PREFACE

That shorthand was used over two thousand years ago by the ancient Greeks and Romans is an established fact. Xenophon is believed to have used it in taking notes of the lectures of Socrates, which would take it back to the fifth century before Christ. At the famous trial of Catiline (63 B.C.) the stenographic rapidity of Marcus Tullus Tiro was at its height, and in the first century before Christ a discourse of Cato, according to Plutarch was taken down by shorthand reporters.

A single abbreviated sign represented each word in the language but century after century improvements in alphabetical systems have been made. The rapidly increasing vocabulary of the English language and the coinage of new words have necessitated improvements to keep pace with the times. The author of this work has spent many years in perfecting a system that will enable every shorthand writer to take as fast as anybody can talk. The result is the introduction of the Lusk Standardized Universal System of Shorthand. You will ask, "How fast is the Lusk System?" It can be written faster than any one can talk. A system that is capable of double the speed of the swiftest systems of writing ever devised.

The author has made a life study of all the various systems of shorthand writing—the ancient Greek and Roman stenographies, the German and the French stenographies and all of the English and American variations. Never before has any author ever attempted to introduce a system of writing the consonants only from the very beginning of a student's practice for the general outline of every word in the English language not represented by a sign-word or contraction. While vowels are introduced they are eliminated and what is commonly known as the corresponding style is ignored; the student from the very beginning knows only the briefest reporting style—the shortcuts and valuable expedients used by the swiftest reporters, using "sign-words" as it were, one or two strokes of the pen for entire sentences. By other systems, months and months of time are spent by the student in placing vowels in thousands of words before they attempt to take dictations while in the Lusk System, students' fingers are trained from the moment they learn the alphabet to take cleverly arranged dictations at 200 words-minute in the briefest reporting style while they are learning the principles.

Out of thousands of shorthand writers of other systems, only one possessing great agility of hand is swift enough to take ordinary speakers while every writer of the Lusk System can write faster than a speaker can articulate.

The system is scientifically perfect: Modernized, standardized and idealized with all the newly coined words and phrases that are not found in any other system of shorthand. The explanations are beautifully arranged, brief and to the point. Outlines are the swiftest and most legible, accurate and simple. It is not an experiment but has been tried out. To those shorthand writers who would make a name for themselves by becoming experts in the Lusk System will be able to compete in the world's speed contests for supremacy.

The object of the Lusk System is to enable every one who learns it to write as fast as anyone can talk. There is no limit to speed. 200 to 300 words-minute are acquired more easily than the ordinary stenographer takes 100 words-minute.

FRANK LUSK, Phonetician and Author.

Note:—Teachers and students are cautioned not to change or disarrange any part of the Lusk System as they will not be able to produce the desired results.

LESSON I

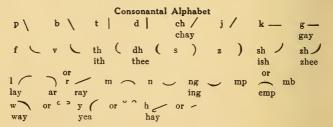

Alphabet

The novice will understand how it is possible to write at the rapidity of speech from the three general principles embodied in this shorthand system.

First.—Omitting all vowels, silent letters and ambiguous sounds; writing the consonants only, in each word.

Second.—Using simple characters instead of the complex letters in longhand. Every letter is written with one stroke and often two, three and four letters are written with one stroke, and with abbreviated forms, entire sentences are written with one stroke.

Third.—All frequently occurring words are represented by simple word-signs.

Direction of Consonants.—All uprights are written downward excepting Ray and Hay.

L when standing alone is written upward, when joined to other consonants it may be upward or downward which ever is most convenient. Rules appearing in Lesson X-Upward L is named Lay and downward L, EL.

Upward R is named Ray, and downward R, AR. Use which ever is the most convenient. Rules appearing in Lesson X.

RAY is written upward at an angle of 30 degrees and CHAY downward at an angle of 60 degrees.

SH when standing alone is written downward and called Ish. When joined to other consonants SH may be upward or downward, which ever is most convenient. When written upward it is named Shay.

W and Y are written two ways-strokes and semicircles. Use which ever is most convenient.

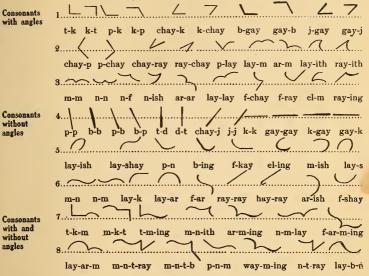

H is always written the most convenient way.

Rules for Joining Consonants.—When two or more consonants are joined they are written the same as when standing alone, the second commencing where the first ends, without lifting the pen.

When no angle exists between two or more consonants, write them with one continuous stroke, gradually shading from heavy to light or light to heavy, making the light consonants very light so that it will not be necessary to make the heavy consonants extremely heavy to distinguish the difference.

JOINED CONSONANTS

Reading and Copying Exercise

Consonantal Writing Exercise

Write the consonants sounded in the following words.—joke, duck, tape, keg, pope, poke, bug, make, fame, name.

D is silent and G takes a J sound.—budge, judge, fudge, nudge.

Real Sound of G named GAY .- peg, beg, keg, dug, fagot, fatigue.

T silent .- Dutch, fetch.

C takes a K sound.—cake, cub, came, cape, Cockney, comedy, Tacoma, decayed.

CH takes SH sound.-Chicago.

TH has two sounds, ITH.—path, bath, death, pathetic. THEE.—bathe, (lay) loathe, (ray) writhe.

When two consonants come together only one is sounded.—putty, funny, bunny, paddock, baggage, luggage, puffy, mussy.

RAY .- Perry, merry, cherry, berry, wretch, reap, rub, mayor.

AR .-- Rome, ream, romp, pair, bear, fair, chair.

LAY.—lazy, loaf, lake, ledge, lame, lamp, asleep, pale, jail.

EL.—elk, elm, file, veil.

Double Consonants are TH, SH, ZH, CH, NG, MP, MB.—theme, shake, shame, rouge, coach, poach, check, chump, jump, tongue.

LESSON II

Vowels

The vowels are a, e, i, o, u; each one having two or more sounds. Twelve vowels are necessary in shorthand, six long and six short, represented by three heavy dots and three heavy dashes, three light dots and three light dashes and placed at the beginning, middle or end of any consonant stroke, named first, second, third place respectively.

The vowels Below are Placed Before the Stroke T as Follows:

Vowels should be thoroughly committed to memory and always kept in reserve to be jotted in instantly when the consonantal outline is insufficient to represent the word, more especially necessary in proper names. Vowels are omitted after this lesson and consonants only should be written. Rules for position are given in the next lesson.

Vowels placed on the left side of upright consonants are read before and when placed on the right side are read after. Vowels placed above K, GAY, M, N, NG, MP or MB are read before and when placed below are read after.

Dash vowels are placed at right angles to the consonant but should not touch. The first place of descending consonants is at the top and the first place of ascending consonants at the bottom.

Rules for Placing Vowels when Occurring Between Two Consonants:

1st Place vowels and diphthongs are placed after the first consonant.

2d Place Vowels after the first consonant when long and before the second when short. 3d Place Vowels and Diphthongs before the second consonant.

I may be placed in the first or third position. When I precedes a consonant, place it in the first position and attach. If it follows a consonant, place it in the third position. Diphthongs may be attached to consonants when an acute angle is formed.

"When two vowels occur to one consonant, the vowel placed nearest is read next to that consonant."

Consonant and Vowel Writing Exercise

Words in Position of Accented Vowels.

Write the consonants in a word without lifting the pen, inserting the vowels afterwards, placing words with 1st place vowels above the line, words with 2d place vowels on the line and words with 3d place vowels through the line for uprights and under the line for horizontals.

Long Vowels.—me, knce, mail, know, own, gnaw, ace, say, ode, hay, shoe, ale, show, team, talk, meek, balk, teach, pope, shape, sheer, cake, fake. 1st Place light dot.—tip, bit, ditch, itch, pig, pithy, busy, Minnie.

2d Place light dot (before the 2d consonant).—beck, peg, fed, fetch, Jennie, heavy, bevy.

3d Place light dot (before the 2d consonant).—patch, nap, mash, taffy, Fannie, natty. 1st Place light dash.—odd, bob, fog, fob, lock, dodge, Johnny, folly.

2d Place light dash (before the 2d consonant).—pup, tuck, pug, tongue, thumb, buggy, dummy, funny.

3d Place light dash (before the 2d consonant).—cook, pussy, cooky, foot.

Long and Short Vowels:

AR .- air, arm, ark, pair, room, arrow.

RAY.—rub, reach, wreck, tarry, fairy, Nero, urge, earth. EL.—elk, alack, alum, alimony, lung, fall, nail, fuel, Nelly.

LAY.-league, mellow, mildew, lavish, lull, valley.

Diphthongs.—Isaac, idea, buy, lie, July, Irish, lyre, toil, coil, cow, mouth, vouch, view, hue, cue, lieu.

LESSON III

Circles and Loops

Position Writing.-All large words are written on the line.

Small words with 1st place vowels above the line. Uprights, one half their length above the line, horizontals full length above.

Words with 2d place vowels on the line.

Words with 3d place vowels through the line for uprights and under the line for horizontals,

- 1st Position.—When a descending consonant follows a horizontal, commence the horizontal a length and a half above the line.
- 2d Position.—When a descending consonant follows a horizontal, commence the horizontal a length above the line.
- 3d Position.—When a descending consonant follows a horizontal, commence the horizontal half a length above the line.

Position is determined by the accented vowels.

- Circles S and Z.—Represented by a small circle attached either at the beginning, end or between two consonants.—Line 1.
- Large Circles SES and SEZ.—Used for combinations of double S or Z, having an accented vowel between as in Passes, Phases; Cise in Exercise; Sis in Amanuensis; Sys in System; Saus in Sausage.—Line 2.

ST loop (also used for ZD) is one half and the STR loop is two thirds the length of a consonant.—Lines 3-4.

Small circle S may follow Ses, St, Str.-Line 4.

Circles S, SES, loops ST and STR are written on the right side of upright consonants, upper side of Kay, Gay and inside of curves. If the circles and loops are on the beginning they are read first, on the end last; when they occur between two consonants they are read between.—Lines 1-5.

Loops may be used independently, initially, finally and medially.—Lines 5-6-7.

Rules for Circle and Stroke S.—If a word begins with S use the circle, excepting when followed by two vowels as in Siam.—Line 8.

When a vowel precedes S as in Ask use the stroke.—Line 8.

If S ends the word use the circle, excepting when preceded by two vowels as in $\it Jewess.$ —Line 8.

When S is followed by a vowel as in Lassie use the stroke.—Line 8.

If a word begins with Z use the stroke-Line 8.

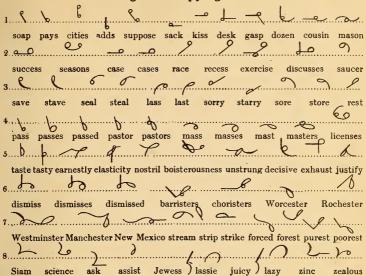

When the circle comes between two consonants write it the easiest way.

When a circle comes between two consonants forming an angle write it outside of the angle.—Line 1.

When a circle comes between a straight and a curved consonant write it inside of

When a circle comes between two curved consonants write it inside of the first curve.—Line 1.

Reading and Copying Exercise

Consonantal Writing Exercise

Circle S.—city, sip, sap, spy, sad, safe, soothe, sash, siege, scene, sung, simple, scheme; (lay) slab, lisp; sketch, (ar) sir, skip; (ray) cereal, sorry, rasp, race; summing. Choice, pace, apes, paws, chase, dose, loose, goose, mice, eggs, oats, bakes, tax. Bask, gasp, mask.

Stroke S.—scion, sciatic, Suez, sewer. -Chaos, Lewis. Assume, aspire. Pussy, (lay) Lucy, lessee.

Stroke Z.-zigzag, zouave. (ray) rosy, noisy.

Large Circle.—season, sausage, (lay) Sicily, (ray), Cicero. (ray) raises, pauses, causes, misses.

Circle S & SES.—Minneapolis, despises, successive, necessity, incisive, indisposes, (el) lessons Ioosens, Mississippi, Missouri, Cincinnati, mosquito, (ray) Syracuse, Venice, Saginaw, Savannah.

ST Loop.—stop, state, stiff, stamp, stave, steaming. Post, ghost, hoist, must, just, cast, August, discussed, disgust. Chased, past, nest, guest, masts, nests, (loop thickened for zd) housed, paused, caused, gazed, amused, chastised, disposed.

STR Loop.—Strap, strong, streak, stretch. Master, minister, (lay) solicitor, sinister. If a yowel follows ST, the loop cannot be used.—nasty, (ray) rusty, (lay) lusty.

LESSON IV

Vowel Word-Signs

Importance of learning word-signs speedily and perfectly should appeal to the beginner. Two thirds of the English language is composed of words of one syllable; their great value is especially noticeable in taking business letters and before doing so, one must write these word-signs as fast as they can be dictated.

			, 	١.	 1	,		30
of to	or b	ut on	should	all	already
ought	who	I ho		the	 and his	, is as	, has	first

Joined Word-Signs or Simple Phrasing

Two or more word-signs may be joined when an acute angle is formed, the first word is written in the same position as when standing alone and the others are joined regardless of their positions.

The ticks I, HE and the circles for IS, HIS, AS, HAS, however, accommodate themselves to the position of the word-signs and outlines.

HE tick is invariably written in the direction of Chay.

I tick is written in the direction of P or Ray.

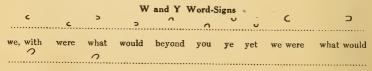

While dots represent the frequently occurring words The, A, An, And they are seldom used.

THE is a tick in the direction of Ray or Chay.

A, AN, AND is a tick in the direction of T or K.

These ticks should be written in the direction that forms an acute angle and may be attached to the end or beginning of outlines or word-signs.

The small circle for Is, As, His, Has is enlarged for Is his, Has his, Is as, etc. and written in the position of the first word, and is also valuable at the beginning of words for Is such, etc.

beyond what you would

When the two occur together they may be enlarged. A combination of the W and Y series must be slanting in the direction of Chay.

LESSON VI

Each of these letters contain 100 words and must be written from dictation in one minute, or less, writing proper names in shorthand and leaving a space of about $\frac{1}{2}$ inch for a period. (Students should write them very carefully, according to engraving on opposite page, and then write them many times before speeding.)

Messrs. Samuel Cummings & Co., Albany, N. Y.

Sirs:

Some months ago the party who has our business in your city was forced to take advantage of the many improvements in the United States surveys in the State of New York, namely: Those at Rochester and Syracuse. These cities have improved largely by United States surveys, and it is to your many advices we owe our extraordinary success. We have to thank you for such advices and some day hope to repay you. Go on with the important issue and rest easy, you will have our sincere offices.

Yours sincerely,

Messes. Strong & Lester, 2 State St...

Worcester, Mass.

Sirs:

I should like to have you advise us of the advantages of the success of a textile wholesale store and factory in your district. Also inform us how long before we shall hope to succeed if we decide to locate in Worcester. I earnestly desire you to exercise a fair influence with parties in your city. You will have to advertise and satisfy yourselves of the respectability of the thousands who may come in answer.

Hoping to hear from you soon and wishing you all possible success, I am, Respectfully,

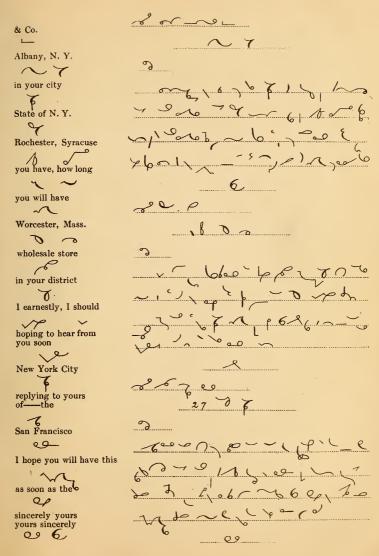

Messrs. Russell Mathews & Sons, 27 Nassau St., New York City.

Sirs:

Replying to yours of the 6th inst. will say our solicitors in England have advised us of the necessity of forming together several thousands of the best lawyers in the United States to take advantage of the reduced fares to San Francisco at the Panama affair on the Pacific Coast. I desire to form such a party as advantages will manifest themselves as soon as the party reaches the coast.

I hope you will have this discussed among several parties if possible and signify your wishes.

Sincerely yours,

Messrs. James Stemple's Sons, 4 Lake St., Chicago, Ill.

Sirs:

Referring to yours of the 1st will say we would thank you to attach your signature to bill you speak of and make special forms for the signature of the parties who desire the influence of our customers. In this extraordinary scheme advertised west of the Mississippi I desire to state you exercise much sagacity in your many books on the subject. Since I have access to these books no fear may be in store because of the laws of the United States. Success is possible and excesses impossible.

Respectfully.

Messrs. Miller, Reise & Foster, 122 Ontario St., Cincinnati, O.

Sirs:

I have yours of August 6th. As is common, in such cases, I may state it is necessary in many houses of the U. S. to leave such things with the book store. I respect your wishes, however, and will say, some things should be discussed before the time set for the dismissal of the case. Already my customers are menaced and face a possible state of chaos.

I leave for Los Angeles next week and hope you will have this case dismissed as soon as possible.

Yours faithfully,

Messrs. Chester, Shaw & Bullock, 262 Sterling St., Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Sirs:

Your esteemed favor of the 24th is before me. As long as this is allowed to go on it is impossible for me to administer justice in this city. I have no desire to dispose of this case simply for the sake of money. I hope to be ready with this case, as far as possible, early in August. I suppose this will satisfy you immensely; thus far you will see I have nothing to say.

LESSON VII

Final Hooks

N Hook.—A small hook on the left of upright consonants and lower side of K, Gay, Ray, Hay and on the inside of curved letters.

When to Use Stroke and N Hook.—When N is the last sound in the word use the Hook excepting when preceded by two vowels as in Lion,—Line 1.

If N is followed by a vowel use the Stroke.—Line 1.

When circle S, ST, STR loops follow the N hook on straight consonants close the hook.—Lines 1–3.

The circle S following N hook on curved strokes must be fully within the hook.—Line 2.

When ST and STR loops and SES follow N after a curve use the stroke.—Line 2. F and V Hooks.—A small hook on the right of upright consonants and upper side of K, Gau, Rau, Hau.

F and V hooks are not used on curved consonants.

If F or V ends a word use the hook; when followed by a vowel use the stroke.— Line 4.

Circle S following F or V hook is inside of the hook.—Line 4.

SHUN Hook.—The final Shun hook is placed on the inside of curved and either side of straight consonants.

If Shun follows a straight consonant commencing with a circle, loop or any initial hook given hereafter, Shun is placed on the opposite side as in Sections.—Line 5.

When Shun follows a straight consonant not beginning with a circle, loop or hook it is placed on the side opposite the accented vowel excepting after T, D, Chay, J when it is on the right side.—Line 6.

When K-Shun follows F or V turn the Shun on the lower side.—Line 7.

When K-Shun follows Lay turn the Shun on the upper side.—Line 7.

There are exceptions as to the side Shun is placed especially when followed by L or R.

Circle S following Shun hook is within the hook.—Line 7.

If Shun ends a word preceded by two vowels as in Situation, Ish-n or Shay-n is used.—Line 7.

Words ending with ciation, tiation use Ish or Shay with the Shun hook.-Line 8.

S-SHUN or backward SHUN.—When Shun is preceded by circle S the backward Shun is used as in Position, Accession, Sensation.—Line 8.

When S-Shun is used, the accented vowel, short I, short E or long A always occur between the S and the Shun. If it is necessary to vocalize, the light dot I may be placed before the S-Shun hook and the light dot E and the heavy dot A placed after.

Circle S may follow S-Shun as in Positions.—Line 8.

The circle S turned on the N hook side adds N-S-Shun as in Dispensation.—Line 8.

When S circle comes between two consonants as in Dispose, N is not added.

- S-SHUN Hook for SESSION, following Circle S or STR for THAN.—some session, special session, this session, last session. Much less than, I hope to have less than.

LESSON IX

Each of these letters contain 100 words and must be written from dictation in one minute, or less, writing proper names in shorthand and leaving a space of about $\frac{1}{2}$ inch for a period. (Students should write them very carefully, according to engraving on opposite page, and then write them many times before speeding.)

United States Publishing Co., Washington St.,

Boston, Mass.

Sirs:

I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your communication of the 1st inst. I hope to have some information within nine or ten days as soon as the organization of our extensive manufacturing business is disposed of and will then signify my desires and give my attention wholly to your publication. The opinion is general among many customers who have taken advantage of the advertising in this week's publication, for combination, in succeeding issues and satisfaction as to the disposition of the case was extraordinary.

Thanking you in advance,

Yours respectfully,

FIRST NATIONAL BANK,

Kansas City, Mo.

Sirs:

Your esteemed communication of the 10th will have my attention as soon as I receive my regular monthly government checks which should have been in before this. Herewith is a check on the Commercial National Bank of New York City for $1,000. I am sorry to say this was less than I expected at this time, but in as much as I will have the government checks mentioned by and by, I hope this will be satisfactory.

You will receive checks as they come in just as fast as possible.

Yours sincerely,

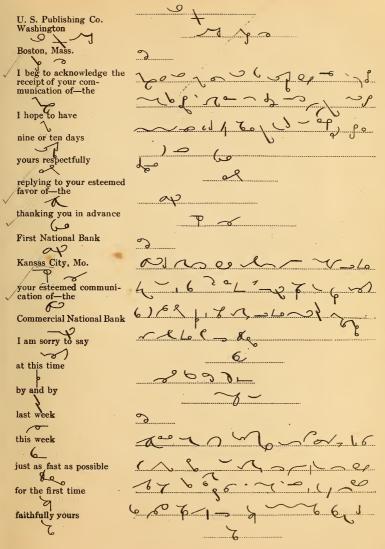

Messrs. Foster, Stern, West & Co.,

Manchester, England.

Sirs:

Replying to your esteemed favor of the 6th of November will say if you will advise us the name of the line, steamer and the day of sailing your representative expects to leave England, I will have a man look out for him as soon as he reaches New York. Business with us has been slow the month of August but think large improvement is in store for us. Wholesale houses in this city are advertising again. For the first time in many months this has never been done.

Faithfully yours,

Mississippi Manufacturing Co., South Lexington St., Memphis, Tenn.

Sirs:

Your esteemed favor of the 8th inst. has been delayed six or seven days owing to severe storms in this section, roads are running again regularly and you will have your cushions within several days. Finish and style of these cushions are the best possible. No pains have been lacking and upon examination you will see many significant changes in the selection of the cases. We expected to receive your decision in the tariff issues last week, as yet no advices have been received.

Hoping to hear from you soon,

Respectfully,

Mosley Aluminum Co.,
Michigan St., West,
Lancaster, England.

Sirs:

Answering your communication of the 10th will say on the 30th day of August I wrote you to ship as soon as possible 80 boxes aluminum at $20 each, but as yet I have no invoice of the same and so far as the receipt of same, no information has been given us. Will you have some of your representatives look into this and advise us just what has become of the boxes so we can locate the invoices and be on the lookout for the same.

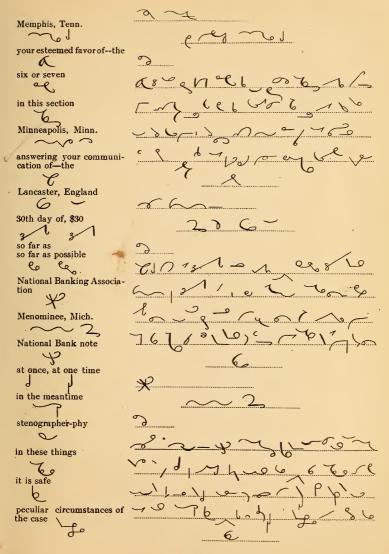

Yours in haste.

NATIONAL BANKING ASSOCIATION,
Menominee, Mich.

Sirs:

Messrs. The Manning Co. National Bank note manufacturers advise us of the peculiarity of the ink of the style necessary in manufacturing bills of large denominations at Washington. It should be unnecessary for us to represent your house in these things and will save nothing by taking the case up at once. Next week our customers will obtain a system possessed by none in the U. S. In the meantime it is safe to ship whatever you desire at one time. The peculiar circumstances of the case are expensive for us.

Yours sincerely,

LESSON X

Double Consonants of the L and R Series

L Hook.—A small initial hook on the right of upright consonants and upper side of K and Gay when a double consonant is formed as PL in Play, PL in Apple.—Line 1. L hook cannot be used in small words like Pail (excepting Word-Signs) as P and L are not one sound, an accented vowel occurring between.

L Hook on the beginning of SH is invariably written up and named Shel, only used when joined to other consonants.—Line 4.

R hook.—A small initial hook on the left of upright consonants and lower side of K and Gay when a double consonant is formed as PR in Pray, KR in Crow.—Line 2.

R hook cannot be used in small words like Pair (excepting Word-Signs) as P and R are not one sound, an accented vowel occurring between.

When R hook occurs on F, V, ITH, THEE these consonants are reversed in order to place the hook on the left side. R hook is not used on AR, WAY, S and Z.

L and R Hooks on Various Consonants are Named as Follows:

pel \ bel \ tel \ del \ chel \ / jel \ / kel \ gel \ shel(up) \ fel \ (vel \ thel \ (per \ ber \) ter \ der \ cher \ / jer \ / ker \ ger \ sher \ zher \ / fer \ ver \) ther \ dher \)

The R hook on Lay and L hook on Ray and L hook on M and N is enlarged; the R hook on M and N is small but the consonants are thickened. Large L hook may be used on ING.

On large words L and R hooks may be used although a vowel occurs between the consonant and hook.—Lines 7–8.

When SH is followed by Ker, Ger, Per, Ber, Fer, Ver use Shay.—Line 2.

Rules for upward and downward L and R.—When L begins a word use Lay excepting before s-n as in Listen and ing in Lung.—Writing Exercise I.

When a vowel precedes L use EL excepting when followed by a descending consonant other than J.—W. E. II.

When L ends a word after F, V, Ray or two vowels use EL, in all other cases use Lay.—W. E. III. When L follows N use EL, after M use LAY.

When R begins a word use Ray excepting before M and MP.—W. E. IV.

When a vowel precedes R use AR excepting when followed by a descending consonant other than AR or ISH.-W. E. V.

When R ends a word use AR excepting after M, MP or two descending consonants.—W. E. VI; if followed by a vowel use Ray.—W. E. VII.

In all cases not covered by the above rules use the most convenient L and R.

Special Vocalization.—If necessary to place a vowel between a consonant and L or R hook, the dot vowels are made into circles placing the long vowels before and the short vowels after. Dash vowels or diphthongs may be struck through or at the beginning or end.—Line 8.

LESSON XIII

Enlarged L and R Hooks

The L hook may be enlarged to add R.—Line 1. The R hook may be enlarged to add L.—Line 1.

Triple Consonants of the L and R Series.—The circle S is place fully within the L hook, the circle is read first and the vowel either precedes or follows the double consonant.—Lines 2-3.

When the circle precedes the double consonant of the R series on straight consonants the hook is closed.—Line 4.

The circle S is placed fully within the R hook on curved consonants or when it comes between two consonants as in Destroy, Distress.—Line 4.

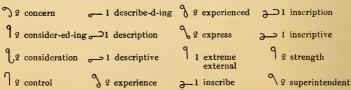

- Imperfect Triple Consonants.—Occur often in both L and R hooks with the circle S, in which case the circle is elongated.—Line 5.
- Irregular Consonants.—When SKR, SGR, SFR, SVR follows T or D and where the SPR follows J they are written irregularly.—Line 5.
- Quadruple and Quintuple Consonants.—The ST and STR loops on the left side of upright consonants and on the lower side of K and Gay form quadruple and quintuple consonants of the R series.—Line 6.

The loops are always read first and the vowel precedes or follows the double consonant.

The circle in the same manner may be placed in the PREL and PLER hooks as in Scholar.—Line 1.

IN, UN, EN HOOKS.—When followed by circle S, a hook is attached and used only when inconvenient outlines result in using the N stroke. It is most valuable when it precedes the triple consonant of the L and R scries.—Lines 7-8. It may also be used without the circle in words like Involve and Envelope.—Line 8.

LESSON XIV

Various Ways of Representing W. Y. H.

W Hook is always used on LAY, RAY, M. N.—When W precedes these four consonants the hook for W is read first.—Line 1.

When a circle precedes W on these consonants, it is placed fully within the hook.

—Line 1.

Thickening the hook adds H.-Line 1.

When W hook occurs on L followed by N, SN, ING write the L downward as in Wellington.—Line 1.

Various Ways of Representing W and Y on other consonants.—When W and Y are the only consonants in a word or if a word commences with a vowel followed by W or Y the stroke is used.—Line 2.

When joined to other consonants the stroke or brief semicircle may be used whichever is most convenient. When the semicircles for W and Y are used, turn them in the direction that will make an acute angle.—Line 2.

Various Ways of writing H.—The stroke is always used when standing alone.

The H tick is slanting in the direction of CHAY and always used on nine consonants, viz:

K, G, WAY, M, strokes S and Z, downward R, upward L, MP or MB.—Line 2.

On all other consonants use the stroke.

Dot H placed immediately before a vowel or diphthong may be used if necessary in the middle of a word.

High-Speed Phraseographs

Enlarged L hook is used for OUR, ARE and 3d position for WERE.—Line 3. Enlarged R hook is used for WILL, ALL.—Line 4.

Circle S may also be used in phraseographs with the L and R hooks both small and enlarged.—Line 4.

IN, UN, EN hook may be used for IN, IN THE; with circle for IN HIS, IN AS.—Line 5. WE, WITH represented by W hook on LAY, RAY, M. N.—Lines 6-7.

WE represented by W hook on SHAY only in phrasing.-Line 8.

Initials in Shorthand

Initials must not be written in longhand but use the consonants, writing heavy strokes above and light on the line.

Sirs:

We are in receipt of your instructions setforth in your favor of the 10th which will have our attention at once. With reference to the insertion of the clause "Fire insurance companies only" in as many as five or six instances at least, we may mention, this was done in similar policies. They were policies issued in the same manner by our own representatives in San Francisco. Of course, this is no real error but there is a chance someone may take advantage of the same. Mr. Sell's book "Laws of the People of the United States" makes the knowledge of the policies very clear.

Please acknowledge receipt of my several communications.

Very respectfully yours,

Messrs. Spellman & Saddler.

Dear Sirs:

We are in receipt of your favor of April 1st and in reply will say we represent the largest drug stores in the U. S., in our special line and we mean to at all times give our customers advantage of our long experience in this section of the country. Again and again we receive calls from people who are in the same line of business but our own practical experience tells us they may be in the same position. At the present time we do all our own manufacturing and give our own customers lower prices than similar wholesale supply stores in the West.

Other communications in relation to this are enclosed.

Respectfully yours,

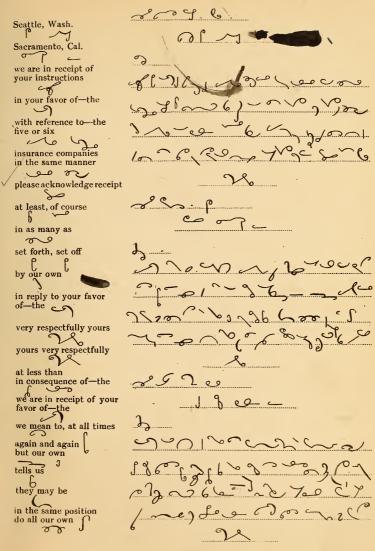

Messes, Schiller, Averill & Sons,

San Francisco, Cal.

Dear Sirs:

In reply to your favor of the 9th will say it appears Mr. Fleming of the firm of Fleming & Marshall has taken inexperienced salesmen at all of his branch stores at less than it is possible to obtain experienced men. In consequence of the same they are sure to have losses and probably lose control of the other stores. We mention this for the sake of giving you a personal knowledge of the success or failure of such changes. You may be in possession of the other circumstances of the case next week. We will have our own salesmen call upon you who are to have full lines.

Yours very respectfully,

Messrs. Charles Scribners & Sons, 126 Pearl St., New York City.

Sirs:

We are in receipt of your favor of February 12th. Please acknowledge receipt of the papers as per instructions and call-our attention to those things you may consider of importance. In the meanwhile try to have things arranged and settle our difficulties as well as you can. We would suggest partial installation of machines at once. In our store in Los Angeles, Cal., we like to have as many as possible continually manufacturing supplies and you will have our own assurance of the same scale of prices described in our price lists. We will ship stoppers for glassware Wednesday morning via Wells Fargo Express Co.

Please wire us at once.

Very respectfully,

Messrs. Sibley, Suitor & Co., Sterling St., Spokane, Wash.

Sirs:

We are in receipt of your favor of January 1st inst., and in reply will say. As we are aware of continual extraordinary exertions of the several organizations said to have extensive control of the press at all of important passenger stations in all of the West, we will require passengers to deliver personally all legal papers in reference to the rules and regulations. While our rules and regulations have been described fully in our own work of the same description, in all probabilities you have never had one occasion to refer this to us for our decision and we must therefore decline to be governed at all by mistakes liable to happen.

Yours respectfully,

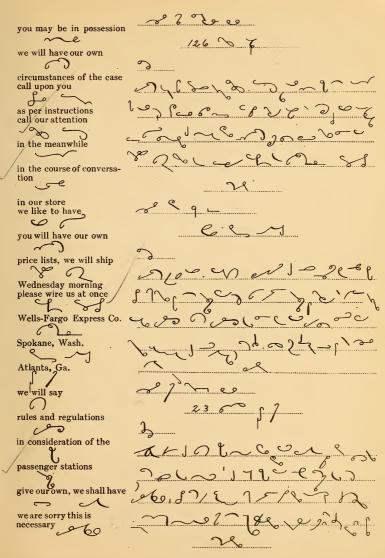

Messrs. George Parker & Sons, 23 Salem St., Atlanta, Ga.

Dear Sirs:

Replying to your esteemed favor of July 10th we will say. In consideration of the many failures to supply us with information we shall have to suggest special examination of the books to see if our customers have been mentioned or taken into consideration when excessive overcharges have been arranged. We are sorry this is necessary but circumstances over which we have no control require such steps. In the meantime it is always best to keep memoranda of the many things which are of importance and advise us just as soon as possible.

Hoping to hear from you soon, assuring you of our desire to please you at all times.

Very respectfully yours,

LESSON XVI

Halving and Doubling Principle

The frequent occurrence of T and D necessitates halving for these letters and doubling for TER, DER, THER.

If a consonant is made half length either T or D is added but does not alter the order in which appendages are read.

If a consonant is made double length it adds TER, DER or THER usually read lastly although if a word ends with N, F or V hook the TER. DER or THER may be read before or after the hook as in Modern, Surrender.—Line 8.

When T or D occurs in a word medially or finally, the first consonant preceding should be halved unless this consonant is N, F or V in this case the hook is used and the consonant preceding the hook is halved.—Line 3.

Halving Principle is valuable in the past tense of verbs:-

PLAYED .	same	as	PLAY :	half	size.	PAWNED	same	as	PAWN	half	size.
PRAYED	4.4	4.6	PRAY	4.4	44	CLEANED	6.6	66	CLEAN	6.6	46
PUFFED	66	4.6	PUFF	66	66	CAUTIONED	- 66	66	CAUTION	46	6.6

In reading half length words, T or D is read lastly, after all appendages. Circle S is the only exception. If a word is halved and ends with circle S, it must be read TS or DS and not ST or SD.

The four consonants LAY, AR, M, N are made half length light for T and heavy for D.—Line 5. LT is written up and LD down. LT being upward, initial appendages are at the bottom and final appendages at the top; on LD the appendages are reversed. L and in M otherland is written with upward L and downward L in I inland.

WAY, YEA, EMP and ING may be halved only when they have final appendages as in Impend, Impassioned.

W is halved in the word-sign Witness.

When the halving principle is used there must be an acute angle between two consonants.

N cannot be made half length in Minute.

K cannot be made half length after F in $A\mathit{ffeet}$ or K in Select ; the stroke T must be used.

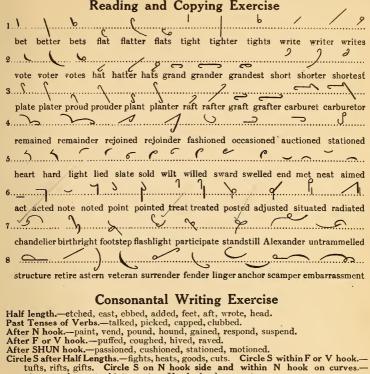

ED Principle.—In the past tense of verbs ending with ED use D stroke, joined or disjoined whichever is most convenient.—Line 6.

TED Principle.—Words ending with TED, T can be halved joined or disjoined whichever is most convenient.—Line 6.

ING double length adds KER or GER.—Line 8.

MP or MB double length adds PER or BER. -Line 8.

All other consonants double length add TER, DER, THER, DHER.

pints, tends, gents, hints, rents. Vends, lands, mounts.

Special Vocalization and Halving.—card, board, guilt, killed, scold, afford, court, cheered. L, AR, M, N light for T, heavy for D .- mud, might, omit, hummed, stamped, pumped, climate, granite, nut, aimed; (LT up) late, slot. waltz. melt; (LD down) old, load, sealed, walled. Halved with N and SHUN hook.—impend. yawned, impassioned. Halved S up or down.—vacationist, elocutionist, finest. vainest, meanest, Halved with ST loop.-fattest, modest, neatest, brightest, slightest. Words not Halved .- popped, kicked, cloaked, locate, evoked. ED (disjoined or joined when angle is formed.)—handed, noted, landed, heated, voted, edited, dreaded, yielded. TED (disjoined or joined when angle is formed.)—instituted, substituted, visited, elicited. Halving medially.—editor, auditor: (ray) auditory, arbitrary; fountain, secretary, catarog, Indiana, catastrophe; (lay) metal; (el) vital, needless, endless. Both Consonants Halved.—candidate, intend, deduct, predict, affidavit, maintained. MP and MB doubled.—temper, jumper, lumber. NG doubled .- anger, hunger, banker. TER, DER, THER DHER .- father, mother, Arthur, ladder, theatre, Peter, actor, cheater, Astor, oyster; entire, material. Binder. fender, suspender.

LESSON XVIII

Each of these letters contain 150 words and must be written from dictation in one minute, or less, writing proper names in shorthand and leaving a space of about 1 inch for a period. (Students should write them very carefully, according to engraving on opposite page and then write them many times before speeding.)

LINDSAY-RODNEY, KNITTING MACHINE MILLS, 336 Cedar St.,

Indianapolis, Ind.

Gentlemen:

I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of September 9th inquiring about the policy of this company with reference to elevator, express company, fast freight lines, palace cars, etc. During the latter part of January the President and Board of Directors of the Company had under consideration the elevator question and after careful deliberation they decided to enter into an arrangement with responsible parties, as far as possible for the selection of suitable and substantial elevators at Detroit, Mich., under the conditions in regard to handling the storage prices in such a manner so that there may be no ground for objection. At all of their meetings a certain price was specified and a change could be made at any time if the interests of the company and public might seem to require it.

Yours very truly.

MESSES, MERRITT & FLUSHING. 10 Willamette St., Portland, Ore.

Gentlemen:

Your esteemed communication of the 2d at hand and note contents. We shall need ten first class passenger cars, twenty second class and one hundred hand cars for our own plant in Cascade on the Willamette River; the cars to have automatic brakes, the first class cars are to have 6 wheels. The general dimension of the box cars will follow in another letter; payment to be made in sixty days in gold bonds of the Texas Northern Railway Co.

. As far as capacity is considered we need have no fear of failure to fill orders whenever they come in. At the same time we notified our customers in San Francisco last week that it was not our intention to ship there at once. We will have several other matters to attend to before these shipments begin.

Philadelphia, Pa.

Gentlemen:

In reply to your letter of December 6th will say: Do not think there is any other National Bank in the City of New York that has arranged for future business, and in the first place it would seem to be rather premature to write customers and endeavor to secure their accounts at the present time. We received several other notices from Schroeder & Co. as per enclosed letter:

We are in receipt of your letter of the 10th and note contents. It is difficult to sell these bonds without stipulating what coupons they are to carry as we understand from the Joint Stockholders Ass'n, they are not likely to be issued before some time in the latter part of December. Hoping to hear from you soon in regard to this important matter, we remain,

Very truly yours,

Mr. L. W. Grant, Ass't. Gen. Supt., Great Northern Ry. Co., 126 Third St., St. Paul. M.

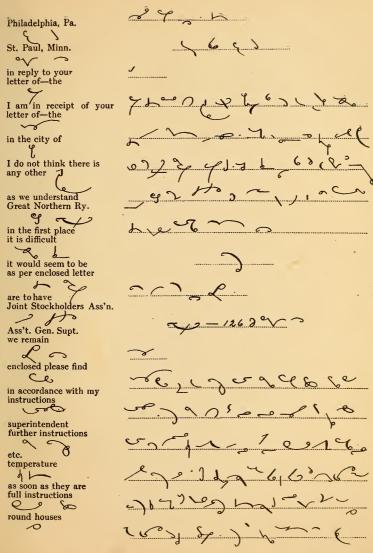

St. Paul, Minn.

My dear Sir:

I am in receipt of your letter of the 7th asking for further instruction in regard to superintendents. Enclosed herewith full instructions; please sign in accordance with instructions and return. Superintendent will see that the greatest care is exercised by all parties, and my instructions in regard to freight, liquors, etc. shall have red cards on each car as soon as they are ready, and when those cars are received from other roads the train dispatcher must be notified. Agents at junction points will open ventilators, and in cold weather test quality of ice boxes of the refrigerators. Temperature must be 10 degrees below zero in round houses and have ventilators open at once.

Please acknowledge receipt and oblige and return all papers in the matter immediately.

Yours very truly,

Messrs. Flint, Walters & Co., 100 Center St.,

Montreal, Can.

Gentlemen:

We are in receipt of your letter of the 10th. We note what you say in reference to prices made by the Chicago Rolling Mills, on iron ore. Enormous prices for material will preclude us from doing business next season. We know there is no use in our expecting to ship Menominee ores to the other side as the parties owning their own ships import from Mediterranean ports. It is almost impossible to have our mills running in the latter part of September and we will not be able to start before the latter part of November. In the meantime we will have our own force organized and machines placed in position ready to start manufacturing as soon as possible. Sooner or later we shall have one of the best plants in the U. S. We remain,

Yours faithfully,

METROPOLITAN ST. RAILWAY Co., Fulton St., Brooklyn N

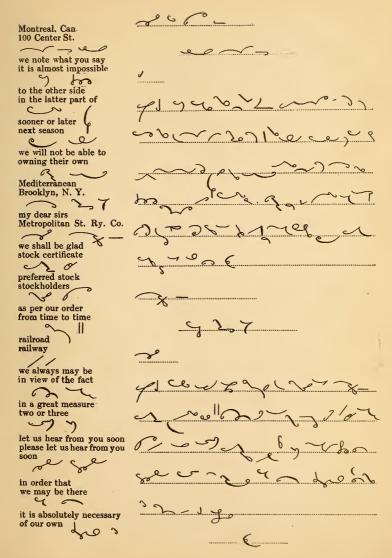

Brooklyn, N. Y.

My dear Sirs:

We are in receipt of your letter of the 10th. Enclosed please find initial installment as per our order of the 1st for preferred stock in the Metropolitan St. Railway Co. We shall be glad to have other reports sent us from time to time. We always may be sure of the entire number of coupons which are in each stock certificate. In view of the fact stockholders are interested in a great measure we shall be pleased to receive at least two or three monthly statements of the same.

Please let us hear from you soon in regard to the meeting of the Board of Underwriters in order that we may be there. It is absolutely necessary that some of the members of our own firm should attend, under the circumstances of the case.

Yours very truly,

Messrs. Anderson, Simpson & Mason, Birmingham, Ala.

Gentlemen:

Acknowledging the receipt of your letter of the 2d inst. will say as there has been no improvement in our retail stores in the latter part of August we will close them at once and investigate later. At the same time we will be able to take an inventory and ascertain just as soon as possible whether they are in shape to reopen within the next few days. There are some other matters which will have to be gone over during the latter part of this week as soon as Mr. Anderson reaches New York. In the city of Philadelphia, at least ten retail stores will remain until they are reported as not in need of further capital. It is most likely we will have to appoint a superintendent to look after the final end of the matter. As a matter of fact while there is no immediate need for increasing the capital stock, at the same time we must have other resources under the circumstances.

We note what you say in regard to furniture of the First National Bank in another office in Wayne St. Enclosed please find memorandum of the articles which we are sending you under separate cover. Enclosed herewith statement of the plans and arrangements of the Board of Directors, so there will be no misconstruction of the meaning. If there is further difficulty we shall have to place this matter in our lawyer's hand as we may be in the same position as yourselves. Under the peculiar circumstances of the case it is necessary for us to try to have their cases tried as early as possible as per your instructions. Sooner or later it must be settled one way or another. We desire to call your attention to the arrangement made last year with Messrs. Snyder, Grant & Fleming for interest at the rate of 6% annually.

My dear Sirs:

I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of December 1st. In reply will say the National Banking Association advises us they will foreclose the mortgage of the property owners not later than December 20th and it seems to me impossible to have all other matters in hand at this time. I hope to have their consent, however, before taking advantage of the law. For instance, we might as well consider their own interests as well as others in this matter, at the same time I think there is no other good reason why I will not be governed by your wishes as long as I am in your services. I desire to call your attention to the fact that as long as I have been representing other concerns as well as your own, business seems to be extraordinarily good and I will not be content until it is much larger than it is. In the meanwhile, I am,

Yours very truly,

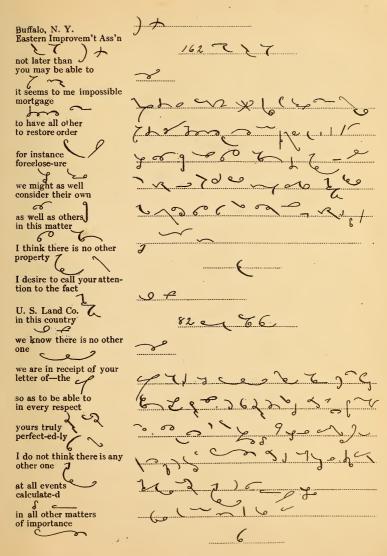

United States Land Co., 82 Center Ave.,

New Orleans, La.

My dear Sirs:

We are in receipt of your letter of November 10th and note contents. We know there is no other one person in this country other than Mr. Wellington that has this matter in such a manner as to be able to give instructions and arrange this so as to be able to resume business at once. He has been on the ground at all of their monthly meetings and seems to have more than ordinary ability for such matters. At all events such is our understanding of the case. We are perfectly sure there is no better man to trust our affairs with. In all other matters of importance he has been taken into our confidence and has demonstrated his reliability and trustworthiness in every respect. I do not think there is any other one so well calculated to restore order under the circumstances of the case.

Thanking you in advance for anything you may do for us, we are, Yours truly,

Messrs. Wilson, Manly & Naylor, 100 Mountain St., Montpelier, Vt.

Gentlemen:

Replying to your letter of the 10th with reference to matters as per enclosed letter will say I am very sorry there is no possible chance of collecting the account. I have been there several times to try to collect the amount of $3,000 for your services in the matter in the city of New Haven. I do not think there is any use returning there again. I am enclosing herewith all papers in connection with the same. Please acknowledge receipt and oblige. In the first place the district is very poor and the man's customers are not much better off than he is so far as financial standing is concerned. I recommend that this matter be cancelled temporarily and the man given an opportunity to pay the amount when he is in better shape at the rate of $30 monthly installments. I think it is only fair and I am very sure the man will be very grateful.

Your obedient servant,

B. P. BARCLAY Co.,

263 Warren St., Burlington, Iowa.

My dear Sirs:

I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 2d of May with regard to your claim. At the present time I am very sorry there is little prospect of the settlement of the same. I understand there is a judgment amounting to $700 or $800 against these parties. I will have other information, however, in the course of a few days which will have my attention as soon as possible and shall be very glad to take the matter up with you then. In the meantime, eight or ten days will have elapsed and I am sure there is some other way out of the matter. As per my instructions, I hope to have adjustment made entirely satisfactory. If there is anything new please let me hear from you by return mail. I note what you say in regard to returning to Wilmington within the next few days and it will have my attention.

LESSON XXI

Omission of Consonants

To avoid awkward outlines in many words the following consonants may be omitted and not detract one iota from legibility.

Omission of T .- Line 1.

" " K.-Line 2.

" N (ENT sometimes valuable for MENT).-Line 3.

" "H.-Line 3.

Conflicting Outlines

One outline frequently represents several words, and context is depended upon. There are words, however, that context will not help one.

Rules for Words that are Liable to Conflict

A universal rule to be followed-

Words of different parts of speech are not liable to clash.

The most difficulty will be experienced in words of the same part of speech. Two adjectives as Pure and Poor; two nouns as Editor and Auditor; two pronouns as I and He, are very liable to conflict. Great care, however, has been taken in this system to provide for such words.

Rules for distinguishing similar outlines-

1st-Distinguish by position if possible.

2d—If not possible to distinguish by position vary the outline.

3d-If not possible to distinguish by position or variation of outline, use vowels.

Derivative Words

The general rule for all derivative words is to use the primitive outline and allow the context to determine which is intended. While it is true that errors might possibly occur by following this rule, yet it is also true that the stenographer overburdened with so many derivative outlines will undoubtedly make many more errors.

LESSON XXII

Each of these letters contain 200 words and must be written from dictation in one minute, or less, writing proper names in shorthand and leaving a space of about $\frac{1}{2}$ inch for a period. (Students should write them very carefully, according to engraving on opposite page and then write them many times before speeding.)

Mr. William Ainsworth, Ass't Gen. Supt.,
New York Central Railway,
Grand Central Station,
New York City.

My dear Sir:

Replying to your letter of the 2d inst. Assistant General Manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway in Montreal advises us that by reason of the low rates in existence at the present time, it would be as well for your company to lower your rates in return. For instance, the Central Pacific rate on household goods Missouri River to Pacific Coast points is 60c per 100 lbs. less than any other transcontinental line. While there is no immediate danger of this rate going lower, at the same time it is absolutely necessary for us to watch this matter carefully, in the event of its going still lower and be able to make all rates 20c per 100 lbs. less than Western Railroads. Please give instructions at once to have your superintendent at Buffalo arrange to have cars containing live stock immediately transferred to our line as soon as possible after receiving them. It will not be necessary to have bill of lading for shipments en route West as sooner or later several other changes are contemplated.

Very truly yours,

North American Life Insurance Co., 20 Elder St.,

St. Louis, Mo.

Gentlemen:

We are in receipt of your letter of the 10th inst, and note contents. As per enclosed letter you will see we are in the same position as yourselves but we are very glad you will be able to adjust matters in the course of a few days. It seems almost impossible that under the circumstances you should have sustained such heavy losses, meanwhile we look forward this season to a large business. Soon, no doubt, you will be able to make up many of the losses of the past. Mr. Burnham informs us you are in need of a first class insurance man to represent you in the Eastern States. We are in communication with just such a man whom we think you will like, in response to our advertisement in the latter part of September in the Globe Democrat. Just as soon as possible we will have him call and see you in regard to the position. You do not state whether or not you will have other insurance matters that will require our attention in this city.

Please wire us at once.

Yours very truly

My dear Sirs:

Acknowledging the receipt of your letter of the 10th in relation to expenditure in the latter part of September will say. We know there is no other one better able to judge of the merits of the case in question. We know there have been many communications in regard to this matter and of course circumstances alter cases and the peculiar circumstance of the case will not justify us in expressing ourselves as we would wish in this letter. We are very well pleased, however, with the manner in which Messrs. Walter & Winslow render their services in as much as we are not in the same position as they are. Please call their attention to our satisfaction in the matter and in consideration of the good work; we are sending them under separate cover complete explanation of the methods to be followed in future business. We refer to the Merchants National Bank as to our responsibility and trust that you will not be further handicapped. We are very sorry there has been so much delay at the present time. Enclosed please find check for $1,000.

Very truly yours,

M. L. Frost & Sons, Santa Fe. New Mexico.

Gentlemen:

Acknowledging the receipt of your favor of the 3d with respect to the insurance company. It is absolutely necessary for us to receive instructions at once in regard to the disposal of the insurance company stock in our possession. We are in communication with many southwestern concerns and we might as well say they are only awaiting instructions from the Assistant Postmaster General at Washington in order that they may proceed in accordance with the law. If there is anybody else in your vicinity having in possession more stock, please advise us at once. It is safe to assume there is no other arrangement satisfactory to all of us other than the one we mentioned in our last letter. This arrangement should be made just as soon as possible. Also please let us hear from you soon in regard to the common stock. A short time ago the Board of Directors and Stockholders of several other associations agreed to retain their stock if all others retain theirs.

Please wire us if there is any other business requiring our attention at the present time as per enclosed letter.

THE LESTER-FOSTER FURNITURE Co., 1000 Embassy St.,

Gentlemen:

We are in receipt of your letter of September 8th and in reply will say our order of the 6th for furniture was not enclosed in our communication of the same instant. With reference to this we will say our order was delivered by our own representative in Augusta on the morning of the 6th inst. On this shipment we request extraordinary dispatch so as to be able to commence installation of our display as quick as possible. Customers somehow or other give us a great deal of attention in the settlement of accounts at this time. Our warehouses in the city of Philadelphia are open day and night and we will not be able to have proper display unless they are received at once. We note your instructions in reference to price list on furniture delivered f. o. b. Philadelphia and will say it will take some time for our customers to learn these things but we are not suggesting some other manner of operation as long as they are not interfering with us in any way. We will call their attention to this matter.

Very respectfully yours,

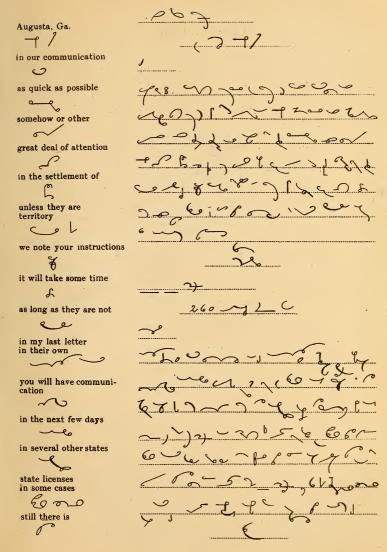

COOK COUNTY MEDICAL SOCIETY, 260 Washington St.,

Chicago, Ill.

My dear Sirs:

1 am in receipt of your letter of December 1st in relation to some other matters not contained in my last letter of the 1st and desire to call your attention to several other associations in the city of New York with whom you will have communications in the next few days, relative to parties who are practicing without licenses in the State of New York. The laws on this subject in your state differ very materially from laws in several other states. For instance, the laws of the State of New Hampshire setforth in a magazine issued by the Eastern Medical Society in Montpelier distinctly require all practicing physicians to have state licenses as well as local licenses in their own vicinity. Please send me statistics such as described in your recent letter. While there is no particular hurry, still there is some call occasionally from the County Medical Societies throughout this territory and it is absolutely necessary in some cases to have such information at hand. I regret exceedingly the necessity of following up these matters suggested in your favor of the 10th.

Yours very truly,

Comprehensive Rules for Position Writing

While it is impossible in writing rapidly to follow the succeeding rules to the exact fraction of an inch, they are constantly in the mind's eye and one becomes far more accurate than if such rules were not observed. Unfortunately, few stenographers have a prect conception of position writing and therefore have more or less difficulty in feading. The fingers become so deft with constant practice the expert can write "copper plate" notes. This is what all stenographers are striving to attain, viz: High Speed and accuracy.

The proper length of a consonant is 1/8 of an inch or not exceeding 1/6 of an inch. Let us assume the size to be 1/8 of an inch.

1st Position.—Upright consonants end one-half their length above the line (1/16 of an inch). Ascending consonants commence 1/16 above.

All horizontals, their own length above.

When two descending consonants are joined, the first governs in all positions and is written the same as when standing alone.

When a descending consonant follows a horizontal, the latter should commence 3/16 of an inch above the line, allowing the descending consonant to end 1/16 above.

Double length descending consonants commence 3/16 above the line and end 1/16 below, the same position as two descending consonants. Double length ascending consonants commence 1/16 below the line.

Half length upright consonants end 1/16 of an inch above the line and ascending consonants commence 1/16 above the line.

2d Position.—All single or halved consonants and double length horizontals rest on the line.

When a descending consonant follows a horizontal, the horizontal commences 1/8 above, allowing the descending to rest on the line.

Double length ascending or descending consonants are half above and half below the line.

3d Position .- All upright single consonants are midway through the line.

All horizontal consonants and halved uprights are immediately below the line.

When a descending consonant follows a horizontal, the horizontal commences 1/16 above, allowing the descending to come midway through the line or in any combination of horizontals and uprights, the first upright governs the position.

Double length descending consonants commence 1/16 above and end 3/16 below, and ascending consonants commence 3/16 below and end 1/16 above.

LESSON XXIV

Testimony

There is no part of the stenographic profession that offers greater opportunity than that of court reporting. The modus operandi and duties devolving upon the court reporter are not any more difficult than that of amanuensis work. The reason so few become court reporters is that they cannot write fast enough, neither is it necessary to have years of experience, as some of the most expert court reporters known to the writer are young in shorthand experience. It is almost impossible to take testimony without a knowledge of the valuable expedients set forth in this lesson but the complete list is given in Lusk's 200 Words-Minute Law and Court Reporting Phrase Book.

W and Y Hooks for WE and WHAT, YOU and YOUR are used for the Stereotyped Interrogatories in Testimony.

A large W hook may be used on the right side of T, D and occasionally B and on the upper side of K, Gay on a few single words given in Line 1 although it could be omitted. In testimony this large hook is used for We and What.—Lines 2-3.

A large Y hook placed on the left side of T, D and on the lower side of K and Gay, also used on F, V, Lay, Ray for You and Your and Whook on Ray for We.—Lines 4-7.

These hooks used in connection with the enlarged W and Y semicircles (given in Lesson IV) together with the Backward Shun hook for Conversation and the Shun hook for Recollection form the most important and frequently occurring interrogatories.—Line 8.

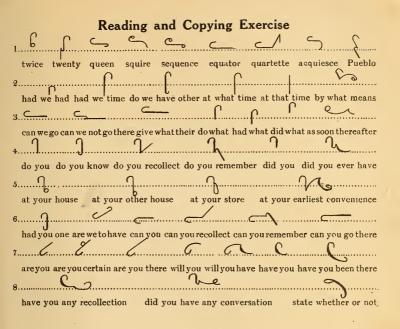

Dictations should Commence in Lusk's Dictation Book Now.

It is not intended that the student has completed the Lusk System of Shorthand after one has finished or mastered this text book but he should be qualified to take dictations on technical matter such as given in the Lusk 200 Words-Minute Dictation Book with Lightning Shortcuts. This book does not give letters as they do not contain a large enough vocabulary.

Proper Names in Shorthand.

The only time a stenographer is ever required to write proper names in longhand is when the dictator spells some uncommon or foreign name. Public speakers, however, were never known to stop and spell names for the reporter. A valuable list of cities, states and countries is given in the Lusk 200 Words-Minute Civil Service and Commercial Phrase Book.

Fine outlines for names of people are given in alphabetical order in Lush's 200 Words-Minute Law and Court Reporting Phrase Book.

- Large W hook for WE and WHAT.—did we, did what, by what, at what, give what, can we, could we, are we not, are we to have their.
- Large Y hook for YOU and YOUR.—had you, are you, have you, will you, give you. can you go there, did you ever have any, did you ever have any other conversation, at your, at your house, did your, had your, will your, have your, are you not, are not, are you not going, are you sure, are you sure there is.
- Enlarged BRIEF W and Y CIRCLES (given in Lesson IV).—we were, we would, would you, what were, with you, what were you. would you be willing, would you go there, we were with you, as we were, as we were not (N hook).

Waterman's Ideal FountainPen

Waterman's Stenographers' Fountain Pen is the most perfect pen for Shorthand reporting. Mr. Waterman manufactured it expressly for stenographic work a number of years ago, under my direction and suggestions as to the proper pen for stenographers. These pens may be purchased at any Waterman's agencies but they vary somewhat. I usually select a very fine pen that will draw a hair line or shade, not too soft or too hard. These carefully selected pens will be sent to stenographers upon receipt of P. O. order, postpaid.
