2. See Emblements and Natural Products, 9 C. L. 1072. Midyette v. Grubbs [N. C.] 88 SE 795; North Georgia Co. v. Bebee [Ga.] 57 SE 873. So provided by Georgia Code 1895, § 3045. Marthinson v. King [C. C. A.] 150 F 48. Where a testator had excepted growing timber from a deed of land, with a right for forty years to enter, cut, and remove it, the timber at his death was real estate and passed to his heirs who were limited to forty years in which to remove it. Williams v. Jones [Wis.] 111 NW 505. Testator had an interest in so much of the soil as was necessary to sustain the timber. Id. Where a right to timber held to be real estate was not treated as such by an executrix and not converted in personality as directed in will, acts of the heirs in regard to it held to be an election to treat it as real estate. Id. Contract for sale of certain trees construed to create an estate in fee in the trees with an interest in the soil sufficient for their growth, although the fee to the soil remained in the owner. North Georgia Co. v. Bebee [Ga.] 57 SE 873. Trees standing on land are part of the land, the title to which can be passed by a statutory deed. Morgan v. Pott [Mo. App.] 101 SW 717. A sale of growing or standing timber is a contract concerning an interest in lands, and within the statute of frauds. Richbourg v. Roes [Fla.] 44 S 69. Where a sale of standing timber is not made in contemplation of their immediate severance, they do not become personal property (Bell County Land & Coal Co. v. Moss, 30 Ky. L. R. 6, 97 SW 354), but where trees sold are to be immediately severed from the soil and carried away the sale is of personal property and not of an interest in land (Graham v. West, 126 Ga. 624, 55 SE 931). Crude turpentine in boxes in a state to be dipped up is personal property and subject to retracts and conveyances relating thereto are governed by the laws applicable to contracts concerning that kind of property.<sup>3</sup> An attempted oral conveyance constitutes a mere revocable license to enter upon the premises and cut and remove the growth.<sup>4</sup> An oral surrender of an estate in standing timber is ineffectual to revest the owner with the title.<sup>5</sup> Under the Alabama statute a conveyance of timber on a homestead requires an acknowledgment by a wife.<sup>6</sup> A contract concerning growing trees, as part of the realty, will in proper cases, like chattels of peculiar value, be specifically enforced.<sup>7</sup> The essential elements of agreements for the sale or removal of timber depend upon the ordinary principles of contract law,<sup>8</sup> including those in regard to delivery<sup>9</sup> and consideration.<sup>10</sup> Fraud vitiates the contract as in other cases.<sup>11</sup> The usual rules of interpretation apply, intention being the primary consideration.<sup>12</sup> plevin. Richbourg v. Rose [Fla.] 44 S 69. Replevin failed because occupation of the land annually for turpentine purposes was adverse possession which ousted the constructive possession of the plaintiff who only claimed under a paper title. Id.

3. While a contract for the sale of standing timber is within the statute of frauds and must be in writing, the right to forfeit it for nonremoval within the time specified may be waived by parol. Wallace v. Kelley, 148 Mich. 336, 14 Det. Leg. N. 230, 111 NW 1049. Contract for transporting and manufacturing logs into lumber and selling same, first paying plaintiff a given rate per 1,000 and dividing the balance equally after deducting the cost of manufacture and sale, is not within the statute of frauds (Wisconsin Sulphite Fibre Co. v. Jeffries Lumber Co. [Wis.] 111 NW 237), and a parol modification without new consideration was valid (Id.). An instrument reciting that the owner of land was agreed to let a person put a steam mill on it and cut timber at a certain price per thousand feet, which is agreed to, does not convey the timber for lack of words of conveyance (Tremaine v. Williams, 144 N. C. 114, 56 SE 694), nor, though recorded, does it amount to a notice to a purchaser under Revisal 1905, § 980, relating to registration of conveyances valid as passing property against purchasers from grantor (Id.), and even if good as a conveyance the instrument is void for lack of description of the tract on which the timber stood in the absence of evidence that only one tract was owned (Id.). A conveyance of timber for sawmill purposes to be removed in a limited time is a sale of real estate and not a lease. McLendon Bros. v. Finch [Ga. App.] 58 SE 690. Being a deed and not a lease, it is within the purview of Civ. Code 1895, § 3613, providing that in a sale of land there is no implied warranty of title and it is to be treated as a quit claim deed. Id. The time limit for removal is not a limitation directly upon the estate owned in the timber but upon the concurrent license of ingress and egress necessary to use the timber. Id.

4. A written contract not acknowledged and evidently not intended to be recorded and having none of the phrases common to deeds nor apt words to convey a present interest in the timber grants a mere license, revocable by a subsequent sale. Polk v. Carney [S. D.] 112 NW 147. Instrument duly acknowledged and recorded held to be a deed of sale of standing timber and a lease of land for turpentine purposes, and not revoked by a later conveyance of the land by the grantor. Richbourg v. Rose [Fla.] 44 S 69. A license to cut timber founded on a valuable consideration and coupled with an interest is irrevocable. Davis v. Miller Brent Lumber Co. [Ala.] 44 S 639.

5. Nor will it work an estoppel if the owner does not act on it. Warren v. Ash [Ga.] 58 SE 558.

6. Under Code 1896, § 2034, requiring the wife's separate acknowledgement to a deed of the homestead. Davis v. Miller Brent Lumber Co. [Ala.] 44 S 639.

7. Remedy at law adequate and relief refused. Marthinson v. King [C. C. A.] 150 F 48.

8. See Contracts, 9 C. L. 654.

9. Payments made by vendee and acts of vendor in allowing vendee to scale and brand logs held to amount to a delivery and to vest title in vendee. Chaney v. South-erland Innes Co., 80 Ark. 572, 98 SW 967. Where a defendant agreed to build a boom and try to stop logs and pay for those caught, but the logs broke the boom without the defendant's fault, held no delivery of the logs. Southern Pine Lumber Co. v. Cameron & Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 1, 101 SW 488.

10. The plaintiff's extra trouble and expense in having the logs ready at the earlier date set in the modification of the original contract was sufficient consideration to uphold the new contract. Asher v. Garrard [Ky.] 101 SW 889. Consideration expressed in contract for cutting timber for a specified time and giving a right to an extension if desired held to include the privilege of extension as well as the present right. Baker v. Davis, 127 Ga. 649, 57 SE 62.

11. Evidence insufficient to show an intentional conversion by the defendant or that its separate account of plaintiff's logs was inaccurate. Wisconsin Sulphite Fiber Co. v. Jeffries Lumber Co. [Wis.] 111 NW 237. The right to an action for deceit for procuring a deed to timber by false representations is not dependent upon the removal of the timber. See, also, Fraud and Undue Influence, 7 C. L. 1813. Modlin v. Roanoke R. & Lumber Co. [N. C.] 58 SE 1075.

12. Where by its charter a dam and improvement company was authorized to charge on the "stumpage scale," in the absence of an agreement as to a scaler, a contract was implied that a scale made in accordance with the method customarily adopted by scalers and between landowners and operators and recognized as the stumpage scale should control. Madunkeunk Dam & Improvement Co. v. Allen Clothing Co. [Me.] 66 A 537. An equivocal addendum to a deed of supposed mineral which reserved the timber, giving the timber to both grantee and grantor, construed to give the grantee the right only to such timber as was needed for mining operations. Shenandoah Land & Anthracite Coal Co. v. Clarke, 106 Va. 100, 55 SE 561. Where a contract provided for a joint-adventure for the sale and manufacture of plaintiff's logs into lumber and required the defendant to keep separate accounts, held that by necessary implication the defendant's accounts formed the primary basis of settlement and method used was erroneous. Wisconsin Sulphite Fiber Co. v. Jeffries Lumber Co. [Wis.] 111 NW 237. Where the contract provided that the defendant should deduct the "actual cost" of planing, loading, and selling lumber, he was not entitled to charge the reasonable value or the customary charge (Id.), nor to charge as part of the expense of manufacture for belting, repairs to machinery and tools, and new tools (Id.), nor to charge for the cost of loading works (Id.), and to charge for the difference between value of lumber used in a tramway built to handle the lumber, when it was new and its value when the tramway was torn down. (Id.). Taxes were properly charged as an expense. Id. Where a lease gave the lessee "a right of way fifty feet wide, to be used for logging purposes either for a road, flume, tram or in any manner the party of the second part may decide upon as will best meet their needs," the lessee was not confined to use the right of way for the purposes of a road, flume or tram, but were entitled to use a stream admittedly within the limits of the grant to float logs. Fox v. Miller [C. C. A.] 150 F 320. Contract for the sale of timber and binding the seller to haul and load same on cars within fifty miles of a town for a specified sum construed to be a present sale of timber with an agreement for future services concerning same (St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Wynne Hoop & Coopers Co. [Ark.] 99 SW 375), and whenever logs were cut within fifty miles of the town the title passed to the buyer (Id.). Where a contract for the sale of standing timber did not state where or in what direction the timber should be removed, the place of exercising the right of removal, determined by the parties, fixed the location as if stated in the contract. Boring Lumber Co. v. Roots [Or.] 90 P 487. Where a verbal contract for the sale of the timber at $3 per 1,000 feet was made with the understanding that if a written contract was made later it should cover the timber cut, but the written contract failed to do so, and set the price at $4 per 1,000 feet, the wood cut under the verbal contract could only be recovered at the rate of $3 per 1,000. Hendrickson Lumber Co. v. Cretorius [Ark.] 101 SW 733. A deed conveying timber to an individual, his heirs, and assigns, and stating that it was understood that the deed was to be turned over to a lumber company, held to be a valid conveyance to the individual, and his conveyance to the company was effectual. Davis v. Miller Brent Lumber Co. [Ala.] 44 S 639. A contract for the sale of growing timber with the right in the grantee to enter and cut if the grantor failed to deliver is a contract of purchase and not a mere option. McIntosh v. Rutland, 88 Miss. 718, 41 S 372. The interest in the proceeds of the sale descends to the heirs of the grantor. Id. "Trees" and "wood" are not synonymous terms, and a contract for the sale of "wood on a certain lot of land" was held to be an executory sale of personality and not of realty. Graham v. West, 126 Ga. 624, 55 SE 931. Where the time of performance was extended sixty days for $900, entry being made on contract, "the $900 paid shall apply on amount due on the 'written contract,'" and later the contract was rescinded, the entry was held merely to increase the purchase price, and liability for a note for $900 ended with the contract. Dickey v. Smith, 127 Ga. 645, 56 SE 756. A deed conveying "all the pine, oak, ash, cypress, and poplar timber upon" a certain tract "containing forty-two acres more or less, all pine, poplar, and cypress timber on said land on the southern side of Cooper swamp and in said swamp and ravines construed to convey all the pine, oak, ash, cypress, and poplar on the whole tract except that part lying south of the swamp and conveyed only the pine, poplar and cypress timber there. Modlin v. Roanoke R. & Lumber Co. [N. C.] 58 SE 1075. Under a contract granting "all and singular timber suitable for sawmill purposes growing on" a certain lot, the word "timber" taken in connection with the word "growing" and the rest of the grant denotes "green" and not "dead" timber. Handcock v. Massee & Felton Lumber Co., 127 Ga. 693, 56 SE 1021. Where, under a contract selling all the timber on certain land of a certain size at a certain price per 1,000, to be cut within a given time, the defendant only cut the larger trees, leaving the smaller, he was held liable for all the trees at the contract rate, and judgment against him based on a different rate was held erroneous. Coat Lumber Co. v. Pope [Miss.] 43 S 434. A contract to transport logs, under which not less than 5,000,000-foot per year were to be furnished, continues for such period as is necessary to remove timber on lands described at the contract rate. Gates v. Detroit & M. R. Co., 147 Mich. 523, 111 NW 101. In a contract of sale giving three years to remove the logs, timber cannot be said to be removed when it is merely cut down and left on the land. Clark v. Ingram Day Lumber Co. [Miss.] 43 S 813. Under a contract providing that the vendee should pay taxes during his possession or until certain government subdivisions were released by notice that the timber had been cut therefrom, the defendant was liable for the taxes although certain suits questioning the vendor's title, and ultimately successful, were brought (Michigan Iron & Land Co. v. Nester, 147 Mich. 599, 14 Det. Leg. N. 47, 111 NW 177), and in the absence of the notice although the vendor knew the timber had been cut (Id.), and his heirs

Contracts for the sale of timber to be removed within a specified time are generally construed as sales of only so many trees as the vendee removes within the time designated.<sup>13</sup> If no time is fixed for its removal, the vendee has a reasonable time for that purpose.<sup>14</sup> What is a reasonable time depends upon the circumstances of each particular case.<sup>15</sup> Trees may be so conveyed or reserved in a deed as to leave in one person a title in fee in the soil and in another a life title in the timber.<sup>16</sup> Where timber is excepted or reserved in a deed and a time or event is specified upon which the timber must be cut, the reservation expires upon the happening of the event or the expiration of the time,<sup>17</sup> whereas if no limitation is specified the grantee must who acted under the contract profitably were liable also (Id.). The phrase "at the base" in a deed conveying timber "twelve inches in diameter at the base when cut" at any time during fifteen years means "at the ground," a local custom to the contrary notwithstanding. Banks v. Blades Lumber Co., 142 N. C. 49, 54 SE 844. The phrase "when cut" merely extends the time of measurement from the date of the contract to the time of the actual cutting. Id. Under a contract to carry the plaintiff's logs at $3 per 1,000 feet and to add a given amount thereto for carriage of other parties' freight, the additional amount to be divided between the parties, the plaintiff had a right to make such charges as he pleased for the use of his private roads and banking grounds (Gates v. Detroit & M. R. Co., 147 Mich. 523, 111 NW 101), but was only entitled to the $3 rate for logs cut on his own land (Id.).

13. Michigan Iron & Land Co. v. Nester, 147 Mich. 599, 14 Det. Leg. N 47, 111 NW 177; Ormand Min. Co. v. Bessemer City Cotton Mills, 143 N. C. 307, 55 SE 700. Failure to remove within time limited or a reasonable time thereafter held to work a forfeiture of right to timber (Bell County Land & Coal Co. v. Moss, 30 Ky. L. R. 6, 97 SW 354), since, the sale not having been made in contemplation of their immediate severance, the trees did not become personal property (Id.). Under a contract conveying log timber and giving "three years to remove" the logs from the land, after the expiration of three years the grantee had no right to the timber whether standing or severed but not removed. Clark v. Ingram Day Lumber Co. [Miss.] 43 S 813. A conveyance of standing timber to be removed within a specified time creates a determinable fee in the timber (Midyette v. Grubbs [N. C.] 58 SE 795; Warren v. Ash [Ga.] 58 SE 858), with a reverter to the owner of all trees not cut within the time limited (Midyette v. Grubbs [N. C.] 58 SE 795), and, upon the decease of the grantee intestate, that estate devolves upon his heir subject to his widow's dower (Id.). A grantor of a determinable fee in standing timber is not concerned with the validity of an assignment of it by the grantee during its existence. Warren v. Ash [Ga.] 58 SE 858.

Contra: Where, in a deed of standing timber, the time in which to cut and remove is limited, the limitation clause is a covenant and not a condition subsequent, and does not work a forfeiture of the title to the timber on failure to cut and remove it within the time limited. Zimmerman Mfg. Co. v. Daffin [Ala.] 42 S 858. If the timber is removed after the time limited, the grantor may maintain an action of quare clausum fregit, not trover or trespass de bonis (Id.), and may recover the actual damage he may have sustained to his possession, if any, otherwise nominal damages only (Id.).

14. Ormand Min. Co. v. Bessemer City Cotton Mills, 143 N. C. 307, 55 SE 700. Under an oral extension of the time for cutting, giving the defendants "all the time they needed" after the expiration of the contract to cut the timber, but no definite time was fixed, they had only a reasonable time in which to cut. Weaver v. King [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 510, 98 SW 902. Where forfeiture for nonremoval of timber within time specified was deemed to be waived, decree directed the defendant to "cut and remove the timber within a reasonable time." Wallace v. Kelley, 148 Mich. 336, 14 Det. Leg. N. 230, 111 NW 1049. Where a contract granted timber on certain forty acre tracts with right to remove and rights of way for logging railways, and provided that the deed should remain in force until the vendees "commence to cut" on each forty acre tract "and for one year thereafter," but that the railway right of way should remain in full force, held the vendees must begin to cut within a reasonable time and were only entitled to what they could cut and remove within one year from the time they began. The railway right of way was for use of adjacent lands. Hall v. Eastman, Gardiner & Co., 89 Miss. 588, 43 S 2.

15. Where the evidence showed that a few months at most was necessary, a failure to begin cutting for a year was unreasonable in the absence of proof of special circumstances justifying it. Weaver v. King [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 510, 98 SW 902.

16. Deed construed to grant estate in fee simple in the timber carrying right to cut at any time without limitation express or implied. Lodwick Lumber Co. v. Taylor [Tex.] 98 SW 238, overruling Lodwick Lumber Co. v. Taylor [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 633, 99 SW 192; Jones v. Lodwick Lumber Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 53, 99 SW 736. Deed granting certain trees and right of way for removal held to create an estate in fee in the trees with a perpetual right of entry, to cut and remove them. North Georgia Co. v. Bebee [Ga.] 57 SE 873.

17. The event specified was "the erection give notice for a reasonable time that the grantor must cut and remove.<sup>18</sup> Where the time in which to remove timber is extended conditionally, the performance of the condition is essential to rendering the extension effective.<sup>19</sup> An assignor of a "timber lease" is not estopped from acquiring rights, not inconsistent with his grant, to take effect after the expiration of the lease.<sup>20</sup> Questions of performance<sup>21</sup> and waiver are governed by the ordinary rules.<sup>22</sup>

Scaling and measurement.—The parties generally agree upon some person to do the scaling.<sup>23</sup> When the contract stipulates a measurement of the logs after delivery, the right of action for the price does not accrue until a reasonable time for measuring, after delivery.<sup>24</sup> In Louisiana the rule for scaling is governed by statute.<sup>25</sup> An action may lie in a proper case for timber cut where the vendor is found not to have the title to the land.<sup>26</sup>

Hauling and floatage.—An action will lie for interference with right to remove of any building upon any lot," and assignee of the reservation held not liable for cutting timber before the happening of the event. Ormand Min. Co. v. Bessemer City Cotton Mills, 143 N. C. 307, 55 SE 700.

18. An assignee of the right where no time is specified must cut and remove within a reasonable time. Ormand Min. Co. v. Bessemer City Cotton Mills, 143 N. C. 307, 55 SE 700.

19. Boring Lumber Co. v. Roots [Or.] 90 P. 487.

20. An option for an extension of cutting rights held not to pass to the assignee by operation of law (Baker v. Davis, 127 Ga. 649, 57 SE 62), and since the contract containing the option lacked words of assignability and was made after the assignment of the lease, the option was not in the nature of a covenant running with the land (Id.). Assignor held not to be estopped to deny assignee's rights by the statement of counsel in argument. Id.

21. Cutting logs and piling on river bank for shipment within the time set for cutting and removal held due performance of contract, although logs not shipped until after the time limit and the bank was part of the timber tract. Plummer v. Reeves [Ark.] 102 SW 376. Conversion did not lie. Id. Under a contract to manufacture plaintiff's logs into lumber, the evidence was held to be insufficient to show that the work was not performed in a workmanlike manner. Wisconsin Sulphite Fibre Co. v. Jeffris Lumber Co. [Wis.] 111 NW 237. A contract to deposit in a wasteway or ditch 500 pine logs suitable for manufacture into merchantable timber in eight months is not performed by depositing them along the ditch (Fletcher v. Prestwood [Ala.] 43 S 231), nor if unsuitable lumber was furnished the defendant at fault for inherent defects (Id.).

22. Oral extension of time to remove lumber in consideration of payment of taxes held to amount to a waiver of right to forfeit for nonremoval of timber within time specified in contract. Wallace v. Kelly, 148 Mich. 336, 14 Det. Leg. N. 230, 111 NW 1049. Where timber was sold out but title reserved in vendor until payment, the vendor did not waive the reservation by asking the court to order the receiver of the vendee to pay the purchase price before disposing of the lumber. Hendrickson Lum.

ber Co. v. Pretorious [Ark.] 101 SW 733. Where, in a contract to transport logs, a provision to furnish so many feet per year was waived by failure to furnish cars, by the defendant, which made excuses for same, it could not refuse to carry out the contract because of the failure to furnish the contract quantity of timber. Gates v. Detroit & M. R. Co., 147 Mich. 523, 111 NW 101.

23. The scale bill of a surveyor agreed upon between the parties is, in the absence of fraud, binding upon them (Madunkeunk Dam & Imp. Co. v. Allen Clothing Co. [Me.] 66 A 537), and the survey book is evidence of the scale (Id.). In an action to collect tolls by a dam and improvement company which by its charter could collect on the "stumpage scale" and no scale was agreed upon, a contract was implied that a scale made in accordance with the method customarily adopted by scalers and between landowners and operators and recognized as the stumpage scale should govern. Id. Surveyor allowed to use scale book made by his assistant under his direction to refresh his recollection of the stumpage scale (Id.), and the scale proved by his uncontradicted testimony held to control (Id.). Method in contract of ascertaining log measure, viz: "By deducting twenty-five per cent from the actual scale or tally of sound lumber cut," held capable of practical application and enforced. Wisconsin Sulphite Fibre S. Co. v. Jeffris Lumber Co. [Wis.] 111 NW 237.

24. This is so although the logs broke the boom and got away upon delivery so that measurement became impossible. Southern Pine Lumber Co. v. Cameorn & Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 1, 101 SW 488.

25. By act No. 147, p. 231 of 1900, the strict Doyle rule, by which the diameter of the log at the small end must be taken in measuring both long or short, is prescribed. Poseue v. Black Bayou Lumber Co., 118 La. 725, 43 S 387.

26. Defendant held liable for the price of trees cut although the vendor was found not to own the land, he having claimed and paid taxes on it and alone claimed the value of the timber cut on it. Richburg v. Patten [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 204, 101 SW 836.

timber along roads made for the purpose by the buyer.<sup>27</sup> A timber driver has the right to occupy a stream as a highway for driving purposes and is only liable to a riparian owner for damages resulting from his negligence,<sup>28</sup> but this right does not carry with it the right to use the banks.<sup>29</sup> The rights of boom companies in streams are subject to the exercise of the police power by the state.<sup>30</sup> In some jurisdictions dam and improvement companies are by their charters allowed to collect toll for all logs and lumber passing over or through their dams and other improvements.<sup>31</sup> In Alabama a license to haul logs, lumber, and other timber over the public roads of a certain county is required by statute.<sup>32</sup>

Actions.—An owner of land whose growing trees have been destroyed by another may sue for the injury to the land or for the value of the trees.<sup>33</sup> The measure of damages in such cases is treated elsewhere.<sup>34</sup> In actions for the wrongful cutting of timber or on contracts relating thereto, the ordinary rules of pleading<sup>35</sup> and

27. It is immaterial that there are other equally accessible ways open to the buyer. Boring Lumber Co. v. Roots [Or.] 90 P 487. Grant of right of way by seller to third person held to be after the termination of buyer's rights. Id. Entry by third person held to be on an unauthorized trespass for which the defendant was not liable. Id.

28. Damages resulting from use with reasonable care is an incidental burden which the riparian owner must bear. Mitchell v. Lea Lumber Co., 43 Wash. 195, 86 P 405. Evidence of negligence should have gone to jury. Id. Mill company which controlled boom company held liable for injuries resulting from latter's negligence. Id.

29. Riparian owner who had revoked license to use the banks entitled to injunction to restrain threatened future use. Mitchell v. Lea Lumber Co., 43 Wash. 195, 86 P 405.

30. Laws 1905, c. 344 p. 598, § 56, providing that no person or corporation shall obstruct the game and fish commission while gathering spawn or place logs or other debris in streams at such time and imposing a penalty for violations of its provisions, is reasonable in its requirements (State v. Tower Lumber Co., 100 Minn. 38, 110 NW 254), and is not obnoxious to the state or Federal constitution (Id.). Where a contractor agreed to cut a certain quantity of lumber for the plaintiff and was also to be allowed to cut a certain lot for himself and the contract was silent as to which lot should be cut first, the contractor was at liberty to cut his wood at any time. Rice v. Knostman [Wash.] 88 P 194.

31. It is mainly a question of fact whether the company has so perfected the improvements as to give it the right to exercise its franchise. Madunkeunk Dam & Imp. Co. v. Allen Clothing Co. [Me.] 66 A 537. If the improvements are of little value, there is no compliance with the charter and tolls cannot be collected. Id. If, however, they are substantial and facilitated the driving of logs, although it might have been possible for the owner or driver to float the logs at times without the aid of the improvements, they were sufficient to comply with the condition on which toll might be demanded. Id. The plaintiff held to have sustained the burden of proof. Id.

32. Acts 1903, pp. 682-689. The act is constitutional since it is not a "bill for raising revenue" which is void if passed within the last five days of the session (Kenamer v. State [Ala.] 43 S 482), nor does it discriminate against citizens hauling logs, etc., and in favor of others hauling heavy commodities, the burden being equally imposed on all persons within the same class (Id.). An indictment for hauling without a license need only set out the substance of the order of the court and aver a violation. Id. The order of the commissioner's court fixing the license tax was sufficiently definite and certain. Id. The words "logs, lumber or other timber" used in the act do not in the connection used necessarily include firewood. Id.

33. The same rule applies to one who owns the timber without the land. Williams v. Jones [Wis.] 111 NW 505. Timber excepted from a deed of land with right to cut and remove it is real estate and passes to heirs who are entitled to compensation for wrongful cutting and removal. Id. An innocent purchaser from one who has unlawfully cut timber on public domain is not protected by a plea of good faith in an action by the United States for the value of the timber. Anderson v. U. S. [C. C. A.] 152 F 87. A trespasser is liable whether acting for himself or as agent (Baker v. Davis, 127 Ga. 649, 57 SE 62), and principal and agent may be held jointly liable (Id.). The rule that where forest land has been invaded and trees cut the diminution in value to the whole premises may be shown in an action of trespass not applied where a telephone company was at fault and there was an assumption merely that its occupation would be permanent. Morrison v. American Tel. & T. Co., 115 App. Div. 744, 101 NYS 140. Trover may be maintained by part owners of timber for its conversion. Zimmerman Mfg. Co. v. Dunn [Ala.] 44 S 532. Claim for damages held barred by two years statute of limitations. Kirby v. Hayden [Tex. Civ. App.] 99 SW 746. Nonsuit held proper. Gray Lumber Co. v. Harris, 127 Ga. 693, 56 SE 252. Judgment in favor of defendants in action for conversion of timber affirmed. Rice v. Knostman & Franke [Wash.] 88 P 194.

34. See Damages, 9 C. L. 869.

35. See Pleading, 8 C. L. 1355. In action evidence apply.<sup>36</sup> Where the contract is unambiguous, parol evidence is inadmissible for cutting trees on plaintiff's land, the defense that the cutting was done as a riparian owner to remove obstructions to the flow of the stream not open, not having been pleaded as required by Code Civ. Proc. § 437. Hatton v. Gregg [Cal. App.] 88 P 594. Defense of an easement not available because not pleaded. Id. Where a complaint sets up the fact that one year was allowed in which to remove timber and fails to allege any modification thereof, the plaintiff is bound by its pleading to the one year limitation alleged. Boring Lumber Co. v. Roots [Or.] 90 P 487. In an action for an accounting, under a contract for the manufacture and sale of lumber, where the defendant set up in its answer a maximum sum claimed for actual expenses, and at the trial made a larger claim therefor, it was limited to the amount claimed in its answer. Wisconsin Sulphite Fibre Co. v. Jeffris Lumber Co. [Wis.] 111 NW 237. Complaint in an action against carrier for failure to furnish cars, for logs which shipper had placed along carrier's tracks, after a demand therefor, alleging that by reason of its failure logs deteriorated, states a cause of action (St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Wynne Hoop & Cooperage Co. [Ark.] 99 SW 375), and sufficiently charges that the negligence of the carrier was the proximate cause of the injury (Id.). A failure to allege the agent on whom demand for cars was made held cured by the verdict. Id. In an action to enjoin unlawful cutting defense under a lease ineffectual since brief of evidence contained only a description of the lease. Lewis v. Hutchinson, 127 Ga. 789, 56 SE 938.

36. See Evidence, 9 C. L. 1228. A scale book made by an assistant acting under the direction of and inspected and retained by a surveyor may be used by him to refresh his recollection of the stumpage scale (Madunkeunk Dam & Improvement Co. v. Allen Clothing Co. [Me.] 66 A 537), and his testimony so given is competent evidence as to the quantity of logs in question (Id.). Evidence held to show delay in shipment by carrier proximate cause of log's deterioration. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Wynne Hoop & Cooperage Co. [Ark.] 99 SW 375. A deed invalid because improperly acknowledged held admissible to explain subsequent deed ratifying and extending it. Davis v. Miller BBrent Lumber Co. [Ala.] 44 S 639. In an action by seller of options on trees for breach of contract, evidence held sufficient to show that the defendant got the trees under the options and was liable for the price. Campbell v. Phillips, 30 Ky. L. R. 567, 99 SW 277. In an action to recover for timber unlawfully cut on public lands where defendants claimed to be acting under mineral land acts, evidence as to steps taken in regard to mining claims outside of land where timber was cut is inadmissible (Anderson v. U. S. [C. C. A.] 152 F 87), while evidence that the defendants had made mining locations in other places and proceeded to cut timber on adjoining lands regardless of boundaries was admissible to show lack of good faith as to mining claims (Id.), and where it was shown that the timber cut on the adjoining lands exceeded that cut on land located it was presumed that the cutting was unlawful (Id.). Conversations between the defendants and others at the time contract for sale of logs was made as to the particular lands on which the timber was to be cut inadmissible as self-serving. Id. To meet the mining claim defense, it was proper to admit an opinion by an expert that the ground where the timber was cut was not worth locating for mining purposes. Id. In an action for unlawfully cutting timber, declarations of an agent of a lumber company claiming that certain timber belonged to the company held admissible, not as showing good title, but that the company claimed it, and negating the idea that its cutting was accidental or through mistake as to boundaries. Gray Lumber Co. v. Harris, 127 Ga. 693, 56 SE 252. In action for the price of posts, ties, and poles, the question of the passage of title and of surrender or discharge of the contract was properly submitted to the jury. Watson v. Naugle Tie Co., 148 Mich. 675, 14 Det. Leg. N. 334, 112 NW 752. The marking of the poles with the defendant's mark was evidence of ownership under Comp. Laws, § 5085. Id. In an action for unlawful cutting, declarations of defendant's foreman at the time of the cutting admissible as part of the res gestae. Gray Tie Co. v. Clark, 30 Ky. L. R. 409, 98 SW 1000. In an action for destruction of trees, evidence as to the effect which the destruction had on the value of the land is admissible where the trees were of little or no value except with reference to their situation as to the land on which they stood. Alberts v. Husenetter [Neb.] 110 NW 657. Where a contract, under which a contractor was to cut wood for the plaintiff and also wood for himself, was silent as to which lot should be cut first and no finding was made by the trial court on this point, it was presumed that the contractor sold his own lumber to defendants who were sued for conversion. Rice v. Knostman & Franke [Wash.] 88 P. 194. In an action for conversion of timber based on a breach of contract, the burden is on the plaintiff to prove a breach. Id. In an action for conversion, a scaling book (Zimmerman Mfg. Co. v. Dunn [Ala.] 44 S 533) and evidence of defendant's agent's act being irrelevant (Id.), and a statement of account as not being an admission of distinct facts, held wrongly admitted (Id.). Defendants claiming under plaintiffs were estopped to deny their title to timber. Id. Where an owner of land who having sold the timber thereon subsequently sells the land without excepting the timber, it is competent for him to show, in an action for the purchase price of the timber, that no sum was received by him for the timber in the second conveyance (McLendon Bros. v. Finch [Ga. App.] 58 SE 690), and as the deed in question contained no warranty the plea of breach of warranty of quiet possession will not lie in a suit for purchase price (Id.). Various instructions to the jury given and requested in an action on a contract to furnish logs to be manufactured into tim-

to explain or qualify it,<sup>37</sup> but where the language employed is of equivocal import,<sup>38</sup> or the contract as written is incomplete, parol evidence is admissible to explain and complete it.<sup>39</sup> The mere fact that a conveyance of timber states that all covenants and agreements shall run with the land and mentions assigns does not give a right of action to an assignee of part of the land upon notes given in payment for the timber which are held by third persons.<sup>40</sup>

Liens.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1744</sup>—In several states a lien is given for labor performed on logs and timber<sup>41</sup> which is enforced by the attachment of the property subject thereto.<sup>42</sup> The Michigan statute requires service of the writ on or before the return day upon the owner of the products or his agent or attorney, if such owner, agent, or attorney be known to the sheriff as residing in the state.<sup>43</sup> The Oregon statute requires a verified claim to be filed within thirty days after the close of the work.<sup>44</sup> Liens for tolls due dam and improvement companies are provided by statute in some states.<sup>45</sup> In Wisconsin no lien attaches for hauling logs from the mill after they are manufactured.<sup>46</sup> Lien laws being in derogation of the common laws are strictly con-

ber passed upon. Fletcher v. Prestwood [Ala.] 43 S 231. In an action for trespass for cutting timber, various requests for instructions by the plaintiff were properly refused. Davis v. Miller Brent Lumber Co. [Ala.] 44 S 639. In an action by a riparian owner for damage to his land by negligence of a timber driver, evidence that by reason of driving and formation of jams soil had been cut away from plaintiff's premises for a distance of six to ten feet laterally, extending from 800 to 1,000 feet along the banks, taken in connection with evidence as to the value of the land, was sufficient to show damage at least to the amount stated in the complaint. Mitchell v. Lea Lumber Co., 43 Wash. 195, 86 P 405.

37. A contract to transport logs, under which the owner was "to furnish not less than 5,000,000 feet per year until" his "timber is cut from above described lands," is not ambiguous, and parol understandings of the parties, even though they induced the making of the contract, are inadmissible. Gates v. Detroit & M. R. Co., 147 Mich. 523, 111 NW 101. The rule that the construction of an unambiguous written contract is for the court applied (Banks v. Blades Lumber Co., 142 N. C. 49, 54 SE 844), and also the rule forbidding variance by parol evidence, the court construing a contract for the sale of trees of a given size "at the base" to mean "at the ground," although it was customary in the vicinity to cut two feet from the ground (Id.). The contract for the sale of land and cutting of timber by vendee to be delivered to the vendor at a given price being in writing and unambiguous, parol evidence is inadmissible to show that the provision for the lumber was security only for the price of the land. Burton v. O'Neill Mfg. Co., 126 Ga. 805, 55 SE 931.

38. Parol evidence admissible to explain "addendum" to a deed which on its face gave both the grantor and grantee absolute right to the timber on the land. Shenandoah Land & Anthracite Coal Co. v. Clarke, 106 Va. 100, 55 SE 561.

39. Parol evidence to supply essential features necessary to complete the contract is admissible. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Wynne Hoop & Cooperage Co. [Ark.] 99 SW 375.

40. Nor is any question of renting involved. Jackson v. Aripeka Saw Mills [Fla.] 43 S 601.

41. Rev. Laws 1905, §§ 3524-3540. The lien lapses after ninety days, by § 3526, unless action begun. Breckke v. Duluth Log Co., 101 Minn. 110, 111 NW 949. B. & C. Comp. § 5677. The lien is not lost by sawing the logs into lumber. Fischer v. Cone Lumber Co. [Or.] 89 P 737.

42. The attachment proceedings are governed by Rev. Laws 1905, § 4215, regulating ordinary attachments, except as modified by § 8526, as to the time of issuing the writ. Breckke v. Duluth Log Co., 101 Minn. 110, 111 NW 949. The writ is provisional, not jurisdictional, and may issue at the time of issuing the summons or any time thereafter within ninety days of filing of the lien. Id.

43. A return on writ returned before return day that it had been served on the agent, the owners being nonresidents and not to be found, held good although premature and not affected by an amended return that the owners were not to be found in the state. Pepin v. Nalt [Mich.] 14 Det. Leg. N. 432, 112 NW 959.

44. B. & C. Comp. § 5683. Construing this with § 5677 the laborer has in the first instance a lien for a specified time without the assertion of any formal claim therefor, but if he intends to preserve his claim he must file the claim. Fischer v. Cone Lumber Co. [Or.] 89 P 737.

45. Private and Special Laws of 1903, c. 315, p. 485. The party whose interest is directly affected by the lien must be considered liable for the tolls. Madunkeunk Dam & Improvement Co. v. Allen Clothing Co. [Me.] 66 A 537. Assignee of original contract held to be the party in interest in fact. Id.

46. Under Rev. St. 1898, § 3329, giving a lien for labor or services performed in manufacturing logs, etc., into lumber, hauling the manufactured products from the mill is not included, the process of manufacture ending at the point in the mill yard from which it is designed that the lumber shall be taken to enter into consumption. McGeorge v. Stanton-De Long Lumber Co. [Wis.] 110 NW 788.

strued<sup>47</sup> and in order to be able to claim a lien a compliance with and performance of the contract must be shown.<sup>48</sup> A lien for necessary sawmill supplies under the Georgia statute is not superior to a prior claim based on a conditional sale.<sup>49</sup> One who cuts and hauls logs to a sawmill at a certain price per thousand feet is not an employe of the mill within the meaning of the Washington statute,<sup>50</sup> but is only entitled to a lien on the logs.<sup>51</sup> Under the Arkansas statute one who in the performance of a contract for work and labor hires others to assist him is not entitled to enforce their liens,<sup>52</sup> nor does his payment for the hired labor operate as an assignment of the lien to him.<sup>53</sup> Jurisdiction obtained by a bill to enforce a lien for the purchase price of timber<sup>54</sup> is not lost by the removal of all the timber on which the lien might attach before the hearing.<sup>55</sup> Under the Oregon statute an action for damages lies for rendering difficult, uncertain, or impossible of identification logs subject to laborers' liens without the consent of the persons entitled thereto.<sup>56</sup>

FORFEITURES, see latest topical index.

FORGERY.

Elements of Offense (1418).
Defenses (1419).
The Indictment (1419).
Presumptions (1421).
Admissibility of Evidence (1421).

Sufficiency of Evidence (1421).
Variance (1422).
Instructions (1422).
Conviction (1422).

Elements of offense. See 7 C. L. 1744—Forgery is the false and fraudulent making or altering of an instrument which would, if genuine, apparently impose a legal liability on another or change his legal liability to his prejudice,<sup>57</sup> hence there must be a false writing or alteration of an instrument<sup>58</sup> apparently capable of defraud-

47. Haralson v. Speer, 1 Ga. App. 573, 58 SE 142.

48. But proof of the completion of the contract in the foreclosure of a lien under Civ. Code 1895, § 2816, may be dispensed with when compliance with the contract is prevented by the defendant. Haralson v. Speer, 1 Ga. App. 573, 58 SE 142. In such a case a novation of the original contract is presumed. Id.

49. Civ. Code 1895, § 2809, rendering liens for necessary sawmill supplies superior to all liens not excepted therein, does not apply, as the claim was not under a lien but a duly recorded contract of sale. Tift v. Moultrie Lumber Co., 1 Ga. App. 608, 57 SE 1053.

50. Ballinger's Ann. Codes & St. § 5919. Graham v. Gardner [Wash.] 89 P 171.

51. Under Ballinger's Ann. Codes & St. § 5290. Graham v. Gardner [Wash.] 89 P 171.

52. Valley Pine Lumber Co. v. Hodgens, 80 Ark. 516, 97 SW 682.

53. It extinguishes both the debt and the lien (Valley Pine Lumber Co. v. Hodgens, 80 Ark. 516, 97 SW 682), and he is only entitled to a lien on the lumber to the amount due him for actual labor by him on the logs from which the lumber was made (Id.).

54. Under a contract for the sale of lumber, a provision that the vendee was to pay the taxes during his possession held to be a condition and the taxes part of the purchase price for which there was a lien. Michigan Iron & Land Co. v. Nester, 147 Mich. 599, 14 Det. Leg. N. 47, 111 NW 177.

55. Michigan Iron & Land Co. v. Nester, 147 Mich. 599, 14 Det. Leg. N. 47, 111 NW 177. The court had jurisdiction also to receive a supplemental bill for taxes accruing after the filing of the original bill. Id.

56. B. & C. Comp. § 5692. Evidence held insufficient to show knowledge and consent of all the lienholders. Fischer v. Cone Lumber Co. [Or.] 89 P 737. An assignment of the lien carries with it the right to claim damages under this section, although the alleged injury was committed before the assignment. Id. Complaint held sufficient despite the fact that there was no positive allegation of filing the claim within thirty days, in the absence of a demurrer. Id.

57. State v. Lotono [W. Va.] 58 SE 621. Alteration of school warrant on county treasurer for teacher's services held forgery in first degree under Rev. St. 1899, § 1995. State v. Tyree, 201 Mo. 574, 100 SW 645. One depositing in a bank to his credit a check knowing that indorsement of payee's name had been forged held guilty under Pen. Code, §§ 511, 520, 521. People v. Mingey, 118 App. Div. 652, 103 NYS 627.

58. People v. McPherson [Cal. App.] 91 P 1098; Goodman v. People, 228 Ill. 154, 81 NE 830. Assignment of certificate of sale of school lands obtained on application in name of fictitious person and authorizing land board to execute a deed to assignee

ing<sup>59</sup> with intent to defraud.<sup>60</sup> The similitude between the forged instrument and the genuine need only be such that an ordinary person might be deceived;<sup>61</sup> the forgery need not be such as to require an expert to detect it.<sup>62</sup> The forging of a fictitious name is a crime if done with intent to defraud.<sup>63</sup> Under the New York statute directed against the concealing of larceny or misappropriations "by any person" by failure to make proper entries in account books, it is not necessary to show that accused himself took money.<sup>64</sup>

An alteration must be of a material part of an instrument.<sup>65</sup> A material alteration is one which makes the instrument speak a different language in legal effect from that which it originally spoke,<sup>66</sup> or which carries with it some change in the rights, interests, or obligations of the parties thereto.<sup>67</sup>

An uttering is complete upon the offering of a forged instrument in one's possession, as genuine, though it be not exhibited to or accepted by the offeree.<sup>68</sup> Putting up as collateral security for a loan a note known to be forged is uttering a forged instrument regardless of actual loss suffered by the borrower.<sup>69</sup>

Defenses.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1745</sup>—A forgery is not nullified because it appears that it also constitutes a swindle.<sup>70</sup> Forging separate instruments at the same time and as part of the same general transaction is a separate offense for each instrument.<sup>71</sup> In a prosecution for forging and altering a deed, the existence of another deed to defendant purporting to be signed by the title holder is immaterial if the deed relied on was in fact forged and uttered with intent to defraud.<sup>72</sup>

The indictment.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1746</sup>—The indictment may charge the same offense in held a deed within statute against forging deeds. State v. Kelliher [Or.] 88 P 867.

59. People v. McPherson [Cal. App.] 91 P 1098; Goodman v. People, 228 Ill. 154, 81 NE 830; State v. Floyd [Ind.] 81 NE 1153.

Held forgeable as importing obligations: Affidavit sufficient without venue or notarial seal to jurat. Meldrum v. U. S. [C. C. A.] 151 F 177. Way bill or invoice, though it might require explanatory averments. Ex parte Fischl [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 822, 100 SW 773. Signed writing to an express agent: "Please let this boy have my jug." McGuire v. State [Miss.] 44 S 802. Check drawn by married woman living with her husband. Miller v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 771, 100 SW 380. Subscription paper for a book with name written under "subscribers" held a "writing obligatory" or "instrument in writing" within Burns' Ann. St. 1901, § 2354. State v. Hazzard [Ind.] 80 NE 149.

Not forgeable: Instrument described as a lease held void on its face. State v. Cordray, 200 Mo. 29, 98 SW 1. Paper by uttering of which it was alleged accused obtained land held not to import any legal obligation. Commonwealth v. Tabor [Ky.] 104 SW 261.

60. People v. McPherson [Cal. App.] 91 P 1098; Goodman v. People, 228 Ill. 154, 81 NE 830; State v. Cordray, 200 Mo. 29, 98 SW 1. Conviction based on finding of jury on question of intent affirmed. Allen v. State, 126 Ga. 559, 55 SE 478. Finding of intent to defraud held authorized though one who deposited a forged check intended to apply proceeds on an alleged claim against the payee whose name was forged on back of the check. People v. Mingey, 118 App. Div. 652, 102 NYS 627. Evidence insufficient to show fraudulent intent in forgery of a note. Abel v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 361, 97 SW 1055. One not guilty for presenting to an express company an order for goods at instance of another whom he believed had an interest therein or authority to sign the order. Scott v. State [Miss.] 44 S 803.

61, 62. Goodman v. People, 228 Ill. 154, 81 NE 830.

63. Prosecution for forging and uttering a deed. People v. Browne, 118 App. Div. 793, 103 NYS 903.

64. Pen. Code, § 515. People v. Curtiss, 118 App. Div. 259, 103 NYS 395.

65, 66. State v. Lotono [W. Va.] 58 SE 621.

67. Figures in a check held not material, amount being controlled by the words. State v. Lotono [W. Va.] 58 SE 621. Changing of figures in two places in an order but leaving written amount as it was held material as inducing belief that maker intended figures to control. White v. State [Ark.] 102 SW 715.

68. Walker v. State, 127 Ga. 48, 56 SE 113.

69. State v. Calhoun [Kan.] 88 P 1079.

70. Under Pen. Code 1895, art. 947, providing that if the facts attending a swindle show forgery the case is forgery. Abel v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 361, 97 SW 1055.

71. United States v. Carpenter [C. C. A.] 151 F 214. See Note, 7 C. L. 1746.

72. People v. Browne, 118 App. Div. 793, 103 NYS 903.

different counts all based upon the alleged forged instrument.<sup>73</sup> It must be certain in its allegations,<sup>74</sup> must be drawn under the proper statutory provisions,<sup>75</sup> and must show all the essential elements of the offense as therein defined,<sup>76</sup> including knowledge<sup>77</sup> and intent to injure or defraud.<sup>78</sup> An indictment in the language of the statute is not sufficient where all the facts constituting the offense are not set forth therein.<sup>79</sup> Innuendoes and averments of extrinsic facts necessary to show the fraudulent character of the writing must be made,<sup>80</sup> unless the instrument on its face imports an obligation,<sup>81</sup> or unless they relate to matters otherwise obvious or immaterial.<sup>82</sup> A charge that "with intent to defraud, defendant did feloniously forge a

73. People v. Alderdice, 105 NYS 395.

74. Indictment for forging and uttering a draft held not uncertain or duplicitous. Jordan v. State, 127 Ga. 278, 56 SE 422.

75. An indictment for forging bill of lading should be based on statutory provision against forgeries by which property rights are affected, and not on provision in Rev. St. 1899, § 2009, relating to pecuniary demands or obligations. State v. Harroun, 199 Mo. 519, 98 SW 467. Information for forging a deed is properly brought under Pen. Code, § 470, not under § 476 relative to uttering of fictitious bills. People v. McPherson [Cal. App.] 91 P 1098. Offense defined by Crimes Act, § 133 (Gen. St. 1891, § 2126), is not the uttering or passing of forged paper but the procuring of another to pass it. State v. Calhoun [Kan.] 88 P 1079. Offense committed in January, 1905, controlled by Burns' Ann. St. 1901, § 2354, since public offense statute was passed later and provided that it should not affect offenses theretofore committed. State v. Hazard [Ind.] 80 NE 149.

76. Indictment for feloniously causing a deed to be forged held sufficient under Rev. St. 1899 § 1994. State v. McGinnis, 203 Mo. 590, 102 SW 479. Information for forging a note held to sufficiently charge forgery of a pecuniary obligation of another under Rev. St. 1899, § 2009. State v. Paul, 203 Mo. 681, 102 SW 657. Indictment for having possession of forged deed with intent to defraud held sufficient under Rev. St. 1899, § 2012. State v. Stark, 202 Mo. 210, 100 SW 642. Information charging transfer of forged note to a bank held to sufficiently charge uttering and passing of forged paper under § 134 of Crimes Act (Gen. St. 1891, § 2127). State v. Calhoun [Kan.] 88 P 1079. Information not defective because it could not be determined whether it charged forging of a fictitious deed or signing a person's name to a deed. People v. McPherson [Cal. App.] 91 P 1098.

77. A charge that accused "knowingly" uttered as true a false check sufficiently states that he uttered it knowing it to be false. State v. Waterbury, 133 Iowa, 135, 110 NW 328.

78. Indictment for forging affidavit of pretended settler on unsurveyed government land with intent to procure survey and payment therefor held sufficient. Meldrum v. U. S. [C. C. A.] 151 F. 177. A charge of forgery with intent to "cheat and defraud" sufficiently alleges an intent to "injure or defraud." Under Rev. St. 1899, § 2009. State v. Harroun, 199 Mo. 579, 98 SW 467. It need not be alleged that the intent to defraud was felonious. McGuire v. State [Miss.] 44 S 802.

79. Forgery of bill of lading. Indictment under Rev. St. 1899, § 2009, not sufficient. State v. Harroun, 199 Mo. 519, 98 SW 467. Indictment closely following statute defining forgery in first degree held good. People v. Alderdice, 105 NYS 395.

80. Indictment for passing a false time pass upon a railway held bad as not showing use to which pass was to be put, that company had any railway lines, etc. Goodman v. People, 228 Ill. 154, 81 NE 830. Failure of indictment against school trustee for forging receipt for tuition money to allege that person whose name was signed was under contract to teach. State v. Floyd [Ind.] 81 NE 1153. Failure to show how rights might be affected by forgery of bill of lading. State v. Harroun, 199 Mo. 519, 98 SW 467. Failure to explain a paper alleged to have been uttered by defendant so as to obtain land. Commonwealth v. Tabor [Ky.] 104 SW 261. To explain that person whose name was signed to an order on a bank had an account therein and that bank was instructed to pay account to payee. Belden v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 968, 99 SW 563. Indictment under Ann. Code 1892, § 1108, for making false entries in a book of account, held insufficient for failing to show how any pecuniary obligation was to be affected. State v. Starling [Miss.] 42 S 203.

81. McGuire v. State [Miss.] 44 S 802; Reeves v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 267, 103 SW 894. Not necessary to allege how injured party could be affected or that he owned property. People v. McPherson [Cal. App.] 91 P 1098. Not necessary to state that a check payable to another had been indorsed by him to accused who was charged with intending to pass it (Reeves v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 267, 103 SW 894), nor to state to whom he intended to pass it (Id.). Other innuendoes held not necessary. Id. Indictment charging forging of affidavit of a pretended settler with intent to procure survey of government land held sufficient without negating truth of matters recited in the affidavit or alleging that money was deposited to meet expense of survey. Meldrum v. U. S. [C. C. A.] 151 F 177.

82. Not necessary to explain "Ten" after "$10," or the word "Per" before a signature. Johnson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 99 SW 404. Not necessary to explain an obliteration shown in instrument admitted in evidence. Id. Where a draft is set out in the indictment it is not necessary to explain who is the drawee, though it is doubtful because there appears in one upper corner the name of a banking company and in another the name of a grocery company. Id. An inforcertain deed" set out in full is sufficient without setting out the particular act in which the forgery consisted.<sup>83</sup> An information for forging a deed need not state that the person whose name was forged was the owner of the property described therein at the time of the forgery.<sup>84</sup>

Presumptions. See 7 C. L. 1748—Though possession of a forged instrument by the obligee raises a presumption of his knowledge of the forgery,<sup>85</sup> mere possession is not sufficient evidence of such knowledge where the instrument is payable to and indorsed by a third person.<sup>86</sup>

Admissibility of evidence.<sup>87</sup> See 7 C. L. 1748—Upon proof that accused personated the title holder in signing and acknowledging a deed, the burden is upon him to show authority to sign if any existed.<sup>88</sup> Under a count charging the intentional uttering of a forged instrument, evidence is admissible to show forgery either by defendant or another, and that accused knowingly uttered the instrument with intent to defraud.<sup>89</sup> On the question of intent and guilty knowledge, proof of other and similar offenses is admissible.<sup>90</sup> Other genuine instruments may be admitted by way of comparison.<sup>91</sup> Subpoenas for the persons whose names were signed to the forged instrument and returns showing that they could not be found are inadmissible to show that they were fictitious persons.<sup>92</sup>

Sufficiency of evidence.<sup>93</sup> See 7 C. L. 1749—Knowingly passing as genuine a forged paper is conclusive of intent to defraud.<sup>94</sup> Age and illiteracy are insufficient

mation for altering a school warrant need not set forth the details of the organization of the school district. State v. Tyree, 201 Mo. 574, 100 SW 645.

83. People v. Alderdice, 105 NYS 395.

84. Matter of evidence. People v. McPherson [Cal. App.] 91 P 1098.

85, 86. State v. Waterbury, 133 Iowa, 135, 110 NW 328.

87. Held admissible: Evidence on identity of person whose name was forged, showing relation between him and accused, held admissible by state in rebuttal. State v. Clark, 117 La. 920, 42 S 425. The amount of money in defendant's possession immediately before and after the cashing of an alleged forged check may be shown. Walker v. State, 127 Ga. 48, 56 SE 113.

Not admissible: In prosecution of bounty inspector for forging bounty claim certificates, certain evidence held properly excluded as not constituting any defense. State v. Newman, 34 Mont. 434, 87 P 462. See Bounties, 9 C. L. 406.

88. Not necessary to produce person whose name was alleged to have been forged. People v. Browne, 118 App. Div. 793, 103 NYS 903.

89. People v. Alderdice, 105 NYS 395.

90. That accused had in his possession another forged deed. State v. Stark, 202 Mo. 210, 100 SW 642. Possessing and passing of other similar forged instruments. State v. Calhoun [Kan.] 88 P 1079. Evidence of forgery of other bounty claim certificates. State v. Newman, 34 Mont. 434, 87 P 462. Certain evidence relative to defendant's connection with prior conveyances held admissible in prosecution for forging and uttering a deed. People v. Browne, 118 App. Div. 793, 103 NYS 903. Evidence of other forgeries by another not admissible, defendant's knowledge or connection therewith not being shown. State v. Kelliher [Or.] 88 P 867.

91. Other instruments executed by accused may be admitted to prove his handwriting. Rev. St. 1899, § 4679. State v. Stark, 202 Mo. 210, 100 SW 642. Where defendant claims that a certified copy of a deed alleged to be forged was also spurious, evidence of a witness that he had examined a number of old instruments bearing the county clerk's seal and that the seal was different than that on the certified copy is admissible, as are instruments proven to bear the genuine seal for the purpose of comparisons. Loring v. Jackson [Tex. Civ. App.] 95 SW 19.

92. Taylor v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 97 SW 474.

93. Evidence sufficient to warrant conviction under Pen. Code, § 515, for concealing misappropriations by failure to make proper entries in account books. People v. Curtiss, 118 App. Div. 259, 103 NYS 395. To sustain conviction for forgery of a check. State v. Berry [S. C.] 56 SE 662; State v. Hill [Wash.] 89 P 160; For passing forged check. Walker v. State, 127 Ga. 48, 56 SE 113. To show uttering of forged deed. People v. Alderdice, 105 NYS 395. To show that accused knowingly had in his possession a forged deed with intent to utter it as genuine in county where land was situated. State v. Stark, 202 Mo. 210, 100 SW 642. To sustain a finding that a deed in plaintiff's chain of title was forged. Loring v. Jackson [Tex. Civ. App.] 95 SW 19. In prosecution for forging a deed, evidence held sufficient to take case to jury. People v. Browne, 118 App. Div. 793, 103 NYS 903.

Evidence insufficient to support conviction for attempting to procure a loan on forged stock certificates. People v. Colmey, 116 App. Div. 516, 101 NYS 1016. Insufficient to connect defendant with forgery of a deed. State v. Kelliher [Or.] 88 P 867.

94. Charge not objectionable. Jordan v. State, 127 Ga. 278, 56 SE 422.

to show innocence of the offense of having forged papers in one's possession.<sup>95</sup> Evidence of forgeries of instruments not shown to be those set out in the indictment is insufficient to support a conviction.<sup>96</sup>

Variance. See 7 C. L. 1748—A charge of intent to defraud an individual may be sustained by proof of fraud on the firm of which he is a member.<sup>97</sup> Words on the instrument proven not constituting a part thereof do not constitute a variance;<sup>98</sup> and where an indictment states that the forged instrument is in defendant's possession and therefore sets out only its substance and the note is subsequently produced, a difference between its date and that alleged is not fatal.<sup>99</sup> But an indictment for uttering a check with two indorsements on it is not supported by proof showing that one indorsement was made after the check was uttered.<sup>1</sup>

Instructions. See 7 C. L. 1750—The materiality of an alteration is for the court.<sup>2</sup> Charges should make proper reference to the alleged forged instrument,<sup>3</sup> and must be supported by the issues<sup>4</sup> and the evidence.<sup>5</sup> The jury should be properly instructed on the question of intent.<sup>6</sup> They should be told that before alleged collateral forgeries can be considered as bearing on intent or motive, they must be found to be forgeries.<sup>7</sup> In a prosecution for uttering a forged instrument, it is proper to instruct as to what constitutes a forged instrument.<sup>8</sup>

Conviction. Where uttering and forging constitute forgery in the same degree and it is conceded that accused uttered a forged instrument, it is immaterial whether he is convicted under a count for forgery or under one for uttering.<sup>9</sup>

FORMER ADJUDICATION.

§ 1. The Doctrine in General (1423). Persons Concluded (1427).

§ 2. Adjudication as a Bar of Causes of Action or Defense (1431).

§ 3. Adjudication as Estoppel of Facts Litigated (1439).

§ 4. Pleading and Proof (1441).

95. That accused was an illiterate man fifty years old who could write only his name did not show innocence of offense of having in his possession a forged deed with intent to defraud. State v. Stark, 202 Mo. 210, 100 SW 642.

96. That amount of a forged check accorded with that of one set out held insufficient. Richard v. State, 127 Ga. 42, 55 SE 1044.

97. Evidence insufficient to show that the individual was a member of a certain firm. Sage v. People [Colo.] 90 P 58.

98. That the words "Dorsey Litho, Dallas, Texas," appeared in one corner of the instrument proven did not constitute a variance. Johnson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 99 SW 404.

99. Not error to introduce note in evidence. Baird v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 123, 101 SW 991.

1. State v. Waterbury, 133 Iowa, 135, 110 NW 328.

2. State v. Lotono [W. Va.] 58 SE 621.

3. Alleged forged instrument sufficiently identified in court's charge where it was referred to as a check for amount shown by the written words, though figures showed a greater amount. Miller v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 771, 100 SW 380.

4. Where only question was whether a name had been signed by accused or by some one else, instruction for acquittal if defendant did not sign held sufficiently favorable to him. Baird v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 123, 101 SW 991.

5. In prosecution for forging and uttering a deed, instructions held not supported by evidence and objectionable as omitting element of intent. People v. Browne, 118 App. Div. 793, 103 NYS 903. Evidence that defendant indorsed a forged check payable to his order is sufficient to authorize a charge that he would be guilty if he knowingly and fraudulently passed it or was in possession of it with intent to fraudulently pass it. Jordan v. State, 127 Ga. 278, 56 SE 422. Not error for court not to charge a section of the statute defining a grade of the offense for which accused could not be convicted for want of evidence. Id.

6. Failure to require finding of intent to defraud held error. State v. Tyree, 201 Mo. 574, 100 SW 645. Instructions not objectionable as ignoring intent and knowledge of one negotiating a forged check. State v. Berry [S. C.] 56 SE 662. Instruction authorizing jury to infer intent to defraud if accused obtained loan by putting up as security a note he knew to be forged held proper. State v. Calhoun [Kan.] 88 P 1079. Evidence that person to whom forged note was given was acquainted with handwriting of accused and prosecutor held not to require a special charge on defendant's intent. Abel v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 361, 97 SW 1055.

7. Taylor v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 97 SW 474.

8. State v. Calhoun [Kan.] 88 P 1079.

9. People v. Browne, 118 App. Div. 793, 103 NYS 903.

To be distinguished from former adjudication are the doctrines that a decision of an appellate court is binding in all subsequent proceedings in the same case,<sup>10</sup> and that decisions on questions of law will be observed as precedents.<sup>11</sup> Also the doctrines of election of remedies,<sup>12</sup> the conclusiveness of foreign judgments under constitutional provisions,<sup>13</sup> must be distinguished from that of former adjudication.

§ 1. The doctrine in general.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1750</sup>—The doctrine of former adjudication is that whatever matters have been finally<sup>14</sup> and without collusion<sup>15</sup> determined on the merits,<sup>16</sup> in any action or proceeding<sup>17</sup> in a court having jurisdiction,<sup>18</sup>

10. See Appeal and Review, 9 C. L. 108.

11. See Stare Decisis, 8 C. L. 1965.

12. See Election and Waiver, 9 C. L. 1037.

13. See Constitutional Law, 9 C. L. 610; Foreign Judgments, 9 C. L. 1405.

14. Gulling v. Washoe County Bk. [Nev.] 89 P 25, rvg. 28 Nev. 450, 82 P 800. Court's findings, orders, and decrees, to which exceptions by both parties were overruled, held judgments conclusively establishing the rights of the parties. Hutchins v. Berry [N. H.] 66 A 1046.

Judgments on demurrer, dismissal and nonsuit. [See post this section On the Merits]: Judgment of dismissal after a hearing on the merits is final. School Tp. of Bloomfield v. Independent School Dist. [Iowa] 112 NW 5. Judgment in an action between two counties for apportionment of plaintiff's indebtedness fixing the boundaries of the two counties and dismissing the suit without prejudice as against a suit for the apportionment held conclusive as to the boundaries in each suit. Board of Com'rs, Hinsdale County v. Mineral County Com'rs [Colo.] 88 P 436. Dismissal of action because of another action pending held not binding after that objection was removed. City of Chicago v. Baldwin, 227 Ill. 534, 81 NE 542. A judgment of nonsuit in a suit of entry brought by defendants against petitioner held not conclusive on his petition to register title to the land. Haskell v. Friend [Mass.] 81 NE 962. No bar where suit was withdrawn before final judgment. Thomas v. Young, 79 Conn. 493, 65 A 955.

Default judgment is res judicata. Turnage v. Joyner [N. C.] 58 SE 757.

Judgment for costs held to prevent party from presenting same matter to another judge of the same court. Herring v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co., 144 N. C. 208, 56 SE 873. Taxation of costs in criminal cases to a constable by a justice of the peace is not a final adjudication binding on the county. Code, § 4600, construed. McGuire v. Iowa County, 133 Iowa, 636, 111 NW 34.

Orders made on motions affecting the substantial rights of parties from which an appeal lies, if the matter in question has been fully tried, are as conclusive upon the issue necessarily decided as are final judgments. Order denying motion to quash service of summons. Rogers v. McCord-Collins Mercantile Co. [Okla.] 91 P 864. Where two persons are contesting in the land department for a tract of government land, and one plants a portion thereof after obtaining a mandatory injunction, and the injunction is on motion dissolved, and the court orders the crop divided, such order is not final and the rights of the parties to the crop may be litigated on the final hearing. Brown v. Donnelly [Okla.] 91 P 859.

Appellate judgments: A judgment and order of an appellate court reversing and remanding a case, general in its terms and containing no direction to the trial court, is not res judicata. Zerulla v. Supreme Lodge, Order of Mutual Protection, 223 Ill. 518, 79 NE 160.

Error does not prevent binding effect. Gable v. Page [Cal. App.] 91 P 339; Johnson v. Porterfield [Ala.] 43 S 228. Judgment against public corporation. Raymer v. Trustees White School Dist. No. 18, 30 Ky. L. R. 332, 98 SW 323. Correctness of the judgment or decree is not the test whereby its effect as res judicata is determined. Hogle v. Smith [Iowa] 113 NW 556. Erroneous orders made in proceedings wherein judgment was secured does not render it any the less conclusive. Carpenter v. Landry [Tex. Civ. App.] 101 SW 277. Claim evidenced by final decree in equity cannot be questioned in probate proceedings but must be deemed "proved" in actions under Gen. Laws 1896, c. 218, § 27. Williams v. Starkweather [R. I.] 66 A. 67. Where judgment fixed liability of beneficiaries on notes taken by the trustee endorsed by them in action for accounting against trustee, claim that such judgment erroneously provides for the collection of interest held barred. Blair v. Cargill, 111 App. Div. 853, 98 NYS 109. Where in a statutory action against a street railway company and a city for injuries from a defect in the street plaintiff suffered an involuntary nonsuit against the street railway company and then elected to pursue his action against the city, which he was not bound to do, and was defeated in a trial on the merits, he was bound by the judgments and he has no ground of complaint because not nonsuited as to both defendants. Crotty v. Danbury, 79 Conn. 379, 65 A 147. Answer failing to allege that judgment had been appealed from, and appeal being dismissed before trial, its pendency at the time of the commencement of the action cannot be raised. Wheeler v. Aberdeen [Wash.] 87 P 1061.

15. B. F. Johnson Pub. Co. v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 148, 97 SW 749.

16. Carroll v. Grande Ronde Elec. Co. [Or.] 90 P 903; Macon & B. R. Co. v. Walton, 127 Ga. 294, 56 SE 419; Peacock v. Feaster [Fla.] 42 S 889. Unless the evidence shows that the former adjudication was on the merits, the plea fails. Evidence of former adjudication held insufficient to show that it was had on the merits. Couch v. Harp, 201 Mo. 457, 100 SW 9. Judgment must be the result of an actual and fair trial of the issues. Missouri State Life Ins. Co. v. Lovelace [Ga. App.] 58 SE 93. Discharge of garnishees in proceeding by judgment creditor of corporation by garnishment against stockholders held to bar suit to enforce such stockholder's liability in equity. Montgomery Iron Works v. Roman, 147 Ala. 434, 41 S 811. A judgment, in an action on a note, in favor of defendant because there was no revenue stamp on the note held to bar action between same parties on the same note after a stamp had been placed thereon. Roney v. Westlake, 216 Pa. 374, 65 A 807. Waiver or withdrawal of demand for damages by a cotenant in a suit to recover possession of his interest in a mining claim held not to bar him from subsequently recovering the value of his share of ore extracted therefrom in a suit for an accounting. Dettering v. Nordstrom [C. C. A.] 148 F 81. A denial of mandamus on the ground that the railroad defendant was in the hands of a Federal receiver held not to preclude, after the discharge of the receiver, proceedings involving the same matters before the corporation commission. Winchester & S. R. Co. v. Com., 106 Va. 264, 55 SE 692. A decree expressly reserving from its operation the right to take proceedings in respect to certain matters is no bar to a subsequent action on such matters, but precludes the parties from litigating the matters not within the exception. Smith v. Cowell [Colo.] 92 P 20. Judgment of appellate court that lower court had no jurisdiction of case held not to bar a subsequent suit on the same cause of action. Brick v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co. [N. C.] 58 SE 1073.

No bar by a dismissal not upon the merits. In re Hanlin's Estate [Wis.] 113 NW 411; Robb v. New York & Cleveland Gas Coal Co., 216 Pa. 418, 65 A 938.

Dismissal on technical grounds is no bar to a subsequent suit, except as to the ground on which the dismissal was based. Smith v. Cowell [Colo.] 92 P 20. Dismissal on the ground that all matters of difference between the parties had been adjusted held no bar. Shakespeare v. Caldwell Land & Lumber Co., 144 N. C. 516, 57 SE 213. Dismissal of petition on general demurrer on the ground that petitioner was not able to take advantage of his equitable defenses in the court held no bar. Missouri State Life Ins. Co. v. Lovelace [Ga. App.] 58 SE 93. Dismissal of an equity suit on the ground that plaintiff should have proceeded at law is no bar to a legal action thereafter commenced. Costello v. Grant County Mut. Fire & Lightning Ins. Co. [Wis.] 113 NW 639. Dismissal of crossbill held not to bar suit on note set up therein. Griider v. Corbin, 116 App. Div. 818, 102 NYS 181. Dismissal of petition of mandamus against city clerk, to compel him to call a special election, for failure of relator to amend his petition after the overruling of a demurrer to the return, held not to bar subsequent mandamus proceedings on a subsequent petition for an election. State v. Hinkel [Wis.] 111 NW 217. Dismissal of action in justice court because the summons did not comply with the requirement that it have attached thereto "a copy of the cause of action sued on," and because "it was impossible to tell from the summons or the 'account' thereto attached, the nature of the claim upon which the action was based," held no adjudication on the merits. Macon & B. R. Co. v. Walton, 127 Ga. 294, 56 SE 419.

Dismissals on the merits: Dismissal after hearing on the merits is a bar. Whitney v. Whitney [Neb.] 110 NW 555. Judgment dismissing action for trial of right to property is conclusive of claimant's right to the property. Kempner v. First Nat. Bk. [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 341, 99 SW 112. Dismissal of bill to set aside tax deeds as invalid is on the merits. Pond v. Huling, 125 Mo. App. 474, 101 SW 115. A decree dismissing a proceeding for limitation of liability for damages for a collision after hearing, on the ground that petitioner was the owner of both vessels concerned in the collision and both of which were in fault and had surrendered but one, is on the merits. The San Rafael, 149 F 893. A judgment of dismissal entered on the sustaining of a statutory objection to the admission of any evidence under the complaint, upon the ground that it does not state facts sufficient to constitute a cause of action, is equivalent to one on general demurrer and is on the merits. Coram v. Ingersoll [C. C. A.] 148 F 169. So held where in an action on a contract the judgment of dismissal was affirmed on appeal in an opinion which construed the contract and held that the facts alleged in the complaint did not show a performance of the contract entitling plaintiff to recover. Id. Under Code Civ. Proc. § 1007, a judgment of dismissal of the complaint is a bar if on the merits and such fact appears by express declaration. Glass v. Basin & Bay State Min. Co., 35 Mont. 567, 90 P 753. Judgment in an action for breach of contract not so declaring held not a bar. Id.

Voluntary dismissal. Woodward v. Davidson, 150 F 840. A judgment of voluntary dismissal is no bar. Smith v. Cowell [Colo.] 92 P 20; Sevier v. Bowling, 30 Ky. L. R. 217, 97 SW 806; Couch v. Harp, 201 Mo. 457, 100 SW 9.

Dismissal without prejudice: A dismissal without prejudice does not constitute an estoppel. Voluntary dismissal. Woodward v. Davidson, 150 F 840. Petition in condemnation proceedings. Kittery Water Dist. v. Agamenticus Water Co. [Me.] 67 A 631. A decree of dismissal without prejudice to any "action at law" rendered by a Federal court on sustaining a demurrer to the complaint in equity on the ground that plaintiff was not entitled to the relief prayed for is a bar to a subsequent action in a state court setting up a like equitable cause of action; the quoted words meaning a cause of action at law, notwithstanding the Code abolishes different forms of action. Smith v. Cowell [Colo.] 92 P 20.

Nonsuit against garnishee in proceeding by judgment creditor of corporation by garnishment against stockholder held not to bar suit to enforce such stockholder's liability in equity. Montgomery Iron Works v. Roman, 147 Ala. 434, 41 S 811.

Judgment of nonsuit is no bar (Carroll v. Grande Ronde Elec. Co. [Or.] 90 P 903), and it can make no difference upon what point the motion is allowed, or how the judgment may be framed, or what recitals it may contain, or that the motion was ordered upon the failure of plaintiff's evidence (Id.). Nonsuit of plaintiff does not bind parties though they agree that determination of instant case should be governed by the determination of another suit pending. Carp v. National Assur. Co. [Mo. App.] 99 SW 523.

Default judgment: Default judgment held a bar. Turnage v. Joyner [N. C.] 58 SE 757.

Defendant having knowledge of the pendency of the suit held binding. Kelly & Jones Co. v. More [Ga.] 58 SE 181.

Judgment on the pleadings is on the merits under Code Civ. Proc. §§ 581, 582. Bailey v. Aetna Indemnity Co. [Cal. App.] 91 P 416. A judgment on the pleadings is conclusive if it determines the merits of the controversy as distinguished from the merits of the pleading. Code Civ. Proc. § 1005 considered. Glass v. Basin & Bay State Min. Co., 35 Mont. 567, 90 P 753.

Judgment on demurrer: Judgment of dismissal on a demurrer going to the merits as that the facts stated do not constitute a cause of action is a bar. Smith v. Cowell [Colo.] 92 P 20. Judgment of dismissal sustaining a demurrer for want of jurisdiction or technical defect is not a bar to a subsequent suit. Id. Judgment on demurrer reaching the merits is res adjudicata. Northern Pac. R. Co. v. Slaght, 205 U. S. 122, 51 Law. Ed. 738; Id., 205 U. S. 134, 51 Law. Ed. 742. Judgment sustaining a general demurrer is a bar. Kempner v. First Nat. Bk. [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 341, 99 SW 112; Carpenter v. Landry [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 236, 101 SW 277. Judgment on demurrer to petition in action against bank directors on the ground that the cause of action therein set forth could be maintained only by the bank's receiver is no bar to a subsequent action under petition stating cause of action in favor of the individual creditor. Yates v. Utica Bank, 206 U. S. 181, 51 Law. Ed. 1015. Dismissal on demurrer reaching the jurisdiction is no bar to another action involving the same issues. Weisenborn v. Evans, 30 Ky. L. R. 781, 99 S W 629. Where a demurrer goes both to defects of form and also to the merits, a judgment thereon not designating between the two grounds will be presumed to rest on the former, the record not disclosing otherwise. Motes v. Gila Valley, Globe & N. R. Co. [Ariz.] 89 P 410. Where defendant demurred to a bill on the ground that it was without equity and was multifarious and the demurrer was sustained but the order not reciting upon which ground, it will be presumed that the demurrer was considered on the merits. Burton v. McMillan [Fla.] 42 S 879. Striking out claim for damages in a replevin action as irrelevant held not to bar action thereon. Haughwaut v. Royse, 122 Mo. App. 72, 98 SW 101. If a portion of a plea or answer is stricken out upon a ruling made that it is without merit, this is res judicata, if an amendment setting up substantially the same defense is tendered at a later date. Morrison-Trammell Brick Co. v. McWilliams, 127 Ga. 159, 56 SE 306. But if such part of a plea or answer is stricken on a special demurrer on the ground that it is not sufficiently specific, it is not res judicata. Id.

Presumption as to decision on merits: Under Code, § 3771, requiring a judgment where both matters in abatement and bar are pleaded, if based on the matter in abatement to so declare, a judgment failing to so declare will be presumed to have been on the merits. Reeves & Co. v. Lamm Bros. [Iowa] 112 NW 642.

17. Judgment of court of competent jurisdiction as to validity of bonds held res judicata. Board of Com'rs of Day County v.

Kansas [Okla.] 91 P 693. Order of court taxing costs held res judicata as between moving party and officer in whose favor costs are taxed. Sheibley v. Cooper [Neb.] 113 NW 626. Where motion to set aside summons because of lack of proper foundation and of nonconformity with the laws of the state was denied and defendant failed to plead in the time allotted, held validity of summons was res judicata. Kellogg v. Maloney [C. C. A.] 152 F 405. Except in the cases of provisional remedies the denial of a motion bars a subsequent motion for the same relief, unless based on facts subsequently arising on the ground that the former judgment was obtained by fraud. Haskell v. Moran, 117 App. Div. 251, 102 NYS 388. Motion to bring in parties. Id.

Accounting of executor or trustee. In re Menzie's Estate, 54 Misc. 188, 105 NYS 925.

Condemnation proceedings. Laguna Drainage Dist. v. Charles Martin Co. [Cal. App.] 89 P 993.

Habeas corpus. Bleakley v. Barclay [Kan.] 89 P 906; Ex parte Moebus [N. H.] 66 A 641. Judgment in habeas corpus rendered in one court is a bar to a further proceeding on the same issues in an appellate court. In re Boutelle, 124 Mo. App. 450, 101 SW 1096.

Contra: The doctrine of res judicata does not apply in matters of habeas corpus, and, there being no Federal statute limiting the common-law right of an applicant to petition successfully every judge having authority in the premises, a Federal court may entertain a petition, notwithstanding the denial in the same petition by a state court also having jurisdiction. In re Kopel, 148 F 505.

Mandamus proceeding. Kaufer v. Ford, 100 Minn. 49, 110 NW 364.

18. Page v. Garver [Cal. App.] 90 P 481. Equity and law. Smith v. Cowell [Colo.] 92 P 20. Not a bar where it affirmatively appears that the court was without jurisdiction. Weaver v. Schumpert, 118 La. 315, 42 S 949. Judgment which shows affirmatively that the court acquired no jurisdiction is not a bar. Lutcher v. Allen [Tex. Civ. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 149, 95 SW 572. Judgment of commitment under Civil Code 1895, § 2372 et seq., is a judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction. Kennedy v. Meara, 127 Ga. 68, 56 SE 243. Judgment rendered by the probate court on matters beyond its jurisdiction is not conclusive. Ivie v. Ewing, 120 Mo. App. 124, 96 SW 481. Probate decree by judge of county adjoining county of decedent's residence and acting at the request of the probate judge of the county of decedent's residence held not binding for want of jurisdiction. In re Mears' Estate, 75 S. C. 482, 56 SE 7. Order of distribution of probate court held not a conclusive adjudication that a partnership did not exist between decedent and another to which the property belonged as against a creditor of the alleged partner who seeks to follow the property into the hands of the heirs. Bartleson v. Feidler, 149 F 299. So far as relates to assets applied and disclosed on accounting of executors held decree of surrogate allowing accounts was decisive of validity of certain provisions of the will relating to accumulations so far as they affected assets applied and disclosed in such report. Kirk v. McCann, 117 App. Div. 56, 101 NYS 1093.

or before an officer or board exercising judicial functions,<sup>19</sup> are concluded by such adjudication and cannot again be litigated<sup>20</sup> between the same parties<sup>21</sup> or their privies,<sup>22</sup> either before the same or another tribunal,<sup>23</sup> until the adjudication has been duly reversed, modified, or otherwise adjudged erroneous.<sup>24</sup> The doctrine of res judicata does not apply to propositions of law,<sup>25</sup> and in this regard is to be distinguished from the rules applicable to the law of the case.<sup>26</sup> The fact that the forms of action and the precise remedies sought in the two actions are different does not prevent an estoppel.<sup>27</sup> Consequently, it makes no difference that one suit is at law and the other in equity.<sup>28</sup> While judgment is no bar to actions on subsequently acquired or arising rights,<sup>29</sup> still the fact that the former judgment was rendered 19. Determination of attorney general not to bring quo warranto proceedings no bar to such proceedings by successor. People v. McClellan, 118 App. Div. 177, 103 NYS 146.

20. Gulling v. Washoe County Bk. [Nev.] 89 P 25, rvg. 28 Nev. 450, 82 P 800.

21. Peacock v. Feaster [Fla.] 42 S 889; Chatman v. Hodnett, 127 Ga. 360, 56 SE 439; Pratt v. Griffin, 223 Ill. 349, 79 NE 102; Gulling v. Washoe County Bk. [Nev.] 89 P 25, rvg. 28 Nev. 450, 82 P 800; McCord v. Akeley [Wis.] 111 NW 1100. See post this section, Persons Concluded.

22. Gable v. Page [Cal. App.] 91 P 333; Peacock v. Feaster [Fla.] 42 S 889; Pratt v. Griffin, 223 Ill. 349, 79 NE 102; Gulling v. Washoe County Bk. [Nev.] 89 P 25, rvg. 28 Nev. 450, 82 P 800; McCord v. Akeley [Wis.] 111 NW 1100. See post this section, Persons Concluded.

23. Peacock v. Feaster [Fla.] 42 S 889; Strickland v. National Salt Co. [N. J. Eq.] 64 A 982. Foreign judgment res judicata. Bailey v. Wilson, 52 Misc. 644, 54 Misc. 45, 103 NYS 1021; Bleakley v. Barelay [Kan.] 89 P 906. State and Federal. Kellogg v. Maloney [C. C. A.] 152 F 405; St. Louis Min. & Mill. Co. v. Montana Min. Co., 148 F 450. Decree of superior court of Florida rejecting a Florida land claim on the ground of fraudulent alteration bars an action in the Federal court to establish it. Act of June 22, 1860, construed. United States v. Dalcour, 203 U. S. 408, 51 Law. Ed. 248. A decree of a Federal court is binding on the parties and on the state courts until set aside, though it conflicts with a decision of the state courts. Smith v. Cowell [Colo.] 92 P 20. Determination of the courts of one state on the question of its jurisdiction is res adjudicata in an action on the judgment in another state. Tootle v. McClellan [Ind. T.] 103 SW 766. Judgment of probate court in partition is conclusive in a similar proceeding in equity unless grounds of equitable interposition appear. Finch v. Smith, 146 Ala. 644, 41 S 819.

24. City of Elizabeth v. Central R. Co., 70 N. J. Eq. 797, 66 A 418. No bar where trial court's decree has been reversed on appeal and cause remanded. Wiemers v. People, 225 Ill. 82, 80 NE 68. Judgment of commitment under Civ. Code 1895, § 2372 et seq., binding on parties so long as unreversed. Kennedy v. Meara, 127 Ga. 68, 56 SE 243. Unappealed judgment of circuit court on appeal from a magistrate's court held res judicata. Forrest v. McBee [S. C.] 58 SE 955. The validity of a deed being in issue, the judgment rendered is binding on the parties and their privies until reversed on appeal or set aside by direct attack. Wilkinson v. Lehman-Durr Co. [Ala.] 43 S 857.

25. In re Hurlbut's Estate, 51 Misc. 263, 100 NYS 1098.

26. See Appeal and Review, 9 C. L. 108.

27. Manchester Home Bldg. & Loan Ass'n v. Porter, 106 Va. 528, 56 SE 337. Is not necessary that the form of action be the same in both cases. Van Camp v. Huntington, 39 Ind. App. 28, 78 NE 1057. Judgment in mandamus to compel lodge to reinstate a member is a bar to a judgment for damages for malicious expulsion. Matousek v. Bohemian Roman Catholic First Cent. Union, 192 Mo. 588, 91 SW 538.

28. Van Camp v. Huntington, 39 Ind. App. 28, 78 NE 1057. Judgment in injunction suit held conclusive as to execution of contract in subsequent action on the contract for services. Id. Facts arising after the commencement of the original action. Ben C. Jones & Co. v. Gammel Statesman Pub. Co. [Tex.] 99 SW 701. A judgment on the merits in an action at law is conclusive in equity, except as to matters within its exclusive jurisdiction and a determination in equity is conclusive in an action at law. Smith v. Cowell [Colo.] 92 P 20. Judgment quieting title to property is not a bar to a subsequent action by defeated party based upon title acquired after the adjudication. Wadley v. Leggett [Ark.] 101 SW 720. Where, in ejectment, it is shown that in a previous equity suit, in which the parties and property were the same and the equity set up against the legal title was the same, a decree was entered against plaintiff, it constitutes res judicata. Bruner v. Finley, 217 Pa. 127, 66 A 159.

29. Right to enter on land. Richey v. Beus, 31 Utah, 262, 87 P 903. The estoppel of a judgment only applies to the facts as they existed when the judgment was rendered and does not extend to facts occurring after such time. State v. Leavenworth [Kan.] 90 P 237. A judgment is not a bar to a cause of action accruing after the rendition of the judgment. Roach v. Curtis, 115 App. Div. 765, 101 NYS 333. A judgment in a claim case finding the property not subject on the ground that defendant had no leviable interest held not to estop plaintiff in fi. fa. from proceeding to subject the property after tenable interest had been acquired. McLendon v. Shumate [Ga.] 57 SE 856. In a suit to enforce an agreement, defendant can urge any defense based on circumstances arising subsequent to a previous adjudication in a suit brought under the

after the commencement of the second suit,<sup>30</sup> or during the pendency thereof,<sup>31</sup> does not affect its operation as res judicata, and the parties trying to relitigate the questions in another tribunal, the court first having jurisdiction may enjoin such proceedings.<sup>32</sup> Where there are no intervening equities, a nunc pro tunc judgment will sustain a plea of res judicata between the parties as to the matter involved in the litigation.<sup>33</sup> When application is made to collect a judgment by process not contained in itself, and requiring, in order to be sustained, reference to the alleged cause of action upon which it is founded, the aid of the court should not be granted when upon the face of the record it appears that the judgment rests upon no cause of action whatever.<sup>34</sup> In some cases a decision not technically res judicata will be given such effect by analogy.<sup>35</sup> What effect a judgment of a state court shall have as res judicata is a question of state or local law.<sup>36</sup> The effect of a former adjudication cannot be overcome by a collateral attack on the judgment.<sup>37</sup>

Persons concluded.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1754</sup>—All adversary parties<sup>38</sup> to the action, or persons in privity with them<sup>39</sup> who acquire their interest subsequent to the suit<sup>40</sup> are bound by a final judgment on the merits rendered therein. The term "privity" suggests mutual succession or relation to the same property or property right.<sup>41</sup> While, same agreement. Buttler v. Buttler [N. J. Eq.] 65 A 485. The fact that a party may have obtained a judgment against another does not bar him from subsequently asking for the same kind of relief against the same party, if conditions have changed and new facts and elements are brought in. State v. Leavenworth [Kan.] 90 P 237. Rule applied to quo warranto proceedings. Id. An order granting, after hearing a preliminary injunction, is not res judicata on an application for the dissolution thereof on the grounds that it has been in force 12 months, that the applicant does not consent to its remaining longer in force, and that the cause has not been set for trial on its merits, as expressly authorized by Code Civ. Proc. § 527. German Sav. & Loan Soc. v. Aldridge [Cal. App.] 89 P 1063. Decree enjoining a nuisance is not res adjudicata as to fact subsequently arising and bringing about a change of conditions. Perrin v. Crescent City Stockyard & Slaughterhouse Co. [La.] 44 S 513. Judgment in action to cancel lease does not bar cause of action which could not arise until lease was canceled. Lincoln Trust Co. v. Nathan, 122 Mo. App. 319, 99 SW 484.

30. Manchester Home Bldg. & Loan Ass'n v. Porter, 106 Va. 528, 56 SE 337.

31. Patent infringement. Bredin v. National Metal Weatherstrip Co., 147 F 741.

32. Proceedings in state court enjoined by Federal court. St. Louis Min. & Mill. Co. v. Montana Min. Co., 148 F 450.

33. Walden v. Walden [Ga.] 57 SE 323.

34. Brunson v. Caskie, 127 Ga. 501, 56 SE 621. On application for mandamus to compel issue of county warrant to pay a judgment, the principle of res judicata held not to apply, but the court would go behind the judgment to ascertain if the liability be such as the county may legally levy a tax to discharge it. Id.

35. A decision of a state court denying the right of a city to attack the validity of a contract made by it with a water company held controlling in a Federal court in a subsequent action by the water company against the city on the contract, even though the question of the validity of the contract was not strictly res judicata. City of Defiance v. McGonigle [C. C. A.] 150 F 689.

36. Carson v. Three States Lumber Co. [C. C. A.] 149 F 377.

37. Corbet v. Craven [Mass.] 82 NE 37. See Judgments, § C. L. 530.

38. Johnson v. Knudson-Mercer Co., 167 Ind. 429, 79 NE 367. Codefendants in an action in which they appear and litigate the issues determined by the decree are concluded by it although the issues are not set forth in the pleadings. Gulling v. Washoe County Bk. [Nev.] 89 P. 25, rvg. 28 Nev. 450, 82 P 800. Where two parties are by way of defense to a suit by one of them charged with a joint conversion, the determination against defendants is a bar to an action against the other party. Clement v. Clement [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 575, 99 SW 138. In a suit to quiet title to water right defendant, who obtained title under a foreclosure proceeding adjudging that plaintiff had a certain water right and with knowledge of the adjudication, was conclusively bound thereby, and could not plead that plaintiff's grantors had abandoned the water right. Schmidt v. Olympia Light & Power Co. [Wash.] 90 P 212.

39. See ante this section. As to who are privies, see infra, this section.

40. Only those are privies who acquire an interest in the subject-matter of the action subsequent to its commencement. A decree in favor of the defendant in a suit for infringement of a patent brought after the defendant had been succeeded in business by a corporation is not a bar to a second suit against the corporation which continued the alleged infringement, but was not made a party to the first suit. Calculagraph Co. v. Automatic Time Stamp Co., 154 F 166. Where after sale and delivery of goods to buyer's agent the seller resells them, rep Levin by the second buyer against the agent is not binding on the principal. Northwestern State Bk. v. Silberman [C. C. A.] 154 F 809. See, also, Sill v. Pate, 230 Ill. 39, 82 NE 356.

41. ILLUSTRATIONS: One who advised and directed litigation and did not intervene therein when his rights were involved is bound by the decree. Champlin v. Butler, 124 Ill. App. 41. Irrigation case. Carrier of water and persons receiving water held in privity. Combs v. Farmers' High Line Canal & Reservoir Co. [Colo.] 88 P 396. Suit by government to cancel patent to public lands held not binding on homestead claimant not a party thereto. Brandon v. Ard, 74 Kan. 424, 87 P 366.

Assignor and assignee held privies. Giblin v. North Wisconsin Lumber Co. [Wis.] 111 NW 499.

Bailor and bailee in privity. Rowe v. Granger, 118 App. Div. 459, 103 NYS 439.

Bankrupt and trustee in bankruptcy held privies. O'Sullivan's Trustee v. Douglass, 30 Ky. L. R. 366, 98 SW 990. Adjudication of existence of partnership in a bankruptcy proceeding against it held not binding on trustee, of individual partner, not a party to such proceeding. Manson v. Williams [C. C. A.] 153 F 525.

Citizens, etc.: Residents and inhabitants of county bound by taxpayers' action. See Giblin v. North Wisconsin Lumber Co. [Wis.] 111 NW 499. Judgment validating an issue of municipal bonds is conclusive upon the city, its citizens, and every one else. Baker v. Cartersville, 127 Ga. 221, 56 SE 249. Judgment in proceeding brought by a legal voter of a county on behalf of himself and all other legal voters of the county held binding on all such voters. Kanfer v. Ford, 100 Minn. 49, 110 NW 364. Decree of the Choctaw and Chickasaw citizenship court in a test case against ten persons as provided by statute, vacating the judgments of the United States courts for irregularity, is binding on all persons similarly situated who were not made parties to the suit but abided by the decision therein and failed to transfer their cases to the citizenship court. Wallace v. Adams, 204 U. S. 415, 51 Law. Ed. 547.

Consignor and consignee of goods held not in privity with each other, there being no relation of agency existing between them. American Exp. Co. v. Des Moines Nat. Bk. [Iowa] 111 NW 31.

Corporation and stockholders: Suit against stockholders and managing agent of corporation as an individual does not bind corporation. Harvey v. Sparks Bros. [Wash.] 88 P 1108. In the absence of fraud or collusion a judgment against a corporation is conclusive of the amount and validity of the claim as against the stockholders. Montgomery v. Whitehead [Colo.] 90 P 509.

Corporation and officers: In suit against officers for mismanagement of banking affairs, neither the bank nor creditors or stockholders are estopped to set up claims of the bank against other creditors claiming under judgments or otherwise, the matters not having been previously adjudicated in suits between the same parties. Elliott v. Farmers' Bk., 61 W. Va. 641, 57 SE 242.

Debtor and assignee for creditors: Claim existing at the time of the execution of an assignment for the benefit of creditors can be subsequently enforced against the debtor and the judgment is binding on the assignee. Nicholas v. Lord, 118 App. Div. 800, 103 NYS 681. Executor and foreign administrator are not in privity. Brown v. Fletcher's Estate, 146 Mich. 401, 13 Det. Leg. N. 818, 109 NW 686. Executor held not in privity with foreign administrator so as to be bound by judgment on an award against him in an action started in decedent's lifetime though decedent had stipulated that the "award" should be binding on himself, his executors, administrators, etc. Id. Probate proceedings in a foreign jurisdiction by which a domestic administrator was removed from his position as guardian of certain minors on petition of a surety on his bond held not to bar successor from denying that administrator had paid over to himself as guardian the shares of the estate to which the minors were entitled. State v. Whitehouse [Conn.] 67 A 503. General and ancillary administrator subsequently appointed held in privity. Benker v. Meyer [C. C. A.] 154 F 290. Suit by an administrator on a chose in action constituting part of the estate bars a second suit thereon by an ancillary administrator of the estate in another jurisdiction. Coram v. Ingersoll [C. C. A.] 148 F 169.

Grantor and grantee held in privity. Potter v. Ft. Madison Loan & Trust Bldg. Ass'n, 133 Iowa, 367, 110 NW 616.

Heirs, ancestor, and personal representatives: A judgment binding upon an intestate is binding on his heirs at law. Page v. Carver [Cal. App.] 90 P 481. Widow held in privity with husband and his administrator. Suit to set aside deed. Id. Where, as in Ohio, there is no privity between an administrator and the heirs of the decedent, a judgment against the administrator is no more than prima facie evidence against the heirs and their grantees of a claim against the estate, but for the purpose of some cases it may be considered that such judgment is conclusive evidence. Kemper v. Apollo B. & L. Co., 5 Ohio N. P. (N. S.) 403.

Husband and wife: Judgment determining that one holds realty as mortgagee and not as owner binds his wife though she is not a party to the decree. Stitt v. Smith [Minn.] 113 NW 632. Where assignee of notes sued husband and wife thereon held he could show that matter set up in defense was adjudicated in another action brought by the husband against the payee and received his damages therefor. Community benefited. Parker v. Galbraith [Wash.] 89 P 712. Judgment for defendant in action by wife for injuries is not a bar to action by husband for injuries to wife. Womach v. St. Joseph, 201 Mo. 467, 100 SW 443.

Life tenant and remaindermen: Decree for sale of real estate in action brought by life tenant is not binding upon remaindermen not in esse at the time the decree was rendered, where they take title under a will as heirs of the body of the life tenant, who takes life estate under the same will. Heady v. Crouse, 203 Mo. 100, 100 SW 1052.

Minor and next friend held in privity. Walden v. Walden [Ga.] 57 SE 323.

Parent and child: Children not in privity with parents. Divorce suit. Graham v. Graham [Colo.] 88 P 852. Children asserting title to land as heirs of father and independently of mother who was party to former suit held not in privity with her. McSwain v. Ricketson [Ga.] 58 SE 655. Judgment against surviving wife establishing community debt and foreclosing lien against community property is conclusive as against minor heirs of deceased husband. Henry v. Vaughan [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 711, 103 SW 192.

Partners: Judgment in action against an except in the case of proceedings in rem,<sup>42</sup> only parties or privies to parties to the action are bound by the judgments therein,<sup>43</sup> still it is not necessary that one be a party to the record in order to be bound; it is sufficient if he has an interest and participates in the action,<sup>44</sup> or has negligently failed to become a party,<sup>45</sup> or has consented to the individual member of a firm is res adjudicata in an action against the firm involving the same issues. Fox v. Clemmons, 30 Ky. L. R. 805, 99 SW 641.

Principal and agent: Exclusive sales agents held in privity with principal. Patent infringement suit. Warren Featherbone Co. v. DeCamp, 154 F 198. Judgment in favor of a corporate defendant held to bar similar action against the corporation's agent on the same transaction. Krolik v. Curry, 148 Mich. 214, 14 Det. Leg. N. 74, 111 NW 761. Where after sale and delivery of goods to buyer's agent the seller resells the goods, replevin by the second buyer against the agent is not binding on the principal. Northwestern State Bk. v. Silberman [C. C. A.] 154 F 809.

Principal and surety: Order of probate court approving administrator's account and charging the administrator with interest is, unless impeached for fraud, conclusive on the administrator and his sureties in a suit on his bond. McDonald v. People, 222 Ill. 325, 78 N E 609.

Public officials: Successor in public office is in privity with predecessor. Wheeler v. Aberdeen [Wash.] 87 P 1061.

Purchaser pendente lite: Trustee in bankruptcy intervening in a suit instituted by a claimant to recover specific property alleged to have been purchased by the bankrupt by fraudulent representations held bound by the judgment as a person acquiring an interest pendente lite. Linstroth Wagon Co. v. Ballew [C. C. A.] 149 F 960.

Trustee and beneficiary: Trustee and beneficiary held in privity. Friedman v. New York, etc., R. Co., 52 Misc. 20, 100 NYS 981; Letcher v. Letcher's Trustee, 30 Ky. L. R. 707, 99 SW 628. Title to realty involved and beneficiary had full knowledge of trustee's action. Van Etten v. Passumpsic Sav. Bk. [Neb.] 113 NW 163. Judgment in action by a creditor against a trustee for the benefit of creditors to impress a trust upon certain real estate purchased by defendant held not an adjudication of the rights of another creditor. Eisert v. Bowen, 117 App. Div. 488, 102 NYS 707. In a creditor's suit to subject real estate devised to trustees to the payment of the testator's debts, held the trustees, having power to sell, etc., represented all persons beneficially interested in the estate. McDevitt v. Bryant, 104 Md. 187, 64 A 931.

42. The record in lunacy proceedings holding the person incompetent is conclusive evidence that he was incapable of making a valid contract. O'Reilly v. Sweeney, 54 Misc. 408, 105 NYS 1032.

43. Silva v. Hawkins [Cal.] 92 P 72; Sill v. Pate, 230 Ill. 39, 82 NE 356; Barfield v. Saunders, 116 La. 136, 40 S 593; Hutchins v. Berry [N. H.] 66 A 1046. Allowance of return of guardian filed as a result of a proceeding brought by surety on his bond to be discharged from his liability held not binding on surety. Rich & Bros. v. Fidelity & Deposit Co., 126 Ga. 466, 55 SE 336. The judgment rendered in a suit to quiet title to land against a claimant under a void tax deed is not binding upon the real owner who is not a party to the suit. Oehler v. Walsh, 7 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 572. Parties in possession of a passway during the progress of a suit involving the right to its use and not parties to the suit are not bound by the judgment rendered therein. Jones v. Jones [Ky.] 101 SW 980. Judgment as to lands embraced within a patent is not binding in an action to quiet title brought by one not a party to the prior action. Davis v. Commonwealth Land & Lumber Co., 141 F 711. Report of commissioners and judgment thereon setting apart premises as dower held not admissible in evidence as tending to show adverse possession against the administrator, who claims independent title thereto and was not a party to the suit. Whitehead v. Pitts, 127 Ga. 774, 56 SE 1004. Judgment in favor of officer in action based on an excessive levy under a writ of replevin does not bar an action against those who procured the levy. Three States Lumber Co. v. Blanks [Tenn.] 102 SW 79. One of two defendants in an action for conversion, they having filed a joint plea of not guilty, is unaffected by a judgment in a former action by plaintiff against the other defendant, adjudging title to be in plaintiff. Possey v. Gamble [Aal.] 41 S 416. Failure to recover judgment in an action against the maker of a note, the guarantor not being a party, will not preclude a subsequent judgment against the guarantor. Thompson v. Brown, 121 Mo. App. 524 97 SW 242. Where a member of three firms gave orders to defendant indiscriminately and defendant unsuccessfully attempted to set off his entire claim in a suit against him and one of the firms, the judgment did not bar his rights as against the others. Hyslop v. Johnson, 30 Ky. L. R. 379, 98 SW 993. A judgment foreclosing a real estate mortgage held not res judicata on the issue of a third person's water rights under a conveyance conveying other land together with a water right. Schmidt v. Olympia Light & Power Co. [Wash.] 90 P 212. Judgment for alimony and monthly allowance for custody and care of children, in a suit for divorce, entire sum not to exceed $2,000, held not to bar suit by wife for continued allowances for children after $2,000 had been paid, since the children were not parties to the divorce suit. Graham v. Graham [Colo.] 88 P 852. Judgment in proceedings to charge purchaser of a railroad with a claim against the receivers thereof held not res judicata of a third party's claim against such claimant though arising out of the same transaction. Doyle v. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co., 148 F 322. A decree, in a suit by a father to set aside a conveyance of land which belonged to himself and his wife, executed by him after the wife's death to his sons, on the ground of fraud, which denies the relief prayed for, is not res judicata in a suit by other heirs of the deceased wife against the sons for partition of the premises. Stern v. Selleck [Iowa] 111 NW 451.

44. The term "parties" includes those who obtaining of the decree.<sup>46</sup> A judgment in rem against one party cannot be pleaded as a bar to an action in personam against another.<sup>47</sup> As a general rule community rights cannot be affected by a suit to which the wife is not a party,<sup>48</sup> though the contrary has been held where the community has received the benefits of the former adjudication.<sup>49</sup> A judgment against one joint tort-feasor does not bar actions against the others jointly liable.<sup>50</sup> The fact that a person was non compos mentis does not affect the binding effect of the judgment.<sup>51</sup> When one is responsible by force of law or by contract for the faithful performance of the duty of another, a judgment against that other for failure in the performance of such duty may be used as evidence in a suit against the party so responsible for that other.<sup>52</sup> While judgments are presumptively only conclusive against parties in the character in which they sue or are sued,<sup>53</sup> still if a person is a party to the record in some capacity or has so allied and identified himself with a party as to have had his rights submitted by his consent to the determination of the court in a given case, he is bound by the judgment as if he was an actual party to the record, and, if an actual party in some capacity, is bound in every capacity in which his rights were effected.<sup>54</sup> It are directly interested in the subject-matter of the suit, knew of its pendency, and had the right to control, direct or defend it Parsons v. Urie, 104 Md. 238, 64 A 927. Real parties held bound where though not made parties to the bill they as solicitors conducted and controlled the defense and testified on the trial. Id. Witness fully acquainted with character and object of action and interested in the result is estopped as fully as though he had been a party. American Bonding Co. v. Loeb [Wash.] 92 P 282. Where grantee of land gave testimony in suit brought by grantor against others to recover such land, and grantee had knowledge that in such suit effort was being made to divest grantor of all title to the land, held he was not bound by judgment against grantor. Cornett v. Moore, 30 Ky. L. R. 280, 97 SW 380. Person though technically not a party held bound by judgment where he was intimately connected with them in interest and actively participated therein. Pew v. Johnson, 35 Mont. 173, 88 P 770. The obtaining of the approval of a guardian's return, though participated in by his surety, held not to render the surety liable to creditors for the amount of their claims, the refusal to pay which would not in law make the surety liable on the bond. Rich & Bros. v. Fidelity & Deposit Co., 126 Ga. 466, 55 SE 336. Judgment in garnishment suit is res adjudicata in a subsequent proceeding to reach the funds, brought by one who appeared generally as claimant in the former action. Southern R. Co. v. Funke [Ala.] 44 S 397. Evidence held to show that one was a party to a prior suit, though misnamed therein. Haines v. West [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 469, 102 SW 436.

Prosecuting witness in criminal action is not bound in a subsequent civil action by the judgment in the former. Myers v. Maryland Casualty Co., 123 Mo. App. 682, 101 SW 124.

45. Judgment against indemnitee city held binding on indemnitor contractor having notice of the suit. City of Seattle v. Saulez [Wash.] 92 P 140.

46. Equitable owners of lands standing in the name of a bankrupt held estopped by a decree obtained with their consent quieting title in him absolutely. In re Coffin, 146 F 181. Though it has been held that the rule that one not a party to a suit may be bound as a privy by the judgment or decree therein applies only to cases where, by agreement, a joint defense is made or a principal defends his agent, or a licensor his licensee, or other like relation contractual or representative exists. Patent infringement suit. Rumford Chemical Works v. Hygienic Chemical Co., 148 F 862. One is not bound as a privy merely because he contributes to the defense without having the right to control the proceedings or to appeal from the judgment or decree. Id. Contractor, not a party to a suit against a city to have a contract entered into with him declared void, is not bound by the judgment in that action though he paid the fee of an attorney employed to assist the city attorney. City of Mankato v. Barber Asphalt Pav. Co. [C. C. A.] 142 F 329.

47. Henderson Iron Works & Supply Co. v. Howard [La.] 44 S 296.

48. Judgment for plaintiff in an action for possession of community property to which the wife was not made a party held not to bar suit, have deed declared a mortgage, and judgment set aside for fraud. Gustin v. Crockett [Wash.] 87 P 539.

49. Parker v. Galbraith [Wash.] 89 P 712.

50. Johnson v. McKenna [N. J. Eq.] 67 A 395; Parks v. New York, 111 App. Div. 836, 98 NYS 94.

51. Wilkinson v. Lehman-Durr Co. [Ala.] 43 S 857. Evidence held sufficient to show that party to prior suit was of sound mind at time of trial and adjudication of former suit. Haines v. West [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 469, 102 SW 436.

52. As against a surety on the bond of an indemnitor contractor, judgment against indemnitee city held competent to prove its own existence and the cause of action for which it was rendered if not conclusive as to the liability of the surety, who had no notice of the prior action. City of Seattle v. Saulez [Wash.] 92 P 140.

53. Sbarbero v. Miller [N. J. Eq.] 65 A 472.

54. Sbarbero v. Miller [N. J. Eq.] 65 A 472. Action against administrator as such follows that the next friend of an infant plaintiff is not a party to the action in such a sense that the judgment therein rendered can be pleaded in bar of any cause of action he might have against the same defendant growing out of the same transaction<sup>55</sup> unless he allows his claim to be litigated in such action.<sup>56</sup> Where one is liable over to a defendant and actually defends the suit, it is immaterial that the defense was not formally tendered him.<sup>57</sup> Certain decrees in equity are classified as quasi in rem, and such decrees may be offered in evidence as against any person with respect to any property described therein for the purpose of establishing prima facie the status of that property.<sup>58</sup> A judgment ordered in an action involving the title to real property and adjudicating it to be in one of the parties is admissible in evidence on behalf of the party claiming under the judgment, and subsequently asserting a claim to the property affected by it as a link in his chain of title, although such judgment would not be conclusive on the party against whom it is offered because he was not a party or privy thereto.<sup>59</sup> It is admissible in evidence, not for the purpose of defeating or affecting any claim or title of a party who was not a party or privy to such judgment, but solely as a muniment in an asserted title.<sup>60</sup> Where a person by an assumed or trade name sues another, and the judgment of the court goes in favor of the defendant, the judgment will be binding on the person suing, and such person will be afterwards in his real name, estopped from denying the validity of the judgment.<sup>61</sup> The rule that an adjudication in favor of a plaintiff against two or more defendants is not binding on such defendants is rather an exception to the rule that all parties to a decree are concluded thereby than a rule itself.<sup>62</sup> The exception relates to matters between co-defendants which are not in themselves necessarily involved in the plaintiff's contention against each and all the defendants, or matters which are not the main object and purpose of the plaintiff's suit.<sup>63</sup> The foregoing rules do not prevent the use of the judgment as evidence even as against third parties.<sup>64</sup>

§ 2. Adjudication as a bar of causes of action or defense. See 7 C. L. 1759—As a general proposition, it is stated that to constitute a prior adjudication a complete bar to a cause of action or defense there must occur identity of parties,<sup>65</sup> identity of seeking to bind him individually is a bar to an action involving the same issues against him as an individual. Clement v. Clement [Tex. Civ. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 575, 99 SW 138.

55. Suit by father as next friend of infant son for personal injuries suffered by the latter. Bowring v. Wilmington Malleable Iron Co. [Del.] 67 A 160.

56. Bowring v. Wilmington Malleable Iron Co. [Del.] 67 A 160. Suit by father for loss of services of child and expenses incurred held barred by judgment in former suit by father as next friend of infant son in which evidence of such facts was introduced. Id.

57. Giblin v. North Wisconsin Lumber Co. [Wis.] 111 NW 499.

58. Giblin v. North Wisconsin Lumber Co. [Wis.] 111 NW 499. A decree declaring invalid fraudulent or spurious municipal obligations which are non-negotiable but readily assignable is of this class. Id.

59, 60. Chapman v. Moore [Cal.] 91 P 324.

61. Clark Bros. v. Wyche, 126 Ga. 24, 54 SE 909. In such case where defendant by a plea of recoupment recovered a judgment against the plaintiff in her assumed or trade name only and sought to enforce the collection of the judgment by garnishment held error to dismiss the garnishment proceedings. Id.

62. Giblin v. North Wisconsin Lumber Co. [Wis.] 111 NW 499.

63. Giblin v. North Wisconsin Lumber Co. [Wis.] 111 NW 499. Where the plaintiff makes a claim hostile to each and every defendant in the suit asserting that an instrument for the payment of money in which each of the defendants claims an interest or has an interest either as present holder or as privy to the present holder by reason of being a transferor of the present holder is fraudulent and void, and obtains a decree affirming his claim against such instrument, that instrument must be held fraudulent and void in any subsequent litigation between the same parties however they are arrayed against one another in such subsequent litigation. Id.

64. A judgment may be introduced on any collateral matter but is conclusive only on the parties thereto. Mitchell v. Cleveland [S. C.] 57 SE 33. Order allowing counsel's fees, while not conclusive as to those not parties to the proceeding, is presumptive evidence that they were not exorbitant. Hays v. Johnson's Adm'r, 30 Ky. L. R. 614, 99 SW 332.

65. Patrick v. Barker [Neb.] 112 NW 358.

subject-matter,<sup>66</sup> and identity of issues,<sup>67</sup> or the cause of action<sup>68</sup> as it has been termed.

Where a new party is joined the former judgment is not a bar. Port Gibson Brick & Mfg. Co. v. Rothrock Const. Co. [Miss.] 43 S 1022.

66. Pratt v. Griffin, 223 Ill. 349, 79 NE 102. Judgment setting aside agreement held to bar enforcement of claim for the amounts payable under such agreements. Strickland v. National Salt Co. [N. J. Eq.] 64 A 982. Judgment for plaintiff in replevin by conditional seller of goods held not to bar buyer's right to recover amount paid on goods on seller's failure to resell. Roach v. Curtis, 115 App. Div. 765, 101 NYS 333.

67. Linton v. Safe Deposit & Title Guaranty Co., 147 F 824; Laguna Drainage Dist. v. Charles Martin Co. [Cal. App.] 89 P 993. The denial of the application of a bankrupt for a discharge does not bar his right to proceed to obtain a subsequent discharge from new debts. In re Kuffler [C. C. A.] 151 F 12. Decrees in suits for partition and to quiet title held to bar subsequent suit to quiet title. Hight v. Hirsch, 149 F 890. Judgment that notes given directors of corporation for salary and money loaned were void because given to themselves held not to bar action to recover on quantum meruit for salary and money loaned. Shively v. Eureka Tellurium Gold Min. Co. [Cal. App.] 89 P 1073. Judgment in action for replevin is no bar to a subsequent action based on an excessive levy under the writ. Three States Lumber Co. v. Blanks [Tenn.] 102 SW 79. Judgment upon issue as to whether a surviving partner has any claim upon the assets of a partnership is not a bar to an action to recover from such partner a sum due the firm, he having no interest in its assets, except as to the profits. Wylie v. Langhorne [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 144, 101 SW 527. Judgment in action for cutting timber from one tract of land is not a bar to an action for similar trespass on an adjoining tract. Phillips v. Beattyville Mineral & Timber Co., 30 Ky. L. R. 1102, 100 SW 244. Judgment in action of forcible detainer under one notice to quit is not a bar to an action under another. Pulliam v. Sells, 30 Ky. L. R. 456, 99 SW 289. Adjudication as to the right of a municipality to tax one class of property is not a bar to litigation to determine its right to tax a different class. Board of Councilmen of City of Frankfort v. Capital Gas & Elec. Light Co., 29 Ky. L. R. 1114, 96 SW 870. Issuance of injunction to restrain illegal acts is not a bar to an action for damages resulting from such acts. Hammond Signor Tie Co. v. Zwolle Lumber Co., 115 La. 750, 40 S 34. Judgment in action of ejectment, wherein the right to immediate possession is not adjudicated, is not a bar to an action of forcible entry and detainer. Stockley v. Cissna [Tenn.] 104 SW 792. Judgment in action for breach of covenant in a deed is not a bar to an action for a subsequent breach thereof. Leet v. Gratz, 124 Mo. App. 394, 101 SW 696. Suit for salary does not bar suit for damages for a subsequent breach of the contract of employment. American China Development Co. v. Boyd, 148 F 258. Judgment for defendant in a suit on an unauthorized note given by an agent held not to bar an action for money had and received. Commercial Nat. Bk. v. Sloman, 53 Misc. 97, 102 NYS 931. Judgment distributing an estate among heirs cannot be pleaded as a bar to an action by a judgment creditor of one of the heirs to subject his share to the payment of the judgment. Clark v. Raison [Ky.] 104 SW 342. Decree dividing damages to vessels by collision caused by the fault of both is no bar to an action for contribution by vessel which was obliged to pay the entire cargo damage. Erie R. Co. v. Erie & W. Transp. Co., 204 U. S. 220, 51 Law. Ed. 450. Dismissal of foreclosure proceeding on the ground that all matters of difference between the parties had been adjusted held not to bar specific performance to compel conveyance of land accidentally omitted from deed to mortgagor by mortgagee. Shakespeare v. Caldwell Land & Lumber Co., 144 N. C. 516, 57 SE 213. An adjudication sustaining the right of a city to remove a frame building because within the fire limits is conclusive against a right of action for damages for such removal (Wheeler v. Aberdeen [Wash.] 87 P 1061), excepting only such as were caused by the wanton manner in which the removal was made (Id.). Judgment in ejectment declaring deed to be a mortgage held res judicata in suit to have deed declared a mortgage and to foreclose it. Meeker v. Shuster [Cal. App.] 87 P 1102. Judgment in partition held to bar second suit in partition to accomplish same purpose. Gerdorn v. Durein, 74 Kan. 704, 87 P 1137. Issues in two suits to set aside deed for fraud held identical. Page v. Garver [Cal. App.] 90 P 481. Decree enjoining city from building its waterworks and denying liability under water rentals contracted for is not res adjudicata as to right of city to regulate water rates under law passed after decree was rendered, though the issues in each case involve the reasonableness of the rates. City of Vicksburg v. Vicksburg Waterworks Co., 206 U. S. 496, 51 Law. Ed. 1155. Foreclosure of equitable mortgage held not to bar foreclosure of written mortgage. Koppana v. Steenerson, 100 Minn. 239, 111 NW 153. A judgment in forcible entry and detainer cannot bar a suit to cancel a deed, quiet title, or remove a cloud. Burns v. Kennedy [Or.] 90 P 1102. A judgment striking one of the counts in a petition in an action for personal injuries on the ground that no cause of action is therein stated does not bar the prosecution of the suit upon another count in the petition. Gainesville & Dahlonga Elec. R. Co. v. Austin, 127 Ga. 120, 56 SE 254. A surrogate's decree and a judgment decreeing the amount necessary to produce certain annuities and adjudging that a certain party was not entitled to share in the distribution held not res judicata as to amount necessary to produce the annuities as payable since the death of certain annuitants. Griffen v. Keese, 187 N. Y. 454, 80 NE 367, modifying 115 App. Div. 264, 100 NYS 903. Decree accepting resignation of surviving trustee under a trust deed, which provides that property shall be partitioned upon death of the last surviving trustee, and appointing a successor and providing that no partition shall be made until the death of the resigning trustee, does not bar an action for the purpose of construing the trust deed and determining the rights of the parties upon the death of the surviving trustee. Parrish v. Mills [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 160, 102 SW 184. Denial of motion to vacate judgment because of lack of authority in attorney representing applicants held to bar collateral attack on same grounds. Griffis v. First Nat. Bk. [Ind. App.] 79 NE 230. A judgment in favor of defendants in replevin to recover furniture sold by plaintiff to defendants, the action being brought on the theory of a conditional sale contract, was a bar to a subsequent action on the ground that the furniture had been secured from plaintiff through fraud. Cuschner v. Longbehn [Wash.] 87 P 817. Suit by vendor against agent and vendee to rescind for fraud does not bar suit against agent for negligence or failure to perform a duty owed plaintiff after the contract was entered into. Harvey v. Sparks Bros. [Wash.] 88 P 1108. Determination of a corporation's alleged unlawful use of certain franchises and privileges in a proceeding not brought to test the right of the corporation to exercise its franchise as a corporation was no bar to a subsequent proceeding by the attorney general to test the corporation's right in the premises. People v. Detroit, etc., R. Co. [Mich.] 14 Det. Leg. N. 387, 112 NW 716. Judgment for proponent in proceedings contesting will held not to bar contestant from bringing suit alleging the validity of the will and asserting a constructive trust in certain property. Smullen v. Wharton, 73 Neb. 667, 103 NW 288, 106 NW 577, 112 NW 622, 113 NW 267. Judgment of conviction of a third party for fornication with the complaining witness held not to bar bastardy proceedings against defendant though such conviction of such third party raises a reasonable doubt as to the child's paternity. Johnson v. State [Wis.] 113 NW 674. One who has unsuccessfully claimed title to property levied upon by an execution in favor of a third party is not thereby estopped from foreclosing a mortgage in his favor upon that property previously claimed by him and asserting the lien of such mortgage. Virginia-Carolina Chem. Co. v. Roberts [Ga. App.] 58 SE 502. A judgment by an assignee setting aside another assignment of an interest in an estate for fraud held not to bar a suit by the defendant claiming under another subsequent assignment to set aside the assignment of the plaintiff in the first action. Carmer v. Still, 53 Misc. 443, 103 NYS 247. Judgment on a note for fertilizers held not to bar action for damages to crop by use of such fertilizer. Kirven v. Virginia-Carolina Chem. Co. [S. C.] 58 SE 424. Deed of standing timber held practically a mortgage, and a suit by the grantor for trespass and trover in cutting down and converting the timber after default held not to bar grantee from enforcing his right of redemption. Ordway v. Farrow, 79 Vt. 192, 64 A 1116. A judgment in an action on a note in favor of defendant because there was no revenue stamp on the note held to bar action between the same parties on the same note after a stamp had been placed thereon. Roney v. Westlake, 216 Pa. 374, 65 A 807. An adjudication setting aside a conveyance as obtained by undue influence is not conclusive of the grantee's rights under a subsequent conveyance of the same property between the same parties. Hornor v. Bell [Md.] 66 A 39. Where breach of warranty is asserted as a defense to an action for the purchase price, a judgment for the plaintiff bars a subsequent action to recover damages for breach of warranty. Berman v. Henry N. Clark Co. [Mass.] 80 NE 480. Judgment in ejectment against life tenant held not to bar suit after his death to recover fee. Schroeder v. Bozarth, 224 Ill. 310, 79 NE 583. Refusal of probate decree to set aside discharge of administrator held not to bar suit by warrant against the administrator to recover funds garnished and wrongfully paid out by him. Geiger v. Gaige [Iowa] 111 NW 804. Judgment in foreclosure suit declaring mortgage wholly void for want of valid description held to bar suit to reform and foreclose mortgage. Tjo v. Brown [Wis.] 111 NW 679. The dismissal of a writ of habeas corpus in the United States District court granted under Bankr. Act 1908, § 9, is not a bar to a motion to vacate an order of arrest and service of summons in a civil action in a state court. Goldsmith v. Haskell, 105 NYS 327. Construction of contract for the installation of a sprinkler system held not in issue in a suit by tenants against the owner of the building for damages for an overflow, the party installing the system being notified to defend, so as to be res judicata in a subsequent suit by the owner against such party. Bagley v. General Fire Extinguishing Co. [C. C. A.] 150 F 284. A judgment in ejectment, that purchasers at a foreclosure sale had not acquired title as against remaindermen, held not to preclude purchasers from maintaining a suit in equity to be subrogated to the rights of a former mortgage valid as against the remaindermen. Stump v. Warfield, 104 Md. 530, 65 A 346. Where in a suit by one joint payee of the note against the maker the other joint payee was made a party defendant and judgment was rendered for defendant on the ground that the maker had paid the defendant payee held not to bar an action by the plaintiff payee against the defendant payee for money had and received. Whittle v. Whittle [Cal. App.] 91 P 170. Where demurrer to bill in suit to set aside a conveyance alleged to have been given for an illegal purpose was sustained on the ground that both parties were in pari delicto and that neither was in a position to obtain relief, such judgment does not bar the setting up of the same facts in defense to a suit of ejectment by the defendant in the former suit against the plaintiff therein. Burton v. McMillan [Fla.] 42 S 879. Decree dismissing proceeding for limitation of liability for damages for a collision on the ground that the petitioner was the owner of both vessels, both of which were at fault and but one surrendered, held to bar a second proceeding for limitation of the same liability in which both vessels are surrendered as between petitioner and damage claimants, who were parties to and contested the first. The San Rafael, 149 F 893. A judgment setting aside a tax deed in an action by purchaser of premises against the holder of the tax deed and the vendor, who was notified that no personal claim would be made against her in case of default, and she

Identity of parties See 7 C. L. 1760 is essential,<sup>69</sup> but this does not mean that all the parties to the two actions must be the same.<sup>70</sup>

Identity of cause of action. See 7 C. L. 1760.—The test of the identity of causes of action has been stated to be whether the same evidence will support both actions.<sup>71</sup> In Louisiana a judgment is res adjudicata only as to actions in which the thing demanded and the object of the action is the same.<sup>72</sup>

Privies of a party.<sup>73</sup>

Scope of adjudication. See 7 C. L. 1760.—If the parties and issues be identical, the adjudication is binding not only as to all matters actually litigated<sup>74</sup> but as to every-defaulted, is not a bar to an action by the purchaser against the vendor to reform the deed to him so as to make the same a warranty deed and to recover on the warranty the amount he paid to relieve the property from the tax liens. Brown v. Hollister [S. D.] 111 NW 564. An action in forcible entry and detainer by a purchaser with notice of lease, in which a judgment of ouster has been taken by the purchaser, is not a bar to injunction proceedings brought by the tenant to prevent interference with his possession. Robert Raitz & Co. v. Dow, 10 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 249.

68. Missouri State Life Ins. Co. v. Lovelace [Ga. App.] 58 SE 93; Stitt v. Rat Portage Lumber Co., 101 Minn. 93, 111 NW 948; Kirven v. Virginia-Carolina Chem. Co. [S. C.] 58 SE 424. Where in a suit on an express contract for services defendant set up that the services were rendered under other express contracts, judgment for plaintiff does not bar an action to recover for services under the contracts so set up by defendant. Stitt v. Rat Portage Lumber Co., 101 Minn. 93, 111 NW 948. Judgment for defendant in a suit to rescind or for damages for fraud bars subsequent suit for deceit arising out of same transaction. Krollk v. Curry, 148 Mich. 214, 14 Det. Leg. N. 74, 111 NW 761. Where plaintiff dies pending an action for damages for personal injuries and his administrator revives the action and prosecutes it unsuccessfully to judgment, the judgment is conclusive against the administrator's right to maintain a subsequent action for wrongful death. Brammer's Adm'r v. Norfolk & W. R. Co. [Va.] 57 SE 593. Party suing for failure to deliver corporate stock pursuant to contract, and denied relief on the ground that the stock has no pecuniary value, may sue in equity for specific performance. Baumhoff v. St. Louis & K. R. Co. [Mo.] 104 SW 5.

69. Principal not held real party in issue where joined with surety. Johnson v. Knudson-Mercer Co., 167 Ind. 429, 79 NE 367, citing 5 C. L. 1510. Judgment in suit between the two stockholders owning practically all the stock of a corporation as to the ownership of certain shares of stock therein held res judicata in a suit by the corporation against the defendant and others. Leigh v. National Hollow Brake-Beam Co., 224 Ill. 76, 79 NE 318. The final judgment in an election contest in favor of contestant is admissible on subsequent quo warranto by the people on relation of the successful contestant against the contestee, the parties being essentially the same in both actions. People v. Wilson [Cal. App.] 91 P 661. An action by a school township against an independent school district to set aside and declare void the proceedings by which the independent school district was formed and a subsequent action involving the same issues by the school township against the independent school district and the individual members of the board held between the same parties. School Tp. of Bloomfield v. Castalia Independent School Dist. [Iowa] 112 NW 5. See ante § 1 subd. Persons Concluded.

70. Johnson v. Knudson-Mercer Co., 167 Ind. 429, 79 NE 367.

71. Commercial Nat. Bk. v. Sloman, 53 Misc. 97, 102 NYS 931. Judgment canceling note and mortgage is res adjudicata as to an action commenced to foreclose though it erroneously describes the property covered by the mortgage, the descriptions in other respects being sufficient for identification. Alexander County Nat. Bk. v. Foster, 124 Mo. App. 344, 101 SW 685.

72. Scovel v. Levy's Heirs, 118 La. 932, 43 S 642.

73. See 7 C. L. 1760. See, also, ante § 1, subd. Persons Concluded.

74. Day County Com'rs v. Kansas [Okla.] 91 P 699. Evidence held to show that issues were tried and determined in a former action in which the parties were codefendants. Gulling v. Washoe County Bk. [Nev.] 89 P 25, rev. 23 Nev. 450, 52 P 800. Decree of surrogate on accounting held conclusive, as against all parties duly cited, as to all questions as to correctness of accounts and as to disbursements. In re Hurlbut's Estate, 51 Misc. 263, 100 NYS 1098. Where in an action on a default judgment it was determined that defendant was properly served, the adjudication is binding on a motion to have the default judgment set aside. Bailey v. Wilson, 52 Misc. 644, 103 NYS 1021. Where a petition for habeas corpus has been denied, the question decided cannot be again litigated as a matter of right, in the absence of anything occurring since such decision affecting the petitioner's legal status. In re Moebus [N. H.] 66 A 641. Decree in equity on an accounting held res judicata as to notes referred to in the pleadings in the former case as matters to be considered in the accounting and which were actually introduced in evidence in such case. Fowler v. Davis, 1 Ga. App. 549, 57 SE 939. Irrigation case. Decree under Sess. Laws 1879, p 99, § 19, and Sess. Laws 1881, p 142, adjudges the relative priorities of the ditches, canals, or reservoirs and the consumers of water, but not the relative rights of the owners or consumers of water under any particular ditch. Combs v. Farmers' High Line Canal & Reservoir Co. [Colo.] 88 P 396. A decision denying a petition for rehearing held conclusive of a right to rents and profits if that issue was properly raised.

thing which might have been litigated under the issues as made<sup>75</sup> by the pleadings,<sup>76</sup> and if not then the reversal of the case to leave it or one submitted to the lower court for a decree on the pleadings and evidence subject to appeal. Hogle v. Smith [Iowa] 113 NW 556. A denial of mandamus to compel the vacation of an order because of the laches of petitioner is decisive of his right to a bill of review for the same relief. Daniel v. Citizens' Mut. Fire Ins. Co. [Mich.] 14 Det. Leg. N. 525, 113 NW 17. A judgment foreclosing liens held by a city, directing a sale of land and adjudging that the corporation counsel shall be paid his taxable costs out of the proceeds before the city is paid, fixes the order of payment, and that question is not open for review in an action by the corporation counsel against the city for the costs. Sutherland v. Rochester [N. Y.] 82 NE 171, rvg. 112 App. Div. 712, 98 NYS 970. In a proceeding in the probate court to sell three parcels of land to pay debts, all questions that were legally determined in such proceeding as to all the land are res adjudicata in a subsequent proceeding in partition of one parcel not sold in the probate court proceeding. Simpson v. Simpson, 9 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 137.

75. Smith v. Cowell [Colo.] 92 P 20; Peacock v. Feaster [Fla.] 42 S 889; Van Camp v. Huntington, 39 Ind. App. 28, 78 NE 1057; Aetna Life Ins. Co. v. Tremblay, 101 Me. 585, 65 A 22; Kaufer v. Ford, 100 Minn. 49, 110 NW 364; Koppang v. Steenerson, 100 Minn. 239, 111 NW 153; Alexander v. Thompson, 101 Minn. 5, 111 NW 385; Pond v. Huling, 125 Mo. App. 474, 101 SW 115; Meyerhoffer v. Baker, 51 Misc. 598, 101 NYS 24; In re Menzie's Estate, 54 Misc. 188, 105 NYS 925; Case Mfg. Co. v. Moore, 144 N. C. 527, 57 SE 213; Spokane Valley Land & Water Co. v. Madsen [Wash.] 91 P 1; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Wabash R. Co. [C. C. A.] 152 F 849. Under Rev. St. c. 84, § 17, bars equitable defenses to actions at law. Aetna Life Ins. Co. v. Tremblay, 101 Me. 585, 65 A 22. Decisions of quasi judicial bodies are not a bar unless rendered upon issues formed by the parties against whom they are pleaded. Letter of secretary of interior containing opinion as to lands in controversy is not. Chapman & Dewey Land Co. v. Bigelow, 77 Ark. 338, 92 SW 534. Title being averred in an action to recover realty, the judgment is conclusive thereof. Turnage v. Joyner [N. C.] 58 SE 757. Bar of statute of limitations. Irish v. Daniels, 100 Minn. 189, 110 NW 968. Claim case. McLendon v. Shumate [Ga.] 57 SE 886. A party failing to properly assert his claims or to present proper evidence cannot litigate his cause of action in a second suit. Suit to quiet title. Keller v. McGilliard [Cal. App.] 90 P 483. Party against whom ownership of property was decided cannot, in action to recover the property, attack the constitutionality of the statute upon which the action was based. Drinkard v. Oden [Ala.] 43 S 578. After a claimant has litigated a claim case and the property has been found subject, a court of equity will not enjoin a sale under the levy on any ground which the claimant might have urged in the claim case tending to show the invalidity or discharge of the judgment. Hollinshead v. Woodward [Ga.] 57 SE 79. Where defendant was afforded an opportunity to prove certain alleged payments as a partial defense but failed to do so held conclusive as to such payments. Ferguson v. Bien, 54 Misc. 88, 104 NYS 715. Under Mills' Ann. St. § 2644, requiring each party to bring forward all demands existing at the commencement of a suit and which can be joined in one action or defense, held failure of a landlord to join in a suit of unlawful detainer a demand for accrued rent does not bar action for rent. MacKenzie v. Porter [Colo.] 91 P 916. A judgment in favor of the holder of bonds issued by a city, in an action thereon, concludes the question of the validity of the bonds in the absence of fraud in obtaining the judgment. Graham v. Tuscomb, 146 Ala. 449, 42 S 400. Where by a decree land of one devisee is on his death intestate partitioned to his heirs, another devisee who is a copartitioner under such decree cannot thereafter assert against his copartitioners any greater interest in the land partitioned than that conferred upon him thereby. Tolley v. Potect [W. Va.] 57 SE 811. In an action for the settlement of an estate, where a distributee was brought in and admitted an assignment of his interest but did not contest such assignment, he was bound by the judgment. State v. Johnson, 144 N. C. 277, 56 SE 929.

Married woman defeated in her claim to homestead rights in property taken by her husband's execution creditors cannot bring a subsequent action claiming independent title. Brashears v. Frazier, 30 Ky. L. R. 647, 99 SW 342. The circuit court having jurisdiction of an action by guardian in behalf of wards to recover from sureties of former guardian sum due wards by latter, and having had jurisdiction of persons of defendants, the fact that order appointing second guardian was void was a matter of defense in that action, and allegation that he was such guardian not having been denied and such defense not having been presented, effect was same as if court had found that appointment was valid, and question could not be raised in action for discovery of assets to satisfy judgment on bond. Havens v. Ahlering, 29 Ky. L. R. 1265, 97 SW 344. In a suit to enforce a judgment against a school district for balance due for building school house, trustees could not interpose the defense that they had built the school house without authority. Raymer v. Trustees White School Dist. No. 18, 30 Ky. L. R. 332, 98 SW 323. A judgment refusing to set aside a conveyance as in fraud of creditors because of its homestead character, the question of the liability of the excess over the homestead right not being raised is conclusive, in a subsequent action to set aside the same conveyance as to the excess. Spratt v. Early, 199 Mo. 491, 97 SW 925. A judgment in favor of plaintiff in an action for trespass, in which defendant rested his right to the land on the claim of title, was a bar to a subsequent action by defendant therein to establish his right to the use of the land on the ground of an easement. Sumrall v. Maninni, 30 Ky. L. R. 299, 98 SW 301. Judgment in condemnation proceedings held conclusive on the city, so that in mandamus to compel payment or which is necessarily involved in the decision made,<sup>77</sup> but this rule does not bar the use of an affirmative cause of action or set-off which might have been but never was thereof it could not introduce evidence of liens for taxes. State v. Fairley [Wash.] 87 P 1052. Judgment in statutory action to determine boundary lines held to bar ejectment by one party to recover possession of a wedge-shaped tract along the boundary line between the two tracts, title to which he claimed by adverse possession. Krabbenhoff v. Wright [Minn.] 112 NW 421. A judgment for rent in which it was held that defendants were hold-over tenants for another year under the conditions of the written demise held to estop defendants from urging the defense of trespass or eviction, in a subsequent action to recover rent for a subsequent portion of the year. Pierson v. Hughes, 102 NYS 528.

76. No bar if subject-matter of second suit could not have been litigated under the pleadings of the first. Halliday v. Stewart County Bk. [Ga.] 58 SE 169.

77. Whatever is necessarily implied in the former decision is, for the purposes of the estoppel, deemed to have been actually decided. Meyerhoffer v. Baker, 51 Misc. 598, 101 NYS 24. Upon a plea of former adjudication a matter will be held res judicata, although not raised as an issue by the pleadings in the former action, if from the record it appears that it formed one of the premises upon which the judgment necessarily rested. Bleakley v. Barclay [Kan.] 89 P 906. A judgment operates as a bar as to all matters which are by plain implication covered by it. Sarratt v. Gaffney Carpet Mfg. Co. [S. C.] 57 SE 616. In an action for the recovery of land, a final judgment for plaintiff fixes the liability of defendant for timber cut pendente lite. McCord v. Akeley [Wis.] 111 NW 1100. Final judgment discharging administrator is a bar to an action on his bond. State v. Shacklett, 115 Mo. App. 715, 91 SW 956.

Order reciting report of receiver, referring to the amount found to be in the receiver's hands and providing for his discharge after payment of certain amounts, is res judicata of the receiver's accounts. Sarratt v. Gaffney Carpet Mfg. Co. [S. C.] 57 SE 616.

Judgment validating an issue of municipal bonds is conclusive upon all questions which the constitution and laws require to be determined before authority is conferred upon a municipality to incur a debt. Baker v. Cartersville, 127 Ga. 221, 56 SE 249. A valid and final judgment against a plaintiff on the facts of the case, in a suit against the servant for an injury which was the result of the negligence of the servant alone, is a bar to an action subsequently brought by the same plaintiff against the master for the identical cause of action, the master being neither present nor directing nor concurring in the act which produces the injury. Williford v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 154 F 514. Judgment as to regularity of school district proceedings held conclusive as to sufficiency of notice of election. School Tp. v. Independent School Dist. [Iowa] 112 NW 5. Adjudication that civil service employee had been illegally discharged and was entitled to mandamus to compel his reinstatement held conclusive that employee had not acquiesced in his discharge. Ransom v. Boston [Mass.] 81 NE 998. Judgment annexing certain lands to a drainage district held to conclude question as to whether landowners had so connected their ditches as to make application to be annexed to such district. People v. Schaffer, 228 Ill. 17, 81 NE 785.

In ejectment by mortgagor's grantee based on alleged extension of time of redemption, a judgment for defendant is conclusive of plaintiff's right to maintain a subsequent suit to redeem. Potter v. Ft. Madison Loan & Trust Bldg. Ass'n, 133 Iowa, 367, 110 NW 616. Probate decree charging a guardian in specie for notes payable to him as guardian held conclusive determination of the right of his executrix to transfer the notes to his successor. Kent v. Hunt [N. H.] 65 A 386.

Determination of the validity of certain provisions of a will providing for accumulations of income, on an accounting by the executors, held res judicata as to the validity of such provisions as against all persons interested in the estate in so far only as they affected assets applied and disclosed in such reports, the decree settling the same containing no provision relating to subsequent accumulations. Kirk v. McCann, 117 App. Div. 56, 101 NYS 1093. A default judgment in summary proceedings for non-payment of rent, until reversed, set aside or vacated is conclusive, in an action by the landlord against the tenant to recover rent, of the facts alleged in the affidavit and which are required by the statute to be alleged as the basis of the proceedings. That is of the tenancy, the occupation by the tenant, the nonpayment of rents due, and the holding over after default in the payment. Prince v. Schlesinger, 116 App. Div. 500, 101 NYS 1031. Validity of lease. Meyerhoffer v. Baker, 51 Misc. 598, 101 NYS 24. In a plenary action by the trustee of a bankrupt corporation to recover an assessment levied against the holders of unpaid stock, the decision of the bankruptcy court, authorizing such assessment, was res judicata as to the amount paid by the stockholder for his stock, the indebtedness of the corporation, and the amount of the assessments, the stockholder being only entitled to make any individual defense he might have to such action. In re Remington Automobile & Motor Co. [C. C. A.] 153 F 345. Determination in mandamus proceedings that board of county commissioners had jurisdiction to consider petition for removal of county seat held conclusive upon all questions affecting jurisdiction in an action for an injunction to restrain proceedings according to its direction in the matter. Kaufer v. Ford, 100 Minn. 49, 110 NW 364. Where in an action to determine the rights to the use of the waters of a river the court found that the rights of the parties, as fixed by a decree in an action between them in 1899, were put in litigation.<sup>78</sup> The admission by the pleadings of material facts does not constitute an exception to the above rules.<sup>79</sup> Matters not in issue and not determined are of course not within the scope of the adjudication as an estoppel.<sup>80</sup> For the purpose of this rule a matter is in issue if it be something affirmed the same as were fixed by a decree in a prior action in 1893, evidence that during the period between the decrees plaintiff had acquired a prescriptive right as against defendant to the use of a portion of the waters is inadmissible. Hartson v. Dill [Cal.] 90 P 530.

78. New England Mortg. Sec. Co. v. Fry, 143 Ala. 637, 42 S 57. Where in distress proceedings defendant did not reconvene to recover damages for the wrongful suing out of the warrant, a judgment foreclosing the same was only conclusive as to the regularity of the proceedings and did not estop the tenant from showing that the grounds authorizing distress proceedings did not exist and that the warrant was unjustly sued out. Morgan v. Tims [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 111 97 SW 832.

Counterclaim being set up, a judgment for plaintiff bars future action thereon, it not being withdrawn before the final decree. Hogle v. Smith [Iowa] 113 NW 556. Where in a suit on one of several purchase-money notes given for the purchase price of machinery defendant pleads a counterclaim for defects in the machinery and recovers thereon, it is a bar to their setting up substantially the same counterclaim in an action on others of the notes. Case Mfg. Co. v. Moore, 144 N. C. 527, 57 SE 213. Suit by executor in which he defeated a charge of conversion made by defendant is a bar to a subsequent suit by defendants against him individually to recover for such alleged conversion. Clement v. Clement [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 575, 99 SW 138.

79. Peacock v. Feaster [Fla.] 42 S 889.

80. Lewisohn v. Lansing Co., 104 NYS 543, rvg. 51 Misc. 274, 100 NYS 1077. Judgment is not res adjudicata as to matters which the court held were not involved therein. Wilson v. Tye [Ky.] 102 SW 856. Proceedings, the primary purpose of which is to establish the right of an original claimant of a land certificate, is not binding as to the right of an heir therein, though the recitals of the judgment purport to establish his title thereto. Kirby v. Hayden [Tex. Civ. App.] 99 SW 746.

Judgment for rent held not res judicata as to the nature of the tenancy. Rothstein v. Steinbugler, 52 Misc. 552, 102 NYS 470.

Partnership accounting resulting in judgment for one party held not conclusive as to whether the lien of such judgment was paramount to that of the other's mortgage. Alexander v. Thompson, 101 Minn. 5, 111 NW 385.

Judgment in dissolution proceedings held not res judicata of issue of fraud of certain stockholders in procuring another stockholder to join in the petition for dissolution. Vogt v. Vogt, 104 NYS 164.

Mandamus proceeding to compel city officials to execute contract held not conclusive as to power of parties to compel specific performance of said contract. Lighton v. Syracuse, 188 N. Y. 499, 81 NE

464. The sustaining of a general demurrer to a bill in equity on the ground that the action was one at law is not a conclusive adjudication that the facts stated do not constitute a cause of action at law. Farmers' & Mechanics' Life Ass'n v. Caine, 224 Ill. 599, 79 NE 956, afg. 123 Ill. App. 419. A decree remanding a cause with instructions to refer it to a commissioner to ascertain in what property the parties were jointly interested held not an adjudication as to the existence or nonexistence of joint property. Coons v. Coons, 106 Va. 572, 56 SE 576. Though such lapse of time as will bar an action for debt will also bar a suit to foreclose the mortgage or trust deed given to secure the debt, a judgment for defendant in an action for foreclosure on the ground that the proceeding was barred by limitations was not an adjudication as to the validity of the debt, nor the mortgagee's right to have the property sold by the trustee out of court as provided in the trust deed. Randy v. Cates [Tex. Civ. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 811, 97 SW 710. Where broker fulfilled contract in negotiating sale of realty but deal fell through because of defects in seller's title, a judgment for plaintiff in an action by the agent for his commission held not to determine the validity of the seller's title. Laws v. Newkirk [Colo.] 88 P 861.

Decree of ratification of mortgage foreclosure adjudging that attorney of mortgagee had power to make sale and that remaindermen had no ground of complaint, the purchaser alone being injured if there was any defect, does not preclude remaindermen after death of life tenant from asserting that their interest was not conveyed by the mortgage. Stump v. Warfield, 104 Md. 530, 65 A 346. A decree, in a suit by a father to set aside a conveyance of land which belonged to himself and his wife, executed by him after the wife's death to his sons, on the ground of fraud, which denies the relief prayed for, is not res judicata in a suit by other heirs of the deceased wife against the sons for partition of the premises. Stern v. Selleck [Iowa] 111 NW 451. Where a person suing for the breach of a contract for the sale of land obtains a judgment impressing a vendee's lien for the amount of the deposit paid, but not for his expenses incurred in examining the title because there was no authority in law for extending the lien so as to cover it, he is not precluded by the judgment from bringing a separate action for that expense. Occidental Realty Co. v. Palmer, 105 NYS 171. Decree determining amount widow is entitled to under a will for support held res judicata as to the amount thereof, but not that such amount constitutes a debt against the estate which can be allowed to accumulate and be passed by the widow to her devisee or personal representatives. Brown v. Cresap, 61 W. Va. 315, 56 SE 603.

by one party and either denied or admitted expressly or impliedly by the other, and its determination is essential in the rendition of a final judgment upon the merits of the cause as presented by the pleadings.<sup>81</sup> A counterclaim consisting of an independent cause of action, a default judgment in favor of the plaintiff is inoperative as a bar to the prosecution of the counterclaim in a subsequent action.<sup>82</sup> One cannot split his cause of action and have successive recoveries.<sup>83</sup> Allied to this

81. Van Camp v. Huntington, 39 Ind. App. 28, 78 NE 1057. In an action for rent, allegations in the answer of a year's lease held not a defense and did not create an issue, but was a recital of irrelevant facts and hence a judgment for the tenant was not binding on such issue. Frank v. Miller, 116 App. Div. 855, 102 NYS 277.

82. So held where original action was for purchase price of certain bottles and defendant counterclaimed for damages resulting from the undersize of the bottles. North Baltimore Bottle Glass Co. v. Alt-peter [Wis.] 113 NW 435.

83. All claims or causes of action arising out of the same contract must be included in one suit, or all that are not so included will be deemed waived. Paton v. Doyne [N. J. Law] 65 A 843. But this rule does not apply to separate notes given in independent transactions though between the same parties. Id.

Specific performance held to bar action to recover rents and profits. Hogle v. Smith [Iowa] 113 NW 556.

Foreclosure decree bars a separate action for the penalty for collecting attorney's fees in such suit as a method of collecting usurious interest. Strait v. British & American Mortg. Co. [S. C.] 57 SE 1100.

Plaintiff who took care of her father before and after he became insane and upon petition to the probate court received allowance for doing so after he was so adjudged cannot sue his administrator for services rendered before the insanity nor for additional compensation for services rendered afterward. Bircher v. Boemler, 204 Mo. 554, 103 SW 40. Action construed to be one to recover rent under lease and not for damages for its breach, and hence not a bar to action for rent accruing subsequently. Davidson v. Hirsh [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 159, 101 SW 269.

Where a riparian owner erected wing dams, whereby the current of the river was deflected so that at each successive rise of the river it washed away a portion of the land of the opposite owner, he was entitled to maintain successive actions for successive injuries. Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Mosely, 6 Ind. T. 369, 98 SW 129. A judgment in an action to recover possession of part of a tract of land bars an action to recover another part of the same tract alleged to have been taken at the same time by the act of the same parties as the land in the former action. Kline v. Stein [Wash.] 90 P 1041. Where holders of bond for title brought suit to compel specific performance of the bond and therein failed to set up any claim to certain land, held to bar subsequent claim to such land by virtue of the bond. Cornett v. Moore, 30 Ky. L. R. 280, 97 SW 380. Waiver or withdrawal of demand for damages by a co-tenant, in a suit to recover possession of his interests in a mining claim, held not to bar him from subsequently recovering the value of his share of ore extracted therefrom in a suit for an accounting. Dettering v. Nordstrom [C. C. A.] 148 F 81. Separate actions may be brought for different legal services rendered the same party under separate contracts, though both contracts were fully performed at the time the first action was commenced. Wheless v. Serrano, 121 Mo. App. 17, 98 SW 108. Action to specifically enforce contract held to bar action to reform deed executed in part performance of the contract. Collins v. Gleason [Wash.] 91 P 568. Judgment for cost of abating nuisance held to bar suit for permanent injury to plaintiff's property from nuisance. Murray v. Butte, 35 Mont. 161, 88 P 789. Suit to recover instalment due held not to bar recovery of instalments not due. Love v. Flitcraft [Mich.] 14 Det. Leg. N. 339, 112 NW 735; Johnson v. Johnson, 31 Utah, 408, 88 P 230. Code 1906, § 1999, providing that where plaintiff has several demands on contract he must bring his action for all or be barred as to those not sued on, does not require one having several demands on contract to include in one suit demands not due at its date. Adams v. International Supply Co., 61 W. Va. 401, 56 SE 607. Where complainant recovered judgment on part of a single account, all the items of which were due, the judgment was a bar to a recovery of the balance of the account. Williams-Abbott Elec. Co. v. Model Elec. Co. [Iowa] 112 NW 181. An account consisting of one or more items, all of which are due and payable, constitutes but one demand. Id. A continuous book account is entire. Id.

Judgment against one partner on a partnership obligation held a merger of the cause of action and a bar to any further action thereon against nonresident partners. Hurd's Rev. St. 1905, c. 76, § 3, p. 1253, and ch. 110, § 9, p. 1532, construed. Fleming v. Ross, 225 Ill. 149, 80 NE 92.

Equitable and written mortgage held to constitute separate independent contracts and could be foreclosed severally. Koppang v. Steenerson, 100 Minn. 239, 111 NW 153. Judgment for defendant in an action to recover purchase price of certain stone held to bar action for damages for breach of contract. Martin v. Rockland Lake Trap Rock Co., 103 NYS 947. The originator of a nuisance is liable to successive actions for damages resulting from its maintenance. Donahue v. Stockton Gas & Elec. Co. [Cal. App.] 92 P 196. A suit to specifically enforce part of a single contract bars a subsequent suit to enforce the rest. Collins v. Gleason [Wash.] 91 P 566. So held where facts constituting basis of second suit were learned in time to have principle is the one that the cause of action is merged in the judgment.<sup>84</sup> Where damages are occasional and recurring a party may sue as often as he suffers injury therefrom.<sup>85</sup> Where by accident or mistake one has split his cause of action and recovered judgment upon a part thereof, the proper remedy is to seek relief by opening the judgment, amending the pleadings and trying the issues anew.<sup>86</sup> The issues and measure of proof being different, a judgment of acquittal in a criminal prosecution does not bar a civil suit.<sup>87</sup> The estoppel of an adjudication made on grounds purely technical and where the merits could not come in question, is limited to the point actually decided and will not preclude a subsequent action brought in a way to avoid the objection which proved fatal in the first.<sup>88</sup> While a judgment is conclusive as to matters litigated, it does not conclude the question as to the liability of property to seizure under it.<sup>89</sup>

§ 3. Adjudication as estoppel of facts litigated. See 7 C. L. 1765.—Though there be no identity of issues<sup>90</sup> or cause of action<sup>91</sup> and subject-matter,<sup>92</sup> an adjudication is conclusive in all suits between the parties and their privies<sup>93</sup> as to all matters in issue<sup>94</sup> and decided<sup>95</sup> or necessarily involved in the decision made,<sup>96</sup> but not as to

permitted amendment of pleading in first action. Id. Where a servant was employed under a single contract for a year at a specified salary per month, payable monthly, and was thereafter wrongfully discharged, a recovery of salary for several months subsequent to the discharge, whether as damages or for constructive service after discharge, bars a subsequent action to recover salary for the balance of the contract term. Carmean v. North American Transp. & Trading Co. [Wash.] 88 P 834.

84. Bethlehem Iron Co. v. Hoadley, 152 F 735. Where defendant in a suit in equity died and the action was continued as to his ancillary administrator and a decree rendered for the complainant, held the decree was satisfied when the ancillary administrator had distributed the estate within the state of his appointment according to the laws of that state. Brown v. Fletcher's Estate, 146 Mich. 401, 13 Det. Leg. N. 818, 109 NW 686. Judgment canceling note and mortgage is res adjudicata as to a holder thereof having no interest therein, though not a party to the first suit. Alexander County Nat. Bk. v. Foster, 124 Mo. App. 344, 101 SW 685.

85. Judgment in action against railroad company for failure to construct cattle crossing, thus rendering plaintiff's land of no value, is no bar to an action for subsequent failure to do so. Charles v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 124 Mo. App. 293, 101 SW 680. See ante, Splitting Cause of Action.

86. Kline v. Stein [Wash.] 90 P 1041.

87. Acquittal of a defendant in a criminal prosecution for obstructing a navigable stream does not bar a subsequent suit in equity to compel removal of obstruction. United States v. Donaldson-Shultz Co. [C. C. A.] 148 F 581, rev. 142 F 300, 7 C. L. 1764, n. 90. Record of conviction for unlawful sale of liquor is not conclusive in action to recover penalty therefor. Adams v. Sigman, 89 Miss. 844, 43 S 877. Judgment in criminal action discharging one charged with assault is not conclusive on prosecuting witness in action on accident policy on the question as to whether provocation by instant plaintiff justified the assault. Myers v. Maryland Casualty Co., 123 Mo. App. 682, 101 SW 124.

88. So held where judgment in first action by foreign corporation was decided on the fact that the corporation had not filed the required certificate with the secretary of state. United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co. v. Schiff, 54 Misc. 225, 104 NYS 396.

89. Fordyce & McKee v. Woman's Christian Nat. Library Ass'n, 79 Ark. 550, 96 SW 155.

90. Kelly & Jones Co. v. Moore [Ga.] 58 SE 181; Leigh v. National Hollow Brake-Beam Co., 224 Ill. 76, 79 NE 318. Where a prior decree in a suit between the same parties held that certain deeds passed the title in trust for the grantor's children and such decree is conclusive against the right of the parties to such suit to have the land sold for the payment of debts against the decedent's estate, not urged in the prior proceeding. In re Stahl's Estate, 227 Ill. 529, 81 NE 531.

91. Kirven v. Virginia-Carolina Chemical Co. [S. C.] 58 SE 424.

92. O'Keefe v. Barry Benev. & Athletic Ass'n [N. J. Law] 66 A 601.

93. Surrogate's decree on settlement of executor's accounts as to amount of annuity fund held binding on parties and privies. Griffen v. Keese, 115 App. Div. 264, 100 NYS 903. Determination of unconstitutionality of statute held res judicata in quo warranto proceedings brought against contestee. People v. Wilson [Cal. App.] 91 P 661. A proceeding cannot be maintained to set aside or vacate a decree of foreclosure, based on an allegation of fact which was in issue and was determined in the trial which resulted in such decree. City of Lincoln v. Lincoln St. R. Co. [Neb.] 106 NW 317.

94. Bradford v. Abbott, 127 Ill. App. 6. The denial of the application of a bankrupt for a discharge renders the issue as to his right to a discharge res judicata as to debts which were provable in that proceeding. In re Kuffler [C. C. A.] 151 F 12. Fact must be technically in issue. Value of property at matters not in controversy and not heard and determined.<sup>97</sup> The bar in this case does not extend to facts that might have been, but were not, litigated.<sup>98</sup> To render a judgment available, as a bar to a second action against the same parties upon a different claim or demand, it is essential that the issue in the second action was a material issue in the first and necessarily determined by the judgment therein.<sup>99</sup> The time of assessment held not technically in issue in a proceeding on appeal from the refusal of assessors to abate taxes. Winnipeg Lake Cotton & Woolen Mfg. Co. v. Laconia [N. H.] 65 A 378.

95. In a proceeding by a judgment creditor to set aside a conveyance as fraudulent, the validity and enforceability of the claim is res judicata. Irish v. Daniels, 100 Minn. 189, 110 NW 968. Judgment for plaintiff for full amount claimed in a suit by him to recover the withdrawal value of his shares held conclusive as to such value in a suit on the judgment to recover the unpaid balance thereon. Tillinghast v. United States Sav. & Loan Co., 99 Minn. 62, 108 NW 472. A fact within the jurisdiction of the court litigated and determined in a forcible entry and detainer suit cannot again be brought in question between the same parties. Connelly v. Omaha [Neb.] 112 NW 360. Judgment as to amount due vendor of land held conclusive in proceedings against the carrying out of judgment, and hence evidence of depreciation in the value of the land between the date of the sale and of the judgment was inadmissible. Horne v. Carstarphen [Ga.] 57 SE 238. Where a depository fails to perform his duty and judgment is recovered against him he cannot relitigate such question in a subsequent suit. McLean v. Hughes [Minn.] 112 NW 1013. In an action for divorce by a wife for cruelty and nonsupport, the court will not consider evidence of the husband's alleged cruelty and failure to support prior to a judgment of dismissal in a former suit between the same parties based on the same grounds, when there was a trial on the merits and no appeal taken. Whitney v. Whitney [Neb.] 110 NW 555. Where judgment determines matters upon which damages subsequently accruing are predicated, it is conclusive. National Surety Co. v. Coates [Ark.] 104 SW 219. This principle is not affected by Kirby's Dig. § 6291. Id. Judgment in ejectment as to validity of title is conclusive of that question in a subsequent action of forcible entry and detainer. Stockley v. Cissna [Tenn.] 104 SW 792. Where in action for damages for default in carrying out contract recovery was had except as to one item of damages not sufficiently proved as to which item plaintiff was nonsuited, the first action is res adjudicata on the question of default in a subsequent action by plaintiff to recover on the item dismissed in the first suit. Amos Kent Lumber & Brick Co. v. Payne [La.] 44 S 728. Where defendant's claim to homestead rights in property sold under execution is decided against him, the judgment is as to such claim conclusive in a subsequent proceeding to have the judgment modified as to other matters. Bowen v. Highbaugh, 30 Ky. L. R. 1114, 100 SW 221.

96. Foreclosure decree held binding as to amount due mortgagee and hence question could not be relitigated in a subsequent suit to redeem. Potter v. Ft. Madison Loan & Trust Bldg. Ass'n, 133 Iowa, 367, 110 NW 616. Where an attachment was sued out to enforce collection of debt and judgment was rendered for defendant held conclusive in suit for wrongful attachment that debt was not owing by defendant and hence that the attachment was wrongfully sued out. Goldstein v. Drysdale [Ala.] 42 S 744. In an action for wrongful attachment the judgment for defendant in the attachment suit was conclusive evidence that the attachment was wrongful. McGill v. Fuller & Co. [Wash.] 88 P 1038. A compromise judgment by which a third person was to convey defendant's title to lands to plaintiffs held to estop defendants from a subsequent assertion of title. Townsend v. Scurlock [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 732, 99 SW 123. Note secured by mortgage is merged in decree of foreclosure. Sears v. Nichols, 123 Ill. App. 449. Where the terms of a divorce decree were full and complete in their bearing on the property rights of the parties, it was proper, in a subsequent action by the divorced wife for an accounting of the operation of a mine, to exclude parol evidence of a conflicting contemporaneous agreement. Mogenson v. Zubler, 36 Colo. 235, 84 P 981.

97. When a second suit is upon the same cause of action and between the same parties as the first, the judgment in the former is conclusive in the latter as to every question which was or might have been presented and determined in the first action; but when the second suit is upon a different cause of action though between the same parties, the judgment in the former action operates as an estoppel only as to the point or question actually litigated and determined, and not as to other matters which might have been litigated and determined. Blackford v. Wilder, 28 App. D. C. 535. A decree finding one a habitual drunkard rendered in an appropriate proceeding is conclusive of his condition on such date but not prior thereto. May be considered, however, in an action for specific performance of a contract entered into prior to the adjudication as tending to show his condition. Knott v. Giles, 27 App. D. C. 581.

98. Griffen v. Keese, 187 N. Y. 454, 80 NE 267, modifying 115 App. Div. 264, 100 NYS 503.

99. Heilner v. Smith [Or.] 88 P 299. A judgment is conclusive by way of estoppel only as to facts without the existence and proof or admission of which it could not have been rendered. Sbarbero v. Miller [N. J. Eq.] 65 A 472. A judgment in favor of plaintiff in ejectment, defendant on the ground that his title was founded on a conveyance executed by one not having sufficient mental capacity, is res judicata on the necessity of mutuality in estoppels by record requires that a court should not hold a judgment conclusive in favor of a person, unless it would be equally conclusive against him.<sup>1</sup>

§ 4. Pleading and proof. See 7 C. L. 1767.—Ordinarily, and unless the former judgment is used merely as evidence,<sup>2</sup> the defense of res judicata must be presented by the pleadings<sup>3</sup> but it is sufficient if found in the pleadings of the party against whom it is sought to be set up.<sup>4</sup> It has been stated that the question of res judicata can be raised only by a plea<sup>5</sup> in bar, but while a plea of former recovery has sometimes been spoken of as a plea in abatement, it should not be regarded as a mere dilatory plea.<sup>6</sup> A defense of res judicata in an equity suit should properly be raised by plea or where it arises after answer by a supplemental answer,<sup>7</sup> but it may be considered, although raised informally by an amended answer, filed by stipulation of the parties, and to which no objection is made.<sup>8</sup> In some cases it is held that the proper way of raising the question is by a motion to set aside the service of the summons and complaint.<sup>9</sup> The plea should set up the former adjudication so that the court may determine whether it is available as a bar.<sup>10</sup> A plea of former adjudication must show: That the former judgment was rendered by a court of competent jurisdiction;<sup>11</sup> that the matter in issue in the present suit was or might have been, determined in the former suit;<sup>12</sup> that the particular controversy adjudicated in the former action was between the parties to the present suit;<sup>13</sup> and that the judgment in the former action was rendered on the merits.<sup>14</sup> A plea of res judicata is amendable by adding thereto the judgment claimed to be conclusive,<sup>15</sup> and this may be done though the judgment was entered nunc pro tunc after the commencement of the action in which it was pleaded.<sup>16</sup> One has the right to plead a prior decree obtained pending suit,<sup>17</sup> and is not precluded therefrom by the fact that evidence has been taken in the second suit.<sup>18</sup> A defective plea may in some cases be remedied by the proof.<sup>19</sup> In all pleadings on this subject the general rule that facts and not conclu-issue of plaintiff's want of knowledge of the grantor's mental incapacity but not on the question as to whether the grantor was incompetent or whether plaintiff paid less than the market value. Id. Where in a suit for conversion defendant denied the conversion and alleged a purchase and that money due him for merchandise was to be considered as a payment on such contract, a judgment for plaintiff does not bar an action by defendant to recover the money for the merchandise. Heilner v. Smith [Or.] 88 P 299.

1. Sbarbero v. Miller [N. J. Eq.] 65 A 472.

2. Where a second suit between the same parties involves a different cause of action which depends upon the existence or non-existence of a fact adjudicated in the first suit, the judgment rendered in the first suit being evidence tending to show that fact, it may be introduced, even though it is not especially pleaded. Gray v. Linton [Colo.] 88 P 749.

3. See American China Development Co. v. Boyd, 148 F 258.

4. The former adjudication being set forth in plaintiff's pleadings, defendant may take advantage of it. Collins v. Gleason [Wash.] 91 P 566.

5. People v. Detroit, etc., R. Co. [Mich.] 14 Det. Leg. N. 387, 112 NW 716.

6. Walden v. Walden [Ga.] 57 SE 323.

7, 8. Warren Featherbone Co. v. De Camp, 154 F 198.

9. In a quo warranto proceeding to determine defendant's title to a public office, defendant's objection that the proceeding was barred by a former attorney general's determination not to bring the proceeding was properly raised by motion to set aside the service of summons and complaint and not by answer or plea in bar. People v. McClellan, 118 App. Div. 177, 103 NYS 146.

10. Plea stating in a general way the object and purpose of the former action is insufficient. Pond v. Huling, 125 Mo. App. 474, 101 SW 115.

11. Johnson v. Knudson-Mercer Co., 167 Ind. 429, 79 NE 367, citing 5 C. L. 1516.

12. Johnson v. Knudson-Mercer Co., 167 Ind. 429, 79 NE 367, citing 5 C. L. 1516. In an action on a note reply held to sufficiently identify the subject-matter of the former action. Id.

13. Johnson v. Knudson-Mercer Co., 167 Ind. 429, 79 NE 367, citing 5 C. L. 1516. Allegations showing that additional party in second suit was a mere surety on the note sued on held sufficient to show identity of parties. Id.

14. Johnson v. Knudson-Mercer Co., 167 Ind. 429, 79 NE 367, citing 5 C. L. 1516; Farmers' & Mechanics' Life Ass'n v. Caine, 123 Ill. App. 419.

15, 16. Walden v. Walden [Ga.] 57 SE 323.

17, 18. Bredin v. National Metal Weather-strip Co., 147 F 741.

19. Though plea did not sufficiently show

sions of law must be pleaded applies.<sup>20</sup> An order allowing a plea of res judicata to be filed, over the objection of plaintiff, as a part of the defendant's pleading, is not to be regarded as conclusive on the former as to the merits of the plea, when the order expressly recites that the court does not undertake to pass upon the question whether or not the plea sets up a good defense.<sup>21</sup> So long as the case is in limine and there is no estoppel of which the party filing the plea may take advantage, it is within the power of the court, of its own motion, to order it stricken as legally insufficient in matter of substance, or to instruct the jury to disregard the defense thereby sought to be interposed.<sup>22</sup> The constructions placed on various specific pleas are shown in the notes.<sup>23</sup> A defense that the judgment pleaded has been appealed from admits the allegations of the plea of res adjudicata.<sup>24</sup> The burden is on the party setting up the plea to prove it.<sup>25</sup> A judgment is, however, presumed to remain in force.<sup>26</sup> The usual and appropriate manner of proving the former judgment is to offer the judgment roll,<sup>27</sup> though in some states, but not all,<sup>28</sup> a duly certified copy of the judgment is evidence of the adjudication by the court of the issues involved in the suit and the recitals therein showing jurisdiction are evidence thereof; <sup>29</sup> this being in accord with the general doctrine that on collateral attack of a judgment of a court of general jurisdiction the recitals constitute evidence of their truth, and every intendment will be indulged in in support of the judgment.<sup>30</sup> The former adjudication must appear from the record alone or from the record supplemented by other evidence,<sup>31</sup> it is not sufficient that there be an inference of a decision upon the same point.<sup>32</sup> The record may not be contradicted, but so far as is consistent with it, with respect to matters concerning which it is silent, other evidence, including parol testimony, may be received to show what was involved, considered, and established.<sup>33</sup> It is only matters that same question had been litigated and though purporting to answer the whole declaration failed to answer a part thereof held records of former action, with such parol evidence as was necessary, should be admitted to show that question at issue was litigated and determined therein. Manchester Home Bldg. & Loan Ass'n v. Porter, 106 Va. 528, 56 SE 337.

20. To avoid the effect of res judicata upon the ground that the judge making the order was personally disqualified, such disqualification must be shown by averments of facts, not by mere legal conclusions. Milton v. Hundley [Fla.] 42 S 185.

21. Gainesville & Dahlonega Elec. R. Co. v. Austin, 127 Ga. 120, 56 SE 254.

22. Gainesville & Dahlonega Elec. R. Co. v. Austin, 127 Ga. 120, 56 SE 254. In such a case defendant cannot complain that trial court entirely ignored it in instructing the jury. Id.

23. Plea that it had been adjudicated that one was the owner of a "ditch and waterway" held to mean a mere easement. Hoyt v. Hart, 149 Cal. 722, 87 P 569.

24. Murphy v. Junction City Citizens' Bk. [Ark.] 100 SW 894.

25. Griffen v. Keese, 187 N. Y. 454, 80 NE 367, modifying 115 App. Div. 264, 100 NYS 903; Chatman v. Hodnett, 127 Ga. 360, 56 SE 439. Condemnation proceedings. Laguna Drainage Dist. v. Charles Martin Co. [Cal. App.] 89 P 993. Burden is on party relying on res judicata to prove that particular matter involved was necessarily or actually determined in former action. Harris v. Equitable Securities Co. [Ga.] 58 SE 831. One claiming title to personal property through a sale under attachment proceedings in a justice court must show legal notice to the defendants of the pendency of the action and that the property claimed was attached therein. Beckwith v. Dierks Lumber & Coal Co. [Neb.] 106 NW 442.

26. Party setting up defense of res adjudicata need not show that the judgment is in full force and has not been appealed from. Murphy v. Junction City Citizens' Bk. [Ark.] 100 SW 894.

27. Page v. Garver [Cal. App.] 90 P 481.

28. When it is sought merely to establish the fact that a judgment has been rendered, a certified copy of the judgment, without the proceedings prior thereto, is admissible. Patterson v. Drake, 126 Ga. 478, 55 SE 175. Aliter, when the judgment is sought to be used as an estoppel upon the parties thereto. Id.

29. Page v. Garver [Cal. App.] 90 P 481.

30. Page v. Garver [Cal. App.] 90 P 481. See Judgments, 8 C. L. 530.

31. Corbett v. Craven [Mass.] 82 NE 37. A judgment for plaintiff, in an action for trespass, is only evidence that the title to some part of the premises was in plaintiff, and, before he may avail himself of such judgment as an estoppel to deny his title in another action against defendant to enjoin further trespass, he must show on what part of the premises the trespass was committed, and then apply the issues and judgment to the premises in controversy in the action to enjoin. Hume v. Burns [Or.] 90 P 1009.

32. Missouri State Life Ins. Co. v. Love-lace [Ga. App.] 58 SE 93.

33. Stone v. Missouri Pac. R. Co. [Kan.]

which are put in issue by the pleadings in the former case which can be shown by extrinsic evidence to have been actually decided therein.<sup>34</sup> What the issues are must be shown by the record.<sup>35</sup> Whether a particular matter, within such issues, was really litigated and decided upon the trial, may be shown by extrinsic evidence.<sup>36</sup> It follows that a question in issue and decided in the court's opinion is sometimes deemed res judicata though such decision is not contained in the court's decree.<sup>37</sup> In construing a decree evidence as to what the parties understood its scope to be,<sup>38</sup> and of a custom existing in the locality or adopted by the parties prior to the decree respecting the subject-matter of the litigation,<sup>39</sup> is inadmissible. There is a conflict where the precise theory upon which the former action was decided is not disclosed by the record and it may have been decided upon a theory which would bar the subsequent suit whether the judgment must be deemed a bar.<sup>40</sup> Under a general finding and judgment it will be presumed, in a subsequent action between the same parties, that all the issues were decided in the former action in favor of the party in whose favor that action resulted,<sup>41</sup> though this does not apply to matters erroneously omitted from the judgment.<sup>42</sup> Where on the face of the proceedings the only defense was one of limitations a judgment for defendant without reason assigned will be presumed to have been based on the determination of such issue.<sup>43</sup> One may become estopped

90 P 251; Irvin v. Spratlin, 127 Ga. 240, 55 SE 1037.

34, 35. Halliday v. Bank of Stewart County [Ga.] 58 SE 169.

36. Halliday v. Bank of Stewart County [Ga.] 58 SE 169. Where pleadings on their face and the judgment roll do not show the issue tried and determined between parties, it may be shown by extrinsic evidence. Gulling v. Washoe County Bk. [Nev.] 89 P 25, rvg. 28 Nev. 450, 82 P 890. Uncertainty as to whether particular issue was decided may be determined by parol. Harris v. Equitable Securities Co. [Ga.] 58 SE 831. Where distinct and unrelated issues are presented and the record does not show upon which the decision turned, parol evidence is sometimes admissible to show that a particular one was not passed upon or decided. Hogle v. Smith [Iowa] 113 NW 556. Testimony of judge as to evidence introduced held admissible. Gorham v. New Haven, 79 Conn. 670, 66 A 505. Letter acknowledging that decision in unlawful detainer determined question of tenancy held admissible to show that it was determined in such action. Manchester Home Bldg. & Loan Ass'n v. Porter, 106 Va. 528, 56 SE 337.

37. Carson v. Three States Lumber Co. [C. C. A.] 149 F 377. The judgment rendered, and not the opinion, must be looked to in order to find the thing adjudged. Bleakley v. Barclay [Kan.] 89 P 906. At the same time the inquiry is not always confined to the formal issues as defined by the pleadings, nor to the formal parts of the judgment. Id.

38. Hartson v. Dill [Cal.] 90 P 530. But see Manchester Home Bldg. & Loan Ass'n v. Porter, 106 Va. 528, 56 SE 337.

39. Hartson v. Dill [Cal.] 90 P 530.

40. Suit on an express contract for services, defenses being payment and accord and satisfaction judgment for defendant, held to bar suit on an implied contract for such services. Ziegler v. Freedman, 105 NYS 283. Where two issues were involved in a suit and a general verdict rendered the judgment is no bar to a subsequent action based on one of the issues, it not appearing that such issue was the basis for the verdict in the former action. Hooper v. Pierce [Ala.] 44 S 108.

41. Van Camp v. Huntington, 39 Ind. App. 28, 78 NE 1057. Where a former judgment is set up in bar of the action and it appears that the issues in the former suit involved the question in issue in the later one, and there was, in the former suit, a general finding and judgment on the merits, and there were other questions in issue in the former suit which, if determined for the same party, would have resulted in the same finding and judgment, then, notwithstanding the jury in the former suit found such issues as are involved in the later suit the other way, the former adjudication is prima facie conclusive. Id. In a suit on two items, plaintiff recovering on only one, it will be deemed an adjudication that he was not entitled to recover on the other. Alcolm Co. v. Philip Hano & Co., 101 NYS 762. Where pending litigation on three items plaintiff brings to trial another action for two of the items and recovers for only one such judgment is res adjudicata of his right to recover on all but the third item. Id.

42. Principle that a demand not granted must be considered as rejected has no application to an erroneous omission to order cancellation of a paving certificate. Declared void by the decree. McManus v. Scheele, 118 La. 744, 43 S 394.

43. Where on the face of the proceedings the only defense available to an action for the foreclosure of a trust deed was the statute of limitations, it will be presumed that a verdict directed without reason assigned therefor and the judgment rendered thereon were merely intended to adjudicate the question of limitation and the burden is on the party alleging that the question of the validity of the trust deed was adjudicated to prove it. Bandy v. Cates [Tex. Civ. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 811, 97 SW 710.

to set up the plea.<sup>44</sup> The benefit of the former adjudication may in some cases be preserved by injunction.<sup>45</sup>

FORMER CONVICTION OR ACQUITTAL, see latest topical index.

FORMS OF ACTION.<sup>45a</sup>

This topic treats of the distinctions between particular forms or kinds of actions, the grounds of actions being excluded.<sup>46</sup> The common-law forms of personal actions are treated under appropriate heads,<sup>47</sup> as are matters of practice dependent upon the form of action.<sup>48</sup> While many states have abolished the common-law forms of action and substituted a single form therefor,<sup>49</sup> many of the principles applicable to the different forms are still recognized.<sup>50</sup> Except as affected by statute,<sup>51</sup> the distinctions between law and equitable actions are still preserved,<sup>52</sup> and suit should be brought in,<sup>53</sup> or transferred to<sup>54</sup> the appropriate court, although the failure so to do may be waived.<sup>55</sup> In the absence of statute, equitable issues cannot be tried in an action at law<sup>56</sup> unless the other party fails to object thereto.<sup>57</sup> An objection to the

44. Where on motion of defendant a claim of plaintiff's was stricken out as not relevant, held defendant was estopped to assert that claim was adjudicated in that action. Haughawaut v. Royse, 122 Mo. App. 72, 98 SW 101. In a suit to quiet title, plaintiff filed an amendment setting up an action at law under the Code for the recovery of possession. Defendants moved to strike the amendment on the ground that plaintiff could not amend by setting up a different action; the motion was sustained. Held that defendants were not estopped from setting up the defense of res judicata based on a prior decree in a suit to quiet title. Smith v. Cowell [Colo.] 92 P 20.

45. Bankrupt enjoined from prosecuting second proceeding looking to a discharge from debts involved in a former proceeding wherein a discharge was denied. In re Kuffer [C. C. A.] 151 F 12.

45a. See 7 C. L. 1769.

46. See Causes of Action and Defenses, 9 C. L. 539, and topics descriptive of particular actions.

47. See Assumpsit, 9 C. L. 277; Detinue, 9 C. L. 975; Trespass, 8 C. L. 2147, etc.

48. See Costs, 9 C. L. 812; Dockets, Calendars and Trial Lists, 9 C. L. 1008; Jury, 8 C. L. 617, etc.

49. Under Code, § 3432, providing that forms of action are not controlling, etc., action described as habeas corpus treated as application for order of probate court for custody of wards, there being no objection by defendant. Smith v. Haas, 132 Iowa, 493, 109 NW 1075.

50. While by express provisions of Code Civ. Proc. § 460 there is but one form of action whether at law or in equity, principles applicable to different forms of actions at common law are recognized. Donovan v. McDevitt [Mont.] 92 P 49. See, also, Equity, 9 C. L. 1110.

51. Under Pierce's Code, § 250 (Ballinger's Ann. Codes & St. § 4793), providing for a single form of action, called "civil action," where complaint alleges fraudulent conveyance of property by one of defendants to the other and purchase by plaintiff on execution against grantor, relief will be granted regardless of whether it is legal or equitable. Brown v. Baldwin [Wash.] 89 P 473.

52. Proceeding to enjoin private nuisance held proceeding in equity, notwithstanding allegation and claim of damages. Geltz v. Amsden, 125 Mo. App. 592, 102 SW 1037. Proceeding to sever agricultural lands from incorporated town is at law. In re Town of LeRoy [Iowa] 113 NW 347. Action held one at law and not for accounting where plaintiff sued to recover balance collected by defendant as agent and not turned over and for money defendant collected for, but failed to remit to, others, which plaintiff was bound to pay and where no accounting was asked in answer. Judith Inland Transp. Co. v. Williams [Mont.] 91 P 1061.

53. Purchaser at execution sale of land fraudulently conveyed by debtor may try out question of fraud in ejectment suit in law court. Ward v. Sturdivant [Ark.] 98 SW 690.

54. Where plaintiff properly brought case in court of equity but it is insufficient to entitle him to relief, defendant could not set up legal defense and have it transferred to law court, since Mansf. Dig. § 4928 does not authorize such transfer where plaintiff properly sued in equity. Pilgrim v. McIntosh [Ind. T.] 104 SW 858. Where wife brings suit on promise to pay her specific sum which husband had agreed to pay in separation settlement, given in consideration of release of attachment on husband's property on which promisee held mortgage and joinder in deed, it is pure action at law and cannot be transferred to equity where there is pending action to vacate deed and whole transaction. Kinkead v. Peet [Iowa] 111 NW 48.

55. Failure of defendant to move for transfer held to waive his right to have case heard in equity. Wilson v. White [Ark.] 102 SW 201.

56. Federal courts. Cook v. Foley [C. C. A.] 152 F 41.

57. Failure to object to trial of equitable issues in law action in Federal courts waives objection. Cook v. Foley [C. C. A.] 152 F 41.

form of an action may be waived<sup>58</sup> or taken advantage of by a motion for nonsuit.<sup>59</sup> Whether a particular action is ex contractu<sup>60</sup> or ex delicto<sup>61</sup> is determined largely by the language in which the cause of action is set forth and the relief demanded. Where defendant appears in a suit brought under the rule day acts and complies with the provisions necessary to prevent default judgment, the case proceeds as an ordinary action ex contractu.<sup>62</sup> Where a statute creating a special proceeding is complete in itself and covers the entire subject, it is exclusive.<sup>63</sup>

FORNICATION.<sup>62a</sup>

Fornication is a statutory crime consisting in sexual intercourse between unmarried persons, and birth of issue is not an element of the offense.<sup>64</sup> An indictment in the language of the statute is sufficient.<sup>65</sup> It need not allege that the parties were unmarried unless the statute expressly makes that an element.<sup>66</sup> Circumstantial evidence must exclude every fair theory of innocence<sup>67</sup> and uncorroborated and improbable testimony of the female, denied by accused has been held insufficient.<sup>68</sup>

FORTHCOMING AND DELIVERY BONDS; FORWARDERS, see latest topical index

FRANCHISES.

§ 1. Definition and Elements (1446).
 § 2. Grant of Franchise and Regulation of its Exercise (1446).
 § 3. Powers and Duties Under Franchises (1448).

§ 4. Duration and Extension of Term (1449).
 § 5. Transfer of Franchises and Effect Thereof (1449).
 § 6. Revocation and Forfeiture (1449).
 § 7. Taxation (1449).

58. Not waived by submitting case to jury. Conroy v. Equitable Acc. Co., 27 R. I. 467, 63 A 356. Objection that form of action should have been in ejectment, instead of one to quiet title, is waived where answer in addition to denials affirmatively alleges title in defendant and prays that he be decreed owner thereof and the issues are tried after objection to evidence in nature of demurrer to complaint. Brown v. Baldwin [Wash.] 89 P 483.

59. Where objection does not appear on face of pleadings, it can be taken advantage of only by motion for nonsuit. Conroy v. Equitable Acc. Co., 27 R. I. 467, 63 A 356.

60. Construed as ex contractu: Complaint for failure of defendant to return money placed with him to meet a contingent claim, as agreed, and not in conversion. Lange v. Schile, 117 App. Div. 233, 101 NYS 1080. Complaint alleging that defendant had agreed to present note for payment and to return it by certain time in case of nonpayment, which he had failed and neglected to do. Kiblinger Co. v. Sauk Bk., 131 Wis. 595, 111 NW 709. Action for damages sustained because of wrongful refusal of bank to honor check although containing allegations appropriate to tort. Lorick v. Palmetto Nat. Bk. of Columbia [S. C.] 57 SE 527. Action construed as based on implied contract to return money obtained through false vouchers of ties purporting to be furnished to plaintiff and not ex delicto. Morgan's Louisiana & T. R. & S. S. Co. v. Stewart [La.] 44 S 138. Petition by administrator seeking adjustment of business relations between decedent and defendant held to state action for recovery of indebtedness due, and not for conversion of notes, although it alleges that defendant executed notes for money of decedent retained by him, which notes he refuses to deliver to plaintiff. Ackerman v. Green, 195 Mo. 124, 93 SW 255. Count charging that plaintiff loaned to defendant a plow which was broken and destroyed by defendant held to state cause of action ex contractu, though it did not contain allegations of fictional sale and promise. Redel v. Missouri Valley Stone Co. [Mo. App.] 103 SW 568.

61. Construed ex delicto: Action for damages resulting from negligent construction of windmill which defendant had contracted to erect on plaintiff's barn in first class manner. Flint & Walling Mfg. Co. v. Becket, 167 Ind. 491, 79 NE 503. Action by lessee for damages caused by lessor who entered upon the premises without lessee's consent and made extensive repairs dehors his contract rights. Wood v. Monteleone, 118 La. 1005, 43 S 657.

62. State v. Sharp [N. J. Law] 66 A 926, distinguishing Smith v. Minor, 1 N. J. Law. 19, as decided before the Crimes Act of 1796.

63. Proceedings under Rev. St. 1899, §§ 3227-3232 (Ann. St. 1906, pp. 1832-1834), to compel execution defendant to appear for examination as to his ability is governed solely by its provisions. Ackerman v. Green, 201 Mo. 231, 100 SW 30.

63a. See 5 C L 1518.

64. State v. Sharp [N. J. Law] 66 A 926, distinguishing Smith v. Minor, 1 N. J. Law. 19, as decided before the Crimes Act of 1796.

65. "Did commit fornication." State v. Sharp [N. J. Law] 66 A 926.

66. Under a statute punishing "any person who shall commit fornication," marriage is matter of defense. State v. Sharp [N. J. Law] 66 A 926.

67. Circumstantial evidence held insufficient to show intercourse between defendant and woman acting as nurse of his child. Lightner v. State, 126 Ga. 563, 55 SE 471.

68. Hofer v. State, 130 Wis. 576, 110 NW 391.

Scope of topic.—A distinction is made between corporate franchises and the instrumentalities by means of which such franchises may be exercised, the latter being called secondary franchises,<sup>69</sup> and this article treats only of the latter.<sup>70</sup>

§ 1. Definition and elements.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1771</sup>—Franchises are separate and distinct from the property used in the exercise thereof,<sup>71</sup> and from mere regulation,<sup>72</sup> and a grant of public rights and privileges is not prevented from being a franchise by regulatory provisions.<sup>73</sup> A municipal franchise constitutes a contract which is entitled to the guaranty of the Federal constitution against impairment,<sup>74</sup> and a Federal court will enforce such guaranty by injunction against the grantor.<sup>75</sup> The question of revocation and forfeiture is treated in another section.<sup>76</sup>

§ 2. Grant of franchise and regulation of its exercise.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1771</sup>—Public franchises cannot be granted for private use.<sup>77</sup> Legislative franchises may be bestowed upon individuals to the same extent as upon private corporations,<sup>78</sup> and a statute authorizing the sale of such franchises by a receiver sanctions the use thereof by an individual purchaser.<sup>79</sup> But such right may be withdrawn by subsequent legislation.<sup>80</sup> Municipal franchises may be modified by the state in the exercise of its police power,<sup>81</sup> and, subject to municipal police power, a franchise holder may change its system of operation when so authorized by statute, without impairment of its municipal franchise and without the consent of the municipality.<sup>82</sup> In some cases the legislature may even grant franchises to be exercised in municipalities without requiring compensation to be paid to the municipalities.<sup>83</sup> A municipal corporation can grant franchises only in such manner as is authorized by charter or statute,<sup>84</sup> and a municipal grant which is ultra vires is

69. Right of way through city granted to railroad company is a secondary franchise, as distinguished from the franchise to construct and operate the road. Shreveport Trac. Co. v. Kansas City S. & G. R. Co. [La.] 44 S 457.

70. As to corporate franchises, see Corporations, 9 C. L. 733, and see also titles dealing with corporations exercising particular franchises, such as Street Railways, 8 C. L. 2004, and the like.

71. Grant of franchise to use bridge constructed by city, subject to rights of public to use thereof, does not make construction a private enterprise to which municipality could not lend its aid by issue of bonds, etc. Haeussler v. St. Louis [Mo.] 103 SW 1034.

On expiration of franchise, property rights are not affected. See post, § 4, Duration and Extension of Term.

72. Fogg v. Ocean City [N. J. Law] 65 A 885.

73. Right to construct telegraph lines in streets. Western Union Tel. Co. v. Visalia, 149 Cal. 744, 87 P 1023.

74, 75. Des Moines City R. Co. v. Des Moines, 151 F 854.

76. See post, § 6.

77. Grant of right to street railroad company to connect with warehouse of local express company held not grant of use of streets for private use. Dulaney v. United Rys. & Elec. Co., 104 Md. 423, 65 A 45.

78. McCarter v. Vineland Light & Power Co. [N. J. Eq.] 65 A 1041.

79. P. L. 1842, p. 164, as preserved by Rev. St. 1846, p. 136, tit. 5, c. 3, § 20. Revision, p. 192, § 85, P. L. 1896, p. 303, § 82. McCarter v. Vineland Light & Power Co. [N. J. Eq.] 65 A 1041.

80. P. L. 1881, p. 33, Gen. St. p. 3094, §§ 34, 35, confines use of franchises purchased under decrees of courts to corporations created by the act ex proprio vigore. McCarter v. Vineland Light & Power Co. [N. J. Eq.] 65 A 1041.

81. Right to lay electrical wires and conductors under streets taken away by statute requiring laying of such wires and conductors in subway constructed under general plan adopted by board of commissioners. People v. Ellison, 51 Misc. 413, 101 N Y S 444.

82. Light and power company which was authorized by city merely to erect poles held, under Act 1889, P. L. 136, to have power to change to conduit system. Allegheny County Light Co. v. Booth, 216 Pa. 564, 66 A 72.

83. Right of street railroad to do express business. Dulaney v. United Rys. & Elec. Co., 104 Md. 423, 65 A 45.

84. Under Const. § 164, city cannot grant any franchise except at public sale to highest bidder. Moberly v. Richmond Tel. Co. [Ky.] 103 SW 714. Const. § 164, requiring municipalities to dispose of franchises to highest bidder, when construed with a view to its purpose to protect the citizens of the municipality, and in connection with other constitutional provisions relating to monopolies, held not to prevent municipality from providing for rejection of bids of rival company already holding franchise similar to one to be sold. Stites v. Norton [Ky.] 101 SW 1189. Under Const. § 164, forbidding municipalities from granting franchises for a term of years, except after advertisement and upon public bids, a franchise awarded otherwise is invalid, ineffective<sup>85</sup> and will not be enforced by the courts,<sup>86</sup> but prohibition against the grant of a municipal franchise will not lie at the instance of a disinterested party.<sup>87</sup> Where consents have been once acted on by a city council in the granting of a valid street railway franchise, their vitality is expended and they cannot be again used as the basis of a second grant to another company.<sup>88</sup> Power to regulate does not include power to grant.<sup>89</sup> The statutory power of a municipal council to grant franchises is subject to the general veto of its executive head under its charter.<sup>90</sup> Power to grant franchises may and sometimes is delegated to municipal commissions or departments,<sup>91</sup> or it may be vested in the people themselves.<sup>92</sup> The grant of a franchise by a municipality will not be invalidated by the smallness of the fee charged, in the absence of fraud, or collusion, or noncompliance with the law,<sup>93</sup> but a municipal franchise to do what the grantee already has the right to do is ineffective for any purpose.<sup>94</sup> Similar franchises may be granted to rival companies where the exercise of one does not exclude the exercise of the other.<sup>95</sup> Where a statute amending, altering, or rechartering a corporation expressly preserves its former rights and franchises, a new franchise from a city in which the corporation was already operating under franchise therefrom is not necessary.<sup>96</sup> A grant, or at least consent to the exercise of a franchise, may be implied from long acquiescence.<sup>97</sup> A municipal-though the municipality does not bind itself to continue the franchise for more than a year. Frankfort Tel. Co. v. Common Council of Frankfort, 30 Ky. L. R. 885, 100 SW 310. Power granted to construct and maintain poles, etc., for transmission of electricity in consideration of agreement to furnish certain city plants with electricity held not merely grant of way to city plants but a franchise which, under Comp. Laws, § 3111, could only be granted by two-thirds vote of all the aldermen elect. Vossen v. St. Clair, 148 Mich. 686, 14 Det. Leg. N. 331, 112 NW 746.

85. There is an entire absence of express power, either in the municipal code or previous statutory provisions, whereby a municipality may grant to a lighting company the right to jointly use municipal poles, nor can such power be implied from authority to sell either real or personal property, and to treat such pole rights as a mere license might easily result in confiscation to a degree which would exclude the city from larger use demanded by future growth. City of Columbus v. Columbus Public Service Co., 4 Ohio N. P. (N. S.) 329.

86. The fact that public policy and good business judgment favor an advantageous contract by a city for the joint use of city poles by an electric lighting company furnishes no warrant to a court to assist in a continuance of such use, where the entering into such a contract is manifestly ultra vires on the part of the municipality. City of Columbus v. Columbus Public Service Co., 4 Ohio N. P. (N. S.) 329.

87. Company owning no property in municipality, paying no taxes thereto, and having no vested right and no municipal consent or franchise, and which has applied for none over route of another company, and having no certificate of convenience and necessity for such route, and which is merely applying for municipal consent to such route, has no status to maintain prohibition against grant of franchise to other company. People v. Bauer, 54 Misc. 28, 103 NYS 1081.

88. Isom v. The Low Fare R. Co., 10 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 89.

89. Act March 24, 1897, P. L. p. 46, authorizing cities to prescribe manner of exercise of franchises involving use of streets, does not authorize cities to make original grants of such franchises. Fogg v. Ocean City [N. J. Law] 65 A 885.

90. Power under St. 1901, p. 265, c. 103, to grant street railroad franchises, held subject to veto power of mayor under city charter. City of Los Angeles v. Davidson, 150 Cal. 59, 88 P 42.

91. Acts 1888, p. 1060, c. 583, tit. 16, § 2, delegating to Brooklyn park department control over Ocean Parkway outside of the then limits of city of Brooklyn. People v. Color, 54 Misc. 21, 103 NYS 590.

92. Under Acts 1903, p. 393, c. 186, authorizing amendment of city charter in regard to any matter within realm of local affairs or municipal business, an amendment giving people of city power to grant franchises was authorized, notwithstanding Ball. Ann. Codes & St. § 740, vesting legislative powers in mayor and council. Hindman v. Boyd, 42 Wash. 17, 84 P 609.

93. Dulaney v. United Rys. & Elec. Co., 104 Md. 423, 65 A 45.

94. Franchise to telegraph company to construct line in streets when company already had such right under 14 Stat. 221, Rev. St. U. S. § 3964 [U. S. Comp. St. 1901, p. 2707], and Cal. Pol. Code, § 2618, and Civ. Code, § 536. Western Union Tel. Co. v. Visalia, 149 Cal. 744, 87 P 1023.

95. Railroad franchises granted by municipality over different routes. People v. Bauer, 54 Misc. 28, 103 NYS 1081. As to exclusiveness of franchise, see post, § 3, Powers and Duties Under Franchises.

96. See Act 1889, P. L. 126, authorizing surrender of charters and providing for granting of new charters. Allegheny County Light Co. v. Booth, 216 Pa. 564, 66 A 72.

97. Acquiescence for ten years of city

ity may annex any lawful condition to the exercise of a public franchise which it is authorized to grant,<sup>98</sup> and such condition becomes a part of the contract under which the franchise is thenceforth exercised,<sup>99</sup> but a municipality cannot, in granting a franchise, abridge, limit, or destroy its police power.<sup>1</sup> A municipality, in granting a franchise, may reserve the right to change the conditions of the grant.<sup>2</sup>

§ 3. Powers and duties under franchises. See 7 C. L. 1774.—In determining the powers granted by a franchise ordinance, the whole ordinance must be looked to,<sup>3</sup> and so also, in determining powers under a legislative franchise, the whole course of legislation relative thereto must be considered.<sup>4</sup> Legislative franchises, whether granted by special charters or under general laws, are exclusive as against all to whom similar rights have not been conferred,<sup>5</sup> and an unlawful invasion of such franchises will be enjoined.<sup>6</sup> Public franchises, however, are strictly construed in favor of the public, and the franchise holder takes nothing not clearly granted.<sup>7</sup> In the absence, therefore, of an agreement to such effect, a franchise is not exclusive of the right of the grantor to engage in enterprises similar to those covered by the franchise,<sup>8</sup> or the grant of similar franchises to others,<sup>9</sup> and where a city has no power to grant an exclusive franchise, such a franchise is not binding.<sup>10</sup> A public franchise is sufficiently exercised when the holder furnishes to the public all reasonable accommodations required by the franchise, regardless of the agencies employed.<sup>11</sup> Unwarranted use or usurpation of legislative franchises may be restrained on information filed by the attorney general.<sup>12</sup> Statutory provision is sometimes made for proceedings in the nature of quo warranto against persons usurping public franchises.<sup>13</sup> of Brooklyn in exercise of lighting franchise on Ocean Parkway granted by park department under authority of Acts 1888, p. 1060, c. 583, tit. 16, § 2. People v. Coler, 54 Misc. 21, 103 NYS 590. Six years' acquiescence in objecting to change of system from poles to conduits held to deprive both city and individuals of right to relief in equity. Id.; Allegheny County Light Co. v. Booth, 216 Pa. 564, 66 A 72.

98. Moberly v. Richmond Tel. Co. [Ky.] 103 SW 714.

99. Limitation of telephone rates by ordinance. Moberly v. Richmond Tel. Co. [Ky.] 103 SW 714.

1,2. Coatesville Borough v. Coatesville Elec. Light, Heat & Power Co., 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 513.

3. Grant of power to street railroad company to lay connecting switch held not taken away but only modified by subsequent section prohibiting interference with or encroachment upon sidewalks, where the switch authorized could not be laid without crossing sidewalk. Dulaney v. United Rys. & Elec. Co., 104 Md. 423, 65 A 45.

4. Water company incorporated under Acts 1886, p. 138, c. 100, with power to lay pipes in county highways without consent of county commissioners, held not to have such power under amendments by Acts 1888, p. 81, c. 73, and Acts 1900, p. 49, c. 52, the latter of which acts conferred, in addition to corporation's former rights, all rights under Code Pub. Gen. Laws, art. 23, § 358 (Acts 1898, p. 691, c. 199), corporations incorporated under the general act being forbidden to exercise such power without the consent of county commissioners. Balti- more County Water & Elec. Co. v. Baltimore County Com'rs [Md.] 66 A 34.

5. Attempted exercise by such others is unwarranted usurpation of power, and an invasion of the rights of the holder of the franchise. Millville Gaslight Co. v. Vineland Light & Power Co. [N. J. Eq.] 65 A 504.

6. Millville Gaslight Co. v. Vineland Light & Power Co. [N. J. Eq.] 65 A 504.

7. Ambiguities resolved in favor of public and against franchise holder. Millville Gaslight Co. v. Vineland Light & Power Co. [N. J. Eq.] 65 A 504. Street railroad franchise granted by city. Cleveland Elec. R. Co. v. Cleveland, 204 U. S. 116, 51 Law. Ed. 399.

8. City not precluded from establishing own waterworks. Hastings Water Co. v. Hastings Borough, 216 Pa. 178, 65 A 403; Tillamook Water Co. v. Tillamook Co. [C. C. A.] 150 F 117.

Injunction against erection of waterworks by city in violation of exclusive franchise held by complainant, subject to city's right to purchase, refused when answer denied intention to infringe complainant's rights and only evidence of such intention was ordinance authorizing issue of bonds to purchase complainant's plant or constructing building, and equipping a waterworks plant. Selma Water Co. v. Selma, 154 F 138.

9,10. Crouch v. McKinney [Tex. Civ. App.] 104 SW 518.

11. Franchise for carrying express. Dulaney v. United Rys. & Elec. Co., 104 Md. 423, 65 A 45.

12. McCarter v. Vineland Light & Power Co. [N. J. Eq.] 65 A 1041.

13. Code tit. 21, c. 9, providing for pro-

§ 4. Duration and extension of term. See 7 C. L. 1775.—Subject to statutory provisions against perpetual franchises,<sup>14</sup> the duration of a franchise is a matter of intent and statutory construction.<sup>15</sup> Where a city recognizes the existence of a franchise after a certain date and imposes obligations upon the franchise holder consistent only with the continuation of the franchise, it will be estopped to assert that the franchise expired on such date.<sup>16</sup> Expiration of a municipal franchise does not divest the grantee of title to property acquired and used in the exercise of such franchise,<sup>17</sup> and such property cannot be disposed of to a subsequent grantee by a municipal ordinance.<sup>18</sup>

§ 5. Transfer of franchises and effect thereof. See 7 C. L. 1775.—A purchaser of franchises at a judicial sale acquires a valid title thereto,<sup>19</sup> regardless of the power of the original corporate holder to make a transfer,<sup>20</sup> and only the state can question the validity of a transfer of a legislative franchise as being ultra vires the corporate transferor.<sup>21</sup> Acts authorizing sales and leases of franchises will not receive the same strict construction applicable to the original grants.<sup>22</sup>

§ 6. Revocation and forfeiture. See 7 C. L. 1776.—A municipal franchise is irrevocable by the municipality unless forfeited by the terms thereof.<sup>23</sup>

§ 7. Taxation.<sup>24</sup>

FRATERNAL MUTUAL BENEFIT ASSOCIATIONS.

§ 1. Nature, Organization, and Powers (1450). Status of Local Lodges and Relation to Supreme Body (1451).

§ 2. Foreign Associations (1452).

§ 3. Officers, Agents, Organizers, Physicians, etc. (1453).

§ 4. Members and Discipline (1453). Arbitration of Disputes (1453).

§ 5. The Contract of Insurance (1454).

A. General Nature, Requisites, and Formation (1454).

B. General Rules of Construction (1455).

C. Risk Assumed and Benefit Promised (1455).

D. Conditions, Warranties, and Representations (1457).

E. Dues and Assessments (1458).

F. Modification and Alteration of Contract or its Terms (1459).

G. Rescission, Forfeiture, Cancellation, and Avoidance (1460).

H. Waiver, Estoppel, and Reinstatement (1462).

ceedings in nature of quo warranto against persons usurping franchises, applies to unauthorized use of streets by street railroad company. State v. Des Moines City R. Co. [Iowa] 109 NW 867. Word person, as used in statute, includes corporations. Id.

Practice under such acts is treated elsewhere. See Quo Warranto, 8 C. L. 1582.

14. Gas company which had been operating with consent or acquiescence of city for ten years under a purported franchise which was not limited as to duration held entitled to continue such exercise for twenty-five years from date of purchase, under Greater New York City charter [Laws 1897, p. 25, c. 378, § 23], providing that franchises in use of streets shall not be granted for more than twenty-five years. People v. Coler, 54 Misc. 21, 103 NYS 590. Franchise would have been void if it had purported to have been granted in perpetuity. Id.

15. Ordinance granting franchise to be exclusive for a certain number of years held not to limit duration of franchise but only its exclusive nature. Des Moines City R. Co. v. Des Moines, 151 F 854.

16. Des Moines City R. Co. v. Des Moines, 151 F 854.

17. Cleveland Elec. R. Co. v. Cleveland, 204 U. S. 116, 51 Law. Ed. 399.

18. Such would not be due process of law. Cleveland Elec. R. Co. v. Cleveland, 204 U. S. 116, 51 Law. Ed. 399.

19. In re Long Acre Elec. Light & Power Co., 188 NY 361, 80 NE 1101. Even though the corporation has been dissolved. In re Long Acre Elec. Light & Power Co., 51 Misc. 407, 101 NYS 460, afid. 117 App. Div. 80, 102 NYS 242, which afid. 188 N. Y. 361, 80 NE 1101.

20. In re Long Acre Elec. Light & Power Co., 188 N. Y. 361, 80 NE 1101.

21. Conduit company could not refuse accommodations to transferee of franchise to conduct electricity to consumers, on ground of lack of power in corporate transferor to make transfer. In re Long Acre Elec. Light & Power Co., 188 N. Y. 361, 80 NE 1101.

22. P. L. 1842, p. 164, as preserved by Rev. St. 1846, p. 136, tit. 5, c. 3, § 20, Revision, p. 192, § 85, and P. L. 1896, p. 303, § 82. McCarter v. Vineland Light & Power Co. [N. J. Eq.] 65 A 1041. Laws 1905, p. 2097, c. 737, § 13, prohibiting transfer of franchises by corporation, held not applicable to transfers by individuals. In re Long Acre Elec. Light & Power Co., 51 Misc. 407, 101 NYS 460, afid. 117 App. Div. 80, 102 NYS 242, which afid. 188 N. Y. 361, 80 NE 1101.

23. People v. Ellison, 51 Misc. 413, 101 NYS 444. See, also, § 1, Definition and Elements.

24. See Taxes, 3 C. L. 2053.

§ 6. The Beneficiary (1466). Exemption of Benefits from Liability for Debts (1469).

§ 7. Maturity and Accrual of Benefits (1469).

§ 8. Notice and Proofs of Death or Disability (1469).

§ 9. Payment of Benefits and Discharge of Liability (1469).

§ 10. Procedure to Enforce Right to Benefits, etc. (1470). Submission of Disputes to Arbitration or to Tribunals Within the Order (1470). Remedies and Procedure in General (1470). Parties (1471). Limitations (1471). Pleading (1472). Evidence (1473).

The scope of this topic is noted below.<sup>25</sup>

§ 1. Nature, organization, and powers. See 7 C. L. 1778.—What organizations are to be deemed fraternal benefit associations depends on the statutes of the various states.<sup>26</sup> The character of insurance which the association may write depends on the terms of its charter.<sup>27</sup> In many states the general insurance law is made inapplicable to fraternal benefit associations.<sup>28</sup>

The legislature may, by amendment of the society's charter, or the statute under which it was organized, limit the scope of its business as originally authorized, at least in so far as it does not thereby impair contract obligations.<sup>29</sup> The right of amendment is also often reserved to the association.<sup>30</sup> Amendments to

25. This article deals only with the law peculiarly applicable to fraternal mutual benefit associations. All questions relating to the insurance contracts of such associations have, however, been included, even though governed by the rules of law applicable to insurance contracts generally. Matters relating generally to corporations (See Corporations, 9 C. L. 733; Foreign Corporations, 9 C. L. 1395, or associations (See Associations and Societies, 9 C. L. 274), have been excluded. Reference should also be had to the article Insurance, 8 C. L. 377.

26. Defendant held fraternal beneficiary association within meaning of Rev. St. 1899, §§ 1408-1423. Tice v. Supreme Lodge K. of P., 204 Mo. 349, 102 SW 1013, affg. 123 Mo. App. 85, 100 SW 519. Defendant held not profit making or profit sharing concern within meaning of § 1408 though it established large reserve fund and invested same in interest bearing securities. Id. Fact that association held property in excess of limit fixed by its charter held immaterial on issue whether it furnished fraternal or old line insurance. Tice v. Supreme Lodge K. of P., 123 Mo. App. 85, 100 SW 519, affd. 204 Mo. 349, 102 SW 1013. Association having no initiatory ceremony and no ritualistic form of work, and into which members were admitted by simply paying required amount of dues, held not fraternal benefit association within provisions of act March 8, 1879 (Laws 1879, p. 65), but an accident insurance company, so that rights of insured were to be determined by contract of insurance solely. Young v. Railway Mail Ass'n [Mo. App.] 103 SW 557.

27. Where society was authorized to pay certain sum weekly or monthly to any member "disabled by sickness or other disability," held that provision in contract and by-laws that he should be paid half amount to which beneficiary would be entitled on his death, in case of total and permanent disability, "or upon reaching the age of seventy years," would be construed as authorizing payment when permanent total disability should ensue, of which reaching age of seventy years should be conclusive evidence, so that contract was not ultra vires though agreement to pay absolutely at age of seventy would have been. Guthrie v. Supreme Tent Knights of Maccabees [Cal. App.] 87 P 405. Even if agreement to pay member benefit on arriving at age of 70 was ultra vires when made, held that objection was removed by reincorporation of association under Laws 1893, p. 186, No. 119, authorizing payment of benefits in case of old age, and adoption of by-law providing for payment of such benefits. Wineland v. Knights of Maccabees, 148 Mich. 698, 14 Det. Leg. N. 345 112 NW 696. Held that, after lapse of ten years from reincorporation of association, it was too late for one then a member to insist that certificates then in existence should be treated otherwise than if they had been issued after such reincorporation, particularly where he was insisting that provision of his contract ultra vires originally was binding because of increased powers granted by act under which reincorporation was alleged to have taken place. Id. Rev. Laws 1905, §§ 1594, 1703, held to prohibit sale of endowments by fraternal beneficiary associations. National Protective Legion v. O'Brien [Minn.] 112 NW 1050. Contract agreeing to pay dividends or "maturity benefits" to living members not under disability, incidents of which were to pay small disability benefits as loan and an insignificant death benefit, for a flat premium, held sale of endowments. Id.

28. For applicability of statutes relating to particular rights or remedies under the contract of insurance, see §§ 5-9, post. In Missouri it is the terms of the contract and not nature of society which determines whether exemptions from general insurance laws in favor of fraternal benefit associations apply, and hence such an association executing contract not authorized by statute relating to such associations is not entitled to such exemptions. Wilson v. General Assembly of American Benev. Ass'n, 125 Mo. App. 597, 103 SW 109.

29. Amendment restricting classes of persons who might be designated as beneficiaries held valid and binding on one who became member after its adoption. Sturges v. Sturges [Ky.] 102 SW 884.

30. For right to amend constitution and by-laws with respect to insurance con-

the laws, when authorized, must be adopted in the manner prescribed.<sup>31</sup> Authority conferred on a committee to revise the constitution and laws of the order gives it no power to propose wholly new provisions.<sup>32</sup> A revised constitution adopted without compliance with the requirements of the old constitution as to the procedure in such cases is invalid.<sup>33</sup>

The by-laws of an incorporated association must be reasonable,<sup>34</sup> but those of a purely voluntary, unincorporated association, if not illegal, immoral, or contrary to public policy, have been held to be binding on its members whether reasonable or not.<sup>35</sup> By-laws otherwise valid are binding on a member though he was not present at the meeting at which they were adopted and was insane at the time.<sup>36</sup>

The journal of the proceedings of the representative body of an association is presumed to be correct, and entries therein cannot be overcome by the parol testimony of members.<sup>37</sup> Ordinarily, the minutes must be taken to import that the proceedings were regular and that all of the ordinary and customary incidents necessary to the validity of the action recorded duly transpired.<sup>38</sup>

Questions relating purely to the internal management of the affairs of the corporation must, within reasonable limits, be decided by the legislative boards or bodies created by it for that purpose.<sup>39</sup>

Status of local lodges and their relation to supreme body. See 7 C. L. 1779—Where a question of discipline only is involved, a suspended subordinate branch must ordinarily exhaust its remedies within the organization before recourse can be had to tracts, and effect of such amendments, see § 5F, post. Both general incorporation act under which defendant was incorporated, and fraternal beneficiary act under which it did business, held to authorize amendment abolishing life membership in supreme council. Pond v. Royal League, 127 Ill. App. 476. Where by-laws provided that new laws might be adopted by two-thirds vote, held that law so adopted creating compulsory insurance department, requiring payment of $1 per month by all members except certain aged and disabled ones, and providing that those failing to pay should no longer meet with the lodge, was reasonable and valid, original by-laws having provided for benefits, etc. Ward v. David & Jonathan Lodge [Miss.] 43 S 302.

31. Where evidence showed that amendment to by-laws was adopted at stated meeting at which many of the members were present, and was passed by many more votes of those present than was necessary in order to make it valid, held that it would be presumed that it was regularly proposed by member in good standing as required by laws of order, and that it devolved on one claiming contrary to prove it. Maxwell v. Theatrical Mechanical Ass'n, 54 Misc. 619, 104 NYS 815. Governing body of association which has not adopted representative form of government, as required by Acts 1897, p 266, c. 47, § 1, is without power to adopt edict or by-law changing terms or obligations of certificate theretofore issued. Lange v. Royal Highlanders [Neb.] 110 NW 1110, former opinion, [Neb.] 106 NW 224. Attack on such edict or by-law on that ground held not to amount to collateral attack on right of society to transact business. Id.

32. Confers no authority to originate and propose, without notice required for amendments generally, the abolition of laws and constitution. National Council v. State Council, 27 App. D. C. 1.

33. Bill in equity by national council to compel state council to surrender its charter and to enjoin it from acting thereunder, on ground that said charter has been revoked by national judiciary, will not lie where said national judiciary was created under revised constitution not validly adopted. National Council v. State Council, 27 App. D. C. 1. Adoption of revised constitution held in disregard of provisions of old constitution and hence invalid. Id.

34. For reasonableness of by-laws and amendments as affecting existing contracts, see § 5F, post.

35. Maxwell v. Theatrical Mechanical Ass'n, 54 Misc. 619, 104 NYS 815.

36. Action of society in raising assessments, if legal and reasonable, where he agreed to be bound by laws thereafter adopted. Conner v. Supreme Commandery Golden Cross, 117 Tenn. 549, 97 SW 306.

37. Cannot be overcome by vague impressions of witnesses as to result of certain vote. National Council v. State Council, 27 App. D. C. 1.

38. Statement in minutes that motion that report of committee be agreed to and revised laws adopted "was agreed to" held to import only that quorum was present and that majority voted in favor of motion, and not that motion was carried by two-thirds vote of members present as required by constitution. National Council v. State Council, 27 App. D. C. 1.

39. Question as to increase of assessments, in which regard by-laws were subject to amendment under general reserve power. Meek v. Supreme Council Royal Arcanum, 121 App. Div. 474, 106 NYS 155.

the civil courts.<sup>40</sup> An attempted withdrawal of a local body is ineffective unless in compliance with the laws of the order.<sup>41</sup> A minority of the members of a local lodge remaining faithful to the order on the withdrawal of the majority generally continue to constitute the local lodge.<sup>42</sup> The liability of the supreme body for injuries inflicted on a member during his initiation depends on whether the persons conducting the initiation are acting as its agents.<sup>43</sup> The relation of the local lodge and its officers to the supreme body as affecting questions of waiver and estoppel in relation to contracts of insurance is treated in a subsequent section.<sup>44</sup>

§ 2. Foreign associations. See 7 C. L. 1780.—Foreign fraternal benefit associations stand on the same footing as other foreign corporations.<sup>45</sup> A license to do business in the state,<sup>46</sup> and a compliance with its laws regulating such associations,<sup>47</sup> is generally required. The doctrine of comity does not extend so far as to concede to them powers which their own charters do not permit them to exercise, nor to permit a foreign association to exercise powers within the state which a domestic corporation is not permitted to exercise under the laws or policy of the state.<sup>48</sup> Service of process,<sup>49</sup> and venue<sup>50</sup> in actions against foreign associations, are treated elsewhere.

40. Application for writ of mandamus to reinstate subordinate lodge, which had been suspended by chief officer of the organization under its rule with approval of executive council after a hearing, denied, notwithstanding irregularities of procedure, no property rights or money demands being involved, and lodge not having exhausted its right of appeal within the organization. Grant v. Ancient Order of Forresters [N. J. Law] 66 A. 902.

41. Attempted dissolution and withdrawal of subordinate court held ineffective in view of provision in constitution and laws of order prohibiting withdrawals except as provided therein. Sabourin v. Lippe [Mass.] 81 NE 282. Action of grand court, after attempted withdrawal, in recognizing plaintiffs as still constituting subordinate court and in granting them new dispensation, held not to have worked dissolution of subordinate court but to have left it in continued existence, in view of provisions of laws of order to effect that, if fifteen members remained loyal to order, they should be recognized as still constituting court and dispensation to that effect should be issued. Id. Where laws of subordinate court provided that they could not be annulled or amended without previous notice, held that attempted withdrawal from order without notice was ineffectual. Id. Notice of matters to be considered at meeting held insufficient as notice that question of secession would be considered. Id.

42. Where attempted dissolution of subordinate court was ineffective, and all officers withdrew and abandoned their offices and transferred their support to new organization, to which they attempted to transfer property of court, held that loyal members could reorganize and elect officers to take their places, and that officers so elected represented court and could sue to recover its property. Sabourin v. Lippe [Mass.] 81 NE 282.

43. Evidence held to support finding that officers and members of subordinate lodge were following directions of ritual and were acting as lawfully constituted agents of supreme body, within the scope of the authority vested in them, so as to render supreme body liable for injuries inflicted on plaintiff. Thompson v. Supreme Tent of Knights of the Maccabees [N. Y.] 82 NE 141, revg. 100 NYS 1145. By-laws held not to be construed as relieving supreme body from liability, even if such a by-law would be valid. Id.

44. See § 5H, post.

45. National Council, J. O. A. Mechanics v. State Council, J. O. U. A. Mech., 203 U. S. 151, 51 Law. Ed. 132. See Foreign Corporations, 9 C. L. 1395.

46. To receive benefit of laws and rules of construction relating to certificates issued by fraternal benefit associations, must plead and prove that it has been admitted to do business in state in manner prescribed by Rev. St. 1899, § 1410. Gruwell v. National Council of K. & L. of S. [Mo. App.] 104 SW 884. In absence of such proof, held that defendant's contract was to be considered as one of regular insurance, regardless of fact that it indicated on its face that it was issued by fraternal beneficiary society. Id.

47. Foreign association having paid agents in violation of Burns' Ann. St. 1901, § 5050k, and of its own charter, held not entitled to writ of mandamus to compel auditor to grant it license to do business in state. State v. Bigler [Ind.] 82 NE 464. Foreign association held to have violated Burns' Ann. St. 1901, § 5050a, requiring associations to have lodge system with ritualistic form of work, and writ of mandamus to compel auditor to grant it license to do business in state denied. Id. To receive benefit of laws and rules of construction relating to certificates issued by fraternal beneficiary associations, foreign association must plead and prove that it possesses qualifications of such societies as prescribed by Rev. St. 1899, § 1408. Gruwell v. National Council of K. & L. of S. [Mo. App.] 104 SW 884.

48. Writ of mandamus to compel auditor to license foreign association denied where it did not have lodge system with ritualistic form of work as required by Burns' Ann. St. 1901, § 5050a, and employed

§ 3. Officers, agents, organizers, physicians, etc.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1781</sup>—Statutes in some states forbid the employment of paid agents.<sup>51</sup> Officers of subordinate lodges are generally held to be the agents of the supreme body in the performance of their official duties.<sup>52</sup> Directors of an insolvent association disposing of its assets in violation of its laws are personally liable for resulting losses to beneficiaries.<sup>53</sup>

§ 4. Members and discipline.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1782</sup>—Expulsions and suspensions as affecting the right to benefits are treated in subsequent sections.<sup>54</sup> The procedure for the expulsion of members is generally prescribed by the laws of the order.<sup>55</sup> The member is generally entitled to notice and an opportunity to be heard.<sup>56</sup> Mandamus is the proper remedy to effect the restoration of a member who has been irregularly expelled.<sup>57</sup> Where the tribunal appointed to try a member has jurisdiction, its members are not personally liable for acts committed in their judicial capacity,<sup>58</sup> and, where there is probable cause for the prosecution, the members instituting it are not liable for malicious prosecution or conspiracy.<sup>59</sup>

Arbitration of disputes.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1783</sup>—Provisions requiring an expelled member to exhaust his remedies within the order before appealing to the courts are generally held to be valid if reasonable.<sup>60</sup> The validity and effect of agreements to arbitrate paid agents in violation of Id., § 5050k, and its own charter provisions, though it was doing business in state at time of enactment of said statutes. State v. Bigler [Ind.] 82 NE 464.

49. See Process, 8 C. L. 1449.

50. See Venue and Place of Trial, 8 C. L. 2236.

51. Foreign association having paid agents in violation of Burns' Ann. St. 1901, § 5050k, and of its own charter, held not entitled to writ of mandamus to compel auditor to grant it license to do business in state. State v. Bigler [Ind.] 82 NE 464.

52. For discussion of this subject as affecting waiver and estoppel in regard to insurance contracts, see § 5H, post. Medical examiner and worthy recorder held agents of society while performing duties incumbent on them by virtue of their respective positions as to matters embraced in or relating to such duties. Modern Order of Praetorians v. Hollmig [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 969, 103 SW 474, revd. on other grounds [Tex.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 806, 103 SW 476.

53. Where directors of insolvent society, whose by-laws required payment of benefits out of fund collected for that purpose, acting in good faith, for best interests of association, and under direction of stockholders, transferred entire assets of association, including realty, bonds, etc., in which said fund was invested, to another similar association without first paying benefit liability which had been reduced to judgment, though there were sufficient funds for that purpose on hand, held that they were guilty of breach of duty imposed on them by by-laws, and were personally liable to beneficiary for amount of his judgment. Harvey v. Wasson, 74 Kan. 489, 87 P 720.

54. See §§ 5E, G, H, post.

55. Upon filing of complaint, in accordance with by-laws, alleging violation of regulation of order, held that lodge possessed power to determine, in first instance, matter in issue and to expel member if found guilty. Moon v. Flack [N. H.] 65 A 829. Contract of membership and member's acquiescence in and practical submission to committee appointed to try him held waiver of any valid objection he might have had to it as judicial board. Id.

56. Expulsion from association having benefit fund in which members are entitled to participate is quasi judicial proceeding affecting members' property rights of which accused member is entitled to have specific notice, and an opportunity to be heard in his defense upon a specified charge. Byrne v. Supreme Circle Brotherhood of the Union [N. J. Law] 65 A 839. Expulsion without notice or hearing held unauthorized. Id. Expulsion held illegal. Venezia v. Italian Mut. Benev. Soc. [N. J. Law] 65 A 898.

57. Member expelled without hearing. Venezia v. Italian Mut. Benev. Soc. [N. J. Law] 65 A 898. Expelled member held entitled to alternative writ of mandamus, though it appeared that he had, so far as formal procedure was concerned, been removed in method prescribed by constitution and laws of the order where there was a controversy as to facts involving right to remove him. People v. Independent Order Brith Abraham, 116 App. Div. 364, 101 NYS 866.

58. Officers appointing committee, and committee appointed to try member, held not personally liable though their acts were irregular and reprehensible, and though member was reinstated on appeal to grand lodge. Moon v. Flack [N. H.] 65 A 829.

59. Threat by one member to kill another held probable cause for latter to believe that former was guilty of "improper conduct" or conduct "unbecoming" a member within meaning of by-law providing for expulsion of members so offending. Moon v. Flack [N. H.] 65 A 829. Members instituting proceedings for expulsion because of said threat held not liable for conspiracy to procure his expulsion without having probable cause to believe him guilty of an offense justifying expulsion, though they were hostile to him and confederated together to procure his expulsion. Id.

60. Where there was ample provision for appeals within order, members who trate matters relating to insurance contracts, or to submit them to the tribunals of the order, are treated in a subsequent section.<sup>61</sup>

§ 5. The contract of insurance. A. General nature, requisites, and formation.
See 7 C. L. 1783.—Parol contracts of insurance are valid unless forbidden by statute or the laws of the order.<sup>62</sup> So, too, a certificate of membership is not indispensable to the completion of the contract unless the rules of the society expressly provide to the contrary.<sup>63</sup> Conditions precedent to membership must be complied with before the contract becomes effective,<sup>64</sup> but a failure to deliver the certificate before the member's death does not preclude recovery where it is due to the negligence of the association, though it would otherwise have that effect.<sup>65</sup>

The constitution and by-laws of the association generally form a part of the contract<sup>66</sup> and are often expressly made so by reference.<sup>67</sup> In some states they cannot be so considered unless a copy thereof is contained in, or attached to, the certificate.<sup>68</sup>

Statutory provisions requiring conditions and provisions in insurance policies to be printed in certain sized type or written with pen and ink in or on the policy have were denied privileges of membership for failure to take out lodge insurance policy in accordance with by-law creating compulsory insurance department held to have no standing in court to procure reinstatement until they had exhausted remedies so provided. Ward v. David & Jonathan Lodge, No. 1,976, G. U. O. O. F. [Miss.] 43 S 302.

61. See § 10, post.

62. Where agreement has been entered into and completed except as to the issuance of a certificate or policy. Knights of Maccabees of the World v. Gordon [Ark.] 102 SW 711.

63. In absence of certificate, may look to by-laws to determine obligations of society existing by reason of a good standing membership therein, and, in absence of express provision therein that certificate is essential, by-laws and existence of good standing membership may alone be regarded as constituting valid contract for doing of anything for which society is bound by by-laws to members. Social Benev. Soc. No. 1 v. Holmes, 127 Ga. 586, 56 SE 775. Failure to allege issuance of certificate held not to render petition subject to general demurrer. Id. Allegations showing that deceased was entitled to certificate of insurance for benefit of plaintiff, supported by evidence, held sufficient to support judgment for amount of such insurance in her favor. Knights of Maccabees of the World v. Gordon [Ark.] 102 SW 711.

64. Constitution and laws of order providing that membership should not be complete until applicant should have been obligated or initiated held part of contract, so that there was no liability where member died before complying with them. Supreme Lodge Knights & Ladies of Honor v. Johnson [Ark.] 99 SW 834. "Adoption" or initiation held condition precedent to complete membership, and hence to liability on certificate, unless waived. Bruner v. Brotherhood of American Yeomen [Iowa] 111 NW 977. Held no contract where applicant did not comply with regulations of order and his application was not passed on by medical examiner until after his death, when it was rejected. Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen v. Hand [Miss.] 44 S 161.

65. Applicant had conformed to all requirements of order entitling him to certificate and offered to pay first assessment, which was due when certificate was delivered. Application was approved and certificate issued, but through mistake was sent to wrong local lodge for delivery, and applicant died before he actually received it. Held that beneficiary was entitled to recover, though application and laws of order provided that liability should not begin until certificate had been delivered to member personally while he was in good health and until he had paid one assessment. Sovereign Camp, Woodmen of the World v. Dees [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 982, 100 SW 366.

66. Whether formally incorporated into it or not. Fraternities Acc. Order v. Armstrong, 106 Va. 746, 56 SE 565. Regulations of relief association, together with application for membership and certificate, constitute contract, and must be read and construed together. Chicago, B. & Q. R. Co. v. Hendricks, 125 Ill. App. 580.

67. By-law making payment of permanent disability benefit dependent upon member being destitute of means of support on arriving at age of expectancy held binding on member, it having been enacted before he joined society, and incorporated in contract, and he having had knowledge of it when he joined. Donnelly v. Supreme Council Catholic Benev. Legion [Md.] 67 A. 276. Stipulation in certificate that it should be subject to forfeiture for any of causes prescribed in laws of order held to make laws relating to forfeiture then in force part of contract. Gruwell v. National Council of K & L of S. [Mo. App.] 104 SW 884.

68. St. 1903, § 679, held not to prescribe mere rule of evidence, but to determine what constitutes contract between the parties, and hence where loss occurred and action was brought on certificate prior to enactment of act March 24, 1906, providing that said section should not apply to secret or fraternal societies, society could not rely on said amendment, contract rights of beneficiary having become fixed on member's death, and state having no right to impair them. American Guild v. Wyatt, 30 Ky. L. R. 632, 100 SW 266.

been held not to apply to provisions or conditions contained in the by-laws of mutual benefit associations.<sup>69</sup>

(§ 5) B. General rules of construction. See 7 C. L. 1784.—The ordinary rules for the construction of written contracts apply.<sup>70</sup> In case of ambiguity the contract will be construed liberally in favor of the insured and strictly against the insurer.<sup>71</sup> Where two constructions, equally reasonable, are possible, that should be adopted which will enable the beneficiary to recover<sup>72</sup> or which will not impair the indemnity.<sup>73</sup> A construction sustaining the contract will be preferred to one rendering it invalid<sup>74</sup> or which will result in a forfeiture.<sup>75</sup> The provisions of the certificate control over conflicting provisions in the application.<sup>76</sup>

(§ 5) C. Risk assumed and benefit promised. See 7 C. L. 1785.—It is sometimes provided that no recovery can be had or that the amount to be paid shall be reduced in case death is caused or superinduced at the hands of justice,<sup>77</sup> or in the violation of, or an attempt to violate, any criminal law,<sup>78</sup> or in case the member engages in certain prohibited occupations,<sup>79</sup> or becomes so intemperate as to impair his health,<sup>80</sup> or commits suicide while sane or insane.<sup>81</sup> There is a conflict of authority as to the

69. Code 1904, § 3252, held not to apply, since by-laws are part of contract whether expressly made so or not. Fraternities Acc Order v. Armstrong, 106 Va. 746, 56 SE 565.

70. Construed exactly as other contracts. Modern Woodmen of America v. Vincent [Ind. App.] 82 NE 475, 80 NE 427.

71. Grand Legion of Ill., Select K. of A. v. Beatty, 224 Ill. 346, 79 NE 565, afg. 117 Ill. App. 657. Construction most favorable to insured in order to indemnify him for loss sustained. Switchmen's Union of North America v. Colehouse, 227 Ill. 561, 81 NE 696. Any doubt arising upon face of contract as to its meaning is to be resolved in favor of insured. Lewis v. Brotherhood Acc. Co. [Mass.] 79 NE 892. By-laws to be liberally construed in favor of insured to prevent forfeiture. Morgan v. Independent Order of Sons & Daughters of Jacob [Miss.] 44 S 791. Health certificate should be so construed as to resolve all doubts and ambiguities in favor of insured. Merriman v. Grand Lodge, Degree of Honor [Neb.] 110 NW 302.

72. Grand Legion of Ill., Select K. of A. v. Beatty, 224 Ill. 346, 79 NE 565, afg. 117 Ill. App. 657. Constitution and by-laws of a relief association should be liberally construed so as to effect its benevolent purpose rather than defeat it. Starnes v. Atlanta Police Relief Ass'n [Ga. App.] 58 SE 481.

73. Switchmen's Union of North America v. Colehouse, 227 Ill. 561, 81 NE 696.

74. Guthrie v. Supreme Tent Knights of Maccabees [Cal. App.] 87 P 405.

75. Starnes v. Atlanta Police Relief Ass'n [Ga. App.] 58 SE 481.

76. Provision in certificate making it incontestable after two years held to control provision in application avoiding it if member committed suicide within three years from date of his initiation. Harr v. Highland Nobles [Neb.] 110 NW 713.

77. Killing by husband of wife's paramour, even though it was justifiable homicide, held not at the hands of justice either punitive or preventive, within meaning of policy or of Civ. Code 1895, § 2118. Supreme Lodge, K. of P. v. Crenshaw [Ga.] 58 SE 628.

78. Where insured was shot by husband of woman with whom he had committed, or was about to commit, adultery, held that his death was not caused or superinduced in violation of, or attempt to violate, any criminal law, his death not being natural and legitimate consequence of the adultery itself. Supreme Lodge, K. of P. v. Crenshaw [Ga.] 58 SE 628. Where insured shot and killed another person in self-defense and was himself shot and killed by latter, held that he did not die in consequence of a duel, or of violation or attempted violation of laws of the state. Woodmen of the World v. Walters, 30 Ky. L. R. 916, 99 SW 930. Evidence held to support finding that insured was not the aggressor, but that he acted in self-defense. Id. Evidence held to justify finding that insured was not attempting to kill another person when he was himself killed, and hence that he did not meet death while in violation or attempted violation of laws of state. Woodmen of the World v. Torrence [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 565, 103 SW 652.

79. Decedent held saloonkeeper within meaning of policy. Solomon v. American Guild [Ala.] 44 S 387. Evidence held to show that insured engaged in saloon business, so that beneficiary could not recover. Mutual Protective League v. Langsdorf, 126 Ill. App. 572.

80. Evidence held insufficient to sustain defense. Sovereign Camp, Woodmen of the World v. Boehme [Tex. Civ. App.] 97 SW 847.

81. One who intentionally takes his own life by administering to himself a poisonous drug, being of sufficient mental capacity to comprehend nature and consequences of act, commits deliberate suicide. Zearfoss v. Switchmen's Union of North America [Minn.] 112 NW 1044. Where by-laws relieved insurer from liability in case member committed suicide while sane or insane, held that evidence that member came to his death while insane, and that his mind was in such a condition of insanity and frenzy that he was not aware of physical consequences of his act if he took his own life, was properly excluded. Kieswetter v. Supreme Tent, Knights of Maccabees, 227 Ill. 48, 81 NE 19, afg. 112 Ill. App. 48. Evieffect of suicide while sane when the contract contains no provisions on the subject.<sup>82</sup> In Missouri fraternal beneficiary associations are exempt from the operation of the statute providing that suicide shall not be a defense to an action on an insurance policy unless it was procured in contemplation of suicide.<sup>83</sup> There is a presumption against suicide, and the burden of proving it is on the insurer.<sup>84</sup>

Provision is sometimes made for the payment of benefits in case of permanent and total disability<sup>85</sup> rendering the insured unable to carry on his vocation or calling,<sup>86</sup> or for a weekly indemnity while he is entirely and continuously confined to his bed through sickness.<sup>87</sup> A provision that no liability for any second claim for any sickness shall attach until a specified time after payment of the previous claim has been held not to apply to a claim for a second sickness not the same as, and not traceable to, a former sickness.<sup>88</sup>

gence held to show suicide. Id.; Zearfoss v. Switchmen's Union of North America [Minn.] 112 NW 1044. Evidence held not to show as matter of law that member committed suicide, but to make question for jury. Rohloff v. Aid Ass'n for Lutherans, 130 Wis. 61, 109 NW 989. Evidence held insufficient to show suicide. Sovereign Camp Woodmen of the World v. Bridges [Ind. T.] 104 SW 672. Evidence held sufficient to sustain finding that member did not commit suicide. Markham v. Supreme Ct., I. O. F. [Neb.] 110 NW 638; Sovereign Camp of Woodmen of the World v. Boehme [Tex. Civ. App.] 97 SW 847.

82. Illinois: Does not defeat right of wife named as beneficiary to recover. Grand Legion of Ill., Select K. of A. v. Beaty, 224 Ill. 346, 79 NE 565, afg. 117 Ill. App. 657.

Massachusetts: Can be no recovery even though third person, and not member's estate, is named as beneficiary, there being an implied exception in such case. Davis v. Supreme Council Royal Arcanum [Mass.] 81 NE 294.

Nebraska: Will not defeat recovery if certificate was not procured with intention of committing suicide. Lange v. Royal Highlanders [Neb.] 110 NW 1110, former opinion, 106 NW 224.

83. By-laws and application provided for forfeiture in case of suicide, and application provided that laws in force at member's death should govern. Defendant was foreign corporation, and was not licensed to do business as fraternal society in state until shortly after contract in suit was made, but member continued to pay assessments after license was obtained. Rev. St. 1899, § 7896, restricting right to plead suicide as defense, is made inapplicable to fraternal societies by act of 1897. Held that § 7896 was not part of contract, but merely affected right to plead suicide as defense, and that if provisions of application and by-laws against suicide were not effective when contract was made they became so when defendant obtained license. Schmidt v. United Order of Foresters [Mo. App.] 101 SW 625. Defendant held fraternal beneficiary association within meaning of Rev. St. 1899, §§ 1408-1423, and hence not subject to § 7896. Tice v. Supreme Lodge, K. of P., 123 Mo. App. 85, 100 SW 519, afg. 204 Mo. 349, 102 SW 1013.

84. See § 10, post.

85. Total disability does not mean absolute physical disability to transact any kind of business pertaining to his occupation, but it exists though he is able to perform few occasional acts if he is unable to do any substantial portion of work connected with his occupation. Foglesong v. Modern Brotherhood of America, 121 Mo. App. 548, 97 SW 240. Where plaintiff was unable to do all substantial and material acts necessary to be done in his business of farming, held that fact that he was able to direct business to some extent and to do some of work did not preclude recovery for total disability. Id. Where by-laws provided that any member suffering certain specified injuries, or who should become totally blind, should be considered totally disabled and entitled to receive full amount of his certificate, "like-wise any physical disability that may permanently disqualify a member from performing the duties of a switchman," held that member who lost one eye and was thereby totally disabled from performing duties of switchman was entitled to recover for total disability. Switchmen's Union of North America v. Colehouse, 227 Ill. 561, 21 NE 696. Where by-laws provided for payment of half amount of certificate if member should become permanently and totally disabled, and provided that such disability should include "insanity so adjudged by the courts," held that insanity did not authorize recovery until member had been adjudged insane by court in proceeding instituted for that purpose. Knipp v. United Benev. Ass'n [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 270, 101 SW 273.

86. "Permanent and total disability" rendering member "unable to carry on or conduct any vocation or calling" held to refer to calling or vocation in which he was engaged when disabled, and not to mean inability to carry on any vocation whatever. Foglesong v. Modern Brotherhood of America, 121 Mo. App. 548, 97 SW 240.

87. Insured held "entirely and continuously confined to bed" where he was confined to his bed the greater portion of every day, though he was up and out of house a part of the time. Hays v. General Assembly American Benev. Ass'n [Mo. App.] 104 SW 1141.

88. Hays v. General Assembly American Benev. Ass'n [Mo. App.] 104 SW 1141.

Contracts of accident insurance generally provide for an indemnity for death resulting solely from injuries received through external, violent, and accidental means,<sup>89</sup> leaving visible marks on the body.<sup>90</sup> The insurer is frequently exempted from liability for injuries to which the member's own negligence contributed.<sup>91</sup> The amount to be paid is sometimes reduced where the facts and circumstances surrounding the accident and injury are not established by the testimony of an eyewitness.<sup>92</sup>

(§ 5) D. Conditions, warranties, and representations.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1787.</sup>—A warranty is a promise, usually collateral to the principal contract, but not necessarily so.<sup>93</sup> In the absence of a statutory provision to the contrary,<sup>94</sup> a false warranty avoids the policy whether material to the risk or not,<sup>95</sup> while misrepresentations

89. To recover on such a certificate, plaintiff must show that insured received an accidental injury, and that death resulted from such injury alone. National Ass'n of R. Postal Clerks v. Scott [C. C. A.] 155 F 92. There being no direct proof of any accidental injury, held that court should have directed verdict for defendant. Id.

90. Provision making external marks of contusion or wounds upon body condition of right to recover in case of death held not to apply to case of death by drowning. Lewis v. Brotherhood Acc. Co. [Mass.] 79 NE 802.

91. Member injured while attempting to board moving freight train by climbing up iron ladder on side of car held not entitled to recover. Garcelon v. Commercial Travelers' Eastern Acc. Ass'n [Mass.] 81 NE 201. Fact that commercial travelers in vicinity were accustomed to take like risks held immaterial. Id.

92. Provision requires that enough must be testified to by an eye witness to show operating cause of injury, or at least to show that at time of injury there was an operating cause to which accident may be fairly attributed, and to indicate in general way the nature of that cause and the manner of its working. Lewis v. Brotherhood Acc. Co. [Mass.] 79 NE 802. Facts and circumstances held established by eyewitnesses within meaning of policy, in case where insured was drowned. Id.

93. Modern Woodmen of America v. Vincent [Ind. App.] 82 NE 475, 80 NE 427. Statement in application as to age of applicant held warranty. Krause v. Modern Woodmen of America, 133 Iowa, 199, 110 NW 452.

94. Code, § 1813, prohibiting forfeiture on ground of misstatement as to age unless policy has been procured by fraud in fact, but authorizing insured to collect difference between premium paid and that which would have been collected had true age been given, held not applicable to fraternal benefit societies as defined by id. § 1822. Krause v. Modern Woodmen of America, 133 Iowa, 241, 110 NW 452. Section held to cover all cases where association or company has power to insure person to whom policy or certificate is issued. Id. Allegations of answer held insufficient to put in issue allegations of petition that defendant was life insurance and beneficial society, and hence demurrer to answer setting up breach of warranty on ground that it was not alleged that insured knew that statement as to age was false was properly sustained. Id. Claim that contract was ultra vires, and hence that statute was inapplicable, because member was in fact forty-seven years of age, though he stated that he was forty-four, and by-laws prohibited insurance of anyone over forty-five, held untenable, since Code, § 1789, authorizes assessment companies to insure persons between sixteen and forty-five, and there was no presumption that articles of incorporation were like by-laws, and no allegation as to provisions of articles, and provisions of by-laws could be waived. Id. Held that difference in rate of premium, if any, could be taken into account in determining amount of indemnity to which beneficiary was entitled. Id. Terms of contract and not nature of society determine whether exemptions from general insurance laws in favor of fraternal benefit associations apply, and hence association executing contract not authorized by statute relating to such associations is not entitled to such exemptions. Wilson v. General Assembly of American Benev. Ass'n, 125 Mo. App. 597, 103 SW 109. Where contract designated member's legal representative as beneficiary, though such designation was not authorized by Rev. St. 1899, § 2823, in force when certificate was issued, or § 1408, in force at member's death, held that § 7890, providing that no misrepresentation shall avoid policy unless matter misrepresented actually contributes to contingency or event on which policy is to become due and payable, applied notwithstanding fact that § 1408 exempts fraternal benefit associations from operation of general insurance laws. Id. Sess. Laws 1899, p. 195, c. 115, § 1, construed, and held that Rev. St. 1895, art. 3096aa, providing that any provision in contract of insurance that untrue answers or statements in application shall render contract void or voidable shall be of no effect and shall be no defense to action on policy unless it is shown that matter or thing misrepresented contributed to risk, etc., does not apply to fraternal and beneficiary associations. Modern Order of Praetorians v. Hollmig [Tex.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 806, 103 SW 476, rvg. [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 969, 103 SW 474.

95. Warranties must be literally fulfilled. Court of Honor v. Clark, 125 Ill. App. 490. Statement in application as to age held warranty. Krause v. Modern Woodmen of America, 133 Iowa, 199, 110 NW 452. Where answers in application which was made part of certificate were made warranties, held that their truthfulness was condition precehave that effect only if intentionally false and material to the risk.<sup>96</sup> Warranties are not favored, and, in case of doubt, statements in the application will be deemed representations rather than warranties.<sup>97</sup>

The contract generally provides that it shall be void if the insured makes false statements as to his age<sup>98</sup> or the condition of his health.<sup>99</sup>

(§ 5) E. Dues and assessments. See 7 C. L. 1789.—It is generally provided that the insurance shall be forfeited in case dues and assessments are not paid when due.<sup>1</sup> A valid tender within the time prescribed is sufficient.<sup>2</sup> Notice of assessments must be given when the contract requires it, and in the manner and form prescribed.<sup>3</sup> Where no method of payment is prescribed, payment in accordance with an established custom precludes forfeiture.<sup>4</sup> Payment made to a person

dent to enforcement of contract, so that certificate was void if answer was false whether matter was material to risk or not. Modern Woodmen of America v. Angle [Mo. App.] 104 SW 297. Answer as to when and for what insured had previously consulted physician held material to risk. Id.

96. Held incumbent on defendant to defeat recovery because of false misrepresentations to show that they were fraudulent. Court of Honor v. Clark, 125 Ill. App. 490.

97. Declarations of deceased in application as to her condition of health held representations, though word "warrant" was used. Court of Honor v. Clark, 125 Ill. App. 490.

98. Evidence held to support finding that member did not misrepresent his age in application. Edmonds v. Modern Woodmen of America, 125 Mo. App. 214, 102 SW 601. Misstatements as to age, whether regarded as warranties or misrepresentations, held to have worked forfeiture, they being material to risk and having been conclusively made so by express agreement that certificate should be void and all payments thereunder forfeited if they were untrue. Elliott v. Knights of Modern Maccabees [Wash.] 89 P. 929. Charge assuming that because a husband acted for his wife in applying for membership for both himself and his wife any false representations which he may have made with reference to his own age, etc., affected equally membership of his wife, held erroneous. Schwartz v. St. Elizabeth Roman & Greek Catholic Union, 9 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 337.

99. Is not false representation for married woman to sign health certificate stating that she is in sound bodily health when she is pregnant, if certificate is otherwise true. Merriman v. Grand Lodge, Degree of Honor [Neb.] 110 NW 302. Certificate held simply warranty that applicant was in sound bodily health when she signed it. Id. Married woman is not bound to inform company that issues policies on lives of married women of evidence of pregnancy discovered after her physical examination and application and before final approval of application. Id. Intentionally false answer to question whether applicant had ever had disease of insanity held to preclude recovery. Mudge v. Supreme Ct., I. O. P. [Mich.] 14 Det. Leg. N. 515, 112 NW 1120. Evidence held to establish insured's previous insanity and his knowledge and fraudulent concealment of same. Id. Where policy and physician's certificate were sufficient to show breach of contract, failure of defendant to offer by-laws in evidence held not fatal to defense. Id. Where application made part of contract warranted that statements therein were true and accurately recorded by medical examiner, that no facts known to insured affecting risk were withheld, and contained agreement that false statement or suppression should forfeit all rights to benefits, held that false statements therein as to previous condition of health, and suppression of fact that insured had previously suffered from inflammatory rheumatism, which was indirect cause of his death, precluded recovery on certificate. Loehr v. Supreme Assembly, Equitable Fraternal Union [Wis.] 112 NW 441.

1. See § 5G, post, for full treatment of this question.

2. Where son had for some months paid father's dues to proper officer, who had accepted them, held that subsequent bona fide tender by son of dues to said officer, who positively refused to receive them, prevented forfeiture for nonpayment, it being unnecessary to repeat tender in such case. Starnes v. Atlanta Police Relief Ass'n [Ga. App.] 58 SE 481.

3. Under constitution of order, held that publication of notice in official organ did not dispense with necessity of sending notice to insured. Grand Legion of Ill. Select K. of A. v. Beaty, 224 Ill. 346, 79 NE 565, affg. 117 Ill. App. 657. Where by-laws provided that ex-members of police force should have thirty days after notice in which to pay assessments, held that association was bound to give notice before it could expel members for nonpayment. Lockney v. Police Beneficiary Ass'n, 217 Pa. 568, 66 A 844. Reading notice in police station held not notice to ex-members. Id. Posting notice on bulletin board in station house held not, as matter of law, notice to ex-members. Id. In absence of provision as to method of giving notice to ex-members, question whether custom to give such notice by posting copy of call for assessment on bulletin board in police station was sufficiently established to charge member with notice held for jury. Id. Custom to be binding must have existed so long as to have become generally known, and must be clearly and distinctly proved. Id.

4. Where it was custom of collecting of-other than the one designated to receive it will not prevent a suspension unless he pays the same over to the association within the time specified.<sup>5</sup> Payments should generally be applied to the oldest overdue premium.<sup>6</sup> A member cannot be regarded as in arrears until an advance payment made by him has been applied upon some assessment.<sup>7</sup>

(§ 5) F. Modification and alteration of contract or its terms. See 7 C. L. 1790—

A general agreement to be bound by regulations or by-laws subsequently adopted authorizes only such changes as are lawful,<sup>8</sup> and reasonable,<sup>9</sup> and as do not interfere with the vested rights of the member.<sup>10</sup> There is a conflict of authority as to whether it authorizes an increase in the assessment rate,<sup>11</sup> or the adoption of a by-

ficer to receive remittances at certain post office, which was designated as his address on his official stationery, held that remittance of assessment addressed to him at said office and reaching there on day it became due was payment of assessment preventing suspension of member and cancellation of certificate, though agent did not receive it until later owing to fact that he had changed his post office address without knowledge of member or beneficiary. Van-cura v. Zapadni Cesko Bratrská Zednota [Neb.] 111 NW 845.

5. Sending draft to former collector of lodge who had resigned held not payment to lodge, it not appearing that he paid same over to lodge. Supreme Lodge of Pathfinder v. Johnson [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 656, 104 SW 508.

6. Jury held to have properly applied payment to past due assessment, which parties mistakenly supposed had been paid rather than to subsequent ones. Munn v. Masonic Life Ass'n, 115 App. Div. 855, 101 NYS 91.

7. Where advance assessment is exacted prior to initiation. Trotter v. Grand Lodge of Iowa Legion of Honor, 132 Iowa, 513, 109 NW 1099.

8. Agreement that laws thereafter adopted should be basis of contract held to mean laws which association had right to adopt and not to authorize changes in rate of assessments which law of its organization did not permit. Wineland v. Knights of Maccabees of the World, 148 Mich. 608, 14 Det. Leg. N. 345, 112 NW 696. Association held to have no power, under law of its organization, to change provisions of contract as to assessments by amendment of by-laws. Id.

9. Binding if reasonable. Scow v. Supreme Council, Royal League, 223 Ill. 32, 79 NE 42. Must be reasonable. Wineland v. Knights of Maccabees of the World, 148 Mich. 608, 14 Det. Leg. N. 345, 112 NW 696; Olson v. Court of Honor, 100 Minn. 117, 110 NW 374. Subsequently enacted statute and by-laws providing that beneficiary must be within designated classes at time of member's death held to preclude recovery, though beneficiary was eligible when designated. Murphy v. Nowak, 223 Ill. 301, 79 NE 112, rev. 127 Ill. App. 125. Any amendment which entirely changes scheme of insurance and makes radical departure from fundamental plan is unreasonable. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Hendricks, 125 Ill. App. 580. Amendment requiring personal representative of deceased member of railroad employees' relief association to obtain releases of all claims for damages against railroad for member's death as condition precedent to right to recover benefits held unreasonable. Id. By-law limiting time within which action could be brought on certificate held invalid as to certificates issued before its promulgation. Attorney General v. Supreme Council A. L. H. [Mass.] 81 NE 966.

10. Is no vested right to have contract remain unchanged, if change is reasonable. Scow v. Supreme Council, Royal League, 223 Ill. 32, 79 NE 42. Vested rights cannot be impaired. Mock v. Supreme Council of Royal Arcanum, 121 App. Div. 474, 106 NYS 155.

Held valid: Where there was no provision exempting member entitled to benefit on reaching age of 70 from payment of assessment after reaching that age, amendment requiring continued payment of assessments as condition of receiving such benefit. Wineland v. Knights of Maccabees of the World, 148 Mich. 608, 14 Det. Leg. N. 345, 112 NW 696. Amendment requiring delinquent member to carry his own risk for 30 days after payment of arrearages. Maxwell v. Theatrical Mechanical Ass'n, 54 Misc. 619, 104 NYS 815.

Held void: Agreement held not to bind member to submit to an elimination of old age benefits provided for by contract but only to reasonable fixing of part of endowment which he should receive. Wineland v. Knights of Maccabees of the World, 148 Mich. 608, 14 Det. Leg. N. 345, 112 NW 696. Amendment avoiding certificates of those engaging in sale of intoxicating liquor at retail, there being originally no restrictions on occupation. Ayers v. Grand Lodge, A. O. U. W., 188 N. Y. 280, 80 NE 1020, aff. 109 App. Div. 919, 95 NYS 1112.

11. Provision for levying fewer assessments at increased rate, whether intended to procure same sum in different way or to increase contributions over present necessities and to accumulate a fund, held valid if reasonable and proportional, young and old alike contributing, it being lawful to increase number of assessments to meet demands from death of members. Wineland v. Knights of Maccabees of the World, 148 Mich. 608, 14 Det. Leg. N. 345, 112 NW 696. Increased assessments held not unreasonable in view of conditions. Id. Reasonable increase held not breach of contract and not to violate vested rights. Conner v. Supreme Commandery Golden Cross, 117 Tenn. 549, 97 SW 306. Increase held reasonable. Id. By-law providing that members of certain degree should pay same amount on each assessment thereafter while member of order held to mean simply that rate would not be increased except under rules and by-laws of the company, law providing for a forfeiture, or a decrease in the amount of benefits, in case of suicide.<sup>12</sup> In some states the reasonableness of an amendment to the by-laws of a purely voluntary unincorporated association cannot be inquired into.<sup>13</sup> Amendments within a reserved power to amend in a specified particular are valid.<sup>14</sup>

Changes will not ordinarily be deemed retroactive unless they so provide, either expressly or by necessary implication.<sup>15</sup>

(§ 5) G. Rescission, forfeiture, cancellation, and avoidance. See 1 C. L. 1792— Provision is generally made for a forfeiture of the contract for breach of warranty or misrepresentation,<sup>16</sup> and for a forfeiture or a suspension of a member for a failure to pay assessments when due,<sup>17</sup> or in case the member has been in default in and not to prevent raise in rates otherwise authorized, said degree being merely initiating degree. Id.

12. Subsequently enacted by-law limiting liability to half face value of certificate in case of suicide held reasonable and binding. Scow v. Supreme Council, Royal League, 223 Ill. 32, 79 NE 42. Certificate made suicide while sane or insane a defense, except that assessments paid would be returned, but constitution provided that after two years certificate should be incontestable except for certain specified causes of which suicide was not one. After member had paid assessments for more than two years society which had power under contract to make all reasonable changes, adopted by-law reducing amount to be paid in case member committed suicide. Held that by-law was invalid as to such certificate as impairing obligation of a contract. Court of Honor v. Hutchens [Ind. App.] 82 N. E. 89. Same amendment held invalid in same case on former appeal to different division of appellate court. Court of Honor v. Hutchens [Ind. App.] 79 NE 409. Where by-laws originally provided that benefit of member committing suicide would not be paid unless he was at time under treatment for insanity, held that amendment after certificate was issued limiting benefit in case of suicide to 5 per cent of face of certificate for each year of continuous membership was unreasonable and void as to then existing members. Olson v. Court of Honor, 100 Minn. 117, 110 NW 374. Where original by-law provided that suicide of member within 5 years after his admission should bar recovery, held that subsequent amendment giving beneficiary, in all cases of suicide, twice amount of assessments paid by member could not be given retrospective operation, but that beneficiary of one who committed suicide after he had been member for 5 years was entitled to recover full amount of certificate. Zimmerman v. Supreme Tent of Knights of the Maccabees of the World, 122 Mo. App. 591, 99 SW 817.

13. Constitution and by-laws are the contract between parties, and their provisions, if not illegal, immoral, or contrary to public policy, must be upheld whether reasonable or not. Maxwell v. Theatrical Mechanical Ass'n, 54 Misc. 619, 104 NYS 815.

14. Where by-laws contained general reservation of power to amend, and in application member agreed to be bound by laws of order then in force or thereafter adopted, and that he should forfeit membership and benefits if he engaged in any occupation deemed extrahazardous by board of directors or their successors, held that regulation classing occupation of switchman as extra-hazardous was binding on member, though adopted after he became member, and though such occupation was not so classed when application was made. Gienty v. Knights of Columbus, 105 NYS 244. Where by-laws did not limit rate of assessment and expressly provided for extra assessments, held that amendment increasing assessment rates, which was necessary to preserve life of society and effectuate purposes for which it was organized, was within contemplation of parties and did not interfere with vested contract rights. Mock v. Supreme Council of Royal Arcanum, 121 App. Div. 474, 106 NYS 155.

15. Held retroactive: By-law limiting liability to half face value of certificate in case of suicide held broad enough to embrace all members without regard to time when they became such. Scow v. Supreme Council, Royal League, 223 Ill. 32, 79 NE 42.

Held not retroactive: Changes as to benefits in by-laws, particularly in view of provision in statute prohibiting changes affecting existing contracts. Guthrie v. Supreme Tent K. of M. of W. [Cal. App.] 87 P 405. Amendment of charter restricting right to designate beneficiaries, there being no reserved power to amend and nothing therein to show intention that it should operate retrospectively. Brown v. Grand Fountain of U. O. of True Reformers, 28 App. D. C. 200. Amendment changing classes of beneficiaries. Cigar Makers' International Union v. Huecker, 123 Ill. App. 336. State statutes, act of congress, and by-laws prescribing who might be designated as beneficiaries. Supreme Lodge K. of P. v. Reyman, 126 Ill. App. 482. St. 1905, p. 150, c. 223, enlarging rights of designation of beneficiaries and providing that benefits may be made payable in such manner as by-laws shall provide, within prescribed limits, held inapplicable where by-laws changing provisions in that respect did not go into effect until after member's death, at which time widow's right to fund, because of absence of designated beneficiary competent to take, vested. Spear v. Boston Relief Ass'n [Mass.] 81 NE 196.

16. See § 5D, ante.

17. Provision for forfeiture for nonpayment of annual dues held to apply to members joining at any time during year who failed to pay pro rata part of annual dues for which they were liable. Morrison v. Mutual Benev. Ass'n [S. C.] 59 SE 27. Failure to pay dues to lodge or its collector within time specified held to warrant suspension. Supreme Lodge of Pathfinder v. Johnson [Tex.

their payment for a specified time thereafter.<sup>18</sup> In the absence of any stipulation in the contract for a forfeiture for nonpayment, the certificate will remain in force during the lifetime of the insured, however delinquent he may be.<sup>19</sup> The validity and effect of provisions requiring members of an employee's relief association to release all claims for damages against the employer as a condition precedent to the recovery of benefits is treated elsewhere.<sup>20</sup>

In order to enforce a forfeiture the association must show compliance with the provisions authorizing it.<sup>21</sup> Whether provisions for forfeiture are self-executing or require some affirmative action to render them effective is a question of construction and depends entirely on the terms of the contract.<sup>22</sup> If they are not, an election

Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 656, 104 SW 508. Provisions that nonpayment of assessments shall ipso facto work forfeiture without notice will be enforced. Gruwell v. National Council of K. & L. of S. [Mo. App.] 104 SW 884. Even if decedent ever became member, held that he was suspended for nonpayment of assessment, amount of one assessment paid by him being applicable to assessment for month in which lodge was instituted. Supreme Lodge K. & L. of H. v. Johnson [Ark.] 99 SW 834. Evidence held to show that assessment was not paid within time prescribed. Woodmen of the World v. Jackson, 80 Ark. 419, 97 SW 673. By-law providing for suspension of member for nonpayment of monthly per capita tax without further notice than that imparted by by-law is reasonable and valid. Nelson v. Modern Brotherhood of America [Neb.] 110 NW 1008. By-laws held to provide for suspension for nonpayment of mortuary assessments after notice, and for nonpayment of per capita tax on or before last day of month, either with or without notice. Id.

18. Membership held forfeited under provision declaring that every person one year or more in arrears for dues, etc., should forfeit membership. Odd Fellows Ben. Ass'n v. Burton [Ark.] 104 SW 163. Certificate construed and held that it was forfeited by member becoming four weeks in arrears in payment of dues. Singleton v. Progressive Ben. Ass'n [S. C.] 58 SE 609. Where constitution provided that any member whose dues remained unpaid for two months should be dropped from roll and lose all claim to membership, held that member could not be dropped until two months after default, and order entered upon minutes declaring member dropped as being two months in arrears was ineffective where dues had not at that time been unpaid for two months. Starnes v. Atlanta Police Relief Ass'n [Ga. App.] 58 SE 481. Evidence held not to show that member had been in default for eight weeks so as to work forfeiture, even if provision for such forfeiture was self-executing. Cigar Makers' International Union v. Huecker, 123 Ill. App. 336. Member's dues held not to have been unpaid "for over 3 months" at time of his death so as to preclude beneficiary from recovering death benefits, where she tendered amount due after his death and before expiration of 3 months. O'Keefe v. Barry Benevolent & Athletic Ass'n [N. J. Law] 66 A 601. Member held, in legal contemplation, "clear of all debts on the books of the association" on date of payment of judgment for sick benefits recovered by him against association, judgment being conclusive on that question in subsequent action for death benefits, since such indebtedness would have been complete defense, and it being duty of association under P. L. 1898, p. 574, §§ 60, 61, to set off any indebtedness in former action, and constitution of association providing for deduction of dues accruing during payment of sick benefits from amount so paid. O'Keefe v. Barry Benevolent & Athletic Ass'n [N. J. Law] 66 A 601.

19. Contract is not assurance for single year with privilege of renewal on payment of assessments, but an entire contract consideration for which is payable in installments. Gruwell v. National Council of K. & L. of S. [Mo. App.] 104 SW 884. Defendant claiming forfeiture has burden of pleading and proving provision authorizing it and that it actually occurred. Id.

20. See 7 C. L. 1794. See Master and Servant, § 3A, 8 C. L. 861.

21. Where under constitution directors could not order assessment until there was at least one death benefit unpaid and there was less than specified sum in surplus account, held that, in order to enforce forfeiture for failure to pay assessment, it must be made to appear that such contingency existed when assessment was ordered, and hence that it was necessary. Mutual Aid Ass'n v. Hogan, 124 Ill. App. 447.

22. Held self-executing: Provision for suspension for nonpayment of assessments. National Council Knights & Ladies of Security v. Burch, 126 Ill. App. 15; Catholic Order of Foresters v. Lynch, 126 Ill. App. 439. Condition that if member should become so far intemperate in use of alcoholic drinks as to permanently impair his health or to produce delirium tremens, certificate should be void, and all moneys paid and all benefits should be forfeited. Modern Woodmen of America v. Breckenridge [Kan.] 89 P 661.

Held not self-executing: Neither provision that no member should be entitled to benefits who had not paid dues and assessments in advance, nor provision that any member whose dues remained unpaid for two months should be dropped from roll and lose all claim to membership, held to ipso facto work forfeiture, but some judicatory or affirmative action by association, declaring member suspended or expelled, was necessary. Starnes v. Atlanta Police Relief Ass'n [Ga. App.] 58 SE 481. Act of secretary in marking defaulting member as "suspended" held not to amount to affirmative action of association. Id. Where contract expressly confers right to avoid it for breach of warranty, such a breach does not ipso facto render contract void from beginning but renders it voidable to forfeit must be made within a reasonable time.<sup>23</sup> In case of a rescission the insurer must restore, or offer to restore, everything of value received by it under the contract,<sup>24</sup> in the absence of a provision therein to the contrary,<sup>25</sup> or unless restoration has been rendered impossible by the wrongful acts of the member.<sup>26</sup>

To effectuate a cancellation by agreement, fairness and a strict compliance with the laws of the other must be shown.<sup>27</sup>

(§ 5) H. Waiver, estoppel, and reinstatement. See 7 C. L. 1794.—In the matter of estoppel and waiver, fraternal benefit societies are generally governed by the same rules of law as old line insurance companies.<sup>28</sup> Forfeitures are not favored, and slight evidence of waiver or estoppel is sufficient.<sup>29</sup> The society may waive its by-laws or estop itself from enforcing them, provided it does not thereby enter into a contract forbidden by its charter,<sup>30</sup> though it has been held that the officers cannot waive by-laws relating to the substance of a contract between an individual member and his associates in their corporate capacity.<sup>31</sup> Any acts, declarations, course of dealing, or conduct on the part of the association leading a member to believe that a strict performance of the terms and conditions of his contract will not be insisted upon will preclude it from thereafter claiming a forfeiture for failure to strictly perform,<sup>32</sup> provided it acts with knowledge of the facts.<sup>33</sup> Thus, the receipt and reten-only at election of association. Modern Woodmen v. Vincent [Ind. App.] 80 NE 427. Breach of warranty as to insured's age, which did not affect amount of premium to be paid by him, held not to preclude recovery where answer failed to allege election by insurer to avoid policy or any facts tending to show such election. Id. Held that membership could not be forfeited against will of member by delinquency ipso facto, but he must first be given an opportunity to justify himself, and this must be followed by some action by society looking to severance of relations between society and member. Schwartz v. St. Elizabeth Roman and Greek Catholic Union, 9 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 337.

23. Modern Woodmen of America v. Vincent [Ind. App.] 82 NE 475, 80 N. E. 427.

24. Demurrer to answer showing breach authorizing rescission held properly sustained where it did not state facts showing valid election to rescind, or a return of premiums or willingness to return them, or that none had been received. Modern Woodmen of America v. Vincent [Ind. App.] 82 NE 475, 80 N. E. 427. Answer relying on breach of warranty must not only set up warranty and breach but also election by insurer to avoid policy for that reason, particularly where warranty was in regard to fact immaterial to risk. Id. In suit to cancel benefit certificate for breach of warranty, insured held entitled to return of premiums paid with interest thereon at 6 per cent. Modern Woodmen of America v. Angle [Mo. App.] 104 SW 297. Failure to deposit amount of interest in court held not reversible error, no deposit being necessary in equity, since chancellor may compel its restoration as condition precedent to cancellation. Id.

25. Where contract provided that all assessments paid should be forfeited for false statements in application, held that, on forfeiture of certificate during member's lifetime for fraudulent misstatements as to his age, he was not entitled to recover premiums paid. Elliott v. Knights of Modern Maccabees [Wash.] 89 P 929.

26. On forfeiture of certificate during member's lifetime because of fraudulent misstatements as to his age, held that he was not entitled to recover premiums paid, the association doing business on current cost plan, and all such assessments having been disbursed in payment of losses as soon as received. Elliott v. Knights of Modern Maccabees [Wash.] 89 P 929.

27. Evidence held to authorize finding that surrender of certificate by member who was insane was not procured by fair means. Wrightman v. Grand Lodge A. O. U. W., 121 Mo. App. 252, 98 SW 829. Evidence held to sustain finding that member was insane when he applied for and received his withdrawal card. Id.

28. Morgan v. Independent Order of Sons & Daughters of Jacob [Miss.] 44 S 791; Morrison v. Mutual Benev. Ass'n [S. C.] 59 SE 27. May be estopped by contract in same manner as private individual. Morgan v. Independent Order of Sons & Daughters of Jacob [Miss.] 44 S 791.

29. Trotter v. Grand Lodge of Iowa Legion of Honor, 132 Iowa, 513, 109 NW 1099.

30. May waive, or estop itself from relying on, by-law prohibiting insurance of persons over 45 years old, where charter contains no such limitation. Edmonds v. Modern Woodmen of America, 125 Mo. App. 214, 102 SW 601. Provision that no person may be insured who is over age of 45 held not to render contract insuring man of 47 ultra vires, where statutory limit was 65. Krause v. Modern Woodmen of America, 133 Iowa, 199, 110 NW 452.

31. Officers of fraternal society organized for mutual protection of its members cannot waive by-law so as to admit persons of prohibited age and thereby bind society. Elliott v. Knights of Modern Maccabees [Wash.] 89 P 929.

32. Waiver does not depend on intention of party against whom it is asserted, but on effect which his conduct or course of business has had on other party. Trotter v. Grand Lodge of Iowa Legion of Honor, 132 Iowa, 513, 109 NW 1099.

Provisions as to eligibility: Insurer held tion of assessments by the association or its duly authorized agent,<sup>34</sup> with knowledge of facts authorizing a forfeiture, precludes a forfeiture on that ground,<sup>35</sup> and the acceptance of overdue assessments is a waiver of the delay<sup>36</sup> and precludes reliestopped to rely on provision of by-laws prohibiting insurance of persons over 45, where certificate was issued and dues collected for over 9 years, though date of member's birth as stated in application showed that he was over 45. Edmonds v. Modern Woodmen of America, 125 Mo. App. 214, 102 SW 601. Where application stated insured's age as between 44 and 45, but date of his birth, as stated therein, showed that he was over 45, held that inconsistency was sufficient to put association on inquiry as to his true age. Id. Same held true if statement as whole was ambiguous or of doubtful meaning because of change in figures showing date of birth. Id. Instruction that statement as to date of birth would control statement as to age held harmless, even if erroneous. Id.

Conditions precedent to membership: Election of applicant to office in local lodge held not waiver of provision that membership should not be complete until applicant was obligated or initiated, where he was never installed, never performed any of duties of office, and never attended any meetings. Supreme Lodge K. & L. of H. v. Johnson [Ark.] 99 SW 834. Evidence held not to show habit or practice on part of association or local lodge to ignore or omit requirement of adoption as preliminary to recognition of applicant as qualified member, or that such recognition was accorded in particular case. Brunner v. Brotherhood of American Yeomen [Iowa] 111 NW 977.

Dues and assessments (See, also, post, this section): Held that there was evidence tending to support allegations that society had permitted payment of assessments after they were due, and had led member to believe that conditions of payment would not be insisted upon, so that it was error to give peremptory instruction in favor of society. Lane v. Yeomen of America, 125 Ill. App. 406. If association itself or by its agent adopts method of business whereby assessments are habitually collected and received after they become delinquent according to strict letter of contract, and no forfeiture is declared thereon, but such members are recognized as in good standing, and by this course of business members have reason to fairly conclude that insurer does not insist on literal compliance with terms of contract in this respect, insurer will not be heard to deny good standing of member who has depended upon custom observed by agent and offered to pay assessments in accordance therewith. Trotter v. Grand Lodge of Iowa Legion of Honor, 132 Iowa, 513, 109 NW 1099. Defendant held not entitled to claim forfeiture in view of custom of financial officer of local lodge. Id.; Wood v. Iowa Legion of Honor, 133 Iowa, 33, 110 NW 164. Held that there was some evidence to go to the jury on question of waiver of forfeiture, so that it was error to charge that plaintiff could not recover because of forfeiture and ignore doctrine of waiver. Morrison v. Mutual Benev. Ass'n [S. C.] 59 SE 27. Association issued joint certificate to two persons whereby it agreed to pay survivor specified sum less certain deductions based on age of insured at his death and monthly assessment. Subsequently, by-law was passed increasing assessments and which, if applicable, would greatly reduce indemnity under said certificate. Neither of the persons insured had knowledge of change, but they continued to pay assessments at old rate. Held that even though they agreed to be bound by subsequently enacted by-laws, association, by accepting payments at old rate without objection, waived enforcement of new by-law and was estopped to assert it against survivor. Boman v. Bankers' Union of the World [Kan.] 91 P 49.

Provision as to suicide: Stipulation in application avoiding insurance if member committed suicide within three years held waived by issuance of certificate providing that it should be incontestable after two years. Harr v. Highland Nobles [Neb.] 110 NW 713.

33. Acceptance of dues and giving receipts therefor held not waiver of forfeiture for engaging in extrahazardous employment, where neither association nor officers had knowledge or notice of member's change of occupation. Gienty v. Knights of Columbus, 105 NYS 244. Waiver of breach of warranty cannot be predicated on acts of agent where he has no knowledge of facts. Loehr v. Supreme Assembly of Equitable Fraternal Union [Wis.] 112 NW 441.

34. For agency of local lodge and its officers, see post, this section. Supreme secretary who was general agent of society to receive dues, and who had power to reinstate members suspended for delay in payment, held to have power to waive forfeiture for delay in payments, there being no provision in by-laws to contrary. Reed v. Bankers' Union of the World, 121 Mo. App. 419, 99 SW 55.

35. Evidence held insufficient to show that defendant accepted assessments with knowledge that insured was engaged in prohibited occupation. Mutual Protective League v. Langsdorf, 126 Ill. App. 572. Subordinate lodge having power to discipline or expel members for excessive use of intoxicants held to have waived forfeiture because of such use where, with knowledge of facts, it continued to receive his dues and in all other respects to treat him as member until his death. Modern Woodmen of America v. Breckenridge [Kan.] 89 P 661. Collection of dues and assessments from member convicted of felony, by clerk of local lodge, with full knowledge of that fact, which are forwarded to and retained by supreme lodge until after member's death, is waiver of right to forfeit certificate because of such conviction. Pringle v. Modern Woodmen of America [Neb.] 113 NW 231.

36. See, also, general statement of rule, ante, this section. Receipt of payments after default in payment is waiver of default. Lane v. Yeomen of America, 125 Ill. App. 406. Ipsa facto suspension for nonpayment held waived by acceptance of delinquent assessment after default pursuant to like course adopted in regard to previous delinquent as-ance on a provision requiring formal reinstatement.<sup>37</sup> The receipt of an overdue assessment has, however, been held not to estop the association from showing that the member was not in good health at the time of an attempted reinstatement, where actual good health was made a condition precedent to reinstatement,<sup>38</sup> and the previous acceptance of overdue payments not to prevent a forfeiture for a subsequent default when the insured was in poor health,<sup>39</sup> nor does a custom of accepting overdue assessments from a member during his lifetime require their acceptance from the beneficiary after the member's death.<sup>40</sup> Where the relationship of the beneficiary appears on its face, the issuing of a certificate and the acceptance of dues thereunder precludes the insurer from asserting that the beneficiary was not a proper person to be designated.<sup>41</sup>

Where an agent of the association, with knowledge of the facts and without the knowledge of the member, inserts untrue answers to questions in the application, the association is estopped to assert their falsity,<sup>42</sup> but this rule does not apply where the false answer is the result of collusion between the agent and the member.<sup>43</sup> sessments. Catholic Order of Foresters v. Lynch, 126 Ill. App. 439. Right to suspend member until reinstatement for nonpayment of assessments held waived where two overdue assessments were received and retained by supreme secretary, second one being received and retained though health certificate sent to member for signature after receipt of first one was not returned. Reed v. Bankers' Union of the World, 121 Mo. App. 419, 99 SW 55. Act of agent in receiving and receipting for dues held waiver of forfeiture for failure to pay them on time. Singleton v. Progressive Ben. Ass'n [S. C.] 58 SE 609. Receipt of overdue assessment by clerk of local lodge, who forwarded it to head body, held not to have worked estoppel where it was promptly returned by latter, and in view of provisions in regard to reinstatement. Woodmen of the World v. Jackson, 80 Ark. 419, 97 SW 673.

37. Acceptance by local council of assessment after expiration of period within which member suspended could be reinstated by payment held waiver of forfeiture and a reinstatement. National Council Knights & Ladies of Security v. Burch, 126 Ill. App. 15. Where society accepted assessment paid on day after it became due, and all subsequent assessments, without notifying member that he was suspended and that money was taken only as application for reinstatement, held that it was estopped to deny liability on certificate. Morgan v. Independent Order of Sons and Daughters of Jacob [Miss.] 44 S 791. Evidence held to show waiver of strict compliance with rule as to reinstatements. Munn v. Masonic Life Ass'n, 115 App. Div. 855, 101 NYS 91. Formal reinstatement of member, whose name had been canceled from roster of members for nonpayment of dues, held waived where he paid more than amount of arrears to officer of defendant corporation, who received and retained it until after member's death. Cardinale v. Society of Civility & Labor, 102 NYS 471.

38. Woodmen of the World v. Jackson, 80 Ark. 419, 97 SW 673.

39. Fact that insurer had on some occasions accepted overdue assessments held not course of dealing amounting to standing waiver of terms of contract. Hay v. People's Mut. Benev. Ass'n, 143 N. C. 256, 55 SE 623.

40. Notwithstanding previous course of dealing whereby local lodge had accepted overdue assessments from member ipso facto suspended for default without requiring formal reinstatement, held that beneficiary could not recover where member was suspended at time of his death because in default, though payment was made after his death. Catholic Order of Foresters v. Lynch, 126 Ill. App. 439. Where member was suspended for nonpayment, held that payment by third person after his death did not operate to reinstate him. National Council Knights & Ladies of Security v. Burch, 126 Ill. App. 15.

41. Stronge v. Supreme Lodge K. P. [N. Y.] 82 NE 433, rvg. 111 App. Div. 87, 97 NYS 661.

42. Camp physician held agent of society with authority to determine materiality of answers to questions in application so that, where he had full knowledge of the facts and wrote answers as he deemed them material, society would be deemed to have waived its right with respect to answers being literally true in that regard, and to be estopped from asserting their untruth as breach of warranties. Modern Woodmen of America v. Angle [Mo. App.] 104 SW 297. Evidence held to show that physician had full and complete knowledge as to facts when writing certain answers. Id. Evidence held to show that he did not have knowledge of facts when writing certain other answers so that there was no waiver as to them. Id.

43. Fact that agent who took application and physician who made examination knew that insured had been insane and that his answer to question was false held not to prevent company from relying on insured's false statement that he had never been insane when he knew that he had been. Mudge v. Supreme Court, I. O. F., 149 Mich. 467, 14 Det. Leg. N. 515, 112 NW 1130. Fraudulent misstatement as to age in application held to have avoided certificate, though applicant told his true age to agent, where he knew that agent was acting in his own interest and participated in fraud, since he had no reason to assume that agent would communicate true age to principal. Elliott v. Knights of Modern Maccabees

The insured may generally show by parol that the answers were not written by him and that he did not know the contents of the application when he signed it,<sup>44</sup> but where he is subsequently furnished with a copy thereof he will, after a reasonable time, be presumed to know its contents.<sup>45</sup>

Local lodges and their officers are generally deemed to be the agents of the supreme body in the collection of assessments so that their acts in that regard, if within the general scope of their authority, are regarded as its acts,<sup>46</sup> and their knowledge, acquired while so acting, its knowledge,<sup>47</sup> and this has been held to be true regardless of provisions in the contract to the contrary.<sup>48</sup>

There is a conflict of authority as to the effect of limitations in the contract as to who may waive its provisions<sup>49</sup> and as to what will amount to a waiver,<sup>50</sup> and of provisions requiring waivers to be in writing.<sup>51</sup>

[Wash.] 89 P 929. Evidence held to show that applicant participated in defrauding association. Id.

44. Modern Woodmen of America v. Angle [Mo. App.] 104 SW 297.

45. Even though agent of insurer wrote untrue answer to questions in application without knowledge of insured, and latter signed application without reading it, held that, where insured was furnished copy of application containing such untrue answers annexed to policy, and had held same for reasonable time, he was charged with notice of said answers and estopped to deny knowledge thereof. Modern Woodmen of America v. Angle [Mo. App.] 104 SW 297.

46. Local body held agent of supreme body in collection of assessments. National Council Knights & Ladies of Security v. Burch, 126 Ill. App. 15; Catholic Order of Foresters v. Lynch, 126 Ill. App. 439. Financial secretary of local lodge held agent of grand lodge in collecting assessments, so that his custom of receiving assessments after they were due was waiver of right to forfeit certificate for nonpayment. Trotter v. Grand Lodge of Iowa Legion of Honor, 132 Iowa, 513, 109 NW 1099. Secretary and treasurer of local lodge. Wood v. Iowa Legion of Honor, 133 Iowa, 33, 110 NW 164. Acts of agent of society may be such as will estop it from taking advantage of forfeiture for failure to pay dues on time, though constitution, laws, and regulations provide for forfeiture for nonpayment. Davidson v. Temple of Supreme Tribe of Ben Hur [Iowa] 111 NW 46. Acts and conduct of local scribe held to estop defendant to claim forfeiture for failure to pay dues on time, supreme body being chargeable with notice of what latter did within scope of her duties. Davidson v. Temple of Supreme Tribe of Ben Hur [Iowa] 111 NW 46. Subordinate lodge held agent of supreme body in receiving dues, etc. Modern Woodmen of America v. Breckenridge [Kan.] 89 P 661. Notice to presiding officer of local lodge held notice to lodge, and his personal knowledge the knowledge of said lodge. Id. Company is estopped by acts of subordinate officers, where member's dealings with them are of such nature that they must pass under observation of those having in charge ultimate management of company's affairs to such an extent as to justly induce member to believe that practice is approved by company itself. Edmonds v. Modern Woodmen of America, 125 Mo. App. 214, 102 SW 601. Where by-laws prohibited insuring of persons over 45 years old, but it appeared on face of application that applicant was over that age, but officers issued certificate and received dues for over 9 years, held that it would be presumed that company knew of officers' acts. Id.

47. Subordinate lodge and its clerk, who is designated by supreme lodge to receive and forward dues and assessments from certificate holders, are agents of supreme lodge, and their knowledge of his conviction of felony is that of supreme lodge. Pringle v. Modern Woodmen of America [Neb.] 113 NW 231.

48. Scribe of local lodge held agent of supreme body in collecting dues to be transmitted to it, though she was elected by local lodge and though articles of society declared that she should be deemed agent of members of local lodge. Davidson v. Temple of Supreme Tribe of Ben Hur [Iowa] 111 NW 46.

49. Provision prohibiting local lodge or its officers from waiving any provisions of by-laws held to refer only to contractual waivers and not to waiver by operation of law resulting from acts of lodge, such as waiver by receipt of dues with knowledge of facts operating as forfeiture. Modern Woodmen of America v. Breckenridge [Kan.] 89 P 661.

50. No insurance corporation or society can, by contract or by virtue of its by-laws, exempt itself in advance from liability to estop itself from asserting a forfeiture, when there has been a breach on the part of the insured and its conduct has been affirmatively such as to induce belief that forfeiture has been waived. Morgan v. Independent Order of Sons & Daughters of Jacob [Miss.] 44 S 791. Provision that receipt given for payment of any financial claim of order should not waive suspension for nonpayment of any prior financial liability held void and not to prevent estoppel by accepting overdue and subsequent assessments. Id.

51. Provisions making payment of each call when due condition upon which continuance of insurance depends, and that no verbal statement should modify same "unless the same be reduced to writing and signed by the president and secretary" of the association, are for the benefit of the association, and, if it sees fit to enter into oral agreement for extension of time for payment, it thereby waives right to have evidence of its action in writing, and also right to insist upon for-

A member may, by his conduct, assent to modifications of his contract so as to preclude a subsequent contention that they were unauthorized.<sup>52</sup>

Waiver of proofs of death<sup>53</sup> and of contract limitations<sup>54</sup> is treated in subsequent sections.

Reinstatement.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1797</sup>—The conditions on which a suspended member is entitled to be reinstated depend on the laws of the association.<sup>55</sup> Provisions as to the manner of reinstatement must be complied with<sup>56</sup> unless waived.<sup>57</sup>

§ 6. The beneficiary.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1798</sup>—The person entitled to benefits is to be determined by a construction of the contract and the laws of the order.<sup>58</sup> Only persons within the classes specified by the statute and the laws of the order may be designated as beneficiaries.<sup>59</sup> The society may restrict the class of eligible beneficiaries within narrower limits than that fixed by the statute under which it is orfeiture for nonpayment of call at time when it was originally due. Farmers' & Mechanics' Life Ass'n v. Caine, 224 Ill. 599, 79 NE 956, afg. 123 Ill. App. 419.

52. Failure of member to take any action held not an assent to modification of contract as to amount to be paid, where he had no notice or knowledge that defendant intended to dispute validity or amount on maturity of claim, and statute prohibited changes affecting existing contracts. Guthrie v. Supreme Tent K. of M. of W. [Cal. App.] 87 P 405. Member held not to have acquiesced in amendment by continued payment of assessments or otherwise. Brown v. Grand Fountain of U. O. of True Reformers, 28 App. D. C. 200. Member held not to have waived right to old age benefits by continued payment of assessments after passage of by-laws eliminating such benefits, and up to adoption of first law containing demand upon him to agree to construction making earlier law retroactive. Wineland v. Knights of Maccabees of the World, 148 Mich. 608, 14 Det. Leg. N. 345, 112 NW 696.

53. See § 8, post.

54. See § 10, post.

55. By-laws providing that any member failing to pay assessments within 30 days after notice should be dropped from association and required to pay new membership fee in order to renew his insurance held not to give insured absolute right to reinstatement on payment of delinquent assessments three months after forfeiture and when his health had become greatly impaired, but assent of insurer was necessary. Hay v. People's Mut. Benev. Ass'n, 143 N. C. 256, 55 SE 623.

56. Where there was no proof that member either appeared before clerk in person or furnished written application for reinstatement containing statement as to good health as required by laws of order, held that there was failure to prove reinstatement. Woodmen of the World v. Jackson, 80 Ark 419, 97 SW 673.

57. See ante, this section.

58. Application directed that benefit should be paid to member's wife, subject to such future disposal among his dependents as he might thereafter direct. Upon back of application was indorsed unsigned direction that payment should be made to wife to be held in trust for member's adopted daughter, and similar provision for payment was contained in certificate, which was accepted by member and retained without objection. Held that daughter was equitable bene-fiary, though direction indorsed on application was not signed. Murphy v. Nowak, 223 Ill. 301, 79 NE 112, rvg. 127 Ill. App. 125. Constitution construed, and held that where one of two beneficiaries died before member her share went to survivor. Stahl v. Grand Lodge A. O. U. W. [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 429, 98 SW 643. Sum which certificate provided should be paid for erection of monument over insured's grave held payable to his wife, there being no express provision as to whom payment should be made, and society not having retained privilege of selecting monument, and not being burdened with duty of erecting it. Woodmen of the World v. Torrence [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 565, 103 SW 652.

59. Charter of association held to have been amended by 97 Ohio Laws, p. 422, which did not authorize member to designate his estate as beneficiary, and hence such an attempted designation by member who became such after said amendment was invalid, though it would have been valid under original charter. Sturges v. Sturges [Ky.] 102 SW 884. Where constitution and by-laws provided that certain specified sum should be payable to widow of deceased member, except that member might designate his children to receive half of it in such proportions as he might direct, and provided for entry of designations permitted by laws of order in book kept for that purpose, held that declarations wherein member designated his children as beneficiaries of whole fund was ineffectual for any purpose, and widow was entitled to whole fund. Weinstein v. Weinstein, 104 NYS 1113. Where after passage of statute enlarging eligible class, member surrendered his certificate and requested another to be issued to his grandniece and grandnephew who were eligible under such statute, and association issued certificate naming them as beneficiaries, held that it thereby assented to their designation, a formal acceptance of such statute being unnecessary. Mathewson v. Supreme Council Royal Arcanum, 146 Mich. 671, 13 Det. Leg. N. 923, 110 NW 69. Subordinate lodge held lawful beneficiary at time when certificate was issued. Supreme Lodge K. of P. v. Reyman, 126 Ill. App. 482. Mass. St. 1876-77, c. 204, as amended by St. 1882, c. 195, § 2, held to authorize designation of grandniece and grandnephew as beneficiaries. Mathewson v. Supreme Council Royal Arcanum, 146 Mich. 671, 13 Det. Leg. N. 923, 110 NW 69.

ganized.<sup>60</sup> The designation of one having no insurable interest is void as contrary to public policy.<sup>61</sup> Among those commonly made eligible are dependents,<sup>62</sup> relatives,<sup>63</sup> the member's wife,<sup>64</sup> members of his family,<sup>65</sup> and devisees.<sup>66</sup> Eligibility at the death of the member is generally required.<sup>67</sup> The effect on existing contracts of changes in the provisions of the by-laws and the statutes as to who may be designated has been treated in a previous section.<sup>68</sup>

In case there is no valid designation,<sup>69</sup> or the person designated dies before the insured, and there is no new designation,<sup>70</sup> the benefits generally go to the persons made eligible in the order named. In the absence of a provision to the contrary, the marriage of a member does not affect a certificate previously issued or the rights of the beneficiary named therein.<sup>71</sup>

60. Contract and not statute governs in such case. Murphy v. Nowak, 223 Ill. 301, 79 NE 112, rvg. 127 Ill. App. 125.

61. Person not related to insured held to have no insurable interest in his life. Dolan v. Supreme Council of Catholic Mut. Ben. Ass'n [Mich.] 14 Det. Leg. N. 544, 113 NW 10.

62. Illegitimate child held "dependent." Stahl v. Grand Lodge A. O. U. W. [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 429, 98 SW 643. Adopted daughter held a "dependent." Murphy v. Nowak, 223 Ill. 301, 79 NE 112, rvg. 127 Ill. App. 125.

63. Illegitimate child held related by blood. Stahl v. Grand Lodge A. O. U. W. [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 429, 98 SW 643.

64. Where insured was coerced into marriage and never lived with woman, held that she was not entitled to proceeds of certificate payable to his "widow or other heirs," marriage being void in so far as claim was concerned. Grand Lodge K. P. v. Smith, 89 Miss. 718, 42 S 89.

65. Meaning of word "family" determined, and held that it included adult son who was supporting his father and with whom latter lived. Starnes v. Atlanta Police Relief Ass'n, [Ga. App.] 58 SE 481. Words "immediate family" held not to exclude from class of eligible beneficiaries adult child of insured not dependent on him for support and not under his legal control, and whom he was not bound to support. Dalton v. Knights of Columbus [Conn.] 67 A 510. Requested charge to effect that adult daughter would not be legally designated beneficiary if, at time of member's death, she had separated herself from family and ceased to be member of his household held properly refused. Id. Beneficiary not related to decedent or adopted by him held under evidence not a member of his family. Grand Lodge of A. O. U. W. v. McKay, 149 Mich. 90, 14 Det. Leg. N. 360, 112 NW 730. Children who married and moved away from member's house held no longer members of his family. Spear v. Boston Relief Ass'n [Mass.] 81 NE 196.

66. Where statute provided for payment to "widow, orphans, and devisees" of deceased members, held that designation of brother as beneficiary in certificate, though not by will, was valid and binding. Stake v. Stake, 228 Ill. 630, 81 NE 1146. Designation of stranger held not contrary to public policy though member has wife or other relatives. Id.

67. In view of statute and charter, adopted daughter who had ceased to be dependent on member at time of his death held not entitled to fund though designated as beneficiary. Murphy v. Nowak, 223 Ill. 301, 79 NE 112, rvg. 127 Ill. App. 125. Under St. 1876, p. 22, c. 16, incorporating relief association and association's by-laws, held that status of beneficiaries at time of member's death determined their right to benefits, and, where they had ceased to be members of his "family" at that time, widow was entitled to benefits. Spear v. Boston Relief Ass'n [Mass.] 81 NE 196. Policy to "A. T. Wife" reverts to administrator if wife is divorced before death of insured. The Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen v. Taylor, 9 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 17.

68. See § 5F, ante.

69. Where person named is outside classes eligible as beneficiaries, fund goes to member's heirs at law who are within such classes. Murphy v. Nowak, 223 Ill. 301, 79 NE 112, rvg. 127 Ill. App. 125. Classes named in Acts 1899, p. 195, c. 115, § 1, are entitled to benefits in order named when there is no valid designation of beneficiary by insured, as where designated beneficiary is not within classes specified. Grand Lodge Colored K. of P. v. Mackey [Tex. Civ. App.] 104 SW 907.

70. By-laws provided that beneficiaries should be wife, children, etc., and that if member outlived beneficiary named in certificate, and died without naming new beneficiary, benefits should go to "member's next living relation in the order named." Held that where member named his wife as beneficiary, and on her death married again and did not name new beneficiary, benefits went to second wife. Speegle v. Sovereign Camp of Woodmen [S. C.] 58 SE 435. Certificate provided that it was subject to conditions named in constitution. Constitution provided that beneficiaries should be wife, children, etc., and that in case beneficiary designated by member predeceased him, and no new designation was made, benefits should go to "member's next living relation in the order named" therein. Held that where member's first wife, who was named as beneficiary, predeceased him, and no new beneficiary was designated, his second wife was entitled to benefits in preference to his children by former marriages. Harris v. Harris [Tex. Civ. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 930, 97 S. W. 504. Proceeds of certificate held to go to member's second wife, no designation having been made by him after death of his first wife who was named as beneficiary. Roberts v. Roberts [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 648, 99 SW 886.

71. Stake v. Stake, 228 Ill. 630, 81 NE 1146.

Where the contract authorizes a change of beneficiaries, the beneficiary acquires no vested interest in the certificate during the member's lifetime,<sup>72</sup> and hence his death before that of the member puts an end to his interest.<sup>73</sup> His contract rights, however, become fixed at the member's death, and cannot be impaired by statutes subsequently enacted.<sup>74</sup> Changes of beneficiaries must be made substantially in the manner prescribed.<sup>75</sup> Where a member has pursued the course pointed out by the by-laws, and has done substantially all that is required of him to effectuate a change, the change will take effect though the formal details are not completed by the association before his death.<sup>76</sup> Where the association acquiesces in an attempted change, the original beneficiary cannot raise the question of compliance with the rules,<sup>77</sup> and this is particularly true where there is a valuable consideration for the change,<sup>78</sup> or where noncompliance is due to his own wrongful conduct.<sup>79</sup> There is a conflict of authority as to the effect on the rights of the original beneficiary of an invalid attempt to change beneficiaries.<sup>80</sup> A contract between the member and the beneficiary not to change the beneficiary is valid and enforceable in equity if based upon a sufficient consideration.<sup>81</sup> So, too, a reserved right to make a change will not authorize a change as against a beneficiary designated for a valuable consideration.<sup>82</sup>

72. Murphy v. Nowak, 223 Ill. 301, 79 NE 112, rvg. 127 Ill. App. 125; Grand Legion of Ill. Select K. of A. v. Beaty, 224 Ill. 346, 79 NE 565, afg. 117 Ill. App. 657; Davis v. Supreme Council Royal Arcanum [Mass.] 81 NE 294; Ogden v. Sovereign Camp, Woodmen of the World [Neb.] 111 NW 797; Speegle v. Sovereign Camp of Woodmen [S. C.] 58 SE 435; Bernheim v. Martin [Wash.] 88 P. 101.

73. His administrator has no interest in fund though no other beneficiary is designated. Smith v. Grand Lodge A. O. U. W., 124 Mo. App. 181, 101 SW 662.

74. American Guild v. Wyatt, 30 Ky. L. R. 632, 100 SW 266.

75. Paper directing beneficiary to make certain payments out of proceeds of certificate in accordance with previous agreement held not to have operated as change of beneficiaries. Supreme Lodge K. of P. v. Reymann, 126 Ill. App. 482.

76. Change held effective where insured signed application with her name before her marriage though secretary refused to issue new certificate until she also signed it with her name after her marriage, there being no such requirement in rules or by-laws. Bernheim v. Martin [Wash.] 88 P. 106.

77. Where association waives strict compliance with rules and acquiesces in change, admitting liability and paying money into court. Coleman v. Grand Lodge Colored K. of P. [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 849, 104 SW 909.

78. After death of beneficiary, insured agreed that amount remaining payable thereunder should go to plaintiff, his niece. at his death if she would provide home and care for him, which she did. Insured sent certificate to recorder of local lodge with request that niece be designated as beneficiary. Recorder, under mistaken impression that plaintiff was insured's only niece, informed him that no change was necessary, but that benefit would go to her anyway. Held that, as between plaintiff and other nieces, insurer having voluntarily paid money to trustee, plaintiff was entitled to fund, though rules of association as to manner of changing beneficiary had not been complied with. Tidd v. McIntyre, 116 App. Div. 602, 101 NYS 867.

79. Refusal of person named as beneficiary for a valuable consideration to surrender certificate held not unlawful so as to excuse failure of member seeking to change beneficiaries from surrendering old certificate. Stronge v. Supreme Lodge K. P. [N. Y.] 82 NE 433, rvg. 111 App. Div. 87, 97 NYS 661.

80. Kentucky: If the attempted change is invalid for any reason, as where new beneficiary is not eligible, rights of original beneficiary are not affected and original designation remains in force. Sturges v. Sturges [Ky.] 102 SW 884.

Texas: Surrender of certificate to grand lodge, acceptance thereof, and issuance by grand lodge of another certificate naming another beneficiary, held to have fully revoked original certificate and destroyed all rights of original beneficiary, though new beneficiary could not be legally designated as such. Grand Lodge Colored K. of P. v. Mackey [Tex. Civ. App.] 104 SW 907.

81. Member gave certificate to his wife, who was named as beneficiary, promising her that he would never change it except as he should appoint her children instead. Relying on promise she kept insurance alive by paying premiums out of her separate estate. Held that daughter, representing wife, was entitled to insurance as against member's brother, whom he had substituted as beneficiary without wife's knowledge or consent, promise being present assignment to take effect and attach as soon as fund came into existence and operating to estop member from making change. King v. Supreme Council Catholic Mut. Ben. Ass'n, 216 Pa. 553, 65 A 1108.

82. Where beneficiary was designated in consideration of her and her husband taking member into their home and caring for him, which they did. Stronge v. Supreme Lodge K. P. [N. Y.] 82 NE 433, rvg. 111 App. Div. 87, 97 NYS 661.

An agreement to reimburse a beneficiary out of the proceeds of the certificate for payments made by him to third persons is enforceable in equity though the certificate is not assignable at law.<sup>83</sup> It has been held that persons taking the proceeds of the certificate under the laws of the association, because of the failure of the member to designate a new beneficiary on the death of the one originally named, must reimburse a third person who has paid assessments under an agreement with the member and the original beneficiary providing for such reimbursement.<sup>84</sup>

Exemption of benefits from liability for debts.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1802</sup>—As a general rule the proceeds of a certificate payable to a beneficiary other than the member's estate are not liable for the member's debts,<sup>85</sup> and the same is true where it is provided that payment shall be made to the member's personal representative in trust for his heirs.<sup>86</sup> The personal representative of a deceased member may recover sick benefits accruing to him during his lifetime.<sup>87</sup>

§ 7. Maturity and accrual of benefits.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1803</sup>—The right to the benefit accrues on the death of the insured<sup>88</sup> from one of the causes covered by the contract, or on the happening of any other contingency insured against.<sup>89</sup> Recovery cannot be had under an agreement to pay funeral expenses not to exceed a specified sum in the absence of proof of the amount expended for that purpose.<sup>90</sup>

§ 8. Notice and proofs of death or disability.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1803</sup>—Proofs of disability are waived by a positive denial of liability.<sup>91</sup>

§ 9. Payment of benefits and discharge of liability.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1804</sup>—Statutes in some states provide for the accumulation and maintenance of a reserve fund for the payment of the difference between the amount due on certificates and the proceeds of assessments levied for their payment.<sup>92</sup> Funds applicable to the pay-

83. Gives him vested interest. Supreme Lodge K. of P. v. Reyman, 126 Ill. App. 482.

84. After certificate had lapsed for non-payment of assessments, insured, beneficiaries, and plaintiff entered into agreement whereby plaintiff was to pay amount necessary to reinstate insured and all future dues and assessments, and was to be reimbursed out of proceeds of certificate. Plaintiff performed on his part. Beneficiaries died before insured, and no new beneficiary was designated. Under laws of order, fund went to insured's children on his death. Held that, since children received benefit of contract made with original beneficiaries, fund received by them was liable to reimburse plaintiff for sums expended thereunder by him. Kelly v. Searcy [Tex.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 433, 102 SW 100, rvg. [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 138, 537, 98 SW 1080.

85. Proceeds of certificate in which member's brother was named as beneficiary held not assets of member's estate. Stake v. Stake, 228 Ill. 630, 81 NE 1146. Under Rev. St. 1899, § 1418, proceeds of certificate cannot be taken or applied to pay debts or liabilities of member or beneficiary. Beall v. Graham, 125 Mo. App. 38, 102 SW 636. Allowance of claim for medical services rendered insured in last illness against estate of minor beneficiaries who had received proceeds of certificate held error, particularly where member did not himself pay all premiums. Id. In no event could such claim be enforced against estate of minors, remedy, if any, being against estate of decedent. Id.

86. Proceeds held not to have become assets of estate subject to payment of debts and to unrestricted disposition by will, but that administrator held money solely in trust for heirs, and was answerable for it to them alone, they being in substance the real beneficiaries, so that provision was not void as inconsistent with statutes. Lewis v. Brotherhood Acc. Co. [Mass.] 79 NE 802.

87. Though not death indemnity payable to named beneficiary. Continental Casualty Co. v. Maxwell, 127 Ill. App. 19.

88. Evidence held to sustain verdict as to death of insured and identity of body. Lindahl v. Supreme Court I. O. F., 100 Minn. 87, 110 NW 358.

89. Risks assumed, suicide clauses, and exceptions, see § 5c, ante.

90. Where by-laws required association to pay funeral expenses "which will not be more than $75," held that judgment of $75 for funeral expenses was erroneous where there was no evidence as to funeral expenses incurred. Cardinale v. Society of Civility & Labor, 102 NYS 471.

91. Hays v. General Assembly American Benev. Ass'n [Mo. App.] 104 SW 1141.

92. Hurd's Rev. St. 1893, c. 73, §§ 230-257, held not to have become part of contract entered into before its passage, or to have in any way affected or changed relations of parties to such contract, since statutes cannot abrogate or impair obligations of existing contracts. Crawford v. Northwestern Traveling Men's Ass'n, 226 Ill. 57, 80 NE 736, afg. 126 Ill. App. 468. Amendment to constitution and by-laws providing for creation of emergency fund and that dement of benefits cannot be followed by beneficiaries into the hands of innocent purchasers.<sup>93</sup> Matters relating to settlements<sup>93a</sup> and releases<sup>93b</sup> are treated elsewhere.

§ 10. Procedure to enforce right to benefits, etc. Submission of disputes to arbitration or to tribunals within the order.<sup>94</sup> See 7 C. L. 1805—Agreements to refer a cause of action arising under other provisions of the contract, as distinguished from preliminary questions as to damages and the like, to arbitrators are usually held to be invalid as ousting the courts of jurisdiction.<sup>95</sup> It is generally held that provisions requiring disputed questions as to the insurance contract to be settled by tribunals within the order are valid and binding, and that the courts will not inquire into the regularity of the procedure adopted and pursued by such tribunals,<sup>96</sup> though there seems to be some conflict of authority in this regard.<sup>97</sup> Provisions denying the right to resort to the civil courts until after all remedies within the order have been exhausted are generally held to be valid if reasonable, but not otherwise.<sup>98</sup> Such a requirement is waived by an absolute refusal to pay the claim.<sup>99</sup> There is a conflict of authority as to whether a member is precluded from suing at law after he has exhausted such remedies, where the contract does not specifically provide that the decisions of the tribunals of the order shall be final,<sup>1</sup> and as to the validity of provisions making such decisions final.<sup>2</sup>

Remedies and procedure in general. See 7 C. L. 1805—Where the right of action does not accrue until a specified time after the receipt of proofs, such time is not necessarily extended by amendments to the proofs originally furnished.<sup>3</sup> Equity deficiencies might be paid therefrom held to have made such payment optional only. Id. Under Rev. Laws, c. 119, § 19, held that so much of claim on which judgments, obtained against corporation after institution of receivership proceedings, were founded as appeared to court to be due for death or disability benefit might be proved, to be paid out of emergency fund in receiver's possession. Attorney General v. Supreme Council A. L. H. [Mass.] 81 NE 966.

93. Where directors of insolvent association were guilty of breach of duty in transferring assets in which fund applicable to payment of benefits was invested without paying fixed benefit liability, held that bona fide purchaser's of such assets for valuable consideration did not take them impressed with trust in favor of beneficiary, and such assets could not be recovered from them. Harvey v. Wasson, 74 Kan. 489, 87 P 720.

93a. See Accord and Satisfaction, 9 C. L. 11.

93b. See Releases, 8 C. L. 1714.

94. For submission of questions other than those relating to insurance contracts, see § 4 ante.

95. Agreement held one to refer to cause of action. Lewis v. Brotherhood Accident Co. [Mass.] 79 NE 802.

96. Donnelly v. Supreme Council Catholic Benev. Legion [Md.] 67 A 276.

97. Regulation of railway employee's relief association requiring submission of claim against it to arbitrament of association held invalid, especially where tribunal which would pass upon it was mainly composed of officers of railroad company. Chicago, B. & Q. R. Co. v. Hendricks, 125 Ill. App. 580.

98. Laws of order provided that suit could not be brought until member had exhausted remedies within order, that member might appeal to executive council from decision of chief ranger denying application for disability benefits "within 20 days from the date of the decision," that interested parties should be notified of decision at once, and that party failing to appeal should be bound by decision. Held that laws could not be construed as giving right of appeal within 20 days after notice of decision, and hence, where applicant was not notified of decision until more than 20 days after it was rendered, fact that he did not appeal was not bar to action to recover benefits. Steiner v. Supreme Council I. O. F., 149 Mich. 567, 14 Det. Leg. N. 539, 113 NW 15. Provisions requiring appeal to highest tribunal of order, which was required to meet in foreign country three years after claim accrued, held unreasonable and void so that disregard thereof did not preclude recovery. Lindahl v. Supreme Court I. O. F., 100 Minn. 87, 110 NW 358.

99. Chicago B. & Q. R. Co. v. Hendricks, 125 Ill. App. 580.

1. Maryland: Where tribunals of order have jurisdiction to try disputed question, their jurisdiction is exclusive, whether by-laws provide that their decisions shall be final or not, and courts cannot review their decisions of questions coming properly before them except in cases of fraud. Donnelly v. Supreme Council Catholic Benev. Legion [Md.] 67 A 276. Rule applies whether member does not press claim before tribunals of order at all or carries it through final tribunal, or does not exhaust all his remedies. As to binding force of by-law limiting members entitled to sick benefits. Id.

2. Rule requiring appeal from action of officers vested with authority to allow or reject death claims to supreme body, whose action is declared to be final, held unreasonable and void as against public policy as depriving courts of jurisdiction. Markham v. Supreme Court I. O. F. [Neb.] 110 NW 638.

3. Where original proofs of death had been received 7 months before commence-has no jurisdiction of a suit to collect the difference between the face of the certificate and the proceeds of an assessment, there being an adequate remedy at law.<sup>4</sup> Where the obligation of the association is to pay not to exceed a specified sum from a fund raised by the board of directors at its discretion for the payment of all death losses, claims for which have been approved by the board, the beneficiary is not required to sue in equity to compel the levying of an assessment, but may sue at law for the amount due on the certificate.<sup>5</sup> An action to recover on a benefit certificate is one at law though the validity of a withdrawal by the member before his death is involved.<sup>6</sup> Matters relating to process<sup>7</sup> and venue<sup>8</sup> are treated elsewhere. Where nothing remains to be done under the contract but to pay over money, plaintiff may, as a rule, declare generally in indebitatus assumpsit.<sup>9</sup> Assumpsit will not lie to recover on a certificate under seal.<sup>10</sup> Technical defenses are not favored.<sup>11</sup>

Parties.—It is generally held that there is such privity between the society and the beneficiary designated in the certificate or by-laws as authorizes the beneficiary to sue for the benefits in his own name.<sup>12</sup> In some states, however, if the certificate is a specialty the action must be brought by the legal representative of the insured, though it is payable to named beneficiaries and not to his estate.<sup>13</sup>

Limitations.—Provisions limiting the time within which actions to recover benefits must be brought are generally held to be valid and must be complied with,<sup>14</sup> unless waived.<sup>15</sup> Where it is provided that the action must be brought ment of action, held that fact that amendment thereto was received less than 90 days before commencement of action was no ground for its abatement. Rohloff v. Aid Ass'n for Lutherans, 130 Wis. 61, 109 NW 989.

4. Northwestern Traveling Men's Ass'n v. Crawford, 126 Ill. App. 468, afd. on other grounds, 226 Ill. 57, 80 NE 736.

5. In action on certificate entitling beneficiary to participate in mortuary fund to extent of one full assessment on all members in good standing, not exceeding $2,000, petition alleging that mortuary fund was always on hand for purpose of paying death losses, same being maintained by advance assessments, and assessments from time to time when said fund was depleted or insufficient to pay losses, that full assessment at member's death was largely in excess of sum to be paid on certificate, and that said sum of $2,000 had already been collected and was in defendant's possession, held to entitle plaintiff to sue at law. Van Norman v. Modern Brotherhood of America, 134 Iowa, 575, 111 NW 992. Even if it appeared that there was no fund in defendant's possession from which judgment at law could be paid if recovered, and auxiliary proceedings to compel collection of money by assessment would have been necessary, held that such fact would not preclude plaintiff from having judgment at law if she saw fit to take it. Id.

6. Though answer alleged that member had severed his connection with order before death, and reply claimed that withdrawal was irregular and procured through fraud. Wightman v. Grand Lodge A. O. U. W., 121 Mo. App. 252, 98 SW 829.

7. See Process, § C. L. 1449.

8. See Venue and Place of Trial, § C. L. 2236.

9. Where action to recover benefits was predicated on membership in association and its constitution and laws, and there was no policy or certificate and nothing remained of any contract except payment of money. Cigar Makers' International Union v. Huecker, 123 Ill. App. 336.

10. Acts 1896, No. 121, p. 89, providing that, in actions on certain insurance policies, general count in assumpsit shall be a sufficient declaration, held not to affect form of action or to make action of assumpsit appropriate where it was not so at common law, and hence not to make assumpsit proper remedy to recover on certificate under seal. Morrill's Adm'x v. Catholic Order of Foresters, 79 Vt. 479, 65 A 526.

11. Professedly benevolent and charitable character of fraternal societies does not exempt them from application of rule. Trotter v. Grand Lodge of Iowa Legion of Honor, 132 Iowa, 513, 109 NW 1099.

12. It being alleged that defendant was benefit society, that under charter and by-laws nearest relative was beneficiary, and that plaintiff's ward was nearest relative, held that suit was properly instituted in plaintiff's name. Social Benev. Soc. No. 1 v. Holmes, 127 Ga. 586, 56 SE 775. Action held properly brought by guardian of minor whom petition showed had right of action. Id. For death benefit payable to family of deceased, those persons whose relationship to him are legally counted in word "family" and not his legal representatives are entitled to sue. Jackson v. Brothers and Sisters of Promise [Ga. App.] 59 SE 11.

13. Certificate held sealed instrument so that action was properly brought in name of administratrix of member rather than by his sons, who were named as beneficiaries. Morrill's Adm'x v. Catholic Order of Foresters, 79 Vt. 479, 65 A 526.

14. Provision that no action should be maintained on contract unless brought within one year after member's death held not contrary to the public policy of Illinois. Dolan v. Royal Neighbors of America, 123 Mo. App. 147, 100 SW 498. Contract limitawithin a specified time after the rejection of the member's claim for benefits, the limitation does not commence to run until the member has notice of such rejection.<sup>16</sup>

Pleading.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1806</sup>—The usual rules of pleading apply,<sup>17</sup> including those as to exhibits,<sup>18</sup> amendments,<sup>19</sup> and the necessity of verification.<sup>20</sup> Allegations must be definite and certain,<sup>21</sup> and facts, not conclusions, must be alleged.<sup>22</sup> It is not necessary to set forth a copy of the written contract sued on, where its substance is properly alleged.<sup>23</sup> Plaintiff need not allege that the contract is in writing, though the law requires it to be.<sup>24</sup> A general allegation of corporate capacity is usually sufficient.<sup>25</sup> Defendant must plead forfeitures, if relied on,<sup>26</sup> and facts showing a right to any deductions authorized by the contract.<sup>27</sup> A general denial renders admissible all evidence directly tending to disprove one or more of the alle-

tion held restriction upon contractual obligation and not provision pertaining merely to remedy, and hence its validity was to be determined by the lex loci contractus rather than the lex fori. Id. Requirement that action should be commenced within 6 months after disallowance of plaintiff's claim held to refer to claim made upon proofs of loss and action commenced within 6 months after rejection of said claim was in time though more than 6 months had elapsed since defendant had notified plaintiff, before proofs were filed, that it would not pay. Munn v. Masonic Life Ass'n, 115 App. Div. 855, 101 NYS 91. Question of limitations held one of law for court, there being no dispute as to facts. Munn v. Masonic Life Ass'n, 115 App. Div. 855, 101 NYS 91.

15. Failure to sue within 6 months held not waived. Harris v. Phoenix Accident & Sick Benefit Ass'n, 149 Mich. 285, 14 Det. Leg. N. 445, 112 NW 935. Exclusion of evidence that beneficiary recorder of order persuaded plaintiff not to sue on certificate within year, and promised him that claim would be paid, held reversible error. Dolan v. Royal Neighbors of America, 123 Mo. App. 147, 100 SW 498.

16. Demurrer to plea of limitations held properly sustained where it was not alleged that member had notice of rejection. Switchmen's Union of North America v. Colehouse, 227 Ill. 561, 81 NE 696.

17. See, also Pleading, 8 C. L. 1355.

18. Where certificate, providing that member should comply with constitution, laws, etc., of order, was made exhibit, held not necessary to file copy of constitution and by-laws as an exhibit. Court of Honor v. Hutchins [Ind. App.] 79 NE 409. Fact that certificate attached to petition as exhibit designated defendant as a fraternal beneficiary society held not inconsistent with allegation of petition that it was a life insurance and beneficiary society, exhibit forming no part of allegation. Krause v. Modern Woodmen of America, 133 Iowa, 199, 110 NW 452.

19. Amendment held not to have added new cause of action and to have been properly allowed. Social Benev. Soc. No. 1 v. Holmes, 127 Ga. 586, 56 SE 775. Amendment held not to set up new cause of action but merely to have amplified original allegations and to have been improperly disallowed. Jackson v. Brothers & Sisters of Promise [Ga. App.] 59 SE 11.

20. See Verification, 8 C. L. 2255, for full treatment of this question.

21. Cause of action held set forth in exhibit to original summons in justice court with sufficient definiteness, especially in absence of timely special demurrer. Jackson v. Brothers & Sisters of Promise [Ga. App.] 59 SE 11. Petition held as against general demurrer, to have sufficiently set forth contract resulting from operation of rules and by-laws, though it did not allege issuance of certificate. Social Benev. Soc. No. 1 v. Holmes, 127 Ga. 586, 56 SE 775.

22. Averment that defendant was life insurance society held not put in issue by general allegation of answer, by way of conclusion, that it was fraternal beneficiary society. Krause v. Modern Woodmen of America, 133 Iowa, 241, 110 NW 452.

23. Petition held subject to special demurrer for failure to attach copies of charter and by-laws relied on as constituting contract sued on, where there was no allegation as to their substance but only an allegation by way of a conclusion as to their effect. Social Benev. Soc. No. 1 v. Holmes, 127 Ga. 586, 56 SE 775. Objection held not overcome by allegation that plaintiff did not have charter and by-laws but had served defendant with notice to produce them. Id.

24. As against general demurrer, will be presumed that it is. Social Benev. Soc. No. 1 v. Holmes, 127 Ga. 586, 56 SE 775. Allegation that contract was contained in by-laws, copy of which plaintiff alleged she did not have but had served notice upon defendant to produce, held to imply that it was in writing. Id.

25. Sufficient under Code, § 3627. Krause v. Modern Woodmen of America, 133 Iowa, 241, 110 NW 452.

26. Defendant has the burden of pleading and proving a forfeiture for nonpayment of assessments. Must show provision for forfeiture for nonpayment of assessments and that forfeiture in fact occurred. Gruwell v. National Council of K. & L. of S. [Mo. App.] 104 S. W. 884. Where defendant pleaded particular law, held that it could not rely on different one not pleaded. Id.

27. Claim that judgment was excessive in sum which defendant was entitled to deduct for reserve fund under stipulation in certificate held not open to consideration where it was not pleaded in answer. Gruwell v. National Council of K. & L. of S. [Mo. App.] 104 SW 884.

gations of the complaint.<sup>28</sup> In some states the facts relied on to negative corporate existence,<sup>29</sup> or the performance of conditions precedent,<sup>30</sup> must be specifically stated. In some states waiver may be shown under an allegation of full performance.<sup>31</sup>

Evidence. Presumptions and burden of proof. See 7 C. L. 1807—The presumption is against suicide,<sup>32</sup> and the insurer has the burden of proving it<sup>33</sup> by a preponderance of the evidence.<sup>34</sup> Where the insurer is exempted from liability in case of suicide unless the member is under treatment for insanity at the time, the burden is on plaintiff to show that he was under treatment.<sup>35</sup> The burden of proving forfeitures,<sup>36</sup> and death or injury from expected causes,<sup>37</sup> is ordinarily on the insurer. Where the evidence shows suspension of the insured, the beneficiary has the burden of showing reinstatement.<sup>38</sup> Plaintiff need not, in the first instance, prove the truth of representations or warranties in the application, but their falsity is a matter of defense.<sup>39</sup> Where a member while insane withdraws from the association and releases it from further liability, the burden is on it to show that the transaction was fair and made in good faith.<sup>40</sup> The court cannot take judicial notice that a society is a fraternal association.<sup>41</sup>

Admissibility. See 7 C. L. 1809—The usual rules of evidence apply,<sup>42</sup> including those as to the admissibility of declarations of a party,<sup>43</sup> and admissions against 28. Proofs held not admissible under general denial. Craiger v. Modern Woodmen of America [Ind. App.] 80 NE 429.

29. General allegation of corporate capacity cannot be put in issue by general denial or averment of different corporate capacity as a conclusion. Code, § 3628. Krause v. Modern Woodmen of America, 133 Iowa, 199, 110 NW 452.

30. General denial of general allegations of performance of conditions precedent held not to have put them in issue. Code, §§ 3626, 3628. Krause v. Modern Woodmen of America, 133 Iowa, 199, 110 NW 452. Though denials were general in their nature, held that they were sufficient to put burden on plaintiff to establish his general allegations that insured was member in good standing, that his dues had been paid, that proof of death had been furnished, etc. Supreme Lodge K of P. v. Crenshaw [Ga.] 58 SE 628.

31. Modern Woodmen of America v. Angle [Mo. App.] 104 SW 297.

32. Sovereign Camp Woodman of the World v. Bridges [Ind. T.] 104 SW 672; Hildebrand v. United Artisans [Or.] 91 P 542. As between accidental death and suicide, presumption is that death was accidental. Van Norman v. Modern Brotherhood of America, 134 Iowa, 575, 111 NW 992. Court will presume that death was result of accident where nothing more is shown than that it was brought about by a violent injury, character of which is consistent with theory of accident. Sovereign Camp, Woodmen of the world v. Boehme [Tex. Civ. App.] 97 SW 847. Original and amended proofs held not to have required court to take from jury presumption against suicide. Rohloff v. Aid Ass'n for Lutherans, 130 Wis. 61, 109 NW 989. If known facts are consistent with theory of natural or accidental death, presumption requires finding against suicide. Lindahl v. Supreme Court I. O. F., 100 Minn. 87, 110 NW 358; Zearfoos v. Switchmen's Union, 102 Minn. 56, 112 NW 1044.

33. Van Norman v. Modern Brotherhood of America, 134 Iowa, 575, 111 NW 992; Ol- son v. Court of Honor, 100 Minn. 117, 110 NW 374; Hildebrand v. United Artisans [Or.] 91 P 542; Sovereign Camp, Woodmen of the World v. Boehme [Tex. Civ. App.] 97 SW 847; Rohloff v. Aid Ass'n for Lutherans, 130 Wis. 61, 109 NW 989. Insurer must eliminate and disprove all other causes consistent with evidence. Zearfoos v. Switchmen's Union, 102 Minn. 56, 112 NW 1044. Where circumstantial evidence is relied on, defendant must establish facts excluding any reasonable hypothesis of natural or accidental death. Lindahl v. Supreme Court I. O. F., 100 Minn. 87, 110 NW 358.

34. Instructions requiring defendant to prove suicide with that degree of certainty which is required in criminal prosecutions, though erroneous, held harmless where jury found for defendant, and evidence warranted verdict even under instructions as given. Williams v. Supreme Court of Honor, 120 Ill. App. 263. Ultimate fact is required to be proved by preponderance of evidence only. Zearfoos v. Switchmen's Union, 102 Minn. 56, 112 NW 1044; Lindahl v. Supreme Court I. O. F., 100 Minn. 87, 110 NW 358.

35. If did commit suicide. Olson v. Court of Honor, 100 Minn. 117, 110 NW 374.

36. Must show provision for forfeiture for nonpayment of assessments and that forfeiture in fact occurred. Gruwell v. National Council of K. & L. of S. [Mo. App.] 104 SW 884.

37. Voluntary exposure to unnecessary danger or lack of due diligence in avoiding injury. Garcelon v. Commercial Travelers' Eastern Acc. Ass'n [Mass.] 81 NE 201.

38. Where evidence showed failure to pay assessment on time and consequent suspension. Woodmen of the World v. Jackson, 80 Ark. 419, 97 SW 673.

39. Court of Honor v. Clark, 125 Ill. App. 490.

40. Wightman v. Grand Lodge A. O. U. W., 121 Mo. App. 252, 98 SW 829.

41. Smith v. Grand Lodge A. O. U. W., 124 Mo. App. 181, 101 SW 662.

42. See, also, Evidence, 9 C. L. 1228.

43. Where beneficiary has no vested in-interest.<sup>44</sup> The constitution and laws of the order are generally admissible if part of the contract.<sup>45</sup> Proofs of death are admissible as evidence of the facts therein stated as against the beneficiary and in favor of the insured only in so far as they can be construed as admissions by the beneficiary against his interest.<sup>46</sup> They are, at most, only prima facie evidence of the facts therein stated.<sup>47</sup> The coroner's verdict is generally held to be inadmissible.<sup>48</sup> Where the by-laws provide that upon the death of a member the officers of the local society to which he belonged shall furnish full proof of death upon blanks furnished for that purpose, and give their opinion as to the validity of the beneficiary's claim, such officers must be considered the agents of the general society,<sup>49</sup> and their statements and admissions made against the interests of the general organization are competent evidence in an action on the benefit certificate.<sup>50</sup> Cases dealing with the admissibility of particular evidence on the issues of suicide,<sup>51</sup> waiver,<sup>52</sup> total disability,<sup>53</sup> and forfeiture,<sup>54</sup> will be found in the notes.

terest, statements and admissions of insured are admissible as against beneficiary in an action on certificate. Ogden v. Sovereign Camp Woodmen of the World [Neb.] 111 NW 797. On issue as to good standing of insured at time of his death, statements of deceased tending to show his understanding as to his standing in order. Id. In contest between two persons over proceeds of certificate, declarations made by insured to one of them, not dying declarations or part of res gestae, held inadmissible. Grand Lodge Colored K. of P. v. Mackey [Tex. Civ. App.] 104 SW 907.

44. Where laws provided that no attempted reinstatement should be effective unless member was in good health, and beneficiary relied on reinstatement, held that testimony of physician who attended member that beneficiary told him at the time that member had been sick for about three weeks held admissible as an admission of beneficiary, where it brought period of member's illness within time jury could have found, from other evidence, that reinstatement was attempted, and hence tended to show that he was not then in good health. Woodmen of the World v. Jackson, 80 Ark. 419, 97 SW 673. Declarations of officer of lodge, who took active part in procuring withdrawal card, concerning member's mental condition, held admissible as tending to show want of good faith in procuring release of defendant's obligation on benefit certificate. Wightman v. Grand Lodge A. O. U. W., 121 Mo. App. 252, 98 SW 829. Declaration that engagement had been broken off held admissible against one claiming proceeds of certificate as insured's affianced wife. Grand Lodge Colored K. of P. v. Mackey [Tex. Civ. App.] 104 SW 907.

45. In action of assumpsit to recover benefits, founded on membership and laws of order, held that constitution and by-laws were admissible to establish existence of duty to pay and to determine amount recoverable. Cigar Makers' International Union v. Huecker, 123 Ill. App. 336. Where plaintiff sued for benefits to which she became entitled under set of rules adopted after member joined order, and which provided for their amendment and alteration, held that amendments were relevant and admissible in so far as they affected claims or status of parties to action or of deceased member. Cigar Makers' International Union v. Huecker, 123 Ill. App. 336.

46. Statements of attending physician on blank included in proofs held inadmissible as admissions, in view of requirements of by-laws as to proofs and notice to physician printed on blank. Triple Tie Benefit Ass'n v. Wheatley [Kan.] 91 P 59. Authenticated copy of coroner's proceedings, evidence taken before him, and verdict, required by by-laws to accompany proofs, held inadmissible as evidence of facts therein stated to establish defense of suicide, there being nothing in contract to contrary, particularly where beneficiary, in proofs, denied truth of such facts. Craiger v. Modern Woodmen of America [Ind. App.] 80 NE 429.

47. Fact that proofs stated that member committed suicide held not ground for granting nonsuit or for dismissal. Rohloff v. Aid Ass'n for Lutherans, 130 Wis. 61, 109 NW 989. Original and amended proofs held not to have required court to take presumption against suicide from jury. Id.

48. Craiger v. Modern Woodmen of America [Ind. App.] 80 NE 429.

49. Hildebrand v. United Artisans [Or.] 91 P 542. Question whether proof was furnished by secretary of local society or by plaintiff's attorney held for jury under the evidence. Id. Where local secretary sent proofs of death to supreme secretary, held immaterial that she was assisted in preparing them by an attorney who was member of order and afterwards became attorney for beneficiary in action on certificate. Id. Question as to whether person assisting local secretary in preparing proofs did so as attorney or just as member of order at her request held proper. Id.

50. Hildebrand v. United Artisans [Or.] 91 P 542.

51. Certified copy of certificate of death made by physician and health officer, and filed in register's office as required by statute, held properly excluded as not best evidence. Rohloff v. Aid Ass'n for Lutherans, 130 Wis. 61, 109 NW 989. Fact that member was short in his accounts as financial secretary of a church may be shown. Rohloff v. Aid Ass'n for Lutherans, 130 Wis. 61, 109 NW 989. Evidence of trustee that he had made partial inquiries among church members and found that certain of them claimed to have made payments to deceased

FRAUD AND UNDUE INFLUENCE.

§ 1. Actual Fraud (1475).

§ 2. Inferences from Circumstances and Condition of Parties or From Intrinsic Nature of the Transaction (1483).

§ 3. Remedies (1487). Pleading (1491). Evidence (1492). Instructions (1494).

Scope of topic.—This topic treats of fraud and undue influence generally, being devoted principally to a consideration of the nature and elements of fraud, the application of the general principles herein propounded and considered being treated more exhaustively and particularly in the various topics devoted to the subject-matter of the fraud.<sup>55</sup> Remedies for fraud are herein considered, but also only in a general way, the particular treatment of such remedies being covered by topics specifically devoted thereto.<sup>56</sup> Fraud in its criminal aspect,<sup>57</sup> and conveyances fraudulent as to creditors,<sup>58</sup> are entirely excluded herefrom, as is also the measure of damages<sup>59</sup> and limitations of actions.<sup>60</sup>

§ 1. Actual fraud.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1813</sup>—The prime essentials of fraud are deception<sup>61</sup> and unjust or unfair treatment,<sup>62</sup> as distinguished from mere errors of judgment,<sup>63</sup> or breach of contract,<sup>64</sup> though the latter may constitute fraud where it amounts to a breach of trust,<sup>65</sup> or the promise itself was fraudulent.<sup>66</sup>

and taken receipts therefor held inadmissible as hearsay and because receipts were best evidence. Id.

52. Exclusion of evidence that beneficiary recorder of order persuaded plaintiff not to sue on certificate within year, and promised that claim would be paid, held reversible error. Dolan v. Royal Neighbors of America, 123 Mo. App. 147, 100 SW 498.

53. Exclusion of evidence on cross-examination, as to what plaintiff did in way of directing work on his farm held reversible error, though there was evidence that he directed it to some extent. Foglesong v. Modern Brotherhood of America, 121 Mo. App. 548, 97 SW 240.

54. Where evidence tended to show that members of certain lodge were also members of defendant association, and that if member of said lodge was "unfinancial" to extent of having forfeited membership therein he could not recover on policy issued by defendant, held that evidence that person to whom policy was issued was "financial" in said lodge was admissible in action on policy issued by defendant. Odd Fellows Ben. Ass'n v. Burton [Ark.] 104 SW 163.

55. See such titles as Agency, 9 C. L. 58; Attorneys and Counselors, 9 C. L. 300; Corporations, 9 C. L. 733; Judgments, 8 C. L. 530; Marriage, 8 C. L. 833; Mortgages, 8 C. L. 1022; Negotiable Instruments, 8 C. L. 1124; Non-Negotiable Paper, 8 C. L. 1167; Partnership, 8 C. L. 1261; Releases, 8 C. L. 1714; Sales, 8 C. L. 1751; Trusts, 8 C. L. 2169; Vendors and Purchasers, 8 C. L. 2216; Wills, 8 C. L. 2305.

56. See Deceit, 9 C. L. 935; Cancellation of Instruments, 9 C. L. 454; Reformation of Instruments, 8 C. L. 1708, and other topics relating to specific remedies.

57. See Criminal Law, 9 C. L. 351; Indictment and Prosecution, 8 C. L. 189; False Pretenses and Cheats, 9 C. L. 1353; Conspiracy, 9 C. L. 600; Forgery, 9 C. L. 1418.

58. See Fraudulent Conveyances, 7 C. L. 1841; also Bankruptcy, 9 C. L. 343.

59. See Damages, 9 C. L. 869.

60. See Limitation of Actions, 8 C. L. 521.

61. Mere request to broker by purchaser that deed should not mention a lease on the land held not fraud where no representations were made and vendor read and signed deed, as prepared, voluntarily and without objection. Weinhard v. Summer-ville [Wash.] 89 P 490. Fact that defendant in suit to set aside a deed made by an Alaska townsit trustee obtained his title in ex parte proceedings was not of itself sufficient to authorize a court of equity to inquire into the truth or falsity of the evidence upon which the trustee acted in confirming defendant's claim, where complainant was not prevented by fraud from appearing and presenting his claim, and it does not appear that the trustee failed to give the required notice of the proceedings. Miller v. Margerie [C. C. A.] 149 F 694.

62. Conveyance by father to son by former marriage held not in fraud of rights of second wife whom he was about to marry. Jenkins v. Rhodes, 106 Va. 564, 56 SE 332. Agreement that note given for engine was not to be put into circulation until purchaser had tried engine, the engine to be returned if not satisfactory, did not show that note was put into circulation fraudulently, when it did not appear that purchaser had tried engine or kept his part of agreement. First Nat. Bk. v. Person, 101 Minn. 30, 111 NW 730.

63. Fraud held not proved in award of contract to furnish court house to highest bidder, it being matter of discretion with board of supervisors who ratified the award as to whether it was best to pay the highest price and thus secure the assurance of good quality, etc. Raymond v. McKenna, 147 Mich. 35, 13 Det. Leg. N. 935, 110 NW 121.

64. Breach of contract is not necessarily fraud. First Nat. Bk. v. Person, 101 Minn. 30, 111 NW 730.

65. Evidence held to show that joint owner who had sold his interest to his co-owner for the former's part of original

Fraud may be accomplished by acts and artifices,<sup>67</sup> conspiracy,<sup>68</sup> representations,<sup>69</sup> or concealment.<sup>70</sup> A fortiori it may be accomplished by the concurrence of acts, representations, and concealment.<sup>71</sup>

A representation to be fraudulent must be false either in fact<sup>72</sup> or in effect,<sup>73</sup> and must relate to past or existing facts<sup>74</sup> as distinguished from mere hearsay,<sup>75</sup> purchase price which latter had paid was entitled, under agreement under which conveyance was made, to share in profits of sale made by such co-owner. Chambers v. Thompson [Ark.] 100 SW 79.

66. See post, this section.

67. Old and infirm person was induced by fraud and concealment to execute conveyance he did not intend to convey. Tolley v. Poteet [W. Va.] 57 SE 811. Procuring defendant's signature to contract for purchase of goods by representation that it was a simple order for goods, defendant having read the order and found it seemingly all right, but plaintiff's agent having by some artifice or trick substituted the contract for the order. Price v. Huddleston, 167 Ind. 536, 79 NE 496.

68. Conspiracy and fraud in obtaining deed held not proved. Saunders v. Wells [Iowa] 112 NW 205.

69. Where railroad agent miscounted number of cases of goods delivered and shipper affirmed that the count was correct, thus inducing agent to sign bill of lading for more than were delivered. Cohen Bros. v. Missouri, K. & T. R. Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 121, 98 SW 437. Representation that there was railroad right of way on land and stipulation as to deduction from purchase price in case vendor could not give good title thereto held not a representation that a railroad would soon be constructed through the land. Kincaid v. Price [Ark.] 100 SW 76. Principal bound by knowledge of agent notwithstanding fraud of agent, as against persons not privy to or having notice of such fraud. Armstrong v. Ashley, 204 U. S. 272, 51 Law. Ed. 482. Instruction that plaintiff must prove fraud of defendant "and" his agent held erroneous as excluding liability for fraud of agent. First Nat. Bk. v. Baldwin [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 563, 102 SW 786.

Question of fact: Where defrauded vendee testified fully and clearly to misrepresentations by vendor, though his testimony was uncorroborated. Sulkin v. Gilbert [Pa.] 67 A 415. Where there is any evidence tending to show fraudulent representations. Crosby v. Wells [N. J. Err. & App.] 67 A 295.

Evidence held sufficient to show false representation by warehouseman that warehouse in which plaintiff's goods were burned was fireproof. Clifford v. Universal Storage Warehouse & Exp. Co., 52 Misc. 595, 102 NYS 460. Evidence held to show that vendor falsely represented that he had made no prior contract affecting the land. Norris v. Hay, 149 Cal. 695, 87 P 380. Evidence held to sustain finding that false representations had been made. Rutherford v. Irby, 1 Ga. App. 499, 57 SE 927. Receipt for party's share of commissions on sales made by him and other party held secured by fraudulent representations as to amount. Sawyer v. Walker, 204 Mo. 133, 102 SW 544.

Evidence held insufficient to show making of any representation as to value of property sold. MacKellar v. Thompson, 103 NYS 853. Evidence held not to show representation by lessor that public road connected the two tracts covered by lease, but that he only observed that he had used a roadway or trail between such tracts for many years. Ahern v. Hindman, 101 Minn. 34, 111 NW 734. Where value represented to vendor by a third person was a fair one at the time, the fact that such person afterwards purchased from the first vendee in an entirely different transaction and that several years later the property was worth three times the original price paid did not show fraud. Long's Ex'r v. Owen, 30 Ky. L. R. 495, 98 SW 1010.

70. Finding of fraud in ordering goods when insolvent held sustained by evidence. National Bk. of Commerce v. Chatfield, Woods & Co. [Tenn.] 101 SW 765. Evidence discussed as to fraud in procurement of assignment of insurance policy. Mutual Life Ins. Co. of New York v. Lane, 151 F 276.

71. Fraudulent representations necessarily involve fraudulent concealment. Rutherford v. Irby, 1 Ga. App. 499, 57 SE 927. Sale by one partner to another induced by fraudulent representations as to financial conditions of firm and concealment of facts not known to seller held voidable at instance of seller. Goldsmith v. Koopman [C. C. A.] 152 F 173. Representation that party had certain land of certain value which he would exchange for lands of other party, thereby inducing latter to execute escrow which former secured without latter's consent, and then deeded the property to third person and purchasing land from another party and conveying it to the grantor in the escrow without his knowledge. Kempe v. Bennett, 134 Iowa, 247, 111 NW 926. Where bank officers recommended financial responsibility and trustworthiness of gang of conspirators and gamblers and expedited collection of checks obtained by such gang. Hobbs v. Boatright, 195 Mo. 693, 93 SW 934.

72. Boddie v. Ward [Ala.] 44 S 105; Champion Funding & Foundry Co. v. Heskett, 125 Mo. App. 516, 102 SW 1050. Falsity is question of fact for jury. Hawley v. Wicker, 117 App. Div. 638, 102 NYS 711. Finding that vendee did not know certain fact when he declared that he did not held not so contrary to evidence as to justify setting it aside. Burrows v. Fitch [W. Va.] 57 SE 283.

73. False representation may be made by presenting truth in such aspect or way as to create false impression. Tolley v. Poteet [W. Va.] 57 SE 811.

74. Gipe v. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co. [Ind. App.] 82 NE 471.

75. Actionable fraud cannot be predicated upon making and promulgation of corporation prospectus containing nothing warranties,<sup>76</sup> promises and agreements,<sup>77</sup> or forecasts,<sup>78</sup> or opinions and estimates.<sup>79</sup> This rule, however, is difficult of application, since it involves the determination in each particular case of the question as to what constitutes facts as distinguished from opinions.<sup>80</sup> The rule, moreover, is correct only in its generwhich can be construed as asserting that its statements were based on or true to the personal knowledge of the persons making them. Duryea v. Zimmerman, 121 App. Div. 560, 106 NYS 237.

Rule stated: Representations expressly stated to be on information from others do not constitute fraud where the party correctly repeats such information and believes it to be true, but it is otherwise if the information is intentionally misrepresented, or if he knows the information is false or the party falsely states that he has information when he in fact has none. Hansen v. Kline [Iowa] 113 NW 504.

76. Mere agreement that engine sold was in good condition held not to authorize inference that engine was falsely so represented to knowledge of seller. First Nat. Bk. v. Person, 101 Minn. 30, 111 NW 730.

77. Violation of an agreement to return a note under certain conditions, and not to use it as collateral outside of a certain locality, does not of itself show fraud in the procurement of the note. Hutchins v. Langley, 27 App. D. C. 234.

78. Representation of promoter that stock would be issued as full paid not ground for rescission of stock and bond subscription. Farwell v. Colonial Trust Co. [C. C. A.] 147 F 480.

79. Schell v. Alston Mfg. Co., 149 F 439. Mere opinion or estimate as to amount of timber on land given and received as an opinion or estimate between parties dealing at arm's length and having equal opportunities of informing themselves. Frey v. Middle Creek Lumber Co., 144 N. C. 759, 57 SE 464.

80. Representation of law book publisher to writer that article could be written in certain time seems to be mere matter of opinion. Chamberlayne v. American Law Book Co., 143 F 316. Statement of insurance agent that company was issuing certain kind of policy and would issue one to applicant held statement of fact and not mere opinion. Hartford Life Ins. Co. v. Hope [Ind. App.] 81 NE 595. Statement that combination was about to be formed for a certain purpose and that the value of the subject-matter of the transaction would thereby be increased held to relate to facts. Standard Interlock Elevator Co. v. Wilson [Pa.] 67 A 463. Statement of promoters to subscriber that all subscribers were ready and willing to sign notes or to pay cash for their subscriptions, thus inducing subscriber to sign notes. Luetzke v. Roberts, 130 Wis. 97, 109 NW 949. Allegations that confidential relations existed between defendant and testatrix, that latter was over eighty years old and dependent upon defendant for advice, and that defendant fraudulently caused testatrix to execute codicil without sufficient attestation, held to allege more than mere expression of opinion by which testatrix was misled, and to be a sufficient allegation of an actionable wrong. Lewis v. Corbin [Mass.] 81 NE 248. Representation by one that he was negotiating for the purchase of a tract of land which, it appeared, he was totally unable to purchase held not per se fraudulent. Saunders v. Wells [Iowa] 112 NW 205.

Legal effect of instruments is not a matter of fact. Tradesman Co. v. Superior Mfg. Co., 147 Mich. 702, 14 Det. Leg. N. 57, 111 NW 343. Representation by railroad agent to widow of deceased employee that she had to sign release both as individual and as administratrix only as matter of form in order to secure indemnity from a mutual relief fund held not to invalidate the release as defense to action by widow as administratrix for husband's death. Gipe v. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co. [Ind. App.] 82 NE 471.

Solvency and financial status: Solvency as a basis of credit may be represented as a fact. Phillips v. Hebden [R. I.] 65 A 266. Where bank officers recommended gang of gamblers and fraudulent conspirators as financially responsible and trustworthy. Hobbs v. Boatright, 195 Mo. 693, 93 SW 934. Proof of statement that a customer's dealings were satisfactory during a specified, limited period, and assent to customer's statement that during certain period he had paid his obligations before maturity, held not to sustain allegation of general representation of financial responsibility. Bartles v. Courtney, 6 Ind. T. 379, 98 SW 133.

Value: Generally, statements of value are mere statements of opinion. Church v. Marsh, 133 Iowa, 51, 110 NW 161; Long v. Kendall, 17 Okl. 70, 87 P 670; Guthrie v. Lyon [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 321, 98 SW 432. Trading land at excessive valuation held not per se fraud. Saunders v. Wells [Iowa] 112 NW 205. Representation as to market value of land held mere opinion and puffing. Kincaid v. Price [Ark.] 100 SW 76. Executor held not responsible as for a fraud for alleged false statement as to value of beneficiary's share where error was one of judgment in failing to fully appreciate the advancement in the value of realty. In re Cunningham's Estate, 212 Pa. 441, 61 A 993. Held question of fact for jury whether representations to purchaser of stock as to value of corporate assets were as to facts or were mere opinion. Hawley v. Wicker, 117 App. Div. 628, 102 NYS 711. Representations as to matters affecting value may constitute fraudulent representations of fact, as when vendee stated that he did not know whether oil had been discovered on the property. Burrows v. Fitch [W. Va.] 57 SE 283. Representations by purchaser that assessments were to be made against land sought to be purchased, that he was making offer to purchase at great risk of loss and principally for seller's benefit, and that he had already purchased another joint tenant's interest for same amount offered seller, held affirmations of fact. Dolan v. Cummings, 116 App. Div. 787, 102 NYS 91.

ality, and the question of fraud may depend upon the attitude of the parties and the intent with which the representation is made rather than upon its character.<sup>81</sup> Intent, moreover, is itself a matter of fact and as such may be the subject of a fraudulent misrepresentation,<sup>82</sup> and since a promise or agreement implies an intent to keep or forfeit it, a present intent not to do so renders the promise or agreement itself fraudulent.<sup>83</sup> A fraudulent intent is essential to actionable fraud,<sup>84</sup> and one charged with fraudulent representations must be shown to have had knowledge of their falsity, either actual<sup>85</sup> or implied.<sup>86</sup> A fraudulent intent or its equivalent is also essential to vitiating fraud,<sup>87</sup> but such intent may be implied or imputed.<sup>88</sup> So, also, reckless or negligent disregard for the truth may be evidence of actionable fraud,<sup>89</sup> though it does not of itself constitute such fraud.<sup>90</sup>

81. Representations as to title to land may constitute fraud, when made positively and with the intent that the vendee should rely thereon. Curtley v. Security Sav. Soc. [Wash.] 89 P 180.

Legal opinion by attorney not known by him to be false held not fraudulent representation. Fortune v. English, 226 Ill. 262, 80 NE 781.

Statements as to value held fraud when made with intention that other party shall rely thereon and with knowledge that he will so rely. American Hardwood Lumber Co. v. Dent, 121 Mo. App. 108, 98 SW 814. Where parties are not in equal position to know value and party misrepresents value intending other party to rely thereon. Champion Funding & Foundry Co. v. Heskett, 125 Mo. App. 516, 102 SW 1050. Where one party assumes to have special knowledge of value and other party relies on his statements. Riggins v. Trickey [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 496, 102 SW 918. Where statement is made with knowledge of its falsity and of the other parties ignorance and reliance. Smith v. Owsley [Ky.] 102 SW 277; Fisher v. Dippel [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 546, 102 SW 448.

82. Rogers v. Virginia-Carolina Chem. Co. [C. C. A.] 149 F 1.

83. Scoggin v. Mason [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 569, 103 SW 831; Rogers v. Virginia-Carolina Chem. Co. [C. C. A.] 149 F 1. Promise to take care of grantor. O'Brien v. Camp [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 974, 101 SW 557. Complaint alleging that defendant induced plaintiff to assign to him a land contract by fraudulent promises to advance certain funds to plaintiff until the latter could sell the land, and that the advances were not made, held to state a cause of action for breach of trust and defendant would not be allowed to hold the land, even if the representations inducing the assignment should be construed as being mere promises. Norgren v. Jordan [Wash.] 80 P 597. Evidence held insufficient to show agreement by defendant to purchase plaintiff's land at trust deed sale and to allow plaintiff to redeem it. Pankau v. Morrissey, 224 Ill. 177, 79 NE 643.

Intent not to pay for goods constitutes fraud vitiating the sale only when such intent existed at the time of or prior to the receipt of the goods. Ayres v. Farwell [Mass.] 82 NE 35. Insolvency at the time of the receipt of goods does not charge the buyer with the fraudulent intent not to pay for them. Id. Intention not to pay for goods existing at time of purchase constitutes fraud, though no fraudulent representations are made. Atlas Shoe Co. v. Bechard [Me.] 66 A 390. Bona fide intent to pay for goods at some future time will not obviate effect of fraudulent representations inducing the sale. Id.

84. Hartford Life Ins. Co. v. Hope [Ind. App.] 81 NE 595; Bartles v. Courtney, 6 Ind. T. 379, 98 SW 133; Duryea v. Zimmerman, 121 App. Div. 560, 106 NYS 237; Ahern v. Hindman, 101 Minn. 34, 111 NW 734; Curtley v. Security Sav. Soc. [Wash.] 89 P 180.

85. Curtley v. Security Sav. Soc. [Wash.] 89 P 180.

86. As where representations are made with reckless disregard for their truth. Curtley v. Security Sav. Soc. [Wash.] 89 P 180. When defendant positively stated that he knew the indorser of a note to be an owner of real estate in a certain city, when, as a matter of fact, he did not know it, and it was false, this was sufficient to take case to jury on question of knowledge of falsity. Farmer v. Lynch [R. I.] 67 A 449.

87. Fraudulent intent or its equivalent must exist to defeat recovery on instrument alleged to have been procured by fraud. Champion Funding & Foundry Co. v. Heskett, 125 Mo. App. 516, 102 SW 1050. In action on insurance policy, finding that valuation given by plaintiff in his application was his honest opinion held sustained by the evidence. Helm v. Anchor Fire Ins. Co., 132 Iowa, 177, 109 NW 605.

88. Reckless making of false statements as of own knowledge will constitute vitiating fraud, though no knowledge of such falsity is shown. Goodwin v. Fall [Me.] 66 A 727. Statement of fact which is not true where party was charged with duty of knowing truth is fraudulent in equity, though he honestly believed it to be true. Tolley v. Potec [W. Va.] 57 SE 811.

89. Shackett v. Bickford [N. H.] 65 A 252.

90. Shackett v. Bickford [N. H.] 65 A 252. False statements made through carelessness and in reckless disregard for their truth do not constitute actionable fraud where they are made in honest belief that they are true. Statement on sale of insurance business as to collection of premiums and balances due from agents, based on books and memoranda prepared previously for vendor's own use, held not actionable. Pittsburgh Life & Trust Co. v. Northern Cent. Life Ins. Co. [C. C. A.] 148 F 674.

but an intent to defraud may be implied from lack of belief in or a conscious indifference to the truth of the statement made.<sup>91</sup> A fraudulent representation, in order to be cognizable by the courts, must be material,<sup>92</sup> calculated to deceive,<sup>93</sup> and must actually deceive.<sup>94</sup> It must, moreover, be such as will justify reliance thereon,<sup>95</sup> which may depend upon the character of the representation<sup>96</sup> with relation to its materiality,<sup>97</sup> and the probability of deception,<sup>98</sup> to whom the representation is made,<sup>99</sup> the relation of the parties,<sup>1</sup> the relative knowledge of the

91. Shackett v. Bickford [N. H.] 65 A 252.

Rule stated: Where one makes a statement of fact, intending it to be relied on, he of necessity affirms his belief in its truth, and if such statement is untrue and he knows it or makes the statement without belief in its truth or with a conscious indifference to its truth, he is guilty of fraud. Shackett v. Bickford [N. H.] 65 A 252.

92. Gipe v. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co. [Ind. App.] 82 NE 471; Farwell v. Colonial Trust Co. [C. C. A.] 147 F 480. A representation is material when it is such that if it had not been made the transaction would not have been entered into by the other party. See Civ. Code, § 1568. Greenawalt v. Rogers [Cal.] 91 P 526.

Held material: Where parent positively refused to send daughter to certain school unless her former classmates attended such school, whereupon agent of school falsely represented that he had secured contracts for attendance of such classmates. Brown v. Search, 131 Wis. 109, 111 NW 210. On exchange of stores by two parties, it being agreed that the party paying the lesser rent was to pay the other party the difference, a representation by one of the parties as to amount of rent he was paying was material. Turner v. Ware [Ga. App.] 58 SE 310. Charge of court, which assumes that because husband acted for his wife in applying for membership for both himself and his wife in mutual benefit society any false representations which he may have made with reference to his own age, etc., affected equally the membership of his wife, held erroneous. Schwartz v. St. Elizabeth Roman and Greek Catholic Union, 9 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 337. Where vendee stated that he wanted the land for purpose of growing hay, and needed only small amount of timber, representations by vendor as to amount of timber on land held immaterial. Kincaid v. Price [Ark.] 100 SW 76. Materiality of representations by seller of stock as to corporate assets held for jury. Hawley v. Wicker, 117 App. Div. 638, 102 NYS 711.

93. Turner v. Ware [Ga. App.] 58 SE 310; Farwell v. Colonial Trust Co. [C. C. A.] 147 F 480.

94. Turner v. Ware [Ga. App.] 58 SE 310; Gipe v. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co. [Ind. App.] 82 NE 471; Sulkin v. Gilbert [Pa.] 67 A 415. Fraudulent representations held to have deceived. Champion Funding & Foundry Co. v. Heskett, 125 Mo. App. 516, 102 SW 1050. Purchaser of corporate stock held not deceived by statements furnished him by the corporation and which he used in inducing others to engage in the enterprise. Van Cleve v. Radford, 149 Mich. 106, 14 Det. Leg. N. 376, 112 NW 754.

95. Champion Funding & Foundry Co. v. Heskett, 125 Mo. App. 516, 102 SW 1050.

96. See, also, ante, this section, as to the necessity of the representation being of matters of fact, etc.

Subscribers to corporate stock held justified in signing notes for their subscriptions in reliance upon promoter's assertion that requisite number of subscriptions to make subscriptions binding had been secured and that all subscribers were ready to sign notes or to pay cash. Leuetzke v. Roberts, 130 Wis. 97, 109 NW 949.

97. See ante, this section.

Fraudulent representations by one party made as to inducement to proposed contract which was rejected by other party held not to affect new contract proposed by latter and accepted by former. Simpson v. Crane, 149 Mich. 352, 13 Det. Leg. N. 1071, 110 NW 1081.

98. See ante, this section.

That a roadway or trail between two tracts covered by lease was not a public highway but merely a track or trail over lands of strangers held so apparent that lessee must have observed it. Ahern v. Hindman, 101 Minn. 34, 111 NW 734. Statement of purchaser to broker that he had come in response to their correspondence held not necessarily to give broker notice of falsity of third party's representation that he had sent purchaser to broker. Shearer v. Hill, 125 Mo. App. 375, 102 SW 673. Where one falsely representing himself as having sent purchasers to broker requested broker not to let purchasers know that he had anything to do with sale, and purchasers lived at distance. Id. Party purchasing land was not entitled to rely on false statement as to number of fruit trees thereon, when the statement was corrected before the trade was consummated. Aldrich v. Scribner, 146 Mich. 609, 13 Det. Leg. N. 893, 109 NW 1121.

99. Any one may rely on representations made pursuant to a fraudulent scheme to defraud the public. Champion Funding & Foundry Co. v. Heskett, 125 Mo. App. 516, 102 SW 1050. Any one may rely on corporation prospectus promulgated generally for purpose of securing subscriptions. Cox v. National Coal & Oil Inv. Co., 61 W. Va. 291, 56 SE 494.

1. Rule that one guilty of negligence in relying on the statements of another does not apply where relations of trust and confidence exist, and hence children and heirs of mother held entitled to rely on statements of father, who was mother's administrator, whereby they were induced to advance money to the estate and to acquiesce in final account without examination and to withhold claims against the estate. Johnson v. Savage [Or.] 91 P 1082.

parties and their familiarity with the subject-matter,<sup>2</sup> or opportunity to investigate,<sup>3</sup> and must actually be relied on,<sup>4</sup> thus inducing the party so relying to act,<sup>5</sup>

2. Applicant for life insurance entitled to rely on assurances and representations of agent, though he had other means of information at hand. Mutual Life Ins. Co. v. Hargus [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 335, 99 SW 580. Representation as to market value of hay held not calculated to mislead vendees of land, one of whom was a farmer. Kincaid v. Price [Ark.] 100 SW 76. One holding himself out as a law writer able to perform the contract into which he is about to enter to write an article upon a certain subject and as conversant with such subject cannot rely on a representation of the other party as to the time it would take to write such article. Chamberlayne v. American Law Book Co., 148 F 316.

3. Dorsey v. Watkins, 151 F 340. One may rely on representations of material facts not open to inspection. Graybill v. Drennen [Ala.] 43 S 568. Receiver who sold valuable judgment for small amount held not to have equal opportunity with purchaser to ascertain real value. Files v. Rankin [C. C. A.] 153 F 537. One who is cheated by reason of his failure to take advantage of an offer and opportunity to investigate cannot ordinarily complain. Brooks v. Boyd, 1 Ga. App. 65, 57 SE 1093; Church v. Marsh, 133 Iowa, 51, 110 NW 161; Long v. Kendall, 17 Okl. 70, 87 P 670. One guilty of fraud cannot escape responsibility by sending his victim to a confederate for an opinion, nor by inducing him to make an investigation which will not disclose to him, though it might to an expert, the falsity of the statement. Barron v. Myers, 146 Mich. 510, 13 Det. Leg. N. 810, 109 NW 862. Mere fact that an investigation is made does not of itself preclude the right of reliance on representations made. Graybill v. Drennen [Ala.] 43 S 568. One may rely on descriptions of land situated at a distance without going to inspect it. Hansen v. Kline [Iowa] 113 NW 504. Vendee had right to rely on vendor's representations as to character of soil where ground was covered with snow. Lunscheon v. Wocknitz [S. D.] 111 NW 632. When right and opportunity to inspect land was equally held by and open to both parties, party had no right to rely on statements of other party. Arkadelphia Lumber Co. v. Thornton [Ark.] 104 SW 169. No right to rely on mere opinion as to value where there is ample opportunity to investigate the correctness of such opinion. Long v. Kendall, 17 Okl. 70, 87 P 670. Vendee may rely on representations of vendor as to title without searching public records. Curtley v. Security Sav. Soc. [Wash.] 89 P 180. Purchaser of land had right to rely on vendor's representation that no contract of sale had been made with anyone else. Norris v. Hay, 149 Cal. 695, 87 P 380. Whether applicant for life insurance was inexcusably negligent in not making use of present means of knowledge instead of relying on representations of agent held question of fact. Mutual Life Ins. Co. v. Hargus [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 335, 99 SW 580.

Representations as to written instruments: In absence of fiduciary relations between the parties or circumstances placing one of them in an advantageous position, a party is not entitled to sign a contract upon the representations of the other party as to its contents. Farlow v. Chambers [S. D.] 110 NW 94; Toledo Computing Scale Co. v. Garrison, 28 App. D. C. 243. Mere ignorance of contents of writing is no ground for avoidance by one who signed it. Missouri K. & T. R. Co. v. Craig [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 547, 98 SW 907. Representations as to contents of note held no defense where its terms were plain and clear and it did not appear that maker could not read. Guthrie & W. R. Co. v. Rhodes [Okl.] 91 P 1119. When party signing could read and was not prevented from reading the instrument by representations, he could not complain of trick or fraud. Rounsaville v. Leonard Mfg. Co., 127 Ga. 735, 56 SE 1030. Where one is induced by fraudulent representations to sign an instrument without reading it, he may avoid it on the ground that it does not represent the contract of the parties. Shook v. Puritan Mfg. Co. [Kan.] 89 P 653; St. Louis Jewelry Co. v. Bennett [Kan.] 90 P 246. Mortgage note secured by representation that it is a mortgage held secured by fraud. Wickham v. Evans, 133 Iowa, 552, 110 NW 1046. One signing contract in blank may dispute contract written above his signature as against party writing it. Martin v. Trainer, 125 Ill. App. 474. Negligence of the defrauded party is not available to the party perpetrating the fraud.

Ignorance and illiteracy may excuse one in relying upon representations as to contents of writing. Abercrombie v. Carpenter [Ala.] 43 S 746; American Standard Jewelry Co. v. Witherington [Ark.] 98 SW 695. Rule as to party being bound to know what he is signing does not apply where signers are too ignorant to understand the writing, and advantage is taken of such ignorance. Alexander v. Dickinson [Ark.] 101 SW 739. Release pleaded in defense held secured from plaintiff, who could not read English, by false representation as to contents. Creshkoff v. Schwartz, 53 Misc. 576, 103 NYS 782. Ignorant and unlettered grantor who by misrepresentations as to contents was induced to execute deed including property which she did not intend to convey held to have right to avoid the deed, though she neglected to read it before signing. Leonard v. Roebuck [Ala.] 44 S 390. One about to sign instrument must acquaint himself with contents unless his signature is procured by fraud, though he cannot read, as where party had daughter sign for him but did not ask her to acquaint him with contents. Fulton v. Messenger, 61 W. Va. 477, 56 SE 830.

4. Graybill v. Drennen [Ala.] 43 S 568; Arkadelphia Lumber Co. v. Thornton [Ark.] 104 SW 169; Brooks v. Boyd, 1 Ga. App. 65, 57 SE 1093; Gipe v. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co. [Ind. App.] 82 NE 471; Champion Funding & Foundry Co. v. Heskett, 125 Mo. App. 516, 102 SW 1050. Fact that investigation was made does not of itself show that the representations of the other party were not relied on. Graybill v. Drennen [Ala.] 43 S 568. Fact that party in acting on misrepresentations did not know his acts closed the contract, and that he would not have acted without investigation if he had known the legal effect of his acts, does not show that he did not rely on the representations. Fisher v. Dippel [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 546, 102 SW 448. Contracting engineers who, after investigation, contracted to construct water and irrigation pipe line could not defend, on ground of fraudulent representations, suit for breach of contract. Curran v. Smith [C. C. A.] 149 F 945. False representations by means of reports of corporation as bearing on validity of stock purchase where purchaser had no knowledge of such representations could not have been relied on. Scott v. Brusse, 148 Mich. 529, 14 Det. Leg. N. 264, 112 NW 317. Knowledge of insurance agent as to value of property alleged by company to have been overvalued by insured imputed to principal, regardless of whether the former communicated such knowledge to latter. Helm v. Anchor Fire Ins. Co., 132 Iowa, 177, 109 NW 605.

to his injury and damage<sup>6</sup> proximately resulting therefrom.<sup>7</sup> The concurrence

Corporation could not be deceived by representations and concealment by its sole stockholders in making sale to it, rights of subsequent stockholders not being involved. Old Dominion Copper Min. & Smelting Co. v. Lewisohn [C. C. A.] 148 F 1020. Heirs held to have relied on statements and advice of their friend, who was also a co-executor, in regard to conveyance to another executor who was also a creditor, and not upon statements of latter. Moss v. Jack [Cal.] 90 P 552. Vendee held to have relied on vendor's representations as to character and quality of land sold. Lunscheon v. Wocknitz [S. D.] 111 NW 632. Evidence held to show reliance on defendant's prompt payment of past accounts rather than on false statements as to ownership of property. Phillips v. Hebden [R. I.] 65 A 266. Purchaser of corporate stock held not to have relied on false representation as to value of stock. Scott v. Brusse, 148 Mich. 529, 14 Det. Leg. N. 264, 112 NW 117. Where subscriber to stock refused to give note to corporation's agent but made same payable to a friend to whom he gave authority to indorse it to corporation if he found matters as represented. Youle v. Posha [Kan.] 90 P 1090. No reliance where worthless check was given in payment of past debt. Goldstein v. Messing, 104 NYS 724.

5. Kincaid v. Price [Ark.] 100 SW 76; Gipe v. Pittsburg, etc., R. Co. [Ind. App.] 82 NE 471; Ahern v. Hindman, 101 Minn. 34, 111 NW 734; McNealy v. Bartlett, 123 Mo. App. 58, 99 SW 767; Champion Funding & Foundry Co. v. Heskett, 125 Mo. App. 516, 102 SW 1050; Farwell v. Colonial Trust Co. [C. C. A.] 147 F 480. No false representation as inducement to sale of goods can be implied from giving of worthless check two weeks after delivery of goods. Goldstein v. Messing, 104 NYS 724. Where one was induced to act by representations of another is a question of fact for the jury. Hawley v. Wicker, 117 App. Div. 638, 102 NYS 711.

Finding that court was not satisfied that plaintiff "relied" on representations of defendant, followed by finding for defendant, held to exclude issues of whether plaintiff acted upon such representations and whether the representations were false. Peabody v. Whitcomb [Mass.] 81 NE 193. Representations charged as fraud need not constitute sole inducement, it being sufficient if they materially contribute an inducement. American Hardwood Lumber Co. v. Dent, 121 Mo. App. 108, 98 SW 814. Where false representations of facts constituted controlling inducement, but reliance was also placed on promises as to future transactions. Damers v. Sternberger, 102 NYS 739.

6. Graybill v. Drennen [Ala.] 43 S 568; Bowen v. Waxelbaum [Ga. App.] 58 SE 784.

Damage where one was induced to exchange stock in one corporation for stock in another corporation by false representation that the latter corporation controlled the former. Jahn v. Reynolds, 115 App. Div. 647, 101 NYS 293. Where one holding option on property at $4,000 procured, through collusion with the vendor, a sale to himself and another for $6,000, each vendee paying $3,000, but $2,000 being returned to the holder of the original option, the other vendee was damaged, though property was worth $6,000. Douglas v. Richards, 116 App. Div. 27, 101 NYS 299.

No damage from fraud inducing taking of mortgage for antecedent debt, no rights or property being parted with in reliance on such fraud. Badger v. Pond, 105 NYS 546. Where worthless check was given in payment for goods long theretofore delivered. Goldstein v. Messing, 104 NYS 724. No damage shown from representation of publisher's agent that amount agreed to be paid plaintiff to write article on legal topic was equal to amount paid to publisher's most favored writer, it not appearing that publisher would in any event have paid plaintiff more than it agreed to pay him. Chamberlayne v. American Law Book Co., 148 F 316. No damage to subscriber to stock where promoter made false representation as to contract being held by corporation where such contract was thereafter secured and there was no loss by delay. Farwell v. Colonial Trust Co. [C. C. A.] 147 F 480. Fraudulent foreclosure decree will not be vacated for fraud where mortgagor had no defense. Bell v. Thompson, 147 Cal. 689, 82 P 327. Damage to publisher's agent from representations by publisher as to extent of his business held not proved. Tregner v. Hazen, 116 App. Div. 829, 102 NYS 139. Did not appear that agent for defrauded party was damaged so as to give him right to complain. Farmer v. Lynch [R. I.] 67 A 449.

7. Loss of house and lot which were exchanged for a farm held not to result from fraudulent representation as to interest on mortgage on farm whereby person receiving the farm in the exchange was led to make no provision for pay-of all the above mentioned elements and conditions constitutes fraud by means of fraudulent representations, and such fraud is cognizable by the courts.<sup>8</sup> Benefit to the guilty party is not essential to constitute a fraudulent representation or to authorize the courts to take cognizance thereof.<sup>9</sup>

Under ordinary circumstances a party to a transaction owes no duty of communication to the other party, and his mere silence will not constitute fraud,<sup>10</sup> but concealment or silence amounts to fraud where there is a duty to speak,<sup>11</sup> or where one of the parties makes representations or suggestions which put the other party off his guard,<sup>12</sup> and where one does speak it is his duty to speak the truth<sup>13</sup> and the whole truth.<sup>14</sup> As in the case of representations, concealment must relate to material facts in order to be cognizable by the courts as fraud.<sup>15</sup>

ment of such interest and farm was lost. Russell v. Stoops [Md.] 66 A 698. Though fraud does not cause substantial damage apart from subsequent events which reasonably may be expected to happen, if such events do happen the party guilty of the fraud will be chargeable with the consequences thereof, as where testator is induced to execute codicil in an invalid manner, and does not subsequently change his mind as to the legacy, and leaves estate sufficient to pay same, the legatee is damaged to extent of legacy lost. Lewis v. Corbin [Mass.] 81 NE 248. Allegations held insufficient to show that testator would not have changed his mind as to legacy. Id.

8. Trollinger v. Amirillo Sav. & Loan Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 684, 103 SW 199. False representation by owner of joint interest in property as to price offered by third party for property, whereby co-owner was induced to sell his interest to his co-owner at certain price which was less than former's share of price actually offered and paid by purchaser. Christy v. Campbell, 36 Colo. 261, 87 P 548. Representations as to solvency of building and loan company inducing subscription to stock held fraudulent to subscriber's damage, though he had asked for no loan. Trollinger v. Amarillo Sav. & Loan Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 684, 103 SW 199. Representations by stockholders that company was insolvent, whereby another stockholder was induced to join in petition for dissolution in order that the stockholders making the representation might succeed to the business of the corporation, which they did by forming new corporation, etc., thus rendering stock in old corporation valueless. Vogt v. Vogt, 104 NYS 164. Question of fraud in making such representations held not adjudicated by decree of dissolution on ground of insolvency. Id.

9. Cox v. National Coal & Oil Inv. Co., 61 W. Va. 291, 56 SE 494.

10. Ferguson-McKinney Dry Goods Co. v. Grear [Kan.] 90 P 770. Concealment by purchaser of value of judgment purchased from bank receiver. Files v. Rankin [C. C. A.] 153 F 537. Mere silence by one liable to a cause of action is not fraudulent concealment, under Rev. St. 1874, c. 83, § 22, relating to running of limitations. Fortune v. English, 226 Ill. 262, 80 NE 781. Concealment of a mistake of fact in the execution of a contract does not, in the absence of fiduciary relations between the parties, vitiating the contract. Morgan v. Owens, 228 Ill. 598, 81 NE 1135.

11. Land agent who purchased land from principal communicated fact of tax sale but concealed fact, which he knew, that sale was void. Cantwell v. Nunn [Wash.] 88 P 1023. Ordering goods without communicating change of financial condition, since making of statement which expressly purported to continue in effect until advice to contrary. Atlas Shoe Co. v. Bechard [Me.] 66 A 390. Financial statement furnished as basis of credit and expressly purporting to extend to future orders until advice to contrary rendered fraudulent by subsequent purchase of goods without communication as to change of condition. Id.

Partners in dealing with each other owe the duty of full disclosure, and a concealment inducing action upon the part of another partner is fraud, as where partner concealed facts bearing on condition of partnership affairs, thereby inducing assignment of interest of another partner. Goldsmith v. Koopman [C. C. A.] 152 F 173. The relation between attorney and client does not require the attorney to disclose to his client that the latter has a cause of action against him for misrepresenting that land was not encumbered and that mortgage thereon could not be enforced, it not appearing that attorney knew his representations to be false. Fortune v. English, 226 Ill. 262, 80 NE 781.

12. Though the suggestions amount to mere opinion. Files v. Rankin [C. C. A.] 153 F 537. Sale of judgment in favor of bank by receiver thereof induced by fraudulent concealment of securities held by bank to secure such judgment, and of which receiver was excusably ignorant, held voidable by receiver. Id. Where railroad company's agent neither contradicted nor explained statement of husband to wife that a release already executed by him barred a recovery by her. Rockwell v. Capital Trac. Co., 25 App. D. C. 98.

13. Where vendor asked vendee if he knew of certain matter affecting value of the property which vendor did not know. Burrows v. Fitch [W. Va.] 57 SE 283.

14. Failure of insurance agent, who knew that applicant had not been vaccinated, to explain exception from liability in case of death by smallpox. Hartford Life Ins. Co. v. Hope [Ind. App.] 81 NE 595.

15. Concealment by debtor of ownership

§ 2. Inferences from circumstances and condition of parties or from intrinsic nature of transaction. See 7 C. L. 1818.—Fraud may be inferred from the facts proved.<sup>16</sup> Such inference is generally designated as a prima facie presumption of fraud, usually by way of undue influence,<sup>17</sup> and may be inferred from the inherent nature of the transaction<sup>18</sup> in connection with the opportunity for deception and unjust advantage afforded by the advantageous position of the parties benefited by the transaction,<sup>19</sup> as where the other party is old and feeble,<sup>20</sup> or unable to guard of property worth $400 held not material to settlement secured by representations that he owned no property whatever, where debt settled was $3,500, amount paid by debtor was $100, and his total debts were $1,500, the representations of the debtor being construed to mean and to have been understood as meaning that $100 was the very best he could do in making the settlement. Greenawalt v. Rogers [Cal.] 91 P 526.

16. Rogers v. Rogers [Del.] 66 A 374. From willfully false statements in regard to material facts. Goodwin v. Fall [Me.] 66 A 727.

17. Fraud and undue influence distinguished: Fraud is never presumed, but undue influence may be presumed from mere existence of confidential relations. Hutchinson v. Bibb, 142 Ala. 586, 38 S 754.

NOTE. Gifts inter vivos and testamentary gifts distinguished: "In respect to the question of undue influence arising from confidential relations as affecting the validity of deeds and wills, the courts have made a distinction between transactions inter vivos and transactions of a testamentary character. In transactions inter vivos, where confidential relations exist between the parties, the law raises up the presumption of undue influence, and puts upon the donee, when the dominant party in the transaction, the burden of repelling such presumption by competent and satisfactory evidence; and this is usually done by showing that the grantor had the benefit of competent and independent advice of some disinterested third party. In transactions testamentary in character, the mere existence of confidential relations between the testator and the beneficiary under the will are not, in and of themselves alone, sufficient to raise the presumption of undue influence in the making of the will that would avoid the will in the absence of rebutting evidence. This subject was gone over with at length in Bancroft v. Otis, 91 Ala. 279, 8 S 286, 24 Am. St. Rep. 904, where many cases bearing on the question are cited and reviewed. There must be something more to avoid the will, such as fraud or coercion. As was said in Bancroft v. Otis, 91 Ala. 279, 8 S 286, 24 Am. St. Rep. 904. 'The undue influence which will avoid a will must amount to fraud or coercion, ideas which involve actual intent to control the testator against his will. The law never presumes fraud or the evil intent and unlawful acts essential to the coercion here contemplated. There must be some proof of these things. They cannot be considered to have been done merely because the proponent had the power to coerce. Undue influence with respect to gifts and conveyances inter vivos is a very different matter. It may exist without either coercion or fraud. It may result entirely from the confidential relation, without activity in the direction of either coercion or fraud, on the part of the beneficiary occupying the position of dominant influence. It is upon him not only to abstain from deceit and duress, but to affirmatively guard the interests of the weaker party, so that their dealing may be upon a plane of equality and at arm's length. To presume undue influence in such a case, therefore, is not to presume fraud or coercion, or any act which is malum in se, but simply the continuance of the influence which naturally inheres in and attaches to the relation itself.'" Hutcheson v. Bibb, 142 Ala. 586, 38 S 754.

18. Sale of expectant interest by an heir is presumed to be fraudulent. McAdams v. Bailey [Ind. App.] 80 NE 171.

19. In case of a conveyance by person, susceptible to undue influence, of his entire property, without consideration, to one in a position of trust and confidence, under suspicious circumstances which suggest wrong, accompanied by proof of opportunity and disposition to exert undue influence, a presumption of fraud arises. Quinn v. Quinn, 130 Wis. 548, 110 NW 488.

Inadequacy or lack of consideration and incapacity of party to whom it moved. Allen's Adm'rs v. Allen's Adm'rs, 79 Vt. 173, 64 A 1110. Conveyance to son without consideration. Quinn v. Quinn, 130 Wis. 548, 110 NW 488. Presumption of fraud from drunkenness of purchaser and exorbitance of price. Fagon v. Wiley [Or.] 90 P 910. Gross inadequacy of consideration and mental weakness of recipient thereof. Studebaker v. Faylor [Ind. App.] 80 NE 861. Inadequacy of consideration and ignorance of recipient. Leonard v. Roebuck [Ala.] 44 S 390. Confidential relation between husband and wife, age of latter, and lack of consideration. Ring v. Ring, 108 NYS 498. Deed to mortgaged property secured from very aged and feeble mortgagor by holder of mortgage note for inadequate consideration held prima facie fraudulent. Leech v. Hirshman [Miss.] 44 S 33. Finding that conveyance without consideration by aged and mentally feeble man to his tenant with whom he lived was the result of undue influence held sustained by the evidence. Hopkins v. Ormsby, 149 Mich. 598, 14 Det. Leg. N. 574, 113 NW 281. Contract whereby old and feeble person conveyed property in consideration of care and support held procured by fraud. Studebaker v. Faylor [Ind. App.] 80 NE 861.

Note: "What constitutes fraud in a given case is almost impossible of definition. It his own interests by reason of mental<sup>21</sup> or physical incapacity,<sup>22</sup> or by reason of his ignorance,<sup>23</sup> or where there exists between the parties relations of trust and confidence,<sup>24</sup> such as husband and wife,<sup>25</sup> parent and child,<sup>26</sup> brothers and is not a thing susceptible of ocular observation or physical demonstration. In averments necessary to show fraud in transactions between parties equally armed and equipped for the contest, much more is required than in transactions between parties grossly disproportioned, for any cause in their ability to protect themselves or their property. Under the latter circumstances, it becomes the duty of the strong to guard and protect the weak, not to circumvent or defraud him. Absolute fairness of contract and honesty of conduct is required of the stronger party; and averments that show that this rule of action, under such circumstances, was not followed, is sufficient to state a cause of action and invoke the aid of the courts. And this may be shown by intrinsic evidence or unfairness in the transaction itself. Ashmead v. Reynolds, 134 Ind. 139, 33 NE 763, 39 Am. St. Rep. 238; McCormick v. Milan, 5 Blackf. [Ind.] 509; Marshall v. Billingsly, 7 Ind. 250; Harding v. Wheaton, 2 Mason 378, Fed. Cas. No. 6,051; McLean v. Equitable, etc., Co., 100 Ind. 127, 50 Am. Rep. 779; Scovill v. Barney, 4 Or. 288; Allore v. Jewell, 94 U. S. 506, 24 Law. Ed. 260; Ikerd v. Beavers, 106 Ind. 483, 7 NE 326; Yount v. Yount, 144 Ind. 133, 43 NE 136. In the case last cited, the court say, on page 139 of 144 Ind., on page 138 of 43 NE: 'It was not necessary to allege in the complaint that appellee was at the time of unsound mind, or in such a state of mental imbecility as to render her entirely incapable of making a deed. It is sufficient to allege facts which show that from her sickness and infirmities she was at the time in a condition of mental weakness, and that there was either gross inadequacy of consideration for the conveyance, or that by improper practices, undue influence, misapprehension, or concealment, or taking advantage of her ignorance, she was induced to execute a deed which in the free exercise of her deliberate judgment she would not have done. Undue influence generally occurs when one of the parties is weak in intellect, or is so situated or related to the other party as to be under his influence. What the relation may be is not material, if confidence is reposed and influence obtained. When one of the parties is old and feeble, illiterate, and weak-minded from sickness, or other cause, very slight circumstances will cast the burden on the other party.'" Studebaker v. Faylor [Ind. App.] 80 NE 861.

20. Studebaker v. Faylor [Ind. App.] 80 NE 861; Hopkins v. Ormsby, 149 Mich. 598, 14 Det. Leg. N. 574, 113 NW 281; Leech v. Hirshman [Miss.] 44 S 33; Tolley v. Potteet [W. Va.] 57 SE 811.

21. Sbarbero v. Miller [N. J. Eq.] 65 A 472. Incapacity by reason of drunkenness. Fagan v. Wiley [Or.] 90 P 910. Where mental capacity of party signing release pleaded as defense was only issue, it was error to refuse an instruction that verdict should be for defendant unless jury believed plaintiff was incapable. Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Craig [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 547, 98 SW 907.

Evidence held to show capacity of grantor to make deed. Bishop v. Hilliard, 227 Ill. 382, 81 NE 403; Reese v. Shutte, 133 Iowa, 681, 108 NW 525. Grantor held to have been mentally capable. McIntyre v. Bullock, 30 Ky. L. R. 261, 97 SW 1117. Transaction must be result of incapacity. Reese v. Shutte, 133 Iowa, 681, 108 NW 525.

22. Assignment by blind residuary legatee of her legacy held procured by fraud of niece by marriage, the legatee being led to believe that she was signing merely an instrument relating to the adoption of the assignee by the niece. United States Trust Co. v. Baker, 51 Misc. 657, 102 NYS 194.

23. Where contract was signed by ignorant negroes upon representation that it had been prepared by their attorneys and there was a material interlineation which was not read to them, or if read was not explained. Alexander v. Dickinson [Ark.] 101 SW 739. Deed secured from ignorant and aged negroes who could not read or write under pretense that it was a mortgage held a mortgage subject to redemption. Abercrombie v. Carpenter [Ala.] 43 S 746. Deed including property which ignorant woman did not intend to convey, upon inadequate consideration, other party being experienced real estate man. Leonard v. Roebuck [Ala.] 44 S 390. Finding that release of loss under fire policy was obtained from illiterate policy holder by fraud held sustained by evidence. Capital Fire Ins. Co. v. Montgomery [Ark.] 99 SW 687. Contract between foreigner who had resided here a long time and understood English and some of his fellow countrymen who reposed great confidence in him and had very limited knowledge of English. Ballouz v. Higgins, 61 W. Va. 68, 56 SE 184. Presumption of fraud by foreigner who had resided here for long time and was well acquainted with English in securing contract from fellow countrymen who reposed great confidence in him and who knew little English held not rebutted. Id.

24. White v. Penuel [Del.] 66 A 362; Hunter v. McCammon, 104 NYS 402; Fjone v. Fjone [N. D.] 112 NW 70. Where distributee of one estate who was administratrix of another estate assented to amicable action by administratrix of former estate on claim against latter estate and gave testimony favorable to plaintiff. White v. Penuel [Del.] 66 A 362. Conveyance by mentally diseased woman held secured by undue influence of friends, relations, and spiritual adviser. Birdsall v. Leavitt [Utah] 89 P. 397. Confidential relations not proved. Knight v. Rawlings [Mo.] 104 SW 38.

25. Conveyance, without consideration, by old woman to her much younger husband, held induced by fraud and undue influence. Ring v. Ring, 105 NYS 498. Evidence held to show that deed from husband to wife was obtained by undue in-sisters,<sup>27</sup> persons between whom family relations exist,<sup>28</sup> personal representatives and beneficiaries of estate,<sup>29</sup> guardian and ward,<sup>30</sup> attorney and client,<sup>31</sup> partners or business associates,<sup>31a</sup> principal and agent.<sup>32</sup> Fraud, however, will not be influence. Yordi v. Yordi [Cal. App.] 91 P 348; Allen's Adm'rs v. Allen's Adm'rs, 79 Vt. 173, 64 A 1110. Fraud presumed where shrewd business man prepared, under advice of lawyer, antenuptial contract whereby his intended wife released, without consideration, her rights as survivor, and induced her to execute it without consulting friends or obtaining advice. Maze's Ex'rs v. Maze, 30 Ky. L. R. 679, 99 SW 336.

26. Transactions between child and aged and infirm parent who has reposed confidence and trust in the child will be closely scanned by a court of equity, and is prima facie presumed fraudulent. Reese v. Shutte, 133 Iowa, 681, 108 NW 525. Where parent was old and had become dependent upon child to whom gift was made, equity would presume that parent did not appreciate the consequences of his act. Post v. Hagan [N. J. Err. & App.] 65 A 1026. Conduct of father who was his wife's administrator in securing settlement held fraud upon children. Johnson v. Savage [Or.] 91 P 108. Conveyance to son without consideration. Quinn v. Quinn, 130 Wis. 548, 110 NW 488. Deed from mother to son held secured by fraud. Smith v. Lindner [S. C.] 58 SE 610. Fraud presumed where aged mother ignorant of English language conveyed property to son for only nominal consideration. Arellanes v. Arellanes [Cal.] 90 P 1059. Undue influence exercised by son on mother in securing conveyance of all her property. Fjone v. Fjone [N. D.] 112 NW 70. Conveyance by mother to daughter held induced by fraud and undue influence. Hunter v. McCammon, 104 NYS 402. Evidence held to sustain finding that deed by mother to children was secured by undue influence. Ferguson v. Heffner [Ky.] 103 SW 270. Discharge executed by aged father to son of purchase price of property conveyed to son and of mortgage securing such price, thus virtually disinheriting the aged mother, held secured by fraud and undue influence. Smith v. Gardner, 147 Mich. 670, 14 Det. Leg. N. 23, 111 NW 347. Father who was old and feeble conveyed his land to son. Couch v. Couch [Ala.] 42 S 624. Conveyance by old and feeble father to trusted son. Id. Finding that conveyance from aged and easily influenced father to two sons was secured by undue influence held sustained by the evidence. Groesbeck v. Groesbeck [Or.] 88 P 870. Bona fides of conveyance without consideration by aged father to trusted son held not proved. Quinn v. Quinn, 130 Wis. 548, 110 NW 488. Deed vacated where procured by son from father who was sixty-six years old, and who thought he was executing release of curtesy in deceased wife's property. Morgan v. Owens, 228 Ill. 598, 81 NE 1135. Where son holding power of attorney from father and managing his affairs procured property from him. Griesel v. Jones, 123 Mo. App. 45, 99 SW 769. Where administrator prior to intestate's death was the latter's son-in-law and confidential agent, the father-in-law being old and feeble, a transfer of bonds by father to the son-in-law for inadequate consideration held presumptively fraudulent. State v. Johnson, 144 N. C. 257, 274, 56 SE 922. Conveyance by aged woman to grandson occupying confidential position held induced by undue influence. Tipton v. Tipton [Tenn.] 104 SW 237.

Witnesses stating mental feebleness of father who executed note to son must state opportunity for observations as to condition of father. Hoffman's Estate, 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 646.

Independent advice to parent must be shown by child to rebut presumption of fraud in connection with gift. Post v. Hagan [N. J. Err. & App.] 65 A 1026. "Proper, independent advice," in this connection means that donor had preliminary benefit of conferring fully and privately with one competent to advise and disinterested in the donee. Id. Distinguishing Haydock v. Haydock's Ex'rs, 34 N. J. Eq. 570, 38 Am. Rep. 385, and Slack v. Rees, 66 N. J. Eq. 447, 59 A 466, 67 L. R. A. 393, and applying the last case.

27. Conveyance by sister to sister without consideration held under evidence prima facie fraudulent. Balthrop v. Todd [N. C.] 58 SE 996. Where brother who was familiar with value of property owned by him and his sister and who had received offer of certain amount therefor purchased his sister's interest for less than such value and amount without disclosing the same to her, she being ignorant thereof. Dolan v. Cummings, 116 App. Div. 787, 102 NYS 91. Finding that defendant had exercised undue influence over his brother in securing conveyance from him held sustained by the evidence. Champeau v. Champeau [Wis.] 112 NW 36.

28. Deed from aged man to person with whom he was living and upon whom he was more or less dependent for assistance, etc., held procured by undue influence. Hurley v. Kennally [Mo.] 103 SW 937.

29. Act of coexecutor in securing transfer of property of estate to third party and then to corporation for his own benefit held fraud on other executor in his trust capacity. Smith v. David Stevenson Brew. Co., 117 App. Div. 690, 102 NYS 672.

30. Where guardian is also parent, settlement short time after ward reached majority is presumptively fraudulent. Evidence held insufficient to rebut presumption. Faum v. Hartman, 226 Ill. 160, 80 NE 711.

31. Settlement of claim brought about by attorney who after employment by the party liable was employed by the other party vacated. Whitcomb v. Collier, 133 Iowa, 303, 110 NW 836.

31a. Finding that conveyance obtained by one from his business associate who was helpless in business matters, at the time of which helplessness it appeared that the former was disposed to take advantage, was not secured by undue influence, held not sustained by the evidence. Allen v. Bryant [Cal. App.] 88 P 294. Where agent ferred from merely suspicious circumstances,<sup>33</sup> or from the fact that one of the parties receives the greater benefit,<sup>34</sup> or is better fitted to guard his own interests,<sup>35</sup> or from the relationship of the parties,<sup>36</sup> and the presumption, when it does arise, is a presumption of fact and not of law,<sup>37</sup> and transactions, therefore, between parties occupying relations of trust and confidence will be upheld when not shown to be fraudulent,<sup>38</sup> or, a fortiori, where good faith is affirmatively proved.<sup>39</sup> The of vender secretly acted as joint purchaser, thus obtaining the confidence of the other purchasers which he abused, held fraud. Houts v. Scharbauer [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 556, 103 SW 679. Partner who had withdrawn money from firm was induced by other party to surrender property on representation that assets would not pay debts and by threats of prosecution. Greenwell v. Negley [Ky.] 101 SW 961.

32. Where trusted agent was beneficiary of transaction with principal. Taylor v. Vail [Vt.] 66 A 820. Division of commissions by agent with purchaser held not alone sufficient to show fraud on principal. MacKellar v. Thompson, 103 NYS 853. Conveyance by principal to land agent held void because of representations of agent that land had been sold for taxes and that principal had been divested of all interest therein, though agent knew that sale was void. Cantwell v. Nunn [Wash.] 88 P 1023.

33. Burrows v. Fitch [W. Va.] 57 SE 283.

34. Inadequacy of consideration not alone sufficient to stamp a transaction as fraudulent. Allen's Adm'rs v. Allen's Adm'rs, 79 Vt. 173, 64 A 1110. Absolute presumption of adequate consideration indulged where vendor had been dead eight years and vendee was also dead, as against heirs of vendor. Gougenheim's Heirs v. Ermann, 118 La. 577, 43 S 170.

35. Ignorance or incapacity of one of the parties to a contract is insufficient to sustain a finding of fraud where it does not appear that the other party knew of such ignorance or incapacity. Where plaintiff signed release pleaded in defense without knowing what it was. Probate Court v. Enright, 79 Vt. 416, 65 A 530. Mere fact that maker of note cannot write and signs by his mark raises no presumption of fraud in procurement of signature, the presumption being that he knows the contents of the note, especially where he executes and acknowledges a deed of trust to secure the note. Dawson v. Wombles, 123 Mo. App. 340, 100 SW 547. Fraud will not be inferred from the mere ignorance of a party to a written instrument of its contents in the absence of such fraud causing such ignorance. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Williams [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 672, 99 SW 141. No presumption of fraud from age alone. Gougenheim's Heirs v. Ermann, 118 La. 577, 43 S 170. Mere fact of drunkenness of one of the parties raises no presumption of fraud against the other party. Fagan v. Wiley [Or.] 90 P 910.

36. Hutcheson v. Bibb, 142 Ala. 586, 38 S 754.

Parent and child: Father executed note to son. Hoffman's Estate, 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 646. No presumption of fraud in assignment to child in absence of proof of relations of confidence and dependence incident to incapacity of parent. Cooper v. Moore, 104 NYS 1049. Gift by father to son not presumed fraudulent in absence of incapacity or dependence on the part of the former. McCord v. McCord [Iowa] 113 NW 552. Note from father to son not presumptively fraudulent, fraud or undue influence being dependent upon the influence exerted and the mental condition of the father. Rogers v. Rogers [Del.] 66 A 374. Payments of money by a parent to a child presumed to constitute gift. Jenning v. Rohde, 99 Minn. 335, 109 NW 597. Instructions as to presumptions and burden of proof held correct as applied to circumstances. Id. Gift from parent to child not presumptively fraudulent. Vaughn v. Vaughn, 217 Pa. 496, 66 A 745. Facts on which instruction was based held not to raise presumption of undue influence in execution of deed by father to son. Bain v. Bain [Ala.] 43 S 562. Fraud not presumed from grant from mother to daughter with whom and her husband the mother was living. Bishop v. Hilliard, 227 Ill. 382, 81 NE 403. Undue influence on part of son in obtaining personal property from father held, under the evidence, a question for the jury. Griesel v. Jones, 123 Mo. App. 45, 99 SW 769.

Husband and wife: No presumption of fraud from mere fact of conveyance by wife to husband without consideration. Yordi v. Yordi [Cal. App.] 91 P 348.

Personal representative and legatee or heir: Dealings with legatee not per se fraudulent. Stapleton v. Haight [Iowa] 113 NW 351. Did not arise where administrator occupying position of trust and confidence with respect to heir secured from latter a deed of trust for the benefit of creditors of the estate. Boddie v. Ward [Ala.] 44 S 105.

37. The presumption of undue influence in respect to gifts by a man to his mistress is one of fact and not of law. Platt v. Ellas, 186 N. Y. 374, 79 NE 1.

38. Contention that conveyance was not read to grantor held not sustained by evidence (Fontenette v. Kling, 118 La. 152, 42 S 756), or presumption of fraud from mere lack of consideration for conveyance by wife to husband (Yordi v. Yordi [Cal. App.] 91 P 348). Mere absence of consideration for an instrument under seal given by a father to his son is immaterial as between the payee and the obligor or his heirs and legatees. Hoffman's Estate, 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 646. Consideration held not so inadequate as to justify inference of fraud. McIntyre v. Bullock, 30 Ky. L. R. 261, 97 SW 1117. Contention that consideration for conveyance was grossly inadequate held not sustained. Fontenette v. Kling, 118 La. 152, 42 S 756. Evidence held not to show mental incapacity of defendant's assignor. Sbarbero v. Miller [N. J. Eq.] 65 A 472. Evidence rule as to presumptions from dealings between persons occupying positions of trust and confidence does not apply to transactions whereby the relationship is established.<sup>40</sup>

The essence of undue influence is the substitution of minds or volitions,<sup>41</sup> and it may be exercised without fraud.<sup>42</sup>

§ 3. Remedies.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1820</sup>—Fraud vitiates a transaction as to the party chargeable with the fraud,<sup>43</sup> and as to their privies<sup>44</sup> and persons having notice

held not to show that value of leasehold secured from alleged lunatic was of greater value than the amount paid therefor. Id. Where defendant in ejectment failed to establish plaintiff's knowledge of his grantor's incapacity, the judgment did not necessarily adjudicate such capacity. Id. Evidence held not to show that quitclaim deed from legatee to executor was obtained by fraud. Stapleton v. Haight [Iowa] 113 NW 351. Legatee who quitclaimed to executor could not plead ignorance of conditions and limitations of bequest or of things incident to due course of administration. Id. Fraud not shown by fact that in suit against infant the guardian ad litem was appointed at plaintiff's request. Harris v. Bigley [Iowa] 111 NW 432. Mere failure of guardian to produce evidence known and available in suit against ward held not alone sufficient to authorize vacation of decree for fraud. Id. Fraud not shown by mere fact that guardian ad litem appointed by plaintiff's request failed to make active defense where case was fairly tried by court and the facts themselves developed the defense. Id. Fraud in proceedings by guardian to sell ward's property held not established. Sansom v. Wolford, 60 W. Va. 380, 55 SE 1020. Fraud in obtaining release from ignorant person held not proved. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Williams [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 672, 99 SW 141. Deed from old and ignorant man. McCaskill v. Scotch Lumber Co. [Ala.] 44 S 405. Held not to sustain finding of fraud in securing contract from illiterate parties who could not read. Sellers, Bullard & Co. v. Grace [Ala.] 43 S 716. Evidence held not to show incompetency of grantor who executed deed to child. Boyle v. Robinson, 129 Wis. 567, 109 NW 623. Evidence held not to show undue influence inducing deed from parent to child. Id. Evidence held not to show that note executed by father to son was fraudulent. Hoppman's Estate, 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 646. Mere fact that father was aged and infirm when he executed note to son insufficient to show fraud, especially where there is evidence of good faith. Id. Fraud cannot be predicated upon evidence of feebleness of mind of father who executed note to son where period covered by evidence does not extend to time of execution of note. Id. Conveyance by father to son held not proved to have been procured by undue influence. Jenkins v. Rhodes, 106 Va. 564, 56 SE 332. Evidence held insufficient to sustain finding that deed from mother to son was procured or induced by fraud. Thompson v. Lanfair, 127 Ga. 557, 56 SE 770. Evidence held not to show any fraud or undue influence in procurement of deed from mother to son. McClellan v. O'Connor [Wash.] 91 P 562. Securities held by attorney and upon which he claimed a lien held not shown to have been acquired by fraud. Heyward v. Maynard, 103 NYS 1028.

39. Evidence held to show that vendor willingly sold his property after full explanation as to nature and effect of each act. Fontenette v. Kling, 118 La. 152, 42 S 756. Finding of absence of fraud or undue influence as to deed from mother to son held sustained. Akers v. Akers [Ky.] 101 SW 353. Finding that conveyance by aged mother ignorant of English language to son for nominal consideration was a bona fide gift held sustained by evidence. Arellanes v. Arellanes [Cal.] 90 P 1059. Finding that there was no fraud in sale to drunken man held sustained by the evidence, though it appeared that the price was exorbitant, the property, however, being worth more to purchaser than any one else by reason of its location with relation to other property owned by him. Fagan v. Wiley [Or.] 90 P 910. Finding of bona fides in transactions leading to conveyance by heirs to executor who was also a creditor held sustained by the evidence. Moss v. Jack [Cal.] 90 P 552.

Attorney held not to have secured conveyance of and authority to sell client's land by fraud, the client's claim that she did not know she executed such conveyance or authority being contradicted by the evidence. Burchell v. Collier, 148 Mich. 248, 14 Det. Leg. N. 65, 111 NW 748. Attorney for one who was about to institute proceedings against his wife for divorce and for settlement of property rights held not guilty of fraud or undue influence in uniting with wife in conveyance under power of attorney of client's property to children of latter's sister subject to life estate in him, he being round to be mentally capable but of spendthrift habits, and the conveyance being in a measure for his benefit. Jones v. Hughes [Iowa] 110 NW 900.

Sale of expectant interest will be sustained if made for a fair price and the ancestor consents thereto. McAdams v. Bailey [Ind. App.] 80 NE 171.

40. Attorney and client. Title Guarantee & Trust Co. v. Stenberg, 103 NYS 857; Birdsall v. Leavitt [Utah] 89 P 397.

41. Rogers v. Rogers [Del.] 66 A 374. Mere advice, argument, or persuasion does not constitute undue influence, though it has its desired effect. Bishop v. Hilliard, 227 Ill. 382, 81 NE 403. Question is not whether the subject of the influence knew what he was doing, but how his volition was produced. Couch v. Couch [Ala.] 42 S 624.

42. Birdsall v. Leavitt [Utah] 89 P 397. Fraud and undue influence compared and distinguished. Hutcheson v. Bibb, 142 Ala. 517, 38 S 754.

43. Stock subscription notes the execu-of the fraud,<sup>45</sup> and, subject to the rights of innocent third parties<sup>46</sup> and to the doctrine of estoppel,<sup>47</sup> renders the transaction voidable at the election of the defrauded party;<sup>48</sup> but such election must be exercised promptly<sup>49</sup> by repudiating

tion of which was induced by representation that certain number of shares required to render subscriptions binding had been secured. Luetzke v. Roberts, 130 Wis. 97, 109 NW 949. Deed held void on account of fraud and undue influence in its procurement. Studebaker v. Paylor [Ind. App.] 80 NE 861. Settlement procured by fraud held not binding. Shearer v. Hill, 125 Mo. App. 375, 102 SW 673. For other instances see cases cited ante, §§ 1, 2.

44. One may become a privy to the fraud of another by ratification and acceptance of benefits of the fraud of the latter. Joint assignee of partnership interest held chargeable with notice of fraud inducing same. Goldsmith v. Koopman, 152 F 173.

45. Purchaser who has or is charged with notice of the fraud of his grantor acquires no better title than the latter had. Burns v. Kennedy [Or.] 90 P 1102.

46. Fraud gives rise to only a personal claim and goes to the motives and not to the formal constituents of a legal transfer and can affect a title only when the owner takes with notice or without giving value. Fidelity Mut. Life Ins. Co. v. Clark, 203 U. S. 64, 51 Law. Ed. 91. Mere knowledge of confidential relations between parties to transaction will not charge third persons with notice of any undue influence exercised in such transaction. Boddie v. Ward [Ala.] 44 S 105. Where husband induced wife to join in conveyance of homestead by false representation that a cash consideration would be paid and they would buy another homestead with it, and grantee connived by accepting deed reciting a cash consideration. Scoggin v. Mason [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 569, 103 SW 831. A party defrauded into making a conveyance is not estopped as against a general creditor of the grantee where the latter's reliance on the grantee's apparent ownership is not clearly established and it also appears that he was as negligent in extending the credit as was the grantor in making the conveyance. Rihner v. Jacobs [Neb.] 113 NW 220. Subscriber to corporate stock cannot rescind subscription where credit has been extended to corporation on faith thereof. Marion Trust Co. v. Blish [Ind. App.] 79 NE 415. Where creditor connived at debtor's false representations as to latter's financial standing, thus enabling him to procure goods from another which were afterwards transferred to creditor. Parlin & Orendorff Co. v. Glover [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 589, 99 SW 592. Holder of mortgage note held not bona fide purchaser. Wickham v. Evans, 133 Iowa, 552, 110 NW 1046. One holding lease by transfer through mesne process from lessee held not chargeable with latter's fraud in procuring lease where former was not connected therewith and had no notice thereof. Jennings-Heywood Oil Syndicate v. Houssiere-Latreille Oil Co. [La.] 44 S 481. Probate court's decree of distribution will not be set aside for fraud as against stranger to record who has purchased property from a distribute unless the purchaser is connected, by actual or constructive notice, with the fraud. In re Kenny's Estate [Minn.] 106 NW 344. Bona fide transferee of negotiable paper before maturity and without notice of fraud between the original parties takes title free from the effect of such fraud. Harrell v. National Bk of Commerce [Ga.] 57 SE 869. Civ. Code 1895, § 3696, providing that holder of note is presumed to be a bona fide holder for value but that such presumption is negated by fraud in the procurement, refers solely to fraud of holder. Id.

47. Estoppel: Grantor of parol easement which by fraudulent representations as to title he induced grantee to purchase is estopped to assert as defense against the fraud the invalidity of such an easement. Storseth v. Folsom [Wash.] 88 P 632. One who has recovered a judgment against a corporation as such cannot hold the incorporators liable as partners on the ground that they falsely represented themselves as constituting a corporation. Rossow v. Burke, 52 Misc. 118, 101 NYS 608. Neither corporation nor its receiver acting in its behalf can complain of fraud in issue of stock without compensation where all stockholders and officers were implicated in the transaction and no one else is interested in or affected by the result. Bostwick v. Young, 118 App. Div. 490, 103 NYS 607.

Not estopped: No merger of fraud in contract procured thereby. Gubbins v. Ashley, 146 Mich. 453, 13 Det. Leg. N. 844, 109 NW 841. Conveyance procured by fraud cannot operate by way of estoppel, and hence may be attached by the grantor on the ground of fraud. Goodwin v. Fall [Me.] 66 A 727. Life policy holder not estopped to assert that policy was not the kind he intended to secure and which the agent assured him he was securing. Mutual Life Ins. Co. v. Hargus [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 335, 99 SW 580.

48. Eldorado Jewelry Co. v. Darnell [Iowa] 113 NW 344; Richards v. School Tp., 132 Iowa, 612, 109 NW 1093; Tolley v. Poteet [W. Va.] 57 SE 811; Cox v. National Coal & Oil Inv. Co., 61 W. Va. 291, 56 SE 494.

49. Graybill v. Drennen [Ala.] 43 S 568; Richardson v. Lowe [C. C. A.] 149 F 625; Gallagher v. O'Neill [Neb.] 111 NW 582. See Cancellation of Instruments, 9 C. L. 454; Contracts, 9 C. L. 654. When one discovers that fraud has been practiced upon him, he is entitled to a reasonable time in which to determine whether to ratify or repudiate the transaction. Stackpole v. Schmucker, 225 Ill. 502, 80 NE 314. Repudiation of purchase of stock in mining corporation over a year after purchase and after purchaser had visited and investigated the mines and assisted in selling stocks to others held under the circumstances, the seller not being injured by the delay, not such laches as would preclude relief. Barron v. Myers, 146 Mich. 510, 13 Det. Leg. N. 858, 109 NW 862.

Acting on advice of attorney may prevent the transaction<sup>50</sup> unconditionally<sup>51</sup> and unequivocally<sup>52</sup> or, otherwise, an election to affirm will be implied.<sup>53</sup> An election once made is final whether it be to repudiate<sup>54</sup> or to affirm.<sup>55</sup> A transaction is absolutely void and not merely voidable when the fraud is such as to entirely exclude the volition of the defrauded party.<sup>56</sup> delay from being laches. Smith v. Linder [S. C.] 58 SE 610. The question of delay may be affected by the relation of the parties and mother held not required to take such prompt action to secure relief against fraud of daughter as would be required against a stranger. Hunter v. McCammon, 104 NYS 402.

50. Refusal to perform a contract while it is still entirely executory is a sufficient repudiation. Brown v. Search, 131 Wis. 109, 111 NW 210. One fraudulently induced to purchase property may take proper steps for the preservation of the property after the discovery of the fraud, but if he does more he will be deemed to have waived the fraud and elected to affirm the sale. Employment of agent to operate fruit farm which principal was induced by fraud to purchase and operation of farm by agent. Stackpole v. Schmucker, 225 Ill. 502, 80 NE 314. Purchaser of option on plant owned by corporation not estopped to complain of seller's fraud in falsely representing that he had power to sell where purchaser demanded performance of the contract by corporation but immediately thereafter repudiated the contract and the other party was not misled. Gubbins v. Ashley, 146 Mich. 453, 13 Det. Leg. N. 844, 109 NW 841. When one desires to hold some of several parties to a fraud responsible, he should rescind, and not without their knowledge place it beyond his power to secure redress, which would have been substantially effectual, from another party to the fraud. Saunders v. Wells [Iowa] 112 NW 205.

51, 52. Richardson v. Lowe [C. C. A.] 149 F 625.

53. Fraud of purchaser in inducing acceptance of long time note upon representation that it would be paid in six hours held waived by employment of purchaser by seller for several weeks thereafter and a month's delay in bringing suit. Warren v. Osborne [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 110, 97 SW 851.

Failure to make defense at law on ground of fraud deprives defendant of right to equitable relief against judgment, as where defendant had notice of scire facias to revive judgment but did not appear and present his defense. McCormick v. McCormick, 104 Md. 325, 65 A 54. Affirmation by re-ten-tion of benefits. Gallagher v. O'Neill [Neb.] 111 NW 582. Where party treats property sold to him as his own after discovery of fraud in sale to him. Graybill v. Drennen [Ala.] 43 S 568; Stackpole v. Schmucker, 225 Ill. 502, 80 NE 314. Operation of mines after discovery of fraud inducing their purchase and after such fraud had been set up in defense at suit to fore-close purchase-money mortgage held waiver of fraud. Richardson v. Lowe [C. C. A.] 149 F 625. Allegation of rescission of stock subscription insufficient where there was no allegation of offer to return certificate of stock or of demand for return of consideration, though worthlessness of stock was alleged. Marion Trust Co. v. Blish [Ind. App.] 79 NE 415. Where advantage was taken of old and feeble person to procure conveyance of property, failure to restore held not ratification. Studebaker v. Faylor [Ind. App.] 80 NE 861. As to necessity of restoration, see Cancellation of Instruments, 9 C. L. 454; Contracts, 9 C. L. 654. Fraud in inducing insured to take out policy held waived by payment of premiums after discovery of fraud. Hartford Life Ins. Co. v. Hanlon [Ky.] 104 SW 729.

Delay of six months in making objection to trust deed on account of misrepresentation as to value of property, and then accepting six months later a deed to the property pursuant to terms of trust deed, and retaining both deeds for six months more, held waiver. Guthrie v. Lyon [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 321, 98 SW 432. Policy holder estopped to assert that changes should have been made in policy when he kept it for over year after it was returned by company. Robertson v. Covenant Mut. Life Ins. Co., 123 Mo. App. 238, 100 SW 686. Subscriber held not to have waived fraud of promoter in securing subscription by delay induced by assurance of promoter that if he would wait his money and more would be returned to him, no rights of third parties having intervened. Cox v. National Coal & Oil Inv. Co., 61 W. Va. 291, 56 SE 494. Acts relied on by defendant as waiver of plaintiff's right to rescind held not done pending negotiations for settlement. Richardson v. Lowe [C. C. A.] 149 F 625.

Knowledge essential to ratification, waiver, or estoppel. Graybill v. Drennen [Ala.] 43 S 568. Acceptance of conveyance of part of property the original conveyance of which was secured by fraud will not estop original grantor from asserting the fraud where he accepts such conveyance in ignorance of the fraud. Tolley v. Potteet [W. Va.] 57 SE 811. Use of proceeds of release before discovering that it had been induced by fraudulent representation that the cause of action had already in legal effect been released. Rockwell v. Capital Trac. Co., 25 App. D. C. 98. When one has evidence sufficient to reasonably actuate him to rescind and on which he has once acted, no subsequent discovery of cumulative evidence can operate to excuse a waiver or to revive the lost right to rescind. Richardson v. Lowe [C. C. A.] 149 F 625.

54. Waiver by acceptance of benefits does not operate to destroy the effect of a repudiation once legally accomplished. Rescission of purchase of horse by offer to return which was refused held not affected by subsequent occasional use of the horse. Hayes v. Woodham, 145 Ala. 597, 40 S 511.

55. Richardson v. Lowe [C. C. A.] 149 F 625. Party, after full investigation instigated by the discovery of the fraud, ratified contract and accepted benefits thereof. Kertson v. Kertson [Neb.] 110 NW 750.

56. Where fraud causes a mistake which

One who has been defrauded has an election of several remedies.<sup>57</sup> He may repudiate and refuse to carry out the transaction,<sup>58</sup> and when sued by the other party may set up the fraud as a defense,<sup>59</sup> or may recoup for damages though he has not repudiated,<sup>60</sup> or, when he himself is the plaintiff, may avoid a defense as based on fraud,<sup>61</sup> or he himself may take the initiative and sue for relief either at law<sup>62</sup> or in equity.<sup>63</sup> It is commonly declared that courts of law and equity have concurrent jurisdiction,<sup>64</sup> but the correct rule is that equity's jurisdiction of fraud rests upon the fundamental basis of all equitable jurisdiction,<sup>65</sup> which prevents the meeting of minds. Eldorado Jewelry Co. v. Darnell [Iowa] 113 NW 344. Deed secured by undue influence and delivered without grantor's consent held invalid even as to third parties, regardless of the grantee's participation in the fraud. Birdsall v. Leavitt [Utah] 89 P 397. Where possession of undelivered deed was secured by fraud and there was never any delivery, purchaser from grantee got no title. Burns v. Kennedy [Or.] 90 P 1102.

57. Modlin v. Roanoke R. & Lumber Co. [N. C.] 58 SE 1075.

58. May refuse to receive goods the order for which was procured by fraud. Eldorado Jewelry Co. v. Darnell [Iowa] 113 NW 344.

59. Turner v. Ware [Ga. App.] 58 SE 310; Modlin v. Roanoke R. & Lumber Co. [N. C.] 58 SE 1075. In action on contract for purchase of goods. Price v. Huddleston, 167 Ind. 536, 79 NE 496. That indorsement was secured by fraud held complete defense against liability of indorser. Roessle v. Lancaster, 104 NYS 217. Assuming that fraud in procurement of contract was defense to suit to restrain interference therewith, evidence held insufficient to show such fraud. Beekman v. Marsters [Mass.] 80 NE 817.

Answer construed as setting up fraud in procurement of order for goods and also countermand of order before shipment. Rounsaville & Bro. v. Leonard Mfg. Co., 127 Ga. 735, 56 SE 1030. Defense of fraud in procurement of note sued on held not sustained. Steven v. Henderson [Neb.] 110 NW 646. Fraud in procurement of plaintiff's title may be pleaded as defense to ejectment brought by one claiming under the defrauded party. Phelps v. Nazworthy, 226 Ill. 254, 80 NE 756. Defendant in ejectment claiming under administrator of plaintiff's grantor may set up fraud in plaintiff's title. Doherty v. Courtney, 150 Cal. 606, 89 P 434. Ejectment cannot be defended on ground that plaintiff obtained his deed by fraud, only remedy to test validity of deed being in equity. Loranger v. Carpenter, 148 Mich. 549, 14 Det. Leg. N. 273, 112 NW 125.

60. See generally, Set-off and Counterclaim, 8 C. L. 1875. Vendee, with full knowledge of vendor's fraud, cannot go on and perform contract, thus voluntarily subjecting himself to damages, and thereafter recover same, or set them off in action for purchase price, but where vendee has executed his part of contract he may plead fraud by way of failure of consideration in an action on purchase-money note though he has waived his right to rescind. Richardson v. Lowe [C. C. A.] 149 F 625. Where order for goods is procured by fraud, the buyer may receive the goods and recoup for damages. Eldorado Jewelry Co. v. Darnell [Iowa] 113 NW 344. Where vendor colluded with one of two joint vendees to cause other vendee to pay $2,000 in cash and give note for $1,000 in payment for his half interest in property actually sold for only $4,000, the defrauded vendee could not be compelled to pay the note, and the loss must fall on vendor. Douglass v. Richards, 116 App. Div. 27, 101 NYS 299. Fraudulent representations as a defense in an action by a vendor for the purchase money does not necessarily involve an impeachment of the sufficiency of the deed, and the vendee's testimony alone is sufficient to take the case to the jury. Sulkin v. Gilbert [Pa.] 67 A 415.

61. Release pleaded in defense held invalid for fraud in procurement. Creshkoff v. Schwartz, 53 Misc. 576, 103 NYS 782. Plaintiff may meet a defense of accord and satisfaction by showing that the settlement was procured by fraud. Whitehead v. Trussed Concrete Steel Co., 51 Misc. 664, 101 NYS 250.

62. Fraud is remediable at law though it relates merely to the consideration of the contract or conveyance attacked. Goodwin v. Fall [Me.] 66 A 727. May rescind by own act and sue for what he parted with. Ritko v. Grove, 102 Minn. 312, 113 NW 629.

Action for damages, see Deceit, 9 C. L. 935.

Trespass quare clausum fregit for cutting timber on lands which grantor was induced by defendant's fraud to include in cutting permit. Goodwin v. Fall [Me.] 66 A 727. Rescission of sale and trover for goods sold. Atlas Shoe Co. v. Bechard [Me.] 66 A 390. Since conveyances induced by actual fraud are void ab initio, such conveyances may be attacked in ejectment, by the real owner (Mead v. Chesbrough Bldg Co. [C. C. A.] 151 F 998), but fraud arising from mere breach of trust is solely of equitable cognizance, and cannot be relied on by the plaintiff in ejectment to recover the property conveyed (Id.).

Assumpsit lies under Comp. Laws 1897, § 10,421, to recover back purchase price paid in a sale induced by fraud. Gubbins v. Ashley, 146 Mich. 453, 13 Det. Leg. N. 844, 109 NW 841.

63. See Cancellation of Instruments, 9 C. L. 454.

64. Phelps v. Nazworthy, 226 Ill. 254, 80 NE 756; Modlin v. Roanoke R. & Lumber Co. [N. C.] 58 SE 1075. Cross bill for rescission on account of fraud and answer setting up failure of consideration are not inconsistent defenses in a suit for the purchase price of property. Richardson v. Lowe [C. C. A.] 149 F 625.

65. See Equity, 9 C. L. 1110.

is the inadequacy of the remedy at law,<sup>66</sup> and where the circumstances are such that no action at law lies, equity has exclusive jurisdiction.<sup>67</sup> Equity will not relieve one from the consequences of his own fraud.<sup>68</sup>

Pleading. See 7 C. L. 1822.—Fraud is not cognizable by the courts unless pleaded<sup>69</sup> and an issue of fraud must be clearly raised,<sup>70</sup> but an express averment of fraud is not necessary.<sup>71</sup> General allegations of fraud are not sufficient to raise the issue,<sup>72</sup>

66. Farwell v. Colonial Trust Co. [C. C. A.] 147 F 480. No jurisdiction of suit to abate purchase price on ground of fraudulent representations as to quantity and quality, since damages caused thereby may under Code 1852, § 2240, be set off at law, a large part of purchase price still remaining unpaid. Williams v. Neal [Ala.] 44 S 551.

Note: "The case of Bell v. Thompson, 34 Ala. 633, many times approved in this court, seems to settle this question. It was there said: 'Under the Code (section 2240—the set-off statute) the claim of the complainant, for an abatement of the purchase-money, or for damages on account of such misrepresentations, may be allowed as a set-off in the action at law; or it may be recovered in an independent suit at law against the vendor. Holley v. Younge, 27 Ala. 203; Gibson v. Marquis, 29 Ala. 668; Munroe v. Pritchett, 16 Ala. 785, 50 Am. Dec. 203. It is a well-settled doctrine of this court, that a court of equity will not take jurisdiction of a case, upon the mere ground that the complainant is entitled to compensation on account of a deficiency of the land sold, or to damages for the fraudulent misrepresentations of the vendor, either as to its quantity or quality. Such a claim, though well founded, is not recognized as an independent ground of equitable relief, and will not be enforced by a court of chancery except as an incident to some other matter of equitable cognizance, or in a case where the remedy at law is inadequate, or where some peculiar equity in favor of complainant arises out of the circumstances of the case,' etc. In Smith's Ex'r v. Cockrell, 66 Ala. 77, it was said: 'Fraud of itself is never a distinctive ground of equity jurisdiction; that is, it is never, of itself, a foundation which will uphold a bill in equity. On the contrary, fraud is, in many cases, cognizable in a court of law.' Story's Eq. Jur. § 60. In Sadler v. Robinson, 2 Stew. [Ala.] 520, this court said: 'On what ground, then, the appellees ask the interposition of a court of equity, we are unable to comprehend. It cannot be because they charge their vendor with fraud, for every circumstance alleged as fraudulent, could it avail them, is fully examinable at law. No matter how gross the fraud may be, if the party can have full, complete and adequate redress at law, he cannot go into a court of equity. Russell v. Little, 28 Ala. 160.' We have recently gone over this question in the case of Wilson v. Miller, 143 Ala. 264, 39 S 178, 111 Am. St. Rep. 42, in which the majority of the court adopted the view maintained by the court in Smith's Ex'r v. Cockrell, 66 Ala. 77, and from which we have no reason now to dissent."—Williams v. Neal [Ala.] 44 S 551.

67. Where in order to state the cause of action it was essential to allege facts such as would authorize the court to set it aside and there had been no breach by defendant.

Robertson v. Covenant Mut. Life Ins. Co., 123 Mo. App. 238, 100 SW 686.

68. Specific performance decreed of contract between McK. and Z. on the one hand and M. on the other hand, notwithstanding acts collusively done by M. and Z. to render such performance impossible. McKenna v. Mickelberry, 228 Ill. 460, 81 NE 1072.

69. In suit based on fraud, defendant cannot introduce evidence of fraud by plaintiff where former has not pleaded such fraud. First Nat. Bk. v. Baldwin [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 563, 102 SW 786. Where accord and satisfaction is pleaded by a defendant, the plaintiff may attack the settlement as fraudulent though he has not theretofore pleaded fraud. Whitehead v. Trussed Concrete Steel Co., 51 Misc. 664, 101 NYS 250.

70. Not raised by allegation that release purporting to cover certain matters related to other matters and was so understood by the parties, there being no allegation of deception or imposition. Rowland v. St. Louis & S. F. R. Co., 124 Mo. App. 605, 102 SW 19. Allegation that object of vacation of public street was to give title to one owning land on each side thereof held not to raise any question of fraud or collusion, but only one of public policy. Mottman v. Olympia [Wash.] 88 P 579. Issue of fraud in obtaining defendant's individual signature to officer's receipt for attached property held not raised by special defense that it was agreed before the execution of the receipt that defendant was to sign and be held liable only as officer of corporation. Dejon v. Street, 79 Conn. 333, 65 A 145. Uncertainty in allegations of acts constituting the fraud is not ground for general demurrer. Yordi v. Yordi [Cal. App.] 91 P 438.

71. Averment of facts that fairly impute knowledge of the condition of the defrauded party are as efficient as a naked averment of the ultimate fact. Studebaker v. Faylor [Ind. App.] 80 NE 861.

72. Fraud in procurement of judgment. Kuhling v. Beidenhorn, 30 Ky. L. R. 811, 99 SW 646. Mere use of adjectives importing fraud is insufficient. Rogers v. Virginia-Carolina Chem. Co. [C. C. A.] 149 F 1. Allegations that act was done "craftily," "fraudulently," "falsely," "maliciously," are insufficient. Fortune v. English, 26 Ill. 262, 80 NE 781. Facts constituting fraud must be alleged. Schell v. Alston Mfg. Co., 149 F 439. In suit to set aside deed made by Alaska townsite trustee for fraud, complainant must allege facts showing that without negligence on his part he was prevented by the fraud from appearing and setting up his claim, mere allegation that proceedings were ex parte being insufficient. Miller v. Margerie [C. C. A.] 149 F 694. Fraud held sufficiently alleged. Cox v. Nat. Coal & Oil Inv. Co., 61 W. Va. 291, 50 SE 494. Averments that party fraudulently represented himself as owner of note secured by mortgage, showed note to recorder purporting to be mortgage note, and by false representations obtained entry of satisfaction of mortgage, held to allege fraud sufficiently. Ennis v. Padgett [Mo. App.] 99 SW 782.

but an impracticable standard of particularity is not required,<sup>73</sup> and even general allegations are sufficient where fraud is not the gist of the action.<sup>74</sup> The allegations must cover all the elements of vitiating or actionable fraud, such as intent,<sup>75</sup> materiality,<sup>76</sup> right to rely,<sup>77</sup> fact of reliance,<sup>78</sup> deception,<sup>79</sup> and damage,<sup>80</sup> and as against third parties the pleadings must connect them with the fraud.<sup>81</sup> Fraud must be substantially proved as laid.<sup>82</sup> A requirement that denials of the terms of written instruments must be verified does not require the verification of a pleading alleging that the signature to an instrument was obtained by fraud.<sup>83</sup>

Evidence.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1823</sup>—Except by way of inference from evidence,<sup>84</sup> fraud is never presumed and must be proved<sup>85</sup> by clear and satisfactory evidence.<sup>86</sup> The

73. Allegations held sufficiently particular. Rogers v. Virginia-Carolina Chem. Co. [C. C. A.] 149 F 1. Allegation that deed from wife to husband was secured by intimidation and undue influence held sufficient, case being one in which the circumstances were difficult to affirm precisely. Yordi v. Yordi [Cal. App.] 91 P 348.

74. Ennis v. Padgett [Mo. App.] 99 SW 782.

75. Intent need not be expressly alleged, but may be inferred from the facts alleged. Burns v. Kennedy [Or.] 90 P 1102.

76. Pleading held to sufficiently allege materiality of allegations of value and character of land. Fisher v. Dippel [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 546, 102 SW 448.

77. Equal opportunity of party charging fraud to ascertain truthfulness of statements as to value must be negative or a sufficient excuse, such as fraudulent prevention, for not making use of such opportunities. Brooks v. Boyd, 1 Ga. App. 65, 57 SE 1093.

On demurrer absence of negligence of applicant for life insurance in failing to use other means of knowledge instead of relying on representations of agent will be supplied by intent if not alleged. Mutual Life Ins. Co. v. Hargus [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 335, 99 SW 580.

78. Brooks v. Boyce, 1 Ga. App. 65, 57 SE 1093.

79. Allegation that party was misled is essential. Sulkin v. Gilbert [Pa.] 67 A 415.

80. Bowen v. Waxelbaum & Bro. [Ga. App.] 58 SE 784. Complaint must allege that damage sustained resulted from the fraud alleged. Russell v. Stoops [Md.] 66 A 698. Complaint based on fraud in an executed transaction must allege damage. Foreclosure of mortgage as to which complaint showed no defense. Bell v. Thompson, 147 Cal. 689, 82 P 327. Allegation that plaintiff, in reliance on the alleged fraudulent representations, parted with title to lands, held sufficient. Rihner v. Jacobs [Neb.] 113 NW 220. Allegation of loss of options of certain value held sufficient in action for damages without allegation that options could or would have been sold to others or why they were of the value alleged. Rogers v. Virginia-Carolina Chem. Co. [C. C. A.] 149 F 1. Allegation of damages are not necessary to a defense by a surety that his indorsement was secured by fraud. Roessle v. Lancaster, 104 NYS 219.

81. In suit by transferee of lease, evidence offered in defense of fraud in procurement of leases was properly excluded in absence of any allegation connecting plaintiff with the fraud. Jennings-Heywood Oil Syndicate v. Houssiere-Latreille Oil Co. [La.] 44 S 481.

82. Variance where bill alleged that defendant promised to purchase debt for which plaintiff's land was about to be sold under trust deed and testimony that defendant promised to purchase land at such sale and allow plaintiff to redeem it. Pankau v. Morrissey, 224 Ill. 177, 79 NE 643. Variance between pleadings and proof as to manner in which the alleged substitution of contracts constituting the alleged fraud was accomplished held immaterial and without prejudice. National Cereal Co. v. Alexander [Kan.] 89 P 923.

83. St. Louis Jewelry Co. v. Bennett [Kan.] 90 P 246.

84. See ante, § 2. Inference from Circumstances, etc.

85. Burrows v. Fitch [W. Va.] 57 SE 283. Fraud not presumed in absence of evidence thereof. Hutcheson v. Bibb, 142 Ala. 586, 38 S 754; Gipe v. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. [Ind. App.] 82 NE 471; Beddow v. Wilson, 28 Ky. L. R. 661, 90 SW 228; Ayers v. Farwell [Mass.] 82 NE 35; Raymond v. McKenna, 147 Mich. 35, 13 Det. Leg. N. 935, 110 NW 121.

86. Kincaid v. Price [Ark.] 100 SW 76; Sansom v. Wolford, 60 W. Va. 380, 55 SE 1020. Evidence of undue influence must be clear and convincing, a mere preponderance being insufficient. When deed of wife showed on its face that it was duly acknowledged and recorded. Willis v. Baker, 75 Ohio St. 291, 79 NE 466, citing and following Ford v. Osborne, 45 Ohio St. 1, 12 NE 526. Evidence held insufficient to sustain decree declaring such a deed void. Id. Under Code Civ. Proc. § 3390, subd. 5, only a preponderance of evidence is necessary to sustain any civil action, whether for fraud or any other cause. Gehlert v. Quinn, 35 Mont. 451, 90 P 168.

Sufficiency of evidence is for the jury. Universal Metal Co. v. Durham & C. R. Co. [N. C.] 59 SE 50. To sustain defense that contract for purchase of goods sued on was obtained by fraud. Price v. Huddleston, 167 Ind. 536, 79 NE 496. In ejectment by one claiming title by reason of fraud practiced on ancestor against one claiming under purchaser at mortgage sale, finding for defendant sustained. Mead v. Chesbrough Bldg. Co. [C. C. A.] 151 F 998. Evidence held not clear and convincing as to fraud whereby purchase at judicial sale was made for in-burden of proof is upon the party alleging the fraud,<sup>87</sup> except when a prima facie presumption of fraud arises from the circumstances,<sup>88</sup> and even in this latter case it is held that the true burden is not shifted but that the other party merely has the burden of meeting the prima facie case.<sup>89</sup> Where fraud in the original transaction is proved, the burden is upon a third party to prove lack of notice and privity.<sup>90</sup>

The admissibility of evidence depends, as in other cases, upon its relevancy.<sup>91</sup> adequate price. Locke v. Friedman, Keller & Co. [Miss.] 43 S 673. For further examples of sufficiency of evidence, see §§ 1, 2, in connection with acts constituting fraud.

Intent: Where the natural inference from the evidence does not necessarily lead to the presumption of fraudulent intent, but is equally consistent with innocence, the latter construction will be adopted. Duryea v. Zimmerman, 121 App. Div. 560, 106 NYS 237.

Damage: Defendants pleading fraud as defense to action for purchase price held not to have proved their damage. Richardson v. Lowe [C. C. A.] 149 F 625. False representation to purchaser that no prior contract for sale of the land had been made not rendered harmless by circumstances, unknown to the purchaser, from which it might be inferred that the contract had been abandoned. Norris v. Hay, 149 Cal. 695, 87 P 380.

87. Rogers v. Rogers [Del.] 66 A 374; Raymond v. McKenna, 147 Mich. 35, 13 Det. Leg. N. 935, 110 NW 121; Burk v. Pence [Mo.] 104 SW 23; Burrows v. Fitch [W. Va.] 57 SE 283. Burden is on party alleging fraudulent misrepresentations to show falsity of such representations. Church v. Marsh, 133 Iowa, 51, 110 NW 161. Burden on person asserting fraud in making and promulgation of corporation prospectus to show that the maker of the prospectus did not have and believe the information forming the basis of the prospectus. Duryea v. Zimmerman, 121 App. Div. 560, 106 NYS 237. Burden of showing that party was misled. Church v. Marsh, 133 Iowa, 51, 110 NW 161. Burden as to damage. Id. Where vendee pleads fraud he must prove that property is of less value than he paid and how much less. Richardson v. Lowe [C. C. A.] 149 F 625.

88. See ante, § 2, Inference from Circumstances, etc.

Transaction between aged parent and child on whom confidence has been reposed. Reese v. Shutte, 133 Iowa, 681, 108 NW 525. On son to show good faith as to conveyance from old and feeble father. Couch v. Couch [Ala.] 42 S 624. Conveyance without consideration by aged father to son who occupied position of trust and confidence. Quinn v. Quinn, 130 Wis. 548, 110 NW 488. On son to prove bona fides of transfer of property to him by father for whom he acted as general confidential agent under power of attorney. Griesel v. Jones, 123 Mo. App. 45, 99 SW 769. On daughter to show bona fides of transaction wherein she acquired her mother's property. Hunter v. McCammon, 104 NYS 402. Son held to have burden of proving bona fides of transaction whereby he secured conveyance from aged mother of all her property. Fjone v. Fjone [N. D.] 112 NW 70. On son in-law, who was confidential agent of the old and feeble father-in-law, to prove bona fides of transfer of bonds to former. State v. Johnson, 144 N. C. 257, 274, 56 SE 923. Settlement between ward and guardian who was also ward's parent. Baum v. Hartmann, 226 Ill. 160, 80 NE 711. Burden of proof on grantee where fiduciary relations existed between him and grantor. Morgan v. Owens, 228 Ill. 598, 81 NE 1135. Where trusted agent was beneficiary of transaction with principal. Taylor v. Vail [Vt.] 66 A 820. On vendor to show that no fraud was practiced on drunken vendee. Fagan v. Wiley [Or.] 90 P 910. On foreigner, who had resided in America a long time and understood English well, to prove good faith in procuring contract from fellow countrymen who reposed great confidence in him and who knew little English. Ballouz v. Higgins, 61 W. Va. 68, 56 SE 184. On holder of mortgage note to prove bona fides of conveyance to her by mortgagee who was very old and feeble. Leech v. Hirshman [Miss.] 44 S 33. To prove bona fides of antenuptial contract whereby wife released her rights as survivor. Maze's Ex'rs v. Maze, 30 Ky. L. R. 679, 99 SW 336. Burden is on party seeking to enforce sale of expectant interest to show the bona fides and fairness of the sale. McAdams v. Bailey [Ind. App.] 80 NE 171.

Burden held not shifted: Facts hypothesized in charge held not to make case of such confidential relations between father and son as to charge latter with burden of proving bona fides of conveyance to him by former. Bain v. Bain [Ala.] 43 S 562.

89. Boyle v. Robinson, 129 Wis. 567, 109 NW 623.

Note: "The rule is that he who alleges fraud must prove it, and the supposed exceptions to this rule are more apparent than real. There may be prima facie fraud, or fraud may be proved by a number of concurrent circumstances. Nevertheless, so long as the scales are evenly balanced, the defendant, against whom fraud is alleged, must prevail. Greer v. O'Brien, 36 W. Va. 277, 15 SE 74; Board of Trustees v. Blair, 45 W. Va. 812, 32 SE 203; Bodkin v. Rollyson, 48 W. Va. 453, 37 SE 617; Clay v. Deskins, 36 W. Va. 350, 15 SE 85."—From Burrows v. Fitch [W. Va.] 57 SE 283.

90. National Bk. v. Chatfield, Woods & Co. [Tenn.] 101 SW 765. Evidence held not to show fraud in inducing execution of note and negotiation thereof so as to place burden on indorsees to show that he was a holder for value without notice. First Nat. Bk. v. Person, 101 Minn. 30, 111 NW 730.

91. On issue whether creditor was induced to accept trust deed by representations of debtor as to value and location of land covered thereby, evidence of debtor's financial worth several years thereafter held inadmissible. Guthrie v. Lyon & Sons [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 321, 98 SW 432. On issue as to whether representations of value and location of lots covered by trust deed to secure debt were true, evidence of financial worth of grantor several years thereafter was inadmissible. Id. When exchange of property was alleged to have been obtained by fraudulent representations as to value of one

Evidence of similar acts is usually held admissible.<sup>92</sup> Declarations of the defrauded party after the transaction are not admissible to prove the fraud.<sup>93</sup> On an issue as to whether one knowingly made a false statement, his testimony that he did not intend to deceive is admissible.<sup>94</sup> Parol evidence of misrepresentations as to the legal effect of a written contract is inadmissible as varying the terms of a written contract,<sup>95</sup> but the parol evidence rule does not exclude parol evidence of fraud in the procurement of the writing.<sup>96</sup>

Instructions. See 7 C. L. 1826.—The general rules as to instructions apply, such as that they must be warranted by the evidence,<sup>97</sup> that they must not be misleading,<sup>98</sup> that they must be considered as a whole,<sup>99</sup> and that error cannot be predicated upon them if they are substantially correct.<sup>1</sup>

FRAUDS, STATUTE OF

§ 1. Agreements not to be Performed Within One Year (1495).

§ 2. Promise to Answer for Debt or Default of another or to Indemnify or Insure (1495).

§ 3. Agreements in Consideration of Marriage (1497).

§ 4. Representations as to Character or Credit of Another (1497).

§ 5. Agreements with Executors and Administrators (1497).

§ 6. Agreements with Real Estate Brokers (1497).

§ 7. Agreements Respecting Real Property or an Estate or Interest Therein (1498).

§ 8. Sale of Goods (1500).

§ 9. Trusts (1500).

§ 10. What will Satisfy the Statute (1501).

A. Writing (1501).

B. Delivery and Acceptance (1503).

C. Part Payment and Earnest Money (1504).

D. Part Performance (1504).

§ 11. Operation and Effect of Statute (1506).

§ 12. Pleading and Proof (1508).

of the properties, evidence that value of other property was very little held admissible as bearing on probability of the making of the fraudulent representations and upon the question of reliance. Aldrich v. Scribner, 146 Mich. 609, 13 Det. Leg. N. 893, 109 NW 1121. Evidence that woman who had been injured was nervous and crying when she signed release. Rockwell v. Capital Trac. Co., 25 App. D. C. 98. Evidence of representations tending to show a fraudulent plan is admissible, though the representations alone do not constitute fraud. Kempe v. Bennett, 134 Iowa, 247, 111 NW 926.

92. Previous acts of bank officers lending assistance to fraudulent conspirators. Hobbs v. Boatright, 195 Mo. 693, 93 SW 934. Evidence of similar acts is admissible on the question of knowledge and intent, as that party charged with fraudulent representations as to corporate stock made similar representations on offers to sell to others. Crosby v. Wells [N. J. Err. & App.] 67 A 295. Representations as to kind of policies insurance company was issuing and would issue. Hartford Life Ins. Co. v. Hope [Ind. App.] 81 NE 595.

93. Declarations of father that he had made conveyance to son to get rid of him. Bain v. Bain [Ala.] 43 S 562.

94. In suit on insurance policy where defense was that plaintiff overvalued his property. Helm v. Anchor Fire Ins. Co., 132 Iowa, 177, 109 NW 605.

95. Tradesman Co. v. Superior Mfg. Co., 147 Mich. 702, 14 Det. Leg. N. 57, 111 NW 343.

96. Sawyer v. Walker, 204 Mo. 133, 102 SW 544. Where applicant, for life insurance thought and was assured by agent that he was securing a policy different from the one he actually secured. Mutual Life Ins. Co. v. Hargus [Tex. Civ. App.] 13 Tex. Ct. Rep. 335, 99 SW 580.

97. When the sole issue is whether the alleged fraudulent act was committed, an instruction as to the presumption of honesty in acts equally capable of interpretation as honest and dishonest is unwarranted. Russell v. Stoops [Md.] 66 A 698.

98. Instruction held erroneous in that it diverted jury's attention from a general issue of fraud effected by means of a general plan, to issue whether certain portions of the facts would in themselves constitute fraud. Kempe v. Bennett, 134 Iowa, 247, 111 NW 926. Instruction that ignorance of or incapacity to understand contents of writing was ground for avoidance held misleading as tending to lead jury to think that such ignorance alone invalidated the writing. Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Craig [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 547, 98 SW 907. Instruction that fraud is never presumed and must be clearly and distinctly proved held to place too great a burden on party alleging fraud, since Code Civ. Proc. § 3390, subd. 5, requires only a preponderance of the evidence. Gehlert v. Quinn, 35 Mont. 451, 90 P 168.

99. Where court indicated clearly in its review of the evidence that undue influence had been used, its finding would not be set aside on account of a concluding statement which standing alone might indicate that the burden of proof had been placed upon the party charged with the fraud to disprove it. Champeau v. Champeau [Wis.] 112 NW 36.

1. In action based on fraudulent misrepresentations, an instruction that if defendant did not willfully conceal from plaintiff some fact which he should have stated he would not be liable held not reversible error, since willful falsehood in regard to a matter necessarily involves and includes willful concealment of the truth. Rutherford v. Irby, 1 Ga. App. 499, 57 SE 927.

The scope of this topic is noted below.<sup>2</sup>

§ 1. Agreements not to be performed within one year. See 7 C. L. 1826.—To come within the statute it must appear from the terms of the contract,<sup>3</sup> or its manifest intent,<sup>4</sup> that it is not to be performed within one year from the time it was made.<sup>5</sup> A contract is not within statute if it may possibly be performed within the year,<sup>6</sup> or if the contingency on which it is dependent may happen within a year.<sup>7</sup> Thus, contracts to insure,<sup>8</sup> or to form a partnership,<sup>9</sup> or to make a will may rest in parol.<sup>10</sup> Contracts for one year to begin at once are not within the statute,<sup>11</sup> but generally a lease<sup>12</sup> or a contract of employment<sup>13</sup> for one year to begin at a future date is, the rule being otherwise in New York.<sup>14</sup> Such contracts may be orally ratified within the year.<sup>15</sup>

§ 2. Promise to answer for debt or default of another or to indemnify or insure. See 7 C. L. 1827.—A contract of guaranty is within the statute,<sup>16</sup> though the indebtedness was created after the promise,<sup>17</sup> but an original undertaking,<sup>18</sup> or an independent obligation,<sup>19</sup> or a novation,<sup>20</sup> is not. A promise to pay an antecedent debt is

2. This topic includes the operation and effect of all statutes requiring contracts to be in writing. Specific performance of oral contracts (see Specific Performance, 8 C. L. 1946), and the sufficiency of writing to avoid the bar of limitations (see Limitation of Actions, 8 C. L. 768), are excluded.

3. Contract to purchase each week, for a period of 60 weeks, two shares of the capital stock of a designated corporation, for which purchaser was to pay $5 per share or $10 per week on delivery of certificate, was within statute. Mellroy v. Richards, 148 Mich. 694, 14 Det. Leg. N. 286, 112 NW 489. Where servant was working under a contract for more than one year, was orally promised a "bonus" at the end of the term, it was within the statute though the servant performed. Price v. Press Pub. Co., 117 App. Div. 854, 103 NYS 296. A contract orally assented to held within the statute where by its terms it was to continue until termination of certain patents which had more than one year to run. Warth v. Kastriner, 104 NYS 1056. Renewal of lease by holding over held not for more than five years. Wallace v. Dorris [Pa.] 67 A 858.

4. Plaintiff orally contracted to saw at his mill all wood on about 250 acres of land. No time was mentioned for performance, but the lowest estimate of amount of wood was 2,400 cords, while the capacity of the mill was 3½ cords a day. Held contract within statute, and death of plaintiff within the year would not have mattered, as then the contract would not have been fully performed. White v. Fitts [Me.] 66 A 533.

5. Contract cannot be partly oral and partly written. Hamilton v. Fred Miller Brew. Co., 125 Mo. App. 579, 102 SW 1088.

6. Agreement of grantee of land to pay grantor one-half of crops during his life not within statute as grantor might die within year. Johnson v. Johnson, 31 Utah, 408, 88 P 230. Contract for services for one year with provision for renewal beyond the year is not within the statute though no notice has been given to terminate it. General Elec. Inspection Co. v. Ebling Brew. Co., 52 Misc. 145, 101 NYS 648.

7. Lumber company orally employed physician at a certain place until it cut out certain timber, which contract recited would take about two years. Texarkana Lumber

Co. v. Lennard [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 683, 104 SW 506.

8. Fire Insurance contract for more than one year. American Cent. Ins. Co. v. Leake [Ky.] 104 SW 373.

9. Two parties agreed to join in the purchase and sale of a carload of hogs and share equally in the gain or loss. McNealy v. Bartlett, 123 Mo. App. 58, 99 SW 767.

10. Stewart v. Smith [Cal. App.] 91 P 667.

11. Hudgins v. State, 126 Ga. 639, 55 SE 492; Bell Bros. v. Aiken, 1 Ga. App. 36, 57 SE 1001.

12. Jones v. Com. [Ky.] 104 SW 782; Ray v. Blackman, 120 Mo. App. 497, 97 SW 212. Cobbey's Ann. St. 1903, § 5954. Oral lease made in December for a term of one year from the first of March next. Thostesen v. Dorse [Neb.] 110 NW 319. Parol lease to begin in future and to continue from year to year is within the statute. Wessells v. Rodifer, 30 Ky. L. R. 51, 97 SW 341.

13. Stovall v. Gardner [Tex. Civ. App.] 94 SW 217. Oral contract of employment made Nov. 20 for one year from Jan. 1 was within statute. San Antonio Light & Pub. Co. v. Moore [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 412, 101 SW 867.

14. Oral lease made on or about April 15th for a year from May 15th, the end of the present lease. Fishman v. Wolf, 101 NYS 16.

15. Oral lease of farm land made in May, 1904, for crop season of 1905 for one-third of crops, but plaintiffs purchased the land in Nov. 1904, with knowledge of and assenting to the oral lease. O'Connor v. Oliver [Wash.] 88 P 1025.

16. Agreement by owner to see that building contractor's men were paid. Rancil v. Krohne, 31 Pa. Super. Ct. 130.

17. Bank refused to hold money to a corporation and directors orally agreed that each would guaranty his proportionate share of the loan. Mechanics' & Traders' Bk. v. Stettheimer, 116 App. Div. 198, 101 NYS 513.

18. A. rented land to B., who was taken sick. C. having paid B. for the crop, his promise to A. to pay the rent and his substitution as tenant was enforceable. Pylant v. Webb [Ga. App.] 58 SE 329.

19. Bank agreed with purchaser of stock that it would accept certain notes held by him in full payment thereof, and verbally void unless supported by a new consideration,<sup>21</sup> but it is an original promise where based on new<sup>22</sup> and valuable consideration<sup>23</sup> of substantial benefit to promisor.<sup>24</sup> The promise may be an original one though the new consideration does not move to the promisor, if the creditor suffers a detriment.<sup>25</sup> Where goods are delivered,<sup>26</sup> or purchased,<sup>27</sup> or work done,<sup>28</sup> or expense incurred,<sup>29</sup> or a risk taken<sup>30</sup> in consideration of defendant's promise to pay therefor, the promise is an original one. If any credit was given to original promise, the subsequent oral promise is collateral and within the statute,<sup>31</sup> but a parol promise to protect creditors,<sup>32</sup> or a mortgagor at a public sale, made to induce the mortgagor to give the mortgage, is not a collateral promise.<sup>33</sup> agreed not to hold the purchaser liable on his indorsements of said notes. Patrick v. Barker [Neb.] 112 NW 358.

20. Milby v. Mowry, 125 Ill. App. 417.

21. The drawer's promise made after the check had been deposited by payee in a bank to pay the same if the bank failed was within the statute. Burns v. Yocum [Ark.] 98 SW 956.

22. Owner of premises orally promised plaintiff that if he would not file a lien and would continue to furnish sand, he would pay the debt owing by the contractor, and it was held not within the statute. Schnauffer v. Ahr, 53 Misc. 299, 103 NYS 195. Oral promise of administrator to buyer of mortgaged chattels from the estate to loan money to pay the mortgage debt. Hedden v. Schneblin [Mo. App.] 104 SW 887. Promise by one hiring the servant of another to pay a debt of such servant to his former employer to secure his release from service. Evans v. Griffin, 1 Ga. App. 327, 57 SE 921.

23. Parol promise to pay the note of another, where main purpose was to benefit promisor. Blakeney v. Nalle & Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 56, 101 SW 875. Promise by devisee to pay funeral expenses, for which he was liable to the extent that he had received property of testator. Is not within the statute. Withers' Adm'r v. Withers' Heirs, 30 Ky. L. R. 1099, 100 SW 253.

24. First, of two accommodation indorsers, indorsed on the strength of a verbal agreement of the second, that in consideration that the maker of the note should place valuable property in his hands as security he would indemnify the first indorser, and the maker having delivered the property before the delivery of the note, the promise was not within the statute. Wilson v. Hendee [N. J. Err. & App.] 66 A 413. Attorney testified that before beginning work defendant stated that if the vendor did not pay him defendant would, and the attorney did the work which was beneficial to defendant. Treacle v. Vaughan Abstract Co. [Ark.] 103 SW 174.

25. One orally promised that if a stakeholder would pay the money to the winner of a bet that he would repay him, if he were compelled to return any of it to the loser. Himmelman v. Pecaut, 133 Iowa, 503, 110 NW 919. Plaintiff having sold goods to third persons released them on defendant's promise to pay therefor. Smith Bros. & Co. v. Miller [Ala.] 44 S 399. Promise to pay debt of another in consideration of the discontinuance of two foreclosure suits was enforceable as the release was a damage to the creditor, or a benefit to the promisor. Lee v. Unkefer [S. C.] 58 SE 343.

26. Goods sold and delivered to third persons on credit of defendant alone. Smith Bros. & Co. v. Miller [Ala.] 44 S 399.

27. Plaintiff bought mortgage chattels of an estate on the administrator's promise to loan him the amount of the mortgage debt. Hedden v. Schneblin [Mo. App.] 104 SW 887. Defendant promised to hold plaintiff harmless if he should bid on goods at a judicial sale, and plaintiff bought relying on such promise. McKnight v. Milford Gin Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 631, 99 SW 198.

28. Plaintiff was employed by officer of the Order to make robes for the Order, and the officer told her that he would see that she got her money. Steele v. Ancient Order of Pyramids, 125 Mo. App. 680, 103 SW 108. Agreement of lumber company to collect for physician specified sums from its employees monthly. Texarkana Lumber Co. v. Lenard [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 683, 104 SW 506.

29. On receipt of a telegram addressed to his wife announcing the death of her father, defendant authorized the telegraph operator to have the body shipped at his expense. Hillman v. Hulett, 149 Mich. 289, 14 Det. Leg. N. 458, 112 NW 918.

30. Defendant agreed with plaintiff to pay for certain property if destroyed by fire while plaintiff's house was occupied by defendant's servant. Chapman v. Conwell, 1 Ga. App. 212, 58 SE 137. Traveling salesman at time of employment agreed to pay 50 per cent of the losses on customers with whom he dealt. Myer-Bridges Co. v. Badeau [Miss.] 43 S 609.

31. Oral promise to pay for services rendered to a third person by a physician who sent bill to such third person. Johnson v. Bank, 60 W. Va. 320, 55 SE 394. Attached to minor son's contract for instruction was the following signed at the same time by father: "I hereby guarantee the payment of the price of the scholarship taken," which was held insufficient as not expressing the consideration. International Text-Book Co. v. McKone [Wis.] 113 NW 438.

32. Defendant stockholder agreed with creditors to bid in corporation property at foreclosure sale at a price sufficient to pay the corporation debts, and creditors relied on the agreement and refrained from bidding. Held not within statute. Satterfield v. Kinley, 144 N. C. 455, 57 SE 145.

33. Mortgagee agreed to buy in the goods if they did not sell for a certain sum, and sell them at private sale, and paying over to the mortgagor any surplus after the satisfaction of the debt. Cerny v. Paxton & Gallagher Co. [Neb.] 110 NW 882.

The intention of the parties must be considered in determining whether a promise is original or collateral,<sup>34</sup> and the question should be submitted to the jury.<sup>35</sup>

§ 3. Agreements in consideration of marriage. See 7 C. L. 1829.—Contracts made in consideration of marriage are unenforceable unless reduced to writing.<sup>36</sup>

§ 4. Representations as to character or credit of another. See 7 C. L. 1829.—The representations as to the character, conduct, and credit of another required to be in writing are such as are made with the intent to obtain money, credit, or goods thereon, and not with the intent to sell corporate stock.<sup>37</sup>

§ 5. Agreements with executors and administrators. See 7 C. L. 1829

§ 6. Agreements with real estate brokers. See 7 C. L. 1829.—A statute providing that no contract for the sale of land by an agent shall bind the principal unless in writing does not apply to the contract of employment,<sup>38</sup> but in some states brokerage contracts are by statute required to be in writing,<sup>39</sup> where any interest in real estate,<sup>40</sup> except leases,<sup>41</sup> is involved. Otherwise the brokers are precluded from recovering compensation,<sup>42</sup> though the sale itself may be valid.<sup>43</sup> A statute making it an offense for any person to offer property for sale without written authority of the owner is not retroactive,<sup>44</sup> and such laws have generally been upheld,<sup>45</sup> except in New York where the statute has been held unconstitutional.<sup>46</sup> The writing must be subscribed<sup>47</sup> by the principal,<sup>48</sup> must state the rate of compensation,<sup>49</sup> and must purport

34. The words of the promise, the situation of the parties, and all the attending circumstances should be considered. Johnson v. Bank, 60 Va. 320, 55 SE 394.

35. Error to direct verdict for defendants, owners of building, who plaintiff, a lumber dealer, testified had promised to pay him for lumber, where the contractor had failed to pay and plaintiff had refused to make additional deliveries. Haak v. Kellogg, 146 Mich. 541, 13 Det. Leg. N. 855, 109 NW 1068.

36. Agreement that property of each should pass to their respective children free from any claim of the other being a nullity, a written agreement of the same nature, but not referring to the prior oral agreement, made after marriage was void. Frazer v. Andrews, 134 Iowa, 621, 112 NW 92.

37. Representations by members of a corporation of facts as to its property, made for the purpose of showing value of stock and in order to sell the same, are not required to be in writing. Grover v. Cavanaugh [Ind. App.] 82 NE 104.

38. The broker is entitled to his compensation though orally employed. Young v. Ruhwedel, 119 Mo. App. 231, 96 SW 228.

39. The requirement of the Nebraska statute that contracts between real estate brokers and landowners shall be "subscribed" by both parties means that they must be signed, and it is immaterial whether the signature be placed at the bottom, the top, or in the body of the instrument. Myers v. Moore [Neb.] 110 NW 989. Demurrer sustained to petition to recover compensation for services of real estate broker under contract not shown to be in writing. Smith v. Aultz [Neb.] 110 NW 1015. Required to be in writing in New Jersey. Callaway v. Prettyman [Pa.] 67 A 418.

40. Defendant had procured an oral extension of an option on a mine and was in possession, and had made improvements, and on a resale was to have a certain sum for his services. Crowell v. Ewing [Cal. App.] 88 P 285.

41. A parol contract employing a broker to procure a purchaser of a lease is not within the Arkansas statute of frauds. McCurry v. Hawkins [Ark.] 103 SW 600.

42. A statute requiring a contract for agent's commissions to be in writing precludes a recovery by an agent, under an instrument merely reciting that the owner had placed property in his hands for sale, giving him control thereof, and "a lien during the existence" of the contract, but not containing any promise to pay. Phillips v. Jones, 39 Ind. App. 626, 80 NE 555.

43. Ballinger's Ann. Codes & St. § 4576, subd. 5. Peirce v. Wheeler [Wash.] 87 P. 361.

44. Does not invalidate a verbal appointment made before its passage. Stahlin v. Hoffmeister, 121 Mo. App. 24, 97 SW 970.

45. Under Missouri statute making it a misdemeanor to offer to sell another's realty without written authority, a person selling without such authority cannot recover the agreed compensation therefor. Rothwell v. Gibson, 121 Mo. App. 279, 98 SW 801; Finley v. Handley, 121 Mo. App. 358, 98 SW 803.

46. New York statute making it a misdemeanor to offer real estate for sale without written authority held unconstitutional, and broker's right to compensation for making an exchange under verbal authority is not affected thereby. Tieck v. McKenna, 115 App. Div. 701, 101 NYS 317. Violation of the state constitution as to due process of law and of the U. S. Constitution, art. 1, § 10, and of the 14th amendment. Fisher Co. v. Woods [N. Y.] 79 NE 836.

47. Cobby's Ann. St. 1903, § 10, 258. Myers v. Moore [Neb.] 110 NW 989. Position of signature immaterial. Id.

48. Plaintiff was employed by defendant's husband to sell her land, but the written authorization was not signed by her. Hochbaum v. Rotter, 101 NYS 531. Broker cannot recover compensation unless contract be in writing signed by the principal. Stahlin v. Hoffmeister, 121 Mo. App. 24, 97 SW 970.

49. A written authorization fixing the broker's compensation at all he may get over to employ a broker,<sup>50</sup> as a mere incidental notice to negotiate with third persons is insufficient.<sup>51</sup> Whether a writing is necessary is determined by the lex loci contractus.<sup>52</sup> A brokerage contract, which does not conform to the statute requiring it to be in writing, cannot be taken out of the operation of the statute by a performance thereof,<sup>53</sup> but an oral contract employing a broker may subsequently become merged into a written agreement created by the written statements of the parties.<sup>54</sup>

§ 7. Agreements respecting real property or an estate or interest therein.
See 7 C. L. 1830—Oral contracts for the sale<sup>55</sup> or conveyance of land,<sup>56</sup> for the conveyance of any interest therein,<sup>57</sup> for transfer of Indian allotments,<sup>58</sup> for leases for more than one year,<sup>59</sup> for the sale of standing timber,<sup>60</sup> for the sale of buildings,<sup>61</sup> for a partition,<sup>62</sup> for a perpetual license,<sup>63</sup> for a right of way,<sup>64</sup> whether for rail-a certain price for land is within the New Jersey statute of frauds, even though the rate of commission is not stated, as required by the literal words of the statute. Mendles v. Danish [N. J. Law] 65 A 888.

50. A letter from a prospective purchaser to a broker, stating that if the broker could buy certain land the writer "thought he would be ready to purchase" on a certain day, is not a sufficient memorandum of a brokerage contract under the California statute. Logan v. McMullen [Cal. App.] 87 P 285.

51. Plaintiff and defendant had an oral agreement for the division of commissions from the sale of land, but a letter from one to the other that he had told a third person to talk with him on the subject of commissions was insufficient. Crowell v. Ewing [Cal. App.] 88 P 285. Insufficiency of memorandum of contract authorizing sale of land under Washington contract to entitle broker to recover. Keith v. Smith [Wash.] 89 P 473.

52. A resident of New Jersey contracting in Pennsylvania to sell land situated in New Jersey is not required to have a broker's license in writing under the Pennsylvania law which controls. Callaway v. Prettyman [Pa.] 67 A 418.

53. Such construction would nullify the statute. Keith v. Smith [Wash.] 89 P 473.

54. Haven v. Tartar, 124 Mo. App. 191, 102 SW 21.

55. Husband not liable for broker's commissions on contract to sell wife's property, which was not authorized or signed by her, as required by statute. Hochbaum v. Rotter, 101 NYS 531.

56. Plaintiff conveyed land to his sister on her oral agreement to recovery on his return from sea if he should so request. Cromwell v. Norton, 193 Mass. 291, 79 NE 433.

57. To induce plaintiff to continue in charge of her late husband's business defendant orally promised him an interest in the premises when certain liens were paid off, and on a sale of the property defendant was not a trustee of the proceeds. Dietrich v. Heintz [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 837, 99 SW 417. Decedent holding land under a deed reserving an express lien for the purchase price cannot divest himself of title thereto by a verbal agreement. Jante v. Culbreth [Tex. Civ. App.] 101 SW 279.

58. A conveyance of the exclusive right to select land as their several allotments and obtain patents therefor is equivalent to the equitable title to the land. Taylor v. South-erland [Ind. T.] 104 SW 874.

59. Rader v. Huffman, 125 Ill. App. 554;

Bogigian v. Booklovers' Library, 193 Mass. 444, 79 NE 769. Oral lease of farm for five years, unenforceable, and tenant must surrender possession on 30 days' notice, but was allowed the value of improvements. Poole v. Johnson [Ky.] 101 SW 955. A parol agreement modifying terms of lease and intended to cover the unexpired term of more than one year does not create a valid lease or effect a surrender of the existing lease. Seymour v. Hughes, 105 NYS 249. On oral lease for three years, tenant may be evicted under summary proceedings by landlord. Garofalo v. Rohleder, 52 Misc. 553, 102 NYS 897.

60. Parol agreement for sale of trees to be severed by purchaser will amount to a license, and if not revoked before severance the title to the trees will be in purchaser, who will have irrevocable right to enter and remove, but if license revoked before severance the purchaser will acquire no rights. Rishbourg v. Rose [Fla.] 44 S 69. Agreement not providing for immediate severance. King v. Cheatham [Ky.] 104 SW 751. Standing timber is a part of realty and can only be conveyed by such instrument as is sufficient to convey realty. Tremaine v. Williams, 144 N. C. 114, 56 SE 694; Midyette v. Grubbs [N. C.] 58 SE 795. An agreement giving right to remove timber cut under claim of right in consideration of relinquishment of right to cut further is not within the statute. York v. Westall, 143 N. C. 276, 55 SE 724.

61. Oral agreement to pay $500 for certain buildings and to remove the same from the land held within the statute, being the sale of an interest in land as the buyer was to sever the buildings, otherwise if the seller was to sever the buildings, as then it would be good as a license. Volk v. Olsen, 54 Misc. 227, 104 NYS 415. An original parol agreement that a building to be affixed to land should remain personalty may be shown, but in the absence of such agreement the building cannot be converted into personalty by any subsequent verbal agreement without a severance. Barnes v. Hosmer [Mass.] 82 NE 27.

62. Agreement was partly in writing and partly parol, but was enforced as it had been performed. Jones v. Jones, 118 App. Div. 148, 103 NYS 141.

63. A landowner agreed with another that he would erect a building on his lot and that the other should place store fixtures in the lower story to remain there permanently, and that they should be rented together, the owner of the land receiving two-thirds of the rent and the other, one-third. Adams v.

road,<sup>65</sup> irrigation,<sup>66</sup> or mining purposes,<sup>67</sup> for restrictions on the use of land,<sup>68</sup> are all within the statute. So, also, parol agreements, with reference to boundary lines,<sup>69</sup> to judgment sales of land,<sup>70</sup> to releasing or waiving rights to redeem,<sup>71</sup> agreements to devise,<sup>72</sup> to accepting payment in land,<sup>73</sup> to bidding at a foreclosure sale,<sup>74</sup> are within the statute. A parol contract of partnership to buy or sell lands,<sup>75</sup> or to purchase an interest in such a partnership, is generally held to be within the statute,<sup>76</sup> but an agreement to consider partnership realty as personalty,<sup>77</sup> or to give the agent selling the lands a share of the profits, is not within the statute.<sup>78</sup> The statute does not apply to agreements extending the time for the performance of a contract of sale,<sup>79</sup> or to agreements with reference to the proceeds of sale of land,<sup>80</sup> and a Weir [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 905, 99 SW 726.

64. Check given for a passway in 1894, but contained no description sufficient to identify it. Jones v. Jones [Ky.] 101 SW 980. Right to construct and use a wagon road for transporting timber from a tract of land. Storseth v. Folsom [Wash.] 88 P 632.

65. Parol contract to convey land to a railroad for a right of way is within the statute. Cape Girardeau & C. R. Co. v. Wingerter, 124 Mo. App. 426, 101 SW 1113.

66. Bashore v. Mooney [Cal. App.] 87 P 553. Here not a case of a revocable parol license, but plaintiff had acquired a prescriptive right to it.

67. Tunnel to a mining claim. Laesch v. Morton [Colo.] 87 P 1081.

68. Oral modification of lease for five years that lessee should only sell on premises liquors made by the lessor, or goods imported, was a restriction on the use of land. Mausert v. Christian Fergenspan, 68 N. J. Eq. 671, 64 A 801. To induce sale of land owner orally agreed that no buildings other than one-family dwellings should be erected on remaining lots. Held that the erection of an apartment house could not be enjoined. Norton v. Kain, 121 App. Div. 497, 106 NYS 129.

69. Adjoining landowners orally agreed to exchange certain parcels of land separated from their respective main bodies of land by a road, though there had been no dispute as to boundary line. Mann v. Mann [Cal.] 91 P 994. Agreement giving to one party land included in deeds to the other as to which there had been dispute. Clarke v. Clarke, 28 Ky. L. R. 704, 90 SW 244. Possession in accordance with agreement will take the same out of the statute. Purtle v. Bell, 225 Ill. 523, 80 NE 350.

70. Oral agreement between judgment debtor and purchaser at sale that on payment of judgment debt by a certain date the land would be deeded back not enforceable where made after sale had been confirmed and purchaser had received his deed. Farmers' & Shippers' Leaf Tobacco Warehouse Co. v. Purdy [Ky.] 102 SW 303.

71. Taken out of statute by mortgagor receiving benefit, and mortgagee taking possession of the land. Ferguson v. Boyd [Ind.] 81 NE 71. Where mortgagor under deed absolute with collateral agreement giving right to redeem told mortgagee that he had abandoned the idea of redeeming, it did not affect the right to redeem. Sebree v. Thompson [Ky.] 104 SW 781.

72. An oral contract to devise and bequeath all her property, it not appearing that there was any real property, is not within the statute. Stewart v. Smith [Cal. App.] 91 P 667.

73. Part of agreed value of services to be performed was to be credited on purchase price of real estate thereafter to be conveyed. Murphy v. Adams, 8 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 583.

74. Taken out of statute by execution of all that part of contract that was within the statute. Satterfield v. Kindley, 144 N. C. 455, 57 SE 145.

75. Each party was to take title to the timber lands for which he advanced the consideration, but to hold the same for the benefit of both, who were to share equally in the profits. Bill for an accounting dismissed. Nester v. Sullivan [Mich.] 14 Det. Leg. N. 235, 111 NW 85. The purchase was finally made by one who took title and paid the whole price, the other, having orally agreed to pay one-half thereof on demand, sued for an accounting, which was denied. Norton v. Brink [Neb.] 110 NW 669. The partnership was to purchase, develop, and sell lands. One paid the purchase price and took title and orally agreed to convey a half interest to the other on his paying his share. This was unenforceable. Pounds v. Egbert, 117 App. Div. 756, 102 NYS 1079.

76. Plaintiff verbally promised defendant to furnish him money to purchase the interest of his partner in a lumber business necessarily involving the holding of real estate and to hold the same for him. Butts v. Cooper [Ala.] 44 S. 616.

Contra: Existence of partnership to buy and sell land and the respective interests of the partners may be proved by parol. Miller v. Ferguson [Va.] 57 S. E. 649. Oral partnership for dealing in options of coal lands will not prevent one partner from recovering his share of the profits. Williams v. Kendrick, 105 Va. 791, 54 SE 865.

77. Partnership for purpose of buying and selling real estate. Buckley v. Doig, 188 N. Y. 238, 80 NE 913.

78. Under oral contract one undertook to purchase land, to take charge of, rent, and procure purchasers therefor, the titles to be taken in the name of another who furnishes the money and the net profits are to be equally divided. Rice v. Parrott [Neb.] 111 NW 583.

79. Agreement for extension of time for closing a sale of land under written contract may be by parol, as it is in the nature of a waiver. Kissack v. Bourke, 224 Ill. 352, 79 NE 619.

80. When plaintiff conveyed property to defendant it was orally agreed that, if the latter resold at a profit instead of building, purchaser may sue to recover purchase price of land conveyed under an oral contract.<sup>81</sup> An oral agreement that a deed should operate as a mortgage is not within the statute.<sup>82</sup> Prior to 1840, verbal sales were recognized under the civil law of Texas.<sup>83</sup> An agreement of several adjoining owners to jointly erect a pumping station does not affect title to land.<sup>84</sup>

§ 8. Sale of goods. See 7 C. L. 1832.—Agreements for the sale of goods for the price of fifty dollars or more are within the statute.<sup>85</sup> In some states the English rule is followed that if the contract results in the sale of a chattel, though involving work and labor, it is within the statute,<sup>86</sup> in others the contrary result is reached.<sup>87</sup> The statute does not cover partnership agreements,<sup>88</sup> or a broker's agreement to buy corporate stock for his customer,<sup>89</sup> or an agreement to protect a chattel mortgagor on the sale of his goods at auction by buying the same.<sup>90</sup>

§ 9. Trusts. See 7 C. L. 1832.—Constructive trusts are not within the statute.<sup>91</sup> An absolute deed may always be shown to be a mortgage.<sup>92</sup> So a parol contract to redeem made before or at time of an execution sale<sup>93</sup> or a parol agreement of one joint owner to bid in at public sale is not within the statute.<sup>94</sup> Though statute forbids resulting trusts, one who furnished consideration may recover his proportion,<sup>95</sup>

the former should have the profit. Bourne v. Sherrill, 143 N. C. 381, 55 S. E. 799. An oral contract for the payment of balance from the sale of land, in consideration of an executed release of an inchoate right of dower, is valid. Lyttle v. Goldberg, 131 Wis. 613, 111 NW 718. A grantor, while incapacitated, executed a deed for an express consideration which was not paid. To avoid suit the grantee orally agreed to pay grantor for life one-half of the crops. Johnson v. Johnson, 31 Utah, 408, 88 P 230.

81. Oral contract for sale of land. Purchaser may recover the price he has paid and the value of the improvements which he has made. Burleson v. Tinnin [Tex. Civ. App.] 100 SW 350.

82. De Bartlett v. De Wilson [Fla.] 42 S 189. Absolute deed intended as security, defeasance resting in parol. Linkemann v. Knepper, 226 Ill. 473, 80 NE 1009. Deed from a son to his father. Abrams v. Abrams, 74 Kan. 888, 88 P 70. See infra, § 9.

83. A parol transfer of a certificate for land issued by the state is good if made before the land was surveyed and located. Carlisle v. Gibbs [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 405, 98 SW 192.

84. Boone v. Rickard, 125 Ill. App. 438.

85. Sale of flock of sheep for $400. Ladnier v. Ladnier [Miss.] 43 S 946. Verbal sale of lumber amounting to $275 will not pass the title. Silkman Lumber Co. v. Hunholz [Wis.] 112 NW 1081.

86. Customer orally contracted with a tailor to make him a coat and vest of peculiar pattern and design, and the English rule (Lee v. Griffin, 1 B. & S. 272) followed that it was not a contract for work and labor. Schmidt v. Rozier, 121 Mo. App. 306, 98 SW 791.

87. Defendant agreed to transport plaintiff's logs to its mill, saw the same into lumber, sell the same, and pay plaintiff $5 per M, and divide the balance equally. Wisconsin Sulphite Fibre Co. v. Jeffris Lumber Co. [Wis.] 111 NW 237.

88. An oral agreement between two parties to join in the purchase and sale of a carload of hogs and share the profits and losses is not an agreement for a sale of goods. McNealy v. Bartlett, 123 Mo. App. 58, 99 SW 767.

89. A mere contract of agency authorizing the agent to purchase from a third party for his principal. Wiger v. Carr, 131 Wis. 584, 111 NW 657.

90. Creditor induced debtor to give a mortgage of his goods on oral promise that if they did not sell at auction for a certain sum he would bid them in for that sum and allow debtor to dispose of them at private sale, retaining any surplus above the debt. Cerny v. Paxton & Gallagher Co. [Neb.] 110 NW 882.

91. They are founded on the doctrine of estoppel. Griffin v. Schlenk [Ky.] 102 SW 837. Where plaintiff furnished defendant money to buy for him his partner's interest in land business, evidence held not to show either a resulting or a constructive trust. Butts v. Cooper [Ala.] 44 S 616. Where plaintiff was to receive under an oral agreement for land that he had sold defendants one-third of what it subsequently sold for above fixed sum, and held not to create a trust in same. Allen v. Rees [Iowa] 110 NW 583.

92. The relations between the parties may be considered in determining the question. De Bartlett v. De Wilson [Fla.] 42 S 189. Defendant who was surety for complainant paid the debt and took in return an absolute conveyance of the mortgaged property under parol agreement to receive rent for interest and to reconvey within five years if complainant paid the debt. Linkemann v. Knepper, 226 Ill. 473, 80 NE 1009.

93. Oral contracts to redeem create a trust and are valid. Farmers' & Shippers' Leaf Tobacco Warehouse Co. v. Purdy [Ky.] 102 SW 303.

94. Where joint owners of mortgaged land agreed that one of them should bid it in at the sale for the benefit of all, it created a trust for the benefit of all, and it was immaterial that the purchaser was not paid in advance by the others. Griffin v. Schlenk [Ky.] 102 SW 837.

95. A husband furnished the money and title of land was taken in wife's name under an agreement that the rents should be used to support them and their children and, she

for where a trust is executed in part it is taken out of the statute.<sup>96</sup> A grantee may execute a parol trust,<sup>97</sup> and third persons cannot object that a trust is not in writing.<sup>98</sup>

§ 10. What will satisfy the statute. A. Writing. Contracts not performable within a year.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1833</sup>—The writing must state the consideration<sup>99</sup> and must be signed<sup>1</sup> by both parties,<sup>2</sup> though it is sufficient if one of the writings be signed by one of the parties.<sup>3</sup> The contract cannot be partly written and partly oral,<sup>4</sup> but a renewal of a written contract may be by parol.<sup>5</sup> The usual pawnbroker's receipt is a sufficient memorandum of the contract to redeem.<sup>6</sup>

Sale of goods.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1833</sup>—The memorandum must be signed<sup>7</sup> by the party to be charged<sup>8</sup> and must state the price,<sup>9</sup> though every detail need not be in writing at the time the contract is made.<sup>10</sup> A writing may be sufficiently definite though a parol explanation of trade terms might be necessary.<sup>11</sup> The contract may be in several writings,<sup>12</sup> but there must be a written acceptance of the offer.<sup>13</sup> That the memorandum was written after the sale and repudiates liability makes no difference.<sup>14</sup>

having driven him away, he could recover his proportion of the price paid by him. Brooks v. Brooks [Ky.] 104 SW 392.

96. Wife orally agreed that rents of land paid for by her husband, but deeded to her, should be used to support the family, and she performed the agreement until separation. Brooks v. Brooks [Ky.] 104 SW 392.

97. Smith v. Ellison, 80 Ark. 447, 97 SW 666. Courts will protect grantee in performing his moral obligation, and a conveyance to the beneficiary will not be a fraud on his creditors who have no legal right to ask him to hold property to which he has no moral right. Id.

98. Lease for mining ground was taken in name of one of three persons jointly interested who could sue alone as trustee of an express trust. Geer v. Boston Little Circle Zinc Co. [Mo. App.] 103 SW 151.

99. Texarkana Lumber Co. v. Lennard [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 683, 104 SW 506, rvg. 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 821, 94 SW 383.

1. Contract, not signed, but orally assented to, which was to continue during the life of certain patents which had more than one year to run, was within the statute. Warth v. Kastriner, 104 NYS 1056.

2. Contract for purchase of stock signed by purchaser. Vendor was not allowed to sue for its breach. McIlroy v. Richards, 148 Mich. 694, 13 Det. Leg. N. 286, 112 NW 489.

3. At defendant's request plaintiff sent it a contract for services to be rendered for a year, specifying compensation to be paid in advance. Defendant under its signature acknowledged receipt of contract and forwarded checks for same. General Elec. Inspection Co. v. Ebling Brew. Co., 52 Misc. 145 101 NYS 648.

4. Necessary that entire contract be in writing, but here question was waived by answer. Hamilton v. Miller Brew. Co., 125 Mo. App. 579, 102 SW 1088.

5. Byrne Mill Co. v. Robertson [Ala.] 42 S 1008. Written contract for the sale of lumber provided that it should be in force one year, and that purchaser might renew it for five years additional, and held that the exercise of the option need not be in writing. Id.

6. Receipt for diamond ring for loan of $50 stated that if loan were repaid within one year $15 should be paid for use of money, if not then $25 was to be paid. Andrews v. Uncle Joe Diamond Broker [Wash.] 87 P 947.

7. But a verbal employment of a stockbroker is not merged into a written agreement by the broker giving an unsigned ticket of the purchase or sale to his customer after the deal. Picard v. Beers [Mass.] 81 NE 246.

8. A memorandum of offer to sell seed subscribed only by seller is sufficient in an action by buyer, as on acceptance the law implies a promise to pay. Bailey v. Leishman [Utah] 89 P 78.

9. Memorandum for sale of onions over $50 in value insufficient where price not stated and no proof of acceptance of goods. Kemensky v. Chapin, 193 Mass. 500, 79 NE 781. "Please ship me * * * twenty-five sacks of bolted meal." Glasgow Mill. Co. v. Burgher, 122 Mo. App. 14, 97 SW 950.

10. Only necessary that some memorandum shall be in writing before suit is brought. Purdon Naval Stores Co. v. Western Union Tel. Co., 153 F 327.

11. There had been a written contract to sell glass between the parties, when plaintiff offered to renew the same at present prices, but if there was a reduction in prices he would modify the prices accordingly. Flash v. Rossiter, 116 App. Div. 880, 102 NYS 449.

12. Seller sent buyer a detailed written order for goods, and buyer by signed letter in reference to confirmation of order cancelled a part thereof, and it was held a sufficient memorandum as to the balance. Myers v. Harris, 104 NYS 514.

13. Traveling salesman took orders which stipulated that they were subject to the approval of the principal, and as they amounted to mere offers they could be withdrawn before acceptance in writing. Cable Co. v. Hancock [Ga. App.] 58 SE 319.

14. Buyers of goods returned invoice in letter and said that goods sold did not come up to sample, and that they refused the same, the correspondence showing that the terms of sale were not in dispute, but only the quality of the goods. Spencer Turner Co. v. Robinson, 105 NYS 98.

Contracts for the sale of land. See 7 C. L. 1833.—The memorandum must describe the land<sup>15</sup> though parol evidence is admissible to identify the same.<sup>16</sup> The memorandum need not specify the interest to be conveyed,<sup>17</sup> but it must state the essential facts,<sup>18</sup> though it need not contain all collateral agreements.<sup>19</sup> It must state the full consideration,<sup>20</sup> which may be sufficiently described as a note.<sup>21</sup> The memorandum must be signed by the party to be charged<sup>22</sup> or by his agent thereunto authorized in writing.<sup>23</sup> Such authority may be shown by the correspondence of the parties.<sup>24</sup> In some states, however, the authority of the agent is not required to be in writing to bind his principal<sup>25</sup> though necessary if the broker wishes to recover his compensation.<sup>26</sup> The signing by an authorized agent of his own name as agent is sufficient.<sup>27</sup> The principal may ratify the act of the agent<sup>28</sup> by oral statements.<sup>29</sup> One who has

15. "Received of A. F. Truesdell ten dollars in part payment of lot sold to him, he to pay balance, forty dollars, on delivery of deed, D. W. Burt;" and no averment that the land sold was the only land of defendant, and was insufficient. Miller v. Burt [Mass.] 82 NE 39. Check was given for a "passway," but contained no further description, and was held insufficient. Jones v. Jones [Ky.] 101 SW 980.

16. "Lots 2, 3, 4, 5, 10, 11, 12, 13, in block 62, Springfield," is sufficient, as they may be located by parol evidence. Conroy v. Woodcock [Fla.] 43 S 693.

17. Presumption that it is a fee simple. Conroy v. Woodcock [Fla.] 43 S 693.

18. Correspondence between parties as to long term lease never stated the length of the term. Simons v. New Britain Trust Co. [Conn.] 67 A 883. Defendant's letter set out all the terms of the oral contract to lease except that of furnishing a guarantor, and it was held not to be a memorandum of the contract sued on. Bozigian v. Booklover's Library, 193 Mass. 444, 79 NE 769.

19. Plaintiff conveyed land to defendants and in addition to consideration expressed in deed it was orally agreed that if land was subsequently sold above a certain sum plaintiff should have one-third of the excess, and the oral agreement was enforceable. Allen v. Rees [Iowa] 110 NW 583.

20. "Received of Bradley Real Estate Co. twenty-five dollars, part payment on lot 1, block 8, in town of Muskogee. E. L. Robbins," is insufficient. Bradley Real Estate Co. v. Robbins [Ind. T.] 103 SW 777.

21. Part by note and "Balance to be paid in one, two, and three years at 6 per cent. interest" is sufficient. Conroy v. Woodcock [Fla.] 43 S 693.

22. Bochly v. Mansing, 52 Misc. 382, 102 NYS 171. Contract for sale of standing timber to be cut in the future, under which plaintiff had cut a few trees, but which had not been signed by defendant or her agent. Suit was brought by defendant on contract, but this did not ratify the same as there was no showing that the attorney was authorized to bring the same. King v. Cheatham [Ky.] 104 SW 751. Unsigned draft of lease of premises for six years at a rental of $3,000. Clement v. Young Amusement Co. [N. J. Err. & App.] 65 A 185. If the promise is by a corporation the writing must show execution in its behalf. Individual signatures of directors insufficient. Taylor v. Scott & Co., 149 Mich. 525, 14 Det. Leg. N. 503, 113 NW 32.

23. The correspondence between two persons showed a sale of land, but that one of them was acting merely as agent, and in no way disclosed the name of his principal, and it was insufficient to take the case out of the statute. Mertz v. Hubbard [Kan.] 88 P 529. The contract held not to show any promise to execute a conveyance, but merely a parol license to use lands. Detroit, P. & N. R. Co. v. Hartz, 147 Mich. 354, 13 Det. Leg. N. 1086, 110 NW 1089. Does not affect question of agent's compensation. Young v. Ruhwedel, 119 Mo. App. 231, 96 SW 228. Where statute expressly provides that no contract for the sale of lands made by an agent shall bind his principal unless the agent is authorized in writing, a written authority to an agent from a husband to sell his wife's lands is insufficient. Kirkpatrick v. Pease, 202 Mo. 471, 101 SW 651. Lease for more than three years, signed by an agent without written authority, is only effective as a lease at will. Clement v. Young-McShea Amusement Co. [N. J. Err. & App.] 67 A 82.

24. Owner wrote to his agent "I hope, Parrott, we can sell it soon or by spring," and in another letter "Yes, Parrott, I always keep my word. You are to have one-half of the profits * * * in the Copsin farm," and it was held sufficient. Harrison v. Rice [Neb.] 111 NW 594.

25. Where a deed made by an agent was ineffective because of lack of a sufficient power of attorney, it was valid as a contract of sale as the agent had sufficient oral authorization. Godsey v. Standifer [Ky.] 101 SW 921.

26. Specific performance enforced against principal at the suit of purchaser though agent's authority was only oral. Roberts v. Hilton Land Co. [Wash.] 88 P 946.

27. Agent for purchaser who was duly authorized in writing. McCullough v. Sutherland, 153 F 418.

28. Owner who corresponded with agent, knew he was acting for her in selling her land and in making deed, and accepted the full purchase price, ratified the contract. Kirkpatrick v. Pease, 202 Mo. 471, 101 SW 651. Agent had no authority to execute a contract of sale, but it was ratified where he immediately informed the principal and remitted the money which was retained. Roberts v. Hilton Land Co. [Wash.] 88 P 946.

29. Agent who signed contract of sale had no written authority, but the attorney for the purchaser was orally informed that agent was authorized and to see him in himself signed a lease is estopped to assert that it is within the statute because the authority of the agent who signed for the other party is not shown.<sup>30</sup> Though the original contract was verbal,<sup>31</sup> it may be reduced to writing<sup>32</sup> in the form of a receipt,<sup>33</sup> or in letters to a third person,<sup>34</sup> or in separate writings<sup>35</sup> if they refer to each other.<sup>36</sup> The memorandum must always purport to be made between the parties to the contract.<sup>37</sup>

To answer for the debt of another or to indemnify or insure. See 7 L. C. 1835.—It is not necessary that the writing should use any particular words so long as a guaranty may be fairly implied from its terms.<sup>38</sup> The consideration should be expressed.<sup>39</sup> Where the guaranty is made at the same time as the original contract, it is sufficient that the original states a consideration.<sup>40</sup> The word guaranty imports a concurrent act and that there was consideration. The signing of the guarantor's surname is a sufficient signing. No time of payment need be stated.<sup>41</sup> Part performance will take the case out of the statute.<sup>42</sup>

(§ 10) B. Delivery and acceptance. See 7 C. L. 1835.—Delivery and acceptance of any part of the goods takes the entire contract out of the statute.<sup>43</sup> The receipt of goods by carrier, or giving directions to him,<sup>44</sup> or the examination of goods for purpose of inspection, is not an acceptance such as to take the case out of the statute,<sup>45</sup> reference to the matter. Gregg v. Carey [Cal. App.] 88 P 282.

30. Bowman v. Powell, 127 Ill. App. 114.

31. Letter of defendant's agent to defendant stating that he had given plaintiffs a receipt for the purchase price of certain land and that he desired a receipt from defendant was insufficient. Winders v. Hill, 144 N. C. 614, 57 SE 456.

32. When the purchase price is paid, the leaving of a properly executed deed with the attorney of the grantor satisfies the statute of frauds. Robbins v. Porter, 12 Idaho, 738, 88 P 86.

33. Receipt stated that owner had received from person named a specified sum in part payment on land therein described and which specified the price, and could be enforced by the vendor though the purchaser's promise was oral. Boehly v. Mansing, 52 Misc. 382, 102 NYS 171.

34. Negotiations embodied in twenty-two letters between parties and their agents. Nicholson v. Dover [N. C.] 53 SE 444.

35. The contract stated: "Anderson to receive 2100.00 of Schneider * * *, to leave everything on the farm and to give possession Oct. 1, 04," but an undelivered deed held in escrow, but executed at same time fully identified the land. Schneider v. Anderson [Kan.] 88 P 525.

36. Letters and telegrams which did not describe the property or state the consideration were relied on in connection with a deed prepared by agent, but were insufficient as they could not be connected by parol. Patt v. Gerst [Ala.] 42 S 1001.

37. Written contract between C. and Y. is not evidence of a contract between C. and a corporation. Clement v. Young-McShea Amusement Co. [N. J. Err. & App.] 67 A 82.

38. Letter requesting bank to permit son to make overdrafts up to $500 to buy livestock with, and hoping the bank would accommodate both, was sufficient. Miami County Nat. Bk. v. Goldberg [Wis.] 113 NW 391.

39. Miami County Nat. Bk. v. Goldberg [Wis.] 113 NW 391. Defendant signed agreement whereby he assumed one-half of the liability of another under a guaranty contract executed by the latter for the benefit of plaintiff, but no consideration was expressed. Klee v. Stephenson, 130 Wis. 505, 110 NW 479. Written agreement of father to guarantee the payment for a course of instruction taken by his minor son was void for failing to express consideration. International Text-Book Co. v. McKone [Wis.] 113 NW 438.

40. "We * * * hereby personally guarantee the faithful performance of the within contract, as per terms therein set forth," held to show on face that the contracts were contemporaneous, and that the consideration of the original was adopted in the collateral contract. Merritt v. Coffin [Ala.] 44 S 622.

41. Across a bill for printing done for another person was written "Guaranteed. Belcher," and it was sufficient. Great Western Printing Co. v. Belcher [Mo. App.] 104 SW 894.

42. Contract of employment of traveling salesman provided he was to have 50 per cent of profits on sales made by him and pay 50 per cent of losses on customers with whom he dealt, and after receiving share of profits he cannot object to paying share of losses, as it is not within statute. Meyer-Bridges Co. v. Badeau [Miss.] 43 S 609.

43. Oral contract to deliver 1,200 bushels of corn. Fifty-two bushels were in fact delivered. Gabriel v. Kildare Elevator Co., 18 Okl. 318, 90 P 10.

44. Onions were delivered by seller to railway selected by purchaser, and later the purchaser, after notifying seller that they would not accept the goods, directed the transfer of the car of onions to the general yard of the railway. Kemensky v. Chapin, 39 Mass. 80, 79 NE 781.

45. Buyer of onions on arrival of car opened bags for inspection. Kemensky v. Chapin, 193 Mass. 500, 79 NE 781.

the question of acceptance being really a question of intention.<sup>46</sup> A constructive acceptance insufficient where terms of the contract are indefinite.<sup>47</sup>

(§ 10) C. Part payment and earnest money. See 7 C. L. 1836.—Part payment of the purchase price under an oral contract for sale of land does not take the case out of the statute.<sup>48</sup> A check may be accepted as earnest money.<sup>49</sup>

(§ 10) D. Part performance. Contracts for the sale of land. See 7 C. L. 1836.—An oral contract for conveyance of land is valid in many jurisdictions where plaintiff has fully performed,<sup>50</sup> as by paying the consideration and taking possession of the land,<sup>51</sup> and by making lasting improvements thereon,<sup>52</sup> or otherwise changing his position,<sup>53</sup> provided this is done in full reliance on the oral contract<sup>54</sup> and is not referable to some other contract or lease between the parties.<sup>55</sup> Part performance under a verbal lease, sufficient to take the same out of the statute of frauds, obtains in equity only, and will not avail to render the contract capable of being sued on in

46. When goods arrived the purchaser paid the freight both ways and at once reshipped to the seller, held he should have been allowed to testify as to his intent. Jarrell v. Young, Smyth, Field Co. [Md.] 66 A 50. In sale of corporate stock the delivery to the purchaser of an order for the stock and his tendering his note, which was refused, did not show an acceptance and delivery. McIlroy v. Richards, 148 Mich. 694, 13 Det. Leg. N. 286, 112 NW 489.

47. Delivery and acceptance of three pet sheep about the house does not take contract for sale of flock of sheep in the woods range out of the statute. Ladnier v. Ladnier [Miss.] 43 S 946.

48. Instructions in case held not prejudicial. German Nat. Bk v. Lafin [Neb.] 111 NW 578.

49. Broker with authority to sell received a check of $50 on a contract of sale and transmitted the same to his principal. Chouteau Land & Lumber Co. v. Chrisman, 204 Mo. 371, 102 SW 973.

50. In consideration of plaintiff's caring for the owner of land for life, the latter agreed that at his death the land should belong to them, and they fully performed. Powers v. Crandall [Iowa] 111 NW 1010. Contract for sale of interest in mining claims completely performed by purchaser and nearly performed by vendor before his attempted repudiation of it. Ferguson v. Blood [C. C. A.] 152 F 98. Defendant, stockholder of an insolvent corporation, agreed with creditor to buy land at foreclosure sale at price sufficient to pay debts in full, but did not though creditors relied on his promise and refrained from bidding. Satterfield v. Kindley, 144 N. C. 455, 57 SE 145.

51. In parol sale of railroad and coal mining corporation, purchasers paid for and took over the railroad. McCullough v. Sutherland, 153 F 418. Complainant bought lots for $300, paid price, and was put in possession by vendor who promised to convey, but instead mortgaged to a third person. City Loan & Banking Co. v. Poole [Ala.] 43 S 13. Agent closing a land sale gave check to a third person to await delivery of deed, and the purchaser being authorized to take possession and go ahead did so by renting it and utilizing the timber. Arkadelphia Lumber Co. v. Thornton [Ark.] 104 SW 169. Defendant railway purchased of owner land under parol agreement and, having paid full purchase price and entered into possession by constructing railway, it was entitled to enjoin a subsequent purchaser from bringing ejectment against it. Atlantic City R. Co. v. Johanson [N. J. Eq.] 65 A 719. Wife deeded a portion of her farm to her husband in pursuance of oral agreement that he was to join in deeding the remainder to her children who took possession of same. Kittredge v. Kittredge, 79 Vt. 337, 65 A 89.

52. Abrams v. Abrams, 74 Kan. 888, 88 P 70. Where purchaser under an oral agreement to convey land has invested money and made permanent improvements, the statute does not apply. Crane v. Cheney [Kan.] 91 P 67. A railroad entering on land under parol contract of owner to convey and taking possession and constructing its road is entitled to sue for breach of contract. Cape Girardeau & C. R. Co. v. Wingerter [Mo. App.] 101 SW 1113. Equity will enforce an irrevocable parol license to construct and use a wagon road for transporting timber from a tract of land where the licensee has paid the consideration and the road is constructed. Storseth v. Folsom [Wash.] 88 P 632.

53. Oral purchase of a passway in 1894, which had been used ever since, and a former passway by a lane was closed up. Jones v. Jones [Ky.] 101 SW 980. Vendor who has given deed may recover the unpaid purchase price. Knight v. Collings, 227 Ill. 348, 81 NE 346.

54. Under lease of coal land, lessor advanced money on oral promise to be repaid in coal, and was held to have an equitable lien enforceable in bankruptcy. Aitchison, etc., R. Co. v. Hurley [C. C. A.] 153 F 503. Plaintiff was in possession already under a valid lease and a parol long time extension could not be enforced. Simons v. New Britain Trust Co. [Conn.] 67 A 883. In a sale to a tenant in common, her continued possession of the land will not take the case out of the statute. Harper v. Gorley [Ga.] 57 SE 695. Payment of purchase-money followed by delivery of possession, but contract not clearly alleged. Maloy v. Boyett [Fla.] 43 S 243. Purchase of two movable machines or removing partitions from other premises does not show part performance of long time oral lease. Clement v. Young Amusement Co. [N. J. Err. & App.] 65 A 185.

55. Oral promise to convey land to tenant for $25 an acre who merely continued in possession. Steger v. Kosch [Neb.] 110 NW 983.

a court of law.<sup>56</sup> To defeat fraud equity will compel the performance of such contracts,<sup>57</sup> where they are established by clear and cogent evidence,<sup>58</sup> though not necessarily beyond a reasonable doubt.<sup>59</sup> Where one party has fully performed the other party has the right to do so.<sup>60</sup> Part payment alone,<sup>61</sup> or the making of slight changes<sup>62</sup> or removable improvements, will not take a case out of the statute.<sup>63</sup> A parol partition<sup>64</sup> or boundary agreement followed by possession renders them enforceable.<sup>65</sup> A void parol lease followed by possession will create a tenancy from year to year.<sup>66</sup> In case of an oral contract to devise lands, the beneficiary having fully performed<sup>67</sup> is sometimes allowed specific performance,<sup>68</sup> and at other times is compensated in damages.<sup>69</sup> To an invalid instrument of adoption may be good where there is part performance by surrender of child.<sup>70</sup> The right to redeem may be lost by parol agreement where it is inequitable to permit redemption.<sup>71</sup> If the agreement is not reduced to writing on account of the fraud of the other party, it is nevertheless enforceable.<sup>72</sup>

56. Breuer v. Berold, 9 Ohio C. C. [N. S.] 350.

57. Sale of a railroad and coal mining corporation. McCullough v. Sutherland, 153 F 418. Parol agreement for a right of way made as an inducement to purchase land on which he had made valuable improvements. Burrell v. Middleton [N. J. Eq.] 65 A 978.

58. Maloy v. Boyett [Fla.] 43 S 243. Evidence did not support right to tunnel to a mining claim. Laesch v. Morton [Colo.] 87 P 1081. Preponderance of unambiguous evidence showed that an aged man worth $13,000 had made a reasonable contract with a woman of his own nationality to make her a testamentary gift of property worth about $1,000 in return for her care and attention during his last days. A will was drawn in accordance with it, and the estate which passed by a subsequent varying will was chargeable with the performance of the contract. Berg v. Moreau, 199 Mo. 416, 97 SW 901.

59. Complainant entered under parol contract of lease with an option to purchase, paid rent in advance, and made permanent improvements. West v. Washington & C. R. R. [Or.] 90 P 666.

60. Plaintiff having performed services under an oral contract by which he was to be paid in land cannot recover therefor on an implied assumpsit when defendant was willing to perform specifically. Colorado Lumber, Land & Improvement Co. v. Dustin [Colo.] 87 P 1142.

61. Defendant orally agreed to convey an interest in land to plaintiff on his making payment, but the case is not taken out of the statute by plaintiff's making payment, or by his buying neighboring land to enhance its value, or by his doing other services at defendant's request, but without ever having possession of the land. Pounds v. Egbert, 117 App. Div. 756, 102 NYS 1079.

62. Removal of partition and purchase of two movable machines. Clement v. Young Amusement Co. [N. J. Err. & App.] 65 A 185.

63. Parol lease from year to year, beginning in the future, and entry and occupancy, did not fully perform the same. Wessells v. Rodifer, 30 Ky. L. R. 51, 97 SW 341.

64. Parol division of lands by children on death of parent. Sires v. Melvin [Iowa] 113 NW 106. Partition agreement partly in writing and partly parol, and parties took and remained in possession of their respective portions. Equity will require them to execute the necessary conveyances. Jones v. Jones, 118 App. Div. 148, 103 NYS 141.

65. Possession in pursuance of parol agreement will be binding on parties, but, where they merely endeavored to ascertain the exact line and made a mistake, the agreement is not binding. Burtie v. Bell, 225 Ill. 523, 80 NE 350.

66. Though statute provided that a tenancy created by an oral contract for a term of years shall have the force of an estate at will. Ray v. Blackman, 120 Mo. App. 497, 97 SW 212.

67. Powers v. Crandall [Iowa] 111 NW 1010. Where testatrix orally contracted with her children that if they would convey to her their interests in their father's estate she would leave them all her property at her death and they did so convey, the contract was enforceable. Stewart v. Smith [Cal. App.] 91 P 667.

68. Plaintiff entered home of her grand-aunt under express oral agreement that she would by will, or otherwise, leave her all her property. Plaintiff did all the work and fully performed her part of the contract, was not allowed to recover damages from the administrator but could have specific performance against the heirs. Hall v. Getman, 121 Mo. App. 630, 97 SW 607.

69. Complainant took care of and supported sister under parol contract that she should have all her property at her death. The sister duly made her will to that effect, but it was impliedly revoked by her marriage and the birth of issue. Grindling v. Rehl, 149 Mich. 641, 14 Det. Leg. N. 572, 113 NW 290.

70. Parties in consideration of surrender of child agreed to accept duties of parents to the child and that it should have all the rights of inheritance of a lawful child. Chehak v. Battles, 133 Iowa, 107, 110 NW 330.

71. Where the mortgage was by absolute deed and collateral written agreement to recovery, the right to redeem was lost under parol agreement where mortgagor had received the benefits he was entitled to and there had been long delay and mortgagee had taken possession. Ferguson v. Boyd [Ind.] 81 NE 71.

72. Defendant led plaintiff to believe that he had signed a contract for sale of mining

Parol gifts of land. See 7 C. L. 1838.—Parol gifts unaccompanied by possession are utterly void,<sup>73</sup> but they will be upheld in equity where the donee has gone into possession and made permanent improvements<sup>74</sup> of substantial value during life time of donor and with his acquiescence,<sup>75</sup> or where donee was induced to forego a benefit,<sup>76</sup> or where the denial of relief would operate as a fraud on the donee.<sup>77</sup> The parol gift of land must be shown by clear and unequivocal, though not necessarily undisputed, evidence,<sup>78</sup> and improvements must be made in reliance thereon.<sup>79</sup> Possession and valuable improvements made by a life tenant will take both life estate and remainder out of statute.<sup>80</sup>

Contracts not performable within a year. See 7 C. L. 1838.—Where both parties have fully performed an oral contract to extend a mortgage<sup>81</sup> or of employment,<sup>82</sup> neither can afterwards allege its invalidity. Part performance will not always validate an oral contract.<sup>83</sup>

Contracts for sale of goods. See 7 C. L. 1839.—If there has been no change of physical possession, the sale is within the statute,<sup>84</sup> but an actual change of possession, though not consented to, will take the sale out of the statute.<sup>85</sup>

§ 11. Operation and effect of statute. See 7 C. L. 1839.—The law of the state where the oral contract was made determines whether the statute applies or not.<sup>86</sup> claims, and the latter acted on such belief. Ferguson v. Blood [C. C. A.] 152 F 98.

73. Defendant in ejectment claimed to hold land under parol gift from plaintiff's testator who remained in possession and paid taxes until his death. Wood v. Praul, 217 Pa. 293, 66 A 528.

74. Donee went into possession, paid no rent, paid taxes, and erected a substantial home for himself. Bevington v. Bevington, 133 Iowa, 351, 110 NW 840. Son took possession of 160 acres under parol gift from father and held and paid taxes for nine years, until his death. Sires v. Melvin [Iowa] 113 NW 106.

75. The improving of two city lots by repairing fence and planting a few fig trees and rose bushes if not to exceed $10 in value did not take a parol gift out of the statute. The building of a woodshed and chicken house after donor's death was immaterial. Hutcheson v. Chandler [Tex. Civ. App.] 104 SW 434.

76. Defendant's ward orally agreed with complainant, if he would continue in partnership, to buy him a home near the place of business which he should live in rent free until the ward's death, and then it should become the sole property of complainant. Buhler v. Trombly, 139 Mich. 557, 102 NW 647, 108 NW 343.

77. Niece accepted offer of uncle of house and lot made to induce her to live near him, and lived in the same three years before the uncle's death when arrangements had nearly been completed for the conveyance of the lot. White v. Poole [N. H.] 65 A 255.

78. Gift of fee simple shown by facts of possession, rent free, erection of permanent improvements, relationship of parties, and declarations of deceased. Bevington v. Bevington, 133 Iowa, 351, 110 NW 840.

79. Evidence that complainant moved on land at her brother's request, which he said he would give her for a home, and would give her a deed, that until such time she was to give one-third of the crops, that it was not certain what estate she was to have or when the conveyance was to be made, and that she only expended $150 on the premises was insufficient to establish the gift. Logue v. Langan [C. C. A.] 151 F 455.

80. Gift must be immediate and absolute and proved by clear and unequivocal evidence. Here failure to prove gift of land to one for life, with remainder to her children. Sombest v. Wall [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 498, 102 SW 147.

81. The agreement to extend a mortgage for more than one year is valid, though no consideration was expressed, where the same was fully performed by the mortgagor, and will prevent the statute of limitations from barring a foreclosure. Trudeau v. Germann [Minn.] 112 NW 281.

82. Oral contract for employment for more than one year had been voluntarily performed by both parties, and had been orally renewed, and, though originally unenforceable, it fixed the rate of compensation. Schrader v. Fraenkel, 117 App. Div. 97, 102 NYS 335.

83. Oral contract of employment for one year, to begin at a future date, ineffective though part performed. San Antonio L. & P. Co. v. Moore [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 412, 101 SW 867. Under parol contract of leasing which required lessee to seed, evidence was admissible to show that he had done the required seeding, in an action to evict him. Jones v. Com. [Ky.] 104 SW 782.

84. Where subject of sale is in possession of the vendee as bailee, the mere oral agreement for sale does not work a change of possession and take case out of the statute. Silkman Lumber Co. v. Hunholz [Wis.] 112 NW 1081.

85. On sale of saloon furniture, vendor refused to deliver possession until paid, but the purchaser took possession during the former's absence, which was afterwards acquiesced in, and was in effect an actual delivery. Freyberg v. Los Angeles Brew. Co. [Cal. App.] 88 P 378.

86. Contract for sale of 35,000 barrels of cement at over $1 a barrel not within Illinois statute where contract was made.

The statute does not apply to declarations<sup>87</sup> or waivers.<sup>88</sup> The statute has no application where an oral contract has been fully performed on both sides,<sup>89</sup> neither can the benefit of the statute be claimed by strangers to the contract.<sup>90</sup> A modification of a contract need not be in writing where the original was not required to be in writing,<sup>91</sup> and that part was reduced to writing does not prevent the admission of parol evidence to show the whole agreement.<sup>92</sup> But when a contract is required to be in writing, it cannot be enforced unless all the terms are reduced to writing.<sup>93</sup> It cannot be varied by parol evidence<sup>94</sup> except to show a modification of a detail of performance,<sup>95</sup> but parol evidence may be resorted to to show the situation of the parties and the circumstances under which the writing was made.<sup>96</sup> Though a contract is unenforceable, certain provisions may be binding,<sup>97</sup> as that fixing the rate of compensation,<sup>98</sup> and where fully performed one may have a right to recover the compensation,<sup>99</sup> or to recover on an implied contract for the consideration furnished<sup>1</sup> or the improvements made.<sup>2</sup> An oral promise to devise in consideration of Jenkins & Reynolds Co. v. Alpena Portland Cement Co. [C. C. A.] 147 F 641.

87. A married woman told plaintiff that he might treat as signed by her any notes to which her name was signed by her husband, and was bound thereby, as it was not a promise to do or perform anything. Arnold v. Hopper [Kan.] 91 P 76.

88. Parol extension of time of closing written contract for sale of land. Kissack v. Bourke, 224 Ill. 352, 79 NE 619.

89. Contract to extend a mortgage. Trudeau v. Germann [Minn.] 112 NW 281. An oral promise within the statute cannot be avoided after performance. Blackwell v. Blackwell [Mass.] 81 NE 910. Contract for services for more than one year. Schrader v. Fraenckel, 117 App. Div. 97, 102 NYS 335.

90. Telegraph company cannot have benefit of statute in suit for failing to deliver a message sent by plaintiff accepting an offer for sale of property from another party. Purdon Naval Stores Co. v. Western Union Tel. Co., 153 F 327.

91. Contract for manufacture and sale of logs into lumber. Wisconsin Sulphite Fibre Co. v. Jeffris Lumber Co. [Wis.] 111 NW 237.

92. Customer verbally engaged broker to buy and sell stocks and received from him an unsigned ticket setting out the agreement. Picard v. Beers [Mass.] 81 NE 246.

93. Here construed to be a written contract, and not the reduction of a previous oral contract to writing, and proper to reject evidence of variance. Gate City Cotton Mills v. Cherokee Mills [Ga.] 57 SE 320. Contract not to be performed within one year. Hamilton v. Miller Brew. Co., 125 Mo. App. 579, 102 SW 1088.

94. Deed conveying rights to Indian allotments of land. Taylor v. Southerland [Ind. T.] 104 SW 874. See, also, Evidence, § 5, 9 C. L. 1228.

95. Lease of coal lands under which lessor was to be supplied with coal and pay the lessee on the fifteenth of the following month modified by oral agreement to advance money to be repaid by subsequent delivery of coal. Atchison, etc., R. Co. v. Hurley [C. C. A.] 153 F 503.

96. Where across a bill for printing posters for Michaels was written "Guaranteed. Belcher," it was shown that Michaels was indebted to plaintiff who declined to deliver the posters without a guaranty from defendant. Great Western Printing Co. v. Belcher [Mo. App.] 104 SW 894.

97. The provisions with respect to repairs amount to rent, and as to time for termination in a void parol lease for more than one year, were binding on the parties. Ray v. Blackman, 120 Mo. App. 497, 97 SW 212.

98. Oral contract for services for more than one year fully performed by employee. Schrader v. Fraenckel, 117 App. Div. 97, 102 NYS 335.

99. One gave services under parol contract to make a will. The will though made was impliedly revoked by marriage of testatrix and birth of issue. Grindling v. Rehyl, 149 Mich. 641, 14 Det. Leg. N. 572, 113 NW 290. Land conveyed pursuant to verbal contract, and may recover price. Knight v. Collings, 227 Ill. 348, 81 NE 346.

1. But no right of action on oral contract to pay bonus at end of term of employment. Price v. Press Pub. Co., 117 App. Div. 854, 103 NYS 296. Plaintiff having performed services for her greataunt on oral promise that she should have all her property, on the latter's dying without a will, plaintiff might maintain quantum meruit for her services. Hall v. Getman, 121 Mo. App. 630, 97 SW 607. Plaintiff conveyed land to defendant, his sister, on oral agreement that she should reconvey to him if he returned from sea and so requested, and he was entitled to recover the value of the property so conveyed. Cromwell v. Norton, 193 Mass. 291, 79 NE 433. Under Rev. St. § 3744, requiring contracts made on behalf of the government to be in writing, an oral direction of an officer to a contractor to prepare tugs and lighters and be ready to do lighterage for vessels expected to arrive shortly, followed by his getting the tugs, was not a valid contract. Johnston v. U. S., 41 Ct. Cl. 76.

2. Void oral lease of farm for five years. At end of four years tenant was dispossessed, but was allowed $99.92 for the value of permanent improvements which he had made. Poole v. Johnson [Ky.] 101 SW 955. Purchaser under oral contract for sale of land may recover price paid and value of improvements he had made where the vendor's title was defective. Burleson v. Tinnin [Tex. Civ. App.] 100 SW 350.

services though within the statute, is admissible to rebut the presumption that the services were gratuitous and raise an implied contract.<sup>3</sup> A subsequent new contract may be enforceable notwithstanding the existence of a prior invalid oral contract.<sup>4</sup>

§ 12. Pleading and proof. See <sup>7</sup> C. L. 1840.—The law of the state where the contract was made controls both in the state<sup>5</sup> and the Federal courts.<sup>6</sup> Where a pleading sets up a contract which is required to be in writing to be valid, it will be presumed to be in writing<sup>7</sup> unless the contrary affirmatively appears,<sup>8</sup> and it will be sustained on demurrer.<sup>9</sup> But where the pleading shows on its face that there is either no writing<sup>10</sup> or an insufficient writing,<sup>11</sup> it is demurrable or may be stricken out on motion.<sup>12</sup> A failure to argue demurrer will not waive defense.<sup>13</sup> The defense may be shown under a denial of the contract<sup>14</sup> or under the general issue.<sup>15</sup> Failure to object to evidence of the oral contract<sup>16</sup> or an oral admission on argument does not waive the defense.<sup>17</sup> But so far as the answer admits the contract<sup>18</sup> it waives the statute.<sup>19</sup>

FRAUDULENT CONVEYANCES.

§ 1. The Fraud and its Elements (1509). Bulk Sales (1510). Consideration (1511). Retention of Possession or Apparent Title (1513). Reservation of Benefits and Resulting Trusts (1513). Fraudulent Intent and Evidence of Fraud (1514). Fraud in the Grantee and Notice to Him of Fraud (1515).

Relationship of the Parties (1517). Preference to Creditors (1518).

§ 2. Validity and Effect (1519).

§ 3. Who May Attack (1520).

§ 4. Rights and Liabilities of Persons Claiming under a Fraudulent Grantee (1520).

§ 5. Extent of Grantee's Liability (1521).

§ 6. Remedies of Creditors (1521).

3. In re Taylor's Estate [Wis.] 111 NW 229.

4. A void oral contract of employment for one year, to begin at a future date, is not enforceable, but a request made, after the employment had begun, to continue the work under the contract, which was acted on, constituted a new enforceable contract. San Antonio L. & P. Co. v. Moore [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 412, 101 SW 867.

5. A contract to sell land situated in another state is governed by the lex loci contractus, and need not be in writing though so required by the law of the state where the land lies. Callaway v. Prettyman [Pa.] 67 A 418.

6. Sale of 35,000 barrels of cement for over $1 per barrel not within Illinois statute. Jenkins & Reynolds Co. v. Alpena Portland Cement Co. [C. C. A.] 147 F 641.

7. Must set up by answer or demur. Ma-loy v. Boyett [Fla.] 43 S 243. Plea set up a contract with reference to land. Wilhite v. Skelton [C. C. A.] 149 F 67. Demurrer will not lie. Cape Girardeau & C. R. Co. v. Wingerter [Mo. App.] 101 SW 1113.

8. Contract with reference to real estate. Rogers v. Penobscot Min. Co. [C. C. A.] 154 F 606.

9. Petition did not disclose on face whether contract concerning land and one not to be performed within one year was written or oral. Belt v. Lazenby, 126 Ga. 767, 56 SE 81. Contract to sell and convey land, and defendant disabled himself from performing by conveying to another. Mobley v. Lott, 127 Ga. 572, 56 SE 637.

10. Stovall v. Gardner [Tex. Civ. App.] 94 SW 217. Petition stating oral contract for employment for one year from date not demurrable. Bell Bros. v. Aiken, 1 Ga. App. 36, 57 SE 1001. Action to recover compensation for services as real estate broker. Smith v. Aultz [Neb.] 110 NW 1015. Petition showed an oral contract of employment for one year, beginning at a future date. Stovall v. Gardner [Tex. Civ. App.] 94 SW 217.

11. Contract of guaranty which failed to state a consideration. Merritt v. Coffin [Ala.] 44 S 622. Appeared by the bill that there was an oral contract for sale of land and that the only memorandum contained no description of the land. Miller v. Burt [Mass.] 82 NE 39.

12. Plea in effect for specific performance of oral contract to sell land without setting up sufficient facts to show part performance. Harper v. Gorley [Ga.] 57 SE 695.

13. Defendants were ready to argue the point if requested, but court thought the question could only be raised by plea. Stovall v. Gardner [Tex. Civ. App.] 94 SW 217.

14. Specific performance sought of oral contract to convey land. Winders v. Hill, 144 N. C. 614, 57 SE 456. Suit on contract for sale of goods where memorandum stated no price. Answer a general denial. Glasgow Mill Co. v. Burgher, 122 Mo. App. 14, 97 SW 950.

15. The appearance of defendant before justice of peace operated to raise the general issue, and thus let in the defense. Schmidt v. Rozier, 121 Mo. App. 306, 98 SW 791.

16. Petition for specific performance of contract for sale of land showed on face that it was an oral contract, and defendants denied any contract. Bradley Real Estate Co. v. Robbins [Ind. T.] 103 SW 777.

17. Plea set up contract as to land and was presumed to be in writing. Wilhite v. Skelton [C. C. A.] 149 F 67.

18. Defendant did not plead statute, but admitted part of oral modification to a lease restricting the use of land. Mausert v. Christian Fergenspan, 68 N. J. Eq. 671, 64 A 801.

19. Petition set up an invalid contract because not wholly in writing. Answer waived defense of statute by pleading a different contract partly oral and partly written. Hamilton v. Miller Brew. Co., 125 Mo. App. 579, 102 SW 1038.

The scope of this topic is noted below.<sup>20</sup>

§ 1. The fraud and its elements.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1841</sup>—A fraudulent conveyance is one made with intent to hinder, delay, or defraud creditors of the grantor.<sup>21</sup> The conveyance must have been made with intent to defraud,<sup>22</sup> unless it is of a character denominated fraudulent by law.<sup>23</sup> The intent actuating the transfer, therefore, and not its effect, determines its validity,<sup>24</sup> though a contrary rule seems to have been

20. It includes all transfers by incumbrance or absolute conveyance in fraud of creditors. It excludes fraud as between the parties (Fraud and Undue Influence, 9 C. L. 1475; Cancellation of Instruments, 9 C. L. 454), bona fides within the meaning of the recording acts (see Notice and Record of Title, § 1, 8 C. L. 1169), transfers in fraud of the bankrupt act (Bankruptcy, 9 C. L. 343), fraudulent transfer as ground for attachment (see Attachment 9 C. L. 282), or arrest (see Civil Arrest, 9 C. L. 570), respective rights of partnership and individual creditors (see Partnership, 8 C. L. 1261), rights of stockholders as to fraudulent transfers by corporation (see Corporations, 9 C. L. 733), and remedies of creditors by execution (see Executions, 9 C. L. 1328) or in aid of execution (see Creditors' Suit, 9 C. L. 849; Supplementary Proceedings, 8 C. L. 2046).

21. Held fraudulent: Conveyance by husband a few days prior to general assignment for benefit of creditors of stock of goods, he remaining in possession and from proceeds of sales repurchasing in name of wife. Bishop v. Hibben Dry Goods Co., 30 Ky. L. R. 725, 99 SW 644. Sale by debtor of all his assets, knowing of existence of just claims one of which was about to be reduced to judgment, held in violation of Laws 1897, § 24, c. 417, p. 511, prohibiting sales with intent to hinder, delay, or defraud creditors. Hall v. Frith, 51 Misc. 600, 101 NYS 31. Transfer by a husband to his wife of all his attachable property for a nominal consideration for purpose of avoiding attachments. Thomas v. Fletcher, 153 F 226. Mortgage of realty to sisters, sale of personalty and withdrawal of bank accounts during pendency of an action for slander. McCauley v. Shockey [Md.] 66 A 625. Conveyance of property of large value for nominal consideration by guarantor under obligation to pay amount of guaranty. Carroll v. Salisbury [R. I.] 65 A 274. Assignment of bank deposit amounting to $1,000 in consideration of payment by assignee of $50, and his agreement to go on assignor's bond in a criminal proceeding and to hire an attorney, held fraudulent, assignee not going on bond and expending only $150 and both parties knowing that creditor was about to attach deposit. Goode v. Rio Grande Sampling Co. [Colo.] 91 P 1105. Chattel mortgage reciting that it was given for the benefit of only those creditors who would accept its provisions within sixty days, such acceptance giving the mortgagee an extension of one year within which to pay amount due, held an attempt to coerce creditors to grant such an extension and therefore void as to nonaccepting creditors as hindering and delaying collection of their claims. Wood v. Eldredge, 147 Mich. 554, 14 Det. Leg. N. 40, 111 NW 168. Transfer of property to son held to have been in contemplation of the bringing of an action for slander against the grantor and to defraud the plaintiff in that action, the consideration claimed not appearing in the deed and not being sustained. Blahnik v. Barta, 130 Wis. 121, 109 NW 980.

Not fraudulent: Where a landlord required tenant to assume mortgage on realty, same not being a lien on any property owned by latter, tenant's creditors were not entitled to its cancellation as fraudulent, it not appearing that landlord was attempting to enforce any claim secured thereby. Pritz v. Jones, 117 App. Div. 643, 102 NYS 549. Purchase by wife of insurance policy on life of husband which had been assigned by him as security for a debt and sold to a third person on default of payment thereof. Lewis v. Palmer, 106 Va. 522, 56 SE 341. Trust deed given to secure future as well as existing indorsements. Weaver v. Neal, 61 W. Va. 57, 55 SE 909. Release of portion of mortgaged property by mortgagee and taking of other property in lieu thereof. Wellington v. Terry [Colo.] 88 P 467. Giving chattel mortgage to secure debt of another. Id. Mortgage covering after-acquired property given for a sufficient consideration. In re Chantler Cloak & Suit Co., 151 F 952.

22. The mere fact that the goods sold were not paid for by the seller, of which fact the vendee had knowledge does not render the sale fraudulent in the absence of an intent to defraud. Valdosta Mercantile Co. v. White [Fla.] 42 S 633. Fraudulent intent is necessary, and where the debtor intended to apply proceeds of sale to payment of creditors, though same was insufficient to pay all, the transfer is not fraudulent. Jackson v. Citizens' Bk. & Trust Co. [Fla.] 44 S 516. Creditors of a person paying liens on land of another cannot subject land of latter to payment of their claims in the absence of fraud. Mann v. Brazie, 61 W. Va. 613, 57 SE 43. Assignment by corporation held to have been without intent to defraud and to enable it to pay its debts. Van Slyck v. Woodruff, 118 App. Div. 47, 103 NYS 139.

23. A voluntary conveyance of all of debtor's property, rendering him insolvent, is fraudulent as to creditors under Civ. Code, § 3432. Hemenway v. Thaxter, 150 Cal. 737, 90 P 116. Under the bankruptcy act a purchase within four months prior to the institution of bankruptcy proceedings is presumptively fraudulent. Dokken v. Page [C. A.] 147 F 438.

24. An insolvent may sell his property if he acts in good faith and without fraudulent intent, though the effect of the sale is to place the property beyond the reach of his creditors. Pritz v. Jones, 117 App. Div. 643, 102 NYS 549. That the effect of a conveyance was to hinder and delay creditors adopted in some states.<sup>25</sup> It must prejudice the rights of existing creditors,<sup>26</sup> unless made with intent to defraud future creditors as well.<sup>27</sup> Conveyances of exempt property,<sup>28</sup> or in consideration of transfer to debtor of property which he could claim as exempt,<sup>29</sup> and conveyances to the rightful owner of property held in trust,<sup>30</sup> although the trust may be unenforceable as against the trustee,<sup>31</sup> do not prejudice creditors and hence are not fraudulent. The validity of a conveyance must be determined by the law in force at the time of its execution.<sup>32</sup>

Bulk sales. See 7 C. L. 1844.—At common law a sale in bulk is not prima facie fraudulent,<sup>33</sup> but statutes in most states have materially altered this rule. The weight of authority sustains the validity of bulk sale laws adopted in many of the states,<sup>34</sup> although there is a conflict of opinion.<sup>35</sup> The courts are not in ac-does not render it fraudulent. Handlin-Buck Mfg. Co. v. Wendelkin Const. Co. [Mo. App.] 101 SW 702.

25. Where prejudice to creditors is apparent from the face of the instrument, it will be declared fraudulent irrespective of the motives actuating the parties to it. Chattel mortgage coercing creditors desiring benefits thereunder to accept its provisions which would give mortgagor an extension of one year. Wood v. Eldredge, 147 Mich. 554, 14 Det. Leg. N. 40, 111 NW 168. Where the effect of a sale is to hinder and delay creditors, it is void as to them though the parties acted in good faith. Smith v. Birge, 126 Ill. App. 596.

26. In a proceeding to set aside a fraudulent transfer and to subject land conveyed to lien of judgment, the creditor must show by evidence outside of proof of judgment that the claim upon which it was based existed at such a time as to have made him a creditor when the alleged fraudulent transfer was made. Irish v. Daniels, 100 Minn. 189, 110 NW 968.

27. Constructive fraud is not sufficient to avoid a conveyance as to subsequent creditors. Leavengood v. McGee [Or.] 91 P 453. Where fraud in a conveyance is established as a question of fact as to existing creditors, the transaction is prima facie fraudulent as to subsequent creditors. Voluntary conveyance of all debtor's property, rendering him insolvent. Hemenway v. Thaxter, 150 Cal. 737, 90 P 116.

28. Transfer of exempt property does not constitute a fraud on creditors. Stark v. Lamb, 167 Ind. 642, 79 NE 895, afg. on rehearing 78 NE 668; McCarty v. Coffin [C. C. A.] 150 F 307. Notwithstanding intent to defeat creditors in making transfer. Hobson v. Noel, 30 Ky. L. R. 1, 97 SW 388. Homestead. Brunson v. Joseph Rosenheim [Ala.] 43 S 31; South Omaha Nat. Bk. v. Boyd, 79 Ark. 215, 97 SW 288; Nicholson v. Nesbitt [Cal. App.] 88 P 725; Rothwell v. Rothwell [Ky.] 104 SW 276; Bartle v. Bartle [Wis.] 112 NW 471. Conveyance of homestead is not a fraud notwithstanding fact that plat of homestead had not been made and filed at time of transfer. Citizens' Sav. Bk. of Olin v. Glick, 134 Iowa, 323, 111 NW 970. Law presumes that resident freeholder will avail himself of right to exemption, and where it appears that debtor was a resident freeholder of the state and that all property owned by him did not exceed $600 in value, equity will not disturb transfer thereof as fraudulent. Stark v. Lamb, 167 Ind. 642, 79 NE 895, afg. on rehearing 78 NE 668.

29. Assignment of judgment in part consideration of a conveyance of land which assignor at once claimed as a homestead is not fraudulent as to his creditors though suggested by the assignee for the purpose of defeating the former's creditors. Thompson v. International & G. N. R. Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 623, 100 SW 197.

30. Conveyance of property wrongfully withheld to the rightful owner cannot operate as a fraud upon the creditors of the grantor irrespective of his intent in making the transfer. Property purchased by husband with money of wife, title being taken in husband. Hunt v. Doyal [Ga.] 57 SE 489. Transfer to a grantee who already owned the property is not in fraud of creditors though induced by threats of criminal prosecution. McCormick Harvesting Mach. Co. v. Perkins [Iowa] 110 NW 15. Assignment by husband to wife of benefits due under accident policy held to have been intended to cure defect in policy making same payable to him instead of to wife, who had procured policy with her own funds. Weckerly v. Taylor [Neb.] 110 NW 738.

31. Conveyance of land held in trust by the judgment debtor does not constitute a fraud on creditors though as against him the trust may have been unenforceable. Land conveyed to debtor under parol trust. Smith v. Ellison, 80 Ark. 447, 97 SW 666.

32. Where under the law at the time of a conveyance it could not be declared fraudulent solely because it was voluntary, a subsequent amendment could not affect it. Hawley v. Harrington [Cal.] 92 P 177.

33. May constitute a badge of fraud. Houck v. Christy [C. C. A.] 152 F 612.

34. Acts 1903, p. 92, held valid. Taylor v. Folds [Ga. App.] 58 SE 683. Act March 28, 1905, P. L. 62, held constitutional. Feingold v. Steinberg, 33 Pa. Super. Ct. 39. Does not deny equal protection of the law because applying only to sales of a "stock of merchandise and fixtures." Wilson v. Edwards, 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 295. Is not an unwarranted infringement of liberty or of the right to acquire, possess, protect, and dispose of property. Spurr v. Travis, 145 Mich. 721, 13 Det. Leg. N. 598, 108 NW 1090; Wilson v. Edwards, 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 295. Does not deny equal protection because not applying to merchants having no creditors or to persons of other callings. Spurr v. Travis, 145 Mich. 721, 13 Det. Leg. N. 598, 108 NW 1090. Does not authorize deprivation of property without due process of law. Young v. Lemieux, 79 Conn. 434, 65 A 436.600. Act 1905 entitled "An act relative to the sale in bulk of the cord as to whether noncompliance with the law raises a conclusive<sup>36</sup> or a rebuttable presumption of fraud, or renders the sale void or merely voidable,<sup>37</sup> but in any event the property may be levied on as that of the grantor.<sup>38</sup> Where the transfer is voidable merely, bona fide purchasers may take title superior to the creditors of the grantor.<sup>39</sup> What transfers come within the operation of the act is a matter of construction.<sup>40</sup> It has been held to apply to a preferential transfer,<sup>41</sup> although a contrary rule has been adopted in Louisiana where the transfer is made to the wife,<sup>42</sup> and it has been held not to apply to chattel mortgages operating to create a lien only,<sup>43</sup> or to transfers between partners.<sup>44</sup> Being in derogation of the common law, bulk sale laws must be strictly construed.<sup>45</sup> A conveyance void under the act may be attacked by any creditor,<sup>46</sup> and the vendee does not acquire a lien on the property for the amount paid therefor by him.<sup>47</sup> The question as to whether the purchaser has made the inquiry required by the act is for the jury.<sup>48</sup>

Consideration. See 7 C. L. 1846.—A valuable consideration is necessary to sustain a conveyance as against creditors.<sup>49</sup> A voluntary conveyance is presumptively whole, or a large part of a stock of merchandise and fixtures, or merchandise or fixtures, not in the ordinary course of business; providing certain requirements therefor, imposing certain duties upon the seller and making their violation a misdemeanor," held to express its subject in the title. Wilson v. Edwards, 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 295.

35. See 7 C. L. 1844, note.

36. Bulk sale Act 1905, providing that sales not in compliance therewith "shall be deemed fraudulent and voidable as against creditors of the seller," does not merely cast burden of proving good faith on purchaser but renders such sales voidable at option of creditors. Wilson v. Edwards, 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 295.

37. Noncompliance with the bulk sale law renders the transfer voidable merely and not absolutely void. Kelley-Buckley Co. v. Cohen [Mass.] 81 NE 297.

38. No title passes where the sale is not in compliance with the law, and property may be levied on. Parham & Co. v. Potts-Thompson Liquor Co., 127 Ga. 303, 56 SE 460. To levy on goods as property of debtor and in response to sheriff's rule to interplead to aver facts which make sale fraudulent and voidable is an appropriate proceeding to invalidate a sale in bulk under act of 1905. Wilson v. Edwards, 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 295.

39. Where a grantor and a grantee fraudulently pretended to have complied with the bulk sale law, sending out notices to about half the creditors, informing a small creditor who had received notice from the grantor and had been informed that the law had been complied with and who thereupon loaned money to the grantor secured by a chattel mortgage given on the stock by the grantee, was held to have rights therein prior to the creditors. Kelley-Buckley Co. v. Cohen [Mass.] 81 NE 297.

40. The sale of the whole of a stock of trade of an independent business is within the statute. Sale of a drug stock and fixtures conducted independent of a general store. Young v. Lemieux, 79 Conn. 434, 65 A 436, 600. Bar fixtures, safes, desks, cash registers, etc., used in connection with a business, are part of a "stock of goods, wares and merchandise" within act of 1903 (Acts 1903, p. 93). Parham & Co. v. Potts-Thompson Liquor Co., 127 Ga. 303, 56 SE 460. Sale of stock of goods and business by a saloon keeper holding a lease from year to year so long as he bought beer from his landlord held not within the bulk sale law. Laws 1904, p. 1385. Pritz v. Jones, 117 App. Div. 643, 102 NYS 549.

41. Applies to transfer in bulk in full or partial payment of a debt. Sampson v. Brandon Grocery Co., 127 Ga. 454, 56 SE 488.

42. Bulk sales law has no application to a preferential transfer to his wife by an insolvent debtor. Does not apply to wife receiving goods by dation en paiement in restitution of her paraphernal property received and alienated by him. Compton v. Deitlein, 118 La. 360, 42 S 964.

43. Chattel mortgage is not a "sale, transfer or assignment" within the bulk sale law, as it does not operate as a sale or assignment but merely secures a lien to the mortgagee on the property covered. Hannah v. Richter Brew. Co. [Mich.] 14 Det. Leg. N. 393, 112 NW 713.

44. A sale by one partner of his interest in a mercantile business to his copartners is not within the act. Taylor v. Folds [Ga. App.] 58 SE 683.

45. Taylor v. Folds [Ga. App.] 58 SE 683.

46. A creditor as to whom the sale is voidable need not obtain the co-operation of other creditors but may himself attack it. Wilson v. Edwards, 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 295.

47. Farrar v. Lonsby Lumber & Coal Co. [Mich.] 14 Det. Leg. N. 386, 112 NW 726.

48. Feingold v. Steinberg, 33 Pa. Super. Ct. 39.

49. McCauley v. Shockey [Md.] 66 A. 625.

Consideration sufficient: Transfer in consideration of advances made to liquidate indebtedness constituting a lien on property held valid as to subsequent creditor. Sentel v. Jennings, 123 Ill. App. 469. Setting aside judgment in sequestration proceeding brought by wife to recover alimony held sufficient consideration for assignment of fund sequestered. Tisdale v. Rider, 104 NYS 77. Conveyances based on partition agreement and in settlement of moneys misapplied by an executor held based on a sufficient consideration. Perkins v. Gibbs [C. C. A.] 153 F 952. Conveyance made in consideration of a promise to marry by a solvent grantor is valid as against subsequent creditors. Huntress v. Hanley [Mass.] 80 NE 946. Con-fraudulent as to existing creditors,<sup>50</sup> and this is especially true when the grantor is insolvent,<sup>51</sup> but it is not void as to subsequent creditors in the absence of an actual intent to defraud them.<sup>52</sup> A voluntary conveyance is not necessarily fraudulent if the grantor retains sufficient property to satisfy his debts,<sup>53</sup> hence, a husband may make reasonable provision for his family<sup>54</sup> though he afterwards becomes inveyance to wife in consideration of payment by her of husband's debts which exceeded value of land held valid as against subsequent creditors of latter. Farmers' & Merchants' Irr. Co. v. Brumbaugh [Neb.] 110 NW 663. Conveyance made in consideration of advances by wife for family support from her professional earnings held based on a sufficient consideration, though under the law she was jointly liable for such support. Aultman Engine & Thresher Co. v. Greenlee, 134 Iowa, 368, 111 NW 1007. Deed from solvent husband to wife in consideration of pre-existing, bona fide debt held based on sufficient consideration, the debt being adequate to the amount conveyed. Sawyer v. Metters [Wis.] 113 NW 682. That debt due wife was for advances made by her to husband from her own earnings during marriage does not render consideration inadequate because such earnings belonged to husband, as while solvent he could make a gift of same to her, and having done so subsequent advances therefrom to him constituted a debt. Id. Assignment of trade mark by corporation in consideration of sum of $1,500 and agreement to pay indebtedness of $4,250 held adequate, though same was afterwards sold by assignee for $10,500, the business of the corporation having been previously conducted at a loss and the trade mark having subsequently sold to a representative of attacking creditor at a receiver's sale of assets of original assignor for only $100. Van Slyck v. Woodruff, 118 App. Div. 47, 103 NYS 139. Deed to wife in consideration of continuance of pending divorce suit and dissolution of injunction restraining husband from disposing of property, deed to be delivered in escrow and wife to resume cohabitation so long as husband refrained from intoxicants and supported her, upon condition broken deed to be delivered to her, held not voluntary, even as to portion in excess of what wife could have recovered as alimony. Pippin v. Tapia [Ala.] 42 S 545. Evidence held to show payment of consideration in notes which had been transferred to a bona fide purchaser. Gumbel & Co. v. Ityan, 118 La. 606, 43 S 251.

Insufficient: Transfer by a husband to his wife in consideration of her agreement to substitute her name in lieu of his on a note payable by him shortly after held without sufficient consideration. Thomas v. Fletcher, 153 F 226. Money received by a wife in consideration of her joining in contract for sale of land held to have been without consideration. Sharff v. Hayes, 132 Iowa, 609, 110 NW 24. Where wife contributed less than a third of the consideration for property taken in name of husband, exchanging same for other property in name of wife eleven years after, held fraudulent. Ahlering's Ex'r v. Speckman, 30 Ky. L. R. 940, 99 SW 973. Evidence held sufficient to show that conveyance was voluntary. Hemenway v. Thaxter, 150 Cal. 737, 90 P 116. Evidence held to show inadequacy of consideration, same amounting to only a third of value of land conveyed. Southern Bank of Fulton v. Nichols, 202 Mo. 309, 100 SW 613.

50. Though there was no fraudulent intent. Scharff v. McGaugh, 205 Mo. 344, 103 SW 550. Under Ky. St. 1903, § 1907, a voluntary conveyance is presumptively fraudulent as to existing debts independent of the intentions or circumstances of the grantor or the amount conveyed. Standifer v. Baker [Ky.] 101 SW 365. The burden is upon the grantee to show that, independent of property conveyed, grantee had sufficient means to satisfy creditors. Long v. Garey Inv. Co. [Iowa] 112 NW 550. A voluntary conveyance is void as to existing creditors. Allen v. Caldwell, Ward & Co. [Ala.] 42 S 855; North Penn Iron Co. v. International Lithoid Co., 217 Pa. 538, 66 A 860. Voluntary transfer by an insolvent to his wife and children of policies of life insurance, made payable to his estate, is in fraud of creditors and may be set aside. Lytle v. Equitable Ins. Co. of Iowa, 5 Ohio N. P. (N. S.) 28. Conveyance in consideration of love and affection void as to existing creditors. Heckling v. Gehring's Ex'r, 30 Ky. L. R. 1198, 100 SW 824.

51. A voluntary conveyance by an insolvent vests title in the grantee subject to prior incumbrances and existing debts of grantor. Parks v. Worthington [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 698, 104 SW 921. A voluntary conveyance by an insolvent debtor is presumptively fraudulent. Richardson v. Richardson, 134 Iowa, 242, 111 NW 934. A voluntary conveyance by an insolvent grantor is fraudulent in itself. Hessian v. Patten [C. C. A.] 154 F 829.

52. A voluntary conveyance by a solvent grantor to his child is valid as against subsequent creditors in absence of evidence that it was made with intent to defraud them. Hessian v. Patten [C. C. A.] 154 F 829. Voluntary conveyance held not void as to subsequent creditors, all existing creditors being secured and there being no showing that grantor anticipated incurring future indebtedness. Allen v. Caldwell, Ward & Co. [Ala.] 42 S 855. Evidence held insufficient to show that deed was antedated so as to make it appear to have been given prior to date on which debt as to which it was alleged to be fraudulent was incurred. Id.

53. Voluntary conveyance by solvent grantor to his child is valid if reasonable, not disproportionate to the means of the grantor, if he retain ample property to pay existing debts, and there is no actual intent to hinder or defraud creditors. Hessian v. Patten [C. C. A.] 154 F 829.

54. Voluntary conveyance by solvent husband to wife held not fraudulent as to creditors whose claims were not created until eight or ten years afterward. Reece v. Goldstein [Ky.] 104 SW 963. A solvent husband may make a voluntary conveyance to his wife if such conveyance is not made in contemplation of future indebtedness and to place property beyond reach of future credsolvent.<sup>55</sup> As a rule the burden of showing the insufficiency of the consideration is on the person attacking the conveyance,<sup>56</sup> but it has been held that a conveyance will be presumed to have been voluntary where a valuable consideration is not established.<sup>57</sup> Its adequacy must be determined as of the time of the transfer.<sup>58</sup> Recitals of a consideration in the instrument do not constitute evidence of the actual consideration.<sup>59</sup>

Retention of possession or apparent title.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1847</sup>—It is generally provided by statute that chattel mortgages<sup>60</sup> or sales of personal property<sup>61</sup> shall be accompanied by delivery and immediate and continued change of possession,<sup>62</sup> or that the instrument evidencing the transfer be recorded,<sup>63</sup> in order to render the transaction valid as to subsequent bona fide purchasers<sup>64</sup> and creditors. Independent of statute, retention of possession, while evidence of fraud, is not necessarily conclusive.<sup>65</sup>

Reservation of benefits and resulting trusts.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1848</sup>—The reservation by the transferrer of some right or benefit, such as the power of disposal of mortgaged chattels<sup>66</sup> and the application of the proceeds thereof<sup>67</sup> by the mortgagor, renders itors. Clark v. Else [S. D.] 110 NW 88. Conveyance by solvent husband to wife prior to becoming indebted to creditor seeking to set it aside and with knowledge of such creditor is not fraudulent as to him. Lowther v. Rader, 102 NYS 929. A conveyance by a husband to his wife while free from debt and before engaging in a hazardous pursuit does not constitute a fraud under the bankrupt act. In re Foss, 147 F 790. Voluntary conveyance by a solvent husband to his wife will not be set aside where it was reasonable even to existing creditors. McMunnigal v. Aylor, 204 Mo. 19, 102 SW 486. Money expended by a husband for the reasonable support of his family does not constitute a fraud on creditors. Payment of interest on a mortgage on his wife's home by a husband and taxes and assessments thereon cannot be followed by a creditor so as to make same a charge on the land. Farr v. Hauenstein [N. J. Err. & App.] 67 A 377, rvg. 70 N. J. Eq. 635, 62 A 383.

55. Where a voluntary conveyance by a solvent husband to his wife was reasonable, his subsequent insolvency not produced by causes existing at the time of the transfer will not invalidate the conveyance. McMunnigal v. Aylor, 204 Mo. 19, 102 SW 486.

56. Civ. Code, § 2170, note and mortgage import a consideration under § 2169, although given for an antecedent debt. Borden v. Lynch, 34 Mont. 503, 87 P. 609. In the absence of proof to the contrary, the consideration will be presumed to be adequate. Conveyance to wife in consideration of pre-existing debt. Ifeld v. De Baca [N. M.] 89 P 244, overruling on rehearing 79 P 723.

57. Bennett v. Boshold, 123 Ill. App. 311.

58. Where consideration was adequate at time of transfer, fact that property afterward increased in value does not render it inadequate. Ifeld v. De Baca [N. M.] 89 P 244, overruling on rehearing 79 P 723.

59. Deed from husband to wife reciting consideration of $1,000. Bennett v. Boshold, 123 Ill. App. 311.

60. Under a statute requiring a chattel mortgagee to take possession within a reasonable time after default, failure to do so renders the mortgage fraudulent per se. And the mortgagee's default cannot be explained. Cassell v. Deisher [Colo.] 89 P 773.

61. Sale of personalty is fraudulent and void as to creditors without notice in absence of actual delivery to purchaser. Lovejoy v. Raymond, 127 Ill. App. 519.

62. Where the evidence is conflicting as to the extent to which a purchaser went into possession, the question as to whether the acts of the parties constituted an actual and continued change of possession is for the jury. Selvert v. Galvin [Wis.] 113 NW 680.

63. Statutes intended for the protection of creditors against unrecorded deeds apply only to creditors holding liens. Code 1906, § 3103, was not intended to protect general creditors. Moore v. Tearney [W. Va.] 57 SE 263.

64. To charge a subsequent purchaser with want of good faith under such a statute, he must be shown to have had actual notice of prior sale, or knowledge of such facts as would put a prudent man on inquiry and which if made would have resulted in knowledge of prior sale. Farmer v. Hughes [Colo.] 88 P 191.

65. Unexplained possession of a mortgagor after the giving of the mortgage, while evidence of fraud, is not conclusive. Eastman v. Parkinson [Wis.] 113 NW 649. That chattel mortgagor remained in possession and exchanged portion of mortgaged property for other property of the same value does not invalidate the mortgage. Strop v. Hughes, 123 Mo. App. 547, 101 SW 146. Whether chattel mortgage allowing mortgagor to remain in possession was intended as a fraud on creditors held a question for the jury. Fleisher Bros. v. Hinde, 122 Mo. App. 218, 99 SW 25. Chattel mortgage allowing mortgagor to remain in possession and requiring him to keep stock up to present standard, but containing no provision allowing him to dispose of same in usual course of business for his own benefit, held not void on its face as a fraud on creditors. Id.

66. Chattel mortgage on lumber, supplies and manufactured furniture by a manufacturing concern, providing that mortgagor should remain in possession until default, creates an implied reservation of power of disposal, and is void as to existing and subsequent creditors of mortgagor. Albes v. Keith, Simmons & Co., [Ala.] 44 S 693.

67. Sale by mortgagor of mortgaged the transaction fraudulent. Transfers in trust for the benefit of the transferee are fraudulent where the transferor retains any control over the disposition of the property conveyed,<sup>68</sup> but this rule has no application to conveyances made primarily for the use of the grantee in which the reservation to the grantor is secondary and partial.<sup>69</sup> A transfer to a person other than the one paying the consideration therefor is presumptively fraudulent.<sup>70</sup>

Fraudulent intent and evidence of fraud. See 7 C. L. 1849.—The question of fraudulent intent is one of fact which may be proved by circumstantial evidence,<sup>71</sup> and in ascertaining such intent a wide range of investigation is permitted.<sup>72</sup> The existence of fraud will not be presumed<sup>73</sup> and must be proved by a preponderance of property with consent of mortgagee and application of proceeds to a purpose other than the liquidation of the mortgage debt renders the mortgage void as to creditors. Wellington v. Terry [Colo.] 88 P 467. Where chattel mortgagor remains in possession, failure to apply proceeds of sale of mortgaged goods toward payment of debt renders mortgage void, irrespective of intent to defraud. Fleisher Bros. v. Hinde, 122 Mo. App. 218, 99 SW 25.

68. A person cannot, as against creditors either prior or subsequent, settle his property in trust for his own use for life and over to his appointees by will and in default of such appointment to the use of his lawful heirs in fee, and such a trust is void though the instrument creating it expressly provides that it shall be irrevocable. Nolan v. Nolan [Pa.] 67 A 52.

69. Reservation in deed by an aged man of possession of property during life. Hessian v. Patten [C. C. A.] 154 F 829.

70. Presumption held overcome by evidence that real purchaser paid but a very small portion of the consideration, the balance being paid by money borrowed on the security of the property itself. Colnon v. Buckley, 117 App. Div. 742, 102 NYS 912.

71. Acts of grantor in asserting title and dominion over property conveyed after its conveyance with apparent acquiescence of grantee. Moore v. Tearney [W. Va.] 57 SE 263. Sale by insolvent to brother held fraudulent as to creditors, grantor's acts and declarations after alleged conveyance being inconsistent with transfer of title. McCloy v. Robertson [Ark.] 102 SW 386. Transfer to wife held fraudulent, she having allowed others to extend credit to husband on faith of apparent title in him. Citizens' Sav. Bk. of Olin v. Glick, 134 Iowa, 323, 111 NW 970.

72. Evidence of fraud: Sale by an insolvent of a large stock of goods in bulk without invoice or appraisalment and made in haste is evidence of facts from which jury may infer fraud. Irwin Phillips & Co. v. Rule, 124 Mo. App. 525, 102 SW 32. Transfer to brother made a year prior to bankruptcy of grantor, name of grantee not being inserted in deed until same was presented for record at about a week after bankruptcy, during interim grantee having made declarations inconsistent with ownership. Tabor v. Armstrong, 30 Ky. L. R. 938, 99 SW 957, rehearing denied [Ky.] 101 SW 305.

Not evidence of fraud: Mere failure to record voluntary deed is not of itself evidence of fraud, and when consistent with good intentions no bad motive will be attributed to grantee. Allen v. Caldwell, Ward & Co. [Ala.] 42 S 855. A recital that mortgage was given in good faith without intent to defraud creditors is, standing alone, without force, an adequate consideration having in fact been paid. Strop v. Hughes, 123 Mo. App. 547, 101 SW 146. Failure of mortgagee to list property for taxation. Id. Recitals as to the nature of the consideration, not absolutely true, should not be taken as an evidence of fraud when consistent with good faith. Id. That mortgagor requested payment of money borrowed on mortgage to his wife. Shive v. Merritt [Ky.] 104 SW 368.

Evidence admissible: That grantee knew of existence of indebtedness alleged to have been affected by fraudulent transfer is admissible. Bennett v. Boshold, 123 Ill. App. 311. Evidence that property transferred was exempt is admissible under a general denial. Stark v. Lamb, 167 Ind. 642, 79 NE 895, afg. on rehearing 78 NE 668. Schedule in insolvency proceedings to show insolvency at time of sale. Smith v. Birge, 126 Ill. App. 596. Judgment against grantors in attachment is admissible to show intent to defraud creditors in making transfer. Id.

Inadmissible: Declarations of grantor tending to show fraud, made in absence of grantee, are incompetent as against latter. Hargus v. Hayes [Ark.] 103 SW 163.

73. Burden is upon the creditor to establish fraud. Stark v. Lamb, 167 Ind. 642, 79 NE 895, afg. on rehearing 78 NE 668; Southern Bk. of Fulton v. Nichols, 202 Mo. 309, 100 SW 613. Where an adequate consideration was paid, the burden of proving fraud is on the person attacking the conveyance. Jackson v. Citizens' Bk. & Trust Co. [Fla.] 44 S 516; Sawyer v. Metters [Wis.] 113 NW 682. Where the debt was contracted subsequent to the conveyance assailed as fraudulent, the burden is upon the creditor to show that it was made and accepted with a fraudulent purpose. Seeley v. Ritchey [Neb.] 110 NW 1105, overruling on rehearing, 107 NW 769. Where deed appears on its face to have been given prior to incurring of debt with creditor seeking to avoid it, burden is upon him to show that deed was executed subsequent to incurring of debt. Allen v. Caldwell, Ward & Co. [Ala.] 42 S 855. A mere charge of simulation will not shift the burden to the defendant, but only when the facts proved throw doubt upon the reality of the sale. New Orleans Acid & Fertilizer Co. v. Guillory & Co., 117 La. 821, 42 S 329.

the evidence.<sup>74</sup> Proof of mere circumstances tending to arouse suspicion will not suffice.<sup>75</sup> A fraudulent intent, however, may be assumed from the existence of facts proved,<sup>76</sup> such as that the conveyance was voluntary<sup>77</sup> and that the grantor was insolvent.<sup>78</sup>

Fraud in the grantee and notice to him of the fraud. See 7 C. L. 1851.—Fraudulent intent on the part of the grantor is not alone sufficient to avoid a conveyance.<sup>79</sup>

74. Evidence held insufficient to show intent to defraud subsequent creditors of transferror by conveyance for a valuable and adequate consideration. Pritz v. Jones, 117 App. Div. 643, 102 NYS 549. To show that in having deed to land jointly purchased run to his brother plaintiff intended to defraud his creditors, he being at the time contingently liable as surety, on a claim fully secured and which was paid before paying for land purchased. Reemsnyder v. Reemsnyder [Kan.] 89 P 1014. To establish fraud in giving mortgage, no proceedings having been taken to set it aside from its execution until the mortgagor's death twelve years later and a consideration being established. Beddow v. Wilson, 28 Ky. L. R. 661, 90 SW 228. To show fraud in conveyance as to subsequent creditors, un rebutted testimony showing payment of a consideration. Leavengood v. McGee [Or.] 91 P 453. Evidence that subsequent to voluntary conveyance to daughter, made while solvent, the grantor's liabilities increased, held insufficient to show that transfer was made in anticipation of financial difficulties. Dorwin v. Patton [Minn.] 112 NW 266. Where a woman advanced in years and without business experience guaranteed payment of certain notes, all of which were promptly met as they matured, a conveyance five years later to only creditor whom she believed had claims against her held not to show intent to defraud holder of note which had not yet matured. Merchants' Nat. Bank v. Cole [C. C. A.] 149 F 708. Evidence that debtor's father agreed to convey certain property to her children if she would pay debt due him, that later debtor declined on ground of her inability to pay, and that no conveyance was ever made, held insufficient to show that father held legal title in trust for debtor to defraud creditors although she had procured insurance on property and exercised some control over it. Pickren v. Northcutt [Ark.] 102 SW 708.

Held sufficient: Evidence that shortly before bankruptcy, while grantor was insolvent, goods were sold in bulk for half actual value, without invoice or examination of goods or books or any inquiry as to grantor's financial condition, held sufficient to show fraud. Dokken v. Page [C. C. A.] 147 F 438. Proof that conveyance was voluntary or that it was made with fraudulent intent to hinder, delay, or defraud creditors and accepted by grantee with knowledge of fraud creates a prima facie case. Stark v. Lamb, 167 Ind. 642, 79 NE 895, afg. on rehearing 78 NE 668. Evidence held sufficient to show that conveyance made while grantor was insolvent and immediately prior to entry of several judgments against him was with intent to hinder, delay, and defraud creditors. St. Francis Mill Co. v. Sugg [Mo.] 104 SW 45. Evidence held sufficient to show that conveyance to daughter was intended to defraud creditors. Martin v. Shears [Neb.] 110 NW 1010.

75. Mere suspicions of fraud will not overcome positive and unimpeached testimony showing good faith. Transfer between relatives. Gage Bros. & Co. v. Burns [Neb.] 111 NW 791. Fraud must be clearly and distinctly proved, and will not be assumed from doubtful evidence or circumstances of mere suspicion. Harrisonburg Harness Co. v. National Furniture Co., 106 Va. 302, 55 SE 679. Will not be presumed that purchase price of lot taken in name of wife, or money paid for erection of building on it, was husband's merely because paid over by him, wife claiming it as hers. Lemp Brewing Co. v. Guion, 17 Okl. 131, 87 P 584.

76. Where comaker on note, after payment had been demanded by payee, conveyed land, upon strength of which credit was extended, to his children for an inadequate consideration, fraud was presumed as a matter of law. Southern Bk. of Fulton v. Nichols, 202 Mo. 309, 100 SW 613. Proof of existence of debt at time of alleged fraudulent conveyance, of entry of judgment thereon, and return of execution nulla bond, and insolvency of debtor, creates a prima facie case of fraud which vendee must overcome by proof of adequate consideration and good faith. Brunson v. Rosenheim & Son [Ala.] 43 S 31.

77. A voluntary conveyance by an insolvent debtor is presumptively fraudulent. Richardson v. Richardson, 134 Iowa, 242, 111 NW 934; Long v. Garey Inv. Co. [Iowa] 112 NW 550. Transfer of corporate property for nominal consideration, transferee making no inquiry as to financial condition, held constructively fraudulent. McNeal v. Hayes Mach. Co., 118 App. Div. 130, 103 NYS 312. Evidence that on day judgment was entered against him debtor conveyed property worth $34,500 to his wife without her knowledge, for an expressed nominal consideration, held to show intent to defraud creditors. Bekins v. Dieterle [Cal. App.] 91 P 173.

78. Evidence held to show insolvency of transferror at time of transfer, which fact was known to transferee. In re Arkonia Fabric Mfg. Co., 151 F 914. Where mortgage is supported by a valuable consideration and given in good faith to secure a debt actually due, the insolvency of the mortgagor does not raise a presumption of fraud. Borden v. Lynch, 34 Mont. 503, 87 P 609. Though once established insolvency is presumed to continue, it will not be presumed to relate backwards. Hence, where at time of his death deceased owed debts amounting to $2,000 and was without assets, no fraud would be presumed in a voluntary conveyance to his son five days prior to his death in absence of showing as to when debts were incurred. Long v. Garey Inv. Co. [Iowa] 110 NW 26.

79. Fraudulent intent on the part of the grantor is not sufficient to avoid a conveyance unless the grantee had notice actual or constructive. Jackson v. Citizens' Bk. & Trust Co. [Fla.] 44 S 516.

The grantee must have had notice, either actual or constructive,<sup>80</sup> of the fraud,<sup>81</sup> but where such notice is shown he is not a bona fide purchaser and will not be protected.<sup>82</sup> Notice will not be presumed but must be established by the party seeking relief<sup>83</sup> except where the conveyance is voluntary,<sup>84</sup> or where the grantee's relationship to the grantor is such as to charge him with notice.<sup>85</sup> A purchaser at an execution sale occupies a more favorable position than a purchaser from the grantor direct.<sup>86</sup> A grantee with notice of facts sufficient to put an ordinarily prudent man on inquiry<sup>87</sup> is charged with notice of the grantor's fraudulent intent,<sup>88</sup>

80. Grantee must be shown to have notice of grantor's fraudulent intent or knowledge of such facts as would put an ordinarily prudent man on inquiry and which if followed with reasonable diligence would have resulted in notice of fraud. Jackson v. Citizens' Bk. & Trust Co. [Fla.] 44 S. 516; Valdosta Mercantile Co. v. White [Fla.] 42 S 633. Instruction construed, and held not erroneous as leaving jury to conclude that transaction was to be judged solely by constructive, and not actual, notice on part of purchaser. Jackson v. Citizens' Bk. & Trust Co. [Fla.] 44 S 516.

81. Grantee purchasing for a valuable consideration without notice is a bona fide purchaser and will be protected. Jackson v. Citizens' Bk. & Trust Co. [Fla.] 44 S 516. An undisclosed intent of a mortgagor to defraud his creditors does not affect the rights of an innocent mortgagee. Shive v. Merritt [Ky.] 104 SW 368. Knowledge on the part of the grantee is essential to setting aside of conveyance, founded on valuable consideration, as a fraud on creditors. Pippin v. Tapia [Ala.] 42 S 545. In an action to set aside alleged fraudulent conveyance of a husband and wife, failure to connect wife with fraud in a conveyance to her prior to incurring of indebtedness bars relief. Mishler v. Finch, 104 Md. 182, 64 A 945. In the absence of fraud on the part of the grantee the fact that conveyance was made during insolvency of grantor is not ground for setting it aside. Borden v. Lynch, 34 Mont. 503, 87 P 609.

82. Knowledge by transferee of transferor's insolvency prior to payment of consideration renders transfer void as to creditors. Jordan v. Rice [Ala.] 44 S 93. Knowledge by grantee of grantor's intent to defeat claims of creditors by making conveyance renders him a participant in the fraud, though he may have paid some consideration for the conveyance. Levering v. Miller, 127 Ill. App. 225. One is not a purchaser in good faith if he purchases with knowledge of the fraudulent intent of the vendor or under such circumstances as should put him on inquiry as to the object for which the vendor sells. Houck v. Christy [C. C. A.] 152 F 612.

83. Where purchaser pays a valuable consideration, notice to him of fraud must be proved. Hall v. Frith, 51 Misc. 600, 101 NYS 31. Creditor must show that grantee had knowledge of the fraud. McCauley v. Shockey [Md.] 66 A 625; Southern Bk. of Fulton v. Nichols, 202 Mo. 309, 100 SW 613.

Evidence held sufficient: Purchaser knowing of financial embarrassment of grantor and that property purchased was only property available for satisfaction of claims of creditors held to have had knowledge of fraud of grantor. Hall v. Frith, 51 Misc. 600, 101 NYS 31. Evidence held to show that grantee, a near relative of grantor, had knowledge of latter's intent to defraud a creditor by the conveyance. Gust v. Hoppe, 201 Mo. 293, 100 SW 34; St. Francis Mill Co. v. Sugg [Mo.] 104 SW 45. That mortgagees who were sisters of mortgagors were parties to scheme to place property beyond reach of mortgagors' creditors. McCauley v. Shockey [Md.] 66 A 625.

Insufficient: That mortgagor requested mortgagee to pay money borrowed on mortgage to former's wife is not sufficient to charge latter with knowledge of former's fraudulent intent. Shive v. Merritt [Ky.] 104 SW 368. That mortgagor and mortgagee, a banker, were friends and lived in same community, and that former was a customer of latter's bank, held not to justify inference that bank was aware of mortgagor's fraudulent intent in executing mortgage. Shive v. Merritt [Ky.] 104 SW 368. Evidence held to show that vendee was without knowledge of vendor's insolvency or intent to defraud creditors by transfer of property. Gumbel & Co. v. Ryan, 118 La. 606, 43 S 251.

84. Where the conveyance is voluntary, the burden is upon the grantee to rebut the presumption of fraud. Scharff v. McGaugh [Mo.] 103 SW 550. Where a voluntary conveyance operates as a fraud on creditors, fraud on the part of the grantee need not be alleged or proved. Richardson v. Richardson, 134 Iowa, 242, 111 NW 934. Where husband procured property to be deeded to wife to defraud creditors, knowledge of fraud by grantor or grantee is unnecessary. Ahlering's Ex'r v. Speckman, 30 Ky. L. R. 940, 99 SW 973.

85. In dealings between a corporation and its president, the latter will be presumed to have knowledge of any intent to defraud which may have existed on the part of the former. Instruction requiring circumstances sufficient to put a reasonable man on notice held erroneous. Nelson v. Spence [Ga.] 53 SE 697.

86. A bona fide purchaser for value at an execution sale, paying an adequate price for the property purchased, does not stand in the position of a grantee of an insolvent debtor, though the judgment on which the sale was based was collusive. Lipschitz v. Halperin, 53 Misc. 230, 103 NYS 202.

87. That the purchaser might have discovered the seller's fraudulent intent is not sufficient to charge him with notice unless the facts were such as to have put him on inquiry. Instruction held properly modified. Jackson v. Citizens' Bk. & Trust Co. [Fla.]

but it has been held that such notice is merely a circumstance to be considered by the jury.<sup>89</sup>

Relationship of the parties. See 7 C. L. 1852.—While transfers between near relatives will be carefully scrutinized<sup>90</sup> when made in good faith,<sup>91</sup> the mere existence of the relationship is not sufficient to stamp them with fraud<sup>92</sup> unless they are voluntary.<sup>93</sup> When such conveyances are attacked as fraudulent, however, the weight of authority seems to be that the burden is upon the grantee to show good faith<sup>94</sup> and the payment of a consideration,<sup>95</sup> though the courts are not in har-

44 S 516. Knowledge of indebtedness or even insolvency merely of transferee held not sufficient to put purchaser on inquiry. Id.

88. Actual notice is unnecessary where vendee had knowledge of facts sufficient to have placed him on inquiry and which if prosecuted would have led to actual knowledge. Brunson v. J. Rosenheim & Son [Ala.] 43 S 31. The law charges the grantee with his knowledge of circumstances which afford ground for reasonable suspicion of the debtor's fraudulent intent, and not so much the duty of exercising reasonable diligence, to discover such circumstances. Spence v. Morrow [Ga.] 58 SE 356. The vendee is not a bona fide purchaser where he has knowledge of such facts as would lead an ordinarily prudent man to make inquiries which would lead to a discovery of the fraud. Instruction on good faith held correct. Bergenthal Co. v. Security Bk., 102 Minn. 138, 113 NW 892.

89. While knowledge by the grantee of facts which would put a prudent man on inquiry is a circumstance to be considered by jury as showing knowledge of grantor's fraudulent intent, it is not knowledge of fraud nor a fact from which such knowledge can be inferred. Instruction held erroneous. Irwin Phillips & Co. v. Rule, 124 Mo. App. 525, 102 SW 32.

90. Clark v. Else [S. D.] 110 NW 88. Transfers between near relatives will be looked upon with suspicion. Aunt and nephew. Gage Bros. v. Burns [Neb.] 111 NW 791. Though the relationship may be so distant as not to create a presumption of fraud, it may, when coupled with knowledge, suffice to that end. Assignment of mortgage to niece's husband who had knowledge of pendency of actions against grantor. Martin v. Shears [Neb.] 110 NW 1010. Where, however, the transfer is made while the grantor is solvent and the debt in controversy is secured, the suspicion is removed and, a consideration being proved, the good faith of the transaction is established. Seeley v. Ritchey [Neb.] 110 NW 1105, overruling on rehearing, 107 NW 769.

91. Evidence held to show that wife authorized to do business as a feme sole purchased property from assignee of her husband with proceeds of her separate estate. Potter v. Potter's Receiver [Ky.] 101 SW 905. Evidence that purchase price of property taken in name of wife and money expended in construction of building on it was paid over by husband held insufficient of itself to show ownership of same in him. Lemp Brewing Co. v. Guion, 17 Okl. 131, 87 P 584. Conveyance by a solvent father to his daughter held to have been without intent to defraud his creditors. Dorwin v. Patton [Minn.] 112 NW 266. Evidence held sufficient to show bona fides of transfer between aunt and nephew. Gage Bros. v. Burns [Neb.] 111 NW 791. Evidence held insufficient to show fraud in transfer from husband to wife in consideration of pre-existing debt due her. Sawyer v. Metters [Wis.] 113 NW 682. Evidence held insufficient to show that conveyance to stepfather was colorable and not in good faith. Hargus v. Hayes [Ark.] 103 SW 163.

92. That parties to transfer were husband and wife is not of itself sufficient evidence of fraud. Rice-Stix Dry Goods Co. v. Sally, 198 Mo. 682, 96 SW 1030. Fraud is not to be presumed from the mere fact of the relationship of husband and wife. Conveyance by husband to wife to whom he was indebted resulting in preferring her over other creditors. Mahaska County v. Whitsel, 133 Iowa, 335, 110 NW 614. Mere fact that the husband acts as agent for his wife in transacting business will not warrant assumption that they are acting fraudulently. Power of attorney to husband to draw checks in wife's name on funds owned by her, none of same being derived from husband except as loans which were subsequently repaid out of her individual funds. Clark v. Else [S. D.] 110 NW 88. While conveyances between husband and wife will be carefully scrutinized, but when made in good faith and for a sufficient consideration, the wife's right to protection is not destroyed by coverture. Aultman Engine & Thresher Co. v. Greenlee, 134 Iowa, 368, 111 NW 1007. Mere fact of relationship will not stamp the transaction as fraudulent. Note given by father to son held not fraudulent as to creditors. Weldon's Estate, 31 Pa. Super. Ct. 47.

93. Evidence held insufficient to show that conveyance to wife was in consideration of pre-existing debt. Scharff v. McGaugh [Mo.] 103 SW 550. Evidence of consideration for conveyance between near relatives held insufficient, same being services most of which were performed after date of conveyance. South Omaha Nat. Bk. v. Boyd, 79 Ark. 215, 97 SW 288. Evidence held to show that conveyance from father to daughter was voluntary. Standifer v. Baker [Ky.] 101 SW 365. Conveyance to wife held to have been in consideration of pre-existing indebtedness due her by husband. Weiss v. Farley [Neb.] 110 NW 656.

94. Seeley v. Ritchey [Neb.] 110 NW 1105, overruling on rehearing, 107 NW 769. Where debtor conveyed all his property to his brother, burden was upon latter to show want of knowledge of grantor's fraudulent intent and payment of a valuable consideration by him. Stubling v. Wilson [Or.] 90 P 1011. Evidence held insufficient to disprove presumption of knowledge of grantee, who was a brother of grantor, of latter's fraudulent intent. Id. Evidence held insufficient to overcome presumption of fraud arising from purchase of property in name of son with money of father. Hulen v. Chilcoat [Neb.] 113 NW 122. Evidence held insufficient to rebut presumption of fraud arising from conveyance between near relatives. Flint v. Chaloupka [Neb.] 111 NW 465.

Preference to creditors. See 7 C. L. 1853.—In the absence of statutory inhibition,<sup>97</sup> a debtor may prefer one creditor,<sup>98</sup> though other creditors are thereby defeated in the collection of their claims,<sup>99</sup> notwithstanding the grantor's fraudulent intent,<sup>1</sup> so long as the grantee is actuated solely by a desire to secure his claim and does not participate in the fraud.<sup>2</sup> The rule, however, does not apply to preferential transactions by insolvent corporations.<sup>3</sup> Under the New York statute a preferential transfer by an insolvent corporation or one whose insolvency is imminent<sup>4</sup> is void except as to a creditor standing in the position of a bona fide purchaser,<sup>5</sup> and knowledge by the

95. Where a conveyance from a husband to his wife is claimed to be in fraud of creditors, the burden is upon her to show the consideration. Bennett v. Boshold, 123 Ill. App. 311. Where conveyance is made by a debtor to a near relative in consideration of a past due indebtedness, the burden is upon the grantee to show the genuineness of the debt and that both parties acted in good faith. Flint v. Chaloupka [Neb.] 111 NW 465. Where property is purchased from an insolvent debtor by his wife during coverture, the burden is upon her to show that the consideration therefor was derived from some other source than her husband. Lewis v. Palmer, 106 Va. 522, 56 SE 341.

96. Where a deed by a husband to his wife was made while solvent and for a valuable consideration, the burden is upon a creditor attacking it to prove fraud. Sawyer v. Metters [Wis.] 113 NW 682.

97. Conveyance by insolvent to son-in-law held a fraudulent preference of latter, the transaction being a cash sale followed a few days later by payment to son-in-law of unsecured note due him by vendor. New Orleans Acid & Fertilizer Co. v. Guillory, 117 La. 821, 42 S 329.

98. Where defendant advanced money to a third person with which to purchase a stock of goods and never had possession of the property sold, payment by grantor to defendant of a debt due him out of the proceeds of sale held not fraudulent as to creditors of former. Pritz v. Jones, 117 App. Div. 643, 102 NYS 549. An insolvent debtor may prefer one creditor over another and to that end may transfer all of his property providing his purpose is honest and not to hinder or delay other creditors. Handlin-Buck Mfg. Co. v. Wendelkin Const. Co. [Mo. App.] 101 SW 702.

99. Taking a conveyance of securing a pre-existing debt does not constitute a fraud though creditor knows that same will defeat other creditors and that it was made for that purpose. Gust v. Hoppe, 201 Mo. 293, 100 SW 34.

1. Preferential transfer is not void as to other creditors, notwithstanding preferred creditor knew that debtor was actuated solely by a desire to defraud his creditors.

Jackson v. Citizens' Bk. & Trust Co. [Fla.] 44 S 516.

2. Preferred creditor must act in good faith, and if he takes property to aid debtor in accomplishing the fraud the conveyance is void. Jackson v. Citizens' Bk. & Trust Co. [Fla.] 44 S 516. The mere fact that a conveyance operates to secure the grantee priority in the payment of his debt will not avoid it where he does not participate in a fraudulent design on the part of the grantor to defraud his creditors. McCauley v. Shockey [Md.] 66 A 625. Sale of stock of goods at grossly inadequate price and application of proceeds to payment of one creditor, who had knowledge of scheme to thereby defeat other creditors, held fraudulent though such creditor received no more than was due him. Stitt v. Stone [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 990, 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 764, 103 SW 1192.

3. An insolvent corporation holds its assets as a trust fund for the equal benefit of all creditors, and hence is without power to prefer one creditor over another. Transfer by insolvent corporation with understanding that transferee should prefer certain creditors held void as to other creditors. Furber v. Williams-Flower Co. [S. D.] 111 NW 548.

NOTE. Preference by Insolvent Corporations: This doctrine emanates from the fact that creditors are confined to corporate assets while natural persons may subsequently acquire property and discharge previous obligations, and is sustained by the following cases. Adams & Westlake Co. v. Deyette, 5 S. D. 418, 59 NW 214, 49 Am. St. Rep. 887; Ford v. Plankinton Bank, 87 Wis. 363, 58 NW 766; Hardware Co. v. Manufacturing Co., 86 Tex. 143, 24 SW 16, 22 L. R. A. 802; Wood v. Dunmer, 3 Mason, 311, Fed. Cas. No. 17,944; Sanger v. Upton, 91 U. S. 56, 23 Law. Ed. 220; Curran v. State of Arkansas, 15 How. [U. S.] 312, 14 Law. Ed. 705; Appleton v. Turnbull, 84 Me. 72, 24 A 592; Biddle Purchasing Co. v. Steel Wire & Nail Co., 16 Wash. 681, 48 P 407; Sawyer v. Hoag, 17 Wall [U. S.] 610, 21 Law. Ed. 731.—See Furber v. Williams-Flower Co. [S. D.] 111 NW 548.

4. Deposit with defendant, a creditor, of proceeds of sale of corporate assets and loan by defendant to corporation, which was also deposited, secured by assignment of outstanding, the entire deposit then being drawn to pay defendant's unsecured claims, held a scheme to prefer defendant. Perry v. Van Norden Trust Co., 118 App. Div. 288, 103 NYS 543. Payment by an insolvent corporation of notes secured by mortgage to the extent of the mortgage securities is not a preference within the act. Wright v. Gansevoort Bk., 118 App. Div. 281, 103 NYS 548.

5. The receipt of a preferential payment contrary to statute is in law no payment at creditor of the debtor's insolvency or its intent to give a preference is not essential.<sup>6</sup> Relationship with the creditor preferred does not render the transaction fraudulent.<sup>7</sup>

The rule that the fraudulent intent of the debtor does not vitiate a preferential transfer does not apply where the debt is materially less than the value of the property, in which case the conveyance is void where the creditor takes with notice of the debtor's fraudulent intent,<sup>8</sup> notwithstanding payment of a cash consideration for the surplus<sup>9</sup> except where the money received is by agreement applied to payment of other debts.<sup>10</sup>

§ 2. Validity and effect. See 7 C. L. 1855.—A conveyance fraudulent as to creditors is valid and binding as between the parties to it<sup>11</sup> and those in privity to the grantor.<sup>12</sup> As to creditors it is void regardless of the grantor's solvency<sup>13</sup> or the consideration paid,<sup>14</sup> but though a conveyance is fraudulent as to a portion of the property transferred it may be valid as to the remainder.<sup>15</sup>

all, hence a creditor holding an indorsed note does not thereby release the indorser and does not by accepting such payment become a bona fide purchaser. Perry v. Van Norden Trust Co., 118 App. Div. 288, 103 NYS 543; Wright v. Gansevoort Bk., 118 App. Div. 281, 103 NYS 548.

6. Wright v. Gansevoort Bank, 118 App. Div. 281, 103 NYS 548.

7. Assignment to wife who was a creditor held valid though preferring her over other creditors. Lowther v. Rader, 102 NYS 929. A wife who is a creditor has the same right to a conveyance in payment of her claim as any other creditor. Evidence held to show that husband was indebted to wife, and hence conveyance to her was valid though a preference over other creditors. Weis v. Farley [Neb.] 110 NW 656. Where at time of marriage husband borrowed money from wife which he agreed to repay her in future, even at an indefinite time, he may subsequently, even as against creditors who had in meantime acquired claims against him, convey to her in satisfaction of such indebtedness, although effect may be to hinder and delay creditors in enforcement of their claims. Mahaska County v. Whitsel, 133 Iowa, 335, 110 NW 614. And it is immaterial that creditors extended credit on faith of property standing in husband's name, wife not being guilty of any purpose to defraud them. Id. Under the civil law a wife who is also a creditor of her husband stands upon a different footing from other creditors, and it is the husband's duty to see that she is paid the amount due her in preference to other creditors. Compton v. Deitlein, 118 La. 360, 42 S 964.

8. Transfer is valid where the purchasing creditor has no knowledge of debtor's intent to defraud other creditors. Jackson v. Citizens' Bk. & Trust Co. [Fla.] 44 S 516.

9. If creditor takes more than enough property to pay his debt, the sale is void, where he has notice of debtor's fraudulent intent, within the rules applicable to a volunteer purchaser, notwithstanding payment of valuable consideration for the surplus. Jackson v. Citizens' Bk. & Trust Co. [Fla.] 44 S 516.

10. Notwithstanding preferred creditor takes more property than is necessary to pay his debt, paying a valuable consideration for the surplus, the sale is not void where by agreement the purchaser or seller applies the money received to payment of other debts of the seller, the sale being in good faith. Jackson v. Citizens' Bk. & Trust Co. [Fla.] 44 S 516. Though amount realized was insufficient to pay all. Id. And in such case the rules of a creditor purchaser, where the debt is the sole consideration, apply. Id.

11. Martin v. Shears [Neb.] 110 NW 1010. Though statute makes conveyances in fraud of creditors "null and void." Tudor v. Tudor [Vt.] 67 A 539. As between the parties to a fraud, the transaction is valid, and the court will not relieve them of the consequences of the fraud. Sewell v. Norris [Ga.] 58 SE 637. Neither a court of law or equity will aid a fraudulent grantor in recovering back the property or in enforcing the trust upon which the deed was made. Will leave them in precise position in which their fraudulent acts have placed them. Cocho-nour v. Ratcliff, 223 Ill. 274, 79 NE 83. Where property was conveyed in trust for benefit of vendor to defraud his creditors, and subsequently reconveyed to the vendor, recognition of latter's title in action on fire policy requiring insured to be sole and unconditional owner is not an enforcement of the trust. Insurance Co. v. Waller, 116 Tenn. 1, 95 SW 811.

12. Deed fraudulent as to creditors is valid as against the heirs of the grantor. Southwood v. Southwood, 30 Ky. L. R. 307, 98 SW 304; Davis v. Davis [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 286, 98 SW 198. In action by heirs of grantor to set aside conveyance to wife as fraudulent, instruction held to require finding for defendant if jury believed that grantor conveyed to her with intent, known to her, to defraud his creditors, notwithstanding undisclosed intent on part of grantor that deed should not operate to pass title. Davis v. Davis [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 286, 98 SW 198.

13. If fraudulent intent on the part of the grantor is shown, the conveyance is void, notwithstanding the debtor has other property sufficient to satisfy his creditors. Bekins v. Dieterle [Cal. App.] 91 P 173.

14. A sale with intent to hinder or defraud creditors of the seller, which intent was known to the grantee, is void, notwithstanding payment by latter of an adequate consideration. Jackson v. Citizens' Bk. & Trust Co. [Fla.] 44 S 516; Gust v. Hoppe, 201 Mo. 293, 100 SW 34.

§ 3. Who may attack. See 7 C. L. 1855—Only creditors<sup>16</sup> and others directly affected<sup>17</sup> who were prejudiced<sup>18</sup> by the conveyance may attack it, and they may be estopped to assert its invalidity.<sup>19</sup> As a rule a creditor must first reduce his claim to judgment,<sup>20</sup> but by statute in some states a surety whose liability has not yet accrued may sue.<sup>21</sup> Administrators of the grantor may attack it when authorized by statute.<sup>22</sup>

§ 4. Rights and liabilities of persons claiming under a fraudulent grantee. See 7 C. L. 1856—A fraudulent grantee can convey a good title to an innocent purchaser,<sup>23</sup> but not to one with notice of the fraud.<sup>24</sup> This latter rule has no application, however, where the subsequent purchaser derives title from an innocent grantee.<sup>25</sup>

15. The effect of constructive fraud on an instrument will not be extended so as to render a mortgage covering two distinct classes of property wholly void merely because it is void as to one of them. Chattel mortgage covering stock in trade and other property, void as to former because being allowed to remain in possession of mortgagor, held valid as to other property. Eastman v. Parkinson [Wis.] 113 NW 649.

16. Mitchell v. Cleveland [S. C.] 57 SE 33. One neither a creditor nor a purchaser cannot attack a chattel mortgage, Mill's Ann. St. § 2027 providing that sales of goods, unaccompanied by immediate delivery and followed by actual and continued change of possession, shall be void as to creditors and subsequent purchasers. Klug v. Munce [Colo.] 90 P 603.

17. A pledgee of corporate stock may sue in equity to enjoin fraudulent transfer of property of corporation though neither a stockholder nor a creditor of the corporation. Andrews Co. v. National Bk. [Ga.] 58 SE 633.

18. Purchaser at sale under judgment subject to a first and second mortgage could not avoid the lien of the second mortgage on ground that it was invalid as to mortgagor's creditors. Youd v. German Sav. & Loan Soc., 3 Cal. App. 706, 86 P 991. The rule denying creditors the right to attack acts of a debtor prior to the creation of the debt does not apply to the right of a forced heir to attack a conveyance by his ancestor in fraud of his legitimate, as, though the right does not accrue until the death of the donor, it relates back to a date anterior to the donation. Jones v. Jones [La.] 44 S 429. Defects in a prior agreement to convey, based on a sufficient consideration, cannot be asserted by a creditor seeking to set aside a conveyance made in pursuance thereof as fraudulent. Aultman Engine & Thresher Co. v. Greenlee, 134 Iowa, 368, 111 NW 1007. Where property is transferred in good faith for a valuable consideration, a creditor is not entitled to have the transfer set aside merely because the debtor might have successfully resisted an action to compel performance. Id.

19. The assignee of a creditor is estopped to assert the invalidity of a transfer as a fraud on creditors where he was largely instrumental in securing the transfer as attorney for one of the parties to it. Canton Roll & Mach. Co. v. Rolling Mill Co., 155 F

321. Though ordinary heirs are estopped to assert the invalidity of a conveyance by their ancestor, the rule has no application to conveyances in fraud of forced heirs in so far as their legitimate is concerned. Jones v. Jones [La.] 44 S 429. Dismissal of an attachment in suit against grantor, and entry of judgment against him on stipulation, does not estop plaintiff in such action from attacking conveyances by grantor as in fraud of plaintiff. Scharff v. McGaugh, 205 Mo. 344, 103 SW 550.

20. Only creditors having a lien on the land of the debtor may sue to set aside conveyances in fraud of their rights. Hence no right of action exists after the lien of a judgment has expired. Smith v. Ellison, 80 Ark. 447, 97 SW 666. Simple contract creditor cannot maintain an action in equity in the Federal courts to set aside a fraudulent conveyance by the debtor either by virtue of state statutes or otherwise. Jurisdictional Act Mar. 3, 1875 (18 Stat. 472, c. 137, U. S. Comp. St. 1901, p. 513), permitting action to enforce liens to be brought in the district where the property is situated, does not confer such right, and, if it did, would be unconstitutional as in violation of the 7th amendment. Canton Roll & Mach. Co. v. Rolling Mill Co., 155 F. 321. Nor does the fact that the creditor holds a mechanic's lien on the property entitle him to maintain such an action, as, if valid, it may be enforced against the property itself regardless of conveyances. Id.

21. Under Civ. Code of Practice, § 237, a surety may bring an action in equity against his principal before the debt or liability becomes due to assail fraudulent conveyances by the latter. Walters v. Akers [Ky.] 101 SW 1179.

22. An administrator may maintain an action to set aside a conveyance fraudulent as to creditors whose claims had not accrued at the time of the transfer, as well as to then existing creditors. St. 1398, § 3832. Sawyer v. Metters [Wis.] 113 NW 682, overruling Ecklor v. Wolcott, 115 Wis. 19, 90 NW 1081.

23. Evidence held to show that vendee of fraudulent grantee was a bona fide purchaser for value. South Omaha Nat. Bk. v. Boyd [Ark.] 97 SW 288.

24. The burden is upon one claiming under a fraudulent grantee to show that purchase was made in good faith and for a valuable consideration. Long v. Garey Inv. Co. [Iowa] 112 NW 550. Where grantee, in conveyance fraudulent as to creditors, formed a new corporation and transferred property

§ 5. Extent of grantee's liability. See 7 C. L. 1856—A fraudulent grantee is not entitled to a lien on the property purchased to the extent of the price paid therefor,<sup>26</sup> nor can he assert a claim against his grantor's estate until claims of creditors have been paid.<sup>27</sup> Goods replaced with the proceeds of sale of property conveyed may be recovered,<sup>28</sup> and in setting apart to the grantee property as to which the conveyance is valid, the value of remaining property converted by him may be deducted.<sup>29</sup>

§ 6. Remedies of creditors. See 7 C. L. 1856—A conveyance in fraud of creditors may be attacked either at law<sup>30</sup> or in equity, and where numerous transactions are involved a single action in equity will lie,<sup>31</sup> but equity will not grant relief unless all legal remedies have been exhausted.<sup>32</sup> In a proceeding in aid of execution to set aside a fraudulent conveyance, it is not necessary that the creditor should first issue an execution against the debtor,<sup>33</sup> nor need he exhaust his remedies against one partner before seeking relief against a fraudulent conveyance by the other.<sup>34</sup> A creditor may enforce his judgment by levy on the property conveyed,<sup>35</sup> but only to the extent of such property.<sup>36</sup> All persons interested must be made parties.<sup>37</sup> The proceeding must be brought with due diligence after the discovery of the fraud<sup>38</sup> or the time within which in the exercise of reasonable diligence it would have been discovered,<sup>39</sup> and may be barred by laches independent of statute of limitations.<sup>40</sup> to it in consideration of its capital stock, the latter is liable to creditors of the former's grantor to the extent of the property received. McNeal v. Hayes Mach. Co., 118 App. Div. 130, 103 NYS 312.

25. Knowledge by an assignee for value of an innocent mortgagee that the mortgage was executed to defraud creditors of mortgagor does not affect his title. Shive v. Merritt [Ky.] 104 SW 368.

26. A sale void as to creditors cannot operate to give the vendee a lien for money paid by him. Transfer void under bulk-sale law. Farrar v. Lonsby Lumber & Coal Co., 149 Mich. 118, 14 Det. Leg. N. 386, 112 NW 726.

27. Walters v. Akers [Ky.] 101 SW 1179.

28. Young v. Lemieux, 79 Conn. 434, 65 A 436, 600.

29. In setting apart a homestead to a fraudulent grantee, the court may deduct the value of the grain, grown on land conveyed, converted by him. Walters v. Akers [Ky.] 101 SW 1179.

30. Jurisdiction of law and equity in cases of fraud being usually concurrent, a fraudulent conveyance may be attacked in action at law. In ejectment. Carroll v. Salisbury [R. I.] 65 A 274.

31. A series of acts involving different conveyances, and fraudulent judgments made to different parties at different times in furtherance of a single scheme to defraud, may properly be made the subject of one bill in equity by the creditors to reach the property. Wright v. Simon, 118 App. Div. 774, 103 NYS 911, afg. 52 Misc. 360, 102 NYS 1108.

32. Refused where no showing that execution had ever been levied on judgment against debtor, or that any effort had been made to collect same, or that debtor was insolvent. Smith v. Ellison, 80 Ark. 447, 97 SW 666.

33. Such a proceeding differs from a creditor's bill where issuance of execution is essential. Dawson v. First Nat. Bk., 228

Ill. 577, 81 NE 1128. The issuance of an execution need not be averred. Id.

34. On obtaining judgment against an insolvent partnership, a creditor need not proceed against one of the partners before filing a bill to set aside a fraudulent conveyance by the other. Dawson v. First Nat. Bk., 228 Ill. 577, 81 NE 1128.

35. Creditor as to whom a sale is fraudulent may levy on goods without bringing an action to have sale set aside. Hall v. Frith, 51 Misc. 600, 101 NYS 31. May levy as though it were property of debtor. Sale in bulk without complying with law. Parham & Co. v. Potts-Thompson Liquor Co., 127 Ga. 303, 56 SE 460. May levy on and sell property fraudulently conveyed as though no conveyance had been made. Bekins v. Dieterle [Cal. App.] 91 P 173.

36. A creditor may levy only on the identical property conveyed, hence property purchased by the grantee with the proceeds of the sale of property fraudulently conveyed is not subject to levy. Guyton v. Chasen [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 1016, 101 SW 290.

37. Action held properly dismissed for failure to join grantee of alleged fraudulent conveyance. Mishler v. Finch, 104 Md. 182, 64 A 945. The vendee of a fraudulent grantee who was not made a party to a proceeding to have deed declared void is not bound by the decree. Tudor v. Tudor [Vt.] 67 A 539. The debtor is a necessary party to an action to set aside an alleged fraudulent conveyance. Rule applies to fraudulent transfer by corporation to its stockholders. Lathrop, Shea & Henwood Co. v. Byrne, 100 NYS 1041. One not shown to be a partner of the grantor, though alleged to be interested in a fraudulent sale, need not be made a party to an action to set it aside. Sale void under the bulk sale law. Murray Drug Co. v. Harris [S. C.] 57 SE 1109.

38. Gordon v. Anderson [Miss.] 44 S 67.

39. Delay of twenty years after conveyance alleged to be fraudulent held a bar to

The complaint must allege fraud<sup>41</sup> and, when a particular statute is relied on, facts bringing the case within the statute must be set forth.<sup>42</sup> A denial of fraud is sufficient to raise the question that the property conveyed was exempt.<sup>43</sup> The parties are entitled to an instruction on all issues presented by the evidence.<sup>44</sup> Upon setting aside a conveyance the proceeds should first be applied to the payment of the owner's debts,<sup>45</sup> and in an action on a foreign judgment, though relief against the grantees is denied, the plaintiff is entitled to a decree against the grantor's estate.<sup>46</sup>

FREEMASONS; FRIENDLY SUITS; FRIEND OF THE COURT; FUNDS AND DEPOSITS IN COURT; FUTURE ESTATES, see latest topical index.

GAMBLING CONTRACTS.

§ 1. What Constitutes a Wagering Contract (1522).

§ 2. Rights and Remedies of Parties and Their Privies (1523).

§ 3. Effect of Illegality on Substituted or Collateral Contracts or Securities (1524).

The crime of gambling and the right to recover money lost thereat is elsewhere treated.<sup>47</sup>

§ 1. What constitutes a wagering contract. See 7 C. L. 1859.—A contract of sale for future delivery is valid if actual delivery is intended,<sup>48</sup> though the seller does not own the commodity at the time of entering into the same,<sup>49</sup> but such contract an action to set it aside, same having been recorded on the day of its execution and plaintiff's grantor having purchased at an execution sale a year after recording of conveyance to defendant. Gordon v. Anderson [Miss.] 44 S 67. Delay of thirteen years after obtaining judgment and filing of creditor's bill to set aside alleged fraudulent conveyance held fatal. Farr v. Hauenstein [N. J. Err. & App.] 67 A 377, rvg. 70 N. J. Eq. 635, 62 A 383.

40. Attack on conveyances made from ten to twenty years previously held barred though statute of limitations was not pleaded. Potter v. Potter's Receiver [Ky.] 101 SW 905. Delay of four years in bringing action to set aside fraudulent transfer held not to constitute laches. Bennett v. Boshold, 123 Ill. App. 311.

41. Complaint in action to set aside conveyance as fraudulent must allege fraud or facts from which the existence of fraud may be reasonably inferred. Pritz v. Jones, 117 App. Div. 643, 102 NYS 549. The facts on which fraud is predicated must be specifically pleaded. Mere allegation that property was conveyed in fraud of creditors not sufficient. Leavengood v. McGee [Or.] 91 P 453.

42. Under Ky. St. 1903, §§ 1910-1911, providing that mortgages made in contemplation of insolvency with intent to prefer certain creditors shall inure to benefit of all creditors upon petition filed by any person interested filed within six months after record thereof, a petition which did not allege insolvency of mortgagor, or that mortgage was made in contemplation of insolvency with intent to prefer certain creditors, or that it was filed within the time prescribed held insufficient. Krish & Co. v. Kentucky Jeans Clothing Co. [Ky.] 102 SW 803.

43. Answer need not allege that land conveyed was defendant's homestead. Hobson v. Noel, 30 Ky. L. R. 1, 97 SW 388.

44. Where there is evidence to show that lease of farm was taken in name of wife to prevent creditors from levying on crop, it is error to refuse an instruction on the issue thus presented. Fink v. McCue, 123 Mo. App. 213, 100 SW 549.

45. Upon setting aside a fraudulent conveyance of corporate property by the owner of all of its stock, the court may properly order the proceeds first applied to the payment of corporate debts. Taber v. Armstrong, 30 Ky. L. R. 938, 99 SW 957, rehearing denied, 101 SW 305.

46. Action against the administrator of the estate of a judgment debtor on a foreign judgment and alleged fraudulent grantees to set aside certain conveyances as in fraud of creditors. South Omaha Nat. Bk. v. Boyd, 79 Ark. 215, 97 SW 288.

47. See Betting and Gaming, 9 C. L. 388.

48. Watson v. Hazlehurst, 127 Ga. 298, 56 SE 459; Cleage v. Laidley [C. C. A.] 149 F 346. Not gambling contract within Hurd's Rev. St. Ill. 1905, pp. 698-700. Zeller v. Leiter [N. Y.] 82 NE 158. In action between broker and principal it is their intent and not intent of brokers actually making sale to make delivery that controls. Carson v. Milwaukee Produce Co. [Wis.] 113 NW 393. Intention of parties to contract of purchase and sale for future delivery to sell contract and rights thereunder and thus avoid delivery or receipt thereunder does not render it a wager. Cleage v. Laidley [C. C. A.] 149 F 346. Intention of parties to contracts of purchase and sale for future delivery to settle same so far as possible by "set-off" and "ringing off" under rules of board of trade and only delivery remainder does not render contract a wager. Id. Evidence held to show intent to "off-set" and "ring off" contracts of purchase and sale for future delivery, and to delivery remainder. Id.

49. Watson v. Hazlehurst, 127 Ga. 298, 56 SE 459.

is void where it is mutually<sup>50</sup> understood that no delivery is to be made but a settlement is to be effected on the difference between market and contract price.<sup>51</sup> Marginal contracts,<sup>52</sup> gift enterprises based on chance,<sup>53</sup> and optional contracts for the purchase or sale of grain for future delivery,<sup>54</sup> are expressly prohibited in some states. Remedial contracts relating to gambling contracts are liberally construed.<sup>55</sup> Intent to make delivery or not to make delivery is usually a question for the jury,<sup>56</sup> under all the facts and circumstances of the transaction.<sup>57</sup>

§ 2. Rights and remedies of parties and their privies. See 7 C. L. 1860—Gambling contracts being void will not support an action,<sup>58</sup> but the party seeking to

50. Both parties must contemplate non-delivery. Ware v. Dumont, 123 Ill. App. 1; In re Baxter & Co. [C. C. A.] 152 F 137. Facts and circumstances held to support finding that there was intent to make actual delivery on appellee's part. Semler Mill Co. v. Fyffe, 127 Ill. App. 514. It being necessary to show that both parties contemplated nondelivery, defendant after testifying that he did not intend to deliver, may show by conversations with other party that such was his intent also. Zeller v. Leiter [N. Y.] 82 NE 158.

51. Gibney v. Olivette [Mass.] 82 NE 41; Carson v. Milwaukee Produce Co. [Wis.] 113 NW 393; Cleage v. Laidley [C. C. A.] 149 F 346. Intention to "settle by payment of differences," "betting on future prices," or "closing up without delivery by payment of differences," means an intention by one who has sold for future delivery to buy on same board for same delivery and to off-set one against the other and to pay or receive difference. Carson v. Milwaukee Produce Co. [Wis.] 113 NW 393. Under Hurd's Rev. St. 1905, pp. 693, 699, c. 38, § 130, all transactions in grain are gambling contracts where neither party thereto contemplates delivery but settlement of differences only. Pratt & Co. v. Ashmore, 224 Ill. 587, 79 NE 952.

52. Claim against estate alleging that testator employed plaintiffs to purchase stock and to advance price thereof, which he agreed to repay, with commissions and interest, depositing stocks purchased, together with stocks, as security, etc., held not to show on its face a contract for purchase of stocks on margins, in violation of Const. art. 4, § 26. Pollitz v. Wickersham, 150 Cal. 238, 88 P 911. But where, in addition thereto, plaintiffs were given right to sell for protection in case of decline in market, a finding of such a contract was authorized. Id. Evidence held to warrant finding that plaintiffs had right to sell to protect themselves against decline of price. Id.

53. Where each purchaser receives certificate entitling him to hat pin, all of which are alike, such scheme is not void as gift enterprise under Laws 1895, p. 289, c. 152, the element of chance being lacking. United Jewelers' Mfg. Co. v. Keckley [Kan.] 90 P 781.

54. Contract to leave offer to make legal contract of sale open for specified time held option contract within Crim. Code, § 130. Woods v. Bates, 126 Ill. App. 180. Contract considered and held not mere offer to make contract for sale of grain, but an option to enter into a contract for purchase of grain. Bates v. Woods, 225 Ill. 126, 80 NE 84.

55. That portion of Hurd's Rev. St. 1905, c. 38, § 130, relating to option contracts to buy or sell grain for future delivery, held entitled to liberal construction. Bates v. Woods, 225 Ill. 126, 80 NE 84.

56. Carson v. Milwaukee Produce Co. [Wis.] 113 NW 393. Evidence of prior transactions, methods of doing business by board of trade where sales were made, together with communications between plaintiff and defendant, held to make intent a question for jury. Id. Positive testimony of plaintiff that they did not know that defendants did not intend to receive or deliver cotton, together with rules of exchange under which transaction was had requiring actual delivery, held to require court to instruct in favor of contract. Springs & Co. v. Carpenter [C. C. A.] 154 F 487.

57. Direct testimony of party that delivery was or was not intended may be overcome by inferences from facts and circumstances. Carson v. Milwaukee Produce Co. [Wis.] 113 NW 393. Probability that intelligent and experienced business man dealing with bucket shop knew that sales were only colorable held to overcome his testimony to contrary. In re Baxter & Co. [C. C. A.] 152 F 137. Positive contract agreement to make actual delivery held overcome by admissions of plaintiff. Saunders v. Baker, 122 Mo. App. 294, 99 SW 51.

Facts and circumstances surrounding transaction and settlements made held to show that neither party contemplated delivery. Pratt & Co. v. Ashmore, 224 Ill. 587, 79 NE 952. Held to show that appellant knew that appellee and middlemen contemplated settlement without delivery. Ware v. Dumont, 123 Ill. App. 1.

Evidence of seller's inability to purchase goods sold because of lack of funds and buyer's inability to accept delivery if tendered, and other facts, held to show that there was no intent to make delivery. Saunders v. Baker, 122 Mo. App. 294, 99 SW 51.

Evidence admissible: Where defendant, sued upon contract for sale of cotton, pleaded that as part of consideration plaintiff's assignor had agreed to purchase and carry two cotton futures for him, evidence of assignor's methods of doing business held admissible to show that no delivery was intended. Smith v. Bowen [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 664, 100 SW 796. Party to contract of sale for future delivery may testify as to intent to deliver where facts and circumstances make a reasonable case for the jury. Semler Mill Co. v. Fyffe, 127 Ill. App. 514.

58. In action for cotton sold, defendant may show that as part consideration plaintiff's assignor agreed to purchase and carry for defendant two cotton futures, rule that if plaintiff can make out case without proving illegality of contract he may recover, escape therefrom has the burden of establishing its invalidity<sup>59</sup> by clear proof.<sup>60</sup> Recovery of money lost or advanced under gambling contract, together with interest thereon,<sup>61</sup> is allowed to the party losing or advancing the same<sup>62</sup> in some states,<sup>63</sup> unless he has received the full benefit of his contract.<sup>64</sup> The right of recovery given by the Alabama statute is a personal action which survives the death of plaintiff.<sup>65</sup> An agent making a settlement with a customer on a gambling contract does not succeed to his rights as against the principal.<sup>66</sup> Where right to recover margins advanced on a gambling contract is given, unpaid margins cannot be off-set against them.<sup>67</sup>

§ 3. Effect of illegality on substituted or collateral contracts or securities.
See 7 C. L. 1861—A note given in settlement of a gambling contract is invalid,<sup>68</sup> and, if non-negotiable, is unenforceable in the hands of all holders,<sup>69</sup> and cannot form the basis of a valid compromise.<sup>70</sup> Generally,<sup>71</sup> money loaned or advanced to discharge gambling contract obligations may be recovered,<sup>72</sup> unless made by a party interested and as a mere device to enable winner to recover his debt.<sup>73</sup> not being applicable (Smith v. Bowen [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 664, 100 SW 796), and it is not necessary to show performance of such illegal agreement (Id.). Where defendant sued upon contract for sale of cotton pleaded that as part of consideration plaintiff's assignor agreed to buy and carry for him two cotton futures, and court instructed that if money paid by plaintiff's assignor to defendant was a loan he could recover, it is not error to refuse to instruct that money must have been paid for cotton and not as loan to support defendant's plea. Id. Rights and remedies on marginal contracts as affected by rules of boards of trade and exchanges, see Exchanges and Boards of Trade, 9 C. L. 1326.

GAME AND GAME LAWS; GAMING; GAMING HOUSES, see latest topical index.

59. Allen v. Caldwell, Ward & Co. [Ala.] 42 S 855; King v. Zell [Md.] 66 A. 279; Smith v. Bowen [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 664, 100 SW 796. Contract valid on its face. Watson v. Hazlehurst, 127 Ga. 208, 56 SE 459. Where evidence of party seeking to enforce a debt admits of no reasonable question but that it arose out of gambling contract, it is immaterial where burden of proof lies. Saunders v. Baker, 122 Mo. App. 294, 99 SW 51.

60. Cleage v. Laidley [C. C. A.] 149 F. 346.

61. In action under Code 1896, § 2163, authorizing recovery of money lost on wager contract, interest may be allowed thereon, recovery not being a penalty. Motlow v. Johnson [Ala.] 44 S 42.

62. Right to recover money lost by gaming, etc., given by Crim. Code, § 132, is to party losing, hence member of firm cannot individually recover losses of firm. Ware v. Dumont, 123 Ill. App. 1.

63. Under Rev. Laws, c. 99, § 4, and amendments, money lost on illegal wagering contracts may be recovered. Gibney v. Olivette [Mass.] 82 NE 41.

64. Where customer paid $770 margins to agent of defendant for purchase of stock, but no purchase was made and agent transferred account to another company which carried same without expenses to customer and finally settled for $1,100, such customer cannot recover margins from defendant though defendant retains same without consideration. Fuller v. Municipal Tel. & Stock Co., 117 App. Div. 352, 102 NYS 154. But where no benefits have been paid by latter company, advanced margins may be recovered. Id.

65. Action under Code 1896, § 2163, authorizing recovery of money lost on a bet, is a personal action within § 35, and survives death of plaintiff. Motlow v. Johnson [Ala.] 44 S 42.

66. Especially where agent knew of illegality and was party thereto. Fuller v. Municipal Tel. & Stock Co., 117 App. Div. 352, 102 NYS 154.

67. Fuller v. Municipal Tel. & Stock Co., 117 App. Div. 352, 102 NYS 154.

68. Zeller v. Leiter [N. Y.] 82 NE 153. Is contra bonas mores. Union Collection Co. v. Buckman, 150 Cal. 159, 88 P 708.

69, 70. Union Collection Co. v. Buckman, 150 Cal. 159, 88 P 708.

71. Lender of money to be used in illegal purchase of stocks on margins cannot recover same. Gibney v. Olivette [Mass.] 82 NE 41. Where broker brings principals together for purpose of entering into wagering contract and advances money on behalf of his principal, he cannot recover therefor from his principal. Anderson & Co. v. Holbrook [Ga.] 57 SE 500.

72. Though contract for sale of cotton is wagering contract, broker who has no interest therein and who does not share in profit or loss may recover for advances made on behalf of principal. Allen v. Caldwell, Ward & Co. [Ala.] 42 S 855. Where defendant directed plaintiffs, stockbrokers, to sell short and afterwards directed them to purchase to fill sale contracts, plaintiffs may recover money so advanced, though original short sale was void as wager, since it is not unlawful to fulfill such contract. Whitmore v. Malcomson, 155 F 503.

73. Evidence held to show that loan made by plaintiff, agent of foreign bucket shop, was made as device to enable winner to recover debt and in hope of retaining defendant as customer. Saunders v. Baker, 122 Mo. App. 294, 99 SW 51.

GARNISHMENT.

§ 1. Definition and Nature of Remedy in General (1525).

§ 2. Grounds for Garnishment and Choses and Properties Subject (1525).

§ 3. Persons Liable to Garnishment (1526).

§ 4. Rights, Defenses, and Liabilities Between Plaintiff and Garnishee (1526).

§ 5. Rights, Defenses, and Liabilities Between Defendant and Garnishee (1528).

§ 6. Duties of a Garnished Agent to his Principal (1528).

§ 7. Conflicting and Hostile Claims and Liens (1528).

§ 8. Jurisdiction and Venue (1528).

§ 9. Procedure to Obtain Writ; Bond (1528).

§ 10. The Writ and Service Thereof; Return; Notice to Defendant (1529).

§ 11. Answer or Disclosure and Later Pleadings or Traverse (1529).

§ 12. Claims or Interventions (1529).

§ 13. Dissolution of Writ (1530).

§ 14. Effect of Pendency of Other Proceedings; Stay, etc. (1530).

§ 15. Trial, Verdict and Judgments, Costs and Execution (1530).

§ 16. Appellate Review (1531).

The scope of this topic is noted below.<sup>74</sup>

§ 1. Definition and nature of remedy in general. See 7 C. L. 1862.—In Washington garnishment is a civil suit and not process of execution to enforce a judgment already rendered.<sup>75</sup>

§ 2. Grounds for garnishment and choses and properties subject. See 7 C. L. 1862.—Choses in action, as well as corporeal property, are as a general rule, subject to garnishment.<sup>76</sup> Liability for tort is not garnishable,<sup>77</sup> but the amount agreed to be paid in settlement of an action for tort is subject.<sup>78</sup> What is garnishable must frequently be determined by construction of the terms of the statute.<sup>79</sup> Property to be subject to garnishment must belong to defendant and be in the hands of the garnishee<sup>80</sup> at the time of the service of process.<sup>81</sup> In the case of a debt it must be an unconditional obligation<sup>82</sup> owing by the garnishee to the defendant<sup>83</sup>

74. It includes all ancillary process to attach credits of the defendant whether known as garnishment, trustee process, factorizing process, or the like. It excludes Attachment (see Attachment, 9 C. L. 282) and Final Process (see Execution, 9 C. L. 1328). Exemptions are largely governed by the same statutes as prescribe exemption from execution, as to which see Exemptions, 9 C. L. 1339.

75. Laws Wash. 1893, p. 95, c. 56; Pierce's Code, p. 107; Ballinger's Ann. Codes & St. §§ 5390 et seq. Baker v. Duwamish Mill Co., 149 F. 612.

76. Holmes & Co. v. Pope, 1 Ga. App. 338, 58 SE 281.

77, 78. Lee v. Louisville & N. R. Co. [Ga. App.] 58 SE 520.

79. A draft is property and subject to garnishment under the Washington garnishment statute. Washington Brick, Lime & Mfg. Co. v. Trader's Nat. Bk. [Wash.] 89 P. 157. Under Gen. Laws 28th Leg. p. 166, c. 109, § 6 authorizing a judgment creditor of a mutual insurance company to garnish securities deposited with state treasurer under provisions of act applies to companies acting under the act as well as to those incorporated under it. Robbins v. Midkiff [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 477, 102 SW 430.

80. Where upon termination of contract one contractor becomes entitled to property in hands of other, such property becomes subject to garnishment. Guffey Petroleum Co. v. Nearn [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 903, 100 SW 967. T. Bank had in its possession a draft drawn by defendant upon S. P. Co. in favor of S. Bank, which was accepted by drawee. S. Bank had a rule that in receiving collections it acted only as agent and always charged amount of a draft back to drawer when it failed to collect. It was held that even though pending collection. S. Bank permitted drawer to check against draft. It remained his property and subject to garnishment by his creditors in hands of T. Bank. Washington Brick, Lime & Mfg. Co. v. Traders Nat. Bk. [Wash.] 89 P. 157. Where agent of lottery company received check or draft from company proceeds of which it was intended should ultimately be applied to payment of a certificate holder, but it was deposited in bank in agent's name, money thus deposited remained property of company and subject to garnishment by one holding a claim against it. Fidelity Funding Co. v. Vaughn, 18 Okl. 13, 90 P. 34. Wife held to have such equitable interest in fund deposited in bank in name of husband and wife as to protect it from garnishment proceedings by husband's creditor. Schnellmann v. Southern Commercial & Sav. Bk., 123 Mo. App. 188, 100 SW 575. Where defendant holds checks of the garnishee, given as cash in payment for transportation to be thereafter furnished, the garnishee is under no obligation to stop payment of the checks after service of the writ of garnishment. Larsen v. Allen Line S. S. Co. [Wash.] 88 P. 753.

81. Wheelock v. Globe Const. Co. [Mass.] 81 NE 276. Under Garnishment Act, Hurd's St. (1903) 1011, § 5, garnishee must answer for debt due and owing any time before answer, although it did not exist in matured or unmatured form at time of service. The Howard Co. v. Miller, 123 Ill. App. 483.

82. Smith v. Marker [C. C. A.] 154 F. 838. Duty to pay it must not be contingent on happening of any future event. Id.

83. Funds to be garnishable must be due at that time,<sup>84</sup> but need not be then immediately due unless the statute so requires.<sup>85</sup> Property held under a contract of hire is not garnishable during the life of the contract.<sup>86</sup> By statute in some states, wages are exempted from garnishment.<sup>87</sup> The exemption cannot be waived unless such waiver is authorized by statute.<sup>88</sup> Under the Federal constitution and statutes<sup>89</sup> a railroad car is not exempted from garnishment because of the incidental effect the impounding thereof may have on its general use in the matter of transporting interstate freight.<sup>90</sup>

§ 3. Persons liable to garnishment.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1864</sup>—When property is in custodia legis, the officer holding it is not liable to garnishment unless made so by statute.<sup>91</sup> This rule applies to a guardian.<sup>92</sup> Under statutes in some of the states, administrators may be garnished.<sup>93</sup> In Georgia a judgment creditor may bring garnishment proceedings against an officer who has levied another process on the debtor's property.<sup>94</sup> Special commissioners who have in their hands an amount arising out of a chancery cause belonging to a judgment debtor, which the decree directs to be paid over to the owner, are liable to garnishment.<sup>95</sup>

§ 4. Rights, defenses, and liabilities between plaintiff and garnishee.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1865</sup>—One who disregards a summons of garnishment does so at his peril, and for any misapplication of property or funds is personally liable in damages to plaintiff.<sup>96</sup> A valid existing judgment against defendant is a condition precedent to defendant. Adams v. Augustine [Mass.] 81 NE 192. Where defendant, captain of fishing vessel, had exclusive possession and control until completion of voyage, and net proceeds of catch were to be shared in certain proportions by defendant owners and crew, proceeds in hands of purchasers of part of catch are garnishable for personal debt of defendant. Id.

84. Smith v. Marker [C. C. A.] 154 F. 838. Where at time of service of process there was merely an executory contract, whereby garnishee was bound to take bonds and pay for them, the fact that bonds were subsequently delivered does not warrant judgment against garnishee for their price. Wheelock v. Globe Const. Co. [Mass.] 81 NE 276.

Statutory rule in Georgia: Under Acts 1901, p. 55, service of summons of garnishment operates as a lien on garnishee's indebtedness at the date of the services, and also upon all future indebtedness accruing up to date of answer. Mutual Reserve Fund Life Ins. Co. v. Fowler [Ga. App.] 59 SE 469; Lee v. Louisville & N. R. Co. [Ga. App.] 58 SE 520. It was not the purpose of this statute to violate existing contracts or to restrain the right to contract. Mutual Reserve Fund Life Ins. Co. v. Fowler [Ga. App.] 59 SE 469; Singer Sew. Mach. Co. v. Southern Grocery Co. [Ga. App.] 59 SE 473.

85. Smith v. Marker [C. C. A.] 154 F. 838.

86. Southern Flour & Grain Co. v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 127 Ga. 626, 56 SE 742. Where a railroad company in Georgia receives from a railroad company in another state a car, under a contract by which Georgia company has right to carry car loaded to its destination in Georgia, unload it, reload and return it to owner beyond limits of state, paying for its use, the car while thus being used by the Georgia company is not subject to garnishment. Id.

87. Under laws of Georgia wages of all journeymen, mechanics and day laborers are exempted. Traders' Inv. Co. v. Macon R. &

Light Co. [Ga. App.] 59 SE 454. A nonresident of state is not entitled to benefit of Cobbey's Ann. St. 1903, §§ 1531-1534, prohibiting garnishment of wages of employes earned within sixty days prior to commencement of proceeding. McCormack v. Tinch [Neb.] 110 NW 547.

88. A contract, either specific or general, by which a laborer attempts to waive his exemption under Georgia statutes, is void. Traders Inv. Co. v. Macon R. & Light Co. [Ga. App.] 59 SE 454.

89. Constitution, art. 1, § 8, par. 3, and U. S. Rev. St. § 5253 (U. S. Comp. St. 1901, p. 3564).

90. Southern Flour & Grain Co. v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 127 Ga. 626, 56 SE 742.

91. Pugh v. Jones, 134 Iowa, 746, 112 NW 225.

92. Pugh v. Jones, 134 Iowa, 746, 112 NW 225. Not liable after death of ward to garnishment by judgment creditors of heirs. Id.

93. This is so in Iowa Code § 3936. Geiger v. Gaike, 134 Iowa, 197, 111 NW 804; Pugh v. Jones, 134 Iowa, 746, 112 NW 225.

94. Civ. Code 1895, § 4776, only applies where money is in the hands of an officer. Barkley v. May [Ga. App.] 59 SE 440.

95. Boylan v. Hines [W. Va.] 59 SE 503.

96. Lee v. Louisville & N. R. Co. [Ga. App.] 58 SE 520. A garnishee who applies money or property in his hands which may be subject to garnishment according to his own judgment and without judicial direction does so at his own risk. National Lumber Co. v. Turner [Ga. App.] 59 SE 15. If after a judgment is entered against an administrator as garnishee of defendant he pays defendant's distributive share and procures his discharge in the probate court, he is personally liable in damages to plaintiff or his assignee. Geiger v. Gaike, 134 Iowa, 197, 111 NW 804. It is no defense in such case that plaintiff moved, in probate court, to set aside discharge, and motion was overruled. Id.

to a judgment against the garnishee,<sup>97</sup> and the admission by the garnishee of his indebtedness to defendant will not preclude him from contesting the validity of the judgment against him.<sup>98</sup> The plaintiff has the same,<sup>99</sup> but no greater, rights against the garnishee<sup>1</sup> than the defendant himself has. If there is nothing due from the garnishee to the defendant at the time of garnishment the plaintiff cannot recover.<sup>2</sup> It is a good defense that defendant had assigned the property or debt bona fide, prior to the garnishment.<sup>3</sup> An estoppel precluding recovery by defendant is equally effective against plaintiff.<sup>4</sup> Where employer in good faith pays money to employe upon affidavit that he is head of family, as required by Garnishment Act, he is protected though such affidavit is false.<sup>5</sup> Against assets in his hands, the garnishee is entitled to set off all indebtedness owed by defendant.<sup>6</sup> The bankruptcy of the defendant, if the petition in bankruptcy was filed more than four months after the service of the summons of garnishment, will not preclude the subjection of the funds in the hands of the garnishee.<sup>7</sup> A transfer of the debtor's

97. Ingram v. Jackson Mercantile Co. [Ga. App.] 58 SE 372. Good defense by the garnishee that plaintiff has obtained no judgment against defendant. Fagan v. Jackson, 1 Ga. App. 24, 57 SE 1052. Good defense that judgment against defendant is dormant and cannot be enforced. Ingram v. Jackson Mercantile Co. [Ga. App.] 58 SE 372.

98. Ingram v. Jackson Mercantile Co. [Ga. App.] 58 SE 372.

99. Garrett v. Mayfield Woolen Mills [Ala.] 44 S 1026, Melton Hardware Co. v. Heidelberg [Miss.] 44 S 857. Garnishee is not entitled to occupy a better position than if sued by defendant. Guffey Petroleum Co. v. Nearn [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 903, 100 SW 967; Garrett v. Mayfield Woolen Mills [Ala.] 44 S 1026. Any liability which defendant could assert against garnishee may be asserted against him by plaintiff. Buckwalter v. Bradley [Ky.] 104 SW 970.

1. Singer Sewing Mach. Co. v. Southern Grocery Co. [Ga. App.] 59 SE 473; Holmes & Co. v. Pope, 1 Ga. App. 338, 58 SE 281; Southern Flour & Grain Co. v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 127 Ga. 626, 56 SE 742; Munson v. Mahon [Iowa] 112 NW 775; Pugh v. Jones, 134 Iowa, 746, 112 NW 225; Melton Hardware Co. v. Heidelberg [Miss.] 44 S 857; Schuler v. Murphy [Miss.] 44 S 810. The creditor may stand in his debtor's shoes, but he gains no additional privileges. Garrett v. Mayfield Woolen Mills [Ala.] 44 S 1026; Singer Sew. Mach. Co. v. Southern Grocery Co. [Ga. App.] 59 SE 473. Where a fund in hands of the garnishee is, under contract with defendant, to be advanced for one special purpose only, plaintiff cannot compel its payment to purposes foreign to contract. Holmes & Co. v. Pope, 1 Ga. App. 338, 58 SE 281.

2. McMillan v. Schneider, 147 Mich. 258, 13 Det. Leg. N. 1054, 110 NW 961; Melton Hardware Co. v. Heidelberg [Miss.] 44 S 857. Money is due building contractor when work is completed and certificate of architect waived or improperly withheld. McMillan v. Schneider, 147 Mich. 258, 13 Det. Leg. N. 1054, 110 NW 961. Where the defendant contracted with garnishee to sell sewing machines on commission, he to retain his commissions, there is nothing to which garnishment can attach, and Acts 1901, p. 55, creating lien on all future indebtedness of garnishee to defendant accruing to date of answer, is not applicable in such case. Singer Sew. Mach. Co. v. Southern Grocery Co. [Ga. App.]

59 SE 473. Where, after one holding fund under assignment for benefit of creditors has mailed to creditors checks for their pro rata share, he is served with summons of garnishment by one of creditors, he is not liable for any part of debt represented by checks except plaintiff's pro rata share. Parker-Fain Grocery Co. v. Orr, 1 Ga. App. 628, 57 SE 1074. But where summons of garnishment has been served on sender of check before it has left postoffice, and when sender, under regulations of postoffice, has right to withdraw it from mail, debt represented by check is subject to garnishment. Watt-Harley-Holmes Hardware Co. v. Day, 1 Ga. App. 646, 57 SE 1033.

3. Pugh v. Jones, 134 Iowa, 746, 112 NW 225. Assignment by heirs of property in hands of administrator. Id. Non-negotiable draft delivered by garnishee to defendant, accepted by him as conditional payment, and transferred to bank for value. Patek v. Chicago & N. W. R. Co., 147 Mich. 377, 13 Det. Leg. N. 1065, 110 NW 1059. An order given against his wages by a debtor to a creditor for necessities furnished does not, where the order is for a period longer than thirty days, defeat an attachment for necessities against wages earned after the thirty-day period. King v. Laws, 5 Ohio N. P. (N. S.) 414. Bona fide assignee of check, before garnishment service on the bank, has superior claim to funds though presentment is not made until after service. Paepcke-Leicht Lumber Co. v. Becker, 124 Ill. App. 311. Where assignment is superior to rights of plaintiff, notice of assignment to garnishee in time to allow latter to set up the claim is timely. Anderson v. McGraw, 124 Ill. App. 457.

4. Munson v. Mahon [Iowa] 112 NW 775. Facts constituting estoppel to claim commission for sale of garnishee's land. Id.

5. Illinois C. R. Co. v. Cowles, 127 Ill. App. 456.

6. Mutual Reserve Fund Life Ins. Co. v. Fowler, [Ga. App.] 59 SE 469. In Georgia a garnishee may set off, against assets in his hands belonging to a nonresident defendant, any indebtedness owed him by the latter, even though it be not due. Civ. Code 1895, § 3755. Holmes & Co. v. Pope, 1 Ga. App. 338, 58 SE 281.

7. National Surety Co. v. Medlock [Ga. App.] 58 SE 1131.

property with the purpose of defrauding creditors may be attacked in garnishment proceedings.<sup>8</sup> Stockholders of a garnished corporation, after judgment against the garnishee, are liable for sums received by them as dividends in fraud of defendant's rights.<sup>9</sup>

§ 5. Rights, defenses, and liabilities between defendant and garnishee.<sup>See</sup> 7 C. L. 1866—Where defendant has personal knowledge of the suit, the garnishee need only look to the jurisdiction, act fairly, and make a full disclosure.<sup>10</sup> But when the judgment against defendant is void for want of jurisdiction, payment by the garnishee is no defense to an action against him by defendant.<sup>11</sup>

§ 6. Duties of a garnished agent to his principal.<sup>See</sup> 5 C. L. 1578

§ 7. Conflicting and hostile claims and liens.<sup>See</sup> 7 C. L. 1866—The garnishee, if defendant be indebted to him, has a lien on funds coming into his hands, or future indebtedness to the defendant on his part, superior to that of the plaintiff.<sup>12</sup> A mechanic's lien that is not perfected until after garnishment must wait until the claim of the plaintiff in garnishment is satisfied.<sup>13</sup> The respective legal priorities of a judgment lien and a mortgage fi. fa. may be adjudicated by the determination of the issue made upon the answer of a garnishee and the traverse thereof.<sup>14</sup>

§ 8. Jurisdiction and venue.<sup>See</sup> 7 C. L. 1867—In Georgia the situs of a debt for the purpose of garnishment is at the residence of the garnishee.<sup>15</sup> In Illinois personal service of process on defendant is not essential to jurisdiction, where wages sought to be reached were earned and payable outside the state, if the cause of action arose within the state.<sup>16</sup> Where an issue is joined in garnishment proceedings between citizens of different states, the cause may be removed to the Federal courts upon petition of garnishee.<sup>17</sup>

§ 9. Procedure to obtain writ; bond.<sup>See</sup> 7 C. L. 1869—In Illinois a preliminary notice is prerequisite to garnishment of the head of a family.<sup>18</sup> The application for writ of garnishment need not be separate from the affidavit therefor.<sup>19</sup> The affidavit must conform to statutory requirements.<sup>20</sup> An affidavit is

8. McDaniel v. Bryan, 123 Mo. App. 640, 100 SW 1103.

9. Montgomery v. Whitehead [Colo.] 90 P 509.

10. Baltimore & O. R. v. Freeze [Ind.] 82 NE 761.

11. Geduld v. Baltimore & O. R. Co., 105 NYS 110.

12. Mutual Reserve Life Ins. Co. v. Fowler [Ga. App.] 59 SE 469. This applies to any past indebtedness due by defendant. Id.

13. McMillan v. Schneider, 147 Mich. 258, 13 Det. Leg. N. 1054, 110 NW 961. Where mechanic's lien on property owned jointly by husband and wife is not perfected because of wife's failure to sign contract for improvement, and a creditor of contractor garnishes money due under contract, the wife cannot thereafter, by consenting to entry of decree establishing lien, postpone right of plaintiff in garnishment. Id.

14. Barkley v. May [Ga. App.] 59 SE 440. Presentment of check to bank for payment is sufficient notice of claim on fund, and, where fund is garnished, the claim of holder should be set up. Paepcke-Leicht Lumber Co. v. Becker, 124 Ill. App. 311.

15. Act August 13, 1904 (Acts 1904, p. 100), so providing, is not unconstitutional. Harvey v. Thompson [Ga.] 57 SE 104.

16. See Illinois Act July 1, 1903. Baltimore & O. R. Co. v. Freeze [Ind.] 82 NE 761.

17. Baker v. Duwamish Mill Co., 149 F 612. Defendant in original action is a necessary party in such case and must be placed in controversy on side of plaintiff. Id.

18. Where wages of a wage-earner and head of family are to be garnished, demand in writing must first be served upon employer and employer twenty-four hours before bringing such suit and nonservice renders judgment void. Boyne v. Vandalla R. R. Co., 128 Ill. App. 191.

19. Burge v. Beaumont Carriage Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 918, 105 SW 232.

20. Where there are several defendants, and affidavit states that "defendant has not * * * property in their possession * * *", subject to execution, sufficient to satisfy * * * debt," words "property in their possession" makes affidavit sufficient as extended to all defendants. United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co. v. Warnell [Tex. Civ. App.] 103 SW 690. Sufficient statement of plaintiff's belief that garnishees are indebted to defendants not subject to objection as being an affidavit that garnishee's agent is indebted to defendant. Id. Affidavit which states that garnishee is indebted to "defendant" is sufficient where one of two defendants was dismissed and judgment recites that fact. Id. In an action against two defendants not jointly liable, an affidavit seek-sufficient though it does not state specifically that application has been made.<sup>21</sup> It is not fatal to an affidavit that the amount claimed therein is less than that named in the petition in the main action.<sup>22</sup> Such petition may be looked to in aid of the statements as to amount due made in the affidavit.<sup>23</sup>

Bond. See 5 C. L. 1580.—Where there are two defendants and the property garnished belongs only to one of them, it is not ground for complaint that the bond for garnishment is made payable to both.<sup>24</sup> A single bond will support a writ issued to two garnishees.<sup>25</sup>

§ 10. The writ and service thereof; return; notice to defendant. See 7 C. L. 1870.—Objection to sufficiency of service may be waived by garnishee.<sup>26</sup> A return to the improper court does not render the levy of the garnishment void, but the case will be transferred with the levy intact to the proper court.<sup>27</sup> Where the writ was not served on the defendant, he cannot be concluded by any decision adverse to him respecting jurisdiction or the liability of the garnishee.<sup>28</sup>

§ 11. Answer or disclosure and later pleadings or traverse. See 7 C. L. 1870.—Where answers of garnishee, a trustee of defendant, show that income which it has collected and holds was assigned by instrument in writing to another creditor before service of the present attachment, but that defendant had revoked the assignment, there is no admission of assets liable to attachment.<sup>29</sup> In Georgia the grounds on which garnishment proceedings are based cannot be traversed.<sup>30</sup> The objection that the defense of set-off was not specially pleaded by the garnishee may be waived.<sup>31</sup> A traverse of a garnishee's answer is sufficient if it merely denies the truth of the answer.<sup>32</sup> Defendant cannot complain of sufficiency of garnishee's answer to justify entry of judgment against him.<sup>33</sup>

§ 12. Claims or interventions. See 7 C. L. 1872.—One interested<sup>34</sup> may intervene in the proceeding.<sup>35</sup> In Georgia to enable a claimant to become a party to a garnishment suit he must file a claim to the property in the hands of the garnishee or

ing to reach a debt due one of them, which states that writ was not sued out to injure "either the defendant or garnishee," is not invalid. Burge v. Beaumont Carriage Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 918, 105 SW 232. This is so though bond was made payable to both defendants and writ commands garnishee to make known his indebtedness to both. Id. Affidavit averring that garnishment is not sued out to injure "garnishee" fatally defective where there are two garnishees. United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co. v. Warnell [Tex. Civ. App.] 103 SW 690.

21, 22. Burge v. Beaumont Carriage Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 918, 105 SW 232.

23. Rate of interest ascertained by reference to petition. Burge v. Beaumont Carriage Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 918, 105 SW 232.

24. Burge v. Beaumont Carriage Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 918, 105 SW 232.

25. United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co. v. Warnell [Tex. Civ. App.] 103 SW 690.

26. Cranford v. Dunson & Bros. Co., 1 Ga. App. 319, 57 SE 1057. Acknowledgment of service by him is sufficient. Id. After garnishee has appeared and answered and claimant has given dissolution bond, objection cannot be made to sufficiency of service. Id.

27. Carreker v. Thornton, 1 Ga. App. 507, 57 SE 988.

28. Alexander v. Segee, 101 Me. 561, 64 A 1049.

29. Egbert v. DeSolms [Pa.] 67 A 212.

30. Statutes make no provision for such traverse. Cohen v. Goodrum Tobacco Co., 1 Ga. App. 38, 57 SE 974.

31. Welton Hardware Co. v. Heidelberg [Ala.] 44 S 857.

32. Barkley v. May [Ga. App.] 59 SE 440.

33. Slattery v. Stevens, 125 Ill. App. 67.

34. In attachment proceedings, where it is sought through the answer to a garnishee process to hold the funds of one who is a stranger to the action pending the obtaining of jurisdiction over the defendant by publication, the owner of the fund is "interested" in the proceedings within the meaning of § 5121, and, upon intervening by motion to discharge the attachment, he has the right to be heard. Modoc Soap Co. v. Brankamp, 5 Ohio N. P. (N. S.) 252.

35. Right of one claiming interest in fund garnished to interplead, under Hurd's Rev. St. 1903, c. 62, § 11, is not wholly discretionary with court. Paepcke-Leicht Lumber Co. v. Becker, 124 Ill. App. 311. Motion to vacate judgment and for leave to plead held timely made where garnishee made answer and judgment was entered before return day unbeknown to claimant, who applied immediately upon learning of same. Id.

give a bond to dissolve the garnishment.<sup>36</sup> A claimant whose claim is based on a fraudulent transfer from defendant cannot recover.<sup>37</sup> The question whether an assignment of the garnished fund to a claimant was subsequent to service of garnishment is for the jury.<sup>38</sup> In Massachusetts trustee's sworn answers to interrogatories propounded by plaintiff are admissible upon issues between plaintiff and claimant.<sup>39</sup> The judgment against the defendant does not bind the intervenor.<sup>40</sup>

§ 13. Dissolution of writ. See 7 C. L. 1872—It is only a statutory bond that will dissolve a garnishment.<sup>41</sup>

§ 14. Effect of pendency of other proceedings; stay, etc. See 7 C. L. 1872—The effect of appeal from judgment against defendant and execution of supersedeas bond after writ of garnishment has issued is to suspend garnishment proceedings until the appeal is decided.<sup>42</sup> Upon affirmance of the judgment the suspension is terminated.<sup>43</sup>

§ 15. Trial, verdict and judgments, costs and execution. See 7 C. L. 1878—In Colorado a valid judgment cannot be rendered against a garnishee in a justice's court, when his answer is controverted, if scire facias is not served upon him.<sup>44</sup> The burden of proof is upon the plaintiff to show that he has obtained a judgment against defendant<sup>45</sup> and that money was due from the garnishee to defendant at the time of garnishment.<sup>46</sup> When it is shown that garnishee has realized a sum of money from goods of defendant which were in his possession, the burden is cast upon him to show that the money is not subject to garnishment.<sup>47</sup> If the answer of the garnishee clearly admits liability, judgment may be ordered thereon.<sup>48</sup> Evidence is admissible to show that money is due from the garnishee to defendant.<sup>49</sup> The question whether the garnishee is indebted to or has assets of defendant is to

36. Civ. Code 1895, § 4720. Drought v. Poage [Ga. App.] 59 SE 728. But where defendant for purpose of dissolving garnishment executes bond under Civ. Code 1895, § 4718, for use of a named user, such recital does not make the user a party, entitled as such to have an issue tendered and disposed of as to title to the property. Id.

37. Where claimant before parting with any consideration for transfer by defendant of interest in judgment recovered against garnishee, had knowledge of defendant's insolvency and his indebtedness to plaintiff, the transfer is fraudulent and void as to plaintiff. Jordan v. Rice [Ala.] 44 S 93.

38. Jordan v. Rice [Ala.] 44 S 93.

39. Where alleged partnership of which defendant was member claimed funds in hands of trustee, it was held that under Rev. Laws, c. 189, § 32, answers to interrogatories propounded under § 11, containing statements of acts and conduct of defendant from which it might be inferred he was only person interested in alleged partnership, were admissible. Hubbard v. Lamburn [Mass.] 80 NE 459.

40. Where upon bill of interpleader the real issue is between the creditor and another claiming title to the funds, admission of judgment against defendant by garnishee and creditor does not dispense with necessity of proof as against the others. Max Gross v. Eddie Strzyzowski, 124 Ill. App. 300.

41. Bond held not a statutory bond under Civ. Code 1895, § 4720. Roney v. McCall [Ga.] 57 SE 503.

42, 43. Garrett v. Mayfield Woolen Mills [Ala.] 44 S 1026.

44. Unless he be already in court. Mill's Ann. St. § 2728. State Bk. of Ft. Morgan v.

Harcourt, 38 Colo. 243, 88 P 855. The mere filing of an answer is not such an appearance, under this statute, as will authorize judgment where answer denies liability to defendant. Id.

45. Fagan v. Jackson, 1 Ga. App. 24, 57 SE 1052. Proof must be made of the judgment against defendant before judgment can be rendered against garnishee. The Howard Co. v. Miller, 123 Ill. App. 483. Under Garnishment Act, § 10, judgment against defendant in attachment is prerequisite to judgment against garnishee. Boyne v. Vandalla R. R. Co., 128 Ill. App. 191.

46. Where money alleged to be due building contractor was garnished, evidence held to prove work completed and certificate of architect waived or improperly withheld. McMillan v. Schneider, 147 Mich. 258, 13 Det. Leg. N. 1054, 110 NW 961.

47. Barkley v. May [Ga. App.] 59 SE 440.

48. Where garnishee's answer discloses on its face liability and no issue of fact is raised, conditional judgment may be made final on motion. The Howard Co. v. Miller, 123 Ill. App. 483. Under rule of practice of court, judgment will not be entered upon garnishee's answer unless it contains distinct admissions of funds in possession or of such facts as leave possession of funds a mere inference of law. McGeary v. Huff, 31 Pa. Super. Ct. 401. Answer of garnishee bank that it had money deposited by defendant, but had been notified that it belonged to others, the truth of which it is unable to state, held sufficient to prevent judgment. Id.

49. In garnishment of money alleged to be due building contractor, evidence admissible to show work completed and certificate be ascertained by a comparison of their respective claims on accounts.<sup>50</sup> The charge to the jury must cover all the issues involved.<sup>51</sup> Where the effect of an instruction is to eliminate evidence that was not admissible, it is not open to the objection that it gives undue prominence to a portion of the evidence.<sup>52</sup> The verdict must be in proper form<sup>53</sup> and must be supported by evidence.<sup>54</sup> The judgment must conform to the pleadings.<sup>55</sup> Under the Georgia practice, before judgment can be rendered upon a dissolving bond, the plaintiff must obtain judgment in the main action and a judgment declaring the property found in the hands of the garnishee subject.<sup>56</sup> Plaintiff is not precluded from entering up judgment against the surety on the dissolving bond by the fact that pending suit defendant has been adjudged bankrupt.<sup>57</sup> Where defendant executes a dissolving bond for the use of a named usee, a final judgment against defendant is conclusive against the usee.<sup>58</sup> Where one is suggested as a claimant and appears generally and secures a continuance, judgment for plaintiff is res judicata in a subsequent action by such claimant against the garnishee.<sup>59</sup> The court may, in the exercise of a sound discretion, set aside its judgment at the term at which it was entered.<sup>60</sup>

§ 16. Appellate review. See 7 C. L. 1874.—Exceptions will be dismissed, where the hearing below was premature, because the writ was not served on the principal defendant.<sup>61</sup> In Colorado on certiorari to review a judgment against garnishee in the justice's court, the garnishee is entitled to a trial de novo in the county court upon the question of jurisdiction.<sup>62</sup> Error not going to the foundation of the action will not be considered unless properly assigned.<sup>63</sup> Exceptions to the rulings of the court upon immaterial matters will not be passed on.<sup>64</sup> An appellate court will not make of architect waived or improperly withheld. McMillan v. Schneider, 147 Mich. 258, 13 Det. Leg. N. 1054, 110 NW 961.

50. Mutual Reserve Life Ins. Co. v. Fowler [Ga. App.] 59 SE 469; Holmes & Co. v. Pope, 1 Ga. App. 338, 58 SE 281.

51. Failure to charge upon question of past indebtedness by defendant to garnishee is error. Mutual Reserve Fund Life Ins. Co. v. Fowler [Ga. App.] 59 SE 469.

52. Evidence upon question of garnishee's good faith, in remitting funds garnished, to bank. Citizens Sav. Bk. v. Boswell [Ky.] 104 SW 1014.

53. Where issue made by claim to property in hands of garnishee is one of title, verdict finding garnished property subject to garnishment is correct as to form. Cranford v. Dunson & Bros. Co., 1 Ga. App. 319, 57 SE 1057.

54. Verdict for plaintiff held supported by evidence. Carreker v. Thornton, 1 Ga. App. 508, 57 SE 988.

55. Statutory plea denying indebtedness to defendant is sufficient to enable court to fully determine rights of parties. Continental Compressed Air Co. v. Franklyn [N. J. Eq.] 66 A 897. Court may determine whether defendant could exercise option to declare contract with garnishee void and thus discharge latter's obligation to make payments thereunder. Therefore proceedings will not be enjoined to enable court of equity to determine such question. Id.

56. National Surety Co. v. Medlock [Ga. App.] 58 SE 1131. The court is without jurisdiction to render a summary judgment against sureties on a dissolution bond under Civ. Code 1895, § 4723, if the bond is not a statutory bond under § 4720. Roney v. Medlock [Ga. App.] 58 SE 1131.

57. Provided filing of petition in bankruptcy occurred more than four months after summons of garnishment was served and dissolving bond given. National Surety Co. v. Medlock [Ga. App.] 58 SE 1131.

58. The interests of defendant and usee are identical in such case. Drought v. Poage [Ga. App.] 59 SE 728. After judgments have been entered against garnishee and on dissolution bond, they should not be opened at instance of usee to allow him to make claim to property in hands of garnishee which has been appropriated to payment of judgment in favor of plaintiff. Id.

59. Southern R. Co. v. Funke [Ala.] 44 S 397.

60. No abuse of discretion on statement of facts disclosed in record in setting aside judgment against garnishee and allowing him to file a second answer. Patterson Produce & Provision Co. v. Wilkes, 1 Ga. App. 430, 57 SE 1047.

61. Alexander v. Segee, 101 Me. 561, 64 A 1049.

62. State Bk. of Ft. Morgan v. Harcourt, 38 Colo. 243, 88 P 855.

63. Garnishment bond lacking a few dollars of statutory amount. Burge v. Beaumont Carriage Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 918, 105 SW 232. Under a general assignment that court erred in refusing to quash proceedings, the several grounds set out in motion to quash cannot be considered. Id.

64. Cranford v. Dunson & Bros. Co., 1 Ga. App. 319, 57 SE 1057. Where verdict is against right of claimant to property in hands of garnishee, exceptions to ruling on sufficiency of his bond, or as to his right to have fund paid over to him on giving dissolution bond, will not be passed on. Id.

a mathematical calculation to determine whether the garnishment bond is below the statutory amount where motion to quash on that ground is made for the first time on appeal.<sup>65</sup> Judgment will not be reversed for error which is not prejudicial to appellant.<sup>66</sup>

GAS.

- |  |   |
|--|---|
| § 1. Gas Franchises; Powers and Duties of Corporations Exercising Them (1532).Obligation to Supply Consumers (1533). | § 2. Public Regulation (1533).§ 3. Torts and Crimes (1534). |
|--|---|

The scope of this topic is noted below.<sup>67</sup>

§ 1. Gas franchises; powers and duties of corporations exercising them.
See 7 C. L. 1875.—Gas companies are frequently incorporated under a general act,<sup>68</sup> and their corporate powers,<sup>69</sup> and liability to forfeiture of franchise,<sup>70</sup> are not dissimilar to that of other corporations. While the legislature may authorize the occupation of streets without municipal consent,<sup>71</sup> such consent is usually made a condition precedent,<sup>72</sup> and the terms upon which it is given must be complied with.<sup>73</sup> The territory over which such companies may extend their systems is usually con-

65. Burge v. Beaumont Carriage Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 918, 105 SW 232.

66. Citizens' Sav. Bk. v. Boswell [Ky.] 104 SW 1014. Where evidence shows that defendant had on deposit with garnishee more than amount of judgment admission of evience of subsequent deposit made after service of garnishment was not prejudicial error. Id. Instruction as to effect of misnomer of defendant in garnishment process held not prejudicial error. Id.

67. It includes the powers, duties, and liabilities of persons manufacturing and furnishing illuminating and fuel gas. It excludes gas wells and leases for their operation (see Mines and Minerals, 8 C. L. 985), general matters relating to franchises (see Franchises, 9 C. L. 1445), corporations (see Corporations, 9 C. L. 732), and some questions relating to occupation of streets (see Highways and Streets, 8 C. L. 40), and the police power of municipalities (see Municipal Corporations, 8 C. L. 1056). Gas as an explosive is also treated under separate head (see Explosives and Inflammables, 9 C. L. 1245), though many such questions will be found treated in this topic (see § 3).

68. Language of 23rd clause of § 1249, Gen. St. 1901, enumerating some of purposes for which corporations may be formed, held broad enough to authorize creation of corporations to supply natural gas to public. Compton v. People's Gas Co. [Kan.] 89 P 1039.

69. Act March 27, 1878 (Gen. St. p. 1613, § 13), authorizing gas light companies by majority vote of directors with consent of majority of stockholders owning 60 per cent of capital stock to increase bonded indebtedness not to exceed two-thirds of capital stock, held not to restrict those already possessing power to create indebtedness in excess of such amount. Thatcher v. Consumer's Gas & Fuel Co. [N. J. Eq.] 66 A 934. Act March 14, 1879 (P. L. 1879, p. 316, Gen. St. p. 1613 § 30), authorizing gas companies to lay gas mains "and the like," etc., held not to authorize laying of water pipes or other pipe lines, but only pipes similar to mains for distribution of gas. Millville Imp. Co. v. Pitman, Glassboro & Clayton Gas Co. [N. J. Law] 67 A 1005. Act March 14, 1879,

(P. L. 1879, p. 316; Gen. St. p. 1613, § 30), held not unconstitutional as special legislation or as granting special privileges. Id.

70. Where company acquired franchise under Const. art. 11, § 19, providing that, in absence of public works for supplying artificial light, any corporation shall have privilege of laying pipes in streets to supply gas or other illuminating light, etc. its charter was not subject to forfeiture because some of its patrons used its gas for heating purposes after it had passed beyond control of company. People v. Los Angeles Independent Gas Co., 150 Cal. 557, 89 P 108.

71. In re Consolidated Gas Co., 56 Misc. 49, 106 NYS 407. Where certain gas companies were incorporated to furnish gas to city of New York, a provision that no public street should be dug into, etc., without municipal consent, held mere gratuitous delegation to city to control time, manner, and method in which streets could be opened and did not restrict companies' power to occupy. Id.

72. Permission to occupy and lay pipes in streets when exercised becomes property right which can only be taken for cause by due process of law. In re Consolidated Gas Co., 56 Misc. 49, 106 NYS 407. Term limitations in licenses granted to various constituent companies of the Consolidated Gas Company of New York construed as mere limitations upon right to open streets in original placing of pipes, etc., and not limiting corporate life of companies. Id.

73. Ordinance requiring Columbus Gas company to pay annual sum as compensation for municipal supervision as condition to right to occupy streets held not rendered invalid because of misapplication of funds so raised (City of Columbus v. Columbus Gas Co., 70 Ohio St. 309, 81 NE 410), and it is not relieved from paying same because actual cost of supervision is less (Id.), or by fact that city subsequently granted like privileges to other gas companies, especially where ordinance expressly stated no exclusive privilege was granted (Id.). Held that former ordinance under which Columbus Gas Company operated had expired by 1892, and hence ordinance of that year not superfluous and unnecessary. Id.

trolled by statute<sup>74</sup> or otherwise,<sup>75</sup> and a township, in its legislative discretion,<sup>76</sup> may restrain an unauthorized use of its highways.<sup>77</sup>

Obligation to supply consumers. See 7 C. L. 1876.—A company having a right to supply gas to the inhabitants of a city is a public service corporation and must serve all alike,<sup>78</sup> who comply with the conditions imposed by statute<sup>79</sup> and the reasonable<sup>80</sup> rules adopted by company for its own protection.<sup>81</sup> Under the statutes of New York, a company failing to furnish<sup>82</sup> gas upon written application<sup>83</sup> is liable to a penalty.

§ 2. Public regulation. See 7 C. L. 1876.—A municipality has only such power to regulate public service gas companies as is expressly or by necessary implication granted to it,<sup>84</sup> and such power as is given cannot be delegated.<sup>85</sup> A charge within the maximum fixed by statute is conclusively presumed reasonable in some states.<sup>86</sup>

74. Word "town," as used in supplement to gas company act of 1879 (P. L. 1879, p. 316; Gen. St. p. 1613, § 30), authorizing extension of mains into any neighboring city, town, or village, held to include townships (Millville Imp. Co. v. Pitman, Glassboro & Clayton Gas Co. [N. J. Law] 67 A 1005), and the word "neighboring" therein used to extend to municipalities in same county to which gas can be conveniently conveyed from central point (Id.). Charter right to lay pipes in streets of "town of Millville and its vicinity" held to mean village of Millville and vicinity and township of Millville, hence did not authorize the laying of pipes in township of Landis. Landis Tp. v. Millville Gaslight Co. [N. J. Eq.] 65 A 716.

75. Township ordinance granting right to transmit gas to other municipalities is not void for failing to limit right to those municipalities where it may lawfully lay its pipes. Millville Imp. Co. v. Pitman Glassboro & Clayton Gas Co. [N. J. Law] 67 A 1005.

76. Propriety of township instituting suit to restrain unauthorized use of highways is legislative and not judicial question. Landis Tp. v. Millville Gaslight Co. [N. J. Eq.] 65 A 716.

77. Landis Tp. v. Millville Gaslight Co. [N. J. Eq.] 65 A 716. Where gas pipes are unlawfully laid in highway, township may prevent the use thereof where it has not been connected with system. Id.

78. Whether its right is exclusive or not. Vanderberg v. Kansas City Gas Co. [Mo. App.] 105 SW 17. Where married woman rents property in her own name and on own responsibility, as she may do under statute, gas company cannot refuse to furnish her with gas on ground that she is not head of family. Id.

79. Where consumer of gas refuses to make deposit as security for gas furnished as authorized by Transportation Law (Laws 1890 pp. 1148, 1149, c. 566, §§ 66, 68), he has no standing in equity to restrain company from shutting off gas because of refusal to pay more than rate prescribed by statute. Pollits v. Consolidated Gas Co., 118 App. Div. 92, 102 NYS 1017.

80. Rules providing for discontinuance of service to delinquent customers and for cash deposit to secure payment of monthly bills held reasonable. Vanderberg v. Kansas City Gas Co. [Mo. App.] 105 SW 17. Cannot refuse to supply gas to married woman for use in building leased by her unless she pays debt of husband. Id.

81. Where contract between gas company and city, giving former right to furnish gas to inhabitants of city, fixes rules for exercise of right, such rules control if reasonable, and when no rules are prescribed company can establish only reasonable rules of its own. Vanderberg v. Kansas City Gas Co. [Mo. App.] 105 SW 17. Gas company may refuse to contract with married woman for furnishing of gas when she is not tenant of premises, and hence without power to authorize access thereto for inspection of meters, etc. (Id.), and it is immaterial that company placed refusal on another ground (Id.).

82. Laws 1890, p. 1148, c. 566, § 65, providing that if gas company on application shall refuse or neglect to supply gas to building, though there may be arrears due for gas furnished prior occupant, shall forfeit, etc., is applicable to discontinuance of supply once commenced. Hoch v. Brooklyn Borough Gas Co., 117 App. Div. 882, 103 NYS 370.

83. Complaint under Laws 1890, p. 1148, c. 566, § 65, alleging that defendant waived written application, is fatally defective. Shelly v. Westchester Lighting Co., 105 NYS 133. Furnishing of gas on oral application does not waive necessity of written application to render company liable for discontinuance. Shelley v. Westchester Lighting Co., 103 NYS 951. Where, in pursuance to written application, company commenced to furnish gas, it is not liable for penalty for wrongful discontinuance in absence of new written application. Shelly v. Westchester Lighting Co., 105 NYS 133.

84. To regulate price. City of Richmond v. Richmond Natural Gas Co., 168 Ind. 82, 79 NE 1031. Where franchise to supply gas is granted without any restrictions as to price and is accepted, a city incorporated under general law has no authority to regulate price by ordinance except so far as such power is conferred by law of 1905 (Id.); and such law, authorizing cities to fix prices by contract or franchise, does not authorize it to fix by ordinance price to be charged by company possessing franchise, since such ordinance is not a contract or franchise (Id.).

85. Ordinance of city of Omaha regulating construction of buildings and providing that it shall be unlawful to erect gas tank therein without written consent of all owners of property within 1,000 feet thereof held void as to proviso. State v. Withnell [Neb.] 110 NW 680.

86. Charge of 90 cents per 1,000 feet, charge of $1.25 being authorized by Laws 1890, p. 1149, c. 566, § 70. Brooklyn Union

§ 3. Torts and crimes.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1877</sup>—Corporations and persons engaged in the manufacture and distribution of gas are held to a high degree of care,<sup>87</sup> or care commensurate with the danger to be apprehended,<sup>88</sup> as it is sometimes stated, and are liable for damages resulting from negligence.<sup>89</sup> The party injured, however, must not be guilty of contributory negligence.<sup>90</sup> Proof of escape of gas from a defective or broken pipe makes a prima facie case of negligence.<sup>91</sup> The rules of pleading<sup>92</sup> and evidence<sup>93</sup> are not dissimilar to those obtaining in tort actions generally.

GENERAL AVERAGE; GENERAL ISSUE, see latest topical index.

GIFTS.

§ 1. Definitions and Distinctions (1534).
 § 2. Validity and Requisites (1535).

§ 3. Fraud, Undue Influence, Mistake, and Incapacity (1539).

Scope.—Donation by will<sup>94</sup> and the doctrine of charitable gifts is elsewhere treated,<sup>95</sup> as is the validity as to third persons of voluntary conveyances.<sup>96</sup>

§ 1. Definition and distinctions.<sup>See 5 C. L. 1587</sup>—Whether a particular transaction was a gift or a sale,<sup>97</sup> loan<sup>98</sup> or giving of security for an existing indebtedness,<sup>99</sup> and whether it was charged with a trust in favor of the donor or another,<sup>1</sup>

Gas Co. v. New York, 188 N. Y. 334, 81 NE 141.

87. Sipple v. Laclede Gaslight Co., 125 Mo. App. 81, 102 SW 608.

88. Gould v. Winona Gas Co., 100 Minn. 258, 111 NW 254.

89. Liability of gas company for damage to trees caused by escape of gas is controlled by principles of negligence and not by doctrine that one must control that which, for purposes other than those which are natural, he has brought on own land. Gould v. Winona Gas Co., 100 Minn. 258, 111 NW 254. Company is not liable for permitting high pressure in its mains where not sufficiently high as to be beyond control of customers by proper regulation of valves in houses. Hollon v. Campton Fuel & Light Co. [Ky.] 105 SW 426. Petition held defective for failure to allege that pressure was such as to destroy valves or to render them insufficient. Id. In action for death caused by gas escaping from defective main, negligence held for jury. Sipple v. Laclede Gaslight Co., 125 Mo. App. 81, 102 SW 608. In action for destruction of house alleged to be due to high pressure of gas in defendant's mains, evidence held to show that fire might have been due to other causes as likely as that of defendant's negligence, hence error not to direct verdict for defendant. Hollon v. Campton Fuel & Light Co. [Ky.] 105 SW 426.

90. Contributory negligence of plaintiff, a foreigner unfamiliar with dangers of gas, in retiring after smelling gas without investigating, held for jury. Laclede Gaslight Co. v. Cottone [C. C. A.] 152 F 629. In action for asphyxiation caused by gas escaping from main into room where deceased was sleeping, evidence held to show due diligence on deceased's part. Sipple v. Laclede Gaslight Co., 125 Mo. App. 81, 102 SW 608.

91. Sipple v. Laclede Gaslight Co., 125 Mo. App. 81, 102 SW 608. Where damage is caused to trees by escape of gas due to leak produced by frost, the escape not being discovered until June, held that doctrine of res ipsa loquitur applies. Gould v. Winona Gas Co., 100 Minn. 258, 111 NW 254.

92. Complaint construed to allege negligence in permitting gas to escape after knowing of leak, as well as in permitting main to become defective in first instance. Sipple v. Laclede Gaslight Co., 125 Mo. App. 81, 102 SW 608.

93. In action for destruction of house alleged to be due to high pressure of gas in mains, evidence of pressure in other houses is admissible without proof that they were similarly located and equipped with same regulators as house destroyed, where size of town is such that equipment must necessarily be practically same, and installation was by defendant. Hollon v. Campton Fuel & Light Co., 105 SW 426. Evidence of pressure hour and half before fire held not sufficiently connected in time to be admissible. Id. Evidence of condition of "by-path" and "regulator" after fire, held inadmissible. Id.

94. See Wills, 8 C. L. 2305.

95. See Charitable Gifts, 9 C. L. 555.

96. Fraudulent Conveyances, 9 C. L. 1508.

97. The following writing: "Received of A for B the sum of $1,007.25, and I hereby relinquish all my claim to the balance of $1,500 worth of securities, excepting that in the event of the necessity that B shall pay me $3 per week until my death (signed) C." held to be a sale or release, and not a valid gift inter vivos. Puff v. Puff [Ky.] 104 SW 332.

98. Evidence held to show that purchase of property for son was gift, and not loan. McGarr v. Taylor's Adm'r, 30 Ky. L. R. 446, 98 SW 1030. Demand loan held not converted into gift by death of lender before demand. Welch v. Straub, 74 Kan. 292, 86 P 148.

99. Evidence held to show that note was in consideration of existing indebtedness, and not a gift. In re Royer's Estate [Pa.] 66 A 854.

1. An allegation that moneys are "to be used for purposes unknown to plaintiff" will are questions of fact. It is the general rule that in the absence of fraud or undue influence a voluntary payment by a parent to a child will be presumed to be a gift.<sup>2</sup>

§ 2. Validity and requisites.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1878</sup>—To constitute a valid gift inter vivos there must be a delivery,<sup>3</sup> actual or constructive,<sup>4</sup> with intent<sup>5</sup> on part of

be construed to import a gift rather than a trust in an action against defendant for an accounting of funds paid him to be used for benefit of plaintiff. New York L. Ins. Co. v. Hamilton, 52 Misc. 139, 102 NYS 771. Held to be a gift, and not a resulting trust, where husband furnished consideration for a conveyance of realty to his wife, that she might have a home in case anything should happen to husband. Foster v. Berrier [Colo.] 89 P 787. Evidence held sufficient to warrant that such donor and donee were husband and wife. Id. See, also, Trusts, 8 C. L. 2169.

2. Jenning v. Rhode, 99 Minn. 335, 109 NW 597.

3. What constitutes an essential delivery, possession, or control must depend always on circumstances of each case and environment of the parties. Beaumont v. Beaumont [C. C. A.] 152 F 55. A gift of household goods and personal property is ineffectual where there was no delivery and donor continued to use them until her death. Taylor v. Vail [Vt.] 66 A 820. Evidence held not to establish an unconditional delivery of certain jewelry to alleged donee. Godard v. Conrad [Mo. App.] 101 SW 1108. Creditor may make a gift to his debtor, but, as in other cases, there must be delivery either by surrendering to donee the evidence of the debt or by giving him a receipt for the amount. Quirk v. Quirk, 155 F 191.

Evidence of delivery held sufficient: Facts held to constitute valid delivery of stocks which had never been transferred on books of corporation before death of donor. Bone v. Holmes [Mass.] 81 NE 290. Evidence held sufficient to establish gift of savings bank deposit. Glick v. Stumpf, 53 Misc. 83, 103 NYS 1109. Evidence held to show gift from donor to his dependent sisters of money which he caused one of them to deposit in bank to their credit, delivery to bank constituting delivery to the sisters. Succession of Zacharie [La.] 43 S 988. A manual delivery of personal property is unnecessary under Civ. Code Cal. §§ 1146, 1043, 1083, 1034, to establish a gift inter vivos where such gift is evidenced by a written instrument duly executed and delivered. Fisher v. Ludwig [Cal. App.] 91 P 658. In action against defendant to recover cow claimed by her as gift, evidence held to sustain verdict for defendant. Demmons v. Booker [Ga.] 57 SE 108.

4. Decedent told donee to go to cupboard and get a bank passbook. She took it and handed it back to him saying: "This is yours," and told him to pay her debts and not squander it, held to be a complete delivery whether it be a gift inter vivos or causa mortis. McCoy's Adm'r v. McCoy [Ky.] 104 SW 1031. Delivery of inventory of donor's assets with an instrument of assignment to donee held sufficient delivery to constitute a gift. In re Palmer's Estate, 117 App. Div. 360, 102 NYS 236. Checks drawn on decedent's bank account just before her death and delivered to payee does not constitute a valid gift of the amounts for which they are drawn where such checks are not presented nor accepted by bank before death of donor. Nor can the intention of donor be carried into execution by treating the transaction as a trust for benefit of donee. Pennell v. Ennis [Mo. App.] 103 SW 147. Donor draws check payable to donee, which is taken to bank and placed to latter's credit. Donee's pass book is kept in the bank, with other customers' books subject to her call, and she is not informed of gift until after death of donor. Held sufficient delivery. Bangs v. Browne, 149 Mich. 478, 14 Det. Leg. N. 484, 112 NW 1107. Delivery of check which is not presented for payment will not operate as a gift of the money for which it is drawn, and drawer will not be considered as trustee for payee. Thogmorton v. Grigsby's Adm'r, 30 Ky. L. R. 661, 99 SW 650. Donor by writing authorized bank to pay to donee his deposit, represented by a passbook, and delivered the order and passbook to donee, which were accepted by the bank before death. Deposit was not transferred on bank books until after death of donor. Held a valid gift inter vivos. Fisher v. Ludwig [Cal. App.] 91 P 658.

5. Evidence held sufficient to constitute sufficient delivery of bond, with intent to pass title thereto, to constitute a valid gift inter vivos. Bone v. Holmes [Mass.] 81 NE 290. Evidence held to show no donative purpose. Schippers v. Kempkes [N. J. Law] 67 A 1042. A having a fund on deposit in a savings bank directs the bank to issue a passbook to "A or B, either to draw," or "in account with A or B," held not to constitute a present gift evidenced by the passbook, to B, there being no evidence of donative purpose. Schippers v. Kempkes [N. J. Law] 67 A 74. Where it appeared that a conveyance was made by mother to son with intent to transfer title, evidence held to constitute valid gift. Arellanes v. Arellanes [Cal.] 90 P 1059. Facts insufficient to show intent on part of savings bank depositor to pass title to account during his lifetime, and hence not a perfected gift. Magee v. Knight [Mass.] 80 NE 620. Whether or not a gift was made by mother to son, evidence indicating a desire on her part previous to her death to make such gift held admissible. McCoy's Adm'r v. McCoy [Ky.] 104 SW 1031. Where a decedent assigned property to his son a few months previous to his death it was held, in a proceeding for an assessment of decedent's estate under the transfer tax act, that evidence showed that such assignment was not made as an absolute gift, but for purpose of passing the property to heirs of decedent under terms of his will. In re Palmer's Estate, 117 App. Div. 360, 102 NYS 236. Evidence held to show a valid gift of $2,000 and that donor did not intend such sum, when withdrawn at her direction, to be paid to her. Liebert v. Hoffman, 105 NYS 337.

donor to presently divest himself of all title and dominion over the same<sup>6</sup> and invest donee therewith,<sup>7</sup> and acceptance by donee.<sup>8</sup> The donor<sup>9</sup> or a third party may take as agent or trustee for donee.<sup>10</sup> Where, however, donee has absolute dominion over bonds or securities given, the fact that donor has access thereto along with donee will not defeat the gift,<sup>11</sup> nor where he reserves interest to accrue thereon,<sup>12</sup> nor where he sells some of the securities and collects dividends and interest on others as donee's deputy.<sup>13</sup> A gift once transferred is irrevocable.<sup>14</sup> A donor may attach a condition to a gift in presenti if that condition be not incon-

6. Evidence of gift of personalty from husband to wife must be clear and convincing of a delivery by husband with intention of divesting himself of all control of it and vesting title in wife. Farrow v. Farrow [N. J. Err. & App.] 65 A 1009. A gift of household goods and personal chattels without delivery either actual or constructive, where donor continues to use them until her death, is ineffectual. Taylor v. Vail [Vt.] 66 A 820. Where depositor has certificate of deposit issued payable to himself or a certain other person with intent to give certificate to such person in case he survived the depositor, held not to be a gift. Turnbull v. Turnbull, 118 App. Div. 449, 103 NYS 499. Authority given a wife by her husband to draw upon his bank account is consistent with continued ownership of husband, and does not show a gift to wife. Crane v. Brewer [N. J. Eq.] 68 A 78. Where a father buys property in the name of his minor daughter, assuming to be her natural tutor and so declares in the deed, but in fact is acting for his own benefit to protect himself from claims of creditors, and afterwards sells property before child arrives at age of majority, and it passes into hands of third parties, held not to be a gift. Lyons v. Lawrence, 118 La. 561, 43 S 51. Declarations of donor before and after alleged gift are admissible as to intent. McIntosh v. Fisher, 125 Ill. App. 511. Must be such change of possession as to put it out of the power of donor to revest himself with the property. Sutton v. Lemen, 130 Ill. App. 50. Evidence held to show that gift of stock certificates was absolute and no dominion was retained by donor. Day v. Bullen, 127 Ill. App. 155. Evidence held to show that gift was made subject to revocation and was revoked. Carskaddon v. Miller, 31 Pa. Super. Ct. 94.

7. Donee should have such control, and such control only, of the subject-matter of the gift as is consistent with the ownership purported to be transferred to him. Beaumont v. Beaumont [C. C. A.] 152 F 55.

8. Beaumont v. Beaumont [C. C. A.] 152 F 55. Where a gift is beneficial and imposes no burdens upon donee, acceptance will be presumed as a matter of law. Varley v. Sims, 100 Minn. 331, 111 NW 269; Thompson v. Griggs, 31 Pa. Super. Ct. 608. Check drawn by donor payable to donee is taken to bank and placed to latter's credit. Donee's passbook was kept in the bank, with other customer's books, subject to call by her. She was not informed of gift until after death of donor. Held acceptance will be presumed. Bangs v. Browne, 149 Mich. 478, 14 Det. Leg. N. 484, 112 NW 1107.

9. Held valid gift where donor deposits money in bank in her own name in trust for donee and passbook is found in vault of latter after his death. In re Davis' Estate, 103 NYS 946. Whether donor makes delivery of stock to himself as trustee for donee held question of fact for jury. Dewey v. Barnhouse [Kan.] 88 P 877.

10. Evidence held to make a prima facie case of a complete gift inter vivos, from mother to her child, of certain money which was in possession of child's uncle and deposited in bank by him as agent of child. Jackson v. Gallagher [Ga.] 57 SE 750. In an action by the child to recover the money, it was error to grant a nonsuit where it appeared that the uncle withdrew the money and deposited it in his name as agent for his wife by whom it was drawn out and used. Id.

11. So held where evidence showed gift of bond kept in bank vault to which donor delivered a key to donees and retained one himself. Beaumont v. Beaumont [C. C. A.] 152 F 55.

12. Donor delivered to his brothers certain bonds, stating that it was a gift, but that he desired to have the coupons which should mature therefrom during his life. Coupons were kept in bank vault to which donor retained access. Held from evidence to be a valid gift even though donor afterwards visits vault and takes coupons therefrom. Beaumont v. Beaumont [C. C. A.] 152 F 55. So held subject to such qualified reservation where donor hands railroad bond to donee saying: "This is yours, but, if you will, cut off the coupons and give them to me during my life." Bone v. Holmes [Mass.] 81 NE 290.

13. Evidence held sufficient to establish a valid gift where woman withdraws her securities from vaults of trust company and in presence of officer of company states her intention to give same to her nephew who is present, and he accepts and places them in his own vault and makes his aunt his deputy, even though she afterwards sells some of them and collects. Reese v. Philadelphia Trust, Safe Deposit & Ins. Co. [Pa.] 67 A 124.

14. An absolute gift by donor to the head of a religious sect as an offering to the Lord, expecting same to be used for common good of the sect, and that he should be cared for by such sect, held to be irrevocable. Williams v. Johnston [Ark.] 104 SW 789. In a written instrument a mother states that she has made a gift of a savings bank deposit to her son, such paper confirming the gift, and delivers the instrument to him, but subsequently, by her will and codicil, declared such deposit to be held by son in trust and is specially bequeathed to certain legatees, held that the former instrument can not be set aside by mother's executor, there being no evidence of its invalidity. Glick v. Stumpf, 53 Misc. 83, 103 NYS 1109.

sistent with possession or control by the donees of the thing given.<sup>15</sup> But such conditions must be complied with.<sup>16</sup> Unless the rights of creditors<sup>17</sup> intervene, any person of sound mind and lawful age may make a gift,<sup>18</sup> but by statute in Louisiana a gift reducing the donor to penury is void.<sup>19</sup> Evidence is admissible to show reasons for a gift by donor.<sup>20</sup> It is not necessary that a gift be supported by consideration.<sup>21</sup> The validity of a gift does not depend upon magnitude of donor's title.<sup>22</sup> Where evidence is conflicting it is province of jury to determine its sufficiency.<sup>23</sup> And if donee does not assert gift until after death of donor, he must establish it by clear and convincing evidence, as in case of gift causa mortis.<sup>24</sup> Gifts of land may be by parol where donee takes possession<sup>25</sup> and makes valuable improvements thereon,<sup>26</sup> but such gift must be established by clear and unequivocal evidence.<sup>27</sup>

15. Gift of bonds upon condition that donor should receive coupons accruing thereon. Beaumont v. Beaumont [C. C. A.] 152 F 55.

16. Donors made conveyance of church and lot to a church corporation for the purpose of perpetuating family name, the donee thereby making a parol agreement that it would take the name of "Bales Chapel Baptist Church." Held to constitute a gift the purpose of which was continuing, and the plaintiff could restrain a change of name. Bales v. Bales Chapel Baptist Church [Mo. App.] 101 SW 150. Evidence held to show title in the defendants, the donation to plaintiff having reverted for failure to use for donative purpose. Henderson County v. Carpenter [Tex. Civ. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 990, 98 SW 413.

17. Under Rev. Laws Mass. 1902, c. 153, §§ 1, 3, and decisions of the supreme judicial court, facts held sufficient to constitute a valid gift of corporate stocks from husband to wife through third party, and good as against husband and his subsequent creditors in absence of actual intent to defraud. Tucker v. Curtin [C. C. A.] 148 F 929. A gift of realty was made and recorded from mother of debtor to his wife and children, and the donees had been in possession since the donation. Property was subsequently seized by judgment creditors of debtor and a sale thereof enjoined by donees. Injunction was perpetuated, the debt having been created subsequently to the time of the donation, and it not being shown that creditors had any legal interest to attack donation. Hurst v. Thompson & Co., 118 La. 57, 42 S 645. A separate and special gift to a wife does not fall into the community, and § 2402 of Civ. Code La. does not apply. Id.

18. Rogers v. Rogers [Del.] 66 A 374.

19. Not void where he retains enough for subsistence. Ackerman v. Larner [La.] 44 S 452.

20. In an action by plaintiff against sister of her deceased husband to recover a cow which defendant claimed was promised her by the husband during his lifetime, and that after his death plaintiff delivered it to her, held that evidence was admissible to show such promise of deceased, such evidence not showing a perfect gift by deceased, but a reason and probability of gift by the widow. Demmons v. Booker [Ga.] 27 SE 108.

21. Where a conveyance which is held to be a gift recites that it was made in consideration of one dollar, held that such provision is a mere recital, and it was unnecessary to show any consideration. Bales v. Bales Chapel Baptist Church [Mo. App.] 101 SW 150. An assignment of household goods and chattels made upon a consideration of gratitude for services rendered and not under seal will be treated as a gift. Taylor v. Vail [Vt.] 66 A 820.

22. Donor may convey good title of estray as against everyone save the true owner. Frank v. Symons, 35 Mont. 56, 88 P 561.

23. McCoy's Adm'r v. McCoy [Ky.] 104 SW 1031. Evidence held to negative gift by wife to husband of her separate property. Reinard's Estate, 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 608.

24. Evidence insufficient to establish a gift of oyster lot from testator to executor. In re Wright, 121 App. Div. 581, 106 NYS 369.

25. Plaintiff in ejectment may recover against defendant claiming a gift from plaintiff's testator where evidence shows a parol gift unaccompanied by possession and that testator lived in house and paid taxes until his death. Wood v. Praul, 217 Pa. 293, 66 A 528. Opinions of neighbors as to who seemed to be the head of the house held inadmissible. Id. A parol gift of certain cattle by uncle to niece, where unaccompanied by delivery of possession, is void under art. 2546, Rev. St. 1895, Tex., prescribing mode of executing gifts. Eldridge v. McDow [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 474, 102 SW 435.

26. Improvements must be such as to indicate an acceptance upon alleged terms of gift, and such as are clearly referable to no other arrangement or understanding. Logue v. Langan [C. C. A.] 151 F 455. Evidence held insufficient to establish parol gift of land. Id. So held where donee, his widow, and heirs have possession of land for about twenty-four years, during which time they pay taxes, cultivate, and make such improvements thereon as owners usually do. Sires v. Melvin [Iowa] 113 NW 106. Held sufficient part performance where donee takes possession of premises, pays taxes thereon, and makes improvements to amount of more than one thousand dollars. Maas v. Anchor Fire Ins. Co., 143 Mich. 432, 14 Det. Leg. N. 232, 111 NW 1044. Evidence held insufficient to show such improvements as would establish parol gift of land from father to son. Meurin v. Kopplin [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 601, 100 SW 984. Improvements costing from $200 to $500, covering a period of twenty-five years, made upon land by donee who receives an annual rent of $100 therefrom, is not such part performance as will constitute a parol gift of the property. Young v. Crawford [Ark.] 100 SW 87. Where a party in possession of land which she claims the gift of a life estate, with remainder to her children, makes valuable improvements thereon, held that such facts would take both estates from out of the statute of frauds. Combest v. Wall [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 498, 102 SW 147. Where defendant claims under a parol and perfected gift, there is no merit in a contention that it would work a hardship upon defendant to hold against a gift because of improvements made where they are of less value than the use of the land. Meurin v. Kopplin [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 601, 100 SW 984. Decree quieting plaintiff's title to the extent of life estate only will be reversed where evidence shows fee in plaintiff acquired by parol gift, followed by possession and making of valuable improvements thereon. Bevington v. Bevington, 133 Iowa, 351, 110 NW 840. The donee of parol gift of land thus acquired is the owner within the meaning of an application for insurance stating that he is absolute owner of property and of the policy, which by its terms was "void if subject of insurance be a building on ground not owned by insured in fee simple." Maas v. Anchor Fire Ins. Co., 148 Mich. 432, 14 Det. Leg. N. 232, 111 NW 1044. Where plaintiff claims parol gift of land from her father, held to be a proper instruction, in an action to try title thereto, that jury should find for father, the defendant, if they believed from the evidence that plaintiff went into possession by permission of defendant and made permanent and valuable improvements thereon with the expectation that defendant would at some time give land to her, or if they believed that it was the intention of defendant at some time to give it to her. Combest v. Wall [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 498, 102 SW 147. Evidence held insufficient to establish a parol gift of land. Id.

To constitute a gift causa mortis.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1880</sup> there must be a manifest intention to give,<sup>28</sup> a subject capable of passing by delivery,<sup>29</sup> and actual delivery<sup>30</sup> in contemplation of death. Where the delivery is to another than the donee, he will be presumed to take as trustee for the donee.<sup>31</sup> A gift causa mortis is revocable.<sup>32</sup> The fact that a check is not accepted by the bank does not invalidate the gift.<sup>33</sup> The intent or direction of donor in making the gift must not be testamentary in character.<sup>34</sup> One claiming a gift causa mortis must establish it by clear and convincing evidence.<sup>35</sup>

27. Bevington v. Bevington, 133 Iowa, 351, 110 NW 840. Where, in an alleged parol gift of land from parents to son, a statement in their will made afterwards that they had "already advanced to all of their children a liberal share of their estate" is no evidence of such gift where the will is silent as to what such advancements consisted of, especially where there was evidence of other advancements. Meurin v. Kopplin [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 601, 100 SW 984.

28. Evidence sufficient to establish intent to make a gift causa mortis of proceeds of land. Davie v. Davie [Wash.] 91 P 950. Evidence insufficient to show intent to make a gift causa mortis of bank deposits. In re Dietrich, 53 Misc. 511, 105 NYS 301.

29. McCoy's Adm'r v. McCoy [Ky.] 104 SW

1031. Evidence insufficient to establish gift causa mortis of note and mortgage by delivery and without written assignment. Kimball v. Green, 148 Mich. 298, 14 Det. Leg. N. 84, 111 NW 761.

30. Held sufficient delivery to establish gift causa mortis where donor and wife, a few days prior to death of former, executed a written contract for sale of certain real estate to be held in escrow until paid for according to contract, the donor stating that papers belonged to his wife, that he would give them to her, that she should place them in escrow in her name, which she subsequently did, and that if anything should happen to him it would leave her in pretty good shape. Davie v. Davie [Wash.] 91 P 950. Transaction held not ineffective as an attempted oral gift of land. Id. Where decedent upon his death had delivered certain jewelry to his lawyer, stating that if he died he wanted the alleged donee to have them as she had been so good to him, held not to constitute a valid gift causa mortis (Godard v. Conrad [Mo. App.] 101 SW 1108), nor do the facts establish a trust in favor of the alleged donee (Id.). Evidence held not to show sufficient delivery to establish gift causa mortis of a bank account. Davis v. Davis, 104 NYS 824. Circumstantial evidence may overbear positive testimony of an interested party that a transfer was made in contemplation of death, in a proceeding under the transfer tax act. In re Palmer's Estate, 117 App. Div. 360, 102 NYS 236. So held where donor, in view of death from a surgical operation, draws a check on bank for her entire deposit and delivers it to a third party as a gift to donee, and is not delivered until after death of donor. Varley v. Sims, 100 Minn. 331, 111 NW 269.

31. Varley v. Sims, 100 Minn. 331, 111 NW 269.

32. Donor conveyed certain land to donee while ill and expecting to die, who thereupon reconveyed it to donor, which deed was delivered to a third party who delivered it to donor after his recovery, held upon the evidence that first conveyance was in nature of a gift causa mortis, but that the reconveyance to donor was intended to revest title in case of latter's recovery. Le Brun v. Le Brun [Or.] 90 P 584.

33. Held a gift causa mortis where donor, in view of death from a surgical operation from which she dies, draws check on bank for her entire deposit and delivers it to a person as a gift, though unaccepted by the bank. Varley v. Sims, 100 Minn. 331, 111 NW 269. And it is unnecessary that the check in such cases distinctly state on its face that it covers the entire fund. The fact that it does may be shown by proof on the trial. Id.

34. A having a fund on deposit in a sav-

§ 3. Fraud, undue influence, mistake, and incapacity.<sup>36</sup>—Where a fiduciary relation exists between grantor and grantee, a conveyance is prima facie voidable,<sup>37</sup> and the burden is upon the one seeking a benefit to show absence of undue influence.<sup>38</sup> But the burden is not upon donee to show that there was no undue influence where there is no evidence that donor was not in possession of his mental faculties.<sup>39</sup> A conveyance made without consideration will not be presumed to have been intended as a gift where grantor is ignorant of his title.<sup>40</sup> Whether or not a gift was procured by undue influence and was abuse of confidence held to be question of fact for jury.<sup>41</sup>

GOOD WILL.

Partnership good will,<sup>42</sup> and the validity of contracts not to engage in competing business,<sup>43</sup> are elsewhere treated.

Good will is the favor which a business has won from the public and the probability of continued patronage,<sup>44</sup> and it cannot exist independent of the business.<sup>45</sup> The sale of an interest in the good will of a business carries an implied covenant not ings bank directs the bank to issue passbook to "A or B, either to draw," or "in account with A or B," held not to be a gift causa mortis to B, the direction being testamentary in character. Schippers v. Kempkes [N. J. Law.] 67 A 74.

35. Evidence held insufficient to establish such a gift of money by delivery of bank-book. Conaghan v. German Sav. Bk., 54 Misc. 582, 104 NYS 829. Where defendant claimed a bank account under a gift causa mortis from decedent, and evidence showed that the latter had given defendant contents of a box which he did not receive until after death of decedent, held, in an action by administratrix for its recovery, that defendant could not, under Code Civ. Proc. § 829, prove contents of box and identify the bank accounts claimed under gift. Davis v. Davis, 104 NYS 824.

36. See 7 C. L. 1882. Being governed largely by general rules, validity of assent is more fully treated in the topics Duress, 9 C. L. 1016; Fraud and Undue Influence, 9 C. L. 1475; Incompetency, 8 C. L. 169; Mistake and Accident, 8 C. L. 1020.

37. Conveyance from father to son, where evidence showed that they occupied fiduciary relations, held prima facie voidable. Morgan v. Owens, 228 Ill. 598, 81 NE 1135.

38. Liebert v. Hoffman, 105 NYS 337. Where a feeble minded person, so placed as to be subjected to influence of another, makes a gift in favor of such person, to sustain it there must be proof of the fact that the donor understood the nature of the act and that it was not done through the influence of donee. Baur v. Cron [N. J. Err. & App.] 66 A 585. Upon a bill to set aside a gift, the master must find against the presumption to the contrary that there was no undue influence on part of donee, but, where there is nothing to indicate that he did not consider the presumption in reaching his conclusion, it will be presumed on appeal that he did, and burden is on excepting party to show that he did not. Taylor v. Vail [Vt.] 66 A 820. A son accepting from his father a power of attorney by which he is given authority to manage his father's estate is placed in a position of trust, and if he claims a gift from father made during such relation the burden is upon him to show by clear and convincing testimony that such gift was made, that it was the expression of the will and intention of donor, and free from any improper practice on part of donee. Griesel v. Jones, 123 Mo. App. 45, 99 SW 769. Burden is upon donee to show that a conveyance to him for a nominal consideration by his mother, who was sixty-four years of age and unable to read, write, or understand the English language, was made freely and voluntarily, and that she had full knowledge of all the facts and a perfect understanding of effect of the transaction. Arellanes v. Arellanes [Cal.] 90 P 1059. Burden held to be upon donee to show that donor was mentally competent, that she was not unduly influenced, and that she acted with full knowledge of her property, and understood the nature and effect of her act. Taylor v. Vail [Vt.] 66 A 820. And donee is entitled to show by parol any fact from which it could be argued that the action of the donor was consistent with her previous tendencies and purposes. Evidence held sufficient to establish a valid gift by donor to one holding a confidential relation to donor. Id.

39. McCord v. McCord [Iowa] 113 NW 552.

40. Deed held not to be a gift when evidence shows fiduciary relation between grantor and grantee, and the former being ignorant of his title, of which latter has full knowledge, but fails to disclose. Morgan v. Owens, 228 Ill. 598, 81 NE 1135.

41. Griesel v. Jones, 123 Mo. App. 45, 99 SW 769.

42. See Partnership, 8 C. L. 1268.

43. See Contracts, 9 C. L. 677.

44. Evidence held to show that established retail business which was conducted mostly through mail orders had good will of value to surviving partner continuing same (In re Silkman, 105 NYS 872), value of which should be based on profits before dissolution and not subsequent (Id.).

45. Where insurance companies had withdrawn business from agent and he had no lease of office where business had been formerly conducted, held that he had no business to which good will could attach. In re Case, 106 NYS 1086.

to so engage in business as to injure that sold,<sup>46</sup> and upon breach thereof<sup>47</sup> the vendee may recover the loss sustained<sup>48</sup> and enjoin further violation thereof.<sup>49</sup>

GOVERNOR, see latest topical index.

GRAND JURY.

Constitution of Juries; Qualifications of Jurors (1540).	Effect of Illegality in Constitution or Proceedings of Juries (1542).
Jury Lists; Summoning and Impanelling of Jury (1540).	Objections and Walver, Thereof; Estoppel to Urge (1544).
Powers and Procedure (1542).	Secrecy of Deliberations (1544).

The scope of this topic is noted below.<sup>50</sup>

Constitution of juries; qualifications of jurors. See 7 C. L. 1884.—The fact that one or more jurors could have been challenged for cause does not render them incompetent.<sup>51</sup> Among the persons commonly disqualified are those unable to read or write the English language,<sup>52</sup> and in Georgia it is required that a juror shall have resided in the county a prescribed period prior to service.<sup>53</sup> It is expressly provided by statute in Texas that failure to pay poll tax as required by law does not disqualify a person for jury service in any instance.<sup>54</sup>

Jury lists; summoning and impanelling of jury. See 7 C. L. 1884.—In some states statutes prescribing the time and manner of selecting juries are regarded as directory merely,<sup>55</sup> while in others they are considered mandatory.<sup>56</sup> The officers by

46. Foss v. Roby [Mass.] 81 NE 199. Implied covenant in sale of dental business being restricted in territory in which practice is prohibited is not in restraint of trade. Id.

47. One selling good will of dental business and thereafter locating in same city and soliciting patronage by personal letters to former patrons, giving location of former place of business, breaks his implied covenant. Foss v. Roby [Mass.] 81 NE 199. Where one sold good will of book store business which had made a specialty of books used by Episcopal Church, held that, where he formed company to deal in books used by Episcopal Church, successor to vendee was entitled to injunction and an accounting. Old Corner Book Store v. Upham [Mass.] 80 NE 228.

48. Foss v. Roby [Mass.] 81 NE 199.

49. Good will of dental business in Boston held sufficiently protected by injunction restraining seller from practicing within city, although there were patrons from without the city. Foss v. Roby [Mass.] 81 NE 199.

50. It includes the drawing powers and proceedings of grand juries. It excludes the binding over of persons to await the action of the grand jury (Arrest and Binding Over, 9 C. L. 249), bail on such binding over (Bail, Criminal, 9 C. L. 320), signing and return of indictments (Indictment and Prosecution, 8 C. L. 198), and objections and motions to quash the same (Indictment and Prosecution, 8 C. L. 198). It also excludes matters relating to qualification, drawing, and challenging which are common to grand and petit juries (see Juries, 8 C. L. 617).

51. Might have been challenged for failure to pay poll tax. King v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 833, 100 SW 387.

52. Evidence held to show inability to read or write English language. State v. McClendon, 118 La. 792, 43 S 417.

53. Evidence held sufficient to show residence at time of service. Shirley v. State, 1 Ga. 143, 57 SE 912.

54. Motion to quash indictment because jurors had not paid their poll tax as required by law held properly overruled under act of 29th Leg. p. 207, ch. 1807, amending article 3139, Rev. St. 1895. King v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 833, 100 SW 387. Neither is failure to pay poll tax cause for challenge under above statute. Id. Under act of 28th Leg. (first called Session, p. 15, ch. 10), failure to pay poll tax does not disqualify but simply constitutes ground for challenge. Id.

55. Sess. Laws 1891, pp. 248-253, is simply directory, and not exclusive of common-law method of securing juries. Imboden v. People [Colo.] 90 P 608. Motion to quash on ground that jury was improperly selected by sheriff upon an open venire, according to common-law procedure, instead of having been drawn from box as provided by statute, held properly overruled. Sess. Laws 1891, pp. 248-253. Imboden v. People [Colo.] 90 P 608. Sess. Laws 1891, pp. 248-253, extend to both grand and petit juries. Imboden v. People [Colo.] 90 P 608. A statutory requirement that names shall be drawn from an envelope is directory only and a drawing from a box is not ground for quashing the venire. State v. Mitchell [La.] 44 S 132. Where by excusing certain jurors the names on the venire list were reduced below the number from which the jury was required to be selected, the drawing of the jury from the remaining names held not to be ground for quashing indictment, it not appearing that the jurors sworn were prejudiced against accused or that he was prejudiced in any way by the action of the court. State v. Brown, 118 La. 373, 42 S 969. Where it appears that jurors summoned by special venire had not, as a matter of fact, served whom jurors are to be selected,<sup>57</sup> and the manner of selecting from the general venire list the names of persons qualified to serve as jurors is regulated by statute.<sup>58</sup> It is no ground for challenge that a Federal grand jury was summoned from the district of Minnesota at large, instead of from the particular division in which the offense was committed.<sup>59</sup> The jury is required to be selected by chance by drawing from slips containing the names of those summoned,<sup>60</sup> accompanied by the answer of the juror.<sup>61</sup> The Wisconsin statute requires the record book containing the names of persons composing the jury list to be filed with the clerk of the circuit court.<sup>62</sup> While one is not entitled to have persons of his own race on the grand jury there must be no discrimination against such persons.<sup>63</sup> The right to call a grand jury,<sup>64</sup> to excuse jurors,<sup>65</sup> and to summon and organize a jury in default of one at the regular term,<sup>66</sup> and the manner of drawing a second jury where the regular drawing has been set aside, is regulated by statute.<sup>67</sup> Statutes prescribing the manner of making up a deficiency in the number of jurors, caused by excusing some of them, are usually regarded as directory, and a substantial compliance is as jurors on regular list within the preceding 12 months, the defendant is not prejudiced by the court's failure, in directing sheriff to summon additional jurors, to include in the order the statutory requirement that such persons summoned as jurors should not be persons who had served upon the regular list within the previous 12 months, and such failure is an irregularity merely in formation of jury and not ground for setting aside indictment. Par. 2808, Rev. St. 1901, amended by Laws 1905, p. 28, ch. 24. Thomas v. Territory [Ariz.] 89 P 591.

56. A grand jury selected by the board of county supervisors at a meeting of such board, which was neither regular nor special, held not to be a legal jury under Hurd's Rev. St. 1905, ch. 78, § 34, §§ 9, 49, pp. 1264, 567. Marsh v. People, 226 Ill. 464, 80 NE 1006. Exception in Code 1896, § 5269, does not relieve officers designated of duty of drawing jurors from box which they are required to prepare, Code 1896, §§ 4982 et seq., 4989, and making up venire which is to compose jury in any other mode may be taken advantage of by plea in abatement. Tucker v. State [Ala.] 44 S 587. Held error for the court to refuse to allow defendant to prove that jurors were not drawn from box at all, or were illegally drawn, in support of his plea. Tucker v. State [Ala.] 44 S 587.

57. Mansfield's Dig. of Statutes, § 4003, providing that if for any cause jury commissioners shall not be appointed, or shall fail to select a jury in accordance with §§ 3976, 3982, the court shall order the sheriff to summon a jury, does not empower the court, in any event, and for no other reason than that it prefers it, to ignore the latter provisions, and order marshal to select jury. Reynolds v. United States [Ind. T.] 103 SW 672, § 4003. But a saving clause enacted for purpose of preventing a slip of terms for want of jurors, arising from inadvertence or mistake. Id. Motion to quash because jurors were selected by marshal under order of court instead of by commissioners held properly overruled, it not being shown that court acted willfully. Id.

58. Evidence held to show compliance by jury commissioner with Act No. 135, p. 218 of 1898, § 4, in selecting from general venire list names of 20 citizens qualified to serve as jurors. State v. McClendon, 118 La. 792, 43 S 417.

59. Act Cong. May 11, 1858, ch. 31 (11 Stat. 285); Act March 3, 1859, ch. 76 (11 Stat. 402 [U. S. Comp. St. 1901, pp. 316, 446]); Act April 26, 1890, ch. 167, § 1 (U. S. Comp. St. 1901, p. 374); Act Cong. June 12, 1894, ch. 132 (28 Stat. 102). Clement v. U. S. [C. C. A.] 149 F 305. District divided for convenience of suitors, not as separate judicial districts, but for limited purpose disclosed by act of 1890 "of holding terms of court" in the district of Minnesota. Id.

60. State v. Brown, 118 La. 373, 42 S 969. Exception in Code 1896, § 5269, does not relieve officers designated of duty of drawing jurors from box which they are required to prepare under Code 1896, §§ 4982 et seq., 4989. Tucker v. State [Ala.] 44 S 587.

61. As an absent juror cannot answer, the mere drawing of his name does not place him on the panel under Act no. 135, p. 216, of 1898. State v. Brown, 118 La. 373, 42 S 969.

62. St. 1898, § 2546a (Sanborns' Supp. p. 1138), Laws 1903, ch. 90, § 2, p. 136. Niezorawski v. State, 131 Wis. 166, 111 NW 250.

63. Evidence held insufficient to show discrimination in excluding negroes from grand jury which found indictment against person of that race. Hanna v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 20 Tex. Ct. Rep. 142, 105 SW 793.

64. In Idaho the order for the drawing of a grand jury may be made by a judge and need not be made in court. Sess. Laws 1891, § 7. State v. Barber [Idaho] 88 P 418.

65. Judge vested with discretion to excuse jurors for incompetency or other cause, by § 1, act 135, p. 216, 1898. State v. Brown, 118 La. 373, 42 S 969. Fact that prior to drawing of jury the court excused certain jurors held not to be ground for quashing indictment, it not appearing that the judge acted arbitrarily or without sufficient cause. Id. Excusal may be made before jury is drawn to serve upon panel. Code, § 5240. State v. Johnson [Iowa] 111 NW 827.

66. No jury having been summoned to appear at the regular term, action of court, under Code 1896, § 4998, ordering sheriff to summon a jury to appear at a later day of the term, held regular and proper and not ground for quashing indictment. Burgess v. State [Ala.] 42 S. 681.

sufficient.<sup>68</sup> It is not only the right, but the duty, of the judge to dismiss an incompetent juror.<sup>69</sup>

Powers and procedure. See 7 C. L. 1885.—For all the ordinary purposes of procuring evidence a grand jury is a distinct body clothed with authority to conduct the examination of witnesses in any way that does not conflict with established legal rules,<sup>70</sup> and it has power to determine for itself the qualifications of witnesses of tender years, so long as there is due observance of the statutory safeguards enjoined upon other tribunals in similar circumstances.<sup>71</sup> The court may by attachment compel attendance of witnesses on grand jury.<sup>72</sup> A jury summoned at the beginning of the term may serve until a new jury appears,<sup>73</sup> and it does not become functus officio because the office of judge becomes vacant and there is no one for it to report to.<sup>74</sup> The California statute providing for accusations against public officers by the grand jury being silent as to the number which may present the common law governs, and twelve grand jurors may present an accusation.<sup>75</sup>

Effect of illegality in constitution or proceedings of juries. See 7 C. L. 1886.—Indictments found by a jury constituted in any other manner than that prescribed by statute are void,<sup>76</sup> and the participation of an incompetent juror in the finding thereof vitiates the indictment.<sup>77</sup> In some states indictments have been held not to be invalidated because of defects or irregularities in the formation or selection of the jury,<sup>78</sup> with certain exceptions,<sup>79</sup> or because jury commissioners, who assisted in

67. Where regular drawing was set aside because two jurors were drawn from same township, held no ground of objection that all names so drawn were returned into jury box as provided in Code, § 350, from which a new drawing was made in which were two of the names first drawn. State v. Johnson [Iowa] 111 NW 827.

68. Court held to have substantially complied with Code 1896, § 5023, in summoning two qualified persons to make up deficiency where number of jurors was reduced to fourteen. Williams v. State [Ala.] 43 S 182.

69. Where commissioners selected as one of twenty members to compose venire a minor, whose name was stricken from list by order of court, held motion to quash properly overruled. State v. Brown, 118 La. 373, 42 S 969.

70. People v. Sexton, 187 N. Y. 495, 80 NE 396.

71. Code Cr. Proc. § 392, applies as well to grand juries as to courts and magistrates. People v. Sexton, 187 N. Y. 495, 80 NE 396. Where jury complied with Code Cr. Proc. § 392, in examination of children under twelve years of age, held no ground for dismissing indictment that the preliminary examination required by the statute was not made by the justice presiding at the term of court. Id.

72. Ferriman v. People, 128 Ill. App. 230.

73. Under Act of 1893 (P. L. p. 341), indictment found by jury summoned at beginning of term held to be good in absence of any suggestion that a new grand jury actually appeared. State v. Castle [N. J. Law.] 66 A 1059. In the absence of anything to the contrary appearing, it will be presumed that an order was made under the statute restraining the sheriff from summoning re-jury. Id. Such order need not be filed with the clerk but may be delivered to the sheriff. Id.

74. Where, at the date to which the jury had been adjourned, the office of judge was vacant, the fact that the jury met at a later date and returned an indictment after the qualification of the new judge held not to invalidate indictment. State v. McClen-don, 118 La. 792, 43 S 417. Fact that jury adjourned to Nov. 13, 1906, but did not meet on that date, and not until Feb. 6, 1907, held not to constitute the body functus officio or invalidate indictment returned Feb. 8, 1907, as jury was impaneled Oct. 15, 1906, to serve six months, or until their successors should have been qualified. Id.

75. Pen. Code, § 758. Coffey v. Sacramento County Superior Ct., 2 Cal. App. 453, 83 P 580.

76. Where eighteen qualified persons were legally sworn as jurors, and subsequently three were excused by the court, held that under Code 1896, § 5023, the action of the court causing four other persons to be called and sworn and added to the fifteen remaining rendered the jury so constituted an illegal body, and consequently the indictment returned by it was a nullity. Trammell v. States [Ala.] 44 S 201.

77. Motion to quash properly sustained on ground that juror could not read or write English language. State v. McClendon, 118 La. 792, 43 S 417.

78. Code 1896, § 5269. Tucker v. State [Ala.] 44 S 587. Objection that upon impaneling of jury, a sufficient number of jurors not appearing, court, in directing sheriff to summon additional jurors, neglected to include in the order the requirement of par. 2808, Rev. St. 1901, as amended by Laws 1905, p. 28, ch. 24, that such persons summoned as jurors should not be persons who had served as jurors upon the regular list within the previous twelve months is not one that can be raised under Code by motion upon arraignment. Rev. Code, §§ 791, 792, 862. Thomas v. Territory [Ariz.] 89 P 591. Neither is such objection a ground for challenge under the Code. Id. Where it appears that jurors summoned by special ven-drawing the jury, were subsequently ousted from office, when at the time of the drawing they were acting by virtue of commissions issued from proper legal authorities,<sup>80</sup> or because of a clerical error making it appear that the jury was illegally constituted,<sup>81</sup> or because of statutory incompetency of an individual juror, which is not made a ground of challenge,<sup>82</sup> or because of error in filing the oath of a stenographer employed by the jury,<sup>83</sup> or because, on a prosecution for selling intoxicating liquors without license, a bottle of beer brought into the grand jury room by a witness was tasted by one of the jurors to determine whether or not it was beer,<sup>84</sup> while in others, indictments have been held to be vitiated because of defects in selecting the jury,<sup>85</sup> or because of defects in the constitution of the jury commission.<sup>86</sup> No objection can be taken because of defects in selecting, drawing and impaneling jury ire had not as a matter of fact served on regular list within the preceding twelve months, the defendant is not prejudiced by the court's action, and its failure to comply with statute was a mere irregularity in formation of jury and not ground for setting aside indictment. Id. Fact that when list of jurors was drawn all appeared but one, who had been excused the week before the seven who were to constitute the jury were drawn, and one who was present when the jury was drawn was excused, and from the ten remaining the seven were drawn, held no ground for setting aside indictment under Code, § 5240, there being no showing as to excusal of one juror that it was not done in accord with statute, and as to the other there was no material or substantial departure from statute. State v. Johnson [Iowa] 111 NW 827. Where record book containing jury list was deposited in first instance with clerk of circuit court as required by statute, and having been taken to municipal court for drawing December panel for that court, fact that it remained with clerk of latter court till after drawing of February panel, which indicted defendant, held an irregularity, but in absence of showing that defendant was prejudiced was no ground for quashing indictment. Section 2546a, St. 1838 (Sanborn's Supp. p. 1138), Laws 1903, p. 136, ch. 90, § 2. Niezorawski v. State, 131 Wis. 166, 111 NW 250.

79. Under Code 1896, § 5269, only such objection that can be so taken advantage of is that jurors were not drawn in presence of officers designated by law. Tucker v. State, [Ala.] 44 S 587. Exception in statute does not relieve officers designated of duty of drawing jurors from box which they are required to prepare, Code 1896, §§ 4982 et seq., 4989, and it was held, therefore, error for the court to refuse to allow defendant to prove that jurors were not drawn from box at all, and the like, in support of his plea in abatement. Tucker v. State [Ala.] 44 S 587.

80. Such officers acted under color of office, and were, therefore, de facto commissioners. Logan v. State [Ala.] 43 S 10.

81. Where one of names on venire appeared as "John L. Gradin" from beat 17 and record stated in regard to venire that all persons named therein and summoned appeared, and further stated that "John T. Gradin" appeared in court, and it being ascertained that the said "John T. Gradin" was the only person in that beat (No. 17) by that name was duly sworn in as a juror, held that the record meant that among the "all" who appeared was the Gradin, who, though called "John L. Gradin" in the venire, was really "John T. Gradin" and that it did not show that the court enlarged the jury beyond the legal number by swearing in John T. Gradin. Peppers v. State [Ala.] 42 S 734.

82. Fact that a juror was incompetent by reason of having served and been discharged as a juror by a court of record within a year of the time that he was summoned and impaneled to act as such juror held not to invalidate the indictment. Code Civ. Proc. § 199; Penal Code, §§ 896, 901, 995. In re Ruef, 150 Cal. 665, 89 P 605; Kitts v. Nevada County Superior Ct. [Cal. App.] 90 P 977. Fact that individual jurors may not have been assessed on the last assessment roll of the county on property belonging to them held not to invalidate the indictment. Code Civ. Proc. § 198; Penal Code, §§ 896, 995. Kitts v. Nevada County Superior Ct. [Cal. App.] 90 P 977.

83. Where statute requires oath to be filed, but does not designate the place where or the person with whom it is to be filed, filling with clerk of grand jury, even though erroneous, held not to disqualify stenographer or invalidate indictment. Niezorawski v. State, 131 Wis. 166, 111 NW 250.

84. Guarreno v. State [Ala.] 42 S 833.

85. Jury not selected by board of supervisors at regular or special meeting as required by statutes. Hurd's Rev. St. 1905, ch. 34, 78, §§ 9, 49, pp. 567, 1264. Marsh v. People, 226 Ill. 464, 80 NE 1006.

86. Where a jury commission fails to take the oath required by art. 160 of the constitution to support the constitution and laws of the United States and of the state, he is disqualified to enter upon discharge of his duties, notwithstanding he may have taken the oath prescribed by the act relating to jury commissions to discharge his duties as commissioner, and hence a jury commission, having such disqualified member, is not legally constituted and cannot legally perform any functions assigned to it. Act No. 135, p. 218, of 1898, § 3. State v. McClendon, 118 La. 792, 43 S 417. Where commissioner, disqualified because of not having taken the oath required by art. 160 of the constitution, participates with other qualified commissioners in proceeding to supplement general venire list and take out names of 20 persons, from whom members of jury were subsequently selected and drawn, such participation vitiated the proceedings and was ground for quashing indictment. State v. McClendon, 118 La. 792, 43 S 417. Fact that commissioners after taking the oath re-where accused was held to answer by committing magistrate.<sup>87</sup> When it clearly appears that the legal evidence received by a grand jury is insufficient to support an indictment, or that illegal evidence is the sole basis for an indictment, the person indicted has a constitutional right to make a motion to dismiss,<sup>88</sup> and the right to make a motion upon these substantial grounds, and have it decided in the first instance, necessarily implies the right to have a review of an adverse decision.<sup>89</sup>

Objections and waiver thereof; estopped to urge.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1888</sup>—Fundamental and jurisdictional objections may be availed of for the first time on appeal.<sup>90</sup> Objections to qualifications of jurors are waived by failure to challenge at the time of the impaneling of the jury,<sup>91</sup> and where no objection is made at the trial to the organization of the jury, it will, on appeal, be presumed to have been legally organized.<sup>92</sup> Objections because of defects relating to the formation of the jury may be taken by plea in abatement,<sup>93</sup> or objection to the legality of the jury may properly be taken by motion to quash the indictment before plea.<sup>94</sup> A motion to quash must be supported by sufficient proof of the facts it states.<sup>95</sup>

Secrecy of deliberations.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1889</sup>—The testimony of a grand juror may be introduced to show statements of witness before the grand juror were inconsistent with his testimony at the trial.<sup>96</sup> In some states the accused is not entitled to inspect the minutes of the jury as a matter of right but as a matter of judicial discretion,<sup>97</sup> quired by the constitution also took an oath imposed by a particular statute to faithfully discharge duties imposed upon them by the statute does not militate against the sufficiency of their qualification. Id. Where the statute provides that number, less than all the members of jury commission, shall be sufficient to perform the duties imposed by the act, provided all members are duly notified, it is necessary that all the members be notified and not merely those actually prosecuting the work, but notice cannot be given if the places which the law contemplates shall be so occupied are not filled with persons capable of receiving such notice. Id.

87. Motion to set aside indictment held properly overruled under Code 1897, § 5321. State v. Johnson [Iowa] 111 NW 827.

88. Notwithstanding mandatory provisions of Cr. Code, § 313, that a motion to dismiss can be made only on grounds enumerated therein. People v. Sexton, 187 N. Y. 495, 80 NE 396. Affidavits held insufficient to show presentation of illegal evidence to jury or insufficiency of evidence to support indictment. Id. Indictment presumed to be founded upon legal and sufficient evidence. Id.

89. So at least in the absence of any statutory limitation. People v. Sexton, 187 N. Y. 495, 80 NE 396. Denial of motion to dismiss treated as question that might be reviewed upon appeal from judgment of conviction in capital case. Id.

90. That indictment was returned by jury illegally constituted under Code 1896, § 5023, in that court having excused certain jurors caused other persons to be added before the original number was reduced below fifteen. Trammell v. State [Ala.] 44 S 201.

91. Motion to quash because jurors had not paid poll tax as required by law held not well taken where no challenge was made at time of impaneling and motion was made some ten months after return of indictment and at subsequent term of court. King v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 100 SW 387. Where terms of act do not disqualify, but simply form cause for challenge, the cause for challenge must be interposed at formation of jury, and it is too late to make motion to quash at subsequent term. Act 28th Leg. (First called session, p. 15, ch. 10). Id.

92. Where the minute entry affirmatively states that jury, as organized, consisted of fifteen persons, but sets up the names of only fourteen, in the absence of objection in the lower court, it will be presumed that the jury as organized was composed of fifteen, and that the failure to state the name of the fifteenth person was a clerical omission in making up the transcript. Logan v. State [Ala.] 43 S 10.

93. Under exception in Code 1896, § 5269, where officers designated fail to draw jurors from box which they are required to prepare, or draw them illegally, held advantage may be taken of it by plea in abatement. Tucker v. State [Ala.] 44 S 587.

94. Motion held to be made in apt time. Marsh v. People, 226 Ill. 464, 80 NE 1006.

95. Motion to quash on ground that jury was not selected by commissioners as required by law, but by marshal under order of court, held properly overruled, where not accompanied by proof other than affidavit charging usurpation of power by court. Reynolds v. U. S. [Ind. T.] 103 SW 762.

96. Rev. St. 1899, § 2506 (Ann. St. 1906, p. 1497). To show witness failed to disclose to grand jury matters the truth of which he admitted on the trial. Cramer v. Barmon [Mo. App.] 103 SW 1086.

97. People v. Klaw, 53 Misc. 158, 104 NYS 482. Reasons for granting inspection are (1) precedents of court require it, (2) stenographer's minutes are best evidence as to whether jury have or have not acted without evidence or upon illegal or incompetent testimony, and to deprive accused of such minutes is to deprive him of opportunity of learning with certainty whether there is or is not ground for moving to set aside inand a motion to permit him to do so will be entertained for the purpose of enabling him to move to set aside the indictment upon one or more of the grounds permissible by law,<sup>98</sup> or of enabling him to go to trial more fully apprised of the nature of the accusation against him.<sup>99</sup> Such inspection should not be denied because there has been a preliminary hearing before a magistrate.<sup>1</sup>

GROUND RENTS, see latest topical index.

GUARANTY.

§ 1. What Constitutes (1545).

§ 2. Form and Requisites of the Contract (1545).

§ 3. Operation and Effect of Guaranty (1546). Interpretation in General (1546). Fixing Default and Liability of the Guarantor (1547). Defenses and Discharge of Guaranty (1547).

§ 4. Rights and Remedies Between Guarantor and Principal Debtor (1548).

§ 5. Actions on Guaranty (1548).

The scope of this topic is noted below.<sup>2</sup>

§ 1. What constitutes. See 7 C. L. 1891.—A guaranty may be implied from the language of the writing,<sup>3</sup> if it is clearly so intended,<sup>4</sup> but a mere direction to draw on defendant without a promise to pay is insufficient to show a guaranty.<sup>5</sup>

§ 2. Form and requisites of the contract. See 7 C. L. 1891.—To make a valid guaranty there must be consideration.<sup>6</sup> An agreement for forbearance<sup>7</sup> or action taken on the faith, if the guaranty is sufficient.<sup>8</sup> The making of further loans at the request of the guarantor is a sufficient consideration for a guaranty of the prior and subsequent indebtedness.<sup>9</sup> The word "guaranty" implies a consideration.<sup>10</sup> A creditor

dictment as having been found without evidence or upon illegal or incompetent testimony, (3) considerations of public policy. Id.

98, 99, 1. People v. Klaw, 53 Misc. 158, 104 NYS 482.

2. It excludes contracts of suretyship (see Suretyship, 8 C. L. 2050) and indemnity (see Indemnity, 8 C. L. 173), and the requirements that contracts of guaranty be in writing (see Frauds, Statute of, 9 C. L. 1494). It likewise excludes powers of corporations to guaranty the obligations of third persons (see Corporations, 9 C. L. 733; Banking and Finance, 9 C. L. 327), the power of a partner to bind the firm by a guaranty (see Partnership 8 C. L. 1261), and the liabilities of guarantors of promissory notes by endorsement thereon (see Negotiable Instruments 8 C. L. 1124). It also excludes general principles of contract (see Contracts, 9 C. L. 654), and grounds of invalidity common to all contracts (see Fraud and Undue Influence, 9 C. L. 1475; Incompetency, 8 C. L. 169; Mistake and Accident, 8 C. L. 1020).

3. Letter requested a bank to "let the writer's son . . . make overdrafts" up to "$800 to buy live stock with," and hoping the bank would accommodate the son and the writer, impliedly guaranteed repayment. Miami County Nat. Bank v. Goldberg [Wis.] 113 NW 391.

4. Plaintiff became superintendent of defendants Industrial Department under written contract which provided he might nominate and instruct subagents and see that they remitted promptly, also that he should abide by the rules in the manual, one of which provided that he was personally responsible for moneys received by assistants. Held a contract of employment and not of guaranty and plaintiff not liable. McKone v. Metropolitan Life Ins. Co., 131 Wis. 243, 110 NW 472.

5. Defendant directed plaintiff to call on his brother each week for a certain amount of the water charges, and if he did not pay to draw on defendant for the balance, and if he did not pay the drafts to proceed as it chose. Staples v. Vicksburg Waterworks Co. [Miss.] 44 S 766.

6. Mere promise to pay existing debt of another without new consideration is void. Hedden v. Schneblin [Mo. App.] 104 SW 887. An insurance agent's promise to repay the company any amounts embezzled by a subagent, for whose acts he was not responsible, made in the belief that he was responsible is not binding. McKone v. Metropolitan Life Ins. Co., 131 Wis. 243, 110 NW 472. Where a contract does not take effect until the execution of a guaranty thereof, the guaranty is supported by the consideration of the contract. Lomax v. Witkowsky, 124 Ill. App. 261.

7. At guarantor's request plaintiff agreed to delay enforcing claim against principal debtor. Mudge v. Varner [N. C.] 59 SE 540. Where no particular time is specified, it is presumed to be a reasonable time. Lefkovits v. First Nat. Bank [Ala.] 44 S 613.

8. Defendant offered to see plaintiff paid for all goods sold defendant's sons, and plaintiff sold the goods relying on the offer. Small Co. v. Claxton [Ga. App.] 57 SE 977.

9. Two hundred dollars already advanced at time defendant guaranteed the bank to the extent of $10,000. Peters v. Merchants' & Farmers' Bk. [C. C. A.] 149 F 373.

10. Implies entire matter on concurrent act supported by the same consideration. Great Western Print. Co. v. Belcher [Mo. App.] 104 SW 894.

must accept the guaranty which is not shown by a mere performance of acts in reliance upon the offer, but there must be notice thereof given to the guarantor.<sup>11</sup> The statute of frauds requires contracts of guaranty to be in writing.<sup>12</sup> Guarantors may bind themselves in different amounts<sup>13</sup> and limit their liability.<sup>14</sup> A guaranty may be assigned where there is nothing to show a special guaranty or that confidence was reposed in the obligee.<sup>15</sup> There can be no delivery in escrow of a contract of guaranty to the obligee itself.<sup>16</sup>

§ 3. Operation and effect of guaranty. Interpretation in general. See 7 C. L. 1892

Where a guaranty is in writing and free from ambiguity it cannot be varied by parol evidence.<sup>17</sup> It should be construed as to best accord with the intention of parties as manifested by its terms;<sup>18</sup> and where doubtful language is used it should be construed most strongly against the party using the same.<sup>19</sup> It should be liberally construed to determine the intent of the parties, and when that is discovered, the guarantor is entitled to a strict construction in working out the intent.<sup>20</sup> Words of limitation are to be construed as limiting the liability of the guarantor and not as limiting the extent of credit to be given.<sup>21</sup> A guaranty will be held to apply only to future advances unless another construction is indicated.<sup>22</sup> It will extend to the extension of the original contract made in pursuance of an option therein contained,<sup>23</sup> but it will not be construed to cover penalties.<sup>24</sup> Where provision is made for assigning ac-

11. No notice given of offer to repay bank for advances to son made in reliance upon said offer. Miami County Nat. Bank v. Goldberg [Wis.] 113 NW 391.

12. See Frauds, Statute of, 9 C. L.

13. Each is liable to extent of his promise for the unpaid balance. Lefkovits v. First Nat. Bank [Ala.] 44 S 613.

14. The guarantors of a warranty are not liable for the full measure of damages where they have stipulated the amount assumed. Wood v. Stewart [Ark.] 98 SW 711.

15. Building contractors' bond which merely recited that principal and obligee had entered into a contract by which the former was to construct for the latter a building, who assigned to the owner of the building. Wing & Bostwick Co. v. U. S. Fidelity & Guaranty Co., 150 F 672.

16. Lefkovits v. First Nat. Bank [Ala.] 44 S 613.

17. Defendant, president of corporation, not allowed to testify that he did not intend to bind himself personally to guarantee the corporate debt. Mudge v. Varney [N. C.] 59 SE 540.

18. "We guarantee you to trust B. B. & Co. $300 worth of material to be credited to them at the rate of 10 or 15 days terms for a term of 5 mos. from date," held to be a continuing guaranty for 5 months limited to $300. Paskusz v. Bodner [N. J. Law] 67 A 1040. Bond conditioned that purchasers will pay the moneys due on merchandise which was to be paid for in four months, covers merchandise which the purchasers have not been called upon to pay for until after the lapse of four months. McGuire v. Gerstley, 204 U. S. 489, 51 Law. Ed. 581; Clark v. Gerstley, 204 U. S. 504, 51 Law. Ed. 589. Directors of a corporation signed a letter to the attorney general agreeing that "the taxes due by said company" will be paid on a certain date, on receipt of which the tax proceedings were adjourned. State of New Jersey v. Limburg, 54 Misc. 404, 105 NYS 1016.

19. Defendant sold plaintiff his log boom outfit and guaranteed that the earnings would amount to $475. Held this meant "net earnings." Loomis v. MacFarlane [Or.] 91 P 466. "My sons may need some help through the summer, and I ask you to show them all the favors that you can, and I will see that you get pay for anything that you may sell them," held to be a continuing guaranty for all goods furnished in reasonable amounts and in a reasonable time, though not during that summer. Small Co. v. Claxton [Ga. App.] 57 SE 977.

20. Guaranty of assets of branch bank which was to be incorporated independently with larger capital held to be made to strengthen its position and so for its benefit. Punta Gorda Bank v. State Bank [Fla.] 42 S 846.

21. To induce plaintiffs to give credit to a corporation defendant, its president, guaranteed bills "providing the amount of credit shall not exceed $5,000 at any one time." The amount exceeding that sum, defendant was liable to the extent of $5,000. Schinasi v. Lane, 118 App. Div. 76, 103 NYS 127.

Contra: "I guarantee Evans that whatever . . . materials he delivers to Cohen . . . I will pay for . . . 60 days after each delivery. The amount not higher than $250." Was held not a continuing guaranty, and that where defendant had already paid $220 he was not liable for $250. Evans v. Schiff, 54 Misc. 319, 105 NYS 1037.

22. Defendant had already guaranteed an account to $10,000, and then not knowing this had been exceeded he guaranteed an additional $2,000, which was held to cover only future advances. Peters v. Merchants & Farmers' Bk. [C. C. A.] 149 F 373.

23. Guaranty of payment of rent under a lease for three years, with option for two years additional, extends to the full term of five years. Heffron v. Treber [S. D.] 110 NW 781.

24. Directors of a New Jersey corporation agreed with attorney general to pay its taxes before a certain date. State of New Jersey v. Limburg, 54 Misc. 404, 105 NYS 1016.

counts to guarantor,<sup>25</sup> or where one guarantees that a debt will be paid on a certain day, the guaranty is one for payment and not of collection.<sup>26</sup> There is no liability where one merely guarantees the payment of what sums may become due on an infant's contract.<sup>27</sup>

Fixing default and liability of the guarantor. See 7 C. L. 1893—A guarantor of payment is liable on an absolute promise to pay on the failure of debtor to pay, while a guarantor of collection is only liable on condition that the creditor diligently prosecute the debtor without success.<sup>28</sup> Where payment was to be made by a specified time,<sup>29</sup> or there was an absolute guaranty of payment, no demand on the principal debtor is required to perfect any rights,<sup>30</sup> and no demand on the guarantor is necessary if none is necessary on the creditor.<sup>31</sup> A creditor must show that the security held by him is exhausted or worthless before he can proceed on a guaranty for collection.<sup>32</sup>

Defenses and discharge of guaranty. See 7 C. L. 1894—The return of the guaranty to the guarantor, though under a mistake, is a defense.<sup>33</sup> The guarantor of rent will be released by the substitution of another tenant without his knowledge.<sup>34</sup> The failure to perform a condition precedent,<sup>35</sup> or a material change in the contract guaranteed, will release the guarantors.<sup>36</sup> Where there has been no substantial departure from the terms of the contract,<sup>37</sup> as where a creditor sold mortgaged property under an execution on a judgment instead of foreclosing the same,<sup>38</sup> or where there was a continuance of work on a building beyond the time specified, there is not such a novation as would discharge the surety.<sup>39</sup> A guaranty may expressly provide that extensions or adjustments between debtor and creditor shall not release guarantor,<sup>40</sup>

25. Defendant sold plaintiff's goods under agreement either to procure credit insurance or to guarantee the accounts. Oneida Steel Pulley Co. v. New York Leather Belting Co., 105 NYS 534.

26. Defendant, president of corporation, guaranteed that if account should be held up until July 10th that it would be paid on that date. Mudge v. Varner [N. C.] 59 SE 540.

27. As he has the right to repudiate the same. International Text-book Co. v. McKone [Wis.] 113 NW 438.

28. Mudge v. Varner [N. C.] 59 SE 540.

29. Not even necessary to start the running of interest. Doyle v. Nesting, 37 Colo. 522, 88 P 862.

30. Defendant guaranteed payment to bank on a fixed date, and it was his duty to see that the debtor paid at the time stipulated. Lefkovits v. First Nat. Bank [Ala.] 44 S 613.

31. His liability is commensurate with that of his principal. Great Western Printing Co. v. Belcher [Mo. App.] 104 SW 894.

32. Plaintiffs made certain advances to a corporation, sold their goods, and accounts were payable to them. Defendant guaranteed to hold plaintiff harmless from any losses, but a complaint against him was defective which did not show that nothing could be realized from the accounts. Nachod v. Hindley, 118 App. Div. 658, 103 NYS 801.

33. Creditors' employe by mistake credited debtor with an excess payment and returned guaranty. On discovery of error and insolvency of debtor creditor cannot recover of the guarantor. Marshall Field & Co. v. Sutherland [Iowa] 113 NW 770.

34. Error to reject evidence of assignment without knowledge of guarantor in action by landlord against guarantor. Fleck v. Feldman, 54 Misc. 228, 104 NYS 366.

35. Condition of guaranty that obligee should conduct the log boom business in a workmanlike manner was complied with where obligee gave the business his personal attention and rendered such services as he was qualified to render. Loomis v. MacFarlane [Or.] 91 P 466.

36. Plaintiff agreed to deliver horses to defendant in exchange for cattle. Subsequently defendant accepted horses not according to contract in consideration of reduction of price, and extension of time to deliver the cattle, and it was held that his guarantor was released. Stafford v. Christian [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 341, 101 SW 876.

37. Subcontractor's surety had received notice of termination of contract on account of abandonment of subcontractor, and the formation of new contract with subcontractor for completion of work did not release the surety. Wing & Bostwick Co. v. U. S. Fidelity & Guaranty Co., 150 F 672.

38. Guarantor not prejudiced and creditor might apply proceeds to payment of mortgage debt and apply any surplus pro rata in the remaining indebtedness. Peters v. Merchants' & Farmers' Bk. [C. C. A.] 149 F 373.

39. Simply a continuance of work in an attempt to fulfill the contract and to relieve the surety from his obligations. Wing & Bostwick Co. v. U. S. Fidelity & Guaranty Co., 150 F 672.

40. Where guaranty provided that accounts for merchandise sold might be adjusted between creditor and debtor, or extension given without notice to guarantor, the latter was not released by creditor's fail-

but otherwise in the absence of subsequent consent.<sup>41</sup> A guarantor will be discharged by an agreement for extension of time, but not by a mere indulgence<sup>42</sup> or delay.<sup>43</sup> A failure to charge indorsers of a note is not such a release of security as will discharge a guarantor.<sup>44</sup> It may be a defense that the credit extended exceeded the limit set in the guaranty.<sup>45</sup> A guarantor will never be discharged where the breach of a land contract was occasioned by the principal's fault.<sup>46</sup> Laches defeats the right to repudiate the contract for fraud, misrepresentation, or failure of consideration.<sup>47</sup> Payment by guarantor of one delinquency and giving of receipt in full does not release another delinquency then accrued but unknown to either creditor or guarantor.<sup>48</sup>

§ 4. Rights and remedies between guarantor and principal debtor. See 5 C. L. 1600

§ 5. Actions on guaranty. See 7 C. L. 1895.—The complaint must show existence of valid contract of guaranty,<sup>49</sup> which was accepted by creditor,<sup>50</sup> and that there was a breach.<sup>51</sup> The setting out of a contract in full which purports to have been made on consideration is a sufficient averment of consideration.<sup>52</sup> Under statutes, frequently one of several guarantors may be sued,<sup>53</sup> without joining the debtor.<sup>54</sup> A judgment recovered by creditor against the principal is not conclusive against the surety.<sup>55</sup> One only incidentally interested cannot sue on a guaranty.<sup>56</sup> All elements of damage resulting directly from failure to perform the contract are recoverable,<sup>57</sup>

ure to pursue the debtor within a reasonable time. Goff v. Janeway, 30 Ky. L. R. 705, 99 SW 602.

41. New note taken for old, the extension being negotiated by the sureties. Spier v. McNaught, 105 NYS 1060.

42. Directors had guaranteed payment of tax of a corporation and attorney general on receipt of part payment wrote that they could have a further continuance. State of New Jersey v. Limburg, 54 Misc. 404, 105 NYS 1016.

43. Mere delay to enforce an absolute guaranty of payment, without any contract extending time of payment, will not discharge the surety, though the principal became insolvent. Manchester Bldg. & Loan Ass'n v. Stuart [N. J. Err. & App.] 65 A 985.

44. But indorsers had waived notice of protest. Spier v. McNaught, 105 NYS 1060.

45. President of corporation guaranteed its bills "provided the amount of credit shall not exceed $5,000," but majority of court held this was not a condition. Schinasi v. Lane, 118 App. Div. 76, 103 NYS 127.

46. One guaranteed that an assignee would perform a land contract for sale of bounded land stated to contain about 80 acres for $1,000 per acre, and which provided for a survey. The survey showed 95 acres, and on the assignee refusing to perform his guarantor was held liable. Sheindelman v. Colyer, 106 NYS 762.

47. Defendant purchased mortgaged cattle without paying the mortgage, but later guaranteed payment, upon being given the right to handle the remaining cattle, and delayed for 39 days to deny liability because of misrepresentation as to number of cattle and quantity of feed. Drovers' Live Stock Com. Co. v. Wolff Packing Co., 74 Kan. 330, 89 P 465, 86 P 128.

48. Lomax v. Witkowsky, 124 Ill. App. 261.

49. Sufficient to set out contract where defendant guaranteed past due debts of a firm to plaintiff, and future advances to $8,000, payment to be made on a specified date, and the existence of indebtedness on that date, and failure to pay on request. Lefkovits v. First Nat. Bank [Ala.] 44 S 613.

50. Allegation that guaranty was delivered to plaintiff, and that in consideration thereof credit was extended to debtor, was sufficient. Goff v. Janeway, 30 Ky. L. R. 705, 99 SW 602.

51. Defendant guaranteed that another would deliver mules or their value in satisfaction of any award of arbitrators, but petition showed that there had never been any arbitration. Shell v. Asher [Ky.] 102 SW 879. Bond conditioned on payment of goods sold on four months' credit is shown to be violated by particulars of demand which showed that last sale had occurred more than four months previous and had not been paid for. McGuire v. Gerstley, 204 U. S. 489, 51 Law. Ed. 581.

52. Contract recited that the creditor forbore at the request of guarantors and the receipt of $1. Lefkovits v. First Nat. Bank [Ala.] 44 S 613.

53. Mills' Ann. St. § 2528, declaring that joint obligations shall be joint and several. Doyle v. Nesting, 37 Colo. 522, 88 P 862.

54. Petition setting forth account, guaranty, refusal of debtors to pay, notice to guarantor that guaranty was accepted, and alleging that goods were sold on the faith of the guaranty, was sufficient. Small Co. v. Claxton [Ga. App.] 57 SE 977.

55. Landlord obtained judgment for rent against tenant who had assigned his interest, which was not conclusive on the question of the tenant's liability, in an action against the tenant's guarantor. Fleck v. Feldman, 54 Misc. 228, 104 NYS 366.

56. Where to induce another to put $10,000 into a branch bank and reincorporate as an independent bank the main bank guaranteed the assets of the branch, the independent bank, and not merely the one who furnished the additional capital, had the right to sue on the guaranty. Punta Gorda Bank v. State Bank [Fla.] 42 S 846.

57. Where one guaranteed that a leased steamboat should be returned in six months and the ordinary rules of evidence apply.<sup>58</sup> A guarantor of bonds cannot, as a set-off in an action against a director on his contract of guaranty, recover from him, by reason of the statute avoiding issues made below par, the difference between the purchase price of bonds and their par value.<sup>59</sup>

GUARDIANS AD LITEM AND NEXT FRIENDS.

§ 1. Necessity or Occasion for a Guardian ad Litem or Next Friend (1549).

§ 2. Qualification and Appointment (1549).

§ 3. Powers, Duties, Rights, and Liabilities (1550).

§ 4. Procedure by or Against Guardian ad Litem or Next Friend (1550).

General guardians<sup>60</sup> and the rights and privileges of infants in respect to suit<sup>61</sup> are elsewhere treated.

§ 1. Necessity or occasion for a guardian ad litem or next friend See 7 C. L. 1896 exists where an insane person<sup>62</sup> or an infant sues<sup>63</sup> or is sued,<sup>64</sup> or in suits where the rights of persons unborn are involved.<sup>65</sup> In some states a guardian ad litem must be appointed though there is a general guardian,<sup>66</sup> in others this is unnecessary.<sup>67</sup> A judgment against an infant is erroneous where no guardian or guardian ad litem was appointed, but is not void.<sup>68</sup>

§ 2. Qualification and appointment. See 7 C. L. 1897.—No appointment should be made until after service of summons on the infants,<sup>69</sup> but the fact that the guardian was prematurely appointed is not a jurisdictional defect.<sup>70</sup> The necessary steps prescribed by statute must be followed,<sup>71</sup> and any irregularities in an appointment constitute reversible error<sup>72</sup> and ground for new trial,<sup>73</sup> an appointment will be pre-free from liens, he was liable for amount of liens, though incurred after expiration of time and for rental. Mitchell, Lewis & Staver Co. v. Beeson [Wash.] 92 P 426.

58. An indorser who was liable to the sureties who had been compelled to pay, but was not a party to an action against his subsequent indorsers, was not incompetent to testify as to conversations with plaintiff's testator, one of the sureties. Spier v. McNaught, 105 NYS 1060.

59. Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Kleybolte, 5 Ohio N. P. (N. S.) 536.

60. See Guardianship, 9 C. L. 1551.

61. See Infants, 8 C. L. 267.

62. Eversole v. Eastern Kentucky Asylum for the Insane, 30 Ky. L. R. 989, 100 SW 300.

63. Ejectment should be brought in name of infant by her guardian ad litem. Mitchell v. Cleveland [S. C.] 57 SE 33.

64. Where guardian appears and answers, the court has full jurisdiction of the infants and they are bound by its decrees, and one who purchased in good faith at judicial sale of the infant's land will be protected though decree was procured by collusion. Hansford v. Tate, 61 W. Va. 207, 56 SE 372. Minor not being represented by a tutor or guardian, the service of notice of tax delinquency on major co-owner is insufficient to bind minor co-owners even though they reside with him on the property. In re Interstate Land Co., 118 La. 587, 43 S 173. Appointed on proceeding to sell an infant's property. Fatal defect that there was no order of reference. Hegeman v. Stearns Realty Co., 117 App. Div. 754, 102 NYS 1025. Nonresident infant defendants' bound by decree in partition suit where guardian ad litem was duly appointed. O'Donaghue v. Smith, 184 N. Y. 365, 77 NE 621.

65. In final accounting in probate court. Libby v. Todd [Mass.] 80 NE 584.

66. Guardian ad litem appointed on application of guardian for order to sell timber belonging to the ward. Lilly v. Claypool, 59 W. Va. 130, 53 SE 22. The general guardian has not power to institute a suit to contest a will. Campbell v. Fichter, 168 Ind. 645, 81 NE 661.

67. Williams v. Smith [R. I.] 66 A 63. Action in behalf of adult under guardianship must be begun in his name by his guardian. Id.

68. Sued for slander, no evidence heard, and judgment rendered pro confesso, infant's remedy was by petition to vacate which need not set out that he had a defense, since under the law all allegations against an infant must be proven though not traversed. Berryhill v. Holland, 30 Ky. L. R. 831, 99 SW 902.

69. No presumption that infant's were served where nothing in record shows it. Gannon v. Moore [Ark.] 104 SW 139.

70. Jurisdiction of court over minors becomes complete on the service of summons on them, and guardian appointed the very next day. Welsh v. Koch [Cal. App.] 88 P 604.

71. Petition of guardian of infant, when under fourteen, the consent of and order appointing special guardian, and his undertaking. Hegeman v. Stearns Realty Co., 117 App. Div. 754, 102 NYS 1025. Code Proc. § 116, providing for appointment of guardians ad litem for nonresident infant defendants on plaintiff's application in partition proceedings, held inapplicable when appointment is made by infant through her mother. O'Donaghue v. Smith 184 N. Y. 365, 77 NE 621.

72. In proceeding for sale of land, guardian

sumed to be valid<sup>74</sup> unless the contrary appears on the face of the record.<sup>75</sup> An objection to the failure to give bond is premature when made before the time the money is to be paid over.<sup>76</sup> A failure to give bond will not render the proceeding void.<sup>77</sup> It is immaterial on whose petition the guardian is appointed where he properly looked after the infant's interests,<sup>78</sup> and an illegal appointment may be ratified by the infant on his coming of age.<sup>79</sup>

§ 3. Powers, duties, rights, and liabilities. See 7 C. L. 1897—When an infant is suing in forma pauperis, his guardian ad litem has no authority to make a binding contract with an attorney as to his compensation.<sup>80</sup> A guardian ad litem must take proper measures to safeguard the interests of the person he represents.<sup>81</sup> On an accounting he may contest the validity of a contract for attorneys' fees,<sup>82</sup> but a failure of guardian to contest a claim will not affect the proceeding where he has made proper investigation.<sup>83</sup> The misconduct of guardian will not render the judgment liable to direct or collateral attack after time for appeal has expired.<sup>84</sup> A guardian ad litem will not be entitled to compensation for arguing questions not to the benefit of his wards.<sup>85</sup>

§ 4. Procedure by or against guardian ad litem or next friend. See 7 C. L. 1899—A lunatic may sue by next friend though another has applied for letters of guardianship of his estate.<sup>86</sup> Suits may be instituted by guardians for insurance in behalf of infant beneficiaries.<sup>87</sup> In suits against infants<sup>88</sup> or insane persons, service should ad litem for infant defendant was appointed before service of process on infant was perfected. McQueen v. Grigsby [Ala.] 44 S 961.

73. Guardian appointed without request on first day of term, where statute provided that if defendant neglects for one day after the first day of the term to ask for a guardian the court may appoint one. Kurtz v. Eisenstein, 123 Mo. App. 288, 100 SW 574.

74. And to be based on showing that minor's had been served with process. Welsh v. Koch [Cal. App.] 38 P 604.

75. Statute required appointment of guardian ad litem for infant over fourteen, to be made on application of infant. Record showed appointment was made on application of stepfather of infant of sixteen, which was erroneous though not void. Johnston v. Southern Pac. Co., 150 Cal. 535, 89 P 348. On motion for new trial or appeal. Welsh v. Koch [Cal. App.] 88 P 604.

76. Son, as next friend of insane mother, had recovered judgment for money due for the use of her dower interest in property. Crenshaw v. Kener, 127 Ga. 742, 57 SE 57.

77. Execution may be enforced on judgment obtained in a suit by a minor, prosecuted by a prochein ami, though no bond was given as required, as payment may be safely made to the officer who alone is interested in seeing that a bond is furnished. Oxford Knitting Mills v. Sutton, 127 Ga. 162, 56 SE 298.

78. Purchaser obtained a valid title at a judicial sale whether the attorney at law who was appointed guardian was appointed on the petition or the cross petition, where he denied the allegations of the adverse pleadings, cross-examined the witnesses, obtained a resale, and did everything he could under the circumstances. Weakley v. Middleton, 30 Ky. L. R. 571, 99 SW 288.

79. Guardian ad litem for infant of sixteen appointed on application of stepfather, but was ratified by her affirming the proceedings which were still pending on her attaining her majority. Johnston v. Southern Pac. Co., 150 Cal. 535, 89 P 348.

80. An ex parte decree purporting to approve the account is without jurisdiction where the citation was merely served on the mother, and not on the infant himself. In re Tyndall, 117 App. Div. 294, 102 NYS 211.

81. Guardian ad litem and testamentary guardian may, with approval of court, elect to treat trust property as real estate and join in suit for partition, instead of taking share of proceeds of trust property. Train v. Davis, 49 Misc. 162, 98 NYS 816.

82. Contract between guardian and trustee of minor that law firm of which trustee was a member should receive a certain sum for services. In re Manning's Estate, 134 Iowa, 165, 111 NW 409.

83. In suit to recover for board of patient at insane asylum, guardian reported after full investigation that he was unable to make any defense. Eversole v. Eastern Kentucky Asylum for the Insane, 30 Ky. L. R. 989, 100 SW 300.

84. Alleged that he failed to adduce evidence to sustain the title of his minors to certain real estate which he knew existed and could have been produced. Welsh v. Koch [Cal. App.] 88 P 604.

85. Not his duty to suppress facts in order to secure unjust advantage for wards, but the remote possibility that they may have to refund does not justify him on an accounting in objecting that wards not entitled to any remainders on proper construction of will. Libby v. Todd [Mass.] 80 NE 584.

86. Suit for annulment of marriage. Schneider v. Rabb [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 962, 100 SW 163.

87. Rather than by administrator of deceased. Social Benev. Soc. No. 1 v. Holmes, 127 Ga. 586, 56 SE 775.

88. No presumption to aid the record. Gannon v. Moore [Ark.] 104 SW 139. Before 1876 in Georgia service on the guardian ad be made on the infants or insane persons and the persons having them in charge,<sup>89</sup> but, after jurisdiction has been obtained, service of papers may properly be made on the guardian ad litem or the prochein ami.<sup>90</sup> Where there are infant defendants the petition should allege their ages and the names of the persons who have charge of them.<sup>91</sup> A minor has no further time than an adult within which to take steps for the correction of errors in proceedings or a judgment against him.<sup>92</sup>

GUARDIANSHIP.

- § 1. The Occasion for Guardianship (1551).
- § 2. The Person of the Guardian; His Appointment, Qualification and Tenure (1552).
- § 3. General Powers, Duties, and Liabilities (1553).
- § 4. Custody, Support, and Education of the Ward (1553).
- § 5. The Ward's Property and Administration Thereof (1554).
- § 6. Presentment and Allowance of Claims (1555).

- § 7. Judicial Proceedings to Sell Property of Ward (1555).
- § 8. Actions and Legal Proceedings By and Against Guardians (1556).
- § 9. Accounting and Settlement (1556).
- § 10. Rights and Liabilities Between Guardian and Ward (1557).
- § 11. Compensation of Guardian (1557).
- § 12. Guardianship Bonds (1558).

Guardians ad litem,<sup>93</sup> natural guardians,<sup>94</sup> and the rights and liabilities of persons under disability,<sup>95</sup> are elsewhere treated.

§ 1. The occasion for guardianship.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1899</sup>—Guardians may be appointed for infants, drunkards, spendthrifts,<sup>96</sup> lunatics, or insane persons, or persons incapable of caring for property.<sup>97</sup> Parents are guardians by nature and for nurture of all children born to them in lawful wedlock.<sup>98</sup> Where a child has no proper guardian, she may be committed to an institution.<sup>99</sup> In case of delay in the appointment of a guardian, a special guardian may be appointed.<sup>1</sup>

The jurisdiction.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1899</sup>—The court of the county of the ward's residence has jurisdiction,<sup>2</sup> which when once obtained is not lost, though the ward moves into another county,<sup>3</sup> but is retained until a final disposition is made of the matter.<sup>4</sup> The domicile of parents is presumably the residence of their minor children.<sup>5</sup> A failure to give all the different names a person is known by is not a jurisdictional litem was in accordance with the equity practice, and sufficient. Morehead v. Allen, 127 Ga. 510, 56 SE 745.

89. In suit to recover for board of defendant at insane asylum, it was sufficient to serve the defendant and the superintendent where insane person had no committee, father, guardian, or wife. Eversole v. Eastern Kentucky Asylum for the Insane, 30 Ky. L. R. 989, 100 SW 300.

90. Bill of exceptions sued out by defendant. Vickers v. Hawkins [Ga.] 58 SE 44.

91. Petition for sale of land for division among joint owners. McQueen v. Grigsby [Ala.] 44 S 961.

92. Welsh v. Koch [Cal. App.] 88 P 604. Time for appeal had expired, and claimed the facts stated in the findings were not true. Id.

93. See Guardians ad Litem and Next Friends, 9 C L 1549.

94. See Parent and Child, 8 C. L. 1225.

95. See Infants, 8 C. L. 267; Insane Persons, 8 C. L. 319.

96. Where he was only adjudged to be lacking in discretion in management of his estate, the appointment was only voidable, not void. Brown v. Probate Ct. of Warwick [R. I.] 67 A 527.

97. Ordinary rules of evidence apply, and admissions and declarations of the one for whom a guardian is asked are admissible. Conway v. Murphy [Iowa] 112 NW 764. Test of propriety of appointing conservator for alleged incompetent is whether he has capacity to transact ordinary business in intelligent manner. Leefers v. People, 123 Ill. App. 634.

98. This guardianship can only be transferred to another by consent unless forfeited by vice. In re Wright [Neb.] 112 NW 311.

99. People v. O'Neill, 117 App. Div. 826, 102 NYS 988.

1. No power to appoint a special guardian where a guardian has been appointed, though an appeal from the appointment is pending. State v. Parsons, 131 Wis. 606, 111 NW 710.

2. Ordinary of county of ward's present residence must approve selection of new guardian. Dickerson v. Bowen [Ga.] 57 SE 326.

3. Insane person has no power to change his domicile. McIntire v. Bailey, 133 Iowa, 418, 110 NW 588.

4. Court appointed a guardian of an idiot and ordered a sale of her property, and it could on proper showing order the sale to be set aside and enjoin the parties from disposing of the property. In re Propst, 144 N. C. 562, 57 SE 342.

5. Presumption may be overcome by facts showing a different condition, as that children worked and lived on a farm of their own. Wirsig v. Scott [Neb.] 112 NW 655.

defect,<sup>6</sup> but false representations as to jurisdictional facts will be ground for the revocation of the appointment.<sup>7</sup> Where the relation is created by a court of competent authority, having jurisdiction of the ward, it will be recognized in other jurisdictions.<sup>8</sup>

§ 2. The person of the guardian; his appointment, qualification and tenure.
See 7 C. L. 1900.—In case of necessity,<sup>9</sup> or in the absence of contest,<sup>10</sup> the natural right of a parent to act as guardian for their children will only be set aside in cases of unfitness where the interests of the children require that another should be appointed.<sup>11</sup> Statutes sometimes provide an order of precedence to be observed in the appointment of guardians,<sup>12</sup> though the court may have discretion to depart therefrom.<sup>13</sup> In Louisiana a relative who has failed to file an inventory will be excluded from the tutorship.<sup>14</sup> Other things being equal, it is the duty of courts to see that guardians of the persons of children are of the same religion as the deceased parents.<sup>15</sup> Infants over fourteen years have the right to nominate a guardian.<sup>16</sup> The appointment should clearly designate the ward by name.<sup>17</sup> The clerk may make an appointment in vacation subject to confirmation by the court.<sup>18</sup> An order appointing a guardian is appealable,<sup>19</sup> and the person appointed guardian should be made a party.<sup>20</sup>

Removal.—The death of the ward immediately terminates the guardianship.<sup>21</sup>

6. Insane person known by three names, but was designated by only one of them in the order appointing a committee, but the court had power on proper notice to amend the order by inserting the additional names. Sporza v. German Sav. Bk., 104 NYS 260.

7. In re Burns, 102 NYS 203.

8. Nonresident insane person might be properly confined in hospital at request of his nonresident guardian. In re Crosswell's Petition [R. I.] 66 A 55.

9. The father is by law and nature the guardian of his minor child, and the necessity for the appointment of a guardian does not arise except for cause. Hare v. Sears, 4 Ohio N. P. (N. S.) 566.

10. Parents may surrender control of children if they choose. Wirsig v. Scott [Neb.] 112 NW 655.

11. Infant over 14 petitioned for appointment of maternal aunt, and application in behalf of sisters for appointment of maternal uncle. Court appointed father guardian of infants, though his financial ability was not so great, and trust company guardian of property. In re Guardianship of Tully Infants, 105 NYS 858. The affluence of relatives who owe the children no duty is not controlling as against the care and interest of their mother. Graviess v. Graviess, 7 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 135.

12. Ky. St. 1903, § 2021. (1) Father or testamentary guardian; (2) mother, if unmarried; (3) next of kin giving precedence to males. Wright v. Boswell's Guardian [Ky.] 103 SW 314. Mansf. Dig. § 3465, provides that the father, while living, and after his death the mother, shall be the natural guardians of children. Hudson v. Von Weise [Ind. T.] 104 SW 602. Grandmother after the mother has the right to be appointed tutrix and prevails over the aunt who had adopted the child, though the child remained vested with the right of a legitimate child to a large extent. In re Brown [La.] 44 S 919.

13. Evidence insufficient to justify appellate court in disturbing appointment of trial court, though court had appointed the public guardian despite applications of the relatives. Wright v. Boswell's Guardian [Ky.] 103 SW 314.

14. Does not apply where property consists of jewelry of small value, and the person sought to be excluded did not know of its existence. In re Succession of Burrell, 118 La. 1076, 43 S 882.

15. Appointment revoked where guardian who was Roman Catholic had married an Episcopalian, where ward's parents had been Roman Catholics. In re Crikard, 52 Misc. 63, 102 NYS 440.

16. Subject to the right of the ordinary to refuse if the selection be unwise. Dickerson v. Bowen [Ga.] 57 SE 326.

17. Appointment of committee for a person called "Jetta" was sufficient to authorize a bank to pay to committee money deposited under the name of "Jetter." Sporza v. German Sav. Bk., 104 NYS 260.

18. But clerk's appointment will not be confirmed where made over protest of father who was the natural guardian, and another court had already appointed a guardian. Hudson v. Von Weise [Ind. T.] 104 SW 602.

19. An order of the probate court appointing a stranger guardian of a minor child is a final order affecting substantial rights of its father and is reviewable on error. Hare v. Sears, 4 Ohio N. P. (N. S.) 566. The discretion vested in a trial court with reference to the custody of children will not be inquired into by a reviewing court, except on a charge of abuse of discretion or that a grave mistake has been made. Gravless v. Graviess, 7 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 135.

20. Court had denied cross applications, and had appointed a third party. Wright v. Boswell's Guardian [Ky.] 103 SW 314.

21. A guardian obtained judgment and defeated party after death of ward, served notice of appeal on guardian, which was utterly ineffectual. Hurst v. Hawkins, 39 Ind. App. 467, 79 NE 216, 80 NE 42.

The right to revoke a guardian's appointment belongs to the court making the appointment.<sup>22</sup> The appointment should be revoked where the guardian's interests are in conflict with those of the ward,<sup>23</sup> or where the appointment was made on false representations.<sup>24</sup> The question of removal rests in the sound discretion of the court making the appointment,<sup>25</sup> and will be granted more readily where the original appointment was ex parte.<sup>26</sup> An application to set aside the appointment of a guardian must be made in behalf of the infant and in the manner provided by statute.<sup>27</sup> The right to revoke a voidable appointment may be lost by laches.<sup>28</sup> In Louisiana a mother may not resign the tutorship after she has remarried and her husband has become cotutor.<sup>29</sup> After a removal, and the appointment of a new guardian, the latter is not bound by acts of the former except as approved by court.<sup>30</sup>

§ 3. General powers, duties, and liabilities. See 7 C. L. 1903.—Natural guardianship extends only to custody and nurture.<sup>31</sup> A guardian has no power until he is appointed.<sup>32</sup> He may, with leave of court, compromise suits with reference to land,<sup>33</sup> or, in Louisiana, when authorized thereto by a family meeting.<sup>34</sup> Improvident approval of the settlement of a suit will be set aside.<sup>35</sup> The committee of a lunatic is authorized to bind the lunatic by acts clearly for his benefit.<sup>36</sup> Contracts for legal services are not valid without approval of court.<sup>37</sup> It is a guardian's duty to manage the estate for the best interest of the ward and to pay all just debts.<sup>38</sup> He is liable for his negligence.<sup>39</sup>

§ 4. Custody, support, and education of the ward. See 7 C. L. 1903.—The guardian

22. Ward had moved into another county, and revocation should become effective upon the appointment and qualification of the new guardian in the other county. Dickerson v. Bowen [Ga.] 57 SE 326.

23. Guardian of insane person used land of the estate himself, paying only a small rental, and also rented the land to his son, and put nearly all the income into improvements. In re Edmonson's Estate [Neb.] 110 NW 540.

24. As to jurisdictional facts. In re Burns, 102 NYS 203.

25. But appellate court will interfere where guardian had failed to annually account as required by statute, and where he had mingled his own funds with those of the estate, though he had acted in good faith and in accordance with custom, and will remand the matter to the lower court for it to appoint a successor. McIntire v. Bailey, 133 Iowa, 418, 110 NW 588.

26. Where, on application stating that best interests of an infant ten months old demanded an immediate appointment, the guardianship was granted to an aunt, who appeared narrow minded and quick tempered, and the grandparents, who had custody of child, were competent and of the same religion as the parents, took immediate steps to have the same revoked, it was revoked. In re Crickard, 52 Misc. 63, 102 NYS 440.

27. After a guardian had applied for settlement of accounts, permission to resign and appointment of successor, and a successor had been appointed who was contesting his claim to compensation, he cannot apply in his own behalf to have the appointment of his successor set aside, and so delay paying over the ward's money. In re Twichell, 117 App. Div. 301, 102 NYS 163.

28. Spendthrift never questioned appointment until after guardian's death and more than eight years after appointment. Brown v. Probate Ct. of Warwick [R. I.] 67 A 527.

29. Quaere: Whether mother can resign
9 Curr. L.—98.

tutorship of her children. In re Minors Long, 118 La. 689, 43 S 279.

30. New guardian not estopped to deny that former guardian had never received from himself as administrator his ward's share of the estate, where his guardianship accounts had not been allowed. State v. Whitehouse [Conn.] 67 A 503.

31. Cannot without authority of court bind estate of minor. Pilgrim v. McIntosh [Ind. T.] 104 SW 858.

32. Conveyance by pretended guardian of no effect though he was subsequently appointed guardian. Ayer & Lord Tie Co. v. Witherspoon's Adm'r, 30 Ky. L. R. 1067, 100 SW 259.

33. Court may authorize a conveyance of interest conceded. Skidmore v. Cumberland Valley Land Co. [Ky.] 104 SW 390.

34. The advice of the meeting that the property be sold at private sale to effect a partition is mere surplusage. Holliday v. Hammond State Bk., 118 La. 1000, 43 S 656.

35. Guardian compromised without knowledge of his counsel, and court approved and dismissed suit. Subsequently, on application of attorney showing the same was improvidently made, and without consent of the ward or his mother, dismissal was set aside and case reinstated. Picciano v. Duluth, M. & N. R. Co., 102 Minn. 21, 112 NW 885.

36. Waived rights to sue for trespass by standing by and permitting another to underpin a party wall. Sharpless v. Boldt [Pa.] 67 A 652.

37. Guardian made contract with trustee that latter's law firm should be the attorneys and the same was indorsed by district judge but was never recorded. In re Manning's Estate, 134 Iowa, 165, 111 NW 409.

38. Where he allowed property to be foreclosed without trying to sell the same, he was liable for the loss of the equity. Alcon v. Koons [Ind. App.] 82 NE 92.

39. Question if used due care in continu-is prima facie entitled to the custody of the minor ward, but he is not entitled to maintain habeas corpus to secure the same.<sup>40</sup> The father should be allowed access to a child under guardianship where he is a fit person.<sup>41</sup> The guardian under proper circumstances may pay sums for the ward's support to the ward's mother,<sup>42</sup> or he may divide the expense between different wards living in the same family without reference to their actual consumption.<sup>43</sup> Usually in absence of express order, a guardian can only expend the income on the ward's support and education,<sup>44</sup> but, if justified, he will be credited for necessary payments out of the principal.<sup>45</sup> In such case the personal property should be first applied to the expenses of supporting and educating the ward.<sup>46</sup>

§ 5. The ward's property and administration thereof. See 7 C. L. 1904.—Statutes usually forbid the guardian to loan the ward's money except on the order of the court,<sup>47</sup> and without such order he cannot borrow money of the ward's estate,<sup>48</sup> or to invest its funds in his own business or that of his firm.<sup>49</sup> A guardian must keep his ward's money and property separate from his own,<sup>50</sup> but a guardian may at a judicial sale bid in property in his own name to protect himself as well as the ward.<sup>51</sup> The guardian should apply to court for authority to make loans,<sup>52</sup> but he may bind the ward by acts clearly for his benefit.<sup>53</sup> Thus, the estate will be liable for money borrowed where the same was used for the benefit of the ward.<sup>54</sup> The guardian may make valid leases of property not to extend beyond majority of ward.<sup>55</sup> A grant of an easement will be construed to run as long as a valid lease could be made.<sup>56</sup> It is the duty of a guardian to protect his ward's equity of redemption,<sup>57</sup> and he may sue on a mortgage of his ward's.<sup>58</sup> A guardian must pay any debt he owes to the ward ing to hold securities. Scoville v. Brock, 79 Vt. 449, 65 A 577.

40. Guardian was appointed ex parte, and child was cared for not against its will by its aunt, who was a suitable person, and guardian should have tested his rights by proper civil action. In re Parker, 144 N. C. 170, 56 SE 878.

41. In re Ross [Cal. App.] 92 P 671.

42. Though mother ordinarily owes the duty of nurturing and caring for her children. In re Boyes' Estate [Cal.] 90 P 454.

43. But he cannot charge a ward's account for his share for a year when he was not at home. In re Boyes' Estate [Cal.] 90 P 454.

44. But guardian allowed credit for same where waived by ward on coming of age. Hudson v. Newton [Ark.] 103 SW 170. Suit against surety where it appeared that the guardian had, without the approval of the ordinary, applied the corpus of the estate to the support and education of the wards. United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co. v. Davis [Ga. App.] 58 SE 777.

45. Gave a fixed sum at stated periods and was allowed to charge the same in his accounts. In re Boyes' estate [Cal.] 90 P 454.

46. Presumption that guardian did so in a controversy between the heirs of the ward. McDonald v. Weisiger, 30 Ky. L. R. 1224, 100 SW 832.

47. Code, § 3200, provides management of the estate to be under the orders of the court. McIntire v. Bailey, 133 Iowa, 418, 110 NW 588. Otherwise he is liable if any loss occurs. In re O'Brien's Estate [Neb.] 113 NW 1001.

48. Query if mortgage and note which he gave constituted a valid contract. Cummings v. Strobbridge Land Syndicate, 150 Cal. 203, 88 P 901. But estate is liable for money borrowed without authority to the extent it was benefited. In re Manning's Estate, 134 Iowa, 165, 111 NW 409.

49. Liable for conversion if he does. United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co. v. State [Ind. App.] 81 NE 226.

50. Must keep separate accounts and must not make investments in his own name. McIntire v. Bailey, 133 Iowa, 418, 110 NW 588.

51. Land sold under a deed of trust taken by guardian to secure debt of guardian as well as debt of ward. Bunel v. Nester, 203 Mo. 429, 101 SW 69.

52. Fact judge knew of same, or that annual report was approved without notice, is not equivalent to an order authorizing the loans. In re O'Brien's Estate [Neb.] 113 NW 1001.

53. Committee of a lunatic waived trespass committed by another in underpinning a party wall. Sharpless v. Boldt [Pa.] 67 A 652.

54. Though guardian had no authority from the court, and though he should have had sufficient funds on hand to meet all obligations. In re Manning's Estate, 134 Iowa, 165, 111 NW 409.

55. Ky. St. 1903, § 2031, provides they must not exceed seven years. Cumberland Pipe Line Co. v. Howard, 30 Ky. L. R. 1179, 100 SW 270.

56. Right to lay a pipe line across a ward's land. Cumberland Pipe Line Co. v. Howard, 30 Ky. L. R. 1179, 100 SW 270.

57. Real estate mortgaged for less than value, and guardian did not apply for permission to sell same and pay debts, but allowed it to be foreclosed and lost the equity. Alcon v. Koons [Ind. App.] 82 NE 92.

58. Fact that it appears minors are of age and should be made parties cannot be raised and invest the same. Investment in his partnership business is a conversion of the fund,<sup>59</sup> but where a note and mortgage of the guardian is part of the ward's estate, the guardian may satisfy the same of record.<sup>60</sup>

§ 6. Presentment and allowance of claims. See 7 C. L. 1908

§ 7. Judicial proceedings to sell property of ward. See 7 C. L. 1909—A guardian has no power without the authority of court to make executory contract for the sale of land.<sup>61</sup> Authority will be given where it is necessary to secure the guardian's compensation<sup>62</sup> or to pay debts,<sup>63</sup> in which case it is the duty of the guardian to institute proceedings.<sup>64</sup> A court's finding that the best interests of the child did not require a sale will be sustained if possible.<sup>65</sup> The petition for sale must set forth the facts in detail<sup>66</sup> and it cannot be amended after the sale.<sup>67</sup> The statutory requirements as to proof must be followed.<sup>68</sup> The sale must be made under the express order of the court, and must be confirmed by it.<sup>69</sup> In case of a private sale the court has full discretion to confirm or ignore it.<sup>70</sup> The deed is prima facie evidence that the sale was regular,<sup>71</sup> but the failure to give a bond renders the sale void.<sup>72</sup> A court has power to set aside the sale,<sup>73</sup> as where the sale was to a guardian<sup>74</sup> or to a relative of his.<sup>75</sup> Where the tutor receives the price the purchaser is protected.<sup>76</sup> So guardian's failure to give the required published notice is not a jurisdictional defect that will render the sale liable to collateral attack.<sup>77</sup> The fraud of a guardian may be shown in defense to an action founded on a guardian's deed.<sup>78</sup> on a motion for a continuance. Young v. Malone [Pa.] 67 A 355.

59. Partner, as guardian, used funds in his business. He sold out to his copartner who assumed the debt. Thereafter the copartner was appointed guardian, but never actually separated the money, and held he converted the same. United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co. v. State [Ind. App.] 81 NE 226.

60. One purchasing the land on the faith of the satisfaction will not be obliged to reimburse the ward where the satisfaction was wrongfully given. Cummings v. Strobridge Land Syndicate, 150 Cal. 209, 88 P 901.

61. Sale can only be made under order, and subject to approval of probate court. Gault Lumber Co. v. Pyles [Okla.] 92 P 175. Ward's interest in growing timber is an interest in land. Ayer & Lord Tie Co. v. Witherspoon's Adm'r, 30 Ky. L. R. 1067, 100 SW 259.

62. Guardian allowed $300 for services as guardian and $300 for services as administrator after death of ward. Johnson v. Porterfield [Ala.] 43 S 228.

63. Sale of timber authorized to save infant's share in testator's estate, but decrees extending time and altering the original sale were void where based upon no pleadings. Lilly v. Claypool, 59 W. Va. 130, 53 SE 22.

64. For failure to sell property and to protect the equity of redemption therein, the guardian was liable. Alcon v. Koons [Ind. App.] 82 NE 92.

65. Land inherited by imbecile infant worth $1,000 was now worth $2,000, and evidence to show the rent was sufficient to provide for the support of the child. Landrum v. Clark [Ky.] 102 SW 271.

66. As to mortgage debts of insane ward. Alcon v. Koons [Ind. App.] 82 NE 92.

67. Wanted to amend by alleging that the land was indivisible. Phillips v. Spalding's Guardian [Ky.] 102 SW 1193.

68. Requirement that proof must be taken by interrogatory unnecessary where no motion and two of the defendants were adults, but a deposition was sufficient. Phillips v. Spalding's Guardian [Ky.] 102 SW 1193.

69. Guardian's deed alone insufficient to support ejectment. Phelps v. Nazworthy, 226 Ill. 254, 80 NE 756. Fact that the deed falsely recited order and confirmation was immaterial. Rippy v. Harlow [Tex. Civ. App.] 101 SW 851. Unless entered in some book recognized as a record, as in the probate judge's minutes or his docket, it is a nullity. Teague v. Swasey [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 290, 102 SW 458.

70. But where directed public bidding for a base, the court must confirm the highest bid. In re Berryhill's Estate [Ind. T.] 104 SW 847.

71. But not presumptive evidence of all the prerequisites of a valid sale. Teague v. Swasey [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 290, 102 SW 458.

72. Civ. Code Prac. §§ 489, 493, requires bond on sale of infant's land for reinvestment. Phillips v. Spalding's Guardian [Ky.] 102 SW 1193.

73. Guardian made sale to his wife which was approved by the court which was set aside on motion of the ward. In re Propst, 144 N. C. 562, 57 SE 342.

74. Without proof of fraud or inadequacy of consideration where sale of oil lands was made by guardian to secure for himself and others the title to the land sold. In re Tanner's Estate [Pa.] 67 A 646.

75. Wife. In re Propst, 144 N. C. 562, 57 SE 342.

76. Sale on partition suit approved by family meeting. Carrollton Land & Improvement Co. v. Eureka Homestead Soc. [La.] 44 S 434.

77. But where statute required three weeks' published notice, held it was sufficient where publications on April 24, May 1, and 8, for hearing on May 9th. Mortgage Trust Co. v. Redd, 38 Colo. 458, 88 P 473.

78. Claimed guardian's deed was to a fic-

A ward may disaffirm a sale at any time before reaching majority or within a reasonable time thereafter.<sup>79</sup> A deed from a ward after he becomes of age will prevail over a guardian's deed subsequently recorded.<sup>80</sup>

§ 8. Actions and legal proceedings by and against guardians. See 7 C. L. 1911.—In some states he cannot institute suits,<sup>81</sup> but generally he has prima facie right to sue<sup>82</sup> in behalf of ward,<sup>83</sup> as for injuries to ward<sup>84</sup> or to secure a partition.<sup>85</sup> The actions must be brought in name of ward by guardian.<sup>86</sup> A guardian may defend suits without authorization.<sup>87</sup> The guardian may sue on a mortgage made to him as guardian of minor children.<sup>88</sup> The statute of limitations does not run against a ward's right of action against his guardian until the discovery of the fraud.<sup>89</sup>

§ 9. Accounting and settlement. See 7 C. L. 1912.—It is the duty of a guardian to fully account to the court that appointed him,<sup>90</sup> as it is for the information of the court and the protection of the ward, and statutes frequently impose a penalty for failing regularly to render accounts.<sup>91</sup> A guardian must settle his final account with ward, if of age, or with his legal representatives if the ward is incompetent or dead,<sup>92</sup> or, in case of removal, with his successor,<sup>93</sup> and until such settlement he is not fully discharged.<sup>94</sup> Any person interested may file written exceptions to the account which may include statements of affirmative matters which may require additional charges,<sup>95</sup> but it is the duty of the court, regardless of exceptions, carefully to scrutinize all items.<sup>96</sup> Where exceptions are taken to a guardian's report, the burden is on him to establish the facts,<sup>97</sup> as that he had made a settlement with the ward after he became of age.<sup>98</sup> If there was undue influence such release and discharge of titious person. Phelps v. Nazworthy, 226 Ill. 254, 80 NE 756.

79. Ward at age of nineteen petitioned to disaffirm sale of her oil lands to one who purchased in behalf of guardian. In re Tanner's Estate [Pa.] 67 A 646.

80. Grantee of ward not shown to have actual or constructive notice of guardian's deed. Phelps v. Nazworthy, 226 Ill. 254, 80 NE 756.

81. A guardian ad litem should be appointed to bring suit to contest a will. Campbell v. Fichter, 168 Ind. 645, 81 NE 661.

82. Petition need not allege when the guardian was appointed or from what court he received his appointment. Western & A. R. Co. v. Harris [Ga.] 57 SE 722.

83. Suit on a beneficiary certificate in favor of nearest relatives of the member. Social Benev. Soc. No. 1 v. Holmes, 127 Ga. 586, 56 SE 775.

84. Should be brought in name of ward by his guardian, and complaint should allege his appointment by the proper court. Patterson v. Melchior, 102 Minn. 363, 133 NW 902.

85. Infant entitled to share of trust property and by guardian could elect to join in action and to treat the property as real estate. Twain v. Davis, 49 Misc. 162, 98 NYS 816.

86. Williams v. Smith [R. I.] 66 A 63.

87. No authorization from judge or advice of family meeting needed by tutor to answer in a partition suit. Carrollton Land & Improvement Co. v. Eureka Homestead Soc. [La.] 44 S 434.

88. The fact that they are now adults cannot be shown on motion for a continuance. Young v. Malone [Pa.] 67 A 355.

89. Where ward had perfect confidence in the integrity of guardian, statute did not run until something occurred to raise a doubt in his mind although this did not occur until eight years after the fraud was committed. Scoville v. Brock, 79 Vt. 449, 65 A 577.

90. Bondsman held where guardian went to another state and never accounted in the original state. Gillum v. Parker's Guardian, 30 Ky. L. R. 1191, 100 SW 820.

91. Burns' Ann. St. 1901, § 2685, subd. 3, provides that if guardian fails to file his account every two years that he is liable to a penalty of 10 per cent of the estate and loses his compensation. Alcon v. Koons [Ind. App.] 82 NE 92.

92. Where statute required ten days' notice and ward deceased, the court had no jurisdiction where less than ten days had elapsed between appointment of administrator and date of hearing. Livermore v. Ratti, 150 Cal. 458, 89 P 327.

93. Subject to approval of court. McIntire v. Bailey, 133 Iowa, 418, 110 NW 588.

94. Letters of guardianship revoked for lack of jurisdiction, but accounting directed. In re Burns, 102 NYS 203. A successor had been appointed, but was nevertheless liable to a suit for waste brought by the ward on coming of age, as his accounts had not been approved. Hix v. Duncan [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Ct. Rep. 702, 99 SW 422.

95. One is limited to the exceptions which he files, and evidence will be limited to such matters. In re Boyes' Estate [Cal.] 90 P 454.

96. To inquire into truthfulness and accuracy and to reject all items which appear illegal or excessive. In re Boyes' Estate [Cal.] 90 P 454.

97. Considered a plaintiff, and proper on request to specially find the facts and to state the conclusions of law thereon. Alcon v. Koons [Ind. App.] 82 NE 92.

98. Guardian not estopped to prove the a guardian will be set aside.<sup>99</sup> A guardian will be credited for expenditures made in behalf of ward<sup>1</sup> unless barred by the statute of limitations,<sup>2</sup> and he may be credited with payments made to ward after he became of age.<sup>3</sup> On a settlement one may contest the validity of a contract for attorney's fees,<sup>4</sup> and if they were rendered in another court the surrogate has no jurisdiction to allow them.<sup>5</sup> A guardian will be charged with interest where he delayed settlement after the ward became of age.<sup>6</sup> Where there is a special equity<sup>7</sup> or where both guardian and ward are deceased, a suit for an accounting is in the jurisdiction of equity, and not of the orphan's court.<sup>8</sup> After a long lapse of time it will be presumed that guardian has paid over balance due on a final account.<sup>9</sup> Notwithstanding the allowance of a final account, the ward may have relief in equity for subsequently discovered fraud or negligence of the guardian.<sup>10</sup>

§ 10. Rights and liabilities between guardian and ward.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1913.</sup>—A conveyance from guardian to ward on the latter's coming of age will not be presumed to be a settlement of all matters between them.<sup>11</sup> If the guardian is parent of the ward, a release made just after the ward became of age, which is prejudicial to the ward, is constructively fraudulent.<sup>12</sup> Where the parties to the relation die, their representatives must account in equity.<sup>13</sup> A ward on becoming of age may sue a guardian for waste committed,<sup>14</sup> or for loss occasioned by his negligence.<sup>15</sup> The statute of limitations does not begin to run until the appointment of an administrator of the deceased ward.<sup>16</sup>

§ 11. Compensation of guardian.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1914.</sup>—A guardian's compensation

same, though afterwards in a petition in bankruptcy he had alleged he was indebted to the ward, where he explained that he had neglected to take a written receipt, and the ward refused to execute one and denied the settlement. Robb's Estate v. Robb, 134 Iowa, 195, 111 NW 803.

99. Guardian was parent of ward, and after he had defaulted induced ward to release him just after she became of age. Baum v. Hartmann, 226 Ill. 160, 80 NE 711.

1. Committee of a lunatic advanced moneys for his support and maintenance after his personal property was exhausted. In re Roberts, 52 Misc. 630, 103 NYS 1017.

2. Committee of a lunatic not allowed for expenditures made more than six years before. In re Roberts, 52 Misc. 630, 103 NYS 1017.

3. Nothing unfair, but not entitled to any personal claim against the ward, but only against the estate remaining in his hands. In re Boyes' Estate [Cal.] 90 P 454.

4. Contract was invalid because approval of court was not of record. In re Manning's Estate, 134 Iowa, 165, 111 NW 409.

5. Guardian was attorney for guardian ad litem, in suit in Federal court for injuries to ward, and put in a claim for 50 per cent of the recovery, and no service of citation was made on infant. In re Tyndall, 117 App. Div. 294, 102 NYS 211.

6. No valid objection where he had charged himself with 8 per cent interest. In re Boyes' Estate [Cal.] 90 P 454.

7. Necessary expenditures for wards were made by guardian out of his own funds without prior order authorizing expenditure out of principal of the ward's estate, and only the chancery court could reimburse him. Spidle v. Blakeney [Ala.] 44 S 62. Petitioner was guardian of a lunatic and then administrator of her estate after her death, and both proceedings were removed in order that they might be settled together. Johnson v. Porterfield [Ala.] 43 S 228.

8. Because not a suit between the parties but one between their representatives. Stevenson v. Markley [N. J. Eq.] 66 A 185.

9. Final account of guardian of a deceased lunatic had been allowed twenty years before. Mathews v. Kelly [N. J. Err. & App.] 67 A 1075.

10. Though unable to vacate probate decree, ward may sue to set aside final settlement based on fraud of guardian in concealing loss of securities through his negligent mismanagement. Scoville v. Brock, 79 Vt. 449, 65 A 577.

11. Guardian had lost moneys through improper investments. Rouse v. Whitney, 53 Misc. 56, 102 NYS 899.

12. Parent had defaulted, and though daughter, after being informed of effect of release in probate court, gave same, it was set aside in equity as not sufficient showing that her will was uninfluenced. Baum v. Hartmann, 226 Ill. 160, 80 NE 711.

13. Suit not barred until the appointment of representatives. Stevenson v. Markley [N. J. Eq.] 66 A 185.

14. Sued a former guardian who had failed to renew his bond, but had never formally been discharged, though a successor had been appointed. Hix v. Duncan [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 702, 99 SW 422.

15. In suit to set aside decree allowing guardian's final account, based on negligence, the burden is on the guardian to show he exercised the necessary diligence. Scoville v. Brock, 79 Vt. 449, 65 A 577.

16. Cause of action accrued on ward's death in 1885 and administrator not appointed until 1906. Stevenson v. Markley [N. J. Eq.] 66 A 185.

should come out of the interest rather than out of the principal of the ward's estate,<sup>17</sup> but real estate may be sold if necessary for this purpose.<sup>18</sup> An ex parte order approving of a contract between guardian and guardian ad litem as to compensation is not binding on the infant.<sup>19</sup> For breach of his duties the guardian forfeits his right to compensation.<sup>20</sup> A guardian may remain a party to a suit after the ward becomes of age in order to have his compensation allowed.<sup>21</sup> A successor may contest the claim of his predecessor for compensation.<sup>22</sup>

§ 12. Guardianship bonds. See 7 C. L. 1914.—A bond is valid if it substantially complies with the statute.<sup>23</sup> It is frequently required that the bond be in double the amount of the value of the property.<sup>24</sup> The return of the guardian is prima facie evidence against both him and his sureties,<sup>25</sup> as is also the return of an execution issued on surrogate's decree against the guardian,<sup>26</sup> but to fix the liability of sureties there must be a decree rendered upon a judicial settlement of the account,<sup>27</sup> though it is not essential that the amount of defalcation be fixed.<sup>28</sup> Demand is unnecessary on the surety.<sup>29</sup> The giving of additional security by a guardian pursuant to order of court does not release the sureties on his original bond.<sup>30</sup> and such release can only be obtained by petition of the sureties to the probate court.<sup>31</sup> Contracts between the retiring guardian and his successor as to the assets do not discharge the sureties on the former's bond.<sup>32</sup> Nor will an invalid order of the probate court approving such a contract.<sup>33</sup> Sureties on successive bonds may be joined in the same suit,<sup>34</sup> but a surety may be sued without joining the guardian and the other surety,<sup>35</sup> and the plaintiff may dismiss as to the guardian and one surety and recover against the other alone.<sup>36</sup> A guardian's fraud or misrepresentations<sup>37</sup> or his removal from the state and appointment in another state does not release his bondsmen.<sup>38</sup> A wrongful discharge of the guardian will not release his sureties unless they have changed

17. Commissions to guardian for the care of real estate. McDonald v. Weisiger, 30 Ky. L. R. 1224, 100 SW 832.

18. Three hundred dollars allowed. Johnson v. Porterfield [Ala.] 43 S 228.

19. Guardian was to have 50 per cent of recovery in acting as attorney for the guardian ad litem. In re Tyndall, 117 App. Div. 294, 102 NYS 211.

20. Failed to render account every two years as required by statute. Alcon v. Koons [Ind. App.] 82 NE 92.

21. Where executors promised guardian compensation before his services were rendered, it was proper to pay them out of the fund provided for the ward's support and education. Elizabeth Speers Memorial Hospital Trustees v. Makibben's Guardian [Ky.] 102 SW 820.

22. Application of guardian to set aside appointment of his successor, who was contesting his claim to compensation, refused. In re Twitchell, 117 App. Div. 301, 102 NYS 163.

23. The statute required bond to be given "for the faithful discharge of his duty as guardian," the condition of the bond set these duties out in detail, and it was valid. United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co. v. Davis [Ga. App.] 58 SE 777.

24. Both real and personal. Moore v. Hanscom [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 707, 103 SW 665.

25. Wards never received funds which deceased guardian admitted were in his hands. United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co. v. Davis [Ga. App.] 58 SE 777.

26. Sufficient proof that the ward has exhausted his remedies against the guardian. Rouse v. Whitney, 53 Misc. 56, 102 NYS 899.

27. After ward became of age, guardian's account was opened and vacated and she was decreed to pay plaintiff $2,000; but such decree was insufficient as it contained no summary statement, nor was it final, nor the result of a proceeding for an accounting. Rouse v. Payne, 105 NYS 549.

28. Liable for defaults occurring between execution of bond and discharge of surety. Moore v. Hanscom [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 707, 103 SW 665.

29. Guardian dead, his estate unrepresented, and liability proved by breach of bond by principal. U. S. Fidelity & Guaranty Co. v. Davis [Ga. App.] 58 SE 777.

30. Act March 13, 1874, does not apply to guardian's bonds. Kaspar v. People, 230 Ill. 342, 82 NE 816.

31. Hurd's Rev. St. 1905, c. 103. Kaspar v. People, 230 Ill. 342, 82 NE 816.

32, 33. Kaspar v. People, 230 Ill. 342, 82 NE 816.

34. Proper to sue all, together with guardian's executrix. Moore v. Hanscom [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 707, 103 SW 665.

35, 36. Kaspar v. People, 230 Ill. 342, 82 NE 816.

37. Guardian lost moneys by improper investments made by her as administratrix before her appointment as guardian. Rouse v. Whitney, 53 Misc. 56, 102 NYS 899.

38. He failed to account for money that he received to either court. Gillman v. Parker's Guardian, 30 Ky. L. R. 1191, 100 SW 820.

their positions on the faith of it,<sup>39</sup> so, where an invalid reduction of the bond was made, the discharge of the sureties was invalid.<sup>40</sup> On appeal the complaint in an action on a guardian's bond will be construed, if possible, to sustain it.<sup>41</sup> Where equity had jurisdiction to set aside the discharge of a guardian, it will retain it to do justice between the ward and the guardian's sureties.<sup>42</sup>

HABEAS CORPUS (AND REPLEGIANDO).

§ 1. Nature of the Remedy and Occasion and Propriety of it (1559).

§ 2. Jurisdiction (1561).

§ 3. Petition (1561).

§ 4. Hearing on Petition and Issuance of Writ (1562).

§ 5. The Writ; Service Thereof; Effect of Writ (1562).

§ 6. Certiorari in Aid of Habeas Corpus (1562).

§ 7. Return and Hearing and Determination Thereon; Judgment (1562).

§ 8. Review (1563).

The scope of this topic is noted below.<sup>43</sup>

§ 1. Nature of the remedy and occasion and propriety of it. See 7 C. L. 1916—

The scope of the common-law writ and its statutory substitutes<sup>44</sup> has been greatly extended, and, while it is now commonly used to determine the custody of children,<sup>45</sup> the validity of extradition proceedings,<sup>46</sup> and for other purposes to which it was originally inapplicable,<sup>47</sup> when invoked to relieve from restraint<sup>48</sup> under legal process, 39. Defaulting guardian induced ward, his daughter, to release him just after she became of age. Baum v. Hartmann, 226 Ill. 160, 80 NE 711.

40. But the sureties on the reduced bond were liable as it was a good common-law obligation. Moore v. Hanscom [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 707, 103 SW 665.

41. Complaint alleged appointment of guardian, execution of bond, that he received specified sum and mingled it with his own and converted to his own use, and was removed, and was sufficient though it alleged no demand on guardian or sureties or that it was unpaid. United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co. v. State [Ind. App.] 81 NE 226.

42. Sureties were already parties to the suit. Baum v. Hartmann, 226 Ill. 160, 80 NE 711.

43. The right to the remedy and the extent to review allowed thereon is retained, but questions of substantive law determined on habeas corpus are treated in the topics to which they relate. See such topics as Arrest and Binding Over, 9 C. L. 249; Bail, Criminal, 9 C. L. 320; Infants, 8 C. L. 267; Indictment and Prosecution, 8 C. L. 189; Military and Naval Law, 8 C. L. 981, and the like.

44. Proceeding authorized by P. L. p. 263, § 8, to determine custody of children, is not common-law habeas corpus proceeding, and court may modify order notwithstanding removal of mother and children from state. Dixon v. Dixon [N. J. Eq.] 66 A 597.

45. Must be illegal restraint. In re Parker, 144 N. C. 170, 56 SE 878. Contra. Tyler v. Tyler [Wyo.] 89 P 1. Remedy given in act of 1894 (Acts 1894, p. 80), now contained in Civ. Code 1895, § 2372 et seq., to parent to apply to authorities of institution to which child has been committed under act, is not exclusive. Kennedy v. Meara, 127 Ga. 68, 56 SE 243. Habeas corpus procedure provided by Gen. St. 1621 does not authorize court to settle permanent custody of children. Morris v. Wardell [N. J. Law.] 67 A 850.

46. May go back of requisition and examine sufficiency of indictment. In re Waterman [Nev.] 89 P 291. May show that he is not fugitive or that process is void, but cannot go into merits of offense (Compton v. State [Ala.] 44 685; Blackwell v. Jennings [Ga.] 57 SE 484), or motive and purpose of extradition (Depoilly v. Palmer, 28 App. D. C. 324), and hence evidence of alibi is inadmissible (Ex parte Edwards [Miss.] 44 S 827; Burns v. Tarbox, 76 Ohio St. 520, 81 NE 761).

Contra, as to alibi: Where there is no showing as to when crime was committed or that there was error in date stated in affidavit on which demand was founded, relator need only prove alibi on date named. State v. Schlachter [S. D.] 111 NW 566. Where evidence on alibi is conflicting, writ will be denied. Id. Where requisition papers do not specify hour of day when crime was committed, affidavits showing alibi during afternoon are insufficient where petitioner could have been present during forenoon, although petition alleges that petitioner heard person on whom crime was committed testify that it was committed at 2 o'clock P. M. People of Illinois v. Pease, 28 S. Ct. 58.

Court may determine whether court, sitting as commissioner, had any, as distinct from sufficient, competent evidence to warrant holding petitioner for extradition. Ex parte Ramirez [Ariz.] 90 P 323.

47. Where petitioner was discharged under Crim. Code, § 18, div. 13 (Hurd's Rev. St. 1905, p. 746), providing that one committed for criminal offense and not tried at term commencing within four months from commitment shall be set at liberty, habeas corpus will lie to secure discharge from custody under second indictment. People v. Heider, 225 Ill. 347, 80 NE 291.

48. Mere nominal and voluntary restraint is insufficient. Ex parte Schmitz, 150 Cal. 663, 89 P 438. V. S. 1610, providing that one confined for contempt shall be entitled to writ of habeas corpus, is inapplicable where fine is imposed. In re Consolidated Rendering Co. [Vt.] 66 A 790.

such process must be void.<sup>49</sup> It cannot be used to try the merits<sup>50</sup> or to review the same,<sup>51</sup> or to relieve from irregularities of procedure,<sup>52</sup> but only in case of lack of jurisdiction<sup>53</sup> to render the particular judgment entered,<sup>54</sup> and will ordinarily issue only in the absence of other remedy.<sup>55</sup> While it cannot be invoked to try the sufficiency of an indictment,<sup>56</sup> it has been allowed where the indictment wholly failed to state an offense,<sup>57</sup> or was founded upon an unconstitutional act.<sup>58</sup> Unfitness of

49. Held entitled to release: One held as suspicious character without any complaint charging him with any specific offense. Hill v. Smith [Va.] 59 SE 475.

Not entitled thereto: Warrant charging that accused failed to pay tax on sale of corporate stock, as required by Laws 1905, p. 474, c. 241, as amended, held not defective in substance so as to authorize release on habeas corpus. People v. Mensching [N. Y.] 79 NE 884. May go back of warrant and consider sufficiency of depositions upon which it issued. People v. Moss, 187 N. Y. 410, 80 NE 383. In habeas corpus to review commitment on preliminary examination, court will only examine evidence to ascertain whether commitment is with or without reasonable cause, its sufficiency to convict beyond reasonable doubt being for jury (Ex parte Vandiveer [Cal. App.] 88 P 993, and discharge should be allowed only where testimony of material witnesses is clearly shown to be false, court not being allowed to pass on conflict (Id.).

50. Whether acts constituted assault. Ex parte Brumbaugh [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 878, 105 SW 180. Constitutionality of act which goes only to merits cannot be inquired into, Id.

51. Cannot be invoked to review or modify decree awarding custody of children. Hardin v. Hardin, 168 Ind. 352, 81 NE 60; Hamerick v. People, 126 Ill. App. 491. Where petitioner is arrested on mesne process in action on judgment, matters affecting validity of claim are not grounds for release. Ex parte Morton [Mass.] 81 NE 869.

52. People v. Heider, 225 Ill. 347, 80 NE 291. As that case was tried in wrong building. People v. Warden of City Prison, 117 App. Div. 154, 102 NYS 374.

53. Servonitz v. State [Wis.] 113 NW 277. By common law, if court in given case has authority under any circumstances to render judgment imprisoning accused, writ will not lie, but if court has no such authority, error is jurisdictional and writ will issue. Id. Where commitment for contempt is issued by court of common-law jurisdiction having seal, jurisdiction is not assailable if it has jurisdiction of person, since it has inherent jurisdiction of subject-matter. In re Clark [Mo. App.] 103 SW 1105.

Held not jurisdictional: That petitioner was kidnapped in foreign state and forcibly brought back. Ex parte Davis [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 254, 103 SW 891. That defendant in perjury prosecution is charged with matters forming basis of another charge. Ex parte Collins [Cal.] 90 P 827. Right to discharge for failure to retry after mistrial within four terms. People v. Strassheim, 228 Ill. 581, 81 NE 1129.

Jurisdictional: Absence of accused at rendition of judgment committing for contempt. Ex parte Mylius, 61 W. Va. 405, 56 SE 602.

54. Sentence in excess of that allowed by statute. State v. District Ct. of Third Judicial Dist., 35 Mont. 321, 89 P 63; Ex parte Narvaez [Cal. App.] 89 P 857. Gen. St. 1901, § 5167, does not prevent relief from sentence of imprisonment contrary to statute. In re Spaulding [Kan.] 88 P 547. Single gross sentence for conviction on distinct counts, having served time for which such sentence is valid. United States v. Peeke [C. C. A.] 153 F 166.

55. Failed to invoke mandamus to enforce right of appeal from justice court to county court. Ex parte De Loche [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 39, 100 SW 923. Failed to apply to court of conviction for bail. Ex parte Doyle [W. Va.] 57 SE 824. Remedy of one committed for misdemeanor, and denied right to secure payment of fine and costs imposed, is in error and not by habeas corpus (In re J. B. Stanfeal, 9 Ohio C. C. [N. S.] 553), and it is error to direct mayor to amend his mittimus by providing that a fine and costs may be secured to be paid (Id.). While office of writ is to challenge jurisdiction, it is no objection to issuance thereof that petitioner has remedy by appeal. State v. District Ct. of the Third Judicial Dist., 35 Mont. 321, 89 P 63. Refusal of county commissioners to discharge one committed for nonpayment of costs upon proof of his inability to pay is no ground for release on habeas corpus. Ex parte Ellis [Kan.] 91 P 81. Right to discharge for failure to retry within four terms from mistrial cannot be raised on habeas corpus, but only by assignment of error to overruling of motion based thereon in trial court. People v. Strassheim, 228 Ill. 581, 81 NE 1129. Invalidity of information based on order of commitment alleged to have been made without jurisdiction cannot be inquired into, since question is not jurisdictional and may be reached by motion to set aside. Ex parte Fowler [Cal. App.] 90 P 958.

56. Ex parte Ruef, 150 Cal. 665, 89 P 605; Ex parte Williford [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 40, 100 SW 919.

57. Ex parte Goldman [Cal. App.] 88 P 819. Complaint charging conjunctively, in language of ordinance prohibiting keeping of saloons, etc., that defendant unlawfully and willfully did all things prohibited by ordinance, held sufficient on habeas corpus. Ex parte Mogensen [Cal. App.] 90 P 1063.

58. Servonitz v. State [Wis.] 113 NW 277. Court is not competent within St. 1898, §§ 3408, 3427, providing that writ should not issue to one detained under final order or judgment of any competent court. Id. Rule that writ does not reach beyond commitment when person is detained by virtue of final order or judgment of court having jurisdiction does not prevent release where conviction is founded on unconstitutional law, since court lacked jurisdiction. Id. Adoption of unreasonable rules for examination and certification of architects by state board, under authority of St. 1901, p. 641, c. 212, does not justify an attack place of imprisonment is no ground for its issuance.<sup>59</sup> There is a conflict as to whether jurisdictional facts may be inquired into.<sup>60</sup> Judgment may be collaterally attacked by habeas corpus by one not a party thereto.<sup>61</sup> Questions once decided cannot be made the basis of a new writ in the absence of something occurring to change petitioner's status.<sup>62</sup>

§ 2. Jurisdiction. See 7 C. L. 1917.—The jurisdiction of the court commissioner,<sup>63</sup> the appellate courts,<sup>64</sup> and the inferior courts<sup>65</sup> of the various states to issue the writ, is largely statutory. Where the constitution confers concurrent jurisdiction on a court it cannot by rule require application to be first made to the other court.<sup>66</sup> Where the custody of a child is sought to be determined, the court must obtain jurisdiction of the child,<sup>67</sup> but once obtained is retained until the matter is disposed of.<sup>68</sup> While the district court of Montana cannot issue a writ running into another district,<sup>69</sup> the district court of Nebraska, in the exercise of its legal discretion,<sup>70</sup> may do so,<sup>71</sup> as may a judge in Mississippi, but he cannot make it returnable before himself.<sup>72</sup>

Federal courts. See 7 C. L. 1917.—The Federal courts may issue the writ to discharge one illegally held by state authorities in violation of the Federal constitution or a United States treaty,<sup>73</sup> and where appeal or error will not lie,<sup>74</sup> or to release one held for an act done in pursuance of an order of a Federal court,<sup>75</sup> or in the performance of duty as a United States soldier.<sup>76</sup>

§ 3. Petition. See 7 C. L. 1918.—While petitions for habeas corpus are liberally on validity of act in habeas corpus for discharge from arrest for practicing without certificate. Ex parte McManus [Cal.] 90 P 702.

59. Ex parte Ellis [Kan.] 91 P 81.

60. Where court determines that accused is over 16 years of age and hence subject to sentence to State Industrial Reformatory, such fact cannot be questioned, although jurisdictional. Ex parte Wallace [Kan.] 89 P 687.

61. Adoption proceedings. Beatty v. Davenport [Wash.] 88 P 1109.

62. Ex parte Moebus [N. H.] 66 A 641.

63. Circuit court commissioner may issue. In re Potter [Wis.] 112 NW 1087.

64. Supreme court has neither original nor appellate jurisdiction. Petition of Channels, 30 Ky. L. R. 1248, 100 SW 214. Under Pen. Code, § 1475, as amended by St. 1907, c. 286, p. 560, where district court of appeals, as distinct from single justice thereof has remanded prisoner on habeas corpus, single justice of supreme court cannot overrule such decision on return of new writ before himself, but it must be returnable before court in banc. Ex parte Mogenson [Cal.] 91 P 334.

65. Under Code 1896, § 4817, petition of one confined in penitentiary in Elmore county held properly addressed to chancellor of northeastern chancery division. State v. Fuller, 147 Ala. 164, 41 S 990. Where writ is granted by chancellor of northeastern chancery division more than 10 days before time for holding court in county of confinement, held under Code 1896, § 4819, chancellor properly made it returnable in another county. Id.

66. Rule of practice 13 of supreme court (45 S. E. xi). Ex parte Doyle [W. Va.] 57 SE 824.

67. Where child is in lawful custody of father domiciled in Louisiana, temporary presence of child in Texas does not give court thereof jurisdiction to determine right to custody. Lanning v. Gregory [Tex.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 587, 99 SW 542. Lanning v. Gregory [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 210, 101 SW 484. Where father domiciled in New Mexico consented to removal of child to Texas to be kept there in custody of relatives, courts of Texas had jurisdiction to determine right to custody. Campbel v. Stover [Tex.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 720, 104 SW 1047.

68. Terry v. State [Neb.] 110 NW 733.

69. Const. art. 8, § 11. Though judge thereof is absent from state. State v. District Ct. of Second Judicial Dist., 35 Mont. 51, 88 P 564.

70. Properly issued where respondent removed child from county contrary to agreement. State v. Porter [Neb.] 112 NW 286.

71. State v. Porter [Neb.] 112 NW 286.

72. Code 1906, § 2448, construed. McLeod v. McLeod, 88 Miss. 722, 42 S 873.

73, 74. Ex parte Collins, 149 F 573; Id., 154 F 980. Committed under statute of Washington without due process of law upon acquittal of murder on ground of insanity. Urquhart v. Brown, 205 U. S. 179, 51 Law. Ed. 760.

75. Where Federal court granted preliminary injunction restraining state officers from enforcing statute fixing maximum rates, and requiring companies to issue coupons to purchasers, show charge in excess of statutory rate, sale of tickets in compliance therewith is "an act done * * * in pursuance of * * * an order * * * of a court" of United States, within Rev. St. § 753 (U. S. Comp. St. 1901, p. 592), and where one is imprisoned therefor, he may be released on habeas corpus. Ex parte Wood, 156 F 190.

76. Rev. St. §§ 752, 753, 761 (U. S. Comp. St. 1901, pp. 592, 594). May summarily determine it was so done and discharge from state custody. United States v. Lipsett, 156 F 65.

construed, they must show illegal restraint.<sup>77</sup> A motion to quash the writ tests the sufficiency of the petition.<sup>78</sup>

§ 4. Hearing on petition and issuance of writ.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1918</sup>—One arrested on warrant of a magistrate in New York need not await the hearing before suing out the writ.<sup>79</sup> A Federal court need not issue the writ instantan but may order custodian to show cause why the writ should not issue,<sup>80</sup> and may deny the writ absolutely where the petition discloses that applicant is not entitled thereto.<sup>81</sup>

§ 5. The writ; service thereof; effect of writ.<sup>See 3 C. L. 1578</sup>

§ 6. Certiorari in aid of habeas corpus.<sup>See 5 C. L. 1617</sup>

§ 7. Return and hearing and determination thereon; judgment.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1918</sup>—

The function of the petition is merely to secure the issuance of the writ,<sup>82</sup> and the person having the custody of the prisoner must make return,<sup>83</sup> to which petitioner may present exceptions,<sup>84</sup> raising issues of law or a traverse creating issues of fact.<sup>85</sup> An undenied return is conclusive.<sup>86</sup> The burden is usually on the petitioner<sup>87</sup> to affirmatively show void, as distinct from irregular, commitment.<sup>88</sup> The authority of the supreme court of Colorado being constitutional,<sup>89</sup> its practice is governed by rules of court,<sup>90</sup> and, in its discretion,<sup>91</sup> it may admit to bail after return.<sup>92</sup> The granting of a continuance is discretionary.<sup>93</sup> Where petitioner is held under sentence defective in form only, opportunity to correct same should be given before discharging petitioner.<sup>94</sup>

77. Petitioner is only required to allege, among other things, that he "is imprisoned or restrained of his liberty; the place where * * * and the officer or person by whom he is imprisoned," as required by Code Civ. Proc. § 2019. People v. Moss, 187 N. Y. 410, 80 NE 383. Petition for release of one sought to be extradited on ground that prosecution is barred by limitations must show statute of demanding state relative thereto. Kemper v. Metzger [Ind.] 81 NE 663.

78. Hardin v. Hardin, 168 Ind. 352, 81 NE 60.

79. Statute in respect thereto being for his benefit and subject to waiver. People v. Moss, 187 NY 410, 80 NE 383.

80. Ex parte Collins, 154 F 980.
p 593). Ex parte Collins, 151 F 358.

82. When writ issues, petition has accomplished its purpose. Ex parte Collins [Cal.] 90 P 827.

83. Ex parte Collins [Cal.] 90 P 827.

84. Under Burn's Ann. St. 1901. § 1131, providing that petitioner may except to sufficiency of return, a paper filed, stating that petitioner, for exception to third paragraph, says that it does not state facts sufficient to constitute a defense, held good, though in form of demurrer. Kemper v. Metzger [Ind.] 81 NE 663.

85. Ex parte Collins [Cal.] 90 P 827.

86. Morris v. Wardell [N. J. Law] 67 A 850. Code 1896. § 4832. Demurrer is not proper. Id. Where petitioner fails to plead over or deny return after exception thereto has been overruled, judgment may be rendered against him. Kemper v. Metzger [Ind.] 81 NE 663.

87. Must show void commitment. In re Wright, 74 Kan. 406, 86 P 460, 89 P 678. Held on executive extradition warrant valid on face. Blackwell v. Jennings [Ga.] 57 SE 484; Ex parte Collins [Cal.] 90 P 827; State v. Schlachter [S. D.] 111 NW 566. Identity of one arrested on extradition warrant will be presumed from identity of name. State v. Bates [Minn.] 112 NW 260. Where court adjudged petitioner in contempt for delay of business for less than 12 hours, it will be presumed that petitioner waived statutory right to 12 hours to make jury challenges, so that delay was possible. In re Clark [Mo. App.] 103 SW 1105. Where conditional pardon was revoked for alleged violation of its conditions, burden may be placed on state to show such breach. Spencer v. Kees [Wash.] 91 P 963.

88. Error of court in holding petitioner of sufficient mental capacity to make answer is not jurisdictional, hence it must appear that court did not pass thereon in binding him over. In re Wright, 74 Kan. 406, 89 P 678, 86 P 460. Conceding that one committed for failure to give bond for payment of alimony may be released on habeas corpus, where default was due to inability to give same, such fact must be made to affirmatively appear. Ex parte Caple [Ark.] 99 SW 830. On habeas corpus for discharge from commitment for contempt, facts recited in commitment are conclusive. Ex parte Shortridge [Cal. App.] 90 P 478. Matters dehors the record cannot be considered. In re Clark [Mo. App.] 103 SW 1105.

89, 90. In re Moyer, 35 Colo. 154, 91 P 738.

91. Bail refused where it appeared that petitioner was held as military prisoner and governor, as commander in chief of National Guards, advised that detention was necessary to preserve order. In re Moyer, 35 Colo. 154, 91 P 738.

92. In re Moyer, 35 Colo. 154, 91 P 738.

93. Where counsel was sick when retained and associates were present, held no abuse of discretion to deny motion for continuance on account thereof. Blackwell v. Jennings [Ga.] 57 SE 484.

94. United States v. Carpenter [C. C. A.] 151 F 214.

§ 8. Review.<sup>See 7 C. L. 1919.</sup>—The appealability of particular orders,<sup>95</sup> and the method of reviewing the same,<sup>96</sup> are largely regulated by statute. Objections must be properly saved<sup>97</sup> and presented.<sup>98</sup> Certiorari brings up only questions of law.<sup>99</sup> Where prisoner is remanded to the custody from whence he came, there is nothing to stay on appeal.<sup>1</sup> Where the case is triable de novo, improperly admitted evidence will be disregarded.<sup>2</sup> Findings of fact are conclusive on appeal in South Carolina.<sup>3</sup> Where the trial court misconceived the law and his powers, a new trial will be awarded.<sup>4</sup>

HABITUAL DRUNKARDS.<sup>5</sup>

Where from excessive use of intoxicants one is squandering his property, a guardian may be appointed.<sup>6</sup>

HABITUAL OFFENDERS.<sup>7</sup>

HANDWRITING, PROOF OF; HARBOR MASTERS, see latest topical index.

HARMLESS AND PREJUDICIAL ERROR.

§ 1. The General Doctrine (1563).

§ 2. Triviality Constituting Harmlessness (1566).

§ 3. Errors Cured or Made Harmless by Other Matters (1579).

§ 1. The general doctrine.<sup>See 8 C. L. 1.</sup>—Generally speaking, a judgment will not be reversed or a verdict set aside or other proceeding overthrown because of error of which it can be said that no harm resulted to the complaining party,<sup>8</sup> even

95. Order refusing to dismiss writ is not final order within Code Civ. Proc. § 2058 authorizing appeals from final orders only. People v. Duryee, 188 N. Y. 440, 81 NE 313. Order of appellate division of supreme court reversing order of special term refusing to dismiss writ is final order reviewable by court of appeals, although appellate division was without power to review action of special term, it not being final. Id.

96. Under Rev. St. §§ 763, 764 (U. S. Comp. St. 1901, pp. 594, 595), final order of circuit court denying application can be reviewed on appeal only and not on writ of error. Rainbow v. Young [C. C. A.] 154 F 489.

97. Joinder of issues and trial held not to waive denial of motion to quash writ. Bleakley v. Barclay [Kan.] 89 P 906.

98. Special exceptions to executive warrant and to requisition cannot be considered where not preserved in bill of exceptions. Ex parte Denning [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 740, 100 SW 401. Where record contains no bill of exceptions, and return of officer is sufficient to sustain judgment refusing to discharge petitioner, judgment will be affirmed. Ex parte McIntyre [Neb.] 109 NW 763. Where writ is made returnable before chancellor in another county than county of confinement, record is properly certified by register in chancery of such court, under Code, § 4814. State v. Fuller, 147 Ala. 164, 41 S 990.

99. Finding of fact that welfare of child would be best subserved by placing it with mother is conclusive. Carpenter v. Carpenter, 149 Mich. 138, 14 Det. Leg. N. 366, 112 NW 748.

1. He is held by virtue of original process and not under order of remand, and hence application for bail must be made as if no writ had issued. Ex parte Collins [Cal.] 91 P 397. Where one indicted obtains writ of error from United States supreme court to review order in habeas corpus remanding him to custody, such writ does not stay proceedings on indictment. Reuf v. Superior Ct. San Francisco, 150 Cal. 657, 89 P 604.

2. Spencer v. Kees [Wash.] 91 P 963.

3. To determine custody of child. Brown v. Robertson [S. C.] 56 SE 786. Where no illegal restraint is shown, it is not error of law to discharge writ issued at instance of stranger. Id.

4. Walker v. Jones, 1 Ga. App. 70, 57 SE 903.

5. See 7 C. L. 1919. For general matters respecting guardians for spendthrifts, see Guardianship, 9 C. L. 1551.

6. Under Gen. Laws 1896, c. 248, § 7, and Court and Practice Act 1905, § 803, declaring that probate decree shall not be deemed invalid in any collateral proceeding or quash for want of form or want of jurisdiction appearing on its face, decree appointing guardian which only adjudged that inebriate lacked discretion to manage estate is voidable only. Brown v. Probate Ct. of Warwick [R. I.] 67 A 527.

7. No cases have been found during the period covered for this topic, which includes only the crime of being an habitual offender against law. See Criminal Law, 9 C. L. 851, as to increased punishment on second or subsequent convictions.

8. Leonhart v. California Wine Ass'n [Cal. App.] 89 P 847; Southern R. Co. v. Oliver, 1 Ga. App. 734, 58 SE 244; Clark v. Empire Mercantile Co. [Ga. App.] 58 SE 363; Boone v. Rickard, 125 Ill. App. 438; City of Chicago v. Puleyn, 129 Ill. App. 179; Hopkin- son v. Conley [Kan.] 88 P 549; Whitney v. Brown [Kan.] 90 P 277; Hargis v. Marcum [Ky.] 103 SW 346; Gordon v. Doran, 100 Minn. 343, 111 NW 272; Bush v. Brandecker, 123 Mo. App. 470, 100 SW 48; Spencer v. Bruner [Mo. App.] 103 SW 578; Waldron v. McBride [Neb.] 112 NW 619; Ostergaard v. Greek Catholic Congregation of St. John the Baptist [N. J. Err. & App.] 68 A 86; Wallace v. New Albion, 105 NYS 524; Snyder v. Stribling, 18 Okl. 168, 89 P 222; Howell v. Blesh [Okl.] 91 P 893; Reed v. Southern R. Co., 75 S. C. 162, 55 SE 218; Worthen v. Peruvian Consol. Min. Co. [Utah] 88 P 679; Hempstead v. Salt Lake City [Utah] 90 P 397; Gingrass v. Harvey [Wis.] 113 NW 1095; Pardee v. Kuster [Wyo.] 91 P 836; Cook v. Foley [C. C. A.] 152 F 41. Where result would have been the same had no error been committed. Tye v. Manley [Ind. T.] 104 SW 636. Where had rulings been in favor of complaining party different result would not have been reached. Spotswood v. Spotswood [Cal. App.] 89 P 362. Failure to establish cause of action renders all errors harmless. Pardee v. Kuster [Wyo.] 91 P 836. Technical errors harmless when verdict does substantial justice. Mutual Aid Ass'n v. Hogan, 124 Ill. App. 447; Barnes v. City of Grafton, 61 W. Va. 408, 56 SE 608. Where judgment on undisputed facts and applicable law is correct, it will not be reversed for errors. Van Cleve v. Radford, 149 Mich. 106, 14 Det. Leg. N. 376, 112 NW 754. Failure to state ground upon which new trial was granted harmless where same may be sustained on any ground set forth in motion. Sharp v. Odom, 121 Mo. App. 565, 97 SW 225. Refusal to suggest to counsel correction which court deemed necessary as condition to approval of bill of exceptions, containing evidence not in stenographic record, harmless. Rabb v. Goodrich [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 662, 102 SW 910. Error cannot be predicated upon claims of law based upon contingency of court's making findings contrary to those it actually did make. Contaldi v. Errichetti, 79 Conn. 276, 64 A 219. Third incumbrance not aggrieved by allowance of interest on first incumbrance where proceeds of sale of incumbered property was insufficient in any event to pay both first and second incumbrances. Polliham v. Reveley [Mo. App.] 93 SW 829.

So provided by statute: Rev. St. 1899, § 865 (Ann. St. 1906, p. 812). Where judgment is for right party. Whitworth v. Webb City, 204 Mo. 579, 103 SW 86; O'Keefe v. United R. Co. [Mo. App.] 101 SW 144. Under Civ. Code Pr. § 124, court must disregard errors not affecting substantial rights. City of Henderson v. Sizemore [Ky.] 104 SW 722; Staton v. Byron [Ky.] 105 SW 928.

Right decision on wrong ground: Where correct conclusion is reached, error in the method employed is harmless. Kemper v. Metzger [Ind.] 81 NE 663. Where decision was right though court proceeded upon erroneous theory. Aetna Indemnity Co. v. Crowe Coal & Min. Co. [C. C. A.] 154 F 545; Higgins v. Los Angeles R. Co. [Cal. App.] 91 P 244; O'Neil v. Ft. Lyon Canal Co. [Colo.] 90 P 849; McNicholas v. Tinsler, 127 Ill. App. 281. A correct judgment will be affirmed irrespective of correctness of reasons given for awarding it. Jeffries v. Fraternal Bankers' Reserve Soc. [Iowa] 112 NW 786; Bailey v. Brown [Cal. App.] 88 P 518. Where judgment is right though reason given is insufficient or would lead to a different conclusion. Corgan v. Lee Coal Co. [Pa.] 67 A 655. Error in directing nonsuit, on ground that in no event could plaintiff recover, harmless where under evidence plaintiff could not recover. Brick v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co. [N. C.] 58 SE 1073. Where an action against a surety is tried on the assumption that it was immaterial whether plaintiff had notice that the alleged principal was a principal, a judgment rendered for plaintiff on an erroneous ground will not be affirmed on the ground that plaintiff is not shown to have had notice of the relationship. Crosby v. Woodbury, 37 Colo. 1, 89 P 34. Where order sustaining demurrer was correct, reasons on which trial court based its ruling are immaterial. Bishop v. Owens [Cal. App.] 89 P 844. Erroneous conclusion of law harmless where findings show actionable negligence. Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Campbell [Tex. Civ. App.] 20 Tex. Ct. Rep. 89, 105 SW 539. Where in action of mandamus court assumed propriety of remedy but denied relief on ground of invalidity of certain ballots cast at an election, its decision denying writ will be affirmed though ballots were in fact valid if mandamus was not proper remedy. Dickinson v. Cheboygan County Canvassers, 148 Mich. 513, 14 Det. Leg. N. 196, 111 NW 1075. Where district court properly dismissed an appeal to it from county court, its action will not be disturbed because of grounds upon which dismissal was based. Hayward v. Fisher [Neb.] 110 NW 984. Proper direction of verdict will not be disturbed because court gave a wrong reason therefor. Benson v. Bawden, 149 Mich. 584, 14 Det. Leg. N. 522, 113 NW 20. Withdrawal by court from consideration of jury of an item of cause of action for insufficient reason will be sustained if proper on other grounds. Kohler v. Hughbanks [Neb.] 112 NW 577. Although court granted order on erroneous ground, it will not be reversed unless it appears from record that it was not supported by other grounds enumerated in the motion. Bouchard v. Abrahamsen [Cal. App.] 83 P 383. Exclusion of improper evidence on wrong ground harmless. Van Horn v. Van Horn [Cal. App.] 91 P 260; Brunswick & B. R. Co. v. Hoodenpyle [Ga.] 58 SE 705; Campbell v. Collins, 133 Iowa, 152, 110 NW 435; Interstate Coal & Iron Co. v. Clintwood Coal & Timber Co., 105 Va. 574, 54 SE 593. Exclusion of testimony on ground of incompetency of witness where evidence was immaterial. Fender v. Fender, 123 Ill. App. 105.

Result reached only one sustainable: Where evidence is so conclusive that no other verdict could have been sustained, errors in instructions are harmless. Clark v. Empire Mercantile Co. [Ga. App.] 58 SE 363; Dawson v. Wolf, 130 Ill. App. 77; Miller Harness Co. v. Flannigan, 130 Ill. App. 332; Pierce v. Kellyville Coal Co., 130 Ill. App. 376; Melton Hardware Co. v. Heidelberg [Miss.] 44 S 857; Hax v. Quincy, etc., R. Co., 123 Mo. App. 172, 100 SW 693; Neal v. Taylor, 106 Va. 651, 56 SE 590; Browder v. Southern R. Co. [Va.] 57 SE 572; Parker v. Fairbanks Morse Mfg. Co., 130 Wis. 525, 110 NW 409. Where evidence required answer given to questions, refusal to instruct as to burden of proof thereon is harmless. Gingrass v. Harvey [Wis.] 113 though he has properly saved his objection and excepted to the ruling,<sup>9</sup> and has regularly preserved it in the "record."<sup>10</sup> The party must affirmatively show error apparent on the "record."<sup>11</sup> It must harm him rather than a coparty,<sup>12</sup> and must be one which he has not invited,<sup>13</sup> and which he can assail without inconsistency to his contentions made on the trial.<sup>14</sup>

The majority of courts presume prejudice from error, once it is shown to exist,<sup>15</sup> and require the party defending against errors to show that no harm resulted.<sup>16</sup>

NW 1095. Erroneous instruction in favor of party for whom it would have been court's duty to direct verdict, harmless. Davis v. Chesapeake & O. R. Co., 61 W. Va. 246, 56 SE 400. Error in instructions on contributory negligence harmless where court would have been warranted in withdrawing issue from jury. Gerringer v. North Carolina R. Co. [N. C.] 59 SE 152.

Rulings on evidence. Smith v. Kansas City [Mo. App.] 101 SW 1118; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Andrews [Tex. Civ. App.] 99 SW 871; Mitchel v. Richmond [Va.] 57 SE 570. Error in admitting evidence on question of damages and failing to find on question harmless where plaintiff was not entitled to recover in any event. Wood, Curtis & Co. v. Scurich [Cal. App.] 90 P 51. Erroneous admission of evidence harmless where in any event verdict would have to be against complaining party. Dumphy v. New York, etc., R. Co. [Mass.] 82 NE 675. Admission of incompetent evidence harmless where on all evidence but one conclusion could be reached. State v. Smith [Neb.] 110 NW 557. Where record shows as a matter of law that verdict was correct, misconduct of jury or errors in instruction are harmless. Moore v. Phoenix Ins. Co., 100 Minn. 393, 111 NW 263. Error in overruling demurrer harmless where judgment rendered is the only one which the evidence would sustain. Citizens' Ins. Co. v. Herpolsheimer [Neb.] 111 NW 606. Where evidence demanded finding made on one issue, errors in submission of another issue foreign to the case are harmless. Stone v. Smith, 127 Ga. 483, 56 SE 640. Improper argument of counsel harmless where evidence conclusively established right to recover. Crow v. Ball [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 381, 99 SW 583; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Knowles [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 83, 99 SW 867. Where evidence clearly shows that defendant was not liable, intervening errors are harmless. Teague v. Bloomington [Ind. App.] 81 NE 103. Where court properly gave general charge for defendant, refusal to give instructions requested by plaintiff harmless. Farley v. Mobile & O. R. Co. [Ala.] 42 S 747. Error in instructions given at request of defendant harmless where he was entitled to general charge. Pearson v. Hooper [Ala.] 43 S 576 [Advance sheets only]. Submitting validity of writing to jury harmless where successful party was entitled to a peremptory instruction. Puff v. Puff [Ky.] 104 SW 332. Submission of issue harmless where on evidence court would have been justified in instructing against complaining party thereon. Beale's Helrs v. Johnson [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 917, 99 SW 1045.

9. See Saving Questions for Review, 8 C. L. 1822.

10. See Appeal and Review, 9 C. L. 108.

11. Where error in admission of evidence affirmatively appears on record, it is not rendered harmless because record does not contain all evidence taken at trial. Zimmerman v. Beatson, 39 Ind. App. 664, 79 NE 518, 80 NE 165.

12. Rauch v. Fort Dearborn Nat. Bk., 124 Ill. App. 257; In re McNeile's Estate, 217 Pa. 179, 66 A 328; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Knowles [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 83, 99 SW 867. Failure to enter default against nonanswering codefendant cannot be complained of by answering defendant. Geffinger v. Kiewer, 227 Ill. 593, 81 NE 712. Error in settlement of title between plaintiffs not available to defendant. Dixon v. Hunter, 204 Mo. 382, 102 SW 970. An appellant may not assign errors not relating to his interest in the controversy. Troike v. Cook County Sav. Bk., 127 Ill. App. 413. Submitting question of negligence of codefendant as to when plaintiff had taken a nonsuit. Feddeck v. St. Louis Car Co., 125 Mo. App. 24, 102 SW 675. A defendant who does not demur cannot complain of the overruling of his codefendant's demurrer. Shiff v. Andrews, 147 Ala. 690, 40 S 824. Dismissal of action as to defendant who was not made a party to the appeal cannot be reviewed. Peterson v. Red Wing, 101 Minn. 62, 111 NW 840. Where in action to recover taxes for benefit of certain school district it is found that such district is not entitled to taxes, and judgment is rendered in plaintiff's favor for benefit of another district, plaintiff on appeal cannot complain of decision in favor of latter district. State v. Hamilton, 202 Mo. 377, 100 SW 609. Quietening plaintiff's title to land as to which defendant made no claim not prejudicial as to latter. Worthen v. Peruvian Consol. Min. Co. [Utah] 88 P 679.

13, 14. See Saving Question for Review, 8 C. L. 1822.

15. See 3 C. L. 6. State v. Young, 134 Iowa, 505, 110 NW 292. Rejection of competent evidence is reversible error unless it clearly appears beyond reasonable doubt that it would not have affected the result. Thomas v. Territory [Ariz.] 85 P 1063. Evidence erroneously admitted, direct tendency of which was to prejudice party. Short v. Frink [Cal.] 90 P 200; Wheeling Mold & Foundry Co. v. Wheeling Steel & Iron Co. [W. Va.] 57 SE 826. Erroneous instruction presumptively prejudicial. Londonderry Min. Co. v. United Gold Mines Co. [Colo.] 88 P 455; Monongahela River Consol. Coal & Coke Co. v. Hardsaw [Ind.] 81 NE 492. Overruling challenge to juror. Williamson v. St. Louis Transit Co., 202 Mo. 345, 100 SW 1072.

16. Must affirmatively appear that error was not prejudicial. Texas Mexican R. Co. v. Lewis [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 345, 99 SW 577; Cook v. Foley [C. C. A.] 152 F 41. Record must affirmatively show that error of court in refusing to examine

Errors which favor the party objecting are of course not ground for reversal,<sup>17</sup> nor are such as may be corrected without resort to a new trial.<sup>18</sup>

§ 2. Triviality constituting harmlessness.—An error is harmless if too trivial in its nature or consequences to have substantially influenced the result.<sup>19</sup> The weight or strength of the evidence may affect the importance of error.<sup>20</sup> Cases ap-more than certain number of instructions was without prejudice. Crane Co. v. Hogan, 228 Ill. 338, 81 NE 1032.

Contra: Burden is upon appellant to show that error was prejudicial. Hamlin v. Pacific Elec. R. Co., 150 Cal. 776, 89 P 1109; Boline v. Wilson [Kan.] 89 P 678; Pardee v. Kuster [Wyo.] 91 P 836.

17. See 8 C. L. 7. Southern R. Co. v. Oliver, 1 Ga. App. 734, 58 SE 244; Abraham Lincoln B. & H. Ass'n v. Zuelk, 124 Ill. App. 109; Starks v. Schlensky, 128 Ill. App. 1; Lufkin v. Hitchcock [Mass.] 80 NE 456; Marshall Medicine Co. v. Chicago & A. R. Co. [Mo. App.] 104 SW 478; North Fork Lumber Co. v. Southern R. Co., 143 N. C. 324, 55 SE 781; St. Andrews Parish Tp. Com'rs v. Charleston Min. & Mfg. Co. [S. C.] 57 SE 201; Rambie v. San Antonio & G. R. Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 903, 100 SW 1022.

Rulings on evidence: Error in not limiting evidence in behalf of complaining party. Arden Lumber Co. v. Henderson Iron Works & Supply Co. [Ark.] 103 SW 185. In action against husband, evidence tending to show extension of credit to wife. Landgrof v. Tanner [Ala.] 44 S 397. Limitation on range of proof. Davis v. Miller Brent Lumber Co. [Ala.] 44 S 639. Improper joinder of causes of action against same parties held harmless, same being beneficial rather than hurtful to complaining parties. Stanton v. Byron [Ky.] 105 SW 928. Variance harmless where bill of particulars alleges payment of greater amount than was actually paid on note on which defendant was jointly liable, the difference being favorable to latter. Moffet v. Sebastian, 149 Mich. 451, 14 Det. Leg. N. 511, 112 NW 1120. Where court erroneously extended time within which plaintiff, a nonresident, was to file cost bond, plaintiff cannot complain. Union Iron Works v. Vekol Min. & Mill. Co. [Ariz.] 89 P 539. Plaintiff could not complain that no attorney was appointed to represent defendant. Stith v. Moore [Tex. Civ. App.] 15 Tex. Ct. Rep. 462, 95 SW 587.

Instructions favorable to complaining party. Fitzgerald Cotton Oil Co. v. Farmers' Supply Co. [Ga. App.] 59 SE 713; Brockmiller v. Industrial Works, 148 Mich. 642, 14 Det. Leg. N. 326, 112 NW 688; Bush v. Brandecker, 123 Mo. App. 470, 100 SW 48; Ferris v. Edmonston, 124 Mo. App. 94, 100 SW 1119; Murphy v. Metropolitan St. R. Co., 125 Mo. App. 269, 102 SW 64. Submission of contributory negligence of child six years old harmless to defendant. Jaffi v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 205 Mo. 450, 103 SW 1026. Submission of construction of contract to jury where correct construction would have been unfavorable to complaining party. Moss Mfg. Co. v. Carolina Portland Cement Co., 1 Ga. App. 232, 57 SE 914. Defining contributory negligence harmless to defendant when not raised by its answer. Snipes v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co. [S. C.] 56 SE 959. Instruction directing deduction of amount paid by defendant in settlement from amount found due plaintiff cannot be objected to by defendant on ground that it did not interpose a counterclaim. Brusseau v. Lower Brick Co., 133 Iowa, 245, 110 NW 577. Instruction erroneously placing burden of proof on plaintiff as to certain facts harmless to defendant. Arkansas Cent. R. Co. v. Bennett [Ark.] 102 SW 198. Erroneous instruction on measure of damages held favorable to appellant. Kerr v. Blair [Tex. Civ. App.] 20 Tex. Ct. Rep. 71, 105 SW 548; Lake Erie & W. R. Co. v. Hobbs [Ind. App.] 81 NE 90. Instruction ignoring defense held not available to plaintiff. Oxford Junction Sav. Bk. Co. v. Cook [Iowa] 111 NW 805. Inaccuracy in definition of proximate cause harmless to defendant where it placed heavier burden on plaintiff than required by law. Odegard v. North Wisconsin Lumber Co., 103 Wis 659, 110 NW 809.

Inconsistent instruction harmless when more favorable to objecting party than it should have been. Ryan v. Page, 134 Iowa, 60, 111 NW 405. Where neither of two conflicting instructions is correct, error may be predicated thereon though one of them favors objecting party, but not where one of the instructions is correct. Woods v. Latta, 35 Mont. 9, 88 P 402.

Verdict and judgment: Inadequacy of verdict for either party cannot be asserted by the other. Landreth v. Carey [Iowa] 113 NW 545; Crigler v. Duncan, 121 Mo. App. 381, 99 SW 61. Where jury returned verdict for certain sum one-half against each of two defendants, one of latter cannot complain because verdict was not against defendants jointly. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Nance [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 276, 101 SW 294. Allowing plaintiff legal interest merely cannot be complained of by him where under law all interest could have been forfeited for usury. Wagoner Nat. Bk. v. Welch [Ind. T.] 104 SW 610. Failure to grant relief on counterclaim cannot be complained of by plaintiff. Graham v. Bell-Irving [Wash.] 91 P 8. Where plaintiff appeals from judgment in his favor on ground that amount awarded was too small, he cannot complain that theory upon which it was awarded was erroneous, since he was not injured thereby. Donnellan v. Wood, Curtis & Co. [Cal. App.] 87 P 235. That judgment not conforming to verdict was favorable to complaining party on a matter not sustained thereby does not bar him from asserting error. Williams & Co. v. Smith [Tex. Civ. App.] 98 SW 916.

18. See Appeal and Review, 9 C. L. 108. See, also, post, § 3, Errors Cured or Made Harmless by other Matters.

19. See 8 C. L. 9. Foster v. Balch, 79 Conn. 449, 65 A 574. Excess of $1.54 in verdict for $121.79 harmless. McKone v. Metropolitan Life Ins. Co., 131 Wis. 243, 110 NW 472.

20. Exclusion of evidence on merits harmless where evidence establishes bar by plying these principles to errors or irregularities in process or appearance,<sup>21</sup> parties,<sup>22</sup> pleadings and formation of issues,<sup>23</sup> provisional and interlocutory proceedings,<sup>24</sup>

limitations. Visher v. Wilbur [Cal. App.] 91 P 412. Where undisputed evidence shows that plaintiff's employer was not an independent contractor, exclusion of petition alleging him to be such was harmless. William Cameron & Co. v. Realmuto [Tex. Civ. App.] 100 SW 194. Error in definition of word "conversion" harmless where undisputed evidence showed conversion. Crow v. Ball [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 381, 99 SW 583. Error in sustaining demurrer to count setting forth defects in car harmless where evidence showed there were no defects. Garth v. North Alabama Trac. Co. [Ala.] 42 S 627. Exclusion of evidence of damages harmless where plaintiff fails to prove cause of action. Munsey v. Hanly [Me.] 67 A 217; Hynds v. Rhode Island Co. [R. I.] 67 A 368. Error in submitting question to jury is not prejudicial to one who is not as a matter of law entitled to recover. Citizens' Bk. of Pleasantville v. First Nat. Bk. [Iowa] 113 NW 481. Refusal to charge harmless where no cause of action is proved. Simons v. New Britain Trust Co. [Conn.] 67 A. 883. Errors in charge harmless to plaintiff where no cause of action was proved. Id.

Conflicting evidence: Where conflict is sharp, errors which might otherwise be unimportant may require reversal. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Haislup, 39 Ind. App. 394, 79 NE 1035. Where evidence conflicts, erroneous instructions may not be disregarded on the ground that the judgment was correct. Blake v. Miller [Iowa] 112 NW 158. Erroneous instruction held prejudicial, evidence being conflicting. Elmore v. Booth [Ark.] 102 SW 393; Chicago & Alton R. Co. v. Neves, 130 Ill. App. 340; Ballard v. Kansas City [Mo. App.] 104 SW 1126; Selman v. Gulf, etc., R. Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 464, 101 SW 1030. Errors in rulings on evidence and giving instructions held prejudicial, evidence conflicting. Cummings v. Holland, 130 Ill. App. 315.

21. Amendment of writ so as to substitute word defendant for plaintiff. Brock v. Fuller Lumber Co. [C. C. A.] 153 F. 272.

22. Refusal to order persons secondarily liable joined as parties harmless. McGowan v. Watertown, 130 Wis. 555, 110 NW 402. Overruling demurrer on ground of misjoinder of parties harmless, no substantial rights being affected. Woolacott v. Meekin [Cal.] 91 P 612. Amendment bringing in new party plaintiff harmless where verdict against such party is directed in favor of complaining party. International & G. N. R. Co. v. Howell [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 123, 105 SW 560.

23. Error in ruling on pleadings harmless where general charge was properly given. Walker v. Winn [Ala.] 43 S 801. Refusal to construe negative pregnant as an admission harmless. McCready v. Crane, 74 Kan. 710, 88 P 748. Failure to establish unnecessary allegations in pleading harmless. Allsopp v. Joshua Hendy Mach. Works [Cal. App.] 90 P 39. Defect in pleading harmless, defendant not being misled. Hester v. Stine [Wash.] 90 P 594.

Refusal to require plaintiff, a nonresident of county, to state post office address in petition harmless where defendant knew same. White v. White [Kan.] 90 P 1087. Where either of two constructions of a pleading would render defendant liable, he is not harmed by adoption of one of them. Adams v. Collins [Mass.] 82 NE 498. Refusal to rule on demurrer until after hearing evidence harmless. Thompson v. Mills [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 139, 101 SW 560. Refusal to require petition to be properly paragraphed held harmless. Stanton v. Byron [Ky.] 105 SW 928.

Variance: Slight variance harmless. First Nat. Bk. of Atwood v. Drew, 130 Ill. App. 60. Variance existing throughout three trials. Mills v. Larrance, 120 Ill. App. 83. Variance harmless where plaintiff did not rely for recovery on matter constituting variance. Bare v. Ford, 74 Kan. 593, 87 P 731. Variance as to immaterial allegations harmless. Pearce v. Martin, 130 Ill. App. 24. Where evidence supports judgment, variance held immaterial. Alexander v. Harkin, 53 Misc. 317, 103 NYS 856.

Sustaining demurrer: Where demurrer to special plea was overruled and demurrer to replication was sustained and plaintiff refused to plead over, such refusal amounted to a confession on plea of general issue and error in sustaining demurrer to replication was harmless. Watson v. Birmingham R., Light & Power Co. [Ala.] 43 S 732. Error in sustaining demurrer where motion to strike was proper remedy harmless where pleadings were faulty. Hooker v. Forrester [Fla.] 43 S 241; Atlantic Coast Line R. Co. v. Crosby [Fla.] 43 S 318. Error in sustaining demurrer to pleading harmless where matters averred therein could have been shown under other pleas. Creola Lumber Co. v. Mills [Ala.] 42 S 1019; Smith v. Davis [Ala.] 43 S 729; Clarke v. Darr, 168 Ind. 101, 80 NE 19; Perry v. Acme Oil Co. [Ind. App.] 80 NE 174. Error in sustaining demurrer harmless where on pleading plaintiff would have been entitled to judgment rendered. United States Supply Co. v. Vlasnik [Neb.] 113 NW 813. Sustaining demurrer to special pleas held not prejudicial. City of Anniston v. Ivey [Ala.] 44 S 48.

Held prejudicial: Error in sustaining demurrer to prayer for discovery prejudicial though properly sustained to other portions of bill. Palliser v. Home Tel. Co. [Ala.] 44 S 575.

Overruling demurrer: Error in overruling demurrer harmless where uncertainty in complaint involved only a trifling amount. Leonhart v. California Wine Ass'n [Cal. App.] 89 P 847. Overruling demurrer to unnecessary allegations harmless. St. Louis S. W. R. Co. v. Granger [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 169, 100 SW 987. Overruling demurrer to formal defect. Blue Grass Trac. Co. v. Skillman [Ky.] 102 SW 809. Overruling demurrer to counts of complaint upon which no recovery was or could have been had, harmless. Southern R. Co. v. Cunningham [Ala.] 44 S 658. Overruling demurrer to plea harmless where matters procedure,<sup>25</sup> continuances, adjournments, dismissal before trial, and the like.<sup>26</sup> the

averred therein could have been shown under general issue. Burgin v. Sullivan [Ala.] 44 S 202. Where counts were good as counts for simple negligence, held that court would not be reversed for overruling demurrers thereto on theory that they were insufficient as counts for willful and wanton misconduct. Montgomery St. R. Co. v. Lewis [Ala.] 41 S 736. Where any of defenses presented sustain judgment generally for defendant, overruling demurrer harmless. City of Larned v. Boyd [Kan.] 90 P 814. Overruling demurrer to defective count harmless where another count would sustain judgment. Alvey v. Hartwig [Md.] 67 A 132. Error in overruling demurrer on ground of ambiguity harmless where party was not misled. Yordi v. Yordi [Cal. App.] 91 P 348; Bank of Lemoore v. Fulgham [Cal.] 90 P 936.

Held prejudicial: Overruling demurrer to pleading as stating conclusion held prejudicial. Western Union Tel. Co. v. Heathcoat [Ala.] 43 S 117. Refusal to sustain demurrer to defective paragraph reversible error where it did not appear upon which paragraph verdict was rendered. Lake Erie & W. R. Co. v. Moore [Ind. App.] 81 NE 85. Where verdict is general, overruling demurrer to bad paragraph of answer is prejudicial. Sullivan Mach. Co. v. Breeden [Ind. App.] 82 NE 107.

Rulings on exceptions: Overruling exceptions to allegations tending to excuse delay in recording deed harmless where defendant was shown to have knowledge of prior deed before taking title. Parks v. Worthington [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 698, 104 SW 921.

Rulings on motion to strike: Error in striking out one of two grounds for relief alleged harmless where evidence negated reliance thereon. O'Brien v. Camp [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 974, 101 SW 557. Striking out unessential matters in pleading harmless. Roth Tool Co. v. Champ Spring Co., 122 Mo. App. 603, 99 SW 827.

Held harmless: Striking a plea fully covered by others. Wefel v. Stillman [Ala.] 44 S 203. Striking matter appearing in other portions of pleading harmless. Klink v. Toledo Railway & Light Co., 10 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 49. Error in striking out plea harmless where facts alleged could have been shown under general issue. Hays v. Miller [Ala.] 43 S 818. Where in chancery the same defense is made by both plea and answer, error in rejecting the plea is harmless. Emmons v. Hawk [W. Va.] 59 SE 519. Striking out demurrable pleading and refusing to admit evidence under it harmless. Moore v. Gould [Cal.] 91 P 616. Error in striking out plea of nonjoinder harmless where objection could be urged under plea permitted to stand. Lasher v. Colton, 225 Ill. 234, 80 NE 122. Striking out defective portion of answer harmless though same should have been attacked by demurrer. Morse v. Odell [Or.] 89 P 139. Error in refusing to strike certain allegations of complaint harmless where defendant could have protected itself by objections to evidence and special charges. Central of Georgia R. Co. v. McNab [Ala.]

43 S 222. Denial of motion to strike portion of answer harmless where plaintiff was not entitled to relief sought. Poster v. Case, 126 Ga. 714, 55 SE 921. Overruling motion to strike cross petition harmless where plaintiff was not entitled to relief. Hall v. Kary, 133 Iowa, 465, 110 NW 930. Refusal to strike out amendment of objection to special assessment harmless. City of Belleville v. Perrin, 225 Ill. 437, 80 NE 270.

Held prejudicial: Denial of motion to strike count not sustained by evidence prejudicial where it does not appear on what count verdict was rendered. Wilmington Star Min. Co. v. Fulton, 205 U. S. 60, 51 Law. Ed. 708. Striking out material allegations of petition prejudicial. Klink v. Toledo Railways & Light Co., 10 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 49.

Amendment: Refusal of amendment harmless where all facts set up therein might have been shown under original pleading. Black v. McCarley's Ex'r [Ky.] 104 SW 987. Amendment of complaint so as to make it conform to the proofs held without prejudice where it would not have sustained recovery without amendment. Estey Organ Co. v. Lehman [Wis.] 111 NW 1097. Allowances of amendment to conform to proofs harmless. Doherty v. California Nav. & Imp. Co. [Cal. App.] 91 P 419. Failure to amend complaint in equity to make it conform to proof held harmless. Tye v. Manley [Ind. T.] 104 SW 636. Amendment held harmless. Glos v. Murphy, 225 Ill. 58, 80 NE 59; Norgren v. Jordan [Wash.] 90 P 597.

Prejudicial: Error in imposing unjust terms on amendment held prejudicial. Williams v. Myer, 150 Cal. 714, 89 P 972.

Rulings on motions for more specific allegation: Denial of motion to make definite and certain harmless where action was tried by court and there was no restriction of evidence under issues framed. Mosca Town Co. v. Wellington [Colo.] 89 P 783. Error in denying motion to make complaint more definite and certain held harmless. Bolen-Darnall Coal Co. v. Williams [Ind. T.] 104 SW 867.

Election: Reservation of right to proceed upon another count upon being required to elect harmless, same not affecting finality of election. Gorham v. New Haven, 79 Conn. 670, 66 A 505.

24. Modification of injunction before complainant had opportunity to present proofs held harmless. Haile v. Venable [Fla.] 44 S 73. Error in modifying restraining order ex parte harmless where plaintiff was not entitled to injunctive relief. Wolfer v. Hurst [Or.] 91 P 366.

25. Error in consolidating actions involving different issues held prejudicial. Winters v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. [Mo. App.] 101 SW 1116.

26. Dismissal: Overruling motion to strike case because not at issue when notice of trial was served harmless in absence of showing of surprise. Kennedy v. Agricultural Ins. Co. [S. D.] 110 NW 116.

Continuance: Refusal to grant continuance after amendment harmless where trial and course and conduct of the same,<sup>27</sup> formation and selection of the jury,<sup>28</sup> and rulings on demurrers to evidence and motions for directed verdicts and non-suits,<sup>29</sup> and new trials,<sup>30</sup> are cited below. The admission<sup>31</sup> or exclusion<sup>32</sup> of eviamendment was unsupported by evidence. Arkansas Cent. R. Co. v. Bennett [Ark.] 102 SW 198. Denial of continuance on striking out portion of pleading harmless. Ratliff v. Tinar [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 385, 102 SW 131. Denial of motion to continue garnishment until disposition of motion for new trial in main suit harmless where it does not appear that new trial was granted or that an appeal was taken from the judgment. Danby Millinery Co. v. Dogan [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 942, 105 SW 337. Denial of extension of time within which to take evidence harmless. Eddleman v. Fasig, 128 Ill. App. 120. Refusal of continuance on ground of absence of one of counsel harmless where not shown that counsel who tried case mismanaged same. Virginia Iron, Coal & Coke Co. v. Kiser, 105 Va. 695, 54 SE 889.

27. Proceeding to trial in absence of defendant's regular counsel harmless where defendant was represented during trial by one of its regular attorneys. McArthur v. Kansas City Elevated R. Co., 123 Mo. App. 503, 100 SW 62. Permitting contract sued on to go to jury after its retirement held harmless. Fibus v. St. Louis & S. F. R. Co. [Ind. T.] 104 SW 568. Taking up trial of case out of regular order harmless to defendant where he fails to show a meritorious defense. Bartlett v. Jones Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 551, 103 SW 705. Error in excluding party's agent from court room with other witnesses harmless though he was assisting counsel, he having no personal knowledge of matters on which case turned. Manhattan Life Ins. Co. v. Kephart [Ky.] 102 SW 882. Refusal to submit an issue harmless where finding on issue submitted will necessarily answer same. Clark v. Patapsco Guano Co., 144 N. C. 64, 56 SE 858. Error in refusing to permit counsel to use instructions in argument to jury harmless where he was not shown to have been thereby prevented from properly arguing case. Storm v. Butte, 35 Mont. 385, 89 P 726. Refusal to permit exhibition of injured leg to jury harmless where it was amputated. Ford v. Providence Coal Co., 30 Ky. L. R. 698, 99 SW 609. Physical examination held in judge's room while judge was on bench within few feet of door, partly open, and defendant's counsel being present, held harmless. Sheldon v. Wright [Vt.] 67 A 807. Withholding ruling on objection to competent evidence until motion to direct verdict was made held not prejudicial. American Soda Fountain Co. v. Dean Drug Co. [Iowa] 111 NW 534. Refusal of interrogatories where those refused were covered by others submitted. Chicago City R. Co. v. Foster, 226 Ill. 288, 80 NE 762. Abuse of discretion in awarding an issue out of chancery constitutes reversible error. Stevens v. Duckett [Va.] 57 SE 601. Refusal to permit pamphlet to be taken to jury room held prejudicial issue being as to whether they were bound and what was meant by "cover." State v. Young, 134 Iowa 505 110 NW 292

28. Overruling challenge for cause is not prejudicial, where party claiming error failed to exercise all peremptory challenges allowed him. Malone v. Sierra R. Co. [Cal.] 91 P 522; Harris v. Moore, 134 Iowa, 704, 112 NW 163. Betten v. Toledo & Ohio Central R. Co., 9 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 53. Where an impartial jury is secured, error in retaining disqualified juror is harmless where he was afterward peremptorily challenged. Pearce v. Quincy Min. Co., 149 Mich. 112, 14 Det. Leg. N. 367, 112 NW 739, overruling Thaisen v. Johns, 72 Mich. 285, 40 NW 727. Error in excluding questions to jurors harmless where they were not accepted and complaining party did not exhaust his peremptory challenges. American Surety Co. v. Scott & Co., 18 Okl. 264, 90 P 7. Error in allowing each defendant six peremptory challenges, though their interests were not adverse, harmless where appellant did not exhaust his peremptory challenges. Paris Grocer Co. v. Burks [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 892, 99 SW 1135. Overruling challenge to juror harmless where party did not challenge him peremptorily and where such juror dissented from a verdict against complaining party. Williamson v. St. v. Louis Transit Co., 202 Mo. 345, 100 SW 1072.

29. Although there was evidence tending to support case where on whole evidence different verdict would have been set aside, direction is harmless. Standidge v. Lynde, 120 Ill. App. 418. Peremptory instruction to find for a certain sum harmless where though the charge was denied by answer it was admitted by the testimony. Morehead's Trustee v. Anderson, 30 Ky. L. R. 1137, 100 SW 340. Giving affirmative charge in action of trespass harmless where no damages were shown notwithstanding technical trespass. Williams v. Alabama Cotton Oil Co. [Ala.] 44 S 957. Direction of verdict is harmless when, pending review, a decision by a state court in proceeding between same parties conclusively establishes successful party's right to verdict. Lamar v. Spalding [C. C. A.] 154 F 27.

30. Failure to specify grounds for new trial harmless where trial court was justified in setting aside verdict as against evidence. Israel v. Ury, 52 Misc. 525, 102 NYS 871. Denying motion to resettle order granting new trial on ground that motion did not specify grounds therefor held prejudicial. Israel v. Ury, 52 Misc. 523, 102 NYS 873.

31. Cochran v. Garrard [Ala.] 43 S. 721; Arkansas & L. R. Co. v. Stroude [Ark.] 100 SW 760; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Dupree [Ark.] 105 SW 878; Huyck v. Rennie [Cal.] 90 P 929; Vatuone v. Cannobio [Cal. App.] 83 P 374; Spotswood v. Spotswood [Cal. App.] 89 P 362; Yordi v. Yordi [Cal. App.] 91 P 348; Kelly v. Lewis, 38 Colo. 18, 88 P 388; Anderson v. Wyche, 126 Ga. 393, 55 SE 19; Central of Georgia R. Co. v. Augusta Brokerage Co. [Ga. App.] 58 SE 904; Wabash R. Co. v. Warren, 125 Ill. App. 416; Thomas v. Wightman, 129 Ill. App. 305; Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Gerard, 130 Ill. App.

225; Chicago Union Trac. Co. v. Ertrachter, 130 Ill. App. 602; Indianapolis St. R. Co. v. Taylor, 39 Ind. App. 592, 80 NE 436; Louisville & N. R. Co. v. Gollhur [Ind. App.] 82 NE 492; Tennis v. Gifford, 133 Iowa, 372, 110 NW 536; West Branch State Bk. v. Haines [Iowa] 112 NW 552; Rothenburger v. Schoniger, 30 Ky. L. R. 1018, 99 SW 1150; Crowley v. Burns Boiler & Mfg. Co., 100 Minn. 178, 110 NW 969; Stumpe v. Kopp, 201 Mo. 412, 99 SW 1073; Carp v. Queen Ins. Co. [Mo.] 101 SW 78; Haurigan v. Chicago & N. W. R. Co. [Neb.] 113 NW 983; McCartney v. Tittsworth 104 NYS 45; Duclos v. Kelley, 106 NYS 1058; McCutchen v. McCutchen [S. C.] 57 SE 678; Harbert v. Atlanta, etc., R. Co. [S. C.] 59 SE 644; Paris Grocer Co. v. Burks [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 892, 99 SW 1135; Continental Lumber Co. v. Garrison [Tex. Civ. App.] 101 SW 1020; Moore v. Hanscom [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 707, 103 SW 665; Punchard v. Masterson [Tex. Civ. App.] 103 SW 826; Massuco v. Tomasi [Vt.] 67 A 551; Browder v. Southern R. Co. [Va.] 57 SE 572; Pachko v. Wilkeson Coal & Coke Co. [Wash.] 90 P 436; Gelo v. Pfister & Vogel Leather Co. [Wis.] 113 NW 69; Banderob v. Wisconsin Cent. R. Co. [Wis.] 113 NW 738; International Mercantile Marine Co. v. Fleming [C. C. A.] 151 F 203. Improper evidence which did not show plaintiff entitled to a greater or less recovery than that had held harmless. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Brady [Ark.] 104 SW 160. In action to revive a judgment, admission of petition and judgment in original cause harmless where plaintiff had established right to revival. Henry v. Red Water Lumber Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 216, 102 SW 749. Evidence that city paid officer certain sum per month where shown that such sum was fixed by ordinance. City of San Antonio v. Serna [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 405, 99 SW 875. Evidence of receipt of notice harmless where notice was waived. Myers v. Maryland Casualty Co., 123 Mo. App. 682, 101 SW 124. Admission of release of mortgage harmless where right to subrogation existed whether mortgage was paid or not. Young v. Pecos County [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 387, 101 SW 1055. Evidence of statements to third persons harmless where same statements were shown to have been made to defendant's agent. Douglas Land Co. v. Thayer Co. [Va.] 58 SE 1101. Admission of evidence as to what exhibits did not show, harmless where no attack was made on correctness of exhibits. Hurwitz v. Gross [Cal. App.] 91 P 109. Improper evidence of manner of payment harmless where defendant was liable to reimburse plaintiff for amount expended. Id. Admitting evidence of value of services performed by witness without showing his competency harmless. Shively v. Eureka Tellurium Gold Min. Co. [Cal. App.] 89 P 1073. Admission of evidence to rebut presumption arising from failure to call witness held harmless. Weidner v. Standard Life & Acc. Ins. Co. [Wis.] 113 NW 50. Admission of argumentative questions and answers harmless. McArthur v. Sault News Printing Co., 148 Mich. 556, 14 Det. Leg. N. 265, 112 NW 126. Where executrix, suing on notes, alleges that they were property of her testator long before they became due, and were his property at time of his death, and defendant denies ownership, production of notes at trial is not prejudicial to defendant. Tucker v. Sherman, 9 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 70. Evidence in line with other competent evidence which proves no new facts, though erroneous. Smith v. Township of Au Gres, Michigan [C. C. A.] 150 F 257. Incompetent documentary evidence introduced solely to rebut inference which could not be drawn from other evidence. Page v. Hazelton [N. H.] 66 A 1049.

Immaterial evidence. Marx v. Raley & Co. [Cal. App.] 92 P 519; Citizens Sav. Bk. v. Boswell [Ky.] 104 SW 1014; Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Murray [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 566, 99 SW 144; International & G. N. R. Co. v. McVey [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 218, 102 SW 172. Evidence of age of party, though immaterial. Owensboro Wagon Co. v. Hall [Ala.] 43 S 71. Introduction of paper on which witness had written his name at request of counsel harmless. Goodloe v. Goodloe [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 960, 105 SW 523. Admission of evidence of good character of witness harmless. Colorado Salt Co. v. San Jacinto Oil Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 105 SW 822. Evidence in action for breach of marriage promise that defendant had promised priest to marry plaintiff where defense is denial of breach and accord and satisfaction. Massuco v. Tomasi [Vt.] 67 A 551. Admission of subpoenas with sheriff's return harmless. Southern R. Co. v. Cunningham [Ala.] 44 S 658.

Irrelevant evidence. Rector v. Robins [Ark.] 102 SW 209; Crankshaw v. Schweizer Mfg. Co., 1 Ga. App. 363, 58 SE 222; Lathan v. Western Union Tel. Co., 75 S. C. 129, 55 SE 134; Roberts v. Western Union Tel. Co. [S. C.] 56 SE 960. Evidence that after commencement of suit defendant remedied defect where due care on its part would not relieve it from liability. Vogt v. Grinnell, 133 Iowa, 363, 110 NW 603. Admission of evidence inadmissible under pleadings harmless where same could not have surprised defendant. Kline v. Santa Barbara Consol. R. Co., 150 Cal. 741, 90 P 125. Admission of incompetent evidence harmless where same had no bearing on matters in issue. Hollen v. Crim [W. Va.] 59 SE 172.

32. Torrey v. Kraus [Ala.] 43 S 184; Arellanes v. Arellanes [Cal.] 90 P 1059; Redpath v. Evening Exp. Co. [Cal. App.] 88 P 287; Matteson v. Southern Pac. Co. [Cal. App.] 92 P 101; Farmers' High Line Canal & Reservoir Co. v. New Hampshire Real Estate Co. [Colo.] 92 P 290; Watts v. River Forest, 227 Ill. 31, 81 NE 12; Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Gerard, 130 Ill. App. 225; Dean v. Carpenter, 134 Iowa, 275, 111 NW 815; In re Kalis Estate [Iowa] 113 NW 563; Huckins v. Randolph, 75 Kan. 815, 88 P 540; Farrell v. Sturtevant Co. [Mass.] 80 NE 469; Preston v. West Beach Corp. [Mass.] 81 NE 253; Gehlert v. Quinn, 35 Mont. 451, 90 P 168; Zeigler v. Interborough Rapid Transit Co., 104 NYS 822; Lippe v. Brandner, 105 NYS 225; Randazzo v. Brooklyn Heights R. Co., 121 App. Div. 573, 106 NYS 193; Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Schroeder [Tex. Civ. App.] 100 SW 808; Trow v. Preferred Acc. Ins. Co. [Vt.] 67 A 821; Wees dence which cannot have been efficient to the result is harmless.<sup>33</sup> For example, evidence which tended to prove a fact not necessary to the party's case,<sup>34</sup> or one conclusively disproved by other evidence,<sup>35</sup> or evidence erroneously admitted tending to prove a fact admitted or sufficiently proved by other competent evidence.<sup>36</sup> Like-

v. Page [Wash.] 91 P 766; Neumeister v. Goddard [Wis.] 113 NW 733; Mathieson Alkali Works v. Mathieson [C. C. A.] 150 F 241. Exclusion of evidence of which court takes judicial notice. City of San Antonio v. Serna [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 405, 99 SW 875. Evidence of custom of amount of commissions chargeable harmless when the same as that fixed by contract between parties. Morgan v. Barber [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 914, 99 SW 730. Exclusion of evidence of a party as to previous declaration for purposes of impeachment harmless, no predicate being necessary. Birmingham R. Light & Power Co. v. Hayes [Ala.] 44 S 1032. Exclusion of evidence harmless where if admitted it would not have established a right to recover. Alabama Mineral Land Co. v. Blockton-Cahaba Coal Co. [Ala.] 43 S 831. Where evidence excluded would not have made out a prima facie case for plaintiff, its exclusion is harmless. Patt v. Gerst [Ala.] 42 S 1001. Best method for ascertaining whether roof of mine was safe where it was not incumbent on plaintiff to resort thereto. Antioch Coal Co. v. Rockey [Ind.] 82 NE 76. Exclusion of evidence on objection which had previously been admitted without objection. Stillman v. Thompson [Conn.] 67 A 528. In action for injuries caused by breaking of hurricane deck of ferry boat, exclusion of evidence that such decks on excursion boats were constructed with a view to carrying passengers harmless where construction of deck in question was fully testified to. Evers v. Wiggins Ferry Co. [Mo. App.] 105 SW 306. Evidence on an immaterial issue. Texas & P. R. Co. v. Edrington [Tex. Civ. App.] 102 SW 1171. Photograph of furniture to show value Foss v. Smith, 79 Vt. 434, 65 A 533.

33. Rulings on evidence as to undisputed facts harmless. Gambill v. Cargo [Ala.] 43 S 866.

34. Park v. Park [Colo.] 91 P 830; Purcell Cotton Seed Oil Mills v. Bell [Ind. T.] 104 SW 944; Vorhes v. Buchwald [Iowa] 112 NW 1105. Livering's Ex'r v. Russell, 30 Ky. L. R. 1185, 100 SW 840.

35. In re Anderson v. Husted, 79 Conn. 535, 66 A 7.

36. Mann v. Mann [Cal.] 91 P 994; Brackett & Co. v. Americus Grocery Co., 127 Ga. 672, 56 SE 762; Stoutenborough v. Rammel, 123 Ill. App. 487; Borst v. Lynch, 133 Iowa, 567, 110 NW 1031; Figures v. State [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 701, 99 SW 412; Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Still [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 582, 100 SW 176; McGill v. Sites [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 62, 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 695, 103 SW 695. Admission of evidence to show matters presumed to be true. Nelson v. Spence [Ga.] 58 SE 697. Where legitimacy of child was conclusively established, error in admitting testimony of resemblance to father is harmless. O'Dell v. Goff, 149 Mich. 152, 14 Det. Leg. N. 399, 112 NW 736. Error in admission of evidence harmless where truth of evidence is afterward admitted by witness for adverse party. Concord Apartment House v. O'Brien, 228 Ill. 360, 81 NE 1038. Admission of documents as to which complaining party had already testified. Larkin v. Trammel [Tex. Civ. App.] 20 Tex. Ct. Rep. 43, 105 SW 552. Admission of hearsay. Travelers' Ins. Co. v. Bingham [Ky.] 105 SW 894; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Gunter [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 571, 99 SW 152. Performance of services proved by evidence other than book entries erroneously admitted. Burke v. Baker [N. Y.] 80 NE 1033. Admission of evidence of facts to which complaining party had already testified. Lanigan v. Neely [Cal. App.] 89 P 441. Evidence of value of services at time of trial where other evidence showed it was the same at time of injury. Central of Georgia R. Co. v. McNab [Ala.] 43 S 222. Admission of books of account without laying foundation harmless where facts elicited were shown by other evidence. Alabama Lumber Co. v. Cross [Ala.] 44 S 563. Where evidence showed husband was guilty of cruel treatment of wife, admission of evidence that he had been divorced three times from other women on ground of cruelty harmless. Livering's Ex'r v. Russell, 30 Ky. L. R. 1185, 100 SW 840. Admission of declarations harmless where merely cumulative. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Houchins [Ky.] 101 SW 924. Admission of improper evidence of damages harmless where correct elements of damages were shown. Hempstead v. Salt Lake City [Utah] 90 P 397. Evidence of incompetent witness harmless when facts testified to are established by other competent testimony. Bispham v. Turner [Ark.] 103 SW 1135; Chesapeake & O. R. Co. v. Perkins [Ky.] 105 SW 148; Shearer v. Hill, 125 Mo. App. 375, 102 SW 673. Admission of evidence of value without first showing competency of witness harmless when established by other evidence. Anderson v. Wheeler, 125 Mo. App. 406, 102 SW 628. Admission harmless where similar testimony was received without objection. McVay v. Central California Inv. Co. [Cal. App.] 91 P 745; Daughtry v. Savannah & S. R. Co., 1 Ga. App. 393, 58 SE 230; Slaughter v. Jasper County [Iowa] 113 NW 545; Missouri, K. & T. R. Co. v. Carter [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 691, 104 SW 910. Admission of offer of compromise harmless where similar evidence had been received without objection. Hall v. Jennings [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 602, 104 SW 489.

Facts admitted. Walters v. Mitchell [Cal. App.] 92 P 315; Richards v. Sanderson [Colo.] 89 P 769; Shepperd v. Fisher, 206 Mo. 208, 103 SW 989; Shelton Implement Co. v. Parlor Furniture & Mattress Co. [Neb.] 112 NW 618. Facts admitted by pleadings. Webb v. Hicks, 127 Ga. 170, 56 SE 307.

Undisputed matters. Little Rock & Ft. Smith R. Co. v. Wallis [Ark.] 102 SW 390; Glanz v. Miller, 230 Ill. 196, 82 NE 591; Indianapolis St. R. Co. v. Taylor, 39 Ind. App. 592, 80 NE 436; Jacobsen v. Omaha [Neb.] 113 NW 792; Portland & Seattle R. Co. v. Ladd [Wash.] 91 P 573. Where facts are wise, the rejection of evidence of facts otherwise established<sup>37</sup> unless prejudice plainly appears.<sup>38</sup> Error in evidence is innocuous in a trial of facts by the court where it may be supposed that the decision was founded solely on proper proofs.<sup>39</sup> Likewise, where the case is tried de novo on appeal.<sup>40</sup> An improper mode of questioning or an erroneous ruling on a proper question may be harmless because of the answer given<sup>41</sup> or the lack of an answer.<sup>42</sup> Application of these doctrines to diuncontroverted, though immaterial, evidence tending to establish same is harmless. Hartzell v. Murray, 127 Ill. App. 608. Admission of offer of compromise harmless where there was no dispute as to amount which plaintiff claimed was due defendant interposing a set-off. White v. Davenport [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 463, 101 SW 1036. Expert evidence. Schillinger Bros. Co. v. Smith, 225 Ill. 74, 80 NE 65. Unsworn testimony as to undisputed facts harmless. Hodd v. Tacoma [Wash.] 88 P 842.

37. Johnson v. Birmingham R., Light & Power Co. [Ala.] 43 S 33; Crenshaw v. Shapleigh Hardware Co. [Ark.] 100 SW 882; Johnson v. Center [Cal. App.] 88 P 727; Beckerle v. Brandon, 229 Ill. 323, 82 NE 266; Vorhes v. Buchwald [Iowa] 115 NW 1105; Louisville & N. R. Co. v. Beeler [Ky.] 103 SW 300; Keys v. Winnsboro Granite Co. [S. C.] 56 SE 949; Breeden v. Martens [S. D.] 113 NW 960; San Antonio Trac. Co. v. Lambkin [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 382, 99 SW 574; Meyer Bros. Drug Co. v. Madden, Graham & Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 908, 99 SW 723; Missouri, K. & T. R. Co. v. Lindsey [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 304, 101 SW 863; Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Wittnebert [Tex. Civ. App.] 104 SW 424. Exclusion of writings where jury was informed of contents. Erbes v. Smith, 35 Mont. 38, 88 P 568. Exclusion of evidence on ground of incompetency where facts are proved by other witnesses. Goddard v. Enzler, 123 Ill. App. 108, affd. 222 Ill. 462, 78 NE 805. Decisions tending to show that law of another state was the same as law of state in which action was brought, there being no showing to contrary. Austin v. Whitcher [Iowa] 110 NW 910. Where witness testified there was no difference between specifications for two organs, exclusion of question as to what the difference between the organs was held harmless. Estey Organ Co. v. Lehman [Wis.] 111 NW 1097. Refusal to admit secondary evidence where best evidence of matters sought to be proved was afterward introduced. Milholen v. McDonald & Morrison Mfg. Co. [Iowa] 112 NW 812. Excluding question as to "integrity" of defendant in action for breach of marriage promise and seduction harmless where his chastity was shown by other evidence. Lanigan v. Neely [Cal. App.] 89 P 441. Facts shown by other witnesses. Gehlert v. Quinn, 35 Mont. 451, 90 P 168; McCafferty v. Lewando's French Dyeing & Cleansing Co. [Mass.] 80 NE 460. Evidence tending to prove undisputed facts. Arellanes v. Arellanes [Cal.] 90 P 1059; Gray Lumber Co. v. Harris, 127 Ga. 693, 56 SE 252; Keller v. Chicago, B. & Q. R. Co. [Neb.] 111 NW 384; Moore v. Linn [Okla.] 91 P 910; Moody & Co. v. Rowland [Tex. Civ. App.] 102 SW 911; Anderson v. Arpin Hardwood Lumber Co., 131 Wis. 34, 110 NW 788. Facts established by uncontroverted evidence. Hinkle v. Smith, 127 Ga. 437, 56 SE 464. Exclusion of evidence of admitted facts. Powers v. Hatter [Ala.] 44 S 859; Campbell v. Collins, 133 Iowa, 152, 110 NW 435; Breiner v. Nugent [Iowa] 111 NW 446. Error pertaining to evidence relating to averments in complaint admitted by answer harmless. Mendocino County v. Peters, 2 Cal. App. 24, 82 P 1122. Exclusion of testimony on former trial to impeach witness where latter admitted testimony to have been as claimed. Smith v. International & G. N. R. Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 583, 99 SW 564.

38. In action to recover over-payment on note, exclusion of evidence tending to show two payments on one day, which if true constituted an excessive payment though receipt of one was admitted, held prejudicial. Campbell v. Collins, 133 Iowa, 152, 110 NW 435.

39. Mahoney v. State Ins. Co., 133 Iowa, 570, 110 NW 1041; Waddington v. Lane, 202 Mo. 387, 100 SW 1139; Texas Cent. R. Co. v. Marrs [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 229, 101 SW 1177; Western Union Tel. Co. v. O'Fiel [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 653, 104 SW 406; Chlopeck v. Chlopeck [Wash.] 91 P 966; Vera Cruz & P. R. Co. v. Waddell [C. C. A.] 155 F 401. Trial before chancellor. Dings v. Dings, 123 Ill. App. 318. Evidence taken before master. Long v. Athol [Mass.] 82 NE 665. Mechanics' lien being tried without jury, erroneous admission of evidence is harmless. Spafford v. McNally, 130 Wis. 537, 110 NW 387. Immaterial evidence. Breeden v. Martens [S. D.] 112 NW 960. Hearsay. State Nat. Bk. of New Orleans v. Roberts [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 714, 103 SW 454. Report of referee confirmed by court when supported by competent testimony. Bossi's Estate v. Baehr [Wis.] 113 NW 433. Harmless unless evidence improperly admitted entered into result at which trial court arrived. Southern R. Co. v. St. Louis Hay & Grain Co. [C. C. A.] 153 F 728; McCready v. Crane, 74 Kan. 710, 88 P 748. Admission of incompetent testimony harmless where decree is sustained by competent evidence. Patrick v. Kirkland [Fla.] 43 S 969; Champion v. McCarthy, 228 Ill. 87, 81 NE 808; Shedd v. Seefeld, 230 Ill. 118, 82 NE 580; Slattery v. Stevens, 125 Ill. App. 67; McIntosh v. Fisher, 125 Ill. App. 511; Ritzmuller v. Neuer, 130 Ill. App. 380; Baker v. Montgomery [Neb.] 110 NW 695; Palmer v. McFarlane [Neb.] 111 NW 794; Charles v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co. [S. C.] 58 SE 927; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Watkins [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 746, 100 SW 162; Coleman v. Grand Lodge Colored Knights of Pythias [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 849, 104 SW 909.

40. Brown v. Baldwin [Wash.] 89 P 483.

41. Question calling for conclusion cured by indefinite answer. Young v. Metropolitan St. R. Co. [Mo. App.] 103 SW 135. Improper rect.<sup>43</sup> redirect.<sup>44</sup> and cross-examination,<sup>45</sup> and to the order of taking proof,<sup>46</sup> the burden of proof,<sup>47</sup> the reception of affidavits and depositions,<sup>48</sup> opinion<sup>49</sup> and expert question cured by negative answer. Bodcaw Lumber Co. v. Ford [Ark.] 102 SW 896. Leading question harmless where answer was the same as to another question which was not leading. Western Union Tel. Co. v. Hardison [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 248, 101 SW 541. Question objectionable as calling for conclusion harmless where answer is strictly a matter of opinion. Thomas v. Metropolitan St. R. Co., 125 Mo. App. 131, 100 SW 1121. Overruling objection to question as to conversation harmless where answer did not show what conversation was. Sanders v. Davis [Ala.] 44 S 979. Where answer did not disclose any fact injurious to objecting party. Id. Unresponsive answer establishing nothing. Yick Wo v. Underhill [Cal. App.] 90 P 967; Southern R. Co. v. Hobbs [Ala.] 43 S 844. Where witness treated question as calling for testimony as to facts and not his opinion, admission of answer is harmless. Vannest v. Murphy [Iowa] 112 NW 236. Where answer is competent though question is improper. Dickinson v. Pere Marquette R. Co., 148 Mich. 461, 14 Det. Leg. N. 252, 111 NW 1078. Answer showing lack of knowledge of facts sought. Simone v. Rhode Island Co. [R. I.] 66 A 202.

42. Birmingham R., Light & Power Co. v. Moore [Ala.] 42 S 1024. Where question is not answered. Hoskins v. Saunders [Conn.] 66 A 785. Question withdrawn before answer. San Antonio Trac. Co. v. Davis [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 978, 101 SW 554.

43. Allowance of leading questions. Gress Co. v. Berry [Ga. App.] 58 SE 384; Sovereign Camp Woodmen of the World v. Bridges [Ind. T.] 104 SW 672; Walker v. Baldwin [Md.] 68 A 25. Arbitrarily restricting examination harmless where party was not prevented from introducing material evidence on which case turned. Boldenweck v. Bullis [Colo.] 90 P 634. Leading question on rebuttal harmless, matter having been fully inquired into. Logeman Bros. Co. v. Preuss Co., 131 Wis. 122, 111 NW 64.

44. Admission of conclusion on redirect harmless where same conclusion was elicited on cross-examination. Newvahnner v. Wabash R. Co. [Mo. App.] 105 SW 21. Erroneously curtailing re-examination of matter fully testified to harmless. Beaty v. Hood, 229 Ill. 562, 82 NE 350. Evidence improper on redirect held harmless. Sheldon v. Wright [Vt.] 67 A 807.

45. Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Still [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 582, 100 SW 176. Refusal to allow question as to plaintiff's willingness to submit to physical examination harmless where defendant's counsel was permitted to comment upon her refusal to do so. City of Chicago v. McNally, 227 Ill. 14, 81 NE 23. Refusal to allow cross-examination where witness was afterward allowed to testify fully on subject. Kohl v. Bradley, Clark & Co., 130 Wis. 301, 110 NW 265. Exclusion of questions calling for conclusion as to matters regarding which witness had fully testified. Gardner v. Waterloo Cream Separator Co., 134 Iowa, 6, 111 NW 316. Admission of irrelevant cross-examination following a general examination regarding same matter which was not objected to held harmless. Pelton v. Spider Lake Sawmill & Lumber Co. [Wis.] 112 NW 29. Exclusion of question on cross-examination harmless where further examination elicited information sought. Vorhes v. Buchwald [Iowa] 112 NW 1105; Antioch Coal Co. v. Rockey [Ind.] 82 NE 76. Exclusion of proper question on cross-examination as to manner of making alleged payment harmless where from entire record it appears that money was paid. Neves v. Costa [Cal. App.] 89 P 860. Error in permitting improper cross-examination harmless where matter elicited is subsequently shown. Williams v. Myer, 150 Cal. 714, 89 P 972. Unnecessary restriction of cross-examination which did not prevent party from introducing material evidence on which case turned harmless. Boldenweck v. Bullis [Colo.] 90 P 634. Unresponsive answer to immaterial question on cross-examination harmless. City of Chicago v. McNally, 227 Ill. 14, 81 NE 23.

46. Error in reopening case harmless where only evidence offered by defendant was after case was reopened and where that introduced by plaintiff was immaterial. Purcell Cotton Seed Oil Mills v. Bell [Ind. T.] 104 SW 944. Limitation on purposes for which evidence introduced out of order might be considered, harmless. Griffin v. Working Woman's Home Ass'n [Ala.] 44 S 605. Admitting evidence out of order harmless. Butte Consol. Min. Co. v. Barker, 35 Mont. 327, 89 P 302. Allowing plaintiff to introduce further proof after resting, harmless. Brockmiller v. Industrial Works, 148 Mich. 642, 14 Det. Leg. N. 336, 112 NW 688. Admission of evidence in rebuttal which was excluded when offered in chief held harmless, complaining party not having requested an opportunity to introduce further evidence. In re Hendershott's Estate, 134 Iowa, 320, 111 NW 969.

47. See 8 C. L. 19.

48. Refusal to permit reading of deposition containing nothing beneficial to party's case harmless. Morehead's Trustee v. Anderson, 30 Ky. L. R. 1137, 100 SW 340. Erroneous admission of deposition containing merely cumulative testimony harmless. O'Keefe v. United Ry.'s Co. [Mo. App.] 101 SW 1144.

49. Atlantic & B. R. Co. v. Cordele, 128 Ga. 293, 57 SE 493. Admission of conclusion as to amount due for services rendered harmless where it was only a matter of computation. Milhollen v. McDonald & M. Mfg. Co. [Iowa] 112 NW 812. Exclusion of testimony as to weight of hitching weight as conclusion harmless where defect claimed was in strap attached to it. Barry v. Kurshan, 103 NYS 120. Admission of nonexpert testimony as to possibility of guarding dangerous machinery held harmless. Roy Lumber Co. v. Donnelly [Ky.] 103 SW 255. Question as to what would be required to make place safe harmless, though master was obliged to use only ordinary care to make it safe. Spencer v. Bruner [Mo. App.] 103 SW 578. Opinion evidence constituting mere argument from undisputed facts. Castner Electrolytic Alkali Co. v. Davies [C. C. A.] 154 F 938. Exclusion of opinion harmless where facts from which jury could draw testimony,<sup>50</sup> admission of secondary evidence,<sup>51</sup> and rulings on motions to strike evidence,<sup>52</sup> are cited below. A few illustrative cases wherein errors respecting evidence have been held prejudicial are collected.<sup>53</sup> Improper argument,<sup>54</sup> or conduct proper inferences were before them. Cumberland Tel. & T. Co. v. Graves' Adm'x [Ky.] 104 SW 356. Error in admitting opinion harmless where facts on which it is based are also stated. Illinois So. R. Co. v. Hamill, 226 Ill. 88, 80 NE 745; Bolen-Darnall Coal Co. v. Williams [Ind. T.] 104 SW 867; Churchill v. Mace, 148 Mich. 456, 111 NW 1034; Columbia Box & Lumber Co. v. Brown [C. C. A.] 156 F 459. Admission of conclusion harmless where witness had been permitted to answer same conclusion without objection. Doyle v. Eschen [Cal. App.] 89 P 836. Admission of conclusion as to possibility of hearing signals harmless where witness testified that he did not hear them. Chesapeake & O. R. Co. v. Perkins [Ky.] 105 SW 148. Admission of conclusion harmless where matter elicited is shown by other competent evidence. Brunswick-Balke Collender Co. v. Northern Assur. Co. [Mich.] 14 Det. Leg. N. 651, 113 NW 1113. Admission of conclusion as to authority of agent where other evidence showed its existence. Kohl v. Bradley, Clark & Co., 130 Wis. 301, 110 NW 265. Error in admitting opinion as to direction of wind produced by explosion harmless, as same was manifest. Bolen-Darnall Coal Co. v. Williams [Ind. T.] 104 SW 867. Admission of self-evident conclusion harmless, all facts being in evidence. Farnsworth v. Union Pac. Coal Co. [Utah] 89 P 74. Admission of conclusion of witness harmless where shown to be true. Marquette Cement Mfg. Co. v. Williams, 230 Ill. 26, 82 NE 424. Admission of conclusion harmless in view of other evidence showing probable truth thereof. Hodd v. Tacoma [Wash.] 88 P 842. Admission of conclusion as to ownership harmless where aside from question of conveyance being fraudulent ownership was conceded. Seivert v. Galvin [Wis.] 113 NW 680. Rejection of opinion evidence as to matters of common knowledge or bearing only remotely on issues litigated. Galloway v. Massee [Wis.] 113 NW 1098. Admission of conclusion on uncontroverted issue harmless. Chew v. Jackson [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 678, 102 SW 427; Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Rogers [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 197, 102 SW 739.

50. Excluding hypothetical question harmless where party had benefit of witness' opinion in answer to other questions. Southern R. Co. v. Cunningham [Ala.] 44 S 658. Improper hypothetical question harmless, evidence elicited thereby being established by other competent testimony. O'Keefe v. United Rys. Co. [Mo. App.] 101 SW 1144. Improper hypothetical question harmless where answer would not have been different had question been correct. Rogers v. Mexico City Banking Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 853, 103 SW 461. Where question and answer showed that expert only testified that injuries resulted from some such violence as that suffered by plaintiff, there being no dispute but that injuries resulted from accident alleged, admission is harmless. McGovern v. Interurban R. Co. [Iowa] 111 NW 412. Admission of expert's conclusion as to amount of diminution in value harmless. Hempstead v. Salt Lake City [Utah] 90 P 337. Failure to qualify expert harmless where facts testified to by him are shown to be true. Hedges v. Metropolitan St. R. Co., 125 Mo. App. 583, 102 SW 1086. Where expert had been qualified to testify as to value of land, exclusion of question as to his knowledge of local values held harmless. Ranck v. Cedar Rapids, 134 Iowa, 563, 111 NW 1027. Evidence held merely descriptive and not prejudicial as an attempt to get non-expert testimony before jury. Listman Mill Co. v. Miller, 131 Wis. 303, 111 NW 496. Medical testimony claimed to be speculative held harmless. Chicago Union Trac. Co. v. Ertrachter, 228 Ill. 114, 81 NE 816.

51. Secondary evidence of letter, contents of which were in another letter received in evidence, harmless. Murphy v. American Can Co. [Md.] 67 A 17. Admission of secondary evidence where adverse party had already proved contents of writing. Indiana Match Co. v. Kirk, 118 Ill. App. 102. Admission of secondary evidence without laying foundation harmless where same was immaterial. First Nat. Bk. v. Carroll, 35 Mont. 302, 88 P 1012. Copy of deposition taken on former trial held harmless. Miller v. Canton, 123 Mo. App. 325, 100 SW 571. Permitting copy properly introduced to remain in evidence after introduction of original, harmless. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. White [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 664, 103 SW 673. Admission of secondary evidence as to matters not in dispute harmless. Kepner v. Ford [N. D.] 111 NW 619.

52. Refusal to strike out interrogatories where facts shown thereby were proved by other competent evidence. State v. Co-Operative Homebuilders [Wash.] 91 P 953. Refusal to strike out conclusion that car was running at an "unpardonable rate" harmless where it was conceded that car had escaped control and was running at a dangerous rate. Kline v. Santa Barbara Consol. R. Co., 150 Cal. 741, 90 P 125. Refusal to strike answer as not responsive held without prejudice where it was a mere repetition of evidence which had been properly admitted. Coffey v. Omaha & C. B. St. R. Co. [Neb.] 112 NW 589. Refusal to strike out answer as speculative harmless in light of other testimony of same witness showing that matters referred to were reasonably certain to occur. City of Chicago v. Jarvis, 226 Ill. 614, 80 NE 1079. Striking out answer of witness harmless where defendant was afterward allowed to testify to same matter. King v. Zell [Md.] 66 A 279. Striking out immaterial evidence harmless. Hade Bros. v. Milliken [Cal. App.] 90 P 365; Sarchfield v. Hayes [Iowa] 112 NW 1100.

53. Admission of requisition by claim agent to superintendent for information regarding accident. Weinstein v. Interurban St. R. Co., 52 Misc. 468, 102 NYS 512. Evidence that building inspector who had approved defective wall was member of defendant corporation which owned it. Kupfersmith v. Hopper, 106 NYS 797. Ad-of counsel,<sup>55</sup> or party,<sup>56</sup> or interference with the right to open and close,<sup>57</sup> may be disregarded if without material effect on the result. The same is true of remarks by the court.<sup>58</sup> Error in instructing the jury or refusing to do so is ground for remission of writings incompetent under pleading is not rendered harmless because portion of them were competent for another purpose. In re Boyes' Estate [Cal.] 90 P 454. Evidence inadmissible under pleadings. Naughton v. Laclede Gaslight Co., 123 Mo. App. 192, 100 SW 1104. Admission of marginal satisfaction of chattel mortgage without showing authority of officer making it. Wilson v. Johnson [Ala.] 44 S 539. Improper admission of marriage license where legality of marriage was in issue. Smallwood v. Kimball [Ga.] 58 SE 640. Admission of evidence under issue not tendered. Ilfeld v. Ziegler [Colo.] 91 P 825. In action for personal injuries, admission of evidence that defendant was a "trust." Crammond v. International Paper Co., 116 App. Div. 39, 101 NYS 363. In action for libel, evidence of writing of libelous letters to others. Price v. Clapp [Tenn.] 105 SW 864. Admission of privileged communications containing admissions. Hardy v. Martin, 150 Cal. 341, 89 P 111. Admission of offer of compromise. Whitney v. Cleveland [Idaho] 91 P 176. Admission of offer of compromise where amount of loss was one of the principal issues. Cullen v. Insurance Co. of North America [Mo. App.] 104 SW 117.

Exclusion of corroborative evidence where testimony conflicted. Hansen v. Kline [Iowa] 113 NW 504. Exclusion of evidence tending to establish plea of limitations interposed against claim of interveners. Kirby v. Hayden [Tex. Civ. App.] 99 SW 746. Exclusion of evidence that witness had a pecuniary interest in suit as attorney on contingent fee prejudicial, though jury knew he was counsel for plaintiff in the action. Pecos River R. Co. v. Harrington [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 67, 99 SW 1050.

54. See Argument and Conduct of Counsel, 9 C. L. 239. Chicago & G. T. R. Co. v. Smith, 124 Ill. App. 627; Major v. Brewster, 148 Mich. 623, 14 Det. Leg. N. 323, 112 NW 490; McGinnis v. Rigby Printing Co., 122 Mo. App. 277, 99 SW 4; Harless v. Southwest Mo. Elec. R. Co., 123 Mo. App. 22, 99 SW 793; McArthur v. Kansas City El. R. Co., 123 Mo. App. 503, 100 SW 62; Duerler Mfg. Co. v. Eichhom [Tex. Civ. App.] 99 SW 715. Houston & T. C. R. Co. v. Davis [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 662, 100 SW 1013. Allusion to change inapplicable to pending case enlarging recovery for wrongful death harmless. Chicago City R. Co. v. Strong, 230 Ill. 58, 82 NE 335. Referring to witness in conjunction with statement that certain evidence was made for him harmless. Id. Statement that thousands of men lose their lives annually by reason of negligence of railroads more than in war between Russia and Japan harmless. Louisville & A. R. Co. v. Wilson, 30 Ky. L. R. 734, 99 SW 634. Statement that two juries had found in same way on certain issues harmless in view of denial by trial judge and opposing counsel. Meyer Bros. Drug Co. v. Madden, Graham & Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 908, 99 SW 723. Improper argument on question of damages harmless in view of previous correct instruction. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Smith [Ark.] 100 SW 884. Improper statement harmless where withdrawn on objection. San Antonio Trac. Co. v. Davis [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 978, 101 SW 554. That it is easier to copy handwriting with a pencil than with a pen held a mere appeal to experience of jury. Foss v. Smith, 79 Vt. 434, 65 A 553. Statement that plaintiff's counsel had admitted plaintiff was a knave. Id.

Held prejudicial: Comment of counsel upon evidence excluded coupled with failure of court to charge jury to disregard same held prejudicial. Hanstad v. Canadian Pac. R. Co. [Wash.] 87 P 832. Statement that member of court of appeals would approve verdict for twice amount sued for because he was a Confederate soldier held prejudicial. San Antonio Trac. Co. v. Lambkin [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 382, 99 SW 574.

55. Statement by counsel that he wished to refresh memory of witness and that her memory was not good harmless. Walker v. Walker [R. I.] 67 A 519. Reading rules of railway company where one was same as a rule put in evidence and the other had no bearing on issue harmless. Minot v. Boston, etc., R. Co. [N. H.] 66 A 825. Repeatedly asking same question after exclusion held harmless. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Knowles [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 83, 99 SW 867. Placing certain memoranda on face of instructions inadvertently harmless where most of them were meaningless. Russell v. Quincy, etc., R. Co., 125 Mo. App. 441, 102 SW 613. Controversy between counsel as to reading decision of supreme court to jury harmless where same was not read. Mooney v. Seattle, R. & S. R. [Wash.] 92 P 408.

56. Merely conversing with jurors and laughing at their insipid jokes held not to require reversal. McGraw v. O'Neil, 123 Mo. App. 691, 101 SW 132.

57. Denial of right to open and close harmless where trial is before court on law and fact. Poole v. Johnson [Ky.] 101 SW 955.

58. Midland Valley R. Co. v. Hamilton [Ark.] 104 SW 540; First Nat. Bk. v. Yoeman, 17 Okl. 613, 90 P 412; Byron v. Eastern Coal Co. [R. I.] 67 A 447; McGowan v. Watertown, 130 Wis. 555, 110 NW 402. Admission to witness while on stand but not in presence or hearing of jury harmless. Zink v. Lahart [N. D.] 110 NW 931. Remark in overruling objection that question was incompetent harmless, the question being in fact incompetent. Arkansas & L. R. Co. v. Stroude [Ark.] 100 SW 760. Remark of court that he would consider certain documents in evidence harmless where they were not read to jury. Hammond v. Decker [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 556, 102 SW 453.

Held prejudicial: Expression of opinion as to evidence. Central of Georgia R. Co. v. Augusta Brokerage Co. [Ga. App.] 58 SE

versal when the jury has been misled or it was efficient to the result declared in the verdict,<sup>59</sup> and not otherwise.<sup>60</sup> The verdict and findings may indicate whether an 904. Remark of court in ruling on evidence that same was not very material nor entitled to much weight. Schneider v. Great Northern R. Co. [Wash.] 91 P 565.

59. Denver & R. G. R. Co. v. Gannon [Colo.] 90 P 853; Atlanta, etc., R. Co. v. McManus, 1 Ga. App. 302, 58 SE 258; Indianapolis Trac. & T. Co. v. Richey [Ind. App.] 80 NE 170; Atkinson v. Maris [Ind. App.] 81 NE 745; Reliance Mfg. Co. v. Langley [Ind. App.] 82 NE 114; Reynolds v. Taylor, 144 N. C. 165, 56 SE 871; Western Union Tel. Co. v. De Andrea [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 11, 100 SW 977; Texas & P. R. Co. v. Stoker [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 998, 103 SW 1183. Error in instruction is ground for reversal notwithstanding existence of other grounds upon which verdict might be based. Cole v. Blue Ridge R. Co., 75 S. C. 156, 55 SE 126. Instruction assuming truth of disputed facts. Thompson v. Fitzgerald [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 967, 105 SW 334. Submission of court not sustained by evidence prejudicial where it does not appear on what count verdict was rendered. Wilmington Star Min. Co. v. Fulton, 205 U. S. 60, 51 Law. Ed. 708. Refusal to instruct on issue presented by evidence. Stukey v. Rissinger, 31 Pa. Super. Ct. 3. Instruction in eminent domain proceeding that special benefits could not be set off against damage to land not taken where evidence tended to show such benefits. Peoria, B. & C. Trac. Co. v. Vance, 225 Ill. 270, 80 NE 134. Instruction submitting construction of lease to jury held prejudicial though inadvertent. Erie Crawford Oil Co. v. Meeks [Ind. App.] 81 NE 518. Under Acts 1903, p. 338, c. 193, failure to give instructions in writing constitutes reversible error. Molt v. Hoover [Ind. App.] 82 NE 535. Authorizing jury to find ratification by principal if shown that he had actual or constructive notice. Heinzerling v. Agen [Wash.] 90 P 262. Instruction not based on evidence. Chadister v. Baltimore & O. R. Co. [W. Va.] 59 SE 523. Refusal to charge in action for wrongful death that amount of insurance collected on decedent's life was not to be considered in determining his savings. Nevers Lumber Co. v. Fields [Ala.] 44 S 81. Error in submitting issue not made by pleadings. Kampmann v. McCormick [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 588, 99 SW 1147. Contradictory instructions. McCurry v. Hawkins [Ark.] 103 SW 600. Instruction on damages. Gibler v. Terminal R. Ass'n [Nev.] 101 SW 37. Failure to define words "remote," "actual," and "speculative" in instruction on damages prejudicial. First Nat. Bk. v. Carroll, 35 Mont. 302, 88 P 1012.

60. West Pratt Coal Co. v. Andrews [Ala.] 43 S 348; Birmingham Rolling Mill Co. v. Myers [Ala.] 43 S 492; Louisville & N. R. Co. v. Sherrell [Ala.] 41 S 631; De Amado v. Friedman [Ariz.] 89 P 588; Arkansas Mut. Fire Ins. Co. v. Claiborne [Ark.] 100 SW 751; Miller v. Fireman's Fund Ins. Co. [Cal. App.] 92 P 332; Daniels v. Johnston [Colo.] 89 P 811; Penn Mut. Life Ins. Co. v. Ornauer [Colo.] 90 P 816; Jackson v. Citizens' Bk. & Trust Co. [Fla.]

44 S 516; Overstreet v. Nashville Lumber Co., 127 Ga. 458, 56 SE 650; Stern v. Bradner Smith & Co., 225 Ill. 430, 80 NE 307; Village of Palestine v. Siler, 225 Ill. 630, 80 NE 345; St. Louis Merchants' Bridge Terminal Ry. Ass'n v. Schultz, 226 Ill. 409, 80 NE 879; Chicago Consol. Trac. Co. v. Mahoney, 230 Ill. 562, 82 NE 868; Hanchett v. Haas, 125 Ill. App. 111, afid. 219 Ill. 546, 76 NE 845; Kluge v. Crank, 127 Ill. App. 39; Molt v. Hoover [Ind. App.] 81 NE 221; Schaefer v. Anchor Mut. Fire Ins. Co., 133 Iowa, 205, 110 NW 470; Tiller v. Chicago, B. & Q. R. Co. [Iowa] 112 NW 631; Heath v. Hagan [Iowa] 113 NW 342; Wilson's Adm'r v. Wilson, 30 Ky. L. R. 695, 99 SW 319; Westerfield v. McDonald, 30 Ky. L. R. 1034, 100 SW 230; Trabue v. Todd County [Ky.] 102 SW 309; Owensboro City R. Co. v. Robertson [Ky.] 104 SW 707; Henry v. Manistique Iron Co., 174 Mich. 509, 14 Det. Leg. N. 35, 111 NW 79; Brady v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co., 206 Mo. 509, 102 SW 978; Hax v. Quincy, etc., R. Co., 123 Mo. App. 172, 100 SW 693; Haven v. Tartar, 124 Mo. App. 691, 102 SW 21; German Nat. Bk. v. Laffin [Neb.] 111 NW 578; Christensen v. Floriston Pulp & Paper Co. [Nev.] 92 P 210; Ware v. Guatemalan & Mexican Mahogany & Export Co., 104 NYS 520; Kuhl v. Supreme Lodge Select K. & L., 18 Okl. 383, 89 P 1126; Love v. Turner [S. C.] 59 SE 529; Harbert v. Atlanta, etc., R. Co. [S. C.] 59 SE 644; Lowry v. Southern R. Co., 117 Tenn. 507, 101 SW 1157; Carrera v. Dibrell [Tex. Civ. App.] 15 Tex. Ct. Rep. 587, 95 SW 628; International & G. N. R. Co. v. Elder [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 90, 99 SW 856; Houston & T. C. R. Co. v. Anglin [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 714, 99 SW 897; Oliver v. Grant [Tex. Civ. App.] 100 SW 1022; Gilmore v. Houston Elec. Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 436, 102 SW 168; Texas & N. O. R. Co. v. Scarborough [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 828, 104 SW 408; Merryman v. Hoover [Va.] 59 SE 483; Duteau v. Seattle Elec. Co. [Wash.] 88 P 755; Johnston v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 130 Wis. 492, 110 NW 424; Montana Min. Co. v. St. Louis Min. & Mill. Co. [C. C. A.] 147 F 897. Instruction erroneously stating time at which value of converted goods should be taken where no showing of different value at correct time. Pearne v. Coyne, 79 Conn. 570, 65 A 973. Directing assessment of value as of a certain date when value was the same as on the correct date. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Stewart, 201 Mo. 491, 100 SW 583. Improper instruction on right to disregard testimony of impeached witness harmless where there was no such contradiction as would lead jury to believe that witness had been impeached. Chicago City R. Co. v. Ryan, 225 Ill. 287, 80 NE 116. Refusal of instruction on existence of defect for such a time as to charge others with knowledge where it was shown that plaintiff did not have knowledge thereof. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Schneider [Ind. App.] 80 NE 985. Instruction requiring jury to assess value of "defendants' interest" in certain property harmless where evidence showed title in defendants. Ennosander Mineral Water Co. v. Fishman [Mo.

App.] 104 SW 1156. Instruction submitting question whether child was sui juris harmless where it was shown that child exercised due care. Indianapolis Trac. & T. Co. v. Beckman [Ind. App.] 81 NE 82. Instruction as to damages not limited so as to apply only to physical injury sustained by plaintiff held harmless. Keokuk & Hamilton Bridge Co. v. Wetzel, 228 Ill. 253, 81 NE 864. Instruction on preponderance of evidence omitting number of witnesses as an element harmless. Elgin, J. & E. R. Co. v. Lawlor, 229 Ill. 621, 82 NE 407. Error in instruction as to presumption of receipt of letter harmless where shown that letter was received. Westbrook v. Reeves & Co., 133 Iowa, 655, 111 NW 11. Instruction on weight of expert testimony. Madden v. Saylor, 133 Iowa, 699, 111 NW 57. Instruction that evidence of one party tended to prove certain facts and that of the other the contrary, if error, is harmless. Pelton v. Spider Lake Sawmill & Lumber Co. [Wis.] 112 NW 29. Emphasizing facts which might be taken into consideration. In re Kah's Estate [Iowa] 113 NW 563. Allowing damages for breach of rental contract for incorrect period but of substantially same length harmless. Munson v. James Smith Woolen Mach. Co., 118 App. Div. 398, 103 NYS 502. Where upon withdrawal of impeachment court instructs jury to disregard same, omission in written charge to repeat instruction to disregard is harmless. Gulliford v. McQuillen, 75 Kan. 454, 89 P 927. Modification making instruction neither better nor worse. Kimball v. Salt Lake City [Utah] 90 P 395. Instruction not to draw inferences from absence of witnesses where there was no evidence that absent witnesses were under control of either party. Curtin v. Clear Lake Lumber Co. [Wash.] 91 P 956. Reading statute covering cause of action without amendment harmless where latter had no reference to the particular case. Barksdale v. Seaboard Air Line R. [S. C.] 56 SE 906. That receipt by mail was presumptive evidence of acceptance where acceptance was otherwise proved. Holder v. Prudential Ins. Co. [S. C.] 57 SE 853. In action against carrier, time for fixing value of undelivered goods. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co. v. Goodwin, 1 Ga. App. 351, 57 SE 1070. Instruction that books shown to have been locked in safe would be presumed to have remained there until removed harmless, since it was manifestly true. McMillan v. Insurance Co. [S. C.] 58 SE 1020. Refusal of unnecessary instruction. Southern R. Co. v. Taylor [Ala.] 42 S 625. Where in directing verdict for plaintiff in action for breach of contract court did not take a particular breach into consideration, refusal of instruction thereon held harmless. Boulware v. Crohn, 122 Mo. App. 571, 99 SW 796. Submission of issue as to permanency of injury. Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Gracia [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 574, 100 SW 198. Liability of city for defective drains. Campbell v. Vanceburg, 30 Ky. L. R. 1340, 101 SW 343. Failure to define a "lawful fence" where complaining party did not attempt to prove that fence in question was a lawful fence. Ayers v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. [Mo. App.] 101 SW 689. Instruction held not prejudicial as enlarging issues where based on evidence admitted without objection. Bussell v. Quincy, etc., R. Co., 125 Mo. App. 441, 102 SW 613. Allowing recovery on quantum meruit though express contract was relied on. Runyan v. Punksutawney Drill & Contr. Co. [Ky.] 102 SW 854. Error in modifying instruction as to insignificant injury held harmless. Smith v. Chicago & A. R. Co. [Mo. App.] 105 SW 10. Modification of instruction on assumption of risk. Receivers of Kirby Lumber Co. v. Poindexter [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 513, 103 SW 439. Extent of recovery. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Snell [Ark.] 100 SW 67; Schofield v. Little [Ga. App.] 58 SE 666. Degree of care on crossing railroad. Osteen v. Southern R., Carolina Division [S. C.] 57 SE 196. Instruction on willfulness. Hull v. Seaboard Air Line R. [S. C.] 57 SE 28. Due care. Zarnik v. C. Reiss Coal Co. [Wis.] 113 NW 752.

Conflicting instructions: Erroneous conflict of instructions is harmless where there is no evidence warranting giving of one of the instructions creating conflict. Brusseau v. Lower Brick Co., 133 Iowa, 245, 110 NW 577.

Misstatements: Misstatement of facts. Houston Lighting Power Co. v. Hooper [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 410, 102 SW 123. Mistake in stating holding of supreme court on former appeal. Weaver v. Richards [Mich.] 14 Det. Leg. N. 617, 113 NW 867. Inadvertent misstatement of age of child in action for its death. Illinois Cent. R. Co. v. Warriner, 229 Ill. 91, 82 NE 246.

Technical inaccuracies and informal defects: In action for injuries received from object kicked from train, instruction inserting word "thrown" in connection with "kicked" harmless. Maysville & B. S. R. Co. v. Willis [Ky.] 104 SW 1016. Use of term "proper care" in instruction on due care. Randolph v. Metropolitan St. R. Co., 125 Mo. App. 620, 102 SW 1085. Use of word "plaintiff" instead of "defendant." Jumper v. Dobson, 127 Ga. 544, 56 SE 514. Mere verbal error. Snyder v. Stribling, 18 Okl. 168, 89 P 222. Mere want of precision in an instruction is not prejudicial except in connection with refusal of requested more definite instruction. Pelton v. Spider Lake Sawmill & Lumber Co. [Wis.] 112 NW 29. Making answer to interrogatory depends upon whether evidence "satisfies" jury. McKone v. Metropolitan Life Ins. Co., 131 Wis. 243, 110 NW 472. Giving instruction orally instead of in writing harmless. Doyle v. Nesting, 37 Colo. 522, 88 P 862.

Abstract or inapplicable instructions: Instructions not directly applicable to questions in connection with which they were given harmless. Neumeister v. Goddard [Wis.] 113 NW 733. Instruction on assumed risk though it did not fit evidence to whom complaint and by whom promise to repair was made. North American Restaurant & Oyster House v. McElligott, 227 Ill. 317, 81 NE 388. Abstract instruction on degree of care required in operation of trains in populous districts harmless. Elgin, J. & E. R. Co. v. Lawlor, 229 Ill. 621, 82 NE 407. Mere giving of instruction not applicable to case does not constitute prejudicial error. Turner v. Elliott, 127 Ga. 338, 56 SE 434; Griffin Grocery Co. v. Reeves, 127 Ga. 669, 56 SE 751; Telfair County v. Clements, 1 Ga. App. 437, 57 SE 1059; Langston v. Cothran [S. C.] 58 SE 956; Pelton v. Spider Lake Sawmill & erroneous instruction was effective.<sup>61</sup> If, as in equitable issues, the verdict is merely advisory, such error is presumptively harmless.<sup>62</sup> Defects and irregularities in the verdict, findings, and conclusions of law are not ground for reversal where no harm results,<sup>63</sup> and the same is true as to the judgment and record.<sup>64</sup> Thus, a wrong de-

Lumber Co. [Wis.] 112 NW 29. Instruction stating mere abstract principle of law harmless. Southern Coal & Coke Co. v. Swinney [Ala.] 42 S 808; Fitzpatrick Square Bale Ginning Co. v. McLaney [Ala.] 44 S 1023; Kansas City So. R. Co. v. Davis [Ark.] 103 SW 603; Mulrone v. Marshall, 35 Mont. 238, 88 P 797; Newport News & O. P. R. & Elec. Co. v. McCormick, 106 Va. 517, 56 SE 281.

Matters not in issue or in evidence: Submission of issue unsupported by any evidence. Chenoweth v. Sutherland [Mo. App.] 101 SW 1105. Instruction on immaterial matter not in evidence. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Schneider [Ind. App.] 80 NE 985. Instruction on question not in issue. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Dowgiallo [Ark.] 101 SW 412. Computation of interest in event of plaintiff's recovery harmless, there being no issue thereon. Morris v. Fisk Rubber Co. [Ala.] 43 S 483. Erroneous instruction on issue not raised and regarding which there was no evidence whatever held harmless. Morrow v. North Carolina R. Co. [N. C.] 59 SE 158. Instruction on presumption arising from possession of notes, though ownership is not denied. Tucker v. Sherman, 9 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 70. Refusal of instruction on issue not raised. Richards v. Sanderson [Colo.] 89 P 769. Instruction on willful negligence harmless to plaintiff though no such issue was raised. Jansen v. Southern Pac. Co. [Cal. App.] 89 P 616. General statement of rule as to impeachment of witnesses harmless though no attempt had been made to impeach any witness. Pelton v. Spider Lake Sawmill & Lumber Co. [Wis.] 112 NW 29.

Matters admitted or shown by undisputed evidence: Submission of uncontroverted issue harmless. Texas & N. O. R. Co. v. Scarborough [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 828, 104 SW 408. Assumption of the existence of an injury where same was undisputed. Georgia So. & F. R. Co. v. Stanley, 1 Ga. App. 487, 57 SE 1042. Expression of opinion as to admitted facts. Georgia, etc., R. Co. v. Jernigan, 128 Ga. 501, 57 SE 791. Instruction authorizing recovery of medical expenses not limiting same to reasonable value harmless where reasonableness was not disputed. Malone v. Sierra R. Co. [Cal.] 91 P. 522. Error in instruction on due care harmless where undisputed evidence showed contributory negligence. Hamlin v. Pacific Elec. R. Co., 150 Cal. 776, 89 P 1109. Instruction on fact shown by uncontroverted evidence. Thompson v. Fitzgerald [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 967, 105 SW 334. Where power of agent to waive conditions was established by undisputed evidence, refusal to charge that waiver must have been within scope of agent's authority harmless. Industrial Mut. Indemnity Co. v. Thompson [Ark.] 104 SW 200. Inaccurate instruction that plea of payment admits contract harmless where existence of contract was admitted. Sayles v. Quinn [Mass.] 82 NE 713.

<sup>61</sup> See cure of instructions by verdict,

§ 3, post. Failure to define technical legal phrase where jury appeared to have understood its meaning. Miller v. Barnett [Mo. App.] 101 SW 155. Error in instruction allowing punitive damages is prejudicial where verdict is in excess of actual damages. Hartford Life Ins. Co. v. Hope [Ind. App.] 81 NE 595. Instructions prejudicial where verdict was so extreme as to indicate erroneous elements of recovery had been taken into consideration. Farrell v. Jerry Madden Shingle Co., 148 Mich. 275, 14 Det. Leg. N. 99, 111 N. W. 771.

<sup>62</sup> Error in instructions in action for specific performance harmless. Waddington v. Lane, 202 Mo. 387, 100 SW 1139. Submission of matters not in controversy. Id.

<sup>63</sup> Verdict in replevin not complying with exact terms of statute. McLean v. Berkabille, 123 Mo. App. 647, 100 SW 1109. Requiring jury to particularize in verdict items allowed plaintiff, date and amounts, held not to prejudice defendant. Moffet v. Sebastian, 149 Mich. 451, 14 Det. Leg. N. 511, 112 NW 1120. Directing jury to correct verdict not prejudicial. Kinkead v. Peet [Iowa] 111 NW 48. Immaterial variance between special finding and cross complaint. Radebaugh v. Scanlan [Ind. App.] 82 NE 544. Where interrogatories are submitted to jury relating to matters of an evidential nature rather than to ultimate facts, no prejudicial error can be based on verdict in which some answers to interrogatories are neither affirmative nor negative but simply words "Don't know." Pullman Co. v. Washington, 10 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 105. Immaterial finding not supported by evidence harmless. Patterson v. Rubenstein [Cal. App.] 92 P 401. Failure to find harmless in absence of showing of prejudice. Mushet v. Fox [Cal. App.] 91 P 534. Failure to find upon issue harmless unless evidence is shown to have been sufficient to sustain a finding which if made would render judgment erroneous. Hatton v. Gregg [Cal. App.] 88 P 594. Failure to find harmless where other finding required judgment rendered though findings had been made. Union Collection Co. v. Buckman, 150 Cal. 159, 88 P 708. Failure to find on an issue harmless in absence of showing of introduction of evidence in support thereof. People v. McCue, 150 Cal. 195, 88 P 899. Where findings made sustain judgment, failure to find on other issues is harmless. Robinson v. Muir [Cal.] 90 P 521. Failure to make proper conclusions of law harmless. Olson v. Goerig [Wash.] 88 P 1017.

Disregarding instructions constitutes reversible error without regard to the legal accuracy of the instructions, but only where complaining party is injuriously affected thereby. Kaplan v. Shapiro, 53 Misc. 606, 103 NYS 922.

<sup>64</sup> Allowance of amendment of record to show that amendment of answer after trial was by interlineation and not by filing of amended answer not prejudicial to

cision when no substantial right exists,<sup>65</sup> or when substantially equivalent to a right decision,<sup>66</sup> is harmless.

§ 3. Errors cured or made harmless by other matters. See § C. L. 26.—Error is also harmless if some subsequent condition has rectified it or has averted its prejudicial effect.<sup>67</sup> This may be done by allowing the injured party to obviate the effect of the error<sup>68</sup> by considering excluded evidence as having been admitted on appeal,<sup>69</sup> by withdrawal or abandonment of issues,<sup>70</sup> by pleadings and rulings thereon,<sup>71</sup> by the defendant. Indianapolis Trac. & T. Co. v. Formes [Ind. App.] 80 NE 872. Error in entering judgment before expiration of time for motion for new trial harmless where judgment was right. Gosline v. Dryfoos [Wash.] 88 P 634. That judgment was not entered immediately after verdict but was signed by judge after denial of motion for new trial held harmless. Schultz v. Simmons Fur Co. [Wash.] 90 P 917. That praecipe for default was filed by attorney after his appointment as judge held harmless, being a mere ministerial act. Cone v. Knight [Fla.] 42 S 460. Refusal to amend judgment by striking out recital of defendant's admission that animals sought in detinue were dead, harmless. Hammond Bros. & Co. v. Lusk [Ala.] 43 S 573. Refusal to amend judgment in detinue by insertion of descriptive words harmless. Id. Error in entering judgment in favor of defendant and against a garnishee and a justice of the peace harmless, the latter judgment being intended as a mere order of payment. Madison County Bk. v. Bird, 77 Ark. 611, 99 SW 692. Judgment in replevin. McLean v. Berkabille, 123 Mo. App. 647, 100 SW 1109.

65. See § C. L. 26.

66. See right decision on wrong ground, § 1, ante. Where appellant presumably made the best case he could and the court reached the right result in directing a nonsuit, the case will not be sent back because of the technical objection that a motion for a nonsuit is not proper in equity. Kavanaugh v. Flavin, 35 Mont. 133, 88 P 764.

67. Improper argument cured by withdrawal by counsel. Harless v. Southwest Missouri Elec. R. Co., 123 Mo. App. 22, 99 SW 793. Affixing revenue stamp to note after its introduction in evidence. Beem v. Farrell [Iowa] 113 NW 509. Error in misjoinder may be cured in appellate court by setting aside judgment in favor of party improperly joined and dismissing his action. Texas Mexican R. Co. v. Lewis [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 345, 99 SW 577. Statement of court in overruling objection to evidence that unless proper foundation was laid it would amount to nothing and that he would so instruct jury held not to cure admission where no foundation was laid and no instruction given. Wilson v. Johnson [Ala.] 44 S 539. Admission of evidence in personal injury case that plaintiff had a wife and family not cured by statement of court that plaintiff could not recover by reason of his having a family, no instruction to disregard being given. Warner v. De Armond [Or.] 89 P 373.

68. Error in admitting parol evidence of title harmless where defendant subsequently showed same. Tutwiler Coal, Coke & Iron Co. v. Wheeler [Ala.] 43 S 15. Evidence held harmless in view of complaining party's right to cross-examine. Aetna

Ins. Co. v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 123 Mo. App. 513, 100 SW 569. Admission of hearsay to prove refusal to answer interrogatories harmless where complaining party was permitted to explain refusal. Berry v. Joiner [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 282, 101 SW 289.

69. Williams v. United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co. [Md.] 66 A 495.

70. Error in ruling on pleadings cured by withdrawal of issue from jury. Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Quinn [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 825, 104 SW 397. Error in overruling demurrer to special pleas and striking out replications thereto harmless where case was tried on general issue, special pleas being presumptively abandoned. Wright v. Kansas City, etc., R. Co. [Ala.] 42 S 480. Error in overruling demurrer to certain counts of complaint harmless where same are abandoned. Alabama Steel & Wire Co. v. Griffin [Ala.] 42 S 1034. Error in overruling demurrer to count cured by action of court in withdrawing count from jury. United States Furniture Co. v. Taschner [Ind. App.] 81 NE 736. Where pleas to which demurrers have been overruled are withdrawn, rulings on demurrers will not be reviewed. Rock Island Sash & Door Works v. Moore & Handley Hardware Co., 147 Ala. 581, 41 S 806. Overruling demurrer to complaint for improper joinder of causes of action harmless where court withdrew one of them from jury. Skeen v. Paine [Utah] 90 P 440. Error in holding decision on demurrer to defective defense in abeyance during trial cured by withdrawal of defense from jury. Minneapolis Threshing Mach. Co. v. Currey, 75 Kan. 365, 89 P 688. Count upon which issue was taken but respecting which no evidence was introduced is harmless. Wilmington City R. Co. v. White [Del.] 66 A 1009. Error in overruling demurrer to count of complaint harmless where no evidence was introduced to sustain it. Louisville & N. R. Co. v. Mulder [Ala.] 42 S 742. Evidence tending to show depreciation harmless where issue was withdrawn from jury. International & G. N. R. Co. v. Stewart [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 115, 101 SW 282. Error in admitting evidence cured by withdrawal by court of count which it tended to sustain. William Grace Co. v. Larson, 227 Ill. 101, 81 NE 44.

71. Error in overruling demurrer cured by amendment of pleading. Pacific Selling Co. v. Albright-Prior Co. [Ga. App.] 59 SE 468. Error in overruling demurrer cured by cross petition to which original petition constituted a defense. Alton-Dawson Mercantile Co. v. Staten [Okla.] 91 P 892. Error in overruling demurrer on ground of uncertainty cured by answer denying all material averments of complaint. Dennis v. Crocker-Huffman Land & Water Co. [Cal.

admission of evidence,<sup>72</sup> by striking out or excluding evidence,<sup>73</sup> by reinstating case

App.] 91 P 425. Sustaining demurrer to special plea where defendant then interposed general issue under which he could prove all matters set up in special plea. Wabash R. R. Co. v. Keeler, 127 Ill. App. 265. Denial of amendment harmless where case is tried on theory that matters presented by amendment are in issue. Miner v. Rickey [Cal. App.] 90 P 718. Exclusion of evidence under general denial where defendant was permitted to amend and present it. Sayles v. Quinn [Mass.] 82 NE 713. Overruling demurrer to certain counts of complaint and sustaining demurrer to pleas thereto harmless where court excludes evidence tending to prove averments thereof and directs affirmative charge thereon. Carbon Hill Coal Co. v. Cunningham [Ala.] 44 S 1016. Overruling demurrer cured by refusal to submit issue to which it was directed. Paris, etc., R. Co. v. Calvin [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 890, 103 SW 428.

72. Cure of remarks by court: Improper remark of court in sustaining objection to question cured by subsequent admission of testimony. Elgin, etc., R. Co. v. Lawlor, 229 Ill. 621, 82 NE 407.

Cure of rulings on pleadings: Striking out portion of answer cured by admission of evidence under general denial. Couch v. State [Ind.] 82 NE 457. Striking out special pleas harmless where matters alleged therein were shown under general denial. Buford v. Christian [Ala.] 42 S 997; Nashville, etc., R. v. Karthaus [Ala.] 43 S 791. Error in striking out denial in answer on information and belief harmless where plaintiff proved truth of allegation to which it was directed. Atlantic & B. R. Co. v. Brown [Ga.] 59 SE 278. Sustaining demurrer to special plea where defendant had benefit of all evidence which could have been received under it. Smith v. Davis [Ala.] 43 S 729; Benjamin v. Slaughter [Ala.] 44 S 468; North American Storage Co. v. Reagan [R. I.] 67 A 363. Refusal to allow amendment of plea of set-off where evidence was allowed under general issue. Battley v. Warner [R. I.] 67 A 63. Refusal to require plaintiff to show for whose benefit he sued harmless where same was shown under defendant's general denial. Copeland v. Southern R. Co. [S. C.] 57 SE 535. Refusal to permit filing of additional counts to declaration harmless where matter was fully presented under other pleadings. Van Norman v. Young, 223 Ill. 425, 81 NE 1060. Sustaining demurrer to replication harmless where plaintiff had benefit of matters set up therein at trial. Union Fertilizer Co. v. Johnson [Ala.] 43 S 752. Refusal to permit filing of amendment harmless where court treated matter stricken as surplusage and admitted proof thereof under other pleadings. Ratliff v. Tinar [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 385, 102 SW 131. Error in sustaining exceptions to portion of answer harmless where party was allowed to introduce necessary proof under another plea. Id. Error in sustaining demurrer to certain counts harmless where plaintiff under other counts had benefit of all evidence which could have been offered under former. Bradley v. Louisville & N. R. Co. [Ala.] 42 S 818. Error in overruling demurrer for failure to allege certain facts cured by evidence showing their existence. City of Henderson v. Sizemore [Ky.] 104 SW 722.

Cure of exclusion of evidence: Erroneous exclusion of evidence is cured where afterwards admitted. Gambill v. Fuqua [Ala.] 42 S 735; Central of Ga. R. Co. v. Simons [Ala.] 43 S 731; Higgins v. Los Angeles R. Co. [Cal. App.] 91 P 344; Gracy v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co. [Fla.] 42 S 903; Chicago Union Trac. Co. v. Ertrachter, 228 Ill. 114, 81 NE 816; Chicago & E. R. Co. v. Lawrence [Ind.] 82 NE 768; Baltimore, etc., R. Co. v. Trader [Md.] 68 A 12; Inlow v. Bybee, 122 Mo. App. 475, 99 SW 785; Miller v. Barnett [Mo. App.] 101 SW 155; Walker v. Walker [R. I.] 67 A 519; Union Pac. R. Co. v. Thomas [C. C. A.] 152 F 365. Admission on cross-examination. Omer v. St. Louis & H. R. Co., 123 Mo. App. 214, 100 SW 47. Subsequent admission of evidence to same effect as answer excluded. Birmingham R. L. & P. Co. v. King [Ala.] 42 S 612. Exclusion of testimony as to what certain person told witness cured by admitting testimony of latter as to what he said. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Hiltbrand [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 93, 99 SW 707. Error in exclusion of written instrument cured by admission of secondary evidence. Moore v. Linn [Okla.] 91 P 910. Refusal to admit documentary evidence on cross-examination harmless where subsequently admitted as part of defense. Hildebrand v. United Artisans [Or.] 91 P 542. Exclusion of hypothetical question harmless where by mere change in form of question desired evidence was elicited. Kline v. Santa Barbara Consol. R. Co., 150 Cal. 741, 90 P 125. Exclusion of question harmless where witness was subsequently permitted to answer same or a similar one. Denver Consol. Elec. Co. v. Walters [Colo.] 89 P 815. Exclusion of evidence that specific loan was made in usual course of business where witness was permitted to testify as to usual course of business. William Bergenthal Co. v. Security State Bk., 102 Minn. 138, 112 NW 892. Exclusion of testimony that letter had been placed in hands of certain person where such person was permitted to testify that he had received it. Lindahl v. Supreme Court I. O. F., 100 Minn. 87, 110 NW 358. Error in refusing to permit witness to answer question as to "how bright" street light was cured by permitting him to testify as to how plainly he could see. City of Chicago v. Loebel, 228 Ill. 52, 81 NE 796. Erroneous exclusion of evidence where facts sought are brought out on further examination. Flanagan v. Fabens [Neb.] 110 NW 655. Error in excluding testimony harmless where witness subsequently testified to facts inferentially answering question excluded. Mikesell v. Wabash R. Co., 134 Iowa, 736, 112 NW 201. Exclusion of testimony harmless where witness was permitted to testify fully regarding excluded matter. Marquette Cement Mfg. Co. v. Williams, 230 Ill. 26, 82 NE 424. Exclusion of question harmless where witness was subsequently permitted to state facts in detail. Southern R. Co. v. Cofer [Ala.] 43 S 102. Exclusion of evidence harmless where facts sought were elicited through other questions. Pierson v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 149 Mich. 167, 14 Det. Leg. N 405, 112 NW 923.

Not cured: Error in excluding evidence in after dismissal,<sup>74</sup> by withdrawal of objections,<sup>75</sup> by proceeding with trial of issues of fact that after overruling of demurrer to evidence,<sup>76</sup> by instructions,<sup>77</sup> by verdict or findings,<sup>78</sup> by judgment,<sup>79</sup> by remittitur of damages,<sup>80</sup> or by statute.<sup>81</sup>

HAWKERS AND PEDDLERS, see latest topical index.

behalf of defendant not cured by exclusion of plaintiff's evidence on same matter. Londonderry Min. Co. v. United Gold Mines Co. [Colo.] 88 P 455. Exclusion of declaration of testator prior to execution of will not cured by admission of statements made at time of execution. In re Miller's Estate, 31 Utah, 415, 88 P 338. In action on saloon-keeper's bond for maintaining a disorderly house, exclusion of evidence as to what witnesses saw therein not cured by subsequent evidence establishing character of the place. Clement v. Federal Union Surety Co., 106 NYS 1061. Exclusion of evidence of habits of animal held not cured by subsequent ruling that evidence of person who had seen enough of animal to know that it was vicious was admissible. Johnstone v. Tuttle [Mass.] 81 NE 886.

Admitted evidence cured by later evidence:

Refusal to strike out testimony as conclusion where witness then states facts upon which conclusion was based and which if true sustained it. Schillinger Bros. Co. v. Smith, 225 Ill. 74, 80 NE 65. Admission of record of testimony of witnesses at former trial harmless where they subsequently testify substantially as on former trial. Citizens' Sav. Bk. v. Boswell [Ky.] 104 SW 1014. Admission of hearsay where same was corroborated by testimony of complaining party. Gilmore v. McBride [C. C. A.] 156 F 464. Allowing opinion evidence without showing competency where same is established on cross-examination. Id. Evidence of value of entire tract cured on cross-examination showing value of tract in issue. Shaw v. New York El. R. Co. [N. Y.] 79 NE 984. Error in admitting memorandum cured by cross-examination showing that it was of a class of memoranda which might have been admissible and not being returned on appeal was presumed competent. Chautauqua Lake Mills v. Hewes, 55 Misc. 634, 106 NYS 1026. Erroneous admission of testimony that bond was still in force cured by evidence of defendant that work which it was given to secure was completed prior to action for premiums. Aetna Indemnity Co. v. Ryan, 53 Misc. 614, 103 NYS 756. Error in admission of record without authentication cured by evidence identifying it. Carp v. Queen Ins. Co. [Mo.] 101 SW 78. Error in admitting answer to leading question cured by admission of similar testimony without objection. Hammond v. Decker [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 556, 102 SW 453. Erroneous admission of report of surveyor in action to determine boundaries cured by repetition of same matters in oral testimony without objection. McDonald v. McCrabb [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 789, 105 SW 238.

Not cured: Erroneous admission of testimony in plaintiff's behalf not cured by evidence of defendant differing materially therefrom and introduced solely to explain objectionable evidence as far as possible. Short v. Frink [Cal.] 90 P 200.

73. Admission of evidence of child of tender years cured by sustaining motion to exclude. St. Louis Southwestern R. Co. v. Kennedy [Tex. Civ. App.] 96 SW 653. Request by plaintiff that incompetent evidence introduced in his behalf be withdrawn from jury and order of court granting motion to strike out held to cure such admission. Hocking v. Windsor Spring Co., 131 Wis. 532, 111 NW 685. Error in admission of evidence cured by withdrawal. Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Stoy [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 849, 99 SW 135. Error in refusing to strike objectionable evidence cured by striking out on motion to exclude. Hollen v. Crim [W. Va.] 59 SE 172. Erroneous admission of evidence cured by striking it out, though no instruction to disregard was given, none being requested. Pierson v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 149 Mich. 167, 14 Det. Leg. N. 405, 112 NW 923. Inadvertent allusions of witnesses to improper matters harmless, same being stricken by court. Miller v. Canton, 123 Mo. App. 325, 100 SW 571. Evidence erroneously admitted cured by striking it out. Chicago Union Trac. Co. v. Ertrachter, 228 Ill. 114, 81 NE 816; Id., 130 Ill. App. 602; Mears v. Petruschke [Minn.] 112 NW 390.

Not cured: Admission of evidence on matter not in issue over objection. Chicago Union Trac. Co. v. Daly, 129 Ill. App. 519. Erroneous admission of evidence considered with erroneous charge held not cured by striking out. Miller v. Wabash R. Co., 123 Ill. App. 60. Admission of evidence of repairs after accident. City of Joliet v. Donnelly, 129 Ill. App. 119.

74. Reinstatement after erroneous dismissal cures error. Howe v. Parker, 18 Okl. 282, 90 P 15.

75. Schofield v. Little [Ga. App.] 58 SE 666.

76. Where after denial of nonsuit defendant introduced evidence supplying defect in plaintiff's proof. Reshofskey v. Weisz, 53 Misc. 602, 103 NYS 718. Introduction of evidence after denial of nonsuit. Mooney v. Seattle, etc., R. Co. [Wash.] 92 P 408.

Not cured: Refusal to direct a nonsuit on ground of contributory negligence not cured by subsequent examination of witnesses by defendant not affecting negligence shown. Van Ness v. North Jersey St. R. Co. [N. J. Law] 67 A. 1027.

77. Improper argument and remarks of counsel: Contract between financial situation of parties cured by instruction that parties stood on an equal footing. Davis v. Adrian, 147 Mich. 300, 13 Det. Leg. N. 1023, 110 NW 1084. Improper statement in argument cured by inquiry of court and withdrawal by counsel of claim made. Bolton v. Ovit [Vt.] 67 A 881. Statement of claim by counsel in opening cured by instruction to disregard. Ellis v. Rhode Island Co. [R. I.] 67 A 428. Misconduct of counsel in stating contents of excluded document to jury cured by instruction to disregard. Briscoe v. Parker [N. C.] 58 SE 443. Statement that plaintiff was a "penniless girl" cured by instruction to disregard. Duerler Mfg. Co. v. Eichhorn [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 416, 99 SW 715.

Misstatement of evidence by counsel cured by instruction that memory of jury was sole test of what evidence was. Aetna Ins. Co. v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 123 Mo. App. 513, 100 SW 569. Incorrect statement of law in argument to jury cured by instruction. Chesapeake & O. R. Co. v. Perkins [Ky.] 105 SW 148. Improper remarks of counsel cured by instruction to disregard. Tingley v. Times Mirror Co. [Cal.] 89 P 1097; Lanigan v. Neely [Cal. App.] 89 P 441; Macon & B. R. Co. v. Parker, 127 Ga. 471, 56 SE 616; Brown v. Evans, 149 Mich. 429, 14 Det. Leg. N. 476, 112 NW 1079; American Storage & Moving Co. v. Harding [Mo. App.] 104 SW 484; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Knowles [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 83, 99 SW 867; Houston, etc., R. Co. v. Davis [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 662, 100 SW 1013; Jones v. Seattle, etc., R. Co. [Wash.] 92 P 379; Ferguson v. Truax [Wis.] 110 NW 395; Neumeister v. Goddard [Wis.] 113 NW 733. Misconduct of counsel cured by reprimand and instruction to disregard. Brockmiller v. Industrial Works, 148 Mich. 642, 14 Det. Leg. N. 336, 112 NW 688. Improper argument cured by withdrawal and instruction to disregard. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Gillett [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 392, 99 SW 712; Arden Lumber Co. v. Henderson Iron Works & Supply Co. [Ark.] 103 SW 185.

Not cured. Seaboard Air Line R. v. Smith [Fla.] 43 S 235. Persistent misconduct of counsel in argument held not cured by instruction to disregard and imposition of fine for contempt. Pullman Co. v. Pennock [Tenn.] 102 SW 73.

Remarks by court: Improper statements of court cured by charge. Union Pac. R. Co. v. Thomas [C. C. A.] 152 F 365. Remark of court that certain evidence might be admissible as substantive testimony cured by charge that it must be considered as corroborative only. Leonard v. Gillette, 79 Conn. 664, 66 A 502. Unfavorable comments of court on credibility of witness cured by instruction that jury were sole judges of credibility and cautioning them against prejudice in weighing testimony of such witness. Partelow v. Newton & B. St. R. Co. [Mass.] 81 NE 894.

Rulings on pleadings: Error in overruling demurrer cured by instruction that there could be no recovery under the count demurred to. Woodward Iron Co. v. Curl [Ala.] 44 S 969. Duplicitly in pleading cured by instruction. Reid v. Rhode Island Co. [R. I.] 67 A 328. Allegation of improper element of damage cured by instruction. Arkansas & L. R. Co. v. Stroude [Ark.] 100 SW 760. Error in overruling demurrer for failure to allege certain facts cured by instruction requiring existence of such facts to be found as a basis for recovery. City of Henderson v. Sizemore [Ky.] 104 SW 722.

Cure of rulings on evidence: The admission of improper evidence may be rendered harmless by proper instructions. Postal Telegraph-Cable Co. v. Likes, 225 Ill. 249, 80 NE 136. Admission of evidence cured by instruction limiting purposes for which it might be considered. Goodloe v. Goodloe [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 960, 105 SW 533. Erroneous admission of evidence cured by correct charge eliminating question thus raised. Pennsylvania R. Co. v. Garcia [C. C. A.] 152 F 104. Erroneous admission of evidence as to damages cured by instruction that plaintiff could not recover such damages. Crowley v. Burns Boiler & Mfg. Co., 100 Minn. 178, 110 NW 969. Erroneous admission of evidence as to damages cured by instruction stating true measure of damages. Hempstead v. Salt Lake City [Utah] 90 P 397. Erroneous admission of indictment against defendant in action for wrongful death cured by instruction to disregard. Hargis v. Marcum [Ky.] 103 SW 346. Withdrawal of evidence is harmless where court charged that defendant was not chargeable with negligence in respect which such evidence tended to prove. Brantner v. Chicago, etc., R. Co. [Iowa] 112 NW 790. Evidence of custom cured by charge. Ward Furniture Mfg. Co. v. Isbell & Co. [Ark.] 99 SW 845. Error in admitting evidence not part of res gestae cured by instruction to disregard. Galveston, etc., R. Co. v. Still [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 582, 100 SW 176. Improper question harmless where court sustained objection to it and instructed jury to disregard it. Missouri, etc., R. Co. v. Smith [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 954, 101 SW 453. Error in admitting plaintiff's evidence showing a verbal contract, defendant relying on a written one, cured by instruction that latter would preclude recovery unless waived. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Burns [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 775, 104 SW 1081. Erroneous admission of evidence harmless where issue which it tended to sustain was not submitted to jury. Weir v. Metropolitan St. R. Co. [Mo. App.] 103 SW 583; Listman Mill Co. v. Miller, 131 Wis. 393, 111 NW 496. Erroneous admission of evidence cured by charge to disregard. McLean v. Hattan, 127 Ga. 579, 56 SE 643; Louisville & S. I. Trac. Co. v. Leaf [Ind. App.] 79 NE 1066; Medlin v. Simpson, 144 N. C. 397, 57 SE 24; Armour & Co. v. Skene [C. C. A.] 153 F 241.

Not cured: Admission of evidence as to defendant's wealth in action for alienation of affections not cured by instruction, size of verdict indicating prejudice. Flinders v. Bailey, 133 Iowa, 616, 111 NW 27. Instructions to disregard testimony erroneously admitted held not to cure same where counsel was permitted in argument to dwell on matter and jury was shown to have considered it. Brown Land Co. v. Lehman [Iowa] 112 NW 185.

Curing other portions of charge. Choctaw, etc., R. Co. v. Hickey [Ark.] 99 SW 839; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Stewart, 201 Mo. 491, 100 SW 583; Consolidated Kansas City Smelting & Refining Co. v. Binkley [Tex. Civ. App.] 99 SW 181. Must affirmatively appear that presumptive prejudice has been removed. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co. v. Crosby [Fla.] 43 S 318. Instruction cured by other correct instruction. Keys v. Winnsboro Granite Co. [S. C.] 56 SE 949. Defect in instruction cured by other instructions. Monongahela River Consol. Coal & Coke Co. v. Hardaw [Ind. App.] 79 NE 1062. Ambiguity in statement of measure of proof held cured by subsequent statement. Ray v. Jefferson County Gas Co., 31 Pa. Super. Ct. 194. Instruction on amount recoverable cured by other limiting instructions. Williams v. Meadville, etc., St. R. Co., 31 Pa. Super. Ct. 530. Instruction permitting jury to consider common experience of value cured by instruction that they could only act under the evidence. Indianapolis Trac. & Terminal Co. v. Beckman [Ind. App.] 81 NE 82. Error in instruction may be cured by withdrawing it. Monongahela River Consol. Coal & Coke Co. v. Hardsaw [Ind.] 81 NE 492. Instruction not requiring jury to award damages on evidence cured by instruction requiring that case be decided on evidence. Chicago City R. Co. v. Hagenback, 228 Ill. 290, 81 NE 1014. Omission of instruction on preponderance of evidence in stating essentials to recovery cured by instruction given in defendant's behalf. East St. Louis & S. R. Co. v. Zink, 229 Ill. 180, 82 NE 282. Instruction on measure of damages disregarding question of negligence cured by instruction requiring jury to look to evidence for facts and instructions for law. Id. Erroneous instruction as to rights of persons at street crossings cured by subsequent correct instruction on contributory negligence. Kelleher v. Interurban St. R. Co., 102 NYS 466. Verbal error in instruction cured by subsequent instruction. Snyder v. Stribling, 18 Okl. 168, 89 P 222. Erroneous instruction cured by immediate correction. Atlantic & B. R. Co. v. Smith [Ga. App.] 58 SE 542. Instruction permitting punitive damages for negligence cured by one requiring willfulness. Dempsey v. Western Union Tel. Co. [S. C.] 58 SE 9. Erroneous instruction on burden of proof cured. St. Louis S. W. R. Co. v. Groves [Tex. Civ. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 895, 97 SW 1084. Instruction omitting certain elements of damage cured by subsequent correct instruction. Sipple v. Laclede Gaslight Co., 125 Mo. App. 81, 102 SW 608. Omitted elements in instruction cured by subsequent instruction. In re Wilson's Estate [Neb.] 111 NW 788; Gibler v. Terminal R. Ass'n, 203 Mo. 208, 101 SW 37; Underwood v. Metropolitan St. R. Co., 125 Mo. App. 490, 102 SW 1045.

Refusal of instruction harmless when covered by others given. Postal Telegraph-Cable Co. v. Likes, 225 Ill. 249, 80 NE 136; Hanchett v. Haas, 125 Ill. App. 111; City of Louisville v. Knighton, 30 Ky. L. R. 1037, 100 SW 228; Cairnes v. Pelton, 103 Md. 40, 63 A 105; Horne v. Beasley [Md.] 65 A 820; Aetna Ins. Co. v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 123 Mo. App. 513, 100 SW 569; Ferris v. Edmonston, 124 Mo. App. 94, 100 SW 1119; Bridgeport Coal Co. v. Wise County Coal Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 678, 99 SW 409; St. Louis S. W. R. Co. v. Bryant [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 755, 103 SW 237; Merryman v. Hoover [Va.] 59 SE 483; Hardt v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 130 Wis. 512, 110 NW 427. Where instructions as a whole present substance of refused instruction. Indanapolis St. R. Co. v. Taylor, 39 Ind. App. 592, 80 NE 436. Refusal to charge that certain facts did not constitute negligence harmless where court repeatedly stated what facts would constitute negligence. Elickley v. Luce's Estate, 148 Mich. 223, 14 Det. Leg. N. 121, 111 NW 752. Error in refusing requested instruction as a charge on facts harmless where substance thereof was embodied in an instruction given. Bussey v. Charleston & W. C. R. Co. [S. C.] 58 SE 1015. Refusal of instruction that if jury found plaintiff was not entitled to recover they need not consider question of damages harmless in view of instruction stating what plaintiff must prove to recover. Chicago City R. Co. v. Hagenback, 228 Ill. 290, 81 NE 1014. Instructions must be considered as a whole. Seaboard Air Line R. Co. v. Scarborough [Fla.] 42 S 706; Brown Store Co. v. Chatta- hoochee Lumber Co., 1 Ga. App. 609, 57 SE 1043; Bush v. Fourcher [Ga. App.] 59 SE 459; Smith v. Landa [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 130, 101 SW 470; Painter v. Kilgore [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 380, 101 SW 809; Virginia-Carolina Chem. Co. v. Knight, 106 Va. 674, 56 SE 725. Ambiguous statements may be cured by other portions of charge. City of Austin v. Forbis [Tex. Civ. App.] 99 SW 132.

Not cured. Western Union Tel. Co. v. De Andrea [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 11, 100 SW 977. Erroneous instruction on due care not cured by subsequent instruction. Johnson v. Texas & C. R. Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 823, 100 SW 206; Louisville & N. R. Co. v. Cheatham [Tenn.] 100 SW 902. Instruction rendering defendant liable for damages irrespective of negligence not cured by instruction requiring jury to find injury before assessing any damages. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Moon [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 10, 103 SW 1176. Erroneous instruction not cured by statement that it was to be considered as part of main charge which was correct. Texas Cent. R. Co. v. Waldie [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 60, 101 SW 517. Instruction on weight of evidence not cured by instruction setting forth adverse party's theory of the action. Louisville R. Co. v. O'Connor, 30 Ky. L. R. 1329, 101 SW 305. Error in instruction on burden of proof not cured by instruction that if certain facts were found defendant was not liable. Trotter v. St. Louis & Suburban R. Co., 122 Mo. App. 405, 99 SW 508. Misleading instruction not cured by other correct instructions. Walsh v. Henry, 38 Colo. 393, 88 P 449. Correction of charge at request of party whom it favored held not sufficiently definite to cure error therein. Martin v. Forty-Second St., etc., R. Co., 54 Misc. 645, 104 NYS 840. Error in instruction not cured by giving qualified requested instruction. Barr v. Scheffer, 118 App. Div. 834, 103 NYS 733. Erroneous instruction on knowledge to be imputed to principal from knowledge of agent not cured by subsequent instruction. Weaver v. Richards [Mich.] 14 Det. Leg. N. 617, 113 NW 867. Instruction making defendant an insurer not cured by instruction as to necessity of proof as to cause of injury. Sullivan v. Brooklyn Heights R. Co., 117 App. Div. 784, 102 NYS 982. Erroneous instruction not cured by one conflicting therewith. Fogarty v. Southern Pac. Co. [Cal.] 91 P 650; Atlanta, etc., R. Co. v. McManus, 1 Ga. App. 302, 58 SE 258; Sullivan v. Metropolitan Life Ins. Co., 35 Mont. 1, 88 P 401. Instruction permitting recovery of speculative damages not cured by conflicting instruction. Malone v. Sierra R. Co. [Cal.] 91 P 522. Instruction invading province of jury not cured by conflicting instruction submitting issues to jury. Texas Cent. R. Co. v. Waldie [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 60, 101 SW 517.

78. Error in instruction is not cured by giving one contradicting it without withdrawing erroneous one. Monongahela River Consol. Coal & Coke Co. v. Hardsaw [Ind.] 81 NE 492. Where verdict was as favorable to complaining party as it could have been had no error been committed. Clark v. Empire Mercantile Co. [Ga. App.] 58 SE 363.

Cure of rulings on pleadings: Striking out cross complaint harmless where finding would have defeated recovery thereon. Naller v. Ballew [Ark.] 99 SW 72. Refusing leave to amend so as to ask dissolution of partnership harmless where court found there was no partnership. Chlopeck v. Chlopeck [Wash.] 91 P 966. Overruling demurrer to defendant's cross complaint harmless as to plaintiff where court finds in his favor. Talbott v. New Castle [Ind.] 81 NE 724. Error in overruling demurrer to answer harmless where jury finds facts averred therein are true. Teague v. Bloomington [Ind. App.] 81 NE 103. Overruling demurrer to second cause of action harmless where special finding, supported by evidence, sustains verdict returned for plaintiff on first cause of action. Snyder v. Schardt, 9 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 615.

Misconduct of counsel, in argument, harmless where size of verdict indicates no prejudice. Eldorado Coal & Coke Co. v. Swan, 227 Ill. 586, 81 NE 691.

Joinder of parties: Objection to nonjoinder of parties cured by finding that defendant was not bound by contract sued on. Atkins v. Atkins [Mass.] 80 NE 806.

Special interrogatories: Error in submitting special interrogatory harmless where jury did not answer it, finding facts rendering answer unnecessary. Wallace v. Skinner [Wyo.] 88 P 221. Refusal to require jury to answer specific interrogatories where answers thereto appear under other interrogatories. Oolitic Stone Co. v. Ridge [Ind. App.] 80 NE 441. Refusal of question for special verdict cured by findings covering same in answer to other interrogatories. McKone v. Metropolitan Life Ins. Co., 131 Wis. 243, 110 NW 472.

Admitted evidence cured: Harmless where finding shows that erroneous evidence was not considered. Southern R. Co. v. St. Louis Hay & Grain Co. [C. C. A.] 153 F 728. Evidence of damage caused by injunction not raised by plea in reconviction cured by verdict. Darst v. Devini [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 455, 102 SW 787. Refusal to strike expert testimony introduced on assumption that services were not performed under contract harmless where jury finds they were performed under contract. Cunningham v. Springer, 203 U. S. 647, 51 Law. Ed. 662. Admission of evidence harmless where verdict does substantial justice. Toledo, etc., Trac. Co. v. Sterling, 9 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 200. Erroneous admission of evidence cured by verdict for defendant on counts which it tended to support. East St. Louis & S. R. Co. v. Zink, 229 Ill. 180, 82 NE 283. Erroneous admission of testimony held harmless in view of size of verdict rendered. Bahr v. Northern Pac. R. Co. [Minn.] 112 NW 267; Daniel v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co. [N. C.] 58 SE 601. Admission of conclusion as to damages harmless, verdict indicating that no prejudice resulted. Montgomery v. Somers [Or.] 90 P 674. Admission of evidence of defendant's conduct with respect to land in trespass harmless where verdict was for nominal damages. Buford v. Christian [Ala.] 42 S 997. Erroneous admission of evidence of custom harmless where jury construed contract from its terms alone. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Wynne Hoop & Cooperage Co. [Ark.] 99 SW 375. Erroneous admission of evidence on certain issue harmless where court found in favor of injured party thereon. Flack v. Braman [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 107, 101 SW 537. Error in admitting testimony of incompetent witness as to value harmless where verdict was for amount authorized by competent evidence. Ft. Worth, etc., R. Co. v. Hickox [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 691, 103 SW 202. Erroneous admission of evidence cured by findings and conclusions of court. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. White [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 664, 103 SW 673. Admission of improper evidence to explain contract harmless when verdict shows correct construction. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Payne [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 765, 104 SW 1077.

Curing exclusion: Exclusion of evidence in reduction of punitive damages harmless where none were allowed. Cain v. Corley [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 644, 99 SW 168. Exclusion of evidence as to speed of car harmless where court finds injury due to decedent's contributory negligence. Higgins v. Los Angeles R. Co. [Cal. App.] 91 P 344.

Curing errors in charge. Where it is clear from verdict that jury disregarded erroneous instruction, error is harmless. Whitney v. Brown, 75 Kan. 678, 90 P 277. Erroneous instruction cured by verdict showing that it was not considered. Chew v. Jackson [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 678, 102 SW 427. But see disregard of erroneous instruction as constituting reversible error, § 2, ante, defects in verdicts or findings. Error in instruction of presumption of negligence of carrier from injury to live stock, where shipper under contract, was required to accompany shipment, harmless where from verdict jury must have found contract invalid. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Wells [Ark.] 99 SW 534. Ordinarily, an instruction for defendant, if erroneous, is harmless where verdict is for plaintiff. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Nance [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 276, 101 SW 294; Cleaver v. Louisville & N. R. Co., 30 Ky. L. R. 1059, 100 SW 223. Error in submitting liability of several defendants for certain acts for which one alone was liable cured by verdict in favor of that one. Southern Kansas R. Co. v. Curtis [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 743, 99 SW 566. Error in instruction authorizing verdict in favor of a codefendant harmless where verdict was against both defendants. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Nance [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 276, 101 SW 294. Misleading instruction cured by special finding showing that it was understood. St. Louis & S. F. R. Co. v. Beets, 75 Kan. 295, 89 P 683. Incorrect instruction as to defendant's primary liability harmless where jury found for defendant on a release. Wallace v. Skinner [Wyo.] 88 P 221. Error in instruction on assumed risk cured by verdict finding plaintiff guilty of contributory negligence. Madison v. Clippinger, 74 Kan. 700, 88 P 260. Error in instruction on constructive notice cured by verdict showing actual notice. Young v. Milwaukee Gaslight Co. [Wis.] 113 NW 59. Where jury found for plaintiff in trover for the entire property claimed, error in instruction directing partial recovery is harmless. Major v. Brewster, 148 Mich. 623, 14 Det. Leg. N. 323, 112 NW 490. Instruction in action for breach of marriage promise that fornication of plaintiff was no defense where abandonment was for another cause harmless where defense was based on plaintiff's condition which jury found was caused by defendant. Colburn v. Marble [Mass.] 82 NE 28. Erroneous instruction on certain issue cured by verdict on such issue for party harmed thereby. Donk Bros. Coal & Coke Co. v. Stroetter, 229 Ill. 134, 82 NE 250. Error in submitting issue to jury cured by verdict for injured party thereon. Gates v. Detroit & M. R. Co., 147 Mich. 523, 111 NW 101; Rockefeller v. Wedge [C. C. A.] 149 F. 130. Instruction ignoring question of contributory negligence where jury necessarily found that plaintiff exercised due care. Knoefel v. Atkins [Ind. App.] 81 NE 600. Where evidence showed that when policy was taken insured was in good health unless she had a certain disease, and jury found she did not have it, error in instruction as to effect of want of knowledge of insured as to her condition was harmless. Perry v. John Hancock Mut. Life Ins. Co., 147 Mich. 645, 14 Det. Leg. N. 19, 111 NW 195. Where facts constituting elements of proximate cause are found in special verdict, inaccuracy in definition harmless. Odegard v. North Wisconsin Lumber Co., 130 Wis. 659, 110 NW 809. Verbal instruction as to authority of nine jurors to bring in verdict harmless where verdict was unanimous. Baxter v. Magill [Mo. App.] 105 SW 679. Confusion of contributory negligence and assumed risk where jury found that deceased was guilty of neither. Shattuck's Adm'r v. Central Vt. R. Co., 79 Vt. 469, 65 A. 529. Submission of issue unsupported by evidence harmless in view of verdict. London v. Crow [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 451, 102 SW 177. Conflicting instructions cured by verdict. Id. Error in submitting construction of contract to jury harmless where jury construed it correctly. (St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Wynne Hoop & Cooperage Co. [Ark.] 99 SW 375; Seago v. White [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 183, 100 SW 1015; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Payne [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 765, 104 SW 1077), and a similar rule applies to the submission of the construction of a decree of court (Charles v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 124 Mo. App. 293, 101 SW 680). Instruction not limiting damages recoverable where verdict allowed proper amount. Western Union Tel. Co. v. Lehman [Md.] 66 A. 266. Where verdict was for less than undisputed evidence showed property was worth, improper instruction on measure of damages was harmless. Lake Erie & W. R. Co. v. Hobbs [Ind. App.] 81 NE 90. Charge that in no event could verdict exceed $15,000 harmless where verdict was for $3,000. McGovern v. Interurban R. Co. [Iowa] 111 NW 412. Submission of measure of damages to jury on erroneous theory is harmless where verdict is correct. Kelly v. Pierce [N. D.] 112 NW 995. Correctness of measure of damages rendered immaterial by verdict showing that jury did not consider it. Buick Motor Co. v. Reid Mfg. Co. [Mich.] 14 Det. Leg. N. 626, 113 NW 591. Errors in instructions or damages harmless when verdict was for defendant. Fletcher v. Prestwood [Ala.] 43 S. 231; Love-man v. Birmingham R., L. & P. Co. [Ala.] 43 S. 411; Matteson v. Southern Pac. Co. [Cal. App.] 92 P. 101; Gracy v. Atlantic Coast Line R. Co. [Fla.] 42 S. 903. Instruction misstating evidence of witness as to value cured by verdict for less than amount which evidence of such witness would have justified. Calhoun County v. Art Metal Const. Co. [Ala.] 44 S. 876. Instruction authorizing consideration of contributory negligence in mitigation of damages harmless where verdict was reasonable in amount. Louisville & N. R. Co. v.

Cheatham [Tenn.] 100 SW 902. Error in instruction on measure of damages harmless where verdict of $500 was rendered for loss of both legs. Oliver v. Calbert, 30 Ky. L. R. 1316, 101 SW 314.

Not cured: Erroneous instruction not cured by verdict, it not appearing which instructions jury followed. Londonderry Min. Co. v. United Gold Mines Co. [Colo.] 88 P. 455.

Curing failure or refusal to charge: Where jury found that plaintiff was not serving under contract made prior to passage of employers' liability act, refusal to charge that act did not apply to contracts made before its passage is harmless. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Collins [Ind.] 80 NE 415. Where jury found that application of brake could not have stopped car, refusal to charge that if car were equipped with proper brake which would have checked train and prevented collision is harmless. Id. Failure to charge jury to make special findings only where general verdict was returned harmless where general verdict was returned. Wallace v. Skinner [Wyo.] 88 P. 221. Refusal to instruct where jury could not have arrived at verdict rendered without consideration of matters contained in instruction requested. Picard v. Beers [Mass.] 81 NE 246. Refusal of instruction on damages harmless to plaintiff where jury finds defendant not liable. Rogers v. Rio Grande W. R. Co. [Utah] 90 P. 1075. Refusal to charge that in determining value jury might consider amount for which plaintiff agreed to sell harmless where verdict was for a less amount. Calhoun County v. Art Metal Const. Co. [Ala.] 44 S. 876. Error in refusing instruction on fraud harmless where jury found that no misleading statements were made. Bridgeport Coal Co. v. Wise County Coal Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 678, 99 SW 409. Refusal to instruct jury as to their verdict if they found no profits would result from certain contract harmless where jury found that profits would have resulted. Nicola Bros. Co. v. Hurst, 30 Ky. L. R. 851, 99 SW 917. Refusal to submit issue as to expenses incurred under contract harmless when jury found there was no contract. Weldon v. Finley [Ky.] 104 SW 701.

79. Where substantial justice has been done, errors in charge are harmless. Baird v. Burton Tel. Co., 10 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 163. Erroneous admission or exclusion of evidence harmless where correct conclusion supported by competent testimony is reached. Peet v. Peet, 229 Ill. 341, 82 NE 376. Error in admitting evidence harmless where judgment was not rendered on same. Keller v. McGilliard [Cal. App.] 90 P. 483; Downing v. Ernst [Colo.] 92 P. 230. Erroneous admission of evidence that 8 per cent was agreed rate of interest harmless where only 6 per cent was allowed. Grey v. Callan, 133 Iowa, 500, 110 NW 909. That action was brought in law instead of equity harmless where judgment is correct. Wilson v. White [Ark.] 102 SW 201. Overruling exception that action to restrain collection of taxes could not be maintained without consent of state harmless where court denied injunctive relief. Producers' Oil Co. v. Stephens [Tex. Civ. App.] 99 SW 157; Texas Co. v. Stephens [Tex. Civ. App.] 99 SW 160. Error in declaring a lien on land insufficiently described in the complaint cured by amendment of judgment eliminating the lien. Salter v. Goldberg [Ala.] 43 S. 571. Error in overruling demurrer to petition

HEALTH

§ 1. Validity and Construction of Health Regulations (1586).

§ 2. Health Boards and Officers (1587).

§ 3. Care and Control of Sanitation and Disease (1588).

The scope of this topic is noted below.<sup>82</sup>

§ 1. Validity and construction of health regulations.<sup>See 8 C. L. 36</sup>—In the exercise of the police power reasonable regulations for the promotion of the public health, such as regulations excluding unvaccinated children from the schools,<sup>83</sup> governing location of cemeteries,<sup>84</sup> prohibiting the sale of impure and deleterious foods,<sup>85</sup> and indiscriminate transportation of garbage,<sup>86</sup> and dead animals<sup>87</sup> through harmless where judgment was for defendant. Pardee v. Kuster [Wyo.] 91 P 826. Where in replevin there was no judgment for property taken and not returned, erroneous admission of evidence as to such property is harmless. Indiana Union Trac. Co. v. Bick [Ind. App.] 81 NE 617. Where judgment was on pleadings, errors in rulings on evidence harmless. Bailey v. Aetna Indemnity Co. [Cal. App.] 91 P 416. Refusal to order judgment for plaintiff on pleadings harmless where judgment quieting plaintiff's title was rendered correctly made subject to outstanding lien. Sartor v. Wells [Colo.] 89 P 797. Questions arising under a paragraph not made the basis of the judgment appealed from will not be considered. Robards v. Hamrick, 39 Ind. App. 134, 79 NE 386. Error in refusing to strike cross complaint harmless where judgment was not rendered on cross complaint. Keller v. McGilliard [Cal. App.] 90 P 483. Error in applying credit harmless where judgment was for less than amount to which plaintiff was entitled. Star Mill & Lumber Co. v. Porter [Cal. App.] 88 P 497. Correct judgment will not be reversed because relief was granted on ground not alleged in complainant's bill. Ransier v. Dwyer, 149 Mich. 487, 14 Det. Leg. N. 521, 112 NW 1120. Where decree required conveyance of only an undivided two-fifths interest, defendant was not prejudiced by finding that she apparently owned a life interest in whole tract. Moore v. Gariglietti, 228 Ill. 143, 81 NE 826. Error in awarding certain defendants costs against plaintiff cured by final judgment adjudging all costs against another defendant. Morris v. Morris [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 809, 105 SW 242. Failure to find value of several articles in replevin harmless where judgment was for return of property only. Tucker & Co. v. Freiberg [Tex. Civ. App.] 101 SW 837.

80. McGraw v. O'Neil, 123 Mo. App. 691, 101 SW 132; Houston & T. C. R. Co. v. Barr [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 705, 99 SW 437. Errors affecting solely the extent of recovery may be cured by remittitur where correct amount can be satisfactorily ascertained. Lyttle v. Goldberg, 131 Wis. 613, 111 NW 718. Erroneous charge cured by remittitur on appeal. Hall v. Luckman, 133 Iowa, 518, 110 NW 916. Error in failing to limit jury in determining damages on certain ground to amount claimed in petition cured. Smith v. Kansas City, 125 Mo. App. 150, 101 SW 1118. Submission of issue not pleaded held cured. Atoka Coal & Min. Co. v. Miller [Ind. T.] 104 SW 555. Admission of evidence as to issue not pleaded cured. Id.

Not cured: Where verdict is so large as to indicate passion and prejudice, remittitur will not cure. Belt R. Co. v. Charters, 123 Ill. App. 322. Error in admitting proof of marriage of plaintiff in action for personal injuries not cured. Jones & Adams Co. v. George, 227 Ill. 64, 81 NE 4.

81. See 8 C. L. 29.

82. It includes the validity and execution of health regulations and the powers and duties of officers charged with their enforcement. It excludes general matters as to the police power of the state (see Constitutional Law, 9 C. L. 610), and of municipalities (see Municipal Corporations, 8 C. L. 1056), and regulations pertaining to food products (see Adulteration, 9 C. L. 37; Food, 9 C. L. 1369). The practice of medicine and the sale of drugs are also treated in a separate topic (see Medicine and Surgery, 8 C. L. 972).

83. Reasonableness of rule requiring pupils to be vaccinated as condition to right to attend school, adopted under authority of Rev. St. § 3986, held for board of education in first instance and only to be judicially interfered with in case of abuse. State v. Board of Education of Barberton, 76 Ohio St. 297, 81 NE 568. Fact that no epidemic of smallpox is prevalent held not to render rule of board requiring all pupils to be vaccinated, as condition to right to attend school, unreasonable and abuse of discretion. Id. Act June 18, 1895 (P. L. 203), held to impose duty upon superintendents, principals, and teachers to exclude pupils from schools who cannot show certificate of vaccination and not upon directors, hence mandamus will not lie against latter. Commonwealth v. Rowe [Pa.] 67 A 56. See, also, Schools and Education, 8 C. L. 1851.

84. Public Health Law, Laws 1893, p. 1502, c. 661, § 21, giving local board of health power to regulate matters detrimental to public health, will not support order restraining use of certain lands for cemetery unless such prohibition is necessary to preserve public health. Morton v. St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church Soc., 105 NYS 1100. Held not necessary, cemetery being located without city limits and in sparsely settled territory. Id. See, also, Cemeteries, 9 C. L. 541.

85. See Food, 9 C. L. 1369.

86. Fact that garbage contains some element of value held not to prevent such regulation. Nash v. District of Columbia, 28 App. D. C. 598. Grease and cracklings rendered from fats of fresh meats cooked and the streets, smoke regulations,<sup>88</sup> building regulations,<sup>89</sup> may be adopted by municipalities and statutory boards<sup>90</sup> within the scope of their conferred authority,<sup>91</sup> and subject to constitutional restrictions.<sup>92</sup> A municipality cannot authorize the maintenance of a business injurious to the public health.<sup>93</sup>

§ 2. Health boards and officers.<sup>See 8 C. L. 38</sup>—In Massachusetts boards of health cannot appoint one of their own number quarantine officer,<sup>94</sup> while in the absence of statutory authority, towns cannot remove health officers,<sup>95</sup> when such power is conferred it is free from judicial interference except where frivolous and arbitrary.<sup>96</sup> The compensation of health officers in New York is fixed by the local boards of health.<sup>97</sup> Health commissioner is not disqualified to sit as a member of the board of health in Missouri on a hearing to show cause why a business should carried away within twenty-four hours held not garbage within Police Regulations, D. C. art. 14, § 1. Id.

87. Municipality has power to grant monopoly for transporting and utilizing dead animals which have not been slaughtered for food, and demurrer to petition for injunction against interference with rights under such grant will not lie where petition alleges that carcasses which have become decayed, putrid, or offensive are not transported or handled, and that such transportation and handling has at all times complied with the rules and regulations of the board of health. Stadler v. Cleveland, 4 Ohio N. P. (N. S.) 649.

88. Failure to provide smoke consumer as provided by Sanitary Code, § 96, does not render superintendent liable. People v. Sturgis, 121 App. Div. 407, 106 NYS 61. Sanitary Code, § 96, prohibiting one from allowing smoke to escape to the annoyance of person not engaged in building, held not violated where smoke does not annoy people living in vicinity. Id.

89. Tenement House Law, Laws 1901, p. 905, c. 334, §§ 67, 68, and 71, as amended by Laws 1902, p. 931, c. 352, providing for windows in tenements based upon floor area, construed, and held that alcoves are to be considered as part of room to which annexed and not as separate room. People v. Butler, 105 NYS 117. See, also, Buildings and Building Restrictions, 9 C. L. 441.

90. Act June 24, 1895, P. L. 232, authorizing boards of health to provide for registration of journeymen and master plumbers, held not unlawful delegation of legislative power. Commonwealth v. Shafer, 22 Pa. Super. Ct. 497.

91. Acts 1904, p. 106, c. 35, amendatory of Ky. St. 1903, § 2055, creating county boards of health and defining their powers, held not to authorize resolution placing contagious diseases under exclusive control of health officer and preventing other physicians from attending those afflicted therewith. Trabue v. Todd County [Ky.] 102 SW 309. Municipal Code of Chicago, § 964, prohibiting keeping of certain slops and refuse for cow feed, held within police power granted. Ringelstein v. Chicago, 128 Ill. App. 483. Sanitary Code of Elizabeth, § 2, requiring plans for plumbing and drainage systems to be filed with board, held expressly authorized by Supp. of 1888, § 1 (Gen. St. p. 1642, par. 39), and a reasonable regulation. Board of Health of Elizabeth v. Dickstein [N. J. Law] 67 A 89. Act June 24, 1895, P. L. 232, authorizing boards of health to provide for registration of journeymen and master plumbers, does not authorize rule requiring examination. Commonwealth v. Shafer, 22 Pa. Super. Ct. 497. Regulation thereunder providing for registration of master plumbers only and prohibiting unregistered persons from engaging in plumbing work held invalid as excluding journeymen. Id.

92. Act June 24, 1895, P. L. 232, authorizing boards of health in cities and boroughs having sewerage systems to provide for registration of plumbers, is not void as special legislation because inapplicable to cities without sewerage. Commonwealth v. Shafer, 22 Pa. Super. Ct. 497. Rev. St. § 3986, authorizing boards of education to make rules and regulations to prevent spread of smallpox among pupils and to secure vaccination of pupils, held not violative of state or Federal constitution. State v. Board of Education of Barberton, 76 Ohio St. 297, 81 NE 568.

93. Ordinance prohibiting manufacture of any article injurious to public health or which gives off offensive odors in process of manufacture, without obtaining consent of municipal assembly, held not to authorize assembly to allow carrying on of business destructive of public health, etc. State v. St. Louis [Mo.] 105 SW 748.

94. Holds office during pleasure of board of health, is subject to their directions, and his charges must be approved by them, hence inconsistent. Gaw v. Ashley [Mass.] 80 NE 790.

95. Attorney General v. Stratton, 194 Mass. 51, 79 NE 1073.

96. Gaw v. Ashley [Mass.] 80 NE 790. Action of mayor in removing members of board of health for "misuse of authority," etc., in appointing one of their number to inconsistent office of quarantine inspector, is not frivolous or unreasonable (Id.), though such appointment had been made before (Id.).

97. Under Public Health Law, Laws 1893, p. 1502, c. 661, § 21, as amended by Laws 1903, p. 879, c. 383, local board of health may fix its health officer's compensation on yearly basis, and allow expense in attending annual sanitary conference of health officers (People v. Blood, 105 NYS 20), without concurrence of board of town auditors (Id.), and failure of board to formally prescribe duties is no ground for withholding compensation (Id.).

not be abated as injurious to public health.<sup>98</sup> The board of health of Yonkers is not an agent of the city so as to render the latter liable for its torts.<sup>99</sup>

§ 3. Care and control of sanitation and disease. See 8 C. L. 38.—In Louisiana the power to define and abate nuisances dangerous to the public health is vested in the boards of health of the parishes,<sup>1</sup> subject to judicial interference only in case of abuse.<sup>2</sup> The action of the board of health under the public health law of New York in declaring a nuisance is not an adjudication thereof,<sup>3</sup> and a suit to abate the same is properly brought in the name of the village.<sup>4</sup> Special form of conviction in prosecutions by local boards of health for violation of their ordinances is prescribed in some states.<sup>5</sup>

Liability and expense. See 8 C. L. 39.—In the absence of contract,<sup>6</sup> where the board of health of a city of the fourth class combine with that of the county for treatment of smallpox patients, the city is liable for the expense incurred in treating cases arising within the city and the county for those arising without.<sup>7</sup> Except in the case of an emergency,<sup>8</sup> the secretary of a city board of health cannot be employed to care for smallpox patients in Indiana.<sup>9</sup> The power of taxation and methods of collecting same to support sanitation districts and undertakings is usually statutory.<sup>10</sup>

HEARING; HEARSAY; HEIRS, DEVISEES, NEXT OF KIN AND LEGATEES; HERD LAWS, see latest topical index.

HIGHWAYS AND STREETS.

§ 1. Definitions and Classifications (1589).

§ 2. Establishment (1589).

- A. In General (1589).
- B. Prescription or User (1590).
- C. Statutory Proceedings (1591). Occasion or Necessity for Road (1591). Application or Petition (1591). Jurisdiction, Notice, and Hearing (1592). Viewing, Locating, and Assessing, and Recovery of Damages (1592). Order Locating the Road (1593). Discontinuance and Dismissal (1594). Appeal or Other Review (1594). Injunction and Other Relief (1594).

§ 3. Boundaries and Extent of Way, Ascertainment, and Resurvey (1595).

§ 4. Alterations and Extensions (1595).

98. State v. St. Louis [Mo.] 105 SW 748.

99. Board of health of Yonkers, created by Laws 1881, p. 265, c. 184, tit. 9, § 1. Prime v. Yonkers, 116 App. Div. 699, 102 NYS 118.

1. Police jury is without power to modify ordinance adopted by board of health defining and prohibiting a nuisance. Naccari v. Rappelet, 119 La. 272, 44 S 13.

2. Naccari v. Rappelet, 119 La. 272, 44 S 13. Ordinance prohibiting use of fish and shrimp-shell refuse as fertilizer held not so arbitrary as to justify judicial interference, though some evidence tended to show that use during winter was not injurious. Id.

3. Complaint for abatement must allege facts showing that it is a nuisance. Village of White Plains v. Tarrytown, etc., R. Co., 117 App. Div. 910, 102 NYS 1046.

4. Under Public Health Law, Laws 1893, c. 661, p. 1502, § 21, where board of health of village has declared a nuisance, action to abate same is properly brought in name of village instead of board of health. Village of White Plains v. Tarrytown, etc., R. Co., 117 App. Div. 841, 102 NYS 1046.

5. Gen. St. p. 1642, par. 41, prescribing form of conviction in prosecutions by local boards of health for violation of their ordinances, held valid exercise of legislative power. Board of Health of Elizabeth v. Dickstein [N. J. Law] 67 A 89. On conviction thereunder it is not necessary that judge sign conviction on docket. Id.

6. Conceding that under agreement county was liable for one-half of necessary expense, city cannot recover additional amount without showing that sum received was less than one-half of "actual and necessary" expense incurred. Pulaski County v. Somerset, 30 Ky. L. R. 387, 98 SW 1022.

7. Pulaski County v. Somerset, 30 Ky. L. R. 387, 98 SW 1022. And where county pays sum to city as one-half of total expense incurred, it cannot recover a part thereof in absence of showing that amount paid exceeded amount which it would have cost to treat patients afflicted without city. Id.

8. Evidence that there were other available physicians to care for smallpox patients, held that there was no such emergency as to authorize employment of secretary in violation of act. City of Greenfield v. Black [Ind. App.] 82 NE 797.

9. Officer within Act March 14, 1867 (Laws 1867, p. 53, c. 15, § 152; 2 Burns' Ann. St. 1901, § 3539), declaring that no city officer shall be interested in any contract with city, etc. City of Greenfield v. Black [Ind. App.] 82 NE 797.

10. St. 1891, p. 223, c. 161, held not to authorize board of sanitary districts to adopt method of own to collect taxes and enforce same through county tax collector, but if it adopts method of collection different from that provided by general tax law it must enforce same through own officers. Guptill v. Kelsey [Cal. App.] 91 P 403.

- § 5. Change of Grade (1596).
- § 6. Improvement and Repair (1598).
- § 7. Abandonment and Diminution (1600).
- § 8. Vacation (1601).
- § 9. Street and Highway Officers and Districts (1603).
- § 10. Fiscal Affairs (1603).
- § 11. Control by Public and Public Regulations (1605).
- § 12. Rights of Public Use; Law of the Road (1608).
- § 13. Rights of Abutters (1611). Ownership of Fee (1612).
- § 14. Defective or Unsafe Streets or Highways (1613).
  - A. Liability of Municipalities in General (1613).
  - B. Notice of Defect (1615).
  - C. Sidewalks (1615).

- D. Barriers, Railings, and Signals (1616).
- E. Snow and Ice (1616).
- F. Defects Created or Permitted by Abutting Owners and Otherwise (1616).
- G. Persons Entitled to Protection (1618).
- H. Remote and Proximate Cause of Injury (1618).
- I. Contributory Negligence of Person Injured (1619).
- § 15. Actions for Injuries (1620). Notice of Claim for Injury and Intent to Sue (1620). Pleading (1621). Evidence (1622). Questions for the Jury, Instructions and Findings (1623).
- § 16. Injury to, Obstructions of, or Encroachment on, Street or Highway (1626).

The scope of this topic is noted below.<sup>11</sup>

§ 1. Definitions and classifications.<sup>See 8 C. L. 40</sup>—The terms “street,” “highway,” and “road” have been variously defined.<sup>12</sup> A distinction is sometimes observed between “public road” and “public highway.”<sup>13</sup> Whether a county road becomes a street when included within the limits of a city depends upon the legislative intent.<sup>14</sup> That a street is conveyed to park commissioners and improved as an approach to a park does not make it a part of the park.<sup>15</sup>

§ 2. Establishment. A. In general.—A public road may be established by legislative enactment, statutory proceedings, dedication, or prescription.<sup>16</sup> General principles of dedication are elsewhere discussed.<sup>17</sup> Mandamus will not issue to compel a board to change a discretionary decision for or against the establishment of a

11. This title embraces all the questions of existence, establishment, construction and maintenance of roads, comprehended by §§ 1-9; the public administration of highway matters as comprehended by §§ 10-12; the rights in highways as comprehended in §§ 13, 14; the liability for unsafe or defective highways as comprehended in § 15; and the tortious or criminal obstruction or misuse of highways (§ 16). General matters of public administrative law which do not depend upon any principle peculiar to highways and streets are not included, though they may arise in some connection with highways. For example, see topics Bridges, 9 C. L. 408; Dedication, 9 C. L. 939; Eminent Domain, 9 C. L. 1073; Municipal Corporations, 8 C. L. 1056; Parks and Public Grounds, 8 C. L. 1233; Public Works and Improvements, 8 C. L. 1506; Railroads, 8 C. L. 1590; Sewers and Drains, 8 C. L. 1882; Street Railways, 8 C. L. 2004; Toll Roads and Bridges, 8 C. L. 2123.

12. A street is a road or public way in a city, town, or village laid out and opened for travel by the public. Robins v. McGehee, 127 Ga. 431, 56 SE 461. Public highway is one under the control of the public, dedicated by the owner, used by the public for 20 years, or established in a regular proceeding. Dunn v. Dunn [Ala.] 42 S 686. Rev. Code 1852, as amended 1893, p. 491, c. 60, § 1, relative to highways previously laid out or made or maintained for 20 years, was merely descriptive of highways at time of its enactment and did not apply to others subsequently established by public authority or private dedication. State v. Southard [Del.] 66 A 372. “Streets” includes sidewalks. Van Gorder v. Seneca Falls, 104 NYS 299. Though in a popular sense the word “road” is a generic term including all overland ways of every character, it has no fixed meaning in law, its scope depending upon the context in which it appears. Griffin v. Sanborn, 127 Ga. 17, 56 SE 71.

13. “Public road” refers to the land, while “public highway” includes all the various public easements. Johnson v. State, 1 Ga. App. 195, 58 SE 265.

14. When the legislature expressly confers upon a municipality control of county roads within its limits and excepts its territory from county control for road purposes, such county roads thereby become streets and subject to burdens as such. Oliver v. Newberg [Or.] 91 P 470.

15. Could be condemned for street railway extension. In re Union Trac. Co., 104 NYS 377.

16. Johnson v. State, 1 Ga. App. 195, 58 SE 265. May be established by deed or contract between private parties in interest. Bent v. Trimboli, 61 W. Va. 509, 56 SE 881. A recorded plat of the division of a farm into a number of tracts, upon which is shown a narrow way that “is for the common use of all persons interested now or who may hereinafter be interested in said divisions or parts thereof,” creates an easement only, and said way does not become a public way except by dedication and acceptance or the requirement of title therein by prescription, nor does the use of such a way by the public after annexation to a municipality create in the municipality any title or responsibility for such way. Bonebrake v. Columbus, 6 Ohio N. P. (N. S.) 41.

17. See Dedication, 9 C. L. 939.

road.<sup>18</sup> A street once in existence is presumed to continue until it ceases to be such by abandonment or other lawful cause.<sup>19</sup>

(§ 2) B. Prescription or user.<sup>See 8 C. L. 41, 43</sup>—Highways may be established by prescription,<sup>20</sup> but there must be an adverse, uninterrupted, public user of a well defined way for the statutory period.<sup>21</sup> Dedictory intent is not essential to the es-

18. Under Code, §§ 1501, 1512, establishment of consent road is discretionary with board of supervisors, and mandamus will not issue to compel board to change decision. Parry v. Clarke County Sup'rs, 133 Iowa, 281, 110 NW 591.

19. City of Buffalo v. Delaware, L. & W. R. Co. [N. Y.] 82 NE 513.

20. Highways by user for 20 years exist under Pub. St. 1901, c. 67, § 1, notwithstanding §§ 2, 12, 13, prescribing methods for laying out roads. Harriman v. Moore & Co. [N. H.] 67 A 225. Under this statute a way will not become public if the travel is limited to travel to and from a toll bridge or ferry (Id.), but if it is used for general public travel, though not exclusively for such travel, it becomes a public highway by 20 years' user (Id.). Twenty years' actual occupancy and use of a particular strip creates a public highway (State v. Lloyd [Wis.] 113 NW 964), and it is immaterial that such strip was used in the mistaken belief that it corresponded to a formerly laid out road (Id.). A grant of land for a highway will be presumed from exclusive, uninterrupted public use for a period sufficient to bar an action for its recovery (Meade v. Topeka, 75 Kan. 61, 88 P 574), and burden of showing that the use was only permissive is on the owner of the title (Id.). Mere adverse user acquiesced in for 20 years conclusively shows abandonment to public. Riverside Tp. v. Pennsylvania R. Co. [N. J. Err. & App.] 66 A 433. On issue of highway by user, witness may testify that he was employed by highway commissioner to look after road and to see that it was not obstructed. Parkey v. Galloway, 147 Mich. 693, 14 Det. Leg. N. 34, 111 NW 348.

Evidence sufficient to show highway by prescription. Village of Peotone v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 224 Ill. 101, 79 NE 678; Canton Co. of Baltimore v. Baltimore, 104 Md. 582, 65 A 324; Commonwealth v. Henchey [Mass.] 82 NE 4; Pope v. Alexander [Mont.] 92 P 203; Harriman v. Moore & Co. [N. H.] 67 A 225; Dover Tp. v. Brackenridge [N. J. Law] 67 A 689. Though adjoining owners had built gates where it crossed railroad. Sikes v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. [Mo. App.] 105 SW 700. Evidence of user and improvements held to justify refusal of instruction that there was no evidence of highway by user. Parkey v. Galloway, 147 Mich. 693, 14 Det. Leg. N. 34, 111 NW 348.

21. Adverse, uninterrupted public user under claim of right for 21 years held necessary to title by prescription. Cincinnati & M. V. R. Co. v. Roseville, 76 Ohio St. 108, 81 NE 178. Must be shown that a well defined line of travel has been used by the public for the statutory period adversely and continuously with the owner's knowledge and without his consent. Evidence held to warrant finding that city had not acquired the land in dispute by prescription. City of Chicago v. Galt, 224 Ill. 421, 79 NE 701.

Adverse user: Permissive use refers to the conduct of an owner in consenting to travel by the public, while adverse user imports an assertion of right by the travelers hostile to the owner. Township Com'rs v. Charleston Min. & Mfg. Co., 76 S. C. 382, 57 SE 201. Mere use of land for highway raises no presumption that it was adverse. Gosdin v. Williams [Ala.] 44 S 611. Where there is no attempt at public repair or control over a road through open and unfenced lands, the presumption is that a public use is not adverse to the owner. Brumley v. State [Ark.] 103 SW 615; Van Wanning v. Deeter [Neb.] 112 NW 902. One who claims the right to close a street used by the public for over twenty years has the burden of showing that such user was consistent with his claims of private ownership and control. Canton Co. of Baltimore v. Baltimore, 104 Md. 582, 65 A 324. Evidence insufficient to show adverse use by general public of way over certain school land. Petterson v. Waske [Wash.] 88 P 206.

Use and improvement: Twenty years' public use and improvement necessary. Johnson v. State, 1 Ga. App. 195, 58 SE 265. Failure to improve road where no improvement is required does not necessarily destroy presumption of implied dedication arising from 10 years' user. Brandt v. Olson [Neb.] 113 NW 151. It must be assumed that a road used generally by the public for 25 or 30 years is a public highway making it unlawful to obstruct it, though there is nothing to show that it is what might be termed "a county road" worked and maintained by the public authorities. Smith v. Illinois Cent. R. Co. [Ky.] 105 SW 96. That a road had never been worked by county as required by Rev. St. 1899, § 9694, held immaterial where prescription was complete before passage of the act. Sikes v. St. Louis & S. F. R. Co. [Mo. App.] 105 SW 700.

Statutory period: Seven years' user is necessary to establish a highway under Ballinger's Ann. Codes & St. § 3846, notwithstanding the act of congress granting right of way for construction of highways over public lands not reserved for public use. Vogler v. Anderson [Wash.] 89 P 551. Ten or more years' user and improvement sufficient to establish county road. Ridings v. Marion County [Or.] 91 P 22. Act of owner in fencing in a part of a traveled road and in establishing a new one in its place held not to interrupt running of statute. Berry v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. [Mo. App.] 101 SW 714. Where public has acquired a prescriptive easement, city may assert the right without having itself claimed the easement for full prescriptive period. City of Ft. Worth v. Mansfield [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 704, 99 SW 436.

Well defined way: Travel generally over uninclosed tract not sufficient. Pope v. Alexander [Mont.] 92 P 203. Divergence of travel held not a sufficient variance to defeat presumption of implied dedication arising from 10 years' user. Brandt v. Olson [Neb.] 113 NW 151.

establishment of a highway by prescription.<sup>22</sup> Proof of user is not inadmissible because a highway may also be one of record,<sup>23</sup> nor is prescription prevented by an attempted dedication.<sup>24</sup> User is evidence of an acceptance by the public of an offer to dedicate land for highway purposes.<sup>25</sup>

(§ 2) C. Statutory proceedings. See 8 C. L. 44.—The authority of public officials to lay out highways is derived from statute,<sup>26</sup> in accordance with which the essential proceedings vary.<sup>27</sup> It may be said in general that statutory requirements must be fully and strictly complied with,<sup>28</sup> and that, since the duties of municipal officers in this connection are in their nature judicial,<sup>29</sup> disqualification of such officers vitiates a proceeding.<sup>30</sup> Special provision is made in some states for the opening of private roads.<sup>31</sup>

Occasion or necessity for road. See 8 C. L. 44.—It must appear that there is sufficient reason or necessity for a road,<sup>32</sup> and this question is usually addressed to the discretion of some board.<sup>33</sup>

Application or petition. See 8 C. L. 45.—A petition is generally essential.<sup>34</sup> This must be sufficient to give jurisdiction,<sup>35</sup> and to this end must describe the easement desired with reasonable definiteness,<sup>36</sup> give correctly the names of landowners,<sup>37</sup> and be

22. Immaterial what original owner intended. Village of Peotone v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 224 Ill. 101, 79 NE 678.

23. Harriman v. Moore & Co. [N. H.] 67 A 225.

24. Commonwealth v. Henchey [Mass.] 82 NE 4.

25. Rev. St. § 2477 (U. S. Comp. St. 1901, p. 1559), authorizing public lands not reserved for public purpose to be taken for public roads, held a standing offer of dedication (Van Wanning v. Deeter [Neb.] 110 NW 703), and long and continuous user of road across public lands by settlers held to show acceptance (Id.).

On rehearing it is held that defendant had the burden of showing that the land was public domain at time of the passage of the act (Van Wanning v. Deeter [Neb.] 112 NW 902), and that the evidence did not show this fact (Id.).

26. No public way can be located across flats without authority from the legislature. Chase v. Cochran, 102 Me. 431, 67 A 320.

27. Under Pub. St. 1901, c. 67, § 12, authorizing towns on the Connecticut River to contract with towns on the Vermont side for the purchase of the realty franchise, etc., or any bridge corporation, a highway is established when the contract is made and the property purchased without any further proceedings. O'Neil v. Walpole [N. H.] 66 A 119. Certification by park commissioners of map of portion of New York, pursuant to Laws 1874, 1876, declared to be final as to location and existence of streets, held a legal appropriation and designation of streets shown thereon. In re Jerome Ave., 105 NYS 319. Act of 1873 (Gen. St. 1873, p. 959), declaring section lines public roads, did not of itself create lawful highway, but proper authorities must provide for payment of damages. Van Wanning v. Deeter [Neb.] 112 NW 902.

28. Laying out of townway. Appeal of Conant, 102 Me. 477, 67 A 564.

29. Appeal of Conant, 102 Me. 477, 67 A 564.

30. A proceeding is void where one of the town officers who laid out the road was also petitioner. Appeal of Conant, 102 Me. 477, 67 A 564. Where highway commissioner's determination of necessity for highway has been affirmed on appeal to township board, it is immaterial that commissioner was disqualified. Bogue v. De Long, 147 Mich. 63, 13 Det. Leg. N. 945, 110 NW 119.

31. Private roads may be opened for the convenience of one or more residents of any road district, the persons for whom they are laid out paying the damage awarded to land owners and keeping the roads in repair. Rev. St. 1887, § 933. Latah County v. Hasfurther, 12 Idaho, 797, 88 P 433.

32. Under Acts 1901, p. 950, c. 729, § 13, providing for the laying out of a private cartway "if sufficient reasons be shown," petition alleging that an existing road was very rough and increased distance about three miles held sufficient against demurrer. Cook v. Vickers, 144 N. C. 312, 57 SE 1.

33. Under Code 1906, § 4400, providing procedure for establishment of roads, necessity therefor is matter addressed to discretion of board of supervisors. Strahan v. Attala County Sup'rs [Miss.] 44 S 857.

34. Petition for a way is necessary to authorize selectmen to lay out a townway under the statute. Cushing v. Webb, 102 Me. 157, 66 A 719.

35. Where original petition for a townway was lost, return of selectmen and long acquiescence held at least prima facie evidence that petition was sufficient to give jurisdiction to selectmen exempting it from collateral attack. Cushing v. Webb, 102 Me. 157, 66 A 719.

36. Proceeding under Laws 1903, p. 269, §§ 20-24, void where neither petition nor order appointing viewers specified whether it should be a county road or a gateway, but left this matter with viewers. Shannon v. Malheur County Ct., 48 Or. 617, 87 P 1045. The way must be described in the petition and with such definiteness that when notice of it is given the public and property owners will be appraised with reasonable certainty where the way is sought to be located. Cushing v. Webb, 102 Me. 157, 66 A 719.

37. Failure of petition to give correct name of owner under Rev. St. 1899, § 10,343 properly signed.<sup>38</sup> Where the statute authorizes the county board to pass on the sufficiency of a petition, their findings cannot be collaterally attacked.<sup>39</sup>

Jurisdiction, notice, and hearing.<sup>See 8 C. L. 45</sup>—Notice in substantial compliance with the statute,<sup>40</sup> and properly served<sup>41</sup> or posted,<sup>42</sup> is necessary,<sup>43</sup> but failure to give notice to all landowners along a proposed road does not invalidate proceedings as to those served,<sup>44</sup> and a board whose order refusing to lay out a highway has been reversed may thereafter lay it out without a second notice.<sup>45</sup> Denial of a petition after full statement of what petitioners' witnesses would testify to is equivalent to a hearing.<sup>46</sup> Irregularities in the appointment of commissioners may be waived by appearing before them and opposing the opening of the road.<sup>47</sup> Proceedings of a township board may be collaterally attacked for want of jurisdiction.<sup>48</sup>

Viewing, locating, and assessing, and recovery of damages.<sup>See 8 C. L. 46</sup>—An application for the appointment of viewers or commissioners is premature where made before the expiration of the statutory period after publication of notice.<sup>49</sup> The order appointing reviewers must specify the kind of easement to be located.<sup>50</sup> A proceeding in which a viewer failed to take the statutory oath is voidable.<sup>51</sup> The duties of commissioners are governed by the statute in force at the time of their appointment.<sup>52</sup> Roads cannot be located or established on public land except on lines au-

(Ann. St. 1906, p. 4672), leaves township board without jurisdiction. Mulligan v. Martin, 125 Mo. App. 630, 102 SW 59.

38. One signature sufficient to petition for private road under Rev. St. 1887, § 933. Latah County v. Hasfurther, 12 Idaho, 797, 88 P 433.

39. On ground that petition was not signed by requisite number of householders. Ballinger's Sup. § 3775. State v. Pierce County Super. Ct. [Wash.] 91 P 241.

40. Notice of application for appointment of commissioners to lay out highway served on afternoon of June 6th and returnable in forenoon of June 11th held five days' notice within highway law. In re Niel, 55 Misc. 317, 106 NYS 479. Commissioners' notice fixing hearing on petition to lay out road at "the site of the road" is insufficient. Hand v. Audubon, 123 Ill. App. 600.

41. Service of town road order by reading original down to description of property and by handing copy thereof to occupant, which copy was correct except as to date of hearing, held personal service within Rev. Laws 1905, § 1172. Damon v. Town Board of Baldwin [Minn.] 112 NW 536. Under Code, § 1495, service on husband who is shown by auditor's transfer book to be owner is sufficient, though index book shows co-ownership with wife and transfer book refers to recorder's records which also show such co-ownership. Berger v. Tracy [Iowa] 113 NW 465.

42. Statutes providing for posting of notices for the laying out of county roads and for the designation of the places for posting must be reasonably construed. Lutgen v. Stearns County Com'rs, 99 Minn. 499, 110 NW 1. Where post has not been provided for by supervisors as required by Gen. St. 1894, § 1030, notice posted at place which had been previously designated and used held sufficient. Id. Affidavit of posting which states that notice was posted upon the elm tree, near a designated school house, which was one of the public places in the township, held sufficient in view of recital of jurisdictional facts in order of commissioners. Id.

43. Selectmen's return is prima facie evidence that they gave notice on petition and also of such other facts as were required to be embraced in the notice, such as that notice contained a description of the way and what it was. Cushing v. Webb, 102 Me. 157, 66 A 719.

44. Town of Tyrone v. Burns, 102 Minn. 318, 113 NW 695. Hence damages paid to one duly served cannot be recovered back. Id.

45. Where commissioners reverse order of supervisors refusing to lay out highway, latter may proceed to lay out same without again giving notice required by St. 1898, § 1267. Morris v. Edwards [Wis.] 112 NW 248.

46. Hearing required by Code 1906, § 4400. Strahan v. Attala County Sup'rs [Miss.] 44 S. 857.

47. Highway commissioners served with notice of application for appointment of commissioners to lay out highway but not appearing on the hearing of application, and thereafter appearing before commissioners and opposing the opening, held to have waived irregularities in appointment of commissioners. In re Niel, 55 Misc. 317, 106 NYS 479.

48. Mulligan v. Martin, 125 Mo. App. 630, 102 SW 59.

49. Under Buffalo City Charter, Laws 1891, p. 225, c. 105, § 420, at least 10 days must elapse between expiration of the two weeks of publication of notice of application for appointment of commissioners to ascertain compensation for land to be taken and time of application. In re Street Opening in Buffalo, 52 Misc. 313, 102 NYS 218.

50. Proceedings void where neither petition nor order specified whether road was to be a county road or a gateway, but left this discretionary with viewers. Shannon v. Malheur County Ct., 48 Or. 617, 87 P 1045.

51. Proceedings for establishment of private road held voidable where county surveyor appointed as a viewer did not take the statutory oath, the law not requiring his appointment. Latah County v. Hasfurther, 12 Idaho, 797, 88 P 433.

52. Where appointment of commissioners

thorized by statute.<sup>53</sup> Upon recommending the establishment of a road, a commissioner should cause it to be surveyed and plainly marked if its precise location cannot be otherwise given.<sup>54</sup> Damages will depend largely upon the value of the land taken.<sup>55</sup> Benefits may be set off against the damages.<sup>56</sup> Under the New York charter assessments for benefits affect not only the land but are a personal liability against the owners.<sup>57</sup> Recitals in a commissioners' report relative to assessments of benefits are presumably true.<sup>58</sup> Insufficiency of description in report of commissioner recommending establishment of a proposed road is waived by filing claim for damages.<sup>59</sup> Where land is subject to easements, the fee owner is not entitled to the full award.<sup>60</sup> A commissioners' award of damages cannot be disturbed except for manifest errors of law.<sup>61</sup> Notice of a second hearing is generally given on the coming in of the report of viewers, commissioners or surveyors.<sup>62</sup>

Order locating the road. See 8 C. L. 47.—A board's record of the report of viewers and plat of a road in a book kept for the purpose of showing established highways is equivalent to a declaration of location and establishment.<sup>63</sup> The road must be laid out in accordance with the petition,<sup>64</sup> and must be described with reasonable certainty.<sup>65</sup> In Washington the county court may fix the width of the road at 60 feet or less without regard to the prayer of a petitioner.<sup>66</sup> The validity of an order of a court of superior jurisdiction will be presumed on collateral attack.<sup>67</sup> In Wisconsin was not made until after adoption of New York Charter, their general duties and those of city as to payment for land were governed by the charter. In re Jerome Ave., 105 NYS 315.

53. Under statutes of Nebraska, held that road could not be established across public lands except on section lines. State v. Boone County [Neb.] 110 NW 629.

54. Hoyer v. Diehls [Neb.] 110 NW 714.

55. Where land condemned by a city for a park and boulevard contained stone, evidence of its quality was pertinent on question of damages. Keim v. Reading, 32 Pa. Super Ct. 613. See Eminent Domain, 9 C. L. 1073.

56. Laws 1879, c. 310, p. 397, prohibiting the imposition of assessments on land used for cemetery purposes, does not prevent a deduction of benefits from damages. In re Jerome Ave., 105 NYS 315.

57. Laws 1897, § 1004. In re Jerome Ave., 105 NYS 315.

58. Where commissioners certified that they had complied with law and limited assessment to one-half of value of the lots as valued by them. In re Avenue D, 106 NYS 889.

59. Hoyer v. Diehls [Neb.] 110 NW 714. And injunction will not lie to prevent establishment thereof. Id.

60. Holder of easements entitled to their value. In re Jerome Ave., 105 NYS 319.

61. In re Redmond, 105 NYS 936.

62. Sess. Laws 1901, c. 96, p. 200, having provided that county surveyor shall take place of viewers but having failed to amend Ballinger's Ann. Codes & St. §§ 3871, 3872, providing for notice to landowners on report of viewers, notice on landowners on report of surveyor is proper and effectual. State v. Pierce County Super. Ct. [Wash.] 91 P 241.

63. Boulder County Com'rs v. Brierly [Colo.] 83 P 859.

64. Where petition for a townway was lost, return of selectmen and long acquiescence held to justify presumption on collateral attack that laying out of road was in accordance with petition. Cushing v. Webb, 102 Me. 157, 66 A 719. No objection that way consisted of two streets connecting at right angles. Id.

65. Under Pol. Code, § 520, the records of the county commissioners must describe the location of the road with such particularity as to clearly designate it to the ministerial officers charged with its improvement. Green v. Road Board of Bibb County, 126 Ga. 693, 56 SE 59. Description naming certain persons "past or through" whose lands the road was to pass held too indefinite and not cured by "pegging out," record not indicating manner or location of pegging. Id. Decision of commissioners held sufficiently definite as to starting point and width of road where it contained a survey shown by the petition and application for appointment of commissioners, which survey stated the starting point, width, and center. In re Redmond, 105 NYS 936. Acceptance by town of "road" laid out by selectmen sufficient though road consisted of two connecting streets running at right angles. Cushing v. Webb, 102 Me. 157, 66 A 719. Order establishing road held void for uncertainty of location. Green v. Road Board of Bibb County, 126 Ga. 693, 56 SE 59.

66. Under Code 1881, § 2979, the county court may fix the width of a road at 60 feet or less upon the prayer of any petitioner at the hearing, but they are not bound by a petitioner's prayer and may fix any width which the circumstances seem to warrant. Hab v. Georgetown [Wash.] 91 P 10.

67. In establishment of highways county court is a court of superior jurisdiction. Brumley v. State [Ark.] 103 SW 615. Order reciting that petition for highway was signed by ten citizens and that notice had been given as required by law held to sufficiently show that petitioners were freeholders and that notice had been served. Id.

failure to file the order within ten days after deciding upon the application renders it inoperative.<sup>68</sup>

Discontinuance and dismissal. See § C. L. 47

Appeal or other review. See § C. L. 49—The right of appeal,<sup>69</sup> procedure,<sup>70</sup> and questions reviewable,<sup>71</sup> will depend upon the statute. In proceedings to lay out a townway in Maine, the question of the jurisdiction of the county commissioners and any other questions affecting the legality of their proceedings may be raised when the report of the committee on further appeal is offered for acceptance.<sup>72</sup> On an appeal de novo on the question of damages, a landowner is not confined to the elements of damage claimed before the jury of view.<sup>73</sup> In the absence of statutory requirement, an appellate board in reviewing the question of necessity for a highway need not view the premises.<sup>74</sup> Remote relationship or conduct not calculated to influence the decision will not disqualify such board or its members.<sup>75</sup>

Injunction and other relief See § C. L. 50 may be barred by delay,<sup>76</sup> but the fact that one petitions for a highway does not estop him to deny the legality of its subsequent location.<sup>77</sup> An interested town is properly made defendant.<sup>78</sup>

When town supervisors lay out a highway in Wisconsin, landowners are entitled 68. St. 1898, § 1269. Morris v. Ewddards [Wis.] 112 NW 248. Where supervisors refusal to lay out road was reversed by commissioners, and supervisors thereafter met and laid out a road, failure to file order within ten days from reversal held not to invalidate proceedings. Id.

69. Landholders dissatisfied with proceedings for establishment of private road under Rev. St. 1887, § 933, may appeal to district court where case will be heard de novo or may refuse award and thus compel condemnation. Latah County v. Hasfurth, 12 Idaho, 797, 88 P 433. Appeal to district court governed by Sess. Laws 1899, p. 273, § 4. Id. Under Acts April 15, 1891, P. L. 17, and May 26, 1891, P. L. 116, a landowner in Butler County may appeal to the common pleas from a report of a road jury denying him damages, though local act Feb. 1854, P. L. 62, makes the report final. Kohler v. Butler County, 31 Pa. Super. Ct. 305. Citizens and taxpayers of a city held to have no right to appeal from laying out of a highway by mayor and board of aldermen. Lane v. Keene [N. H.] 66 A 101.

70. Since supervisors in laying out a highway under St. 1898, c. 52, act on behalf of town and are a permanent and continuous body, writ of certiorari to review their action should run to the board and not to the clerk. State v. Town Clerk of Lebanon, [Wis.] 111 NW 1129. Affidavit that affiant filed with auditor notice of appeal from order of supervisors denying petition for road held not objectionable as a mere conclusion. Rosaaen v. Black Hammer [Minn.] 112 NW 267. Affidavit held sufficient to sustain finding that notice had been filed. Id. Under Code 1896, § 2497, making petitioners for private road liable for cost thereof and requiring them to keep same in repair, on appeal from commissioners' court to circuit court from order confirming report of viewers, landowners should be on one side and petitioners on other. Cleckler v. Morrow [Ala.] 43 S 784.

71. Under Code 1896, § 2450, the only matter to be reviewed on appeal from order of commissioners' court confirming report of viewers laying out private road is the question of damages (Cleckler v. Morrow [Ala.] 43 S 784), question of necessity for road and whether report of viewers should be set aside cannot be considered (Id.). Under a statute providing for a determination de novo on appeal, the public necessity of a proposed highway may be inquired into. Appeal under Rev. St. 1899, § 9419 (Ann. St. 1906, p. 4333), from judgment of county court opening highway. Mayes v. Palmer, 206 Mo. 293, 103 SW 1140.

72. Appeal of Conant, 102 Me. 477, 67 A 564.

73. Home v. Montgomery County [Pa.] 67 A 209.

74. Under Pub. Acts 1905, p. 285, No. 195, township board need not view premises on appeal from highway commissioner. Bogue v. De Long, 147 Mich. 63, 13 Det Leg. N. 945, 110 NW 119.

75. Township board held not disqualified to hear appeal from highway commissioner's determination of necessity for highway because prior hearing of appeal of other persons in the proceeding. Bogue v. De Long, 147 Mich. 63, 13 Det. Leg. N. 945, 110 NW 119. Member of board not disqualified because his wife was sister of deceased wife of an applicant, because wife had signed former petition for road, or because, as a member, he had authorized expenditure of money to open the road. Id.

76. Where town was barred by delay from attacking laying out of a highway, inhabitants and taxpayers were also barred from doing so on petition for discontinuance of road on ground that selectmen were disqualified, though petitioners were not individually parties to the proceedings. Town of New London v. Davis [N. H.] 65 A 107.

77. Bridge across plaintiff's flats without authority from legislature. Chase v. Cochran, 102 Me. 431, 67 A 320.

78. In suit to restrain a borough from using certain land for widening of a street, a town having control of construction and repair of portion of the street was properly made defendant. Pinney v. Winsted, 79 Conn. 606, 66 A 337.

to 30 days' notice to remove fences,<sup>79</sup> but are not required to remove them between April and November unless they are in default after a previous valid notice has been served.<sup>80</sup>

§ 3. Boundaries and extent of way, ascertainment, and resurvey. See 8 C. L. 50—The question of boundaries or extent of a road is often one of fact<sup>81</sup> to be determined from competent evidence.<sup>82</sup> Immemorial fence lines will overcome legendary opinions as to where the lines were intended to be.<sup>83</sup> Many years' use and improvement of a road laid out on a township line raises a presumption that the actual location was correct.<sup>84</sup> A grant presumed by user is confined to the tract actually used.<sup>85</sup> While this does not mean that the public will be confined to the precise track made by the wheels of the vehicles,<sup>86</sup> a use generally in a uniform direction must be reasonable in extent.<sup>87</sup> Mere improvement ordinances are ineffectual to extend the width of a street.<sup>88</sup>

§ 4. Alterations and extensions. See 8 C. L. 50—Provision is generally made by statute for the alteration or extension of roads<sup>89</sup> on valid notice,<sup>90</sup> when a change is for the public benefit.<sup>91</sup> After a petition for the alteration of a road has been passed on a request by part of the signers to withdraw their names comes too late.<sup>92</sup> In Illi-

79. Notice to landowner to remove fence held not invalidated by erroneous recital of date of order laying out road where such order was annexed and owner could not have been misled by mistake. Morris v. Edwards [Wis.] 112 NW 248. Notice to remove within 30 days from "date of order" held sufficient under St. 1898, § 1284, requiring that he be allowed "not less than 30 days after giving of notice," such notice being served on day it was dated. Id.

80. Where landowner is in default after due notice to remove fence, county supervisors may order same removed between April 1st and November 1st, St. 1898, § 1284, applying only to original order. Morris v. Edwards [Wis.] 112 NW 248.

81. Evidence insufficient to show that a street extended to Hudson River prior to filling in of lands under water. Iselin v. Cold Springs, 105 NYS 184.

82. Under a statute providing that all public highways in use and theretofore laid out and allowed by law, of which record shall have been made, shall be deemed public highways, a record of an old survey is useless on the issue of the extent of a way in the absence of proof of user or laying out. Rev. St. (1st Ed.) p. 520, c. 17, §§ 98, 100. Iselin v. Cold Springs, 105 NYS 184.

83. Officers held not authorized to appropriate land beyond immemorial fence line without legal process. Anderson v. Huntington [Ind. App.] 81 NE 223. Error to permit testimony as to understanding of witnesses as to original width of road. Id.

84. Council Grove Tp. v. Bowman [Kan.] 92 P 550.

85. Anderson v. Huntington [Ind. App.] 81 NE 223. Meade v. Topeka, 75 Kan. 61, 88 P 574. Where after an ineffective attempt to establish a section line highway public continues to use same but travel wholly on one section because of fence enclosing other, establishment of highway by user does not give public title to two rods on section not traveled, under Comp. Laws, § 4061, providing that all highways which shall become such by use shall be four rods wide, and where situated on section lines such lines shall be the center, etc. Watz v. Sunderland, 147 Mich. 96, 13 Det. Leg. N. 969, 110 NW 507.

86. Montgomery v. Somers [Or.] 90 P 674.

87. Where loose stock had been driven over the land, held proper to limit width of road to 60 feet, the statutory width of county roads. Montgomery v. Somers [Or.] 90 P 674.

88. Where street as originally dedicated was only 50 feet wide, city could not acquire right to greater width either by improvement ordinances or otherwise accept by condemnation. Elliot v. Atlantic City, 149 F 849.

89. City charter held sufficiently comprehensive to authorize deflection of a street near one of its termini. Athens Terminal Co. v. Athens Foundry & Mach. Works [Ga.] 58 SE 891. A borough held authorized to extend streets across complainant's railroad by ordinance. Act June 7, 1901, P. L. 531, prohibiting grade crossings, held not to apply, the same having been passed three years later. Ligonier Valley R. Co. v. Latrobe Borough, 216 Pa. 221, 65 A 548. Public road can only be changed by order of county court made in accordance with Ky. St. 1903, §§ 4289, 4290, and parcel agreement with county judge is insufficient. Big Sandy R. Co. v. Floyd County [Ky.] 101 SW 354.

90. Notice of relocation need not state width of proposed road but only "the place of beginning the intermediate points, if any, and the place of termination." Code 1881, § 2871. Hab v. Georgetown [Wash.] 91 P 10.

91. Under Rev. St. 1895, arts. 4672, 4696, it is for commissioners' court to determine whether proposed change in course of public road is for the public benefit, and its determination will be disturbed only in case of abuse of power. Smith v. Ernest [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 422, 102 SW 129. Mere fact that proposed road was longer held not to show abuse in ordering change. Id.

92. After commissioners had passed on petition, request could not be granted by supervisors on appeal. Commissioners of Highways of Tolono v. Bear, 224 Ill. 259, 79 NE 581.

nois persons interested in the alteration of a road may make inducements by paying money to the town for the benefit of the road and bridge fund.<sup>93</sup> While the supervisors have no authority to collect or disburse such money,<sup>94</sup> their doing so in good faith does not affect the validity of the order for alteration,<sup>95</sup> nor is an order invalid because it improperly includes statements relative to the receipt and disbursements of the money.<sup>96</sup> Under the Texas statute an order is not invalidated as to third persons by a provision that the change shall be made at the applicant's expense.<sup>97</sup> A portion of a street to be discontinued does not lose its street character until the substitute portion is physically opened.<sup>98</sup> If a road is widened by the county in its corporate capacity, failure to strictly comply with the statute relative to procedure will not deprive landowners of compensation for land taken.<sup>99</sup>

§ 5. Change of grade.<sup>See 8 C. L. 51</sup>—Municipalities usually have power to change the grade of streets or highways when necessary for their improvement.<sup>1</sup>

There being no right at common law to recover consequential damages for change of grade<sup>2</sup> unless the same is made illegally,<sup>3</sup> such right is now generally conferred by statute or constitutional provisions<sup>4</sup> which must be complied with by those seeking relief.<sup>5</sup> Tenants may become entitled to damages though the freehold be not

93. Under Hurd's Rev. St. 1905, c. 121, §§ 51, 60, the supervisors in proceedings to alter a highway have no authority to collect or disburse the money offered. Commissioners of Highways of Tolono v. Bear, 224 Ill. 259, 79 NE 581.

94, 95, 96. Commissioners of Highways of Tolono v. Bear, 224 Ill. 259, 79 NE 581.

97. Under Rev. St. 1895, arts. 4672, 4696, authorizing commissioners' court to change course of public road. Smith v. Ernest [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 422, 102 SW 129.

98. Laws 1895, p. 2037, c. 1006, § 2. In re Jerome Ave. of New York, 105 NYS 315.

99. Where a road was widened by a county in its corporate capacity, the fact that the work was not done in accordance with Pol. Code 1895, § 520, relating to application, publication, etc., did not deprive a landowner of compensation. Terrell County v. York, 127 Ga. 66, 56 SE 309.

1. A borough may change within its limits the grade of a road extending beyond its limits. McLain v. West Washington Borough, 31 Pa. Super. Ct. 471.

2. Bowden v. Jacksonville [Fla.] 42 S 394; Melenbacker v. Salamanca, 188 N. Y. 370, 80 NE 1090; Triest v. New York, 105 NYS 571. Establishment or change. In re Perry Ave. of New York, 118 App. Div. 874, 103 NYS 1069.

3. Triest v. New York, 105 NYS 571. Approval by council of bills presented for labor in lowering street held a ratification of the work done so as to relieve claimants from liability in trespass (Wheat v. Van Tine, 149 Mich. 314, 14 Det. Leg. N. 430, 112 NW 933), and parol evidence is admissible to show that approved bills related to such work and that council so knew (Id.).

4. City of Charleston v. Newman, 130 Ill. App. 6; Coyne v. Memphis [Tenn.] 102 SW 355; Crowe v. Corporation of Charles Town [W. Va.] 57 SE 330. Recovery for change of grade under Act May 24, 1878 (P. L. 129). Klenke v. West Homestead Borough, 216 Pa. 476, 65 A 1079. When a borough changes within its limits the grade of a road extending beyond its limits, an injured property owner may have damages ascertained under Act May 24, 1878, P. L. 129. McLain v. West

Washington Borough, 31 Pa. Super. Ct. 471. This rule applies to a part of the "National" or "Cumberland Road." Id. That a change is made in conformity to an ordinance of a municipality acting in its legislative capacity (City of Macon v. Daley [Ga. App.] 58 SE 540), that street was lowered and railroad track left at former grade, in exercise of police power, held not to affect abutting owner's right to compensation (Coyne v. Memphis [Tenn.] 102 SW 355). That a grantor retained the fee in a proposed street and subsequently conveyed it to the city did not preclude an award of damages to his first grantees under Laws 1901, c. 466, § 980. In re Perry Ave. of New York, 118 App. Div. 874, 103 NYS 1069. Laws 1901, p. 400, c. 466, § 951, barring liability to abutters for originally establishing a grade, relates only to assessments for local improvements other than those confirmed by a court of record, and not to proceedings to open a street. Id. Acts 1901, p. 272, c. 153, amending Acts 1891, p. 67, c. 31, by adding proviso that latter act, authorizing recovery of damages for change of grade, shall not apply to cities organized under Act Jan. 29th, 1879, is unconstitutional in so far as it denies compensation of taking of private property. Coyne v. Memphis [Tenn.] 102 SW 355. New York charter held not to repeal a village law so as to take away right to damages for change made after village was merged in Greater New York. Triest v. New York, 105 NYS 571. Liability of city for injuriously changing grade is same in extent and character as for injuriously grading without valid ordinance therefor. Richardson v. Sioux City [Iowa] 113 NW 928. Laws 1893, c. 84, §§ 1, 2, 47, construed, and held a city is liable to an abutting owner for damages caused by the original establishment of the grade of a street dedicated by him to it though the grade is reasonable and the work is properly done. Fletcher v. Seattle [Wash.] 88 P 843.

5. Property owner could not have damages, under Laws 1883, as amended, for change of railroad crossing, where he failed to proceed under Railroad Laws 1890, c. 565, and file notice with railroad commissioners injured,<sup>6</sup> but where in legal proceedings an owner has been paid damages for a proposed change of grade, his vendee is not entitled to damages from the physical grading subsequently done,<sup>7</sup> and estoppel may also preclude recovery.<sup>8</sup> It must appear that there was a previously established grade,<sup>9</sup> and, in Iowa, that improvements had been made in conformity thereto.<sup>10</sup> A grade may have been previously established either by statute<sup>11</sup> or by user, acquiescence, or recognition.<sup>12</sup> One who improves his property after the establishment of the original grade cannot recover damages which would have resulted had the actual change been made only to conform to such grade.<sup>13</sup> The measure of damages is the difference in the market value of the property before and after the change,<sup>14</sup> less special but not general benefits.<sup>15</sup>

Suit for damages must be timely.<sup>16</sup> Delay in completing slight incidental improvements does not render it premature.<sup>17</sup> The complaint must set forth all conditions essential to recovery,<sup>18</sup> and should avoid surplusage.<sup>19</sup> A petition not signed or otherwise acquiesced in by plaintiff is not admissible against him.<sup>20</sup> Competent evidence bearing on the question of market value is admissible.<sup>21</sup> Thus, the cost as therein required. Melenbacker v. Salamanca, 188 N. Y. 370, 80 NE 1090. Under Rev. St. c. 23, § 68, a previous application in writing to the municipal officers must be made before resort to court to have damages assessed. Persson v. Bangor, 102 Me. 397, 66 A 1019. Mayor and aldermen and not mayor and council held to constitute the "municipal officers." Id.

6. Under Rev. Laws, c. 48, §§ 17, 18, 20, 22, providing for cases where holders of several estates claim damages. Galeano v. Boston [Mass.] 80 NE 579.

7. In re Sedgley Ave., 217 Pa. 313, 66 A 546.

8. Where lot owner authorizes and consents to removal of earth from street in front of his lot, he is estopped to complain. Wheat v. Van Tine, 149 Mich. 314, 14 Det. Leg. N. 430, 112 NW 933. Plaintiff who built house with reference to viaduct in street could not thereafter complain that erection of original viaduct was diversion of street, when same is being rebuilt so as to change grade. Bowden v. Jacksonville [Fla.] 42 S 394.

9. Where no grade of the street in front of plaintiff's premises had been established, no damages can be recovered for lowering of street. Wheat v. Van Tine, 149 Mich. 314, 14 Det. Leg. N. 430, 112 NW 933.

10. Property is improved in accordance with initial grade within Code, § 785, when it is so improved that it can be conveniently used for purpose to which it is devoted while grade remains unchanged. Richardson v. Sioux City [Iowa] 113 NW 928. House constructed after establishment of initial grade held built in conformity therewith though built on natural surface. Id. Value of property in its entirety before and after change could not be considered where house had not been established in conformity with initial grade. Id. Instruction permitting recovery for cost of lowering all buildings is erroneous where one building was built before initial grade was established. Id.

11. New York charter, Laws 1897, § 951, construed so as to allow establishment of a grade either by user "or" by improvement, etc. Triest v. New York, 105 NYS 571.

12. Evidence held to show that a certain highway was a village street graded with surface of adjacent land by user, etc., at time of merger of village into New York City. Triest v. New York, 105 NYS 571.

13. Destruction of trees set out along street cannot be considered in absence of showing that destruction would not have been necessary to reduce street level to initial grade. Richardson v. Sioux City [Iowa] 113 NW 928.

14. City of Macon v. Daley [Ga. App.] 58 SE 540; Richardson v. Sioux City [Iowa] 113 NW 928. Fact that abutting property under original grade was only walled in part precludes finding that owner is entitled to wall coextensive with boundary lines after change of grade. Id.

15. Godby v. Bluefield, 61 W. Va. 604, 57 SE 45; Barnes v. Grafton, 61 W. Va. 408, 56 SE 608.

16. Recovery barred ten years after change. Nyhart v. Taylor Borough, 31 Pa. Super. Ct. 635.

17. Where grade had been fixed and street paved for nearly two years, that a retaining wall was not completed did not bar suit. Barnes v. Grafton, 61 W. Va. 408, 56 SE 608.

18. Held sufficient. Crowe v. Corporation of Charles Town [W. Va.] 56 SE 330; Barnes v. Grafton, 61 W. Va. 408, 56 SE 608. Petition for damages held to sufficiently state a change of grade without stating that petitioner did not consent to the change or alleging failure to agree with borough on compensation. Klenke v. West Homestead Borough, 216 Pa. 476, 65 A 1079. Insufficiency of statement immaterial. Id. Complaint demurrable where it failed to allege diversion of street from street purposes, a physical invasion of plaintiff's property, or negligence in prosecuting work. Bowden v. Jacksonville [Fla.] 42 S 394.

19. Allegation in action for impairment of value of abutting property by change of grade to make subway for elevated car tracks, that defendants, city, and railroad, "each and all combined and confederated in one common purpose and unlawfully," etc., held surplusage. Coyne v. Memphis [Tenn.] 102 SW 355.

20. Petition for change. City of Americus v. Tower [Ga. App.] 59 SE 434.

21. Opinions of witness as to value before and after change are competent. Richardson v. Sioux City [Iowa] 113 NW 928.

of raising or lowering the property to conform to the new grade,<sup>22</sup> as distinguished from merely shifting its location,<sup>23</sup> may be shown, but only as throwing light upon the general question of diminution in market value.<sup>24</sup> In an action for damages the city cannot recover over against plaintiff if his property was enhanced in value by the improvement.<sup>25</sup> Where after a change of grade has been made a board is authorized by statute to determine and allow damages, a court of equity has power to decide as to the person to whom an award should be made.<sup>26</sup> On appeal from a viewer's award of damages, it is discretionary with the court to allow a view of the premises.<sup>27</sup>

§ 6. Improvement and repair. See 8 C. L. 53.—Matters embraced in this section are more particularly treated in another topic.<sup>28</sup> Highways may be constructed or repaired either by the state itself<sup>29</sup> or by municipal subdivisions,<sup>30</sup> or their agents<sup>31</sup> acting under its authority; but a city may not direct the paving of a street at the expense of the property owners while a valid contract is in force by which railroad companies are bound to do the work.<sup>32</sup> Cities and villages are often empowered to cause the construction or improvement of sidewalks upon failure of abutters to do so after notice.<sup>33</sup> Under a statute authorizing cities to improve portions of streets

Testimony as to the value of other abutting lots before and since change held relevant, but not testimony that a similar claim for damages to other abutting property had been settled. City of Americus v. Tower [Ga. App.] 59 SE 434. City could show that street elevation was part of general scheme of improvement including a park in neighborhood. Bond v. Philadelphia [Pa.] 67 A 805. Destruction of trees growing in grade parking is competent to show that improvements had been made in view of original grade and as bearing on value of property before and after, and it is immaterial whether fee to street is in abutting owner or municipality. Richardson v. Sioux City [Iowa] 113 NW 928. Evidence as to how initial grade compared with grade on other streets held immaterial. Id. Evidence of cost of a particular retaining wall held inadmissible in absence of proof as to character and extent of wall rendered necessary by change of grade. Id.

22. May be considered as bearing on difference in market value. Richardson v. Sioux City [Iowa] 113 NW 928.

23. Cost of shifting inadmissible. Richardson v. Sioux City [Iowa] 113 NW 928.

24. The cost of filling a lot and raising buildings to the level of the street as altered cannot be included in the estimate of damages as elements thereof, unless it is necessary to so alter the condition of the property in order to preserve it from further injury or render it fit for use and enjoyment (Godby v. Bluefield, 61 W. Va. 604, 57 SE 45), but the cost and loss incident to such alteration may be considered in subordination to the proper rule of damages as showing the uses to which the property was adaptable immediately after the change of grade (Id.). Instructions on measure of damages held erroneous. Id. May be considered not as an independent element of special damage but as throwing light on the general question of diminution of market value. City of Macon v. Daley [Ga. App.] 58 SE 540. Cost of raising to within five feet of street the original level could not be considered. Bond v. Philadelphia [Pa.] 67 A 805. Certain indirect evidence held properly excluded. Id.

25. Not error to refuse answer setting up counterclaim. City of Owensboro v. Yewell [Ky.] 104 SW 284.

26. Board's action not conclusive except as to existence of damages and amount thereof. Johnson v. Pettit, 105 NYS 730.

27. Act May 21, 1895 (P. L. 89), providing for view as of right, applies only to actions for damages and not on appeal. Bond v. Philadelphia [Pa.] 67 A 805.

28. See Public Works and Improvements. 8 C. L. 1506.

29. Construction and repair of public highways by the state is the exercise of a state function. State v. Marion County Com'rs [Ind.] 82 NE 482.

30. Highways may be constructed and kept in repair by the state, or, under state authority, by municipal subdivisions, or by taxing districts created for that purpose.

State v. Marion County Com'rs [Ind.] 82 NE 482. Shoemaker Road Law (Acts 1904, p. 388, c. 225) held not unconstitutional as to title. Fout v. Frederick County Com'rs [Md.] 66 A 487. Section 2 not repugnant to § 15 providing that nothing in the act shall affect the present method of road construction or repair by the several counties. Id. Acts 1905, p. 521, c. 167, substantially reenacting all previous systems of improving highways, repealed by implication Acts 1903, p. 255, c. 145, concerning gravel and macadamized roads. Finding v. Foster [Ind.] 81 NE 480.

31. Owner of fee cannot complain that sidewalk is being constructed along public road by private persons, where permission has been given by county commissioners. Hitchcock v. Zink [Neb.] 113 NW 795.

32. City of Chicago v. Newberry Library, 224 Ill. 330, 79 NE 666.

33. Par. 19, § 15, Act No. 136, p. 230, of 1898, authorizing cities to cause to be constructed and maintained sidewalks, etc., and to levy and collect taxes by special assessments, held not repealed by Act No. 131, p. 295, of 1904. Town of Rayne v. Harrel, 119 Ia. 652, 44 S 330. When council provides for construction of a sidewalk, and serves notice on abutting owner that in case of his failure within a specified time to construct not less than a block in length, the length of a block is a question of fact to be determined from the evidence in the absence of statutory definition.<sup>34</sup> In Kentucky it is unlawful for a justice of the peace to become interested in any contract for working roads.<sup>35</sup>

Proceedings must conform to statutory regulations,<sup>36</sup> and where private property is taken compliance must be affirmatively shown by the record.<sup>37</sup> Questions pertaining to damages are governed by principles applicable in cases where a grade is changed.<sup>38</sup> Courts will not interfere with the discretionary powers of road commissioners and overseers with reference to the improvement of highways, though some incidental damage may result to abutters,<sup>39</sup> and while an improvement cannot be so a walk of certain material and width it will be laid by the municipality or village and expense assessed back upon the property, all procedure has been had which is necessary for construction of the walk and levying of a proper assessment (Meek v. Collinwood, 10 Ohio C. C. [N. S.] 9), but where notice on owner calls for walk of sandstone, the laying of a cement walk without further procedure imposes no obligation on him (Id.). Power given to villages prior to 1903 to require construction of sidewalks held not to include power to compel lot owner to reduce sidewalk space to established grade (Smith v. Hofeldt [Neb.] 112 NW 605), and before village could require lot owner to construct sidewalk at grade, it must first reduce space to such grade (Id.).

34. Ky. St. 1903, § 3449. Board of Councilmen of Frankfort v. Brislan [Ky.] 104 SW 311.

35. Ky. St. 1903, § 4332, declaring it unlawful for a justice of the peace, who is ex officio a member of fiscal court, to become directly or indirectly "interested in any contract for working roads," held violated where he and his teams do work on road by the day under employment by road supervisor. Commonwealth v. Lane [Ky.] 102 SW 313.

36. Petition for condemnation of sidewalk on "lot 95" and for construction of a new one held sufficient as to description of location of sidewalk. City of Fayette v. Rich, 122 Mo. App. 145, 99 SW 8. Need not specify kind of walk to be laid, under Rev. St. 1899, § 5989. Id. Evidence held to show that certain land abutted on proposed improvement so as to authorize owners to sign petition. Kemp v. Goodnight, 168 Ind. 174, 80 NE 160. To be a "resident landholder" entitled to sign a petition for the improvement of a road under Acts 1903, p. 255, c. 145, one must be a fee holder and not a mere life tenant. Id.

Ordinance authorizing city to construct sidewalk and charge cost thereof to abutting owner held not in accordance with power delegated by Act No. 136, p. 230, of 1898, in that it omitted special assessment feature. Town of Rayne v. Harrel, 119 La. 652, 44 S 330. Under charter provision that all special ordinances in conflict with a general ordinance are void, special ordinance for improvement of street 50 feet wide establishing roadway 36 feet wide, center of which to be 30 feet from north lines, is void where general ordinance requires sidewalk on such street to be 10 feet wide. Asphalt & Granitoid Const. Co. v. Hauessler, 201 Mo. 400, 100 SW 14. An ordinance for a street improvement providing that the same shall conform to the established grade as established by the ordinance, which fixes the grade at street intersections, requires the grade to be fixed on a line drawn from the grade fixed at one intersection to the grade fixed at another intersection (Lindblad v. Normal, 224 Ill. 362, 79 NE 675), and the grade will be fixed on a line which is the shortest distance between the two points (Id.). Ordinance fixing grade only at intersections held sufficient. Ogden, Sheldon & Co. v. Chicago, 224 Ill. 294, 79 NE 699.

37. Under Laws 1903, p. 148, providing for grading of public roads and payment of damages therefor, and requiring appointment of three commissioners "who shall be disinterested freeholders" to assess damages, order of appointment which fails to recite that commissioners are disinterested or are freeholders is defective (Grading Bledsoe Hill in Buchanan County v. Bledsoe, 200 Mo. 630, 98 SW 631), and such defect is not cured by recital in affidavit of commissioners to their report that they are freeholders (Id.). Likewise, failure to state that commissioners were sworn and instructed as required is fatal, and a mere recital that instructions were given without setting out same is insufficient. Id.

38. Damages to abutting property from grading sidewalk is difference in market value before and after. Town of Eutaw v. Botnick [Ala.] 43 S 739. City not liable in trespass for mere consequential injuries. Herr v. Altoona, 31 Pa. Super. Ct. 375. Abutting property owner cannot recover damages for cutting and trimming of hedge planted on public highway by municipal authorities. Bright v. Bell, 117 La. 947, 42 S 426. Merrick's Rev. Civ. Code, art. 691, has no application, hedge not being on boundary line. Bright v. Bell, 117 La. 947, 42 S 436. Evidence of building of retaining wall (Town of Eutaw v. Botnick [Ala.] 43 S 739), and of rental value before and after grading, held admissible (Id.). In action for damages by grading of abutting sidewalk, though jury is entitled to know condition of ground so as to determine whether grading has interfered with the ingress and egress, questions as to character of walk before and after, directing special attention to improvement, are inadmissible. Id. Where plaintiff has testified to value before grading an abutting sidewalk, he may be cross-examined as to an offer to sell for lesser amount. Id.

39. Drainage. Davis v. Howell [Ark.] 104 SW 550. The making of an embankment for a highway cannot be enjoined merely because it obstructs the flow of surface water against which a landowner may protect himself. Darlington v. Cloud County Com'rs, 75 Kan. 810, 88 P 529. Road officers are vested with broad discretion as to plans and methmade as to unnecessarily and unreasonably throw water in a body upon private land,<sup>40</sup> no suit is maintainable for the laying of a culvert reasonably necessary for the protection of a road from surface water.<sup>41</sup> A municipality is not liable for injuries due to the negligence of an independent contractor in repairing a highway where there are no defects or obstructions in the highway itself;<sup>42</sup> but the improvement of streets being a corporate and not a governmental, function, a city is liable for negligent injuries to employees.<sup>43</sup> The right of appeal and proceedings thereon depend on statute.<sup>44</sup>

§ 7. Abandonment and diminution.<sup>See 8 C. L. 56</sup>—While mere private adverse possession cannot divest public rights in streets or alleys,<sup>45</sup> the doctrine of estoppel may do so.<sup>46</sup> Mere divergence of travel at impassable places,<sup>47</sup> or failure to repair a road,<sup>48</sup> does not amount to abandonment. Failure to open a road for public use within a certain time after granting of authority to do so operates as an abandonment in some states,<sup>49</sup> and a mislaid prescriptive road supersedes original lines.<sup>50</sup> A city may not alienate streets without legislative authority.<sup>51</sup> The New York statute provides for acquisition by abutters of the city's interest in a street upon its discontinuance.<sup>52</sup>

ods of maintaining highways and mere error of judgment is not ground for enjoining an improvement. Dennis v. Osborn, 75 Kan. 557, 89 P 925.

40. Dennis v. Osborn, 75 Kan. 557, 89 P 925. Road supervisor and those working under him are liable in compensatory damages for diversion of water from natural course onto private lands without regard to their good faith. Wrightsel v. Fee, 76 Ohio St. 529, 81 NE 975.

41. Injunction not maintainable by lower land owner. Dennis v. Osborn, 75 Kan. 557, 89 P 925.

42. County not liable for injuries from blasting. Symons v. Road Directors for Allegany County [Md.] 65 A 1067.

43. Burke v. South Omaha [Neb.] 113 NW 241.

44. In proceeding for construction of a gravel road under Acts 1903, p. 255, c. 145, statutes considered and held to authorize appeal by landowners to the circuit court from finding of county commissioners that a majority of landowners had signed petition. Ross v. Becker [Ind.] 81 NE 478. Held not error to refuse filing of amended remonstrances in circuit court where under the statute the decision of the county commissioners was final. Kemp v. Goodnight, 168 Ind. 174, 80 NE 160.

45. City of El Paso v. Hoagland, 224 Ill. 263, 79 NE 658; De Land v. Dixon Power & Lighting Co., 225 Ill. 212, 80 NE 125; Christian v. Eugene [Or.] 89 P 419; Krause v. El Paso [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 960, 101 SW 828. Mere obstructions or encroachments on a public highway will not affect the public rights in it (In re Jerome Avenue in New York, 105 NYS 319), nonuser and affirmative evidence of a clear determination to abandon being necessary (Id.). See, also, post, § 16.

46. Where city attempted to vacate alley not actually opened and later permitted erection of improvements. City of El Paso v. Hoagland, 224 Ill. 263, 79 NE 658. Long notorious possession, improvement, payment of taxes, etc. Forster v. Raznlk [Wash.] 91 P 252. Held that land dedicated for streets could not be lost by equitable estoppel. Krause v. El Paso [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 960, 101 SW 828.

47. Evidence that because of impassability of road at various places diverging roads have been used and that a more convenient road had been established held not to show abandonment. Perry v. Staple [Neb.] 110 NW 652. Removal of bridge which did not render road impassable and establishment of another which diverted part of travel held not to show abandonment. Lyons v. Mullen [Neb.] 110 NW 743.

48. Mere failure to work or repair a road does not amount to abandonment where the road is used though only to a limited extent. Brumley v. State [Ark.] 103 SW 615.

49. Ballinger's Ann. Codes & St. § 3803 (Pierce's Code, § 7854), providing that any authorized "county road" remaining unopened for public use for five years after granting of authority for opening it shall be vacated, and authority for building it barred, applies to streets dedicated by platting land outside the limits of an incorporated city or town. Murphy v. King County [Wash.] 88 P 1115. Under a statute declaring all section lines in a county public highways and providing for their opening on petition, such lines are county roads within the statute of 1879, providing that such roads shall be vacated if unopened for seven years "after the order is made or the authority granted for opening the same." Cowley County Com'rs v. Johnson [Kan.] 90 P 805. The quoted phrase refers to the time the act was passed and not to the time of a county commissioners' order for opening of the road. Id. Road created prior to 1879 and unopened for seven years held vacated. Id.

50. Where particular highway was laid out and used in the belief that it corresponds to previously laid out road, old road was abandoned in so far as it did not correspond. State v. Lloyd [Wis.] 113 NW 964.

51. Charter held not to confer authority. Krause v. El Paso [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 960, 101 SW 828.

52. Laws 1895, p. 2042, c. 1006, prescribing method by which conveyance from city may

§ 8. Vacation.<sup>See</sup> 8 C. L. 56.—When the elevation of railway tracks becomes necessary for the public safety, a grant to a railway company of the use of so much of a street as may be necessary for that purpose does not constitute a vacation of the street resulting in reversion.<sup>53</sup>

The legislature has power to provide for the closing of streets by local officers or boards.<sup>54</sup> The mere fact that property may be rendered less accessible does not prevent a closing,<sup>55</sup> but the power of a city to vacate a street cannot be perverted for the sole benefit of private interests.<sup>56</sup> To entitle a private person to enjoin a proceeding, he must show special injury<sup>57</sup> and no adequate remedy at law.<sup>58</sup>

A valid petition<sup>59</sup> and notice<sup>60</sup> are generally required, but appearance gives jurisdiction though no notice has been served,<sup>61</sup> and failure to give notice to all the landowners does not invalidate the proceedings as to those served.<sup>62</sup> While nonjurisdictional irregularities will not avoid a vacation,<sup>63</sup> jurisdictional facts must affirmatively appear on the record.<sup>64</sup>

In the absence of constitutional or statutory provisions, abutting owners are not entitled to compensation for the vacation of a street or highway.<sup>65</sup> Damages are generally allowed by statute however,<sup>66</sup> and in such case the right thereto accrues im-be acquired, held not repealed by Laws 1905, p. 871, c. 379, amending City Charter, Laws 1901, c. 466, § 205, providing for disposition of such lands. People v. Metz, 104 NYS 649.

53. Weage v. Chicago & W. I. R. Co., 227 Ill. 421, 81 NE 424.

54. People v. Delany, 105 NYS 746. Common council of city of first class may by ordinance vacate streets and alleys whenever it deems it necessary or expedient. Blackwell, etc., R. Co. v. Gist, 18 Okl. 516, 90 P 889. Greater New York charter and amendatory laws empowers the board of estimate and apportionment to close streets without action on part of local district boards. Reis v. New York, 188 N. Y. 58, 80 NE 573. Laws 1895, p. 2037, c. 1006, is inapplicable to vacation of a street never opened in fact, and where complaining party will not be injured in her property rights. Id. Act April 21, 1858, P. L. 385, relating among other matters to vacation of streets in Philadelphia, is constitutional. Umbria Street, 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 333. City council of city of Cleburne held to have no power, under charter or statute, to close street and grant use thereof to railway. Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Garrett [Tex. Civ. App.] 99 SW 162. Purchase of platted lots does not give vested right to continuance of streets as against power of supervisors to vacate under Code, § 422. Chrisman v. Brandes [Iowa] 112 NW 833. Code, § 920, does not restrict power of supervisors under § 422. Id. Code, § 422, subds. 16, 17, §§ 751, 48, 1507, construed, and held that where land is platted into lots, streets, and alleys prior to incorporation of town which embraced same such streets and alleys became county roads subject to jurisdiction of supervisors, and, though control may have passed to town upon incorporation, it reverted upon vacation of incorporation, and supervisors could vacate such streets and alleys. Id.

55. Reis v. New York, 188 N. Y. 58, 80 NE 573.

56. Attempt to cure private title. De Land v. Dixon Power & Lighting Co., 225 Ill. 212, 80 NE 125.

57. Letherman v. Hauser [Neb.] 110 NW 745. Elector residing within five miles of such road has sufficient special interest. Id. Bill insufficient. Robbins v. White [Fla.] 42 S 841.

58. Where highway is being closed pursuant to void vacation proceedings, one using such road as most available route to market and county seat held to have no adequate remedy at law. Letherman v. Hauser [Neb.] 110 NW 745.

59. Under Comp. St. 1903, c. 78, § 4, petition for vacation signed by 10 electors "residing within five miles of the road" is jurisdictional. Letherman v. Hauser [Neb.] 110 NW 745. Railroad company may make application for vacation of streets and alleys. Chrisman v. Brandes [Iowa] 112 NW 833.

60. Under St. 1898, § 1267, notice of proceeding to vacate a portion of a road must be given to occupants along portion not sought to be discontinued. Morris v. Edwards [Wis.] 112 NW 248.

61, 62. Chrisman v. Brandes [Iowa] 112 NW 833.

63. Action of city council under Cobbey's Ann. St. 1903, § 8739, vacating street, has the force and effect of judicial proceeding. Enders v. Friday [Neb.] 111 NW 140.

64. Record of county board failed to show that signers of petition lived within five miles of road as required by Comp. St. 1903, c. 78, § 4. Letherman v. Hauser [Neb.] 110 NW 745.

65. Damages not recoverable under constitution or Act May 16, 1891, P. L. 75 (Nocton v. Pennsylvania R. Co., 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 555), nor under Act May 9, 1871, P. L. 639, relating to road law procedure in Montgomery county (Id.).

66. Under street closing act, Laws 1895, c. 1006, an abutting owner on a street 50 feet wide is entitled to damages for narrowing the street to 38 feet in front of his property. People v. Delany, 105 NYS 746. Adequate compensation necessary. Blackwell, etc., R. Co. v. Gist, 18 Okl. 516, 90 P 889. Property owners whose property abuts upon vacated portion, and who can recover damages. Enders v. Friday [Neb.] 111 NW 140. Where a street or part thereof has been discontinued and an abutting owner has presented to the mediately upon the vacation of the highway.<sup>67</sup> While vacation which does not cut off access to lots from any direction but merely makes it necessary to travel farther to reach them is not a special injury entitling the owner to damages,<sup>68</sup> the case is different where one of two modes of access is cut off.<sup>69</sup> Under statute the court may extend the time for the filing of a jury's report assessing damages.<sup>70</sup> If a jury improperly assesses all the damages against an owner, the court may refer its report back for correction and the jury need not be again sworn for such purpose.<sup>71</sup> A jury's report does not become a debt against a municipality until approved by the court.<sup>72</sup> Damages for vacation of a street is a personal claim which does not pass by grant of the land or run with it.<sup>73</sup> Laches and failure to appeal may bar the right to damages.<sup>74</sup>

A municipal exercise of delegated power to vacate streets is a legislative function not reviewable by the courts in the absence of fraud or collusion.<sup>75</sup> Under some statutes a judgment on appeal from the local board is not appealable.<sup>76</sup> An objection that a vacation was not of public utility is too late on appeal.<sup>77</sup>

Whether a particular tract was covered by an ordinance is a question of construction.<sup>78</sup> Where a street or alley is vacated, the land embraced in it becomes part of the adjacent private property<sup>79</sup> and cannot be thereafter taken for railway or other public uses without compensation.<sup>80</sup> comptroller a timely written statement for compensation and request for appointment of commissioners which has not been complied with, mandamus will lie to compel the corporation counsel to proceed though the damage may be small. People v. Delany, 105 NYS 746.

67. Final order vacating a street is self-executing, and damages are recoverable at once. City of Indianapolis v. L. C. Thompson Mfg. Co. [Ind. App.] 81 NE 1156. The confirmation by the proper authorities of a new plan of streets omitting a portion of a previously existing street operates as an immediate vacation of such portion and limitations will run forthwith. Pulaski Avenue, 33 Pa. Super. Ct. 108; Old Tacony Road, 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 444. Immaterial that street was not actually closed for years after, or that a petition of an owner was quashed below for want of jurisdiction, and on theory that damages did not accrue until street was actually closed. Pulaski Ave., 33 Pa. Super. Ct. 108.

68. Ruscomb Street, 33 Pa. Super. Ct. 148. Where one's property does not abut on a portion of a street about to be closed and access is not cut off, he will suffer no actionable damage (Reis v. New York, 188 N. Y. 58, 80 NE 573), unless private easements are interfered with (Id.). Plaintiff held not deprived of private easement acquired by purchase with reference to a map. Id.

69. Ruscomb Street, 33 Pa. Super. Ct. 148. Existence of blind streets affording no means of access to general system of streets immaterial. Id.

70. Act March 18, 1903, P. L. 28, authorizing courts to extend time for filing of reports by road juries, is valid, and applies to vacation proceedings under act April 21, 1858. Umbria Street, 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 333.

71. Umbria Street, 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 333.

72. Where report had been set aside, mandamus execution would not lie against city. Old Tacony Road, 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 444.

73. Pulaski Ave., 33 Pa. Super. Ct. 108.

74. Old Tacony Road, 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 444.

75. Mottman v. Olympia [Wash.] 88 P 579. Allegation that object of vacation was to give title to the state which owned land on both sides of portion vacated did not show fraud or collusion. Id. Expediency of vacating streets held for supervisors and not subject to review by certiorari. Chrisman v. Brandes [Iowa] 112 NW 833. Courts will not ordinarily inquire into motive of city council vacating a street. Enders v. Friday [Neb.] 111 NW 140.

76. Judgment in proceedings for an award of damages in circuit court by way of appeal from hearing before board of public works is not appealable under Acts 1905, p. 284, § 102. City of Indianapolis v. L. C. Thompson Mfg. Co. [Ind. App.] 81 NE 1156.

77. Under Acts 1905, pp. 523, 524, c. 167, §§ 5, 9, 10, relating to proceedings before board of commissioners for location, vacation, etc., of highways, landowner cannot present such remonstrance for first time in circuit court. Williamson v. Hauser [Ind.] 82 NE 771.

78. Ordinance vacating a street so far as same "intersects, crosses, or comes in contact with" a certain railroad right of way held effective to vacate a triangular section near a railroad. City of Larned v. Boyd [Kan.] 90 P 814.

79. Willson's Rev. & Ann. St. 1903, c. 12, § 49. Blackwell, etc., R. Co. v. Gist, 18 Okl. 516, 90 P 889. Under Mill's Ann. St. § 4370, title to portions of streets vacated or abandoned passes not to original grantor but to abutting owners. Bothwell v. Denver Union Stockyard Co. [Colo.] 90 P 1127. Where public acquires only an easement, upon surrender thereof, the municipality cannot grant use of vacated portion to third persons but same reverts to abutting property owner. Robbins v. White [Fla.] 42 S 841.

80. City could not by ordinance vacate street and also grant railroad right of way without compensating property owner. Blackwell, etc., R. Co. v. Gist, 18 Okl. 516, 90 P 889.

§ 9. Street and highway officers and districts. See 8 C. L. 58.—Questions relating to the election or appointment,<sup>81</sup> qualification,<sup>82</sup> jurisdiction,<sup>83</sup> and liability<sup>84</sup> of highway officers, are peculiar to the local statutes. In the absence of statute highway commissioners need not always act as a board, nor need they preserve record evidence of their acts.<sup>85</sup> County officers having jurisdiction of streets and highways may make contracts in regard to such subject-matter subject only to the statutes or public policy of the state.<sup>86</sup> Mandamus will not lie to compel highway commissioners to reimburse the township road fund to the extent of money expended by them in improving a road within the limits of a village contrary to law, where the money was raised by the taxpayers for that purpose and voluntarily paid by them.<sup>87</sup> A road board having no authority to create or establish roads cannot be required to clear and work a road where the order establishing such road is void for uncertainty of description.<sup>88</sup> In proceedings to lay out a highway in New York, the highway commissioners may present the matter to the town board which may by resolution employ counsel to oppose the application,<sup>89</sup> but if the commissioners themselves employ counsel for this purpose, they and not the town will be individually responsible to him,<sup>90</sup> and they should then present a claim therefor to the town for necessary expenses incurred in the discharge of their duties.<sup>91</sup>

§ 10. Fiscal affairs. See 8 C. L. 59.—Many questions relating to revenue for highway purposes are controlled by rules applicable to fiscal matters involved in public improvements generally,<sup>92</sup> or by ordinary principles of taxation,<sup>93</sup> a few illustrative

81. Const. art. 4, § 49, providing that legislature may provide for one or more county road commissioners to be elected by the people or appointed, contemplates appointment by some person or body representative of county, hence provision of Acts 1905, p. 200, No. 146, authorizing county clerk and mayor of Detroit to appoint for Wayne county, is unconstitutional (Board of Road Com'rs of Wayne County v. Wayne County Auditors, 148 Mich. 255, 111 NW 901), and appointment thereunder being void, fact that supervisor recognized appointees does not entitle them to hold office (Id.).

82. One is completely qualified as highway commissioner if he is a legal voter and resident of the town and has been such for one year previous to his election, and is a bona fide resident of the road commissioner's district. Markiewicz v. People, 126 Ill. App. 203. "Legal voter" construed. Id.

83. County commissioners held empowered to compel a railroad company to widen highway over its tracks, under Rev. Laws, c. 111, §§ 140, 141, conferring jurisdiction. Bartlett v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co. [Mass.] 81 NE 204. Acts 1902 (23 St. at Large, p. 998), including in definition of highways roads laid out under statute or order, does not limit the jurisdiction of highway officers to such roads, but such jurisdiction extends to highways by prescription. Township Com'rs of St. Andrews Parish v. Charleston Min. & Mfg. Co., 76 S. C. 382, 57 SE 201. Act August 15, 1904 (Acts 1904, p. 252), granting to the county commissioners "all the powers and duties of the ordinary of Decatur county so far as the same relate to roads, bridges, and ferries," did not confer upon them jurisdiction to remove obstructions from private ways, "roads" not including such ways. Griffin v. Sanborn, 127 Ga. 17, 56 SE 71. Pol. Code 1895, § 679, is a general law not subject to repeal or modification by local law. Id.

84. A superintendent of streets is liable on his bond for injuries due to official neglect relative to repair of streets. Vrooman Act (St. 1885, pp. 160, 161, c. 153, §§ 22, 23). Merritt v. McFarland [Cal. App.] 88 P 369. Evidence sufficient to authorize recovery by one who fell over embankment. Id. City trustees appointing superintendent are not responsible. Id. In prosecution of road overseer for failure to discharge duties respecting particular road, proof that he worked road as such and that public used same held sufficient to show that it was public road within Code 1896, § 5398. Savell v. State [Ala.] 43 S 201. Whether road was in as good condition as other roads in community held inadmissible. Id.

85. Could specify where telephone company should place polls. Interstate Independent Tel. & T. Co. v. Towanda, 123 Ill. App. 55.

86. County commissioners could contract with mill owner that he deed right of way for highway and contribute to erection of a bridge on condition that he have right to join mill dam to piers of bridge and use them as a bulkhead. Wright v. Floyd County, 1 Ga. App. 582, 58 SE 72. Jurisdiction to determine whether such arrangement would be detrimental to public convenience or safety was primarily in county commissioners. Id.

87. Lee v. People, 123 Ill. App. 520.

88. Mandamus would not lie. Green v. Road Board of Bibb County, 126 Ga. 693, 56 SE 59.

89. 90. McCoy v. McClarty, 53 Misc. 69, 104 NYS 80.

91. McCoy v. McClarty, 53 Misc. 69, 104 NYS 80. Town could not be held for expense incurred by commissioners in unsuccessful defense of suit of attorney. Id.

92. See Public Works and Improvements, § C. L. 1506; Public Contracts, 8 C. L. 1473. See, also, Counties, 9 C. L. 827; Municipal cases being herein cited. Authority to levy taxes or assessments must be derived from statute,<sup>94</sup> and statutory provisions must be observed,<sup>95</sup> not only as to levy but also as to expenditure,<sup>96</sup> but the validity of a tax levy will be presumed and a contestant has the burden of proof.<sup>97</sup> Taxing districts for the improvement of public highways may be established without regard to boundaries of counties, townships, or municipalities.<sup>98</sup> It is a criminal offense in some states to fail to work one's road tax after warning.<sup>99</sup> The Pennsylvania statute providing for abolition of the work tax at the election of the taxpayers in the township is not unconstitutional.<sup>1</sup> In Idaho an employer may become liable for a road poll tax of his employee provided he is or Corporations, 8 C. L. 1056. Various statutes relating to improvement of highway on boundary line between counties and providing for issuing of bonds construed and held that amount of bonds is not limited to contract price and expenses incurred before contract is let, and that expenses to be incurred after the apportionment of total cost must be estimated. State v. Marion County Com'rs [Ind.] 82 NE 482.

93. See Taxes, 8 C. L. 2058. A tax upon all the property within a taxing district for the construction and repair of a public highway is for a public governmental purpose, and if unwise or oppressive relief must be sought through the legislature and not the courts. State v. Marion County Com'rs [Ind.] 82 NE 482.

94. Ordinance of town of Farmerville imposing per capita tax for maintenance of its streets held unauthorized by charter or statute. Town of Farmerville v. Mathews [La.] 44 S 999. Under Laws 1903, p. 513, c. 228, § 53, a town whose roads are maintained under the money system of taxation cannot levy a poll tax where there is no incorporated village within its boundaries. Town of Plattekill v. Lounsberry, 54 Misc. 492, 106 NYS 139. Where proceedings for improvement of a road were begun by petition under act of March 22, 1895, the right to assess land thereunder for benefits was not revoked by the road improvement act of April 1, 1903 (P. L. 1903, p. 145), subsequently passed. Anderson v. Cortelyou [N. J. Err. & App.] 68 A 118. Title to Code, § 1530, providing for road fund and how same shall be levied and expended, held sufficient. City of Newton v. Jasper County Sup'rs [Iowa] 112 NW 167.

95. Under Hurd's Rev. St. 1905, c. 121, § 13, highway commissioners must state what the contingency is which requires the additional levy for roads and bridges; it is not enough to merely certify that the regular levy is insufficient. St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. People, 224 Ill. 155, 79 NE 664. Addition to regular levy held void where highway commissioners' request therefor was not certified to board of auditors and assessor as per Hurd's Rev. St. 1905, p. 1724, § 14. Litchfield & M. R. Co. v. People, 225 Ill. 301, 80 NE 335. Where commissioners did not certify contingency for additional levy. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. People, 225 Ill. 519, 80 NE 336; Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. People, 226 Ill. 557, 80 NE 1059. Road and bridge tax for town operating under labor system, assessed on a mere copy of highway commissioner's statement instead of on original, required to be submitted to county board, held void. Litchfield & M. R. Co. v. People, 225 Ill. 301, 80 NE 335; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. People, 225 Ill. 519, 80 NE 336; Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. People, 226 Ill. 557, 80 NE

1059. Where a road and bridge tax was resisted for failure of town clerk to attach to papers filed by him with county clerk a certificate that the papers were true copies of papers in his office, court held authorized to allow clerk to supply such certificate. Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. People, 225 Ill. 425, 80 NE 283.

Cash and labor systems: Tax under law relating to labor system held void where township operated under cash system. Litchfield & M. R. Co. v. People, 225 Ill. 301, 80 NE 335; Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. People, 226 Ill. 557, 80 NE 1059. Evidence held to show that road and bridge tax was properly levied under Hurd's Rev. St. 1905, c. 121, § 139, governing towns under cash system, and not under § 209, relating to towns under labor system. People v. Chicago & A. R. Co., 228 Ill. 102, 81 NE 813.

96. Under Code, § 1530, part of road fund collected within a city must be expended on the roads in and about such city. City of Newton v. Jasper County Sup'rs [Iowa] 112 NW 167. Code, §§ 1530, 1531, providing that board of supervisors may levy road tax to be paid out only on order of board for work done on the roads of the county, etc., held not to authorize purchase of road machines (Harrison County v. Ogden, 133 Iowa, 9, 110 NW 32), but such authority is vested in township trustees by §§ 1528, 1529 (Id.). Under Code, §§ 1528, 1529, 1549, 1553, warrants cannot be issued for labor performed in a particular road district payable out of township fund (Miller v. Hinke [Iowa] 113 NW 325), and such warrants being void, they are not payable out of general township road fund after consolidation of township into one road district under Code Supp. 1902, § 1532a (Acts 29th Gen. Assem. p. 33, c. 54, § 1) (Id.).

97. That record book of town did not show filing of a sufficient petition for labor system held insufficient to show that such system was not legally adopted. Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. People, 225 Ill. 425, 80 NE 283.

98. State v. Board of Com'rs of Marion County [Ind.] 82 NE 482.

99. Under Kirby's Dig. § 7267, in order to convict one for failure to work, he must have resided in road district ten days previous to time he was warned to work. Barber v. State [Ark.] 103 SW 724. Evidence insufficient. Id.

1. The proviso of § 2, Act April 12, 1905, P. L. 142, does not violate the constitutional provision that the legislative power shall be vested in the General Assembly, or the one declaring that this body shall not pass any local or special law regulating the affairs of counties, cities, townships, etc. Foster Tp. Road Tax, 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 51.

becomes indebted to him,<sup>2</sup> and upon the employer's refusal to pay an action may be brought in the name of the county to recover it.<sup>3</sup> Where a county buys all turnpikes within its borders, portions thereof lying within the limits of a city must be maintained by the city.<sup>4</sup> Provision is generally made for apportioning the expense of improvements between superior and inferior,<sup>5</sup> or co-ordinate, municipal subdivisions.<sup>6</sup> That an improvement is made through county commissioners on petition of the freeholders of a township does not necessarily make the indebtedness incurred a township or county charge.<sup>7</sup>

§ 11. Control by public and public regulations. See § C. L. 61.—The state<sup>8</sup> or its various municipal agencies may regulate the use of streets and highways by public service corporations,<sup>9</sup> or by persons who operate motor or other vehicles,<sup>10</sup> leave

2. Rev. St. 1887, § 901, was not repealed by Sess. Laws 1899, p. 392, providing for collection of such taxes by seizure of personalty. Kootenai County v. Hope Lumber Co. [Idaho] 89 P 1054.

3. Kootenai County v. Hope Lumber Co. [Idaho] 89 P 1054.

4. Though city has not exercised any control. Purchase under free turnpike act (Ky. St. 1903, § 4748b). Nelson County v. Bardstown, 30 Ky. L. R. 870, 99 SW 940.

5. Act May 1, 1905, P. L. 318, did not operate retrospectively so as to affect the obligation of a township in its contract with the state highway department under Act April 15, 1903, to pay one-sixth of improvement of a road where the contracts were entered into and the work begun before passage of act of 1905. Rader v. Kriebel, 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 548. Under Laws 1898, p. 220, c. 115, § 9, as amended by Laws 1906, p. 1093, c. 468, making one-half of expense of constructing a road a county charge in the first instance, but providing that 15 per cent shall be charged to the town wherein the road is located, the supervisors are not required to make the town apportionment until it is definitely known what the cost of the work will be. In re Business Men's Ass'n of Newburg, 54 Misc. 11, 103 NYS 847. With reference to the maintenance of roads the special Orange County Law of 1901, amended in 1904, making the cost thereof a county charge, is still in force, the same not having been repealed by the general highway law as amended in 1906. Id. Constitutional requirement that laws for improvement of highways be general applies only to building and not to maintenance. Id.

6. Act March 7, 1905 (Acts 1905, pp. 493-496, c. 164; Burn's Ann. St. Supp. 1905, §§ 6816-6822), providing for improvement of highways on boundary line between counties upon petition of fifty freeholders to commissioners of either county, and requiring other county to issue bonds for its proportionate amount, is not unconstitutional as a deprivation of the right to local self-government (State v. Marion County Com'rs [Ind.] 82 NE 482), as taking property without due process of law (Id.), nor is it violative of Const. art. 6, § 10, authorizing legislature to confer powers of local administrative character on county boards, in that it confers powers of judicial character, since such board is of judicial character (Id.). Where commissioners of one county ordered improvement of boundary highway under this act, and the two counties met in joint session and apportioned the cost, all orders of adjoining county seeking to vacate its own proceedings were void. Id. Pub. St. 1901, c. 73, § 4, providing for apportionment of expense of repairing highways among towns greatly benefited, applies to existing highways for future maintenance. O'Neil v. Walpole [N. H.] 66 A 119. Before expense of maintaining a highway can be apportioned among other towns, such other towns must be "greatly" benefited. Id. Though the petition of a town for apportionment should be made to superior court and referred by it to the county commissioners, filing directly with commissioners will not invalidate. Id.

7. Under Acts 1893, p. 196, c. 112, as amended by Acts 1895, p. 143, c. 63, providing for improvement of highways on petition of freeholders of townships, etc., through county commissioners, the board is not the agent of the township (Board of Com'rs of Jackson County v. Branaman [Ind.] 82 NE 65), and the indebtedness created is not a liability against the county or township which may constitute the taxing district, but is the indebtedness of persons whose property is subject to assessment (Id.).

8. All roads laid out under legislative enactment are public highways belonging to the state and under full control of legislature which may exercise control directly. State v. Marion County Com'rs [Ind.] 82 NE 482. The legislature may grant a corporation a street franchise without requiring it to obtain the consent of local authorities. In re Consolidated Gas Co., 56 Misc. 49, 106 NYS 407.

9. Railroads [see, also, Railroads, 8 C. L. 1590; Street Railways, 8 C. L. 2004]: Legislature may authorize municipalities to grant to street railway companies right to occupy streets for tracks subject to proper restrictions for public safety. McKim v. Philadelphia, 217 Pa. 243, 66 A 340. The plenary powers given to city councils by city and village act Ill. c. 24, § 62 (Hurd's Rev. St. 1905), to regulate the use of streets and permit their use by railroads, includes power to authorize a street railroad to cross a railroad track (East St. Louis R. Co. v. Louisville & N. R. Co. [C. C. A.] 149 F 159), and such power is not affected by Act July 1, 1889, p. 223, 3 Starr & C. Ann. St. Ill. c. 114, par. 112, p. 3292, empowering the state Railroad and Warehouse Commission to regulate the crossing of railroad tracks (Id.). System of railroad tracks held not removable by mandatory injunction at instance of city where laid and maintained pursuant to authorized ordinance long acquiesced in and not unreasonably interfering with use of street as a thoroughfare. City of Colorado Springs v. Colorado & Southern R. Co., 38 Colo. 107, 89 P 820. St. 1901, p. 154, c. 214, § 3, construed and held to authorize street railway company to maintain poles and wires for transmission of electricity in a street in which it had no right to operate a railway. Williams v. Old Colony St. R. Co., 193 Mass. 305, 79 NE 484. Greater New York City Charter, Laws 1901, p. 107, c. 466, § 242, as amended by Laws 1905, p. 1533, c. 629, conferring on board of estimate and apportionment power to grant "franchises or rights * * * for occupation of any of the streets for railroads," etc., does not empower board to authorize occupation of street for private spur track. Hatfield v. Straus [N. Y.] 82 NE 172. The general power of care, supervision, and control over streets and public grounds held not to include power to grant to railroad company right to occupy or incumber same. Louisville & N. R. Co. v. Cincinnati, 76 Ohio St. 481, 81 NE 983. Ordinance passed by city of Cincinnati Nov. 7, 1904, and as amended Aug. 28, 1905, prescribing conditions upon which Louisville & Nashville Ry. Co. could occupy and pass over streets and public grounds, held void. Louisville & N. R. Co. v. Cincinnati, 76 Ohio St. 481, 81 NE 983. Legitimate exercise of police power to require a railroad company to change location of tracks in a street when regulation is reasonable and promotive of the general welfare of the city. Atlantic & B. R. Co. v. Cordele, 128 Ga. 293, 57 SE 493. Evidence held to authorize finding that ordinance was of such character. Id. City could enforce regulation by itself making the change after notice and failure of company to act within reasonable time. Id. Ordinance requiring a street railway company temporarily to remove its wires and suspend traffic so as to allow moving of a building held valid so as to relieve owner of liability. Indiana R. Co. v. Calvert, 168 Ind. 32, 80 NE 961. Municipal corporations may regulate the speed of street cars. Ashley v. Kanawha Valley Traction Co., 60 W. Va. 306, 55 SE 1016.

Telegraphs and Telephones [see, also, Telegraphs and Telephones, 8 C. L. 2096]: Legislature had power to enact Act Minn. April 19, 1893, and Act April 13, 1901, revoking right of telegraph and telephone companies under Gen. St. c. 34, tit. 1, § 42, to occupy roads or highways in the state except in so far as poles had already been erected by providing that companies must obtain consent from the city or village. Northwestern Telephone Exch. Co. v. St. Charles, 154 F 386. A telephone company obtains its rights to the use of the streets from the legislature, and the function of the probate court includes neither the length nor extent of such use but is limited strictly to the mode of use. Cleveland Telephone Co. v. South Newburgh, 4 Ohio N. P. (N. S.) 624.

Gas companies [see, also, Gas, 9 C. L. 1532; Pipe Lines and Subways, 8 C. L. 1254]: A township may by bill in equity prevent the use of its highways by a gas company engaged in laying pipes therein without legislative authority. Landis Tp. v. Millville Gaslight Co. [N. J. Eq.] 65 A 716. Defendant held without such authority. Id. Relief granted may also prevent use of pipes already laid where such pipes have not been connected with buildings. Id. Gas for public use cannot be conveyed along a public highway by subsurface pipes without the consent of the authorities having control of the highway. Hardman v. Cabot, 60 W. Va. 664, 55 SE 756. The right to convey gas for public use along a highway by means of pipes may be granted by the county court to a natural person. Id. Where an act incorporating a gas company provided that no public street should be injured without permission from the city, a license by the city to use the streets vested in the corporation a perpetual property therein which could be taken from it only for cause and by due process. In re Consolidated Gas Co., 56 Misc. 49, 106 NYS 407.

Water Companies [see, also, Waters and Water Supply, 8 C. L. 2262]: Statutes considered and held not to authorize a water company to lay pipes, mains, etc., in certain new territory over which its operations had been extended without first obtaining the consent of the highway authorities. Baltimore County Water & Elec. Co. v. Baltimore County Com'rs [Md.] 66 A 34.

10. Supplement May 26, 1905 (P. L. p. 484), to an act defining motor vehicles and providing for their registration, use, and speed, does not infringe state or Federal constitution. State v. Unwin [N. J. Err. & App.] 68 A 110. Whether the registration fee be regarded as a license fee or a fee for registering the certificate is immaterial, since in either case it is not a tax on property but an exercise of police power. Id. Laws 1903, p. 162, regulating operation and speed of automobiles, held a valid exercise of police power. State v. Swagerty, 203 Mo. 517, 102 SW 483. Not class legislation. Id. Where statute authorized local authorities to regulate speed of motor vehicles on condition that sign boards indicating speed allowed be conspicuously posted, ordinance held not applicable where it did not appear such condition had been complied with. People v. Keeper of Prison of Seventh Dist., 121 App. Div. 645, 106 NYS 314, rvg. 55 Misc. 616, 106 NYS 960. Where one insisted on being tried under the ordinance and not under state statute, burden was on him to show that ordinance was in force. Id. Ordinance penalizing excessive automobile speed held void, the subject-matter being covered by state statute imposing a fine for riding or driving faster than a common pace in cities or compact parts of towns or villages. State v. Thurston [R. I.] 66 A 580. A statute requiring one to stop his automobile when a horse is about to become frightened applies to cases where the horse has actually become frightened. Ward v. Meredith, 220 Ill. 66, 77 NE 118, afg. 122 Ill. App. 159. Chapter 356, p. 646, Gen. Laws 1903 (Rev. Laws 1905, § 1277), held not to require driver of automobile to stop motive power as well as machine upon signal. Mathoney v. Maxfield, 102 Minn. 377, 112 NW 904. Under Acts 1905, p. 202, c. 123, § 5, providing that any person operating a motor vehicle shall stop upon signal of "any such person or persons so driving any horse," etc., signal may be given by any occupant of vehicle (State v. Goodwin [Ind.] 82 NE 459), and allegation in affidavit that signal was given for and on behalf of person actually driving horse should be regarded as surplusage (Id.). Under Laws 1905, p. 469, c. 305, § 4, requiring operator of automobile to stop on signal, unless forward movement shall be deemed necessary to avoid accident, it is for operator to determine whether such forward movement is necessary, and his determination is horses,<sup>11</sup> engage in sports,<sup>12</sup> excavate,<sup>13</sup> build,<sup>14</sup> move buildings,<sup>15</sup> haul logs or lumber,<sup>16</sup> transact other business,<sup>17</sup> or allow or maintain obstructions therein.<sup>18</sup> Regulations must be reasonable,<sup>19</sup> and they cannot be invoked to qualify or abridge a conclusive unless he acts unreasonably or in bad faith. McCummins v. State [Wis.] 112 NW 25. Evidence of speed is admissible. Id. Order of commissioners' court fixing license tax according to character of vehicle as indicated by number of horses used and limiting duration of license to one month held definite and certain. Kenamer v. State [Ala.] 43 S 482. The term "use" in an ordinance regulating the use of vehicles on the streets of a municipality and requiring payment of certain license fees therefor has reference to continued or repeated use, and the ordinance applies to all who use the streets with the vehicles described whether residents or nonresidents of the municipality. Pegg v. City of Columbus, 10 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 199. Under Burns' Ann. St. 1901, § 4398, making it a misdemeanor to ride on sidewalks made of certain materials, and § 1709, prohibiting punishment of state offenses by ordinance, the jurisdiction of cities to regulate bicycle riding is limited to sidewalks of materials other than stone, brick, plank, or gravel. Millet v. Princeton, 167 Ind. 582, 79 NE 909. Certain ordinance held not to authorize riding on walks made of stone, brick, plank, or gravel. Id.

11. Town may by ordinance forbid leaving of horses hitched or unhitched on streets or alleys. Wells v. Mt. Olivet [Ky.] 102 SW 1182. Ordinance making it unlawful to leave team on street unhitched and unattended is reasonable and within power of board of trustees of town of sixth class. Rowe v. Iteneer, 30 Ky. L. R. 545, 99 SW 250. Town ordinance that person leaving team on street hitched to a vehicle shall on conviction be fined, etc., held not void for indefiniteness as to person liable, and to mean that it is unlawful to leave team unhitched and unattended on street. Id.

12. If public may use streets for mere sport, such right is subject to regulation. Billington v. Miller [N. J. Law] 67 A 935. Ordinance held directed against mere sport of roller skating on streets and not to prohibit travel on roller skates. Id.

13. Municipalities may, in exercise of police power, regulate, supervise, and inspect excavations in and use of streets, and impose a reasonable charge for such supervision. Pottsville Borough v. Pottsville Gas Co., 33 Pa. Super. Ct. 480.

14. May license or restrict placing of building material. Bensel Const. Co. v. Homer [Ga. App.] 58 SE 489.

15. Though a city may regulate the use of streets for moving of buildings, it must do so by reasonable ordinance duly adopted and promulgated. Hinman v. Clarke, 105 NYS 725. Oswego ordinance No. 180 held only to limit right to move buildings on streets to such cases as department of works should approve in reasonable exercise of discretion. Id. The moving of a building upon or across a street is not an ordinary use of the street, but is one which must be exercised subject to such restrictions as may be imposed by the municipal authorities. Toledo. Bowling Green & Southern Traction Co. v. Sterling, 9 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 200. Proof by the owner of the loss of a permit which he obtained from the mayor for the moving of the building was competent in action for preventing the moving, both for the purpose of showing the contents of the permit and that the owner was not trespassing in the use which he was making of the street. Toledo. Bowling Green & Southern Trac. Co. v. Sterling, 9 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 200. The moving of a building across or through a public street, in such a manner as may be prescribed or permitted by ordinance enacted by council, is a lawful, but not a public, use of the street, and involves a privilege with reference to which the probate court has no duty to perform in fixing the mode of use of the streets by a telephone company. Cleveland Telephone Co. v. South Newburgh, 4 Ohio N. P. (N. S.) 624.

16. Acts 1903, pp. 682-689, authorizing commissioners' court of Jackson county to require license to haul logs, lumber and timber over public roads, held not unconstitutional as discriminating in favor of those hauling other heavy loads. Kenamer v. State [Ala.] 43 S 482. Not revenue measure within Const. art. 4, § 70, prohibiting passage of revenue bills within last five days of session. Id. Terms "logs, lumber, or other timber" do not include firewood. Id. Indictment for hauling lumber over public road without license, as required by order of commissioners' court need not set out order but may state substance. Id.

17. Street vender's license held not to authorize maintenance of lunch stand on sidewalk. Gallos v. Sikeston [Mo. App.] 101 SW 715. Injunction will not lie to restrain municipal officers from removing street stands which obstruct public travel. Cor-datos v. Chicago, 129 Ill. App. 471.

18. Ordinance prohibiting obstruction of sidewalks, etc., with boxes, vehicles, etc., held valid. Sandeguard Grocery Co. v. Conley [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 761, 104 SW 1073. The power of borough councils under Rev. Borough Act (P. L. 1897, p. 296, § 28, par. 1), to remove encroachments on streets, is a police power to be exercised only where the obstructions are readily ascertainable without adjudication, and does not authorize the summary removal of fences and trees where the true location of the line of the highway is involved. Hitchner v. Richman [N. J. Law] 65 A 856. Fact that one extends sign over sidewalk at time when not prohibited does not give him a vested right to maintain same as against city in exercise of police power. City of St. Louis v. St. Louis Theater Co., 202 Mo. 690, 100 SW 627. City of Providence could require owners, occupants, etc., of buildings and lots to remove snow from sidewalks within first four hours of daylight after snow had ceased falling. State v. McCrillis [R. I.] 66 A 301. Ordinance does not violate constitutional provision that laws shall be made for the general good and burdens of state fairly distributed (Id.) or authorize taking of private property for public use without compensation (Id.). Does not deny equal protection, or deprive of property without due process. Id.

19. In determining reasonableness of a direct legislative franchise,<sup>20</sup> but the burden is on him who asserts unreasonableness,<sup>21</sup> and notice of the proposed enactment of a reasonable regulation is a privilege and not a right.<sup>22</sup> Licenses are accepted subject to the police power of the municipality,<sup>23</sup> and the rights of the public,<sup>24</sup> but a license cannot be arbitrarily and oppressively revoked.<sup>25</sup>

§ 12. Rights of public use; law of the road. See 8 C. L. 63.—Highways being designed principally for the benefit of the traveling public, municipalities have no power to authorize their use permanently and exclusively for private purposes,<sup>26</sup> though they may permit the use of portions of them for semi-private purposes not inconsistent with the public rights,<sup>27</sup> and may devote different portions to different pub-license tax for excavations, where a gas company is bound to repair the street after excavation, the cost of such repair by the company or the city should not be considered. Pottsville Borough v. Pottsville Gas Co., 33 Pa. Super. Ct. 480. Cost of issuing and recording permit, and of supervision so long as same may be necessary because of the excavation, should be considered. Id. While a city may fix the width of the carriageway or sidewalks within reasonable limits, it cannot arbitrarily determine that the whole street shall be used for a carriageway. City of Georgetown v. Hambrick [Ky.] 104 SW 997. While a city is not precluded from removing a passageway from a waiting room in a store to an elevated railroad station by previous agreement to permit its use for a money consideration, if in fact it is an unlawful obstruction (Rothschild & Co. v. Chicago, 227 Ill. 205, 81 NE 407), it may not do so where such passageway is a public benefit (Rothschild & Co. v. Chicago, 227 Ill. 205, 81 NE 407, rv. 130 Ill. App. 542). Ordinance prohibiting roller skating on a street as a sport held reasonable under circumstances. Billington v. Miller [N. J. Law] 67 A 935. Mere fact that sign extending 18 inches over sidewalk in violation of ordinance was used to light people in and out of defendant's place of business held not to show ordinance to be unreasonable. City of St. Louis v. St. Louis Theater Co., 202 Mo. 690, 100 SW 627.

20. Defendant not required to obtain permission from city to excavate in street where authorized by charter to do so. Hudson & M. R. Co. v. Hoboken [N. J. Law] 68 A 60.

21. Ordinance prohibiting hitching or leaving of horses on street. Wells v. Mt. Olivet [Ky.] 102 SW 1182. Unless ordinance prohibiting the projecting of sign more than 18 inches over sidewalk is unreasonable on its face, party attacking same has burden of showing facts rendering it unreasonable. City of St. Louis v. St. Louis Theater Co., 202 Mo. 690, 100 SW 627. Court cannot take judicial notice of conditions of the place or the necessities of the situation. Id.

22. Ordinance requiring railroad to shift position of tracks. Atlantic & B. R. Co. v. Cordele, 128 Ga. 293, 57 SE 493.

23. License to maintain stone steps and areaway extending into sidewalk held revocable. City of New York v. United States Trust Co., 116 App. Div. 349, 101 NYS 574.

24. See post, § 13. Grant to street railway company of right to operate its line on a certain street held not to authorize it to exclude public or make street unnecessarily dangerous. McKim v. Philadelphia, 217 Pa. 243, 66 A 340. Permits for private occupation of portions of a street above or under ground are revocable whenever the space is required for public travel. Right to maintain vault spaces under sidewalk subordinate to purposes of subsurface railway. Potter v. Interborough Rapid Transit Co., 54 Misc. 423, 105 NYS 1071.

25. Revocation of license to move buildings after licensee had acted and incurred expense held ineffectual, and order stopping removal of building already in street held not a proper exercise of police power. Hinman v. Clarke, 105 NYS 725.

26. Streets cannot be occupied by private individual for the purposes of trade, and no officer can authorize such use. Lunch stand. Galloso v. Sikeston, 124 Mo. App. 380, 101 SW 715. City authorities may not authorize use of sidewalks for private purposes. Cordatos v. Chicago, 129 Ill. App. 471. Ordinances authorizing private occupation of sidewalks by a court yard and portico held void and not validated by acquiescence. City of New York v. Knickerbocker Trust Co., 52 Misc. 222, 102 NYS 900. An ordinance granting a private corporation the right to maintain an elevated platform on the public sidewalk in front of its building is invalid, and this though public travel is not wholly obstructed. Chicago Cold Storage Warehouse Co. v. People, 127 Ill. App. 179. City & Village Act, art. 5, § 1 (Hurd's Rev. St. 1905, c. 24, § 62), authorizing regulation of use of streets and sidewalks, gave no right to grant a private concern the privilege of maintaining a long elevated platform on sidewalk in front of its building. Chicago Cold Storage Warehouse Co. v. People, 224 Ill. 287, 79 NE 692. Held proper in mandamus to provide that walk be restored to substantially the level of the street. Id. Statutes considered and held not to authorize board of estimate and apportionment of New York City to grant to owners of a store the personal privilege of constructing and operating a spur track to connect the store with a street railway, said spur to be used exclusively for transportation of their goods. Hatfield v. Straus, 117 App. Div. 671, 102 NYS 934. Where owner of land plats same and executes deeds to city for streets, alleys, etc., a reservation therein of the exclusive right to use streets for operation of street railroads, for maintenance of lighting appliances, sewers, gas, waterworks, and telephone lines, free from city's control, held against public policy and void as creating monopoly. Jones v. Carter [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 111, 101 SW 514.

27. Maintenance of free wharf at interlic uses.<sup>28</sup> Members of the general public, including persons having charge of automobiles<sup>29</sup> or railway cars,<sup>30</sup> have equal rights in the use of highways.<sup>31</sup> Pedestrians may use the entire street and are not confined to sidewalks.<sup>32</sup> The public rights in streets includes their use for every kind of reasonable and proper communication and travel, including underground occupation by subsurface railroads where rendered necessary by the congested condition of the surface.<sup>33</sup> An owner of a building has a common-law right to a reasonable use of the streets for the purpose of moving it.<sup>34</sup>

One who operates a street railway or railroad car,<sup>35</sup> steam engine,<sup>36</sup> automo-

section of street with river held not inconsistent with use as public street. Williams v. Intendant & Town Council of Gainesville [Ala.] 43 S 209. Where a railroad company had the right to maintain tracks in a street, it could construct a siding thereon if public travel was not thereby unreasonably obstructed. Beaver Borough v. Beaver Valley R. Co., 217 Pa. 280, 66 A 520. Requiring a railroad company to elevate its tracks and authorizing it to use so much of the streets as may be necessary to that end is not a diversion of the streets to an unauthorized purpose. Where elevation was necessary for public safety. Weage v. Chicago & W. I. R. Co., 227 Ill. 421, 81 NE 424.

28. The rule that the public is entitled to use any portion of a street is subject to the right of a municipality to devote portions thereof to other purposes useful and convenient to the public. City not liable to one who tripped over wire stretched to protect plat for shade trees. Teague v. Bloomington [Ind. App.] 81 NE 103. A municipality has the right to determine the width of its streets which shall be devoted to lawful public uses, devoting a part to sidewalks, a part to lawn and shade trees, a part to necessary poles for public lighting, etc., a part to drainage, gutters, etc., and a part to vehicles and street cars, and it is not an unlawful use if that part of a street which is usually devoted to drainage be occupied in part by poles supporting street lights. City of Norwalk v. Jacobs, 9 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 153.

29. Right to operate automobiles on highways of state is expressly conferred by Acts 30th Gen. Assem. c. 53 (Laws 1904, p. 44). House v. Cramer, 134 Iowa, 374, 112 NW 3.

30. Public and railway company have equal rights in use of streets (Saylor v. Union Traction Co. [Ind. App.] 81 NE 94; Jaffi v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 205 Mo. 450, 103 SW 1026; Duffy v. Atlantic & N. C. R. Co., 144 N. C. 26, 56 SE 557; Ashley v. Kanawha Valley Trac. Co., 60 W. Va. 306, 55 SE 1016), and such rights must be exercised by each with due regard for the rights of the other (Heidelberg v. People's R. Co. [Del. Super.] 65 A 587; Weldon v. People's R. Co. [Del. Super.] 65 A 589), though a traveler must yield the right of way to a railroad in the ordinary course of the latter's business (Duffy v. Atlantic & N. C. R. Co., 144 N. C. 26, 56 SE 557).

31. Public highway open to reasonable common and equal use of persons on foot and in vehicles. Simeone v. Lindsay [Del. Super.] 65 A 778. As between driver of wagon approaching cross walk and pedestrian. Young v. Herrmann, 104 NYS 72.

32. Beasel Const. Co. v. Homer [Ga. App.] 58 SE 489; Keith v. Worcester, etc., R. Co.

[Mass.] 82 NE 680. Where a private dock is built over a street, it becomes a part thereof and public may travel thereon. City of Buffalo v. Delaware, L. & W. R. Co. [N. Y.] 82 NE 513.

33. Potter v. Interborough Rapid Transit Co., 54 Misc. 423, 105 NYS 1071.

34. Hinman v. Clarke, 105 NYS 725. Refusal by the owner to pay in advance $10 demanded, after consent to move the building across a railway track and the bringing of the building to the track, did not justify the railway employes in resisting the passage of the building, in the absence of previous notice that such a demand would be made, or of ground for believing that the $10 could not be subsequently collected from the owner. Toledo, etc., Traction Co. v. Sterling 9 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 200. But even if the company was warranted in treating the building as an obstruction on its tracks, there was no warrant for the using of undue force in removing it, and the unexplained failure to push the building back on the skids, which apparently could have been easily done, rather than the running of the car violently into it, rendered the company liable for the resulting damages. Id.

35. See, also, Railroads, 8 C. L. 1590; Street Railways, 8 C. L. 2004. It is negligence for a street car company to so operate its cars as not to have them under control at street intersections. Ashley v. Kanawha Valley Trac. Co., 60 W. Va. 306, 55 SE 1016. The mere fact that a train is standing across a public street does not show negligence (Duffy v. Atlantic & N. C. R. Co., 144 N. C. 26, 56 SE 557), but a railroad company is liable if it unnecessarily maintains its train in such position and thereby causes injury (Id.). Failure of one running traction engine on road to have watchman 200 yards in advance, as required by Shannon's Code, §§ 1609-1616, does not make his actions unlawful in the sense that no recovery can be had for negligence of railroad company in colliding and injuring the engine (Chesapeake & N. Ry. v. Crews [Tenn.] 99 SW 368), and such failure will defeat recovery only if it contributed to the accident (Id.).

36. Where railroad has tracks in street, trainmen must be on lookout for danger when getting up steam by use of blower and must stop noise when it is obvious that a team is becoming frightened thereat. Feeney v. Wabash R. Co., 123 Mo. App. 420, 99 SW 477. That team was frightened by noise produced held shown by fact that they were accustomed to be driven near engines. Id. Evidence that engineer and firemen paid no attention to wagon road and that conductor did not see team in time to warn them to shut off steam held to make question bile or motor car,<sup>37</sup> or other vehicle,<sup>38</sup> or who drives horses<sup>39</sup> or leaves them unattended,<sup>40</sup> is bound to exercise reasonable care to avoid injury to others lawfully in the highway,<sup>41</sup> such care being commensurate with the danger reasonably to be apprehended in the particular case.<sup>42</sup> It is negligence per se to violate a speed ordi-

of negligence for jury. Id. Where an engine is placed in a street by permission of the authorities and necessarily used in the construction of a building, one who seeks recovery for injuries caused by a frightened horse must show that the engine was negligently operated. Munro v. Wells Bros. Co., 116 App. Div. 663, 101 NYS 900. Evidence insufficient to show negligent operation of a steam engine. Id.

37. Operator of automobile must use reasonable care under circumstances. Simeone v. Lindsay [Del.] 65 A 778; House v. Cramer, 134 Iowa, 374, 112 NW 3. Fact that one approaching automobile with restive horse does not give signal to stop does not relieve operator of duty to exercise reasonable care to avoid accident and to stop if it appeared reasonably necessary. Strand v. Grinnell Automobile Garage Co. [Iowa] 113 NW 488. In action for injuries caused by plaintiff's horse taking fright at defendant's approaching automobile, evidence held to sustain finding of negligence on defendant's part and freedom therefrom on plaintiff's part. Id. One driving a heavy automobile suddenly around the rear of a car, stopping to receive passengers at a point where he knew there were likely to be many people, is guilty of gross negligence. Gregory v. Slaughter, 30 Ky. L. R. 500, 99 SW 247. Operating at so high rate of speed as to lose control is negligence. Simeone v. Lindsay [Del.] 65 A 778; Routledge v. Rambler Automobile Co. [Tex. Civ. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 386, 95 SW 749. An automobile is not per se dangerous so as to render its owner responsible for injuries to a traveler caused by the negligence of a chauffeur acting beyond the scope of his employment. Jones v. Hoge [Wash.] 92 P 433. One struck by automobile must show by weight of evidence that automobile was operated negligently and by defendant Simeone v. Lindsay [Del.] 65 A 778. Evidence insufficient to justify recovery for injury for negligence in operating automobile. Green v. Cherry, 130 Ill. App. 158. Noises incident to operation of an automobile are not, of themselves, evidence of negligence. House v. Cramer, 134 Iowa, 374, 112 NW 3.

38. Mere fact that collision occurred between two vehicles held not to show negligence. Luecke v. Graham, 123 Mo. App. 215, 100 SW 505. A rope by which one wagon was drawn by another held no less an obstruction because shifted by progress of wagons. Young v. Herrmann, 104 NYS 72. Users bound to observe due care. Id. That it was necessary to use the rope held no excuse. Id.

39. Driver of a wagon must have his horse under reasonable control, keep a lookout ahead, and exercise ordinary care to prevent injury to others using the street. D. H. Ewing & Sons v. Callahan [Ky.] 105 SW 387. Person injured by collision with wagon negligently driven by another may recover if he could not have avoided collision by exercise of ordinary care. Id.

Held negligence to drive wagon so close to street car as to strike on running board.

Sibley v. Nason [Mass.] 81 NE 887. Where, knowing his horse to be afraid of cars, one drives past a street car where people are working. Fertel v. Peck [Vt.] 67 A 818.

Not negligence: A driver is not negligent in approaching a crossing at an ordinary trot where horse is under such control that he can be stopped in six feet. Henson v. Arthur, 217 Pa. 156, 66 A 256. Not negligence for driver of a truck not to have on it such light as would enable plaintiff, a motorman, to see it from behind. Regan v. McCarthy, 119 Ill. App. 578. Collision held a pure accident due to breaking of a bolt which let down the shaft and frightened the horse. Luecke v. Graham, 123 Mo. App. 212, 100 SW 505.

Evidence held to sustain verdict for plaintiff for negligent driving of defendant's servant. D. H. Ewing & Sons v. Callahan [Ky.] 105 SW 387. To show that wagon was defendant's property and that person in charge was defendant's agent. Corpies v. Sand Co., 31 Pa. Super. Ct. 107. To show that injury was on public street. Casey v. U. S. Exp. Co., 214 Pa. 1, 63 A 365.

Evidence insufficient to show negligence where boy was struck by defendant's wagon. Barth v. Borden's Condensed Milk Co., 104 NYS 882. To show negligence on part of driver causing death of boy on street. Gelderman v. Curtis, 105 NYS 221. To show negligence of one who backed his wagon on driveway intended exclusively for teams. Hopper v. Benne, 114 App. Div. 572, 99 NYS 1118.

40. Leaving of horse which ran away and caused injury held to render owner liable for resulting injury. Damonte v. Patton, 118 La. 530, 43 S 153.

Not negligence per se to leave a horse and carriage unhitched and unattended in a street. Moulton v. Lewiston, etc., R. Co., 102 Me. 186, 66 A 388. To leave a team restrained only by 56-pound weight. Caughlin v. Campbell-Sell Baking Co. [Colo.] 89 P 53. Evidence held to sustain finding that defendant was not negligent. Id. Testimony that horse had no weight while he was running held to justify submission of negligence in leaving unhitched. Swift & Co. v. Murphy [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 893, 100 SW 997. Under Civ. Code, art. 2321, rendering owner liable for damage caused by animal, burden is on owner to show that animal running away and causing injury escaped without fault on his part. Damonte v. Patton, 118 La. 530, 43 S 153. Fact that owner of horse running unattended upon street takes charge of him after collision and promises to settle for damages done held to connect owner with prima facie negligence arising from fact horse was running unattended. Brunkow v. Waters, 131 Wis. 31, 110 NW 802.

41. All must exercise reasonable care. Simeone v. Lindsay [Del.] 65 A 778. Pedestrian bound to use reasonable care to avoid collision with automobile. Id.

42. All must exercise care commensurate with danger in each case. Simeone v. Lindsay [Del.] 65 A 778.

nance,<sup>43</sup> or to ride a bicycle on a sidewalk without right.<sup>44</sup> Contributory negligence defeats recovery.<sup>45</sup> Questions for the jury are treated later.<sup>46</sup> A city is not liable for injuries resulting from its failure to enforce to laws with reference to the riding of bicycles on sidewalks.<sup>47</sup>

By the law of the road drivers of vehicles should keep to the right when passing in opposite directions, and one desiring to pass another going in the same direction should do so on the left, the other keeping to the right.<sup>48</sup> There is no occasion to invoke the law of the road where under the circumstances it could not be observed.<sup>49</sup>

§ 13. Rights of abutters.<sup>See 8 C. L. 70</sup>—While an abutter is not entitled to damages or an injunction for an injury to his public right to travel on the street,<sup>50</sup> he enjoys as appurtenant to his property certain private easements consisting of the right of ingress and egress, light, air, and view,<sup>51</sup> and for an invasion of these he may sue,<sup>52</sup> though the same obstruction also impairs his public right of travel and regardless of the number of other persons who may suffer similar injuries.<sup>53</sup> He is also entitled to a reasonable portion of the street for sidewalks.<sup>54</sup> An owner may plant shade and ornamental trees in the street in front of his property subject to

43. It is negligence per se to drive a horse in violation of a speed ordinance regardless of care otherwise exercised. Foley v. Northrup [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 921, 105 SW 229.

44. Even in absence of prohibitory statute or ordinance, one has no right to ride bicycle on sidewalk and is liable for injury to one while so riding, though not negligent. Fielder v. Tipton [Ala.] 42 S 985.

45. Where one failed to observe a vehicle backed without negligence. Hopper v. Benne, 114 App. Div. 572, 99 NYS 1118. Evidence insufficient to show freedom from negligence on part of one struck by automobile. Wilkins v. New York Transp. Co., 52 Misc. 167, 101 NYS 650. On part of bicycle rider colliding with wagon. Dickinson v. Platt, 116 App. Div. 651, 101 NYS 956. Motorman running car down grade at great speed against steam roller held guilty of contributory negligence. Hanson v. Whalen, 110 App. Div. 793, 97 NYS 237. Motorman guilty per se of contributory negligence for running car so fast he could not stop within distance he could see an obstruction. Regan v. McCarthy, 119 Ill. App. 578. Plaintiff held not negligent in staying in buggy while approaching a locomotive standing in street and getting up steam by use of blower (Feeney v. Wabash R. Co., 123 Mo. App. 420, 99 SW 477), and, if negligent, held that humanitarian doctrine applied (Id.). Failure of driver of restive horse to give signal to automobile driver to stop held not to show contributory negligence as matter of law. Strand v. Grinnell Automobile Garage Co. [Iowa] 113 NW 488. One momentarily on running board of street car while attempting to find seat held not negligent in failing to watch for collision with team. Sibley v. Nason [Mass.] 81 NE 887. Motorman injured by collision with runaway horse held not negligent, horse not being discovered in time to be avoided. Damonte v. Patton, 118 La. 530, 43 S 153. Motorman operating car at night held not negligent in not anticipating and being prepared to avoid a runaway horse. Id. That plaintiff rode a bicycle did not alone bar recovery. Clinton v. Revere [Mass.] 80 NE 813.

46. See post, § 15, Actions for Injuries.

47. Millett v. Princeton, 167 Ind. 582, 79 NE 909.

48. Road Act, § 91 (Gen. St. p. 2823). State v. Unwin [N. J. Err. & App.] 68 A 110. For jury whether defendant was negligent in attempting to pass his automobile on left of a carriage going in same direction near a corner (Mendleson v. Van Rensselaer, 118 App. Div. 516, 103 NYS 578), and whether plaintiff was negligent in not keeping to the right (Id.). That a milk man drove on left side of street was not negligent as to one who walked against side of his wagon at a crossing. Henson v. Arthur, 217 Pa. 156, 66 A 256.

49. Where collision occurred just as a wagon emerged from an alley. Dickinson v. Platt, 116 App. Div. 651, 101 NYS 956.

50. Williams v. Los Angeles R. Co., 150 Cal. 592, 89 P 330.

51. Williams v. Los Angeles R. Co., 150 Cal. 592, 89 P 330. Whether fee of street is in city or not, abutting owner has right of ingress, egress, air, and light, of which he cannot be deprived for public or other uses without compensation. Blackwell, etc., R. Co. v. Gist, 18 Okl. 516, 90 P 889, and authorities cited. Abutter has special easement of ingress and egress (Cushing-Wetmore Co. v. Gray [Cal.] 92 P 70; City of Indianapolis v. Miller [Ind.] 80 NE 626), and this rule applies to public alleys (City of Indianapolis v. Miller [Ind.] 80 NE 626). Ordinance prohibiting theater entrances on a public alley held invalid. Id.

52. An owner's right of ingress and egress is invaded by obstructions absolutely preventing access to the premises though not being immediately in front of them. Cushing-Wetmore Co. v. Gray [Cal.] 92 P 70. Complaint too general to authorize damages for excavations for proposed railroad, it not appearing that they interfered with rights of ingress, etc. Brown v. Rea, 150 Cal. 171, 88 P 713.

53. Signal tower erected by street railway company. Williams v. Los Angeles R. Co., 150 Cal. 592, 89 P 330.

54. City could not restrain construction of reasonable walk. City of Georgetown v. Hambrich [Ky.] 104 SW 997. City's remedy is to widen street if too narrow for sidewalks. Id.

removal or trimming when they interfere with the proper public use of the street,<sup>55</sup> and may recover damages against a mere trespasser for cutting or mutilating them without authority.<sup>56</sup> He may occupy the highway for private purposes not inconsistent with the public easement,<sup>57</sup> but the use must be reasonable,<sup>58</sup> and he may not permanently exclude the public.<sup>59</sup> Property owners on one side of a street may not enjoin the building of a structure on the other side where they will not be specially injured.<sup>60</sup>

Ownership of fee. See 8 C. L. 71.—Except in some jurisdictions<sup>61</sup> the fee of public streets or highways is in the abutters,<sup>62</sup> who may use it in any reasonable manner not infringing upon the public rights.<sup>63</sup> Thus, an abutter may lay pipes in the street,<sup>64</sup> and for this purpose he has the right to make the necessary excavations.<sup>65</sup> The fee ownership is, however, subject to all proper street or highway uses,<sup>66</sup> and these generally differ according to the character of the highway as urban or rural,<sup>67</sup> though this distinction is not universally observed.<sup>68</sup> Abutters are entitled to compensation for additional burdens on the fee,<sup>69</sup> or they may be relieved therefrom by 55. Cartwright v. Liberty Tel. Co., 205 Mo. 126, 103 SW 982.

56. Telephone could not defend on ground that maintenance of lines was a proper use of streets, where it showed no franchise or right to occupy the streets. Cartwright v. Liberty Tel. Co., 205 Mo. 126, 103 SW 982.

57. Under the law of Ohio the rights of an abutting property owner in the space occupied by the street and sidewalk is not limited to mere egress and ingress, but includes any private use not inconsistent with, or constituting an actual or threatened interference with, the public use for transit or other incidental purposes, and while such use by an abutting owner is subject to reasonable regulation in the interest of the public, such use cannot be interfered with unless it amounts to an actual obstruction or menace to the public. Reese v. Cleveland, 5 Ohio N. P. (N. S.) 193. The projection of an electric sign ten feet from the front of a building over the sidewalk and at a height of fourteen feet above the sidewalk is not an unreasonable use of the street by an abutting owner and cannot be enjoined. Id.

58. Right of upland owner to build dock over street to the navigable water does not authorize an appropriation of the street or an unreasonable use thereof. City of Buffalo v. Delaware, L. & W. R. Co. [N. Y.] 82 NE 513. Though abutting owners may temporarily use sidewalk in front of place of business, they cannot appropriate any portion thereof to their exclusive use, though sufficient space is left for public. McHarge v. Newcomer & Co., 117 Tenn. 595, 100 SW 700. After dedication has been accepted, dedicatory cannot use street in manner to interfere with public use thereof. City of Buffalo v. Delaware, L. & W. R. Co. [N. Y.] 82 NE 513.

59. Township not liable for closing up a private cattleway under public road and substituting a culvert, though same had been maintained for 50 years. Snively v. Washington Tp. [Pa.] 67 A 465. Though one may temporarily place obstructions in highway while improving abutting property, he must remove same within a reasonable time. Elzig v. Bales [Iowa] 112 NW 540. Right of abutting owner to temporarily occupy street while building and repairing it no defense to one unnecessarily permitting billboard to fall over sidewalk and to remain there for an undue length of time. Ryan v. Foster [Iowa] 109 NW 1108.

60. Could not enjoin street railway company for constructing elevated approach to a crossing. Cobb v. Warren St. R. Co. [Pa.] 67 A 654.

61. Evidence held to show that certain land conveyed by city of Brooklyn to plaintiff's grantor was previously an old Dutch road, so that city could convey the fee according to law of continent of Europe. Caminez v. Goodman, 104 NYS 68.

62. Allegations showing ownership of lots on both sides of a street held sufficient allegation of ownership of fee in street. Seaboard Air Line R. Co. v. Southern Inv. Co. [Fla.] 44 S 351.

63. Colegrove Water Co. v. Hollywood [Cal.] 90 P 1053; King v. Norcross [Mass.] 82 NE 17. Could pile wood. King v. Norcross [Mass.] 82 NE 17.

64. Colegrove Water Co. v. Hollywood [Cal.] 90 P 1053.

65. Where he gave notice and offered to secure city against damage. Colegrove Water Co. v. Hollywood [Cal.] 90 P 1053. Ordinance requiring permission to use street not applicable to owner of soil. Id.

66. Baltimore County Water & Elec. Co. v. Dubreuil [Md.] 66 A 439.

67. Laying of gas and water pipes would not be an additional servitude in cities, whereas it would be in an ordinary country highway. Baltimore County Water & Elec. Co. v. Dubreuil [Md.] 66 A 439. Road held not to authorize application of rule governing cities and towns, though within corporate limits. Id.

68. There is no distinction in this state between rural and urban highways with respect to the rights of the public therein and legislative control thereover. Hardman v. Cabot, 60 W. Va. 664, 55 SE 756.

69. See, also, Eminent Domain, 9 C. L. 1073. Telephone line held additional burden. Burrell v. American Tel. & T. Co., 224 Ill. 266, 79 NE 705. Insertion in ordinance granting use of public street to railroad company, a provision vacating portion of street to be so used, held not to prevent abutting property owner from recovering damages caused by such occupation. Stehr v. Mason City & Ft. D. R. Co. [Neb.] 110 NW 701.

injunction;<sup>70</sup> but the operation of a railroad upon a street is not per se a nuisance as to abutting owners,<sup>71</sup> and to warrant an injunction the facts must show that a nuisance would result from the proposed acts and that plaintiff will suffer some peculiar injury.<sup>72</sup> Mere incorporation of territory within the limits of a city does not make a bare country road urban so as to authorize the laying of pipes therein without compensation to abutters.<sup>73</sup>

§ 14. Defective or unsafe streets or highways. A. Liability of municipalities in general.<sup>See</sup> § C. L. 72.—A municipality is bound to exercise reasonable care to maintain its highways in a reasonably safe condition for ordinary travel.<sup>74</sup> This

Pipe line in rural highway not additional burden on fee. Hardman v. Cabot, 60 W. Va. 664, 55 SE 756. Public road may be improved to accommodate footmen as well as those using teams (Hitchcock v. Zink [Neb.] 113 NW 795), and the construction of a sidewalk along a rural highway is not an additional burden (Id.). The erection of telephone lines in city or borough streets in conformity with municipal regulations, or unsightliness of poles, or noises incident to the non-negligent maintenance of the lines, do not entitle an abutting owner to compensation. Shinzel v. Bell Tel. Co., 31 Pa. Super. Ct. 221. Appreciable interference with light, air, access, or drainage is an additional burden. Id.

70. Maintenance of telephone line without consent or condemnation. Burrall v. American Tel. & T. Co., 224 Ill. 266, 79 NE 705. Mere delay held no bar. Id. That line was convenient for public held immaterial. Id. Maintenance of telephone lines is a proper street use in large cities and abutters may not restrain it. Evidence sufficient to show a city street in a thickly populated territory. Gannett v. Independent Tel. Co., 55 Misc. 555, 106 NYS 3. An abutting owner who consents or submits to the use of the street in front of his premises for telephone purposes by means of poles and wires is not, as a matter of law and an invasion of his private rights, entitled to an injunction restraining the company from placing its wires in a conduit in said street. Burns v. Columbus Citizens' Tel. Co., 10 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 307. Could restrain construction of railway tracks in street without compensation. Athens Terminal Co. v. Athens Foundry & Mach. Works [Ga.] 58 SE 891. Where fee in street is in abutting owner and public has only an easement, held that such owner could enjoin laying of steam track in street until payment has been made for property taken or such payment has been secured by deposit. Seaboard Air Line Ry. v. Southern Inv. Co. [Fla.] 44 S 351. An abutting owner has no cause of action against a street railway company changing the grade of a highway for the construction of its road in accordance with locations granted by the officers of the municipality. Hyde v. Boston & W. St. R. Co., 194 Mass. 80, 80 NE 517. Erection of electric lighting plant by village in center of street held an improper use thereof. McIlhinny v. Trenton, 148 Mich. 380, 14 Det. Leg. N. 190, 111 NW 1083. Fact that work is completed was no defense to suit for injunction where construction was over objection of abutter. Id.

71. Brown v. Rea, 150 Cal. 171, 88 P 713.

72. Complaint insufficient. Brown v. Rea, 150 Cal. 171, 88 P 713.

73. Richards v. Citizens' Water Supply Co., 104 NYS 927.

74. City of Denver v. Utzler, 38 Colo. 300, 88 P 143; Stidham v. Delaware City [Del.] 67 A 175; City of Americus v. Johnson [Ga. App.] 58 SE 518; City of Henderson v. Sizemore [Ky.] 104 SW 722; City of Dayton v. Glaser, 76 Ohio St. 471, 81 NE 991. Town bound to maintain sidewalk in reasonably safe condition under Rev. Laws, c. 51, § 1. Mason v. Winthrop [Mass.] 81 NE 644. A city or village whose trustees are made commissioners of highways is liable for negligence in not repairing same. Van Gorder v. Seneca Falls, 104 NYS 299. Instruction, in action for personal injury caused by defective sidewalk, requiring plaintiff to prove that same was in "unreasonable" dangerous condition, is erroneous. Brown v. Pierce [Neb.] 111 NW 366. Evidence held to support finding of negligence in maintaining insufficient sidewalk across ditch. City of Cleburne v. Elder [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 530, 102 SW 464. In suit to recover for injuries from stepping into a hole. Miller v. International R. Co., 52 Misc. 344, 102 NYS 254. Where rock ledge extended across road and stood from four to ten inches above ground. Dralle v. Reedsburg, 130 Wis. 347, 110 NW 210. Evidence sufficient to show that dangerous condition of highway was due to negligence of county commissioners, and not merely to a snow. Harford County Com'rs v. Hause [Md.] 67 A 273. Street commissioner not necessarily free from negligence in filling hole in street because he had always filled such holes in that way. Heberling v. Warrensburg, 204 Mo. 604, 103 SW 36. Under the evidence, city held not negligent in maintaining a wire along sidewalk to protect a plat for shade trees. Teague v. Bloomington [Ind. App.] 81 NE 103. Village held liable for permitting obstruction of street by live wire though electrical plant was maintained in public capacity. Village of Palestine v. Siler, 225 Ill. 630, 80 NE 345. Evidence sufficient to show negligence. Id. Disabled vehicle left in street after expiration of a reasonable time for removal becomes a nuisance, and under Code, § 753, city is liable for injuries resulting therefrom. Cutter v. Des Moines [Iowa] 113 NW 1081. Barrier put up as a guard held to be of itself an obstruction where it had fallen down, was without signal light, and because of color was inconspicuous at night. Weber v. Union Development & Const. Co., 118 La. 77, 42 S 652.

Only reasonable care required: Merely required to use reasonable care in detecting and remedying defects which it might fairly be anticipated would be likely to cause accidents. Butler v. Oxford, 186 N. Y. 444, 79 NE 712. Township officers bound only for reasonable and ordinary care under the circumstances. Ackley v. Bradford Tp., 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 487. Village not liable for failure duty is performed when it maintains ways which are smooth and convenient for travel,<sup>75</sup> but it extends to all thoroughfares used as public highways and recognized by the municipality as such<sup>76</sup> and to their entire width<sup>77</sup> except that as to country roads within the limits of a city the latter is bound to keep in repair only the traveled portion.<sup>78</sup> While a municipality is not liable for nonexercise of discretionary powers with respect to streets,<sup>79</sup> if it exercises such powers, as by procuring a sidewalk to be built, it will be required to maintain it reasonably safe.<sup>80</sup> It is not an insurer of the safe condition of its ways,<sup>81</sup> and hence is not liable unless negligent,<sup>82</sup> nor is it responsible for extraordinary accidents<sup>83</sup> or for defects so slight that injury could not reasonably be anticipated.<sup>84</sup> Quasi municipal corporations such as townships and counties are not, in the absence of statute, liable for failure to keep their

to remove stones from rarely used dirt road leading up a hill in sparsely settled district. McKone v. Warsaw, 187 N. Y. 336, 80 NE 212. City not liable because of an ordinary rut in a dirt road adapted as a street. Clifton v. Philadelphia, 217 Pa. 102, 66 A 159.

For ordinary travel only: A municipality is bound to keep its streets in repair and free from nuisance both as to the width of the street and freedom from obstructions in the line of travel, but it is only bound to keep them in such condition as to render them safe for ordinary travel as distinguished from an extraordinary emergency, such as riding behind a frightened horse or a horse beyond the control of its driver. City of Norwalk v. Jacobs, 9 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 153. The liability of a municipality with reference to its streets is limited to reasonable care in maintaining them in a safe condition for the ordinary uses for which they were dedicated. Iroquois Hotel Co. v. Columbus, 5 Ohio, N. P. (N. S.) 357. While an abutting owner probably has the right to excavate under the sidewalk, he assumes all liability attaching thereto, and a claim on his part for damages will not lie against the municipality where his loss resulted from storm water which covered the street and sidewalk and running through the gratings in the sidewalk filled the space excavated below and flooded the basement of his building. Id.

75. Mitchell v. Tell City [Ind. App.] 81 NE 594.

76. County commissioners held charged with duty of maintaining in reasonably safe condition an approach to a bridge used by public and repaired by county for over twenty years though it had no control over the bridge. Garrett County Com'rs v. Blackburn [Md.] 66 A 31. Upon the incorporation or extension of a city, roads and bridges within its limits and formerly controlled by the county become subject to the jurisdiction and care of the city. Cavender v. Charleston [W. Va.] 59 SE 732. Fact that street has been vacated does not relieve city from liability for personal injuries where it permits same to be used as before vacation. Fritz v. Watertown [S. D.] 111 NW 630. Where approach to street curb was used for many years with city's knowledge as continuation of sidewalk, it is immaterial that it was originally constructed by private person. City of Chicago v. Loebel, 228 Ill. 52, 81 NE 796.

77. City of Mobile v. Shaw [Ala.] 43 S 94. Where, under ordinance, entire space between curb and lot line, including grass plot, is part of sidewalk and open to public as such, city must keep such space in reasonably safe condition. Coffey v. Carthage, 200 Mo. 616, 98 SW 562.

78. No liability to one injured while attempting to turn onto a lower road. Nelson v. Spokane [Wash.] 87 P 1048.

79. Van Gorder v. Seneca Falls, 104 NYS 299. A city is not bound to light its streets. Mitchell v. Tell City [Ind. App.] 81 NE 594.

80. Van Gorder v. Seneca Falls, 104 NYS 299.

81. Stidham v. Delaware City [Del.] 67 A 175; City of Chicago v. Hutchinson, 129 Ill. App. 239. Not an insurer of persons traveling at night against danger from stepping off sidewalk into a drain. Mitchell v. Tell City [Ind. App.] 81 NE 594. Where one knew of drain and that city maintained no light, she assumed the risk. Id.

82. Town not liable where stumbling of horse and fall from carriage were mere accidents not due to defects in road. Elseeck v. Capwell [R. I.] 67 A 421.

83. Where horse fell on smooth pavement and got foot wedged in sewer opening. Vaccarini v. New York, 54 Misc. 600, 104 NYS 928.

84. Slight scoop-shaped depression in sidewalk. Isaacson v. Boston [Mass.] 80 NE 809. Depression three-fourths inches deep, twelve inches long, and six inches wide. Powers v. New York, 121 App. Div. 433, 106 NYS 166. Two to five inch difference in level of end of stone walk and dirt walk continuation. Butler v. Oxford, 186 N. Y. 444, 79 NE 712. Where street and sidewalk were greatly disturbed by excavation and building operations, held not to show negligence that portion of a flagstone was depressed. Henry v. New York, 104 NYS 440. Top of manhole extending from three' to six inches above surface of sidewalk held not a defect so slight as to absolve city of liability as matter of law. Corr v. New York, 121 App. Div. 578, 106 NYS 280. In the absence of actual or constructive notice, a city is not negligent merely because a small hole exists in a thick even ice on a pavement. McCabe v. Philadelphia, 217 Pa. 140, 66 A 247. City not liable for slipping of horse on slippery asphalt pavement. Vaccarini v. New York, 54 Misc. 600, 104 NYS 928. Held not negligence to permit holes from one to four inches deep to exist in asphalt pavement. City of Dayton v. Glaser, 76 Ohio St. 471, 81 NE 991. Backing of wagon over unguarded embankment not as matter of law such accident as could not reasonably be expected. Wallace v. New Albion, 105 NYS 524.

highways in safe and proper condition.<sup>85</sup> As in other cases, contributory negligence is fatal to recovery.<sup>86</sup> Jury questions are discussed in a subsequent section.<sup>87</sup>

(§ 14) B. Notice of defect.<sup>See 8 C. L. 74</sup>—It must appear that the municipality had either actual or constructive notice of the defects complained of<sup>88</sup> and failed to remedy them within a reasonable time thereafter.<sup>89</sup> Evidence of the general unsafe condition of a sidewalk tends to charge the municipality with constructive notice of the particular defect which caused the injury,<sup>90</sup> and a city is bound to know of defects of its own creation.<sup>91</sup> If a city has notice of an obstruction, greater diligence to remove it will be required of it than if such was not the case.<sup>92</sup>

(§ 14) C. Sidewalks.<sup>See 8 C. L. 75</sup> like other portions of the street, must be kept in a reasonably safe condition,<sup>93</sup> the same general rules of liability applying.<sup>94</sup> To

85. James v. Trustees of Wellston Tp., 18 Okl. 56, 90 P 100, reviewing authorities. County not liable under Act April 13, 1894, amending Rev. St. 1892, § 845, to one who sustained injuries because his horse took fright at stones collected by its commissioners by roadside for repair work. Ebert v. Pickaway County Com'rs, 75 Ohio St. 474, 80 NE 5. The duty of keeping ordinary county roads in repair is not imposed on county commissioners by § 845, Rev. St., and a directed verdict for the defendants is not erroneous in an action for damages for negligence brought by one injured in his vehicle sliding into a deep rut or hole in the road. Smith v. Williams County Com'rs, 10 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 115.

86. See post, I, Contributory Negligence of Person Injured.

87. See post, § 15, Actions for Injuries.

88. City held not liable for injury caused by falling of iron water pipe standing against side of building abutting on sidewalk where city had no notice of defective attachment. Mitchell's Adm'r v. Brady, 30 Ky. L. R. 258, 99 SW 266. Middletown City Charter, § 30 (Laws 1902, p. 1376, c. 572), precluding recovery for injuries from snow and ice unless city shall fail to remove the snow and ice within a reasonable time after written notice, is not unconstitutional (MacMullen v. Middletown [N. Y.] 79 N E 863), but such notice is a condition precedent to right to sue and must be both pleaded and proved (Id.). City not liable for injuries from snow or ice unless it remains long enough to charge city with notice and require it to remove it. City of Chicago v. Hutchinson, 129 Ill. App. 239. In an action for injury resulting from an alleged defect in a street, it is error to overrule a motion by the city for an instructed verdict in its behalf where actual notice of the condition of the street is not claimed and there is no evidence of constructive notice except as based on speculation. City of Cincinnati v. Klein, 10 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 296. Notice will be implied where defects have continued so long that the city officials by the exercise of reasonable care might have known of them. City of Chicago v. Loebel, 130 Ill. App. 487; Abbott v. Detroit [Mich.] 14 Det. Leg. N. 662, 113 NW 1121. Instruction that obstruction had been in street too short a time to give constructive notice held erroneous, although particular stones had been there but two hours where pile had been continuously maintained for three days by addition of new stones as pile was depleted by use. Vance v. Kansas City, 123 Mo. App. 644, 100

SW 1101. Where excavation has been left unguarded for such a length of time that knowledge may be inferred, it is proper to submit questions of knowledge though there is no direct evidence thereof. Muncy v. Bevier [Mo. App.] 101 SW 157. Notice to a city is to be determined not only from the length of time a dangerous condition has existed but also from the nature of the defect, extent of travel, and similar considerations. Jones v. Ogden City [Utah] 89 P 1006. Evidence sufficient to show notice. Austin v. Bellingham [Wash.] 88 P 834. To town of defective crossing. Town of Normal v. Bright, 125 Ill. App. 478. Fact that sidewalk was constructed of wood, had been used for about ten years, and hence liable to be defective, held to sustain finding of constructive notice of defect. Murphy v. South St. Paul [Minn.] 112 NW 259. Grant by city to contractor of permit to open a ditch across street held notice to city that work was in progress. Kinsey v. Kinston [N. C.] 58 SE 912. Knowledge of street superintendent who discovered a defect held notice to a town. Mason v. Winthrop [Mass.] 81 NE 644. Evidence insufficient to charge city with notice of alleged defective manhole covering. Bissell v. District of Columbia, 28 App. D. C. 38. Hole in sidewalk covered with a board for twenty-four hours not sufficient to show constructive notice. Yeager v. Burwick Borough [Pa.] 67 A 347.

89. Sidewalk. Ballard v. Kansas City [Mo. App.] 104 SW 1126. City liable if it knew or by exercise of ordinary care could have known of defect and remedied it prior to accident. Smart v. Kansas City [Mo.] 105 SW 709.

90. City of Roswell v. Davenport [N. M.] 89 P 256. Proof that for more than a year a walk has been out of repair and unsafe in places on each side and near the place of injury is sufficient to charge the city with notice of the condition of the walk at the place of injury. Hammock v. Tacoma [Wash.] 87 P 924. Not necessary to prove that defect was such that it could have been discovered by the observation a mere traveler is required to exercise to avoid injury. Id.

91. Where it had removed a culvert. Heberling v. Warrensburg, 204 Mo. 604, 103 SW 36.

92. Cutter v. Des Moines [Iowa] 113 NW 1081.

93. Evidence sufficient to sustain recovery for injury from defective sidewalk. City of Chicago v. Loebel, 130 Ill. App. 487; Romaine v. Spring Valley, 105 NYS 256. Per-this end a city is bound to examine not only their surface but the supports as well whenever it has reasonable cause to believe that these are becoming defective.<sup>95</sup> If for a long time a city acquiesces in the use by the public of an apron over a drain as a part of a sidewalk, it must exercise care to keep it reasonably safe.<sup>96</sup>

(§ 14) D. Barriers, railings, and signals. See 8 C. L. 76.—A city must exercise reasonable care to maintain proper guards or signals near dangerous places in its streets,<sup>97</sup> and the same duty rests upon others who create or maintain such places.<sup>98</sup> That one knows that a street is occupied by building material does not relieve the city of its duty to maintain guards.<sup>99</sup> Where a city or railway company erects and maintains suitable barriers to warn the public that a street is closed for repair, it will not be held liable to one who is injured by disregarding them.<sup>1</sup>

(§ 14) E. Snow and ice. See 8 C. L. 77.—Municipalities are not liable for injuries from smooth and even temporary accumulations of snow or ice,<sup>2</sup> but it is negligence to allow accumulations amounting to obstructions to remain for an unreasonable length of time.<sup>3</sup>

(§ 14) F. Defects created or permitted by abutting owners and otherwise. See 8 C. L. 78.—In the absence of statute<sup>4</sup> a city is bound to exercise reasonable diligence to remedy or remove defects or obstructions in its streets though the same were not created or permitted by its authority.<sup>5</sup> What constitutes such diligence demitting three flag stones one on the other to remain on sidewalk held negligence. Graham v. New Rochelle, 104 NYS 939. Evidence that on account of rains sidewalk had sagged and had become slippery held to sustain finding of negligence. Forbes v. Omaha [Neb.] 112 NW 326.

94. See ante, A, Liability in General.

95. Hammock v. Tacoma [Wash.] 87 P 924.

96. City of Chicago v. Loebel, 130 Ill. App. 487.

97. Where city grants right to place building material in street, it is chargeable with notice of obstruction and must exercise reasonable care in giving warning thereof. Blocher v. Dieco, 30 Ky. L. R. 689, 99 SW 606.

98. See post, F, Defects Created by Abutters and Others.

99. Blocher v. Dieco, 30 Ky. L. R. 689, 99 SW 606.

1. City and street car company held not negligent. McFarlane v. Boston El. R. Co., 194 Mass. 183, 80 NE 447.

2. Not liable for mere general slippery condition due to rain and freezing during previous twenty-four hours. Blaine v. Philadelphia, 33 Pa. Super. Ct. 177. Where one slipped on ice formed only about two days before. Zunz v. New York, 103 NYS 222. Not liable unless snow or ice had remained long enough to permit of notice and removal (City of Chicago v. Hutchinson, 129 Ill. App. 239), nor if accumulation does not obstruct travel or prevent walk from being reasonably safe (Id.). Judgment in case where court refused to charge that plaintiff could not recover if fall was due to general slippery condition of sidewalk affirmed, court being equally divided. Leisenring v. Nanticoke Borough, 33 Pa. Super. Ct. 305. Where rain and snow or thawing and freezing constantly alternate, a city is not bound to clear its walks of every fall of snow or covering of ice. Brennan v. New York, 117 App. Div. 849, 103 NYS 266.

3. Where ice and snow accumulate so as to amount to an obstruction and this is allowed to remain for several weeks without action on the part of a city, it is sufficient to establish negligence in the absence of reasonable justification. Bull v. Spokane [Wash.] 89 P 555. Liable for permitting ridge of ice to remain on sidewalk for a month where one fell after it was covered with snow. Moore v. Philadelphia, 33 Pa. Super. Ct. 194.

4. Provision in charter that city should not be liable for damage caused by neglect of any person to keep any sidewalk clear from obstruction held to control general statute rendering cities liable for injuries caused by defective sidewalks, etc. MacLam v. Marquette, 148 Mich. 480, 14 Det. Leg. N. 207, 111 NW 1079. Provisions held not repealed by Loc. Acts 1899, p. 241, No. 423. Id. Not unconstitutional as class legislation. Id.

5. City of Grand Forks v. Allman [C. C. A.] 153 F 532. That defect was produced by third person is no defense where city has knowledge thereof and fails to remedy. Davis v. Adrian, 141 Mich. 300, 13 Det. Leg. N. 1023, 110 NW 1084. No defense that a coal hole was maintained by an abutter where city did not exercise reasonable care. City of Chicago v. Jarvis, 226 Ill. 614, 80 NE 1079. Negligence of contractor making excavations will not relieve city if it has knowledge of such negligence. Kinsey v. Kinston [N. C.] 58 SE 912. City liable where a horse takes fright and runs away, causing injury, because of obstructions permitted to remain in street, provided driver exercised due care. City of Denver v. Utzler, 38 Colo. 300, 88 P 143. Wooden awning held a nuisance rendering city liable for injuries. Mansfield v. New York, 104 NYS 386. That awning interfered with public use held shown by proof that a vehicle struck it and injured pedestrian. Id. Evidence held to sustain finding of negligence on part of city in permitting awning to be maintained though same be not considered a nuisance. Id.

pends upon the facts in each case<sup>6</sup> and especially upon the location of the obstruction and the length of time it has continued.<sup>7</sup> A city may not grant the right to use a street in a manner dangerous to the public,<sup>8</sup> and where an improvement is done under its command it may not escape liability by pleading that the negligence was that of an independent contractor.<sup>9</sup> It is liable for permitting public service corporations to endanger the public safety by the manner in which they exercise their privileges.<sup>10</sup>

An abutting owner is liable for acts or omissions rendering a street or highway unsafe<sup>11</sup> unless he has surrendered possession to others who expressly or impliedly covenant to make the necessary repairs,<sup>12</sup> and where a defect is due solely to the negligence of an abutter and the city is required to respond in damages to third persons, it may in turn recover from the abutter.<sup>13</sup> The limited right of an abutting owner to obstruct a highway by reason of his business exigencies must be reasonably exercised in subservience to the right of the public to safe passage,<sup>14</sup> and if an obstruction temporarily justified is not removed in a reasonable time it becomes a nuisance.<sup>15</sup>

Corporations or individuals using a street or highway for building operations or the making of other improvements must exercise care for the safety of the public<sup>16</sup> and must erect and maintain proper guards and signs where reasonably neces-

6. City of Grand Forks v. Allman [C. C. A.] 153 F 532. Maintenance by owner of store of a peanut roaster between sidewalk and street held not a public nuisance as matter of law, so as to render village liable to pedestrian injured by an explosion, there being evidence that such machines were in common use. Frank v. Warsaw, 116 App. Div. 618, 101 NYS 938.

7. City of Grand Forks v. Allman [C. C. A.] 153 F 532. A municipality is bound to know of and remedy defects after a reasonable time. Rife v. Middletown, 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 68.

8. That an awning had existed for over fifteen years held not to raise presumption that owner had acquired right to use the street. Mansfield v. New York, 104 NYS 386.

9. Where a city required a property owner to repair a street in front of his property and the curbsetter employed by him left obstructions in the street resulting in injury. Meyers v. Philadelphia, 217 Pa. 159, 66 A 251.

10. For permitting street railway to maintain a pole in middle of street unlighted in night time resulting in death to one who drove against it. McKim v. Philadelphia, 217 Pa. 243, 66 A 340.

11. Responsible for condition of sidewalk. Reynolds v. Strong, 103 NYS 106. Abutter liable for maintaining structures turning water onto the sidewalk where it froze, causing injury. Hynes v. Brewer, 194 Mass. 435, 80 NE 503. Immaterial that structures were there when he purchased and had been maintained for fifty years (Id.), or that some of the ice formed from other water (Id.). Findings held not to show negligence on part of one who left a large stone leaning against a building over a hole in a sidewalk where a boy pulled it upon himself. Falkenberg v. Stout [Kan.] 88 P 874. Owner of building and coal company engaged in putting coal into a coal hole both owe duty seeing that hole is properly guarded, and neither is relieved by duty resting on the other.

French v. Boston Coal Co. [Mass.] 81 NE 265. Proof that defendant owned and had control of a building and that unsafe trap doors were maintained exclusively for the benefit of the building held sufficient to warrant finding that defendant maintained the doors and had control of them. City of Seattle v. Puget Sound Imp. Co. [Wash.] 91 P 255. The mere fact that a dealer is engaged in delivering material into a coal hole in a sidewalk for the owner of a building does not render him liable to one who falls into the hole. Scheafer v. Iron City Sand Co., 31 Pa. Super. Ct. 476. Evidence sufficient to warrant finding of negligence in maintaining a hole in sidewalk in front of defendant's store. Brown v. Milligan, 33 Pa. Super. Ct. 244. Abutting owners must so use their property as not to unreasonably interfere with those lawfully using the adjoining highway. Ft. Wayne Cooperation Co. v. Page [Ind. App.] 82 NE 83. An object maintained near a highway of a character naturally calculated to frighten horses of ordinary gentleness is a nuisance. Id.

12. Parties who merely had possession and control as agents to collect rent held not liable to one who fell into a coal hole. Reynolds v. Strong, 103 NYS 106.

13. City of Seattle v. Puget Sound Imp. Co. [Wash.] 91 P 255.

14. Brooks v. Atlanta, 1 Ga. App. 678, 57 SE 1081.

15. Permitting sidewalk to become greasy and strewn with hay, etc. Brooks v. Atlanta, 1 Ga. App. 678, 57 SE 1081. Evidence sufficient to prevent nonsuit. Id.

16. Evidence sufficient to sustain recovery against street railroad company for loss of a horse due to defendants piling ballast in highway beyond its tracks. Zirkman v. Philadelphia & W. C. Tract. Co., 33 Pa. Super. Ct. 85. One who parts with all control over a place where building is carried on cannot be held for subsequent injuries unless the place was defective when he surrendered

sary.<sup>17</sup> Persons negligently maintaining steam machinery<sup>18</sup> or placing or permitting other obstructions or defects on or near highways<sup>19</sup> are liable for resulting injuries,<sup>20</sup> and violation of statutes or ordinances is evidence of negligence.<sup>21</sup>

(§ 14) G. Persons entitled to protection.<sup>See 8 C. L. 81</sup>—One who is not a traveler is not entitled to protection as such.<sup>22</sup>

(§ 14) H. Remote and proximate cause of injury.<sup>See 8 C. L. 81</sup>—The general principle of proximate cause applies.<sup>23</sup> If an injury would not have resulted but for such control. Moret v. George A. Fuller Co. [Mass.] 80 NE 789. In suit for injury from a board protruding from a fence around a building in course of construction, held error not to charge that defendants would not be liable if they had previously parted with all control of the place. Id. Although materials for repairing culvert may be placed in highway, reasonable care must be exercised to so place it as to be least liable to frighten horses. Carlson v. Greenfield, 130 Wis. 342, 110 NW 208. A subway company is not relieved of its duty to keep a street reasonably safe while it works therein because of its having let the work out to an independent contractor. Monahan v. Empire City Subway Co., 52 Misc. 566, 102 NYS 774. Evidence insufficient to show failure of subway company to keep highway reasonably safe. Id. Gas company excavating for pipes held not negligent in leaving pile of dirt over night. Stevens v. Citizens' Gas & Elec. Co., 132 Iowa, 597, 109 NW 1090. Held under facts shown that it was not negligence to throw dirt excavated across motor tracks. Id. It is duty of one who has made excavation in road to restore the highway to a reasonably safe condition. Elzig v. Bales [Iowa] 112 NW 540. Where one makes an excavation in road, he is not relieved from liability for injuries caused thereby by fact that he had hired an independent contractor to fill same and he had failed to do so. Id. Authority of owner to cut ditch across road used by public over his land does not authorize cutting of one dangerous to travel. Dunn & Lallande Bros. v. Gunn [Ala.] 42 S 686. Negligence in leaving dirt an unreasonable length of time in street held that of master, and not of agent who placed same in street under directions of lot owner while building sidewalk, he having no further control. Evans v. Ellefson [Ark.] 100 SW 759.

17. Fact that one secures permission of city to place building material in street does not relieve him of duty of giving warning thereof. Blocher v. Dieco, 30 Ky. L. R. 689, 99 SW 606. Duty of public service corporation excavating in street to place proper guards and danger signals. Stevens v. Citizens' Gas & Elec. Co., 132 Iowa, 597, 109 NW 1090. Violation of a valid ordinance limiting the space in a street which may be occupied by building material or requiring the placing of lights near temporary obstructions is per se negligence as against one injured by reason thereof. Bensel Const. Co. v. Homer [Ga. App.] 58 SE 489.

18. It is an actionable nuisance to maintain upon a public highway a stationary steam engine calculated to frighten horses. Smith v. Illinois Cent. R. Co. [Ky.] 105 SW 96. Held for jury whether defendant maintained such engine in highway. Id. Owner of large steam whistle near highway must exercise care and keep lookout for horses.

Truex v. South Penn Oil Co. [W. Va.] 59 SE 517. In action for injuries caused by horse taking fright at steam escaping from exhaust pipe near highway, special finding that defendant was operating mill in usual manner and that no more than usual amount of steam escaped held not inconsistent with finding of negligence. Ft. Wayne Cooperage Co. v. Page [Ind. App.] 82 NE 83. Findings held not in irreconcilable conflict with general finding that plaintiff was not negligent. Id. Fact that manufacturing plant is in close proximity to highway does not of itself render it a nuisance, or its operation negligence. Id.

19. Owner of land who permits public to travel across same cannot place dangerous obstruction in such road without notice, nor can he authorize another to do so. Dunn & Lallande Bros. v. Gunn [Ala.] 42 S 686. He is liable for injury caused by obstructions placed therein notwithstanding revocation of right to use road where notice of revocation is not given. Id. Allegation in answer that road was so indistinct that it did not appear to ordinary observation to be used by public is insufficient without allegation that defendant did not know that it was so used. Id. Where obstruction was in fact dangerous, it is immaterial whether it so appeared to party placing same in highway. Id. Where conditions are such that one must anticipate that horses may become frightened, the fact that a traveler's horse becomes uncontrollable will not bar recovery against one who places a dangerous obstruction in the highway. Harriman v. Moore & Co. [N. H.] 67 A 225. No defense that plaintiff's horse was uncontrollable where highway was near a railroad and defendant had narrowed it so as to render it dangerous. Id. Evidence held not to show that defect in road was caused by defendant. De Long v. Miller [Cal.] 90 P 925.

20. One placing an obstruction in a street by special authority from the proper municipal authorities cannot be held in trespass for a resulting injury on the ground that the obstruction was a nuisance. Can be held only on ground of negligence in failing to protect public. Sanford v. White [C. C. A.] 150 F 724.

21. Constructed wire fence across road in violation of St. 1885, p. 317, c. 77, § 1. Vanderveer v. Moran [Neb.] 112 NW 581. Where defendant violated ordinance prohibiting obstruction of sidewalk, court properly submitted ordinance as ground of recovery. Sandeguard Grocery Co. v. Conley [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 761, 104 SW 1073.

22. Where plaintiff left traveled portion and went onto a scale maintained by city in street but outside such portion he was not entitled to protection as a traveler. O'Neill v. New Haven [Conn.] 67 A 487.

23. Violation of ordinance restricting an obstruction or defect, the fact that other matters contributed will not bar relief to one who was free from negligence.<sup>24</sup>

(§ 14) I. Contributory negligence of person injured See § C. L. 82 precludes recovery,<sup>25</sup> but one is guilty of contributory negligence only when injured by some placing of building material in street held proximate cause of injury to pedestrian. Bensel Const. Co. v. Homer [Ga. App.] 58 SE 489. Held, under evidence, it could not be said as matter of law that certain ice rather than other defects caused plaintiff's fall. Mayhood v. New York, 103 NYS 856. Where wagon was backed over embankment, absence of guard held proximate cause and not previous removal of a timber. Wallace v. New Albion, 105 NYS 524. Defective street delaying fire department held not proximate cause of plaintiff's loss by fire. Hazel v. Owensboro, 30 Ky. L. R. 627, 99 SW 315. City not liable where horse fell on smooth pavement and got hind foot caught in perpendicular sewer opening of standard make. Vaccarini v. New York, 54 Misc. 600, 104 NYS 928.

24. One need not show that his injury was due solely to an obstruction if his own conduct in no way contributed. Harriman v. Moore & Co. [N. H.] 67 A 225. That lawful use of a street by others contributes to an injury does not relieve the municipality. Where bicycle rider was injured while a car and another vehicle were passing abreast in same direction. Clinton v. Revere [Mass.] 80 NE 813. Act of driver in driving against a pile of earth in street held not to preclude recovery by plaintiff who was injured. Citizens' Gas & Elec. Co. v. Nicholson [C. C. A.] 152 F 389. That horse was temporarily uncontrollable at time of collision held not to render obstructions less the proximate cause. James v. Tampa [Fla.] 42 S 729. Complaint considered and held to show that unguarded obstructions were proximate cause. Id. City not relieved because snow contributed to fall on defective sidewalk. Forney v. Melvin, 130 Ill. App. 203; City of Covington v. Billiter, 30 Ky. L. R. 650, 99 SW 318. City responsible for injury caused by dangerous walk though plaintiff was suffering from a disease which aggravated the consequences of the injury. City of Roswell v. Davenport [N. M.] 89 P. 256. In action for injuries caused by horse taking fright at steam escaping from exhaust pipe near highway, fact that it was blown across road by wind does not relieve defendant where such wind was not unusual or extraordinary. Ft. Wayne Cooperage Co. v. Page [Ind. App.] 82 NE 83.

25. Stidham v. Delaware City [Del.] 67 A 175; City of Americus v. Johnson [Ga. App.] 58 SE 518.

Held guilty of contributory negligence: Pedestrian falling into manhole. Wrigley v. New York, 106 NYS 812. Stepping into trench from which curbstones had been removed. McHugh v. Inter-State Pav. Co., 121 App. Div. 517, 106 NYS 165. Leaving walk and walking in gutter, falling into sewer opening therein. Mitchel v. Richmond [Va.] 57 SE 570. Carrying a couch so as to obstruct her view. Lautenbacher v. Philadelphia, 217 Pa. 318, 66 A 549. Knowingly taking an obviously dangerous sidewalk where he could take a safe path. City of Chicago v. France, 124 Ill. App. 648. One injured by depression in street. Smith v. Philadelphia, 217 Pa. 118, 66 A 142. Falling into unguarded street excavation. Austin v. Charlotte [N. C.] 59 SE 701. Petition demurrable for showing contributory negligence in attempting to pass a known ditch in the road. Southern R. Co. v. Rowe [Ga. App.] 59 SE 462. No recovery where one disregarded barriers warning public that street was closed for repair. McFarlane v. Boston El. R. Co., 194 Mass. 183, 80 NE 447. Where one attempted to turn on to a lower parallel highway, upsetting vehicle. Nelson v. Spokane [Wash.] 87 P 1048. If one riding in a vehicle acquiesces in another's negligent manner of driving, he cannot recover for injuries from obstructions. Canter v. St. Joseph [Mo. App.] 105 SW 1. Where unfastened horse ran away and against obstruction permitted by city, causing injury. City of Denver v. Utzler, 38 Colo. 300, 88 P 143.

Not guilty: Woman falling by stepping into hole in front of defendant's store. Brown v. Milligan, 33 Pa. Super. Ct. 244. Girl injured on sidewalk. City of Atlanta v. Harper [Ga.] 59 SE 230. On icy sidewalk. Hynes v. Brewer, 194 Mass. 435, 80 NE 503. That she could see the ice did not bar recovery. Id. One injured by a board sticking out of a fence over temporary sidewalk. Moret v. George A. Fuller Co. [Mass.] 80 NE 789. Pedestrian falling into opening left in sidewalk by removal of a plank, night being dark, etc. Ashley v. Aberdeen [Wash.] 90 P 210. That one goes over a defective walk is not negligence as matter of law. Mayhood v. New York, 103 NYS 856. Evidence held not to show contributory negligence on part of one injured on defective crossing. Town of Normal v. Bright, 125 Ill. App. 478. Pedestrian stumbling against lumber in street held not guilty of contributory negligence. Bensel Const. Co. v. Homer [Ga. App.] 58 SE 489. Woman hurrying from store to catch electric car held not negligent as matter of law in failing to discover street car rails left in street. Keith v. Worcester & B. V. St. R. Co. [Mass.] 82 NE 680. Old woman driving a wagon which was overturned held not guilty of contributory negligence as matter of law. City of Ft. Collins v. Yetter, 38 Colo. 87, 89 P 777. Driving horse of ordinary gentleness by a steam exhaust pipe at rate of seven miles per hour. Ft. Wayne Cooperage Co. v. Page [Ind. App.] 82 NE 83. Not negligence per se to drive on east side of street where dirt had been piled on west side, though some had also been piled on east side. Citizens' Gas & Elec. Co. v. Nicholson [C. C. A.] 152 F 389. Mere existence of another route does not show contributory negligence, question being ordinarily for jury. Town of Normal v. Bright, 125 Ill. App. 478. Fact that pedestrian failed to remember defect of which she had previous knowledge held not to necessarily render her negligent. City of Brownsville v. Arbuckle, 30 Ky. L. R. 414, 99 SW 239. Plaintiff held not negligent as matter of law in stepping into known hole, night being dark. City of Natchez v.

obvious defect which by the exercise of reasonable care he could have avoided<sup>26</sup> or by some defect latent or patent which he knows exists but nevertheless does not take care to avoid.<sup>26a</sup> Travelers may assume that the highway is reasonably safe<sup>27</sup> and that others using it will exercise reasonable care.<sup>28</sup> So, also, a mere knowledge of a defect will not bar relief as a matter of law unless the danger was so obvious that persons of ordinary prudence would not have attempted to use the street,<sup>29</sup> nor is it negligence per se to use a street where there is no sidewalk,<sup>30</sup> though knowledge or uncommon use may call for greater care.<sup>31</sup> Presumptions and burden of proof are discussed in a subsequent section.<sup>32</sup>

§ 15. Actions for injuries. See § C. L. 85.—The Nebraska statute does not require one injured on a defective street to first present his claim to the city council and then appeal from its action, but an original action may be maintained in the district court.<sup>33</sup>

Notice of claim for injury and intent to sue See § C. L. 84 is a prerequisite to the maintenance of an action when required by statute,<sup>34</sup> and must be properly presented or served<sup>35</sup> within the prescribed time.<sup>36</sup> The character and contents of a claim will depend upon the statute.<sup>37</sup> A notice or claim will be reasonably construed,<sup>38</sup>

Lewis [Miss.] 43 S 471; Nicholson v. South Omaha [Neb.] 110 NW 558. Not negligent in pursuing way over rough and uneven street which was covered with light snow, knowing of its condition. Jacobsen v. Omaha [Neb.] 113 NW 792. Not as matter of law contributory negligence to take an alley home at night though existence of an open ditch was known. Harrell v. Macon, 1 Ga. App. 413, 58 SE 124.

26. 20a. Hammock v. Tacoma [Wash.] 87 P 224.

27. Stidham v. Delaware City [Del.] 67 A 175; Ryan v. Foster [Iowa] 109 NW 1108; Weber v. Union Development & Const. Co., 118 La. 77, 42 S 652; Hammock v. Tacoma [Wash.] 87 P 924; Ashley v. Aberdeen [Wash.] 90 P. 210. And are not negligent for failing to observe concealed dangers in time. Corcoran v. New York, 188 N. Y. 131, 80 NE 660.

28. Indianapolis St. R. Co. v. Hoffman [Ind. App.] 82 NE 543.

29. City of Mobile v. Shaw [Ala.] 43 S 94; Harrell v. Macon, 1 Ga. App. 413, 58 SE 124; Cook v. Hedrick [Iowa] 112 NW 157; Murphy v. South St. Paul [Minn.] 112 NW 259; Heberling v. Warrensburg, 204 Mo. 604, 103 SW 36; Kennedy v. Greenville [S. C.] 58 SE 989. Where there are two ways, one safe and other unsafe, traveler knowing condition of both must exercise care of ordinarily prudent person to select safe way. City of Cleburne v. Elder [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 530, 102 SW 464.

30. Bensel Const. Co. v. Homer [Ga. App.] 58 SE 489. Pedestrian may cross street at any point and in doing so is not bound to use a greater degree of care than at crossing. City of Covington v. Whitney, 30 Ky. L. R. 659, 99 SW 337. Pedestrian is not guilty of negligence in crossing street diagonally to catch street car. Weber v. Union Development & Const. Co., 118 La. 77, 42 S 652.

31. Plaintiff held to more than ordinary care where sidewalk was obviously rough and uneven on account of excavations and building operations. Henry v. New York, 104 NYS 440. Being off sidewalk. Bensel Const. Co. v. Homer [Ga. App.] 58 SE 489.

32. See post, Actions, subd. Evidence.

33. Sess. Laws 1903, p. 177, c. 17, § 107, being § 8106, Cobby's Ann. St. 1903. Nicholson v. South Omaha [Neb.] 110 NW 558.

34. Fact that plaintiff was unconscious during time for giving notice held not to excuse. Ellis v. Kearney [Neb.] 113 NW 803. Hurd's Rev. St. 1905, c. 70, § 7, requiring written notice of injury to be given within six months, is not complied with by commencing suit within such period. Erford v. Peoria, 229 Ill. 546, 82 NE 374. Act May 13, 1905, § 1 (Hurd's Rev. St. 1905, c. 70, § 6), limiting time for bringing actions for personal injuries against cities, towns, and villages, and requiring notice to be given within six months of injury, held not violative of Const. art. 4, § 13, providing that no law shall be amended by reference to its title only (Id.), nor is it special legislation because not applying to counties, townships, etc. (Id.).

35. Under Detroit charter notice must actually reach corporation counsel or his chief assistant. Abbott v. Detroit [Mich.] 14 Det. Leg. N. 662, 113 NW 1121. Held under evidence question for jury whether notice left with chief clerk reached counsel or chief assistant. Id. Service on messenger in office of corporation counsel held insufficient under statute requiring service on counsel or his assistant. McAuliff v. Detroit [Mich.] 14 Det. Leg. N. 669, 113 NW 1112. Under Rev. Code N. D. 1899, § 2172, requiring presentation of claim to mayor and common council within 60 days, presentation to and filing by the city auditor within prescribed time is proper. City of Grand Forks v. Allman [C. C. A.] 153 F 532.

36. Notice of intent to sue held served within six months after cause of action accrued where served within six months from filing of complaint with comptroller, though after six months from date of injury. Bernreither v. New York, 55 Misc. 130, 106 NYS 286.

37. Oral notice is insufficient under Comp. St. 1907, c. 13, art. 3, § 39, requiring written notice. Ellis v. Kearney [Neb.] 113 NW 803. Statutory provision that clerk shall keep record of the notice, "describing the defect complained of," held not to require notice and held sufficient if enough information is given to enable the authorities to properly investigate the case.<sup>39</sup>

Pleading.<sup>See</sup> 8 C. L. 85.—The ordinary rules apply.<sup>40</sup> A cause of action or defense must be set out,<sup>41</sup> hence the complaint must sufficiently show that the place of injury was a public highway,<sup>42</sup> that defendant was negligent<sup>43</sup> and had notice,<sup>44</sup> and that plaintiff was a traveler and as such entitled to protection.<sup>45</sup> Plaintiff cannot be to contain such description. Forbes v. Omaha [Neb.] 112 NW 326.

38. Ellis v. Seattle [Wash.] 92 P 431.

39. Notice held sufficient, especially after city acted thereon without objection. Davis v. Adrian, 147 Mich. 300, 13 Det. Leg. N. 1023, 110 NW 1084. Notice is not void by inclusion of irrelevant and unnecessary matter unless misleading. Jacobsen v. Omaha [Neb.] 113 NW 792. Written notice given by wife in conformity with § 12, c. 12a, of charter of Omaha, and which discloses that she is a married woman, held sufficient to authorize recovery of consequential damages by husband. Wright v. Omaha [Neb.] 110 NW 754. Notice to town describing cause of injury as limb of a tree extending across highway, and place as "on Great Neck Road, so called, near the Hedden place, so called, in town of Waterford," held sufficient as to place. Town of Waterford v. Elson [C. C. A.] 149 F 91. Notice of claim sufficient though designating place as "west" instead of east side of street. Ellis v. Seattle [Wash.] 92 P 431. Misdescription of place not fatal where city immediately located place and removed obstruction. Cook v. Topeka [Kan.] 90 P 244. Notice reciting that claimant sustained injury by falling on defective sidewalk "at corner of Howard and Twenty-First St," held insufficient as to place. Barribeau v. Detroit, 147 Mich. 119, 13 Det. Leg. N. 810, 110 NW 512. Notice not invalid for misstating date in one place where in another place correct date was given. Canter v. St. Joseph [Mo. App.] 105 SW 1.

40. Where complaint alleges that material placed in highway was for use in repairing culvert, defendant may show such fact without alleging it in answer. Carlson v. Greenfield, 130 Wis. 342, 110 NW 208. Where complaint avers that road on which plaintiff was traveling was a neighborhood or public highway, general issue puts character of road in issue and it is not error to sustain demurrer to plea especially putting character in issue. Dunn & Lallande Bros. v. Gunn [Ala.] 42 S 686. Certain allegations in complaint in suit for negligently operating automobile held so indefinite and uncertain as to be subject to motion to amend; others held not so indefinite. Harrington v. Stillman, 105 NYS 75. In suit for collision with automobile, not abuse of discretion to permit amendment that automobile was driven by defendant's servant, and to allow insertion of words "and negligently." Lampe v. Jacobsen [Wash.] 90 P 654. In suit for injury from defective sidewalk, amendment of complaint by striking words "tripped and stumbled upon and against" and substituting "stepped upon and broke through" held not to state a new cause. City of Evanston v. Richards, 224 Ill. 444, 79 NE 673. Allegations in original petition held sufficient to authorize proof of contents of speed ordinance, violation of which resulted in a collision. Foley

v. Northrop [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 921, 105 SW 229.

Variance: Evidence held not to show that defect was in a bridge instead of in a sidewalk as alleged. City of Bloomington v. Woodworth [Ind. App.] 81 NE 611. Allegation of snow and ice on cross walk held not sustained by proof that plaintiff slipped on sidewalk. Brennan v. New York, 117 App. Div. 849, 103 NYS 266.

41. Complaint held not demurrable for want of facts in suit for injury to child from pile of earth and open pipe negligently left near a building. Hunton v. Peekskill, 104 NYS 220. Complaint showing that in operation of defendant's mill great clouds of steam were emitted within eight feet of highway and within six feet of the ground, which passed over the highway, and producing loud and frightful noises, all of which tended to frighten horses, etc., held sufficient. Ft. Wayne Cooperage Co. v. Page [Ind. App.] 82 NE 83. Complaint under Laws 1905, p. 469, c. 305, § 4, requiring operator of automobile, on signal of distress by person driving horses to stop all motor power and remain stationary unless movement forward shall be deemed necessary to avoid accident, held to sufficiently charge failure to shut off motor power (McCummins v. State [Wis.] 112 NW 25), and negative exception, objection being taken after prosecution had rested (Id.). Allegation that plaintiff did not know of dangerous condition of sidewalk, and that accident occurred at night without his fault, held not to show contributory negligence. City of Indianapolis v. Keeley, 167 Ind. 516, 79 NE 499. Answer held good on demurrer where plaintiff sued for injuries from tripping over wire stretched near sidewalk to protect the grass. Teague v. Bloomington [Ind. App.] 81 NE 103.

42. Complaint held to sufficiently charge that a certain street was within city limits and was a public street so as to show defendant's duty to plaintiff. City of Indianapolis v. Keeley, 167 Ind. 516, 79 NE 499. Allegation that "while going west on G. avenue, at the intersection of T. street, said street then being and now a public street," etc., held to allege that both streets were public streets. City of Louisville v. Adams, 30 Ky. L. R. 1129, 100 SW 218.

43. Complaint held sufficient to show actionable negligence in suit for injuries from icy sidewalk. Storm v. Butte, 35 Mont. 385, 89 P 726. Held sufficient to show what caused the injuries. Id.

44. Complaint held to sufficiently allege negligence and notice of defect on part of municipality. City of Anniston v. Ivey [Ala.] 44 S 48. Averment of actual notice held to admit evidence of constructive notice. Village of Bethany v. Lee, 124 Ill. App. 397.

45. Chicago, I. & L. R. Co. v. McCandish, 167 Ind. 648, 79 NE 903.

required to plead defensive matter.<sup>46</sup> Contributory negligence is matter of defense to be pleaded and proven by defendant.<sup>47</sup>

Evidence.<sup>See 8 C. L. 86</sup>—The burden is on plaintiff to establish his case,<sup>48</sup> including the giving of notice to the municipality.<sup>49</sup> Though the doctrine of res ipsa may be applicable,<sup>50</sup> it does not require defendant to disprove negligence by a preponderance of evidence.<sup>51</sup> While ordinarily the burden of showing contributory negligence is on defendant,<sup>52</sup> there is no presumption that plaintiff was exercising ordinary care.<sup>53</sup>

The general principles control as to the admissibility<sup>54</sup> and sufficiency of the evidence,<sup>55</sup> hence mere conclusions or opinions are objectionable.<sup>56</sup> While on the question of reasonable care a town may show what was reasonable and practicable

46. In action for injuries caused by wire fence stretched across road, plaintiff cannot be compelled to state whether there was a new and plainly traveled road at such place. Vanderveer v. Moran [Neb.] 112 NW 581.

47. Board of Councilmen of Nicholasville v. Fain, 30 Ky. L. R. 564, 99 SW 275; City of Henderson v. Sizemore [Ky.] 104 SW 722; Coffey v. Carthage, 200 Mo. 616, 98 SW 561.

48. To show that railroad company unnecessarily and wrongfully obstructed street by its train proximately causing his injury. Duffy v. Atlantic & N. C. R. Co., 144 N. C. 26, 56 SE 557. Under Rev. Laws, c. 51, § 18, plaintiff must prove that in exercise of reasonable diligence defendant town should have ascertained and remedied the defect. Mason v. Winthrop [Mass.] 81 NE 644. In suit against city, burden on plaintiff to prove not only that defendant was negligent but that he himself was free from negligence. Stidham v. Delaware City [Del.] 67 A. 175.

49. McAuliff v. Detroit [Mich.] 14 Det. Leg. N. 669, 113 NW 1112.

50. Where pedestrian stepped through inadequate filling up of water-main trench. Cunningham v. Dady, 103 NYS 852. Where one is injured by falling of an awning extending over street, presumption of negligence arises. McHarge v. Newcomer & Co., 117 Tenn. 595, 100 SW 700.

51. Cunningham v. Dady, 103 NYS 852.

52. City of Indianapolis v. Keeley, 167 Ind. 516, 79 NE 499.

53. Acts 1899, p. 58, c. 41, placing burden of proof on defendant, does not create such presumption. City of Indianapolis v. Keeley, 167 Ind. 516, 79 NE 499.

54. Declarations of automobile driver as to how accident occurred made after he had left machine, examined child, and had talked to police officer, held not res gestae. Clark v. Van Vleck [Iowa] 112 NW 648. Statements of father after accident that it was not defendant's fault held hearsay, as were statements as to child's health. Id. Police officer's notes made at time of accident but not shown to be true held properly excluded. City of Chicago v. Jarvis, 226 Ill. 614, 80 NE 1079.

Photographs taken next day after accident held inadmissible without showing that conditions remained the same. Crandall v. Dubuque [Iowa] 112 NW 555. Error to exclude consideration of photograph after attempt to show that it correctly represented the place at time of accident. City of Chicago v. Hutchinson, 129 Ill. App. 239. Statement on subsequent repair of sidewalk, irresponsible to question on cross-examination, held improper. City of Aurora v. Plummer, 122 Ill. App. 143. Held not error to strike out testimony that witness would not want to say that sidewalk was in dangerous condition. Crandall v. Dubuque [Iowa] 112 NW 555. Question, "I will ask you to state whether or not, if there had been a ditch 12 or 18 inches deep on Fourteenth street for several days prior to the time Ivey was hurt, you would have noticed it," held not admissible as showing nonexistence of ditch. City of Anniston v. Ivey [Ala.] 44 S 48. Question, "state what your duties are as chairman of the street committee," held immaterial as calling for duties at time of trial. Id. In suit for injuries from falling into coal hole, evidence held to tend to prove allegations of complaint. City of Chicago v. Jarvis, 226 Ill. 614, 80 NE 1079. Evidence as to whether in fact culvert was rebuilt is admissible as bearing on allegation that materials placed in highway were for repair of such culvert. Carlson v. Greenfield, 130 Wis. 342, 110 NW 208. In action for injuries caused by old and defective sidewalk, evidence of life and durability of nails and boards used in construction of such sidewalk is admissible. Patton v. Sanborn, 133 Iowa, 650, 110 NW 1032. Defendant's testimony that he was an expert driver of horses and had never before been accused of negligence held immaterial. Hanchett v. Haas, 125 Ill. App. 111.

55. Evidence sufficient to sustain finding that plaintiff was on a crossing when she was injured. Town of Normal v. Bright, 125 Ill. App. 478. Fact that jury visited scene of accident at request of a party does not preclude him from asserting that verdict is not supported by evidence. Forbes v. Omaha [Neb.] 112 NW 326.

56. Witness cannot testify as to whether street is in a "dangerous or impassable condition." City of Anniston v. Ivey [Ala.] 44 S 48. Not reversible error to strike statements that an electric light was burning "so bright I think I could have read a newspaper there," and that "I think it was pretty near as bright as day." City of Chicago v. Loebel, 130 Ill. App. 487. Statement that a horse became frightened (Ward v. Meredith, 220 Ill. 66, 77 NE 118, afg. 122 Ill. App. 159), or that plaintiff had no knowledge of defective condition of sidewalk at time of accident, held not objectionable as a conclusion (Patton v. Sanborn, 133 Iowa, 650, 110 NW 1032). Statement that "wagon was coming at full speed" held not a mere opinion. United Breweries Co. v. O'Donnell, 124 Ill. App. 24.

to be done under the circumstances and the cost thereof,<sup>57</sup> evidence merely showing the per mile appropriation for streets in the year of the accident is inadmissible,<sup>58</sup> and where a defect has existed for over a year, evidence of the extent of sidewalks under municipal control will not be admitted.<sup>59</sup> Evidence of previous inspection of a structure by city officials showing it to be unsafe may be admitted to show notice, and to impose upon the city the burden of showing subsequent repairs.<sup>60</sup> The condition of the place of injury shortly after the accident may be shown where there could have been no substantial change in the meantime.<sup>61</sup> Evidence of other and similar accidents at the same place may be admitted for certain purposes,<sup>62</sup> provided the cause was the same,<sup>63</sup> and the condition of the street in the immediate vicinity of the place of injury may also be shown.<sup>64</sup> Subsequent improvement of a defect may not be shown.<sup>65</sup> Under an allegation that the locus was a public highway, one may show its dedication by defendant.<sup>66</sup> Compliance or violation of an ordinance may be shown on the question of care or negligence.<sup>67</sup> Permits to operate in a street may be admitted to show defendant's control of the place,<sup>68</sup> or that he acted within his rights.<sup>69</sup>

Questions for the jury, instructions and findings. See § C. L. 88.—The question of negligence,<sup>70</sup> contributory negligence,<sup>71</sup> proximate cause,<sup>72</sup> or notice,<sup>73</sup> is ordinarily for the jury.<sup>74</sup>

57, 58. Adams v. Stoneham, 193 Mass. 597, 79 NE 881.

59. Hammock v. Tacoma [Wash.] 87 P 924.

60. Unsafe awning inspected and pronounced unsafe seven years before accident. Mansfield v. New York, 104 NYS 386.

61. Condition of coal hole an hour and a half after. City of Chicago v. Jarvis, 226 Ill. 614, 80 NE 1079. Evidence of condition of stringers and planks a few days after accident and after sidewalk had been torn up held admissible to show condition at time of accident. Patton v. Sanborn, 133 Iowa, 650, 110 NW 1032. Evidence of rotten condition of stringers of sidewalk six weeks after accident held admissible. Miller v. Canton, 123 Mo. App. 325, 100 SW 571.

62. Evidence of numerous other accidents of the same kind at the same place is admissible as showing that the common cause was a dangerous and unsafe defect (City of Chicago v. Jarvis, 226 Ill. 614, 80 NE 1079), and knowledge on the part of the municipality (Id.). Evidence that plaintiff's companions fell at same time and as to how they fell held admissible as showing nature of defect. Abbott v. Detroit [Mich.] 14 Det. Leg. N. 662, 113 NW 1121.

63. Held improper to allow plaintiff's witness to testify to an injury she had received at same place, it not appearing that the cause was the same. City of Aurora v. Plummer, 122 Ill. App. 143.

64. Plaintiff held not restricted in showing bad condition of sidewalk to loose board causing accident but may show that walk in immediate vicinity is in bad condition. Thompson v. Poplar Bluff [Mo. App.] 101 SV 709. Condition of road 300 feet from place of accident held inadmissible under facts as too remote. Strand v. Grinnell Automobile Garage Co. [Iowa] 113 NW 488.

65. Evidence of subsequent filling in of defect in sidewalk held inadmissible. Mackey v. New York, 121 App. Div. 473, 106 NYS 114.

66. Davis v. Oregon Short Line R. Co., 31 Utah, 307, 88 P 2.

67. Penal ordinance regulating fastening of horses in street. Caughlin v. Campbell-Sell Baking Co. [Colo.] 89 P. 53. In a suit for injuries from a collision, a speed ordinance alleged to have been violated is relevant and material. Foley v. Northrop [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 921, 105 SW 229.

68. Building permit held admissible only as bearing on defendant's control of place of injury and not to show negligence in maintenance of a guard fence. Moret v. George A. Fuller Co. [Mass.] 80 NE 789.

69. Where it was necessary to show not only that defendant had right to lay its pipes in street but that it acted within its right, admission of municipal consent does not render permit inadmissible. Stevens v. Citizen's Gas & Elec. Co., 132 Iowa, 597, 109 NW 1090.

70. Where defendant backed a wagon across a foot path and against a building. Casey v. United States Exp. Co., 214 Pa. 1, 63 A 365. Where plaintiff was knocked down by defendant's vehicle. Murphy v. Withington, 194 Mass. 28, 79 NE 783. As to speed at which wagon was driven. Cooke Brewing Co. v. Ryan, 125 Ill. App. 597. Whether defendant's intoxication contributed to injury. Id. Negligence of driver of truck. Gelb v. Murtagh, 104 NYS 842. In suit for injury to child. Coopers v. Sand Co., 31 Pa. Super. Ct. 107. Where child was run over by a wagon. Barth v. Borden's Condensed Milk Co., 52 Misc. 487, 102 NYS 498. Where boy was run over. Levin v. Dunn, 101 NYS 25. Negligence of driver of beer wagon. Cooke Brewing Co. v. Ryan, 125 Ill. App. 597. In suit for collision with defendant's horse. McMahan v. White, 30 Pa. Super. Ct. 169. Where flagman was struck by defendant's horse. Griffin v. Bell, 104 NYS 295. Negligence of driver in leaving a horse unbridled where noises might scare him. Koonz v. New York Mail Co., 72 N. J. Law, 530, 63 A 341. Team frightened by automobile. Raber v. Hinds, 133 Iowa, 312, 110 NW 597. Automobile collision. Lampe v. Jacobsen [Wash.] 90 P. 654. Negligence of defendant's chauffeur where a mule became frightened by automobile. Rochester v. Bull [S. C.] 58 SE 766. Negligence of street car company in operating cars. Ashley v. Kanawha Valley Traction Co., 60 W. Va. 306, 55 SE 1016. Where railroad company left a car off tracks on highway on dark night. Davis v. Oregon Short Line R. Co., 31 Utah, 307, 88 P 2. Whether materials for repairing culvert were placed unnecessarily near traveled portion of highway. Carlson v. Greenfield, 130 Wis. 342, 110 NW 208. Negligence in maintaining steam exhaust pipe near highway. Ft. Wayne Cooperage Co. v. Page [Ind. App.] 82 NE 83. Where it was not made to appear that had defendant arrested the sparkler as soon as he saw or might have seen that team was frightened or that he could have done anything to have stopped their fright, held that case was not made for jury. House v. Cramer, 134 Iowa, 374, 112 NW 3. Icy condition of sidewalk. Storm v. Butte, 35 Mont. 385, 89 P 726; Bull v. Spokane [Wash.] 89 P. 555. Trodden snow on sidewalk. Crandall v. Dubuque [Iowa] 112 NW 555. Where pedestrian was injured by stepping on clinker of ore in cinder sidewalk. City of Latonia v. Hall [Ky.] 103 SW 354. City's liability for maintaining top of manhole three to six inches above sidewalk surface. Corr v. New York, 121 App. Div. 578, 106 NYS 280. In suit for injury from falling on a concrete incline. Stratton v. New York, 117 App. Div. 887, 103 NYS 358. Allowing obstruction to remain in street. Jones v. Ogden City [Utah] 89 P 1006. In suit against township for injuries from wire extending across and above a road. Ackley v. Bradford Tp., 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 487. Loose stones in street. Adams v. Stoneham, 193 Mass. 597, 79 NE 881. As to negligence in failing to remove a loose plank over which plaintiff stumbled. City of Grand Forks v. Allman [C. C. A.] 153 F 532. Where plaintiff slipped on beveled end of plank in temporary driveway. Humphrey v. Leonard [Cal.] 90 P. 705. In suit for falling into unguarded coal hole. French v. Boston Coal Co. [Mass.] 81 NE 265. Leaving excavation unguarded. Muncy v. Bevier, 124 Mo. App. 10, 101 SW 157. In action for injury to child caused by falling into sag hole in street filled with hot water from steam heating plant of school district. Svendsen v. Alden [Minn.] 112 NW 10. Where the location and character of a defect is in controversy, the question of whether a highway was reasonably safe is ordinarily for the jury (Mason v. Winthrop [Mass.] 81 NE 644), and it is only when there is no dispute as to the facts or inferences to be drawn therefrom that it becomes a question of law for the court (Id.). Whether barrels had been placed so as to prevent people from falling into a bulkhead held for jury. Owens v. Harvard Brewing Co., 194 Mass. 498, 80 NE 509. In suit for injuries from hole in a street, area, depth, location, etc., of defect, held for jury. Clinton v. Revere [Mass.] 80 NE 813. Where automobile ran over an embankment, question of sufficient light held for jury under evidence. Corcoran v. New York, 188 N. Y. 131, 80 NE 660.

71. Where plaintiff passed on a foot path behind a wagon which was backed against him. Casey v. United States Exp. Co., 214 Pa. 1, 63 A 365. Whether plaintiff's driver was guilty of negligence in manner of turning from street car track, thus contributing to collision with defendant's cab. Keile v. Kahn, 30 Pa. Super. Ct. 416. Collision with vehicle. Murphy v. Withington, 194 Mass. 28, 79 NE 783. Where one was struck by a team while working in street. Fertel v. Peck [Vt.] 67 A 818. Where plaintiff fell from a load when wagon struck defect in street. City of Chicago v. Bork, 227 Ill. 60, 81 NE 27. Riding on top of load of potatoes, seated on sacks, while crossing rock ledge. Dralle v. Reedsburg, 130 Wis. 347, 110 NW 210. Where team was frightened by car left on highway off track on dark night. Davis v. Oregon Short Line R. Co., 31 Utah, 307, 88 P 2. Where boy was run over. Levin v. Dunn, 101 NYS 25. Whether school boy killed exercised care to be expected of him. United Breweries Co. v. O'Donnell, 124 Ill. App. 24. In suit for injury to child, contributory negligence of mother. Cooples v. Sand Co., 31 Pa. Super. Ct. 107. Of one struck by street car. Ashley v. Kanawha Valley Traction Co., 60 W. Va. 306, 55 SE 1016. Pedestrian injured by automobile. Lampe v. Jacobsen [Wash.] 90 P 654. Where automobile ran over embankment at night. Corcoran v. New York, 188 N. Y. 131, 80 NE 660. In suit for falling on concrete incline. Stratton v. New York, 117 App. Div. 887, 103 NYS 358. Walking on rough, uneven, and slippery sidewalk. Crandall v. Dubuque [Iowa] 112 NW 555. Walking on extreme edge of sidewalk while passing other pedestrians. Davis v. Adrian, 147 Mich. 300, 13 Det. Leg. N. 1023, 110 NW 1084. Using sidewalk known to be defective. Cook v. Hedrick [Iowa] 112 NW 157. Failure to see bill board placed across sidewalk. Ryan v. Foster [Iowa] 109 NW 1108. Falling into bulkhead of sidewalk. Owens v. Harvard Brewing Co., 194 Mass. 498, 80 NE 509. Falling into open ditch in public alley. Harrell v. Macon, 1 Ga. App. 413, 58 SE 124. Stepping into known hole in darkness. City of Covington v. Billiter, 30 Ky. L. R. 650, 99 SW 318. Falling into coal hole. French v. Boston Coal Co. [Mass.] 81 NE 265. In suit against township for injury from wire above and across a road. Ackley v. Bradford Tp., 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 487. Whether plaintiff's nonobservance of law of road was prudent under circumstances. Clinton v. Revere [Mass.] 80 NE 813. Amount of lookout for defects one must observe is for jury under all facts and circumstances. City of Americus v. Johnson [Ga. App.] 58 SE 518. Instruction undertaking to say what was contributory negligence held properly refused. Teague v. Bloomington [Ind. App.] 81 NE 103.

72. Where horse and wagon backed over unguarded declivity. Ballentine v. Kansas City [Mo. App.] 103 SW 564. Street car collision. Ashley v. Kanawha Valley Traction Co., 60 W. Va. 306, 55 SE 1016. Whether negligence of city with respect to icy walk. Bull v. Spokane [Wash.] 89 P 555.

73. Notice of defect. Kinsey v. Kinston [N. C.] 58 SE 912. Notice of defect caused by third person. Davis v. Adrian, 147 Mich. 300, 13 Det. Leg. N. 1023, 110 NW 1084. Constructive notice of condition of walk. Meachem v. Coraopolis Boro., 31 Pa. Super. Ct. 150. Whether sidewalk had been so notoriously out of repair as to charge city with notice of particular defect. Fritz v. Watertown [S. D.] 111 NW 630. Notice to city of obstruction causing injury. Jones v. Ogden City [Utah] 89 P 1006. Whether bobbed with box removed which had remained in street two days had remained sufficient length of time for defendant city to have known of and removed it. Cutter v. Des Moines [Iowa] 113 NW 1081.

Instructions<sup>75</sup> and findings<sup>76</sup> are governed by the ordinary rules. Instructions must conform to the law<sup>77</sup> and the evidence,<sup>78</sup> and avoid unwarranted assump-

74. Where injury resulted from driving at night against earth piled in street, question for jury whether place was properly guarded with lights and whether plaintiff was negligent in failing to discover the dirt. Citizens' Gas & Elec. Co. v. Nicholson [C. C. A.] 152 F 389. Evidence sufficient to take case to jury where level of street had sunk below cap of a water gate. Moore v. Wilkes-Barre [Pa.] 67 A 619. Where pedestrian ran against a rope by which one wagon was drawn by another, defendant's care in giving warning, and question of plaintiff's care held for jury. Young v. Herrmann, 104 NYS 72.

75. Instruction held not to mislead jury to believe that city's duty with reference to construction and maintenance of cross walks was less than its legal duty. Houghton v. New Haven, 79 Conn. 659, 66 A 509. Instructions on contributory negligence of one killed by live wire held not erroneous or misleading. Village of Palestine v. Siler, 225 Ill. 630, 80 NE 345. Certain modifications of requested instructions held proper. Id. Instruction as to liability for injury caused by collision while driving on left side of street, and on one's right to cross to left side to avoid obstruction, considered and held not in conflict. Clark v. Van Vleck [Iowa] 112 NW 648. In suit by one who fell into a coal hole, charge that defendants had sufficient management of premises to make them liable held too broad. Reynolds v. Strong, 103 NYS 106. In suit for injuries from excessive speeding of automobile, instruction not erroneous for using words "either by himself or his agent." Ward v. Meredith, 220 Ill. 66, 77 NE 118. No error to use words "sidewalk or apron" where injury was due to disrepair of apron which was used as part of sidewalk. City of Chicago v. Loebel, 130 Ill. App. 487. Instruction requiring the city to keep sidewalks reasonably safe by night as well as by day not bad for using the word "night." City of Evanston v. Richards, 224 Ill. 444, 79 NE 673. Instruction on contributory negligence held properly modified with reference to plaintiff's obligation to "use her eyes and senses." Rose v. Kansas City, 125 Mo. App. 231, 102 SW 578. Instruction to find for city unless it "actually" knew of defect, etc., held improperly modified by inserting after word "actually" the words "constructively or impliedly." City of Greenwood v. Harris, 89 Miss. 121, 42 S 538. Where plea of contributory negligence is based on failure to use safe portion of sidewalk, it is not reversible error to instruct that plea fails if there was no such safe portion. City of Mobile v. Shaw [Ala.] 43 S 94. Where act of contributory negligence is particularized, instruction need not cover contributory negligence generally. Negligence pleaded was in driving unsafe horse and in using rotten harness. Board of Councilmen of Nicholasville v. Fain, 30 Ky. L. R. 564, 99 SW 275. Instruction on contributory negligence held not prejudicial for using the words "if any" after headlight, though existence of such light was not disputed, and omission to limit plaintiff's failure to exercise care to a failure contributing to accident. Regan v. McCarthy, 119 Ill. App. 578.

76. Comp. Laws 1897, c. 91, § 3444, providing that provisions of act rendering townships liable for defects in highways shall not apply to highways which have not been in use for ten years, being a proviso, it is defensive and court need not make a finding of user within 10 years to support judgment for plaintiff. Schelske v. Orange Tp., 147 Mich. 135, 13 Det. Leg. N. 938, 110 NW 506. Finding that highway was dangerous held equivalent to finding that it was not reasonably safe (Id.), and that there was an unwarranted obstruction to travel at the place of accident (Id.).

77. Instruction on constructive notice to city approved. Crotty v. Danbury, 79 Conn. 379, 65 A 147. Instructions erroneous for failure to allow city a reasonable time to repair after notice. Ballard v. Kansas City [Mo. App.] 104 SW 1126. Instruction authorizing recovery for injuries from unsafe approach to a bridge approved. Garret County Com'rs v. Blackburn [Md.] 66 A 31. Instruction in language of statute as to facts sufficient for prima facie case in suit for injuries from automobile run at excessive speed held not objectionable as ignoring whether injuries resulted from running at excessive speed. Ward v. Meredith, 220 Ill. 66, 77 NE 118, afg. 122 Ill. App. 159. Instruction held not objectionable as requiring city to repair a sidewalk in time to have prevented the accident. Smart v. Kansas City [Mo.] 105 SW 709. Instruction requiring jury to find that walk was in a "dangerous condition," and another charging that defendant was bound to exercise no greater care than was sufficient to keep its walks reasonably safe, held proper. Thompson v. Poplar Bluff, 124 Mo. App. 439, 101 SW 709. Instruction, in action for injuries to child caused by falling into hole in street filled with hot water from heating plant of school district, that city had right to assume that janitor in flushing boilers would act in such manner as not to create dangerous nuisance in streets until it had notice that it was "customarily and usually" done in different manner, held erroneous. Svendsen v. Alden [Minn.] 112 NW 10. Instruction barring recovery if plaintiff slipped into a hole because of snow held erroneous as ignoring defendant's duty to keep sidewalk reasonably safe. Forney v. Melvin, 130 Ill. App. 203. Not error to refuse to require jury to say whether plaintiff could have taken opposite side of street where plaintiff had no knowledge of the danger. City of Indianapolis v. Keeley, 167 Ind. 516, 79 NE 499. In suit for injuries caused by negligent driving of defendant's servant, instructions on negligence and contributory negligence approved. D. H. Ewing & Sons v. Callahan [Ky.] 105 SW 387. Instruction directing verdict and ignoring starting of an engine before plaintiff had passed held improper. Clark v. Farmington Coal Co., 130 Ill. App. 192.

78. Where evidence presented only question of whether an excavator was negligent

tions.<sup>79</sup> It is error to refuse instructions properly applicable in the case,<sup>80</sup> unless sufficiently covered by others.<sup>81</sup>

§ 16. Injury to, obstructions of, or encroachment on, street or highway.<sup>See § C. L. 89</sup>—A permanent obstruction or encroachment of a public street is a nuisance<sup>82</sup> remediable in equity at the instance of the public,<sup>83</sup> or a private person showing special in not properly guarding the place by lights held error to allow consideration of whether he was negligent in manner of excavating. Citizens' Gas & Elec. Co. v. Nicholson [C. C. A.] 152 F. 389. Where defendant is charged with negligence in placing pile of earth in street, in leaving same over night, and in failing to guard same, but only latter was supported by evidence, held error to submit all three acts of negligence. Stevens v. Citizens' Gas & Elec. Co., 132 Iowa, 597, 109 NW 1090. Instruction ignoring precise distance of projection of coal hole above sidewalk held not erroneous where evidence as to such distance was conflicting. Smart v. Kansas City [Mo.] 105 SW 709. Instructions not erroneous for ignoring question of plaintiff's knowledge of defect, there being no evidence that she had such knowledge. City of Bloomington v. Woodworth [Ind. App.] 81 NE 611. Testimony that driver was always very particular about the horse because it was always trying to get away, and that it appeared to be skittish, held to justify instruction as to negligence in leaving horse tied with strap and weight. Swift & Co. v. Murphy [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 893, 100 SW 997. Instruction in suit for injuries from collision with defendant's vehicle held not objectionable as being on weight of evidence for failure to use qualifying words. Foley v. Northrup [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 921, 105 SW 229.

79. Instruction assuming negligence is erroneous. Muncy v. Bevier, 124 Mo. App. 10, 101 SW 157. Charge on notice held not objectionable as assuming existence of defect. City of Cleburne v. Elder [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 530, 102 SW 464. Held error to charge on law of road and refuse an instruction requested by defendant after such charge, where under the evidence there was no occasion to apply that law. Dickenson v. Platt, 116 App. Div. 651, 101 NYS 956.

80. Proper instruction on proof of contributory negligence held improperly refused. City of Indianapolis v. Keeley, 167 Ind. 516, 79 NE 499. Under evidence held error to refuse instruction on contributory negligence based on acquiescence in negligence of plaintiff driver. Canter v. Joseph [Mo. App.] 105 SW 1. Under the evidence held error to refuse to charge that defendant was not liable if jury believed defendant's description of the defect. Mason v. Winthrop [Mass.] 81 NE 644. Request to charge on question of plaintiff's negligence in walking in roadway and not on sidewalk held sufficiently complied with. Cratty v. Danbury, 79 Conn. 379, 65 A 147.

81. Instructions held to cover case. City of Brownsville v. Arbuckle, 30 Ky. L. R. 414, 99 SW 239. Not error in view of other instructions to refuse charge that it was plaintiff's duty to be on alert for approaching teams, considering the conditions. Fertel v. Peck [Vt.] 67 A 818. Requested instruction that city must exercise "reasonable care to keep sidewalk in safe condition" held covered by instruction that "city must keep sidewalks in a reasonably safe condition," etc. Crandall v. Dubuque [Iowa] 112 NW 555. Instruction requiring finding that plaintiff's horse became frightened at rubbish pile and ran away because of such fright held to cover requested instruction that no recovery could be had if horse was frightened at some other object before reaching pile. Board of Councilmen of Nicholasville v. Fain, 30 Ky. L. R. 564, 99 SW 275. Instruction held to sufficiently submit question whether rubbish pile was of character to render street unsafe. Id.

82. Robins v. McGehee, 127 Ga. 431, 56 SE 461; McHarge v. Newcomer & Co., 117 Tenn. 595, 100 SW 700. Which court may cause to be abated upon conviction of the offender. State v. Southern Indiana Gas Co. [Ind.] 81 NE 1149. Fence. State v. Godwin [N. C.] 59 SE 132. Opening through sidewalk and not conforming to permit held a nuisance per se. City of New York v. De Peyster, 105 NYS 612. Steps and areas on sidewalk held a nuisance enjoined in equity. City of New York v. Knickerbocker Trust Co., 52 Misc. 222, 102 NYS 900. By express provisions of Civ. Code, §§ 3479, 3480, and Pen. Code, § 370, anything unlawfully obstructing the free passage or use in the customary manner of a public highway is a public nuisance. People v. McCue, 150 Cal. 195, 88 P 899.

83. That other remedies may exist for the abatement of an obstruction does not affect the power of the district attorney under Act Mar. 15, 1899, St. 1899, p. 103, c. 88, to begin an action in the name of the state. People v. McCue, 150 Cal. 195, 88 P 899. Under Comp. Laws, § 433, providing that circuit court of chancery shall have jurisdiction to determine all cases of encroachments on public highways, bill in equity may be brought therein to compel removal of street car tracks unlawfully placed in highway. Bangor Tp. v. Bay City Trac. & Elec. Co., 147 Mich. 165, 110 NW 490. Equity will assume jurisdiction of proceeding by city to remove obstruction of permanent nature. City of New York v. De Peyster, 105 NYS 612. Where private dock built over street unreasonably interferes with public travel, owner may be compelled under Pen. Code, § 385, and Highway Law, Laws 1890, p. 1198, c. 568, § 104, to remove same. City of Buffalo v. Delaware, etc., R. Co. [N. Y.] 82 NE 513. Municipal authorities may cause an obstruction to be removed from any public street in actual use by the public. Robins v. McGehee, 127 Ga. 431, 56 SE 461. Threatened obstruction of highway by erection of fence along center preventable by injunction. Council Grove Tp. v. Bowman [Kan.] 92 P 550. Lapse of time held not to bar right of public to have an encroachment removed where such encroachment did not extend full width of highway and entirely cut off travel. City of New York v. De Peyster, 105 NYS 612. Complaint charging that defendant did maintain, set up, and cause to be set up a certain sign, held not multi-injury.<sup>84</sup> An action for damages,<sup>85</sup> ejectment,<sup>86</sup> or summary abatement, may also be resorted to in certain cases,<sup>87</sup> but charter power to prevent or remove nuisances does not include power to summarily remove obstructions which are not nuisances per se,<sup>88</sup> farious although ordinance used the disjunctive. City of St. Louis v. St. Louis Theater Co., 202 Mo. 690, 100 SW 627. In proceeding to abate an obstruction constituting a nuisance, highway should be identified. State v. Southern Indiana Gas Co. [Ind.] 81 NE 1149. In suit by a borough to restrain obstruction by a railroad company of a street, evidence held to show that the portion obstructed had been previously vacated by ordinance. Borough of Rochester v. Pennsylvania Co., 216 Pa. 320, 65 A 796. Telephone company held guilty of obstructing highway where it placed poles along same at different places than those directed by highway commissioners by notice pursuant to act in force July 1, 1903. Interstate Independent Tel. & T. Co. v. Towanda, 123 Ill. App. 55. In an action by a municipality to compel by mandatory injunction the removal from the sidewalk of so much of a building as encroaches thereon, the owner of the property, as well as the lessee who erected the building, is a necessary party. City of Columbus v. Philbrick, 5 Ohio, N. P. (N. S.) 449.

84. Equity will restrain obstruction of public or private roads at instance of one specially injured. Bent v. Trimboli, 61 W. Va. 509, 56 SE 881. Public highway. Robbins v. White [Fla.] 42 S 841.

Must be specially injured. Johnson v. Andengard, 100 Minn. 130, 110 NW 369. Burden on complainant to establish special injury where he sought to enjoin completion of a canal or slip because of obstruction of alleged highways. Hamilton v. Semet Solvay Co., 227 Ill. 501, 81 NE 538. Evidence insufficient. Id. Abutting owners held to have sufficient interest to enable them to sue to restrain obstruction of extension of a street. Street v. Leete, 79 Conn. 352, 65 A 373. One occupying property as a residence, in front of which a track for movement of express cars is being unlawfully constructed, suffers such special injury as will support suit to enjoin. Hatfield v. Straus [N. Y.] 82 NE 172. Abutter whose ingress and egress was impaired held entitled to sue to enjoin construction of private spur track. Hatfield v. Straus, 117 App. Div. 671, 102 NYS 934. Owner whose right of view and access would be interfered with may sue. Riley v. Pennsylvania Co., 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 579. Complaint held to show special injury to plaintiff's quarrying business by street obstructions so as to authorize suit for damages. Cushing-Wetmore Co. v. Gray [Cal.] 92 P 70. Liability of overseers of highway to statutory penalty for failure to keep roads in good repair and free from obstructions gives them sufficient interest to maintain injunction to prevent obstructions. Williams v. Riley [Neb.] 113 NW 136. Under Act April 11, 1849, P. L. 754, the Pennsylvania Railroad Company may occupy a street for right of way by municipal consent but not for depots or freight houses. Riley v. Pennsylvania Co., 32 Pa. Super. Ct. 579. Even if original right be conceded, railroad could not encroach by extension of a station. Id. In suit to remove as a nuisance steps and areaway extending into sidewalk, evidence held to show that the structures extended into street. City of New York v. United States Trust Co., 116 App. Div. 349, 101 NYS 574. Evidence held to sustain finding that abutting property was not damaged by construction of railroad tunnel in street. Burton Lumber Corp. v. Houston [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 580, 101 SW 822. Judgment directing abatement of nuisance, consisting of projections of buildings into street, rendered against one no longer having any rights in the premises held ineffectual. Ackerman v. True, 105 NYS 12. Property holders held entitled to join in single suit to contest right of municipality to grant railroad company right of way along so-called street traversing their properties which they claim to be private property and not a street. Gill v. Lake Charles, 119 La. 17, 43 S 897.

85. In private action for obstructing a street, it was immaterial that the portion actually used by the public was in what would be the sidewalk portion of the street if sidewalks were constructed. Cushing-Wetmore Co. v. Gray [Cal.] 92 P 70. A borough is not liable in tort for the mere existence of an incumbrance in a street where it never authorized the act of placing it there nor ratified it later. Dirt dumped in street. Nyhart v. Taylor Borough, 31 Pa. Super. Ct. 635. In action by highway commissioner for obstructing highway, his evidence should be treated as that of any other witness. Parkey v. Galloway, 147 Mich. 693, 14 Det. Leg. N. 34, 111 NW 348. Where public road is obstructed by railroad company, the measure of damages recoverable by county is cost of putting road in as good condition as it was before and not the inconvenience suffered by public. Big Sandy R. Co. v. Floyd County [Ky.] 101 SW 354.

86. Ejectment will lie by a municipality against a person unlawfully encroaching upon a highway under its control. Riverside Tp. v. Pennsylvania R. Co. [N. J. Err. & App.] 66 A 433.

87. A fence unlawfully obstructing a public highway is an indictable nuisance (State v. Godwin [N. C.] 59 SE 132), and may be rightfully removed either by the officers charged with the duty of keeping the streets open or by any person annoyed or prejudiced (Id.). Agreement of abutters to construction of a ditch in public street on different line from that of an older and smaller one held not to bind the public. Kern Island Irr. Co. v. Bakersfield [Cal.] 90 P 1052. Right to maintain new ditch held not authorized by previous right to maintain an older and smaller one. Id. One not specially injured may not remove a fence and trees on ground that they encroached on street (Hitchner v. Richman [N. J. Law] 65 A 856), and a private person can interfere only so far as it is necessary in order to exercise his right of passing along the highway (Id.). That one removed trees and a fence by direction of mayor and council of a borough did not show that direction was in form of an ordinance as required by statute. Id.

88. Brown v. Carrollton, 122 Mo. App. 276, 99 SW 37. Wooden awning extending over street at height of fifteen feet and substantially supported held not per se a nuisance.

nor is this remedy available when a street has never been actually opened but has been in private occupation for many years.<sup>89</sup> Estoppel may bar relief,<sup>90</sup> though prescription will not ordinarily do so.<sup>91</sup> Injunction will issue to restrain county authorities from removing gates constructed across a road in accordance with statute.<sup>92</sup> Where one conveys land for a highway, his adjoining land will be burdened with the lateral support of a road built in accordance with the terms of the deed,<sup>93</sup> and he must not endanger the highway by excavations.<sup>94</sup>

Criminal liability. See S C. L. <sup>91</sup>—Obstruction of highways is made criminal in many jurisdictions,<sup>95</sup> but it must appear that the locus was a public highway.<sup>96</sup> The indictment must set forth all the essential elements of the offense,<sup>97</sup> and should identify the highway with certainty.<sup>98</sup> Where one has the right to temporarily occupy a street for a certain purpose, the indictment must show occupation for an unreasonable time.<sup>99</sup> A railroad company sentenced to abate an embankment as a nuisance and later summoned to show cause why it should not be abated by the sheriff at its expense has the burden of showing that it did in fact abate the obstruction.<sup>100</sup>

Id. Whether it was a nuisance in fact held question for the courts, and, in absence of authority to declare nuisances, city could not provide for summary removal. Id.

<sup>89.</sup> Since the rationale of the principle that an obstruction may be summarily abated is the theory that an obstruction of a street in use by the public is a nuisance, when a street has never been actually opened or used but has been in private occupation for forty years, this mode of procedure is not available, and this though the fee is in the city. Robins v. McGehee, 127 Ga. 431, 56 SE 461.

<sup>90.</sup> Where, from filing of plats of city addition in 1852 and 1856, nothing further was done, and thereafter city stands by and sees extensive steel mills erected encroaching on the streets and without objection permits large sums of money to be expended in belief that streets have been abandoned, city is estopped from claiming that such mills constitute obstructions. City of Chicago v. Illinois Steel Co., 229 Ill. 303, 82 NE 286. The statutes provide the only way a street may be narrowed, and no act by the municipality not in accordance with the statute, but which might be construed as an abandonment of some part of the street, gives to an abutting property owner the right to encroach thereon, nor is estoppel created against the municipality by reason of the fact that other property owners have been permitted to so encroach. City of Columbus v. Philbrick, 5 Ohio N. P. (N. S.) 449. In suit to compel opening of alley obstructed by defendants, evidence insufficient to create estoppel by consent. Williams v. Poole [Ky.] 103 SW 336. Fact that township officers made no objection to laying of street car tracks in highway held not to estop township from compelling removal. Bangor Tp. v. Bay City Traction & Elec. Co., 147 Mich. 165, 13 Det. Leg. N. 999, 110 NW 490.

<sup>91.</sup> Abutter could not by prescription obtain right to maintain unauthorized ditch in street. Kern Island Irr. Co. v. Bakersfield [Cal.] 90 P 1052. Would not be inferred that permit to encroach on street was issued, it not being shown that city had power to grant it. City of New York v. De Peyster, 105 NYS 612. Prior to Civ. Code 1899, § 6, easement could be acquired in street by adverse user. Outside stairway extended over street. Agnew v. Pawnee City [Neb.] 113 NW 236.

<sup>92.</sup> Adkins v. Bumgardner [Tex. Civ. App.] 99 SW 132.

<sup>93.</sup> Board of Chosen Freeholders v. Woodcliffe Land Imp. Co. [N. J. Law] 65 A 844.

<sup>94.</sup> Excavation by tenant so as to endanger retaining wall. Board of Chosen Freeholders v. Woodcliffe Land Imp. Co. [N. J. Law] 65 A 844.

<sup>95.</sup> In prosecution under Rev. Code 1852, as amended 1893, p. 501, c. 60, § 31, for obstructing road, the time of the offense as laid in indictment is not material provided offense is proven to have been committed within two years immediately preceding finding of indictment. State v. Southard [Del.] 66 A 372. Placing a fence across a public road is an offense under Rev. Code 1852, as amended 1893, p. 501, c. 60, § 31. Id. In prosecution for obstructing a highway, evidence sufficient to support conviction. Brumley v. State [Ark.] 103 SW 615.

<sup>96.</sup> Conviction for maintaining a nuisance on a public highway cannot be sustained on evidence not showing that the place was a public highway. Commonwealth v. Slagel, 33 Pa. Super. Ct. 514. Where part of prescriptive road had been abandoned and a new way constructed without statutory proceedings. Id. Where a highway is established by dedication, the fact that it is used for the storage of logs to be loaded on cars is immaterial to its existence. State v. Southard [Del.] 66 A 372.

<sup>97.</sup> Information, based on § 108, c. 78, Comp. St. 1903, making it unlawful to "build a barbed wire fence across or in any plain traveled road or track in common use," must charge that road was in common use. Gilbert v. State [Neb.] 111 NW 377.

<sup>98.</sup> Mere averment that accused obstructed a public highway in a certain county is insufficient. State v. Southern Indiana Gas. Co. [Ind.] 81 NE 1149.

<sup>99.</sup> Indictment charging railroad with obstructing public road by embankment raised in course of making road crossing held defective for failure to allege that embankment was maintained for unreasonable length of time. Commonwealth v. Morganfield, etc., R. Co., 30 Ky. L. R. 1274, 101 SW 304.

<sup>100.</sup> Immaterial that no replication was

HOLIDAYS.<sup>1</sup>

Statutory holidays possess only the sanctity attached to them by the statute creating them,<sup>2</sup> and in this respect differ from Sunday,<sup>3</sup> hence, a legal holiday is not dies non juridicus unless made so by statute.<sup>4</sup> To constitute a general state election within the meaning of an act making the day upon which it is held a holiday, the election must be held generally throughout the state and not in certain political subdivisions only,<sup>5</sup> and the fact that certain state officers are elected thereat does not alter the rule.<sup>6</sup> Under a statute prohibiting the service of any process "on a legal holiday," service of a citation whether original or alias on such a day is ineffective.<sup>7</sup> Objections to judicial proceedings upon holidays must be timely made, and came too late on a motion in arrest of judgment after conviction.<sup>8</sup>

HOMESTEADS.

§ 1. The right to the Homestead in General (1629).

§ 2. Persons Entitled (1629).

§ 3. Properties and Estates in Which Homestead May be Claimed (1629).

§ 4. Claiming, Selecting, and Setting Apart of Homesteads (1630).

§ 5. Liabilities Superior or Inferior to Homestead (1630).

§ 6. Alienation and Incumbrance (1631). Necessity of Consent of Wife to Conveyance or Joinder Therein (1631). Acknowledgment of Conveyance (1632). Contracts to Convey (1632).

§ 7. Loss or Relinquishment (1632).

§ 8. Rights of Surviving Spouse, Children, Heirs, of Dependents of Homestead Tenant (1634).

§ 9. Exemption of Proceeds of Homestead or of Substituted Properties (1635).

§ 10. Remedies and Procedure by Creditors (1635). Remedies by Suit or Action (1635). Remedies of Creditors Against Excess (1636). Decrees, and Judicial and Execution Sales (1636).

§ 1. The right to the homestead in general.<sup>See</sup> § C. L. 93—Homestead exemptions are favored by the law.<sup>9</sup> The homestead law in Utah is wholly independent of the statutes providing for support of widow and children pending administration.<sup>10</sup>

Nature of homestead estate.<sup>See</sup> § C. L. 93

§ 2. Persons entitled.<sup>See</sup> § C. L. 93—The statutes determine who is entitled to homestead. Generally the right is based upon the existence of a family.<sup>11</sup> In Kentucky a nonresident cannot acquire a homestead in the state.<sup>12</sup>

An abandoned wife or family.<sup>See</sup> § C. L. 93

§ 3. Properties and estates in which homestead may be claimed.<sup>See</sup> § C. L. 94—In Iowa matured crops grown on homestead are not exempt.<sup>13</sup> filed. Commonwealth v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 33 Pa. Super. Ct. 452. Five degree grade mentioned in Act June 13, 1836, P. L. 551, applies only to new roads. Id.

1. See § C. L. 92.

2. Acts not expressly forbidden are not prohibited. State v. Duncan, 118 La. 702, 43 S 283.

3. See Sunday, § C. L. 2045. State v. Duncan, 118 La. 702, 43 S 283.

4. Labor day though a legal holiday for certain purposes is not so as to make an order entered on that day invalid. Logan v. Ballard, 61 W. Va. 526, 57 SE 143. Under Ann. Code 1906, § 504, a notice or summons returnable on a holiday may be acted on the next secular day, but action on the return day is not void. Id.

5. State v. Duncan, 118 La. 702, 43 S 283.

6. Election of judges of court of appeals held not a general state election within Act No. 3, 1904, p. 5. State v. Duncan, 118 La. 702, 43 S 283.

7. Rev. St. 1895, § 1180. Service of citation in divorce proceedings. Michael v. Michael [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 923, 100 SW 1018.

8. State v. Duncan, 118 La. 702, 43 S 283.

9. Ervay v. Hill [Wash.] 90 P 590.

10. Rev. St. 1898, § 2829, not repealed by Laws 1903, p. 51, c. 57. In re Syndergaard's Estate, 31 Utah, 490, 88 P 616.

11. In North Dakota a husband as head of the family is entitled to claim homestead exemption although the fee to the land is vested in his wife. Const. § 208; Rev. Code 1905, §§ 5049, 5050. Bremseth v. Olson [N. D.] 112 NW 1056. Evidence held to show such a social status existing between brother and sister and moral obligation upon his part to support her and corresponding dependence on her part as to warrant conclusion of law that they constituted a family within meaning of constitution and homestead exemption statutes. Drought & Co. v. Stallworth [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 603, 100 SW 188.

12. Lyons v. Adams, 30 Ky. L. R. 870, 99 SW 900.

13. In re Sullivan [C. C. A.] 148 F 815.

As dependent on nature of claimant's title. See § C. L. 94.—A homestead may be claimed in a fee, or in a life estate, or in both,<sup>14</sup> and can be acquired in land held by husband and wife jointly or as tenants by entireties.<sup>15</sup> In Wisconsin a tenant in common can acquire a homestead if his occupation is with the consent, express or implied, of his cotenant.<sup>16</sup>

As dependent on use of premises. See § C. L. 94.—Residence upon<sup>17</sup> or occupancy of land<sup>18</sup> is generally essential to the acquisition of a homestead therein. A business homestead, distinct from the residence, must be reasonably necessary to the business or calling of the head of the family.<sup>19</sup> In Minnesota two separate parcels of land touching only at the corners, between which is a regular roadway, if owned, occupied, and cultivated as one farm, may constitute a homestead, although the residence and appurtenances are all located upon one tract.<sup>20</sup>

As dependent on whether lands are rural or urban. See § C. L. 95

As dependent on whether property is realty or personalty. See § C. L. 1633

Amount exempt. See § C. L. 95.—Value of property at the time of conveyance thereof governs on the question as to whether at that time it was a homestead.<sup>21</sup>

§ 4. Claiming, selecting, and setting apart of homesteads. See § C. L. 95.—One cannot have homestead rights in two places. Therefore, until an existing homestead has been abandoned, a new one cannot be established.<sup>22</sup> In Iowa the selection of a homestead may be made at any time before judicial sale.<sup>23</sup> Where the selection is made from the separate property of the wife, it must be with her consent. The actual use of a dwelling as a family home is a sufficient selection under the Nebraska homestead law,<sup>24</sup> but in Colorado the word "homestead" must be entered on the margin of the recorded title,<sup>25</sup> and in Georgia the debtor must prepare a schedule of the property he desires to be exempted.<sup>26</sup>

§ 5. Liabilities superior or inferior to homestead. See § C. L. 97.—As a rule homestead exemptions apply only to debts incurred subsequent to the acquisition of the homestead,<sup>27</sup> and do not apply as against one holding a vendor's lien on the land.<sup>28</sup>

14. Under Code, §§ 2977, 2978, one having a fee in forty acres and a life estate in an adjoining tract of forty acres may select a homestead from a part of each, provided his dwelling house is located on land selected. Lutz v. Ristine [Iowa] 112 NW 818.

15. Gannon v. Moore [Ark.] 104 SW 139.

16. St. 1898, § 2983 (Laws 1901, c. 269, p. 365). Bartle v. Bartle [Wis.] 112 NW 471. Acquiescence of cotenant under such circumstances as raise a presumption of consent sufficient. Id.

17. Rev. Code 1899, § 3605. Smith v. Spafford [N. D.] 112 NW 965.

18. Const. of N. C. art. 10, § 2. In re Paramore & Ricks, 156 F 208.

19. Duncan v. Ferguson-McKinney Dry Goods Co. [C. C. A.] 150 F 269.

20. Brixius v. Reimringer [Minn.] 112 NW 273.

21. Bruner v. Hicks, 230 Ill. 546, 82 NE 888.

22. LaPlant v. Lester [Mich.] 14 Det. Leg. N. 643, 113 NW 1115. Where one sells his homestead, purchases a hotel with the proceeds and occupies it as his dwelling, he acquires a homestead therein. Bartle v. Bartle [Wis.] 112 NW 471.

23. Lutz v. Ristine [Iowa] 112 NW 818; Hobson v. Huxtable [Neb.] 112 NW 658; Miller v. Paustion [Neb.] 112 NW 342. Such consent may be inferred from facts and circumstances from which a reasonable inference of consent may be deduced, or facts and circumstances may be shown which would estop wife from asserting that consent was not given. Id. Consent may, until contrary be shown, be presumed from use and occupancy of property as a family home. Hobson v. Huxtable [Neb.] 112 NW 658.

24. Hobson v. Huxtable [Neb.] 112 NW 658.

25. Mill's Ann. St. § 2133. This requirement is not complied with by causing word to be written on deed itself. Leppel v. Kus, 38 Colo. 292, 88 P 448.

26. Civ. Code 1895, § 2866. Harris v. Hill, 1 Ga. App. 425, 58 SE 124. Homestead will not prevail over title of bona fide purchaser without actual notice unless schedule contains description of property sufficiently definite to impart constructive notice. Id.

27. Under Ky. St. 1903, § 1702, homestead exemption does not apply to sales under execution, or judgment, if debt existed prior to purchase of the land or erection of improvements thereon. Cowan McClung & Co. v. Evans [Ky.] 101 SW 964. Homestead is purchased under this statute when it is paid for. Id. Defendant borrowed money from plaintiff to apply on purchase price of land, which he subsequently sold, and with part of proceeds bought another tract. The latter tract was not exempt as a homestead

The Utah statute making homesteads subject to mechanics' and laborers' liens is unconstitutional.<sup>29</sup> An attachment of property is subject to a homestead exemption therein.<sup>30</sup> The Washington statute<sup>31</sup> making inoperative the exemption laws where the liability of an agent or attorney incurred in relation to money or other property of his principal is concerned does not apply to homestead exemptions.<sup>32</sup> Under the Federal statutes a homestead exemption given by the laws of a state may be asserted against a fine due the United States although under the state law the exemption does not extend to fines.<sup>33</sup>

Application of payments to protect homestead. See 8 C. L. 98

§ 6. Alienation and incumbrance. See 8 C. L. 98.—Generally a homestead may be sold or mortgaged,<sup>34</sup> and being exempt from execution its conveyance can work no fraud against a creditor,<sup>35</sup> but, where a homestead has been selected from the separate property of the wife, she cannot by a conveyance of the property deprive the husband of his homestead right therein.<sup>36</sup> In Nebraska a wife cannot convey the family homestead to the exclusion of the homestead right of her insane husband.<sup>37</sup> Where homestead right is not released by both, it is not released as to either spouse.<sup>38</sup>

Necessity of consent of wife to conveyance or joinder therein. See 8 C. L. 99.—Generally it is essential to a valid conveyance or mortgage of a homestead that the wife shall join in the instrument of conveyance,<sup>39</sup> but under the Illinois statute title will pass although the wife does not join, if possession is abandoned or given pursu-from execution on judgment for the money loaned. Hensley v. Webb [Ky.] 101 SW 375. By "improvements" are meant original improvements and not repairing or additional improvements becoming necessary for comfort of family. Cowan McClung & Co. v. Evans [Ky.] 101 SW 964.

28. "Purchase money liens" referred to in St. 1898, § 2983, making such liens an exception to the rule exempting homesteads from debts of owner, mean vendor's liens for purchase money. Bartle v. Bartle [Wis.] 112 NW 471. One who pays notes secured by vendor's lien on homestead, at request of maker and with understanding that he shall hold the lien, becomes subrogated to the rights of vendor. Mergel v. Felix [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 398, 99 SW 709. Wife may without knowledge or assent of husband procure third person to pay such notes. Id.

29. Violative of constitutional requirement that legislature shall provide for selection and exemption of a homestead from sale on execution. Volker-Scoweroft Lumber Co. v. Vance [Utah] 88 P 896.

30. Citizen's Sav. Bk. of Olin v. Glick, 134 Iowa, 323, 111 NW 970. Homestead of family cannot be taken on attachment for tort of husband and father. Cassady v. Morris [Okla.] 91 P 888.

31. Ballinger's Ann. Codes & St. § 5248a.

32. Erway v. Hill [Wash.] 90 P 590.

33. United States v. Stacey, 155 F 510.

34. In re Paramore & Ricks, 156 F 208.

But under constitution of Texas a mortgage or lien upon a homestead is void. Brooks v. Sanger [Tex.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 782, 105 SW 37. Married man living upon land as a homestead cannot mortgage it. Adams v. Bartell [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 503, 102 SW 779. Mortgage of a business homestead by husband and wife, if not given for purchase price or improvements, is void. Musick v. O'Brien [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 532, 102 SW 458. Constitutional provision cannot be avoided by a simulated transaction by which homestead is conveyed to another, and simultaneously reconveyed with detention of vendor's lien to secure alleged purchase-money notes. Brooks v. Sanger [Tex.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 782, 105 SW 37. And lien thus attempted to be created is not enforceable by purchaser of notes, though he had no actual knowledge that property was a homestead. Id.

35. Brunson v. Rosenheim [Ala.] 43 S 31; Nicholson v. Nesbitt [Cal. App.] 88 P 725; McCarty v. Coffin [C. C. A.] 150 F 307.

36. Miller v. Paustion [Neb.] 112 NW 342.

37. Comp. St. 1905, c. 36, § 4. Weatherington v. Smith [Neb.] 112 N W 566.

38. Columbian Bldg. & Loan Ass'n v. Leeds, 128 Ill. App. 195.

39. A lease of a homestead for five years is a conveyance under Cobbe's Ann. St. 1903, § 6203, and is void unless executed and acknowledged by both husband and wife. Kloke v. Wolff [Neb.] 111 NW 134. Hurd's Rev. St. 1905, c. 52, § 4, prohibiting conveyance of homestead by husband without joinder of wife, applies where husband and wife are joint tenants. Lininger v. Helpenstell, 229 Ill. 369, 82 NE 306. Where joinder of wife, under separate acknowledgment, is required, husband and purchaser cannot without wife's knowledge consummate sale upon terms and conditions materially different from those stated in conveyance as executed and delivered. Scoggin v. Mason [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 569, 103 SW 831. Where in body of mortgage wife's name appears with that of husband as a mortgagor, and certificate of acknowledgment recites that wife acknowledged instrument to be her act and deed for purposes therein named, there is sufficient joinder to convey her homestead interest. Long v. Eranham, 30 Ky. L. R 552, 99 SW 271.

ant to the conveyance.<sup>40</sup> It is not essential to the validity of an agreement to compensate another for finding a purchaser for land embracing a homestead that the owner's wife should join in its execution,<sup>41</sup> and an agreement changing the terms and manner of paying rentals of a gas and oil lease on a homestead from cash to a royalty need not be consented to by the wife of the lessor.<sup>42</sup> If a wife is induced by the fraudulent representations of her husband to join in the conveyance of their homestead, she is entitled to a cancellation of the conveyance where the grantee has notice, actual or implied, of the fraud.<sup>43</sup>

Acknowledgment of conveyance. See 8 C. L. 101.—Any conveyance of a homestead is void, unless it contains a release of the grantor's homestead rights and is duly signed and acknowledged.<sup>44</sup>

Contracts to convey. See 8 C. L. 101.—In Iowa a contract to convey a homestead not signed by the wife of the contractor is void.<sup>45</sup> The lien of a mortgage on a homestead is not discharged by a forbearance agreement between the husband and the mortgagee.<sup>46</sup>

§ 7. Loss or relinquishment. See 8 C. L. 101.—A right of homestead once vested continues until lost through abandonment or parted with by voluntary relinquishment.<sup>47</sup> It cannot be forfeited by misconduct.<sup>48</sup> Removal from the land with intention to abandon it as a homestead defeats the exemption after creditor's rights have intervened,<sup>49</sup> but the cessation of occupancy must be with an intention of total relinquishment shown by clear and decisive circumstances.<sup>50</sup> A temporary renting does not ordinarily constitute an abandonment.<sup>51</sup> An assignment for the benefit of

40. Hurd's Rev. St. 1905, c. 52, § 4. Facts held not to constitute abandonment or surrender of possession pursuant to conveyance. Venters v. Wickens, 224 Ill. 569, 79 NE 946.

41. Kepner v. Ford [N. D.] 111 NW 619.

42. Wilson v. People's Gas Co., 75 Kan. 499, 89 P 897.

43. Scoggin v. Mason [Tex. Civ. App. 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 569, 103 SW 831.

44. Lease of homestead for the purpose of mining oil and gas for ten years or so long as oil and gas might be found thereon held conveyance of freehold and void as not executed in accordance with statute. Bruner v. Hicks, 230 Ill. 536, 82 NE 888. The right of homestead can be released only by conveyance or waiver subscribed by the householder and his wife and acknowledged by both. Giving of chattel mortgage upon house standing on leased ground and permitting constable to sell it thereunder and accepting the proceeds in excess of judgment and costs is insufficient. Myers v. Henderson, 129 Ill. App. 644.

45. Code, § 2974. Such contract cannot be specifically enforced, nor damages recovered for its breach. Wheelock v. Countryman, 133 Iowa, 289, 110 NW 598. But a contract to convey reversion where homestead estate is expressly reversed is valid though not signed by wife. Reilly v. Reilly [Iowa] 110 NW 445.

46. McKinley-Lanning Loan & Trust Co. v. Johnson [Neb.] 105 NW 899.

47, 48. Citizens' Sav. Bk. of Olin v. Glick, 134 Iowa, 323, 111 NW 970.

49. Smith v. Spafford [N. D.] 112 NW 965. Where one abandons a homestead and for fifteen years does not reside on the land nor receive any profits therefrom, he loses his right thereto. Martin v. Smith [Ky.] 104 SW 310. Evidence held to show abandonment of homestead. Smith v. Spafford [N. D.] 112 NW 965.

50. Duncan v. Ferguson-McKinney Dry Goods Co. [C. C. A.] 150 F 269. Property does not lose its character as a homestead until its use as such has been discontinued with intention not to again use it as a home. Drought & Co. v. Stallworth [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 603, 100 SW 188. A removal from a homestead for temporary purposes, with intention to return, is not an abandonment. Lutz v. Ristine [Iowa] 112 NW 818. Leaving homestead on account of ill health with intention of returning when able is not an abandonment. Bartle v. Bartle [Wis.] 112 NW 471. Where one sells part of land covered by his homestead exemption on which is located his dwelling house, and then builds and occupies a dwelling house on remainder, he does not abandon his homestead in such remainder. Lutz v. Ristine [Iowa] 112 NW 818. Facts held not to show an abandonment of homestead. LaPlant v. Lester [Mich.] 14 Det. Leg. N. 643, 113 NW 1115.

51. Where there is only a temporary renting of a part of homestead and no segregation made or intended, it does not constitute a divestiture of the homestead character as to such portion. Drought & Co. v. Stallworth [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 603, 100 SW 188. Where four lots upon which were two buildings divided by a partition fence were purchased for a home, the fact that at husband's death one of buildings was leased will not preclude setting aside entire tract as homestead to widow where its value is less than $1,000. In re Murphy's Estate [Wash.] 90 P 916. Under Const. art. 16, § 51, temporary renting of business homestead does not consti-creditors of nonexempt property and cessation of business does not constitute an abandonment of a business homestead. The assignor is entitled to a reasonable time in which to embark in a new business.<sup>52</sup> In determining whether there has been an abandonment, all the facts and circumstances of the case must be considered.<sup>53</sup> Declarations of homesteader as to his intentions in removing from the homestead are competent to show that there was no abandonment, but are not conclusive.<sup>54</sup> A wife cannot by abandoning the family homestead and removing to another state defeat the homestead right of her insane husband.<sup>55</sup> A wife may part with her homestead interest in her husband's land by a release, supported by a sufficient consideration.<sup>56</sup> Where a year's support to the widow is set aside out of homestead property, the homestead is thereby extinguished.<sup>57</sup>

tute abandonment if no other homestead has been acquired. Duncan v. Ferguson-McKinney Dry Goods Co. [C. C. A.] 150 F 269.

52. Where assignment and cessation of business were on March 29, homestead passed by conveyance made on April 3. McCarty v. Coffin [C. C. A.] 150 F 307.

53. Drought & Co. v. Stallworth [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 603, 100 SW 188. In solving such question jury or court must consider uses to which property has been subjected, character of improvements made, effect and object of temporary renting and intention to preserve it as a home, as indicated by acts of party asserting homestead rights. Id.

54. Smith v. Spafford [N. D.] 112 NW 965.

55. Weatherington v. Smith [Neb.] 112 NW 566.

NOTE. Effect of abandonment by dependent members of family: In the recent case of Palmer v. Sawyer [Neb.] 103 NW 1088, the state of the law as exhibited by the adjudicated cases is well presented in these words: "Turning now to the decisions of the courts of last resort in other states on statutes of somewhat similar construction to our own, we find an irreconcilable conflict in the various conclusions reached. This conflict in some instances is traceable to the different provisions of the statute construed, and in other instances to the conception taken by the court of the intention of the legislature in the enactment of the statute. Those courts which look upon the statute as a statute of nurture, intended solely for the protection of the dependent members of the family from the improvidence of the head of the family, without any division, arrive at the conclusion that when the homestead has been selected, and the dependent members of the family for whose benefit it was created have ceased to occupy, the protection of the homestead ceases, because the reason for the protection has ceased. The leading cases supporting this theory of construction are Revalk v. Kraemer, 8 Cal. 66, 68 Am. Dec. 304; Bank v. Cooper, 56 Cal. 339; Johnson v. Little, 90 Ga. 781, 17 SE 294; Cooper v. Cooper, 24 Ohio St. 488; Galligar v. Payne, 34 La. Ann. 1057; Hill v. Franklin, 54 Miss. 632; Fullerton v. Sherrill, 114 Iowa, 511, 87 NW 419. In opposition to this view is another line of decisions based on the hypothesis that the intention of the legislature in enacting the various homestead statutes was to protect the home and all its inmates from any business misfortune and financial adversity that might befall them; that the protection extends to the head of the family as well as to the dependent members. This theory leads to the conclusion that when a homestead has been selected by the head of a family he becomes invested with a right or estate in such homestead, which cannot be defeated by the death or abandonment of the home by the other members of the family who occupied it at the time of its selection. The following are some of the leading cases supporting this view: Silloway v. Brown, 12 Allen [Mass.] 30; Kimbrel v. Willis, 97 Ill. 494; Stanley v. Snyder, 43 Ark. 429; Beckmann v. Meyer, 75 Mo. 333; Webb v. Cowley, 5 Lea [Tenn.] 722; Blum v. Gaines, 57 Tex. 119; Stults v. Sale, 92 Ky. 5, 17 SW 148, 36 Am. St. Rep. 575, 13 L. R. A. 743."

While this classification shows nearly an equal division among the jurisdictions from which cases are cited, such preponderance as there is favors the exemption. The Nebraska court more-over aligned itself with the majority. And the following decisions from other states may be added to the list; Pardo v. Bittorf, 48 Mich. 275, 12 NW 164; Barney v. Leeds, 51 N. H. 253; Wilkinson v. Merrill, 87 Va. 513, 12 SE 1015, 11 L. R. A. 632, overruling Calhoun v. Williams, 32 Grat. [Va.] 18, 34 Am. Rep. 759; Towne v. Rumsey, 5 Wyo. 11, 35 P 1025. See, also, Moore v. Parker, 13 S. C. 486, and In re Feas Estate, 30 Wash. 51, 70 P 270. Pierce v. Kusic, 56 Vt. 418, and Myers v. Ford, 22 Wis. 139, are sometimes cited as authorities upon this side of the question; but they have no real bearing on the matter, for they are based upon statutes under which the existence of a family is not necessary to the inception of the homestead right. On the other hand the following should be added to the leading cases supporting the minority view: Herrin v. Brown, 44 Fla. 782, 33 S 522, 103 Am. St. Rep. 182; Jones v. McCrary, 123 Ga. 282, 51 SE 349 (as being perhaps more closely in point than the Georgia case cited by the Nebraska court); Betts v. Mills, 8 Okl. 351, 58 P 957.—From Weaver v. First Nat. Bank [Kan.] 94 P 273.

56. A deed conveying land from husband to wife, made in view of their separation, to provide for her, is sufficient consideration for a release by her of homestead rights in other land of the husband. LaPlant v. Lester [Mich.] 14 Det. Leg. N. 643, 113 NW 1115.

57. Moore v. Moore, 126 Ga. 735, 55 SE 950.

§ 8. Rights of surviving spouse, children, heirs, or dependents of homestead tenant.<sup>See 8 C. L. 102</sup>—Upon the death of a husband or wife the rights of the surviving spouse and the children in the homestead is determined by statute.<sup>58</sup> A distributee is not entitled to homestead until a judgment recovered against him by the administrator for the conversion of the property is paid.<sup>59</sup> In Tennessee a husband cannot by will deprive his wife of her homestead right.<sup>60</sup> A widow's rights in her deceased husband's homestead are subject to a mortgage thereon filed prior to her marriage,<sup>61</sup> but are not affected by the husband's deed of assignment for benefit of creditors executed subsequent to the marriage in which she did not join.<sup>62</sup> Heirs to whom a homestead descends may by giving their note for their ancestor's debt with a lien on the land subject the homestead to liability therefor.<sup>63</sup> The alienation of premises occupied by a widow and children as a homestead is always subject to the right of the heirs to continue to occupy the premises as a homestead.<sup>64</sup> An attempted sale of the homestead by the widow without an order from the proper court is a nullity.<sup>65</sup>

Nature of survivor's homestead estate.<sup>See 8 C. L. 103</sup>—The nature of the survivor's homestead estate is to be determined from an interpretation of the terms of the statute.<sup>66</sup>

Loss of survivor's right.<sup>See 8 C. L. 103</sup>—A widow may lose her homestead rights

58. Alabama: Under Const. 1901, §§ 205, 208, providing that homestead of husband shall be exempt to widow, widow can assert homestead rights only in tract which was husband's homestead at his death. McGaugh v. Davis [Ala.] 43 S 745.

California: Under Code Civ. Proc. § 1474, upon death of either spouse homestead vests absolutely in survivor by operation of law, and no order of court is necessary to perfect title. Fisher v. Bartholomew [Cal. App.] 88 P 608. Title thus acquired cannot be affected by order of probate court authorizing sale of premises. Id. Such order may be attacked collaterally by a purchaser from surviving spouse. Id. Where property covered by a homestead declaration has been selected from community property of husband and wife, it vests absolutely in wife upon death of the husband, and while held by her retains its homestead character. Hibernia Sav. & Loan Soc. v. Hinz [Cal. App.] 88 P 730.

Illinois: Surviving spouse cannot bind the property by contract for a period longer than her life. Henion v. Vavrik, 126 Ill. App. 292. The surviving wife is not required to elect between the widow's award and a life estate in the homestead; she is entitled to both. Miller v. Hammond, 126 Ill. App. 267.

Kentucky: Under Ky. St. 1903, § 1707, widow and children entitled to homestead husband could claim if living, subject to conditions that attached to it before his death. Warren's Adm'r v. Warren [Ky.] 104 SW 754, 1199. If homestead is in indivisible property worth more than $1,000, whole may be sold for decedent's debts, but $1,000 of proceeds must be set apart for use of widow and children. Id.

In Missouri, where a husband dies leaving no lineal heirs, his widow is entitled to a homestead right of $1,500. Coleman v. Coleman, 122 Mo. App. 715, 99 SW 459.

In Texas upon husband's death widow entitled to possession of homestead, but children entitled to half rents and profits during their minority. Stubbs v. Pitts [Ark.] 104 SW 1110.

59. Small v. Usher [S. C.] 57 SE 623.

60. Const. art. 11 § 11; Shannon's Code, § 3798. Chamness v. Parrish [Tenn.] 103 SW 822.

61. McGill v. Hughes [Ark.] 105 SW 255.

62. Potter v. Potter's Receiver [Ky.] 101 SW 905.

63. Adams v. Bartell [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 503, 102 SW 779.

64. Oil and gas lease by widow owning undivided half interest in premises. Compton v. People's Gas Co., 75 Kan. 572, 89 P 1039.

65. And if she delivers possession under such sale, she may recover the property in a proper action. Williford v. Denby, 127 Ga. 786, 156 SE 1010.

66. Alabama: Under Code 1886, § 2543, upon the death of husband widow takes only life estate in his homestead, subject to be enlarged into fee upon ascertainment of insolvency of his estate. O'Daniel v. Gaynor [Ala.] 43 S 205. There must be a judicial ascertainment of insolvency. Id. Equity will not, on ground that personal representative has fraudulently refused to report estate as insolvent, regard as passed a decree of insolvency when in fact no such decree has been entered. Id. The heirs being necessary parties to a bill to declare estate insolvent are entitled, on that issue, to assert by demurrer bar of statute of limitations against only claim working such insolvency. Id.

Mississippi: Under Rev. Code 1871, § 1956, held that widow was entitled to child's part in fee simple in exempt homestead to which decedent held equitable title at time of his death. Warren v. Davis [Miss.] 43 S 604.

Missouri: Under Rev. St. 1899, § 3620, widow's interest in homestead is not an unqualified life tenancy. If she marries her tenancy ceases. Therefore, Acts 1903, p. 167, § 1, relating to computation of present by abandonment,<sup>67</sup> but where a wife was driven from the homestead by the abuse and cruelty of her husband, she is not thereby deprived of the right to have the homestead set aside to her.<sup>68</sup>

Partition and assignment out of decedent's estate. See § C. L. 104.—To warrant the setting aside of a homestead at the widow's suit, the evidence must show that she is entitled to a homestead in the property.<sup>69</sup>

Election. See § C. L. 104.—Where a husband devises to his wife all his real estate as long as she remains a widow, she is not required to elect between such provision and her homestead right.<sup>70</sup>

Rights of divorced parties. See § C. L. 1701

Claim to reimbursement for expenditures. See § C. L. 1642

§ 9. Exemption of proceeds of homestead or of substituted properties. See § C. L. 105.—Generally the proceeds of a homestead are exempt to the same extent that the homestead was,<sup>71</sup> it usually being a condition to such exemption that they be reinvested within a reasonable time<sup>72</sup> or within a time specified.<sup>73</sup>

§ 10. Remedies and procedure by creditors. Remedies by suit or action. See § C. L. 105.—The holder of a mortgage on the homestead of a decedent cannot maintain an action thereon unless he first presents his claim as required by statute.<sup>74</sup> In an action to enforce a mechanics' lien if defendant would rely upon a homestead, he must allege it in his answer.<sup>75</sup> Where a homestead has been shown to have existed, the burden is upon the creditor to show that it has expired.<sup>76</sup> The holder of a note secured by vendor's lien and mortgage on the homestead of a bankrupt is entitled, in a suit brought by authority of the court of bankruptcy in a state court against value of life estate, does not include such interest. Coleman v. Coleman, 122 Mo. App. 715, 99 SW 459.

67. In Texas, if a widow abandons her homestead rights, such rights vest in the children (Stubbs v. Pitts [Ark.] 104 SW 1110), but until there has been a specific act of abandonment they are not entitled to her share of the rents and profits (Id.). The mere fact that widow has lost right to recover her portion of rents and profits through laches or statute of limitations does not vest right to recover them in children until they have recovered possession of homestead from adverse holder. Id. Where a widow had rented her husband's business homestead continuously since his death, its homestead character was lost. Morris v. Morris [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 639, 99 SW 872.

68. In re Murphy's Estate [Wash.] 90 P 916.

69. Evidence held to show that property acquired in the husband's name was community property, purchased for a home, in which widow was entitled to claim a homestead. In re Murphy's Estate [Wash.] 90 P 916.

70. Chamness v. Parrish [Tenn.] 103 SW 822.

71. A creditor cannot subject to payment of his judgment the proceeds of a homestead, title to which was acquired before the debt was contracted. Green v. Forney, 134 Iowa, 316, 111 NW 976. Where there is a valid transfer of a homestead from husband to wife, the proceeds thereof in her hands after his death are exempt from the claims of his creditors. Bartle v. Bartle [Wis.] 112 NW 471.

72. Collins Adm'r v. Collins, 30 Ky. L. R. 816, 99 SW 653. A judgment creditor cannot subject to payment of his claim land purchased with proceeds of sale of land which was purchased with proceeds of sale of homestead which was exempt from creditor's claim. Id.

73. In Utah the proceeds of a sale of a homestead is exempted for one year after the receipt thereof. Rev. St. 1898, § 1158. Christensen v. Beebe [Utah] 91 P 129. The mere acceptance of an oral promise to deliver certain goods is not a receipt of the proceeds of the sale within this statute, and the exemption of such goods does not expire until a year after their actual delivery. Id.

74. Under Code Civ. Proc. §§ 1475, 1500, if a mortgagee does not present his claim to executor or administrator within prescribed time he cannot maintain an action either to foreclose mortgage or to recover debt. Hibernia Sav. & Loan Soc. v. Hinz [Cal. App.] 88 P 730.

75. In an action to enforce mechanics' lien against property of married woman, answer alleging facts showing defendant to be head of family and that property is her homestead is sufficient as against a general demurrer. Volker-Scowcroft Lumber Co. v. Vance [Utah] 88 P 896.

76. In action to foreclose mortgage on property in which a deceased widow had a homestead, burden is upon plaintiff to show that homestead exemption terminated upon her death by reason of her leaving no family. Hibernia Sav. & Loan Soc. v. Hinz [Cal. App.] 88 P 730.

the trustee in bankruptcy, to foreclose his liens before the note is due, where otherwise he would lose his right to resort to the general fund for the balance of his debt.<sup>77</sup>

Remedies of creditors against excess. See 8 C. L. 105

Decrees, and judicial and execution sales. See 8 C. L. 105.—An execution sale of a tract of land, part of which is a homestead, without such homestead being platted, is void.<sup>78</sup> Where there is a mortgage upon property including a homestead, the homesteader is entitled to have the nonhomestead property first subjected.<sup>79</sup> It is under some circumstances permissible to sell the homestead and allot the amount exempt from the proceeds.<sup>80</sup> A wife is entitled to injunction to protect her homestead interest against a writ of possession or execution issued upon a judgment against her husband.<sup>81</sup>

HOMICIDE.

- § 1. Elements of Crime in General and Parties Thereto (1636).
- § 2. Murder (1637). Degrees (1639).
- § 3. Manslaughter (1640).
- § 4. Assault with Intent to Kill or do Great Bodily Harm (1643).
- § 5. Justification and Excuse (1644).
- § 6. Indictment or Information (1650).
- § 7. Evidence (1653).
- A. Presumptions and Burden of Proof (1653).

- B. Admissibility in General (1654).
- C. Dying Declarations (1666).
- D. Sufficiency (1669).
- § 8. Trial and Punishment (1672).
- A. Conduct of Trial in General (1672).
- B. Instructions (1672). Harmless Error (1686).
- C. Verdict (1686).
- D. Punishment (1687)

Matters of procedure not strictly peculiar to the crime of homicide are elsewhere treated.<sup>82</sup>

§ 1. Elements of crime in general and parties thereto. See 8 C. L. 106.—Death must have been the proximate result of the defendant's act.<sup>83</sup> Though malice is essential to some degrees of homicide,<sup>84</sup> motive is immaterial<sup>85</sup> except as evidence of malice or as tending to connect accused with the offense.<sup>86</sup> General rules regarding principals and accessories<sup>87</sup> and the liability of conspirators<sup>88</sup> apply. Each person pres-

77. Jungbecker v. Huber [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 975, 101 SW 552.

78. Lutz v. Ristine [Iowa] 112 NW 818.

79. Citizens' Sav. Bk. of Olin v. Glick, 134 Iowa, 223, 111 NW 970. Where property including a homestead is attached and a mortgagee intervenes, the fact that owner does not ask that mortgagee be required to first resort to the nonhomestead property does not warrant a decree that mortgage be first satisfied out of homestead. Id.

80. In Louisiana, when homestead exceeds $2,000 in value, it may be seized and sold under legal process, the beneficiary being entitled to that amount if a sale realizes more than the sum. Const. art. 244. Reily v. Johnston, 119 La. 119, 43 S 977. Where claims of mortgagees, whose mortgages cover all lands of a bankrupt, are submitted to bankrupt court, that court is not required to allot homestead from the land but may sell and make allotment from proceeds. In re Paramore & Ricks, 156 F 208.

81. Taylor v. Ward [Tex. Civ. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 441, 102 SW 465.

82. See Indictment and Prosecution, 8 C. L. 189.

83. If decedent dies because of negligent and improper treatment of wounds, defendant is not guilty. Sartin v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 321, 103 SW 875.

84. See post, § 2.

85. Clefford v. People, 229 Ill. 633, 82 NE

343. An instruction that absence of motive is a circumstance in favor of accused, but that he could be found guilty regardless of motive, is proper. State v. Barrington, 198 Mo. 23, 95 SW 235. Motive can never justify assault with a weapon. Griffin v. State [Ala.] 43 S 197.

86. See post, § 7B.

87. Where both parties to a crime are principals, it is not necessary to show that any independent act of either caused death. McCoy v. State [Miss.] 44 S 814. Under Ky. St. 1906, § 1128, providing that accessories before the fact are principals, a principal in the first degree may be acquitted and aiders and abettors convicted. Reed v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 1212, 100 SW 856. Where accused was charged as principal and the jury was directed to find him guilty as principal or acquit him, it was not error to refuse a peremptory charge in his favor because the proof showed him an accessory before the fact. Bast v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 967, 99 SW 978. That one was fifteen or twenty feet away from a house at the time a homicide was committed therein does not prevent his being a principal under the rule that actual presence in sense of being an eye or ear witness is unnecessary. It being sufficient that he be in the vicinity acting with actual participants. Smith v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 909, 105 SW 182.

88. A conspirator is equally guilty

ent and aiding and abetting in the commission of the offense is responsible as a principal.<sup>89</sup> Mere presence at the scene and opportunity to commit the act is not enough to connect accused with the offense.<sup>90</sup> One assaulting another for the purpose of robbery is not guilty of homicide where the person assailed, shooting in self-defense, accidentally kills a third person.<sup>91</sup>

§ 2. Murder See 8 C. L. 106 is the unlawful killing of a human being with malice aforethought, express or implied.<sup>92</sup> A specific intent to kill is not essential<sup>93</sup> since whether or not he is present at commission of homicide. Rigsby v. State [Ala.] 44 S 608. Where two persons commit a homicide pursuant to conspiracy they are principals, but if one does not know of the intent of the other to kill and did not with such knowledge aid him he is not a principal. Abbata v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 209, 102 SW 1125. Where defendants killed a prison guard while attempting to escape pursuant to conspiracy, all were guilty of murder in first degree. State v. Vaughan, 203 Mo. 663, 102 SW 644. Where accused was outside the house in which the homicide was committed at the time and was charged as principal and there was testimony that the person who did the killing might have acted on sudden impulse in which he did not participate, the jury should be charged that if they had reasonable doubt that the shooting was on sudden impulse and not result of agreement they should acquit. Smith v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 909, 105 SW 182. To render one who is not present and does not aid or assist in a murder guilty thereof by reason of a former conspiracy with the slayer, it must appear that the murder was within the contemplation of the conspiracy, or was the natural and probable outcome thereof. State v. Keleher, 74 Kan. 631, 87 P 738. A conspiracy to steal money from a barn where it was supposed to be hidden is not such a conspiracy as would naturally and probably result in the murder of the owner of the money at a place entirely remote from the barn, and under circumstances in no way connected with obtaining money from the barn. Id. In such a case, and in the absence of evidence showing any connection between the conspiracy and the murder, except that the murder was for the purpose of obtaining the money, it is error to instruct that the jury may find the absent conspirator guilty of the murder if they find the murder was the natural and probable outcome of the conspiracy. Id. Parties may conspire to commit manslaughter. Ferguson v. State [Ala.] 43 S 16. Where deceased and brother were acting together in harboring ill will against deceased, the act of one was properly regarded as the act of both. Willis v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 870, 90 SW 1100.

89. Each person present consenting to and acting in furtherance of the crime is a principal. McCoy v. State [Miss.] 44 S 814. Where one commits an assault and others are present aiding and abetting, all are principals. State v. Ostmann, 123 Mo. App. 114, 100 SW 696. In Kentucky the principal actor, aider and abettor, and accessory before the fact, are all principals in first degree. Commonwealth v. Hargis, 20 Ky. L. R. 510, 99 SW 348. One who is present, aiding and abetting and assisting in an unlawful assault, may be found guilty of murder if deceased is shot during the assault whether or not defendant fired the shot that killed deceased. State v. Crittenden, 191 Mo. 17, 89 SW 952. Where two persons are jointly indicted for murder, each may be convicted upon evidence showing that he was either the absolute perpetrator of the crime or was present aiding and abetting the other in its commission. Bradley v. State, 128 Ga. 20, 57 SE 237. Where one is present encouraging and advising the killing, the law presumes his presence, etc., "induced" the crime. Bast v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 967, 99 SW 978. Where two parties met and a fight immediately ensued and one was killed, it was immaterial who fired the fatal shot, since what would justify one would justify all, each being an aider and abettor. Watkins v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 1273, 97 SW 740. Instructions as to principals held sufficient without stating elements of a principal. Cecil v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 803, 100 SW 390. Defendant agreed to a plot with another to watch the house where the killing was to be done and to burn it after the act was committed, and carried out his part of the plot. Held, accused could be convicted of murder in the first degree. Commonwealth v. Johnson, 217 Pa. 77, 66 A 233. Persons associated with an accused in a homicide may be guilty of murder in the first degree, and accused, though acting with them, be guilty of some lesser offense or none at all. Parnell v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 331, 98 SW 269. Where one defendant does the shooting and others are present and aid and abet, all may be found guilty. Goodin v. State, 126 Ga. 560, 55 SE 503.

90. Where two defendants are jointly indicted and on the separate trial of one it appears that both had equal opportunity to commit the act of killing, if upon all the evidence there is a reasonable doubt as to which did the killing, defendant cannot be convicted unless it appears that he was present and aided and abetted while the other committed the act. State v. Cremeans [W. Va.] 57 SE 405. Mere presence and participation in the act of killing a human being is not conclusive evidence of consent and concurrence in the perpetration of the act by a defendant sought to be held responsible for the homicide as aiding and abetting the actual perpetrator unless such defendant participated in the felonious design of the person killing. Brooks v. State, 128 Ga. 261, 57 SE 483.

91. Commonwealth v. Moore, 28 Ky. L. R. 62, 88 SW 1085.

92. Instruction held erroneous for failure to require a finding that the killing was willful and unlawful. Shipp v. Com., 30 the intent will be presumed by law where death results naturally and proximately from the wrongful act,<sup>94</sup> but where there is no actual intent, and the circumstances do not raise a presumption of intent, the homicide is not murder.<sup>95</sup> The intent need not be to kill the person actually slain.<sup>96</sup> The intent of one participant in a homicide cannot be imputed to another.<sup>97</sup>

Malice may be implied from the facts and circumstances shown,<sup>98</sup> as from the fact of use of a deadly weapon.<sup>99</sup>

Ky. L. R. 904, 99 SW 945. Where in agreed mutual combat one party uses a deadly weapon without the knowledge of the other, causing death, the crime is murder. State v. Maupin, 196 Mo. 164, 93 SW 379. Means by which offense was committed held not an element of crime of murder. Gaines v. State, 146 Ala. 16, 41 S 865. Where one arms himself in anticipation of interference with his purpose of entering the house of another and with intent to kill the owner if necessary to save his own life, such formed design renders him guilty of murder. State v. Emerson [S. C.] 58 SE 974.

93. Specific intent to kill is not essential to murder in second degree. State v. Baldes, 133 Iowa, 158, 110 NW 440. Intent to kill is not essential to crime of murder. Morello v. People, 226 Ill. 388, 80 NE 903. Murder may be committed without actual intent to kill or do grievous bodily harm. Commonwealth v. Parsons [Mass.] 81 NE 291.

94. Intent to kill will be presumed from use of deadly weapon in the usual and natural way in which such weapon is used. McLeod v. State, 128 Ga. 17, 57 SE 83. Law will presume intention to produce death where accused knew of the weak condition of deceased's heart and death resulted naturally from his violent assault upon her. State v. Baldes, 133 Iowa, 158, 110 NW 440. The unlawful administering of poison with bad intent, but without specific intent to kill, constitutes malice aforethought, rendering the crime murder. State v. Thomas [Iowa] 109 NW 900. The design to take life, essential to murder in the first degree, may be shown from attending circumstances. Deliberate selection of deadly weapon, preconcerted hostile meeting, lying in wait, quarrel, threats, etc. State v. Samuels [Del.] 67 A 164.

95. Beating of a child with the hand, resulting in its death, does not raise presumption of intent to kill. People v. Dinsler, 106 NYS 495. On evidence that shooting was accidental, it should be charged that if shooting was accidental and without carelessness accused must be acquitted. Blanton v. Com. [Ky.] 103 SW 329. Evidence insufficient to show that accused, a boy of fourteen years, was conscious of fact that he was doing wrong when he fired the fatal shot. Kear v. State [Ark.] 104 SW 1097. Where one shoots another while he (the actor) is unconscious from the effects of a gunshot wound inflicted by a third person, he is guilty of no crime. Risner v. Com. [Ky.] 102 SW 825.

96. Where blow intended for one person falls upon another, liability is the same as though person intended was struck. State v. Clifford, 59 W. Va. 1, 52 SE 981. Where one shoots at another with intent to kill but hits and kills a third person, he is guilty of murder the same as if he had shot directly at the person killed. State v. Cavin, 199 Mo. 154, 97 SW 573. Killing of another than intended person does not affect liability for the crime. State v. Bell, 5 Pen. [Del.] 192, 62 A 147. Liability of defendant not affected by fact that he thought he was killing another than deceased. Thompkins v. Com., 28 Ky. L. R. 642, 90 SW 221. Murder in first degree where accused shot at and intended to kill D. and hit and killed T. State v. Mathews, 133 Iowa, 398, 109 NW 616. Where one went to the room of another with whom he had had a quarrel and deliberately shot at him but killed another, he was guilty of murder. Commonwealth v. Johnson [Pa.] 68 A 53.

97. Parnell v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 331, 98 SW 269. Instructions which authorize the jury to impute the condition of minds of defendant's associates to him without regard to whether he was principal or was acting without regard to knowledge of their evil intent are erroneous. Id. On prosecution of two persons for assault with intent to kill a peace officer, instructions as to intent held to properly protect the rights of defendants. Chaney v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 780, 98 SW 847.

98. Malice is presumed where fatal act is done deliberately or without adequate cause. State v. Bell, 5 Pen. (Del.) 192, 62 A 147. Ill will is not the only element of malice; any other unlawful cause or motive is sufficient. Driggers v. U. S. [Ind. T.] 104 SW 1166. Malice need not arise from personal ill will; it may exist wherever there is a wrongful and intentional killing without lawful excuse or mitigating circumstances. State v. Banks, 143 N. C. 652, 57 SE 174. The implied malice essential to make homicide murder in the second degree is an inference from facts proved and is implied from every cruel act committed by one person against another, however sudden the act may be. State v. Honey [Del.] 65 A 764. Law will presume malice whenever the act is done deliberately or without adequate cause. State v. Johns [Del.] 65 A 763; State v. Honey [Del.] 65 A 764. Implied malice is an inference or conclusion of law from facts found by the jury. State v. Johns [Del.] 65 A 763. Implied malice, essential to constitute murder in second degree, is an inference from facts proved, and is implied by law from every deliberate cruel act committed by one against another, however sudden the act may be. State v. Cephus [Del.] 67 A 150. Express malice includes and implies implied malice; proof of first sustains indictment involving second. Wilson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 365, 90 SW 312. Implied malice is constructive malice and is not a fact to be specifically proved. Id. "Malice" is not restricted to hatred, spite, or malevolence toward the particular person slain but also includes that general malignity and reckless disregard of human life which proceed from a heart void of a just sense of social duty and fatally bent on mischief. State v. Johns [Del.] 65 A 763; State v. Honey [Del.] 65 A 764.

Degrees.<sup>See 8 C. L. 107</sup>—In most states, though not in all,<sup>1</sup> murder is by statute divided into various degrees. To constitute the crime of murder in the first degree the elements of express malice and premeditation must exist,<sup>2</sup> or the homicide must have been committed on the perpetration of some criminal offense,<sup>3</sup> usually a felony,<sup>4</sup> punishable by death.<sup>5</sup> To constitute deliberation or premeditation it is only essential that there be a formed design to kill;<sup>6</sup> no appreciable or particular time need elapse between the formation of such design and the killing.<sup>7</sup>

99. Homicides with a deadly weapon are presumed to be malicious until the contrary appears from the evidence. State v. Johns [Del.] 65 A 763; State v. Honey [Del.] 65 A 764; State v. Cephus [Del.] 67 A 150; State v. Uzzo [Del.] 65 A 775. A deadly weapon is one likely to produce death. State v. Johns [Del.] 65 A 763; State v. Cephus [Del.] 67 A 150. Where homicide was by shooting with a pistol, it was not error to charge that pistol is a deadly weapon. McLin v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 881, 90 SW 1107.

1. There are no degrees of murder in Louisiana. State v. Hogan, 117 La. 863, 42 S 352.

2. State v. Uzzo [Del.] 65 A 775; State v. Honey [Del.] 65 A 764. If defendant went with a gun for the purpose of killing deceased and waited until he came and then shot and killed him, crime was murder in the first degree. Tribble v. State, 145 Ala. 23, 40 S 938. The elements of the crime are an intent to kill and an execution of that intent with deliberation and premeditation. State v. Lang [N. J. Law] 66 A 942. Murder in the first degree consists in the taking of a human life with intent to kill and with deliberation and premeditation. Id. Express malice aforethought is where one person kills another with a deliberate mind and formed design. State v. Johns [Del.] 65 A 763. The mere fact that a murder has been accomplished by poison does not of itself establish "malice aforethought;" this fact must be found before a verdict of murder in the first degree can be found. State v. Phinney [Idaho] 89 P 634. The fact that the charge is murder by poison does not change the rule. Id. Where there are no facts from which formation of premeditated design to kill may be found, a verdict of first degree murder cannot be sustained. Baker v. State [Fla.] 44 S 119. To constitute murder in first degree, offender's mind must be cool and sedate and there must be express malice aforethought. Dixon v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 244, 103 SW 399. Premeditation and deliberation necessary under Kirby's Dig. § 1766 to constitute murder in first degree not shown by evidence that accused shot deceased, an officer, on a dark night when he grabbed her suddenly and said "I have you at last." Howard v. State [Ark.] 100 SW 756. Deliberation warranting murder in first degree sufficiently shown where when accused saw deceased, a sheriff, coming to arrest him he went into a house and armed himself with a gun. State v. Spaugh, 200 Mo. 571, 98 SW 55. In a prosecution for the killing of an arresting officer, and the accused who killed such officer in resisting arrest interposes the defense that the warrant for the arrest was illegal, the consideration which should be given to such a defense depends upon the circumstances surrounding both the officer and the accused at the time of the homicide; and where the killing had been premeditated by the accused for some hours, and the officer was fully advised as to the crime, the same being a felony, and would have been authorized in making the arrest without a warrant, the question of the legality of the warrant under which the arrest was made is of no importance and does not excuse the willful and premeditated killing of the officer. Colle v. State, 8 Ohio C. C. (N. S.) 596.

3. Murder in first degree properly submitted when state's evidence showed that motive was robbery and evidence for defendant showed defense of a third person. Abata v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 209, 102 SW 1125. Murder in first degree is killing with express malice aforethought or in perpetrating or in attempting to perpetrate a crime punishable by death. State v. Bell, 5 Pen. (Del.) 192, 62 A 147.

4. Where convicts killed guard in accordance with previous concerted plan to break prison, they were all guilty of first degree murder, the killing being committed in perpetration of a felony. State v. Vaughan, 200 Mo. 1, 98 SW 2.

5. Murder in the first degree was where the killing was done with express malice aforethought or in perpetrating or attempting to perpetrate a crime punishable with death. State v. Johns [Del.] 65 A 763. Murder in the first degree is the killing of a human being with express malice aforethought or in perpetrating or attempting to perpetrate a crime punishable with death. State v. Samuels [Del.] 67 A 164.

6. "Deliberately" properly defined as intent to kill, executed by person not under influence of passion suddenly aroused by unlawful provocation. State v. Spaugh, 200 Mo. 571, 98 SW 55.

7. No particular time need elapse between formation of intent and killing. State v. Clifford, 59 W. Va. 1, 52 SE 981. A moment is enough. Benson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 257, 103 SW 911. A deliberate design to take life, though the conception of a moment, is sufficient deliberation to make murder in the first degree. State v. Honey [Del.] 65 A 764. There need be no appreciable space of time between the intent to kill and the killing; it is only necessary that the act of killing be preceded by a concurrence of will, deliberation, and premeditation. In such case the homicide is murder in the first degree, no matter how rapidly the act follows the formed intent. People v. Yee Foo [Cal. App.] 89 P 450. It is not necessary that deliberation and premeditation should continue for an hour or for a minute; it is enough that the design to kill be fully formed and purposely executed to constitute murder in the first degree. State v. Lang [N. J. Law] 66 A 942. Where the purpose to kill is weighed long enough to form a fixed design and subsequently, no matter how remote or soon, the design is executed, the crime is murder in the first degree. State v. Jones [N. C.] 59 SE 353.

Murder in the second degree includes that in which the element of premeditation is lacking<sup>8</sup> but where malice, express or implied, is shown to exist.<sup>9</sup> Particular statutory decisions are given in the note.<sup>10</sup>

§ 3. Manslaughter.<sup>See</sup> s C. L. 107.—As generally defined, includes all unlawful, intentional killing without malice,<sup>11</sup> and unintentional killing by culpable negli-

8. Premeditation is not an element of second degree murder. Strickland v. State [Ala.] 44 S 90. If the killing is intentional but without deliberation and premeditation, it is murder in the second degree. State v. Jones [N. C.] 59 SE 353. Homicide without a design to take life but where death results from an unlawful act of violence, and where there is no adequate provocation. State v. Honey [Del.] 65 A 764. Where the killing occurred in a saloon after quarreling and defendant going out after his pistol, if intent to kill was not formed at time of quarrel and his mind was inflamed by insulting words and cooling time had not elapsed, he was only guilty of second degree murder. Rice v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 353, 102 SW 1156. Murder in second degree is killing without a formed design to take life and without provocation to reduce the crime to manslaughter and under the influence of a wicked and depraved heart or with cruel and wicked indifference to human life. State v. Cephus [Del.] 67 A 150.

9. State v. Uzzo [Del.] 65 A 775. Malice essential in murder of both degrees. State v. Bell, 5 Pen. [Del.] 192, 62 A 147. Malice is an essential element both of murder in the first and second degree. State v. Johns [Del.] 65 A 763. Murder in the second degree is where the killing is done with implied malice. Id. An instruction on murder in second degree must include element of malice. Clark v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 199, 102 SW 1136. Instruction on second degree murder must charge that jury must find malice. Abbata v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 209, 102 SW 1125.

10. Under Florida statute, proof of intent to kill a particular individual does not preclude conviction of second degree murder. Vasquez v. State [Fla.] 44 S 739. Instruction held to fully recognize the principle that intentional homicide with deadly weapon is presumed to be murder in the second degree in absence of proof to contrary. State v. Zorn, 202 Mo. 12, 100 SW 591. Beating a cripple to death with the fist is not a killing in a "cruel and unusual manner." State v. Knoll, 72 Kan. 237, 83 P 622. Unlawful killing of one who has given the slayer no provocation other than the use of words, threats, menaces, or contemptuous gestures, cannot be graded to voluntary manslaughter under the doctrine of mutual combat.

Pen. Code, § 65. Bird v. State, 128 Ga. 253, 57 SE 320. Homicide resulting from breach of peace, committed by use of deadly weapon in heat of passion without provocation or premeditation, is murder in second degree in New Jersey. State v. Biango [N. J. Law] 68 A 125. Where two brothers fought and a knife was used and one left home and returned later for his clothes and in altercation killed the other, if the intent to kill was formed through passion without adequate cause and sufficient cooling time had not elapsed, the offense was second degree murder. Dixon v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 244, 103 SW 399. It is not necessary to murder in second degree that passion be sudden or that there be transport thereof, but merely that mind of slayer be not cool at time intent is formed. Kannmacher v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 82, 101 SW 238. A deliberate killing under the impulse of anger, jealousy, hatred, or revenge, created or incited by defendant's belief or knowledge of prior infidelity of deceased or any prior wrongdoing of deceased, is without adequate provocation, and is willful and malicious, and murder in the second degree. State v. Johns [Del.] 65 A 763. Murder of the second degree is where the killing is done without a deliberate mind or formed design to take life or to perpetrate a crime punishable by death but where the killing was without justification or excuse and without legal provocation. Id. Under Rev. Code 1852, as amended 1893, c. 226, where death of a pregnant woman results from the use of an instrument for the purpose of producing a miscarriage, the perpetrator is guilty of murder in the second degree. State v. Fleetwood [Del.] 65 A 772. Under Div. 1 of Crim. Code, § 3, where death results either from an abortion or an attempt to produce an abortion, the person responsible is guilty of murder. Clark v. People, 224 Ill. 554, 79 NE 941.

11. Manslaughter is the unlawful killing of another without malice. State v. Uzzo [Del.] 65 A 775; State v. Bell, 5 Pen. [Del.] 192, 62 A 147. Charge that accused cannot be convicted unless the fatal wound was inflicted maliciously is error. He may be convicted of manslaughter. State v. Vicknair, 118 La. 963, 43 S 635. Voluntary manslaughter is the taking of human life, not in self-defense, in sudden affray, or heat of passion, without prior malice. Shipp v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 904, 99 SW 945.

Circumstances held not such as to reduce homicide to manslaughter: Honest belief that decedent was about to inflict great bodily injury on accused without grounds for such belief will not reduce murder to manslaughter. State v. Clay, 201 Mo. 679, 100 SW 439. Where defendant called decedent a vile name and without further provocation deceased acted in a manner which caused defendant to fear death or harm, instruction as to manslaughter not justified. State v. Kelleher, 201 Mo. 614, 100 SW 470. Causing death gence or recklessness.<sup>12</sup> Thus, it is manslaughter if the killing was on sudden quarrel or mutual combat,<sup>13</sup> or in the heat of passion,<sup>14</sup> induced by legally adequate while attempting to produce an abortion is not manslaughter, under Pen. Code, § 192. Huntington v. San Francisco Super. Ct. [Cal. App.] 90 P 141. Where there is no evidence of mutual combat, neither the law of voluntary manslaughter nor of assault and battery is necessarily involved. Howard v. State [Ga. App.] 59 SE 89. Evidence that accused found his mistress and deceased together in a room, that he broke down the door, the mistress left, the body of decedent was found a few steps from the room with fatal stabs thereon, and a pistol in the hand which had been recently discharged, held not to raise issue of manslaughter. Williams v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 420, 95 SW 538.

12. Gross negligence in use of firearms resulting in death of another justifies conviction of manslaughter. Austin v. State, 145 Ala. 37, 40 S 989. To render one responsible for the fatal consequences of the malperformance or nonperformance of duty, the duty must have been a plain one which he was bound by law or contract to perform personally. People v. Smith, 105 NYS 1082. Evidence insufficient to show that physician did not use proper care in performing operation in trial of charge of homicide by negligence. Gorden v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 593, 90 SW 636. To constitute the offense of negligent homicide under Pen. Code, art. 684, and art. 686, there must be an apparent danger of causing the death of the person killed. Id. Where one person owes another a legal or contractual duty and omission of such duty results in his death, he is chargeable with manslaughter. People v. Beardsley [Mich.] 14 Det. Leg. N. 688, 113 NW 1128. Relation existing between man and his paramour does not render it his duty to care for her after she takes drugs and she dies while they are both drunk. Id. Neither a street railroad company nor any of its officers or employees, whose gross negligence in the operation of its cars or other appliances, but without actual malice, has caused the death of any person, is liable for indictment for manslaughter unless said company or its said officer or employee was, at the time of the killing, engaged in a violation of some law. In re Grand Jury, 5 Ohio N. P. (N. S.) 23.

13. It is error to fail to charge manslaughter where evidence shows that deceased and accused were quarreling and deceased cursed accused and struck him in the face, whereupon the fatal assault was made. Fuller v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 95 SW 1039. Evidence that killing was result of an effort to prevent deceased from getting a pistol from a drawer held to warrant a charge on manslaughter. Newcomb v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 95 SW 1048. Where homicide is claimed to have been in self-defense, defendant may nevertheless be convicted of manslaughter if with reasonable prudence and caution on his part the killing could have been avoided. Lucas v. State [Neb.] 111 NW 145. If upon sudden quarrel the parties fight upon the spot or presently agree and fetch weapons and fight and one is killed, it is voluntary manslaughter no matter who strikes the first blow. Sapp v. State [Ga.

App.] 58 SE 667. Homicide in mutual combat with deadly weapons on sudden quarrel is voluntary manslaughter. Giles v. State, 126 Ga. 549, 55 SE 405. On who provokes a controversy without a felonious intent, but intending merely an ordinary battery, and is compelled during the combat to take his opponent's life in order to save his own, is guilty of manslaughter. State v. Gordon, 191 Mo. 114, 89 SW 1025. Fact that defendant and deceased had been quarreling and that prior to the killing deceased had struck or was about to strike defendant with a bottle held sufficient to raise issue of manslaughter. Mitchell v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 96 SW 929.

14. It is manslaughter when one kills another because of insulting conduct towards slayer's wife, his mind being enraged beyond cool reflection. Mitchell v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 579, 96 SW 43. Sudden intentional killing with deadly weapon by one not in any way at fault, in immediate resentment of a gross provocation, is prima facie a killing in heat of blood, and hence no higher crime than voluntary manslaughter. State v. Clifford, 59 W. Va. 1, 52 SE 981. To reduce homicide to manslaughter, provocation must be so great as to produce a passion such as to render a person for the time being incapable of reason. State v. Honey [Del.] 65 A 764. The law of voluntary manslaughter, where the homicide was committed under sudden and violent passion, irresistible and justly aroused. Howard v. State [Ga. App.] 59 SE 89. Homicide without malice and under the influence of sudden passion aroused by adequate cause is manslaughter. Commonwealth v. Curcio, 216 Pa. 380, 65 A 792. To reduce murder to manslaughter it is only necessary that mind be incapable of cool reflection from some adequate cause. Kannmacher v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 82, 101 SW 238. Evidence that demonstration by decedent at time of killing might have excited passion held to justify charge on manslaughter. Clark v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 199, 102 SW 1136. Theory that killing was done in sudden heat of passion properly submitted on evidence that accused shot decedent as soon as he saw him approaching his home. Freeman v. Com. [Ky.] 103 SW 274. Where two brothers quarreled and fought and after an hour they had another altercation and one was killed, held, if intent to kill was created through passion aroused by adequate cause, the offense was manslaughter. Dixon v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 244, 103 SW 399. Where there was evidence of a difficulty between accused and deceased five minutes before the killing, which was interrupted for a short time just before the fatal difficulty, it was error to restrict the jury, in determining provocation to reduce the crime to manslaughter, to things transpiring immediately at the difficulty. Watson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 587, 95 SW 115. Voluntary manslaughter is homicide without malice, unlawfully and willfully done in sudden affray, or in heat of passion, upon provocation calculated to excite the passion beyond control. Watkins v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 1273, 97 SW 740. Refusal to charge provocation,<sup>15</sup> and before the lapse of reasonable cooling time.<sup>16</sup> The crime may be manslaughter though the fatal difficulty was provoked by accused.<sup>17</sup> Decisions on involuntary manslaughter,<sup>18</sup> and on the various degrees of manslaughter<sup>19</sup> as defined by statute, are given in the note.

on manslaughter held error where evidence showed that decedent snapped his pistol at accused at the time and accused was wrought up over assault by decedent on his friend. Casey v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 169, 97 SW 496.

15. Definition of "provocation" approved. State v. Barrington, 198 Mo. 23, 95 SW 235. The fact that deceased called defendant, a negro, "Irish" on several occasions after defendant had warned him not to do so will not reduce the killing to manslaughter. Mays v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 96 SW 329. An illegal arrest accompanied by an assault is adequate cause for provocation, such as to reduce killing to manslaughter. Earles v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 223, 94 SW 464. The provocation must have been so great as to produce such a transport of passion as to render the person for the time being incapable of cool reflection. State v. Cephus [Del.] 67 A 150. If a deadly weapon is used the provocation to reduce the crime to manslaughter must be great. Id. Slight assault does not reduce killing with a deadly weapon to manslaughter. Id. Instructions as to facts reducing crime to manslaughter, insults offered female relation, etc., held proper. Green v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 907, 105 SW 205. Where it appeared that defendant had been drinking heavily during the day and had quarrels with his wife relative to her association with others, and decedent denied having associated with her and other circumstances, held to require instruction on manslaughter. Miller v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 20 Tex. Ct. Rep. 3, 105 SW 502. Mere apprehension of danger will not lessen degree of crime. State v. Barnett, 203 Mo. 640, 102 SW 506. Where accused while calling on decedent, his mistress, was accused by her of associating with other women and she stated that she would kill him rather than see him with another woman, and advanced toward him with drawn knife threatening to kill him, whereupon he shot, charge on manslaughter was proper. Fisher v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 811, 98 SW 852. Insults offered a female relation in order to be provocation need not be communicated to accused at time of homicide, prior communication being sufficient. Instruction disapproved. Bays v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 99 SW 561. Where one commits a homicide on first meeting after he learns of insults offered to his wife, on account of passion engendered thereby the crime is manslaughter. Id. Where deceased was the paramour of accused and she refused to have anything more to do with him and said "you son of a bitch, go away from me," held insufficient to raise issue of manslaughter. Washington v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 90, 96 SW 1084. Provocation by words, threats, menaces, or contemptuous gestures are not sufficient to free person killing from guilt and crime of murder. Pryer v. State, 128 Ga. 28, 57 SE 93. Such provocation does not justify homicide or reduce murder to lower crime. Ferguson v. State, 128 Ga. 27, 57 SE 101. Fact that deceased, wife of slayer, may have been unchaste would not of itself justify homicide, nor would it, in absence of sudden heat of passion resulting from adequate cause, be sufficient to reduce homicide below crime of murder. Rogers v. State, 128 Ga. 67, 57 SE 227. It would be manslaughter to kill a man found in the house for the purpose of illicit relations with the owner's daughter, but such fact would deprive him of the right of self-defense. State v. Emerson [S. C.] 58 SE 974. Recital of ill treatment by deceased of defendant's sister held not adequate cause, defendant having met deceased since and before the killing. Willis v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 870, 90 SW 1100. Only provocation consisting of personal violence will reduce murder to manslaughter, words of reproach, insulting or contemptuous language, or gestures, are not enough. State v. Gordon, 191 Mo. 114, 89 SW 1025.

16. Whether cooling time has elapsed must be determined from the standpoint of accused in the light of facts disclosed by the evidence. The question varies in each particular case and with the temperament of the party. State v. Hazlett [N. D.] 113 NW 374. Issue of cooling time need not be submitted where difficulty consisted of continuous acts. Armstrong v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 519, 96 SW 15. Threats made by decedent a week or ten days prior to the killing is not provocation. State v. Edwards, 203 Mo. 528 102 SW 520. Not error to refuse to charge as to cooling time where evidence showed that parties clinched in a quarrel and defendant took decedent's pistol from him and began firing it and decedent ran and defendant followed him and fired six shots. Perkins v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 357, 97 SW 1047. The fact that deceased called defendant vile names will not reduce the crime to manslaughter where sufficient cooling time elapsed before the homicide. Puryear v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 721, 98 SW 258.

17. Instruction on manslaughter held erroneous as eliminating fact that accused might have provoked the difficulty. Creagh v. State [Ala.] 43 S 112. Instruction that if accused provoked the difficulty with intent to kill he would be guilty of murder was erroneous for failing to state that unless such intention existed he was guilty of manslaughter only. Casey v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 169, 97 SW 496.

18. Under Mansf. Dig. §§ 1532, 1533, 1534, there is no such crime as involuntary manslaughter. Carney v. U. S. [Ind. T.] 104 SW 606. Involuntary manslaughter is the killing of another person in the doing of some unlawful act not amounting to a felony nor likely to endanger life without intent to kill, or the killing of another in the doing of a lawful act in an unlawful manner. Westrup v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 519, 93 SW 646. Where there is evidence that homicide resulted from a blow struck deceased by accused with an instrument which would not ordinarily produce death and which accused hastily seized and struck deceased with without sufficient provocation, it is error to fail to charge on involuntary manslaughter. Joiner v. State [Ga.] 58 SE 859. Law of involuntary manslaughter held properly presented. Dorsey v. State [Ga. App.] 58 SE 477.

§ 4. Assault with intent to kill or do great bodily harm.<sup>See 8 C. L. 108</sup>—This offense is variously defined by statute, and in many jurisdictions is divided into degrees. The gist of the offense of assault with intent to kill or murder is the malicious<sup>20</sup> intent.<sup>21</sup> It is sometimes said to exist where, if death had resulted, the offense would have been murder.<sup>22</sup> Malice,<sup>23</sup> or the intent to kill,<sup>24</sup> may be implied.

19. Accused shot his wife with a pistol in an alleged insane frenzy resulting from misconduct of his wife. Held offense was not manslaughter in fourth degree as defined by St. 1898, § 4363. Duthey v. State, 131 Wis. 178, 111 NW 222. Where there is no intention or willfulness resulting from a mental status incapable of forming intent, though produced by drunkenness, the crime is manslaughter in second degree. Heninburg v. State [Ala.] 43 S 959. Manslaughter in the fourth degree is the intentional killing of a human being in the heat of passion or reasonable provocation without malice or premeditation, and under circumstances which do not excuse or justify the homicide. State v. Darling, 199 Mo. 168, 97 SW 592. Evidence held to justify a charge on this crime. Id.

20. Malice, either express or implied, is essential to assault with intent to kill. Satterwhite v. State [Ark.] 100 SW 70. To constitute assault with intent to kill, there must be assault coupled with specific intent to kill, the party being actuated by malice aforethought. Intent to inflict great bodily harm is not sufficient. Prescott v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 881, 105 SW 192. The mind must be capable of cool reflection at the time. In assault with intent to kill it is admissible to show that defendant's mind was enraged at the time beyond cool reflection by acts and breach of contract by prosecutor. Roch v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 903, 105 SW 202. Intention to take life at the time is not sufficient to constitute assault with intent to kill if it was the result of sudden passion or provocation. Satterwhite v. State [Ark.] 100 SW 70.

21. There must be a deliberate intent to kill. Howard v. State [Ga. App.] 59 SE 89. The gist of the offense is the intent with which the assault is made. Lindsey v. State [Fla.] 43 S 87. The gist of the offense of assault with intent to murder consists in the intent with which the assault is made. Barber v. State [Fla.] 42 S 86. Intent to kill is the gist of the offense of assault in the first degree, and on trial of a charge of that offense it is error to charge that a malicious and guilty intent will be presumed from the deliberate commission of an unlawful act, and that the law presumes that a person intends the ordinary consequences of any voluntary act committed by him. State v. Schaefer, 35 Mont. 217, 88 P 792. It is also error to instruct in such case that if the jury believe that defendant would be guilty of manslaughter in case death resulted he could be found guilty of assault in the first degree, since intent is not always an essential element of manslaughter, but is always essential in assault in the first degree. The gravamen of the offense of assault with intent to kill is the intent with which the assault is made. Evidence that accused shot at one person and the shot took effect on another does not show the crime. State v. Williamson, 203 Mo. 591, 102 SW 519. Under Rev. St. 1899, § 1847, in order to constitute assault with intent to kill, there must be an assault and an intent to kill, which is not shown where one committing such assault on one person without intent to kill or harm another shoots such third person. State v. Mulhall, 199 Mo. 202, 97 SW 583. To constitute assault with intent to kill it is sufficient that the weapon be raised while in striking distance and an attempt to strike made. State v. Tetrick, 199 Mo. 100, 97 SW 564. A charge that if asault was made with a rock with intent to kill defendant was guilty could not be complained of on appeal in the absence of showing as to size or character of the rock. Taft v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 97 SW 494. Assault with intent to kill being charged, intoxication is material as a defense only as to the specific intent to commit the crime charged. State v. Yates, 132 Iowa, 475, 109 NW 1005. In assault with intent to murder, where accused voluntarily sought prosecutrix, his wife, ran her down and inflicted a murderous assault because she would not live with him, the fact that prosecutrix was in habit of carrying a razor did not lessen the offense. Purdy v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 295, 97 SW 480. Circumstances held to show assault with intent to kill where defendant went to home of prosecutor and shot him as he appeared. Jones v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 874, 105 SW 349. Instruction on assault with intent to kill held erroneous for failure to include idea that shooting must have been by design and not accidental. Bell v. State [Miss.] 43 S 84. Where two persons attack one and he stabs one of them and runs away and they pursue him, and when in no danger of life or bodily harm fall upon him and stab him until separated by bystanders, they are guilty of assault with intent to kill. Canterbury v. State [Miss.] 43 S 678. Instruction on common assault not justified where evidence showed that defendant followed prosecuting witness into his house and shot him. State v. Harris, 199 Mo. 716, 98 SW 457.

22. An assault with intent to commit murder is such an assault that had death resulted the offense would have been murder. Young v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 97 SW 698. Request that if jury believed that if defendant killed decedent under circumstances shown by evidence he would not have been guilty of murder he could not be convicted of assault with intent to kill is proper. Duncan v. State, 1 Ga. App. 118, 58 SE 248. Assault with intent to kill is not committed where if person assaulted had died the offense would have been manslaughter or if committed in self-defense. Bagley v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 282, 103 SW 874.

23. Assault with intent to kill may be on implied malice. Not necessary that when

Absence of malice<sup>25</sup> aforethought,<sup>26</sup> or a specific intent to kill,<sup>27</sup> reduces the crime to lower degrees. Decisions on the crime of aggravated assault,<sup>28</sup> simple assault,<sup>29</sup> and like statutory crimes,<sup>30</sup> are given in the note.

§ 5. Justification and excuse.<sup>See 3 C. L. 108</sup>—Homicide is justifiable as committed in self-defense where defendant, without having provoked the difficulty,<sup>31</sup> or defendant entered into an agreement with another to kill a third person his mind should have been sedate and cool. Chaney v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 780, 98 SW 847.

24. Intent may be inferred from nature of instrument used, manner of its use, nature of wounds inflicted, as well as brutality and duration of the assault. Howard v. State [Ga. App.] 59 SE 89.

25. "Malice" distinguishing higher from lower grades of assault with intent to kill signifies disposition which would prompt killing or the doing of great bodily harm without cause. State v. Tetrick, 199 Mo. 100, 97 SW 564. The higher and lower grades of assault with intent to kill are distinguished by the presence or absence of malice aforethought. Id.

26. "Aforethought" means thought of beforehand for any length of time, however short. State v. Tetrick, 199 Mo. 100, 97 SW 564.

27. Pointing a loaded pistol at a person without intent to kill or harm him is common assault only. State v. Wilson [Mo. App.] 103 SW 110. Assault with a deadly weapon but without intent to kill is an aggravated assault. Young v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 97 SW 698. Instruction approved. Id.

28. The gist of the offense of aggravated assault under Rev. St. 1892, § 2403, and Gen. St. 1906, § 3230, consists in the character of the weapon used. Lindsey v. State [Fla.] 43 S 87. Use of gun to alarm and frighten another is aggravated assault if the gun is loaded, but simple assault if it is not. Hall v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 20 Tex. Ct. Rep. 171, 105 SW 816. In aggravated assault intent to kill is not essential. Lindsey v. State [Fla.] 43 S 87. Instruction that aggravated assault is one which accused was moved to commit by rage, resentment, or terror rendering his mind incapable of cool reflection is proper. Lasana v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 98 SW 855. Jury warranted in finding verdict of aggravated assault where defendant's assailant fled after the first shot and defendant fired a second. Cooper v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 94, 89 SW 1068.

29. Accidental but negligent shooting of one is simple assault. Jackson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 279, 103 SW 927. Question of simple assault should have been submitted where accused testified that he did not intend to kill and ceased shooting as soon as he knew prosecutor was not trying to harm him. Haygood v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 308, 103 SW 890.

30. Shooting an officer to prevent illegal arrest is not assault with intent to kill, but the statutory crime of shooting at another defined by Pen. Code 1895, § 113. Jenkins v. State [Ga. App.] 59 SE 435. Under information based on Rev. Penal Code, § 285, charging defendant with shooting at a person with intent to kill, he may properly be convicted of the lesser offense of shooting at a person without justification or excusable cause.

State v. Horn [S. D.] 111 NW 552. Under Rev. St. 1892, § 2403, and Gen. St. 1906, § 3230, it is not necessary that the assault be made with a deadly weapon. Lindsey v. State [Fla.] 43 S 87.

31. Where defendant was aggressor, question of self-defense is not in the case. Jacobs v. State, 146 Ala. 103, 42 S 70. Self-defense is not available to one who is at fault in bringing about a difficulty. Wright v. State [Ala.] 42 S 745. Self-defense not available where accused brought on difficulty. O'Day v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 848, 99 SW 937. No issue of self-defense shown where defendant made first assault and provoked assault. Laws v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 136, 101 SW 987. Right of self-defense forfeited where accused went to decedent for purpose of provoking difficulty and made demonstration of such purpose. Smart v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 141, 101 SW 989. An aggressor cannot assert self-defense. King v. State [Fla.] 44 S 941. Evidence sufficient to show that defendant was the aggressor. Id. Self-defense not available where accused was aggressor though perhaps decedent made motion to draw gun. Bluett v. State [Ala.] 44 S 84. Evidence that accused and deceased had engaged in a difficulty, that accused went from the place and was followed by deceased, that he procured a gun and returned and shot deceased, did not raise the issue of voluntarily engaging in mutual combat. Armstrong v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 95 SW 526. Self-defense not sustained where defendant testified that deceased had shot him three times rendering him unconscious, that on regaining consciousness he grappled with deceased, got the gun, and fired and killed her. State v. Fraga, 199 Mo. 127, 97 SW 898. On a showing that defendant provoked the difficulty and then used a deadly weapon, instruction on imperfect self-defense not justified. State v. Kelleher, 201 Mo. 614, 100 SW 470. Where defendant went to where decedent was and stated to him that he drew a gun on him last night and now was the time to shoot, and had his gun cocked and ready and decedent dodged behind his team and snapped his pistol at him twice when defendant shot him, held no issue of self-defense. Smart v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 141, 101 SW 989. One who provokes a combat in order to have a pretext for killing his adversary or doing him great bodily harm is guilty of murder in the first degree if he kills his adversary during the combat, regardless of how hard pressed he is during the combat. State v. Gordon, 191 Mo. 114, 89 SW 1025. Where in difficulty which arose over water defendant fired first shot, and deceased fired once and then retreated while defendant continued to shoot and killed deceased, defendant became the assailant and could not invoke the law of self-defense. Steele v. People [Colo.] 88 P voluntarily engaged in combat,<sup>32</sup> is assaulted in such manner that he in good faith believes,<sup>33</sup> and has reasonable ground to believe,<sup>34</sup> that he is in imminent danger<sup>35</sup>

857. Instruction that if defendant was at fault and brought on the difficulty by striking deceased's horse with his whip he could not avail himself of the defense of self-defense held proper. Rose v. State, 144 Ala. 114, 42 S 21. Charge that defendant could not create an emergency which rendered it necessary for another to defend himself and then take advantage of the effort of such other to do so held not erroneous. Pryer v. State, 128 Ga. 28, 57 SE 93. Self-defense not available where defendant was making wrongful effort to shoot decedent with good prospects of success. Black v. State [Ark.] 104 SW 1104. One is not deprived of the right of self-defense by seeking another for the purpose of provoking a difficulty if he does not do so when he meets him. Instruction disapproved. Prescott v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 115, 101 SW 215. If one provokes a difficulty with intent to kill, self-defense is not available, but if he provoked it without such intent he would be guilty of no higher offense than manslaughter. Parnell v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 331, 98 SW 269. Where assault was committed by four persons with whom prosecutor had had trouble earlier in the evening, who halted him on the street and asked him insulting questions, held sufficient to authorize submission of provoking difficulty which if found true would preclude right of self-defense. Prescott v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 115, 101 SW 215. Charge on self-defense that accused had a right to stand his ground without regard to whether he provoked the attack properly refused. Stuart v. Com. [Ky.] 105 SW 170. Instruction on provoking the difficulty is authorized where it appears that accused left the saloon where he was quarreling with decedent, procured a weapon, and came back and applied vile names to him, which decedent had just called accused. Puryear v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 721, 98 SW 258.

32. Instruction that certain acts would constitute mutual combat and preclude right of self-defense held proper. Driggers v. U. S. [Ind. T.] 104 SW 1166. Where evidence showed defendant and deceased to be on hostile terms and that defendant brought on the difficulty and expressed willingness to resort to combat, self-defense was not available. Skipper v. State, 144 Ala. 100, 42 S 43. One who participated with another in bringing on a difficulty, and was equally at fault with him, cannot kill in his defense. Woodrich v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 90 SW 882.

33. Self-defense may be asserted where accused believed and had reasonable grounds to believe that he was in danger, but if he does not believe and has reasonable grounds for such belief, it may not. White v. Com. [Ky.] 102 SW 298, 1199. Instruction on self-defense should not submit whether decedent was about to harm accused, and not submit whether accused believed he was. Cleveland v. Com. [Ky.] 101 SW 931.

34. A bare fear of danger is not enough; the circumstances must be such as to excite fears of a reasonable man. Roseboro

v. State, 127 Ga. 826, 56 SE 991. Mere fact that deceased was a violent and dangerous man would not alone justify homicide, if accused had no reason to apprehend danger at the time. Harrison v. State, 144 Ala. 20, 40 S 568. In order to justify on the ground of self-defense, the belief of necessity of killing must be such as a reasonable man would have entertained. Bleich v. People, 227 Ill. 80, 81 NE 36. One must believe as a reasonable man that he is in imminent peril. Bluett v. State [Ala.] 44 S 84. All facts and circumstances in the case should be considered in determining whether defendant had reasonable grounds to believe he was in danger of great bodily injury. Commonwealth v. Thomas [Ky.] 104 SW 326. That a person is of a nervous and timid disposition does not excuse him from the exercise of ordinary prudence and courage in resisting attack. State v. Usher [Iowa] 111 NW 811. One is justified in killing if he knew that decedent had threatened to kill him and deceased manifested an intent to execute the threats. Harris v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 20 Tex. Ct. Rep. 154, 105 SW 801. Whether defendant had reasonable ground to apprehend that deceased was about to kill him or do him great bodily harm held a question for the jury. State v. Gordon, 191 Mo. 114, 89 SW 1025. On trial for assault with intent to murder, jury in considering defense of self-defense should consider not only an actual assault on and real danger to defendant, but also a threatened assault and his apparent danger. Cooper v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 94, 89 SW 1068. Instruction on self-defense held erroneous as not requiring belief of injury at hands of deceased to have been begotten by attending circumstances fairly creating it. Nelson v. State [Ala.] 43 S 18. Under Rev. Pen. Code, § 268, a party may act on appearances of an assault being made upon her. State v. Lepine [S. D.] 113 NW 1076. Charge that defendant must have been in danger of receiving harm or death from deadly weapon is error, it being sufficient if he reasonably apprehended danger. Waller v. State [Miss.] 44 S 825. Where other elements of self-defense existed and deceased had threatened defendant to his knowledge, defendant had the right to act upon any overt act or hostile demonstration by deceased which may have led to the honest belief that defendant was in imminent peril, though such act or demonstration did not amount to a felonious assault. George v. State, 145 Ala. 41, 40 S 961. It is immaterial to the right of self-defense whether the person exercising it knows the dangerous character and disposition of his assailant. Wallace v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 97 SW 471. Instruction that accused had a right to defend himself if it seemed to him "acting as a reasonable person" that he was in danger of death or great bodily harm not error, where it is not contended that he is not a person of ordinary reason. Hoard v. State, 80 Ark. 87, 95 SW 1002. On prosecution of officer for negligent homicide, it should be charged that in act of accused in of death or great bodily harm,<sup>36</sup> and that no reasonably safe means of avoiding the handling pistol with which deceased was shot there must have been apparent danger of causing his death. Saye v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 99 SW 551. Where deceased came to defendant's hotel armed with an open knife and abused and threatened defendant, defendant had the right to request him to leave, to arm and defend himself if he apprehended and was placed in danger. Yantis v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 94 SW 1019. Evidence held to justify a charge that an assault by decedent raising in defendant's mind a reasonable apprehension or fear of pain or bloodshed justified the killing. Mitchell v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 96 SW 929. Where accused claimed self-defense and claimed that deceased had reached under a counter for a pistol, it is not necessary that there should have been a pistol there, but only that defendant believed deceased was reaching for a weapon. Puryear v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 721, 98 SW 258. It is error to charge that if a homicide is committed from excessive cowardice the defendant cannot be convicted of any higher degree of crime than manslaughter. Danford v. State [Fla.] 43 S 593. Threatening words and overt acts to carry them into effect does not justify killing in self-defense. Black v. State [Ark.] 104 SW 1104. An instruction that if accused killed decedent and at the time he did so decedent was making or about to make an attack upon him calculated to cause him to fear great bodily injury, as viewed from his standpoint he had a right to kill him, was proper as leaving whether accused took the initiative to the jury. Patterson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 552, 95 SW 129. A homicide may be justifiable though committed while accused was entirely self-possessed and capable of contemplating the consequences of his acts. Instruction disapproved. Parnell v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 331, 98 SW 269. If defendant had been assaulted by deceased with intent to rape her and she feared another assault, she had a right to arm herself and go to his room, which was in her hotel, and order him to leave, and if in so doing the pistol was accidentally discharged she would not be liable. People v. Williamson [Cal. App.] 92 P 313. In determining whether or not the pistol was discharged accidentally, the jury should consider all the facts of the case. Id.

Immaterial whether danger is real: Requested charge that if defendant acted under a bona fide belief that his life was in danger, and if under all the circumstances he had reasonable cause so to believe, it would be immaterial whether there was actual danger or not, held correct. Snyder v. State, 145 Ala. 33, 40 S 978. Apparent danger of death or great bodily harm is sufficient; need not be actual. Watkins v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 1273, 97 SW 740. Danger need not have been real or actual or then impending and about to fall; it is enough to justify homicide that defendant had reasonable cause to apprehend immediate danger. State v. Gordon, 191 Mo. 114, 89 SW 1025. If circumstances are such as to lead a reasonably prudent man to believe he is in imminent danger, it is not necessary that the danger actually existed. Allen v. State [Ala.] 42 S 1006.

35. Request on self-defense properly refused as premitting honest belief of imminent peril. Fleming v. State [Ala.] 43 S 219. Instruction on self-defense which fails to hypothesize imminent danger to life or limb is error. Creagh v. State [Ala.] 43 S 112. The doctrine of reasonable fear as a defense does not apply except where danger apprehended is urgent and pressing, or apparently so at time of killing. Tolbirt v. State, 124 Ga. 767, 53 SE 327. Prior assault by prosecutor on defendant would not justify assault with intent to kill. Roper v. U. S. [Ind. T.] 104 SW 584. Charge of self-defense should have been given without the limitation of provoking the difficulty where it appeared that, though defendants were going to house of accused to argue with him, he saw them first, drew his gun, and ordered them to hold up their hands. Crowson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 728, 100 SW 782. To justify a killing as in self-defense, danger must have reasonably appeared to exist at the very moment of firing the shot; a belief that danger was about to become imminent or would become imminent in the future is not enough. People v. Taylor [Cal. App.] 87 P 215. Self-defense not available where parties were quarreling and decedent sent for his gun and accused shot him before it was brought. Black v. State [Ark.] 104 SW 1104. Instruction that deceased would have to be near enough to accused to injure him and be doing something toward that end, and that defendant could not kill him merely because he thought he had a knife in his pocket, is proper. Green v. U. S. [Ind. T.] 104 SW 1159. Defendant held not justified in shooting decedent who had withdrawn from the difficulty though he had directed his son to get his gun. Weaver v. State [Ala.] 102 SW 713. Where evidence showed that decedent offered to fight accused but was ten feet away when he was shot and the only reason defendant shot was because he thought decedent was about to draw a gun, it was held insufficient to show that decedent assaulted accused within Pen. Code 1895, art. 677, justifying a homicide committed in repelling a violent attack. Bryant v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 812, 100 SW 371.

36. One in charge of a saloon has a right to preserve peace therein, and if in so doing he is assaulted he has a right to self-defense, but may not kill unless in danger of death or great bodily harm. Kannmacher v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 82, 101 SW 238. If killing is not necessary to protect defendant or members of his party from death or bodily injury, self-defense is not available. Watkins v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 1273, 97 SW 740. Instruction that an officer and a creditor of a decedent had a right to levy execution on property of decedent and to arm themselves for that purpose, and if their persons were put in danger by decedent they had a right to slay him, stated the law. Martin v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 63, 95 SW 501.

same is open to him except the killing of his assailant.<sup>37</sup> As to the duty to retreat from a felonious assault, the courts are not agreed.<sup>38</sup> Some hold that a person assailed must retreat, unless upon his own premises,<sup>39</sup> if he can safely do so;<sup>40</sup> others hold that one upon whom a felonious assault is made may stand his ground<sup>41</sup> and use such force as is necessary to defend himself. Under the same limitations<sup>42</sup> the right extends to the defense of others,<sup>43</sup> and to the defense of one's habitation,<sup>44</sup> or

37. A person assaulted may not kill unless there is no other available means to escape death or great bodily harm. State v. Cephus [Del.] 67 A 150. Testimony that accused on returning to room of his mistress was not aware that deceased was in the room until he felt some one grab him, a scuffle ensued, decedent fired, and accused stabbed him, held not to raise issue of manslaughter but of self-defense. Williams v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 420, 95 SW 538. Killing in self-defense is justified only when it is necessary to preserve life or prevent great bodily injury to person attacked after he has tried all possible means to avoid danger. Black v. State [Ark.] 104 SW 1104. Accused would not be justified in taking the lives of one or all of several persons who conspired to kill him unless he knew of or had reasonable ground to believe in the existence of the conspiracy, or unless all were present, or unless the death of all or one was necessary to protect himself. Hisler v. State [Fla.] 42 S 692. In order to justify on the ground of self-defense, accused must have retreated if practicable, and have done everything in his power consistent with his safety to avert necessity of slaying deceased. State v. Fraga, 199 Mo. 127, 97 SW 898. Law of self-defense stated in case where defendant and codefendant were executing a warrant for arrest of deceased on latter's premises when homicide was committed. Neeley v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 408, 93 SW 596.

38. See note in 5 C. L. 1707.

39. One assaulted on his own premises with a deadly weapon by one whom he had warned not to come there is not under duty to retreat. State v. Rutledge [Iowa] 113 NW 461.

40. Instruction as to duty to retreat approved. Bluett v. State [Ala.] 44 S 84. It is one's duty to retreat where he can do so without adding to his peril. Id. Instruction on self-defense properly refused as ignoring duty to retreat. Fleming v. State [Ala.] 43 S 219. Correct rules as to duty to retreat. Danford v. State [Fla.] 43 S 593. There is a duty to retreat and escape threatened danger if possible. People v. Mallon, 116 App. Div. 425, 101 NYS 814. Instruction that a man is not allowed to kill another if by retreating he can get out of danger approved. State v. Rowell, 75 S. C. 494, 56 SE 23. It is the duty of a person attacked to retreat if possible, even though in fear of death; self-defense is available only where there is no other means of escape except by killing assailant. State v. Honey [Del.] 65 A 764. Where ill feeling existed between the parties and defendant knew complaining witness had threatened to kill him, and he went across his farm armed, held to warrant a charge as to defendant's duty to avoid conflict and his duty to retreat. State v. Remington [Or.] 91 P 473. Where deceased only threatened to kill defendant if he did not leave and defendant could safely have driven away and thereby avoided the killing, it was his duty to do so. Stuart v. Com. [Ky.] 105 SW 170.

41. One who has the right of self-defense because of apparent danger is not bound to retreat but may stand his ground, though an assault has not been made on him. Cooper v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 94, 89 SW 1068. Where one approaches another and asks him why he is talking about him and while talking to him such other assaults him, he has a right to defend himself without retreating. Hix v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 156, 102 SW 405. One may voluntarily resist an unprovoked and unsought for assault without forfeiting right to rely on self-defense. State v. Gordon, 191 Mo. 114, 89 SW 1025. Defendant has this right, notwithstanding insulting language used by him toward deceased, who assaulted defendant. Id. Prosecutor being at a woman's house, under arrangement with the woman, when assaulted, he was under no duty to retreat, but could lawfully repel an attack upon him. Jacobs v. State, 146 Ala. 103, 42 S 70.

42. One present while constable was making an arrest but who did not go to his aid until he considered that the officer was in danger did not become a trespasser until ordered off by the owner. State v. Williams, 76 S. C. 135, 56 SE 783. Where defendant killed decedent while he was threatening to assault decedent's father, an instruction as to necessity of retreating should have been applied to the father as well as to defendant. Dobbs v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 64, 100 SW 946. Defense of a third person is no defense where third person was aggressor in difficulty with deceased, or fought willingly, so that he would not have been justified in killing deceased. Adams v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 15 Tex. Ct. Rep. 685, 93 SW 116. Instruction making defendant's acquittal depend on his own belief as to whether his father was in danger of being killed by decedent, without regard to any fault or carelessness in reaching such conclusion or absence of reasonable grounds therefor, properly refused. Mabry v. State, 80 Ark. 345, 97 SW 285. A son killing in defense of his father cannot claim justification unless both he and the father were free from fault. Morris v. State [Ala.] 39 S 608.

43. One is justified in killing in defense of the life of his brother. McIntosh v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 1100, 96 SW 917. One has the same right to defend the life of his child as the child has. Parnell v. State, [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 331, 93 SW the habitation of another.<sup>45</sup> The right of self-defense is limited to the exercise of such force as is necessary to repel the assault.<sup>46</sup> The rule that one who is the aggressor or who provokes a difficulty cannot invoke the theory of self-defense<sup>47</sup> is not applicable unless accused committed some act calculated to provoke a difficulty.<sup>48</sup> A mere breach of decorum, or use of insulting or opprobrious language, is not enough.<sup>49</sup> One who has provoked an assault, or voluntarily engaged in combat, regains the right of self-defense if he abandons the combat in good faith.<sup>50</sup> A homicide is not justified by threats alone,<sup>51</sup> there must also be an apparent intent to execute them.<sup>52</sup> In Texas one is justified in killing a person found in the act of adul-

269. Where one interfered in a difficulty between his son and deceased without knowing who provoked it, he has a perfect right to self-defense. Id. One who believes with reason that another is in imminent danger of death or great bodily injury has the same right to defend him as such other would have to defend himself. State v. Hennessy [Nev.] 90 P 221. One fearing that a relative would be injured is entitled to be present and defend him. Bice v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 61, 100 SW 949. Where one interfered in a quarrel to protect his relative, held error to refuse to charge as to right of self-defense. Id.

44. One has a right to repel invasion of his property to the extent of shooting. Roch v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 903, 105 SW 202. One who has been dispossessed of property by legal writ has no right to retake possession, and if he does such possession confers no property rights which he is entitled to defend to the extent of taking life. Smith v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 909, 105 SW 182. In such case erroneous advice of counsel is no justification. Id.

45. Instruction as to the right of accused to slay decedent in defense of the habitation of his employer held sufficiently favorable to accused. Patterson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 552, 95 SW 129. Under Pen. Code 1895, art. 677, it is proper to charge that accused had a right to kill deceased if necessary to repel an attack made by him on the habitation of the employer of accused. Id. Where it appeared that decedent kicked at the door of accused's employer and demanded admittance after the employer had requested him to leave, and accused pushed him to the ground and shot him, whether he was authorized to do so in defense of his employer's habitation was for the jury. Id.

46. No more force then is necessary can be used in repelling an assault. State v. Cephus [Del.] 67 A 150. Slight assault will not excuse killing with deadly weapon or reduce crime to manslaughter. State v. Bell, 5 Pen. [Del.] 192, 62 A 147. No looks, gestures, or language, however insulting or offensive, will excuse a slight assault. Id. One upon whom a simple assault is made may not stand his ground and take his assailant's life to prevent the assault. State v. Waldrop, 73 S. C. 60, 52 SE 793. Instruction on theory of self-defense that no greater force than was necessary could be used held proper where there was evidence of a struggle and that deceased was stronger than accused. Newcomb v. State [Tex. Cr.

App.] 95 SW 1048. Under statutes making it a felony to destroy a fence and justifying homicide in defense of property against one intending to commit a felony, mere placing of hand on a fence post to pull it down to make a gap does not justify killing. Driggers v. U. S. [Ind. T.] 104 SW 1166.

47. See cases cited above.

48. The fact that one who committed an assault as means of defense sought the person assaulted for the purpose of provoking the difficulty does not preclude assertion of self-defense unless some act was committed in furtherance of such purpose calculated to bring on the difficulty. Sanders v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 375, 97 SW 1046.

49. Accused may rely on self-defense theory though there is evidence that he used opprobrious language to deceased or was guilty of a breach of decorum which caused the attack on him. State v. Rowell, 75 S. C. 494, 56 SE 23.

50. One who entered into a combat without felonious design, and tries in good faith to withdraw, but is pursued by his opponent whom he necessarily kills to save his own life, is justified in so doing. State v. Gordon, 191 Mo. 114, 89 SW 1025. Where defendant entered on the premises of deceased with a gun and used threatening language which would put a reasonable man in the same situation in fear of death, deceased's act in going toward his house and calling for a gun did not justify defendant in killing him, unless defendant in good faith abandoned the quarrel and did everything he could consistent with safety to avoid killing deceased. Velvin v. State, 77 Ark. 97, 90 SW 851. Instruction depriving defendant of his plea of self-defense if before deceased assailed him he attacked deceased, without regard to whether such attack was justified, is error. West v. State [Fla.] 43 S 445. Where accused first provoked a difficulty but abandoned it and decedent renewed it and made a demonstration as if to get a weapon, self-defense is available. Purycar v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 721, 98 SW 258.

51. Threats alone will not justify homicide. Gregory v. State [Ala.] 42 S 829. Threat to attack habitation is not threat against life within law of self-defense. State v. Waldrop, 73 S. C. 60, 52 SE 793.

52. Under Pen. Code 1895, art. 713, providing that threats made may be shown but are not justification unless decedent at the time manifested an intent to execute them, where accused knowing of threats armed himself and approached decedent to discuss the matter, but it was necessary to tery with one's wife, or where the appearances are such as to reasonably justify a belief that the act had been or was about to be committed.<sup>53</sup> A necessary homicide to escape an illegal arrest is justified.<sup>54</sup> A mere trespass is no justification.<sup>55</sup> A violation of a Sunday law does not justify an assault.<sup>56</sup>

An officer may kill to prevent an escape,<sup>57</sup> provided the person under arrest is charged with a felony,<sup>58</sup> and may use necessary force to defend himself from attack while performing his duty.<sup>59</sup>

Voluntary drunkenness is no excuse nor defense<sup>60</sup> to a charge to sustain which kill in order to protect himself, he was justified in so doing. Mitchell v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 597, 96 SW 43. Statement by decedent "If you had let me alone I would have killed all of them," made with reference to a group of persons of which accused was one, held a threat as to him. McKinney v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 545, 96 SW 48. The law of threats should not be charged when threats were made only during the difficulty. Armstrong v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 519, 96 SW 15. Where state proved that defendant had threatened to kill deceased, he should be allowed to prove that he had no such intent when threats were made. Pratt v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 599, 96 SW 8. On evidence that deceased had made threats against accused, and subsequently had cursed him and struck him in the face, whereupon the fatal assault was made, accused was entitled to a charge on self-defense distinct from a charge on self-defense in connection with threats. Fuller v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 95 SW 1039. Evidence that decedent had stated to accused that he had laid out two other men and would do the same by him held sufficient to authorize a charge as to his dangerous character and defendant's knowledge thereof. Smith v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 948, 99 SW 100. Evidence that the parties had had a quarrel but had made up held insufficient to authorize a charge on threats and self-defense. Id.

53. Under Pen. Code 1895, art. 672, providing that a person shall be justified in killing another taken in the act of adultery with the slayer's wife, it is sufficient if the appearances are such as to reasonably justify a belief that deceased and the wife had committed or were about to commit the act of adultery. Gregory v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 94 SW 1041.

54. One who commits a homicide, using no more force than is necessary to escape an illegal arrest, is guilty of no offense; he is under no duty to retreat but may use necessary force to protect himself. Earles v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 223, 94 SW 464. Where defense was lawful resistance of illegal arrest, the law of self-defense is not alone applicable; the right to resist attempt to arrest illegally and not merely right to prevent a felony of his person should be charged. Jenkins v. State [Ga. App.] 59 SE 435.

55. One has no right to kill another merely to prevent a trespass arising out of an attempt to arrest without a warrant. Neeley v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 408, 93 SW 596. Rule that person may defend habitation even to taking life of person attempting to invade it held inapplicable where deceased and an officer were seeking to dispossess defendant under a writ of possession. Williams v. State, 147 Ala. 10, 41 S. 992. One conspiring to resist officers seeking to execute a writ of possession with no excessive or unnecessary display of force by shooting one of them cannot set up the plea of self-defense either for himself or his mother. Smith v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 13 Tex. Ct. Rep. 939, 89 SW 817. Where a plan to substitute others for the regularly appointed judges and clerks of a political club election was not carried out, but a difficulty arose over alleged ballot stuffing in which defendant killed deceased, the act was not justified though defendant was a clerk in charge of the roster containing names of members. Roberts v. People, 226 Ill. 296, 80 NE 776. Where killing occurred at a political club election in a difficulty over alleged ballot stuffing, the fact that defendant was a clerk in charge of a roster, and that deceased kicked the roster off the table in trying to reach the ballot box, did not constitute justification. Id.

56. Law prohibiting Sunday work held not to justify assault on a person violating it. People v. Tubbs, 147 Mich. 1, 13 Det. Leg. N. 959, 110 NW 132.

57. An officer has the right to kill if necessary to prevent escape. Stevens v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 290, 98 SW 284. Instruction held erroneous as limiting officer's right to kill on the single ground of self-defense. Id. Where United States soldier in line of his duty shooting at an escaping prisoner hits and kills another, held not manslaughter triable in state courts. United States v. Lipsett, 156 F. 65.

58. A constable who has arrested a person for misdemeanor may not kill him when he attempts to escape. Commonwealth v. Loughhead [Pa.] 67 A 747. An officer may not kill to prevent escape or attempt to arrest for a misdemeanor but may for a felony. Reed v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 1212, 100 SW 856. Where one who committed a misdemeanor was pursued by a posse and turned and fired upon them, he was guilty of a felony, and if shot to prevent his escape the killing was justified. Id.

59. Instruction as to right of officer to kill in self-defense where he went to a place to quell a disturbance held proper and sufficient. Woodward v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 128, 97 SW 499. As to provocation of the difficulty by defendant, an officer, the court in instructions should guard his rights to the extent that if his acts were in quieting a disturbance, and deceased first attacked him, he had a right to act in self-defense. Id.

60. Voluntary drunkenness is no excuse. State v. Kidwell [W. Va.] 59 SE 494. Drunk-no specific intent need be shown,<sup>61</sup> but may be considered on the degree of guilt when intent is essential.<sup>62</sup> Fixed insanity at the time of the homicide is of course a good defense.<sup>63</sup> "Transitory frenzy" is not a defense to a charge of murder.<sup>64</sup>

§ 6. Indictment or information.<sup>See 8 C. L. 109</sup>—Ordinarily an indictment need not follow the language of the statute defining the crime charged, substantial conformity to the statute being sufficient.<sup>65</sup> Each essential element of the crime must of course be charged with certainty<sup>66</sup> and must be proved as laid,<sup>67</sup> though a variance enness is not an excuse under Mansf. Dig. § 1502. Carney v. U. S. [Ind. T.] 104 SW 606. Voluntary drunkenness is no defense. State v. Woodward, 191 Mo. 617, 90 SW 90. No instruction on defense of drunkenness need be given in manslaughter case. Laws v. State [Ala.] 42 S 40.

61. Voluntary drunkenness is no defense to a charge of manslaughter, no specific intent being essential. Laws v. State, 144 Ala. 118, 42 S 40. Instructions that drunkenness would be no defense unless accused was so drunk that he could not form an intent, and that the mere fact that accused's passions were inflamed by drink would not be a defense, held not inconsistent. State v. Yates, 132 Iowa, 475, 109 NW 1005.

62. Where killing by defendant is admitted and intoxication is set up as a defense, the only issue is the degree of guilt, which depends upon the degree of intoxication. Commonwealth v. Eyler, 217 Pa. 512, 66 A 746. Pen. Code, § 22, provides that an act is no less criminal because committed by an intoxicated person, but that when particular intent is an essential element the jury may consider the fact of drunkenness. People v. Hower [Cal. App.] 91 P 507. Where it appeared that defendant had been drinking heavily during the day and after the homicide could make no coherent statement, under Pen. Code 1895, art. 41, providing that temporary insanity produced by ardent spirits, his condition, is admissible on degree of murder. Miller v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 20 Tex. Ct. Rep. 3, 105 SW 502. Drunkenness at common law neither excuses nor mitigates criminal offenses not requiring a specific intent, but in a murder case, where the evidence tends to show some provocation, it may be taken into consideration, in connection with all the other facts and circumstances, to show that accused acted from heat of blood rather than from malice. State v. Hogan, 117 La. 863, 42 S 352. Voluntary intoxication is an excuse only in determining whether accused is guilty of murder in the first or second degree, as to subsequent inquiries, including self-defense, he is judged by same rules as a sober man, and if he believed he was in danger when a sober man would not have entertained such belief, such defense is not available. Atkins v. State [Tenn.] 105 SW 353.

63. Partial insanity is no defense unless accused was incapable of distinguishing between right and wrong. State v. Paulsgrove [Mo.] 101 SW 27. Insanity to be an excuse must be fixed insanity and not a mere fit of drunkenness. State v. Kidwell [W. Va.] 59 SE 494. Insanity from use of morphine and drinks to such extent that accused did not know what he was doing or that he was doing wrong is a defense.

Phillips v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 757, 98 SW 868. Where accused had been drinking heavily and had taken two morphine tablets, evidence held to entitle him to a charge under Pen. Code 1895, art. 41, relative to insanity produced by intoxication. Id. Insanity at the time of committing the offense is a defense regardless of the time when or the manner in which it was caused. Duthey v. State, 131 Wis. 178, 111 NW 222. While mere intoxication is no defense, insanity resulting from intoxication is a defense. Commonwealth v. Parsons [Mass.] 81 NE 291. Where defense was insanity, instruction that if defendant was insane at the time he should be acquitted, but if sane he should be found guilty, though he subsequently became insane, was proper. State v. Crane, 202 Mo. 54, 100 SW 422.

64. Commonwealth v. Renzo, 216 Pa. 147, 65 A 30. Shooting wife in an alleged insane frenzy resulting from her misconduct held not justifiable or excusable homicide as defined by St. 1898, §§ 4366, 4367. Duthey v. State, 131 Wis. 178, 111 NW 222.

65. An indictment for murder need not charge the offense in the language of the statute defining the crime; the use of words of equivalent meaning is sufficient. Allegation that act was done purposely, of one's deliberate and premeditated malice, with intent to kill, held equivalent to averment of premeditated design to effect death, and sufficient. Walcher v. Territory, 18 Okl. 525, 90 P 887. An information for assault with intent to kill in the language of the statute does not charge a crime unknown to the law though it uses words not in the statute which could be treated as surplusage and still leave a description of the offense. State v. Spough, 199 Mo. 147, 92 SW 901.

66. Where indictment charged that a homicide was maliciously, unlawfully, and feloniously done, it was sufficient without setting out the statute claimed to have been violated. United States v. Battle, 154 F 540. Indictment held to sufficiently charge an assault by accused upon deceased. State v. Barrington, 198 Mo. 23, 95 SW 235. An indictment charging that accused willfully and deliberately did certain acts is not fatally defective for failure to charge that they were done with design to effect death. Id. Indictment charging that defendant did feloniously, etc., strike and beat deceased on the head with a club, inflicting a mortal wound, held insufficient because failing to allege that the fatal stroke was done feloniously and of malice aforethought, and in not stating definitely that wound was given with the club. State v. Woodward, 191 Mo. 617, 90 SW 90.

Identity of deceased: Deceased is suffias to immaterial matters not constituting an essential element<sup>68</sup> is not fatal.<sup>69</sup> An indictment for a particular offense will support a conviction for any included offense,<sup>70</sup> hence evidence to sustain included offenses is admissible.<sup>71</sup> In the notes are ciently described by his proper name in indictment for murder under Rev. St. § 1048. State v. Hogan, 117 La. 863, 42 S 352. Indictment must contain true name of person killed. Bennett v. State [Ark.] 104 SW 928.

Means or cause of death or injury: General verdict of guilty may rest on allegation that means of death were unknown where there is uncertainty in evidence as to direct cause of death, though there are other counts in the indictment. Koser v. People, 224 Ill. 201, 79 NE 615. Indictment alleging in one count that death was caused by brick and in another by some hard substance, to grand jury unknown, not antagonistic. Outley v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 947, 99 SW 95. Indictment for assault to kill need not allege the specific weapon. It is sufficient to allege that it was a deadly one. Canterberry v. State [Miss.] 43 S 678. Information charging murder need not allege that killing was by means of a deadly weapon. State v. Hottman, 196 Mo. 110, 94 SW 237; State v. Myers, 198 Mo. 225, 94 SW 242. Information charging murder may charge that it was committed by the use of more than one weapon. State v. Hottman, 196 Mo. 110, 94 SW 237. Indictment charging infliction of mortal wound with "pistol" and later that they were gunshot wounds is not indefinite and uncertain, as gunshot wounds include those made by a pistol. State v. Barrington, 193 Mo. 23, 95 SW 235. Indictment alleging killing "by striking or cutting" is sufficient under Cr. Code 1896, § 4911, providing that where an offense may be committed by different means such means may be alleged in the alternative. Coleman v. State [Ala.] 44 S 184. Where a count of the indictment alleges that the means of death was unknown, it is proper to charge that if the jury believe from the evidence beyond a reasonable doubt that deceased came to her death at the hands of the defendant it matters not what means were employed by him. Parham v. State, 147 Ala. 1, 42 S 1. Where indictment for assault with a deadly weapon names the weapon as a gun, it is sufficient without alleging that the gun was loaded, as Comp. Laws 1897, § 1383, declares a gun to be a deadly weapon. Territory v. Gonzales [N. M.] 89 P 250. Indictment alleging that a blow in the face knocked deceased down with great violence on divers stones, etc., on the ground, and that by reason of the force and violence of the blow and the violent contact of deceased's head with such stones, etc., a mortal wound was given, held not objectionable as failing to allege that deceased's head came in contact with the stones and rubble. Koser v. People, 224 Ill. 201, 79 NE 615. One count alleged administration of hydrate of chloral and certain poisons to the grand jury unknown; another, that death was caused by some means, drugs, poisons, instruments, and weapons to the grand jury unknown. Proof of administration of chloroform was held admissible under either count, hence submission of only one count was not prejudicial. State v. Thomas [Iowa] 109 NW 900. Information charging assault by shooting at deceased but omitting "thereby giving him mortal wound" or other words of similar import showing connection between shooting and killing is insufficient. State v. Birks, 199 Mo. 263, 97 SW 578. Indictment charging "defendant, a certain pistol," etc., held not bad for omitting "with" before "pistol." State v. West, 202 Mo. 128, 100 SW 478. Indictment charging that accused feloniously shot deceased in a vital part, from which wounds he became senseless, and immediately thereafter feloniously pushed him into a pond where he suffocated, held not fatally defective as charging proximate cause. State v. Barrington, 193 Mo. 23, 95 SW 235. An indictment at common law need not expressly allege intent to kill. Burge v. U. S., 26 App. D. C. 524; Hamilton v. U. S., 26 App. D. C. 382. Where it is averred that deceased immediately died of the wounds inflicted, such wounds need not be averred in terms to have been "mortal." Id.

67. Fatal variance between name "Karnegay" in indictment and "Kornegay" shown by proof. Haygood v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 308, 103 SW 890. Indictment charging assault with a knife, such means of assault must be proved. Hext v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 252, 90 SW 43. To convict of aggravated assault under indictment for assault with a knife "which was then and there a deadly weapon," it must be proved that the knife was a deadly weapon. Id. Charges that death resulted from striking and beating with the fists are not sustained by proof that it resulted from a fall on stones and rubble. Koser v. People, 224 Ill. 201, 79 NE 615. Charge that homicide was by shooting decedent with a pistol is supported by proof of shooting with a shotgun. Taylor v. State [Ala.] 42 S 997.

68. Allegation that accused held pistol in left hand, and proof that he held it in the right, not a fatal variance. State v. Bell, 5 Pen. (Del.) 192, 62 A 147. Date of offense in indictment for murder is not essential. State v. Cornelius, 118 La. 146, 42 S 754.

69. Variance between allegations in indictment for murder in an attempt to produce an abortion that instrument was thrust into "body and womb" and into "private parts and womb," and proof that it was thrust into private parts and bladder, held not fatal. Clark v. People, 224 Ill. 554, 79 NE 941.

70. Indictment for assault with intent to murder in first degree embraces also second degree, assault with intent to commit voluntary manslaughter, assault and battery, and simple assault. Fuerst v. State, 115 Tenn. 357, 89 SW 955. Verdict of murder in the first or second degree or manslaughter may be rendered under an indictment for murder in the first degree. State v. Honey [Del.] 65 A 764. Indictment for abortion, charging that death resulted therefrom, includes murder in the second degree, manslaughter and assault. State v. Fleetwood [Del.] 65 A 772. Verdicts of murder in the second degree, manslaughter, or not guilty, may be rendered under an indictment for murder in the first degree. State v. Uzzo [Del.] 65 A 775. Under indictment for manslaughter, defendant cannot be convicted of the offense defined by Crimes Act 1898 (P. L. p. 806), making persons participating in a fight or assault, etc., or aiding or abetting it, guilty of a misdemeanor. State v. Scaduto [N. J. Law] 65 A 908. Where evidence authorizes crime of higher degree, it also authorizes conviction of crime found. Harbin v. State, 127 Ga. 48, 55 SE 1046. Where there is reasonable doubt as to whether one is guilty of murder or manslaughter, he should be convicted of the lesser offense. Watkins v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 1273, 97 SW 740. Instruction tending to acquittal unless offense charged is proved properly refused. Blanton v. State [Fla.] 41 S 789.

grouped decisions as to the sufficiency of indictments for murder,<sup>72</sup> manslaughter,<sup>73</sup> assault with intent to kill or murder,<sup>74</sup> assault with a deadly weapon,<sup>75</sup> and lower degrees of assault<sup>76</sup> and on joint indictments.<sup>77</sup>

71. Under indictment for murder, state may show facts which will prove the offense charged or any lower degree of the crime. Gregory v. State [Ala.] 42 S 829.

72. Indictment alleging that accused with intent to rob a train placed rails on the track and wrecked the train and fatally injured a person held not to charge murder within Code, § 4728. State v. Von Kutzleben [Iowa] 113 NW 484. Information charging killing by shooting held to charge murder in first degree. State v. Barnett, 203 Mo. 640, 102 SW 506. Information for murder in second degree by shooting with a pistol held fatally defective because failing to allege that "defendant with leaden balls shot out of the pistol did strike and penetrate the body," etc. State v. Johnson, 191 Mo. 177, 90 SW 89. Indictment held to charge murder in first degree. State v. Spivey, 191 Mo. 87, 90 SW 81. Indictment held to sufficiently charge murder in first degree. State v. Clay, 201 Mo. 679, 100 SW 439. An indictment charging murder with a pistol will not be quashed on account of the omission of a count charging carrying concealed weapons, under Cr. Code 1902, § 131. State v. Hasty, 76 S. C. 105, 56 SE 669. Indictment for murder in commission of robbery in form prescribed by White's Ann. Pen. Code, § 1254, not defective for failure to allege who was robbed or what he was robbed of. Oates v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 285, 103 SW 859. Indictment charging conspiracy to inflict punishment and bodily injury on a person, and also charging his murder, held good as an indictment for murder. State v. McCoy, 61 W. Va. 258, 57 SE 294.

73. Indictment alleging substantially that accused wrongfully and feloniously, but without design to kill, with his fists and feet assaulted, kicked, and struck decedent, thereby inflicting mortal wounds from the effects of which decedent died, held to charge manslaughter in first degree, as defined by Pen. Code, § 189. People v. Stacy, 104 NYS 615. Indictment charged that defendant was general manager of certain railroad and had charge of maintenance of tracks, operation of trains, and employment and instruction of engineers, that he omitted to prevent excessive speed at a certain curve and placed an inexperienced engineer in charge of a train and allowed it to be run at excessive speed, and that by reason of his negligence the train left the rails and was wrecked, thereby causing the death of a certain person, a passenger. Held, the indictment was sufficient to charge manslaughter in the second degree under Pen. Code, § 195, and Code Cr. Prac. § 275. People v. Smith, 105 NYS 1032.

74. Indictment held to allege sufficiently that assault was with intent to kill and commit a felony. Barber v. State [Fla.] 42 S 86. Indictment for assault with intent to kill held not bad for duplicity. Greenwell v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 1282, 100 SW 852. Under Rev. St. 1899, § 1847, where assault is with pistol or knife, indictment need not allege weapon to be a deadly one. State v. Williams, 191 Mo. 205, 90 SW 448. Two counts held to each sufficiently charge assault with intent to kill. Id. Information charging accused with assault with intent to kill held sufficient. State v. Harris, 199 Mo. 716, 98 SW 457. Indictment for assault to kill following language of statute held sufficient. State v. Wilson [Mo. App.] 103 SW 110. Under Ann. St. 1906, p. 1278, indictment for assault with intent to kill need not charge that assault was committed with malice aforethought. State v. Ostmann, 123 Mo. App. 114, 100 SW 696. Indictment for assault to kill need not allege that pistol was pointed at a vital part of body within shooting distance. State v. Wilson [Mo. App.] 103 SW 110. Indictment for assault with intent to murder alleging that assault was made with malice aforethought, with intent to kill, held sufficient. Jackson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 90 SW 34.

75. Indictment charging assault with a deadly weapon held to charge elements of crime with sufficient definiteness. Territory v. Gonzales [N. M.] 89 P 250. Indictment need not allege that assault with deadly weapon was "feloniously" made under Comp. Laws 1897, § 1379. Id. An information for shooting and stabbing another, the offense defined by Rev. St. 1899, § 1847, need not allege that the "assault" was feloniously committed. State v. Bond, 191 Mo. 555, 90 SW 830.

76. Indictment charging that defendant "did willfully, unlawfully, wrongfully, intentionally, and feloniously assault one J. S. by throwing said J. S. from a moving street car" with intent to inflict grievous bodily harm upon said J. S. held to charge assault in the third degree as defined by Pen. Code, § 401, subd. 3. State v. Tracy, 35 Mont. 552, 90 P 791.

77. Principals in the first and second degree in the crime of murder are punished alike, and no distinction between them need be made in the indictment. Bradley v. State, 128 Ga. 20, 57 SE 237. Under Cr. Code

§ 7. Evidence. A. Presumptions and burden of proof. See 8 C. L. 110.—The burden is upon the state to prove beyond a reasonable doubt<sup>78</sup> every essential element of the crime,<sup>79</sup> and the presumption of innocence continues until such proof has been adduced.<sup>80</sup> The burden is upon accused to prove that the homicide was justi-

Prac. §§ 122, 126, under an indictment charging that a certain person in connection with others conspired to and killed decedent, held such person could be convicted on proof that he was principal actor, aider and abettor, or accessory before the fact. Commonwealth v. Hargis, 30 Ky. L. R. 510, 99 SW 348. Where one is indicted jointly with others for murder and it appears the actual homicide was by another defendant, the one on trial cannot under the joint indictment for murder be convicted of an assault with intent to commit murder. Smith v. State, 127 Ga. 262, 56 SE 360. Hence error to so charge the jury as to authorize a conviction for assault independently of participation in design which resulted in death of deceased. Id.

78. Instruction failing to predicate a finding to be made from the evidence beyond a reasonable doubt held erroneous Frazier v. State, 117 Tenn. 450, 100 SW 94. If evidence as to right of self-defense raises reasonable doubt, defendant is entitled to acquittal. Instruction that if jury found defendant's contention true they should acquit is error. Id. Instruction authorizing conviction if the jury believe the evidence true or that it showed or tended to show defendant's guilt was error as requiring too low a degree of proof. Oates v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 285, 103 SW 859. Not fair to refuse to charge that defendant could not be convicted unless the evidence against him excluded to a moral certainty every supposition except of guilt. Young v. State [Ala.] 43 S 100. Should be charged that hypothesis of guilt should flow naturally from facts proved and be consistent with them. Brown v. State [Ala.] 43 S 194. Error to refuse to charge that if the jury have reasonable doubt of guilt arising from any part of evidence they must acquit. Griffin v. State [Ala.] 43 S 197. The accused has not the burden to prove that the crime was manslaughter or was committed in self-defense before he could be acquitted of murder in second degree. Instruction disapproved. Green v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 781, 98 SW 1059.

What is a reasonable doubt: Must not be vague, speculative, or fanciful. State v. Cephus [Del.] 67 A 150. Doubt must be a reasonable one. Davis v. State [Ala.] 44 S 561. Reasonable doubt is actual and substantial doubt, not mere possibility or speculation. Bluett v. State [Ala.] 44 S 84. Instruction approved. Id. A well founded doubt is the same as a reasonable doubt. Creagh v. State [Ala.] 43 S 112. Definition of reasonable doubt held correct. Dempsey v. State [Ark.] 102 SW 704. Definition of reasonable doubt approved. State v. Spaugh, 200 Mo. 571, 98 SW 55. A reasonable doubt is more than a mere possibility of innocence. Territory v. Price [N. M.] 91 P 733. The crime is established beyond a reasonable doubt if the truth of the facts is shown to a reasonable and moral certainty. State v.

Samuels [Del.] 67 A 164. Charge as to consistency and degree of circumstantial evidence required, though not as full as usually given, held sufficient. Porch v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 463, 99 SW 102. Instruction requiring reasonable doubt to be "substantial and well founded doubt" is erroneous. Frazier v. State, 117 Tenn. 430, 100 SW 94. Facts and circumstances of circumstantial evidence should be consistent with each other and with the guilt of accused, and inconsistent with any theory of his innocence, and sufficient to produce moral conviction on an unprejudiced mind. State v. Francis, 199 Mo. 671, 98 SW 11. Circumstantial evidence to warrant conviction must be of such force as to produce conviction in the minds of the jury beyond reasonable doubt, consistent with each other, and inconsistent with any other rational conclusion. State v. Samuels [Del.] 67 A 164.

79. The state must prove every material element of the crime beyond a reasonable doubt. State v. Cephus [Del.] 67 A 150; State v. Samuels [Del.] 67 A 164. The burden is on the state to show defendant's guilt, and an instruction requiring him to establish defense of self-defense or manslaughter is erroneous. Casey v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 351, 102 SW 725. It must be shown that decedent died before the indictment was returned. Percer v. State [Tenn.] 103 SW 780. Instruction which fails to require that every element of the crime be established beyond a reasonable doubt is error. Frazier v. State, 117 Tenn. 430, 100 SW 94. The defense of accidental killing is not such a one that defendant is required to substantiate the same. It is, rather, denial of criminal intent which the state must prove beyond reasonable doubt. State v. Hazlett [N. D.] 113 NW 374. Intent to kill must be proved and is a question of fact. Duncan v. State, 1 Ga. App. 118, 58 SE 248. Instruction disapproved. Id. State has burden to prove that defendant was at fault in bringing on difficulty where circumstances justify belief that he was in danger of life or bodily harm. Bluett v. State [Ala.] 44 S 84. Where indictment was for murder of Mooney Thomas and proof showed that he also was known as Monte Thomas, question of identity held for jury. Bennett v. State [Ark.] 104 SW 928.

80. The presumption of innocence remains until guilt is proved. State v. Samuels [Del.] 67 A 164. The presumption of innocence in doubtful cases is sufficient to turn the scales in favor of the accused. Id. The presumption of innocence entitles an accused to be acquitted unless guilt is provable beyond a reasonable doubt. Watkins v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 1273, 97 SW 740. Error to charge that presumption of innocence continues throughout the trial, as it ceases when guilt is proved beyond reasonable doubt. Strickland v. State [Ala.] 44 S 90.

fiable<sup>81</sup> or to prove any other defense,<sup>82</sup> but a preponderance of the evidence is sufficient<sup>83</sup> and the defendant is entitled to the benefit of all the evidence, however shown.<sup>84</sup> Some courts, however, hold that the burden is upon the state to show that defendant did not act in self-defense.<sup>85</sup> Express malice need not be proved<sup>86</sup> as malice will be presumed from the fact of killing, unexplained,<sup>87</sup> or from the use of a deadly weapon,<sup>88</sup> or other facts tending to show it. But no presumption of malice arises from mere proof of killing where the circumstances are fully shown by eye witnesses.<sup>89</sup>

(§ 7) B. Admissibility in general.<sup>See 8 C. L. 111</sup>—In general, evidence having a tendency to prove or disprove any material fact in issue, is relevant and admissible,<sup>90</sup> though evidence slightly relevant may, in the discretion of the court, be ex-

81. State v. Honey [Del.] 65 A 764. One who sets up self-defense must prove the elements thereof unless evidence which proves homicide also shows justification. Bluett v. State [Ala.] 44 S 84. The accused has the burden to prove self-defense. State v. Cephus [Del.] 67 A 150. Under Pen. Code, § 1105, the burden of proving mitigation or justification is on defendant unless the evidence of the state shows such facts, and this rule extends to self-defense and to where it is claimed the killing was accidental. People v. Grill [Cal.] 91 P 515. Until defendant has shown that he was in imminent peril and could not have retreated, burden is not upon the state to show that he was not free from fault in bringing on difficulty. Wright v. State [Ala.] 42 S 745. Burden is not on the state to show that defendant was at fault in bringing on the difficulty unless it appears that defendant was in imminent peril. Allen v. State [Ala.] 42 S 1006.

82. Drunkenness being set up as a defense, defendant has burden of proving it by a fair preponderance of evidence. State v. Yates, 132 Iowa, 475, 109 NW 1005. Burden is on defendant to prove an alleged alibi. Parham v. State, 147 Ala. 1, 42 S 1.

83. Reversible error to instruct that burden was upon defendant "to convince you beyond a reasonable doubt that the killing of the deceased was purely accidental before he should be acquitted upon that ground." Commonwealth v. Deltrick [Pa.] 66 A 1007. Under Rev. Codes 1905, § 10023, where commission of a homicide has been established by the state, the burden is on defendant to prove circumstances of mitigation, excuse, or justification unless the state's proof tends to show manslaughter or that defendant's acts were justifiable. But this does not mean that he must raise more than a reasonable doubt. State v. Hazlett [N. D.] 113 NW 374.

84. Burden of proving homicide was justifiable rests upon accused, though he is entitled to benefit of state's evidence tending to show such justification. State v. Moss [S. C.] 57 SE 1098. Defendant to establish self-defense need not prove that he in good faith tried to avoid further trouble before the assault was made on him, where it was conceded that deceased was the aggressor. Filippo v. People, 224 Ill. 212, 79 NE 609.

85. In prosecution for assault with intent to kill, the burden is on the state to prove that the assault was not in self-defense. State v. Yates, 132 Iowa, 475, 109 NW 1005.

86. Express malice or motive need not be proved. State v. McDowell [N. C.] 59 SE 690.

87. Malice is presumed from the fact of unexplained voluntary homicide. Robinson v. State [Ga.] 58 SE 842. This rule should not be charged where it appears that decedent was shot to prevent commission of a felony. Id. In assault with intent to kill a presumption of malice is raised from the unexplained attempt to take life. Taylor v. State [Ark.] 102 SW 367. Failure to require a finding of malice is not prejudicial where such presumption is not rebutted. Id.

88. Error to fail to charge, Pen. Code, art. 676, that intent to inflict injury is presumed when deadly weapons are used where it appears that homicide was committed by shooting. Yardley v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 759, 100 SW 399.

89. Lucas v. State [Neb.] 111 NW 145.

90. That witness stated a bullet hole was of a certain size did not exclude testimony that it was size of his little finger. Moss v. State [Ala.] 44 S 598. Homicide having occurred while deceased and an officer were attempting to execute a writ of possession, the writ was admissible without direct proof that the premises described were those from which they sought to eject the defendant. Williams v. State, 147 Ala. 10, 41 S 992. Where cause of homicide was alleged intimacy between decedent and defendant's wife, and wife was not a witness, her good character could not be proved by the state, her reputation not being in issue. Shipp v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 904, 99 SW 945. On trial of policeman for manslaughter, he could show that shortly before killing deceased was in front of police headquarters with bottle in his hand. Commonwealth v. Thomas [Ky.] 104 SW 326. Certain evidence held admissible as corroborating a witness. Bull v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 949, 96 SW 817. In prosecution of officer for manslaughter, it was not error to require accused to testify that at the time he had his own pistol as well as one taken from deceased. Stacy v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 1242, 97 SW 39. On prosecution for murder of an officer, evidence held admissible to show that deceased had reasonable cause to believe that a felony had been committed, authorizing him to arrest without a warrant. State v. Spaugb, 200 Mo. 571, 98 SW 55. Proper to show that defendant had materials with which he could have pro-

cluded on the ground of remoteness.<sup>91</sup> Evidence not relevant to any issue.<sup>92</sup> or duced effects on his clothing which he claimed were caused by shots fired by him. Territory v. Price [N. M.] 91 P 733. Evidence as to whether there were shows in progress at time is admissible to show date of killing and fix incidental circumstances. Nelson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 140, 101 SW 1012. A witness may state that he is a justice of the peace. Hickey v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 142, 102 SW 417. Certain evidence regarding stick with which defendant claimed deceased had struck him held admissible. Wilson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 365, 90 SW 312. Evidence that during the past few years defendant's physical condition had degenerated, mind become weak, and that he would do things under excitement which he could not thereafter recall, is admissible. Pratt v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 599, 96 SW 8. In assault with intent to kill where accused claimed that a difficulty arose because prosecuting witness abused his father in regard to a note which accused was trying to collect from prosecutor, evidence that the note had been paid at the time was admissible, though theory of state did not involve the note. Brundige v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 95 SW 527. Evidence that companion of accused purchased a pistol after an altercation with deceased held admissible. McKinney v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 545, 96 SW 48. Acts of the father in procuring arms and ammunition after son had joined him on the premises admissible. Smith v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 13 Tex. Ct. Rep. 939, 89 SW 817. Testimony as to the barricading of doors and windows with sacks of wheat. Id. It was competent to introduce in evidence the judicial proceedings upon which the writ of possession was based, although defendant was not a party to those proceedings. Id. In trial on murder charge, evidence that defendant made an assault on witness while latter was going for officers to arrest defendant was admissible. Scott v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 407, 93 SW 740. It is competent to show that inquest proceedings were reduced to writing and that certain persons testified therein. Newcomb v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 95 SW 1048. Where state's theory was that accused killed deceased because of a dispute over payment of a bill, it is competent to show that the bill had been paid. Id. Testimony that decedent did not own nor have in his possession a pistol at the time of the murder not objectionable as an opinion. Wagner v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 717, 98 SW 255. Nor is testimony that decedent went to the place where the crime took place to attend his mule. Id. Where a witness detailed the situation of the parties, his statement "all he had to do was to walk up and stab her like he did" was not a conclusion. Armstrong v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 812, 98 SW 844. A physician may testify that in his opinion wounds were made by blunt instrument. Ozark v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 69, 100 SW 937. Evidence of extent of bleeding of decedent after shooting held admissible as relevant to seriousness of wound. Owen v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 974, 105 SW 513.

91. Testimony that decedent had been seen with a pistol two years before properly excluded. Pate v. State [Ala.] 43 S 543. Where there was evidence to explain decedent's position when shot, proof that witness had had a similar experience, necessitating the taking of such position, a month before, was properly excluded. People v. Wright [Cal. App.] 89 P 364. On trial for murder of a father in the room of his daughter, evidence of estrangement between father and daughter occurring 10 years prior is too remote. State v. Emerson [S. C.] 58 SE 974.

92. It is immaterial that two other persons are in jail charged with same offense. Strickland v. State [Ala.] 44 S 90. Evidence as to acts of decedent a week before the homicide relative to money matters held inadmissible. Andrews v. State [Ala.] 44 S 696. Testimony for defendant that another told witness immediately after the killing that he did not know who killed decedent and that decedent's husband had attempted to kill her held inadmissible. Id. Evidence as to assault on decedent by her husband, not defendant, held inadmissible. Id. Evidence that deceased said to third person "you ought to stand up for your rights, people put you out a whole lot," is immaterial, not shedding any light on circumstances of killing. Bell v. State [Ark.] 104 SW 1108. Whether witness arrested a certain negro held immaterial. Strickland v. State [Ala.] 44 S 90. Testimony of undertaker that he found old bullet holes in bones of deceased where he had been shot before not admissible. Brown v. State [Ala.] 43 S 194. Evidence of instructions given at the inquest is immaterial. Parham v. State, 147 Ala. 57, 42 S 1. Evidence as to how accused became intoxicated is not admissible where drunkenness is asserted merely to reduce the degree of the crime. Heninburg v. State [Ala.] 43 S 959. Where decedent had stated that he expected "to die with his boots on," but such statement was in no way connected with defendant and he did not know of it, it was properly excluded. People v. Quimby [Cal. App.] 92 P 493. Evidence that deceased, accused's daughter, was a virgin at time of death, inadmissible where no attack on character of deceased as to chastity had been made. Bullard v. State, 127 Ga. 289, 56 SE 429. How long accused would probably live held inadmissible, there being evidence as to his physical and mental condition at time of homicide. Id. Widow of decedent may not testify as to number and ages of children. State v. Rutledge [Iowa] 113 NW 461. Theory of defense was that deceased committed suicide, being despondent over his relations with a girl, and defendant testified that he sang a song which he (decedent) declared did him more good than all the whisky he could drink. Held proof of the words of the song was properly excluded. State v. Nowells [Iowa] 109 NW 1016. Where killing was done during political club election, proof of how defendant came to be made a clerk, and of the fact that persons who came to vote were nearly all unknown to witness which is incompetent, as hearsay<sup>93</sup> and self-serving acts or declarations,<sup>94</sup> should be and were not members or residents of the district, held immaterial. Roberts v. People, 226 Ill. 296, 80 NE 776. Evidence that deceased was married and had five children inadmissible. Filippo v. People, 224 Ill. 212, 79 NE 609. Where evidence in prosecution for murder committed during a political club election failed to show an alleged conspiracy to oust regular judges and conduct a fraudulent election, proof tending to show the same was properly excluded, the difficulty having arisen in a different manner. Roberts v. People, 226 Ill. 296, 80 NE 776. Where accused had been sitting in a window with a prostitute when decedents, under influence of liquor, were attracted by the woman, and on their refusal to leave the shooting took place, defendant could not show that decedents had been in the vicinity acting boisterously for some time and attempting to enter the houses where he did not know of such conduct. Sturgeon v. Com. [Ky.] 102 SW 812. Evidence that decedent was engaged in selling whisky or keeping it for sale is irrelevant. Martin v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 1196, 100 SW 872. Where evidence showed that accused used pistol according to previously formed design to kill deceased, evidence of how he got the pistol was immaterial. Johnson v. Commonwealth, 29 Ky. L. R. 442, 93 SW 581. Coroner's certificate of death held not evidence of guilt or innocence of accused. State v. Hopkins, 118 La. 99, 42 S 660. Business relations existing between witness and defendant regarding premises where homicide occurred held not admissible. State v. Hazlett [N. D.] 113 NW 374. Evidence concerning business of deceased, that it made him many enemies who had threatened him with personal violence, is inadmissible. State v. Barrington, 198 Mo. 23, 95 SW 235. Witness may not state that he passed near house of defendant on day of homicide where it does not appear that he saw defendant or that defendant saw him. State v. Darling, 202 Mo. 150, 100 SW 631. Where it is shown that killing was done with shotgun, evidence of purchase of revolvers by defendant's son is not admissible. State v. Edwards, 203 Mo. 528, 102 SW 520. Not material to prove amount of whisky deceased had on night of homicide. Woodward v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 128, 97 SW 499. Testimony that deceased was lady of average intelligence inadmissible, dying declaration being in evidence. Rice v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 396, 94 SW 1024. Evidence that after decedent had been killed her husband seized his gun to shoot guilty parties, but on ascertaining that they were out of range broke it, is immaterial. Fizini v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 836, 100 SW 394. Where accused claimed that he acted in self-defense and there was evidence that just prior to the killing he came out of a house and pointed a pistol at a group of persons and warned them not to approach him and immediately thereafter shot deceased who was approaching him from another direction with drawn knife, held testimony of deceased's son who was in the group that the reason he approached deceased after the shooting was to find out who killed his father was not admissible. Maroney v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 570, 95 SW 108. Evidence that decedent carried a pistol on a certain day several months prior to the shooting is not admissible. Cole v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 28, 101 SW 218. Request made by decedent immediately on being shot to telegraph his mother held irrelevant. Bice v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 61, 100 SW 949. On prosecution for murder of a "strike breaker" who was acting as morman on a street car at the time, evidence of threats made and other occurrences with which accused had nothing to do is not admissible. Ripley v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 49, 100 SW 943. Testimony that deceased raped a woman and was subsequently forced to marry her is inadmissible. Serna v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 20 Tex. Ct. Rep. 133, 105 SW 795. Testimony that decedent had at one time cut another with a razor is not admissible to show her habit of carrying a razor and that she would likely execute any threats she made. Vaughn v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 96, 101 SW 445. Where decedent's wife identified defendant and there was testimony that she failed to identify him the day after the tragedy, it was error to permit the state to prove that after the tragedy she was prostrated by the shock. Oates v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 285, 103 SW 859. Evidence that accused shortly before the killing of decedent, an officer, while attempting to arrest another left in a buggy held inadmissible. Early v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 272, 103 SW 868. Evidence of personal appearance of decedent on reaching home after walking five blocks from place of shooting was not admissible on the question whether he had dispossessed himself of his pistol. Rice v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 353, 103 SW 1156. Evidence as to when decedent and his wife were married not admissible as tending to show her opportunity of knowing whether he had a pistol. Id. Evidence of acts of defendant on day of tragedy held irrelevant. Oates v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 285, 103 SW 859.

93. Testimony as to what decedent said about her husband attempting to kill her is hearsay. Andrews v. State [Ala.] 44 S 696. A witness for accused may not state that another party present at the controversy had told him that he and not accused did the stabbing. Bacigalupi v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 1320, 101 SW 311. Testimony as to conduct and threats witness saw and heard is not hearsay. Driggers v. U. S. [Ind. T.] 104 SW 1166. Where evidence showed that killing grew out of an assault by decedent on a third person, statements made by deceased relative to such assault when accused was not present and not communicated to him are not admissible. Casey v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 169, 97 SW 496.

94. One who claims an alibi cannot show that six hours prior to the killing he invited another to spend the night with him at his home three miles from the scene of crime. Sasser v. State [Ga.] 59 SE 255. Self-excluded. In the notes are grouped decisions as to the admissibility of evidence to show the relation between the parties and the state of feeling existing between them,<sup>95</sup> to show provocation or adequate cause,<sup>96</sup> to show a motive for the crime,<sup>97</sup> serving declarations and conduct on part of defendant when they form no part of the res gestae or no part of conversation or conduct introduced by the prosecution are not admissible. West v. State [Fla.] 43 S 445. Testimony that defendant told a third person that deceased had said he would kill him held inadmissible as self-serving declaration. Cole v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 28, 101 SW 218. On prosecution of peace officer for negligent homicide, it was not admissible for him to state that he was surprised and grieved when he found deceased was shot. Saye v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 99 SW 551. Where state made no effort to prove flight, proof that accused voluntarily surrendered himself the day after commission of crime is inadmissible as self-serving declaration. Pate v. State [Ala.] 43 S 343.

95. Held admissible: Statements of deceased showing hostility toward defendant. Bethune v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 90 SW 1014. Circumstances showing animus of defendant toward decedent. Sue v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 20 Tex. Ct. Rep. 128, 105 SW 804. Evidence of abuse and ill treatment of decedent by defendant for a year prior to the killing. Owen v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 974, 105 SW 513. Evidence that deceased seemed in good humor and jolly a few minutes before the homicide. Watson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 995, 105 SW 509. Testimony of decedent's wife as to a visit of decedent to defendant's house some time prior to the difficulty and to friendly spirit in which he was received held admissible in rebuttal of threats. Id. Testimony that defendant had said that if decedent, his wife, did not live with him she would not have the pleasure of living with any other man held admissible where it appeared that he was jealous and they had separated several times. Owen v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 974, 105 SW 513. On issue of who was aggressor, defense having shown malice and threats by prosecutor, and prosecutor that accused had spent four nights at his house and had been well treated, defense should have been allowed to disprove the last. Cunningham v. State, 89 Miss. 356, 42 S 172. Testimony that accused and deceased were not very good friends not objectionable as a conclusion. Gabler v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 428, 95 SW 521. Error to exclude evidence that though there had been ill will between defendant and decedent they had agreed to forget their differences. Early v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 272, 103 SW 868. It is admissible to show that deceased arrested accused on day of homicide and struck and abused him, as showing decedent's state of mind toward accused. Humber v. Com. [Ky.] 102 SW 1179. Testimony of conversation with postmaster held admissible as to readiness of deceased to assist defendant and his wife. Cole v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 28, 101 SW 218. Circumstances showing animus of accused toward deceased are admissible. Morris v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 490, 98 SW 873. Tone of voice used by accused toward decedent admissible. Campos v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 76, 97 SW 100.

Held inadmissible: Evidence of bad feeling toward defendant by decedent not known to him is not admissible. Sasser v. State [Ga.] 59 SE 255. Evidence of quarrels between decedent's wife and decedent relative to defendant, not communicated to defendant, is not admissible. Id. Decedent's conduct prior to killing is not admissible where it does not appear to have been hostile. Commonwealth v. Thomas [Ky.] 104 SW 326. Evidence that son of decedent spent the night with defendant several months before the crime not admissible. Sasser v. State [Ga.] 59 SE 255. Honesty and trustworthiness of accused is irrelevant. State v. Griggsby, 117 La. 1046, 42 S 497. Visit of widow of deceased to office of counsel for defendant not admissible to show that she was in sympathy with him and had had illicit relations with him. Sasser v. State [Ga.] 59 SE 255. Where the only evidence of illicit relations between accused and the daughter of deceased occurred ten years before the homicide, evidence thereof was not competent to show ill feeling between the parties at time of killing. State v. Emerson [S. C.] 58 SE 974.

96. Held admissible: Evidence of language used by decedent about defendant's mother to defendant's brother held admissible. People v. Smith [Cal.] 91 P 511. Evidence tending to show that an assault by father of accused upon deceased and his companion was without provocation held admissible where assault was simultaneous with shooting of accused. Smith v. State, 126 Ga. 803, 55 SE 1024. Where cause of homicide was alleged intimacy between decedent and wife of accused to which intimacy she had confessed, the force of such confession could be broken by evidence that she was not at the place at which it is alleged to have been made. Shipp v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 904, 99 SW 945. Where homicide was of a marshal attempting to arrest accused without a warrant, evidence that accused had violated an ordinance of the town upon a certain date in the presence of the marshal was relevant and material. Yates v. State, 127 Ga. 813, 56 SE 1017. Where defendant claimed that stones were thrown at caboose in which he was, and decedent's dying declaration was that he threw no stones, evidence that decedent told witness he was going to "rock" the trains and that he asked witnesses to join him was admissible. Burroughs v. U. S., 6 Ind. T. 164, 90 SW 8.

Held inadmissible: Where defendant shows provocation reducing crime to manslaughter by fact of confession to him by his wife that decedent had raped her, the state could not show prior illicit relations of which accused did not know. Jones v. State [Tex.

to show malice or intent,<sup>98</sup> or tending to connect accused with the crime.<sup>99</sup> The Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 172, 101 SW 993. Where it did not appear that defendant who killed his wife discovered her in adultery with another at the time, nor that he shot her in self-defense, evidence that she had committed adultery not admissible. Thomas v. State [Ala.] 43 S 371.

97. Held admissible: Testimony of decedent at examining trial of accused in a pending prosecution held admissible to show motive. Porch v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 463, 99 SW 102. Where accused pleaded insanity and intimacy between decedent and his wife, evidence that shortly before the killing his wife confessed to him is admissible to show motive and state of his mind. Shipp v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 904, 99 SW 945. Failure to show motive tends to show innocence of accused. State v. Francis, 199 Mo. 671, 98 SW 11. Evidence held not to show motive. Id. In assault with intent to kill, evidence of assaults on other persons at the same time and as part of same occurrence is admissible to show motive. Greenwell v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 1282, 100 SW 852. It is competent to show motive by proof that decedent had procured an indictment against accused, and had sued him for slander. Ball v. Com. [Ky.] 101 SW 956. Evidence that defendant had stated that decedent, his wife, would not live with him and that he had a notion to cut her throat is admissible on question of motive or malice. Owen v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 974, 105 SW 513. Where defendant was charged with killing aged couple to obtain their property, evidence that he was unable to pay bills shortly before was admissible to rebut testimony that he had money to purchase the property. People v. Bonier [N. Y.] 81 NE 949. Collateral crimes may be proved where they show malice or motive entering into the offense charged. Sanderson v. State [Ind.] 82 NE 525. On trial for a murder committed pursuant to conspiracy, evidence of prior assaults on decedent in endeavoring to get his property is admissible to show motive. Id. Such assaults are admissible whether or not accused was present at the time. Id. Where state's theory was that defendant's improper relations with other women caused estrangement with wife (deceased), testimony of witness that she had sustained improper relations with defendant for a year and a half, up to two years before the homicide, was admissible. Rice v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 396, 94 SW 1024. Where accused was heir at law of deceased, it was proper to show that accused had spoken of money that his father was supposed to have in a bank, but improper to show that accused was in indigent circumstances. Johnson v. State, 128 Ga. 71, 57 SE 84. Evidence that deceased had a large sum of money which was taken by accused held admissible. State v. Bailey, 79 Conn. 589, 65 A 951. Where theory of state was that accused enticed deceased to America and insured his life and then killed him to get the insurance, letters written by him to a young woman showing that he wanted to marry her, that he knew he would have to have money, and that he expected to get the sum necessary, were admissible to show a motive for the crime. People v. Soeder, 150 Cal. 12, 87 P 1016. The fact that the letters might tend to prejudice the jury against defendant would not affect their admissibility. Id. Evidence having a direct tendency to show motive for the crime is admissible, however discreditably it may reflect on defendant, and even where it may show him guilty of other crimes. Id. Homicide having been committed during a robbery, proof that defendant had asked where he could get money, and that he needed it, was admissible. Turner v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 35, 89 SW 975. Where homicide occurred while a codefendant was attempting to arrest deceased under a peace warrant issued on complaint of defendant, proof of the issuance of the warrant, of the authorization of codefendant to execute it, and of what was done thereunder, was admissible to show motives of defendants. Neeley v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 408, 93 SW 596. Evidence of familiar relationship between accused and wife of another whom he shot at the same time he killed deceased is admissible to show motive. Menefee v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 296, 97 SW 486. Proof of other crimes of accused is admissible to show motive or identity. State v. Spauth, 200 Mo. 571, 98 SW 55. Where theory of a state was that decedent and accused were rivals for affections of a certain young woman, the woman was properly permitted to testify that defendant had attempted to have her leave house where deceased was paying her rent or he would burn it. McCorquodale v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 759, 98 SW 879. Letters written by defendant to the woman threatening decedent admissible. Id.

Held inadmissible: Altercation between decedent, defendant, and a third person not admissible to show motive on part of such third person in the absence of testimony that such third person might have committed the crime. Porch v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 463, 99 SW 102. Evidence that defendant's wife confessed intimacy with decedent to defendant's son, not admissible where such confession was not communicated to him. Shipp v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 904, 99 SW 945. Information not communicated to accused prior to homicide and which might have furnished motive is not admissible. Smith v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 909, 105 SW 182. On prosecution for murder of pregnant girl, evidence that accused was responsible for her condition does not show that he committed the murder. State v. Francis, 199 Mo. 671, 98 SW 11. Where defendant's house was surrounded by armed men, and as soon as he appeared shooting commenced and one was killed, the persons who surrounded the house should not be permitted to testify as to their motive in going there. Tillman v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 87, 101 SW 210.

98. Where defendant, a deputy sheriff, had on election day requested decedent, a constable, to move away from the polls, and that decedent started to draw his gun entire res gestae of the assault or homicide may be shown, including all facts and circumstances leading up to or in any way constituting a part of the difficulty and the

and defendant shot him, evidence as to instructions defendant had received from his superior officer held admissible on question of intent and malice. Warford v. People [Colo.] 92 P 24. Also competent to show that defendant had been told decedent had made threats against him, that he was a dangerous man, and to take no chances with him. Id. In assault with intent to kill, testimony of attending physician as to extent and effect of injury admissible on question of intent. State v. Remington [Or.] 91 P 473. On prosecution for parricide, evidence of previous attempts on life of deceased is admissible. Holder v. State [Tenn.] 104 SW 225. Where guilt of defendant depends upon intent, purpose, or design with which the act is done or upon his guilty knowledge thereof, collateral facts in which he bore a part occurring immediately before the act complained of may be shown for purpose of showing guilty intent, design, or knowledge, even though such facts show commission of another crime. Clark v. State [Neb.] 113 NW 211. In prosecution for murder, proof that defendant directed a saloon keeper to give him water when he ordered gin, as he had a bet with deceased as to who could drink the most two or three months before the killing, was held admissible where there was evidence of an intent to kill two or three months before. State v. Banusik [N. J. Err. & App.] 64 A 994. That defendant went to town where homicide occurred to get evidence to put deceased under bond to keep the peace held inadmissible to show malice or premeditation. Lee v. State, 78 Ark. 77, 93 SW 754.

99. Held admissible: Where there was evidence that at time of shooting deceased was trying to handcuff accused, that his handcuffs were found in defendant's possession is admissible. Strickland v. State [Ala.] 44 S 90. Ownership of handcuffs found in defendant's possession which were claimed to have been in decedent's possession when he was killed is admissible. Id. Testimony as to condition of body of decedent's husband and his knife held admissible on question whether he killed her. Andrews v. State [Ala.] 44 S 696. A doctor who examined the murdered man may testify that cuts in his hat found on defendant's head corresponded with cuts on head. Commonwealth v. Karamarkovic [Pa.] 67 A 650. A witness may state direction in which tracks appeared to be going. Hickey v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 142, 102 SW 417. Where it appeared that crime was committed with a forty-four caliber revolver, and that tracks led from scene of crime to defendant's home, a pistol of such caliber dug up several rods from the house is admissible. Moss v. State [Ala.] 44 S 598. Testimony as to tracks leading from scene of murder held admissible where state's theory was that after the killing defendant traveled over a certain road. Id. Where evidence showed that accused shot at prosecutor through window of prosecutor's house and ran off, it was proper to allow prosecutor to give his opinion that it was defendant who shot. Williams v. State [Ala.] 43 S 720. Testimony as to photographs taken of accused's hand held admissible where taken with his consent, and it appeared that it was deformed and marks made by it were found at place of homicide. Powell v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 722, 99 SW 1005. Testimony that foot prints coming to and going from scene of crime look as if made by same person is admissible. Porch v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 463, 99 SW 102. Where proof showed a conspiracy to murder, evidence that one of the conspirators were seen driving toward the scene of the murder is admissible. Bull v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 949, 96 SW 817. Where proof showed a conspiracy between several persons to murder, evidence that articles found near the dead body were property of one of the conspirators is admissible. Id. Where there was evidence of a conspiracy between defendant and another to murder defendant's husband, and proof that defendant sent money to the other and told him to come to the city where defendant lived, testimony by such third person as to why he came to the city was admissible. State v. Myers, 198 Mo. 225, 94 SW 237. Where there was evidence tending to show that a single tree had been used to strike blows which caused death, proof tending to connect defendant with the act and to show where the single tree was obtained was admissible. State v. Walker, 133 Iowa, 489, 110 NW 925. Accused may be asked if he did not have the watch of deceased in his possession, and contradicted if he denies it. State v. Kenny [S. C.] 57 SE 859. A witness may state that he called attention to fact that decedent had not been searched, and when searched a small pocket knife was found in his pocket. Waggoner v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 717, 98 SW 255. Testimony that witness could not be sure whose voice he heard but that it was mighty like defendant's is not opinion. Id.

Held inadmissible: Not error to exclude testimony that defendant's brother offered his own horse for comparison of tracks with those found near the scene of crime which the state claimed were made by defendant's horse. Sasser v. State [Ga.] 59 SE 255. Evidence that defendant said between the 1st and 15th of October that he must hurry and go to meet decedent "between five and six" has no tendency to prove that defendant murdered deceased on 3rd of following November. State v. Francis, 199 Mo. 671, 93 SW 11. Where two persons were separately indicted, it is error to permit evidence of the kind of hat one wore after the difficulty, on a trial of the other. Parnell v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 331, 98 SW 269. Evidence that accused had been identified as a man witness had seen passing along the street shortly after the killing is not admissible where accused was under arrest at the time. Ripley v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 49, 100 SW 943.

assault or homicide, or arising naturally therefrom,<sup>1</sup> but subsequent acts or declara-

1. Conversation which occurred between the parties immediately before the killing is res gestae. Fleming v. State [Ala.] 43 S 219. What accused did immediately after killing is res gestae. Pate v. State [Ala.] 43 S 343. Testimony showing defendant's conduct, demeanor, and frame of mind at time held improperly refused as it was res gestae. Young v. State [Ala.] 43 S 100. Physician may testify to statements made by deceased as to his condition, pain, location and nature of injuries while suffering therefrom. Gregory v. State [Ala.] 42 S 829. Where it was shown that decedent fell with his hand in his bosom, it is proper to show that he died in same position. Bluett v. State [Ala.] 44 S 84. Evidence that just after shooting accused said he had done wrong, in response to statement of another that he had made a mistake, held admissible. Fuller v. State, 127 Ga. 47, 55 SE 1047. Where homicide resulted from statement alleged to have been made by accused to a third person concerning wife of decedent, what such third person said at time of difficulty resulting in the killing is res gestae. State v. Rutledge [Iowa] 113 NW 461. Statements made by defendant immediately after the homicide that he had killed decedent in self-defense held res gestae. Id. Proof that witness gave defendant a letter from deceased a few days before the commission of the offense held admissible in prosecution for murder by an attempt to produce an abortion. Clark v. People, 224 Ill. 554, 79 NE 941. Declaration by accused shortly after killing that he had killed deceased "deader than hell" admissible. Stacy v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 1242, 97 SW 39. Declarations of deceased immediately after shooting that they had killed him and that the shots came from a certain place held res gestae. Commonwealth v. Hargis, 30 Ky. L. R. 510, 99 SW 348. Exclamations of son of decedent "don't shoot pap" uttered immediately before the shooting is part of res gestae. Kennedy v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 1063, 100 SW 242. Nonexpert can testify as to cause of death where it is such that an ordinary person can understand and testify to. State v. Caron, 118 La. 349, 42 S 960. Exclamations of decedent at the time he is shot are res gestae, also what transpired between the parties as basis for exclamation. State v. Lively, 119 La. 363, 44 S 128. Proof of what occurred at accused's home in his presence two hours after the killing held admissible. People v. Tubbs, 147 Mich. 1, 13 Det. Leg. N. 959, 110 NW 122. Declaration of third person mortally wounded in same affray that defendant shot him and deceased held admissible as part of res gestae. State v. Williams, 96 Minn. 351, 105 NW 265. Where two parties attacked and stabbed another, all acts occurring at the time are res gestae. McCoy v. State [Miss.] 44 S 814. Proof that defendant's brother, jointly indicted, had an open knife during the affray, and that a third person was cut, admissible as res gestae. State v. Woodward, 191 Mo. 617, 90 SW 90. All that occurred at the time of the killing, including the fact that accused at the time shot another person, is res gestae. State v. Cavin, 199 Mo. 154, 97 SW 573. On prosecution for killing of a prison guard by convicts in attempt to escape, evidence of killing of another guard at the same time admissible as res gestae. State v. Vaughn, 200 Mo. 23, 98 SW 2. Declaration of defendant's son, "Well, it has happened," after learning of the shooting, is admissible. State v. Edwards, 203 Mo. 528, 102 SW 520. Evidence that defendant was intoxicated at the time and had an altercation with deceased which resulted in the shooting held admissible as res gestae. Territory v. Price [N. M.] 91 P 733. Evidence that accused was intoxicated half an hour before the homicide and of a conversation with him tending to show intoxication held relevant. State v. Rowell, 75 S. C. 494, 56 SE 23. Proof of the shooting of a child by defendant while shooting deceased held admissible as a part of the res gestae. Stevison v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 89 SW 1072. But it is error to tell the jury that that evidence may be considered in determining whether defendant was guilty of murder in shooting deceased. Id. Defendant shortly after killing went to a physician to have a wound on his arm dressed, and stated to the physician that the wound was given by deceased just before the fatal shot was fired. The statement was held admissible in defendant's favor. Wakefield v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 558, 94 SW 1046. In homicide case, proof that deceased said 15 or 20 minutes after difficulty, "What a pity! they killed me for nothing," was admissible as res gestae. Wilson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 365, 90 SW 312. Witness having testified that he was wounded in same affray in which deceased was killed, by defendant, held proper to allow witness to show his scar on issue of manner in which wound was produced. Alarcon v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 383, 90 SW 179. It is admissible to show that accused and his companions committed another murder immediately after the crime in question was committed. Campos v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 511, 95 SW 1042. Where accused killed two persons at same time and the indictment restricts the killing to one, evidence as to killing of other is admissible as res gestae. Campos v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 76, 97 SW 100. The idea of concocted story being precluded, a statement by deceased shortly after the shooting "Why did he do it" held admissible. Moore v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 96 SW 321. Where two altercations were a part of the same affair, evidence of the former is admissible as res gestae. McKinney v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 545, 96 SW 48. Conversation between accused and another immediately after killing is admissible. Pratt v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 599, 96 SW 8. Where two brothers were jointly indicted on trial of one, proof that they were standing in front of the store talking just before the killing occurred was admissible. Wilson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 365, 90 SW 312. Evidence that at the time of killing accused shot another person is res gestae. Menefee v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 296, 97 SW 486. Evidence of conversation between deceased and accused just prior to the homicide and what transpired between them is res gestae. Waggoner v. State [Tex. Civ. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 717, 98 SW 255. Where accused shot two persons at same time, evidence as to killing of the other is res gestae. Nelson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 140, 101 SW 1012. Evidence of conversation between deceased and accused shortly prior to killing admissible as res gestae. Lahue v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 125, 101 SW 1008. Statements made by decedent immediately after being shot relative to the shooting are res gestae. Bice v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 61, 100 SW 949. Evidence of circumstances immediately preceding shooting of decedent, a peace officer, held admissible as res gestae. Hull v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 772, 100 SW 403. In a prosecution for homicide committed pursuant to a conspiracy between defendant, a minor, and his father and mother with whom he lived, to resist the execution of a writ of possession, testimony is admissible of the salient facts attending service of first writ of possession and matter even antedating that and amicable disposition of the writ disseissee, especially where defendant introduced evidence to show previous trouble between the disseissee and his parents. Smith v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 13 Tex. Ct. Rep. 939, 89 SW 817. Conversations had at the time of the homicide between defendant's father and the persons attempting to dispossess them, showing that the latter were officers and were seeking to execute the writ, admissible as being part of the res gestae, especially where defendant saw them, had reason to know they were officers, and did not himself give the deceased an opportunity to state his mission. Id. It is admissible to show that just before the homicide defendant approached witness and decedent and stated that he desired to see decedent alone, and upon witness saying she would withdraw decedent asked her not to. Vaughn v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 96, 101 SW 445.

tions of the parties or others are usually inadmissible.<sup>2</sup> Threats by accused against deceased may be shown,<sup>3</sup> but threats against others are usually inadmissible.<sup>4</sup> Proof

2. Statement by defendant some hours after shooting that his gun was loaded and he intended to shoot until it melted if they did not quit running over him, not referring to any particular person, not res gestae. Deal v. State [Ark.] 100 SW 75. Statement made by defendant after the killing not res gestae where it does not appear how soon after nor where it was made. Mitchell v. State [Ark.] 101 SW 763. Declarations of relatives after the homicide not admissible to show state of feeling. Declaration of mother of deceased that she was surprised that her son did not kill defendant. Bundrick v. State, 125 Ga. 753, 54 SE 683. Statements of deceased three days after affray, not shown to be dying declaration, held inadmissible. State v. Barber [Idaho] 88 P 418. Evidence of statements made by deceased 15 minutes after difficulty to attending physician not res gestae. State v. Birks, 199 Mo. 263, 97 SW 578. Declarations of defendant as to why he shot decedent not being res gestae are not admissible. State v. Long, 201 Mo. 664, 100 SW 587. Where deceased was shot in one saloon and fled to another and shortly after his arrival there made statements to officers as to the shooting, they were not res gestae. State v. Kelleher, 201 Mo. 614, 100 SW 470. Statement of accused "I told you I would come to you" made to sheriff some time after the killing and after defendant's arrest by constable not admissible as res gestae because too remote and not relating to the homicide. Fuller v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 413, 95 SW 541. Declaration of bystander that deceased snapped his pistol at accused and that accused grabbed his gun from the bystander and shot decedent not admissible as res gestae. Casey v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 169, 97 SW 496. Evidence of conduct and statements of two persons separately indicted with defendant which occurred in his absence a long time after the killing is not admissible. Parnell v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 331, 98 SW 269. Declaration by one conspirator made after he had withdrawn from the difficulty and was in no manner aiding it held inadmissible. People v. Smith [Cal.] 91 P 511.

3. Threats by accused to kill decedent are admissible. Bluett v. State [Ala.] 44 S 84. In prosecution for assault with intent to commit murder, evidence that accused said he was going to shoot deceased, that he told another he was going to kill deceased's whole family, and that he possessed a pistol before the assault, was admissible. Esterline v. State [Md.] 66 A 269. State may prove threats of defendant to kill deceased. Heninburg v. State [Ala.] 43 S 959. Statement of defendant in nature of threat toward decedent held admissible. Owen v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 974, 105 SW 513. Threat held sufficiently shown to have been directed at deceased to be admissible, where defendant approached her with drawn knife and returned and remarked that he was going to start something, and shortly afterward stabbed decedent. Armstrong v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 812, 98 SW 844. Evidence of threats is admissible. Manning v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 388, 98 SW 251. If there is sufficient evidence of the corpus delicti to make it a question for the jury, threats of defendant are admissible. Parham v. State, 147 Ala. 57, 42 S 1. Threats by defendant against deceased a week before homicide admissible. Id. Where homicide occurred while a writ of possession was being executed by deceased and an officer, proof that defendant had said a year before that he would not give up possession and would die before surrendering if they sought to eject him was admissible. Williams v. State, 147 Ala. 10, 41 S 992. Upon trial of a person, threats by a third person against deceased may be proved if accompanied by proof connecting such person with the crime. State v. Cremeans [W. Va.] 57 SE 405. Previous threats by defendant admissible though not directly connected with the killing. Franklin v. State [Ala.] 39 S 979. Evidence as to time when such threats were made is admissible though not exact. Bluett v. State [Ala.] 44 S 84.

of prior difficulties between the parties is admissible,<sup>5</sup> but the details of such difficulties may not be shown.<sup>6</sup> The defendant may show his previous good reputation<sup>7</sup> by proper evidence,<sup>8</sup> and when he places it in issue the state may attack it,<sup>9</sup> but proof of particular acts or offenses is usually excluded.<sup>10</sup> In Texas, where insults

Proof of defendant's reckless disregard and drunken bravado just before homicide held admissible. McLin v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 881, 90 SW 1107. Threats by deceased and defendant could not be proved by witness who could not tell which party had made certain threats. State v. Blee, 133 Iowa, 725, 111 NW 19. Proof that defendant said there would be trouble some day at the place in question held not proof of a threat. Wright v. State [Ala.] 42 S 745.

4. Threats to kill another person for cause for which decedent was killed not admissible. McCorquodale v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 759, 98 SW 879. Threats by defendant having no reference to deceased or any member of his family held inadmissible. George v. State, 145 Ala. 41, 40 S 961.

5. Evidence of altercations 10 years previous are admissible; remoteness goes only to weight. State v. Schuyler [N. J. Err. & App.] 68 A 56. Proof of a difficulty between defendant and deceased three days before the killing held admissible to relations between them. State v. Fielding [Iowa] 112 NW 539. Where decedent came into a saloon where accused was and stated that he was looking for trouble, and that defendant became agitated and commenced shooting, and it appeared that decedent held a knife at the time, held proper to admit evidence that decedent had previously assaulted accused and that accused avoided him whenever he could. White v. Com. [Ky.] 102 SW 298, 1199. In prosecution for murder, where self-defense is the defense, proof of the fact of a former affray, and who had been the aggressor therein, was admissible, but not the details of such former difficulty. State v. Blee, 133 Iowa, 725, 111 NW 19. The fact of former difficulties between deceased and accused is admissible but not the details of such difficulties. State v. Birks, 199 Mo. 263, 97 SW 578. Whether foundation has been laid for introduction of proof of former difficulties between accused and deceased by proof of any overt act on the part of accused held a question for the trial court's discretion. State v. Craft, 118 La. 117, 42 S 718.

Contra: Evidence as to prior difficulties properly excluded. Bluett v. State [Ala.] 44 S 84. Evidence of prior difficulty held not admissible. State v. Rutledge [Iowa] 113 NW 461. Proof of prior difficulties and an attempt by deceased on life of defendant is admissible to show motive and malice. State v. Clark, 119 La. 723, 44 S 449.

6. Details of prior difficulty at different time and place not admissible. Fleming v. State [Ala.] 43 S 219. Particulars of prior difficulty not admissible. McCoy v. State [Miss.] 44 S 814. Accused may not testify as to particulars of previous difficulty with decedent. Logan v. State [Ala.] 43 S 10.

7. The good reputation of the accused relative to traits of character involved is to be considered by the jury. People v.

Van Gaasbeck [N. Y.] 82 NE 718. Evidence that accused enjoyed a good reputation for peaceableness is admissible. Id. On prosecution of peace officer for negligent homicide, general reputation as cautious and prudent man is admissible. Saye v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 99 SW 551. Where self-defense is asserted, accused may show his character as a peaceable man. State v. Rutledge [Iowa] 113 NW 461. There being evidence that defendant acted in self-defense, it was proper to exclude evidence of defendant's character for peace and quiet without accompanying evidence to show that deceased was a violent and dangerous man. Tribble v. State, 145 Ala. 23, 40 S 938.

8. Defendant may show his general character and reputation as a peaceable and law abiding man, and negative testimony by witnesses having required knowledge of him that they have never heard his character for peaceableness questioned is competent. State v. Cremeans [W. Va.] 57 SE 405. Error to exclude evidence of the general reputation of defendant as a peaceable law abiding citizen in the neighborhood for 20 years or more, and up to from 2 to 4 years of the time of the killing, even though proof of reputation 2 or 4 years preceding was admitted. This evidence is not so remote as to have no probative value. State v. Simmons, 74 Kan. 799, 88 P 57. Proof of defendant's peaceable and quiet disposition in a town where he lived for many years before moving to the town where the homicide occurred four or five years before held admissible. People v. Van Gaasbeck, 118 App. Div. 511, 103 NYS 249. In assault with intent to kill, evidence that accused had a pistol on his person at the time is admissible as showing his character. State v. Spough, 199 Mo. 147, 97 SW 901. Character evidence must be limited to the witness' knowledge of defendant's reputation and cannot be admitted that they have never heard his character solely from personal knowledge and observation by witness. People v. Van Gaasbeck [N. Y.] 82 NE 718. Testimony that witness never heard anything against the character of the accused is admissible. Id. Witness cannot testify merely of his personal knowledge of another's unworthiness aside from his general reputation. Hughes v. State [Ala.] 44 S 694. Testimony that defendant must have been a pretty good man to belong to the lodge he did properly refused. Vaughn v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 96, 101 SW 445.

9. Where accused puts his character for peace and quietude in issue, it is open to attack by state. Weaver v. State [Ark.] 102 SW 713.

10. Evidence of a burglary committed by defendant four years prior to the crime is inadmissible for remoteness. Commonwealth v. Parsons [Mass.] 81 NE 291. Evidence that defendant had committed crime of sodomy is not admissible. State v. Hazlett [N. D.] 113 NW 374. Character witness to a female relative are relied upon as justification; the character of the female is in issue but cannot be attacked by proof of specific acts.<sup>11</sup> Inerminating acts or declarations of accused may be shown,<sup>12</sup> including declarations and admissions against interest.<sup>13</sup> Real or demonstrative evidence, such as the weapon or other means of injury or death,<sup>14</sup> the wound or scar of the person killed or injured,<sup>15</sup> clothing worn by deceased<sup>16</sup> or accused,<sup>17</sup> photographs and maps,<sup>18</sup> is competent when properly and adequately identified and connected with the crime or with accused.<sup>19</sup> could not testify that after the homicide he heard reports that accused had run his stepfather away from home and threatened to kill his school teacher. Powers v. State, 117 Tenn. 363, 97 SW 815. Evidence of prior offenses showing moral turpitude is admissible. Sue v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 20 Tex. Ct. Rep. 128, 105 SW 804. Evidence of prior murder and rape. Id.

11. Evidence of specific acts of adultery not admissible under Pen. Code, art. 704, providing that where it is sought to reduce homicide to manslaughter because of insults to female relative general character of female may be proved. Jones v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 172, 101 SW 993.

12. Where evidence was all circumstantial and it appeared that decedent had been in a certain bawdy house several times during day of his death, evidence that some of the women left the house next day and that parties who were in the house left the state next day is admissible. Haywood v. State [Miss.] 43 S 614. Flight of accused after crime and resistance of arrest is admissible. State v. Spagh, 200 Mo. 571, 98 SW 55. Evidence that as accused was escaping shortly after homicide he shot at a person approaching him and whom he suspected was pursuing him is admissible. Id. In trial of wife for murder of husband, it may be shown that she did not attend the funeral. State v. Myers, 198 Mo. 225, 94 SW 237. Acts and conduct of accused after homicide may be shown though not a part of the res gestae. State v. Hogan, 117 La. 863, 42 S 352. Not admissible to show that defendant surrendered to sheriff where there was no proof of flight. Brown v. State [Ala.] 43 S 194.

13. Statements made in presence of accused, who remains silent, are admissible if by such silence he assented to the truth. O'Hearn v. State [Neb.] 113 NW 130. Statements by deceased in presence of accused who was then under arrest for the crime not admissible. State v. Kelleher, 201 Mo. 614, 100 SW 470. Testimony of a witness as to what he heard of a conversation between defendant and another shortly before the difficulty is admissible though the witness did not hear all that was said. Woodward v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 128, 97 SW 499. Prosecution may show by other witnesses conversation between defendant and another party for the purpose of showing admissions against interest. Loudenback v. Territory [Okla.] 91 P 1030.

14. Where fatal wound was produced with a knife, it was proper to allow a knife found near scene of homicide to be introduced and identified and to prove its width and length. Alarcon v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 383, 90 SW 179. On trial for assault with intent to commit murder, it is proper to exhibit to the jury the weapon with which assault is alleged to have been made, and to identify it as the weapon used. Jackson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 90 SW 34. Gun held admissible where there was evidence that it was the one used. Clefford v. People, 229 Ill. 633, 82 NE 343. Where decedent died from a pistol wound, bullet found in his body is admissible. Moss v. State [Ala.] 44 S 598. Where homicide was committed with blunt instrument, hammer stained with blood found near the scene of crime held admissible. People v. Bonier [N. Y.] 81 NE 949. Where there is an issue as to the deadly character of weapon, the instrument may be considered in judging intent. Hardin v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 231, 103 SW 401. Jack knife taken from pocket of deceased after shooting and identified as one decedent had in his hand a few minutes before the crime is admissible as against objection that it was not shown that he might not have had some other weapon. Watson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 995, 105 SW 509. Bullets of same caliber as defendant's pistol found at scene of crime 100 days after killing admissible. Hickey v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 142, 102 SW 417. Pistol cartridges and shells used at killing admissible. Id.

15. Scar of wound inflicted by stabbing may be exhibited in assault with intent to kill. Mayer v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 966, 100 SW 386. Not error to refuse to require sheriff to produce decedent's skull on an issue as to whether he was killed by 44 caliber bullet, where physicians were present who had dissected the skull. Moss v. State [Ala.] 44 S 598. Condition and character of wounds of person assaulted may be shown in prosecution for assault with intent to kill. Wright v. State [Ala.] 42 S 745.

16. Clothing worn by deceased at time of killing held admissible when shown to be in same condition at time of trial. State v. Craft, 118 La. 117, 42 S 718. Clothing of deceased showing cuts made by knife used held admissible. Adams v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 15 Tex. Ct. Rep. 685, 93 SW 116. Clothes worn by decedent at time properly admitted. Pate v. State [Ala.] 43 S 343. Clothing worn by decedent at time he was shot is admissible. Sue v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 20 Tex. Ct. Rep. 128, 105 SW 804. Undershirt worn by decedent at time showing where he was shot admissible though it has been washed in meantime. Clark v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 199, 102 SW 1136.

17. Where it appeared that on night of homicide accused was wearing an overcoat, and an overcoat with blood stains on it was found after the homicide, it was held proper to admit it. Ozark v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 69, 100 SW 927.

18. Map of scene of crime held admissible.

The competency of confessions and of acts and declarations of conspirators is treated elsewhere.<sup>20</sup>

A few decisions as to what constitutes harmless and prejudicial error in the admission or exclusion of evidence are referred to in the note,<sup>21</sup> the subject being more fully treated elsewhere.<sup>22</sup>

Justification. See 8 C. L. 113.—On the issue of self-defense, evidence tending to show the relative size, strength, and physical condition of the parties,<sup>23</sup> and whether they were armed,<sup>24</sup> is admissible. Unless it appears that accused was the aggressor,<sup>25</sup> threats by deceased, communicated to defendant, may be shown.<sup>26</sup> Un-

State v. Remington [Or.] 91 P 473. Photograph of scene of homicide held admissible. People v. Grill [Cal.] 91 P 515.

19. Shoe properly identified as that of accused so that evidence regarding it tending to connect accused with crime was admissible. Du Bose v. State [Ala.] 42 S 862. Witness identified a tie with blood on it, found near the place of the homicide, as one defendant had worn just prior to killing. Held proper to permit him to testify that tie exhibited looked like the one owned and worn by defendant. Turner v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 35, 89 SW 975. There being evidence that defendant had been seen where there were certain tracks, held proper to allow state to show that shoes exhibited to witness would make tracks like those seen. Id. Photograph of scene of killing not taken under conditions existing at time of killing not admissible. Newcomb v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 95 SW 1048. Articles found in defendant's house corresponding to similar articles seen at scene of homicide held admissible. Turner v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 35, 89 SW 975. Where killing occurred during difficulty over alleged ballot stuffing in a political club election, it was proper to admit a bunch of ballots claimed to have been forced into the box by a certain party who denied the act. Roberts v. People, 226 Ill. 296, 80 NE 776. There was evidence that deceased had a pistol at the time of his death which he kept in a box which had a picture of the pistol on the outside, also that defendant had a similar pistol in his possession. Box, properly identified, was admissible. Shelton v. State, 144 Ala. 106, 42 S 30.

20. See Indictment and Prosecution, 8 C. L. 189.

21. Where it appeared that just prior to his death decedent was intoxicated and in a stupor, evidence that he had unsuccessfully attempted to purchase morphine on night of crime was not prejudicial to accused. Ozark v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 69, 100 SW 927. Not reversible error that evidence by the state tending to show that defendant shot a different person from the one he was charged with killing by the indictment. State v. Cavin, 199 Mo. 154, 97 SW 573. Admission of indictment against deceased, found before the killing, charging him with assault on accused, is harmless where the facts forming basis of indictment were shown. Moore v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 96 SW 321. Where theory of accused was that deceased was killed by a horse, testimony that there was a struggle between deceased and the horse was harmless. Gabler v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 220, 95 SW 521. Admission of statements made by defendant on day preceding homicide that he was going to kill a man that day and had a pistol held prejudicial. Washington v. State [Ark.] 103 SW 617. Admission of statement by decedent too indefinite to constitute threat not prejudicial to accused. Newton v. Com. [Ky.] 102 SW 264.

22. See Harmless and Prejudicial Error, 9 C. L. 1563; Indictment and Prosecution, 8 C. L. 189.

23. Where self-defense is asserted, defendant may show that decedent was a strong man and resorted to use of weapons. State v. Rutledge [Iowa] 113 NW 461. Where accused claimed that deceased was trying to get a pistol out of a drawer and that he seized him to prevent him from doing so, evidence of the relative strength of the parties is admissible. Newcomb v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 95 SW 1048. Testimony that decedent was a large strong man and defendant a small cripple is admissible to show whether defendant had reasonable ground to fear attack by decedent. Humber v. Com. [Ky.] 102 SW 1179. On an issue of self-defense, defendant may show that he was smaller and weaker than deceased and was sick. People v. Smith [Cal.] 91 P 511. Relative size and physical condition of deceased as well as of defendant may ordinarily be shown by testimony of facts. State v. Barber [Idaho] 88 P 418.

24. Where state claimed decedent was not armed and accused claimed he was armed with a small pistol, proof of a statement by decedent to witness as to what he did with a large pistol was inadmissible. Lee v. State, 78 Ark. 77, 93 SW 754. Where self-defense is asserted, it is error to refuse to permit defendant to prove that he had seen a pistol on person of decedent a day or two before the tragedy. Kennedy v. Com. [Ky.] 102 SW 863. Evidence as to how often decedent had been seen with a pistol not admissible. Bluet v. State [Ala.] 44 S 84.

25. Threats properly excluded where defendant was aggressor. Fleming v. State [Ala.] 43 S 219. Threats are not admissible on issue of self-defense where it is shown that decedent was not the aggressor. Black v. State [Ark.] 104 SW 1104. Uncommunicated threats not admissible where there was no evidence that parties who made the threats assaulted defendant and the trial court was not advised that self-defense would be interposed. Sue v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 20 Tex. Ct. Rep. 128, 105 SW 804. Unless there was an attack by deceased, his previous threats against defendant are inadmissible. Evidence held to show no attack. Guy v. State, 37 Ind. App. 691, 77 NE 855. Proof of threats by deceased inadmissible communicated threats are also held admissible in some jurisdictions,<sup>27</sup> but in others uncommunicated threats are admissible only to show which party was the aggressor.<sup>28</sup> The character or general reputation of deceased is in issue only when attacked by accused<sup>29</sup> to support his plea of self-defense.<sup>30</sup> Character must be proved where evidence showed that defendant brought on the difficulty. Skipper v. State, 144 Ala. 100, 42 S 43.

26. Threats by deceased communicated to defendant held admissible to explain defendant's mental attitude and possession of weapon. State v. Clifford, 59 W. Va. 1, 52 SE 981. Where accused set up defense of himself and of another as an excuse, proof of threats by decedent against such other, and that such threats were communicated to defendant, was admissible. State v. Hennessy [Nev.] 90 P 221. Threats by decedent against defendant are admissible. Burton v. State [Ark.] 102 SW 362. Threats made by decedent against accused a week or two before the killing are admissible. State v. King, 203 Mo. 560, 102 SW 515. Communicated threats of decedent to kill accused are admissible. Bluett v. State [Ala.] 44 S 84.

27. Uncommunicated threats are admissible where there is any evidence of self-defense. Warford v. People [Colo.] 92 P 24. Uncommunicated threats are admissible to show decedent's mind before killing and to show who was aggressor. Commonwealth v. Thomas [Ky.] 104 SW 326. On an issue of self-defense, uncommunicated threats are admissible. Neathery v. People, 227 Ill. 110, 81 NE 16. Where self-defense is asserted, threats of decedent to kill defendant the first time they met, made an hour before the killing, are admissible though not communicated to defendant. State v. Jackman [Nev.] 91 P 143. Where charge was manslaughter, and defense was self-defense, and it appeared from the evidence that defendant and deceased were in actual collision at the time of the killing, previous threats by deceased against defendant were competent though not communicated to defendant. State v. Scaduto [N. J. Law] 65 A 908. Uncommunicated threats are admissible as throwing light on decedent's acts at time of killing. State v. Edwards, 203 Mo. 528, 102 SW 520. Where there was evidence of a conspiracy by accused and others in pursuance of which the difficulty arose, threats by conspirators were relevant. State v. Clifford, 59 W. Va. 1, 52 SE 981. Proof of uncommunicated threats is admissible to show ill will of decedent toward accused. Newton v. Com. [Ky.] 102 SW 264.

Held inadmissible: Evidence that on day of homicide deceased exhibited a pistol and said it was loaded for a certain person other than accused "or anybody else" is not admissible. Barbee v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 377, 97 SW 1058. Evidence that decedent had stated after a prior fight with defendant that it was a good thing that some one had interfered or he would have knocked defendant down with his pistol not admissible as threat. Early v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 272, 103 SW 868.

28. Uncommunicated threats are not admissible where there is no dispute as to who was the aggressor, but they may be shown where that question is mooted or where there are no eyewitnesses to show who was most likely the aggressor. State v. Barber [Idaho] 88 P 418. On the issue of who was the aggressor in a fatal affray, and as to defendant's attitude of mind to deceased, and to corroborate evidence of communicated threats, proof of uncommunicated threats by deceased may be introduced. State v. Blee, 133 Iowa, 725, 111 NW 19. Threats made by deceased but not communicated to accused may be considered in explaining conduct of deceased and in determining who was the aggressor. State v. Darling, 199 Mo. 168, 97 SW 592. Uncommunicated threats are admissible where evidence as to who was the aggressor is conflicting. State v. Kelleher, 201 Mo. 614, 100 SW 470. Where testimony is conflicting as to who was the aggressor, proof of uncommunicated threats by deceased against defendant may be considered in determining who was the aggressor. State v. Birks, 199 Mo. 263, 97 SW 578.

29. Not error to sustain objection to question asked a witness for the state as to general character of deceased where his character was not in issue. Kirby v. State [Ala.] 44 S 38. Where defendant assails character of decedent the state may rebut. Weaver v. State [Ark.] 102 SW 713. Prosecution cannot show reputation of deceased for peaceableness unless it is first attacked. Kelly v. People, 229 Ill. 81, 82 NE 198. Prosecution cannot show reputation of deceased for peacefulness though defendant offers evidence of his own reputation. Id. That defense shows that decedent was large strong man, not a pugilist, is not evidence of bad reputation for peaceableness. Id. Reputation of decedent for peaceableness is presumed good, and the prosecution cannot introduce evidence thereof unless it is first attacked. Id. The general reputation of deceased for peace and quiet, unless known to defendant at the time of the affray, or where the question as to who was the aggressor is in doubt, is inadmissible. State v. Barber [Idaho] 88 P 418. On prosecution of officer for killing a person to prevent his escape, evidence as to reputation of deceased among peace officers as distinguished from his acquaintances generally is not admissible. Stevens v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 290, 98 SW 284. Where at the time of killing decedent had made no hostile demonstration against accused, evidence of prior threats is not admissible, nor is the reputation of deceased as a dangerous man, as such facts could not justify the killing. State v. Coleman, 119 La. 669, 44 S 328. Evidence of deceased's habits of drinking extending over a period long prior to and up to the commission of the crime held inadmissible in prosecution for murder. Birkenfeld v. State, 104 Md. 253, 65 A 1. State cannot show good character of person assaulted where it is not attacked. Woods v. State [Miss.] 43 S 433. Where defendant attacks deceased's reputation, the state may in rebuttal show that his reputation was good. State v. Woodward, 191 Mo. 617, 90 SW 90. The state may not take the initiative by competent evidence.<sup>31</sup> Other holdings as to the admissibility of evidence to sustain or disprove the plea of justification are given in the note.<sup>32</sup>

(§ 7) C. Dying declarations. See 8 C. L. 115.—Statements of deceased are admissible as dying declarations only when a predicate has been laid<sup>33</sup> by the introduction of proper evidence<sup>34</sup> showing that the declaration was made under a sense in putting character of decedent in issue. Bays v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 99 SW 561. Cross-examination of witness held not evasion of this rule. Id. Pen. Code 1895, art. 713, authorizing evidence of threats in justification whereupon the state may prove reputation of decedent, does not authorize proof of reputation until attack thereon by accused unless such threats have been communicated. Arnwine v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 99 SW 97. The state cannot, in the first instance, put the character of deceased in issue as being a peaceable and inoffensive man. Puryear v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 721, 98 SW 258. In prosecution for killing of deceased by his wife's son, evidence of difficulties between deceased and his wife in which deceased may have assaulted her, and that he had separated from her twice, held not to warrant admission of proof of deceased's reputation for peace and quiet. Wakefield v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 558, 94 SW 1046. Proof of the reputation of deceased for peace and quiet is inadmissible until his reputation has been attacked by accused. Keith v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 516, 94 SW 1044. Where defendant claimed he shot deceased because he found him in a compromising position with his wife and offered positive proof that deceased had debauched his wife, this did not place deceased's character for virtue in issue so as to warrant admission of evidence of deceased's general reputation for chastity in the community. Gregory v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 94 SW 1041.

30. Evidence of character of decedent is admissible only when showing of self-defense is made. State v. Zorn, 202 Mo. 12, 100 SW 591. Self-defense being pleaded, proof that decedent was a violent and dangerous man was competent to show who was the aggressor and the nature of the assault, though decedent's reputation was not known to defendant. State v. Thompson [Or.] 88 P 583. Defendant puts reputation of deceased in issue so as to admit evidence by the state that it is good, where he seeks to justify under Pen. Code 1895, art. 713, on ground of threats, where he testifies that, when he went to see deceased, deceased made a demonstration against him by pulling a knife. Menefee v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 296, 97 SW 486. Where there was no proof of violence by prosecutor, proof of his reputation as a dangerous man is not admissible. Roch v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 903, 105 SW 202.

31. Reputation of decedent for shooting people not proper method of proving character. Bluett v. State [Ala.] 44 S 84. Specific acts of violence by deceased not admissible in addition to proof of general character. McCoy v. State [Miss.] 44 S 814.

32. Condition of prosecutor shortly after alleged assault with intent to kill, relevant. Jacobs v. State, 146 Ala. 103, 42 S 70. Where self-defense is asserted, accused may show that he threw away the razor with which he cut decedent and why he cut him. State v. Rutledge [Iowa] 113 NW 461. Where in assault with intent to kill justification in resisting unlawful arrest is asserted, evidence to show justification for making the arrest is admissible though it tends to show commission of another crime. State v. Baruth [Wash.] 91 P 977. In prosecution for manslaughter, evidence on issue of self-defense tending to show the shot could not have been fired as claimed was held admissible though it inferentially assumed a higher degree of crime than manslaughter. State v. Usher [Iowa] 111 NW 811. Where self-defense is asserted, accused may show by an expert whether the fatal blow was inflicted by blow or cut. State v. Rutledge [Iowa] 113 NW 461. Improper to show that defendant had been warned to look out for decedent; nothing to show ground for warning. Commonwealth v. Thomas [Ky.] 104 SW 326. Evidence of insanity is not relevant to existence of adequate cause. Sartin v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 321, 103 SW 875. Where a material element of defense was that decedent had criminally assaulted defendant and that she feared another assault, it was admissible to show that defendant had been seen with bruises on her neck and arms and that deceased had been seen following her and making indecent remarks. People v. Williamson [Cal. App.] 92 P 313. Where defense was self-defense, proof of the intent of others who accompanied deceased was immaterial. Roberts v. People, 226 Ill. 296, 80 NE 776. Evidence of property rights of parties to difficulty inadmissible where self-defense and not defense of property was pleaded. State v. Blee, 133 Iowa, 725, 111 NW 19. Where evidence showed enmity between accused and deceased and that on the night of the homicide some one fired into accused's house, evidence as to shooting that occurred at his home on a prior occasion is not admissible as it was no justification. Hopper v. Com. [Ky.] 96 SW 838.

33. While dying declarations should be received with caution, slight preliminary proof will justify their admission. Moody v. State, 1 Ga. App. 772, 58 SE 262. Proper to refuse to charge that dying declarations are to be received with great caution. Brown v. State [Ala.] 43 S 194. Witness may testify that decedent told him he was going to die as predicate for dying declarations. Pate v. State [Ala.] 43 S 343. Sufficient predicate laid for admission of declarations. Id. Where deceased lingered two weeks, suffering from peritonitis, had a chill, and was worse, held, surrounding circumstances constituted sufficient predicate for admission of dying declarations. McEwen v. State [Ala.] 44 S 619.

34. Foundation for admission of dying declarations may be by express statements of decedent of his sense of impending death. State v. Biango [N. J. Law] 68 A 125. State-of impending death<sup>35</sup> and after all hope of recovery had been abandoned.<sup>36</sup> It

ment just before declaration as to shooting that he was a dead one, and asking for a priest, held admissible. State v. Kelleher, 201 Mo. 614, 100 SW 470. In laying foundation for introduction of dying declarations, not error to refuse to admit evidence that decedent refused to send for a minister or his relatives at the time. State v. Zorn, 202 Mo. 12, 100 SW 591. What decedent said at time he made dying declarations as to not wanting a minister not admissible, if not appearing whether decedent was an infidel. Id. Evidence as to decedent's advice to his relatives held not admissible in laying foundation for dying declaration. Rice v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 353, 103 SW 1156. Whether declarant was under a sense of impending death is to be determined not only from his statements but also from his conduct, manner, symptoms, and condition, which flow as the natural and reasonable results from the extent and character of his wound or illness. Williams v. State, 168 Ind. 87, 79 NE 1079.

35. It must appear that declarant was impressed with belief that death was impending. Delaney v. State [Ala.] 42 S 815. Declaration competent where declarant said he was going to die and was dead already from the stomach down. Gregory v. State [Ala.] 42 S 829. Declarations made by decedent after he stated that he knew he was going to die held dying declarations. Logan v. State [Ala.] 43 S 10. Showing that deceased told his brother that he would never get well and that he told another who made him a cigarette that it was the last one she would ever make for him held sufficient predicate for admission of his statements as dying declarations. Brown v. State [Ala.] 43 S 194. Evidence that deceased stated in response to a question that she knew she was fatally wounded is a sufficient predicate to admit dying declarations. Heninburg v. State [Ala.] 43 S 959. Written declaration after deceased had said that he was going to die held admissible though he told the magistrate who took the statement that he was feeling well and asked him if he thought he would die. Rose v. State, 144 Ala. 114, 42 S 21. Evidence sufficient to show that dying declarations were made under fear of impending death. Fogg v. State [Ark.] 99 SW 537. Where deceased said they were taking her away and that she was going to die, and showed her wound and made reference to her injuries, her statement was admissible as a dying declaration. State v. Uzzo [Del.] clarant was told she could not recover and 65 A 775. Declaration admissible where deceased she knew she would die and wanted to die, and told nurses to go away and let her die, and that she was in terrible agony. State v. Fleetwood [Del.] 65 A 772. Declarant said he could not get over it and would not live; declaration admissible though other witness testified that declarant was not "conscious" but admitted he did not know what "conscious" meant. McMillan v. State, 128 Ga. 25, 57 SE 309. Decedent, two or three hours after being shot, said to witness that he was "all in," that he was a "goner," and that defendant had made a "sieve" of his "insides." Held, declarant competent though decedent did not express in so many words a belief that he was dying. Williams v. State, 168 Ind. 87, 79 NE 1079. Wounded person on being told he would probably die said, "Boys, I am going." "Tell mother goodbye," and accused his companion of shooting him, and immediately thereafter was convulsed in the death struggle. His statement was held admissible. State v. Nowells [Iowa] 109 NW 1016. Declarations "they have killed me at last" held admissible, it appearing that they were made under belief of impending death. Commonwealth v. Hargis, 30 Ky. L. R. 510, 99 SW 348. Declarations of decedent, made within two hours of and in view of death, as to details of crime, are admissible. Bricker v. Com. [Ky.] 102 SW 1175. Declarations by one who had answered a question as to how he was "same as a dead man; I will never get out of here," as to circumstances attending shooting, are admissible. Kennedy v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 1063, 100 SW 242. Statement of deceased to witness that he was dying, and that he did not know what his wife and children would do, and that he begged F. (defendant) to go along and leave him (deceased) alone, held admissible. State v. Bohanon, 142 N. C. 695, 55 SE 797. Decedent just after he was shot said, "Boys, I am mortally wounded, I am all in," and then stated the circumstances of the shooting. He died two days later. Declaration admissible. State v. Hennessy [Nev.] 90 P 221. Decedent died a few hours after making declarations regarding the nature of her injuries, after having received the last rites of the church, and disposed of her child in expectation of death. Declarations held admissible though physician held out some hope of declarant's recovery. People v. Stacy, 104 NYS 615. Physician told decedent his case was hopeless and that only chance was an operation and that he probably would not survive, and asked if he desired to make a statement, which he did, and the statement, reduced to writing, was signed by him, and he died fifteen or twenty minutes later. Held admissible. State v. Thompson [Or.] 88 P 533. Mere statement of decedent in response to question that he knew he was in a critical condition held not to make declaration competent. Phillips v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 94 SW 1051. Declaration admissible where declarant said "I am going to die. I want my children." Rice v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 396, 94 SW 1024. Statement made fifteen minutes before death, after he had told physician he was going to die, held dying declaration. Rice v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 353, 103 SW 1156. Where decedent directly after the shooting stated "I am killed, I am dying now," and then made a statement with respect to the occurrence leading to the shooting, a sufficient predicate was laid for admission of statement as a dying declaration. Patterson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 552, 95 SW 129. Where it did not appear that deceased knew he was dying, his statement was not a dying declaration. Wilson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 365, 90 SW 312. Deceased's statement "What will become of my poor wife and children" held inadmissible. Id.

36. Decedent was shot in the arm and be-should also be made to appear that declarant was sane and rational.<sup>37</sup> Whether a sufficient foundation has been laid is usually a question for the trial court,<sup>38</sup> but is sometimes submitted to the jury.<sup>39</sup> Dying declarations are confined to the immediate acts of the homicide and the circumstances that brought it about and attended it.<sup>40</sup> That declarations were made in response to questions does not necessarily render them incompetent,<sup>41</sup> nor does the use of profane language at the same time fore physician came said he was going to die, but afterwards spoke of future plans and being a one armed man. Held his statement as to circumstances of shooting was inadmissible. Coyle v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 340, 93 SW 584. Declarant must have been under a sense of impending death without hope of recovery. Williams v. State, 168 Ind. 87, 79 NE 1079. Declarant must have been under belief of impending death, and without hope of recovery. People v. Brecht, 105 NYS 436. Victim of criminal operation was taken to hospital by physicians. She was bleeding from genital organs but able to walk from bed to table, supported. When asked she said she believed she was about to die, but also said she hoped God would let her recover. Held, her declaration as to cause of her condition was inadmissible. Id. Dying declaration must have been made under sense of impending death and after hope of recovery had been abandoned. State v. Kelleher, 201 Mo. 614, 100 SW 470. Declaration inadmissible where declarant did not appear to have given up all hope of recovery. Craven v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 373, 90 SW 311. Decedent's declaration that defendant shot him admissible on showing that his mother (witness) was with him for three days previous to his death, that he realized his approaching end, said he knew it, and had no hope of recovery. Lewis v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 89 SW 1073. Held proper to allow witness who testified to dying declaration to state also that deceased had asked him to knock him (declarant) in the head, as indicating that he had no hope of recovery. Willis v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 870, 90 SW 1100.

37. Evidence held to show that when decedent made the dying declaration he was sane and rational and in fear of impending death. Hinton v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 795, 100 SW 772.

38. People v. Brecht, 105 NYS 436. Whether a dying declaration was made under a sense of impending death is for the court. State v. Zorn, 202 Mo. 12, 100 SW 591. Where a dying declaration is offered in evidence the preliminary question of fact, whether declarant was under a sense of impending death is for the determination of the trial court, and its finding, if supported by any legal evidence, is not reviewable by ordinary writ of error. State v. Monich [N. J. Err. & App.] 64 A 1016. Where a trial court determines that a dying declaration was in fact made under a sense of impending death, the defendant is not entitled to have the jury instructed that they may review such determination and disregard the declaration if they come to a different conclusion from that reached by the trial court. Id. Court should in the absence of the jury hear facts and circumstances to show that statements and what statements were made in extremis, and permit these to be introduced. Coyle v.

Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 340, 93 SW 584. Whether declaration was made while declarant was under a sense of impending death is a question for the trial court, and its decision is reviewable only where manifest error appears. Williams v. State, 168 Ind. 87, 79 NE 1079.

39. Where decedent said he never expected to get up, the court properly submitted to the jury whether he realized that he was dying, since his statement admitted of two interpretations. Bird v. State, 128 Ga. 253, 57 SE 320. Whether sufficient predicate had been laid for admission of dying declarations held for jury. McCorquodale v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 759, 98 SW 879.

40. Declaration that decedent's wife sent her little boy for defendant when he came home the night of the homicide held too remote. Wakefield v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 558, 94 SW 1046. Dying declarations are admissible only where death of deceased is the subject of the charge and the circumstances of the death are the subject of the dying declarations. Craven v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 373, 90 SW 311. A dying declaration which involves only facts as to which decedent could have testified had he been a witness is admissible. Circumstances attending the shooting. Hinton v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 795, 100 SW 772. Statements in dying declaration as to declarations made by deceased at the time he was shot are not admissible. State v. Kelleher, 201 Mo. 614, 100 SW 470. Statement that decedent had begged accused not more than two weeks before the fatal assault not to assault him and that once before accused had wanted to kill him, but had been induced not to do so, held incompetent as a part of a dying declaration. State v. Spivey, 191 Mo. 87, 90 SW 81.

41. Answer to suggestive but not leading question held admissible in dying declaration. Rice v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 353, 103 SW 1156. Dying declarations made in response to questions which did not suggest the answer are admissible. Phillips v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 757, 98 SW 868. When evidence was circumstantial, and deceased was shot at night, and deceased stated in dying declaration that accused shot him, it is admissible that deceased stated in response to a question that he recognized defendant by the flash of the pistol. McCorquodale v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 759, 98 SW 879. It is error to eliminate from a dying declaration a statement of declarant in answer to a question of a bystander that he might be mistaken as to a material fact just stated. Arnwine v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 691, 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 446, 96 SW 4. Declaration in response to question by witness to decedent as to what he was doing when shot, and whether he threw anything, that he did not effect the admissibility of a dying declaration.<sup>42</sup> A declaration amounting to a mere conclusion is inadmissible.<sup>43</sup> Neither the declaration<sup>44</sup> nor the preliminary proof<sup>45</sup> need be in writing, and the fact that a portion of the dying declaration has been reduced to writing does not exclude supplementary oral proof.<sup>46</sup> But a written statement, not signed by deceased and omitting portions of the declaration, is inadmissible.<sup>47</sup> Dying declarations having been admitted, proof of other contradictory statements of deceased is competent,<sup>48</sup> but other statements do not render the dying declaration incompetent.<sup>49</sup> Dying declarations are entitled to the same weight as sworn testimony in court<sup>50</sup> whether in favor of the state or the defendant.<sup>51</sup>

(§ 7) D. Sufficiency.<sup>See 8 C. L. 115</sup>—In the foot notes are grouped citations to cases dealing with the sufficiency of evidence to show the corpus delicti<sup>52</sup> and other throw anything and did nothing to cause anybody "to do that to him" [shoot him], held admissible. Burroughs v. U. S., 6 Ind. T. 164, 90 SW 8.

42. That decedent used profane language before and after making declaration does not render it inadmissible. Kirby v. State [Ala.] 44 S 38.

43. Declaration "Oh, Lordy! Willie shot me for nothing, without any cause," held not objectionable as a mere conclusion. McMillan v. State, 128 Ga. 25, 57 SE 309. Dying declaration that defendant deliberately shot decedent held not objectionable as a mere conclusion. State v. Fielding [Iowa] 112 NW 539. Statements that deceased was requested to arrest defendant who was drunk and had run his family out of house, and deceased had shot defendant in self-defense, not admissible as dying declaration. State v. Horn, 204 Mo. 528, 103 SW 69. Declaration that death was caused by strychnine put into a syringe with which she injected fluid for constipation held not a conclusion. Rice v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 396, 94 SW 1024. Where dying declarations contain unimportant expressions of opinion which are not prejudicial, entire declaration may be read. Cleveland v. Com. [Ky.] 101 SW 931.

44. Dying declaration need not be reduced to writing. Kirby v. State [Ala.] 44 S 38. Admissible though partly in writing and partly in parol. Id. Competency of proof of dying declaration is for trial court. Coyle v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 340, 93 SW 584.

45. Parol evidence is admissible to show that declaration was made under sense of impending death. Cleveland v. Com. [Ky.] 101 SW 931.

46. Statements held admissible as dying declarations though other dying declarations had been reduced to writing. Pate v. State [Ala.] 43 S 343. Where dying declaration was made under oath to justice of peace and the justice reduced same to writing as far as possible, it was not improper for him not to read notes to jury. Mitchell v. State [Ark.] 101 SW 763. It was proper in addition to reading notes to supply from his recollection remainder of declarations. Id.

47. Where physician testified that he told decedent he was dying, and that decedent realized it, that he was conscious and capable of making intelligent statements, but had to be aroused from stupor to make them, that he put down statements of decedent which he thought material, omitting others, and then signed statement for decedent, the statement was inadmissible. Cooper v. State, 89 Miss. 351, 42 S 666.

48. Dying declaration having been introduced, statements afterwards made by deceased should also be admitted. Coyle v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 340, 93 SW 584. A dying declaration having been introduced, the state was entitled to introduce contradictory statements made by deceased about the same time. State v. Uzzo [Del.] 65 A 775. Where dying declarations are admitted, it is proper to admit other statements contradictory thereto. McCorquodale v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 759, 98 SW 879.

49. The mere fact that a witness may at different times have made different statements as to dying declarations does not authorize the court to withhold them from the jury. Carter v. State [Ga. App.] 58 SE 532.

50. Dying declarations are entitled to as much weight as if made under oath duly administered in a court of justice. State v. Fleetwood [Del.] 65 A 772.

51. Dying declarations are entitled to the same credit whether in favor of the state or defendant. State v. Uzzo [Del.] 65 A 775. Error to exclude dying declaration on theory that it was favorable to accused. Green v. State, 89 Miss. 331, 42 S 797.

52. Evidence sufficient to show that deceased was killed by a shot from defendant's gun fired with criminal intent. People v. Grill [Cal.] 91 P 515. Evidence of corpus delicti held for the jury where accused confessed to killing and throwing body in river, and letters from deceased had been received from near where he had been seen last, and there was other evidence of the crime. Leftridge v. U. S., 6 Ind. T. 305, 97 SW 1018. The corpus delicti, consisting of the death of the person alleged to have been killed and the criminal agency of some one causing death, may be established by circumstantial evidence. State v. Barrington, 198 Mo. 23, 95 SW 235. Where there was a confession, full proof of the corpus delicti, independently of the confession, was held unnecessary in a prosecution for murder the confession being corroborated. State v. Banusik [N. J. Err. & App.] 64 A 994. Evidence that new born babe's throat was cut is insufficient to show that it was born alive and murdered. Berryman v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 111, 101 SW 225. Evidence insufficient to establish corpus delicti where new born babe was alleged to have been killed. McCowan v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 101, 100 SW 1157.

elements of the crime charged,<sup>53</sup> and to sustain generally convictions of murder,<sup>54</sup> manslaughter,<sup>55</sup> and assault.<sup>56</sup>

Corpus delicti may be proven by testimony of accomplices corroborated by confession of defendant, and vice versa. Fallis v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 120, 101 SW 242. Corpus delicti sufficiently proved by confession and testimony as to corpse being taken from a river having clothes on similar to those worn by decedent. Id. To sustain conviction for destroying life of child during parturition, there must be proof that child was born alive or was alive at the inception of its birth. Evans v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 89 SW 974. Evidence sufficient to show that child was born alive and was killed by mother. Heubner v. State, 131 Wis. 162, 111 NW 63. Evidence that the description of a man by that name when living corresponded with the description of the dead man found, and a witness identified the dead man as the man alleged to have been murdered, held sufficient to show that the man alleged to have been murdered was dead. Bull v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 949, 96 SW 817. Circumstantial evidence of corpus delicti held sufficient. Perovich v. U. S., 205 U. S. 86, 51 Law. Ed. 722.

53. Evidence sufficient to identify defendant as murderer. People v. Sexton, 187 N. Y. 495, 80 NE 396. An allegation that death was caused by means, instruments, and weapons to the grand jurors unknown need not be proven in the first instance by the people. Koser v. People, 224 Ill. 201, 79 NE 615. Evidence sufficient to show that killing was done with a knife and that the knife was a deadly weapon. Armstrong v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 519, 96 SW 15. On prosecution for assault with intent to murder, evidence sufficient to show that defendant knew prosecuting witness was an officer. Chaney v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 780, 98 SW 847. Evidence sufficient to show that at the time decedent was shot by defendant he was a peace officer and acting as such. Hull v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 772, 100 SW 403. Where evidence showed that one brother stabbed decedent and the other struck him a blow on the head which contributed to his death, the latter was guilty of homicide. Dempsey v. State [Ark.] 102 SW 704. Evidence sufficient to establish venue of offense. Kennedy v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 1063, 100 SW 242. Evidence sufficient to show preparation and premeditation. State v. McDowell [N. C.] 59 SE 690. Evidence sufficient to show that killing was premeditated and deliberate. State v. Jones [N. C.] 59 SE 353. Where defendant claimed self-defense, evidence held to show premeditated killing. People v. Wenzel [N. Y.] 82 NE 130. Evidence held to support finding that deceased was shot pursuant to a conspiracy, and not in defense of defendant's mother. Smith v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 13 Tex. Ct. Rep. 939, 89 SW 817. Evidence sufficient to show conspiracy to kill. Sanderson v. State [Ind.] 82 NE 525. Evidence sufficient to show that one of two defendants aided and abetted the other, and that there was a common design or purpose to kill. State v. Kendall, 143 N. C. 659, 57 SE 340. Evidence sufficient to show a conspiracy between accused and others to murder deceased. Hall v. Com. [Ky.] 101 SW 376. Evidence sufficient to show that accused aided and abetted another in the killing. Coffman v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 701, 103 SW 1128.

Evidence sufficient to take issue to jury: Whether decedent or accused brought on fatal encounter held for the jury. Burton v. State [Ark.] 102 SW 362. Evidence of conspiracy between accused and others to murder deceased held to raise a question for the jury. State v. Spough, 200 Mo. 571, 98 SW 55. Evidence of conspiracy between defendants to assault deceased held sufficient to carry that theory to the jury. State v. Darling, 199 Mo. 168, 97 SW 592. In assault with intent to kill, it is proper to refuse a general affirmative charge for defendant where evidence shows that he shot at prosecutor from outside through window of his own house. Williams v. State [Ala.] 43 S 720. Held proper to refuse to direct acquittal on the evidence. Moss v. State [Ala.] 44 S 598. Evidence held for the jury as to whether the wife of the decedent fired the fatal shot while attempting to assist him in repelling a murderous attack by the accused. Oates v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 95 SW 105. Evidence of malice held for jury. State v. Pyles, 206 Mo. 626, 105 SW 613. Whether an assault with intent to kill was the result of giving way to sudden passion, reasonably excited, and in resentment of insult, or whether it was in execution of formed design to take life, seizing upon the words of assaulted as a mere pretext, is for the jury. Griffin v. State [Ala.] 43 S 197. Question of guilt of one charged with murder held for the jury. Young v. State [Ala.] 43 S 100. Evidence sufficient to go to the jury on question of whether accused killed deceased. State v. Spough, 200 Mo. 571, 98 SW 55. Evidence of defendant's guilt held for the jury. Bacigalupi v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 1320, 101 SW 311. Evidence of self-defense held for the jury. State v. King, 203 Mo. 560, 102 SW 515. Evidence as to justification held for the jury. State v. Johnson [Wash.] 91 P 949.

54. First degree: Evidence sufficient to sustain conviction. Smith v. State, 79 Ark. 25, 94 SW 918; Nash v. State, 79 Ark. 120, 95 SW 147; Goddard v. State, 78 Ark. 226, 95 SW 476; Mitchell v. State [Ark.] 101 SW 763; People v. Clark [Cal.] 90 P 549; Brewer v. State [Fla.] 43 S 423; Long v. State, 127 Ga. 350, 56 SE 444; Caesar v. State, 127 Ga. 710, 57 SE 66; McDonald v. State [Ga.] 59 SE 242; McCann v. People, 226 Ill. 562, 80 NE 1061; Bleich v. People, 227 Ill. 80, 81 NE 36; Clefford v. People, 229 Ill. 633, 82 NE 343; Johnson v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 442, 93 SW 581; Bull v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 949, 96 SW 817; Hopper v. Com. [Ky.] 96 SW 838; Williamson v. Com. [Ky.] 101 SW 370; Ball v. Com. [Ky.] 101 SW 956; Newton v. Com. [Ky.] 102 SW 264; State v. Eaton, 191 Mo. 151, 89 SW 949; State v. Barrington, 193 Mo. 23, 95 SW 235; State v. Francis, 199 Mo. 671, 98 SW 11; State v. Gordon, 199 Mo. 561, 98 SW 39; State v. Brooks, 202 Mo. 106, 100 SW 416; State v. West, 202 Mo. 128, 100 SW 478; State v. Long, 201 Mo. 664, 100 SW 587;

State v. King, 203 Mo. 560, 102 SW 515; People v. Ciardi, 188 N. Y. 145, 80 NE 925; People v. Nelson [N. Y.] 81 NE 768; People v. Bonier [N. Y.] 81 NE 949; State v. Guthrie [N. C.] 59 SE 652; Commonwealth v. Ferri [Pa.] 68 A 41; Ransom v. State, 116 Tenn. 355, 96 SW 953; Powers v. State, 117 Tenn. 363, 97 SW 815; Frazier v. State, 117 Tenn. 430, 100 SW 94; Holder v. State [Tenn.] 104 SW 225; Adams v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 15 Tex. Ct. Rep. 685, 93 SW 116; Brown v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 95 SW 1039; Powell v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 722, 99 SW 1005; Gregg v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 89, 100 SW 1161; Vaughn v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 96, 101 SW 445; Salinas v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 102 SW 116; Williams v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 102 SW 413. Where officer making arrest was murdered. State v. Spaugh, 200 Mo. 571, 98 SW 55. Circumstantial evidence held sufficient to sustain a conviction of murder. Porch v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 463, 99 SW 102. Evidence sufficient to show willful murder. France v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 1297, 100 SW 1193. Where husband and wife quarreled and he threw her down, procured a gun and she was shot, evidence held to show murder in first degree. Beene v. State, 79 Ark. 460, 96 SW 151. Evidence held to support conviction for willful murder by sharp instrument as alleged. Johnson v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 675, 94 SW 631. Evidence sufficient to sustain conviction of murder and infliction of death penalty. Johnson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 244, 94 SW 224. Conviction of murder held sustained by evidence though connection of defendant with crime was shown wholly by circumstantial evidence. Flinchum v. Com., 28 Ky. L. R. 653, 89 SW 1129. Evidence held to show deliberation and premeditation and to sustain conviction of murder in the first degree. State v. Bank, 143 N. C. 652, 57 SE 174. Evidence sufficient to sustain conviction of murder in the first degree (by administering poison). State v. Thomas [Iowa] 109 NW 900. Evidence sufficient to sustain conviction of murder in first degree; defense of mental epilepsy or epileptic furor not sustained. People v. Furlong [N.Y.] 79 NE 978. Evidence sufficient to support conviction of murder by attempt to produce an abortion. Clark v. People, 224 Ill. 554, 79 NE 941.

Second degree: Evidence sufficient to sustain conviction; Samanlego v. Ter. [Ariz.] 55 P 721; Traylor v. State [Ark.] 96 SW 505; People v. Quimby [Cal. App.] 92 P 493; State v. Pyles, 206 Mo. 626, 105 SW 613; People v. Yoskow, 117 App. Div. 75, 20 Crim. R. 527, 101 NYS 1062; People v. Ferone, 105 NYS 448; Martin v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 63, 95 SW 501; Pinson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 702, 96 SW 23; Perkins v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 357, 97 SW 1047; White v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 816, 100 SW 941; Hickey v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 142, 102 SW 417; Bailey v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 20 Tex. Ct. Rep. 174, 105 SW 792. Evidence sufficient to show murder in second degree of defendant why he abused his daughter supports murder in second degree. Lucas v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 105 SW 788. Evidence that decedent did nothing but degree where accused on hearing that deceased had insulted his mother went to his house and shot him. Pipkin v. State [Ark.] 97 SW 61. Proof that accused shot deceased from the rear while he was walking along a public road oblivious to defendant's presence sufficient to sustain murder in second degree. Richardson v. State, 80 Ark. 201, 96 SW 752. Proof of corpus by wounds, etc., and defendant's confession held sufficient to support conviction for murder in second degree. Gallegos v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 90 SW 492. Evidence sufficient to sustain conviction of murder in second degree though defendant claimed killing to be accidental. People v. Bonifacio, 104 NYS 181.

Evidence insufficient to sustain conviction for murder. Berryman v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 111, 101 SW 225. Evidence insufficient to warrant conviction of murder in second degree. Chambless v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 97 SW 472. Where charge is murder by administration of a particular poison, proof that accused had that poison in his possession at the time of the alleged offense is necessary to a conviction. Evidence held insufficient to show that accused had arsenic in his possession. State v. Blydenburg [Iowa] 112 NW 634. Evidence insufficient to justify conviction where defense was justifiable homicide. State v. Le-pine [S. D.] 113 NW 1076.

55. Evidence sufficient to sustain a conviction of voluntary manslaughter. Myers v. State, 78 Ark. 302, 95 SW 771; Douglass v. State [Fla.] 43 S 424; Lee v. State [Ga. App.] 58 SE 676; Harris v. State [Ga. App.] 58 SE 680; White v. State [Ga. App.] 58 SE 686; Kennedy v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 1063, 100 SW 242; Freeman v. Com. [Ky.] 103 SW 274; Stuart v. Com. [Ky.] 105 SW 170; McCoy v. State [Miss.] 44 S 814. To reduce murder to manslaughter, or to excuse the homicide, defendant need only "satisfy the jury" as to the existence of the necessary facts; he need not prove them beyond a reasonable doubt. Taylor v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 563, 93 SW 1042; State v. Kendall, 143 N. C. 659, 57 SE 340.

Evidence held insufficient to support conviction for involuntary manslaughter caused by failure to provide necessities and medical attendance for wife during childbirth. Westrup v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 519, 93 SW 646. State's evidence that accused shot deceased on his refusal to obey an order not to approach him, and defendant testified that as he was about to shoot at a tree a bystander pulled his gun aside and it was accidentally discharged and killed decedent, does not show negligent homicide but accidental shooting. Jones v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 95 SW 539. Evidence insufficient to sustain conviction for manslaughter. Lindsey v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 473, 98 SW 856. Evidence insufficient to go to the jury on the question of manslaughter. Mitchell v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 45, 100 SW 930.

56. Evidence sufficient to sustain assault in second degree. Defense was alibi. People v. Maggiore, 104 NYS 526. Conviction of assault with intent to commit murder sustained. Jackson v. State, 125 Ga. 101, 53 SE 607. The testimony of the prosecutor that he was "cut" and "stabbed" with a knife by defendant is sufficient to authorize the jury in finding that there was in fact such penetration as would constitute the offense of stabbing. Miller v. State, 125 Ga. 783, 54 SE

§ 8. Trial and punishment. A. Conduct of trial in general. See 8 C. L. 117.—In general, all questions of fact are for the jury.<sup>57</sup> The sufficiency of the evidence may be for the court under certain circumstances.<sup>58</sup>

(§ 8) B. Instructions. See 8 C. L. 117.—Instructions should not be argumentative,<sup>59</sup> confusing,<sup>60</sup> or misleading,<sup>61</sup> but should present the entire law of the case<sup>62</sup>

692. Evidence held to warrant verdict of shooting at another. Parker v. State, 1 Ga. App. 781, 57 SE 1028. Evidence held to support finding of intent to kill, in trial for assault with intent to kill. Jackson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 90 SW 34. Evidence sufficient to show intent to kill, in trial of assault with intent to kill, where defendant struck prosecutor from behind with a piece of scantling. Wright v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 90 SW 36. Evidence of shooting in attempt to rob held to sustain conviction of assault with intent to kill. Jones v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 592, 95 SW 1044. Evidence of unprovoked assault with rock held to sustain conviction of assault with intent to kill. State v. Tetrick, 199 Mo. 100, 97 SW 564.

Evidence sufficient to authorize conviction of assault with intent to kill. Satterwhite v. State [Ark.] 100 SW 70; Fews v. State, 1 Ga. App. 122, 58 SE 64; Dawson v. State [Ga. App.] 58 SE 1065; State v. Foister, 202 Mo. 46, 100 SW 442; State v. Arnold, 206 Mo. 589, 105 SW 641; Mayes v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 966, 100 SW 386; Wilson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 100 SW 956; Jackson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 279, 103 SW 927.

Evidence insufficient to show assault with intent to kill. State v. Williamson, 203 Mo. 591, 102 SW 519; Nalley v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 821, 100 SW 385.

57. Whether piece of timber was deadly weapon held question for jury. Allen v. State [Ala.] 42 S 1006. Whether a weapon is a deadly one is usually a question for the court but may be for the jury in particular cases. Tribble v. State, 145 Ala. 23, 40 S 938. Where a knife found at scene of crime is introduced, the connection of the knife with the crime is for the jury. Commonwealth v. Karamarkovic [Pa.] 67 A 650. Whether one had reason to act in self-defense held for the jury. State v. Darling, 202 Mo. 150, 100 SW 621. Not error to refuse to charge that unless there was other evidence than that of assaulted person that defendant committed the assault the jury could not convict. Williams v. State [Ala.] 43 S 720. Evidence held for the jury as to whether there was a conspiracy between accused and his relatives to kill deceased by an instruction requiring that before defendant could be convicted it must be found that he aided, advised, or commanded the shooting. Lowe v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 199, 97 SW 765. Under Pen. Code 1895, art. 717, providing that the instrument with which the crime is committed is to be considered in judging the intent, the question of intent should be submitted where it is not shown that the knife used was a deadly weapon and defendant testified that he hurt deceased to a greater extent than he intended. Williams v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 586, 96 SW 42. Evidence as to whether accused acted in self-defense held for the jury. Mitchell v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 45, 100 SW 930.

58. Whether there is malice is for the jury if there is evidence to sustain a finding; whether there is any evidence is for the court in giving instructions; whether there is sufficient evidence to sustain a verdict is for court on motion for new trial. State v. Clifford, 59 W. Va. 1, 52 SE 981.

59. Request properly refused as argumentative. Thomas v. State [Ala.] 42 S 371; Kirby v. State [Ala.] 44 S 38; Strickland v. State [Ala.] 44 S 90. Instruction to consider the fact that killing was with weapon taken from deceased in determining grade of homicide argumentative. Outler v. State, 147 Ala. 39, 41 S 460. Instruction using phrase "mere fact that defendant killed decedent" held argumentative. Allen v. State [Ala.] 42 S 1006. Instruction held argumentative because leading jury to believe that evidence showed a mere reckless taking of human life. Id. Instruction on alibi held argumentative. Rigsby v. State [Ala.] 44 S 608. Request as to effect of intoxication held argumentative. Davis v. State [Ala.] 44 S 561. Request on self-defense properly refused as argumentative. Fleming v. State [Ala.] 43 S 219. Instruction as to who was aggressor and rights of parties held argumentative. Davis v. State [Ala.] 44 S 561. Request that possession of deadly weapon may be explained so as to create no presumption against defendant is argumentative and abstract. Kirby v. State [Ala.] 44 S 38. Instruction that fact that accused had but one arm is to be considered as argumentative. Patterson v. State, 146 Ala. 39, 41 S 157. Instruction that it was for the jury to say whether any punishment should be given a peaceable man killing a violent and turbulent one who had previously assaulted him properly refused. Harrison v. State [Ala.] 40 S 57. Instruction properly refused as argumentative. State v. Edwards, 203 Mo. 528, 102 SW 520.

60. Instruction in trial for assault using term "deceased" properly refused. Wright v. State [Ala.] 42 S 745. Instruction erroneous because confusing the doctrines of justifiable homicide, reasonable fears, and self-defense (Pen. Code 1895, §§ 70, 71, 73). Pryer v. State, 128 Ga. 28, 57 SE 93. Pen. Code 1895, § 73, does not qualify law of justifiable homicide contained in §§ 70, 71, and instructions as to these two branches of the law need not be given so as to confuse one with the other. Lightsy v. State [Ga. App.] 58 SE 686.

61. Charge held misleading as putting too great emphasis on character of deceased. Bluett v. State [Ala.] 44 S 84. Instruction as to belief jury must entertain from the evidence held misleading. Andrews v. State [Ala.] 44 S 696. Request as to reasonable doubt held misleading. Davis v. State [Ala.] 44 S 561. Instruction as to belief from facts proven held misleading. Moss v. State [Ala.] 44 S 598. Instruction held misleading because not based on evidence. Foglia v. People, 229 Ill. 286, 82 NE 262. Instruction clearly and intelligibly.<sup>63</sup> They should conform to the indictment<sup>64</sup> and the evidence.<sup>65</sup> The court should not in its instructions invade the province of the jury,<sup>66</sup> as to reasonable doubt properly refused as misleading. Thomas v. State [Ala.] 43 S 371. Instruction misleading as to provoking difficulty resulting in homicide. Hanners v. State, 147 Ala. 27, 41 S 973. Instruction as to presumptions of innocence and burden of proof held misleading. Frazier v. State, 117 Tenn. 430, 100 SW 94. Instruction held erroneous as susceptible of the construction that if defendant shot in revenge for treatment of his companion it would be murder in second degree. State v. McDowell [N. C.] 59 SE 690. Instruction requested on assault with intent to kill held misleading and bad in form because not stating conditions under which conclusion that defendant was acting in self-defense could be drawn. Grisham v. State, 147 Ala. 1, 41 S 997. Instruction that defendant's good character could be considered, if shown, as a circumstance tending to show innocence, held misleading when there was no evidence of good character. State v. Penna, 35 Mont. 535, 90 P 787. An instruction that defendant had a right to visit his minor child properly refused where the evidence was that he endeavored by violence and with a deadly weapon to force an entrance to the house where the child was. People v. Feld, 149 Cal. 464, 86 P 1100. Where there was some evidence of a conspiracy between defendant and another, a requested instruction that defendant could not be convicted unless the evidence established his guilt, independent of the other, beyond all reasonable doubt, was properly refused as misleading. Hanners v. State, 147 Ala. 27, 41 S 973. Instructions as to what would constitute murder and what would justify the homicide held not misleading. Teague v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 160 SW 401. An instruction that the fact that deceased struck accused with a shoe last would not justify the killing, considered in connection with other instructions on the issue of self-defense, held not misleading. Brown v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 548, 95 SW 126. Instruction for acquittal if specific intent is not shown properly refused where conviction of included offense might be had. Millender v. State, 147 Ala. 688, 40 S 664. Instructions construed and held not to authorize finding one of several defendants indicted for assault to murder guilty of one of several offenses. Greenwell v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 1282, 100 SW 852. Instruction mentioning accidental homicide as a special defense held not to place burden of proof on defendant. State v. Mack [S. C.] 57 SE 1107. Instruction held not misleading as leading jury to believe that accused had burden to prove facts reducing crime to manslaughter. Ball v. Com. [Ky.] 101 SW 956. Instructions as to provoking difficulty held not misleading. Lahue v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 125, 101 SW 1008. Instruction as to how evidence of intoxication of defendant should be considered held not misleading. People v. Hower [Cal. App.] 91 P 507. Instruction on provocation which would reduce the killing to manslaughter held not misleading because of omission of a word. Green v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 907, 105 SW 205. Instruction as to form of verdict on trial of two that one might be found guilty of murder and the other of manslaughter did not place two separate and distinct crimes before the jury. Foglia v. People, 229 Ill. 286, 82 NE 262. Request held misleading as requiring state to prove that accused could not be guilty. McEwen v. State [Ala.] 44 S 619.

62. In prosecution for killing a peace officer who was making arrest, leaving jury to determine proper manner to make arrest and failing to hypothesize knowledge of defendant of decedent's official character, is error. Strickland v. State [Ala.] 44 S 90. Proper to refuse to charge that accused should not be tried according to Bible but according to law as given in instructions. Brown v. State [Ala.] 43 S 194.

63. Request properly refused as incomplete and unintelligible. Davis v. State [Ala.] 44 S 561. Charge on reasonable doubt and self-defense held unintelligible. Rice v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 353, 103 SW 1156. Instructions as to reasonable doubt held not objectionable as being unintelligible. State v. Brooks, 202 Mo. 106, 100 SW 416. Request properly refused as abstract. Thomas v. State [Ala.] 43 S 371. Request properly refused as elliptical. Strickland v. State [Ala.] 44 S 90. A general charge that homicide must have been willful is not sufficiently specific where the defense is that it was per information. State v. Vicknair, 118 La. 963, 43 S 635.

64. An instruction to find a defendant not guilty under a certain count, ignoring other counts which were good, held erroneous. Koser v. People, 224 Ill. 201, 79 NE 615. Instruction that defendant would be guilty notwithstanding he believed he was killing another than deceased proper, though there was no corresponding allegation in the indictment. Thompkins v. Com., 28 Ky. L. R. 642, 90 SW 221.

65. Instructions criticized as not conforming to the evidence. Lucas v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 776, 90 SW 880. Request as to impairment of faculties by drink held abstract. Davis v. State [Ala.] 44 S 561. Charge which merely directs attention to excluded evidence properly refused. Bluett v. State [Ala.] 44 S 84. Whether there is proof of a declaration by defendant "we have come here to kill" deceased, instruction assuming that the proof of conspiracy to kill is circumstantial is properly refused. Morris v. State, 146 Ala. 66, 41 S 274. Instruction on right of men to assemble and co-operate in securing increased wages held inapplicable to issues and erroneous in trial of charge of murder, though difficulty arose between union and nonunion men. State v. Hennessy [Nev.] 90 P 221. No necessity for defining conspiracy where such element was eliminated from the case. Cecil v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 803, 100 SW 390. On trial of several for assault with intent to kill, evidence held not to require that they should believe that one of their number was in danger before one of them could act. Greenwell v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 1282, 100 SW 852. Not error to refuse to instruct on circumstantial evidence where all evidence was direct.

as by commenting on the evidence in such manner as to intimate an opinion,<sup>67</sup> or give undue prominence to a particular fact or theory,<sup>68</sup> or by assuming as true disputed facts,<sup>69</sup> though uncontroverted facts may properly be assumed as true.<sup>70</sup>

State v. Paulsgrove [Mo.] 101 SW 27. Where evidence showed that decedent went to defendant's house for trouble and commenced shooting as soon as decedent appeared, instruction as to his rights if he went on a peaceful mission was not warranted. Tillman v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 87, 101 SW 210. Instruction that accused was entitled to protect his home is not warranted where it appears that deceased was killed on the highway and there was no evidence that he was attempting to come on defendant's premises. Williamson v. Com. [Ky.] 101 SW 370. Where there was no evidence that defendant was trying to arrest decedent for a felony, instruction on that theory properly refused. Mitchell v. State [Ark.] 101 SW 763. Where there was no proof of conspiracy, it was not error to refuse a charge thereon. State v. King, 203 Mo. 560, 102 SW 515. Request to charge as to liability of conspirators where no conspiracy to kill existed, but the killing was done by one while another held decedent, and two other persons were killed at same time. State v. Vaughan, 203 Mo. 663, 102 SW 644. Instruction as to right to kill in self-defense properly refused as not applicable to the evidence. Hopper v. Com. [Ky.] 96 SW 538. Instructions as to threats by deceased, based on facts not in evidence, should not be given. State v. Birks, 199 Mo. 263, 97 SW 578. On prosecution of convicts for killing prison guard in furtherance of concerted plan to escape, instruction properly refused as predicated on testimony inconsistent with physical facts. State v. Vaughan, 200 Mo. 1, 98 SW 2. Where there was no evidence that defendant was in danger, an instruction which leads the jury to believe that he was is erroneous. Ellis v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 348, 98 SW 278.

66. Instruction as to duty to retreat held to invade province of jury. Kirby v. State [Ala.] 44 S 38. Charge that threats are of very little importance invades province of jury. Dorsey v. State [Ga. App.] 58 SE 477. Charge on presumption of malice properly refused because invading province of jury and not hypothesizing unworthiness of belief of defendant's evidence. Allen v. State [Ala.] 42 S 1006. The power and duty of the jury to ascertain the degree of murder is fixed by law, and a peremptory instruction taking from it the power to do so is erroneous. Commonwealth v. Curcio, 216 Pa. 380, 65 A 792. Where indictment charges murder by means of poison, the degree or grade of the crime is for the jury, and the court cannot properly peremptorily instruct to find defendant guilty of murder in the first degree, if at all. State v. Phinney [Idaho] 89 P 634. Instruction that jury could not infer malice from use of deadly weapon if evidence showed any circumstances from which a want of malice might be inferred held to invade province of jury. Austin v. State, 145 Ala. 37, 40 S 989. Instruction as to facts reducing crime to manslaughter held not to take from the jury, as an adequate cause, the passion aroused by threats of deceased and the pistol drawn by him.

Ham v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 451, 98 SW 875. In prosecution for murder of infant its mother testified to its complete birth, and a physician that it could not have been still born. Held an instruction that child was in actual and complete existence was properly refused. Tune v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 249, 94 SW 231. A judge may tell the jury how the testimony strikes his mind, both as to force and inferences he would draw from it. State v. Schuyler [N. J. Err. & App.] 68 A 56. While it is necessary in order to sustain assault with intent to kill that the evidence should show that if death had ensued defendant would be guilty of murder, it is error to charge such fact. Burris v. State [Ga. App.] 58 SE 545. Also error to charge that he would be guilty of voluntary stabbing if the crime would have been voluntary manslaughter had death ensued. Id. But it is proper to charge that the proof must show that if the act had resulted in death the crime would have been murder, and if the proof does show such fact the crime is assault with intent to kill. Dawson v. State [Ga. App.] 58 SE 1065.

67. Instruction held on weight of evidence. Davis v. State [Ala.] 44 S 561. Instruction as to belief from evidence held on weight of evidence. Rigsby v. State [Ala.] 44 S 608. Instruction on self-defense held not on weight of evidence. Logan v. State [Ala.] 43 S 10. Instruction that state had introduced evidence showing a certain fact is on the weight of evidence. Benson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 257, 103 SW 911. Instruction held erroneous as singling out particular parts of evidence and ignoring other evidence. State v. Horn, 204 Mo. 528, 103 SW 69. Instruction that confession cannot be looked to for corroboration of testimony of accomplice is on weight of evidence. Follis v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 120, 101 SW 242. Instruction on self-defense held on weight of evidence. King v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 112, 101 SW 237. Instruction as to purchase of weapons held on weight of evidence. Dobbs v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 64, 100 SW 946. Instruction as to proof required to establish murder in first degree held not on weight of evidence. Gregg v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 89, 100 SW 1161. Instruction in assault with intent to kill erroneous as justifying inference that the judge thought that there was unlawful and deliberate use of gun as deadly weapon, though it was not used to shoot with. Woods v. State [Miss.] 43 S 289; Id., 43 S 433.

68. Instruction held erroneous as giving undue prominence to the view that the accused was not entitled to a verdict of manslaughter. Fuller v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 413, 95 SW 541. Portions of evidence should not be singled out and charged upon. Green v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 907, 105 SW 205. Proper to refuse charges embodying conclusions on facts or bringing out particular facts when general charge covers the law of the case. State v. Rideau, 118 La. 385, 42

The instructions should submit all issues,<sup>71</sup> defenses,<sup>72</sup> and aspects thereof.<sup>73</sup>

S 973. Instruction held erroneous as singling out portions of evidence. Begg v. State [Ala.] 43 S 484.

69. Charge held not to assume facts. Robinson v. State [Ga.] 58 SE 842. Instruction held not to assume that insults offered a female must have been established as a fact. Bays v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 99 SW 561. Instruction that accused could not justify the killing by showing that he was subsequently attacked by friends of deceased, but that such attack must have preceded the killing, held not to assume facts and exclude theory of self-defense. Nash v. State, 79 Ark. 120, 95 SW 147. Instruction relative to aggressors held not to assume that accused brought on the difficulty. West v. State [Fla.] 43 S 445.

70. Uncontroverted facts may be assumed. Powers v. State, 117 Tenn. 363, 97 SW 815.

71. Instruction ignoring theory of conspiracy between accused and another to kill held erroneous. Ferguson v. State [Ala.] 43 S 16. Where it is an issue of fact whether the name of deceased was as alleged, an instruction for acquittal, unless it be proved as laid beyond a reasonable doubt, should be given. Stallworth v. State, 146 Ala. 8, 41 S 184. Instruction as to homicide in attempt to arrest should hypothesize good faith, where there is evidence that the arrest was but a pretext. Hammond v. State, 147 Ala. 79, 41 S 761. Use of word "compelling" in instruction that if accused armed himself with intention of compelling decedent to apologize and shot him when he did not held not error though no witness had used word "compel." Pipkin v. State [Ark.] 97 SW 61. Where there is evidence that defendant was aggressor, it is proper to charge on that theory. Vasquez v. State [Fla.] 44 S 739. Where evidence of specific acts of violence is admitted by agreement to show the character of one for violence, it is not error to instruct that jury may consider such evidence, since it was admitted by agreement, but that a character for violence cannot in law be established by proof of specific acts. Long v. State, 127 Ga. 350, 56 SE 444. Evidence held to sustain charge on mutual combat. Goodin v. State, 126 Ga. 560, 55 SE 503. Where insurance on life of deceased was the alleged motive, an instruction that the invalidity of the policy was immaterial if defendant believed it valid sustained. State v. Woodard, 132 Iowa, 675, 108 NW 753. Where evidence was conflicting on question whether defendant was present in room where homicide was committed, aiding and abetting in the killing, it was proper to submit that issue to the jury. State v. Williams, 76 S. C. 135, 56 SE 783. Where defendant testified that difficulty began in an unprovoked assault on him by deceased persons, who pulled him off his horse and assaulted him, an instruction on manslaughter leaving to the jury the question whether the assault was one which would produce passion in a person of ordinary temper should have been given. Arnwine v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 90 SW 39. Fact that defendant testified to facts showing an alibi held not to justify court in failing to charge on manslaughter, when that was made an issue by other evidence in the case. Lewis v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 89 SW 1073. Where evidence was conflicting on question whether deceased had a pistol, instruction should have been given on presumption arising from deceased's having had a pistol. McMichael v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 93 SW 723. In assault with intent to kill, the court should have charged that if there was any evidence that prosecuting witness told witnesses that difficulty arose from fact that accused had a gun, was noisy, and because prosecutor was remonstrating with him against such conduct, such evidence should not be considered as original, but only to support credibility of prosecutor. Brundidge v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 95 SW 527.

72. Where no eyewitness of a homicide testifies to the facts thereof, it is the duty of the court to charge on the law of self-defense. Messer v. Com., 28 Ky. L. R. 920, 90 SW 955. Deceased was killed by co-defendant while latter was attempting to arrest deceased under a warrant. Defendant was prosecutor and accompanied codefendant, but was unarmed, took no part in arrest, and stayed outside premises. Held these facts required a charge to acquit defendant. Neeley v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 408, 93 SW 596. A defendant is entitled to have submitted all defenses having support in the evidence, whether consistent or inconsistent, and the court properly charged on accidental killing as well as justifiable homicide. State v. Hazlett [N. D.] 113 NW 374. Instruction should have been given on right to defend another reasonably believed to be in great danger. State v. Hennessy [Nev.] 90 P 221. Evidence sufficient to justify charge on self-defense. Commonwealth v. Thomas [Ky.] 104 SW 326. Where accused testified that he was only holding his pistol in readiness to defend himself if decedent got a gun, and it appeared that he could have shot decedent at any time for several minutes prior to the shooting, and accused testified that his pistol went off by accident. Pen. Code 1895, art. 45, relative to accident, should have been charged. Miller v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 20 Tex. Ct. Rep. 3, 105 SW 502. Where there is evidence tending to show homicide in self-defense, defendant is entitled to an instruction on reasonable doubt in connection with threatened danger to life. Harris v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 89 SW 1064.

73. Where killing was done while decedent was advancing to attack defendant, instructions as to attack and pending attack should be given. Benson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 257, 103 SW 911. Where defendant was intoxicated, it is proper to instruct on the question of drunkenness though it was not interposed as a defense. Bleich v. People, 227 Ill. 80, 81 NE 36. Where there is evidence of sudden affray, an instruction on voluntary manslaughter ignoring this phase of case is error. Kennedy v. Com. [Ky.] 102 SW 863. Where deceased had threatened to kill defendant and was approaching him with drawn knife at the time he was killed, an instruction giving pertinent application to law of threats in connection with self-defense was warranted. Fisher v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 811, 98 SW 852. Where insanity was and all offenses included in the charge against defendant<sup>74</sup> of which there is evirelied on as a defense, a charge that irresistible impulse is no defense is not erroneous as presenting a false issue. People v. Buck [Cal.] 91 P 529. Where the court gave a charge embodying the law concretely on the subject of justifiable homicide, a charge embodying the entire field of the law as embraced in Pen. Code, § 197, was not error. People v. Quimby [Cal. App.] 92 P 493.

74. Instruction that highest degree which jury could find was murder in the second degree properly refused where murder in first degree could be found. Gordon v. State, 147 Ala. 42, 41 S 847. Evidence authorized instruction on voluntary manslaughter. Freeman v. State, 1 Ga. App. 276, 57 SE 924. Prejudicial error to fail to instruct on law of involuntary manslaughter in commission of a lawful act without due caution and circumspection, where evidence would have supported conviction of that offense. Ray v. State, 127 Ga. 52, 55 SE 1046. Evidence held to authorize charge on manslaughter. Pryer v. State, 128 Ga. 28, 57 SE 93. Error to omit charge on manslaughter, though not requested, where evidence did not warrant conviction of higher offense. May v. State, 89 Miss. 291, 42 S 164. Evidence regarding difficulty between defendant and decedent held to require instruction on manslaughter in the fourth degree arising from heat of passion. State v. Spivey, 191 Mo. 87, 90 SW 81. Evidence held to require instruction on manslaughter in fourth degree where deceased came upon defendant unawares and threatened and attacked him. State v. Walker, 196 Mo. 73, 93 SW 384. Defendant's testimony that he did not remember how killing occurred, but only that he pulled out his gun and shot the deceased, that he was under the influence of liquor and did not desire to kill deceased, held to require an instruction on manslaughter in the first degree as defined by Pen. Code, § 189. People v. Granger [N. Y.] 79 NE 833. In assault with intent to kill if proof shows lower offense, the jury should be instructed as to the law thereof. Prescott v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 881, 105 SW 192. On prosecution for negligent homicide, where there was no direct evidence that accused, an officer, shot toward deceased to scare him, but he first denied that he shot and then admitted that he shot decedent accidentally, held to justify a charge as to his liability if he shot toward deceased to scare him. Saye v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 99 SW 551. Error to omit charge on manslaughter where evidence showed that defendant was attacked by deceased with a knife, that defendant retreated and tried to avoid combat, and then fired. Harris v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 89 SW 1064. Where state showed murder in first degree and defendant testified to contrary, charge on such offense authorized. Salinas v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 102 SW 116. Evidence held to require charge on manslaughter. Lara v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 5, 89 SW 840. Evidence held to require charge that if defendant shot deceased in order to escape from an illegal arrest which had rendered defendant incapable of cool reflection he would be guilty of no higher crime than manslaughter

Earles v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 223, 94 SW 464. In trial for homicide committed with knife, court should have instructed on simple and aggravated assault under Pen. Code 1895, art. 719. Lucas v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 776, 90 SW 880. Accused went to talk to deceased about his treatment of their mother-in-law, and as soon as subject was broached deceased threatened to kill accused, whereupon accused said he did not want to hurt deceased but that he should not come on. Deceased came on, reaching for his knife, and defendant shot him. Held to require charge on manslaughter but not on imperfect self-defense. Keith v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 516, 94 SW 1044. Court should have charged on aggravated assault where there was evidence of an attack with a pocket knife, in prosecution for homicide. Neilson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 365, 90 SW 312. Buggies of deceased and defendant collided accidentally, and deceased's buggy was smashed, and he ordered defendant to stop, pursued him, and stopped his horse. Defendant then struck deceased with butt of black snake whip and killed him. Held instruction on aggravated assault should have been given. Coleman v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 371, 90 SW 949. Also instruction on self-defense. Id. Where there was evidence that defendant was attacked by a mob because he was a negro at work as a brakeman, and that the mob kept firing at him, and that defendant was excited or terrorized and fired into the mob, killing deceased, whom he did not know, an instruction on manslaughter was required. Lewis v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 89 SW 1073. Defense of accidental and unintentional killing does not preclude instructions on any crime charged and supported by evidence. State v. Clifford, 59 W. Va. 1, 52 SE 981. Under Rev. St. 1879, § 1654, providing that one may be found guilty of a lesser crime under an indictment for a greater, it is proper to charge on murder in second degree though there is evidence of first degree murder only. State v. West, 202 Mo. 128, 100 SW 478. Refusal to instruct on lower degrees of homicide than murder is prejudicial error if evidence from any reasonable view will support a lower crime. Duthey v. State, 131 Wis. 178, 111 NW 222. Held error to refuse to instruct on manslaughter in third degree as defined by St. 1898, § 4354. Id. Where charge is murder in the first degree, and the evidence is such as to practically exclude any theory of guilt in any lower degree, and does not naturally suggest absence of deliberation and premeditation, yet the court should define and instruct in regard to all degrees of which there is any reasonable theory of guilt under the evidence. State v. Newton, 74 Kan. 561, 87 P 757. But it is not reversible error to omit such instructions in the absence of any request therefor. Id. Where evidence showed that decedent on meeting accused charged him with stealing, that decedent had a knife in his hand which he threw on the ground and advanced and struck accused with his hand, and accused simultaneously shot him, and accused claimed decedent had the knife in his hand all the time, held proper to charge on murdence sufficient to make an issue for the jury; issues<sup>75</sup> and defenses<sup>76</sup> not presented der in first and second degrees and justifiable homicide. People v. Quimby [Cal. App.] 92 P 493. Where murder was committed during a difficulty between accused and deceased, proper to charge on murder by poison, lying in wait, etc., as defined by the code, thereby explaining forms in which murder may present itself. Id. Evidence held to justify charge on murder in first and second degrees and manslaughter. Hull v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 772, 100 SW 403.

75. Charge on excessive force should not be given where there was no evidence thereof. Rice v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 353, 103 SW 1156. Where evidence showed that motive for killing was to prevent injury to accused, it was not error to refuse to charge on the theory of no motive. State v. Barnett, 203 Mo. 640, 102 SW 506. Error to charge on theory that prosecutor provoked the difficulty where there is no testimony on that point. Canterberry v. State [Miss.] 43 S 678. Where there was no evidence that defendant provoked the difficulty, a charge that if he did he would be guilty was error. Williams v. State [Miss.] 43 S 467. "Held no occasion to charge that defendant could not be convicted on evidence of drunkenness or use of profane or indecent language in presence of ladies. McLin v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 881, 90 SW 1107. Where there was evidence that defendant shot in self-defense, and when decedent was on his knees attempting to shoot defendant shot him three times, but there was no evidence that such three shots shortened his life, a charge that if such shots did shorten his life defendant was guilty of manslaughter was error. Williams v. State [Miss.] 43 S 467. Where accused made no claim that he killed deceased because of provocation, but denied killing him at all, he could not object to omission to instruct on provocation or define "heat of passion." State v. Barrington, 198 Mo. 23, 95 SW 235. Failure to charge that assault causing bloodshed is adequate cause is not error where there was no evidence of such assault. Blunt v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 20 Tex. Ct. Rep. 144, 105 SW 734. Instruction that law of self-defense does not imply the right to attack in the first instance nor permit of retaliation or revenge held erroneous where there was no evidence that accused was the attacking party, or that he committed the act in retaliation or revenge. Filippo v. People, 224 Ill. 212, 79 NE 609. Instruction based on Pen. Code, art. 652, limiting homicide to cases where destruction of life is complete, not authorized where decedent lived 18 days and died of results of wound. Lahue v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 125, 101 SW 1008. Where fractured skull resulted from assault causing death in seven days, but it appeared that deceased fell out of bed the night before he died, it was not error to refuse to charge Pen. Code 1895, art. 651, that the death was caused by act of accused. Outley v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 947, 99 SW 95.

76. Instruction on self-defense held error because not based on evidence. Foglia v. People, 229 Ill. 286, 82 NE 262. Issue of self-defense not presented by fact showing that deceased was killed by shot intended for her husband who was trying to get her into the house. Fizini v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 836, 100 SW 294. Refusal of instruction as to uncommunicated threats not error where there is no evidence of such threats. State v. Arnold, 206 Mo. 589, 105 SW 641. Not proper to charge law of self-defense where prosecutor was making no demonstration at the time. Roch v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 903, 105 SW 202. Not error to refuse request on abandoning difficulty where there is no evidence of abandonment. Draggers v. U. S. [Ind. T.] 104 SW 1166. Instruction as to self-defense in assault to murder held not warranted by evidence. Floyd v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 20 Tex. Ct. Rep. 170, 105 SW 791. Not error to refuse to charge on justifiable homicide under Pen. Code 1895, § 73, no evidence of such defense. Lightsey v. State [Ga. App.] 58 SE 686. It is error to give such charge. Id. Not error to refuse to charge on invasion of habitation where there was no proof thereof. White v. State [Ga.] 58 SE 686. Request on insanity not applicable to evidence not showing mental unsoundness to antedate a drunken spree. State v. Kidwell [W. Va.] 59 SE 494. Evidence insufficient to justify charge on threats as justification under Rev. St. 1895, art. 713, providing that they are no justification unless the decedent manifested an intent to execute them. Rice v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 353, 103 SW 1156. Instruction on self-defense or manslaughter not warranted where defendants conspired to kill deceased and shot him while he was asleep. Bast v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 967, 99 SW 978. Where defendant shot deceased while deceased was standing over prostrate son of defendant with whom he was fighting, instruction as to abandonment of difficulty by decedent was not warranted. Morris v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 490, 98 SW 873. Where defendant pleaded insanity and alibi and alibi was disproved, it was not error to fail to mention it. Bast v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 967, 99 SW 978. Where proof showed that accused was a man of sane mind, charge on insanity was properly refused. Id. Where evidence showed that accused and his companions fired many shots toward decedent before killing him, instruction that they were not guilty if they did not intend to kill him not warranted by the evidence. McKinney v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 545, 96 SW 48. Additional instruction on alibi defense held not required. Benton v. State, 78 Ark. 284, 94 SW 688. Charge on self-defense not warranted where accused struck deceased from behind and then beat him to death. Spencer v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 504, 90 SW 638. Where there was a great deal of testimony that decedent sought defendant and provoked the difficulty, instructions on self-defense held erroneous. Kennedy v. Com. [Ky.] 102 SW 863. Instruction as to self-defense properly refused as not based on evidence. State v. Edwards, 202 Mo. 528, 102 SW 520. Where there is no issue of self-defense, charge thereon need not be given. Laws v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 136, 101 SW 987. Theory of imperfect self-defense properly ignored by the evidence need not and should not be submitted. No instructions need be given on offenses not charged,<sup>77</sup> nor as to offenses which could not be found under the evidence.<sup>78</sup> If facts proved constitute a particular offense, it is proper to so charge,<sup>79</sup> and if there is no evidence as to a particular defense, the court may so state.<sup>80</sup> In Alabama the court is required to charge on both degrees of murder, though the evidence will support only a verdict for the first degree or acquittal.<sup>81</sup> where evidence showed either murder or that the killing was justified. State v. Zorn, 202 Mo. 12, 100 SW 591. Court need not submit issue of self-defense where killing is admitted and only claim of defendant is that it was accidental and involuntary. People v. Mallon, 116 App. Div. 425, 20 Crim. R. 427, 101 NYS 814. Omission to charge on self-defense held not error where it appeared that assault was wholly unprovoked and where only defense was drunkenness to such an extent that no intent could be formed. State v. Yates, 132 Iowa, 475, 109 NW 1005.

77. Instruction on murder inapplicable where charge was assault. Fuller v. State, 127 Ga. 47, 55 SE 1047.

78. Charge on murder in first degree properly refused where defendant had been acquitted on that charge. Allen v. State [Ala.] 42 S 1006. Evidence held not to authorize instruction on voluntary manslaughter upon the theory of mutual combat. Bird v. State, 128 Ga. 253, 57 SE 320. Where the only claim of defendant was that killing was accidental, he could not complain of failure to charge manslaughter. Thomas v. State [Ala.] 43 S 371. Not error to refuse to charge on law of shooting at another nor as to simple assault where such offenses are not involved. Fews v. State, 1 Ga. App. 122, 58 SE 64. In assault with intent to kill, it is error to leave it optional with the jury to find accused guilty of that offense or of another where if death had resulted the crime would have been manslaughter. Jenkins v. State [Ga. App.] 59 SE 435. Error to charge on assault and battery where evidence clearly shows assault with intent to kill. Howard v. State [Ga. App.] 59 SE 89. Not error to refuse to charge on manslaughter where there was evidence only of murder or justifiable homicide. Robinson v. State [Ga.] 58 SE 842. Failure to charge on crimes lower than manslaughter not error where defendant would be guilty of that crime if guilty at all. State v. Walker, 133 Iowa, 489, 110 NW 925. Omission to charge on manslaughter is not error where there is no evidence reducing the crime. State v. Clay, 201 Mo. 679, 100 SW 439. Not error to refuse instruction on involuntary killing where there was no evidence in regard thereto. State v. Megorden [Or.] 88 P 306. Where circumstantial evidence, with defendant's confessions, showed that deceased was murdered while asleep for the purpose of robbery, no instruction on murder in the second degree was necessary, though circumstantial evidence alone tended to show no malice. Johnson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 244, 94 SW 224. Evidence held not to justify submission of murder in second degree but only of first. State v. Hottman, 196 Mo. 110, 94 SW 237. It being admitted that homicide was during perpetration of a robbery, it was not error to refuse to charge on murder in the second degree. Turner v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 35, 89 SW 975. No evidence of manslaughter and court properly refused to charge thereon. Abbata v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 209, 102 SW 1125. Where there is no evidence of murder in second degree, it is not error to refuse to charge as to it. State v. Paulsgrove [Mo.] 101 SW 27. Instruction on manslaughter not required where there is no evidence of such crime. State v. West, 202 Mo. 128, 100 SW 478. Failure to charge on lesser degrees of crime not error where proof showed murder in first degree or nothing. Frazier v. State, 117 Tenn. 430, 100 SW 94. Not error to refuse to instruct on manslaughter in fourth degree. State v. Spauha, 200 Mo. 571, 98 SW 55. Omission to charge on lesser offenses included in the indictment but as to which there was no evidence not prejudicial to accused. Powers v. State, 117 Tenn. 363, 97 SW 815. Instruction that if jury believed to exclusion of reasonable doubt that accused in sudden affray and in sudden heat and passion killed deceased, without malice, he was guilty of misdemeanor, only sufficient response to request for misdemeanor instruction. Ford v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 54, 97 SW 370. Where the issues were murder in first degree or accidental homicide, the facts did not require a charge on manslaughter. McKenzie v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 68, 96 SW 932. Where there were no circumstances to reduce the crime below murder in first degree, an instruction was not erroneous as failing to state excusable circumstances which relate only to lower degrees of homicide. Jones v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 82, 96 SW 930. Charge on murder in second degree properly refused where evidence clearly showed premeditation and formed design. Tune v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 249, 94 SW 231. Where insanity alone was pleaded and there was no evidence of provocation, it was proper to refuse a charge on manslaughter. State v. Paulsgrove [Mo.] 101 SW 27. No instruction on manslaughter in fourth degree required where parties agreed to fight and defendant used a knife from the first without deceased's knowledge. State v. Maupin, 196 Mo. 164, 93 SW 379. Instruction that if jury believed the evidence they could not find defendant guilty of any crime higher than manslaughter in the second degree properly refused where verdict of murder would be justified by evidence. Austin v. State, 145 Ala. 37, 40 S 989. Where evidence would justify verdict of murder only, charge allowing the finding of lower degree of homicide was properly refused. Gordon v. State, 147 Ala. 42, 41 S 847.

79. Where the facts proved show murder, it is proper to so charge. Bleich v. People, 227 Ill. 80, 81 NE 36.

80. Where there is no evidence of provocation, court may properly so state to jury. State v. Hottman, 196 Mo. 110, 94 SW 237.

81. Code 1896, § 4857, provides that a jury finding a defendant guilty of murder must

Instructions are to be construed as a whole,<sup>82</sup> hence refusal of requested instructions covered by those given will not be held error,<sup>83</sup> and it is not error to omit special charges on issues on theories covered generally, in the absence of any request therefor.<sup>84</sup> Without a request the court is not bound to instruct on the law of a theory arising solely from the statement of the accused.<sup>85</sup>

In the foot notes are grouped holdings on the propriety and correctness of particular instructions relating to the burden and degree of proof and presumptions,<sup>86</sup> intent,<sup>87</sup> malice,<sup>88</sup> deliberation and premeditation,<sup>89</sup> responsibility of con-

also find the degree; hence it is proper and it is the duty of the court to instruct on the first and second degree, though the evidence warrants only a verdict of the first degree or acquittal. Parham v. State, 147 Ala. 57, 42 S. 1. Code 1896, § 4857, expressly requires that in prosecution for highest degree of homicide the court must charge on first and second degree murder. Thomas v. State [Ala.] 43 S 371.

82. Where accused is given benefit of reasonable doubt in one instruction, such element need not be referred to in others. O'Day v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 848, 99 SW 937. Instruction as to provocation of difficulty not subject to this objection. Id. Instruction defining murder and malice not erroneous as eliminating right of self-defense where that element is covered in other instructions. Green v. U. S. [Ind. T.] 104 SW 1159. Where excuse, mitigation, and justification are defined in charge on manslaughter, failure to state circumstances constituting such elements held not error. Cravens v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 304, 103 SW 921. Instruction as to presumption of innocence held to render failure to charge that the burden of proof was on the state harmless. Jones v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 874, 105 SW 349. Where court charged murder in second degree, manslaughter, assault, and self-defense, and on reasonable doubt between the degrees the accused could not complain that no charge on reasonable doubt between degrees of murder was given. Green v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 907, 105 SW 205.

83. Request held fully covered by charge on self-defense and not error to refuse it. State v. King, 203 Mo. 560, 102 SW 575. Instruction on right to use weapon in self-defense held covered by instructions given. State v. Ross, 75 S. C. 533, 55 SE 977. Instruction as to murder in second degree properly refused. McCorquodale v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 759, 98 SW 879. Where "circumstances of mitigation or justification" are treated in one instruction, it is not necessary to define them in others. Holt v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 751, 100 SW 156.

84. Omission to charge certain theories held not error where no request was made. State v. Barnett, 203 Mo. 640, 102 SW 506. Not error to omit to charge law of reasonable doubt where no request is made therefor. Mabry v. State, 80 Ark. 345, 97 SW 285. Instruction as to extent to which character evidence could be considered, though too narrow, held not reversible error in absence of request. Powers v. State, 117 Tenn. 363, 97 SW 815.

85. Parker v. State, 1 Ga. App. 781, 57 SE 1028.

86. See, also, Indictment and Prosecution, 8 C. L. 189. Error to refuse to charge to acquit if there was a probability of innocence. Fleming v. State [Ala.] 43 S 219. Request as to conflicting evidence held misleading. Rigsby v. State [Ala.] 44 S 608. Request properly refused as leading jury to believe too high a degree of proof was required. Id. Charge as to reasonable doubt properly refused. Young v. State [Ala.] 43 S 100. Request that fact that defendant has good character may generate reasonable doubt properly refused. Davis v. State [Ala.] 44 S 561. Request on burden of proof properly refused for want of clearness. McEwen v. State [Ala.] 44 S 619. Charge that if jury doubted defendant's guilt and that all doubts should be resolved in his favor held bad. Kirby v. State [Ala.] 44 S 38. Error to refuse to charge to acquit unless the evidence excluded every reasonable supposition except that of guilt. Griffin v. State [Ala.] 43 S 197. Instruction that highest degree of proof was required properly refused. Kirby v. State [Ala.] 44 S 38. Instruction requiring circumstantial to exclude every other hypothesis except guilt instead of "reasonable" hypothesis is error. Strickland v. State [Ala.] 44 S 90. Instruction as to degree and certainty of proof properly refused. Brown v. State [Ala.] 43 S 194. Proper to refuse to charge that reasonable doubt is that want of repose and confidence which an honest man has in the correctness of a conclusion which he is about to make after giving question best thought. Id. Not error to refuse to charge that jury must be satisfied to a moral certainty not only that proof is consistent with guilt but is wholly inconsistent with any other rational conclusion. Griffin v. State [Ala.] 43 S 197. Proper to refuse to charge that if evidence was evenly balanced jury should lean to side of mercy. Kirby v. State [Ala.] 44 S 38. Request on reasonable doubt held bad. Id. Instruction as to weight to be given opinion testimony held on weight of evidence. People v. Buck [Cal.] 91 P 529. Instruction as to burden of proof held not on the weight of evidence. People v. Grill [Cal.] 91 P 515. Burden of proof is on defendant in first instance to prove self-defense, unless it is shown by evidence produced against him. Instruction to this effect held not objectionable. State v. Bailey, 79 Conn. 539, 65 A 951. Charge as to presumption of innocence and burden of proof approved. Vasques v. State [Fla.] 44 S 739. Error to refuse a requested charge on reasonable doubt where its equivalent had not been given. Foglia v. People, 229 Ill. 286, 82 NE 262. Instruction that failure of evidence to show any motive for act is a circumstance in favor of innocence and is to be considered in connection with all the evidence held sufficiently favorable to accused. State v. Walker, 133 Iowa, 489, 110 NW 925. Instructions that the state had the burden to prove every element of the crime and the intent should be found from attending circumstances excludes from the consideration of the jury any presumption that in firing the gun defendant intended to kill. Commonwealth v. Parsons [Mass.] 81 NE 291. Charge that circumstantial evidence is as good as any other, and if it rises high enough in scale of belief to generate conviction of guilt beyond reasonable doubt the jury should act upon it, is error. Haywood v. State [Miss.] 43 S 614. Where state made out a case of deliberate killing and defendant claimed accidental killing, and instruction charging Pen. Code 1895, art. 715, relative to killing with a deadly weapon and one on the theory of accident, held not to militate against presumption of innocence. McKenzie v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 68, 96 SW 932. Where only small knife was used and that but once, court should have charged that, if instrument used was not likely to produce death, intent to kill cannot be presumed unless from the manner in which it was used. Johnson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 126, 93 SW 735.

87. Instructions in a prosecution for homicide committed by stabbing, as to intent and character of weapon and manner of its use, held proper. Hardin v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 231, 103 SW 401. Where crime was committed either with large knife or a small one, instruction that unless instrument was a deadly weapon accused could not be convicted unless it was used with intent to kill held proper, for if the larger knife was used the charge was beneficial to accused, and if the small one the charge was correct. Early v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 78, 97 SW 82. Instruction that defendant could not be found guilty unless jury found beyond a reasonable doubt that defendant intended to kill decedent when he struck him properly refused. Allen v. State [Ala.] 42 S 1006. An instruction must require that the acts were done with design to effect death. State v. Barrington, 198 Mo. 23, 95 SW 235. It is proper to charge Pen. Code 1895, art. 717, providing that the instrument or means by which the killing was done are to be considered in judging the intent, where the weapon used was a deadly one, the purpose of accused was to kill, and the weapon was used in a deadly manner. Campos v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 511, 95 SW 1042. Where two-bladed knife was used, court should have instructed that, if jury did not find the knife to be a deadly weapon, intent to kill could not be presumed, unless from the manner of its use. Lucas v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 776, 90 SW 850. Where it appeared that accused intended to and did kill deceased with a pistol, an instruction that the means by which the homicide is committed may be considered in judging the intent was not prejudicial to accused. Barbee v. State, [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 377, 97 SW 1658. Instruction relative to presumption arising from use of deadly weapon should not be given where accused carried a whip handle only which he used as a club. Early

v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 272, 103 SW 868.

88. Express malice defined. State v. Bell, 5 Pen. [Del.] 192, 62 A 147. Instructions on implied malice held correct. Rice v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 353, 103 SW 1156. Instruction defining legal malice approved. Long v. State, 127 Ga. 350, 56 SE 444. Charge on presumption of malice approved. Mann v. State, 124 Ga. 760, 53 SE 324; Tolbirt v. State, 124 Ga. 767, 53 SE 327. Failure to define "malice aforethought" held error. State v. Von Kutzleben [Iowa] 113 NW 484. Failure to define "malice aforethought" not error where the instruction contained the elements thereof. Jones v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 82, 96 SW 930. Giving general definition of "express malice" not error though part of such definition is not applicable. Manning v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 388, 98 SW 251. Use of "with malice aforethought" in latter instead of first part of instruction not error. O'Day v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 848, 99 SW 937. An instruction reciting hypothetical facts from which the law implies malice is not objectionable for not expressly requiring malice to be found. Koser v. People, 224 Ill. 201, 79 NE 615. Where indictment charged malice aforethought, an instruction to convict of murder if certain facts were found "as charged in the indictment" was not objectionable as failing to mention the element of malice aforethought. Id. Where in murder trial state's evidence authorizes inference of malice, it is proper to instruct that law presumes every homicide malicious until contrary appears and that it is incumbent on defendant to make out circumstances of alleviation, excuse, or justification, unless they appear from the state's evidence. Bradley v. State, 128 Ga. 20, 57 SE 237. Instruction that "if you find the accused killed deceased in the manner charged (that is not in self-defense as claimed), and you find that there were then present at the time of the killing no circumstances reducing the crime to manslaughter, the law presumes malice and the crime committed was murder," held correct. State v. Bailey, 79 Conn. 589, 65 A 951. Instruction that "the law presumes malice in the case of every unlawful homicide, unless attended by circumstances of mitigation or extenuation and presumes that such homicide is murder," held sufficiently accurate under the facts. Id. Instruction as to consideration to be given evidence of threats held erroneous as to their being relevant to issue of whether decedent harbored malice or ill will toward accused. Thomas v. State [Ala.] 43 S 371.

89. Definition of "deliberation in a prosecution for homicide" approved. State v. Barrington, 198 Mo. 23, 95 SW 235. Requested instruction that defendant could not be convicted of murder unless jury believed beyond a reasonable doubt that he had a "formed and fixed design to kill" properly refused. Skipper v. State, 144 Ala. 100, 42 S 43. Instruction in extenso as to premeditation and malice aforethought sustained. Commonwealth v. Tucker, 189 Mass. 457, 76 NE 127. Instruction that there must be deliberation and premeditation but that no particular length of time need elapse, etc., held to exclude idea of killing simultaneous.

spirators,<sup>90</sup> of aiders and abettors,<sup>91</sup> of principals and accomplices,<sup>92</sup> and persons jointly indicted,<sup>93</sup> assault with intent to kill or murder,<sup>94</sup> and lower grades of assault,<sup>95</sup> manslaughter,<sup>96</sup> murder and the degrees thereof,<sup>97</sup> provocation,<sup>98</sup> self-defense,<sup>99</sup> and defense of another,<sup>1</sup> and justification.<sup>2</sup>

with formation of design to kill. State v. Banks, 143 N. C. 652, 57 SE 174. There being evidence that defendant had been mentally disturbed some time before the killing, it was held proper to leave the question of time for deliberation and premeditation to the jury under instruction that there must be proof that design to kill must have been formed and matured in cool blood. State v. Megorden [Or.] 88 P 306.

90. Acts of a co-conspirator can be considered only in furtherance of common design. Error to instruct to consider conduct of one in absence of other. Lobbs v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 64, 100 SW 946. In a case where evidence showed a conspiracy to murder, instructions held not erroneous as authorizing the jury to find all guilty if they found one guilty. Bull v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 949, 96 SW 817.

91. Instruction as to liability of accused if he counseled, advised, assisted, encouraged, caused, or procured another to kill decedent should be modified by adding "and said killing was induced thereby." Hall v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 485, 93 SW 904. Instruction on when one can be convicted as a principal for having aided and abetted in the crime approved. State v. Hunter [S. C.] 57 SE 637. An aider and abettor must be present participating in the crime and sharing the intent of the principal. Instruction held misleading. Landrum v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 924, 96 SW 587.

92. Request submitting what would constitute an accomplice properly refused. Strickland v. State [Ala.] 44 S 90. Instruction that indictment charging one as a principal in the first degree is sustained by proof beyond a reasonable doubt that defendant is guilty as a principal in the second degree approved. McLeod v. State, 128 Ga. 17, 57 SE 83. Instructions approved in case where defendant was one of several assailants and deceased was killed during assault. State v. Crittenden, 191 Mo. 17, 89 SW 952. Instruction on theory that one was a principal when it was not claimed that he did the shooting but was present at the time held error. Oates v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 285, 103 SW 559.

93. Instructions where codefendants were jointly tried held erroneous in making guilt of one dependent on guilt of other. Abbata v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 209, 102 SW 1125. On prosecution of several persons jointly for homicide, held error to refuse to charge that one or more could be found guilty and others not guilty. State v. Vaughan, 200 Mo. 1, 98 SW 2. On trial of joint defendants, instructions held not to permit conviction of one on evidence against his codefendant. State v. Spaugh, 200 Mo. 571, 98 SW 55. Separate trials being granted three persons jointly indicted, the court may properly instruct that persons named are charged, and as to aiding and abetting in crime. State v. Kenny [S. C.] 57 SE 859. Where two persons are jointly indicted it is not improper to charge on the law of conspiracy where the evidence authorizes it, though the indictment does not in terms allege a conspiracy. Bradley v. State, 128 Ga. 20, 57 SE 237. Though the killing may have been done by only one of two defendants on trial, an instruction that both must be acquitted unless the evidence shows beyond a reasonable doubt which one did it is properly refused, as it ignores the element of one aiding or abetting the other, and conspiracy. State v. Kendall, 143 N. C. 659, 57 SE 340.

94. Instruction on assault with intent to kill taken alone held erroneous, but in connection with others held sufficient. Satterwhite v. State [Ark.] 100 SW 70. Where in assault with intent to kill malice and malice aforethought are defined, and both assault with intent to kill and aggravated assault are defined, it was not error to fail to explain elements of murder. Lasana v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 98 SW 855. In trial of charge of assault with intent to murder, where evidence showed that defendant fired into room where persons assailed were repeatedly after being told to stop, an instruction on aggravated assault was not necessary. Palmer v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. *3, 89 SW 836. Where indictment used term "feloniously" in charging assault under Comp. Laws 1897, § 1379, its use was unnecessary and hence omission from the term in instruction on offense held not error. Territory v. Gonzales [N. M.] 89 P 250. Omission of word "unlawfully" held not error in the light of other instructions. Id. Where instruction on circumstances under which offense defined by Comp. Laws 1897, § 1379, could be found used term "without excuse or justification," the instruction was not objectionable as coming under § 1381. Id. Instruction on circumstances under which verdict of guilty of assault with intent to kill could be found approved. Jackson v. State, 125 Ga. 101, 53 SE 607. Instruction in trial of charge of assault with intent to commit murder that malice will be presumed from use of deadly weapon held erroneous because omitting requirement as to intent to kill. Wright v. State [Ala.] 42 S 745.

95. Not error to charge simple assault on evidence that defendant stabbed decedent. Hardin v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 231, 103 SW 401. Charge on assault and battery may be given if evidence warrants. Id.

96. Law of voluntary manslaughter properly submitted. Solomon v. State [Ga. App.] 58 SE 381. Instruction defining manslaughter in the first degree and stating that any other killing would be manslaughter in the second degree is error. Neilson v. State, 146 Ala. 683, 40 S 221. Court having charged entire section of Penal Code containing law of voluntary manslaughter, held not error not to charge on law of cooling time, no request therefor being made. Rogers v. State, 128 Ga. 67, 57 SE 227. Instruction as to manslaughter held faulty in not requiring a finding that deceased intentionally shot and killed decedent. State v. Elsey, 201 Mo. 561, 100 SW 11. Instruction on voluntary manslaughter need not require that the killing be "felonious." Shipp v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 564, 99 SW 945. Requests to charge on manslaughter which eliminate criminal recklessness and specific intent to kill properly refused. Commonwealth v. Parsons [Mass.] 81 NE 291. Charge on voluntary manslaughter approved. Bradley v. State, 128 Ga. 20, 57 SE 237. Instruction that if acts were done without intent to kill defendant would be guilty of manslaughter held properly to submit manslaughter. State v. Walker, 133 Iowa, 489, 110 NW 925. Omission of "unlawfully" in charge on manslaughter not prejudicial to accused even if erroneous. Foster v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 42, 100 SW 1159. Use of "transport" in charge on manslaughter held erroneous as intensifying passion necessary to reduce the degree of crime. Clark v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 199, 102 SW 1136. Where law of self-defense is properly presented, instruction on manslaughter is not erroneous for failure to require acquittal if accused acted in self-defense. Foster v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 42, 100 SW 1159. Where evidence showed that killing occurred immediately on insult being offered, instruction that it must have so occurred in order to reduce the crime to manslaughter not misleading. Green v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 781, 98 SW 1059.

97. Instruction on murder in first degree which eliminates element of malice is error. Oates v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 285, 103 SW 859. Charge that homicide is reduced to manslaughter only where passions aroused are acted upon promptly and that crime is murder if act is done from vengeance or malice and not in passion approved. Harrison v. State, 144 Ala. 20, 40 S 568. Charge on murder in second degree sustained. Gregory v. State [Ala.] 42 S 829. Instruction held not erroneous as failing to state elements of murder in first degree. Duckworth v. State, 80 Ark. 360, 97 SW 280. Murder in second degree defined. State v. Bell, 5 Pen. [Del.] 192, 62 A 147. Where instruction was to effect that crime would be murder in the first degree if injuries were inflicted willfully, deliberately, premeditatedly, and with malice aforethought, otherwise murder in the second degree, if death resulted from defendant's acts, it was not objectionable as allowing a conviction for a purely accidental killing. State v. Baldes, 133 Iowa, 158, 110 NW 440. Held proper to embody all the elements of the crime of murder in an instruction, and to tell the jury that if all those elements are found beyond a reasonable doubt to convict of murder without mentioning manslaughter. Koser v. People, 224 Ill. 201, 79 NE 615. Instruction on murder and involuntary manslaughter held not erroneous because of omission of word "feloniously." Stout v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 627, 94 SW 15. Omission of "feloniously" from an instruction on subject of murder and manslaughter is not erroneous. O'Day v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 848, 99 SW 937. Defining murder without prescribing penalty is not error where penalty is prescribed in another instruction. Id. In Louisiana there is no statute dividing the crime of murder into two degrees and defining murder in the first degree as a homicide with the specific intent to kill or positive premeditation; hence it is proper to refuse to give a special charge on the theory that absence of such specific intent would justify the jury in finding the defendant guilty without capital punishment or guilty of manslaughter. State v. Hogan, 117 La. 863, 42 S 352. Instruction defining murder in second degree not bad because containing word "feloniously." State v. Miles, 199 Mo. 530, 98 SW 25. Nor is such instruction bad for failure to use "beyond reasonable doubt." Id. Instruction on murder in second degree not bad for failure to define "deliberately." State v. West, 202 Mo. 128, 100 SW 478. Charge that every willful killing of a human being is either murder or manslaughter is error since this includes killing in self-defense. Murphy v. State, 89 Miss. 827, 42 S 877. Definition of murder in second degree not objectionable because in two paragraphs. Green v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 781, 98 SW 1059. Instruction as to murder in second degree held favorable to accused notwithstanding use of terms not technically correct. McCorquodale v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 759, 98 SW 879. Where issues of murder in both degrees were submitted, the defendant was held entitled to have converse of propositions submitted. Ripley v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 49, 100 SW 943. Held error to charge that to convict of murder in the second degree evidence must "fail to establish" manslaughter and self-defense. Casey v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 818, 90 SW 1018. Though evidence tends to show manslaughter, instruction on murder is proper if evidence warrants it. State v. Clifford, 59 W. Va. 1, 52 SE 981. Instructions on murder in first and second degree and on presumptions from certain facts proper where warranted by evidence. Id.

98. Failure to define "improper conduct" as used in an instruction on provocation is not error, it not being a technical term. State v. Barrington, 198 Mo. 23, 95 SW 235. A charge that the fact that deceased struck accused with a shoe last would not justify the killing taken in connection with a charge that if the blow inflicted pain and caused passion which rendered accused's mind incapable of cool reflection he could only be found guilty of manslaughter held not erroneous. Brown v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 548, 95 SW 126. "Cooling time" should be defined. Kannmacher v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 82, 101 SW 238. Instruction held to have sufficiently covered provocation and manslaughter where defendant's claim was that he found deceased and his wife in a compromising position and hence shot deceased. Gregory v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 94 SW 1041. Instruction on manslaughter held not too restrictive as confining acts of provocation to acts at time of difficulty. Armstrong v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 519, 96 SW 15. Where accused set up self-defense and insult to his wife and crime occurred at first meeting after insult, instruction that provocation as predicate for manslaughter must arise at time of killing was proper. Barbee v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 377, 97 SW 1058. Where evidence showed that decedent slandered defendant's wife in his presence, and that defendant did not then resent it but went away and came back with a gun and killed decedent, an instruction that to reduce murder to manslaughter provocation must have come from decedent, and that defendant must have acted upon the provocation at the time, was proper. Tyler v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 90 SW 33. Where the court in a charge on manslaughter gave the statutory definition of adequate cause, it was not necessary to illustrate it by example. Holt v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 757, 100 SW 156. Where there were two difficulties, some minutes apart, defendant returning armed after the first, the question of passion and adequate cause was limited to the first difficulty. Instruction as to cooling time held erroneous. Cooper v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 94, 89 SW 1068.

99. Improper to omit element of freedom from fault in charge on self-defense. McEwen v. State [Ala.] 44 S 619; Rose v. State, 144 Ala. 114, 42 S 21. Requested charge on self-defense properly refused because ignoring element of accused's provoking difficulty with murderous design. Harrison v. State, 144 Ala. 20, 40 S 568. Instruction on self-defense properly refused which omitted reference to belief by accused that he was in danger whether he brought on difficulty, etc. Id. Charge erroneous because failing to hypothesize defendant's duty to retreat. Gregory v. State [Ala.] 42 S 829. Instruction failing to set out elements of self-defense properly refused. Allen v. State [Ala.] 42 S 1006. Charge on self-defense held to improperly charge the law of freedom from fault. McEwen v. State [Ala.] 44 S 619. Requested instructions on self-defense properly refused because ignoring question of freedom of accused from fault in bringing on the difficulty, his duty to retreat, necessity for danger, etc. Tribble v. State, 145 Ala. 23, 40 S 938. Instruction properly refused which failed to define self-defense and required jury to acquit if they had a reasonable doubt as to whether defendant acted in self-defense or otherwise. Laws v. State, 144 Ala. 118, 42 S 40. Instruction on self-defense properly refused which ignored question of who provoked the difficulty. Id. Requested instruction on self-defense held misleading. Williams v. State, 147 Ala. 10, 41 S 992. Instruction on self-defense objectionable because failing to postulate that circumstances were such as to reasonably impress, and did impress defendant with the belief that he was in great and imminent peril. Id. Requested instructions on self-defense held to omit reference to duty to retreat and defendant's freedom from fault in bringing on affray. Hanners v. State, 147 Ala. 27, 41 S 973. Instruction on self-defense properly refused because omitting question whether defendant willfully brought on the difficulty. George v. State, 145 Ala. 41, 40 S 961. Instructions on provocation by defendant, and abandonment and self-defense, approved. Velvin v. State, 77 Ark. 97, 90 SW 851. Instruction on self-defense properly refused because not stating defendant's duty to escape. Wright v. State [Ala.] 42 S 745. Instruction that conduct of decedent and previous threats are evidence that accused was in danger invades province of jury. Bluett v. State [Ala.] 44 S 84. Instruction on self-defense though perhaps confusing did not place court in error. Id. Request on self-defense properly refused as ignoring peril of life or bodily harm and honest belief of such peril. Kirby v. State [Ala.] 44 S 38. Instruction on self-defense must set out elements thereof. Id. Instruction on self-defense held bad for ignoring freedom from fault and necessity of taking life. Id. Instructions on self-defense held erroneous in that it did not negative a willingness on part of defendant to enter the combat, of which there was evidence. Degg v. State [Ala.] 43 S 484. Instruction as to liability if killing occurred after decedent had ceased his assault on accused held to properly submit the issues. Dempsey v. State [Ark.] 102 SW 704. Instructions as to right of self-defense held to sufficiently present the right of the accused to exercise it. Muldrow v. State [Ark.] 99 SW 383. Issue of self-defense properly submitted. Dempsey v. State [Ark.] 102 SW 704. Instruction as to reasonableness of belief in imminence of danger approved. People v. Gallaner, 3 Cal. App. 431, 86 P 814. Instruction on right of self-defense approved. King v. State [Fla.] 44 S 941. "Actual danger" and "apparent danger" need not be defined. Danford v. State [Fla.] 43 S 593. Instruction on self-defense approved. Roseboro v. State, 127 Ga. 826, 56 SE 991. Instruction on self-defense erroneous because misleading as to definition of a felony to prevent which court instructed killing would be justifiable. Freeman v. State, 1 Ga. App. 276, 57 SE 924. Request that where threats are susceptible of two constructions to give defendant benefit of innocent construction properly refused. Word "equally" should be in charge. Dorsey v. State [Ga. App.] 58 SE 477. Instruction that reasonable apprehension of injury or death was necessary element of self-defense, omitting element of real or apparent danger, held erroneous. Morello v. People, 226 Ill. 388, 80 NE 903. Instruction held to properly present law of self-defense. Drigger v. U. S. [Ind. T.] 104 SW 1166. Instruction on self-defense held erroneous as implying that the court thought accused the aggressor and could have declined further struggle without killing. Foglia v. People, 229 Ill. 286, 82 NE 262. Law of self-defense correctly stated. Stuart v. Com. [Ky.] 105 SW 170. Instruction on self-defense which fails to submit what accused believed and had reasonable grounds to believe as to whether he was in danger is erroneous. Dossenbach v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 749, 99 SW 626. Instruction on self-defense held to include right of defense when danger is real as well as when apparent. Stout v. Com., 29 Ky. L. R. 627, 94 SW 15. Instruction as to right of accused to kill in self-defense held sufficiently favorable to accused. Hopper v. Com., [Ky.] 96 SW 838. Requested instructions held not applicable to self-defense as shown where defendant did not retreat. State v. Hopkins, 118 La. 99, 42 S 660. Requested instruction on self-defense not covered by one given. Scott v. State [Miss.] 42 S 184. Charge that defendant had no right to kill in self-defense unless such killing was apparently necessary to repel the assailant and to prevent some great personal injury to himself or forcible entry to his home held proper, and instruction on other facts properly refused. State v. Touri [Minn.] 112 NW 422. Instruction on "self-defense using terms "reasonable cause to believe," "reasonable cause to apprehend," "reasonable cause to believe and did believe," and also terms "reasonable belief" and "honest belief," held not erroneous. People v. Tubbs, 147 Mich. 1, 13 Det. Leg. N. 959, 110 NW 132. Held error to modify requested instruction on self-defense. Scott v. State [Miss.] 42 S 184. Instruction on self-defense as to apprehension of danger approved. State v. Hazlett [N. D.] 113 NW 374. Instruction on self-defense disapproved because not conforming to evidence, argumentative, and improperly qualifying right of self-defense. State v. Walker, 196 Mo. 73, 93 SW 384. Instruction on self-defense held not erroneous by reason of phrase "the law of self-defense is emphatically the law of necessity." State v. Maupin, 196 Mo. 164, 93 SW 379. Instruction on self-defense held faulty as requiring existence of danger when belief of such existence is sufficient. State v. Darling, 202 Mo. 150, 100 SW 631. Error to deny right to self-defense where there is no evidence that accused brought on difficulty or was aggressor. State v. Elsey, 201 Mo. 561, 100 SW 11. Instruction held not to trench on right of self-defense. State v. Darling, 202 Mo. 150, 100 SW 631. "Provoked the difficulty" and "began the quarrel" need no definition. State v. Long, 201 Mo. 664, 100 SW 587. Where law of self-defense is fully instructed upon, refusal to charge that mere trespass by landlord on premises in possession of tenant would not justify assault by tenant and that landlord could protect himself not error. State v. Zorn, 202 Mo. 12, 100 SW 591. Instruction that an aggressor cannot invoke self-defense held sufficiently favorable to defendant. Territory v. Price [N. M.] 91 P 733. Instruction on right of self-defense approved. State v. Williams, 76 S. C. 135, 56 SE 783. Instruction on when one may resort to deadly weapon in self-defense approved. State v. Ross, 75 S. C. 533, 55 SE 977. Instruction on self-defense held erroneous in requiring defendant to conduct himself as man of "ordinary prudence, caution, and courage." Frazier v. State, 117 Tenn. 430, 100 SW 94. Where evidence showed that deceased commenced shooting at defendant first and there was no question as to apparent danger, instruction requiring defendant to have acted with ordinary care, caution, and courage, not prejudicial. Id. Where accused fired four shots in rapid succession and there is no proof as to which shot caused death, a charge that if he was justified in firing the first shot he was justified in firing all safeguarded his rights. Cravens v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 304, 103 SW 921. Under the rule that adequate cause is such as will produce passion in person of ordinary temper, it is proper to refuse to call attention to evidence that accused was not well at time of killing. Id. Instructions on threats by deceased should be given affirmatively and favorably to the accused rather than in a negative form. Watson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 587, 95 SW 115. Where evidence showed that accused came out of a house and pointed his pistol at a group of persons, warning them not to approach him and immediately afterwards shot decedent who he claimed was approaching him with a drawn knife from another direction, the issue of self-defense should not have been curtailed by one of imperfect self-defense. Maroney v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 570, 95 SW 108. Where there was evidence that deceased made a motion to draw a knife or pistol, it is error to cut off the right of the accused to act upon the appearance of danger. Watson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 587, 95 SW 115. Instruction on self-defense held to present issue of reasonable appearance of danger. Fizini v. State [Tex. Civ. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 836, 100 SW 394. Instruction as to self-defense held to properly present such defense. Cecil v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 803, 100 SW 390. Instruction on self-defense using "all" instead of "any" circumstances, not erroneous. Holt v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 751, 100 SW 156. It is sufficient to charge on reasonable doubt in closing paragraph of instructions. Teague v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 100 SW 401. Use of disjunctive "or" instead of conjunctive "and" in charge that accused should not be convicted of assault with intent to kill if found guilty of aggravated assault or that he acted in self-defense. Id. Instruction as to provoking the difficulty held not erroneous for use of "armed himself" where it appeared that accused carried a large knife. Lahue v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 125, 101 SW 1008. Right to act in defense of another held properly submitted on defendant's testimony that he so acted. Abbata v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 209, 102 SW 1125. When danger to accused was real, an instruction on self-defense correctly stating the law as to real danger was not erroneous because not instructing as to appearance of danger viewed from defendant's standpoint. Pinson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 702, 96 SW 23. The law of threats connected with acts manifesting an intent to carry them into effect is a statutory ground of self-defense and should be charged affirmatively. Pratt v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 599, 96 SW 8. Instruction on theory of self-defense held not to require that deceased was really making an attack on accused or making an effort to procure a pistol at the time. Newcomb v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 95 SW 1048. Instruction held not to deprive accused of right to protect himself against apparent danger. Id. Instruction is not erroneous as making self-defense depend upon defendant being attacked where it also states that the homicide was justified if it reasonably appeared to defendant that he was in danger of death or serious bodily harm. Moore v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 96 SW 321. Where there was nothing to show that deceased assaulted accused or the existence of any other excuse for the crime, an instruction authorizing consideration of all antecedent circumstances and those occurring at the time in passing on question whether accused was capable of cool reflection was not objectionable as failing to define adequate cause. Thomas v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 70, 96 SW 930. Evidence insufficient to warrant a charge on threats in connection with self-defense. Mitchell v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 45, 100 SW 930. Instruction limiting right of self-defense to fact that defendant must have gone to see decedent on a friendly mission is error. King v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 112, 101 SW 237. Instruction that if decedent shot at defendant and defendant feared death or great bodily injury and shot deceased he had a right to continue to shoot as long as, from his standpoint, he was in danger, held sufficiently favorable to accused. Wallace v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 97 SW 471. Where "adequate cause" is defined in one instruction, it is not necessary to define it in others. Manning v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 388, 98 SW 251. Instructions not objectionable as failing to state that accused had a right to pursue his adversary until appearance of danger ceased, where it is charged that he had a right to so act until all appearance of danger was passed. Dickey v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 98 SW 269. In assault with intent to kill, instruction that adequate cause or sudden passion must concur with self-defense to justify assault not misleading on the ground that either is sufficient. Lasana v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 98 SW 855. Instruction making right to self-defense depend upon being beaten with a club and struck with a pistol is erroneous, since either is sufficient. Gafford v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 736, 99 SW 998. Instructions on self-defense approved. Willis v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 870, 90 SW 1100. Instruction that in viewing theory of self-defense the jury should regard it from standpoint of accused and that he had a right to defend himself against all appearances of danger is sufficient without charging that accused had a right to shoot if deceased shot at him. Jones v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 592, 95 SW 1044. In a prosecution for assault with intent to murder, instruction that if the assault was made in self-defense accused should be acquitted considered in connection with a charge that the jury should view the facts as they appeared to accused at the time, and that he had a right to act on appearances, held proper. McKinney v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 75, 95 SW 504. Evidence held to call for charge on law of threats in connection with self-defense. Lara v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 5, 89 SW 840. Instruction on defense of another as justification held not misleading. Smith v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 13 Tex. Ct. Rep. 939, 89 SW 817. Instruction on voluntarily engaging in combat knowing it would result in death held warranted where it appeared that there was an altercation with decedent and accused went to a store, procured a gun, and returned and commenced shooting at deceased. McKinney v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 545, 96 SW 48. Instruction on the theory of self-defense under Pen. Code, art. 713, where the defense is that the killing was done to prevent execution of threats, should be given in the affirmative form and not negatively. Mitchell v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 579, 96 SW 43. In assault with intent to kill, where threats by prosecutor to whip defendant are shown, a charge on threats of violence not amounting to death should be given. Hix v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 156, 102 SW 405. Instructions on self-defense held to sufficiently submit law as to appearance of danger. Ham v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 451, 98 SW 875. Instruction requiring jury to believe that each effort to injure defendant was committed by deceased before defendant could act in self-defense was erroneous. Lara v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 14 Tex. Ct. Rep. 5, 89 SW 840. Instruction on law of self-defense that accused had a right to arm himself when he knew decedent had threatened to kill him and that such fact could not be considered as an incriminating circumstance held sufficiently favorable to accused. Harris v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 20 Tex. Ct. Rep. 154, 105 SW 801. Instruction held to sufficiently cover law of self-defense though not applied to evidence. Lucas v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 105 SW 788. Making right to self-defense depend on relative strength of parties and defendant's knowledge of decedent's character is error where there is no evidence of character or attack by decedent. Benson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 257, 103 SW 911. Instruction on self-defense where large strong man assailed feeble man held proper and applicable to evidence. Sartin v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 321, 103 SW 875. Instruction that assault on defendant causing pain and bloodshed is adequate cause for assault since either would be sufficient. Bagley v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 282, 103 SW 874.

1. Where defense was that accused killed decedent to protect his father, instruction construed and held not to require jury to find that deceased was about to kill father of accused before they could acquit him. Mabry v. State, 80 Ark. 345, 97 SW 285. Where defendant killed father and son at same time, instruction as to right of self-defense held sufficient to protect rights of accused as to right to defend his parent. Newton v. Com. [Ky.] 102 SW 264. Where it is assumed that accused had the same right to defend his employee's habitations as his employer had, it is not necessary to specifically charge such rule. Patterson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 552, 95 SW 129. Instruction held to sufficiently define defendant's rights to interfere in a difficulty where an officer was using more force than necessary in making arrest. Early v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 272, 103 SW 868. Charge that if jury believed that defendant killed deceased to prevent crime of rape by deceased he should be acquitted held sufficiently favorable to defendant. Scott v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 407, 93 SW 740. Charge on trespass on property of another as a defense to an assault on such other with a deadly weapon held as favorable to defendant as evidence authorized. Fuller v. State, 127 Ga. 47, 55 SE 1047.

2. Under Pen Code 1895, art. 713, providing threats and manifestation to execute same may be shown in justification, instruction held not too onerous on defendant. Clark v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 199, 102 SW 1136. Instruction as to effect of disturbance of the mind by liquor on degree of offense held sufficient. Campos v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep.

Harmless error.<sup>3</sup>—Erroneous instructions on higher degrees are harmless when accused is convicted of a lower,<sup>4</sup> and erroneous instructions on lesser degrees are harmless where only a verdict finding a higher degree or acquittal could be sustained.<sup>5</sup> Instructions more favorable to accused than the law or the evidence warrants cannot be complained of by him.<sup>6</sup>

(§ 8) C. Verdict.<sup>See 5 C. L. 1730</sup>—Decisions as to the form of particular verdicts are given in the note.<sup>7</sup> Forms for all the verdicts possible should be submitted.<sup>8</sup>

76, 97 SW 100. Charge that passion induced solely by words, threats, menaces, etc., would not justify homicide or reduce the crime held proper under the evidence. Ferguson v. State, 128 Ga. 27, 57 SE 101. Instruction that accused would be justified if he acted under influence of fear, under circumstances such as to excite fears of a reasonable man, approved. Roseboro v. State, 127 Ga. 826, 56 SE 991. Instruction that assault with hand or fist never justifies use of deadly weapon held erroneous. George v. State, 145 Ala. 41, 40 S 961. Requested instruction that such assault never justifies or excuses homicide, under ordinary circumstances, and whether circumstances were ordinary was for jury, was correct and should have been given. Id. Where court charged on justifiable homicide as defined in Pen. Code, §§ 70, 71, it was not error to omit a charge on § 73, in the absence of a request therefor, since § 73 limits the other two sections. Williams v. State, 1 Ga. App. 508, 57 SE 929. Charge that use of opprobrious words only justifies an assault, in connection with other instructions, held not error. Parker v. State, 1 Ga. App. 781, 57 SE 1028. Instruction that mere striking with the hand or fist will not justify killing held erroneous in form. Taylor v. State, 89 Miss. 671, 42 S 608. Instruction on justification held erroneous in law and as assuming facts not shown. Hisler v. State [Fla.] 42 S 692. Where it appeared both parties were shooting, a requested instruction that "defendant is not to be judged by the cool light of after developed facts but that [jury] are to put themselves in his place and find their verdict according to the existing circumstances at the time of the alleged killing" should have been given. Johnson v. State [Miss.] 42 S 166. Held similar instruction should have been given where self-defense was set up. Scott v. State [Miss.] 42 S 184.

3. See, also, Indictment and Prosecution, 8 C. L. 189, also 5 C. L. 1729.

4. Error in charge on murder is eliminated by a verdict of manslaughter. Adams v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 20 Tex. Ct. Rep. 9, 105 SW 497. Instruction on murder in first degree is harmless where the verdict is for second degree murder. State v. Darling, 199 Mo. 168, 97 SW 592. Erroneous instruction requiring jury to find absence of premeditation and deliberation to reduce crime to second degree murder held cured by other instructions and a verdict of first degree murder. Beene v. State, 79 Ark. 460, 96 SW 151. Improper instruction on murder in first degree harmless where defendant was acquitted of that offense. Gregory v. State [Ala.] 42 S 829. Where accused is convicted of involuntary manslaughter in the commission of an unlawful act, the judgment will not be reversed for failure to charge on voluntary manslaughter, though the evidence might have warranted an instruction on this subject. Harbin v. State, 127 Ga. 48, 55 SE 1046. Instruction on malice harmless error where manslaughter was found. Rogers v. State, 124 Ga. 794, 53 SE 102. Instruction on manslaughter not prejudicial to defendant where there was no evidence showing any grade of homicide except murder. State v. Penna, 35 Mont. 535, 90 P 787.

5. Where the evidence showed murder in the first degree or nothing, accused could not object to instructions as to a lesser crime. State v. Barrington, 198 Mo. 23, 95 SW 235. An erroneous instruction on manslaughter is not reversible where there is no evidence of manslaughter but only of murder. State v. Kendall, 143 N. C. 659, 57 SE 340. Where court instructed on murder in first and second degree and jury found defendant guilty of murder in the first degree, failure to instruct on homicide was harmless error. People v. Granger [N. Y.] 79 NE 833. Instruction as to lesser crime cannot be complained of by one convicted of first degree murder. State v. Spaugh, 200 Mo. 571, 98 SW 55.

6. Accused could not complain of an instruction on manslaughter where there was no evidence reducing the homicide to manslaughter. Pinson v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 702, 96 SW 23. Where there were two difficulties and the court charged as to both, defendant was not prejudiced by omission to charge as to cooling time. Ham v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 17 Tex. Ct. Rep. 451, 98 SW 875. Error in charging on self-defense not reversible where there is evidence of difficulty but no evidence of attack by deceased on defendant. Yardley v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 18 Tex. Ct. Rep. 759, 100 SW 399. Where in prosecution for murder the only evidence of intent showed its existence for two or three months prior to homicide, any error in instructing that an intent, formed the instant before the killing, if found, would justify a verdict of murder in the first degree, was harmless. State v. Banusik [N. J. Err. & App.] 64 A 994.

7. Verdict of common assault not erroneous in failing to state on which count of indictment defendant was found guilty, where such assault would be involved in either count. State v. Wilson [Mo. App.] 103 SW 110. On prosecution for "willful murder" under Ky. St. 1903, § 1149, a verdict finding accused "guilty as charged in the indictment of murder" not defective as not conforming to the statute. Brown v. Com., 30 Ky. L. R. 505, 99 SW 236. A verdict finding defendant guilty of shooting without justifiable or excusable cause at another, with intent to injure him, is sufficient as to form to convict of the offense defined by Rev. Pen. Code, § 314. State v. Horn [S. D.] 111 NW 552. Where indictment charged assault with intent to kill, verdict that defendant was guilty as charged of felonious assault finds the offense charged. State v. Williams, 191 Mo. 205, 90 SW 448. Where indictment charged defendant with being an accomplice to the crime of murder, a verdict of "guilty of being an accomplice to the offense of murder of the first degree as charged in the indictment" is not defective. Carbough v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 16 Tex. Ct. Rep. 241, 93 SW 738. Where indictment is for assault with intent to commit murder, a verdict of "guilty as charged" is sufficient as a verdict of assault with intent to commit murder, since jury need not declare the degree. Fuerst v. State, 115 Tenn. 357, 89 SW 955. Verdict that "We the jury find the defendant Paris May guilty as charged in the within indictment," and which does not find the degree of murder as required by Code 1906, c. 159, § 4584, is fatally defective, and judgment thereon will be arrested, the verdict set aside, and a new trial granted. State v. May [W. Va.] 57 SE 366.

Where the wrong form is filled out by mistake which is apparent, the jury should be sent back to correct the mistake.<sup>9</sup> A conviction of manslaughter is an acquittal of the charge of murder.<sup>10</sup> In Florida written verdicts may be received in capital cases.<sup>11</sup>

(§ 8) D. Punishment.<sup>See 8 C. L. 122</sup>—In determining whether punishment is excessive, the character of the crime and all the circumstances are considered.<sup>12</sup> In some states the punishment is fixed by the jury.<sup>13</sup> Where the court imposes the sentence, a finding of mitigating circumstances by the jury should not be disregarded.<sup>14</sup> That accused is serving a sentence in the penitentiary for prior murders does not prevent conviction and sentence to death for subsequent murder.<sup>15</sup> In New York, where the evidence sustains a verdict of murder in the first degree, the court of appeals has no jurisdiction to modify the penalty because of mitigating circumstances.<sup>16</sup> Such relief can be given only by the governor, upon an appeal for executive clemency.<sup>17</sup> In Iowa the governor has authority to issue a warrant for the execution of a defendant convicted of murder, where the conviction has been affirmed by the supreme court.<sup>18</sup>

HORSE RACING; HORSES; HOSPITALS; HOUSES OF REFUGE AND REFORMATORIES, see latest topical index.

8. Error to submit form of verdict with no reference to acquittal or to a lesser degree of crime where there was evidence that defendant might not have been guilty or might have been guilty of a lesser crime. Oates v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 19 Tex. Ct. Rep. 285, 103 SW 859.

9. Where the jury were given forms of verdict for murder in second degree and manslaughter, and by mistake the form for manslaughter was filled out and punishment in excess of that permitted by statute filled in, held the court properly refused to accept it and directed the jury to retire and correct it. State v. Miles, 199 Mo. 530, 98 SW 25. Rev. St. 1899, § 2651, does not require the court to receive such verdict, Id.

10. Where accused is tried for murder and convicted of manslaughter, this amounts to an acquittal of murder. Huntington v. Superior Ct. San Francisco [Cal. App.] 90

P 141. Hence, upon a new trial, he can only be tried upon the charge of manslaughter. Id.

11. Brewer v. State [Fla.] 43 S 423.

12. Two years in penitentiary not excessive for wanton and malicious assault. State v. Spaugh, 199 Mo. 147, 97 SW 901. Thirty years in the penitentiary not excessive for killing by beating an unarmed man over head with pistol and shooting him three times when he was running away. State v. Miles, 199 Mo. 530, 98 SW 25. Punishment of death held excessive and reduced to life imprisonment. O'Hearn v. State [Neb.] 113 NW 130. Sentence of eight years not excessive for brutal assault with a knife. State v. Yates, 132 Iowa, 475, 109 NW 1005. Life imprisonment not excessive punishment for murder in the second degree. State v. Baldes, 133 Iowa, 158, 110 NW 440. Where the fatal altercation was brought on in an effort by accused to get decedent with whom he had been carousing to go home, and there was testimony that defendant was not the aggressor, a sentence of 15 years in the penitentiary was held excessive by 10 years. Fraylor v. State [Ark.] 96 SW 505.

13. Under Mansf. Dig., one on trial for manslaughter is entitled to have jury determine his punishment. Carney v. U. S. [Ind. T.] 104 SW 606.

14. Where evidence showed decedent was a dangerous man and there was some evidence that killing was accidental, and a verdict of first degree murder was returned with mitigating circumstances, the court should not disregard the latter part of the verdict and sentence defendant to death. Frazier v. State, 117 Tenn. 430, 100 SW 94.

15. Brown v. State [Tex. Cr. App.] 95 SW 1039.

16. 17. People v. Broncado, 188 N. Y. 150, 80 NE 935.

18. Construing Code, § 4746. Busse v. Barr, 132 Iowa, 463, 109 NW 920.

