainder.— The successive beneficiaries in interest in such case must adjust their several claims among themselves without the further intervention of the personal representative. McKoy v. Guirkin, 102 N. C. 21, 8 S. E. 776.

44. Alabama.— Camp v. Coleman, 36 Ala. 163; Gantt v. Phillips, 23 Ala. 275.

Georgia.— Shipp v. Gibbs, 88 Ga. 184, 14 S. E. 196.

Kentucky.— Adie v. Cornwall, 3 T. B. Mon. 276.

Maryland.— Kopp v. Herrman, 82 Md. 339, 33 Atl. 646.

North Carolina.—Hearne v. Kevan, 37 N. C. 34; Jones v. Zollicoffer, 4 N. C. 645, 7 Am. Dec. 708.

But see Richards v. Browne, 3 Bing. N. Cas. 493, 3 Hodges 27, 6 L. J. C. P. 95, 4 Scott 262, 32 E. C. L. 230, holding that where an executrix has a life-estate in a chattel under a bequest, her taking possession of the chattel is no assent to a further bequest thereof in remainder.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 1155, 1156.

45. Hotchkiss v. Thomas, 51 N. C. 537; Robertson v. Houlder, 37 N. C. 341.

46. Nixon v. Robbins, 24 Ala. 663; McGlawn v. Lowe, 74 Ga. 34; Gay v. Gay, 29 Ga. 549; McKoy v. Guirkin, 102 N. C. 21, 8 S. E. 776; Acheson v. McCombs, 38 N. C. 554; Lewis v. Smith, 20 N. C. 471; Allen v. Watson, 5 N. C. 189; Lenoir v. Sylvester, 1 Bailey (S. C.) 632.

47. Edney v. Bryson, 47 N. C. 365; Thompson v. Schmidt, 3 Hill (S. C.) 156. But see Pullen v. Hutchins, 67 N. C. 428.

48. Aleck v. Tevis, 4 Dana (Ky.) 242; Gordon v. Woods, 4 Bibb (Ky.) 476; Gums v. Capehart, 58 N. C. 242. And see Thompson v. Schmidt, 3 Hill (S. C.) 156.

An assent by an executor who dies without proving the will becomes operative on administration afterward being taken out with the will annexed. Johnson v. Warwick, 17 C. B. 516, 25 L. J. C. P. 102, 84 E. C. L. 516.

49. Gums v. Capehart, 58 N. C. 242; Hairston v. Hairston, 55 N. C. 123; Stamps v. Moore, 47 N. C. 80.

50. White v. White, 20 N. C. 536.

51. Gardner v. Gantt, 19 Ala. 666; Martin v. Peck, 2 Yerg. (Tenn.) 298. But see Finch v. Rogers, 11 Humphr. (Tenn.) 559, holding that where the legatee was put in possession by the testator, and there are other assets sufficient for the payment of debts, the executor may assent to such legacy even before he proves the will.

52. Arkansas.— Ross v. Davis, 17 Ark. 113.

debts,[53] and operates to divest the representative of all title in or control over the property embraced in the legacy or devise assented to,[54] and to vest a complete legal title in the legatee or devisee,[55] free from an execution subsequently obtained against the executor,[56] but subject to rights acquired by third persons in the bequeathed property before the executor assented.[57]

Kentucky.— Nancy v. Snell, 6 Dana 148.
Michigan.—Eberstein v. Camp, 37 Mich. 176.
United States.— Fenwick v. Chapman, 9 Pet. 461, 9 L. ed. 193 [affirming 5 Fed. Cas. No. 2,604, 4 Cranch C. C. 431].
England.—Foley v. Burnell, 4 Bro. P. C. 34, 2 Eng. Reprint 23.
See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 1159, 1163.

53. Ross v. Davis, 17 Ark. 113; Nancy v. Snell, 6 Dana. (Ky.) 148. But see Pullen v. Hutchins, 67 N. C. 428 (holding that the assent of an executor to a legacy before the debts of his testator are paid is void as to creditors, and if the executor commits a devastavit and is insolvent, the loss must fall upon the legatee rather than the creditor); Rea v. Rhodes, 40 N. C. 148 (also holding that the creditor can only follow the property in a court of equity).

An executor may retract his assent, if given upon a reasonable ground for considering the assets sufficient for all demands, where they prove deficient in consequence of unknown debts unexpectedly claimed (Nelson v. Cornwell, 11 Gratt. (Va.) 724), if the assent has not been completed by possession (Wheeler v. Lester, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 293; Chamberlain v. Chamberlain, 1 Ch. Cas. 256, 22 Eng. Reprint 788).

Where an executor is also legatee, he cannot, by his assent, transfer the title to the legacy to himself as an individual to the detriment of the rights of creditors. Matter of Pye, 18 N. Y. App. Div. 306, 46 N. Y. Suppl. 350.

54. Alabama.— Harkins v. Hughes, 60 Ala. 316.
Arkansas.— Ross v. Davis, 17 Ark. 113.
Georgia.— People's Nat. Bank v. Cleveland, 117 Ga. 908, 44 S. E. 20; Jourdan v. Miller, 41 Ga. 51.
South Carolina.—Nunn v. Owens, 2 Strobh. 101; Alexander v. Williams, 2 Hill 522; Fronty v. Godard, Bailey Eq. 517.
England.— Foley v. Burnell, 4 Bro. P. C. 34, 2 Eng. Reprint 23; Byrchall v. Bradford, 6 Madd. 235, 23 Rev. Rep. 204.
See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1159.

55. Arkansas.— Ross v. Davis, 17 Ark. 113.
Georgia.—People's Nat. Bank v. Cleveland, 117 Ga. 908, 44 S. E. 20, holding that an action for the recovery of the legacy may be maintained by the legatee after the executor's assent. And see Harris v. Cole, 114 Ga. 295, 40 S. E. 271, in which it may be inferred from the holding of the court that an assent to a devise in remainder may prevent a due administration of the estate for the payment of debts, or force creditors to collect their claims by seeking an abatement of such devise.
Kentucky.— Anderson v. Irvine, 6 B. Mon. 231; Nancy v. Snell, 6 Dana 148; Pirtle v. Cowan, 4 Dana 302.
New York.— Onondaga Trust, etc., Co. v. Price, 87 N. Y. 542; Hudson v. Reeve, 1 Barb. 89, executor as legatee.
North Carolina.— Gums v. Capehart, 58 N. C. 242; Rea v. Rhodes, 40 N. C. 148; Alston v. Foster, 16 N. C. 337; Burnett v. Roberts, 15 N. C. 81.
Pennsylvania.—Hanbest's Estate, 12 Phila. 72, executor as legatee.
South Carolina.—Nunn v. Owens, 2 Strobh. 101; Alexander v. Williams, 2 Hill 522; McMullin v. Brown, 2 Hill Eq. 457.
Tennessee.— Martin v. Peck, 2 Yerg. 298.
See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1159.

An assent to a specific pecuniary legacy is a contract to pay it, enforceable by a proper proceeding. Hendrick v. Mayfield, 74 N. C. 626; Dunham v. Elford, 13 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 190, 94 Am. Dec. 162.

Replevin lies against an executor who arbitrarily revokes his assent to a legatee's possession of specific legacies and resumes control thereof. Eberstein v. Camp, 37 Mich. 176.

An assent to a specific legacy is unexceptionable where the executor retains enough from the estate to pay the testator's debts. Nunn v. Owens, 2 Strobh. (S. C.) 101.

An assent to the bequest of an equitable interest does not vest the legal title in the legatee. Merritt v. Windley, 14 N. C. 399.

Title against creditors.— The possession of a legacy by a legatee for four years after assent of the executor will confer title against the creditors of the testator. Alexander v. Williams, 2 Hill (S. C.) 522.

56. Alabama.— Whorton v. Moragne, 62 Ala. 201, executor as legatee.
North Carolina.— Alston v. Foster, 16 N. C. 337.
South Carolina.—Nunn v. Owens, 2 Strobh. 101; Alexander v. Williams, 2 Hill 522; McMullin v. Brown, 2 Hill Eq. 457; Fronty v. Godard, Bailey Eq. 517.
Tennessee.— Lyon v. Vick, 6 Yerg. 42.
Virginia.— Randolph v. Randolph, 6 Rand. 194; Sampson v. Bryce, 5 Munf. 175; Burnley v. Lambert, 1 Wash. 308.

A bona fide assent, without collusion with the legatee to defraud creditors, vests the legacy in the legatee beyond the control of the executor or any creditor who has to reach the property through an execution against the executor; and after assent a sale under such an execution is void. Alexander v. Williams, 2 Hill (S. C.) 522.

57. Brock v. Sims, 1 Speers (S. C.) 49; Moore v. Barry, 1 Bailey (S. C.) 504, although the legatee be an infant.

D. Executor or Administrator as Legatee or Distributee — 1. Title, Rights, and Liabilities in General. When an executor is also legatee or distributee no formal act is necessary to vest title to the legacy or distributive share in him as an individual;[58] any act on his part showing an intention to retain assets in payment being sufficient.[59] But he cannot, without an order of court,[60] or a settlement or agreement with his co-legatee or co-distributee,[61] retain his legacy or share from the assets of the estate to the exclusion or in preference of other legatees, distributees, or creditors,[62] as by applying it to debts due by him to the estate.[63] Nor can he transfer to himself, as legatee or distributee, property belonging to the estate before he has settled his administration account and paid the debts and prior legacies due from the estate.[64]

2. Residuary or Sole Legatee Acting as Executor. An executor who is also residuary legatee acquires full title to the residuary assets only when all debts, charges, and legacies are paid[65] and he is judicially determined to be the sole or residuary legatee.[66] It has been held that this is true notwithstanding he has given the bond permitted by statute in such cases for the payment of debts and

58. In re Mullon, 145 N. Y. 98, 39 N. E. 821 [affirming 74 Hun 358, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 683]; Blood v. Kane, 130 N. Y. 514, 29 N. E. 294, 15 L. R. A. 490; Stuart v. Carson, 1 Desauss. (S. C.) 500.

Possession by a co-executor of personal chattels bequeathed to the widow, who is also one of the executors, immediately vests in her as legatee, that of the executors, as such, being divested. Golder v. Littlejohn, 30 Wis. 344.

Allowance of bequest by court.—The allowance of a credit by the probate court in the account of the executors, of whom the widow is one, of a certain amount for "personal property bequeathed to the widow," does not operate to vest that amount absolutely in the widow, so that it cannot be reclaimed by the surviving executor after her death, where it does not appear that the construction of the will was in question. Vreeland v. Westervelt, 45 N. J. Eq. 572, 17 Atl. 695.

59. Boone v. Dyke, 3 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 529; In re Richardson, [1896] 1 Ch. 512, 65 L. J. Ch. 512, 74 L. T. Rep. N. S. 12, 44 Wkly. Rep. 279.

A deposit in his individual name by an executor, who is also legatee, of rents which he had collected is legitimate proof of an intention to retain them in part payment of his legacy. Hanbest's Estate, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 72.

60. Cutliff v. Boyd, 72 Ga. 302.

61. Cutliff v. Boyd, 72 Ga. 302.

An assignment of assets by co-executors to an executor who is also residuary legatee gives him a good title thereto under the will and assignment together. Hitchcock v. Merritt, 15 Wis. 522.

62. Georgia.— McMillan v. Toombs, 79 Ga. 143, 4 S. E. 16.

Kentucky.— Beauchamp v. Handley, 1 B. Mon. 135, holding that where an executor, who is also co-devisee with another of land held by title bond, recovers judgment on such bond, he holds the judgment as trustee for his co-devisee, and if he afterward acquires the land, with the proceeds of the judgment, the co-devisee or his assignee will be entitled to the same interest in the land as the executor.

Louisiana.— Cordeviolle's Succession, 24 La. Ann. 319, holding that an executrix who is also an heir cannot as heir retain the purchase-money of certain property in her possession until distribution.

New York.— Matter of Van Houten, 18 N. Y. App. Div. 301, 46 N. Y. Suppl. 190.

North Carolina.— Little v. Hager, 67 N. C. 135.

Pennsylvania.— Com. v. Cochran, 146 Pa. St. 223, 23 Atl. 203.

South Carolina.— Gardsden v. Lord, 1 Desauss. 208; Atcheson v. Robertson, 4 Rich. Eq. 39. And see Turnipseed v. Sirrine, 60 S. C. 272, 38 S. E. 423.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1164.

63. Breitling v. Clarke, 49 Ala. 450; Cutliff v. Boyd, 72 Ga. 302, notes given by him to the deceased.

64. Matter of Van Houten, 18 N. Y. App. Div. 301, 46 N. Y. Suppl. 190; Lewis v. Ewing, 18 Pa. St. 313, although he is sole residuary legatee or distributee.

An executor may retain as his own any specific chattel of his own held by his testator which came into his hands as executor, and which he might have recovered in an action at law, were he not executor. Saunders v. Saunders, 2 Litt. (Ky.) 314.

65. In re Mullon, 145 N. Y. 98, 39 N. E. 821 [affirming 74 Hun 358, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 683]; Blood v. Kane, 130 N. Y. 514, 29 N. E. 994, 15 L. R. A. 490; Drake v. Paige, 127 N. Y. 562, 28 N. E. 407 [affirming 52 Hun 292, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 466]; Harding v. Harding, 16 L. J. Ch. 179.

A devastavit committed by one of several residuary legatees who is also an executor prevents him from taking any of the residue until such loss is made good. Buerhaus v. De Saussure, 41 S. C. 457, 19 S. E. 926, 20 S. E. 64.

66. Jones v. Roberts, 84 Wis. 465, 54 N. W. 917.

legacies,[67] but in some jurisdictions he is held to acquire title as an individual to the personal estate on his filing such bond.[68]

E. Time For Distribution[69] — 1. In General. Although the distribution of a decedent's estate should be made at the earliest possible moment consistent with the rights of creditors and the safety of the representative,[70] as a general rule it cannot be made or ordered[71] until after administration has been granted,[72] and the payment of all debts and final settlement of the representative's account,[73] or until after the expiration of the statutory period for the filing of claims and settling the estate.[74] A distributee or surviving spouse may waive objections

67. Collins v. Collins, 140 Mass. 502, 5 N. E. 632; Jenkins v. Wood, 140 Mass. 66, 2 N. E. 780; Jones v. Richardson, 5 Metc. (Mass.) 247; Gore v. Brazier, 3 Mass. 523, 3 Am. Dec. 182; Evans v. Foster, 80 Wis. 509, 50 N. W. 410, 14 L. R. A. 117. But see Cole's Will, 52 Wis. 591, 9 N. W. 664, holding that, where an executrix and sole legatee named in the will gives such bond, title to the whole estate passes to her and the administration is ended; but she is liable upon said bond for the costs awarded out of the estate to contestants.

The acceptance of a devise by a residuary legatee and executrix, subject to the lien of a legacy to another person, renders her personally liable to pay such legacy, although the will exempts her from giving bond. Evans v. Foster, 80 Wis. 509, 50 N. W. 410, 14 L. R. A. 117.

68. Richardson v. Bailey, 69 N. H. 384, 41 Atl. 263, 76 Am. St. Rep. 176; Mercer v. Pike, 58 N. H. 286; Batchelder v. Russell, 10 N. H. 39.

Where no bond was given for the payment of debts and legacies the estate of the deceased executor, who was also residuary legatee, is not liable for an unpaid legacy. Seavey v. Roberts, 63 N. H. 621, 3 Atl. 634.

69. Time for payment of legacies see, generally, WILLS.

70. Sinnott v. Kenaday, 12 App. Cas. (D. C.) 115; Sterrett v. National Safe Deposit, etc., Co., 10 App. Cas. (D. C.) 131; Hasley's Succession, 27 La. Ann. 586; Alexander v. Stewart, 8 Gill & J. (Md.) 226.

71. Exceptional cases.— McDearman v. Martin, 38 Ark. 261; Reynolds v. People, 55 Ill. 328.

72. Cargile v. Harrison, 9 B. Mon. (Ky.) 518. But see Ross v. Ross, 4 Ch. Chamb. (U. C.) 27, where, the amount of the legacy being small, an order for its payment without letters of administration was made.

Where the probate of a will is set aside, the probate court cannot at the same time order distribution; but new and suitable letters should first be taken out. Garner v. Lansford, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 558.

73. Alabama.— Horton v. Averett, 20 Ala. 719; Thrash v. Sumwalt, 5 Ala. 13.

California.— In re Coursen, (1901) 65 Pac. 965; In re Sheid, 122 Cal. 528, 55 Pac. 328, 129 Cal. 172, 61 Pac. 920; Smith v. Westerfield, 88 Cal. 374, 26 Pac. 206; In re Pritchett, 51 Cal. 568, 52 Cal. 94.

Iowa.— Linton v. Crosby, 61 Iowa 401, 16 N. W. 342.

Massachusetts.— Browne v. Doolittle, 151 Mass. 595, 25 N. E. 23.

Mississippi.— Thornton v. Glover, 25 Miss. 132.

Missouri.— Clarke v. Sinks, 144 Mo. 448, 46 S. W. 199.

New Jersey.— Wade v. Potter, 14 N. J. L. 278, holding that the widow of an intestate cannot come into court for her distributive share before the settlement of her husband's estate.

New York.— Robinson v. Adams, 30 Misc. 537, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 816.

Pennsylvania.— Mazurie's Estate, 33 Leg. Int. 256.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1185; and supra, XI, B.

An executor's account must be filed, audited, and confirmed before the distribution of any part of the estate can be ordered. Hanbest's Estate, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 31; In re Reinheimer, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 160.

Pending the judicial settlement of an account, payment of legacies or other claims will not be ordered without some very good reason. In re Harris, 1 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 162; In re Harding, 24 Pa. St. 189, holding that exceptions to probate accounts should be disposed of before the fund is referred to an auditor for distribution.

Refusal to file account.— Where an estate has been settled, excepting a claim by the executors, which cannot be adjusted until they file their final account, which they refuse to do in obedience to an order of the probate court, and the persons entitled to the estate have adjusted matters between themselves, they are entitled to an order assigning the property to them and discharging the executors. In re Lambie, 112 Mich. 118, 70 N. W. 442.

74. Alabama.— Jackson v. Rowell, 87 Ala. 685, 6 So. 95, 4 L. R. A. 637; Ward v. Oates, 42 Ala. 225; Harrison v. Harrison, 9 Ala. 470, eighteen months.

Arkansas.— McDearman v. Martin, 38 Ark. 261, two years.

California.— In re Sheid, 122 Cal. 528, 55 Pac. 328, 129 Cal. 172, 61 Pac. 920; Smith v. Westerfield. 88 Cal. 374, 26 Pac. 206; Letellier's Estate, 74 Cal. 311, 15 Pac. 847.

District of Columbia.— Sinnott v. Kenady, 12 App. Cas. 115.

Georgia.— Williams v. Lancaster, 113 Ga. 1020, 39 S. E. 471; Selman v. Milliken, 28 Ga. 366, holding that an executor is not subject to garnishment for the distributive to a distribution on the ground that it was premature,[75] or may be estopped to object.[76]

2. Partial Distribution.[77] The personal representative may, however, be allowed or ordered to make a partial distribution before final settlement of his accounts or the expiration of the statutory period, where it can be made without prejudice to the rights of creditors and other persons interested;[78] and in some jurisdictions this is expressly provided for by statute.[79] But where proceedings share of an heir until the expiration of twelve months after his appointment.

Illinois.— Haskins v. Martin, 103 Ill. App. 115, holding that it is the representative's duty to apply for an order of distribution, after the time for presenting claims has expired and he has filed a report showing a cash balance in his hands belonging to the heirs.

Indiana.— Fleece v. Jones, 71 Ind. 340, one year.

Kentucky.— Com. v. Hammond, 10 B. Mon. 62, nine months.

Louisiana.— Toy's Succession, 14 La. Ann. 536.

Maryland.— Yakel v. Yakel, 96 Md. 240.

Mississippi.— Packwood v. Elliott, 43 Miss. 504 (twelve months); Young v. Ross, 31 Miss. 556; Fort v. Battle, 13 Sm. & M. 133.

Missouri.— Clarke v. Sinks, 144 Mo. 448, 46 S. W. 199.

Montana.— In re McFarland, 10 Mont. 586, 27 Pac. 389.

Pennsylvania.— Edgar v. Shields, 1 Grant 361.

Rhode Island.— Steere v. Wood, 15 R. I. 199, 2 Atl. 551, three years.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1185 et seq.

In New York, under Code Civ. Proc. § 2728, as amended by Laws (1895), c. 426, and § 2743, as amended by Laws (1898), c. 565, in case of administration in intestacy, payment and distribution may be decreed before the expiration of one year, where the administrator has voluntarily petitioned for judicial settlement of his accounts; but in case of an executor under the will, his accounts cannot be judicially settled and a distribution decreed before the expiration of one year from the issuance of letters testamentary, although all the beneficiaries under the will and the next of kin and heirs of the decedent consent thereto. In re Lansing, 37 Misc. 177, 74 N. Y. Suppl. 945; Matter of Lawson, 36 Misc. 96, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 645; Matter of Bronner, 30 Misc. 31, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 1003.

The dismissal of a petition for distribution filed prior to the expiration of the time allowed for filing claims should be without prejudice to the right to renew it at the proper time. Sinnott v. Kenaday, 12 App. Cas. (D. C.) 115.

Where an executor refuses to pay a legacy upon demand after the expiration of the statutory period, an action to recover the same may be maintained at once without waiting for the judicial settlement of his account. Bernardston Cong. Unitarian Soc. v. Hale, 29 N. Y. App. Div. 396, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 704. And see infra, XI, M.

75. McReynolds v. Jones, 30 Ala. 101, holding that where a widow after dissenting from her husband's will makes application for a division of slaves belonging to the estate she cannot afterward have the division set aside because it was made before the lapse of eighteen months from the grant of administration.

76. McReynolds v. Jones, 30 Ala. 101; In re Levinson, 98 Cal. 654, 33 Pac. 726.

77. Requirement of refunding bond or other indemnity on partial distribution see infra, XI, G.

78. Alabama.— Sankey v. Elsberry, 10 Ala. 455.

California.— In re Levinson, 98 Cal. 654, 33 Pac. 726; Roberts' Estate, (1885) 7 Pac. 758.

Illinois.— Curts v. Brooks, 71 Ill. 125; Reynolds v. People, 55 Ill. 328.

Kentucky.— Fletcher v. Sanders, 7 Dana 345, 32 Am. Dec. 96.

Montana.— In re Phillips, 18 Mont. 311, 45 Pac. 222.

Ohio.— Disney v. Hawes, 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 406, 12 Cinc. L. Bul. 322; In re Isherwood, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 143, 7 Ohio N. P. 332.

Pennsylvania.— Gable's Appeal, 40 Pa. St. 231; Flintham v. Forsythe, 9 Serg. & R. 133; Neal's Estate, 14 Wkly. Notes Cas. 258. But see Seitzinger's Estate, 2 Woodw. 348.

England.— In re Richardson, [1896] 1 Ch. 512, 65 L. J. Ch. 512, 74 L. T. Rep. N. S. 12, 44 Wkly. Rep. 279.

Partial distribution in favor of a dowress out of the personal estate of her deceased husband should not be ordered until the accounts of the executor are made up and the commissioners proceed to make division. Chaires v. Shepard, 7 Fla. 77.

The pendency of a suit by an executrix in her personal capacity against herself in her representative capacity for money paid for funeral expenses is not a proper ground of objection to an order for partial distribution where it has already been decided that such action cannot be maintained. In re Phillips, 18 Mont. 311, 45 Pac. 222.

79. California.— In re Hale, 121 Cal. 125, 53 Pac. 429; In re Painter, 115 Cal. 635, 47 Pac. 700; In re Crocker, 105 Cal. 368, 38 Pac. 954.

District of Columbia.—Sterrett v. National Safe Deposit, etc., Co., 10 App. Cas. 131; Cropper v. McLane, 6 App. Cas. 119, holding that partial distribution may be ordered durare pending which suspend the functions of the representative, or where his right to distribute does not exist, partial distribution should not be decreed or enforced.[80]

3. Before Probate of Will. Although an executor cannot be compelled to pay legacies before probate of the will or his qualification as executor,[81] his subsequent qualification relates back by construction to the death of his testator and validates a payment so made.[82]

4. Before Decree of Distribution. Ordinarily a representative cannot be compelled to pay a distributive share before an order or decree of distribution;[83] but where all debts that have been allowed have been paid and the time for presenting others has expired, it is his duty to turn over the residue to heirs ing the pendency of a non-suspensive appeal from an order admitting the will to probate.

Indiana.— Chapell v. Shuee, 117 Ind. 481, 20 N. E. 417; Lilly v. Stahl, 5 Ind. 447.

Mississippi.— Anderson v. Gregg, 44 Miss. 170.

New York.— Gilman v. Gilman, 63 N. Y. 41 [affirming 4 Hun 69, 6 Thomps. & C. 211]; Matter of Ockerhausen, 57 Hun 590, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 928; Barnes v. Barnes, 13 Hun 233; Keteltas v. Green, 9 Hun 599. And see Hoyt v. Jackson, 1 Dem. Surr. 553; Seymour v. Butler, 3 Bradf. Surr. 193, holding that where a testator bequeathed a legacy to his wife in lieu of dower, and there was delay in probating the will, the surrogate was authorized to order payment of such portion of the legacy as was necessary for the widow's maintenance, provided the assets were more than sufficient to pay the debts, and a satisfactory indemnity bond was given. Residuary legatees are not within the application of the New York statute on this point. Lockwood v. Lockwood, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 330.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1186.

The surplus of "one third" required by N. Y. Code, § 2719, to allow the surrogate to decree payment to a legatee or distributee within a year, etc., is to be estimated by excluding the amount of the petitioner's claim and payments already made. Tuttle v. Heidermann, 5 Redf. Surr. 199.

Pending an appeal as to part of an estate, the other part may, on order of the court, be distributed by the administrator. Sterrett v. National Safe Deposit, etc., Co., 10 App. Cas. (D. C.) 131.

"Necessary" in a statute providing for an advancement by executors of part of legacies, when adjudged by the court to be "necessary for support," is used in a relative sense, having reference to the station in society of the beneficiary, her former mode of life, and the estate to which she has been accustomed and will ultimately be entitled. Lockwood v. Lockwood, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 330.

That "the estate is but little indebted," within the meaning of a statute, is used relatively and as referring to a condition of things in which the debts are small as compared with the value of the estate, and not absolutely, so as to require the estate to be but little indebted regardless of its value. In re Crocker, 105 Cal. 368, 38 Pac. 954.

80. In re Welch, 106 Cal. 427, 39 Pac. 805, holding that a partial distribution cannot be decreed, while the estate is in the hands of a special administrator appointed pending proceedings to remove the general administrator.

Where the audit of a representative's account is continued pending a new trial involving a contest of the will, a petition by certain legatees for partial distribution should be dismissed. Neal's Estate, 14 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 258.

A decree of partial distribution of real property is improper, where the court has ordered such property to be sold to pay debts and the expenses of administration; and the fact that such order is suspended by an appeal does not justify a distribution which would defeat the order of sale if it should be affirmed. In re Freud, 134 Cal. 333, 66 Pac. 476.

Under N. Y. Code Civ. Proc. § 2650, providing that, after service on an executor or administrator with the will annexed of a citation to show cause why probate of the will should not be revoked, he must suspend acts that he has been expressly allowed to perform by order of the surrogate, the surrogate cannot order, after service of such citation, a portion of the estate to be divided among the legatees. In re McGowan, 28 Hun 246.

81. State v. Judge New Orleans Probate Ct., 4 Rob. (La.) 42; Ward v. Bowen, 2 Sneed (Tenn.) 58, holding that no suit by attachment or otherwise can be brought against an executor before the probate of the will or his qualification as executor to reach a legacy bequeathed by the will.

82. Pinkham v. Grant, 78 Me. 158, 3 Atl. 179.

83. Illinois.— Neubrecht v. Santmeyer, 50 Ill. 74.

Maine.— Hawes v. Williams, 92 Me. 483, 43 Atl. 101.

Massachusetts.— Cathaway v. Bowles, 136 Mass. 54.

Mississippi.— Thornton v. Glover, 25 Miss. 132.

New Jersey.— Ordinary v. Smith, 15 N. J. L. 92; Sayre v. Sayre, 16 N. J. Eq. 505.

England —Canterbury v. Tappen, 8 B. & C. 151, 15 E. C. L. 82; Canterbury v. Robertson, 1 Cromp. & M. 690.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1190.

and distributees,[84] and he may do so without waiting for an order of the probate court.[85]

5. Suspending or Withholding Distribution. Distribution may be suspended or withheld pending the determination of disputes affecting the distribution,[86] as the determination of the right to and amount of uncollected assets,[87] or where distribution cannot be immediately had without prejudice to the estate,[88] or pending the determination of a suit in which garnishment or other suitable process has been issued against the representative for a claim against the distributee,[89] even though a decree for payment has been rendered[90] or the money has been paid into court.[91]

6. Presumptions. After the lapse of a considerable period from the time within which a representative is required to settle his accounts, it will be presumed that they have been settled and the balance distributed,[92] and the repre-

84. Brown v. Forsche, 43 Mich. 492, 5 N. W. 1011.

85. Connecticut.— State v. Whitehouse, 75 Conn. 410, 53 Atl. 897.

Massachusetts.— Palmer v. Whitney, 166 Mass. 306, 44 N. E. 229.

Michigan.— Brown v. Forsche, 43 Mich. 492, 5 N. W. 1011.

Minnesota.— Krause v. Krause, 81 Minn. 484, 84 N. W. 332.

Missouri.— Clarke v. Sinks, 144 Mo. 448, 46 S. W. 199; State v. Morton, 18 Mo. 53; State v. Rankin, 4 Mo. 426.

Vermont.— In re Scott, 36 Vt. 297.

Washington.— Griffin v. Warburton, 23 Wash. 231, 62 Pac. 765.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1190.

86. In re Kittson, 45 Minn. 197, 48 N. W. 419; Gibbons v. Shepard, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 247 (dispute as to person entitled); In re Fulton, 200 Pa. St. 545, 50 Atl. 187 (holding that where one comes into an orphans' court with a claim against a decedent's estate which he should have prosecuted in a court of general equity jurisdiction, settlement and distribution of the estate should be suspended for only such time as is sufficient to permit him to file a bill and prosecute it with diligence to final hearing); Wistar's Estate, 13 Phila. (Pa.) 242; Hulse's Estate, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 130. Compare Gallagher's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 214.

Indebtedness to estate.— In Delaware it has been held that a legacy presently payable cannot be set off in equity against a debt of the legatee to the estate, not yet due. Hayes v. Hayes, (Del. Ch. 1901) 73 Am. Dec. 709. But in Pennsylvania the court seems to have taken a different view. See Sproul's Appeal, 105 Pa. St. 442, holding that where a testator was a surety on an administration bond given by a legatee, the fact that the said legatee was in default as administrator was a reason for withholding payment of the legacy until the contingent liability of the testator's estate for the legatee's default was discharged although it was no reason for a refusal to allow interest to accrue upon such legacy.

Distribution will not be stayed because one of the next of kin testified on the trial of the caveat that he was informed and believed that the intestate left a valid will, although the same cannot be found. Sterrett v. National Safe Deposit, etc., Co., 10 App. Cas. (D. C.) 131.

Pending the contest of a will the surrogate has no jurisdiction to order the payment of a portion of a legacy or distributive share. Riegelman v. Riegelman, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 492.

87. In re Ricaud, 57 Cal. 421; In re Ockershausen, 15 N. Y. Suppl. 510.

When the assets consist of choses in action uncollected, a final settlement and distribution cannot be made unless the distributees will consent to receive the notes or other evidences of debt, or unless the administrator has by negligence made himself liable for them. Anderson v. Gregg, 44 Miss. 170.

Where collection is improbable, and there is a large amount of money on hand after paying all of decedent's debts, a final settlement and distribution should be made; and where there are infant distributees the unpaid claims should pass to their guardian, who can assert their rights thereto. Bellinger v. Ingalls, 21 Oreg. 191, 27 Pac. 1038.

88. Christian's Estate, 13 Pa. Co. Ct. 283, holding that where an executor has in his hands securities of fluctuating value and they cannot be sold without prejudice to the estate distribution will not be immediately ordered.

89. Miller v. Simpson, (Ky. 1886) 2 S. W. 171; In re Davis, 27 Mont. 490, 71 Pac. 757; Sherwood v. Judd, 3 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 419; Cotton's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 268; Boy's Estate, 1 Pa. Co. Ct. 66; Millard's Estate, 26 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 189.

False process or false notice of process will not avail against the executor or administrator who notwithstanding makes payment to the distributee as he was ordinarily bound to make it. Bolton v. Stretch, 30 N. J. Eq. 536.

90. Sherwood v. Judd, 3 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 419.

91. Millard's Estate, 26 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 189.

92. Alabama.— Worley v. High, 40 Ala. 171; Austin v. Jordan, 35 Ala. 642; Blackwell v. Blackwell, 33 Ala. 57, 70 Am. Dec.

sentative cannot thereafter be compelled to make a distribution, unless he has made some admission or done some act to remove the bar created by the presumption,[93] or the presumption is overcome by other evidence.[94]

7. Effect of Representative's Death Before Distribution. Where an executor or administrator dies after settling his accounts, showing funds in his hands belonging to legatees or distributees, the latter may commence proceedings to recover the amount to which they are entitled without waiting until the personal representative of such deceased executor or administrator has settled his account in the probate court,[95] although it is otherwise if he dies without settling such an account.[96]

8. Limitations. By analogy to the statute of limitations a petition in the probate court for the payment of a legacy or distributive share should be instituted within the time in which suits of the same character are required to be commenced in courts of common law or of equity.[97]

556; Barnett v. Tarrence, 23 Ala. 463; Gantt v. Phillips, 23 Ala. 275; Rhodes v. Turner, 21 Ala. 210.

New Jersey.— White River Village Cong. Church v. Benedict, 59 N. J. Eq. 136, 44 Atl. 878 [affirmed in 62 N. J. Eq. 812, 48 Atl. 1117].

New York.— In re Bedell, 1 N. Y. Suppl. 287.

North Carolina.— Cox v. Brower, 114 N. C. 422, 19 S. E. 365.

Pennsylvania.—Wilkinson's Estate, 1 Pars. Eq. Cas. 170; Ingraham v. Cox, 1 Pa. L. J. Rep. 464.

South Carolina.—Sager v. Warley, Rice Eq. 26.

Texas.— Marks v. Hill, 46 Tex. 345.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1198.

An administrator of a deceased distributee or legatee is subject to this presumption (Sager v. Warley, Rice Eq. (S. C.) 26), although there may have been an interval of several years between the death of the legatee or distributee and the appointment of his administrator (Cox v. Brower, 114 N. C. 422, 19 S. E. 365).

The usual period of prescription is twenty years (See cases cited supra, this note) and a lapse of seven years (Strohm's Appeal, 23 Pa. St. 351) or even of twelve or fifteen years (Bird v. Graham, 21 N. C. 168) has been held insufficient to raise the presumption.

Ignorance of a legacy by the legatee does not preclude the presumption of payment arising from the lapse of twenty years, as against a purchaser of land under the will, where the executor had ample personal assets to pay the legacy, and the purchaser did not know that the assets were not so applied. White River Village Cong. Church v. Benedict, 59 N. J. Eq. 136, 44 Atl. 878 [affirmed in 62 N. J. Eq. 812, 48 Atl. 1117].

93. McCartney v. Bone, 40 Ala. 533.

94. Blackwell v. Blackwell, 33 Ala. 57, 70 Am. Dec. 556; Hubley's Appeal, 19 Pa. St. 138.

The pendency of a suit against the representative within twenty years excludes such presumption. Winston v. Street, 2 Patt. & H. (Va.) 169.

Filing of an account for a final settlement within twenty years, upon which a decree has been rendered, does not rebut the presumption. McCartney v. Bone, 40 Ala. 533.

Where the distributee was an infant for twenty years after the date of the administration bond, and instituted proceedings against the administrator within seven years after coming of age, the presumption will not arise. Brown v. McCall, 3 Hill (S. C.) 335. But see McCartney v. Bone, 40 Ala. 533.

95. Richardson v. Richardson, 9 Pa. St. 428; Doebler v. Snavely, 5 Watts (Pa.) 225 (holding that, upon the settlement of a joint administration account by two executors and the subsequent death of one of them, an action may be maintained against the personal representative of the deceased executor to recover a legacy under the will of his testator, upon the allegation and proof that funds came into the hands of such deceased executor separately); Moore v. George, 10 Leigh (Va.) 228.

Distributees who are guilty of great delay and laches in asserting their claim against a solvent administrator in his lifetime must produce clear and undoubted proof of their claim when it is presented against his estate. Kernell v. Crutcher, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1901) 61 S. W. 1045.

96. Whiteside v. Whiteside, 20 Pa. St. 473.

Where an executrix who is also a legatee dies without making any report, her accounts must be adjusted by a court of equity before distribution can be ordered. Curtiss v. Curtiss, 65 Cal. 572, 4 Pac. 578.

97. Davis v. Townsend, 45 Minn. 523, 48 N. W. 405; Clock v. Chadeagne, 10 Hun (N. Y.) 97; Matter of Miller, 15 Misc. (N. Y.) 556, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 1129 (holding that a proceeding to obtain a distributive share will not be taken out of the statute by reason of the fact that within six years the administrator furnished to each of the next of kin an account showing an indebtedness to him in which he credited himself with disbursements incurred within the six years); McCartee v. Camel, 1 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 455; Duhme v. Mehner, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 107, 3 Ohio N. P. 266 (six years); In re Rowe, 58 L. J.

F. Requirement of Receipt or Release — 1. Right to Require. The personal representative may require a receipt or release as a condition precedent to the payment of the amount due on a legacy or distributive share;[98] but he cannot require the legatee or distributee to pay the costs of such release.[99]

2. Requisites to Validity — a. In General. In order that such acquittances may be valid as against the legatee or distributee, the latter must have had full knowledge of all the circumstances with respect to his rights in the distribution.[1] In case of an allotment to a devisee or legatee, the receipt should be in substance and form as referred to in the will.[2]

b. By Married Woman. In the absence of statute a receipt or release given by a married woman should also be executed by her husband,[3] except where it is for a legacy bequeathed to her separate use.[4]

3. Construction, Operation, and Effect. Unless the legatee or distributee is estopped,[5] a receipt or release is open to explanation or impeachment,[6] as by

Ch. 703, 61 L. T. Rep. N. S. 581. See also Descent and Distribution, 14 Cyc. 149, 160; and, generally, Wills.

Running of the statute of limitations in such cases begins at the time of final settlement of the representative's account (Bernardston Cong. Unitarian Soc. v. Hale, 29 N. Y. App. Div. 396, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 704), or at the time of the order of court directing distribution (Smith v. Moore, 102 Va. 260, 46 S. E. 326. See also Matter of Gall, 42 N. Y. App. Div. 255, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 254). But as against a proceeding by subsequently discovered heirs to obtain an order for the payment to them of moneys paid into the state treasury by the administrator under an order of the probate court because there were no known heirs, limitation begins to run only from the date of publication by the administrator of the special notice required by statute to be given the unknown heirs. In re Bomino, 83 Mo. 433.

Burden of proving new promise.— Where a distributee sues the personal representative of the administrator to recover his distributive share and defendant pleads the statute of limitation, the burden of proof is on plaintiff to prove a new promise by the administrator within the limit of the statute. Edwards v. Harness, 87 Ill. App. 471.

98. Sterrett v. National Safe Deposit, etc., Co., 10 App. Cas. (D. C.) 131; Smyley's Estate, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 266 (holding that the payment to attorneys of the distributees with instructions to procure releases before paying over does not justify the distributees in proceeding against such attorneys, in disregard of the condition precedent of payment); Johnson v. Johnson, 108 N. C. 619, 13 S. E. 183; In re Fortune, Ir. R. 4 Eq. 351.

A legatee for life may be required, as a condition precedent to the executor's assenting to or delivering the legacy to him, to sign an inventory of the chattels admitting their reception, and that he is entitled to have them only for life, after which they belong to the remainder-man. Howell v. Howell, 38 N. C. 522.

A receipt for a monthly allowance, as in lieu of dower, cannot be required of a widow by the executor as a condition precedent to the paying of such allowance, where the order therefor contains no provision that it shall be so received, although she agreed for a valuable consideration prior to the obtaining of the order that it should be in lieu of dower. In re Dekum, 28 Oreg. 97, 41 Pac. 159.

99. In re Fortune, Ir. R. 4 Eq. 351.

1. Welch v. Lewis, 104 Ky. 531, 47 S. W. 454, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 716 (holding that a release given by heirs without consideration will be set aside where it was given under a mistaken belief that the estate was insolvent and was induced by a misunderstanding of representations made to them by the widow); Arthur v. Nelson, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 337; Michoud v. Girod, 4 How. (U. S.) 503, 11 L. ed. 1076 (holding acquittances not binding where information had been withheld by the executor).

2. Johnson v. Johnson, 108 N. C. 619, 13 S. E. 183.

3. Barrett's Estate, 31 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 53, holding that where a feme covert, as authorized by the act of April 11, 1856, executes a full release to an executor without her husband joining with her, such release does not discharge the executor from his position as such. And see Lawson's Appeal, 23 Pa. St. 85.

4. Guild v. Peck, 11 Paige (N. Y.) 475, holding that the receipt of a feme covert for a legacy bequeathed to her separate use is a good discharge to the executor.

5. Tunnell v. Burton, 4 Del. Ch. 382; In re Koehnken, 25 Ohio Cir. Ct. 245; Risher's Estate, 40 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 131, holding that one may be hindered in setting aside the effect of a release by his own laches, as in permitting without objection a bona fide distribution in accordance with the release. And see English's Estate, 16 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 511.

6. Illinois.— Ross v. Smith, 47 Ill. App. 197, 198, holding that a receipt given by a widow for a certain sum, "Amount due me in full in the estate of . . . deceased, under the will annexed, and in lieu of widow's award," did not estop her to claim that she received the money, not as a bequest under the will, but in lieu of the articles enumerated by statute as the widow's award.

showing that it was obtained through fraud and misrepresentations,[7] or for an inadequate consideration;[8] and is binding only for the amount actually received[9] or mentioned therein.[10] But in the absence of such impeachment or explanation a receipt or release in full discharges the representative from further liability as representative to the legatee or distributee.[11] A receipt is evidence that an account was rendered by the executor or administrator and settled and its charges

Missouri.— Aull v. St. Louis Trust Co., 149 Mo. 1, 50 S. W. 289.

New York.— Colburn v. Lansing, 46 Barb. 37 (holding that it is competent for parties to a receipt to show for what purpose it was given, to what fund it referred, and to inquire into the consideration, so far at least it may be explained by parol); Arthur v. Nelson, 1 Dem. Surr. 337; Wilcox v. McCarthy, 3 Bradf. Surr. 284.

Pennsylvania.—Horton's Appeal, 38 Pa. St. 294.

Texas.— Hanlon v. Wheeler, (Civ. App. 1898) 45 S. W. 821.

United States.— Cowen v. Adams, 78 Fed. 536, 24 C. C. A. 198 [affirmed in 174 U. S. 800, 19 S. Ct. 873, 43 L. ed. 1188], holding that the receipt by a legatee from the administrators of collateral given by him for a debt due the testator does not estop him to dispute a receipt taken by such administrators for his share of the estate as having been paid by its application to such debts.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1201. And see, generally, RELEASE.

Pleading and proof.— On a bill to set aside a release the administrator cannot plead the release in bar of a discovery of the amount of the estate at the time of such release; but he should by proper negative averments in his plea deny the allegations of fraud, etc., and must support his plea by a full answer and discovery as to every equitable circumstance charged in the bill, in avoidance of such release. Bolton v. Gardner, 3 Paige (N. Y.) 273.

Under Ohio Rev. St. § 6190, a receipt delivered by a distributee to an administrator, and by him filed with his final account, although conclusive upon the parties in so far as the giving of the receipt is concerned, is not conclusive as to payment to such distributee. In re Koehnken, 25 Ohio Cir. Ct. 235.

7. Pennington v. L'Hommedieu, 7 N. J. Eq. 343; Berryhill's Appeal, 35 Pa. St. 245.

8. Pennington v. L'Hommedieu, 7 N. J. Eq. 343; Harris v. Dinkins, 4 Desauss. (S. C.) 60, holding that a release from all claims for one's "share in the estate," given for an inadequate consideration, applies to one's share in personal estate only, and not to the land besides, which he shared in inheritance.

9. Arkansas.— Ambleton v. Dyer, 53 Ark. 224, 13 S. W. 926.

Ohio.— In re Koehnken, 25 Ohio Cir. Ct. 245.

Pennsylvania.— In re Watson, 189 Pa. St. 150, 42 Atl. 5; Horton's Appeal, 38 Pa. St. 294, holding that a receipt given by a distributee for a sum "on compromise in full of all claims and demands against the estate" will not prevent the recovery of whatever balance may be actually due.

Tennessee.— McHaney v. McNeilly, 10 Heisk. 535.

Texas.— Hanlon v. Wheeler, (Civ. App. 1898) 45 S. W. 821.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1201.

A receipt as "in full" is not demandable by the executor if the receipt given covers the amount actually received. Godfrey v. Getchell, 46 Me. 537.

As evidence of payment.— A voucher showing a receipt of payment of a certain balance is prima facie evidence that no more was unpaid at that time, and throws upon the contestant the burden of showing the contrary. In re Sarment, 123 Cal. 331, 55 Pac. 1015; Dakin v. Demming, 6 Paige (N. Y.) 95.

The administrator will continue liable for any balance due until barred by the statute of limitations. In re Koehnken, 25 Ohio Cir. Ct. 245.

A release given by a guardian on the payment of a less sum than is due the minor, on a settlement of the estate, is inoperative except for the money actually paid to the guardian. Witman's Appeal, 28 Pa. St. 376. See Dakin v. Demming, 6 Paige (N. Y.) 95.

10. Lyman v. Clark, 9 Mass. 235.

11. Alabama.— Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227.

Iowa.— Kinney v. Newbold, 115 Iowa 145, 88 N. W. 328.

New Hampshire.— Lovett v. Morey, 66 N. H. 273, 20 Atl. 283.

New Jersey.— Dodson v. Sevars, 52 N. J. Eq. 611, 30 Atl. 477.

New York.— Matter of Murphy, 80 N. Y. App. Div. 238, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 530.

Virginia.— Mason v. Jones, 26 Gratt. 271.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1201.

An interest held by an executor as testamentary trustee for the releasor is not released by a release to him as executor of every interest the releasor possesses in the estate. Dority v. Dority, 40 N. Y. App. Div. 236, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 1073.

A receipt "in full for the legacy" will be presumed to be intended by the legatee to discharge land devised subject to the payment of the legacy. Schanck v. Arrowsmith, 9 N. J. Eq. 314.

A release acquiesced in for more than fifteen years may be sustained as an accord and satisfaction where given by a residuary legatee for a valuable consideration when the estate was unsettled and its value uncertain. Matter of Hodgman, 11 N. Y. App. Div. 344, 42 N. Y. Suppl. 1004.

allowed,[12] and that the legatee or distributee had notice of the settlement and might have appealed.[13]

4. Representative as Legatee or Distributee. Where the representative is also a legatee or distributee, he should execute and file a receipt in all respects like those required from other legatees or distributees.[14]

G. Security and Refunding Bond — 1. Necessity of Refunding Bond or Other Indemnity — a. In General. A legatee or distributee is in some jurisdictions required by statute, as a condition precedent to his being paid his legacy or distributive share or a portion thereof, to give to the personal representative a refunding bond or other indemnity for the return of money paid to him, whenever necessary for the payment of debts or legacies,[15] or to equalize distributive 12. De Coux v. Plantevignes, 10 La. 503, holding this to be true in case of a receipt by heirs for a balance.

An auditor, to whom an executor's account has been referred to audit and resettle, is not bound by a release given to the executor by a residuary legatee, expressing satisfaction with the account. Bloom's Appeal, 15 Pa. St. 403.

13. Camper v. Hayeth, 10 Ind. 528.

14. Johnson v. Johnson, 108 N. C. 619, 13 S. E. 183.

15. Connecticut.—Gen. St. 374 (Rev. St. § 400), providing for such bond, has fallen into disuse since the legal authority given to the court of probate to limit the exhibition of demands. Davis v. Vansands, 45 Conn. 600, 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,655; Griswold v. Bigelow, 6 Conn. 258.

Delaware.— State v. Rodney, 1 Houst. 442.

Indiana.— Chapell v. Shuee, 117 Ind. 481, 20 N. E. 417; Tapley v. McGee, 6 Ind. 56.

Kentucky.—Fleming v. Jones, 12 Bush 503. See under a former statute Mountjoy v. Pearce, 4 Metc. 97; Roberts v. Dale, 7 B. Mon. 199; Fletcher v. Sanders, 7 Dana 345, 32 Am. Dec. 96; Overstreet v. Potts, 4 Dana 138; Duncan v. Mizner, 4 J. J. Marsh. 443; Shirley v. Mitchell, 3 J. J. Marsh. 684; Neely v. Neely, 1 Litt. 292; Prewett v. Prewett, 4 Bibb 266.

Louisiana.— The only condition which an executor can impose on an heir before delivering possession of the estate to him is that the latter shall advance a sum sufficient to pay movable or particular legacies (Fisk's Succession, 3 La. Ann. 705; Carraby's Succession, 3 Rob. 349; Milne's Succession, 2 Rob. 382), the right of demanding security from such heirs before taking possession being in creditors of the estate only (Fisk's Succession, 3 La. Ann. 705). And see George's Succession, 4 La. Ann. 223, holding that the curator of a vacant succession cannot require security from the heirs and legatees for amounts due to creditors other than the state before delivering possession to the succession, where the heirs and legatees are not residents of Louisiana or citizens of any other state.

Mississippi.— Packwood v. Elliott, 43 Miss. 504; Maxwell v. Craft, 32 Miss. 307; Cannon v. Benson, 26 Miss. 395; Keith v. Jolly, 26 Miss. 131. And see Gammage v. Noble, 24 Miss. 150. A petitioner for distribution before final settlement is not required, under the statute of this state, to file a refunding bond with his petition. It is sufficient if the petition contains an offer to execute one, although the executor is not bound to make distribution until such bond be executed. Richmond v. Delay, 34 Miss. 83; Keith v. Jolly, 26 Miss. 131.

Montana.— In re Phillips, 18 Mont. 311, 45 Pac. 222.

New Hampshire.— Chandler v. Batchelder, 61 N. H. 370.

New Jersey.— Coddington v. Bispham, 36 N. J. Eq. 224; Vanderpool v. Vanderpool, 3 N. J. Eq. 120.

New York.—Barnes v. Barnes, 13 Hun 233; Haebler v. John Eichler Brewing Co., 25 Misc. 576, 55 N. Y. Suppl. 1071.

North Carolina.— Ingrams v. Terry, 9 N. C. 122.

Pennsylvania.— Robins' Estate, 180 Pa. St. 630, 37 Atl. 121; Schaeffer's Appeal, 119 Pa. St. 640, 13 Atl. 507; Simpson's Appeal, 109 Pa. St. 383; Jones' Appeal, 99 Pa. St. 124; Musser v. Oliver, 21 Pa. St. 362; Edgar v. Shields, 1 Grant 361; Dougherty v. Snyder, 15 Serg. & R. 84, 16 Am. Dec. 520; Rastaetter's Estate, 15 Pa. Super. Ct. 549; Sterling's Estate, 15 Pittsb. Leg. J. 505. A refunding bond which an executor is entitled to demand from the heirs can be demanded where the executor makes distribution, but not where distribution is made by an auditor and confirmed by the court. Barlet's Estate, 3 Kulp 241. There are but two methods by which distribution of decedent's estates will protect administrators: (1) Distribution by the court or by an auditor appointed for that purpose; and (2) distribution of the residue, after deducting known claims, under the direction of the court, and taking refunding bonds approved by the court from the distributees. Jones' Estate, 28 Pittsb. Leg. J. 375.

Tennessee.— Willeford v. Watson, 12 Heisk. 476; Morris v. Morris, 9 Heisk. 814; Molloy v. Elam, Meigs 590.

Texas.— Stephenson v. McFaddin, 42 Tex. 322.

Virginia.—Sheppard v. Starke, 3 Munf. 29.

West Virginia.—McGlaughlin v. McGlaughlin, 43 W. Va. 226, 27 S. E. 378.

England.— An executor of a lessee of a leasehold interest is entitled to be indemnified against the eventual breaches of the covenants, either by a retainer in court of a part of the assets, or by security of the legatees or distributees to refund. Brewer v. Pocock, 23 Beav. 310, 53 Eng. Reprint 122; Dean v.

shares,[16] notwithstanding in some jurisdictions there has been a decree of distribution,[17] and the court in ordering payment or distribution should direct the representative to require such bond or other indemnity,[18] unless there are circumstances within the knowledge of the court sufficient to justify it in dispensing

Allen, 20 Beav. 1, 52 Eng. Reprint 502; Dobson v. Carpenter, 12 Beav. 370, 50 Eng. Reprint 1103; Vernon v. Egmont, 1 Bligh N. S. 554, 4 Eng. Reprint 979; Fletcher v. Stevenson, 3 Hare 360, 8 Jur. 307, 13 L. J. Ch. 202, 25 Eng. Ch. 360; Cochrane v. Robinson, 5 Jur. 4, 10 L. J. Ch. 109, 11 Sim. 378, 34 Eng. Ch. 378; Hickling v. Boyer, 21 L. J. Ch. 388, 3 Macn. & G. 635, 42 Eng. Reprint 404. By the former rule, when legacies were paid, the legatee was required to give security to refund, in case any other debts should be discovered; but this practice has been discontinued, although the legatee's liability to refund remains. March v. Russell, 1 Jur. 588, 6 L. J. Ch. 303, 3 Myl. & C. 31, 14 Eng. Ch. 31, 40 Eng. Reprint 836. And see Noel v. Robinson, 2 Ch. Cas. 145, 22 Eng. Reprint 887, 2 Ch. Rep. 248, 21 Eng. Reprint 670, 2 Vent. 358, 1 Vern. 90, 23 Eng. Reprint 334.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1205.

Upon the presumption of death of some of the distributees by reason of their absence, it is proper to require security for the refunding of such amount as the absentees will be entitled to in case of their afterward appearing. Meaher's Estate, 10 Pa. Co. Ct. 221.

Indemnity against liability for an inheritance tax may be required by an executor from heirs whose distributive shares are subject to such tax. Fitzpatrick's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 726.

An administrator improperly appointed cannot claim a refunding bond before he will be compelled to pay over to the rightful parties assets of the intestate that may have come into his hands. McChord v. Fisher, 13 B. Mon. (Ky.) 193.

Actions.— A statute providing that no suit at law for a legacy or distributive share shall be instituted against a representative until security be given or tendered to refund in case of a deficiency of assets (Killen v. Adams, 1 Del. Ch. 184; Cowell v. Oxford, 6 N. J. L. 432) does not control a suit in equity (Killen v. Adams, 1 Del. Ch. 184; Wilson v. Fisher, 5 N. J. Eq. 493). And see Betts v. Van Dyke, 40 N. J. Eq. 149, holding that where a representative holds money as a trustee, a legatee entitled thereto may maintain an action therefor without giving a refunding bond.

16. Tapley v. McGee, 6 Ind. 56.

17. Murdock v. Washburn, 1 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 546; Walden v. Payne, 2 Wash. (Va.) 1. And see the cases cited in the following note.

In Pennsylvania it is held that a final decree of a court of competent jurisdiction, awarding distribution, will protect a representative, whether he has or has not taken refunding bonds from the distributees (Ferguson v. Yard, 164 Pa. St. 586, 30 Atl. 517; Charlton's Appeal, 88 Pa. St. 476; Stewart's Appeal, 86 Pa. St. 149; Stecher v. Com., 6 Whart. 60; McAvoy's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 233; Woodward's Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. 9; Clark's Estate, 1 Kulp 32; Gunkel's Estate, 6 Lanc. L. Rev. 217; Altinger's Estate, 42 Leg. Int. 56); and if an account has been filed by the representative a year from the grant of letters testamentary, an adjudication awarding distribution is after confirmation mandatory, and the representative cannot refuse compliance on the ground that no bond has been given (Pierson's Estate, 5 Pa. Dist. 424; Moorehead's Estate, 29 Pittsb. Leg. J. 291. And see Lejee's Estate, 5 Pa. Dist. 311). Nor is the giving of such a bond a prerequisite to the bringing of an action against the representative to recover a distributive share of the balance shown by such account. Baughman v. Kunkle, 8 Watts 483. But see Simpson's Appeal, 109 Pa. St. 383, where it was held that a distributee to whom a balance in the hands of an administrator was awarded by the orphans' court, on the adjudication of an account filed within one year from the grant of letters of administration, is not entitled to payment of such award without giving a refunding bond.

18. Alabama.— Johnston v. Fort, 30 Ala. 78.

Indiana.— Hayes v. Matlock, 27 Ind. 49; Tapley v. McGee, 6 Ind. 56; Mazelin v. Rouyer, 8 Ind. App. 27, 35 N. E. 303.

Kentucky.— Mountjoy v. Pearce, 4 Metc. 97; Overstreet v. Potts, 4 Dana 138; Duncan v. Mizner, 4 J. J. Marsh. 443; Shirley v. Mitchell, 3 J. J. Marsh. 684; Neely v. Neely, 1 Litt. 292; Prewett v. Prewett, 4 Bibb 266.

Massachusetts.— Browne v. Doolittle, 151 Mass. 595, 25 N. E. 23; Atherton v. Corliss, 101 Mass. 40.

Minnesota.— See Olson v. Fish, 75 Minn. 228, 77 N. W. 818.

New York.—Barnes v. Barnes, 13 Hun 233; In re Austin, 2 N. Y. Suppl. 875; Jones' Estate, 1 N. Y. Suppl. 751, 15 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 45.

Ohio.— Disney v. Hawes, 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 406, 12 Cinc. L. Bul. 322; In re Isherwood, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 143, 7 Ohio N. P. 332.

South Carolina.— Brown v. Cattell, 1 Desauss. 112.

Virginia.— McRae v. Brooks, 6 Munf. 157; Rootes v. Webb, 4 Munf. 77; Stovall v. Woodson, 2 Munf. 303. But see Handly v. Snodgrass, 9 Leigh 484, where it was held that the mere omission of a decree in favor of legatees against the executor to require of them a refunding bond was not ground for reversing the decree.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1205.

In Mississippi, however, it is held not neces-therewith,[19] as the lapse of time sufficient to raise the presumption that there are no outstanding debts.[20] Under some statutes the requirement of such bond or indemnity applies only in the case of distribution before the expiration of the period for filing claims against the estate.[21] Such bond is necessary even where there are sufficient assets to satisfy all demands against the estate.[22]

b. By Assignee of Legacy or Distributive Share. The assignee of a legacy or distributive share must in general give the same bond or indemnity as would be required of his assignor.[23]

c. By Creditor of Legatee or Distributee. A creditor of a legatee or distributee seeking to subject the latter's legacy or distributive share in the hands of the representative may also be required to give a refunding bond to meet outstanding claims.[24]

2. Waiver of Right to Require Bond. A representative may waive his right sary that a decree directing distribution before final settlement should require a refunding bond, as the law directs that a party shall not have the benefit of such decree until he has executed and delivered such bond. Mundy v. Calvert, 40 Miss. 181; French v. Davis, 38 Miss. 167. And see Crowder v. Shackelford, 35 Miss. 321.

Laches of the representative may estop him from objecting to a decree on the ground that the execution of a refunding bond is not therein required. Harman v. Davis, 30 Gratt. (Va.) 461.

19. Chambers v. Wright, 52 Ala. 444 (holding that it is not erroneous to decree an heir his share of a particular fund in the hands of an administrator without exacting a refunding bond, when the administrator shows by his answer no reason why it is improper, and it appears that the estate is solvent and that all the other heirs have received their share, and there is no allegation of outstanding indebtedness); Christian's Estate, 13 Pa. Co. Ct. 415 (holding that a refunding bond for the value of assets transferred by an executor under direction of court will not be required where a bond conditioned for the return of the assets in specie has already been given); Palmer's Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 453; Irwin's Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 452; Woodward's Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 9; Murgitroyde v. Cleary, 16 Lea (Tenn.) 539 (holding that, in a proper case and on satisfactory proof that there are unpaid debts owing the estate, chancery has jurisdiction to distribute the assets among those entitled without requiring refunding bonds).

20. Roberts v. Dale, 7 B. Mon. (Ky.) 199; Baughman v. Kunkle, 8 Watts (Pa.) 483; Thompson's Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 452.

21. California.— In re Mitchell, 121 Cal. 391, 53 Pac. 810; In re Hale, 121 Cal. 125, 53 Pac. 429; In re Crocker, 105 Cal. 368, 38 Pac. 954. And see In re Levinson, 98 Cal. 654, 33 Pac. 726.

Florida.— Sanderson v. Sanderson, 17 Fla. 820.

Illinois.— Klicka v. Klicka, 105 Ill. App. 369; Sherman v. Saylor, 36 Ill. App. 356; Graffenreid v. Kundert, 34 Ill. App. 483; Grafenreid v. Kundert, 23 Ill. App. 440.

Missouri.— In re Pound, 166 Mo. 419, 66 S. W. 273.

Rhode Island.— Steere v. Wood, 15 R. I. 199, 2 Atl. 551.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1205.

After the lapse of the statutory period, a representative may be compelled to make distribution by an order of court without a refunding bond (State v. Stephenson, 12 Mo. 178), if it appears that debts which have been allowed have been paid or secured (In re Mitchell, 121 Cal. 391, 53 Pac. 810; In re Hale, 121 Cal. 125, 53 Pac. 429), or if the decree of the court reserves from distribution sufficient other property to pay all contested claims (In re Crocker, 105 Cal. 368, 38 Pac. 954).

Estoppel.— Where an executor, within two years after the date of his letters, without an order of the court, and without requiring any refunding bond, distributes sums to the legatees, he cannot refuse to comply with a subsequent order of distribution because no refunding bond had been given, it appearing that the debts are paid. In re Pound, 166 Mo. 419, 66 S. W. 273.

A creditor of an estate is not a "distributee" within the meaning of a statute requiring distributees to give a refunding bond before they can compel the personal representative to pay their distributive shares; and such creditor cannot be required to give a refunding bond before he can compel the representative to pay his claim. Wolf v. Griffin, 13 Ill. App. 559.

22. Sherman v. Saylor, 36 Ill. App. 356.

23. Blackerby v. Holton, 5 Dana (Ky.) 520. But the purchaser of a distributee's interest need not execute a refunding bond in order to maintain a bill in his own name to compel distribution, although the court should require a bond before payment is made. Kavanaugh v. Thacker, 2 Dana (Ky.) 137.

24. Sparks v. De la Guerra, 14 Cal. 108 (holding that neither a legatee nor his creditors can maintain a bill against executors to recover a legacy, without an averment and proof that the estate has been settled, or that there will remain a balance after settlement, or an offer to give a refunding bond to abide the settlement); Fitchett v. Dolbee, 3 Harr. (Del.) 267.

to require a refunding bond,[25] but his intention to waive his rights in this respect must be very clear.[26]

3. Amount of Bond. The penal amount of the refunding bond is usually within the discretion of the court[27] or representative.[28]

4. Approval of Bond. In order that such bonds may protect the representative they must be approved by the probate court[29] at the time or after the final order to deliver the property is made.[30]

5. Effect of Giving Bond. Refunding bonds stand as to creditors in place of the assets distributed, and of the representative's responsibility, and operate to exonerate the representative from all liability for such assets and to protect him against the claims of creditors.[31] Recitals therein are subject to the ordinary rules of construction.[32]

6. Failure to Give Bond. The failure of the legatee or distributee to give or tender a refunding bond may be pleaded as a defense in an action for his legacy or distributive share[33] or it may constitute a ground for recovering the legacy or distributive share if already delivered.[34] It is the duty of the representative upon such failure to invest the fund in the manner prescribed by statute[35] and not to pay it into court.[36]

7. Security From Legatee of Particular Estate. A legatee or devisee or tenant of a particular estate, with remainder over, is usually not required to give a refunding or forthcoming bond upon the delivery of the legacy or devise to him, for its delivery at the end of his particular estate,[37] unless there is an express

25. Harrison v. Mundy, Dudley Eq. (S. C.) 34 (holding that the voluntary payment of a legacy to one who is by will required to give a bond and return it on the happening of a certain event waives the right to require such bond or to compel repayment of the money); Nelson v. Cornwell, 11 Gratt. (Va.) 724.

26. Howell v. Johnston, 49 N. C. 502 (holding that assent to the possession of a legacy on condition that a refunding bond be given is not a waiver of such bond); Nelson v. Cornwell, 11 Gratt. (Va.) 724 (holding that an assent by an executor to a legacy is not a waiver of his right to a refunding bond).

27. Kirkpatrick v. Gibson, 14 Fed. Cas. No. 7,848, 2 Brock. 388.

28. Badger v. Daniel, 79 N. C. 372, holding that an executor has fulfilled the requirements of the statute if the aggregate penalties of such bonds are in his just discretion sufficient to meet the outstanding debts of the estate.

29. Jones' Estate, 1 N. Y. Suppl. 751, 15 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 45; Robins' Estate, 180 Pa. St. 630, 37 Atl. 121; Edgar v. Shields, 1 Grant (Pa.) 361; Woodward's Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 9.

A bond filed by the committee of the property of an incompetent person, where it has been fixed and approved by the court, is sufficient to protect the executors in paying over a share of the estate to the committee. Wright v. Hayden, 31 Misc. (N. Y.) 116, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 796.

30. Harrison v. Harrison, 9 Ala. 470.

31. Massachusetts.— Browne v. Doolittle, 151 Mass. 595, 25 N. E. 23.

Mississippi.— Fonte v. Horton, 36 Miss. 350.

North Carolina.—Badger v. Daniel, 79 N. C. 372.

Pennsylvania.— Schaeffer's Appeal, 119 Pa. St. 640, 13 Atl. 507.

Tennessee.— Maxwell v. Smith, 86 Tenn. 539, 8 S. W. 340.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1213.

A plea of plene administravit is a good defense to the representative in an action against him by a creditor of the estate after the taking of such bond. Maxwell v. Smith, 86 Tenn. 539, 8 S. W. 340.

32. See Fonte v. Horton, 36 Miss. 350, holding that a recital in a bond, given upon the receipt of a specific legacy, that the executor was discharged from all claim and liability on account of the legacy does not discharge him from accounting for hire received by him before the legacy was delivered, but not paid over.

33. Cowell v. Oxford, 6 N. J. L. 432 (also holding that such objection must be by plea in abatement); Logan v. Richardson, 1 Pa. St. 372 [overruling Chandler v. Lamborne, 2 Pa. L. J. Rep. 124, 3 Pa. L. J. 367].

34. Howell v. Johnston, 49 N. C. 502, holding this to be true where the failure to give bond constituted a breach of the condition upon which the property was delivered.

35. In re Koch, 5 Rawle (Pa.) 338 (holding that the fund should be put at interest on security approved by the orphans' court); Bahnert's Estate, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 27, 4 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 360.

36. Bahnert's Estate, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 27, 4 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 360.

37. Taggard v. Piper, 118 Mass. 315; Fiske v. Cobb, 6 Gray (Mass.) 144; Homer v. Shelton, 2 Metc. (Mass.) 194; Hodge v. Hodge, 72 N. C. 616; Williams v. Cotton, 56 N. C. 395; Apple v. Allen, 56 N. C. 120; Pelham v. Taylor, 54 N. C. 121, 59 Am. Dec. 605; statutory provision requiring it,[38] or unless there is danger of his wasting, secreting, or removing the property,[39] as where the legacy is one of money or stocks.[40]

H. Advances and Disbursements by Representative — 1. In General. Advances and disbursements made by the representative for the benefit of legatees or distributees of the estate are to be reimbursed from their respective portions of the estate;[41] and they should be specially adjusted by the representative, aside from his ordinary administration accounts, by way of an offset to the amount Bullock v. Bullock, 17 N. C. 307; Hawthorne v. Beckwith, 89 Va. 786, 17 S. E. 241; Raney v. Heath, 2 Patt. & H. (Va.) 206.

In New York it has been held that security should be required where the will shows a clear intention that the corpus of the estate should remain entire, and that the legatee of the particular estate should have merely a usufructuary interest therein (Livingston v. Murray, 68 N. Y. 485; Tyson v. Blake, 22 N. Y. 558; Montfort v. Montfort, 24 Hun 120; Matter of Fernbacher, 17 Abb. N. Cas. 339, 4 Dem. Surr. 227); but where the will indicates an intention to intrust to the life beneficiary the full possession and control of the estate, the executor, in surrendering possession, need not require security unless there are special circumstances rendering such a course hazardous (Matter of Fernbacher, 17 Abb. N. Cas. 339, 4 Dem. Surr. 227). But see Covenhoven v. Shuler, 2 Paige 122, 21 Am. Dec. 73; Westcott v. Cady, 5 Johns. Ch. 334, 9 Am. Dec. 306, both holding that an inventory specifying that the articles belong to the first taker for the allotted time and afterward to the remainder-man is generally sufficient.

Discretion.— Under some statutes whether security shall be required from a legatee for life or years lies within the discretion of the executor (In re Ryerson, 26 N. J. Eq. 43) or the probate court (Fisher v. Kreebel, 1 Leg. Chron. (Pa.) 113).

A widow is not bound to give security upon the delivery to her of property bequeathed to her by her husband for life (Straub's Appeal, 1 Pa. St. 86; In re Brinton, 7 Watts (Pa.) 203) unless she holds as testamentary trustee (Kelsey v. Van Camp, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 530).

An inventory of chattels specifically bequeathed, and not necessarily consumed in the use, is usually required from the first taker, and is generally sufficient. Dodson v. Sevars, 52 N. J. Eq. 611, 30 Atl. 477; Covenhoven v. Shuler, 2 Paige (N. Y.) 122, 21 Am. Dec. 73; Westcott v. Cady, 5 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 334, 9 Am. Dec. 306.

Upon the presumption of the death of the legatee of a particular estate from his absence for a considerable length of time, the legatee over may recover without giving security. Miller v. Beates, 3 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 490, 8 Am. Dec. 658.

38. Security Co. v. Pratt, 65 Conn. 161, 32 Atl. 396; Cardona's Succession, 14 La. Ann. 356.

In Pennsylvania, under the act of Feb. 24, 1834, sections 46, 49, a person entitled to a life-interest in personal property or in money substituted for real estate is not entitled to receive such property until such security has been given, under the direction of the orphans' court, as shall sufficiently provide for the interest of the persons entitled in remainder (Culbertson's Appeal, 76 Pa. St. 145; Duval's Appeal, 38 Pa. St. 112; Clevenstine's Appeal, 15 Pa. St. 495; Wale's Estate, 11 Phila. 156; In re Feiser, 1 Walk. 256. And see Green's Appeal, 42 Pa. St. 25; Kinnard v. Kinnard, 5 Watts 108), unless those entitled in remainder waive such security by a writing filed of record (Culbertson's Appeal, 76 Pa. St. 145).

39. Connecticut.—Clarke v. Terry, 34 Conn. 176 (non-resident legatee); Langworthy v. Chadwick, 13 Conn. 42. And see Hudson v. Wadsworth, 8 Conn. 348.

Illinois.— Burnett v. Lester, 53 Ill. 325.

Massachusetts.— Taggard v. Piper, 118 Mass. 315; Fiske v. Cobb, 6 Gray 144; Homer v. Shelton, 2 Metc. 194.

New Jersey.— In re Ryerson, 26 N. J. Eq. 43; Howard v. Howard, 16 N. J. Eq. 486.

North Carolina.— Cheshire v. Cheshire, 37 N. C. 569.

South Carolina.— Swan v. Ligan, 1 McCord Eq. 227.

Virginia.— Hawthorne v. Beckwith, 89 Va. 786, 17 S. E. 241; Mortimer v. Moffatt, 4 Hen. & M. 503; Raney v. Heath, 2 Patt. & H. 206.

England.— Foley v. Burnell, 1 Bro. Ch. 274, 28 Eng. Reprint 1125; Conduitt v. Soane, 1 Coll. 285, 13 L. J. Ch. 390, 28 Eng. Ch. 285.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1217.

Income of a legacy only should be paid by the executor to the legatee upon failure of the latter to give the security required. Mason v. Pate, 34 Ala. 379; Clarke v. Terry, 34 Conn. 176.

40. Alabama.— Mason v. Pate, 34 Ala. 379.

Mississippi.— Hardin v. Osborne, 43 Miss. 532.

Pennsylvania.— Kinnard v. Kinnard, 5 Watts 108; Eichelberger v. Barnetz, 17 Serg. & R. 293.

South Carolina.— Shackleford v. Buchanan, 1 Desauss. 570.

Virginia.— Hawthorne v. Beckwith, 89 Va. 786, 17 S. E. 241.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1217.

41. Alabama.— Dickie v. Dickie, 80 Ala. 57; Watson v. McClanahan, 13 Ala. 57; Parker v. McGaha, 11 Ala. 521; Willis v. Willis, 9 Ala. 330.

California.— Moore's Estate, 96 Cal. 522, 31 Pac. 584; Rose's Estate, 80 Cal. 166, 22 Pac. 86.

due from the estate in his hands to the legatee or distributee,[42] or to the assignee of the legatee or distributee.[43] If the legacy or distributive share lapses in interest after the advances have been made, the representative may recover them by an action in his own right as for money had and received.[44]

Illinois.— Blake v. People, 161 Ill. 74, 43 N. E. 590.

Indiana.— Greene v. Brown, (1894) 38 N. E. 519.

Kentucky.— Churchill v. Akin, 5 Dana 475; Triggs v. Daniel, 2 Bibb 301.

Louisiana.— Sparrow's Succession, 42 La. Ann. 500, 7 So. 611, 44 La. Ann. 475, 10 So. 882; Broadway's Succession, 3 La. Ann. 591. And see Beatty v. Dufief, 11 La. Ann. 74.

Mississippi.— Kelly v. Davis, 37 Miss. 76.

New York.— King v. Talbot, 40 N. Y. 76, 92; Matter of Rogers, 10 N. Y. App. Div. 593, 42 N. Y. Suppl. 133; Matter of McKay, 33 Misc. 520, 68 N. Y. Suppl. 925.

Pennsylvania.— Good's Estate, 150 Pa. St. 301, 24 Atl. 624; Brennan's Estate, 65 Pa. St. 16; Hart's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 274; Hosfield's Estate, 4 Pa. Co. Ct. 257; McGeary's Estate, 33 Pittsb. Leg. J. 405.

South Carolina.— Johnson v. Henagan, 11 S. C. 93.

Virginia.—Jackson v. Jackson, 1 Gratt. 143.

United States.— McIntire v. McIntire, 192 U. S. 116, 24 S. Ct. 196, 48 L. ed. 369 [affirming 20 App. Cas. (D. C.) 134].

England.— See Re Moore, 45 L. T. Rep. N. S. 466.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1219.

Credit on representative's account cannot be allowed for advancements made to legatee or distributee. See supra, VIII, I, 8, c.

Advances to minors may be charged against their legacies or distributive shares, when made to their guardian (Black's Estate, Tuck. Surr. (N. Y.) 145); but not as a general rule where made to the minor while he was without a guardian (Standley v. Langley, 25 Miss. 252; Jones v. Coon, 5 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 751. And see Lee v. Brown, 4 Ves. Jr. 362, 4 Rev. Rep. 208, 31 Eng. Reprint 184), unless such payments are ratified by the infant after attaining his majority (Lee v. Brown, 4 Ves. Jr. 362, 4 Rev. Rep. 208, 31 Eng. Reprint 184) or authorized by an order of court (Matter of Spencer, 1 De G. M. & G. 311, 16 Jur. 233, 21 L. J. Ch. 313; 50 Eng. Ch. 239, 42 Eng. Reprint 572; Lee v. Brown, supra), nor where the advances consist of maintenance furnished to the minor children by their mother, who is also administratrix, and who has also received the benefit of their services (In re Gossner, 6 Whart. (Pa.) 401; Francis' Estate, 5 Kulp (Pa.) 17), although they may be allowed in equity if made in good faith and are such disbursements as would have been approved had they been made by a guardian (Munden v. Bailey, 70 Ala. 63; Montgomery v. Givhan, 24 Ala. 568; Martin v. Campbell, 35 Ark. 137; Rogers v. Traphagen, 42 N. J. Eq. 421, 11 Atl. 336).

Where portions of a decedent's estate are sold by order of court to provide support for certain heirs such heirs are chargeable with proceeds of the sale and interest. Lee v. Smith, 18 Tex. 141.

The statutory exemption selected and allowed to a widow and minor children is in the nature of an advancement when the estate is solvent and should be accounted for by them on final settlement as part of their legacies or distributive shares. Hunter v. Law, 68 Ala. 365.

Legacies paid to persons who were also distributees pending a contest of the will will be considered as advancements on the distributive shares of such persons. Kelly v. Davis, 37 Miss. 76.

42. Alabama.— Cawlfield v. Brown, 45 Ala. 552; Parker v. McGaha, 11 Ala. 521 (advance to widow); Willis v. Willis, 9 Ala. 330 (board and clothing furnished to distributees).

Michigan.— Greene v. Mallary, (1901) 86 N. W. 541.

North Carolina.— Young v. Kennedy, 95 N. C. 265, 100 N. C. 393, 6 S. E. 392.

Pennsylvania.— Hambright's Estate, 169 Pa. St. 57, 32 Atl. 60, holding that, where, pending the settlement of an estate, money is advanced by the executor, with the consent of the legatees, to the committee of the testator's lunatic widow for her support, it is proper, in settling the account, to charge the advancement against the widow's interest.

Virginia.— Boyd v. Townes, 79 Va. 118, holding that an executor who has paid a valid judgment against one of the distributees is entitled to charge the amount of such judgment against the share of such distributee.

Wisconsin.— Lyle v. Williams, 65 Wis. 231, 26 N. W. 448.

But see Sparrow's Succession, 42 La. Ann. 500, 7 So. 611, 44 La. Ann. 475, 10 So. 882.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1219.

Advancements made in the lifetime of a testator cannot be included in such set-off. Cawlfield v. Brown, 45 Ala. 552.

An advance to a widow not directed by the probate court cannot be set off against her distributive share on an accounting in equity, although the failure to direct the allowance was caused by mutual mistake as to the law. Lyon v. Lyon, 43 N. C. 201.

Advances of money cannot be set off against the distributive share of one who having released the administrator from all pecuniary demands is entitled only to a distributive share of the personalty remaining in specie. Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227.

43. Wallston v. Braswell, 54 N. C. 137.

44. Lawrence v. Carter, 16 Pick. (Mass.) 12.

2. Amount of Advances. The amount of advances to be made should be limited to the actual interest of the beneficiary of the estate at the time the advances are made.[45]

3. Interest on Advances. Where the circumstances indicate that advances were made as a partial distribution, as where the representative had income in hand not bearing interest, no interest should be charged thereon against the legatee or distributee,[46] but where the representative is charged with interest on the funds in his hands, the advances should be treated as loans, and interest charged thereon, for the double purpose of reimbursing the representative for the interest which has been charged against him and of equalizing distributive shares.[47] If a note or other evidence of indebtedness is taken for the advance, it is merely a loan and should bear interest.[48]

4. Advances by Executor or Administrator Individually. Where the representative makes advances or disbursements from his own funds for the benefit of legatees or distributees, he becomes subrogated to their rights,[49] and is entitled to credit therefor, as a charge against their legacies or distributive shares, upon final settlement of the estate;[50] or after the legacy or distributive share is due he may reimburse himself from funds in his hands subject to its payment.[51]

45. Chester County Hospital v. Hayden, 83 Md. 104, 34 Atl. 877 (holding that advances made to one entitled to a life-interest in a fund should not exceed the amount of income earned by that fund during the period of advancement); Hoyt v. Jackson, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 553; Lockwood v. Lockwood, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 330.

Advances for maintenance and education of a minor child should not exceed the interest on such child's distributive share. Tanner v. Davidson, 3 Bibb (Ky.) 456. And see Henning v. Conner, 2 Bibb (Ky.) 188.

The legal rate of interest on a trust fund is not a test of its income, for the purpose of computing the proportion of the legacy which may be advanced, since the actual income from such fund may be greater or less than the legal rate. Hoyt v. Jackson, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 553.

46. Thorn v. Garner, 113 N. Y. 198, 21 N. E. 149 [modifying 42 Hun 507]; King v. Talbot, 40 N. Y. 76; Brooks v. Hanna, 19 Ohio Cir. Ct. 216, 10 Ohio Cir. Dec. 480.

47. King v. Talbot, 40 N. Y. 76; Jenkins' Estate, 4 Kulp (Pa.) 46; Cunningham v. Cauthen, 37 S. C. 123, 15 S. E. 917, 44 S. C. 95, 21 S. E. 800. And see Brooks v. Hanna, 19 Ohio Cir. Ct. 216, 10 Ohio Cir. Dec. 480. Interest on advances should be allowed the representative where he makes them before the legacy or distributive share is due. Black v. Keenan, 5 Dana (Ky.) 570.

48. Brooks v. Hanna, 19 Ohio Cir. Ct. 216, 10 Ohio Cir. Dec. 480.

49. Tickel v. Quinn, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 425; Gaw v. Huffman, 12 Gratt. (Va.) 628.

50. Kentucky.— Black v. Keenan, 5 Dana 570.

Missouri.— Scott v. Crews, 72 Mo. 261.

New Jersey.— Rogers v. Traphagen, 42 N. J. Eq. 421, 11 Atl. 336.

New York.— Tickel v. Quinn, 1 Dem. Surr. 425; Broome v. Van Hook, 1 Redf. Surr. 444.

Pennsylvania.— Pettit's Appeal, 39 Pa. St. 324.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1223.

Payments made by an ancillary administrator for a distributee cannot be set off by the domiciliary administrator against the distributee's claim to a share of the fund in course of domiciliary administration, where it does not appear that the ancillary administration has ever been settled, or whether there are any outstanding debts, or that the ancillary administrator has filed a cross bill for that purpose. Chambers v. Wright, 52 Ala. 444.

Where the assets are insufficient to pay legacies in full, and the executor by advances to the legatees from his own fund becomes subrogated to their right, he is entitled to be credited only with their pro rata share from the assets available for distribution at the time of the accounting. Tickel v. Quinn, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 425.

The purchase of a ward's interest by the executor from the guardian will be deemed a payment on account of the ward's claim for which the executor will be entitled to credit. Black v. Keenan, 5 Dana (Ky.) 570.

An executor is not bound to pay out of his individual means after nearly exhausting the funds applicable from the estate for advancement. Fonda v. Penfield, 56 Barb (N. Y.) 503.

51. Rogers v. Traphagen, 42 N. J. Eq. 421, 11 Atl. 336; Snyder v. Warbasse, 11 N. J. Eq. 463; Smith v. Huger, 1 Desauss. (S. C.) 247, holding that where an executor has made advances and has become surety in considerable sums for a legatee, and the legatee dies insolvent, the executor may retain such sums from the amount of the legacy, although there was no express understanding to that effect at the time of making the advances.

Upon the death of a representative before reimbursing himself for such advances, like relief may be claimed by his personal representative for the benefit of his estate (Lay

5. Lien For Advances. The representative's advances or disbursements on behalf of a legatee or distributee constitute a lien upon his share or interest in the estate,[52] but it cannot be enforced until the estate is ready for distribution.[53]

6. Expenses Incurred by Representative. Expenses bona fide and prudently incurred by the representative may be duly set off against the legacy or distributive share concerned therein,[54] or an action for contribution may be maintained against the legatee or distributee therefor after final distribution.[55] But expenditures made for the benefit of the estate should be paid out of the property of the estate before it is distributed, and cannot be charged in a distribution of the estate as a lien on the heirs' interests therein.[56]

I. Mode and Sufficiency of Payment or Distribution[57] — 1. In General. Unless a particular mode of paying a legatee or distributee is expressly prescribed by the will[58] or by statute[59] payment may in general be made to him in any manner which gives him his due proportion of the estate,[60] and which shows an

v. Lay, 10 S. C. 208) or by his co-executor (Smith v. Huger, 1 Desauss. (S. C.) 247).

The rents and profits of a testamentary trust estate are not chargeable with cash advances made by the executor after his final account has been allowed and an order of distribution of the trust estate has been made, even though the account as allowed shows that the trust estate is indebted to him for such advances, and the court has transferred the property subject to the charge. Black v. Herring, (Md. 1894) 30 Atl. 917.

52. Greene v. Brown, (Ind. Sup. 1894) 38 N. E. 519; Haskell v. Hill, 169 Mass. 124, 47 N. E. 586; Hammond v. Cronkright, 47 N. J. Eq. 447, 20 Atl. 847; Blair v. Blair, 42 Misc. (N. Y.) 79, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 722; Ex p. Makins, 6 Jur. 468, 2 Mont. D. & De G. 508.

53. Greene v. Brown, (Ind. Sup. 1894) 38 N. E. 519 (holding that where the undivided interests of some of the heirs in decedent's land was subject to liens for money advanced by the administrator to redeem from mortgage foreclosures, the liens attached to the several interests of such heirs after partition of the land); Haskell v. Hill, 169 Mass. 124, 47 N. E. 586 (holding that executors loaning money to a legatee, with the understanding that they may deduct the sums lent from his share of the estate, acquire a lien on his interest in such estate, although he cannot set off against the loan when due the share coming to him, if suit is brought before the estate is ready for distribution).

54. Farquharson v. Nugent, 6 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 296 (payment of tax); Ammon's Appeal, 63 Pa. St. 284 (holding that costs and expenses of defending a suit against the representative by a legatee may be deducted from the latter's legacy); Mackey's Appeal, 10 Pa. Cas. 107, 13 Atl. 464; In re Murphy, 30 Wash. 9, 70 Pac. 109. And see In re Anning, 34 N. Brunsw. 308.

Counsel fees and expenses of suit, incurred by the representative in contesting or defending a will, may be deducted from the shares of persons interested therein (Miller v. Simpson, (Ky. 1886) 2 S. W. 171; Kelly v. Davis, 37 Miss. 76; Blair v. Blair, 42 Misc. (N. Y.) 79, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 722); but he is not entitled to set off against the distributive share of a legatee expenses incurred in the successful defense of a suit in another state, brought against the executor individually by such legatee, to recover his legacy (In re Roberts, 163 Pa. St. 408, 30 Atl. 213).

Taxes paid by the representative and charged to his account may be deducted from the income when he pays it to the life-tenant. Williams v. Herrick, 18 R. I. 120, 25 Atl. 1099. But where he fails to invest a pecuniary legacy until the legatee becomes of age he should have no allowance for taxes paid on such legacy. Eliott v. Sparrell, 114 Mass. 404.

55. Blair v. Blair, 42 Misc. (N. Y.) 79, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 722. And see infra, XI, R.

56. Huston v. Becker, 15 Wash. 586, 47 Pac. 10, holding that a court exercising probate jurisdiction has no power to direct the distribution of a decedent's estate to the heirs charged with a lien in favor of the administrator on account of money expended by him for the benefit of the estate.

57. Payment to a representative as legatee or distributee see supra, XI, D.

58. Russell v. Kearney, 27 Ga. 96, holding that, where the will requires the executor to divide the property into shares before distributing it to the legatees, he will be guilty of a devastavit to other legatees, if he delivers property to a legatee without making such division, unless they acquiesce therein.

59. See McKee v. McKee, 48 Ga. 332.

60. See Johnson v. Bell, 71 Ala. 258; In re Tobin, 16 N. Y. Suppl. 462, Pow. Surr. (N. Y.) 5; Banks v. Taylor, 10 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 199; In re Fisher, 189 Pa. St. 179, 42 Atl. 8; In re Watson, 189 Pa. St. 150, 42 Atl. 5.

Payment of taxes and expenses of repairs on the real property made by administrators on the order of the heir, who was one of the next of kin, is a payment to such person as one of the next of kin. Banks v. Taylor, 10 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 199.

A conveyance by an executor of his private property to a devisee as part payment of the latter's share in the estate is a valid pay-absolute payment.[61] Usually the payment should be made in money,[62] although with the consent of parties interested it may be made in other kinds of personalty.[63] Payment may sometimes be made by instalments.[64] A deposit in bank to a distributee's credit without notification thereof does not constitute a good payment.[65]

2. Distribution in Kind — a. In General. A distribution in kind is authorized where a conversion of the property into money is not necessary to the administration of the estate,[66] nor demanded by the parties interested.[67]

b. Stocks, Bonds, Notes, and Other Securities. A payment or distribution in kind of stocks, bonds, notes, or other securities may be made where the parties ment binding on the devisee. In re Fisher, 189 Pa. St. 179, 42 Atl. 8.

When a representative keeps an estate together without authority, distributees may elect to take the profits or to charge him with rent. Hinson v. Williamson, 74 Ala. 180; Harrison v. Harrison, 39 Ala. 489.

An agreement by one authorized to receive a legacy for his principal with the executor to account to his principal for an indebtedness due by him (the agent) to the executor as so much of the legacy, without the principal's assent, is not a payment of the legacy by the executor. Benoist v. Poirer, 1 Hill Eq. (S. C.) 217.

61. Bryant v. Householder, 71 Ind. 349.

Estoppel.— A representative may be estopped to deny that a payment is absolute where by his acts he has led others to believe that it was absolute, and they would otherwise be prejudiced. Garrett v. Hamburg Bank, 1 Strobh. Eq. (S. C.) 66.

62. Ward v. Oates, 42 Ala. 225.

A bequest of money is payable in coin, and not in paper currency (Graveley v. Graveley, 25 S. C. 1, 60 Am. Rep. 478) unless the latter payment is authorized by statute (Yates v. Salle, Wythe (Va.) 163).

Where the assets consist partly of gold and partly of currency, each distributee should be decreed his share of each kind of money, distinguishing between them. Lowry v. Newsom, 51 Ala. 570.

A husband's share in the personal property of his deceased wife remaining after the payment of debts and expenses of administration is in the absence of agreement or order of the court payable in money. Bartlett v. Hill, 69 N. H. 197, 45 Atl. 144.

A payment in depreciated currency (Confederate money) has been held void (Thompson v. Perryman, 45 Ala. 619; Purdie v. Jones, 32 Gratt. (Va.) 827) where the legacy was payable in good money (Stark v. Lipscomb, 29 Gratt. (Va.) 322), although the representative has been allowed credit for the value of such currency paid by him at a time when it passed as lawful money (Williams v. Williams, 79 N. C. 411. And see Depriest v. Patterson, 94 N. C. 519) and he was required by the legatee to make payment (Evans v. Smith, 84 N. C. 146).

A bank draft purchased by the representative and paid to a distributee is not a good payment, where the bank fails before the distributee can with due diligence collect it. State v. Wagers, 47 Mo. App. 431.

63. Ward v. Oates, 42 Ala. 225; State v. Conrad, 1 Marv. (Del.) 417, 41 Atl. 77; Kennedy v. Williams, 7 Humphr. (Tenn.) 50; In re Nickels, [1898] 1 Ch. 630, 67 L. J. Ch. 406, 78 L. T. Rep. N. S. 379, 46 Wkly. Rep. 422.

A debt to the succession not yet due is capable of partition among distributees. Le Blanc v. Bertant, 16 La. Ann. 294.

64. Bowles v. Drayton, 1 Desauss. (S. C.) 489, 1 Am. Dec. 689.

A legatee is not bound to accept a partial payment of his legacy in the absence of an order of court directing such payment. Welch v. Adams, 152 Mass. 74, 25 N. E. 34, 9 L. R. A. 244.

65. Rainwater v. Hummell, 79 Iowa 571, 44 N. W. 814.

66. Alabama.— Ward v. Oates, 42 Ala. 225.

Illinois.— Waterman v. Alden, 115 Ill. 83, 3 N. E. 505.

Maine.— Rose v. O'Brien, 50 Me. 188.

Maryland.— Evans v. Iglehart, 6 Gill & J. 171.

Pennsylvania.—Maffet's Estate, 8 Kulp 184.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1232.

The shares of specific property need not be exactly equal, but the balances may be made up in money. Mercer v. Glass, 25 S. W. 114, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 710; Williams v. Holmes, 9 Md. 281; Jillett v. Powell, Speers Eq. (S. C.) 142.

The records of the probate court ordering such distribution are sufficient muniments of title without any formal transfer of the several parts distributed. Rose v. O'Brien, 50 Me. 188.

A conveyance of real estate to the legatee or distributee may constitute a good payment (French v. Baker, 95 Ga. 715, 22 S. E. 652. And see Casto v. Kintzel, 27 W. Va. 750), although a third person is in possession holding adversely (French v. Baker, 95 Ga. 715, 22 S. E. 652); but the right to take the land instead of the proceeds cannot be claimed after a sale by the executor under a power (Osgood v. Franklin, 2 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 1, 7 Am. Dec. 513).

Money for which the representative has become liable by his negligence or misconduct cannot be decreed to a distributee as his distributive share, under a statute allowing the court to decree distribution of chattels in specie or of money. Ward v. Oates, 42 Ala. 225.

67. Maffett's Estate, 8 Kulp (Pa.) 184.

interested consent thereto,[68] or where it appears that a conversion of the securities into money would cause a loss,[69] or that the equities in the case justify such a distribution.[70] The effect of such a distribution is to discharge the representative from liability for such assets and to give to the legatee or distributee who receives the securities the right to maintain or defend suits with respect thereto.[71] Payment of a bequest to a legatee, partly in cash and partly by note, is a sufficient payment, if received as such by the legatee, to give rise to a right of action on a bond of indemnity given to the executor.[72]

c. Specific Legacy.[73] A specific legacy should be delivered in kind to the legatee entitled thereto,[74] unless in cases where such legacy is needed to satisfy

68. Georgia.— Dillard v. Ellington, 57 Ga. 567.

Illinois.— Waterman v. Alden, 15 Ill. 83, 3 N. E. 505, holding, however, that the court will not order the distribution of such assets, the parties not agreeing, where there are notes, accounts, and other choses, some of which are good, some doubtful, and others desperate.

Kentucky.— Wood v. Wood, 1 Metc. 512; Smith v. Broyles, 15 B. Mon. 461.

Louisiana.— Mandeville v. Arnoudt, 9 Rob. 447.

Maine.— Hurley v. Hewett, 89 Me. 100, 35 Atl. 1026.

Mississippi.— Murff v. Frazier, 41 Miss. 408.

New Jersey.— Wilson v. Fisher, 5 N. J. Eq. 493.

New York.— Lane v. Albertson, 78 N. Y. App. Div. 607, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 947; King v. Talbot, 50 Barb. 453.

North Carolina.— Baptist Female University v. Borden, 132 N. C. 476, 44 S. E. 47, 1007 (holding this to be true where the exigencies of the estate and its administration do not require the sale of securities representing advantageous investments); Hester v. Hester, 38 N. C. 9.

Pennsylvania.— Reed's Estate, 82 Pa. St. 428; Brown's Estate, 8 Phila. 197; Park's Estate, 4 Pa. Co. Ct. 560.

England.— See In re Richardson, [1896] 1 Ch. 512, 65 L. J. Ch. 512, 74 L. T. Rep. N. S. 12, 44 Wkly. Rep. 279; In re Lepine, [1892] 1 Ch. 210, 61 L. J. Ch. 153, 66 L. T. Rep. N. S. 360; Re Brooks, 76 L. T. Rep. N. S. 771; Re Tredwell, 65 L. T. Rep. N. S. 742; Barclay v. Owen, 60 L. T. Rep. N. S. 220.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1233.

A transfer of such securities in payment of the legacy or distributive share should be by proper indorsement or assignment (Hester v. Hester, 38 N. C. 9; Davidson v. Moore, 14 S. C. 251), although it has been held that a parol transfer is sufficient (Mitchell v. Mitchell, 1 Gill (Md.) 66).

If investments made by the executor are disallowed, the legatee or distributee who has received the securities should return them upon receiving payment in money. In re Niles, 113 N. Y. 547, 21 N. E. 687.

Where some of the heirs are minors, a distribution in kind of securities should not be ordered, although the minors are represented by guardians. Reynolds v. Reynolds, 11 Ala. 1023.

69. Lane v. Albertson, 78 N. Y. App. Div. 607, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 947; Matter of Thompson, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 420, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 1111.

70. Johnson v. Beauchamp, 5 Dana (Ky.) 70 (holding that where an executor has loaned the funds as required by the will, and has done so honestly and with due discretion, the legatees should be required to take the securities or their proceeds); Guerrant v. Johnson, 4 Munf. (Va.) 360.

If the estate consisted of stocks which are not collectable, and which can only be realized upon by a sale, or of government securities that would not become due in many years, or notes or bonds amply secured on real estate, and which are of equal value, the sale of which is not necessary for the administration of the estate, the court no doubt in the exercise of a sound discretion with which it is clothed by the statute in such matters might order such stocks or securities to be preserved and distributed in kind. Waterman v. Alden, 115 Ill. 83, 3 N. E. 505.

71. Alabama.—Clark v. Moses, 50 Ala. 326.

Georgia.— Dillard v. Ellington, 57 Ga. 567.

Kentucky.— Smith v. Broyles, 15 B. Mon. 461.

Michigan.— Van Middlesworth v. Van Middlesworth, 32 Mich. 183.

Pennsylvania.— Reed's Estate, 82 Pa. St. 428.

South Carolina.—Darrel v. Eden, 3 Desauss. 241, 4 Am. Dec. 613.

Personal liability may rest upon the representative, however, upon his own individual guarantee or assurance of the safety of the security. Graffenreid v. Kundert, 23 Ill. App. 440, 31 Ill. App. 394.

72. Van Middlesworth v. Van Middlesworth, 32 Mich. 183.

73. See, generally, WILLS.

74. Alabama.—Nelson v. Beck, 54 Ala. 329.

Louisiana.— D'Aunoy's Succession, 3 La. Ann. 36.

Maryland.— Woods v. Fuller, 61 Md. 457.

Missouri.— Landis v. Eppstein, 82 Mo. 99.

New Jersey.— Hayes v. Berdan, 47 N. J. Eq. 567, 21 Atl. 339; Hayes v. Hayes, 45 N. J. Eq. 461, 17 Atl. 634.

Pennsylvania.— Robinson's Estate, 24 Pa. Co. Ct. 588.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1246.

debts,[75] or unless the will provides for its investment and the delivery of the proceeds by way of income to the legatee.[76]

3. Note or Bond of Executor. The acceptance by a legatee or distributee of the note or bond of the executor for the amount of his legacy or distributive share extinguishes his claim to the latter.[77]

4. Retaining Indebtedness Due by Legatee or Distributee — a. In General. As a general rule an executor or administrator has the right to and should retain from a legacy or distributive share the amount of any indebtedness which may be due to the estate of the decedent by the legatee or distributee,[78] or by his

A refusal to deliver a specific legacy is not justified by the remote contingency of a contest against the validity of the will. Robinson's Estate, 24 Pa. Co. Ct. 588.

A specific legacy of a certain sum in depreciated currency (Confederate notes or bonds), after ascertaining its pecuniary value at the time it becomes due and payable, should be paid out of the general assets of the estate, liable to be applied to the payment of general legacies, either in whole or pro rata in proportion to the sufficiency of such assets. Harper v. Bibb, 47 Ala. 547.

Distribution by the court of specific articles may be required by the executor under Md. Code, art. 93, § 138. Hoffman v. Hoffman, 88 Md. 60, 40 Atl. 712.

75. Hayes v. Berdan, 47 N. J. Eq. 567, 21 Atl. 339; Hayes v. Hayes, 45 N. J. Eq. 461, 17 Atl. 634; Robinson's Estate, 24 Pa. Co. Ct. 588.

76. Watrous v. Smith, 7 Hun (N. Y.) 544.

77. Stewart's Appeal, 3 Watts & S. (Pa.) 476; Hall v. Hurford, 2 Pa. L. J. Rep. 291; McTeer v. Ferguson, 1 Bay (S. C.) 112.

Accepting the note of one of two executors as security for the payment of a legacy, thereby extending the time of payment, discharges the other executor. Mosley v. Floyd, 31 Ga. 564.

Although a settlement between the representative and a distributee is prima facie conclusive as to the amount due, a note given thereon is not payment or satisfaction, in the absence of any definite agreement or understanding to that effect between the parties. Fraser v. Hext, 2 Strobh. Eq. (S. C.) 250. See, generally, Payment.

Where the widow agrees to accept the note of an administrator upon her husband's estate for her distributive share and to forbear the collection thereof for one year, she thereby suspends her remedy in the orphans' court for distribution, but may maintain a common-law action in the common pleas on the administrator's promise to give such note. Ament v. Sarver, 2 Grant (Pa.) 34.

78. Alabama.— Nelson v. Murfee, 69 Ala. 598.

Indiana.— New v. New, 127 Ind. 576, 27 N. E. 154; Fiscus v. Fiscus, 127 Ind. 283, 26 N. E. 831.

Maine.— Webb v. Fuller, 85 Me. 443, 27 Atl. 346, 22 L. R. A. 177.

Maryland.— Hoffman v. Hoffman, 88 Md. 60, 40 Atl. 712, 90 Md. 123, 44 Atl. 1012.

Massachusetts.— Nickerson v. Chase, 122 Mass. 296; Blackler v. Boott, 114 Mass. 24.

Mississippi.— See Fonte v. Horton, 36 Miss. 350.

New York.— Matter of Braunsdorf, 2 N. Y. App. Div. 73, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 229 [affirming 13 Misc. 666, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 298]; Close v. Van Husen, 19 Barb. 1505; Bogert's Estate, 41 Misc. 598, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 291.

Ohio.— In re Ellis, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 330. And see Woodruff v. Snowden, 10 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 123, 7 Ohio N. P. 520.

Pennsylvania.— Duel's Estate, 137 Pa. St. 116, 20 Atl. 419; Strong v. Bass, 35 Pa. St. 333. See Dreisbach's Appeal, 17 Pa. St. 120; Dunn v. American Philosophical Soc., 2 Pa. St. 75.

Vermont.— Tinkham v. Smith, 56 Vt. 187.

England.— In re Watson, [1896] 1 Ch. 925, 65 L. J. Ch. 553, 74 L. T. Rep. N. S. 453, 44 Wkly. Rep. 571; In re Taylor, [1894] 1 Ch. 671; Jeffs v. Wood, 2 P. Wms. 128, 24 Eng. Reprint 668. See also Currie v. Goold, 2 Madd. 163.

Deduction from distributive share see Descent and Distribution, 14 Cyc. 121 et seq.

Deduction from legacy or devise see, generally, Wills.

Deduction of debts barred by statute see Descent and Distribution, 14 Cyc. 122; and, generally, Wills.

The term "set-off," as used in this class of cases, is used inaccurately. It is not in fact a set-off, but it is the mere exercise of the right of the administrator to apply the funds in his hands to the payment of a debt due from the distributee to the estate. Fiscus v. Fiscus, 127 Ind. 283, 26 N. E. 831; Cherry v. Boultbee, 3 Jur. 1116, 9 L. J. Ch. 118, 4 Myl. & C. 442, 18 Eng. Ch. 442, 41 Eng. Reprint 171. And see Webb v. Fuller, 85 Me. 443, 445, 27 Atl. 346, 22 L. R. A. 177, in which Emery, J., said: "It is not the technical right of set-off in actions at law. It is rather called in the old cases the right of retainer. It is an equitable right of its own nature, and not at all dependent upon any statute."

Devastavit cannot be charged against an administrator for refusing to pay a distributive share, where he holds claims against the distributee to an amount greater than his share. Sayre v. Lewis, 5 B. Mon. (Ky.) 90.

An executor, as trustee under the will, cannot retain the income of a trust created for the debtor's benefit. Voorhees v. Voorhees, 18 N. J. Eq. 223; Matter of Bogert, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 598, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 291.

Foreign attachment cannot be maintained against an administrator, as trustee, by a dis-assignee,[79] although the fund to be distributed arises out of the sale of real estate of the decedent;[80] and this rule applies as well to a representative as legatee or distributee as to others.[81] Interest on a debt due by a distributee to the estate should be charged against such distributee in a settlement with the representative only where the administrator is charged with interest in his final settlement.[82]

b. Debt Due to Executor or Administrator Individually. In some jurisdictions a debt due to the personal representative individually by a legatee or distributee may be set off against his legacy or distributive share on a distribution of the estate to the beneficiaries,[83] but in other jurisdictions it is held otherwise,[84] tributee who owes him debts exceeding the amount of his distributive share, even if before contracting such debts he executed to the administrator an assignment of such share in fraud of creditors. Nickerson v. Chase, 122 Mass. 296; Henshaw v. Whitney, 11 Gray (Mass.) 223.

A surety on a bond given by a distributee to the estate may in equity compel the administrator to apply the distributee's share toward the satisfaction of the bond. Allen v. Smitherton, 41 N. C. 341.

A debt due from the husband of a legatee or distributee cannot be deducted from her legacy or distributive share (Thibodaux's Succession, 10 La. Ann. 653. See Haage's Appeal, 17 Pa. St. 181; Tiernan's Estate, 31 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 185), although it has been held that it may be set up by cross bill, before final distribution, that the distributive share should not be paid on the ground that the husband's marital rights had attached and that he was indebted to the estate in a greater sum than such share (Crutchfield v. Patten, 44 Ga. 65).

79. Goodman v. Benham, 16 Ala. 625; Dull's Estate, 137 Pa. St. 116, 20 Atl. 119; Strong v. Bass, 35 Pa. St. 333; Romig v. Erdman, 5 Whart. (Pa.) 112, 34 Am. Dec. 533; Ranking v. Barnard, 5 Madd. 32. See also DESCENT AND DISTRIBUTION, 14 Cyc. 136; and, generally, WILLS.

80. Nelson v. Murfee, 69 Ala. 598; Close v. Van Husen, 19 Barb. (N. Y.) 305.

Priority of right.— The personal representative is entitled to retain the share of an heir or distributee in such moneys in payment of a debt which the latter owes to the decedent's estate as against the claim of a judgment creditor of such heir or distributee (Nelson v. Murfee, 69 Ala. 598), and he has a right to subject lands of his intestate to the payment of a debt due by the heir to the estate in preference to the claims of a purchaser from the heir and also to the lien of a creditor of the heir attaching to the land on the death of the ancestor (Streety v. McCurdy, 104 Ala. 493, 16 So. 686).

81. Sanchez v. Forster, 133 Cal. 614, 65 Pac. 1077 (holding that where an administrator who is also an heir owes the estate more than the value of his distributive share, he should account for such share as a payment on the debt, and if he fails to do so the amount may be collected of his bondsmen); Hoffman v. Armstrong, 90 Md. 123, 44 Atl. 1012; Gosnell v. Flack, 76 Md. 423, 25 Atl. 411, 18 L. R. A. 158; Henry v. Fiske, 11 R. I. 318; Sims v. Doughty, 5 Ves. Jr. 243, 31 Eng. Reprint 567 (holding that one executor may retain from the legacy of his co-executor the amount due by the latter for a devastavit).

The amount in which an executor who is also a legatee misapplies the funds of the estate may be deducted from his legacy. Young v. Schelly, (N. J. Ch. 1891) 21 Atl. 1049; Grant v. Edwards, 92 N. C. 447.

82. Munden v. Bailey, 70 Ala. 63; Haskin v. Teller, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 316; Smith v. Smith, 101 N. C. 461, 8 S. E. 128, 131, 133; McClendon v. Gomillon, Dudley (S. C.) 48.

83. Dubois v. Dubois, 6 Cow. (N. Y.) 494 (holding that a decree for distribution against the executor changes the character of the claim for the legacy or distributive share into one against the representative personally, and that, in an action of debt on the decree, the representative may set off a demand due to him in his own right); Fay v. Reager, 2 Sneed (Tenn.) 200 (holding this rule to apply even against an attaching creditor of the legatee); Preston v. Davis, 102 Va. 178, 45 S. E. 865 (holding that a debt due an administrator individually from a distributee may in equity be allowed as a payment on that distributee's share of the estate); Hooper v. Hooper, 32 W. Va. 526, 9 S. E. 937. See also DESCENT AND DISTRIBUTION, 14 Cyc. 122 note 4.

Advances by representative see supra, XI, H.

A debt due by a guardian in his individual capacity to the representative cannot be set off against the ward's distributive share, decreed to be paid to the guardian. Shriver v. Garrison, 30 W. Va. 456, 4 S. E. 660.

On an accounting between an administrator and a distributee, the amount found to be due the distributee by a commissioner to whom the accounting has been referred is properly credited on a judgment owing to the administrator by the distributee, as of the date when the commissioner closed his account, and not as of the date of the decree. Kent v. Kent, (Va. 1899) 34 S. E. 32.

84. Kidd v. Porter, 13 Ala. 91; Bradshaw's Appeal, 3 Grant (Pa.) 109; Richbourg v. Richbourg, Harp. Eq. (S. C.) 168; McLaughlin v. Barnes, 12 Wash. 373, 41 Pac. 62.

An assignment of the representative's claim after a decree of distribution does not prevent the court from compelling him to pay to the distributee her share on the ground that the representative has been garnished in a suit by the assignee against the distributee unless the distributee consents,[85] or unless the debt is one for advances or disbursements by the representative.[86]

c. Retainer From Specific Personal Property. Specific personal property awarded to a distributee[87] or a specific legacy[88] is not subject to the representative's right of retainer so long as there are general assets.[89]

5. Application of Payments.[90] In accordance with the rule that debts must be paid before legacies or distributive shares, payments to a legatee or distributee should be applied to debts due from the estate to the legatee or distributee before being applied to the legacy or distributive share,[91] and to accrued interest on such debts[92] or distributive shares[93] before application to the principal.

6. Notice and Tender. The representative should notify legatees or distributees of his readiness to pay over,[94] and if from any cause he is uncertain who such legatees or distributees are he should institute proceedings to ascertain them.[95] After such notice the representative need not make a tender of the amount of the legacy or distributive share to one who is capable of asserting his rights,[96] especially where acceptance of a previous tender has been refused.[97]

7. To Whom Payment Should Be Made — a. In General. Payment should be made to the party entitled to receive the legacy or distributive share,[98] or to his on the claim assigned. McLaughlin v. Barnes, 12 Wash. 373, 41 Pac. 62.

85. Kidd v. Porter, 13 Ala. 91.

86. Smith v. Huger, 1 Desauss. (S. C.) 247, holding that where an executor advances money and becomes bound for a legatee for sundry debts, and the latter dies insolvent, the executor may retain out of his legacy sufficient to indemnify him. And see supra, XI, H.

87. Rose v. O'Brien, 50 Me. 188.

88. Fonte v. Horton, 36 Miss. 350 (holding that the probate court will order the delivery of a specific legacy and will leave the executor to avail himself of his set-off by getting an injunction to stay the delivery); Clarke v. Cotton, 17 N. C. 51; Woodruff v. Snowden, 10 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 123, 7 Ohio N. P. 520 (holding that the indebtedness to the estate of a devisee of specific realty is not, without judgment and levy by the executor, a charge upon or set-off against the realty so specifically devised).

89. Clarke v. Cotton, 17 N. C. 51.

90. See, generally, Payment.

91. Coco's Succession, 32 La. Ann. 325.

Restitution of dowry is a debt of the estate to which payment must be applied before application to the widow's distributive share. Coco's Succession, 32 La. Ann. 325.

Voluntary payments to a guardian received by him on account of debts due to his ward as distributee of both real and personal estate may be applied pro rata to both debts. Ordinary v. McCullom, 3 Strobh. (S. C.) 494.

Where the testator's life insurance collected by his representatives is decreed to be paid by them to the beneficiary in the policy, who is also a legatee under the will, general payments made by the representative to such beneficiary and legatee should be first applied to extinguish the indebtedness for the amount collected on the policy. Atkins v. Atkins, 71 Vt. 422, 45 Atl. 1037.

Where the decedent was also guardian of a distributee, any sum paid to the latter by the representative will be presumed to be on account of his distributive share, particularly where the personal representative denies the fact of the guardianship, or that anything was due on that account. Latham v. Wilcox, 99 N. C. 367, 6 S. E. 711.

92. Coco's Succession, 32 La. Ann. 325; Geddis v. Irvine, 5 Pa. St. 508.

A specific legacy is a "debt" from the time it is due within the meaning of Ky. St. § 2219, which provides that partial payments on interest-bearing "debts" shall be first applied to the deduction of accrued interest. Morton v. Church Home for Females, etc., 70 S. W. 841, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 1122.

93. Schnell v. Schroder, Bailey Eq. (S. C.) 334. But see Cary v. Macon, 4 Call (Va.) 605, holding that where a husband gives a receipt for two hundred pounds in part of a bequest to his wife the payment should be applied to the principal and not to the interest.

94. Tilton v. American Bible Soc., 60 N. H. 377, 49 Am. Rep. 321; Walthour v. Walthour, 2 Grant (Pa.) 102.

95. Tilton v. American Bible Soc., 60 N. H. 377, 49 Am. Rep. 321.

96. Burtis v. Dodge, 1 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 77.

97. Burtis v. Dodge, 1 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 77. See, generally, Tender.

98. State v. Taggart, 88 Ind. 269; Banks v. McCarty, 5 Mo. 1; Elliott v. Lewis, 3 Edw. (N. Y.) 40, holding that the distributive share of two sons of a first husband should be paid to the second husband to whom they are indebted.

Persons entitled see Descent and Distribution, 14 Cyc. 34 et seq.; and, generally, Wills.

A legacy to "A., to be divided between himself and his family," may be paid to A. Cooper v. Thornton, 3 Bro. Ch. 186, 29 Eng. Reprint 479. And see Robinson v. Tickell, 3 Ves. Jr. 142, 7 Rev. Rep. 5, 32 Eng. Reprint 307.

Payment to the clerk of the county court is no defense in an action by the distributee properly authorized representative[99] or assignee,[1] unless payment to a third person is directed by the legatee or distributee.[2] But if the persons entitled refuse to accept the amount found due them, the representative may be ordered to pay the amount into court and receive his discharge.[3]

b. Shares of Deceased Legatees or Distributees. The share of a deceased legatee or distributee is generally payable to his duly qualified representative;[4] although if no administration is had upon his estate, or creditors are in nowise prejudiced, it may be paid directly to his heirs or distributees.[5]

c. Shares of Absent or Unknown Legatees or Distributees. In cases where there are unknown or absent and unheard-from legatees or distributees it becomes the duty of the personal representative to invest the fund[6] or pay it into under a Tennessee statute requiring that an administrator pay a distributive share to the parties entitled immediately after his settlement. Stewart v. Glenn, 3 Heisk. (Tenn.) 581.

99. Jacks v. Adair, 31 Ark. 616; Williams v. Cushing, 34 Me. 370.

Counsel appearing before an auditing judge for a distributee has authority to receive the amount awarded. Payment direct to the client is irregular and improper. Whiteside's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 274.

1. Webre's Succession, 35 La. Ann. 266; Sayles v. Best, 140 N. Y. 368, 35 N. E. 636 [affirming 20 N. Y. Suppl. 951]; Matter of Hodgman, 11 N. Y. App. Div. 344, 42 N. Y. Suppl. 1004.

Payment to a pretended assignee, in bad faith or without due heed, will not protect the representative. Dorsheimer v. Rorback, 23 N. J. Eq. 46.

The grantee of an heir apparent cannot be paid the interest of such heir which was conveyed to him before the decedent's death. In re Ryder, 141 Cal. 366, 74 Pac. 993.

2. Watson v. McClanahan, 13 Ala. 57; Cartmel v. Rench, 2 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 118.

3. Gready's Estate, 14 Phila. (Pa.) 259.

4. Alabama.— McConico v. Cannon, 25 Ala. 462.

Connecticut.— Kingsbury v. Scovill, 26 Conn. 349.

Iowa.— Moore v. Gordon, 24 Iowa 158.

Maine.— Grant v. Bodwell, 78 Me. 460, 7 Atl. 12.

Massachusetts.— Newcomb v. Williams, 9 Metc. 525; Foster v. Fifield, 20 Pick. 67.

Missouri.— Hanenkamp v. Borgmier, 32 Mo. 569.

New York.— Matter of Hodgman, 11 N. Y. App. Div. 344, 42 N. Y. Suppl. 1004.

Ohio.— Banning v. Gotshall, 62 Ohio St. 210, 56 N. E. 1030.

Pennsylvania.— Sweed's Estate, 10 Pa. Co. Ct. 463; Stokes' Estate, 3 Pa. Co. Ct. 193.

Tennessee.— Puckett v. James, 2 Humphr. 565.

England.— Bailey v. Hammond, 7 Ves. Jr. 590, 32 Eng. Reprint 237.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators." § 1241. See also DESCENT AND DISTRIBUTION, 14 Cyc. 109; and, generally, WILLS.

A distribution on the presumption of death may be decreed where a person who if living would have been entitled to a distributive share has been absent and unheard of for a long period of years previous to the death of the decedent. Morrison's Estate, 12 Montg. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 121; Burns v. Ford, 1 Bailey (S. C.) 507.

5. Maxwell v. Craft, 32 Miss. 307 (holding that where a distributee dies before receiving his distributive share, leaving the same heirs as the intestate, owing no debts, and owning no property but his distributive share of the intestate's estate, distribution of his estate should be made directly to the heirs and not to the administrator); Rouggley v. Tiechmann, 10 Mo. App. 257; Sweed's Estate, 10 Pa. Co. Ct. 463; Beck's Estate, 16 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 215; Robertson v. Gillenwaters, 85 Va. 116, 7 S. E. 371. But see In re Lane, 20 N. Y. Suppl. 78, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 266, holding that where there is a sum to be distributed to an estate, of which no administrator has been appointed, there is no person to whom the share can be decreed to be paid, and in such case the administrator must hold it until someone entitled to receive it shall appear, when it will be the subject of further accounting.

Where a widow dies pending the distribution of her husband's estate consisting only of community property, the decree distributing his estate may direct a payment of the widow's interest to her heirs, none of her creditors objecting. McClellan v. Downey, 63 Cal. 520.

Upon the presumption of death of an heir from absence, his share may be divided among the other heirs, upon their executing a refunding bond to indemnify the executor against the claim of the absent heir. Norman v. Cunningham, 5 Gratt. (Va.) 63. And see McCartee v. Camel, 1 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 455.

6. Walthour v. Walthour, 2 Grant (Pa.) 102; Miles' Estate, 2 Pa. Dist. 103, 12 Pa. Co. Ct. 383; Vogdes' Estate, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 441, 23 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 471; Lyon v. Magagno, 7 Gratt. (Va.) 377. But see Waggener v. Hardin, 2 B. Mon. (Ky.) 153, holding that administrators might make a valid allotment of the slaves of their intestate in the absence of a part of the distributees, and an allotment thus made could not be canceled, so as to reinvest the administrator with the legal title, after the slaves had passed into the bona fide possession of a third person.

court[7] or into the county or state treasury,[8] according to the statute, for the benefit of whoever may subsequently establish a legal right to it.[9]

d. Legatees or Distributees Under Disability — (i) INFANTS. As a general rule a bequest to or the distributive share of a minor, when due, can be legally paid only to his properly accredited and qualified guardian,[10] but if there is no properly

7. Moore v. Eure, 101 N. C. 11, 7 S. E. 471, 9 Am. St. Rep. 17; Gable's Appeal, 40 Pa. St. 231; Eroch's Estate, 1 Kulp (Pa.) 81; Vogdes' Estate, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 441, 23 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 471; Lyon v. Magagno, 7 Gratt. (Va.) 377.

8. State v. Taggart, 88 Ind. 269; Fuhrer v. State, 55 Ind. 150; Dorr v. Com., 1 Mass. 293; In re Bomino, 83 Mo. 433; Matter of Sackett, 38 Misc. (N. Y.) 463, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 1030 (also holding that payment to the surrogate in such cases does not discharge the representative); Matter of Culver, 22 Misc. (N. Y.) 217, 49 N. Y. Suppl. 820; Matter of Lane, 20 N. Y. Suppl. 78, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 266.

A distributee is not "unknown" within the meaning of a statute providing for the payment to the state treasurer of a distributive share, where the person entitled thereto is unknown, where the distributee is an estate of which no administrator has been appointed. Matter of Lane, 20 N. Y. Suppl. 78, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 266.

In England under the present practice, where it is doubtful to whom a legacy is payable, the better course is not by payment into court under the Trustee Relief Act, but by an administrative summons, waiving accounts, simply for the purpose of obtaining the decision of the judge, or, after taking out such summons, where both parties agree, by submitting a statement of facts in the nature of a special case for the opinion of the judge. In re Birkett, 9 Ch. D. 576, 47 L. J. Ch. 846, 39 L. T. Rep. N. S. 418, 27 Wkly. Rep. 164.

A legacy to an infant who dies before it is payable, and for whom no administrator has been appointed, will be ordered to be paid into court for the benefit of whoever may establish a legal right to it. Matter of Morgan, 1 Misc. (N. Y.) 71, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 1064.

9. Matter of Morgan, 1 Misc. (N. Y.) 71, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 1064; Matter of Conway, 5 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 290, holding that money paid into the city treasury by a public administrator may be obtained by any person entitled thereto, whether in his own right or as assignee, by means of a special proceeding instituted by petition in the surrogate's court, under Code, § 2717.

Where the evidence is insufficient to determine whether a legatee is alive or dead, or whether he left issue entitled to his share, the remainder of the estate may be distributed and the share of such legatee deposited with the controller, until proper proof can be made. Dunn v. Travis, 56 N. Y. App. Div. 317, 67 N. Y. Suppl. 743.

10. Delaware.— Spruance v. Darlington, 7 Del. Ch. 111, 30 Atl. 663.

Florida.— Moore v. Hamilton, 4 Fla. 112.

Kentucky.— Edmonds v. Morrison, 5 Dana 223 (holding that payment to an illegally appointed guardian will not exonerate the executor unless the ward adopts his act); Thrasher v. Lewis, 13 Ky. L. Rep. 926.

Missouri.— Landis v. Eppstein, 82 Mo. 99; Henry v. State, 9 Mo. 778.

New Jersey.— Rogers v. Traphagen, 42 N. J. Eq. 421, 11 Atl. 336.

New York.— Davis v. Crandall, 101 N. Y. 311, 4 N. E. 721; Genet v. Tallmadge, 1 Johns. Ch. 3; Hoyt v. Hilton, 2 Edw. 202; Matter of Moody, 2 Dem. Surr. 624.

North Carolina.— Walker v. Kelly, 7 N. C. 265.

Ohio.— Campbell v. English, Wright 119, holding that under the Ohio statutes a guardian for a minor under twelve years has no authority to receive her distributive share after she attains that age.

Pennsylvania.— In re Gitt, 203 Pa. St. 263, 52 Atl. 251; Senseman's Appeal, 21 Pa. St. 331; Beishlag's Estate, 7 Pa. Dist. 127, 20 Pa. Co. Ct. 583.

South Carolina.— Crenshaw v. Crenshaw, 4 Rich. Eq. 14; Johnson v. Johnson, 2 Hill Eq. 277, 29 Am. Dec. 72.

Vermont.— Sparhawk v. Buell, 9 Vt. 41.

Virginia.— See Hannah v. Boyd, 25 Gratt. 692.

Canada.— Huggins v. Law, 14 Ont. App. 383 [reversing 11 Ont. 565].

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1243.

Payment to a guardian individually is improper; it should be to him in his fiduciary capacity. Edwards v. Williams, 39 S. C. 86, 17 S. E. 457.

An illegal arrangement between guardian and administrator in reference to the payment of the minor's distributive share, although consummated, does not relieve the administrator from personal liability to the administrator of the minor for the latter's share. Asberry v. Asberry, 33 Gratt. (Va.) 463.

Payment to a third person as agent or attorney of the minor is erroneous, even though made under the probate court's decree. Tapley v. McGee, 6 Ind. 56; Decrow v. Moody, 73 Me. 100.

A guardian ad litem may be directed to receive the minor's legacy where the amount thereof is too small to pay the expense of having a guardian appointed. Cook v. First Universalist Church, 23 R. I. 62, 49 Atl. 389.

An order of the probate court is a necessary prerequisite, under some statutes, to the payment of an infant's distributive share to his general guardian. Lowman v. Elmira, etc., R. Co., 85 Hun (N. Y.) 188, 32 N. Y. Suppl.

qualified general guardian it may be paid into court[11] or to the county treasurer,[12] as provided by statute. It should not be paid to the minor's parents as such,[13] nor to the minor individually.[14]

(II) MARRIED WOMEN. At common law the husband might generally receive the legacy or distributive share of his wife by virtue of his marital rights in her personalty;[15] but under the modern statutes the rule is otherwise; the wife is entitled to receive payment in her own right,[16] and a payment of her legacy or 579; Willcox v. Smith, 26 Barb. (N. Y.) 316. But the probate court cannot direct the legacy to be applied to the support or education of the infant legatee. Matter of Patton, 7 Misc. (N. Y.) 377, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 160.

The acceptance of a claim due the estate as part of the minor's legacy or distributive share cannot be made by the guardian under a statute permitting an adult legatee or distributee to accept such claim. Bescher v. State, 63 Ind. 302.

A foreign guardian may receive his ward's legacy or distributive share in a domestic jurisdiction, without securing a domestic appointment, where it appears that he has properly qualified in the foreign jurisdiction and that there are no domestic debts chargeable against the funds. State v. Whitehouse, 75 Conn. 410, 53 Atl. 897; Gardiner v. Thorndike, 183 Mass. 81, 66 N. E. 633. But see Morrell v. Dickey, 1 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 153. Pub. St. (Mass.) c. 139, §§ 39, 40, providing that when an infant is a nonresident and has no guardian within the commonwealth, and has personal estate in the hands of an administrator within the commonwealth, such administrator may pay over the estate to a guardian appointed in the state where the ward resides, upon such terms as the probate court may impose, do not make a voluntary payment to the guardian illegal, but are intended merely to enable the administrator to obtain a domestic decree which will protect him. Gardiner v. Thorndike, supra.

Until a legacy is payable the executor cannot relieve himself of responsibility as executor by paying it over to the guardian of the legatee (Branch v. Holcraft, 14 Ind. 237; Hinkley v. Probate Judge, 45 Mich. 343, 7 N. W. 907; Swope v. Chambers, 2 Gratt. (Va.) 319); and if the executor be also guardian, he cannot, before the legacy is payable, elect to hold it as guardian so as to relieve his sureties as executor and charge his sureties as guardian (Swope v. Chambers, supra).

11. Toler v. Landon, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 337; McCloskey v. Reid, 4 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 334. And see Re Parr, 11 Ont. Pr. 301.

A New York statute making this provision contemplates such payment into court only when the subject-matter of the legacy is capable of investment for the infant's benefit. Toler v. Landon, 3 Dem. Surr. 337.

A testamentary guardian cannot receive a minor's legacy or distributive share under some statutes; but in default of a general guardian the money must be paid into court. Sackett's Estate, Tuck Surr. (N. Y.) 84.

12. Lowman v. Elmira, etc., R. Co., 85 Hun (N. Y.) 188, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 579.

13. Alabama.—Nelson v. Beck, 54 Ala. 329; Lang v. Pettus, 11 Ala. 37.

Delaware.— Slaughter v. Slaughter, 7 Houst. 482, 32 Atl. 857; Spruance v. Darlington, 7 Del. Ch. 111, 30 Atl. 663.

Georgia.— Williams v. Adams, 94 Ga. 270, 21 S. E. 526.

Illinois.— Perry v. Carmichael, 95 Ill. 519.

Massachusetts.— Miles v. Boyden, 3 Pick. 213.

New Jersey.— McKnight v. Walsh, 23 N. J. Eq. 136.

New York.— In re Hobson, 131 N. Y. 575, 30 N. E. 63; Furman v. Coe, 1 Cai. Cas. 96; Whitlock v. Whitlock, 1 Dem. Surr. 160.

South Carolina.— Johnson v. Johnson, 2 Hill Eq. 277, 29 Am. Dec. 72; Cannon v. Ulmer, Bailey Eq. 204.

Vermont.— Sparhawk v. Buell, 9 Vt. 41.

England.— Rotheram v. Fanshaw, 3 Atk. 628, 26 Eng. Reprint 1161; Dagley v. Tolferry, 1 P. Wms. 285, 24 Eng. Reprint 391. But see Ker v. Ruxton, 16 Jur. 491, holding that a legacy to an infant for mourning may be ordered to be paid to his father, he undertaking to apply it for the benefit of the infant.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1243.

Where the widow is co-legatee with her only child, who lives with her, it is not devastavit for the executor to deliver the legacy (a slave) to her. Villard v. Robert, 1 Strobh. Eq. (S. C.) 393.

14. Quinn v. Moss, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 365; Sparhawk v. Buell, 9 Vt. 41. And see Philips v. Paget, 2 Atk. 80, 26 Eng. Reprint 449; Davies v. Austen, 3 Bro. Ch. 178, 29 Eng. Reprint 475, 1 Ves. Jr. 247, 30 Eng. Reprint 325.

15. Alabama.— Montgomery v. Givhan, 24 Ala. 568.

Mississippi.— McGee v. Ford, 5 Sm. & M. 769; Wade v. Grimes, 7 How. 425; Lowry v. Houston, 3 How. 394.

Missouri.— Banks v. McCarty, 5 Mo. 1.

South Carolina.— Ex p. Stephens, 1 McCord 87; Heath v. Heath, 2 Hill Eq. 100; Cannon v. Ulmer, Bailey Eq. 204.

England.— Stephens v. Totty, 1 Cro. Eliz. 908; Palmer v. Trevor, 1 Vern. 261, 23 Eng. Reprint 456.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1244.

16. Bunger v. Petty, (Ky. 1893) 23 S. W. 961; Anderson v. Gregg, 44 Miss. 170. See, generally, HUSBAND AND WIFE.

A legacy for a wife's "sole and separate use" cannot be paid to the husband, but the distributive share to her husband will not bind her unless she has authorized or ratified it.[17]

J. Payment of Annuities[18] — 1. Duties of Executors in General. An executor not expressly charged under the will has no concern with bequests of annuities charged upon the land,[19] but as to annuities charged upon personal estate in his hands, or upon property under his control generally, the executor may be ordered to make periodical payments,[20] or settle arrears,[21] or to give security for the payment of future instalments,[22] or for restoring the principal to the general legatees on the annuitant's death.[23] An executor is also charged with the duty of setting apart and investing a fund with which to raise an annuity provided for by the will, where the will fails to designate such fund or to specify who shall invest it.[24]

2. Increase or Reduction of Annuity. The executor may have power under the provisions of the will to increase the annuity at his discretion;[25] but the annuity cannot be reduced thereafter under such power.[26] A release executed by an annuitant to part of the executors does not operate to reduce the annuity, but only to discharge the released executors from liability.[27]

K. Effect of Payment or Distribution in General — 1. Conclusiveness and Effect in General. A payment or distribution properly made and receipted for is binding on the representative,[28] unless it can be successfully impeached for wife should appear in court and elect whether to be paid or to have the fund secured for her sole use and benefit. Gest v. Williams, 4 Del. Ch. 55. And see West v. Cauthen, 9 S. C. 45, holding that the corpus of a legacy given to a married woman "for her sole and separate use" could not be paid to her during coverture, but could only be paid to a trustee legally appointed.

17. Nevius v. Gourley, 95 Ill. 206; Crawford v. Redus, 54 Miss. 700; Anderson v. Gregg, 44 Miss. 170. See, generally, Husband and Wife.

18. Annuities generally see Annuities, 2 Cyc. 458.

19. Robinson v. McIver, 63 N. C. 645; Stewart's Appeal, 110 Pa. St. 410, 6 Atl. 321; Hocker's Estate, 13 Phila. (Pa.) 292.

20. Eichelberger's Estate, 170 Pa. St. 242, 32 Atl. 605.

The present value of an annuity in money cannot be ordered to be paid to the devisee of an annuity for life in making equality of distribution among heirs and devisees of an estate left undevised. Bowles v. Winchester, 13 Bush (Ky.) 1.

21. Colwell's Estate, 4 Pa. Co. Ct. 381. And see Annuities, 2 Cyc. 464.

22. Colwell's Estate, 4 Pa. Co. Ct. 381.

23. Love v. Love, 3 Hayw. (Tenn.) 13.

24. Leslie v. Moser, 163 Ill. 502, 45 N. E. 417 [reversing 62 Ill. App. 555]; Claggett v. Hardy, 3 N. H. 147; Ex p. McComb, 4 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 151; Love v. Love, 3 Hayw. (Tenn.) 13; Harbin v. Masterman, [1896] 1 Ch. 351, 65 L. T. Ch. 195, 73 L. T. Rep. N. S. 591, 44 Wkly. Rep. 421. And see Hindman v. State, 61 Md. 471.

Estoppel to object to the sufficiency of an appropriation for an annuity does not result from the annuitant's petitioning the probate court to compel the executors to account for arrears and to reinvest a portion of the fund, and by his receiving checks for interest, where at the time of such acts the appropriation did not appear to be insufficient. Merritt v. Merritt, 48 N. J. Eq. 1, 21 Atl. 128.

Where no decree or award has been made in favor of the annuitant, an executor cannot be peremptorily ordered to pay an annuity; but where he fails to comply with a previous order directing the investment of a fund for the annuitant as directed by the will, he will be again ordered to set apart and invest the fund. Vautier's Estate, 14 Phila. (Pa.) 259.

The amount to be set apart to secure an annuity must be such as in the judgment of the court is not only sufficient at the time to meet the annuity together with the charges and expenses, but also as is likely to continue to be sufficient for these purposes. Hanbest's Estate, 5 Pa. Dist. 691, 18 Pa. Co. Ct. 534.

25. Mason v. Mason, 4 Sandf. Ch. (N. Y.) 623; Case v. Towle, 2 Sandf. Ch. (N. Y.) 426, also holding that, where the executor has exercised his discretion and fixed the limit of the annuity, neither a subsequent administrator nor the court acting on the fund could increase it beyond that limit.

26. Mason v. Mason, 4 Sandf. Ch. (N. Y.) 623, holding this to be true, although the increase was made in the belief that it was revocable.

27. Cocks v. Haviland, 7 N. Y. Suppl. 870, 871.

28. Larue v. White, 8 Dana (Ky.) 45 (holding also that the report of an auditor without the vouchers to sustain it is not sufficient to outweigh the admission of the executor against his interest and show that the settlement was not made understandingly, or is not conclusive); Tintle v. Fulmer, 4 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 361; Rosborough v. Rutland, 2 S. C. 378.

Release from executor's debt. — In the absence of special circumstances rebutting the presumption of negligence, an executor who fraud,[29] mistake,[30] or improper means used in procuring it.[31] It is also binding on the legatee or distributee who accepts the payment or distribution,[32] unless made through fraud[33] or mutual mistake;[34] and estops him from claiming as his own property included in the distribution;[35] or from assailing the intervening rights of third persons;[36] or from objecting to the representative's course of distribution, however irregular,[37] at least unless he first restores to the representative what he has received.[38]

2. Rights and Liabilities of Representative After Payment or Distribution — a. In General. After full payment or distribution the representative is released from further liability, for acts done in his representative capacity, to the legatees or distributees,[39] or to their creditors;[40] and he is precluded from thereafter exervoluntarily distributes property charged with his own debt thereby releases the property from the charge. Harkins v. Hughes, 60 Ala. 316.

29. Larue v. White, 8 Dana (Ky.) 45.

30. Larue v. White, 8 Dana (Ky.) 45; Hammond v. Hammond, 169 Mass. 82, 47 N. E. 535, holding that where executors have by mistake made payments to a legatee from the income of the estate, which should have been made from the principal, they are entitled to retain money from the proper fund to make such payments good.

31. Larue v. White, 8 Dana (Ky.) 45.

32. Little v. Little, 161 Mass. 188, 36 N. E. 795; Fort v. Battle, 13 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 133; In re Markle, 187 Pa. St. 639, 41 Atl. 304; Sager v. Warley, Rice Eq. (S. C.) 26. And see Slack r. Wiggin, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 568.

The acceptance of a partial payment does not preclude a suit for the balance. Marshall r. Moseley, 21 N. Y. 280.

33. Potter's Appeal, 56 Conn. 1, 12 Atl. 513, 7 Am. St. Rep. 272.

34. Speight v. Gatling, 17 N. C. 5; Maldaner r. Beurhaus, 108 Wis. 25, 84 N. W. 25, holding that in such a case the legatees may maintain a bill for redistribution. But see Hopson v. Com., 7 Bush (Ky.) 644.

35. Patterson v. Dushane, 137 Pa. St. 23, 20 Atl. 538.

36. McLeod r. Johnson, 28 Miss. 374.

37. McLeod r. Johnson, 28 Miss. 374; Fort r. Battle, 13 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 133; Sager v. Warley, Rice Eq. (S. C.) 26.

A sale of decedent's business interests made by the representative in good faith and for which the purchaser's bond is taken cannot be impeached by a distributee after he has participated in the distribution of the sums collected on such bond. Wilson's Appeal, 4 Pennyp. (Pa.) 432.

Long lapse of time strengthens the situation as against reopening a division of the estate, notwithstanding irregularities. Smith r. Jarnagin, 1 Tenn. Cas. 79, Thomps. Cas. (Tenn.) 135.

38. McLeod r. Johnson, 28 Miss. 374.

39. Indiana.— Ray r. Doughty, 4 Blackf. 115.

Kentucky.— Mitchell r. Miller, 6 Dana 79; Mountjoy r. Hinkston, Litt. Sel. Cas. 214.

New York.— In re Quinn, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 550, holding that an executor who has turned over testator's business to the legatees cannot be called on by a devisee to account for the legatees' failure to comply with a provision of the will which directed them to apply one third of the net profits annually to the payment of a mortgage on the land devised to her.

South Carolina.— Sager v. Warley, Rice Eq. 26.

Vermont.— Beardsley v. Knight, 10 Vt. 185, 33 Am. Dec. 193.

England.— Knatchbull v. Fearnhead, 1 Jur. 687, 3 Myl. & C. 122, 14 Eng. Ch. 122, 40 Eng. Reprint 871.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1254.

Where a will is subsequently discovered and proved, the executor cannot compel the administrator, who has bona fide and duly distributed, to account for such property, but proceedings should rather be against the distributees themselves. Barkaloo r. Emerick, 18 Ohio 268.

Where the heirs refuse to accept a certain note and mortgage as part of their shares and money is given to them instead, the representative becomes absolute owner of such note and mortgage, and the heirs to whom it is delivered, without assignment or intent to transfer, cannot sue upon it. Blakely v. Carter, 70 Wis. 540, 36 N. W. 329.

Future income of the estate need no longer be accounted for by the representative (Johnson r. Johnson, 2 Hill Eq. (S. C.) 277, 29 Am. Dec. 72), nor should he be permitted to retain possession for the purpose of gathering an ungathered crop (Murdock r. Washburn, 1 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 546).

On proof of distribution the representative is entitled to have satisfaction entered. Carroll r. Moore, 7 Ala. 615.

A decree directing payment of a balance in the executor's hands in execution of trusts in the will is not a payment so as to discharge him or so as to exonerate the fund distributable and charge the person to whom it is payable; nothing short of actual payment or some act of the distributee to its prejudice will exonerate the fund. Clapp r. Meserole, 1 Abb. Dec. (N. Y.) 362, 1 Keyes (N. Y.) 281, 27 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 600 note [affirming 38 Barb. 661].

40. Mosely r. McGough, 69 Ga. 748 (holding that garnishment served afterward on the executor or administrator by a creditor of the cising control, as representative, over the property distributed.[41] And if assets fully set apart remain in his possession, he holds them as agent or bailee of the legatee or distributee and not as representative.[42] Where a distributee is entitled to recover his share either from the personal representative or from a third person who has received the same and recovers it by action against the personal representative, the latter is subrogated to the distributee's rights against such third person.[43]

b. Delivery to Legatee For Life. Delivery to a legatee or tenant for life amounts also to a delivery to the remainder-man and in general discharges the representative from any further duty or liability with respect to the legacy,[44] except where it was his duty to invest the fund and pay over the income only to the legatee for life,[45] and in such case the remainder man is not guilty of laches in not claiming the fund until after the death of the life-tenant, although he is aware that the representative has failed to invest the fund as directed by the will and has paid over the principal to the life-tenant.[46]

L. Improper, Erroneous, or Premature Payment or Distribution — 1. In General. A representative is personally responsible to the aggrieved person for an improper or erroneous payment or distribution,[47] unless the latter is distributee comes too late); Evans v. Robinson, 5 B. Mon. (Ky.) 589.

41. Murdock v. Washburn, 1 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 546; Hunter v. Lawrence, 11 Gratt. (Va.) 111, 62 Am. Dec. 640.

The representative cannot sell assets after finally delivering them to the residuary legatee or distributee. McCants v. Bee, 1 McCord Eq. (S. C.) 383, 16 Am. Dec. 610.

A purchase back with funds of the estate of property distributed is made at the representative's own risk; and he must be held personally liable for any loss thereon. In re Herrick, 12 N. Y. Suppl. 105.

42. Harkins v. Hughes, 60 Ala. 316; Woodruff v. Young, 31 Hun (N. Y.) 420; Soley's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 144, holding that property returned to one of two co-executors to hold cannot be recovered from the other.

43. Stayner v. Bower, 42 Ohio St. 314, holding that, where a husband had received property from his wife's father as advancements on her share of her father's estate, she was entitled on the latter's death, when her distributive share was ascertained, to compel her husband to account, or to collect her share in full from the administrator; and where the administrator paid in full, he was subrogated to her rights against her husband.

44. Alabama.— Hunter v. Green, 22 Ala. 329.

Louisiana.—Piffet's Succession, 39 La. Ann. 466, 1 So. 889; Samuels v. Brownlee, 36 La. Ann. 228.

Massachusetts.— Lynde v. Estabrook, 7 Allen 68.

Mississippi.— Lusk v. Swayze, 35 Miss. 155; Andrews v. Brumfield, 32 Miss. 107; Probate Judge v. Alexander, 31 Miss. 297.

New Hampshire.— Weeks v. Jewett, 45 N. H. 540.

New Jersey.— Dodson v. Sevars, 52 N. J. Eq. 611, 30 Atl. 477.

Texas.— Blackwell v. Blackwell, (Civ. App. 1893) 23 S. W. 31.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1255.

After the death of the tenant for life, the executor, who has delivered over to him property given by the will, cannot maintain an action against a third person to recover the property for the parties entitled to it under the will. Weeks v. Jewett, 45 N. H. 540.

Surrender to remainder-man.— Where an executrix who is also tenant for life surrenders her estate to the remainder-men, and a division is made among them by their consent, they cannot afterward complain of the surrender of the life-estate as a devastavit. Garrett v. Garrett, 1 Strobh. Eq. (S. C.) 96.

45. Mercer v. Glass, 25 S. W. 114, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 710; Wooten v. Burch, 2 Md. Ch. 190; Jones v. Simmons, 42 N. C. 178.

46. Montgomery's Appeal, 77 Pa. St. 370.

47. Alabama.—Hemphill v. Moody, 62 Ala. 510, where credit on account therefor was denied.

Maryland.—Hindman v. State, 61 Md. 471; Hanson v. Worthington, 12 Md. 418.

New Jersey.— Thiefes v. Mason, 55 N. J. Eq. 456, 37 Atl. 455 (holding that, where an executor does not prove the will but disposes of the personal estate otherwise than as directed by the will, he is responsible to the legatee for conversion, as is also his executor or administrator, but the latter is not responsible to the administrator with the will annexed of the first testator); Ashhurst v. Field, 26 N. J. Eq. 1 (where credit on account was denied).

New York.— Matter of Baker, 57 N. Y. App. Div. 44, 68 N. Y. Suppl. 44, holding an executor responsible for a loss to a trust fund caused by his distributing so as to benefit the residuary estate at the expense of such fund.

South Carolina.— Boone v. Durand, 1 Desauss. 588.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1257.

Poverty of a legatee does not exonerate the executor from making him a payment unauthorized by the will to the injury of other estopped from objecting thereto.[48] If he distributes to the wrong person or omits one entitled to share he may be compelled to pay again to the right person;[49] or if he pays to one legatee or distributee more than is due him, in legal contemplation the sum overpaid is in his hands as assets which he must pay over to the persons entitled thereto.[50] But if the error or inequality has occurred on partial distribution, it may be rectified on a subsequent or final distribulegatees interested. Wallis v. Cowell, 25 N. C. 323.

Yielding negligently to a process of court and turning over a distributive share without appearing and contesting the proceedings may render the representative personally liable. Fisher v. Ritchey, 64 N. C. 172.

48. Alabama.— Colbert v. Daniel, 32 Ala. 314, legatee present and assenting to an allotment under an erroneous construction of the will.

Kentucky.— Hopson v. Com., 7 Bush 644.

New York.— Matter of Turfler, 1 Misc. 58, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 135, Pow. Surr. 389.

North Carolina.—Wallis v. Cowell, 25 N. C. 323.

Ohio.— Brent v. First, 41 Ohio St. 436.

Pennsylvania.—Rankin's Estate, 27 Pittsb. Leg. J. 45.

South Carolina.— Garrett v. Garrett, 1 Strobh. Eq. 96.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1257 et seq.

Payment of a contingent legacy to the guardian of a minor does not estop a surviving residuary legatee thereafter entitled to the legacy from maintaining an action against the executor to enforce his interest, although he had notice and was present at the settlement of the executor's account. Cowdin v. Perry, 11 Pick. (Mass.) 503.

49. Kentucky.— Keiningham v. Keiningham, 71 S. W. 497, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 1330.

Massachusetts.— Cowdin v. Perry, 11 Pick. 503.

Michigan.— Richardson v. Richardson, 100 Mich. 364, 59 N. W. 178, representative of an heir distributing among the latter's legatees funds which such heir had received as attorney in fact of his coheirs.

Mississippi.— Garner v. Lansford, 12 Sm. & M. 558.

New York.—Matter of Robertson, 51 N. Y. App. Div. 117, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 385 [affirmed in 165 N. Y. 675, 59 N. E. 1129]; Lawrence v. Brinkerhoff, 2 N. Y. Leg. Obs. 122.

North Carolina.— Wade v. Dick, 33 N. C. 313, holding this to be true, although he makes such distribution in good faith upon his own judgment or upon the judgment of his counsel.

Ohio.— Negley v. Gard, 20 Ohio 310; In re Koehnken, 25 Ohio Cir. Ct. 245; Rote v. Warner, 17 Ohio Cir. Ct. 350, 9 Ohio Cir. Dec. 540.

Pennsylvania.—Bear's Estate, 9 Pa. Super. Ct. 492, 43 Wkly. Notes Cas. 469, distribution to unauthorized representative of a deceased distributee. But see Sutter's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 591.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1261.

Ignorance of the existence of the ones omitted does not relieve the administrator from liability to them for their shares (Campbell v. Reed, 24 Pa. St. 498; Laurason v. Davenport, 2 Call (Va.) 95), as he is bound to make diligent inquiry after such persons, especially where he has knowledge of their having removed to a distant part of the state years before (Campbell v. Reed, 24 Pa. St. 498).

A decree in favor of a distributee who has been erroneously excluded from distribution should be first against the distributees respectively for the share of each, and then against the administrators for what they do not pay, and should be estimated upon the value of the property at the time of division, when he was excluded. Powell v. Powell, 9 Dana (Ky.) 12.

50. Alabama.— Sellers v. Smith, 11 Ala. 264.

Maine.— Smith v. Lambert, 30 Me. 137.

New Hampshire.— Griswold v. Chandler, 5 N. H. 492.

New Jersey.— See McKnight v. Walsh, 24 N. J. Eq. 498 [affirming 23 N. J. Eq. 136].

New York.— In re Underhill, 117 N. Y. 471, 22 N. E. 1120 [affirming 6 N. Y. Suppl. 133]; Adair v. Brimmer, 74 N. Y. 539; Matter of Saltus, 3 Abb. Dec. 243, 3 Keyes 500; Matter of Robertson, 51 N. Y. App. Div. 117, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 385 [affirmed in 165 N. Y. 675, 59 N. E. 1129]; Johnson v. Weir, 34 Misc. 683, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 1020. See In re Tobin, 16 N. Y. Suppl. 462, Pow. Surr. 5, holding that where testator gave his wife one thousand dollars and the remainder of his estate to his brother, and testator and his wife had an account in a bank in their joint names, in which each deposited, having independent sources of revenue, and after his death she drew out the balance, there being no proof as to how much belonged to each, the presumption was that each owned half, and, the executors having paid the legacy of one thousand dollars without retaining the brother's half interest therefrom, a decree should be made providing that the executors should execute an assignment to the brother of such interest, to be held by him to his own use, but that the executor would not be charged personally therewith.

North Carolina.— Sanders v. Jones, 43 N. C. 246.

Pennsylvania.— Mayberry's Appeal, 33 Pa. St. 258; Ihmsen's Estate, 29 Pittsb. Leg. J. 218.

South Carolina.—Whitlock v. Whitlock, 13 Rich. Eq. 165; Stephenson v. Axson, Bailey Eq. 274.

Vermont.— Spaulding v. Wakefield, 53 Vt. 660, 38 Am. Rep. 709, holding that it is tion;[51] and the excess may be retained from the future income or shares of the ones so overpaid.[52] The fact that the representative has accounted to one legatee or distributee for less than his legacy or distributive share does not give to another a greater interest in the residue than he was previously entitled to.[53] Nor does the fact that he has made overpayment to one legatee or distributee bind him to make like payments to others.[54]

2. Payment Under Will Subsequently Declared Invalid. An executor who comes into possession of property under a will duly authenticated and proved, and parts with it to one having a right to demand it, cannot be held liable to other heirs therefor, if the will be afterward proved invalid or void,[55] unless he had notice of a contest of the will at the time of the payment.[56] But the one receiving such property may be sued by other distributees for the difference between the amount to which he is entitled and the amount so received;[57] or if he is also a creditor of the estate the representative is entitled to credit for the amount so received in a settlement with him.[58]

3. Payment Before Order or Decree. Voluntary payments to distributees without an order or decree of court authorizing the same are made by the representative at his own peril,[59] although a subsequent decree in his favor will protect waste and culpable negligence for an executor to deliver to legatees, in payment of one thousand dollars each, three bonds of the estate of that face value, but actually worth twelve hundred dollars each in the market, and he is liable to the estate for the loss, even though they were appraised at par.

Virginia.— Gallego v. Atty. Gen., 3 Leigh 450, 24 Am. Dec. 650.

United States.—Falls Bridge Turnpike Co. v. Adams, 8 Fed. Cas. No. 4,630, 1 Hayw. & H. 95; Moffit v. Varden, 17 Fed. Cas. No. 9,689, 5 Cranch C. C. 658.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1264.

Collection of excess.— An order directing executors who had overpaid certain legatees to pay the balance due to other legatees when they had collected the amounts overpaid creates an absolute obligation on the part of the executors to collect the sums overpaid within a reasonable time. Adams v. Turner, 12 S. C. 594.

An order for immediate payment to an unpaid legatee may be made without waiting until the executor has recovered from other legatees the excess paid them. Matter of Robertson, 51 N. Y. App. Div. 117, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 385 [affirmed in 165 N. Y. 675, 59 N. E. 1129].

The representative of a deceased executor cannot recover from the latter's successor in the administration the amount of overpayments made by the executor where the circumstances do not permit of a fair readjustment. Laird v. Moore, 27 Pa. St. 67.

A decree allowing an executor's account, in which he has credited himself with money paid to a legatee beyond his just proportion, furnishes no protection to the executor for making such payment. Smith v. Lambert, 30 Me. 137.

51. Leavens' Estate, 65 Wis. 440, 27 N. W. 324.

52. Grim's Appeal, 109 Pa. St. 391, 1 Atl. 212 [affirming 9 Pa. Co. Ct. 523]: Vanderford's Appeal, (Pa. 1888) 12 Atl. 491; Richardson's Estate, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 32.

53. Montgomery v. Givhan, 24 Ala. 568.

54. Anderson v. Piercy, 20 W. Va. 282.

55. Le Baron v. Fauntleroy, 2 Fla. 276; Poag v. Carroll, Dudley (S. C.) 1.

But payments without order of court to special legatees under a will subsequently annulled will not be recognized. Heffner's Succession, 49 La. Ann. 407, 21 So. 905.

56. Kelly v. Davis, 37 Miss. 76. And see Smith v. Stockbridge, 39 Md. 640, holding that, where a will which has been admitted to probate has been declared void by the court of appeals, a partial distribution made under an administration with the will annexed is void.

Liability for insurance and use of property. — Where an executor anticipates the law and turns over property in payment of a specific legacy, which is afterward declared void, he must answer for the insurance collected for an injury to the property by fire; but he should not be charged for the use of the property when it has not been damaged thereby. Turnipseed v. Sirrine, 60 S. C. 272, 38 S. E. 423.

57. Le Baron v. Fauntleroy, 2 Fla. 276.

58. Wood v. Nelson, 10 B. Mon. (Ky.) 229.

59. Arkansas.— McPaxton v. Dickson, 15 Ark. 41.

Louisiana.— Beatty v. Dufief, 11 La. Ann. 74, holding that payments without an order of court are irregular and not binding, unless shown to have liberated the estate from a legal charge.

Maryland.— Biays v. Roberts, 68 Md. 510, 13 Atl. 366.

Massachusetts.— Palmer v. Whitney, 166 Mass. 306, 44 N. E. 229; Defriez v. Coffin, 155 Mass. 203, 29 N. E. 516. And see Welch v. Adams, 152 Mass. 74, 25 N. E. 34, 9 L. R. A. 244.

Mississippi.— Lowry v. McMillan, 35 Miss. 147, 72 Am. Dec. 119.

him.[60] He may be entitled to credit, however, for the payments made, if they are correct and not more than the distributive share.[61]

4. Payment Under Order of Court. A payment or distribution in good faith in accordance with an order or decree of court will generally protect a representative and release him from further liability,[62] although the order or decree is subsequently reversed,[63] unless it merely orders distribution without determining the persons entitled or their shares,[64] or does not dispose of the whole estate.[65] But he is not protected if he makes payment or distribution in bad faith under an order which is void,[66] or which orders distribution before the payment of debts,[67] or which has been obtained by him in bad faith,[68] or where such payment or distribution is made before the time for appealing from the order has expired.[69]

5. Payment or Distribution Before Debts Are Paid. If a representative makes distribution to legatees or distributees without taking a refunding bond[70] before Nebraska.— Boales v. Ferguson, 55 Nebr. 565, 76 N. W. 18.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators." § 1259.

The mere fact that the payment was made in good faith will not protect the representative. McKnight v. Walsh, 23 N. J. Eq. 136, voluntary payment of part of an infant's legacy to the father, for the latter's expense in supporting the child.

A mere formal division of property without a legal warrant therefor and without delivery confers no title upon the distributees and the representative may successfully defend an action brought for its recovery by one to whom he has assigned a share. Dearman v. Radcliffe, 5 Ala. 192.

A representative may at his own risk assign a mortgage belonging to the estate to one of the heirs by way of advance before a decree of distribution, and in the absence of fraud or collusion or insufficiency of assets the assignee may maintain a suit to foreclose the mortgage. Williams v. Ely, 13 Wis. 1.

Payment to the surrogate before a decree settling the representative's accounts of an amount due a distributee is not a good payment to the latter, and the representative may be compelled to pay again upon the failure of the surrogate to account for the amount paid him. Matter of Te Culver, 22 Misc. (N. Y.) 217, 49 N. Y. Suppl. 820.

60. Charlton's Appeal, 88 Pa. St. 476. And see infra, XI, P, 3, a.

61. Donaldson v. Raborg, 28 Md. 34; Young v. Thresher, 48 Mo. App. 327. See also Palmer v. Whitney, 166 Mass. 306, 44 N. E. 229.

62. See infra, XI, P, 3, a.

63. Frazer v. Page, 5 Ky. L. Rep. 790; Charlton's Appeal, 88 Pa. St. 476; Stewart's Appeal, 86 Pa. St. 149.

64. Garner v. Lansford, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 558; Boales v. Ferguson, 55 Nebr. 565, 76 N. W. 18. See Wade v. Dick, 36 N. C. 313.

65. Schooler v. Stark, 73 Mo. App. 301, holding that, where an order of distribution made by the circuit court on appeal did not include or refer to a special fund, the distribution of which by the probate court was not included, payment to the distributees in accordance with the judgment of the circuit court will not release the executor from liability to account for such special fund.

66. Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227.

67. McMahon v. Jones, 14 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 406, 67 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 113; McNair v. Ragland, 16 N. C. 516; Lewis v. Richardson, 6 Rich. (S. C.) 382, holding this to be true where the decree provides for a forthcoming bond on which the representative has his remedy.

68. O'Neil's Appeal, 55 Conn. 409, 11 Atl. 857, holding that where an administratrix procured an order of distribution and knowingly omitted a distributee therefrom, a payment thereunder was not made in good faith, and that the administratrix was liable for such distributee's share on reversal of the order.

69. Coulter v. Lyda, 102 Mo. App. 401, 76 S. W. 720. But see Ernst v. Freeman, 129 Mich. 271, 88 N. W. 636.

70. Kentucky.— Dye v. Claunch, 5 J. J. Marsh. 659 (holding that a creditor telling an executor to settle with a distributee "without regard to my account" does not exonerate the executor from taking bonds from the distributes and holding assets until all the debts of which he had notice are satisfied); Hooser v. Hooser, 3 Ky. L. Rep. 796.

North Carolina.— Reeves v. Bell, 47 N. C. 254.

Pennsylvania.— Robins' Estate, 180 Pa. St. 630, 37 Atl. 121 [modifying 4 Pa. Dist. 277]; Jones' Appeal, 99 Pa. St. 124; Musser v. Oliver, 21 Pa. St. 362; Dougherty v. Snyder, 15 Serg. & R. 84, 16 Am. Dec. 520; Rastaetter's Estate, 15 Pa. Super. Ct. 549. And see Transue's Estate, 141 Pa. St. 170, 21 Atl. 502; Sidle v. Anderson, 45 Pa. St. 464.

Tennessee.— Rice v. Hunt, 7 Lea 33; Boring v. Jobe, (Ch. App. 1899) 53 S. W. 763.

Virginia.— Beverly v. Rhodes, 86 Va. 415, 10 S. E. 572; Morrison v. Lavell, 81 Va. 519; Edmounds v. Scott, 78 Va. 720; Lewis v. Overby, 31 Gratt. 601.

West Virginia.— McGlaughlin v. McGlaughlin, 43 W. Va. 226, 27 S. E. 378.

But see Davis v. Van Sands, 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,655, 45 Conn. 600, holding that failure to take a refunding bond is not of itself sufficient ground for holding the administrator guilty of a devastavit, especially where the payment of debts he is guilty of a devastavit, and personally liable to unpaid creditors prejudiced thereby, who present or give notice of their claims within the time prescribed by statute,[71] although he was ignorant of their existence at the statute requiring such bond has practically fallen into disuse.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1263½.

Laches of the creditor will not bar his right against a representative who has made distribution without taking a refunding bond. Robins' Estate, 180 Pa. St. 630, 37 Atl. 121 [modifying 4 Pa. Dist. 277]; Jones' Appeal, 99 Pa. St. 124; Montgomery's Appeal, 92 Pa. St. 202, 37 Am. Rep. 670; Musser v. Oliver, 21 Pa. St. 362; Rastaetter's Estate, 15 Pa. Super. Ct. 549.

An erroneous belief that a debt was satisfied, which belief was not authorized by the conduct of the creditor, does not relieve the representative from liability to such creditor, where he distributed the estate without taking a refunding bond. Hooser v. Hooser, 3 Ky. L. Rep. 796.

A creditor's refusal to accept certain funds in payment of his claim relieves the representative from liability for turning over such funds to the legatees without taking a refunding bond. Ramsay v. Hanner, 64 N. C. 668.

One acting as trustee and not in the capacity of an administrator is not guilty of devastavit for making distribution without taking refunding bonds. Transue's Estate, 143 Pa. St. 170, 21 Atl. 502, so holding as to administrators appointed by the court in partition proceedings to sell realty and pay the debts of the estate, as they act as trustees and not as administrators.

Subsequent confirmation of the representative's account of his voluntary payment to legatees or distributees does not protect him against creditors where he has taken no refunding bond. Robins' Estate, 180 Pa. St. 630, 37 Atl. 121 [modifying 4 Pa. Dist. 277].

71. Alabama.— Handley v. Heflin, 84 Ala. 600, 4 So. 725; Whitfield v. Woolf, 51 Ala. 202; Feagan v. Kendall, 43 Ala. 628.

Connecticut.— Phelps v. Swan, Kirby 428.

Georgia.— Lanier v. Huguley, 91 Ga. 791, 18 S. E. 39; McIntosh v. Hambleton, 35 Ga. 94, 89 Am. Dec. 276.

Indiana.— Fleece v. Jones, 71 Ind. 340; Ray v. Doughty, 4 Blackf. 115.

Kentucky.— Johnson v. Fuquay, 1 Dana 514.

Maryland.— Rawlings v. Adams, 7 Md. 26; Steuart v. Carr, 6 Gill 430; Cornish v. Willson, 6 Gill 299.

Missouri.— Lewis v. Carson, 93 Mo. 587, 3 S. W. 483, 6 S. W. 365 (although legacies were directed by the will to be paid "as soon as practicable"); North v. Priest, 81 Mo. 561 [affirming 9 Mo. App. 586].

New York.— Carter v. Board of Education, 68 Hun 435, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 95 [affirmed in 144 N. Y. 621, 39 N. E. 628]; Matter of Swart, 2 Silv. Supreme 585, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 608; Matter of Oosterhoudt, 15 Misc. 566, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 179; McMahon v. Jones, 14 Abb. N. Cas. 406, 67 How. Pr. 113; McMahon v. Sullivan, 14 Abb. N. Cas. 405, 67 How. Pr. 152; Glacius v. Fogel, 4 Redf. Surr. 516; Clayton v. Wardell, 2 Bradf. Surr. 1.

North Carolina.— McNair v. Ragland, 16 N. C. 516, even though there was a premature order of the court, where he did not oppose such order.

Ohio.— James v. West, 67 Ohio St. 28, 65 N. E. 156, distribution on the advice of counsel and a probate judge before the debts of the estate are paid.

Pennsylvania.— Thomas v. Riegel, 5 Rawle 266; Swearinger v. Pendleton, 4 Serg. & R. 389; Rastaetter's Estate, 15 Pa. Super. Ct. 549. Compare Mustin's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 180.

South Carolina.— Graves v. Spoon, 18 S. C. 386; Crane v. Moses, 13 S. C. 561; Cochran v. Cochran, 2 Desauss. 521; Trescot v. Trescot, 1 McCord Eq. 417.

Tennessee.— Davis v. Jackson, (Ch. App. 1897) 39 S. W. 1067.

Virginia.— Lewis v. Mason, 84 Va. 731, 10 S. E. 529; Davis v. Newman, 2 Rob. 664, 40 Am. Dec. 764; Cookus v. Peyton, 1 Gratt. 431; Kippen v. Carr, 4 Munf. 119.

England.— Hawkins v. Day, Ambl. 160, 27 Eng. Reprint 107, Dick. 155, 21 Eng. Reprint 228; Newcastle, etc., Banking Co. v. Hymers, 22 Beav. 367, 52 Eng. Reprint 1149; Davis v. Blackwell, 9 Bing. 5, 1 L. J. C. P. 140, 2 Moore & S. 7, 23 E. C. L. 461; Knatchbull v. Fearnhead, 1 Jur. 687, 3 Myl. & C. 122, 14 Eng. Ch. 122, 40 Eng. Reprint 871; Scottish Equitable L. Assur. Soc. v. Beatty, 29 L. R. Ir. 290. And see In re Lindsey, Ir. R. 8 Eq. 61.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1263.

A distribution by agreement among the persons entitled does not relieve the representative from liability for debts left unpaid. Long v. Mitchell, 63 Ga. 769; Drayton v. Drayton, 1 Desauss. (S. C.) 557.

That a debt is secured by a mortgage on real estate does not justify the payment of legacies before ascertaining the existence of assets sufficient to pay all debts; and in case of a judgment for a deficiency on a foreclosure and a sale of the mortgaged premises the judgment creditor may compel the executor to account. Glacius v. Fogel, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 516.

Liability for interest.— In some cases it has been held that the representative is liable for interest on the amount prematurely distributed (Cookus v. Peyton, 1 Gratt. (Va.) 431) from the time of distribution (Cochran v. Cochran, 2 Desauss. (S. C.) 521), or from a date one year later than the date of the testamentary letters (Rote v. Warner, 17 Ohio Cir. Ct. 350, 9 Ohio Cir. Dec. 540); but on the other hand it has been held that the time of such distribution,[72] or has subsequently settled his accounts and been discharged;[73] and he cannot relieve himself from liability by proof that his co-executor had received assets sufficient to pay all debts.[74] This rule does not apply, however, where the representative makes distribution in ignorance of outstanding claims after he has given due notice to creditors and they have failed to present their claims within the prescribed time,[75] or where he makes merely a partial distribution reserving sufficient assets to meet unpaid claims.[76]

6. Liability of Legatee or Distributee to Refund — a. In General. Repayment of the amount wrongfully paid a legatee or distributee under a mistake of fact may be enforced against him as a personal obligation in a suit by the personal representative,[77] notwithstanding the fact that he has made a final settlement of his

he is only liable for the amount distributed without interest (McKinzie v. Smith, 3 N. C. 372) where by reason of such distribution he has been compelled to borrow money to pay debts and is not allowed credit for interest paid on the money so borrowed (Matter of Oosterhoudt, 15 Misc. (N. Y.) 566, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 179).

Property improperly distributed is to be estimated, in an action by a creditor against the executor, as assets in his hands, at its increased value and not as it was when received or distributed. Mason County Justices v. Lee, 1 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 247.

Distribution by an executor to himself as devisee or heir at law with notice of an outstanding debt against his testator does not give him a title free from the ordinary legal lien of a judgment de bonis testatoris subsequently rendered against him in favor of the creditor. McMillan v. Toombs, 79 Ga. 143, 4 S. E. 16.

72. Alabama.— Whetstone v. McQueen, 137 Ala. 301, 34 So. 229; Whitfield v. Woolf, 51 Ala. 202.

Kentucky.— Johnson v. Fuquay, 1 Dana 514.

Pennsylvania.— Swearinger v. Pendleton, 4 Serg. & R. 389.

Virginia.— Lewis v. Overby, 31 Gratt. 601; Cookus v. Peyton, 1 Gratt. 431.

West Virginia.—McGlaughlin v. McGlaughlin, 43 W. Va. 226, 27 S. E. 378.

England.— Hawkins v. Day, Ambl. 160, 27 Eng. Reprint 107, Dick. 155, 21 Eng. Reprint 228; Newcastle, etc., Banking Co. v. Hymers, 22 Beav. 367, 52 Eng. Reprint 1149; Hill v. Gomme, 1 Beav. 540, 3 Jur. 744, 8 L. J. Ch. 350, 17 Eng. Ch. 540, 48 Eng. Reprint 1050; Knatchbull v. Fearnhead, 1 Jur. 687, 3 Myl. & C. 122, 14 Eng. Ch. 122, 40 Eng. Reprint 871; Smith v. Day, 6 L. J. Exch. 219, M. & H. 185, 2 M. & W. 684; Norman v. Baldry, 6 Sim. 621, 9 Eng. Ch. 621.

But compare Graves v. Spoon, 18 S. C. 386, holding that payments to distributees to the prejudice of creditors are justifiable where the administrator after a close observance of his prescribed duty makes such payments in ignorance of outstanding claims and with assets then of sufficient value to pay all debts.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1263.

73. Long v. Mitchell, 63 Ga. 769; Thomas v. Riegel, 5 Rawle (Pa.) 266.

A final decree allowing an administrator's account is no defense to an action against the administrator on a judgment rendered in an action pending at the time of such decree, where he held in his hands funds sufficient to pay any judgment that might be rendered against him in such action, and his petition for the decree failed to disclose the pending action. Whitney v. Pinney, 51 Minn. 146, 53 N. W. 198.

74. Whitfield v. Woolf, 51 Ala. 202.

75. Maryland.— Glenn v. Smith, 17 Md. 260; Rawlings v. Adams, 7 Md. 26.

New York.— O'Connor v. Gifford, 117 N. Y. 275, 22 N. E. 1036 [affirming 3 N. Y. Suppl. 337 (reversing 3 N. Y. Suppl. 207, 6 Dem. Surr. 71)] (although the legacy for which the money was paid was void); Erwin v. Loper, 43 N. Y. 521.

North Carolina.— Mallard v. Patterson, 108 N. C. 255, 13 S. E. 93.

South Carolina.— Crane v. Moses, 13 S. C. 561.

England.— Clegg v. Rowland, L. R. 3 Eq. 368, 36 L. J. Ch. 137, 15 L. T. Rep. N. S. 385, 15 Wkly. Rep. 251. And see Davis v. Blackwell, 9 Bing. 5, 1 L. J. C. P. 140, 2 Moore & S. 7, 23 E. C. L. 461; Re Land Credit Co., 21 Wkly. Rep. 135, holding that if the representative has actual notice of the claim he is liable therefor, although the creditor failed to send in particulars of it in answer to an advertisement of creditors.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1262.

76. Anderson v. Irvine, 7 B. Mon. (Ky.) 209; Rothschild v. Wald, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 685. And see Graves v. Spoon, 18 S. C. 386.

77. Alabama.— Sellers v. Smith, 11 Ala. 264.

Connecticut.—Northrop v. Graves, 19 Conn. 548, 50 Am. Dec. 264.

Georgia.— Echols v. Almon, 77 Ga. 330, 1 S. E. 269.

Indiana.— Stokes v. Goodykoontz, 126 Ind. 535, 26 N. E. 391.

Kentucky.— McCampbell v. McCampbell, 5 Litt. 92, 15 Am. Dec. 48, holding that an executor who pays a legacy supposing it a charge on land, which he erroneously supposed to belong to himself, may recover it from the owner. And see Whitney v. Whitney, 5 Dana 327.

Louisiana.— Beatty v. Dufief, 11 La. Ann. 74.

accounts;[78] but not where such payment is made under a mistake of law,[79] unless necessary for the payment of debts of the estate.[80] If the representative refuses or fails to apply the remedy[81] or is insolvent, the other legatees or distributees may sue in equity to compel a repayment.[82] This remedy, however, may be

Maryland.— Buchanan v. Pue, 6 Gill 112.

Massachusetts.— Stevens v. Goodell, 3 Metc. 34, holding that an administrator de bonis non could recover the amount improperly distributed.

New York.— Matter of Robertson, 51 N. Y. App. Div. 117, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 385 [affirmed in 165 N. Y. 675, 59 N. E. 1129]; Lawyers' Surety Co. v. Reinach, 25 Misc. 150, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 205 [affirming 23 Misc. 242, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 162] (distribution under an erroneous decree); Williamson v. Williamson, 6 Paige 298.

North Carolina.— Wilcoxon v. Donelly, 90 N. C. 245, holding also that the liability to repay does not constitute a charge upon such party's share in the decedent's land.

Pennsylvania.— Grim's Estate, 147 Pa. St. 190, 23 Atl. 802, 803; Sutter's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 591.

South Carolina.— Buerhaus v. De Saussure, 41 S. C. 457, 19 S. E. 926, 20 S. E. 64.

Vermont.— French v. Winsor, 36 Vt. 412.

Virginia.— Gallego v. Atty.-Gen., 3 Leigh 450, 24 Am. Dec. 650.

United States.— Moffit v. Varden, 17 Fed. Cas. No. 9,689, 5 Cranch C. C. 658; Washington v. Washington, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,236, 3 Cranch C. C. 77.

Canada.— See Uffner v. Lewis, 27 Ont. App. 242.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1265.

A note given by the representative in payment in lieu of cash or property may be sealed to the true amount of the legacy or distributive share where it appears that it had been made for more than the amount due. Barnes v. Stephenson, 22 Ga. 209.

The assignment of a mortgage in payment of a legacy less in amount than the nominal amount of the mortgage does not make the legatee responsible for the nominal excess, where he has with proper diligence and in good faith sold the property under a decree of foreclosure for less than the amount of his legacy. Hammond v. Lewis, 1 How. (U. S.) 14, 11 L. ed. 30.

Moneys paid under an erroneous decree of distribution, being assets of the estate, are properly recoverable in an action at law. Lawyers' Surety Co. v. Reinach, 25 Misc. (N. Y.) 150, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 205 [affirming 23 Misc. 242, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 162].

Interest on the excess may be charged against the one overpaid (Buerhaus v. De Saussure, 41 S. C. 457, 19 S. E. 926, 20 S. E. 64; Davidson v. Boomer, 17 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 509. But see Boys' Home v. Lewis, 3 Ont. L. Rep. 208) from the time the demand for restitution is made (Grim's Estate, 147 Pa. St. 190, 23 Atl. 802, 803).

Priority.— Upon the death of an overpaid distributee, the claim for repayment of the excess will not take precedence over the claims of creditors of such distributee. Williams v. McCardell, 14 S. C. 219.

Defenses based on the representative's wrong-doing in distributing such excess cannot be set up in an action therefor. Lawyers' Surety Co. v. Reinach, 23 Misc. (N. Y.) 242, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 162.

Set-off.— As a representative's right of action for restitution in such case is in his representative capacity, a claim against him individually cannot be set off against the claim for restitution. Lawyers' Surety Co. v. Reinach, 25 Misc. (N. Y.) 150, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 205 [affirming 23 Misc. 242, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 162]. See also Stevens v. Goodell, 3 Metc. (Mass.) 34.

The burden of proving that the amount received was excessive is upon the person requiring the money to be refunded. Peterson v. Peterson, L. R. 3 Eq. 111, 36 L. J. Ch. 101, 15 Wkly. Rep. 164.

Liability of life legatee to refund.— Moss v. Cohen, 158 N. Y. 240, 53 N. E. 8 [reversing 15 Misc. 108, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 265].

78. Sellers v. Smith, 11 Ala. 264.

But after the executor's discharge he cannot procure a direction, in an action by a devisee for partition, that enough of the proceeds to pay his claim against the devisee who has been overpaid be paid into the surrogate's court, the time having elapsed within which a distribution of the proceeds would be stayed in the interest of creditors, and the surrogate's decree not having been opened. Johnson v. Weir, 34 Misc. (N. Y.) 683, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 1020, 36 Misc. (N. Y.) 737, 74 N. Y. Suppl. 358.

79. Phillips v. McConica, 59 Ohio St. 1, 51 N. E. 445, 69 Am. St. Rep. 753; Shriver v. Garrison, 30 W. Va. 456, 4 S. E. 660. And see Rogers v. Ingham, 3 Ch. D. 351, 35 L. T. Rep. N. S. 677, 25 Wkly. Rep. 338.

80. Shriver v. Garrison, 30 W. Va. 456, 4 S. E. 660. And see infra, XI, R.

81. Miller v. Stark, 29 S. C. 325, 7 S. E. 501.

82. Wallace v. Latham, 52 Miss. 291; Buffalo Loan, etc., Safe Deposit Co. v. Leonard, 154 N. Y. 141, 47 N. E. 966 [affirming 9 N. Y. App. Div. 384, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 294]; Miller v. Stark, 29 S. C. 325, 7 S. E. 501; Lyles v. Lyles, 1 Hill Eq. (S. C.) 76; Orr v. Kaines, 2 Ves. 194, 28 Eng. Reprint 125. And see Gallego v. Atty.-Gen., 3 Leigh (Va.) 450, 24 Am. Dec. 650.

But compare Gaines v. Smiley, 7 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 53, 45 Am. Dec. 295, holding that the superior court of chancery has not jurisdiction of a bill by a person alleging himself to be a distributee, whose claims have been overlooked or disregarded in the distribution in the probate court, against one of the distributees to recover from him a ratable pro-barred by the statute of limitations,[83] which begins to run from the time the overpayments were made,[84] and not from the time they were discovered.[85]

b. Restitution on Reversal of Decree. Upon the reversal of a decree of distribution the parties are in the same position as if no decree had been rendered, and the personal representative is entitled to restitution of all the property distributed under such decree, or its value,[86] including any part thereof which has been assigned or transferred by the distributee.[87]

M. Delay in or Failure to Make Payment or Distribution — 1. Liability of Representative in General. Since a representative renders himself liable under his bond for culpable negligence as well as for active misconduct,[88] he may be held chargeable for a loss occurring through his unreasonable delay or failure to distribute, or to apply for an order of distribution,[89] or to make payment to those entitled,[90] unless the latter have also been guilty of negligence to portion of the estate, as the proper remedy is in the probate court.

A deficiency of assets is shown in an action by legatees to recover of another legatee an overpayment of a legacy, where it appears from the complaint, as well as from a settlement in the probate court exhibited therewith, that the executor held assets amounting to fourteen thousand three hundred and forty-one dollars to be equally divided among ten legatees, and that defendant received two thousand one hundred and seventy-eight dollars. Miller v. Stark, 29 S. C. 325, 7 S. E. 501.

The husband of a distributee is not estopped to recover from the other distributees his interest in his wife's distributive share, by the fact that he administers on the original estate. Gray v. Cockrell, 20 Tex. Civ. App. 324, 49 S. W. 247.

83. Shelburne v. Robinson, 8 Ill. 597; Reading v. Reading, 6 N. J. L. 186; Montgomery's Appeal, 92 Pa. St. 202, 37 Am. Rep. 670; Schriver v. Garrison, 30 W. Va. 456, 4 S. E. 660.

84. Reading v. Reading, 6 N. J. L. 186; Ferguson v. Yard, 164 Pa. St. 586, 30 Atl. 517; Montgomery's Appeal, 92 Pa. St. 202, 37 Am. Rep. 670.

85. Montgomery's Appeal, 92 Pa. St. 202, 37 Am. Rep. 670; Shriver v. Garrison, 30 W. Va. 456, 4 S. E. 660, holding that an administrator suing in a court of equity to recover money alleged to have been paid in ignorance of a material fact, to a distributee in excess of what he was entitled to, cannot avoid the bar of the statute of limitations on the ground that the mistake was not discovered until after the statutory limitation for the commencement of the action had expired, if it appears that he was informed of such other facts as would be sufficient to put him upon such inquiry as would have led to the discovery of such material fact before such cause of action was barred.

86. Ashton v. Heggerty, 130 Cal. 516, 62 Pac. 934; Ashton v. Heydenfeldt, 127 Cal. 442, 59 Pac. 759 (holding that the representative may maintain an action for such restitution against a legatee, although the property was not "actually delivered" but was used by the representative with the consent and under the direction of the legatee, to discharge her debts); Ashton v. Heydenfeldt, 124 Cal. 14, 56 Pac. 624.

Where the estate consists of corporate stock which is delivered and transferred on the books of the corporation to distributees pending an appeal from the decree of distribution, which is subsequently reversed, the representative is upon such reversal entitled to the stock (Ashton v. Zeila Min. Co., 134 Cal. 408, 60 Pac. 494; Ashton v. Heggerty, 130 Cal. 516, 62 Pac. 934; Ashton v. Heydenfeldt, 124 Cal. 14, 56 Pac. 624), and may sue to recover the dividends thereon, notwithstanding others appear as owners on the books of the corporation (Ashton v. Zeila Min. Co., supra).

Defenses.— It is no defense that the property sought to be recovered was not subject to an outstanding mortgage, owing to the existence of which the decree of distribution was reversed (Ashton v. Heggerty, 130 Cal. 516, 62 Pac. 934) or that the distributee is the owner of the property involved in the proceeding (Heydenfeldt v. San Francisco Super Ct., 117 Cal. 348, 49 Pac. 210).

Jurisdiction.— The superior court in California has power to compel the delivery of property received by defendant under a decree of distribution, which is reversed, even though the property be of such a character that it cannot be seized under a writ of replevin. Ashton v. Heydenfeldt, 124 Cal. 14, 56 Pac. 624. And see Heydenfeldt v. San Francisco Super. Ct., 117 Cal. 348, 49 Pac. 210.

87. Ashton v. Zeila Min. Co., 134 Cal. 408, 66 Pac. 494; Ashton v. Heggerty, 130 Cal. 516, 62 Pac. 934, holding also that it is immaterial whether or not a consideration was given for the assignment.

88. See infra, XVII, E.

89. Sanford v. Thorp, 45 Conn. 241.

90. Myers v. Myers, 33 Ala. 85; Moorhead v. Thompson, 1 La. 281; Clarke v. Sinks, 144 Mo. 448, 46 S. W. 199; State v. Grigsby, 92 Mo. 419, 5 S. W. 39; State v. Thornton, 56 Mo. 325; State v. Matson, 44 Mo. 305; Remington v. Walker, 99 N. Y. 626, 1 N. E. 305; Matter of Te Culver, 22 Misc. (N. Y.) 217, 49 N. Y. Suppl. 829 (holding that where on judicial settlement with administrators a which the loss may be attributed,[91] as where they have delayed to demand payment until after the loss occurred,[92] or unless he is otherwise excused from such delay or failure.[93] If there has been an order of distribution the distributees may sue the representative for a devastavit[94] or they may apply for an order of court compelling distribution.[95]

2. Effect of Representative's Death. Upon the death of a representative who has neglected or failed to pay a legacy or distributive share, his representative is liable to the legatee or distributee, provided sufficient assets come to his hands from the original estate, or from the estate of such deceased representative.[96] The person entitled may elect either to present the sum due him as a claim against the deceased representative's estate[97] or to proceed upon the deceased representative's bond.[98]

N. Liability of Representative For Interest on Legacies or Distributive Shares — 1. For Failure or Delay to Pay Over. Where a representative unreasonably retains in his hands without sufficient cause the amount of a legacy or distributive share, he is usually held liable to the person entitled for interest thereon from the time when payment should have been made.[99] But where the certain sum was found due, and the administrators gave their check to the surrogate, who gave a receipt therefor, but no final decree was made, nor the money ever distributed to the heirs, the administrators were liable to the heirs for said sum); Pulliam v. Pulliam, 10 Fed. 23 (holding that an executor neglecting to execute the trusts of a will is not absolutely liable for the legacy, but only to the extent of what he actually receives, unless there has been supine negligence on his part).

Mere neglect to pay the balance of a legacy does not render the executor personally liable, unless he claims to be himself entitled thereto, or is proved guilty of some illegal conduct in the premises. Hurlbut v. Durant, 21 Hun (N. Y.) 481.

Damages.— A legatee is entitled to recover damages equal to the legacy against an executor who has violated his covenant to pay the legacy. Com. v. Heaveren, 2 B. Mon. (Ky.) 126.

91. Fitzsimons v. Fitzsimons, 1 S. C. 400, holding that, although a representative detained a legacy until some time after the debts were or should have been paid, and until a portion of the legacy was lost by an inevitable accident, as the loss occurred after a bill for an account by the legatee against the representative had reached a stage that enabled the legatee to obtain such orders of court as would have prevented the loss, the representative was not liable to account therefor.

92. Roberts v. Summers, 47 Ga. 434; Thompson v. Youngblood, 1 Bay (S. C.) 248, holding that an executor is not bound to search out a legatee, and that the latter must bear the loss occasioned by the depreciation of money in the hands of the executor which he has always been ready to pay over.

93. Haltiwanger v. Windhorn, 44 S. C. 413, 22 S. E. 446, holding an administrator excused from the payment of the balance of the widow's homestead exemption, where the balance of the estate was consumed in the care of the estate and in the payment of debts.

A representative is not excused for failing to make distribution, by the distributees' obtaining an injunction preventing a sale advertised by him for the purpose of dividing the estate, where the sale would have been void if made (Harrison v. Harrison, 39 Ala. 489), by the fact that one of the distributees is a minor, where he had a guardian (Henry v. State, 9 Mo. 778); by the fact that persons claiming to be assignees of a distributee have made demand on the representative for the distributive share, although payment to an actual assignee may excuse him (Marshall v. Hitchcock, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 461), or by the fact that the funds of the estate were mingled with the assets of a firm of which he was a member (In re Taylor, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 160).

The burden of showing an excuse for not making a distribution within the legal time is on the administrator. Haskins v. Martin, 103 Ill. App. 115.

Attachment as garnishee no excuse.— Lex's Appeal, 97 Pa. St. 289.

94. Neubrecht v. Santmeyer, 50 Ill. 74.

95. Neubrecht v. Santmeyer, 50 Ill. 74; Brown's Estate, 13 Pa. Co. Ct. 413, holding that where it appears, five months after the confirmation of the adjudication on an executor's account showing a sum due the guardian of minors, that he has made no effort to pay even a part thereof he will, on demand of the guardian, be ordered to pay at once.

96. Windsor v. Bell, 61 Ga. 671; Moore v. Smith, 5 N. J. Eq. 649 [affirming 4 N. J. Eq. 485].

97. Tracey v. Hadden, 78 Ill. 30.

98. Tracey v. Hadden, 78 Ill. 30. And see infra, XVII.

99. Arkansas.— Atkins v. Guice, 21 Ark. 164.

California.— Clary's Estate, 112 Cal. 292, 44 Pac. 569.

Connecticut.— Colt v. Colt, 33 Conn. 270 (holding that executors are not chargeable with interest on unpaid legacies after one year as of course; but only where interest is delay is a reasonable one, under the circumstances,[1] as where he is doubtful as to the proper disposition of the fund and brings it into court and asks the court's directions;[2] or the delay is caused by the fault of the person entitled to receive made by use of the fund or they have been guilty of misconduct); Rowland v. Isaacs, 15 Conn. 115.

Florida.— Amos v. Campbell, 9 Fla. 187, holding that only simple interest will be allowed a distributee who has been dilatory in calling the representative to account.

Georgia.— In this state, where the representative's conduct in failing to make returns of the condition of the estate in his hands amounts to mere neglect, he is liable only for simple interest on the balance in his hands (Binion v. Miller, 27 Ga. 78); but if his conduct is wrongful and not mere negligence he is liable for compound interest thereon for six years from the time it fell due, to be compounded at the end of that term, and at the end of every subsequent term of six years (Hamilton v. Reese, 18 Ga. 8; Kenan v. Hall, 8 Ga. 417; Fall v. Simmons, 6 Ga. 265).

Illinois.— Cox v. Cox, 53 Ill. App. 84.

Kentucky.—Moore v. Beauchamp, 4 B. Mon. 71; Dicken v. Dicken, Ky. Dec. 173.

Louisiana.— Mann's Succession, 4 La. Ann. 28.

Maine.— Decrow v. Moody, 73 Me. 100.

Maryland.— Mickle v. Cross, 10 Md. 352; Thomas v. Frederick County School, 9 Gill & J. 115.

Massachusetts.— Eliott v. Sparrell, 114 Mass. 404.

Mississippi.— Banks v. Machen, 40 Miss. 256; Cole v. Leake, 27 Miss. 767.

Missouri.— Henry v. State, 9 Mo. 778.

New Jersey.— Craig v. Manning, 8 N. J. Eq. 806.

New York.— Hallett v. Hare, 5 Paige 315.

North Carolina.— Johnson v. Person, 16 N. C. 368.

Pennsylvania.— Witman's Appeal, 28 Pa. St. 376; Bitzer v. Hahn, 14 Serg. & R. 232; Fow's Estate, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 648; Bear's Estate, 9 Pa. Super. Ct. 492, 43 Wkly. Notes Cas. 469; Vogdes' Estate, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 441, 23 Wkly. Notes Cas. 471. And see Laua v. Kech, 11 Leg. Int. 31.

Rhode Island.— Almy v. Newport Probate Ct., 18 R. I. 612, 30 Atl. 458.

South Carolina.— Lowman v. Lowman, 69 S. C. 543, 48 S. E. 536; Nettles v. McCown, 5 S. C. 43; McCaw v. Blewitt, Bailey Eq. 98.

Texas.— Simpson v. Knox, 1 Tex. Unrep. Cas. 569.

Virginia.— Preston v. Davis, 102 Va. 178, 45 S. E. 865; Bourne v. Mechan, 1 Gratt. 292.

Wisconsin.— Evans v. Foster, 80 Wis. 509, 50 N. W. 410, 14 L. R. A. 117.

United States.— Stewart v. Barcroft, 23 Fed. Cas. No. 13,422, 1 Hayw. & H. 41.

England.— Williams v. Powell, 15 Beav. 461, 16 Jur. 393, 51 Eng. Reprint 616; Re Jones, 49 L. T. Rep. N. S. 91; Ashburnham v. Thompson, 13 Ves. Jr. 402, 33 Eng. Reprint 345; Longmore v. Broom, 7 Ves. Jr. 124, 32 Eng. Reprint 51. See also Blogg v. Johnson, L. R. 2 Ch. 225, 36 L. J. Ch. 859, 16 L. T. Rep. N. S. 306, 15 Wkly. Rep. 626; Donovan v. Needham, 9 Beav. 164, 10 Jur. 150, 15 L. J. Ch. 193, 50 Eng. Reprint 306.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1271. And see, generally, WILLS.

Misappropriation of the fund to the representative's own use renders him personally liable for interest until paid. Clary's Estate, 112 Cal. 292, 44 Pac. 569 (compound interest); Connell v. Furgason, 5 Coldw. (Tenn.) 401.

Unreasonably appealing from a decree in favor of a distributee.— Hallett v. Hare, 5 Paige (N. Y.) 315.

Interest pending a controversy in relation to the title to a sum due a distributee, but retained in the representative's hands, may be charged against the latter, where he does not apply to the court for permission to deposit, or dispose of the sum, so as to prevent the further accumulation of interest. Thomas v. Frederick County School, 9 Gill & J. (Md.) 115.

1. Allen v. Hardee, 30 Ga. 463; Springer v. Oliver, 21 Ga. 517; Phelps v. Fitch, 178 Mass. 442, 59 N. E. 1031 (holding that parties entitled to shares of a residuary estate under an agreement compromising a will contest are not entitled to interest on their shares after the expiration of one year from the death of the testator, where there is no claim that the money was wrongfully detained by the executor); Cary v. Macon, 4 Call (Va.) 605; Johnson v. Mitchell, 1 Rand. (Va.) 209 (holding that where a legacy is left to one in trust, and the trustee refuses to act, the executor is not bound to pay the legacy until a new trustee has been appointed by the chancery court, and is not chargeable with interest therefor until after the decree).

Awaiting the appointment of an administrator of a deceased legatee or distributee is a reasonable delay within the meaning of the above rule. Bear's Estate, 9 Pa. Super. Ct. 492, 43 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 469; Frierson v. Graham, 7 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 95.

Interest during war.— Drumgoole v. Smith, 78 Va. 665.

Absence of person entitled.—In re Doremus, 33 N. J. Eq. 234; Clarke v. Canfield, 15 N. J. Eq. 119.

2. Georgia.— Rogers v. Bottsford, 44 Ga. 652.

Kentucky.— Moore v. Beauchamp, 4 B. Mon. 71.

Maryland.— Thomas v. Frederick County School, 9 Gill & J. 115.

Tennessee.— Turney v. Williams, 7 Yerg. 172.

Texas.— Simpson v. Knox, 1 Tex. Unrep. Cas. 569.

Virginia.— Sharpe v. Rockwood, 78 Va. 24.

the funds, as by failing to make a demand or to receive it after notice of readiness to pay over,[3] or by failure to tender a refunding bond,[4] the representative is not liable for interest on the fund unless he received interest on it,[5] or derived a benefit from its use.[6] An order or decree for distribution generally draws interest from its date notwithstanding the person entitled to the award makes no demand therefor.[7]

2. Liability After Tender of Payment. Where the representative makes tender of what he may rightly pay or distribute at the time, interest on the sum tendered cannot be claimed by the legatee or distributee refusing or unreasonably delaying to receive the same,[8] unless after such tender and refusal the representative misappropriates the fund.[9]

3. Failure to Invest Legacy or Distributive Share. Where by the terms of the will, by order of court, or otherwise, it becomes the duty of the representative to invest the funds of a legatee or distributee in his hands, he will be chargeable with interest thereon if he negligently delays or fails to do so.[10]

3. Vance v. Vance, 5 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 521; Phelps v. Fitch, 178 Mass. 442, 59 N. E. 1031; Holley v. S. G., 4 Edw. (N. Y.) 284; Riddle v. Riddle, 5 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 31; Payne v. Harris, 3 Strobh. Eq. (S. C.) 39 (holding that interest will not be allowed, previous to the filing of their bill, on the shares of the distributees who are admitted after the settlement of the estate by the administrator); McAlister v. Brice, McMull. Eq. (S. C.) 275. See also In re Blake, 137 Cal. 429, 70 Pac. 303. But compare Bourne v. Mechan, 1 Gratt. (Va.) 292.

4. Vance v. Vance, 5 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 521; Webb v. Conn, Litt. Sel. Cas. (Ky.) 475. But see Patterson v. Nichol, 6 Watts (Pa.) 379, 31 Am. Dec. 473, holding that in an action to recover the distributive share of an intestate plaintiff is entitled to recover interest, although no refunding bond was tendered until long after the death of the intestate.

5. Rogers v. Bottsford, 44 Ga. 652; Webb v. Conn, Litt. Sel. Cas. (Ky.) 475; In re Doremus, 33 N. J. Eq. 234; McAlister v. Brice, McMull. Eq. (S. C.) 275; Sparhawk v. Buell, 9 Vt. 41.

Where an infant is the legatee or distributee the representative is not chargeable with interest while awaiting the appointment of a guardian, and notice thereof (Matter of Schweibert, 25 Misc. (N. Y.) 464, 55 N. Y. Suppl. 649; Spruill v. Cannon, 22 N. C. 400; Lieber's Estate, 5 Pa. Dist. 187, 17 Pa. Co. Ct. 557; Sparhawk v. Buell, 9 Vt. 41; Cavendish v. Fleming, 3 Munf. (Va.) 198) unless he has received interest on the money (Matter of Schweibert, 25 Misc. (N. Y.) 464, 55 N. Y. Suppl. 649; Sparhawk v. Buell, 9 Vt. 41), or unless the money was so invested that he might have received interest without incurring an unreasonable hazard (Matter of Schweibert, 25 Misc. (N. Y.) 464, 55 N. Y. Suppl. 649; Sparhawk v. Buell, 9 Vt. 41).

6. Vance v. Vance, 5 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 521; In re Doremus, 33 N. J. Eq. 234; Clarke v. Canfield, 15 N. J. Eq. 119.

7. Randolph v. People, 40 Ill. App. 174; State v. Babb, 77 Mo. App. 277; McRae v. Malloy, 87 N. C. 196.

8. Mickle v. Cross, 10 Md. 352; Burtis v. Dodge, 1 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 77; McAlister v. Brice, McMull. Eq. (S. C.) 275; Cary v. Macon, 4 Call (Va.) 605.

Where a demand for a legacy is made after its tender and refusal and the executor then refuses to pay, he is chargeable with interest from that time. Chestnut v. Strong, 2 Hill Eq. (S. C.) 146.

A deposit of the amount of a legacy in bank, to the knowledge of one of the trustees subsequently appointed, and to whom it is to be transferred upon their executing a certain agreement and giving a receipt, does not constitute a conditional tender of the money to the trustees, so as to relieve the executor from paying interest on the legacy from that time. In re Blake, 137 Cal. 429, 70 Pac. 303.

9. Goodwin's Estate, 22 Pa. Super. Ct. 469, holding that where an executor, having in his hands the requisite amount, makes an offer of payment, which offer is refused, but does not subsequently keep the tender good by retaining in his hands an amount sufficient to make the payment, but uses the money for other purposes, he will be liable for interest when he finally makes payment.

10. California.— Moore's Estate, 95 Cal. 34, 30 Pac. 106.

Kentucky.— Smith v. Lampton, 8 Dana 69.

Maryland.— Darne v. Catlett, 6 Harr. & J. 475.

Massachusetts.— Eliott v. Sparrell, 114 Mass. 404.

New Jersey.— Fowler v. Colt, 25 N. J. Eq. 202 (holding that the fact that the delay was for the interest of the residuary legatee does not excuse him from separating a specific legatee's interest and investing it); Halstead v. Mecker, 18 N. J. Eq. 136; Frey v. Demarest, 17 N. J. Eq. 71; King v. Berry, 3 N. J. Eq. 261.

New York.— Remington v. Walker, 99 N. Y. 626, 1 N. E. 305.

Pennsylvania.— Huston's Appeal, 9 Watts 472.

Virginia.— Sharpe v. Rockwood, 78 Va. 24.

England.— Williams v. Powell, 15 Beav. 461, 16 Jur. 393, 51 Eng. Reprint 616; Atty.-Gen. v. Alford, 4 De G. M. & G. 843, 1 Jur. N. S. 361, 3 Wkly. Rep. 200, 53 Eng. Ch. 659.

4. Effect of Erroneous or Improper Payments. Where a representative makes erroneous or improper payments, he is liable for interest thereon from the time of such payments,[11] unless such payment has been made in good faith under a mistake of fact, and the representative has acquired no benefit therefrom.[12]

O. Proceedings For Payment or Distribution[13] — 1. Jurisdiction and Powers of Court. Jurisdiction of proceedings for the distribution of an estate or for the payment of a legacy or distributive share is usually conferred by statute upon the probate court,[14] within such limits as may be imposed by the statute 43 Eng. Reprint 737; Re Jones, 49 L. T. Rep. N. S. 91.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1272.

Compound interest may be charged against the representative where his delay or negligence amounts to a violation of his trust (Darne v. Catlett, 6 Harr. & J. (Md.) 475; Salisbury v. Colt, 27 N. J. Eq. 492; Atty.-Gen. v. Alford, 4 De G. M. & G. 843, 1 Jur. N. S. 361, 3 Wkly. Rep. 200, 53 Eng. Ch. 659, 43 Eng. Reprint 737; Gilroy v. Stephen, 51 L. J. Ch. 834, 46 L. T. Rep. N. S. 761, 30 Wkly. Rep. 745), as where without authority he loans the fund to his co-executor on inadequate security (Perrine v. Petty, 34 N. J. Eq. 193) or where he appropriates the fund to his own use or in some way derives a profit therefrom (Darne v. Catlett, 6 Harr. & J. (Md.) 475).

Liability to residuary legatees.— An order directing an investment for specific legatees imposes no duty upon the representative to make such investment for the benefit of the residuary estate, and consequently he will not be liable to residuary legatees for interest on the fund, although it has never been invested. Miller's Appeal, 127 Pa. St. 95, 17 Atl. 866.

Ignorance of the persons entitled or their places of residence does not relieve the representative from liability for interest, where he lets the fund lie idle in his hands. Almy v. Newport Prob. Ct., 18 R. I. 612, 30 Atl. 458.

An administrator is not entitled to a diminution in the legal rate of interest upon funds retained in his hands uninvested, on the ground that it would have been difficult to invest in his neighborhood small sums except at less than the legal rate. Frey v. Demarest, 17 N. J. Eq. 71.

Interest on funds of estates for failure to invest see supra, VIII, F, 2.

Where the representative is liable to be called upon at any time for payment of the legacy or distributive share, and there are no directions under the will or statute, nor by order of court, to put the fund out at interest, he will not be required to pay interest thereon; unless it is made to appear that he has mingled the trust fund with his own moneys, or that he has used it in such a way as to make it produce interest. Lake v. Park, 19 N. J. L. 103; Frey v. Demarest, 17 N. J. Eq. 71; Burtis v. Dodge, 1 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 77.

11. Alabama.—Moody v. Hemphill, 71 Ala. 169, payment of legacy barred by lapse of time.

California.— Moore's Estate, 95 Cal. 34, 30 Pac. 106.

Iowa.— McClure v. Brown, 56 Iowa 768, 9 N. W. 906.

New Jersey.— Van Houten v. Post, 32 N. J. Eq. 709.

New York.— McLoskey v. Reid, 4 Bradf. Surr. 334; Lawrence v. Brinckerhoff, 2 N. Y. Leg. Obs. 122.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1273½.

12. McKnight v. Walsh, 24 N. J. Eq. 498 [affirming 23 N. J. Eq. 136], holding the executor not liable for interest on the excess of an annual allowance paid to a beneficiary under the will, where he paid such excess in good faith by mistake as to his discretionary power under the will and had no use or benefit of such excess.

13. Time for proceedings for distribution see supra, XI, E.

14. California.— In re Sheid, 129 Cal. 172, 61 Pac. 920.

Connecticut.— Eliot's Appeal, 74 Conn. 586, 51 Atl. 558; Mack's Appeal, 71 Conn. 122, 41 Atl. 242; State v. Blake, 69 Conn. 64, 36 Atl. 1019; Clement v. Brainard, 46 Conn. 174.

Illinois.— Reynolds v. People, 55 Ill. 328.

Indiana.— Chapell v. Shuee, 117 Ind. 481, 20 N. E. 417, holding that, although a complaint by the administrator and distributees of an intestate for a distribution of assets does not aver that the latter was domiciled or died possessed of property in or was an inhabitant of the state, or that administration was granted in the state, judgment for plaintiffs will not be arrested for that reason, as the circuit court has general jurisdiction of the subject-matter, and facts depriving it of that jurisdiction not appearing, will be presumed not to exist. A claim for the allowance of a legacy may be presented in the court having probate jurisdiction as a claim against the estate, but if the payment of all debts against the estate is not alleged, some reason for appealing to the court for the establishment of the legacy must be shown, and also some wrong on the part of the administrator. Fickle v. Snepp, 97 Ind. 289, 49 Am. Rep. 449.

Iowa.— Duffy v. Duffy, 114 Iowa 581, 87 N. W. 500; Leacox v. Griffith, 76 Iowa 89, 40 N. W. 109.

Kansas.— Holden v. Spier, 65 Kan. 412, 70 Pac. 348; Keith v. Guthrie, 59 Kan. 200, 52 Pac. 435; Proctor v. Dicklow, 57 Kan. 119, 45 Pac. 86.

Louisiana.— Flournoy v. Flournoy, 29 La. Ann. 737. But money received by the repre-conferring jurisdiction.[15] In some states the probate court has exclusive primary sentative from the estate of a deceased brother of the testator and to which the heirs are entitled is not within the jurisdiction of the probate court and can be recovered by the heirs from the representative only by a suit in a court of ordinary jurisdiction. Kemp v. Kemp, 11 La. 19.

Maine.— Healey v. Cole, 95 Me. 272, 49 Atl. 1065.

Maryland.— Blackburn v. Craufurd, 22 Md. 447; Williams v. Holmes, 9 Md. 281, holding that the probate court may exercise such jurisdiction even though the parties interested are infants, for whom such court has no authority to appoint a guardian ad litem.

Massachusetts.— Pierce v. Prescott, 128 Mass. 140.

Michigan.— Byrne v. Hume, 84 Mich. 185, 47 N. W. 679, 86 Mich. 546, 49 N. W. 576; Langrick v. Gospel, 48 Mich. 185, 12 N. W. 38. See also Canfield v. Canfield, 118 Fed 1, 55 C. C. A. 169.

Minnesota.— Schmidt v. Stark, 61 Minn. 91, 63 N. W. 255.

Mississippi.— Hoover v. Brem, 43 Miss. 603; Wells v. Mitchell, 39 Miss. 800.

Missouri.— Aull v. St. Louis Trust Co., 149 Mo. 1, 50 S. W. 289; Darneal v. Reeves, 25 Mo. 295.

New York.— Matter of Underhill, 35 N. Y. App. Div. 434, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 967; Lyon's Estate, 1 Misc. 447, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 146; Stagg v. Jackson, 2 Barb. Ch. 86 [affirmed in 1 N. Y. 206]; Bloodgood v. Bruen, 2 Bradf. Surr. 8. The surrogate who grants administration of an estate, and no other, has jurisdiction to decree distribution. Dakin v. Hudson, 6 Cow. 221; Foster v. Wilber, 1 Paige 537; Seymour v. Seymour, 4 Johns. Ch. 409; Wright v. New York M. E. Church Corp., Hoffm. 202.

North Carolina.— Hendrick v. Mayfield, 74 N. C. 626; Johnston v. Davis, 70 N. C. 581; Bell v. Davis, 70 N. C. 330. See also Kennon v. Blanson, 16 N. C. 64. In this state the clerk of the superior court has by statute probate jurisdiction of such matters, and the superior court has no jurisdiction on petition, motion, or summary order to direct the disposition of money paid into the office of such clerk by executors or administrators. Ex p. Cassidey, 95 N. C. 225. Where, however, a specific pecuniary legacy has been assented to by the executor, it becomes a debt, and an action to recover the same must be brought to a regular term of the superior court. Hendrick v. Mayfield, 74 N. C. 626; McFarland v. McKay, 74 N. C. 258; Miller v. Burnest, 65 N. C. 67.

Ohio.— McLaughlin v. McLaughlin, 4 Ohio St. 508, 64 Am. Dec. 603; Disney v. Hawes, 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 406, 12 Cinc. L. Bul. 322; Smith v. Harker, 6 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 1014, 9 Am. L. Rec. 488; Guiou v. Guiou, 5 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 205, 3 Am. L. Rec. 475; In re Isherwood, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 143, 7 Ohio N. P. 332.

Pennsylvania.— Kelly's Appeal, 77 Pa. St. 232; Mussleman's Appeal, 65 Pa. St. 480; Ashford v. Ewing, 25 Pa. St. 213; Rittenhouse v. Levering, 6 Watts & S. 190; Dewald v. Berkheiser, 19 Pa. Super. Ct. 570; Ingersoll's Estate, 11 Phila. 69.

Tennessee.— Stewart v. Glenn, 3 Heisk. 581.

Texas.— Shiner v. Shiner, 90 Tex. 414, 38 S. W. 1126.

Utah.— Snyder v. Murdock, 26 Utah 233, 73 Pac. 22.

Vermont.— Keeler v. Keeler, 39 Vt. 550.

Washington.— Reformed Presb. Church of North America v. McMillan, 31 Wash. 643, 72 Pac. 502.

Wisconsin.— Where one dies leaving real and personal estate disposed of by will, the county court of the county where testator resided has jurisdiction, on conclusion of the settlement, to make a final order distributing the remaining personalty, if any, and assigning the real estate in accordance with the provisions of the will. Rev. St. §§ 3940–3955; In re Hess, 97 Wis. 244, 72 N. W. 638.

Canada.— McDonald's Estate, 2 Nova Scotia 123, holding that distribution of personal property, upon failure of the purpose for which it was devised to the executors, is within the jurisdiction of the probate court.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1274.

Conflict of authority.— The distribution of personal property must be made under the authority of the court where the deceased was domiciled, in the state or country where the principal administration was granted. Healey v. Cole, 95 Me. 272, 49 Atl. 1065; Jennison v. Hapgood, 10 Pick. (Mass.) 77; Dawes v. Boylston, 9 Mass. 337, 6 Am. Dec. 72; Hutton v. Hutton, 40 N. J. Eq. 461, 2 Atl. 280. On application to a court of equity in this country for a decree of distribution according to the lex domicilii of the estate of a deceased person domiciled abroad, the court has authority to decree distribution; and it is incumbent on those opposed thereto to show that such a decree will work injustice or public mischief. Harvey v. Richards, 11 Fed. Cas. No. 6,184, 1 Mason 381.

Proceedings by after-discovered heirs.—The probate court has jurisdiction to order payment from the state treasury to subsequently discovered heirs of money paid in under its order because there were no known heirs, notwithstanding the statute of escheats, giving the circuit court jurisdiction where there are no known heirs. In re Bomino, 83 Mo. 433.

The pendency of a controversy as to the ownership of the property does not affect the jurisdiction of the probate court to enter an order of distribution subject to the pending suit. In re Richards, 133 Cal. 524, 65 Pac. 1034.

15. See Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227; Harrison v. Harrison, 9 Ala. 470; Reynolds v. People, 55 Ill. 328; Piggott v. Ramey, 2 Ill. 145; Swain v. Smith, 61 N. J. Eq. 590, 47 Atl. 509; In re Eakin, 20 N. J. Eq. 481; Dundas' Appeal, 73 Pa. St. 474 jurisdiction in such proceedings,[16] and an action cannot be maintained against the representative for the recovery of a distributive share, although his account exhibiting a specific balance against him has been settled and confirmed in the probate court.[17] In others courts of equity exercise a concurrent jurisdiction therein, although such courts will not usually take jurisdiction unless the probate court cannot afford adequate relief.[18] In still others courts of equity have jurisdiction ancillary to that of the probate court, the former taking jurisdiction usually where there are special circumstances in respect to which the probate court cannot take jurisdiction, or cannot give adequate relief.[19]

2. Nature of Proceedings. The proceeding to obtain a decree of distribution is not in the nature of a suit between party and party in which one seeks to recover a right withheld by the other; but is analogous in its character to a proceeding in admiralty or other proceeding in rem, in which a decision between the parties before the court settles the rights of all parties to the property in question.[20]

[reversing 8 Phila. 598]; Shore's Estate, 14 Phila. (Pa.) 321; Hopkins' Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 42.

16. Connecticut.— State v. Blake, 69 Conn. 64, 36 Atl. 1019; Clement v. Brainard, 46 Conn. 174.

Kansas.— Keith v. Guthrie, 59 Kan. 200, 52 Pac. 435, holding that in matters pertaining to the distribution of a decedent's estate the probate court has exclusive jurisdiction subject to appeal to the district court.

Montana.— Ryan v. Kinney, 2 Mont. 454.

North Carolina.— Hendrick v. Mayfield, 74 N. C. 626; Heilig v. Foard, 64 N. C. 710; Hunt v. Sneed, 64 N. C. 176.

Pennsylvania.— Kelly's Appeal, 77 Pa. St. 232; Mussleman's Appeal, 65 Pa. St. 480; Black v. Black, 34 Pa. St. 354; Ashford v. Ewing, 25 Pa. St. 213; Whitside v. Whitside, 20 Pa. St. 473; Dewald v. Berkheiser, 19 Pa. Super. Ct. 570; Barber v. Ross, 2 Pa. Dist. 263.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1274. And see Equity, 16 Cyc. 94.

17. Ashford v. Ewing, 25 Pa. St. 213.

18. Harland v. Person, 93 Ala. 273, 9 So. 379; Harrison v. Harrison, 9 Ala. 470; Calhoun v. King, 5 Ala. 523. A bill in equity may be filed by a legatee for the recovery of his legacy whether the executor has assented thereto or not, although he might also enforce his claim, after the executor has assented by proceedings in the probate court. Millsap v. Stanley, 50 Ala. 319. And see Equity, 16 Cyc. 92.

Where the estate consists of corporate stock, which has been allotted to the widow as administratrix, and a suit in equity is brought by certain of the heirs to set aside as fraudulent a transfer of other corporate stock by the corporation to a third person and to determine complainants' rights in the stock and for other relief, all the parties being before the court, it can enter a decree requiring the widow to convey to each of the heirs his proper share in the stock allotted to her as administratrix. Jones v. Green, 129 Mich. 203, 88 N. W. 1047, 95 Am. St. Rep. 433.

19. California.— Toland v. Earl, 129 Cal. 148, 61 Pac. 914, 79 Am. St. Rep. 100, holding that where there is no embarrassment as to the proper mode of administering the estate the fact that the parties differ as to the distribution which shall be made of the residue does not authorize a suit in equity by the administrator to have the probate court instructed as to what distribution should be made.

Maryland.— Woods v. Fuller, 61 Md. 457 (holding that in order to give courts of equity jurisdiction to superintend the settlement of an estate of a deceased person, or to distribute the legacies at the instance and request of the executor, he must show some special circumstance, such as a trust devolved upon him by the will, and about which he is doubtful, or at least something more than the mere payment over of a legacy after the debts of the deceased are paid); Lee v. Price, 12 Md. 253.

Missouri.— Aull v. St. Louis Trust Co., 149 Mo. 1, 50 S. W. 289.

Ohio.— McLaughlin v. McLaughlin, 4 Ohio St. 508, 64 Am. Dec. 603, holding that the powers of the probate court are exhausted when the order of distribution is made; and it has no jurisdiction to entertain a petition brought to enforce the collection of the amount awarded to the distributee as a debt against the administrator. The superior court in this state by virtue of its chancery powers has jurisdiction of an action by one or more heirs to compel distribution (Cadwallader v. Longley, 1 Disn. (Ohio) 497, 12 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 756), or to compel the payment of legacies by the executor (Guiou v. Guiou, 5 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 205, 3 Am. L. Rec. 475).

Texas.— Hill v. Townsend, 24 Tex. 575, holding that the district court has jurisdiction of a suit by the distributees against the administrator, in which it appears that administration has been pending during twelve years, that during the last three years the administrator has claimed the property as his own and has sold part, that the debts are all paid, and that the administrator's bond is worthless, although it does not appear that the estate has been settled in the probate court.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1274. And see Equity, 16 Cyc. 96.

20. Crew v. Pratt, 119 Cal. 139, 51 Pac. 38; Hill v. Lawler, 116 Cal. 359, 48 Pac.

3. Mode or Form of Proceeding. The mode or form of proceeding for the recovery of a legacy or distributive share is generally regulated by statute,[21] the usual form being an application or petition for an order of distribution,[22] or for an order directing payment of a particular legacy.[23]

4. Who May File Petition — a. In General. It is generally provided by statute that a petition for distribution or payment may be filed by a devisee, legatee, or distributee.[24] A widow is entitled to compel distribution of her deceased husband's estate in all respects like a distributee.[25]

b. Personal Representative. The personal representative of the decedent should apply for a final distribution when the time for presenting claims has expired and he has filed his report showing a balance in his hands for distribution;[26]

323; Loring v. Steineman, 1 Metc. (Mass.) 204; Exton v. Zule, 14 N. J. Eq. 501; Sparhawk v. Buell, 9 Vt. 41.

In Pennsylvania proceedings for distribution in the orphans' court are conducted upon the principles and practice which regulate an administration suit in the chancery courts of England. Bicking's Appeal, 2 Brewst. 202; Woodward's Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. 9.

21. See Mack's Appeal, 71 Conn. 122, 41 Atl. 242, holding that under Gen. St. § 628, requiring the probate court to ascertain the heirs and distributees of estates, the proper practice to ascertain heirs and distributees is to apply for an order of distribution, or an order to hand over the estate without distribution, of which orders the ascertainment of heirs and distributees is an incident. And see, generally, Wills.

22. Mack's Appeal, 71 Conn. 122, 41 Atl. 242; Crowder v. Shackelford, 35 Miss. 321. And see the cases hereafter cited.

23. Matter of Underhill, 35 N. Y. App. Div. 434, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 967 [affirmed in 158 N. Y. 721, 53 N. E. 1133]. And see, generally, Wills.

24. California.— Alcorn v. Buschke, 133 Cal. 655, 66 Pac. 15; In re Crocker, 105 Cal. 368, 38 Pac. 954 (holding that a petition for partial distribution may be presented by several legatees and devisees); In re Letellier, 74 Cal. 311, 15 Pac. 847.

Indiana.— Conner v. Hawkins, 8 Blackf. 236.

Mississippi.— Temple v. Hammock, 52 Miss. 360; Crowder v. Shackelford, 35 Miss. 321; Benoit v. Brill, 7 Sm. & M. 32.

Nevada.— In re Foley, 24 Nev. 197, 51 Pac. 834, 52 Pac. 649.

New Jersey.— Sayre v. Sayre, 16 N. J. Eq. 505; Exton v. Zule, 14 N. J. Eq. 501.

New York.— Matter of Underhill, 35 N. Y. App. Div. 434, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 967.

Pennsylvania.— Baker's Appeal, 59 Pa. St. 313, holding that all the legatees may join in the petition.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1280.

An incompetent distributee for whom no guardian has been appointed cannot petition by attorney for partial distribution. In re Davis, 27 Mont. 490, 71 Pac. 757.

Where the contest of a will is settled by agreement of the parties, which agreement is subsequently confirmed by a decree fixing their shares, such parties and their assigns, although not heirs or legatees named in the will, have a right to petition for a partial distribution under a statute authorizing such distribution on petition of an heir, devisee, or legatee. In re Davis, 27 Mont. 490, 71 Pac. 757.

The next of kin of a deceased legatee cannot maintain a petition for such legatee's share. Matter of Hodgman, 11 N. Y. App. Div. 344, 42 N. Y. Suppl. 1004.

Heirs or next of kin who have conveyed to other persons all their interest in the real and personal estate of the intestate are not entitled against the wish of their grantee to a decree for the assignment and distribution of real estate held by the administrator under his foreclosure of a mortgage thereof to the intestate. Stevens v. Palmer, 15 Gray (Mass.) 505.

Testamentary trusts.— Ky. Gen. St. c. 35, § 19, giving a right of action to a distributee against the administrator for his share does not apply to a trust fund created by the sale of land by an administrator with the will annexed, the proceeds of which he is directed by a will to distribute; the only right of action which he has in such case being to compel execution of the trust and an accounting for a reasonable part of the money collected. McRoberts v. Carneal, (Ky. 1898) 44 S. W. 442.

A petition filed in the names of the widow and other distributees of the deceased cannot be dismissed on the motion of the widow alone. Green v. Fagan, 15 Ala. 335.

25. Grant v. Spann, 33 Miss. 134.

A widow who has dissented from her husband's will cannot petition the probate court, after the expiration of eighteen months from the probate of the will, for her distributive share; nor can her administrator. Johnston v. Fort, 30 Ala. 78.

26. Connecticut.— Sanford v. Thorp, 45 Conn. 241; Davenport v. Richards, 16 Conn. 310.

Illinois.— Haskins v. Martin, 103 Ill. App. 115.

Kansas.— See Holden v. Spier, 65 Kan. 412, 70 Pac. 348.

Maryland.— Jones v. Jones, 36 Md. 459.

Mississippi.— Nabors v. McKay, 27 Miss. 799.

New Jersey.— Sayre v. Sayre, 16 N. J. Eq. 505; Exton v. Zule, 14 N. J. Eq. 501.

but he is not entitled to petition for a partial distribution under a statute allowing a legatee or distributee to do so,[27] nor to apply for a division of lands devised,[28] unless directed by the will to do so.[29]

c. Assignees. An assignee or purchaser of a legacy or distributive share may come in by petition on final distribution and claim the assignor's legacy or share,[30] but he cannot file an original petition for the distribution of such legacy or distributive share.[31]

5. Process or Notice. An order for distribution is unauthorized and invalid, unless notice of proceedings therefor is given in the manner prescribed by statute,[32] or by the court,[33] to the personal representative,[34] and to all distribu-

Rhode Island.— West Greenwich Probate Ct. v. Carr, 20 R. I. 592, 40 Atl. 844.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1280.

27. Alcorn v. Buschke, 133 Cal. 655, 66 Pac. 15; Letellier's Estate, 74 Cal. 311, 15 Pac. 847.

28. Temple v. Hammock, 52 Miss. 360.

29. Shiner v. Shiner, 90 Tex. 414, 38 S. W. 1126.

30. In re Burton, 93 Cal. 459, 29 Pac. 36; Balch v. Zentmeyer, 11 Gill & J. (Md.) 267.

31. Matter of Wood, 38 Misc. (N. Y.) 64, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 967; In re Brewster, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 556, 1 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 172; Tilden v. Dows, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 240; Peyser v. Wendt, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 221.

A purchaser at a sheriff's sale of a devisee's undivided interest in land cannot petition a probate court for a distribution of the proceeds of sale under a statute which allows devisees, legatees, and distributees to have a distribution. Smith v. Hall, 20 Ala. 777. And see Graham v. Abercrombie, 8 Ala. 552.

32. California.— In re Mitchell, 126 Cal. 248, 58 Pac. 549; Asher v. Yorba, 125 Cal. 513, 58 Pac. 137; Daly v. Pennie, 86 Cal. 552, 25 Pac. 67, 21 Am. St. Rep. 61 (personal notice is not required); In re Jessup, 81 Cal. 408, 21 Pac. 976, 22 Pac. 742, 1028, 6 L. R. A. 594.

Indiana.— Glessner v. Clark, 140 Ind. 427, 39 N. E. 544.

Louisiana.— Harkins' Succession, 2 La. Ann. 923. See Millaudon v. Cajus, 6 La. 222.

Maryland.— Wilson v. McCarty, 55 Md. 277.

Minnesota.— Greenwood v. Murray, 28 Minn. 120, 9 N. W. 629.

Mississippi.— Mundy v. Calvert, 40 Miss. 181.

Missouri.— State v. Henderson, 164 Mo. 347, 64 S. W. 138, 86 Am. St. Rep. 618; Lilly v. Menke, 126 Mo. 190, 28 S. W. 643, 994; Baker v. Lumpee, 91 Mo. App. 560.

New Jersey.— Adams v. Adams, 46 N. J. Eq. 298, 19 Atl. 14, holding that the usual notice that the executor or administrator with the will annexed will state and settle his accounts will not be sufficient to render the decree conclusive as to a legatee having no other notice.

Ohio.— Matter of Cloud, 7 Ohio Cir. Ct. 67, 3 Ohio Cir. Dec. 666.

Texas.— Porter v. Sweeney, 61 Tex. 213, holding that probate courts may, upon the mere general notices required by statute, make needful orders for settlement and distribution, without actual intervention of all the parties in interest.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1281.

Proof of notice.— Where a decree recites due service of notice by publication, or by posting, such recital is sufficient to prove such service as against a collateral attack. Crew v. Pratt, 119 Cal. 139, 51 Pac. 38.

Presumption of notice.— If the complaint does not allege that the notice required by law was not given it will be presumed that it was given (Daly v. Pennie, 86 Cal. 552, 25 Pac. 67, 21 Am. St. Rep. 61); and the fact that the affidavit of the posting of the notice was made on the day of the posting is no objection to the jurisdiction of the court to order distribution; the presumption being that the notice remained posted during the statutory period (Crew v. Pratt, 119 Cal. 139, 51 Pac. 38).

33. Lamson v. Knowles, 170 Mass. 295, 49 N. E. 440; Schæffner's Appeal, 41 Wis. 260, holding that where the statute does not prescribe what notice shall be given the court may prescribe the notice.

34. Alabama.— Brazeale v. Brazeale, 9 Ala. 491; Welch v. Walker, 4 Port. 120, holding that a citation to an administrator to show cause why judgment and execution should not be awarded against him for the distributive share of one in an estate must set out the previous proceedings had in the settlement of the estate.

California.— Letellier's Estate, 74 Cal. 311, 15 Pac. 847.

Illinois.— Reynolds v. People, 55 Ill. 328, holding that the citation issued by a county court at the instance of one of the heirs of the estate to an administrator to show cause why an order should not be made requiring him to make partial distribution to the heirs should run in the name of the people.

Iowa.— Huey v. Huey, 26 Iowa 525, holding that where an executor is a resident of another state, notice to him of an application to pay over a distributive share, and an order by the court to that effect, are binding upon him in such other state.

Missouri.— See State v. Henderson, 164 Mo. 347, 64 S. W. 138, 86 Am. St. Rep. 618, holding that a statute requiring written notice of an application for distribution aptees, legatees, or other persons interested in the distribution,[35] or unless the persons plies only to notice to persons entitled to share in the distribution, and not to an executor.

New York.— Kerrigan v. Kerrigan, 2 Redf. Surr. 517.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1281.

Notice to the representative's attorney was sufficient on proceedings to set aside an order denying a petition for partial distribution, where at the hearing of such petition the executors appeared and it was admitted that due notice was given to them and all parties interested. In re Mitchell, 121 Cal. 391, 53 Pac. 810.

Where the essential requisites have been complied with by the distributees on an application for partial distribution, there is no necessity for a notice to the administrator before a final decree can be rendered. Harrison v. Meadors, 41 Ala. 274.

Service of citation upon an administrator to render an account gives the court jurisdiction over his person, and any action of the court thereafter in ordering distribution of money in his hands is within the jurisdiction of the court and not void. Ex p. Pearce, 44 Ark. 509.

Service of citation upon the husband of an administratrix is sufficient to support a final settlement of the administration. Kavanaugh v. Thompson, 16 Ala. 817.

35. Alabama.—Gardner v. Gardner, 42 Ala. 161; Hollis v. Caughman, 22 Ala. 478; Harrison v. Harrison, 9 Ala. 470; Watson v. May, 8 Ala. 177, holding that only a general citation to parties having an adverse interest is necessary.

Arkansas.— Neal v. Robertson, 55 Ark. 79, 17 S. W. 582, holding that notice must be given to an infant daughter of the decedent.

California.— In re Grider, (1889) 21 Pac. 532 (holding a decree of distribution a nullity as to distributees not served with process or appearing, even though it falsely recites notice); Abila v. Burnett, 33 Cal. 658.

Illinois.— Long v. Thompson, 60 Ill. 27.

Indiana.— Glessner v. Clark, 140 Ind. 427, 39 N. E. 544.

Louisiana.— Couder's Succession, 47 La. Ann. 810, 17 So. 317; Broussard v. Robin, 8 La. Ann. 478.

Maryland.— Shriver v. State, 65 Md. 278, 4 Atl. 679; Wilson v. McCarty, 55 Md. 277.

Massachusetts.— Lamson v. Knowles, 170 Mass. 295, 49 N. E. 440; Browne v. Doolittle, 151 Mass. 595, 25 N. E. 23; Smith v. Rice, 11 Mass. 507.

Minnesota.— Greenwood v. Murray, 28 Minn. 120, 9 N. W. 629; Wood v. Myrick, 16 Minn. 494.

Mississippi.— Mundy v. Calvert, 40 Miss. 181; Pringle v. Hunt, 31 Miss. 351.

Missouri.— State v. Henderson, 164 Mo. 347, 64 S. W. 138, 86 Am. St. Rep. 618; Lilly v. Menke, 126 Mo. 190, 28 S. W. 643, 994; State v. St. Gemme, 31 Mo. 230; Baker v. Lumpee, 91 Mo. App. 560 (holding that an order of distribution made after final settlement is coram non judice, unless the distributees have been served with notice of the intended order of distribution ten days prior thereto as required by Rev. St. (1899) § 243).

Montana.—In re McFarland, 10 Mont. 586, 27 Pac. 389.

New Jersey.— Adams v. Adams, 46 N. J. Eq. 298, 19 Atl. 14; Exton v. Zule, 14 N. J. Eq. 501.

New York.— See In re Rainforth, 37 Misc. 660, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 314, holding that, where the executor's account shows that there is a surplus distributable to persons interested who have not been cited, it is discretionary with the surrogate to cite them.

Oregon.— State v. O'Day, 41 Oreg. 495, 69 Pac. 542.

Pennsylvania.— Purviance v. Com., 17 Serg. & R. 31; Woodward's Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. 9; Cochran's Estate, 31 Pittsb. Leg. J. 338.

Texas.— Porter v. Sweeney, 61 Tex. 213 (holding that general notices to parties in interest is sufficient); Johns v. Northcutt, 49 Tex. 444.

Vermont.— Lenehan v. Spaulding, 57 Vt. 115; Ex p. Robinson, 1 D. Chipm. 357.

Washington.—McGowan v. Smith, 22 Wash. 625, 61 Pac. 713.

Wisconsin.— Leavens' Estate, 65 Wis. 440, 27 N. W. 324; Schæffner's Appeal, 41 Wis. 260; Ruth v. Oberbrunner, 40 Wis. 238; Bresee v. Stiles, 22 Wis. 120.

Canada.— Uffner v. Lewis, 27 Ont. App. 242.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1281.

Removal of the representative after notice has been given and the appointment of another in his place does not destroy the efficacy of the notice. State v. O'Day, 41 Oreg. 495, 69 Pac. 542.

Intervention of all parties not necessary.— If the proceedings on distribution have been regularly conducted, and the notices required by law have been given, these notices amount in law to service upon all the parties in interest, and the court may proceed to make needful orders for distribution without actual intervention of all the parties in interest. Woodward's Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 9; Porter v. Sweeney, 61 Tex. 213.

Passing account without notice.— Passing an administrator's account cannot be regarded as a final distribution of the estate by the orphans' court, where it does not appear that any meeting of the distributees was appointed, or any notice of an intended meeting given, or that a distributee whose share had been placed in bank and for which credit is claimed by the administrator had ever received it or assented to the distribution thus made. Scott v. Fox, 14 Md. 388.

who are entitled to notice appear in the proceedings for distribution and waive notice.[36]

6. Parties.[37] Necessary parties to a proceeding for distribution are in general the personal representatives of the decedent,[38] the distributees,[39] or their personal representatives,[40] and all other persons interested in the distribution and as to whom the representative will not be protected, if a decree is rendered without their being made parties.[41] If any of the distributees are infants they may be

36. Gardner v. Gardner, 42 Ala. 161; Hollis v. Caughman, 22 Ala. 478; Smith v. Smith, 21 Ala. 761; Crew v. Pratt, 119 Cal. 139, 51 Pac. 38; In re Jessup, 81 Cal. 408, 21 Pac. 976, 22 Pac. 742, 1028, 6 L. R. A. 594; In re Grider, (Cal. 1889) 21 Pac. 532; Exton v. Zule, 14 N. J. Eq. 501; Kerrigan v. Kerrigan, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 517.

37. Parties to proceedings for recovery of legacies see, generally, Wills.

38. Alabama.—Ward v. Oates, 42 Ala. 225.

Arkansas.— Norwood v. Holliman, 27 Ark. 445.

Illinois.— Hopper v. Ferguson, 23 Ill. 438.

Kentucky.— Cargile v. Harrison, 9 B. Mon. 518; Haden v. Haden, 7 J. J. Marsh. 168.

Mississippi.— Shattuck v. Young, 2 Sm. & M. 30; Porter v. Porter, 7 How. 106, 40 Am. Dec. 55.

New York.— Cocks v. Haviland, 5 Dem. Surr. 11, holding that the fact that one of several co-executors is insolvent and has no assets in his hands makes it none the less necessary to make him a party to a special proceeding to enforce payment of arrears of an annuity.

Pennsylvania.— Baker's Appeal, 59 Pa. St. 313.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1283.

An executor or administrator is not a necessary party to a proceeding by legatees after final settlement to procure a division of property remaining in his hands for distribution. Pringle v. Hunt, 31 Miss. 351.

39. Alabama.— Boyett v. Kerr, 7 Ala. 9.

Arkansas.— Morris v. Virden, 57 Ark. 232, 21 S. W. 223; Neal v. Robertson, 55 Ark. 79, 17 S. W. 587; Norwood v. Holliman, 27 Ark. 445.

Kentucky.—Johnson v. Beauchamp, 5 Dana 70; Cargile v. Harrison, 9 B. Mon. 518.

Louisiana.— Bothick's Succession, 109 La. 1, 33 So. 47.

Mississippi.— Murff v. Frazier, 41 Miss. 408; Porter v. Porter, 7 How. 106, 40 Am. Dec. 55.

Nevada.— Royce v. Hampton, 16 Nev. 25.

New York.— Clock v. Chadeagne, 10 Hun 97.

North Carolina.—Williams v. Williams, 74 N. C. 1, holding that where one only of ten distributees sued the administrators without making the others parties, the court could not render a decree of distribution, and could do no more than adjudicate the rights of plaintiff and the administrators.

Tennessee.—Stewart v. Glenn, 3 Heisk. 581.

Virginia.—Sheppard v. Starke, 3 Munf. 29.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1283.

A petition by one of several distributees without making the co-distributees parties is not sufficient to give the court power to order distribution. Murff v. Frazier, 41 Miss. 408. Compare Benoit v. Brill, 7 Sm & M. (Miss.) 32 (holding that, at the expiration of the time fixed by statute, any one of several distributees may petition the probate court for his share, without joining his co-distributees; and the court will compel the distribution upon the petitioner's filing a sufficient bond); Ward v. Oates, 42 Ala. 225 (holding that in a proceeding for partial distribution by one of several distributees, instituted under Rev. Code, § 2105, others besides the administrator are not indispensable parties).

A petition for the division of the personal property of the deceased need not make all the distributees parties to it. Pringle v. Hunt, 31 Miss. 351.

A petition for the distributive share of a married woman must be presented in the joint names of such married woman and her husband, and not in the name of the husband alone. Westervelt v. Gregg, 1 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 469; Smith v. Hopper, 20 Ala. 245. But see King v. Brown, 108 Ala. 68, 18 So. 935.

Where the petitioner claims to be the sole heir of the estate and regularly pursues the course required by statute in giving notice, etc., he is not guilty of fraud upon the court because he does not state the names of other parties who claim to be heirs of the estate. Royce v. Hampton, 16 Nev. 25.

Where the decree of distribution is not made upon the petition of the administrator, he is not bound to notify the court that there are other parties besides the petitioner who claim to be heirs of the estate. Royce v. Hampton, 16 Nev. 25.

40. McMullen v. Brazelton, 81 Ala. 442, 1 So. 778; Thomas v. Dumas, 30 Ala. 83; McConico v. Cannon, 25 Ala. 462; Hall v. Andrews, 17 Ala. 40; Boyett v. Kerr, 7 Ala. 9; Morris v. Virden, 57 Ark. 232, 21 S. W. 223; Sheppard v. Starke, 3 Munf. (Va.) 29.

41. Riggs v. Cragg, 89 N. Y. 479 [reversing 26 Hun 89]; Neaves v. Neaves, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 230; Triplett v. Woodward, 98 Va. 187, 35 S. E. 455; Sheppard v. Starke, 3 Munf. (Va.) 29.

Creditors are necessary parties to a proceeding for distribution. Beekman v. Vanderveer, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 221; Woodward's Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 9: Triplett v. Woodward, 98 Va. 187, 35 S. E. 455.

The husband of a legatee is not a proper party to a bill by an administrator with the represented by their general guardian;[42] but in case there is no competent general guardian, or he fails to attend after notice, a guardian ad litem should be appointed to represent them.[43] Persons claiming through the decedent, as creditor, legatee, or distributee, may be permitted to intervene in the hearing of a petition for distribution,[44] by filing some pleading or statement as to the grounds upon which they claim a right to be heard.[45]

7. Pleadings. Formal and technical pleadings are not usually required in proceedings for distribution,[46] but the application or petition should substantially comply with the statute, if any,[47] or rules of court;[48] should state the essential facts required to be established for the relief prayed for;[49] and should conclude will annexed for distribution of the estate. Triplett v. Woodward, 98 Va. 187, 35 S. E. 455.

The appointment of an attorney for absent heirs is essential under the Louisiana statute only in case a necessity therefor is shown during a pending administration of a succession. Kellogg's Succession, 51 La. Ann. 1304, 26 So. 262; Burnside's Succession, 35 La. Ann. 708.

A widow who was in community with her deceased husband is not a proper party to an action by the heirs against the executors to compel them to pay over funds in their possession; since, not being one of the heirs, she has nothing to claim of the executors and no account to settle with them. Kemp v. Kemp, 11 La. 19.

42. Smith v. Smith, 21 Ala. 761; Sankey v. Sankey, 6 Ala. 607; Gammage v. Noble, 24 Miss. 150.

43. Thompson v. Perryman, 45 Ala. 619; Morgan v. Morgan, 35 Ala. 303; King v. Collins, 21 Ala. 363 [overruling Parks v. Stonum, 8 Ala. 752]; Sankey v. Sankey, 6 Ala. 607; Conwill v. Conwill, 61 Miss. 202; Mundy v. Calvert, 40 Miss. 181; Cason v. Cason, 31 Miss. 578.

44. In re Crook, 125 Cal. 459, 58 Pac. 89 (mortgagee); Braman's Appeal, 89 Pa. St. 78; McBride's Appeal, 72 Pa. St. 480; Fry's Estate, 4 Dauph. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 72.

One claiming adversely, and not as a distributee or creditor, has no standing to be heard in a proceeding for distribution. Hamor's Estate, 1 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 319.

A surviving husband who claims certain property in the possession of the executors of the will of his deceased wife as community property to which he is entitled cannot have his claim of ownership determined upon a proceeding for the distribution of his wife's estate. Rowland's Estate, 74 Cal. 523, 16 Pac. 315, 5 Am. St. Rep. 464.

An order denying the application of one having no direct or contingent interest in the fund, to intervene in proceedings to compel an executor to pay over a legacy is in the court's discretion; it involves no substantial right and so is not reviewable. In re Halsey, 93 N. Y. 48.

45. In re Crook, 125 Cal. 459, 58 Pac. 89. And see supra, XI, O, 4, c.

46. Calhoun v. McKnight, 39 La. Ann. 325, 1 So. 612; Walker v. Bradbury, 15 Me. 207 (written petition not essential); Anderson v. Gregg, 44 Miss. 170; Mundy v. Calvert, 40 Miss. 181; French v. Davis, 38 Miss. 167; Clock v. Chadeagne, 10 Hun (N. Y.) 97.

Misnumbering petition.— The fact that the clerk filed a petition for distribution under a different number from the other papers in the estate is immaterial, there being but one estate. In re Sheid, 129 Cal. 172, 61 Pac. 920.

A cross bill is unnecessary on a petition for the distribution of the estate of an intestate, as it is competent for an administrator, without formality, to show cause in any intelligible manner why a decree for distribution should not be made. French v. Davis, 38 Miss. 167.

Joining claims.— Where estates are connected, as where one of the decedent's was a distributee of another and the same person is administrator of both, distributees entitled to a portion of each of the estates may unite both claims in the same bill against the administrator. Breckinridge v. Floyd, 7 Dana (Ky.) 456.

47. Ford v. Garner, 49 Ala. 601, holding that a petition for distribution which described a minor heir as "Matilda Gravitt's child, whose name is unknown" did not comply with Rev. Code, § 2222, requiring that the petition either state the name or show that the distributee has no name.

An affidavit which fully states the facts, filed with a notice of a motion to require the administrator to pay a legacy, is a sufficient "petition" to authorize a citation, as prescribed by Code Civ. Proc. §§ 2717, 2718, prescribing the procedure to compel payment of legacies. In re Dunscomb, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 247.

A verification to a petition to the surrogate court to compel an executor to pay a legacy to petitioner, stating that petitioner "knows the contents thereof, and that the same are true," is a compliance with the provision of the code requiring the affidavit to state that the contents are true to the knowledge of deponent. In re Macauley, 94 N. Y. 574.

48. McClelland's Estate, 3 Pa. Dist. 759, 15 Pa. Co. Ct. 375.

49. Alabama.— McRae v. Pegues, 4 Ala. 158.

Arkansas.— Norwood v. Holliman, 27 Ark. 445.

California.— In re Levinson, 98 Cal. 654, 33 Pac. 726.

Georgia.—Bellerby v. Thomas, 105 Ga. 477, 30 S. E. 425.

with a prayer for the relief sought.[50] An answer or plea may be filed to the petition setting up a denial or substantial defense to the facts stated therein[51] and a reply may be filed to the answer or plea.[52]

Indiana.— Chapell v. Shuee, 117 Ind. 481, 20 N. E. 417; Roberts v. Huddleston, 93 Ind. 173.

Kentucky.— See Wilson v. Hunt, 6 B. Mon. 379.

Minnesota.— In re Kittson, 45 Minn. 197, 48 N. W. 419.

Mississippi.— French v. Davis, 38 Miss. 167; Cole v. Leake, 27 Miss. 767; Crosby v. Covington, 24 Miss. 619.

New York.— In re Macaulay, 94 N. Y. 574; Baylis v. Swartwout, 4 Redf. Surr. 395.

Texas.—Turner v. Clark, 18 Tex. Civ. App. 606, 46 S. W. 381.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1284.

A demurrer to the petition will be sustained where the petition states facts insufficient for the relief sought for (Norwood v. Holliman, 27 Ark. 445) or where it shows that it was filed in less than a year after the grant of letters of administration (Young v. Ross, 31 Miss. 556); but a demurrer to the whole petition will not be sustained if it be good as to any part of the relief prayed for (Wells v. Mitchell, 39 Miss. 800; Cole v. Leake, 27 Miss. 767).

Allegation of grant of administration.— It is unnecessary to allege that administration of the estate was granted by the same court in which the petition is filed. Hargroves v. Thompson, 31 Miss. 211.

Petition upon presumption of death.— In re Morrison, 183 Pa. St. 155, 38 Atl. 895.

An application for the ascertainment of persons entitled to participate in the distribution of funds of the testator's estate is unnecessary in a petition for distribution, as such ascertainment is a mere incident to a decree for distribution. Chase v. Benedict, 72 Conn. 322, 44 Atl. 507.

Misdescription.—A petition by devisees and legatees for partial distribution is not defective because it describes petitioners as "heirs at law." In re Crocker, 105 Cal. 368, 38 Pac. 954.

Description of defendant representative.— A petition for a legacy, against the administrator of the testator, need not describe him as administrator with the will annexed; or show in what manner he became administrator; it is sufficient if it describes him as administrator. Quinn v. Moss, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 365.

A refunding bond need not be filed with the petition for distribution, when presented before final settlement; it is sufficient if the petition contains an offer to execute one. Richmond v. Delay, 34 Miss. 83; Keith v. Jolly, 26 Miss. 131. See also Norwood v. Holliman, 27 Ark. 445; Crosby v. Covington, 24 Miss. 619.

50. Cook's Estate, 77 Cal. 220, 17 Pac. 923, 19 Pac. 431, 11 Am. St. Rep. 267, 1 L. R. A. 567 (holding, however, that it is improper to include, in a petition for final distribution of a decedent's estate, a prayer for an accounting against one who is alleged to have come into possession of property of the estate, and not to have accounted for it); Hurley v. Hewett, 89 Me. 100, 35 Atl. 1026 (holding that a distribution in kind could be ordered, although the prayer of the petition called for such a distribution only by implication); Garner v. Lansford, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 558. See also In re Morrison, 183 Pa. St. 155, 38 Atl. 895.

51. In re Halleck, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 46 (holding that opposition to distribution must state that there is a liability unsatisfied of a certain and definite amount or nature); Packwood v. Elliott, 43 Miss. 504; Matter of Feeks, 6 N. Y. St. 60 (holding that where, upon a verified petition being filed by a legatee, a citation is issued by the surrogate to the executors to show cause why they should not be decreed to pay a certain sum to the legatee, it is error to refuse to allow the executors to file a verified answer).

That the representative does not know who the heirs are is no answer or plea to a petition by heirs for distribution. Conner v. Hawkins, 8 Blackf. (Ind.) 236.

Facts showing want of jurisdiction in the court to act upon the petition must be alleged in the answer, if relied upon by defendant. Chapell v. Shuee, 117 Ind. 481, 20 N. E. 417.

Under N. Y. Code Civ. Proc. §§ 2717, 2718, 2722, an answer sufficient to justify the dismissal of a petition in the surrogate's court for a legacy or distributive share must be duly verified, must set forth facts which cast a doubt on the petitioner's claim, and must deny the validity and legality of the claim. In re Macaulay, 94 N. Y. 574; Hurlburt v. Durant, 88 N. Y. 121, 2 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 115; Matter of Dunn, 39 N. Y. App. Div. 510, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 444; Matter of Muller, 25 N. Y. App. Div. 269, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 786; Matter of Waterford Y. M. C. A., 22 N. Y. App. Div. 325, 47 N. Y. Suppl. 354; Matter of Alexander, 83 Hun 147, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 411; Brown v. Phelps, 48 Hun 219 [affirmed in 113 N. Y. 658, 21 N. E. 415]; Matter of McClouth, 9 Misc. 385, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 274; In re Phalen, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 43. But the representative's answer is not sufficient for this purpose where it merely denies the validity or legality of the petitioner's claim (In re Macaulay, 94 N. Y. 574), or that there is money in his hands with which to pay the claim (Brown v. Phelps, 48 Hun 219 [affirmed in 113 N. Y. 658, 21 N. E. 415]), or where it merely avers that "the petitioner's legacy is not yet payable by the terms of the will" (Steinele v. Oechsler, 5 Redf. Surr. 312).

52. Conner v. Hawkins, 8 Blackf. (Ind.) 236 (holding that a suit for distribution should not be dismissed upon objections to the answer or plea being overruled, but the petitioners should be permitted to reply); Quinn v. Moss, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 365.

8. Evidence. In a proceeding by a legatee or distributee for his legacy or distributive share the burden is on him to prove his title and all other facts necessary to entitle him to recover,[53] unless such proof is waived;[54] and upon the representative to prove payment, settlement, or any other matter of defense relied upon by him.[55] The representative may introduce evidence only as to such matters as he has set up as a defense.[56]

9. Proceedings of Auditor or Commissioner. In some states auditors or commissioners may be appointed to examine the representative's accounts and make an allotment of the estate of a deceased person in the hands of the representative among the persons entitled to the same, creditors included.[57] The duty or power of such auditors or commissioners is to ascertain and report the shares of distributees,[58] in doing which a majority of them may act.[59] They may consider evidence in reference to claims against the decedent,[60] construe instruments,[61] and make allowances and give credit to the representative for disbursements made after settlement in the probate court;[62] but they have no title whatever to or right to possession of the estate either before or after division made;[63] nor have they power to review proceedings of the probate court, or to alter or restate an account which has been settled in that court,[64] or to make distribution, that duty being upon the administrator according to their report.[65] Their report is subject

53. Hall v. Wilson, 14 Ala. 295.

A petitioner for partial distribution, whether there be opposition or not, must show that the estate is but little indebted, that the applicant is entitled to the share asked for, and what, when the expenses are paid, such share will amount to. In re Painter, 115 Cal. 635, 47 Pac. 700.

54. Hall v. Wilson, 14 Ala. 295. And see Descent and Distribution, 14 Cyc. 155.

55. Young v. Cook, 30 Miss. 320.

The verified return of the testator's executor approved and ordered to record by the court of ordinary having jurisdiction over the estate, and duly recorded, which shows a payment to all the legatees, including a money bequest to the husband of the life-tenant, is admissible as prima facie evidence of such latter payment in a suit by an executory legatee, upon the death of the life-tenant without leaving children, to recover said money from the administrator of the husband, he being a party in interest and connected with the testator's estate, and the approval and recording of such return under the order of the court of ordinary being a judgment de bene esse which affects him. Crawford v. Clark, 110 Ga. 729, 36 S. E. 404.

56. Bradley v. Byrd, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 269, holding that where the administrator in his answer resisted the distributee's claim solely on the ground that the commissioners had possession of the property and should make distribution, he cannot on the hearing show a delivery of his share to the distributees.

57. Alabama.— Chambers v. Perry, 17 Ala. 726.

Kentucky.— Williams v. Williams, 3 Litt. 40, holding that the order appointing such commissioners to divide the land described to heirs ought to state that it was made on the application of the heirs or of some of them. If an examination of accounts and calculation is necessary to ascertain the amount of each share a master should be appointed; and in the case of complicated accounts the omission to refer it would, it seems, be ground of reversal. Roberts v. Dale, 7 B. Mon. 199.

Mississippi.— Bradley v. Byrd, 12 Sm. & M. 269.

New Jersey.— Meeker v. Vanderveer, 15 N. J. L. 392.

Pennsylvania.— In re Kittera, 17 Pa. St. 416; Heitler's Estate, 3 Am. L. Reg. 487 note.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1286.

58. Bradley v. Byrd, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 269.

Separate accounts of co-executors cannot be combined by the auditor appointed to report distribution, as the executors, by filing separate accounts, have no joint duty of distribution. Heyer's Appeal, 34 Pa. St. 183.

59. Chambers v. Perry, 17 Ala. 726.

60. Dobbins v. McGonigal, 20 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 21.

61. McGettrick's Appeal, 98 Pa. St. 9, holding that an auditor appointed by the orphans' court to distribute the proceeds of a sale of realty belonging to an intestate, among his heirs, has power to inquire into and to pass upon the validity of a deed whereby the share of one of the heirs in the realty is assigned to a stranger.

62. Meeker v. Vandeveer, 15 N. J. L. 392.

63. Bradley v. Byrd, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 269.

64. Meeker v. Vandeveer, 15 N. J. L. 392. An auditor to whom the account of an administrator, as confirmed by the orphans' court, has been referred for a distribution of the balance, is confined to the decree of the orphans' court, and cannot go behind it for the purpose of increasing the sum there ascertained by the addition of interest. Wither's Appeal, 16 Pa. St. 151.

65. Bradley v. Byrd, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 269.

to exception,[66] and it is only after its confirmation by the probate court that a final order to deliver up the property can be made.[67]

10. Examination and Settlement of Accounts. On a petition for distribution of all the assets, a settlement of the representative's entire accounts may be ordered and needful corrections made.[68]

11. Appraisal of Estate. Where it is necessary to a just and equitable distribution,[69] distributers appointed by the probate court may revalue the property to be distributed;[70] or appraisers may be appointed for that purpose on petition of the representative.[71]

12. Hearing and Determination — a. In General. Before issuing an order of distribution the court should hear and determine all questions relating to the rights of the parties;[72] and as incidental thereto may in general exercise all

66. Harrison v. Harrison, 9 Ala. 470; Aull v. St. Louis Trust Co., 149 Mo. 1, 50 S. W. 289; Bracken's Estate, 138 Pa. St. 104, 22 Atl. 20 (holding that any one to whom an equal share in a decedent's estate has been awarded on a distribution thereof by an auditor in the orphans' court has a right, being interested in the amount of the fund, to except to the findings of the auditor and to have his exceptions considered by the court); Frymeyer's Estate, 17 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 401 (holding that an executor, who is an active trustee of an estate created under a will, is authorized to file exceptions to the report of the auditor distributing the estate).

A mistake in the commissioners' report may be corrected by the court and relief be granted accordingly. Smith v. Sweringen, 26 Mo. 551.

67. Harrison v. Harrison, 9 Ala. 470; Smith v. Sweringen, 26 Mo. 551; Whelen's Appeal, 70 Pa. St. 410.

Where an auditor appointed to audit and settle an administration account also reported a distribution of the fund, and such part of his report is set aside, the court may decree distribution, on the facts reported by him. Drysdale's Appeal, 14 Pa. St. 531.

A decree of confirmation may be opened and corrected even for a mistake of law where it appears that one of the legatees or distributees has not had proper knowledge of his rights, although vigilant in his search, that necessary information has been refused or withheld, or that undue advantage has been taken of circumstances whereby his will was coerced. Whelen's Appeal, 70 Pa. St. 410.

68. In re Willey, 140 Cal. 238, 73 Pac. 998; Mundy v. Calvert, 40 Miss. 181 (holding that a decree for distribution, without ordering an account of the amount, character, and condition of the estate in the representative's hands, is erroneous); Crowder v. Shackelford, 35 Miss. 321; Billingslea v. Young, 33 Miss. 95. And see Heyer's Appeal, 34 Pa. St. 183, holding that it is irregular in a distribution proceeding to surcharge the executor or administrator with interest, thereby increasing the balance against him beyond that indicated by the account as confirmed.

Failure of the representative to make an inventory is no bar to a petition for a distribution of the estate, and for this purpose the court may compel the representative to make an inventory and settle his accounts. McWillie v. Van Vacter, 35 Miss. 428, 72 Am. Dec. 127; Billingslea v. Young, 33 Miss. 95. And see Humphrey v. Conger, 7 App. Cas. (D. C.) 23.

69. Platt v. Platt, 42 Conn. 330.

70. Platt v. Platt, 42 Conn. 330; Davenport v. Richards, 16 Conn. 310.

71. Rogers v. Cruger, 7 Johns. (N. Y.) 557. But see Peterson's Estate, 13 Phila. (Pa.) 265, holding that the orphans' court having merely limited jurisdiction, and no statute authorizing it to appoint appraisers to set apart a claimant's interest in a testator's realty, jurisdiction to make the appointment cannot be conferred even by an express provision in the will concurred in by the parties claiming thereunder. And see DESCENT AND DISTRIBUTION, 14 Cyc. 128 et seq.

The mode of such appraisement must strictly pursue the terms of the statute giving the probate court power to order it. Messinger v. Kintner, 4 Binn. (Pa.) 97.

Appraisers need not be appointed under Me. Rev. St. c. 65, § 28, where the distribution can be executed with mathematical certainty without the aid of appraisers. Hurley v. Hewett, 89 Me. 100, 34 Atl. 1026.

The appraisal may be set aside for gross mistake by the appraisers in calculating the value of certain parts of the estate, although no actual misconduct or fraud is imputed to them. Rogers v. Cruger, 7 Johns. (N. Y.) 557.

72. In re Painter, 115 Cal. 635, 47 Pac. 700 (although the petitioner's claims is unopposed); Exton v. Zule, 14 N. J. Eq. 501; In re Gray, 111 N. Y. 404, 18 N. E. 719 [affirming 42 Hun 411] (holding that the surrogate in ordering distribution cannot disregard the report of a referee confirmed by the supreme court); Orser's Estate, 4 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 129.

An issue upon questions arising on distribution in the orphans' court is not of right, but is a matter of discretion. Alexander's Estate, 8 Kulp (Pa.) 402.

Property embraced in an agreement for distribution.— In a proceeding for a partial distribution of a decedent's estate, the question whether all the property, or only the separate property of decedent, was embraced in an agreement between the widow and the heirs for a distribution of the estate is powers and decide all questions necessary to a correct distribution of the estate.[73] It should in general ascertain and declare what is to be distributed,[74] who are not properly before the court. In re Foley, 24 Nev. 197, 51 Pac. 834, 52 Pac. 649.

An issue as to the incompetency of an heir to make an assignment of his interest in the estate by reason of the drinking habit will be refused on distribution unless there is evidence of his actual incompetency at the time the assignment was made because of existing drunkenness or insanity. Alexander's Estate, 8 Kulp (Pa.) 402.

Questions not to be considered.— The question of title to the property (Cone's Appeal, 68 Conn. 84, 35 Atl. 781; Homer's Appeal, 35 Conn. 113; McBride's Appeal, 72 Pa. St. 480), or the validity of claims in the representative's hands as assets of the estate (Cone's Appeal, supra), are not proper questions to be considered in proceedings for distribution.

73. California.— Crew v. Pratt, 119 Cal. 139, 51 Pac. 38.

Kansas.— Proctor v. Dicklow, 57 Kan. 119, 45 Pac. 86.

Mississippi.— McWillie v. Van Vacter, 35 Miss. 428, 72 Am. Dec. 127.

New York.— Riggs v. Cragg, 89 N. Y. 479, 11 Abb. N. Cas. 401 [reversing 26 Hun 89]; Kager v. Brenneman, 47 N. Y. App. Div. 63, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 339 (holding that the surrogate has jurisdiction to determine whether money belonging to the estate has been used by the executor to purchase real property); Matter of Halsted, 41 Misc. 606, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 301; Matter of George, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 426, 1 Connoly Surr. 241 (holding that under Code Civ. Proc. § 2743, the surrogate has jurisdiction to decide as to the validity of a trust, where without such a determination a distribution of the estate cannot be had); Matter of Kick, 11 N. Y. St. 688; Matter of Collyer, 4 Dem. Surr. 24. But the power of a surrogate to decree distribution according to the respective rights of the claimants under the statute does not include the power to pass upon disputed rights. Giles' Estate, 11 Abb. N. Cas. 57; Greene v. Day, 1 Dem. Surr. 45. And see Du Bois v. Brown, 1 Dem. Surr. 317. Under Code Civ. Proc. §§ 2717, 2818, the surrogate has jurisdiction of a petition for a decree directing the payment of a legacy only where the identity of the legatee and the amount or validity of the legacy are not denied in the answer. Fiester v. Shepard, 92 N. Y. 251 [affirming 26 Hun 183]; Hurlburt v. Durant, 88 N. Y. 121; In re Hedding M. E. Church, 35 Hun 315; In re Cutchogue Cong. Church, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 140; Cuthbert v. Jacobson, 2 Dem. Surr. 134 (holding that the denial need not be formal, but it is sufficient if the answer alleges facts inconsistent with the right claimed); Mumford v. Coddington, 1 Dem. Surr. 27 (holding that where to an application for the payment of a legacy the executor answers that he has paid it to an assignee of the legatee, the validity of the applicant's claim is sufficiently denied to justify the surrogate in dismissing the petition for want of jurisdiction). In proceedings, under Code Civ. Proc. § 2722, for a special accounting of an executor and to enforce payment of a legacy, the surrogate has jurisdiction only where the right to the legacy is undisputed. Riggs v. Cragg, 89 N. Y. 479, 11 Abb. N. Cas. 401 [reversing 26 Hun 89].

Ohio.— Armstrong v. Grandin, 39 Ohio St. 368.

Pennsylvania.— Williamson's Appeal, 94 Pa. St. 231; Otterson v. Gallagher, 88 Pa. St. 355; Dundas' Appeal, 73 Pa. St. 474 [reversing 8 Phila. 598]; Souder's Appeal, 57 Pa. St. 498; Moore's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 399, 22 Pa. Co. Ct. 591.

Compare Cook v. Weaver, 77 Ga. 9 (holding that the ordinary is not authorized to decide difficult legal questions); Hanscom v. Marston, 82 Me. 288, 19 Atl. 460 (holding that the probate court has no power to determine whether an alleged settlement between an executor and residuary legatee is valid); Bowers v. Lester, 2 Heisk. (Tenn.) 456 (holding that under Tenn. Code, §§ 2295, 2311–2315, the county court has only power to order the payment of a distributive share or legacy readily ascertained by simple calculation, without complication or plausible dispute, and without issue or litigation).

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1275.

Dismissal.— A petition for a legacy or distributive share should be dismissed without prejudice to a subsequent action for an accounting (Matter of Storm, 7 Misc. (N. Y.) 383, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 394); where it appears that there is no money or other personal property of the estate applicable to the payment of the petitioner's claim which may be so applied without injuriously affecting the rights of others entitled to priority or equality of payment or satisfaction out of the estate (Matter of Alexander, 83 Hun (N. Y.) 147, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 411; Matter of Storms, supra).

74. California.—Burdick's Estate, 112 Cal. 387, 44 Pac. 734.

Kentucky.— Breckinridge v. Floyd, 7 Dana 456.

Maryland.— Pole v. Simmons, 45 Md. 246.

Texas.— Hartwell v. Jackson, 7 Tex. 576.

Vermont.— Ex p. Robinson, 1 D. Chipm. 357. See Davis v. Flint, 67 Vt. 485, 32 Atl. 473; Adams v. Adams, 16 Vt. 228.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 1290, 1291.

Mistake as to amount.— An order for the distribution of a certain amount as the balance left on the settlement of an administration account, and an acceptance of a distribution made under the order, where by mistake the amount was not large enough, are not necessarily erroneous, but the distribution may be good so far as it goes, and a further order of distribution made for entitled to share in the distribution,[75] and what they are each entitled to receive;[76] and in doing so the court may hear evidence,[77] and, where this is necessary, what remains. Dickinson's Appeal, 54 Conn. 224, 6 Atl. 422.

75. California.— Crew v. Pratt, 119 Cal. 139, 51 Pac. 38; William Hill Co. v. Lawler, 116 Cal. 359, 48 Pac. 323; In re Painter, 115 Cal. 635, 47 Pac. 700; In re Jessup, 81 Cal. 408, 21 Pac. 976, 22 Pac. 742, 1028, 6 L. R. A. 594; Oxarart's Estate, 78 Cal. 109, 20 Pac. 367, holding that the mere pendency of a proceeding for an adjudication of heirship is not ground for compelling a continuance of a petition for distribution, as the question of heirship may be determined on the hearing of the latter petition.

Connecticut.—Mack's Appeal, 71 Conn. 122, 41 Atl. 242; Davenport v. Richards, 16 Conn. 310.

Kansas.— Proctor v. Dicklow, 57 Kan. 119, 45 Pac. 86.

Maryland.— Alexander v. Leakin, 72 Md. 199, 19 Atl. 532; Pole v. Simmons, 45 Md. 246; Blackburn v. Craufurd, 22 Md. 447.

Massachusetts.— Pierce v. Prescott, 128 Mass. 140; Loring v. Steineman, 1 Metc. 204.

Mississippi.— Lowry v. McMillan, 35 Miss. 147, 72 Am. Dec. 119.

New York.— Matter of Sudds, 75 N. Y. App. Div. 612, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 413; Matter of Halsted, 41 Misc. 606, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 301; York's Estate, 6 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 245, 1 How. Pr. N. S. 16, 3 Dem. Surr. 187; Orser's Estate, 4 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 129.

Pennsylvania.— In re Clement, 160 Pa. St. 391, 28 Atl. 932; Purviance v. Com., 17 Serg. & R. 31, holding, however, that, although the orphans' court might decree distribution of a balance on hand and designate the distributees, the usual and better course was to confirm the account, stating the balance subject to distribution, and ascertain the distributees, if a matter of doubt, by a proceeding at law.

Texas.— Hudgins v. Leggett, 84 Tex. 207, 19 S. W. 387.

Vermont.— Keeler v. Keeler, 39 Vt. 550; Ex p. Robinson, 1 D. Chipm. 357. See Davis v. Flint, 67 Vt. 485, 32 Atl. 473; Adams v. Adams, 16 Vt. 228.

Washington.—Reformed Presbyterian Church of North America v. McMillan, 31 Wash. 643, 72 Pac. 502.

But see Hanscom v. Marston, 82 Me. 288, 19 Atl. 460 (holding that the probate court has no power to determine who takes the residuum of an estate under a will); Cadiz First Nat. Bank v. Beebe, 62 Ohio St. 41, 56 N. E. 485.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 1275, 1290, 1291.

Contest of right.— The personal representative is entitled on proceedings for distribution to contest the title of any one who claims an interest in the final distribution of the estate (Watson v. May, 8 Ala. 177; Babin v. D'Astugue, 7 Mart. N. S. (La.) 615, holding that, although the executor's term has expired, he has the right to contest the claims of persons pretending to be the legal heirs); but he cannot contest the claim of one heir against another in a contest between the heirs to determine to whom distribution should be made, to which proceeding he is made a formal party (Roach v. Coffey, 73 Cal. 281, 14 Pac. 840); nor can he contest the rights of legatees under the will upon a rule upon the commissioner to show cause why he has not turned over money to one of them (Key v. Griffin, 1 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 67). See also DESCENT AND DISTRIBUTION, 14 Cyc. 95.

The right of a grantee of an heir, devisee, or legatee cannot be determined upon a proceeding for partial distribution, but the distribution should be suspended until his rights are determined on final distribution or in some other appropriate proceeding. In re Foley, 24 Nev. 197, 291, 51 Pac. 834, 52 Pac. 649, 1134, 53 Pac. 8.

Legatee of first testator.— The power conferred upon the surrogate's court by N. Y. Code Civ. Proc. § 2606, in connection with section 2603, to compel an executor of a deceased executor to account for unadministered assets of the first estate in his hands and to pay and deliver the same to the surrogate's court, or to his successor in office, or to "such other person as is authorized by law to receive the same" does not require the surrogate to direct payment or delivery to a legatee under the will of the first testator. In re Moehring, 154 N. Y. 423, 48 N. E. 818.

76. California.— Crew v. Pratt, 119 Cal. 139, 51 Pac. 38; William Hill Co. v. Lawler, 116 Cal. 359, 48 Pac. 323; In re Painter, 115 Cal. 635, 47 Pac. 700 (holding also that the court may elect to defer the distribution, and direct suit to be brought under Code Civ. Proc. § 1664, to determine the extent of the applicant's interest); In re Hinckley, 58 Cal. 457 (also holding that the court may determine whether interests under a will are in present enjoyment or merely contingent, and whether legal or equitable).

Georgia.— Cook v. Weaver, 77 Ga. 9.

Kansas.— Holden v. Spier, 65 Kan. 412, 70 Pac. 348.

Maryland.— Pole v. Simmons, 45 Md. 246.

Montana.— In re Davis, 27 Mont. 490, 71 Pac. 757.

New York.— Matter of Halsted, 41 Misc. 606, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 301; Orser's Estate, 4 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 129.

Tennessee.—Bowers v. Lester, 2 Heisk. 456.

Vermont.— Keeler v. Keeler, 39 Vt. 550; Ex p. Robinson, 1 D. Chipm. 357. See also Davis v. Flint, 67 Vt. 485, 32 Atl. 473; Adams v. Adams, 16 Vt. 228.

But see Cadiz First Nat. Bank v. Beebe, 62 Ohio St. 41, 56 N. E. 485.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1275.

77. In re Painter, 115 Cal. 635, 47 Pac. 700; Cook v. Weaver, 77 Ga. 9; Pole v. Simconstrue the will[78] or, with some qualification, other instruments bearing on such questions.[79] The parties opposing the granting of a decree of distribution may make a motion for a new trial where the decree directs the distribution.[80]

b. Advancements and Indebtedness of Legatee or Distributee. In determining the amount of a distributive share the probate court may settle all questions of advancements,[81] and in some jurisdictions may inquire into and determine the indebtedness of the distributee to the estate and order a deduction of the same mons, 45 Md. 246; Exton v. Zule, 14 N. J. Eq. 501.

78. California.— In re Willey, (1899) 56 Pac. 550; Goad v. Montgomery, 119 Cal. 552, 51 Pac. 681, 63 Am. St. Rep. 145; Crew v. Pratt, 119 Cal. 139, 51 Pac. 38.

Connecticut.—Mack's Appeal, 71 Conn. 122, 41 Atl. 242, holding that the probate court may determine the validity of a bequest only so far as necessary on a controversy clearly within its statutory jurisdiction; and that it may grant distribution on the ground of intestacy resulting from an invalid bequest only when the invalidity is plainly apparent on the face of the bequest.

Iowa.— Covert v. Sebern, 73 Iowa 564, 35 N. W. 636.

Maryland.— Pole v. Simmons, 45 Md. 246. But see State v. Warren, 28 Md. 338.

Michigan.— Byrne v. Hume, 84 Mich. 185, 47 N. W. 679, 86 Mich. 546, 49 N. W. 576; Glover v. Reid, 80 Mich. 228, 45 N. W. 91.

Minnesota.— Eddy v. Kelly, 72 Minn. 32, 74 N. W. 1020.

New Jersey.— Hill v. Bloom, 41 N. J. Eq. 276, 7 Atl. 438, holding that the orphans' court, in fixing the decree of distribution by executors, has power to construe the will so far as necessary to determine to whom the distribution or payment is to be made. And see Stevens v. Dewey, 55 N. J. Eq. 232, 36 Atl. 825 (holding that under Gen. St. p. 2391, the orphans' court has authority to construe a will only on special proceedings instituted on the application of some party in interest, bringing every person interested into court; and that a decree directing an administrator with the will annexed to distribute money according to the terms of a will is not a decree construing the will); Adams v. Adams, 46 N. J. Eq. 298, 19 Atl. 14.

New York.— Garlock v. Vandevort, 128 N. Y. 374, 28 N. E. 599 [affirming 12 N. Y. Suppl. 955 (affirming 5 N. Y. Suppl. 737)]; Purdy v. Hayt, 92 N. Y. 446; In re Verplanck, 91 N. Y. 439 [affirming 27 Hun 609]; Riggs v. Cragg, 89 N. Y. 479, 11 Abb. N. Cas. 401 [reversing 26 Hun 89, and distinguishing Bevan v. Cooper, 72 N. Y. 317 (reversing 7 Hun 117)]; Matter of Hamilton, 76 Hun 200, 27 N. Y. Suppl. 813; Matter of Vandevort, 62 Hun 612, 17 N. Y. Suppl. 316; Matter of French, 52 Hun 303, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 249; Matter of McCahill, 29 Misc. 450, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 1071; Matter of Havens, 8 Misc. 574, 29 N. Y. Suppl. 1085; Matter of Kick, 11 N. Y. St. 688.

Oregon.— In re John, 30 Oreg. 494, 47 Pac. 341, 50 Pac. 226, 36 L. R. A. 242.

Vermont.—Ward v. Underhill Cong. Church, 66 Vt. 490, 29 Atl. 770 (holding that the probate court may determine what kind of an interest, whether absolute or for life, a particular legatee takes); Keeler v. Keeler, 39 Vt. 550.

Washington.—Webster v. Seattle Trust Co., 7 Wash. 642, 33 Pac. 970, 35 Pac. 1082.

Wisconsin.— Schaeffner's Appeal, 41 Wis. 260; Brook v. Chappell, 34 Wis. 405.

But see Cook v. Weaver, 77 Ga. 9 (holding that the ordinary is not authorized to construe intricate bequests); Bowers v. Lester, 2 Heisk. (Tenn.) 456 (holding that the county court has no jurisdiction to construe wills).

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1275.

Res adjudicata.— The construction placed upon the will in such proceeding is res adjudicata unless appealed from. Byrne v. Hume, 84 Mich. 185, 47 N. W. 679, 86 Mich. 546, 49 N. W. 576.

79. Pole v. Simmons, 45 Md. 246.

The validity of an antenuptial contract may be passed upon by the probate court, in determining the distributive rights of the parties thereunder. Matter of Jones, 3 Misc. (N. Y.) 586, 24 N. Y. Suppl. 706; Winkle v. Winkle, 8 Oreg. 193.

A deed on which a claim to land by part of the heirs is based cannot be construed by the probate court, as questions arising on deeds are determinable only in courts of common law. In re Willey, (Cal. 1899) 56 Pac. 550; Proctor v. Atkyns, 1 Mass. 321.

An instrument disposing of or releasing a legacy or distributive share cannot be passed upon by the probate court upon the final settlement of the accounts of the representative. In re U. S. Trust Co., 175 N. Y. 304, 67 N. E. 614 [affirming 80 N. Y. App. Div. 77, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 475; In re Randall, 152 N. Y. 508, 46 N. E. 945 [reversing 80 Hun 229, 29 N. Y. Suppl. 1019]; Sanders v. Soutter, 126 N. Y. 193, 27 N. E. 263; In re Wagner, 119 N. Y. 28, 23 N. E. 200.

80. In re Davis, 27 Mont. 236, 70 Pac. 721.

81. Lamotte v. Martin, 52 La. Ann. 864, 27 So. 291; Springer's Appeal, 29 Pa. St. 208; Ex p. Robinson, 1 D. Chipm. (Vt.) 357. See also Labauve's Estate, 39 La. Ann. 388, 1 So. 830. And see DESCENT AND DISTRIBUTION, 14 Cyc. 162 et seq. Compare Floyd v. Floyd, 7 B. Mon. (Ky.) 290, holding that, where a testator leaves undevised estate, the court cannot of its own motion direct an account of advancements with a view to equalizing the distribution of the estate.

from his share;[82] but it cannot consider questions as to the validity or extent of the indebtedness of a legatee or distributee to the representative personally,[83] or to third persons.[84]

c. Power to Decree Distribution to Assignee. In some jurisdictions the probate court has power, in ordering distribution, to decree the share of a legatee or distributee to his assignee;[85] but in other jurisdictions this power is denied,[86] except where the assignment is undisputed,[87] and the legatee or distributee consents to payment to the assignee.[88]

13. Appeal — a. In General. An appeal from an order or decree of distribution is regulated entirely by statute,[89] under which it is usually provided that an appeal may be taken from a final order or a decree of distribution or payment, and

82. Holden v. Spier, 65 Kan. 412, 70 Pac. 348; Jones v. Treadwell, 169 Mass. 430, 48 N. E. 339; Lietman v. Lietman, 149 Mo. 112, 50 S. W. 307, 73 Am. St. Rep. 374 [overruling Ford v. Talmage, 36 Mo. App. 65]; Springer's Appeal, 29 Pa. St. 208, but holding that the orphans' court cannot decide that a distributee is in debt beyond his share of the estate. Contra, Bondurant v. Thompson, 15 Ala. 202; Kidd v. Porter, 13 Ala. 91; Hayes v. Hayes, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 441; Matter of Colwell, 15 N. Y. St. 742; Rudd v. Rudd, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 335. Compare Hancock v. Hubbard, 19 Pick. (Mass.) 167; Procter v. Newhall, 17 Mass. 81.

83. Matter of Peaslee, 81 Hun (N. Y.) 597, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 1028; Carter's Appeal, 10 Pa. St. 144; Bradshaw's Appeal, 3 Grant (Pa.) 109; Siegfried's Estate, 1 Woodw. (Pa.) 77.

84. Martinovich v. Marsicano, 137 Cal. 354, 70 Pac. 459 (holding that, under Code Civ. Proc. §§ 1665, 1666, 1678, the probate court cannot award a distributee's share to his judgment creditor); Matter of Redfield, 71 Hun (N. Y.) 344, 25 N. Y. Suppl. 3 (holding that the claim of a creditor of a distributee to his distributive share cannot be considered by the surrogate upon proceedings for distribution under Code Civ. Proc. § 2743).

The process of distribution cannot be interrupted by the interposition of claims against the shares of distributees unless those shares have passed by assignment, or have been attached in the hands of the executor or other legal custodian. Carter's Appeal, 10 Pa. St. 144; Ottinger's Estate, 4 Pa. Dist. 711, 17 Pa. Co. Ct. 244; Ditsche's Estate, 13 Phila. (Pa.) 288; Robinson's Estate, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 170; Matter of Landis, 2 Phila. (Pa.) 217.

85. Shephard v. Clark, 38 Ill. App. 66; Selleck v. Mathews, 7 Rich. (S. C.) 26.

In Pennsylvania, the orphans' court being clothed with power of distribution, has jurisdiction to determine the validity of assignments by legatees or distributees and the priority of attachment liens on their interests. Lex's Appeal, 97 Pa. St. 289; Otterson v. Gallagher, 88 Pa. St. 355; Dundas' Appeal, 73 Pa. St. 474.

86. Maine.— In re Cote, 98 Me. 415, 57 Atl. 584; Knowlton v. Johnson, 46 Me. 489.

Mississippi.— Portevant v. Neylaus, 38 Miss. 104; Locke v. Williams, 36 Miss. 187; Dixon v. Houston, 35 Miss. 636; Hill v. Hardy, 34 Miss. 289.

Montana.— In re Davis, 27 Mont. 490, 71 Pac. 757.

New Hampshire.—Wood v. Stone, 39 N. H. 572.

Oregon.—Harington v. La Rocque, 13 Oreg. 344, 10 Pac. 498.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1276.

87. Johnson v. Jones, 47 Mo. App. 237; In re Davis, 27 Mont. 490, 71 Pac. 757 (holding that where the assignment has been recognized by the court and is not disputed by the assignor, neither the administrator nor another distributee is interested or has a right to object to payment to the assignee); Wood v. Stone, 39 N. H. 572.

Under the New York statutes the surrogate court has power only upon a final accounting to decree payment of a legacy or distributive share to an assignee of the legatee or distributee, where the rights of the parties are undisputed (Matter of Redfield, 71 Hun 344, 25 N. Y. Suppl. 3; In re Brewster, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 556, 1 Connoly Surr. 172; Tilden v. Dows, 3 Dem. Surr. 240; Peyser v. Wendt, 2 Dem. Surr. 221); and where the validity of the assignment is disputed, and the legacy or distributive share is claimed by different persons, resort must be had to a court of equity to settle the dispute (In re Randall, 152 N. Y. 508, 46 N. E. 945 [reversing 80 Hun 229, 29 N. Y. Suppl. 1019]; Matter of Cook, 68 Hun 280, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 969; In re Brown, 3 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 39, 1 Dem. Surr. 136; Hitchcock v. Marshall, 2 Redf. Surr. 174; Decker v. Morton, 1 Redf. Surr. 477. But see Matter of McCabe, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 715, 28 Abb. N. Cas. 59); and the surrogate should hold in abeyance his decree of distribution, so far at least as concerns the interest to which the assignment refers, until the party's rights can be determined in equity (In re Brown, 3 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 39, 1 Dem. Surr. 136).

88. Johnson v. Jones, 47 Mo. App. 237.

89. See Keith v. Guthrie, 59 Kan. 200, 52 Pac. 435; Proctor v. Dicklow, 57 Kan. 119, 45 Pac. 86. And see cases cited in the following notes.

Provision relating to appeals in civil actions are expressly applied to probate proceedings under some statutes. See In re Davis, 27 Mont. 235, 70 Pac. 721.

in some states other orders or decrees,[90] by any party aggrieved thereby,[91] includ-

90. Alabama.— Sherard v. Sherard, 33 Ala. 488; May v. May, 28 Ala. 141; McConico v. Cannon, 25 Ala. 462; Crothers v. Ross, 17 Ala. 816; Andrews v. Hall, 15 Ala. 85; Ex p. Harrison, 7 Ala. 736.

California.— In re Delaney, 110 Cal. 563, 42 Pac. 981; Daly v. Pennie, 86 Cal. 552, 25 Pac. 67, 21 Am. St. Rep. 61 (holding that where a decree of final distribution is erroneous as to the law or the facts it is appealable; and that such error is not ground for relief in equity against the decree); Bates v. Ryberg, 40 Cal. 463.

Indiana.— Wood v. Wood, 51 Ind. 141.

Minnesota.— Mintzer v. St. Paul Trust Co., 45 Minn. 323, 47 N. W. 973.

Missouri.— Branson v. Branson, 102 Mo. 613, 15 S. W. 74, holding that an appeal will lie from the probate court from "all orders making distribution," without regard to when they are made.

Montana.— In re McFarland, 10 Mont. 445, 26 Pac. 185.

Nebraska.— Merrick v. Kennedy, 46 Nebr. 264, 64 N. W. 989.

Rhode Island.— Jeter v. Moore, 17 R. I. 85, 20 Atl. 230.

South Carolina.— Verdier v. Verdier, 12 Rich. Eq. 138.

Vermont.— Essex Dist. Probate Ct. v. May, 52 Vt. 182.

United States.— Stovall v. Banks, 10 Wall. 583, 19 L. ed. 1036.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1293.

Orders appealable.—Under the various statutes an appeal lies from the final decree of the probate court confirming and accepting the report of persons appointed to make a division or distribution of the estate (May v. May, 28 Ala. 141; Wordin's Appeal, 64 Conn. 40, 29 Atl. 238; Webster v. Merriam, 9 Conn. 225. But see Strong v. Strong, 8 Conn. 408), from an order denying and dismissing a petition for distribution on the ground that the petitioner is not an heir or devisee (Morton v. Morton, 62 Nebr. 420, 87 N. W. 182), from an order of partial distribution (In re Mitchell, 121 Cal. 391, 53 Pac. 810; Fisher's Estate, 75 Cal. 523, 17 Pac. 640), or from an order denying a motion for a new trial in such proceedings (In re Davis, 27 Mont. 235, 70 Pac. 721).

Orders not appealable.— On the other hand it has been held that an appeal does not lie from an order refusing to set aside or postpone a decree of final distribution (Burdick's Estate, 112 Cal. 387, 44 Pac. 734; Wiard's Estate, 83 Cal. 619, 24 Pac. 45; Lutz's Estate, 67 Cal. 457, 8 Pac. 39; In re Dean, 62 Cal. 613; In re Calahan, 60 Cal. 232; Wood v. Wood, 51 Ind. 141) or from an order or rule directing the residue of the estate to be paid into the treasury or court to be distributed under the court's direction (Gosslins v. Her Heirs, 2 La. 141; Young v. Smith, 15 Pet. (U. S.) 287, 10 L. ed. 741).

An opinion of the probate court as to the rights of the distributees is not appealable, unless there is an order of distribution. Dyer v. Carr, 18 Mo. 246.

Uniting an order settling an account and a decree of distribution at the same time and in the same paper under one signature of the judge does not affect the right of appeal from either of these orders. In re Delaney, 110 Cal. 563, 42 Pac. 981.

Effect of appeal.— A probate decree appealed from remains in full force until the appellate court reverses it. The probate court ought properly to be advised as to the action of that court, although a judgment affirming the decree is not necessary. Dickinson's Appeal, 54 Conn. 224, 6 Atl. 422.

Effect of payment before appeal.— In Pennsylvania under the act of Oct. 13, 1840, no bill of review of a decree directing distribution will be allowed to creditors, legatees, or distributees, where payment has actually been made by the executor or administrator in pursuance of such decree before the application for the bill of review is granted. Woodward's Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. 9. But a distribution which has not changed the actual custody of the fund, so that it remains intact and under the control of the court, is not a distribution which prevents a review. Collins' Estate, 10 Pa. Dist. 249.

91. Alabama.— Ex p. Jones, 1 Ala. 15.

California.— In re Coursen, (1901) 65 Pac. 965; In re Crooks, 125 Cal. 459, 58 Pac. 89. But a judgment of distribution will not be disturbed on appeal at the instance of a person not interested in the estate. In re Blythe, 110 Cal. 231, 42 Pac. 643.

Maine.— Tillson v. Small, 80 Me. 90, 13 Atl. 402.

Mississippi.— Porter v. Porter, 7 How. 106, 40 Am. Dec. 55.

Montana.— In re Davis, 27 Mont. 235, 70 Pac. 721.

Nebraska.— Merrick v. Kennedy, 46 Nebr. 264, 64 N. W. 989, holding that, in order to enable a party to appeal from a final order of distribution, he must have been injuriously affected by such order.

New York.— Bryant v. Thompson, 128 N. Y. 426, 28 N. E. 522, 13 L. R. A. 745; Matter of Coe, 55 N. Y. App. Div. 270, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 784.

Pennsylvania.— Shiffer's Appeal, 4 Pennyp. 512; Woodward's Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. 9.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1293.

Whether or not the parties are "aggrieved" within the meaning of the statute is a question to be determined after a hearing upon the merits and not on a motion to dismiss the appeal. In re Davis, 27 Mont. 235, 70 Pac. 721.

One claiming under a gift causa mortis is not affected by decrees of the probate court charging the administrator with the property, and ordering it to be distributed among the ing any aggrieved legatee, devisee, or distributee.[92] As a general rule a personal representative cannot appeal from an order of final distribution, unless he is a party in interest,[93] or acts as representative of all the parties.[94] But where the order is of such a nature that his obedience to it might subject him to a personal liability, he is held to be a party interested and may appeal;[95] and upon this ground it is generally held that the representative is such a party in interest as to enable him to appeal from an order of partial distribution.[96] Where the probate next of kin, and therefore cannot appeal from such decrees, although he appeared and produced witnesses in that court. Lewis v. Bolitho, 6 Gray (Mass.) 137.

An objection that the appellant has not sufficient interest in the subject-matter to entitle him to appeal from a decree of distribution in the probate court must be made in the county court before issue joined and trial begun, otherwise it will be too late. See Stevens v. Joyal, 48 Vt. 291.

92. In re Williams, 122 Cal. 76, 54 Pac. 386; Bates v. Ryberg, 40 Cal. 463; Lake's Appeal, 32 Conn. 331; Allen's Succession, 48 La. Ann. 1036, 20 So. 193, 55 Am. St. Rep. 295; Bullard's Estate, 4 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 284.

A widow may appeal from a probate decree giving her an alleged inadequate portion of the proceeds of land sold in lieu of her dower on the final settlement of her deceased husband's estate. Sherard v. Sherard, 33 Ala. 488. But a widow, as executrix of her deceased husband's estate, is not prejudiced by an order of partial distribution, where the sum left in her hands, after payment to the legatees, is sufficient to cover the expenses of administration, the amount devised to her as widow, and an amount for a reasonable family allowance. In re Phillips, 18 Mont. 311, 45 Pac. 222.

A husband may appeal from the decree of distribution upon his wife's estate. Tilson v. Small, 80 Me. 90, 13 Atl. 402.

A legatee is not prejudiced because property in which he has no interest is improperly distributed by the final decree. In re Coursen, (Cal. 1901) 65 Pac. 965.

93. California.— In re Coursen, (1901) 65 Pac. 965; In re Williams, 122 Cal. 76, 54 Pac. 386; In re Welch, 106 Cal. 427, 39 Pac. 805; Merrifield v. Longmire, 66 Cal. 180, 4 Pac. 1176; Marrey's Estate, 65 Cal. 287, 3 Pac. 896; In re Wright, 49 Cal. 550; Bates v. Ryberg, 40 Cal. 463.

Louisiana.— Marks' Succession, 108 La. 685, 32 So. 958, holding that where a final account of executors shows an amount ready for distribution, and pending oppositions cannot reduce the same, and time has passed for filing further oppositions, the executors have no interest sufficient to maintain an appeal from an order directing distribution.

Montana.— In re Dewar, 10 Mont. 422, 25 Pac. 1025.

Nebraska.— Merrick v. Kennedy, 46 Nebr. 264, 64 N. W. 989.

New Hampshire.— Hills v. Baker, 59 N. H. 514.

New York.— Matter of Coe, 55 N. Y. App. Div. 270 66 N. Y. Suppl. 784.

Pennsylvania.— Stineman's Appeal, 34 Pa. St. 394; Sharp's Appeal, 3 Grant 260; Godwin's Estate, 22 Pa. Super. Ct. 469; Fuhrman's Estate, 21 Pa. Super. Ct. 27; Bradley's Estate, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 572; Gallagher's Appeal, 6 Wkly. Notes Cas. 457.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1293.

A testamentary executor has the legal right to take and promote an appeal, in his official capacity, from a judgment placing the heirs in possession of the property of the succession, for which said executor has been appointed and qualified. Baumgarden's Succession, 35 La. Ann. 127.

Where the representative is made a party to the decree for the purpose of taking an appeal he may appeal from a decree for final distribution. McConico v. Cannon, 25 Ala. 462.

Where the administrator's account has been confirmed, he has no such interest in the estate as will enable him to appeal from an order to pay over the balance in his hands. Gallagher's Appeal, 89 Pa. St. 29.

94. Ruch v. Biery, 110 Ind. 444, 11 N. E. 312; Allen's Succession, 48 La. Ann. 1036, 20 So. 193, 55 Am. St. Rep. 295; In re Koch, 4 Rawle (Pa.) 268.

95. Arkansas.— Morris v. Virden, 57 Ark. 232, 21 S. W. 223.

California.— In re Welch, 106 Cal. 427, 39 Pac. 805.

Connecticut.— Hewitt's Appeal, 58 Conn. 223, 20 Atl. 453.

Louisiana.— Allen's Succession, 48 La. Ann. 1036, 20 So. 193, 55 Am. St. Rep. 295.

Pennsylvania.— Godwin's Estate, 22 Pa. Super. Ct. 469, holding that where there is a contention respecting the amount which the executor should pay to the parties entitled, and the decree requires a payment beyond his liability, he is aggrieved thereby and has a right to appeal.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1293.

Where the decree of distribution excludes the decedent's widow from participating therein, it is held under the Alabama statute that the administrator is injured thereby and is therefore entitled to appeal from such decree notwithstanding he has omitted to file a statement containing a list of the distributees of the estate as required by statute, where such facts otherwise appear on the record. Crothers v. Ross, 17 Ala. 816.

96. Harrison v. Meadors, 41 Ala. 274, holding this to be true under the acts of 1857–1858, page 244, although it was otherwise previous to the passage of that act. See Mc-court refuses to entertain a petition for a share in the distribution, the remedy is not by writ of error but by certiorari[97] or mandamus.[98]

b. Proceedings to Transfer Cause. The appeal should be taken within the prescribed time,[99] and in the prescribed manner,[1] and all persons interested should be made parties thereto.[2] Under some statutes a bond must be executed by the appellant,[3] the effect of which is to stay proceedings on the judgment or decree appealed from,[4] so far as may be necessary for the protection of the interests of the appealing parties.[5]

c. Review and Disposition of Cause. The appellate court will review and adjudicate only such questions as were properly raised in the lower court and which appear on the record,[6] and in the absence of proper pleading and Allister v. Thompson, 32 Ala. 497; Johnson v. Fort, 30 Ala. 78; In re Mitchell, 121 Cal. 391, 53 Pac. 810; In re Welch, 106 Cal. 427, 39 Pac. 805; In re Kelley, 63 Cal. 106; In re Phillips, 18 Mont. 311, 45 Pac. 222; In re McFarland, 10 Mont. 445, 26 Pac. 185; Jeter v. Moore, 17 R. I. 85, 20 Atl. 230.

97. Fowler v. Trewhit, 10 Ala. 622.

98. Ex p. Jones, 1 Ala. 15.

99. Cawlfield v. Brown, 45 Ala. 552; Thomas v. Dumas, 30 Ala. 83; Westerfield's Estate, 96 Cal. 113, 30 Pac. 1104; Wiard's Estate, 83 Cal. 619, 24 Pac. 45; In re Grider, 81 Cal. 571, 22 Pac. 908; Fisher's Estate, 75 Cal. 523, 17 Pac. 640; Burton's Estate, 64 Cal. 428, 1 Pac. 702; Harland's Estate, 64 Cal. 379, 1 Pac. 159; State v. Blake, 69 Conn. 64, 36 Atl. 1019; Merriwether v. Sebree, 2 Bush (Ky.) 232; In re McFarland, 10 Mont. 445, 26 Pac. 185.

Extension of time.— Some statutes authorize the allowance of an appeal to a person who without fault or error has failed to take his appeal within the time required by law, if justice requires a revision of the decree. Chase v. Bates, 81 Me. 182, 16 Atl. 542, holding, however, that the appellant's petition should be dismissed for insufficiency where no reasons are alleged for his laches, nor any diligence shown when the fact became known to him, nor any particular shown in which the decree required revision.

Premature appeal.— An appeal from an order for distribution before the entry at large in the minutes of a decree describing the property distributed is premature and must be dismissed. In re Sheid, 122 Cal. 528, 55 Pac. 328.

1. Service of notice of appeal.— Where an order settling the executor's account and a decree of distribution are rendered at the same time, an appeal from an order settling the account will not be dismissed because the notice of appeal therefrom was not served upon any other party than the executor; and, where the order settling the account is reversed, it necessarily vacates the decree of distribution, and in such case the appeal from the decree will not be dismissed for failure to serve the notice of appeal upon one of the distributees named in the decree of distribution. In re Delaney, 110 Cal. 563, 42 Pac. 981.

Joinder of proceedings.— The general rule that two or more separate judgments, decrees, or orders cannot be brought up for appellate review by one writ of error or appeal applies to decrees of distribution. Sampson's Estate, 22 Pa. Super. Ct. 93, holding that, where a decree of the orphans' court directs distribution in five equal parts among the testator's children, three of the children cannot take a joint appeal and procure a review of the decree below on their distinct individual claims. And see, generally, APPEAL AND ERROR, 2 Cyc. 531. But it is no objection to an appeal taken by an administrator, both from an order of the district court sustaining objection to a final account and also from an order entering a decree of distribution, that thereby two separate actions have been united in one appeal, as such orders are not actions in a legal sense. In re Dewar, 10 Mont. 422, 25 Pac. 1025.

Writ of error necessary to a review of errors in the trial of the proceeding for distribution, see Shiffer's Appeal, 4 Pennyp. (Pa.) 512.

2. Billinslea v. Abercrombie, 2 Stew. & P. (Ala.) 24, holding that all the parties interested in the distribution must be made parties, where one party appeals from the order of distribution. But where the appeal is from an order denying a new trial to one who had petitioned as heir for his distributive share of the estate, beneficiaries under the will who did not appear and resist the petition are not necessary parties to the appeal. In re Ryer, 110 Cal. 556, 42 Pac. 1082.

3. In re Schedel, 69 Cal. 241, 10 Pac. 334; In re Kavanagh, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 443; Matter of Espie, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 270.

The quantum of security to be taken by the orphans' court upon an appeal from a decree of distribution is a matter within its discretion and is not necessarily to be measured by the quantum of the estate. In re Koch, 4 Rawle (Pa.) 268.

In Indiana on an appeal by an administrator or executor no bond is necessary, and a motion to dismiss such appeal for want of a bond, because there are other appellants unnecessarily joined, will not be entertained. Ruch v. Biery, 110 Ind. 444, 11 N. E. 312.

4. In re Schedel, 69 Cal. 241, 10 Pac. 334; Matter of Espie, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 270.

5. In re Kavanagh, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 443. And see Bullard's Estate, 4 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 284.

6. Petty v. Wafford, 11 Ala. 143 (holding that, where the administrator fails to require proof may dismiss the appeal.[7] A judgment or decree of distribution will not be disturbed on appeal for errors not seriously affecting the justice and equality of the distribution;[8] nor for insufficiency of evidence where it warrants the findings on which the decree appealed from was predicated.[9]

14. Costs and Attorney's Fees. The allowance of reasonable costs and attorney's fees incurred either by the representative or the claimants in ascertaining the fund for distribution, bringing it into court, determining the rights of parties thereto, and making distribution, is largely within the discretion of the court;[10] and although as a general rule they should be allowed out of the general fund before distribution is decreed,[11] yet where they are unnecessarily caused or those claiming distribution to propound their interest, he will not be heard, on error, to complain that their interest is not shown by the record); Sankey v. Elsberry, 10 Ala. 455; Scarboro's Estate, 70 Cal. 147, 11 Pac. 563; Hargroves v. Thompson, 31 Miss. 211. See also In re Moyer, 141 Pa. St. 125, 21 Atl. 504.

Error apparent by decree.— Where it appears by the decree of final settlement that the widow has been excluded from all participation of her deceased husband's estate, the error will not be considered as waived, but may be revised at the instance of the administrator, although no exception was at the time taken to the action of the court below. Crothers v. Ross, 17 Ala. 816.

An appeal by one in his representative capacity does not bring up for review matters affecting his personal share of the estate as distributee or legatee. In re Phillips, 18 Mont. 311, 45 Pac. 222.

Evidence.— On appeal from a decree accepting the return of distributers it is competent for the appellants to show that the distribution is unequal and unjust. Webster v. Merriam, 9 Conn. 225.

7. In re Crooks, 125 Cal. 459, 58 Pac. 89, holding that an appeal by a mortgagee from the decree of distribution, the record upon which merely shows an offer of the mortgage in evidence, unaccompanied by a pleading or statement of facts, or by any showing that the mortgage debt was not paid, and does not show that the mortgagee is an aggrieved party, must be dismissed. But a contention that a motion for a new trial does not lie in proceedings for the distribution, because all the facts alleged in the petition were admitted by defendants, is a sufficient reason for affirming an order denying a new trial on the hearing but no reason for dismissal of the appeal. In re Davis, 27 Mont. 235, 70 Pac. 721.

8. Hearne v. Harbison, 9 Ala. 731; McClelland v. Lowry, 21 Ark. 452; Williamson v. Williamson, 6 B. Mon. (Ky.) 307.

9. In re Kelley, 63 Cal. 106; Patterson's Estate, 166 Pa. St. 119, 30 Atl. 1020; Hosfield's Estate, 4 Pa. Co. Ct. 257.

10. Colorado.—Church v. Eggleston, 3 Colo. App. 239, 32 Pac. 984.

New Mexico.— Perea v. Harrison, 7 N. M. 666, 41 Pac. 529, holding that, where the costs are chargeable against the fund, the court has the power to fix the allowance for solicitors' fees without taking proof as to the value of the services rendered.

Pennsylvania.— Lusk's Estate, 150 Pa. St. 517, 24 Atl. 595; Neill's Estate, 3 Pa. Co. Ct. 197, 19 Wkly. Notes Cas. 380.

Wisconsin.— McMahon v. Snyder, 117 Wis. 463, 94 N. W. 351, holding, however, that on determining an appeal from a judgment of the county court making a final distribution it was error for the circuit court to award any other than the statutory costs.

Canada.— McDonald's Estate, 2 Nova Scotia 123.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1296.

11. Alabama.— Mitchell v. Mitchell, 8 Ala. 414.

Colorado.— Church v. Eggleston, 3 Colo. App. 239, 32 Pac. 984, holding that, in proceedings to obtain a share in the estate of a decedent, it is error to tax costs against the administrators personally, where there is nothing to show that they precipitated the contest, or were responsible for it, or exceeded their official duties; and the fact that they were nephews of the decedent should be disregarded.

Massachusetts.— Abbott v. Bradstreet, 3 Allen 587.

Pennsylvania.— Lusk's Estate, 150 Pa. St. 517, 24 Atl. 595; Geissinger's Appeal, (1889) 17 Atl. 222; Neill's Estate, 3 Pa. Co. Ct. 197, 19 Wkly. Notes Cas. 380; Wilson's Appeal, 3 Walk. 216; Walter's Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. 159.

England.— Hilliard v. Fulford, 4 Ch. D. 389, 46 L. J. Ch. 43, 35 L. T. Rep. N. S. 750, 25 Wkly. Rep. 161.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1296.

Classes of costs.— A fund in the hands of an intestate's administrator upon which a decree of the court acts for the purpose of distribution is liable to three classes of charges: (1) The necessary expense of ascertaining it and reducing it into possession; (2) a reasonable compensation for its safekeeping and supervision; and (3) the expenses of ascertaining the proper distributees and making distribution among them. Ex p. Plitt, 19 Fed. Cas. No. 11,228, 2 Wall. Jr. 453. And see Lane's Estate, 3 Pa. Dist. 162, holding that "legal costs" within the meaning of a Pennsylvania statute (Act June 10, 1881, § 1) relating to the distribution of estates must be construed to cover all the legal charges or expenses which prior to the passage of that act were payable out of the trust fund for distribution.

increased by the acts of the representative or claimants they may be charged against the representative individually,[12] or against the claimant causing them,[13] as the case may be.

P. Order or Decree For Distribution — 1. Form and Requisites. Distribution of an estate to heirs on final settlement may be made by a single decree assigning to each heir separately the amount adjudged to be due him.[14] The

An attorney's fees, although employed by a particular legatee or distributee, may be charged against the general fund where the services rendered by him inure to the benefit of all interested in the production and protection of such fund (Foster v. Foster, 126 Ala. 257, 28 So. 624; Thirlwell v. Campbell, 11 Bush (Ky.) 163; Neill's Estate, 3 Pa. Co. Ct. 197, 19 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 380; McIntire v. McIntire, 192 U. S. 116, 24 S. Ct. 196, 48 L. ed. 369 [affirming 20 App. Cas. (D. C.) 134]; Ex p. Plitt, 19 Fed. Cas. No. 11,228, 2 Wall. Jr. 453); but not where his services are merely for the benefit or protection of his client, the others interested being represented by counsel of their own (Foster v. Foster, 126 Ala. 257, 28 So. 624; Bailey v. Barclay, 109 Ky. 636, 60 S. W. 377, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1244; Thirlwell v. Campbell, 11 Bush (Ky.) 163; Sims v. Birdsong, 59 S. W. 749, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1049; McIntire v. McIntire, 192 U. S. 116, 24 S. Ct. 196, 48 L. ed. 369 [affirming 20 App. Cas. (D. C.) 134]), or where an allowance of the attorney's fee is not requested (Cook v. Jennings, 40 S. C. 204, 18 S. E. 640). Counsel fees will be awarded out of the estate only to the successful party, and not to both of the contesting parties. Lee v. Lee, 39 Barb. (N. Y.) 172.

The compensation of an attorney appointed to represent non-resident heirs under Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1718, may be allowed out of the estate, to be charged on distribution to the heir represented by him, but the court cannot fix the compensation of the attorney in advance, he must wait until final distribution. In re Lux, 134 Cal. 3, 66 Pac. 30.

Costs ex parte.— On a petition for a distributive share of an estate, when some of the heirs were not responsible for the resulting contest, costs should not be taxed against the estate as a whole; and claimants if successful should not be assessed with costs. Church v. Eggleston, 3 Colo. App. 239, 32 Pac. 984.

12. Church v. Eggleston, 3 Colo. App. 239, 32 Pac. 984; In re McFarland, 10 Mont. 586, 27 Pac. 389; Osborn's Appeal, 130 Pa. St. 359, 18 Atl. 897 (holding that, where the executors have failed to make a division of an estate as directed by the supreme court, they should be charged with the costs of the proceedings to compel them to make such division); Witman's Appeal, 28 Pa. St. 376 (holding that, where an executor unjustly and for his own advantage resists the payment of a legacy, he is liable for the costs of a citation to render an account and subsequent proceedings to compel payment of the legacy); In re Brinton, 10 Pa. St. 408 (holding that executors are liable for costs incurred by litigating matters before auditors for distribution which have been adjudicated); Axtell's Appeal, 3 Pa. Cas. 488, 6 Atl. 560; Walter's Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 159.

An executor will not be charged with costs of litigating a demand of the devisees for interest on a trust fund, where the demand included more than the devisees were entitled to receive, although the general rule is that an executor must pay costs when he pays interest. Dunscomb v. Dunscomb, 1 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 508, 7 Am. Dec. 504.

Questions for court.— Where in an action against an executor for a legacy he pleads want of assets, and an accounting is had before auditors, the question whether the executor was negligent in not paying the legacy or any part of it, so as to render him personally liable for the costs of the suit, is a question for the court upon the facts of the case as reported by the auditors. Meeker v. Arrowsmith, 16 N. J. L. 227.

13. Mississippi.— See French v. Davis, 38 Miss. 167.

Pennsylvania.— Evans' Estate, 155 Pa. St. 646, 26 Atl. 739 (holding that on the distribution of testator's estate among the various persons entitled after the death of the life-tenant, if an audit is rendered necessary by attachments or assignments of certain distributive shares, it is proper that the costs of such audit be imposed on the shares so attached or assigned, rather than on the whole fund); Lusk's Estate, 150 Pa. St. 517, 24 Atl. 595; Eckes' Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 252, 22 Pa. Co. Ct. 287; McCloskey's Estate, 12 Phila. 74; Johns' Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. 281.

Texas.— See Fowler v. Evans, 26 Tex. 636.

Wisconsin.— In re Kirkendall, 43 Wis. 167.

England.— Hilliard v. Fulford, 4 Ch. D. 389, 46 L. J. Ch. 43, 35 L. T. Rep. N. S. 750, 25 Wkly. Rep. 161.

Canada.— McDonald's Estate, 2 Nova Scotia 123.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1296.

Where legatees voluntarily appear in an ex parte proceeding instituted by an executor for an order appointing commissioners to divide his testator's estate among the legatees and oppose the confirmation of the report of the commissioners, no steps being taken to bring in the legatees as parties, the court cannot award costs against them. Darden v. Maget, 18 N. C. 498.

14. King v. Brown, 108 Ala. 68, 18 So. 935.

That the decree was made in favor of parties who were not applicants therefor (Caldwell v. Kinkead, 1 B. Mon. (Ky.) 228; Sayre decree should generally specify the several distributees by name and relationship;[15] should specify the property and amount to be paid to each distributee;[16] should specify the land to be divided sufficiently for identification;[17] and should make a positive and conclusive disposition[18] of all the property or assets among

v. Sayre, 16 N. J. Eq. 505) or whose shares have been satisfied or released (Sayre v. Sayre, supra) is no valid objection to the decree.

A joint distribution is improper in Pennsylvania where the executors file separate accounts. Evangelical Assoc.'s Appeal, 35 Pa. St. 316.

An interlocutory decree awarding a distributive share to a trustee, until proceedings shall be taken to determine the mental capacity of the distributee, may be made under some circumstances. See Harker's Estate, 176 Pa. St. 19, 34 Atl. 927.

A separate decree cannot be made at the instance of each of the claimants. Sayre v. Sayre, 16 N. J. Eq. 505.

15. In re Crooks, 125 Cal. 459, 58 Pac. 89; Goad v. Montgomery, 119 Cal. 552, 51 Pac. 681, 63 Am. St. Rep. 145; Grant v. Bodwell, 78 Me. 460, 7 Atl. 12; Loring v. Steineman, 1 Metc. (Mass.) 204; Purviance v. Com., 17 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 31. Compare Jewell v. Pierce, 120 Cal. 79, 52 Pac. 132.

Distributive share of married woman.—Under the present Alabama statute the distributive share of a married woman should be decreed in favor of herself alone (King v. Brown, 108 Ala. 68, 18 So. 935), although under prior statutes a decree for the wife's distributive share was required to be rendered in favor of the husband and wife for the use of the wife (Moody v. Hemphill, 75 Ala. 268; Harrison v. Meadors, 41 Ala. 274; Roberson v. Roberson, 21 Ala. 273; Green v. Fagan, 15 Ala. 335; Petty v. Wafford, 11 Ala. 143; Blackwell v. Vastbinder, 6 Ala. 218). In Maryland an allotment by the orphans' court to the husband of a distributee passes the title to her; her husband taking only such interest as is provided for by statute. Davis v. Patton, 19 Md. 120.

A decree in favor of an infant distributee should be in his name by his guardian if he has one; but if it is in his name alone without the intervention of a guardian it is not reversible on error. Thompson v. Perryman, 45 Ala. 619; Morgan v. Morgan, 35 Ala. 303; Green v. Fagan, 15 Ala. 335; Sankey v. Sankey, 6 Ala. 607.

Under the Ohio statute (Rev. St. § 524) the only order of distribution authorized is a general order to the representative to distribute the funds remaining in his hands according to law (Cadiz First Nat. Bank v. Beebe, 62 Ohio St. 41, 56 N. E. 465; Armstrong v. Grandin, 39 Ohio St. 368; Cox v. John, 32 Ohio St. 532; Swearingen v. Morris, 14 Ohio St. 424); and an order therefore designating or naming the distributees is not authorized and will not debar any one interested in the distribution from asserting his or her interest therein (Armstrong v. Grandin, 39 Ohio St. 368).

16. Alabama.— Sankey v. Sankey, 8 Ala. 601; Davis v. Davis, 6 Ala. 611.

California.— In re Coursen, (1901) 65 Pac. 965 (where a provision as to the distribution of property was held erroneous for being indefinite); Goad v. Montgomery, 119 Cal. 552, 51 Pac. 581, 63 Am. St. Rep. 145. Compare Jewell v. Pierce, 120 Cal. 79, 52 Pac. 132.

Iowa.— Foteaux v. Lepage, 6 Iowa 123.

Kentucky.— Roberts v. Dale, 7 B. Mon. 199; White v. White, 3 Dana 374; Banton v. Campbell, 2 Dana 421; Neely v. Neely, 1 Litt. 292. Where an administrator who is also husband of one of the distributees is sued by the distributees for the estate left in his hands, his wife's share should be deducted from the aggregate, and the decree in favor of the others should be for the balance only. Singleton v. Singleton, 5 Dana 87.

Louisiana.— Varion v. Rousant, 12 Mart. 112.

Maine.— Grant v. Bodwell, 78 Me. 460, 7 Atl. 12.

Minnesota.— See Fraser v. Farmers', etc., Sav. Bank, 89 Minn. 482, 483, 95 N. W. 307, holding that a final decree finding certain heirs owners in fee "of all the real property hereinbefore described, and of all the real property of which the said testator died seised, whether the same is described in the inventory herein or not," was not intended to cover the homestead, but only the property described, and such property as might perhaps have been unintentionally omitted from the inventory.

Vermont.— Ex p. Robinson, 1 D. Chipm. 357.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1299.

Where an equal division cannot be made, a decree cannot be rendered and execution awarded against those receiving more than their share, in favor of the others, for the balance. Teat v. Lee, 8 Port. (Ala.) 507.

17. Jones v. Minogue, 29 Ark. 637; Bates v. Howard, 105 Cal. 173, 38 Pac. 715; Smith v. Biscailuz, 83 Cal. 344, 21 Pac. 15, 23 Pac. 314, holding that a general description of the land is sufficient, upon a collateral attack, to include omitted lands which may be shown by evidence to have in fact belonged to the decedent at the time of his death. See also Green v. Hardy, 24 Me. 453. The description is not required to be so specific that the land can be identified without the aid of extrinsic evidence; nor is it material that the description is false in part, if what remains is sufficient for the purpose of identification. Wheeler v. Bolton, 66 Cal. 83, 4 Pac. 981.

18. In re Garrity, 108 Cal. 463, 38 Pac. 628, 41 Pac. 485, holding that a decree of distribution should not be made contingent upon the future establishment of conditions inserted in a proviso.

all the parties entitled thereto.[19] It should be entered on the record in the prescribed manner.[20] A decree for distribution upon the presumption of the death of an ancestor arising from his absence should include an adjudication on the effect of such absence and should rest the order of distribution thereon.[21]

2. Setting Aside, Correcting, and Modifying. Ordinarily the probate court has entire control of its decrees until the end of the term at which they are entered, and during that term may for sufficient cause set aside, amend, or modify a decree of distribution,[22] although property has been distributed in pursuance of it,[23] and the distributees have given receipts reciting that the property has been delivered in compliance with the order and is received in satisfaction thereof.[24] After the end of the term, however, the only remedy is usually by appeal,[25] except where the decree was rendered through mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or fraud, in which case, according to the weight of authority, upon a proper application or motion by some person interested,[26] and upon due notice to all interested

19. Hollis v. Caughman, 22 Ala. 478 (holding that a decree is not final, unless it makes distribution of all the assets found to be in the hands of the executor or administrator among all the parties who appear by the record to be interested in the estate); Bothick's Succession, 109 La. 1, 33 So. 47 (holding that, where a rule for distribution is made absolute by a judgment which does not distribute the fund among all the heirs, it will be annulled).

20. Blackwell v. Meneese, 5 Stew. & P. (Ala.) 397, holding that a decree ascertaining the amount of a distributive share and giving judgment thereon cannot be entered nunc pro tunc upon proceedings had upon the final settlement of an estate.

Delay in entering the decree does not render it invalid, where when entered it appears in its proper place on the record, and as of the day of rendition. State v. Henderson, 164 Mo. 347, 64 S. W. 138, 86 Am. St. Rep. 618.

A statement of distribution of certain property, approved by the judge of the county court and entered on the records of the court, but not entered as a decree, is evidence of a partition of the property, but is not conclusive upon creditors of a distributee. Debrell v. Ponton, 22 Tex. 686, 27 Tex. 623.

21. In re Morrison, 183 Pa. St. 155, 38 Atl. 895.

22. Aull v. St. Louis Trust Co., 149 Mo. 1, 50 S. W. 289.

23. Aull v. St. Louis Trust Co., 149 Mo. 1, 50 S. W. 289.

24. Aull v. St. Louis Trust Co., 149 Mo. 1, 50 S. W. 289.

25. Emerson v. Heard, 81 Ala. 443, 1 So. 197; Key v. Vaughn, 15 Ala. 497; State v. Blake, 69 Conn. 64, 36 Atl. 1019 (holding that under the Connecticut statute a decree of the probate court in the settlement of estates can be attacked only by appeal taken within the time limited); Bissell v. Bissell, 24 Conn. 241 (holding that a bill in equity is not the proper proceeding to set aside such a decree, and that distribution being entirely within the jurisdiction of the probate court, the decree could be set aside only upon an appeal to the superior court). See also Parker v. Townsend Nat. Bank, 121 Mass. 565. Compare Thomas v. Dumas, 30 Ala. 83.

A motion to amend nunc pro tunc cannot be maintained after the close of the term at which the decree was rendered to correct or modify such decree. Browder v. Faulkner, 82 Ala. 257, 3 So. 30; Emerson v. Heard, 81 Ala. 443, 1 So. 197. And see Crothers v. Ross, 15 Ala. 800.

It is no ground for setting aside a decree of distribution on appeal that an additional inventory exhibited in the course of administration was not signed by the appraisers and that the appraisers had placed no valuation upon the property contained in it, the only items therein complained of being property which sold for two dollars, the avails of which were duly applied. Canfield v. Bostwick, 21 Conn. 550.

26. California.— In re Ingram, 78 Cal. 586, 21 Pac. 435, 12 Am. St. Rep. 80.

Indiana.— Glessner v. Clark, 140 Ind. 427, 39 N. E. 544, holding that an order, made on the hearing of a partial account, for distribution, may be set aside on the application of one appointed administrator as successor to the administrator, on the hearing of whose account the order was granted.

Maine.— In re Cote, 98 Me. 415, 57 Atl. 584.

Missouri.— Aull v. St. Louis Trust Co., 149 Mo. 1, 50 S. W. 289.

New York.— See Smith v. Baylis, 3 Dem. Surr. 567, holding that a petitioner who is neither a creditor, nor one of the next of kin, nor an assignee, has no standing in court for the opening of a decree and for payment to him.

Texas.— Wade v. Freese, (Civ. App. 1902) 71 S. W. 69, holding that a holder of a lien on land of the decedent which was erroneously awarded to the widow by the county court is entitled to have such order set aside in the court where the administration proceedings are pending.

Washington.— State v. Walla Walla County Super. Ct., 13 Wash. 25, 42 Pac. 630.

Wisconsin.— Leavens' Estate, 65 Wis. 440, 27 N. W. 324, holding that a person claiming to be entitled to a share of the estate may parties,[27] the probate court by reason of its equity powers or by express statutory enactment may in its discretion set aside, amend, or modify the decree,[28] provided proceed by petition in the county court to have an order set aside, although being a minor when the original probate proceedings were had he was not represented therein by guardian or otherwise.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 1304, 1305.

A party aggrieved by the alleged fraudulent acts of an administrator, whereby an order of court was made distributing an estate among parties not entitled thereto, should seek his redress by first petitioning the court to vacate such order of distribution; and in such a proceeding it is proper to make the beneficiaries under the fraudulent administration defendants. Leavens' Estate, 65 Wis. 440, 27 N. W. 324.

Sufficiency of application.— A new petition by an administrator for an order of distribution in which he sets forth the undisputed facts in regard to the persons entitled to distributive shares and the amount to be distributed, and which differs entirely from the former petition and decree, must be regarded as containing by necessary implication so clear a prayer for the revocation of the previous decree as to have the effect of such an application. In re Cote, 98 Me. 415, 57 Atl. 584.

Parties.— The persons to whom the estate has been distributed under such order are proper parties to the proceedings to set the same aside, although the county court may have no power to compel them to refund the property. Leavens' Estate, 65 Wis. 440, 27 N. W. 324.

27. California.— In re Ingram, 78 Cal. 586, 21 Pac. 435, 12 Am. St. Rep. 80.

Maine.— In re Cote, 98 Me. 415, 57 Atl. 584.

Missouri.— Aull v. St. Louis Trust Co., 149 Mo. 1, 50 S. W. 289.

New York.— Lawyers' Surety Co. v. Reinach, 25 Misc. 150, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 205 [affirming 23 Misc. 242, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 162].

Pennsylvania.— See Cochran's Estate, 31 Pittsb. Leg. J. 338, holding that the act of March 29, 1832, section 19, requiring notice to be given of claims against a decedent within a year, did not apply to a proceeding to open a decree of distribution and let in a claimant.

Vermont.— Stone v. Peasley, 28 Vt. 716.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 1304, 1305.

Sufficiency of notice.— The notice of the hearing of a motion to vacate an order denying a petition for partial distribution, and of an application for an order granting such petition, which is served upon the executors only, without any posting of notice to acquire jurisdiction of all legatees and creditors, is insufficient to give jurisdiction to make either order. In re Mitchell, 126 Cal. 248, 58 Pac. 549.

Recital of notice.— A recital in the order vacating the decree that all persons interested "were duly served with due notice" of the motion to vacate is conclusive of that fact in a proceeding to review the order on certiorari. De Pedrorena v. San Diego County Super. Ct., 80 Cal. 144, 22 Pac. 71.

28. California.— In re Ross, 140 Cal. 282, 73 Pac. 976.

Massachusetts.— See Parker v. Townsend Nat. Bank, 121 Mass. 565.

New York.— Engelson v. Mitchell, 88 N. Y. App. Div. 504, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 103; Lawyers' Surety Co. v. Reinack, 25 Misc. 150, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 205 [affirming 23 Misc. 242, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 162] (holding that the surrogate has power to amend or modify a decree of distribution for the benefit of newly discovered distributees who were not parties to the original proceedings); Matter of Gilman, 7 N. Y. St. 321; Smith v. Baylis, 4 Dem. Surr. 30.

Pennsylvania.— White's Estate, 1 Pa. Dist. 508; Wells' Estate, 14 Phila. 318 (holding that an order upon an executor to pay over will be vacated where it appears to have been improvidently issued, and it is shown that, instead of anything being due from the executor, the estate owes him); Cochran's Estate, 31 Pittsb. Leg. J. 338 (holding that a decree of distribution will be opened to let in a creditor of decedent who had no actual notice of the audit and exercised due diligence, where the executor and distributee are the same person). In this state the orphans' court may set aside, amend, or modify such a decree upon a simple petition, or it may treat such petition as in effect and substance a bill of review (Keyser's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 181, 19 Pa. Co. Ct. 364), but such petition must allege fraud, and that money sought to be recovered had not been paid out to the distributees mentioned in the decree (In re Bear, 162 Pa. St. 547, 29 Atl. 856; Miller's Estate, 4 Pa. Dist. 407; White's Estate, 1 Pa. Dist. 508); and it is too late if brought after an actual payment in accordance with the decree has been made (Keim's Appeal, 125 Pa. St. 480, 17 Atl. 463; Miller's Estate, 4 Pa. Dist. 407; White's Estate, 1 Pa. Dist. 508). See Christian's Estate, 2 Pa. Dist. 579, holding that, where an adjudication directing distribution of securities in the hands of an executor is confirmed without exception, the matter passes beyond the power of the court, and can be modified only by a proceeding for review, with citation to all parties to be affected.

Wisconsin.— Creamer v. Ingalls, 89 Wis. 112, 61 N. W. 82; Been v. Kimberly, 72 Wis. 343, 39 N. W. 542; Leavens' Estate, 65 Wis. 440, 27 N. W. 324.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 1304, 1305.

An order denying a petition for partial distribution is not vacated merely by a subsequent order granting the petition, since it is final so far as the hearing on the petition is in some jurisdictions the decree has not been acted upon;[29] or it may be modified or set aside by a bill in equity.[30] A decree in equity determining the rights of the distributees and ordering the appointment of commissioners to make partition cannot be amended, except upon rehearing or bill of review.[31] An application or petition to set aside or amend a decree of distribution may be barred by lapse of the time, if any, prescribed by statute,[32] or in equity by laches.[33]

3. Operation and Effect — a. In General. A decree of distribution, if properly made after due notice, is in its nature final, and unless set aside for fraud, concerned, and is appealable. In re Mitchell, 126 Cal. 248, 58 Pac. 549.

A schedule of distribution inconsistent with the will will be corrected on exception where it appears that it was made unwittingly by the auditing judge, his attention not being called to the provisions of an obscure will, and where the exceptants did not appear before him. Trickett's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 398, 22 Pa. Co. Ct. 558.

Where a guaranty of collection and distribution is given by the executor to legatees upon distribution of assets in kind to them, and a final accounting is had and decree entered, resort must be had, if the assets be insufficient, to the guaranty and not to opening the decree. Redmond v. Ely, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 175.

29. Long v. Thompson, 60 Ill. 27 (holding that where a probate court improperly made an order for the distribution of money in the hands of an administrator, without notice to those entitled thereto, there having been no final settlement of the administration, and nothing done under the order of distribution, the whole matter was in fieri and it was competent for the probate court on notice to the administrator, to set aside such order at a subsequent term); Kinne v. Schumacher, 65 Ill. App. 342; In re Cote, 98 Me. 415, 57 Atl. 584; In re Bear, 162 Pa. St. 547, 29 Atl. 856; Keim's Appeal, 125 Pa. St. 480, 17 Atl. 463; Miller's Estate, 4 Pa. Dist. 407; White's Estate, 1 Pa. Dist. 508; State v. Walla Walla County Super. Ct., 13 Wash. 25, 42 Pac. 630. See also Randolph v. School Trustees, 26 Ill. App. 241. Contra, Harris v. Starkey, 176 Mass. 445, 57 N. E. 698, 79 Am. St. Rep. 322, holding that a decree of distribution can be revised after the executor has distributed the estate as ordered, so as to enable one entitled who was omitted to recover his share from those to whom the estate has been distributed.

In Louisiana under Rev. Civ. Code, arts. 1067, 1068, providing for the payment of new or straggling creditors who present themselves and who have not made themselves known before, when the funds in the hands of the administrator are insufficient, and which give them a right of action against legatees and creditors who have been paid for return and contribution, with a view to a new distribution, it is held that these articles apply only to successions under actual administration and were not intended to apply to successions already administered upon, where the assets have been distributed, the heirs put in possession, and the administrator discharged; and the proceedings cannot be reopened and a new administration inaugurated. Atkinson v. Rodney, 35 La. Ann. 313.

30. Maldaner v. Beurhaus, 108 Wis. 25, 84 N. W. 25.

Alien distributees may maintain a bill in equity in the federal court to set aside a decree of distribution of the probate court procured by fraud in this country. Sullivan v. Andoe, 6 Fed. 641, 4 Hughes 290.

Misjoinder of parties.— Where executors distributed the residuum of decedent's estate among the legatees, and thereafter it was discovered that securities assigned certain legatees were forgeries, and such legatees filed a bill in equity for a reapportionment, it was held that there was no misjoinder of parties complainant, since the distribution was a single transaction affecting all parties. Maldaner v. Beurhaus, 108 Wis. 25, 84 N. W. 25.

31. Ansley v. Robinson, 16 Ala. 793.

32. De Pedrorena v. San Diego County Super. Ct., 80 Cal. 144, 22 Pac. 71; In re Hudson, 63 Cal. 454 (holding that probate courts have no jurisdiction to entertain a petition by a legatee to set aside a decree of distribution after the time prescribed by statute (Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 473) for fraud or imposition by false representation; nor has the jurisdiction of the superior courts as succeeding to the powers of the probate courts been enlarged in this regard; and that courts of equity alone can grant the proper relief); Exton v. Zule, 14 N. J. Eq. 501.

Want of diligence in ascertaining the rights of a minor in an ancestor's estate is not to be imputed to a child of tender years when moving to set aside a decree. In re Ross, 140 Cal. 282, 73 Pac. 976.

33. Alabama.— Slatter v. Glover, 14 Ala. 648, 48 Am. Dec. 118.

Illinois.— Starrett v. Keating, 61 Ill. App. 189.

Nevada.— Royce v. Hampton, 16 Nev. 25.

Pennsylvania.— Hoban's Appeal, 102 Pa. St. 404.

Wisconsin.— Maldaner v. Beurhaus, 108 Wis. 25, 84 N. W. 25; Beem v. Kimberly, 72 Wis. 343, 39 N. W. 542, holding, however, that a claimant will not be held guilty of laches in moving to set aside the decree of distribution, where she at once took legal advice, and pressed her counsel to commence proceedings, and nothing has been done with the estate since the order of distribution to alter the relations of the parties or prejudice the executor.

United States.— Sullivan v. Andoe, 6 Fed. 641, 4 Hughes 290.

etc.,[34] or appealed from within the time limited by law, it concludes the rights of all parties interested in the estate,[35] and generally cannot be impeached in a col-

34. Blackburn v. Craufurd, 22 Md. 447. And see supra, XI, P, 2.

35. Alabama.— Cousins v. Jackson, 49 Ala. 236; Watson v. Hutto, 27 Ala. 513; Sankey v. Sankey, 18 Ala. 713; Harrison v. Pool, 16 Ala. 167. See Landreth v. Landreth, 12 Ala. 640.

Arkansas.— Wilson v. Harris, 13 Ark. 559.

California.— Under the statutes in this state it is held that the action of the probate court in making distribution binds the whole world, and is equally conclusive upon every claimant whether his claim is presented, or whether he fails to appear, subject only to be reversed, set aside, or modified upon appeal. Kauffman v. Gries, 141 Cal. 295, 74 Pac. 846; Martinovich v. Marsicano, 137 Cal. 354, 70 Pac. 459; Cunha v. Hughes, 122 Cal. 111, 54 Pac. 535, 68 Am. St. Rep. 27; Jewell v. Pierce, 120 Cal. 79, 52 Pac. 132; In re Trescony, 119 Cal. 568, 51 Pac. 951; Good v. Montgomery, 119 Cal. 552, 51 Pac. 681, 63 Am. St. Rep. 145; Crew v. Pratt, 119 Cal. 139, 51 Pac. 38; William Hill Co. v. Lawler, 116 Cal. 359, 48 Pac. 323; Hinckley v. Stebbins, (1892) 29 Pac. 52; Chever v. Ching Hong Poy, 82 Cal. 68, 22 Pac. 1081; Freeman v. Rahm, 58 Cal. 111; Irwin v. Backus, 25 Cal. 214, 85 Am. Dec. 125.

Connecticut.— State v. Blake, 69 Conn. 64, 36 Atl. 1019; Kellogg v. Johnson, 38 Conn. 269; Gates v. Treat, 17 Conn. 388.

Georgia.— Atkinson v. McDonald, 74 Ga. 350.

Illinois.— Tinker v. Babcock, 204 Ill. 571, 68 N. E. 445 [affirming 107 Ill. App. 78] (holding that the judgment of the probate court awarding distribution is a judgment in rem and is binding on all creditors and others who had an opportunity to be heard); Paullissen v. Loock, 38 Ill. App. 510; People v. Brooks, 22 Ill. App. 594.

Kansas.— Keith v. Guthrie, 59 Kan. 200, 52 Pac. 435; Proctor v. Dicklow, 57 Kan. 119, 45 Pac. 86.

Kentucky.— Benton v. Campbell, 2 Dana 421.

Minnesota.— Eddy v. Kelly, 72 Minn. 32, 74 N. W. 1020 (holding that a decree of distribution under a will concludes all parties interested as to everything necessarily involved in it); Ladd v. Weiskopf, 62 Minn. 29, 64 N. W. 99 (holding the decree binding on all persons interested, whether then in being or not); Greenwood v. Murray, 26 Minn. 259, 2 N. W. 945.

Missouri.— Tapley v. McPike, 50 Mo. 589, holding that a decree of distribution while unreversed will protect an innocent purchaser or a stranger buying property under it.

Montana.— Ryan v. Kinney, 2 Mont. 454.

Nevada.— McNabb v. Wixom, 7 Nev. 163.

New Jersey.— Sayre v. Sayre, 16 N. J. Eq. 505; Exton v. Zule, 14 N. J. Eq. 501.

New York.— In re Underhill, 117 N. Y. 471, 22 N. E. 1120; Kager v. Brenneman, 47 N. Y. App. Div. 63, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 339; Foulks v. Foulks, 57 Hun 591, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 785; In re Halsted, 41 Misc. 606, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 301 (holding that a judgment directing distribution, in the absence of irregularity or fraud, is, under Code Civ. Proc. § 2743, conclusive as a judgment on each party to the special proceeding, who was duly cited). See also Baggott v. Boulger, 2 Duer 160.

Pennsylvania.— Ferguson v. Yard, 164 Pa. St. 586, 30 Atl. 517; Otterson v. Gallagher, 88 Pa. St. 355; Bradshaw's Appeal, 3 Grant 109; Clark's Estate, 1 Kulp 32; Woodward's Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. 9.

South Carolina.— Hurt v. Hurt, 6 Rich. Eq. 114 (holding that a distributee residing out of the state, but within the United States, properly made a party to the proceedings for distribution and duly notified in the manner prescribed by statute of the pendency and object of the proceedings, is concluded by the decree for distribution, unless he petitions for a rehearing within two years, although the decree excludes him altogether from a share of the estate to which he was entitled and although he had no actual notice of the pendency of the suit); McClure v. Miller, Bailey Eq. 107, 21 Am. Dec. 522.

Texas.— Stewart v. Morrison, 81 Tex. 396, 17 S. W. 15, 26 Am. St. Rep. 821.

Utah.— Snyder v. Murdock, 26 Utah 233, 73 Pac. 22.

Vermont.— Lenihan v. Spaulding, 57 Vt. 115 (decree held conclusive on the finding of the court as to the absence of an heir); Tryon v. Tryon, 16 Vt. 313; Georgia Dist. Probate Ct. v. Vanduzer, 13 Vt. 135; Sparhawk v. Buell, 9 Vt. 41.

Wisconsin.— Schæffner's Appeal, 41 Wis. 260.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 1306, 1309.

Thus a decree of distribution is conclusive, unless appealed from or set aside, as to the amount of assets in the hands of the representative for distribution (Judge Limestone County Ct. v. Coulter, 3 Stew. & P. (Ala.) 348; In re Snyder, 34 Hun (N. Y.) 302; Matter of Monell, 28 Misc. (N. Y.) 308, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 981; McFarland's Estate, 1 Phila. (Pa.) 378); as to the amount of each share (Cousins v. Jackson, 49 Ala. 236; Probate Judge v. Robins, 5 N. H. 246; Sayre v. Sayre, 16 N. J. Eq. 505; Burd v. McGregor, 2 Grant (Pa.) 353), and the party entitled to receive it (Sayre v. Sayre, 16 N. J. Eq. 505); but is not conclusive as to the fact of payment of debts or shares (Sayre v. Sayre, 16 N. J. Eq. 505, holding also that the question whether an administrator has actually paid a claim under the order of distribution or not can only be properly tried by a suit; Sparhawk v. Buell, 9 Vt. 41).

That all the distributees are living is incidentally but not conclusively determined by the decree of distribution; and the con-lateral proceeding.[36] It is not conclusive, however, in some jurisdictions, upon persons interested who received no notice of the proceedings and had no opportunity to be heard therein,[37] or upon one who claims adversely to the estate,[38] or where it makes a distribution unauthorized by law.[39] Unless reversed or modified it operates to vest an absolute right and title in each distributee to the prop-trary may be set up elsewhere. Eans v. Sawyer, 27 Tex. 448 [following Sawyer v. Boyle, 21 Tex. 28].

Construction.— Where an order of distribution is susceptible of two constructions, one of which would render it legal and operative, while the other would render it illegal and void, the former must be adopted. Armstrong v. Grandin, 39 Ohio St. 368.

A decree annulling a will, made after the distribution of the estate, upon the application of one of several heirs, does not render the decree of distribution void. It is valid and binding as to subsequent bona fide purchasers from the distributee. Thompson v. Samson, 64 Cal. 330, 30 Pac. 980.

Notice of account or decree.— An allegation of want of actual notice of the settlement of the account of an executor or administrator, or of the decree of distribution, is unavailing where it appears that the notice provided by the act of assembly has been given. Ferguson v. Yard, 164 Pa. St. 586, 30 Atl. 517.

36. Alabama.—Calhoun v. Whittle, 56 Ala. 138 (holding that, although a decree against an administrator, directing payment of a bequest to a legatee who is only a tenant for life, without requiring a suitable bond for the protection of the interests of the remaindermen, is erroneous, yet, if the administrator takes no steps to correct or reverse it, he cannot collaterally impeach it, nor claim any advantage from the error when sued on the decree); Thompson v. Perryman, 45 Ala. 619.

California.—Williams v. Marx, 124 Cal. 22, 56 Pac. 603; Jewell v. Pierce, 120 Cal. 79, 52 Pac. 132 (holding that the failure of the decree to name the heirs of the testator and the proportions in which they should take did not render it void or subject to collateral attack); In re Trescony, 119 Cal. 568, 51 Pac. 951; Crew v. Pratt, 119 Cal. 139, 51 Pac. 38; William Hill Co. v. Lawler, 116 Cal. 359, 48 Pac. 353. And see Burdick's Estate, 112 Cal. 387, 44 Pac. 734.

Connecticut.—Gates v. Treat, 17 Conn. 388.

Kansas.— Keith v. Guthrie, 59 Kan. 200, 52 Pac. 435, holding that it cannot be collaterally attacked by injunction proceedings to restrain its enforcement.

Louisiana.— Fendler v. Daigre, 19 La. Ann. 190.

Maryland.—Blackburn v. Craufurd, 22 Md. 447.

Massachusetts.— Pierce v. Prescott, 128 Mass. 140.

Minnesota.— Wood v. Myrick, 16 Minn. 494.

Montana.— Ryan v. Kinney, 2 Mont. 454.

New Hampshire.— Probate Judge v. Robins, 5 N. H. 246.

Pennsylvania.—Woodward's Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. 9.

Vermont.— Georgia Dist. Probate Ct. v. Vanduzer, 13 Vt. 135, not even for fraud.

United States.— Stovall v. Banks, 10 Wall. 583, 19 L. ed. 1036; Hiller v. Ladd, 85 Fed. 703, 29 C. C. A. 394.

England.— Spencer v. Williams, L. R. 2 P. 230, 40 L. J. P. & Adm. 45, 24 L. T. Rep. N. S. 513, 19 Wkly. Rep. 703; Barrs v. Jackson, 9 Jur. 609, 14 L. J. Ch. 433, 1 Phil. 582, 19 Eng. Ch. 582; Allen v. Dundas, 3 T. R. 125.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 1306, 1309.

37. Alabama.— Wright v. Phillips, 56 Ala. 69, holding that a decree in chancery against an administrator in favor of one of the distributees for his share of a specific fund does not conclude other distributees not parties to the suit from relief against the decree on the ground that he has received more than his proper share of the estate, including assets in a foreign jurisdiction, and is insolvent.

Idaho.— Coats v. Harris, (1904) 75 Pac. 243.

Maryland.—Blackburn v. Craufurd, 22 Md. 447.

Minnesota.— Backdahl v. Grand Lodge A. O. U. W., 46 Minn. 61, 48 N. W. 454, holding that a decree of distribution is not evidence as against strangers that the persons to whom the estate is assigned are heirs of the decedent.

Mississippi.— Conwill v. Conwill, 61 Miss. 202 (holding that a decree of distribution on final settlement is not conclusive on a minor for whom no guardian was appointed); Porter v. Porter, 7 How. 106, 40 Am. Dec. 55.

Wisconsin.— Ruth v. Oberbrunner, 40 Wis. 238.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 1306, 1309.

38. Finnerty v. Pennie, 100 Cal. 404, 34 Pac. 869; Rowland's Estate, 74 Cal. 523, 16 Pac. 315, 5 Am. St. Rep. 464 (holding that a legatee under a will who claims certain property in the hands of the executor in his own right and adversely to the estate is not concluded by a decree attempting to distribute such property or afterward asserting his adverse claim against his distributee); Barnard v. Wilson, 74 Cal. 512, 16 Pac. 307. See also In re Willey, (1899) 56 Pac. 550; Chever v. Ching Hong Poy, 82 Cal. 68, 22 Pac. 1081; Bath v. Valdez, 70 Cal. 350, 11 Pac. 724.

39. Martinovich v. Marsicano, 137 Cal. 354, 70 Pac. 459 (holding that the probate court has no authority to award a distributee's share to his judgment creditor, and hence the decree awarding the share to one to whom it was conveyed is not res adjudicata of the judgment creditor's right to enforce the lien of his judgment against such share); Hind-

erty respectively assigned to him,[40] subject to any outstanding title in the hands of a third person;[41] and a subsequent order directing a different disposition is without authority and void.[42] It also operates to render the representative personally liable for the balance adjudged to be in his hands,[43] and to protect him if he makes distribution in accordance therewith.[44] man v. State, 61 Md. 471; Armstrong v. Grandin, 39 Ohio St. 368.

40. Alabama.— Bean v. Welsh, 17 Ala. 770.

California.— In re Garraud, 36 Cal. 277.

Minnesota.— State v. Ramsey County Probate Ct., 84 Minn. 289, 87 N. W. 783; Schmidt v. Stark, 61 Minn. 91, 63 N. W. 255; Greenwood v. Murray, 26 Minn. 259, 2 N. W. 945.

Vermont.— Tryon v. Tryon, 16 Vt. 313.

Washington.—Prefontaine v. McMicken, 16 Wash. 16, 47 Pac. 231.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 1306, 1309.

An assignment of real property in a decree of distribution to a party named, "to have and to hold the same unto her, her heirs and assigns, forever," is an assignment of an estate in fee, although the will under which the decree is made gives the distributee the residue of testator's estate to be used "during her natural life" the same as testator might do if empowered to dispose of the same absolutely. Tidd v. Rines, 26 Minn. 201, 2 N. W. 497.

41. In re Richards, 133 Cal. 524, 65 Pac. 1034.

42. In re Garraud, 36 Cal. 277; Prefontaine v. McMicken, 16 Wash. 16, 47 Pac. 231.

Conditional decree.— Even though a decree of distribution of a decedent's real estate may have been conditional and the condition may not have been performed, such real estate cannot be subjected to the lien of a judgment when the petition therefor fails to state facts showing that there is not sufficient personal property in the hands of the executor to satisfy the claim, and that a sale of the real estate is necessary for the purpose of paying debts of the estate. Prefontaine v. McMicken, 16 Wash. 16, 47 Pac. 231.

43. Matter of Monell, 28 Misc. (N. Y.) 308, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 981, holding that a decree of distribution upon the accounting of an administration should direct payment by him individually, and not as administrator. A provision in a surrogate's decree that the executor pay over the balance in his hands in execution of the trusts in the will is not a payment, so as to discharge him or to exonerate the fund distributable, and charge the person to whom it is made payable. Such a decree gives to the distributee a remedy against the executor personally for his proportion of the fund found to be in the executor's hands; but this remedy is cumulative, not impairing at all his remedy against the fund itself, which can be exonerated by nothing short of actual payment or some act of the distributee to its prejudice. Clapp v. Meserole, 1 Abb. Dec. (N. Y.) 362, 1 Keyes (N. Y.) 281, 27 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 600 note [affirming 38 Barb. 661]. And see infra, XV, F, 5.

44. California.— Freeman v. Rahm, 58 Cal. 111.

Connecticut.— Merwin's Appeal, 75 Conn. 33, 52 Atl. 484; Kellogg v. Johnson, 38 Conn. 269.

Kentucky.— Fraser v. Page, 82 Ky. 73 (distribution in accordance with the court's construction of a will, which turned out erroneous); Vandergrift v. Cone, 37 S. W. 60, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 454.

Louisiana.— Baron v. Baum, 46 La. Ann. 1101, 15 So. 364; Girod v. Crossman, 11 La. Ann. 497.

Massachusetts.— Lamson v. Knowles, 170 Mass. 295, 49 N. E. 440; Palmer v. Whitney, 166 Mass. 306, 44 N. E. 229; Loring v. Steineman, 1 Metc. 204.

Michigan.— Ernst v. Freeman, 129 Mich. 271, 88 N. W. 636, holding that where no order for a stay of the decree is had on appeal taken, the administrator will be protected if he makes distribution in good faith in accordance with the decree, although the time for appealing has not expired.

Mississippi.— Lowry v. McMillan, 35 Miss. 147, 72 Am. Dec. 119.

Missouri.—Young v. Thrasher, 48 Mo. App. 327.

New Jersey.— Sayre v. Sayre, 16 N. J. Eq. 505.

Pennsylvania.— Ferguson v. Yard, 164 Pa. St. 586, 30 Atl. 517; Charlton's Appeal, 88 Pa. St. 476; Stewart's Appeal, 86 Pa. St. 149 (holding that where an administrator in pursuance of a decree has paid over money to a distributee without notice of a bill of review he will be protected against loss should the court subsequently open and change the decree); In re Koch, 4 Rawle 268; Sutter's Estate, 23 Wkly. Notes Cas. 68; Woodward's Estate, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. 9.

Texas.— Johnson v. Wilcox, 53 Tex. 413.

United States.— Alexander v. Bryan, 110 U. S. 414, 4 Sup. Ct. 107, 28 L. ed. 195.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 1306, 1309. And see supra, XI, L, 4.

When the representative has received his share as distributee under a decree of the probate court, such property is no longer liable to a judgment rendered against him as representative. Ferguson v. Yard, 164 Pa. St. 586, 30 Atl. 517.

The remedy of a party deprived of his rights by the decree is not against the administrator, but against the distributees who have wrongfully received the estate. In their favor, as against the rightful claimant, the decree does not operate. Sayre v. Sayre, 16 N. J. Eq. 505; Exton v. Zule, 14 N. J. Eq. 501.

b. Lien. A decree making distribution subject to a certain claim against the estate, as may be done in some jurisdictions, creates a lien on the estate in the hands of the distributee to the amount of such claim.[45]

4. Enforcement of Decree. A decree of distribution may be enforced by an execution against the property of the representative, in the same manner as a judgment at law,[46] by a suit on his administration bond,[47] or, if necessary by reason of the representative's refusal or failure to comply with the decree after a demand, by proceedings for contempt.[48]

45. Finnerty v. Pennie, 100 Cal. 404, 34 Pac. 869, where a lien in favor of the administrator was thus created upon the estate.

An allotment to one distributee subject to a payment to another distributee to equalize the division creates a lien on the property allotted the first distributee to the amount of such payment. Gregory v. Hooker, 8 N. C. 394, 9 Am. Dec. 646.

In Washington, however, the court has no authority to decree a distribution of the estate subject to a lien for the compensation of the representative (In re Sour, 17 Wash. 675, 50 Pac. 587), or for money expended by him for the benefit of the estate (Huston v. Becker, 15 Wash. 586, 47 Pac. 10) as such payments should be made out of the estate before distribution is made.

A decree upon a bill for directions not fixing the amount due by the executor but directing him to pay off an estate when collected to certain general legatees after retaining a certain sum in his hands to pay counsel fees and allowances to himself under the will and another sum for a specific legatee is not such a final decree in money as to constitute a lien upon the property from the date of its rendition in favor of such general legatees. Hamberger v. Easter, 57 Ga. 71.

46. Alabama.— Browder v. Faulkner, 82 Ala. 257, 3 So. 30 (holding, however, that a decree in favor of several distributees jointly does not authorize the issuance of execution); Thompson v. Perryman, 45 Ala. 619.

Mississippi.— Isom v. McGehee, 45 Miss. 712; Torrence v. Kerr, 27 Miss. 786.

New York.—Peyser v. Wendt, 2 Dem. Surr. 221 (holding that such execution may run against the representative personally without notice to him or application to the surrogate); Joel v. Ritterman, 5 Redf. Surr. 136; Sherwood v. Judd, 3 Bradf. Surr. 419.

North Carolina.— Ellison v. Andrews, 34 N. C. 188.

Ohio.— McLaughlin v. McLaughlin, 4 Ohio St. 508, 64 Am. Dec. 603.

Oregon.— Rostel v. Morat, 19 Oreg. 181, 23 Pac. 900, holding that execution, and not contempt, is the proper proceeding to enforce a decree for money in probate proceedings.

Pennsylvania.— In re McIntosh, 158 Pa. St. 525, 27 Atl. 1042 (holding also that a rule to show cause must issue before execution can be issued); Philadelphia v. Brennan, 18 Pa. Co. Ct. 59.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1311.

Separate executions.— Where several legatees or distributees obtain a decree against the representative, the decree is several and each is entitled to a separate execution for each share. Ellison v. Andrews, 34 N. C. 188.

An order for execution issuing in favor of an infant distributee without the intervention of a guardian is erroneous. Green v. Fagan, 15 Ala. 335.

Execution by an administrator de bonis non.— Where a decree is made in a probate court in favor of several plaintiffs on a petition for a legacy, one of whom is the executor of a deceased legatee, and his executor dies before satisfaction or execution sued out, the right to the legacy of the deceased legatee vests in the administrator de bonis non, but he is not entitled to have execution until he has made himself a party either by scire facias or according to the course of the courts of equity. Ellison v. Andrews, 34 N. C. 188.

Form of citation.— A citation to an administrator calling upon him to show cause why judgment and execution should not be awarded against him for the distributive share of one in the estate must set out the previous proceedings had in the settlement of the estate. Welch v. Walker, 4 Port. (Ala.) 120.

47. See infra, XVII, E, 10.

48. California.— Clary's Estate, 112 Cal. 292, 44 Pac. 569; Melone v. Davis, 67 Cal. 279, 7 Pac. 703; Ex p. Cohn, 55 Cal. 193; Ex p. Smith, 53 Cal. 204.

Georgia.— See Everett v. Sparks, 107 Ga. 48, 32 S. E. 878, 73 Am. St. Rep. 107.

Illinois.— Under Rev. St. c. 3, § 115, the personal representative may be attached and imprisoned for failure or refusal to comply with an order of the court as to the payment of distributive shares after a demand therefor, as required by statute. Randolph v. People, 130 Ill. 533, 22 N. E. 615 [reversing 26 Ill. App. 241]; Piggott v. Ramey, 2 Ill. 145. The demand provided for can neither be dispensed with nor waived (Blake v. People, 161 Ill. 74, 43 N. E. 590; Haines v. People, 97 Ill. 161; Von Kettler v. Johnson, 57 Ill. 109) but it need not definitely state the amount due (Randolph v. People, 40 Ill. App. 174).

Mississippi.— Torrence v. Kerr, 27 Miss. 786; Vertner v. Martin, 10 Sm. & M. 103; Moore v. Adams County Probate Judge, Walk. 310.

New York.— Under Code of Civ. Proc. § 2555, failure of the representative to pay over a balance in his hands, in accordance with the decree of the surrogate's court and after demand therefor has been duly made, is a contempt of the court and is punishable as such by the imposition of a fine equal in

5. Restraining Enforcement. Upon a showing of fraud in procuring the decree or other grounds of equitable relief, an injunction may be granted restraining proceedings to enforce the decree;[49] but as the distribution of estates is greatly favored an injunction will not be granted where adequate relief can otherwise be obtained by the petitioner.[50]

6. Order For Partial Distribution.[51] A decree for partial distribution can be rendered only upon an application therefor,[52] and can only be made in favor of those who join in such application,[53] except where the application is made by the administrator himself;[54] and a separate decree should be rendered in favor of amount to the sum adjudged to be in his hands and by a commitment to jail until the same shall be paid. In re Snyder, 103 N. Y. 178, 8 N. E. 479 [affirming 34 Hun 302]; Matter of Holmes, 79 N. Y. App. Div. 267, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 687 [affirmed in 176 N. Y. 604, 68 N. E. 1118]; Matter of Waring, 1 N. Y. App. Div. 29, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 529; Saltus v. Saltus, 2 Lans. 9 (holding also that on return of the attachment the executor may show cause against his commitment); Matter of Kurtzman, 2 N. Y. St. 655; People v. Marshall, 7 Abb. N. Cas. 380; Sherwood v. Judd, 3 Bradf. Surr. 419 (holding this to be only an additional remedy to that of execution); Doran v. Dempsey, 1 Bradf. Surr. 490. See also Matter of Monell, 28 Misc. 1308, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 981; Rugg v. Jenks, 4 Dem. Surr. 105.

Oregon.—See Rostel v. Morat, 19 Oreg. 181, 23 Pac. 900, holding that under the statute (Hill Code, § 406) the probate court may enforce an order or decree other than one for the payment of money by punishing the party for contempt.

Washington.— McLaughlin v. Barnes, 12 Wash. 373, 41 Pac. 62.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1311. See also Contempt, 9 Cyc. 24.

A plea of insolvency and want of property of his own or belonging to the estate is no defense to an executor on an attachment against him for failure to pay a sum decreed on his final settlement. In re Snyder, 103 N. Y. 178, 8 N. E. 479 [affirming 34 Hun 302]; Joel v. Ritterman, 5 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 136.

An appeal lies to the circuit court from an order of the county court directing an administrator to pay over a specified sum of money on a claim allowed against an estate, within a given time, and the costs of the proceeding, and providing for his imprisonment in case of his failure to make such payment. Such order is a final judgment, as much as if an execution had been awarded. The manner of enforcing payment, whether by execution or attachment, does not affect the character of the order or decree. Randolph v. People, 130 Ill. 533, 22 N. E. 615.

Effect of appeal.— An attachment will not be granted against the personal representative for failure to obey the decree of distribution, where he has appealed from the decree and filed a bond as required by statute. Matter of Espie, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 270. Compare Matter of Holmes, 79 N. Y. App. Div. 267, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 687 [affirmed in 176 N. Y. 604, 68 N. E. 1118], holding that where an executor, on appealing from a final decree directing him to pay certain legacies, gave the undertaking for costs required by Code Civ. Proc. § 2577, but not the undertaking required by section 2578 for staying execution, the respondents could enforce the decree, as if it had not been appealed from, and were not limited to enforcing it by execution.

Credit should be allowed the representative in such proceedings for moneys paid by him to a distributee on account of his legacy prior to the making of the decree and for which through his inadvertence he was not credited in his final account. Matter of Schweibert, 25 Misc. (N. Y.) 464, 55 N. Y. Suppl. 649.

49. Blackburn v. Craufurd, 22 Md. 447; Fairly v. Thompson, 34 Miss. 101, holding that where residuary legatees take advantage of a mistake in the executor's inventory, by joining in their petition for distribution other parties without their consent and imposing a fraud upon the court, the executor may obtain an injunction to stay proceedings under the decree.

Pleading.— But an administrator cannot enjoin the execution of a decree for distribution, on the ground that before his final settlement he had paid off and discharged the amounts due defendants as distributees, in the absence of any averment in his bill that such payments were not examined and allowed or rejected on his formal accounting. Gaillard v. Thomas, 61 Miss. 166.

50. Bates' Estate, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 545, 7 Ohio N. P. 625, holding that the probate court will not enjoin the distribution of a decedent's estate at the suit of his successor in title to the property on the ground that he holds a bond by which title is guaranteed, and therefore has a claim which will arise if title proves defective, as he has an adequate remedy at law.

51. When partial distribution may be made see supra, XI, E, 2.

52. Bludworth v. White, 42 Ala. 662, holding that where a probate court, upon application, appointed a day for an administrator to make final settlement, but turned it into a partial distribution, without any application for that purpose, either by the administrator or the distributees, and a decree was rendered in favor of the latter for their distributive shares the proceeding was without authority of law, and the decree void.

53. Harrison v. Meadors, 41 Ala. 274.

54. Harrison v. Meadors, 41 Ala. 274.

each distributee who applies for it.[55] This decree is conclusive only as to the funds then distributed,[56] and does not estop the distributee to assert that the representative had then other funds in his hands.[57]

Q. Reservation of Assets. Before making distribution of the whole or part of an estate, the personal representative is entitled or may be ordered to retain in his hands sufficient assets to meet contingent or disputed legacies,[58] or to meet claims against the estate which are disputed or not yet due,[59] or which are likely to arise in the future.[60] The amount to be reserved is fixed by law, or the court's just discretion, considering the circumstances.[61] If it becomes

55. Harrison v. Meadors, 41 Ala. 274.

If a joint decree is rendered against the administrator, in favor of the several distributees, for the sums ascertained to be due to them respectively and a decree for the wife's distributive share is rendered in favor of the husband, "in right of the wife, and for her use," these are mere irregularities, which will be considered on error as amended. Harrison v. Meadors, 41 Ala. 274.

Decree of partial distribution to legatees.— It is better practice, in making an order for partial distribution to legatees, to specify in the order the sum of money to be paid to each legatee, and the amount of the collateral inheritance tax to be deducted therefrom; and it is erroneous not to deduct therefrom payments made previously thereon by the executors, and which were admitted to have been received by the legatees. In re Mitchell, 121 Cal. 391, 53 Pac. 810.

56. Kline's Appeal, 86 Pa. St. 363; Pepper's Estate, 13 Pa. Co. Ct. 407; Guenther's Appeal, 4 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 41.

57. State v. Berning, 6 Mo. App. 105.

58. Ing v. Baltimore Assoc., 21 Md. 426; Petrie v. Voorhees, 18 N. J. Eq. 285; In re Denike, 3 Silv. Supreme (N. Y.) 291, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 450; Auburn Theological Seminary v. Cole, 20 Barb. (N. Y.) 321; In re Hall, [1903] 2 Ch. 226, 72 L. J. Ch. 554, 88 L. T. Rep. N. S. 619, 51 Wkly. Rep. 529.

Partial distribution.— In permitting a partial distribution of an estate, a share in which is claimed by one whose right as a legatee under the will has not been determined, if, in the opinion of the court enough of the estate would not remain after the proposed distribution to satisfy the claim, it should order a sufficient sum to be set apart and invested under the direction of the court to abide the event. Gable's Appeal, 40 Pa. St. 231.

In Pennsylvania the personal representative is allowed to retain a fund in his hands, if exposed to a suit for a devastavit in those entitled under a will on the principle of quia timet. Sims v. Chew, 15 Serg. & R. 197.

59. Linton v. Crosby, 61 Iowa 401, 16 N. W. 342; Pehan's Succession, 5 La. Ann. 304; George's Succession, 4 La. Ann. 223; Hoyt v. Bonnett, 50 N. Y. 538; Field v. Field, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 160 (holding that the reservation can be only for claims against the estate and not for those against the representative personally); Johnson v. Mills, 1 Ves. 282, 27 Eng. Reprint 1033.

The retention of assets to meet an unliquidated demand against the estate is not the right of the executor, but rests in the discretion of the probate court. Ing v. Baltimore Assoc., 21 Md. 426.

Taxes.— A representative who pays legacies, when he should reserve the money for taxes, cannot have relief from the courts. McMahon v. Sullivan, 14 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 405.

Where a claimant makes no effort to enforce his claim which is disputed, the probate court, on entering a final decree on an administrator's accounting, will not direct him to retain the amount of the disputed claim (Matter of Rasch, 26 Misc. (N. Y.) 459, 55 N. Y. Suppl. 434, 28 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 98), but it is otherwise if the claimant makes an effort and his failure to sue was because of the non-residence of the administrator, and his refusal to make a voluntary appearance (Matter of Rasch, supra).

Alternative order pending appeal.— When the decision of the commissioner of internal revenue imposing a tax on a legacy is in dispute, and the accountant wishes to make distribution without payment of the legacy tax, the auditing judge may make an alternative order that the legatees secure the accountant in case the decision of the commissioner be sustained, or, failing that, that the accountant retain a fund sufficient to defray the tax, if it shall be finally held to be demandable. Fitzpatrick's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 88.

Nature of claim.—Executors are not bound, in distributing their testator's estate, to retain assets in their hands to meet a liability of which they have notice unless the liability amounts to a debt. Whittaker v. Kershaw, 45 Ch. D. 320, 60 L. J. Ch. 9, 63 L. T. Rep. N. S. 203, 39 Wkly. Rep. 23.

60. Field v. Field, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 160.

An order of distribution on an annual not a final settlement should leave a margin in the representative's hands for later expenses. Peters v. Clendenin, 12 Mo. App. 521.

Anticipated costs of litigation on a claim against the estate cannot be reserved for under 3 N. Y. Rev. St. [6th ed.] p. 104, § 89, providing for the reservation of assets to meet claims against the estate. Field v. Field, 2 Redf. Surr. 160.

61. Linton's Succession, 31 La. Ann. 130 (holding that an executor in filing his account has no right to reserve an amount in blank for discharging the necessary remaining expenses of closing the succession as the unnecessary to dispose of such assets for the purpose for which they were reserved, the representative must account for them as assets of the estate to the person entitled to receive them.[62]

R. Liability to Refund on Deficiency of Assets[63]— 1. In General. As a general rule, in the absence of a statute, where a personal representative makes voluntary distribution of a balance or settles legacies in full, he cannot maintain an action at law against the distributees or legatees to compel a refunding upon an insufficiency of assets in his hands for debts or claims,[64] except where a special promise to refund has been made,[65] or a refunding bond has been given.[66] Nor in the absence of a statute has the probate court jurisdiction to compel a legatee or distributee to refund.[67] Equity, however, will usually give relief and compel the legatee or distributee to refund his pro rata share of the deficiency, in proportion to the amount he has received from the estate,[68] although no refunding law fixes the amount); Grigg's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 23.

62. Wells v. Mitchell, 39 Miss. 800 (holding that if, in a partial voluntary settlement between an executor and the heir, funds are left in the hands of the former to pay certain legacies in the will which are illegal, the funds so retained continue to be assets in his hands, and, on his failure to pay the illegal legacies, he will be liable to account for them to the heir); Thompson v. Thompson, 70 N. Y. App. Div. 242, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 401 (holding him liable to account as representative only).

63. Liability of heirs or distributees for debts of intestate see DESCENT AND DISTRIBUTION, 14 Cyc. 184 et seq.

Liability of legatees and devisees for debts of testator see, generally, WILLS.

64. Indiana.— Egbert v. Rush, 7 Ind. 706.

Maryland.— Somervell v. Somervell, 3 Gill 276, 43 Am. Dec. 340; Turner v. Egerton, 1 Gill & J. 430, 19 Am. Dec. 235.

Mississippi.— Turner v. Chambers, 10 Sm. & M. 308, 48 Am. Dec. 751.

New York.— In re Hodgman, 140 N. Y. 421, 35 N. E. 660 [affirming 69 Hun 484, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 725]. See also Underhill v. Rodwell, 18 N. Y. App. Div. 361, 46 N. Y. Suppl. 22.

Pennsylvania.—Weiser's Appeal, 18 Pa. St. 423. See also Miller v. Hulme, 126 Pa. St. 277, 17 Atl. 587.

England.— Johnson v. Johnson, 3 B. & P. 162, 6 Rev. Rep. 736; Coppin v. Coppin, 2 P. Wms. 291, 24 Eng. Reprint 735.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1319.

Void legacies.— The rule that an executor who pays a legacy must bear the loss when it subsequently appears that the assets are not sufficient to justify payment and that he cannot compel the legatee to refund does not apply to payment of legacies which are subsequently declared void by the courts, and in such cases the legatees will be compelled to refund, and will not be relieved by the fact that the executor would be protected from personal liability for such payment. Carter v. Board of Education, 68 Hun (N. Y.) 435, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 95 [affirmed in 144 N. Y. 621, 39 N. E. 628].

In Michigan under Howell St. § 5820, providing for proceedings at law or in equity for a contribution, as supplementary to the probate decree therein provided for, such proceeding if at law must be against the parties liable to contribution severally, but if in equity may be against them jointly. Frost v. Atwood, 73 Mich. 67, 41 N. W. 96, 16 Am. St. Rep. 560. A decree for contribution by devisees and legatees in payment of debts and other liabilities of the estate, under this statute, is no more than a personal judgment, enforceable by execution. Frost v. Atwood, supra.

65. Gibbs v. Clagett, 2 Gill & J. (Md.) 14; Norwood v. O'Neal, 112 N. C. 127, 16 S. E. 759.

66. See infra, XI, R, 2.

67. Clinton's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 455, 24 Pa. Co. Ct. 218; Wheeler's Estate, 4 Pa. Dist. 265, 36 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 296; Leavens' Estate, 65 Wis. 440, 27 N. W. 324. See also Frost v. Atwood, 73 Mich. 67, 41 N. W. 96, 16 Am. St. Rep. 560.

In New York the surrogate has no jurisdiction upon the final accounting of a representative to compel a legatee or distributee to restore the amount of an overpayment, although it may determine the fact and extent of such overpayment in ascertaining the amount of the distributive shares. Lang v. Stringer, 144 N. Y. 275, 39 N. E. 363 [reversing 67 Hun 107, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 44]; In re Underhill, 117 N. Y. 471, 22 N. E. 1120; Lang v. Housell, 21 N. Y. Suppl. 102, 29 Abb. N. Cas. 117, 1 Pow. Surr. 243.

68. Cutright v. Stanford, 81 Ill. 240; Zollickoffer v. Seth, 44 Md. 359; McClung v. Sieg, 54 W. Va. 467, 46 S. E. 210, 66 L. R. A. 884; Johnson v. Johnson, 3 B. & P. 162, 6 Rev. Rep. 736; Doe v. Guy, 3 East 120, 4 Esp. 154, 6 Rev. Rep. 563. And see the cases cited in the following notes.

Liability for interest or income.— A legatee or distributee, when called upon to refund, will not be charged with interest prior to the demand (Fripp v. Talbird, 1 Hill Eq. (S. C.) 142) unless he is entitled to other funds, making interest in the hands of the court (Gittins v. Steele, 1 Swanst. 199, 18 Rev. Rep. 57, 36 Eng. Reprint 356), nor is he liable for any intermediate income (Jervis v. Wolferstan, L. R. 18 Eq. 18, 43 L. J. Ch. 809, 30 L. T. Rep. N. S. 452). But a re-bond has been given,[69] where the representative acted in good faith and with due care and diligence in making the payments or distribution, honestly believing the assets sufficient, and the deficiency was caused by no fault on his part,[70] as where siduary legatee, receiving the estate or any part of it from the executor, with a knowledge that the other legacies have not been paid or provided for, may be required to refund, with interest, to the same extent to which the executor is liable to the other legatees. Stephenson v. Axson, Bailey Eq. (S. C.) 269.

A decree against several distributees for a refunding should not be several, but should be joint, requiring each to pay pro rata. Cutright v. Stanford, 81 Ill. 240.

Lien upon devised land for contribution.— Equity will not decree a lien upon devised land, for the purchase-price paid on its sale by an executor to enforce a decree of the probate court for contribution by the devisee toward the payment of the testator's debts, even though the money was used by the executor for that purpose, such sale being void. Frost v. Atwood, 73 Mich. 67, 41 N. W. 96, 16 Am. St. Rep. 560.

69. Alabama.—Alexander v. Fisher, 18 Ala. 374.

Illinois.— Cutright v. Stanford, 81 Ill. 240.

Indiana.— Smith v. Smith, 76 Ind. 236.

Kentucky.— Hooser v. Hooser, 3 Ky. L. Rep. 796.

New Jersey.— See Harris v. White, 5 N. J. L. 422.

North Carolina.— Pullen v. Hutchins, 67 N. C. 428; Stack v. Williams, 56 N. C. 13; Marsh v. Scarboro, 17 N. C. 551, 27 Am. Dec. 248.

Pennsylvania.— Saegar v. Wilson, 4 Watts & S. 501.

70. Alabama.— Moore v. Lesueur, 33 Ala. 237; Alexander v. Fisher, 18 Ala. 374.

Arkansas.— See Ross v. Davis, 17 Ark. 113.

Illinois.— Cutright v. Stanford, 81 Ill. 240.

Indiana.— Smith v. Smith, 76 Ind. 236.

Kentucky.—Caldwell v. Kinkead, 1 B. Mon. 228.

Maryland.— Zollickoffer v. Seth, 44 Md. 359; Buchanan v. Pue, 6 Gill 112; Somervell v. Somervell, 3 Gill 276, 43 Am. Dec. 340; Turner v. Egerton, 1 Gill & J. 430, 19 Am. Dec. 235.

Massachusetts.— Sheldon v. Kirkland, 8 Gray 531.

Michigan.— See Frost v. Atwood, 73 Mich. 67, 41 N. W. 96, 16 Am. St. Rep. 560.

New Jersey.— See Harris v. White, 5 N. J. L. 422.

New York.— In re Hodgman, 140 N. Y. 421, 35 N. E. 660 [affirming 69 Hun 484, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 725]. And see Harvard College v. Quinn, 3 Redf. Surr. 514.

North Carolina.— The representative to compel a refunding in such cases must allege and prove special circumstances showing that he was in no default in not completing the settlement before making the payment or distribution. Lowery v. Perry, 85 N. C. 131; Bumpass v. Chambers, 77 N. C. 357; Donnell v. Cooke, 63 N. C. 227; Lambert v. Hobson, 56 N. C. 424; Alexander v. Fox, 55 N. C. 106, 62 Am. Dec. 211; Marsh v. Scarboro, 17 N. C. 551, 27 Am. Dec. 248. An administrator, against whom a judgment was recovered after he had delivered over the property of his intestate to the distributees, may recover from them each the ratable part of such debt, when it appears that the intestate was only surety for the debt recovered, and that at the time of such delivery the principal was solvent; but the solvent distributees will not be required to pay the ratable parts of the insolvent ones. Clark v. Williams, 70 N. C. 679.

Tennessee.— See Robinson v. Rutherford County Ct., 8 Humphr. 374.

Virginia.— Davis v. Newman, 2 Rob. 664, 40 Am. Dec. 764; Gallego v. Atty.-Gen., 3 Leigh 450; Miller v. Rice, 1 Rand. 438; Burnley v. Lambert, 1 Wash. 308. See also Lewis v. Overby, 31 Gratt. 601. Where, without fraud or collusion, a decree is rendered by a court of competent jurisdiction against an executor, he may bring his suit in equity against the legatees for contribution to satisfy such decree, without first paying the money himself, or appealing from the decree against him, although requested and advised to do so. Bower v. Glendening, 4 Munf. 219.

West Virginia.—McClung v. Sieg, 54 W. Va. 467, 46 S. E. 210, 66 L. R. A. 884; McEndree v. Morgan, 31 W. Va. 521, 8 S. E. 285; Shriver v. Garrison, 30 W. Va. 456, 4 S. E. 660; Anderson v. Piercy, 20 W. Va. 282.

England.—Whittaker v. Kershaw, 45 Ch. D. 320, 60 L. J. Ch. 9, 63 L. T. Rep. N. S. 203, 39 Wkly. Rep. 23; Jervis v. Wolferstan, L. R. 18 Eq. 18, 43 L. J. Ch. 809, 30 L. T. Rep. N. S. 452; Rowe v. Thorpe, 1 Jur. 771; Edwards v. Freeman, 2 P. Wms. 435, 24 Eng. Reprint 803; Anonymous, 1 P. Wms. 495, 24 Eng. Reprint 487. See also Davis v. Davis, Dick. 32, 21 Eng. Reprint 178.

Basis of suit.— The claim which can furnish a basis for an action to compel a legatee or distributee to refund must be allowed in the probate court or established by proper proceedings elsewhere, as a liability of the estate involved. White v. Hepp, 6 Mart. (La.) 704; Brinkworth v. Hazlett, 64 Nebr. 592, 90 N. W. 537; Whittaker v. Kershaw, 45 Ch. D. 320, 60 L. J. Ch. 9, 63 L. T. Rep. N. S. 203, 39 Wkly. Rep. 23.

Parties.— In a suit in equity against a distributee for contribution, all distributees within the jurisdiction of the court should be made parties (McClung v. Sieg, 54 W. Va. 467, 46 S. E. 210, 66 L. R. A. 884), except those who have refunded their respective proportions of the deficiency (Alexander v. Fisher, 18 Ala. 374). Unsatisfied creditors may be made parties in a bill for restitution against a residuary legatee, who is also a devisee of land charged with the payment of debts (Caldwell v. Kinkead, 1 B. Mon. (Ky.)

he was compelled to make payment or distribution under an order of court,[71] or where the legatees or distributees were guilty of fraud or misrepresentation in procuring the payment or distribution.[72] But even equity will not grant relief if the assets were originally sufficient, and the deficiency is caused by the representative's neglect, waste, or bad faith.[73]

2. Liabilities and Actions on Refunding Bond or Other Indemnity — a. In General. The liability of a legatee or distributee upon a refunding bond or other written indemnity depends of course upon the conditions of the instrument and varies accordingly,[74] his usual liability being only for his pro rata share of 228), but not where the devise of a residuary legatee and the residuary bequest are not charged with the payment of the testator's debts (Caldwell v. Kinkead, supra). Where all the distributees are not within the jurisdiction of the court the representative may sue such of them as are within the reach of the court's process, and if all of them are non-residents he can attach such property in the state as is subject to an attachment in equity. McClung v. Sieg, supra.

Laches or lapse of time may bar the representative's suit in equity for a refunding. Drayton v. Drayton, 1 Desauss. (S. C.) 557; Robertson v. Archer, 5 Rand. (Va.) 319.

An executor who receives money as residuary legatee cannot maintain a bill in equity against a specific legatee to compel him to refund pro rata money paid to him in satisfaction of his legacy, on account of expenses incurred subsequently to the payment of such legacy, where it appears that he has received as residuary legatee more than the entire amount of the expenses so incurred. White v. Easters, 38 Ala. 154.

71. Davis v. Vansands, 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,655, 45 Conn. 600; Lang v. Stringer, 144 N. Y. 275, 39 N. E. 363 [reversing 67 Hun 107, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 447]; Stack v. Williams, 56 N. C. 13; Newman v. Barton, 2 Vern. 205, 23 Eng. Reprint 733; Noel v. Robinson, 2 Ch. Cas. 145, 22 Eng. Reprint 887, 2 Ch. Rep. 248, 21 Eng. Reprint 670, 1 Vern. 90, 23 Eng. Reprint 334, 2 Vent. 358.

72. White's Estate, 1 Pa. Dist. 508; Gallen's Estate, 8 Pa. Co. Ct. 37; Stephenson v. Axson, Bailey Eq. (S. C.) 274.

73. Alabama.— Moore v. Lesueur, 33 Ala. 237.

Georgia.— Demere v. Scranton, 8 Ga. 43.

Michigan.— Breining v. Schneider, 46 Mich. 385, 9 N. W. 441.

New York.—In re Hodgman, 140 N. Y. 421, 35 N. E. 660 [affirming 69 Hun 484, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 725]; Lupton v. Lupton, 2 Johns. Ch. 614.

South Carolina.— Ex p. Boyd, 8 Rich. Eq. 166; McLure v. Askew, 5 Rich. Eq. 162.

West Virginia.— McEndree v. Morgan, 31 W. Va. 521, 8 S. E. 285.

England.—Whittaker r. Kershaw, 45 Ch. D. 320, 60 L. J. Ch. 9, 63 L. T. Rep. N. S. 203, 39 Wkly. Rep. 23; Jervis v. Wolferstan, L. R. 18 Eq. 18, 43 L. J. Ch. 809, 30 L. T. Rep. N. S. 452 (holding that notice of a remote contingent liability on the part of a testator is not sufficient to prevent his executor from distributing his residuary estate; and if the executor distributes with such notice and the liability afterward ripens into a debt, he will be entitled to call on the residuary legatees to refund); Peterson v. Peterson, L. R. 3 Eq. 111, 36 L. J. Ch. 101, 15 Wkly. Rep. 204; Anonymous, 1 P. Wms. 495, 24 Eng. Reprint 487.

Waste of co-executor.— If a legacy to an executor be of equal grade with those of other legatees, and because of the waste of a co-executor who has died the assets are insufficient to pay all the legacies, the executor can only retain his due proportion of his legacy. Atcheson v. Robertson, 4 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 39.

Where the debt due is that of the representative himself, his own knowledge of the debt or claim when he paid the legatee or distributee hinders his remedy to obtain a refund. Lang v. Howell, 21 N. Y. Suppl. 102, 29 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 117, Pow. Surr. (N. Y.) 243.

74. See Springsteen v. Samson, 32 N. Y. 703.

Legal costs and charges against the estate afterward incurred in the settlement of the same is within the terms of a bond reciting that the distributees would save the administrator harmless from all "debts, dues, demands and claims now due, or to grow due hereafter." Springsteen v. Samson, 32 N. Y. 703.

Claims of legatees are demands against the estate covered by the condition of a refunding bond, to secure the repayment of a sum paid in distribution, "to discharge any debt or demand against the estate where executors shall not have other assets to pay." Allwein v. Werntz, 7 Pa. Cas. 44, 9 Atl. 925.

A writing of indemnity other than a bond may be duly enforced, whether under seal or not, the benefit conferred by the early receipt of money furnishing a sufficient consideration for the promise. Lowery v. Perry, 85 N. C. 131. But an action upon a promise by a distributee to indemnify an administrator for any advance made in excess of his share is not maintainable where the administrator has resigned without an allowance for the sum advanced in his final account, and his successor has paid to the distributee such an amount that the distributive share exceeds that sum. Stone v. Bancroft, 108 Mass. 98.

Liability of purchaser from distributee, upon latter's promise and failure to give bond. — Johnston v. Howell, 57 N. C. 87.

A promise to refund given to an administrator by one to whom he paid his distributive the deficiency of assets to pay subsequently discovered debts of the estate,[75] not exceeding the value of property which the legatee or distributee has received from the estate without interest.[76] Whether there is a deficiency of assets and the extent thereof can only be determined by a settlement in the probate court,[77] and therefore until such settlement has been made the obligor in the bond cannot be held liable thereon.[78]

b. Actions — (i) In General. The right to maintain an action on a refunding bond depends upon the terms of the statute providing therefor. It has been held that such action may be maintained by the creditors themselves,[79] or by the representative for their benefit.[80] The statute of limitations begins to run against an action on such a bond from the discovery of the deficiency of the assets and not from the date of the bond.[81] Scire facias, after a decree on a probate petition, issues on the refunding bond as a summary remedy at the instance of a creditor, under some statutes.[82]

(ii) Pleading and Proof.[83] In an action of debt by the representative on a refunding bond, he should aver and prove facts showing a breach of the condi-

share gives no cause of action to those who are rightly entitled to the money so paid, and the money can be recovered only by the administrator to whom the promise was made. Norwood v. O'Neal, 112 N. C. 127, 16 S. E. 759.

The value of the estate is no defense to a residuary legatee who has given the usual bond to pay all debts and legacies and has taken the estate and enjoyed it, when called upon to pay the outstanding legacies or debts, on the ground that the estate is less valuable than he had supposed; and he cannot claim his release on a surrender of the assets. Hatheway v. Weeks, 34 Mich. 237.

75. Lloyd v. Rowe, 20 N. J. L. 680, holding that a refunding bond conditioned for repayment by a legatee of so much as should be necessary to pay debts which the executor had no assets to meet entitled the executor to recover only for payment of subsequently discovered debts of decedent, and not for a balance due to the executor for commissions and expenses of administration, which were not named in the condition of the bond. See Johnston v. Howell, 57 N. C. 87.

A debt due by a legatee to outside parties is not covered by such bond, and if paid by the representative under an attachment of the legatee's interest cannot be recovered by the representative in an action against the legatee on the bond. Desmond v. Fisher, 152 Mass. 521, 25 N. E. 968.

76. McKinzie v. Smith, 3 N. C. 372. But see Ross v. Davis, 17 Ark. 113, holding that the extent of recovery from a specific legatee is the value of the specific legacy, where it consists of property, at the time of delivery, with interest therein, and not the increased value.

Right to discovery of amount received from the estate.— In an action on a refunding bond given by distributees, the sureties, if any, are entitled to discovery as to the amount that each of such distributees received from the estate. Fletcher v. Faust, 22 Ga. 559.

77. Neal v. Maxwell, 40 Miss. 726; Ratliff v. Davis, 38 Miss. 107.

78. Neal v. Maxwell, 40 Miss. 726; Ratliff v. Davis, 38 Miss. 107, holding that a court of equity will not, where a refunding bond has been given, set off against a claim of the obligor in the bond his pro rata share of a debt established against the estate, until a deficiency of assets and his consequent liability to refund has been established by the probate court.

79. Schaeffer's Appeal, 119 Pa. St. 640, 13 Atl. 507, holding that creditors have no remedy in case of a deficiency of assets except upon such bond.

80. Ross v. Davis, 17 Ark. 113; Chandler v. Morrison, 123 Ind. 254, 23 N. E. 160 (holding also that an action on the bond is not premature if brought after suit begun against the obligee and after proceeds of the estate in his hands, including the bond, are ordered to be turned over to the administrator and after the money has been demanded and refused); Lloyd v. Rowe, 20 N. J. L. 680; Henderson v. McAleer, 27 N. C. 632 (holding that the representative cannot for his own use recover the amount paid a legatee or distributee by an action on the refunding bond). See Robinson v. Rutherford County Ct., 8 Humphr. (Tenn.) 374, holding that no action lies at law for the benefit of the administrator under Code, § 2316 et seq., the bond being by the express terms of the act for the benefit of creditors of the estate, and the remedy of the administrator, upon recovery of judgment against him, being in equity.

81. Salisbury v. Black, 6 Harr. & J. (Md.) 293, 14 Am. Dec. 279.

82. Jenkins v. Wood, 144 Mass. 238, 10 N. E. 818; Chatham v. Boykin, 6 N. C. 301; Maxwell v. Smith, 86 Tenn. 539, 8 S. W. 340, holding that, where a plea of fully administered is found in favor of the representative, a summary remedy by scire facias is provided for by Code, § 2318, which may be resorted to by the creditor.

83. Where to a scire facias upon a refunding bond defendant pleaded that the debt recovered against the administrator was not justly due, and that the administrator fraudulently and collusively with plaintiff confessed the judgment, the burden of proof lies tions of the bond, as that he has given notice of debts to the legatee or distributee, that he had not or has not assets to pay such debts, that he has made a request for a return of so much of the legacy or distributive share as is necessary to discharge those debts in due proportion, and that the amount requested is unpaid;[84] and should demand judgment for the exact amount of the claim upon such legatee or distributee and no more.[85]

XII. SALES UNDER ORDER OF COURT.[86]

A. In General — Statutory Provisions. While at common law the real estate of a decedent was not subject to his debts,[87] nor was the personal representative authorized to sell the same in the absence of some testamentary provision authorizing him to do so,[88] statutes have been universally enacted providing for a sale of the realty of a decedent by his executor or administrator by the license of and under the supervision of the courts when the circumstances of the case render such a course necessary.[89] In order for a sale to be authorized under on defendant to verify his plea by proof of the fraud, otherwise judgment must be rendered against him on the scire facias. Chatham v. Boykin, 6 N. C. 301.

84. Chandler v. Morrison, 123 Ind. 254, 23 N. E. 160; Lloyd v. Rowe, 20 N. J. L. 680; Moss v. Moss, 4 Hen. & M. (Va.) 293.

The general averment "that the executor had not and hath not other assets to pay" is sufficient; and it is not necessary to aver that there were no other legacies to abate. Lloyd v. Rowe, 20 N. J. L. 680.

85. Lowery v. Perry, 85 N. C. 131.

86. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d.

Sale of personalty under testamentary authority or common-law power see supra, VIII, P, 2.

Judicial sales generally see JUDICIAL SALES.

A mortgage is in effect a sale. Wallace v. Grant, 27 Wash. 130, 67 Pac. 578. And throughout this section no distinction is made between proceedings for sale and proceedings to mortgage the realty unless some special matter makes such distinction necessary.

87. See supra, III, C, 1; and Schouler Ex. § 509.

88. See supra, VIII, O, 9, a.

89. Alabama.— Woods v. Legg, 91 Ala. 511, 8 So. 342; Hall v. Hall, 47 Ala. 290. See also Wyman v. Campbell, 6 Port. 219, 31 Am. Dec. 677.

Georgia.— Harwell v. Foster, 102 Ga. 38, 28 S. E. 967. See also Wellborn v. Rogers, 24 Ga. 558.

Louisiana.— See Davis v. Gaines, 104 U. S. 386, 26 L. ed. 757.

Maine.— Nowell v. Nowell, 8 Me. 220.

Maryland.— Waring v. Waring, 2 Bland 673.

Massachusetts.— Crouch v. Eveleth, 12 Mass. 503; Drinkwater v. Drinkwater, 4 Mass. 354.

Mississippi.— Hargrove v. Baskin, 50 Miss. 194; Adams v. Harris, 47 Miss. 144.

Montana.— State v. Second Judicial Dist. Ct., 24 Mont. 1, 60 Pac. 489, lease.

New Mexico.— Albuquerque First Nat. Bank v. Lee, 8 N. M. 589, 45 Pac. 1114.

New York.— Bridgewater v. Brookfield, 3 Cow. 299.

North Carolina.— Waugh v. Blevins, 68 N. C. 167.

Pennsylvania.— Freker v. Berg, 193 Pa. St. 442, 44 Atl. 580.

South Carolina.— Perry v. Brown, 1 Bailey 45.

Tennessee.— See Dulles v. Read, 6 Yerg. 53.

Texas.— Bartley v. Harris, 70 Tex. 181, 7 S. W. 797; Williams v. San Saba County, 59 Tex. 442.

Washington.— Wallace v. Grant, 27 Wash. 130, 67 Pac. 578.

England.— See Tulloch v. Tulloch, L. R. 3 Eq. 574; Curtis v. Price, 12 Ves. Jr. 89, 8 Rev. Rep. 303, 33 Eng. Reprint 35; Holme v. Stanley, 8 Ves. Jr. 2, 32 Eng. Reprint 249.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 558, 1332½; and Schouler Ex. § 511.

Power of courts discretionary.— Nowell v. Nowell, 8 Me. 220; In re Allen, 15 Mass. 58.

A statute providing that the representative shall not be required to sell any property other than that of a perishable nature belonging to the estate of any decedent does not prohibit the probate court from ordering a sale of the property of an estate on the petition or application of the administrator. Alexander v. Maverick, 18 Tex. 179, 67 Am. Dec. 693.

Statute not applicable to decree of sale passed before it went into effect. Johnson v. Futrell, 86 N. C. 122.

What statute governs.— The Pennsylvania act of April 18, 1853, relating to the sale of estates of decedents, does not apply where a petition is filed in the orphans' court by an executor or administrator for an order of sale for the payment of debts. Kiskaddon v. Dodds, 21 Pa. Super. Ct. 351.

Under the Alabama act of 1818 the authority to make a sale was not restricted to cases of intestate estates, but applied to the estate of any deceased person. King v. Kent, 29 Ala. 542.

Assent of secretary of war.— The Texas acts of May 18, 1838, and Dec. 24, 1838, requiring the assent of the secretary of war such a statute it must be shown that the circumstances are such as are contemplated by the statute,[90] and in obtaining an order for sale and making the sale, the statutory method of procedure must be complied with.[91] With regard to personalty, modern statutes, as has been seen, sometimes curtail the representative's common-law power of sale, and require him to obtain an order of court authorizing a sale.[92]

B. When Authorized — 1. In General. The court may usually direct the sale of personal property which is of a perishable nature, or a sale which is necessary for its preservation,[93] and in some jurisdictions a sale of either realty or personalty may be authorized or directed where this is necessary for the general purposes of administration or where it is apparent that such course is for the best interest of the estate,[94] but in order to justify an order for the sale of realty it to the sale of land belonging to the estate of a deceased soldier and sixty days' notice thereof had no application to the estates of citizen soldiers. Templeton v. Ferguson, 89 Tex. 47, 33 S. W. 329.

Lien created by proceedings for sale.— Proceedings by the representative to sell decedent's realty to pay his debts create a lien superior to any that may thereafter attach against the estate at the instance of creditors of an heir. Carter v. Carter, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 718.

Statute not retroactive.— The California act of March 23, 1893, providing that an order to sell realty might be granted to an administrator when it appeared to be for the best interest of the estate, although there were no debts or liens, did not apply to the real estate of a decedent who died in 1891 leaving no debts or liens. Packer's Estate, 125 Cal. 396, 58 Pac. 59, 73 Am. St. Rep. 58.

In the absence of statute chancery has not jurisdiction to decree their sale at suit of a creditor, unless he has some specific lien thereon or right therein. It is only by virtue of the statute making such real estate assets that it may be sold for creditors. McPike v. Wells, 54 Miss. 136.

90. Gardner v. Craddock, 4 Bush (Ky.) 370; Powell v. Felton, 33 N. C. 469; Krug's Estate, 13 York Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 95.

A power to authorize an exchange should be exercised with extreme caution, and where all the parties in interest except the petitioner are adverse to such exchange and show good reasons for their opposition it should not be ordered. Miller's Estate, 16 Pa. Co. Ct. 449.

Statutory conditions the same whether representative or creditor applies for sale.—Matter of Meagley, 39 N. Y. App. Div. 83, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 503.

Delay in applying for letters of administration may under statute preclude a sale of realty, the title to which has passed to a bona fide purchaser. See Fonda v. Chapman, 23 Hun (N. Y.) 119.

91. Wills v. Pauly, 116 Cal. 575, 48 Pac. 709 (holding that Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1469, which provides that, when the estate of a decedent who left a widow and children does not exceed fifteen hundred dollars, the court shall set apart the whole estate to the widow and children, subject only to certain expenses, does not validate an administrator's sale of land by order of the court to pay such expenses, without following the proceedings prescribed by tit. 11, c. 7, art. 4, § 1536 et seq., although the whole estate of which the land is a part has been set aside to the widow and children); Long v. Long, 142 N. Y. 545, 37 N. E. 486; Hogan v. Kavanaugh, 138 N. Y. 417, 34 N. E. 292; Kingsland v. Murray, 133 N. Y. 170, 30 N. E. 845; Moser v. Cochrane, 107 N. Y. 35, 13 N. E. 442; Matter of Meagley, 39 N. Y. App. Div. 83, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 503. See infra, XII, G.

92. See supra, VIII, P, 2, a, (I), (B).

93. Adkinson v. Wright, 46 Ala. 598. See also Joslin v. Caughlin, 26 Miss. 134, holding that the probate court has no right to direct the sale of property bequeathed unless necessary for the preservation of it.

94. California.— In re Leonis, 138 Cal. 194, 71 Pac. 171.

Maine.— See In re Snow, 96 Me. 570, 53 Atl. 116.

Maryland.—Crawford v. Blackburn, 19 Md. 40.

Minnesota.— Deppe v. Ford, 89 Minn. 253, 94 N. W. 679.

Mississippi.— Joslin v. Caughlin, 26 Miss. 134.

New York.— In re Rich, 2 N. Y. Suppl. 176; Matter of Cogswell, 4 Redf. Surr. 241.

North Carolina.— McMillan v. Reeves, 102 N. C. 550, 9 S. E. 449; Hinton v. Powell, 54 N. C. 230.

Pennsylvania.— McAlpin's Estate, 1 Phila. 440; Rhoades' Estate, 4 Wkly. Notes Cas. 527.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1333.

But compare Bompart v. Lucas, 21 Mo. 598.

Sale of notes and accounts.— Where notes and accounts due the succession are numerous and small in amount, and constitute, as it were, a mass of bad debts, the discretion of the judge of probate in ordering their sale at public auction will be considered as legally and properly exercised. Pool's Succession, 14 La. Ann. 677.

Where one of the joint purchasers of real estate dies, a proceeding to sell the lands to equalize the payments does not fall within the rules applicable to cases of sale for partition and for the payment of debts, in relation to the necessary proof, account, etc. Rankin v. Black, 1 Head (Tenn.) 650.

Pending a contest over the probate of a must be shown that the sale is necessary for some authorized purpose.[95] It has been held that a sale of realty may be ordered to provide the support to which the widow and children are entitled under statute in case the personalty is insufficient.[96]

2. For Payment of Debts — a. In General. The most usual object for which the statutes authorize the court to order a sale of decedent's realty is for the payment of his debts,[97] but the sale should be ordered to be made for the payment of will or the grant of letters of administration, the person in whose charge the personalty of the deceased has been placed will be generally allowed to sell that portion of the assets which may be necessary for the preservation and benefit of the estate. Public Administrator v. Burdell, 4 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 252.

When sale of judgment not proper.—Where several persons, as heirs and legal representatives of a succession under administration, are the owners in indivision of a judgment from which a devolutive appeal is pending, the sale of the judgment will not be ordered to effect a partition, on the application of one of the coöwners, opposed by the others, when it does not appear that the administrator of the succession has made any effort to execute the judgment, especially in a case where the sale would inure to the benefit of one only of the co-proprietors, and to the detriment of the others. Rochereau v. Maignan, 32 La. Ann. 45.

Estates of deceased soldiers — Consent of heirs see Harris v. Graves, 26 Tex. 577.

Unreasonable withholding of consent.— Where the price offered for real estate of decedent is advantageous, and the rights of the only objecting party in interest, if he has any, will not be affected by the sale, the withholding of his consent is unreasonable and a sale will be ordered, since an unreasonable withholding of consent is one of the grounds upon which a sale may be decreed under section 5 of the Pennsylvania act of April 27, 1855. Goddard's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 703.

When order of sale properly refused.— It is the duty of the administrator to ascertain the nature and extent of the assets of the succession before he attempts to sell them by an indefinite description of the rights and interests of the succession in lands and debts, and an order of sale under such description will be refused, although the sale has been advised by a family meeting, for if the decedent had no rights the sale would be a fraud upon the purchasers, while if he had rights the vagueness of their description would necessarily operate to the injury of the minor heirs. Boudreaux's Succession, 6 La. Ann. 78.

95. In re Snow, 96 Me. 570, 53 Atl. 116; Gross v. Howard, 52 Me. 192; Newcomb v. Smith, 5 Ohio 447 (holding that a sale of an intestate's real estate, made by an administrator upon a joint application with guardians, not to pay debts, but to maintain children and improve the property, is not valid); Flanagan v. Pierce, 27 Tex. 78 (holding that the court is not authorized to decree a sale, except to pay debts or for the purpose of partition, when, by report of the commissioners in partition, it is shown that the land cannot be equitably divided). See also Brookfield v. Bradley, Jac. 632, 4 Eng. Ch. 632. And see infra, XII, B, 2–4.

Law in force at time of decedent's death.— The court has no power to order the sale of real property after the title has vested in the heirs, except for the purposes provided by the law in force at the time of the death of the ancestor. In re Roach, 139 Cal. 17, 72 Pac. 393; Packer's Estate, 125 Cal. 396, 58 Pac. 59, 73 Am. St. Rep. 58.

A license to accept an advantageous offer for the purchase of a decedent's real estate can be granted to the executor only where the court could under the statute grant a license to sell at auction to pay debts or legacies. In re Snow, 96 Me. 570, 53 Atl. 116.

The court may properly defer the sale of realty for the payment of debts where the life-tenant objects to the sale and the creditors express a willingness to wait pending arrangements for a mortgage, and it is alleged that a present sale would result in the sacrifice of the property. Woolman's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 205.

96. Newans v. Newans, 79 Iowa 32, 44 N. W. 213. See also Reinhardt v. Seaman, 208 Ill. 448, 69 N. E. 847, widow's award. Compare Newcomb v. Smith, 5 Ohio 447.

In Pennsylvania it has been held that the court may order a sale of the decedent's real estate to pay debts, maintain and educate children, etc., but not for the purpose of giving to the widow her statutory allowance. Lyman v. Byam, 38 Pa. St. 475. But see Heyer's Estate, 8 Kulp 107.

Where a widow elects to take her statutory allowance in real estate, such allowance becomes, after the confirmation of the report of the appraisers that the land cannot be divided without injury, a charge on it, and the orphans' court has power to enforce payment of the charge by a decree that it be made out of the lands by sale. Greenawalt's Estate, 16 Pa. Super. Ct. 263.

97. Alabama.—See Rainey v. McQueen, 121 Ala. 191, 25 So. 920; Price v. Wilkinson, 10 Ala. 172; Leavens v. Butler, 8 Port. 380.

Arkansas.— Mays v. Rogers, 52 Ark. 320, 12 S. W. 579.

California.— In re Freud, 131 Cal. 667, 63 Pac. 1080, 82 Am. St. Rep. 407; In re Brannan, (1897) 51 Pac. 320.

Connecticut.—Griswold v. Bigelow, 6 Conn. 258.

District of Columbia.— See Richardson v. Penicks, 1 App. Cas. 261.

Georgia.—Williams v. O'Neal, 119 Ga. 175, the debts of the decedent generally and not merely for the payment of a single 45 S. E. 978; Knapp v. Harris, 60 Ga. 398. See also Phillips v. James, 115 Ga. 425, 41 S. E. 663.

Illinois.— Sutton v. Read, 176 Ill. 69, 51 N. E. 801; Moline Water Power, etc., Co. v. Webster, 26 Ill. 233; Virgin v. Virgin, 91 Ill. App. 188 [affirmed in 189 Ill. 144, 59 N. E. 586].

Indiana.— Jarrell v. Brubaker, 150 Ind. 260, 49 N. E. 1050.

Louisiana.— Wilson v. Wilson, 109 La. 1075, 34 So. 94; McLean's Succession, 12 La. Ann. 222; Union Bank v. McDonogh, 7 La. Ann. 231.

Maine.— In re Snow, 96 Me. 570, 53 Atl. 116.

Maryland.—Cornish v. Willson, 6 Gill 299; Carnan v. Turner, 6 Harr. & J. 65.

Massachusetts.— Tyndale v. Stanwood, 182 Mass. 534, 66 N. E. 23; Palmer v. Palmer, 13 Gray 326 (holding that the occupation of an intestate's real estate by one of his two administrators, who is also one of the heirs, without paying or charging himself with debts, is not of itself a bar to granting a petition to sell real estate for the payment of debts); In re Allen, 15 Mass. 58; Dean v. Dean, 3 Mass. 258.

Minnesota.— State v. Ramsey County Probate Ct., 25 Minn. 22.

Mississippi.—Williams v. Ratcliff, 42 Miss. 145.

Missouri.— St. Francis Mill Co. v. Sugg, 169 Mo. 130, 69 S. W. 359; Keene v. Wyatt, 160 Mo. 1, 60 S. W. 1037, 63 S. W. 116; Howell v. Jump, 140 Mo. 441, 41 S. W. 976; Blair v. Marks, 27 Mo. 579; Bompart v. Lucas, 21 Mo. 598; Derge v. Hill, 103 Mo. App. 281, 77 S. W. 105.

Nebraska.— W. J. Perry Live Stock Commission Co. v. Biggs, (1903) 94 N. W. 712.

New Jersey.— Skillman v. Van Peld, 1 N. J. Eq. 511.

New Mexico.— Albuquerque First Nat. Bank v. Lee, 8 N. M. 589, 45 Pac. 1114.

New York.— Hogan v. Kavanaugh, 138 N. Y. 417, 34 N. E. 292; Richmond v. Freeman's Nat. Bank, 86 N. Y. App. Div. 152, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 632; Matter of Foley, 39 N. Y. App. Div. 248, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 131; Matter of Meagley, 39 N. Y. App. Div. 83, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 503; Matter of Williams, 1 Misc. 35, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 906; Ferguson v. Broome, 1 Bradf. Surr. 10.

North Carolina.— Glover v. Flowers, 101 N. C. 134, 7 S. E. 579, 95 N. C. 57.

Ohio.— Bateman v. Morris, 7 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 287, 4 Ohio N. P. 397.

Oregon.— In re Houck, 23 Oreg. 10, 17 Pac. 461.

Pennsylvania.— Lyman v. Byam, 38 Pa. St. 475; Walker's Estate, 23 Pa. Co. Ct. 657; Johnson's Estate, 30 Pittsb. Leg. J. 365. See also Green's Estate, 1 Del. Co. 521.

Tennessee.— Erck v. Erck, 107 Tenn. 77, 63 S. W. 1122; Allen v. Shanks, 90 Tenn. 359, 16 S. W. 715.

Utah.— Cain v. Young, 1 Utah 361.

West Virginia.— Shahan v. Shahan, 48 W. Va. 477, 37 S. E. 552, 86 Am. St. Rep. 68.

United States.— Florentine v. Barton, 2 Wall. 210, 17 S. E. 783; Davis v. Vansands, 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,655, 45 Conn. 600, debt not presented within time limited, but subsequently presented as provided by statute.

England.— Price v. Price, 16 L. J. Ch. 232, 15 Sim. 484, 38 Eng. Ch. 484.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1334.

A debt due to the representative may be sufficient to authorize a sale of realty for payment thereof (In re Reynolds, 195 Pa. St. 225, 45 Atl. 726), and if the personal property is insufficient to pay the debts, and the administrator bona fide and under proper circumstances advances money to pay them, the court may order a sale of real estate to reimburse him (Liddel v. McVickar, 11 N. J. L. 44, 19 Am. Dec. 369. See also Collinson v. Owens, 6 Gill & J. (Md.) 4).

Claim of sureties on administration bond.— Where application is made by an administrator for an order to sell real estate to pay a claim held by the sureties on his official bond, the court may, if it appears from his accounts that he is indebted to the estate, refuse to make the order, if such sale will injure other creditors, or, where the estate is solvent, if it will injure the heirs. Deans v. Wilcoxon, 25 Fla. 980, 7 So. 163.

Sale to obtain money for payment of taxes allowed.— Sales v. Cosgrove, 25 S. W. 594, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 791; Welsh v. Perkins, 8 Ohio 52. But see Walker v. Diehl, 79 Ill. 473.

Realty may be sold for payment of liens thereon. In re Frend, 131 Cal. 667, 63 Pac. 1080, 82 Am. St. Rep. 407.

Equitable demands may be proved on the application to sell the real estate of an intestate to pay his debts, and if the claim is an equitable lien on a portion of the real estate, and not secured by judgment or mortgage, or expressly charged on the lot, the court may order it to be paid out of the proceeds of the real estate. Renwick v. Renwick, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 234.

The fact that a person's claim as heir is barred does not affect the right of the representative to sell the land to pay a debt of the claimant regularly established against the estate. Sutton v. Read, 176 Ill. 69, 51 N. E. 801.

Debts of married woman.— The probate court has no jurisdiction to order the sale of lands in which a married woman had a separate estate, to pay debts contracted during her coverture. Boston v. Murray, 94 Mo. 175, 7 S. W. 273 [following Davis v. Smith, 75 Mo. 219].

Although debts are directed to be paid out of rents and profits by the will, the court will decree a sale if it is necessary. Berry v. Askham, 2 Vern. Ch. 26, 23 Eng. Reprint 627.

The advice of a family meeting is not necessary to authorize a sale of a decedent's real estate to pay debts. Irwin v. Flynn, 110 La.

debt.[98] In a great many jurisdictions a sale of realty can be authorized only for the payment of debts which were in existence at the time of decedent's death.[99] Thus the right to order a sale for the payment of the expenses of administration is very generally denied,[1] although in a few jurisdictions a sale for this purpose is 829, 34 So. 794; Childs v. Lockett, 107 La. 270, 31 So. 751; Fluker's Succession, 32 La. Ann. 292; Davidson v. Davidson, 28 La. Ann. 269; Kiser's Succession, 22 La. Ann. 175; Carter v. McManus, 15 La. Ann. 676.

False claims.— Where a proceeding instituted in behalf of decedent's widow for the sale of his real estate for the payment of debts is founded upon false claims fraudulently made for the purpose of procuring the sale of such lands, a sale made thereunder to the widow is void. Lawson v. Acton, 57 N. J. Eq. 107, 40 Atl. 584.

The costs of an action against decedent's surviving partner are not a debt of the decedent for which his real estate may be sold. Matter of Stowell, 15 Misc. (N. Y.) 533, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 1127, 25 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 316.

Effect of partition.— A mere order for partition does not withdraw the property designated in it from the jurisdiction of the probate court so as to prevent a sale of the land in further administration for the purpose of paying debts. But it is otherwise if such partition is made and approved. The making of a partial partition does not, however, deprive the probate court of the right to order a sale in due course of administration of land not included in the actual partition. Lee v. Henderson, 75 Tex. 190, 12 S. W. 981.

The fact that the administrator's bond has been reduced by order of the probate court upon the assumption that all the lands belonging to the estate have been partitioned and delivered to the heirs does not affect the status of lands not in fact partitioned or deprive the court of power to order a sale of such lands. Lee v. Henderson, 75 Tex. 190, 12 S. W. 981.

Effect of suit against representative alone. — The creditor of a decedent who sues the representative alone without joining or making the heirs parties to the suit does not thereby release the real estate of the decedent from the lien of his debt or claim, if any there was, so as to deprive the court of power to order a sale for payment of such debt. Murphy's Appeal, 8 Watts & S. (Pa.) 165 [followed in Weaver's Appeal, 19 Pa. St. 416].

Under the Washington statute (Ballinger Annot. Code & St. § 6333) funeral expenses are a debt of the decedent, and not merely a part of the expenses of the administration; and hence, under Laws (1895), p. 197, § 3, providing that no real estate of a deceased person shall be liable for his debts unless letters of administration are granted within six years from the date of his death, the court has no power to order a sale of such realty to pay funeral expenses, letters not having been so issued. In re Smith, 25 Wash. 539, 66 Pac. 93.

A final decree discharging the administrator discharges the lien of creditors on real estate which might have been previously sold to pay debts. State v. Ramsey County Probate Ct., 40 Minn. 296, 41 N. W. 1033.

Sale cannot be made to effect compromise of disputed claim. Bompart v. Lucas, 21 Mo. 598.

A bond for title is prima facie a claim for land, and its approval by the probate judge and the administrator does not convert it into a money claim against the estate for the amount of the penalty, and hence an order to sell property for the payment of such claim is properly refused. Gregory v. Hughes, 20 Tex. 345.

Advances of representative to pay for public land.— Where the head of a family made entry upon public land and died before final proof, and after her death her administrator advanced the money and paid the government for the land, and obtained a patent to it for her heirs, and subsequently obtained an order from the probate court to sell the land to repay him, it was held that the money so advanced was not a lien upon the land, and that no title thereto passed by a sale under such order. Coulson v. Wing, 42 Kan. 507, 22 Pac. 570, 16 Am. St. Rep. 503; Black v. Dressell, 20 Kan. 153.

Advances to infant distributees.— An administrator who has made advances to the infant distributees in excess of their share of the personal assets is not entitled to have the land sold for his reimbursement. Munden v. Bailey, 70 Ala. 63.

98. Taylor v. Hanford, 11 N. J. L. 341. See also Spears' Succession, 28 La. Ann. 804.

99. Alabama.— Beadle v. Steele, 86 Ala. 413, 5 So. 169.

Illinois.— Walker v. Diehl, 79 Ill. 473; Fitzgerald v. Glancy, 49 Ill. 465.

Maryland.— Carey v. Dennis, 13 Md. 1.

Massachusetts.— Dean v. Dean, 3 Mass. 258.

Mississippi.— Moore v. Ware, 51 Miss. 206.

Missouri.— U. S. Presbyterian Church v. McElhinney, 61 Mo. 540.

New York.—Matter of Quatlander, 29 Misc. 566, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 1064; Ball v. Miller, 17 How. Pr. 300; Wood v. Byington, 2 Barb. Ch. 387.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1335.

Contra.— Long v. Landman, 118 Mich. 174, 76 N. W. 374, construing a statute authorizing the giving of a mortgage for the purpose of paying "the debts against the estate of any deceased person."

Realty may be sold to pay funeral expenses. Matter of Quatlander, 29 Misc. (N. Y.) 566, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 1064; Matter of Corwin, 10 Misc. (N. Y.) 196, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 426; King's Estate, 10 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 175.

1. Alabama.— Owens v. Childs, 58 Ala. 113 (holding that an administrator's sale of lands to pay expenses of litigation undertaken at allowed.[2] The fact that a debt is secured by mortgage is no reason why the representative may not be authorized to sell realty for the purpose of paying the same.[3] his own instance only, to dispossess an occupant of lands and purchase them himself, is properly enjoined); McMekin v. Bobo, 12 Ala. 268 (cost of probate of nuncupative will). See also Garrett v. Garrett, 64 Ala. 263.

Arkansas.— Mays v. Rogers, 52 Ark. 320, 12 S. W. 579.

Illinois.— Walker v. Diehl, 79 Ill. 473; Fitzgerald v. Glancy, 49 Ill. 465.

Massachusetts.—Drinkwater v. Drinkwater, 4 Mass. 354; Dean v. Dean, 3 Mass. 258.

Missouri.— Howell v. Jump, 140 Mo. 441, 41 S. W. 976; Farrar v. Dean, 24 Mo. 16.

New York.— Matter of Quatlander, 29 Misc. 566, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 1064; Fitch v. Witbeck, 2 Barb. Ch. 161; Cornwall's Estate, Tuck. Surr. 250.

Ohio.— Carr v. Hull, 65 Ohio St. 394, 62 N. E. 439, 87 Am. St. Rep. 623, 58 L. R. A. 641.

England.— See Lees v. Lees, L. R. 15 Eq. 151, 42 L. J. Ch. 319, 27 L. T. Rep. N. S. 743, 21 Wkly. Rep. 215.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1335.

Realty cannot be sold to pay compensation of representative. Beadle v. Steele, 86 Ala. 413, 5 So. 169; Moore v. Ware, 51 Miss. 206; Hollman v. Bennett, 44 Miss. 322.

Costs.—Realty of a decedent cannot be sold for the payment of the costs of a suit in which judgment was obtained against the representative, even though the suit was originally commenced against the decedent. Matter of Foley, 39 N. Y. App. Div. 248, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 131; Matter of Stowell, 15 Misc. (N. Y.) 533, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 1127, 25 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 316; Wood v. Byington, 2 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 387; Burnham v. Harrison, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 345. See also Kavanagh v. Wilson, 5 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 43; Lees v. Lees, L. R. 15 Eq. 151, 42 L. J. Ch. 319, 27 L. T. Rep. N. S. 743, 21 Wkly. Rep. 215.

Where only enough to pay the costs of administration is realized at the sale, it is nevertheless valid if it was made for the purpose of paying the debts. Howell v. Jump, 140 Mo. 441, 41 S. W. 976.

2. California.— In re Roach, 139 Cal. 17, 72 Pac. 393; In re Freud, 131 Cal. 667, 63 Pac. 1080, 82 Am. St. Rep. 407 (holding that a sale may be decreed for the payment of expenses of administration still to accrue); In re Bentz, 36 Cal. 687.

Indiana.— Falley v. Gribling, 128 Ind. 110, 26 N. E. 794; Dunning v. Driver, 25 Ind. 269.

New Hampshire.— See Tilton v. Tilton, 41 N. H. 479, where the court, although refusing a license to sell to pay the expenses of administration, did so upon the ground that the expenses had been settled and adjusted by mutual agreement of the parties and there was nothing to show that the agreement was not a valid and binding one, fairly and understandingly made, and the opinion leaves room for an inference that under proper circumstances a sale for such purpose might be allowed.

New Jersey.— Personette v. Johnson, 40 N. J. Eq. 173.

Oregon.— In re Houck, 23 Oreg. 10, 17 Pac. 461.

Pennsylvania.— In re Reynold, 195 Pa. St. 225, 45 Atl. 726; Demmy's Appeal, 43 Pa. St. 155; Cobaugh's Appeal, 24 Pa. St. 143; Honeywell's Estate, 9 Kulp 340.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1335.

Realty may be sold to pay representative's compensation. Personette v. Johnson, 40 N. J. Eq. 173; In re Reynold, 195 Pa. St. 225, 45 Atl. 726. And see Conger v. Cook, 56 Iowa 117, 8 N. W. 782.

Sale after expiration of lien of debts.— As such expenses are not debts of the decedent and hence the law limiting the lien of his debts does not apply to them, a sale for their payment may be decreed after the expiration of the lien of the debts of the decedent. In re Reynold, 195 Pa. St. 225, 45 Atl. 726; Demmy's Appeal, 43 Pa. St. 155; Cobaugh's Appeal, 24 Pa. St. 143.

Sale cannot be ordered until account filed. Honeywell's Estate, 9 Kulp (Pa.) 340; Grice's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 107.

3. California.— In re Marden, Myr. Prob. 184.

Iowa.— Mead v. Mead, 39 Iowa 28.

Maryland.— Gibson v. McCormick, 10 Gill & J. 65.

Missouri.— Day v. Graham, 97 Mo. 398, 11 S. W. 55.

New York.— Mooers v. White, 6 Johns. Ch. 360.

Texas.— Hurley v. Barnard, 48 Tex. 83.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1336.

Mortgage not made by decedent.— A mortgage upon land belonging to the estate of a deceased person, although not given by the decedent, and not therefore a personal debt, is a debt against the estate within the meaning of 3 Howell St. Mich. § 6105, which authorizes the probate court to license an executor or administrator to borrow money by way of mortgage on the estate of the decedent "for the purpose of paying the debts against the estate." In re Lambie, 94 Mich. 489, 54 N. W. 173.

When sale improper.— A license to sell has been refused where it appeared that the only debt due was secured by a mortgage, that the mortgagee was in possession, that four years had elapsed, that there was no judgment for the debt, and that the heirs offered to save the administrators harmless. Etheridge v. Bell, 27 N. C. 87. And it has been held that the probate court has no power to order a sale of land where the only debts are secured by mortgage on the land, even though the mortgagees consent that their liens may be discharged by such sale. Kautz's Estate, 11 Pa. Co. Ct. 322. See also

The death of the owner of lands does not give his personal representatives or his creditors such an interest in the real estate as precludes the legislature from repealing the laws authorizing sales to be made by executors or administrators for the payment of debts.[4]

b. Existence and Validity of Debts. In order to authorize a sale of land to pay debts, the existence of valid and legally enforceable debts of the estate must be shown,[5] but it has been held not necessary that the debt should be due when the order of sale is asked or the sale made.[6] A sale should not be ordered where the alleged debts are fraudulent,[7] or in anticipation of an indebtedness which is not valid and subsisting at the time and may never exist,[8] or for raising a fund to meet claims which are contested and doubtful;[9] nor should a license be granted to sell lands for the payment of debts already barred by the statutes of limitations or non-claim,[10] although where the proceedings for such sale are instituted before Grice's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 107, 2 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 211; Grice v. Kinsey, 4 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 208.

Interest payable on a mortgage on decedent's estate, and falling due five years after his death, is not a debt of decedent, to pay which realty belonging to his estate will be ordered sold. Matter of Pfohl, 20 Misc. (N. Y.) 627, 46 N. Y. Suppl. 1086.

4. Ludlow v. Johnston, 3 Ohio 553, 17 Am. Dec. 609.

Sale after repeal.— Where proceedings for a sale of real estate of an intestate to pay debts were commenced before the repeal of the act authorizing such sale, and the administrators, notwithstanding the repeal, sold the land and appropriated the proceeds to pay the debts, the sale was void. Hamilton Bank v. Dudley, 2 Pet. (U. S.) 492, 7 L. ed. 496. See also Perry v. Clarkson, 16 Ohio 571, where the order of sale was passed after the repeal.

An order to sell is not a "suit or prosecution pending," within the exception of a general repealing act providing that any depending suit or prosecution may be carried on to final judgment, and executed agreeably to the repealed laws under which it may have been begun. Davis v. Livingston, 6 Ohio 225; Ludlow v. Wade, 5 Ohio 494.

5. Georgia.— McGowan v. Lufburrow, 82 Ga. 523, 9 S. E. 427, 14 Am. St. Rep. 178.

Illinois.— Dorman v. Tost, 13 Ill. 127.

Louisiana.— Leverich's Succession, 47 La. Ann. 1665, 18 So. 700.

Maine.— Lebroke v. Damon, 89 Me. 113, 35 Atl. 1028; Gross v. Howard, 52 Me. 192.

Massachusetts.— Lamson v. Schutt, 4 Allen 359.

Mississippi.— Hargrove v. Baskin, 50 Miss. 194.

Pennsylvania.— See Kurtz's Estate, 16 Lanc. L. Rev. 205.

Texas.— Hamblin v. Warnecke, 31 Tex. 91.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1337.

If any part of the indebtedness alleged is found to be due the chancellor has jurisdiction to order a sale of part of the property to pay it. McGowan v. Lufburrow, 82 Ga. 523, 9 S. E. 427, 14 Am. St. Rep. 178.

Where certain accounts were transferred to the administrator by the creditors this was not a release which prevented them from looking to the land for the balance due them after the personalty was exhausted. Wheeler v. Floyd, 24 S. C. 413.

If demands against an estate have been adjusted by mutual agreement to the satisfaction of the persons interested a sale of real estate should not be ordered to pay them. Tilton v. Tilton, 41 N. H. 479.

The allowance of claims in a court without jurisdiction over the claims or the land is not a basis for a sale. Hughes v. Griswold, 6 Mo. 245.

6. Carey v. Dennis, 13 Md. 1; Mooers v. White, 6 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 360; Hurley v. Barnard, 48 Tex. 83. Contra, Holburn v. Pfanmiller, 114 Ky. 831, 71 S. W. 940, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 1613 (taxes assessed but not yet due); Wilcox's Estate, 11 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 115.

7. Hunter v. French, 86 Ind. 320. See also Lynn's Estate, 2 Lehigh Val. L. Rep. (Pa.) 231.

Illegal arrangement as to payment.—Where an arrangement was made between an administrator and others by which the land belonging to the estate was to be bought in at the administrator's sale by a certain person, and taken by the administrator's children in payment of a claim held by them against the estate, it was held that, although the arrangement was illegal, and the children could claim no right to the land thereunder, yet their claim was not extinguished, and a new sale to pay it should be ordered. Matthews v. Matthews, (Miss. 1887) 1 So. 741.

8. Kremer v. Bull, 26 S. W. 1099, 16 Ky. L. Rep. 183; Fasig's Estate, 1 Woodw. (Pa.) 213.

9. Fasig's Estate, 1 Woodw. (Pa.) 213.

10. Maine.— Nowell v. Nowell, 8 Me. 220.

Massachusetts.— Heath v. Wells, 5 Pick. 140, 16 Am. Dec. 383; Thompson v. Brown, 16 Mass. 172; In re Allen, 15 Mass. 58.

Minnesota.— See In re Ackerman, 33 Minn. 54, 21 N. W. 852.

Mississippi.— Ales v. Plant, 61 Miss. 259; Ferguson v. Scott, 49 Miss. 500; Moody v. Harper, 38 Miss. 599.

New Hampshire.— Hodgdon v. White, 11 N. H. 208.

New York.— Gilchrist v. Rea, 9 Paige 66, holding that an administrator who has the claim has become barred, and the effect thereof is to interrupt the period of prescription, a sale may be ordered.[11]

c. Insufficiency of Personalty. Insufficiency of the personalty for the payment of the debts should be shown in order to justify the grant of a license to sell real estate,[12] but when it is ascertained that the personalty of the decedent is paid a debt of the intestate which was barred by the statute, having no assets at the time, cannot be reimbursed by a sale of the real estate for that purpose.

Pennsylvania.— Oliver's Appeal, 101 Pa. St. 299; Pry's Appeal, 8 Watts 253 (omission to revive a judgment); McCormick's Estate, 4 Kulp 15; Meskill's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 52; Moyer's Estate, 11 Pa. Co. Ct. 528; Pray v. Brock, 1 Pa. L. J. Rep. 354. See also In re Cake, 157 Pa. St. 457, 27 Atl. 773; Demmy's Appeal, 43 Pa. St. 155; Shorman v. Farmer's Bank, 5 Watts & S. 373; Seitzinger v. Fisher, 1 Watts & S. 293; Schreck's Estate, 2 Kulp 166.

Tennessee.— Batson v. Murrell, 10 Humphr. 301, 51 Am. Dec. 707.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1338.

Compare Mead v. Mead, 39 Iowa 28, holding that where land of an intestate was sold by an administrator under order of the court to pay a mortgage thereon the objection that the sale was without authority because the notes and mortgage had never been filed as a claim against the estate was without merit, since such failure was excused by the application of the administrator for authority to sell.

A judgment is not barred by the statute because recovered some two years prior to the filing of the petition for license to sell. Lebroke v. Damon, 89 Me. 113, 35 Atl. 1028.

Payment of interest on mortgage.— Where on a bill in equity to subject real estate in the hands of heirs to the payment of the decedent's debts it appeared that the debt was secured by mortgage, that the interest on the mortgage had been regularly paid by the mortgagor during his lifetime, and by his administrator after his death until the estate was settled and turned over to the heirs, that the mortgage was thereupon foreclosed and the property sold, and that the claim was for a deficiency upon such sale, the failure of the mortgagee to prove her claim before the commissioners did not constitute laches sufficient to bar the claim, since the payment of interest by the administrator led the mortgagee to believe that the mortgage would be assumed by the administrator and the heirs of the estate. Chewitt v. Moran, 17 Fed. 820.

11. Deans v. Wilcoxon, 25 Fla. 980, 7 So. 163; Porter v. Hornsby, 32 La. Ann. 337.

12. Alabama.— Banks v. Speers, 97 Ala. 560, 11 So. 841.

Arkansas.— Ambleton v. Dyer, 53 Ark. 224, 13 S. W. 926.

California.— See In re Roach, 139 Cal. 17, 72 Pac. 393.

Connecticut.— Griswold v. Bigelow, 6 Conn. 258.

District of Columbia.— See Richardson v. Penicks, 1 App. Cas. 261.

Florida.— Anderson v. Northrop, 30 Fla. 612, 12 So. 318.

Illinois.— Vansyckle v. Richardson, 13 Ill. 171; Rowland v. Swope, 39 Ill. App. 514.

Indiana.— Moore v. Moore, 155 Ind. 261, 57 N. E. 242; Fiscus v. Moore, 121 Ind. 547, 23 N. E. 362, 7 L. R. A. 235; Hunsucker v. Smith, 49 Ind. 114; Swift v. Harley, 20 Ind. App. 614, 49 N. E. 1069.

Iowa.— See Conger v. Cook, 56 Iowa 117, 8 N. W. 782.

Kentucky.— Chambers v. Davis, 15 B. Mon. 522; Courts v. Courts, 6 Ky. L. Rep. 512.

Louisiana.— Phelan's Succession v. Bird, 20 La. Ann. 355. See also Leverich's Succession, 47 La. Ann. 1665, 18 So. 700.

Maine.—Stevens v. Burgess, 61 Me. 89.

Maryland.— Macgill v. Hyatt, 80 Md. 253, 30 Atl. 710; Griffith v. Frederick County Bank, 6 Gill & J. 424; Collinson v. Owens, 6 Gill & J. 4; Carnan v. Turner, 6 Harr. & J. 65.

Michigan.— Ireland v. Miller, 71 Mich. 119, 39 N. W. 16.

Minnesota.— State v. Ramsey County Probate Ct., 25 Minn. 22.

Mississippi.— Anderson v. Newman, 60 Miss. 532; Hargrove v. Baskin, 50 Miss. 194; McCoy v. Nichols, 4 How. 31.

Missouri.— Merritt v. Merritt, 62 Mo. 150.

New Hampshire.— Tilton v. Tilton, 41 N. H. 479.

New Jersey.— Taylor v. Hanford, 11 N. J. L. 341; Liddel v. McVickar, 11 N. J. L. 44, 19 Am. Dec. 369.

New York.— Hogan v. Kavanaugh, 138 N. Y. 417, 34 N. E. 292; Kingsland v. Murray, 133 N. Y. 170, 30 N. E. 845; Russell v. Russell, 36 N. Y. 581, 93 Am. Dec. 540; Corwin v. Merritt, 3 Barb. 341; Matter of Georgi, 21 Misc. 419, 47 N. Y. Suppl. 1061; Moyer v. Moyer, 17 Misc. 648, 40 N. Y. Suppl. 772; Matter of Hemiup, 3 Paige 305; Thompson v. Brown, 4 Johns. Ch. 619. See also Matter of Plopper, 15 Misc. 202, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 33; Wambaugh v. Gates, 11 Paige 505.

North Carolina.— State Baptist Female University v. Borden, 132 N. C. 476, 44 S. E. 47, 1007 (unless it clearly appears from the will that the testator meant to charge the debts upon his real estate); Lilly v. Wooley, 94 N. C. 412; Bland v. Hartsoe, 65 N. C. 204; Wiley v. Wiley, 63 N. C. 182.

Ohio.— Welsh v. Perkins, 8 Ohio 52. See also Carr v. Hull, 65 Ohio St. 394, 62 N. E. 439, 87 Am. St. Rep. 623, 58 L. R. A. 641.

Oregon.— See In re Houck, 23 Oreg. 10, 17 Pac. 461.

Pennsylvania.— Pry's Appeal, 8 Watts 253; Berluchy's Estate, 1 Leg. Rec. 225; Kitchenman's Estate, 15 Phila. 519; Eddy's Estate, insufficient to pay his debts, and there are lands to which he had title, it is the clear duty of the representative to proceed for the sale of such lands.[13] It is not permissible to transfer personal effects and moneys by distribution to the heirs and then resort to the land to pay debts on the allegation that there is no personal estate.[14] In some states no order for a sale of realty can properly be made until so much of the personal estate as has come into the representative's hands has been actually applied to the payment of the debts,[15] but in others mere proof of an insufficiency of personalty is enough.[16] Where the assets were originally suffi-

12 Phila. 118; Kelly's Estate, 11 Phila. 100; Fasig's Estate, 1 Woodw. 213. See also Grice's Estate, 11 Phila. 107.

Rhode Island.— Wood v. Hammond, 16 R. I. 98, 17 Atl. 324, 18 Atl. 198.

South Carolina.— McNamee v. Waterbury, 4 S. C. 156; Bird v. Houze, Speers Eq. 250.

Tennessee.— Woodfin v. Anderson, 2 Tenn. Ch. 331; Callender v. Turpin, (Ch. App. 1901) 61 S. W. 1057.

Utah.— Needham v. Salt Lake City, 7 Utah 319, 26 Pac. 920.

Washington.— Wallace v. Grant, 27 Wash. 130, 67 Pac. 578.

West Virginia.— Sommerville v. Sommerville, 26 W. Va. 479; Bierne v. Brown, 10 W. Va. 748; Laidley v. Kline, 8 W. Va. 218; Martin v. Rellehan, 3 W. Va. 480.

United States.—See Corbet v. Johnson, 6 Fed. Cas. No. 3,218, 1 Brock. 77; Garnett v. Macon, 10 Fed. Cas. No. 5,245, 2 Brock. 185, 6 Call 308.

England.— Birch v. Glover, 4 Madd. 376; Curtis v. Price, 12 Ves. Jr. 105, 8 Rev. Rep. 303, 33 Eng. Reprint 35.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1339.

Disputed claim.— It is no ground of opposition to the granting of an order of sale of real estate that there is a litigated claim held by the estate against the grantee of a devisee, who claims that there is nothing due. In re Schroeder, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 7.

Uncollected and doubtful demands should not be reckoned in estimating the sufficiency of the personalty, but only personal property actually in the hands of the representative. Bridge v. Swain, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 487.

Leasehold premises containing the tomb of the decedent need not be disposed of before resorting to the realty to pay debts. Skidmore v. Romaine, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 122.

Insufficiency to pay the uncontested claims is a sufficient showing, although other claims are contested. Rose's Estate, 17 Pa. Co. Ct. 514.

Deficiency of immediately available personalty.— A charge upon real estate in aid of the personal will be made available for the satisfaction of creditors by a sale, although there be personal estate outstanding, if it be not immediately applicable. Clanmorris v. Bingham, 1 Molloy 514.

Deterioration of assets.— Where the personal assets in the hands of an administrator were originally sufficient to pay decedent's debts, but before being realized upon have deteriorated in value, without negligence of the administrator, until insufficient for that purpose, the real estate becomes liable for the deficiency. Pearson v. Gillenwaters, 99 Tenn. 446, 42 S. W. 9, 63 Am. St. Rep. 844.

Averment of sufficiency in answer.— Where an answer avers that on the disposal of exceptions to the account of one of the petitioners, who was the administrator of decedent and whose letters have been vacated, there will be sufficient personal property to pay all of decedent's just debts, an order to sell real estate in payment of debts will not be granted at the instance of judgment creditors. Miller's Estate, 18 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 53.

Admission of insufficiency.— Where real estate is charged with the payment of debts if the personalty is insufficient a sale will not be decreed until the master reports that the personalty is insufficient, even though insufficiency be admitted by the executors (Owen v. Pugh, 3 L. J. Ch. O. S. 194) or infant devisees (Birch v. Glover, 4 Madd. 376. See also Curtis v. Price, 12 Ves. Jr. 105, 8 Rev. Rep. 303, 33 Eng. Reprint 35).

It is not necessary that the representative should have pleaded plene administravit in suits against him by creditors of the estate in order to enable him to maintain a bill to reach realty descended and sell the same for the satisfaction of judgments recovered against him. See Henry v. Mills, 1 Lea (Tenn.) 144, 150, where the court said: "It is not necessary, however, to lay down a positive rule on this subject."

13. Pitkin v. Pitkin, 7 Conn. 315; Virgin v. Virgin, 91 Ill. App. 188 [affirmed in 189 Ill. 144, 59 N. E. 586]. See infra, XII, C, I.

14. Foley v. McDonald, 46 Miss. 238.

15. Florida.— Hays v. McNealy, 16 Fla. 409.

New Jersey.— Stiers v. Stiers, 20 N. J. L. 52; State v. Conover, 9 N. J. L. 338; Bray v. Neill, 21 N. J. Eq. 343.

North Carolina.— Lilly v. Wooley, 94 N. C. 412. But see Blount v. Pritchard, 88 N. C. 445 [distinguishing and approving Bland v. Hartsoe, 65 N. C. 204; Finger v. Finger, 64 N. C. 183; Wiley v. Wiley, 63 N. C. 182; Graham v. Little, 40 N. C. 407]; Shields v. McDowell, 82 N. C. 137.

Washington.— Wallace v. Grant, 27 Wash. 130, 67 Pac. 578.

West Virginia.—Sommerville v. Sommerville, 26 W. Va. 479; Bierne v. Brown, 10 W. Va. 748; Martin v. Rellehan, 3 W. Va. 480.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1339.

16. Richardson v. Musser, 54 Cal. 196; Richmond v. Foote, 3 Lans. (N. Y.) 244; In re Very, 24 Misc. (N. Y.) 139, 53 N. Y.

cient to pay the debts, but they have been lost, wasted, or distributed by the representative in violation of his duty, the resulting insufficiency of assets does not of itself warrant a sale of the realty,[17] but the remedy is primarily upon the bond of the executor or administrator.[18] The real estate is not, however, according to the better opinion, relieved from ultimate liability, and if the creditors have not been at fault and remedies upon the representative's bond or in pursuit or recovery of the personal assets fail to furnish full redress, a sale of the real estate may be ordered at the instance of creditors for payment of the debts.[19]

d. Sufficiency of Rents and Profits. Aside from express statute or testamentary direction, it is usually considered that the court ought not to order the sale of lands which have descended to heirs or devisees, where the rents and Suppl. 389, 28 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 163; Matter of Georgi, 21 Misc. (N. Y.) 419, 47 N. Y. Suppl. 1061; Walker's Appeal, 1 Grant (Pa.) 431; Pearson v. Gillenwaters, 99 Tenn. 446, 42 S. W. 9, 63 Am. St. Rep. 844; Maxwell v. Smith, 86 Tenn. 539, 8 S. W. 340. But see Corwin v. Merritt, 3 Barb. (N. Y.) 341; Kendell v. Titus, 9 Heisk. (Tenn.) 727; Dulles v. Read, 6 Yerg. (Tenn.) 53.

17. Alabama.— Speer v. Banks, 114 Ala. 323, 21 So. 834; Banks v. Speers, 103 Ala. 436, 16 So. 25.

Florida.— Anderson v. Northrop, 30 Fla. 612, 12 So. 318.

Illinois.— Rowland v. Swope, 39 Ill. App. 514.

Michigan.— Ireland v. Miller, 71 Mich. 119, 39 N. W. 16.

Mississippi.— Hargrove v. Baskin, 50 Miss. 194.

Missouri.— Merritt v. Merritt, 62 Mo. 150.

New York.— Kingsland v. Murray, 133 N. Y. 170, 30 N. E. 845; In re Very, 24 Misc. 139, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 389, 28 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 163 [distinguishing In re Bingham, 127 N. Y. 296, 27 N. E. 1055].

Pennsylvania.— Pry's Appeal, 8 Watts 253; Berluchy's Estate, 1 Leg. Rec. 225; Kelly's Estate, 11 Phila. 100.

South Carolina.— Bird v. Houze, Speers Eq. 250.

Tennessee.— Allen v. Shanks, 90 Tenn. 359, 16 S. W. 715.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1340; and infra, XII, R, 1.

But compare Corbet v. Johnson, 6 Fed. Cas. No. 3,218, 1 Brock. 77, holding that if the personalty has passed out of the representative's hands and into the hands of another, the creditor is not bound to pursue it further, but the court will proceed to decree directly against the land.

18. Alabama.— Banks v. Speers, 103 Ala. 436, 16 So. 25.

Maryland.— Wyse v. Smith, 4 Gill & J. 295.

Mississippi.— Turner v. Ellis, 24 Miss. 173.

Missouri.— Merritt v. Merritt, 62 Mo. 150.

North Carolina.— Lilly v. Wooley, 94 N. C. 412; Carlton v. Byers, 70 N. C. 691; Latham v. Bell, 69 N. C. 135.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1340.

19. Alabama.— Banks v. Speers, 103 Ala. 436, 16 So. 25.

California.— Haynes v. Meeks, 20 Cal. 288.

Florida.— Anderson v. Northrop, 30 Fla. 612, 12 So. 318.

Illinois.— Young v. Wittenmyre, 123 Ill. 303, 14 N. E. 869 [reversing 22 Ill. App. 496]; Rowland v. Swope, 39 Ill. App. 514.

Indiana.— Nettleton v. Dixon, 2 Ind. 446.

Michigan.— Roscoe v. McDonald, 91 Mich. 270, 51 N. W. 939; Ireland v. Miller, 71 Mich. 119, 39 N. W. 16.

Mississippi.— Hargrove v. Baskin, 50 Miss. 194; Hollman v. Bennett, 44 Miss. 322; Evans v. Fisher, 40 Miss. 643.

Missouri.— Merritt v. Merritt, 62 Mo. 150.

New York.—Kingsland v. Murray, 133 N. Y. 170, 30 N. E. 845; In re Bingham, 127 N. Y. 296, 27 N. E. 1055.

North Carolina.— Wiley v. Wiley, 61 N. C. 131.

South Carolina.— Bird v. Houze, Speers Eq. 250.

Tennessee.— Jones v. Douglass, 1 Tenn. Ch. 631.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1340.

Lands should not be sold until all other remedies have been exhausted. Stigler v. Porter, 42 Miss. 449; Paine v. Pendleton, 32 Miss. 320. But where it appears that a former administrator died insolvent, and that his estate has ever since been insolvent, and his bond as administrator has been lost, and his sureties are unknown, the administrator de bonis non need not sue the former administrator's administrator for funds misappropriated by him before applying for a license to sell land to pay debts. Brittain v. Dickson, 104 N. C. 547, 10 S. E. 701.

An estate for years, being a chattel interest descending to the personal representatives of the decedent, and not to his heirs, may be sold to pay debts, upon an insufficiency of personalty resulting from waste, before exhausting remedies against the personal representatives and sureties. Webster v. Parker, 42 Miss. 465.

Loss of equity against land by delay.— Where a creditor delayed prosecuting his remedy against the executor until the personal property passed into the hands of the devisee's husband who wasted it, and released the executor, such creditor forfeited his equity against the land. Buford v. McKee, 3 B. Mon. (Ky.) 224.

profits thereof will satisfy within a reasonable time the debts which the personalty is insufficient to pay.[20]

e. Account of Administration. It is not usually considered necessary that an account of the administration should be rendered and a final adjudication be had upon it before the court can make an order for a sale of real estate to pay debts, or expenses of administration where this is permissible.[21]

3. For Paymemt of Legacies. The court has no inherent authority to order a sale of the decedent's real estate for the payment of a legacy, even though the personal fund has been exhausted;[22] but where legacies are charged on land by the will, the land may be ordered sold for their payment.[23]

20. Louisiana.— Savage v. Williams, 15 La. Ann. 250.

New Jersey.— Trimmer v. Todd, (Ch. 1894) 28 Atl. 581.

Ohio.— See White v. Turpin, 16 Ohio St. 270.

Pennsylvania.— Pennock's Estate, 2 Phila. 143. But compare Klein's Estate, 2 Pa. Dist. 813, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 94.

Virginia.— Tennent v. Pattons, 6 Leigh 196; Wilder v. Chambliss, 6 Munf. 432, where there is no specific lien or encumbrance upon the land for such debts.

England.— See Rowe v. Beavis, Dick. 178, 21 Eng. Reprint 237.

See supra, X, D, 16, c.

Where the debts cannot be satisfied within a reasonable time out of the rents and profits a sale should be ordered. Lawton v. Hunt, 4 Strobh. Eq. (S. C.) 1.

21. California.— Abila v. Burnett, 33 Cal. 658.

Florida.— See Deans v. Wilcoxon, 25 Fla. 980, 7 So. 163.

Louisiana.—Tabor's Succession, 33 La. Ann. 343, application of creditor need not be preceded by or predicated upon account of administration or tableau of distribution.

Massachusetts.— Palmer v. Palmer, 13 Gray 326.

New York.— Matter of Plopper, 15 Misc. 202, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 33; Matter of Howard, 11 Misc. 224, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 1098; In re Merchant, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 875. The earlier cases holding that a judicial settlement should precede the commencement of proceedings for disposition of real estate to pay debts (Mead v. Jenkins, 95 N. Y. 31 [affirming 29 Hun 253, 27 Hun 570]; Schneider v. McFarland, 4 Barb. 139 [affirmed in 2 N. Y. 459]; Skidmore v. Romaine, 2 Bradf. Surr. 122) were decided before the change in the statute regulating such proceedings (Matter of Howard, 11 Misc. 224, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 1098).

Pennsylvania.— The personal representative can obtain an order for the sale of realty to pay debts before the account is settled (Weaver's Appeal, 19 Pa. St. 416; Huckle v. Phillips, 2 Serg. & R. 4. Contra, under the act of 1811. Fox v. Winters, 4 Rawle 174. See also Rhoad's Estate, 3 Rawle 420), but no other person interested can apply until the administration account has been finally settled showing a deficiency of personal assets (Freno's Estate, 11 Phila. 42) and the orphans' court will not order a sale of the decedent's land before the administrator's final account has been settled, merely to meet the expense of getting out letters of administration (Grice's Estate, 11 Phila. 107).

Vermont.— Maeck v. Sinclear, 10 Vt. 103.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1438.

Contra.— Beckham v. Duncan, (Va. 1889) 9 S. E. 1002; Simmons v. Lyles, 27 Gratt. (Va.) 922; Hart v. Hart, 31 W. Va. 688, 8 S. E. 562; Laidly v. Kline, 8 W. Va. 218; Martin v. Rellehan, 3 W. Va. 480. And see Crippen v. Crippen, 1 Head (Tenn.) 128.

Where an accounting is pending, an order of sale may properly be delayed until an adjudication upon the account, for such adjudication furnishes the best method of ascertaining that there is a necessity for the sale. Rosenfield's Estate, 10 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 201. See also Palmer v. Palmer, 13 Gray (Mass.) 326.

22. Alabama.— Scott v. Ware, 64 Ala. 174; Price v. Wilkinson, 10 Ala. 172, holding that the orphans' court has no power to marshal assets to secure the payment of pecuniary legacies by directing a sale of lands to pay debts.

Connecticut.— Wattles v. Hyde, 9 Conn. 10; Goodwin v. Chaffee, 4 Conn. 163.

Delaware.— Rambo v. Rumer, 4 Del. Ch. 9.

New Jersey.— Skillman v. Van Pelt, 1 N. J. Eq. 511.

North Carolina.— State Baptist Female University v. Borden, 132 N. C. 476, 44 S. E. 47, 1007.

Pennsylvania.— Torrance v. Torrance, 53 Pa. St. 505; Dunn's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 289.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1343.

But compare Probate Judge v. Kimball, 12 N. H. 165.

23. Kremer v. Fidelity Trust, etc., Co., 29 S. W. 634, 16 Ky. L. Rep. 559 (sale to repay advances by trustees to pay annuity to widow for which will made estate liable); In re Douty, 196 Pa. St. 432, 46 Atl. 483 (holding a sale of realty proper where annuities and legacies were charged thereon and the personalty was exhausted); In re Marcy, 22 Pa. St. 140; Cresson's Estate, 3 Phila. (Pa.) 270; Walters v. Jackson, 10 L. J. Ch. 383, 12 Sim. 278, 35 Eng. Ch. 236. See also Wattles v. Hyde, 9 Conn. 10.

Where money is given to be raised out of profits and the profits will not raise it in a

4. For Distribution. In many jurisdictions the court has power to authorize a sale of the real property of a decedent for the purpose of partition and distribution, where it is not susceptible of a division in kind, or the parties in interest will not consent to an adjustment;[24] but it has been held that a right to subject the land to sale for the purpose of equalizing a previous distribution of the personal estate among the legatees cannot arise either from the fact of the unequal distribution or from a verbal agreement between the parties.[25]

5. Effect of Testamentary Provisions. The court cannot in general order a sale of property when there is a power of sale in the will under which the representative may act,[26] but circumstances may arise under which a sale by order of court may be proper notwithstanding the fact that the will confers such a convenient time the court will decree a sale. Heycock v. Heycock, 1 Vern. Ch. 256, 23 Eng. Reprint 452. Contra, Ridout v. Plymouth, 2 Atk. 105, 26 Eng. Reprint 465.

Personalty must be applied before land sold.— Devereux v. Devereux, 81 N. C. 12.

24. Alabama.— Rice v. Drennen, 75 Ala. 335; Teat v. Lee, 8 Port. 507. But see Bishop v. Hampton, 15 Ala. 761; McCain v. McCain, 12 Ala. 510.

Florida.— Wilson v. Matheson, 17 Fla. 630.

Kentucky.— Cromwell v. Mason, 2 Bush 439, where the land is incapable of division without injury and one of the heirs a minor.

Louisiana.— Wilson v. Wilson, 109 La. 1075, 34 So. 94.

Maryland.— Woelfel v. Evans, 74 Md. 346, 22 Atl. 71.

Pennsylvania.— Gregg's Appeal, 20 Pa. St. 148, only when all heirs refuse to take real estate at appraisal.

Tennessee.— Fulton v. Davidson, 3 Heisk. 614.

Texas.— Littlefield v. Tinsley, 26 Tex. 353. But see Flanagan v. Pierce, 27 Tex. 78.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1343.

Jurisdiction continues until complete distribution made.— Woelfel v. Evans, 24 Md. 346, 22 Atl. 71.

The fact that the heirs have agreed to dispense with administration and to deal with the land as their own is no answer to an application by an administrator to sell the land for division and distribution. Rice v. Drennen, 75 Ala. 335.

Sale for partition not proper until after expiration of period of administration.— Anderson v. Lockhart, 2 Tex. Unrep. Cas. 63.

When petition denied.— A petition of an administratrix for an order to sell land of a decedent for distribution will be denied when there are minor distributees and no one interested in the distribution desires it to be made. Avery v. Avery, 47 Ala. 505.

Where the estate can be divided in kind as well as by making a sale, and the ordinary fails to take the proper steps to bring this about, the executor will be enjoined from selling for the purpose of distribution. McCook v. Pond, 72 Ga. 150.

Decree ordering sale before all devisees entitled to take ascertained erroneous.— Williams v. Hassell, 73 N. C. 174.

Where land is devised and the executors assent to the devise the probate court is without jurisdiction to order a sale for the purpose of division on the application of an executor or to hold the executor responsible for the money received from the sale made under such order. Whorton v. Moragne, 62 Ala. 201.

Opposition of parties in interest.— With only one heir out of four praying for distribution and the other three protesting, a sale cannot be directed for the purpose of distribution under the Pennsylvania act of June 12, 1893 (Pub. Laws 461), which requires a request for an order of sale by all parties in interest. Krug's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 239.

In the case of an implied conversion by the testator commingling real estate and personalty and bequeathing the shares the court has no power to order a sale by the executor. Krug's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 239.

25. Hudson v. Gray, 58 Miss. 882.

26. Wilson v. Holt, 83 Ala. 528, 3 So. 321, 3 Am. St. Rep. 768; Whorton v. Moragne, 62 Ala. 201; Arnett v. Bailey, 60 Ala. 435; Wilson v. Armstrong, 42 Ala. 168, 94 Am. Dec. 635; McCollum v. McCollum, 33 Ala. 711; Matter of Rowley, 38 Misc. (N. Y.) 622, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 215; Hesdra's Estate, 20 N. Y. Suppl. 79, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 514; Rosenfield's Estate, 10 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 201, 5 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 251; Matter of Davids, 5 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 14; Dennis v. Jones, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 80; Clark v. Clark, 3 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 32; Wiley v. Wiley, 61 N. C. 131; Selfridge's Appeal, 9 Watts & S. (Pa.) 55. Contra, Robinson v. Redman, 2 Duv. (Ky.) 82.

Implied power.— Under a statute providing that before the surrogate can make a decree of sale he must find that the property "is not subject to a valid power of sale for the payment of" the debts the surrogate cannot make a decree of sale if there is an actual and valid power, although it is implied and not express. Coogan v. Ockershausen, 55 N. Y. Super. Ct. 286, 18 N. Y. St. 366 [affirming 11 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 315].

Referring sale to power.— Where a trust deed with power of sale was probated as part of a will, and the trustee who was also sole executor obtained an order of sale which was invalid and sold the land five years thereafter, executing a deed as executor but not report-power.[27] A testamentary provision for the raising of a fund to pay debts by the hire of certain property has been held not to preclude a sale of such property under order of court where this was necessary for the payment of debts;[28] but in an English case where a testator directed money to be raised for the purposes of his will by mortgage of part of his real estate, the court declined to direct a sale, although the master found that the money could be more advantageously raised in that way.[29] Where a testator directs that his debts be paid from the sales of his unproductive property, an order directing the executor to sell property, a part of which is productive, will not be reversed on appeal, where the sale is not for the payment of debts alone, but also for payment of taxes and large expenses of administration.[30] The New York statute authorizes a sale of decedent's realty for the payment of debts unless it is devised expressly charged with such payment,[31] but the exception does not enable an insolvent debtor, by devising real property charged with the payment of a specified debt, to deprive general creditors of their right to have it sold and distributed among them after the personal estate has been exhausted.[32]

C. Who May Apply For Sale — 1. Executor or Administrator — a. In General. The executor or administrator has usually the right and in a proper case, such as a deficiency of personalty, it is his duty to apply for an order or license for the sale of the real property of his decedent.[33]

ing the sale to the probate court, the sale should be referred to the power in the deed, and not to the order of the court. Matthews v. McDade, 72 Ala. 377. See also Purser v. Short, 58 Ill. 477.

27. In re Karge, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 724 (holding that where, by the terms of a will, the executors have no power to sell until after the debts are paid, a sale under order of court for the payment of debts is proper); McFarland's Appeal, 37 Pa. St. 300 (holding that where a will gives a general authority to sell, without expressly naming the executors, and there is a controversy as to their right to sell, and they are trustees for legatees interested in the sale, it is a proper case for a sale under order of court); Schaffer's Estate, 1 Woodw. (Pa.) 387 (holding that under the Pennsylvania act of 1853, authorizing the orphans' court to make a sale of land belonging to minors, when manifestly for their interest, such a sale may be made of land devised to minors in anticipation of the period assigned for its sale in the will).

Where the power of sale is discretionary and not enforceable by creditors, they are entitled, under the New York statute, to petition the surrogate for an order of sale for the payment of debts. Parker v. Beer, 173 N. Y. 332, 66 N. E. 3 [affirming 65 N. Y. App. Div. 598, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 955]; Matter of Johnson, 18 N. Y. App. Div. 371, 46 N. Y. Suppl. 53; Matter of Heroy, 67 Hun (N. Y.) 13, 21 N. Y. Suppl. 685, 23 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 128. But the court is not authorized to interfere with the discretion of the executor as to making a sale at the instance of heirs or legatees (Greer v. McBeth, 12 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 254. See also Bullock's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 690) save in exceptional instances (Bullock's Estate, supra).

If the power of sale is void or payment of the debts as directed in the will is impracticable, resort may still be had to proceedings before the surrogate under the statute for the sale of the land. In re Richmond, 168 N. Y. 385, 61 N. E. 647 [affirming 62 N. Y. App. Div. 624, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 1147].

Where compliance with testamentary directions would cause sacrifice of property.— Where executors filed a bill, alleging that under the will it was their duty to sell certain town lots to pay the debts and that no such sale could be effected without a great sacrifice of the property and that there were other salable lands and asking advice as to the manner in which the trust could be performed, a court of chancery could afford relief and a sale of such lands under its decree was valid. Bridges v. Rice, 99 Ill. 414.

Unproductive real estate may be ordered to be sold even when the executors have been given power to sell when they think it best for the interest of the estate. In re Rogers, 185 Pa. St. 428, 39 Atl. 1109; Marvine v. Drexel, 68 Pa. St. 362; Carey's Estate, 9 Kulp (Pa.) 336.

28. Shaw v. McBride, 56 N. C. 173.

29. Drake v. Whitmore, 5 De G. & Sm. 619.

30. In re Heydenfeldt, 127 Cal. 456, 59 Pac. 839.

31. N. Y. Code Civ. Proc. § 2749.

Exception does not include devise impliedly charging land. Coogan v. Ockershausen, 55 N. Y. Super. Ct. 286, 18 N. Y. St. 366 [affirming 11 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 315].

32. Matter of Richmond, 168 N. Y. 385, 61 N. E. 647 [affirming 62 N. Y. App. Div. 624, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 1147].

33. Alabama.—Matheson v. Hearin, 29 Ala. 210. See also Henley v. Johnson, 134 Ala. 646, 32 So. 1009, 92 Am. St. Rep. 48, holding that under Code, § 155, providing that land may be sold by the personal representative for the payment of debts it necessary, the right belongs solely to the personal representative.

b. Compelling Application.[34] If the representative fails to apply without undue delay for authority to convert the real estate of his decedent into assets to pay debts, he may be compelled to discharge this duty at the instance of any creditor.[35]

California.— Couts' Estate, 87 Cal. 480, 25 Pac. 685.

Illinois.— Majorowicz v. Payson, 153 Ill. 484, 39 N. E. 127; Virgin v. Virgin, 91 Ill. App. 188 [affirmed in 189 Ill. 144, 59 N. E. 586].

Indiana.— Jarrell v. Brubaker, 150 Ind. 260, 49 N. E. 1050.

Kentucky.— Huser v. Smith, 1 Ky. L. Rep. 56.

Louisiana.— Savage v. Williams, 15 La. Ann. 250.

Massachusetts.— Tyndale v. Stanwood, 182 Mass. 534, 66 N. E. 23.

Mississippi.— Nabors v. McKay, 27 Miss. 799. Contra, as to sale of realty for more equal distribution among heirs. Washington v. McCaughan, 34 Miss. 304.

Missouri.— Grayson v. Weddle, 63 Mo. 523.

New York.— Matter of O'Brien, 39 N. Y. App. Div. 321, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 925.

North Carolina.— Clement v. Cozart, 109 N. C. 173, 13 S. E. 862; Wilson v. Pearson, 102 N. C. 290, 9 S. E. 707; Wilson v. Bynum, 92 N. C. 717; Ballard v. Kilpatrick, 71 N. C. 281; Pelletier v. Saunders, 67 N. C. 261. See also Sinclair v. McBryde, 88 N. C. 438.

Oregon.— Under the statute no one is authorized to make the application for a sale of realty except the executor or administrator. Levy v. Riley, 4 Oreg. 392.

Pennsylvania.—Heyer's Estate, 8 Kulp 107; Walker's Estate, 23 Pa. Co. Ct. 657; Kitchenman's Estate, 15 Phila. 519. Contra, as to proceedings against lands charged with legacies. Littleton's Appeal, 93 Pa. St. 177; Field's Appeal, 36 Pa. St. 11.

Rhode Island.— West Greenwich Probate Ct. v. Carr, 20 R. I. 592, 40 Atl. 844, representative should proceed within a reasonable time.

South Carolina.— Shaw v. Barksdale, 25 S. C. 204; Scruggs v. Foot, 19 S. C. 274; McNamee v. Waterbury, 4 S. C. 156.

Texas.— Lee v. King, 21 Tex. 577; Allen v. Clark, 21 Tex. 404; Alexander v. Maverick, 18 Tex. 179, 67 Am. Dec. 693.

West Virginia.— Shahan v. Shahan, 48 W. Va. 447, 37 S. E. 552, 86 Am. St. Rep. 68; Reinhardt v. Reinhardt, 21 W. Va. 76.

United States.— Pratt v. McCullough, 19 Fed. Cas. No. 11,113, 1 McLean 69, holding that the court has no power to order a sale except on the application of the executor or administrator.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1345½.

Contra, as to executor having no power as to realty under will. Peirce v. Graham, 85 Va. 227, 7 S. E. 189.

Application by attorney of executor sufficient.— Piatt v. McCullough, 19 Fed. Cas. No. 11,113, 1 McLean 69.

A demand upon the administrator to sell is not a prerequisite to his right to petition for or the power of the court to order a sale. In re Roach, 139 Cal. 17, 72 Pac. 393.

The Texas act of 1843, providing that the representative should not be required to sell property of the estate except upon application of a creditor or some one of the persons mentioned in the act, did not inhibit the administrator from applying for an order for the sale of the real property of an estate when necessary for the payment of debts, etc., nor did it inhibit the court from granting such order on the application of an administrator (Allen v. Clark, 21 Tex. 404; Alexander v. Maverick, 18 Tex. 179, 67 Am. Dec. 693 [explaining Miller v. Miller, 10 Tex. 319]), although he might have been exempted from liability for failure to procure an order of sale (Allen v. Clark, 21 Tex. 404).

Bill to remove cloud on title see McCaa v. Russom, 52 Miss. 639.

Person acting as administrator without authority.— A sale of the real estate of a decedent under an order of the probate court granted upon the application of a person assuming to act as administrator de bonis non, but whose appointment was void because there was no vacancy, has been held void. Sitzman v. Pacquette, 13 Wis. 291; Humes v. Cox, 1 Pinn. (Wis.) 551.

Estoppel.— Where the administrator joins the heirs in a petition to sell land for partition, admitting that he has personal assets sufficient to pay the debts, he cannot afterward subject the land itself to the payment of the debts. Livingston v. Noe, 1 Lea (Tenn.) 55.

The administrator's consent to a sale of the land by the heirs does not divest the creditor of his right to have his debt made out of the land, nor estop the administrator from procuring an order of sale to pay such creditor. Moore v. Moore, 155 Ind. 261, 57 N. E. 242; Baker v. Griffitt, 83 Ind. 411; Moncrief v. Moncrief, 73 Ind. 587.

34. Compelling exercise of power of sale under will see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (I), (1).

35. Clement v. Cozart, 109 N. C. 173, 13 S. E. 862; Kitchenman's Estate, 15 Phila. (Pa.) 519. See also Sinclair v. McBryde, 88 N. C. 438. Compare Hutchinson's Estate, 10 Pa. Co. Ct. 592.

Time for proceeding.— No definite rule can be laid down as to the time within which a creditor must initiate proceedings to compel a personal representative to proceed to subject realty to the payment of debts of his decedent. Ferguson v. Scott, 49 Miss. 500. In New York a creditor may at any time institute such proceedings and require the personal representative to show cause why he should not be ordered to sell the real estate, and the statute expressly prohibits him from assigning as cause "that the time within

2. Creditors. In most jurisdictions creditors of the decedent have the right to apply for an order directing the sale of the decedent's realty for the payment of debts, especially when the representative neglects or refuses to do so,[36] although which he is allowed to sell the same has expired." Ferguson v. Broome, 1 Bradf. Surr. 10.

If there is not enough money in the estate to pay the costs, the representative will not be required to advance them, but if a creditor is willing to advance the costs or indemnify the representative, he will be ordered to proceed. Kitchenman's Estate, 15 Phila. (Pa.) 519.

Property fraudulently conveyed by decedent. — An administrator cannot be compelled to proceed to sell property fraudulently conveyed by his intestate. Bottorff v. Covert, 90 Ind. 508; Harrington v. Hatton, 129 N. C. 146, 39 S. E. 780.

Jurisdiction to compel co-representative to join in application. — A court of equity has no jurisdiction to compel a co-representative to join in a petition to the probate court for leave to sell real estate. The petitioner, if aggrieved, must seek his remedy in the probate court. Southwick v. Morrell, 121 Mass. 520.

36. Alabama.— Banks v. Speers, 103 Ala. 436, 16 So. 25; Fitzpatrick v. Edgar, 5 Ala. 499.

Arkansas.—Brown v. Hanauer, 48 Ark. 277, 3 S. W. 27.

California.— Roach's Estate, 139 Cal. 17, 72 Pac. 393; Cout's Estate, 87 Cal. 480, 25 Pac. 685 (holding that one whose claim against the executor for services to the estate has been allowed by the court may make application for the sale of land); Haynes v. Meeks, 20 Cal. 288.

Florida.— Anderson v. Northrup, 30 Fla. 612, 12 So. 318.

Illinois.— Young v. Wittenmyre, 122 Ill. 303, 14 N. E. 869 [reversing 22 Ill. App. 496]; Rowland v. Swope, 39 Ill. App. 514.

Indiana.—Whisnand v. Small, 65 Ind. 120; Nettleton v. Dixon, 2 Ind. 446.

Kansas.— Stratton v. McCandliss, 32 Kan. 512, 4 Pac. 1018.

Louisiana.—Winn's Succession, 30 La. Ann. 702 (only a creditor whose debt has been acknowledged); Dubuch v. Wildermuth, 3 La. Ann. 407; Porter's Succession, 5 Rob. 96. See also Jones v. Morgan, 6 La. Ann. 630. But see Mason v. Fuller, 12 La. Ann. 68.

Maryland.—McGaw v. Gortner, 96 Md. 489, 54 Atl. 133.

Michigan.— Roscoe v. McDonald, 91 Mich. 270, 51 N. W. 939; Ireland v. Miller, 71 Mich. 119 39 N. W. 16.

Mississippi.— Cheairs v. Cheairs, 81 Miss. 662, 33 So. 414, 60 L. R. A. 549, only when the claim is properly registered after being probated and allowed. See also Allen v. Hillman, 69 Miss. 225, 13 So. 871; Hargrove v. Baskin, 50 Miss. 194; Hollman v. Bennett, 44 Miss. 322; Evans v. Fisher, 40 Miss. 643.

Missouri.— Merritt v. Merritt, 62 Mo. 150.

New Mexico.— Albuquerque First Nat. Bank v. Lee, 8 N. M. 589, 45 Pac. 1114.

New York.— Kingsland v. Murray, 133 N. Y. 170, 30 N. E. 845; In re Bingham, 127 N. Y. 296, 27 N. E. 1055; Van Orden v. Krouse, 89 Hun 1, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 1004; Corwin's Estate, 10 Misc. 196, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 426.

North Carolina.— Clement v. Cozart, 109 N. C. 173, 13 S. E. 862; Wilson v. Pearson, 102 N. C. 290, 9 S. E. 707; Wilson v. Bynum, 92 N. C. 717; Ballard v. Kilpatrick, 71 N. C. 281; Pelletier v. Saunders, 67 N. C. 261; Wiley v. Wiley, 61 N. C. 131.

Pennsylvania.— Lukens' Estate, 10 Pa. Dist. 118; Martin's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 58 (application by widow to whom money due from estate); Johnson's Estate, 30 Pittsb. Leg. J. 365. But see In re Hutchinson, 9 Lanc. L. Rev. 24.

South Carolina.— Shaw v. Barksdale, 25 S. C. 204; Scruggs v. Foot, 19 S. C. 274; Bird v. Houze, Speers Eq. 250.

Tennessee.— Bird v. Key, 8 Baxt. 366; Dulles v. Read, 6 Yerg. 53; Jones v. Douglass, 1 Tenn. Ch. 631.

Texas.— Danzey v. Swinney, 7 Tex. 617.

Virginia.— Peirce v. Graham, 85 Va. 227, 7 S. E. 189.

Washington.—Prefontaine v. McMicken, 16 Wash. 16, 47 Pac. 231.

West Virginia.— A creditor may institute a suit for the sale of decedent's realty if the personal representative fails to institute such a suit within six months after his qualification. Reinhardt v. Reinhardt, 21 W. Va. 76.

Wisconsin.—Richter v. Leiby, 99 Wis. 512, 75 N. W. 82.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1346.

Creditors living in another state may proceed in Tennessee to have lands situated in the latter state sold to satisfy their debt notwithstanding there is property of the decedent in the state where the creditors live. Bird v. Key, 8 Baxt. (Tenn.) 366.

Mortgage creditors of a succession, although insolvent, are not bound to wait. They may require a sale of the mortgaged property for cash, provided its appraised value be obtained, and their wish must always prevail over that of the other creditors. Ogden's Succession, 10 Rob. (La.) 457; Porter's Succession, 5 Rob. (La.) 96.

Protection of unsecured creditors. — A petition for the sale of realty will be granted to protect the rights of the unsecured creditors, although the petitioners represent but a small proportion of the total indebtedness, and the executors will be directed to sell sufficient of the real estate to pay the balance due them, notwithstanding the executors have made every effort to sell at private sale, unless an agreement be filed, signed by all parties, that the lien of all the unsecured debts may be continued. Lukens' Estate, 10 Pa. Dist. 118.

Allowance of claim. — A creditor who has they may lose their rights in this respect by a lack of diligence in enforcing them or by waiving them and trying to secure payment in other ways.[37]

3. Other Persons Interested in Estate. In some jurisdictions any person who is interested in the estate may apply for an order of sale in case the executor or administrator fails to make application therefor;[38] accordingly it has been held that in a proper case application may be made by the heirs,[39] the legatees,[40] or the not obtained both an allowance of his claim by the administrator and an approval by the probate judge cannot maintain a proceeding in the probate court for the sale of land; and it seems that a proceeding commenced before such approval cannot be cured by a subsequent approval. Danzey v. Swinney, 7 Tex. 617.

Appeal from allowance.— A creditor whose claim has been allowed may bring an action, under the Wisconsin statute, to subject real estate or other assets not inventoried to sale, although an appeal has been taken from the allowance of his claim. Richter v. Leiby, 99 Wis. 512, 75 N. W. 82.

Legacy in payment for services.—An agreement by decedent to compensate a certain person for services to be rendered by a legacy does not constitute such person a creditor entitled to ask for the sale of lands for payment where such legacy has been made. Markley's Estate, 20 Phila. (Pa.) 175.

A creditor who has assigned his interest in a debt against decedent cannot institute proceedings in his own name for the sale of land, but the assignee, who is the real creditor, must institute the proceedings in his own name. Butler v. Emmett, 8 Paige (N. Y.) 12.

A judgment creditor, whose judgment is a subsisting lien upon the real estate of a deceased debtor as against the heirs at law, cannot institute proceedings before the surrogate to compel a sale of the real estate for the satisfaction of the judgment. Butler v. Emmett, 8 Paige (N. Y.) 12.

The petitioning creditor obtains no preference over other creditors whose claims are of equal dignity. Sinclair v. McBryde, 88 N. C. 438.

One whose claim is for funeral expenses is not a "creditor of the decedent," and therefore cannot maintain a proceeding for the sale of decedent's land to pay debts. Van Orden v. Krouse, 89 Hun (N. Y.) 1, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 1004; Matter of Corwin, 10 Misc. (N. Y.) 196, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 426.

Demand on representative not a prerequisite.— Roach's Estate, 139 Cal. 17, 72 Pac. 393.

Chancery has no inherent jurisdiction to decree a sale of land at the suit of a creditor unless he has some specific lien thereon, or it is specifically burdened by the testator with the debts. McPike v. Wells, 54 Miss. 136.

Claim not constituting debt.—Where a husband and wife contracted to give plaintiffs an option for six months on a certain tract of land lying outside the state, and within six months, but after the death of the husband, plaintiff elected to buy, but the wife and heirs of the husband refused to convey, it was held that as plaintiffs had not elected to buy during the husband's life, their claim for damages for refusal to convey was not a debt due from the husband, entitling them to sue for a sale of realty to pay debts under the Maryland statute. McGaw v. Gortner, 96 Md. 489, 54 Atl. 133.

37. Phelps v. Harris, 61 Miss. 705; Honeywell's Estate, 9 Kulp (Pa.) 340.

Loss of right to enforce claim against part of land.— Where the creditor who petitions for leave to sell or mortgage his deceased debtor's land omits certain land of the decedent from his notice of lis pendens, and thus, under the statute, loses his right to enforce his claim against such land, the remaining land should be released from liability in proportion to the value of the omitted land. In re Bingham, 127 N. Y. 296, 27 N. E. 1055.

When right not lost.— A decedent owed a certain amount for which a creditor held collateral. The account of the administrator recognized the claim as valid but stated that the creditor had agreed to compromise for half the amount of the claim if the collateral could be made available, otherwise his claim to be for the full amount. Pursuant to a decree, stating the creditor's claim at the amount agreed on for compromise, and directing a pro rata distribution of the assets, the creditor received payment on account of his claim and gave a receipt for his "distributive share" of his "claim against said estate." The collateral failed to realize enough to pay the amount due the creditor. It was held that neither the decree of distribution nor the receipt given by the creditor estopped him from resorting to the real estate for the collection of the whole amount remaining due him upon the full amount of his claim. Mead v. Jenkins, 38 Hun (N. Y.) 340.

38. Couts' Estate, 87 Cal. 480, 25 Pac. 685; Prefontaine v. McMicken, 16 Wash. 16, 47 Pac. 231.

39. Price v. Price, 16 L. J. Ch. 232, 15 Sim. 484, 38 Eng. Ch. 484. See also Johnson's Estate, 30 Pittsb. Leg. J. N. S. 365.

Whether all must concur.— Under a statute requiring a request by all parties in interest for an order to sell estate property for purposes of distribution, a sale cannot be directed when one heir asks therefor and the three remaining heirs object thereto. Krug's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 239. But under the Maryland statute of 1785 the chancellor could decree a sale of land upon the application of only a part of the heirs interested. Shriver v. Lynn, 2 How. (U. S.) 43, 11 L. ed. 172.

40. McKenzie v. L'Amoureux, 11 Barb. (N. Y.) 516; Cassady's Estate, 13 Phila.

widow.[41] It has been held that a suit to sell realty for the purpose of paying debts and saving the personalty from the demands of creditors for the benefit of the estate can be instituted only by one who as heir, devisee, or purchaser has an interest in the real estate proposed to be sold, and also an interest in the personal estate which it is proposed to save by the sale.[42] While the guardian of a minor may duly apply for a license to sell land in a suitable case, this standing is not so readily accorded to a mere guardian ad litem.[43]

D. Property or Interests Subject to Sale[44] — 1. In General. As a general rule under the statutes all a decedent's real estate may be sold for the payment of his debts,[45] but the court should not order a sale of property held by the decedent merely in trust and not in his own right.[46] An estate in reversion or remainder may be decreed to be sold for the payment of debts.[47] A crop upon the decedent's estate may be decreed to be sold in such manner as may seem reasonable and the interest of the estate may require.[48] The right to order a sale of property of a decedent is not affected by the fact that his interest therein was (Pa.) 383. See also Rodney v. Rodney, 12 Jur. 665, 16 Sim. 307, 39 Eng. Ch. 307.

Proceedings against lands charged with legacies must be by legatees themselves. Littleton's Appeal, 93 Pa. St. 177; Fields' Appeal, 36 Pa. St. 11.

41. King v. Kent, 29 Ala. 542; Reinhardt v. Seaman, 208 Ill. 448, 69 N. E. 847 (holding that the widow of a decedent is entitled to ask that his real estate other than the homestead be sold to pay the widow's award); Matter of O'Brien, 39 N. Y. App. Div. 321, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 925 (holding that where an executrix, who was also the widow of testator, and to whom all his property had been devised for her own use, and ultimately for that of her children, paid the debts and funeral expenses of testator, she had the right to enforce a lien for such debts against the realty of testator where the personalty was insufficient to pay the same, although she failed to procure the assignment of such debts to her); Martin's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 58 (widow with a claim as creditor); Heyer's Estate, 8 Kulp (Pa.) 107 (widow's claim for exemption). But compare Hull v. Hull, 26 W. Va. 1.

A widow whose dower has been assigned her cannot demand a sale of the lands for payment of the debts of others. Lawrence v. Brown, 5 N. Y. 394.

Estoppel.— A widow, by procuring the estate of her deceased husband to be settled as insolvent, accepting all the assets in lieu of her widow's award, and later conveying the real estate to one and assigning her allowance as an award to another, estops herself, and also her assignee, from having the real estate sold to pay the award. Brown v. Morgan, 84 Ill. App. 233.

42. Waring v. Waring, 2 Bland (Md.) 673.

43. Darby v. Anglin, 4 Hayw. (Tenn.) 244.

44. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (I), (H).

45. Spence v. Parker, 57 Ala. 196. See also Stillman v. Young, 16 Ill. 318; Edmiston v. Young, 17 Tex. 135.

Interests of minors.— The right of a court of probate or equity to order a sale of a decedent's real estate, where the statute gives due authority, is not affected by the fact that a minor is interested in the property as heir or devisee. Lange's Succession, 46 La. Ann. 1017, 15 So. 404; Leverett v. Harris, 7 Mass. 292. But see Whitman v. Fisher, 74 Ill. 147.

Escheated lands.— The orphans' court has no authority to order a sale of lands which have escheated to the state. Van Kleek v. O'Hanlon, 21 N. J. L. 582 [affirming 20 N. J. L. 31]. But compare Evans v. Brown, 5 Beav. 114, 6 Jur. 380, 11 L. J. Ch. 349, 49 Eng. Reprint 520. See Escheat, 16 Cyc. 557.

Where a valid sale has been made under order of court so as to divest both heirs and creditors of any further claim any order made afterward to sell the same land would not have the support of a rightful jurisdiction. Lindsay v. Jaffray, 55 Tex. 626. See also Brockenborough v. Melton, 55 Tex. 493.

Where part of land has been aliened by heirs.— Where lands descended are divided among the intestate's heirs, and some of the shares are aliened to bona fide purchasers before application is made to sell lands to pay debts of the estate, the unsold shares are liable not merely for their ratable proportion but for the entire indebtedness of the estate. The proper adjustment among the heirs is matter for separate suit. Maxwell v. Smith, 86 Tenn. 539, 8 S. W. 340.

46. Newell v. Montgomery, 129 Ill. 58, 21 N. E. 508 [affirming 30 Ill. App. 48].

Administration for payment of mortgage. — In order to enable A to raise the purchase-price of land which he had agreed to buy of several cotenants, they conveyed to B, one of their number, under a parol trust to procure a loan of the required amount, and then to convey to A subject to the mortgage. B procured the loan, but died before executing a deed to A. It was held that the land was subject to administration and sale as B's estate for the purpose of paying the mortgage debt, although all the other tenants, who were her heirs, had conveyed to A, also an heir, in accordance with the original agreement. Cooper v. Loughlin, 75 Tex. 524, 13 S. W. 37.

47. Williams v. Ratcliff, 42 Miss. 145.

48. Horn v. Grayson, 7 Port. (Ala.) 270.

only that of a cotenant,[49] although no more than the interest of the decedent can pass by such a sale;[50] and where the rule of survivorship deprives the decedent of all interest at his death, nothing remains which can be sold as part of his estate.[51] The fact that realty has been devised by the decedent does not deprive the court of jurisdiction to order a sale thereof,[52] nor does the fact that realty is leased for a certain period preclude its sale.[53] A bond held by a decedent at his death, although not yet due, is liable to be sold under a decree in equity to raise funds for the payment of his debts.[54] A vendor's lien is not an asset which is the subject of sale to pay debts.[55] The orphans' court has no power to decree a separation of fixtures from the realty and a sale of the fixtures as personalty.[56]

2. PROPERTY NOT OWNED BY DECEDENT AT HIS DEATH.[57] The probate court has ordinarily no jurisdiction to order a sale of land to which the decedent had no title whatever at the date of his death and whether such sale be through fraud or mistake it is void and must be set aside,[58] but where personalty not owned by decedent but found among his chattels at the time of his death is sold the sale

49. Roulston v. Washington, 79 Ala. 529; Spence v. Parker, 57 Ala. 196; Brennan v. Hill, 2 Rich. (S. C.) 599 note; Gates v. Irick, 2 Rich. (S. C.) 593.

A sale of a deceased partner's interest in partnership lands cannot be ordered before the partnership debts have been paid, and the accounts between the partners adjusted, although the surviving partner makes the application as administrator of the deceased partner. Roulston v. Washington, 79 Ala. 529. But see McCormick's Estate, 57 Pa. St. 54, 98 Am. Dec. 191.

The personal property of a deceased partner which is in the possession of the surviving partner, and constitutes a part of the firm property, cannot be sold by the decedent's executors under order of court. Auerbach's Estate, 23 Utah 529, 65 Pac. 488, 90 Am. St. Rep. 685.

50. McCormick's Appeal, 57 Pa. St. 54, 98 Am. Dec. 191.

51. See Walker's Estate, 1 Del. Co. (Pa.) 384.

52. Scales v. Curfman, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1898) 53 S. W. 755.

Improvements of devisee.— Where a devisee of a mill has added thereto machines and appliances with the intent and purpose of making them permanently a part thereof, and they have been made and used as a permanent part thereof, and are adapted to the purpose thereof, they may be sold as part thereof for the benefit of decedent's creditors. Richmond v. Freeman's Nat. Bank, 86 N. Y. App. Div. 152, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 632.

53. In re Brannan, (Cal. 1897) 51 Pac. 320.

Where the lease gives the lessee an option to purchase at the end of the term, the property cannot be sold during the term to pay debts of the deceased landlord. Magruder v. Hornot, 110 La. 585, 34 So. 696.

54. Grose v. McMullen, 2 Del. Ch. 227.

Indemnity bond.— The probate court has no jurisdiction to make an order authorizing an administrator to assign a bond of indemnity, given to his decedent as sheriff to indemnify him against claims of a third person to property levied on. McDermott v. Mitchell, 53 Cal. 616.

55. O'Connor v. Vineyard, 91 Tex. 488, 44 S. W. 485.

56. Walter's Estate, 10 Kulp (Pa.) 221.

57. As to property held or claimed adversely see infra, XII, D, 5.

58. Alabama.— Bishop v. Blair, 36 Ala. 80.

Indiana.— Edwards v. Beall, 75 Ind. 401.

Louisiana.— Beckham v. Henderson, 23 La. Ann. 446; Cresse v. Marigny, 4 Mart. 50.

Mississippi.— Ives v. Pierson, Freem. 220.

Pennsylvania.— Paul v. Squibb, 12 Pa. St. 292, although the widow, who was the true owner, supposed the property belonged to her husband's estate and instigated the sale.

Texas.— Miller v. Rogers, 49 Tex. 398.

United States.— Elliott v. Shuler, 50 Fed. 454.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1351.

Although the petition prays the sale of an entire tract if it is found by the court that the decedent owned part only of the tract it should have that part only appraised and sold. Ewing v. Higby, 7 Ohio 198, 28 Am. Dec. 633, holding that where the prayer was for the sale of an entire tract, but subsequently one fourth thereof was decreed to another person, and thereafter the court received the appraisement of an undivided three quarters of the tract only, and, reciting it, ordered all to be sold, this showed that the court meant all appraised, all belonging to the heirs after deducting the fourth interest of the other person.

Conveyance not recorded until after grantor's death.— Although a conveyance of land made in trust to secure an existing debt and future advances is not recorded till after the grantor's death, the title vests in the grantee as against creditors of decedent who did not attach the property during his life; and the executors have no power to sell the same for the payment of decedent's debts, under Mass. Pub. St. c. 134, § 2, as land "liable to attachment or execution by a creditor of the deceased in his lifetime." Edwards v. Barnes, 167 Mass. 205, 45 N. E. 351.

Property as to which decedent had power of appointment.— Where real estate was placed in the hands of a trustee to be con-will usually be upheld and the right of the true owner limited to the recovery of the proceeds of sale or at most of such damages as will indemnify him.[59] Land which a decedent has in his lifetime conveyed in fraud of creditors may be reached and made available by sale for the payment of creditors, the proceeding usually involving a judicial inquiry into the question of fraud as well as the necessity of resorting to the land.[60]

3. Lands Conveyed by Heir or Devisee. In some states a bona fide sale and conveyance of land belonging to a decedent by the heir or devisee gives the purchaser a title thereto superior to the rights of creditors of the decedent, whose sole remedy thereafter is an action against the heir or devisee for payment of the debt;[61] but under the general policy of modern legislation the land of a decedent veyed to A's appointee or in failure of an appointment to her heirs at law, and she died without making an appointment, it was held that as she had no legal title to the property it could not be sold in the ordinary course of administration, under a license, for the payment of her debts. Coverdale v. Aldrich, 19 Pick. (Mass.) 391.

Proof sufficient to show ownership.— On an application for the sale of lands to pay debts, proof of decedent's continuous occupancy, with open acts of ownership for more than twenty years, is sufficient proof of ownership in the absence of evidence that he did not enter or hold of his own right. Meadows v. Meadows, 78 Ala. 240.

Land belonging to representative.— In order to set aside a sale of lands belonging to the administrator on the ground that they were included in the conveyance by mistake, it must be shown that the parties did not intend the deed to operate as a conveyance in the personal as well as representative capacity of the administrator. Donaho v. Smith, 50 Iowa 218.

59. Waterhouse v. Bourke, 14 La. Ann. 358. See also Donaldson v. Rust, 6 Mart. (La.) 260, holding that the owner can claim the proceeds as he could have claimed the chattel had it not been sold, and need not claim as a creditor.

60. Indiana.— Bushnell v. Bushnell, 88 Ind. 403, land bought with decedent's money and deeded to another to defraud creditors.

Maine.— Brown v. Whitmore, 71 Me. 65; Wescott v. McDonald, 22 Me. 402, license to sell permitted under statute, whether such conveyance was merely fraudulent as to creditors or made with actual premeditated fraud.

Massachusetts.— Tyndale v. Stanwood, 182 Mass. 534, 66 N. E. 23. See also Willard v. Nason, 5 Mass. 240; Drinkwater v. Drinkwater, 4 Mass. 354.

New Hampshire.— Kingsbury v. Wild, 3 N. H. 30.

North Carolina.— Harrington v. Hatton, 129 N. C. 146, 39 S. E. 780 (except when sale would interfere with rights of innocent purchasers); Mannix v. Ihrie, 76 N. C. 299; Waugh v. Blevins, 68 N. C. 167.

Ohio.— Spoors v. Coen, 44 Ohio St. 497, 9 N. E. 132; Webster v. Ballard, 4 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 419, 2 Clev. L. Rep. 137.

Vermont.— McLane v. Johnson, 43 Vt. 48, resort must be had to a court of chancery to perfect and clear the title.

Wisconsin.— See Allen v. McRae, 91 Wis. 226, 64 N. W. 889, land purchased and paid for by decedent, but title taken in name of third person.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1352.

Where creditors procure the setting aside of a deed of the decedent on the ground that it is fraudulent as against them, the administrator may treat the property thus uncovered as assets of the estate and sell the same under order of court. St. Francis Mill Co. v. Sugg, 169 Mo. 130, 69 S. W. 359 [distinguishing Zoll v. Soper, 75 Mo. 460; Hall v. Callahan, 66 Mo. 316; George v. Williamson, 26 Mo. 190, 72 Am. Dec. 203]. But see Schultz's Succession, 39 La. Ann. 505, 2 So. 47.

Where the personal estate is sufficient to pay all debts and charges, except for certain debts secured by a mortgage on the decedent's lands, there is no occasion for and no right in the administrator to subject to the payment of such mortgage debts other lands conveyed by his intestate during his lifetime, on the allegation of fraud as against creditors. McCall v. Pixley, 48 Ohio St. 379, 27 N. E. 887.

Where the widow and administratrix had joined her deceased husband in a simulated transfer of property subject to a certain mortgage to a nominal buyer, who formally recognized the mortgage in the transfer, she could not afterward have the property sold as a part of her husband's succession, to the prejudice of the mortgage creditor. Tabary's Succession, 31 La. Ann. 409.

Sale for full value.— Where the decedent, against whom docketed judgments existed, sold land at its value, the probate court has no power to order a sale of such land by the personal representative to pay the claims of the judgment creditors. Heck v. Williams, 79 N. C. 437.

61. Alabama.— Beadle v. Steele, 86 Ala. 413, 5 So. 169; Bell v. Craig, 52 Ala. 215.

Georgia.— Shipp v. Gibbs, 88 Ga. 184, 14 S. E. 196.

Illinois.— Ryan v. Jones, 15 Ill. 1.

Mississippi.— Westbrook v. Munger, 64 Miss. 575, 1 So. 750.

South Carolina.— Stackhouse v. Wheeler, 17 S. C. 91.

Tennessee.— Smith v. Thomas, 14 Lea 324.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1353.

remains subject to a lien or a cloud upon the title pending the full administration of his estate or for a fixed period, and it remains during such time liable to be sold for the payment of the decedent's debts or such claims as the statute may have included notwithstanding any sale by the heir or devisee.[62]

4. Inchoate and Equitable Titles. An inchoate and equitable title in the decedent passing to his heirs or devisees may be sold under a decree of the probate court,[63] but where there is at most a slight or merely an apparent equity and no really valuable interest in the decedent or his heirs the court should refuse to order a sale.[64] As a rule the right to perfect a decedent's inchoate title to or interest in public land goes to his heirs, and the executor or administrator cannot sell under order of court the patent or the lands which have been patented to the heirs.[65]

62. Connecticut.— Griswold v. Bigelow, 6 Conn. 258.

Indiana.— Smith v. Gorham, 119 Ind. 436, 21 N. E. 1096; Baker v. Griffitt, 83 Ind. 411; Weakley v. Conradt, 56 Ind. 430.

Michigan.—Ireland v. Miller, 71 Mich. 119, 39 N. W. 16.

New Jersey.—Warwick v. Hunt, 11 N. J. L. 1; Cooper v. Cooper, 5 N. J. Eq. 498.

New York.— Dodge v. Stevens, 105 N. Y. 585, 12 N. E. 759 [reversing 40 Hun 443].

North Carolina.— Donoho v. Patterson, 70 N. C. 649.

Ohio.— Sidener v. Hawes, 37 Ohio St. 532; Faran v. Robinson, 17 Ohio St. 242, 93 Am. Dec. 617.

Pennsylvania.— Mohler's Appeal, 8 Pa. St. 26.

Texas.— Edmiston v. Long, 17 Tex. 135.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1353.

A previous partition sale does not divest the surrogate of power to order a sale to pay debts of the deceased within three years after the granting of letters of administration. Hall v. Partridge, 10 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 188.

63. Alabama.— Jones v. Woodstock Iron Co., 95 Ala. 551, 10 So. 635; Roulston v. Washington, 79 Ala. 529; Spence v. Parker, 57 Ala. 196; Inman v. Gibbs, 47 Ala. 305; Vaughan v. Holmes, 22 Ala. 593; Jennings v. Jenkins, 9 Ala. 285; Evans v. Mathews, 8 Ala. 99.

Kentucky.— Peebles v. Watts, 9 Dana 102, 33 Am. Dec. 531.

Missouri.— Howell v. Jump, 140 Mo. 441, 41 S. W. 976; Jackson v. Magruder, 51 Mo. 55; Valle v. Bryan, 19 Mo. 423.

Ohio.— Biggs v. Bickel, 12 Ohio St. 49.

Pennsylvania.— Horner's Appeal, 56 Pa. St. 405.

Wisconsin.— See Allen v. McRae, 91 Wis. 226, 64 N. W. 889.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1354.

Contra, under a statute authorizing the sale of real estate of which the decedent "died seized." Livingston v. Livingston, 3 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 148.

Redemption from execution sale by third person.— The failure of an administrator to redeem property sold under execution sale and the redemption thereof by one who had no power to redeem does not preclude the administrator from obtaining an order to sell such property to pay the debts of his decedent. Jarrell v. Brubaker, 150 Ind. 260, 49 N. E. 1050.

Where the administrator pays the balance of the purchase-price of property and takes a conveyance in the name of the heirs, the court has no jurisdiction to subsequently order a sale of the land. Jones v. Woodstock Iron Co., 95 Ala. 551, 10 So. 635.

64. Alabama.—Vaughan v. Holmes, 22 Ala. 593; Mounger v. Barks, 17 Ala. 48; Brown v. Chambers, 12 Ala. 697.

Kansas.—Amos v. Livingston, 26 Kan. 106.

Massachusetts.— Caverly v. Eastman, 142 Mass. 4, 7 N. E. 33.

New York.— Goodwin v. Nelin, 2 Abb. Dec. 258, 4 Transcr. App. 369, 35 How. Pr. 402.

Ohio.— Tiernan v. Beam, 2 Ohio 383, 15 Am. Dec. 557.

Tennessee.—Milligan v. Humbard, 11 Heisk. 137, holding that the seizin of a person in possession of land under a title bond which chancery has refused to specifically execute is not such as to entitle his executor or administrator to sell it for payment of debts.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1354.

A sale of the "right to redeem" from a mortgage conveys nothing to the purchaser, since it is a sale of a mere personal privilege, and not of an interest in land subject to sale for the payment of decedent's debts. Rainey v. McQueen, 121 Ala. 121, 25 So. 920.

65. Alabama.— Burns v. Hamilton, 33 Ala. 210, 70 Am. Dec. 570; Cothran v. McCoy, 33 Ala. 65.

California.— Hartley v. Brown, 46 Cal. 201.

Kansas.— Coulson v. Wing, 42 Kan. 507, 22 Pac. 570, 16 Am. St. Rep. 503; Rogers v. Clemmans, 26 Kan. 522.

Louisiana.— Stanbrough v. Wilson, 13 La. Ann. 494.

Texas.— East v. Dugan, 79 Tex. 329, 15 S. W. 273; Harwood v. Wylie, 70 Tex. 538, 7 S. W. 789 (holding that where it appears after the sale of land by order of court that no certificate severing the land from the public domain was located or filed thereon until eight months after the sale the purchaser acquires no title); Turner v. Hart, 10 Tex. 438 (conditional head-right certificate not susceptible of sale under order of court for grantee's debts). But see Soye v. Maverick, 18 Tex. 100.

5. Property Held or Claimed Adversely. The court should not order a sale of property which is held by a person claiming a title adverse to the decedent,[66] but the representative must first recover possession.[67] If there be a clear, outstanding legal title adverse to the estate, the court may refuse an order of sale,[68] although if there be reasonable cause for doubt, the proper course is to permit the sale and let the question be tested by the court having jurisdiction of the subject-matter.[69] When at the time of his death the legal title to real estate was in the decedent, his personal representative may rightfully treat it as his property, and if necessary for the payment of debts petition for its sale, and whoever challenges his right to sell may fairly be charged with the burden of proof;[70] but on the other hand, when the legal title was not in the decedent, and the representative seeks to subject to the payment of decedent's debts property which apparently belongs to another, the burden of proving that the decedent had an interest in such property is upon the representative.[71]

6. Homestead. The court cannot decree a sale of the homestead for the payment of a decedent's debts,[72] unless it is made to appear that the debt for which the sale is ordered accrued before the homestead right was acquired by the decedent,[73]

Washington.—Towner v. Rodegeb, 33 Wash. 153, 74 Pac. 50, 99 Am. St. Rep. 936.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1355.

Contra.— Hawkins v. Hulburd, 10 Ohio 178; Moore v. Moore, 11 Humphr. (Tenn.) 512; Jackson v. Astor, 1 Pinn. (Wis.) 137, 39 Am. Dec. 281. And see Prevo v. Walters, 5 Ill. 35.

66. Harris v. Cole, 114 Ga. 295, 40 S. E. 271; Lowe v. Bivins, 112 Ga. 341, 37 S. E. 374; Hall v. Armor, 68 Ga. 449; Weitman v. Thiot, 64 Ga. 11; Tongue v. Morton, 6 Harr. & J. (Md.) 21; Libby v. Christy, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 465. Contra, Barney v. Cuttler, 1 Root (Conn.) 489; Mercier v. Sterlin, 5 La. 472 (where possession of third person illegal); Knowles v. Blodgett, 15 R. I. 463, 8 Atl. 691, 2 Am. St. Rep. 913 (where decedent died seized of the land in question).

Possession of heirs.— Where the heirs of an intestate, on his death, enter into possession of land which he owned, such possession is in their own right, and is adverse to that of an administrator subsequently appointed, within Ga. Civ. Code, § 3547, providing that an administrator must first recover possession before he can sell the property of his intestate held adversely by a third person. Davitte v. Southern R. Co., 108 Ga. 665, 34 S. E. 327.

Court will rather direct bringing of suit to test title. Libby v. Christy, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 465.

67. Lowe v. Bivins, 112 Ga. 341, 37 S. E. 374; Davith v. Southern R. Co., 108 Ga. 665, 34 S. E. 327.

68. Public Administrator v. Burdell, 4 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 252.

69. Martin v. Bond, 64 Nebr. 868, 90 N. W. 910; Public Administrator v. Burdell, 4 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 252; Walker's Estate, 23 Pa. Co. Ct. 657; Bloodheart's Estate, 2 Pa. Co. Ct. 476.

If the sale would be made at a disadvantage by reason of a controversy over the title, it is proper to stay further proceedings until the parties have had an opportunity of determining the title in a court of competent jurisdiction; but if the creditors insist upon selling all of the interest of the decedent after proper time has been allowed for instituting a suit to determine the title in another court, the sale will be ordered. Hewitt v. Hewitt, 3 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 265.

70. Amos v. Livingston, 26 Kan. 106.

71. Amos v. Livingston, 26 Kan. 106.

72. Illinois.— Oettinger v. Specht, 162 Ill. 179, 44 N. E. 399; Hartman v. Schultz, 101 Ill. 437. But see Virgin v. Virgin, 91 Ill. App. 188 [affirmed in 189 Ill. 144, 59 N. E. 586], sale with assent of widow.

Mississippi.— Smith v. Wells, 46 Miss. 64.

Nebraska.—Tindall v. Peterson, (1904) 98 N. W. 688, 99 N. W. 659.

North Carolina.— Hinsdale v. Williams, 75 N. C. 430.

Ohio.— See Bliss v. Fuhrman, 6 Ohio Cir. Ct. 203, 3 Ohio Cir. Dec. 416.

Texas.— Yarboro v. Brewster, 38 Tex. 397; Cummins v. Denton, 1 Tex. Unrep. Cas. 181; Trammell v. Neal, 1 Tex. Unrep. Cas. 51.

Utah.— Cain v. Young, 1 Utah 361.

Wisconsin.— Howe v. McGivern, 25 Wis. 525.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1361.

Setting off homestead — Allowance in lieu of.— On a proceeding by an administrator to sell land of the decedent to pay debts under Ohio Rev. St. § 5437, the widow, if the owner of a homestead, is entitled to have it set off by metes and bounds, as provided by section 5438, but is not entitled in lieu thereof to an allowance of five hundred dollars under section 5441; that section authorizing such an allowance only where the widow is not the owner of a homestead. Bliss v. Fuhrman, 6 Ohio Cir. Ct. 203, 3 Ohio Cir. Dec. 416.

An order for a sale of the homestead is not void, although it is erroneous, and it cannot be attacked even by direct proceedings, the remedy being by appeal. Sigmond v. Bebber, 104 Iowa 431, 73 N. W. 1027.

73. See Kelsay v. Frazier, 78 Mo. 111; Daudt v. Harmon, 16 Mo. App. 203; Gamble and in some cases even the power to sell subject to the homestead right has been denied.[74]

7. Encumbered Property. As a general rule the court has power to order a sale of property which is mortgaged or otherwise encumbered, subject to the encumbrance,[75] and in some jurisdictions a sale may be ordered free of the lien of such encumbrances, provision being made for their payment out of the proceeds.[76]

8. Lands Subject to Interest of Surviving Spouse. As a general rule the reversionary interest in land subject to the widow's dower may be sold for pay-

v. Watterson, 83 N. C. 573; Howe v. McGivern, 25 Wis. 525.

The burden of proof is on one claiming under an administrator's deed of a homestead to show that the debt for payment of which it was sold was contracted before the homestead right was acquired. Kelsay v. Frazier, 78 Mo. 111.

When unconditional sale proper.— Where the debts contracted by decedent before the adoption of the homestead exemption law exceed the value of the personalty an unconditional sale should be ordered, and it is error to discriminate in the order of sale between debts incurred before and after the passage of the homestead law, as such discrimination if exercised at all must be exercised when the proceeds of the land sold are brought into court for distribution. Gamble v. Watterson, 83 N. C. 573.

It must appear from the records of the probate court that the order was to sell for a debt that accrued before the homestead was acquired in order to divest heirs of their homestead rights by an administrator's sale. Daudt v. Harmon, 16 Mo. App. 203; Howe v. McGivern, 25 Wis. 525.

Presumption in favor of order of sale see Phillips v. James, 115 Ga. 425, 41 S. E. 663.

Jurisdiction of probate court in case of mortgage.— The probate court cannot make an order of sale of the homestead of a deceased husband to satisfy a valid mortgage executed before the declaration of homestead. His remedy is in the district court. In re Orr, 29 Cal. 101.

74. Oettinger v. Specht, 162 Ill. 179, 44 N. E. 399; Hartman v. Schultz, 101 Ill. 437; Hinsdale v. Williams, 75 N. C. 430. Contra, Williams v. O'Neal, 119 Ga. 175, 45 S. E. 978; Keene v. Wyatt, 160 Mo. 1, 60 S. W. 1037, 63 S. W. 116; Derge v. Hill, 103 Mo. App. 281, 77 S. W. 105.

The value of the homestead above the exemption is liable for the satisfaction of claims allowed against the estate where title was in the decedent at the time of his death. W. J. Perry Live Stock Commission Co. v. Biggs, (Nebr. 1903) 94 N. W. 712.

75. Bolling v. Jones, 67 Ala. 508; Perkins v. Winter, 7 Ala. 855; In re Braman, (Cal. 1897) 51 Pac. 320 (sale subject to lease); Kenley v. Bryan, 110 Ill. 652; Phelps v. Funkhouser, 39 Ill. 401; Fudge v. Fudge, 23 Kan. 416.

The bringing of an action to foreclose on a decedent's real estate in the court of common pleas does not prevent an action by his administrator in the probate court to sell the same property to pay debts unless the administrator is made a party to the former action. Bateman v. Morris, 7 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 287, 4 Ohio N. P. 397.

Such a decree can only be made in a creditor's suit, and an implied power of sale in the executor, arising from a direction in the will to pay debts, will not enable the court to direct the sale of the mortgaged estate, if it cannot make a decree for foreclosure. Bolton v. Stannard, 4 Jur. N. S. 576, 27 L. J. Ch. 845, 6 Wkly. Rep. 570.

Payment of encumbrances with funds raised on new mortgage.— Where an executor and devisee paid off mortgages on the real estate devised to him with funds raised by new mortgages and the assets proved insufficient to pay the debts of the estate the surrogate had no power to direct the sale of the real estate for the payment of the debts subject to the amounts which would have been due on the original mortgages if not paid. Jackson v. Holladay, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 379.

Pledged property.— A sale of a savings-bank book delivered to a third person by a deceased creditor as security for a debt will not be decreed. Boynton v. Payrow, 67 Me. 587.

76. Virgin v. Virgin, 91 Ill. App. 188 [affirmed in 189 Ill. 144, 59 N. E. 586]; Ihmsen's Estate, 29 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 218; Shahan v. Shahan, 48 W. Va. 447, 37 S. E. 552, 86 Am. St. Rep. 68.

Sale discharged of homestead and dower.— The probate court has power with the assent in writing of the widow to direct that the lands be sold free and discharged from homestead estate and right of dower, and after such sale to ascertain the value of such estate and right, and order the same paid out of the proceeds. Virgin v. Virgin, 91 Ill. App. 188 [affirmed in 189 Ill. 144, 59 N. E. 586].

Consent of mortgagee to sale free of mortgage.— In a creditors' suit for the administration of real estate subject to a mortgage having priority to the claims of creditors a sale of the estate free from the mortgage cannot be directed without the consent of the mortgagee whether he is a party to the suit or not. If, however, the mortgagee is a party to the suit the direction will not be made in the common alternative form that the property shall be sold free from his security if he concurs in the sale and subject to it if he does not concur, but the court will require him to elect at once whether he will concur or not. Wickenden v. Rayson, 6 De G. M.

ment of the decedent's debts before the dower interest has expired, although the dower itself cannot be defeated ;[77] but in some states the rule is somewhat different as to the statutory interest which the widow takes in her deceased husband's estate.[78] The curtesy estate has been considered to be subject to be defeated by the necessity for a sale of the land to pay the debts of the decedent.[79]

9. Marshaling. In determining what land shall be sold, where a sale of all is not necessary, or in fixing the order in which the various parcels shall be sold, where it is doubtful whether or not a sale of all is necessary, the doctrine of marshaling assets, with certain modifications and extensions rendered necessary by the circumstances of the case, is usually held applicable.[80]

& G. 210, 25 L. J. Ch. 162, 4 Wkly. Rep. 39, 55 Eng. Ch. 165, 43 Eng. Reprint 1212.

77. Delaware.—Doe v. Wright, 2 Houst. 49.

Illinois.— Oettinger v. Specht, 162 Ill. 179, 44 N. E. 399; Kenley v. Bryan, 110 Ill. 652.

Indiana.— See Hutchinson v. Lemcke, 107 Ind. 121, 8 N. E. 71, recognizing this rule as existing prior to the statute of 1852. For present rule in this state see infra, note 78.

Massachusetts.—Leverett v. Armstrong, 15 Mass. 26, construing the provincial act of 1696 (8 Wm. III), chapter 37.

New York.— Maples v. Howe, 3 Barb. Ch. 611.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1363; and infra, XII, T, 2, b.

Dower interest cannot be sold for payment of husband's debts see 14 Cyc. 925 note 99.

Assignment of dower before sale.— When the widow is a defendant in a suit brought to subject the realty of a decedent to the payment of his debts, and she has not elected to take the value of her dower in money, her dower should be assigned before an out-and-out sale of the realty is decreed. McKittrick v. McKittrick, 43 W. Va. 117, 27 S. E. 303.

Payment to widow to release dower.— An administrator cannot, as a matter of law, recover from an estate the sum he has paid the widow to release her right of dower in lands sold by him under a probate license; the statute does not empower him to make any such arrangement, and under the license the purchaser can buy only the interest of the estate. Needham v. Belote, 39 Mich. 487.

78. Under the Indiana statute the court cannot order a sale of the portion of the real estate which the widow owns by reason of her marital rights for the purpose of paying the debts of the decedent (Lewis v. Watkins, 150 Ind. 108, 49 N. E. 944; Bumb v. Gard, 107 Ind. 575, 8 N. E. 713; Hutchinson v. Lemcke, 107 Ind. 121, 8 N. E. 71; Compton v. Pruitt, 88 Ind. 171; Armstrong v. Cavitt, 78 Ind. 476), and if her interest is sold for the purpose of paying a debt secured by mortgage on the land, she is entitled as against creditors to be reimbursed for the full value of her share out of the personal assets of the estate (Lewis v. Watkins, supra).

Under the Minnesota statute the undivided third of the real estate that goes to the widow is a part of the decedent's estate subject to the payment of his debts and a license to sell for that purpose "the interest of said estate" in certain lands will cover the widow's third. Scott v. Wells, 55 Minn. 274, 56 N. W. 828.

79. Bennett v. Camp, 54 Vt. 36. See also Berluchy's Estate, 1 Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 225. But compare Casler v. Gray, 159 Mo. 588, 60 S. W. 1032.

In Ohio it has been said that there is no power in the probate court to sell the property free of the husband's curtesy against his will. Pirmann v. Gerhold, Ohio Prob. 142. But see Clark v. Harlan, Ohio Prob. 106.

80. See the following cases:

Alabama.— Matheson v. Hearin, 29 Ala. 210; Couch v. Campbell, 6 Port. 262.

Arkansas.— Howell v. Duke, 40 Ark. 102, holding that the purchaser of land from the heir of a deceased intestate is entitled, on a petition by the administrator to sell lands to pay debts, to have the unsold land first applied thereto.

Maryland.— Spencer v. Pearce, 10 Gill & J. 294, holding that where the land of a deceased debtor is decreed to be sold for the payment of his debts upon the application of a creditor whose claim is for the purchase-money of certain land bought by such debtor, the land so purchased should be first sold.

Massachusetts.— Hays v. Jackson, 6 Mass. 149, holding that where a testator directed his debts to be paid, made a specific devise of certain lands, and gave over the residuum, and died seized of real estate acquired after making the will and which did not pass thereby, upon the application of executors for license to sell real estate for the payment of debts the lands not included in the specific devise and which would otherwise fall into the residuum should be sold first and the after-acquired lands next.

New York.— Pelletreau v. Smith, 30 Barb. 494 (holding that undevised lands should be ordered sold for the payment of debts before those specifically devised; but the surrogate has no power to order the money to be raised out of an undevised remainder, although the clear intent of the statute is that the devised life-estate shall be exonerated); Eddy v. Traver, 6 Paige 521, 31 Am. Dec. 261 (holding that where an heir has conveyed a part of the real estate of a decedent which descended to him, before the debts of the decedent are paid, the surrogate may direct the land still belonging to the heir to be first sold for the payment of such debts so as to protect the equitable rights of the purchaser).

North Carolina.— Camp Mfg. Co. v. Liver-

E. Amount to Be Sold — 1. In General. Where a decedent's lands are in separate lots or parcels, or are otherwise easily capable of separation, a probate decree for a sale to pay debts should as a general rule be limited to so much as will satisfy the valid debts.[81] But the court is usually allowed an ample discretion as to decreeing the sale of the whole or any part of a decedent's realty as may be deemed suitable or as the best interest of the estate may require; the scope and expression of its license to sell, determining the rights of all concerned in the premises.[82] If the representative sells more than he was authorized to sell by the order or license of the court the sale is void.[83]

2. Entire Interest of Decedent. Upon a sale of land by an executor or admin-man, 123 N. C. 7, 31 S. E. 346, holding that where a testator devised only a part of his estate, and as to this gave a life-estate to his wife with remainder over, in selling property to pay debts the undevised property should be sold first, then, in case more was needed, the devised property subject to the life-estate, and last the life-estate.

Pennsylvania.— In re Cowden, 1 Pa. St. 267, holding that where lands are sold to satisfy the debts of the devisee, such lands being subject to the charge of certain legacies not yet due, the purchasers thereof are substituted to the right of the lien creditors making the sale and entitled to demand that such charge be made upon those parcels upon which the liens of the selling creditors attached last and so on in inverse order of their creation.

Tennessee.— Erck v. Erck, 107 Tenn. 77, 63 S. W. 1122, holding that where, in a proceeding to sell land of a decedent, consisting of vacant lots and an undivided interest in a storehouse, to pay debts it appeared that the vacant lots were insufficient to pay the debts and that it was to the interest of the estate to sell the undivided interest instead of the vacant lots it was not error to so order.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1364.

81. Connecticut.— Lockwood v. Sturdevant, 6 Conn. 373.

Illinois.— Harris v. Hogle, 37 Ill. 150, 87 Am. Dec. 243, holding that it is error to license an executor to sell so much real estate as he may deem for the best interest of the estate.

Indiana.— Black v. Meek, Smith 131.

Kentucky.— Gill v. Givin, 4 Metc. 197.

Louisiana.— Dumestre's Succession, 40 La. Ann. 571, 4 So. 328.

Maine.— Wakefield v. Campbell, 20 Me. 393, 37 Am. Dec. 60.

Massachusetts.—Litchfield v. Cudworth, 15 Pick. 23.

Mississippi.— Champion v. Cayce, 54 Miss. 695.

New Hampshire.— Adams v. Morrison, 4 N. H. 166, 17 Am. Dec. 406.

New York.— Matter of Georgi, 21 Misc. 419, 47 N. Y. Suppl. 1061.

Ohio.— Ewing v. Higby, 7 Ohio 198, 28 Am. Dec. 633.

Pennsylvania.— Bailey's Appeal, 2 Grant 225.

Tennessee.— Crippen v. Crippen, 1 Head 128.

Texas.— Wells v. Mills, 22 Tex. 302

Virginia.— Peirce v. Graham, 85 Va. 227, 7 S. E. 189.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1365.

A sale of enough to pay incidental charges attending the sale may be authorized. Dean v. Dean, 3 Mass. 258.

The title of a purchaser for value is not affected by the fact that the proceeds of sale exceed the decedent's debts. Comstock v. Crawford, 3 Wall. (U. S.) 396, 18 L. ed. 34. But compare Louisville Banking Co. v. Pranger, 68 S. W. 632, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 408, holding that a judicial sale of the lands of a deceased person to pay his debts is void, as to infant heirs, where more land is sold than is necessary to pay the debts of the ancestor, unless the property is indivisible.

82. Connecticut.— Buel's Appeal, 60 Conn. 63, 22 Atl. 488.

Georgia.— Wellborn v. Rogers, 24 Ga. 558.

Illinois.— Bowles v. Rouse, 8 Ill. 409.

Indiana.— Black v. Meek, Smith 131.

Kentucky.— Turner v. Turner, 33 S. W. 1102, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 1203.

Massachusetts.— Tenney v. Poor, 14 Gray 500, 77 Am. Dec. 340; Sewall v. Raymond, 7 Metc. 454.

Michigan.—Norman v. Olney, 64 Mich. 553, 31 N. W. 555.

New Jersey.— State v. Conover, 9 N. J. L. 338.

New York.— In re Dolan, 88 N. Y. 309, holding that a sale of more land than is necessary to pay debts may be ordered if the judge deems that a sale of less will be prejudicial to heirs or devisees.

North Carolina.— Tillett v. Aydlett, 90 N. C. 551.

Pennsylvania.— Stiver's Appeal, 56 Pa. St. 9.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1365.

Abuse of discretion not available to purchasers.— In re Dolan, 88 N. Y. 309.

83. Lockwood v. Sturdevant, 6 Conn. 373; Wakefield v. Campbell, 20 Me. 393, 37 Am. Dec. 60; Gregson v. Tuson, 153 Mass. 325, 26 N. E. 874; Litchfield v. Cudworth, 15 Pick. (Mass.) 23; Adams v. Morrison, 4 N. H. 166, 17 Am. Dec. 406.

Adjoining strip properly sold with farm.— An executor, having had his petition to sell the "M farm" of deceased granted, properly included in his sale thereof, by the acre, a small strip, outside the old surveys to the istrator for the payment of the debts, all the decedent's interest therein should be sold, subject only to encumbrances existing at the time of his death.[84]

F. Payment or Security to Prevent Sale. The heirs or legatees, or those interested in the estate, have ordinarily a right to furnish the necessary money for the payment of the decedent's debts and thus remove the cloud upon their title to the land arising out of its liability to be sold for the debts,[85] and as a general rule no decree of sale should be made for the payment of debts without giving them a reasonable opportunity to pay the debts and thus avoid a sale.[86] The heirs or legatees may also under the statutes of some states prevent a sale of the realty by giving a bond for the payment of debts.[87] An offer in a pleading to

M farm, but title to which was acquired by the owner of that farm, by adverse possession, by including it with and occupying it as part of that farm. In re Smith, 188 Pa. St. 222, 41 Atl. 542.

84. Louisiana.— Le Boeuf v. Webre, 40 La. Ann. 380, 4 So. 223, sale of undivided half improper where decedent owned the entire tract.

Maine.— Hasty v. Johnson, 3 Me. 282.

Michigan.— Hewitt v. Durant, 78 Mich. 186, 44 N. W. 318 (holding that a sale subject to mortgages created after decedent's death or interests created by his will is void); Daly's Appeal, 47 Mich. 443, 11 N. W. 262; Eberstein v. Oswalt, 47 Mich. 254, 10 N. W. 360.

New Hampshire.— Braley v. Simonds, 61 N. H. 369, holding that nothing passes by a sale pursuant to a license of court, as of the decedent's equity of redemption in lands, where he died seized of the unencumbered fee.

Texas.— Kalteyer v. Wipff, (Civ. App. 1899) 49 S. W. 1055.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1366.

85. Indiana.— Davis v. Kendall, 161 Ind. 412, 68 N. E. 894.

Louisiana.— Hearsey v. Bates, 36 La. Ann. 300, where claims are not urgent.

New Hampshire.— See Prescott v. Walker, 16 N. H. 340.

Ohio.— Corey v. Hayes, 13 Ohio Cir. Ct. 185, 7 Ohio Cir. Dec. 272.

Pennsylvania.— Sager v. Mead, 171 Pa. St. 349, 33 Atl. 355.

Virginia.— Menefee v. Marge, (1888) 4 S. E. 726.

West Virginia.— Hart v. Hart, 31 W. Va. 688, 8 S. E. 562.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1367.

The mere payment to an executor by a devisee of the amount of the decedent's debts will not discharge the land of deceased from the lien of creditors' claims. Hunt v. Moore, 2 Pa. St. 105.

Payment by heir or devisee of his share of debts.— In a New Hampshire case, where a testator devised all his real estate to his two sons in severalty, and upon the executor's obtaining leave to sell real estate to pay debts, one of the sons paid his half of the debts, the executor's action in selling only such real estate as had been devised to the other son was held proper. Prescott v. Walker, 16 N. H. 340. But in a North Carolina case, where partition had been made of land between the heirs, and a part of the heirs had sold their shares, and the creditors of the ancestor instituted proceedings to subject the land to the payment of debts, it was held that the heirs who had not sold their land were not entitled to pay their ratable portions of the debt and retain the land discharged therefrom, nor was an heir who had sold his land for more than his ratable share of the debt entitled to be discharged from liability on payment of such ratable share. Hinton v. Whitehurst, 73 N. C. 157.

A mere license to enter land and cut and remove the trees as purchaser thereof gives no such interest in the land as entitles one to pay the deceased seller's debts, so as to prevent the sale of the land for paying debts of the estate. Fletcher v. Livingston, 153 Mass. 388, 26 N. E. 1001.

86. Menefee v. Marge, (Va. 1888) 4 S. E. 726; Hart v. Hart, 31 W. Va. 688, 8 S. E. 562.

87. Indiana.— Davis v. Kendall, 161 Ind. 412, 68 N. E. 894.

Iowa.— Seery v. Murray, 107 Iowa 384, 77 N. W. 1058.

Massachusetts.— Studley v. Josselyn, 5 Allen 118.

New Hampshire.— Jenness v. Robinson, 10 N. H. 215.

New Jersey.— In re Pitcher, 61 N. J. Eq. 614, 47 Atl. 277.

Ohio.— Davisson v. Burgess, 31 Ohio St. 78.

Pennsylvania.— Single's Appeal, 3 Brewst. 160, holding that, where the heirs give security to pay the debts, it is a proper exercise of the discretion of the court to rescind an order of sale of the real estate for the payment of such debts.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1368.

A widow, having a dower interest in the real estate of her deceased husband, is sufficiently interested in the estate to entitle her, in connection with one or more of the heirs of such estate, to give the bond provided for by Ohio Rev. St. § 6145, to obviate a sale of such real estate to pay debts, etc., by the administrator; and, having in good faith given such bond, and, as required by the conditions thereof, paid to the administrator the aggregate amount of the valid debts of the decedent and the charges of administration, is not to be regarded as a mere volunteer, but pay the debts, or of judgment that the pleader give bond for their payment, is not equivalent to actual payment of the debts or giving bond, and is insufficient to prevent a sale.[88]

G. Proceedings For Sale — 1. In General. A sale can ordinarily be ordered only in an appropriate proceeding for that purpose in which the statutory requirements are complied with and such an order is asked.[89] In some jurisdictions an application to the probate court by the executor or administrator of a decedent is entitled to be subrogated to the rights of the administrator, and fully reimbursed from a fund arising from the sale of such real estate in a proceeding in partition by the heirs. Corey v. Hayes, 13 Ohio Cir. Ct. 185, 7 Ohio Cir. Dec. 272.

All need not give bond.— It is not essential that all the heirs or devisees should give bond for payment in order to justify the judge in dismissing an application for sale. If some of them give bond with sufficient sureties, the statutory requirement is fulfilled. Jenness v. Robinson, 10 N. H. 215.

Bond of executor who is also residuary legatee.— It has been held that where an executor who is also residuary legatee gives bond for the payment of debts and legacies, a sale of realty for payment of debts cannot properly be ordered. Thayer v. Winchester, 133 Mass. 447. Contra, Lafferty v. People's Sav. Bank, 76 Mich. 35, 43 N. W. 34.

The bond need not strictly conform to the statute, provided it supplies in good season the needful security for dispensing with the sale. Davisson v. Burgess, 31 Ohio St. 78.

When condition broken.— The condition of such a bond is broken when it is ascertained by an account settled in the probate court that debts have been found due from the estate, and that the goods, chattels, and personal assets of the deceased are insufficient for their payment, but not earlier. Studley v. Josselyn, 5 Allen (Mass.) 118.

Offer not in conformity to statute.— Where the personal estate of a decedent amounted to two hundred and sixty dollars and the claims filed were about one hundred and twenty-seven dollars and over eleven hundred dollars in notes made by the decedent directly to his widow who was the administratrix, and on application by the administratrix for leave to sell land the heirs offered to give bond to pay all the debts except the notes, an order for sale was proper since the orphans' court could not determine the validity of the claims on an application for leave to sell the land, and the offer of the heirs was not in conformity with the statute. In re Pitcher, 61 N. J. Eq. 614, 47 Atl. 277.

When statute not applicable.— The Iowa statute providing that any person interested in a decedent's estate may prevent a sale of it by giving a bond to pay all demands against the estate to the extent of the value of the property does not apply to an action by an administrator with the will annexed to recover assets alleged to have been unlawfully seized by a devisee. Seery v. Murray, 107 Iowa 384, 77 N. W. 1058.

88. Davis v. Kendall, 161 Ind. 412, 68 N. E. 894.

89. Colorado.— Filmore v. Reithman, 6 Colo. 120.

Florida.— Price v. Winter, 15 Fla. 66, holding it essential to the validity of the sale that the court should so far conform to the statute regulating the proceedings as to acquire jurisdiction of the subject-matter and the parties.

Illinois.— Majorowicz v. Payson, 153 Ill. 484, 39 N. E. 127, holding that a bill by an administrator, in the interest of two of the creditors, which did not make the widow and heirs parties, and which was not signed by the administrator, nor verified by him, and did not show the condition of the estate or amount of claims, but sought to set aside as fraudulent a conveyance made by his intestate, could not be treated as a petition for the sale of the intestate's land, but was merely a possessory action, and therefore could not be maintained by the administrator.

Louisiana.—Spears' Succession, 28 La. Ann. 804.

Massachusetts.—See Knox v. Jenks, 7 Mass. 488.

Mississippi.— Weeks v. Thrasher, 52 Miss. 142.

New Hampshire.— Lebanon Sav. Bank v. Waterman, 65 N. H. 68, 17 Atl. 577.

Washington.— Wallace v. Grant, 27 Wash. 130, 67 Pac. 578.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1369.

On accounting by an executor or administrator the probate court has no incidental power of ordering a sale of realty for the payment of debts and will not consider the alleged invalidity of a conveyance by the residuary legatee. O'Connor v. Gifford, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 207, 6 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 71. See also Picard v. Montross, (Miss. 1895) 17 So. 375. But statutes sometimes confer authority upon the court to make an order of sale in connection with the representative's accounts, making it appear that the personal estate is insufficient to pay the debts. Day v. Graham, 97 Mo. 398, 11 S. W. 55.

Proceeding to sell realty fraudulently conveyed by decedent see Longley v. Sewell, 4 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 1, 2 Ohio N. P. 376.

In a suit to ascertain the construction of a will of real estate, and to carry the trusts thereof into execution, the court has power, if necessary, to direct a sale or mortgage of a sufficient part of the property, for the purpose of raising the taxed costs of the suit, although some of the plaintiffs are infants. St. 15 & 16 Vict. c. 86, § 55, gives power to direct a sale before the hearing in those cases only in which the court could under the old for leave to sell the lands of the estate is regarded as a proceeding in rem,[90] but in others it is considered that the proceeding is not in rem but in its nature adversary.[91] It has been held that a proceeding by an executor or administrator to sell land for the payment of debts is not a chancery proceeding,[92] although it must be in all respects according to the practice of a court of chancery,[93] and the facts necessary to authorize the sale must appear of record, or the decree of sale will be void and confer no title upon a purchaser.[94] A proceeding to sell real estate for the payment of debts may be joined with a statutory proceeding to sell so that the widow's interest can be set apart, but before making such sale the interest of the widow should be ascertained so that her rights at the sale can be protected without putting her under the burden of protecting incidentally the rights of the creditors.[95]

2. Jurisdiction. The probate court has no inherent authority to order a sale of the decedent's real estate, but such authority is a special and limited one derived from statutes which designate the special cases for its exercise and the provisions of which must be strictly complied with throughout the entire proceeding.[96] As a general rule the statutes confer jurisdiction with regard to practice have given such direction at the hearing. Mandeno v. Mandeno, Kay appendix ii.

Authority from heir to sell.— An instrument executed by an heir of the decedent, authorizing the executor or administrator to sell certain land "under the direction of the court," does not dispense with the necessity of observing all the statutory requirements. Hartley v. Croze, 38 Minn. 325, 37 N. W. 449.

Strict compliance with the statutory requirements is necessary so far as such requirements relate to the absolute prerequisites of the sale, although errors or defects that go to the form and not to the substance may be disregarded. In re Mahoney, 34 Hun (N. Y.) 501.

Filing of title papers.— Ky. Civ. Code, § 492, requiring title papers to be filed in certain actions, is not applicable to an action to procure a sale of an intestate's interest in lands, to pay his debts and for distribution to the heirs. Rodgers v. Rodgers, 31 S. W. 139, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 358.

Proceedings to sell an equitable title in fee should be the same as if the title were a legal one. Woods v. Monroe, 17 Mich. 238.

90. Alabama.— Neville v. Kenney, 125 Ala. 149, 28 So. 452, 82 Am. St. Rep. 230; Friedman v. Shamblin, 117 Ala. 454, 23 So. 821; Davis v. Tarver, 65 Ala. 98; Garrett v. Bruner, 59 Ala. 513 (regarded as a proceeding in rem when collaterally assailed); Pettus v. McClannahan, 52 Ala. 55; De Bardelaben v. Stoudenmire, 48 Ala. 643; Spragins v. Taylor, 48 Ala. 520.

Arkansas.—Adams v. Thomas, 44 Ark. 267; Sturdy v. Jacoway, 19 Ark. 499; Rogers v. Wilson, 13 Ark. 507; Ex p. Marr, 12 Ark. 84; Adamson v. Cummins, 10 Ark. 541.

New Jersey.— Lawson r. Acton, 57 N. J. Eq. 107, 40 Atl. 584.

South Carolina.— McLaurin v. Rion, 24 S. C. 407.

Texas.—Crawford r. McDonald, 88 Tex. 626, 33 S. W. 325; Heath r. Layne, 62 Tex. 686; Murchison r. White, 54 Tex. 78; George v. Watson, 19 Tex. 354. But see Finch v. Edmonson, 9 Tex. 504.

Washington.— Ryan r. Fergusson, 3 Wash. 356, 28 Pac. 910.

United States.— Florentine v. Barton, 2 Wall. 210, 17 L. ed. 783; Grignon v. Astor, 2 How. 319, 11 L. ed. 283; Hastings v. Granberry, 11 Fed. Cas. No. 6,200, 3 Cranch C. C. 319.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1369.

Jurisdiction over persons of heirs not necessary.— Hastings v. Granberry, 11 Fed. Cas. No. 6,200, 3 Cranch C. C. 319, holding, however, that under Md. Acts (1786), c. 45, § 8, a sale could not be made of the interest of a non-resident infant in lands. But compare Sheldon v. Tucker, 3 R. I. 98.

If the heirs or devisees contest the application it then assumes the further character of a suit in personam. Davis r. Tarver, 65 Ala. 98; Garrett r. Bruner, 59 Ala. 513, if the regularity of the proceeding is presented on error or by appeal.

91. Iowa.— Good v. Norley, 28 Iowa 188.

Missouri.— Shields v. Ashley, 16 Mo. 471.

New York.— Schneider v. McFarland, 2 N. Y. 459 [affirming 4 Barb. 139].

Ohio.—Holloway v. Stuart, 19 Ohio St. 472, under the Ohio act of 1840 and amendment of 1858. But see Sheldon v. Newton, 3 Ohio St. 494.

Oregon.— Fiske r. Kellogg, 3 Oreg. 503.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1369.

92. Moffitt r. Moffitt, 69 Ill. 641; Moline Water Power, etc., Co. v. Webster, 26 Ill. 233; Benson v. Cilley, 8 Ohio St. 604.

93. Whitmore r. Johnson, 10 Humphr. (Tenn.) 610. Contra, Benson v. Cilley, 8 Ohio St. 604.

94. Whitmore r. Johnson, 10 Humphr. (Tenn.) 610. See infra, X, G, 14.

95. Albuquerque First Nat. Bank v. Lee, 8 N. M. 589, 45 Pac. 1114.

96. Alabama.— Robertson v. Bradford, 70 Ala. 385; Wyman r. Campbell, 6 Port. 219, ordering a sale of decedent's realty upon the probate court or the court vested with jurisdiction of the administration of estates,[97] and this jurisdiction is 31 Am. Dec. 677. See also Hall v. Chapman, 35 Ala. 553, sale of personalty.

California.— Haynes v. Meeks, 20 Cal. 288; Gregory v. McPherson, 13 Cal. 562.

Florida.— Sloan v. Sloan, 25 Fla. 53, 5 So. 603; Hays v. McNealy, 16 Fla. 409.

Illinois.— Whitman v. Fisher, 74 Ill. 147 (court of equity); Bennett v. Whitman, 22 Ill. 448.

Indiana.— Seward v. Clark, 67 Ind. 289.

Louisiana.—Spears' Succession, 28 La. Ann. 804; Richard v. Deuel, 11 Rob. 508; Ogden's Succession, 10 Rob. 457; Poultney v. Cecil, 8 La. 321.

Minnesota.— Hartley v. Croze, 38 Minn. 325, 37 N. W. 449.

Mississippi.— Washington v. McCaughan, 34 Miss. 304.

Ohio.— Ludlow v. Johnston, 3 Ohio 553, 17 Am. Dec. 609.

Tennessee.— Linnville v. Darby, 1 Baxt. 306; Bond v. Clay, 2 Head 379, holding that the jurisdiction of the county court, under the law authorizing the sale by that tribunal of the property of decedents for partition, etc., is limited alone to the making and completion of the sale, and after such sale has been completed by the confirmation of the report, if any matters of equity exist, or should arise, entitling the purchaser to be relieved against the payment of the purchase-money, resort must be had to a court of equity. See also Cross v. Bloomer, 6 Baxt. 74.

Texas.— Groesbeck v. Bodman, 73 Tex. 287, 11 S. W. 322.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1369.

97. Arkansas.— Apel v. Kelsey, 47 Ark. 413, 2 S. W. 102.

Delaware.— Rambo v. Rumer, 4 Del. Ch. 9.

Florida.— Hays v. McNealy, 16 Fla. 409.

Georgia.— Knapp v. Harris, 60 Ga. 398. See also McGowan v. Lufburrow, 82 Ga. 523, 9 S. E. 427, 14 Am. St. Rep. 178.

Illinois.— Smith v. Hileman, 2 Ill. 323.

Indiana.— May v. Logan County, 30 Fed. 250, civil circuit court as court of probate.

Kansas.— Stratton v. McCandliss, 32 Kan. 512, 4 Pac. 1018.

Louisiana.— Pr. Code, art. 990, provides that it shall be the duty of the several judges of probate upon application of a creditor or any creditor of a vacant estate to cause so much of the property as may be necessary to pay the debts of the estate to be offered for sale, but this article does not contemplate sales of succession property made at the instance of succession representatives, which must under Acts (1855), No. 56, be ordered by clerks of the district courts, and clerks of the district courts have also power to order the sale of succession property at the instance of creditors. Davie v. Scriber, 38 La. Ann. 651.

Maine.— Lebroke v. Damon, 89 Me. 113, 35 Atl. 1028.

Maryland.— Woelfel v. Evans, 74 Md. 346, 22 Atl. 71; Williams v. Holmes, 9 Md. 281. See also Young v. Twigg, 27 Md. 620.

Missouri.— Priest v. Spier, 96 Mo. 111, 9 S. W. 12. See also Medis v. Kenney, 176 Mo. 200, 75 S. W. 633, 98 Am. St. Rep. 496.

New Hampshire.— Lebanon Sav. Bank v. Waterman, 65 N. H. 88, 17 Atl. 577.

New York.— See Kingsland v. Murray, 133 N. Y. 170, 30 N. E. 845 [affirming 60 Hun 116, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 495].

North Carolina.— Wood v. Skinner, 79 N. C. 92; Pelletier v. Saunders, 67 N. C. 261, clerk of superior court as probate judge.

Ohio.— Dalton v. Davis, 18 Ohio Cir. Ct. 878, 6 Ohio Cir. Dec. 133, court of common pleas.

Oregon.— Russell v. Lewis, 3 Oreg. 280.

Pennsylvania.— Miskimins' Appeal, 114 Pa. St. 530, 6 Atl. 743; Norris v. Farrell, 11 Phila. 271; Cresson's Estate, 3 Phila. 270.

South Carolina.— Shaw v. Barksdale, 25 S. C. 204; Scruggs v. Foot, 19 S. C. 274; McNamee v. Waterbury, 4 S. C. 156. See also Whitesides v. Barber, 24 S. C. 373.

Tennessee.— Erck v. Erck, 107 Tenn. 77, 63 S. W. 1122; Davis v. Davis, 87 Tenn. 200, 10 S. W. 363, county court.

Texas.— See Rogers v. Kennard, 54 Tex. 30.

Wisconsin.— See Reynolds v. Schmidt, 20 Wis. 374.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1375.

The jurisdiction of the court of a particular county as to a particular estate is a question of fact to be determined by that court, and its determination is conclusive and cannot be questioned in a collateral proceeding. Bostwick v. Skinner, 80 Ill. 147.

Sale for excess over jurisdictional amount. —A sale of land by order of the probate court is not void, although the price for which it was sold exceeds the amount to which its jurisdiction extends, if the valuation made before the sale was within its jurisdiction. Chambers v. Watson, 1 Bailey (S. C.) 511.

Constitutionality of statutes.— A constitutional provision conferring on the probate court jurisdiction in all matters testamentary and of administration is not contravened by a statute authorizing that court to order a sale of decedent's land where the sale will benefit the heirs and creditors (Tucker v. Harris, 13 Ga. 1, 58 Am. Dec. 488), or a statute authorizing the sale of lands belonging to heirs, some of whom are minors, and a division of the proceeds among those entitled (Harrington v. Wofford, 46 Miss. 31).

Jurisdiction of clerk — When question immaterial.— Whether the clerk of the superior court, in the exercise of his probate jurisdiction, has jurisdiction to entertain an action by administrators to sell lands of their intestate, is immaterial after the action is removed into the superior court before the judge; for, the parties all being represented, ordinarily exclusive in the first instance,[98] although in a few states it is concurrent with that of courts of equity or other courts of law.[99] In the absence of

and as the superior court would have had jurisdiction of such an action originally brought before it, the proceedings become coram judice, and a sale thereunder is valid. McMillan v. Reeves, 102 N. C. 550, 9 S. E. 449.

Sale of lease.— A lease of real estate for twenty-five years is personal property which passes, on the death of the lessee, to his administrator; and under the Nebraska statutes the administrator may sell the lease as personalty under a proper order from the county court, without obtaining a license from the district court, as in case of the sale of real estate for the payment of debts. Mulloy v. Kyle, 26 Nebr. 313, 41 N. W. 1117.

Where debts are charged on the real estate of the testator by his will, the surrogate court has no jurisdiction to order a sale for their payment, since that duty devolves on another court. Smith v. Coup, 6 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 45, 19 N. Y. St. 898.

Land fraudulently conveyed by decedent.— Under the Ohio statutes an administrator desiring to sell real estate which his intestate conveyed away in his lifetime in fraud of creditors may either bring ejectment in the court of common pleas for the recovery of the land at the time of filing a suit in the probate court to sell the land, or, in one action in the court of common pleas, seek to avoid the conveyance and pray for a sale of the land; and by an election to pursue his remedy in the common pleas, he ousts the probate court of its jurisdiction. Longley v. Sewell, 4 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 1, 2 Ohio N. P. 376. But where, in an action by an administrator to set aside conveyances made by his intestate as fraudulent, in a court of competent jurisdiction, such court decides that such conveyances were fraudulent, and should be set aside, but does not proceed further to order a sale of such property to pay debts of the estate, the administrator may then apply to the probate court to have such property sold to pay debts, since, a nullity of the conveyance having been judicially decreed, the proceeding is not one to set aside the conveyance, and to subject the land to the payment of decedent's debts, which, when coupled in one action, must be by Ohio Rev. St. §§ 6139, 6140, brought only in the common pleas. Lowman v. Sewall, 16 Ohio Cir. Ct. 466, 9 Ohio Cir. Dec. 177.

98. Delaware.— Rambo v. Rumer, 4 Del. Ch. 9, so holding as to sales for payment of debts.

Louisiana.— Sevier v. Gordon, 23 La. Ann. 212, district courts no jurisdiction.

Missouri.— Priest v. Spier, 96 Mo. 111, 9 S. W. 12.

New Hampshire.— Lebanon Sav. Bank v. Waterman, 65 N. H. 88, 17 Atl. 577.

New York.— See Hogan v. Kavanaugh, 138 N. Y. 417, 34 N. E. 292.

Oregon.— Russell v. Lewis, 3 Oreg. 380.

Pennsylvania.— Miskimins' Appeal, 114 Pa. St. 530, 6 Atl. 743; Norris v. Farrell, 11 Phila. 271.

Texas.— Rogers v. Kennard, 54 Tex. 30.

Wisconsin.— See Morgan v. Hammett, 23 Wis. 30, holding that the circuit court has no jurisdiction to license an administrator to sell real estate to pay debts unless the county judge is disqualified to act.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1375.

Sale or mortgage.— It is also within the exclusive jurisdiction of the orphans' court having jurisdiction of the accounts of an executor or administrator to determine whether money should be raised by sale or mortgage of the real estate. Spencer v. Jennings, 114 Pa. St. 618, 8 Atl. 2.

Sale for payment of legacies.— The court of chancery can decree the legacies to be a charge on the land and order its sale for their payment if the devisees do not pay them, but in such case the order of sale would be only in execution of an authority which the court on a construction of the will finds to be given thereby, and such sale cannot be ordered upon a bill filed by the executor unless all of the devisees are made parties and submit themselves to the decree of the court. Rambo v. Rumer, 4 Del. Ch. 9.

Disqualification of judge of court of probate jurisdiction.— Where on an application to the court of common pleas in which the administration of testator's estate was pending for the sale of land to pay debts, the judge was disqualified, and thereupon certified the cause to the circuit court as authorized by Mo. Rev. St. (1899) § 1760, such court had jurisdiction to order a sale. Meddis v. Kenney, 176 Mo. 200, 75 S. W. 633, 98 Am. St. Rep. 496. But, under the Wisconsin statute, where, from a supposed but not actual disqualification of the county judge, a license for an administrator's sale of real estate was issued by the circuit judge, such order of sale was coram non judice, and the sale made thereunder absolutely void. Morgan v. Hammett, 23 Wis. 30.

Foreclosure of mortgage.— A district court which has regularly acquired jurisdiction of a suit against an administrator to foreclose a mortgage can decree a sale of the mortgaged premises; but where the claim has been presented to the administrator and probate court, and been allowed, the mortgagee cannot go into the district court for an order of sale. Belloc v. Rogers, 9 Cal. 123.

99. Florida.— Hays v. McNealy, 16 Fla. 409, holding that a statute vesting jurisdiction in the circuit court to sell lands belonging to intestate estates to pay debts did not repeal a prior statute vesting a like authority in the judge of probate.

Georgia.— Equity has concurrent jurisdiction (McGowan v. Lufburrow, 82 Ga. 523, 9 S. E. 427, 14 Am. St. Rep. 178), but leave to statute vesting jurisdiction to order sales in the courts of probate, or in a case where such statutes do not apply, the jurisdiction for this purpose rests in the courts of equity.[1] As a general rule the court of the county where the letters testamentary or of administration were granted and where the administration is pending has the exclusive power to order a sale of decedent's realty regardless of whether or not the land is situated within such county, if it is within the state;[2] but in a few states a different view has been asserted and it has been held that the application must be made to the court of the county in which the land is sell is usually to be obtained from the court of ordinary and not from a court of equity (Knapp v. Harris, 60 Ga. 398. See also Jones v. Lamar, 34 Fed. 454).

Iowa.— The district court has general jurisdiction, and its powers are of such a nature as to give it cognizance of proceedings by creditors to compel an administratrix to sell real estate for the payment of debts; and it is not ousted of this jurisdiction by the granting of letters of administration by the county court. Waples v. Marsh. 19 Iowa 381.

North Carolina.— Johnson v. Futrell, 86 N. C. 122 (jurisdiction to order sale not exclusively in clerk of superior court but may be exercised by the judge); Smythe v. Henry, 41 Fed. 705.

South Carolina.— Shaw v. Barksdale, 25 S. C. 204, court of common pleas as well as court of probate has jurisdiction.

Tennessee.— Allen v. Shanks, 90 Tenn. 359, 16 S. W. 715; Waddell v. Waddell, (Ch. App. 1897) 42 S. W. 46; Connell v. Walker, 6 Lea 709; Kindell v. Titus, 9 Heisk. 727; Fleming v. Talliafer, 4 Heisk. 352.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1375.

1. Alabama.— See Jordan v. Hardie, 131 Ala. 72, 31 So. 504; Wilson v. Crooks, 17 Ala. 59.

District of Columbia.— Richardson v. Penicks, 1 App. Cas. 261. See also Creswell v. Kennedy, 3 MacArthur 78.

Maryland.— Young v. Twigg, 27 Md. 620; Wyse v. Smith, 4 Gill & J. 295; Tyson v. Hollingsworth, 1 Harr. & J. 469.

North Carolina.— See Williams v. Williams, 17 N. C. 69, 22 Am. Dec. 729.

Ohio.— See Piatt v. St. Clair, 6 Ohio 227, Wright 261.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1464.

Jurisdiction of equity inherent and not dependent upon statute.— Allen v. Shanks, 90 Tenn. 259, 16 S. W. 715; Waddell v. Waddell, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1897) 42 S. W. 46; Britain v. Cowen, 5 Humphr. (Tenn.) 315 (holding that the jurisdiction of the chancery court to decree a sale of a decedent's real estate for payment of his debts will not be defeated on the ground that the bill is not filed in the district where the land lies, if the court have jurisdiction on general chancery principles, independent of the special jurisdiction conferred by statute); Smythe v. Henry, 41 Fed. 705.

Breach of condition attached to devise.— The orphans' court cannot decree a sale by executors of land devised on breach of a condition attached to the devise that the devisees pay a certain sum to the executors within a stated time, as the only remedy in such case is by a bill in the chancery court. Skillman v. Van Pelt, 1 N. J. Eq. 511.

When the sale could be effected by proceedings in the probate court under the statute, a court of equity will not entertain a bill by an executor to sell for payment of debts. Leslie v. Willey, Wright (Ohio) 147.

2. Alabama.— Calloway v. Kirkland, 50 Ala. 401, entire tract lying in two counties.

Arkansas.— Apel v. Kelsey, 47 Ark. 413, 2 S. W. 102; Gordon v. Howell, 35 Ark. 381.

California.— See In re Scott, 15 Cal. 220.

Illinois.— Rev. St. (1899) c. 3, § 98. The act of 1829 required that application should be made to the circuit court of the county "in which administration shall have been granted," but under the act of 1827 an application to the circuit court of the county in which the real estate was situated was sufficient. Doe v. Hileman, 2 Ill. 323.

Indiana.— Vail v. Rinehart, 105 Ind. 6, 4 N. E. 218; Ex p. Shockley, 14 Ind. 413. Contra, Williamson v. Miles, 25 Ind. 55 [followed in Jones v. Levi, 72 Ind. 586], holding that the courts of the county where letters were granted and of that where the land is situated have concurrent jurisdiction.

Iowa.— Van Horn v. Ford, 16 Iowa 578.

Kentucky.— Walker v. Yowell, 94 Ky. 205, 21 S. W. 873, 14 S. W. 829; Girty v. Logan, 6 Bush 8.

Louisiana.— Alexander v. Bourdier, 43 La. Ann. 321, 8 So. 876; Wisdom v. Parker, 31 La. Ann. 52; Chaney v. Gray, 7 Rob. 144; State v. Probate Judge St. Jean Baptiste Parish, 17 La. 500.

Nebraska.— Stack v. Royce, 34 Nebr. 833, 52 N. W. 675. See also Dietrichs v. Lincoln, etc., R. Co., 14 Nebr. 355, 15 N. W. 728.

New York.— Long v. Olmsted, 3 Dem. Surr. 581.

Ohio.— Avery v. Dufrees, 9 Ohio 145; Avery v. Pugh, 9 Ohio 67. Contra, under statute of 1795. Davis v. Livingston, 6 Ohio 225; Ludlow v. McBride, 3 Ohio 240.

Pennsylvania.— Under the act of March 29, 1832, the orphan's court of the county in which the administration is pending has full power to order the sale or mortgage of so much of the land situated in such county as it deems necessary. If, however, the real estate is situated in another county, the court of the county where the administration is pending has power merely to authorize the executor or administrator to raise, situated.[3] Where the court which has ordered a sale of a decedent's realty is one which under the statute could properly have taken jurisdiction for that purpose the presumption is always in favor of the court actually having had jurisdiction.[4] Where the court has acquired jurisdiction it is not ousted of such jurisdiction by a cross bill of the widow for dower and the proceedings had thereunder.[5] Where jurisdiction is conferred only upon the probate court of the county where the will has been proved or administration granted it follows that no court can take jurisdiction of a proceeding to sell lands until a will has been proved or administration granted,[6] and it has also been held that the probate court has no authority to order a sale of a decedent's realty until there has been the grant of regular administration upon the estate and an order directing a sale by a special administrator is void.[7]

3. Time For Application — a. In General. It has been held premature to decree a sale of the realty before adjudicating the claims of creditors and their respective priorities in order to ascertain the precise amount chargeable upon such realty,[8] or to decree a sale of the whole of the land of a decedent in satisfaction of claims of his creditors before dower has been assigned to the widow in kind or it is ascertained that it cannot be so assigned and a money compensation to the widow in lieu of dower has been ascertained.[9] Where the personal property has been appraised and is known to be insufficient to pay the debts of the decedent the representative may at once apply for an order to sell the realty and need not wait until the debts are allowed,[10] and so also where personal assets, although good, are not immediately available the court need not delay a sale of land to pay the debts in excess of such assets until they can be actually applied.[11] A probate court does not lose jurisdiction to order the sale of a decedent's land for the payment of debts, if the order is made within the period to which the time for the payment of claims may properly be extended, although the extension may not have been actually made.[12] The court cannot as a rule order or license a sale after the succession has been actually closed and the executor or administrator been discharged,[13] but a probate license to sell or mortgage real estate is not necessarily void because granted after the expiration of the statutory time allowed from the real estate so situated, such sum of money as is necessary, designating the amount; and the orphans' court of the county where the real estate is situated, upon presentation of such decree and proper application, has the power to make the order of sale or mortgage of so much and such parts of the land as will in its opinion be necessary to raise the sum specified. Under this form of procedure the orphans' court of the county having jurisdiction of the accounts has the exclusive power to pass upon the propriety of a sale or mortgage of the decedent's land, and the orphans' court of the county where the land is situated, being presumed to know what part and how much of the land it is necessary and expedient to sell to raise the sum specified, has jurisdiction to actually order the sale, but such jurisdiction is wholly dependent upon the decree of the court having jurisdiction of the account. Spencer v. Jennings, 114 Pa. St. 618, 8 Atl. 2, 123 Pa. St. 184, 16 Atl. 426; Lane v. Nelson, 79 Pa. St. 407. See also Burkhardt's Estate, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 374 [affirmed in 1 Mona. 474].

Wisconsin.— See Reynolds v. Schmidt, 20 Wis. 374.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1374.

3. Hopkins v. Meir, (N. J. Ch. 1890) 19 Atl. 264; Pittenger v. Pittenger, 3 N. J. Eq. 156; Ellis v. Adderton, 88 N. C. 472. Proceedings for the sale of a decedent's land to pay debts may be taken in any of the counties in which the decedent had lands. Nanthala Marble, etc., Co. v. Thomas, 76 Fed. 59.

4. Cassell v. Joseph, 184 Ill. 378, 56 N. E. 413; Robb v. Howell, 180 Ill. 177, 54 N. E. 324; Swearengen v. Gulick, 67 Ill. 208; Nantahala Marble, etc., Co. v. Thomas, 76 Fed. 59.

5. Swearengen v. Gulick, 67 Ill. 208.

6. Whitesides v. Barber, 24 S. C. 373.

7. Long v. Burnett, 13 Iowa 28, 81 Am. Dec. 420.

8. Simmons v. Lyles, 27 Gratt. (Va.) 922; Buchanan v. Clark, 10 Gratt. (Va.) 164; Cralle v. Meem, 8 Gratt. (Va.) 496.

9. Simmons v. Lyles, 27 Gratt. (Va.) 922. See also White v. White, 16 Gratt. (Va.) 264, 80 Am. Dec. 706.

10. Randel v. Randel, 64 Kan. 254, 67 Pac. 837.

11. Doherty v. Choate, 16 Lea (Tenn.) 192.

12. Pratt v. Houghtaling, 45 Mich. 457, 8 N. W. 72.

13. Servier v. Gordon, 25 La. Ann. 231; Hoffman v. Beard, 32 Mich. 218.

Where the heirs have been put in possession after partition among themselves an or-for closing up the estate if it has not been closed up in fact and if the will contemplates that it shall remain in the hands of the executor for a longer period.[14]

b. Statutes of Limitation.[15] The general statutes of limitation do not as a rule apply to an application for the sale of a decedent's real estate,[16] although a contrary view has been asserted,[17] and it has also been held the court should not license a sale of land to pay debts against an estate after the legal remedy for their recovery has been barred by lapse of time.[18] In some jurisdictions there der to sell succession property cannot be granted. Servier v. Gordon, 25 La. Ann. 231.

Expiration of time before sale can be made. — Where a license to sell was granted within four years and six months from the appointment of the original administrator the fact that more than that period would elapse before the sale could be made thereunder did not deprive the court of jurisdiction. In re Beniteau, 88 Mich. 152, 50 N. W. 110, where the court said that Hoffman v. Beard, 32 Mich. 218, has been substantially overruled and is not good law.

14. Church v. Holcomb, 45 Mich. 29, 7 N. W. 167; Larzelere v. Starkweather, 38 Mich. 96 [distinguishing Hoffman v. Beard, 32 Mich. 218].

15. See, generally, LIMITATIONS OF ACTIONS.

16. California.— Arguello's Estate, 85 Cal. 151, 24 Pac. 641, while the administration is pending.

Illinois.— People v. Lanham, 189 Ill. 326, 59 N. E. 610 [reversing 91 Ill. App. 101], doctrine of laches rather than of legal limitation applies. See also McCollister v. King, 10 Ill. App. 243.

Iowa.— See McCrary v. Tasker, 41 Iowa 255.

New York.—Skidmore v. Romaine, 2 Bradf. Surr. 122.

Ohio.— The right of an executor or administrator to obtain an order of sale for the payment of debts as against the heirs is wholly unaffected by the statute of limitations (Lafferty v. Shinn, 38 Ohio St. 46 [following Taylor v. Thorn, 29 Ohio St. 569]), but it has been held that the lapse of six years from the time the right to payment of a legacy accrues and the deficiency of personal assets is ascertained constitutes a bar to an action by an administrator de bonis non with the will annexed to sell the real estate for the payment of the legacy (Longley v. Stump, 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 234, 11 Cinc. L. Bul. 247).

Tennessee.— Henry v. Mills, 1 Lea 144.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1377.

Continuation of original proceedings.— Where an administrator obtained leave to sell land to pay debts, but for good reasons no sale was made for four years, and the administrator then again petitioned for leave to sell, it was held that the second petition could be considered a continuation of the proceedings had under the first petition, and that statutes of limitation were in no way applicable. In re Montgomery, 60 Cal. 645, where the court refused to decide whether the statute would have been applicable in any event.

17. Thus in Indiana the fifteen years' statute has been held applicable. Scherer v. Ingerman, 100 Ind. 428, 11 N. E. 8, 12 N. E. 304; Cole v. Lafontaine, 84 Ind. 446. And an action by an executor or administrator to sell lands fraudulently conveyed by his testator or intestate in his lifetime must be commenced within five years after the death of the decedent. Bushnell v. Bushnell, 88 Ind. 403.

18. Tarbell v. Parker, 106 Mass. 347; Hoffman v. Beard, 32 Mich. 218; In re Godfrey, 4 Mich. 308; Carman v. Brown, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 96. But compare Cooper v. Robinson, 2 Cush. (Mass.) 184.

When debts have been proved within the time limited a sale for their payment may be ordered after the expiration of such time. Edmunds v. Rockwell, 125 Mass. 363.

Where an administrator neglected to give notice of his appointment a license to him to sell real estate for the payment of debts was valid, although granted more than four years after his appointment, that being the time limited for the bringing of actions against him. Hudson v. Hulbert, 15 Pick. (Mass.) 423.

Effect of statute limiting suits against heirs.— A petitioner to the surrogate's court for the sale of a decedent's land to satisfy a judgment is not, upon the objection of the statute of limitations against his claims, entitled to the benefit of 2 N. Y. Rev. St. p. 109, § 53, prohibiting the bringing of suits against heirs or devisees to charge them with a decedent's debts within the three years from the grant of letters, as this section of the statute applies to actions in the supreme court only. Mead v. Jenkins, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 369.

Statutory limitation of time to institute proceedings for sale.— N. Y. Code Civ. Proc. § 2750, which provides that a creditor may institute a proceeding to sell realty within three years after the issue of letters of administration, does not extend the statute of limitations indefinitely, so that such proceedings may be instituted within that time, regardless of the period that has elapsed before administration was granted. Church v. Olendorf, 49 Hun (N. Y.) 439, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 557.

The time within which action cannot be brought against the heirs is not to be included in computing the elapsed period. Mead v. Jenkins, 95 N. Y. 31 [affirming 27 Hun 570, 29 Hun 253].

have, however, been enacted particular statutes of limitation with reference to the time within which application must be made for an order or license to sell,[19] which

A statute limiting the lien of unsecured debts of a decedent is not like a statute of limitation which may or may not be pleaded, but it raises an absolute bar to any right to collect out of the real estate unless action was brought or the claim filed, except by the consent of the heirs. Hoover's Estate, 9 Kulp (Pa.) 126.

Where the lien of debts upon real estate has expired by reason of the five-year limitation prescribed by the Pennsylvania act of Feb. 24, 1834, the orphans' court has no jurisdiction to direct the executor or administrator to sell the real estate for the payment of such debts (Smith v. Wildman, 178 Pa. St. 245, 35 Atl. 1047, 56 Am. St. Rep. 760, 36 L. R. A. 834), and an adjudication confirming the account of an executor does not create a lien on the real estate if the lien of the debt was lost by lapse of time before the account was filed (Battersby v. Castor, 181 Pa. St. 555, 37 Atl. 572). The limitation under the statute referred to does not, however, apply to the sale of real estate of a decedent where any one of the debts for which it is ordered as a payment is "secured by mortgage or judgment"; but in such case the orphans' court has jurisdiction to order a sale more than five years after the decease, and the purchaser thereat takes a valid title. Bindley's Appeal, 69 Pa. St. 295.

Application within time limited for presentation of claims.— Where the owner of a mortgage on lands of a decedent applies to the probate court, under Wash. Code, § 1523, to have the mortgage redeemed out of the personal assets of the estate, or, in the alternative provided by section 1524, to have the land sold and the proceeds applied on the debt, and any deficiency remaining, after exhausting the land, satisfied out of decedent's other estate, he must apply within the year allowed by section 1467 for presentation of claims against the estate of a decedent. Scammon v. Ward, 1 Wash. 179, 23 Pac. 439.

19. Slocum v. English, 62 N. Y. 494 [affirming 4 Thomps. & C. 266]; Matter of Van Vleck, 32 Misc. (N. Y.) 419, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 727; In re Topping, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 447, 18 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 115, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 187; Fitch v. Whitbeck, 2 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 161; U. S. Life Ins. Co. v. Jordan, 5 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 207 (holding that the three-year limitation in Code Civ. Proc. § 2750, to proceedings to sell real estate to pay the decedent's debts, applies where the letters issued more than three years before Sept. 1, 1880, and the personal representatives had not before that date accounted to the surrogate, and that in such case no right having accrued under section 3352, nor under Laws (1880), c. 245, § 3, Code Civ. Proc. c. 4, does not apply); Mead v. Jenkins, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 369; Ferguson v. Broome, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 10; Cornwall's Estate, Tuck. Surr. (N. Y.) 250. See also Church v. Olendorf, 49 Hun (N. Y.) 439, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 557.

The filing of a petition within the time limited gives the court jurisdiction, although the citation is not returnable until after the expiration of that period (In re Topping, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 447, 18 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 115, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 187), or even though the citation is not issued until after the expiration of such time (Matter of Van Vleck, 32 Misc. (N. Y.) 419, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 727).

Effect of order in another state enjoining proceedings against estate.— An order by a court in one state enjoining creditors of a decedent from proceeding against the estate otherwise than by proving their demands before certain commissioners did not restrain a creditor from legally enforcing his claim against the estate out of real property belonging to it and situated in another state so as to prevent the running of limitations against a proceeding for that purpose during the period in which the order was in force. Mowry v. McQueen, 80 Minn. 385, 83 N. W. 348.

Revesting of title in heir.— A statute requiring an application for sale to be made within three years after the grant of letters if the heir or devisee has aliened the land applies even though the title has meanwhile revested in the heir. Dodge v. Stevens, 105 N. Y. 585, 12 N. W. 759 [reversing 40 Hun 443].

Limitation applicable only in favor of bona fide purchasers for value.— Mead v. Jenkins, 95 N. Y. 31 [affirming 27 Hun 570, 29 Hun 253]; Mead v. Jenkins, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 369.

Under the West Virginia statute which confers upon the personal representative the right to institute a suit to sell the real estate, and provides that if he does not bring such suit within six months after his qualification, any creditor of the decedent may institute and prosecute such suit, the right of the representative to institute a suit is not lost upon the expiration of six months after his qualification, but is only lost when suit is brought by a creditor. Reinhardt v. Reinhardt, 21 W. Va. 76.

A debt in judgment at the time of decedent's death is not within a statute requiring action within two years after the decedent's death to sell realty, but realty may be ordered sold for the payment of such a debt, even though a number of years (in the case at bar nineteen) have elapsed since the death of the decedent. Hoover's Estate, 9 Kulp (Pa.) 126.

Repealed statute.— Minn. Laws (1879), c. 18 (St. (1894), § 4598), authorizing a sale to be made within one year after the making of the order or within such further time, not exceeding two years, as might be allowed by the judge of probate, operated to statutes as a rule begin to run from the time of the appointment or qualification of the executor or administrator.[20]

c. Reasonable Time and Laches. Apart from statute an application for an order or license to sell must be made within a reasonable time,[21] and the right to obtain an order or license to sell may be lost by laches or delaying without excuse for an unreasonable time to make the proper application to the court.[22] But even repeal Laws (1876), c. 37, § 3, so far as the latter limited the time within which the real estate of a deceased person might be sold for payment of debts to three years from the date of death. Culver v. Hardenbergh, 37 Minn. 225, 33 N. W. 792.

20. Slocum v. English, 62 N. Y. 494 [affirming 4 Thomps. & C. 266]; Cornwall's Estate, Tuck. Surr. (N. Y.) 250.

Statute runs from original grant.— The statute begins to run from the time of the original granting of letters of administration, and not, in case of a change of administrators, from the time of granting letters to the one who made the sale. Slocum v. English, 62 N. Y. 494 [affirming 4 Thomps. & C. 266].

21. Illinois.— See Myer v. McDougal, 47 Ill. 278.

Iowa.— It has been laid down as a general rule that an application of an executor to sell real estate of the decedent for the payment of debts will not be sustained unless made within eighteen months from the time he gives notice of his appointment unless the peculiar circumstances of the case are such as to make it the duty of a court of equity to depart from this general rule, and that under such circumstances the application must be made within a reasonable time. McCrary v. Tasker, 41 Iowa 255 [followed in Waters v. Tasker, 41 Iowa 263; Waters v. Crossen, 41 Iowa 261].

Minnesota.— State v. Ramsey County Probate Ct., 40 Minn. 296, 41 N. W. 1033.

Missouri.— Gunby v. Brown, 86 Mo. 253 (sale under order procured after twelve years enjoined); Barlow v. Clark, 67 Mo. App. 340.

New York.— Mooers v. White, 6 Johns. Ch. 360, holding that ordinarily a reasonable time is one year.

Rhode Island.— See West Greenwich Probate Ct. v. Carr, 20 R. I. 592, 40 Atl. 844.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1378.

Reasonable time may be fixed by analogy to statute of limitations. Rickard v. Williamson, 7 Wheat. (U. S.) 59, 5 L. ed. 398. See also Myer v. McDougal, 47 Ill. 278; McCoy v. Morrow, 18 Ill. 519, 68 Am. Dec. 578.

Year after final settlement of accounts.— After the expiration of one year from the final settlement of the accounts of an intestate in the court of probate by the administrator, no application on the part of such administrator to sell the real estate of the intestate to satisfy debts still due will be sustained, except the circumstances of the particular case are of such a peculiar character as to make it the duty of a court of equity to depart from this general rule. Dorman v. Lane, 6 Ill. 143.

Seven years.— In the absence of a statute, seven years has been adopted by the courts of Illinois as the period within which an action must be brought to have the estate of an intestate sold for payment of his debts after letters of administration have been granted. McKean v. Vick, 108 Ill. 373; Furlong v. Riley, 103 Ill. 628; Bishop v. O'Conner, 69 Ill. 431; Moore v. Ellsworth, 51 Ill. 308; Rosenthal v. Renick, 44 Ill. 202; Brown v. Morgan, 84 Ill. App. 233.

While realty in hands of heirs.— In Rhode Island it has been laid down that courts of equity may authorize the sale of a decedent's realty for his debts at any time while such realty remains in the hands of his heirs. Mowry v. Robinson, 12 R. I. 152.

22. Alabama.— Bozeman v. Bozeman, 83 Ala. 416, 3 So. 784, 82 Ala. 389, 2 So. 732.

Arkansas.— Black v. Robinson, 70 Ark. 185, 68 S. W. 489 (holding that delay for more than seven years after the grant of letters of administration before attempting to subject the lands of an intestate to the payment of his debts, without other excuse than that the lands were subject to overflow, is such laches as will bar an application to sell the interest of an infant heir; but it is otherwise as to the interest of an heir who was an administrator during six years, and was chiefly responsible for the delay); Brogan v. Brogan, 63 Ark. 405, 39 S. W. 58, 58 Am. St. Rep. 124; Mays v. Rogers, 37 Ark. 155.

California.— Wingerter v. Wingerter, 71 Cal. 105, 11 Pac. 853; In re Crosby, 55 Cal. 574.

Illinois.— McKean v. Vick, 108 Ill. 373; Furlong v. Riley, 103 Ill. 628; Reed v. Colby, 89 Ill. 104; Wolf v. Ogden, 66 Ill. 224; Langworthy v. Baker, 23 Ill. 484; McCollister v. King, 10 Ill. App. 243.

Iowa.— Cresswell v. Slack, 68 Iowa 110, 26 N. W. 42; McCrary v. Tasker, 41 Iowa 255 [followed in Waters v. Tasker, 41 Iowa 263; Waters v. Crossen, 41 Iowa 261].

Maine.— Smith v. Dutton, 16 Me. 308; Nowell v. Nowell, 8 Me. 220.

Michigan.— In re Godfrey, 4 Mich. 308.

Minnesota.— State v. Ramsey County Probate Ct., 40 Minn. 296, 41 N. W. 1033.

Mississippi.— Ferguson v. Scott, 49 Miss. 500.

New Hampshire.—Hatch v. Kelly, 63 N. H. 29; Hall v. Woodman, 49 N. H. 295.

New York.— Jackson v. Robinson, 4 Wend. 436; Ferguson v. Broome, 1 Bradf. Surr. 10. See also Olyphant v. Phyfe, 27 Misc. 64, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 217.

a delay for a considerable length of time will not result in a loss of the right where such delay is excused or a good reason therefor is shown.[23]

4. Parties — a. In General. A proceeding for the sale of a decedent's property should ordinarily be adversary and not ex parte,[24] although it may be ex parte when the representative and the heirs join in a petition to sell land for assets.[25] Where there are two or more executors or administrators all should join in a petition for an order to sell lands to pay debts.[26] If the application for a sale be made by a person other than the personal representative, the personal representative must at all events be made a party to the proceedings.[27] The Pennsylvania.— Hunt's Appeal, 4 Pa. Cas. 514, 7 Atl. 594.

South Carolina.— Gregory v. Rhoden, 24 S. C. 90.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1378.

The decision of the probate court that the delay in applying for an administrator's sale was not unreasonable is conclusive when collaterally assailed. Howell v. Jump, 140 Mo. 441, 41 S. W. 976.

Circumstances amounting to laches see Battersby v. Castor, 6 Pa. Dist. 73, 19 Pa. Co. Ct. 108.

Circumstances not showing laches see Abbott v. Downs, 168 Mass. 481, 47 N. E. 94.

An unreasonable delay in urging relief after filing the petition may warrant a dismissal of the proceedings on the ground of laches. Matter of Braker, 48 N. Y. App. Div. 443, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 859; Allen v. Sanford, 55 Hun (N. Y.) 607, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 182.

Where a testator's realty is impliedly converted into personalty by his will, lapse of time will not exempt it from liability for debts in default of sufficient personal assets. Mustin's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 180.

23. Arkansas.—.Brogan v. Brogan, 63 Ark. 405, 39 S. W. 405, 58 Am. St. Rep. 124; Killough v. Hinton, 54 Ark. 65, 14 S. W. 1092, 26 Am. St. Rep. 19.

California.— Arguello's Estate, 85 Cal. 151, 64 Pac. 641.

Illinois.— Judd v. Ross, 146 Ill. 40, 34 N. E. 531; Bursen v. Goodspeed, 60 Ill. 277; Moore v. Ellsworth, 51 Ill. 308.

Indiana.— Nettleton v. Dixon, 2 Ind. 446.

Iowa.— Reed v. Reed, 94 Iowa 569, 63 N. W. 329; Schlab v. Holderbaum, 80 Iowa 394, 45 N. W. 1051; Conger v. Cook, 56 Iowa 117, 8 N. W. 782.

Kentucky.— Boyd v. Emmons, 103 Ky. 393, 45 S. W. 364, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 107.

Massachusetts.— Palmer v. Palmer, 13 Gray 326; Cooper v. Robinson, 2 Cush. 184. See also In re Richmond, 2 Pick. 567.

Michigan.— Flood v. Strong, 108 Mich. 561, 56 N. W. 473.

Mississippi.— Yandell v. Pugh, 53 Miss. 295.

Missouri.— Macey v. Stark, 116 Mo. 481, 21 S. W. 1088 [followed in Macey v. Pitillo, (1893) 21 S. W. 1094]; Barlow v. Clark, 67 Mo. App. 340.

New York.— Matter of Howard, 11 Misc. 224, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 1098; Mooers v. White, 6 Johns. Ch. 360.

Oregon.— In re Smith, 43 Oreg. 595, 73 Pac. 336, 75 Pac. 133.

Pennsylvania.— Paschall's Estate, 14 Phila. 242.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1378.

A promise by heirs to pay debts after the termination of a life-estate may afford an excuse for delay in applying for leave to sell real estate. McCollister v. King, 10 Ill. App. 243.

Circumstances not excusing delay see Brogan v. Brogan, 63 Ark. 405, 39 S. W. 58, 58 Am. St. Rep. 124.

24. See Gladson v. Whitney, 9 Iowa 267; Wright v. Steed, 10 La. Ann. 238.

25. See Harris v. Brown, 123 N. C. 419, 31 S. E. 877.

26. Hannum v. Day, 105 Mass. 33; Personette v. Johnson, 40 N. J. Eq. 173 (or, if both or all do not join, the record should show why the executor or executors who do not apply do not join in the application); Fitch v. Witbeck, 2 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 161. Contra, Jackson v. Robinson, 4 Wend. (N. Y.) 436.

27. District of Columbia.— Plumb v. Bateman, 2 App. Cas. 156.

Illinois.— McDowell v. Cochran, 11 Ill. 31.

Iowa.— Postlewait v. Howes, 3 Iowa 365.

Kentucky.— Perry v. Seitz, 2 Duv. 122; Robertson v. McDaniel, 5 J. J. Marsh. 11.

Louisiana.— See Wright v. Steed, 10 La. Ann. 238.

Maryland.— Lynn v. Gephart, 27 Md. 547; Piper v. Tuck, 26 Md. 208; Carey v. Dennis, 13 Md. 1; Baltimore v. Chase, 2 Gill & J. 376; David v. Grahame, 2 Harr. & G. 94; Tyler v. Bowie, 4 Harr. & J. 333; Hammond v. Hammond, 2 Bland 306.

Pennsylvania.— Raessler's Estate, 5 Pa. Dist. 776, 19 Pa. Co. Ct. 161.

Tennessee.— See Wright v. Thornton, 87 Tenn. 74, 9 S. W. 429.

United States.— U. S. Bank v. Ritchie, 8 Pet. 128, 8 L. ed. 890; Allen v. Simons, 1 Fed. Cas. No. 237, 1 Curt. 122.

England.— Knight v. Knight, 3 P. Wms. 331, 24 Eng. Reprint 1088.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1381.

Resignation of representative.— A decree for a sale of a decedent's land to pay debts rendered on the application of creditors is void where the administrator, by reason of his previous resignation, which has been heirs or devisees are as a general rule considered necessary parties to a proceeding to sell land whether for the payment of debts or for distribution,[28] for the reason that the title of an heir or devisee cannot be divested by the proceedings accepted, is not before the court in his representative capacity at the time of its rendition. Wright v. Thornton, 87 Tenn. 74, 9 S. W. 429.

Where there are no personal assets, and hence there is no qualified executor or administrator, a creditor's bill to subject realty to the payment of debts may be maintained without the presence of an executor or administrator. Plumb v. Bateman, 2 App. Cas. (D. C.) 156. See also Birely v. Staley, 5 Gill & J. (Md.) 432, 25 Am. Dec. 303.

Foreign administrators.— Although there are administrators who have been duly qualified and entered upon the performance of their duties and taken possession of the personal assets in the state of their qualification, there is no administration of which a court of another state can take judicial cognizance on a creditor's bill for the sale of realty, but it will be assumed for the purpose of such suit that there are no executors or administrators. The rule that a court of equity cannot proceed with a creditor's bill against the real estate of a decedent until the executor or administrator of the personalty is made a party to the suit means an executor qualified or an administrator appointed within the jurisdiction who can be reached by the process of the court. Plumb v. Bateman, 2 App. Cas. (D. C.) 156.

28. Alabama.— See Davis v. Tarver, 65 Ala. 98. But compare Neville v. Kenney, 125 Ala. 149, 28 So. 452, 82 Am. St. Rep. 230, holding that the failure to make one of the heirs a party does not render the sale void or open to collateral attack by him.

Florida.— Wilson v. Fridenburg, 19 Fla. 461, 21 Fla. 386; Young v. McKinnie, 5 Fla. 542, decree not binding upon an infant heir not made a party as to the extent of his interest.

Illinois.— Burr v. Bloemer, 174 Ill. 638, 51 N. E. 821; Robertson v. Wheeler, (1896) 44 N. E. 870; Hopkins v. McCann, 19 Ill. 113; Eaton v. Bryan, 18 Ill. 525; Stone v. Wood, 16 Ill. 177. But compare Swearengen v. Gulick, 67 Ill. 208; Gibson v. Roll, 27 Ill. 88, 81 Am. Dec. 219 [overruling In re Sturms, 25 Ill. 390], as to infant heirs. And see Goudy v. Hall, 36 Ill. 313, 87 Am. Dec. 217.

Indiana.— Wood v. Wood, 150 Ind. 600, 50 N. E. 573; Sherry v. Denn, 8 Blackf. 542.

Iowa.— Gladson v. Whitney, 9 Iowa 267.

Maryland.— Bowen v. Gent, 54 Md. 555; Hammond v. Hammond, 2 Bland 306.

Mississippi.— Hargrove v. Baskin, 50 Miss. 194; Winston v. McLendon, 43 Miss. 254.

Nebraska.— Holmes v. Columbia Nat. Bank, (1903) 97 N. W. 26.

New York.— Holly v. Gibbons, 176 N. Y. 520, 68 N. E. 889, 98 Am. St. Rep. 694, 177 N. Y. 401, 69 N. E. 731; Jenkins v. Young, 35 Hun 569.

North Carolina.— McNeill v. Fuller, 121 N. C. 209, 28 S. E. 299; Dickens v. Long, 109 N. C. 165, 13 S. E. 841; Thompson v. Cox, 53 N. C. 311; Davis v. Howcott, 21 N. C. 460.

Ohio.— Adams v. Jeffries, 12 Ohio 253, 40 Am. Dec. 477.

Oregon.— Fiske v. Kellogg, 3 Oreg. 503.

South Carolina.— McLaurin v. Rion, 24 S. C. 407; Moore v. Smith, 24 S. C. 316; Leroy v. Charleston, 20 S. C. 71, heirs of a trustee under a special trust by the will.

Tennessee.— Jordan v. Maney, 10 Lea 135; Shields v. Alsup, 5 Lea 508; Bennett v. Kennedy, 3 Head 674; Elliott v. Cochran, 2 Sneed 468; Hinkle v. Shadden, 2 Swan 46; Frazier v. Pankey, 1 Swan 75; Estes v. Johnson, 10 Humphr. 223; Green v. Shaver, 3 Humphr. 139.

Virginia.— Hudgin v. Hudgin, 6 Gratt. 320, 52 Am. Dec. 124.

West Virginia.— Kilbreth v. Roots, 33 W. Va. 600, 11 S. E. 21, devisees should be made parties by name.

United States.— Sprague v. Litherberry, 22 Fed. Cas. No. 13,251, 4 McLean 442, stating Ohio law.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1381.

Contra.— Irwin v. Flynn, 110 La. 829, 34 So. 749; Tertron v. Comeau, 28 La. Ann. 633; Weaver's Appeal, 19 Pa. St. 416; Murphy's Appeal, 8 Watts & S. (Pa.) 165; Telfair v. Stead, 2 Cranch (U. S.) 407, 2 L. ed. 320, by the practice and law of Georgia. See also Wherry v. Bell, 2 Rob. (La.) 225, holding that where, by legal proceedings, fairly conducted, for a debt of the common ancestor of the parties, property has been judicially sold, the purchaser acquires a good title against an heir who subsequently makes himself known. But see Misner v. Fulshire, 21 La. Ann. 282, holding, however, that the omission to make the heirs parties was cured by their failure to make objections before the sale.

Existence of heirs presumed.— Gladson v. Whitney, 9 Iowa 267.

Infant heirs are necessary parties. Fiske v. Kellogg, 3 Oreg. 503. But an infant heir who has conveyed away his interest in the land is not a necessary party, for, although his deed is voidable at his election after attaining his majority, it is not void. Scruggs v. Foot, 19 S. C. 274.

Where a will has worked an equitable conversion by directing land to be sold by the trustee, and the proceeds invested, a sale is valid, although infant distributees are not made parties to the suit therefor, and although the petition sought a sale on an incorrect theory, sufficient cause for sale having been alleged, and general relief prayed for. Sloan v. Baltimore Safe-Deposit, etc., Co., 73 Md. 239, 20 Atl. 922.

Heirs of deceased heir.— On an application by an administrator to the probate court for unless he is made a party.[29] The widow of the decedent is also a necessary party in some jurisdictions.[30] A mortgagee of the land is not a necessary party,[31] nor is a creditor or a person supposed to have a claim against the estate,[32] or a the sale of his intestate's lands for the payment of his debts, the fact that one of the heirs of the intestate had died does not authorize the appointment of an administrator ad litem to represent the estate of such heir; but the heirs of said deceased heir, as successors in title to the real estate, are the proper representatives of the interest which resided in their predecessor, and they should be made parties to the proceeding. Poole v. Daughdrill, 129 Ala. 208, 30 So. 579.

Contingent remainder-men in esse and within the jurisdiction of the court are necessary parties. Farr v. Gilreath, 23 S. C. 502. But see Markle's Estate, 5 Pa. Dist. 47, 17 Pa. Co. Ct. 337.

If the lands have been devised the devisees are the only necessary parties defendant, and an heir of the testator, having no interest in the lands, is not a necessary party. Williams v. Williams, 49 Ala. 439. See also Pennsylvania L., etc., Ins. Co. v. Bauerle, 143 Ill. 459, 33 N. E. 166.

Where lands are specifically charged with the payment of debts by the will of the decedent, the heirs are not necessary parties to proceedings by creditors for the purpose of making their debts out of the real estate. Smith v. Wyckoff, 11 Paige (N. Y.) 49.

The interest devised is too remote to make a devisee a necessary party to a suit for subjecting the property to the payment of testator's debts where it is contingent on both testator's children dying without issue and a failure of the executrix to sell the property as she is authorized by the will to do. New v. Bass, 92 Va. 383, 23 S. E. 747.

Entry of appearance by administrator for heirs.— The written consent of the heirs, neither attested nor acknowledged, to a sale of decedent's property, does not authorize the administrator to enter an appearance for them in an action by him to sell the property, especially when he is interested in a lien debt against the estate. Jenkins v. Crofton, 9 S. W. 406, 10 Ky. L. Rep. 456.

Death of heir who was a party.—Where the administrator and the heirs have joined in a petition to sell land for assets the death of one of the petitioners will not vitiate the title of the purchasers, although he left minor heirs who were not made parties. Harris v. Brown, 123 N. C. 419, 31 S. E. 877.

A purchaser from the heirs prior to the commencement of a proceeding by the administrator for the sale of a decedent's land to pay debts must be made a party to the proceeding in order that his rights may be cut off. Robertson v. Wheeler, (Ill. 1896) 44 N. E. 870.

Presumption of authority of counsel to act for heirs not served.—Where the record shows that all the heirs were represented by counsel, and the authority of the counsel to act for those not served with process is not disputed, such power will be assumed for the purpose of sustaining the jurisdiction of the court to order a sale. McMillen v. Reeves, 102 N. C. 550, 9 S. E. 449.

Attorney for heirs absent or not represented.— In a proceeding for the sale of a decedent's real estate, the probate court should appoint an attorney for heirs not represented. In re Simmons, 43 Cal. 543. But a judgment ordering a sale at the suit of the curator, without the appointment of an attorney to represent the absent heirs, is not a nullity. Gibson v. Foster, 2 La. Ann. 503. Neither, where an attorney for absent heirs was regularly appointed, does the fact that such attorney absented himself from the state during the entire conclusion of the proceedings for the settlement of the estate render a sale of the lands under order of the probate court invalid. Porter v. Hornsby, 32 La. Ann. 337. So also the failure of an administrator to obtain an order of court for the sale of succession property, contradictorily with an attorney of absent heirs, is a mere irregularity and will not render the sale null and void, or affect the purchaser. Herriman v. Janney, 31 La. Ann. 276.

29. Burr v. Bloemer, 174 Ill. 638, 51 N. E. 821; Dickens v. Long, 109 N. C. 165, 13 S. E. 841.

Remedy of heir not made party.— If one of the heirs is not named in the petition or is not made a party to the proceedings, he may apply to be made a party in order that he may sue out an appeal, and having this remedy it cannot be said that he is deprived of his property without due process of law. Lyons v. Hamner, 84 Ala. 197, 4 So. 26, 5 Am. St. Rep. 363.

30. Wood v. Wood, 150 Ind. 600, 50 N. E. 573; Kent v. Taggart, 68 Ind. 163 (holding that the sale of a whole tract of land to pay debts, made under proceedings to which the widow was not a party, passes to the purchaser no interest in her dower rights therein); Simonton v. Brown, 72 N. C. 46. Contra, In re Smith, 43 Oreg. 595, 73 Pac. 336, 75 Pac. 133; Weaver's Appeal, 19 Pa. St. 416; Murphy's Appeal, 8 Watts & S. (Pa.) 165.

31. Matter of Haig, 6 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 454, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 285; Holloway v. Stuart, 19 Ohio St. 472; Defrees v. Greenbaum, 11 Ohio St. 486. But compare Hart v. Hart, 31 W. Va. 688, 8 S. E. 562.

32. Lewis v. De Graw, 19 Ill. App. 313; Thompson v. Cox, 53 N. C. 311.

Where land specifically charged with payment of debts.— In a bill by a creditor of a testator's estate to obtain payment out of land specifically charged by the testator with debts, all the creditors whose debts are charged upon the land and are still due should be made parties, if they are named in the will; but, if the names of other creditors cannot be ascertained by the complainant, he may in the first instance allege that fact in creditor of an heir.[33] Where, in a proceeding to sell land of an intestate to pay debts, the widow of a deceased son and heir is made a party as such, it is not necessary to the validity of the sale that she should also be made a party as administratrix of her husband's estate.[34] When the administrator of a devisee brings an action to sell the real estate acquired by the devise to pay his debts, a creditor of the original testator is neither a necessary nor a proper party defendant.[35] A person claiming land under a deed from a former administrator is not interested in the estate so as to entitle him to interfere in proceedings by a subsequent administrator to sell the land for the payment of debts.[36] A mortgagor who has parted with his title to the land mortgaged, and is not in possession thereof, is not a necessary party to a proceeding brought by the executor of the purchaser to obtain an order to sell the land for the payment of debts.[37] Any person interested in the property whose sale is sought may become a party to the proceedings on proper showing of his interest,[38] but a creditor of the estate cannot become a party plaintiff in proceedings by the representative to sell real estate to pay debts.[39] Proceedings in the orphans' court against lands charged with legacies should be by the legatees themselves and the executor is not a proper party,[40] but the fact that the executor is made a party does not avoid the proceedings for want of jurisdiction if the legatees are in fact parties.[41]

b. Guardian of Infant. It is usually required, and considered essential to the validity of the proceedings, that an infant heir or devisee of the land whose sale is sought shall have a regular guardian, or else a guardian ad litem, to represent his interest,[42] but in some states, if such infant be duly cited, the non-appointment excuse. Smith v. Wyckoff, 11 Paige (N. Y.) 49.

33. Nichols v. Lee, 16 Colo. 147, 26 Pac. 157.

Creditors of an heir may intervene in such proceedings if they so desire. Nichols v. Lee, 16 Colo. 147, 26 Pac. 157.

34. Wood v. Wood, 150 Ind. 600, 50 N. E. 573.

35. Smith v. Hayward, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 462, 4 Ohio N. P. 501.

36. Shields v. Ashley, 16 Mo. 471.

37. Denison University v. Manning, 65 Ohio St. 138, 61 N. E. 706.

38. Arkansas.— Ex p. Marr, 12 Ark. 84.

Georgia.— McGowan v. Lufburrow, 82 Ga. 523, 9 S. E. 427, 14 Am. St. Rep. 178, minors as contingent remainder-men.

Illinois.— Newell v. Montgomery, 129 Ill. 58, 21 N. E. 508.

Mississippi.— Moody v. Harper, 38 Miss. 599.

North Carolina.— Battle v. Duncan, 90 N. C. 546; Gibson v. Pitts, 69 N. C. 155.

Ohio.— Doan v. Biteley, 49 Ohio St. 588, 32 N. E. 600 (persons claiming adverse title to the land); Clark v. Harlin, Ohio Prob. 106 (husband in proceedings for sale of his deceased wife's estate, where his curtesy is at issue).

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1382.

But compare Shields v. Ashley, 16 Mo. 471, holding that under a statute declaring that the deed given in pursuance to such a sale should convey to the purchaser only the right, title, and interest which the deceased had in the real estate at the time of his death, a person claiming a title superior to the decedent was not a proper party and had not even the right to interfere and resist the order of sale.

Purchasers of real estate from the owner's widow are not proper parties in such proceedings. Nix v. Mayer, (Tex. 1886) 2 S. W. 819.

39. Strickland v. Strickland, 129 N. C. 84, 39 S. E. 735; Rawls v. Carter, 119 N. C. 596, 26 S. E. 154; Dickey v. Dickey, 118 N. C. 956, 24 S. E. 715.

40. Littleton's Appeal, 93 Pa. St. 177; Field's Appeal, 36 Pa. St. 11.

41. Littleton's Appeal, 93 Pa. St. 177.

42. Alabama.— Craig v. McGehee, 16 Ala. 41.

Florida.— Price v. Winter, 15 Fla. 66.

Georgia.— McGowan v. Lufburrow, 82 Ga. 523, 9 S. E. 427, 14 Am. St. Rep. 178.

Kentucky.— Vowles v. Buckman, 6 Dana 466.

Mississippi.— Billups v. Brander, 56 Miss. 495; Winston v. McLendon, 43 Miss. 254.

New York.— Sheldon v. Wright, 5 N. Y. 497 [affirming 7 Barb. 39]; Schneider v. McFarland, 2 N. Y. 459 [affirming 4 Barb. 139]; In re Mahoney, 34 Hun 501; Richmond v. Foote, 3 Lans. 244; Havens v. Sherman, 42 Barb. 636; Ackley v. Dygert, 33 Barb. 176 (whether or not the petition shows that an heir interested is a minor); Corwin v. Merritt, 3 Barb. 341; Bloom v. Burdick, 1 Hill 130, 37 Am. Dec. 299.

North Carolina.— Hyman v. Jarnigan, 65 N. C. 96.

Ohio.— Biggs v. Bickel, 12 Ohio St. 49.

Oregon.— Fiske v. Kellogg, 3 Oreg. 503.

South Carolina.— Tinley v. Robertson, 17 S. C. 435.

West Virginia.— Hart v. Hart, 31 W. Va. 688, 8 S. E. 562.

of a guardian to represent his interests, although possibly an irregularity of which immediate advantage may be taken, is not of itself to be deemed a defect sufficient to invalidate the sale and prevent title from vesting in the purchaser.[43]

c. Effect of Failure to Join Necessary Parties. As a general rule a failure to join a necessary party to the proceedings to sell land renders the proceeding and the sale void, at least as to the interest of such party,[44] although where the pro-

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1383.

Appointment and appearance of guardian sufficient.— An order of sale is not void, although the name of a minor child does not appear in the record, if the record shows the appointment and appearance of a guardian ad litem for all the minor heirs. Snevely v. Lowe, 18 Ohio 368. And infants are bound where represented by guardian ad litem, although they are not served with summons, notice, or other paper. Rollins v. Brown, 37 S. C. 345, 16 S. E. 44, so holding where the proceedings were instituted and completed before the adoption of the code of procedure.

An order appointing a special guardian nunc pro tunc will not cure an omission to appoint one in the first instance. In re Mahoney, 34 Hun (N. Y.) 501.

Failure to serve notice of application for guardian.— Failure to serve notice on certain infants of an application for the appointment of a special guardian for them, as required by N. Y. Code Civ. Proc. § 2531, where a petition for a sale of decedent's real property for the payment of his debts was duly presented, and all parties interested, including such infants, were regularly cited, and the decree directing the sale, and the order confirming it and directing its execution, were properly made, does not affect the title of a purchaser at such sale, since section 2784 provides that his title is not affected by such omissions, errors, or irregularities. Fenn's Estate, 8 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 206.

Sufficiency of affidavit to authorize appointment see Robinson v. Clark, 34 S. W. 1083, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 1401.

Appearance by administrator.—Where land was sold to pay debts under a decree of court on the petition of the administrator, and two heirs who were minors appeared by the administrator as their next friend, the sale was void, as against the minors, their interest being antagonistic to that of the administrator. O'Conner v. Carver, 12 Heisk. (Tenn.) 436. But compare Harris v. Brown, 123 N. C. 419, 31 S. E. 877, holding that, while it is irregular for the administrator to represent a minor heir as guardian in a proceeding to sell land for assets, yet where there is no suggestion of any unfair advantage having been taken in the sale, confirmation, or elsewhere in the proceeding such irregularity will not vitiate the title of the purchaser.

Where statutory guardian not a party but guardian ad litem appointed.— Where in a proceeding by an administrator to sell real estate a guardian ad litem was appointed for an infant defendant, although no affidavit was filed showing that such infant had no statutory guardian residing in the state, as required by statute, and at the sale the statutory guardian became the purchaser, it was held that the sale should be set aside as the statutory guardian was not a party to the proceeding and it was reasonable to believe that the irregularity would materially affect the salable value of the property. Catlett v. Catlett, 72 S. W. 781, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 1986.

Appearance of guardian without answer.— Where on application by an administratrix for permission to sell land notice was properly served upon the infant heir and upon her guardian, and the guardian appeared, the court thereupon acquired jurisdiction to order the sale, although no answer was filed by the guardian, notwithstanding a statutory provision that "no judgment can be rendered against an infant until after a defense by a guardian." Bickel v. Erskine, 43 Iowa 213.

43. California.—Thomas v. Parker, 97 Cal. 456, 32 Pac. 562.

Illinois.— Gage v. Schroder, 73 Ill. 44 (citation of infant heirs sufficient); Barnett v. Wolf, 70 Ill. 76. Contra, Whitney v. Porter, 23 Ill. 445. And see Herdman v. Short, 18 Ill. 59.

Indiana.— See Clark v. Hillis, 134 Ind. 421, 34 N. E. 13. But compare Comparet v. Randall, 4 Ind. 55; Timmons v. Timmons, 3 Ind. 251, 6 Ind. 8.

Iowa.— Myers v. Davis, 47 Iowa 325.

Massachusetts.— Holmes v. Beal, 9 Cush. 223.

Nebraska.— McClay v. Foxworthy, 18 Nebr. 295, 25 N. W. 86.

New Hampshire.— Boody v. Emerson, 17 N. H. 577.

Wisconsin.— Sitzman v. Pacquette, 13 Wis. 291.

United States.— Parker v. Kane, 22 How. 1, 16 L. ed. 286, a Wisconsin case.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1383.

44. Illinois.—Burr v. Bloemer, 107 Ill. 638, 51 N. E. 821.

Maryland.— Bowen v. Gent, 54 Md. 555.

New York.—Jenkins v. Young, 35 Hun 569.

North Carolina.— McNeill v. Fuller, 121 N. C. 209, 28 S. E. 299; Harrison v. Harrison, 106 N. C. 282, 11 S. E. 356; Perry v. Adams, 98 N. C. 167, 3 S. E. 729, 2 Am. St. Rep. 326; Stancill v. Gay, 92 N. C. 462. See also Dickens v. Long, 109 N. C. 165, 13 S. E. 841; Shields v. Allen, 77 N. C. 375.

Oregon.— Fiske v. Kellogg, 3 Oreg. 503.

South Carolina.— Whitesides v. Barber, 24 S. C. 373; Moore v. Smith, 24 S. C. 316.

Tennessee.— Shields v. Alsup, 5 Lea 508; Bennett v. Kennerly, 3 Head 674; Estes v. Johnson, 10 Humphr. 223.

Virginia.— Hudgin v. Hudgin, 6 Gratt. 320, 52 Am. Dec. 124.

ceeding is regarded as strictly in rem it has been held that such an omission goes only to the regularity of the proceeding and not to the jurisdiction of the court, and while it may cause the decree to be reversed on appeal or error, or set aside on direct attack, does not render the decree or the sale thereunder void or open to collateral attack.[45]

5. Petition or Other Application — a. Necessity. In respect to the subject-matter the jurisdiction of the probate court to order a sale of a decedent's real estate attaches upon the filing of a petition or application containing the jurisdictional allegations,[46] and as a general rule the filing of a petition or formal application of this complete character is a necessary prerequisite to the exercise of the power of the court to order or license a sale.[47]

There can arise no presumption of jurisdiction of the persons of the heirs having been obtained where the record does not show that they were made parties and the proceeding does not purport to be anything more than an ex parte proceeding by the administrator. Moore v. Smith, 24 S. C. 316.

Making widow party by amendment.— Where land which had been assigned to a widow as dower was sold under order of court for payment of the husband's debts in a proceeding to which the widow was not made a party, the sale was void as to her, and a subsequent amendment of the original proceedings by which she was made a party could not give validity to a deed executed thereunder. Simonton v. Brown, 72 N. C. 46.

45. Neville v. Kinney, 125 Ala. 149, 28 So. 452, 82 Am. St. Rep. 230; Lyons v. Hamner, 84 Ala. 197, 4 So. 26, 5 Am. St. Rep. 363.

Collateral attack generally see infra, XII, S, 3.

46. Alabama.— Moore v. Cottingham, 113 Ala. 148, 30 So. 994, 59 Am. St. Rep. 100; Doe v. Hardy, 52 Ala. 291; Pettus v. McClannahan, 52 Ala. 55; De Bardeleben v. Stoudenmire, 48 Ala. 643; Spragins v. Taylor, 48 Ala. 520; Warnock v. Thomas, 48 Ala. 463; Satcher v. Satcher, 41 Ala. 26, 91 Am. Dec. 498; Duval v. McLoskey, 1 Ala. 708; Wyman v. Campbell, 6 Port. 219, 31 Am. Dec. 677.

Illinois.— Bostwick v. Skinner, 80 Ill. 147; Duffin v. Abbott, 48 Ill. 17; Wight v. Wallbaum, 39 Ill. 554; Schnell v. Chicago, 38 Ill. 382, 87 Am. Dec. 304; Goudy v. Hall, 36 Ill. 313, 87 Am. Dec. 217; Gibson v. Roll, 30 Ill. 172, 83 Am. Dec. 181, 27 Ill. 88, 81 Am. St. Rep. 219; Fitzgibbon v. Lake, 29 Ill. 165, 81 Am. Dec. 302; Young v. Lorain, 11 Ill. 624, 52 Am. Dec. 463.

Iowa.— Long v. Burnett, 13 Iowa 28, 81 Am. Dec. 420.

New York.— Jackson v. Irwin, 10 Wend. 441; Farrington v. King, 1 Bradf. Surr. 182.

Virginia.— Cox v. Thomas, 9 Gratt. 323.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1386.

Prayers for sale of different properties in same application.— In the same application there may be a prayer to sell cultivated land, wild land, and personalty, and at the proper time an order may be passed granting leave to sell each. Coggins v. Griswold, 64 Ga. 323.

Truth of statements immaterial.— The jurisdiction rests upon the averments of the petition and not upon their proof, and so far as the question of jurisdiction is concerned it is immaterial whether the statements of the petition be true or not. Stuart v. Allen, 16 Cal. 473, 76 Am. Dec. 551.

47. Alabama.— Robertson v. Bradford, 73 Ala. 116, 70 Ala. 385; Landford v. Dunklin, 71 Ala. 594; Tyson v. Brown, 64 Ala. 244; Jay v. Stein, 49 Ala. 514; Hine v. Hussey, 45 Ala. 496.

California.— Pryor v. Downey, 50 Cal. 388, 19 Am. Rep. 656.

Idaho.— Ethell v. Nichols, 1 Ida. 741.

Illinois.— Monahon v. Vandyke, 27 Ill. 154.

Iowa.— Long v. Burnett, 13 Iowa 28, 81 Am. Dec. 420.

Mississippi.— Picard v. Montross, (1895) 17 So. 375.

Missouri.— A petition is necessary (Teverbaugh v. Hawkins, 82 Mo. 180) except where on a settlement of the accounts of the representative it appears that the personal estate is insufficient to pay the debts, in which case the court is authorized to make an order of sale of its own motion (Day v. Graham, 97 Mo. 398, 11 S. W. 55; Teverbaugh v. Hawkins, 82 Mo. 180).

Montana.— State v. Second Judicial Dist. Ct., 24 Mont. 1, 60 Pac. 489, lease.

New Jersey.— Lawson v. Acton, 57 N. J. Eq. 107, 40 Atl. 584.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1386.

Contra.— Emerson v. Ross, 17 Fla. 122. And see Whitley v. Davis, 1 Swan (Tenn.) 333 (holding that, although a sale of land be not the primary purpose of a bill filed by an administrator against the heirs of his intestate, and although there be no specific prayer of the bill for the sale of the land, yet, if the attainment of the justice of the case makes a sale necessary, the court may order it); Saul v. Frame, 3 Tex. Civ. App. 596, 22 S. W. 984 [following Robertson v. Johnson, 57 Tex. 62; Alexander v. Maverick, 18 Tex. 179, 67 Am. Dec. 693].

Verified petition instead of affidavit.— An administrator's application to be allowed to mortgage realty, although in the form of a verified petition stating the requisite facts, pursuant to Hill Annot. Laws Oreg. § 1078, subd. 2, and not on affidavit, as required by Oreg. Laws (1898), p. 34, was sufficient to confer jurisdiction on the county court, and

b. Requirements — (i) In General. The petition or other application for a sale must be in writing,[48] and should aver all the facts requisite for giving jurisdiction in the case, or required by statute to be set forth.[49] If there is a will this must be alleged, and it has also been held necessary to show whether the widow elected to take thereunder or dissented therefrom,[50] what were the provisions of the will as to real estate,[51] and that such will does not contain a power to sell for the payment of debts.[52] When the proceeding to sell real estate is instituted by therefore the order authorizing the mortgage of the property was not subject to collateral attack. Lawrey v. Sterling, 41 Oreg. 518, 69 Pac. 460.

Cross petition in action for partition.— Where, in an action for partition of real estate brought by heirs, the administrator by answer and cross petition sets forth the necessity of selling the real estate to pay debts, he is entitled to an order of sale. Lafferty v. Shinn, 38 Ohio St. 46.

The final report of an administrator after legal summons to the heirs to appear and contest his account is not such a bill or petition as to justify a court to decree the sale of land to pay expenses and charges against decedent's estate. Picard v. Montross, (Miss. 1895) 17 So. 375.

Creditor may proceed summarily by rule. Dubuch v. Wildermuth, 3 La. Ann. 407.

Land purchased but not paid for by the decedent in his lifetime may be sold by the representative for the payment of the purchase-price without a petition or appraisement. Garrett v. Bicknell, 64 Mo. 404.

48. Townsend v. Steel, 85 Ala. 580, 5 So. 351; Reynolds v. Kirkland, 44 Ala. 312. See also Alabama Conference M. E. Church South v. Price, 42 Ala. 39.

An order to sell perishable property may be made on an oral application; but it is the better practice to require the application to be made in writing and verified by oath. Adkinson v. Wright, 46 Ala. 598.

49. Alabama.— Wilson v. Holt, 83 Ala. 528, 3 So. 321, 3 Am. St. Rep. 768; Meadows v. Meadows, 73 Ala. 356; Arnett v. Bailey, 60 Ala. 435; Hall v. Hall, 47 Ala. 290; Harris v. Parker, 41 Ala. 604.

California.— Byrne's Estate, 112 Cal. 176, 44 Pac. 467.

Illinois.— Bree v. Bree, 51 Ill. 367; Lynch v. Hickey, 13 Ill. App. 139.

Indiana.— Renner v. Ross, 111 Ind. 269, 12 N. E. 508.

New York.— Ackley v. Dygert, 33 Barb. 176.

Pennsylvania.— Heffner's Appeal, 119 Pa. St. 462, 13 Atl. 314; Torrance v. Torrance, 53 Pa. St. 505.

Texas.— See Danzey v. Swinney, 7 Tex. 617, holding that, although merely because a petition or application in the probate court for an order to sell decedent's land fails to set out all the facts necessary to entitle the party to relief, exceptions to it ought not to be sustained, yet, if the facts and exhibits set out in the petition or application show prima facie that the party is not entitled to relief, the probate court may properly dismiss the proceeding at once.

Washington.— Prefontaine v. McMicken, 16 Wash. 16, 47 Pac. 231.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1385.

A petition by a creditor must set out the facts required by statute to be shown in a petition by an executor or administrator. Allen v. Sanford, 5 Silv. Supreme (N. Y.) 208, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 182; Mead v. Sherwood, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 352; Prefontaine v. McMicken, 16 Wash. 16, 47 Pac. 231.

The amount due or to become due upon the family allowance should, under Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1537, be stated; but where the sale was not ordered to pay a family allowance, the failure of the petition to make such statement did not render it objectionable on appeal, since it would be presumed that there was nothing due on such allowance. In re Levy, 141 Cal. 639, 75 Pac. 317.

Reference to former petition.—Where a petition for the sale of land is insufficient, but refers to a former petition, which was sufficient to confer jurisdiction, the court can regard the two as constituting one petition. Friedman v. Shamblin, 117 Ala. 454, 23 So. 821.

Stating the statutory grounds disjunctively does not invalidate the petition. Inman v. Gibbs, 47 Ala. 305.

Mines or mining interests.— A tract of land for which a mineral patent had been issued and of which the deceased was the owner in fee simple and upon which no mining had been done for a series of years cannot be summarily sold as a mine or mining interest under Cal. Code Civ. Proc. §§ 1529–1533, and can only be sold under a petition stating the facts required for the sale of real estate under section 1537 of the code. Byrne's Estate, 112 Cal. 176, 44 Pac. 467.

Petitions held sufficient see Moore v. Cottingham, 113 Ala. 148, 20 So. 994, 59 Am. St. Rep. 100; In re Roach, 139 Cal. 17, 72 Pac. 393; Cahill v. Bassett, 66 Mich. 407, 33 N. W. 722.

Petitions held insufficient see Ackley v. Dygert, 33 Barb. (N. Y.) 176; Heffner's Appeal, 119 Pa. St. 462, 13 Atl. 314; Torrance v. Torrance, 53 Pa. St. 505.

50. Meadows v. Meadows, 73 Ala. 356; Archibald v. Long, 144 Ind. 451, 43 N. E. 439; Renner v. Ross, 111 Ind. 269, 12 N. E. 508, where it appears that the only claim against the estate is that of the widow for the statutory allowance.

51. Allen v. Sanford, 5 Silv. Supreme (N. Y.) 208, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 182.

52. Wilson v. Holt, 83 Ala. 528, 3 So. 321, 3 Am. St. Rep. 768; Arnett v. Bailey, 60 Ala. 435; Hall v. Hall, 47 Ala. 290. Contra, a creditor his standing as such must be averred and shown.[53] But facts not essential or not required by statute to be set out need not be averred.[54] Thus there is no need of averring that decedent died intestate[55] or that the estate is insolvent.[56] Neither is it necessary that an administrator's petition for leave to sell realty should state how he was appointed,[57] the date of the issuance of letters,[58] or that he was appointed by a court having power,[59] but it is sufficient to state generally that he is the administrator.[60] An allegation that the premises were fraudulently conveyed is also unnecessary.[61] A creditor's petition for a sale of realty to pay debts need not allege that the executor or administrator refused to act in the matter.[62] It is not an objection to the petition that it only asks for a sale instead of for permission to mortgage, lease, or sell where it appears from the petition itself that a mortgage or lease would fail to accomplish the purpose intended.[63] An application by executors for the sale of land embracing both wild and cultivated land, one to be sold at public and the other at private sale, has been held not invalid, where the citation used in each case was published.[64] A substantial compliance with the statutory requirements as to what a petition for the sale of property shall contain is sufficient,[65] and defects, irregularities, or omissions not amounting to a failure to show jurisdictional facts do not deprive the court of jurisdiction or render the judgment subject to collateral attack, although they may be cause for reversal,[66] but the failure of an application for an order of the probate court for the sale of a decedent's land to allege facts giving the court jurisdiction renders void an order issued thereon or a sale made

In re Haig, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 285, 6 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 454, where the will showed such fact.

Where the petition refers to the will, which is of record, and makes the will a part of the petition, and the will contains no such power, this supplies an averment, omitted from the petition as to the lack of power. Arnett v. Bailey, 60 Ala. 435.

53. Albuquerque First Nat. Bank v. Lee, 8 N. M. 589, 45 Pac. 1114.

54. Florida.— Deans v. Wilcoxon, 18 Fla. 531.

Illinois.— Moffitt v. Moffitt, 69 Ill. 641.

Indiana.— Whisnand v. Small, 65 Ind. 120.

New York.— In re Bingham, 127 N. Y. 296, 27 N. E. 1055 [affirming 10 N. Y. Suppl. 325], holding that a petition by a creditor for leave to sell or mortgage the land of his deceased debtor filed more than three years after the issue of letters testamentary need not aver that it is founded on a debt which was in controversy in an action brought by such creditor against the executors during said three years, although, under Code Civ. Proc. § 2752, such fact must be proved in order to give the surrogate jurisdiction of the proceeding.

North Carolina.— Monger v. Kelly, 115 N. C. 294, 20 S. E. 374, holding that a petition by an administrator de bonis non for the sale of land for the payment of debts need not allege that petitioner has exhausted his remedy on the bond of the former administrator.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1385.

55. Deans v. Wilcoxon, 18 Fla. 531.

56. Deans v. Wilcoxon, 18 Fla. 531.

57. Moffitt v. Moffitt, 69 Ill. 641.

58. In re Haig, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 285, 6 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 454, where it shows that the proceeding was commenced within three years thereafter.

59. Moffitt v. Moffitt, 69 Ill. 641.

60. Moffitt v. Moffitt, 69 Ill. 641; In re Haig, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 285, 6 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 454.

61. Tyndale v. Stanwood, 182 Mass. 534, 66 N. E. 23.

62. Whisnand v. Small, 65 Ind. 120.

63. In re Dolan, 88 N. Y. 309 [reversing 26 Hun 46].

64. Coggins v. Griswold, 64 Ga. 323.

65. De Bardelaben v. Stoudenmire, 48 Ala. 643; Harris v. Parker, 41 Ala. 604; In re Heydenfeldt, 127 Cal. 456, 59 Pac. 839; Burris v. Kennedy, 108 Cal. 331, 41 Pac. 458; Burris v. Adams, 96 Cal. 664, 31 Pac. 565; Richardson v. Butler, 82 Cal. 174, 23 Pac. 9, 16 Am. St. Rep. 116; Stuart v. Allen, 16 Cal. 473, 76 Am. Dec. 551; Hobson v. Ewan, 62 Ill. 146 (no form being prescribed); Lynch v. Hickey, 13 Ill. App. 139 (but substantial compliance is necessary).

66. Alabama.— Poole v. Daughdrill, 129 Ala. 208, 30 So. 579; Satcher v. Satcher, 41 Ala. 26, 91 Am. Dec. 498.

Arkansas.— Adams v. Thomas, 44 Ark. 267.

California.— Burris v. Kennedy, 108 Cal. 331, 41 Pac. 458; Townsend v. Gordon, 19 Cal. 188.

Texas.— Lyne v. Sanford, 82 Tex. 58, 19 S. W. 847, 27 Am. St. Rep. 852, holding that where a sworn appraisement and inventory showing the condition of the estate was made before sale, a failure to attach to the application for sale an exhibit showing the condition of the estate, and what debts had been allowed, would not invalidate the sale.

Washington.— Ackerson v. Orchard, 7 Wash. 377, 34 Pac. 1106, 35 Pac. 605.

Wisconsin.— Reynolds v. Schmidt, 20 Wis. 374.

in pursuance of such order.[67] It has been held no objection to an administrator's petition for leave to sell real estate that it was in the form of a bill in chancery.[68]

(11) AVERMENTS AS TO HEIRS OR DEVISEES. It is commonly required that the petition shall name and describe the heirs or devisees,[69] and show whether any of them, and if so which, are infants, married women, lunatics, or otherwise under any disability.[70] A petition giving the degree of the relationship of the

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1385.

67. Robertson v. Bradford, 73 Ala. 116; De Bardelaben v. Stoudenmire, 48 Ala. 643; Wright v. Edwards, 10 Oreg. 298.

68. Bowles v. Rouse, 8 Ill. 409.

69. Alabama.— Poole v. Daughdrill, 129 Ala. 208, 30 So. 579; Townsend v. Steel, 85 Ala. 580, 5 So. 351; Bingham v. Jones, 84 Ala. 202, 4 So. 409; Bozeman v. Bozeman, 82 Ala. 389, 2 So. 732; McCorkle v. Rhea, 75 Ala. 213 (holding that an order for sale of land on a petition by the administrator of a tenant in common which fails to state the names of all the persons interested is absolutely void, and a sale thereunder does not divest the title of the heirs); Hall v. Hall, 47 Ala. 290; Hoard v. Hoard, 41 Ala. 590 (holding that a petition for the sale of decedent's lands for the purpose of making an equitable division among the heirs which does not allege the christian names and the ages of the infant heirs, although the name of their guardian is set forth, is fatally defective, and will not support an order of sale); Noles v. Noles, 40 Ala. 576 (holding that a statutory provision that in an application to the probate court for leave to sell land for distribution among heirs of an intestate the names of heirs and their places of residence shall be given is not complied with by an averment that the names of heirs are unknown, while their place of residence is given); Blann v. Grant, 6 Ala. 110.

California.— In re Levy, 141 Cal. 639, 75 Pac. 317. See also In re Roach, 139 Cal. 17, 72 Pac. 393.

Illinois.— See Stow v. Kimball, 28 Ill. 93, 107 [explaining Turney v. Turney, 24 Ill. 625], where the court said: "Sound and judicious practice no doubt requires that the names of the heirs and devisees, and their grantees, if known, should be inserted in the petition, but the statute has not prescribed it, and we must not hold the proceeding void for the want of it."

Indiana.— Rapp v. Matthias, 35 Ind. 332.

New York.— Jenkins v. Young, 35 Hun 569; Ackley v. Dygert, 33 Barb. 176; Allen v. Sanford, 5 Silv. Supreme 208, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 182; In re Johns, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 172, 21 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 326; Mead v. Sherwood, 4 Redf. Surr. 352.

West Virginia.— Underwood v. Underwood, 22 W. Va. 303, widow, heirs, devisees, and all known creditors.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1388.

Failure to name heirs a jurisdictional defect.— Matter of Slater, 17 Misc. (N. Y.) 474, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 534; In re Johns, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 172, 21 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 326.

Omission to name heirs in petition does not invalidate decree. Hobson v. Ewan, 62 Ill. 146; Morris v. Hogle, 37 Ill. 150, 87 Am. Dec. 243; Stow v. Kimball, 28 Ill. 93; Gibson v. Roll, 27 Ill. 88, 81 Am. Dec. 219 [overruling In re Sturms, 25 Ill. 390]. See also Turney v. Turney, 24 Ill. 625.

Error in name.— The fact that a minor heir was wrongly named in the petition and order did not affect the jurisdiction of the court, it appearing that she was rightly named in the summons. McCormack v. Kimmel, 4 Ill. App. 121.

A petition showing that there are heirs whose names are not given is fatally defective upon demurrer, although it states that the names of such heirs are unknown to the petitioner, and shows that he has used all reasonable diligence to ascertain them. Bingham v. Jones, 84 Ala. 202, 4 So. 409.

Submission to court as to which of persons named are heirs.— On an application by an administrator for an order to sell lands, on the ground that they cannot be equitably divided without a sale, a petition stating that there are children of two marriages, giving their names, ages, etc., and submitting to the court the question whether all of them are entitled to share in the lands, or only the children of the last marriage, is sufficient to give the court jurisdiction, and the court may decree a sale, without deciding who are heirs. Eatman v. Eatman, 83 Ala. 478, 3 So. 850.

Statement on information and belief.— An application by an administrator to sell lands of his decedent which avers that certain persons named are the heirs to the best of the petitioner's knowledge, information, and belief is sufficient. Townsend v. Steel, 85 Ala. 580, 5 So. 351; Greenblatt v. Hermann, 144 N. Y. 13, 38 N. E. 966 [reversing 69 Hun 298, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 565].

Failure to state that persons named the only heirs.— The failure of a petition for the sale of testator's real estate to allege that the persons named as devisees and legatees therein were the only heirs, as required by Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1537, which statement, however, appeared from the order of sale, did not render the order fatally defective. In re Levy, 141 Cal. 639, 75 Pac. 317.

Where a person is mentioned as a deceased heir it should be stated who succeeded as heirs to her title. Poole v. Daughdrill, 129 Ala. 208, 30 So. 579.

70. Poole v. Daughdrill, 129 Ala. 208, 30 So. 579; Bozeman v. Bozeman, 82 Ala. 389, 2 So. 732; Page v. Matthews, 41 Ala. 719 (holding that on an application by an administrator for an order to sell real estate of his intestate, a petition averring that two of the distributees of the estate are married heirs and not setting forth the proportionate interest of each has been held to be sufficient.[71]

(III) Averments as to Necessity and Purpose of Sale. The petition or application must set forth the necessity for[72] and the object or purpose of the sale.[73] When a sale for the payment of debts is sought the petition must aver the existence and amount of debts,[74] and, it has been asserted, the allowance of women, but not stating the ages, severally, of the husbands and wives, and averring that four others of the distributees are minors, and in no way showing whether the wives and husbands are minors, is fatally defective); Griffin v. Griffin, 3 Ala. 623. See also Cloud v. Barton, 14 Ala. 347; Mead v. Sherwood, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 352.

Failure to state which heirs of full age not jurisdictional.— Field v. Goldsby, 28 Ala. 218, 65 Am. Dec. 341.

71. Rodgers v. Rodgers, 31 S. W. 139, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 358.

72. Alabama.— Sermon v. Black, 79 Ala. 507; Robertson v. Bradford, 70 Ala. 385 (holding that Code (1852), § 1755, providing for the sale of decedent's land to pay his debts when it was "more beneficial for the estate to sell land than slaves" was not complied with by a petition alleging that it was "more to the interest of all parties to sell the house and lots than the personal estate"); Hall v. Hall, 47 Ala. 290; Hall v. Chapman, 35 Ala. 553 (personalty); Wyatt v. Rambo, 29 Ala. 510, 68 Am. Dec. 89.

California.— In re Rose, 63 Cal. 346; Haynes v. Meeks, 20 Cal. 288. See also Kertchem v. George, 78 Cal. 597, 21 Pac. 372, where the decree was not in such form as to cure the omision under Code Civ. Proc. § 1537.

Maine.— In re Snow, 96 Me. 570, 53 Atl. 116.

New York.— Ackley v. Dygert, 33 Barb. 176.

Texas.—Gillenwaters v. Scott, 62 Tex. 670, holding that a petition for a sale of a decedent's lands, which merely shows that the sale will be advantageous to the estate, without showing any of the statutory reasons therefor, as that it is necessary to pay debts, is defective.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1389.

Liability to waste or perishable nature.— Under the statute authorizing the sale of personal property of a decedent's estate, when liable to waste or when it is of a perishable nature, an averment in a petition in such case that the property is "of a character liable to waste or be consumed by fire" is sufficient to sustain the jurisdiction of the court. Harris v. Parker, 41 Ala. 604.

Necessity for payment of debts.— An application which shows on its face that a sale is necessary for the purpose of paying the debts of the estate is sufficient. Hatcher v. Clifton, 33 Ala. 301.

"Opinion and belief."— An application showing that in the "opinion and belief" of the representative it is necessary to sell for the payment of debts is sufficient when the order of sale is questioned collaterally. Reynolds v. Kirkland, 44 Ala. 312. See also King v. Kent, 29 Ala. 542; In re Merchant, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 875. But compare Sharp v. Sharp, 76 Ala. 312; Hall v. Hall, 47 Ala. 290.

73. Ikelheimer v. Chapman, 32 Ala. 676.

A joinder of different grounds of sale, as for partition and payment of debts, in the same bill or petition will not affect the validity of the sale, although the practice is irregular. Kindell v. Titus, 9 Heisk. (Tenn.) 727.

Statement not invalidating petition.—Where the petition for a sale of land to pay debts shows on its face that there is not enough personal property to pay the alleged debts and the prayer is confined to leave to sell to pay debts and charges of administration, the petition is not rendered void because of a statement therein that "in petitioning to sell all the real estate of said deceased, he [the petitioner] does it with a view to the distribution of the balance over and above the amount necessary to pay the debts." Norman v. Olney, 64 Mich. 553, 31 N. W. 555.

74. Alabama.— The existence of debts should be alleged but it is not necessary to state the amount. Cotton v. Holloway, 96 Ala. 544, 12 So. 172 [modifying Quarles v. Campbell, 72 Ala. 64, and overruling Abernathy v. O'Reilly, 90 Ala. 495, 7 So. 919]. See also Smith v. Brannon, 99 Ala. 445, 12 So. 422.

California.— See In re Roach, 139 Cal. 17, 72 Pac. 393.

Colorado.— Bateman v. Reitler, 19 Colo. 547, 36 Pac. 548.

Illinois.— Moffitt v. Moffitt, 69 Ill. 641 (holding that an allegation in an administrator's petition for leave to sell realty to pay debts "that there are debts now standing against said estate, which have been allowed, to the amount of —— dollars, and that there are no assets in petitioner's hands, the personal property being all exhausted, wherewith to pay said debts, without selling real estate," is a sufficient statement of indebtedness to authorize a decree for the sale of lands); Lynch v. Hickey, 13 Ill. App. 139 (amount of claims allowed).

Indiana.— Jackson v. Weaver, 98 Ind. 307 (holding that a petition to sell lands which shows a claim allowed against the estate, without specifying whether the debt was incurred as surety or principal, is sufficient in that respect after verdict); Rapp v. Matthias, 35 Ind. 332 (amount of debts must be shown).

Iowa.— Gladson v. Whitney, 9 Iowa 267. See also Morrow v. Weed, 4 Iowa 77, 66 Am. Dec. 122.

Kentucky.— Rodgers v. Rodgers, 31 S. W. 139, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 358, amount of debts.

claims against the estate;[75] and it must also be shown that a sale is necessary for their payment.[76] If land is to be sold the insufficiency of the personalty and the necessity of resorting to the realty for payment of the debts must also be made to appear,[77] although it has been held that if these facts are necessarily to be

New York.— Ackley v. Dygert, 33 Barb. 176; Gilchrist v. Rea, 9 Paige 66, holding that on an application by an administrator for an order of the surrogate for a sale of real estate to pay debts, after a lapse of several years from the death of the debtor, the petition must show that such debts have been recently discovered, and, if six years have elapsed, that they are not barred by the statute.

North Carolina.— Blount v, Pritchard, 88 N. C. 445.

Tennessee.— Linnville v. Darby, 1 Baxt. 306, petition must specify debts or the names of creditors.

Utah.— Needham v. Salt Lake City, 7 Utah 319, 26 Pac. 920.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1390.

Names of all known creditors should be stated. Underwood v. Underwood, 22 W. Va. 303.

These requirements are directory only (Jackson v. Houston, 84 Tex. 622, 19 S. W. 799; Kleinecke v. Woodward, 42 Tex. 311), and a failure to conform to them is not sufficient to invalidate a sale made under the authority of the probate court having jurisdiction of the estate (Jackson v. Houston, 84 Tex. 622, 19 S. W. 799).

Failure of the petition to state all the claims does not render the judgment subject to collateral attack. Myers v. Davis, 47 Iowa 325.

A particular description of each debt is not necessary, but a statement of the aggregate amount of the debts is sufficient. Collins v. Farnworth, 8 Blackf. (Ind.) 575; State v. Ramsey County Probate Ct., 19 Minn. 117 [followed in Spencer v. Sheehan, 19 Minn. 338]; Cooley v. Cooley, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1896) 37 S. W. 1028. See also Doherty v. Choate, 16 Lea (Tenn.) 192.

Failure to show mortgage.— A petition for the sale of a decedent's property to pay his debts, which sets out all the facts showing the indebtedness to the petitioner, is sufficient to confer jurisdiction on the surrogate, although it does not show a mortgage against the property, and does not name the mortgagees as parties. Matter of Ibert, 48 N. Y. App. Div. 510, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 1051.

Overstatement of debts.— A sale of property of a succession is not vitiated by the fact that the application therefor set forth a larger amount of debts as being due than really existed, where the sale was necessary to pay the actual debts. Simonin v. Czarnowski, 47 La. Ann. 1334, 17 So. 847.

Petition by creditor.— Under a statute requiring the petition of a creditor for the sale of the real estate of one deceased to set forth, as nearly as the petitioner can on diligent inquiry ascertain them, the debts and names of creditors, the amount of funeral expenses, and to whom due, jurisdiction is acquired by the statement of a debt due the petitioner, and if he has no knowledge on the subject of the funeral expenses he need make no allusion to them. In re German Bank, 39 Hun (N. Y.) 181.

In a petition to sell for the family allowance and future expenses of administration, where the prior accounts of the administrator have been settled, an averment that there are no debts or expenses accrued and unpaid is a sufficient statement of the debts, expenses, and charges of administration within Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1537. Richardson v. Butler, 82 Cal. 174, 23 Pac. 9, 16 Am. St. Rep. 101.

75. Lynch v. Hickey, 13 Ill. App. 139. See also Nenninger v. Tietsam, 29 Ill. App. 648.

Notes secured by trust deed.— An application for an order of sale which states that the notes evidencing petitioner's claim are secured by a trust deed, describing such deed and notes, and that the claim had been allowed by the administrator, is sufficient, without setting forth the instruments verbatim, and need not allege that the trust deed was allowed by the administrator and approved by the court. Henry v. Drought, 10 Tex. Civ. App. 379, 30 S. W. 584.

76. In re Snow, 96 Me. 570, 53 Atl. 116.

77. Alabama.— Moore v. Cottingham, 113 Ala. 148, 20 So. 994, 59 Am. St. Rep. 100; Quarles v. Campbell, 72 Ala. 64; May v. Parham, 68 Ala. 253.

California.— Haynes v. Meeks, 20 Cal. 288; Stuart v. Allen, 16 Cal. 473, 76 Am. Dec. 551.

Colorado.— Bateman v. Reitler, 19 Colo. 547, 36 Pac. 548.

Illinois.— Moffitt v. Moffitt, 69 Ill. 641.

Indiana.— Renner v. Ross, 111 Ind. 269, 12 N. E. 508; Rapp v. Matthias, 35 Ind. 332.

Iowa.— See Morrow v. Weed, 4 Iowa 77, 66 Am. Dec. 122.

Maine.— In re Snow, 96 Me. 570, 53 Atl. 116.

Maryland.— Gibson v. McCormick, 10 Gill & J. 65; Griffith v. Frederick County Bank, 6 Gill & J. 424; Hammond v. Hammond, 2 Bland 306. Compare Tessier v. Wyse, 3 Bland 28.

New York.— Ackley v. Dygert, 33 Barb. 176.

North Carolina.— Clement v. Cozart, 107 N. C. 695, 705, 12 S. E. 254, 257; Blount v. Pritchard, 88 N. C. 445.

Pennsylvania.— O'Brian v. Wiggins, 10 Kulp 125.

Utah.— Needham v. Salt Lake City, 7 Utah 319, 26 Pac. 920.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1390.

inferred from the averments in the petition the failure of the petition to affirmatively state them does not impair its validity.[78] It is also usually required that the amount and value of the personal estate shall be made to appear,[79] and it is

If there be no personalty, its existence should be clearly negatived, and an averment simply that there are no tangible assets wherefrom payment can be made is not sufficient. Gladson v. Whitney, 9 Iowa 267.

Necessity for sale of whole.— To authorize a sale of the real estate of a decedent, where the debts amount to less than the value of the whole, it must be alleged in the petition that the residue would be greatly depreciated by a sale of less than the whole. In re Snow, 96 Me. 570, 53 Atl. 116.

Failure to show validity of payments reducing personalty.— An administrator's petition to sell real estate to pay decedent's debts which shows that there are unpaid claims established against the estate which the personalty is insufficient to pay is not subject to demurrer because it fails to show that certain payments for which he claims credit were legal and valid, although, if such payments were stricken out, the personalty would be sufficient to pay all established claims against the estate. Conger v. Cook, 56 Iowa 117, 8 N. W. 782.

Statement of facts showing necessity.— The necessity for the sale is not a matter for the executor or administrator to determine, but is a conclusion which the court itself must draw from the facts stated, and the petition must furnish the materials for its judgment. The insufficiency of the personalty must be shown by a statement of the facts as to its amount and disposition and as to the outstanding debts and charges, and the necessity for the sale of the whole or some portion of the real property by a description of all the real property of which the decedent died seized and a statement of its condition and value as required by statute. Haynes v. Meeks, 20 Cal. 288.

A petition by an administrator de bonis non which alleges that there are just debts and charges against the estate, and that no personalty came into his hands is sufficient without also alleging that there is an insufficiency of personal assets in the original administrator's hands. Beniteau v. Dodsley, 88 Mich. 152, 50 N. W. 110.

Petition in former proceeding showing insufficiency.—Where a petition to the orphans' court to sell decedent's real estate at private sale was defective in not alleging that the personal estate was not sufficient to pay decedent's debts, a prior petition by an administrator to sell the real estate at public sale, on which no order of sale was effected, was not admissible in evidence, since the fact that the court in some prior proceeding had jurisdiction to sell the property, which it did not exercise, in no way tended to show that it had jurisdiction in a subsequent proceeding. O'Brian v. Wiggins, 10 Kulp (Pa.) 125.

Petitions held sufficient see In re Bentz, 36 Cal. 687; Stanley v. Noble, 59 Iowa 666, 13 N. W. 839; Morrow v. Weed, 4 Iowa 77, 66 Am. Dec. 122; Gibson v. McCormick, 10 Gill & J. (Md.) 65.

78. Meadows v. Meadows, 73 Ala. 356 (holding that where the application by an administrator to sell the decedent's lands to pay debts avers the amount of the debts, and that there is no personalty, the omission to aver the inference that a sale of the land is necessary is not fatal); In re Bentz, 36 Cal. 687 (holding that where the petition alleged that the value of the personal estate was not more than fifty dollars and that the debts and expenses of administration to be paid would amount to four hundred and forty dollars this was sufficient); Bateman v. Reitler, 19 Colo. 547, 36 Pac. 548; Little v. Sinnett, 7 Iowa 324 (holding that a petition for leave to sell real estate, describing certain lands, and averring that said lands were all the property of the deccased (a nonresident) in said county, so far as known, and that the debts and charges amounted at least to a sum certain, sufficiently averred that the personalty was insufficient.

79. California.— Gregory v. Taber, 19 Cal. 397, 79 Am. Dec. 219 (holding that the filing of an account of personal property, at or about the date of the filing of the petition, does not supply the place of a statement of such property in the petition, unless the account is especially referred to therein); Gregory v. McPherson, 13 Cal. 562.

Indiana.— Rapp v. Matthias, 35 Ind. 332, if a sale of land is sought.

Kentucky.— Rodgers v. Rodgers, 31 S. W. 139, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 358.

New York.— Richmond v. Foote, 3 Lans. 244 (holding that a petition of an administrator to sell decedent's real estate for the payment of debts, stating that "the amount of personal property which has come to his hands as appraised by the inventory is," etc., sufficiently states the amount of personal property which actually came into his hands, as required by statute); Ackley v. Dygert, 33 Barb. 176.

North Carolina.— McNeill v. McBryde, 112 N. C. 408, 16 S. E. 841, holding a petition merely alleging that the personal estate "is wholly insufficient to pay his (intestate's) debts and the costs and charges of administration" demurrable, as not complying with Code, § 1437, requiring the petition to set forth "the value of the personal estate of the intestate and the application thereof."

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1390.

Contra.— Cotton v. Holloway, 96 Ala. 544, 12 So. 172.

Petition must show an inventory. Ackley v. Dygert, 33 Barb. (N. Y.) 176.

Reference to inventory.— A petition which states that the inventory on file contains a full description of the personal estate and sometimes required that the application of the personalty shall be shown.[80] If the statute requires the actual exhaustion of the personalty in the payment of debts before a sale of realty is authorized such exhaustion must be made to appear by the petition,[81] but otherwise it is sufficient if the petition shows merely that the personalty is insufficient.[82] Where a sale of land for partition is asked for the petition must show that it cannot be fairly divided.[83]

(IV) AVERMENTS AS TO REALTY. As a general rule the statutes require that a petition for the sale of land of a decedent to pay debts shall contain a description of the land, which must be accurate and specific, or at least describe the land refers to such inventory and makes it a part of the petition is sufficient. In re Bentz, 36 Cal. 687. See also Stuart v. Allen, 16 Cal. 473, 76 Am. Dec. 551.

Inaccuracies and omissions.— Although a petition sets forth inaccurately the personal property, or omits valuable portions thereof, yet if it purports on its face to set forth the whole of it, and the amount, if any, undisposed of, the order of sale made thereon cannot be attacked. Haynes v. Meeks, 20 Cal. 288.

The fact that there has been a previous administrator does not relieve the second administrator from the necessity of a compliance to the extent of his ability with the statutory requirements as to a statement of the personal property in a petition for a sale of the realty. He must show not merely the personal property which has come into his possession since his appointment but also to the extent of his ability that which came into the hands of his predecessor. Haynes v. Meeks, 20 Cal. 288.

When omission not fatal.— In an action to sell a decedent's interest in land to pay his debts, on the ground of deficiency of personalty, an omission to state in the petition the amount of personalty is not fatal where the petition also prays for the sale, on the ground of indivisibility, for apportionment among the heirs. Rodgers v. Rodgers, 31 S. W. 139, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 358.

Where the records of the surrogate's court show the amount of personalty which came into the hands of the administrator such amount need not be set forth in a petition by the administrator for leave to sell realty for the payment of debts. Forbes v. Halsey, 26 N. Y. 53. See also Jackson v. Crawfords, 12 Wend. (N. Y.) 533.

A true and correct inventory and appraisement of all the personal property must be exhibited to the court. O'Brien v. Wiggins, 10 Kulp (Pa.) 125.

80. Gladson v. Whitney, 9 Iowa 267; Ackley v. Dygert, 33 Barb. (N. Y.) 176.

Sufficiency of petition.— Under N. Y. Code Civ. Proc. § 2752, subd. 4, which requires a petition by an administrator for a sale of decedent's realty to pay debts to state the amount of personalty that has come into petitioner's hands, the application thereof, and the amount which may yet be realized, a petition stating that the amount of personalty was insufficient to pay debts, that the amount which had come into petitioner's hands was ten dollars, that he had proceeded with reasonable diligence in converting the personalty into money and applying it to the debts, and that the only indebtedness of decedent was petitioner's claim, amounting to one thousand five hundred and fifty-nine dollars, was sufficient, although it did not state specifically what application had been made of the personalty, or the amount which might yet be realized. Matter of Williams, 1 Misc. 35, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 906. An administrator's petition to sell decedent's real estate to pay debts, stating the amount of the personal assets received, and "that it is still in my hands unpaid and unapplied," sufficiently shows the application of the personal estate as required by statute. Richmond v. Foote, 3 Lans. (N. Y.) 244.

81. Kindell v. Titus, 9 Heisk. (Tenn.) 727. See also Wallace v. Grant, 27 Wash. 130, 67 Pac. 578, holding a petition stating merely that petitioner had sold "all the personal property of said estates that in his judgment is advisable to sell at the present time" was insufficient to authorize a mortgage of decedent's property because showing affirmatively that the personal estate had not been exhausted.

82. See Richardson v. Musser, 54 Cal. 196.

83. Flanagan v. Pierce, 27 Tex. 78, holding that an allegation in a petition that the sale is sought "to enable the administrator to settle up said estate and satisfy all the heirs" is not sufficient.

An allegation that land cannot be divided "fairly" is sufficient under a statute providing for a sale when the land cannot be divided equitably. Warnock v. Thomas, 48 Ala. 463. See also Satcher v. Satcher, 41 Ala. 26, 9 Am. Dec. 498, holding an allegation that the land could not be "fairly, beneficially, and equitably divided" sufficient.

Averment held sufficient.— An averment in the petition of an executor that "the said real estate cannot be advantageously divided among the numerous devisees of said testator" is a sufficient averment within Ky. Civ. Code Pr. § 490, subs. 2, which provides for a sale of property jointly owned if "the property cannot be divided without materially impairing its value or the value of the plaintiff's interest therein," when taken with other averments in the petition which show that, as a matter of fact, the property cannot be divided without materially impairing its value. Zehnder v. Schoenbachler, 70 S. W. 278, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 947.

with sufficient certainty to identify it,[84] and it is also required in some states that the petition shall show the condition [85] and value of the land,[86] and whether or not

84. Alabama.— Kornegay v. Mayer, 135 Ala. 141, 33 So. 36; Henley v. Johnston, 134 Ala. 646, 32 So. 1009, 92 Am. St. Rep. 48; Austin v. Willis, 90 Ala. 421, 8 So. 94; Gilchrist v. Shackelford, 72 Ala. 7; De Bardelaben v. Stoudenmire, 48 Ala. 643; Smith v. Flournoy, 47 Ala. 345.

California.— In re Cook, 137 Cal. 184, 69 Pac. 968; Haynes v. Meeks, 20 Cal. 288; Townsend v. Gordon, 19 Cal. 188.

Indiana.— Rapp v. Matthias, 35 Ind. 332.

Missouri.— Roberts v. Thomason, 174 Mo. 378, 74 S. W. 624, holding that a deed based on a sale by an administrator on a petition to the probate court that does not describe the land, and on an order in response to such petition, also failing to describe the land is void.

New York.— Ackley v. Dygert, 33 Barb. 176.

Washington.— Hazelton v. Bogardus, 8 Wash. 102, 35 Pac. 602.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1391.

Sale of equity of redemption.— An administrator's sale of a deceased mortgagor's equity of redemption is invalid if the petition to the probate court for leave to sell does not correctly describe the land. Rainey v. McQueen, 121 Ala. 191, 25 So. 920.

Where power of sale given by will.— The fact that the bill did not set out and describe the property of the testator is not fatal to the jurisdiction to decree a sale where the will vested the executors with the widest discretion as to selling the property and the application was by them to the chancellor for aid in the execution of their trust. Allen v. Shanks, 90 Tenn. 359, 16 S. W. 715.

An imperfect description in the petition, which is true so far as it goes, and which may have been amended in the probate court, or perfected by the aid of facts judicially known to the courts, is not fatal to the validity of the proceedings. Smith v. Flournoy, 47 Ala. 345.

The petition may refer to the inventory for a description of the real estate and the condition and value thereof and both may be considered together. Wilson v. Hastings, 66 Cal. 243, 5 Pac. 217; Stuart v. Allen, 16 Cal. 473, 76 Am. Dec. 551. But where a petition contains no description of the real estate or its condition, or the value and the reference to the inventory is for greater certainty, this is insufficient to incorporate the inventory with the petition and cure the omission to describe the realty. Wilson v. Hastings, 66 Cal. 243, 5 Pac. 217.

Description held sufficient see Richardson v. Butler, 82 Cal. 174, 23 Pac. 9, 16 Am. St. Rep. 101.

Descriptions held insufficient see Kornegay v. Mayer, 135 Ala. 141, 33 So. 36; Henley v. Johnston, 134 Ala. 646, 32 So. 1009, 92 Am. St. Rep. 48 (failure to indicate with accuracy the section, township, and range in which lands located); Gilchrist v. Shackelford, 72 Ala. 7; Wilson v. Hastings, 66 Cal. 243, 5 Pac. 217; Hazelton v. Bogardus, 8 Wash. 102, 35 Pac. 602 (holding that a sale of land by an administrator is void where the petition for and order of sale describe the land as located in a certain township and county, when there is no such township in that county, and there is nothing, aside from such description, to indicate any certain piece of land).

85. In re Levy, 141 Cal. 639, 75 Pac. 317; In re Cook, 137 Cal. 184, 69 Pac. 968; In re Devincenzi, 119 Cal. 498, 51 Pac. 845; Richardson v. Butler, 82 Cal. 174, 23 Pac. 9, 16 Am. St. Rep. 101; In re Boland, 55 Cal. 310; Gregory v. Taber, 19 Cal. 397, 79 Am. Dec. 219; Spencer v. Sheehan, 19 Minn. 338.

Negative averments.— A petition for leave to sell real estate need not show that it is not cultivated, improved, or built upon, or that it has no water power or other natural advantages. Spencer v. Sheehan, 19 Minn. 338.

Objection cannot be first raised on appeal. — Where no objection was urged at the trial to the petition for the sale of the real estate of a deceased person that it did not contain a proper statement of the condition of the property such objection cannot be considered upon appeal, but the petition must be treated as properly describing such condition. Baum v. Roper, 132 Cal. 42, 64 Pac. 128.

Statements held sufficient see In re Levy, 141 Cal. 639, 75 Pac. 317; In re Devincinzi, 119 Cal. 498, 51 Pac. 845 ("fair"); Richardson v. Butler, 82 Cal. 174, 23 Pac. 9, 16 Am. St. Rep. 101, "unimproved."

86. In re Levy, 141 Cal. 639, 75 Pac. 317; In re Cook, 137 Cal. 184, 69 Pac. 968 (holding that a petition alleging merely that the land "is unimproved desert land," and "is chiefly valuable for the possibility that it may contain petroleum," without either stating its value or that its value could not be ascertained, and which is unaided by any direct finding of value, is substantially defective as against a direct attack upon appeal from the order of sale); Silverman v. Gundelfinger, 82 Cal. 548, 23 Pac. 12; Gregory v. Taber, 19 Cal. 397, 79 Am. Dec. 219; Rapp v. Matthias, 35 Ind. 332; Matter of McGee, 5 N. Y. App. Div. 527, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 1062. See also In re Devincinzi, 119 Cal. 498, 51 Pac. 845.

Where several parcels lie together the petition need not state the value of each parcel separately. Matter of McGee, 5 N. Y. App. Div. 527, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 1062; Matter of Georgi, 35 Misc. (N. Y.) 685, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 431.

Reference to schedule annexed to petition sufficient.— Silverman v. Gundelfinger, 82 Cal. 548, 23 Pac. 12. See also Richardson v. Butler, 82 Cal. 174, 23 Pac. 9, 16 Am. St. Rep. 101.

it is occupied, and if occupied, the names of the occupants.[87] It has also been required that the petition shall show whether the decedent has any other real estate than that described therein,[88] and even that it shall describe all the lands of the decedent.[89] It should be alleged that the land sought to be sold lies within the jurisdiction of the court.[90] The petition must show decedent had some title to or interest in the land sought to be sold,[91] and it is sometimes required that it shall show what this title or interest is.[92] But on the other hand it has been held that the representative's petition for leave to sell includes any interest which the decedent had in the lands described,[93] and hence the petition need not set out the precise character of decedent's interest,[94] or the encumbrances to which the premises are subject.[95] In some jurisdictions a failure of the petition to describe

Statement of appraised value.— Where a petition for the sale of testator's real estate stated that the value thereof was set forth in a schedule attached to the petition, an objection that the values so set forth were the appraised values and not the present values was not available on general demurrer. In re Levy, 141 Cal. 639, 75 Pac. 317.

A creditor's petition must state the value of the premises sought to be ordered applied to his debt. Mead v. Sherwood, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 352.

87. Ackley v. Dygert, 33 Barb. (N. Y.) 176; Matter of Slater, 17 Misc. (N. Y.) 474, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 534.

A creditor's petition must state who are the occupants of the premises sought to be ordered applied to his debt. Mead v. Sherwood, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 352.

88. Allen v. Sanford, 5 Silv. Supreme (N. Y.) 208, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 182.

89. Levy's Estate, 141 Cal. 639, 75 Pac. 317; Wilson v. Hastings, 66 Cal. 243, 5 Pac. 217 (holding that where an inventory, referred to as part of the petition, does not contain a sufficient description of all decedent's real property to identify it, it will be insufficient as a basis for such an order of sale, although it correctly describes the parcel to be sold); Eddy's Estate, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 118.

An omission to describe one tract of land owned by testator, of which the petitioners neither knew nor could have known by diligent inquiry, does not render a creditor's petition fatally defective. In re Faulkner, 57 Hun (N. Y.) 586, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 325.

A statement of the real estate which the decedent died "leaving" is a sufficient compliance with a statute requiring the petition to state what real estate the decedent "may have died seized of." McNitt v. Turner, 16 Wall. (U. S.) 352, 21 L. ed. 341.

Where the answer states that certain real estate is omitted from the schedule attached to the petition, and there is no replication, the petition to sell must be dismissed under a statute requiring that on an application for a sale the representative shall exhibit to the court "a full and correct statement of all the real estate of such decedent." In re Eddy, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 55.

90. Williams v. Williams, 49 Ala. 439.

Judicial knowledge aiding petition.— In proceedings before the probate court for the sale of a decedent's lands for the payment of debts, if the lands are so described in the petition that the court, aided by its judicial knowledge of the surveys of the public lands, must know that they are situated in the county, this is sufficient to support the jurisdiction of the court. Money v. Turnipseed, 50 Ala. 499.

Description leaving no difficulty in identification.— Where a petition to the probate court by an executor or administrator to sell the lands of the decedent for distribution omits to state that the lands are in the county or within the jurisdiction of the court in which the application is made, yet, if such a description is given as will leave no real difficulty in identifying the lands intended, it will be sufficient, especially if no objection is interposed before the final order of sale has been made. De Bardelaben v. Stoudenmire, 48 Ala. 643.

91. Williams v. Williams, 49 Ala. 439 (that decedent died seized of the land); Pettit v. Pettit, 32 Ala. 288; Heffner's Appeal, 119 Pa. St. 462, 13 Atl. 314. See also Henley v. Johnston, 134 Ala. 646, 32 So. 1009, 92 Am. St. Rep. 48, holding that a petition by an administrator for sale of lands which averred that decedent "died seized and possessed of the following described real estate, to wit: Certain interest and rights, not definitely known to your petitioner in and to about forty-eight tracts of land," etc., sufficiently showed that decedent had a legal or equitable interest in the lands sought to be sold.

Descendible estate.— An allegation, in a proceeding to sell land, that intestate at the time of his death was entitled to a vested remainder in fee of the residence place in which his widow, defendant, has a life-estate, is sufficient as an allegation of an estate in the intestate "which by law would descend to his heirs," with N. C. Code, § 1446, making the same liable for the payment of his debts. Elliott v. Shuler, 50 Fed. 454.

92. Rapp v. Matthias, 35 Ind. 332.

An averment that decedent was the owner in fee simple is sufficient, it is not necessary to set out his title any more specifically. Jackson v. Weaver, 98 Ind. 307.

93. Tyndale v. Stanwood, 182 Mass. 534, 66 N. E. 23.

94. Tyndale v. Stanwood, 182 Mass. 534, 66 N. E. 23.

95. Tyndale v. Stanwood, 182 Mass. 534, 66 N. E. 23. See also Spencer v. Sheehan, 19 or to sufficiently describe the land is not fatal to the petition.[96] Statements as to the real estate need not be made positively and unqualifiedly to give jurisdiction.[97]

(v) Signing and Verification. The petition or application should ordinarily be signed by the executor or administrator[98] and verified by his oath or affidavit.[99]

c. Filing. The petition must be filed in the court having jurisdiction to order a sale.[1] The time for filing is regulated by statute or local practice varying somewhat in the different jurisdictions.[2]

d. Amendment. The court may allow an amendment of the petition,[3] but Minn. 338, holding that the petition need not show that there are no encumbrances.

96. California.— Burris v. Kennedy, 108 Cal. 331, 41 Pac. 458.

Georgia.— Coggins v. Griswold, 64 Ga. 323, petition need not describe land.

Kansas.— Bryan v. Bander, 23 Kan. 95, petition alleging only that property situated in county where petition filed and containing no other description not fatally defective.

Kentucky.— McNew v. Martin, 60 S. W. 412, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1275, judgment for sale valid, although land not described in petition.

Massachusetts.—Yeomans v. Brown, 8 Metc. 51, statute providing that petition "may" set forth the value, description, and condition of the land not imperative.

Michigan.— Woods v. Monroe, 17 Mich. 238, holding that a license to an administrator to sell lands of the intestate is not void because the petition therefor did not describe one of the lots to be sold; the other lots being fully described, and, as to the one lot, a supplemental order being afterward made and appended to the original license directing the administrator to sell it.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1391.

97. In re German Bank, 39 Hun (N. Y.) 181.

98. See Spragins v. Taylor, 48 Ala. 520, holding, however, that it was sufficient where the application was signed by the executor "by his attorney."

99. Reynolds v. Kirkland, 44 Ala. 312; In re Boland, 55 Cal. 310 (if brought under Code Civ. Proc. § 1537); Weed v. Edmonds, 4 Ind. 468; Crippen v. Crippen, 1 Head (Tenn.) 128. See also Alabama Conference M. E. Church South v. Price, 42 Ala. 39. Contra, Myers v. Davis, 47 Iowa 325.

Verification may be made before any officer authorized to administer oaths. Richmond v. Foote, 3 Lans. (N. Y.) 244.

Want of verification would not affect jurisdiction. Myers v. Davis, 47 Iowa 325, where the court said that this would be true if the statute required verification, which it did not.

A failure to strictly comply with the statutory requirements as to the affidavit will not render the sale void. Wilkerson v. Allen, 67 Mo. 502.

Where certain schedules were annexed to and made part of the petition of an administrator to sell land, a verification placed before the schedules was not improper. Richardson v. Butler, 82 Cal. 174, 23 Pac. 9, 16 Am. St. Rep. 101.

Waiver.— The verification by an administrator of a petition to sell land for the payment of debts as required by statute will be presumed to be waived by a party who appears and contests the petition. Weed v. Edmonds, 4 Ind. 468.

1. Stack v. Royce, 34 Nebr. 833, 52 N. W. 675 (petition must be filed in the office of the clerk of the district court of the county in which administration was granted); Wood v. Skinner, 79 N. C. 92.

2. Georgia.— It is not necessary to file the petition for a sale of real estate any number of days before the term at which the decree is granted; Code, § 4221, providing for the filing of ex parte petitions in chancery, not prescribing any time wherein such a petition shall be filed. McGowan v. Lufburrow, 82 Ga. 523, 9 S. E. 427, 14 Am. St. Rep. 178.

Illinois.— An administrator may file his petition for an order to sell real estate to pay debts on a day subsequent to the particular day specified in his notice thereof. Shoemate v. Lockridge, 53 Ill. 503. But see Gibson v. Roll, 30 Ill. 172, 83 Am. Dec. 181. But where he gives notice that he will, at a certain term of the court, apply for an order to sell lands of the estate to pay debts, the petition must be filed at the term designated in the notice, or all proceedings under it will be void. Schnell v. Chicago, 38 Ill. 382, 87 Am. Dec. 304; Morris v. Hogle, 37 Ill. 150, 87 Am. Dec. 243; Turney v. Turney, 24 Ill. 625.

Indiana.— Under Rev. St. (1843) p. 527, requiring that an administrator's petition for leave to sell real estate shall be presented to the court, and that the court shall make the order of sale while in session, a petition may be filed in vacation. Shepherd v. Fisher, 17 Ind. 229.

Petition filed before appointment.— Under Ind. Rev. St. (1843) p. 458, §§ 27, 28, providing that an administrator's sale shall not be avoided on account of irregularity, where it appeared that a sale was directed by a court of competent jurisdiction, that the administrator took the oath and gave bond, that notice was given, and that the premises were sold, and held by the purchaser in good faith, the sale should not be avoided because the petition for the sale of the land was filed by the administrator before his appointment. Rice v. Cleghorn, 21 Ind. 80.

3. Brown v. Powell, 45 Ala. 149; Matter of Ibert, 48 N. Y. App. Div. 510, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 1051; Matter of Miller, 2 N. Y. App.

omissions constituting a jurisdictional defect cannot be supplied by amendment.[4] Where the petition fails to give the names of the heirs, an amendment of this defect should not be allowed without notice to the heirs.[5] If by reason of an amendment a contestant is embarrassed in his defense or the condition of the case is so changed as to render new pleas or further evidence necessary, the court on his application should postpone a further hearing of the case, and give him time to file new pleas and take further evidence.[6]

e. Curing of Defects. Defects, omissions, or other irregularities in the petition may be cured by the order, the finding, or by the other papers on the record;[7] but where the petition is insufficient to give the court jurisdiction or authorize a decree of sale the defects cannot be cured by inserting the necessary statements in the order.[8]

f. Collateral Attack on Sufficiency. Where the law gives jurisdiction and there is a petition and notice, the objection that the petition was not sufficient cannot be made collaterally.[9]

6. Citation or Notice — a. Necessity. It is usually required that a citation or notice of the application to sell shall be issued or given to the heirs and devisees of the decedent and others interested in the estate,[10] and it is by service or publi-

Div. 615, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 447 (holding under Code Civ. Proc. § 2474, providing that the surrogate's court may in its discretion permit an omitted recital or allegation to be supplied by amendment, a motion to dismiss a proceeding for the sale of real estate for the payment of debts on the ground of insufficient showing of facts in the petition was properly denied, it appearing that no final order directing such sale had been made); In re Faulkner, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 325 (holding that the names of creditors of the estate, not known at the time of filing the petition, may be subsequently added).

Setting up mortgage.— A surrogate has power to allow the amendment of a petition by setting up a mortgage executed by the heirs of the decedent, and to issue a supplemental citation bringing in the mortgagees as parties, although the statute of limitations has run against the institution of a new proceeding. Matter of Ibert, 48 N. Y. App. Div. 510, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 1051.

Amendment after death of representative. — Where, after the order confirming an administrator's sale to pay debts and the order to make title, the administrator dies, the probate court has no authority to entertain a motion by the purchaser to make an amendment of the pleadings, so as to include another tract alleged to have been omitted by mistake. Stafford v. Harris, 72 N. C. 198.

Amendment as to property included on parol evidence.— Where the petition, order of sale, confirmation of sale, and order to make title is for a single tract of land identified and made certain by boundaries and description, the pleadings cannot be amended at the instance of the purchaser and on parol evidence so as to include another distinct tract of land claimed to have been omitted by mistake. Stafford v. Harris, 72 N. C. 198.

Under the Alabama statute, where a mistake has been made in the description of a decedent's lands sold under a probate decree, whether in the petition, order, or other proceedings, the court ordering the sale has authority to correct it on the application of the purchaser or any one claiming under him. Brown v. Williams, 87 Ala. 353, 6 So. 111; Lee v. Williams, 85 Ala. 189, 3 So. 718. But the personal representative of the decedent is not authorized to file such an application, he being only a party defendant to it. Lee v. Williams, 85 Ala. 189, 3 So. 718.

4. Dennis v. Jones, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 80. See also Crabtree v. Niblett, 11 Humphr. (Tenn.) 488, omission to make heirs parties.

5. Turney v. Turney, 24 Ill. 625.

6. Brown v. Powell, 45 Ala. 149. See also Gharky v. Werner, 66 Cal. 388, 5 Pac. 676, holding that where a petition for a sale of realty is amended at the hearing by adding another parcel to the lands described, it must be treated as a new petition, and proceedings had de novo.

7. Arguello's Estate, 85 Cal. 151, 24 Pac. 641; Jackson v. Weaver, 98 Ind. 307; West v. Cochran, 104 Pa. St. 482; Reynolds v. Schmidt, 20 Wis. 374.

On a direct attack on the sufficiency of a petition for a sale of decedent's real estate for payment of debts, by appeal from the order of sale, the order will not supply deficiencies of the petition under Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1537, providing that a failure to set forth facts in the petition will not invalidate the subsequent proceedings if the defect be supplied by proofs, and the facts be stated in the petition, this availing only on collateral attack. In re Cook, 137 Cal. 184, 69 Pac. 968.

8. Cloud v. Barton, 14 Ala. 347; Gregory v. Taber, 19 Cal. 397, 79 Am. Dec. 219.

9. Morrow v. Weed, 4 Iowa 77, 66 Am. Dec. 122.

10. Alabama.— Summersett v. Summersett, 40 Ala. 596, 91 Am. Dec. 494; Field v. Goldsby, 28 Ala. 218, 65 Am. Dec. 341; Doe v. Riley, 28 Ala. 164, 65 Am. Dec. 334; Wiley v. White, 3 Stew. & P. 355.

Arkansas.— Gregg v. Gregg, 33 Ark. 89; Rogers v. Wilson, 13 Ark. 507.

cation of the required citation or notice that jurisdiction of the persons of those California.— Campbell v. Drais, 125 Cal. 253, 57 Pac. 994; Beckett v. Selover, 7 Cal. 215, 68 Am. Dec. 237.

Connecticut.— Dorrance v. Raynsford, 67 Conn. 1, 34 Atl. 706, 52 Am. St. Rep. 266.

Florida.— Emerson v. Ross, 17 Fla. 122.

Georgia.— Fussell v. Dennard, 118 Ga. 270, 45 S. E. 247; Davis v. Howard, 56 Ga. 430.

Illinois.— Marshall v. Rose, 86 Ill. 374; Fell v. Young, 63 Ill. 106; Gibson v. Roll, 27 Ill. 88, 81 Am. Dec. 219; Herdman v. Short, 18 Ill. 59.

Indiana.— Martin v. Neal, 125 Ind. 547, 25 N. E. 813; Helms v. Love, 41 Ind. 210; Hawkins v. Hawkins, 28 Ind. 66.

Massachusetts.— Walker v. Fuller, 147 Mass. 489, 18 N. E. 400. See also Nazro v. Long, 179 Mass. 451, 61 N. E. 43. Contra, In re Rulluff, 1 Mass. 240, construing St. (1783) c. 32, § 1.

Mississippi.— Picard v. Montross, (1895) 17 So. 375; McPike v. Wells, 54 Miss. 136; Root v. McFerrin, 37 Miss. 17, 75 Am. Dec. 49; Gwin v. McCarroll, 1 Sm. & M. 351; Campbell v. Brown, 6 How. 106, 230.

Missouri.— Hill v. Taylor, 99 Mo. App. 524, 74 S. W. 9.

Nebraska.— Holmes v. Columbia Nat. Bank, (Sup. 1903) 97 N. W. 26.

New Hampshire.— Flanders v. George, 55 N. H. 486; French v. Hoyt, 6 N. H. 370, 25 Am. Dec. 464, holding that an order of notice is necessary, although the application is made by the mother of minor heirs for whom no guardians have been appointed, and although the estate is supposed to be insolvent.

New York.— Corwin v. Merritt, 3 Barb. 341; Matter of Slater, 17 Misc. 474, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 534; In re John, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 172, 21 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 326. See also Fenn's Estate, 8 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 206.

Vermont.— Under the general act relating to sales of realty for the payment of debts, it was necessary that heirs and devisees should be first notified. But it was useless and unnecessary to notify the heirs where the proceeding was, under the act of 1831, for the recovery and sale, for the payment of debts, of land fraudulently conveyed by the decedent in his lifetime. Harrington v. Gage, 6 Vt. 532.

Virginia.— Menefee v. Marge, (1888) 4 S. E. 726.

Wisconsin.— Humes v. Cox, 1 Pinn. 551.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1398 et seq.

Contra.— Louisiana.— The heirs are not entitled to notice in proceedings to sell property to pay debts (Irwin v. Flynn, 110 La. 829, 34 So. 794; Tertrou v. Comeau, 28 La. Ann. 633; Carter v. McManus, 15 La. Ann. 676; Leonard v. Fluker, 4 Rob. 148. See also Lehmann's Succession, 41 La. Ann. 987, 7 So. 33; Hood's Succession, 33 La. Ann. 466. But compare Bowles' Succession, 3 Rob. 35), but mortgage creditors have been held entitled to notice of any application by the executor to sell the mortgaged property (French v. Prieur, 6 Rob. 299).

Pennsylvania.— The widow and heirs are not entitled to specific notice of an application for an order of sale for the payment of debts (Irwin v. Guthrie, 198 Pa. St. 267, 47 Atl. 992; In re Smith, 188 Pa. St. 222, 41 Atl. 542; West Hickory Min. Assoc. v. Reed, 80 Pa. St. 38; Stiver's Appeal, 56 Pa. St. 9; Wall's Appeal, 31 Pa. St. 62; Weaver's Appeal, 19 Pa. St. 416; Murphy's Appeal, 8 Watts & S. 165. See also In re Simmonds, 19 Pa. St. 439. But compare Mustin's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 180), but the public notice of the sale is sufficient, as those interested can then be heard at any time before confirmation (Wall's Appeal, supra; Weaver's Appeal, supra).

Rhode Island.— Butler v. Butler, 10 R. I. 501 [following Luther v. Martin, 10 R. I. 503 note.]

Texas.— George v. Watson, 19 Tex. 354.

Washington.— Ryan v. Fergusson, 3 Wash. 356, 28 Pac. 910, notice not necessary except as required by statute.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1401.

An application to mortgage or lease the land must be upon notice, the same as an application to sell. Martin v. Neal, 125 Ind. 547, 25 N. E. 813.

Constructive notice.— Conceding that Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 473, providing that a party may be released from a judgment or order taken against him through his mistake, inadvertence, surprise, or excusable neglect, applies to an order for sale of real estate of a decedent, such order is not to be set aside on the ground that the heirs had no knowledge of the filing of the petition for sale, where the estate had been long pending in court and the heirs had the constructive notice provided by statute. In re Leonis, 138 Cal. 194, 71 Pac. 171.

Time of issuing citation.— A statute requiring the citation, when issued upon the petition, to be served within sixty days thereafter, does not render the proceeding null for failure to issue the citation promptly on the filing of the petition. Matter of Van Vleck, 32 Misc. (N. Y.) 419, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 727.

Notice for second hearing.— After a reversal of an order granting a nonsuit and dismissing a petition for an order requiring the executrix to sell real estate, it is not necessary, upon a second hearing, to again give the statutory notice required by Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1539, but the court is at liberty to hear and dispose of the petition upon such notice as may be provided by its general rules or as it may deem reasonable in the particular case. In re Couts, 100 Cal. 400, 34 Pac. 865. See also Cahill v. Bassett, 66 Mich. 407, 33 N. W. 722.

Agreement for sale upon reasonable notice.—Where an agreement provided that a sale, interested is acquired.[11] The court cannot, at the hearing, abandon the case presented by the petition and order the sale for another object, as such sale would be without notice;[12] and so also, where after the rendition of a judgment of sale an amended petition was filed, reciting that the land had been incorrectly described in the petition and judgment, and setting out a correct description, and the descriptions were materially different, land embraced in the first being omitted from the second, and land not embraced in the first being included in the second, the making of an order amending the judgment of sale, and ordering a sale of the newly described land in accordance with the terms of the original judgment, without any summons ever issuing on the amended petition, or any report from the guardian or guardian ad litem of infant defendants ever being made thereon till after the sale was confirmed, was error.[13] But a notice by an administrator of an intention to apply for an order to sell his decedent's lands for the payment of debts may be used by his successor as administrator of the same estate, in case the first administrator fails to effect a sale;[14] and it has been held that where an executor files a petition in the proper court for license to sell real property, and the heirs and devisees sign a waiver of notice and enter an appearance, or are duly served with notice, such notice will continue until the debts mentioned in the petition are paid by the sale of the real property described therein, and a purchaser under a renewed license issued on such petition, who has paid the purchase-price, the same being applied to the payment of the debts against the estate of the testator, and the sale having been confirmed and a deed made to such purchaser, may rely upon the title so acquired as against a collateral attack by the heirs and devisees of such testator.[15] In most jurisdictions a failure to give notice or to give proper notice is held to be jurisdictional and to render the order of sale and the sale thereunder nullities, at least as to the interest of the persons not notified;[16] but in a few jurisdictions, where the proceeding to sell is which must be made in the course of administration, should be made upon reasonable notice, no legal requisites were dispensed with, and whatever was ordinarily essential to such a sale continued to be so. Halleck v. Moss, 17 Cal. 339.

Notice to distributees.— In Mississippi an application for a sale of personalty (slaves) for the payment of debts need not be upon notice to the distributees (Smith v. Chew, 35 Miss. 153; Hutchins v. Brooks, 31 Miss. 430), but when a sale is to be made for distribution, notice to the distributees is necessary and must be affirmatively shown by the record (Hutchins v. Brooks, 31 Miss. 430; Joslin v. Caughlin, 26 Miss. 134).

Order on annual settlement.— In Missouri an order for a sale of land may be made by the court without notice to the heirs on an annual settlement of the accounts of the executor or administrator, where it appears that the personal property is insufficient to pay the debts. Hutchinson v. Shelley, 133 Mo. 400, 34 S. W. 838; Day v. Graham, 97 Mo. 398, 11 S. W. 55; Teverbaugh v. Hawkins, 82 Mo. 180; Patee v. Mowry, 59 Mo. 161. But otherwise notice is necessary. Hutchinson v. Shelley, supra; Teverbaugh v. Hawkins, supra.

11. Goudy v. Hall, 36 Ill. 313, 87 Am. Dec. 217; Gibson v. Roll, 30 Ill. 172, 83 Am. Dec. 181.

12. Williams v. Childress, 25 Miss. 78.

13. Robinson v. Clark, 34 S. W. 1083, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 1401.

14. Rogers v. Johnson, 125 Mo. 202, 28 S. W. 635.

15. Seymour v. Ricketts, 21 Nebr. 240, 31 N. W. 781.

16. California.— Burris v. Kennedy, 108 Cal. 331, 41 Pac. 458. See also Halleck v. Moss, 17 Cal. 339, sale upon insufficient notice "at least voidable if not absolutely void."

Connecticut.— Dorrance v. Raynsford, 67 Conn. 1, 34 Atl. 706, 52 Am. St. Rep. 266.

Illinois.— Burr v. Bloemer, 174 Ill. 638, 51 N. E. 821; Donlin v. Hettinger, 57 Ill. 348; Botsford v. O'Conner, 57 Ill. 72; Goudy v. Hall, 30 Ill. 109; Whitney v. Porter, 23 Ill. 445 (service of notice upon infant heirs only, while statute required service on guardians or persons having control); Herdman v. Short, 18 Ill. 59.

Indiana.— Martin v. Neal, 125 Ind. 547, 25 N. E. 813 (holding an order for the mortgaging and leasing of land void because made without notice, although notice was given of a previous application to sell); Wetherill v. Harris, 67 Ind. 452; Hawkins v. Hawkins, 28 Ind. 66; Guy v. Pierson, 21 Ind. 18; Gerrard v. Johnson, 12 Ind. 636; Piatt v. Dawes, 10 Ind. 60 (lease); Doe v. Bowen, 8 Ind. 197, 65 Am. Dec. 758; Doe v. Anderson, 5 Ind. 33; Babbitt v. Doe, 4 Ind. 355; Wort v. Finley, 8 Blackf. 335; Bliss v. Wilson, 4 Blackf. 169.

Kansas.— Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Cook, 43 Kan. 83, 22 Pac. 988; Rogers v. Clemmans, regarded as being strictly in rem, the failure to give notice is regarded as a mere irregularity and does not render the judgment void.[17]

26 Kan. 522; Mickel v. Hicks, 19 Kan. 578, 21 Am. Rep. 161.

Mississippi.— Hendricks v. Pugh, 57 Miss. 157; Winston v. McLendon, 43 Miss. 254; Martin v. Williams, 42 Miss. 210, 97 Am. Dec. 456; Hamilton v. Lockhart, 41 Miss. 460; Root v. McFerrin, 37 Miss. 17, 75 Am. Dec. 49; Commercial Bank v. Doe, 9 Sm. & M. 613; Planters' Bank v. Johnson, 7 Sm. & M. 449; Laughman v. Thompson, 6 Sm. & M. 259; Gwin v. McCarroll, 1 Sm. & M. 351; Puckett v. McDonald, 6 How. 269; Campbell v. Brown, 6 How. 106, 230; Vick v. Vicksburg, 1 How. 379, 31 Am. Dec. 167.

Missouri.— Young v. Downey, 145 Mo. 250, 46 S. W. 1086, 68 Am. St. Rep. 568, 150 Mo. 317, 51 S. W. 751; Hutchinson v. Shelley, 133 Mo. 400, 34 S. W. 838; Cunningham v. Anderson, 107 Mo. 371, 17 S. W. 972, 28 Am. St. Rep. 417; Teverbaugh v. Hawkins, 82 Mo. 180; Valle v. Fleming, 19 Mo. 454, 61 Am. Dec. 566.

New Hampshire.— French v. Hoyt, 6 N. H. 370, 25 Am. Dec. 464.

New Jersey.— Bray v. Neill, 21 N. J. Eq. 343.

New York.— Sheldon v. Wright, 5 N. Y. 497; Schneider v. McFarland, 2 N. Y. 459 [affirming 4 Barb. 139]; Jenkins v. Young, 35 Hun 569; Corwin v. Merritt, 3 Barb. 341; Matter of Slater, 17 Misc. 474, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 534; In re John, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 172, 21 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 326; Bloom v. Burdick, 1 Hill 130, 37 Am. Dec. 299. See also Matter of Georgi, 44 N. Y. App. Div. 180, 60 N. Y. Suppl. 772 [affirmed in 162 N. Y. 660, 57 N. E. 1110].

North Carolina.— McNeill v. Fuller, 121 N. C. 209, 28 S. E. 299; Harrison v. Harrison, 106 N. C. 282, 11 S. E. 356, decree void as against heirs not served in some sufficient way.

Ohio.— At the present time the rule appears to be as stated in the text. Benson v. Cilley, 8 Ohio St. 604. And see Holloway v. Stuart, 19 Ohio St. 472. But prior to the statute of 1840 the prevailing view seems to have been that the proceeding was strictly in rem and a failure to serve or notify the heirs was a mere irregularity. Biggs v. Bickel, 12 Ohio St. 49; Benson v. Cilley, 8 Ohio St. 604; Sheldon v. Newton, 3 Ohio St. 494; Lewis v. Lewis, 15 Ohio 715; Robb v. Irwin, 15 Ohio 689; Ewing v. Hollister, 7 Ohio, Pt. II, 138; Ewing v. Higby, 7 Ohio 198, 28 Am. Dec. 633. See also Snevely v. Lowe, 18 Ohio 368. Contra, Adams v. Jeffries, 12 Ohio 253, 40 Am. Dec. 477. And see Sprague v. Litherberry, 22 Fed. Cas. No. 13,251, 4 McLean 442.

Oregon.— Fiske v. Kellogg, 3 Oreg. 503.

South Carolina.— Whitesides v. Barber, 24 S. C. 373. See also Turner v. Malone, 24 S. C. 398. But see McLaurin v. Rion, 24 S. C. 407.

Tennessee.— Linnville v. Darby, 1 Baxt. 306; Taylor v. Walker, 1 Heisk. 734.

Virginia.— Menefee v. Marge, (1888) 4 S. E. 726.

Wisconsin.— Blodgett v. Hitt, 29 Wis. 169; Gibbs v. Shaw, 17 Wis. 197, 84 Am. Dec. 737.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1397 et seq.

Title of purchaser valid except as against heir not notified.— Menefee v. Marge, (Va. 1888) 4 S. E. 726.

Omission to give statutory notice cannot be cured. Hutchinson v. Shelley, 133 Mo. 400, 34 S. W. 838 (by a subsequent notice); In re Mahoney, 34 Hun (N. Y.) 501.

An omission to serve the notice on a tenant who occupied a portion of the premises did not affect the validity of the purchaser's title except as to the tenant, and as to him only during the continuance of his lease. Rigney v. Coles, 6 Bosw. (N. Y.) 479.

Statute under which sale made must govern.— Where a sale appearing upon the record to have been made under the section of the statute providing for the payment of debts was void for want of the notice required by that section, it could not be sustained as having been made under other sections, which provided for a sale for other ends, and which required no notice. Valle v. Fleming, 19 Mo. 454, 61 Am. Dec. 566.

17. Alabama.— Neville v. Kenney, 125 Ala. 149, 28 So. 452, 82 Am. St. Rep. 230; Friedman v. Shamblin, 117 Ala. 454, 23 So. 821; Lyons v. Hamner, 84 Ala. 197, 4 So. 26, 5 Am. St. Rep. 363; Field v. Goldsby, 28 Ala. 218, 65 Am. Dec. 341; Doe v. Riley, 28 Ala. 164, 65 Am. Dec. 334; Wyman v. Campbell, 6 Port. 219, 31 Am. Dec. 677. Compare Summersett v. Summersett, 40 Ala. 596, 91 Am. Dec. 494, holding that, to sustain an order for the sale of a decedent's lands for equitable division, the record must affirmatively show that the resident heirs, of full age, had the statutory notice, or that they appeared.

Arkansas.— Apel v. Kelsey, 47 Ark. 413, 2 S. W. 102; Montgomery v. Johnson, 31 Ark. 74; Rogers v. Wilson, 13 Ark. 507.

Iowa.— Spurgin v. Bowers, 82 Iowa 187, 47 N. W. 1029 (failure to serve notice on person claiming under an heir); Morrow v. Weed, 4 Iowa 77, 66 N. W. 122. Contra, Good v. Norley, 28 Iowa 188 [followed in Boyles v. Boyles, 37 Iowa 592]. See also Myers v. Davis, 47 Iowa 325.

Texas.— Heath v. Layne, 62 Tex. 686; George v. Watson, 19 Tex. 354, so holding upon the ground that the act of 1848 did not require or seem to contemplate the service of a citation or notice upon the heirs. Contra, under the act of 1846. Littlefield v. Tinsley, 26 Tex. 353; Finch v. Edmonson, 9 Tex. 504.

United States.— See Grignon v. Astor, 2 How. 319, 11 L. ed. 283.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1397 et seq.

b. Who Entitled to Notice. The heirs[18] and devisees[19] of the decedent are the persons primarily entitled to notice. In some jurisdictions it is required that a notice, citation, summons, or order to show cause shall be served on infant heirs as well as adult, in order to obtain jurisdiction of their persons.[20] The widow has also been held entitled to notice.[21] Under some statutes, persons in occupation of the premises of which a sale is desired are entitled to notice.[22] The executor or administrator must be cited on an application by a creditor for a sale of decedent's realty to pay debts.[23] Land charged with legacies may be sold for the payment of debts without service of the order to show cause upon the lega-

18. Martin v. Neal, 125 Ind. 547, 25 N. E. 813; Campbell v. Brown, 6 How. (Miss.) 106; Holmes v. Columbia Nat. Bank, (Nebr. Sup. 1903) 97 N. W. 26; In re Dolan, 88 N. Y. 309. And see supra, note 10.

If any of the heirs are married women, the citation must be served on their husbands as well as on them. Page v. Matthews, 41 Ala. 719.

If an heir of the decedent dies after notice given him of the commencement by the administrator of proceedings to sell real estate to pay debts of the estate, and a sale thereafter takes place without any further notice (or any suggestion of the death of such heir), and is affirmed, such sale is valid, and the heirs of such heir cannot attack its validity. Palmerton v. Hoop, 131 Ind. 23, 30 N. E. 874.

A purchaser from the heir has been held not entitled to be served with notice of the petition to sell, where an examination of the record would have shown him that the property was subject to be sold for the decedent's debts, that there were debts unpaid, and that an administrator had been appointed for the very purpose of subjecting the land to their payment. Dolton v. Nelson, 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,976, 3 Dill. 469. But see Kammerrer v. Ziegler, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 177, holding that, in a proceeding by a creditor under the statute to dispose of a decedent's real estate for the payment of debts, citation must issue to one who has purchased the property at a sale had in partition proceedings among the heirs.

19. In re Dolan, 88 N. Y. 309. And see supra, note 10.

Remainder-men under the will are entitled to notice. Flanders v. George, 55 N. H. 486.

Executors and devisees in trust who have not qualified.— Persons nominated as executors and to whom certain devises were made in trust are not entitled to notice where they have not qualified and letters testamentary have issued to the other executors, especially where the will itself directed that only such directors as qualified should be deemed executors. In re Dolan, 88 N. Y. 309.

The wife of a devisee is not entitled to notice of a petition for license to sell the land devised for the payment of debts, legacies, and charges of administration. Harrington v. Harrington, 13 Gray (Mass.) 513, 74 Am. Dec. 648.

20. Indiana.— Guy v. Pierson, 21 Ind. 18; Martin v. Starr, 7 Ind. 224; Doe v. Anderson, 5 Ind. 33.

Mississippi.— Winston v. McLendon, 43 Miss. 254.

New York.— Pinckney v. Smith, 26 Hun 524, holding that an infant defendant must be served with the order to show cause before a special guardian can be appointed for him.

North Carolina.— Harrison v. Harrison, 106 N. C. 282, 11 S. E. 356; Perry v. Adams, 98 N. C. 167, 3 S. E. 729, 2 Am. St. Rep. 326; Shields v. Allen, 77 N. C. 375. But compare Chambers v. Penland, 78 N. C. 53.

Tennessee.—Linville v. Darby, 1 Baxt. 306; Taylor v. Walker, 1 Heisk. 734; Wheatley v. Harvey, 1 Swan 484.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1402.

Contra.— Price v. Winter, 15 Fla. 66.

Appointment of guardian ad litem before service on minors a nullity.— Linnville v. Darby, 1 Baxt. (Tenn.) 306; Taylor v. Walker, 1 Heisk. (Tenn.) 734; Wheatley v. Harvey, 1 Swan (Tenn.) 484.

Merely citing the guardian ad litem appointed to represent the infant is not sufficient (Guy v. Pierson, 21 Ind. 18; Doe v. Anderson, 5 Ind. 33. But see Doe v. Harvey, 5 Blackf. (Ind.) 487, holding service of notice on the general guardian of infant heirs sufficient), and a decree of sale rendered merely upon the answer or appearance of a guardian ad litem, without jurisdiction of the persons of the minor heirs being acquired by summons or notice, has been held void (Clark v. Thompson, 47 Ill. 25, 95 Am. Dec. 457. Contra, Stuart v. Allen, 16 Cal. 473, 76 Am. Dec. 551; Rollins v. Brown, 37 S. C. 345, 16 S. E. 44 [following Walker v. Veno, 6 S. C. 459; Bulow v. Witte, 3 S. C. 308]; Sprague v. Litherberry, 22 Fed. Cas. No. 13,251, 4 McLean 442. But compare Johnson v. Cobb, 29 S. C. 372, 7 S. E. 601).

21. Martin v. Neal, 125 Ind. 547, 25 N. E. 813; Helms v. Love, 41 Ind. 210; In re Dolan, 88 N. Y. 309.

Devisees of the widow are not, as such, concluded by an order of sale where they were made parties and notified only as the children and heirs at law of the original decedent; but the sale is void as to the widow's interest. Elliott v. Frakes, 71 Ind. 412.

22. In re Dolan, 88 N. Y. 309.

23. Kammerrer v. Ziegler, 1 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 177; Mustin's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 180.

tees.[24] Creditors of the decedent are not usually entitled to notice,[25] nor are persons claiming adversely to or under a title derived independently of the decedent.[26]

c. Form and Requisites. Where the statute does not declare what the notice shall contain, it is for the court to determine whether the statements thereof are sufficient,[27] but where the statute provides that notice shall be given in such form and manner as the court shall prescribe, no mere constructive notice will be sufficient, unless it is given in the form and manner prescribed by the court.[28] As a general rule where the notice gives information that at a specified time and place the executor or administrator will apply for authority to sell the whole of the real estate of the decedent, or so much as is necessary for the purpose stated, this is sufficient for all practical purposes,[29] and in determining the sufficiency of a notice the courts should consider whether a reasonable person in the exercise of his ordinary faculties would on reading the notice be apprised by it in what court and at what time the petition would be presented.[30] It has been held not to be necessary that the citation or order to show cause should specifically name the heirs, devisees, or persons interested,[31] specifically describe the

24. In re Dolan, 88 N. Y. 309 [reversing 26 Hun 46].

25. Thompson v. Cox, 53 N. C. 311.

In New York, in a proceeding to sell realty for the payment of debts, the citation must be directed generally to all other creditors of the decedent as well as to the creditors named, unless the executor or administrator has caused to be published a notice requiring creditors to present their claims, and the time for the presentation thereof has elapsed. Matter of Slater, 17 Misc. 474, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 534; Kammerrer v. Ziegler, 1 Dem. Surr. 177. And where no administrator's notice to creditors has been published, and no order for publication of notice to unknown creditors has been made, a purchaser of land sold under the surrogate's decree to pay debts cannot be compelled to complete the purchase. Matter of Georgi, 44 N. Y. App. Div. 180, 60 N. Y. Suppl. 772 [affirmed in 162 N. Y. 660, 57 N. E. 1110].

26. Walker v. Fuller, 147 Mass. 489, 18 N. E. 400; Yoemans v. Brown, 8 Metc. (Mass.) 51 (disseizor in possession); Shields v. Ashley, 16 Mo. 471.

27. Gibson v. Roll, 27 Ill. 88, 81 Am. Dec. 219.

28. Mickel v. Hicks, 19 Kan. 578, 21 Am. Rep. 161.

29. Hobson v. Ewan, 62 Ill. 146; Gibson v. Roll, 27 Ill. 88, 81 Am. Dec. 219.

Form of notices held sufficient see Hobson v. Ewan, 62 Ill. 146; Gibson v. Roll, 27 Ill. 88, 81 Am. Dec. 219.

Form of order to show cause held sufficient see Rigney v. Coles, 6 Bosw. (N. Y.) 479.

Failure to state that assignment of dower and homestead will be asked.— Under Ill. Dower Act, § 44, providing that whenever application is made to a county court for leave to sell real estate of a decedent for payment of debts, and it appears that there is a dower or homestead interest in lands sought to be sold, such court may, in the same proceeding, on the petition of the executor or administrator, or the person entitled to dower and homestead, cause the same to be assigned, there is no error in proceeding to judgment, although the summons simply states that defendants are required to answer a petition "that prays that the court will order and direct a sale of real estate of said deceased for payment of debts," while the administrator's petition asks that homestead and dower be assigned and set off. Oettinger v. Specht, 162 Ill. 179, 44 N. E. 399.

Slight discrepancy in stating name of decedent.— The sale of a decedent's land for the payment of debts is not void because the order to show cause and the notice given by publication pursuant thereto are entitled, "In the matter of the estate of W. M. Macey, deceased," instead of "William M. Macey," where it appears that the estate was as well known by the one designation as the other, and that no interested party was misled thereby. Macey v. Stark, 116 Mo. 481, 21 S. W. 1088 [followed in Macey v. Pitillo, (1893) 21 S. W. 1094].

30. Finch v. Sink, 46 Ill. 169, 92 Am. Dec. 246.

Notices held sufficient see Finch v. Sink, 46 Ill. 169, 92 Am. Dec. 246; Jeffries v. Decker, 42 Ill. 519; Moore v. Neil, 39 Ill. 256, 89 Am. Dec. 303; Goudy v. Hall, 36 Ill. 313, 87 Am. Dec. 217; Johnson v. Clark, 18 Kan. 157; Rigney v. Coles, 6 Bosw. (N. Y.) 479.

31. It is sufficient if it be directed to "all persons interested." Taylor v. Hosick, 13 Kan. 518; Spencer v. Sheehan, 19 Minn. 338; Stack v. Royce, 34 Nebr. 833, 52 N. W. 675; Furth v. U. S. Mortgage, etc., Co., 13 Wash. 73, 42 Pac. 523. See also Foley v. McDonald, 46 Miss. 238, "to the non-resident heirs." Contra, Matter of Georgi, 35 Misc. (N. Y.) 685, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 431.

In Illinois it was formerly not necessary to insert the names of the persons interested (Gibson v. Roll, 27 Ill. 88, 81 Am. Dec. 219; Bowles v. Rouse, 8 Ill. 409), but this has been changed by statute (see Cothran St. Ill. (1885) p. 73; Ill. Rev. St. (1889) c. 3, § 103).

Where the widow is the petitioner and the property,[32] or specify the day in the term of court specified when the application will be made.[33]

d. Personal Service. It is usually required that the summons, citation, notice, or order to show cause shall be personally served on those interested within the jurisdiction [34] a designated time before the hearing of the application,[35] but the legislature has power by statute to dispense with personal notice to heirs within the county and allow notice by publication merely.[36] Under some statutes it has been held optional with the representative whether notice shall be given by personal service or by publication, either mode sufficing,[37] and personal service has also been held to dispense with a statutory requirement of publication.[38] Where the service of a notice has been adjudged sufficient by the court to which it was returnable, the court will be presumed to have acquired jurisdiction thereby.[39] An admission of service may be sufficient.[40] whole proceeding is at her instance, it is not necessary that her name should appear in the citation. Matter of McGee, 5 N. Y. App. Div. 527, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 1062.

32. In re Roach, 139 Cal. 17, 72 Pac. 393, holding that it is sufficient if reference is made in the order to show cause to the petition on file in which the description fully appears.

33. Madden v. Cooper, 47 Ill. 359; Finch v. Sink, 46 Ill. 169, 92 Am. Dec. 246; Goudy v. Hall, 36 Ill. 313, 87 Am. Dec. 217.

If the heirs wish to resist the application, they can take a rule on the administrator to file his petition by a certain day, if they are inconvenienced by his delay. Finch v. Sink, 46 Ill. 169, 92 Am. Dec. 246.

34. Summersett v. Summersett, 40 Ala. 596, 91 Am. Dec. 494.

Service of guardian.— An order for the sale of an intestate's land to pay his debts is not binding on a minor having a guardian in the state unless the guardian is served with process. Wells v. Smith, 44 Miss. 296.

The parties served are sufficiently identified where the notice names specifically the persons to whom it is addressed and the return states that the petition and notice were served upon the widow and minor heirs therein named. Myers v. Davis, 47 Iowa 325.

Efforts to serve writ.— Under Colo. Rev. St. p. 671, § 104, requiring an administrator's sale to conform to a chancery sale, and Chancery Act, p. 94, § 8, declaring that notice by publication shall not dispense with the usual exertion of the sheriff to serve the writ, a return of non est inventus, made before the return-day, would not support such notice of sale. Vance v. Maroney, 4 Colo. 47.

Mode of serving summons.— By the express provisions of Ill. Rev. St. c. 3, § 103, in a proceeding to sell lands to pay debts of a decedent, service of summons by reading the same to defendant is sufficient, and Ill. Dower Act, § 26, providing that where a surviving wife sues by petition in chancery for recovery of dower, defendants shall be summoned as in suits in chancery, has no application, although dower is assigned in the proceeding pursuant to section 44 of such act. Oettinger v. Specht, 162 Ill. 179, 44 N. E. 399.

35. Summersett v. Summersett, 40 Ala. 596, 91 Am. Dec. 494.

Adjourned hearing.— An order to show cause was issued, returnable on April 26, but was not served on an infant heir. On the return-day of the order a special guardian was appointed for the infant, who admitted service of the citation for the infant. The proof was then taken and the proceedings adjourned to May 10. On April 26 a copy of the order, returnable on that day, was taken, the return-day was erased, and the new adjourned day inserted, and the order was then served upon the infant, but no new order to show cause was entered or made. It was held that the sale was invalid because the infant, when the proof was taken, had not been served with process and had no legal guardian, and the order served upon him was not in fact an order and was too late to be of service. Pinckney v. Smith, 26 Hun (N. Y.) 524.

36. Fudge v. Fudge, 23 Kan. 416 (where the statute provided that "the court shall require notice of the petition, and of the time and place of hearing the same, to be given for such length of time and in such manner as the court may see proper," and it was held that where notice was given by publication pursuant to the order of the court, this was sufficient, although the heirs were all residents of the county in which the proceedings were had and the land situated); Fleming v. Bale, 23 Kan. 88.

37. Hobson v. Ewan, 62 Ill. 146 (statute in force in 1853); Gibson v. Roll, 27 Ill. 88, 81 Am. Dec. 219.

38. Harris v. Ransom, 24 Miss. 504. But compare Matlock v. Livingston, 9 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 489; Planters' Bank v. Johnson, 7 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 449.

39. Tharp v. Brenneman, 41 Iowa 251.

40. Robison v. Furman, 47 N. J. Eq. 307, 20 Atl. 898, holding that if, on the return of a rule to show cause in the orphans' court why land of a decedent should not be sold, proctors appear on behalf of all the parties interested and admit due and legal service of the rule that is sufficient evidence of proper service.

Rule as to infants.— In South Carolina the summons must be actually served upon an infant defendant, as under the decisions of that state an infant is incapable of making himself a party to an action by accepting

e. Publication. Publication of the notice of an application for a sale, or of the citation or summons thereon, or the order to show cause against the sale, is often provided for[41] in lieu of personal service,[42] and this is the usual mode of giving notice in the case of non-resident heirs or devisees.[43] An order of publication is usually necessary,[44] and such order is commonly based upon an affidavit showing the facts necessary to warrant the giving of notice in this manner.[45] The requirements of the statute or order of court under which publication is made must be complied with[46] as to the length of time during which the publication shall be continued,[47] the time when publication shall begin and end,[48] the paper or papers in which the publication is to be made,[49] and the number of service of summons so as to be bound by a judgment therein. Whitesides v. Barber, 24 S. C. 373; Finley v. Robertson, 17 S. C. 435.

41. See Spencer v. Sheehan, 19 Minn. 338; Cunningham v. Anderson, 107 Mo. 371, 17 S. W. 972, 28 Am. St. Rep. 417.

Under a statute providing for such notice as the court may prescribe, a notice by publication may be prescribed and is lawful. Casey v. Stewart, 60 Iowa 160, 14 N. W. 225; Lees v. Wetmore, 58 Iowa 170, 12 N. W. 238.

42. Thomas v. Parker, 97 Cal. 456, 32 Pac. 562 (holding that under Code Civ. Proc. § 1578, publication properly made is sufficient, and it is not an objection that personal service was not required to be made upon minor heirs under the age of fourteen years); Davis v. Howard, 56 Ga. 430 (holding that under Code, § 2559, an order granting leave to an administrator to sell land, obtained on the published notice required by the code, is valid, and cannot be set aside because there was no personal notice).

43. Field v. Goldsby, 28 Ala. 218, 65 Am. Dec. 341; Sellers v. Talby, 33 Miss. 582.

44. Foley v. McDonald, 46 Miss. 238. See also Cunningham v. Anderson, 107 Mo. 371, 17 S. W. 972, 28 Am. St. Rep. 417.

45. See Rowland v. Carroll, 81 Ill. 224.

Affidavit of non-residence may be on information and belief. Rowland v. Carroll, 81 Ill. 224.

Caption.— An affidavit filed in a proceeding by an executor or administrator for an order to sell lands to pay debts, to authorize the publication of notice, need not be entitled in the case. If it states the necessary facts and is filed in the case, even if not entitled at all, and without any caption, it may be sustained. Harris v. Lester, 80 Ill. 307.

Where the statute is silent as to who shall make the affidavit to authorize publication there is no force in an objection that it is made by a person other than the administrator. Rowland v. Carroll, 81 Ill. 224.

46. Sheldon v. Wright, 7 Barb. (N. Y.) 39.

47. Sibley v. Waffle, 16 N. Y. 180; Sheldon v. Wright, 7 Barb. (N. Y.) 39.

Publication for the time fixed by law is sufficient, although an interlocutory decree of the probate court required publication for a greater length of time. Sellers v. Talby, 33 Miss. 582.

48. See Sheldon v. Wright, 5 N. Y. 497. holding the publication had a sufficient compliance with the statute.

Lapse of time between last publication and return-day.— Proceedings for the sale of decedent's land to pay debts will not be dismissed on the ground that eight full days did not elapse between the date of the last publication and the date when the citation was made returnable; N. Y. Code Civ. Proc. § 441, governing the service of summons, and providing that it is not complete until the day of the last publication, not being applicable to a citation. Matter of Denton, 40 Misc. (N. Y.) 326, 81 N. Y. Suppl. 1031 [affirmed in 86 N. Y. App. Div. 359, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 778].

Six weeks before return-day.— Under a statute requiring the rule to show cause to be published "for six weeks successively once in each week before the return-day," it has been held not necessary that the publication should be made in the six weeks next preceding the return-day. Robinson v. Furman, 47 N. J. Eq. 307, 20 Atl. 898.

49. In re O'Sullivan, 84 Cal. 444, 24 Pac. 281 (holding that the publication of an order to show cause why an administrator's petition for the sale of the real estate of a decedent should not be granted, and of the notice of the sale of such real estate, may be made in such newspaper in the county as the court or judge shall direct, for the number of successive weeks required by the statute, although such paper be published weekly only, and other papers are published daily in the same county); Townsend v. Tallant, 33 Cal. 45, 91 Am. Dec. 617 (holding that under the California Probate Act of 1851, requiring notice of an order of the probate court requiring all persons interested to show cause why the real estate of the intestate should not be sold to pay debts, to be published for four successive weeks before the day to show cause, in a paper designated by the court, if such notice was published three weeks in the paper designated by the court, and then the fourth week in another paper designated by the administrator, the court did not acquire jurisdiction).

Nearest newspaper.—Any newspaper printed at the county-seat answers the intention of a statute requiring a notice of the sale of estate and property to be published in the nearest newspaper. Stow v. Kimball, 28 Ill. 93.

Petition to sell land outside of county where administration pending.— Where an estate was being administered in D county and a petition of the administrator asked for insertions.[50] A requirement that publication shall be made a certain number of weeks consecutively is satisfied by the publication the prescribed number of times at weekly intervals before the hearing;[51] but the full notice prescribed must be given, that is to say, the first publication must be made the prescribed number of weeks prior to the hearing.[52] After the completion of the publication of the order to show cause for the time prescribed by statute, the court can proceed at once at the time named in the order.[53] It has been held that compliance with the statutory requirements must be shown affirmatively by the representative or the person claiming title under the order of the court.[54]

f. Return.[55] The full notice required by statute must be given, and if the citation or summons is made returnable in a less time than that required by statute, there is want of jurisdiction which is fatal to the validity of the proceedings;[56] leave to sell lands situated in R county, together with lands situated in D county, it was unnecessary that the notice of the petition to sell should be given in a newspaper published in R county. Gavin v. Grayvon, 41 Ind. 559.

50. See Townsend v. Tallant, 33 Cal. 45, 91 Am. Dec. 617.

The discontinuance of the paper at the end of three weeks does not dispense with the necessity of further publication where notice of an administrator's petition to sell land has been ordered to be published "four successive weeks" in a certain paper, except in the event of personal service or written assent to the sale by all persons interested in the estate. Townsend v. Tallant, 33 Cal. 45, 91 Am. Dec. 617.

51. Madden v. Cooper, 47 Ill. 359; Dayton v. Mintzer, 22 Minn. 393.

Publication once a week in daily paper.— A statute requiring that notice of an order to show cause why leave to sell shall not be granted to an administrator shall be published for four weeks in a newspaper printed in the county is complied with by a publication once a week for four successive weeks, although the newspaper in which publication is made is published daily. Rigney v. Coles, 6 Bosw. (N. Y.) 479.

52. Gibson v. Roll, 30 Ill. 172, 83 Am. Dec. 181; Monahon v. Vandyke, 27 Ill. 154; Young v. Downey, 145 Mo. 250, 46 S. W. 1086, 150 Mo. 317, 51 S. W. 751 [overruling Cruzer v. Stephens, 123 Mo. 337, 27 S. W. 557, 45 Am. St. Rep. 549]. See also Madden v. Cooper, 47 Ill. 359. Contra, Fleming v. Bale, 23 Kan. 88, holding that an order of notice of the hearing by the probate court of an administrator's petition to sell land requiring the notice to be published in a designated weekly paper "two consecutive weeks," although the hearing was to be had eleven days after the order was made, should be construed to mean "two consecutive times," that is to say, in the next two issues, the court laying stress upon the fact that the order did not require the notice to be published "for" two consecutive weeks. See also Morrow v. Weed, 4 Iowa 77, 66 Am. Dec. 122.

Lapse of prescribed time before hearing sufficient.— Under a statute requiring the first publication to be six weeks before the day the petition should be presented, it is not necessary that six weeks should intervene between the first day of publication of notice and the first day of the term in which the application is made, but only that six weeks should intervene between the first day of publication and the day upon which an application is made for an order to sell. Madden v. Cooper, 47 Ill. 359.

Delay in presenting petition.— If notice of an application to sell lands is not published for six full weeks before the day therein specified as the time when the petition will be presented, parties are not bound to take notice of such application; and although the petition be not in fact presented until a later day than the one fixed by the notice, nor till after the six weeks required by the statute has expired, yet that fact will not cure the defect. Gibson v. Roll, 30 Ill. 172, 83 Am. Dec. 181.

53. In re Roach, 139 Cal. 17, 72 Pac. 393, holding that it is not necessary that thirty days should elapse after the completed publication before the court has jurisdiction of the persons interested in the estate, even though some of such persons reside in Ireland.

54. Sheldon v. Wright, 7 Barb. (N. Y.) 39.

Evidence independent of record.— It is proper, as against a collateral attack, to show by competent evidence, independently of the record, that the publication was in fact made in strict accordance with the requirements of the order of the court. Schroeder v. Wilcox, 39 Nebr. 136, 57 N. W. 1031.

Objection to printer's certificate of publication cannot be raised in collateral proceeding. Finch v. Sink, 46 Ill. 169, 92 Am. Dec. 246.

An affidavit of publication made by the "proprietor" of the paper in which the order was published has been held sufficient. Reynolds v. Schmidt, 20 Wis. 374.

Proof of posting.— Where there was no affidavit of posting in due form legally made and in evidence, but the administrator in his report of sale stated, under oath, that he posted notices, and the report was duly confirmed, the evidence of posting was sufficient. Woods v. Monroe, 17 Mich. 238.

55. To what term summons returnable see Sloan v. Strickler, 12 Colo. 179, 20 Pac. 611.

56. Monahon v. Vandyke, 27 Ill. 154; Bray v. Neill, 21 N. J. Eq. 343; Stilwell v. Swarthout, 81 N. Y. 109 (holding further that the

but the fact that the order to show cause was made returnable one day later than the time prescribed by statute has been held to be a mere irregularity which would not avoid the sale.[57] A summons to heirs, directing them to appear on a past day and show cause why realty of a decedent should not be sold for the payment of debts, confers no jurisdiction.[58] The application to sell real estate must be made at the term or date specified in the notice published or the order to show cause; otherwise the order will not be binding for want of notice.[59]

g. Waiver and Curing of Errors. Errors or irregularities in the notice may be cured by the appearance of those interested,[60] or by the confirmation of the sale,[61] and even an omission to issue summons or give notice may be waived.[62] Where an order to show cause is properly published, a failure, in issuing the order, to designate the paper in which the publication shall be made, as required by statute, is cured by the order of court confirming the sale.[63] Under some statutes adults may waive the notice by filing their assent to the sale in writing,[64] and guardians may assent in like manner for their wards,[65] but it has been held that infant heirs cannot personally come into court and waive citation and consent to the decree.[66]

h. Presumptions — Collateral Attack. According to the weight of authority it is to be presumed that there was such service or appearance as conferred upon the court in which the proceedings were brought jurisdiction of the persons of those right of an infant defendant to set up the error on appeal could not be waived by failure to take an objection before the surrogate); Havens v. Sherman, 42 Barb. (N. Y.) 636.

Expiration of time before hearing sufficient.— Under Colo. Rev. St. (1868) c. 90, § 103, providing that if, in proceedings for the sale of land to pay debts, a notice to non-residents be not first published at least sixty days before the return-day of the summons, the cause shall stand continued until the next term, a decree can be rendered after the lapse of sixty days from the first publication of the notice, although that time had not expired when the term at which the decree is rendered began. Sloan v. Strickler, 12 Colo. 179, 20 Pac. 611.

57. O'Connor v. Huggins, 1 N. Y. Suppl. 377 [affirmed in 113 N. Y. 511, 21 N. E. 184, and distinguishing Stilwell v. Swarthout, 81 N. Y. 109].

58. Hendricks v. Pugh, 57 Miss. 157.

59. Morris v. Hogle, 37 Ill. 150, 87 Am. Dec. 243; Turney v. Turney, 24 Ill. 625. But compare Rigney v. Coles, 6 Bosw. (N. Y.) 479, holding that, although the order to show cause required the parties to appear on August 30, and the order to sell was made September 2, and did not recite that the proceedings were formally adjourned during the intermediate time, the order of sale was not for that cause presumptively invalid, and that even though it was shown that no adjournments were entered in the surrogate's book of minutes, the proceedings would not be impaired if it were proved that they were in fact continued by adjournments.

Nunc pro tunc order.— Where, in a proceeding for the sale of a decedent's land, the order to show cause was returnable on April 4, and the proofs were made and a decree for a sale entered on that day, but on April 11 another decree for a sale was made, reciting that the decree theretofore made had been vacated for error, a sale under the second decree was valid. Burris v. Kennedy, 108 Cal. 331, 41 Pac. 458, 38 Pac. 971.

60. Butler v. Emmett, 8 Paige (N. Y.) 12, holding that an irregularity in giving notice to the heir at law is cured by a subsequent petition of such heir, to the surrogate, for an order to confirm the sales made under the former order, and to authorize the administrator to give deeds to the purchasers and to receive the purchase-money bid upon such sales. See also Bowles v. Rouse, 8 Ill. 409.

61. Dayton v. Mintzer, 22 Minn. 393, no appeal being taken therefrom.

62. Greer v. Greer, 12 S. W. 152, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 380, holding that where, after a sale under order of court of a decedent's land to pay his debts, an heir makes a claim of ownership to one of the lots, and on an application to set aside the order of sale the issue of ownership is made and tried, the objection that no summons was issued on the amended petition, which asked for the sale of that lot, is waived.

63. Furth v. U. S. Mortgage, etc., Co., 13 Wash. 73, 42 Pac. 523.

64. See Smock v. Reichwine, 117 Ind. 194, 19 N. E. 776.

Waiver as guardian merely.— Where a writing containing a waiver of notice and consent to the sale is signed by the widow as guardian of the minor heirs, but not in her own right, a sale made without notice of the application does not pass the widow's interest in the real estate to a purchaser. Helms v. Love, 41 Ind. 210.

65. Smock v. Reichwine, 117 Ind. 194, 19 N. E. 776. See also Jones v. Levi, 72 Ind. 586. Contra, Campbell v. Drais, 125 Cal. 253, 57 Pac. 994. And see Guy v. Pierson, 21 Ind. 18; Doe v. Anderson, 5 Ind. 33.

66. Winston v. McLendon, 43 Miss. 254.

interested,[67] where the record is silent on the subject of notice[68] or does not affirmatively state facts negativing the conclusion that notice was given,[69] and the regularity of the notice cannot be collaterally questioned.[70] But in some jurisdictions it is held that the giving of the notice required must affirmatively appear by the record in order to sustain the jurisdiction of the court.[71] Recitals in a decree for the sale of land as to service of process and proof of publication are prima facie true,[72] although in a proceeding to vacate the decree they are not conclusive, but may be contradicted.[73] In a collateral proceeding, however, it is sufficient that the decree recites that due notice was given; such a finding is conclusive and can only be rebutted by evidence in the record and not by extraneous proof,[74]

67. Florida.— Wilson v. Matheson, 17 Fla. 630.

Georgia.— Coggins v. Griswold, 64 Ga. 323.

Illinois.— Donlin v. Hettinger, 57 Ill. 348.

Indiana.— Clark v. Hillis, 134 Ind. 421, 34 N. E. 13 (holding that where it appears expressly that notice was given by publication and posting of the pendency of the proceeding, the absence from the files of the notice will not defeat the presumption that it was the proper notice); Hawkins v. Hawkins, 28 Ind. 66; Hawkins v. Ragan, 20 Ind. 193; Doe v. Harvey, 3 Ind. 104.

Kansas.— Mickel v. Hicks, 19 Kan. 578, 27 Am. Rep. 161, holding that where notice can only be given in a form and manner to be prescribed by the court, and the record contains an order prescribing such form and manner, but the notice itself is lost or destroyed, it will be presumed that the notice in fact given was one following the form and manner prescribed.

Kentucky.— See Jones v. Edwards, 78 Ky. 6.

Oregon.— Russell v. Lewis, 3 Oreg. 380.

Where the original judgment-roll is lost or destroyed, but the rough minute docket of the court shows that a petition to sell land for assets was filed, and the other dockets show memoranda of an order for publication for non-resident defendants, that an order of sale was made, a report of sale filed, and a judgment of confirmation rendered, there is a presumption of law, independent of the statute (N. C. Code, §§ 69, 70), that the publication was made as ordered, and proper proof of it filed before the judgment of sale was entered. Everett v. Newton, 118 N. C. 919, 23 S. E. 961.

68. Clark v. Hillis, 134 Ind. 421, 43 N. E. 13; Martin v. Starr, 7 Ind. 224.

On error the reviewing court cannot indulge a presumption that the requisite steps were taken to bring the parties within the jurisdiction of the court, but the record must show affirmatively either the service of notice or the presence of defendants in court. Martin v. Starr, 7 Ind. 224.

69. Gerrard v. Johnson, 12 Ind. 636.

70. Berrian v. Rogers, 43 Fed. 467, in ejectment against the purchaser.

71. Root v. McFerrin, 37 Miss. 17, 75 Am. Dec. 49 (holding that parol evidence is inadmissible to supply an omission of the record in this respect); Kempe v. Pintard, 32 Miss. 324; Commercial Bank v. Doe, 9 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 613; Planters' Bank v. Johnson, 7 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 449; Laughman v. Thompson, 6 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 209; Gwin v. McCarroll, 1 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 351; Puckett v. McDonald, 6 How. (Miss.) 269; Campbell v. Brown, 6 How. (Miss.) 106, 230.

Distinction between sales of realty and of personalty.— In case of a sale of real estate the record must show that all the proceedings were regular, and that the citations were published according to law; but a sale of a chattel will be valid even though the record does not show that citations were published according to law; and this is true, although it be a lease for ninety-nine years which is sold. Dillingham v. Jenkins, 7 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 479.

72. Sivley v. Summers, 57 Miss. 712; Commercial Bank v. Doe, 9 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 613; Comstock v. Crawford, 3 Wall. (U. S.) 397, 18 L. ed. 34.

73. Sivley v. Summers, 57 Miss. 712.

74. Alabama.— Goodwin v. Sims, 86 Ala. 102, 5 So. 587, 11 Am. St. Rep. 21.

Illinois.— Andrews v. Bernhardi, 87 Ill. 365; Barnett v. Wolf, 70 Ill. 76. See also Hobson v. Ewan, 62 Ill. 146. But compare Goudy v. Hall, 30 Ill. 109.

Iowa.— Myers v. Davis, 47 Iowa 325, holding that when there is a service insufficient only in the manner of making it, a question of jurisdiction is raised which the court must decide, and if it does so erroneously the judgment, although voidable, is binding until reversed and corrected on appeal, and is not void or subject to collateral attack. See also Morrow v. Weed, 4 Iowa 77, 66 Am. Dec. 122.

Mississippi.— Sivley v. Summers, 57 Miss. 712.

New York.— Sheldon v. Wright, 5 N. Y. 497.

North Carolina.— Sledge v. Elliott, 116 N. C. 712, 21 S. E. 797; Edwards v. Moore, 99 N. C. 1, 5 S. E. 13, holding that where defendant in an action to recover land set up title under a decree of the court in which the premises had been sold to make assets, and the record showed that plaintiffs had accepted service of the summons in the proceeding in which the decree was made, the record could not be collaterally attacked by evidence that the acceptance of service was made by one who had no authority. See also Morrison v. Craven, 120 N. C. 327, 26 S. E. 940.

South Carolina.— Turner v. Malone, 24 and the judgment of the court that the notice was sufficient is binding on all parties interested unless an appeal is taken.[75] But if the record shows service which is insufficient and fails to show that the court found that it had jurisdiction, the presumption is rebutted and it must be held that the court acted upon insufficient notice.[76]

7. Objections and Exceptions.[77] An application for a sale of real property of a decedent may be opposed by the persons who are interested in the land, such as the heirs and devisees,[78] or by the personal representative where a sale to pay debts is sought by a creditor,[79] but not by persons who have no interest such as will be affected by a sale;[80] and either the heirs or devisees[81] or the personal

S. C. 398 [explaining and distinguishing Bragg v. Thompson, 19 S. C. 572; Finley v. Robertson, 17 S. C. 435; Lyles v. Bolles, 8 S. C. 258; Gregg v. Bigham, 1 Hill 299, 26 Am. Dec. 181].

75. Stanley v. Noble, 59 Iowa 666, 13 N. W. 839 [following Shawhan v. Loffer, 24 Iowa 217]; Lees v. Wetmore, 58 Iowa 170, 12 N. W. 238; Thomas v. Le Baron, 8 Metc. (Mass.) 355. See also Morrow v. Weed, 4 Iowa 77, 66 Am. Dec. 122.

Record showing finding that notice sufficient.— Where the record of a proceeding in the court of common pleas to subject lands of a decedent to the payment of debts upon the petition of the administrator sets out that it was "shown to the court that due notice had been given to the defendants," this language imports a finding that the notice which the law requires under the circumstances has been regularly given. Richards v. Skiff, 8 Ohio St. 586.

76. Donlin v. Hettinger, 57 Ill. 348; Clark v. Thompson, 47 Ill. 25, 95 Am. Dec. 457.

77. Practice on overruling demurrer.— Where, in a special proceeding to make real estate assets instituted before a superior court clerk in North Carolina, there was a demurrer filed to the complaint, it was error for the judge, after overruling the demurrer, to direct that an order issue to plaintiff to sell the land, but the decision of the judge should be transmitted to the clerk with leave for defendant to answer before the clerk if so advised. Jones v. Hemphill, 77 N. C. 42.

78. Grant v. Noel, 118 Ga. 258, 45 S. E. 279 (any heir may object); Matter of Campbell, 66 N. Y. App. Div. 478, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 290 [affirmed in 170 N. Y. 84, 62 N. E. 1070] (husband, wife, heirs, devisees, and persons claiming under them); Richardson v. Judah, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 157 (heirs or persons claiming under them); Person v. Montgomery, 120 N. C. 111, 26 S. E. 645.

Persons showing a prima facie interest in the lands may contest an application to sell on the ground of an insufficiency of personalty. Paine v. Pendleton, 32 Miss. 320.

A purchaser from the widow and heirs is a person interested in the estate who may, under the Alabama statute, contest the application. Speer v. Banks, 114 Ala. 323, 21 So. 834.

Purchaser of homestead.— Where a homestead occupied by the decedent at the time of his death did not exceed in area and value the limit allowed by law as exempt, and he left no minor children, a purchaser of said homestead from the widow was a person interested in the estate who might, under the Alabama statute, contest an application for the sale of decedent's lands to pay debts, although at the time of the purchase said property had not been set apart to the widow as a homestead. Newell v. Johns, 128 Ala. 584, 29 So. 609.

The attorney for absent heirs need not formally oppose the curator's application for a sale. It is sufficient if, when notified of the petition, he indorses on it his approval. Michel v. Michel, 11 La. 149.

Notice to other heirs.— Where an heir of a decedent objects to an application of the administrator to sell land, he need not give notice to any of the other heirs. Grant v. Noel, 118 Ga. 258, 45 S. E. 279.

79. Harrison v. Taylor, 43 S. W. 723, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1191, holding that where in an action by an executor a defendant puts in an answer and counter-claim seeking a sale of the testator's land to pay his debts, the executor should be allowed a reasonable time to file a reply.

80. Richardson v. Judah, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 157.

Creditors.— Although creditors may be made parties, it is only for the purpose of presenting and proving their debts and contesting other claims, and they cannot be allowed to interpose an answer or file objections for the purpose of contesting the necessity of the proceedings or of making a defense to them. Matter of Campbell, 66 N. Y. App. Div. 478, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 290 [affirmed in 170 N. Y. 84, 62 N. E. 1070]. Compare Jackson v. Warthen, 111 Ga. 834, 36 S. E. 214.

A person claiming paramount title to a decedent's real estate has no right to appear in proceedings brought by the administrator and resist an order for sale of the property to pay decedent's debts, since such proceeding cannot affect claimant's interest. Shields v. Ashley, 16 Mo. 471.

81. Black v. Robinson, 70 Ark. 185, 68 S. W. 489 (holding that an heir who was administrator of the estate for several years and was responsible to a considerable extent for the failure to sell lands to pay debts cannot object to an application to sell for that purpose by the administrator de bonis non on the ground that there has been unreasonable delay); Van Bibber v. Julian, 81 representative[82] may become estopped to oppose or object to a sale of the land. The mode of objection, whether more or less formal, depends upon local statute or procedure.[83] Any objections or exceptions which legitimately tend to oppose the conclusion that a sale should be made may be raised and considered.[84] Thus it may be set up in opposition that the sale has not been asked within the time limited by statute for the procurement of a sale,[85] or the heirs may contest the exhaustion of the personalty,[86] or seek a proper application of personalty which the administrator wrongfully refuses to inventory.[87] A denial of the existence, justness, or validity

Mo. 618. See also Buntyn v. Holmes, 9 Lea (Tenn.) 319.

Contract of infant heir.— A contract between an infant heir at law and a creditor of the decedent's estate, by which the former conveys by deed of trust a tract of land in payment of the debt, taking the creditor's receipt, and specifying therein that the contract is subject to ratification by the infant on attaining his majority, being disaffirmed by him after attaining his majority, does not estop him from setting up the statute of limitations in defense to an application by the creditor, as administrator of the estate, for an order to sell the lands for the payment of the debt. Warren v. Hearne, 82 Ala. 554, 2 So. 491.

Objection by devisees who signed petition. — Where the devisees who signed the petition for an order to mortgage the real estate of the decedent present, promptly after the order is granted, a petition asking for a revocation of the order, setting forth that they signed the first petition under a misapprehension and misunderstanding of their rights, they will not be precluded from obtaining redress if they have any bona fide rights in the premises. Kurtz's Estate, 16 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 205.

82. Wood v. McChesney, 40 Barb. (N. Y.) 417. See also Buntyn v. Holmes, 9 Lea (Tenn.) 319.

83. See Paine v. Pendleton, 32 Miss. 320 (holding that no formal answer is requisite, but objections and exceptions are sufficient if made in such form that the court is enabled to inquire into their sufficiency or correctness); Steffy's Appeal, 76 Pa. St. 94 (holding that a rule to show cause should not issue on a mere answer ore tenus to a petition by executors for authority to sell real estate to pay debts, since the proceedings of the orphans' court should have the substance of equitable form, by petition, answer, and replication, in which the requisites making the case should appear).

If a needless or illegal purpose for sale is added to a proper one, objection should be, not by demurrer, but by motion to strike out the objectionable portion. Conger v. Cook, 56 Iowa 117, 8 N. W. 782.

An objection as to the right of creditors to bring an action to determine whether there had been a devastavit, and to subject the real estate to the payment of their debts, can be taken advantage of only by demurrer, as the alleged want of authority appears on the face of the proceedings. Wilson v. Pearson, 102 N. C. 290, 9 S. E. 707.

84. See Finch v. Du Bignon, 117 Ga. 113, 43 S. E. 423, holding that where an administrator applies for leave to sell the lands of the decedent for the necessary purpose of paying debts and for distribution, it is error to strike on demurrer a ground of caveat filed by the heirs at law, denying that any necessity for the sale exists, although it appears that there are debts due by the estate.

Postponement of sale.—A sale of decedent's real estate may be postponed by the court when the life-tenant objects to the sale, and where creditors express a willingness to wait, pending arrangements looking toward a mortgage of the same, it being alleged that a present sale would result in a probable sacrifice of the property. Woolman's Estate, 6 Pa. Dist. 205, 19 Pa. Co. Ct. 281..

85. Cole v. Lafontaine, 84 Ind. 446, holding that an answer pleading that "no cause of action to have the lands sold had accrued within the period of fifteen years next preceding the filing of the petition," was good under Ind. Code (1852), § 212, requiring such petition to be filed within fifteen years, but that an answer that "the cause of action mentioned in the petition did not occur within six years" was bad, as not showing whether the cause of action was one to which the six-year limitation applied.

New trial for failure to consider plea.— Where heirs, in their answer to a proceeding by an administrator to obtain a license to sell land for the payment of his intestate's debts, plead that the action was not brought within the time prescribed by law, and the court below fails to consider the merits of the plea, and there is some evidence to sustain it, a new trial will be granted. Proctor v. Proctor, 105 N. C. 222, 10 S. E. 1036.

86. Shields v. Alsup, 5 Lea (Tenn.) 508. See infra, XII, G, 11.

A grantee of the heir may show that personal property other than that contained in the inventory of the estate is available for that purpose, although the inventory was made by the heir. Topping's Estate, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 447, 18 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 115, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 187.

How settlement of accounts contested.— Where after settlement of his accounts the administrator files a bill to sell land for the payment of debts, the heirs may contest the settlement by answer as well as by cross bill or original bill. Shields v. Alsup, 5 Lea (Tenn.) 508.

87. Duffield v. Walden, 102 Iowa 676, 72 N. W. 278.

of the debts for the payment of which a sale is asked is also a good ground of objection.[88] But only such objections or exceptions are admissible by way of opposing the sale as meet fairly the issue whether a sale should be ordered, without interposing collateral issues which are immaterial to the question whether a sale should be ordered or should be determined in different proceedings.[89]

8. Interference of Other Proceedings Involving Land. A suspension of proceedings for a sale by the probate court while other litigation is in progress may be proper sometimes;[90] but ordinarily a sale may be ordered and made for the payment of debts notwithstanding the pendency of proceedings for partition[91] or to foreclose a mortgage,[92] the proceedings of a family meeting,[93] or a previous levy of execution on the land.[94]

9. Hearing of Application. On the hearing of a petition for the sale of a decedent's lands to pay debts, the court should hear proof of the allegations of the petition and make inquiry as to the necessity of the sale,[95] and also, it has

88. Matter of Knapp, 25 Misc. (N. Y.) 133, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 927; Person v. Montgomery, 120 N. C. 111, 26 S. E. 645; Shields v. Alsup, 5 Lea (Tenn.) 508. See infra, X, G, 10, c.

The heir must prove that the debts do not exist in order to prevent a sale for the payment of debts. A mere allegation to that effect is insufficient. Lehman v. Worley, 40 La. Ann. 620, 4 So. 573.

89. Alabama.— Brown v. Powell, 45 Ala. 149, holding that in an application by an administrator to sell the lands of his intestate for distribution among the heirs, because the same could not be equitably divided, etc., a plea that certain of the heirs had received advancements to the amount of their distributive shares or interests in the estate, and that by excluding the heirs so advanced the lands could be equitably divided among the remaining heirs, was bad on demurrer.

California.— In re Brannan, (1897) 51 Pac. 320 (holding that an objection that, on account of the depreciated value of testator's property, a sale thereof would be to the damage of the residuary legatees, cannot be interposed against a petition for an order directing the executrix to sell, as the objection can be considered under Code Civ. Proc. § 1552 et seq., only when the sale comes up for confirmation); Dorsey's Estate, 75 Cal. 258, 17 Pac. 209.

Illinois.— Dauel v. Arnold, 201 Ill. 570, 66 N. E. 846 [affirming 103 Ill. App. 298].

Missouri.— Trent v. Trent, 24 Mo. 307.

New Jersey.— When a sale for the payment of debts is asked no person can intervene and contest the title of the decedent. In re Devine, 62 N. J. Eq. 703, 49 Atl. 138; Swackhamer v. Kline, 25 N. J. Eq. 503.

North Carolina.— Stainback v. Harris, 115 N. C. 100, 20 S. E. 277 (holding that in an action by an administrator to subject lands in possession of the heirs to the payment of a judgment on a claim against decedent, the fact that the administrator made no defense to the action on the claim is no defense); Proctor v. Proctor, 105 N. C. 222, 10 S. E. 1036.

Oregon.— In re Houck, (1888) 17 Pac. 461.

Tennessee.— Pea v. Waggoner, 5 Hayw. 242.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1410.

Depression of market.— It is not a good ground of objection to an application by an administrator for leave to sell lands or stock in an incorporated company for the purpose of paying debts that the market is depressed, and that for this reason the property will not sell for its full value. Jackson v. Warthen, 111 Ga. 834, 36 S. E. 214.

The invalidity or irregularity of the representative's appointment does not furnish a ground of resistance to an application by him to sell real estate. Riser v. Snoddy, 7 Ind. 442, 65 Am. Dec. 740; Waldow v. Beemer, 45 Nebr. 626, 63 N. W. 918.

90. Grider v. Apperson, 38 Ark. 388; Himelspark's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 327.

91. Brown's Succession, 23 La. Ann. 308; Rice v. Dickerman, 47 Minn. 527, 50 N. W. 698. But compare Re Kennedy's Estate, 17 Phila. (Pa.) 507.

92. Fitzimmons' Appeal, 40 Pa. St. 422; Shaw v. Barksdale, 25 S. C. 204, proceeding to foreclose mortgage given by devisee. But compare Breevort v. McJimsey, 1 Edw. (N. Y.) 551.

Where the land has been sold in foreclosure proceedings in another court a proceeding instituted in the surrogate's court to procure a sale thereof for a debt should be kept alive until the validity of the foreclosure can be attacked elsewhere. Knickerbocker v. Decker, 4 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 128.

93. Munday v. Kaufman, 48 La. Ann. 591, 19 So. 619.

94. Clarkson v. Beardsley, 45 Conn. 196; Patrick's Succession, 25 La. Ann. 154; Bossier v. Kennedy, 19 La. Ann. 107.

95. Nebraska.— Trumble v. Williams, 18 Nebr. 144, 24 N. W. 716.

New Hampshire.— See Hodgdon v. White, 11 N. H. 208.

New Jersey.— Smith v. Smith, 27 N. J. Eq. 445.

New Mexico.— See Albuquerque First Nat. Bank v. Lee, 8 N. M. 589, 45 Pac. 1114.

New York.— Barnett v. Kincaid, 2 Lans. 320.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 1417, 1439.

been held, as to the proper manner, terms, and conditions of sale;[96] but matters purely collateral to the petition for sale should not be heard or passed upon,[97] nor need the court, on application by an administrator to sell real estate to pay debts, inquire whether the land to be sold is a homestead before issuing the order for the sale.[98] The court has jurisdiction to settle an account between the devisees and the legatees before ordering a sale for the payment of an unpaid legacy,[99] and it has been held error to decree the renting or selling of land before taking an account of the liens thereon and settling the priorities of creditors.[1] The court has jurisdiction to try any question of fact properly arising in a proceeding to sell realty,[2] and while it may in some jurisdictions afford the parties a trial by jury when the nature of the issues entitles them to a jury trial or renders it appropriate,[3] issues of law are to be decided by the court.[4] It is usually a matter of discretion with the court either to investigate the facts or to order a reference,[5] but a reference should not be had where it would be a mere form and involve useless expense.[6] The hearing may be had and an order of sale made at a special term appointed for that purpose when such special terms are authorized by statute,[7] and under some statutes the chancellor may decree a sale at chambers where the necessity of the sale is not denied.[8] After the presenta-

All the jurisdictional facts must be proved as alleged unless they are admitted. Williams v. Williams, 49 Ala. 439.

Depositions.— Under Ala. Code (1886), §§ 2113, 2114, providing that, on application to sell a decedent's real estate, depositions shall be filed as to the facts stated in the application and the necessity of the sale, no affidavit is required setting forth the cause for taking the depositions. Bozeman v. Bozeman, 83 Ala. 416, 3 So. 784.

Agreed statement of facts.— When a petition to the orphans' court for the sale of land for the payment of legacies alleges matters of fact as to which the court should have been informed and the matters are in the knowledge of the parties, the court, to avoid expense, may permit the parties to embody them in an agreement and file it; otherwise the court will appoint an auditor. Harris' Estate, 2 C. Pl. (Pa.) 17.

Trial in superior court.— Where, on petition to sell real estate in the probate court, issues of fact are raised, the trial thereof should be transferred to the superior court in term-time. Wood v. Skinner, 79 N. C. 92.

Where the allegations of the petition are not denied, the petitioners need not prove the same before an order of sale can be issued. In re Brannan, (Cal. 1897) 51 Pac. 220. But compare Martin v. Starr, 7 Ind. 224.

Consideration of cross complaint.— The circuit court may, in connection with application of an administrator to sell intestate's property to pay debts, consider a cross complaint showing reason why the interest of one heir should be sold first, and may mold its order accordingly. Galvin v. Britton, 151 Ind. 1, 49 N. E. 1064.

96. Haywood v. Haywood, 80 N. C. 42.

97. California.— Theller v. Such, 57 Cal. 447, dispute of heirs or representatives with third persons not to be determined.

Illinois.— Bennett v. Whitman, 22 Ill. 448, general power of executor not to be determined.

New Jersey.— Smith v. Smith, 27 N. J. Eq. 445, necessity for sale the only question which can be examined.

North Carolina.— Clement v. Foster, 71 N. C. 36, questions of trespass, boundary, etc., not affecting the parties to the application should not be considered.

Pennsylvania.— Smith's Estate, 177 Pa. St. 17, 35 Atl. 339, error to determine validity of codicil.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1422.

98. Randel v. Randel, 64 Kan. 254, 67 Pac. 837.

99. Jenkins v. Jenkins, 7 Pa. St. 246.

1. Daingerfield v. Smith, 83 Va. 81, 1 S. E. 599; Kendrick v. Whitney, 28 Gratt. (Va.) 646; Simmons v. Lyles, 27 Gratt. (Va.) 922; Hart v. Hart, 31 W. Va. 688, 8 S. E. 562.

2. Doan v. Biteley, 49 Ohio St. 588, 32 N. E. 600.

3. Doan v. Biteley, 49 Ohio St. 588, 32 N. E. 600. See also Jones v. Hemphill, 77 N. C. 42.

Where no issue of fact is raised it is improper to transfer the cause to the trial docket. Brandon v. Phelps, 77 N. C. 44.

4. Jones v. Hemphill, 77 N. C. 42.

5. Matter of Lichtenstein, 16 Misc. (N. Y.) 667, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 174, 25 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 301; Sanderson v. Overman, 98 N. C. 235, 3 S. E. 502; Thompson v. Joyner, 71 N. C. 369; Lucas' Appeal, 53 Pa. St. 404; Fitzsimmons' Appeal, 40 Pa. St. 422. See also Harlammert v. Moody, 26 S. W. 2, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 839.

A sale should not be ordered pending a reference to a commissioner to state an account of the personal assets in the hands of an administrator and before a confirmation of the report of such commissioner. Thompson v. Joyner, 71 N. C. 369.

It is the administrator's duty to apply for an auditor. Lucas' Appeal, 53 Pa. St. 404.

6. Bloom v. Cate, 7 Lea (Tenn.) 471.

7. Roach v. Gunter, 42 Ala. 239.

8. Blake v. Black, 84 Ga. 392, 11 S. E. 494.

tion of the petition the court may fix a subsequent date for the hearing of proofs or other action in the case,[9] and it has been held that where the cause is not disposed of at one term it stands continued as of course to the next term, and it is not necessary that an order of continuance should be entered.[10] An application for an order to sell or to mortgage real estate to pay debts, after jurisdiction of the parties is acquired, can be dismissed only by an order to that effect,[11] and after a hearing has been had, the debts proved, and an order of sale made, the administrator cannot at his option discontinue the proceeding;[12] but the creditors may insist upon its further prosecution, and apply as may be necessary for reviving or speeding the proceedings.[13] Where an administrator presented a petition to the orphans' court, asking authority to sell land alleged to be the property of his intestate, it was proper for the court to dismiss such petition when it was made to appear by those interested that the intestate had but a life-estate in the premises,[14] but the fact that an executor or administrator has been removed after a petition to sell lands to pay debts has been filed is no reason why the proceedings should be dismissed. It is sufficient that the same be delayed until a properly qualified executor or administrator shall be found to proceed.[15] The burden of proof as to the necessity for a sale rests upon the personal representative when the application is made by him,[16] and he must show such necessity regardless of whether or not there is a contest over the application.[17] Where the application is made by a creditor the burden of proof rests upon him.[18] When debts are charged on settled real estate, the court, in determining whether the debts are to be raised by sale or mortgage, will give greater weight to the wishes of the persons whose interests in the estate are immediate than to those whose interests are more remote.[19] It has been held that where the representative has petitioned for an order to sell real estate to pay debts, an order directing him to mortgage such real estate is invalid.[20]

10. Proof and Contest of Claims[21] — a. In General. Where a sale is asked for the payment of debts, it must be shown that there are existing debts against the estate for the payment of which the sale is necessary,[22] especially where the Filing order granted at chambers.— An order or license to an administrator to sell real estate of an intestate, granted by a judge sitting at chambers, must be filed in the office of the clerk of the district court of the county in which letters of administration are issued, before the administrator is empowered and authorized to sell such real estate. Veeder v. McKinley-Lanning L. & T. Co., 61 Nebr. 892, 86 N. W. 982.

9. Gibson v. Roll, 30 Ill. 172, 83 Am. Dec. 181.

10. Duval v. McLoskey, 1 Ala. 708.

11. Raven v. Norton, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 110.

12. Farrington v. King, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 182.

13. Raven v. Norton, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 110; Farrington v. King, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 182.

14. Grim's Appeal, 1 Grant (Pa.) 209.

15. Steele v. Steele, 89 Ill. 51.

16. Garrett v. Bruner, 59 Ala. 513.

17. Garrett v. Bruner, 59 Ala. 513.

18. See May v. Parham, 68 Ala. 253, holding that on an allegation by the creditor in a bill to subject realty to the payment of his claim, that the personalty had been wasted and that the administrators and his sureties were insolvent, the burden of showing the insolvency is upon him, and the admission by the administrator in his answer would not be evidence against the devisees.

19. Metcalfe v. Hutchinson, 1 Ch. D. 591, 45 L. J. Ch. 210.

20. Edwards v. Baker, 145 Ind. 281, 44 N. E. 467. See also Martin v. Neal, 125 Ind. 547, 25 N. E. 813. And see Cahill v. Bassett, 66 Mich. 407, 33 N. W. 722, equal division of the court.

21. Appeal from determination on claims see infra, XII, G, 16, a.

22. Alabama.— See Kornegay v. Mayer, 135 Ala. 141, 33 So. 36.

Illinois.— Walker v. Diehl, 79 Ill. 473.

New York.— Raynor v. Gordon, 23 Hun 264; Corwin v. Merritt, 3 Barb. 341.

Pennsylvania.— In re Vogel, 3 Lanc. L. Rev. 218.

Virginia.— Menefee v. Marge, (1888) 4 S. E. 726 (holding that the interest of an heir in real estate cannot be sold until the liability has been adjudicated and the amount judicially determined and an option given to the heir to pay without sale); Daingerfield v. Smith, 83 Va. 81, 1 S. E. 599; Kendrick v. Whitney, 28 Gratt. 646; Simmons v. Lyles, 27 Gratt. 922.

West Virginia.— Hart v. Hart, 31 W. Va. 688, 8 S. E. 562.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1425.

insufficiency of the personalty is denied.[23] Under the statutes of some states the surrogate or probate court has jurisdiction, in a proceeding to sell land, instituted by the representative, to adjudicate upon the validity of claims against the estate,[24] and disputes and controversies in regard to claims ought generally to be settled before a license to sell is granted.[25]

b. Who May Contest Claims. The heirs or devisees, being the persons whose interests would immediately be affected by a sale of a decedent's realty to pay debts, are entitled to dispute the claims against the estate for the payment of which a sale is asked,[26] and judgment creditors of a devisee have been held

But compare Tenney v. Poor, 14 Gray (Mass.) 500, 77 Am. Dec. 340, holding that it is not necessary to the validity of a license granted to an executor by the probate court to sell real estate for the payment of debts that the amount of debts should have been previously ascertained by judgment against the executor or by commission of insolvency.

The New Mexico statute does not require the ascertainment of who are creditors of the estate and what may be the amount of each claim, but it is sufficient to show that a sale of the real estate is necessary to pay debts. Albuquerque First Nat. Bank v. Lee, 8 N. M. 589, 45 Pac. 1114.

Allowance of claims.— It has been held that a sale cannot properly be ordered for the payment of debts unless they have been presented to the court and proved and allowed. Walker v. Diehl, 79 Ill. 473. But compare Grayson v. Weddle, 63 Mo. 523, holding that where, by inadvertence, the debt shown by a mortgage note had not, at the date of an order made by the probate court for the sale of the mortgaged property, been allowed, but it was allowed before the sale, the want of allowance before making the order was a mere irregularity which would not affect the title of a purchaser at the sale.

Effect of failure to answer.— Where, in a case of sale of real estate of a decedent to pay debts, the court ordered the petition of a claimant to be set down for hearing on a future day fixed, a copy having been first served on the parties in interest, and no answer to the petition was filed, and it was sent to an auditor to state the claim, the statements in the petition were not therefore to be taken pro confesso, but a trial on the merits might be had. Kent v. Waters, 18 Md. 53.

Discretion of court in refusing issue see In re Ike, 200 Pa. St. 202, 49 Atl. 791.

A demand by a creditor of payment from the representative is not indispensable where the representative has not in his hands sufficient assets to pay the debts of the estate and institutes an action for a settlement, which has been referred to a commissioner to audit and report upon claims filed and proved by creditors as provided by statute. Orr v. Orr, 10 S. W. 640, 10 Ky. L. Rep. 755.

23. Hammond v. Hammond, 2 Bland (Md.) 306, holding that in such case an account of the personalty must be taken and the creditors required to file vouchers of their claims.

Even if insufficiency of the personalty be to some extent admitted or established still the creditors may be required to bring in their claims in order that it may be ascertained what proportion of the realty must be sold. Hammond v. Hammond, 2 Bland (Md.) 306.

24. In re Haxtun, 102 N. Y. 157, 6 N. E. 111 [reversing 33 Hun 364]; Hopkins v. Van Valkenburgh, 16 Hun (N. Y.) 3; Turner v. Amsdell, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 19; Borntraeger v. Borntraeger, 7 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 551, 32 Cinc. L. Bul. 891, holding that the probate court has jurisdiction to determine the equities between parties and the priorities of liens. See also In re Bingham, 127 N. Y. 296, 27 N. E. 1055. Contra, Pirmann v. Gerhold, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 414, Ohio Prob. 142, holding that the remedy of the heir or other person interested is by filing his requisition to disallow the claims, and when that is done the proceedings for sale must stop until such claims have been adjudicated by the proper tribunal. And see Barnett v. Kincaid, 2 Lans. (N. Y.) 320.

Claims disputed by representative may be decided upon. People v. Westbrook, 61 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 138. Contra, Matter of Glann, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 75, holding that the authority of the surrogate is limited to claims resisted by the heirs or devisees.

In New Jersey the orphans' court has no power, except in the case of insolvent estates, to determine as to the validity of the claims of creditors of the estate upon an application for an order for the sale of decedent's lands for the payment of debts. Smith v. Smith, 27 N. J. Eq. 445 [followed, although doubtingly, in Doll v. Cash, 61 N. J. Eq. 108, 47 Atl. 1059].

25. Person v. Montgomery, 120 N. C. 111, 26 S. E. 645; Brittain v. Dickson, 104 N. C. 547, 10 S. E. 701; Smith v. Brown, 99 N. C. 377, 6 S. E. 667; New v. Bass, 92 Va. 383, 23 S. E. 747.

Proof and allowance of claims after decree but before sale sufficient.— Little v. Sinnett, 7 Iowa 324.

26. Alabama.— Kornegay v. Mayer, 135 Ala. 141, 33 So. 36; Warren v. Hearne, 82 Ala. 554, 2 So. 491; Trimble v. Fariss, 78 Ala. 260; Gayle v. Johnston, 72 Ala. 254, 47 Am. Rep. 405; Davis v. Tarver, 65 Ala. 98; Steele v. Steele, 64 Ala. 438, 38 Am. Rep. 15; Garrett v. Bruner, 59 Ala. 513; Bond v. Smith, 2 Ala. 660.

entitled to set up the statute of limitations, although the devisee himself did not appear.[27] It has also been held that the representative may in such proceedings contest claims,[28] and even a person to whom the decedent conveyed land in fraud of creditors has been allowed to plead the statute of limitations in proceedings by the administrator to sell the land conveyed to pay outlawed debts.[29] But such claims cannot be contested by a person who would in no instance be affected by a determination as to their validity.[30]

c. Defenses. The heirs or devisees may contest the validity and legality of any debts,[31] and may make any defense against the supposed debts which the decedent could have made if living, or which the personal representative could make if the creditors were suing him at law.[32] Any fact which will show the non-existence or extinguishment of debts is available as a defense;[33] thus the heirs, devisees, or other persons entitled to contest claims may plead the statutes of non-claim[34] or limitations[35] to any of the debts set up.

d. Effect of Allowance or Rejection of Claim. As the real parties to the con-

California.— In re Schroeder, 45 Cal. 304; Beckett v. Selover, 7 Cal. 215, 68 Am. Dec. 237.

Illinois.— Marshall v. Rose, 86 Ill. 374; Moline Water Power, etc., Co. v. Webster, 26 Ill. 233; Stone v. Wood, 16 Ill. 177.

Indiana.— O'Haleran v. O'Haleran, 115 Ind. 493, 17 N. E. 917; Scherer v. Ingerman, 110 Ind. 428, 11 N. E. 8, 12 N. E. 304; Cole v. Lafontaine, 84 Ind. 446; Riser v. Snoddy, 7 Ind. 442, 65 Am. Dec. 740.

Mississippi.— Champion v. Cayce, 54 Miss. 695.

Missouri.— Callahan v. Griswold, 9 Mo. 784.

New Hampshire.—Nichols v. Day, 32 N. H. 133, 64 Am. Dec. 358.

New York.— Hopkins v. Van Valkenburgh, 16 Hun 3; Matter of Knapp, 25 Misc. 133, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 927, 28 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 220; In re Hearman, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 905, 20 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 8; Mooers v. White, 6 Johns. Ch. 360; Colson v. Brainard, 1 Redf. Surr. 324; Skidmore v. Romaine, 2 Bradf. Surr. 122.

North Carolina.— Person v. Montgomery, 120 N. C. 111, 26 S. E. 645; Speer v. James, 94 N. C. 417.

Pennsylvania.— Dean's Appeal, 87 Pa. St. 24; Murphy's Appeal, 8 Watts & S. 165; Luton's Estate, 10 Kulp 161; Clark's Estate, 19 Phila. 218.

United States.— Garnett v. Macon, 10 Fed. Cas. No. 5,245, 2 Brock. 185, 6 Call (Va.) 308.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1427.

Reopening case.— Where, in a proceeding to sell real estate of a decedent for payment of his debts, the evidence in support of a claim litigated by the devisees has been closed and the case submitted for decision, the surrogate has no power to reopen the case and receive new testimony without notice to the devisees or their attorney, as they would be thereby deprived of their right to contest given by N. Y. Code Civ. Proc. § 2755. In re Hearman, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 905, 20 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 8.

27. Raynor v. Gordon, 23 Hun (N. Y.) 264.

28. Bolt v. Dawkins, 16 S. C. 198.

The representative, when a creditor, may object to the validity or dispute the present existence of a claim presented by another person. Winsmith v. Winsmith, 15 S. C. 611.

29. Syme v. Riddle, 88 N. C. 463.

30. See Pirmann v. Gerhold, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 414, Ohio Prob. 142, holding that this would be true if the probate court had jurisdiction to determine the validity of claims against the estate, but denying such jurisdiction.

31. Beckett v. Selover, 7 Cal. 215, 68 Am. Dec. 237; Hopkins v. Van Valkenburgh, 16 Hun (N. Y.) 3; Dean's Appeal, 87 Pa. St. 24; Murphy's Appeal, 8 Watts & S. (Pa.) 165; Clark's Estate, 19 Phila. (Pa.) 218.

32. Warren v. Hearne, 82 Ala. 554, 2 So. 491; Gayle v. Johnston, 72 Ala. 254, 47 Am. Rep. 405; Davis v. Tarver, 65 Ala. 98; Garrett v. Garrett, 64 Ala. 263; Bond v. Smith, 2 Ala. 660; Dorman v. Lane, 6 Ill. 143.

Equitable as well as legal defenses may be set up. Matter of Renwick, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 80.

33. Kornegay v. Mayer, 135 Ala. 141, 33 So. 36; Warren v. Hearne, 82 Ala. 554, 2 So. 491; Trimble v. Fariss, 78 Ala. 260; Steele v. Steele, 64 Ala. 438, 38 Am. Rep. 15; Matter of Knapp, 25 Misc. (N. Y.) 133, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 927.

Demand of estate against judgment creditor.— An unliquidated demand held among the assets of an estate against a judgment creditor of the estate cannot be set up to defeat his application for an order to sell property for the payment of his judgment. Brown v. Roberts, 21 La. Ann. 508.

34. Kornegay v. Mayer, 135 Ala. 141, 33 So. 36.

35. Alabama.—Warren v. Hearne, 82 Ala. 554, 2 So. 491; Gayle v. Johnston, 72 Ala. 254, 47 Am. Rep. 405; Bond v. Smith, 2 Ala. 660.

Indiana.— Riser v. Snoddy, 7 Ind. 442, 65 Am. Dec. 740.

Mississippi.— Champion v. Cayce, 54 Miss. 695.

New York.— Raynor v. Gordon, 23 Hun 264; Hopkins v. Van Valkenburgh, 16 Hun 3; Matter of Knapp, 25 Misc. 133, 54 N. Y.

troversy in a proceeding to sell land for the payment of debts, whether instituted by the representative or by creditors, are the creditors on the one hand and the heirs or devisees on the other,[36] the representative's admission of a claim against the estate does not bind the heirs or devisees,[37] nor does the fact that a claim against the estate has been presented and allowed preclude the heir from contesting the same.[38] Neither does the fact that a claim has been rejected by the representative deprive the surrogate of jurisdiction to determine its validity.[39]

e. Effect of Judgment Against Representative.[40] A judgment against the representative rendered in a proceeding to which the heir or devisee was not a party or a privy does not preclude the heir or devisee from contesting the claim on which it is based;[41] but if the heir or devisee in any way became a party to the Suppl. 927; Mead v. Jenkins, 4 Redf. Surr. 369; Skidmore v. Romaine, 2 Bradf. Surr. 122; Renwick v. Renwick, 1 Bradf. Surr. 234.

North Carolina.— Person v. Montgomery, 120 N. C. 111, 26 S. E. 645; Speer v. James, 94 N. C. 417; Bevers v. Park, 88 N. C. 456.

South Carolina. — Bolt v. Dawkins, 16 S. C. 198.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1429.

Effect of objection.— If some of the heirs set up the statute of limitations against a particular debt, and the objection is sustained, the court will not confine its operation to such part only of the debt as would fall on the heirs setting it up, but it reaches the whole debt. Renwick v. Renwick, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 234.

Averment as to character of debts.— One who contests a proceeding in the probate court to sell decedent's lands for the payment of debts, on the ground that such debts are barred by the three years' statute of limitations provided for open accounts, need not aver that the debts are open accounts. Gayle v. Johnston, 72 Ala. 254, 47 Am. Dec. 405.

When defense not admissible.— Where an heir took a fraudulent conveyance from his ancestor and thereby prevented the creditors from proceeding to cause the land to be sold as the decedent's until after the statute of limitations had run, he could not avail himself of the bar of the statute to defeat such proceedings, taken after they had procured the conveyance to be adjudged void. Jennings v. Jones, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 95.

General statute of limitations applicable to real actions no defense. Henry v. Mills, 1 Lea (Tenn.) 144.

36. Hopkins v. Van Valkenburgh, 16 Hun (N. Y.) 3.

37. Hopkins v. Van Valkenburgh, 16 Hun (N. Y.) 3; Mead v. Jenkins, 4 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 369.

38. Becket v. Selover, 7 Cal. 215, 68 Am. Dec. 237; Moline Water Power, etc., Co. v. Webster, 26 Ill. 233; O'Haleran v. O'Haleran, 115 Ind. 493, 17 N. E. 917; Scherer v. Ingerman, 110 Ind. 428, 11 N. E. 8, 12 N. E. 304; Cole v. Lafontaine, 84 Ind. 446. See also Woodfin v. Anderson, 2 Tenn. Ch. 331.

Prima facie right established by allowance. — Jackson v. Weaver, 98 Ind. 307.

39. In re Haxtun, 102 N. Y. 157, 6 N. E. 111 [reversing 33 Hun 364]; Hopkins v. Van Valkenburgh, 16 Hun (N. Y.) 3; In re Merchant, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 875.

40. Judgment against representative as evidence see infra, XII, G, 10, e.

41. California.— In re Schroeder, 46 Cal. 304.

Illinois.— Stone v. Wood, 16 Ill. 177.

Indiana.— Scherer v. Ingerman, 110 Ind. 428, 11 N. E. 8, 12 N. E. 304.

New Hampshire.—Nichols v. Day, 32 N. H. 133, 64 Am. Dec. 358.

New York.— Colson v. Brainard, 1 Redf. Surr. 324. See also Wood v. Byington, 2 Barb. Ch. 387; Kavanagh v. Wilson, 5 Redf. Surr. 43.

Pennsylvania.— Luton's Estate, 10 Kulp 161. See also Dean's Appeal, 87 Pa. St. 24.

Tennessee.— Woodfin v. Anderson, 2 Tenn. Ch. 331.

United States.— Garnett v. Macon, 10 Fed. Cas. No. 5,245, 2 Brock. 185, 6 Call (Va.) 308.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1430.

In North Carolina the heir cannot contest the debts on which judgment has been recovered against the representative (Long v. Oxford, 108 N. C. 280, 13 S. E. 112; Proctor v. Proctor, 105 N. C. 222, 10 S. E. 1036; Speer v. James, 94 N. C. 417), except on the ground of fraud or collusion between the representative and the creditor (Person v. Montgomery, 120 N. C. 111, 26 S. E. 645; Tilley v. Bivins, 112 N. C. 348, 16 S. E. 759; Long v. Oxford, supra; Proctor v. Proctor, supra), and where the findings of the court negative the allegations that the judgment was thus obtained the heir is bound by the judgment (Long v. Oxford, supra; Proctor v. Proctor, supra).

Questioning widow's award.—On a petition by an administrator for the sale of real estate, the heirs and devisees may question the justice of the order approving the appraiser's award to the widow, as they may any other claim allowed against the estate; and thereupon the county court may refer the estimate back to the same or other appraisers, but it has no power otherwise to fix another value of her award. Marshall v. Rose, 86 Ill. 374.

Heirs may show fraud on part of representative in suffering judgment. Callahan v. Griswold, 9 Mo. 784; Nichols v. Day, 32 N. H. 133, 64 Am. Dec. 358.

proceedings in which the judgment against the representative was rendered, he is bound thereby and cannot contest the validity thereof.[42]

f. Evidence. In an application to sell land for the payment of debts, the burden of proving the insufficiency of personal assets and the existence of debts chargeable upon the lands rests upon the personal representative,[43] and the heirs, by setting up the statute of non-claim, do not assume the burden of proving that defense, but the representative is regarded as holding the affirmative of the issue, and to maintain it is bound to prove the due filing or presentment of the claim.[44] The fact of the allowance by an executor of claims against the decedent's estate is no proof of their validity,[45] but whether or not a claim has been allowed by the representative, it is treated the same and must be proved and established before the surrogate by common-law proof.[46] A judgment rendered against the decedent in his lifetime is conclusive evidence of the existence of a liability at the time, not only against the personal representative, but also against the heirs,[47] and a judgment against the representative is prima facie evidence of the validity and amount of the claim, even as against those who were not parties or privies.[48] Admissions cannot be evidence of indebtedness where the persons by whom they

Where the executor was also residuary devisee and a creditor recovered a verdict in an action at law against him as executor, fixing the amount of the debt, but no judgment was entered thereon for the reason that there were no personal assets in the hands of the executor, and the creditor then filed a bill against the same person as residuary devisee to subject the real estate to the satisfaction of his claim, defendant in the latter bill was not concluded by the verdict rendered in the action against him as executor, nor was it evidence against him. Keefe v. Malone, 3 MacArthur (D. C.) 236.

Judgment conclusive evidence of indebtedness as against representative.— Wood v. Byington, 2 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 387.

42. Stone v. Wood, 16 Ill. 177; Nichols v. Day, 32 N. H. 133, 64 Am. Dec. 358. See also Smith v. Gorham, 119 Ind. 436, 21 N. E. 1096.

43. Kornegay v. Mayer, 135 Ala. 141, 33 So. 36; Davis v. Tarver, 65 Ala. 98; Garrett v. Garrett, 64 Ala. 263; Garrett v. Bruner, 59 Ala. 513, whether there is a contest of the application or not. But compare In re Le Baron, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 37, holding that where, in a special proceeding under Code Civ. Proc. § 2750 et seq., to procure a decree directing the disposition of a decedent's real property for the payment of his debts, the administrator admits the validity of a claim, the burden of disproving it is on the one attacking it.

Creditors are sometimes required to prove their claims. See Gibson v. McCormick, 10 Gill § J. (Md.) 65; Hammond v. Hammond, 2 Bland (Md.) 306.

Evidence of disinterested witnesses not necessary to prove debts.— Miller v. Mayer, 124 Ala. 434, 26 So. 892. Thus creditors may testify as to the existence of debts. Alford v. Alford, 96 Ala. 385, 11 So. 316; Chamberlin v. Chamberlin, 4 Allen (Mass.) 184.

A finding of indebtedness by commissioners is not necessary before a petition for the sale of land to pay debts and expenses of administration is filed, as proof of the indebtedness may be made by other evidence. Cahill v. Bassett, 66 Mich. 407, 33 N. W. 722.

It is not necessary that depositions be used to prove debts under the Alabama statute, but they may be proved by evidence adduced in the ordinary mode. Poole v. Daughdrill, 129 Ala. 208, 30 So. 579 [overruling Quarles v. Campbell, 72 Ala. 64].

Evidence held admissible to prove indebtedness see Lassiter v. Upchurch, 107 N. C. 411, 12 S. E. 63; Erck v. Erck, 107 Tenn. 77, 63 S. W. 1122; Henry v. Drought, 10 Tex. Civ. App. 379, 30 S. W. 584.

Evidence sufficient to show indebtedness see Blanton v. Mayes, 72 Tex. 417, 10 S. W. 452.

44. Kornegay v. Mayer, 135 Ala. 141, 33 So. 36.

45. Matter of Pfohl, 20 Misc. (N. Y.) 627, 46 N. Y. Suppl. 1086. See also supra, XII, G, 10, d.

46. Turner v. Amsdell, 3 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 19.

47. Wood v. Byington, 2 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 387, holding that a decretal order made in a chancery suit during the life of defendant, establishing a partnership between him and complainant, and directing an account, is conclusive evidence that the right of complainant to call defendant to account was not barred by the lapse of time or otherwise at the time that the order was made, against the heirs of such defendant as well as against his personal representatives, in a proceeding before the surrogate for the sale of deceased's real estate for the payment of his debts; and this, notwithstanding the fact that such suit abated after such order by the death of defendant.

48. California.— In re Schroeder, 46 Cal. 304.

Illinois.— Stone v. Wood, 16 Ill. 177.

Indiana.— Smith v. Gorham, 119 Ind. 436, 21 N. E. 1096; Scherer v. Ingerman, 110 Ind. 428, 11 N. E. 8, 12 N. E. 304.

were made had no power to bind those against whom they are sought to be used.[49]

11. Determination as to Sufficiency of Personalty — a. In General. Leave to sell land for the payment of a decedent's debts ought not to be granted without proof that the personalty is insufficient to meet the lawful claims upon the estate,[50] and this is true even though the application for a sale is not resisted by the heirs or devisees.[51] It should also appear upon an application by the executor or administrator that he has proceeded with due and reasonable diligence in pursuing the personal assets and converting and applying them to the purposes of administration.[52]

b. Inventory, Appraisal, or Account. The filing of an inventory, appraisal, schedule, or account is not usually essential to the jurisdiction of the court to

New Hampshire.— Nichols v. Day, 32 N. H. 133, 64 Am. Dec. 358.

New York.— Colson v. Brainard, 1 Redf. Surr. 324.

Pennsylvania.— Schmidt's Estate, 5 Pa. Dist. 17, 17 Pa. Co. Ct. 314.

United States.— Garnett v. Macon, 10 Fed. Cas. No. 5,245, 2 Brock. 185, 6 Call (Va.) 308.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 1430, 1432.

But compare Keefe v. Malone, 3 MacArthur (D. C.) 236.

49. See Kornegay v. Mayer, 135 Ala. 141, 33 So. 36 (holding that the heirs of a decedent are not, in a proceeding to subject lands to debts, his representative in such sense as to make their admissions evidence of his indebtedness); Hooper v. Hardie, 80 Ala. 114 (holding that, when a bill seeks to sell decedent's lands for the payment of debts, the existence of debts and the deficiency of personal assets cannot be proved against infant defendants by admission of their guardian ad litem); Chamberlain v. Chamberlain, 4 Allen (Mass.) 184 (holding that the averment by an administrator, in a petition for leave to sell real estate for the payment of debts, that a certain debt is due, and his oral admission of that fact, cannot be considered as evidence to establish the same in a hearing on the petition).

50. New Jersey.— Taylor v. Hanford, 11 N. J. L. 341; Bray v. Neill, 21 N. J. Eq. 343, extent of deficiency of personalty must be ascertained.

New York.— In re Lichtenstein, 16 Misc. 667, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 174, 25 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 301.

North Carolina.— Person v. Montgomery, 120 N. C. 111, 26 S. E. 645.

Pennsylvania.— Stiver's Appeal, 56 Pa. St. 9. See also Spencer v. Jennings, 123 Pa. St. 184, 16 Atl. 426.

Tennessee.— See Wade v. Fisher, 10 Heisk. 490.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1434.

Where it is admitted by objections to an administrator's petition for license to sell realty to pay a claim against the testator's estate that the only property of the estate in the state is the realty, the objectors cannot on appeal complain that it was not proven that the personal property had been exhausted. In re Smith, 43 Oreg. 595, 73 Pac. 336, 75 Pac. 133.

Insufficiency of personalty must be determined by referee. Matter of Van Vleck, 32 Misc. (N. Y.) 419, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 727.

A report of the clerk or master that the personalty is insufficient is necessary in Tennessee (Reid v. Huff, 9 Humphr. (Tenn.) 345; Frazier v. Pankey, 1 Swan (Tenn.) 75) and such report must be confirmed before the sale is ordered (Frazier v. Pankey, supra, holding that a report made and confirmed after the sale will not validate it). A settlement made by the representative with the clerk of the county court is prima facie evidence in his favor, and when accurate and not excepted to may constitute the basis of a master's report so as to authorize the chancellor to direct the sale of slaves to pay the debts of the estate (Curd v. Bonner, 4 Coldw. (Tenn.) 632); but a report of the assets of the estate drawn by the clerk without the submission of testimony, but by adopting an exhibit to an unsworn bill, purporting to lump the amount of the assets and the debts, and containing no particulars as to the value of the assets or as to the names of the creditors and the value of their respective claims, is not such a report as will authorize a decree for the sale of the property of the estate to pay the debts (Wade v. Fisher, 10 Heisk. (Tenn.) 490).

Application of personalty.— It is necessary that the court should ascertain and decide whether the personal estate which came to the hands of the applicant has been applied to the payment of debts. Bray v. Neill, 21 N. J. Eq. 343.

51. In re Lichtenstein, 16 Misc. (N. Y.) 667, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 174, 25 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 301.

52. Matter of Kingsland, 60 Hun (N. Y.) 116, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 495, 20 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 357 [reversing 9 N. Y. Suppl. 447, 18 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 115, 2 Connoly Surr. 187]; Farrington v. King, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 182.

On an application by an administrator de bonis non for leave to sell land for the payment of decedent's debts, he must show that his predecessor showed the same diligence as would have been required of him had he been appointed administrator in the first instance. Matter of Kingsland, 60 Hun (N. Y.) 116, order a sale of realty for the payment of debts where it otherwise appears that the personal assets are insufficient.[53]

c. Evidence. The burden of proof rests upon the representative, when the application for a sale of realty to pay debts is made by him, to show that the personalty is actually insufficient to pay the debts.[54] Proof that the administrator had received profits from the estate more than sufficient to pay the debts of the estate is admissible.[55] The fact that the administrator's account as allowed showed a balance in his hands does not raise a presumption that the subsequent sale of land belonging to the estate was not necessary to pay the deceased's debts.[56] Where an administrator de bonis non neglects to cite his predecessor for the purpose of showing administration of personal assets and that they were not sufficient to pay debts, such previous administrator may be cited on petition of any creditor having an interest in such sale.[57]

12. Trial of Title of Decedent and Adverse Claims to Property. As a general rule the court cannot, in a proceeding to sell lands of a decedent for the payment of debts, decide upon the validity of the title of the decedent or adjudicate on 14 N. Y. Suppl. 495, 20 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 357 [reversing 9 N. Y. Suppl. 447, 18 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 115, 2 Connoly Surr. 187].

53. Nichols v. Lee, 16 Colo. 147, 26 Pac. 157; Shoemate v. Lockridge, 53 Ill. 503; Eldridge v. McMackin, 37 Miss. 72; Grayson v. Weddle, 63 Mo. 523; Mount v. Valle, 19 Mo. 621; Overton v. Johnson, 17 Mo. 442; Brown v. Woody, 22 Mo. App. 253. See also Learned v. Matthews, 40 Miss. 210, holding that, although an administrator's account of the personal estate and debts is required by statute to be exhibited on oath before a citation to show cause why an administrator's sale of land to pay debts shall not be made, its omission does not render a decree of sale void. But compare Ford v. Walsworth, 15 Wend. (N. Y.) 449.

A creditor desiring a sale under order of a probate court of real estate of decedent is not obliged to exhibit a list of debts and inventory of the effects of the estate. That duty devolves on the administrator. Grayson v. Weddle, 63 Mo. 523.

In Pennsylvania the law requires an inventory and appraisement of all the personal estate to be exhibited to the orphans' court at the time of the petition for an order to sell realty for the payment of debts (Walker's Appeal, 1 Grant 431), and although the filing of such inventory and appraisement is the better practice, yet all that is required under the statute is the exhibition thereof to the court (Stiver's Appeal, 56 Pa. St. 9; Thomas' Estate, 3 Wkly. Notes Cas. 96). Where the schedule and appraisement is imperfect and insufficient it may be amended (Walker's Appeal, 1 Grant 431) even after the sale (Kennedy v. Wachsmuth, 12 Serg. & R. 171, 14 Am. Dec. 676).

In West Virginia it has been held error to decree a sale of the land of a decedent for the payment of his debts until the administration accounts of all his personal representatives had been settled and the amount and priorities of all debts and liabilities against the estate ascertained and decreed. Hart v. Hart, 31 W. Va. 688, 8 S. E. 562.

54. Garrett v. Garrett, 64 Ala. 263.

Under the Alabama code the insufficiency of the personalty must be shown by depositions (Garrett v. Bruner, 59 Ala. 513; Hill v. Hill, 9 Ala. 793) of disinterested witnesses (Quarles v. Campbell, 72 Ala. 64) who must testify to facts within their own knowledge, it not being sufficient that they testify that, in their opinion, there is no other way of paying decedent's debts than by a sale (Quarles v. Campbell, supra). It need not be shown affirmatively that the witnesses are disinterested, since that will be presumed in the absence of proof to the contrary. Quarles v. Campbell, supra. Although the statute requires the deposition of "witnesses" the fact that the necessity was shown by the deposition of one witness only does not render the sale void. Thompson v. Boswell, 97 Ala. 570, 12 So. 809 [overruling Stevenson v. Murray, 87 Ala. 442, 6 So. 301]. The contestant may controvert by oral evidence the statements in the application (Garrett v. Bruner, supra) or the depositions (Garner v. Toney, 107 Ala. 352, 18 So. 161).

Evidence showing insufficiency see Garner v. Toney, 107 Ala. 352, 18 So. 161; Matter of Plopper, 15 Misc. (N. Y.) 202, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 33.

Evidence not showing insufficiency see White River Village Cong. Church v. Benedict, 62 N. J. Eq. 812, 48 Atl. 1117 [affirming 59 N. J. Eq. 136, 44 Atl. 878]; Sanford v. Granger, 12 Barb. (N. Y.) 392; Matter of Meagley, 39 N. Y. App. Div. 83, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 503.

A decree of insolvency of a decedent's estate by a court of competent jurisdiction makes, under the Alabama statute, a prima facie case of necessity for a sale of the lands, dispensing with the necessity of taking depositions as in chancery cases, and substituting the decree for proof of the existence of debts and of the insufficiency of personal assets. Henley v. Johnston, 134 Ala. 646, 32 So. 1009, 92 Am. St. Rep. 48.

55. Dorman v. Lane, 6 Ill. 143.

56. Jacocks v. Paterson, 18 R. I. 751, 30 Atl. 795.

57. Woodfin v. Anderson, 2 Tenn. Ch. 331.

adverse claims to the property held or asserted by other persons;[58] but it is held in New York that, without trying the absolute title, the surrogate may determine the probable ownership.[59]

13. Order or Decree of Sale[60] — a. Necessity. Where there is no power of sale given by will, or where in the case of personalty the representative is without power to sell without the sanction of the court, it is absolutely necessary to the making of a valid sale of a decedent's property by his personal representative that there should be an order or decree of the proper court directing or authorizing such sale.[61]

b. Requisites — (i) In General. The order of sale should be based upon the petition presented,[62] and must be made by the court and evidenced by the

58. Kansas.— Cooper v. Armstrong, 3 Kan. 78, holding further that the district court on appeal from the probate court has no greater power.

Massachusetts.— Tyndale v. Stanwood, 182 Mass. 534, 66 N. E. 23; Walker v. Fuller, 147 Mass. 489, 18 N. E. 400, except so far as any doubt as to the title may affect the expediency of the sale.

Mississippi.— Gill v. Shirley, 55 Miss. 814.

Missouri.— Shields v. Ashley, 16 Mo. 471.

New Jersey.— Liddel v. McVickar, 11 N. J. L. 44, 19 Am. Dec. 369.

New York.— Libby v. Christy, 1 Redf. Surr. 465; Hewitt v. Hewitt, 3 Bradf. Surr. 265.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1443.

Contra.— Gavin v. Graydon, 41 Ind. 559; Perry v. Peterson, 98 N. C. 63, 3 S. E. 834 (holding that an order of sale ought not to be made until an issue as to the title to the land had been tried and disposed of); Gates v. Irick, 2 Rich. (S. C.) 593. And see Straughan v. Tysor, 124 N. C. 229, 32 S. E. 557, where title was passed on, no question of the power of the court being raised.

In Georgia provision is made by statute for the trial of claims interposed to property which has been advertised for sale by an executor or administrator. See Evans v. Brown, 80 Ga. 656, 6 S. E. 280; Martin v. McConnell, 29 Ga. 204; Falls v. Griffith, 25 Ga. 72.

In Illinois the rule stated in the text formerly prevailed (Newell v. Montgomery, 129 Ill. 58, 21 N. E. 508 [affirming 30 Ill. App. 48]; Beebe v. Saulter, 87 Ill. 518; Le Moyne v. Quimby, 70 Ill. 399; Shoemate v. Lockridge, 53 Ill. 503; Gridley v. Watson, 53 Ill. 186; Cutter v. Thompson, 51 Ill. 390; Phelps v. Funkhouser, 39 Ill. 401; Smith v. McConnell, 17 Ill. 135, 63 Am. Dec. 340), but the act of June 15, 1887, gives to the county and probate courts the power, in proceedings to sell land for the payment of debts, to determine all questions of conflicting or controverted titles arising between the parties and to remove clouds from the title of any real estate sought to be sold (Newell v. Montgomery, supra).

59. Libby v. Christy, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 465.

60. Decree of sale in favor of mortgagee. — On an executor's petition to sell land there can be no order of sale in favor of a mortgagee on his mortgage in the nature of a foreclosure. Harlan v. Roberts, 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 473, 3 West. L. Month. 202.

61. Alabama.—Gilchrist v. Shackelford, 72 Ala. 7.

Georgia.— Waller v. Hogan, 114 Ga. 383, 40 S. E. 254; Groover v. King, 46 Ga. 101.

Louisiana.— See Robert v. Brown, 14 La. Ann. 597.

Missouri.— Evans v. Snyder, 64 Mo. 516 [followed in Melton v. Fitch, 125 Mo. 281, 28 S. W. 612; Greene v. Holt, 76 Mo. 677].

North Carolina.— McNeill v. Fuller, 121 N. C. 209, 28 S. E. 299.

Ohio.— Goforth v. Longworth, 4 Ohio 129, 19 Am. Dec. 588; Newcomb v. Smith, Wright 208.

South Carolina.— Hunter v. Hunter, 58 S. C. 382, 36 S. E. 734, 79 Am. St. Rep. 845.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1444.

A commission to sell property issued by the clerk will not supply the place of the necessary order for sale; nor will it be inferred from such commission that a decree of sale existed, although it recites that it was issued in pursuance of the order of the district court. Robert v. Brown, 14 La. Ann. 597.

When order of sale presumed.— After possession and use of a Texas land certificate for sixty years from its unimpeached transfer by an administrator, and twenty-five years' continued use and possession of the lands patented thereunder, improving the same and paying taxes thereon, an order of court for the sale of the land, referred to in the transfer, will be presumed. Massenberg v. Denison, 107 Fed. 18, 46 C. C. A. 120.

Where the record shows only that certain preliminary steps were taken leading up to a judgment or order of sale, it cannot be inferred that such a judgment or order was rendered. Hunter v. Hunter, 58 S. C. 382, 36 S. E. 734, 79 Am. St. Rep. 845.

Conveyance under defective order cannot be aided in equity. Tiernan v. Deam, 2 Ohio 383, 15 Am. Dec. 557.

62. Mays v. Rogers, 37 Ark. 155 (holding that an order of the probate court directing the sale of more land for the payment of debts than is prayed for in the petition is erroneous); Verry v. McClellan, 6 Gray (Mass.) 535, 66 Am. Dec. 423 (holding that records.[63] It should show the existence of the necessary jurisdictional facts,[64] and the necessity for the sale,[65] but it is not necessary that it should set out the proceedings upon which it is founded.[66] In some jurisdictions the statutes require that the order or decree shall fix the terms and conditions,[67] time,[68] and place of sale.[69] A decree for the sale of land to pay debts should state whether a sale of the whole or only a part is necessary,[70] and when the debts of an estate are small in comparison with the assets, which consist of specific articles, the order of sale should designate with as much certainty as possible what articles are to be sold.[71] The order should ordinarily specify the sum which the court has adjudged to be necessary to be raised by a sale of land,[72] although this has been held unnecessary where the property, although represented to be more than sufficient to pay the demands against the estate, is so situated that a part cannot be sold without injury to those interested.[73] It is the better practice for the court, in all cases where where the petition prayed for a license to sell a specific portion of the real estate of the decedent, and after publication of a notice to show cause why license should not be granted to sell "the whole of the real estate of said deceased," a license to sell "the whole of the real estate of said deceased" was granted, such license was irregular and void). But see Baum v. Roper, 132 Cal. 42, 64 Pac. 128, holding that where the statute does not control the court as to its order of sale by the desire or prayer of the representative, and the petition states the jurisdictional facts, the court has jurisdiction to order the sale of a lot described in the petition, but the sale of which was not petitioned for, and the sale under such order cannot be collaterally attacked on the ground that the petition was to sell other real estate.

63. Newcomb v. Smith, Wright (Ohio) 208, holding that a petition to sell with "allowed" written upon it by an associate judge is not an order of sale. See also Evans v. Snyder, 64 Mo. 516.

The making and loss of an order will not be presumed if the minutes show no order. Newcomb v. Smith, Wright (Ohio) 208.

64. Wyatt v. Rambo, 29 Ala. 510, 68 Am. Dec. 89; Needham v. Salt Lake City, 7 Utah 319, 26 Pac. 920. See also Sloan v. Sloan, 25 Fla. 53, 5 So. 603; Gardner v. Cheatham, 37 S. C. 73, 16 S. E. 368.

The order must set forth that notice was given to the persons interested. Summersett v. Summersett, 40 Ala. 596, 91 Am. Dec. 494; Puckett v. McDonald, 6 How. (Miss.) 269.

Form of order sufficiently showing service of notice see Bowen v. Bond, 80 Ill. 351.

Recital held insufficient.— A recital in an order for the sale of realty for the payment of debts that it was made upon proof of due publication of the order to show cause was nothing more than a statement by the surrogate that he had acquired jurisdiction of the parties; and his adjudging that he had jurisdiction, without stating that he found from evidence that the facts existed which conferred it, was not sufficient. Sibley v. Waffle, 16 N. Y. 180.

Order not showing compliance with statutory requirement of posting see Planters' Bank v. Johnson, 7 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 449.

65. Wilson v. Armstrong, 42 Ala. 168, 94 Am. Dec. 635.

Order for sale of realty for payment of debts must show insufficiency of personalty. Wattles v. Hyde, 9 Conn. 10.

Order must show liabilities of estate, names of creditors, and amount of assets. Starkey v. Hammer, 1 Baxt. (Tenn.) 438. See also Young v. Young, 12 Lea (Tenn.) 335.

The debts or expenses of administration need not be particularized in the order for sale. In re Roach, 139 Cal. 17, 72 Pac. 393.

66. Williams v. O'Neal, 119 Ga. 175, 45 S. E. 978.

67. Moline Water Power, etc., Co. v. Webster, 26 Ill. 233; Underwood v. Cartwright, 47 S. W. 580, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 809.

Terms prescribed in former order as governing.— Where an order for the sale of several tracts prescribed the terms of sale, a subsequent order for the sale of other property was held to have intended the sale to be upon the terms prescribed in the former order. Sledge v. Elliott, 116 N. C. 712, 21 S. E. 797. But a former judgment of sale fixing the terms and conditions, which was ignored by the court and the parties, did not dispense with such provisions in the judgment under which the sale was made. Underwood v. Cartwright, 47 S. W. 580, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 809.

68. See Title Guaranty, etc., Co. v. Holverson, 95 Ga. 707, 22 S. E. 533, holding, however, that a sale actually made within thirty days from the date of the order, as required by statute, was not void because the order did not require the sale to be made within such time. But compare Yerger v. Ferguson, 55 Miss. 190, holding that under Miss. Code (1857), p. 449, art. 98, empowering the probate court merely to decree the sale of the estate of a decedent, it had no discretion as to when the sale should be made or reported.

69. Bozeman v. Bozeman, 82 Ala. 389, 2 So. 732; Brown v. Brown, 41 Ala. 215.

70. Griffith v. Philips, 9 Lea (Tenn.) 417, holding, however, that a failure to do so is a mere irregularity which does not invalidate the decree or render the sale void.

71. Lowe v. Lowe, 6 Md. 347.

72. Furman v. Furman, 45 N. J. Eq. 744, 18 Atl. 194.

73. Merrill v. Harris, 26 N. H. 142, 57 Am. Dec. 359.

there are several distinct parcels of property, to insert in its order a direction that the sale cease when the amount required has been obtained;[74] but the omission of such a direction does not invalidate the order or the sales made in pursuance of it.[75] In West Virginia it has been held that the order of sale should make application of the assets in the hands of the personal representatives and decree to the several creditors of the decedent the sums ascertained to be due to them respectively and fix the order in which they are to be paid.[76] Where the statute simply requires the court to order the sale, it is not necessary to state in the order by whom the sale is to be made.[77] Statutory restrictions as to price to be obtained from the sale need not be specified in the order, if the court does not intend to impose any other restrictions.[78] It is not necessary for the order to state what interest the decedent had in the land to be sold,[79] and the fact that the order directs a sale and conveyance of the right, title, and interest which the decedent had at the time of his death furnishes no reason for a purchaser refusing to take a deed in the absence of proof of any defect of title or of a failure to show that good title.[80] It is not essential to the validity of a decree in a proceeding to sell land for assets, under the North Carolina statute, that it should be signed.[81] Where, after a final judgment for the sale of land, the court, at a subsequent term, and without any supplemental proceedings, entered another and apparently original judgment ordering a sale of the land on different terms, it was held that the second judgment was void,[82] but where the first order of sale was not a final judgment, but an interlocutory order subject to be vacated, set aside, modified, or changed on petition or motion until the real estate was sold under such order, the sale confirmed, and until the end of the term of court at which such sale was confirmed, a second order procured on an amended petition was held valid and binding.[83] Under a statute giving the court power to grant an administrator "license" to sell real estate to procure assets, an order granting one license to sell if, in the settlement of the estate, it should be found necessary, is not void as being a conditional judgment, or as attempting to vest the administrator with judicial power,[84] and it has been held that an order of the orphans' court requiring an executor to sell so much of the personalty of the testator as would satisfy all debts, claims, and commissions against the estate, should not be reversed on the ground that it was too general and vested too much discretion in the executor.[85] Under the Montana statute the court has authority to enter an order directing an executor to make a lease of his decedent's lands for a term and rental specified in

74. In re Spriggs, 20 Cal. 121. And see Richardson v. Butler, 82 Cal. 174, 23 Pac. 9, 16 Am. St. Rep. 101, holding that where it appeared from the petition of an administrator to sell land that the amount necessary to be raised was between ten thousand and eleven thousand dollars, and the property consisted of several lots and parcels, a provision that the sale should cease when an amount not less than ten thousand dollars, and not more than eleven thousand dollars, should be obtained, did not invalidate the order of sale.

75. In re Spriggs, 20 Cal. 121.

76. Hart v. Hart, 31 W. Va. 688, 8 S. E. 562 [following Kanawha Valley Bank v. Wilson, 25 W. Va. 242].

77. Crawford v. McDonald, 88 Tex. 626, 33 S. W. 325, holding that therefore, where a sale was asked by a creditor, the sale was not rendered void by a direction in the order that the sale be made by "petitioner" instead of by the executor, where this appeared to have been a clerical mistake and the sale was in fact made by the executor.

78. Lappin v. Mumford, 14 Kan. 9.

An order for the sale of mortgaged property for cash need not embody a condition of law that its appraised value be obtained. Porter's Succession, 5 Rob. (La.) 96.

79. Bowles v. Rouse, 8 Ill. 409.

80. In re Dolan, 88 N. Y. 309 [reversing 26 Hun 46].

81. Sledge v. Elliott, 116 N. C. 712, 21 S. E. 797.

82. Bethel v. Bethel, 6 Bush (Ky.) 65, 99 Am. Dec. 655.

83. Hall v. Price, 141 Ind. 576, 40 N. E. 1084.

84. Sledge v. Elliott, 116 N. C. 712, 21 S. E. 797.

85. Lowe v. Lowe, 6 Md. 347, where the court said that if, under such authority, the executrix should attempt to sell property much beyond the necessity of the case or should act in any manner oppressively to the legatees, they might obtain relief by making application to the orphans' court to stop the sale altogether or to limit the extent of it, or relief might be obtained by injunction from a court of equity.

the order and is not limited to a statement of the minimum sum which the executor may receive, leaving it discretionary with him as to whether he will carry out an agreement entered into prior to the making of the petition.[86]

(II) Description of Property. An order or decree of sale should contain a description of the property to be sold, which should be sufficiently definite and complete to certainly identify the same,[87] and if it does not contain such a description a purchaser at the sale is justified in refusing to comply with his bid.[88] But it has been held that the order of sale and the sale thereunder are not void because the description of the property in the order is imperfect[89] or even because the order contains no description whatever of the property,[90] where it is apparent that the property sold is that of which a sale was asked and intended.[91] The description of the property in the order of sale may be aided by other portions of the probate record.[92] Where the description in the order is indefinite but is made certain by the recitals therein the sale is valid,[93] but where the description is definite and certain and clearly identifies land which the decedent never owned, and no other, the sale is void.[94] The rule that when a deed of conveyance contains a general description which is definite and certain in itself and is followed by a particular description, the latter description will not limit or restrict the grant, which is clear and unambiguous by the general description, has been applied to an order of a probate court directing the sale of real property.[95]

c. Operation and Effect. An order of sale by a probate court is an adjudica-

86. State v. Second Judicial Dist. Ct., 24 Mont. 1, 60 Pac. 489.

87. Alabama.—Gayle v. Singleton, 1 Stew. 566.

Georgia.— Davie v. McDaniel, 47 Ga. 195.

Illinois.— Tilton v. Pearson, 67 Ill. App. 372.

Kentucky.— Bartlett v. Gray, 4 Ky. L. Rep. 615.

North Carolina.— Blythe v. Hoots, 72 N. C. 575.

Texas.— Davis v. Touchstone, 45 Tex. 490.

Wisconsin.— Humes v. Cox, 1 Pinn. 551, holding that a license to sell real estate of a decedent, as well as the order of court granting the same, should describe the lands to be sold.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1445.

But compare Norton v. Norton, 5 Cush. (Mass.) 524; Yeomans v. Brown, 8 Metc. (Mass.) 51; Kingsbury v. Wild, 3 N. H. 30.

Descriptions held sufficient see Macmanus v. Orkney, 91 Tex. 27, 40 S. W. 715 [reversing (Civ. App. 1897) 39 S. W. 614]; Davis v. Touchstone, 45 Tex. 490; Grant v. Hill, (Tex. Civ. App. 1898) 44 S. W. 1027.

Descriptions held insufficient see Tilton v. Pearson, 67 Ill. App. 372; Blythe v. Hoots, 72 N. C. 575.

88. Tilton v. Pearson, 67 Ill. App. 372.

89. Davie v. McDaniel, 47 Ga. 195; Schnell v. Chicago, 38 Ill. 382, 87 Am. Dec. 304; Norwood v. Snell, (Tex. Civ. App. 1902) 69 S. W. 642. Compare Graham v. Hawkins, 38 Tex. 328.

90. Allen v. Shanks, 90 Tenn. 359, 16 S. W. 715 (holding that the fact that the decree does not define the particular property to be sold does not invalidate it where the will vested the executors with the widest discretion as to selling his property and the application was by them to the chancellor for aid in the execution of their trust); Wells v. Polk, 36 Tex. 120; Norwood v. Snell, (Tex. Civ. App. 1902) 68 S. W. 642. See also Davis v. Touchstone, 45 Tex. 490; Wells v. Mills, 22 Tex. 302. Contra, Melton v. Fitch, 125 Mo. 281, 28 S. W. 612 [following Greene v. Holt, 76 Mo. 677; Evans v. Snyder, 64 Mo. 516], holding that a sale of land not described in the order of sale is void.

91. Schnell v. Chicago, 38 Ill. 382, 87 Am. Dec. 304.

92. Crawford v. McDonald, 88 Tex. 626, 33 S. W. 325; Davis v. Touchstone, 45 Tex. 490; Ferguson v. Templeton, (Tex. Civ. App. 1895) 32 S. W. 148.

Where an order omitted to describe the land, but referred to the petition, in which the quantity, interest, and title of the decedent, and the former ownership of the land, with the fact that it was the only land owned by him, were set out, it was held that the order identified the land with sufficient certainty. Montgomery v. Johnson, 31 Ark. 74.

93. Buntin v. Root, 66 Minn. 454, 69 N. W. 330.

94. Hanson v. Ingwaldson, 77 Minn. 533, 80 N. W. 702, 77 Am. St. Rep. 692 [distinguishing Buntin v. Root, 66 Minn. 454, 69 N. W. 330].

Subsequent correction.— Where an administrator's sale was void because of a misdescription of the land sold, a subsequent order purporting to correct the order of license and the other records, so as to describe the land intended to be sold, was also void. Hanson v. Ingwaldson, 77 Minn. 533, 80 N. W. 702, 77 Am. St. Rep. 692.

95. Middleton v. Wharton, 41 Minn. 266, 43 N. W. 4.

tion that all the facts existed which were necessary to give the court jurisdiction,[96] and is conclusive as to the necessity of the sale.[97] The order or decree of sale is binding on all of the parties to the proceeding[98] and their privies,[99] but is not binding on or conclusive against other persons.[1] The order or decree is conclusive as to the existence and validity of debts or claims against the estate;[2] but as such adjudication is only between the personal representative and the heirs or devisees, it establishes the existence of valid debts only as an element of necessity for the sale, and is not a conclusive adjudication as to the existence or validity of particular debts either in favor of or against creditors, they not being parties to the proceeding for the sale,[3] nor is it evidence for the representative, on settlement, of the validity of any claims.[4] An order for the sale of realty is conclusive as to the insufficiency of the personalty and the necessity of resorting to the realty.[5] The usual presumption in favor of an order of court exists in the case

96. Davis v. Gaines, 104 U. S. 386, 26 L. ed. 757.

97. Irwin v. Flynn, 110 La. 829, 34 So. 794.

98. California.—See In re Leonis, 138 Cal. 194, 71 Pac. 171.

Illinois.— Judd v. Ross, 146 Ill. 40, 34 N. E. 631.

Indiana.— See Bumb v. Gard, 107 Ind. 575, 8 N. E. 713.

North Carolina.— Ward v. Lowndes, 96 N. C. 367, 2 S. E. 591.

South Carolina.— Dyson v. Jones, 65 S. C. 308, 43 S. E. 667 (in the absence of fraud); Culler v. Crim, 52 S. C. 574, 30 S. E. 635.

Tennessee.— Thomson v. Blanchard, 2 Lea 528.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1446.

Infant parties.— A decree of the probate court ordering sale of intestate's land for the payment of debts is as conclusive on infants properly represented by a guardian ad litem as on adults. Chardavoyne v. Lynch, 82 Ala. 376, 3 So. 98.

Same person in different capacities.—Where the vendor of land is the heir of the vendee, and as heir is made a party to an administrator's petition to sell for the payment of debts, the adjudication will not preclude him from proceeding to enforce his vendor's lien. Lord v. Wilcox, 99 Ind. 491. So also heirs inheriting two thirds of their land from their mother and one third from their father are not estopped to bring an action against their father's administrator to restrain him from selling said land by the fact that they have been made parties to the petition to sell, as the court had no jurisdiction over that inherited from their mother. Goldsberry v. Gentry, 92 Ind. 193.

Joinder of widow as petitioner.— Where a petition for the sale of land belonging to a decedent's estate names both the administrator and the widow as petitioners, the latter, although not named in the summons or in the order of sale, is bound by the decree in the case as a party thereto, whether she actually joined in the petition or not, except in a direct proceeding to vacate the same. Brittain v. Mull, 99 N. C. 483, 6 S. E. 382.

99. Boulden v. Lanahan, 29 Md. 200; Richmond v. Freeman's Nat. Bank, 86 N. Y. App. Div. 152, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 632; Thomson v. Blanchard, 2 Lea (Tenn.) 528.

1. Hughes v. Treadaway, 116 Ga. 663, 42 S. E. 1035; Collinson v. Owens, 6 Gill & J. (Md.) 4; Everitt v. Williams, 45 N. J. L. 140. See also Holmes v. Columbia Nat. Bank, (Nebr. 1903) 97 N. W. 26.

2. Daughdrill v. Daughdrill, 108 Ala. 321, 19 So. 185; Chardavoyne v. Lynch, 82 Ala. 376, 3 So. 98; Judd v. Ross, 146 Ill. 40, 34 N. E. 631; Simpson v. Norton, 45 Me. 281; Grubb v. Galloway, 203 Pa. St. 236, 52 Atl. 176, 93 Am. St. Rep. 764; Stewart v. Madden, 153 Pa. St. 445, 25 Atl. 803, 34 Am. St. Rep. 713.

An order validating an executor's claim against the estate, made in a proceeding to sell real estate of the decedent, is conclusive upon the estate, either in a proceeding specially instituted for proof of such claim or on a final accounting. Matter of Gardner, 5 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 14.

Effect of dismissal of petition.— On an application by an administrator to sell land for the payment of debts, it being admitted that there are no personal assets, a judgment of dismissal on the merits is conclusive against the validity of the claims asserted as debts, and is a bar to another petition by the administrator for the same purpose, there being no evidence of change in the status of the estate. McCalley v. Robinson, 70 Ala. 432.

3. Everitt v. Williams, 45 N. J. L. 140; Latta v. Russ, 53 N. C. 111. But compare Lyne v. Sanford, 82 Tex. 58, 19 S. W. 847, 27 Am. St. Rep. 852, holding that where the application for order of sale set out a claim, and asked that a land certificate be sold for the purpose of paying the debt, and the court granted the order of sale, it was tantamount to an allowance of the claim by the administrator, and an approval by the court.

4. Daughdrill v. Daughdrill, 108 Ala. 321, 19 So. 185.

5. Alabama.— Chardavoyne v. Lynch, 82 Ala. 376, 3 So. 98.

California.— In re Spriggs, 20 Cal. 121. See also In re Leonis, 138 Cal. 194, 71 Pac. 171.

Maryland.— Mackubin v. Brown, 1 Bland 410.

of an order for the sale of a decedent's property,[6] and it will be presumed that the order or decree was made upon a proper showing.[7] When the court has jurisdiction an order granting leave to sell real estate is valid whether passed on good reason or without reason, and the sale under such order passes the title of the decedent.[8] Where it is necessary the application for a sale may be looked to for the proper interpretation and understanding of the order made by the court upon such application.[9] An order or decree of sale authorizes the sale of all the property properly embraced within its scope,[10] but cannot be extended so as to authorize the sale of other property.[11] A license to "sell" realty imports that the whole title to any estate disposed of is to be parted with for an equivalent in money and not that such estate is to be encumbered for money,[12] and an order authorizing an administrator to borrow money on the real estate is an authority to mortgage it, but not to confess judgment.[13] An order authorizing the administrator to lease property to pay debts is not a revocation of a previous order authorizing a sale for the same purpose, as both powers may stand together.[14] An order for the sale of realty invests the personal representative with the legal title thereto so far as to enable him to remove encumbrances thereon by bill in equity and have the title perfected, so that the order of sale may be carried out for the best interests of the estate and of the creditors.[15] The mere fact that an order has

New Jersey.— Everitt v. Williams, 45 N. J. L. 140.

Tennessee.— Thomson v. Blanchard, 2 Lea 528.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1446.

If the decree is that the petition for sale be not granted, this is conclusive that the personal assets are then sufficient for the payment of debts. But the decree has relation solely to the status of the estate in this respect at the time of its rendition and not to its status at some subsequent time when new facts may have occurred changing it. Ford v. Ford, 68 Ala. 141.

6. Lowe v. Lowe, 6 Md. 347; Hutchins v. Brooke, 31 Miss. 430; Laughman v. Thompson, 6 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 259.

7. Arkansas.—Jackson v. Gorman, 70 Ark. 88, 66 S. W. 346, after the time for appeal has passed.

Connecticut.— See Shelton v. Hadlock, 62 Conn. 143, 25 Atl. 483.

Florida.— Deans v. Wilcoxon, 25 Fla. 980, 7 So. 163.

Georgia.— Williams v. O'Neal, 119 Ga. 175, 45 S. E. 978.

Louisiana.— Irwin v. Flynn, 110 La. 829, 34 So. 794.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1446.

8. Doe v. Roe, 30 Ga. 961; Perkins v. Fairfield, 11 Mass. 227.

9. Farris v. Gilbert, 50 Tex. 350.

10. See the following cases:

Connecticut.— Rockwell v. Sheldon, 2 Day 305, holding that a general order of sale by the court of probate extends to all the property of the deceased known to the court at the time of making such order, although not contained in the inventory or record.

Georgia.— Oliver v. Powell, 114 Ga. 592, 40 S. E. 826 (holding that an order of court granting to an administrator leave to sell all the real estate belonging to decedent in a certain county covers every interest in land in that county, whether in possession or expectancy); Adams v. Adams, 113 Ga. 824, 39 S. E. 291 (holding that where an order for the sale of land, granted by an ordinary, was for the sale of a reversion in realty after the expiration of a widow's dower, and before the sale took place the widow died, the order constituted authority to sell the fee).

Illinois.— Stow v. Kimball, 28 Ill. 93, holding that a decree or order for the sale of "real estate described in the petition" justifies the sale of all the real estate so described.

Mississippi.— Monk v. Horne, 38 Miss. 100, 75 Am. Dec. 94, holding that a decree of the probate court directing the sale of the lands and mills belonging to the estate of the deceased authorizes the sale of any real estate and mills belonging to the deceased within the jurisdiction of the court.

United States.— Santana Live-Stock, etc., Co. v. Pendleton, 81 Fed. 784, 26 C. C. A. 608, holding that an order made, on application by an administrator, to sell six hundred acres of land, or so much as is necessary to pay debts, to be taken from one-half league and labor owned by the estate, authorizes the sale of so much of the half league and labor as may be required, although more than six hundred acres.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1446.

11. See Janes v. Throckmorton, 57 Cal. 368, holding that a decedent's interest in land under covenant by which the covenantor, after paying debts of the decedent from the sales of the land, is to convey a proportion of the balance to the decedent, cannot be sold under an order directing the sale of the personalty of the decedent.

12. Brown v. Van Duzee, 44 Vt. 529.

13. Barger v. Cassidy, 4 Phila. (Pa.) 324.

14. Jackson v. Irwin, 10 Wend. (N. Y.) 441.

15. Williams v. Stratton, 10 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 418.

been made by the probate court for the sale of the real estate of the intestate does not prevent the court from setting the same aside as a homestead for the widow.[16] A recital in the order of sale that "it is more advantageous to sell the land" does not show that the sale was ordered for the reason that it would be advantageous to the estate.[17] Under a statute providing that the court may prescribe the maximum period of a loan ordered to be negotiated by an administrator, an order to execute a mortgage therefor payable on or before two years from the date must be regarded as fixing the maximum period only.[18] An order for the sale of land of a decedent to discharge it of liens, providing that, if the proceeds are insufficient to discharge the mortgage debt, the deficiency shall, upon the order of court, be paid out of the assets applicable thereto in the hands of the administrator, does not adjudicate the priorities of different creditors in the fund.[19] An order for the sale of the intestate's real estate by the administrator cannot have a retrospective effect, so as to legalize a sale made prior to the order.[20] Where, after the granting of a license to sell realty, but before a sale thereunder, the law giving the court jurisdiction to grant such license was repealed, this revoked the license, and a subsequent sale thereunder was void.[21]

d. Amendment or Vacation. An order of a court of probate jurisdiction granting to the representative leave to sell cannot be vacated, rescinded, or revoked by that court, except in the same manner as other judgments, upon notice to the administrator, and for good cause shown.[22] Where the order or decree of sale is void, as where the court acted without jurisdiction in making the same, it may be vacated or set aside, even at a subsequent term;[23] but where the court had jurisdiction the order of sale will not be set aside at a subsequent term merely because errors or irregularities have intervened in the proceedings, or the order itself is erroneous.[24] It seems, however, that the order or decree of sale is open to amendment or correction at all times until it has been acted upon and a sale made thereunder and confirmed.[25] Under the Iowa statute it has been held that a defendant who was served by publication only had the legal right to have an order of sale made upon default set aside upon his mere motion therefor

16. In re Smith, 51 Cal. 563.

17. Louder v. Schluter, 78 Tex. 103, 14 S. W. 205, 207.

18. Fast v. Steele, 127 Cal. 202, 59 Pac. 585.

19. Ryker v. Vawter, 117 Ind. 425, 20 N. E. 294.

20. Ludlow v. Park, 4 Ohio 5.

21. Campau v. Gillett, 1 Mich. 416, 53 Am. Dec. 73.

22. Whitaker v. Smith, 33 Ga. 237.

23. De Bardelaben v. Stoudenmire, 48 Ala. 643; Summersett v. Summersett, 40 Ala. 596, 91 Am. Dec. 494; Wall v. Clark, 19 Tex. 321, holding that where the county court makes an order to sell property, and at a subsequent term, while the proceeding is still in fieri, it is shown that the property does not belong to the estate, the order of sale should be revoked. See also Hull v. Hamilton, 8 W. Va. 43.

A claim that the property was in custodia legis at the time an order of sale was made at the instance of the administrator of the succession of a deceased husband, set up as a ground for revoking the order, is not sustained where it appears merely that an order of seizure and sale was previously issued and executed against the widow in her individual capacity as owner of the property. Morere v. Preston, 34 La. Ann. 873.

24. Carter v. Waugh, 42 Ala. 452 [following Satcher v. Satcher, 41 Ala. 26, 91 Am. Dec. 498]; Wall v. Clark, 19 Tex. 321.

After a decree of sale has been executed, the orphans' court has no power to set aside the decree. Crombie v. Engle, 19 N. J. L. 82.

Where the court of ordinary is a court of inferior jurisdiction, the ordinary has authority to revoke his permission to an executor to sell real estate, where such permission was given under a mistake of facts, as it is essential to a court of inferior jurisdiction that it have power to revise and correct its proceedings before they are finally completed and decided on by the superior courts. Radford v. Westcott, 1 Desauss. (S. C.) 596.

Under the Montana statute the court has no power to revoke an order directing the executor to lease land to a certain person at a fixed sum against the objection of the person designated as the lessee, where he has complied with the conditions of the order, even though the executor has subsequently had a more favorable offer. State v. Second Judicial Dist. Ct., 24 Mont. 1, 60 Pac. 489.

25. See Sheldon v. Wright, 7 Barb. (N. Y.) 39 [affirmed in 5 N. Y. 497]; Maxwell v. Blair, 95 N. C. 317.

Under the Montana statute the court has power to modify an order previously made at any time before the sale and within two years after the order was made.[26] In Louisiana the validity of an ex parte order of sale in a succession proceeding by an executrix to pay debts may be assailed by rule.[27] A person who is not interested in the estate so as to entitle him to become a party to the proceedings for sale has no standing in court to apply to have the order of sale set aside.[28]

14. Essentials to Be Shown of Record. It is necessary to the validity of a sale that the order of sale should appear of record,[29] and the record should show affirmatively a compliance with all the requirements of the statute under which the sale is decreed,[30] such as that an application showing a statutory ground for the sale has been preferred by a proper person,[31] that a citation was published or notice given as required by statute,[32] that there was a necessity for the sale,[33] and that the court heard satisfactory proof on the subject.[34] It has been held that inasmuch as probate jurisdiction to order the sale of a decedent's land for purposes of administration is derived wholly from statute, jurisdiction in any case should appear of record.[35] In Nebraska it has been held that where a district judge at chambers grants a license to an executor or administrator to sell real estate, the record of the proceedings must be made in the district court having jurisdiction to hear and determine the application; that is, in the court of the county in which the administration was granted.[36]

15. Appraisal of Property to Be Sold. It is provided by statute in many jurisdictions that realty of a decedent shall be appraised before it is sold.[37] The as to the amount of rental of property authorized to be leased, where the executor and lessee have agreed thereto. State v. Second Judicial Dist. Ct., 24 Mont. 1, 60 Pac. 489.

26. Huston v. Huston, 29 Iowa 347.

27. Thompson's Succession, 42 La. Ann. 118, 7 So. 477.

28. Shields v. Ashley, 16 Mo. 471.

29. Evans v. Snyder, 64 Mo. 516; Goforth v. Longworth, 4 Ohio 129, 19 Am. Dec. 588. See also Groover v. King, 46 Ga. 101. Contra, Egan v. Grece, 79 Mich. 629, 45 N. W. 74. And see Baeder v. Jennings, 40 Fed. 199, holding that a recital in an administrator's deed of an order of sale is sufficient presumptive proof, forty or fifty years after the date of the deed, of such an order, the possession being conformable to the deed.

30. Martin v. Williams, 42 Miss. 210, 97 Am. Dec. 456; Gelstrop v. Moore, 26 Miss. 206, 59 Am. Dec. 254; Planters' Bank v. Johnson, 7 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 449; Lowry v. McDonald, Sm. & M. Ch. (Miss.) 620; Crisman v. Beasley, Sm. & M. Ch. (Miss.) 561.

31. Landford v. Dunklin, 71 Ala. 594, personal representative.

32. Root v. McFerrin, 37 Miss. 17, 75 Am. Dec. 49; Kempe v. Pintard, 32 Miss. 324; Planters' Bank v. Johnson, 7 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 449; Laughman v. Thompson, 6 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 259. See also Gibbs v. Shaw, 17 Wis. 197, 84 Am. Dec. 737, holding that a statement in the license, that it appeared to the judge "that the notice had been published" in a certain newspaper is not sufficient evidence of due publication.

33. Wyatt v. Rambo, 29 Ala. 510, 68 Am. Dec. 89; McMekin v. Bobo, 12 Ala. 268; Clapp v. Beardsley, 1 Aik. (Vt.) 168, holding that a naked license to an administrator to sell real estate of the intestate will not support a title derived from the administrator's sale, but it must appear, either from the license or from the probate records, that such facts existed as would warrant the granting of the license.

34. Fridley v. Murphy, 25 Ill. 146. But compare Sidener v. Hawes, 37 Ohio St. 532, holding that an order for the sale of real estate to pay debts will not be reversed for want of a journal entry showing that the statements of the petition were found to be true.

35. Goodwyn v. Sims, 86 Ala. 102, 5 So. 587, 11 Am. St. Rep. 21; Tyson v. Brown, 64 Ala. 244 (jurisdiction cannot be presumed from the fact of sale); Pettit v. Pettit, 32 Ala. 288; Wyatt v. Rambo, 29 Ala. 510, 68 Am. Dec. 89 (jurisdiction will not be supplied by intendment); Wright v. Edwards, 10 Oreg. 298; Hilton's Appeal, (Pa. 1887) 9 Atl. 434. See also McCartney v. Calhoun, 11 Ala. 110. But see Wood v. Crawford, 18 Ga. 526 [following Perkins v. Attaway, 14 Ga. 27; Tucker v. Harris, 13 Ga. 1, 58 Am. Dec. 488].

Failure to name heirs.—In a proceeding by an administrator for an order to sell lands, if the record fails to name the heirs otherwise than by the general designation "heirs," the proceeding will be void as to them, and there can arise no presumption that the court acquired jurisdiction over any persons other than those named. Guy v. Pierson, 21 Ind. 18.

36. Stack v. Royce, 34 Nebr. 833, 52 N. W. 675.

37. See the following cases:

Arkansas.— Bell v. Green, 38 Ark. 78.

Indiana.— Rice v. Cleghorn, 21 Ind. 80; Maple v. Shoyer, 1 Blackf. 561.

Kentucky.— Vivion v. Vivion, 50 S. W. 984, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 103.

Louisiana.— Curley's Succession, 18 La. Ann. 728.

purpose of such a provision is to advise the court of the value of the estate and to assist it in exercising its judicial discretion in approving or disapproving the sale, and also to furnish prima facie evidence of value and of the good faith of the personal representative and the purchaser.[38]

16. Review[39]— a. What Orders Reviewable. An order directing or refusing to direct a sale of a decedent's realty is subject to appeal,[40] and it has also been Missouri.— McVey v. McVey, 51 Mo. 406. Under the Spanish law an appraisement was not necessary to the validity of a representative's sale. McNair v. Hunt, 5 Mo. 300.

Texas.— Jemison v. Gaston, 21 Tex. 266.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1459.

Effect of failure to have appraisal made.— The fact that a personal representative fails to have land appraised before selling it, as required by statute, does not render the sale void if it is confirmed by the court. It can be set aside only by appeal from the order of confirmation or by a direct proceeding for that purpose, and cannot be impeached in a collateral proceeding. Bell v. Green, 38 Ark. 78; Noland v. Barrett, 122 Mo. 181, 26 S. W. 692, 43 Am. St. Rep. 572. But see Curley's Succession, 18 La. Ann. 728.

Irregularities in the appraisement will not invalidate the sale. Noland v. Barrett, 122 Mo. 181, 26 S. W. 692, 43 Am. St. Rep. 572; Johnson v. Beazley, 65 Mo. 250, 27 Am. Rep. 276; Moore v. Wingate, 53 Mo. 398; McVey v. McVey, 51 Mo. 406. See also Rice v. Cleghorn, 21 Ind. 80; Lalanne v. Moreau, 13 La. 431.

All appraisers need not swear to appraisement. An appraisement of land of a decedent, sworn to by two out of three appraisers, is valid. Moore v. Wingate, 53 Mo. 398.

Correction of description in appraisement. — The probate court may correct an error in the description of land appraised for sale under a personal representative's petition. Lasure v. Carter, 5 Ind. 498.

Reappraisement.— The probate judge may in his discretion order real estate which is to be sold to pay the debts of an estate, to be reëxamined and reappraised. This reappraisement may be made at any time before the sale. Hood's Succession, 33 La. Ann. 466. See also Webb v. Keller, 39 La. Ann. 55, 1 So. 423.

Necessity for proof of appraisement.— The records of the court need not show that an appraisement has been made in order for the sale to be valid, nor is it incumbent on a party claiming under the sale to prove that fact. Jemison v. Gaston, 21 Tex. 266.

38. Noland v. Barrett, 122 Mo. 181, 26 S. W. 692, 43 Am. St. Rep. 572.

39. See, generally, Appeal and Error, 2 Cyc. 474.

Effect upon bona fide purchaser of reversal of order of sale see infra, XII, T, 3, c, (III).

40. Alabama.— Spence v. Parker, 57 Ala. 196 (aliter under earlier statute); Devany v. Devany, 25 Ala. 722.

California.— In re Leonis, 138 Cal. 194, 71 Pac. 171; In re Corwin, 61 Cal. 160. See also In re Levy, 141 Cal. 639, 75 Pac. 317.

Illinois.— Steele v. Steele, 89 Ill. 51 (appeal from county to circuit court); Lewis v. Flowree, 32 Ill. App. 314 (time for taking appeal from county to circuit court).

Indiana.— Simpson v. Pearson, 31 Ind. 1, 99 Am. Dec. 577 [distinguishing Love v. Mikals, 12 Ind. 439].

Louisiana.— State v. Lazarus, 37 La. Ann. 830. But where parties have been recognized by formal decree of court as legatees of a succession, no appeal will lie from a subsequent judgment on a rule taken by them or on application of the personal representative ordering him to sell property enough to pay the legacies. State v. Judge New Orleans Second Dist. Ct., 22 La. Ann. 200.

Minnesota.— In re Wilson, (1903) 97 N. W. 647, order reviewable by appeal only and not upon certiorari.

Missouri.— See Ferguson v. Carson, 86 Mo. 673 [affirming 9 Mo. App. 497].

Texas.—See Harrison v. Oberthier, 40 Tex. 385.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1469.

Contra.—Steinbarger v. Steinbarger, 19 Ohio 106; Webster v. Ballard, 4 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 419, 2 Clev. L. Rep. 137; Snodgrass' Appeal, 96 Pa. St. 420 [overruling Hess' Appeal, 1 Watts 255]; Robinson v. Glancy, 69 Pa. St. 89 [distinguishing Robinson's Appeal, 62 Pa. St. 213], holding that an appeal lies only from the decree confirming the sale.

In Indiana a proceeding to sell land of a decedent to make assets is a proceeding under the decedent's act, and appeals from orders made in such proceedings are governed by that act and not by the general practice act. Bollenbacher v. Whisnand, 148 Ind. 377, 47 N. E. 706; Beaty v. Voris, 138 Ind. 265, 37 N. E. 785; Galentine v. Wood, 137 Ind. 532, 35 N. E. 901; Rinehart v. Vail, 103 Ind. 159, 2 N. E. 330; Seward v. Clark, 67 Ind. 289 [overruling Hamlyn v. Nesbit, 37 Ind. 284].

In Michigan it has been held that where the probate court denies a personal representative leave to sell and on appeal the circuit court reverses this order and grants leave, it should enter the proper judgment itself instead of directing the probate court to enter it. Daley's Appeal, 47 Mich. 443, 11 N. W. 262.

In New Jersey, by constitutional provision, an appeal from an order for a sale of land of a decedent may be taken from the orphans' court to the prerogative court, but a certiorari will not lie in the supreme court to review such an order. Carroll v. Baxter, 65 N. J. L. 478, 47 Atl. 507. See also In re Devine, 62 N. J. Eq. 703, 49 Atl. 138.

held that such an order may be reviewed by writ of error,[41] and a bill of review has been sustained.[42] An appeal lies from a judgment of the probate court, rendered on a rule against a personal representative to show cause why the sale of certain property should not be stopped,[43] and an heir at law may appeal from a decision of the surrogate, made in proceedings for the sale of real estate for debts, adjudging certain claims to be valid against the deceased and his estate.[44] An appeal does not lie from an order of the probate court directing a personal representative to proceed with the sale of real estate under a previous order directing such sale,[45] an order refusing to set aside a previous order for the sale of a decedent's property,[46] or an order directing a personal representative to file a petition to sell real estate.[47] An order to a personal representative to execute a lease of certain realty belonging to his decedent's estate is not a final judgment in a special proceeding from which an appeal will lie under the Montana statute.[48]

b. Persons Entitled to Review and Parties. The general rules that to entitle a person to a review he must have an interest in the subject-matter of the suit or proceedings,[49] must be aggrieved by the judgment or order complained of,[50] and, unless it is otherwise provided by statutory or constitutional provisions,[51] must have been a party to the proceeding below or be a legal representative of or a person in privity with a party,[52] are applicable in proceedings to sell property of decedents. Personal representatives must be made parties to appeals taken in such a proceeding,[53] and so must heirs who appeared below and contested the claims of creditors when such creditors appeal;[54] and legatees who appeared below as adverse parties are proper parties to an appeal by a representative from an order refusing leave to sell.[55] A person who is not a necessary or even a proper party to a proceeding to sell realty to pay debts is not a necessary party to an appeal taken in such a proceeding.[56]

41. Vance v. Rockwell, 3 Colo. 240; Fitzgerald v. Glancy, 49 Ill. 465. See also Oettinger v. Specht, 162 Ill. 179, 44 N. E. 399; Lynn v. Lynn, 160 Ill. 307, 43 N. E. 482.

In Nebraska a final order made in a proceeding by a representative for leave to sell real estate is reviewable only by petition in error and not by appeal. Poessnecker v. Entenmann, 64 Nebr. 409, 89 N. W. 1033.

42. Peirce v. Graham, 85 Va. 227, 7 S. E. 189; U. S. Bank v. Ritchie, 8 Pet. (U. S.) 128, 8 L. ed. 890. Contra, Indianapolis First Nat. Bank No. 2,556 v. Hanna, 12 Ind. App. 240, 39 N. E. 1054.

43. State v. Judge New Orleans Second Dist. Ct., 22 La. Ann. 200.

44. Owens v. Bloomer, 14 Hun (N. Y.) 296.

45. In re Martin, 56 Cal. 208.

46. In re Smith, 51 Cal. 563.

47. Lane v. Thorn, 103 Ill. App. 215.

48 In re Tuohy, 23 Mont. 305, 58 Pac. 722.

49. Arkansas.— Ex p. Marr, 12 Ark. 84.

Maine.— Allen v. Smith, 80 Me. 486, 15 Atl. 62.

Missouri.— Redman v. Adams, 88 Mo. App. 534.

North Carolina.— Watkins v. Pemberton, 47 N. C. 174.

Pennsylvania.— Everman's Appeal, 67 Pa. St. 335.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1473; and Appeal and Error, 2 Cyc. 628.

An administrator has an appealable interest in an order dismissing a petition for license to sell realty. In re Smith, 43 Oreg. 595, 73 Pac. 336, 75 Pac. 133.

The representative of a representative has not an appealable interest. The appeal must be prosecuted by the successor of the original representative. Nason v. Smith, 13 Vt. 170.

A purchaser of realty from the heir of a decedent may appeal from a decree authorizing the sale of such realty. Mowry v. Robinson, 12 R. I. 152.

A creditor may appeal from an order for the sale of land. Redman v. Adams, 88 Mo. App. 534. Contra, Henry v. Estey, 13 Gray (Mass.) 336.

50. Johns v. Caldwell, 60 Md. 259 (an administrator pendente lite not a person aggrieved); Moore v. Brady, (Miss. 1892) 11 So. 723; In re Divine, (N. J. Prerog. 1900) 46 Atl. 649; Parker v. Reynolds, 32 N. J. Eq. 290; Swackhamer v. Kline, 25 N. J. Eq. 503 (a devisee of the decedent a party aggrieved); In re Everman, 67 Pa. St. 335. See also Patterson's Appeal, (Pa. 1888) 16 Atl. 38. And see Appeal and Error, 2 Cyc. 631.

51. See Allen v. Smith, 80 Me. 486, 15 Atl. 62. And see Appeal and Error, 2 Cyc. 627.

52. Arnett v. McCain, 47 Ark. 411, 1 S. W. 873. See also Guy v. Pierson, 21 Ind. 18. And see Appeal and Error, 2 Cyc. 626.

53. Beaty v. Voris, 138 Ind. 265, 37 N. E. 785.

54. Patterson v. Hamilton, 26 Hun (N. Y.) 665.

55. Findlay v. Whitmire, 15 Ga. 534.

56. In re Smith, 43 Oreg. 595, 73 Pac. 336, 75 Pac. 133.

c. Reservation and Presentation of Grounds of Review. The general rules as to raising questions which it is desired to have reviewed, as to making objections and reserving exceptions in the court below, and as to presenting matters for review in the record on appeal are applicable on appeals from the action of the court with reference to ordering or refusing to order a sale.[57]

d. Presumptions. The usual presumption that an order or decree is correct till the contrary is made affirmatively to appear will be indulged by the appellate court in favor of an order made in proceedings to sell property of a decedent.[58]

e. Scope of Review. Where an order by a probate court for the sale of land of a decedent recites that certain claims against his estate have been allowed and approved, an appellate court called on to determine the validity of the sale will not go back of such order to determine whether any claims had been authenticated, allowed, and approved;[59] and, when an order of a lower court as to the sale of a decedent's property involves the exercise of a lawful discretion, its action will not be interfered with on appeal, unless there has been an abuse of discretion.[60]

f. Effect of Appeal. In some jurisdictions an appeal taken from a decree authorizing the sale of realty of a decedent suspends the operation of such decree from the time when it is taken, and no action can be legally had under such decree during the pendency of the appeal;[61] and it has been held that pending an appeal from a decree for a sale of land of a decedent, the personal representative has no right to an order authorizing him to rent the land.[62]

g. Effect of Sale on Decision of Appellate Court. If land has been sold under a license which was illegally obtained and an appeal has been taken from the decree granting such license, the fact of sale will not affect the decision of the appellate court.[63]

H. Enjoining Sale.[64] Persons who can obtain adequate relief in the probate court by a contest of the application for the sale of the decedent's realty must pursue that remedy and cannot maintain a bill in equity to enjoin the proposed sale.[65] Neither will an injunction against such a sale be granted in favor of one

57. See Knerr v. McDonald, 30 Ind. App. 660, 66 N. E. 773; Gay v. Louisville, 93 Ky. 349, 20 S. W. 266, 14 Ky. L. Rep. 327 [reversing on other grounds 13 Ky. L. Rep. 366]; Hill v. Taylor, 99 Mo. App. 524, 74 S. W. 9; Henry v. Drought, 10 Tex. Civ. App. 379, 30 S. W. 584. And see APPEAL AND ERROR, 2 Cyc. 660, 677, 714.

Waiver of objections see In re Levy, 141 Cal. 639, 75 Pac. 317; Saxon v. Cain, 19 Nebr. 488, 26 N. W. 385; Brooks v. Brooks, 97 N. C. 136, 1 S. E. 487.

58. Alabama.— Poole v. Daughdrill, 129 Ala. 208, 30 So. 579 [overruling Quarles v. Campbell, 72 Ala. 64].

California.— In re Roach, 139 Cal. 17, 72 Pac. 393.

Florida.— Deans v. Wilcoxson, 25 Fla. 980, 7 So. 163.

Illinois.— Dauel v. Arnold, 201 Ill. 570, 66 N. E. 846.

Indiana.— See Jackson v. Weaver, 98 Ind. 307.

Maryland.— Lowe v. Lowe, 6 Md. 347.

Nebraska.— Saxon v. Cain, 19 Nebr. 488, 26 N. W. 385.

Rhode Island.— Jacocks v. Patterson, 18 R. I. 751, 30 Atl. 795.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1477.

But compare In re Snow, 96 Me. 570, 53 Atl. 116.

59. McKee v. Simpson, 36 Fed. 248.

60. Black v. Meek, Smith (Ind.) 131; Crawford v. Blackman, 19 Md. 40; Moore v. Moore, 14 Barb. (N. Y.) 27; Barnett v. Kincaid, 2 Lans. (N. Y.) 320; Lovinier v. Pearce, 70 N. C. 167.

61. Francis v. Daley, 150 Mass. 381, 23 N. E. 218, if a sale is made the purchaser gets no title. See also Burgett v. Apperson, 52 Ark. 213, 12 S. W. 559; Smelser v. Blanchard, 15 La. Ann. 254 (effect of suspensive appeal); Daley v. Francis, 153 Mass. 8, 26 N. E. 132; Lictie v. Chappell, 111 N. C. 347, 16 S. E. 171 (holding that when a sale is made pending an appeal, the probate court cannot make an order confirming the sale and directing title to be made to the purchaser).

62. Herring v. Harris, 45 Miss. 62, 65, where the court said: "The application for an order to rent the lands is of itself tantamount to the averment that the execution of the decree of sale is suspended, if not by supersedeas, at least by the voluntary action of the administrator, as a matter of prudence, to await the adjudication of this court upon the questions presented by the appeal."

63. Gross v. Howard, 52 Me. 192. See also Nowell v. Nowell, 8 Me. 220.

64. See, generally, INJUNCTIONS.

65. Speers v. Banks, 114 Ala. 323, 21 So. 834 [overruling Banks v. Speers, 103 Ala.

who alleges that he is in possession of realty as the owner thereof, and that the decedent had no title thereto, since, if the decedent had no title, the purchaser can acquire none, and the legal rights and remedies of the complainant will not be affected in any way by the sale.[66] An injunction against an administration sale will be granted, however, where the proper grounds appear.[67] A person who has no interest in an estate cannot enjoin a sale of the property thereof.[68]

I. Authority to Sell[69] — 1. In General. In many states the representative is the proper person to make the sale and the court cannot, so long as he is willing and competent to act,[70] appoint a stranger to make the sale;[71] and a sale made by a person so appointed is void and conveys no title.[72] In some states, however, the sale is made by commissioners appointed by the court.[73] If two or more executors have qualified they should execute the duties of their office relative to the sale in their joint capacity, and if one alone acts in the sale and in the execution of a deed of the land in question no title passes.[74] An administrator

436, 16 So. 25]; Bailey v. Ross, 68 Ga. 735; Johnson v. Holliday, 68 Ga. 81; Sprague v. West, 127 Mass. 471. Compare Penn v. Penn, 39 Mo. App. 282.

Person not a proper party may enjoin. A party in possession of land, and claiming it by a purchase at a sheriff's sale, made under a judgment rendered against a decedent, is not a proper party defendant to a proceeding in the probate court to sell the land for the payment of debts; and hence has no opportunity to contest it in that court; but, if a sale of the land is ordered by the probate court to pay a debt barred by the statute of limitations he may enjoin it in equity. Moody v. Harper, 38 Miss. 599.

Persons without notice of proceedings may enjoin. Swan v. Thompson, 36 Mo. App. 155. But a mortgage creditor has no right to enjoin the sale of his debtor's property for want of notice of the application for the order, when the sale was ordered to pay creditors having a preference over him. Wells v. Wells, 25 La. Ann. 194.

66. Seymour v. Bourgeat, 12 La. 123 [followed in Rapides Lumber Co. v. Hartiens, 111 La. 793, 35 So. 910]. Compare Bevill v. Smith, 25 Fla. 209, 6 So. 62, holding that an averment of possession in the complainant is essential to a bill brought by one claiming the legal title to land to enjoin a sale by a commissioner under order of the court upon the ground that the sale will cast a cloud upon his title, and that the personal representative is a necessary party to such a bill.

67. See Simmons v. Crumbley, 84 Ga. 495, 10 S. E. 1090; Thayer v. Lane, Harr. (Mich.) 247. Compare Ducote v. Bordelon, 24 La. Ann. 145.

Such relief will be granted where the conduct of the personal representative in forcing the sale is so far oppressive and unwarranted as to be inequitable, and the claimant, being an infant, is unable to protect himself (Doll v. Cash, 61 N. J. Eq. 108, 47 Atl. 1059), or where the sale is for the purpose of satisfying a void judgment (Bienvenu v. Parker, 30 La. Ann. 160) or improper claims which have been allowed by reason of fraud and collusion on the part of the personal representative (Penn v. Penn, 39 Mo. App. 282).

68. Field v. Mathison, 3 Rob. (La.) 38.

69. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (I), (G).

70. Taylor's Appeal, 119 Pa. St. 297, 12 Atl. 222; Boughman's Estate, 4 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) Oct. 5, 1892.

71. Swan v. Wheeler, 4 Day (Conn.) 137; Crouch v. Eveleth, 12 Mass. 503.

72. State v. Younts, 89 Ind. 313; Crouch v. Eveleth, 12 Mass. 503.

A deed of commissioners who are heirs conveys all their interest to the purchaser, although the court exceeded its jurisdiction in appointing commissioners to sell. Berger v. Arnold, (Tex. Civ. App. 1893) 24 S. W. 527.

73. See Stone v. Latham, 68 N. C. 421, holding that the court may not only appoint commissioners, but may also remove them.

In Louisiana sale is made by an auctioneer appointed by the court. He must be authorized in writing to make the sale or title to the land will not pass by his adjudication. Cronan v. McDonogh, 12 La. Ann. 269.

Death of executor before sale by auctioneer does not invalidate sale. Massey's Succession, 46 La. Ann. 126, 15 So. 6.

Administrator may act as commissioner. Harris v. Brown, 123 N. C. 419, 31 S. E. 877. See also Lafiton v. Doiron, 12 La. Ann. 164, holding that the representative may act as auctioneer.

74. Gregory v. McPherson, 13 Cal. 562; Kreider's Estate, 17 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 201. See also Blythe v. Coots, 72 N. C. 575, holding that if the order directs a sale to be made by the executor and executrix, a sale by the executor alone, who received all the purchase-money and had his report of sale confirmed, may be set aside. Contra, Melms v. Pfister, 59 Wis. 186, 18 N. W. 255, holding that the heirs could not avoid a sale of land because the license to sell was granted to part only of the executors, especially as one of the appointees under the will, the widow, had refused to take under the will and joined in making the report of sale and in giving the deed.

A sale under an order directing it to be made by one of several administrators is valid when made according to the order. Bickle v. Young, 3 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 234.

or other person appointed to sell can sell only as he is authorized,[75] and, if he has exceeded the scope of his authority in making the sale, the fact that he acted in good faith and on the advice of counsel is immaterial.[76]

2. Administrator De Bonis Non or Special Administrator. A sale by an administrator de bonis non who has obtained an order of court authorizing the sale passes a good title to the purchaser,[77] and an administrator de bonis non may execute an order granted to his predecessor to sell land and thus pass a good title.[78] But it has been held that the probate court cannot authorize a special administrator to sell land.[79]

3. Agent, Sheriff, or Other Officer. It has been held that, as the order of court which directs the sale of lands usually prescribes particularly as to how the sale should be conducted, there is no special personal confidence reposed in the judgment and discretion of the personal representative, and therefore he may have the sale conducted by his agent and the title will pass,[80] but other authorities maintain that the authority given to sell lands is a personal trust which cannot be delegated to another and that, although the administrator may employ an auctioneer to make the sale, he must be present and superintend and control the sale.[81] Where the personal representative is charged by law with the duty of selling the real estate of his decedent, this power cannot be conferred upon the sheriff[82] or a commissioner appointed by the probate court.[83]

4. Oath. A personal representative who is authorized to sell real estate of his decedent is usually required to take an oath prescribed by statute,[84] and it has been held that if he neglects to take such oath prior to the sale, the sale is invalid, and no title passes to the purchaser by a deed executed pursuant thereto, and no estoppel is created thereby.[85]

75. Braley v. Simonds, 61 N. H. 369; In re Lawrence, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 310. See also Hawkins v. Brown, 7 La. 417; Elliott v. Labarre, 2 La. 326.

The court is the vendor, not the representative, and the representative's only agency is that of an officer or special agent designated by the law for special purposes and clothed with a special trust. Pryor v. Davis, 109 Ala. 117, 19 So. 440; Cruikshank v. Luttrell, 67 Ala. 318.

Sale of less land than designated in order not void see Seymour v. Seymour, 22 Conn. 272.

76. Pryor v. Davis, 109 Ala. 117, 19 So. 440.

77. Harris v. Cole, 114 Ga. 295, 40 S. E. 271. See also Willis v. Ferguson, 59 Tex. 172.

78. Gress Lumber Co. v. Leitner, 91 Ga. 810, 18 S. E. 62; Baker v. Bradsby, 23 Ill. 632. See also Deans v. Wilcoxon, 25 Fla. 980, 7 So. 152, holding that the administrator de bonis non might, under the laws existing before Feb. 16, 1870, consummate an incomplete sale made by his predecessor.

79. Long v. Burnett, 13 Iowa 28, 81 Am. Dec. 420.

80. Sturdy v. Jacoway, 19 Ark. 499; Cheever v. Hora, 22 Ga. 600; Lewis v. Reed, 11 Ind. 239, holding that if the administrator be authorized to sell at a public sale he may employ an auctioneer, and if he sell at a private sale he can appoint an agent to negotiate the sale within the limit fixed by the court, which sale he may approve and report for ratification.

81. Kellogg v. Wilson, 89 Ill. 357; Sebastian v. Johnson, 72 Ill. 282, 22 Am. Rep. 144. See also Noland v. Noland, 12 Bush (Ky.) 426, holding that a sale by an auctioneer in the absence of the commissioner appointed to execute the order of sale is invalid.

82. Jarvis v. Russick, 12 Mo. 63. See also Heath v. Garrett, 46 Tex. 23.

In Louisiana a statute authorizing a succession sale to be made by an auctioneer has been held not to prevent the court from directing a sale by court officers such as the sheriff. Nora's Succession, 2 La. Ann. 229.

83. Rose v. Newman, 26 Tex. 131, 80 Am. Dec. 646.

84. See Campbell v. Knights, 26 Me. 224, 45 Am. Dec. 107; Parker v. Nichols, 7 Pick. (Mass.) 111; Norman v. Olney, 64 Mich. 553, 31 N. W. 555; Buntin v. Root, 66 Minn. 454, 69 N. W. 330.

Substantial compliance with statutory requirements as to form of oath necessary.— Hugo v. Miller, 50 Minn. 105, 52 N. W. 381.

Time of taking oath.— In Massachusetts, under the act of 1817, a personal representative was required to take the oath before fixing on the time and place of sale. Parker v. Nichols, 7 Pick. 111. Prior to this statute he could take the oath at any time before the sale was actually made. Blood v. Hayman, 13 Metc. 231. In Maine it has been held that where the oath is taken before the sale is advertised it is sufficient, although it is not recorded until after an action involving the purchaser's title is begun. Fowle v. Coe, 63 Me. 245.

85. Campbell v. Knights, 26 Me. 224, 45 Am. Dec. 107. See also Parker v. Nichols, 7 Pick. (Mass.) 111.

5. Special Bond For Sale — a. In General. Statutes regulating the sale of the real estate of decedents usually provide that a personal representative who makes such a sale must give a special bond for the faithful application of the proceeds of such sale,[86] especially where he is authorized to sell more real estate than is required for the payment of debts,[87] and it has been held that a sale made without such a bond having been given is invalid,[88] although the weight of authority supports a contrary view, especially where no one is injured by the omission.[89]

86. Alabama.— Wyman v. Campbell, 6 Port. 219, 31 Am. Dec. 677.

California.— Burris v. Kennedy, 108 Cal. 331, 41 Pac. 458.

Illinois.— See People v. Huffman, 182 Ill. 390, 55 N. E. 981 [reversing on other grounds 78 Ill. App. 345], holding that when it is necessary to sell land of the decedent under the provisions of a will, such bond must be given regardless of whether the land lies within or without the state where the estate is being administered.

Indiana.— Clark v. Hillis, 134 Ind. 421, 34 N. E. 13; Salyer v. State, 5 Ind. 202.

Maine.— Snow v. Russell, 93 Me. 362, 45 Atl. 305, 74 Am. St. Rep. 350; Hasty v. Johnson, 3 Me. 282.

Mississippi.— Sharpley v. Plant, 79 Miss. 175, 28 So. 799, 89 Am. St. Rep. 588.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1457.

Amount of penalty of bond see In re Winona Bridge R. Co., 51 Minn. 97, 52 N. W. 1079; Jackson v. Holladay, 3 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 379; Fitzimmons' Appeal, 40 Pa. St. 422; Tarr's Estate, 1 Pa. Co. Ct. 229.

Obligee.— A bond is valid which is payable to the county judge who granted the license to sell, although the land sold is situated in another county. Sitzman v. Pacquette, 13 Wis. 291. The bond should not be made payable to the heirs of the decedent. Bushnell v. Krum, 32 Fla. 62, 13 So. 591. See also Robinson's Appeal, 62 Pa. St. 213.

Approval.—Where the statute requires that such bond shall be approved in writing by the judge, it will be presumed, where the contrary does not appear and the case discloses that all other steps were taken with strictness and accuracy, that the statute was complied with in this respect. Austin v. Austin, 50 Me. 74, 79 Am. Dec. 597.

The absence of a seal opposite the signatures of the obligors in the bond will not invalidate the sale. Buntin v. Root, 66 Minn. 454, 69 N. W. 330.

A variance between the order of sale and the bond as to the amount to be produced by the sale will not invalidate the sale. Purrington v. Dunning, 11 Me. 174.

Conditions prescribed by statute must be inserted in bond. Williamson v. Williamson, 3 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 715, 41 Am. Dec. 636.

Provision as to time of giving bond merely directory.— It has been held that under a statute requiring that such a bond shall be given before the sale is "ordered or made," a bond given after the order has been made but before it has issued and before the sale has taken place, is valid (Grenawalt's Appeal, 37 Pa. St. 95) and that a sale is not void if a bond is given before the confirmation of the sale (Thorn's Appeal, 35 Pa. St. 47), as such a provision is merely directory.

Where the court making the order to sell had no jurisdiction such a bond is void. Pettit v. Pettit, 32 Ala. 288.

Proof that bond not given.—In an action to recover real estate so sold, and to remove the cloud created by the sale, the fact that no bond was given may be proved by showing that the record is silent as to such bond, and by testimony of the administrator that none was executed. Babcock v. Cobb, 11 Minn. 347.

Bond when realty mortgaged by representative see Griffin v. Johnson, 37 Mich. 87; Fox v. Lipe, 24 Wend. (N. Y.) 164.

87. In some states the rule is that the representative must give a special bond whenever he is authorized to sell more real estate than is necessary for the payment of debts, and may be required to give a bond in all cases where the judge ordering the sale deems it necessary. See Norman v. Olney, 64 Mich. 553, 31 N. W. 555; Drake v. Kiddell, 38 Mich. 232; McClay v. Foxworthy, 18 Nebr. 295, 25 N. W. 86.

In Massachusetts the representative is not required to give such a bond unless he is authorized to sell more real estate than is necessary for the payment of debts. Tenney v. Poor, 14 Gray (Mass.) 500, 77 Am. Dec. 340.

88. Snow v. Russell, 93 Me. 362, 45 Atl. 305, 74 Am. St. Rep. 350; Babcock v. Cobb, 11 Minn. 347; Sharpley v. Plant, 79 Miss. 175, 28 So. 799, 89 Am. St. Rep. 588; Heth v. Wilson, 55 Miss. 587; Rucker v. Dyer, 44 Miss. 591; Washington v. McCaughan, 34 Miss. 304; Currie v. Stewart, 26 Miss. 646, 27 Miss. 52, 61 Am. Dec. 500; Williamson v. Williamson, 3 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 715, 41 Am. Dec. 636; Bright v. Boyd, 4 Fed. Cas. No. 1,875, 1 Story 478. See also Cohea v. State, 34 Miss. 179; Stevenson v. McReary, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 9, 51 Am. Dec. 102.

89. Alabama.— Wyman v. Campbell, 6 Port. 219, 31 Am. Dec. 677 [overruling Wiley v. White, 3 Stew. & P. (Ala.) 355].

Illinois.— Frothingham v. Petty, 197 Ill. 418, 64 N. E. 270.

Indiana.— Clark v. Hillis, 134 Ind. 421, 34 N. E. 13; Foster v. Birch, 14 Ind. 445.

Massachusetts.— See Perkins v. Fairfield, 11 Mass. 227.

Michigan.—Norman v. Olney, 64 Mich. 553, 31 N. W. 555.

Pennsylvania.— Lockhart v. John, 7 Pa. St. 137. See also Dixey v. Laning, 49 Pa. St. 143.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1457.

b. Liability on Bond. The special bond given for the sale is in the nature of an additional security,[90] and creates a liability, not for the general administration of the estate, but only with reference to the sale.[91] The nature and extent of such liability depends of course upon the terms of the bond and of the statute under which it is given.[92]

J. Notice of Sale — 1. In General. Notice of the proposed sale is commonly required to be given to interested persons,[93] and in some jurisdictions a sale of real property without the required notice is held void.[94] But, if the administrator gives the notice required by law, the fact that the court directed the sale to be made without notice will not affect the validity of the sale.[95] Where the period of notice is prescribed by statute,[96] it has been held that if the notice falls short of the requirements of the statute the sale is absolutely void;[97] but it has also been held that if the order of sale is a general one and does not prescribe the length of notice, the fact that the sale was had under a notice short of the statu-

90. Durfee v. Joslyn, 92 Mich. 211, 52 N. W. 626.

91. Burtch v. State, 17 Ind. 506; Durfee v. Joslyn, 92 Mich. 211, 52 N. W. 626; Com. v. Winters, 4 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 346.

The bond does not cover counsel fees incurred in a proceeding to compel the administrator to account for the proceeds. Mann v. Everts, 64 Wis. 372, 25 N. W. 209.

92. The bond creates a continuing liability and is not exhausted by the first sale under the order. Sawyers v. Hicks, 6 Watts (Pa.) 76.

A bond conditioned for the faithful payment and application of the purchase-money according to the final decree creates no liability until there is a decree directing payment and application. Pettit v. Pettit, 32 Ala. 288.

A bond given voluntarily without a statute requiring it imposes no liability. Hughlett v. Hughlett, 5 Humphr. (Tenn.) 453.

Bond given after sale.— Where a sale was made without order and a bond given under a subsequent order taking cognizance of the sale the sureties are liable. Fleece v. Jones, 71 Ind. 340.

The sureties are liable for interest upon the proceeds of the sale from the time the administrator received them. Durfee v. Joslyn, 101 Mich. 551, 60 N. W. 39.

In Massachusetts the bond covers the surplus alone, after paying debts. See Bennett v. Overing, 16 Gray 267. Compare Fay v. Valentine, 8 Pick. 526, construing the former statute.

Exhausting general bond.— In Indiana the general administration bond must be first exhausted before an action can be maintained on the special bond. Salyers v. Ross, 15 Ind. 130; Salyer v. State, 5 Ind. 202. But in Michigan the general bond need not first be sued upon. White v. Schaberg, 131 Mich. 319, 91 N. W. 168.

Relief of sureties.— The commissioner appointed to make the sale, being also the administrator, will not be held constructively to have paid the money as commissioner to himself as administrator, in order to relieve the sureties. Brandon v. Mason, 1 Lea (Tenn.) 615. In New York the statute (Code Civ. Proc. § 2600) providing for the release of sureties on their own application, although general in its terms, does not apply to the special bond given on a sale of real estate. Matter of Lawyers' Surety Co., 25 Misc. 136, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 926.

93. See Field v. Goldsby, 28 Ala. 218, 65 Am. Dec. 341, holding, however, that the provisions of the act of 1806 requiring a personal representative to give notice of the time and place of sale do not apply to sales made by commissioners appointed by the court to sell land for distribution.

Court cannot authorize private sale without notice. Fussell v. Dennard, 118 Ga. 270, 45 S. E. 247.

When realty is sold upon an annual settlement of accounts, where personalty is insufficient to pay debts, the settlement itself appears as a notice and renders other notice unnecessary. Patee v. Mowry, 59 Mo. 161.

94. Wyman v. Campbell, 6 Port. (Ala.) 219, 31 Am. Dec. 677; Curley's Succession, 18 La. Ann. 728. See also Matlock v. Livingston, 9 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 489.

The administrator's failure to readvertise property for an adjourned sale does not render the sale void. Botsford v. O'Conner, 57 Ill. 72.

Sale of personalty.— The bare omission to give the required notice for the sale of personalty has been held not to impair the title of the purchaser. James v. Dixon, 21 Mo. 538. But see Halleck v. Moss, 17 Cal. 339, holding that a sale of personalty upon insufficient notice is at least voidable if not actually void.

Jurisdiction to determine the sufficiency of the advertisement of sale and the power to compel the administrator to make a complete advertisement is possessed by the orphans' court. Parker v. Allen, (N. J. Ch. 1886) 4 Atl. 300.

95. Clark v. Hillis, 134 Ind. 421, 34 N. E. 13. See also Lawrence's Appeal, 49 Conn. 411. Compare Matlock v. Livingston, 9 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 489.

96. Length of notice by publication see infra, XII, J, 2.

97. Curley's Succession, 18 La. Ann. 728; Zech's Estate, 15 Pa. Co. Ct. 622.

tory period does not affect the title of the purchaser,[98] although if the order fixes the length of notice to be given it must be strictly complied with or the sale will be invalidated.[99] Under the old chancery practice a reasonable notice of sale was all that was necessary.[1] It has been held that proof of advertisement according to law and the order of the court will not be required after the lapse of a long period, such as forty or fifty years.[2]

2. Publication. The length of the period of publication and the number of insertions during the period depend upon the different statutes and their construction by the courts,[3] as also does the length of time which may or must elapse between the last publication and the day of sale,[4] and the number of newspapers in which publication must be made.[5] The court has usually the power to designate the paper or papers in which the notice shall be published.[6] A statutory provision that the notice must be published a certain number of weeks successively is satisfied if the publication appears at weekly intervals for the number of weeks prescribed.[7] If there is an actual compliance with the law with regard to publication, the sale is valid, notwithstanding the order of the court as to the publication did not conform to the statute in its requirements.[8] Under a statute

98. Sowards v. Pritchett, 37 Ill. 517, holding, however, that short notice coupled with other irregularities or inadequacy of price may be sufficient grounds for setting aside the sale.

99. Reynolds v. Wilson, 15 Ill. 394, 60 Am. Dec. 753. See also Bryan v. Hinman, 5 Day (Conn.) 211.

1. Darrington v. Borland, 3 Port. (Ala.) 9.

2. Blair v. Marks, 27 Mo. 579. See also Vasquez v. Richardson, 19 Mo. 96.

3. In California, Code Civ. Proc. § 1705, requires publication of the notice of a private sale to be "for two weeks successively next before the day on or after which the sale is to be made" and the publication must be "as often during the prescribed period as the paper is regularly issued," but the court may order a less number of insertions than each issue of the paper during the period. See In re O'Sullivan, 84 Cal. 444, 448, 24 Pac. 281. For a public sale the publication must be for three weeks successively and if the notice is published in a daily newspaper once a week for three successive weeks pursuant to an order of the court the publication is sufficient. Cunningham's Estate, 73 Cal. 558, 15 Pac. 136. See further Dorsey's Estate, 75 Cal. 258, 17 Pac. 209; In re Osgood, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 153.

In Georgia a publication of forty days after a general leave to sell is sufficient for the validity of the sale, although the special order to sell in that county was granted pending the publication and less than twenty days before the sale. King v. Cabaniss, 81 Ga. 661, 7 S. E. 620.

4. In California, under Code Civ. Proc. § 1549, providing that a notice of a private sale of real property must be published in a newspaper for two weeks successively next before the day of sale and that the notice must state the day on or after which the sale may be made, a publication in a daily newspaper from the fifth to the nineteenth day of the month naming the twenty-first day of that month as the day on or after which sale will be made has been held to be insufficient. Hellman v. Merz, 112 Cal. 661, 44 Pac. 1079.

In Minnesota, under Gen. St. (1866) c. 57, § 35, requiring notice to be published for three successive weeks "next before such sale," it is held that the sale must take place within the week following the completion of the publication, publication being complete one week after the last insertion. Hartley v. Croze, 38 Minn. 325, 37 N. W. 449; Wilson v. Thompson, 26 Minn. 299, 3 N. W. 699.

In New Jersey, under the act of March 17, 1887 (Pub. Laws 28), requiring publication once a week for four weeks successively next preceding the time appointed for a sale, it has been held that where the last publication was on the second day of the month and the time appointed for the sale was the tenth, the sale was illegal. Tappan v. Dayton, 51 N. J. Eq. 260, 28 Atl. 1.

5. Hautau's Succession, 32 La. Ann. 54, holding that if an administrator publish in more newspapers than the statute allows he cannot be credited with the disbursements caused by the extra publication.

6. See Adolph's Estate, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 157, holding that the clerk of the orphans' court may make a selection, under the act of March 18, 1875, which provides that the judges of the court may establish rules in their discretion and where one of the rules provided that the clerk might select the newspaper.

A weekly newspaper of general circulation is proper medium for publication of notice see In re O'Sullivan, 84 Cal. 444, 24 Pac. 281.

7. Morrow v. Weed, 4 Iowa 77, 66 Am. Dec. 122; Dayton v. Mintzer, 22 Minn. 393; In re Harris, 14 R. I. 637. See also Etie v. Cade, 4 La. 383, holding further that if the newspaper in which the notice was published is not issued in one of the weeks during the thirty-day period required, the sale is not vitiated.

8. Lawrence's Appeal, 49 Conn. 411.

requiring that the affidavit of publication of an order of the probate court for the sale of land be made by the "printer" of the paper in which the insertion was made, an affidavit by the "proprietor" has been held sufficient.[9] If the affidavit of the publication of the notice of sale was insufficient, a bidder at a private sale may refuse to comply with his bid and may recover his deposit, and an amended affidavit filed after the hearing of the action to recover the deposit cannot obviate the defect or defeat the action.[10]

3. POSTING. It is sometimes required either in lieu of or in addition to the publication of notice, that notices shall be posted up[11] in public places, by which is meant such places as are likely to give notice to the public.[12] The requirements of the statute as to posting should be followed,[13] and it must be shown that the notices were duly posted.[14]

4. FORM AND CONTENTS OF NOTICE. The notice must be published in the English language.[15] It has been held that the notice need not state the conditions of the sale,[16] or at least an omission to state the condition is a mere irregularity.[17] Whether a mistake in or an insufficiency of the designation of the date of sale will avoid the sale appears to depend upon whether it makes the date of the sale doubtful.[18] Merely naming the town in which the sale was to be made has been held not a sufficient compliance with a requirement that the notice designate the place of sale.[19] A purchaser may avoid the sale if there has been a misleading mistake in the description of the property in the advertisement or notice,[20] but it is otherwise where, although there were mistakes or omissions in the description of the property, it was such that there would be no difficulty in ascertaining what

9. Reynolds v. Schmidt, 20 Wis. 374.

10. Hellman v. Merz, 112 Cal. 661, 44 Pac. 1079.

11. Halleck v. Moss, 17 Cal. 339, holding that under a statute requiring notice of sale of personalty to be given by posting in three public places or by publication if the judge so order, the notice must be given by posting in the absence of an order of the judge to publish.

12. Sowards v. Pritchett, 37 Ill. 517, where the notice was held not sufficient.

Affixing notice to church or court-house door sufficient.— Etie v. Cade, 4 La. 383.

13. Matter of McFeeley, 2 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 541, holding that where a notice of sale is not posted in the ward of the city where the property is situated as required by law the sale is void. But see Averill v. Jackson City Bank, 114 Mich. 20, 72 N. W. 15, holding that the requirements of 2 Howell Annot. St. § 6040, that notice shall be posted in three of the most public places in the ward in which the land is situated are sufficiently followed if the notices are not posted in the ward but are posted in three of the most public places in the city, where notice was also given by newspaper publication and the sale was open and notorious and full value realized.

14. See Woods v. Monroe, 17 Mich. 238.

Sufficiency of proof.— A report of sale made at the time and duly confirmed is sufficient evidence of posting, but an affidavit of posting made and filed in the probate court ten years after the sale, without the consent of that court, is not legal evidence. Woods v. Monroe, 17 Mich. 238. A recital in a decree of confirmation that it appears to the court that due notice of sale had been given is sufficient proof, in the absence of anything contradicting it, of posting the notices of sale. Yerger v. Ferguson, 55 Miss. 190.

15. Tappan v. Dayton, 51 N. J. Eq. 260, 28 Atl. 1, although the general reading matter of the newspaper in which it appears is in a foreign language.

16. Paine v. Fox, 16 Mass. 129.

17. Brubaker v. Jones, 23 Kan. 411.

18. See Little v. Sinnett, 7 Iowa 324 (holding that a notice which was dated June 4, 1847, which fixed the time of the sale as "on the 26th of June next" was sufficient notice of the sale on the 26th day of June, 1847). Wellman v. Lawrence, 15 Mass. 326 (holding that where a sale was advertised for Friday the seventeenth whereas Friday was the sixteenth and the mistake was not corrected until the last publication made on the date of the sale, the sale could be avoided).

19. Hartley v. Croze, 38 Minn. 325, 37 N. W. 494, holding the sale void because of the insufficiency of the notice. But compare Little v. Sinnett, 7 Iowa 324, holding that where the notice named the town where the sale would be made, the failure to designate any particular place in the town did not render the notice void or invalidate the sale where it did not appear that any mistake occurred or that an unusual or improper place was adopted. In the case last cited the court said (at page 335): "We might doubt whether the same rule, in this respect, is to be applied to a small village, which might be to a large city, whose population equalled a county, or even a state."

20. Doyle v. Whitridge, 97 Md. 711, 55 Atl. 459.

land was meant.[21] The fact that the notice did not contain the signature of the commissioner who was directed to sell the land does not affect the validity of the sale.[22] If an heir be not sufficiently named in the notice the sale is not binding on him and he may attack the proceedings collaterally.[23]

K. Manner and Conduct of Sale — 1. In General.[24] In making a sale the executor or administrator must comply with every essential requirement of the statute which authorized the sale or no title will pass,[25] and where the manner of selling is directed by the court the directions must also be strictly followed.[26] The representative is bound to show sound discretion in conducting the sale and the responsibility of preventing a sacrifice of the property is on him and he can therefore refuse to consummate the sale if the property does not bring its fair market value,[27] or if the sale might be set aside by the court on the ground of unfairness.[28] The representative must give all persons who desire to bid at the sale ample opportunity to do so.[29] The mere substitution of one bidder for another who fails to comply with the terms of sale cannot affect the validity of the sale.[30] A purchaser may avoid the sale for a material misrepresentation made thereat.[31]

2. Time of Sale.[32] A sale under a license after the expiration of the time

21. New England Hospital v. Sohrer, 115 Mass. 50; In re Winona Bridge R. Co., 51 Minn. 97, 52 N. W. 1079. See also Wylly v. Gazan, 69 Ga. 506.

22. Allsop v. Owensboro Deposit Bank, 69 S. W. 1102, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 762.

23. Clark v. Hillis, 134 Ind. 421, 34 N. E. 13.

24. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (III).

Sale of personalty under testamentary authority or common-law power see supra, VIII, P, 2, c.

The possession of a land certificate by the administrator at the time of the sale where the certificate had become identified with a location and would therefore naturally be in the surveyor's office is not necessary to the validity of the sale. Corley v. Anderson, 5 Tex. Civ. App. 213, 23 S. W. 839.

25. Wyman v. Campbell, 6 Port. (Ala.) 219, 31 Am. Dec. 677; Worthy v. Johnson, 8 Ga. 236, 52 Am. Dec. 399; Elliott v. Labarre, 2 La. 326.

As to mere matters of form, a substantial compliance with the statute is all that is necessary to make the sale valid. Tutt v. Zenir, 51 Mo. 431.

Preliminary offering of rents and profits.— Under some statutes the fee simple of the real estate cannot be sold until the rents and profits for a term of years defined in the statute have been first offered for sale, the fee simple being allowed to be sold only in case the rents and profits of the term of years are insufficient. Martin v. Densford, 3 Blackf. (Ind.) 295. See also supra, XII, B, 2, d.

26. Reynolds v. Wilson, 15 Ill. 394, 60 Am. Dec. 753; Glenn v. Wootten, 3 Md. Ch. 514 (holding, however, that after the trustee has once offered the property in the market in the mode prescribed by the decree and has been unable to sell it he may dispose of it in a different mode and then it is for the court to say whether it will ratify the sale or not); Broadwater v. Richards, 4 Mont. 52, 80, 2 Pac. 544, 546; Tennent v. Pattons, 6 Leigh (Va.) 196.

27. Rogers v. Dickey, 117 Ga. 819, 45 S. E. 71.

Crier cannot complete sale over protest of administrator. Scales v. Chambers, 113 Ga. 920, 39 S. E. 396.

28. In re Lawrence, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 310.

29. Scales v. Chambers, 113 Ga. 920, 39 S. E. 396 (holding that under an issue whether the crier had knocked off property without giving the persons at the sale a fair opportunity to bid, it was competent to show by one person that but for the premature termination of the sale he would have run the property up higher); Pearson v. Moreland, 7 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 609, 45 Am. Dec. 319.

That a limitation of time for further bidding was proclaimed, which limitation was afterward repeatedly done away with and the sale kept open, is not a ground for setting aside the sale, as the only effect must have been to quicken and excite the bidders. Fairfax v. Muse, 4 Munf. (Va.) 124.

That the day of the sale was cloudy and occasionally rainy is not ground for setting aside the sale where a considerable number of persons were present and bid on the land, and it does not appear with certainty that any person who would have bid for the land was prevented from attending. Fairfax v. Muse, 4 Munf. (Va.) 124.

30. Halleck v. Guy, 9 Cal. 181, 70 Am. Dec. 643, holding that the order directing the sale and the order confirming it gave vitality to the purchase.

31. Doyle v. Whitridge, 97 Md. 711, 55 Atl. 459, holding that a misrepresentation by the auctioneer at a sale of a ground-rent that a certain responsible firm was the tenant, whereas the leasehold had been sold by them, released the purchaser, although the misrepresentation was innocently made.

32. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (II).

prescribed by statute within which such sale shall be made is void.[33] The court can, however, usually extend the time within which the sale may be made,[34] and a statute which limits the life of a license to sell realty to a certain period does not limit the power of the probate court to grant a second license.[35] In some jurisdictions a sale made when the court is not in session at the time is void.[36] Where the order gives a general power to sell, without restriction as to time, a clause requiring a report at the next term does not limit the exercise of the power to that term.[37] Where a statute limits the time within which actions may be brought against the representative, after the grant of letters, the time in which a license to sell may be exercised is not necessarily limited to the same period.[38] An administrator must sell perishable property promptly after receiving the order, or in case of deterioration he will be chargeable with its value at the time it should have been sold.[39]

3. PLACE OF SALE. The sale is usually required to be made in the county in which the land is situated,[40] and the place of sale is sometimes prescribed by statute, either absolutely or by fixing a place at which the sale shall be made unless the court orders some other place,[41] but it is also sometimes left entirely to

Sale of personalty under testamentary authority or common-law power see supra, VIII, P, 2, b.

Hour of sale.— That a sale of real estate in the country was advertised to begin at eleven A. M. is no ground for setting aside the sale. Metz's Estate, 14 York Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 136.

33. Chadbourne v. Rackliff, 30 Me. 354; Campau v. Gillett, 1 Mich. 416, 53 Am. Dec. 73. See also Mason v. Ham, 36 Me. 573. Compare Klingensmith v. Bean, 2 Watts (Pa.) 486, 27 Am. Dec. 328.

Under the Pennsylvania act of April 13, 1854, the orphans' court has power to confirm an executor's sale of land to pay debts made more than five years after the date of the order of sale. Bowker's Estate, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 161.

Computation of time.— Where, on appeal from an order of license to an administrator to sell real estate, the order was directed to be modified, which was done, the two years within which a sale must be made under Wis. Rev. St. (1898) § 3889, should be computed from the modification. Mackin v. Hobbs, 116 Wis. 528, 93 N. W. 462.

34. See Mackin v. Hobbs, 116 Wis. 528, 93 N. W. 462, holding that an extension of time within which to sell realty may be granted by the county court, although the year within which the original license was to be exercised had expired, for the discretion of the court may, under Wis. Rev. St. (1898) § 3889, be exercised any time within the two-year limit therein fixed; but an application by the administrator for an extension of time to sell the realty to pay the expenses of administration after all debts and legacies have been paid is too late under section 3850, when made eight years after the grant of letters, if there is no excuse for the delay except during two and one-half years of the time.

Before the return of the order, there is no need of an application for an extension. Snider's Estate, 1 Del. Co. (Pa.) 163.

35. Harrison v. Harrison, 67 Minn. 520, 70 N. W. 802.

36. Mobley v. Nave, 67 Mo. 546.

Session of probate and common pleas court. — The "probate and common pleas court" of Jackson county is none the less a probate court because it has common-pleas business added to its probate business; and an administrator's sale of land in Jackson county, made while such court was in session for the transaction of probate business, is valid, under the statute requiring such sale to be made during the session of the circuit, probate, or county court, although the order under which the sale was made directed a sale during the session of the "court of common pleas of Jackson county." Macey v. Pitillo, (Mo. Sup. 1893) 21 S. W. 1094; Macey v. Stark, 116 Mo. 481, 21 S. W. 1088.

37. Bowen v. Bond, 80 Ill. 351.

38. Cooper v. Robinson, 2 Cush. (Mass.) 184. But see Wellman v. Lawrence, 15 Mass. 326.

39. Steele v. Knox, 10 Ala. 608.

40. Calloway v. Kirkland, 50 Ala. 401.

If land consisting of an entire tract lies in two counties, the sale may be in either county, and the probate court administering the estate must designate which. Calloway v. Kirkland, 50 Ala. 401.

In Georgia, the place of sale may be either in the county having jurisdiction of the administration or in the county where the land lies, according to the discretion of the court in each case; and if land is sold in either county without the special direction of the court the sale is voidable only. Patterson v. Lemon, 50 Ga. 231.

In the absence of statute the sale need not be in the county where the land is situated; the place of sale being discretionary with the court and the administrator. Van Horn v. Ford, 16 Iowa 578.

41. See Neill v. Keese, 5 Tex. 23, 51 Am. Dec. 746, sale at county court-house unless court directs sale to be made elsewhere.

If the court designates no place for the sale it must be at the place designated by the statute or it will be void. Peters v. Caton, 6 Tex. 554.

the discretion of the representative and the court by which the sale has been ordered.[42]

4. Sale in Parcels. Under the old chancery practice land consisting of several tracts should be sold, each parcel separately,[43] and under some statutes, where a piece of real property which is to be sold is susceptible of division, it is required to be divided and sold in parcels.[44] Where the petition is for the sale of mortgaged land to pay debts, the court may order a sale as a whole or in parts.[45] Although the order of court for the sale describes the land as one parcel, yet the representative may sell it in several lots if in his judgment it will be for the interest of the estate.[46] Under a statute providing that the court may order the representative to sell so much of decedent's lands as is necessary to pay his debts, the court may order the sale of such lands in lots with streets laid out thereon, if a sale in that manner appears advantageous;[47] but a statute providing that the owner of land may plat the same and lay out streets thereon has been held not to authorize an administrator to make the plat for the purposes of selling in parcels where he is licensed by the court to sell the land.[48]

5. Public or Private Sale.[49] As a general rule a sale under order of court should be at public auction, and in some jurisdictions a private sale is absolutely void;[50] but in others, although a public sale is the proper mode, a private sale is not void.[51] In other jurisdictions the sale may be public or private as the court in its discretion may direct.[52] Where under a statute which does not prescribe

What a sufficient designation by court.— Where, upon a petition for leave to sell land, "at the late residence of the deceased," the court granted leave to sell "according to law," a sale at said residence was valid, as the order considered with reference to the petition must be understood as granting the prayer of the petition. Jemison v. Gaston, 21 Tex. 266.

A sale of a land certificate need not be made at the court-house door of the county in which the land on which the certificate was issued is situate, since before the issuance of a patent the interest of the owner is but a chattel interest, and may be sold as other personal property. Melton v. Turner, 38 Tex. 81.

42. See Van Horn v. Ford, 16 Iowa 578.

43. See Kenley v. Bryan, 110 Ill. 652.

Time for objection.— The objection that two distinct tracts were sold as one without first having been offered separately is a good ground for impeaching the report of sale, but not for impeaching the sale years afterward by a bill in equity. Kenley v. Bryan, 110 Ill. 652.

44. See Truxillo's Succession, 24 La. Ann. 453.

Statute directory merely.— McCampbell v. Durst, 73 Tex. 410, 11 S. W. 380.

Where lots are sufficiently designated by the map of the United States survey and the sale was made in portions easily ascertainable, the objection that there was no division and sale by lots will be disregarded. Walker v. Kimbrough, 27 La. Ann. 558.

45. Jenkins' Estate, 3 Pa. Co. Ct. 620, holding that if the land is sold in parts the court may order that each part shall be subject to such portion of the mortgage as the mortgagee and the administrator shall agree on.

46. Delaplaine v. Lawrence, 3 N. Y. 301. See also Jackson v. Irwin, 10 Wend. (N. Y.) 441.

47. Hohokus Tp. v. Erie R. Co., 65 N. J. L. 353, 47 Atl. 566.

48. People v. Board of Public Works, 41 Mich. 724, 725, 49 N. W. 924.

49. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (III).

Sale of personalty under testamentary authority or common-law power see supra, VIII, P, 2, c.

50. Worten v. Howard, 2 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 527, 41 Am. Dec. 607; Herrick v. Grow, 5 Wend. (N. Y.) 579. See also Burney v. Ludeling, 47 La. Ann. 73, 16 So. 507; Jackson v. Irwin, 10 Wend. (N. Y.) 441.

Statute not retroactive.— A private sale made by virtue of an order obtained under a statute which did not require a public sale is valid, although the property was not sold until after the enactment of a statute which required a public sale. Jackson v. Irwin, 10 Wend. (N. Y.) 441.

51. Apel v. Kelsey, 52 Ark. 341, 12 S. W. 703, 30 Am. St. Rep. 183; Burris v. Kennedy, 108 Cal. 331, 41 Pac. 458. See also Harris v. Parker, 41 Ala. 604, sale of personalty.

52. In re Smith, 188 Pa. St. 222, 41 Atl. 542. See also O'Brian v. Wiggins, 14 Pa. Super. Ct. 37. But see Jacoby v. McMahon, 42 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 446, holding that the orphans' court has no jurisdiction to order a private sale of a decedent's real estate to pay his debts.

Prior to the Pennsylvania act of May 9, 1889 (Pamphl. Laws 182), proceedings on the petition of the representative for an order of sale for the payment of debts were governed by the act of March 29, 1832, which act merely contemplated a public and not a private sale. Kiskaddon v. Dodds, 21 Pa. Super. Ct. 351.

the mode of sale an administrator applies for leave to sell at a private sale and the order is silent as to the mode of sale, directing only that it be according to law, a private sale passes the title.[53]

6. Adjournment. Under an order of court empowering the representative to sell property on a day specified, he may adjourn the sale in the exercise of a sound discretion,[54] and without statutory authority,[55] and he will not be liable for a loss caused thereby.[56] A confirmation of a report stating the adjournment and the reasons therefor is a judgment by the court that in its opinion the representative exercised a wise discretion in adjourning the sale, and this judgment is final and conclusive until impeached and set aside in a direct proceeding.[57] A statute requiring a certain number of days' notice of the time and place of the sale of real estate does not prevent the representative from adjourning the sale to a day less remote from the day originally fixed than the period of notice prescribed in the statute.[58] An adjournment from the court-house door where the sale was advertised to be held to another place in the county, near the land in question, is a mere irregularity cured by confirmation of the sale.[59]

L. Terms and Conditions[60] — 1. In General. The representative can make no terms for the sale which are not warranted by statute or order of court,[61] and

A sale of a stock of goods may be ordered to be private under Hill Annot. Laws, § 1144, and the stock may be closed out in the regular course of business. See In re Osburn, 36 Oreg. 8, 58 Pac. 521, holding that for this purpose the administrator may incur the necessary expense of lighting, clerk-hire, etc.

Wild land may be sold at private sale on leave therefor from the ordinary. Coggins v. Griswold, 64 Ga. 323.

The court may issue an order in the alternative form that land be sold either at a public or a private sale. See Lawrence's Appeal, 49 Conn. 411; In re Smith, 188 Pa. St. 222, 41 Atl. 542.

Sale not according to decree.— Where a decree authorized a public sale of decedent's land for payment of debts, and a private sale was made at which the property was sold at a sacrifice, the sale was annulled, especially as it appeared that the purchaser, who was the executor, had full knowledge of all the circumstances. Peirce v. Graham, 85 Va. 227, 7 S. E. 189.

53. Hand v. Motter, 73 Mo. 457.

54. Lamb v. Lamb, Speers Eq. (S. C.) 289, 40 Am. Dec. 618 (sale of personalty); Sitzman v. Pacquette, 13 Wis. 291. See also In re Lawrence, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 310.

Circumstances warranting adjournment.— A storm, the absence of bidders, or other like circumstances would not only warrant but require a postponement. Lamb v. Lamb, Speers Eq. (S. C.) 289, 40 Am. Dec. 618. See also Beaubien v. Poupard, Harr. (Mich.) 206. And a combination of bidders to affect the sale is good ground for postponement. In re Lawrence, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 310. But the fact that the widow of a testator has spread false reports as to the title being subject to her dower and thus embarrassed the sale of the realty attempted by the administrator or that it is probable that she will do so again have been held not to furnish good cause to suspend the sale. In re Lawrence, 1 Redf. Surr. (N. Y.) 310.

An adjournment by an attorney or agent of the executor in his absence is sufficient, the act being ministerial and therefore not beyond his power as executor or trustee to delegate. Hicks v. Willis, 41 N. J. Eq. 515, 7 Atl. 507.

55. Norris v. Howe, 15 Mass. 175.

56. Lamb v. Lamb, Speers Eq. (S. C.) 289, 40 Am. Dec. 618.

57. Noland v. Barrett, 122 Mo. 181, 26 S. W. 692, 43 Am. St. Rep. 572.

58. In re Gillespie, 10 Watts (Pa.) 300.

59. Thompson v. Burge, 60 Kan. 549, 57 Pac. 110, 72 Am. St. Rep. 369. See infra, XII, Q, 8.

60. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (IV).

Sale of personalty under testamentary authority or common-law power see supra, VIII, P, 2, e.

61. Cruikshank v. Luttrell, 67 Ala. 318; Foote v. Overman, 22 Ill. App. 181; Randolph's Appeal, 5 Pa. St. 242; Bailey's Appeal, 2 Grant (Pa.) 225. See also Selb v. Montague, 102 Ill. 446 (holding that the representative cannot add a condition that the purchaser shall discharge the widow's dower and right of homestead); Hamilton v. Pleasants, 31 Tex. 638, 98 Am. Dec. 551 (holding that as the law did not warrant a sale for Confederate money, a declaration of the representative at the time of sale that it was made for such money did not operate as a fraud upon the purchaser).

As to taxes.— The administrator cannot bind the personal estate by a statement at the sale of the realty that taxes due and constituting a lien thereon at the time of the sale will be paid by the estate, for the taxes accruing after the death of the taxpayer are a liability of the heir and not of the estate. Sexton v. Sikking, 90 Ill. App. 667.

Requiring the purchaser to buy other property than that of the decedent is to encumber the sale in a way in which the administrator

if he attaches an unauthorized condition the purchaser is not bound to pay the bid.[62] But the representative has the right under a decree to sell land for cash to demand a deposit as a guaranty that the bidder will consummate the purchase if the court approves the sale.[63]

2. Cash or Credit.[64] The court may order the property to be sold for cash or on credit[65] or partly for cash and partly on credit.[66] If, however, the sale is not made in accordance with the directions of the order, it may not be absolutely void,[67] but its validity may depend on the subsequent ratification of the heirs or devisees, or in a proper case on its confirmation by the court.[68] In some jurisdictions it is held that it is the representative's duty to sell for cash unless the order directs him to sell on credit,[69] or unless all the creditors consent to a sale on credit,[70] and that if loss follows his breach of duty he will be held liable;[71] but in other jurisdictions a sale on credit is the rule,[72] while in still others, whether the sale shall be for cash or on credit is considered to be a matter within the discretion of the representative who, however, must exercise his discretion wisely for the best interests of the estate.[73] In some jurisdictions the period of credit has no right. Savage v. Williams, 15 La. Ann. 250.

A restriction of the quantity of land to less than that advertised to be sold, the restriction having been publicly proclaimed, binds the purchasers so that they cannot compel a conveyance of the whole amount advertised, whether they heard the proclamation or not. Lee v. Hester, 20 Ga. 588.

Agreement to allow purchaser credit for individual debt.— A sale of realty under an agreement with the purchaser to allow him credit for an individual debt which agreement is not disclosed at the sale or to the court which confirms it has been held void. Sharpley v. Plant, 79 Miss. 175, 28 So. 799, 89 Am. St. Rep. 588. But compare Heath v. Layne, 62 Tex. 686, holding the sale merely voidable in such case.

62. McMaster v. Arthur, 33 S. C. 512, 12 S. E. 308 (where the master announced at the sale when notice was given of the claim of a homestead that the land was to be sold subject to the claim, which was not stated in the order of sale); Witherspoon v. Witherspoon, 33 S. C. 223, 11 S. E. 704 (holding that a purchaser who was not present at the sale and did not hear the announcement of the conditions attached and who was kept out of possession over a year by reason of misunderstanding as to the terms could not be subjected to an enforcement of an original condition). But see Layton v. Hennen, 3 La. Ann. 1.

63. Mueller v. Conrad, 178 Ill. 276, 52 N. E. 1031; Allen v. Shepard, 87 Ill. 314.

64. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (IV).

Sale of personalty under testamentary authority or common-law power see supra, VIII, P, 2, e.

65. Darrington v. Borland, 3 Port. (Ala.) 9; Reynolds v. Wilson, 15 Ill. 394, 60 Am. Dec. 753; Fitzimmons' Appeal, 40 Pa. St. 422; Baily's Appeal, 32 Pa. St. 40.

66. Griffin v. Griffin, 3 Ala. 623. See also Lacroix's Succession, 30 La. Ann. 924; Fitzimmons' Appeal, 40 Pa. St. 422.

On the adjudicatee's failure to pay the first instalment, a personal judgment for the whole price ordered in the supreme court should be for cash. McCleland v. Bideman, 5 La. Ann. 563.

67. Harris v. Parker, 41 Ala. 604. Contra, Smelser v. Blanchard, 15 La. Ann. 254.

68. McCully v. Chapman, 58 Ala. 325.

69. Foster v. Thomas, 21 Conn. 285; Richards v. Adamson, 43 Iowa 248. See Maples v. Howe, 3 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 611.

70. Maples v. Howe, 3 Barb. Ch. (N. Y.) 611.

71. Foster v. Thomas, 21 Conn. 285; Richards v. Adamson, 43 Iowa 248, holding that if he accepts a note and mortgage in part payment he cannot recover from the estate the expenses of foreclosure.

72. See Wood v. Wheeler, 11 Tex. 122, twelve months' credit.

Sale of homestead.— When realty in which there is a homestead exemption is ordered to be sold, the terms of the sale not being prescribed, the sale should be for cash to the amount of the exemption and the balance on the same credit as is usual on sales of lands for the satisfaction of creditors. Wood v. Wheeler, 11 Tex. 122.

73. Spence v. Dasher, 63 Ga. 430, holding that whether the representative has abused his discretion is a question for the jury.

In Louisiana the law contemplates an offering first for cash and then on twelve months' credit if the property fails to bring its appraised value (Lacroix's Succession, 30 La. Ann. 924); but it is not imperatively required that the first offering be for cash (Wright v. Cumming, 19 La. Ann. 353). The sale need be made for cash only where creditors so demand (Hood's Succession, 33 La. Ann. 466), and the fact that the property has been sold for one-half cash and the balance on a credit of twelve months does not vitiate the title (Lacroix's Succession, supra). The administrator in making a sale should not encumber the sale by requiring a greater proportion of the price to be paid in cash than the needs of the estate require. Savage v. Williams, 15 La. Ann. 250.

is fixed by statute,[74] while in others it is left to the sound discretion of the probate court.[75] The failure of the representative to take security for deferred payments as required by statute or order of court does not render his deed a nullity where the facts have been reported to the court and the sale has been approved notwithstanding.[76]

3. When Property Mortgaged.[77] In some jurisdictions, where the property is mortgaged, all that can be sold is the fee subject to the mortgage,[78] and the representative cannot require as a condition of the sale that the purchaser shall discharge the mortgage,[79] nor can he himself remove the encumbrance with a view to a better price when he shall offer the property for sale under an order of court.[80] In other jurisdictions, however, a sale may be directed free of the encumbrance, provision being made for payment thereof from the proceeds of sale,[81] or the representative may make an agreement with the purchaser that the latter shall discharge the mortgage debt.[82] A general order to sell encumbered lands is not sufficient to authorize a sale free from encumbrances, even although a statute authorizes such a sale under certain circumstances.[83]

M. Who May Purchase — 1. In General.[84] If a person making a bid in the names of others complies with the bid and takes title in their names, it is of no concern of the heirs whether the person who actually made the bid was authorized to use the names in which the bid was made.[85] The creditors of the estate cannot object to the substitution by a court of equity of one person in place of another as purchaser of the property sold, if the person so substituted in place

74. See Citizens' St. R. Co. v. Robbins, 128 Ind. 449, 26 N. E. 116, 25 Am. St. Rep. 445, 12 L. R. A. 498.

The statutory period is applicable only where decree gives no directions as to the sale; and it is not error for the decree of sale to order a longer or different credit to be given. Moffitt v. Moffitt, 69 Ill. 641.

75. Grider v. Apperson, 38 Ark. 388.

Credit of one year.— In Pennsylvania it has been held that one year is the proper period of credit, not only because of the analogy of that period to the time allowed for the settlement of estates, but because such has been the practice which has been found to work well in some parts of the state. Baily's Appeal, 32 Pa. St. 40, 2 Grant (Pa.) 225.

76. Wilkerson v. Allen, 67 Mo. 502; Miller v. Anders, 21 Tex. Civ. App. 72, 51 S. W. 897. But see Citizens' St. R. Co. v. Robbins, 128 Ind. 449, 26 N. E. 116, 25 Am. St. Rep. 445, 12 L. R. A. 498.

Statutory requirement of mortgage.— An agreement for judgment for the price of land sold and for the foreclosure of a lien has the same effect as a mortgage to secure the purchase-price which the statute requires, and the action of the administrator in waiving a mortgage to secure deferred payments on sale and of electing to enforce the contract of sale on foreclosure is binding on the estate and heirs. Miller v. Anders, 21 Tex. Civ. App. 72, 51 S. W. 897.

77. In Louisiana a probate court which has not acquired jurisdiction over mortgaged property of a succession by an omission or commission or laches of the mortgage creditor, whose contract contains the pact de non alienando, has no authority to order the sale of the property affected to him on the terms of part cash and part credit, after appraisement, as he is entitled to demand a sale for cash, and without appraisement. Thompson's Succession, 42 La. Ann. 118, 7 So. 477. But a creditor of an estate, whose debt operates as a judicial mortgage, and is in a twelve months' bond executed by the deceased, cannot cause the property of the succession to be sold for cash, without the benefit of appraisement, to satisfy his claim. Boyd's Succession, 13 La. Ann. 439.

78. Selb v. Montague, 102 Ill. 446; Phelps v. Funkhouser, 39 Ill. 401.

79. Selb v. Montague, 102 Ill. 446.

80. Phelps v. Funkhouser, 39 Ill. 401.

81. McLaughlin v. Barnum, 31 Md. 425; Culver v. Hardenbergh, 37 Minn. 225, 33 N. W. 792; Voorhees' Appeal, 57 N. J. Eq. 291, 42 Atl. 567.

82. See Culver v. Hardenbergh, 37 Minn. 225, 33 N. W. 792; Matter of Georgi, 35 Misc. (N. Y.) 685, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 431.

Security for discharge.— Where an administrator sells land encumbered by a mortgage it is his duty to take security from the purchaser that the latter will discharge the mortgage. Duncan v. Fish, 1 Aik. (Vt.) 231.

If the mortgagee be the purchaser the representative should exact of him a discharge of the debt constituting the encumbrance. Duncan v. Fish, 1 Aik. (Vt.) 231.

83. Voorhees' Appeal, 57 N. J. Eq. 291, 42 Atl. 567.

The order of sale may be amended nunc pro tunc in a proper case so as to authorize a sale already made as free from encumbrances. Voorhees' Appeal, 57 N. J. Eq. 291, 42 Atl. 567.

84. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (VI), (A).

85. Deans v. Wilcoxon, 25 Fla. 980, 7 So. 163.

of the original purchaser is responsible and ready to comply in all respects with the terms of sale.[86]

2. Widow or Heirs of Decedent. Property of a decedent sold under order of court may be purchased by either the widow[87] or an heir.[88]

3. Guardian of Decedent's Children. A guardian of the decedent's children has no right to purchase the property of the decedent at a sale by the executor or administrator under order of court,[89] but it is usually considered that if such guardian does purchase the sale is voidable only and not absolutely void.[90]

4. Executor or Administrator — a. General Rule.[91] It is well established as a general rule that where property of a decedent is sold under order of the court the executor or administrator cannot lawfully become the purchaser;[92] and in the

86. Farmers' Bank v. Clarke, 28 Md. 145.

87. Reinhardt v. Seaman, 208 Ill. 448, 69 N. E. 847; Wood v. Bott, 56 Miss. 128.

88. See Aubuchon v. Aubuchon, 133 Mo. 260, 34 S. W. 569; Baker v. Mancill, 2 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 373.

Purchase by one of several heirs.— The equitable principle that a cotenant will not be permitted to purchase an outstanding title or encumbrance for his exclusive benefit and to set it up against the cotenant, but that such purchase inures to the benefit of all who are willing to contribute their just proportion of the expense, does not apply to the purchase of land by one of the heirs at a sale under order of court. Aubuchon v. Aubuchon, 133 Mo. 260, 34 S. W. 569.

89. Culberhouse v. Shirey, 42 Ark. 25; Mann v. McDonald, 10 Humphr. (Tenn.) 275.

Authority from judge to purchase.— The natural tutrix of minor heirs, if authorized by the judge, may purchase at the sale of the property of the deceased insolvent whose succession is being administered by syndics. McCarty v. Steam Cotton Press Co., 5 La. 16.

90. Egan v. Grece, 79 Mich. 629, 45 N. W. 74; Taylor v. Brown, 55 Mich. 482, 21 N. W. 901; Bostwick v. Atkins, 3 N. Y. 53. But compare Forbes v. Halsey, 26 N. Y. 53.

Waiver of objections.— Where a sale was beneficial to the ward, and he was present at the sale, and instead of repudiating it he suffered eighteen years to elapse after he became of age without impeaching the conveyance, during which time the title passed to innocent third persons, it was held that he must be deemed to have waived any objection to the sale and to have affirmed it. Bostwick v. Atkins, 3 N. Y. 53.

91. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (VI), (B), (1).

Sale of personalty under testamentary authority or common-law power see supra, VIII, P, 2, f, (I).

92. Alabama.— Daniel v. Stough, 73 Ala. 379; James v. James, 55 Ala. 525; Frazer v. Lee, 42 Ala. 25; Payne v. Turner, 36 Ala. 623; Charles v. Dubose, 29 Ala. 367. See also Montgomery v. Givham, 24 Ala. 568.

Arkansas.— Bland v. Fleeman, 58 Ark. 84, 23 S. W. 4; McLeod v. Griffis, 45 Ark. 505; Culberhouse v. Shirey, 42 Ark. 25; Mock v. Pleasants, 34 Ark. 63.

California.— O'Connor v. Flynn, 57 Cal. 293.

Georgia.— Houston v. Bryan, 78 Ga. 181, 1 S. E. 252, 6 Am. St. Rep. 252; Grubbs v. McGlawn, 39 Ga. 672; Bond v. Watson, 22 Ga. 637.

Illinois.— O'Connor v. Mahoney, 159 Ill. 69, 42 N. E. 378; Lagger v. Mutual Union Loan, etc., Assoc., 146 Ill. 283, 33 N. E. 946; Nelson v. Hayner, 66 Ill. 487; Coat v. Coat, 63 Ill. 73; Williams v. Walker, 62 Ill. 517; Kruse v. Steffens, 47 Ill. 112; Lockwood v. Mills, 39 Ill. 602. See also Williams v. Rhodes, 81 Ill. 571, interest in purchase.

Indiana.— Fisher v. Bush, 133 Ind. 315, 32 N. E. 924; Morgan v. Wattles, 69 Ind. 260; Shaw v. Swift, 1 Ind. 565, Smith 398.

Kentucky.— Handlin v. Davis, 81 Ky. 34.

Louisiana.— Porter v. Depeyster, 18 La. 351; Scott v. Gorton, 14 La. 115, 33 Am. Dec. 578; Macarty v. Bond, 9 La. 351.

Michigan.— Dwight v. Blackmar, 2 Mich. 330, 57 Am. Dec. 130; Beaubien v. Poupard, Harr. 206.

Mississippi.— McGowan v. McGowan, 48 Miss. 553; Bland v. Muncaster, 24 Miss. 62, 57 Am. Dec. 162.

Missouri.— Clark v. Drake, 63 Mo. 354.

New Hampshire.— Hoitt v. Webb, 36 N. H. 158; Remick v. Butterfield, 31 N. H. 70, 64 Am. Dec. 316.

New Jersey.— Smith v. Drake, 23 N. J. Eq. 302; Huston v. Cassedy, 13 N. J. Eq. 228; Culver v. Culver, 11 N. J. Eq. 215; Mulford v. Minch, 11 N. J. Eq. 16, 64 Am. Dec. 472; Obert v. Obert, 10 N. J. Eq. 98; Mulford v. Bowen, 9 N. J. Eq. 797; Scott v. Gamble, 9 N. J. Eq. 218; Williamson v. Johnson, 5 N. J. Eq. 537.

New York.—Terwilliger v. Brown, 44 N. Y. 237.

North Carolina.— Tayloe v. Tayloe, 108 N. C. 69, 12 S. E. 836; Shearin v. Hunter, 72 N. C. 493; Roberts v. Roberts, 65 N. C. 27.

Ohio.— Caldwell v. Caldwell, 45 Ohio St. 512, 15 N. E. 297; Piatt v. Longworth, 27 Ohio St. 159; Barrington v. Alexander, 6 Ohio St. 189; Sheldon v. Newton, 3 Ohio St. 494.

Pennsylvania.— Chronister v. Bushey, 7 Watts & S. 152; Matter of Wallington, 1 Ashm. 307.

South Carolina.— Emonds v. Crenshaw, 1 McCord Eq. 252; Perry v. Dixon, 4 Desauss. 504 note. See also Teague v. Dunlap, 1 Harp. Eq. 97.

Texas.— Fisher v. Wood, 65 Tex. 199; Hamblin v. Warnecke, 31 Tex. 91; Wipff v. Heder, 6 Tex. Civ. App. 685, 26 S. W. 118.

application of this rule it is immaterial whether he purchase directly or indirectly through the medium of an agent or third person who purchases ostensibly for himself but really for the executor or administrator.[93] There is all the more reason for the application of this rule where the sale is tainted with fraud or unfairness;[94] but it is not necessary that this should be the case, for the sale may as a rule be avoided merely because the executor or administrator purchased, even although it was fairly made and the price realized was an adequate one.[95] The rule also applies where the representative purchases as agent of another with a view to making a profit out of the transaction.[96]

b. Limitations of the Rule.[97] The representative may, it has been held, purchase at his own sale if he bids fairly with the knowledge and consent of the next of kin who have at the time full knowledge of the condition of the estate and the value of the property;[98] and if the sale is made not by a representative but by a commissioner appointed to sell, or some other person not acting under the orders of the representative, the representative may properly become a purchaser.[99]

Virginia.— Hudson v. Hudson, 5 Munf. 180.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1500.

A purchase by a co-executor may be avoided by the heirs or devisees, although the purchaser had nothing to do with procuring the order of sale, but the petition was presented, the bond given, and the sale made by another executor. Beeson v. Beeson, 9 Pa. St. 279.

A purchase by an executor in the right of his wife may be set aside. Calloway v. Gilmer, 36 Ala. 354.

A purchase by a firm of which the representative is a member may be avoided. See Griffith v. Maxfield, 63 Ark. 548, 39 S. W. 852; Harrod v. Norris, 11 Mart. (La.) 297, 13 Am. Dec. 350. But compare Leeper's Appeal, (Pa. 1888) 14 Atl. 331.

If another person is interested in the bid of the executor, a court of equity will not set aside the sale as to the other person in a case where the sale was by commissioners for full value and there was no fraud in fact. Price v. Winter, 15 Fla. 66.

The fact that the sale has been confirmed by the court does not prevent its being afterward set aside by reason of the representative's being the purchaser. McMillan v. Rushing, 80 Ala. 402. But see Baldwin v. Dalton, 168 Mo. 20, 67 S. W. 599.

Where a creditor procures the appointment of one of his employees as administrator and pays the expenses of administration, such creditor is not the administrator of the estate within the provision of the statute prohibiting an administrator from purchasing the estate he represents. Gray v. Quicksilver Min. Co., 68 Fed. 677.

93. Arkansas.— Woodard v. Jaggers, 48 Ark. 248, 2 S. W. 851; McGauhey v. Brown, 46 Ark. 25.

California.— Scott v. Umbarger, 41 Cal. 410.

Georgia.— Reed v. Aubrey, 91 Ga. 435, 17 S. E. 1022, 44 Am. St. Rep. 49; Ridgeway v. Ridgeway, 84 Ga. 25, 10 S. E. 495; Bond v. Watson, 22 Ga. 637.

Illinois.— Miller v. Rich, 204 Ill. 444, 68 N. E. 488; Kruse v. Steffens, 47 Ill. 112; Lockwood v. Mills, 39 Ill. 602.

Iowa.— Read v. Howe, 39 Iowa 553.

Mississippi.— Matthews v. Matthews, (1887) 1 So. 741.

New York.— Terwilliger v. Brown, 59 Barb (N. Y.) 9 [affirmed in 44 N. Y. 237]; Woodruff v. Cook, 2 Edw. 259.

North Carolina.— McNeill v. Fuller, 121 N. C. 209, 28 S. E. 299. See also Joyner v. Conyers, 59 N. C. 78.

Ohio.— Riddle v. Roll, 24 Ohio St. 572 [affirming 5 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 232, 3 Am. L. Rec. 648].

Texas.— Fisher v. Wood, 65 Tex. 199.

Wisconsin.— Gibson v. Gibson, 102 Wis. 501, 78 N. W. 917.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1500.

94. Chaffe v. Farmer, 34 La. Ann. 1017. See Hudson v. Hudson, 5 Munf. (Va.) 180.

95. Daniel v. Stough, 73 Ala. 379; Charles v. Dubose, 29 Ala. 367; Le Comte's Estate, 8 N. Y. St. 784; Shute v. Austin, 120 N. C. 440, 27 S. E. 90; Wipff v. Heder, 6 Tex. Civ. App. 685, 26 S. W. 118. See also McCartney v. Calhoun, 17 Ala. 301. But compare Lockwood v. Mills, 39 Ill. 602; Huger v. Huger, 9 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 217; Stallings v. Foreman, 2 Hill Eq. (S. C.) 401. And see Baldwin v. Dalton, 168 Mo. 20, 67 S. W. 599; Clark v. Clark, 65 N. C. 655.

96. Wingate v. Herschauer, 42 Iowa 506; Willis v. Berry, 104 La. 114, 28 So. 888; Neda v. Fontenot, 2 La. Ann. 782; Clarke v. Drake, 63 Mo. 354; Piatt v. Longworth, 27 Ohio St. 159.

97. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (VI), (B), (2).

Sale of personalty under testamentary authority or common-law power see supra, VIII, P, 2, f, (I).

98. Lyon v. Lyon, 43 N. C. 201. See also Hannum's Appeal, 1 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 362.

99. See Charleville v. Chouteau, 18 Mo. 492; Tomlinson v. Detestatius, 3 N. C. 284; Cooley v. Cooley, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1896) 37 S. W. 1028; Dexter v. Harris, 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,862, 2 Mason 531.

Again, if the representative has an interest in the estate, it may be necessary for him to purchase at the sale for his own protection, and consequently it is held that in such case he may purchase and the purchase will be upheld if the sale be fairly conducted.[1] The representative may also subsequently purchase from the vendee at the sale under order of court and acquire a good title by such purchase if the sale was fairly conducted and there was no understanding at the time of the sale that the representative should share in, or receive the benefit of, the purchase.[2]

c. Whether Sale Void or Voidable.[3] A purchase of property of the estate by an executor or administrator at a sale under order of court, while universally considered to be highly improper, is usually held to be merely voidable at the election of the persons interested, and not void;[4] and even statutes providing that such sales are void have been construed to mean simply that they are voidable.[5]

Purchase at undervalue.— In such case a purchase by the representative has been allowed to stand, even though he purchased for a price less than the property was actually worth. Tomlinson v. Detestatius, 3 N. C. 284.

1. Cottingham v. Moore, 128 Ala. 209, 30 So. 784 (holding that a representative who is a judgment creditor of the decedent and who holds an execution lien has such an interest in the land that he may become a purchaser, if the sale be fair and properly conducted and for an adequate price); Penny v. Jackson, 85 Ala. 67, 4 So. 720; Frazer v. Lee, 42 Ala. 25; Brannan v. Oliver, 2 Stew. (Ala.) 47, 19 Am. Dec. 39; Linman v. Riggins, 40 La. Ann. 761, 5 So. 49, 8 Am. St. Rep. 549; Davidson v. Davidson, 28 La. Ann. 269; Kellar v. Blanchard, 21 La. Ann. 38; Vanwickle v. Matta, 16 La. Ann. 325; Pagett v. Curtis, 15 La. Ann. 451; Aicard v. Daly, 7 La. Ann. 612; Fristoe v. Burke, 5 La. Ann. 657; Porter v. Depeyster, 18 La. 351. See also Payne v. Turner, 36 Ala. 623; McCartney v. Calhoun, 17 Ala. 301; McLane v. Spence, 6 Ala. 894; Froneberger v. Lewis, 79 N. C. 426.

Fraud.— Where an executor who is also a legatee appoints one agent to sell and another to buy the purchase will be set aside for fraud. Britton v. Johnson, 2 Hill Eq. (S. C.) 430.

2. Alabama.— Foxworth v. White, 72 Ala. 224.

Arkansas.— West v. Waddill, 33 Ark. 575.

Michigan.— See Louden v. Martindale, 109 Mich. 235, 67 N. W. 133.

New Jersey.—Wortman v. Skinner, 12 N. J. Eq. 358.

Pennsylvania.— Armor v. Cochrane, 66 Pa. St. 308; Painter v. Henderson, 7 Pa. St. 48.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1500.

A presumption of fraud is not warranted because of the representative's subsequent purchase. Vasquez v. Richardson, 19 Mo. 96. See also Sumner v. Sessoms, 94 N. C. 371.

3. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (VI), (B), (3).

Sale of personalty under testamentary authority or common-law power see supra, VIII, P, 2, f, (I).

4. Alabama.— Fielder v. Childs, 73 Ala. 567; Harris v. Parker, 41 Ala. 604; Charles v. Dubose, 29 Ala. 367. But if the representative becomes the purchaser of his decedent's land under an order of court granted by the probate court on his petition, the heirs are entitled to notice of the proceedings after the sale, and if this notice is not shown to have been given a deed executed under the proceedings will be held void on collateral attack. Allison v. Allison, 114 Ala. 393, 21 So. 1008 [reaffirming Bolling v. Smith, 108 Ala. 411, 19 So. 370].

Arkansas.— Gibson v. Herriott, 55 Ark. 85, 17 S. W. 589, 29 Am. St. Rep. 17.

California.— Burris v. Kennedy, 108 Cal. 331, 41 Pac. 458; Boyd v. Blankman, 29 Cal. 19, 87 Am. Dec. 146.

Georgia.— Smith v. Granberry, 39 Ga. 381, 99 Am. Dec. 464; Shine v. Redwine, 30 Ga. 780; Mercer v. Newsom, 23 Ga. 151.

Illinois.— Sloan v. Graham, 85 Ill. 26. See also Williams v. Rhodes, 81 Ill. 571.

Indiana.— Comegys v. Emerick, 134 Ind. 148, 33 N. E. 899, 39 Am. St. Rep. 245.

Louisiana.— Hicks v. Weems, 14 La. Ann. 629; Ross v. Ross, 3 La. Ann. 533. But see Scott v. Gorton, 15 La. 115, 33 Am. Dec. 578.

Massachusetts.— Ives v. Ashley, 97 Mass. 198; Harrington v. Brown, 5 Pick. 519.

Missouri.— Mitchell v. McMullen, 59 Mo. 252.

New York.— See Ward v. Smith, 3 Sandf. Ch. 592, decided before the enactment of 2 Rev. St. 104, § 27, which is preserved in Code Civ. Proc. § 2774.

North Carolina.— Froneberger v. Lewis, 70 N. C. 456.

Pennsylvania.— Pennock's Appeal, 14 Pa. St. 446, 53 Am. Dec. 561 (holding that one of several administrators may bid at a sale of realty made by them under order of court subject in the event of a sale to him to disaffirmance by the heirs or creditors); Beeson v. Beeson, 9 Pa. St. 279.

Wisconsin.— Melms v. Pabst Brewing Co., 93 Wis. 153, 66 N. W. 518, 57 Am. St. Rep. 899.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1500.

5. California.— See Boyd v. Blankman, 29 Cal. 19, 87 Am. Dec. 146.

Michigan.— See Hoffman v. Harrington, 28 Mich. 90, where the court was equally divided

It follows that until the sale is actually set aside the legal title remains in the representative.[6]

d. Ratification.[7] It follows that interested persons are not confined to the remedy of avoiding the sale but have the right to elect whether they will have the sale set aside or ratify it and hold the representative as trustee for the value or price.[8] The right to have the sale set aside must be exercised within a reasonable time after the irregular purchase has become known to the person seeking its avoidance, as acquiescence in the sale for a long time will create a presumption of ratification.[9]

e. Leave of Court to Bid. Where it is proper for the representative to become the purchaser he should for his own protection procure permission from the court to bid.[10]

f. Refunding of Purchase-Money. The representative is entitled to have the purchase-money which he has paid refunded to him where the sale to him is set aside or he is held as a trustee for the persons interested in the property.[11]

5. Relative of Representative.[12] A sale to a near relative, or the husband or wife, of the personal representative, is obviously improper, and may usually be as to whether the word "void" in such a statutory provision should be construed as void or as voidable.

Minnesota.— White v. Iselin, 26 Minn. 487, 5 N. W. 359.

Nebraska.— Veeder v. McKinley-Lanning L. & T. Co., 61 Nebr. 892, 86 N. W. 982.

Ohio.— See Terrill v. Auchauer, 14 Ohio St. 80.

Wisconsin.— Melms v. Pabst Brewing Co., 93 Wis. 153, 66 N. W. 518, 57 Am. St. Rep. 899. See also McCrubb v. Bray, 36 Wis. 333.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1500.

Contra.— Terwilliger v. Brown, 44 N. Y. 237; Forbes v. Halsey, 26 N. Y. 53. But see In re Bach, 12 N. Y. Suppl. 712, 2 Connoly Surr. (N. Y.) 490, where the court instead of holding the purchase absolutely void surcharged the executor for the difference between the amount realized at the sale and the value shown by the inventory.

6. Fielder v. Childs, 73 Ala. 567; McLane v. Spence, 6 Ala. 894; Highsmith v. Whitehurst, 120 N. C. 123, 26 S. E. 917. See also Montgomery v. Givhan, 24 Ala. 568; Boyd v. Blankman, 29 Cal. 19, 87 Am. Dec. 146.

7. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (VI), (B), (4).

Sale of personalty under testamentary authority or common-law power see supra, VIII, P, 2, f, (I).

8. Arkansas.—Woodard v. Jaggers, 48 Ark. 248, 2 S. W. 851.

California.— See Boyd v. Blankman, 29 Cal. 19, 87 Am. Dec. 146.

Illinois.— Elting v. Biggsville First Nat. Bank, 173 Ill. 368, 50 N. E. 1095 [affirming 68 Ill. App. 204].

Indiana.— Comegys v. Emerick, 134 Ind. 148, 33 N. E. 899, 39 Am. St. Rep. 245. See also Doe v. Harvey, 3 Ind. 104.

Louisiana.— Longbottom v. Babcock, 9 La. 44.

Maryland.— Williams v. Marshall, 4 Gill & J. 376.

New York.— See Ford v. Smith, 3 Sandf. Ch. 592.

North Carolina.— Froneberger v. Lewis, 79 N. C. 426.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1500.

If the purchasing representative be insolvent, a court of chancery will set aside the sale not only as against him but as against purchasers under him with notice. McHartney v. Calhoon, 17 Ala. 301. And see Joyner v. Conyers, 59 N. C. 78.

9. Georgia.— Word v. Davis, 107 Ga. 780, 33 S. E. 691.

Illinois.— Williams v. Rhodes, 81 Ill. 571.

Kentucky.— Johnson v. Poff, 59 S. W. 325, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 950.

Maryland.— Williams v. Marshall, 4 Gill & J. 376.

Pennsylvania.— Taggot v. Reilly, 3 Phila. 196.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1500.

After the lapse of three years a sale by the administrator indirectly to himself may be set aside on the application of any creditor of the estate. Hannum's Appeal, 1 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 362; Worth's Estate, 1 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 297.

10. Froneberger v. Lewis, 79 N. C. 426; Armor v. Cochrane, 66 Pa. St. 308. See also Hannum's Appeal, 1 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 362.

The proper method to obtain the necessary leave of court is not by petition, but by a bill to which all persons interested should be made parties. In re Patterson, (N. J. Ch. 1890) 20 Atl. 486. And the application should show that the representative's sureties are willing that the request should be granted. Lewis' Estate, 1 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 313.

11. Highsmith v. Whitehurst, 120 N. C. 123, 23 S. E. 917; Howe v. Riddle, 5 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 232, 3 Am. L. Rec. 648, with interest.

12. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (VI), (C).

Sale of personalty under testamentary authority or common-law power see supra, VIII, P, 2, f, (II).

avoided.[13] But it has been said that the fact that the purchaser is a son of the administrator does not compel an inference of fraud, but is merely a circumstance to be carefully considered with others in the case.[14]

6. Attorney of Representative.[15] A sale of realty to the attorney of the representative who obtained the order of sale may be set aside as against public policy.[16]

7. Judge, Appraiser, or Commissioner. A purchase by the judge who ordered the sale,[17] by the person who appraised the lands,[18] or by one of several commissioners appointed to make the sale,[19] is objectionable. But the fact that one tract of land was purchased by the probate judge does not invalidate a deed for another and different tract sold to another person at the same sale, although both purchases were included in the same report to the probate court.[20]

N. Bids and Offers — 1. In General. An agreement made by the representative before obtaining an order of sale to accept a certain price for land of the estate is not necessarily fraudulent if the sale is subsequently made in pursuance of the forms and requirements of law.[21] The representative offering land for sale at public outcry has the right to withdraw the offer of the land at any time before the hammer falls.[22] If land is advertised as containing about a certain number of acres but is described by metes and bounds and a purchaser bids a round sum for the land, he cannot be held for a greater amount than the price bid, although it be subsequently discovered that the tract contains a considerable number of acres more than advertised.[23] Where land was knocked down at a certain bid and two persons claimed the bid and the land was immediately reoffered by order of the executors and was knocked down to one of the said bidders at a higher price than his previous bid, he became liable to complete his contract

13. Lowery v. Idleson, 117 Ga. 778, 45 S. E. 51; Scott v. Gorton, 14 La. 111, 33 Am. Dec. 576; Dundas' Appeal, 64 Pa. St. 325. But compare Crawford v. Gray, 131 Ind. 53, 30 N. E. 885.

14. Cain v. McGeenty, 41 Minn. 194, 42 N. W. 933.

15. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (VI), (E).

16. West v. Waddill, 33 Ark. 575.

A purchase by the law partner of the representative's attorney will not be set aside, unless bad faith or fraud be clearly shown, where the separate business of each lawyer was unaffected by the partnership and the purchaser had nothing to do with the affairs of the estate for the administrator of which his partner was the attorney, and held himself aloof from all dealings with the administrator. Gibson v. Gossom, 65 Ark. 631, 47 S. W. 237.

17. Livingston v. Cochran, 33 Ark. 294. See also Scott v. Calvit, 2 La. 69; Woods v. Munroe, 17 Mich. 238.

Sale voidable only. — A purchase by the probate judge is not absolutely void but merely voidable at the instance of those interested in the estate. Scott v. Calvit, 2 La. 69. And the fact that the land sold at an administrator's sale was deeded by the purchaser to a judge of probate is not such notice of fraud or wrong as would preclude any other person from becoming a bona fide purchaser, although the deed was by mistake made to bear date before the confirmation of the sale. Woods v. Munroe, 17 Mich. 238. But see Livingston v. Cochran, 33 Ark. 294, holding that the purchaser of a bid of a probate judge with knowledge that he was judge and had made the order of sale is not an innocent purchaser.

18. Armstrong v. Huston, 8 Ohio 552.

19. Saltmarsh v. Veene, 4 Port. (Ala.) 283, 30 Am. Dec. 525.

20. Bacon v. Morrison, 57 Mo. 68.

21. California. — Stuart v. Allen, 16 Cal. 473, 76 Am. Dec. 551.

Illinois. — Goodbody v. Goodbody, 95 Ill. 456.

Louisiana. — Brown v. Jacobs, 24 La. Ann. 526.

Michigan. — Norman v. Olney, 64 Mich. 553, 31 N. W. 555.

North Carolina. — Coffin v. Cook, 106 N. C. 376, 11 S. E. 371.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1504.

22. Tillman v. Dunman, 114 Ga. 406, 40 S. E. 244, 88 Am. St. Rep. 28, 57 L. R. A. 784; Bean v. Kirkpatrick, 105 Ga. 476, 30 S. E. 426.

Collusive withdrawal of property from sale. — Although the withdrawal be the result of collusion between the representative and another for the purpose of transferring the property by private sale, the person who made the last and highest bid before the withdrawal cannot insist upon the right to take the land as a purchaser. Tillman v. Dunman, 114 Ga. 406, 40 S. E. 244, 88 Am. St. Rep. 28, 57 L. R. A. 784, holding that, although the fraud of the representative would be open to inquiry by legatees and creditors, it was not open to inquiry at the instance of a stranger.

23. Dalton v. Rust, 22 Tex. 133.

at his last bid.[24] If a purchaser files a written bid for land sold under an order of court and the sale be confirmed according to the bid, he cannot have the confirmation vacated and be released on the ground that the terms of the bid vary from the order and notice of sale.[25]

2. Chilling Bidding. An agreement or combination whereby the bidding for the property is restricted or prevented is fraudulent and is ground for setting aside the sale.[26]

3. Puffing. The employment of a puffer by a person interested in the estate, merely to raise the price at the sale, is usually held a fraud on the purchaser, which entitles him to be relieved from his purchase;[27] but the mere fact that the representative bid at the sale is not a ground for objection by the other bidders if his bid was made in good faith and for the purpose of obtaining the property for himself.[28]

O. Payment — 1. In General.[29] If property is sold to several jointly, each purchaser is liable individually for the entire amount of the consideration.[30] If an administrator purchases property of the succession and gives his note therefor payable to his agent for the use of the succession, a valid obligation is created, the real obligees being the heirs and creditors of the succession.[31] If a person buys property with the understanding that he is to discharge claims against the estate, his obligation, if inchoate, is made perfect against him the moment he proceeds to avail himself of his rights.[32] Ordinarily a purchaser is not entitled to deduct from the price the value of improvements put on the land

24. Warehime v. Graf, 83 Md. 98, 34 Atl. 364.

25. In re Otis, Myr. Prob. (Cal.) 222.

26. Chaffe v. Meyer, 34 La. Ann. 1031; Grant v. Lloyd, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 191.

Contract not fraudulent.— Where two attorneys representing allowed claims against the estate of a decedent in excess of the value of certain land, constituting the whole estate, agreed that as between themselves all the allowances should be of equal rank, and that upon a sale of the land one of them should buy it for the use of all creditors "pro rata," unless some other person should bid enough to pay the debts, the contract was not fraudulent, as preventing competition, and a purchase pursuant to its terms was valid. Murphy v. De France, 105 Mo. 53, 15 S. W. 949, 16 S. W. 861.

Laches.— The right to have the sale set aside on the ground of fraud on the part of the purchaser in preventing persons from bidding against him may of course be lost by laches. Kellogg v. Wilson, 89 Ill. 357, holding that after a delay of eight years the sale would not be set aside except upon clear proof.

27. Backenstoss v. Stahler, 33 Pa. St. 251, 75 Am. Dec. 592; Pennock's Appeal, 14 Pa. St. 446, 53 Am. Dec. 561; Dively's Estate, 1 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 359, holding that the sale may be set aside, although the officer in charge of the sale has no knowledge of the arrangement for puffing. But see East v. Wood, 62 Ala. 313 (holding that the purchaser could not rescind because the person interested in the estate had employed a person obnoxious to the bidders to compete for the purchase, where the administrator was not inculpated in the transaction); McMillan v. Harris, 110 Ga. 72, 35 S. E. 334, 78 Am. St. Rep. 93, 48 L. R. A. 345 (holding that the fact that persons entitled to the proceeds of land sold by an executor under order of court engaged a third person to buy at the sale and run the price up to a specified amount, with the understanding that if knocked down to him they would take it off his hands is not a ground for setting the sale aside).

Time for objection.— The purchaser should make his objection before the sale is confirmed; for after confirmation and the delivery of the deed and possession thereunder the objection comes too late. Backenstoss v. Stahler, 33 Pa. St. 251, 75 Am. Dec. 592.

Waiver of right to avoid purchase.— A purchaser who has full knowledge that a puffer has been employed and nevertheless gives his notes for the purchase-money waives his right to have his purchase annulled. Robinson v. Robinson, 11 Bush (Ky.) 174.

28. Riggs v. Schweitzer, 170 Pa. St. 549, 33 Atl. 116; Pennock's Appeal, 14 Pa. St. 446, 53 Am. Dec. 561.

29. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (VIII), (A).

Sale of personalty under testamentary authority or common-law power see supra, VIII, P, 2, h.

30. Markle's Estate, 5 Pa. Dist. 348, holding that his remedy, if he is forced to pay more than his share, is contribution from his copurchasers.

31. Mouton v. Beauchamp, 10 La. Ann. 666, holding also that he cannot disavow the sale and resist payment of the note without tendering back the property. Purchase by representative generally see supra, XII, M, 4.

32. Decuir v. Ferrior, McGloin (La.) 205.

by third persons whom he may possibly be compelled to remunerate.[33] If a purchaser deposits the price with a notary, he takes the risk of loss unless the executor is formally put in default or expressly or impliedly consents to the deposit.[34] If, on a sale by licitation, the wife's share of the proceeds is retained by the husband, the purchaser, she cannot avoid the sale on the ground of non-payment of her portion of the proceeds.[35] Where the proceeds of a sale are directed to be divided among testator's children, the administrator is entitled to receive the money in preference to a judgment creditor of one of the children.[36] The rights of a bona fide purchaser of a note given to heirs for the price of land sold at partition sale are paramount to the rights of an administrator seeking to subject the note to the payment of the ancestor's debts as assets of the estate.[37]

2. Payment Before Due. Although the terms of sale of a decedent's land contemplate a period of credit in whole or in part, actual payment before such period matures may fairly be accepted by the representative.[38]

3. Medium of Payment.[39] As a general rule the representative can receive nothing but money upon the sale of his decedent's property,[40] and if he accepts depreciated currency he is accountable for the full value in standard money, although he acted in good faith.[41] Notes taken by an executor for property sold to pay debts are not assets until they are due and collected.[42]

4. When Property Sold Is Encumbered.[43] As a rule the purchaser takes the property subject to fixed encumbrances thereon, and his bid is therefore considered without reference to the encumbrances.[44]

33. Rutherford v. Martin, 3 Mart. N. S. (La.) 63.

34. O'Keefe's Succession, 12 La. Ann. 246, where the notary absconded with the price.

35. Huguet v. Bates, 32 La. 454.

36. Allison v. Wilson, 13 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 330.

37. Rowecamp v. Meyer, 6 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 1128, 10 Am. L. Rec. 566.

38. Halleck v. Guy, 9 Cal. 181, 70 Am. Dec. 643; Brown v. Jacobs, 24 La. Ann. 526; Gwynn v. Dorsey, 4 Gill & J. (Md.) 453.

Discount to purchaser see Halleck v. Guy, 9 Cal. 181, 70 Am. Dec. 643; Canonge's Succession, 1 La. Ann. 212.

39. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (VIII), (B).

40. Chandler v. Schoonover, 14 Ind. 324.

The court has no authority to direct a sale to be made for anything but legal currency. Doe v. Hileman, 2 Ill. 323, holding that the court had no authority to direct payment in notes of a state bank, but that a sale under such an order was not void but merely voidable.

41. Brewer v. Vanarsdale, 6 Dana (Ky.) 204.

Receipt of Confederate currency see the following cases:

Alabama.— Stewart v. Lee, 56 Ala. 53; Hudgens v. Cameron, 50 Ala. 379; Clark v. Bernstein, 49 Ala. 596; Kitchell v. Jackson, 44 Ala. 302.

Louisiana.— Brown v. Jacobs, 24 La. Ann. 526; Martin v. Singleton, 23 La. Ann. 551.

South Carolina.— De Saussure v. McClenaghan, 6 S. C. 83.

Texas.— Trammel v. Philleo, 33 Tex. 395.

Virginia.— Poague v. Greenlee, 22 Gratt. 724.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1509.

Waiver of objection.— If currency is received by distributees at its nominal value with full knowledge of the transaction, they will not be permitted to disavow their deliberate act after a period of several years. Brewer v. Vanarsdale, 6 Dana (Ky.) 204.

42. McKay v. Flowers, 44 N. C. 211. Where, however, a person buys land at an administrator's sale, pays a part of the price in cash, and delivers to the administrator a note for the balance, under an agreement that the note will be paid upon demand if it becomes necessary for the administrator to have the cash for the purpose of distribution, such note, in a proceeding to marshal the assets of the estate, may be regarded as cash in the administrator's hands, so far, at least, as to warrant a judgment against the maker for such portion of the amount of the note as may be requisite for the administration of the estate. Bellerby v. Thomas, 105 Ga. 477, 30 S. E. 425.

43. Purchase by encumbrancer see infra, XII, O, 6.

Terms and conditions of sale when property encumbered see supra, XII, L, 3.

44. Crosson's Estate, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 414, 22 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 226 [affirmed in 125 Pa. St. 380, 17 Atl. 423], holding, however, that where the auctioneer announced that the property was subject to a mortgage, that the amount due thereon was unascertained, and that to enable buyers to bid intelligently and know exactly what they were paying for the property, he would cry the sale as if there were no such mortgage, the purchaser might deduct the balance due on the mortgage from the amount of his bid.

Payment in discharge of dower.— Where lands are sold to pay debts of the estate, and the purchaser, pursuant to an agreement

5. Purchase by Heir, Distributee, Etc. If a purchaser at the sale is a beneficiary of the estate, deduction or offset as to the price may sometimes be conveniently made;[45] but retention of the price is not permissible as against the immediate right of creditors to be paid from the net proceeds of the sale.[46] Subject to some exceptions, a distributee purchasing at the administrator's sale cannot enjoin the collection of his bonds for the purchase-money until his distributive share is determined and set off against the bond.[47]

6. Purchase by Person Holding Claim Against Estate or Representative. A simple contract creditor of an estate cannot as a general rule deduct the amount of his claim from the amount of the price due from him,[48] and the representative cannot ordinarily make a binding agreement with the creditor to allow a credit on his claim in payment of the price.[49] A set-off in such case is said to be open to the objection of lack of mutuality,[50] and to the further and more serious objection that in this way the person to whom the set-off was allowed would obtain an with the widow, pays her a sum in discharge of dower, he is not entitled to abate his bid to the extent of the payment. Weakley v. Gurley, 60 Ala. 399.

In Louisiana the purchaser is entitled to retain in his hands out of the price the amount required to satisfy privileged debts in special hypothecation to which the property was sold subject. See Leverich's Succession, 47 La. Ann. 1665, 18 So. 700; Triche's Succession, 29 La. Ann. 384; Bradford v. Dortch, 13 La. 79. Deduction of the amount of a tax lien from the amount of the purchase-money is also allowable. Moore v. Moore, 22 La. 226.

45. Kenley v. Bryan, 110 Ill. 652; Mason v. Bemiss, 38 La. Ann. 935; Markle's Estate, 5 Pa. Dist. 47, 17 Pa. Co. Ct. 337.

The father of minor legatees cannot, on purchasing, retain the price because entitled to receive the legacy for them and to enjoy the usufruct thereof during marriage. His debt to the estate is personal, and his claim to the legacy in autre droit. Gorton v. Gorton, 12 La. 476.

The husband of decedent's daughter, not being an heir of decedent, must, when he has contracted with the administrator for purchases, pay the debt he contracted for whether or not there are sufficient funds in the administrator's hands to pay the debts of the deceased. Fluker v. Kent, 27 La. Ann. 37.

46. Harris v. Harris, 12 La. Ann. 10; Patrick v. Bryan, 6 La. Ann. 699, holding that, if heirs purchase so large a portion of an estate that there is not enough due from other persons to pay the debts, they can be forced by the administrator to pay such portions as are over their estimated shares of the succession. See also Mason v. Bemiss, 38 La. Ann. 935, 938.

47. Hickerson v. Helm, 2 Rob. (Va.) 628.

In Louisiana, under Civ. Code, § 2625, heirs may purchase property of the succession to the amount of their proportion, and are not obliged to pay the purchase-money until a liquidation is had, by which it is ascertained what balance there is in their favor or against them. See Fulker v. Kent, 27 La. Ann. 37; Mavor v. Armant, 14 La. Ann. 181. Although the purchasing heir be not obliged to pay the surplus of the price above the portion coming to him until the estate is partitioned, he must, even from a period anterior to the partition, pay interest when stipulated as part of the price; otherwise his position would be more favorable than that of the rest. Marionneaux v. Marionneaux, 12 Rob. (La.) 666. See also Aguillard's Succession, 13 La. Ann. 97, holding that heirs are chargeable with the interest stipulated in their notes from maturity until the day of the formation of the mass of the estate for partition.

48. Alabama.— Walker v. Tyson, 52 Ala. 593.

Arkansas.—Bishop v. Dillard, 49 Ark. 285, 5 S. W. 341.

Illinois.— See Harding v. Shepard, 107 Ill. 264.

Louisiana.— Pendarvis v. Wall, 14 La. Ann. 449; Green v. Davis, 7 Mart. N. S. 238. Contra, Johns v. Race, 48 La. Ann. 1170, 20 So. 660.

Maryland.— Schwallenberg v. Jennings, 43 Md. 554.

Mississippi.— Cotton v. Parker, Sm. & M. Ch. 191, holding that the purchaser cannot buy up claims against the estate after it is declared insolvent and offset them against the demand of the representative for the purchase-money. See also Mellen v. Boarman, 13 Sm. & M. 100.

New Mexico.— Albuquerque First Nat. Bank v. Lee, 8 N. M. 589, 45 Pac. 1114, holding that a provision in the decree of sale giving the creditor a right to bid upon the property and pay that bid in the amount of the claim which the estate owes him is error.

New York.— Thompson v. Whitmarsh, 100 N. Y. 35, 2 N. E. 273.

Texas.— Hall v. Hall, 11 Tex. 526.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1512.

49. Bishop v. Dillard, 49 Ark. 285, 5 S. W. 341; Rindge v. Oliphint, 62 Tex. 682. But see May v. Taylor, 27 Tex. 125.

50. See Moody v. Shaw, 85 Ind. 88; Dayhuff v. Dayhuff, 27 Ind. 158; Mellen v. Boarman, 13 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 100. But see Blanchard v. Lockett, 4 Rob. (La.) 370.

advantage over other creditors of the estate.[51] But under circumstances where the purchasing creditor would obtain no preference a set-off is sometimes allowed[52] and an agreement therefor enforced.[53] A mortgagee or other lienor who becomes purchaser at the sale and is entitled as lienor to receive part of the proceeds of the sale may set off the amount of his lien against the amount of his bid.[54] A purchaser cannot set off an amount paid by him for taxes which have accrued subsequent to the death of decedent and prior to the sale, for the representative is not obliged to pay taxes on land accruing after decedent's death, and the purchaser takes the land subject to any lien thereon for taxes due.[55] The right of set-off or of retaining out of the purchase-price, where it exists, is subject to the duty of paying expenses, commissions, or "legal costs."[56] A discharge of the personal debt of the representative to the purchaser in consideration for the property is unauthorized,[57] and the sale may be set aside or the purchaser held liable for the purchase-money,[58] but if with full knowledge of the facts the persons interested in the estate elect to charge the administrator with the amount in his account, they cannot afterward revoke their election and proceed in equity against the purchaser.[59]

7. Security For Purchase-Money — a. In General. The requisites as to the

51. Maryland.—Schwallenberg v. Jennings, 43 Md. 554.

New Mexico.— Albuquerque First Nat. Bank v. Lee, 8 N. M. 589, 45 Pac. 1114.

North Carolina.— Pate v. Oliver, 104 N. C. 458, 10 S. E. 709. See also Brandon v. Allison, 66 N. C. 532.

Pennsylvania.— Singerly v. Swain, 33 Pa. St. 102, 75 Am. Dec. 581.

Texas.— Hall v. Hall, 11 Tex. 526.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1512.

52. Dickinson v. Chism, 2 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 144. See also Ellett v. Reid, 25 W. Va. 550.

If the purchaser is the sole creditor of the estate a set-off may be allowed. In re Albert, 80 Mo. App. 557; Hall v. Hall, 11 Tex. 526. See also Brandon v. Allison, 66 N. C. 532.

If there be no debt of superior or equal dignity to that offered in set-off, a set-off is proper. Ransom v. McClees, 64 N. C. 17. See also Dickinson v. Chism, 2 T. B. Mon (Ky.) 144.

53. Norton v. Edwards, 66 N. C. 367 [distinguishing Brandon v. Allison, 66 N. C. 532].

54. Bellow's Succession, 108 La. 477, 32 So. 618; Tertrou v. Durand, 30 La. Ann. 1108; Irwin v. Guthrie, 198 Pa. St. 267, 47 Atl. 992; Claridge v. Lavenburg, 7 Tex. Civ. App. 155, 26 S. W. 324. And see In re Turner, 128 Cal. 388, 392, 60 Pac. 967; McDaniel v. Hooks, 30 Ga. 981 (agreement to allow such set-off); Singerly v. Swain, 33 Pa. St. 102, 75 Am. Dec. 581.

The holder of a lien claim for whose benefit the land is sold may of course retain. Bacon v. McNutt, 3 Mart. N. S. (La.) 129; Huddleston v. Kempner, (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 28 S. W. 236.

Where this right is given to the lienor by statute it is necessary for him to pursue his right according to the terms of the statute. In re Turner, 128 Cal. 388, 60 Pac. 967; Singerly v. Swain, 33 Pa. St. 102, 75 Am. Dec. 581.

In Louisiana the mortgage creditor who purchases at a succession sale of property on which a mortgage is a lien may retain the amount of his mortgage out of the price on executing a bond with security in favor of the representative for a sum to be fixed by court, conditioned that he will pay such sums as may be ascertained on the settlement of the succession to be payable in preference to him out of the proceeds of the property so purchased by him up to the amount of his bid. Bellow's Succession, 108 La. 477, 32 So. 618; Tertrou v. Durand, 30 La. Ann. 1108.

Vendor's lien.— Under a statute by which the purchaser of land of a decedent which has not been paid for takes subject to the vendor's lien for the purchase-money, the vendor himself, upon becoming a purchaser, stands upon the same footing as a stranger, and must pay the amount of his bid without deducting his claim; for, as he purchased at sale only the right, title, and interest of the decedent, his bid for the land was in effect the amount of his lien as well as the amount of his bid. Ross v. Julian, 70 Mo. 209.

55. Henderson v. Whitinger, 56 Ind. 131.

The mere promise by the representative to allow the purchaser a set-off for taxes paid by him at the request of the representative is not sufficient to bind the estate, in the absence of facts which show a right to charge the estate or that a consideration for the promise arose prior to decedent's death. Moody v. Shaw, 85 Ind. 88.

56. Becker v. Espenshade, 8 Pa. Dist. 525 (holding that where land is sold to a lien creditor for less than the amount of his lien, the "legal costs" which he must pay in cash include the administrator's commission on the purchase-money, and that two and one-half per cent is the proper rate for the commission); Claridge v. Lavenburg, 7 Tex. Civ. App. 155, 26 S. W. 324.

57. Nunn v. Norris, 58 Ala. 202; Chandler v. Schoonover, 14 Ind. 324.

58. Chandler v. Schoonover, 14 Ind. 324.

59. Nunn v. Norris, 58 Ala. 202.

security which should be given by the purchaser who does not pay cash vary in different jurisdictions.[60] The court cannot authorize, nor can the representative demand, security of a different character than that provided for by statute.[61] If the sureties on notes offered have all the qualifications required by statute, the representative cannot arbitrarily reject the notes, but if his decision as to the sufficiency of the sureties was made in good faith and with due caution it should stand.[62] An insertion of a condition in the bond that no other property than that purchased shall be levied on for the payment of the bond is beyond the power of an administrator who has been directed to sell real estate and to secure the purchase-money by a bond and mortgage.[63] The interest of the heirs in a recognizance given for the price is several and not joint, and the liability of the recognizors is to each of the heirs severally and not jointly.[64] A surety is not discharged for irregularities in the sale if they did not render the same an absolute nullity and have to all appearances been cured;[65] nor will it avail him as a defense to an action on a note given for the price that he became surety in the expectation that the administrator would perform his duty to the estate by also taking mortgage security required by law and by the order of sale.[66] Where a bond and mortgage given for the price are assigned to a creditor of the estate in satisfaction of his claim, they are not extinguished by operation of law, but the assignee may enforce the mortgage.[67]

b. Vendor's Lien. Both by the equitable doctrine[68] and by statute in some states[69] land sold under a valid[70] order of court passes to the purchaser subject to a vendor's lien. The taking of security for the purchase-price does not, in the absence of agreement to that end, affect the right to enforce the lien against the land.[71] The representative has no authority to release the vendor's lien.[72] A person not the purchaser who pays the purchase-price may be subrogated to the lien.[73]

60. See State v. Baskin, 1 Strobh. (S. C.) 35 (holding that the bond contemplated by the South Carolina act of 1839 to be given to the ordinary by an executor who purchases at his own sale is not a money bond but a bond conditioned to account to the parties interested for the purchase-money and interest when the property sold for its value or, if it is sold for less, to account for its actual value); Hall v. Hall, 11 Tex. 526 (holding that the taking of mortgage security for the price is not authorized by Hartley Dig. Tex. arts. 1016, 1023, 1039).

The giving of separate purchase bonds by two purchasers when the land was sold as a whole and the fact that the commissioner making the sale allowed the purchasers to divide the land does not invalidate the sale if each bond was proportioned to the value of the obligor's share of the land. Rodgers v. Rodgers, 31 S. W. 139, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 358.

61. Howison v. Oakley, 118 Ala. 215, 23 So. 810.

62. Hamilton v. Bonham, 20 Ohio Cir. Ct. 252.

63. Sage v. Nock, 4 Pa. L. J. Rep. 518.

64. Phillips v. Cannon, 4 Del. Ch. 58.

65. Quinn's Succession, 34 La. Ann. 878.

66. Wornell v. Williams, 19 Tex. 180.

67. Clowney v. Cathcart, 2 S. C. 395.

68. Alabama.— Strange v. Keenan, 8 Ala. 816.

Georgia.— See Cook v. Cook, 67 Ga. 381; McClure v. Williams, 58 Ga. 494, sale before vendor's lien abolished.

Louisiana.— Scott v. Scott, 42 La. Ann. 766, 7 So. 716; Jones v. Read, 1 La. Ann. 200.

Missouri.— Thomas v. Bridges, 73 Mo. 530.

North Carolina.— Mast v. Raper, 81 N. C. 330.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1514.

Retaining title as security.— Where it is agreed that the title of personalty shall remain in the administrator as security for what might be due to him from the purchaser, the administrator may enforce his right as against an execution of a creditor of the purchaser. Napier v. Wightman, Speers Eq. (S. C.) 357.

69. Gardner v. Kelso, 80 Ala. 497, 2 So. 680; Hise v. Geiger, 7 Watts & S. (Pa.) 273. See also Elliott v. Connell, 5 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 91.

70. A sale under a void order can give rise to no lien for the purchase-money. Hamilton v. Lockhart, 41 Miss. 460.

71. Strange v. Keenan, 8 Ala. 816; Hoggatt v. Wade, 10 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 143; Hise v. Geiger, 7 Watts & S. (Pa.) 273. See also Bogart v. Bell, 112 Ala. 412, 20 So. 511, holding that the fact that the heirs charged the administrator who was the purchaser with the price did not constitute an election to rely on the liability of his sureties on the bond for the price, so as to prevent them from enforcing payment out of the land.

72. Wood v. Sullens, 44 Ala. 686. See also Elliott v. Connell, 5 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 91.

73. Rather v. Young, 56 Ala. 94 (where the administrator charged himself with the

The lien may be enforced against a voluntary transferee[74] or against a purchaser with notice.[75] Where, under the statute, a conveyance cannot be ordered until the whole of the purchase-money has been paid, a decree confirming the sale and directing a conveyance extinguishes the lien or at least casts upon the heirs seeking to enforce a vendor's lien the burden of showing non-payment.[76] If the lien be once extinguished, it cannot be revived by a subsequent transaction between the parties.[77] The purchaser's vendee who buys a part of the property sold to the purchaser under order of court is entitled to have his land exonerated to the extent of the value of the land yet remaining in his vendor,[78] and if the heirs release the first purchaser they waive the lien to that extent against the land of the purchaser's vendee.[79] A bill to enforce a vendor's lien filed after a lapse of nine years cannot be maintained.[80]

8. Rights and Liabilities on Failure or Refusal of Bidder to Complete Purchase. As an incident to its right to order the sale of real property, the court may enforce the remedies provided by law against a bidder who refuses to comply with his bid,[81] and may compel the purchaser to perform his contract.[82] The purchaser, however, cannot be compelled to carry out his contract if the decree[83] or proceedings thereon[84] are insufficient to transfer a good title or if unpaid purchase-money and was allowed to enforce the vendor's lien on the land sold); Thomas v. Bridges, 73 Mo. 530 (where the administrator was held liable for a credit allowed to the purchaser and enforced the lien to the amount of the credit against the land); Mast v. Raper, 81 N. C. 330 (holding a surety on the purchaser's note subrogated to the right of enforcement of the lien against the land). See also Stabler v. Spencer, 64 Ala. 496, where the administrator who was one of the heirs took the purchaser's unpaid note as a part of his distributive share and was subrogated to the lien.

74. Thomas v. Bridges, 73 Mo. 530.

75. Strange v. Keenan, 8 Ala. 816.

What is sufficient notice.— A deed of the land by the administrator which shows that the land belonged to the estate, that he sold under order of court, and that part of the purchase-money had not become due is sufficient to charge the grantee of the purchaser with notice of the lien for the purchase-money. Hoggatt v. Wade, 10 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 143. A mortgage thus created by statute is itself constructive notice of its existence. Miller v. Helm, 2 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 687.

76. Wood v. Stanley, 78 Ala. 348; Sims v. Sampey, 64 Ala. 230.

77. Sims v. Sampey, 64 Ala. 230.

78. Dugger v. Tayloe, 60 Ala. 504.

79. Dugger v. Tayloe, 60 Ala. 504.

80. Wood v. Stanley, 78 Ala. 348.

81. Bobb's Succession, 27 La. Ann. 344. See also Lewis v. Casenave, 6 La. 437.

82. Mannessier's Succession, 44 La. Ann. 803, 11 So. 139; Raguet v. Barron, 6 Mart. N. S. (La.) 659; Mount v. Brown, 33 Miss. 566, 69 Am. Dec. 362; McLaurin v. Parker, 24 Miss. 509; Maul v. Hellman, 39 Nebr. 322, 58 N. W. 112. See also Stebbins v. Field, 43 Mich. 333, 5 N. W. 394.

Rule to show cause is a proper mode of proceeding to compel the purchaser to complete his purchase. Haggerty's Succession, 28 La. Ann. 37.

If another bidder is substituted upon the refusal of the first bidder to comply with his bid, the second bidder can be compelled to comply with his contract. Halleck v. Guy, 9 Cal. 181, 70 Am. Dec. 643.

83. Tilton v. Pearson, 67 Ill. App. 372. See also Michel's Succession, 20 La. Ann. 233, holding that a sale of property of a succession made after the order authorizing the sale was suspended by a new order is a nullity and therefore the purchaser is not obliged to carry out the contract.

The rightfulness of the recusation of a judge of the court from which the order of sale issued cannot be put at issue in a rule to compel the purchaser at a succession sale to comply with his bid. Lacroix's Succession, 30 La. Ann. 924.

84. Weber's Succession, 16 La. Ann. 420, where, however, the court said that it was a different thing if the purchaser complied voluntarily with the terms of the sale and went into possession. See, however, Halleck v. Guy, 9 Cal. 181, 70 Am. Dec. 643, holding that the purchaser cannot refuse to pay on the ground that the notice of sale stated a good title and that the title was not good, for the sale was stated in the notice as a probate sale and the purchaser was bound to examine the title himself.

Mere irregularities in the sale do not create a cloud upon the title and will not relieve the purchaser from his bid, for he is protected by the decree under which the sale was made and by his right to restitution in case of loss or injury. Byrne's Succession, 38 La. Ann. 518.

The purchaser cannot object to the title because the widow does not sign the act of sale or because the auctioneer and notary refuse to furnish the title for examination. Merrick v. North, 28 La. Ann. 878.

Proof showing non-existence of alleged cloud on title.— Where a purchaser of real property at a succession sale refused to accept the title on the ground that one A had an undivided interest in the land by in-there have been misrepresentations as to the terms of sale.[85] Where the purchaser fails to comply with the terms of his contract, the representative may treat the property bid off by such purchaser as unsold,[86] or if the highest bidder refuses to comply with his bid, it is not wrong to allow the sale to be returned as made to the next highest bidder.[87] Whether a loss by destruction of the property occurring between the date of sale and the confirmation thereof is to be borne by the purchaser or the estate depends upon the view taken by the courts of the particular jurisdiction as to the time when the purchase is complete.[88] If the purchaser refuses to comply with his bid on the ground that the property is subject to an encumbrance he cannot, after the encumbrance has been discharged, compel a conveyance upon a tender of the amount of his bid.[89]

9. Actions to Recover Purchase-Money[90] — a. Right of Action. The fact that a statute provides for a resale in case the successful bidder defaults does not preclude a right of action for the amount of the bid, for the statutory remedy is merely cumulative.[91] The action may be brought before the expiration of the time of credit allowed by the terms of the sale if the purchaser has failed to comply with the terms.[92] Under statutes permitting the assertion by cross petition of any claim against persons not parties arising out of the same subject-matter, it appears that a defendant in an action by the administrator for the purchase-money may litigate a cause of action between himself and the administrator in his individual capacity.[93] heritance from a minor who had owned the land in common with deceased, but the proof showed that the alleged undivided interest was transferred to the deceased by the minor's parent during her lifetime, and that consequently no title by inheritance passed at her death, it was held that the purchaser was properly required to accept the title. Mannessier's Succession, 44 La. Ann. 803, 11 So. 139.

85. Kingsbery v. Love, 95 Ga. 543, 22 S. E. 617, holding that, if the purchaser has been misled by the administrator to believe that his bid would be for the land free from encumbrances, he cannot be forced to complete his purchase and pay for the land subject to encumbrances.

Failure of the administrator to comply with an agreement made with the purchaser to apply the purchase-money to the payment of encumbrances does not justify the purchaser in refusing to comply with his bid, where the order of sale provided that the land should be sold subject to encumbrances. Maul v. Hellman, 39 Nebr. 322, 58 N. W. 112.

If the advertised terms of the sale are varied by an announcement made on the day of the sale, it must be shown by clear and convincing evidence that the purchaser had actual knowledge of the altered terms before he made his bid, if he is to be held liable for the deficiency on resale. Daniel v. Jackson, 53 Ga. 87.

86. Meek v. Beaver, 25 Ind. App. 576, 58 N. E. 730.

87. Stiver's Appeal, 56 Pa. St. 9.

88. See Thomas v. Caldwell, 136 Ala. 518, 34 So. 949 (holding that since the purchaser is to be regarded as the owner of the land from the date of purchase, he must bear the loss, if any occurs, during the time necessarily intervening between the sale and the confirmation); Demmy's Appeal, 43 Pa. St. 155 [following Ex p. Minor, 11 Ves. Jr. 559, 9 Rev. Rep. 247, 32 Eng. Reprint 1205], (holding that, where confirmation of the sale was delayed until a fire had occurred, the widow and heirs, through whose agency and at whose instance the delay had taken place, could not thereafter insist that the sale be confirmed and the purchaser compelled to take the property).

89. Sebastian v. Johnson, 72 Ill. 282, 22 Am. Rep. 144.

90. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (VIII), (C).
Sale of personalty under testamentary authority or common-law power see supra, VIII, P, 2, h.

91. Dawson v. Miller, 20 Tex. 171, 70 Am. Dec. 380.

92. Mount v. Brown, 33 Miss. 566, 69 Am. Dec. 362 (the court saying that the action was not one to recover upon the contract of purchase, but for a failure of duty to comply with the terms of the contract and therefore the right of action became complete as soon as defendant refused to do his duty); Peebles v. Overton, 6 N. C. 384 (holding that where the terms of the sale were twelve months' credit by giving bond with approved security and the purchaser refused to pay the money or give a bond a right of action arose immediately). But compare Kibby v. Chitwood, 2 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 104, holding that assumpsit will not lie in case the purchaser fails to pay cash or put up his bond, although action for tort might.

93. Phillips v. Keifer, 2 Metc. (Ky.) 478, holding that under such statute the purchaser may proceed by cross petition against one of the administrators who claims part of the property as his own and denies that the purchaser has acquired any right to it at his purchase in order to recover of the

b. Jurisdiction. If a stranger to the succession withholds the price of property purchased at the sale, an action for the price can be brought only before a court of ordinary jurisdiction;[94] but if a legatee and universal heir retains the price of property adjudicated to him until his share shall be fixed by the partition, his rights must be settled contradictorily with the other heirs under the direction of the probate court whose decree must fix the portion coming to each.[95] When the representative is before the court to which he has reported a sale and by which the sale has been confirmed, and the homologation of his accounts is pending, the parish court has no jurisdiction at the suit of creditors of the succession to compel the purchaser of the property sold to pay the adjudicated price or to decree the property as still belonging to the succession.[96] If the purchaser attempts to set off a judgment which was originally entered in another county and which was transferred to the county where the sale was made, the issue, whether the consideration for the judgment has failed or not, can be tried only in the court having jurisdiction of the sale.[97]

c. Defenses.[98] That the sale was void for want of authority and that consequently the consideration for the purchase had failed is a good defense to an action for the purchase-money,[99] but the purchaser is estopped from showing the illegality of a sale so long as he retains the property purchased.[1] The purchaser cannot repudiate his bid because of a defective title or no title at all in the decedent when there is no fraud or misrepresentation by the administrator;[2] and it is even held that fraudulent misrepresentations by an administrator as to the title or the encumbrances upon the land sold are no defense to his suit for the purchase-money.[3] To an action for the purchase-price of property purchased at an administrator's sale the plea of ne unques administrator is bad, for the making of the contract of sale admitted the representative capacity of plaintiff.[4] It is no defense to an action for the purchase-money that the representative was interested in the purchase and the sale is therefore voidable at the instance of the heirs and creditors who may have been injured thereby.[5] An agreement by administrator in his individual character for an illegal conversion of the property.

94. See Carraby's Succession, 3 Rob. (La.) 349.

95. Carraby's Succession, 3 Rob. (La.) 349.

96. Swan v. Gayle, 29 La. Ann. 574.

97. Gordon's Appeal, 93 Pa. St. 361.

98. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (VIII), (C), (2).

Sale of personalty under testamentary authority or common-law power see supra, VIII, P, 2, h.

99. Beene v. Collenberger, 38 Ala. 647; Laughman v. Thompson, 6 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 259; Campbell v. Brown, 6 How. (Miss.) 230; Vance v. Davenport, 11 Rich. (S. C.) 517. See also Gwin v. McCaroll, 1 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 151. Compare Blanchard v. Maureau, 3 La. Ann. 128, holding that the invalidity of a probate sale of the property of a succession, resulting from the non-existence of any order therefor in the records of the parish where it was made, is one of which the heirs alone can avail themselves and is no defense to an action against the purchaser for the purchase-money.

If the sale has been validated through ratification, the purchaser when sued for the price cannot urge the danger of eviction because of informality. Stephenson v. Addison, 17 La. 454.

1. Harbin v. Levy, 6 Ala. 399.

2. Halleck v. Guy, 9 Cal. 181, 70 Am. Dec. 643; Keen v. McAfee, 116 Ga. 728, 42 S. E. 1022; Colbert v. Moore, 64 Ga. 502. And see infra, XII, T, 3, b.

The existence of an encumbrance does not constitute a defense to a suit for purchase-money. The purchaser can demand nothing more than a bond of indemnity against future disturbance. Jones v. Read, 1 La. Ann. 200.

3. Riley v. Kepler, 94 Ind. 308. See also Culli v. House, 133 Ala. 304, 33 So. 354, holding that misrepresentations by the administrator as to the quantity of land to be sold are no defense to an action against the bidder for damages for failure to keep his bid good.

The making of false representations is the representative's individual tort for which he is individually liable. Riley v. Kepler, 94 Ind. 308.

If the purchaser was not misled by any false or fraudulent representations they constitute no defense in his behalf. McLaurin v. Parker, 24 Miss. 509.

4. Harbin v. Levi, 6 Ala. 399.

5. McAnulty v. Hodges, 33 Miss. 579. See also Bagby v. Hudson, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 581, holding that, where property was purchased by a third person for one of the executors to whom it was delivered, the purchaser is liable on his note for the purchase-price, the other creditor not knowing of or consenting the commissioners authorized to sell the land or by the representative, by which only an individual obligation is incurred, cannot be urged in defense of an action for the purchase-money.[6] If the purchaser objects to a deed because not in the proper form he should make the objection at the time the deed is tendered. It cannot be raised in defense to an action for deficiency on resale for failure to pay purchase-money.[7] It has been held that legatees who purchase, but do not comply with the terms of sale, cannot afterward plead the statute of limitations when called upon for payment, although they may have had four years' peaceable possession, because the decree for sale is substantially a judgment against the purchaser for the purchase-money.[8]

d. Parties. An action for damages for default of a bidder for land sold under order of court for partition among heirs may be properly brought in the name of the heirs, inasmuch as the legal title is in them and they are entitled to the proceeds of the sale and also to anything recovered for breach of the contract.[9] But an unpaid legatee who is not the administrator or legal representative of decedent cannot collect notes given for real property of the estate sold under order of court by foreclosing the lien for the purchase-money.[10] The administrator de bonis non has the right to enforce the payment of the purchase-money for property sold by his predecessor,[11] unless there has been a rescission or resale by the order of court,[12] for his predecessor cannot maintain such an action after removal.[13] In a suit to obtain the unpaid purchase-price out of the land sold, the heirs have been held necessary parties in order that the court may convey a good title to the purchaser under its decree.[14] If to an action for the price of land sold the defense is that the sale was invalid and the title remained in the heirs the heirs must be made parties.[15] A mortgagee entitled to share in the proceeds of property sold at probate sale and not paid for may by an hypothecary action enforce his claim against the purchaser, when the administrator, although notified of the proceeding, does not object and no creditor claims a preference on the price.[16] To a suit for the purchase-price against the successful bidder at a resale, the defaulting bidder at the first sale is not a necessary party, although he may be a proper party.[17]

e. Pleadings. In some jurisdictions it is held that in a suit to recover the purchase-money on an administrator's sale the complaint must allege that the sale was confirmed, for until confirmed it is not complete or binding and confers no right on the purchaser.[18] In an action for damages against the defaulting bidder to the arrangement. That a purchase by the representative is only voidable see supra, XII, M, 4, c.

6. Jennings v. Jenkins, 9 Ala. 285 (holding that if commissioners authorized by the court to sell land make sale of it in that capacity and execute their individual bonds, with condition to make title when the purchase-money is paid, the execution of such a bond is a collateral matter, which is binding, if at all, upon them individually; and it is therefore no defense in an action upon the notes for the purchase-money that upon a tender of the money they refused to make a title); Dees v. Tildon, 2 La. Ann. 412 (holding that if the purchaser at a sale per aversionem is sued for the price, there being minor heirs, he cannot prove an agreement with the representative and the heirs of age, deducting from the price a certain sum for an alleged deficiency in the quantity; for such an agreement would be an obligation personal to the representative and the adult heirs).

7. Stryker v. Vanderbilt, 27 N. J. L. 68.

8. Coburn v. Magwood, Riley Eq. (S. C.) 187.

9. Howison v. Oakley, 118 Ala. 215, 23 So. 810.

10. Crane v. Warfield, (Ark. 1891) 15 S. W. 609.

11. Cruikshank v. Luttrell, 67 Ala. 318; Harbin v. Levi, 6 Ala. 399; Chandler v. Schoonover, 14 Ind. 324.

12. Cruikshank v. Luttrell, 67 Ala. 318.

13. Harbin v. Levi, 6 Ala. 399.

14. McDonald v. McMahon, 66 Ala. 115; Wallace v. Nichols, 56 Ala. 321. Contra, Cozzens v. Farnan, 30 Ohio St. 491, 27 Am. Rep. 470.

15. Claiborne v. Yoeman, 15 Tex. 44.

16. King v. Hicky, 2 La. Ann. 367.

17. Taylor v. Hosick, 13 Kan. 518.

18. Bell v. Green, 38 Ark. 78. See also Howison v. Oakley, 118 Ala. 215, 242, 23 So. 810, where the court said: "The court was the real vendor, and the administrator was its mere agent to conduct the negotiations, whose acts were subject to confirmation by it is not necessary to aver that there was a resale.[19] In an action for loss due to a default of the bidder and the necessary resale it is not necessary to allege that the first sale was fairly conducted; for fraud, collusion, or unfairness in the sale is a matter of defense to be specially pleaded.[20] A plea of fraudulent representations by the representative is defective if it does not aver that the representations, however false and fraudulent, were relied on in the purchase by defendant and actually deceived him.[21] If the defense is offered that the sale was without authority, the plea should allege that the sale by the executors was not authorized by either an order of court or the provisions of the will.[22] A plea in avoidance of liability for the purchase-money which alleges that the administrator has refused to let the purchaser into possession or to execute a deed has been held defective in not setting out the contract under which defendant purchased and how that has been violated by plaintiff.[23] The damages against a defaulting bidder being composed of two distinct items, namely, (1) the difference between the bid at the first sale and the amount paid at the resale, and (2) the necessary expenses incurred by reason of the resale, a complaint claiming both items is not demurrable because it fails to show that plaintiff is entitled to recover one of them if it contains sufficient allegations to justify a recovery of the other.[24]

f. Presumptions and Proof. It has been held that there is no presumption in an action for the purchase-price that the sale has been confirmed.[25] As against the heirs at law seeking to enforce the vendor's lien against the administrator who purchased, a court of equity will not presume payment of the debt by the administrator to himself, although he reported the sale to the court and it was confirmed and he afterward charged himself with the amount in an annual settlement but in fact never paid it.[26]

g. Execution and Enforcement of Judgment. If an administrator relies on the bond and personal security of a distributee for purchases at a sale of his intestate's personalty and takes no assignment of or lien upon her share of the land, he is not entitled to any higher rights as to that interest than any other creditor; and if suit has been prosecuted, and a judgment obtained on the bond, a prior judgment against the distributee will be entitled to be first satisfied out of such interest.[27]

10. Resale and Recovery of Difference in Price.[28] The probate court has authority to order a new sale if the purchaser at the first sale fails to comply with his bid.[29] If a resale be necessary on account of the wrongful default of the successful bidder, it will be at the defaulting bidder's risk and he will be liable for any loss resulting from the difference of the prices in the two sales,[30] the court. Until the bid was accepted by the court, the purchase was incomplete, the bid was a mere proposition to purchase, and did not, therefore, amount to a contract on which any liability could be incurred." And see also Cruikshank v. Luttrell, 67 Ala. 318; Stout v. Phillippi Mfg., etc., Co., 41 W. Va. 339, 23 S. E. 571, 56 Am. St. Rep. 843.

19. Howison v. Oakley, 118 Ala. 215, 23 So. 810.

20. Howison v. Oakley, 118 Ala. 215, 23 So. 810.

21. Wooldridge v. Womack, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 338.

22. Keen v. McAfee, 116 Ga. 728, 42 S. E. 1022.

23. Matthews v. Evans, 9 Ala. 643.

24. Howison v. Oakley, 118 Ala. 215, 23 So. 810.

How defect taken advantage of.— The defect should be taken advantage of by motion to strike out, by objection to the evidence by which it is sought to prove such damages, or by request for appropriate instructions to the jury. Howison v. Oakley, 118 Ala. 215, 23 So. 810.

25. Walker v. Jessup, 43 Ark. 163; Bell v. Green, 38 Ark. 78.

26. Knight v. Blanton, 51 Ala. 333.

27. Pendergrass v. Pendergrass, 26 S. C. 19, 1 S. E. 45.

28. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (VIII), (D).

29. Landry v. Connely, 4 Rob. (La.) 127 (holding that the court could either compel the bidder to comply with his bid, or order a resale à la folle enchère); Greffet v. Willman, 114 Mo. 106, 21 S. W. 459. But see Bray v. Bray, 16 La. 352.

30. Alabama.— Hutton v. Williams, 35 Ala. 503, 76 Am. Dec. 297; Lamkin v. Crawford, 8 Ala. 153.

Georgia.— Sproull v. Seay, 76 Ga. 27; Alexander v. Herring, 54 Ga. 200.

even although the statute which provides for a resale in case of such default omits to prescribe that the resale shall be at the defaulting bidder's risk.[31] He is also liable for the expenses of the second sale.[32] It is not necessary that the first sale should have been confirmed in order to charge the defaulting purchaser with the loss due to his default,[33] and in some jurisdictions no new order for the resale is necessary.[34] But the successful bidder at the first sale must be put in default before any liability for deficiency on the resale can arise.[35] To hold the defaulting bidder liable for the deficiency, it is necessary that the second sale should be made as soon as practicable,[36] or at least within a reasonable time.[37] If the court orders a resale on account of fraud, the order may be without notice to the fraudulent purchaser;[38] but under a statute which provides that, when it is made to appear to the court that the sureties of the purchaser are insufficient the sale must not be confirmed until the purchaser gives security to the satisfaction of the court, and if such security is not given the sale must be vacated as to the purchaser thus failing, it is a condition precedent to the first purchaser's liability for his default that he should have notice of the finding of the court that his Louisiana.— Smith v. Kinney, 30 La. Ann. 332.

Massachusetts.— Cobb v. Wood, 8 Cush. 228.

Mississippi.— Mount v. Brown, 33 Miss. 566, 69 Am. Dec. 362.

Pennsylvania.— Banes v. Gordon, 9 Pa. St. 426, holding that an order annulling a confirmation of a sale, because of the refusal of the purchaser to complete the purchase, and directing a resale does not rescind the contract so as to preclude a recovery for any deficiency on the resale. But see Morgan's Estate, 11 Pa. Co. Ct. 152.

Texas.— A defaulting bidder is liable for the loss arising from the difference in the two prices with ten per cent damages. Akin v. Horn, 2 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 8.

United States.— Shaw v. Shaw, 21 Fed. Cas. No. 12,724, 4 Cranch C. C. 715.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1518.

Jurisdiction.— The orphan's court has no jurisdiction to compel the defaulting bidder at a sale not authorized by it to make good the deficiency on resale, where, although some of the parties are minors, the others are sui juris. Claypoole's Estate, 3 Pa. Dist. 455, where the court said: "Clearly we have no jurisdiction over those of full age, and as the remedy is a joint one, which cannot well be severed, the proceedings should be in a court that can take jurisdiction of all concerned."

If property is resold for a higher price than at the original sale the defaulting bidder has been held entitled to whatever balance remains of the proceeds of the resale after deducting the proper costs, expenses, and interest. Mealey v. Page, 41 Md. 172.

31. Thomas v. Caldwell, 136 Ala. 518, 34 So. 949; Howison v. Oakley, 118 Ala. 215, 23 So. 810. Contra, McGuinness v. Whalen, 16 R. I. 558, 18 Atl. 158, 27 Am. St. Rep. 763, holding that an administrator's sale is not a judicial sale; that a defaulting bidder is not liable on an implied contract for a deficiency arising from a resale, there being no statutes creating such liability; that the defaulting bidder is liable in an action for his breach of contract; and that the measure of damages is the loss due to his default, and the jury may or may not find that the difference in the two prices is the proper measure of damages.

Commissioner may annex to the terms of sale a condition of resale at the purchaser's risk in case of a failure to comply with his bid, although the court did not so order. Shaw v. Shaw, 21 Fed. Cas. No. 12,724, 4 Cranch C. C. 715.

32. Thomas v. Caldwell, 136 Ala. 518, 34 So. 949; Howison v. Oakley, 118 Ala. 215, 23 So. 810.

33. Culli v. House, 133 Ala. 304, 32 So. 254; Shaw v. Shaw, 21 Fed. Cas. No. 12,724, 4 Cranch C. C. 715. Contra, see Bradbury v. Reed, 23 Tex. 258, under Hartley Dig. art. 1176.

34. Jones v. Hoss, 29 La. Ann. 564; Harris v. Harris, 12 La. Ann. 10; Duncan v. Armant, 3 La. Ann. 84; Short v. Ramsey, 18 Tex. 397. Contra, Greenwalt v. McClure, 7 Ill. App. 152.

35. See Skolfield v. Rhodes, 10 Rob. (La.) 128; Perkins v. Dixon, 1 Rob. (La.) 413.

Tender of a transfer by the representative to the purchaser of stock is not necessary to put the latter in default. Harris v. Harris, 12 La. Ann. 10.

36. Saunders v. Bell, 56 Ga. 442.

The second sale need not be advertised for more than ten days, providing the customary notice be given within that time. Duncan v. Armant, 3 La. Ann. 84.

A delay at the bidder's request does not discharge his liability. Sproull v. Seay, 74 Ga. 676.

37. Short v. Ramsey, 18 Tex. 397.

What is a reasonable time depends upon the circumstances of each case. Short v. Ramsey, 18 Tex. 397, holding that a delay from January to the following October, if unexplained, is such a delay as will discharge the first bidder from all liability to make good any difference in price.

38. Pearson v. Moreland, 7 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 609, 45 Am. Dec. 319.

security is insufficient and that he be given an opportunity to furnish security satisfactory to the court.[39] The representative must not clog the second sale with any conditions different from those of the first which are likely to lower the price, if the purchaser at the first sale is to be held liable for the loss accruing from the second sale;[40] but a defaulting bidder is not discharged from liability by a mere alteration of the terms of the sale prescribed by the court.[41] That the bidder at the second attempt to sell defaulted does not relieve the first defaulter from his liability, which continues up to the time the final sale is completed, when the measure of damages for which he is liable is determined.[42] If the administrator releases the bidder the latter cannot afterward be charged with the deficiency upon the resale,[43] and if the representative puts the purchaser in possession and receives a part of the purchase-money, he loses the right given him by statute to resell the land at the purchaser's risk.[44] A private sale under leave of court does not operate as a waiver of the original contract with the first purchaser.[45] A defaulting bidder who privately agrees to buy or lease from the second purchaser acquiesces in the judgment divesting his title,[46] and an heir in default on his bid ratifies a second sale and renounces all rights under the first adjudication where he accepts his portion of the estate, including notes given for the purchase-price by the second purchaser.[47]

11. Equitable Relief Against Collection of Purchase-Money. Equity will give relief by injunction and rescission against a judgment for purchase-money if the decree of sale was invalid.[48] If part of the land mentioned in the decree of sale was not decedent's property, but a sale was effected upon the administrator's promise that he would not enforce payment for that part of the land until the purchaser had possession under a good title, the promise may be enforced by a court of equity.[49] A bill brought years after the sale to enjoin the collection of the purchase-money of property which became valueless in the purchaser's hands will not lie because the sale was not confirmed.[50] If an injunction be asked on the ground that the purchaser has a valid set-off[51] mutuality must be shown.[52] A purchaser, as a simple debtor, cannot enjoin the execution of a judgment for the purchase-money on the ground that the administration bond is insufficient, for it is immaterial to him whether the bond is good or not.[53] Where a surety in an administrator's bond becomes purchaser he will not be relieved in equity

39. Howison v. Oakley, 118 Ala. 215, 23 So. 810.

40. Banes v. Gordon, 9 Pa. St. 426 [following Paul v. Shallcross, 2 Rawle (Pa.) 326].

41. Singerly v. Swain, 33 Pa. St. 102, 75 Am. Dec. 581, where the court directed that the purchaser at the subsequent sale should be required to pay down one thousand dollars, instead of fifty dollars as before.

42. Sproull v. Seay, 76 Ga. 27.

43. Reynolds v. Dismuke, 48 Ala. 209.

44. Penn v. Willingham, 84 Ga. 360, 10 S. E. 1085, holding that his remedy then is a suit for the unpaid balance.

45. Meek v. Spencer, 8 Ind. 118.

46. Landry v. Connely, 4 Rob. (La.) 127.

47. Skolfield v. Rhodes, 10 Rob. (La.) 128.

48. Dickinson v. Chism, 2 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 144 (where only injunction was prayed); Miller v. Palmer, 55 Miss. 323 (although the application for relief was made several years afterward and judgment was recovered nil dicit and the purchaser might have pleaded failure of consideration, if he had investigated the state of his title, for he will not be regarded as negligent if he in good faith relied upon the validity of the proceedings and had no notice of the defects in his title); Lowry v. McDonald, Sm. & M. Ch. (Miss.) 620. See also Wagener v. Lyles, 29 Ark. 47; Bartee v. Tompkins, 4 Sneed (Tenn.) 623.

Plaintiff will be compelled to do equity by restoring possession to the heirs and accounting for the rents and profits. Miller v. Palmer, 55 Miss. 323.

49. Wright v. Underwood, 6 S. W. 437, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 712.

50. Queener v. Trew, 6 Heisk. (Tenn.) 59.

51. Pleading.— If injunction be prayed on the ground of a set-off, a bill which does not allege that there are no other demands against the estate entitled to precedence over the set-off claimed is not demurrable, but the defense must be made by answer. Dickinson v. Chism, 2 T. B. Mon. (Ky.) 144.

52. Wharton v. Jones, 49 Ala. 102, holding that the purchaser of land could not enjoin a judgment at law on notes for the purchase-money upon the ground that he held powers of attorney from the widow and guardian of some of the infant distributees authorizing him to receive and receipt for their distributive shares of the estate.

53. Wharton v. Jones, 49 Ala. 102.

from the payment of the purchase-money on the ground that the administrator is insolvent, there being no charge of a misapplication of assets.[54]

P. Report or Return. Where, under the statutes, the order or decree of sale is final, it appears that no report is necessary to validate the title acquired by the purchaser;[55] but where the order or decree is merely interlocutory, title depends upon a report and confirmation.[56] Where the deed is required to be made in strict conformity with the order of confirmation the report must state the name of the true purchaser;[57] but in those jurisdictions where it is held a deed may be made to the actual purchaser, although not named in the order, the report is not conclusive as to his identity.[58] The report should show that the sale was conducted in compliance with the statute.[59] The same particularity of description is not required in a report of sale of land by the representative as is necessary in a deed,[60] so if the land can be identified and it appears that it was actually sold and paid for, the sale is not subject to collateral attack;[61] and the administrator may make a sufficient deed as against the heirs or a court of equity on his failure to do so may vest the title in a bona fide purchaser.[62] Where the sale has been of property subject to encumbrances the return should show either that the administrator has sold merely the equity of redemption and taken security from the purchaser to pay the encumbrances and hold the estate harmless, or else that the sale has been free from encumbrances and that they have been paid off with the proceeds.[63] The report should correctly show the consideration or purchase-price.[64] That the report was made by only one of two administrators does not affect the validity of the sale.[65] In the absence of a statutory requirement, the report of sale of real property need not be verified,[66] and, although a statute requires a verification, the omission thereof is a mere irregularity which

54. Marsh v. Bennett, 6 How. (Miss.) 215.

55. Wyman v. Campbell, 6 Port. (Ala.) 219, 31 Am. Dec. 677; Bryan v. Hinman, 5 Day (Conn.) 211; Moore v. Neil, 39 Ill. 256, 89 Am. Dec. 303; Stow v. Kimball, 28 Ill. 93. See also Hazlewood v. Chrisman, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1901) 62 S. W. 39, where the clerk had not reported a sale.

56. Perkins v. Winter, 7 Ala. 855; Cummings v. McCullough, 5 Ala. 324; Lightfoot v. Doe, 1 Ala. 475. And see infra, XII, Q, 1.

Recital of the return in the order of confirmation is sufficient proof that there was a report of sale. See Day Land, etc., Co. v. New York, etc., Land Co., (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 25 S. W. 1089.

57. Larason v. Lambert, 13 N. J. L. 182.

58. Dodd v. Templeman, 76 Tex. 57, 15 S. W. 187, where it was shown that the real purchaser was the administrator.

59. Thus where the rents and profits for a certain period must be first offered for sale before the fee can be sold, the report of sale of the fee must show that the rents and profits were first offered for sale. Martin v. Densford, 3 Blackf. (Ind.) 295.

60. Gilbert v. Cooksey, 69 Mo. 42. See also Pendleton v. Shaw, 18 Tex. Civ. App. 439, 44 S. W. 1002.

A full description by metes and bounds of the land sold need not be set forth in the report. Calvert v. Alexander, 8 S. W. 696, 10 Ky. L. Rep. 119.

A mistake in the description by government subdivisions will not control other descriptive particulars which identify the land with certainty. Montgomery v. Johnson, 31 Ark. 74.

61. Harris v. Dunn, (Tex. Civ. App. 1898) 45 S. W. 731.

62. Gilbert v. Cooksey, 69 Mo. 42.

63. Duncan v. Fish, 1 Aik. (Vt.) 231.

64. Martin v. Densford, 3 Blackf. (Ind.) 295.

A recital of payment of the price is not necessary to the validity of the title transferred. Wood v. Montgomery, 60 Ala. 500.

A report stating that the property was sold for cash is not fraudulent by reason of the fact that instead of cash the administrator received from the widow a receipt for the amount of her adjudged award against the estate, which amount she had in good faith bid at the sale. Reinhardt v. Seaman, 208 Ill. 448, 69 N. E. 847.

The return is not conclusive in the settlement of the administration account as to the amount of the proceeds of the sale. Diehl's Appeal, 33 Pa. St. 406.

If the price for which the land sold can be ascertained with certainty from the report an objection that a definite price does appear by the report cannot be sustained. Sizemore v. Wedge, 20 La. Ann. 124, holding that where two tracts of land were sold under the same order on the same day and at the same time, and the procès verbal specified that the whole property brought the sum of four thousand dollars and one piece thereof brought the sum of one thousand five hundred dollars, the amount which the other piece of land brought was thus fixed with certainty.

65. Doe v. Harvey, 5 Blackf. (Ind.) 487.

66. Hargus v. Bowen, 46 Miss. 72; Sheldon v. Wright, 5 N. Y. 497 [affirming 7 Barb. 39].

does not render the sale void.[67] An amendment of the return will not be made at the instance of a stranger to the proceedings,[68] nor after confirmation of the sale and execution of a deed to the purchaser,[69] nor without notice to the purchaser;[70] but if an executor has knowledge before confirmation of the sale that the property has brought an inadequate price, it is his duty to have his return amended and to have the sale set aside and a new one made for the benefit of the estate.[71] Under a statute providing that deeds shall take effect as to all subsequent purchasers without notice, only after recording, a decree for the sale of land and the administrator's report does not amount to constructive notice of an unrecorded administrator's deed, as against a subsequent bona fide purchaser from the heir.[72] In an action of ejectment the report of sale made by an administrator is competent evidence to show what land has been sold, its price, and the name of the purchaser, although the report may be insufficient to authorize the granting of an order to make title.[73] A report of sale made after the representative has made final settlement of the estate and been discharged is an absolute nullity.[74]

Q. Confirmation[75] — 1. Necessity. Sales of the realty of a decedent are in most jurisdictions subject to the approval of the court, as in the case of judicial sales generally,[76] and therefore in the absence of confirmation the title of the 67. Higgins v. Reed, 48 Kan. 272, 29 Pac. 389.

68. Diehl's Appeal, 33 Pa. St. 406.

69. Diehl's Appeal, 33 Pa. St. 406.

70. Fritz's Estate, 14 Phila. (Pa.) 260.

71. Sheridan's Estate, 10 Kulp (Pa.) 157.

72. Anthony v. Wheeler, 130 Ill. 128, 22 N. E. 494, 17 Am. St. Rep. 281.

73. Webb v. Ballard, 97 Ala. 584, 12 So. 106.

74. Melton v. Fitch, 125 Mo. 281, 28 S. W. 612; Garner v. Tucker, 61 Mo. 427.

75. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (v).

Sale of personalty under testamentary authority or common-law power see supra, VIII, P, 2, k.

Who entitled to notice of confirmation see Patterson v. Eakim, 87 Va. 49, 12 S. E. 144.

76. Alabama.— Comer v. Hart, 79 Ala. 389; Bland v. Bowie, 53 Ala. 152; Wallace v. Hall, 19 Ala. 367; Bonner v. Greenlee, 6 Ala. 411; Lightfoot v. Doe, 1 Ala. 475.

Arkansas.— Apel v. Kelsey, 47 Ark. 413, 2 S. W. 102; Bell v. Green, 38 Ark. 78; Halliburton v. Sumner, 27 Ark. 460, holding, however, that on a subsequent confirmation of the sale the title of the purchaser related back to the date thereof.

California.— Horton v. Jack, 115 Cal. 29, 46 Pac. 920; Dennis v. Winter, 63 Cal. 16.

Florida.— Knox v. Spratt, 19 Fla. 817.

Idaho.— People v. Cunningham, 6 Ida. 113, 53 Pac. 451.

Indiana.— Williams v. Perrin, 73 Ind. 57, so holding with relation to both realty and personalty.

Mississippi.— Maynard v. Cocke, (1895) 18 So. 374; Learned v. Matthews, 40 Miss. 210; Smith v. Denson, 2 Sm. & M. 326.

Missouri.— Henry v. McKerlie, 78 Mo. 416.

New York.— Stilwell v. Swarthout, 81 N. Y. 109. And see Rea v. McEachron, 13 Wend. 460, 28 Am. Dec. 471.

North Carolina.— Mason v. Osgood, 64 N. C. 467.

Pennsylvania.— Greenough v. Small, 137 Pa. St. 132, 20 Atl. 553, 21 Am. St. Rep. 859; Demmy's Appeal, 43 Pa. St. 155; Bickley v. Biddle, 33 Pa. St. 276.

Tennessee.— Wheatley v. Harvey, 1 Swan 484.

Texas.— Hirshfield v. Davis, 43 Tex. 155; Littlefield v. Tinsley, 26 Tex. 353; Neill v. Cody, 26 Tex. 286; Yerby v. Hill, 16 Tex. 377; Davis v. Stewart, 4 Tex. 223.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1530.

Mortgage.— Confirmation of the act of the representative in mortgaging the property of decedent for his debts is necessary and a mortgage founded on the decree of confirmation cannot be impeached in collateral proceedings. Morgan's Appeal, 11 Pa. St. 271, 4 Atl. 506. Contra, People v. Cunningham, 6 Ida. 113, 53 Pac. 451.

Confirmation by estoppel see Johnson v. Cooper, 56 Miss. 608.

Statute not retroactive.— A statute requiring confirmation of an executor's sale does not apply to sales made before it went into effect (Harlan v. Brown, 2 Gill (Md.) 475, 41 Am. Dec. 436), and a sale after the enactment of such a statute has been held valid without any confirmation if the order of sale was made previous to the enactment (Fox v. Lipe, 24 Wend. (N. Y.) 164).

When confirmation unnecessary.— Where the statute reserves in the court no further supervision after the order of sale is made and the conveyance may be executed by the representative or commissioner for sale without report to the court, confirmation is not necessary. Moffitt v. Moffitt, 69 Ill. 641, holding that the statute of 1857 does not require an approval of an administrator's sale of land in order to vest title thereto in the purchaser, as is required in the case of a guardian's sale.

heirs is not divested,[77] the title of the vendee before confirmation being a mere equity.[78] A bidder at a sale is not a purchaser and is not entitled to possession until confirmation,[79] and he is under no legal obligation to pay the amount bid until the sale has been confirmed.[80] Confirmation must be shown, it will not be presumed.[81]

2. General Rules Governing Action of Court. When the question of the confirmation or setting aside of a sale of land comes before the probate court, much is left to its discretion.[82] Mere lapse of time without any intervention of the rights of third persons will not prevent a confirmation of the sale under order of court.[83] After the sale to one purchaser has been confirmed, the court may with the purchaser's consent order the sale confirmed in the name of a different purchaser;[84] but where a sale of land has been confirmed and final settlement has been made and approved and remains in force, the court cannot, years afterward, approve another report of sale presented to it; and therefore a deed given pursuant to such approval conveys no title.[85] If it be discovered after the sale that the estate did not own full title to the land as had been represented, the court may approve an adjustment made by the administrator with the purchaser whereby the estate received more than the appraisal value of the land, and the order of approval is conclusive unless appealed from.[86] The death of the purchaser will not prevent confirmation of the sale and the vesting of title in his heirs,[87] but if the administrator, being sole plaintiff in the proceeding, dies before confirmation, the suit abates and a subsequent confirmation without a revival is void.[88] If an

77. Wallace v. Hall, 19 Ala. 367; Rea v. McEachron, 13 Wend. (N. Y.) 465, 28 Am. Dec. 471; Greenough v. Small, 137 Pa. St. 132, 20 Atl. 553, 21 Am. St. Rep. 859; Demmy's Appeal, 43 Pa. St. 155. See also Harris v. Brower, 3 Tex. Civ. App. 649, 22 S. W. 758, holding that under the act of 1840 (Hartley Dig. art. 1018) title does not pass to the purchaser unless it is shown that he is entitled to confirmation by virtue of his compliance with the statute in all essential particulars.

The heir may recover possession, although the purchase-money has been paid and possession given. Greenough v. Small, 137 Pa. St. 132, 20 Atl. 553, 21 Am. St. Rep. 859.

78. People v. Cunningham, 6 Ida. 113, 53 Pac. 451; Littlefield v. Tinsley, 26 Tex. 353; Neill v. Cody, 26 Tex. 286.

79. Maynard v. Cocke, (Miss. 1895) 18 So. 374; Crotwell v. Boozer, 1 S. C. 271. See also Brooks v. Kelly, 63 Miss. 616.

If the order of sale of personalty requires a report and confirmation the contract of purchase cannot operate to confer a vested right upon the purchaser until the confirmation is had. Williams v. Perrin, 73 Ind. 57. Contra, Moffitt v. Moffitt, 69 Ill. 641; Watt v. Scott, 3 Watts (Pa.) 79.

The remedy of the purchaser is by application to chancery for confirmation. Rea v. McEachron, 13 Wend. (N. Y.) 465, 28 Am. Dec. 471; Matter of Hemiup, 3 Paige (N. Y.) 305.

Purchaser in possession before confirmation a mere intruder.— Pool v. Ellis, 64 Miss. 555, 1 So. 725.

80. Pool v. Ellis, 64 Miss. 555, 1 So. 725; Bickley v. Biddle, 33 Pa. St. 276. See also State v. Cox, 62 Miss. 786; Neill v. Cody, 26 Tex. 286 [approving Bradbury v. Reed, 23 Tex. 258]; Dowling v. Duke, 20 Tex. 181.

81. Apel v. Kelsey, 47 Ark. 413, 2 S. W. 102; Crotwell v. Boozer, 1 S. C. 271. See also Learned v. Matthews, 40 Miss. 210. Contra, Agan v. Shannon, 103 Mo. 661, 15 S. W. 757, where the administrator had accounted for the precise sum for which the land had been sold.

82. Davis v. Stewart, 4 Tex. 223.

If no terms of sale have been prescribed in the order it is in the discretion of the court either to confirm the terms on which the sale was made or to rescind it altogether. Briel's Appeal, 24 Pa. St. 511.

When proper to refuse confirmation.— If the court does not believe a sale to have been fair or made in conformity to law it is its duty to set it aside and order a new sale. Davis v. Stewart, 4 Tex. 223.

When an indispensable necessity for the sale appears and no objection on account of irregularity or illegality in the order of sale was made at or previous to the sale, the purchaser is entitled to have the sale homologated. Hebrard's Succession, 18 La. Ann. 485.

83. Hazlewood v. Chrisman, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1901) 62 S. W. 39.

The statute of limitations relative to claims against an estate does not apply to the confirmation of a sale for the payment of decedent's debts. Hazlewood v. Chrisman, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1901) 62 S. W. 39.

84. Davis v. Touchstone, 45 Tex. 490.

85. Garner v. Tucker, 61 Mo. 427.

86. In re Hesche, 73 Mo. App. 612.

87. Hazlewood v. Chrisman, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1901) 62 S. W. 39.

88. Wheatley v. Harvey, 1 Swan (Tenn.) 484.

heir dies after notice of proceedings to sell and a sale thereafter takes place without further notice or any suggestion of the death of the heir and is confirmed, the sale is valid and not subject to attack by the heirs of the deceased heir.[89] When land is purchased by the representative,[90] his application for an order of conveyance of the title is regarded as made in his capacity of purchaser instead of in his representative character, and notice to the heirs is essential to the validity of the order, and when the notice has not been given the probate court acquires no jurisdiction to adjudicate the question of the payment of the purchase-money or to order a conveyance to the purchaser.[91]

3. Time For Confirmation. That the sale is confirmed at a term or time different from that prescribed by law does not render the sale void but merely voidable,[92] whether the confirmation be premature[93] or delayed.[94]

4. Notice of Application. Notice of an application to confirm the sale and for a conveyance may be essential to the validity of the purchaser's title.[95]

5. Objections to Confirmation — a. In General. On some grounds at least the order of sale may by the more general rule be impeached by the heirs or other interested persons upon the return of the report of sale for confirmation.[96] An objection to confirmation may be based upon the ground that the petition on which the sale was ordered[97] or the proceeding in which the order of sale was made[98] was defective in some matter going to the jurisdiction, or that the person

89. Palmer v. Hoop, 131 Ind. 23, 30 N. E. 874.

90. See supra, XII, M, 4.

91. Bolling v. Smith, 108 Ala. 411, 19 So. 370. See also Allison v. Allison, 114 Ala. 393, 21 So. 1008.

That the heirs were before the court on a final settlement of the accounts of the administrator, immediately after which, but in a separate proceeding, the court confirmed a sale of land by the administrator to himself, cannot be construed as a notice to the heirs of the latter proceeding. Washington v. Bogart, 119 Ala. 377, 24 So. 245.

92. Murray v. Purdy, 66 Mo. 606. But see Learned v. Matthews, 40 Miss. 210, holding that unless the sale be reported at the first term after the sale no valid confirmation can be decreed without previous notice to parties whose interests are to be affected by the sale.

93. Custer v. Holler, 160 Ind. 505, 67 N. E. 228; Henry v. McKerlie, 78 Mo. 416; Sims v. Gray, 66 Mo. 613; Johnson v. Beazley, 65 Mo. 250, 27 Am. Rep. 276. Contra, Mitchell v. Bliss, 47 Mo. 353.

94. Doe v. McLoskey, 1 Ala. 708; Wilcoxon v. Osborn, 77 Mo. 621. See also Brown v. Hobbs, 19 Tex. 167. Contra, Learned v. Matthews, 40 Miss. 210.

Confirmation at an adjourned term instead of at a regular term will not vitiate the sale. Wilkerson v. Allen, 67 Mo. 502; Sankey's Appeal, 55 Pa. St. 491 [following Klingensmith v. Bean, 2 Watts (Pa.) 486, 27 Am. Dec. 328], holding that confirmation after a term had intervened is tantamount to a continuance of the order of sale and should be held good even upon appeal. Contra, Castleman v. Relfo, 50 Mo. 583; State v. Towl, 48 Mo. 148; Speck v. Wohlien, 22 Mo. 310.

95. Anderson v. Bradley, 66 Ala. 263 (holding that notice to the heirs is necessary after the functions of the administrator have ceased); Dugger v. Tayloe, 60 Ala. 504 [overruling 46 Ala. 320] (holding that where the purchaser makes the application, notice to the administrator, but not to the heirs, is essential).

In North Carolina a notice of the application for confirmation is desirable (Stradley v. King, 84 N. C. 635) but not essential (Blue v. Blue, 79 N. C. 69).

Application by representative.— Notice to the heirs is not necessary when the application is made by the administrator (Moore v. Cottingham, 113 Ala. 148, 20 So. 994, 59 Am. St. Rep. 100; May v. Marks, 74 Ala. 249) unless the administrator is himself the purchaser, when such notice is essential (Smith v. Lusk, 119 Ala. 394, 24 So. 256; Bolling v. Smith, 108 Ala. 411, 19 So. 370; Ligon v. Ligon, 84 Ala. 555, 4 So. 405).

96. Fenix v. Fenix, 80 Mo. 27 (where the objection to confirmation was that there were no debts which the personalty of the estate could not satisfy); Weaver's Appeal, 19 Pa. St. 416 (holding that the heirs will be permitted to show either that the debts had been paid, that their lien had been lost, or that there was no necessity to raise the money to pay debts; but that it could not be objected by them that the representative had not settled the administration account prior to the order of sale). See also In re Gibbs, 4 Utah 97, 6 Pac. 525.

97. Kelley's Estate, 1 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 102, holding that the act of 1850 and its amendment curing defects in titles under such sales apply only where the sale is collaterally questioned, not to a direct proceeding.

98. Marcom v. Wyatt, 117 N. C. 129, 23 S. E. 169. But compare Allen v. Shepard, 87 Ill. 314, holding that the court cannot go behind the order of sale or even revise it on motion to confirm, the matters before the court on that motion relating solely to the making objection had no prior opportunity to be heard.[99] Under some modern statutes the court is obliged to confirm a sale in spite of irregularities in the conduct thereof, if compliance with certain essential conditions appear.[1] The court will of course refuse to confirm a sale by an administrator where fraud is made to appear.[2] A person interested in the estate may object to the confirmation on the ground that the sureties on the bond of the purchaser are insolvent.[3] The object of a hearing upon confirmation not being to settle title to the land in question but to transmit title unencumbered, the court cannot and ought not to confirm a sale if the title in the decedent be doubtful and the sale be opposed by an adverse claimant.[4]

b. Inadequacy of Price.[5] Inadequacy of price is an element proper for consideration when a sale is attacked on other grounds, and will aid in preventing confirmation.[6] Even standing alone, inadequacy of price may be sufficient to prevent confirmation,[7] although when only inadequacy of price is relied on there transactions which took place in the attempt to execute the order and make the sale. And see Bostwick v. Atkins, 3 N. Y. 53 [disapproving Matter of Hemiup, 3 Paige (N. Y.) 305].

Presumption that the order of sale was regularly issued see Wadsworth's Succession, 2 La. Ann. 966.

Formal defects or irregularities.— That matters which are formal have been disregarded in the proceedings to sell land will not prevent the confirmation if there has been no fraud and it appears to be plainly to the interest of all concerned that the sale be confirmed. Howerton v. Sexton, 90 N. C. 581.

99. In re Gibbs, 4 Utah 97, 6 Pac. 525.

Duty to make timely objections.— Persons summoned to answer a petition to sell land of the estate should then present their defense, for they will not be permitted to remain silent and, after a sale is made and reported, come in and show cause against a decree for a sale. Norris v. Callahan, 59 Miss. 140. See also Marcom v. Wyatt, 117 N. C. 129, 23 S. E. 169.

That personal notice was not given minor heirs of the application to sell the land is not a valid objection, for public notice of the sale is sufficient and those interested can be heard at any time before confirmation. Weaver's Appeal, 19 Pa. St. 416. But if the infant heirs are without a guardian, the court should not confirm the sale until a guardian has been appointed. Albright's Estate, 6 Lack. Leg. N. (Pa.) 108.

A minor may have a remedy against a decree prejudicial to his interest by an original bill brought within a year after attaining majority. Norris v. Callahan, 59 Miss. 140; Mayo v. Clancy, 57 Miss. 674; Sledge v. Boon, 57 Miss. 222.

1. Meadows v. Meadows, 81 Ala. 451, 1 So. 29, holding that under Code (1876), §§ 2463, 2467, as amended by the acts of 1878–1879, page 77, the probate court in passing upon the question of confirming or vacating a sale for the payment of decedent's debts is limited to the consideration of three issues: (1) Fairness of the sale; (2) adequacy of price; and (3) sufficiency of solvency of the sureties — and if the court is satisfied on these three points it must confirm the sale, and therefore failure to advertise according to the order and to sell in subdivisions is not sufficient ground for refusing to confirm a sale, with the fairness of which the court is satisfied.

2. Pearson v. Moreland, 7 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 609, 45 Am. Dec. 319.

3. In re Arguello, 50 Cal. 308.

4. Hower's Appeal, 55 Pa. St. 337. See also Swafford v. Howard, 50 S. W. 43, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 1793; Renneberg's Succession, 15 La. Ann. 661.

Where the widow claims a resulting trust in the land as bought with her money, it is not error to confirm the sale against her remonstrance, for the court has no power to order a sale of any more than the decedent's interest in the land which alone passes to the purchaser. Kline's Appeal, 39 Pa. St. 463.

5. In connection with advance bid see infra, XII, Q, 6.

As ground for attack after confirmation see infra, XII, S, 4, e.

6. Arkansas.— Burgett v. Apperson, 52 Ark. 213, 12 S. W. 559.

Kentucky.— Underwood v. Cartwright, 47 S. W. 580, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 809.

Mississippi.— Pearson v. Moreland, 7 Sm. & M. 609, 45 Am. Dec. 319.

New York.—Campbell's Estate, Tuck. Surr. 240.

Ohio.— Woodward v. Curtis, 19 Ohio Cir. Ct. 15, 10 Ohio Cir. Dec. 400.

Tennessee.— Click v. Burris, 6 Heisk. 539.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1534.

If irregularities or fraud in the proceedings have caused the inadequacy of price the sale will not be confirmed (Planters' Bank v. Neely, 7 How. (Miss.) 80, 40 Am. Dec. 51; State v. Burnside, 33 S. C. 276, 11 S. E. 787); but the personal representatives may be chargeable with the loss in such cases (Brown v. Reed, 56 Ohio St. 264, 46 N. E. 982; Meyer's Estate, 177 Pa. St. 450, 35 Atl. 669), and then one who will thereby be protected cannot object to the sale (Hazlett's Estate, 137 Pa. St. 587, 21 Atl. 804).

7. Alabama.— Rev. Code, §§ 2092, 2094 (Civ. Code (1896), §§ 173, 174, 176), requires a resale if the court finds that the must be clear and satisfactory proof of the inadequacy claimed,[8] and it has been held that the inadequacy must be so gross as to raise a presumption of fraud in order to prevent confirmation.[9]

c. Hearing Upon Objections. The hearing is governed by the usual rules as to the burden of proof[10] and the admissibility of evidence.[11]

6. Reopening Sale on Advance Bid.[12] The practice of English chancery courts formerly allowed as of course the opening of the biddings before the report of sale was confirmed upon an offer of at least ten per cent advance, payment of costs, and bringing the money into court;[13] but this practice has been strongly disapproved,[14] and is now abolished by express statute.[15] In the United States the practice of opening the sale on an advance bid before confirmation has been adopted in a few states,[16] but it is usually considered that no advance bid, how-amount for which the land or any portion thereof sold was greatly disproportionate to its real value. The court cannot accept a new bid. Field v. Gamble, 47 Ala. 443.

Indiana.— See Williams v. Perrin, 73 Ind. 57.

Kentucky.— Durrett v. Bradford, 58 S. W. 540, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 623, where the right to set aside was reserved in the decree.

New Jersey.— Ryan v. Wilson, 64 N. J. Eq. 797, 53 Atl. 1039 [affirming (Prerog. 1902) 52 Atl. 993].

Texas.— Hardin v. Smith, 49 Tex. 420; Hirshfield v. Davis, 43 Tex. 155, holding that Paschal Dig. art. 5713, providing for confirmation of the sale if "fairly" made, authorizes the court to refuse confirmation for inadequacy of price. The decision of the county judge may be reviewed. James v. Nease, (Civ. App. 1902) 69 S. W. 110.

Virginia.— Terry v. Cole, 80 Va. 695, sale to pay legacies.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1534.

The Louisiana statute requiring an appraisal within twelve months before a sale of a minor's lands renders the sale invalid, if on its first offering it brings less than the appraised value (Tabary's Succession, 31 La. Ann. 409); and where it is sold in three parcels the purchaser of one cannot be compelled to comply with his bid until sales of the others demonstrate that the aggregate price makes up the appraised value (Landreaux v. Bel, 5 La. 434). A sale may be made at less than the appraised value when it is for the purpose of paying debts (Fontelieu's Succession, 28 La. Ann. 638; Norton v. Citizens' Bank, 28 La. Ann. 354; Carter v. McManus, 15 La. Ann. 641; Haner's Succession, 5 La. Ann. 437; Valderes v. Bird, 10 Rob. 396; Hutchiss v. Dodd, 13 La. 84), or on a second offer on twelve months' credit (Campbell v. Owens, 32 La. Ann. 265; Lewis v. Labauve, 13 La. Ann. 382; Fritz's Succession, 12 La. Ann. 368), or where the terms of sale are fixed by creditors and a family meeting (Towles v. Weeks, 7 La. 312). The adjudication may be made at two thirds of the appraisement, unless the sale has been demanded by creditors. Hood's Succession, 33 La. Ann. 466. Sales at less than the appraisal are not necessarily void. Herrmann v. Fontelieu, 29 La. Ann. 502; Davidson v. Davidson, 28 La. Ann. 269; Stoltz's Succession, 28 La. Ann. 175.

8. Reinhardt v. Seaman, 208 Ill. 448, 69 N. E. 847; Allen v. Shepard, 87 Ill. 314, holding that it is not sufficient to show that the sale was for less than half the value fixed by real-estate dealers.

9. Calvert v. Alexander, 8 S. W. 696, 10 Ky. L. Rep. 119. See also Farmers' Bank v. Clarke, 28 Md. 145.

10. See Montgomery v. All the World, 23 La. Ann. 239, holding that a party opposing a monition asking to have the title obtained at a succession sale confirmed is for all legal purposes plaintiff in the action and must establish his averments by proof.

11. See Jacks v. Adamson, 56 Ohio St. 397, 47 N. E. 48, 60 Am. St. Rep. 749, holding that on the hearing of a motion for an order confirming nunc pro tunc a sale made several years before the court may resort to all sources of information which are competent under the general rules of evidence, including the testimony of the administrator and the probate judge.

12. See, generally, Judicial Sales.

13. See Ringler's Estate, 1 Woodw. (Pa.) 214; Mann v. McDonald, 10 Humphr. (Tenn.) 275.

14. Andrews v. Emerson, 7 Ves. Jr. 420, 32 Eng. Reprint 170.

15. St. 30 & 31 Vict. c. 48, § 6.

16. Brown's Appeal, 68 Pa. St. 53; McBride's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 216, 23 Pa. Co. Ct. 544; Herr's Estate, 2 Pa. Dist. 737; Hepting's Estate, 1 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 45; McRee's Estate, 6 Phila. (Pa.) 75; Sharpe's Estate, 4 Pa. L. J. Rep. 162; Metz's Estate, 14 York Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 136; Click v. Burris, 6 Heisk. (Tenn.) 539; Geisler v. Mauk, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1898) 48 S. W. 344 (holding that biddings may be reopened for no other reason than an offer of more than ten per cent advance). But see Ringler's Estate, 1 Woodw. (Pa.) 214.

An offer must be made of at least ten per cent over the first sale (Murphy's Estate, 11 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 419) in writing (Breese's Estate, 2 Kulp (Pa.) 62) and including costs (Dimock's Estate, 33 Pa. L. J. Rep. 317, 5 Pa. L. J. 262).

Until confirmation there is no complete sale. Geisler v. Mauk, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1898) 48 S. W. 344.

ever large, will suffice to open the sale after confirmation.[17] A reopening of the sale is sometimes especially provided for by statute when it can be shown not only that a higher offer has been made but also that the first sale was at a price disproportionate to the value of the property.[18] Under such a provision both the disproportion between the true value and the price and the fact that an increased bid can be had must appear.[19] It is necessary that the additional value should have inhered in the property at the time of the sale,[20] and if the full market value at the time of sale was realized the reason why the market value was low at that time is immaterial.[21] It is within the discretion of the court to either order a new sale or accept the advance bid.[22]

7. Form and Requisites of Confirmation. No formal order[23] or precise form of words[24] confirming the sale of land is necessary. The court's approval is a sufficient confirmation,[25] and anything which expresses the approbation of the court is sufficient.[26] The order of confirmation is not void because it refers to a day subsequent to its own date as the day on which the land was ordered sold,[27] or fails to properly describe the land if the description appears in other parts of the proceedings.[28] Neither will it be held void for failing to show that proof was heard upon the question of the sufficiency of the price given for the land sold.[29] Failure to confirm the commissioners' report and ordering a resale are equivalent to setting aside the sale.[30]

8. Effect of Confirmation or Refusal to Confirm. The order of confirma-

17. Click v. Burris, 6 Heisk. (Tenn.) 539; Houston v. Aycock, 5 Sneed (Tenn.) 406, 73 Am. Dec. 131. But compare Mann v. McDonald, 10 Humphr. (Tenn.) 275, where an advance of fifty per cent was offered after confirmation but at the same term, and the supreme court said that it was not prepared to hold that the chancellor erred in the exercise of his discretion in opening the biddings.

18. Cal. Code Civ. Proc. § 1552; 2 N. Y. Rev. St. 106, §§ 29, 30.

19. In re Leonis, 138 Cal. 194, 71 Pac. 171 (holding that the order of sale will not be vacated merely because the bid was disproportionate to the value of the property); Kain v. Masterton, 16 N. Y. 174; Horton v. Horton, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 200.

The determination of these facts rests in the discretion of the surrogate. Delaplaine v. Lawrence, 3 N. Y. 301. And see as to discretion of trial court Frey's Appeal, 5 Pa. Cas. 265, 8 Atl. 585.

20. In re Leonis, 138 Cal. 194, 71 Pac. 171; Kain v. Masterton, 16 N. Y. 174; McRee's Estate, 6 Phila. (Pa.) 75.

21. In re Burton, 105 Cal. 353, 38 Pac. 952. See also Boyd v. Wyle, 124 U. S. 98, 8 S. Ct. 364, 31 L. ed. 369 [affirming 18 Fed. 355].

22. Griffin v. Warner, 48 Cal. 383. See also In re Griffith, 127 Cal. 543, 59 Pac. 988.

The court may receive as many bids as may be made and upon a consideration of the whole determine whether to accept the highest bid or order a new sale. It is not limited to the alternative of accepting the first offer that may be made or ordering a new sale. In re Griffith, 127 Cal. 543, 59 Pac. 988.

23. Carey v. West, 139 Mo. 146, 40 S. W. 661.

Entry of confirmation nisi is intended to indicate that the sale is confirmed, unless exceptions shall be filed thereto within such time as the court in the exercise of a proper discretion may permit. Lang's Estate, 1 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 287.

24. Worthington v. McRoberts, 9 Ala. 297.

25. Pendleton v. Shaw, 18 Tex. Civ. App. 439, 44 S. W. 1002.

Decision and the findings of court need not be in writing. See In re Gibbs, 4 Utah 97, 6 Pac. 525.

26. Worthington v. McRoberts, 9 Ala. 297; Livingston v. Cochran, 33 Ark. 294 (holding that an order of court directing an administrator to give a deed of land sold under a previous order is a virtual confirmation of the sale); Corley v. Anderson, 5 Tex. Civ. App. 213, 23 S. W. 839 (holding that an entry in the minutes of the court may suffice as a confirmation where no further sale was ordered and no objection raised, and the purchase-price was paid, and possession taken by the purchaser).

Approval of the final account of an administrator and his discharge is substantially a confirmation of the sale by him. Ferguson v. Templeton, (Tex. Civ. App. 1895) 32 S. W. 148. Contra, In re Delaney, 49 Cal. 76.

A clause in a decree of distribution confirming and approving all acts of the executor is not a confirmation of the sale by him. In re Delaney, 49 Cal. 76.

Approval can be gathered from whole record. Carey v. West, 139 Mo. 146, 40 S. W. 661.

27. Barton v. Davidson, (Tex. Civ. App. 1898) 45 S. W. 400.

28. Crawford v. McDonald, 88 Tex. 626, 33 S. W. 325.

29. Captain v. Stubbs, 68 Tex. 222, 224, 4 S. W. 467.

30. Duval v. Planters', etc., Bank, 10 Ala. 636.

tion cures irregularities in the previous proceedings,[31] but it cannot impart validity to a void sale.[32] Failure to have the land viewed by disinterested householders of the county wherein it lies,[33] or failure to make any attempt to advertise the sale,[34] or the insufficiency of the publication of a notice of the hearing upon the petition for the sale,[35] have been held irregularities which are cured by confirmation. But an order of publication has been held essential to give the probate court jurisdiction to order a sale of decedent's land and the lack of the order is an omission not curable by the order of confirmation.[36] A confirmation of a sale on the administrator's false report that the purchaser has made the required cash payment does not divest the title of the heirs, and the land remains bound for the payment of the purchase-money even in the hands of bona fide purchasers.[37] A recital in the decree of confirmation that the purchase-money has been paid is conclusive upon the administrator in any proceeding against him by the creditors or distributees of the estate, but not as between the administrator and purchaser,[38] or as against a subsequent administrator, when seeking to enforce a vendor's lien on the land.[39] After confirmation, the purchaser cannot contest the proceedings in the orphans' court when sued in a common-law court for the purchase-money.[40] After confirmation of the sale of land, the executors cannot be surcharged with any alleged deficiency of price while the confirmation remains 31. Alabama.— Jennings v. Jenkins, 9 Ala. 285.

Arkansas.— Apel v. Kelsey, 47 Ark. 413, 2 S. W. 102.

Louisiana.— See Lafon v. Phillips, 2 Mart. N. S. 225.

Minnesota.— Dayton v. Mintzer, 22 Minn. 393.

Missouri.— Tutt v. Boyer, 51 Mo. 425.

Pennsylvania.— Jacob's Appeal, 23 Pa. St. 477.

Rhode Island.— See Andrews v. Goff, 17 R. I. 205, 21 Atl. 347.

Tennessee.— Ridgely v. Bennett, 13 Lea 206.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1535.

Confirmation of sale made without order.— Although the representative has no power to sell land except under order of court, a sale made without an order but approved and confirmed by the court is as valid and efficacious as if it had been made under the required order. Hamilton v. Hamilton, 51 S. W. 170, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 260.

Order passes only on acts of representative in making sale. Culver v. Hardenbergh, 37 Minn. 225, 33 N. W. 792; Dawson v. Holmes, 30 Minn. 107, 14 N. W. 462.

Consent to confirmation by defendants after notice of sale in an action to sell land for assets cures all irregularities in the preliminary proceedings. Chambers v. Penland, 78 N. C. 53. But see Strickland v. Strickland, 129 N. C. 84, 39 S. E. 735.

32. Alabama.— Cruikshank v. Littrell, 67 Ala. 318.

Kentucky.— Bethel v. Bethel, 6 Bush 65, 99 Am. Dec. 655.

Louisiana.— Robert v. Brown, 14 La. Ann. 597.

Minnesota.— Culver v. Hardenbergh, 37 Minn. 225, 33 N. W. 792.

Missouri.— Cunningham v. Anderson, 107 Mo. 371, 17 S. W. 792, 28 Am. St. Rep. 417.

Texas.— Fishback v. Page, 17 Tex. Civ. App. 183, 186, 43 S. W. 317.

Wisconsin.— Chase v. Ross, 36 Wis. 267.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1535.

Lack of jurisdiction.—An order of confirmation cannot render valid an order of sale which it was not within the jurisdiction of the court to make. Culver v. Hardenbergh, 37 Minn. 225, 33 N. W. 792. But if a decree of confirmation be made in the court of the county in which the letters were issued, want of jurisdiction is not to be presumed from the mere omission to set forth in the claim or in the appraisement that the decedent died or was domiciled at the time of his death within the commonwealth. Greenawalt's Estate, 16 Pa. Super. Ct. 263.

33. Apel v. Kelsey, 47 Ark. 413, 2 S. W. 102.

34. Apel v. Kelsey, 47 Ark. 413, 2 S. W. 102.

It will be presumed from the confirmation of the sale, in the absence of anything in the record, that the representative complied with the order of the court as to notice and time of sale. Ferguson v. Templeton, (Tex. Civ. App. 1895) 32 S. W. 148.

35. Dayton v. Mintzer, 22 Minn. 393. See also Thompson v. Burge, 60 Kan. 549, 57 Pac. 110, 72 Am. St. Rep. 369.

36. Cunningham v. Anderson, 107 Mo. 371, 17 S. W. 972, 28 Am. St. Rep. 417.

37. Wallace v. Nichols, 56 Ala. 321. See also Wipff v. Heder, 6 Tex. Civ. App. 680, 26 S. W. 118, holding that the fact that a sale made by an administrator was on credit and was falsely reported to the court as made for cash will avoid the sale in a direct proceeding.

38. Wiley v. Lashlee, 8 Humphr. (Tenn.) 717.

39. Hudgens v. Cameron, 50 Ala. 379.

40. Richter v. Fitzsimmons, 4 Watts (Pa.) 251.

unreversed.[41] If a state court having general jurisdiction of the estate confirms a sale of any of the assets, the order of confirmation is conclusive upon a federal court upon the questions of the legality of the sale under the state statutes and of the right to sell the property in question under the order of sale granted.[42]

9. Entry Upon Record or Registration of Confirmation. The approval of the court should be shown by the record;[43] but it is sufficient if the approval can be gathered from the record,[44] and a formal entry of approval is not necessary.[45] In a few jurisdictions the order of confirmation must be registered or recorded, to be notice to third persons without actual or other constructive notice.[46]

10. Review of Order of Confirmation. The approval[47] or disapproval[48] of the sale of land is a final judgment from which an appeal can be taken. But inasmuch as the confirmation of an administrator's sale of lands rests in the sound discretion of the court, a decree refusing confirmation will not be reversed, unless an abuse of discretion is shown.[49] Nor will an order of confirmation be reversed for mere irregularities in the proceedings.[50] It has been held that on appeal from the order of confirmation of a sale of land, no question can be raised as to the legality of the appointment of the administrator,[51] or the propriety and legality of the order directing the sale to be made,[52] or the justice and legality of the debts allowed against the estate.[53] The objection that the property sold for less than its appraised value must be specially pleaded, in order to be considered on appeal from the judgment homologating the sale.[54] Persons who have appeared in the proceedings and whose rights have been affected by the order of confirmation or refusal to confirm may appeal therefrom,[55] and are entitled to notice on appeal by others.[56] And persons interested may appear by leave of court and appeal, even although not originally parties.[57] Where there has been a failure on

41. Dundas' Estate, 18 Phila. (Pa.) 79.

42. May v. Mercer County, 30 Fed. 246, sale of right of action for infringement of patent.

43. Valle v. Fleming, 19 Mo. 454, 61 Am. Dec. 566.

Entry of reasons for confirming or rejecting unnecessary.— Davis v. Stewart, 4 Tex. 223.

44. Camden v. Plane, 91 Mo. 117, 4 S. W. 86; Grayson v. Weddle, 63 Mo. 523; Jones v. Manly, 58 Mo. 559; Loyd v. Waller, 74 Fed. 601, 20 C. C. A. 548. But see Crotwell v. Boozer, 1 S. C. 271.

45. Grayson v. Weddle, 63 Mo. 523.

46. Lyons v. Cenas, 22 La. Ann. 113. See also Allen v. Atchison, 26 Tex. 616.

The recording of a procès verbal of sale in the parish where the property lies is notice to third persons. Wright v. Cummings, 19 La. Ann. 353.

The omission to record a procès verbal in the parish where the succession lies will not render the sale void. Wright v. Cummings, 19 La. Ann. 353.

47. Tutt v. Boyer, 51 Mo. 425; Wolff v. Wohlien, 32 Mo. 124; In re Hesche, 73 Mo. App. 612. See also Wilson v. Brown, 21 Mo. 410

48. In re Leonis, 138 Cal. 194, 71 Pac. 171; Hirshfield v. Davis, 43 Tex. 155. But see Wolff v. Wohlien, 32 Mo. 124, holding that an order of the circuit court in a trial de novo of an order of the probate court disapproving a report of sale is not a final order from which an appeal will lie.

49. Eatman v. Eatman, 83 Ala. 478, 3 So. 850; Heard v. Whitehead, 41 Miss. 404. See Wells v. Mills, 22 Tex. 302.

50. Ridgely v. Bennett, 13 Lea (Tenn.) 206. See also McDonald v. Hutton, 8 N. J. Eq. 473, failure to give notice of application for order of sale.

51. Allen v. Shepard, 87 Ill. 314.

52. Allen v. Shepard, 87 Ill. 314; Norris v. Callahan, 59 Miss. 140.

53. Allen v. Shepard, 87 Ill. 314.

54. Michel v. Michel, 11 La. 149.

55. Kitchell v. Irby, 42 Ala. 447 (holding that an administrator de bonis non appointed after the sale who contests the order of confirmation has an interest in the lands of the estate, in so far that he might rent them out or apply for an order of sale, and is therefore entitled to appeal); Warehime v. Graf, 83 Md. 98, 24 Atl. 364 (holding that executors empowered by will to sell land and directed to hold part of the proceeds as a trust fund and to distribute the residue may appeal from an order refusing to confirm the sale and directing a resale).

Parties to the decree are necessary parties to the appeal therefrom. England v. McLaughlin, 35 Ala. 590. See also Kitchell v. Irby, 42 Ala. 447.

Waiver of right to appeal.— An administrator who procures a sale and the confirmation thereof waives his right to have the order confirming the sale reviewed by proceedings in error. Saxon v. Cain, 19 Nebr. 488, 26 N. W. 385. A purchaser who did not appeal from an order setting aside a sale of land to him cannot appeal from the order of resale. In re Boland, 55 Cal. 310.

56. In re Bell, 125 Cal. 539, 58 Pac. 153.

57. Warehime v. Graf, 83 Md. 98, 34 Atl. 364.

the part of the probate court to set apart for the use of minor children the property exempt from forced sale and the property has been sold by order of court, it is not error, upon certiorari, to revise and correct the proceedings in the probate court, to join the administrator and the purchaser of the property at the probate sale.[58]

R. Second Sale — 1. In General. Where the proceeds of realty ordered to be sold for the payment of claims against an estate are insufficient for that purpose, the court may make another order directing the sale of more realty.[59] But this cannot be done until the proceeds obtained from the first sale have been exhausted,[60] and it has been held that, where a sum sufficient to pay claims was realized at the sale but such sum has been lost or misapplied by the representative, a sale of other realty to pay the claims cannot be ordered.[61] Where a sale of realty has failed for lack of bidders or because of the insufficiency of the amount bid such realty may be again offered for sale.[62]

2. New Proceedings. Where a sale of additional realty becomes necessary, new proceedings should be instituted, new notice given to the parties interested, and another order of sale obtained;[63] but where for any reason an attempted sale has failed, entirely new proceedings are not necessary to enable the personal representative to again offer the same property for sale.[64]

58. Connell v. Chandler, 11 Tex. 249.

59. Liddel v. McVickar, 11 N. J. L. 44, 19 Am. Dec. 369; Huckle v. Phillips, 2 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 4. See also Learned v. Matthews, 40 Miss. 210. Compare Ludlow v. Johnston, 3 Ohio 553, 17 Am. Dec. 609.

60. Brown v. Rose, 6 Blackf. (Ind.) 69.

61. Stifler's Estate, 8 Pa. Dist. 400, 23 Pa. Co. Ct. 24 [following Hanna's Appeal, 31 Pa. St. 53; Pry's Appeal, 8 Watts (Pa.) 253] (loss through failure of bank in which proceeds deposited); Clyburn v. Reynolds, 31 S. C. 91, 9 S. E. 973 (holding that claimants who were parties to the proceeding in which the sale was ordered could not, where proceeds amply sufficient to pay their claims had been realized but had been misapplied, ask that other portions of the real estate be subjected to the payment of their claims). And see supra, XII, B, 2, c.

62. See Campbell v. Owens, 32 La. Ann. 265; Farrington v. King, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 182. Compare Gamble v. Woods, 53 Pa. St. 158, holding that where an executor failed to sell the land of his testator for want of a sufficient bid in consequence of an easement on it, the court was right in refusing to direct him to apply for another order of sale.

63. Cromine v. Tharp, 42 Ill. 120 [distinguishing Stow v. Kimball, 28 Ill. 93]; Cunningham v. Anderson, 107 Mo. 371, 17 S. W. 972, 28 Am. St. Rep. 417 (new notice necessary for sale of land excluded from sale by first order); Ackley v. Dygert, 33 Barb. (N. Y.) 176; Gilchrist v. Rea, 9 Paige (N. Y.) 66; Butler v. Emmett, 8 Paige (N. Y.) 12. See also Robinson v. Clark, 34 S. W. 1083, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 1401.

Second sale for subsequently discovered debts.— Where a surrogate has made an order for a sale of a part of the real estate of the decedent for the payment of debts that were then ascertained he is not authorized to make another order for the sale of another portion of the estate to pay debts alleged to have been subsequently discovered until the executor making the application has made out and filed an account of such new debts and has complied with the provisions of the statute as on an original application. Gilchrist v. Rea, 9 Paige (N. Y.) 66.

License to mortgage.— If, after an order for a sale of realty has been obtained, it is desired to obtain a license to mortgage such realty, a new notice must be given, or the order granting the license to mortgage will be void. Martin v. Neal, 125 Ind. 547, 25 N. E. 813.

64. See Trumbel v. Williams, 18 Nebr. 144, 24 N. W. 716, holding that where a license to sell realty granted to the original representative has been of no avail by reason of want of bidders, there is no necessity for a second petition filed by his successor, but the first petition is sufficient to authorize the court to issue him a license to sell. See also Seymour v. Ricketts, 21 Nebr. 240, 31 N. W. 781, holding that service of notice of the application sustains proceedings until the debts are paid or the land described is all sold, and the license may be renewed without repeating the service.

Where realty fails to bring the required price at the first offering no additional order of court is required to authorize the personal representative to resell it. Burgett v. Apperson, 52 Ark. 213, 12 S. W. 559 (holding that under the Arkansas statute it is only necessary for the court to provide for the execution of the judgment previously entered by directing that the land shall be offered for sale to the highest bidder at the end of twelve months after the first offering, and on a day fixed for that purpose); Campbell v. Owens, 32 La. Ann. 265.

Land repurchased by personal representative.— Where land sold to pay debts is repurchased by the personal representative for the estate, a second order to sell it need not

S. Annulling Sales After Confirmation — 1. By Whom Sales May Be Attacked — a. In General.[65] As a general rule only those interested in the estate can complain of informalities in the sale.[66] The regularity of a sale or of the proceedings whereon it is founded may be called in question by heirs or devisees,[67] legatees or distributees,[68] or by creditors of the decedent whose rights have been prejudiced;[69] but not by persons claiming adversely to the heirs or devisees.[70] Purchasers cannot complain of matters not injurious to their rights.[71] Where administration is revoked upon discovery and probate of a will, after the administrator has sold property, the executor is bound by the sale, although the legatees may attack it.[72] be founded on a new order to show cause why the land should not be sold. Stowe v. Banks, 123 Mo. 672, 27 S. W. 347.

65. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (XII), (C).

Sale of personalty under testamentary authority or common-law power see supra, VIII, P, 2, m.

66. Ardis v. Smith, 52 Ga. 102; Mouser v. Bogwell, 76 S. W. 826, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1032. See also Webster v. Calden, 53 Me. 203.

Persons desiring to make an advanced bid have no such interest as to entitle them to have a sale set aside on the ground of fraud. Terry v. Clothier, 1 Wash. 475, 25 Pac. 673.

67. Worthy v. Johnson, 8 Ga. 236, 52 Am. Dec. 399 (heirs may file a bill to set aside a sale when the administrator on application has refused to do so); Randall v. State Bank, 17 La. 273; Jones v. Carter, 56 Mo. 403; Remick v. Butterfield, 31 N. H. 70, 64 Am. Dec. 316 (each may sue at law for his own share when the sale is void). But compare Seward v. Clark, 67 Ind. 289, holding that in the absence of fraud or mistake infant heirs are bound by the proceedings and cannot by appealing after attaining their majority annul the sale.

In New Hampshire it has been held that heirs may not, pending the administration, maintain a writ of entry against one holding under a void sale, because under the statute the administrator's right of possession continues throughout the administration. Bergin v. McFarland, 26 N. H. 533.

Forced heirs having only a residuary interest may not attack a sale for irregularities not affecting them. Brown v. Jacobs, 24 La. Ann. 526.

Heirs taking subject to an estate by curtesy are not prejudiced by and cannot complain of a mortgage authorized by the court to secure a debt of the ancestor and made payable on the death of the husband. Corbett's Estate, 10 Pa. Dist. 59.

Insufficiency of assets.— Heirs cannot complain of a sale for full value when the assets, including proceeds of the sale, are insufficient to pay the debts. Highsmith v. Whitehurst, 120 N. C. 123, 26 N. E. 917. And see Trahan v. Simon, 51 La. Ann. 809, 25 So. 374; Matter of Wood, 70 N. Y. App. Div. 321, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 272. But a report of insolvency will not alone constitute a defense to an action by heirs, as it is not conclusive of the final insolvency of the estate. Grant v. Lloyd, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 191.

68. Stanbrough v. McClellan, 36 La. Ann. 234; Bland v. Muncaster, 24 Miss. 62, 57 Am. Dec. 162; Price v. Nesbit, 1 Hill Eq. (S. C.) 445.

69. Grubbs v. McGlawn, 39 Ga. 672 [overruling Mercer v. Newsom, 23 Ga. 151]; Elting v. Biggsville First Nat. Bank, 173 Ill. 368, 50 N. E. 1095 [affirming 68 Ill. App. 204]; Thompson's Succession, 42 La. Ann. 118, 7 So. 477, mortgage creditor. Contra, Thompson v. Cox, 53 N. C. 311.

Except where the proceeds are insufficient to pay the debts a creditor may not avoid a sale. Bland v. Muncaster, 24 Miss. 62, 57 Am. Dec. 162. See also Patterson v. Eakin, 87 Va. 49, 12 S. E. 144.

If a sale is absolutely void the creditor may attack it without showing any injury to himself. Macarty v. Bond, 9 La. 351.

The fact that a creditor has a remedy on the administrator's bond does not preclude him from vacating a sale to the administrator himself. In re Devincenzi, 119 Cal. 498, 51 Pac. 845; Prestidge v. Pendleton, 24 Miss. 80; Murphy v. Clark, 1 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 221; Hannum's Appeal, 1 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 362.

A bailor of property sold as that of a bailee may not attack the sale if he has sustained no injury. Waterhouse v. Bourke, 14 La. Ann. 358.

70. Illinois.— Wimberly v. Hurst, 33 Ill. 166, 83 Am. Dec. 295.

Louisiana.— Tabarry's Succession, 30 La. Ann. 187.

Maine.— Purrington v. Dunning, 11 Me. 174.

Massachusetts.— Knox v. Jenks, 7 Mass. 488.

Pennsylvania.— Bean's Appeal, 2 Walk. 512.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1539.

71. Cralle v. Meem, 8 Gratt. (Va.) 496, holding that purchasers cannot have a sale set aside, although prematurely made, if it was beneficial to infant heirs and consented to by the adult heirs.

Where there have been two sales, one claiming as purchaser under the first cannot complain of irregularities in the proceedings on the second sale. Sullivan v. Berry, 83 Ky. 198, 4 Am. St. Rep. 147; In re Gillespie, 10 Watts (Pa.) 300.

72. Price v. Nesbit, 1 Hill Eq. (S. C.) 445.

b. Estoppel[73] — (i) In General. One who might otherwise successfully attack a sale may be estopped from so doing, the principles governing such estoppel being practically the same as those applying to estoppel generally. Thus one may be estopped by being present at the sale and by his conduct inducing another to purchase,[74] or he may estop himself from attacking the proceedings or particular features thereof by himself asserting title thereunder.[75] So too one will not be heard to object to the regularity of proceedings had on his own application,[76] instigation, or consent,[77] or which he has aided in carrying into effect.[78] Neither will one be heard to complain of defects for the existence of which he is himself responsible.[79] The ordinary principles of res judicata apply to proceedings for the sale of a decedent's property and proceedings attacking such sale, and parties thereto are concluded by determinations made in such proceedings,[80] even with regard to questions not litigated but which there was an opportunity to litigate.[81] And it has been held that a party to the proceeding who fails to set up an adverse claim to the property is estopped in pais, although the court could not in that proceeding adjudicate his claim.[82] Where one is inter-

73. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (XII), (C).

74. McCaa v. Woolf, 42 Ala. 389 (a husband stating at the sale that the title is good estops both himself and his wife from asserting her undisclosed interest); Williamson v. Ross, 33 Ala. 509 (stating that a purchaser would get a good title); Favill v. Roberts, 50 N. Y. 222 [affirming 3 Lans. 14].

Mere presence at the sale without affirmative acts inducing the purchase will not usually work an estoppel (Allen v. Kallam, 69 Ala. 442; Owen v. Slatter, 26 Ala. 547, 62 Am. Dec. 745); but a widow cannot object to a sale because made without her consent when she was present and purchased part of the property (Davidson v. Silliman, 24 La. Ann. 225), nor can one object for want of notice of a sale if he was there present (Adams v. Howard, 110 N. C. 15, 14 S. E. 648).

75. Doe v. Wright, 2 Houst. (Del.) 49; McChesney v. Daly, 7 La. Ann. 613; Aicard v. Daly, 7 La. Ann. 612; Allen v. Atchison, 26 Tex. 616. An heir cannot take advantage of the acts of one claiming to be administrator in establishing a land certificate, which was supposed to have been lost to the estate, and then contest its sale on the ground that the administrator was not lawfully appointed. Giddings v. Steele, 28 Tex. 732, 91 Am. Dec. 336.

76. Evans v. Mathews, 8 Ala. 99; Ions v. Harbison, 112 Cal. 260, 44 Pac. 572; Linman v. Riggins, 40 La. Ann. 761, 5 So. 49, 8 Am. St. Rep. 549; Mardis v. Mardis, 13 La. Ann. 236; Saulet v. Ogilvie, 11 La. 282.

77. Jennings v. Jenkins, 9 Ala. 285; Pepper v. Zahrsinger, 94 Ind. 88; In re Simmonds, 19 Pa. St. 439; James v. Corker, 30 Tex. 617; Grande v. Chaves, 15 Tex. 550. An heir cannot attack a sale on the ground that he was a minor not represented, when he had, in a petition to be recognized as heir, averred that he was of full age. Chandler v. Hough, 7 La. Ann. 440.

78. Jennison v. Hapgood, 10 Pick. (Mass.) 77; Butler v. Emmett, 8 Paige (N. Y.) 12. See also Pool v. Ellis, 64 Miss. 555, 1 So. 725, holding that where the parties thought a sale was illegal and the purchaser purchased again at a second sale he could not assert that the first sale was legal.

Irregularities are cured by defendants coming in after the sale and consenting to confirmation. Chambers v. Penland, 78 N. C. 53.

79. Bennallack v. Richards, 125 Cal. 427, 58 Pac. 65, holding that an executor cannot claim title for want of confirmation which he himself should have procured.

80. Seymour v. Seymour, 22 Conn. 272; Linman v. Riggins, 40 La. Ann. 761, 5 So. 49, 8 Am. St. Rep. 549; Ward v. Lowndes, 96 N. C. 367, 2 S. E. 591; Wilson v. Leigh, 39 N. C. 97; Dooly v. Russell, 10 Wash. 195, 38 Pac. 1000.

Remainder-men represented by trustees are bound by the record. Rhodes v. Caswell, 41 N. Y. App. Div. 229, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 470.

The parties entitled to distribution of the purchase-money are concluded by the settlement of the administrator's account and estopped thereby from attacking the sale on the ground that the purchase-money was not paid. Long v. Joplin Min., etc., Co., 68 Mo. 422.

81. Indiana.— Gavin v. Graydon, 41 Ind. 559.

North Carolina.— Morrisett v. Ferebee, 120 N. C. 6, 26 S. E. 628.

Pennsylvania.— Jacoby v. McMahon, 174 Pa. St. 133, 34 Atl. 286, 189 Pa. St. 1, 41 Atl. 1119.

South Carolina.— Culler v. Crim, 52 S. C. 574, 30 S. E. 635; Hodge v. Fabian, 31 S. C. 212, 9 S. E. 820, 17 Am. St. Rep. 25.

Tennessee.— Posey v. Eaton, 9 Lea 500.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1540; and, generally, JUDGMENTS.

A vendee who neglects to set up his sale of the property to a third person in a suit to set aside the sale will not be permitted to set it up in a subsequent suit to recover the property or its value. Putnam v. Davidson, 3 La. Ann. 266.

82. Harding v. Le Moyne, 114 Ill. 65, 29 N. E. 188.

ested in two capacities he is usually held to be estopped in one by his acts in the other.[83]

(II) Retaining Benefits.[84] One who has knowingly accepted and retained the purchase-money or a part thereof is thereby estopped from afterward attacking the sale or asserting title to the land,[85] but it is necessary in order to work the estoppel that the person receiving the money should have known at the time of the facts rendering the sale invalid,[86] and that what was received was proceeds of

83. Beniteau v. Dodsley, 88 Mich. 152, 50 N. W. 110; Beeson v. Beeson, 9 Pa. St. 279; Dubose v. James, McMull. Eq. (S. C.) 55. But compare Owen v. Slatter, 26 Ala. 547, 62 Am. Dec. 745, where a widow who was also administratrix was held not estopped from claiming dower by failing to announce at the sale that the land was to be sold subject to her dower.

84. Reimbursement of purchaser for purchase-money and improvements when sale avoided see infra, XII, S, 6, a, b.

85. Georgia.— Carey v. Moore, 119 Ga. 92, 45 S. E. 998; Moore v. Carey, 116 Ga. 28, 42 S. E. 376.

Indiana.— Axton v. Carter, 141 Ind. 672, 39 N. E. 546; Wilmore v. Stetler, 137 Ind. 127, 34 N. E. 357, 36 N. E. 856, 45 Am. St. Rep. 169; Palmerton v. Hoop, 131 Ind. 23, 30 N. E. 874; Bumb v. Gard, 107 Ind. 575, 8 N. E. 713.

Kansas.— Crane v. Lowe, 59 Kan. 606, 54 Pac. 666.

Louisiana.— Beard v. Cash, 32 La. Ann. 121; Tilsen v. Haine, 27 La. Ann. 228; McCulloch v. Weaver, 14 La. Ann. 33; In re Dickson, 6 La. Ann. 754.

Mississippi.— Willie v. Brooks, 45 Miss. 542; Lee v. Gardiner, 26 Miss. 521.

Missouri.— Meddis v. Kenney, 176 Mo. 200, 75 S. W. 633, 98 Am. St. Rep. 496.

New York.— In re Place, 1 Redf. Surr. 276.

Pennsylvania.— Cameron v. Coy, 165 Pa. St. 290, 30 Atl. 843; Fink v. Miller, 19 Pa. Super. Ct. 556.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1541.

In Alabama, if the sale was void, the estoppel will not be recognized at law but will be enforced in equity. Oden v. Dupuy, 99 Ala. 36, 11 So. 419, 12 So. 605; Wilson v. Holt, 83 Ala. 528, 3 So. 321, 3 Am. St. Rep. 768; Robertson v. Bradford, 73 Ala. 116; Casey v. Morgan, 67 Ala. 441; Bell v. Craig, 52 Ala. 215; Williamson v. Ross, 33 Ala. 509; Price v. Wilkinson, 10 Ala. 172.

In Georgia it seems that a purchaser does not get title by estoppel, but is merely entitled to reimbursement to the extent that he has added to the trust estate. Nosworthy v. Blizzard, 53 Ga. 668.

In Indiana it is held that the court is without authority to sell the widow's share, that an order for such sale is void, and that the widow is not estopped from asserting her title by accepting a part of the proceeds of the sale as a portion of her distributive share of the estate. Compton v. Pruitt, 88 Ind. 171; Hanlon v. Waterbury, 31 Ind. 168. So too children who have accepted the proceeds of the sale of their own interest are not estopped from asserting their title to the widow's interest after her death. Elliott v. Frakes, 71 Ind. 412; Fry v. Lawson, 32 Ind. App. 364, 69 N. E. 1038. If, however, the widow actively instigates the sale of her interest and accepts the proceeds she will be estopped (Pepper v. Zahnsinger, 94 Ind. 88. See also Myers v. Boyd, 144 Ind. 496, 43 N. E. 567), but merely requesting the administrator to sell without accepting the proceeds will not work an estoppel (Roberts v. Lindley, 121 Ind. 56, 22 N. E. 967).

Participation in the proceeds of a bond given for the purchase-money estops distributees from charging the administrator with liability for improperly selling. Wilson's Appeal, 4 Pennyp. (Pa.) 432.

The death of one of the heirs before payment of the price does not affect the estoppel, where the remaining heirs receive their own interest and that of the decedent. Wilmore v. Stetler, 137 Ind. 127, 34 N. E. 357, 36 N. E. 856, 45 Am. St. Rep. 169.

Receipt by trustee ratifies voidable sale. Rhodes v. Caswell, 41 N. Y. App. Div. 229, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 470.

A receipt of the purchase-money by the administrator and its use to pay debts creates an equitable estoppel against the heir. Robertson v. Bradford, 73 Ala. 116.

The purchaser may by a bill in equity divest the title of heirs who have knowingly retained the purchase-money. Smith v. Lusk, 119 Ala. 394, 24 So. 256.

A creditor receiving the purchase-money forfeits no rights as to priority of payment. The receipt of the money merely prevents the following of the land. New Orleans Gaslight, etc., Co. v. Webb, 2 La. Ann. 526.

Merely charging the purchase-money against the purchaser's claim as a distributee of the estate does not estop the heirs. Sweeney v. Warren, 127 N. Y. 426, 28 N. E. 413, 24 Am. St. Rep. 468.

If the money was received for the purpose of tendering it back and not for retention, the estoppel does not arise. Moore v. Carey, 116 Ga. 28, 42 S. E. 376.

Void sale.— The executrix cannot ratify a sale void for want of a valid order by accepting the purchase-money. Smelser v. Blanchard, 15 La. Ann. 254.

Estoppel does not operate in favor of purchaser taking with notice of defect. Campbell v. Drais, 125 Cal. 253, 57 Pac. 994.

86. Schnell v. Chicago, 38 Ill. 382, 87 Am. Dec. 304; Harmon v. Smith, 38 Fed. 482, the heirs in these cases were minors.

the sale.[87] Distribution of the purchase-money to persons under disability does not estop them unless such distribution is ratified upon removal of the disability,[88] and it has been held that even the receipt of money and expression of satisfaction at the sale after reaching majority will not estop one who was an infant when the sale was made.[89] Estoppel has also been held to arise from bringing suit for the purchase-money[90] and recovering judgment therefor.[91] A like estoppel prevails against a purchaser, forbidding him, while he retains possession of the property, to resist payment of the purchase-money or otherwise repudiate the burdens arising from the purchase because of defects in the sale or proceedings leading up thereto.[92]

(III) RATIFICATION. Heirs of full age may bind themselves by an express ratification of an irregular sale, and will not be thereafter heard to question its validity,[93] but persons under disability cannot ratify.[94] If in a bill to avoid a voidable sale and for other purposes plaintiff amends by striking out the prayer to set aside the sale he thereby affirms the sale.[95]

2. TIME WITHIN WHICH SALE MAY BE ANNULLED — a. Statutes of Limitations.[96] Where a proceeding attacking a sale by an executor or administrator falls within

87. McArthur v. Carrie, 32 Ala. 75, 70 Am. Dec. 529; Spencer v. Jennings, 139 Pa. St. 198, 21 Atl. 73.

88. Willie v. Brooks, 45 Miss. 542; Valle v. Fleming, 19 Mo. 454, 61 Am. Dec. 566. But see Milner v. Vandivere, 86 Ga. 540, 12 S. E. 879.

They must refund money or have it charged upon land. Willie v. Brooks, 45 Miss. 542.

A married woman is estopped by receiving the proceeds of the sale, but she is not estopped by her husband's receipt of them without her consent. Kempe v. Pintard, 32 Miss. 324.

89. Ackley v. Dygert, 33 Barb. (N. Y.) 176, where no one has been influenced by the declaration of the heir to buy the land or to do any other act by which he would be prejudiced were the heir allowed to assert title to the property.

90. Lathrop v. Doty, 82 Iowa 272, 47 N. W. 1089; Ogden v. Ogden, 1 S. W. 665, 8 Ky. L. Rep. 416.

91. Johnson v. Perkins, 1 Baxt. (Tenn.) 367; Miller v. Anders, 21 Tex. Civ. App. 72, 51 S. W. 897.

92. Alabama.— Martin v. Truss, 50 Ala. 95; Hickson v. Lingold, 47 Ala. 449; Duncan v. Stewart, 25 Ala. 408, 60 Am. Dec. 527; Worthington v. McRoberts, 7 Ala. 814, 9 Ala. 297; Lamkin v. Reese, 7 Ala. 170; Harbin v. Levi, 6 Ala. 399. In early cases it was held that there was no estoppel, although the purchaser had not suffered eviction, if the sale was absolutely void. Wiley v. White, 3 Stew. & P. 355, 2 Stew. 331. But although no title passed payment cannot be resisted if the purchaser is about to receive title from another source. Lee v. White, 4 Stew. & P. 178.

Louisiana.— Dupleix v. Deblieux, 26 La. Ann. 218; Collins v. Hollier, 13 La. Ann. 585; Aicard v. Daly, 7 La. Ann. 612.

Mississippi.— Martin v. Tarver, 43 Miss. 517; Whitworth v. Carver, 43 Miss. 61; Bohannon v. Madison, 31 Miss. 348; Joslin v. Caughlin, 27 Miss. 852. The reason given for the rule is that if the sale is void the property is unadministered assets and the administrator is therefore chargeable therewith, and the purchaser cannot retain the property without indemnifying him. Therefore the rule does not apply to real estate for which the administrator is not responsible. Washington v. McCaughan, 34 Miss. 304.

Missouri.— Adair v. Adair, 78 Mo. 630.

Texas.— Byars v. Thompson, 80 Tex. 468, 15 S. W. 1087; Claiborne v. Yoeman, 15 Tex. 44; Perry v. Booth, 7 Tex. 493.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1542.

Where a firm buys property, one who afterward enters it as a partner is bound by the conditions of the sale and must carry them out. Allen v. Atchison, 26 Tex. 616.

Compelling election.— If the sale was in excess of the administrator's authority the purchaser may compel creditors and heirs to elect its ratification or rescission. McCully v. Chapman, 58 Ala. 325.

93. Dunlap v. Mitchell, 10 Ohio 117; O'Dell v. Rogers, 44 Wis. 136; Mills v. Mills, 57 Fed. 873.

Void sale.— Under La. Code, arts. 1139, 1663, making sales by executors to themselves absolute nullities, such sales cannot be ratified by relation or so as to bind any one not a party to the ratification. Scott v. Gorton, 14 La. 115, 33 Am. Dec. 578.

Facts not amounting to ratification.— Where, pending a suit to set a sale aside, an amendment is made praying for an accounting and a money judgment, and an agreement made with other claimants that the land be sold subject to a determination of their respective rights, such amendment is not a ratification of the sale and the rights of plaintiff should be transferred to the fund realized. Carmichael v. Foster, 69 Ga. 372.

94. Mitchell v. Dunlap, 10 Ohio 117 (married women); Longworth v. Goforth, Wright (Ohio) 192 (infants).

95. Smith v. Worthington, 53 Fed. 977, 4 C. C. A. 130.

96. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (XII), (D).

the provisions of a general statute of limitations, the ordinary rules of construction of such statutes of course apply,[97] and a purchaser may be protected by his adverse possession for the statutory period.[98] There are, however, in many jurisdictions, special statutes expressly limiting the time within which executor's or administrator's sales may be attacked,[99] and these statutes are usually held to apply to sales which are void[1] as well as to those which are merely irregular and void-

97. See, generally, LIMITATIONS OF ACTIONS.

A purchase by the administrator is not voidable on the ground of actual fraud but on the ground of public policy, and a suit to set aside such a sale is not within a statute limiting actions for relief or against fraud, nor is it an action for the recovery of real property. Potter v. Smith, 36 Ind. 231.

In Texas a suit to set aside a sale on the ground of fraud is in substance a bill of review and is barred by a two years' statute relating to bills of review and writs of error. Murchison v. White, 54 Tex. 78. But such an action may be brought within a year after plaintiff becomes of age, although eighteen years after the order attacked. Kalteyer v. Wipff, 92 Tex. 673, 52 S. W. 63.

98. Davidson v. Koehler, 76 Ind. 398; McCullough v. Minor, 2 La. Ann. 466; Jones v. Billstein, 28 Wis. 221.

Even though the proceedings were void, he may be so protected. McMichael v. Craig, 105 Ala. 382, 16 So. 883.

99. California.— Code Civ. Proc. § 190, providing that no action for the recovery of any estate sold by an executor or administrator shall be maintained by any heir or other person claiming under the deceased testator or intestate, unless it be commenced within three years next after the sale, bars an action after that time by grantees of heirs who were minors, because the administrator had the right to bring the suit and might have done so within the statutory time. Meeks v. Olpherts, 100 U. S. 564, 25 L. ed. 735. But the statute does not run, where the administrator was himself the purchaser, until the right accrues to the heirs to sue. Gray v. Quicksilver Min. Co., 68 Fed. 677.

Indiana.— See Palmerton v. Hoop, 131 Ind. 23, 30 N. E. 874.

Louisiana.— By Rev. Civ. Code, art. 3543, informalities are cured in five years. This relates to all irregularities prior to the sale (Webb v. Keller, 39 La. Ann. 55, 1 So. 423. See also Valderes v. Bird, 10 Rob. 396) and bars persons under disabilities (Linman v. Riggins, 40 La. Ann. 761, 5 So. 49, 8 Am. St. Rep. 549).

Michigan.— Howell St. § 6074, applies to attacks on the ground of fraud (Egan v. Grece, 79 Mich. 629, 45 N. W. 74) and bars a grantee of an heir in five years after the heir attains his majority (Watson v. Lion Brewing Co., 61 Mich. 595, 28 N. W. 726).

Mississippi.— Code (1871), § 2173, bars an action in one year if the sale is made in good faith to one who pays the purchase-money (Summers v. Brady, 56 Miss. 10; Morgan v. Hazlehurst Lodge, 53 Miss. 665), but it will not bar an action where the purchaser was merely credited for the amount of his bid on a debt (Clay v. Field, 115 U. S. 260, 6 S. Ct. 36, 29 L. ed. 375) or where the purchase was in bad faith (Sharpley v. Plant, 79 Miss. 175, 28 So. 799, 89 Am. St. Rep. 588). But a purchaser in good faith from the purchaser at the sale is protected. Summers v. Brady, 56 Miss. 10.

Wisconsin.— Rev. St. c. 94, § 60, limiting to five years actions by heirs or others claiming under a deceased person, has the effect of preventing the court itself from revising its former proceedings so as to divest title acquired through the sale. Betts v. Shotton, 27 Wis. 667.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1553.

The Spanish laws formerly prevailing within the Louisiana Purchase prevented an attack after four years. McNair v. Hunt, 5 Mo. 300.

1. Hawley v. Zigerly, 135 Ind. 248, 34 N. E. 219; Davidson v. Bates, 111 Ind. 391, 12 N. E. 687; White v. Clawson, 79 Ind. 188; Vail v. Halton, 14 Ind. 344; Vancleave v. Milliken, 13 Ind. 105; Holmes v. Beal, 9 Cush. (Mass.) 223; Rice v. Dickerman, 47 Minn. 527, 50 N. W. 698; Spencer v. Sheehan, 19 Minn. 338. Contra, Boyles v. Boyles, 37 Iowa 592; Chadbourne v. Rackliff, 30 Me. 354.

The California statute has been construed by both the state and federal courts as applying to void sales (Ganahl v. Soher, 68 Cal. 95, 8 Pac. 650; Harlan v. Peck, 33 Cal. 515, 91 Am. Dec. 653; Meeks v. Olpherts, 100 U. S. 564, 25 L. ed. 735 [affirming 16 Fed. Cas. No. 9,393, 3 Sawy. 206]), but it is not applicable where the sale is void and the purchaser has never been in possession (Gage v. Downey, 94 Cal. 241, 29 Pac. 635). And where the sale was made by one appointed as public administrator, who, without taking oath or giving bond, assumed the administration, it was held that he did not represent the heirs and that the sale was not within the statute. Staples v. Connor, 79 Cal. 14, 21 Pac. 380.

In Michigan void sales are within Howell St. § 6074, relating to actions for the recovery of any estate sold by an executor or administrator, by any heir or other person claiming under the deceased testator or intestate (Kammerer v. Morlock, 125 Mich. 320, 84 N. W. 319; Toll v. Wright, 37 Mich. 93), but not within Howell St. § 8698, relating to sales under an order, judgment, decree, or process of a court or legal tribunal of competent jurisdiction (Toll v. Wright, supra; Millar v. Babcock, 29 Mich. 526).

able.[2] A statute barring attacks on sales already made in two years from the passage of the act has been held good,[3] and it has even been held that a statute in general terms applies to sales already made, at least where time remains after the passage of the act to commence the action.[4] As to the time when the statutes of limitation begin to run the rules in the different states vary.[5] The running of the statute is not usually prevented by the fact that the administration has not been closed,[6] or that dower has not been assigned to the widow, when she is not in possession;[7] neither will ignorance of the facts suspend the statute when there was no concealment and the facts were readily ascertainable.[8]

b. Laches. Irrespective of a statute of limitations one may by his own laches lose the right to attack a sale, as by remaining silent until the rights of third persons have intervened,[9] until the rights of creditors have been lost by lapse of time,[10] or until the purchaser has made valuable improvements on the land.[11] So also one may be estopped by remaining silent for a long time and receiving benefits from the sale,[12] and in general courts of equity will apply the rule requiring diligence on the part of suitors, and deny relief when there has been unreasonable delay.[13]

2. See Pearson v. Burditt, 26 Tex. 157, 80 Am. Dec. 649.

Sales to the representative himself are within the statutes. Axton v. Carter, 141 Ind. 672, 39 N. E. 546; Fisher v. Bush, 133 Ind. 315, 32 N. E. 924.

3. Rice v. Dickerman, 47 Minn. 527, 50 N. W. 698; Streeter v. Wilkinson, 24 Minn. 288.

4. Beal v. Nason, 14 Me. 344. But see Holyoke v. Haskins, 5 Pick. (Mass.) 20, 16 Am. Dec. 372.

5. In California, Code Civ. Proc. § 1573, provides that an action for the recovery of real estate sold by the administrator must be commenced within three years after the settlement of his final account, and it is held that the statute commences to run at the expiration of a reasonable time for obtaining a settlement after the estate is in condition to be closed. Dennis v. Bint, 122 Cal. 39, 54 Pac. 378, 68 Am. St. Rep. 17.

In Indiana the special statute does not begin to run until the sale is confirmed, but the general statute relating to actions to recover possession of real estate begins to run, when the sale is void, from the time the purchaser takes possession under his certificate. L'Hommedieu v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 120 Ind. 435, 22 N. E. 125.

In Wisconsin the right of action of the heirs accrues as soon as the grantee in the representative's deed goes into possession, and the commencement of the running of the statute is not postponed until the settlement of the estate. Jones v. Billstein, 28 Wis. 221 [followed in Jones v. Lathrop, 28 Wis. 339].

6. Bland v. Fleeman, 58 Ark. 84, 23 S. W. 4; Burney v. Ludeling, 41 La. Ann. 627, 6 So. 248.

7. Agan v. Shannon, 103 Mo. 661, 15 S. W. 757.

8. Bland v. Fleeman, 58 Ark. 84, 25 S. W. 4; Dennis v. Bint, 122 Cal. 39, 54 Pac. 378, 68 Am. St. Rep. 17, at least without accounting for the failure to discover the facts. See also McGauhey v. Brown, 46 Ark. 25.

9. Jones v. Rountree, 96 Ga. 230, 23 S. E. 311; Fuller v. Little, 59 Ga. 338; Massey's Succession, 46 La. Ann. 126, 15 So. 6; Benedict v. Bonnot, 39 La. Ann. 972, 3 So. 223; Hawkins v. Simmons, 41 N. C. 16; Halbert v. Carroll, (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 25 S. W. 1102.

10. Murphy v. De France, 105 Mo. 53, 15 S. W. 949, 16 S. W. 861.

11. Jones v. Woodstock Iron Co., 95 Ala. 551, 10 So. 635; Evans v. Snyder, 64 Mo. 516; In re Gillespie, 10 Watts (Pa.) 300.

Person under disability.—A married woman who received no purchase-money is not estopped by permitting the purchaser to make improvements (Throckmorton v. Pence, 121 Mo. 50, 25 S. W. 843); nor is an infant (Jones v. Woodstock Iron Co., 95 Ala. 551, 10 So. 635).

Where the representative becomes the purchaser an heir is not estopped by permitting him to make improvements (Potter v. Smith, 36 Ind. 231. See also Caldwell v. Caldwell, 45 Ohio St. 512, 15 N. E. 297), but in such case the representative is to be compensated for his improvements (Smith v. Drake, 23 N. J. Eq. 302).

12. Davis v. Evans, 62 Ala. 401; Garrett v. Lynch, 45 Ala. 204; Jacoby v. McMahon, 174 Pa. St. 133, 34 Atl. 286; Sager v. Mead, 171 Pa. St. 349, 33 Atl. 355; Hudson v. Jurnigan, 39 Tex. 579. See also supra, XII, S, 1, b, (II).

13. Georgia.— Word v. Davis, 107 Ga. 780, 33 S. E. 691; Etheredge v. Slayton, 94 Ga. 496, 19 S. E. 818, 99 Ga. 138, 25 S. E. 24; Flanders v. Flanders, 23 Ga. 249, 68 Am. Dec. 523; Beckham v. Newton, 21 Ga. 187.

Illinois.— Kellogg v. Wilson, 89 Ill. 357.

Michigan.— Egan v. Grece, 79 Mich. 629, 45 N. W. 74.

North Carolina.— Harris v. Brown, 123 N. C. 419, 31 S. E. 877.

Pennsylvania.— Irwin v. Guthrie, 198 Pa. St. 267, 47 Atl. 992; Grindrod's Estate, 140 Pa. St. 161, 21 Atl. 259.

United States.— Balkham v. Woodstock Iron Co., 154 U. S. 177, 14 S. Ct. 1010, 38 L. ed. 953 [affirming 43 Fed. 648, 11 L. R. A.

3. Collateral Attack — a. Proper Only When Sale Void. A void order of sale is open to collateral attack.[14] If, however, the jurisdiction of the court has properly attached, the order of sale is not void, whatever may be the errors and irregularities in the proceedings,[15] and the general rule is that there can be no collateral attack on such an order except for want of jurisdiction.[16]

230]; Eames v. Manly, 117 Fed. 387, 54 C. C. A. 561.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1553.

The analogy of the statute of limitations will be followed. Candler v. Clarke, 90 Ga. 550, 16 S. E. 645; Musselman v. Eshleman, 10 Pa. St. 394, 51 Am. Dec. 493. And in Indiana it is held that where lapse of time is relied upon it must be pleaded and based on some statute of limitations. Morgan v. Wattles, 69 Ind. 260.

Ignorance of the law will not excuse delay. Word v. Davis, 107 Ga. 780, 33 S. E. 691.

Infants notified of proceedings are not estopped by acquiescence for several years where they have taken no benefits. Harrison v. Harrison, 106 N. C. 282, 11 S. E. 356.

Delay not sufficient to defeat right.— A delay of six years is not unreasonable where some of the heirs were non-residents, some were invalids, and the others minors, and the facts were not discovered until a few days before the suit was commenced (Ingalls v. Rowell, 149 Ill. 163, 36 N. E. 1016); nor is nineteen years' delay fatal where a life-estate existed for sixteen years, and a remainder-man was under disability and knew nothing as to the nature of the sale for several years after his estate fell in. Kiskaddon v. Dodds, 21 Pa. Super. Ct. 351.

When lapse of time will not mature title. — Mere lapse of time will not mature title in a purchaser of a land certificate where he did not pay the price or give security therefor, where there has been no confirmation and the certificate has not been located. Harris v. Brower, 3 Tex. Civ. App. 649, 22 S. W. 758.

14. Long v. Burnett, 13 Iowa 28, 81 Am. Dec. 420, special administrator licensed to sell when there was no authority to grant such power to a special administrator.

A defect of jurisdiction apparent on the face of the record will sustain an action to vacate the proceedings. Guy v. Pierson, 21 Ind. 18. And see McPherson v. Cunliff, 11 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 422, 14 Am. Dec. 642.

15. Alabama.— De Bardelaben v. Stoudenmire, 48 Ala. 643; Spragins v. Taylor, 48 Ala. 520; Satcher v. Satcher, 41 Ala. 26, 91 Am. Dec. 498; Wyman v. Campbell, 6 Port. 219, 31 Am. Dec. 677. See also Perkins v. Winter, 7 Ala. 855.

Arkansas.— Apel v. Kelsey, 47 Ark. 413, 2 S. W. 102.

California.— Stuart v. Allen, 16 Cal. 473, 76 Am. Dec. 551.

Florida.— Price v. Winter, 15 Fla. 66.

Georgia.— Coggins v. Griswold, 64 Ga. 323.

Illinois.— Harris v. Lester, 80 Ill. 307.

Iowa.— Cheney v. McColloch, 104 Iowa 183, 73 N. W. 580; Morrow v. Weed, 4 Iowa 77, 66 Am. Dec. 122.

Kansas.— Fleming v. Bale, 23 Kan. 88.

North Carolina.— McIver v. Stephens, 101 N. C. 255, 7 S. E. 695.

Tennessee.— Ridgely v. Bennett, 13 Lea 210; Norville v. Coble, 1 Lea 465.

Washington.— Furth v. U. S. Mortgage, etc., Co., 13 Wash. 73, 42 Pac. 523.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1449.

Requisites to jurisdiction.—In Alabama the sole requisite to establish jurisdiction and protect an order of sale from collateral attack is the presenting of a petition setting forth a statutory ground for the sale (Friedman v. Shamblin, 117 Ala. 454, 23 So. 821; De Bardelaben v. Stoudenmire, 48 Ala. 643; Watson v. Collins, 37 Ala. 587; Doe v. Riley, 28 Ala. 164, 65 Am. Dec. 334; Perkins v. Winter, 7 Ala. 855), except where minors are interested, and then there must be proof of the necessity of the sale by deposition, as in chancery proceedings (Thompson v. Boswell, 97 Ala. 570, 12 So. 809). But the want of such proof was in an earlier case held to be a mere irregularity (Field v. Goldsby, 28 Ala. 218, 65 Am. Dec. 341), and incompetency of the witnesses so examined cannot be proved to defeat the sale if the order of sale contains a recital of proper proof (Kent v. Mansel, 101 Ala. 334, 14 So. 489).

16. Alabama.— Moore v. Cottingham, 113 Ala. 148, 20 So. 994, 59 Am. St. Rep. 100; Hatcher v. Clifton, 33 Ala. 301; King v. Kent, 29 Ala. 542; Cox v. Davis, 17 Ala. 714, 52 Am. Dec. 199.

Arkansas.— George v. Norris, 23 Ark. 121; Sturdy v. Jacoway, 19 Ark. 499.

California.— Burris v. Kennedy, 108 Cal. 331, 41 Pac. 458; Halleck v. Moss, 22 Cal. 266; Haynes v. Meeks, 20 Cal. 288; In re Spriggs, 20 Cal. 121.

Connecticut.— Richardson v. Frink, 2 Root 270.

Delaware.— Roach v. Martin, 1 Harr. 548, 28 Am. Dec. 546; Martin v. Roach, 1 Harr. 477; Van Dyke v. Johns, 1 Del. Ch. 93, 12 Am. Dec. 76.

Georgia.— McDade v. Burch, 7 Ga. 559, 50 Am. Dec. 407.

Illinois.— Frothingham v. Petty, 197 Ill. 418, 64 N. E. 270; Bradley v. Droue, 187 Ill. 175, 58 N. E. 304, 79 Am. St. Rep. 214; Bostwick v. Skinner, 80 Ill. 147; Moffitt v. Moffitt, 69 Ill. 641; Wimberly v. Hurst, 33 Ill. 166, 83 Am. Dec. 295; Stow v. Kimball, 28 Ill. 93; Iverson v. Loberg, 26 Ill. 179, 79 Am. Dec. 364.

Indiana.— Watkins v. Lewis, 153 Ind. 648, 55 N. E. 83; Denton v. Arnold, 151 Ind. 188, 51 N. E. 240; Pepper v. Zahnsinger, 94 Ind.

A stranger to the title may raise no objection not going to the jurisdiction,[17] as the title of the purchaser can be affected by no other defect.[18] The sale itself is likewise protected from collateral attack unless the proceedings are void, either for want of jurisdiction or from a failure to comply with some statutory provision expressly made essential to the validity of the sale.[19] Thus it seems that a sale 88; Gavin v. Graydon, 41 Ind. 559; Williams v. Sharp, 2 Ind. 101.

Iowa.— Cheney v. McColloch, 104 Iowa 183, 73 N. W. 580.

Kentucky.— Muldrow v. Fox, 2 Dana 74.

Louisiana.—Anger's Succession, 38 La. Ann. 492; Barbee v. Perkins, 23 La. Ann. 331.

Massachusetts.— Thayer v. Winchester, 133 Mass. 447; Perkins v. Fairfield, 11 Mass. 227.

Michigan.— Howard v. Moore, 2 Mich. 226. See also Long v. Landman, 118 Mich. 174, 76 N. W. 374.

Nebraska.— Schroeder v. Wilcox, 39 Nebr. 136, 57 N. W. 1031.

New Hampshire.— Merrill v. Harris, 26 N. H. 142, 57 Am. Dec. 359.

New York.— Forbes v. Halsey, 26 N. Y. 53; Jackson v. Crawfords, 12 Wend. 533; Jackson v. Robinson, 4 Wend. 436.

North Carolina.— Ward v. Lowndes, 96 N. C. 367, 2 S. E. 591.

Ohio.— Calkins v. Johnston, 20 Ohio St. 539; Benson v. Cilley, 8 Ohio St. 604; Richards v. Skiff, 8 Ohio St. 586; Cadwallader v. Evans, 1 Disn. 385, 12 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 811.

Pennsylvania.— Dixcy v. Laning, 49 Pa. St. 143; Unangst v. Kraemer, 8 Watts & S. 391; Fox v. Winters, 4 Rawle 174.

South Carolina.— Gates v. Irick, 2 Rich. 593.

Texas.— Lyne v. Sanford, 82 Tex. 58, 19 S. W. 847, 27 Am. St. Rep. 852; George v. Watson, 19 Tex. 354.

Virginia.— Peirce v. Graham, 85 Va. 227, 7 S. E. 189.

Wisconsin.— Jackson v. Astor, 1 Pinn. 137, 39 Am. Dec. 281.

United States.— Comstock v. Crawford, 3 Wall. 396, 18 L. ed. 34; McCants v. Peninsular Land Co., 68 Fed. 66, 15 C. C. A. 225; Garrett v. Boeing, 68 Fed. 51, 15 C. C. A. 209; May v. Logan County, 30 Fed. 250.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1449.

17. Alabama.— Doe v. Riley, 28 Ala. 164, 65 Am. Dec. 334.

Arkansas.— Montgomery v. Johnson, 31 Ark. 74; Thorn v. Ingram, 25 Ark. 52.

California.— Zilmer v. Gerichten, 111 Cal. 73, 43 Pac. 408; Dennis v. Winter, 63 Cal. 16; Halleck v. Moss, 22 Cal. 266.

Nebraska.— Trumble v. Williams, 18 Nebr. 144, 24 N. W. 716.

New York.— Rigney v. Coles, 6 Bosw. 479.

North Carolina.— Overton v. Crawford, 52 N. C. 415, 78 Am. Dec. 244.

Texas.— Baker v. De Zavalla, 1 Tex. Unrep. Cas. 621.

United States.— Ballance v. Forsyth, 13 How. 18, 14 L. ed. 32 [affirming 9 Fed. Cas. No. 4,951, 6 McLean 562].

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1449.

18. Alabama.— Clark v. Bernstein, 49 Ala. 596; Spragins v. Taylor, 48 Ala. 520; Warnock v. Thomas, 48 Ala. 463.

Arkansas.— Bennett v. Owen, 13 Ark. 177.

Florida.— Price v. Winter, 15 Fla. 66.

Illinois.— Moore v. Neil, 39 Ill. 256, 89 Am. Dec. 303; Goudy v. Hall, 36 Ill. 313, 87 Am. Dec. 217; Stow v. Kimball, 28 Ill. 93.

Louisiana.— Gurney's Succession, 14 La. Ann. 622.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1545; and infra, XII, T, 3, c, (III).

19. Alabama.— Collins v. Johnson, 45 Ala. 548, if the court had jurisdiction and ordered the sale, and the purchase-money has been paid and a deed made.

Arkansas.— Sturdy v. Jacoway, 19 Ark. 499, the sale itself vests title and no advantage can be taken collaterally of any defect in the deed.

Mississippi.— Johnson v. Cooper, 56 Miss. 608, where the sale has been confirmed and the purchaser has paid the price, gone into possession, and made improvements.

Missouri.— Rugle v. Webster, 55 Mo. 246; Tutt v. Boyer, 51 Mo. 425.

New Jersey.— Hohokus Tp. v. Erie R. Co., 65 N. J. L. 353, 47 Atl. 566; Den v. Newark India-Rubber Co., 24 N. J. L. 467.

Pennsylvania.— Iddings v. Cairns, 2 Grant 88, strangers cannot collaterally attack sale.

Texas.— Moody v. Butler, 63 Tex. 210 (holding that a failure to enter the confirmation on the minutes will not open the sale to collateral attack when an indorsement of confirmation appears on the return); Peterson v. Lowry, 48 Tex. 408; Baker v. De Zavalla, 1 Tex. Unrep. Cas. 621.

United States.—Nash v. Williams, 20 Wall. 226, 22 L. ed. 254; Burnham v. Hewey, 4 Fed. Cas. No. 2,175, 1 Hask. 372, holding that under Me. St. (1857) c. 71, § 30, a stranger to the title cannot avoid the sale if the court had jurisdiction and the deed was duly executed and recorded.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1554.

A recital in the record of payment of the purchase-price cannot be contradicted. May v. Marks, 74 Ala. 249.

The using of different baptismal names in different parts of the record will not avoid the sale when it is plain that the same person was intended. Webb v. Sellers, 27 Tex. 423.

Sale of property not belonging to estate.— An order directing the administration of the estate of one person does not authorize the sale of property of another decedent, and such a sale is void. Woodyard v. Threlkeld, 1 A. K. Marsh. (Ky.) 10.

cannot be collaterally attacked because not made by the person licensed to make it, the confirmation curing the defect, at least where the sale was under color of authority.[20]

b. What Attacks Are Collateral. All attacks of an indirect nature are collateral.[21] And even bills in equity to set aside a sale have been said to be collateral attacks,[22] or to amount to collateral attacks so far as the purchaser is concerned.[23]

4. Grounds For Annulling Sales[24]— a. Want of Authority of Executor or Administrator — (i) Defective Appointment. Where one is recognized as executor or administrator by the court and licensed to make a sale, the general rule is that the regularity of his appointment cannot be questioned in another proceeding, this rule being based to a certain extent upon the ground that the granting of the license to sell includes an adjudication of the authority of the person applying as representative for the license.[25] But in some states this doctrine is repudiated and it is held that if the representative was not lawfully appointed the sale is void.[26] It has also been held that if the record of the pro-

20. Osman v. Traphagen, 23 Mich. 80 (sale by one of two administrators, the other refusing to act in the matter); Harris v. Shafer, (Tex. Civ. App. 1893) 21 S. W. 110 (sale by administrator's agent).

21. See Price v. Wilkinson, 10 Ala. 172; Bruning v. Golden, 159 Ind. 199, 64 N. E. 657; Markle's Estate, 11 Pa. Co. Ct. 13; Wright v. McNatt, 49 Tex. 425.

22. Clark v. Bernstein, 49 Ala. 596; Spragins v. Taylor, 48 Ala. 520; Price v. Winter, 15 Fla. 66; Moore v. Neil, 39 Ill. 256, 89 Am. Dec. 303; Gurney's Succession, 14 La. Ann. 622. Equity will not set aside an administrator's deed where there was jurisdiction and no fraud. Covington v. Chamblin, 156 Mo. 574, 57 S. W. 728. But see infra, XII, S, 5, a.

23. Bradley v. Droue, 187 Ill. 175, 58 N. E. 304, 79 Am. St. Rep. 214; Moore v. Neil, 39 Ill. 256, 89 Am. Dec. 303.

A cross bill attacking the sale in a suit to quiet title to the land is a collateral attack. Friedman v. Shamblin, 117 Ala. 454, 23 So. 821.

A bill to impress the land with a trust involves a collateral attack which cannot be sustained where jurisdiction existed. Garrett v. Boeing, 68 Fed. 51, 15 C. C. A. 209.

24. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (XII), (B).

Sale of personalty under testamentary authority or common-law power see supra, VIII, P, 2, m.

A statute specifying on what grounds the sale may be avoided restricts the right of attack to the grounds named. Coon v. Fry, 6 Mich. 506; Howard v. Moore, 2 Mich. 226; Palmer v. Oakley, 2 Dougl. (Mich.) 433, 47 Am. Dec. 41.

25. Alabama.— Clancy v. Stephens, 92 Ala. 577, 9 So. 522, 524; May v. Marks, 74 Ala. 249; Landford v. Dunklin, 71 Ala. 594. Contra, where there is evidence of the existence of another lawful administrator. Allen v. Kellam, 69 Ala. 442.

Illinois.— Hobson v. Ewan, 62 Ill. 146; Schnell v. Chicago, 38 Ill. 382, 87 Am. Dec. 304.

Iowa.— Little v. Sinnett, 7 Iowa 324.

Louisiana.— Ford v. Mills, 46 La. Ann. 331, 14 So. 845; Lehmann's Succession, 41 La. Ann. 987, 7 So. 33; Webb v. Keller, 39 La. Ann. 55, 1 So. 423; Michael v. Michael, 11 La. 149.

Mississippi.— Ragland v. Green, 14 Sm. & M. 194.

Missouri.— Macey v. Stark, 116 Mo. 481, 21 S. W. 1088; Valle v. Fleming, 19 Mo. 454, 61 Am. Dec. 566.

Pennsylvania.— Grove's Estate, 2 Woodw. 182.

Texas.— Rindge v. Oliphint, 62 Tex. 682; Dancy v. Stricklinge, 15 Tex. 557, 65 Am. Dec. 179; Poor v. Boyce, 12 Tex. 440; Halbert v. Martin, (Civ. App. 1895) 30 S. W. 388; Evans v. Martin, 6 Tex. Civ. App. 331, 25 S. W. 688; Saul v. Frame, 3 Tex. Civ. App. 596, 22 S. W. 984.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1547.

Subsequent revocation of appointment.— A sale is not open to attack if made by one while acting as administrator under an appointment by the court, although the court afterward revokes the appointment for error in making it. Benson v. Rice, 2 Nott & M. (S. C.) 577.

In a suit to quiet title based upon an administrator's sale, the heirs cannot question the regularity of the appointment of one who was administrator de facto and was licensed to sell by a probate court having jurisdiction, if he gave a bond, took the oath, gave notice of the sale, and the sale was confirmed. Woods v. Monroe, 17 Mich. 238.

Appointment by another court in same state.— The sale cannot be defeated on collateral attack because another court in the same state had appointed another administrator, the appointment of the one making the sale being regular on its face. Posey v. Eaton, 9 Lea (Tenn.) 500. See also Grande v. Herrera, 15 Tex. 533.

26. Pryor v. Downey, 50 Cal. 388, 19 Am. Rep. 656; Chase v. Ross, 36 Wis. 267; Frederick v. Pacquette, 19 Wis. 591; Sitz-bate proceedings does not on its face show facts authorizing a grant of administration, the letters are absolutely void, and so is a sale made in the course of such void administration.[27] The same result follows when the court has granted administration to a person incompetent to be appointed,[28] and also where the sale is made by one who has not qualified, although appointed.[29] Heirs may collaterally attack a sale made by an administrator fraudulently appointed when the purchaser was a party to or had notice of the fraud.[30]

(II) TERMINATION OF AUTHORITY. While a sale made after an estate has been actually closed is void,[31] and the termination of the authority of the executor or administrator would seem on the same principle to render invalid any subsequent sale made by him,[32] yet it has been held that a sale made while he is still acting and recognized as representative cannot be impeached, at least collaterally.[33]

b. Defects in Proceedings Prior to Order — (I) PARTIES. It has been held that the failure to name the heirs or others interested as parties in the proceedings for the sale, while it may constitute an irregularity, does not render the order void.[34] And so also while infant heirs should be represented by a guardian ad man v. Pacquette, 13 Wis. 291. See also Piatt v. McCullough, 19 Fed. Cas. No. 11,113, 1 McLean 69.

27. Daniel v. Sapp, 20 Ga. 514; Haug v. Primeau, 98 Mich. 91, 57 N. W. 25; Templeton v. Falls Land, etc., Co., 77 Tex. 55, 13 S. W. 964; Paul v. Willis, 69 Tex. 261, 7 S. W. 357; Withers v. Patterson, 27 Tex. 491, 86 Am. Dec. 643; Wardrup v. Jones, 23 Tex. 489; Hurt v. Horton, 12 Tex. 285; Roy v. Whitaker, (Tex. Civ. App. 1898) 50 S. W. 491. See also Seaverns v. Gerke, 21 Fed. Cas. No. 12,595, 3 Savy. 353, holding that where there was no record of the appointment and it was made by a judge having no authority a sale was void.

Heirs who answer in the proceedings for the sale, without objection to the authority of the administrator, are bound by the order, but those served constructively and who do not appear are not bound. Hartley v. Glover, 56 S. C. 69, 33 S. E. 796.

Failure to show residence of decedent or presentation of claims.— Where the record failed to show whether the decedent was a resident of the county or had property there, or whether any claim against the estate was presented, the sale was held good against collateral attack. Flenner v. Walker, 5 Tex. Civ. App. 145, 23 S. W. 1029. See also Burdett v. Silsbee, 15 Tex. 604.

28. Where the court appointed an infant as executrix the appointment and sale thereunder were held void. Knox v. Nobel, 77 Hun (N. Y.) 230, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 355; Continental Trust Co. v. Nobel, 10 Misc. (N. Y.) 325, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 994.

29. Casanave v. Spear, 23 La. Ann. 519 (appointment and order to sell made at the same time and sale made without qualifying as administrator); McLean v. Houston, 2 Heisk. (Tenn.) 37 (executor selling without probating the will).

The mere silence of the record as to the giving of a bond does not impeach the power of the administrator. Moody v. Butler, 63 Tex. 210.

30. Daniel v. Sapp, 20 Ga. 514; McMahan v. Rice, 16 Tex. 335.

31. Hoffman v. Beard, 32 Mich. 218.

There can be no collateral attack if the estate be actually still open, notwithstanding the fact that it ought to have been closed. Church v. Holcomb, 45 Mich. 29, 7 N. W. 167.

32. See Rumph v. Truelove, 66 Ga. 480 (holding that a sale made by an administratrix after her letters had abated by her marriage was void); Levy v. Riley, 4 Oreg. 392 (holding that a sale made by the administrator after he had been removed by the operation of a statute was void).

33. Alexander v. Maverick, 18 Tex. 179, 67 Am. Dec. 693; Soye v. McCallister, 18 Tex. 80, 67 Am. Dec. 689.

The order is an adjudication that the administrator's authority continued and all parties are estopped from showing the contrary. Farley v. Dunklin, 76 Ala. 530; May v. Marks, 74 Ala. 249.

An order to a public administrator to turn over the estate to a successor does not avoid a sale thereafter made where there has been no discharge of record. Warren v. Carter, 92 Mo. 288, 5 S. W. 42.

The fact that no inventory was filed for more than seven years does not sustain a finding that the administration had lapsed where the court afterward exercised jurisdiction over the estate by approving the inventory, making an order of sale, and confirming the sale. Harris v. Shafer, (Tex. Civ. App. 1893) 21 S. W. 110.

The birth of a child which has the effect of revoking a will does not render void a sale thereafter made by the executor while he was still acting as such. Green v. Shreveport Baptist Church, 27 La. Ann. 563.

34. Lyons v. Hamner, 84 Ala. 197, 4 So. 26, 5 Am. St. Rep. 363; Duval v. McLoskey, 1 Ala. 708; Harris v. Lester, 80 Ill. 307. But see Matter of Slater, 17 Misc. (N. Y.) 474, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 534, holding that the naming of heirs in the petition is jurisdictional, and a purchaser may apply to the surrogate to be relieved from his purchase, when the heirs are not named.

Unborn devisee.— The executor represents litem, a defect in the proceedings in this respect has been held not to defeat the jurisdiction.[35]

(II) NOTICE OF APPLICATION. The necessity of the service of citation, summons, or other form of notice on heirs and others interested in the estate in order to confer jurisdiction depends upon the legislation of the state in which the proceedings are had, and the rulings vary, it being held in some states that a failure to comply with a statute requiring and regulating notice renders the sale void and open to collateral attack,[36] while in others it is held that in a collateral proceeding there can be no inquiry as to whether any notice or sufficient notice was given.[37] A recital in the record of due service cannot be impeached in another proceeding,[38] and if the record is silent as to notice regularity will generally be presumed.[39]

a devisee, unborn at the time of the proceeding, and such devisee cannot afterward collaterally attack the sale as a stranger to the proceedings. Dean v. Central Cotton Press Co., 64 Ga. 670.

A mistake in the name of a minor heir in the petition is of no effect where she was rightly named in the summons and a guardian ad litem appointed. McCormack v. Kimmel, 4 Ill. App. 121.

Fraud.— Those who were not parties, who never had a day in court, and whose rights were injured, may collaterally assail a decree of sale for fraud. Sager v. Mead, 164 Pa. St. 125, 30 Atl. 284. See also Dickens v. Long, 109 N. C. 165, 13 S. E. 841.

35. Jenkins v. Young, 43 Hun (N. Y.) 194. See also Killough v. Warren, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1899) 58 S. W. 898, holding that a sale is not void because no guardian ad litem was appointed until after proof as to debts and assets, where one was appointed and answered before decree. Contra, Johnson v. Johnson, 40 Ala. 247, holding that a sale is void as to an infant where a guardian ad litem was appointed, but never accepted or acted, the clerk of the court signing in his name without his knowledge an acceptance of service of the citation. And see O'Dell v. Rogers, 44 Wis. 136.

Failure to appoint guardian in proceedings for probate of will.—A sale cannot be avoided because there was no guardian ad litem appointed on the probate of the will, where the infant took title by descent and not under the will. Melms v. Pfister, 59 Wis. 186, 18 N. W. 255.

36. Campbell v. Drais, 125 Cal. 253, 57 Pac. 994; Townsend v. Tallant, 33 Cal. 45, 91 Am. Dec. 617; Clements v. Henderson, 4 Ga. 148, 48 Am. Dec. 216; Doe v. Anderson, 5 Ind. 33. But see Thompson v. Doe, 8 Blackf. (Ind.) 336; Doe v. Harney, 5 Blackf. (Ind.) 487.

In Kansas notice to the heirs is jurisdictional, and where no notice is given the order of sale and the proceedings based thereon are void. Rogers v. Clemmans, 26 Kan. 522; Mickel v. Hicks, 19 Kan. 578, 21 Am. Rep. 161. But personal notice is not inherently essential and the legislature may provide for service by publication. Fudge v. Fudge, 23 Kan. 416.

Where the administrator was also guardian of the sole heir his written assent to the order without notice to the heir was sufficient. Jones v. Levi, 72 Ind. 586.

37. Alabama.— Friedman v. Shamblin, 117 Ala. 454, 23 So. 821; Field v. Goldsby, 28 Ala. 218, 65 Am. Dec. 341.

Montana.— See Kirk v. Baker, 26 Mont. 190, 66 Pac. 942.

Pennsylvania.— McPherson v. Cunliff, 11 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 422, 14 Am. Dec. 642.

Texas.— Lyne v. Sanford, 82 Tex. 58, 19 S. W. 847, 27 Am. St. Rep. 852; Hurley v. Barnard, 48 Tex. 83; Heath v. Layne, 62 Tex. 686; George v. Watson, 19 Tex. 354.

United States.— Grignon v. Astor, 2 How. 319, 11 L. ed. 283; Garrett v. Boeing, 68 Fed. 51, 15 C. C. A. 209; Berrian v. Rogers, 43 Fed. 467.

One served with notice cannot attack the sale on the ground that others interested were not served. Farris v. Hoskins, 63 S. W. 577, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 596.

It is for the court granting the license to determine the sufficiency of the notice and there can be no collateral attack based on a defective notice or defective service. Stanley v. Noble, 59 Iowa 666, 13 N. W. 839; Myers v. Davis, 47 Iowa 325; Haight v. Haves, 3 Nebr. (Unoff.) 587, 92 N. W. 297; McGlawhorn v. Worthington, 98 N. C. 199, 3 S. E. 633.

38. Goodwin v. Sims, 86 Ala. 102, 5 So. 587, 11 Am. St. Rep. 21 (unless falsified by the record itself); Bradley v. Droue, 187 Ill. 175, 58 N. E. 304, 79 Am. St. Rep. 214; Andrews v. Bernhardi, 87 Ill. 365; Harris v. Lester, 80 Ill. 307; Barnett v. Wolf, 70 Ill. 76 (insufficient publisher's certificate appearing in record does not overcome finding of due notice); Lees v. Wetmore, 58 Iowa 170, 12 N. W. 238; Morrison v. Craven, 120 N. C. 327, 26 S. E. 940; Edwards v. Moore, 99 N. C. 1, 5 S. E. 13 (recital of acknowledgment of service).

If the record discloses that there was no citation the sale is void. Stevens v. Durrett, 49 Miss. 411. And a recital of jurisdictional facts in the order will not prevail as against affirmative evidence of want of jurisdiction in other parts of the record. Gilmore v. Taylor, 5 Oreg. 89.

39. Jones v. Edwards, 78 Ky. 6; Farris v. Hoskins, 63 S. W. 577, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 596; Smith v. Denson, 2 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 326; Coffin v. Cook, 106 N. C. 376, 11 S. E. 371. But compare Gibbs v. Shaw, 17 Wis.

(III) PETITION. A petition invoking the action of the court is generally held requisite to confer jurisdiction and protect a sale against even collateral attack,[40] but the sufficiency of the petition is a matter to be determined by the court to which it is presented, and, while it may be investigated there and on appeal, it cannot be questioned collaterally.[41] It is, however, sometimes held that the sale is void if the petition does not state all facts essential to the jurisdiction.[42] When the court has acted on the petition and ordered the sale, the petition will be liberally construed in an attack on the sale itself, and sustained in spite of informalities or statements merely defective.[43]

c. Improper Order — (I) WANT OF SUFFICIENT CAUSE. A purchaser is not bound to inquire as to the truth of the allegations upon which the order to sell was granted.[44] The order is a judgment that the circumstances existed rendering a sale necessary,[45] and no collateral attack can be based on the ground that there was in fact no such necessity.[46] The rule excludes collateral inquiry as to the 197, 84 Am. Dec. 737, holding that the sale is void unless the record affirmatively discloses notice as required by statute.

Presumption on appeal.— If the report of sale shows due notice and the record is otherwise silent regularity will be presumed even on appeal in the original case. Allsop v. Owensboro Deposit Bank, 69 S. W. 1102, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 762.

40. Illinois.— Harding v. Le Moyne, 114 Ill. 65, 29 N. E. 188.

Iowa.— Myers v. Davis, 47 Iowa 325; Hilton v. Budgett, 43 Iowa 684; Morrow v. Weed, 4 Iowa 77, 66 Am. Dec. 122.

New Jersey.— Lawson v. Acton, 57 N. J. Eq. 107, 40 Atl. 584.

Oregon.— Wright v. Edwards, 10 Oreg. 298.

Texas.— Finch v. Edmonson, 9 Tex. 504.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1451; and supra, XII, G, 5, a.

41. Illinois.— Bradley v. Droue, 187 Ill. 175, 58 N. E. 304, 78 Am. St. Rep. 214.

Iowa.— Myers v. Davis, 47 Iowa 325; Hilton v. Budgett, 43 Iowa 684; Morrow v. Weed, 4 Iowa 77, 66 Am. Dec. 122.

Minnesota.— Rumrill v. St. Albans First Nat. Bank, 28 Minn. 202, 9 N. W. 731; Montour v. Purdy, 11 Minn. 384, 88 Am. Dec. 88. And see Smith v. Barr, 83 Minn. 354, 86 N. W. 342.

Nebraska.— Trumble v. Williams, 18 Nebr. 144, 24 N. W. 716.

Texas.— Gillenwaters v. Scott, 62 Tex. 670; Poor v. Boyce, 12 Tex. 440.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1451; and infra, XII, G, 5, f.

42. Wright v. Edwards, 10 Oreg. 298.

43. Alabama.— Bolling v. Smith, 79 Ala. 535; Pollard v. Hanrick, 74 Ala. 334; Bibb v. Bishop Cobbs Orphan Home, 61 Ala. 326.

Colorado.— Bateman v. Reitler, 19 Colo. 547, 36 Pac. 548.

Illinois.— Frothingham v. Petty, 197 Ill. 418, 64 N. E. 270.

Indiana.— Denton v. Arnold, 151 Ind. 188, 51 N. E. 240.

Maryland.— Simpson v. Bailey, 80 Md. 421, 30 Atl. 622.

Missouri.— Stowe v. Banks, 123 Mo. 672, 27 S. W. 347; Bray v. Adams, 114 Mo. 486, 21 S. W. 853; Garner v. Tucker, 61 Mo. 427; Overton v. Johnson, 17 Mo. 442.

New York.— Schneider v. McFarland, 2 N. Y. 459 [affirming 4 Barb. 139].

South Carolina.— Clyburn v. Reynolds, 31 S. C. 91, 9 S. E. 973.

Texas.— Gillenwaters v. Scott, 62 Tex. 670; Howard v. Bennett, 13 Tex. 309; Poor v. Boyce, 12 Tex. 440.

Wisconsin.— Melms v. Pfister, 59 Wis. 186, 18 N. W. 255.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1451.

Averments which would be bad on demurrer as not being direct and positive may protect the petition from collateral attack. Wright v. Ware, 50 Ala. 549; King v. Kent, 29 Ala. 542; Doe v. Riley, 28 Ala. 164, 65 Am. Dec. 334.

An insufficient verification would be a good objection before the surrogate or on appeal but not on collateral attack. Sheldon v. Wright, 5 N. Y. 497 [affirming 7 Barb. 39]. See also Friedman v. Shamblin, 117 Ala. 454, 23 So. 821; Coon v. Fry, 6 Mich. 506; Stradley v. King, 84 N. C. 635.

An objection to the confirmation of the sale is a collateral attack within the meaning of this rule. Matter of Devincenzi, 119 Cal. 498, 51 Pac. 845.

Where the petition specifies no debt and names no creditor the sale is void. Linnville v. Darby, 1 Baxt. (Tenn.) 306.

44. Long v. Landman, 118 Mich. 174, 76 N. W. 374; Wolf v. Robinson, 20 Mo. 459.

45. Macey v. Stark, 116 Mo. 481, 21 S. W. 1088; Macey v. Pitillo, (Mo. 1893) 21 S. W. 1094.

46. Alabama.— Wyatt v. Steele, 26 Ala. 639.

Michigan.— Long v. Landman, 118 Mich. 174, 76 N. W. 374; Griffin v. Johnson, 37 Mich. 87.

Missouri.— Macey v. Pitillo, (1893) 21 S. W. 1094; Macey v. Stark, 116 Mo. 481, 21 S. W. 1088.

Texas.— Johnson v. Weatherford, 31 Tex. Civ. App. 180, 71 S. W. 789.

Vermont.— Doolittle v. Holton, 28 Vt. 819, 67 Am. Dec. 745.

existence of debts,[47] the exhaustion of personalty,[48] or the necessity of selling as much land as was ordered sold.[49] It is even held that, where the court might under some circumstances exercise jurisdiction over particular land, a sale cannot be collaterally attacked because the land ordered sold was not subject to sale to satisfy the debts.[50] Where the order purports to have been made on a statutory ground it may not be attacked as being in fact based upon some other ground not authorized by statute.[51]

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1450.

Proof by depositions.— The recitals in the decree are conclusive of the fact that proof was taken by depositions in the manner required by law. Goodwin v. Sims, 86 Ala. 102, 5 So. 587, 11 Am. St. Rep. 21; Bibb v. Bishop Cobbs Orphan Home, 61 Ala. 326.

47. California.— McCauley v. Harvey, 49 Cal. 497.

Connecticut.— Shelton v. Hadlock, 62 Conn. 143, 25 Atl. 483; Brewster v. Denison, 1 Root 231.

Georgia.— Adams v. Adams, 113 Ga. 824, 39 S. E. 291.

Illinois.— Hobson v. Ewan, 62 Ill. 146; Stow v. Kimball, 28 Ill. 93.

Iowa.— Little v. Sinnett, 7 Iowa 324.

Louisiana.— Linman v. Riggins, 40 La. Ann. 761, 5 So. 49, 8 Am. St. Rep. 539.

Minnesota.— Curran v. Kuby, 37 Minn. 330, 33 N. W. 907.

Missouri.— Murphy v. De France, 105 Mo. 53, 15 S. W. 949, 16 S. W. 861.

Nebraska.— Haight v. Hayes, 3 Nebr. (Unoff.) 587, 92 N. W. 297.

Oregon.— Lawrey v. Sterling, 41 Oreg. 518, 69 Pac. 460.

Pennsylvania.— Grubb v. Galloway, 203 Pa. St. 236, 52 Atl. 176, 93 Am. St. Rep. 764. Contra, Smith v. Wildman, 194 Pa. St. 294, 45 Atl. 136 [reaffirming 178 Pa. St. 245, 35 Atl. 1047, 56 Am. St. Rep. 760, 36 L. R. A. 834].

Texas.— Looney v. Linney, (Civ. App. 1892) 21 S. W. 409.

Virginia.— Lawson v. Moorman, 85 Va. 880, 9 S. E. 150.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1450.

Statute of limitations.— There can be no collateral attack on the ground that the sale was for a debt barred by the statute of limitations, although fraud and collusion are generally alleged. Cobb v. Garner, 105 Ala. 467, 17 So. 47, 53 Am. St. Rep. 136.

Dispensing with supervision of court.— Where a special mode of procedure is provided where the testator wishes to dispense with the supervision of the county court, such method must be pursued strictly, and a sale cannot be made except on claims established in the manner provided. Carroll v. Carroll, 20 Tex. 731.

When sale void.— A sale to satisfy an allowance to a widow is absolutely void, where the widow had already been assigned a homestead, as beyond the power of the court. Newcomb v. Newcomb, 38 Tex. 561.

48. Alabama.—Foxworth v. White, 72 Ala. 224.

Connecticut.— Brown v. Lanman, 1 Conn. 467.

Indiana.— Jones v. French, 92 Ind. 138.

Massachusetts.— Leverett v. Harris, 7 Mass. 292.

Michigan.— Long v. Landman, 118 Mich. 174, 76 N. W. 374.

New York.— Wood v. McChesney, 40 Barb. 417.

Pennsylvania.— See Snyder v. Markel, 8 Watts (Pa.) 416, holding that an order to sell realty before the settlement of the account of personal property, although improvident, is not void.

Tennessee.— Kindell v. Titus, 9 Heisk. 727.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1450.

Exhaustion of personal assets must appear somewhere in the proceedings or the sale will be void. Sloan v. Sloan, 25 Fla. 53, 5 So. 603.

49. Boyd v. Blankman, 29 Cal. 19, 87 Am. Dec. 146; Allen v. Ashley School Fund, 102 Mass. 262; Hodges v. Fabian, 31 S. C. 212, 9 S. E. 820, 17 Am. St. Rep. 25.

A purchaser cannot object to taking title on the ground that the property sold for more than the debts (Lehmann's Succession, 41 La. Ann. 987, 7 So. 33), at least where the disproportion is not great (In re Haaf, 52 La. Ann. 249, 26 So. 834).

50. Ions v. Harbison, 112 Cal. 260, 44 Pac. 572; Showers v. Robinson, 43 Mich. 502, 5 N. W. 988; Drake v. Kinsell, 38 Mich. 232. Although a will directs the debts to be paid out of the personal estate, the court having jurisdiction to reserve personalty can order the sale of real estate. Such an order, although erroneous in view of the will, is not open to collateral attack. Overton v. Johnson, 17 Mo. 442.

Where the evidence leaves it doubtful whether a decedent whose land was sold belonged to a class of persons exempt from administration by creditors, a sale to satisfy debts will be sustained against collateral attack. Flenner v. Walker, 5 Tex. Civ. App. 145, 23 S. W. 1029.

A sale of land not authorized by the decree is of course void. Nichols v. Little, 115 Ga. 600, 41 S. E. 991. But a sale is not void because the land sold comprises a greater number of acres than is recited in the proceedings. McIver v. Stephens, 101 N. C. 255, 7 S. E. 695.

An order for the sale of property which the petitioner asks not to be sold, but which is described in the petition, is not void. Baum v. Roper, 132 Cal. 42, 64 Pac. 128.

51. Casseday v. Norris, 49 Tex. 613; Woodhouse v. Fillbates, 77 Va. 317.

(II) Errors or Irregularities. Errors or irregularities in the order or decree of sale do not render the sale void or open to collateral attack.[52]

d. Defects in Proceedings After Order — (I) Representative's Oath and Bond. Statutes are generally mandatory, and a failure to comply with them fatal on collateral attack, in so far as they require an executor or administrator about to make a sale to take a special oath[53] or give bond to account for the proceeds.[54]

(II) Notice of Sale. The failure to give proper notice of the time and place of sale is generally a mere irregularity which is not cognizable collaterally,[55] the adjudication of the probate court being conclusive.[56]

(III) Sale and Report. Irregularities in conducting the sale itself or in subsequent proceedings do not generally render the sale void. Thus the sale is not void because several parcels are sold in bulk under one bid[57] or because the purchase-money is not paid.[58] Nor can a collateral attack be made because of a

52. Peyroux v. Peyroux, 24 La. Ann. 175; Farris v. Gilbert, 50 Tex. 350.

A sale is not void because the order directs the administrator to take payment in state bank-notes instead of legal currency (Doe v. Hileman, 2 Ill. 323), because it is in the alternative to sell for cash or on deferred payments (Fleming v. Bale, 23 Kan. 88), because it improperly describes the land, the defect being cured by the order of confirmation and acquiescence (Corley v. Goll, 8 Tex. Civ. App. 184, 27 S. W. 819), or because it does not describe the property at all (Wells v. Polk, 36 Tex. 120). Neither is the order of sale void because it fails to set off a homestead right. Reinhardt v. Seaman, 208 Ill. 448, 69 N. E. 847; Bradley v. Drone, 187 Ill. 175, 58 N. E. 304. Title passes, although the order directed one of two executors to sell, if the court confirms the sale (Corley v. Anderson, 5 Tex. Civ. App. 213, 23 S. W. 839), and although the order directs the administrator to sell instead of a trustee, where the administrator might be appointed trustee (Simpson v. Bailey, 80 Md. 421, 30 Atl. 622). An order to mortgage land is not void because it fails to direct the administrator as required by statute to execute a note. Fast v. Steele, 127 Cal. 202, 59 Pac. 585. A mortgage is not void because the order therefor directs it to be given for the payment of specified claims instead of payment of all claims ratably. Stambach v. Emerson, 139 Cal. 282, 72 Pac. 991, (1902) 69 Pac. 856.

53. Campbell v. Knights, 26 Me. 224, 45 Am. Dec. 107; Parker v. Nichols, 7 Pick. (Mass.) 111 (sale void if oath not taken until after fixing time and place of sale); Howard v. Moore, 2 Mich. 226.

Parol evidence may be received to show that an oath which appears by the record to have been taken after sale was in fact taken in due time. Norman v. Olney, 64 Mich. 553, 31 N. W. 555. And see Fowle v. Coe, 63 Me. 245.

54. Snow v. Russell, 93 Me. 362, 45 Atl. 305, 74 Am. St. Rep. 350; Howard v. Moore, 2 Mich. 226. Contra, where the proceeds have been actually and properly distributed. Jones v. French, 92 Ind. 138; Dequindre v. Williams, 31 Ind. 444; Foster v. Birch, 14 Ind. 445.

Amount of penalty.— Where a bond was given, objection to the sale cannot be made collaterally on the ground that the penalty was too small. Richmond v. Foote, 3 Lans. (N. Y.) 244.

Order dispensing with bond.— In Maine a sale has been held void for want of a bond, although the order excused the executor from giving a bond. Snow v. Russell, 93 Me. 362, 45 Atl. 305, 74 Am. St. Rep. 350. But in Michigan under a statute permitting a collateral attack where the administrator did not give a bond "in case a bond was required upon granting the license," it has been held that the requirement referred to was that of the license and not of the law, and that the sale was valid without a bond, where the license required none, although it should have required one. Norman v. Olney, 64 Mich. 553, 31 N. W. 555.

55. Matheson v. Hearin, 29 Ala. 210; Doe v. Riley, 28 Ala. 164, 65 Am. Dec. 334; Moffitt v. Moffitt, 69 Ill. 641; Melton v. Fitch, 125 Mo. 281, 28 S. W. 612; McNair v. Hunt, 5 Mo. 300.

Irregularities in the notice will not invalidate the sale. Apel v. Kelsey, 47 Ark. 413, 2 S. W. 102; Carroll's Estate, 1 Lack. Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 142.

Statute may make notice essential to validity of sale. See Doe v. Roe, 4 Ga. 148, 48 Am. Dec. 216; Howard v. Moore, 2 Mich. 226.

56. Richardson v. Butler, 82 Cal. 174, 23 Pac. 9, 16 Am. St. Rep. 101; Hugo v. Miller, 50 Minn. 105, 52 N. W. 381.

57. Cowins v. Tool, 36 Iowa 82; Osman v. Traphagen, 23 Mich. 80.

58. Giddings v. Steele, 28 Tex. 732, 91 Am. Dec. 336, holding that the remedy is against the administrator for the unpaid amount. In Evans v. Singletary, 63 N. C. 205, it was intimated that relief might be had in equity.

Credit of claim of purchaser.— A sale is not void where the purchaser receives a credit of his own claim upon the purchase-price, because he was not a creditor to as great an amount as he asserted. Simonin v. Czarnowski, 47 La. Ann. 1334, 17 So. 847.

failure in other respects to comply with the terms of the law or of the order in making the sale.[59] Errors in the report of sale which work no injury will not justify setting it aside.[60] The administrator is, however, absolutely without authority to sell any land not included within the terms of the order, and such a sale will be set aside.[61]

e. Inadequacy of Price.[62] After confirmation a sale cannot be attacked for inadequacy of price alone by a bill in equity[63] or collaterally;[64] but inadequacy of price is a circumstance to be considered when other grounds are alleged as bearing upon the fairness of the sale.[65]

f. Fraud.[66] Fraud in the sale renders it voidable but not absolutely void,[67] and it is usually held that in a collateral proceeding, such as ejectment by the heirs, such fraud cannot be shown, but that a bill in equity or other proceeding having the direct object of setting aside the sale must be resorted to.[68] Where Motion before confirmation.— A sale may be set aside on motion if the purchase-price is not paid and the sale has not been confirmed. McSwean v. Faulks, 46 Ala. 610.

59. Halleck v. Moss, 22 Cal. 266; James v. Kelley, 107 Ga. 446, 33 S. E. 425, 73 Am. St. Rep. 135 (holding that a sale will not be set aside, because the auctioneer cried a bid for the purchaser); Perry v. Blakey, 5 Tex. Civ. App. 331, 23 S. W. 804 (conveying to a creditor in satisfaction of his claim); Cassels v. Gibson, (Tex. Civ. App. 1894) 27 S. W. 725 (sale for cash where the law required a sale on credit).

Prior contract of sale.— If there was an actual public sale it cannot be avoided, because of a prior unauthorized contract to sell to the purchaser at the price he afterward bid. Stuart v. Allen, 16 Cal. 473, 76 Am. Dec. 551.

Oral directions given by the judge who ordered the mortgage of property cannot prejudice the mortgagee at least where it is not shown that he knew of them. Fast v. Steele, 127 Cal. 202, 59 Pac. 585.

Affidavit that administrator not the purchaser.— An administration sale under the act of 1807 is not void because the affidavit of the administrator that he was not the purchaser was not made within the time required by law. Vasquez v. Richardson, 19 Mo. 96.

60. Doe v. Riley, 28 Ala. 164, 65 Am. Dec. 334 (indefiniteness in description of land, it appearing nevertheless that the proper land was sold); Macey v. Pitillo, (Mo. Sup. 1893) 21 S. W. 1094 (misrecital of date of a reviving order); Macey v. Stark, 116 Mo. 481, 21 S. W. 1088.

61. Ludlow v. Park, 4 Ohio 5. When the order directs the sale of two tracts separately, the smaller one first, and it turns out that the sale of the smaller one was void, the subsequent sale of the larger must be set aside as unauthorized. Hewitt v. Durant, 78 Mich. 186, 44 N. W. 318.

Differences in descriptions.— A sale will not be set aside because of a slight difference between the description of the land in the petition and judgment and in the deed, where it is admitted that the deed covers the land in controversy. Kalteyer v. Wipff, (Tex. Civ. App. 1899) 49 S. W. 1055.

62. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (XII), (B).

Sale of personalty under testamentary authority or common-law power see supra, VIII, P, 2, m.

Judicial sales generally see JUDICIAL SALES.

63. Lowe v. Guice, 69 Ala. 80 (where there was an opportunity to contest the question on confirmation); Kimball v. Lincoln, 99 Ill. 578 [affirming 7 Ill. App. 470]; Williams v. Johnson, 112 N. C. 424, 17 S. E. 496, 34 Am. St. Rep. 513, 21 L. R. A. 848.

Where the court fixes a minimum price a sale for more than that price will not be deemed inadequate. Fennell v. League, 107 Tenn. 239, 63 S. W. 1121.

Gross inadequacy.— Where one item of property was worth one hundred and fifty dollars and sold for one dollar, the inadequacy amounts to a fraud for which the sale may be set aside after title has passed. Maxwell v. Burns, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1900) 59 S. W. 1067.

64. Fowle v. Coe, 63 Me. 245; Webster v. Calden, 53 Me. 203; Sumner v. Sessoms, 94 N. C. 371; Capt v. Stubbs, 68 Tex. 222, 4 S. W. 467.

65. Payne v. Turner, 36 Ala. 623 (bill to set aside sale requiring no confirmation); McLane v. Spence, 6 Ala. 894; Neel v. Carson, 47 Ark. 421, 2 S. W. 107; Myer's Estate, 9 Pa. Co. Ct. 439. See also Gray v. Quicksilver Min. Co., 68 Fed. 677, where the court refused to interfere because the fraud charged had not been proved.

Sale will not be set aside for irregularities unless price inadequate. Grove's Estate, 2 Woodw. (Pa.) 182.

The sale of the land of infant heirs to their mother is null if for less than the appraised value, and open to collateral attack. Pipkin v. Doiron, 14 La. 294.

66. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (XII), (B).

Sale of personalty under testamentary authority or common-law power see supra, VIII, P, 2, m.

67. Palmerton v. Hoop, 131 Ind. 23, 30 N. E. 874; McCampbell v. Durst, 15 Tex. Civ. App. 522, 40 S. W. 315.

68. Myer v. McDougal, 47 Ill. 278; Blanchard v. Webster, 62 N. H. 467; Atkins v. Kinnan, 20 Wend. (N. Y.) 241, 32 Am. Dec. 534;

the facts were known and appeared in the confirmation proceedings the judgment of confirmation estops one there represented from making a subsequent attack,[69] but a confirmed sale will be set aside where the parties injured by fraud proceed promptly after obtaining information of the facts.[70] Charges of fraud must be clear and distinct.[71] Fraud in the sale will not be presumed[72] or inferred from slight or indecisive circumstances.[73] The courts will, however, interfere where the sale, although nominally to pay debts, was designed merely to divest the title of the heirs,[74] or where there was a scheme to buy in the land at an inadequate price.[75] It is a constructive fraud, warranting the setting aside of the sale, for the representative to obtain an order to sell land to pay debts on the ground of insufficiency of personalty while he holds notes which he claims as his own but which belong to the estate.[76] One cannot complain unless his interests are injuriously affected.[77]

Shirley v. Warfield, 12 Tex. Civ. App. 449, 34 S. W. 390. Contra, Rhoades v. Selin, 20 Fed. Cas. No. 11,740, 4 Wash. 715. And see Decuir v. Lejeune, 15 La. Ann. 569.

A sale to the representative himself, either directly or indirectly, is governed by similar principles and cannot be collaterally attacked. Hoover v. Malen, 83 Ind. 195; Temples v. Cain, 60 Miss. 478; Sumner v. Sessoms, 94 N. C. 371; Beeson r. Beeson, 9 Pa. St. 279; Dodd v. Templeman, 76 Tex. 57, 13 S. W. 187; Rutherford v. Stamper, 60 Tex. 447. And see supra, XII, M, 4, c.

69. Murphy v. De France, 105 Mo. 53, 15 S. W. 949, 16 S. W. 861. A bill to impeach a sale for fraud will not lie when the facts constituting the fraud were directly in issue in the probate proceedings and must have been there determined. Gordon r. Gordon, 55 N. H. 399.

70. McAdow v. Boten, 67 Kan. 136, 72 Pac. 529; Corbett's Estate, 10 Pa. Dist. 59; Armington's Estate, 1 Phila. (Pa.) 444; Albright's Estate, 6 Lack. Leg. N. (Pa.) 108; Johnson v. Waters, 111 U. S. 640, 4 S. Ct. 619, 28 L. ed. 547.

Where a mere volunteer instituted probate proceedings, ostensibly to pay debts, but in reality to get title to land through the sale, and effected his purpose, a purchaser from the heirs was permitted to have the deed and sale set aside. Bergin r. Haight, 99 Cal. 52, 33 Pac. 760.

71. McDermott's Succession, 51 La. Ann. 173, 24 So. 787.

72. Friedman v. Shamblin, 117 Ala. 454, 23 So. 821; Price v. Nesbit, 1 Hill Eq. (S. C.) 445; Coulson v. Coulson, 5 Wis. 79. But see Barnawell v. Threadgill, 56 N. C. 50, holding that one standing in a confidential relation to an intemperate executor must show good faith in acquiring property of the estate.

73. Morrow v. Cile, 132 N. C. 678, 44 S. E. 370; Loomis v. Rosenthal, 34 Oreg. 585, 57 Pac. 55.

The evidence must be substantial. Keene v. Wyatt, 160 Mo. 1, 60 S. W. 1037, 63 S. W. 116; Kellum v. Smith, 18 Tex. 835.

Circumstances not sufficient to establish fraud see Trimble v. Marshall, 66 Iowa 233, 23 N. W. 645; Scott v. Burch, 6 Harr. & J. (Md.) 67; Kammerer v. Morlock, 125 Mich. 320, 84 N. W. 319; Egan v. Grece, 79 Mich. 629, 45 N. W. 74; Overton v. Webster, 26 Mo. 332; Comstock v. Crawford, 3 Wall. (U. S.) 396, 18 L. ed. 34.

Allowance of fraudulent claims.— Where there were just debts a sale will not be set aside because some of the claims allowed were fraudulent. Myer r. McDougal, 47 Ill. 278. And see Fudge v. Fudge, 23 Kan. 416.

The presumption of fraud is raised where the administrator was the sole creditor and the proceeds of the sale were just equal to the debt and expenses. Humes r. Cox, 1 Pinn. (Wis.) 551.

74. Georgia.— Dees v. Freeman, 87 Ga. 588, 13 S. E. 747.

Missouri.— Hull v. Voorhis, 45 Mo. 555.

Pennsylvania.— Kinzer v. Mitchell, 8 Pa. St. 64.

South Carolina.— McGuire r. McGowan, 4 Desauss. 486.

Tennessee.— Bennett v. Kennerly, 3 Head 674.

Texas.— McCampbell r. Durst, 15 Tex. Civ. App. 522, 40 S. W. 315.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1546.

Where the real purpose was to divest the property of its dotal character and enable the husband purchasing more readily to deal with it, the sale was held void. Decuir r. Lejeune, 15 La. Ann. 569.

75. McQueen r. McDaniel, 38 S. W. 880, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 954; Kreider's Estate, 17 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 201.

Devices to keep bidders away are frequently parts of such schemes and justify the setting aside of the sale. Jones r. French, 92 Ind. 138; Grant r. Lloyd, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 191; Kreider's Estate, 17 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 201.

76. In re McBride, 7 N. J. L. J. 73.

77. Lander v. Abrahamson, 34 Nebr. 553, 52 N. W. 571, holding that a good defense to the proceedings must be shown in order to justify the setting aside of a fraudulent confirmation.

Heirs of an insolvent estate have such an interest as entitles them to the setting aside of a sale made for the purpose of defrauding creditors. McCampbell v. Durst, 15 Tex. Civ. App. 522, 40 S. W. 315.

Where an administrator was proceeding for his own personal ends and not for the ad-

g. Mistake.[78] The ordinary principles of equity apply where it is sought to set aside a sale for mistake.[79] A sale will not be set aside for mistake except at the instance of one injuriously affected.[80]

5. Procedure[81] — a. Forum and Form of Remedy. The jurisdiction to order a sale of decedent's property is special and ceases with the order of confirmation, so that thereafter the court granting a license has no power, by virtue of its jurisdiction previously existing, to revise its proceedings, and set the sale aside.[82] After the jurisdiction of the probate court ceases, a bill in equity, or in the code states an action in the nature thereof, will lie, and is necessary in order to vacate a voidable sale.[83] The necessity of bringing in new parties may also require vantage of the estate in seeking to annul a sale, relief was refused. Cushing v. Harmonson, 26 La. Ann. 214.

78. Sale of property not belonging to decedent see supra, XII, D, 2.

79. See Equity, 16 Cyc. 72 note 31.

Where the purchaser bought separately two parcels, the purchase of one being the inducement to the purchase of the other, and confirmation was refused as to one parcel, it was held that the confirmation as to the other would be set aside. Davis v. Cureton, 70 N. C. 667.

80. Lamkin v. Reese, 7 Ala. 170; In re Behring, 31 Pittsb. Leg. J. (Pa.) 156.

81. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (xii), (a), (d).

82. Alabama.— Duval v. McLoskey, 1 Ala. 708.

California.— See In re Leonis, 138 Cal. 194, 71 Pac. 171, holding that Code Civ. Proc. § 1552, authorizing the probate court to order a resale if, on the application to confirm, it finds that the sale was unfair or disproportionate to the value of the property and a new bid is offered, is exclusive, and the probate court cannot set aside a sale for errors antecedent to the sale itself.

Illinois.— Stettauer v. Chicago Title, etc., Co., 62 Ill. App. 31.

Minnesota.— State v. Sibley County Probate Ct., 33 Minn. 94, 22 N. W. 10; State v. Ramsey County Probate Ct., 19 Minn. 117.

Mississippi.— Grant v. Lloyd, 12 Sm. & M. 191.

North Carolina.— Rawls v. Carter, 119 N. C. 596, 26 S. E. 154; McLaurin v. McLaurin, 106 N. C. 331, 10 S. E. 1056; Peterson v. Vann, 83 N. C. 118; Thompson v. Cox, 53 N. C. 311. Contra, Lovinier v. Pearce, 70 N. C. 167, where there was an order retaining the cause for distribution of the proceeds. And see Hyman v. Jarnigan, 65 N. C. 96.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1555.

Continuing jurisdiction.— Jurisdiction continues during the term at which the order of confirmation is made but does not extend thereafter. Duval v. McLoskey, 1 Ala. 708; Stettauer v. Chicago Title, etc., Co., 62 Ill. App. 31; Turnbull v. Endicott, 3 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 302; Planters Bank v. Neely, 7 How. (Miss.) 80, 40 Am. Dec. 51. The jurisdiction of the court of probate continues and is exclusive until confirmation, even after twenty years. Hart v. Hart, 39 Miss. 221, 77 Am. Dec. 668.

Where an order of confirmation was invalid because entered pending an appeal from the order of sale, a motion to set aside the sale in the probate court was proper. Lictie v. Chappell, 111 N. C. 347, 16 S. E. 171.

Motion to set aside, followed by appearance and answer, may be treated as independent action. Stradley v. King, 84 N. C. 635.

83. Alabama.— Mosely v. Tuthill, 45 Ala. 621, 6 Am. Rep. 710.

Georgia.— Worthy v. Johnson, 8 Ga. 236, 52 Am. Dec. 399.

Massachusetts.— Yeackel v. Litchfield, 13 Allen 417, 90 Am. Dec. 207.

Mississippi.— Smith v. Chew, 35 Miss. 153.

New Jersey.— Runyon v. Newark India-Rubber Co., 24 N. J. L. 467; Howell v. Sebring, 14 N. J. Eq. 84.

North Carolina.— McLaurin v. McLaurin, 106 N. C. 331, 10 S. E. 1056; Peterson v. Vann, 83 N. C. 118.

Texas.— Dobbin v. Bryan, 5 Tex. 276.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1555.

In Louisiana it seems that a direct action in a court of ordinary jurisdiction is always necessary. Anger's Succession, 38 La. Ann. 492; Fields v. Gagne, 31 La. Ann. 182; Violett v. Fairchild, 6 La. Ann. 193. But such a court cannot set aside a sale because of the invalidity of the administrator's appointment. The court of probate must first remove the administrator. McCombs v. Dunbar, 3 La. 517. The order of sale and proceedings leading thereto must be attacked in the court ordering the sale, but subsequent proceedings may be brought in the court of the administrator's domicile. Woods v. Woods, 13 La. Ann. 189.

In Nebraska, where the license to sell is obtained in a court of general jurisdiction at law and in equity, it has been said that the proper remedy after confirmation is by petition in the original proceedings, and the petition must be positively verified. Lander v. Abrahamson, 34 Nebr. 553, 52 N. W. 571.

No equity jurisdiction except in case of fraud.— A court of equity has no jurisdiction to set aside a sale made and confirmed by order of the probate court except for fraud in procuring the judgment. Baker v. Lamkin, 11 Ohio Cir. Ct. 103, 5 Ohio Cir. Dec. 54.

Equity will not enjoin the enforcement of a judgment at law based on the title made resort to such an independent proceeding.[84] Equity will also take jurisdiction under proper allegations to impress a trust on the property in the hands of the purchaser, without directly attacking his legal title,[85] or when, because of there being no law requiring confirmation, no opportunity was afforded to test the validity of the sale at law.[86] Where equity has taken over the administration of an estate on a bill filed for that purpose it will on supplemental bill set aside a sale made under order of the orphans' court after such transfer of the administration.[87] If the sale is absolutely void persons interested may so treat it, and courts of law will disregard it, so that generally no equitable relief is required and none will be given against void sales.[88] A defective sale may sometimes be in effect avoided by defending proceedings brought by the purchaser to confirm his title.[89] The purchaser at a voidable sale may maintain a bill to compel the heir to elect whether he will ratify or disaffirm.[90]

b. Parties. In a suit to set aside an executor's or administrator's sale the principles of equity control as to the parties.[91] All the heirs or devisees must be made parties,[92] as must also the administrator[93] and all other parties to the sale.[94] The vendee must be brought in as a party[95] and all who have since acquired interests in the property should also be made parties.[96] Those also must be brought in whose rights would be affected by a determination of the matters involved.[97]

c. Pleadings. The pleadings in a proceeding to set aside a sale must have the substantial requisites of equity pleadings.[98] The allegations of the bill, complaint, or petition must be positive and direct,[99] and they must be of specific through the sale where there was no obstacle to contesting the validity of the sale in the action at law. Lieby v. Ludlow, 4 Ohio 469.

84. Herrmann v. Fontelieu, 29 La. Ann. 502; Everett v. McKinney, 7 La. 375; Casanova v. Acosta, 1 La. 179; Saunders v. Howard, 51 Tex. 23.

85. Caldwell v. Caldwell, 45 Ohio St. 512, 15 N. E. 297; Fisher v. Wood, 65 Tex. 199.

Equity will enforce the claims of distributees against the purchaser, the power of the probate court not being adequate. Baines v. McGee, 1 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 208.

86. Payne v. Turner, 36 Ala. 623.

87. Pearson v. Darrington, 32 Ala. 227.

88. State Bank v. White, 23 Mo. 342, 66 Am. Dec. 671; Mawhorter v. Armstrong, 16 Ohio 188.

89. Quick v. Goodwin, 19 Ind. 438 (holding that heirs were estopped from maintaining an action to set aside a sale by having failed to appeal from a decree which the purchasers had obtained confirming their title); Casanave v. Spear, 23 La. Ann. 519 (refusing relief to a purchaser because of informalities in the sale); Baumann v. Chambers, 17 Tex. Civ. App. 242, 42 S. W. 564 (defects set up as equitable defense to an action of ejectment brought by the purchaser).

Demurring to a bill by the purchasers to restrain an action at law and reform their deed is not an election to disaffirm a sale to the administrators and does not present for adjudication the right of the heirs to vacate such sale. Thorp v. McCullum, 6 Ill. 614.

90. Bland v. Bowie, 53 Ala. 152.

91. Hooey v. Wilson, 9 Wall. (U. S.) 501, 19 L. ed. 762. See, generally, EQUITY, 16 Cyc. 181.

92. Daniel v. Stough, 73 Ala. 379; Benson v. Benson, 97 Mo. App. 460, 71 S. W. 360; Estill v. Deckerd, 4 Baxt. (Tenn.) 497 (holding that equitable owners attacking the sale as void and seeking to establish a trust must bring in heirs in whom, on the theory that the sale was void, the legal title remains); Hooey v. Wilson, 9 Wall. (U. S.) 501, 19 L. ed. 762.

93. Herrmann v. Fontelieu, 29 La. Ann. 502.

94. Burney v. Ludeling, 41 La. Ann. 627, 6 So. 248.

Creditors are not generally necessary parties (Vincent v. Phillips, 47 La. Ann. 1216, 17 So. 786), but a creditor who instituted the proceedings leading to the sale must be made a party to a bill to set it aside (Hooey v. Wilson, 9 Wall. (U. S.) 501, 19 L. ed. 762. And see Benson v. Benson, 97 Mo. App. 460, 71 S. W. 360).

Where the administrator indirectly purchased, neither his creditors nor his assignee for creditors are proper parties. Hannum's Appeal, 1 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 362.

95. Herrmann v. Fontelieu, 29 La. Ann. 502; Everett v. McKinney, 7 La. 375; McCombs v. Dunbar, 3 La. 517; Casanova v. Acosta, 1 La. 179; Saunders v. Howard, 51 Tex. 23.

96. Sterlin v. Gros, 5 La. 100; Saunders v. Howard, 51 Tex. 23.

97. Murphy v. De France, 105 Mo. 53, 15 S. W. 949, 16 S. W. 861, holding that an heir attacking a sale and asserting a homestead right must bring in the widow and other heirs interested in the assignment of the homestead.

98. See EQUITY, 16 Cyc. 227.

99. Garrett v. Lynch, 45 Ala. 204 (holding that an allegation that plaintiff caused facts, not general conclusions.[1] The extent of plaintiff's interest must be stated with certainty,[2] and plaintiff must, when necessary in order to disclose an unquestionable right, plead exceptions and negative facts.[3] A bill to set aside a sale for fraud must charge the purchaser with notice of the fraud.[4] There should in general be an offer in pleading to restore the purchase-money.[5]

d. Evidence — (I) Presumptions — (A) As to Jurisdiction, Etc. The presumptions are strongly in favor of the validity of sales. It is often held that jurisdiction will be presumed from the fact that the court made the order,[6] but in some states it is held that on a collateral attack one claiming under the sale must show affirmatively the jurisdictional facts.[7] A finding or recital in the record is sufficient to raise a presumption of jurisdiction,[8] but no presumption of search to be made in the office of the probate court and no record or any evidence could be found that the administrator had ever applied to said court for the sale of the lands is not an averment that no order of sale had been made); Deans v. Wilcoxson, 25 Fla. 980, 7 So. 163 (holding that in a suit brought before confirmation an allegation that the purchasers intended to make no payment other than a credit on the claim to satisfy which the sale was made is insufficient to show that the sale was not for cash, as the court will not presume that the administrator will violate the law or the probate court confirm an illegal purchase); George v. Watson, 19 Tex. 354 (where under a statute requiring the administration to be "in the county where the deceased resided if he had a fixed domicile or residence in the republic," a bill attacking a sale on the ground that the administration in R county was without jurisdiction and alleging that the last place of residence of the deceased was in L county, where he resided at the time of his death, was held bad for not alleging that L county was his permanent or fixed residence or that he had a fixed domicile or residence in the republic).

1. Burris v. Adams, 96 Cal. 664, 31 Pac. 565 [distinguishing Jones v. Hanna, 81 Cal. 507, 22 Pac. 883]; Denton v. Arnold, 151 Ind. 188, 51 N. E. 240 [following Bailey v. Rinker, 146 Ind. 129, 45 N. E. 38], holding that where the recitals of the record as to service of process are conclusive, a complaint seeking to set aside a sale for want of service must allege not merely that there was no service, but what the record discloses as to service.

The defects relied upon must be specified. Deans v. Wilcoxson, 25 Fla. 980, 7 So. 163; Gormley v. Palmes, 13 La. Ann. 213; Leonard v. Cameron, 39 Miss. 419.

2. Fisher v. Bush, 133 Ind. 315, 32 N. E. 924.

3. Oliver v. Park, 101 Ky. 1, 39 S. W. 423, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 179 (holding that plaintiff must, in seeking to avoid a sale for want of notice, where the record discloses an appearance by attorney, deny the attorney's authority); Back v. Combs, 96 Ky. 522, 29 S. W. 352, 16 Ky. L. Rep. 613 (holding that plaintiff must show that he is within an exception to a statute of limitations which the bill would show to be otherwise applicable); Dickens v. Long, 109 N. C. 165, 13 S. E. 841 (holding that a plaintiff claiming the land as an exempt homestead must negative the exceptions in the statute creating the exemption).

4. Duffy v. Mellick, 42 N. J. Eq. 117, 7 Atl. 341; Cascaden v. Cascaden, 140 Pa. St. 140, 21 Atl. 259.

A subsequent purchaser must be charged in the bill with notice of the fraud. George v. Watson, 19 Tex. 354.

5. Gormley v. Palmes, 13 La. Ann. 213. See infra, XII, S, 6, a, (I).

6. Arkansas.— Blevins v. Case, 66 Ark. 416, 51 S. W. 65.

Indiana.— Denton v. Arnold, 151 Ind. 188, 51 N. E. 240; Sims v. Gay, 109 Ind. 501, 9 N. E. 120; Doe v. Harvey, 3 Ind. 104; Horner v. Doe, 1 Ind. 130, 48 Am. Dec. 355.

Missouri.— Murphy v. De France, 105 Mo. 53, 15 S. W. 949, 16 S. W. 861 [overruling Daudt v. Harmon, 16 Mo. App. 203].

New York.— Wood v. McChesney, 40 Barb. 417.

Ohio.— Sheldon v. Newton, 3 Ohio St. 494.

Texas.— Lyne v. Sanford, 82 Tex. 58, 19 S. W. 847, 27 Am. St. Rep. 852; Mills v. Herndon, 77 Tex. 89, 13 S. W. 854; Tom v. Sayers, 64 Tex. 339.

United States.— Moore v. Greene, 19 How. 69, 15 L. ed. 533 [affirming 17 Fed. Cas. No. 9,763, 2 Curt. 202], after many years' possession. The statutory power of the court being sufficient to authorize it to order the sale, the order cannot be impeached collaterally for lack of jurisdiction. Grignon v. Astor, 2 How. 319, 11 L. ed. 283. And see Allen v. Lyons, 1 Fed. Cas. No. 227, 2 Wash. 475.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1562.

Where the jurisdictional facts appear on the record the same presumption arises in favor of the judgment as arises in favor of courts of general jurisdiction. Root v. McFerrin, 37 Miss. 17, 75 Am. Dec. 49.

7. Reddick v. Long, 124 Ala. 260, 27 So. 402; Shelton v. Hadlock, 62 Conn. 143, 25 Atl. 483; Doe v. Roe, 4 Ga. 148, 48 Am. Dec. 216; Fell v. Young, 63 Ill. 106.

8. Kilgour v. Gockley, 83 Ill. 109; Moore v. Neil, 39 Ill. 256, 89 Am. Dec. 303; Little v. Sinnett, 7 Iowa 324; Grevemberg v. Bradford, 44 La. Ann. 400, 10 So. 786; Perry v. Blakey, 5 Tex. Civ. App. 331, 23 S. W. 804.

It is sufficient if the record recites notice, jurisdiction can be indulged if the record affirmatively discloses facts contrary thereto.[9] Not only jurisdiction but the fact that proceedings were had and a license granted will be presumed if the deed so recites and there has been long possession thereunder.[10] Indeed long and undisturbed possession alone creates a presumption of the validity of the sale.[11] No presumption will be indulged contrary to the record in order to sustain a sale, as by presuming that it was in fact made under an execution or a power in the will when the record discloses that it was made under an order of court and was void thereunder.[12]

(B) As to Regularity of Proceedings. The existence and regularity of steps in the proceedings, not jurisdictional, but sometimes essential to perfect title in the purchaser, will almost uniformly be presumed where the record is merely silent,[13]

but if it does not, none will be presumed from the fact that no order was made until thirty years had elapsed. Thomas v. Le Baron, 8 Metc. (Mass.) 355.

9. Where the administration record did not disclose the existence of any heirs and the order of sale was made the day the application was filed, notice to the heirs could not be presumed. Doe v. Bowen, 8 Ind. 197, 65 Am. Dec. 758. And see Guy v. Pierson, 21 Ind. 18; Doe v. Anderson, 5 Ind. 33; Babbitt v. Doe, 4 Ind. 355; Moore v. Smith, 24 S. C. 316. But compare Gerrard v. Johnson, 12 Ind. 636, where, although the record showed that there had been no service, it was nevertheless presumed that there had been a voluntary appearance.

Service of notice.— Where the recital of service showed that the service was defective, and the order was set aside and a new order made without any new adjudication as to service, and no other service appeared, it was presumed that the second order was based on the service mentioned in the first, and that the court failed to acquire jurisdiction. Donlin v. Hettinger, 57 Ill. 348. If, however, the record discloses that there was notice by publication and posting, the absence of the notice from the files will not defeat the presumption that it was a proper one. Clark v. Hillis, 134 Ind. 421, 34 N. E. 13.

10. Starr v. Brewer, 58 Vt. 24, 3 Atl. 479 (lapse of fifty years and probate proceedings lost); Massenburg v. Denison, 71 Fed. 618, 18 C. C. A. 280 (fifty-five years' possession). See also Baker v. Prewitt, 64 Ala. 551; Stevenson v. McReary, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 9, 51 Am. Dec. 102 (where there was incomplete evidence of the probate proceedings); Doolittle v. Holton, 28 Vt. 819, 67 Am. Dec. 745.

11. Alabama.— Lay v. Lawson, 23 Ala. 377. Where the purchase-money was paid and an informal deed made by the administrator and the probate records destroyed, the report and confirmation of sale were presumed after nineteen years. Smith v. Wert, 64 Ala. 34.

Georgia.— Newton v. Roe, 33 Ga. 163.

Massachusetts.— Gray v. Gardner, 3 Mass. 399.

Mississippi.— Stevenson v. McReary, 12 Sm. & M. 9, 51 Am. Dec. 102.

North Carolina.— Morris v. House, 125 N. C. 550, 34 S. E. 712.

Texas.— Sypert v. McCowen, 28 Tex. 635.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1562.

12. Jay v. Stein, 49 Ala. 514; Wilson v. Armstrong, 42 Ala. 168, 94 Am. Dec. 635; Alabama Conference M. E. Church South v. Price, 42 Ala. 39; Rice v. Bamberg, 59 S. C. 498, 38 S. E. 209. If, however, the property was personalty and might have been sold without an order, the sale is not invalidated because an order was obtained. Horner's Appeal, 56 Pa. St. 405.

13. Georgia.— Coggins v. Griswold, 64 Ga. 323.

Iowa.— When there is a petition presented by an administrator all further proceedings have the same presumptions of regularity which attach to judgments of courts of general jurisdiction. Long v. Burnett, 13 Iowa 28, 81 Am. Dec. 420. And see Lees v. Wetmore, 58 Iowa 170, 12 N. W. 238.

Michigan.— Wheelock v. Lake, 117 Mich. 11, 75 N. W. 140.

Mississippi.— Hutchins v. Brooks, 31 Miss. 430.

Missouri.— McNair v. Hunt, 5 Mo. 300.

New York.— Rigney v. Coles, 6 Bosw. 479. After ten years an order of confirmation will be presumed in collateral proceedings, although none is found of record. Mott v. Ft. Edward Waterworks Co., 79 N. Y. App. Div. 179, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 1100.

Tennessee.— Sanders v. Guille, (Ch. App. 1896) 37 S. W. 999.

Texas.— Templeton v. Ferguson, 89 Tex. 47, 33 S. W. 329 [affirming (Civ. App. 1895) 32 S. W. 148]; Harris v. Shafer, (Civ. App. 1893) 21 S. W. 110. Where the order of confirmation did not identify the land sold to each purchaser, it was presumed that the confirmation related to the lands conveyed by the deeds which had been previously executed. Perry v. Blakey, 5 Tex. Civ. App. 331, 23 S. W. 804.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1562.

Where the record discloses an insufficient order of confirmation, the existence of another and sufficient order will not be presumed. Pace v. Fishback, 10 Tex. Civ. App. 450, 31 S. W. 424. See also Blakey v. Perry, 15 Tex. Civ. App. 26, 38 S. W. 374.

Inventory.— A decree of sale and subsequent proceedings afford no evidence that an inventory had been previously made. Goodwin v. Sheldon, 1 Day (Conn.) 312.

and especially is this true where the records are in whole or in part lost.[14] So a record defective in some particular may be aided by a finding, recital, or allegation in another part from which the court will presume the existence of the missing element.[15] The general rule that persons acting in an official capacity are presumed to have properly performed their duties[16] has often been applied, especially after a considerable lapse of time.[17] A prima facie case is made by the purchaser by production of an order of sale, order of confirmation, and deed; all other steps will be presumed.[18]

(II) ADMISSIBILITY. The construction of the order of sale must be determined by the court from an inspection of the record itself,[19] but parol evidence, based on data in the deed, may be received to identify the land conveyed.[20] Where the statute protects a sale from attack if certain conditions are complied with, and the price "duly accounted for," the account can be shown only by the probate records.[21] Where fraud is charged parol evidence may be received to contradict the official appraisement as to the value of the property,[22] and parties to the deed may testify to facts in support of the charge of fraud, although they contradict recitals in the deed.[23]

(III) SUFFICIENCY. Evidence in support of allegations invalidating the sale must be clear and strong;[24] but slight evidence, especially after a long lapse of

14. Wyatt v. Scott, 33 Ala. 313 (where regularity was presumed after twenty years, the records having been loosely kept at the time of the sale); Johnson v. McDyer, 9 S. W. 778, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 29; Bray v. Adams, 114 Mo. 486, 21 S. W. 853; Rowdon v. Brown, 91 Mo. 429, 4 S. W. 129; Morris v. House, 125 N. C. 550, 34 S. E. 712.

15. Burris v. Kennedy, (Cal. 1895) 38 Pac. 971 (holding that where a petition does not aver the value of the property, it will be presumed on collateral attack that its value was stated in an inventory referred to in the petition as on file); McCamant v. Roberts, 80 Tex. 316, 15 S. W. 580, 1054 (holding that where the petition alleged the existence of debts, this will be presumed, although the record does not elsewhere affirmatively show it).

16. See EVIDENCE, 16 Cyc. 1076.

17. Iowa.— Brown v. Butters, 40 Iowa 544, presumption that sale was for not less than required proportion of appraised value.

Maine.— Austin v. Austin, 50 Me. 74, 79 Am. Dec. 597, approval of bond presumed from its filing.

Missouri.— Price v. Springfield Real-Estate Assoc., 101 Mo. 107, 14 S. W. 57, 20 Am. St. Rep. 595, presumption that an administrator had paid the necessary proportion of the appraised value to render his purchase legal, and that an administrator who was a judge of the court did not participate in the proceedings. So the making of the deed was presumed when the order of confirmation showed that a sale bill had been filed, because a deed should have been made in the course of the administrator's duty. Long v. Joplin Min., etc., Co., 68 Mo. 422.

New York.— Demarest v. Wynkoop, 3 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 129, 8 Am. Dec. 467, where a sale was regular but the deed was dated nineteen years after the sale, and it was presumed that a deed was made at the time and lost, and the one produced executed to take its place.

Oregon.— Russell v. Lewis, 3 Oreg. 380, where on the face of the record the order was made a day before the time fixed in the order to show cause, and it was presumed that there was a mistake in making up the record, rather than that the order was made before the return-day.

Pennsylvania.— Fink v. Miller, 19 Pa. Super. Ct. 556.

Tennessee.— Griffith v. Philips, 9 Lea 417, payment of purchase-money presumed from confirmation.

Texas.— Saul v. Frame, 3 Tex. Civ. App. 596, 22 S. W. 984, presumption that a bond was executed before making sale.

United States.— Santana Live-Stock, etc., Co. v. Pendleton, 81 Fed. 784, 26 C. C. A. 608.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1562.

18. Harris v. Ransom, 24 Miss. 504 (holding that the burden is then on the party impeaching the sale to show that it was not made legally); Young v. Downey, 145 Mo. 250, 46 S. W. 1086; Agan v. Shannon, 103 Mo. 661, 15 S. W. 757; Price v. Springfield Real-Estate Assoc., 101 Mo. 107, 14 S. W. 57, 20 Am. St. Rep. 595. And see Hawkins v. Ragan, 20 Ind. 193.

19. Wyatt v. Steele, 26 Ala. 639.

20. Doe v. Riley, 28 Ala. 164, 65 Am. Dec. 334.

21. Jewett v. Jewett, 10 Gray (Mass.) 31.

22. Herrimann v. Janney, 31 La. Ann. 276.

23. Kifer v. Brenneman, 1 Pa. St. 452; McCampbell v. Durst, 73 Tex. 410, 11 S. W. 380.

24. Illinois.— Wilson v. Kellogg, 77 Ill. 47, fraud.

Louisiana.— St. Ament v. Tessier, 47 La. Ann. 177, 16 So. 737 (non-payment of price); Calhoun v. McKnight, 44 La. Ann. 575, 10 So. 783 (fraud).

time accompanied by possession of the purchaser or those claiming under him, may be sufficient to sustain the sale.[25]

e. Decree. If another court has exclusive jurisdiction to license sales, a court of equity may on avoiding a sale decree possession and remove all obstacles to a resale, but it cannot itself order one.[26] A new license may be obtained if necessary,[27] but if the defect was in the sale alone the license should not be vacated and a new license is unnecessary.[28] Under some circumstances the defect can be cured only by a resale.[29] In the case of sales by administrators to themselves the proper course has sometimes been declared to be to order a resale, and if on such resale more is not bid than was paid by the administrator on the first sale, then to confirm the first.[30] The defect of a decree annulling an administrator's sale is to revest title in the heirs or devisees, subject as before to administration.[31]

Maryland.— Goldsborough v. Ringgold, 1 Md. Ch. 239, inaccuracy of survey on which sale made.

Mississippi.— Sanders v. Sorrell, 65 Miss. 288, 3 So. 661, purchaser's knowledge of fraud.

Pennsylvania.— Sager v. Mead, 171 Pa. St. 349, 33 Atl. 355 (inadequacy of price); Potts v. Wright, 82 Pa. St. 498 (fraud).

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1561.

Absence of citation and bond.— Testimony of a judge that he had examined the records of the court without finding a citation essential to the jurisdiction has been held not sufficient to defeat the sale. Gibson v. Foster, 2 La. Ann. 503. But such testimony as to failing to find a bond, together with the testimony of the administrator that none was given, has been held sufficient to defeat the sale. Babcock v. Cobb, 11 Minn. 347.

25. Thomas v. Le Baron, 8 Metc. (Mass.) 355 (holding that after twenty-four years a certificate of the judge recorded with the grant of the license that the administrator had taken the oath is sufficient evidence of the fact); Baker v. Henry, 63 Mo. 517 (where the report of sale was found among the papers of a deceased clerk, but not with other probate papers, and the court-house had been destroyed by fire, and the records moved from place to place, and it was held that the filing was sufficiently proved); Turner v. Suffler, 108 N. C. 642, 13 S. E. 243 (holding that a finding of a referee in a suit to set aside a sale that it was made in good faith will not be reversed if there is any evidence to warrant it); Huckle v. Phillips, 2 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 4 (holding that, where records were loosely kept and many years had elapsed, letters of administration need not be produced if there was secondary evidence that they were granted).

Recitals in deed.— After the lapse of years recitals of jurisdictional facts in the deed are prima facie evidence thereof (Doe v. Henderson, 4 Ga. 148, 48 Am. Dec. 216; Davis v. Gaines, 104 U. S. 386, 26 L. ed. 757), but recitals giving reasons why the property sold for so little create suspicion as to the fairness of the sale (Grant v. Lloyd, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 191).

26. Forniquet v. Forstall, 34 Miss. 87.

27. Moody v. Moody, 11 Me. 247.

28. McMillan v. Rushing, 80 Ala. 402; Robbins v. Wolcott, 27 Conn. 234.

29. Greer v. Greer, 12 S. W. 152, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 380 (holding that where land is sold in which there was an undivided interest not subject to sale, the court must order a resale; it cannot cure the error by compelling the owner of such interest to accept a portion of the purchase-money); Sharpley v. Plant, 79 Miss. 175, 28 So. 799, 89 Am. St. Rep. 588 (holding that the court cannot impart validity to a sale which was ineffectual to divest the heirs' title by imposing conditions upon compliance with which it will be confirmed, but a new sale must be ordered); Camp Mfg. Co. v. Liverman, 123 N. C. 7, 31 S. E. 346 (holding that where a sale was made on an agreement which made it in effect a mortgage to pay decedent's debts, those not bound by the agreement are entitled to a resale according to law).

30. Burnett v. Eaton, 29 N. J. Eq. 466; Davoue v. Fanning, 2 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 252, where a resale was ordered on condition that if the property should not bring the amount of the original purchase, together with the value of the improvements, the first sale should be confirmed.

The sale should not be set aside but the purchaser should be declared a trustee for the devisees. Chapman v. Sims, 53 Miss. 154.

The fact that the debts of the estate have been fully paid is no objection to a resale, as the administrator, not being able to recover back the money so paid, will be subrogated to the rights of the creditors. Wheeler v. Wheeler, 1 Conn. 51; Wilson v. Bergin, 28 N. H. 96.

31. Fisher v. Wood, 65 Tex. 199. Where property has been sold by an administrator, and for want of proper parties the sale is rescinded, it cannot be taken from the administrator, but must be left in his hands to be administered according to law. Savage v. Williams, 15 La. Ann. 250.

Judgment in ejectment obtained by purchaser.— Where, pending an appeal from a decree setting aside a sale, the purchaser recovered in ejectment against an adverse claimant, the benefits of the purchaser's judgment inured to the heirs on affirmance

6. Accounting With Purchaser When Sale Avoided[32] — a. Reimbursement For Purchase-Money — (i) Necessity of Offer by Plaintiff. Equity imposes an obligation on the heir seeking to set aside a sale to tender back the purchase-money as a condition of obtaining relief, where it has been applied in payment of the liabilities of the estate.[33] It is sometimes held that no equity for repayment arises in favor of one who purchases mala fides,[34] but this distinction is elsewhere denied.[35]

(ii) Method and Extent of Reimbursement. The equity of the purchaser arises from the employment of the money for the benefit of the estate, and accordingly it is sometimes held that his right is one of subrogation to those of the creditors who have been paid,[36] or to have his payment charged as a lien on the land,[37] but actual repayment to the extent at least of benefits received by the estate is the usual requirement.[38] of their decree. Mabary v. Dollarhide, 98 Mo. 198, 11 S. W. 611, 14 Am. St. Rep. 639.

Charging with penalty.— Where a sale is set aside as fraudulent and the administrator charged under a penal statute with the appraised value of the goods, he is not thereby vested with title in his own right. Smith v. Billing, 22 Fed. Cas. No. 13,014, 3 Cranch C. C. 355.

Necessity of further administration.— Where the bill by the heirs prayed a recovery of the rents and the value of personalty also sold the administrator cannot complain of a decree in accordance with such prayers if he made no showing of necessity for further administration. Lowery v. Idelson, 117 Ga. 778, 45 S. E. 51.

32. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (xiii).

Sale of personalty under testamentary authority or common-law power see supra, VIII, P, 2, l.

33. Indiana.— Shepherd v. Fisher, 17 Ind. 229.

Louisiana.— Beard v. Cash, 32 La. Ann. 121; Sharkey v. Bankston, 30 La. Ann. 891.

Mississippi.— Cole v. Johnson, 53 Miss. 94; Short v. Porter, 44 Miss. 533.

Nebraska.—Holmes v. Columbia Nat. Bank, (Sup. 1903) 97 N. W. 26.

Pennsylvania.— In re Smith, 188 Pa. St. 222, 41 Atl. 542.

United States.— Davis v. Gaines, 104 U. S. 386, 26 L. ed. 757.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1550½.

When repayment or tender unnecessary.— Where the sale is an absolute nullity, a previous tender is not a condition precedent to an action to set it aside. Wood v. Nicholls, 33 La. Ann. 744. And see Milner v. Vandivere, 86 Ga. 540, 12 S. E. 879; Burney v. Ludeling, 41 La. Ann. 627, 6 So. 248. Nor is repayment or tender a condition precedent where it does not appear that the purchase-money has been paid or applied for the benefit of the estate. Fishback v. Paige, 17 Tex. Civ. App. 183, 43 S. W. 317. And there need be no offer to refund where the rents and profits received by the purchaser exceed the amount of his disbursements (Cole v. Boyd, (Nebr. Sup. 1903) 93 N. W. 1003), or where it appears that the purchaser paid nothing out of his own funds (Shaw v. Swift, Smith (Ind.) 398).

34. Meyer v. Farmer, 36 La. Ann. 785; Forniquet v. Forstall, 34 Miss. 87.

35. Neel v. Carson, 47 Ark. 421, 2 S. W. 107; Fisher v. Bush, 133 Ind. 315, 32 N. E. 924; Obert v. Obert, 12 N. J. Eq. 423.

36. Gaines v. Kennedy, 53 Miss. 103; Short v. Porter, 44 Miss. 533; Lee v. Gardiner, 26 Miss. 521; Caldwell v. Palmer, 6 Lea (Tenn.) 652; Bennett v. Coldwell, 8 Baxt. (Tenn.) 483; Starkey v. Hammer, 1 Baxt. (Tenn.) 438; Martin v. Turner, 2 Heisk. (Tenn.) 384; Campbell v. Bryant, 2 Tenn. Cas. 146; Hudgin v. Hudgin, 6 Gratt. (Va.) 320, 52 Am. Dec. 124.

37. Baker v. Martin, 156 Ind. 53, 59 N. E. 174; Stults v. Brown, 112 Ind. 370, 14 N. E. 230, 2 Am. St. Rep. 190; Jones v. French, 92 Ind. 138; Grant v. Lloyd, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 191; Martin v. Turner, 2 Heisk. (Tenn.) 384.

Estate or funds chargeable.— The amount due the purchaser will be charged against the land and must be paid before the heir is entitled to possession. Gaines v. Kennedy, 53 Miss. 103; Blodgett v. Hitt, 29 Wis. 169, holding that the purchaser may set up the claim as an equitable defense in ejectment by the heir. The purchaser is entitled to reimbursement out of the first moneys arising from a resale. Potter v. Smith, 36 Ind. 231.

Necessity of filing claim of lien.— The claim on account of purchase-money paid, although a lien, is a claim against the estate which must be filed as provided by statute. Stults v. Forst, 135 Ind. 297, 34 N. E. 1125.

38. Arkansas.— Neel v. Carson, 47 Ark. 421, 2 S. W. 107.

Indiana.— Fisher v. Bush, 133 Ind. 315, 32 N. E. 924.

Mississippi.— See Gaines v. Kennedy, 53 Miss. 103; Jayne v. Boisgerard, 39 Miss. 796.

New Jersey.— Merselis v. Vreeland, 8 N. J. Eq. 575.

Ohio.— Roll v. Riddle, 5 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 232, 3 Am. L. Rec. 648 [affirmed in 24 Ohio St. 572].

Tennessee.— Caldwell v. Palmer, 6 Lea 652.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1550½.

(III) Reimbursement When Sale Void. Although the sale was absolutely void, the general rule is that the land cannot be recovered by the heir without repayment of the purchase-money paid to the estate.[39] Where, however, distinctions between law and equity are observed, no notice can be paid to such equities in an action of ejectment to recover the land,[40] but where the heir is required to go into equity to establish his title or possession repayment will be enforced.[41] As to whether the probate court may on vacating a sale adjust the rights of the purchaser the cases are not in accord.[42] Where the land has been recovered without repayment an action will lie to recover back the purchase-money from the estate.[43]

b. Reimbursement For Improvements.[44] A purchaser in good faith is entitled, when the sale is avoided, to credit or reimbursement for improvements made by him,[45] not at their cost or separate value, but to the extent to which they have

The entire purchase-money should be repaid. Mississippi.— Ragland v. Green, 14 Sm. & M. 194.

Missouri.— Schafer v. Causey, 76 Mo. 365; Mobley v. Nave, 67 Mo. 546.

New Jersey.— Obert v. Obert, 12 N. J. Eq. 423.

Texas.— Halsey v. Jones, 86 Tex. 488, 25 S. W. 696; Stephenson v. Marsalis, 11 Tex. Civ. App. 162, 33 S. W. 383.

Wisconsin.— Blodgett v. Hitt, 29 Wis. 169.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1550½.

A payment before confirmation is voluntary and the purchaser must bear the loss if the administrator misappropriates the money. He will not be subrogated to the rights of the administrator as an individual creditor until the debts due from the intestate to the administrator have been first applied to the claims of the estate against the administrator for the funds misappropriated. Pool v. Ellis, 64 Miss. 555, 1 So. 725.

Money applied to debts.— Where the purchase-money pays all the debts and leaves a surplus for the heirs it must all be repaid. Smith v. Knoebel, 82 Ill. 392. So the purchaser is entitled to repayment of moneys applied to the satisfaction of debts of the devisee seeking to avoid the sale. Beeson v. Beeson, 9 Pa. St. 279.

Items of credit and debit.— The purchaser is entitled to a lien for the balance found after crediting him with the amount of the purchase-money applied to the payment of debts, with interest, repairs, and reasonable improvements, and charging him with rents and profits. Ebelmesser v. Ebelmesser, 99 Ill. 541. Interest should also be allowed (Smith v. Knoebel, 82 Ill. 392; Schafer v. Causey, 76 Mo. 365; Mobley v. Nave, 67 Mo. 546; Obert v. Obert, 12 N. J. Eq. 423), and taxes paid by the purchaser (Smith v. Knoebel, supra; Schafer v. Causey, supra). In addition to repayment of the purchase-money the purchaser has been allowed auctioneer's fees paid by him, and the costs of examining the title (John's Estate, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 172, 21 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 326), but the last item has also been denied (Campbell's Estate, Tuck. Surr. (N. Y.) 240). Costs allowed the executor should not be deducted from the amount to be repaid. Thomas' Estate, 4 Kulp (Pa.) 445.

39. Hill v. Billingsly, 53 Miss. 111; Gaines v. Kennedy, 53 Miss. 103; Schafer v. Causey, 76 Mo. 365; Mobley v. Nave, 67 Mo. 546; Martin v. Turner, 2 Heisk. (Tenn.) 384; Halsey v. Jones, 86 Tex. 488, 25 S. W. 696; Stephenson v. Marsalis, 11 Tex. Civ. App. 162, 33 S. W. 383. Contra, Beene v. Collenberger, 38 Ala. 647; Nowler v. Coit, 1 Ohio 519, 13 Am. Dec. 640.

Court cannot create lien in favor of purchaser at void sale. Frost v. Atwood, 73 Mich. 67, 41 N. W. 96, 16 Am. St. Rep. 560. And see Beall v. Price, 13 Ohio 368, 42 Am. Dec. 204.

40. Stevens v. Durrett, 49 Miss. 411.

41. Obert v. Obert, 12 N. J. Eq. 423.

42. See Eichelberger v. Hawthorne, 33 Md. 588 (holding that the orphans' court has no authority, on vacating a sale, to adjust the rights of the purchaser; but he must be remitted to equity); Matter of Lynch, 67 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 436 (holding that a surrogate may order the executor to refund).

43. Dorman v. Laine, 6 Ill. 143; Stevens v. Durrett, 49 Miss. 411; Hudgin v. Hudgin, 6 Gratt. (Va.) 320, 52 Am. Dec. 124.

One buying personal property with notice of facts rendering the sale void cannot recover back the price after the property has been recovered from him, because his payment was voluntary. Beene v. Collenberger, 38 Ala. 647.

Persons liable.— Where the executors have turned over the money to the residuary legatee and have no assets in their hands, although there has been no judicial settlement, the action should be brought against the legatee. Mertens v. Roche, 39 N. Y. App. Div. 398, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 349. And as an unauthorized sale confers no right on the administrator to receive the money as administrator, he is not liable to the purchaser therefor in his representative capacity unless it be shown that he has actually accounted to the estate for such money. Schlicker v. Hemenway, 110 Cal. 579, 42 Pac. 1063, 52 Am. St. Rep. 116.

44. See, generally, Improvements.

45. Illinois.— Ebelmesser v. Ebelmesser, 99 Ill. 541; Smith v. Knoebel, 82 Ill. 392.

enhanced the value of the property.[46] It is sometimes held that the value of improvements is allowed only as a set-off against rents and profits, and that the allowance cannot exceed the amount of such rents and profits.[47]

c. Liability For Rents and Profits. The purchaser should be charged with the rents and profits of the land during the period of his possession.[48]

T. Operation and Effect of Sale[49] — 1. Sale Is Judicial. A sale of land by an executor or administrator under order of court is in the nature of a judicial sale, and has in general the same force and effect.[50]

2. Effect in Divesting Titles and Liens — a. Title of Heirs or Devisees. A sale by an executor or administrator to pay debts divests the title of the heirs or devisees,[51] but does not prevent them from setting up an after-acquired Maryland.— Gavin v. Carling, 55 Md. 530.

Mississippi.— Grant v. Lloyd, 12 Sm. & M. 191.

New Jersey.— Smith v. Drake, 23 N. J. Eq. 302.

Ohio.— Barrington v. Alexander, 6 Ohio St. 189; Longworth v. Wolfington, 6 Ohio 9.

Tennessee.— Starkey v. Hammer, 1 Baxt. 438.

Texas.— Burdett v. Silsbee, 15 Tex. 604; Anderson v. Lockhart, 2 Tex. Unrep. Cas. 63.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," §§ 1584, 1585.

Credit for improvements has been allowed where the sale was void (Burdett v. Silsbee, 15 Tex. 604; Anderson v. Lockhart, 2 Tex. Unrep. Cas. 63), where the administrator purchased at his own sale (Miller v. Rich, 204 Ill. 444, 68 N. E. 488; Ebelmesser v. Ebelmesser, 99 Ill. 541; Smith v. Drake, 23 N. J. Eq. 302; Mulford v. Minch, 11 N. J. Eq. 16, 64 Am. Dec. 472; Barrington v. Alexander, 6 Ohio St. 189; Wipff v. Heder, 6 Tex. Civ. App. 685, 26 S. W. 118), and where the sale was set aside for fraud (Grant v. Lloyd, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 191).

No allowance can be made for improvements not paid for by the purchaser and for which he is not liable. Burks v. Vaughan, (Ark. 1892) 19 S. W. 754.

If the property is sold as litigious property, the purchaser cannot claim the increased value in case of eviction. Gravier v. Gravier, 3 Mart. N. S. (La.) 206.

A mortgagee from one holding under a void decree transferring the property of a decedent is entitled to the benefit of improvements made by the mortgagor, deducting therefrom their proportion of taxes, insurance, and other burdens. Gavin v. Carling, 55 Md. 530.

46. Lagger v. Mutual Union Loan, etc., Assoc., 146 Ill. 283, 33 N. E. 946; Ebelmesser v. Ebelmesser, 99 Ill. 541 (holding that the credit should be for proper and lasting improvements which have enhanced the value of the land, but not for unreasonable, expensive, or unsuitable improvements); Smith v. Drake, 23 N. J. Eq. 302; Starkey v. Hammer, 1 Baxt. (Tenn.) 438.

47. Huse v. Den, 85 Cal. 390, 24 Pac. 790, 20 Am. St. Rep. 232 (void sales); Grant v. Lloyd, 12 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 191; Williamson v. Williamson, 3 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 715, 41 Am. Dec. 636; Starkey v. Hammer, 1 Baxt. (Tenn.) 438.

48. Burks v. Vaughan, (Ark. 1892) 19 S. W. 754; Smith v. Knoebel, 82 Ill. 392; Kruse v. Steffens, 47 Ill. 112; Shaw v. Swift, Smith (Ind.) 398; Hudgin v. Hudgin, 6 Gratt. (Va.) 320, 52 Am. Dec. 124.

Direction for payment to heir.— A purchaser cannot complain that he is directed to pay the rents and profits to the heir instead of the executor, where under the will it was the duty of the executor to pay them to the heir. Borders v. Murphy, 125 Ill. 577, 18 N. E. 739.

If an heir purchases at an invalid sale and collects rents, and the sale is afterward set aside at the suit of another heir who is adjudged entitled to a share of the rents so collected, the amount thus due the latter should be charged as a lien on the interest of the purchasing heir in the land. Kalteyer v. Wipff, (Tex. Civ. App. 1899) 49 S. W. 1055.

49. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (x).

Sale of personalty under testamentary authority or common-law power see supra, VIII, P, 2, j.

50. Alabama.— Pryor v. Davis, 109 Ala. 117, 19 So. 440.

Florida.— Price v. Winter, 15 Fla. 66.

Georgia.— Harwell v. Foster, 102 Ga. 38, 28 S. E. 967.

Louisiana.— Howard v. Zeyer, 18 La. Ann. 407; Lalanne v. Morceau, 13 La. 431.

Pennsylvania.— Moore v. Shultz, 13 Pa. St. 98, 53 Am. Dec. 446.

United States.— Davis v. Gaines, 104 U. S. 386, 26 L. ed. 757; Grignon v. Astor, 2 How. 319, 11 L. ed. 283.

A decree ordering a sale is in rem and analogous to a decree of foreclosure of a mortgage, so that it may be enforced after seven years instead of being governed by analogy to the limitation of judgments at law. Kipping v. Demint, 184 Ill. 165, 56 N. E. 330, 75 Am. St. Rep. 164.

A sale to pay debts resulting in a purchase by heirs cannot be construed as a partition sale. Nesom v. Weis, 34 La. Ann. 1004. And see Kinzer v. Mitchell, 8 Pa. St. 64.

51. King v. Cabaniss, 81 Ga. 661, 7 S. E. 620 (so holding, although the deed purports to convey more than the heirs own); Miami Exporting Co. v. Holly, Wright (Ohio) 226;

title.[52] Such a sale also divests the land of the lien of a legacy charged thereon.[53] The relationship of mortgagor and mortgagee may, however, be created between the heir and a creditor purchasing, by an agreement at the time of sale or prior thereto that the property shall be held as security for the debt and to convey upon its payment,[54] and a purchaser may also charge himself as trustee for heirs by a prior agreement to hold as such in case he purchases.[55]

b. Dower Rights.[56] As a widow's dower is not usually subject to the general debts of the husband,[57] her right to dower, or to a statutory estate in the nature thereof, is usually not divested by an administration sale.[58] Sometimes, however, the sale may be made free from dower, and the widow compensated from the Stringfellow v. Cain, 99 U. S. 610, 25 L. ed. 421 (holding that a sale and delivery of possession, rightful or wrongful, will divest a right of the heirs depending entirely on continued adverse possession).

A lease by the administrator under statutory authority passes the term, and a devisee cannot maintain ejectment against the lessee. Eoff v. Thompkins, 66 Mo. 225. And see Ex p. Barker, 127 Ala. 203, 28 So. 574.

If a widow takes under the will her interest is divested by a sale for debts. Meddis v. Kenney, 176 Mo. 200, 75 S. W. 633, 98 Am. St. Rep. 496.

There is no redemption from a sale to pay debts. Maxwell v. Smith, 86 Tenn. 539, 8 S. W. 340; Love v. Williams, 2 Lea (Tenn.) 226.

52. Flenner v. Travellers' Ins. Co., 89 Ind. 164; Flenner v. Benson, 89 Ind. 108.

53. Lombaert's Appeal, 99 Pa. St. 580; McLanahan v. McLanahan, 1 Penr. & W. (Pa.) 96, 21 Am. Dec. 363; Barnet v. Washebaugh, 16 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 410.

Conditional sale.— The lien of the legacy will be divested in spite of a written condition of sale, not in the order, by which the legacies were to remain charges, the purchaser having no actual notice of the condition. Randolph's Appeal, 5 Pa. St. 242.

54. Nickson v. Toney, 3 Head (Tenn.) 655.

Right to enforce agreement.— Where, after a sale which was voidable by the heirs, an agreement was made with the adult heirs to convey to all upon payment of their proportionate shares of the debt, it was held that the consideration inured to the benefit of the minor heirs and they were entitled specifically to enforce the agreement. Williams v. Williams, 85 N. C. 313.

55. Christy v. Christy, 176 Pa. St. 421, 35 Atl. 245, holding, however, that the trust attached only to the interest which passed by the sale and not to an interest which the purchaser already held in the lands.

56. See also supra, XII, D, 8.

57. See DOWER, 14 Cyc. 925.

58. Alabama.— Clancy v. Stephens, 92 Ala. 577, 9 So. 522, 524.

Arkansas.— Webb v. Smith, 40 Ark. 17; Livingston v. Cochran, 33 Ark. 294.

Indiana.— Clark v. Deutsch, 101 Ind. 491; Pepper v. Zahnsinger, 94 Ind. 88; Matthews v. Pate, 93 Ind. 443; Nutter v. Hawkins, 93 Ind. 260; Flenner v. Travellers' Ins. Co., 89 Ind. 164; Flenner v. Benson, 89 Ind. 108; Compton v. Pruitt, 88 Ind. 171; Hendrix v. McBeth, 87 Ind. 287; Armstrong v. Cavitt, 78 Ind. 476; Elliott v. Frakes, 71 Ind. 412. See also Bell v. Shaffer, 154 Ind. 413, 56 N. E. 217 (holding that the widow's dower cannot be included in the sale by an amendment of the petition after the order and the sale); Elliott v. Frakes, 90 Ind. 389 (holding that where the same person is administrator of the estate of a husband and of his widow, a sale of the husband's land to make assets does not pass title to the widow's share).

Maryland.— Waring v. Waring, 2 Bland 673.

Massachusetts.— Hale v. Munn, 4 Gray 132.

Nebraska.— Motley v. Motley, 53 Nebr. 375, 73 N. W. 738, 68 Am. St. Rep. 608.

New Jersey.— Pittenger v. Pittenger, 3 N. J. Eq. 156.

Oregon.— In re Smith, 43 Oreg. 595, 73 Pac. 336, 75 Pac. 133; Whiteaker v. Belt, 25 Oreg. 490, 36 Pac. 534; House v. Fowle, 22 Oreg. 303, 29 Pac. 890.

Pennsylvania.— Bauer v. Karstein, 16 Phila. 120; Allen's Estate, 1 Leg. Chron. 102. See also Zooks' Appeal, 54 Pa. St. 486 (where a sale having been made to pay debts, subject to the payment of the widow's dower yearly during her life, and the purchaser having retained one third of the purchase-price, secured by mortgage, it was held that the proceeds of the sale represented the entire interest of the decedent in the land, the purchaser being merely accountable to the widow for her dower); Vandever v. Baker, 13 Pa. St. 121.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators." § 1572.

Contra.— Scott v. Wells, 55 Minn. 274, 56 N. W. 828; Mount v. Valle, 19 Mo. 621.

Notice of dower right.— Where the record discloses that the decedent left a widow, it is notice to the purchaser of her dower right. Motley v. Motley, 53 Nebr. 375, 73 N. W. 738, 68 Am. St. Rep. 608.

Where the widow purchases, her dower becomes merged in the fee, and her right to dispose of the property is absolute. Reinhardt v. Seaman, 208 Ill. 448, 69 N. E. 847.

The statute of limitations runs against a widow's claim for dower from the time that the purchaser enters into possession in hostility thereto. Livingston v. Cochran, 33 Ark. 294.

proceeds of the sale.[59] It is generally held that if the widow is a party to the proceedings leading to the sale, the decree is an adjudication against her unless it assigns dower or reserves her rights.[60] A sale to satisfy a debt to which the dower estate is subject discharges dower.[61] Questions sometimes arising between the purchaser and the heirs after the death of the widow as to the right to land assigned as dower must be determined from the description in the record and in the deed.[62]

c. Encumbrances.[63] The effect of an administrator's sale on existing encumbrances varies. In some states such sales pass merely such interest as descended from testator, subject to all encumbrances, which remain charges on the land.[64]

59. Virgin v. Virgin, 189 Ill. 144, 59 N. E. 586 [affirming 91 Ill. App. 188]; Williams' Case, 3 Bland (Md.) 186 (with the consent of the widow); Schmitt v. Willis, 40 N. J. Eq. 515, 4 Atl. 767.

Rights of widow as to proceeds.— A conveyance having been made by an administrator in pursuance of a decree in fulfilment of a contract made by the decedent, the widow releasing dower is entitled to one third of the price of the land. In re Drenkle, 3 Pa. St. 377.

A subsequent purchaser is not personally liable for the proportion of purchase-money representing the dower interest unless he assumes its payment. Unangst v. Kraemer, 8 Watts & S. (Pa.) 391.

60. In re Pennock, 122 Iowa 622, 98 N. W. 480; Olmsted v. Blair, 45 Iowa 42; Garvin v. Hatcher, 39 Iowa 685; Gardiner v. Miles, 5 Gill (Md.) 94.

Election.— Under the Pennsylvania act of April 26, 1850, providing that the widow of an insolvent decedent might retain either real or personal property to the value of three hundred dollars, the widow cannot claim real estate sold under order of court, where no election to retain either real or personal estate was made before the sale. Neff's Appeal, 21 Pa. St. 243.

If the widow fails to interpose her right of quarantine she cannot set it up against the purchaser. Doane v. Walker, 101 Ill. 628.

The widow's estate is not divested if the petition did not expressly ask that it be sold and if she in consenting to the sale did not expressly designate such interest. Irey v. Mater, 134 Ind. 238, 33 N. E. 1018.

Widow not bound by default judgment.— Compton v. Pruitt, 88 Ind. 171.

61. Mead v. Mead, 39 Iowa 28; St. Clair v. Morris, 9 Ohio 15, 34 Am. Dec. 415.

62. See Costly v. Tarver, 38 Ala. 107 (holding that if the sale was of the entire real estate of decedent the purchaser takes the reversion after the dower estate); Flenner v. Travellers' Ins. Co., 89 Ind. 164 (holding that where deceased left children by a former wife, who by statute took the land upon her death, a sale subject to her life-estate did not pass their interest); Kempton v. Swift, 2 Metc. (Mass.) 70 (holding that a sale by bounds of the real estate not assigned as dower does not pass the reversion of that assigned).

A sale of land "except the dower" passes the reversion (Moody v. West, 12 Ind. 399), as does a sale of a described tract "less or except the widow's dower described as follows," and describing the land set apart (Austin v. Willis, 90 Ala. 421, 8 So. 94).

63. See also supra, XII, D, 7.

64. Alabama.— Perkins v. Winter, 7 Ala. 855; Doe v. McLoskey, 1 Ala. 708.

Illinois.— Sebastian v. Johnson, 72 Ill. 282, 22 Am. Rep. 144; Shoemate v. Lockridge, 53 Ill. 503; Cutter v. Thompson, 51 Ill. 390; Phelps v. Funkhouser, 39 Ill. 401; McConnel v. Smith, 39 Ill. 279; Smith v. McConnell, 17 Ill. 135, 63 Am. Dec. 340.

Indiana.— Moody v. Shaw, 85 Ind. 88; McCallam v. Pleasants, 67 Ind. 542; Henderson v. Whitinger, 56 Ind. 131; Martin v. Beasley, 49 Ind. 280. Under the statute authorizing the court to order the sale either subject to liens or for their payment, the sale will be subject to liens unless otherwise ordered (Martin v. Beasley, 49 Ind. 280) and so appearing by the record (Crum v. Meeks, 128 Ind. 360, 27 N. E. 722).

Maryland.— See Ellicott v. Ellicott, 6 Gill & J. 35, holding that a mortgagee cannot be required to come into chancery under proceedings for the sale of a decedent's real estate and seek payment of his claim out of the proceeds of sale, but may rely on his mortgage.

New Jersey.— Cool v. Higgins, 23 N. J. Eq. 308.

Pennsylvania.— Under the act of March 23, 1867, the lien of a mortgage is not destroyed by a judicial sale, and the purchaser takes subject to the mortgage, although the debt is improperly included in the schedule of debts for the payment of which the sale was ordered (Penn Square Bldg. Assoc.'s Appeal, 81* Pa. St. 330; Metz's Estate, 1 Leg. Rec. 274) and in spite of agreements between administrator and purchaser (Fish's Estate, 16 Phila. 373). The purchaser takes subject to all arrears of interest and to arrears of a ground-rent. Lewis' Estate, 16 Phila. 367; Terry's Estate, 13 Phila 298. Prior to the statute the sale divested the mortgage lien. Cadmus v. Jackson, 52 Pa. St. 295. As to judgments see infra, note 65.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1569½.

Where a portion of mortgaged premises is sold, the residue remaining to the heirs must be first resorted to to satisfy the mortgage

In others the policy is to give the purchaser so far as possible a clear title by divesting encumbrances and transferring from the land to the fund realized by its sale the lien of judgments,[65] and mortgages.[66] Sometimes the purchaser takes free from a tax lien which is transferred by the sale to the fund.[67] Exceptions to the rule whereby the land is divested of encumbrances are made in the case of vendor's liens, with which the land came charged into the hands of decedent,[68] and mortgages which were made before he purchased, securing debts which were not and have not become his.[69] It has also been held that the sale is subject to liens when made for purposes of distribution and not to pay debts.[70] It is some-before proceeding against that sold. Moore v. Chandler, 59 Ill. 466.

A sale to pay liens discharges all, although the proceeds are insufficient to pay the debts secured. Foltz v. Peters, 16 Ind. 244; West v. Townsend, 12 Ind. 434.

Failure of purchaser to give bond to pay liens.— On a sale subject to liens the purchaser takes subject thereto, although he fails to give a bond, as required by statute, conditioned that he will pay them. Massey v. Jerauld, 101 Ind. 270.

If the administrator pays a mortgage after the sale he is subrogated to the rights of the mortgagee against the land. Greenwell v. Heritage, 71 Mo. 459; Welton v. Hull, 50 Mo. 296.

65. McDaniel v. Edwards, 56 Ga. 444; Carhart v. Vann, 46 Ga. 389; Defrees v. Greenham, 11 Ohio St. 486; Miami Exporting Co. v. Holly, Wright (Ohio) 226; Crawford v. Crawford, 2 Watts (Pa.) 339; McPherson v. Cunliff, 11 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 422, 14 Am. Dec. 642; O'Brian v. Wiggins, 14 Pa. Super. Ct. 37; Bentzel v. Wambaugh, 14 York Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 141; Cromer v. Boinest, 27 S. C. 436, 3 S. E. 849.

66. Georgia.— Newson v. Carlton, 59 Ga. 516.

Kentucky.— Underwood v. Cartwright, 47 S. W. 580, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 809.

Louisiana.— Condon's Succession, 28 La. Ann. 755; Harper v. Linman, 26 La. Ann. 690; Wooley v. Russ, 24 La. Ann. 482; Michel v. Delaporte, 14 La. Ann. 91; Ynogoso's Succession, 13 La. Ann. 559; Lewis v. Labauve, 13 La. Ann. 382; Aicard v. Daly, 7 La. Ann. 612; Leverich v. Prieur, 8 Rob. 97; French v. Prieur, 6 Rob. 299; Williams v. State Bank, 17 La. 378; Taylor v. Crain, 16 La. 290; Hoey v. Cunningham, 14 La. 86; Lalanne v. Moreau, 13 La. 431; Zacharie v. Prieur, 9 La. 197; Joyce v. Poydras de la Lande, 6 La. 277; De Ende v. Moore, 2 Mart. N. S. 336; Lafon v. Phillips, 2 Mart. N. S. 225.

Massachusetts.— See Abby v. Fuller, 8 Metc. 36, where it was held a proper method of reaching the equity of redemption, in order to make assets, to sell the land with notice that the mortgage would be first paid out of the proceeds of the sale, and to so apply the proceeds.

Ohio.— Defrees v. Greenham, 11 Ohio St. 486; Whiteley v. Weber, 2 Ohio Cir. Ct. 336.

United States.— Davis v. Martin, 113 Fed. 6, 51 C. C. A. 27, construing law of Louisiana.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1569½.

Sale may be made expressly subject to mortgages. Hebert v. Doussan, 8 La. Ann. 267; Grayson v. Mayo, 2 La. Ann. 927.

67. Herrington v. Tolbert, 110 Ga. 528, 35 S. E. 687. See also Smith v. Cornell, 111 N. Y. 554, 19 N. E. 271 [reversing 51 N. Y. Super. Ct. 354] (holding that where an heir purchased at a sale made by a trustee to satisfy dower, and afterward it was adjudged that trusts created by the will were void, and that he took as heir, the executor was not relieved from the statutory duty of paying taxes assessed previous to testator's death, although the dower sale was nominally subject to unpaid taxes); Henry v. Horstick, 9 Watts (Pa.) 412 (holding that taxes which are not charges upon the land but which the purchaser has been compelled to pay to avoid distress of personal property upon the land may, it seems, be recovered back from the heirs, but the administrator is not liable therefor). But compare Sexton v. Sikking, 90 Ill. App. 667 (holding that the purchaser takes subject to unpaid taxes which are liens); Merrick v. North, 28 La. Ann. 878 (holding that a purchaser is chargeable with taxes from the time rents accrue).

68. Bradford v. Dortch, 13 La. 79. See also Delassus v. Poston, 19 Mo. 425; Mountcastle v. Moore, 11 Heisk. (Tenn.) 481. See, however, Rhett v. Georgia Land, etc., Co., 64 Ga. 521.

69. Field's Succession, 3 Rob. (La.) 5; Offutt v. Hendsley, 9 La. 1; Swindler v. Peyroux, 5 La. 468; Johnston v. Bell, 6 Mart. N. S. (La.) 384; Stallman's Estate, 6 Phila. (Pa.) 389. But see Cadmus v. Jackson, 52 Pa. St. 295.

A mortgage by a prior owner is discharged where it has been assumed by decedent and is included in the schedule of debts, for the payment of which the sale is made. Moore v. Shultz, 13 Pa. St. 98, 53 Am. Dec. 446. But see Metz's Estate, 1 Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 274.

70. Moore v. Wright, 14 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 132. And see Carhart v. Vann, 46 Ga. 389. Contra, Bentzel v. Wambaugh, 14 York Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 141, construing the Pennsylvania statute of June 12, 1893.

Charge by will.— On a sale for distribution the purchaser takes subject to a charge by will to support an heir, but on a sale to pay debts the rule is otherwise. Bell v. Watkins, 104 Ga. 345, 30 S. E. 756.

General debts.— A partition sale within two years from the time administration was times held that the lien can be divested only when its holder is a party to the proceedings leading to the sale.[71] A purchaser or mortgagee under license of the court cannot be subjected to a claim against the estate interposed after the sale or mortgage.[72]

d. Rights of Purchasers From and Creditors of Heirs and Devisees. Not only is the estate of the heir or devisee divested, but as he takes subject to the necessities of administration, a sale by the administrator will divest the title of one who has purchased from him,[73] or a lien created by him or arising out of his debts.[74] Title acquired under condemnation proceedings against the heirs is, however, superior to that acquired by a purchaser under a subsequent sale by an administrator.[75]

3. Title of Purchaser — a. What Title Passes in General.[76] The purchaser at a sale by an executor or administrator under order of court takes only such title as decedent had at the time of his death,[77] and is subject to the obligations granted does not discharge the land from the general debts of the estate. Wilson's Appeal, 45 Pa. St. 435; Miller's Estate, 9 Pa. Dist. 510.

71. Crum v. Meeks, 128 Ind. 360, 27 N. E. 722; Underwood v. Cartwright, 47 S. W. 580, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 809; Holloway v. Stuart, 19 Ohio St. 472; Cromer v. Boinest, 27 S. C. 436, 3 S. E. 849.

72. Ury v. Bush, 85 Iowa 698, 52 N. W. 666.

73. Nelson v. Murfee, 69 Ala. 598; Nichols v. Lee, 16 Colo. 147, 26 Pac. 157. See also Warwick v. Hunt, 11 N. J. L. 1.

Estate of purchaser at sale.— One who purchases at an administration sale acquires an equitable estate in the land which constitutes a defense in ejectment by the grantee of heirs with notice. Long v. Joplin Min., etc., Co., 68 Mo. 422.

Improvements.— A purchaser from the heir or devisee is not entitled to a lien for improvements made by him when his estate is divested by a sale to pay the debts of decedent. Moore v. Moore, 155 Ind. 261, 57 N. E. 242; Simpson v. Gibbes, 1 Desauss. (S. C.) 145. One who buys pending proceedings looking to the sale of land and makes improvements thereon under the belief that it will not be necessary to sell the land does so at his own risk and is not entitled to compensation for the improvements in case the land is afterward sold under the order. Hurn v. Keller, 79 Va. 415.

If the sale does not take place within the period fixed by statute the estate of purchasers from the heir will not be divested. Warwick v. Hunt, 11 N. J. L. 1; Bockover v. Ayres, 22 N. J. Eq. 13; Hyde v. Tanner, 1 Barb. (N. Y.) 75.

74. Judgment liens see McDaniel v. Edwards, 56 Ga. 444; Keckeley v. Moore, 2 Strobh. Eq. (S. C.) 21. But see Loudon v. Robertson, 5 Blackf. (Ind.) 276.

Mortgages see Myers v. Pierce, 86 Ga. 786, 12 S. E. 978; Escarraguell's Succession, 36 La. Ann. 155; Pigneguy's Succession, 12 Rob. (La.) 450; Steel's Appeal, 86 Pa. St. 222.

The title of a purchaser at an execution sale on a judgment against the heir will be divested of title by a subsequent sale to pay the ancestor's debts. Horner v. Hasbrouck, 41 Pa. St. 169. But a sale for the benefit of the heirs and not to pay debts will not affect the title acquired by a purchaser at execution sale on a judgment against the heir. Swift v. Kenison, 39 Vt. 473. But see McDaniel v. Edwards, 56 Ga. 444.

Enforcement of judgment against debtor's share of proceeds.— The lien of a judgment against the heir may be enforced against any share of the proceeds of the sale to which the heir would be entitled. Sears v. Mack, 2 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 394.

75. Kane v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 112 Mo. 34, 20 S. W. 532.

76. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (xi).

Sale of personalty under testamentary authority or common-law power see supra, VIII, P, 2, l.

77. Indiana.— Weyer v. Franklin Second Nat. Bank, 57 Ind. 198.

Louisiana.— Howard v. Zeyer, 18 La. Ann. 407.

Missouri.— Shields v. Ashley, 16 Mo. 471.

New York.— Van Vleck v. Enos, 88 Hun 348, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 754.

Pennsylvania.—Walker's Estate, 23 Pa. Co. Ct. 657; Bloodhart's Estate, 2 Pa. Co. Ct. 476; Bean's Appeal, 2 Walk. 512; Rush's Estate, 1 Phila. 404; Vogel's Estate, 3 Lanc. L. Rev. 218.

South Carolina.— McLaurin v. Rion, 24 S. C. 407.

Texas.— Hanrick v. Gurley, 93 Tex. 458, 54 S. W. 347, 56 S. W. 330.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1574.

A conveyance of land which decedent was forbidden to transfer may create an equity entitling the purchaser to hold against the heirs until it is satisfied. Maxson v. Jennings, 19 Tex. Civ. App. 700, 48 S. W. 781.

If decedent had no title the purchaser takes none, although the real owner was a party to the proceedings. Gjerstadengen v. Van Duzen, 7 N. D. 612, 76 N. W. 233, 66 Am. St. Rep. 679; McLaurin v. Rion, 24 S. C. 407.

If decedent was estopped to claim title so is the purchaser. Cooper v. Lindsay, 109 Ala. 338, 19 So. 379; Hill v. Blackwelder, 113 Ill. 283.

under which decedent held the property.[78] The title cannot be given effect by relation to the date of a lien which was discharged from the proceeds of the sale.[79] No land or interest will pass except that stated in the petition[80] and included in the order,[81] and none except that actually sold.[82] Easements and necessary incidents to the enjoyment of property will, however, pass with it;[83] and it seems that the order of sale of an inchoate title will carry the title so far as it is perfected at the time of the sale.[84]

The possession of one under a bond for title given by the decedent is adverse to a purchaser at an administrator's sale, and the sale is therefore void. Heard v. Phillips, 101 Ga. 691, 31 S. E. 216, 44 L. R. A. 369.

78. Stanbrough v. Evans, 2 La. Ann. 474 (holding that one buying mortgaged chattels must comply with a promise of the decedent to produce them whenever required under the mortgagee); Van Vleck v. Enos, 88 Hun (N. Y.) 348, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 754 (holding that one purchasing with notice where the decedent had a deed absolute, but intended as security, holds only as security).

Where decedent in his lifetime had granted timber to another, the purchaser at an administrator's sale took the land charged with the right of the third person to the timber. Howell v. James Lumber Co., 102 Ga. 595, 27 S. E. 699.

79. Meyers v. Farquharson, 46 Cal. 190; Cadmus v. Jackson, 52 Pa. St. 295.

80. Austin v. Willis, 90 Ala. 421, 8 So. 94; Fielder v. Childs, 73 Ala. 567.

81. Hanson v. Ingwaldson, 77 Minn. 533, 80 N. W. 702, 77 Am. St. Rep. 692; Greene v. Holt, 76 Mo. 677; Page v. Fishback, 10 Tex. Civ. App. 450, 31 S. W. 424. Thus where it was supposed that a decedent held only an equity of redemption, and this only was ordered sold and was sold, and it turned out that decedent had an absolute unencumbered title, nothing passed by the sale. Crane v. Guthrie, 47 Iowa 542. Where, however, an order merely authorized a sale of patent rights, and with them there were sold certain accrued claims arising therefrom, it was held that the confirmation of the sale, as made, was equivalent to a previous order directing it. May v. Logan County, 30 Fed. 250.

82. Messick v. Mayer, 52 La. Ann. 1161, 27 So. 815; Hege v. Hege, 1 Penr. & W. (Pa.) 83. See also Johnson v. Oldham, 126 Ala. 309, 28 So. 487, 85 Am. St. Rep. 30; Hamilton v. Hamilton, 6 Mart. N. S. (La.) 143.

Easement.— Where an order directed the sale of a lot but made no mention of an easement for an alley to which it was subject, but the sale was made subject to the easement, the vendee took subject to such easement. Overdeer v. Updegraff, 69 Pa. St. 110.

Tract larger than was supposed.— Where a tract supposed to contain one hundred acres was sold at a certain price per acre, it was held that the purchaser took only one hundred acres, although it was subsequently ascertained that the tract contained more. Williams v. Bradley, 7 Heisk. (Tenn.) 54.

Contemporaneous interpretation of statute. — The estate sold is to be determined by the interpretation given to the statute creating it at the time of the sale and not by a different interpretation thereafter given it by the courts. Myers v. Boyd, 144 Ind. 496, 43 N. E. 567.

The deed is to be construed in connection with the will, the decree, and the report of sale. Francisco v. Billingsley, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1898) 48 S. W. 323. And see Poutalba v. Copland, 3 La. Ann. 86.

Conclusiveness of terms of deed or decree. — The terms of the deed, it seems, are not even at law always conclusive as to what was sold. Thus, where all of a certain tract of land which the decedent owned at his death was ordered sold and was sold and the description in the deed by courses and distances did not include all, the purchasers nevertheless took the entire tract sold. McGhee v. Hoyt, 106 Pa. St. 516. And in Tennessee where the court by decree may vest title in the purchaser, the confirmation of a report passes title to the entire property sold, although the decree vesting title does so only as to part. Killough v. Warren, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1900) 58 S. W. 898; Williams v. Clark, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1899) 51 S. W. 130. See also Messick v. Mayer, 52 La. Ann. 1161, 27 So. 815. But where property was put up as of an unknown quantity and was afterward, and before adjudication, described as having a known quantity, the positive description in the deed will control. Macarty v. Foucher, 12 Mart. (La.) 114.

Idem sonans.— Where a land certificate issued to Willis A Forris and was sold as that of Willis A. Farris, which was the name of the decedent, the title passed, it being evident that the same person was intended. Lyne v. Sanford, 82 Tex. 58, 19 S. W. 847, 27 Am. St. Rep. 852.

Where two tracts are sold with overlapping descriptions, the purchaser first in point of time takes the portion sold twice. Cherry v. Stein, 11 Md. 1.

83. Maguire v. Baker, 57 Ga. 109 (the right to use a dam to its full capacity); Palmer v. Petty, 21 La. Ann. 176 (the right to occupy land for the purpose of finishing the tanning of hides thereon which were sold, together with bark and tools necessary for the process); Brakely v. Sharp, 10 N. J. Eq. 206 (the right to the unimpeded flow of an artificial watercourse extending through the land).

84. Peevy v. Hurt, 32 Tex. 146; Lubbock v. Binns, 20 Tex. Civ. App. 407, 50 S. W. 584; Moody v. Looscan, (Tex. Civ. App. 1898) 44 S. W. 621, all so holding with re-

b. Rule of Caveat Emptor[85]— (i) Rule Generally Applicable. The rule of caveat emptor applies to sales of decedent's property under order of court,[86] and the purchaser cannot complain because of defects in quantity,[87] quality,[88] or title.[89] gard to land certificates, located or patented after the order. See also Halbert v. De Bode, 15 Tex. Civ. App. 615, 40 S. W. 1011, holding that a conveyance by an administrator of a portion of the land in consideration of the location of the certificate passes the interest of the heirs.

85. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (xi), (b).

Sale of personalty under testamentary authority or common-law power see supra, VIII, P, 2, l.

86. Alabama.— Bolling v. Jones, 67 Ala. 508; Corbitt v. Dawkins, 54 Ala. 282; Watson v. Collins, 37 Ala. 587; Burns v. Hamilton, 33 Ala. 210, 70 Am. Dec. 570; Worthington v. McRoberts, 9 Ala. 297; Perkins v. Winter, 7 Ala. 855.

Arkansas.— Bennett v. Owen, 13 Ark. 177.

Georgia.— Keen v. McAfee, 116 Ga. 728, 42 S. E. 1022; Jones v. Warnock, 67 Ga. 484; Colbert v. Moore, 64 Ga. 502.

Illinois.— Robertson v. Wheeler, 162 Ill. 566, 44 N. E. 870; Tilley v. Bridges, 105 Ill. 336 [affirming 11 Ill. App. 353]; Bishop v. O'Conner, 69 Ill. 431; Fell v. Young, 63 Ill. 106; Donlin v. Hettinger, 57 Ill. 348; Walden v. Gridley, 36 Ill. 523; Bingham v. Maxcy, 15 Ill. 295.

Indiana.— Loudon v. Robertson, 5 Blackf. 276.

Kansas.— Headrick v. Yount, 22 Kan. 344.

Louisiana.— Pintard v. Deyris, 3 Mart. N. S. 32.

Massachusetts.— Tyndale v. Stanwood, 182 Mass. 534, 66 N. E. 23.

Mississippi.— Cogan v. Frisby, 36 Miss. 178; Cabaniss v. Clark, 31 Miss. 423.

Missouri.— Foley v. Boulware, 86 Mo. App. 674.

North Carolina.— Ellis v. Adderton, 88 N. C. 472; Parker v. Leathers, 55 N. C. 249.

Ohio.— Arnold v. Donaldson, 46 Ohio St. 73, 18 N. E. 540; Holloway v. Stuart, 19 Ohio St. 472.

Pennsylvania.— Bickley v. Biddle, 33 Pa. St. 276; Sackett v. Twining, 18 Pa. St. 199, 57 Am. Dec. 599; Vandever v. Baker, 13 Pa. St. 121; King v. Gunnison, 4 Pa. St. 171; Kennedy's Appeal, 4 Pa. St. 149; Fox v. Mensch, 3 Watts & S. 444; Bashore v. Whisler, 3 Watts 490.

Texas.— Ward v. Williams, 45 Tex. 617; Hawpe v. Smith, 25 Tex. Suppl. 448; Thompson v. Munger, 15 Tex. 523, 65 Am. Dec. 176; Williams v. McDonald, 13 Tex. 322; Edmondson v. Hart, 9 Tex. 554; Lynch v. Baxter, 4 Tex. 431, 51 Am. Dec. 735. See also Walton v. Reager, 20 Tex. 103.

Virginia.— Brock v. Philips, 2 Wash. 68.

Washington.—Towner v. Rodegeb, 33 Wash. 153, 74 Pac. 50, 99 Am. St. Rep. 936; Wallace v. Grant, 27 Wash. 130, 67 Pac. 578.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1577.

87. Perkins v. Winter, 7 Ala. 855; Sackett v. Twining, 18 Pa. St. 199, 57 Am. Dec. 599. See, however, Davenport v. Fortier, 3 Mart. N. S. (La.) 695, holding that a purchaser may claim a diminution in the price for deficiency in the quantity.

Mistake.— Where the executor and bidder both believed that a building was entirely on the lot sold, and it turned out to be in part on other land, the sale was rescinded as being based on a mutual mistake as to the condition of the property. McKay v. Coleman, 85 Mich. 60, 48 N. W. 203.

88. Bingham v. Maxcy, 15 Ill. 295; Parker v. Leathers, 55 N. C. 249; Edmondson v. Hart, 9 Tex. 554.

89. Alabama.— Bolling v. Jones, 67 Ala. 508; Corbitt v. Dawkins, 54 Ala. 282.

Arkansas.— Bennett v. Owen, 13 Ark. 177.

Georgia.— Keen v. McAfee, 116 Ga. 728, 42 S. E. 1022; Jones v. Warnock, 67 Ga. 484; Colbert v. Moore, 64 Ga. 502.

Illinois.— Shup v. Calvert, 174 Ill. 500, 51 N. E. 828; Tilley v. Bridges, 105 Ill. 336 [affirming 11 Ill. App. 353]; Walden v. Gridley, 36 Ill. 523.

Indiana.— Loudon v. Robertson, 5 Blackf. 276.

Kansas.— Headrick v. Yount, 22 Kan. 344.

Mississippi.— Cummings v. Johnson, 65 Miss. 342, 4 So. 541; Cogan v. Frisby, 36 Miss. 178; Cabaniss v. Clark, 31 Miss. 423; Joslin v. Caughlin, 26 Miss. 134.

North Carolina.— It has been held that where a purchaser had notice of defects in the title to the land sold, he bought at his own risk. Ellis v. Addleton, 88 N. C. 472. But on the other hand it has been held that the purchaser will not be compelled to pay his money and take a title substantially defective unless the sale was made of an estate or interest short of the entire title, and so mentioned in the decree or clearly to be implied from the nature of the sale. Edney v. Edney, 80 N. C. 81. A distinction has been made that where a particular piece of land is sold under an order of court a good title is deemed to be offered and a purchaser will not be compelled to complete his purchase by the payment of the price if it appears that a good title cannot be made; but it is otherwise where the sale is ordered merely of the estate of a person named in the land. Shields v. Allen, 77 N. C. 375.

Ohio.— Arnold v. Donaldson, 46 Ohio St. 73, 18 N. E. 540.

Pennsylvania.— Bickley v. Biddle, 33 Pa. St. 276; King v. Gunnison, 4 Pa. St. 171; Fox v. Mensch, 3 Watts & S. 444; Bashore v. Whisler, 3 Watts 490. But the doctrine has not been very consistently applied. Thus the purchaser has been relieved from his bid on discovery of a defect in title before confirmation (King's Estate, 2 Lehigh Val. L.

(II) No Warranty as Against Estate. No warranty is implied either of title or quality,[90] and it is generally held that the representative is without authority to make an express warranty which will bind the estate.[91]

(III) Representative Bound Personally If He Warrants.[92] A covenant actually made by the representative will bind him personally,[93] but no per-

Rep. 229) and the sale has been set aside for such defect (Tubbs' Estate, 4 Pa. Dist. 325, 7 Kulp 483; Walker's Estate, 1 Del. Co. 384). In one case the sale was set aside on the ground that the petition stated seizin in fee, when the decedent in fact only owned an undivided half. Lerch's Estate, 2 Lehigh Val. L. Rep. 348. And it is said that the purchaser will take the property free from all defects not known to him and which do not appear on the face of the land records. Banks v. Ammon, 27 Pa. St. 172.

Texas.— Ward v. Williams, 45 Tex. 617; Hawpe v. Smith, 25 Tex. Suppl. 448; Thompson v. Munger, 15 Tex. 523, 65 Am. Dec. 176; Lynch v. Baxter, 4 Tex. 431, 51 Am. Dec. 735.

Virginia.— Brock v. Philips, 2 Wash. 68.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1577.

Contra.— There are cases holding that the purchaser cannot be compelled to accept a defective title. Nash's Succession, 48 La. Ann. 1573, 21 So. 254; White's Succession, 9 La. Ann. 232; Monaghan v. Small, 6 S. C. 177.

Recovering back price.— A purchaser evicted under a superior title cannot maintain assumpsit for the purchase-money; his only resort is to such covenants as may be in his deed. Joyce v. Ryan, 4 Me. 101.

Reimbursement from estate.— One who buys land subject to a lien under which it is afterward sold has no right to receive from the proceeds what he had paid the administrator. Delassus v. Poston, 21 Mo. 543.

The purchaser cannot complain in a collateral proceeding that he did not acquire the entire interest of decedent. Watson v. Collins, 37 Ala. 587; Worthington v. McRoberts, 9 Ala. 297; Arnold v. Donaldson, 46 Ohio St. 73, 18 N. E. 540; Brock v. Philips, 2 Wash. (Va.) 68.

Where the purchase was induced by misrepresentations and unauthorized promises concerning the title the sale will be set aside on application made before confirmation. De Haven's Appeal, 106 Pa. St. 612, 2 Del. Co. (Pa.) 209.

90. Halleck v. Guy, 9 Cal. 181, 70 Am. Dec. 643; Ware v. Houghton, 41 Miss. 370, 93 Am. Dec. 258; Joslin v. Caughlin, 26 Miss. 134; Prescott v. Holmes, 7 Rich. Eq. (S. C.) 9; Williams v. McDonald, 13 Tex. 322. Contra, in Louisiana, where the sale imports full legal warranty. Gautreaux v. Boote, 10 La. Ann. 137.

There may be an implied warranty of title but none of quality. George v. Bean, 30 Miss. 147.

No implied warranty of genuineness of securities sold.— Oldfield v. Vassar College, 68 N. Y. App. Div. 272, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 1112.

Representations made at the sale by an administrator may constitute a fraud on the purchaser but not a warranty. Mellen v. Boarman, 13 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 100.

91. Alabama.— Pryor v. Davis, 109 Ala. 117, 19 So. 440.

Georgia.— Colbert v. Moore, 64 Ga. 502.

Illinois.— Tilley v. Bridges, 105 Ill. 336 [affirming 11 Ill. App. 353]; McManus v. Keith, 49 Ill. 388; Sexton v. Sikking, 90 Ill. App. 667.

Massachusetts.— Sumner v. Williams, 8 Mass. 162, 5 Am. Dec. 83.

Mississippi.— Mellen v. Boarman, 13 Sm. & M. 100.

Ohio.— Arnold v. Donaldson, 46 Ohio St. 73, 18 N. E. 540; Lockwood v. Gilson, 12 Ohio St. 526.

Texas.— Lynch v. Baxter, 4 Tex. 431, 51 Am. Dec. 735; Dallas County v. Club Land, etc., Co., 95 Tex. 200, 66 S. W. 294 [modifying 26 Tex. Civ. App. 449, 64 S. W. 872].

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1577; and infra, XII, U, 5.

Contra, as to quality of personal property. Craddock v. Stewart, 6 Ala. 77; O'Neall v. Abney, 2 Bailey (S. C.) 317. And see Magoffin v. Stringer, 13 La. 370.

The administrator cannot bind the estate by an agreement to hold the purchaser liable only for what he should realize on a resale. Fahrig v. Schimpff, 199 Pa. St. 423, 49 Atl. 237, 85 Am. St. Rep. 796.

92. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (XIV).

Sale of personalty under testamentary authority or common-law power see supra, VIII, P, 2, l.

93. Vincent v. Morrison, 1 Ill. 227; Kauffelt v. Leber, 9 Watts & S. (Pa.) 93. See also Lockwood v. Gilson, 12 Ohio St. 526. In Georgia an administrator has been held personally liable on a warranty that property was sound, so far as the office of administrator authorized him to warrant. Aven v. Beckom, 11 Ga. 1. But in Ohio an executor has been held not bound in any way by a covenant to warrant "as executors are bound by law to do" because they were not bound by law to do so at all. Day v. Brown, 2 Ohio 345. See infra, XII, U, 5.

Covenant as representative.— A covenant made expressly by the grantor in his capacity as administrator has been held to bind him personally. Sumner v. Williams, 8 Mass. 162, 5 Am. Dec. 83. But where the administrator recited that he did not bind himself personally but made covenants in his representative capacity, he was held not bound in either. Dallas County v. Club Land, etc., Co., 95 Tex. 200, 66 S. W. 294 [modifying 26 Tex. Civ. App. 449, 64 S. W. 872].

An administrator de bonis non cannot be charged on a warranty made by the first administrator. O'Neall v. Abney, 2 Bailey (S. C.) 317.

sonal covenant of any nature whatsoever on the part of the executor or administrator will be implied.[94]

c. Protection of Bona Fide Purchasers[95]—(i) Against Fraud Upon Purchaser. The rule that fraud vitiates everything generally prevails as against the rule of caveat emptor to the extent that a sale induced by the fraudulent misrepresentations of the administrator will be set aside,[96] but it is well settled that such misrepresentations do not render the estate liable in damages, but only the administrator individually,[97] and it is generally held that they cannot be urged as a defense in an action for the price.[98] The mere silence of the administrator as to a known defect of title is not a fraud which will vitiate the sale,[99] nor is the expression of an opinion as to the effect of facts known to the purchaser.[1] A sale will bind the purchaser notwithstanding it was induced by the fraud of a legatee or distributee, the purchaser's remedy being personal against the person guilty of the fraud;[2] and the same is true where misrepresentations are made by a third person without collusion of the administrator.[3]

(ii) Against Fraud Upon Others. Although a sale be fraudulent as against the heirs or others interested in the property, the title of a purchaser in good faith and without notice of the fraud will not be affected;[4] nor will that of a subsequent purchaser in good faith from the vendee, although the latter may have been a party to the fraud.[5] A subsequent purchaser with notice will take

A covenant in a deed by an administratrix, who is also the widow, against her own acts, refers to her acts in her representative capacity and does not estop her from claiming dower. Wright v. De Groff, 14 Mich. 164.

94. Mockbee v. Gardiner, 2 Harr. & G. (Md.) 176; Mathews v. Allen, 6 Tex. 330. Thus the usual implications in the words "grant, bargain, and sell" do not apply to an administrator's deed. Shontz v. Brown, 27 Pa. St. 123.

95. Sale of realty under testamentary authority see supra, VIII, O, 9, d, (xi), (c).

Sale of personalty under testamentary authority or common-law power see supra, VIII, P, 2, l.

96. Mellen v. Boarman, 13 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 100; Coombs v. Lane, 17 Tex. 280; Able v. Chandler, 12 Tex. 88, 62 Am. Dec. 518; Crayton v. Munger, 9 Tex. 285. Contra, Fore v. McKenzie, 58 Ala. 115, holding that a purchaser has no right to rely on the administrator's representations as to title.

Statements of the administrator and his attorney misleading the purchaser may be a ground of relief. De Haven's Appeal, 106 Pa. St. 612, 2 Del. Co. Rep. 209.

A misrepresentation as to the value of woodland, made to one who had not seen the property is a defense to an action for not making good the bid. Stewart v. Dougherty, 1 Pittsb. (Pa.) 233.

A sale will be set aside before confirmation, but not after, where the administrator stated that decedent owned the whole tract when he only owned one half. Porter's Estate, 3 Luz. Leg. Reg. (Pa.) 47.

A misrepresentation made after the sale and at the time of the delivery of the deed will not avoid the sale. Kirkland v. Wade, 61 Ga. 478.

A statement made in good faith by the executor as to the title is no ground for relief. Wells v. Harper, 81 Ga. 194, 6 S. E. 913, 12 Am. St. Rep. 310.

97. Indiana.—West v. Wright, 98 Ind. 335.

Minnesota.— Fritz v. McGill, 31 Minn. 536, 18 N. W. 753.

Missouri.— Richardson v. Palmer, 24 Mo. App. 480.

Ohio.— Dunlap v. Robinson, 12 Ohio St. 530.

Texas.— Able v. Chandler, 12 Tex. 88, 62 Am. Dec. 518.

98. Brown v. Evans, 15 Kan. 88; Westfall v. Dungan, 14 Ohio St. 276; Vandever v. Baker, 13 Pa. St. 121. Contra, Atwood v. Wright, 29 Ala. 346; Rice v. Richardson, 3 Ala. 428; Rice v. Burnet, 39 Tex. 177.

99. Hutchins v. Brooks, 31 Miss. 430; Ward v. Williams, 45 Tex. 617; Thompson v. Munger, 15 Tex. 523, 65 Am. Dec. 176.

1. Walton v. Reager, 20 Tex. 103.

2. Robinson v. Bright, 3 Metc. (Ky.) 30; Williams v. McCormack, 7 Humphr. (Tenn.) 308.

3. Pool v. Hodnett, 18 Ala. 752, statement made by the holder of a superior title.

Declarations of the crier, misleading the purchaser, may be a ground of relief. Atwood v. Wright, 29 Ala. 346; Vandever v. Baker, 13 Pa. St. 121.

4. Adams v. Thomas, 44 Ark. 267; Pipkin v. Casey, 13 Mo. 347; McCown v. Foster, 33 Tex. 241; Dexter v. Harris, 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,862, 2 Mason 531.

5. Indiana.— Hawkins v. Ragan, 20 Ind. 193.

Iowa.— Read v. Howe, 39 Iowa 553.

Louisiana.— Morrill v. Carr, 2 La. Ann. 807.

Massachusetts.— Robbins v. Bates, 4 Cush. 104; Blood v. Hayman, 13 Metc. 231.

Michigan.— King v. Nunn, 99 Mich. 590, 58 N. W. 636.

North Carolina.— Morrow v. Cole, 132 N. C. 678, 44 S. E. 370; Fowler v. Poor, 93 N. C. 466.

a good title if the original purchaser was without notice.[6] Even if the sale is set aside the rights of a bona fide purchaser will be protected.[7]

(III) AGAINST DEFECTIVE PROCEEDINGS. A purchaser will be protected against a divestiture of his title by reason of a defect in the proceedings under which he buys, provided the court had jurisdiction,[8] and the order or decree in terms authorized the sale.[9] Neither will a bona fide purchaser's title be defeated by a subsequent reversal of the order or decree of sale.[10] He is not bound to go behind the order to ascertain if it was regularly granted,[11] or to investigate as to whether the directions of the law as to the manner of the sale were in all respects complied with.[12] So also a sale by an executor acting under a will duly

Texas.— Halbert v. Young, (Sup. 1887) 6 S. W. 747; Martin v. Robinson, 67 Tex. 368, 3 S. W. 550.

A mortgagee of the purchaser is not charged with notice of the fraud, although the fraud is disclosed on the face of the proceedings leading to the sale. Lawson v. Acton, 57 N. J. Eq. 107, 40 Atl. 584. See Van Horn v. Ford, 16 Iowa 578, where a demurrer presenting a similar question was overruled reserving the question for determination on final hearing.

One who purchases at an execution sale on a judgment against the vendee at the administrator's sale is not a bona fide purchaser without notice. See Worthy v. Johnson, 8 Ga. 236, 52 Am. Dec. 399.

A conveyance to the executor by the purchaser is not alone notice that the executor was interested at the time of the sale. Otis v. Kennedy, 107 Mich. 312, 65 N. W. 219. But see Veeder v. McKinley-Lanning Loan, etc., Co., 61 Nebr. 892, 86 N. W. 982, where there were other circumstances tending to impart notice.

A purchaser from the vendee is chargeable with notice where he knew that the sale was to satisfy a personal debt of the administratrix to the purchaser. Tillman v. Thomas, 87 Ala. 321, 6 So. 151, 13 Am. St. Rep. 42.

Erroneous issue.— It was error to submit to the jury an issue as to whether the purchaser took title "with knowledge of the rights of the plaintiff in said land," because that might mean merely knowledge of his past interest and not knowledge of the fraud. Morrow v. Cole, 132 N. C. 678, 44 S. E. 370.

6. Perry v. Peterson, 98 N. C. 63, 3 S. E. 834; Pullian v. Byrd, 2 Strobh. Eq. (S. C.) 134.

7. Wylie's Estate, 7 Pa. Dist. 748, where a sale subject to a mortgage was set aside because improvidently made, and the court ordered a resale without prejudice to the right of the purchaser to subrogation to the rights of the mortgagee in so far as he had made payments on the mortgage.

8. Chancey v. Henry, 89 Ga. 123, 14 S. E. 885; Bowen v. Bond, 80 Ill. 351; Ackerson v. Orchard, 7 Wash. 377, 34 Pac. 1106, 35 Pac. 605.

Erroneous exercise of jurisdiction.— As a court of chancery has power under some circumstances to authorize the sale of a decedent's land, a purchaser at a sale under its decree will take title, although it should not have assumed jurisdiction to order the sale in the particular case. Shoemate v. Lockridge, 53 Ill. 503.

9. Irwin v. Flynn, 110 La. 829, 34 So. 794; Belard v. Gebelin, 47 La. Ann. 162, 16 So. 739; Linman v. Riggins, 40 La. Ann. 761, 5 So. 49, 8 Am. St. Rep. 549; Webb v. Keller, 39 La. Ann. 55, 1 So. 423; Macias' Succession, 36 La. Ann. 444; Duckworth v. Vaughan, 27 La. Ann. 599; Green v. Shreveport Baptist Church, 27 La. Ann. 563; Mitchell v. Lee. 23 La. Ann. 630; Woods v. Lee, 21 La. Ann. 505; Sizemore v. Wedge, 20 La. Ann. 124; Wright v. Cummings, 19 La. Ann. 353; Beale v. Walden, 11 Rob. (La.) 67; Valderes v. Bird, 10 Rob. (La.) 396; Rhodes v. Union Bank, 7 Rob. (La.) 63; Ball v. Ball, 15 La. 173; Graham v. Gibson, 14 La. 146; Lalanne v. Moreau, 13 La. 431; Poultney v. Cecil, 8 La. 321; Pintard v. Deyris, 3 Mart. N. S. (La.) 32; Fowler v. Poor, 93 N. C. 466; Rindge v. Oliphint, 62 Tex. 682; Alexander v. Maverick, 18 Tex. 179; Dancy v. Stricklinge, 15 Tex. 557, 65 Am. Dec. 179; Bartlett v. Cocke, 15 Tex. 471; Poor v. Boyce, 12 Tex. 440; Thompson v. Tolmie, 2 Pet. (U. S.) 157, 7 L. ed. 381 [reversing 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,080, 3 Cranch C. C. 123].

10. Goudy v. Hall, 36 Ill. 313, 87 Am. Dec. 217; Irwin v. Jeffers, 3 Ohio St. 389; Davis v. Gaines, 104 U. S. 386, 26 L. ed. 757. See also Holly v. Gibbons, 177 N. Y. 401, 69 N. E. 731 [amending remittitur in 176 N. Y. 520, 68 N. E. 889, 98 Am. St. Rep. 694], construing N. Y. Code Civ. Proc. § 1323, by which it is expressly provided that, when a final judgment or order is reversed upon appeal, restitution cannot be compelled "so as to affect the title of a purchaser in good faith for value." But compare Wheeler v. Wheeler, 1 Conn. 51.

11. Stow v. Kimball, 28 Ill. 93; McCormack v. Kimmel, 4 Ill. App. 121; Griffin v. Johnson, 37 Mich. 87; Sheldon v. Newton, 3 Ohio St. 494; Florentine v. Bartmon, 2 Wall. (U. S.) 210, 17 L. ed. 783; Grignon v. Astor, 2 How. (U. S.) 219. But see Piatt v. McCullough, 19 Fed. Cas. No. 11,113, 1 McLean 69.

The only inquiry a purchaser is bound to make as to the authority of an executor or administrator to sell is as to the orders of the court and the statutes of the state. Hamilton v. Pleasants, 31 Tex. 638, 98 Am. Dec. 551.

12. Gress Lumber Co. v. Leitner, 91 Ga. 810, 18 S. E. 62; Patterson v. Lemon, 50 Ga. 231; Goodbody v. Goodbody, 95 Ill. 456; Pleasants v. Dunkin, 47 Tex. 343.

probated passes title to a bona fide purchaser, although the will is subsequently set aside,[13] and a purchaser from the purchaser at the sale takes good title, although the administration is afterward revoked.[14]

(iv) Against Defects in Decedent's Title. The purchaser does not act entirely at his peril even as regards the title of decedent. Acting upon the doctrine that the rule of caveat emptor charges a purchaser only with those things which he might discover with reasonable diligence,[15] it is held that he will take the property free from latent equities and secret trusts.[16] It has also been held that purchasers at administration sales are within the protection of the recording acts as against unrecorded deeds.[17]

d. Curative Statutes. Statutes very generally exist for the protection of the title of purchasers in good faith against defects in the proceedings. These generally cure merely those defects which do not concern jurisdictional steps,[18] and it is usually held that they cannot constitutionally operate to give effect to a sale void for want of jurisdiction.[19] But in this respect the rule must be borne in mind

Duty to search record.— There are a few cases holding that purchasers are chargeable with notice of defects in the proceedings which appear in any part of the record of the proceedings in which the sale is had. Fisher v. Bush, 133 Ind. 315, 32 N. E. 924 (holding that an identity of name between the administrator's attorney appearing of record and the purchaser at the sale was sufficient to put subsequent purchasers on inquiry as to whether the attorney was the purchaser); McNally v. Haynes, 59 Tex. 583 (holding that the purchaser is chargeable with notice from the record of the proceedings ordering the sale but not from the general administration record); Perry v. Peterson, 98 N. C. 63, 3 S. E. 834.

Notice from deed.— A recital in a deed dated December 3 that leave to sell was granted in November is notice that there was not the required forty days' advertisement of the sale. Groover v. King, 46 Ga. 101.

The purchaser is bound to know the law, and he takes no title to personalty sold at private sale without an order which the law requires to authorize such sale. Weyer v. Franklin Second Nat. Bank, 57 Ind. 198.

13. Mathis v. Gerantz, 11 La. Ann. 3; Davis v. Gaines, 104 U. S. 386, 26 L. ed. 757, discovery and probate of later will. See also Lehmann's Succession, 41 La. Ann. 987, 7 So. 33.

A purchaser in bad faith is not protected. Mathis v. Gerantz, 11 La. Ann. 3.

14. Halbert v. Young, (Tex. Sup. 1887) 6 S. W. 747.

15. Love v. Berry, 22 Tex. 371; Cheveral v. Bowman, 2 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 114.

16. Blankenship v. Whaley, 124 Cal. 300, 57 Pac. 79; Rupp's Appeal, 100 Pa. St. 531; Lumpkin v. Adams, 74 Tex. 96, 11 S. W. 1070; Keen v. Case, 22 Tex. 412; Love v. Berry, 22 Tex. 371; Dalton v. Rust, 22 Tex. 133; Cheveral v. Bowman, 2 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 114. See Prescott v. Hawkins, 16 N. H. 122, where this was questioned without decision. And see Lahey v. Broderick, 72 N. H. 180, 55 Atl. 354.

17. Barto v. Tompkins County Nat. Bank, 15 Hun (N. Y.) 11; Taylor v. Harrison, 47 Tex. 454, 26 Am. Rep. 304. And see Deeds; Vendor and Purchaser.

Purchaser takes free from defects not apparent on face of land records. Banks v. Ammon, 27 Pa. St. 172.

Bona fide purchasers.— One who takes under an administrator's deed "all the right, title and interest" of the estate is a bona fide purchaser within the meaning of the recording acts. White v. Dupree, 91 Tex. 66, 40 S. W. 962 [reversing (Civ. App. 1897) 39 S. W. 988].

Where the purchaser was the clerk of the court in which proceedings were pending to determine an adverse claim to the land he was charged with notice of such claim. Dickerson v. Campbell, 32 Mo. 544.

18. Alabama.— Brown v. Williams, 87 Ala. 353, 6 So. 111.

Indiana.— Lucas v. Tucker, 17 Ind. 41.

Kansas.— Rogers v. Clemmens, 26 Kan. 522.

Louisiana.— Morton v. Reynolds, 4 Rob. 26.

New York.— Wilson v. White, 109 N. Y. 59, 15 N. E. 749, 4 Am. St. Rep. 420; Stilwell v. Swarthout, 81 N. Y. 109.

North Carolina.— Perry v. Adams, 98 N. C. 167, 3 S. E. 729, 2 Am. St. Rep. 326 note; Gulley v. Macy, 86 N. C. 721.

United States.— Seaverns v. Gerke, 21 Fed. Cas. No. 12,595, 3 Sawy. 353.

See 22 Cent. Dig. tit. "Executors and Administrators," § 1544.

19. Robertson v. Bradford, 70 Ala. 385. But see Wilkinson v. Leland, 2 Pet. (U. S.) 627, 7 L. ed. 542, where the court sustained the power of the legislature of Rhode Island by special act to validate a sale made of land in Rhode Island under an order of a probate court in New Hampshire.

If the proceedings are regular on their face the title will be protected, although they were conducted and the sale made by one having no authority from the executors. Allen v. Cutliff, 23 La. Ann. 614.

An act curing defects in proceedings against infants, idiots, and lunatics will not be construed as giving effect as against such persons to proceedings which would be void against a defendant sui juris. Gulley v. Macy, 86 N. C. 721.

that the proceeding is generally held to be one in rem, and that the authority of the legislature is very broad in declaring what shall be necessary to invoke the power of the court; therefore it is said that whatever the legislature need not in the first instance have required it may waive by a curative act.[20] Within these limits statutes may be made retroactive, so as to perfect titles under sales made before their passage.[21]

4. WHEN TITLE PASSES — a. In General. For some purposes the title is held to pass at the time of the sale,[22] or on compliance by the purchaser with the terms of the sale;[23] but generally title does not vest until confirmation,[24] although in some jurisdictions it then relates back to the date of sale.[25] The title cannot relate back so as to charge the purchaser with taxes accruing between decedent's death and the sale.[26]

b. As to Rents and Profits. The purchaser is generally entitled to the rents and profits from the time of confirmation and not from the time of sale.[27] It is 20. Mitchell v. Campbell, 19 Oreg. 198, 24 Pac. 455; Ackerson v. Orchard, 7 Wash. 377, 34 Pac. 1106, 35 Pac. 605; Reynolds v. Schmidt, 20 Wis. 374. Thus a statute is valid which protects sales where the proceeding was begun before the clerk as judge of probate instead of in the superior court. Ward v. Lowndes, 96 N. C. 367, 2 S. E. 591; Herring v. Outlaw, 70 N. C. 334; Bell v. King, 70 N. C. 330.

21. Brown v. Williams, 87 Ala. 353, 6 So. 111; Mitchell v. Campbell, 19 Oreg. 198, 24 Pac. 455. See also Kiskaddon v. Dodds, 21 Pa. Super. Ct. 351, holding that a statute passed to validate private sales of real estate which were invalid under a former statute cures a defect in the title of the purchaser, although suit was begun by a person claiming an interest in the real estate before the validating act was passed.

Sales not within curative act.— An act curing defects in sales will not be construed as applying to estates which never fell within the operation of the probate acts of the state, the estate having been administered under another system of law. Coppenger v. Rice, 33 Cal. 408.

22. Holmes' Appeal, 108 Pa. St. 23 (holding that judgments entered against the purchaser after the sale but before confirmation are liens on his interest); Polk v. Pledge, 5 Coldw. (Tenn.) 384 (where a purchaser of slaves was held liable, although slavery was abolished between the time of the sale and of the confirmation thereof); Edwards v. Gill, 5 Tex. Civ. App. 203, 23 S. W. 742 (holding that where a land certificate was sold before location, a confirmation after location and patent carried the title to the land, as title to the certificate passed upon the sale).

23. Citizens' St. R. Co. v. Robbins, 128 Ind. 449, 26 N. E. 116, 25 Am. St. Rep. 445, 12 L. R. A. 498, where the law requires no confirmation.

A purchaser entering before paying the price, without permission of the executor, is an intruder. Bagley v. Stephens, 78 Ga. 304, 2 S. E. 545.

A mortgage made after the sale was confirmed, but before the purchase-money was paid, was held valid where the purchaser allowed a third person thereafter to pay the purchase-money and take the deed. Harris v. Bryant, 83 N. C. 568. See also Gaiennie v. Gaiennie, 24 La. Ann. 79.

24. Arkansas.— Halliburton v. Sumner, 27 Ark. 460.

California.— Horton v. Jack, 115 Cal. 29, 46 Pac. 920.

Illinois.— Foote v. Overman, 22 Ill. App. 181.

Indiana.— Bellows v. McGinnis, 17 Ind. 64.

Kentucky.— Ball v. Covington First Nat. Bank, 80 Ky. 501; Norris v. Williams, 65 S. W. 439, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 1497.

Pennsylvania.— Law's Estate, 7 Pa. Co. Ct. 605.

Tennessee.— Pearson v. Gillenwaters, 99 Tenn. 446, 42 S. W. 9, 63 Am. St. Rep. 844; Hyder v. O'Brien, (Ch. App. 1898) 48 S. W. 262.

In Alabama title does not vest until the purchase-money has been paid and a conveyance has been executed under a decree directing it. Dugger v. Tayloe, 60 Ala. 504; Doe v. Hardy, 52 Ala. 291.

25. Halliburton v. Sumner, 27 Ark. 460 (holding that a lease made by the administrator after a sale was divested by the confirmation); Bellows v. McGinnis, 17 Ind. 64 (holding that after confirmation the purchaser might recover for a trespass committed between sale and confirmation).

26. Le Moyne v. Harding, 132 Ill. 23, 23 N. E. 414 [affirming 31 Ill. App. 624].

27. Foote v. Overman, 22 Ill. App. 181; Ball v. Covington First Nat. Bank, 80 Ky. 501; Norris v. Williams, 65 S. W. 439, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 1497; Page v. Culver, 55 Mo. App. 606; Pearson v. Gillenwaters, 99 Tenn. 446, 42 S. W. 9, 63 Am. St. Rep. 844.

In Delaware a purchaser is not liable for rents and profits between sale and confirmation. Caulk v. Caulk, 3 Houst. (Del.) 81.

A purchaser is not entitled to rents pending an appeal from an order of confirmation, as his right accrues only on final confirmation. Pearson v. Gillenwaters, 99 Tenn. 446, 42 S. W. 9, 63 Am. St. Rep. 844.

Widow and heirs entitled to rents until delivery of deed. Law's Estate, 7 Pa. Co. Ct. 605; Engle v. Conrad, 12 Montg. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 76.

sometimes held that the purchaser takes all payments falling due after confirmation,[28] and sometimes that there should be an apportionment between the heirs and purchaser of rent inuring before and after confirmation.[29]

5. Proceedings to Perfect Rights of Purchaser — a. To Obtain Deed. The probate court has sometimes power to compel the administrator to make a proper conveyance to the purchaser,[30] and where this power exists equity cannot interfere except when, because of accident, mistake, or similar cause, there can be no relief in the probate court.[31] Elsewhere it seems that the remedy is a suit for specific performance of the contract,[32] but a defective sale cannot be helped out through the medium of a suit in equity to compel performance.[33]

b. To Obtain Possession. Where the sale was made in pursuance of a decree in equity the court will by writ of assistance place the purchaser in possession, if possession is withheld by parties to the suit,[34] but not where the land is held adversely to the title of the heirs or devisees.[35] One not a party may be dispossessed through a rule against him to show cause.[36] The purchaser may also maintain ejectment.[37]

U. Conveyance[38] — 1. Necessity. It is usual for statutes as to administration sales of the realty of decedents to provide for the execution of conveyance to the purchasers, when certain conditions have been complied with,[39] and in some Purchaser not entitled to rents and profits until payment of price.— Lapene v. Badeaux, 36 La. Ann. 194.

Purchaser entitled to crops growing at time of sale.—Jewett v. Keenholts, 16 Barb. (N. Y.) 193. Contra, Barrett v. Choen, 119 Ind. 56, 20 N. E. 145, 21 N. E. 322, 12 Am. St. Rep. 363.

Rents and profits to accrue will not pass unless expressly ordered sold. Guyer v. Maynard, 6 Gill & J. (Md.) 420.

An express reservation from the sale of rents or crops to mature is enforced in some jurisdictions. Broadwell v. Sammons, 69 S. W. 1084, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 814; Backenstoss v. Stahler, 33 Pa. St. 251, 75 Am. Dec. 592; Marys v. Anderson, 24 Pa. St. 272.

28. Foote v. Overman, 22 Ill. App. 181; Page v. Culver, 55 Mo. App. 606.

29. Norris v. Williams, 65 S. W. 439, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 1497.

30. In re Lewis, 39 Cal. 306; Long v. Jarratt, 94 N. C. 443; Mason v. Osgood, 64 N. C. 467. Contra, Wolf v. Lynch, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 610.

31. Garrett v. Lynch, 45 Ala. 204 (holding that equity would direct a conveyance where the records of the probate court had been lost and could not be replaced); Lamkin v. Reese, 7 Ala. 170 (holding that equity will not interfere unless those having power to rectify the mistake refuse to do so); Piatt v. McCullough, 19 Fed. Cas. No. 11,113, 1 McLean 69 (holding that equity will aid where, because of accident or mistake, the executor's deed has failed to convey a good legal title).

32. Sebastian v. Johnson, 72 Ill. 282, 22 Am. Rep. 144; Pittenger v. Pittenger, 3 N. J. Eq. 156; Wolfe v. Lynch, 2 Dem. Surr. (N. Y.) 610.

Heirs canot be compelled to convey by such a suit. Speck v. Wohlien, 22 Mo. 310.

33. Sebastian v. Johnson, 72 Ill. 282, 22 Am. Rep. 144; Young v. Rathbone, 16 N. J. Eq. 224, 84 Am. Dec. 151 (holding that an irregular sale will not be enforced while it is still open to review by appeal, although the judgment, if unappealed from, would be conclusive); Matter of Hemiup, 2 Paige (N. Y.) 316 (holding that where a statute provides for the rectifying of certain irregularities, no power exists except with regard to those specified); Bright v. Boyd, 4 Fed. Cas. No. 1,875, 1 Story 478.

34. Nutwell v. Nutwell, 47 Md. 35; Jones v. Hooper, 50 Miss. 510. And see, generally, Assistance, Writ of, 4 Cyc. 289 et seq.

35. Harding v. Le Moyne, 114 Ill. 65, 29 N. E. 188 (holding that, although one claiming adversely and in possession was a party to the suit, he may not be dispossessed in that proceeding, because the court was there without jurisdiction to determine adverse claims); Marcom v. Wyatt, 117 N. C. 129, 23 S. E. 169.

Parties obtaining title subsequent to the decree may set it up in answer to the application. Nutwell v. Nutwell, 47 Md. 35.

36. Paxton v. Rucker, 15 W. Va. 547.

37. Knox v. Jenks, 7 Mass. 488; Willard v. Nason, 5 Mass. 240; Jackson v. Robinson, 4 Wend. (N. Y.) 436.

