PREFACE

The prevailing custom among the best hotels and restaurants of printing their menus in French has resulted in a continually increasing number of guests who demand of the waiter a description of a dish before ordering it. The waiter frequently guesses, often wide of the mark, and the result is a disappointed and dissatisfied guest, or the waiter bothers a too busy chef whose description is necessarily brief, hurried and incomplete. The latter way consumes a waiter's valuable time and tries the patience of a hungry and waiting diner.

My aim, therefore, in compiling this book has been to supply head waiters and waiters with immediate, accurate and sufficiently detailed information to enable them to quickly furnish a patron with a satisfactory description of any dish on the menu.

Chefs, managers, stewards, cooks, waiters, housewives, etc., furthermore will find the names or recipes of many dishes not to be found elsewhere, and the descriptions, though brief, are sufficient for any one for the variation of their menus.

Forty-five years of experience in the best and largest hotels and restaurants of Europe and America, as stated below, has enabled me to collect over 8,000 recipes as made by them. This "Encyclopedia" will facilitate the work between the dining-room and the kitchen, enable both to "pull together," expedite the service, and prove generally satisfactory.

That my colleagues and all interested will find therein a realization of my aims, is the sincere wish of

Yours fraternally,

J. GANCEL.

Present time, Chef at Family Club, San Francisco.
In presenting this culinary book to the public, I can conscientiously say that it is the most complete and up-to-date book ever prepared on the subject.

A large portion of this book has been translated from my French book.

I am not a literary man, but I know that even with the difficulty that exists in expressing in English many of the French terms, this book will be easily understood and greatly appreciated.

This is the first time in history that such a wonderful collection of recipes has been made obtainable for general use. A careful study of the recipes and careful application of the directions for same is all that is necessary to produce the results that have become famous.

One word about the transformation of the ancient to the modern cooking. The application of fire for cooking purposes dates from the time or between the time of the Anthropophagi and the Aryan race when men drank the blood of animals, ate the intestines and roasted the carcass. It is difficult to precise at just what epoch man used fire for cooking. It is historically known that civilization and culinary luxuries existed with the Greeks to a high degree of perfection and were greatly superior to our modern cooking; also the Greeks were advanced eighteen centuries before the Italians, Germans, Russians and Gauls in the art of cooking. The French are universally known as the best culinary artists. It is always with a dinner that we celebrate three phases in life, namely: birth, marriage and death.

Certain authors claim that the kitchen is a temple and the range an altar. Unfortunately, all kitchens are not temples, and in my long experience in hotels and restaurants I certainly have come across a great many obstacles.

A model kitchen is yet to be made. The architect or proprietor does not wish to consult with competent culinary people. Of course, I speak for certain houses.

When one sees the magnificent and gorgeous hotels and restaurants and then visits the kitchens, which are mostly situated in basements, obscure and badly ventilated, it must be realized how an hygienic installation is necessary.

There are a few modern hotels and restaurants who have commenced to reconstruct the kitchens, but it will take a long time to establish an hygienic one. An hygienic kitchen should conform to the necessities of the work.

When you see the cooks come out of the basement kitchens, pale and very often rheumatic, it is no wonder that they are so, considering that they have been shut up in such an atmosphere, forced to inhale the gas from the range and the fumes generating in the cooking utensils. Pressed by the headwaiter and others for two or three consecutive hours to "hurry up," these men return to their homes tired out. Give to these men sanitary, hygienic, well lighted and ventilated kitchens. Such would be an act of humanity as well as a public necessity.

The walls of the kitchens should be made of enameled bricks and the floors of concrete. The range, as much as possible in the center, surrounded by an iron grating, sprinkled with sawdust, a ventilator and aspiring apparatus to aspire the heat and steam that escapes. The tables and shelves should be made of steel, to facilitate their cleaning. All of the table service should be kept in the heating oven. All the cooking utensils should be in bi-metal, copper or aluminum. Enameled utensils should never be used, and should be strictly prohibited, as there is great danger of pieces of enamel breaking and mixing with the food, which causes appendicitis and other serious diseases.

HORS-D’OEUVRE
DIFFERENT VARIETIES OF RELISHES

Many relishes are served for Entrees
The ancient Greeks and Romans considered relishes a great delicacy, so it is nothing new in the modern cooking of today.

There are two different kinds of relishes, hot and cold, and should be served before the soup, principally the cold ones, as the hot relishes are sometimes served as small entrees.

But if the hot relishes are desired, one should be careful not to serve the same as any other dish already composing the menu.

There are a great many varieties of hot and cold relishes, and they should be made very fancy to excite the appetite.

Cold relishes such as oysters, caviar, olives, radishes, celery and sardines should be kept on ice or in a cool place and served only a few seconds before eating.

SANDWICHES AND CANAPÉS

The sandwich is composed of two thin slices of buttered bread, with a thinner slice of meat, fowl or any other cold meat between. Very fresh bread and butter should be used. If they are made some time before serving, they should be covered up with a slightly damp napkin, to keep from drying.

The canapé is a slice of bread cut square, oval or triangle, toasted or colored with butter. Stuffed or garnished in different styles, then trimmed and bordered according to intended use, just as artistic as possible, prepared and garnished with lemon and parsley, served on a napkin. Their names are optional.

FORCEMEATS (Farces)

For Timbales, Mousselines and Quenelles.

All forcemeats should be pounded and strained through a fine sieve or use special machine.

The seasoning and thickening per two pounds of forcemeat should be ¾ ounce of spiced salt and eggs as required, and flavored with Madera or brandy. Mount forcemeats on ice that they do not turn, always test before using.

A timbale or mousseline should be appropriately decorated, according to the article it contains. The moulds should be well buttered and cooled before filling them with forcemeat.

The Salpicon or other preparation should be well cooled and covered with forcemeat on top, use salpicon only for timbale.

A timbale or mousseline should be poached from ten to twelve minutes in a moderate oven. Allow to cool one minute, then unmould.
One general recipe for all forcemeat which can be used in confectioning all kinds of meat and fish. Meat with fat and nerves taken out 1 pound, sweetbutter ½ pound, 4 yokes of eggs, reduced sauce 1 ½ gills, salted and spiced. Add the yokes of the eggs and sweet butter by intervals. Season when finished.

Add a part of the sauce made of the article that you employ and test the force. Put in substance desired and then strain it in sieve. One can replace the sweet butter, by pure fresh cream if necessary. This farce can be used for fish, forcemeat borders, souffles and quenelles. if desired they can be made hard or soft in adding sauce, essence or eggs.

EGGS (Oeufs)

Eggs are an excellent aliment for children, also for sick and feeble people. They, however, must be absolutely fresh. They lose all of their nourishment if they are hard boiled.

Eggs swallowed raw, or eaten soft boiled are the best. Also scrambled, fried, poached and in very soft omelet. (Mollet boiled 5 minutes). Eggs most used for culinary purposes are those of the domestic chicken, duck and ostrich. The eggs of fish are extracted before the time of hatching.

The greatest delicacy in fish eggs are those of the sturgeon which are used for fresh and salted caviar. The eggs of shad and herring are eaten cooked. The eggs of reptiles are rarely used in alimentation, only turtle and terrapin, and they are eaten raw or cooked, soft boiled or in omelet highly spiced.

There are more than 500 ways of preparing eggs. Most of the preparations can be changed with the same garnishings as the cook desires, or to suit the person’s taste.

A chicken egg weighs two ounces. You can tell a fresh egg when it is full and transparent in the light. A simple way of knowing when an egg is fresh is to put it in a bowl of water and an 8th part of kitchen salt. If the egg goes to the bottom, it is fresh; if it stays in the middle of the water it is two or three days old; but if it floats it is five days old. Different styles of eggs bearing the same name are not repeated, but may be garnished the same, wether they be poached, scrambled or omelet.

For moulded eggs, the moulds should be well buttered, decorated, sprinkled and lined. When eggs are without croustade (crust), they may be served on canape, garnished according to the article. Sauces should all be thin.

Scrambled eggs are garnished with lozenges of fried bread or puff paste.

Time for cooking moulded eggs in hot water (bain marie) is ten to twelve minutes. Eggs for stuffing must be hard boiled, then cut in half oblong shape and stuffed. A whole egg can be emptied with a column and then stuffed according to the order of the person. This last method is the best for fried or breaded eggs or chaud-froid sauce and decorated.

SAUCES

There are three different kinds of sauces:
Espagnole, Velouté and Béchamel. Of these three principal sauces are derived many others, with exception of the Neutral ones, Neutral sauces meaning that they are not composed of juice meat or fish. The Espagnole sauce is brown and made of butter and flour, moistened with good meat juice (veal preferred) garnished with Mirepoix (see Mirepoix in list of sauces). Let cook from 4 to 5 hours, then strain in an earthen pot and stir until cold, by intervals, of course.

With this sauce Espagnole, one can make any other brown sauce, by adding wine and stock of articles and reduced to demi-glace.

The sauce Velouté is the sister of the sauce Espagnole, one being brown and the other white. From these two sauces are derived a multitude of others; without the Velouté, the sauce Allemande cannot be made, as it is the base of all white sauces. The Velouté sauce should be made with good stock, such as fowl, veal or giblets of fowl, of sufficient quantity and garnished with onions, carrots, celery, leeks, aromatics and a little salt. It must be cooked white in fresh butter and then moistened with the stock. Stir well, so that it will be smooth. It should be cooked from 1 to 2 hours, then take all of the grease off. Make the sauce Allemande in this manner: Separate the yolks of the eggs from the whites (6 eggs to one quart. Put the yolks in an earthen bowl, with a little mushroom juice, a little of the cold stock, the juice of a lemon. Whip the yolks well, put in little by little the Velouté. If hot, put on the fire and stir constantly so the yolks will cook without turning. Strain through a sieve or fine cloth. When this sauce is finished it should be white and of a delicate taste. For Blanquette, Poulette, Fricassé, proceed in the same way with the stock of your article, adding mushrooms, chives, fine herbs or tarragon.

The sauce Béchamel is the Velouté added with cream during the reduction.

The sauce Béchamel can be made with milk also in default of cream. Make a light brown flour with butter and add boiling cream or milk, whip well and season lightly. Cut in dice a carrot, an onion, a small piece of leek and the head of celery; fry all together in butter, put all of the garnishings in the sauce. Cook slowly one hour, stir, strain, then finish with a piece of sweet butter.

This sauce is used to thicken vegetables, cream soups, fish, eggs, all sauces having cream for their base, and all dishes not containing meat.

All sauces for fish, white or brown are made of Velouté, Espagnole or Allemande with the reduction of the stock in which they are cooked, and in the consistence of the sauce and in the seasoning.

The sauces for chaud-froid are made with madeira or allemande, reduced from rich stock, meat jelly, fowl, fish and a few pieces of gelatine may be added. Reduce, strain through a fine cloth and stir until cold; when it is congealed cover the articles one wishes chaud-froider w. sa.

Prohibition forbids the use of wines or liquors in cooking. Therefore it is very necessary to have all of the sauces distinctive and well seasoned.

Neutral Sauces

Sauces under this name are made without meat juice, fish or fowl, such as: Hollandaise, Béarnaise, Bread, Horseradish and Mayonnaise.

Cold Sauces

Nearly all of the Cold sauces have for their base mayonnaise, adding ingredients such as oil and vinegar. All Preserved sauces universally known will be found here.

JELLIES (Gelées)

In culinary preparations there are several different kinds of jellies. They are classed in different styles such as: jelly of vegetables, meats, sweet dishes (entre-mets) and fish.
The name of the jelly is determined by the pre-dominating element with which it is made. One can add to the jelly, calf's feet or gelatine well washed. Try the consistance on the ice before clarifying and seasoning.

If one has not had any experience in the making of these jellies it is best to consult this book. The fat should be skimmed off of the meat jellies before they are clarified to obtain a nice clear jelly.

CHICKEN JELLY. (VOLAILLE)

Cold water 10 quarts, two chickens cut in small pieces, 1 knuckle of veal without bones, 1 skin of beef without bones, old Madeira wine, 2 calf's feet cut in two. Put all in ingredients sauce pan, season with a little salt and vegetables. Let cook five hours, strain, skim the grease off, clarify with calf's liver and the white of two eggs. Strain through a fine cloth and let cool in cups or silver bowls.

JELLIES FOR INVALIDS. (GELÉES DE MALADES)

Cook 4 calf's feet in 4 quarts of water, until the meat is detached from the bones, strain the jelly and add 6 ounces of sugar, 1 ounce of salt, 1 leaf of mace, \(\frac{1}{4}\) ounce ginger and cinnamon, a piece of lemon peel and a little juice, clarify and add 2 whites of eggs; cook \(\frac{1}{2}\) hour, then put in cups.
FOR ALL JELLIES OF LIQUORS AND ESSENCES
(POUR TOUTES GELEES DE LIQUEURS ET ESSENCES)

Water 1½ quarts, 1½ ounce of white gelatine, 12 ounces of sugar, a pinch of salt, juice of a lemon. Melt the gelatine in a quart of water, add juice of lemon. When the sugar is melted in the ½ quart of water, beat the white of two eggs and mix in the jelly. Let boil while stirring continually.

Put on the side of the fire ½ hour, strain. Never put any essences, liquors, skin of oranges or lemon in jellies before they are clarified.

SEASONING AND CONDIMENTATION
(ASSAISONNEMENT ET CONDIMENTATION)

Seasoning is the principal thing in good cooking; and the most delicate dishes can be spoiled without it. The result of good seasoning is entirely in the combination of the condiments and strong spices, they should differ according to the style of the aliment.

MARINADE AND BRINE.
(MARINADES ET SAUMURES)

Brine is a liquid condiment which is used to soak meats in, to give it a taste of venaison or to preserve them.

RAW MARINADE. (MARINADE CRUE)

Raw Marinade. This marinade is composed of wine only and is used for braised meats, such as beef à la mode. White and red wines, strong Spanish or Italian wines, Madeira. The meat should be soaked 24 hours in a condiment composed of garlic, onions, taragon, grains of pepper, bay leaf, thyme and basilic. Use the marinade in the cooking.
MARINADES

PRESERVED MARINADE.
(MARINADE DE CONSERVE)

Cook in 3 quarts of wine and 9 quarts of water, carrots, celery, shredded and pounded garlic. After cooking a half hour take out the vegetables and add the condiments named above. 5 quarts of white wine, sliced lemon, 1 pound of salt let boil. Strain and add while it is hot, 1 ounce of boric acid. One can make the quantity one wishes. Use when cold.

COOKED MARINADE FOR CAMOUFLAGE GAME
(MARINADE CUIÈTE POUR IMITER LE GIBIER)

In this marinade, after the meats have been soaked for 8 days they acquire the aroma and taste of real game. Pork becomes a boar, goat and lamb become venison.

Mix all of these following ingredients together and let boil: 3 quarts of vinegar and tarragon, 6 quarts of dry white wine, 1 quart of Madeira, 8 ounces salt, 1 ounce crushed pepper, 1 ½ ounce aromatic melilot, 1 ounce balsam, ½ ounce sage, 6 ounces green skin of walnuts, 4 cloves of garlic. If you wish to conserve, add a pinch of boric acid to the quart while hot. Keep in a cool place and do not take any of the articles out with the hands. The marinade must be cold before using.

MARINADE FOR BROILED OR FRIED ARTICLES
(MARINADE POUR GRILLADE OU FRITURE)

Pure olive oil, lemon, seasoning and spice according to article.

PICKLED. (SAUMURES)

For pickled articles, white salt is preferable, but a fifth part of coarse salt is necessary. Salpeter is used to give a slight natural coloring to the meat. Sugar is used to give it flavor. Spices employed for pickled saumures are Juniper berries, bay leaves, coriandre, caraway seed, fennel flower, sage, ginger, cloves, marjoram, balin mint, savory herbs, mace, cinnamon, thyme, basilic, myrte, rosemary and grains of pepper.

These substances should be employed according to one's taste. Do not use too much. it might injure the flavor.

PICKLED MEDIUM.

(SAUMURES DE FORCE MOYENNE)

Boil all of these articles together for one quarter of an hour, 20 quarts of water, 8 pounds of white salt, 1 pound rock salt, 3 pounds of sugar, 10 ounces of salpeter. Put in a pot 1 pound of different spices, pound the seeds well, pour boiling water on, cover until cold, strain the infusion and then add pickled articles when cold.

PICKLED ARTICLES VERY SALTY

(SAUMURES TRÈS SALÉES)

Use the same as above. 40 quarts of water, 50 pounds of white salt, 2 pounds rock salt, 4 pounds of sugar, 5 pounds of salpeter, 10 ounces of spices.

PICKLED COLD (LIEBIG)

SAUMURES A FROID (LIEBIG)

Dissolve in cold water 36 pounds of white salt, 8 ounces bicarbonate of soda, 45 quarts of water. If you use rock salt put 1 pound of bicarbonate of soda.

CURING AND PICKLING FOR HAM, BEEF

(SALAISONS ET SAUMURES POUR JAMBON, BŒUF)

I cannot publish here all of the methods of pickled (saumures) and curing which is an industry distinctly apart from the kitchen.

This mixed method is perfectioned: Cut the ham in round shape and pound with a mallet; salt dry, rub with saltpeter, then mix some white salt and recommence two days afterwards, rubbing them very hard; the third day rub again and put in the following pickled saumure when cold 2 pounds saltpeter, 3 pounds sugar, 1 pound gray salt, 25 quarts water, \( \frac{3}{4} \) ounce spices, let stand 2 or 3 weeks; smoke and hang up, add a little more salt every time the pickled articles are used keep barrel well covered.

(Note). You can make large or small quantities according to desire.

FISH, Garniture and Sauces

(Poisson, Garniture et Sauces)

To have good fish sauces and essences it is necessary to make a good stock of fish (not fish water). For sauces put in casserole a little butter, minced onion, thyme, bay leaves, whole pepper, mace, parsley, celery, fish bones, remains of fish, cover and let sweat 10 minutes.

Moisten with white wine, cook, add water to quantity necessary, boil one hour, strain. For essences or reduce fish glaze

All fish decorated and covered with forcemeat should be put in the oven for half a minute (otherwise the decoration would come off) then covered with buttered paper poached.

Fish sauté in butter should be seasoned in milk and flour, or English style, with flour, beaten eggs, and breadcrumbs. Glazed fish is browned in the oven quickly. The broiled fish is shredded or split, seasoned and dipped in olive oil and then cooked on a hot broiler. The liver of fish is not eaten much, only the skate fish and lota which is used for garnishing. The milt of the carp, shad and herring roe are edible.

The following styles of garniture and sauces can be used for any variety of fish; ordinary intelligence will guide a chef as to which is appropriate for fresh or salt water fish. One must not forget that the sauces make the fish appetizing.

FISH, THEIR SAUCES AND GARNISHING.

(POISSONS, GARNITURE ET SAUCES)

Abbreviations: Bord. bordelaise; cov. covered; cro. croquette; craw. crawfish; dec. decorated; fi-fo. forcemeat; gar. garnish; jul. julienne; mou. mousseline; mu. mushrooms; nor. normande; po. poached; pot. potatoes; quen. quennelles; red. reduced; sa. sauce; thi. thickened; tom. tomatoes; truf. truffles; vege. vegetable; w. white.

CLAM-BAKE
(Pique-Nique aux Clavisses)

A clam-bake is one of the most primitive styles of cooking in America and is generally given at the seaside in the month of July. Dig a hole in the ground, cover the bottom wth flat stones, in the form of a well two or three feet long; make a large fire, enough to make the stones red. When there is nothing left but the ashes make a bed of sea-weeds. Put in small packages (according to the number of guests) the clams, a small lobster, one-half chicken, fresh corn, a crab, some sweet potatoes and a sea bass, tie the cloth tight. Put all of the packages in hole and cover with sea weed. Cover again with a piece of strong canvas, and recover with sand. The heat of the stones and the steam cook it thoroughly. After a couple of hours take off the sand very carefully and serve. One does not need any culinary capacity for this primitive style of cooking. The clam-bake is served at all sea-shore dinners, in small baskets, but these are only cooked in steam.

The Barbecue

The barbecue is a picnic of meat or large game, roasted or broiled on red hot coals. Mexican style: meat highly seasoned with aromatic herbs, put in small bags, and cooked in the ground.

CRABS

Crabs differ in their size and color, excepting the sea crabs or the countries where they are caught. Deep water crabs only should be eaten, but unfortunately it is not written on the shells.

The meat of the crab should be white. It has a delicate taste, but is indigestable. Hard crab meat is sold already prepared. Take the meat out of the shell and be careful not to break the pieces. Have the sauce ready and mix it in gently. It is very necessary to take out all of the small bones of the crab.

SOFT CRABS (Crabes Mous)

Soft crabs are a transformation of hard crabs which change their shells two or three times a year. It is remarkable that during the months from March to October the soft crabs are always accompanied by the hard crabs and at the slightest noise they cover the soft crabs with their bodies. The lungs and tails of the soft crabs should be taken out and washed.

FROGS' LEGS (Grenouilles)

Frogs are considered a great delicacy. The English call the French "Jack Frog" and we return the compliment by calling them "John Bull."

Notwithstanding this criticism we are the masters in preparing them. The frog, to be good, should be eaten very fresh, and this is a simple method. Sprinkle with salt, and if the nerves contract, they are fresh; if not, they should not be eaten. All preparations for cooking frogs are excellent, such as: fried, sauté, à la Poulette, etc. Frogs, nowadays, are served boneless to facilitate the service.

LOBSTERS and SPINY LOBSTERS
(Homard et Langouste)

In culinary art the lobster is considered one of the best of the deep-sea fishes. There are a great many different varieties, and also different styles of preparation, which makes them an aliment of first choice.

Lobsters should be brought into the kitchen alive. They are of a dark green color and become red in the cocking. Never cook a dead lobster, nor eat any canned ones, as they are generally indigestable and sometimes poisonous. The spiny lobster is prepared in the same manner as the lobster, only the meat is harder.

REMARKS—For lobster meat for divers uses, see under heading of Salpicon.

OYSTERS AND OYSTER-CRABS
(Huitres et Crabes d’Huitres)

The oyster is an ancient aliment of first choice. They are good only in the months which have "r," that is to say, from September to April. The fecundity of the oyster is remarkable. The oyster is hermaphrodite and hatches eggs two or three times in the year, which produce about two millions. The oyster should be eaten alive, and it is strange to say that it is one of the rare animated things that man will eat.

The American is master in the art of eating oysters, especially cooked ones. Every city has its specialty. Let us eat then oysters “in every style.”

Oyster-Crabs are served generally fried or à la Newburg, as garniture or sauce for fishes.

SNAILS (Escargots)

Snails have a universal reputation, but have no nutritious value, apart from their culinary preparation. They are indigestible and demand a great many stimulant condiments. They should be cooked five or six hours, then the digestion is easy. Snails cooked in different wines designate their names.

PREPARATION OF BURGUNDY SNAILS

(Préparation d’Escargots de Bourgogne)

Put the snails in a tub of water and throw salt over them. Let stand over night, then wash and scald. Take out when they commence to boil, then take out of the shells, and wash again in boiling water. Cook in the following manner. A garniture composed of carrots, onions, thyme, bay leaves and parsley, moisten with half white wi. and half bouillon, add salt, pepper and spices. Cook on slow fire for five or six hours, let the snails get cold in their juice, prepare the Escargot butter (See "Escargot Butter"). When the shells are well dried garnish with a little escargot butter, put the snails back in their shells and close the shells with the butter. Let bake in a slow oven. See that the opening is kept straight so that the butter will not fall out. Snails cooked in different wines designate their names.

BAMBOO CHRYSALIS

Certain Chrysalides are edible. For the Chinese it is considered a very choice dish. Before becoming a butterfly, the insect is in a state of chrysalide. The Chinese put the chrysalides in boiling water, and take off the shell in such a manner that the chrysalide is not touched. They are then put in a sauce poulette. When the blossoms come on the bamboo plant, there is produced a curious phenomena. A great number of white worms come out from the narrow of the stems. These chenilles contain an exquisite soft white substance which resembles a thick cream. Take the head off of the body and at the same time the intestinal tube, then eat the cream that is enveloped in the contents.

The Troglodyte people live only on elephant meat, the trump and foot being mostly used. (See camel for preparation.)
GRASSHOPPER OR LOCUST (Sauterelle)

Jean-Baptiste when on the desert lived on grasshoppers before the coming of the Messiah.

The disgust that people have for the grasshopper is a false prejudice. They live only upon leaves, plants and fresh herbs. The grasshopper is cleaner in its eating than the hog, that everybody likes. Let us hope that the new countries in Africa will bring us some new recipes.

SALTED LOCUST (Sauterelles Salées)

Cook in pickled brine highly seasoned. Refresh in cold water, pick same as shrimps.

ROAST LOCUST (Sauterelles Rôties)

Put the locusts on a red hot metal plate, cook and keep stirring all the time. When cold, take off head, wings and tail, eat same as shrimps. Roasted locusts pounded fine, make excellent mush and cake. Salted locusts can be conserved in a jar, covered with mutton grease.

HIPPOPOTAMUS

The native people of Capetown consider the meat of the hippopotamus excellent. It is boiled or roasted the same as beef. The fat is used in the place of butter.

HORSEMEAT

Horsemeat has the advantage over beef because one never need fear tuberculosis. If the animal is fattened by the butcher it can be used as an aliment. The only times horse meat should not be eaten is when the animal dies of glanders, farcy or water leg. All large cities have their hippophagique butcheries. Paris in 1869. London in 1878. For all preparations of horse meat see beef. (Same preparation).

KANGAROO

The kangaroo meat is excellent, and is compared to... venison. The tenderloin of the kangaroo is the best part, the tails are used for tail soup. Same preparation as beef.

OPPOSUM—POLE CAT—RACOON

Pole Cat. Small animal, very smart, enemy of chickens and rabbits. Sauté same rabbit style, same Opposum, Racoon, pickled before cooking, same preparation.

PARROTS

Chilean people eat parrots and principally the eggs. Same preparation as partridge. Chaud-froid and dressed with feathers.

POULP AND CUTTLE-FISH

The ink-fish and cuttlefish should be bought already cleaned, otherwise it is too difficult to do one's self. They require a long time to cook and should be highly spiced and seasoned. They are cooked, braised, fried, sauté or pickled.

SEAL

The meat of the seal is the principal aliment for people of Greenland. The liver, heart and lungs are considered the best part. The skin is used for clothing. The intestines and nerves are used for string and thread. The bladder is used for bottles. Extract of oil is made with the fat. Same preparation as fish.

WHALE

The fins of the whale are considered a great delicacy by the Esquimaux, it resembles very much beef meat. Take off fat, cut in pieces, cook in matelote style, also steak and brains.
Culinary art is very poor in China and Japan. The Japanese do not give the recipes for their cooking. I remember when I was at Sherrys' 20 years ago we were to prepare a dinner for Madame Burden who had just returned from Japan. Certain dishes were to be served as in Tokio, but we were never able to obtain any recipes from them. They were willing to prepare the dinner themselves. Fortunately we had a few recipes and were able to serve the dinner. In Japan and China they put on the table in front of each guest a lacquer tray covered with a napkin and a pair of traditional chop sticks, which serves as knife and fork, to nibble a few of the numerous dishes such as sesame seeds, fish fritters with green peas, oyster plant, fish in oil of sesame seed, raw dorade cut in small pieces, a great delicacy for the Japanese, radishes, leaves of cabbage pickled in brine, ginko, very much like apricots, gin-sing, soya root, the chy-wa-ly-yu, a very fine fish, the chin-chow, jelly of seaweed. Rice takes the place of bread and is the principal alimentation of the Japanese and is cooked in a special manner. The rice is of beautiful white color and very tender. The only thing left for us to learn is the chicken broth, beaten with yolk of eggs, and served in small Japanese cups with a cover. Their food is prepared without salt and to give it flavoring they put in it a sauce known as "soya" a sort of ketchup made of peas of soya, which they add to each dish. The "Saba-kiri" is a sort of dough or paste made with wheat and buckwheat in shape of macaroni. The "gobo" roots of China Aniseed, and shell fish are highly esteemed. They put a piece of these in all of the presents they make to their friends, as a token of sympathy. The "sake" is a Japanese brandy made from rice. In Japan and China the "soya bean" is an undispensable product like rice and wheat to Europeans. Flour is made out of the soya bean, also mush, bread, pastry, cheese and ketchup.
SAUCE OF SOYA BEAN

Cook the soya bean the same as fresh green peas. Take the coction when reduced. The pod of the bean is roasted and cooked separately with different seasonings, especially ginger, mace and mashed salted anchovies. The two liquids are mixed, strained, reduced and then put in bottles.

CHEESE OF SOYA BEANS

Put fresh soya beans in water without salt. When they are nearly cooked reduce the amount of water, then cook until tender. Pour in earthen jar, let stand until they form a jelly. Warm over again. Take off the liquid and strain, then add the liquid which is very rich, and a little milk or butter to make the fermentation. Salt it. Put in a cloth, let all the water drip off. Then the cheese is made and with age it is better. It is finished like potato cheese, which is dried on cheese stands and washed in salt water.

BEEF (Boeuf)

There are a great many different varieties of beef in America, France and England. The quality differs according to age, health, race, food, season and the country. The superior quality of the meat is known by a layer of fat, which is thick, firm and of a yellow white, the flesh is a bright red color, and marbled with fat. Beef is inexhaustible in culinary art, and a menu cannot be made without it. A great many savorous preparations are made from this marvelous animal. Short-loin, beefsteak, tenderloin, chateaubriand, ribs of beef, mignon, filet. There are four different special preparations of beef, such as braised, boiled, broiled, roasted or sauté, which are served with a different variety of sauces and garnishings, which is the art of French cooking. Beef exceeds the total of all other meats used in the preparation of food in civilized countries.

VEAL (Veau)

Veal is not a nourishing food, but is eaten considerably. It must be of first quality, firm, white and elastic, and at least 6 weeks old. It is prepared and cooked in the same manner as beef. White meats must be very well cooked. (See terms for cutting of meats.) Also garnitures of beef and sauces which accompany the meats. Time required to cook veal chops, 12 to 15 minutes.

REMARKS—All articles to be braised should have the fat removed and the latter reduced, strained and added to the sauce and garnishings. Meats to be stuffed should be lightly sauté on the side to be garnished, then pressed, trimmed and cooled before garnishing.

For time required to cook, see note at head of “Beef.”

LAMB AND MUTTON

(LAMBERT ET MUTTONTON)

Lamb and mutton are the best meats after beef. Lamb, after the age of six months, is called mutton. The meat of the lamb before two months has little flavor, is sticky, white and soft. After that time it is delicious, especially if the animal has been fed upon milk, the meat being tender and very nourishing for children, convalescents and old feeble people.

Roasted or broiled are the most natural preparations. The preparation of mutton is the same as for lamb, and it is eaten rare, but lamb is eaten well cooked. Following are 200 recipes for lamb and mutton.

NOTE—For all preparations, see "Filet" and "Mignon" in pages concerning Beef. Nearly all of the garnishings are the same, so it is not necessary to repeat them. These garnishings can be served with crustades and tartelettes; the large garnishings can be used for the saddle, racks and legs. The garnishings of potatoes is the same.

See names of “Cuts of Meats.”

PORK (Porc)

As there are so many different styles of preparing pork, it is far better to go to a first-class pork butcher, than to prepare it one's self, and get your choice such as Chitterling sausages, blood pudding, ham and pig's feet, flat sausage, smoked or dried sausages and head cheese. Without pork we would have no lard and consequently no cooking. Lard is just as indispensable as butter in the kitchen.

NOTE—See article "Beef" for the time of cooking, which is about the same as big meats. See also the manner of the cutting of the meats.

HASH AND EMINCE

(Hachis et Emincés)

Hash is an aliment made of meat, chicken, game, fish or vegetables. It is indigestible, but when well seasoned and well prepared makes a good dish. Meat, chicken, game, fish and vegetables should be cut in small dice and thickened with the sauces that correspond with the meats. If the meats are dark thicken with sauce
PORK

Espagnole, tomatoes or juice. The potatoes are optional. If the meats are white thicken with sauce Allemande, Velouté, Béchamel or Cream.

The Emincés of meats are prepared in the same manner. The only difference is that they are cut in thin slices instead of cut in dice and the sauces are not so thick. All of the fat must be cut out of the meat. Raw meat is sometimes used and is mostly the sautées. Nevertheless one has the advantage of being served quickly when one is in a hurry.

POULTRY (Volaille)

Poultry is the generic and collective term applied to all domestic fowl such as: chicken, duck, geese, pigeons and guinea fowls. Poultry that has special nourishment for fattening purposes are called: pullets, capons, spring and squab chickens, also Hambourg chickens.

There are a great many different culinary preparations, but the simple way is the best, roast, sauté or grilled. Chickens or pullets to be braised or poached should be singed, emptied and breast bone taken out, trussed, covered with larding pork, moistened with gravy or divers wines. When they are to be poached, rub with lemon and poach in white stock. The stock after used for braising should be added to the sauce and garniture. Chickens that are to be larded should first be lightly poached.

Chickens to be sauté should be singed, emptied, carved, sauté in oil or butter, drained, moistened with gravy or wine. Do not cook more than five minutes.

BRAISED CHICKEN—Poulet Braisé

Empty and singe chicken, leave the skin of the neck as long as possible, cut the feet and put between the skin and flesh, take out the breast bone. Truss and stuff according to desire. Put vegetables and giblets of chicken in bottom of pan, place chicken on top, put in hot oven, when brown, moisten with white stock, juice and wine. Let cook 50 minutes to two hours according to size. Add juice from pan to sauce and the garnishings. Always rub poultry with lemon and keep as white as possible.

ROAST CHICKEN—Poulet Rôti

The best way to roast a chicken is on a spit, but that mode is quite forgotten these days. Place chicken in a hot oven and baste frequently with the butter, moisten with white stock after colored brown.

Chicken ready for Roasting

CHICKEN DIVERS STYLES—Poulet Genres Divers

Chicken cooked in an earthen pan, cocotte or tureen, is only served to order and requires the same time as roast or braised articles, according to size, closed with lute.

Planked chicken is also cooked to order, the garnishings being served according to desire. Time for cooking is same as broiled or roast.

Stuffed poultry, braised or roast, requires 15 to 30 minutes more in cooking. Large pieces one hour.

BROILED CHICKEN—Poulet Grillé

Singe chicken, cut open in back, take out intestines, cross the wings, put the legs inside, flatten lightly without breaking, season and butter, put on broiler. Let cook slowly on both sides. Serve Maître d'Hotel butter or deviled sauce.
CARVED CHICKEN SAUTE—Poulet Sauté Découpé
Cut in 13 pieces according to above model, season, sauté in butter. Keep turning until well browned, when cooked add sauce and garnishings. Do not let cook one or two minutes longer, as it becomes hard.

DUCK AND DUCKLINGS

Canards et Cannetons)

The domestic duck is most used in alimentation. The Rouen duck is world renowned. There are over 40 different varietites of wild ducks. (See game for preparation). The wild duck is of medium digestion, a little heating perhaps, but can be modified by its culinary preparation. The patties of Amiens, tureen of Nerac, and Toulouse are made of duck's liver. Choose only young ducks, or ducklings from 6 weeks to 6 months.

The Rouennaise smother the ducks, so the blood will stay inside, they are then roasted and eaten rare. The Nantaise eat them well cooked, braised or roasted.

Fresh vegetables constitute a large part in culinary art as there is always a new method of preparing them. The preparation of the same vegetable changes each month, according to its age and how tender it is. One should know immediately upon looking at green peas the time required in cooking. Each vegetable has its own particular proprieties, either fresh or dry. All green vegetables should be cooked in boiling water and salt, and kept boiling continually. If green vegetables are not eaten immediately put in a basin of cold water and keep refreshing them to prevent turning yellow or black. Dried vegetables should be put in soak the night before and then cooked in cold water. Boil slowly. Vegetables which turn black such as artichokes, cardoons and oyster plants should be sprinkled with lemon juice or put in a bowl of water with lemon juice.
VEGETABLES

Science claims that vegetables contain phosphorous and consequently have great influence in alimentation. The artichoke is good for the livers, beets for the brain: celery, lettuce and leeks are remarkably known for their properties. Carrots and cucumbers give a nice complexion, cabbage enriches the blood, potatoes make the hair grow. The Irish and French Bretons are universally known for their beautiful hair. Vegetables may be eaten freely with good results. Rice, beans and peas contain a great amount of nutrition and make good blood, and should not be allowed to fall in disuse.

Daniel of old fared well and looked fair on lentils. Potatoes deserve all the practical estimation in which they are held. Through not very nutritious, on this account they prevent our taking excessive nutrition in other forms. Baked potatoes are fine and palatable, however prepared. Potato starch pudding is one of the most nutritious and easily digested articles of diet to be found. Onions are palatable and wholesome. The French consume them freely. They are especially good in colds. The ourang outang, when suffering from a cold eats onions raw, in great quantities. They are aperient and their syrup, sweetened, relieves oppressed lungs and restores suppressed respiration.

For incipient infantile colds it is admirable. Cabbage digests with difficulty and yields little nourishment. Squash and pumpkins are good, either stewed or eaten as sauce, or with bread, or made into pies. Cucumbers, radishes and immature esculents are especially injurious. To children they often prove fatal. Green corn is also pernicious. In fact wait till all green vegetables get their growth and virtue. Vegetables furnish all the nutritious elements required in the vital process.

BEANS, DRIED OR FRESH
(Haricots, verts et secs)

Beans are composed of about 125 different varieties and furnish husks which if picked before ripe are called string beans, but these are only a few specimens amongst the large variety which can be eaten as string beans. The string beans constitutes an aliment wholesome and light. The dry beans contain a certain amount of azote which is nourishing. There are three different methods of conserving these beans green, namely: The Appert System, dessication, and salted. (See different recipes). The Appert System is the best if the manufacturer does not put in sulphate of copper to preserve the green color. String beans are employed very considerably in the kitchen: Soups, jardinières, macédoines, salades and numerous garnishings are made.

RICE (Riz)

Rice should never be cooked to form a paste.

The Japanese and Chinese cook rice, so that each grain stands alone. The best rice is the "Caroline, Patna and Piemont”. Rice is used in a great many different culinary preparations, such as: soup, stew or pilaw, risotto, croquettes, also with milk, cream or in puddings. As rice contains very little azote, a great deal of butter must be used or juice of meat. The essential quality of rice is in its choleric properties. Rice can be added to all risottos, chicken, fish or game. The risotto is most used in the kitchen. The juice of lemon in cooking renders the rice more firm.

SALADS

SALAD (La Salade)

Salad to be refreshing should be seasoned with good wine vinegar, and olive oil. Sometimes the oil is replaced by cream or fried scrap pork, the vinegar can be replaced by lemon juice. Salads should only be seasoned before serving; that is the general rule. But there are certain salads that must be left standing in a strong condiment. Any abuse of vinegar is injurious to the stomach.

FARINACEOUS FOODS

The Eastern nations live almost wholly on rice and the Scotch on oatmeal. The former contains a greater proportion of nourishment than any other article of diet, and the virtue of the latter is attested by the powerful frames and strong Highlanders. Fortunately, oatmeal is coming into general use amongst us, and I hail and would promote its production. As a diet for children, when eaten with milk, has no superior, if equal. The dietetic virtue of rye is not generally appreciated. Nubolted rye flour, made into hasty pudding is one of the most easily digested things which dyspeptics can eat. It is also very palatable.

Rye bread is nutritious, opening, and but for its color would undoubtedly rival wheat. Barley bread was once a staple article of diet. The distillery should no longer be allowed to consume such an excellent article of food.

All hot cakes are made with baking powder. Mix flour, eggs, milk, salt, sugar and butter according to quantity one desires. Buckwheat, cornmeal, rice and wheat cakes are cooked on a hot iron plate, turn over. Serve with syrup, butter or honey. (See bread article.)

BREAD (Pain)

Bread is one of the necessities of life and therefore it is necessary to know how to make well.

Bread making is an operation divided in the preparation of the stock yeast, the ferment, the sponge, the dough, the moulding and the baking. In using compressed yeast it saves time and labor. The manipulation is divided in only the sponge, the dough, the moulding and the baking. The exact quantity of flour and liquids to be used is very difficult to state, as the variety of flours in the different parts of the country demand the judgment of the necessary quantity, especially the straight dough. The usual heat of the liquid must be lukewarm about 70 to 75 degrees F. The flour should be kept in a warm dry place and also have the same temperature. In summer the straight dough may be fixed with ice water instead of warm, as fermentation sets in some time after, the flour will become whiter, being longer in the dough state. The oven is the final and most important operation in bread making, and may spoil the best of labor through carelessness. It is important to know how to heat an oven and ascertain the right heat required for the different kinds of bread and rolls as they demand various kinds of temperatures.

The rule for baking is to have all the bread and rolls which require the most heat ready first, and followed up with the goods which demand a lesser heat.

HOW TO MAKE STOCK YEAST

Boil five quarts of water, put five ounces of flour in a jar and make it into a firm paste with a part of the boiling water. To the remainder of the water add an ounce of hops, boil for ten minutes, remove from the fire and run through a fine sieve into the jar and over the paste. Set in a cool place until liquid is lukewarm. Dissolve the paste with the water and add four ounces of malt; cover and leave in a warm temperature for 48 hours without disturbing. After expiration of this time strain this liquid in another jar. The stock yeast is then ready for use.

COMPRESSED YEAST

Compressed yeast being more uniform and reliable, is preferred by most of the bakers, and in places where only small quantities of bread is made, it is more reliable, stronger and quicker than stock yeast, and ferment; is not quickly affected by change of weather. Furthermore it saves time and labor.

NOTE. — Compressed yeast must be fresh.

FERMENT

Wash 7 quarts of small potatoes very clean; place in an enameled earthen iron pot, cover with sufficient cold water; put on fire and let come to a boil; pour water off and refresh with clean hot water and boil until well done, throw the potatoes in a large tub and add 2½ lbs. of flour, mash well, to reduce to a smooth paste. Dilute this paste gradually with 24 quarts of cold or lukewarm water, observing temperature and season. Add 5 quarts of yeast and mix all well together. Set the tube in a moderately warm place and cover well with a cloth. Do not disturb until fermentation takes place, which means when risen to the double of its height and falls again. Fermentation should take place in from 7 to 8 hours.

NOTE. — This quantity is sufficient for one barrel of flour. Use quantity you desire making bread.

SPONGE

Bread is made either by setting sponge and making dough afterwards or by making a straight dough. In making a large dough you are enable to make various kinds of doughs out of it and also save yeast. In setting sponge dissolve the yeast well in the water and mix it with enough flour to make a soft dough. By using more or less yeast or colder or warmer water or making a softer or firmer sponge in mixing more or less flour into it, the time of getting the sponge ready can be regulated. When sponge is ready, mix, dust over with flour, cover well and let rise. Sponge should be ready in 4 hours and is ready when bubbles begin to show, which burst and throws off gas, the sponge flattens and drops in center. Different doughs can be made in taking certain quantities of it, and in adding the necessary ingredients for the different desired doughs, as rolls, breads, coffee cakes, etc. Sponge can be set cold at night and made into dough in the morning, or can be set warm and slack with additional yeast to be taken after one hour’s time. Straight dough is made in the mixing of all ingredients at the same time, the use of more yeast is required than for sponge. Dough, according to temperature, by using more or less yeast may be gotten ready in a few hours or be worked in the morning. Dough should be well mixed and kneaded; after it has risen it should be worked over several times at different intervals.

DOUGH

Made of soft flour requires a firmer dough than when made of stronger flour, because it slackens after a short time. The age of the dough depends on the strength of the flour, and its firmness. Bread and rolls should be made up first, as it demands a young dough.

DIVERS BREADS

French Bread made with Ferment

Set a medium sponge with 4 qt. of ferment 75 deg. Part to be ready in 3 hours. When ready to drop add 1 gallon of water 75 deg. and 6 ounces salt. Make a slack dough and beat it well, let rest for 1 hour. Divide up in 1½ lbs. pieces, mould round and put in slightly floured boxes. Flatten them down to one third of their thickness and dust over w. flour, cover w. another box air tight, let rise for about 20 to 25 minutes, mould them in long loaves. Set the loaves in cloth lined boxes dusted w. flour and raise the cloth between each loaf to serve as support, so the dough in rising cannot flatten out. When set transfer to peel, wash over w. water and make 4 or 5 slanting cuts w. a very sharp knife. Put into oven, beke 15 minutes. When baked, wash again w. water.

French split loaves

Use a little firmer dough than ferment. Make them up in the form as long Vienna shaped loaves and set them on boards. When they are moulded and slightly set, brush the top w. lard and press each loaf lengthwise in the center w. a long thin rolling pin, like split rolls. Arrange the loaves, split side down in cloth lined boxed, raise the cloth between each for support and let rise. Sprinkle peel w. a little white corn meal, turn split side up on a small board and transfer to peel and bake without washing.

Dough made with milk

Different breads are made of part milk, others of all milk. When using only milk, make a straight dough. The milk must be heated to boiling point and cooled off to temperature required to season. When using milk and water set the sponge w. the water and add the milk when making the dough. When making straight dough, bring the milk to a boil and add water, let cool down to desired temperature about 75 deg. All milk bread takes more color while baking and therefore demands a lower heat, also less time to rise.

Home made bread

Make a medium straight dough from 1 gall. water, $\frac{1}{2}$ gall. milk. Heat the milk to boiling point and add the water, cook down to 75 deg. Dissolve 4 ounces yeast in this liquid and 3$\frac{1}{2}$ ounces of salt, 4 ounces sugar and 2 ounces of butter or lard. Mix all ingredients up well with the water and milk, make the dough with a good wheat flour. Let set, dough should be ready in two hours when raised to the double of its original size, fold it over from all four sides and press down. Let raise again for about three quarters of an hour, fold over again, divide into pieces, mould round and put in boxes, set for about 20 minutes, and make them into loaves, pressing two opposite sides together with the palms of the hands. Lay in the moulds, smooth side up and set to rise until the pan is almost full. Bake and brush over with a wash of white eggs and water well beaten together. Mold should be only half full. From the same dough when made in a larger quantity, you can make Vienna loaves of 2 lbs. of dough each. Sandwich loaves in single loaves or made up in American loaf style. (Same bread w. water.) Use 1 gall. water 75 deg., 3 ounces sugar, 3 ounces butter or lard, 3 ounces of salt. This dough should be ready raised 4 hours or it will flatten out and lose its resistance. Must be worked well and rise again for 20 minutes (Same Bread w. Ferment.) Make a straight dough with 3 qts. ferment, 1 qt. of water or milk, 5 ounces of salt, 80 deg. Work the dough well and pen it close up in the trough, let come up and work over, let raise about half. Throw the dough on the table, divide, mould around, put in the box and after it sets for 10 minutes, form in loaves. Bake good heat.

Graham Bread

Make a medium straight dough of 1 gall. water, 5 ounces yeast, 4 ounces salt, 3 ounces lard, and 1 pint molasses. Mix these ingredients well; add 4 lbs. of graham flour and the rest of wheat flour. Let rise about two hours and work it down again. Throw on a table, mould up as other bread in 1½ lbs. loaves, set in pans and let rise in the moulds to two thirds of their height. Bake in medium hot oven. (Same bread.) Use 1 gall. water, 1½ ounces yeast, 3 ounces salt, 4 ounces lard and ¾ pint of molasses, use ½ graham and ½ wheat flour. Let come but once, work it down and mould, let rise for a few minutes; scale and mould into pans, set to size, bake in medium hot oven.

New England Bread

Make a firm straight dough of 1 gall. water and half a can condensed milk 75 deg., 2 ounces of salt and 3 ounces sugar. When set, work it down again; let rise for 15 minutes, scale and work into loaves, bake in moulds in good oven (Same bread.) Make 20 ounces corn meal, a mush to begin with. Make straight dough at 75 deg. from 2 gall. water, 6 ounces yeast, 6 ounces salt, 6 ounces sugar, 6 ounces lard and the corn meal mush. Mix all ingredients thoroughly with the water before adding the flour. Cover and let rise 4 hours. Work well after this time has elapsed and let come up again for about 25 minutes. Mould in loaves, let rise two thirds of its height. Bake in a good heat.

Gluten Bread

Gluten bread can be made of water or partly milk and is treated like graham bread. For 6 persons the sweetening and shortening is omitted. Make a straight dough of 2 qts. of water and 2 qts. of milk, 1½ ounces of yeast, 3 ounces salt, 6 ounces lard and ½ pt. molasses. Use only gluten flour to make the dough and let come up only once. Work down and after a short interval, proceed moulding in loaves as usual and bake in a medium hot oven.

Pullman Bread or Sandwiches

For Pullman bread use any milk dough, which is not too stiff. It should be passed several times through rollers which are fastened to the bench or table with clamps, before moulding into loaves. It is used mostly for sandwiches especially in railroad cars. The pans in which this bread is baked should be 10 inches long, 4½ inches wide and 4 inches high with a sliding cover. Give ¾ proof in the pan. Close the cover and bake in a medium hot oven. Breads baked in covered pans have the advantage to retain their moisture longer, have a better taste and the crust is very thin. The waste will also be minimized when these loaves are cut for sandwiches.

Pulled Bread

Made of freshly baked milk bread either in pans w. sliding cover or in the American loaf style. Take off the crust and pull either w. the aid of two forks or breaking the loaf in 3 parts and using your hand, long strips, they may have any shape, toast on baking sheets in a medium oven to a nice brown. Bread must be turned once or twice to have a uniform color on all sides. When oven is too hot the inside will not be crisp. Served w. almost every meal or w. cheese. Very healthy, especially for invalids.

NOTE. — Open in case shape use for divers culinary dishes served in loaf bread, or crust after dry, when pounded it can be used for brown bread crumbs.

Raisin Bread

Make a stiff dough of 1 gall. milk, boil the milk first and cool down to 75 deg., add 6 ounces yeast, 4 ounces salt, 12 ounces sugar, 1 lb. butter and 8 eggs. Mix all these ingredients well w. the milk, and make with a strong flour a straight dough. Cover and let rise for two hours. After it has raised double the size, work one and the dough. Scale into 1½ lbs. loaves sultana raisins, and 1½ lbs. currants in the dough. Scale into 1½ lb. loaves, let rise for 20 minutes, form the loaves and put in pans. Pan should be half full. Let prove to ¾ height of the pan and bake in medium hot oven.

Rye Bread

Make a rather stiff dough of 75 deg. from 1 gall. of water, 3 ounces of yeast, and 5 ounces of salt. Use fresh rye flour mixed with the same quantity of wheat flour. Let come up once, work down and let set about 10 minutes; divide in 2 lbs. pieces and mould round. When all are formed, shape right off in long, round pointed loaves, pressing the seam well together. Place on boards or in boxes cov. w. cloth, smooth sides down, raise cloth for support and let come only one third its size. Turn on with corn meal or rye flour, dust, peel, wash over with water, give 3 or 4 slanting cuts across and bake in a hot oven. Wash again w. a thin white white of egg; wash again as soon as taken from the oven.

NOTE. — Also baked in well greased pans which is more handy for the housewife (Same half rye bread.) Set a sponge w. 2 qts. water, 1 ounce yeast and wheat flour. When ready, add 2 qts. of water, 3 ounces yeast, also some caraway seeds and make a medium dough

— 382 —
w. 2 parts of rye and wheat flour. Let set, work down and when ready make long loaves, the shape of Vienna bread. Set in cloth lined boxes w. smooth sides down, raise the cloth between each. Let rise to two thirds its size and bake in hot oven, washing and cutting them before baking.

Boston Brown Bread

2 lbs. corn meal, 2 lbs. graham flour, 2 lbs. wheat flour, 1 qt. boiling water, 1 qt. molasses, 2 ounces of salt, 3 ounces yeast. Scald the cornmeal first, by pouring the boiling water on and stirring it, add molasses and salt. When only lukewarm add the yeast, then mix in the graham, rye and wheat flour. After a little kneading on the table, grease the pan in which it was mixed, place the dough in it, cover well w. a cloth and let rise for about 6 hours in moderate temperatured place. When ready, throw on table, knead again a little and make in fine loaves. Place in high round mould, especially for brown bread. Let rise for ½ hour, put the tight fitting covers on and steam in a steam chest about 4 hours and bake for 20 minutes. If there is no steaming apparatus the bread can be baked in a cool oven registering about 250 deg. Set the pails into a pan with high borders countaining from 2 to 3 inches of water, put in oven carefully and bake 5 hours (Same w. baking powder or soda.) 1 lb. graham flour, 1 lb. rye, 2 lbs. corn meal, 1 lb. wheat flour, 1 qt. molasses, 3 pints milk, 2 ounes salt, 1 ounce baking soda or 3 ounces baking powder. Mix all the flour, dissolve the soda in the milk, add salt and molasses and make a soft dough, steam for 3 hours, bake 15 minutes using baking powder, mix w. the flour.

Vienna Rolls

Set a stiff sponge of 4 qts. lukewarm water, 2 ounes yeast in summer and 3 ounces yeast in winter w. wheat flour, dust over w. flour and let set. When the sponge has fallen for the first time in the center add 2 qts. of lukewarm milk, ½ lb. sugar, 3½ ounces salt, 6 ounces butter or lard. Incorporate all ingredients well into the sponge and make a rather stiff dough, working it in small pieces several times over, which lay on top of each other. Let set to double its volume, throw the dough on the bench and fold over, let come up again and press down another time. Divide in \( \frac{1}{2} \) ounces pieces; mould round and arrange in flour dusted boxes, dusting them over w. flour. After 15 minutes you can make up different kinds of Vienna bread, crescent salt sticks, twists, weckerl and other shapes. All of these different rolls are baked in a medium hot oven. They must be so arranged all ready on the peel that they do not touch each other while baking.

Standard dough for divers coffee cakes

Make a stiff dough from 1 lb. of flour, 2 ounces of yeast, a pinch of salt, \( \frac{1}{2} \) ounces of sugar, a pinch of ground mace, grated lemon rind, 2 eggs, and lukewarm milk. Set to prove; when double its volume, work 2 ounces butter into it heating the dough well to admit plenty of air. When it ceases to adhere to the hand, it is ready for use. According to the amount of goods to be made, this dough can be increased to the quantity needed.

Make small rolls, sprinkle with chopped blanched almonds, coarse granulated sugar or both almonds and sugar together, or cocoanut, etc. The forms may be oval w. pointed ends "S" shape, snails and others. When they are moulded, set on greased pans and let rise; wash them over w. an egg, wash and sprinkle w. sugar or almonds, etc. Some may be only washed and when baked can be iced w. water icing, while they are hot. Must rise double its size. Baked in warm oven.

Divers special names of rolls

Breakfast, Finger, French, Crescent, Graham, Graham Gems, Milk, Parkerhouse, Rye, Vienna.

FANCY ROLLS EASILY MADE AT HOME

Coffee Cake

2 cups lukewarm milk, \( 1\frac{1}{2} \) yeastcakes dissolved in \( \frac{1}{4} \) cup water, beat 2 cups flour and set aside in a warm place. Add 2 eggs or 4 yolks well beaten, 1 teaspoon salt, \( \frac{1}{2} \) cup melted butter, \( \frac{1}{3} \) cup sugar, grated rind of 1 lemon, enough flour to make a dough that can be kneaded. Knead until elastic 25 minutes. Set aside to become light. Cut down and put in pan, having dough 1\( \frac{1}{2} \) inches thick. Let rise until double, brush w. melted butter and sprinkle w. chopped blanched almonds. Bake moderate oven.

Cross Buns

Use sweet roll dough, add \( \frac{3}{4} \) cup currants, \( \frac{1}{2} \) teaspoon cinnamon. At the end of the second rising shape w. cutter in round \( \frac{1}{4} \) inch, in pan let rise, double. Bake in moderate oven.

Finger Rolls

2 tablespoons butter, 1 teaspoon sugar and \( \frac{1}{2} \) teaspoon salt to 1 cup milk, add \( \frac{1}{4} \) cup water. Mix well, add 1 stiff beaten white egg and 3\( \frac{1}{2} \) cups flour. Knead well, and let rise until double.

Cut 20 to 25 pieces and roll out in finger shape. Let rise until double. Bake. Brush w. melted butter after removing from oven.

French Light Rolls

2 cups milk, 3 tablespoons sugar, \( \frac{1}{4} \) cup butter, 1 teaspoon salt. When lukewarm add 1 yeast cake in \( \frac{1}{4} \) cup water. Beat in 3 cups flour. Cover and let rise. Then add 1 egg and 2 well beaten yolks and enough flour to knead. Knead well and let rise again. Shape as Parker House Rolls in pans, let rise again, and before baking make 3 paralleled creases on top. When nearly done brush over w. 2 egg whites, slightly beaten, and add little water and spoon vanilla, sprinkle w. sugar

Parker House Rolls

2 cups milk, 3 tablespoons sugar and 2 teaspoon salt. When lukewarm add 1 yeast cake which has been dissolved in \( \frac{1}{4} \) cup water. Add 3 cups flour and beat vigorously. Cover and let rise until light. Cut down and add 3 cups flour and knead well. Turn into a warm well buttered bowl, cover and let rise again. Turn out on slightly floured board and roll out to 1/3 inch in thickness. Shape w. cutter, dip blade of knife in flour and w. back of blade make a crease through the middle of each round. Brush over 1/2 of each piece w. butter, fold and press edges together. Place in pan, cover, let rise, brush w. butter. Bake quick 25 minutes.

Sweet Rolls

Dissolve 1 yeast cake in 1/2 cup water. Add 1 1/2 cups lukewarm milk, 1 teaspoon salt and 2 1/2 cups flour. Beat vigourously. Cover and let rise lightly. Then add 1/4 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons melted butter, 1 egg and enough flour to knead. Knead thoroughly, let rise until light and shape as Parker House style. Place in pan, let rise again. Bake in moderate oven.

Corn Bread

Scald 12 ounces of white corn meal w. 1 pint of boiling water, and add 3 ounces of melted butter or lard, 1/2 ounce of salt, 1/2 pint of cold milk and 2 eggs. Mix in 4 ounces of white corn meal and 1 ounce of baking powder. Stir all well together w. an egg whisk. Bake 1/2 hour or more.

Corn Muffins

Sift 2 ounces of baking powder w. 1 1/2 lbs. flour. Add 1 lb. of yellow corn meal to it and mix well together. Cream, 8 ounces of butter and 12 ounces of sugar, rub into a slack dough, with the flour. Divide in muffin pans and bake in a good heat. Should make 3 dozen muffins.

Tea Biscuits

Rub 3 ounces lard and 3 ounces butter, also 3 ounces baking powder, 6 lbs. flour, add 3 pints of milk, a little salt, mix to a soft dough; do not work the dough too much. Roll about 1/2 inch thick, cut on greased pan. Let stand 15 minutes. Brush over w. egg, wash and bake good heat. Brush over w. butter.
Griddle Cakes

Griddle cakes may be made w. yeast as well as baking powder. Baking powder cakes do not require as much time as yeast raised cakes, but griddle cakes made w. yeast are the better ones. The griddle plate must be clean, well greased and hot, to avoid sticking and burning.

Wheat Cakes, etc.

Sift 1 lb. flour, 3 ounces sugar and a little salt and 1 ounce baking powder. Mix w. milk enough to make a thin running batter, add 3 well beaten eggs and 1 ounce melted butter into buckwheat, corn or Indian meal, graham, rice, etc.

Waffles

Beat 4 ounces powdered sugar well w. 16 eggs, add 1 qt. milk and mix 2 lbs. and 4 ounces flour into this to obtain a smooth paste, free from lumps, beat then 12 ounces of melted butter, a pinch of salt, mace or lemon flavor well into the butter and mix two heaping teaspoonfuls of baking powder to the whole preparation. Bake in hot well greased waffle iron.

Cream Waffles

Beat 12 ounces butter w. 10 whole and 6 yolks of eggs, add 3 ounces of sugar, flavor and add 1½ lbs. flour. Into this mix slowly 1 pint of whipped cream and 6 whites of eggs beaten to a stiff froth.

French Waffles

6 ounces sugar, 1 lb. flour and little salt. Put in a bowl and make a hollow in center. Beat 14 yolks of eggs w. milk well and make a smooth batter w. the flour. Add cup brandy and 1 ounce melted butter. Mix well into 1 pint of whipped cream and stiff beaten 14 whites of eggs. If the batter must stand any length of time add a little baking powder. Bake as usual.
Holland Waffles

Make a sponge of 12 ounces flour, 1½ ounces sugar, a pinch of salt, flavor, 3 eggs, 6 ounces melted butter, 2 ounces yeast and 1 pint lukewarm cream. Let set, beat and let rise a little again. Bake as usual.

Divers Waffles, Add rice or Indian meal, etc.

All these receipts come from the Waldorf Astoria New York.

CHEESE—Imported and domestic (Fromage)

There are so many different kinds of cheese that it is impossible to name them here, therefore I will only write the principal ones.

Cheese is a good aliment, and there is no dinner complete without it. Pick out cheese that is ripe, and be careful of imitations. France is the first country in the world to produce the best cheeses.

"Entremets" is a French term meaning sweet dishes. The French kitchen recognizes two kinds of entremets—entremets de douceur, a course of sweet dishes, and entremets de légumes, a course of vegetables served by themselves quite customary in France. The vegetables are now served with meat or game, sweet dishes as dessert. Sherbet or punch is served before the roast to facilitate the digestion. The "entremets" of fruit is served hot or cold. Sauces are composed of cream or syrup of fruits, according to the style of the fruit. All of the following recipes can be applied to apricots, pineapple, peaches, cherries, pears, apples, strawberries, raspberries, bananas, melons. Add flavor according to desire. The fruit is placed in a light syrup, and flavored with vanilla. Rub all white fruits with lemon juice and do not let cook too long. A great many of these entremets can be served in the place of ice cream.

FRUITS

Fruits prevent or remove constipation, and often act like a charm upon body and mind; and, eaten with good bread, nothing is equally palatable or wholesome.
First class fruit and Graham Bread make a delicious breakfast, also berries with bread and milk, and good apples, baked or raw. Apples keep the entire year, and pears of the very best varieties can be kept till the appearance of strawberries the next year. Pears and plums can be kept the year round as easily as apples, and summer fruits by bottling can be kept perfectly fresh a year, and by the use of hot houses, fruit can be packed from the trees in winter or spring. We can also preserve them and make into jellies. Yet this process, besides deteriorating from their flavor, impairs their digestibility. Preserves are too rich. Their nutrition is too much concentrated. Most kinds of fruits can be dried, and thus kept, though this process dries out much of its goodness, as well as sweetness. Yet dried fruit stewed is far better than none. Stewed apples sweetened make an excellent relish with bread. Yet after all nothing equals simple bread, and choice fruits, if people only knew it, both for health and luxury. Green fruit is most pernicious. Nor do we realize how many children especially, lose their lives directly or indirectly thereby. When it does not kill immediately it often deranges the stomach, breeds worms, and induces other diseases, which, sooner or later, complete the work of death begun by green fruit. Foreign fruits are good but indigenous are better. Nature adopts the product of every climate to its dietetic requisitions; and hence has made those fruits to flourish best in every climate which its inhabitants require.

Lemonade is healthy and delicious yet this opinion is based on experience rather than science.

RECEPTION AND TABLE (Réception et table)

The host and hostess should be ready to receive their guests, one quarter of an hour before the time announced.

Each guest should be received with the same gracious hospitality. The host and hostees and the persons invited to receive with them, should introduce the guests. A few minutes before dinner an appetizer should be served in the drawing room. The host should offer his arm to the lady in whose honor the dinner is given or to the elder lady of the party. The hostees then should take the arm of the gentleman in whose honor the dinner is given or to the elder gentleman present. The host should not be seated until after all of the guests. The names are written either on a card or upon the menu. The placing of the guests at the table require particular attention. The host should have at his right and left the two ladies most honored, or the two elder ladies present. The hostees should proceed in the same manner. The lady and gentleman should be seated alternately. There are no absolute rules as to the luxury of the service as it depends upon circumstances. The host and hostees should do every thing to make their guests feel at home, and above all show a great deal of tact.

THE SERVICE (Le Service)

After the soup, serve a glass of wine, white being preferable (See Service for dinner wines), but this is not "de rigueur". In pouring wine do not fill to the top of the glass. Change the knife, fork and spoon after each dish. The host or hostees should pay attention and see that the guests are served a second time if so desired. When the dinner is finished, the host should arise and conduct his guests to the reception room, where coffee and liquors are served.

ETIQUETTE AT THE TABLE

(La maniere de se tenir a table)

No matter what form of invitation you receive, be very exact. Do not keep the host waiting, as it is a breach of etiquette. Always arrive one quarter of an hour before the time your invitation calls for. After being seated, put the napkin on your lap and do not make any noise when eating soup. When the soup is finished, leave the spoon in the plate. Shrimps and cracked cold lobster are eaten with the fingers. The fork is held in the left hand, the thumb turned down and the first finger on the back. The knife is held in the right hand and should never be raised to the mouth. The bread should be placed at the left and broken with the fingers. Never refuse to take any dish offered you, as it might offend the host or hostess. Never ask to be served a second time the same thing or plass your plate again. Do not put your elbows upon the table. Never lift your glass when you are being served with wine, and never empty it during the meal. Fruits should be cut with a knife, assorted cakes to be eaten with the fingers. Ice cream should be eaten with a small spoon, and never touch the teeth. Never offer any of the invited guests any fruit that has been cut. Do not get up from the table until after the host or hostess have arisen. The guests are then conducted to the drawing room where coffee and liquor are served. It would be very impolite to leave immediately after the dinner, but, in case of necessity, the host can be notified in advance. The guests may offer the hostess flowers.

SERVICE OF WINE
(Service des vins dans le diner)

The head waiter, or the person who has charge of the wines, should inform the waiters and specify the different wines which are to be served at each course. It is very important to serve wines in a decanter and to have ready the marked ones on the menu. Every wine should be served at its temperature.

TEMPERATURE OF WINES
(Température des vins)

Madeira, Sherry, Xérès; serve cold.
Bordeaux: 52 to 56 deg. farh.; or temperature of room.
Burgundy: 42 to 46 degrees Farh.
Champagne: Cold or frappé.
Dessert. Wine cooled.
Aperitif, cold, mix ice with the spoon only.
Aperitif, cold, use plenty ice in shaker.

BUFFET AND REFRESHMENTS

Particular attention should be paid to the alimentation and drinks for the buffet. One should serve light dishes and light drinks, hot drinks being preferable. Champagne is the most stimulating and less intoxicating, of course when there is no abuse. There is certainly a long nomenclature of aliments and drinks to be served for the buffet, but the richness and variety depend upon the circumstances of the host or hostess.

SOFT DRINKS

Soft drinks are a mixture of fruit juices or syrups, mixed with any sparkling water or ice cream. The names of different soft drinks are too numerous to give here and vary according to the choice and taste. Here are a few names; Honolulu cocktail, clover leaf cocktail, silver fizz, golden fizz, orange blossom and Swanton cocktail, cream fizz, etc.

COFFEE (Café)

There are as many different styles of coffee pots as there are methods of making the coffee. But the best coffee is made by the "French drip method" in an earthen or porcelaine pot. (Filtered coffee.)

The metal coffee pot does not come up to requirements as a utensil for making good coffee, as it acquires the taste of the metal. It is quite impossible to remove the stains from the walls of the metal coffee ustensil, and how much truer it must be of the valve and tube of the perculator.

The action of the coffee is directed to the nervous system and when swallowed produces a warm cordial impression on the stomach, quickly followed by an agreable nervous excitement, which extends itself to the cerebral functions, giving rise to increased vigor of imagination and intellect, without any subsequent confusion or stupor, such as characterizes the action of narcotic medicines. One of the most extraordinary effects is a disposition to wakefulness, which continues for several hours after it is taken. It also moderately excites the circulatory system and stimulates the digestive functions. One can use the amount of coffee desired, as some people like it strong and others weak. It depends also according to the quality and if freshly ground. Following are 2 mixtures of coffee. 1.—Mix equal portions or Porto Rico, Pranger and Salem. 2.—Mix equal parts of Porto-Rico Wynard and Gonaïves. The result is delicious. The quantity of coffee for 2 quarts of coffee is 6 ounces or more according to the quality.

TURKISH COFFEE (Café à la Turque)

Grind coffee very fine like powder. Put in a special Turkish coffee pot. Mix the amount of coffee desired w. sugar and cold water. Stir all together, put on fire and let come to a boiling point, take off and tap a few times on the stove, to let the sediment go to the bottom, put on fire a second time and let boil until it becomes frothy and bubbles. Serve in small porcelaine, silver, or gold cups. (These cups are a little larger than a thimble.) The Turks always order coffee “caimakcli”, which means frothy.

DEVIL COFFEE (Café du Diable)

Use special service. Put in bowl 1 rind of orange and lemon, few coffee beans, 2 cloves, ½ stick of cinnamon, hot coffee, fine champagne and bénédictine, burn on the table. Serve in cups. Quantity according to number of guests.
THE CELLAR

CHOCOLATE

Dissolved, 1 lb. chocolate w. hot milk, put on the fire, stir, add 1 qt. milk. Boil a few minutes, add sugar if necessary. Same w. water.

ARABIAN RACAOUT (Racaout des Arabes)

Racaout, 2 table spoons diluted w. 2 spoons of milk, add 1/2 qt. milk w. water, cooked 5 minutes. Composition 1/2 lb. cocoa, 1/2 lb. rice fecula, 1 lb. oatmeal flour, put 2 lbs. icing sugar in sieve, mash very fine, one tea-spoon per person.

FIRE-BRAND MANDARIN (Brûlot Mandarine)

Take a mandarine, cut the skin in the center, and turn without breaking so as to form a cup; fill with lumps of sugar and fine champagne, brandy or kirsch. Light, burn and keep stirring. Serve in coffee.

POUSSE CAFE

Composed in liquor glass, 4 liquors not to be mixed. Ceram of mint, fine champagne brandy, chartreuse and cream of cacao.

THE CELLAR (La Cave)

The cellar should be exposed to the north and be cold and dry. The sun should never penetrate through the air holes, and in very hot and cold weather the holes should be closed to prevent immediate action in change of temperature. The temperature of the wine cellar should be from 10 to 12 degrees centigrade above zero, or 56 degrees Fahrenheit. If it is too dry, it evaporates the wines. In a good cellar an ordinary barrel will absorb 2 or 3 glasses of liquid each month, otherwise if the cellar is too dry it will absorb 1 quart. The temperature should not vary more than 2 or 3 degrees, for the extreme cold or heat will destroy the quality of the wine. The bottles should be placed in boxes and laid down flat so that the wine will touch the cork. The bottles should be put in order, to keep from breaking. Look at each bottle and see if the wine is in good condition and if it is not clear let stand for 24 hours until all of the deposit goes to the bottom, or put it in a decanter. Young wines of good quality get old and obtain a certain "bouquet" when kept in a cellar of moderate temperature, but not too long a time. Champagne, Rhine wine and Moselle should be kept in cool cellars. See that each bottle is well corked.

TO DECANT WINES (Les Vins Decantes)

The decanting of wines consists in pouring it out slowly, the bottle should be slightly inclined, so as not to disturb the deposit which proves the good quality. The transparent color of the wine contributes largely to the pleasure in drinking it. At dinner the wine is generally put in decanters of cut glass. Another easy way is to put the bottle in a small basket, which is held by two rings, then pour out slowly. But it is necessary in this manner to place the bottles several hours before dinner time, when the wine has sufficiently reposed.

CHAMPAGNE (Le Champagne)

The manner of uncorking champagne is very easy these days. After taking of the wire, the cork should be taken of slowly and without any noise. The champagne glass should be very near when pouring it so none will be wasted. Pour out slowly on the side of the glass so it will stop effervescing and the glass is filled without any loss. No glass should ever be filled to the top with any kind of wine. Champagne of the best quality should be put on ice twenty minutes. Wines lose their quality when kept on the ice too long.

HOW TO CHILL CHAMPAGNE

(Manière de frapper le Champagne)

To chill Champagne use rock salt and pounded ice. Put bottle in a cooler made of silver, or galvanized zinc, fill with rock salt and ice up to the neck, stirring continually the mixture right and left. 12 to 15 minutes are sufficient to chill the Champagne. To keep it cool put in salt and ice 20 to 30 minutes before serving. When one is very much in a hurry put the cooler, already prepared, on the fire and turn; in five minutes the Champagne is chilled.

CLARIFYING OF WINE
(Collage et Clarification du Vin)

Very often wines are not clear and must be clarified. The best substances for clarifying wines are: Fresh whites of eggs beaten with a little salt, blood of beef freshly killed, cool with salt, and the wine which is to be clarified, or fish gelatine. No matter what the clarification is, proceed in the same manner; melt the substance, mix with the wine and pour into the hole of the barrel, take a long split stick, stir very well, and let repose 15 days.

MISCELLANEOUS RECIPES

Aromatic, Aromatics are a vegetable substance, which have an agreeable penetrating odor. Aromatics, no matter in which manner they are employed are very important and one should know how to use them.

Savory

Name Anise, Bay leaves, Chili Sauce, Cloves, Celery, Coriander, Curry Garlic, Catsup, Kitchen Bouquet, Nasturtium seeds (Capers), Onions, Parsley, Pepper, Pimientos, Sage, Shallots, Summer savory, Sweet Marjoran, Tobacco Sauce, Thyme, Worcestershire, Sauce.

SEASONING (Assaisonnements)

All cooking should be well seasoned. No dish will have any taste if it is not savoured well. That is to say—the precise style of condimente, which is necessary for each aliment.

SPICES (Condiments)

Spices are used as seasoning for mixed aliments, aromatics, for sweetening, for slightly sour, for salted articles: Spices are the most precious culinary article. Choose spices which are good for the digestion. Following are several recipes for spices:
Flavoring for sweet dishes
Vanilla, Almond, Cinnamon, Nutmeg, Clove, Allspice, Ginger, Wine, Maple or Fruit syrup, Chocolate, Lemon, and Orange (juice and rind). All other fruit or liquors.

SPECIAL SPICES FOR STEWS AND STUFFING
(Epices pour Ragout)
Thyme \( \frac{3}{4} \) ounce, bay leaves \( \frac{1}{4} \) ounce, Majoram \( \frac{1}{4} \) ounce, Rosemary \( \frac{1}{4} \) ounce, nutmeg 1 ounce, cloves \( \frac{1}{2} \) ounce, red pimientos very dry, pounded strained. Keep in closed box.

FOUR SPICES HOME STYLE
(Quatre Epices Ménagères)
Black pepper \( \frac{1}{4} \) ounce, Cayenne, Pimientos \( \frac{1}{4} \) ounce, ginger 110 grains, cloves \( \frac{1}{4} \) ounce when dry pound strain. Keep in closed box.

FINE SPICES FOR GAME
(Epices fines pour Gibier)
Juniper berries 1\( \frac{1}{2} \) ounces, Coriander \( \frac{1}{2} \) ounce, Majoran \( \frac{3}{4} \) ounce, Thyme \( \frac{1}{4} \) ounce, White pepper 1 ounce, lemon peel 25 grain. Dry, pound, strain. Keep in closed box, omit juniper berry, as the spice produces truffle extract for stuffing.

SPICES FOR PORK BUTCHER OR STUFFING
(Epices de Charcuterie)
White pepper 10 ounces, red pimientos \( \frac{1}{2} \) ounce, mace \( 1\frac{1}{2} \) ounces, nutmeg \( \frac{3}{4} \) ounce, cloves \( \frac{3}{4} \) ounce, thyme \( \frac{3}{4} \) ounce, cinnamon \( \frac{3}{4} \) ounce, bay leaves \( \frac{3}{4} \) ounce, sage \( \frac{1}{2} \) ounce, majoran \( \frac{1}{2} \) ounce, rosemary \( \frac{3}{4} \) ounce. Dry, pound, strain. Keep in bottle, closed well.

CAYENNE PEPPER (Poivre de Cayenne)
Used divers red strong guinea pimientos. When dry, pounded or grind very fine. Keep in bottle or box.

PAPRIKA
Same Cayenne. Use sweet and violet pimentoes. Chili powder. Use Mexican peppers and violet pimentoes w. oregan herbs and camino seeds.
CURRY POWDER (Curry or Curie)
Condiment very aromatic, originally from India. Use square yellow pimentoes 2½ ounces, coriander 1¼ ounces, Saffron ½ ounce, ginger 1¼ ounce, cayenne ¾ ounce. Dry, pound, strain. Keep in bottle well closed.
NOTE.—Be careful when you buy spices or condiments that they are not falsified.

BAKING POWDER—How to make
Cream of Tartar 1½ ounce, bicarbonate of soda ¾ ounce, tartaric acide ¼ ounce, starch ½ ounce, mix all together, keep in box.

CHEMICAL REFRIGERATING BATH
Used when ice is not obtainable. (Bain chimique).
Sulphate of soda 1 lb. 12 ounces, dry muriate ammonia 1 lb. 2 ounces, dry nitrate of potash 1 lb., water 16 quarts, pour the liquid into wooden tub, turn quickly.

REMEDY FOR BURNS (Brulure)
Lime water 3 ounces, almond oil 3½ ounces, whip to a moss, apply liberally, bind tight with cloth, or turpentine, olive oil, and powdered alum.

CIDER (Cidre.)
Prohibition has come and we will have to make our own cider. Therefore it is necessary to publish some recipes in this book. Cider is prepared in a great many different ways, but the ordinary way is the best. Crush the apples and add a little water according to the quality and the quantity one desires. Press to obtain pure cider. Fermentation is made in skimming it. To make the cider clear add ¾ ounces of tartaric acid for 25 gallons. One can also ferment the pulp in a barrel and add water and sugar. It makes cider of second quality. An imitation cider is made of dried apples and figs. Put in a barrel and let it ferment with grapes and juniper berries. Composition 90 quarts of water, 8 pounds apples, 4 pounds grapes, 2 pounds of figs, ½ pound juniper berries. Let macerate 8 or 10 days according to temperature. Put in bottle and let bottle stand up. This cider is inoffensive and cheap.

CIMENT

In the kitchen, as in domestic economy, is often used for different purposes. Following are a few recipes for making cheap cement.

Ciment for Aquarium, Gelatine $\frac{1}{2}$ lb., chromate of potassium $1\frac{1}{2}$ ounces. Dissolve same quantity of water, add chromate of potassium. To wet aquarium in dark room expose after in light. Preserve in dark room.

Ciment for glass 1st, Cottage cheese. Pounded w. slack lime. Make glue very hard. Use quickly and keep liquid. 2d. Whip white of an egg, drain one night on top of sieve, mix water egg with powder lime, good for porcelain or china.

Ciment for range, furnace, Ferruginous ashes (scoria) pounded very fine, mixed w. 1 lb. kitchen salt, moisten w. little water made on paste, use after the range is cold.

Corns AND SOFT PERSPIRING FEET

Corns (hard), Extract cannabis indica 15 grains, salicylic acid 1 dram, flexible collodion, 1 ounce, mix well, painting with brush.

Corns (soft), Use powdered sulphur for them 3 times a week.

Perspiring, Wash and rinse in clear water, apply a solution of alcohol and salicylic acid in 1 quart alcohol, 1 tablespoon salicylic.

Tender feet, Bathe morning and evening, change stockings daily, massage with solution 80% olive oil and 20% menthol.

DISTILLATION

Oils, essences and acids are distilled to obtain their extractions and purification. Prohibition forbids the publishing of any recipes for wines and liquors, such as: Beers, wines, cordials, elixir, fruit wines, cocktails, etc.

Crack and Carmel, Large Crack...310 to 345 150

GREASE (Graisse)

Grease should be made more or less hard, but always white and without any odor. The culinacry artist always uses pure white grease.

Modelling grease—preparation

Composition: Mutton kidney fat 4 lbs., leaf lard 2 lbs., boric acid 30 grains, bicarbonate of soda ½ ounce, water 1 qt., cleaned and cut the grease in dice, soak in water until white. Then put in pan w. water, boric acid and bicarbonate soda. Cook slowly in bain-marie. When the grease is dissolved, strain, when cold pound, strain through fine hair sieve two times. Knead. Keep in damp cloth. All receipts from Mr. A. Escoffier, my former chef, who was an artist in wax flowers.

To compound Grease

Flower Grease—Preparation
Comp. Stearin $\frac{1}{2}$ lb., White of Whale 4 ounces, Balsam Gum 1 ounce. Dissolved in bain-marie. Very good for fine leaves of flowers.

Frying Grease.

Frying grease is divided into 5 different kinds, such as: oil, grease, lard, suet and clarified butter. For frying, oil and liquid grease is best. In all fried articles be careful not to color or burn. One can tell the degree of the heat by the smoke. At 210 degrees Fahrenheit the smoke is claudy and light, but becomes blue when it attains the maximum degree.

HOW TO CARVE (Découpage)

Successful carving requires good tools, skill and a knowledge of how to carve. Skill depends upon the individual, the good tools are these:
1 sharp-bladed knife,
1 fork, two or three pronged,
1 pair carving scissors (used only in the kitchen),
2 serving spoons, one with a long handle for reaching stuffings.

How to carve, here are a few points usually observed:
(1) Meat to be carved should be conveniently near the person carving it. (2) It should be placed on a dish sufficiently large so the dish will not have to be moved. The carving dish should be sufficiently deep, so the meat will not slip in it. (3) Beef, veal, lamb, pork, ham and mutton are sliced thin as a general rule.
‘Ribs or beef or sirloin”. Cut each slice through to the bone. Loosen each slice at the bone with the point of the knife, make the slice thin or thick, remove superfluous fat. “Loin and ruak”. Begin carving at the best end, cutting a complete chop for each person served. If the loin is large and each portion of the vertebrae too thick have the vertebrae sawed in the kitchen or boned so the slices will be thinner. “Leg”. Cut the leg across the center to the bone. To do this stand the leg up. Thinner part uppermost. Serve a portion of knuckle with each slice of thick end. “Forequarters”. Preliminary carving should be done in the kitchen. The shoulder should be put on a separate plate. The carver will then have a loin and a shoulder or leg to carve.

“Saddle”. Cut English style in lengthwise, slices out of the bone. Slice thick.

“Ham”. Cut through straight to the bone, working from the center near the thick end. Cut from upper side, serving fat and lean evenly. Serve thin circular slices.

“Tongue”. Slice from the center working both ways. If the tongue is of a large animal do not cut through to the bottom part. The bottom and tip are usually chopped and used in cooking.

“Chicken”. Put a fork in the wing and with a knife cut it off. In taking off the leg, first slip the knife between the leg and the body and cut, then turn the leg back w. the fork and remove it. Later separate the first and second points. Slice the breast, remove the wishbone, separate the side bones and collar bone so the back is left.

“Turkey”. Follow the procedure suggested. Do not serve the drumstick or lower part of the leg unless it is requested, this being rather hard. Turn the platter (or the turkey) and carve the other.

“Goose and ducks”. Follow the suggestion given, the breast and legs are choice portions.

“Partridge, Squabs, Quail”, etc. Split to be broiled

“Hare, rabbit, etc.” To remove the legs and shoulders right down the back, cooking them “spread eagle” fashion. Frequently paper frills are put on the legs, making it possible to handle them easily.

Put the knife near the joint and w. a twisting motion of the fork make the separation. Put the portions which are regarded as the choicest.

“Fish”. As a steel knife is said to injure the delicate flavor of fish a silver fish slicer or knife should be used. Short-grained fish, like salmon, should be cut crosswise, but long-grained fish should be cut lengthwise. Care should be taken not to separate the flakes.

JAMS (Confitures)

Jams are cooked fruits with aromatic condiments and should not be mistaken for marmalade or jelly. Marmalade is a puree, jelly is the juice of transparent fruit. There are three different kinds of jams—dried jam, made with the skin of large fruit, jam of the pulp made with the pulp of peeled fruit, and jam of berries, cherries, grapes, prunes and currants preserved whole with the skins. Fruits to be preserved should be picked before they are ripe. Fruits bought in stores are used for decorations.

General Rule

For all fruits add 2 quarts of sugar, for 1 quart of cooked fruit juice, modify according to the sweetness or the sourness of the fruit by three ounces more or less, if the fruits are not preserved with enough sugar they turn sour, and if there is too much sugar they turn into candy. Keep stirring the bottom of the pot well so the fruit will not stick. When they are cooked put in glasses or jars covered with paper dipped in cognac or cover with paraffine.

Bar le Duc style. White or red currants, remove the seeds, cook in honey. Bar le Duc is a town in France, renowned for currant jam.

ORANGE MARMALADE

Wash, cut the oranges in small pieces, and slice skin very thin. Add lemon juice, measure the juice and pulp, then add an equal quantity of cold water. Let stand uncovered for 24 hours. Boil uncovered for 1½ hours; let stand again 24 hours. Add an equal quantity of sugar and boil till jelly is formed. Turn into hot sterilized glasses. This makes from 8 to 10 glasses of mild clear jelly with the fruit suspended in it.

(For Sweet Pickled Fruit)

Pick out fruit that is not too ripe, add ¾ pint good vinegar to 1½ pounds sugar, reduced according to fruit. Add spices to your taste; cinnamon, cloves, ginger and lemon peel. Pears, Peaches, Blackberries, Figs, Strawberries, Cherries, Prunes and Apples can be used. It is very delicious and can be served with turkey, chicken and roast.

MILK (Le Lait)

Milk is highly nutritious and is adapted to promote the growth of children and youth, and the fact that nature has ordained it as the natural food for infants, is no mean guaranty of its ability. Milk promotes sleep and therefore is better for supper, especially for children and probably for the wakeful. Sour milk and sweetened buttermilk are nutritious and healthy—more so than sweet milk, because milk must be curdled before it can be digested.

Some consumptives attribute their recovery to the use of buttermilk. Sweet cider added to curdled milk makes a delicious and wholesome drink. Scientists have been debating a long time to find out in which manner milk should be taken, boiled or fresh from the cow. Some people complain, after drinking milk that they are deranged, but that comes from drinking too hurriedly. It is necessary to consume a cup of milk in five minutes time. Milk is used in the culinary department as a basis for cream soups, vegetables, sauces, pastry and ice creams. Different milk employed in alimentation are: cow, goat, mares, ewe and reindeer. Sterilized milk is milk reduced to the consistency of cream by evaporating in vacuum and then thoroughly sterilized.

To keep fresh milk from decomposing put 65 grains bicarbonate of soda to one quart of milk. After certain preparation of cream and milk, butter and cheese are made in every part of the world. The Russian makes Kumyss and brandy with mares milk. The Turks make their caimak or cream with milk of ewes.

OIL (Huile)

Oil replaces butter in certain countries. It is extracted from fruits, grain seeds and plants. The best oil comes from olives, and the best producing countries are Nice, France, California and Lucca, Italy.
The second quality of oil is made from walnuts, hazelnuts, almonds, sesame, peanuts, flaxseed, cotton, poppy seeds and colza.

Always use the first quality oil in everything edible.

To prevent oil from becoming rancid, put in acid sulfophenique 2%.

PERPETUAL VINEGAR (Vinaigre Perpetual)

Buy a small keg of “mother” vinegar. Draw a few quarts and make aromatic vinegar. Replace quantity taken out by wine or cider. Close keg with a piece of linen. Keep in cellar 40 to 50 degrees Fahr.

How to make divers aromatic vinegar.

Tarragon Leaves 1 lb., 6 qt. vinegar, 15 days.
Celery, celery seeds 1 lb., 5 qt. vinegar, 8 days,—strained.
Hunter Style, Elderflowers 1 ounce, fresh juniper seeds 10 ounces, savory 1½ ounces, vinegar 3 qt., let stand 15 days, strain and filter.

Aromatics, Slice 5 heads of garlic and 20 shallots, bay leaves 10, Cloves 20, Salad burnett 2 ounces, mint 1 ounce, balm ¼ ounce, crushed pepper ½ ounce, coarse salt 7 ounces, vinegar 10 quarts, let stand 40 days, stir occasionally, filter, put in bottles.

PRESERVES (Conserves)

Different methods of conserving are: The dessication of fruits, vegetables and meats, the smoked, dried and cocked fruits put in alcohol, the juice of meats and fruits, such as loaves and tablets; the jams, marmalades and jellies; pickled meat, fish, vegetables and butter. Jellies, grease and oils are conserved in vinegar, sugar and alcohol, and must be tightly closed so no air can penetrate. The best method of conserving is the Appert system, which is: boiling of the cans or steaming of the jars. The method of to-day is the refri-
PRESERVES

All articles put in the refrigerator should be absolutely fresh. Experts should be named by the Board of Health, to inspect all food, to see that it is fresh before putting in cold storage.

Appert System

Cook or scald the meat, vegetable or fruit, put in a bottle well corked and tie with a string. Put in a large pot with hot or cold water. Let boil from 10 to 30 minutes according to the substance. Put straw around the bottles in boiling, so they will not crack.

Preserved eggs (Œufs conservés)

The perfect conservation of eggs is not yet known. The method most employed is: Cooked in lime paraffin, silicate of soda, or refrigerator.

Preserved by Coction, Dip very fresh eggs 2 minutes in boiling water, let cool immediately; keep in sand in a cool place.

Preserved in lime water, Quick lime 2 lbs., 30 quarts water, put eggs in jar, dissolve lime in water, so that all of the eggs are covered over with the solution.

Preserved in Silicate of Soda, Put eggs in jar, cover with solution of silicate of soda and water, let stand in solution 10 minutes, then take each egg separately and put between two sticks, when dry turn over and brush with the solution. Keep on husks of grain.

Preserved in Refrigerator, latest style, Put boxes in cold storage, or break the eggs in a can or in a solution of salicylate of soda, or the yellow of eggs dried.

Preserved Olives, green or ripe.

Put 6 per cent of wood ashes and equal quantity of slack lime, let olives stand 48 hours, change the water every 24 hours for 10 days, then in the following pickled composition, which is: 12 quarts water, 1 pound coarse salt, fennel, bay leaves, coriander; let boil 1 hour, strain. Put olives in this composition when it is cold. The olives can be eaten after 15 days. Olives put in a jar with olive oil and garlic for 3 or 4 days are very appetizing.
Preserved Vegetables (Conserve de Légumes)

Whole Artichoke, Trim, rub with lemon, scald in boiling salt water 5 minutes, drain. Put in can with oil or water, close tight, let boil 15 minutes.

Bottom Artichoke, Turn, rub with lemon quickly, boil 10 minutes w. lemon juice and salt, put in can with same coction, or butter, boil 10 minutes.

Asparagus (Asperges), Cut same size, peel and wash, put in salt boiling water 1 minute, then in cold water for 5 minutes, then fill can and cover with same coction. Put in cold water, and take out after first ebullition.

Beets (Betteraves), Choose young beets, do not trim, wash well, cook, then peel, fill can with same coction or salt water. Boil 15 minutes.

Chestnuts (Marrons), Peel, do not break, put in syrup 20 degrees, cook slowly until syrup is 32 degrees, repeat every day until chestnuts are ready, at least 8 or 10 days, cover with boiling syrup and then reduce syrup 2 degrees each day. Glaze with vanilla cooked sugar.

Chestnut Puree (Puree de Marrons), Peel, cook in water, drain, strain in fine sieve. Let dry, put in box.

Cucumbers (Concombres), Whole or cut in two, take out seeds, put in jar with salt, vinegar, tarragon, whole peppers, onions and cloves, or salted only.

Gherkins (Cornichons), Wash, put in salt 1 day, stir occasionally, fill jar, cover with boiling vinegar, small onions and tarragon, keep in cool place.

Gumbo or Okra (Gombo or Bamia), Whole or cut, fill can with salt water, boil 15 to 30 minutes, according to size.

Hop Shoots (Jets de Houblous), Break, do not cut, clean, cook in boiling water with plenty of lemon juice, or citric acid. Fill can with coction, and let boil 10 to 15 minutes, according to size of can.

Mushrooms (Champignons), Peel fresh mushrooms, put in lemon juice and water, then cook with butter and salt quickly 3 minutes. Put in can or bottle with coction, then boil 15 minutes.
Green Peas (Petit Pois), Choose fresh, small green peas, all the same size. Put 1 quart peas in a casserole with 1½ quarts of water and ¼ ounce of salt, put peas in only when water boils. Large peas boil 7 minutes, medium 6 minutes, small 5 minutes. Prepare following solution: carbonate soda, salt, water and sugar, let boil. Fill bottles or cans, and pour solution on when cold. Close tight, put in cold water, and let boil 16 min. for quarts, and 12 min. for pints.

Green and Sweet Peppers (Pimentos), Green peppers, empty the top and put a layer of salt. Sweet peppers, fried in olive oil, peel, put in can or bottle and cover with same oil close tight, then let boil 10 minutes.

Small Onions (Oignons), Peel, put in cold water with lemon juice and salt, scald 5 minutes, drain. Put in a jar with white vinegar and small pimentos.

Spinach (Epinards), Peel, boil 5 minutes, put in cold water, then in can with salt water, and let boil 15 minutes.

String Beans (Haricot vert), Peel, scald, large 2 min., medium 1½ min., fine 1 min., put in cold water, then in can or bottle, fill with solution made of salt and water. Let boil 10 to 20 min., take out after first ebullition.

Tomatoes (Tomates), Peel, take out the seeds, cook, put in can with coction, let boil 20 min. Puree tomatoes, strain, reduce, put in can or bottle, close tight, let boil 20 minutes.

Tomatoes, green (Tomates vertes), same preparation used for gherkins.

Truffles (Truffes), Clean and brush, put in can with salt, cook in cold water 1½ to 3 hours according to size. Keep cool in same water with sherry or madeira.

Fish in Oil

Sardines or Herrings, Clean, cut off head, fry in oil, range in box, close, boil 5 minutes. All other fish 10 to 15 minutes according to size of can.

Salt Fish or in Brine

Clean, range in box or keg alternate with salt or divers brine with aromatic herbs.
HOW TO MAKE SOAP (Savons mou et dur)

Save all of the grease from cooking, clarify, and you have your daily common soap.

Composition, hard soap: 1 qt. water for 13 ounces of lye, dissolve, add w. 6 lbs. grease, warm and melt, pour in a suitable mould. Comp. soft soap: 2 galls. water for 13 ounces of lye, boil, dissolve, add 6 lbs. grease and 1 gall. water, boil slowly until the soap is transparent, add 9 galls. hot water and stir all together.

JAVEL WATER

Composition: 13 ounces of lye, dissolve w. 10 galls. water and 2 lbs. washing soda.

SYRUP OF FRUITS (Sirops de Fruits)

Syrup flavored w. different sorts of fruits.
Use any kind of fruit, and proceed in this manner: Increase or reduce the amount of sugar, according to the juice of the fruit you use. Composition: Choose very ripe fruit, crush and let repose in basin for 24 hours, then press the juice out. For 2 quarts of juice ½ pound sugar or more, ½ stick of vanilla. Macerate for 1 month in demijohn or small barrel, let draw slowly until clear, then filter through paper.

RASPBERRY SYRUP WITH VINEGAR

This syrup is used for dysentery and is anti-choleric. Crush raspberries with vinegar, according to quantity. For 2 qts. of juice add 4 lbs. of sugar, let stand 15 days, then bottle and close hermetically.

SYRUP OF ROSES AND VIOLETS

Choose roses or violets, highly perfumed. Composition: 2 lbs. petals, 2¼ qts. of boiling water. Put petals in a silver or enamel vase, pour boiling water on, close tight, let macerate 18 hours, strain in fine cloth, then press quickly, let stand 4 hours, always tightly close. Take out of vase, and add for every 2 lbs. of infusion 3¾ lbs. of white sugar candy, then sugar and the infusion together in the vase, and do not let evaporate, then put in bain-marie, and let warm slowly until sugar is dissolved, take out, let cool, always keeping tightly closed. Put in dry, clean bottles and cork well, then place in a closet, where there is no light, nor any noise. The rose syrup can be slightly colored with carmine.

COLD SYRUP (Sirop à froid)

For uncooked sugar syrup use 2 lbs. of sugar and 1 qt. water, which makes 34 degrees syrup.

Hot same quantity, makes 32 degrees syrup. Same w. 1½ lbs. sugar and ½ qt. of water makes 22 degrees syrup.

SUGAR AND ICING, how to make (Sucre et Fondant)

Cooked sugar 39 degrees. Work on marble slab w. acetic acid. Work with palm of the hand, add coloring, flavoring or chocolate the last moment.

ROYAL ICING

Use icing sugar and white eggs, beat well. Duck eggs are preferred, as they make a whiter icing. Cooked icing: 1 lb. sugar cooked 37 degrees, add 4 whipped whites of eggs.

TEA (Thé)

Green tea is more stimulating than black. It produces wakefulness and cramps in the stomach. It is an energetic stimulant and should be used moderately. In cold countries like England, Holland, America and Russia, tea replaces wine by its powerful stimulating qualities. The Chinese prepare tea to perfection and for them it is a national secret.

Black Tea

Pekoe or Pak-ho, Pekoe d'assam, Pekoe orange, Congo, Koong-foo, Pouchou Paou-chung, Souchon Seaou-chung, Tea Bohea, Wood-e of Fokien, Bovi-bou of Canton, Oolong, English, in fusion w. boiling water 5 to 10 min. according to strength you desire.

Green Tea

Hyson He-chun, Poudre á canon, Choo-cha, Imperial Hyson Schoulang, Hysoon Junior, Yu-tseen, Tonkay tun-he, Hyson skin.
WATER (L'Eau)

Iced or cold water taken in summer aids the digestion, but it is not prudent to drink if one is perspiring. Warm water is effervescent and produces vomiting. Hot water, with a pinch of salt, a little lemon juice or sugar, acts upon the digestive organs and kills the germs. But no matter in what form water is taken, it must be potable. Water is an efficient promoter of normal action, of universal life. Of its wonderful hearing virtues—of which it contains a large proportion—is probably the chief instrumentality.

TO PRESERVE WATER (Conservation de l'Eau)
The most simple and cheap way to conserve potable water is to put in a piece of charcoal, according to quantity.

TO CLARIFY MUDDY WATER (Clarification de l'Eau Trouble)
If you have no filter, use ½ ounce of alum to 100 quarts of water; the water will become clear in a few seconds, as all of the sediment will go to the bottom.

ARTIFICIAL MINERAL WATER (Eaux Artificielles)
Dissolve in water, salts from the natural springs and sparkling water.

NATURAL MINERAL WATERS (Eaux Minérales)
Mineral waters are divided in 5 classes such as: sulphur, chlorate, bicarbonate, sulphate and ferruginous. Mineral waters not classed are: alkaline, natural salts from the springs and iodures. They are other spring waters not classified. In the Duchy of Nassau, there is a natural Seltzer water spring.

YEAST FOR PASTES (Levure pour Pâtes)
When yeast cannot be obtained, make it yourself in this manner: farinaceous potatoes 2 pounds, 4 ounces molasses, ½ pint beer. Boil potatoes, peel, mash w. warm water, add molasses when fermentation sets in, then beer, stir. Keep in warm place, ready for use in 24 hours. This yeast is good also for bread. (See bread and baking powder.)
Happiness is the constitutional and only legitimate product of every organ of the body, every faculty of the mind, every element of our being. Pleasure in quaffing, luxuriantly the fresh air of heaven and then in expending the vitality, thus obtained, is the only natural function of respiration. Benevolence was created to bless the needy, pour the oil of consolation into the wounded soul, avoid causing pain, and adorn human nature, as well as to render the giver himself also happy, it being still more blessed to give than to receive.

Value of health

Therefore exceeds that of anything else because it imports the greatest attainable zest and relish to life and all its blessing. Nor can we enjoy life, except by its instrumentality and in proportion to its vigor. Without it, what can we do or become, or enjoy? When disease has destroyed appetite, the most delicious fruits and food only nauseate; yet how much a keen appetite, consequent on excellent health, relishes them? Well might the glutted epicure offer the beggar boy a guinea for his morning's appetite. The rich invalid is poor because he can not enjoy his possession, yet the healthy are therefore rich, because their fund of life and capabilities of being happy are great. Those who have always enjoyed health, little realize its uses or value. As we measure time by its loss, so we rarely estimate the blessings of health till it declines. Oh, I would give my all—all the world if mine—for the repossession of that health—life—I have carelessly and wantonly squandered, and that without having received any value. in return for this choicest gift of heaven. Then what consummate foolishness to trifle with health as almost all do now? Esau's folly was wisdom in comparison with those who carelessly give away a lifetime of vigor for one of feebleness—who even barter life itself for some momentary indulgence. Let then the preservation of health be the great concern, the paramount business of life, as it is the perfection of wisdom and the great instrumentality of enjoyment. Since health consists in the normal and vigorous action of all the physical functions, its preservation of course consists in their preservation and its restoration in their restoration.

"Meat gives force and strength."

Brute force it does, but of this men has relatively too much already, as we shall soon show. "Would you then," it is farther objected, "have us abstain from flesh, and thus become as pusillanimous as the Hindoos?"

But are the meat eating Indians and Laplanders so very forcible? What have they ever accomplished—what triumph ever achieved other than with the scalping knife and the tomahawk? If meat alone gives force one Indian would master two pale faces whereas one white man is equal to a score of red ones. The former eat less meat, yet, under every disadvantage has driven the latter back and back again, farther and still farther upon the setting sun, till they bid fair-foul to exterminate his race. Admitted that meat gives force, yet mark the kind of force it imparts. Analogous to that of the tiger and wolf—force to dare and kill rather than to do.

Does the lion accomplish so much more than the horse? Or is the wild bull so extra tame and feeble? Do not both the strongest and the fleetest of animals live upon vegetables? The elephant and rhinoceros eat no meat, yet their muscular power and endurance far transcend those of the lion and the tiger. The deer, antelope and gazelle live on herbage, yet distance all flesh-eating animals in the open chase. Since, therefore, the fleetest and the strongest of animals eat no meat, must man eat it, or be weak or sluggish? Or to apply this principle directly to man: Is the Highland Scotchman, who was brought up on oatmeal, and tasted meat no oftener than the moon quartered, so very inefficient? Are the potato-fed Irish weak? Can our own beef-gourmands dig or carry more? Try, you meat advocates. The rice-fed Chinese will outdo "John Bull" and "Uncle Sam" except in shedding blood. So will the herbenious inhabitants of the Pacific Isles. Not that animal food does not develop muscular strength. Carnivorous animals are strong, but herbiverous animals are stronger, yet have less propensity. Hence since meat develops propensity, yet it is not necessary to either strength or force—since it animalizes and depraves, and thus does a positive damage, but not a necessary good—why injure ourselves by consumption?

HYGIENE, DIET, LONGEYITY

"Cuisine, c'est la médecine; c'est la médecine préventive la meilleure"—J. Michelet.

Dieting consists in abstaining from certain foods, and it is very necessary to follow a hygienic diet in certain diseases. Every mistress of the house, and also the cook should know how, and what to do in an emergency case.

Meat shortens people's lives by decades. I mean that people who wish to live a century, must not eat meat—especially the highly proteid meats. The whole secret of perpetual youth, is a complete supply of food, to all the cells of the body combined, with ridding the cells of all waste matter. To accomplish this, you must cut out food excess proteids, and cut down cereals, including bread, and eat less sodium or common salt.

Second: eat plenteously of food containing potassium salts. You will find them in all kinds of salads. Water cress is one of the best elixirs of life. Consume more organic acids, which are best obtained from grapes, raisins, oranges, apples and citrons. Acids, remove waste from the arteries, soften them, and reopen the blood vessels. Any man showing signs of old age, should take three months of this diet, and he would become young again. Lastly eat garlic and onions, the greatest intestinal cell antiseptic in the world, without being destructive like drugs. (Read each article on vegetables.) They will cure the most malignant skin and blood diseases known. Two ounces of garlic daily is the greatest preventative of old age.

Another great fault of mankind is, that all drink too much. I do not mean alcoholic beverages, but too much coffee, tea, milk, besides beer, wine and spirits. It is not what is drunk, but how much. Too much fluid lessens a man's power of resistance. For instance things growing wet, develop rapidly and then die. Look at the water lily. Things growing in dry places take longer to mature, are much healthier, and live longer. Look at the oak. The same principles apply to human beings. I am not for prohibition—I believe in wine and beer. Every man and woman of more than fifty should have a glass of wine daily; it dilates the capillaries of the body, preventing the closing of the blood vessels. A glass of beer daily helps a person after forty. Hard drink is wholly bad. I am against alcohol in any form, for any one under forty; it is unnecessary. Getting intoxicated once a month does not hurt according to Raspail, the great French doctor, eating the greatest steak once a week does not hurt—but the steady drinker and meat eater wears down the body's vitality, fills his cells with waste matter, and hardens the arteries. Georges Clemenceau, the "Old Tiger of France", owes his wonderful mentality and activity to his diet of vegetables and milk, and in going to bed early, and arising early.

So it is very necessary to follow a practical diet, to aid or cure certain diseases, in following the several different culinary preparations.

FEVER AND BRONCHITIS (Fièvre et Bronchites)

The general rule for fever and bronchitis is to take all aliments in liquid form, regularly and in small quantities. The patient can be served the following aliment:s: Chicken bouillon, beef, mutton or oyster broth. The white of an egg beaten and mixed with orange juice or lemon, or egg beaten with milk or water.
HYGIENE

DIABETES (Diabtes)

Until now medical science has not discovered any cure for diabetes, and it is only the kitchen diet that will aid or cure the patient. One can use the following aliment:s: Raw or cooked oysters in water, all kinds of fresh or salted fishes, in oil; all meats with the exception of calf's liver, mutton, tripe, ham and sausage. One can eat moderately venison or chicken without any sauces. Bouillon of beef, mutton, chicken, without any flour, rice or any substance containing starch. Vegetables to be used: cabbage, cauliflower, asparagus, spinach, mushrooms, tomatoes, lettuce, chicoree, olives, radishes, cucumbers, onions, turnips and celery. Bread and cake in any style should be prepared with a special flour: gluten, soya, without corn or flour. Almonds, nuts, oranges, lemons, cherries, strawberries and raspberries, these last three should be eaten moderately. Coffee, tea and milk can be taken but without any sugar. French red wine of first quality can be taken as an appetizer or after the meals. Beer is absolutely forbidden. Drink Seltzer water, Spa and Vichy and milk.

Do not eat these fruits and vegetables: Chestnuts, potatoes, rice, beets, carrots, parsnips, dried beans or green peas, in fact anything containing starch.

DYSPEPSIA, DIARRHOEA, GASTRIC, CATARRH, ASTHMA (Diarrhée, Dyspepsie, Gastrite, Catarrhe, Asthme)

The treatment of all these diseases depends upon hygiene and green vegetables. One can use the following aliment:s: Soup of beef, chicken, mutton, oysters, rice, barley, tapioca and vermicelle. Meat, such as boiled calf's brains, sweetbreads, boiled or roasted, beer, mutton, chicken boiled or roasted without gravy, turkey, squabs and other birds cooked in the same manner; fish, such as mackerel, perch, trout boiled or roasted, oysters raw or cooked, eggs raw or soft boiled. Vegetables such as: asparagus, spinach, green peas, beans, potatoes boiled or baked, carrots, lettuce, cress without any vinegar. Farinaceous food such as: rice, sago, corn, tapioca, vermicelle, stale bread. Dessert such as: blanc-mange, tapioca or rice pudding. Fruits such as: oranges, lemon, raw or baked apples and grapes, compote of peaches, apricots, prunes, pears and cherries. Fat aliments such as: butter, cream, pure olive oil. Beverages such as: drink pure milk or water, principally between meals, tea, coffee and mineral waters, Vichy and Appollinaris. Absolutely forbidden: soup of rice, fried aliments of any kind, pork, veal, salted meat, liver, kidneys, duck, goose, sausage, crab, lobster, preserved fish or salted, salmon, sardines, celery, corn, radishes, cabbage, tomatoes, cucumbers, potatoes, beets, and salads, pastry, nuts or cheese. No alcoholic beverages, weak tea and coffee. For diarrhoea, eat butter in small quantities. Use port wine or cognac in small quantities and at intervals.

CONSTIPATION, ANEMIE AND LEUCORRHEA

The greatest attention should be given to the regularity of the intestinal organs. But as there are so many different kinds of constipation, nearly every case has a different treatment. To obtain a good result, one should not take any medicine, but follow a strict diet. For Anemia: wholesome, nourishing food which can be digested easily, sunshine and hygienic are the best cures for anemic persons. The diet consists of: soups of chicken, mutton, oysters, tapioca; meats: beefsteak, lamb, roast mutton, brains, boiled sweetbreads, chicken, pigeon, turkey roasted or boiled; Fish, oysters, prepared in any style such as: mackerel, perch, and trout; raw or soft boiled eggs; Vegetables: asparagus, spinach, sorrel, celery, onions cooked, green peas, tomatoes, carrots, turnips, cauliflower, lettuce, water cress, Farinaceous food; tapioca, vermicelle, bread made of corn or wheat; Dessert: sorbet, blanc-mange, honey, rice pudding, tapioca; Fruits: lemon, oranges, baked or raw apples, grapes, peaches and pears compote, plums, cherries and figs. Fat substances: butter, cream, olive oil; Beverages between meals: milk pure, or taken with tea or coffee, cider, mineral waters, vichy, appolinaris, poland, lithia, carlsbad. Forbidden aliments: chocolate, strong tea, wine, rice, cheese, alcoholic beverages in any form.

GOUT, RHEUMATISM, KIDNEYS AND BLADDER

(Goutte, Rhumatime, Reins et Vessie)

These diseases are very painful at times. The chef cook and rich peoples are generally the ones that suffer from these diseases. All excesses in all pleasures should be immediately stopped. Eat plain nourishing food, and do not eat any greasy substances, abstain from starchy food and sugar. Soups of meat, rice and vermicelle, eat vegetables moderately. Lean meats, lamb chops, broiled mutton, chicken roasted or broiled. Fish: oysters or trout. Eggs: raw eggs, limited quantity. Vegetables: spinach, green peas, potatoes, turnips, cauliflower, celery, onions, lettuce, water cress, all to be eaten without vinegar. Farinaceous food: a little rice, sago, tapioca or vermicelle, bread made of wheat or corn. Dessert: all kinds, raw or cookd, without sugar. Fruits: oranges, apples, peaches, plums, all to be eaten without any sugar. Fat substances: only butter. Beverages: milk or Vichy water weak tea or coffee without sugar. It is preferable to drink with the meals: Vichy, Appolinaris and Lithia. Forbidden aliments: Fat soups, any kind of fried substances, hard boiled eggs, pork, veal, turkey, salted or conserved meats, liver, kidneys, duck, goose, sausage, shrimps, salted or conserved fish, salmon, sardines, mackerel, radishes, mushrooms. asparagus, dried beans, tomatoes, beets, cakes, nuts, strong tea or coffee, alcoholic beverages, cheese, sorbets or cider. I recommend the Zelner Medecine for rhumatism. It can be had at any drug store or address the manufacturer:
W. J. Zelner, 333 Kearny Street, San Francisco, Cal.
EPILEPSY (Epilepsie)

Breakfast: Fresh ripe fruits, cereals, such as rice, boiled eggs or omelette, bread and butter, biscuits, milk and Vichy water.

Supper: bread, butter, cereals, compote of fruit, milk. If the sick person works a great deal, they can eat eggs and oysters. Absolutely forbidden: fried aliments of any sort, heavy or highly seasoned food, pastry, and alcoholic drinks, tea, coffee or any aliment difficult to digest.

SPERMATHOREE, GONORRHEE

All alcoholic drinks are strictly forbidden for people suffering from these diseases. Also abstain from drinking tea or coffee. Milk is the best drink in these cases. Do not eat any fat, or highly seasoned food. The nourishment should consist of aliments such as: rice, beans, bread made of wheat and corn.

ALIMENTATION FOR CHILD

The new born baby only nurses and sleeps, and only attention is paid to that during the first few months. The habits of the child should be regulated early. As the child grows older, it should not sleep so much in the day time, but the sleep at night should be the same. As the mother is the principal doctor for her child, she should pay attention to its food. Naturally children prefer cakes and candies to soup and bread. They should be fed regularly and at a certain hour. Never give a child any spiced food, nor too much sugar; the food should contain more salt than sugar. Children should be taught to use a spoon in the right hand, and the fork in left, the bread to be taken in the right hand. A knife should never be given to a child before the age of 6 or 7 years. The mother should pay great attention to the physical education of the child, and table hygiene. A well bred child or children will always give a good deal of pleasure to the parents. The celebrated French writer J. J. Rousseau says of children: If a mother wishes to spoil her children, let her give them everything they ask for, and then it is the mother who will suffer afterwards.
HYGIENE

POISONING (Empoissonnement)

Ptomaine poisoning is caused frequently by mussels, oysters, crabs, fish, pork, and ice cream; and very often mushrooms.

First: Take away promptly the poison.

Second: To take the poison out of the system give the patient a vomitif, 130 grains of ipecacuanha in a glass of water. For purgatif 1 tablespoonful of magnesia in a glass of water with a little sugar. Give an enema, 1 1/4 quarts of warm water and 2 tablespoonsful of kitchen salt. If the person does not die immediately from poisoning, then life can be saved with this remedy. If you have not any of these medecines in the house give the patient milk with the white of eggs to drink and an anemea with warm water and salt.

INDIGESTION (Indigestion)

Indigestion is caused by food not being well prepared, but sometimes by having taken cold, or by some great moral suffering. In cases of indigestion, take camomille tea, flavored with orange water. If this method does not stop the indigestion take a vomitif.

INTOXICATION (Ivresse)

It is said that to prevent intoxication, take a quarter of a glass of pure olive oil or sweet almond oil, before eating. The best method of all is to drink moderately, but sometimes it depends upon the disposition of the stomach, and one glass of champagne might intoxicate. Black coffee and a few drops of ammonia in Seltzer aids intoxication, as it arouses the nervous system. Give the following: water 4 ounces, essence of peppermint 1/2 ounce, liquid ammonia 12 drops. Mix, and give every quarter of an hour, two or three times; or sugar and water with a few drops of ammonia, or Bromo Seltzer.

THE DIGESTION (La Digestion)

Fortunately for the civilization of today, we have fire to cook our food. The advance made in culinary art has transformed everything.

It is to this science that civilization owes its regulated meals, which is the regime of good digestion. Medical science has classified certain aliments, by its degree of digestibility, comparing the human body to a wheel, which the fonctionment accepts and refuses certain matters. Think well, and you will digest well.

THE MARKET (Le Marché)

For the cook or housekeeper, the provisions are the fundamental stone of the kitchen.

The quality of the products depends upon the success of excellent cooking.

Why? Because there is no medicine in good cooking. All meats, chicken, large or small game, vegetables, fruits, butter for pastry should be fresh and of the finest quality.

There are no four seasons of today, as from the beginning of the year to the end, all products are to be found in the hot house or the refrigerator.
How to select provisions at the Market

POULTRY—Domestic turkeys, chicken, duck, geese, etc. are divided into two classes: young and old, the young ones are distinguished by their soft feet, soft cartilage at the tip of the breast bone, the skin is moist, smooth and fine-textured. Spring chicken is best to roast, broil or sauté, old ones are only boiled or braised.

Cock turkeys are preferable to hen turkeys. Young turkeys have smooth dark legs, pliable breast bone cartilage and are plump. Young turkeys are best roasted or broiled, old ones, boiled or braised.

Always select plump firm geese, the fat should be white and clear.

As to ducks, the wings should be tender, the fat more yellow, and the webbing of medium texture, not rough as in the case of old ducks and geese.

Young pigeons and squabs have pink legs, and light red flesh on the breast, the old ones are dark. Squabs are young, tame pigeons are generally raised for market purposes. They are as large as old ones, but are covered with pin feathers, and in quality resemble young ones.

GAME—Partridge, quail and grouse have full breasts, dark legs and yellow beaks.

Venison is dark red, with some white fat.

Hare, rabbits and opossum have smooth sharp claws, tender ears and paws, and short necks.

How to select fish

The eyes of fresh fish are bright, the gills red, the flesh very firm, the scales bright and gleaming, and the entire fish life-like. Fresh fish is practically odorless, although sea fish always more or less have an odor of the sea.

Fish should be thoroughly cooked, otherwise it is indigestible or poisonous. Therefore always buy fresh fish. Unscrupulous dealers dip tainted meats or fish in salicylate and then sell it as fresh. Always be careful in your buying.

BILL OF FARE (Menus)

A FEW MODELS OF BILL OF FARE

It is impossible to arrange exactly any bill of fare here, because every hotel or restaurant has its own style, according to the business and importance of the house. To facilitate the work and render quick service, the name of the dish should be written very distinctly on the menu or card. My opinion, and also the opinion of a good many of my colleagues, is that the kitchen of today merits more respect and should be classed among the arts, and every care should be taken to facilitate the daily task of the cook.
