Where a wilful violation of a statute is made a ground of removal from office, a charge, to justify a removal, must allege a wilful violation of such law. State v. Ballard, 10 Wash. 4, 38 Pac. 761.

Charges held too indefinite.—Where the statute imposes the duty upon a board of supervisors, acting as a board of equalization, to equalize returns of personal property only, a charge that the board has knowingly consented to an undervaluation of real and personal property in gross, but which fails to charge any undervaluation as to such personalty, is not sufficiently definite to support a finding of neglect of duty, and an order of removal from office. State v. Sullivan, 58 Ohio St. 504, 51 N. E. 48, 65 Am. St. Rep. 781.

Variance.—In proceedings by a municipal board for the removal of one of its members, where he was specifically charged with asking for a bribe, and he was found guilty merely of failing to disclose to the council that a bribe had been offered him, the variance was fatal. Hayden v. Memphis, 100 Tenn. 582, 47 S. W. 182.

The burden is on those prosecuting charges against a city officer to establish them. Christy v. Kingfisher, 13 Okla. 585, 76 Pac. 135.

72. Heaney v. Chicago, 117 Ill. App. 405; State v. Lupton, 64 Mo. 415, 27 Am. Rep. 253. Compare State v. Ward, 70 Minn. 53, 72 N. W. 825 (holding that the insufficiency of the charges does not affect the jurisdiction of the tribunal); Zumstein v. Tafel, 6 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 484, 4 Ohio N. P. 314 (holding that, although charges against an officer are insufficient in law, and are so defective that they cannot be made the foundation of an order of removal by the mayor, a court of chancery will not restrain the mayor from hearing the charges and removing the incumbents from office).

73. Andrews v. King, 77 Me. 224.

74. A removal without notice is not a judicial function, and is not reviewable by certiorari. Matter of Carter, 141 Cal. 316, 74 Pac. 997.

When removal discretionary.—The motives actuating councilmen in connection with removals are not ordinarily subject to judicial inquiry, and, in the absence of deception or fraud, courts will decline to interfere with the removal of an officer who holds his office only at their pleasure. Carter v. Durango, 16 Colo. 534, 27 Pac. 1057, 25 Am. St. Rep. 294.

75. Colorado.—Denver v. Darrow, 13 Colo. 460, 22 Pac. 784, 16 Am. St. Rep. 215.

Georgia.—Macon v. Shaw, 16 Ga. 172.

Minnesota.—State v. Duluth, 53 Minn. 238, 55 N. W. 118, 39 Am. St. Rep. 595.

New York.—People v. Nichols, 79 N. Y. 582; People v. Cooper, 21 Hun 517; People v. New York, 19 Hun 441.

Tennessee.—Hayden v. Memphis City Council, 100 Tenn. 582, 47 S. W. 182.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 356.

But see State v. Kennelly, 75 Conn. 704, 55 Atl. 555.

Laches will preclude a petitioner from obtaining reinstatement after removal by the civil service commission. Heancy v. Chicago, 117 Ill. App. 405.

Effect of failure to take oath.—An officer's failure to take the official oath prescribed by the charter before entering on his duties does not deprive him of a standing to contest by certiorari his attempted removal from his office by a succeeding council during his fixed term. Peal v. Newark, 66 N. J. L. 265, 49 Atl. 468 [reversing 66 N. J. L. 105, 48 Atl. 576, but affirming O'Rourke v. Newark, 66 N. J. L. 109, 48 Atl. 578].

76. Colorado.—Denver v. Darrow, 13 Colo. 460, 22 Pac. 784, 16 Am. St. Rep. 215, holding that Denver City Charter, art. 2, § 3, which provides that "each board [of aldermen] shall be the sole judge of the qualifications, election and returns of its own members," does not divest the courts of their correctional power, by certiorari, to review the regularity of the proceedings of such board in ousting a member.

Illinois.—Heaney v. Chicago, 117 Ill. App. 405.

Louisiana.—State v. Shakspeare, 43 La. Ann. 92, 8 So. 893.

were sufficient in law,⁷⁷ and will examine the evidence, not for the purpose of weighing it, but to ascertain whether it furnished any legal and substantial basis for the removal.⁷⁸ Such bodies being essentially legislative and administrative, their proceedings, even when judicial in their nature, are not to be tested by the strict legal rules which prevail in courts of law. If they keep within their jurisdiction, and the evidence furnishes a legal and substantial basis for their decision, it will not be disturbed for mere informalities or irregularities which might amount to reversible error in the proceedings of a court.⁷⁹ But if the good faith and integrity of the decision is impaired, the determination should be annulled.⁸⁰

(2) BY QUO WARRANTO. In some jurisdictions it is held that the proper remedy of one removed from a city office is by quo warranto proceedings against the incumbent appointed as his successor, and in such proceedings the court may inquire into the sufficiency of the charges and findings upon which the removal was made.⁸¹ But after an officer has gone to trial upon charges preferred against him, without objection to their sufficiency, and the issues have been found against him, resulting in his removal from office, he cannot, by quo warranto proceedings, raise the objection that the charges were not sufficiently specific.⁸²

(3) BY PROHIBITION. The removing officer or body is amenable to the writ of prohibition when acting in excess of the jurisdiction conferred.⁸³

(4) BY APPEAL. In some states a special remedy in the nature of an appeal has been given by statute to one whom it is attempted to remove from office for cause.⁸⁴ Such an appeal brings before the court only the validity of the proceed-

Minnesota.—State v. Duluth, 53 Minn. 238, 55 N. W. 118, 39 Am. St. Rep. 595.

Texas.—Riggins v. Waco, (Civ. App. 1905) 90 S. W. 657, 93 S. W. 426.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 356.

No intendments can be indulged as to the jurisdiction and regularity of the proceedings in such cases. State v. Lupton, 64 Mo. 415, 27 Am. Rep. 253.

Effect of failure to give notice.—Where a hearing before removal of the city official is given by statute, and the body charged with giving it has acted without it or refused it, the proceedings will be set aside. Bowlby v. Dover, 68 N. J. L. 97, 52 Atl. 289; People v. Constable, 27 N. Y. App. Div. 74, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 121.

77. State v. New Orleans, 107 La. 632, 32 So. 22; State v. Shakspeare, 43 La. Ann. 92, 8 So. 893; State v. Duluth, 53 Minn. 238, 55 N. W. 118, 39 Am. St. Rep. 595; State v. Hoglan, 64 Ohio St. 532, 60 N. E. 627.

If the cause assigned is a reasonable one, then, whether, under the circumstances, it is sufficient to justify a removal, is for the removing body to decide, and its decision is final. Ayers v. Hatch, 175 Mass. 489, 56 N. E. 612; People v. Brady, 48 N. Y. App. Div. 128, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 603. But whether the cause assigned constituted of itself, as matter of law, ground for removal, is a question of law for the courts. Ayers v. Hatch, supra.

78. State v. New Orleans, 107 La. 632, 32 So. 22; State v. Duluth, 53 Minn. 238, 55 N. W. 118, 39 Am. St. Rep. 595; People v. Grant, 12 Daly (N. Y.) 294; Riggins v. Waco, (Tex. Civ. App. 1906) 93 S. W. 426.

The decision of the removing officer is not open to revision, either to pass upon the weight of the evidence, or to determine whether the evidence justified the finding. Hogan v. Collins, 183 Mass. 43, 66 N. E. 429.

79. State v. Duluth, 53 Minn. 238, 55 N. W. 118, 39 Am. St. Rep. 595.

Errors as to evidence.—Courts will not reverse the action of the removing officer for merely formal errors as to the admission or rejection of testimony, but there must be substantially a fair trial and a fair exercise of judgment on the evidence before him. O'Neil v. Mansfield, 47 Misc. (N. Y.) 516, 95 N. Y. Suppl. 1009.

80. People v. Monroe, 97 N. Y. App. Div. 283, 89 N. Y. Suppl. 929.

81. State v. Kirkwood, 15 Wash. 298, 46 Pac. 331; State v. Van Brocklin, 8 Wash. 557, 36 Pac. 495. See, generally, QUO WARRANTO.

82. State v. Kirkwood, 15 Wash. 298, 46 Pac. 331.

83. Speed v. Detroit, 98 Mich. 360, 57 N. W. 406, 39 Am. St. Rep. 555, 22 L. R. A. 842. See, generally, PROHIBITION.

84. The provision in the charter of the city of Oswego authorizing an officer, upon conviction of the cause charged for his removal, to appeal to the supreme court, has been held to mean the special term and not the appellate division. O'Neil v. Mansfield, 47 Misc. 516, 95 N. Y. Suppl. 1009. It is proper procedure, on appeal from the mayor's action in removing city officers, to order the mayor to certify and return a record of his proceedings in relation to the removal of the officers, and to show cause why the appeal should not prevail and his proceedings be reversed and set aside. O'Neil v. Mansfield, supra.

ings required by law before removal is made, and the discretion of the removing power will not be reviewed.⁸⁵

b. Under Civil Service Restrictions and Veteran Acts — (i) IN GENERAL.⁸⁶ The power of removal is frequently expressly restricted by statutes with regard to persons holding an office or position under the civil service laws,⁸⁷ or with regard to honorably discharged veterans of the army and navy,⁸⁸ or of volunteer fire companies,⁸⁹ the statutes providing that persons holding offices or positions under the civil service laws shall not be discharged except for cause and after a hearing,⁹⁰ or that certain classes of such persons shall not be discharged without being given an opportunity to explain,⁹¹ and the grounds of removal reduced to writing and filed,⁹² or that veterans shall not be discharged except for cause or certain specified causes and after a hearing,⁹³ or the offices or positions held by 85. Avery v. Studley, 74 Conn. 272, 50 Atl. 752.

An assignment of error stating that the court, in considering an appeal from the order of the mayor of a city removing plaintiffs from office, erred "in approving the order of the mayor upon the facts stated in the finding" is too indefinite for consideration by the appellate court. Avery v. Studley, 74 Conn. 272, 50 Atl. 752.

86. See also infra, VII, B; VII, C, 5, b.

87. Lindblom v. Doherty, 102 Ill. App. 14; People v. Dalton, 158 N. Y. 175, 52 N. E. 1113 [reversing 34 N. Y. App. Div. 627, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 1112]; Waters v. New York, 43 Misc. (N. Y.) 154, 88 N. Y. Suppl. 238.

88. Ayers v. Hatch, 175 Mass. 489, 56 N. E. 612; Ellis v. Grand Rapids, 123 Mich. 567, 82 N. W. 244; Ingram v. Jersey City St., etc., Com'rs, 63 N. J. L. 542, 43 Atl. 445; Bean v. Clauson, 113 N. Y. App. Div. 129, 99 N. Y. Suppl. 44; People v. Hoffman, 98 N. Y. App. Div. 4, 90 N. Y. Suppl. 184.

89. People v. Folks, 89 N. Y. App. Div. 171, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 1100; People v. Sturges, 38 Misc. (N. Y.) 433, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 1008.

90. Lindblom v. Doherty, 102 Ill. App. 14; Chicago v. Luthardt, 91 Ill. App. 324.

During the probationary period.—A removal may be made under the Illinois statute without a hearing on written charges. Fish v. McGann, 205 Ill. 179, 68 N. E. 761 [affirming 107 Ill. App. 538].

91. People v. Dalton, 158 N. Y. 175, 52 N. E. 1113 [reversing 34 N. Y. App. Div. 627, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 1112]; People v. Feitner, 49 N. Y. App. Div. 101, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 209 [affirming 29 Misc. 702, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 969]; Waters v. New York, 43 Misc. (N. Y.) 154, 88 N. Y. Suppl. 238; People v. Feitner, 27 Misc. (N. Y.) 153, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 807 [affirmed in 42 N. Y. App. Div. 622, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 1112].

The "head of a bureau" is, under the New York statute, entitled to an opportunity to explain, but the statute relates only to bureaus established by the charter or under its authority and not to bureaus established by the different departments without legislative authority, merely for administrative purposes. People v. Ahearn, 111 N. Y. App. Div. 741, 98 N. Y. Suppl. 492.

"Removed or reduced."—Under a statute providing that persons in certain positions shall not be removed or reduced without an opportunity to explain, the term "reduced" applies to a reduction in salary, although there is no removal or change in position. Waters v. New York, 43 Misc. (N. Y.) 154, 88 N. Y. Suppl. 238.

Non-competitive positions.—If the office or position was at the time of removal classified as not subject to competitive examination, the occupant is not entitled to an opportunity to explain under the New York statute. People v. Keller, 158 N. Y. 187, 52 N. E. 1107 [affirming 35 N. Y. App. Div. 493, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 1011]; People v. Keller, 157 N. Y. 90, 51 N. E. 431 [affirming 31 N. Y. App. Div. 248, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 950].

A person improperly appointed without examination to a position requiring a competitive examination is not entitled as a person holding a position "subject to competitive examination" to an opportunity to explain before removal. People v. McAdoo, 113 N. Y. App. Div. 770, 99 N. Y. Suppl. 324.

Public officers.—The dock master in the department of docks of New York city is a public officer and not an employee, and the duration of his office not being prescribed he may be summarily discharged without a hearing. People v. Cram, 164 N. Y. 166, 58 N. E. 112 [reversing 50 N. Y. App. Div. 380, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 158 (affirming 29 Misc. 359, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 858)].

92. People v. Dalton, 158 N. Y. 175, 52 N. E. 1113 [reversing 34 N. Y. App. Div. 627, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 1112]; People v. Feitner, 49 N. Y. App. Div. 101, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 969, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 209 [affirming 29 Misc. 702, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 969]; Waters v. New York, 43 Misc. (N. Y.) 154, 88 N. Y. Suppl. 238.

93. Ingram v. Jersey City St., etc., Com'rs, 63 N. J. L. 542, 43 Atl. 445; People v. Dalton, 158 N. Y. 204, 52 N. E. 1119 [affirming 34 N. Y. App. Div. 6, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 1060 (affirming 24 Misc. 10, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 108)]; Bean v. Clauson, 113 N. Y. App. Div. 129, 99 N. Y. Suppl. 44; People v. Hoffman, 98 N. Y. App. Div. 4, 90 N. Y. Suppl. 184; People v. Constable, 65 N. Y. App. Div. 176, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 535; People v. Coler, 31 N. Y. App. Div. 523, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 197 [affirmed in 157 N. Y. 676, 51 N. E. 1093].

The Massachusetts statute of 1896, providing that veterans shall not be removed or them abolished for the purpose of terminating their employment,⁹⁴ and statutes conferring upon certain officers a general power of removal must be construed with and limited by the statutes imposing a restriction in favor of such persons.⁹⁵ The statutes requiring a hearing or opportunity to explain apply only where the removal is for incompetency, misconduct, or other reason personal to the individual removed,⁹⁶ and not where the removal is made in good faith from motives of economy,⁹⁷ as where the services are no longer needed,⁹⁸ or there is not a sufficient appropriation to pay salaries,⁹⁹ or the office or position is in good faith abolished;¹ but to make a compliance with the statutes unnecessary, the office must be abolished in good faith.² The civil service laws, in the absence of any express restrictions, do not affect the power of removal,³ and the removal of persons holding civil service positions which are not within the classes to which the restrictions apply is governed by the rules applicable to the question of removals generally.⁴

(ii) GROUNDS. Where the statute prohibits a removal except for cause but does suspended except after a full hearing, does not apply to all veterans in the employ of the municipality, but only to those holding an office or employment under the civil service laws. Ayers v. Hatch, 175 Mass. 489, 56 N. E. 612.

The Michigan statute of 1897, providing that "no veteran holding an office or employment in the public works of any city or town" shall be removed except after a full hearing, and making a violation of the statute a misdemeanor, is a penal statute and must be strictly construed, and the term "public works" does not include public departments so as to entitle a clerk in the office of the city attorney to the protection of the statute. Ellis v. Grand Rapids, 123 Mich. 567, 82 N. W. 244.

Exception as to private secretaries and deputies.—The New York statute prohibiting the discharge of a veteran except for incompetency or misconduct shown after a hearing upon due notice expressly excepts a private secretary or deputy of any official or department. People v. Wells, 176 N. Y. 462, 68 N. E. 883 [reversing 86 N. Y. App. Div. 270, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 789], 178 N. Y. 135, 70 N. E. 218; People v. Scannell, 51 N. Y. App. Div. 360, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 593; People v. Tracy, 35 N. Y. App. Div. 265, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 1070; People v. Scully, 35 Misc. (N. Y.) 613, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 123.

The uniformed force of the street cleaning department of New York city is not within the application and protection of the veteran statute. People v. McCartney, 36 N. Y. App. Div. 39, 55 N. Y. Suppl. 156.

Waiver of right to hearing.—One entitled to a hearing before removal by reason of being a veteran or volunteer fireman must, unless the removing officer has knowledge or there is a record of the fact, give notice that he is a veteran or fireman, and claim his right to a hearing at the time of removal, or he will be held to have waived his right. People v. White, 59 N. Y. App. Div. 17, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 30; People v. Clausen, 50 N. Y. App. Div. 286, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 993; People v. Porter, 90 Hun (N. Y.) 401, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 811.

Failure to reappoint a veteran at the expiration of his term of office is not a removal from office. People v. Follett, 24 Misc. (N. Y.) 510, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 956.

94. Ingram v. Jersey City St., etc., Com'rs, 63 N. J. L. 542, 43 Atl. 445.

95. People v. Hoffman, 98 N. Y. App. Div. 4, 90 N. Y. Suppl. 184; People v. Constable, 65 N. Y. App. Div. 176, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 535. But see Jacobus v. Van Wyck, 33 N. Y. App. Div. 318, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 914 [reversing 24 Misc. 329, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 711].

96. Fitzsimmons v. O'Neill, 214 Ill. 494, 73 N. E. 797 [affirming 114 Ill. App. 168]; People v. New York, 86 N. Y. App. Div. 521, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 800 [affirmed in 176 N. Y. 602, 68 N. E. 1123]; Kenny v. Kane, 27 Misc. (N. Y.) 680, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 555.

97. Fitzsimmons v. O'Neill, 214 Ill. 494, 73 N. E. 797; Caulfield v. Jersey City, 63 N. J. L. 148, 43 Atl. 433; Kenny v. Kane, 27 Misc. (N. Y.) 680, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 555.

98. People v. Waring, 7 N. Y. App. Div. 204, 40 N. Y. Suppl. 275; Kenny v. Kane, 27 Misc. (N. Y.) 680, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 555.

99. People v. New York, 86 N. Y. App. Div. 521, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 800 [affirmed in 176 N. Y. 602, 68 N. E. 1123].

1. Fitzsimmons v. O'Neill, 214 Ill. 494, 73 N. E. 797 [affirming 114 Ill. App. 168]; Chicago v. People, 114 Ill. App. 145; Caulfield v. Jersey City, 63 N. J. L. 148, 43 Atl. 433; Matter of Kelly, 42 N. Y. App. Div. 283, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 30.

2. Ingram v. Jersey City St., etc., Com'rs, 63 N. J. L. 542, 43 Atl. 445; Jones v. Wilcox, 80 N. Y. App. Div. 167, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 420; People v. Dalton, 44 N. Y. App. Div. 556, 60 N. Y. Suppl. 909.

3. People v. Dalton, 23 Misc. (N. Y.) 294, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 1028 [affirmed in 31 N. Y. App. Div. 630, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 1112].

4. People v. Dalton, 159 N. Y. 235, 53 N. E. 1113 [affirming 34 N. Y. App. Div. 302, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 216]; People v. New York, 86 N. Y. App. Div. 521, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 800 [affirmed in 176 N. Y. 602, 68 N. E. 1123]; People v. Drake, 43 N. Y. App. Div. 325, 60 N. Y. Suppl. 309 [affirmed in 161 N. Y. 642, 57 N. E. 1122]; People v. Dalton, 23 Misc. (N. Y.) 294, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 1028 [affirmed not specify what shall constitute cause, the question is for the determination of those vested with the power of conducting the hearing;⁵ and a provision that the civil service commission shall make and publish rules in regard to removals does not require that it shall determine and specify in advance the grounds upon which a removal may be made.⁶ Cause for removal is not limited to offenses done while the officer or person is acting strictly within the line of his duties.⁷

(iii) PROCEDURE. The opportunity to explain required by statute in certain cases before a discharge is not a trial and no formal procedure is required.⁸ It is not necessary that the charges should be verified under oath,⁹ or witnesses produced,¹⁰ or if produced that they should be sworn;¹¹ but only that the charges should be definitely made and a fair opportunity to explain them given,¹² and the proceeding may be conducted by a deputy as well as the head of a department.¹³ Where a removal can be made only for cause and after a hearing, the hearing, while not a common-law or criminal proceeding,¹⁴ is of a judicial character and must be so conducted,¹⁵ giving the accused a full and fair opportunity to be heard and to examine witnesses and present evidence in his own behalf,¹⁶ and the burden of establishing the charges is upon the party alleging them.¹⁷ Sufficient notice must also be given to enable the person accused to procure counsel and prepare his defense,¹⁸ and the charges must be made in writing if the statute so provides,¹⁹ and with sufficient definiteness and certainty properly to inform the accused of their character and extent,²⁰ but the technical language and particularity required in an indictment or complaint is not necessary.²¹ Under the Illinois statute the civil service commission is given jurisdiction to try the question of removal on charges,²² and they may compel the production of any books and papers relevant to the investigation;²³ but their functions are limited to investigating the charges and certifying the result of their investigation, the right of removal being in the appointing officer.²⁴

(iv) REVIEW. Where the right of removal is restricted by statute the proceedings are reviewable on certiorari,²⁵ and will be reversed where it appears that in 31 N. Y. App. Div. 630, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 1122].

5. Kammann v. Chicago, 222 Ill. 63, 78 N. E. 16.

6. Joyce v. Chicago, 216 Ill. 466, 75 N. E. 184.

7. Joyce v. Chicago, 216 Ill. 466, 75 N. E. 184.

8. People v. Coler, 40 N. Y. App. Div. 65, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 636 [affirmed in 159 N. Y. 569, 54 N. E. 1094]; People v. Cruger, 17 N. Y. App. Div. 483, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 519 [affirmed in 155 N. Y. 701, 50 N. E. 1121].

9. People v. Coler, 40 N. Y. App. Div. 65, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 636 [affirmed in 159 N. Y. 569, 54 N. E. 1094].

10. People v. Cruger, 17 N. Y. App. Div. 483, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 519 [affirmed in 155 N. Y. 701, 50 N. E. 1121].

11. People v. Coler, 40 N. Y. App. Div. 65, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 636 [affirmed in 159 N. Y. 569, 54 N. E. 1094].

12. People v. Cruger, 17 N. Y. App. Div. 483, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 519 [affirmed in 155 N. Y. 701, 50 N. E. 1121].

13. People v. Coler, 40 N. Y. App. Div. 65, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 636 [affirmed in 159 N. Y. 569, 54 N. E. 1094].

14. Joyce v. Chicago, 216 Ill. 466, 75 N. E. 184.

15. People v. McCartney, 34 N. Y. App. Div. 19, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 1047.

The witnesses should be sworn on such a hearing. People v. McCartney, 34 N. Y. App. Div. 19, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 1047. But see People v. Brookfield, 6 N. Y. App. Div. 445, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 677 [affirmed in 151 N. Y. 674, 46 N. E. 1150].

16. People v. McCartney, 34 N. Y. App. Div. 19, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 1047.

17. People v. Crani, 34 N. Y. App. Div. 313, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 355.

18. People v. McCartney, 34 N. Y. App. Div. 19, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 1047.

19. Lindblom v. Doherty, 102 Ill. App. 14.

20. Lindblom v. Doherty, 102 Ill. App. 14.

Waiver of objections.—Any lack of definiteness in the specification of charges is waived by an appearance and participation in the proceedings without any objection. People v. Brookfield, 6 N. Y. App. Div. 445, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 677 [affirmed in 151 N. Y. 674, 46 N. E. 1150].

21. Joyce v. Chicago, 216 Ill. 466, 75 N. E. 184.

22. Joyce v. Chicago, 216 Ill. 466, 75 N. E. 184.

23. Kanter v. Clerk Cir. Ct., 108 Ill. App. 287.

24. Lindblom v. Doherty, 102 Ill. App. 14.

25. Kammann v. Chicago, 222 Ill. 63, 78 N. E. 16; People v. Hoffman, 98 N. Y. App. Div. 4, 90 N. Y. Suppl. 184.

a hearing in a case within the application of the statute was denied,²⁶ or the proceedings were not fairly conducted;²⁷ but not where it appears that the proceedings were fairly conducted and the evidence sufficient to sustain the charges,²⁸ or where the charges if true are sufficient to warrant a removal, and it does not appear that the discharged officers abused their discretion in refusing to accept the explanation made.²⁹

(v) REINSTATEMENT OR TRANSFER. Where a person has been improperly removed without a hearing or opportunity to explain, as required by statute, mandamus will lie to compel his reinstatement.³⁰ The application must be preceded by a demand for reinstatement, stating the grounds upon which it is based,³¹ and the petition must show that the position from which relator was removed was one within the application of the statutes.³² The person appointed to fill the position from which relator was removed is not a necessary party.³³ The right to a reinstatement may be barred by laches,³⁴ and will be denied in the case of one who was a veteran where the removing officer had no notice of the fact, and the right to a hearing was not claimed at the time of removal,³⁵ or where the officer making the removal and against whom the proceedings are instituted was without authority either to remove or reinstate.³⁶ The New York statutes also provide that where the position held by a veteran becomes unnecessary or is abolished, he shall not be dismissed from the public service but transferred to some other position which he is competent to fill.³⁷ This statute does not, however, give the veteran an unqualified right to be retained, but only to a transfer in case there is a vacancy which he is competent to fill,³⁸ it not being contemplated that the municipality should be burdened with the expense of persons

26. People v. Hoffman, 98 N. Y. App. Div. 4, 90 N. Y. Suppl. 184.

27. People v. McCartney, 34 N. Y. App. Div. 19, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 1047.

28. People v. Coler, 78 N. Y. App. Div. 248, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 1085 [affirmed in 175 N. Y. 510, 67 N. E. 1088]; People v. Brady, 62 N. Y. App. Div. 609, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 823.

29. People v. Brady, 43 N. Y. App. Div. 60, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 322; People v. Cruger, 17 N. Y. App. Div. 483, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 519 [affirmed in 155 N. Y. 701, 50 N. E. 1121].

30. Ingram v. Jersey City St., etc., Com'rs, 63 N. J. L. 542, 43 Atl. 445; People v. Dalton, 158 N. Y. 204, 52 N. E. 1119 [affirming 34 N. Y. App. Div. 6, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 1060 (affirming 24 Misc. 10, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 108)]; People v. Dalton, 158 N. Y. 175, 52 N. E. 1113 [reversing 34 N. Y. App. Div. 627, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 1112]; People v. Dalton, 41 N. Y. App. Div. 458, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 929 [affirmed in 160 N. Y. 686, 55 N. E. 1099]; People v. Coler, 31 N. Y. App. Div. 523, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 197 [affirmed in 157 N. Y. 676, 51 N. E. 1093]; Nuttall v. Simis, 31 N. Y. App. Div. 503, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 308 [affirming 22 Misc. 19, 47 N. Y. Suppl. 1097].

Compensation on reinstatement.—The New York statute of 1904 provides that if a veteran is improperly removed and reinstated on mandamus, he shall be entitled to and shall receive the same compensation from the date of removal to his reinstatement as he would have received if he had not been removed, and mandamus will lie to compel the payment of such compensation. People v. Grout, 44 Misc. (N. Y.) 526, 90 N. Y. Suppl. 122.

31. People v. Clausen, 50 N. Y. App. Div. 286, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 993.

32. People v. Dalton, 159 N. Y. 235, 53 N. E. 1113 [affirming 34 N. Y. App. Div. 302, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 216]; People v. Ahearn, 111 N. Y. App. Div. 741, 98 N. Y. Suppl. 492; People v. Dalton, 23 Misc. (N. Y.) 294, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 1028 [affirmed in 31 N. Y. App. Div. 630, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 1122].

33. People v. Ahearn, 111 N. Y. App. Div. 741, 98 N. Y. Suppl. 492.

34. People v. Welde, 28 Misc. (N. Y.) 582, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 1030, holding that a delay of over four months in moving for mandamus for reinstatement, if unexplained, is such laches as will bar the right.

35. People v. White, 59 N. Y. App. Div. 17, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 30; People v. Clausen, 50 N. Y. App. Div. 286, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 993.

36. People v. Dalton, 158 N. Y. 204, 52 N. E. 1119 [affirming 34 N. Y. App. Div. 6, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 1060 (affirming 24 Misc. 10, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 108)]; holding that in such case the removal proceedings are void, and that mandamus will not issue to compel an officer to do that which he has no authority to do.

37. Jones v. Willcox, 80 N. Y. App. Div. 167, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 420; People v. Voorhis, 63 N. Y. App. Div. 249, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 266; People v. Scannell, 48 N. Y. App. Div. 69, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 682 [affirming 27 Misc. 734, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 480].

38. People v. Lindenthal, 173 N. Y. 524, 66 N. E. 407 [reversing 79 N. Y. App. Div. 43, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 828]; In re Breckenridge, 160 N. Y. 103, 54 N. E. 670 [affirming 40 N. Y. App. Div. 633, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 1146].

whose services are not needed,³⁹ or discharge any person already acceptably filling a position but who is not protected by the veteran act in order to make room for a veteran.⁴⁰ If there is a vacancy which the veteran is competent to fill, mandamus will lie to compel his reinstatement and transfer to such position,⁴¹ but the burden is upon the applicant to show his qualifications for the position.⁴²

c. Effect of Removal. The sentence of removal by competent authority operates forthwith to terminate official life and function, unless otherwise prescribed by statute.⁴³ He cannot hold office until it has been decided by some authority vested with the power of review, whether or not he has been legally removed.⁴⁴ Where judgment of ouster is pronounced against persons holding seats in a city council, and they are ousted therefrom on the ground that the wards from which they claimed to have been elected had no legal existence, such ouster does not create vacancies in the council which may be filled by a special election.⁴⁵ So where a mayor by official misconduct forfeits his office, and the forfeiture is judicially declared in a quo warranto proceeding, the judgment of ouster operates to deprive him of the right to take or hold the office during the remainder of the term to which he has been elected.⁴⁶

d. Action For Wrongful Removal and Damages Recoverable. Under a statute providing that if judgment, on the trial of the right of a person to office, be rendered in his favor, he may recover the damages sustained by the usurpation thereof by defendant, no damages may be recovered from the body exercising the power where a city office was taken from plaintiff and given to defendant under a void act of the legislature.⁴⁷ Where damages for removing a municipal officer are recoverable, they are such as necessarily result from the amotion, namely, the salary and perquisites of the office.⁴⁸ In an action for wrongful ouster from office, it is not error to permit plaintiff to strike out an allegation as to the power of defendant mayor and aldermen to remove for cause the incumbent of an office created by charter or ordinance, as the state of facts on which the action is based remains unaltered.⁴⁹ In an action for damages for wrongful removal from office by the mayor and aldermen of a city, the refusal by the court to permit defendants to read the provisions of the city charter giving them authority to remove for cause is erroneous.⁵⁰

13. COMPENSATION⁵¹ — a. Right Thereto — (1) OF DE JURE OFFICERS — (A) In General. Unless, at the time of the performance of services, compensation

39. In re Breckenridge, 160 N. Y. 103, 54 N. E. 670 [affirming 40 N. Y. App. Div. 633, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 1146].

40. People v. Lindenthal, 173 N. Y. 524, 66 N. E. 407 [reversing 79 N. Y. App. Div. 43, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 328]; In re Breckenridge, 160 N. Y. 103, 54 N. E. 670 [affirming 40 N. Y. App. Div. 633, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 1146].

41. People v. Scannell, 48 N. Y. App. Div. 69, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 682 [affirming 27 Misc. 734, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 480].

The application for mandamus is premature where certain positions have been abolished by law and the positions created under the new law in place of those abolished have not been classified or the salaries fixed. People v. Voorhis, 63 N. Y. App. Div. 249, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 266.

42. Jones v. Willcox, 80 N. Y. App. Div. 167, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 420.

43. Heffran v. Hutchins, 160 Ill. 550, 43 N. E. 709, 52 Am. St. Rep. 353.

44. Heffran v. Hutchins, 160 Ill. 550, 43 N. E. 709, 52 Am. St. Rep. 353 [affirming 56 Ill. App. 581]; Welchhaus v. Lancaster, 12 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) 135.

45. State v. Kearns, 47 Ohio St. 566, 25 N. E. 1027.

46. State v. Rose, 74 Kan. 262, 86 Pac. 296, 6 L. R. A. N. S. 843.

47. Bravin v. Tombstone, 4 Ariz. 83, 33 Pac. 589.

48. Shaw v. Macon, 19 Ga. 468.

49. Manker v. Faulhaber, 94 Mo. 430, 6 S. W. 372.

50. Manker v. Faulhaber, 94 Mo. 430, 6 S. W. 372.

51. Compensation of agents and employees see infra, VII, C, 6.

Compensation of officers of departments see infra, VII, B.

Exemption of salary of officers see EXEMPTIONS, 18 Cyc. 1434.

Garnishment of salaries of officers, agents, and employees see GARNISHMENT, 20 Cyc. 1030.

Municipal corporations or their officers or agents as persons subject to garnishment see GARNISHMENT, 20 Cyc. 988, 989.

Supplementary proceedings against salaries of officers and employees see EXECUTIONS, 17 Cyc. 1416.

therefor had been fixed and declared by statute,⁵² ordinance,⁵³ or express agreement authorized by law,⁵⁴ a municipal officer is not entitled to compensation for official services rendered by him.⁵⁵ An officer whose salary is fixed by law is entitled to that salary, not as under a contract of employment but as incident to the office, and he cannot be deprived of it so long as he holds the office.⁵⁶

(B) Pending Determination of Right to Office. A de jure officer who is illegally kept out of his office cannot recover emoluments thereof until there has been a judicial determination establishing his right to the office;⁵⁷ but after such determination he may recover salary for the period for which he was prevented from performing his official duties,⁵⁸ except where the same has been actually paid to an officer de facto holding office and performing the duties.⁵⁹ After such

52. Lewis v. Widber, 99 Cal. 412, 33 Pac. 1128.

Abolition of one office and creation of another with same duties.—Where a statute abolishes a given office and creates another differing in title but not in the duties pertaining thereto, and is silent as to compensation, the incumbent of the latter office is entitled to the salary attached to the former office before it was abolished. Nichols v. Edenton, 125 N. C. 13, 34 S. E. 71.

Amendment of charter for purpose of giving salary.—Where a city charter is amended so as to give a certain officer a salary, no compensation having been previously given, the statute does not have a retroactive effect so as to entitle a person holding such office at the time of the enactment of the amendment to compensation for the portion of his term prior to the amendment. Montpelier v. Senter, 72 Vt. 112, 47 Atl. 392.

Exceeding debt limit.—A constitutional provision that no city shall incur any liability exceeding in any year the income of the revenue provided for such year without the assent of two thirds of the qualified voters of such city has no application to the liability of a city for the salary of a municipal officer whose fee has been created and whose salary has been fixed by statute, as such liability has been established by the legislature and cannot be said to be incurred by the city. Lewis v. Widber, 99 Cal. 412, 33 Pac. 1128.

53. Devers v. York City, 150 Pa. St. 208, 24 Atl. 668.

Invalid ordinance.—Under Laws (1889–1890), p. 223, § 6, providing that elected officers shall receive such salaries as may be prescribed in the city charter, an ordinance providing for compensation to councilmen is invalid, where the charter provides none. Bardsley v. Sternberg, 17 Wash. 243, 49 Pac. 499.

54. Tice v. New Brunswick, 73 N. J. L. 615, 64 Atl. 103, holding that Gen. St. p. 2123, § 8, concerning salaries of officers in cities and townships, authorizes an agreement requiring the officer to perform his duties for a compensation limited to the value of the services that may be rendered and without any stipulated salary.

55. Kentucky.—Louisville v. Baird, 15 B. Mon. 246.

Louisiana.—Bosworth v. New Orleans, 26 La. Ann. 494.

Maine.—Goud v. Portland, 96 Me. 125, 51 Atl. 820.

New Jersey.—See McEwan v. West Hoboken, 58 N. J. L. 512, 34 Atl. 130.

New York.—Wittmer v. New York, 50 N. Y. App. Div. 482, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 170; Haswell v. New York, 9 Daly 1 [affirmed in 81 N. Y. 255]; O'Connor v. New York, 48 Misc. 407, 95 N. Y. Suppl. 504.

Texas.—Brownwood v. Farmer, 3 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 350.

Wisconsin.—Gilbert-Arnold Land Co. v. Superior, 91 Wis. 353, 64 N. W. 999.

In Canada it has been held that where a by-law appoints an officer, but does not fix his salary, the law will fix it at a reasonable sum, regard being had to the services performed. Bogart v. Seymour Tp., 10 Ont. 322.

56. Fitzsimmons v. Brooklyn, 102 N. Y. 536, 7 N. E. 787, 55 Am. Rep. 835; Grieb v. Syracuse, 94 N. Y. App. Div. 133, 87 N. Y. Suppl. 1083.

One who is neither a de facto nor de jure officer is not entitled to the compensation attached to a municipal office. Hampton v. Jones, 105 Va. 306, 54 S. E. 16.

57. McVeany v. New York, 80 N. Y. 185, 36 Am. Rep. 600, 59 How. Pr. 106.

58. McVeany v. New York, 80 N. Y. 185, 36 Am. Rep. 600, 59 How. Pr. 106; Dolan v. New York, 68 N. Y. 274, 23 Am. Rep. 168. See also Philadelphia v. Rink, 1 Pa. Cas. 390, 2 Atl. 505.

59. Louisiana.—Michel v. New Orleans, 32 La. Ann. 1094.

Michigan.—Scott v. Crump, 106 Mich. 288, 64 N. W. 1, 58 Am. St. Rep. 418, holding that when one candidate for city controller is given the office by virtue of the decision of a board of canvassers, payment of salary to him prior to a judgment of ouster in favor of the other candidate will bar recovery of salary by the latter for such time as the former occupied the office and received a salary therefor, and it makes no difference that the city had notice of contest or that members of the city council were ex-officio members of the canvassing board, there having been no fraud on their party.

New Jersey.—McDonald v. Newark, 58 N. J. L. 12, 32 Atl. 384.

New York.—McVeany v. New York, 80 N. Y. 185, 36 Am. Rep. 600, 59 How. Pr. 106; Dolan v. New York, 68 N. Y. 274, 23

adjudication any amount for services rendered not paid to the intruder is payable to the one adjudged the de jure officer,⁶⁰ and where, after the adjudication and notice thereof to the disbursing officer, the intruder still continues to perform the duties of the office, the compensation therefor belongs to the de jure officer and he may maintain an action therefor against the municipality, although the disbursing officer has paid it to the intruder.⁶¹

(c) During Period of Suspension. An officer who is arbitrarily suspended without cause but not removed is entitled to his salary during the period of suspension.⁶² Otherwise, however, as to an officer legally suspended for cause. He cannot recover for services which he did not and had no right to render.⁶³ Under an ordinance providing that an officer shall not receive any compensation during the time he is suspended by the mayor for a supposed offense, nor until the council decides the case, one who is suspended is entitled, on acquittal and reinstatement, to his salary during the time of suspension,⁶⁴ although another officer was appointed to perform his duties during such period.⁶⁵

(d) On Removal. An incumbent of a municipal office legally removed therefrom is not entitled to the compensation attached to the office after such removal.⁶⁶ But where the officer was wrongfully removed, the rule is that he may on reinstatement recover from the municipality the salary that accrued during the period of removal,⁶⁷ unless it appears that such salary was paid to a de facto officer holding the office and performing the duties;⁶⁸ reinstatement, however, by a competent legal tribunal in direct proceedings for that purpose being a

Am. Rep. 168; Smith v. New York, 37 N. Y. 518; Demarest v. New York, 74 Hun 517, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 585 [affirmed in 147 N. Y. 203, 41 N. E. 405]. Compare People v. Brennan, 45 Barb. 457, 30 How. Pr. 417.

Ohio.—State v. Eshelby, 2 Ohio Cir. Ct. 468, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 592.

Utah.—Kendall v. Raybould, 13 Utah 226, 44 Pac. 1034.

The municipality is protected from a second payment of compensation once paid to one actually discharging the duties of an office, under color of title, whether the compensation was fixed by fees payable from the municipal treasury for the specified service rendered or by an annual salary payable at recurring periods, and also whether the office is held by appointment or by election. McVeany v. New York, 80 N. Y. 185, 36 Am. Rep. 600, 59 How. Pr. 106.

60. McVeany v. New York, 80 N. Y. 185, 36 Am. Rep. 600, 59 How. Pr. 106.

61. McVeany v. New York, 80 N. Y. 185, 36 Am. Rep. 600, 59 How. Pr. 106.

62. Emmitt v. New York, 128 N. Y. 117, 28 N. E. 19; Gregory v. New York, 113 N. Y. 416, 21 N. E. 119, 3 L. R. A. 854. Compare Stuebenville v. Culp, 38 Ohio St. 18, 43 Am. Rep. 417, holding that an officer suspended without cause is not entitled to compensation for the period during which he was suspended, where the statute declares that the suspension creates a vacancy and provides how that vacancy shall be filled.

63. Westberg v. Kansas City, 64 Mo. 493.

64. State v. Carr, 3 Mo. App. 6.

65. State v. Carr, 3 Mo. App. 6.

66. Turner v. Chicago, 76 Ill. App. 649; Mandell v. New Orleans, 21 La. Ann. 9; Lethbridge v. New York, 133 N. Y. 232, 30 N. E. 975.

Where a municipal officer is thrown into prison on a criminal charge, and thereby incapacitated from discharging his duties, and another is elected, he cannot upon his acquittal recover the salary for the balance of his term. Brunswick v. Fahm, 60 Ga. 109.

67. Chicago v. Luthardt, 191 Ill. 516, 61 N. E. 410; Padden v. New York, 45 Misc. (N. Y.) 517, 92 N. Y. Suppl. 926.

Abolition of office after removal therefrom.—The clerk of a department of the city of New York which was abolished on Jan. 1, 1902, was unlawfully dismissed therefrom on Aug. 20, 1901, and was reinstated on Jan. 27, 1902, and reemployed June 10, 1902, at the same salary by the president of the borough on whom the duties of the department had devolved. It was held, under Laws (1901), c. 456, § 1543, providing that a person legally holding the office or filling the position abolished shall be suspended without pay, that the clerk was not entitled to salary from Jan. 1, 1901, to June 10, 1902. Kastor v. New York, 39 Misc. (N. Y.) 709, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 952.

68. Martin v. New York, 82 N. Y. App. Div. 35, 81 N. Y. Suppl. 412 [affirmed in 176 N. Y. 371, 68 N. E. 640]. See also McManus v. Brooklyn, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 424.

Payment after notice.—An officer who has been prevented from performing the duties of his office by an illegal removal by the municipal authorities is still an officer de jure, and may recover from the city his salary for the period of removal, although the same has been paid to an officer de facto appointed to fill the assumed vacancy, provided the municipal authorities had knowledge of his claim therefor prior to such payment. Andrews v. Portland, 79 Me. 484, 10 Atl. 458, 10 Am. St. Rep. 280.

condition precedent to the right of recovery. Title to office cannot be tried in an action to recover the salary incident thereto.⁶⁹

(E) During Absence From City. No deduction from the salary of a municipal officer can be made by reason of his absence from the city on private business.⁷⁰

(F) While Holding Over. A de jure officer continuing to perform the duties of his office after the expiration of his term, owing to the want of appointment of a successor, is to be deemed as holding over and is entitled to compensation up to the time he ceases to discharge such duties.⁷¹

(G) After Abolition of Office. Where a municipal office is abolished the former incumbent has no right to demand compensation for the unexpired term,⁷² even where he continues to perform the duties of the office.⁷³ But if the abolition of the office is subsequently declared invalid, an incumbent who in good faith performed,⁷⁴ or was willing to perform,⁷⁵ the duties of his office, becomes entitled to its emoluments.

(H) For Particular Acts and Services. Compensation in the form of fees or commissions may be and often is allowed by statute or ordinance for the performance of a particular service.⁷⁶ And the right of an officer to compensation so fixed

69. Lee v. Wilmington, 1 Marv. (Del.) 65, 40 Atl. 663; Gorley v. Louisville, 104 Ky. 372, 47 S. W. 263, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 602; Hagan v. Brooklyn, 126 N. Y. 643, 27 N. E. 265; McManus v. Brooklyn, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 424; Selby v. Portland, 14 Oreg. 234, 12 Pac. 377, 58 Am. Rep. 307.

70. Bates v. St. Louis, 153 Mo. 18, 54 S. W. 439, 77 Am. St. Rep. 701, holding further that St. Louis Charter, art. 4, § 17, providing that the president of the council or speaker of the house of delegates, if the former be absent, shall perform the duties of mayor in case of the absence of the mayor, and "shall receive the same compensation as the mayor," while so acting, does not intend that the salary shall accrue to the acting officer during the interim or that any deduction for personal private absences shall be made from the mayor's salary.

Reason for rule.—The right of an officer to his fees, emoluments, or salary is such only as is prescribed by statute; and while he holds the office such right is in no way impaired by his occasional or protracted absence from his post, or neglect of his duties. Such derelictions find their corrections in the power of removal, impeachment, and punishment provided by law. Bates v. St. Louis, 153 Mo. 18, 54 S. W. 439, 77 Am. St. Rep. 701 [quoting Throop Public Officers, § 500].

71. Gilbert v. Paducah, 115 Ky. 160, 72 S. W. 816, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 1998; Taylor v. New York, 67 N. Y. 87.

Office to which no compensation attached.—Where a city treasurer who by law was ex officio treasurer of the school fund for which, however, he was not entitled to compensation, continued to hold the school fund, his successor qualifying as city treasurer, but failing to qualify as school treasurer by giving an additional bond, it was held that the officer holding over was not entitled to compensation therefor, since if he was city treasurer his salary covered all the duties of the office, and if he was not, his holding of the school fund was an unlawful act for which he could not demand compensation. Knorr v.

Board of Education, 8 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 672, 9 Cinc. L. Bul. 182.

The provision of Ky. St. § 3264, that the transfer of a city of the third class to another class shall not in any wise affect the rights and duties of any officer thereof, is to be read in connection with section 3172, being part of the act for government of cities of the second class; so that the officers of a city coming into the second class, like those of a city originally in the class, are entitled to hold their offices and receive the same compensation as before till the induction into the office of the officers elected at the next regular election for cities of the second class. Gilbert v. Paducah, 115 Ky. 160, 72 S. W. 816, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 1998.

72. Wittmer v. New York, 50 N. Y. App. Div. 482, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 170; Palestine v. West, (Tex. Civ. App. 1896) 37 S. W. 783; Meissner v. Boyle, 20 Utah 316, 50 Pac. 1110; Heath v. Salt Lake City, 16 Utah 374, 52 Pac. 602; McAllister v. Swan, 16 Utah 1, 50 Pac. 812.

73. Wittmer v. New York, 50 N. Y. App. Div. 482, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 170; Meissner v. Boyle, 20 Utah 316, 50 Pac. 1110; McAllister v. Swan, 16 Utah 1, 50 Pac. 812.

Constitutional provision against change of salary.—The provision of Const. § 161, that the compensation of no municipal officer shall be changed after his election or during his term of office is to be read with section 156, giving the power to transfer in the city from one class to another, and does not impair the power to abolish the municipality or the office, thereby depriving the incumbent of such office of his right to demand compensation for the unexpired term. Gilbert v. Paducah, 115 Ky. 160, 72 S. W. 816, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 1998.

74. Frankfort v. Brawmer, 100 Ky. 166, 37 S. W. 950, 38 S. W. 497, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 684.

75. San Antonio v. Micklejohn, 89 Tex. 79, 33 S. W. 735.

76. Smith v. Waterbury, 54 Conn. 174, 7 Atl. 17; Austin v. Johns, 62 Tex. 179; Hous-

for a particular service cannot be defeated by the act of a municipality in placing it beyond his power to perform that service;⁷⁷ but he cannot claim remuneration for a particular service when it was not performed by himself but by another whose duty it was to render it.⁷⁸

(i) For Duties of Another Office. A municipal officer having a fixed salary, who is vested with the powers and duties of another municipal office, is deemed to be compensated for acting in both capacities by his salary, unless the law expressly declares that he shall receive a different and additional compensation.⁷⁹ An officer having a fixed salary who is ex officio a member of some municipal board or body is not entitled to additional compensation for acting in the latter capacity,⁸⁰ except where the statute expressly so provides.⁸¹

(j) Interest on Municipal Funds. Unless the law expressly so provides,⁸² the interest received by a city officer from funds under his official control does not belong to him as perquisites.⁸³

(K) Extra Compensation.—(1) OFFICIAL ACTS—(a) IN GENERAL. The rule is that a person accepting a municipal office with a fixed salary is bound, in the absence of some express provision of law,⁸⁴ to perform all the duties of the office ton v. Stewart, (Tex. Civ. App. 1905) 90 S. W. 49.

Officer obtaining judgment.—The commission of five per cent under Louisiana act of 1852 to the assistant city attorney upon tax bills collected by suit was due to the officer who obtained the judgment, and not to one who collected the amount of it. Hiestand v. New Orleans, 14 La. Ann. 330. Under a resolution of the city council providing that the city attorney shall be allowed a commission on all sums collected by him for the city by action to enforce collection of taxes, the attorney was entitled to commissions on taxes paid the city after he went out of office on judgments obtained by him. Houston v. Stewart, (Tex. Civ. App. 1905) 90 S. W. 49. If the city without the attorney's consent arbitrarily released a portion of such judgments or purchased any of the property in satisfaction of the judgments against it, it would be liable to the attorney for the full amount of his commission. Houston v. Stewart, supra.

Costs and allowances in actions prosecuted.—Under a charter providing that the corporation counsel shall be entitled in actions in which the city shall be successful to costs collected from the adverse party, the corporation counsel, on the city succeeding in an action to foreclose tax liens, is entitled to the taxable costs, although it became the purchaser of the land. Under the circumstances it is considered that the costs are collected from the adverse party. Sutherland v. Rochester, 189 N. Y. 198, 82 N. E. 171 [reversing 112 N. Y. App. Div. 712, 98 N. Y. Suppl. 970].

The St. Louis land commissioner was not entitled to fees for making and certifying a transcript of proceedings before him, required for the purpose of an appeal from his decision. State v. Ryan, 2 Mo. App. 303.

Services to be completed.—The assistant city attorney of New Orleans is not entitled to recover five per cent commissions on uncollected judgments, under Act No. 175 of 1859, giving him the right to recover com-mision on judgments only when the amounts thereof have been actually collected and paid into the treasury. Hiestand v. New Orleans, 28 La. Ann. 456.

Defendants working out fines.—Under a city ordinance providing that the recorder shall not be paid fees unless defendants against whom he has proceeded have paid their fines in money or other current funds, he is not entitled to fees where defendants work out their fines on the streets. Boucher v. Moberly, 74 Mo. 113.

77. Baxley v. Holton, 114 Ga. 724, 40 S. E. 728; Beard v. Decatur, 64 Tex. 7, 53 Am. Rep. 735.

78. Hiestand v. New Orleans, 28 La. Ann. 456.

79. Upton v. Clinton, 52 Iowa 311, 3 N. W. 81; Johnson v. State, 94 Tenn. 499, 29 S. W. 963, holding that, although the police judge of a city is vested by the city charter with the powers of a justice of the peace, he is not entitled to the fees allowed a justice, as his office of police judge is a salaried one. But see Portland v. Denny, 5 Oreg. 160.

Ineligible to second office.—A person holding a municipal office who by reason thereof is ineligible to another office cannot accept such second office and recover the compensation attached to the same. State v. Wichgar, 27 Ohio Cir. Ct. 743.

80. Oakland v. Snow, 145 Cal. 419, 78 Pac. 1060; Council Bluffs v. Waterman, 86 Iowa 688, 53 N. W. 289; Billings v. New York, 68 N. Y. 413.

81. Powers v. Oshkosh, 56 Wis. 660, 14 N. W. 826.

82. Chicago v. Wolf, 221 Ill. 130, 77 N. E. 414.

83. Chicago v. Gage, 95 Ill. 593, 35 Am. Rep. 182.

84. Durango v. Hampson, 29 Colo. 77, 66 Pac. 883 (holding further that where the ordinance of a city provides for extra compensation to the street supervisor for the performance of certain acts in the line of his official duty he cannot recover such compensation unless he performs the prescribed services or it appears that his failure so to do resulted from some fault on the part of the city); In re Board of St. Opening, etc., 33 N. Y. App. Div. 137, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 354 [affirmed in (1899) 52 N. E. 1123] (holding that Greater New York Charter, § 998, which provides for additional allowance to commissioners of estimate and assessment in cases of "an unusually difficult or extraordinary character," does not warrant an extra allowance in ordinary cases however laborious or important the commissioner's services may be, but only in extreme cases, markedly out of the common). See also Council Bluffs v. Waterman, 86 Iowa 688, 53 N. W. 289.

for the salary,⁸⁵ and no very nice distinctions will be indulged as to what are and what are not official duties.⁸⁶ And any agreement to give additional compensation to any municipal officer for the performance of a service which he is already legally obliged to render is void as against public policy.⁸⁷

(b) NEW DUTIES IMPOSED. An officer having a fixed salary cannot claim extra compensation for an increase of his official duties,⁸⁸ especially where he accepts the office after knowledge of the new duties imposed.⁸⁹

Charter provision not repealed by general law.—A charter provision that the salary of a city attorney shall be fixed by the common council at not to exceed a given sum, and that he shall receive no extra compensation, is not repealed by a general law giving a city attorney remuneration in the form of counsel fees and costs in assessment proceedings. Lacey v. Waples, 28 La. Ann. 158.

85. Colorado.—Durango v. Hampson, 29 Colo. 77, 66 Pac. 883.

Iowa.—Ryce v. Osage, 88 Iowa 558, 55 N. W. 532; Council Bluffs v. Waterman, 86 Iowa 688, 53 N. W. 289.

Louisiana.—O'Sullivan v. New Orleans, 49 La. Ann. 616, 21 So. 854; Lacey v. Waples, 28 La. Ann. 158.

Maryland.—Baltimore v. Ritchie, 51 Md. 233.

Michigan.—Iron Mountain v. Waldenberg, 127 Mich. 189, 86 N. W. 434.

Minnesota.—State v. Vasaly, 98 Minn. 46, 107 N. W. 818; Young v. Mankato, 97 Minn. 4, 105 N. W. 969, 3 L. R. A. N. S. 849.

Missouri.—Carroll v. St. Louis, 12 Mo. 444.

New Hampshire.—Clark v. Portsmouth, 68 N. H. 263, 44 Atl. 388.

New Jersey.—Evans v. Trenton, 24 N. J. L. 764.

New York.—Marshall v. Haywood, 74 N. Y. App. Div. 27, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 57; Poughkeepsie v. Wiltsie, 36 Hun 270; Leveridge v. New York, 3 Sandf. 263; Palmer v. New York, 2 Sandf. 318.

Pennsylvania.—Hays v. Oil City, 8 Pa. Cas. 185, 11 Atl. 63.

Wisconsin.—Kollock v. Dodge, 105 Wis. 187, 80 N. W. 608.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 360.

Overtime.—Since St. Louis Charter, art. 3, § 26, forbids salaried officers to receive other compensation for their services, and art. 4, § 43, defines as officers all persons holding situations under the city government with an annual salary, the principal deputy recorder of funds, appointed by the recorder at a fixed annual salary, is not entitled to extra pay for time over seven hours allowed to the clerks of deputies paid by the day. Lemoine v. St. Louis, 120 Mo. 419, 25 S. W. 537. Detroit City Charter, § 250, prohibits a common council from creating any liability payable out of a particular fund in excess of the amount raised for that fund. The return of council for a given year included compensation for an assistant engineer for a specified number of days at a fixed rate per day. It was held that the assistant engineer who received the compensation fixed in the estimate could not recover for extra compensation based on his having worked over eight hours per day, although an ordinance declared that eight hours should constitute a day's work. Kobel v. Detroit, 142 Mich. 38, 105 N. W. 79. A municipal officer who receives an annual salary for his services cannot recover extra compensation for services rendered on Sunday, unless some statute allows it. Tyrrell v. New York, 159 N. Y. 239, 53 N. E. 1111.

Under a constitutional provision forbidding the municipality to pay or grant any extra compensation to a public officer during his continuance in office, a city council the members of which received no regular pay had no right to vote compensation to themselves for performing the duties pertaining to their office. Garvie v. Hartford, 54 Conn. 440, 7 Atl. 723.

In Iowa the statute makes it a misdemeanor for a municipal officer to demand and receive for the performance of the duties of his office compensation in addition to that provided by law. State v. Olinger, (Iowa 1897) 72 N. W. 441.

86. Kollock v. Dodge, 105 Wis. 187, 80 N. W. 608.

87. Ryce v. Osage, 88 Iowa 558, 55 N. W. 532; Council Bluffs v. Waterman, 86 Iowa 688, 53 N. W. 289; People v. Monroe County Ct., 105 N. Y. App. Div. 1, 93 N. Y. Suppl. 452.

In the absence of express agreement authorized by law a municipal officer is not entitled to claim compensation for services pertaining to his office, by virtue of an understanding previous to the time when his official appointment was contemplated. Detroit v. Whittemore, 27 Mich. 281.

88. Covington v. Mayberry, 9 Bush (Ky.) 304; People v. New York, 1 Hill (N. Y.) 362; People v. Monroe County Ct., 105 N. Y. App. Div. 1, 93 N. Y. Suppl. 452; Palmer v. New York, 2 Sandf. (N. Y.) 318.

89. Palmer v. New York, 2 Sandf. (N. Y.) 318.

(2) EXTRA-OFFICIAL ACTS. The rule of law forbidding extra compensation to a municipal officer does not extend to payment for services not within the compass of his official duties,⁹⁰ unless it appears that such services were intended to be gratuitous.⁹¹ Thus an officer appointed by the common council to perform an extra-official service stands in the same position as a stranger and is entitled to payment therefor.⁹²

(L) Reimbursement For Expenditures—(1) IN GENERAL. The general rule is that a municipality may, when not prohibited by its charter, reimburse one of its officers for moneys actually and necessarily expended by him in the discharge of a duty pertaining to his office.⁹³

(2) OFFICE EXPENSES. Where the law imposes on a city the absolute duty of providing and maintaining an office at some suitable place for the transaction of the business pertaining to a given office, and the city fails so to do, it is liable to the incumbent for the rent and expenses of an office rented by him;⁹⁴ but the rule is otherwise where the duty imposed upon the municipality is not absolute and the office is hired without its authority or sanction.⁹⁵

(3) CLERK HIRE. If a fixed salary be attached to a municipal office, the duties of which necessarily require, besides the personal services of the incumbent, the services of a clerk or assistant, the municipality must remunerate the incumbent for the reasonable expenses of the hire of such person;⁹⁶ but if a previous ordinance or usage has existed fixing a rate of compensation for such clerk or assistant, the officer is not warranted in exceeding such rate without express sanction of the municipality.⁹⁷

(4) LIABILITY INCURRED IN DISCHARGE OF DUTY. It is within the discretionary power of a municipality to indemnify one of its officers against liability incurred by reason of any act done by him while in the bona fide discharge

90. Calais v. Whidden, 64 Me. 249; Niles v. Muzzy, 33 Mich. 61, 20 Am. Rep. 670; Merzbach v. New York, 163 N. Y. 16, 57 N. E. 96; People v. Monroe County Ct., 105 N. Y. App. Div. 1, 93 N. Y. Suppl. 452.

An unauthorized agreement fixing the compensation for extra-official services can be validated only by subsequent ratification on the part of the proper municipal authorities. Calais v. Whidden, 64 Me. 249.

Services not authorized or accepted.—Where the secretary of a municipal board of health whose official duties are merely clerical renders services in the treatment of smallpox patients during an epidemic, but without authority of the city officers, or acceptance by them, or notice that he would hold the city liable, cannot recover therefor from the city. Nash v. Knoxville, 108 Tenn. 68, 64 S. W. 1062.

Mandate revocable at will.—A contract made by a municipality with one of its officers for the collection of taxes in arrear during an indefinite period, for an eventual remuneration, is not a contract of hiring of labor but of mandate, which is revocable at will, and the officer is not entitled to any compensation after the time of revocation. Gurley v. New Orleans, 41 La. Ann. 75, 5 So. 659.

91. Merzbach v. New York, 163 N. Y. 16, 57 N. E. 96; McBride v. Grand Rapids, 47 Mich. 236, 10 N. W. 353.

92. Michigan.—McBride v. Grand Rapids, 47 Mich. 236, 10 N. W. 353; Niles v. Muzzy, 33 Mich. 61, 20 Am. Rep. 670; Detroit v. Redfield, 19 Mich. 376.

Minnesota.—State v. Vasaly, 98 Minn. 46, 107 N. W. 818.

New Jersey.—Evans v. Trenton, 24 N. J. L. 764.

New York.—Cloonan v. Kingston, 37 Misc. 322, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 425.

Wisconsin.—Kollock v. Dodge, 105 Wis. 187, 80 N. W. 608.

93. In re Olyphant Auditors, 8 Del. Co. (Pa.) 53.

Illustration.—Thus it has been held an officer is entitled to receive from a municipality his necessary disbursements in suits prosecuted by him on behalf of the municipality. Sniffen v. New York, 4 Sandf. (N. Y.) 193.

94. Hill v. Clarinda, 103 Iowa 409, 72 N. W. 542 (holding, however, that where the office furnished by the mayor is also used by a law firm of which he is a member, the city is liable only for its fair share in rent, fuel, and lights); Manchester v. Potter, 30 N. H. 409.

Where office room free of rent is furnished to a town collector by the county treasurer, an allowance to such collector for office rent by an auditing committee is unlawful and the payment of such an allowance is an unlawful expenditure. Gorman v. Tidholm, 94 Ill. App. 371.

95. Coleman v. Elgin, 45 Ill. App. 64; Gilchrist v. Wilkes Barre, 142 Pa. St. 114, 21 Atl. 805.

96. Sniffen v. New York, 4 Sandf. (N. Y.) 193.

97. Sniffen v. New York, 4 Sandf. (N. Y.) 193.

of his official duties,⁹⁸ and the municipality has the right to employ counsel to defend the officer,⁹⁹ or to appropriate funds for the necessary expenses incurred by him in such defense,¹ or to pay a judgment rendered against him.² But while there exists a discretionary power to thus favor an officer, there is no fixed obligation on the part of the municipality which may be enforced by such officer in an action at law.³

(n) DE FACTO OFFICERS. The right to the salary, fees, or other compensation attached to a municipal office follows the true title, and hence a de facto officer is not entitled thereto, and can maintain no action therefor.⁴ Possession under color of right, it has been said, may well serve as a shield for defense; but cannot, as against the public, be converted into a weapon of attack, to secure the fruits of the usurpation and the incidents of the office.⁵

b. Rate or Amount—(i) IN GENERAL. A municipal officer claiming a salary of a given amount must point to the provision of law which with certainty and 98. Indiana.—Cullen v. Carthage, 103 Ind. 196, 2 N. E. 571, 53 Am. Rep. 504.

Massachusetts.—Fuller v. Groton, 11 Gray 340; Hadsell v. Hancock, 3 Gray 526; Babbitt v. Savoy, 3 Cush. 530; Bancroft v. Lynnfield, 18 Pick. 566, 29 Am. Dec. 623.

Minnesota.—Moorhead v. Murphy, 94 Minn. 123, 102 N. W. 219, 110 Am. St. Rep. 345, 68 L. R. A. 400.

Missouri.—State v. St. Louis, 174 Mo. 125, 73 S. W. 623, 61 L. R. A. 593.

New York.—McCredie v. Buffalo, 2 How. Pr. N. S. 336.

North Carolina.—Roper v. Laurinburg, 90 N. C. 427.

Rhode Island.—Sherman v. Carr, 8 R. I. 431.

The true test in such cases is, Did the act done by the officer relate directly to the matter in which the city had an interest, or affect municipal rights or property, or the rights or property of citizens which the officer was charged with a duty to protect or defend? State v. St. Louis, 174 Mo. 125, 73 S. W. 623, 61 L. R. A. 593.

Good faith.—Where city aldermen have been convicted of contempt in disobeying an injunction, which conviction stands unreversed, it cannot be said that they were acting in good faith so as to entitle them to reimbursement for the expenses incident to their defense. West v. Utica, 71 Hun (N. Y.) 540, 24 N. Y. Suppl. 1075.

Removal proceedings.—Greater New York Charter, Laws (1901), c. 460, § 231, authorizing the board of estimate and apportionment to audit and allow as charges against a city the reasonable costs and expenses incurred by any commissioners or city magistrate who shall successfully defeat proceedings to remove him from office or prosecution for malfeasance in office is constitutional and valid. Kane v. McClellan, 110 N. Y. App. Div. 44, 96 N. Y. Suppl. 806.

99. Cullen v. Carthage, 103 Ind. 196, 2 N. E. 571, 53 Am. Rep. 504; State v. St. Louis, 174 Mo. 125, 73 S. W. 623, 61 L. R. A. 593; Roper v. Laurinburg, 90 N. C. 427.

1. Connecticut.—Hotchkiss v. Plunkett, 60 Conn. 230, 22 Atl. 535.

Minnesota.—Moorhead v. Murphy, 94 Minn. 123, 102 N. W. 219, 110 Am. St. Rep. 345, 68 L. R. A. 400.

New Hampshire.—Pike v. Middleton, 12 N. H. 278.

New Jersey.—Barnert v. Paterson, 48 N. J. L. 395, 6 Atl. 15; State v. Hammonton, 38 N. J. L. 430, 20 Am. Rep. 404.

New York.—McCredie v. Buffalo, 2 How. Pr. N. S. 336; Powell v. Newburgh, 19 Johns. 284.

North Carolina.—Roper v. Laurinburg, 90 N. C. 427.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 368.

2. State v. St. Louis, 174 Mo. 125, 73 S. W. 623, 61 L. R. A. 593; Sherman v. Carr, 8 R. I. 431.

3. Gormly v. Mt. Vernon, 134 Iowa 394, 108 N. W. 465.

4. Andrews v. Portland, 79 Me. 484, 10 Atl. 458, 10 Am. St. Rep. 280; Sheridan v. St. Louis, 183 Mo. 25, 81 S. W. 1082; Dolan v. New York, 68 N. Y. 274, 23 Am. Rep. 168; Philadelphia v. Given, 60 Pa. St. 136; Jones v. Easton, 4 Pa. Dist. 509. See also Darby v. Wilmington, 76 N. C. 133. Compare Blackburn v. Oklahoma City, 1 Okla. 292, 31 Pac. 782, 33 Pac. 708, holding that where plaintiff was a de facto city clerk of a de jure corporation, and after the de jure corporation was organized continued to act as city clerk for about three weeks, he can recover for such services if during that time there was no de jure clerk performing the duties of the office.

Who are de facto officers.—A municipal officer, unless he has duly qualified, is to be deemed a de facto officer, and, although performing the duties relating to the office, is not entitled to compensation therefor (Philadelphia v. Given, 60 Pa. St. 136; Com. v. Slifer, 25 Pa. St. 23, 64 Am. Dec. 680); but a municipal officer is not deprived of his right to compensation for services rendered, because of a defect in the manner of his appointment, in the absence of objection to his services by the city, and of any other rightful claimant (Cousins v. Manchester, 67 N. H. 229, 38 Atl. 724).

5. Throop Public Officers, § 517.

beyond doubt authorizes it.⁶ But when the amount of the officer's salary is fixed by law and he has performed his whole duty, he has entitled himself to that amount.⁷

(II) POWER TO FIX—(A) In General. When the salary of a municipal officer is not fixed by some statutory provision,⁸ the power so to do is by law generally vested in the common council, the amount being left entirely to the discretion of that body,⁹ or to be fixed by it within certain specified limits.¹⁰ But in the absence of clear legislative grant of power,¹¹ the members of the governing body of a city are not authorized to fix and determine their own compensation.¹²

(B) Exercise—(1) IN GENERAL. A statute empowering a council to fix the salary of a municipal officer is not self-executing, but becomes operative only when the contemplated action is taken by the council.¹³

6. State v. Brittin, 52 La. Ann. 94, 26 So. 753; Goud v. Portland, 96 Me. 125, 51 Atl. 820; Fernald v. Dover, 70 N. H. 42, 47 Atl. 258.

Necessity of establishing amount.—Where the statute authorizes a municipality to fix the salary of a given officer within certain limits, the amount to be determined by ordinance, no compensation whatever is recoverable until an ordinance is actually passed. State v. McDowell, 19 Nebr. 442, 27 N. W. 433.

7. People v. New York Bd. of Apportionment, etc., 43 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 412.

8. Bourke v. Chicago Sanitary Dist., 92 Ill. App. 333; Behan v. New Orleans, 34 La. Ann. 128; Tacoma v. Lillis, 4 Wash. 797, 31 Pac. 321, 18 L. R. A. 372; Furth v. McIntosh, 2 Wash. 108, 26 Pac. 79.

9. Kentucky.—Barrett v. Falmouth, 109 Ky. 151, 58 S. W. 520, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 667; Newport v. Berry, 80 Ky. 354.

Massachusetts.—Faulkner v. Sisson, 133 Mass. 524, 67 N. E. 669.

Missouri.—Kemp v. Monett, 95 Mo. App. 452, 69 S. W. 31.

Nebraska.—State v. McDowell, 19 Nebr. 442, 27 N. W. 433.

New Jersey.—Rightmire v. Camden, 50 N. J. L. 43, 13 Atl. 30.

Canada.—Matter of Prince, 25 U. C. Q. B. 175.

Salary in lieu of fee theretofore received.—The legislature may confer authority upon city councils to fix by ordinance the salary of a municipal officer in lieu of the fees theretofore retained by such officer under prior statutes of the state, and such provision is not unconstitutional as a delegation of power to legislate. Des Moines v. Hillis, 55 Iowa 643, 8 N. W. 638.

Void ordinance.—Where the compensation of an officer is provided by general statute, a subsequent ordinance for that purpose is void. Furth v. McIntosh, 2 Wash. 108, 26 Pac. 79.

Officer appointed by different body.—Under Mass. St. (1900) c. 367, the city council of Lynn may fix by ordinance the salary of a deputy street commissioner appointed by the board of public works. Faulkner v. Sisson, 133 Mass. 524, 67 N. E. 669.

To be fixed by charter, not council.—Wash. Enabling Act, Laws (1889-1890), p. 223, provides that the legislative powers of any city organized under the provisions thereof shall be vested in a mayor and city council, who with such other elective officers as may be provided for in its charter shall receive such compensation as may be prescribed in said charter. It was held that the city council of a city, organized under such act, could not fix the salary of a controller, an elective officer of such city, but that such salary must be fixed by the charter. Taylor v. Tacoma, 8 Wash. 174, 35 Pac. 584.

10. Paducah v. Evitts, 120 Ky. 444, 86 S. W. 1123, 27 Ky. L. Rep. 867.

An ordinance is void which attempts to fix the compensation of a municipal officer at less than the minimum salary fixed by the statute. Paducah v. Evitts, 120 Ky. 444, 86 S. W. 1123, 27 Ky. L. Rep. 867.

Limited to appropriation therefor.—Under N. Y. Laws (1871), c. 583, § 3, the board of apportionment was empowered "to regulate all salaries of officers" of the city and county of New York, not exceeding the appropriation therefor, for which the city could be held liable; but, in the absence of proof to the contrary, it would not be presumed that in regulating a salary in question by resolution the board exceeded the amount appropriated for its payment. Eickhoff v. New York, 49 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 47.

According to value of services.—Under a statute authorizing the city to enter into an agreement with any city officer to perform the duties of his office for a salary less than that fixed by law, it is competent for such an officer to agree to perform his duties according to the value of his services, rather than according to an arbitrary measure fixed in addition in the form of a salary. Tice v. New Brunswick, 73 N. J. L. 615, 64 Atl. 108.

11. McEwan v. West Hoboken, 58 N. J. L. 512, 34 Atl. 130; Tacoma v. Lillis, 4 Wash. 797, 31 Pac. 321, 18 L. R. A. 372.

Legislative grant of power construed.—The power conferred on the common council to fix the compensation of all city officers, except the mayor, does not authorize its members to fix and determine their own compensation. McFarland v. Gordon, 70 Vt. 455, 41 Atl. 507.

12. Gregory v. Jersey City, 34 N. J. L. 429; McFarland v. Gordon, 70 Vt. 455, 41 Atl. 507.

13. State v. Olinger, (Iowa 1897) 72 N. W. 441.

(2) TIME OF. The rule is that the compensation must be established before the commencement of the term of office.¹⁴ It has been held, however, that where the statute provides that the salary of a municipal officer shall be fixed by ordinance, not exceeding a given sum, such salary may be fixed within that limit during the term of office.¹⁵

(3) MODE OF. When the power to fix the compensation of a municipal officer is vested by law in the common council, such power is usually and properly exercised by ordinance.¹⁶

(4) REVIEW. In the absence of proof of bad faith the courts will not interfere with the discretion of the common council,¹⁷ or other body,¹⁸ in fixing and determining the salary of municipal officers.

(III) MODIFICATION—(A) In General. It is well settled that, in the absence of any prohibition or restriction, the compensation of a municipal officer may be changed by the proper authorities, and such change may apply to officers then in office as well as to those thereafter selected.¹⁹

(B) Increase. The rule is well settled that an increase of the salary of a municipal officer during his term of office is usually interdicted by constitutional²⁰

14. Stuhr v. Hoboken, 47 N. J. L. 147, holding further that where the ordinance fixing the salary is passed prior to the commencement of the official term, the rule stated in the text is not violated by the fact that because of the necessity of publication the ordinance does not go into effect until after the commencement of the term.

After appointment.—A municipality empowered to fix the salary of all officers appointed may fix the salary of a given officer after his appointment but before commencement of his term. Wesch v. Detroit, 107 Mich. 149, 64 N. W. 1051.

After election.—A common council empowered to fix the salary of an elective municipal officer elected under a new charter at the same time may exercise such power after the election of such officer, notwithstanding a constitutional provision forbidding a change of compensation during the term of a municipal officer. Barrett v. Falmouth, 109 Ky. 151, 58 S. W. 520, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 667. Where the charter of a city authorizes the council to fix the compensation of its members, the council has the right, in the absence of an ordinance regulating the same, to fix such amount and order it paid by ordinance, even where no fee or salary was attached to the office by statute or ordinance at the time of their election. Tacoma v. Lillis, 4 Wash. 797, 31 Pac. 321, 18 L. R. A. 372.

15. State v. McDowell, 19 Nebr. 442, 27 N. W. 433.

16. Faulkner v. Sisson, 183 Mass. 524, 67 N. E. 669; Stuhr v. Hoboken, 47 N. J. L. 147; Tacoma v. Lillis, 4 Wash. 797, 31 Pac. 321, 18 L. R. A. 372.

Whether mode imperative.—On the one hand it has been held that the legislative power of the council, as in fixing the compensation of municipal officers, must be exercised by ordinance (Central v. Sears, 2 Colo. 588), and, on the other hand, that if the charter does not specify the mode, it may be fixed by resolution (State v. Nichols, 83 Minn. 3, 85 N. W. 717).

17. Newport v. Berry, 80 Ky. 354; Wesch v. Detroit, 107 Mich. 149, 64 N. W. 1051, holding further that it is immaterial that the compensation was fixed at less than the amount received by the incumbent for the preceding term.

18. People v. Haverstraw, 23 N. Y. App. Div. 231, 48 N. Y. Suppl. 740.

19. Kollock v. Dodge, 105 Wis. 187, 80 N. W. 608.

20. California.—Buck v. Eureka, 109 Cal. 504, 42 Pac. 243, 30 L. R. A. 409; Milner v. Reibenstein, 85 Cal. 593, 24 Pac. 935.

Illinois.—Wolf v. Hope, 210 Ill. 50, 70 N. E. 1082; Cook County v. Sennott, 136 Ill. 314, 26 N. E. 491.

Kentucky.—Paris v. Webb, 33 S. W. 87, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 1006.

Missouri.—State v. Johnson, (1894) 25 S. W. 855.

Washington.—Tacoma v. Lillis, 4 Wash. 797, 31 Pac. 321, 18 L. R. A. 372.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 370, 371.

The fact that his office was created by statute and the attempted increase was by an act of legislature does not take the case out of the operation of a constitutional prohibition against increasing the salary during the term of office. Cook County v. Sennott, 136 Ill. 314, 26 N. E. 491.

The words "continuance in office" in Conn. Const. Amendm. 24, prohibiting the legislature from increasing the salary of any public officer during his "continuance in office," mean continuing in office under one appointment, and the act of 1881 providing that "the city attorney shall be entitled to fees for his services in cases tried for said city," is not unconstitutional, so far as it affects that officer under his reappointment to that position in 1881, at the expiration of his former term. Smith v. Waterbury, 54 Conn. 174, 7 Atl. 17.

A municipal officer subject to removal at the pleasure of the council is not an officer within Mo. Const. art. 14, § 8, prohibiting an increase in the salary of any officer during or statutory²¹ provision against change thereof during the term of office; but in the absence of such provision the power to fix the salary of a municipal officer for a given term carries with it as a necessary incident the power to increase such salary during that term.²²

(c) Reduction—(1) IN GENERAL. In the absence of express provision of law,²³ the compensation of municipal officers may be diminished from time to time during the continuance of their term of office by the authority which fixed his term of office. State v. Johnson, (Mo. 1894) 25 S. W. 855.

Act giving increase construed to be prospective.—An amendment of a charter providing that "each alderman shall be entitled to an annual salary" greater than the compensation previously allowed is not to be construed as operating retroactively, either from its terms or from the nature of the legislation, and has the effect to increase the compensation of the aldermen during the remainder only of the official year after its passage. State v. Hill, 32 Minn. 275, 20 N. W. 196.

Increase held not unconstitutional.—Wash. Act, March 9, 1893, making the county treasurer ex-officio collector of the city taxes and requiring the city to pay him a given sum per year for his services, is not in conflict with Const. art. 11, § 8, forbidding the salary of a municipal officer to be increased during his term of office, or with Const. art. 11, § 12, denying to the legislature the right to impose taxes on municipal corporations. State v. Carson, 6 Wash. 250, 33 Pac. 428. Compensation of a member of the governing board of a city, fixed by statute at five dollars for attendance at each meeting, is not "salary" within Ohio Const. art. 2, § 20, providing that the salary of any officer shall not be increased during his term. Gobrecht v. Cincinnati, 51 Ohio St. 68, 36 N. E. 782, 23 L. R. A. 609.

Ratification of unlawful increase.—N. Y. Laws (1870), c. 383, providing a gross sum for salaries of the city courts of the city of New York, based on estimates stating the salaries of police justices to be ten thousand dollars per annum, does not ratify the unlawful increase of such salaries by resolution of the common council. Cox v. New York, 103 N. Y. 519, 9 N. E. 48.

21. Barnes v. Williams, 53 Ark. 205, 13 S. W. 845; Rowland v. New York, 83 N. Y. 372; Smith v. New York, 3 Thomps. & C. (N. Y.) 160.

Delay in giving bond.—An officer who has been reelected cannot by postponing the giving of his bond prolong his prior term beyond the date when he might have qualified for his new term, and thereby avoid the operation of a charter provision forbidding an increase of an officer's salary during his term. Rightmire v. Camden, 50 N. J. L. 43, 13 Atl. 30.

22. Kollock v. Dodge, 105 Wis. 187, 80 N. W. 608. See also cases cited in the two preceding notes.

An act legalizing the payment of an unlawful increase of compensation does not give the right to recover such increase to one to whom it had not been paid. Bixby v. New York, 61 Hun (N. Y.) 490, 16 N. Y. Suppl. 364.

23. Illinois.—Chicago v. Wolf, 221 Ill. 130, 77 N. E. 414.

Indiana.—Walker v. Evansville, 33 Ind. 393.

Kentucky.—Louisville v. Wilson, 99 Ky. 598, 36 S. W. 944, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 427.

Michigan.—Wesch v. Detroit, 107 Mich. 149, 64 N. W. 1051.

Nebraska.—State v. Moores, 61 Nebr. 9, 84 N. W. 399.

Pennsylvania.—Zimmerman v. York, (1893) 27 Atl. 248; Devers v. York City, 156 Pa. St. 359, 27 Atl. 247.

Tennessee.—State v. Nashville, 15 Lea 697, 54 Am. Rep. 427.

Utah.—Hulaniski v. Ogden City, 20 Utah 233, 57 Pac. 876.

Washington.—Mudgett v. Liebes, 14 Wash. 482, 45 Pac. 19; Ballard v. Keane, 13 Wash. 201, 43 Pac. 27.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 370, 371.

A municipal officer not having a fixed term and removable at pleasure cannot invoke the constitutional provision forbidding the decrease of salary of a municipal officer during his term of office, where it appears that until the time of discharge he accepted without objection his salary as reduced by ordinance. Lexington v. Rennick, 105 Ky. 779, 49 S. W. 787, 50 S. W. 1106, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 1609, 1924.

Limitation confined to municipal year.—The limitation on the power of the council of the city of Galveston, which prohibits the council from diminishing the compensation of a municipal officer during the term for which he shall be elected, was intended to be confined to the municipal year, rather than to the term of office. Melnery v. Galveston, 58 Tex. 334.

Salary not lawfully fixed.—Where at the time of the election of an officer the salary has not been legally fixed, an act passed during his term of office does not violate a constitutional provision against diminishing the salary of a municipal officer during his term of office. State v. McDowell, 19 Nebr. 442, 27 N. W. 433.

Ordinance violative of constitutional provision.—Since the constitution provides that the compensation of a municipal officer can neither be increased nor diminished during the term for which he is elected or appointed, an ordinance reducing the salary of a city officer passed during the term of that officer will not be held to take effect so as to diminish the it.²⁴ But when such provision of law exists, the compensation of the officer fixed by law cannot be diminished during the term of office directly, by express ordinance²⁵ or contract,²⁶ or indirectly, by diminution²⁷ or entire cessation²⁸ of the duties of the office.

(2) WHAT DOES NOT CONSTITUTE. Merely appropriating for the payment of a municipal salary a less amount than has been previously paid does not fix the salary at a smaller sum, where the body making the appropriation continues to allow the bills for salary at the former rate.²⁹ And an attempt by the council by resolution alone to reduce the compensation of an officer which has been fixed by ordinance does not effect such reduction.³⁰

(3) BY ONE BODY OF SALARY FIXED BY ANOTHER. When the charter provides that the salary of a given officer shall be fixed by one municipal body and shall not be changed during his term, an attempted reduction thereof by another municipal body is invalid.³¹

(iv) INTEREST ON SALARY. A municipal officer is entitled to interest on his salary due and owing to him from the time of demand,³² except where the delay in payment is caused by the failure of another officer to perform a conceded ministerial duty, in which case no interest whatever is recoverable.³³

(v) WAIVER AS TO AMOUNT. The rule supported by the weight of authority is that a municipal officer who continues to hold his office for the full term and receives his compensation at a fixed rate, without dissent, thereby waives his right to claim a higher rate named in some act,³⁴ or ordinance;³⁵ but in one jurisdiction at least the view obtains that the doctrine of waiver has no application when the salary of a municipal officer is fixed by law, and that there can be officer's salary, but will be considered as going into force not until the expiration of his term, so that the salary of his successor is governed by the ordinance. Roodhouse v. Johnson, 57 Ill. App. 73.

Holding over under appointment.—The constitutional prohibition against change in the salary of an officer during his term of office does not apply to the period during which a city officer holds over under an appointment, and his salary may be reduced during such period. Woehler v. Toledo, 8 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 206, 6 Cinc. L. Bul. 282.

24. Iowa City v. Foster, 10 Iowa 189; Marden v. Portsmouth, 59 N. H. 18; Love v. Jersey City, 40 N. J. L. 456; Com. v. Bacon, 6 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 322; McFall v. Austin, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 450.

Before commencement of term.—A provision of law forbidding diminution of salary during a municipal officer's term does not prevent a body empowered to fix the compensation of all municipal officers elected or appointed from fixing the salary of an officer, after his appointment but before commencement of his term, at less than the amount received by the incumbent for the previous year. Wesch v. Detroit, 107 Mich. 149, 64 N. W. 1051.

Salary fixed by statute.—The salary of the administrator of the city of New Orleans being fixed by statute cannot be reduced or remitted by any action of council when not assented to by the administrator. Behan v. New Orleans, 34 La. Ann. 128.

Diminution by "law."—A constitutional provision that no "law" shall diminish the salary of a municipal officer after his election and appointment does not forbid the decrease of the salary of a municipal officer by an ordinance enacted by the city. Baldwin v. Philadelphia, 99 Pa. St. 164.

25. Marquis v. Santa Ana, 103 Cal. 661, 37 Pac. 650; Chicago v. Wolf, 221 Ill. 130, 77 N. E. 414.

26. Purdy v. Independence, 75 Iowa 356, 39 N. W. 641.

27. Marquis v. Santa Ana, 103 Cal. 661, 37 Pac. 650.

However, where the right of an officer to receive compensation for a special duty is purely permissive, that is to say, the officer may or may not be paid for discharging such duties, an act relieving him from the duty does not violate a constitutional prohibition against diminishing the compensation of a municipal officer during his term of office. Heilig v. Puyallup, 7 Wash. 29, 34 Pac. 164.

28. Marquis v. Santa Ana, 103 Cal. 661, 37 Pac. 650.

29. Fountain v. Jackson, 50 Mich. 260, 15 N. W. 487.

30. Hisey v. Charleston, 62 Mo. App. 381.

31. Grant v. Rochester, 175 N. Y. 473, 67 N. E. 1083.

32. Taylor v. New York, 67 N. Y. 87.

33. Gordon v. Omaha, 71 Nebr. 570, 99 N. W. 242.

34. Love v. Jersey City, 40 N. J. L. 456.

35. Rau v. Little Rock, 34 Ark. 303; McInery v. Galveston, 58 Tex. 334; McFall v. Austin, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 450. See also Galbreath v. Moberly, 80 Mo. 484.

Receiving less rate under protest.—It has been held that where a municipal officer accepts payment of salary under protest at a given rate, he is thereby estopped to claim a higher rate named in an ordinance. Chandler v. Johnson City, 105 Tenn. 633, 59 S. W. 142.

no waiver as to amount, either by express agreement³⁶ or by the conduct of the officer,³⁷ except where the officer or body authorized to effect the employment is also empowered to fix or agree upon the salary or compensation of the officer.³⁸

c. Form of Compensation. When the common council is authorized to fix the compensation of a municipal officer, the entire compensation may be fixed in the form of a salary,³⁹ or fees,⁴⁰ or salary and fees,⁴¹ or in a lump sum for salary, assistants, and office expenses.⁴²

d. Payment—(i) MODE. The fixed salary of a municipal officer is payable only in the mode provided by law,⁴³ which is usually from a particular fund by a particular disbursing officer.⁴⁴ Therefore, unless expressly empowered by law, a municipal officer cannot pay himself directly,⁴⁵ or indirectly by retaining the funds collected by him in the performance of his official duties.⁴⁶ A charter provision that salaries are to be paid monthly does not require that they shall be paid in cash, but means nothing more than that warrants for their payment shall be issued monthly.⁴⁷

(ii) PROCEEDINGS TO ENFORCE—(A) Against Municipality—(1) MANDAMUS. Mandamus is a proper remedy for the enforcement of payment by a

36. People v. Board of Police, 75 N. Y. 38; Grant v. Rochester, 79 N. Y. App. Div. 460, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 522 [affirmed in 175 N. Y. 473, 67 N. E. 1083].

37. Pryor v. Rochester, 166 N. Y. 548, 60 N. E. 252; Grant v. Rochester, 79 N. Y. App. Div. 460, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 522 [affirmed in 175 N. Y. 473, 67 N. E. 1083]. Compare Hobbs v. Yonkers, 102 N. Y. 13, 5 N. E. 778, holding that while the agreement of a municipal officer to take less than his fees fixed by statute is invalid, yet he has a right to release the municipality of all claims beyond the amount agreed upon by turning over to the municipality the fees received in excess of the agreed compensation.

38. Emmitt v. New York, 128 N. Y. 117, 23 N. E. 19.

39. Shepard v. Lawrence, 141 Mass. 479, 5 N. E. 854; Hatch v. Cincinnati, 17 Ohio St. 48.

40. Lemoine v. St. Louis, 72 Mo. 404; Thaison v. Sanchez, 13 Tex. Civ. App. 73, 35 S. W. 478.

41. Manchester v. Potter, 30 N. H. 409; Houston v. Stewart, (Tex. Civ. App. 1905) 90 S. W. 49.

Salary by ordinance and fees by statute.—A city ordinance gave the city attorney salary in lieu of all other compensation, and a subsequent statute gave him fees for the trial of cases. It was held that the compensation given by the statute, not being in terms in lieu of all other compensation, was cumulative, and that the city attorney was entitled both to the salary given by the ordinance and the fees given by the statute. Smith v. Waterbury, 54 Conn. 174, 7 Atl. 17.

Fees contingent.—Where the charter provides that the common council shall have power to fix the compensation of all officers of the city, it may provide by ordinance that in addition to his salary certain fees payable to the city attorney on conviction of violation of ordinances shall be contingent on their collection from defendant. Kemp v. Monett, 95 Mo. App. 452, 69 S. W. 31.

42. Chicago v. Wolf, 221 Ill. 130, 77 N. E. 414.

43. Syracuse v. Reed, 46 Kan. 520, 26 Pac. 1043; New Orleans v. Finnerty, 27 La. Ann. 681, 21 Am. Rep. 569; New York v. Sands, 39 Hun (N. Y.) 519.

Where a municipal charter provides a peculiar mode of payment of the compensation attached to a given office, a person accepting that office is deemed to have notice of such provision and is confined to the mode of payment which is thereby prescribed. Baker v. Utica, 19 N. Y. 326.

Statutes held inapplicable.—A statute providing that it shall not be lawful for the board of supervisors of the city and county of San Francisco to authorize, allow, contract for, or pay any demand against the treasury or any of the funds thereof which shall in the aggregate exceed one-twelfth part of the amount allowed by laws existing at the time of such contract, allowance, or payment, to be expended within the fiscal year of which the said month is a part, has no application to the auditing and payment of the demand of the salaried officers whose appointment is provided for and fixed by law. Cashin v. Dunn, 58 Cal. 581.

44. Lewis v. Widber, 99 Cal. 412, 33 Pac. 1128; Cashin v. Dunn, 58 Cal. 581.

45. New Orleans v. Finnerty, 27 La. 685, 21 Am. Rep. 569.

46. Wilder v. Chicago, 26 Ill. 182; Russell v. Chicago, 22 Ill. 283; Syracuse v. Reed, 46 Kan. 520, 26 Pac. 1043; New Orleans v. Finnerty, 27 La. 681, 21 Am. Rep. 569; New York v. Sands, 39 Hun (N. Y.) 519.

Charging salary against taxes.—A statute which requires that city officers be paid by salaries, to be fixed each year by the city council, gives no authority to a city or its officers named therein to charge any part of their salaries against taxes collected for the city school corporation. Indianapolis v. Watson, 74 Ind. 133.

47. Eidemiller v. Tacoma, 14 Wash. 376, 44 Pac. 877.

municipality,⁴⁸ or by a disbursing officer thereof,⁴⁹ of the fixed salary of one of its officers.

(2) ACTION AT LAW—(a) IN GENERAL. An action at law by an officer to recover his fixed compensation is maintainable against the municipality,⁵⁰ even though he may be entitled to relief by mandamus.⁵¹

(b) PARTIES. A statute making compensation for the whole service of assessors depend for the most part on the amount of the assessment list does not create such a joint interest in the compensation as to make it necessary for all the assessors to join in an action for its recovery.⁵²

(c) PLEADING. In actions to recover the compensation attached to a municipal office, the pleadings are governed by the rules applicable to civil actions in general.⁵³

(d) DEFENSES. It is a good defense to the action that the salary was actually paid to a de facto officer discharging the duties of the office,⁵⁴ that plaintiff's

48. Speed v. Detroit, 100 Mich. 92, 58 N. W. 638; McBride v. Grand Rapids, 47 Mich. 236, 10 N. W. 353.

Defense.—The issuance of a writ will not be denied because the general fund out of which salaries are usually payable is exhausted, where it appears that the salary is contingent, and, under the charter, payable out of the contingent fund, which is amply sufficient. Speed v. Detroit, 100 Mich. 92, 58 N. W. 638.

49. Marquis v. Santa Ana, 103 Cal. 661, 37 Pac. 650; Lewis v. Widber, 99 Cal. 412, 33 Pac. 1128.

To compel a special appropriation for a fixed salary, mandamus will not lie. Silvey v. Boyle, 20 Utah 205, 57 Pac. 880.

50. Marquis v. Santa Ana, 103 Cal. 661, 37 Pac. 650; Morgan v. Denver, 14 Colo. App. 147; 59 Pac. 619; Macon v. Hays, 25 Ga. 590; King v. Buffalo, 57 Hun (N. Y.) 586, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 564.

Increase of compensation.—An action at law against the city is the proper remedy to determine the right of a member of the board of legislation of a city to an increase of compensation. Gobrecht v. Cincinnati, 51 Ohio St. 68, 36 N. E. 782, 23 L. R. A. 609.

Action barred by non-presentation of claim.—Under Cal. St. (1856) § 90, a demand on the treasury for the monthly salary of an officer of the city and county of San Francisco must be presented for payment, properly audited, within one month after such demand shall have become due and payable; otherwise it will be forever barred. Paxson v. Holt, 40 Cal. 466.

51. Marquis v. Santa Ana, 103 Cal. 661, 37 Pac. 650.

Not confined to remedy by execution.—Under the Ohio act of May 15, 1886, providing that in all cities of a certain class each justice of the peace shall receive a certain salary in lieu of all fees payable out of the city treasury, and that it shall be the duty of each justice in such cities to collect the fees as provided in sections 615 and 621, and pay the same into the city treasury, such justice may, during his office, maintain a civil action to collect the fees, and is not limited to the usual mode of collecting them by execution.

Hart v. Murray, 48 Ohio St. 605, 29 N. E. 576.

52. Skinner v. Woodstock, 25 Conn. 408, holding further that the case comes within the rule that where the interest or cause of action is several, each of the covenantees may bring an action for his particular damage notwithstanding the words of the covenant are joint.

53. See, generally, PLEADINGS.

Complaint.—In a suit for the compensation attached to a municipal office, the complaint must allege either that plaintiff was in possession of the office and was wrongfully ousted, or that his claim to the office has been legally determined. Hughlett v. Wellsville, 75 Mo. App. 341. Complaint in a suit by a municipal officer for his salary, alleging that plaintiff was duly appointed to the office, that a salary was fixed by resolution at a stated sum, and that he served a stated time before his discharge, for a portion of which he has not been paid, states a good cause of action. Hart v. Minneapolis, 81 Minn. 476, 84 N. W. 342.

Answer.—In an action against a city for services rendered by its attorney, duly appointed by defendant's councilmen at a stated salary, an answer which denies that the persons named in the petition as councilmen were ever elected, or ever qualified and acted as such, and that plaintiff was ever appointed city attorney, puts in issue plaintiff's appointment and is good against a demurrer. Lebanon v. Cooper, 37 S. W. 579, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 636.

Estoppel to plead.—Where a city has had the benefit of an officer's services rendered under a verbal contract to pay therefor a sum in excess of his salary fixed by ordinance, the city is not estopped from pleading the ordinance in an action to recover such excess, since such contract is against public policy and void. Ryce v. Osage, 88 Iowa 558, 55 N. W. 532.

54. Louisiana.—Michel v. New Orleans, 32 La. Ann. 1094.

Michigan.—Scott v. Crump, 106 Mich. 288, 64 N. W. 1, 58 Am. St. Rep. 478.

New Jersey.—McDonald v. Newark, 58 N. J. L. 12, 32 Atl. 384.

employment was properly terminated after the exhaustion of the fund from which his salary was payable,⁵⁵ that plaintiff has not been reinstated by a competent tribunal after removal,⁵⁶ or that plaintiff was guilty of want of ordinary care and diligence in the discharge of his duties, resulting in damage which the city was forced to repair.⁵⁷ Where a city officer is removed from his office by the city council, and sues for his salary, claiming that he was unlawfully removed, the city is not confined in its defense to the cause of removal specified in the resolution removing him, but may plead and prove other matter justifying the removal.⁵⁸

(e) REVIEW. In actions to recover the compensation attached to a municipal office, questions relating to review on appeal are governed by rules applicable to civil actions in general.⁵⁹

(b) De Facto Officer. A de jure municipal officer, who was wrongfully removed but subsequently reinstated by a competent tribunal, may maintain an action against a de facto officer, to whom was paid the compensation attached to the office during the period of removal, for money had and received.⁶⁰ So too a de jure officer may recover in such an action from a de facto officer the salary collected by the latter pending a determination of the former's right to the office.⁶¹

(iii) RECOVERY BACK. The rule is that a municipality cannot recover from one of its officers compensation, voluntarily paid, with a full knowledge of all the facts, although no obligation to make such payment existed.⁶² To this rule, how-

New York.—McVeany v. New York, 80 N. Y. 185, 36 Am. Rep. 600, 59 How. Pr. 106; Dolan v. New York, 68 N. Y. 274, 23 Am. Rep. 168; Smith v. New York, 37 N. Y. 518; Martin v. New York, 82 N. Y. App. Div. 35, 81 N. Y. Suppl. 412 [affirmed in 176 N. Y. 371, 68 N. E. 640]; Demarest v. New York, 74 Hun 517, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 585 [affirmed in 147 N. Y. 203, 41 N. E. 405]. Compare People v. Brennan, 45 Barb. 457, 30 How. Pr. 417.

Ohio.—State v. Eshelby, 2 Ohio Cir. Ct. 468, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 592.

Utah.—Kendall v. Raybould, 13 Utah 226, 44 Pac. 1034.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 373.

55. Lethbridge v. New York, 133 N. Y. 232, 30 N. E. 975.

An act increasing the salary of a municipal officer imposes upon the municipality the increased burden consequent thereon, although in terms no provision to meet it is made. Green v. New York, 8 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 25.

56. Lee v. Wilmington, 1 Marv. (Del.) 65, 40 Atl. 663; Gorley v. Louisville, 104 Ky. 372, 47 S. W. 263, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 602; Hagan v. Brooklyn, 126 N. Y. 643, 27 N. E. 265; McManus v. Brooklyn, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 424; Selby v. Portland, 14 Oreg. 234, 12 Pac. 377, 58 Am. Rep. 307.

However, where there has been no actual removal, reinstatement is not a condition precedent to the right of a municipal officer to maintain an action for the recovery of his salary. Morgan v. Denver, 14 Colo. App. 147, 59 Pac. 619.

57. Kathman v. New Orleans, 11 La. Ann. 146; Andrews v. Portland, 79 Me. 484, 10 Atl. 458, 10 Am. St. Rep. 280; Fitzsimmons

v. Brooklyn, 102 N. Y. 536, 7 N. E. 787, 55 Am. Rep. 835.

58. Davis v. Cordele, 115 Ga. 770, 42 S. E. 63.

59. See, generally, APPEAL AND ERROR.

An exception to the finding in an action to recover a balance of salary that plaintiff was duly appointed does not raise the question as to whether there was a vacancy in the office at the time that such appointment was made. King v. Buffalo, 57 Hun (N. Y.) 586, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 564.

60. Nichols v. MacLean, 101 N. Y. 526, 5 N. E. 347, 54 Am. Rep. 730; Martin v. New York, 82 N. Y. App. Div. 35, 81 N. Y. Suppl. 412 [affirmed in 176 N. Y. 371, 68 N. E. 640].

61. Michel v. New Orleans, 32 La. Ann. 1094; Dolan v. New York, 68 N. Y. 274, 23 Am. Rep. 168; State v. Eshelby, 2 Ohio Cir. Ct. 468, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 592.

Damages.—After verdict and judgment establishing plaintiff's right to the office of mayor, the court allowed a supplemental complaint claiming damages and an answer, and on a day named a trial was had and damages assessed. It was held a proper proceeding, under N. Y. Code Civ. Proc. § 1953, providing that where judgment is in favor of the claimant of an office, he may recover in the same action for damages which he has sustained. People v. Nolan, 101 N. Y. 539, 5 N. E. 446.

62. Cox v. New York, 103 N. Y. 519, 9 N. E. 48; Philadelphia v. Gilbert, 14 Phila. (Pa.) 212; Tacoma v. Lillis, 4 Wash. 797, 31 Pac. 321, 18 L. R. A. 372. But see People v. Starkweather, 42 N. Y. Super. Ct. 325.

Limitation.—The words, in the Peculation Act (Laws (1875), c. 49), "after the action shall accrue," used respecting the limitations ever, an exception is recognized where the officer receiving payment was a member of the council or other body which ordered such payment.⁶⁵

14. FUNCTIONS AND POWERS⁶⁴—a. In General. The power of officers of a municipality depends entirely on the provisions of the charter and on ordinances passed in pursuance thereof,⁶⁵ and such officers take nothing beyond the powers so conferred.⁶⁶ A city council may delegate to an officer the power to do acts which do not involve judgment or discretion, but are merely mechanical or ministerial,⁶⁷ but it has no power to confer on one officer powers or duties which the charter prescribes for another.⁶⁸

b. Mayor or Other Chief Executive.⁶⁹ The executive head of the municipality is the mayor, who is generally also a member of the governing body, and presides over it ex officio.⁷⁰ But in the larger cities his functions are purely executive;⁷¹ and the presiding officer is another person, either chosen by the members from their own number, or elected by the voters of the corporation to that special office.⁷² The powers and duties of the mayor of a city depend entirely on the provisions of the charter, and valid ordinances passed in pursuance thereof,⁷³ and of actions against officers, refers, not to the cause of action the city had against an officer, but to that given to the people in such act; and hence an action by the people thereunder, against a municipal officer, to recover fees received without authority, is not barred merely because, before such act, it was barred as to the city by the statute then applicable thereto. People v. Starkweather, 42 N. Y. Super. Ct. 325.

Defenses.—In an action by a city to recover money illegally paid to a councilman for services, defendant can show that the services were outside his official duty, and were performed by him in superintending work on the streets, bridges, and buildings of the city, where it appears that the work was authorized by the city, beneficial to it, the benefits were retained by it, and the contract was fully executed by both parties, although such contract was unauthorized by law and against public policy. Tacoma v. Lillis, 4 Wash. 797, 31 Pac. 321, 18 L. R. A. 372.

Counter-claim.—In an action by the people under the Peulation Act (Laws (1875), c. 49), to recover fees paid without authority to a municipal officer, no claim not affecting the people can be counter-claimed; and hence a claim against the city cannot be. People v. Starkweather, 42 N. Y. Super. Ct. 325.

63. Weeks v. Texarkana, 50 Ark. 81, 6 S. W. 504; Tacoma v. Lillis, 4 Wash. 797, 31 Pac. 321, 18 L. R. A. 372.

64. Functions and powers of: Agents and employees see infra, VII, C. Departmental officers see infra, VII, B. Departments or boards see infra, VII, B.

Powers as to contracts generally see infra, IX, B, C.

65. People v. Ransom, 56 Barb. (N. Y.) 514; Galveston v. Hutches, (Tex. Civ. App. 1903) 76 S. W. 214. And see Louisiana State Bank v. Orleans Nav. Co., 3 La. Ann. 294.

Powers in respect of property.—Municipal officers have no other right over property dedicated to public use than to watch over it, and prevent its diversion to other uses, and to remove all obstacles to its full enjoyment by the public according to the terms and object of the dedication. Livandais v. Municipality No. 2, 16 La. 509.

The city council have a right to investigate the accounts of the clerk and judge of the police court, and to have access to the files and papers thereof. Schwartz v. Barry, 90 Mich. 267, 51 N. W. 279.

The board of auditors of a borough, not being a court of record, nor specially authorized by statute so to do, have no power to imprison a witness who refuses to answer a question as to the conduct of borough officers. Llewellyn's Case, 2 Pa. Dist. 631, 13 Pa. Co. Ct. 126.

Appropriation by the city council of money to pay the salary of an officer having no legal existence is an act in excess of its powers. Ward v. Cook, 78 Ill. App. 111.

66. People v. Ransom, 56 Barb. (N. Y.) 514.

67. Matter of Guerrero, 69 Cal. 88, 10 Pac. 261, delegation to clerk of power to issue and collect licenses.

68. Reed v. Camden, 50 N. J. L. 87, 11 Atl. 137; Beard v. Decatur, 64 Tex. 7, 53 Am. Rep. 735.

69. Pardon by mayor see PARDON.

Power as to contracts see infra, IX, C, 2, b.

Power of appointment see supra, VII, A, 4, a, (III), (B), (1).

Prohibition to mayor see PROHIBITION.

70. Elliot Mun. Corp. § 255; Ingersoll Pnb. Corp. 220.

71. Jacobs v. San Francisco, 100 Cal. 121, 34 Pac. 630; Cochran v. McCleary, 22 Iowa 75.

72. State v. Kiichli, 53 Minn. 147, 54 N. W. 1069, 19 L. R. A. 779.

73. Dillon Mun. Corp. § 206; Bigby v. Tyler, 44 Tex. 351; Galveston v. Hutches, (Tex. Civ. App. 1903) 76 S. W. 214; Ex p. Deane, 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,712, 2 Cranch C. C. 125.

Authority to grant an exclusive right to sell liquor within the limits of the municipality, not being conferred on the mayor, he has no power to grant such right. Fletcher v. Collins, 111 Ga. 253, 36 S. E. 646.

a municipality cannot by ordinance confer a greater power upon its mayor than that given by charter.⁷⁴ The mayor's functions, as prescribed in the charter, differ in various municipalities. In some of them, as the executive head of the corporation, he possesses the veto power,⁷⁵ and as chief executive he has supervision over the minor officers of the municipality, not expressly made subject to the control of other officers or boards.⁷⁶ He is not a judicial officer, and can exercise only such limited judicial powers as are conferred upon him by charter,⁷⁷ and not even then, if the charter is in contravention of some constitutional provision.⁷⁸ The old common-law rule that the mayor was an integral part of a municipal corporation, and his presence necessary to a valid corporate meeting, does not prevail in America.⁷⁹ When he is absent from the city his office may be supplied by a pro tem election from among the members of the board;⁸⁰ and under some statutes the person chosen is authorized to exercise the functions of the mayor during the latter's absence as fully as he could do if present.⁸¹ Under others he possesses the authority of presiding officer only.⁸² Where a statute provides that, in the absence of a mayor from a city, the duties of his office shall be performed by the president of the common council, the mayor can perform no official duty while absent from the city, and the appointment of a board of commissioners made by him while so absent is a nullity.⁸³

Calling elections.—Where the organic act provides that the council shall have power "to make rules for all municipal elections," an action called by the mayor, without any general or special action by the council, is void, and will be enjoined. Bates v. Nome, 1 Alaska 208.

Taking affidavits.—By some charters the mayor is vested with power to take affidavits. Turner v. Rogers, 49 Ark. 51, 4 S. W. 193.

Under a statute authorizing the erection of a soldiers' and sailors' memorial arch, and appointing the mayor, commissioner of public works, etc., a board of commissioners to carry the act into effect (N. Y. Laws (1893), c. 532), a contention that the incumbents of such offices had no power to act because they were not in office when the act took effect is untenable, since the act does not mention individuals, but refers to officers, and the fact that the individuals who then held the offices have ceased to hold them is immaterial. Parsons v. Van Wyck, 56 N. Y. App. Div. 329, 67 N. Y. Suppl. 1054.

74. Union Depot, etc., Co. v. Smith, 16 Colo. 361, 27 Pac. 329.

75. Elliot Mun. Corp. § 208.

Overcoming veto by requisite vote.—An objection to a resolution by the proper municipal authorities, making an appropriation to pay a claim against the municipality, interposed by way of veto by a mayor having a veto power, and overcome by the requisite vote, cannot be again urged by the mayor to avoid doing a mere ministerial act to effectuate such appropriation. Ahrens v. Fiedler, 43 N. J. L. 400.

76. Burch v. Hardwicke, 23 Gratt. (Va.) 51.

77. Beesman v. Peoria, 16 Ill. 484; Edina v. Brown, 19 Mo. App. 672.

Power of legislature to invest mayor with judicial functions.—The legislature has power under a constitutional provision authorizing it to provide for the establishment of special courts for the trials of misdemeanors in cities and towns, to grant to the chief officers of cities and towns all the jurisdiction which it could grant to judges of special courts under the constitution. State v. Pender, 66 N. C. 313.

78. Hagerstown v. Dechert, 32 Md. 369.

79. Martindale v. Palmer, 52 Ind. 411.

80. Saleno v. Neosho, 127 Mo. 627, 30 S. W. 190, 48 Am. St. Rep. 653, 27 L. R. A. 769; Cline v. Seattle, 13 Wash. 444, 43 Pac. 367. See also supra, V, B, 1, b.

Time of absence.—Under a Kentucky statute providing that the chairman pro tem of the board of council of a city of the fourth class "shall not perform the office of mayor unless the regular mayor has been absent from the county for at least three days, or is for any reason unable to discharge the duties," it is not necessary that the mayor shall be absent for three days after the election of the chairman pro tem before the latter is authorized to act as mayor. Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Maysville, 69 S. W. 728, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 615.

81. Saleno v. Neosho, 127 Mo. 627, 30 S. W. 190, 48 Am. St. Rep. 653, 27 L. R. A. 769 (may approve ordinance); State v. Thomas, 141 N. C. 791, 53 S. E. 522.

Signing warrant for street improvements.—Under the consolidation act of the city and county of San Francisco, providing for the appointment by the board of an acting mayor in the absence or inability of the mayor, an assessment for street improvements is not void, in the absence of other evidence, merely because the warrant was signed by one of the supervisors as "acting mayor." City St. Imp. Co. v. Rontet, 140 Cal. 55, 73 Pac. 729.

82. People v. Blair, 82 Ill. App. 570; North v. Cary, 4 Thomps. & C. (N. Y.) 357. And see State v. Hance, 26 Ohio Cir. Ct. 273, holding that a mayor pro tem has no jurisdiction to hear and determine a prosecution for a misdemeanor.

83. State v. Byrne, 98 Wis. 16, 73 N. W. 320.

c. Particular Executive Officers. As with the mayor, so with the minor executive officers, their authority is determined by charter and lawful ordinances,⁸⁴ and they have no power to go beyond the authority so conferred.⁸⁵

d. Filling Vacancies. Where the charter provides that the presiding officer of the common council during a vacancy in the office of mayor shall possess all the powers of that officer, an alderman appointed chairman of the common council when the mayoralty was vacant may legally perform the duties of that office.⁸⁶ A statute which provides that whenever a vacancy shall exist in either the offices of collector of taxes for a city or collector of taxes for a town of the same name, by death, removal, resignation, or otherwise, the remaining collector shall discharge the duties of said vacant office, contemplates these offices as filled by different persons, and intends that, on the death, removal, or resignation of one, the duties of his office shall be discharged by the other.⁸⁷ Where a mayor elect after entering on the discharge of his official duties without objection from the outgoing mayor is subsequently ousted in a proceeding to which his predecessor is not a party, it is not material error for the court pronouncing the judgment of ouster to direct that the office be turned over to the president of the board of supervisors who is named by statute as the successor in case of a vacancy, although the constitution provides that the incumbents of municipal offices, unless removed according to law, shall exercise the duties connected therewith until their successors are duly qualified.⁸⁸

e. Estoppel by Act of Officer. A municipal corporation as well as a private corporation is subject to an estoppel in pais from the words, acts, or conduct of its officers, as to its business affairs;⁸⁹ but only when and so far as they are acting within the scope of their authority.⁹⁰ And it has been held that the acts of an officer of a municipal corporation, although within the scope of his general authority, cannot bind the corporation if they violate his specific instructions.⁹¹ Conduct of officers of the city after an investigation was made of the charge of corruption cannot estop the city, where plaintiff does not show that the particular

84. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. New York, 4 Bosw. (N. Y.) 80; In re Lorillard, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 83; People v. Neilson, 48 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 454; In re Llewellyn, 7 Kulp (Pa.) 69; Philadelphia v. Gas Works, 12 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 477. And see Valentine Clark Co. v. Allegheny City, 143 Fed. 644.

For construction of statutes as to powers conferred on particular officers see Tennessee Mt. Bldg., etc., Assoc. v. State, 99 Ala. 197, 13 So. 687; Baer v. School Director, 4 Pa. Co. Ct. 43; Scott v. Forrest, 13 Wash. 166, 42 Pac. 519.

Validity of ordinance conferring power.—Where a city controller is required to perform "such duties in relation to the finances" as "shall be prescribed by ordinance" an ordinance is valid which empowers him to negotiate and dispose of city bonds. Stevenson v. Bay City, 26 Mich. 44.

85. Louisville v. Louisville R. Co., 111 Ky. 1, 63 S. W. 14, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 390, 98 Am. St. Rep. 387 (holding that the city attorney of a city of the first class has no power to compromise claims for taxes either before or after suit is brought); Keller v. Wilson, 90 Ky. 350, 14 S. W. 332, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 471 (holding that in the absence of special authority, the city's attorney could not bind the city by an agreement that the land bought for taxes should be rented until the rents paid the tax claim, and then should be returned to the former owner).

86. State v. Buffalo, 2 Hill (N. Y.) 434.

87. State v. Fowler, 66 Conn. 294, 32 Atl. 162, 33 Atl. 1005.

88. Londoner v. People, 15 Colo. 557, 26 Pac. 135.

89. George F. Blake Mfg. Co. v. Chicago Sanitary Dist., 77 Ill. App. 287; Moore v. New York, 73 N. Y. 238, 29 Am. Rep. 134; London, etc., Land Co. v. Jellico, 103 Tenn. 320, 52 S. W. 995.

Private intent not to bind municipality.—The effect of an act performed by a town officer in the course of his official duty cannot be obviated by proof that there was a private intent not to bind the town, as where a highway commissioner performs acts amounting to an acceptance of a bridge dedicated to the public. Dayton Highway Com'rs v. Rutland Highway Com'rs, 84 Ill. 279, 25 Am. Rep. 457.

90. Union School Tp. v. Crawfordsville First Nat. Bank, 102 Ind. 464, 2 N. E. 194; Burns v. New York, 3 Hun (N. Y.) 212, 5 Thomps. & C. 371; Cincinnati v. Cameron, 33 Ohio St. 336.

Illustration.—A public official of a city, not the legal officer thereof, cannot bind it by any legal opinion which he may give with respect to a supposed property right. Chicago v. Malkan, 119 Ill. App. 542 [affirmed in 217 Ill. 471, 75 N. E. 548, 2 L. R. A. N. S. 488].

91. Baltimore v. Eschbach, 18 Md. 276.

acts relied on by the city as a defense were disclosed by the investigation.⁹² Because persons dealing with them are bound by the constructive notice of the law and the municipal records as to the measure of their powers and functions,⁹³ the municipality cannot, by the representations of the officers as to this matter, be estopped to deny their authority,⁹⁴ even when acting within the apparent scope of their official functions.⁹⁵

15. DUTIES AND LIABILITIES ⁹⁶ — a. In General. Official duties are those acts pertaining to office which the incumbent is required by law to perform,⁹⁷ and are of two classes: (1) Ministerial or mandatory;⁹⁸ and (2) discretionary or judicial.⁹⁹ The former are such as a person performs in a given state of facts, in a prescribed manner, in obedience to the mandate of legal authority, without regard to, or the exercise of, his own judgment upon the propriety of the act being done;¹ the latter such as necessarily require the exercise of reason in the adaptation of means to end, and discretion in determining how, or whether the act shall be done or the course pursued.² Municipal officers are not in general liable for acts done in the ordinary exercise of their corporate powers.³ They are, however, subject to the general law of liability to the person injured by nonfeasance, or misfeasance of a ministerial duty,⁴ and that too independent of statute;⁵ but they can only be held liable for damages caused by an alleged nonfeasance on proof showing an omission on their part to perform a duty devolved upon them by law.⁶ Municipal officers, like other officers, are immune from liability for the injurious effects of the discharge of discretionary duties, unless they act corruptly⁷ or exceed their authority.⁸ A municipal officer acting entirely without and beyond any authority conferred by the charter will be liable personally for the consequences of such acts, even though he be an officer who exercises quasi-judicial ^{92.} Weston v. Syracuse, 158 N. Y. 274, 53 N. E. 12, 70 Am. St. Rep. 472, 43 L. R. A. 678 [reversing 82 Hun 67, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 186].

^{93.} Rissing v. Ft. Wayne, 137 Ind. 427, 37 N. E. 328; Baltimore v. Reynolds, 20 Md. 1, 83 Am. Dec. 535; Cleveland v. State Bank, 16 Ohio St. 236, 88 Am. Dec. 445.

^{94.} Dickerson v. Spokane, 35 Wash. 414, 77 Pac. 730.

^{95.} Miller v. New York, 3 Hun (N. Y.) 35, 5 Thomps. & C. 219.

^{96.} Duties and liabilities of: Agents and employees see infra, VII, C, 2, b. Departmental officers see infra, VII, B. Departments or boards see infra, VII, B.

Liability of municipality for acts of officers, agents, and employees see infra, XIV.

Liability of officers for violation of injunction see INJUNCTIONS, 22 Cyc. 1012.

^{97.} Smith Mun. Corp. § 155.

^{98.} Monroe Water Co. v. Heath, 115 Mich. 277, 73 N. W. 234 (holding that the mayor of a city of the fourth class, under Pub. Acts (1895), No. 215, c. 7, § 1, is the chief executive officer of the city, and should obey the directions of the city council in performing the ministerial act of executing a contract on behalf of the city, and mandamus will lie to compel him to do so); State v. Meier, 72 Mo. App. 618 (holding that the duty imposed upon the president of the city council of St. Louis, by a provision of the city charter, of affixing his signature to all bills read and adopted on their final passage, as therein prescribed, is not discretionary, but ministerial and mandatory); Springfield Milling Co.

v. Lane County, 5 Oreg. 265; Underwood v. Russell, 4 Tex. 175.

^{99.} See Craig v. Burnett, 32 Ala. 728.

^{1.} Flournoy v. Jeffersonville, 17 Ind. 169, 79 Am. Dec. 468. And see Ex p. Batesville, etc., R. Co., 39 Ark. 82.

^{2.} See Eyman v. People, 6 Ill. 4.

^{3.} Smith v. Stephans, 66 Md. 381, 7 Atl. 561, 10 Atl. 671. And see Interstate Transp. Co. v. New Orleans, 52 La. Ann. 1859, 28 So. 310.

^{4.} Kansas.—McCarty v. Bauer, 3 Kan. 237.

Kentucky.—Prather v. Lexington, 13 B. Mon. 559, 56 Am. Dec. 585.

Maine.—Rounds v. Mansfield, 38 Me. 586.

Montana.—Merritt v. McNally, 14 Mont. 228, 36 Pac. 44.

New York.—Bennett v. Whitney, 94 N. Y. 302.

Nonfeasance and misfeasance defined.—

“Nonfeasance is the omission of an act which a person ought to do; misfeasance is the improper doing of an act which a person might lawfully do; and malfeasance is the doing of an act which a person ought not to do at all.” Bell v. Josselyn, 3 Gray (Mass.) 309, 311, 63 Am. Dec. 741.

^{5.} Porter v. Thomson, 22 Iowa 391.

^{6.} Fitzpatrick v. Slocum, 89 N. Y. 358.

^{7.} Craig v. Burnett, 32 Ala. 728; Gray v. Batesville, 74 Ark. 519, 86 S. W. 295; Baker v. State, 27 Ind. 485; Pawlowski v. Jenks, 115 Mich. 275, 73 N. W. 238. And see Calhoun v. Little, 106 Ga. 336, 32 S. E. 86, 71 Am. St. Rep. 254, 43 L. R. A. 630.

^{8.} Craig v. Burnett, 32 Ala. 728.

functions, as the protection accorded judicial officers is not extended to matters without the pale of their jurisdiction.⁹ Although the charter of a city or town is a local act, it is not an act of a private character, so as to deprive the city officers of their public character and consequent immunities which the law confers on them.¹⁰ But municipal officers doing illegal acts are not impliedly exempted from liability by a statute making the municipality liable therefor;¹¹ and in actions of tort against them can justify their acts by the authority of the municipality only to the same extent that the city might do so.¹²

b. Legislative Power in Respect of Duties and Liabilities. It is clearly within the legislative authority to impose additional duties upon an office at any time,¹³ and to transfer official functions from one office to another,¹⁴ or to unite two offices in one, and impose the duties of both upon a single officer.¹⁵ Under this comprehensive legislative power of prescribing official duties and qualifications have been enacted civil service laws for municipal corporations.¹⁶

c. Gratuitous Service. Where an officer must perform the duties of his office gratuitously, the law providing no compensation, he is not personally liable for the wrongful acts of those whom he is bound to necessarily employ.¹⁷

d. Damages From Improvements. Municipal officers, acting in good faith, without negligence, and intra vires are not personally liable for damages suffered, by any private person by reason of the construction or repair of municipal improvements;¹⁸ but where the municipality is liable in trespass or case, they may be equally and jointly liable with it.¹⁹ So also they may be personally liable to one whose property is assessed for street improvements for corruptly allowing the contractor to use inferior materials, where such owner is specially damaged thereby.²⁰ And he is not prevented from recovering damages on the ground that they performed a judicial function in accepting the work;²¹ nor by failure to sue to enjoin a departure from the terms of the contract, to obtain mandamus to compel the members of the board to perform their duty, or to object to the appli-

9. Bolton v. Vellines, 94 Va. 393, 26 S. E. 847, 64 Am. St. Rep. 737; Burch v. Hardwicke, 30 Gratt. (Va.) 24, 32 Am. Rep. 640. And see Sherlock v. Winnetka, 63 Ill. 530.

10. Graves v. McWilliams, 1 Pinn. (Wis.) 491.

11. Rounds v. Mansfield, 38 Me. 586.

12. Wamesit Power Co. v. Allen, 120 Mass. 352.

13. Covington v. Mayberry, 9 Bush (Ky.) 304; Auburn Bd. of Education v. Quick, 99 N. Y. 138, 1 N. E. 533; Leveridge v. New York, 3 Sandf. (N. Y.) 263; Commissioners v. Murray, 3 Watts (Pa.) 348.

14. Demarest v. New York, 74 N. Y. 161.

15. People v. Hazlewood, 116 Ill. 319, 6 N. E. 480.

16. In re Opinion of Justices, 138 Mass. 601.

17. Donovan v. McAlpin, 85 N. Y. 185, 39 Am. Rep. 649.

18. Massachusetts.—Proctor v. Stone, 158 Mass. 564, 33 N. E. 704.

Michigan.—See Chilson v. Wilson, 38 Mich. 267.

New York.—Atwater v. Canandaigua, 124 N. Y. 602, 27 N. E. 385 [affirming 56 Hun 293, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 557].

North Carolina.—Tate v. Greensboro, 114 N. C. 392, 19 S. E. 767, 24 L. R. A. 671.

Ohio.—Scovil v. Geddings, 7 Ohio, Pt. II, 211.

South Carolina.—Parks v. Greenville, 44 S. C. 168, 21 S. E. 540.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 382.

Trespass quare clausum does not lie against a street commissioner duly authorized by a city council to construct a street within their jurisdiction, laid out by their action, and upon a petition in legal form; nor does the fact that two or three members of the council voted to construct the street because a bond was filed, render void the proceedings, and authorize the action on that account. Gay v. Bradstreet, 49 Me. 580, 77 Am. Dec. 272.

19. Rives v. Columbia, 80 Mo. App. 173. And see Buskirk v. Strickland, 47 Mich. 389, 11 N. W. 210, holding that where a municipality is without power to make certain improvements, an officer acting under direction of the municipality is liable for injuries resulting from such improvements made by him. Compare Squiers v. Neenah, 24 Wis. 588, holding that the village, and not the village trustees, are liable for their laying out a street through land after the owner has withdrawn his assent.

20. Gage v. Springer, 211 Ill. 200, 71 N. E. 860, 103 Am. St. Rep. 191 [reversing 112 Ill. App. 103].

21. Gage v. Springer, 211 Ill. 200, 71 N. E. 860, 103 Am. St. Rep. 191 [reversing 112 Ill. App. 103].

cation for judgment for the assessment.²² They are not liable for a tort committed by a municipal employee, not of their selection, nor subject to their order of removal.²³

e. Negligence. For culpable negligence a municipal officer may be liable for damages resulting to an employee,²⁴ to the municipality,²⁵ or to a third person.²⁶ But it seems the fact that the other members of a city council are silent, while one of their number directs work done ultra vires, does not render them personally liable for damages resulting from negligence in such work.²⁷ The common-law liability of officers for simple negligence is not affected by a statutory provision making officers liable for damages caused by their wilful neglect; ²⁸ nor by the repeal of a statute making officers criminally and civilly liable for neglect.²⁹

f. Nuisances and Abatement Thereof. Municipal officers lawfully engaged in the exercise of official functions or the performance of legal duties in a lawful manner are not personally liable for injuries resulting from what would be a nuisance if maintained by private individuals.³⁰ Nor are they personally liable for damage caused in abating a nuisance unless they acted corruptly, maliciously, or illegally.³¹ If, however, they occasion injury by abating the nuisance in an unauthorized manner they are liable for the damages caused thereby.³²

g. Costs. The general rule is that officers impleaded in their representative character are not personally liable for costs; ³³ but they must pay the costs of a suit to enjoin them from doing an illegal act.³⁴

h. Non-Payment of Municipal Debts. Officers may make themselves personally liable by promising to pay a debt at a time or out of a fund not authorized by law.³⁵ Also by refusing on demand to levy the necessary tax to pay it, if it is in their power to levy such tax.³⁶ But they are not liable when they have exhausted

22. Gage v. Springer, 211 Ill. 200, 71 N. E. 860, 103 Am. St. Rep. 191 [reversing 112 Ill. App. 103].

23. Bachelor v. Pinkham, 68 Me. 253.

24. Bowden v. Derby, 97 Me. 536, 55 Atl. 417, 94 Am. St. Rep. 516, 63 L. R. A. 223; Breen v. Field, 157 Mass. 277, 31 N. E. 1075.

Duty to furnish reasonably safe place to work.—In the execution of public works, he who selects the place in which the work is to be done and directs the workmen assumes an obligation of seeing that such place is reasonably safe. Bowden v. Derby, 97 Me. 536, 55 Atl. 417, 94 Am. St. Rep. 516, 63 L. R. A. 223.

Road commissioner as public officer.—Where a road commissioner has charge of the erection of a wall, and employs laborers who are paid by the city, he acts as a public officer, and is responsible only for reasonable care in the selection of men and materials, and is under no liability beyond this except for his own acts. Bowden v. Derby, 97 Me. 536, 55 Atl. 417, 94 Am. St. Rep. 516, 63 L. R. A. 223.

25. Christie v. Johnston, 12 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 534.

26. Butler v. Ashworth, 102 Cal. 663, 36 Pac. 922; Bennett v. Whitney, 94 N. Y. 302; Piercy v. Averill, 37 Hun (N. Y.) 360; Rankin v. Buckman, 9 Ore. 253; Rounds v. Mumford, 2 R. I. 154. And see Smith v. Hubbell, 142 Mich. 637, 106 N. W. 547.

Charter fixing liability for negligence on officers.—Where, by its charter, a city is declared not to be liable for an injury resulting from the defective condition of its streets, but any officer thereof who, by his "wilful neglect" of a duty enjoined by law, causes such injury, is so liable, the common council is bound to provide by ordinance for the repair of the streets, and if it wilfully neglects so to do the members thereof are liable personally in damages to one who is injured in consequence thereof. Balls v. Woodward, 51 Fed. 646.

27. Carle v. De Soto, 63 Mo. App. 161.

28. Bennett v. Whitney, 94 N. Y. 302.

29. Hanlon v. Partridge, 69 N. H. 88, 44 Atl. 807.

30. Bates v. Horner, 65 Vt. 471, 27 Atl. 134, 22 L. R. A. 824.

31. Harvey v. Dewoody, 18 Ark. 252; Pruden v. Love, 67 Ga. 190; Walker v. Hallock, 32 Ind. 239; Privett v. Whitaker, 73 N. C. 554.

32. Coddington v. White, 2 Duer (N. Y.) 390; Logan v. Hurlburt, 23 Ont. App. 628.

33. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. Newton, 97 Iowa 502, 66 N. W. 784.

34. Scott v. Alexander, 23 S. C. 120.

35. McCracken v. Lavalle, 41 Ill. App. 573.

Promising payment in municipal bonds.—Officers promising municipal contractors payment in corporation bonds are personally liable for failure to deliver them for whatever cause, since they either contracted in excess of their power, or contracted with sufficient funds and permitted them to be appropriated to other purposes. Paulding v. Cooper, 10 Hun (N. Y.) 20 [affirmed in 74 N. Y. 619].

36. Porter v. Thomson, 22 Iowa 391. And see Oswald v. Thedinga, 17 Iowa 13, holding that if a municipal corporation has not money sufficient to pay a judgment against their taxing power and lawfully appropriated the revenue,³⁷ nor can they be treated as private trustees or collection agents of the creditor.³⁸ In order to recover against public officers having the control and distribution of public money, for non-payment of a debt liquidated by a judgment against the corporation, to enforce which a mandamus was granted, and which was placed on the budget of expenditures, it is necessary to prove that the fund required to pay it was raised, that it was diverted, and that the creditor has sustained loss and injury.³⁹

i. Collection of Taxes and Fees. Officers make themselves personally liable by an illegal levy for taxes;⁴⁰ or the collection of illegal fees even though they have paid them into the treasury,⁴¹ and they may not justify under an ultra vires or void ordinance.⁴² Under a statute providing that the selectmen shall have the ordering and managing of all the provincial affairs of the town, they have a discretionary power to give an indemnity to a collector on behalf of the town, saving him from the cost and expenses of defending actions brought against him for acts done in the performance of his duties.⁴³

j. Wrongful Disbursements. Municipal officers who pay or authorize the payment of funds illegally are personally liable for the same,⁴⁴ although paid out for a useful object,⁴⁵ or drawn out, not by themselves, but by their confidential agents.⁴⁶ But they are not liable when in good faith they discharge valid obligations out of the wrong fund, when another may be provided by special tax,⁴⁷ or when in default of demand from the person entitled they in good faith pay to another municipal officer.⁴⁸

k. Issuance or Transfer of Invalid Warrants and Bonds. Officers acting in good faith and in accordance with law are not personally liable to the holder for corporate paper issued wrongfully because of the official misconduct of other officers.⁴⁹ But they may be liable to purchasers for false representations as to their compliance with the law and the validity of the securities.⁵⁰ And an officer who negotiates municipal bonds, knowing them to be invalid, is liable to the town for the money realized on the sale, and it is no defense that he was also the president of the company subsidized and accounted to it for the proceeds of the sale.⁵¹

l. Unauthorized Contract. An officer who in good faith and under misapprehension makes a contract in behalf of the municipality which is invalid for want of authority to make it will not be held personally liable on the contract where the other contracting party has equal means of knowledge as to his authority.⁵² it, it is not necessary, in order to hold the officers of such corporation personally responsible, that the judgment creditor should demand the issue of scrip, as well as the levy of a tax, as he would not have been obliged to accept the scrip if it had been tendered.

37. Porter v. Thomson, 22 Iowa 391; In re Isaacson, 36 La. Ann. 56. And see Jones v. Currie, 34 La. Ann. 1093.

38. Berrian v. New York, 4 Rob. (N. Y.) 538.

39. Jones v. Currie, 34 La. Ann. 1093.

40. Higgins v. Ausmuss, 77 Mo. 351.

For statutes held to impose the duty of extending the city taxes on the county tax list upon the city treasurer and not upon the county clerk see State v. Johnson, 16 Mont. 570, 41 Pac. 706.

41. Townshend v. Dyckman, 2 E. D. Smith (N. Y.) 224.

42. Bergen v. Clarkson, 6 N. J. L. 352.

43. Pike v. Middleton, 12 N. H. 278.

44. Russell v. Tate, 52 Ark. 541, 13 S. W. 130, 20 Am. St. Rep. 193, 5 L. R. A. 180; People v. Bender, 36 Mich. 195; Blair v. Lantry, 21 Nebr. 247, 31 N. W. 790.

Ratification of unauthorized payment.—The action of the city treasurer in paying out city money in a manner not authorized by law cannot be ratified by the city council. East St. Louis v. Flannigen, 34 Ill. App. 596.

45. McCracken v. Soucy, 29 Ill. App. 619.

46. New Orleans v. Blache, 6 La. 500.

47. Little Valley v. Ayres, 2 N. Y. Suppl. 691.

48. American S. P. C. A. v. Doyle, 65 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 459.

49. Fuller v. Mower, 81 Me. 380, 17 Atl. 312; Ontario v. Hill, 99 N. Y. 324, 1 N. E. 887.

50. Robinson v. Bishop, 39 Hun (N. Y.) 370.

51. Farnham v. Benedict, 107 N. Y. 159, 13 N. E. 784 [reversing 39 Hun 22].

52. Newman v. Sylvester, 42 Ind. 106; Southworth v. Flanders, 33 La. Ann. 190. And see Lyon v. Irish, 58 Mich. 518, 25 N. W. 502.

Illustration.—If the members of the common council of a city, in passing an ordinance and letting a contract for the improvement

One who voluntarily contracts with a municipality is bound to consider its powers and cannot hold its officers for mutual error.⁵³ So where one makes a contract with a municipal officer, knowing that such contract is without validity unless ratified by the municipal board, he cannot hold the officer personally liable in the absence of proof of intent on his part to render himself so liable.⁵⁴

m. Failure to Award Contract. The lowest bidder, entitled to a municipal contract, cannot maintain an action against the councilmen for refusing to award him the contract, as their duty is not to him, but to the municipality.⁵⁵

n. Wrongful Removal of Another Officer. A mayor who unlawfully and maliciously assumes power to remove an officer is liable to him in a civil action for damages.⁵⁶ But it has been held that assumption of authority by an officer to suspend another officer is not ground for an action in damages, when in good faith and in pursuance of a precedent established on a previous occasion, in the interest of and at the instance of such suspended officer, to save him on such previous occasion from an injurious publicity.⁵⁷

o. Legislation of Municipal Body. City officers acting in a legislative capacity are not liable in damages for acts done in their official capacity, although such acts are void as in excess of jurisdiction, or otherwise without authority of law.⁵⁸ No member of a municipal council can be held liable to any individual for the enactment or repeal of an ordinance within its authority whereby the latter has suffered damage;⁵⁹ nor can his motives be inquired into.⁶⁰ Even though the council has exceeded its authority, the mayor, not being a part of the council, is not liable merely because he signed the ordinance.⁶¹

p. Actions to Enforce Liabilities. Suits to prevent the waste of municipal funds by officers, or to compel a performance of duty by them, are generally authorized to be brought against the offending officer only;⁶² and where an officer of a street, act in good faith, under a misapprehension, they and the contractor, as well as the adjacent owner of real estate, believing the street to be within the corporate limits of the city, the contractor having a like knowledge with the members of the council, they cannot be held liable for the cost of such improvement, although the place where the same is made is not within the corporate limits. Newman v. Sylvester, 42 Ind. 106.

53. Southworth v. Flanders, 33 La. Ann. 190.

54. Miller v. Board, 15 Misc. N. Y. 322, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 766.

55. East River Gaslight Co. v. Donnelly, 93 N. Y. 557.

56. Burch v. Hardwicke, 30 Gratt. (Va.) 24, 32 Am. Rep. 640.

57. De Armas v. Bell, 109 La. 181, 33 So. 188.

58. Lough v. Estherville, 122 Iowa 479, 98 N. W. 308, creation of debt in excess of constitutional limitation.

59. Wimbish v. Hamilton, 47 La. Ann. 246, 16 So. 856; Jones v. Loving, 55 Miss. 109, 30 Am. Rep. 508; Freeport v. Marks, 59 Pa. St. 253.

Application of rule.—A police judge cannot maintain an action against the mayor and members of the city council for damages resulting from the passage of an ordinance during his term of office, materially reducing the emoluments thereof by allowing a salary in lieu of the fees which were required to be paid into the city treasury; nor can a recovery be had because of directions to the police force to institute proceedings for violations of the law before justices of the peace in the name of the state. McHenry v. Sneer, 56 Iowa 649, 10 N. W. 234.

60. Wimbish v. Hamilton, 47 La. Ann. 246, 16 So. 856; Jones v. Loving, 55 Miss. 109, 30 Am. Rep. 508.

61. Sylvester v. Macauley, Wils. (Ind.) 19. Iowa Code, § 885, gives cities power to purchase or condemn grounds for the purpose of donation to a railroad company for station buildings, etc.; and section 886 requires a petition to the council, and the submission of the question of donation to a popular vote. It was held that proceedings under these sections being presumed to have been regular, city officials were not personally liable to the city for an indebtedness thus contracted in excess of the constitutional limitation. Lough v. Estherville, 122 Iowa 479, 98 N. W. 308.

62. Wenk v. New York, 36 Misc. (N. Y.) 496, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 1003 [affirmed in 69 N. Y. App. Div. 621, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 1135].

What is not "injury or waste" to city.—The erection of poles and the stringing of wires in a street already occupied by a street railroad and another set of poles and wires are not an "injury or waste" to the city, within a statute providing for actions against officers to prevent "injury or waste" to public property. Sheehy v. Clausen, 26 Misc. (N. Y.) 269, 55 N. Y. Suppl. 1000 [affirmed in 42 N. Y. App. Div. 622, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 1114].

disobeys a charter requirement that all city funds shall be deposited in the bank designated by the board of finance, and by reason thereof the city is deprived of interest thereon, an action for damages may be brought against him individually instead of on the bond.⁶³ Where other parties, in order that a complete judgment binding all interested may be rendered, are for any reason necessary parties they may be made defendants; but this is only incidental to the cause of action against the officers.⁶⁴ An officer mismanaging funds may not defend by pleading knowledge and approval of his unlawful conduct by other officers,⁶⁵ nor his own good faith;⁶⁶ and judgment may be rendered against officers personally as well as officially, although sued only as officers.⁶⁷ A suit against a municipal officer for a statutory penalty must fail if the corporation was organized by an unauthorized name.⁶⁸ Refusal to submit the question whether defendants who as officers of the town issued bonds without any authority acted in good faith or were guilty of negligence is not error, defendants being liable upon an implied warranty of the validity of their action.⁶⁹

16. ACCOUNTING FOR FUNDS OR PROPERTY — a. In General. The duty of accounting for all municipal assets of whatever kind that may come to an officer's hands may be expressly imposed by statute,⁷⁰ or may result from his fiduciary relation to the municipality.⁷¹ And the abolition of the office of municipal treasurer operates to devolve his fiscal duties upon the treasurer of the county when a statute so provides.⁷² The fact that an officer who files the report of his examination of another officer's accounts is under oath to faithfully discharge the duties of his office, coupled with the fact that the report is the result of an examination made by him, with the right to all concerned to be heard before the result is reported, is sufficient ground for dispensing with a verification of the report, standing in lieu of a petition, to the effect that the report is believed by the officer to be true.⁷³ Where the treasurer of a city has paid interest coupons in good faith, and turned them over to the city, which still retains them, he is entitled to be credited for the amount so paid in an action by the city against him to recover money alleged to have been collected by him as treasurer and not paid over.⁷⁴ It is no defense to an action to compel an officer to account for fees received by him that no salary has ever been attached to his office.⁷⁵ A city may receive from its defaulting treasurer his note in evidence or payment of his indebtedness if not prohibited or otherwise provided by statute.⁷⁶ In Pennsylvania the court of common pleas may, on affidavit of the treasurer's default made by a majority of councilmen, sequester the treasurer's property notwithstanding it is liable to execution on his official bond.⁷⁷

63. New Haven v. Fresenius, 75 Conn. 145, 52 Atl. 823.

64. Wenk v. New York, 36 Misc. (N. Y.) 496, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 1003 [affirmed in 69 N. Y. App. Div. 62], 75 N. Y. Suppl. 1135].

65. New Haven v. Fresenius, 75 Conn. 145, 52 Atl. 823.

66. New Haven v. Fresenius, 75 Conn. 145, 52 Atl. 823, holding that where a certain bank had been designated as a depository and had agreed to pay interest, but the treasurer deposited funds in another bank which paid no interest thereon, the fact that the treasurer supposed that he had a discretion in the matter, and acted in good faith, was of no avail to him in an action against him by the city for damages.

67. Mock v. Santa Rosa, 126 Cal. 330, 58 Pac. 826.

68. Barker v. Phelps, 39 Mo. App. 288.

69. Robinson v. Bishop, 39 Hun (N. Y.) 370.

70. Miller v. State, 106 Ind. 415, 7 N. E. 209; Philadelphia v. Marcer, 1 Leg. Gaz. (Pa.) 355.

71. A public official, it has been held, is regarded in respect of the performance of his public and official duties as a trustee for the corporation which he represents and for its interests whatever may be their character. Andrews v. Pratt, 44 Cal. 309; Elliott Mun. Corp. § 262.

72. Miller v. State, 106 Ind. 415, 7 N. E. 209.

73. In re Brown, 9 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 810, 7 Ohio N. P. 178.

74. Huron v. Meyers, 13 S. D. 420, 83 N. W. 553.

75. New York v. Kent, 21 Hun (N. Y.) 483.

76. Buffalo v. Bettinger, 76 N. Y. 393. See infra, VIII, B, 2, a.

77. Philadelphia v. Marcer, 1 Leg. Gaz. (Pa.) 355.

b. Loss of Funds. Municipal officers having the care of public moneys are by virtue of their office insurers of the same and are liable for a loss thereof, although such loss occurred without any fault or negligence on their part,⁷⁸ unless the loss was caused by the act of God or the public enemy.⁷⁹ Accordingly it has been held that where city funds are lost by being deposited in a bank which subsequently fails, the officer so depositing them is liable therefor, although when ready to pay over the money he was notified by the mayor and finance committee to withhold the money and deposit it at the city's risk, there being no power in the mayor and finance committee to direct such action;⁸⁰ but an outgoing treasurer may be discharged by the act of the council in accepting from him on settlement of his accounts certificates of deposit in a bank which thereafter failed where the charter vests the council with full power to settle with an outgoing treasurer.⁸¹

c. Settled Accounts. The settled account of a municipal officer like that of an individual may be opened on any sufficient equitable ground, and payment enforced of any sum justly due.⁸²

17. LIABILITIES ON OFFICIAL BOND⁸³—a. In General. A municipal officer and his sureties are liable on the official bond for all acts of the officer done virtute officii which amount to a breach of the bond,⁸⁴ and that too although he is only a de facto officer.⁸⁵ In respect of acts done colore officii there is a conflict of authority. In a number of jurisdictions it is held that sureties on a bond are liable for acts of the officer done colore officii in the line of his official duty, but illegal as beyond his authority.⁸⁶ On the other hand, it is held in other jurisdictions that sureties on official bonds are liable for acts done by the officer only virtute officii, and not for acts done colore officii,⁸⁷ unless they assented to the acts

78. Adams v. Lee, 72 Miss. 281, 16 So. 243; Johnstown v. Rodgers, 20 Misc. (N. Y.) 262, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 661.

79. State v. Lee, 72 Miss. 281, 16 So. 243. Contra, Healdsburg v. Mulligan, 113 Cal. 205, 45 Pac. 337, 33 L. R. A. 461.

80. State v. Lee, 72 Miss. 281, 16 So. 243.

81. Lansing v. Wood, 57 Mich. 201, 23 N. W. 769.

82. People v. Cooper, 10 Ill. App. 384; Wheeling v. Black, 25 W. Va. 266.

83. City constables see SHERIFFS AND CONSTABLES.

Liability of sheriff on bond for collection of city taxes see SHERIFFS AND CONSTABLES.

84. California.—Lawrence v. Doolan, 68 Cal. 309, 5 Pac. 484, 9 Pac. 159.

Georgia.—Anderson v. Blair, 118 Ga. 211, 45 S. E. 28.

Indiana.—Hunt v. State, 124 Ind. 306, 24 N. E. 887.

Michigan.—Stevenson v. Bay City, 26 Mich. 44.

Montana.—Philipsburg v. Degenhart, 30 Mont. 299, 76 Pac. 694.

Nebraska.—Hrabak v. Dodge, 62 Nebr. 591, 87 N. W. 358.

New Jersey.—Van Valkenbergh v. Pater-son, 47 N. J. L. 146.

85. Hoboken v. Harrison, 30 N. J. L. 73.

86. Indiana.—State v. Hauser, 63 Ind. 155; Armington v. State, 45 Ind. 10.

Mississippi.—State v. McDaniel, 78 Miss. 1, 27 So. 994, 84 Am. St. Rep. 618, 50 L. R. A. 118.

New Jersey.—Seiple v. Elizabeth, 27 N. J. L. 407.

Ohio.—Drolesbaugh v. Hill, 64 Ohio St. 257, 60 N. E. 202.

West Virginia.—Wheeling v. Black, 25 W. Va. 266.

Application of doctrine.—Applying this doctrine it has been held that the wrongful making of an arrest by an officer colore officii is an unfaithful discharge of his duties, and therefore a breach of his bond (Drolesbaugh v. Hill, 64 Ohio St. 257, 60 N. E. 202), and that where a clerk under color of his office filled up and signed certain orders which had been signed in blank by the mayor, made them payable to himself, presented them to the treasurer and procured the money thereon when nothing was due him from the city, it was a breach of the bond for which his sureties were liable. Armington v. State, 45 Ind. 10.

Reason advanced for doctrine.—“By an official act, is not meant a lawful act of the officer in the service of process. If so the sureties would never be responsible. It means any act done by the officer in his official capacity, under color and by virtue of his office.” State v. McDaniel, 78 Miss. 1, 5, 27 So. 994, 84 Am. St. Rep. 618, 50 L. R. A. 118.

87. San Jose v. Welch, 65 Cal. 358, 4 Pac. 207; Orton v. Lincoln, 156 Ill. 499, 41 N. E. 159 [reversing 56 Ill. App. 79]; East St. Louis v. Lautz, 20 Ill. App. 644; Linch v. Litchfield, 16 Ill. App. 612; Lowe v. Guthrie, 4 Okla. 287, 44 Pac. 198; Wilkes-Barre v. Rockafellow, 171 Pa. St. 177, 33 Atl. 269, 50 Am. St. Rep. 795, 30 L. R. A. 393.

Applications of rule.—The sureties on a city assessor's bond, conditioned that the

which made the loss possible.⁸⁸ Sureties are not liable for acts done by an officer when not engaged in the performance of any duty appertaining to his office.⁸⁹ The official bond of an officer is generally regarded as covering all acts of his deputies and assistants within the scope of their authority, the same as if performed by himself personally, although he may be entirely ignorant of their conduct.⁹⁰ Where by statute it is provided that an officer shall give a special bond for the safekeeping and disbursement of a designated fund, the sureties on the general bond are not liable for defalcations out of the special fund.⁹¹

b. Irregularities or Informalities in the Bond or in Its Execution or in the Delivery and Approval Thereof. While a bond given under an ordinance providing for the violation of existing laws is void and no action is maintainable thereon,⁹² mere irregularities or informalities in the bond or in the execution thereof,⁹³ or in the delivery⁹⁴ or approval,⁹⁵ will not vitiate the bond or release the obligors from liability thereon. So it has been held that failure of the authorities to examine and approve the bond of an officer appointed by them and to designate the term of his office does not affect the liability of his sureties for his default.⁹⁶

c. Duties Imposed After Execution of Bond. Sureties are responsible for the due performance of all such duties as were imposed upon the principal by his office, whether the same were attached to such office before or after the bond was executed.⁹⁷

principal perform the duties of the office according to the laws, ordinances, and regulations of the city, are not responsible for taxes collected by such assessor on personal property which he fails to pay over to the treasurer, in the absence of any law or regulation of such city authorizing such assessor to make such collections. San Jose v. Welch, 65 Cal. 358, 4 Pac. 207. So it has been held that sureties on the bond of a city clerk are not responsible for money received by him for license-fees, where there is no ordinance authorizing him to receive the same. Linch v. Litchfield, 16 Ill. App. 612.

88. Wilkes-Barre v. Rockefeller, 171 Pa. St. 177, 33 Atl. 269, 50 Am. St. Rep. 795, 30 L. R. A. 393.

89. Carson v. Dezarne, 90 S. W. 281, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 761.

90. Butler v. Milwaukee, 119 Wis. 526, 97 N. W. 185; Baby v. Baby, 8 U. C. Q. B. 76.

91. Broad v. Paris, 66 Tex. 119, 18 S. W. 342.

92. Tuskaloosa v. Lacy, 3 Ala. 618.

93. Georgia.—Brunswick v. Harvey, 114 Ga. 733, 40 S. E. 754.

Kentucky.—Connelly v. American Bonding, etc., Co., 113 Ky. 903, 69 S. W. 959, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 714.

Michigan.—Stadler v. Detroit, 13 Mich. 346.

Mississippi.—Gloster v. Harrell, 77 Miss. 793, 23 So. 520, 941, 27 So. 609.

New Jersey.—Hoboken v. Evans, 31 N. J. L. 342.

Deviations in the wording of a bond, from the language prescribed by statute, is no defense in a suit upon the bond. Hoboken v. Evans, 31 N. J. L. 342.

Surplusage in a bond does not vitiate it or release from liability the obligors thereon. Stadler v. Detroit, 13 Mich. 346.

Where the bond is made to a mayor and to his successors in office, by mistake, instead of to the mayor and council as required by charter, the bond is good as a voluntary or common-law bond. Anderson v. Blair, 118 Ga. 211, 45 S. E. 28.

Where one as surety signs and delivers an official bond in blank as to the name and term of office, the penal sum, date, names of other sureties, and the like, such blanks may be subsequently filled up by the principal and he will be liable thereon. Chicago v. Gage, 95 Ill. 593, 35 Am. Rep. 182 [reversing 2 Ill. App. 332].

94. Todd v. Perry, 20 U. C. Q. B. 649, holding that if the officer did not deliver the bond until a few days too late he omitted a duty required by law, but this afforded no reason to release the sureties from liability.

95. Mowbray v. State, 88 Ind. 324. And see other cases cited in this note.

Failure to indorse approval of the sureties on the bond does not release them from liability thereon. Warren v. Philips, 30 Barb. (N. Y.) 646.

The approval of a bond by resolution instead of by ordinance does not release the obligors from liability thereon. Gloster v. Harrell, 77 Miss. 793, 23 So. 520, 941, 27 So. 609; Warren v. Philips, 30 Barb. (N. Y.) 646. And see Evart v. Postal, 86 Mich. 325, 49 N. W. 53.

That an official bond is not approved until after the death of the surety thereon does not affect its validity. Mowbray v. State, 88 Ind. 324.

96. State v. Frentress, 37 Ind. App. 245, 76 N. E. 821. And see Oakland v. Snow, 145 Cal. 419, 78 Pac. 1060.

97. Priet v. De la Montanya, 85 Cal. 148, 24 Pac. 612; Lawrence v. Doolan, 68 Cal. 309, 5 Pac. 484, 9 Pac. 159; Orman v. Pueblo,

d. Time During Which Bond Operative. The general rule is that sureties are liable only for a breach of official duty committed by their principal during the term of office for which the bond was given.⁹⁸ They are not liable for breaches committed by their principal occurring during a preceding term of which he was the incumbent.⁹⁹ The general rule, however, may not apply because of special stipulations in the bond itself.¹ And in a number of jurisdictions the rule is subject to the further limitation that obligors on an official bond are liable for default of the principal occurring after the expiration of his term of office, whether holding over until his successor is qualified,² or holding over for a second term without reappointment³ or under reelection for which he fails to give a new bond.⁴ This doctrine, however, is flatly denied in other jurisdictions.⁵ It has been held that sureties are not liable for a default of the officer occurring between the date of signing and the date of acceptance of the bond.⁶ Where a bond given by a guaranty company to guard against fraud of a city treasurer stipulates that the liability of the company shall be limited to such losses as occur during the continuance of the bond, or any renewal thereof, and discovered during such continuance, or within six months thereafter, or within six months from the retirement of the treasurer from the service of the city, and that no two bonds shall be operative at the same time, the company is not liable under the original bond for any loss not discovered for more than six months after its expiration, although discovered within six months of the dismissal of the employee, and during the continuance of a subsequent bond.⁷ Where the tenure of office of an officer was one year and until his successor should be elected and qualified a recital in the bond that he "was, at the last annual election, duly elected to the office for the next ensuing year" limits the responsibility of the sureties to his official conduct during his current term, but not during twelve calendar months only.⁸

8 Colo. 292, 6 Pac. 931; Daniel v. Grizzard, 117 N. C. 105, 23 S. E. 93.

Application of rule.—Although a register of deeds was not, at the time his bond was given, liable for his failure to index the registry of a mortgage, yet, where he remained in office after the passage of a statute rendering him liable therefor, the sureties on his bond are also liable. Daniel v. Grizzard, 117 N. C. 105, 23 S. E. 93.

98. Hubert v. Mendheim, 64 Cal. 213, 30 Pac. 633; Priet v. De la Montanya, (Cal. 1889) 22 Pac. 171; Paducah v. Cully, 9 Bush (Ky.) 323; Detroit v. Weber, 29 Mich. 24; Hoboken v. Kamena, 41 N. J. L. 435.

99. Detroit v. Weber, 29 Mich. 24; Mann v. Yazoo City, 31 Miss. 574; Hoboken v. Kamena, 41 N. J. L. 435.

Illustration.—When a city treasurer who was a defaulter in the previous years of his official existence is elected his own successor and gives a new bond, the sureties on such bond can only be held liable for his failure to perform his official duties during the time he holds office under his last appointment. Hoboken v. Kamena, 41 N. J. L. 435.

Where the principal has held the office for preceding terms the sureties' liability is to be determined by considering the term for which they were sureties by itself, precisely as if he had succeeded some other person, and then requiring them to account for all the public money that came to his hands during that term. Detroit v. Weber, 29 Mich. 24.

1. Waters' Appeal, 10 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 146, in which it was held that a provision in the bond binding the principal and sureties for subsequent terms was a lawful condition to the obligation.

2. Cuthbert v. Brooks, 49 Ga. 179; Grand Haven v. U. S. Fidelity, etc., Co., 128 Mich. 106, 87 N. W. 104; Baker City v. Murphy, 30 Oreg. 405, 42 Pac. 133, 35 L. R. A. 88; Wheeling v. Black, 25 W. Va. 266.

Limitation of doctrine.—The liability of a surety will extend in such a case only for a reasonable time after the expiration of the term of office of the official. Camden v. Greenwald, 65 N. J. L. 458, 47 Atl. 458.

3. Laurium v. Mills, 129 Mich. 536, 89 N. W. 362.

4. Lynn v. Cumberland, 77 Md. 449, 26 Atl. 1001. And see Hart v. Guardians of Poor, 33 Leg. Int. (Pa.) 329.

5. Montgomery v. Hughes, 65 Ala. 201; Ballard v. Thompson, 21 Wash. 669, 59 Pac. 517.

6. Grand Haven v. U. S. Fidelity, etc., Co., 128 Mich. 106, 87 N. W. 104. But see Sumter v. Lewis, 10 Rich. (S. C.) 171, holding that in an action on the bond of a city treasurer, the sureties are responsible for money received by the treasurer belonging to the corporation before the execution of the bond.

7. Brunswick v. Harvey, 114 Ga. 733, 40 S. E. 754.

8. Fond du Lac v. Moore, 58 Wis. 170, 15 N. W. 782, holding, however, that such limitation cannot extend to the obligation imposed by the condition of the bond to pay over to his successor all moneys in his hands or for which he is accountable as treasurer

e. Acts Constituting Breach. The condition of official bonds is usually that the officer shall honestly and faithfully perform his official duties; and, with municipal treasurers or trustees having custody of public moneys, that they shall give a just account of all moneys received and pay over all balances due, under which it is well established that he must comply with all statutory requirements.⁹ The following acts have been held to amount to breaches of the bond: Payment of an illegal warrant, knowing it to be illegal, out of money set apart for the payment of a warrant substituted for it;¹⁰ procuring money to be paid him when nothing was due him from the city;¹¹ drawing a warrant for the payment of a claim not allowed by the council or for a larger amount than allowed, obtaining the money thereon and appropriating it to his own use;¹² drawing a warrant, where a valid claim has been allowed payable to the creditor or bearer, and then instead of delivering it to the creditor presenting it himself for payment, obtaining the money and converting it to his own use;¹³ failure to pay over money to his successor, collected from gambling houses and brothels, received by virtue of his office;¹⁴ failure of a register of deeds to index the registry of a mortgage;¹⁵ unlawful arrest,¹⁶ or unnecessary and illegal punishment by a police officer;¹⁷ levy on the goods of one person under an execution or other process against the goods of another;¹⁸ and failure to pay over taxes collected to the treasurer of the board of education in violation of a statute requiring it.¹⁹ On the other hand the following acts have been held not a breach: The mere failure of a city treasurer to place the city moneys in a repository designated by ordinance;²⁰ drawing by a city treasurer of city moneys from the state treasury to reimburse himself for moneys advanced to the city from his private funds;²¹ and failure to account for money forcibly taken by robbers.²² And when claims have been duly audited and ordered paid by the city council, the mayor is under no legal or moral obligation to overrule its decision, and may rely on the action of the council, and sign warrants for the payment of such claims, and will not be liable on his official bond, unless he acts in bad faith, fraudulently, or corruptly.²³ So under statutes providing for mercantile appraisers, and the payment of their fees, the duty of the city or county treasurer to collect and account therefor is a duty owing to the commonwealth, the failure to perform which is a breach of the condition of the bond given to the commonwealth, and no recovery can be had on the bond given to the city.²⁴ And a city treasurer is not liable on his bond for the mere sale, assignment, and delivery of bonds pursuant to an agency vested in him by ordinance, but is liable only in his individual character as agent of the city council.²⁵

f. New Bond. Where an officer during a single term of office either pursuant to statutory requirement, or in obedience to lawful order, gives a second official bond of like condition with the first, and no order is made discharging the sureties on the first bond, all the sureties on both bonds are equally liable for official default during that term.²⁶ at the expiration of his term, although demand for such payment be not made until after his term has expired.

9. Bruce County v. Cromar, 22 U. C. Q. B. 321.

10. Priet v. De la Montanya, 85 Cal. 148, 24 Pac. 612.

11. Armington v. State, 45 Ind. 10.

12. Greenville v. Anderson, 58 Ohio St. 463, 51 N. E. 41.

13. Greenville v. Anderson, 58 Ohio St. 463, 51 N. E. 41.

14. Philipsburg v. Degenhart, 30 Mont. 299, 76 Pac. 694.

15. Daniel v. Grizzard, 117 N. C. 105, 23 S. E. 93.

16. Connelly v. American Bonding, etc., Co.,

113 Ky. 903, 69 S. W. 959, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 714.

17. Connelly v. American Bonding, etc., Co., 113 Ky. 903, 69 S. W. 959, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 714.

18. Frenkenstein v. Cummysky, 46 Misc. (N. Y.) 485, 92 N. Y. Suppl. 708.

19. Anderson v. Blair, 118 Ga. 211, 45 S. E. 28.

20. Hoboken v. Kamena, 41 N. J. L. 435.

21. Hoboken v. Kamena, 41 N. J. L. 435.

22. Healdsburg v. Mulligan, 113 Cal. 205, 45 Pac. 337, 33 L. R. A. 461.

23. People v. Hudson, 109 Ill. App. 6.

24. Com. v. Durkin, (Pa. 1885) 5 Atl. 201.

25. State v. Hauser, 63 Ind. 155.

26. Corprew v. Boyle, 24 Gratt. (Va.) 284.

g. Actions—(1) PARTIES. There is want of uniformity of rules in the various states as to the proper parties, to bring actions on bonds of municipal officers, caused chiefly by codes of practice. In some states the common-law rule that the action must be brought in the name of the obligee for the use of the party aggrieved prevails.²⁷ In others suit must be brought in the name of the party injured.²⁸ A bond guaranteeing the municipality against the dishonesty only of the treasurer, in which he does not join, not being the statutory bond, does not authorize a joint action against him and his sureties.²⁹

(ii) DECLARATION OR COMPLAINT. The presumptions of law being in favor of the legality of the acts of an officer, the allegations charging him with a violation of his duties must clearly show such violation;³⁰ and it must be alleged that the breach occurred during the term for which the bond was given.³¹ It is not necessary to allege that the officer took the oath of office, if it appears that he entered upon the duties of the office, and when so acting broke any of the conditions of the bond.³²

(iii) PLEAS AND DEFENSES—(A) In General.³³ Pleas which are merely denials of unessential matters of inducement are bad.³⁴ So an averment that defendant without authority and in violation of duty issued certain certificates of improvements under the corporate seal to a creditor of the city, for work done on a contract, is not answered by a plea that defendant acted in good faith.³⁵ A plea by the sureties that the municipality induced and was privy to the misconduct alleged as a breach is good.³⁶ If the breach alleged is failure to pay over money as ordered by the council, but there is no averment of unreasonable delay, a plea puis darrein continuance for payment of such money in obedience to a second order of the council is good.³⁷ So where the breach alleged is failure to pay over the money as ordered by the city council, it is a good plea that the city

See also Loyd v. Ft. Worth, 82 Tex. 249, 17 S. W. 612, holding that the giving of a new bond by the city assessor, pursuant to a statute, does not release the sureties on the bond already existing from liability for default of the principal to that date.

^{27.} Orlando v. Gooding, 34 Fla. 244, 15 So. 770; Alexander v. Ison, 107 Ga. 745, 33 S. E. 657; Warrenton v. Arrington, 101 N. C. 109, 7 S. E. 652, holding, however, that joinder of the state is, under the code system of North Carolina, harmless error, as judgment may be rendered in favor of the party entitled. And see East St. Louis v. Flannigan, 26 Ill. App. 449 (holding that the municipality may bring suit for the use of a person injured); Hrabak v. Dodge, 62 Nebr. 591, 87 N. W. 358 (holding that a municipality can maintain an action against its defaulting treasurer and his bondsmen to recover license moneys collected by such treasurer, although the village is comprised within the limits of a single school-district, to which the money must ultimately be paid).

^{28.} Somerville v. Wood, 129 Ala. 369, 30 So. 280; Auburn Bd. of Education v. Quick, 99 N. Y. 138, 1 N. E. 533. And see Moodey v. Shaw, Tapp. (Ohio) 330.

^{29.} Brunswick v. Harvey, 114 Ga. 733, 40 S. E. 754.

^{30.} Connelly v. American Bonding, etc., Co., 113 Ky. 903, 69 S. W. 959, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 714.

Where the condition of the bond is to perform certain duties prescribed by ordinance, and the ordinance is not set out, breaches of the condition cannot be shown without aver-ment of the specific duties required by the ordinance. Tuskaloosa v. Lacy, 3 Ala. 618.

^{31.} Hubert v. Mandheim, 64 Cal. 213, 30 Pac. 633.

Officer holding over.—In an action to recover the amount of a defalcation that occurred after the expiration of the regular term for which the official was elected, and while he was holding over, it perhaps ought to be alleged that the defaulter was not elected his own successor; but where defendant answers without raising this point, the complaint will be held sufficient where it alleges that the defaulter's term expired on a certain day, but that he contested the election held on that day, and refused to surrender the office for a certain time during which he was a de facto officer. Baker City v. Murphy, 30 Oreg. 405, 42 Pac. 133, 35 L. R. A. 88.

^{32.} Mowbray v. State, 88 Ind. 324.

^{33.} Plea amounting to admission of execution of bond see Oakland v. Snow, 145 Cal. 419, 78 Pac. 1060.

^{34.} Hoboken v. Evans, 31 N. J. L. 342.

^{35.} Hoboken v. Evans, 31 N. J. L. 342.

^{36.} Newark v. Dickerson, 45 N. J. L. 38. And see Newark v. Stout, 52 N. J. L. 35, 18 Atl. 943, holding that a plea by the sureties on a city treasurer's bond that the city, contriving and intending to injure defendants, wilfully neglected to examine the treasurer's accounts annually, and otherwise permitted, encouraged, induced, and were privy to the alleged breaches, is sufficient.

^{37.} East St. Louis v. Renshaw, 153 Ill. 491, 38 N. E. 1048.

had never issued any warrant authorizing such payment, but on the contrary had forbidden it.³⁸ And where the breach alleged was the issue of a certificate of an overplus for certain improvements to the creditor of the city, with intent of causing him to be overpaid therefor, a plea traversing the allegation of delivery to the creditor is good.³⁹ The statute of limitations presents a good defense, although the fraud complained of was concealed and not discovered within the statutory period,⁴⁰ and so does the fact that the officer was, by an ordinance of the city, entitled to receive as compensation one sixth of all moneys collected by him, whereas he had only retained one tenth, and that the difference would more than counterbalance the amount he was charged with having embezzled.⁴¹ It has also been held a good defense in favor of one surety that he belonged to a class prohibited by statute from acting as sureties.⁴² The following, however, are not good defenses: Negligence of one officer, making possible the misconduct or delinquency of another;⁴³ as for instance in not discovering the defalcations which constitute the breach of the bond,⁴⁴ or publication of a report that the delinquent official's accounts are satisfactory,⁴⁵ or in not informing the sureties thereof on discovery;⁴⁶ the increase of official duty or responsibility during incumbency;⁴⁷ a secret contract between the municipality and the official authorizing him to use the funds of the city;⁴⁸ that the municipal officers suing on the bond are not rightfully in office;⁴⁹ and that there was no vacancy when a successor to the officer whose bond is sued on was appointed, it appearing that the appointment was made with the latter's acquiescence.⁵⁰ So where one of the sureties on an official bond given by a city officer was also mayor of the city, who had concurrent power with the recorder to approve such bonds, his knowledge of a fact tending to invalidate it could not bind the city, as the fact that he was a party to the bond would preclude him from acting officially in regard to it.⁵¹ A resolution passed by a city council relating inter alia to the salary of the city treasurer, and providing that the city should "furnish" his bond, which was required by law, amounted only in legal effect to a vote by the council that the city should pay the premium on such bond as authorized by statute, and neither such resolution nor the fact that the city paid the premium charged by a surety company for becoming the treasurer's surety on his bond rendered such bond invalid as against the surety company because of false or fraudulent statements in the application of the company which was made by the treasurer in his own name and behalf.⁵²

(B) Estoppel. The doctrine of estoppel is frequently availed of for the purpose of holding liable the principal and sureties on bonds of municipal officers. It has accordingly been held that sureties are estopped to deny the validity of a 38. East St. Louis v. Launtz, 20 Ill. App. 644.

39. Hoboken v. Evans, 31 N. J. L. 342.

40. Grimshaw v. Wilmington, 5 Del. Ch. 183.

41. Butte v. Cohen, 9 Mont. 435, 24 Pac. 206.

42. Fond du Lac v. Moore, 58 Wis. 170, 15 N. W. 782.

43. Greenville v. Anderson, 58 Ohio St. 463, 51 N. E. 41.

44. Anderson v. Blair, 121 Ga. 120, 48 S. E. 951; Winthrop v. Soule, 175 Mass. 400, 56 N. E. 575; Detroit v. Weber, 26 Mich. 284; Britton v. Ft. Worth, 78 Tex. 227, 14 S. W. 585, in which it was said that it is incumbent upon the sureties to keep a watch on their principal for the protection of the city rather than the duty of the city to keep such watch for the benefit of the sureties.

What does not amount to inducing sureties to sleep on their rights.—Neither the sending of copies of the town book to the sureties of the town treasurer, nor the acceptance by the town meeting of the reports of the auditor and treasurer as therein set forth, can be construed as a representation by the town that the statements of the reports are true, or as an inducement to the sureties to sleep upon their rights. Winthrop v. Soule, 175 Mass. 400, 56 N. E. 575.

45. Anderson v. Blair, 121 Ga. 120, 48 S. E. 951.

46. Newark v. Stout, 52 N. J. L. 35, 18 Atl. 943.

47. Beverley Tp. v. Barlow, 10 U. C. C. P. 178.

48. Manley v. Atchison, 9 Kan. 358.

49. Natchitoches v. Redmond, 28 La. Ann. 274, in which the court held that such question cannot be raised in a collateral proceeding.

50. Mowbray v. State, 88 Ind. 324.

51. Stevenson v. Bay City, 26 Mich. 44.

52. Aetna Indemnity Co. v. Haverhill, 142 Fed. 124, 73 C. C. A. 342.

bond on which the principal has received money not accounted for by virtue of his office.⁵³ That the principal is estopped to deny that his election was unauthorized because the time of election had not been fixed and the term of office and the duties to be performed by the treasurer prescribed by ordinance as required by statute.⁵⁴ So the obligors are estopped to deny the validity of ordinances under which the officer received moneys, which ordinances were in existence when the bond was executed,⁵⁵ or that the officer's debit entries in the official books were erroneous, and did not represent moneys actually received or retained by him virtute officii.⁵⁶

(iv) REPLICATION. Where it is pleaded as a defense that the bond was void because the mayor and council of the city were named as obligees, the replication alleging that the mayor and council had authority to be obligees is a sufficient answer to the plea to preclude a judgment for the obligor on his plea.⁵⁷

(v) EVIDENCE. The rules of evidence to establish the essential elements of liability according to the pleadings are those usually recognized and applied in civil actions generally;⁵⁸ so also of proofs on behalf of defendants to refute plaintiff's evidence,⁵⁹ or otherwise show their non-liability on the official bond.⁶⁰

(vi) AMOUNT RECOVERABLE. The judgment for damages on an official bond cannot exceed the ad damnum.⁶¹ And where a defaulting officer had mingled two separate funds the presumption is that he embezzled a pro rata proportion from each.⁶² In determining liabilities on an officer's bond for collections made by him, an excess in his deposits over his collections for the first four months of the period covered by the bond should be credited to collections made prior to that time, and should not be applied on collections made thereafter, from which it could not have been received, and thereby reduce such liabilities by the amount of such excess.⁶³ Interest on funds of a village placed in bank by the treasurer without consent of the council belongs to the village and not to the treasurer, and may be recovered in an action on the bond.⁶⁴

18. CRIMINAL LIABILITY — a. In General. A municipal officer is liable for wilfully doing acts forbidden by and made misdemeanors by statute,⁶⁵ and every

53. People v. Pace, 57 Ill. App. 674.

54. Padueah v. Cully, 9 Bush (Ky.) 323.

55. Middleton v. State, 120 Ind. 166, 22 N. E. 123.

56. Chicago v. Gage, 95 Ill. 593, 35 Am. Rep. 182.

57. Jeness v. Black Hawk, 2 Colo. 578.

58. See Bernhard v. Wyandotte, 33 Kan. 465, 6 Pac. 617 (in which it was held that in an action on the second bond, with the same sureties, of a city treasurer who has served two terms, it will be presumed that at the expiration of the first term he had in his possession all the money he should have had); Philadelphia v. Keithler, 173 Pa. St. 610, 34 Atl. 295.

The reports of a city treasurer are only prima facie evidence as against his sureties in an action on his official bond. Broad v. Paris, 66 Tex. 119, 18 S. W. 342.

Reports of a city treasurer to the city council of moneys received and disbursed during the month, which he is required to make by Pol. Code, § 4788, may be given in evidence against the sureties on his official bond, and are prima facie true, and, when not contradicted by the sureties, are binding on them. Philipsburg v. Degenhart, 30 Mont. 299, 76 Pac. 694.

Sufficiency to sustain findings.—In an action against a city auditor and ex-officio assessor on his bond, where the amount which he collected was shown, and the amount which he paid into the treasury during the term of his office was also shown, and there was neither allegation in the answer, nor proof on the part of defendants, that any further amount had been paid, a finding that the excess of the amount paid in by the official had been appropriated to his own use was sustained by the evidence. Oakland v. Snow, 145 Cal. 419, 78 Pac. 1060.

Sufficiency of evidence to show delivery of bond see Oakland v. Snow, 145 Cal. 419, 78 Pac. 1060.

59. American Bonding, etc., Co. v. Milstead, 102 Va. 683, 47 S. E. 853.

60. Lynn v. Cumberland, 77 Md. 449, 26 Atl. 1001, holding that in an action on the bond of a city tax-collector for failure to turn over money collected, the reports of the collector to the mayor and council, showing the amount collected by him, were prima facie correct, and it was incumbent on his sureties to point out errors therein.

61. Russell v. Chicago, 22 Ill. 283.

62. Britton v. Ft. Worth, 78 Tex. 227, 14 S. W. 585.

63. Laurium v. Mills, 129 Mich. 536, 89 N. W. 362.

64. Glenville v. Englehart, 19 Ohio Cir. Ct. 285, 10 Ohio Cir. Dec. 408.

65. People v. Wood, 4 Park. Cr. (N. Y.) 144.

culpable neglect of duty enjoined on a public officer either by common law or by statute is an indictable offense,⁶⁶ and neither corruption nor injurious result is an essential element of the crime.⁶⁷ The violation of a duty imposed is the gist of the offense, and where the officer is entitled to exercise discretion there can be no offense.⁶⁸

b. Failure to Repair Streets. Municipal officers, upon whom is imposed the duty of keeping the streets in repair, are indictable for neglect to do so.⁶⁹

c. Statutory Offenses. In many states statutory provisions exist commanding or forbidding certain specified acts to be done by particular officers. Thus it has been made an indictable offense for a municipal officer to ask or receive a reward or a promise thereof for doing an official act;⁷⁰ to obtain from a municipality any money not due him;⁷¹ to award a contract without previous advertisement;⁷² to give a lease of city real estate for a longer period than ten years;⁷³ to commit a

The mayor, aldermen, and councilmen of the city of New York are officers of the city government within the meaning of section 40 of the amendment to the New York city charter passed in 1857, and, as such, are liable to indictment for willfully doing the acts forbidden by that section, and which are therein declared to be misdemeanors. People v. Wood, 4 Park. Cr. (N. Y.) 144.

66. State v. Kern, 51 N. J. L. 259, 17 Atl. 114; State v. Startup, 39 N. J. L. 423; People v. Herlihy, 35 Misc. (N. Y.) 711, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 389 [reversed on other grounds in 66 N. Y. App. Div. 534, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 326]; State v. Hall, 97 N. C. 474, 1 S. E. 683; State v. Fishplate, 83 N. C. 654; Com. v. Bredin, 165 Pa. St. 224, 30 Atl. 921.

A member of the board of public works of a city is an "officer elected to an office of trust or profit in the state." Doll v. State, 45 Ohio St. 445, 15 N. E. 293.

Civil justices of the New York city district courts are not city officers within the meaning of Laws (1873), c. 335, § 95, which declares that "any officer of the city government . . . who shall willfully violate or evade any of the provisions of this act . . . shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor." People v. New York County Ct. Gen. Sess., 13 Hun 395.

Bridge commissioners.—Commissioners appointed under Laws (1895), c. 789, providing for a commission to construct a suspension bridge over East river in New York city, are municipal officers, within the meaning of Labor Law (Laws (1897), c. 415) § 4, imposing certain penalties upon public officers for their violation of the law. People v. Van Wyck, 27 Misc. (N. Y.) 439, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 134.

Where authority is given to officers of a borough to make regulations necessary for health and cleanliness of the borough neglect of the officers to do so is a misdemeanor. Com. v. Bredin, 165 Pa. St. 224, 30 Atl. 921.

67. State v. Ragsdale, 59 Mo. App. 590; People v. Herlihy, 35 Misc. (N. Y.) 711, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 389 [reversed on other grounds in 66 N. Y. App. Div. 534, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 236]; Morris v. People, 3 Den. (N. Y.) 381.

68. Alcorn v. State, (Miss. 1895) 16 So. 532.

69. Hammar v. Covington, 3 Metc. (Ky.)

494; Com. v. Hopkinsville, 7 B. Mon. (Ky.) 38; State v. Haywood, 48 N. C. 399; State v. Fayetteville, 4 N. C. 419, 6 Am. Dec. 567; Com. v. Jones, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 13; Hill v. State, 4 Sneed (Tenn.) 443.

Where the indictment is against the corporation, the mayor cannot be held individually responsible. State v. Barksdale, 5 Humphr. (Tenn.) 154.

Authority to abolish street.—Where the corporate authorities of a municipality which has been erected out of a rural district have not adopted what was formerly a highway as a street, they are not indictable for failing or refusing to keep it in repair. McCain v. State, 62 Ala. 138.

70. People v. Kalloch, 60 Cal. 116, holding, however, that under a statute making it an offense for an officer to ask or receive a reward or a promise thereof for doing an official act, the mayor of a city cannot be indicted for procuring the salary of a city official to be increased, and for corruptly taking from him the amount of the increase.

71. People v. New York County Ct. Gen. Sess., 13 Hun (N. Y.) 395.

Means of obtaining money immaterial see State v. Crowley, 39 N. J. L. 264.

72. State v. Kern, 51 N. J. L. 259, 17 Atl. 114; People v. Scannell, 40 Misc. (N. Y.) 297, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 362, 17 N. Y. Cr. 279, holding that in considering an indictment for letting a contract of over one thousand dollars to a bidder not the lowest, in violation of the city charter, the court cannot consider the question whether the higher bid accepted might not prove the lowest, because of the better quality of the article furnished thereby, where the charter makes the price the test of the bids.

Two lowest bids.—On an indictment for letting a city contract to one not the lowest bidder, it cannot be held that there was no lowest bidder because each of the two bidders bid the lowest price offered. People v. Scannell, 40 Misc. (N. Y.) 297, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 362, 17 N. Y. Cr. 279.

73. People v. Wood, 4 Park. Cr. (N. Y.) 144, holding, however, that it is not a misdemeanor for the mayor, aldermen, and council of a city to vote for and pass a resolution directing the controller of the city to lease city real estate for a longer term than ten fraud on the city;⁷⁴ to become interested in any contract for the purchase of property for the use of a city;⁷⁵ to buy any city warrants;⁷⁶ or for police officials to be interested in the manufacture and sale of spirituous liquors.⁷⁷

d. Indictment and Information. The indictment or information charging an officer with crime must set forth with reasonable certainty all the essential ingredients of the offense;⁷⁸ and it is fatally defective if it fails to point out the particular duty neglected,⁷⁹ or to refer to the statute imposing it, if the duty is so imposed.⁸⁰ An indictment against a police officer for failure to make an arrest should contain some averment of corrupt or improper motive on the part of the officer, or that he failed to act without reason or excuse, or with knowledge that years, such voting not being of itself an unlawful act.

74. The non-payment of money collected on tax warrants within the time required by city ordinance was not a "fraud upon the city" within section 40 of the New York amended charter of April 14, 1857, by which the committing a fraud on the city was made a misdemeanor. People v. Taylor, 4 Park. Cr. (N. Y.) 158.

Approving bids against city.— Under Greater New York Charter, § 1551, providing that any officer of a city government who shall commit any fraud on the city shall be guilty of a misdemeanor, an indictment which alleges that an officer approved certain bills, stating their amount, well knowing that no contract had been entered into for such work as required by law, and that such acts were in violation of law, and were done with intent to commit a fraud on the city of New York, does not charge an offense, as it does not charge that the approval of such bills created a charge against the city. People v. Kane, 161 N. Y. 380, 55 N. E. 946, 14 N. Y. Cr. 295 [affirming 43 N. Y. App. Div. 472, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 195, 632].

75. People v. Mayer, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 368, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 817, 17 N. Y. Cr. 479.

To become interested in a contract, it is not necessary that the officer should make profits on the same. It is sufficient if, while acting as an officer, he sells property to the city for its use, or is personally interested in the proceeds of the contract of sale, and receives the same, or part thereof, or has some pecuniary interest or share in the contract. Doll v. State, 45 Ohio St. 445, 15 N. E. 293.

A member of the legislative body of a city is a city officer, within a statute making it a misdemeanor for a city officer to be interested in a contract with the city. State v. Kelly, 103 Mo. App. 711, 77 S. W. 996.

76. Trine v. People, 36 Colo. 473, 86 Pac. 100.

77. Mayor not police official.— People v. Gregg, 59 Hun (N. Y.) 107, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 114.

Alderman not police official.— People v. Hannon, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 117.

78. Nowlin v. State, 49 Ala. 41; State v. Kern, 51 N. J. L. 259, 17 Atl. 114; People v. Gregg, 59 Hun (N. Y.) 107, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 114; State v. Hall, 97 N. C. 474, 1 S. E. 683.

An indictment charging, in the language of the statute, that defendant, while a city officer, became interested, under an assumed name, in contracts for furnishing supplies for the city, is sufficient. State v. Kelly, 103 Mo. App. 711, 77 S. W. 996.

Tenure of office.— An indictment against commissioners of a city for failing to keep the streets in repair during a certain time therein named must aver the tenure and duration of their office. An averment that they were commissioners on a certain day during the time of the alleged neglect is not sufficient. State v. Haywood, 48 N. C. 399.

The specific acts constituting the offense of malicious oppression in office, under Mo. Rev. St. (1889) § 3732, are sufficiently set forth in an information alleging that defendant, as mayor, unlawfully and maliciously commanded a policeman to arrest the prosecuting witness, and assaulted him, and used threatening, profane, vile, and abusive language to him, while he was unlawfully detained in custody, setting forth the particular language as used. State v. Ragsdale, 59 Mo. App. 590.

An indictment charging that there were certain specified houses of ill fame in the precinct of a certain public officer, and that he wilfully omitted to suppress them, states facts sufficient to constitute a misdemeanor; and such statement is not affected by a further, but not inconsistent, description of the character of such houses, and of the unlawful practices of the inmates. People v. Herlihy, 66 N. Y. App. Div. 534, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 236 [affirmed in 170 N. Y. 584, 63 N. E. 1120]. Such an indictment need not state separately the facts as to each of the alleged houses or the names of the keepers or inmates. People v. Herlihy, supra.

Duplicity.— An indictment charging that during all the time between specified dates, covering nearly one year, one hundred and nine specified houses in the precinct of defendant, a police officer, were houses of ill fame, and that he wilfully omitted to suppress them, states but one offense, and is not demurrable for duplicity. People v. Herlihy, 66 N. Y. App. Div. 534, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 236 [affirmed in 170 N. Y. 584, 63 N. E. 1120].

79. Nowlin v. State, 49 Ala. 41; State v. King, 28 Mont. 268, 72 Pac. 657; People v. Gleason, 75 Hun (N. Y.) 572, 27 N. Y. Suppl. 670; State v. Hall, 97 N. C. 474, 1 S. E. 683; State v. Fishblate, 83 N. C. 654; State v. Haywood, 48 N. C. 399.

80. State v. Fishblate, 83 N. C. 654.

the failure was wrongful.⁸¹ Two distinct branches of a city government cannot be jointly indicted for failure or refusal to perform their duties under the charter.⁸²

e. Evidence. The general rules governing the admissibility of evidence in criminal cases apply on the trial of a municipal officer for neglect of duty.⁸³

f. Defenses. Liability to impeachment for the same offense,⁸⁴ or to removal from office⁸⁵ is no bar to indictment; nor is retirement from office,⁸⁶ nor the subsequent discharge of the duty by successors in office.⁸⁷

g. Effect of Conviction. Judgment of conviction forfeits the office without the institution of quo warranto proceedings.⁸⁸

B. Municipal Departments and Officers Thereof⁸⁹ — 1. NATURE AND STATUS OF DEPARTMENTS. The various departments of a great city, charged with the supervision and control of divers municipal affairs and the exercise of different corporate functions, such as health, education, police, fire, water and light, streets, parks, wharves, etc., have such a variety of duties and powers, and are organized under such diverse legislation and charters, that they can scarcely be said to be amenable to the same general doctrines of the law, some being declared to be municipal corporations, others quasi-corporations, and still others not to be corporate bodies but only subordinate divisions of the municipal corporation.⁹⁰ The test by which their character is usually determined is the capacity to hold property and to sue and be sued by a corporate name.⁹¹

2. CREATION AND EXISTENCE OF DEPARTMENTS. The power to create municipal departments to exist and act as corporations is not a municipal function, but belongs solely to the legislative department of the government.⁹² It may, however, delegate this power to a municipality,⁹³ and the political policy or wisdom of so doing is of no concern to the courts and a matter over which they have no con-

81. Com. v. McPeck, 20 S. W. 220, 14 Ky. L. Rep. 215.

82. State v. Hall, 97 N. C. 474, 1 S. E. 683.

83. See cases cited infra, this note.

On the trial of a police officer for wilful neglect of duty, in failing to suppress a disorderly house, the rules of the police department (People v. Glennon, 175 N. Y. 45, 67 N. E. 125 [reversing 78 N. Y. App. Div. 271, 630, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 997]), the weekly reports of the officer (People v. Diamond, 72 N. Y. App. Div. 281, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 57 [affirmed in 175 N. Y. 517, 67 N. E. 1087]), and acts and conduct of the inmates of the house which an officer neglected to suppress (People v. Glennon, supra) are admissible in evidence. So evidence that a telephone message concerning a proposed raid on a disorderly house was sent to defendant at his request is admissible where he admitted that he heard of it, although he was not present when the message was received (People v. Glennon, supra); but evidence as to a raid on such house prior to the time mentioned in the indictment is inadmissible where it is not shown that he had any knowledge of it (People v. Glennon, supra).

Evidence held sufficient to justify conviction see People v. Diamond, 72 N. Y. App. Div. 281, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 57 [affirmed in 175 N. Y. 517, 67 N. E. 1087]; People v. Glennon, 175 N. Y. 45, 67 N. E. 125 [reversing 78 N. Y. App. Div. 271, 630, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 997, 1141].

84. People v. Jerome, 36 Misc. (N. Y.) 256, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 306.

85. State v. Kelly, 103 Mo. App. 711, 77 S. W. 996.

86. Com. v. Bredin, 165 Pa. St. 224, 30 Atl. 921.

87. Roberts v. Southern Pines, 125 N. C. 172, 34 S. E. 268, penal action.

88. State v. Ragsdale, 59 Mo. App. 590.

89. Mandamus as to acts of officers see MANDAMUS, 26 Cyc. 249 et seq.

90. See the following cases:

Louisiana.—State v. Kohnke, 109 La. 838, 33 So. 793.

Maryland.—Brotherton v. Baltimore Police Com'rs, 49 Md. 495.

Massachusetts.—Prout v. Pittsfield Fire Dist., 154 Mass. 450, 28 N. E. 679; Boston Overseers of Poor v. Sears, 22 Pick. 122.

Michigan.—Board of Education v. Detroit, 30 Mich. 505.

Missouri.—Heller v. Stremmel, 52 Mo. 309.

New Jersey.—Schumm v. Seymour, 24 N. J. Eq. 143.

New York.—Clarissy v. Metropolitan Fire Dept., 7 Abb. Pr. N. S. 352; Rauh v. Public Park Com'rs, 66 How. Pr. 368; Appleton v. New York Water Com'rs, 2 Hill 432.

Pennsylvania.—Taylor v. Philadelphia Bd. of Health, 31 Pa. St. 73, 72 Am. Dec. 724.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 415.

91. See cases cited in preceding note.

92. See infra, XI, A, 2, 3; XI, B, 4, c, (1).

93. Newcomb v. Indianapolis, 141 Ind. 451, 40 N. E. 919, 28 L. R. A. 732; Boehm v. Baltimore, 61 Md. 259; Smith Mun. Corp. §§ 1674, 1675, 1676.

trol.⁹⁴ Power conferred on a city "to preserve the health of the city and to prevent and remove nuisances" authorizes it to create boards of health.⁹⁵ But power to create a department of municipal government is not conferred on a municipality by a charter authorizing it to sell property for its benefit.⁹⁶ Power conferred on a municipality to create new departments may be taken away by subsequent legislation, and thereafter no new departments can be created except by the legislature.⁹⁷

3. ABOLITION OF DEPARTMENTS. Departments may also be abolished by the power that gave them life — by the legislature if created by it; and if created by the municipality, then either by it or the state in exercise of its sovereign power.⁹⁸ And this power may be exercised at discretion without regard to the term or incumbency of any officers of the department.⁹⁹ Abolition of a department may be effected by express repeal of the statute or ordinance of creation,¹ or by other positive legislation incompatible with the law creating it.²

4. PUBLIC WORKS³ — a. Term of Office. In many cities the board of public works is the administrative and business department of the municipality; the length of its term and extent of its powers being determined by the municipal charter,⁴ if not in contravention of constitutional provisions.⁵

^{94.} Newcomb v. Indianapolis, 141 Ind. 451, 40 N. E. 919, 28 L. R. A. 732.

^{95.} Boehm v. Baltimore, 61 Md. 259.

^{96.} Smith v. Morse, 2 Cal. 524, sinking fund commission.

^{97.} People v. New York Fire Com'rs, 23 Hun (N. Y.) 317 [affirmed in 86 N. Y. 149].

^{98.} Com. v. Reese, 29 S. W. 352, 16 Ky. L. Rep. 493; Butcher v. Camden, 29 N. J. Eq. 478; Toledo v. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co., 4 Ohio Cir. Ct. 113, 2 Ohio Cir. Dec. 450.

Ordinance held to abolish department. — A city ordinance, reorganizing the police department and vesting the entire control of the police force in a city marshal, takes away the functions given to the board of police by the act of their creation and confers them upon the officers named in such ordinance. Sheridan v. Colvin, 73 Ill. 237.

For statute held not to abolish department see State v. Hornberger, 8 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 96, 5 Cinc. L. Bul. 626.

^{99.} City authorities may lawfully, by ordinance, abolish the fire department, notwithstanding terms of office of its officers are unexpired. Butcher v. Camden, 29 N. J. Eq. 478.

1. Toledo v. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co., 4 Ohio Cir. Ct. 113, 2 Ohio Cir. Dec. 450.

2. A statute creating the office of "inspector of weights and measures" abolished the office of "sealer of weights and measures," which theretofore existed. Com. v. Reese, 29 S. W. 352, 16 Ky. L. Rep. 493.

3. For statutes held not to repeal acts providing for the establishment of public works see Sherman v. Des Moines, 100 Iowa 88, 69 N. W. 410.

4. See Gilroy v. Smith, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 784. Construction of particular provisions. — New York Consolidation Act (Laws (1882), c. 410), § 106, provides that the terms of all officers, whensoever actually appointed, shall commence on the first day of May in the year in which the terms of office of their predecessors shall expire; but the commissioner of public works to be appointed on the expiration of the term of the present incumbent, in December, 1884, shall hold from the first day of May succeeding such month. It was held that it was clearly the intention that the commissioner's term should begin on May 1, 1885, and it was immaterial that the termination of his predecessor's term was erroneously stated to be in December, 1884. People v. Barrett, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 677. The city charter passed April 30, 1873, provided in section 25 that the mayor should within twenty days after the passage thereof nominate successors of persons whose terms were ended by its passage, excepting the commissioner of public works and some other officers, who were expressly allowed to continue in office for the residue of their terms, which would expire in the following December, when he was permitted to appoint their successors for terms of four years. It further provided that "every head of department and person in this section named, except as herein otherwise provided," should hold their offices for six years, or until their successors should be appointed. The terms of all except "those first appointed" were to commence on May 1. As to those first appointed it was provided that their terms should commence on the expiration of the terms of the then incumbents, "as hereinafter provided," and continue until the "1st day of May in the year in which it is herein provided that their respective terms should expire." Section 117 contained a general provision ending the terms of all appointed officials on the 1st day of May, 1873, excepting the commissioner and some other officers. It was held that the charter made no change in the time at which the term of said commissioners should expire, which still continued to be in December, as before the passage of the charter. Gilroy v. Smith, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 784.

5. Bonebrake v. Wall, 11 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 38, 11 Cinc. L. Bul. 175.

b. Eligibility. A statute providing that no person shall be appointed by the aqueduct commissioners, as inspector or superintendent, who shall not be certified by at least three members of the commission to be competent and fit for the duties of the position for which he is an applicant, and experienced in the subject-matter of the employment, being special and local in its character, is not to be deemed to be repealed by the civil service act directing that preference be given honorably discharged Union soldiers in certain civil appointments.⁶

c. Appointment and Filling of Vacancies. Under the constitutions of some states the legislature has no power to appoint members of boards of public works. The functions of such officers being local and municipal, the selection cannot properly be made without the assent of the local people or authorities.⁷ Under the constitutions of other states the legislature may confer on the governor the power of appointment of members of the boards of public works.⁸ When the governor, having the general constitutional power of appointment of officers not otherwise provided for, is by the charter vested with power to appoint members of this board, and fill vacancies arising therein, his appointments to fill vacancies and the time for which the appointees shall hold office is controlled by the charter and not by the constitution.⁹ Under a charter provision that the governor shall appoint a board of public works by and with the advice and consent of the senate, and that he shall have power to fill vacancies in vacation of the senate, the governor may appoint for an unexpired term without the advice and consent of the senate.¹⁰ A constitutional provision that in cases of elective officers no person appointed to fill a vacancy shall hold his office, by virtue of such appointment, for a period longer than the commencement of the political year next succeeding the annual election after the happening of the vacancy, applies only to offices created by the constitution and not to those created by the legislature; and a city charter declaring that a vacancy in the office of an elective commissioner of public works shall be filled by appointment of the mayor, and that his term shall last until the first day of January after the next municipal election, at which election a commissioner shall be elected, is not in contravention of the constitution.¹¹ So this charter provision is not in contravention of a constitutional provision that all elections of city officers, except to fill vacancies, shall be held on the Tuesday succeeding the first Monday of November in an odd-numbered year. The office being statutory, the term, compensation, mode of appointment or election, and the term and manner of filling vacancies are all subject to the legislative will.¹²

d. Authority and Powers. These are such of course as are conferred by charter or general statute; and where the common council had been clothed with the duties of commissioners of highways, and a later statute, creating a board of public works, vested in it the powers of commissioners of highways, this was held to transfer to the board all the powers and authority formerly of the council.¹³

6. Brown v. Duane, 60 Hun (N. Y.) 98, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 450.

7. State v. Denny, 118 Ind. 382, 21 N. E. 252, 4 L. R. A. 79; People v. Hurlbut, 24 Mich. 44, 9 Am. Rep. 103. See supra, IV, E.

8. State v. Smith, 44 Ohio St. 348, 7 N. E. 447, 12 N. E. 829. See supra, IV, E.

9. Monash v. Rhodes, 27 Colo. 235, 60 Pac. 569 [affirming 11 Colo. App. 404, 53 Pac. 236].

10. Monash v. Rhodes, 27 Colo. 235, 60 Pac. 569 [affirming 11 Colo. App. 404, 53 Pac. 236].

11. People v. Scheu, 167 N. Y. 292, 60 N. E. 650 [affirming 60 N. Y. App. Div. 592, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 597].

12. People v. Scheu, 167 N. Y. 292, 60 N. E. 650 [affirming 60 N. Y. App. Div. 592, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 597].

13. Matter of Watertown Public Works, 67 Hun (N. Y.) 190, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 112 [affirmed in 144 N. Y. 440, 39 N. E. 387]. See supra, IX, C, 1.

Power to change grade of street and make repairs.—North Adams city charter provides that the board of public works shall have control of the construction, alteration, and repair of streets, and, "except as herein otherwise provided," shall have the powers, etc., which "may be by law given" to road commissioners of towns; section 13 authorizes the city council, "so far as is not inconsistent with this act," to exercise all the legislative powers of towns; and section 23 gives the council exclusive power to lay out and discontinue streets and highways, and to assess damages sustained thereby, "except as herein otherwise provided," and to act in all matters re-

Where the duty of making plans, drawings, and specifications is imposed on the commissioner, a resolution authorizing the city controller to employ an architect to do the work, and the contract with the architect made pursuant thereto, are unauthorized encroachments on the commissioner's authority.¹⁴

e. Duties and Liabilities. It is the duty of a director, or member of a board of public works, always to act as a trustee for the municipality;¹⁵ and, in case of conflict, to prefer its interests and welfare above that of all other corporations or persons, even his own.¹⁶ Municipal officers and agents having general charge of public improvements and power to contract therefor are bound to investigate complaints against contractors for public works charging violation of laws regulating the hours of labor and wages of laborers employed on public works.¹⁷ When a municipal charter requires a reference of a proceeding of the city council to the board of public works, such reference must be formally made to the board; and the matter referred should be duly considered and determined by the board, and not by the members of the board acting each for himself, and without the benefit of conference with the others.¹⁸ A director or member of the board is not personally liable for damages caused by acts done by him in pursuance of a discretion with which he is vested in the absence of bad faith,¹⁹ nor for the neglect of employees not appointed by him or under his control.²⁰ It has been held, however, that he is liable for damages for unauthorized acts done by him.²¹

f. Compensation. Members of boards of public works are "municipal officers" within a constitutional prohibition against any change of compensation during their term of office;²² but a charter provision forbidding reduction of salaries during incumbency of any office does not prevent later legislation authorizing the municipality to allow such salary as it sees fit to officers of a board not in existence when the charter provision was enacted, and under such later legislating to such laying out, altering, etc. It was held that the powers of the board of public works were not cut down by the powers granted to the city, and that it had power to change the grade of a street in making ordinary repairs, such repairs not being an alteration, within section 23. Simpson v. North Adams, 174 Mass. 450, 54 N. E. 878.

Power to employ night watchman and make contract for compensation.—A city ordinance declared that the minimum wage of a laborer or workman employed by any board or commission for the city should not be less than one dollar and fifty cents a day, and Local Acts (1901), p. 389, No. 415, § 6, provided that the Detroit commissioner of public works might appoint such employees of the department as the common council should provide for. It was held that, the city having created the position of night watchman in the department of public works, the commissioner of such department had power to employ a person to fill such position, and to agree with him that he should be paid for overtime without submitting the contract to the council for its approval, notwithstanding section 8, providing that the commissioner of public works shall have no power to enter into any contract on behalf of the city without the approval of the common council. Gadd v. Detroit, 142 Mich. 683, 106 N. W. 210.

14. Moreland v. Detroit, 130 Mich. 343, 89 N. W. 935.

15. See supra, VII, A, 1.

16. See supra, VII, A, 1.

17. People v. Van Wyck, 27 Misc. (N. Y.) 439, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 134.

18. Storrie v. Woessner, (Tex. Civ. App. 1898) 47 S. W. 837.

19. American Pavement Co. v. Wagner, 139 Pa. St. 623, 21 Atl. 160 [affirming 7 Pa. Co. Ct. 385].

20. Fitzpatrick v. Slocum, 89 N. Y. 358.

Statutory exemption.—Laws which exempt the commissioner of city works from liability for the misfeasance or nonfeasance of any of his subordinates are not in violation of the doctrine of respondet superior, since the city, and not the commissioner, is the superior, and liable for the negligence of such subordinates. Bieling v. Brooklyn, 120 N. Y. 98, 24 N. E. 389.

21. Larned v. Briscoe, 62 Mich. 393, 29 N. W. 22.

22. Louisville v. Wilson, 99 Ky. 598, 36 S. W. 944, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 427. Compare Bonebrake v. Wall, 11 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 38, 24 Cine. L. Bul. 175, holding that a statute creating a board of public works for a municipality and establishing certain officers for such board, and which fails to fix the compensation of those officers, is not within the inhibition of a constitutional provision that the compensation of all officers not fixed by the constitution shall in all cases be fixed by the legislature, the reason assigned being that officers of the board of public works are permanent officers of the city government.

What does not amount to change.—Where a statute provides that the salary of a designated officer shall not be less than an lation the compensation of such officers may be reduced during the term.²³ Where the salary of an officer of this department is by charter to be fixed by the board, with the approval of the council, the latter may not alone reduce it.²⁴ An officer illegally suspended may recover his salary during the time of suspension.²⁵

g. Records. Such is the nature and importance of the functions of a board or director of public works for municipal corporations as necessarily to require that a record shall be kept of all official acts and transactions even though not expressly required by the charter.²⁶

h. Removal. An officer of a board of public works holding for a definite term is not removable at pleasure unless this power is expressly conferred by statute.²⁷ An officer who simply attends board meetings and gives no personal attention to the public works of the corporation, and who exercises no care to check incompetent work or extravagant expenditures, is guilty of dereliction of duty, and subject to removal therefor.²⁸ When a regular trial is not contemplated, although removal may be only for cause, charges drawn with the exactness of pleadings are not necessary,²⁹ nor need the commission call witnesses or hear testimony.³⁰ But when trial is required the jury decide whether the facts proven sustain the charges.³¹ Acts of an officer after his suspension, in seeking and accepting other employment, are not admissible against him to show that he understood, when he received notice of suspension, that he was discharged.³² On appeal, if it appears that there was no evidence to sustain the charges, the removal is "not for cause" and may be reversed.³³

i. Abolition of Office. The legislature has power to abolish the office of any officer of the board of public works.³⁴

j. Criminal Liability. Violation of a prescribed duty by a board of public works is an indictable offense, although not made so in terms by statute,³⁵ and a member of such board is "an officer elected to an office of trust or profit" within a statute which makes it a crime for such officer to become "directly or indirectly interested in any contract for the purchase of any property or fire insurance, for the use of the state, county, township, city, town or village."³⁶ On a prosecution under such statute it cannot be shown as a defense that the proper officer had not certified that the money required for the contract was in the treasury to the credit of the proper fund, or specifically set apart for such expenditures, as required by statute.³⁷ But it seems that omission to take the prescribed official oath before assuming office is a personal and not an official omission of duty, within the meaning of a statute the provisions of which punish as a misdemeanor amount named, but does not fix the amount, an ordinance fixing the salary of such officer at a greater amount than named in the statute, does not violate a constitutional prohibition against any change of the compensation of municipal officers during their terms of office. Louisville v. Wilson, 99 Ky. 598, 36 S. W. 944, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 427.

23. People v. Detroit, 38 Mich. 636.

24. Fountain v. Jackson, 50 Mich. 15, 14 N. W. 680.

25. Morley v. New York, 12 N. Y. Suppl. 609.

26. Larned v. Briscoe, 62 Mich. 393, 29 N. W. 22.

27. Todd v. Dunlap, 99 Ky. 449, 36 S. W. 541, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 329.

28. State v. Van Brocklin, 8 Wash. 557, 36 Pac. 495.

29. People v. Thompson, 94 N. Y. 451.

30. People v. Thompson, 94 N. Y. 451.

31. Wardlaw v. New York, 137 N. Y. 194, 33 N. E. 140.

32. Morley v. New York, 12 N. Y. Suppl. 609.

33. People v. Campbell, 82 N. Y. 247.

Finding not sustained by facts.—A charge that a member of a municipal board of public works voted to insure certain city property with companies through a corporation, as local agent, which received commissions therefor, and that he was a stock-holder of the agent company, and so interested in the commissions paid, was not sustained by a finding of the facts charged, except that he was a trustee only of such company. State v. Van Brocklin, 8 Wash. 557, 36 Pac. 495.

34. See McHugh v. Cincinnati, 1 Cinc. Super. Ct. (Ohio) 145, construing provisions which were held to abolish the office of city commissioner.

35. State v. Startup, 39 N. J. L. 423.

36. Doll v. State, 45 Ohio St. 445, 15 N. E. 293.

37. Doll v. State, 45 Ohio St. 445, 15 N. E. 293.

the wilful omission by a public officer of any public duty enjoined upon him by law.³⁸

5. POLICE — a. Commissioners or Board — (i) NATURE AND STATUS OF BOARD. The cases almost unanimously concur in holding that police commissioners are in fact state officers and not municipal, although a particular city or town be taxed to pay them.³⁹ It is a body separate and independent of the city council, with certain defined powers and duties, in the exercise of which it cannot be controlled by the council.⁴⁰ Such a board is held to be an administrative tribunal vested with disciplinary powers, and not a court limited in its functions, nor confined by the application of strict legal rules governing trials in courts of law.⁴¹

(ii) APPOINTMENT OR ELECTION—(A) In General. It follows from the proposition above stated that police commissioners are state and not municipal officers,⁴² that the legislature may, unless specially restrained in the constitution, take from a municipal corporation its charter powers respecting the police and their appointment, and, by statute, itself directly provide for permanent police for the corporation under the control of a board of police not appointed or elected by the corporate authorities, but consisting of commissioners appointed by the legislature, or by some designated officer.⁴³ Some of these acts providing

38. People v. Ryall, 58 Hun (N. Y.) 235, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 828.

39. Connecticut.—Perkins v. New Haven, 53 Conn. 214, 1 Atl. 825.

Indiana.—State v. Denny, 118 Ind. 449, 21 N. E. 274, 4 L. R. A. 65.

Kansas.—State v. Hunter, 38 Kan. 578, 17 Pac. 177.

Maryland.—Baltimore v. Howard, 20 Md. 335; Baltimore v. State, 15 Md. 376, 74 Am. Dec. 572.

Ohio.—Yaple v. Morgan, 2 Ohio Cir. Ct. 406, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 557 [affirmed in 25 Cinc. L. Bul. 336].

Rhode Island.—In re Police Com'rs, 22 R. I. 654, 49 Atl. 36.

See also cases cited infra, next section. But see Speed v. Crawford, 3 Metc. (Ky.) 207 (where it was held that members of the police board were "officers for cities and towns," within the provisions of Const. art. 6, par. 6); Mangan v. Brooklyn, 98 N. Y. 585, 50 Am. Rep. 705; People v. Albertson, 55 N. Y. 50; Shanley v. Brooklyn, 30 Hun (N. Y.) 396.

40. Cleveland v. Payne, 72 Ohio St. 347, 74 N. E. 177; Yaple v. Morgan, 2 Ohio Cir. Ct. 406, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 557 [affirmed in 25 Cinc. L. Bul. 336]; Jones v. Doherty, (Tex. Civ. App. 1900) 56 S. W. 596.

41. People v. New York Police Com'rs, 93 N. Y. 97.

42. See supra, VII, B, 5, a, (i).

43. Indiana.—Huntington v. Cast, 149 Ind. 255, 48 N. E. 1025.

Kansas.—State v. Hunter, 38 Kan. 578, 17 Pac. 177.

Kentucky.—Police Com'rs v. Louisville, 3 Bush 597. But see Speed v. Crawford, 3 Metc. 207; Ader v. Newport, 6 S. W. 577, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 748.

Louisiana.—State v. New Orleans, 41 La. Ann. 156, 6 So. 592; Diamond v. Cain, 21 La. Ann. 309.

Maryland.—Baltimore v. State, 15 Md. 376, 74 Am. Dec. 572.

Massachusetts.—Com. v. Plaisted, 148

Mass. 375, 19 N. E. 224, 12 Am. St. Rep. 566, 2 L. R. A. 142.

Michigan.—Baker v. Port Huron Police Com'rs, 62 Mich. 327, 28 N. W. 913.

Missouri.—State v. Mason, 153 Mo. 23, 54 S. W. 524.

Nebraska.—State v. Broatch, 68 Nebr. 687, 94 N. W. 1016, 110 Am. St. Rep. 477; State v. Bennett, 22 Nebr. 470, 35 N. W. 235; State v. Seavey, 22 Nebr. 454, 35 N. W. 228.

New Hampshire.—Wiggin v. Manchester, 72 N. H. 576, 58 Atl. 522; Gooch v. Exeter, 70 N. H. 413, 48 Atl. 1100, 85 Am. St. Rep. 637.

New York.—People v. Draper, 15 N. Y. 532. But see People v. Acton, 48 Barb. 524, 33 How. Pr. 52.

Texas.—Ex p. Tracey, (Cr. App. 1905) 93 S. W. 538.

Virginia.—Burch v. Hardwicke, 30 Gratt. 24, 32 Am. Rep. 640.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 459.

Contra.—O'Connor v. Fond du Lac, 109 Wis. 253, 85 N. W. 327, 53 L. R. A. 831.

New York Metropolitan Police Act.—The act of April 15, 1857, constituting the metropolitan police district out of the counties of New York, Kings, Richmond, and Westchester, and providing for the government of such district, was not unconstitutional in creating a new district or division of the state unknown to the constitution for governmental purposes. People v. Draper, 25 Barb. (N. Y.) 344 [affirmed in 15 N. Y. 532].

Appointment by district judge.—The constitutional provision that the powers of the state shall be divided into legislative, executive, and judicial, and that the members of one department shall have no part in the management of the affairs of either of the other departments, refers wholly to the powers of the state government; and hence it is not violated by the act of April 1, 1878, empowering certain of the district judges to appoint members of a city police board. People v. Alvord, (Cal. 1884) 4 Pac. 676;

for boards of police commissioners have been assailed on the ground that they were inconsistent with the theory of local self-government, and for other reasons, but they have been generally upheld.⁴⁴

(B) Qualifications. The legislature has the right to fix the qualifications of members of the board of police, and a provision that they shall be appointed from two principal political parties has been held constitutional.⁴⁵ Such a provision is usually regarded as directory merely, and not as an element in the tenure of the office,⁴⁶ and an appointment made irrespective of this political qualification is legal.⁴⁷ Failure of an act establishing a board of police commissioners in a certain city to expressly provide that the commissioners to be appointed shall be residents of the city does not render the act unconstitutional where the intention that they shall be such is manifest upon its face.⁴⁸

(iii) TERMS AND VACANCIES. Usually police commissioners are authorized to hold their offices until their successors are duly elected or appointed under some existing provision of law.⁴⁹ A commissioner appointed to fill a vacancy caused by the death, resignation, or removal of an incumbent holds only for the unexpired term of his predecessor.⁵⁰ For the purpose of computing its duration, a term will be deemed to have commenced when an appointment might have been made, and not when it actually was made.⁵¹

(iv) REMOVAL. There are two distinct and divergent theories entertained concerning the removal of police commissioners, the administrative and the judicial; under the former theory the act and judgment of the executive in removing a member of the police commission without hearing is final and conclusive;⁵² under the latter there must be a charge and notice, and opportunity to be heard;⁵³

Staude v. San Francisco Election Com'rs, 61 Cal. 313.

Right to appoint as dependent on population.—A statute providing that a board of police commissioners shall be appointed by the governor in cities of ten thousand inhabitants according to the United States census of 1890, or according to a census taken under authority of the mayor of the city, the governor's right to appoint is determined by the statement as to population certified to him by the mayor. Huntington v. Cast, 149 Ind. 255, 48 N. E. 1025.

44. See cases cited in preceding note.

45. Com. v. Plaisted, 148 Mass. 375, 19 N. E. 224, 12 Am. St. Rep. 566, 2 L. R. A. 142. But see Rathbone v. Wirth, 6 N. Y. App. Div. 277, 40 N. Y. Suppl. 535 [affirmed in 150 N. Y. 459, 45 N. E. 15, 34 L. R. A. 408].

46. Com. v. Plaisted, 148 Mass. 375, 19 N. E. 224, 12 Am. St. Rep. 566, 2 L. R. A. 142.

47. State v. Bennett, 22 Nebr. 470, 35 N. W. 235; State v. Seavey, 22 Nebr. 454, 35 N. W. 228.

48. Fox v. McDonald, 101 Ala. 51, 13 So. 416, 46 Am. St. Rep. 98, 21 L. R. A. 529.

49. People v. Gunst, 110 Cal. 447, 42 Pac. 963; People v. Hammond, 66 Cal. 654, 6 Pac. 741; People v. Sague, 68 N. Y. App. Div. 643, 74 N. Y. Suppl. 161; State v. Simon, 20 Oreg. 365, 26 Pac. 170. See also State v. Bailey, 37 Ohio St. 98.

A police commissioner removed from office by the governor for official misconduct does not hold over until his successor is elected and qualified. When removed from his office he ceases to be an officer, and cannot therefore hold over as such. State v. Hawkins, 44 Ohio St. 98, 5 N. E. 228.

50. State v. Pinkerman, 63 Conn. 176, 28 Atl. 110, 22 L. R. A. 653; People v. McClave, 99 N. Y. 83, 1 N. E. 235.

51. People v. McClave, 99 N. Y. 83, 1 N. E. 235.

52. People v. Martin, 19 Colo. 565, 36 Pac. 543, 24 L. R. A. 201; Trimble v. People, 19 Colo. 187, 34 Pac. 981, 41 Am. St. Rep. 236; State v. Hawkins, 44 Ohio St. 98, 5 N. E. 228.

Removable only by governor.—Police commissioners of a city, being appointed by the governor and empowered directly by the state, are not, as other municipal officers, removable for neglect of duty, by civil action, under statute, but only by the governor. State v. Shearman, 51 Kan. 686, 35 Pac. 455.

Power of supreme court to remove.—The power given to the mayor of the city of Troy, by the city charter, to suspend any appointed officer for misconduct or neglect, was repealed, as to police commissioners, by the amendatory act of 1881 (Laws (1881), c. 76), § 1, giving to the supreme court power to remove them; the provision of the later statute being inconsistent with and repugnant to those of the earlier one. People v. Crissey, 91 N. Y. 616.

53. State v. Shakspeare, 43 La. Ann. 92, 8 So. 893; Matter of Nichols, 6 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 474, 57 How. Pr. 395; People v. Cooper, 58 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 358; People v. Nichols, 58 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 200; Hogan v. Carbery, 6 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 729, 7 Am. L. Rec. 595.

Essentials to exercise of power of removal.—To exercise the power of removal of a and the removal is subject to review in the courts,⁵⁴ and on reversal the officer may be restored to his office.⁵⁵

(v) AUTHORITY AND POWERS. The measure of authority and powers of a police board is the charter or the organic act creating it.⁵⁶ These powers, which are many and far-reaching in their results, are in almost every instance conferred upon the board as a body, and not upon the individual members thereof.⁵⁷ To carry into execution these powers the board frequently is authorized to employ and appoint a police force, with a chief of police and various other officers,⁵⁸ and to establish and enforce rules for the government and discipline of the police force.⁵⁹ police commissioner, the removing officer must have good cause therefor, and grant an opportunity to be heard, which is given only by a definite statement of the charge, a reasonable time to answer it, and the right to hear, examine, and disprove the evidence given to sustain it, with the aid of counsel. Matter of Nichols, 6 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 474, 57 How. Pr. 395.

54. Matter of Nichols, 6 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 474, 57 How. Pr. 395; People v. Cooper, 58 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 358; People v. Nichols, 58 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 200.

55. State v. Shakespeare, 43 La. Ann. 92, 8 So. 893.

56. Police commissioners being state officers are strictly within the jurisdiction of the state authorities; and the statute law is the only guide in determining their rights and obligations. Baltimore v. Howard, 20 Md. 335.

Power to call out militia.—In Maryland the board of police is given the power to call out the military force of the city to aid in preventing threatened disorder, or to suppress insurrection, riot, or disorder. Baltimore v. State, 15 Md. 376, 74 Am. Dec. 572.

No authority to create debt against city.—Police commissioners are not corporate authorities, and therefore have no power to create a debt against the municipality without its consent (Perkins v. New Haven, 53 Conn. 214, 1 Atl. 825; Wider v. East St. Louis, 55 Ill. 133), unless the right is expressly conferred (Baltimore v. State, 15 Md. 376, 74 Am. Dec. 572).

57. No authority to delegate powers.—The general powers of the board must be performed by it as a body, and cannot be delegated to any member, be he president or vice-president. Francis v. Blair, 96 Mo. 515, 9 S. W. 894, 89 Mo. 291, 1 S. W. 297.

58. Francis v. Blair, 96 Mo. 515, 9 S. W. 894; Wiggin v. Manchester, 72 N. H. 576, 58 Atl. 522; Callaghan v. McGown, (Tex. Civ. App. 1905) 90 S. W. 319, holding that where a city charter places the police department under the control of a civil service commission giving the commission the right to discharge and appoint, the fact that officers and employees were appointed to their positions by the mayor and approved by the council did not deprive the commissioners of the control over them.

A city and county police board with discretionary powers may establish a police force for the city only, without organizing one for the county. Police Com'rs v. Louisville, 3 Bush (Ky.) 597.

No authority to increase force beyond statutory limit.—Authority conferred upon police commissioners to organize a police force does not confer authority to increase the regular force beyond the statutory limit for permanent policemen. State v. Mason, 153 Mo. 23, 54 S. W. 524.

Right to use and control of station houses.—Police commissioners are legally entitled to the use and control of station houses and other paraphernalia provided by a city for police purposes. Police Com'rs v. Louisville, 3 Bush (Ky.) 597; Wiggin v. Manchester, 72 N. H. 576, 58 Atl. 522.

Rules governing appointment of members of force—Utah.—The act of March 8, 1894, section 6, authorizing the board of police commissioners of Salt Lake City to adopt rules to govern the selection and appointment of persons "employed" on the police force, and section 9, providing that such rules shall specify the date when they shall take effect, and "thereafter" all selections shall be made according to such rules, do not authorize the board to require a person already employed to take the examination prescribed by it. Gilbert v. Salt Lake City Police, etc., Com'rs, 11 Utah 378, 40 Pac. 264.

59. Francis v. Blair, 96 Mo. 515, 9 S. W. 894; Cain v. Warner, 45 N. Y. App. Div. 450, 60 N. Y. Suppl. 769.

Authority to make assignments to duty.—Except where the right to assign to duty the members of the uniformed force is expressly given to the chief of police (People v. Roosevelt, 5 N. Y. App. Div. 168, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 78), the board of police commissioners has authority to change the assignments from time to time (Fitzpatrick v. Gaster, 45 La. Ann. 1477, 14 So. 304; Stainsby v. Newark, 49 N. J. L. 175, 6 Atl. 882; People v. Greene, 91 N. Y. App. Div. 58, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 322 [affirmed in 178 N. Y. 617, 70 N. E. 1106]). Where the sole power to make transfers in the police force is lodged in the chief of police, a resolution of the board of police commissioners remanding a roundsman to patrol duty is a mere recommendation to the chief of police, and his act in carrying out the resolution is his own act. People v. Moss, 42 N. Y. App. Div. 196, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 1051. Under a city charter providing that no two platoons of patrolmen shall be on duty at the same time, except when, in the discretion of the police board, public demands require

(VI) DUTIES AND LIABILITIES. Police commissioners being considered state officers, their duties and liabilities are dependent upon statute.⁶⁰ A police board displaced by and yielding to vis major are yet amenable for official dereliction in matters not beyond their control.⁶¹ Police commissioners acting in good faith under an unconstitutional law are not personally liable for policemen's salaries.⁶²

(VII) MEETINGS AND REGULATIONS. In the absence of a special provision to the contrary, the presence of all the members of a police board is not indispensable to the transaction of business. Where members having reasonable notice neglect to attend a meeting, the action of those present, if a majority of all or a quorum authorized by statute or by-law, is the action of the board and binding.⁶³ Such a meeting may be called and presided over by the president pro tem when the mayor refuses to call it.⁶⁴ Regulations passed by the board repugnant to statutes are null and void;⁶⁵ but a rule adopted remains binding on the police force until altered or repealed, although the commissioner who made it has been succeeded in office by another person.⁶⁶

b. Chief or Superintendent—(1) CREATION, NATURE, AND ABOLITION OF OFFICE. The office of chief of police has been held a state and not a municipal office.⁶⁷ It may not be created by municipal ordinance in the absence of some provision authorizing the creation of such office.⁶⁸ But where a municipality is vested with power to create the office by ordinance, and does so, it may likewise abolish the office by ordinance.⁶⁹ The enactment of a new police code, which the aid of a second platoon, or the board may, in its discretion, on such occasions, order on duty all three platoons, the discretion of the board is not subject to review by the courts. People v. Jewett, 15 Misc. (N. Y.) 227, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 778.

Authority to employ police surgeon.—The board of commissioners has implied power to employ a necessary police surgeon (Cain v. Warner, 45 N. Y. App. Div. 450, 60 N. Y. Suppl. 769); but since New York City Charter (Laws (1901), p. 118, c. 466), § 276, allowing forty surgeons to the police department, does not constitute such surgeons a board, the police commissioner has no power to form them into a board, and a rule of the police department purporting to do so is invalid (Metcalf v. McAdoo, 48 Misc. (N. Y.) 420, 95 N. Y. Suppl. 511 [affirmed in 109 N. Y. App. Div. 892, 96 N. Y. Suppl. 868 (affirmed in 184 N. Y. 268, 77 N. E. 17)]).

Right to forbid participation in political canvass.—The right to make reasonable regulations for the government of the force includes one forbidding members of the force from participation in any political caucus or canvass. Brownell v. Russell, 76 Vt. 326, 57 Atl. 103. See also McAvoy v. Press Pub. Co., 114 N. Y. App. Div. 540, 99 N. Y. Suppl. 1041.

Punishment for failure to pay debts.—A police board has authority to adopt a rule that any member of the department neglecting to pay any debt shall be punished by reprimand, fine, or dismissal (Cleu v. San Francisco Police Com'rs, 3 Cal. App. 174, 84 Pac. 672); and is not required to wait until a court has passed on the question of indebtedness before taking action against an officer charged with neglecting to pay his debts. Cleu v. San Francisco Police Com'rs, supra. Neither does the fact that after a charge had been filed the officer accused filed his petition in bankruptcy oust the jurisdiction of the board. Cleu v. San Francisco Police Com'rs, supra.

Rule against unbecoming conduct.—A rule by the board of police commissioners, authorized to make rules for the government of the police force, against conduct unbecoming an officer and a gentleman, is violated by an officer saying of a police commissioner that he was "a liar, and you could not believe him under oath." Alcutt v. Trenton Police Com'rs, 66 N. J. L. 173, 48 Atl. 1006.

60. Duty to appoint janitor of police station and fix compensation. Wiggin v. Manchester, 72 N. H. 576, 58 Atl. 522.

The duty of police commissioners to make special details of policemen from time to time for emergent duty does not require or authorize them to make permanent details for such service all the year round. Upshur v. Baltimore, 94 Md. 743, 51 Atl. 953.

61. Baltimore v. Howard, 20 Md. 335.

62. Welker v. Hinze, 16 Ill. App. 326.

63. State v. Bemis, 45 Nebr. 724, 64 N. W. 348.

Where a board of police commissioners is composed of four members, three members of the board are sufficient to constitute a quorum. McManus v. Newark Police Com'rs, 73 N. J. L. 307, 62 Atl. 997.

64. State v. Shakspeare, 43 La. Ann. 92, 8 So. 893.

65. Francis v. Blair, 89 Mo. 291, 1 S. W. 297.

66. People v. Welles, 14 Misc. (N. Y.) 226, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 672.

67. Chicago v. Wright, 69 Ill. 318; Burch v. Hardwicke, 30 Gratt. (Va.) 24, 32 Am. Dec. 640, chief of police.

68. Atty.-Gen. v. Connors, 27 Fla. 329, 9 So. 7.

69. State v. Pinkerman, 63 Conn. 176, 23 Atl. 110, 22 L. R. A. 653, does not provide for a chief, and yet prescribes his duties, does not ipso facto abolish the preëxisting office.⁷⁰ Provision may be made by statute that the same person shall hold the office of chief of police and another office, and that notwithstanding such offices are held by the same person they shall be separate or separable.⁷¹

(ii) ELIGIBILITY, APPOINTMENT, AND QUALIFICATION. When so provided by organic and statutory provisions, one not a citizen⁷² or elector⁷³ is not eligible to the office of chief of police, and under a statute providing that he shall be appointed from the classified list of the department a person was ineligible to appointment who could not have been legally on the classified list, because he had not passed an examination nor been a member of the police department prior to the time when the statute went into effect.⁷⁴ Where the charter provides that no member of the council shall during the period for which he was elected be eligible to any office the emoluments of which are paid from the city treasury, a member is not eligible to the office of chief of police who is appointed by the council and paid from the city treasury, although he has resigned before the appointment was confirmed.⁷⁵ Where a clause of the constitution provides that the citizens of a designated city shall have the right of appointing the several public officers necessary for the administration of the police of said city, pursuant to the mode of elections which shall be prescribed by the legislature, a statute relative to elections in that municipality which provides for the appointment of a superintendent of police is not in violation of the constitution, as the act pertains to the body of the laws for the internal government of the state, and does not form a part of the "police" or government of the municipality.⁷⁶ And a provision in a city charter for appointment of a chief of police and policemen by a commissioner appointed by the governor is constitutional and valid.⁷⁷ A charter provision that "policemen" may be appointed for a probationary term does not apply to the office of chief of police, and an appointment for such term is void.⁷⁸ Where a charter contains a specific provision relating to the appointment of all police officers of a city, and also a general provision as to power of appointment, the specific provision must govern in the appointment of a chief of police.⁷⁹ A charter provision that the board of police shall appoint all of the "officers and men" of the police department does not apply to the office of chief of police which is created by charter and is filled by appointment by the mayor on whom is conferred a general power to appoint all charter officers.⁸⁰ Appointment of a chief of police by the board of police commissioners in accordance with power vested in them by statute is valid, although at the time such commissioners are appointed no ordinance has been passed requiring them to give official bonds, nor governing the appointment of the chief of police.⁸¹ Where the chief of police is required to be appointed from the classified list of the police department, no appointment can be made, where the classified list has not been made up and established.⁸² Under the provisions of the Civil Service Act and rules of the civil service commission the examination for the office of assistant superintendent

70. Pratt v. Swan, 16 Utah 483, 52 Pac. 1092; Pratt v. Board of Police, etc., Com'rs, 15 Utah 1, 49 Pac. 747; Eslinger v. Pratt, 14 Utah 107, 46 Pac. 763.

71. See Mead v. State, 73 Nebr. 754, 103 N. W. 433.

72. Drew v. Rogers, (Cal. 1893) 34 Pac. 1081.

73. State v. Hall, 111 N. C. 369, 16 S. E. 420.

74. State v. Stroble, 25 Ohio Cir. Ct. 762. "Classified list" defined.—By the words "classified list" is meant the register prescribed by Mun. Code (1902), § 164. State v. Wyman, 71 Ohio St. 1, 72 N. E. 457.

75. Ellis v. Lennon, 86 Mich. 468, 49 N. W. 308.

76. State v. Giffin, 15 La. Ann. 420; State v. New Orleans, 15 La. Ann. 354.

77. Ex p. Tracey, (Tex. Cr. App. 1905) 93 S. W. 538.

78. State v. Vallins, 140 Mo. 523, 41 S. W. 887.

79. Com. v. Myers, 7 Kulp (Pa.) 25.

80. State v. Kizer, 14 Wash. 185, 44 Pac. 156.

81. State v. Bennett, 22 Nebr. 470, 35 N. W. 235; State v. Seavey, 22 Nebr. 454, 35 N. W. 228.

82. State v. Stroble, 25 Ohio Cir. Ct. 762.

of police in the city of Chicago must be promotional and limited to members of the next lower rank desiring to submit to such examination, and not an original, public, competitive examination.⁸³ On an election by the council the fact that one has received a majority of the ballots cast does not of itself entitle him to the office; the council must ascertain the result and declare him elected.⁸⁴ After a policeman has been elected chief, his right to qualify as such is not impaired by any action of the council touching his salary.⁸⁵

(III) TERM OF OFFICE AND REMOVAL. Under a statute fixing the term of policemen at four years and of the chief of police at such time as the police board shall determine, a chief appointed without any specification of term or tenure holds for four years.⁸⁶ The statutory provision cannot be evaded either by neglecting or purposely omitting to fix his term of office.⁸⁷ So under a charter providing for a chief of police, who shall be appointed by the mayor and shall hold his office for three years, unless sooner removed, the chief of police first appointed under the charter, whether to fill a vacancy caused by death, removal, or resignation, or to take the place of a chief whose term has expired, holds his office for three years from the date of his appointment, unless sooner removed.⁸⁸ A conditional life tenure is created by the words "holds his office during good behavior."⁸⁹ In jurisdictions where the chief of police is a state and not a municipal officer, he is not removable by the municipality, although elected by the people thereof or appointed by the municipal authorities and paid by them.⁹⁰ If power to remove is vested in a board of police commissioners, a removal effected by the vote of one not even a de facto commissioner is null and void.⁹¹ Where a charter provides for a certain number of policemen, and for the appointment of one of their number as chief of police, the person appointed does not hold two offices, so that he can be removed from the office of chief of police in any other manner than that prescribed for the removal of policemen.⁹² And where a section of a city charter provides that the warden and burgesses shall have power to appoint policemen, one of whom shall be designated chief of police, and for the removal of policemen on a vote of five of the burgesses, a removal of the chief of police by a vote of less than five of the burgesses is invalid.⁹³ If the office is for a fixed term⁹⁴ or during good behavior⁹⁵ the incumbent is not removable at pleasure, but for cause only. So also where the statutes make the incumbent "subject to removal . . . for cause,"⁹⁶ and power to appoint for such time as the appointing authority shall determine does not include the power to discharge at pleasure.⁹⁷ Where, however, a new charter is adopted, which provides that all police officers at the time the charter becomes effective shall continue to hold their offices until removed by the police board thereby created, the chief of police does not become an officer under the new charter, but may be superseded by the appointment of another person by the police board and has no right to insist that he is removable for cause only.⁹⁸ Whenever the chief of police is removable only for cause, charges must be preferred and an opportunity to be heard given.⁹⁹ Otherwise the

83. Ptacek v. People, 194 Ill. 125, 62 N. E. 530 [affirming 94 Ill. App. 571].

84. Price v. Brock, 79 N. C. 600.

85. Huey v. Jones, 140 Ala. 479, 37 So. 193.

86. State v. Police Com'rs, 14 Mo. App. 297.

87. State v. St. Louis Police Com'rs, 88 Mo. 144.

88. Smith v. Cosgrove, 71 Vt. 196, 44 Atl. 73.

89. Pratt v. Board of Police, etc., Com'rs, 15 Utah 1, 49 Pac. 747.

90. Burch v. Hardwicke, 30 Gratt. (Va.) 24, 32 Am. Rep. 640.

91. State v. Pinkerman, 63 Conn. 176, 28 Atl. 110, 22 L. R. A. 653.

92. State v. Kennedy, 69 Conn. 220, 37 Atl. 503.

93. State v. Kennedy, 69 Conn. 220, 37 Atl. 503.

94. State v. Police Com'rs, 14 Mo. App. 297.

95. McChesney v. Trenton, 50 N. J. L. 338, 14 Atl. 578.

96. State v. Police Com'rs, 14 Mo. App. 297.

97. State v. Police Com'rs, 14 Mo. App. 297.

98. State v. O'Connor, 81 Minn. 79, 83 N. W. 498.

99. Bowlby v. Dover, 68 N. J. L. 97, 52 Atl. 289; Norton v. Adams, 24 R. I. 97, 52 attempted removal is null and void and creates no vacancy.¹ He may introduce any testimony tending to show the falsity of the charges brought against him,² and may examine the president of the board as a witness.³ It is ground for removal that the officer did not possess the necessary qualifications,⁴ or that he violated a rule of a city police department forbidding the participation of members of the police force in a political caucus or canvass,⁵ or took bribes from the keeper of a disorderly house for permission to allow it to be conducted without interference.⁶ But the removal of the appointing board does not warrant removal of the chief.⁷ A general finding of guilt on four charges and consequent removal, when only one charge is sustained by proof, will be set aside by the supreme court and a remand awarded for a new trial.⁸ One appointed chief of police to hold office during the pleasure of the mayor and aldermen is not entitled to mandamus to prevent his successor from performing the duties of the office on the ground that the ordinance was invalid.⁹

(IV) COMPENSATION. Where the charter provides that the chief of police shall receive no other compensation whatever than his salary, other sections of the charter authorizing or permitting him to receive and collect fees or compensation must be construed as intending such fees or compensation for the benefit of and belonging to the city, and an ordinance allowing him to appropriate them to his own use is in violation of the charter and void.¹⁰ Where a charter provides that the common council shall readjust and fix anew the amount of all official salaries at stated periods, the reduction of the salary of the chief of police is not an amendment of the charter within a constitutional provision that charters can only be amended on vote of electors and approval by the legislature, but an execution of a power conferred by the charter itself.¹¹ It has been held that the chief of police is not an "officer" within constitutional or statutory provisions prohibiting the passing of ordinances increasing or diminishing the salary or compensation of an officer after his election or appointment.¹² The chief of police is not entitled to salary after lawful removal even though the council make an allowance for it,¹³ but he does not forfeit his salary by reason of a suspension in respect of which a statutory requirement that he be given an opportunity to be heard is not complied with.¹⁴ Voluntary service, after reduction of salary and acceptance of the reduced rate, amounts to a waiver of demand for further compensation.¹⁵

(V) AUTHORITY, POWERS, AND LIABILITIES. The power exercised by chiefs of police is a matter of statutory regulation.¹⁶ Where power to promulgate rules for the regulation of the police department is conferred on both the chief of police

Atl. 688; Pratt v. Board of Police, etc., Com'rs, 15 Utah 1, 49 Pac. 747.

Statute specially providing for hearing.—Under a statute providing that when charges have been preferred against a chief of police he shall have the right to be heard in his own defense, a chief of police cannot be suspended without pay or removed from office unless he has been given an opportunity to be heard in his own defense. Pratt v. Swan, 16 Utah 483, 52 Pac. 1092.

1. Pratt v. Police, etc., Com'rs, 15 Utah 1, 49 Pac. 747.

2. People v. Whittemore, 10 N. Y. St. 363.

3. People v. Whittemore, 10 N. Y. St. 363.

4. Drew v. Rogers, (Cal. 1893) 34 Pac. 1081.

5. Brownell v. Russell, 76 Vt. 326, 57 Atl. 103, holding that such a rule is a reasonable exercise of the authority conferred by charter to make rules for the government of the police force.

6. People v. New York Police Com'rs, 84

Hun (N. Y.) 64, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 18 [affirmed in 148 N. Y. 757, 43 N. E. 988].

7. State v. Hudson, 44 Ohio St. 137, 5 N. E. 225.

8. Dodd v. Camden Police Com'rs, 56 N. J. L. 258, 28 Atl. 311.

9. Cunningham v. Cambridge, 188 Mass. 556, 74 N. E. 925.

10. McGuire v. Baker City, 27 Oreg. 340, 41 Pac. 669.

11. Coyne v. Rennie, 97 Cal. 590, 32 Pac. 578.

12. Russell v. Williamsport, 9 Pa. Co. Ct. 129.

13. State v. Williams, 6 S. D. 119, 60 N. W. 410.

14. Pratt v. Swan, 16 Utah 483, 52 Pac. 1092.

15. Coyne v. Rennie, 97 Cal. 590, 32 Pac. 578; Edmondson v. Jersey City, 48 N. J. L. 121, 3 Atl. 120.

16. See infra, cases cited in following notes in this section.

and the police board, and on the chief of police, subject to such rules as the board may make, to dismiss any subordinate, he may dismiss a subordinate in accordance with rules promulgated by him, in the absence of any rule promulgated by the board limiting his authority to make rules.¹⁷ One who has been given "like powers with sheriffs" may pursue a person charged with crime in the city and arrest him in any county of the state.¹⁸ An officer appointed to "superintend the police of a town" may serve warrants for violation of state police laws.¹⁹ But he has no authority to imprison a policeman retaining for his compensation property, recovered by him, which had been stolen outside the municipality, for refusing to obey his order to surrender it.²⁰ No personal liability is incurred by a chief of police for enforcing ordinances in obedience to the police authorities.²¹ And it has been held that his sureties are not liable for acts done by him colore officii.²² The superintendent of police is not a "city officer" within a statute vesting in a designated court jurisdiction of all actions of a civil nature against "city officers."²³

c. Marshal — (i) APPOINTMENT OR ELECTION — (A) Authority. Where authority is conferred by charter or statute, a city council may provide for the appointment of a city marshal and place the control of the police department in his hands.²⁴ But when the charter fails to provide for such an officer the council has no authority to elect one, and his acts are null and void.²⁵ So also after the abolition of the office.²⁶ The adoption by a city of the general law for the incorporation of cities operates eo instanti to abolish the office of marshal.²⁷ And under the general law there can be no office of city marshal unless the city council, after organization thereunder, creates it by ordinance directing whether such officer shall be appointed or elected.²⁸

(B) Time. Where the time for the election of marshals is fixed by the constitution, a statute providing for their election on another date is unconstitutional;²⁹ but where the requirement that the election of marshals shall take place at a certain time is directory merely, an election at a later time is valid.³⁰

(C) Validity. The validity of an appointment is not impaired by an interlineation of the municipal record.³¹

(ii) ELIGIBILITY. To render one eligible to the office of marshal the same qualifications are usually required as in the case of a sheriff.³² When the charter so requires, a candidate for the office of marshal must be a citizen of the city,³³ and not, at the time of the election, in arrears to the city for taxes, or indebted to 17. Eslinger v. Pratt, 14 Utah 107, 46 Pac. 763.

18. Chrisman v. Carney, 33 Ark. 316.

19. Com. v. Martin, 98 Mass. 4.

20. In re Hotchkiss, 6 D. C. 168, in which it was said that the property having been stolen and recovered beyond the municipal limits, he could take no cognizance of the matter.

21. Heald v. Lang, 98 Mass. 581.

22. Marquis v. Willard, 12 Wash. 528, 41 Pac. 889, 50 Am. St. Rep. 906.

23. Burroughs v. Eastman, 93 Mich. 433, 53 N. W. 532.

24. Sheridan v. Colvin, 78 Ill. 237.

Under the charter of the city of East St. Louis of 1869, section 13, authorizing the appointment of a city marshal and deputy, and providing that they shall qualify and be commissioned as county constable, and shall have the same power in executing process as the sheriff of the county, the power of the city council exists independently of the act of 1867, providing for the organization of a police force in that city, and if the two acts are in conflict, the act of 1869, being the later expression of the legislative will, must prevail. Wider v. East St. Louis, 55 Ill. 133; People v. Canty, 55 Ill. 33.

25. Cumming v. Puett, 97 Ga. 247, 22 S. E. 933.

26. Gano v. State, 10 Ohio St. 237.

27. People v. Blair, 82 Ill. App. 570.

28. People v. Blair, 82 Ill. App. 570.

29. Owensboro v. Webb, 2 Metc. (Ky.) 576.

30. Appointment at second meeting instead of first.—The failure of the board of aldermen of a city to appoint a marshal at their first meeting after election, as required by their charter, does not render the appointment of a marshal at their second meeting invalid, as such provision is merely directory. Greer v. Asheville, 114 N. C. 678, 19 S. E. 635.

31. Brophy v. Hyatt, 10 Colo. 223, 15 Pac. 399.

32. Hall v. Hostetter, 17 B. Mon. (Ky.) 784.

33. State v. Williams, 99 Mo. 291, 12 S. W. 905.

the city in any way.³⁴ Nor is one eligible to this office who holds an incompatible office;³⁵ but it has been held that, under a constitutional provision that no person shall hold more than one office under the state, a sheriff of a county may perform the duties of a city marshal, as the latter is not a state officer.³⁶

(III) EFFECT OF FAILURE TO GIVE BOND. A marshal's failure to give an official bond within the statutory time does not vacate the office, unless the statute so provides.³⁷ But when a special bond is required for collecting taxes, the marshal is not entitled to demand the tax books merely on his official bond.³⁸

(IV) TERM OF OFFICE—(A) In General. The term of office of a city marshal is usually fixed by law,³⁹ and, for the purpose of ascertaining its duration, will be deemed to commence at the expiration of the previous term, and not at the actual date of appointment.⁴⁰ An intention to change the tenure of the office should be explicitly declared;⁴¹ and an amendment changing the marshal's term from one year to the period of good behavior does not apply to an existing incumbency.⁴²

(B) Vacancies and Holding Over. While one holding the office of city marshal is usually authorized to hold over after the expiration of his term until his successor is elected and qualified,⁴³ a vacancy in the office exists under such circumstances, which may be filled in the manner prescribed by law.⁴⁴ The office of marshal will be vacated by creation of that of superintendent of police, and the person elected marshal will have no further right thereto.⁴⁵

(V) REMOVAL—(A) Authority. Authority to remove a city marshal may be given by charter either to the mayor alone or to the council;⁴⁶ but where it is conferred upon the mayor by and with the advice and consent of the aldermen, the hearing must be by and before the board of mayor and aldermen.⁴⁷ Where the power of appointment and removal is in the mayor, he may remove an appointee of the council.⁴⁸ Pending the changes provided by an amended charter,

34. State v. Williams, 99 Mo. 291, 12 S. W. 905.

Failure to pay a saloon license, although it had not been demanded, disqualifies one to hold the office of marshal. State v. Williams, 99 Mo. 291, 12 S. W. 905.

35. State v. Hoyt, 2 Ore. 246.

The offices of city councilman and city marshal are incompatible, and one holding the former is ineligible to the latter. State v. Hoyt, 2 Ore. 246.

36. Atty.-Gen. v. Connors, 27 Fla. 329, 9 So. 7.

37. State v. Porter, 7 Ind. 204.

38. Campbellsville v. Borders, 8 S. W. 446, 10 Ky. L. Rep. 162.

39. Upshur v. Hamilton, 95 Md. 561, 52 Atl. 977.

In Illinois the marshal of a city incorporated under the general law, where no term is fixed by the ordinance creating the office, is entitled to hold for two years unless the council during such period by ordinance prescribes a shorter term. People v. Blair, 82 Ill. App. 570.

40. French v. Cowan, 79 Me. 426, 10 Atl. 335.

41. Stadler v. Detroit, 13 Mich. 346 (holding that a section of an act, declaring the term of office two years, which prescribes an annual election to the office, does not operate to abridge the term); Greer v. Asheville, 114 N. C. 678, 19 S. E. 635 (holding that the term of office of a city marshal appointed under a charter providing that marshals shall hold office during the official term of the aldermen is not increased from one to two years by an act increasing the term of aldermen from one to two years).

42. Greer v. Asheville, 114 N. C. 678, 19 S. E. 635.

43. Forristal v. People, 3 Ill. App. 470, holding further that one holding the office of city marshal under a valid appointment is not precluded from continuing to act thereunder until his successor is elected and qualified by the mere fact that he has taken an oath and filed an official bond under a subsequent illegal election.

In the absence of any provision to that effect, a city marshal does not hold his office after the expiration of the year for which he was elected, and until another shall be chosen and qualified. Beck v. Hanscom, 29 N. H. 213.

44. State v. Thomas, 102 Mo. 85, 14 S. W. 108.

45. People v. Brown, 83 Ill. 95.

46. Stadler v. Detroit, 13 Mich. 346, holding that a charter provision which authorizes the mayor to suspend or remove the marshal for reasons to be reported to the council does not undertake to restrict the power of removal vested in the council by another charter provision and is not inconsistent with it.

47. Andrews v. King, 77 Me. 224.

48. Baxter v. Beacon, 112 Iowa 744, 84 N. W. 932.

it is held that authority to remove exists in the body empowered by the original charter.⁴⁹

(B) Grounds. Express charter authority to remove a marshal for certain specified causes restricts the removing tribunal to those causes.⁵⁰ A provision that a marshal may be removed at the pleasure of the city council authorizes a removal before the expiration of the term without cause.⁵¹

(c) Review. Whether or not the action of the removing tribunal is reviewable by certiorari depends upon whether the act of removing is considered administrative or judicial. If the latter, certiorari lies;⁵² if the former, it does not.⁵³

(VI) COMPENSATION—(A) In General. The person who holds the legal title to the office of marshal has the legal right to the salary, and a de facto officer cannot maintain an action therefor.⁵⁴ It is sometimes provided that a city marshal shall receive the same fees as sheriffs and constables in similar cases.⁵⁵ As a general rule the compensation fixed is presumed to be in full for all duties imposed;⁵⁶ but additional compensation may be expressly allowed in fees,⁵⁷ and may also be contracted for and received for services outside the scope of his official duties.⁵⁸ Where the city council is given full power over the salary of officers without restriction or limitation on its exercise, it may reduce the salary of the city

49. Grant v. Alpena, 107 Mich. 335, 65 N. W. 230.

50. Shaw v. Macon, 19 Ga. 468; People v. Weygant, 14 Hun (N. Y.) 546.

Malpractice and neglect of duty.—Gambling by the city marshal does not constitute either malpractice in office or neglect of duty, within the terms of the amendment of Feb. 22, 1850, to the Macon city charter, authorizing the removal of the marshal by the mayor and council for such offenses. Macon v. Shaw, 16 Ga. 172.

A marshal's failure to prosecute for offenses committed in his presence, even though not notified to prosecute for them, is such a neglect of duty on his part as makes him removable from office by the mayor and council of the city. Shaw v. Macon, 21 Ga. 280. Other acts amounting to neglect of duty see Folsom v. Conklin, 3 Cal. App. 480, 86 Pac. 724.

51. London v. Franklin, 118 Ky. 105, 80 S. W. 514, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 2306.

52. Macon v. Shaw, 16 Ga. 172.

53. Lorbeer v. Hutchinson, 111 Cal. 272, 43 Pac. 896.

54. Andrews v. Portland, 79 Me. 484, 10 Atl. 458, 10 Am. St. Rep. 280. And see supra, VII, A, 7. But see Dickerson v. Bntler, 27 Mo. App. 9, holding, however, that one who has abandoned the office is not a de facto officer.

A constable who performs the duties of marshal as defined in a new city charter re-incorporating the city is entitled to the compensation provided therefor and allowed by the town authorities, although no such office as city marshal was provided under the old city charter, under which the services were performed. Ross v. Wimberly, 60 Miss. 345.

55. Liability of county under such provision.—A statute providing that a city marshal "shall receive the same fees as sheriffs and constables in similar cases" does not make the county liable for the fees of the city marshal in criminal cases. Gnanella v. Pottawattamie County, 84 Iowa 36, 50 N. W. 217; Christ v. Polk County, 48 Iowa 302.

Where the fees allowed to sheriffs and constables differ in amount, a city marshal is entitled only to the lower fees. Christ v. Des Moines, 53 Iowa 144, 2 N. W. 419, 4 N. W. 869; Des Moines v. McHenry, 51 Iowa 710, 2 N. W. 264; Bryan v. Des Moines, 51 Iowa 590, 2 N. W. 414.

56. Mundell v. Pasadena, 87 Cal. 520, 25 Pac. 1061; Redwood City v. Grimmstein, 68 Cal. 515, 9 Pac. 562; Brazil v. McBride, 69 Ind. 244; Worcester v. Walker, 9 Gray (Mass.) 78.

Services required for which no specific fees are provided are considered to be compensated by the fees allowed for other services. Neiswanger v. Kansas City, 71 Mo. 36; McCumber v. Waukesha County, 91 Wis. 442, 65 N. W. 51.

Estoppel to claim fees.—A marshal who claims the salary allowed him under an ordinance providing that he shall receive a stated salary and legal fees in state cases as full compensation cannot also claim fees for serving orders, notices, and process in city cases to which he would otherwise have been entitled under a statute providing that the marshal shall have the same powers and receive the same fees as sheriffs and constables in similar cases. Christ v. Des Moines, 53 Iowa 144, 2 N. W. 419, 4 N. W. 869; Des Moines v. McHenry, 51 Iowa 710, 2 N. W. 264; Bryan v. Des Moines, 51 Iowa 590, 2 N. W. 414.

57. Independence v. Trounville, 15 Kan. 70; Wesson v. Collins, 72 Miss. 844, 18 So. 360, 917; Neiswanger v. Kansas City, 71 Mo. 36. See also Lyon v. Grand Rapids, 30 Mich. 253.

One who has voluntarily paid to the city commissions which he might have retained, in addition to his salary, cannot recover them. Wesson v. Collins, 72 Miss. 844, 18 So. 360, 917.

58. Bronnenberg v. Coburn, 110 Ind. 169, 11 N. E. 29.

Fees for services which are county charges.—A provision of a charter, that the marshal "shall receive no fee for any services, but shall be allowed a compensation to be fixed marshal at any time;⁵⁹ but it cannot do so in contravention of an express statutory provision forbidding it.⁶⁰ The mere receipt by a marshal for two months, of a sum less than that due, will not preclude him from demanding full pay thereafter.⁶¹ A lawful removal terminates the rights both to the office and its emoluments.⁶² So one submitting to an illegal removal, and making no move for reinstatement, cannot, several years afterward, maintain an action for his salary.⁶³

(B) Expenses. Provision is usually made for reimbursing a marshal for all necessary expenditures.⁶⁴

(vii) AUTHORITY AND POWERS. The city marshal of a municipality is the chief police officer thereof, clothed with authority to apprehend offenders against its ordinances, etc.,⁶⁵ and occupying the same relation to the governmental affairs of the municipality as a sheriff does to his county⁶⁶ or a constable to his town.⁶⁷ Under some statutes his authority to make arrests has been held to extend to the limits of the county.⁶⁸ Where the office of county marshal has been abolished, the duties and functions of that office may be made to devolve upon the city marshal.⁶⁹ And where he has the power of a constable at common law, he may serve civil process within the corporate boundaries.⁷⁰

(viii) DUTIES AND LIABILITIES—(A) In General. It is the duty of a marshal to report and account for all moneys received in his official capacity,⁷¹ and ignorance of the law is no excuse for failure to file such report.⁷² The performance of his duty to complain of and arrest a violator of an ordinance does not disqualify a marshal to perform his duties in the trial of the case.⁷³ A marshal is not liable for the wanton or wilful act of his deputy or assistant in enforcing a corporation ordinance,⁷⁴ nor for taking property under lawful proceedings of claim and delivery;⁷⁵ nor is his estate subject to legal mortgage for the faithful discharge of the duties of his office.⁷⁶ But he has been held liable in damages for cruelty and indignity inflicted on prisoners,⁷⁷ and by the council," does not prevent his receiving fees for services which are county charges. People v. Orange County, 18 Hun (N. Y.) 19.

59. Brazil v. McBride, 69 Ind. 244.

60. Cox v. Burlington, 43 Iowa 612.

Iowa Code (1873), § 491, providing that the emoluments of city officers shall not be diminished during their terms of office, was not repealed by Acts 17th Gen. Assembly, c. 56, empowering cities to provide by ordinance that all city officers shall receive a fixed salary in lieu of all fees now allowed by law or ordinance, and a marshal is entitled to fees allowed by ordinances existing when he was appointed, although during his term of office an ordinance was passed abolishing all fees. Bryan v. Des Moines, 51 Iowa 590, 2 N. W. 414.

61. O'Hare v. Park River, 1 N. D. 279, 47 N. W. 380.

62. Miller v. Seney, 81 Ga. 489, 8 S. E. 423.

63. Cote v. Biddeford, 96 Me. 491, 52 Atl. 1019, 90 Am. St. Rep. 417.

64. For assistance in making arrests.—Rev. St. § 4488, making it compulsory on persons to render assistance to town marshals making arrests when called on, does not make a marshal personally liable for such assistance, and therefore he cannot recover from the county for expenditures to persons for assisting him in making arrests. McCumber v. Waukesha County, 91 Wis. 442, 65 N. W. 51.

For use of own vehicle.—A statute providing that a town marshal shall receive from the county "all his necessary disbursements actually made" does not entitle him to recover for the use of his own vehicle in conveying prisoners. McCumber v. Waukesha County, 91 Wis. 442, 65 N. W. 51.

For defense against charges preferred.—A city marshal cannot recover money expended in defending himself against charges preferred against him. Shaw v. Macon, 19 Ga. 468.

65. Atty.-Gen. v. Connors, 27 Fla. 329, 9 So. 7; French v. Cowan, 79 Me. 426, 10 Atl. 335; Upshur v. Hamilton, 95 Md. 561, 52 Atl. 977.

66. Atty.-Gen. v. Connors, 27 Fla. 329, 9 So. 7.

67. French v. Cowan, 79 Me. 426, 10 Atl. 335.

68. Newburn v. Durham, 88 Tex. 288, 31 S. W. 195.

69. State v. Mason, 4 Mo. App. 377.

70. Stewart v. People, 15 Ill. App. 336.

71. Folsom v. Conklin, 3 Cal. App. 480, 86 Pac. 724.

72. Folsom v. Conklin, 3 Cal. App. 480, 86 Pac. 724.

73. Mineral City v. Render, 51 Ohio St. 122, 42 N. E. 255.

74. Pritchard v. Keefer, 53 Ill. 117.

75. Cornell v. Fell, 2 N. Y. City Ct. 151 note.

76. Cain v. Boulogny, 7 Rob. (La.) 159.

77. Topeka v. Boutwell, 53 Kan. 20, 35 Pac. 819, 27 L. R. A. 593.

also for voluntarily allowing the escape of one who had been committed to jail for debt.⁷⁸

(B) Liability on Official Bonds. Sureties on a marshal's bond are liable for damages resulting from official nonfeasance, misfeasance, or malfeasance virtute officii;⁷⁹ but not for mere naked trespasses of the officer while acting without legal process.⁸⁰ The sureties cannot escape liability because their principal was, at the time he qualified, ineligible to the office.⁸¹ But no liability accrues under a bond, not accepted and approved as required by law.⁸² Nor will the sureties be liable for the officer's delinquency as tax-collector, when the bond is conditioned merely for the faithful performance of the duties of marshal.⁸³ Where an official bond may be prosecuted only by judicial allowance the action lies only in the court specified by statute;⁸⁴ and under a statute providing that a person who shall have first obtained a judgment against the city marshal for official misconduct may move for leave to prosecute his official bond, such leave may be refused in case of a judgment not authorized by law.⁸⁵

d. Policemen—(i) NATURE AND STATUS. A policeman of a city is a public officer holding his office as a trust from the state, and not as a matter of contract between himself and the city.⁸⁶

(ii) ELIGIBILITY. Policemen are officers within the meaning of an ordinance declaring that "all city officers" must be residents and qualified electors of the city,⁸⁷ and citizens of the United States.⁸⁸ Public drunkenness is an

78. Zenner v. Blessing, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 366.

The measure of damages in an action for the escape of a judgment debtor is the amount of the judgment, and proof of the debtor's insolvency is inadmissible. The officer's good faith is also immaterial. Zenner v. Blessing, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 366.

79. Rischer v. Meeham, 11 Ohio Cir. Ct. 403, 5 Ohio Cir. Dec. 640; Gerber v. Ackley, 32 Wis. 233.

Defalcation in collecting taxes.—Redwood City v. Grimmenstein, 68 Cal. 512, 9 Pac. 560.

Damages for false arrest.—In an action on the bond of a town marshal for a false arrest and for an assault and battery, only compensatory damages can be recovered. Scott v. Com., 93 S. W. 668, 29 Ky. L. Rep. 571.

80. Gerber v. Ackley, 32 Wis. 233.

81. Wade v. Mt. Sterling, 33 S. W. 1113, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 377.

82. O'Marrow v. Port Huron, 47 Mich. 585, 11 N. W. 397.

83. Harrisonville v. Porter, 76 Mo. 358.

Single bond may be valid.—Where the offices of marshal and collector, each requiring a bond, of a city whose council is vested with power to prescribe the amount and form of official bonds, are consolidated, a single bond, required by the council of the new officer as collector, is valid. Hallettsville v. Long, 11 Tex. Civ. App. 180, 32 S. W. 567.

84. Moog v. Kehoe, 42 Hun (N. Y.) 494.

85. Matter of Brasier, 13 Daly (N. Y.) 245.

86. Connecticut.—Farrell v. Bridgeport, 45 Conn. 191.

Massachusetts.—Kimball v. Boston, 1 Allen 417; Buttrick v. Lowell, 1 Allen 172, 173, 79 Am. Dec. 721, in which it was said: "Police officers can in no sense be regarded as agents or servants of the city. Their duties are of a public nature. Their appointment is devolved on cities and towns by the legislature as a convenient mode of exercising a function of government; but this does not render them liable for their unlawful or negligent acts. The detection and arrest of offenders, the preservation of the public peace, the enforcement of the laws, and other similar powers and duties with which police officers and constables are intrusted, are derived from the law, and not from the city or town under which they hold their appointment."

Pennsylvania.—Norristown v. Fitzpatrick, 94 Pa. St. 121, 39 Am. Rep. 771.

Texas.—Rusber v. Dallas, 83 Tex. 151, 18 S. W. 333.

Utah.—Everill v. Swan, 17 Utah 514, 55 Pac. 68.

A policeman has been held to be an officer within the meaning of a statute defining assaults on officers (Sanner v. State, 2 Tex. App. 458), an ordinance declaring that "all city officers" must be residents and qualified electors of the city (Johnson v. State, 132 Ala. 43, 31 So. 493), and a city charter providing for the tenure of officers (Jacksonville v. Allen, 25 Ill. App. 54). But it has been held that a policeman is not entitled to an "officer's" tenure, when by express charter provision he is subject to summary removal by the council. Atty.-Gen. v. Cain, 84 Mich. 223, 47 N. W. 484. And in New York it is held that policemen are not "public officers" within the constitutional provision against changing compensation during the term of office. Mangam v. Brooklyn, 98 N. Y. 585, 50 Am. Rep. 705; Shanley v. Brooklyn, 30 Hun (N. Y.) 396.

87. Johnson v. State, 132 Ala. 43, 31 So. 493.

88. Larsen v. St. Paul, 83 Minn. 473, 86 N. W. 459, holding, however, that under a offense disqualifying one from becoming a member of the police force of New York.⁸⁹

(iii) EXAMINATION. Although a police board is authorized to formulate rules for examination of applicants for the police force, the right of one appointed a policeman is not affected by the board not having made rules; ⁹⁰ and even if it made such rules and he did not submit to them this is at most matter of defense to his action for salary, and cannot be raised by exception to his petition.⁹¹ Persons already in the service cannot be required to take such an examination.⁹² A rule that any police officer whose record is good, and who has been discharged without cause and without a trial, may reënter the police force without examination, etc., does not apply to a person who has been removed from the force, and has not been employed thereon for a number of years.⁹³

(iv) QUALIFICATION. Although the manner of qualification of a policeman be not in strict conformity with the requirements of the charter or ordinances, one having taken the official oath and given a bond, which was accepted without objection, becomes an officer de jure.⁹⁴ Unless prescribed by statute or ordinance, an official oath is not an essential prerequisite to service by a regularly appointed policeman.⁹⁵ The officer upon whom the duty devolves cannot lawfully refuse to administer the oath to an officer regularly appointed, or inquire into the regularity of his appointment.⁹⁶

(v) APPOINTMENT AND PROMOTION—(A) Appointment—(1) IN GENERAL—

(a) AUTHORITY TO APPOINT. As a general rule authority to appoint the members of the police force is conferred either upon the city council,⁹⁷ or the mayor, with the consent of the council.⁹⁸ In the larger cities, however, it is customary to place the police department under the control of a board of commissioners who then have the same power of appointment which the mayor or the council would otherwise have.⁹⁹ Under a constitutional guaranty of the right of local provision that no person shall be eligible to appointment as policemen, patrolmen, or other police officer who is not a citizen of the United States and under the age of thirty-five years, etc., it is not necessary that an appointee to the office of sergeant of police shall possess the requirements therein mentioned.

89. People v. New York Police Com'rs, 39 Hun (N. Y.) 507 [affirmed in 102 N. Y. 583, 7 N. E. 913].

90. Houston v. Estes, 35 Tex. Civ. App. 99, 79 S. W. 848.

91. Houston v. Clark, (Tex. Civ. App. 1904) 80 S. W. 1198.

92. Gilbert v. Salt Lake City Police, etc., Com'rs, 11 Utah 378, 40 Pac. 264.

93. People v. Lindblom, 215 Ill. 58, 74 N. E. 73 [affirming 116 Ill. App. 213].

94. Houston v. Clark, (Tex. Civ. App. 1904) 80 S. W. 1198; Houston v. Estes, 35 Tex. Civ. App. 99, 79 S. W. 848.

95. Com. v. Cushing, 99 Mass. 592; Com. v. Dugan, 12 Metc. (Mass.) 233; Morgan v. Quackenbush, 22 Barb. (N. Y.) 72; Houston v. Estes, 35 Tex. Civ. App. 99, 79 S. W. 848.

Qualification to office in metropolitan police.

—The section of the act of New York to establish the metropolitan police, which provides for the transfer to that organization of members of the former police, is repealed by the act of 1860, which restricts its force to the persons in office at the date of its passage who have taken and subscribed the oath of office as members of the metropolitan police; and a member of the former police, having omitted to comply with the requirements of the act of 1860, has no right to office in the metropolitan police. People v. Metropolitan Police Bd., 26 N. Y. 316.

96. Fox v. McDonald, 101 Ala. 51, 13 So. 416, 46 Am. St. Rep. 98, 21 L. R. A. 529.

97. Com. v. Pittsburgh, 14 Pa. St. 177; Com. v. Miller, 15 Pa. Co. Ct. 404; Com. v. Myers, 7 Kulp (Pa.) 25.

The council may delegate the power of appointing policemen to the mayor, subject to its approval. State v. Grabarkiewicz, 88 Minn. 16, 92 N. W. 446.

98. Houston v. Clark, (Tex. Civ. App. 1904) 80 S. W. 1198; Houston v. Estes, 35 Tex. Civ. App. 99, 79 S. W. 848.

Policemen for duty in court.—Under a statute providing for the appointment by the mayor of policemen, approved by the judges of the municipal court, for special attendance and duty in such court, the power of appointing and removing such policemen is not exclusively vested in the mayor, but in him and the judges of the court; the act of both being essential. Parish v. St. Paul, 84 Minn. 426, 87 N. W. 1124, 87 Am. St. Rep. 374.

Consent of the council is shown where an appointee's name appeared on the monthly pay rolls submitted to and approved by the city council for more than seven years. Larsen v. St. Paul, 83 Minn. 473, 86 N. W. 459.

99. Americus v. Perry, 114 Ga. 871, 40 S. E. 1004, 57 L. R. A. 230 (holding that self-government, it is held that legislative appointment of policemen is unconstitutional.¹

(b) MODE OF APPOINTMENT. The prescribed mode of appointing policemen must be pursued,² and if an appointment is illegally made no subsequent declaration of the city authorities can make it legal.³ A person irregularly appointed is, however, an officer de facto,⁴ and his right to the office cannot be collaterally attacked.⁵

(c) EVIDENCE OF APPOINTMENT. The authority of a police officer is sufficiently proved by evidence that he was an acting officer.⁶ His official appointment need not be produced.⁷ Where a city ordinance authorizes the appointment of an officer by the mayor and marshal, his commission, signed by the mayor, is presumptive evidence of the concurrence of the marshal in his appointment.⁸

(d) REVIEW. Since the appointment of police officers by the municipal authorities of a city is not a judicial act, certiorari does not lie to review such appointment.⁹

(2) PROBATION. City charters sometimes provide that all appointments to the police force shall be made for a probationary period, and that, at the end of such period, those who are considered competent shall receive permanent appointments.¹⁰

under Ga. Acts (1889), p. 961, providing for a board of police commissioners for the city of Americus, and authorizing them to provide the city with an efficient police force, any authority which the mayor and council of the city may have under their charter to appoint a police force cannot be exercised unless the board fails to provide an efficient force); Parish v. St. Paul, 84 Minn. 426, 87 N. W. 1124, 87 Am. St. Rep. 374; Moore v. State, 54 Nebr. 486, 74 N. W. 823; People v. Worth, 16 Misc. (N. Y.) 664, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 126.

Sanitary sergeant.—Under Kan. Laws (1889), c. 181, § 12, police boards of cities of the first class having a population of less than forty thousand were authorized to appoint a policeman designated as "sanitary sergeant" in addition to policemen authorized by section 3 of the act of 1887. Mitchell v. Topeka, (Kan. App. 1898) 54 Pac. 292.

1. Sugden v. Partridge, 174 N. Y. 87, 66 N. E. 655 [reversing 78 N. Y. App. Div. 644, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 1149]; People v. Partridge, 74 N. Y. App. Div. 291, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 691; People v. York, 35 N. Y. App. Div. 300, 55 N. Y. Suppl. 10 [affirmed in 158 N. Y. 670, 52 N. E. 1125]; People v. Partridge, 38 Misc. (N. Y.) 697, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 249.

A detective sergeant is a city officer within a constitutional provision providing that electors of a city or the officers thereof shall elect or appoint to city offices. People v. Partridge, 38 Misc. (N. Y.) 697, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 249.

2. Com. v. Allen, 128 Mass. 308; Lyons v. Gloucester City, 49 N. J. L. 177, 6 Atl. 518.

Appointment before mode prescribed.—Under an act regulating state civil service, and providing that no person should be selected for appointment to a civil service office except in accordance with the provisions of that act, the appointment of a police clerk's assistant, made after the act took effect, but before rules and regulations for appointments thereunder were made, is invalid. People v. Knox, 45 N. Y. App. Div. 518, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 469.

The appointment of police officers by police commissioners by a unanimous vote is a compliance with a statute requiring appointments to the police force to be made by a ye and nay vote of the commissioners. Keyser v. Upshur, 92 Md. 726, 48 Atl. 399.

Nomination by examiners.—Where an act creating a board of police examiners authorized them to make nominations to the police commissioners from graded lists of qualified persons for appointment or promotion on the police force, as determined by competitive examination, in the order in which they appeared on such list, the examiners are not restricted as to the number to be nominated for positions or promotion, and hence their act in nominating two hundred and ninety persons, when only twenty appointments were to be made, is proper. Keyser v. Upshur, 92 Md. 726, 48 Atl. 399. The fact that in passing on such nominations one of the commissioners nominated three, another four, and another thirteen, of the officers appointed, does not invalidate the appointment, since the commissioners were merely selecting from among those nominated. Keyser v. Upshur, supra.

3. People v. Partridge, 38 Misc. (N. Y.) 697, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 249.

4. Andrews v. Atlanta, 45 Ga. 154. See also Ex p. Tracey, (Tex. Cr. App. 1905) 93 S. W. 538.

5. State v. Barnard, 67 N. H. 222, 29 Atl. 410, 68 Am. St. Rep. 648.

6. State v. Holcomb, 86 Mo. 371; State v. Butman, 42 N. H. 490.

7. State v. Holcomb, 86 Mo. 371.

8. Westberg v. Kansas City, 64 Mo. 493.

9. Atty.-Gen. v. Northampton, 143 Mass. 589, 10 N. E. 450.

10. Matter of Murray, 18 N. Y. App. Div.

(3) CONTINUANCE IN OFFICE. Provisions of law for the continuance in service of policemen pending or following a reorganization of the police force do not amount to a reappointment of the members of the force.¹¹

(B) Promotion—(1) BASIS—(a) SENIORITY, SERVICE, AND CAPACITY. Promotions in the police department are generally required to be made on the basis of seniority, meritorious police service, and superior capacity, as shown by competitive examination.¹² Where such examinations are placed under the control of the civil service commission, that board has power to adopt rules governing the conduct thereof,¹³ and fixing the relative weights of the subjects of rating.¹⁴

b. SPECIAL ACTS OF HEROISM. Power conferred on a police board to promote a member of the police force for special acts of heroism, and his right to receive such promotion, is unaffected by any constitutional or statutory provision regu-

337, 46 N. Y. Suppl. 172 [affirmed in 155 N. Y. 628, 49 N. E. 1101], holding that the fact that breaches of discipline by a police patrolman appointed on probation were punished when they occurred is no reason why they should not be considered in determining whether he shall receive a permanent appointment.

11. State v. Whitaker, 116 La. 947, 41 So. 218; State v. St. Paul, 81 Minn. 391, 84 N. W. 1116.

New York—The metropolitan police bill of April 15, 1857, continued in office all who at that date were policemen, whether so de facto or de jure, without any new act of acceptance on their part. People v. Metropolitan Police Dist., 19 N. Y. 188; People v. Metropolitan Police Dist., 35 Barb. 544, 14 Abb. Pr. 151; People v. Metropolitan Police Dist., 35 Barb. 527.

Texas—Adoption by a city of a special charter, placing police and other departments of the city under civil service rules, does not amount to a reappointment of a policeman serving at that time for an additional term, to date from the expiration of the term which he was serving at the time of such action. Houston v. Ross, (Civ. App. 1904) 80 S. W. 1199; Houston v. Floeck, (Civ. App. 1904) 80 S. W. 1198; Houston v. Smith, 36 Tex. Civ. App. 43, 80 S. W. 1144; Houston v. Mahoney, 36 Tex. Civ. App. 45, 80 S. W. 1142. Neither does it create a vacancy on the date of the adoption, and constitute a reappointment from that date. Houston v. Floeck, supra; Houston v. Mahoney, supra.

12. A roundsman appointed to the central office bureau of detectives is promoted, within the meaning of the constitutional requirement of competitive examinations, and, when appointed after the classification of the position of detective sergeant in the competitive schedule by resolution of the municipal civil service commission, must be appointed pursuant to a civil service examination. People v. McAdoo, 108 N. Y. App. Div. 1, 95 N. Y. Suppl. 400 [affirmed in 185 N. Y. 537, 77 N. E. 1194]; People v. Bingham, 49 Misc. (N. Y.) 607, 99 N. Y. Suppl. 1111.

The designation of a patrolman as telegraph operator by the chief of police, intended to be permanent, is a "promotion," and, being made without an examination, is without effect. People v. Partridge, 89 N. Y.

App. Div. 497, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 853 [affirmed in 179 N. Y. 530, 71 N. E. 1136].

A veteran is not exempt from such examination. Allaire v. Knox, 62 N. Y. App. Div. 29, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 845 [affirmed in 168 N. Y. 642, 61 N. E. 1127]; Matter of McGuire, 50 Hun (N. Y.) 203, 2 N. Y. Suppl. 760.

13. Ptacek v. People, 94 Ill. App. 571 [affirmed in 194 Ill. 125, 62 N. E. 530].

Promotions must be from grade to grade.—The rules adopted by the board of civil service commissioners of Chicago require that all promotions in the police department are to be from grade to grade, and are to be made on voluntary, open, competitive examinations. The competition in such examinations is to be limited to the employees in the next lower grade, and an examination not so limited and conducted is irregular, and contrary to the law and rules of the board. Ptacek v. People, 94 Ill. App. 571 [affirmed in 194 Ill. 125, 62 N. E. 530].

14. Seniority of service.—Under a rule of the municipal service commission providing that, in the relative weights of subjects of rating on any promotion examination, seniority of service in the position or grade from which promotion is sought shall count twenty, the words "position or grade" refer to a position or grade as constituted by law, and a policeman is not entitled in his rating in promotion examinations for seniority of service as roundsman while patrolmen were detailed to such service, but only from the time the Greater New York charter took effect, under which an appointment as roundsman was first recognized as a position or grade. Moran v. Baker, 49 Misc. (N. Y.) 327, 99 N. Y. Suppl. 197.

Conduct and efficiency.—The municipal civil service commission has the power to define what particular forms of meritorious service recorded on the efficiency record of any candidate shall be considered. Morris v. Baker, 49 Misc. (N. Y.) 440, 99 N. Y. Suppl. 957 [affirmed in 112 N. Y. App. Div. 900, 97 N. Y. Suppl. 1144].

The civil service commission should not, in determining the rating of a policeman after an examination for promotion, consider the record of the policeman during his probationary period, and deduct points for fines imposed during such period. People v. Baker, 49 Misc. (N. Y.) 143, 97 N. Y. Suppl. 453.

lating promotions under the civil service, and providing for a competitive examination when practical.¹⁵

(2) TIME. Where a certain period of service is required to render a patrolman eligible for promotion, such period has been held not to begin until the end of the probation term.¹⁶

(VI) AUTHORITY, DUTIES, AND LIABILITIES¹⁷—(A) Authority and Powers. A police system being a subject of state legislation, the legislature may define the powers and duties of police officers, and having done so powers inconsistent therewith cannot be conferred upon them by charter or ordinance.¹⁸ The powers so conferred usually include all the powers of constables at common law, except the power of serving civil process.¹⁹ Police officers must exercise their authority in a lawful manner, and any conduct on their part amounting to a trespass and tending to the irreparable injury of the party aggrieved will be restrained by injunction.²⁰

(B) Duties and Liabilities—(1) IN GENERAL. The duties of policemen are prescribed by law or the rules of the department,²¹ and for all neglect thereof

15. People v. Knox, 166 N. Y. 444, 60 N. E. 17 [reversing 67 N. Y. Suppl. 1142]; People v. Knox, 48 N. Y. App. Div. 477, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 940. Compare People v. Knox, 54 N. Y. App. Div. 334, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 984.

16. People v. McAdoo, 110 N. Y. App. Div. 740, 96 N. Y. Suppl. 445 [affirmed in 184 N. Y. 575, 77 N. E. 1193].

17. Arrest without warrant see ARREST, 3 Cyc. 877 et seq.

Arrest on warrant see ARREST, 3 Cyc. 875 et seq.

18. Com. v. Hastings, 9 Metc. (Mass.) 259; State v. Stuhie, 194 Mo. 14, 92 S. W. 191.

19. Com. v. Hastings, 9 Metc. (Mass.) 259; Burns v. Erben, 40 N. Y. 463.

Presumption of authority.—When it is shown that a policeman has been duly appointed by the proper authority of a city, whose charter confers on the common council the power to establish, organize, and maintain a city watch, and prescribe the duties thereof, and to regulate the general police of a city, it will be presumed, in the absence of evidence as to the power given to such policemen by the city ordinances, that he possesses the ordinary powers of peace officers at common law. Doering v. State, 49 Ind. 56, 19 Am. Rep. 669.

Special policeman.—The appointment of a special policeman, without any limitation as to the time or place, gives him all the powers of a police officer throughout the city. Joyce v. Parkhurst, 150 Mass. 243, 22 N. E. 899. If his power is limited to a part of the city, as a theater, it is not limited to the space within the walls of the theater, but extends to the environs, so far as the special vigilance of an officer may be required to keep the peace and preserve order among persons frequenting the theater, or carrying others to and from it, or supplying refreshments, and also to shops, stalls, and stands kept in the vicinity for the purpose of supplying refreshments. Com. v. Hastings, 9 Metc. (Mass.) 259.

Limitation of power by ordinance.—By the city ordinances, the commissaries of the markets are authorized to have disturbers of the public peace arrested. The arrest of an individual by a policeman therefore, on the charge of taking possession of another's stall in a market, without his permission, is unlawful, unless ordered by the commissary. Tujacque v. Weisheimer, 15 La. Ann. 276.

20. Occupation of alleged suspected premises.—An injunction will lie to restrain a police captain from permanently posting officers upon private premises and driving off customers by threats of raiding. Delaney v. Flood, 45 Misc. (N. Y.) 97, 91 N. Y. Suppl. 672; Hale v. Burns, 44 Misc. (N. Y.) 1, 89 N. Y. Suppl. 711 [affirmed in 101 N. Y. App. Div. 101, 91 N. Y. Suppl. 929]; Cullen v. Bourke, 93 N. Y. Suppl. 1085. See also Weiss v. Herlihy, 23 N. Y. App. Div. 608, 49 N. Y. Suppl. 81.

21. Duty to report defects in streets.—It is competent for a city to require policemen to remedy or report defects in streets under its charter, authorizing it to prescribe in detail the duties of policemen, although its charter also provides for a board of street commissioners, who are charged with the duty of remedying defects in streets. Cummings v. Hartford, 70 Conn. 115, 38 Atl. 916. But when it does not appear that there is any act of the legislature authorizing a municipal corporation to prescribe the duties of a policeman, and to make him an agent of the corporation in respect to its duty of keeping its streets open and in repair, or when the legislature has conferred such power upon the corporation, and it does not appear that the council of such municipal corporation has, by ordinance or resolution, so prescribed the duties of a policeman, and so made him its agent for such purpose, a rule of the police department which requires a policeman to note defects in the streets or sidewalks, and to remove them when practicable, and in case of a complaint by any citizen to remove the same, is irrelevant and incompetent as evidence to charge such corporation with notice of a defect in the street or sidewalk, although it is shown in connection therewith that a policeman had knowledge of such defect. Cleveland v. Payne, they are liable to punishment.²² Policemen are liable in damages for unnecessary cruelties and indignities inflicted by them on prisoners in their charge.²³

(2) FINES. Authority conferred upon police commissioners to make all necessary rules and regulations for the government and discipline of the force includes the power to establish fines and forfeitures for absence from, or neglect of, duty.²⁴ Where a fine is illegally imposed and paid, such payment is voluntary and cannot be recovered back.²⁵

(3) PROTECTION FROM LIABILITY FOR TORTS. The general doctrines of the law touching personal liability for torts apply to a policeman, and the municipality may not indemnify him out of fines derived from violation of an ordinance for damages recovered against him for enforcing it.²⁶

72 Ohio St. 347, 74 N. E. 177, 70 L. R. A. 841.

"On duty" usually equivalent to "on active duty."—While, by the rules of the department, police officers may "be deemed always on duty," they are liable to arrest and to be served with subpoenas at any time when they are not actually on duty. Hart v. Kennedy, 39 Barb. (N. Y.) 186 [affirming 14 Abb. Pr. 432, 23 How. Pr. 417]. See also People v. Jewett, 15 Misc. (N. Y.) 227, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 778.

22. Failure to search suspected premises.—People v. Roosevelt, 16 N. Y. App. Div. 364, 44 N. Y. Suppl. 1003 [affirmed in 155 N. Y. 662, 49 N. E. 1102].

Failure to keep peace.—State v. Flynn, 119 Mo. App. 712, 94 S. W. 543.

Failure to report suspicious places.—A rule requiring police captains to transmit monthly reports of the location of suspicious places vests in such captains a discretion in determining what is a suspicious place, which discretion must be exercised with regard to evidence. People v. Greene, 92 N. Y. App. Div. 243, 87 N. Y. Suppl. 172. An order of the superintendent of police that no more reports should be made "of reputed or alleged" disorderly houses, without competent evidence of their disorderly character, does not justify a police captain in reporting that there are no disorderly houses in his precinct, when he has ground for suspecting that certain houses are disorderly. People v. Roosevelt, 16 N. Y. App. Div. 364, 44 N. Y. Suppl. 1003 [affirmed in 155 N. Y. 662, 49 N. E. 1102].

Failure to suppress disorderly houses.—State v. Boyd, 108 Mo. App. 518, 84 S. W. 191; People v. Herlihy, 66 N. Y. App. Div. 534, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 236 [affirmed in 170 N. Y. 584, 63 N. E. 1120].

Justification.—A police officer failing to execute a warrant for the arrest of a person for a crime therein charged cannot justify absolutely by showing that the magistrate issuing the warrant orally requested him not to serve it, although such a defense may be considered in mitigation. People v. McAdoo, 98 N. Y. App. Div. 190, 90 N. Y. Suppl. 669.

Special assignment.—A sergeant, acting as a captain, is as much responsible for a neglect of duty as captain as though he were such an officer. People v. Greene, 104 N. Y. App. Div. 496, 93 N. Y. Suppl. 720 [affirmed in 184 N. Y. 565, 76 N. E. 1103]; People v. Greene, 91 N. Y. App. Div. 58, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 322 [affirmed in 178 N. Y. 617, 70 N. E. 1106]. Ignorance of the rules while acting under a special assignment is an excuse, the sufficiency of which is to be determined by the police commissioner before whom he is tried for such violation. People v. Greene, supra.

Absence from duty during time of dismissal.—Under a rule making absence from duty without leave neglect of duty, an officer is not guilty of neglect of duty for absence during the time he was unlawfully dismissed from service. The officer is not guilty of any offense for being absent at such time. People v. Metropolitan Police, 40 Barb. (N. Y.) 626, 16 Abb. Pr. 473, 26 How. Pr. 152 [affirming 16 Abb. Pr. 337, 25 How. Pr. 79, and affirmed in 39 N. Y. 506].

Using disrespectful language.—A roundsman is the superior officer of patrolmen, within the rule prohibiting the latter from using disrespectful language to the superior officers. People v. Moss, 38 N. Y. App. Div. 630, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 1032 [affirming 34 N. Y. App. Div. 475, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 262].

23. Topeka v. Boutwell, 53 Kan. 20, 35 Pac. 819, 27 L. R. A. 593.

24. Malcolm v. Boston, 173 Mass. 312, 53 N. E. 812.

Where the police board passes an order removing a policeman, and the order is reversed, he cannot be fined for neglect of duty in being absent from duty between the rendition and reversal of the order. People v. Metropolitan Police, 16 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 337, 25 How. Pr. 79 [affirmed in 40 Barb. 626, 16 Abb. Pr. 473, 26 How. Pr. 152 (affirmed in 39 N. Y. 506)].

Absence without leave.—Under a law prescribing the punishment of a police officer "for absence from duty without leave," a fine imposed by the board of police on an officer for being "absent from duty" is illegal. People v. Metropolitan Police, 40 Barb. (N. Y.) 626, 16 Abb. Pr. 473, 26 How. Pr. 152 [affirming 16 Abb. Pr. 387, 25 How. Pr. 79, and affirmed in 39 N. Y. 506].

25. Gross v. Cincinnati, 4 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 393, 29 Cinc. L. Bul. 81; Kinney v. Toledo, 3 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 6, 1 Ohio N. P. 374. See, generally, PAYMENT.

26. Vaughtman v. Waterloo, 14 Ind. App. 649, 43 N. E. 476.

(vii) TERM OF OFFICE. The term of office of policemen is often fixed by statute,²⁷ and when so fixed it cannot be changed by ordinance.²⁸ Where the duration of their appointment is not fixed, policemen hold their office at the pleasure of the appointing power,²⁹ provided there is no constitutional limitation upon the duration of official terms.³⁰

(viii) RESIGNATION OR ABANDONMENT. The acceptance of an incompatible office by a policeman amounts to a resignation.³¹ Unexplained absence from duty for five days may also be deemed a resignation when so provided by a rule of the department.³²

(ix) REMOVAL—(A) In Whom Power Vested. The power of removal is sometimes provided for by the organic law of the state,³³ but more frequently by municipal charter or general laws.³⁴ This power cannot be exercised in any case.

Protection from liability to third persons.—

Where a police officer is sued for false imprisonment for arresting plaintiff for violation of an ordinance, the municipality is not liable for failure of its officers to make a defense to the same, pursuant to their promise so to do, so as to render it liable to the police officer on recovery of a default judgment against him. Vaughtman v. Waterloo, 14 Ind. App. 649, 43 N. E. 476. The fact that an ordinance provided that the funds derived by way of fines for its violation should inure to the municipality does not enable the municipality to lawfully undertake to indemnify a police officer for any damages recovered against him for an attempt to enforce it. Vaughtman v. Waterloo, supra.

27. Kenneally v. Chicago, 220 Ill. 485, 77 N. E. 155 (holding that, under 1 Starr & C. Annot. St. Ill. (1896) p. 722, c. 24, par. 75 (City and Village Act, art. 6, § 3), providing that the term of appointive offices shall not exceed two years, the term of office of a policeman does not continue after the expiration of two years till his successor is appointed); Smith v. Haverhill, 187 Mass. 323, 72 N. E. 988 (holding that St. (1869) p. 441, c. 61, § 12, as amended by St. (1887) p. 978, c. 357, providing for the appointment of police officers to hold office till they resign or are removed for cause, is repealed by implication by St. (1894) p. 557, c. 480, covering the whole subject-matter of the police force, and providing for appointment of the whole force for terms of four years).

28. Jacksonville v. Allen, 25 Ill. App. 54. See also Union Depot, etc., Co. v. Smith, 16 Colo. 361, 27 Pac. 329.

29. Massachusetts.—Lahar v. Eldridge, 190 Mass. 504, 77 N. E. 635 (holding that a city council has authority to pass ordinances prescribing one year as the term of office of a member of the police department); Com. v. Higgins, 4 Gray 34.

New Jersey.—Bohan v. Weehawken Tp., 65 N. J. L. 490, 47 Atl. 446.

New York.—People v. Sing Sing, 54 N. Y. App. Div. 555, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 1094.

Rhode Island.—Lowrey v. Central Falls, 23 R. I. 284, 49 Atl. 963.

Vermont.—Corbett v. Sullivan, 54 Vt. 619.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 484.

Term expires with resignation.—Where the term of office of a policeman is not fixed by statute, but is subject to the will of the mayor and council, and the officer resigns, no vacancy for an unexpired term occurs, but his term of office expires with his resignation. Russell v. Williamsport, 9 Pa. Co. Ct. 129.

A policeman irregularly appointed is removable at the pleasure of the appointing power. Lyons v. Gloucester, 49 N. J. L. 177, 6 Atl. 518.

Until successors chosen.—Where a statute provides that the mayor shall appoint with the consent of the council such policemen as he and the council may deem necessary to hold office until their successors are chosen, succeeding administrations have power to appoint policemen, and when such appointment has been made and the appointee has qualified the term of the predecessors in office expires. Oklahoma City v. Dean, 15 Okla. 139, 79 Pac. 755.

30. Houston v. Clark, (Tex. Civ. App. 1904) 80 S. W. 1198; Houston v. Estes, 35 Tex. Civ. App. 99, 79 S. W. 848.

A charter provision that policemen shall hold office during good behavior is unconstitutional. Houston v. Floeck, (Tex. Civ. App. 1904) 80 S. W. 1198; Houston v. Mahoney, 36 Tex. Civ. App. 45, 80 S. W. 1142.

31. People v. Metropolitan Police Bd., 26 N. Y. 316; People v. Metropolitan Police Dist., 35 Barb. (N. Y.) 550.

32. People v. Diehl, 50 N. Y. App. Div. 58, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 362 [affirmed in 167 N. Y. 619, 60 N. E. 1118].

Absence caused by arrest.—Under Laws (1873), c. 755, § 5, providing that any member of the police force of New York city who shall be absent from duty without leave for five days shall, at the expiration thereof, cease to be a member of said force, a patrolman does not lose his office by being arrested and confined under criminal process, and upon his discharge and reporting for duty he is entitled to his pay during his enforced absence. People v. New York Police Com'rs, 114 N. Y. 245, 21 N. E. 421.

33. See supra, VII, A, 12.

34. See infra, cases cited in this section.

by an inferior officer or tribunal, unless granted expressly³⁵ or by necessary implication,³⁶ or by any other officer or tribunal than the one designated.³⁷ And the power conferred by the legislature cannot be taken away or abridged by ordinance.³⁸ The power of removal has by the charters and general statutory provisions been variously conferred upon the mayor,³⁹ or city council,⁴⁰ or on the mayor and council jointly,⁴¹ in which case an attempted removal by either is void,⁴² or on a board of police commissioners,⁴³ or on a police commissioner or inspector of police,⁴⁴ or upon some special tribunal, such as a police committee or the city council,⁴⁵ or a police trial board created by the civil service commission.⁴⁶ The power thus conferred is not affected by the fact that the misconduct for which a removal is sought is an indictable offense,⁴⁷ and it has been held that a change in the personnel of the board, pending trial, does not invalidate a removal by the new board,⁴⁸ and that an entirely new board may remove on evidence taken by 35. Vicksburg v. Rainwater, 52 Miss. 718; Bringgold v. Spokane, 27 Wash. 202, 67 Pac. 612, holding that, under a city charter providing that police officers may be removed by the board of police in certain cases, the board has no power to suspend.

36. Venable v. Portland Police Com'rs, 40 Oreg. 458, 67 Pac. 203, holding that where the power of appointing police officers is conferred on a police commission, and the tenure of office of such police officers is not otherwise defined, restrained, or limited, there is an implied power in the commission to remove such officers.

37. Murphy v. Webster, 131 Mass. 482; Com. v. Black, 201 Pa. St. 433, 50 Atl. 1008 [reversing 31 Pittsb. Leg. J. N. S. 1]. And see Nichols v. Weiss, 9 Kulp (Pa.) 548.

38. Carey v. Plainfield Bd. of Police, 53 N. J. L. 311, 21 Atl. 492; People v. Ham, 32 Misc. (N. Y.) 517, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 264 [affirmed in 57 N. Y. App. Div. 367, 68 N. Y. Suppl. 298].

39. McAuliffe v. New Bedford, 155 Mass. 216, 29 N. E. 517 (power to hear in the first instance); People v. Elmendorf, 57 N. Y. App. Div. 340, 68 N. Y. Suppl. 54.

A constitutional provision giving the mayor power to remove officers has been held not to give power to remove a police officer on the ground that he is an official of the state and not of the municipality. Smith v. Bryan, 100 Va. 199, 40 S. E. 652. And see Saul v. Scranton, 9 Pa. Dist. 156, holding that policemen are not public officers within a constitutional provision that public officers, with certain exceptions, may be removed by the power appointing them, and that the mayor who has the power of appointing policemen has no authority, under that section, to dismiss them.

Offenses committed either before or during the mayor's term of office are included within a provision conferring on the mayor power to hear and determine charges of misconduct of a police officer. People v. Elmendorf, 57 N. Y. App. Div. 340, 68 N. Y. Suppl. 54.

Where one claimant of the office of mayor is in possession of the office, another claimant cannot receive charges against a policeman, or officiate as a member of a tribunal organized for his trial. Morgan v. Quackenbush, 22 Barb. (N. Y.) 72.

40. Doherty v. Galveston, 19 Tex. Civ. App. 708, 48 S. W. 804.

41. Gill v. Brunswick, 118 Ga. 85, 44 S. E. 830; Murphy v. Webster, 131 Mass. 482; Com. v. Black, 201 Pa. St. 433, 50 Atl. 1008 [reversing 31 Pittsb. Leg. J. N. S. 1]; Saul v. Scranton, 9 Pa. Dist. 156; Nichols v. Weiss, 9 Kulp (Pa.) 548; Lowrey v. Central Falls, 23 R. I. 354, 50 Atl. 639.

Necessity for mayor presiding over meeting.—The action of the mayor and board of aldermen of a city in dismissing a member of the police force is not invalid because the mayor did not preside over the meeting, as the statute does not require the mayor to preside, but only that the board shall elect a president who shall preside at all meetings. Lowrey v. Central Falls, 23 R. I. 354, 50 Atl. 639.

42. Murphy v. Webster, 131 Mass. 482; Com. v. Black, 201 Pa. St. 433, 50 Atl. 1008 [reversing 31 Pittsb. Leg. J. N. S. 1]; Saul v. Scranton, 9 Pa. Dist. 156.

43. Illinois.—Rockford v. Compton, 115 Ill. App. 406.

Nebraska.—Moores v. State, 54 Nebr. 486, 74 N. W. 823.

New Jersey.—Skillman v. Trenton Police Com'rs, 64 N. J. L. 489, 45 Atl. 803; Cavanagh v. Hoboken Police Com'rs, 59 N. J. L. 412, 35 Atl. 793.

New York.—People v. New York Police Com'rs, 99 N. Y. 676, 2 N. E. 151; People v. York, 53 N. Y. App. Div. 336, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 696; People v. New York Police Com'rs, 23 Hun 351.

Oregon.—Venable v. Portland Police Com'rs, 40 Oreg. 458, 67 Pac. 203.

The action of a de facto board of police commissioners expelling a patrolman from the police force was, as to him, valid. Lang v. Bayonne, 73 N. J. L. 109, 62 Atl. 270.

44. State v. Whitaker, 116 La. 947, 41 So. 218; People v. Partridge, 181 N. Y. 530, 73 N. E. 1130 [affirming 99 N. Y. App. Div. 410, 91 N. Y. Suppl. 258].

45. Dodd v. Foster, 64 N. J. L. 370, 45 Atl. 802.

46. Chicago v. People, 210 Ill. 84, 71 N. E. 816 [affirming 111 Ill. App. 594].

47. Skillman v. Trenton Police Com'rs, 64 N. J. L. 489, 45 Atl. 803.

48. People v. New York Police Com'rs, 23

the former board.⁴⁹ So a quorum of the board making the removal is sufficient to give validity to the proceedings.⁵⁰ A police officer charged with misconduct is entitled to a trial before unprejudiced police commissioners, and where one of the board voting for his dismissal, and whose vote was essential to it, was a prosecuting witness, and, because of a statement made by the officer in connection with the offense with which he was charged, was justly incensed against the officer, and was in a sense himself on trial, the board is not such an unprejudiced tribunal as the officer is entitled to have consider and decide upon the case.⁵¹ It has been held, however, that a police commissioner is not disqualified from trying and dismissing an officer because prior to the trial he had received a report of his misconduct and declared knowledge of his guilt.⁵² And where police commissioners are called upon to sit in judgment upon an offense committed in the presence of one of them, who is not a witness to prove it, or who, being a witness, has not to pass upon a conflict of testimony, he has no such interest in the result as to disqualify him;⁵³ nor does the fact that one while on trial for absence without leave while on duty as a policeman later engaged in a quarrel with one of the commissioners disqualify the latter from sitting in the case on a judgment for dismissal for which he voted.⁵⁴ It has also been held that a commissioner may sit on a trial of charges against a policeman, after he has been challenged on the ground that he has prejudged the case and does not intend to give the policeman a fair trial, it not being claimed that the commissioner had any interest in the matter or was disqualified by any statute.⁵⁵

(B) Removal at Pleasure. While, as will be shown in subsequent sections, policemen are generally removable only for cause and on charges, notice, and hearing,⁵⁶ they are removable at pleasure where the constitution⁵⁷ or charter⁵⁸ expressly so provides, and authority to appoint to hold office at pleasure carries with it the power to remove at pleasure, in the absence of a constitutional or statutory provision to the contrary.⁵⁹ So power to remove at pleasure exists where the power of appointment is conferred in general terms and without restriction, and the duration of the term is not fixed by constitution or statute;⁶⁰ where the term is not fixed by statute or ordinance and the charter provides that the office shall be held at the pleasure of the appointing power;⁶¹ where it is provided by statute

Hun (N. Y.) 351. But see Tibbs v. Atlanta, 125 Ga. 18, 53 S. E. 811, holding that where the membership of a board of commissioners of a city is increased by a statute enacted pending the trial of a policeman, the new member has no authority to participate in the trial, although he was present at all the sittings of the board and heard all the evidence.

49. People v. Roosevelt, 7 N. Y. App. Div. 144, 40 N. Y. Suppl. 102.

50. State v. New Orleans Police Com'rs, 113 La. 424, 37 So. 16; People v. New York Police Com'rs, 99 N. Y. 676, 2 N. E. 151; State v. Barrett, 22 Ohio Cir. Ct. 104, 12 Ohio Cir. Dec. 231.

51. People v. Roosevelt, 23 N. Y. App. Div. 533, 48 N. Y. Suppl. 578.

52. People v. Partridge, 99 N. Y. App. Div. 410, 91 N. Y. Suppl. 258 [affirmed in 181 N. Y. 530, 73 N. E. 1130].

53. People v. Roosevelt, 23 N. Y. App. Div. 514, 48 N. Y. Suppl. 537 [affirmed in 155 N. Y. 702, 50 N. E. 1121].

54. People v. York, 53 N. Y. App. Div. 336, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 696.

55. People v. New York Police Com'rs, 84 Hun (N. Y.) 64, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 18 [affirmed in 148 N. Y. 757, 43 N. E. 988].

56. See infra, VII, B, 5, d, (ix), (D).

57. Com. v. Rutherford, 8 Pa. Dist. 349, 22 Pa. Co. Ct. 425.

58. Williams v. Gloucester, 148 Mass. 256, 19 N. E. 348; State v. St. Paul, 81 Minn. 391, 84 N. W. 127.

Extent of rule.—Under a charter providing that the mayor and aldermen shall have power to appoint police officers, and to remove them at pleasure, the power of removal is not confined to officers nominated by the mayor exercising it, but extends to officers nominated by his predecessors, although by another clause the mayor, with the consent of the appointing power, may remove "any officer over whose appointment he has . . . exercised the power of nomination." Williams v. Gloucester, 148 Mass. 256, 19 N. E. 348.

Charter power to remove at pleasure cannot be restrained by ordinance. Williams v. Gloucester, 148 Mass. 256, 19 N. E. 348; Trowbridge v. Newark, 46 N. J. L. 140.

59. Oliver v. Americus, 69 Ga. 165.

60. People v. Robb, 126 N. Y. 180, 27 N. E. 267 [affirming 11 N. Y. Suppl. 383].

61. Leadville v. Bishop, 14 Colo. App. 517, 61 Pac. 58.

that the office shall be held during good behavior and the pleasure of the appointing power;⁶² and where the officers are appointed for an indefinite term and the constitution provides that an officer holding for an indefinite term is removable at the pleasure of the appointing power.⁶³ So it has been held under a charter providing that policemen "shall hold their respective positions during good behavior, or until they may be severally removed by the Mayor, or by three-fifths vote of the council, after notice to and failure of the Mayor to act," that the mayor or city council, in case of his failure to act, has an absolute power of removal and is not limited to removals for cause.⁶⁴ Where an officer removable at pleasure is so removed, the removal is not affected by the subsequent action of the board in ordering to be paid a bill for services subsequent to removal.⁶⁵

(c) Removal by Impeachment. A constitutional provision making the governor and all other executive officers liable to impeachment relates only to state officers and has no application to police officers elected by a town.⁶⁶

(d) Removal For Cause—(1) RIGHT TO TRIAL OR HEARING. By virtue of charter or statutory provisions or rules passed in accordance therewith, members of the police force in many municipalities are not removable at pleasure, but only for cause and on trial or hearing at which they shall have an opportunity to present a defense to what may be suggested as a cause of removal.⁶⁷ Any rules

Effect of ordinances.—Ordinances authorizing the election by the city council of numerous officers, including such policemen as may be deemed necessary, and providing for the removal of any such officer by a majority of the city council, for cause, and providing the procedure for preferring charges, notice, trial, etc., do not abridge a city council's statutory power to remove a policeman without notice or hearing, since an abridgment of a council's statutory power by ordinances, if this could be done at all, would not be unless the intention to do so was clear. Leadville v. Bishop, 14 Colo. App. 517, 61 Pac. 58.

62. State v. Police Com'rs, 6 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 767, 8 Am. L. Rec. 21.

63. Smith v. Brown, 59 Cal. 672.

64. Smith v. Bryan, 100 Va. 199, 40 S. E. 652.

65. Quinn v. Portsmouth, 64 N. H. 324, 10 Atl. 677.

66. Lowrey v. Central Falls, 23 R. I. 354, 50 Atl. 639.

67. Illinois.—Chicago v. People, 210 Ill. 84, 71 N. E. 816 [reversing 111 Ill. App. 594]; Rockford v. Compton, 115 Ill. App. 406.

Indiana.—Roth v. State, 158 Ind. 242, 63 N. E. 460.

Kentucky.—Gorley v. Louisville, 104 Ky. 372, 47 S. W. 263, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 602.

Maine.—Andrews v. Biddeford Police Bd., 94 Me. 68, 46 Atl. 801.

Maryland.—Hagerstown St. Com'rs v. Williams, 96 Md. 232, 53 Atl. 923.

Massachusetts.—Ham v. Boston Police Bd., 142 Mass. 90, 70 N. E. 540.

Minnesota.—State v. St. Paul, 81 Minn. 391, 84 N. W. 127.

Missouri.—State v. Hawes, 177 Mo. 387, 76 S. W. 617.

Nebraska.—Moores v. State, 54 Nebr. 486, 74 N. W. 823.

New Hampshire.—Gibbs v. Manchester, 73 N. H. 265, 61 Atl. 128.

New Jersey.—Cleary v. Trenton, 50 N. J. L. 331, 13 Atl. 228.

New York.—People v. Humphrey, 156 N. Y. 231, 50 N. E. 860 [reversing 22 N. Y. App. Div. 632, 48 N. Y. Suppl. 1112]; People v. New York Police Com'rs, 67 N. Y. 475; People v. Dillon, 46 N. Y. App. Div. 187, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 537 [affirmed in 161 N. Y. 646, 57 N. E. 1122]; People v. Hudson, 77 Hun 548, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 940; People v. Doolittle, 44 Hun 293; McDermott v. Metropolitan Police Dist., 25 Barb. 635; People v. Jerome, 36 Misc. 256, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 306; People v. Troy Police Com'rs, 55 How. Pr. 454.

Texas.—Houston v. Floeck, (Civ. App. 1904) 80 S. W. 1198; Houston v. Mahoney, 36 Tex. Civ. App. 45, 80 S. W. 1142; Houston v. Estes, 35 Tex. Civ. App. 99, 79 S. W. 848; Proctor v. Blackburn, 28 Tex. Civ. App. 351, 67 S. W. 548.

Utah.—Everill v. Swan, 17 Utah 514, 55 Pac. 68.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 496.

Constitutionality of charter provisions.—A provision of a city charter prohibiting the discharge of policemen, except after trial, is valid, subject to a constitutional provision restricting the term of office to two years. Houston v. Floeck, (Tex. Civ. App. 1904) 80 S. W. 1198; Houston v. Mahoney, 36 Tex. Civ. App. 45, 80 S. W. 1142. A statute providing that policemen shall hold office until removed for cause is not in conflict with a constitutional provision that the general assembly shall not create any office the tenure of which shall be longer than four years. The constitutional provision is not applicable to the office of policeman. Roth v. State, 158 Ind. 242, 63 N. E. 460. A statute providing that no policeman shall be dismissed without his written consent, except by the decision of a court duly certified in writing by the mayor, which court shall be composed of persons belonging to the police force, equal or made by the police board providing for removal without any offense being charged are in contravention of charter provisions of the character under consideration, and a removal under such rules is of no effect.⁶³ The rule requiring a hearing applies to substitute or chance policemen,⁶⁹ to a turnkey promoted to the position of patrolman,⁷⁰ and to a patrolman who has accepted the additional duties and pay of a roundsman.⁷¹ It has no application where the officer was ineligible to the position because of a conviction of crime previous to his appointment,⁷² nor to one whose conduct is declared by statute to be equivalent to a resignation,⁷³ nor to probationary policemen,⁷⁴ nor to one who has procured his appointment by fraud.⁷⁵ So policemen holding over after the expiration of their terms are subject to summary removal,⁷⁶ as is any other policeman who is not a de jure officer.⁷⁷

(2) RIGHT TO NOTICE OF CHARGES AND TIME OF HEARING. Municipal charters and rules passed in accordance therewith frequently provide either expressly or by implication that an officer whose removal is sought must be notified of the charges against him,⁷⁸ and of the time and place of hearing.⁷⁹ The right to notice is given by a statute which provides that removal shall be made only for cause,⁸⁰ superior in official position to the accused, is not repugnant to Const. art. 6, § 4, providing that appointed officers other than judges of the courts of record, and the superintendent of public instruction, may be removed at the pleasure of the power by which they shall have been appointed, as a police officer is not a public officer within such section. Com. v. Stokley, 4 Pa. Co. Ct. 334, 20 Wkly. Notes Cas. 315.

Waiver of protection afforded by provisions.

—A summary removal based on a written admission of the charges and a consent to waive trial, not made to or in the presence of the board, and which are afterward withdrawn and revoked before the day set for hearing, is illegal (People v. New York Police Com'rs, 67 N. Y. 475); and where a policeman of a village, on its incorporation as a city, is induced to sign an application for appointment as patrolman of the city, which application is denied and the patrolman dismissed, he waives none of his rights by such application (People v. Dillon, 46 N. Y. App. Div. 187, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 537 [affirmed in 161 N. Y. 646, 57 N. E. 1122]).

68. Andrews v. Biddeford Police Bd., 94 Me. 68, 46 Atl. 801.

69. Bakely v. Nowrey, 68 N. J. L. 95, 52 Atl. 289.

70. State v. Hawes, 177 Mo. 387, 76 S. W. 617.

71. McCann v. New Brunswick, 73 N. J. L. 161, 62 Atl. 191.

72. People v. French, 102 N. Y. 583, 70 N. E. 913; People v. Manning, 16 N. Y. Suppl. 604.

73. People v. York, 49 N. Y. App. Div. 173, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 36 [affirmed in 162 N. Y. 660, 57 N. E. 1121], absence without leave for five successive days.

74. Matter of Murray, 18 N. Y. App. Div. 337, 49 N. Y. Suppl. 172.

75. People v. Martin, 91 Hun (N. Y.) 425, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 851.

The reason is that one who has never had a valid right to appointment acquires no status as a member of the force and has no rights such as are possessed by legally appointed members. People v. Martin, 91 Hun (N. Y.) 425, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 851.

76. State v. Hawes, 177 Mo. 360, 76 S. W. 653.

77. Moon v. Champaign, 116 Ill. App. 403 [affirmed in 214 Ill. 40, 73 N. E. 408], holding further that an ordinance which merely defines what shall constitute the police department of the city, and provides among other things that such department shall consist of as many policemen as such council shall from time to time provide for, does not render the office of a patrolman taken into the city's service one de jure.

78. Kentucky.—Gorley v. Louisville, 104 Ky. 372, 47 S. W. 203, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 602.

Maryland.—Hagerstown St. Com'rs v. Williams, 96 Md. 232, 53 Atl. 923.

Massachusetts.—Ham v. Boston Police Bd., 142 Mass. 90, 70 N. E. 540.

Minnesota.—State v. St. Paul, 81 Minn. 391, 84 N. W. 127.

New York.—People v. Martin, 152 N. Y. 311, 46 N. E. 484; People v. Martin, 1 N. Y. App. Div. 420, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 274; People v. Metropolitan Police Dist., 26 Barb. 481; McDermott v. Metropolitan Police Dist., 25 Barb. 635; People v. Metropolitan Police Dist., 6 Abb. Pr. 162.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 498.

Where a turnkey is promoted to the position of patrolman, such promotion constitutes a new appointment as patrolman for a term of four years from its date; and, under the statute, the appointee cannot be removed during the four years succeeding his promotion, except upon notice. State v. Hawes, 177 Mo. 387, 76 S. W. 617.

79. Gibbs v. Manchester, 73 N. H. 265, 61 Atl. 123; People v. Martin, 1 N. Y. App. Div. 420, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 274; People v. Metropolitan Police Dist., 26 Barb. (N. Y.) 481; McDermott v. Metropolitan Police Dist., 25 Barb. (N. Y.) 635.

80. Hagerstown St. Com'rs v. Williams, 96 Md. 232, 53 Atl. 923.

and by a statute prohibiting removal except on written charges and after opportunity to be heard in defense.⁸¹ The right to notice is not waived by an admission of the policeman that he is guilty, where he afterward states facts showing that he was not guilty of the main charges.⁸² Where the time of trial has been fixed and notice given thereof, the time so fixed cannot be shortened,⁸³ and the tribunal has no authority to proceed with the trial or hearing previous to the day notified.⁸⁴

(3) RIGHT TO PRESENTATION OF CHARGES. By virtue of express provision in many municipal charters an officer of the police force cannot be discharged for causes affecting his character or standing as a public servant, except where formal charges have been made against him,⁸⁵ nor can he be tried or removed for causes other than those specified in the charges.⁸⁶ These provisions usually require that the charges shall be in writing and this requirement must be complied with.⁸⁷ The charges must be stated specifically and with substantial certainty,⁸⁸ although the technical precision required in a declaration or indictment is not necessary.⁸⁹ It is sufficient if the charge fairly apprises the accused of the offense for which it is sought to remove him.⁹⁰ The charge should be verified when it is required by 81. People v. Police Bd., 3 Abb. Dec. (N. Y.) 488.

82. People v. Martin, 152 N. Y. 311, 46 N. E. 484.

83. People v. Martin, 152 N. Y. 311, 46 N. E. 484.

84. People v. Martin, 152 N. Y. 311, 46 N. E. 484.

85. Kentucky.—Gorley v. Louisville, 104 Ky. 372, 47 S. W. 263, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 602.

Minnesota.—State v. St. Paul, 81 Minn. 391, 84 N. W. 127.

Missouri.—State v. Hawes, 177 Mo. 387, 76 S. W. 617.

Nebraska.—Moore v. State, 54 Nehr. 486, 74 N. W. 823.

New Hampshire.—Gibbs v. Manchester, 73 N. H. 265, 61 Atl. 128.

New York.—People v. Humphrey, 156 N. Y. 231, 50 N. E. 860 [reversing 22 N. Y. App. Div. 632, 48 N. Y. Suppl. 1112]; People v. New York Police Com'rs, 67 N. Y. 475; People v. Dillon, 46 N. Y. App. Div. 187, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 537 [affirmed in 161 N. Y. 646, 57 N. E. 1122]; People v. Troy City Police Com'rs, 55 How. Pr. 454.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 499. And see cases cited in subsequent notes in this section.

86. Wilkinson v. Saginaw Police Com'rs, 107 Mich. 394, 65 N. W. 668; Wellman v. Metropolitan Police, 84 Mich. 558, 47 N. W. 1099; People v. New York Police Dept., 72 N. Y. 415. Compare Joyce v. Chicago, 216 Ill. 466, 75 N. E. 184.

Variance between complaint and specifications of charge.—Where the complaint charges conduct unbecoming an officer, and the charge specifies the obtaining of sick leave, while performing manual labor at home, an objection that the officer was charged with conduct unbecoming an officer and neglect of duty is not well taken, as the specifications of the charge, and not the complaint, control. Oesterreich v. Fowle, 132 Mich. 9, 92 N. W. 497.

87. Joyce v. Chicago, 216 Ill. 466, 75 N. E. 184; Rockford v. Compton, 115 Ill. App. 406; Wellman v. Metropolitan Police, 84 Mich.

558, 47 N. W. 1099; People v. Troy City Police Com'rs, 55 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 454.

88. Rockford v. Compton, 115 Ill. App. 406; Gibbs v. Manchester, 73 N. H. 265, 61 Atl. 128; People v. Elmendorf, 42 N. Y. App. Div. 306, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 115; Reynolds v. Pawtucket, 23 R. I. 370, 50 Atl. 645.

Waiver of defect in charges.—Where charges against a police captain contained a specification to the effect that he had assigned a patrolman to do other than police duty, and the accused made no application to have the specification made more specific, it was sufficient to justify proof that he had detailed such patrolman to do certain work for accused on houses owned by him. People v. Greene, 94 N. Y. App. Div. 287, 87 N. Y. Suppl. 1017 [reversed on other grounds in 179 N. Y. 253, 72 N. E. 99].

89. Joyce v. Chicago, 216 Ill. 466, 75 N. E. 184; Rockford v. Compton, 115 Ill. App. 406; State v. Whitaker, 116 La. 947, 41 So. 218; Gibbs v. Manchester, 73 N. H. 265, 61 Atl. 128; People v. New York Police Com'rs, 93 N. Y. 97.

90. Oesterreich v. Fowle, 132 Mich. 9, 92 N. W. 497; People v. New York Police Com'rs, 93 N. Y. 97; People v. Hayden, 80 Hun (N. Y.) 397, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 332; People v. MacLean, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 851.

Charges held sufficient.—A charge against a police officer of being engaged in a fight with certain named persons "during which he is accused of attempting to shoot G. M.," is sufficient for the purpose of a trial before a police commissioner. People v. Hayden, 80 Hun (N. Y.) 397, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 332. Where a rule of the police department of the city of Cleveland provides as to officers of the force, that "they shall not interfere or make use of the influence of their office in elections, but may quietly exercise the right of suffrage as other citizens," a charge against an officer for a violation of such rule, stating that the officer, at a given election and at a given voting place, did use his influence as an officer to induce divers persons to vote for a given candidate, and did distribute money to certain parties named, for the purpose of in-statute or by the rules of the department.⁹¹ But want of verification is waived by appearing and answering to the charges,⁹² or going to trial on the merits⁹³ without objection. The requirement of presentation of charges has been held to apply to a turnkey appointed to the position of patrolman.⁹⁴ It does not apply to one who procures his appointment by fraud,⁹⁵ nor, under a provision that no employee elected by the municipal board should be dismissed except on written charges, to a policeman who goes in under a commission and holds over from time to time.⁹⁶ And refusal to grant specifications on final hearing is not error, where the complaint was fairly full and there was evidence that at the first hearing the policeman admitted his guilt.⁹⁷

(4) GROUND OF REMOVAL—(a) IN GENERAL. Power to remove a police officer for good and sufficient cause and after due hearing contemplates some substantial cause, such as corruption or inefficiency, infraction of rules governing the police force, commission of an infamous crime, etc.⁹⁸ The following have been held sufficient grounds for removal when it is necessary to show cause: Neglect of duty;⁹⁹

fluencing them to vote for such candidate, is sufficiently definite. State v. Barrett, 22 Ohio Cir. Ct. 104, 12 Ohio Cir. Dec. 231. A charge against a policeman that he procured himself to be carried on the time hook as sick, when in fact he was at home, engaged in manual labor, showing falsehood and deception in his report to his superior officers, prejudicial to the good order and discipline of the department, was not a charge of absence from duty only, so as to limit the punishment to a forfeiture of pay and preclude dismissal under the rules of the department. Oesterreich v. Fowle, 132 Mich. 9, 92 N. W. 497.

Charge held insufficient.—A charge, although it states the particular kind of offense, is not a definite charge when it states neither the time nor place of the offense. People v. Elmendorf, 42 N. Y. App. Div. 306, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 115.

91. People v. Metropolitan Police Dist., 26 Barb. (N. Y.) 481, 6 Abb. Pr. 162.

Where charges made by a police captain need not be verified, an objection that charges were made by a roundsman and not verified cannot be sustained where it appeared that the charges were actually made by a captain and that the roundsman only appeared as complainant. People v. French, 1 Silv. Sup. (N. Y.) 97, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 57.

An inspector of police is a subordinate officer within regulations authorizing such an officer to prefer charges in writing against a patrolman without verification on information furnished him by another person. People v. Greene, 101 N. Y. App. Div. 33, 91 N. Y. Suppl. 803.

92. People v. French, 1 N. Y. Suppl. 638.

93. Oesterreich v. Fowle, 132 Mich. 9, 92 N. W. 497.

94. State v. Hawes, 177 Mo. 387, 76 S. W. 617.

95. People v. Martin, 20 N. Y. App. Div. 380, 46 N. Y. Suppl. 723.

96. Beverly v. Hattiesburg, 83 Miss. 342, 35 So. 876.

97. McAuliffe v. New Bedford, 155 Mass. 216, 29 N. E. 517.

98. Gibbs v. Manchester, 73 N. H. 265, 61 Atl. 128.

99. People v. Lewis, 111 N. Y. App. Div. 375, 97 N. Y. Suppl. 1057 [affirmed in 186 N. Y. 583, 79 N. E. 1113] (failure by patrolman to report by telephone to the station house from the places established on his heat for that purpose); People v. Partridge, 99 N. Y. App. Div. 410, 91 N. Y. Suppl. 258 [affirmed in 181 N. Y. 530, 73 N. E. 1130] (absence from post, gambling in saloon, and failure to arrest for violating excise law in his presence); People v. York, 58 N. Y. App. Div. 621, 68 N. Y. Suppl. 1077 [affirmed in 169 N. Y. 578, 61 N. E. 1133] (absence from post of duty without leave); People v. Martin, 9 N. Y. App. Div. 531, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 578 (absence from post of duty); People v. Roosevelt, 1 N. Y. App. Div. 434, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 113 [affirmed in 151 N. Y. 675, 46 N. E. 1150] (failure to make arrest for violation of excise law); People v. French, 52 Hun (N. Y.) 90, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 55; People v. MacLean, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 77 (lying down while on patrol duty in addition to numerous previous derelictions of duty); People v. MacLean, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 342 (absence from post of duty and drunkenness); People v. McClave, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 340 (absence without leave); People v. MacLean, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 110 (absence from post of duty); People v. Robb, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 649 (absence from post of duty); People v. Bell, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 748 (failure to make arrest); People v. New York, etc., Bridge, 7 N. Y. Suppl. 806 (absence without leave); People v. Bell, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 812 (failure to report circumstances tending to show crime); People v. Crimmins, 1 N. Y. Suppl. 656 (lying down while on patrol duty).

Failure of police instructor to prefer charges against class.—Relator, a policeman in charge of a school of instruction, had no knowledge that an envelope containing money had been left at his home, addressed to his wife, intended as a present from his class, which had been discharged, until the day before he was cited to appear before a police commissioner to explain the same, which he did, and within an hour after such explanation he was suspended while he was engaged at such school, after which he was not in a position to prefer charges. It was held that incompetency or inefficiency;¹ physical incapacity;² insubordination;³ being over a certain age;⁴ conduct unbecoming an officer,⁵ although not a violation of the rules and regulations of the department;⁶ unprovoked or needless clubbing of citizens,⁷ especially where he previously has been convicted of improperly using his club on two former occasions;⁸ unprovoked assault on another officer;⁹ attempting to procure publication of untruthful statements tending to degrade another officer;¹⁰ the making or circulation of false reports or charges about a superior officer;¹¹ unwarranted arrest attended with circumstances of oppression and cruelty;¹² reckless riding resulting in injury to citizen;¹³ crimrelator's neglect to prefer such charges against the members of the class that had made up the purse was not ground for dismissal. People v. Greene, 96 N. Y. App. Div. 249, 89 N. Y. Suppl. 343.

Absence from post to attend to call of nature.—Absence of a policeman from his post during his tour of patrol duty is not cause for dismissal, where it was occasioned by the necessity of using a toilet closet, and there was no such closet on his post. People v. Roosevelt, 19 N. Y. App. Div. 152, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 880.

1. People v. Brooklyn Police, etc., Bd., 69 N. Y. 408; Steinback v. Galveston, (Tex. Civ. App. 1897) 41 S. W. 822, inability to read and write English.

2. Ayers v. Newark, 49 N. J. L. 170, 6 Atl. 659.

Insanity.—A member of the park police force is properly removed therefrom on the statements of physicians that he is suffering from an organic and progressive disease of the brain of an incurable character, and is quite likely to indulge in outbursts of insane temper. People v. Robb, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 383 [distinguishing People v. Robb, 55 Hun 425, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 502, which holds that a statute empowering the park commissioners of New York city to punish or dismiss members of the park police force on conviction of certain offenses, and to withhold the pay of any member of such force "for or on account of absence for any cause without leave, lost or sick time, sickness, or other disability, physical or mental," does not authorize the removal of a member of such force on the ground that he is subject to insane delusions].

3. Pierce's Appeal, 78 Conn. 666, 63 Atl. 161 (disobedience of orders); State v. Rusling, 64 Conn. 517, 30 Atl. 758 (disobedience of orders); Alcutt v. Trenton Police Com'rs, 66 N. J. L. 173, 48 Atl. 1006 (statement that police commissioner was a liar and not to be believed on oath); People v. Moss, 50 N. Y. App. Div. 308, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 912 [affirmed in 165 N. Y. 606, 58 N. E. 1090] (calling superior officer a liar in open court); People v. Metropolitan Police Bd., 15 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 167, 24 How. Pr. 481 (disobedience of orders).

What is not insubordination.—A police commissioner, while acting as a judge for the purpose of hearing charges against a policeman who has been suspended from duty, ceases to act for the time being as accused's superior officer, so that accused is not guilty of insubordination for refusing to testify under advice of counsel, in violation of the commissioner's direction. People v. Greene, 96 N. Y. App. Div. 249, 89 N. Y. Suppl. 343.

Using opprobrious epithet in relation to superior.—Upon the trial of a police officer before the commissioners, on a charge of using an opprobrious epithet with reference to his superior, he cannot be convicted on mere proof that he used the epithet, unless it is also shown that it was used with reference to the superior. People v. Hart, 25 N. Y. App. Div. 129, 49 N. Y. Suppl. 268.

4. People v. Troy Police Com'rs, 43 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 385.

5. People v. Roosevelt, 23 N. Y. App. Div. 533, 48 N. Y. Suppl. 578 [affirmed in 153 N. Y. 646, 47 N. E. 1110] (even though the offense was committed while he was on probation and before he received his full appointment); People v. Roosevelt, 13 N. Y. App. Div. 404, 43 N. Y. Suppl. 73.

6. Oesterreich v. Fowle, 132 Mich. 9, 92 N. W. 497.

7. Marran v. Bordentown, (N. J. Sup. 1905) 61 Atl. 13; People v. Carroll, 42 Hun (N. Y.) 438; People v. MacLean, 15 N. Y. Suppl. 219; People v. Bell, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 829; People v. French, 15 N. Y. St. 108.

8. People v. Partridge, 88 N. Y. App. Div. 60, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 779.

9. People v. McClave, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 764 [affirmed in 123 N. Y. 512, 25 N. E. 1047]; People v. Bell, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 314.

10. People v. Yonkers Police Com'rs, 41 Hun (N. Y.) 389.

11. Tibbs v. Atlanta, 125 Ga. 18, 53 S. E. 811; People v. Partridge, 87 N. Y. App. Div. 573, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 487; People v. Roosevelt, 2 N. Y. App. Div. 536, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 27 [affirmed in 153 N. Y. 657, 47 N. E. 1110].

12. People v. Roosevelt, 38 N. Y. App. Div. 635, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 11. And see People v. Jourdan, 90 N. Y. 53, in which it was held that the captain of a city police force is properly dismissed from office for sending two officers to the house of a married woman at two A. M. with instructions to bring her to the station, and then interrogating her in a coarse and vulgar manner, no complaint or warrant having been issued against her, and that it is immaterial that she was not in fact arrested, and that the officers were not ordered to arrest her.

13. People v. Strauss, 3 Misc. (N. Y.) 617, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 295 [affirmed in 143 N. Y. 645, 37 N. E. 823].

inal or immoral conduct;¹⁴ devoting a part of his time to some other occupation in violation of the police regulations;¹⁵ misrepresentation of facts in order to procure appointment;¹⁶ violation of a rule forbidding members of the police force to be delegates to, or members of, political caucuses, or to take part in any political canvass;¹⁷ and violation of a rule against accepting a gratuity without reporting the same to the captain of police.¹⁸ On the other hand the extreme penalty of removal should not be visited upon a police officer for a mere technical violation of a rule which is not shown to have prejudiced any rights of the public or interfered with the proper discipline of the department.¹⁹ So political reasons furnish no ground for removal,²⁰ nor conduct prior to entry upon service, when not so provided by rules.²¹

(b) INTOXICATION. Drunkenness is a frequent ground for removal, and if the intoxication occurs while the officer is on duty it is usually held sufficient.²² Intoxication on duty cannot be excused on the ground that the liquor was taken for medicinal purposes, it not appearing that he had any reason to suppose that it would be good for him;²³ but intoxication produced by taking a drink to alleviate suffering, after being engaged several days in an arduous struggle with strikers, who were striving often with violence to prevent the running of street cars, will not constitute ground for removal.²⁴ Habitual drunkenness also authorizes removal, although no overt act resulting from intoxication is charged.²⁵ Convic-

14. Joyce v. Chicago, 216 Ill. 466, 75 N. E. 184 (unlawfully obtaining money from the state); People v. French, 32 Hun (N. Y.) 112; People v. New York Police Com'rs, 11 Hun (N. Y.) 403 (enticing girl to assignation house while off duty); People v. French, 3 Silv. Sup. (N. Y.) 335, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 431 (being caught in a compromising position with drunken woman); People v. McAdoo, 99 N. Y. Suppl. 949 (visiting disorderly house); People v. Robb, 16 N. Y. Suppl. 124 (indecent and wilful exposure of person to female); People v. McClave, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 263 (accepting bribe from saloon-keeper for making charge against him of lesser offense than that committed); People v. French, 60 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 377 [affirmed in 24 Hun 659, 12 N. Y. Wkly. Dig. 463] (accepting bribes from keeper of house of prostitution).

Necessity of previous conviction.—Under Laws (1873), c. 335, § 55, the New York police board cannot remove one on the charge of conduct unbecoming an officer, in that he swore falsely on trial of another before the board. He must first have been convicted of swearing falsely before a jury in an ordinary court of justice. People v. New York Police Com'rs, 20 Hun (N. Y.) 333. Compare People v. French, 32 Hun (N. Y.) 112.

15. People v. Bell, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 869.

16. Lindblom v. People, 116 Ill. App. 213 [affirmed in 215 Ill. 58, 74 N. E. 73].

17. Brownell v. Russell, 76 Vt. 326, 57 Atl. 103.

18. People v. Johnson, 10 N. Y. St. 404.

19. People v. Greene, 89 N. Y. App. Div. 296, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 866.

20. Moores v. State, 54 Nebr. 486, 74 N. W. 823.

Facts insufficient to show removal for political reasons.—In proceedings to test the validity of removal of police officers it appeared that ten were discharged on June 23, which was shortly after a municipal election;

the order of discharge reciting that they had performed their duties, but were removed by the commission for want of funds. On June 30 one of the removed officers was appointed special policeman, and on August 2 four others were appointed as members of the force, and on September 2 two others were reappointed. There were no appointments made in place of the other officers removed. It was held insufficient to show that one of the officers was removed for political reasons, as prohibited by Portland City Charter (1898), §§ 99-101. Venable v. Portland Police Com'rs, 40 Oreg. 458, 67 Pac. 203.

21. Campbell v. Newark Police Com'rs, 71 N. J. L. 98, 58 Atl. 84. But see State v. Whitaker, 116 La. 947, 41 So. 218.

22. Marran v. Bordentown, (N. J. Sup. 1905) 61 Atl. 13; People v. French, 110 N. Y. 494, 18 N. E. 133; People v. French, 3 Silv. Sup. (N. Y.) 569, 7 N. Y. Suppl. 489; People v. Martin, 15 Misc. (N. Y.) 6, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 437 [affirmed in 149 N. Y. 621, 44 N. E. 1127]; People v. McLean, 1 Misc. (N. Y.) 463, 21 N. Y. Suppl. 625; People v. French, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 550; People v. MacLean, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 341; People v. French, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 337; People v. MacLean, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 225; People v. MacLean, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 486; People v. MacLean, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 307; People v. French, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 860; People v. MacLean, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 851; People v. French, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 792; People v. McClave, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 560; People v. French, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 874 [affirmed in 123 N. Y. 635, 25 N. E. 953]; People v. French, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 459. And see People v. Lewis, 111 N. Y. App. Div. 375, 97 N. Y. Suppl. 1057 [affirmed in 186 N. Y. 583, 79 N. E. 1113].

23. People v. French, 119 N. Y. 493, 23 N. E. 1058.

24. People v. French, 119 N. Y. 493, 23 N. E. 1058.

25. People v. French, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 874.

tion of the offense of intoxication before appointment is ground for removal under a statute prohibiting any person convicted of crime from being appointed to membership on the police force.²⁶

(5) DEFENSES. The defenses may be arranged under three classes: (1) That the charges are not sufficient to suspend or remove;²⁷ (2) that the proof offered against him does not warrant such penalty;²⁸ and (3) that the appearances are misleading and the real facts of the case exonerate him from blame.²⁹ Where an officer is charged with committing a breach of the peace by drawing a pistol, and the evidence shows justification, a conviction on such a charge is illegal.³⁰ It is no defense that the offense was committed while the officer was only a probationer and before he had received his full appointment;³¹ that he was off duty at the time of the misconduct;³² that he made a mistake of judgment;³³ that a prosecution is pending before a magistrate;³⁴ that the charge was too serious for the board to consider;³⁵ or that the accused officer had an interest in the police fund.³⁶ Where a town police officer was not reelected, but on mandamus was declared to be a member of the police department, a contention that a charge of misconduct dating after such failure of reelection cannot be considered by the aldermen is without merit, as he was still a member of the force.³⁷ Where the offense charged is failure to report by telephone during the night as required, and returning to the station house drunk the next morning, testimony by the patrolman that he procured the liquor to relieve an attack of sickness is insufficient to excuse his conduct, as it was his duty to report the fact if he was ill.³⁸ So dismissal of a policeman for leaving his post will be confirmed, although he may have had a valid excuse therefor, if he failed to temporarily resign his duty to another member of the force, as required by a rule of the department, and gives no explanation of his neglect.³⁹

(E) Removal by Reduction of Force or Abolition of Office. The office of a member of the police force may be abolished by the municipality,⁴⁰ or the membership of the police department reduced for economic reasons;⁴¹ and in such case an officer may be dismissed from the service without a hearing and opportunity to show cause against the order of dismissal,⁴² a resolution abolish-

26. People v. French, 102 N. Y. 583, 7 N. E. 913.

27. Matter of Taylor, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 189, 25 Abb. N. Cas. 143.

28. People v. MacLean, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 353.

29. People v. Martin, 143 N. Y. 407, 38 N. E. 460 [affirming 79 Hun 475, 29 N. Y. Suppl. 966].

30. Lamb v. Brunswick, 121 Ga. 345, 49 S. E. 275.

31. People v. Roosevelt, 23 N. Y. App. Div. 533, 48 N. Y. Suppl. 578.

32. People v. Bell, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 748; People v. French, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 222.

33. People v. McClave, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 561.

34. People v. Welles, 14 Misc. (N. Y.) 226, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 672.

35. Wellman v. Metropolitan Bd. of Police, 91 Mich. 427, 51 N. W. 1070.

36. Lazenby v. Elmira Bd. of Police, 76 N. Y. App. Div. 171, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 302.

37. Lowrey v. Central Falls, 23 R. I. 354, 50 Atl. 639.

38. People v. Lewis, 111 N. Y. App. Div. 375, 97 N. Y. Suppl. 1057 [affirmed in 186 N. Y. 583, 79 N. E. 1113].

39. People v. Tappen, 15 Misc. (N. Y.) 20, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 773 [affirmed in 151 N. Y. 620, 45 N. E. 1133].

40. Oldham v. Birmingham, 102 Ala. 357, 14 So. 793; McCann v. New Brunswick, 73 N. J. L. 161, 62 Atl. 191; Boylan v. Newark Police Com'rs, 58 N. J. L. 133, 32 Atl. 78; Meissner v. Boyle, 20 Utah 316, 58 Pac. 1110.

41. Colorado.—Hudson v. Denver, 12 Colo. 157, 20 Pac. 329.

Kentucky.—Neumeyer v. Krakel, 110 Ky. 624, 62 S. W. 518, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 190.

Missouri.—State v. Kansas City Police Com'rs, 80 Mo. App. 206 [affirmed in (1902) 71 S. W. 215].

Nebraska.—Moores v. State, 54 Nebr. 486, 74 N. W. 823; Lincoln v. Yeomans, 34 Nebr. 329, 51 N. W. 844.

New York.—Lazenby v. Elmira Bd. of Police, 76 N. Y. App. Div. 171, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 302.

Oregon.—Venable v. Portland Police Com'rs, 40 Oreg. 458, 67 Pac. 203.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 492.

Lack of funds to pay salaries is a good ground for reducing the force. Lincoln v. Yeomans, 34 Nebr. 329, 51 N. W. 844; Lazenby v. Elmira Bd. of Police, 76 N. Y. App. Div. 171, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 302.

42. State v. Kansas City Police Com'rs, 80 Mo. App. 206 [affirmed in (1902) 71 S. W. 215]; Moores v. State, 54 Nebr. 486, 74 N. W.

ing the office and causing the chief of police to notify the incumbent that he was discharged being effectual as a dismissal.⁴³ A dismissal by reason of reduction of the force or abolition of the office does not violate a rule that no member shall be removed except for cause,⁴⁴ or a rule requiring presentation of charges and a hearing;⁴⁵ nor do the veteran acts apply where an office is abolished in good faith.⁴⁶ It has been held, however, that the power to reduce the force cannot be exercised for the purpose of creating a vacancy and the appointment of some other person, but should be made in good faith.⁴⁷ On abolition of the office the right to salary ceases.⁴⁸

(F) Power to Take Testimony. Provision is sometimes made for the taking of testimony by one member of a board having power of removal, to be reported to the board for final action,⁴⁹ and in such case the removal must be made by the board.⁵⁰ Under some provisions testimony is taken by a police committee of a city council which may remove upon the report of the committee,⁵¹ or dismiss the proceedings on such report,⁵² and under still others testimony is heard by the deputy police commissioner who reports the same and his finding thereon to his superior officer who has the power of removal.⁵³ A deputy police commissioner, before whom charges against a member of the police force is examined, need not make a written finding of guilt in order to give the police commissioner authority

823; Venable v. Portland Police Com'rs, 40 Oreg. 458, 67 Pac. 203; Heath v. Salt Lake City, 16 Utah 374, 52 Pac. 602.

43. Moores v. State, 4 Nebr. (Unoff.) 235, 93 N. W. 986.

44. Oldham v. Birmingham, 102 Ala. 357, 14 So. 793; Boylan v. Newark Police Com'rs, 58 N. J. L. 133, 32 Atl. 78; Lazenby v. Elmira Bd. of Police, 76 N. Y. App. Div. 171, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 302; Heath v. Salt Lake City, 16 Utah 374, 52 Pac. 602.

45. Moores v. State, 54 Nebr. 486, 74 N. W. 823; Venable v. Portland Police Com'rs, 40 Oreg. 458, 67 Pac. 203.

Nature of right.—The right given to an officer by the statute to a hearing and an opportunity to defend is manifestly a right to vindicate himself from an unjust accusation, and not a right to show that the revenues are sufficient to pay his salary, or that the public weal requires that his place be not abolished. Moores v. State, 54 Nebr. 486, 74 N. W. 823.

46. People v. York, 53 N. Y. App. Div. 429, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 1074.

47. People v. Schumaker, 27 La. Ann. 332, holding that authority to reduce the force did not authorize the discharge of an officer for the purpose of giving someone else his place. Compare Hudson v. Denver, 12 Colo. 157, 160, 20 Pac. 329 [distinguishing State v. Schumaker, supra], holding that where the council had power to reduce or increase the police force, whenever they considered it necessary, one discharged in pursuance of a resolution to reduce the force cannot complain because he was not reemployed under another resolution adopted at the same meeting to increase the police force. The court said: "It is not for us to say that no exigency arose requiring a sudden and speedy increase of the police force; neither can we question the right of the councilmen to change their minds regarding the matter; nor is it our province to fix a period that must elapse after a reduction of the force before it may be lawfully increased. The presumption is that the city council acted honestly, and according to that which in their judgment was for the best interests of the city." It is difficult to see how any such presumption arises in this case. On the contrary these facts unexplained raise a conclusive presumption that the pretended reduction was a piece of political chicanery to enable the council to find places for men of its own choosing.

48. Oldham v. Birmingham, 102 Ala. 357, 14 So. 793.

49. People v. New York Police Com'rs, 99 N. Y. 676, 2 N. E. 151; People v. New York Bd. of Police, 20 Hun (N. Y.) 402; People v. New York Police Com'rs, 10 Hun (N. Y.) 106 [affirmed in 76 N. Y. 613]; People v. Robb, 1 Silv. Sup. (N. Y.) 448, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 869; People v. Howell, 16 N. Y. Suppl. 775; People v. New York, etc., Bridge, 7 N. Y. Suppl. 806.

50. People v. Robb, 1 Silv. Sup. (N. Y.) 448, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 869.

Failure to reduce evidence to writing how cured.—A failure to comply with rule 131 of the board of police commissioners of New York city in removing an officer from the force, where the trial of the charges against him was had before one commissioner only, and the testimony taken on such trial was not reduced to writing and submitted to the whole board, can be cured by a second judgment, confirming the first, made by the board in conformity with the rule. The first judgment is thus rendered effective. People v. French, 2 N. Y. St. 608.

51. Dodd v. Foster, 64 N. J. L. 370, 45 Atl. 802.

52. Marran v. Bordentown, (N. J. Sup. 1905) 61 Atl. 13.

53. People v. Partridge, 87 N. Y. App. Div. 573, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 487; People v. Partridge, 86 N. Y. App. Div. 310, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 705.

to remove.⁵⁴ Notwithstanding the term of the commissioner taking the testimony has ceased, the board of which he was a member may consider and act upon the evidence.⁵⁵ It is improper for two deputy commissioners to act alternately as accuser, witness, prosecutor, and judge;⁵⁶ but a commissioner who witnessed the transaction for which removal is sought, but who was not the complainant and did not testify as a witness, is not disqualified from taking testimony.⁵⁷ And the making of an order by a deputy police commissioner directing the captain to prefer charges against an officer does not disqualify him from taking evidence against the officer.⁵⁸

(G) Nature and Conduct of Hearing—(1) IN GENERAL. The officer or board conducting a hearing need not be sworn in the absence of any statutory requirement to that effect.⁵⁹ While the proceedings are judicial in their nature,⁶⁰ they are not criminal proceedings.⁶¹ An officer whose removal is sought is entitled to a fair trial and a reasonable opportunity to make his defense.⁶² But strict conformity with the modes of procedure as in courts of law is not required,⁶³ and greater latitude in the reception and consideration of evidence is allowed.⁶⁴ Nor is the same accuracy in regard to rulings on evidence required as in courts of law.⁶⁵ Separate trials of several officers accused of receiving bribes may properly be refused where the money was charged to have been paid pursuant to a common purpose and understanding.⁶⁶ The accused has a right to examine witnesses and introduce evidence in his defense,⁶⁷ and is entitled to cross-examine witnesses introduced by the prosecution.⁶⁸ If no objection is raised on constitutional grounds the accused may be examined about the circumstances of the case before any case has been made against him.⁶⁹ Failure to administer the oath to witnesses against the accused does not vitiate the proceedings, where he makes 54. People v. Partridge, 180 N. Y. 237, 73 N. E. 4 [reversing 95 N. Y. App. Div. 633, 89 N. Y. Suppl. 1113, and overruling People v. Greene, 97 N. Y. App. Div. 404, 89 N. Y. Suppl. 1067].

55. People v. New York Police Com'rs, 98 N. Y. 332 [reversing 23 Hun 667, and overruling People v. New York Police Com'rs, 27 Hun 462]; People v. New York Police Com'rs, 31 Hun (N. Y.) 209.

56. People v. Greene, 96 N. Y. App. Div. 249, 89 N. Y. Suppl. 343.

57. People v. New York Police Com'rs, 10 Hun (N. Y.) 106 [affirmed in 76 N. Y. 613].

58. People v. Greene, 106 N. Y. App. Div. 230, 94 N. Y. Suppl. 477 [affirmed in 184 N. Y. 565, 76 N. E. 1103].

59. Doherty v. Galveston, 19 Tex. Civ. App. 708, 48 S. W. 804.

60. Savannah v. Brown, 64 Ga. 229; People v. Jerome, 36 Misc. (N. Y.) 256, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 306.

61. Oesterreich v. Fowle, 132 Mich. 9, 92 N. W. 497; People v. York, 53 N. Y. App. Div. 336, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 696; People v. Welles, 18 N. Y. App. Div. 132, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 713.

62. Ayers v. Newark, 49 N. J. L. 170, 6 Atl. 659.

63. Ayers v. Newark, 49 N. J. L. 170, 6 Atl. 659; Devault v. Camden, 48 N. J. L. 433, 5 Atl. 451; People v. McClave, 123 N. Y. 512, 25 N. E. 1047; People v. Peck, 73 N. Y. App. Div. 89, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 328.

Reason for rule.—The technical rules that have been judicially adopted with regard to inferior criminal prosecutions are not to be applied to these investigations, for while it is proper that proceedings to deprive persons of common rights for alleged crimes should be confined by somewhat strict limits, the removal of incompetent or ill-behaved officials from their exceptional positions of authority and responsibility should be easy and prompt, and no forms should be requisite which are not in themselves substantial safeguards of justice. Devault v. Camden, 48 N. J. L. 433, 5 Atl. 451.

64. People v. Peck, 73 N. Y. App. Div. 89, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 328.

65. People v. Roosevelt, 16 N. Y. App. Div. 364, 44 N. Y. Suppl. 1003 [affirmed in 155 N. Y. 662, 49 N. E. 1102].

66. People v. New York Police Com'rs, 84 Hun (N. Y.) 64, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 18 [affirmed in 148 N. Y. 757, 43 N. E. 988].

67. Gibbs v. Manchester, 73 N. H. 265, 61 Atl. 128.

The accused is not denied the right to examine witnesses where he merely inquires if he shall call certain witnesses and is told by the commissioners, on stating what he expects to prove by the witnesses, that they will do him no good, the witnesses not being present. People v. French, 3 Silv. Sup. (N. Y.) 312, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 213.

68. Gibbs v. Manchester, 73 N. H. 265, 61 Atl. 128.

69. People v. McClave, 123 N. Y. 512, 35 N. E. 1047 [affirming 10 N. Y. Suppl. 764], holding that an objection by the accused that commissioners ought to make out a case against him before he should be compelled to no objection on that ground,⁷⁰ or where he admits the charges as to which they testify.⁷¹ Nor can he object that his witnesses were not sworn where their testimony received the same consideration as if given under oath.⁷² The fact that the police commissioner had before him the affidavits on which charges preferred against a patrolman were based in his investigation could not have prejudiced him, where the persons who made the affidavits were witnesses before the commissioner, and he had an opportunity to cross-examine them.⁷³

(2) ADJOURNMENT AND POSTPONEMENT. The allowance of an adjournment is a matter within the discretion of the board or officer before whom the trial is had,⁷⁴ which cannot be reviewed unless such discretion has been abused.⁷⁵ Error in allowing an adjournment after examination of a few witnesses, to a day on which the witnesses examined were produced for cross-examination by the officer's counsel, and the officer produced and examined his own witnesses, cured an error in refusing the original request of the officer for an adjournment on the ground of the absence of his counsel and witnesses.⁷⁶ A postponement of a trial will not be granted for trivial causes.⁷⁷

(3) RIGHT TO COUNSEL. Refusal of counsel on the trial of charges against a policeman was not formerly considered a denial of constitutional right;⁷⁸ but in later cases this holding was overruled, and his constitutional right vindicated.⁷⁹

(H) Evidence. The record of a police officer cannot be considered for the purpose of determining his guilt as to the charges preferred against him, if it is not introduced in evidence and an opportunity given him to explain,⁸⁰ and if this is done the removal will be invalid, although there was abundant other evidence to sustain the charge.⁸¹ Such record may, however, be considered for the purpose of fixing punishment.⁸² In order that testimony of a member of the detective force testify is directed to the order of examination and does not raise the question that the accused is compelled to criminate himself. And see People v. French, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 456.

70. People v. McAdoo, 184 N. Y. 304, 77 N. E. 260.

71. People v. Moss, 38 N. Y. App. Div. 630, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 1032, 34 N. Y. App. Div. 475, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 262.

72. People v. Moss, 38 N. Y. App. Div. 630, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 1032, 34 N. Y. App. Div. 475, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 262.

73. People v. Greene, 101 N. Y. App. Div. 33, 91 N. Y. Suppl. 803.

74. People v. Greene, 96 N. Y. App. Div. 1, 88 N. Y. Suppl. 1060 [affirmed in 181 N. Y. 554, 74 N. E. 1123].

75. People v. Greene, 96 N. Y. App. Div. 1, 88 N. Y. Suppl. 1060 [affirmed in 181 N. Y. 554, 74 N. E. 1123] (holding that on the trial of a member of the police force of the city of New York before a police commissioner the refusal to grant an adjournment on account of the absence of a material witness is not an abuse of discretion, where it is shown that several adjournments had been had, owing to the absence of the same witness, and there was testimony of a physician who had attended the absent witness to the effect that the illness of the witness was permanent, and that it would endanger his life to examine him either in court or at his residence); People v. Martin, 89 Hun (N. Y.) 373, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 377 (holding that refusal of the police board to adjourn a hearing of charges against a policeman, to enable him to procure witnesses, is not an abuse of discretion, where he did not state the names of any persons whom he desired to call, and was not sworn in his own behalf, and made no defense, and five days afterward filed an affidavit stating the names of persons by whom he testified that he could dispute the charge).

76. People v. Greene, 106 N. Y. App. Div. 230, 94 N. Y. Suppl. 477 [affirmed in 184 N. Y. 565, 76 N. E. 1103].

77. People v. Webster, 98 N. Y. App. Div. 581, 90 N. Y. Suppl. 723, a half degree elevation of temperature in the system of the accused.

78. People v. Police Com'rs, 31 Hun (N. Y.) 209.

79. People v. Greenbush Police Com'rs, 58 Hun (N. Y.) 224, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 841 [affirmed in 126 N. Y. 623, 27 N. E. 410]; People v. Hannan, 56 Hun (N. Y.) 469, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 71 [affirmed in 125 N. Y. 691, 26 N. E. 751].

80. People v. York, 52 N. Y. App. Div. 295, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 130; People v. Roosevelt, 2 N. Y. App. Div. 498, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 1083; People v. Roosevelt, 1 N. Y. App. Div. 577, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 488.

81. People v. York, 52 N. Y. App. Div. 295, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 130.

82. People v. Roosevelt, 13 N. Y. App. Div. 404, 43 N. Y. Suppl. 73 [affirmed in 153 N. Y. 646, 47 N. E. 1110]; People v. Roosevelt, 2 N. Y. App. Div. 536, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 27; People v. Roosevelt, 2 N. Y. App. Div. 498, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 1083; People v. Roosevelt, 40 N. Y. Suppl. 1147 [affirmed in 168 N. Y. 488, 61 N. E. 783].

may be considered, corroboration thereof is unnecessary.⁸³ Where the officer is charged with misconduct at a voting place, evidence as to his conduct during the entire day is admissible as tending to show whether the alleged misconduct was a mistake or was wilful and intentional.⁸⁴ And on a charge against a police officer for neglect of duty in regard to disorderly houses, the general reputation of a house is admissible.⁸⁵ As in trials for criminal offenses the judgment removing a police officer must be based on competent evidence,⁸⁶ but a conviction may be based on circumstantial evidence.⁸⁷ And to reach a conclusion warranting a removal the tribunal hearing the complaint may disbelieve the testimony of the accused,⁸⁸ and no evidence is necessary where the officer pleads guilty.⁸⁹ In the notes hereto are set out a number of decisions in which it was held that the evidence was or was not sufficient to authorize a removal.⁹⁰

83. People v. Roosevelt, 2 N. Y. App. Div. 498, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 1083.

84. People v. Hayden, 7 Misc. (N. Y.) 278, 27 N. Y. Suppl. 881.

85. People v. Roosevelt, 16 N. Y. App. Div. 364, 44 N. Y. Suppl. 1003 [affirmed in 155 N. Y. 662, 49 N. E. 1102].

86. People v. Roosevelt, 6 N. Y. App. Div. 382, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 640.

Thus a removal cannot be based on hearsay evidence not under oath, consisting of a statement said to have been made by a burglar. People v. Roosevelt, 6 N. Y. App. Div. 382, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 640.

87. People v. Strauss, 3 Misc. (N. Y.) 617, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 295 [affirmed in 143 N. Y. 645, 37 N. E. 823].

88. People v. Peck, 73 N. Y. App. Div. 89, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 328.

89. People v. York, 53 N. Y. App. Div. 336, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 696.

90. Evidence held sufficient to authorize removal—For neglect of duty.—People v. Greene, 106 N. Y. App. Div. 230, 94 N. Y. Suppl. 477 [affirmed in 184 N. Y. 565, 76 N. E. 1103]; People v. Greene, 98 N. Y. App. Div. 620, 90 N. Y. Suppl. 194. Such as intoxication (People v. French, 110 N. Y. 494, 18 N. E. 133, 123 N. Y. 635, 25 N. E. 953; People v. French, 52 Hun (N. Y.) 90, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 55; People v. French, 3 Silv. Sup. (N. Y.) 569, 7 N. Y. Suppl. 489; People v. Martin, 15 Misc. (N. Y.) 6, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 437 [affirmed in 149 N. Y. 621, 44 N. E. 1127]); People v. French, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 550; People v. French, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 337; People v. MacLean, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 225 [following People v. French, 119 N. Y. 493, 23 N. E. 1058]; People v. MacLean, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 486; People v. French, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 346; People v. McLean, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 307; People v. McClave, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 560; People v. French, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 217; People v. French, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 459 [affirmed in 123 N. Y. 636, 25 N. E. 415]; People v. French, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 172; absence from post without permission (People v. York, 169 N. Y. 578, 61 N. E. 1133 [affirming 58 N. Y. App. Div. 621, 68 N. Y. Suppl. 1077]; People v. Martin, 9 N. Y. App. Div. 531, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 578; People v. McClave, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 340; People v. MacLean, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 110; People v. Robb, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 831; People v. New York, etc., Bridge, 7

N. Y. Suppl. 806); failure to make arrest (People v. Roosevelt, 1 N. Y. App. Div. 434, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 113 [affirmed in 151 N. Y. 675, 46 N. E. 1150]; People v. Bell, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 748); or lying down while on patrol duty (People v. MacLean, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 77; People v. Crimmins, 1 N. Y. Suppl. 656).

Unprovoked clubbing of citizen.—People v. MacLean, 15 N. Y. Suppl. 219; People v. Bell, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 829.

Accepting gratuities without making report to police captain as required by rules.—People v. Johnson, 10 N. Y. St. 404.

Making false charge about officer.—People v. Roosevelt, 2 N. Y. App. Div. 536, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 27 [affirmed in 153 N. Y. 657, 47 N. E. 1110].

Criminal or immoral conduct.—People v. McAdoo, 99 N. Y. Suppl. 949; People v. McClave, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 263.

Deceiving police surgeon as to sickness.—People v. Yonkers Bd. of Police, 121 N. Y. 716, 29 N. E. 34 [reversing 55 Hun 445, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 640].

Making or circulating false charges or reports about superior officer.—Tibbs v. Atlanta, 125 Ga. 18, 53 S. E. 811; People v. Partridge, 87 N. Y. App. Div. 573, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 487.

Devoting part of time to some other calling.—People v. Bell, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 829.

Conduct unbecoming officer.—People v. Roosevelt, 13 N. Y. App. Div. 404, 43 N. Y. Suppl. 73 [affirmed in 153 N. Y. 646, 47 N. E. 1110].

Evidence held insufficient to authorize removal—Neglect of duty.—People v. Greene, 179 N. Y. 253, 72 N. E. 99 [reversing 94 N. Y. App. Div. 287, 87 N. Y. Suppl. 1017]. Such as intoxication while on duty (People v. Moss, 38 N. Y. App. Div. 633, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 951; People v. Roosevelt, 26 N. Y. App. Div. 183, 49 N. Y. Suppl. 975; People v. Welles, 88 Hun (N. Y.) 190, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 412; People v. MacLean, 60 N. Y. Super. Ct. 210, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 475 [affirmed in 133 N. Y. 527, 30 N. E. 1148]; People v. French, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 181; People v. McClave, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 441); absence from post of duty without leave (People v. Magee, 57 N. Y. App. Div. 281, 67 N. Y. Suppl. 906; People v. Roosevelt, 15 N. Y. App. Div. 401, 44 N. Y. Suppl.

(i) Findings, Judgment, or Order and Record. In order to render valid a removal of an officer there must be a finding that he was guilty of the charges preferred,⁹¹ and it must be placed on the record.⁹² The grounds on which an officer is removed must be stated in the judgment or order of removal.⁹³ But the judgment need not have the exact accuracy of the record of a criminal court,⁹⁴ and where there are several charges there need not be separate judgments on each charge. A finding of guilt on one charge is sufficient to warrant punishment, irrespective of other charges.⁹⁵

(j) New Trial. Power is sometimes conferred by statute to grant new trials, the power to be exercised at the discretion of the tribunal if rules on that subject have not been adopted, and, if rules have been adopted, then to be exercised under the terms thereof.⁹⁶ An officer removed from office is not entitled to a new trial as a matter of right, in the absence of some provision therefor by statute or rule, and it is properly denied where there is a delay of several years in applying therefor.⁹⁷ An order granting a new trial is generally final and cannot be set aside unless inadvertently made; certainly not in the absence of legal cause.⁹⁸ Where the board, outside of its proper power, revokes an order for a new trial which it has legally granted, mandamus will lie to it, commanding it to proceed to a new trial of the case.⁹⁹

(k) Review—(1) IN GENERAL. The determination of an officer or tribunal vested with the power of removal cannot be attacked in a collateral proceeding,¹

102 [affirmed in 153 N. Y. 689, 48 N. E. 1106]; People v. Roosevelt, 7 N. Y. App. Div. 610, 40 N. Y. Suppl. 119; People v. Welles, 5 N. Y. App. Div. 523, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 50; People v. Martin, 5 N. Y. App. Div. 217, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 74; People v. MacLean, 57 Hun (N. Y.) 141, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 803; sitting on a barrel instead of walking his beat (Matter of Koch, 91 N. Y. App. Div. 194, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 459); failure to deliver promptly effects taken from the person of a dead man (People v. Roosevelt, 7 N. Y. App. Div. 181, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 1101) or permitting house of prostitution to exist within his district (People v. Greene, 92 N. Y. App. Div. 243, 87 N. Y. Suppl. 172).

Unwarranted assault on citizen.—People v. MacLean, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 511.

Larceny.—People v. Partridge, 83 N. Y. App. Div. 262, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 109; People v. Welles, 89 Hun (N. Y.) 96, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 1000.

Conduct unbecoming an officer.—People v. New York Police Dept., 72 N. Y. 415.

Immoral conduct.—People v. Police Com'rs, 13 N. Y. App. Div. 69, 43 N. Y. Suppl. 118.

Accepting bribes.—People v. Partridge, 95 N. Y. App. Div. 323, 88 N. Y. Suppl. 657; Matter of Cross, 85 Hun (N. Y.) 343, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 933.

Violation of rule forbidding use of profane language while on duty.—Lamb v. Brunswick, 121 Ga. 345, 49 S. E. 275.

False statement to superior officer with intent to deceive.—People v. Greene, 92 N. Y. App. Div. 243, 87 N. Y. Suppl. 172; People v. Partridge, 86 N. Y. App. Div. 310, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 705.

Criminal and immoral conduct.—People v. York, 35 N. Y. App. Div. 430, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 835.

Brawling.—People v. Martin, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 974.

Insufficiency of evidence to show acquiescence in removal.—Larson v. St. Paul, 83 Minn. 473, 86 N. W. 459.

91. State v. Police Com'rs, 109 La. 369, 33 So. 372; Cooper v. Jersey City, 53 N. J. L. 544, 22 Atl. 123; People v. Grady, 26 N. Y. App. Div. 592, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 424. But see O'Brien v. Pawtucket, 20 R. I. 49, 37 Atl. 302, 530, holding that a decision removing an officer rendered by a tribunal vested with that power necessarily implies a finding that the charges were true and is sufficient without an express finding to that effect.

Inconsistent findings.—Where there is a finding that the officer has done a specific act forbidden by the rules of the police department, the effect of such finding cannot be controlled by a further finding that he is not guilty. Brownell v. Russell, 76 Vt. 326, 57 Atl. 103.

92. State v. New Orleans Police Com'rs, 109 La. 369, 33 So. 372; Cooper v. Jersey City, 53 N. J. L. 544, 22 Atl. 123.

93. Gibbs v. Manchester, 73 N. H. 265, 61 Atl. 128; Selby v. Portland, 14 Oreg. 243, 12 Pac. 377, 58 Am. Rep. 307.

94. People v. York, 53 N. Y. App. Div. 336, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 696.

95. People v. York, 53 N. Y. App. Div. 336, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 696.

96. State v. New Orleans Police Bd., 51 La. Ann. 747, 25 So. 637.

97. People v. York, 43 N. Y. App. Div. 138, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 333.

98. State v. New Orleans Police Bd., 51 La. Ann. 747, 25 So. 637.

99. State v. New Orleans Police Bd., 51 La. Ann. 747, 25 So. 637.

1. Doherty v. Galveston, 19 Tex. Civ. App. 708, 48 S. W. 804.

and while it is sometimes made reviewable on appeal by charter or general statutory provision,² no appeal lies in the absence of statutory authorization,³ and a fortiori where the charter expressly declares that the determination shall not be appealable.⁴ Neither can such determination be reviewed on application for mandamus. While a subordinate body vested with power to determine a question of fact can be compelled to determine the fact, it cannot be directed to decide in a particular way, however clearly it may be made to appear what the decision ought to be.⁵ As is shown in another treatise in the Encyclopedia of Law and Procedure, certiorari lies to review the determination of tribunals or officers empowered to proceed in a summary way, or in a mode unknown to the common law, where no method of review is specially provided,⁶ and this is accordingly the proper remedy for reviewing a judgment or order removing a police officer, unless some other method of review is provided by statute.⁷

(2) APPEAL. Where a statute provides that any officer removed may appeal to a judge of the superior court who may hear the cause and order such judgment as the facts shall warrant, a judgment of removal will be set aside only when some essential formality has been omitted, or when the officer exercising the power of removal has acted arbitrarily. It is no ground for reversal that the commissioner was mistaken in his conclusions.⁸ On appeal to a court of last resort from a judgment of a court on certiorari to review the proceedings of a tribunal which removed an officer from the police force, only questions of law may be considered, and it is only where there is no evidence to sustain the adjudication of the tribunal that a review of the proceedings may be had.⁹

(3) CERTIORARI—(a) TIME FOR COMMENCING PROCEEDINGS. In the absence of any statute limiting the time in which application for a writ may be made, due diligence is necessary; and if the applicant delays for over a year the writ will be dismissed.¹⁰ And where the time for making application is prescribed by statute, a writ will be dismissed if the application is not made within the time prescribed and no excuse is shown therefor.¹¹ The time fixed by statute commences to run against the review of a refusal of the police commissioners to reconsider their action in accepting the resignation of a policeman, where the proceedings terminating in such refusal were instituted in due time, from the date of the refusal to reconsider, and not from the date of accepting the resignation.¹²

(b) PETITION. An allegation, in a petition for certiorari to review the action of the police commissioner in removing relator as patrolman, that relator is informed and believes that certain affidavits were considered by respondent, where the source of information and grounds of belief are not disclosed, is not an allegation of fact which requires a denial.¹³

(c) RETURN. On certiorari to review a judgment removing a police officer, the

2. See Pierce's Appeal, 78 Conn. 666, 63 Atl. 161.

3. Donahue v. Cumberland, 25 R. I. 79, 54 Atl. 933.

4. Nolan v. New Orleans, 10 La. Ann. 106.

5. People v. MacLean, 62 Hun (N. Y.) 42, 16 N. Y. Suppl. 401.

6. See CERTIORARI, 6 Cyc. 738, 739.

7. Georgia.—Gill v. Brunswick, 118 Ga. 85, 44 S. E. 830; Savannah v. Brown, 64 Ga. 229.

Illinois.—Joyce v. Chicago, 216 Ill. 466, 75 N. E. 184.

New Jersey.—See State v. Millville, 53 N. J. L. 368, 21 Atl. 570; State v. Millville, 53 N. J. L. 362, 21 Atl. 568.

New York.—People v. Metropolitan Police Bd., 3 Abb. Dec. 488, 16 How. Pr. 115; People

v. Greene, 92 N. Y. App. Div. 243, 87 N. Y. Suppl. 172; People v. Metropolitan Police Dist., 26 Barb. 481, 6 Abb. Pr. 162.

Rhode Island.—Donahue v. Cumberland, 25 R. I. 79, 54 Atl. 933.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 504, 505.

8. Pierce's Appeal, 78 Conn. 666, 63 Atl. 161.

9. People v. French, 123 N. Y. 636, 25 N. E. 415 [affirming 8 N. Y. Suppl. 459].

10. Glori v. Newark Police Com'rs, 72 N. J. L. 131, 60 Atl. 47.

11. People v. New York Police Com'rs, 24 Hun (N. Y.) 284.

12. People v. Martin, 82 Hun (N. Y.) 1, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 1107.

13. People v. Greene, 101 N. Y. App. Div. 33, 91 N. Y. Suppl. 803.

return should state specifically just what the board considered in determining the charge.¹⁴ It should state only the proceedings to be reviewed.¹⁵ The courts have power to permit the amendment of a return in furtherance of justice.¹⁶ Although a return is defective in not setting out the rule for violation of which plaintiff was removed, the writ will nevertheless be dismissed where it appears that he wilfully refused obedience of orders which the police board was expressly empowered to make.¹⁷

(d) SCOPE OF REVIEW — aa. In General. In the absence of statute providing otherwise, the only questions to be determined on certiorari for review of an order of judgment removing a police officer are whether the officer or inferior tribunal exercising the power of removal had jurisdiction to act, and whether in acting it exceeded its jurisdiction or failed to proceed according to the essential requirements of the law,¹⁸ and these questions are to be determined on the face of the record. Matters not appearing thereon are not to be considered.¹⁹ The court has power to review a removal when the proceedings are not in accordance with the procedure prescribed by statute.²⁰ So it is ground for reversal that the vote of the officer presiding over the tribunal which conducted the hearing and which would have changed the result was improperly ignored as illegal,²¹ that witnesses against the officer are not sworn,²² that the statutory requirement in respect of notice was not complied with,²³ that the charges were not sufficiently specific,²⁴ that matters were considered which were not introduced in evidence,²⁵ that incompetent evidence was admitted,²⁶ or that evidence for the accused was

14. People v. Roosevelt, 2 N. Y. App. Div. 498, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 1083. And see People v. Martin, 17 N. Y. App. Div. 555, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 577 [affirmed in 154 N. Y. 775, 49 N. E. 1102].

15. People v. Troy Police Com'rs, 55 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 454, holding that where an officer is removed without presentation of written charges, after-occurring events cannot be made a part of the return.

16. People v. York, 51 N. Y. App. Div. 502, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 736, holding that on certiorari to compel the reinstatement of a police officer dismissed after trial on charges before the police commissioners, for invalidity of the proceedings, defendants were entitled to amend their return by alleging that relator was absent from the force without leave for five days before the trial, which absence would suspend him by operation of law, since it would be idle to review the proceedings for dismissal, if relator was no longer a member of the force.

17. People v. Sague, 68 N. Y. App. Div. 643, 74 N. Y. Suppl. 161.

18. Joyce v. Chicago, 216 Ill. 466, 75 N. E. 184.

19. Joyce v. Chicago, 216 Ill. 466, 75 N. E. 184.

20. People v. Peck, 73 N. Y. App. Div. 89, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 378.

21. Asbell v. Brunswick, 80 Ga. 503, 5 S. E. 500.

22. People v. New York Police Com'rs, 155 N. Y. 40, 49 N. E. 257 [reversing 12 N. Y. App. Div. 623, 42 N. Y. Suppl. 1131]; People v. York, 73 N. Y. App. Div. 445, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 43 [affirmed in 173 N. Y. 610, 66 N. E. 1114].

Where it does not affirmatively appear from the return to the writ that the witnesses against the officer were not sworn it will be presumed that they were. People v. Moss, 34 N. Y. App. Div. 475, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 262. And see People v. Roosevelt, 7 N. Y. App. Div. 308, 40 N. Y. Suppl. 117.

23. People v. Metropolitan Board of Police, 3 Abb. Dec. (N. Y.) 488, 16 How. Pr. 115.

24. People v. Welles, 18 N. Y. App. Div. 132, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 713, holding, however, that this objection was waived unless raised before the tribunal holding the trial. See also to the same effect Joyce v. Chicago, 216 Ill. 466, 75 N. E. 184.

25. People v. York, 50 N. Y. App. Div. 359, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 2.

Evidence admissible for some purposes and inadmissible for others.—A decision of the police board dismissing a policeman will not be disturbed merely because the case shows that the policeman's record was before the board at some time during the proceeding, where it does not affirmatively appear that such record was improperly used, since an officer's record may properly be considered for the purpose of determining the punishment which ought to be inflicted, although it is not admissible as bearing on the question of the officer's guilt or innocence. People v. Roosevelt, 5 N. Y. App. Div. 328, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 290.

26. See People v. Hayden, 16 N. Y. Suppl. 98, holding, however, that a decision dismissing a policeman will not be disturbed on the ground that a commissioner received in evidence an envelope containing relator's previous record on the force, if no objections are taken at the time and it does not appear that relator was not allowed to read its contents.

Where the evidence was such as to leave no doubt of relator's guilt in the mind of an impartial person, and the police commissioner improperly rejected.²⁷ So where the witnesses against the accused, after giving part of their testimony, did not appear to complete it and could not afterward be found, and the officer did not call any witnesses because the commissioner stated that he would recommend to the board that the testimony be stricken out and that he did not desire to hear any further testimony, but such testimony was not stricken out, either because the commissioner did not recommend or because the board overruled him and the officer was not present at the hearing before the board, the judgment will be reversed.²⁸

bb. Matters Within Discretion of Officer or Tribunal Having Power of Removal. Acts done in the exercise of the discretion vested in the officer or tribunal before whom the hearing is had are not reviewable except in a clear case of abuse of discretion. It has therefore been held that the courts will not interfere on the ground that the punishment inflicted is too severe.²⁹ So the refusal of an adjournment will not be ground for reversal in the absence of an abuse of discretion.³⁰ In case there has been an abuse of discretion in refusing an adjournment the judgment will be reversed.³¹

cc. Bias or Prejudice. Where the power of removal is vested in a single officer bias or prejudice has been held not a ground for removal;³² but where the trial is had before a board and there is a sufficient number of impartial commissioners to pass upon the case, but one of them is absent, and his place is filled by a commissioner who has a personal grievance against the accused inseparably connected with the charge under consideration, the action of the board in dismissing the accused is irregular, and will be annulled.³³

(4) EVIDENCE. In the absence of some statute authorizing or requiring it, the court will not review the evidence to ascertain whether the judgment is war-

who tried relator certified that, in determining guilt or innocence, he had not considered a letter written by prosecutor's attorney after submission of the cause, informing him of subsequent facts, relator was not entitled to a reversal because of the sending of such letter. People v. Greene, 97 N. Y. App. Div. 502, 90 N. Y. Suppl. 162 [reversed on other grounds in 181 N. Y. 308, 73 N. E. 1111].

27. People v. French, 51 Hun (N. Y.) 427, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 841.

What does not amount to exclusion of evidence.—At the close of a proceeding before the trial commissioner, leading to relator's dismissal from the police force, it was stated on behalf of relator that two or three citizens had given their names to him, whom he could get if necessary. Their names were not stated nor the facts to which they would testify, nor was any effort shown to procure their attendance, nor any application made for an adjournment. The trial commissioner then remarked that he did not think it necessary to get them. It was held that this casual remark was not a ruling, and that the facts did not indicate any deprivation of rights. People v. Roosevelt, 25 N. Y. App. Div. 580, 49 N. Y. Suppl. 897.

28. People v. Martin, 17 N. Y. App. Div. 555, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 577 [affirmed in 154 N. Y. 775, 49 N. E. 1102].

29. People v. French, 119 N. Y. 502, 23 N. E. 1061; People v. Greene, 96 N. Y. App. Div. 1, 88 N. Y. Suppl. 1060 [affirmed in 181 N. Y. 554, 74 N. E. 1123]; People v. Greene, 94 N. Y. App. Div. 287, 87 N. Y. Suppl. 1017 [reversed on other grounds in 179 N. Y. 253, 72 N. E. 99]; People v. York, 53 N. Y. App.

Div. 336, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 696; People v. Roosevelt, 7 N. Y. App. Div. 308, 40 N. Y. Suppl. 117; People v. French, 52 Hun (N. Y.) 90, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 55; People v. Tappen, 15 Misc. (N. Y.) 20, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 773 [affirmed in 151 N. Y. 620, 45 N. E. 1133]; People v. McClave, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 561; People v. Bell, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 748.

30. People v. New York Police Com'rs, 84 Hun (N. Y.) 64, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 18 [affirmed in 148 N. Y. 757, 43 N. E. 988]. And see People v. Webster, 98 N. Y. App. Div. 581, 90 N. Y. Suppl. 723, holding that on certiorari to review a refusal of the commissioner to postpone the trial of a police officer, he cannot question the good faith and fairness of a physician called and offered by him to prove his cause for postponement, on the ground that the physician was an appointee of the commissioner.

31. People v. Webster, 98 N. Y. App. Div. 581, 90 N. Y. Suppl. 723; People v. Martin, 13 Misc. (N. Y.) 21, 33 N. Y. Suppl. 1000, where it was clearly proved that the policeman was too ill to attend trial.

Waiver of objection.—On review of the refusal of a commissioner to postpone a trial, the fact that relator has in fact been sick may not be considered, where no evidence thereof was given before the commissioner. People v. Webster, 98 N. Y. App. Div. 581, 90 N. Y. Suppl. 723.

32. People v. Elmendorf, 51 N. Y. App. Div. 173, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 775, 57 N. Y. App. Div. 340, 68 N. Y. Suppl. 54 [affirmed in 168 N. Y. 675, 61 N. E. 1133].

33. People v. Roosevelt, 23 N. Y. App. Div. 533, 48 N. Y. Suppl. 578.

ranted thereby.³⁴ This rule, however, has been materially modified by special statutory provision in some jurisdictions. Thus in New Jersey it is made the duty of the court in reviewing the proceedings of any special statutory tribunal to determine disputed questions of fact as well as of law.³⁵ Under this statute the court will not review the evidence if there be any evidence to justify a conviction.³⁶ It is sufficient that the evidence, whether weak or strong, forms a rational basis for judgment.³⁷ So by the express provisions of the New York code (Code of Civil Procedure, section 2140) it is made the duty of the court on certiorari to review the judgment removing an officer, to determine the sufficiency of the evidence.³⁸ The statute, however, limits the review to a determination of whether there was competent proof of the facts to justify conviction, and, if so, whether such a preponderance of the evidence was against the decision that a similar verdict of a jury would be set aside as against the weight of the evidence.³⁹ And under this statute a judgment of removal will not be disturbed unless so clearly against the weight of the evidence as would require a verdict to be set aside.⁴⁰ Judgment will not be disturbed where the evidence if believed would support a conviction,⁴¹ where the evidence is not controverted,⁴² or where upon the whole evidence the jury might have found the accused guilty;⁴³ not because there is a conflict in the evidence,⁴⁴ unless the preponderance of proof against their conclusion is so great as to warrant the belief that it was the result of passion, prejudice, or mistake on the part of the members of the tribunal;⁴⁵ nor because it is doubtful that the accused was guilty.⁴⁶ So the question of the credi-

34. See Joyce v. Chicago, 216 Ill. 466, 75 N. E. 184.

35. 1 N. J. Gen. St. p. 370, § 18.

36. Marran v. Bordentown, (N. J. Sup. 1905) 61 Atl. 13.

37. Alcutt v. Trenton Police Com'rs, 66 N. J. L. 173, 48 Atl. 1006 [affirmed in 67 N. J. L. 351, 51 Atl. 1108]; Reilly v. Jersey City, 64 N. J. L. 508, 45 Atl. 778; Cavanagh v. Hoboken Police Com'rs, 59 N. J. L. 412, 35 Atl. 793.

38. People v. New York, etc., Bridge, 1 N. Y. App. Div. 186, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 168.

39. People v. Greene, 98 N. Y. App. Div. 620, 90 N. Y. Suppl. 194; People v. French, 15 N. Y. St. 108.

When removal annulled.—When a police officer is charged with intoxication, and the evidence against him consists of certain symptoms, observed by a police surgeon who has examined him, and the inferences drawn by the surgeon from such symptoms, but it is made to appear that the appearances relied on to establish intoxication arose from other conditions, constituting no offense, defendant is entitled to an acquittal, and, if removed, to reinstatement. People v. Roosevelt, 19 N. Y. App. Div. 253, 46 N. Y. Suppl. 175.

40. People v. New York Police Com'rs, 93 N. Y. 97; People v. Greene, 106 N. Y. App. Div. 230, 94 N. Y. Suppl. 477 [affirmed in 184 N. Y. 565, 76 N. E. 1103]; People v. Greene, 96 N. Y. App. Div. 1, 88 N. Y. Suppl. 1060 [affirmed in 181 N. Y. 554, 74 N. E. 1123]; People v. Roosevelt, 16 N. Y. App. Div. 331, 44 N. Y. Suppl. 655; People v. MacLean, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 685. See also People v. Partridge, 95 N. Y. App. Div. 323, 88 N. Y. Suppl. 657; People v. Roosevelt, 26 N. Y. App. Div. 183, 49 N. Y. Suppl. 975;

People v. Roosevelt, 22 N. Y. App. Div. 626, 627, 47 N. Y. Suppl. 806, 776.

Must be clearly against the weight of evidence.—To warrant interference with a judgment of the tribunal removing an officer it must be clearly against the weight of the evidence. People v. York, 35 N. Y. App. Div. 430, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 835; People v. Tappen, 15 Misc. (N. Y.) 23, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 435 [affirmed in 153 N. Y. 658, 47 N. E. 1110]; People v. Hayden, 7 Misc. (N. Y.) 278, 27 N. Y. Suppl. 881.

Applications of rule.—The determination of the police commissioner imposing the highest penalty on a policeman on four findings, by the deputy commissioner, of misconduct, will be reversed, and a new trial directed, the evidence being insufficient to sustain two of the findings, and the other two resting on the oath of a single witness, against the denial of the officer, who had been a member of the police force for thirty-four years, with a good record. People v. Partridge, 86 N. Y. App. Div. 310, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 705.

41. People v. Partridge, 88 N. Y. App. Div. 60, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 779; People v. Robb, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 867.

42. People v. Yonkers Board of Police, 121 N. Y. 716, 24 N. E. 934 [reversing 55 Hun 445, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 640]; People v. French, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 262.

43. People v. MacLean, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 311.

44. People v. Roosevelt, 38 N. Y. App. Div. 635, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 11; People v. Martin, 28 N. Y. App. Div. 73, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 897.

45. People v. Martin, 28 N. Y. App. Div. 73, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 897.

46. People v. MacLean, 12 N. Y. Suppl. 773.

bility of the witnesses is solely for the determination of the officer or tribunal hearing the charge, and no question in that regard can be considered on certiorari.⁴⁷ A decision discharging a policeman is entitled to the same presumptions as the verdict of a jury.⁴⁸

(5) MISCELLANEOUS. An officer who has been removed cannot object on certiorari to the constitutionality of the acts constituting the board which removed him.⁴⁹ Nor can it be objected that the acts for which the officer was removed constituted a criminal offense and that no criminal prosecution had been instituted before proceedings had by the board.⁵⁰ The legality of the relator's appointment may be inquired into on certiorari.⁵¹ It cannot be objected on certiorari that the officer was an officer de facto and cannot be restored, although the proceedings against him were irregular.⁵² It is no ground to reverse a judgment of removal that the designation of the officer who took the testimony was made orally, there being no statutory requirement that such designation be made in writing.⁵³

(1) Reinstatement by Mandamus. To entitle a discharged officer to reinstatement by mandamus, he must have been a de jure officer at the time of his removal.⁵⁴ Nor is an officer improperly removed entitled to be reinstated, where he was regularly removed before commencing proceedings for reinstatement.⁵⁵ Where a statute transferred the police "organization and discipline" from the mayor to a board of police commissioners, mandamus does not lie to compel the board to reinstate an officer improperly removed by the mayor.⁵⁶ And where an officer of the village is removed before consolidation of the village with the city, mandamus will not lie to compel the police commissioners of the consolidated city to recognize him as an officer.⁵⁷ One seeking to compel his restoration to office cannot claim the benefit of the Civil Service Act, which is only applicable to those officers who shall have been appointed under its rules and after the prescribed examination, where by his own showing he had not been appointed after examination but appointment was refused him.⁵⁸ If an officer seeking reinstatement was ineligible at the time of his appointment, the question of whether or not he made false statements in regard thereto will not be considered, as it is immaterial.⁵⁹ Where an officer on being notified of his removal reports for duty on three days following, and finally complies with an order to surrender his insignia of office, he has done all that is necessary to claim his right to maintain proceedings for reinstatement.⁶⁰ Those who wish to avail themselves of the remedy by mandamus to compel restoration to office must move promptly. The right to maintain proceedings is lost by laches.⁶¹ Where the time for commencing proceedings is lim-

47. People v. Greene, 106 N. Y. App. Div. 230, 94 N. Y. Suppl. 477 [affirmed in 184 N. Y. 565, 76 N. E. 1103].

48. People v. New York Police Com'rs, 84 Hun (N. Y.) 64, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 18 [affirmed in 148 N. Y. 757, 43 N. E. 988].

49. Ayers v. Newark, 49 N. J. L. 170, 6 Atl. 659.

50. People v. French, 60 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 377 [affirmed in 24 Hun 659].

51. State v. Millville, 53 N. J. L. 362, 21 Atl. 568.

52. People v. Hannan, 56 Hun (N. Y.) 469, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 71 [affirmed in 125 N. Y. 691, 26 N. E. 751].

53. People v. Greene, 183 N. Y. 483, 76 N. E. 614 [affirming 105 N. Y. App. Div. 642, 94 N. Y. Suppl. 1159].

54. Moon v. Champaign, 214 Ill. 40, 73 N. E. 408 [affirming 116 Ill. App. 403]; McNeill v. Chicago, 212 Ill. 481, 72 N. E. 450 [affirming 93 Ill. App. 124].

De facto officer.—Mandamus will not lie where the most that appears is that petitioner was a de facto officer when removed. McNeill v. Chicago, 212 Ill. 481, 72 N. E. 450 [affirming 93 Ill. App. 124].

Where it does not appear from the petition that the city council had by ordinance ever created the office of policeman, a petition for mandamus to be restored to the office of policeman is demurrable. Moon v. Champaign, 214 Ill. 40, 73 N. E. 408 [affirming 116 Ill. App. 403].

55. Michelson v. Saginaw Police Com'rs, 111 Mich. 587, 70 N. W. 142.

56. State v. Cincinnati Police Com'rs, 7 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 326, 2 Cinc. L. Bul. 114.

57. People v. York, 53 N. Y. App. Div. 429, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 1074.

58. McNeill v. Chicago, 212 Ill. 481, 72 N. E. 450 [affirming 93 Ill. App. 124].

59. People v. Lindblom, 215 Ill. 58, 74 N. E. 73 [affirming 116 Ill. App. 213].

60. Lowrey v. Central Falls, 23 R. I. 284, 49 Atl. 963.

61. Streeter v. Worcester, 177 Mass. 29, ited by statute and the petitioner delays the commencement of proceedings until the statutory period has nearly elapsed, he will not be allowed his salary for the time he is not on duty.⁶³ Reversal by the appellate court of a judgment awarding mandamus without remanding or reciting the facts in its judgment is proper, where there are no errors of law to be corrected on new trial, and no material controverted questions of fact, and the uncontroverted facts do not justify awarding mandamus.⁶³

(m) Actions For Wrongful Removal. Where by express statutory provision police commissioners of a municipality are officers of the state vested with exclusive power to employ and dismiss police officers of the municipality, and in no way subject to its control or accountable to it for their action, a police officer wrongfully discharged by the commissioners has no right of action therefor against the municipality.⁶⁴ It has been held, however, that where the wrongful removal of an officer is based on the proceedings of the city council, and an appropriation made for the payment of his salary does not appear to have been paid to a de facto officer holding the office and performing the duties, the officer removed may recover the same from the city.⁶⁵

(x) SUSPENSION. Where a board having power to suspend passes a rule providing that any member of the police force may be suspended by the chief of police with the approval of the board, a suspension by the board without the consent of the chief is invalid.⁶⁶ It is not an arbitrary and unreasonable exercise of authority to suspend an officer pending a trial before the board on charges which, if tried, would involve his dismissal.⁶⁷ If an officer is suspended after his term of office has expired by limitation, it is immaterial whether the suspension was in accordance with the charter or not.⁶⁸ And notice to police officers that they have been suspended, accompanied by a copy of the ordinance abolishing the offices, is equivalent to notice that the suspension is permanent.⁶⁹ One who has been rightfully suspended from office cannot recover for services which he did not and 58 N. E. 277; People v. Moss, 42 N. Y. App. Div. 196, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 1051.

Construction of particular statutory provisions relating to time of commencing proceedings.—Greater New York Charter, § 302, providing that proceedings to compel reinstatement of a police officer might be brought at any time within two years, was amended by Laws (1901), c. 466, so as to change the period of limitation from two years to four months; but by the express terms of chapter 466, section 1614, that chapter did not affect any right accruing prior to Jan. 1, 1902, when the act went into effect. Hence a policeman, dropped from the rolls of the department prior to Jan. 1, 1902, might commence proceedings for reinstatement at any time within four months after Jan. 1, 1902, and within two years after his discharge, although more than four months thereafter. Healy v. Partridge, 75 N. Y. App. Div. 511, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 392. The provisions of Greater New York Charter, § 302, requiring an action by a police officer against the city for salary or reinstatement to be commenced within two years from cause of action accrued, and that causes "heretofore accrued may be . . . brought within six years . . . and within two years of the passage of this act," are identical with those of Consol. Act, § 272, as amended by Laws (1884), c. 180, § 7, except in the name of the police authorities and of the municipality. Section 1608 of the charter provides that, so far as the provisions of the charter are the same in substance as those of the Consolidation Act, the charter is not to be a new enactment, but a continuation of the Consolidation Act. It was held that the six-years limitation applied only to causes accruing before the passage of the amendment of 1884. People v. York, 36 N. Y. App. Div. 185, 55 N. Y. Suppl. 462.

62. People v. Partridge, 82 N. Y. App. Div. 262, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 109.

63. People v. Lindblom, 215 Ill. 58, 74 N. E. 73. And see Healy v. Partridge, 75 N. Y. App. Div. 511, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 392.

64. Riley v. Kansas City, 31 Mo. App. 439.

65. Chicago v. Luthardt, 191 Ill. 516, 61 N. E. 410, holding that the chief clerk of the detective bureau is an officer within the rule. Compare Gibbs v. Manchester, 73 N. H. 265, 61 Atl. 128, holding that where the police commissioners of a city removed a policeman without having preferred charges and without a hearing as required by law, the city was not liable for the unauthorized acts of the commissioners as for a breach of contract.

66. Bringgold v. Spokane, 27 Wash. 202, 67 Pac. 612.

67. State v. Police Com'rs, 16 Mo. App. 48.

68. Houston v. Albers, 32 Tex. Civ. App. 70, 73 S. W. 1084.

69. Heath v. Salt Lake City, 16 Utah 374, 52 Pac. 602.

had not the right to render.⁷⁰ Where a city charter authorizes the mayor to suspend policemen and report the suspension to the board of councilmen at the next meeting thereafter, with his reasons therefor, and provides that such officer may then be removed or restored by the board, a policeman who was suspended and failed to demand trial by the council cannot, after waiting two years, be reinstated without trial, because the council did not try him.⁷¹

(xi) RESIGNATION OR ABANDONMENT. Where a member of the police force was asked to sign a resignation, and was told that he might better resign than have charges preferred against him, and he did not sign the resignation but requested leave of absence, and on refusal surrendered his insignia of office and did not report for duty for seven days afterward, it was held that a resolution by the police board declaring the absence a resignation under a rule providing that unexplained absence for five days shall, at the option of the board, be deemed a resignation, will not be disturbed.⁷² A policeman ousted from office without authority does not accept an inconsistent office, and so abandon the office of policeman, by serving a few days as special policeman, under an appointment by the mayor, who is empowered to make such appointment, without the formalities required in case of regular policemen, to meet emergencies; the employment to terminate when the emergency ceases.⁷³ Where the police commissioners accept a voluntary resignation of a police officer, no proceedings having been instituted for his removal, their action cannot be inquired into on certiorari.⁷⁴ But where a police officer petitions the board of police commissioners for reinstatement, alleging that he was induced to resign by fraud and coercion, and his petition is denied without his being given an opportunity to be heard, on certiorari to review the action of the board it will be instructed to notify the petitioner of the time and place at which his petition will be heard, and to give him an opportunity to present his evidence.⁷⁵

(xii) REDUCTION IN RANK OR TRANSFER. A charter provision that roundsmen shall be selected from among patrolmen of the first grade, but roundsmen may be reduced to the grade of patrolmen by the police commissioners, after trial on charges, authorizes the police commissioner to reduce a roundsman to patrolman after trial.⁷⁶ Where a charter provides for a detective bureau and the appointment of roundsmen and detective sergeants who shall not be reduced in rank except in the manner provided by law for sergeants and other police officers, and there is no provision for the reduction of sergeants, but there is a provision for the reduction of roundsmen after a trial upon charges, detective sergeants may be reduced after trial upon charges.⁷⁷ A charter provision empowering the board of police commissioners to fix and assign the rank and duties of transferred members applies only to cases where a police officer, before the consolidation, had been acting with title and rank not authorized by the consolidation, and does not authorize the board to reduce the rank after consolidation.⁷⁸ A detective officer in the police department of a city cannot be reduced to roundsman, at decreased pay, without notice and hearing as provided for in case of removals.⁷⁹ A statute providing that those acting as detective sergeants on a certain date should not be reduced in rank or salary except in case of removal as provided by law for members of the police force applies only to cases of those retained in that position

70. Westberg v. Kansas City, 64 Mo. 493.

71. Taylor v. Bayonne, 56 N. J. L. 265, 28 Atl. 380.

72. People v. Diehl, 50 N. Y. App. Div. 58, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 362 [affirmed in 167 N. Y. 619, 60 N. E. 1118].

73. Houston v. Clark, (Tex. Civ. App. 1904) 80 S. W. 1198. And see Houston v. Estes, 35 Tex. Civ. App. 99, 79 S. W. 848.

74. People v. Martin, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 411.

75. People v. Voorhis, 66 Hun (N. Y.) 83, 20 N. Y. Suppl. 941.

76. People v. Greene, 99 N. Y. App. Div. 495, 90 N. Y. Suppl. 833.

77. People v. Greene, 91 N. Y. App. Div. 58, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 322 [affirmed in 178 N. Y. 617, 70 N. E. 1106].

78. Buschmaun v. New York City, 35 Misc. (N. Y.) 607, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 127.

79. State v. Jersey City, 53 N. J. L. 118, 20 Atl. 831.

until the act took effect.⁸⁰ Where a captain has been illegally reduced to the rank of patrolman and protested against the reduction, but served as patrolman, and began legal proceedings to procure his position as captain, his administratrix can recover his salary for the time he served, based on the pay of a police captain less the pay as a patrolman and less his dues to the police pension fund.⁸¹ A policeman holding office under a statute declaring that policemen shall hold office for four years, and be subject to removal for cause only, who is, with his acquiescence reduced to the position of turnkey, provided for by a statute which declares that turnkeys shall be appointed for such time as the police commissioners shall determine, holds the office of turnkey only during the pleasure of the board, and subject to summary removal, where the board has failed to fix the term, even though the reduction constitutes a new appointment for a new office.⁸² A statute forbidding the removal of a police officer except for incapacity, misconduct, non-residence, or disobedience prohibits the transfer of an officer from the position of sergeant to the inferior position of patrolman for any other than the causes specified.⁸³ Where under a charter provision authorizing it a detective sergeant is assigned to do duty as desk sergeant, he must obey the rules of the police department, although the assignment is irregular, and a violation thereof renders him liable to such punishment as the charter and rules of the department permit.⁸⁴

(XIII) *COMPENSATION*⁸⁵ — (A) Right Thereto — (1) OF DE JURE OFFICER — (a) IN GENERAL. Unless expressly fixed by statute,⁸⁶ or in the manner provided by statute,⁸⁷ a police officer is not entitled to compensation for his services as such.⁸⁸ And the appointment to such an office to which no salary or compensation is attached, and the performance of its duties, cannot raise an implied promise to pay,⁸⁹ even where the statute provides that the appointee's position shall depend upon a given action on the part of the municipality, if such action be not actually taken.⁹⁰

(b) DURING PERIOD OF SUSPENSION. Where a police officer is suspended for a given number of days each week by a tribunal having no power so to do, another tribunal having that power, the attempted suspension is a nullity, and he is entitled to his salary for the period during which he was unlawfully suspended.⁹¹ So too where a municipal board by its rule makes suspension a joint matter between itself and the chief of police, suspension of a policeman by the board alone pending the hearing of charges of misconduct is void, and he is entitled to his salary from the date of the suspension to the date of the order of removal.⁹² But where a policeman is removed, for sufficient cause, by a tribunal having power so to do, he is not, although afterward reinstated by that tribunal, entitled to recover compensation during the period of suspension;⁹³ nor does the fact that the cause of suspension was subsequently declared insufficient entitle a policeman to salary during the period of suspension, where he was suspended by one having, for sufficient

80. People v. Greene, 87 N. Y. App. Div. 421, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 484 [affirmed in 180 N. Y. 504, 72 N. E. 1147], in which it was further held, however, that a patrolman assigned to duty in the detective bureau for five days, and continued in that position by respective assignment at the expiration of each five-day period, is not within the meaning of such statute, since his appointment was merely temporary and he ceased to become entitled to that position at the end of each five-day period.

81. Buschmann v. New York, 35 Misc. (N. Y.) 607, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 127.

82. State v. Hawes, 177 Mo. 360, 76 S. W. 653.

83. Leary v. Orange, 59 N. J. L. 350, 35 Atl. 786.

84. People v. Greene, 91 N. Y. App. Div.

58, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 322 [affirmed in 178 N. Y. 617, 70 N. E. 1106].

85. Right to rewards offered see REWARDS.

86. Mousseau v. Sioux City, 113 Iowa 246, 84 N. W. 1027.

87. Galvin v. St. Paul, 58 Minn. 475, 59 N. W. 1102; Sampson v. Rochester, 60 N. H. 477.

88. Mousseau v. Sioux City, 113 Iowa 246, 84 N. W. 1027; Sampson v. Rochester, 60 N. H. 477.

89. Mousseau v. Sioux City, 113 Iowa 246, 84 N. W. 1027.

90. Sampson v. Rochester, 60 N. H. 477.

91. Louisville v. Corley, 80 S. W. 203, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 2174.

92. Bringgold v. Spokane, 27 Wash. 202, 67 Pac. 612.

93. Shannon v. Portsmouth, 54 N. H. 183.

cause, the power so to do, and the charter speaks of the suspension as creating a vacancy and provides how that vacancy shall be filled.⁹⁴

(c) DURING PERIOD OF REMOVAL. A police officer who claims to have been illegally removed from his office by a tribunal having jurisdiction cannot maintain an action for salary alleged to have accrued after such dismissal, while such dismissal remains in force.⁹⁵ But where his title to the office has been determined in a proper proceeding,⁹⁶ or he has been reinstated by a competent tribunal,⁹⁷ the officer is entitled to the salary that accrued during the period of removal, and his right to compensation during such period is unaffected by the fact that he neither discharged⁹⁸ nor offered to discharge the duties of his office,⁹⁹ unless the charter makes active service a condition precedent to a right to receive any salary whatever;¹ nor can any deduction be made for what he earned or might have earned in another employment, compensation being not a matter of contract but of mandate.² Where a police officer is discharged without cause by one having no authority to do so, the effort to discharge is a nullity, and he is entitled to the salary accruing after such attempted discharge,³ unless by acquiescing in his dismissal he must be deemed to have voluntarily abandoned or relinquished his office.⁴

(d) WHILE ABSENT FROM DUTY. A police officer comes within the general rule that a public officer has a prima facie right to the salary of his office,⁵ although physically disabled from performing his duties;⁶ and if there be no law or regu-

94. Steuenville v. Culp, 38 Ohio St. 18, 43 Am. Rep. 417, in which it was said that if the office is vacant it becomes, as to the suspended person, for the time being, as though it did not exist, and as to the public the person appointed to fill such vacancy is the sole incumbent.

95. Queen v. Atlanta, 59 Ga. 318; Van Sant v. Atlantic City, 68 N. J. L. 449, 53 Atl. 701; Hoboken v. Gear, 27 N. J. L. 265.

96. Everill v. Swan, 20 Utah 56, 57 Pac. 716.

97. State v. Walbridge, 153 Mo. 194, 54 S. W. 447.

Reinstatement impossible.—If the removal was illegal, and the officer's term has expired, so that he cannot be reinstated, the courts should simply give judgment for the salary accruing from the date of removal to the end of his term. State v. Walbridge, 153 Mo. 194, 54 S. W. 447.

If no removal reinstatement unnecessary.—Where a legally appointed and qualified police officer, without being suspended or removed, was prevented from performing his duties by agents of the municipality, and held himself ready at all times to discharge his duties and offered to discharge them, he is entitled to recover salary for the time he was thus prevented from performing the duties of his office. French v. Lawrence, 190 Mass. 230, 76 N. E. 730, where the court says that plaintiff, from anything disclosed by the declaration, was rightfully in possession and exercising the functions of his office, and no material averment is found on which defendant, relying upon Phillips v. Boston, 150 Mass. 491, 23 N. E. 202, can base an argument that if plaintiff has been suspended unlawfully or removed before he commenced the present action he must be restored to his office by appropriate legal proceedings before it can be maintained.

98. State v. Walbridge, 153 Mo. 194, 54

S. W. 447; Houston v. Estes, 35 Tex. Civ. App. 99, 79 S. W. 848; Cawthon v. Houston, 31 Tex. Civ. App. 1, 71 S. W. 329.

99. State v. Walbridge, 153 Mo. 194, 54 S. W. 447.

1. Wilkinson v. Saginaw, 11 Mich. 585, 70 N. W. 142.

2. Everill v. Swan, 20 Utah 56, 57 Pac. 716. See also State v. Walbridge, 153 Mo. 194, 54 S. W. 447; Houston v. Estes, 35 Tex. Civ. App. 99, 79 S. W. 848; Cawthon v. Houston, 31 Tex. Civ. App. 1, 71 S. W. 329. Contra, in Colorado where the contract rule of abatement of amount recovered by the sum a police officer earned or might have earned in other employment is applied. Leadville v. Bishop, 14 Colo. App. 517, 61 Pac. 58; Denver v. Burnett, 9 Colo. App. 531, 49 Pac. 378.

3. Houston v. Estes, 35 Tex. Civ. App. 99, 79 S. W. 848; Cawthon v. Houston, 31 Tex. Civ. App. 1, 71 S. W. 329.

4. Byrnes v. St. Paul, 78 Minn. 205, 80 N. W. 595, 79 Am. St. Rep. 384, where the court held that an appointive police officer unlawfully dismissed by one having no authority and prevented from rendering any service, who has made no complaint to the mayor or the city council, has not attempted to secure a reinstatement, but who has apparently acquiesced in the dismissal, cannot recover of the municipality the compensation incident to the office during the period in which he has performed no service, since he must be deemed to have voluntarily abandoned or relinquished his office, or, as it is sometimes expressed, to have "resigned by implication."

5. Wilkes-Barre v. Meyers, 113 Pa. St. 395, 6 Atl. 110.

6. Cavanev v. Milan, 99 Mo. App. 672, 72 S. W. 408; Cox v. Oil City, 157 Pa. St. 613, 27 Atl. 736 (holding, however, that a policeman in the service of the city with a distinct understanding that he shall not be paid for lation authorizing the discontinuance of the compensation during the disability, the only remedy is by removal.⁷ But under statutory authority to make all needful regulations for the efficiency of the police force, the city may provide that an officer absent from duty without leave shall forfeit all pay during the time of such absence,⁸ except when sick and so certified by a physician;⁹ and in addition fines and forfeitures may be established for absence or neglect of duty.¹⁰ Under statutory authority to make all needful regulations for the efficiency of the police force, no deduction can be made by the city from the salary of an officer whose absence from duty was made necessary by a disability incurred in the performance of his duty.¹¹

(e) WHILE HOLDING OVER. A policeman cannot continue to draw compensation from the city as an officer holding over after the expiration of his term, where, after holding over a while, his successor is elected and he is informed that he will not be paid for further services, although he continues, without authority, to render services.¹²

(f) AFTER ABOLITION OF OFFICE. On the lawful abolition of the office of policeman, the salary incident thereto determines forthwith.¹³

(g) CONSTABLE FEES. As a general rule a salaried policeman may not claim for himself the statutory fees allowed for constable services,¹⁴ but in some jurisdictions it is held that he is entitled to fees payable out of the county or state treasury for services in state cases.¹⁵ time he is not on duty cannot recover compensation for time he is relieved from actual duty by reason of sickness); Wilkes-Barre v. Meyers, 113 Pa. St. 395, 6 Atl. 110.

7. People v. French, 91 N. Y. 265; Wilkes-Barre v. Meyers, 113 Pa. St. 395, 6 Atl. 110.

8. People v. New York Police Com'rs, 27 Hun (N. Y.) 261; Williams v. Harrisburg, 4 Dauph. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 47.

Absence because of imprisonment.—However, a policeman arrested by his superior officer on a criminal charge, and afterward acquitted, is not deemed to have been voluntarily absent from his post without leave from the time of arrest until the time of his acquittal, so as to authorize a pro rata reduction from his salary during such period. People v. New York Police Com'rs, 27 Hun (N. Y.) 261.

9. Wilkes-Barre v. Meyers, 113 Pa. St. 395, 6 Atl. 110; Craighead v. Philadelphia, 5 Pa. Dist. 310.

10. Malcolm v. Boston, 173 Mass. 312, 53 N. E. 812.

11. People v. French, 91 N. Y. 265.

Evidence held sufficient to show disability contracted in service.—Under the act of April 11, 1853, relating to the police department of New York city, allowing the mayor to relieve policemen for any period they may be absent from duty without permission, except when absent from diseases contracted in the public service, and in such cases they shall receive their full pay, where it appears that a member of the police department who had been absent from duty on account of sickness had been previously exposed to severe weather and had been found sick while on his post, such evidence is sufficient to sustain a finding that the sickness was incurred in the discharge of his duty, entitling him to the portion of the salary accruing during his absence. Santa Minto v. New York, 3 E. D. Smith (N. Y.) 384.

12. Beverly v. Hattiesburg, 83 Miss. 342, 35 So. 876.

13. Oldham v. Birmingham, 102 Ala. 357, 14 So. 793; Meissner v. Boyle, 20 Utah 316, 58 Pac. 1110; Heath v. Salt Lake City, 16 Utah 374, 52 Pac. 602.

A provision inhibiting the diminution of a salary of a police officer during the term of his office does not entitle an officer to salary after the office is abolished to the end of the year to which he was appointed. Oldham v. Birmingham, 102 Ala. 357, 14 So. 793.

14. Johnson v. State, 94 Tenn. 499, 29 S. W. 963. See also Swisher v. Franklin County, 5 Pa. Dist. 209.

Serving a subpoena on a witness, or attending as a witness, is not a service pertaining to the office of a policeman for which, by the act of July, 1897, he is prohibited from taking compensation in addition to his salary. Com. v. Lloyd, 9 Kulp (Pa.) 25.

The act of July 14, 1897, forbidding any policeman to charge or accept any fee or other compensation in addition to his salary, repeals Act, April 4, 1837, c. 21, § 25, providing that policemen in the borough of Pottsville shall receive the same fees as the constables of the borough are entitled to by law. Weaver v. Schuylkill County, 17 Pa. Super. Ct. 327.

Ordinance requiring officer to pay over fees.—Where an ordinance provides that the salaried policeman shall pay over to the city all fees fixed by law and received by him for his official services, such policeman cannot retain a statutory fee for the performance of a given official duty. Worcester v. Walker, 9 Gray (Mass.) 73.

15. Ruell v. Alpena, 108 Mich. 290, 66 N. W. 49; White v. Manistee County, 105

(h) REIMBURSEMENT FOR EXPENDITURES. In the absence of prohibitive charter provisions, a municipality has the power to reimburse a police officer for expenses and attorney's fees incurred in the defense of an action for false imprisonment, it appearing that the officer was acting in good faith in the exercise of his official duties.¹⁶

(i) WAIVER AS TO COMPENSATION. A policeman may waive, by his silence and acquiescence in his dismissal or removal from office, his right to the salary incident thereto.¹⁷ But a police officer removed by the mayor alone, where the charter provides that it cannot be done by him except with the concurrence of the council, does not, by merely surrendering the insignia of his office and other public property, waive his right to compensation.¹⁸

(2) DE FACTO OFFICERS. A policeman who is merely a de facto officer is not entitled to the compensation attached to the office.¹⁹

(B) Amount—(1) IN GENERAL. When the amount of a police officer's compensation has been fixed by legal authority, that is the compensation, no more and no less, that he is entitled to receive.²⁰

(2) POWER TO FIX. When the compensation of a police officer is not fixed by the legislature,²¹ the doctrine is well settled that the power so to do may be, and generally is, delegated by it to the common council,²² or to a board of police

Mich. 608, 63 N. W. 653; Com. v. Lloyd, 9 Kulp (Pa.) 25.

16. Moorhead v. Murphy, 94 Minn. 123, 102 N. W. 219, 110 Am. St. Rep. 345, 68 L. R. A. 400.

17. Phillips v. Boston, 150 Mass. 491, 23 N. E. 202; Byrnes v. St. Paul, 78 Minn. 205, 80 N. W. 959, 79 Am. St. Rep. 384; Gibbs v. Manchester, 73 N. H. 265, 61 Atl. 128; Healey v. Partridge, 75 N. Y. App. Div. 511, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 392.

18. Galvin v. St. Paul, 58 Minn. 475, 59 N. W. 1102.

19. Stephens v. Campbell, 67 Ark. 484, 55 S. W. 856; Nichols v. MacLean, 101 N. Y. 526, 3 N. E. 347, 54 Am. Rep. 730. See also Andrews v. Portland, 79 Me. 484, 10 Atl. 458, 10 Am. St. Rep. 280.

Illustration.—Thus, when illegally appointed, a policeman is not entitled to a salary attached to the office. Foster v. Wilmington, 8 Houst. (Del.) 415, 32 Atl. 348; O'Brien v. St. Paul, 72 Minn. 256, 75 N. W. 375.

One whose appointment as policeman is invalid because of his ineligibility cannot collect his salary as policeman for a period during which he was not actually in the office and was performing none of its duties. Yorks v. St. Paul, 62 Minn. 250, 64 N. W. 565.

20. Belleville v. Flemming, 9 Ill. App. 316; Ruell v. Alpena, 108 Mich. 290, 66 N. W. 49.

Detailed to perform special duty.—Under the ordinances which provide a less rate of compensation for policemen who are detailed by the mayor or chief of police for special duty than is provided for those who perform post or patrol duty, a policeman who, during the whole term of employment, was detailed by the mayor to serve at the court of sessions, is not entitled to be paid as patrolman, although he did patrol duty a part of every Sunday, and occasionally was called out to serve at fires. Mincho v. New York, 4 Bosw.

(N. Y.) 47. A person appointed as a policeman to perform certain special duties, claimed, under certain acts of the legislature and ordinances of the city of New York, a salary of six hundred dollars per annum for the whole term of his services. It was held that as a policeman detailed on special duty, he was only entitled under the ordinance passed Aug. 18, 1851, as amended by the ordinance passed Nov. 14, 1851, to be compensated for his services at the rate of five hundred dollars per annum, but that under the ordinance of Sept. 13, 1853, he was entitled to be so compensated from Jan. 1, 1853, at the rate of six hundred dollars per annum. Walling v. New York, 4 Duer (N. Y.) 310.

Illegal discharge before expiration of term.—Where a policeman appointed at a salary of seventy-five dollars or eighty-five dollars per month, according to the detail of the work, was illegally discharged before the expiration of his term of service and was not thereafter permitted to perform any of the duties of his office, he was only entitled to recover at the rate of seventy-five dollars per month for the unexpired term. Cawthon v. Houston, 31 Tex. Civ. App. 1, 71 S. W. 329.

21. People v. Albany Police Com'rs, 108 N. Y. 475, 15 N. E. 692; Mahon v. New York, 29 Misc. (N. Y.) 251, 60 N. Y. Suppl. 541 [affirmed in 52 N. Y. App. Div. 631, 65 N. E. 1139], holding, however, that Laws (1894), c. 741, fixing the pay of members of the police force in cities does not apply to "park police" appointed by the park commissioners in New York city, under Consol. Act, § 690, authorizing the appointment of park police, such statute being a general statute and referring only to the force appointed by police commissioners.

22. See the following cases:

Kentucky.—Neumeyer v. Krakel, 110 Ky. 624, 62 S. W. 518, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 190.

commissioners.²³ But charter provisions authorizing police commissioners to fix salaries for patrolmen, and to enact by-laws, ordinances, rules, and regulations for their government, do not give them power to divide patrolmen into two or more distinct grades, with different salaries attached to each grade.²⁴

(3) CHANGE DURING TERM OF OFFICE—(a) IN GENERAL. In the absence of constitutional prohibition the legislature may change, or authorize a municipality to change, the salary or compensation of a policeman while in office.²⁵ And even an existing constitutional prohibition against changing the salary of any municipal officer²⁶ or public officer²⁷ during his term of office applies only to officers having fixed terms, and not to a policeman removable at pleasure by the board of police commissioners.²⁸

(b) ENFORCING RIGHT TO INCREASE. To compel a municipal civil service commissioner to certify an appointment and promotion in pursuance of law, so as to entitle the relator to increased compensation, mandamus will lie at the instance of a police officer;²⁹ but not when the officer's appointment is merely temporary which does not constitute a promotion.³⁰

(4) WAIVER AS TO AMOUNT. It is well settled that a policeman, employed by the year³¹ or removable at pleasure,³² may, by continuing in the service and accepting his salary as reduced, be estopped after his discharge to question the validity of the reduction. But where the law, and not the commissioners, grades a police officer as to his compensation, such officer does not, by receiving compensation

Michigan.—Ruell v. Alpena, 108 Mich. 290, 66 N. W. 49.

Minnesota.—Galvin v. St. Paul, 58 Minn. 475, 59 N. W. 1102.

New Hampshire.—Gibbs v. Manchester, 73 N. H. 265, 61 Atl. 128.

New York.—Shanley v. Brooklyn, 30 Hun 396.

Canada.—Matter of Prince, 25 U. C. Q. B. 175.

Power to fix does not warrant denial of compensation.—A city ordinance providing that the compensation of police officers shall be fixed by the mayor does not warrant the aldermen, the mayor not concurring, in denying to police officers lawfully holding their offices any compensation whatever. Murphy v. Webster, 131 Mass. 482.

23. Smith v. Lowell, 190 Mass. 332, 76 N. E. 956; Flanagan v. Kansas City, 69 Mo. 462; Gooch v. Exeter, 70 N. H. 413, 48 Atl. 1100, 85 Am. St. Rep. 637; People v. Albany Police Com'rs, 108 N. Y. 475, 15 N. E. 692; People v. Robbins, 109 N. Y. App. Div. 387, 95 N. Y. Suppl. 901.

According to time actually employed.—Where the city provides for the appointment of special policemen by the board of police commissioners, who are to receive only the compensation allowed by the board, a special policeman, by accepting such appointment, becomes subject to the custom of the board to assign him to duty for but a portion of the time and to pay him the same compensation paid to regular policemen for the time he is actually employed. People v. Robbins, 109 N. Y. App. Div. 387, 95 N. Y. Suppl. 901.

24. People v. Albany Police Com'rs, 108 N. Y. 475, 15 N. E. 692.

25. Mangan v. Brooklyn, 98 N. Y. 585, 50 Am. Rep. 705.

26. Lexington v. Rennick, 105 Ky. 779, 49 S. W. 787, 50 S. W. 1106, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 1609, 1924.

27. Russell v. Williamsport, 9 Pa. Co. Ct. 129.

28. Lexington v. Rennick, 105 Ky. 779, 49 S. W. 787, 50 S. W. 1106, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 1609, 1924; Russell v. Williamsport, 9 Pa. Co. Ct. 129.

29. Toole v. Ogden, 39 Misc. (N. Y.) 581, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 584.

Error in certificate of officer's record.—A refusal of civil service commissioners to certify the promotion of a police officer on a pay roll because of an alleged error in the certificate of the captain's record, which error if it had not occurred would have reduced his rating below that required for promotion, is not justified where the officer is not charged with any fraud in the matter, and the evidence does not show that the error had any effect in causing his promotion. Toole v. Ogden, 39 Misc. (N. Y.) 581, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 584.

30. People v. Knox, 57 N. Y. App. Div. 155, 68 N. Y. Suppl. 267.

31. Galveston v. Murphy, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 732, holding that where the monthly salary of a policeman employed by the year is reduced by resolution, such policeman may, by continuing in the service and drawing and receipting for the sum as reduced each month, until the end of the term, waive the right to question such reduction.

32. Lexington v. Rennick, 105 Ky. 779, 49 S. W. 787, 50 S. W. 1106, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 1609, 1924, holding that where a police officer, who is removable by the board of police commissioners at pleasure, accepts without objection his salary as reduced by ordinance, he is estopped after his discharge to question the validity of the reduction.

attached to the lower grade, estop himself to claim the difference.³³ And where a police officer is made to understand by his superiors that he will be discharged for failure to comply with an order of reduction, the signing of the pay roll does not under such circumstances constitute a waiver of the right to claim full compensation.³⁴

(c) Payment — (1) FUND THEREFOR. It is no defense to a policeman's demand for his compensation against funds of the police appropriation still unexpended that the appropriation was only calculated for the force then existing, that claimant and others were afterward appointed in addition, and that if these are paid the fund will not hold out the year for the old men.³⁵ And the fact that the controller may have no funds in the treasury subject to the requisition of the police board will not excuse its refusal to draw a requisition for an officer's salary. It is for the controller to interpose such an objection, upon an application to him.³⁶

(2) PROCEEDINGS TO ENFORCE — (a) MANDAMUS. So long as a police officer holds title to office, and is not removed or retired for disability, he is entitled to the entire salary, although disabled by sickness from performing his official duties, and mandamus lies to compel payment of his salary by the municipality.³⁷ So too mandamus lies to compel a municipal board to perform the ministerial duty of drawing a requisition for the salary of a police officer,³⁸ or to certify him on the monthly pay roll of the police department.³⁹

(b) ACTION AT LAW — aa. In General. One having title to the office of a policeman who, although neither suspended nor removed, was prevented by the agents of the municipality from performing his official duties, and held himself ready at all times to discharge such duties and offered to discharge them, is entitled to maintain an action for salary for the time he was thus prevented from performing his duties.⁴⁰

33. Meehan v. Brooklyn, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 563.

Where a petitioner is entitled under the Civil Service Act to the position and compensation of a first-class patrolman as classified pursuant to such act, the mere fact that he may monthly have received and receipted for an amount of compensation less than that fixed by ordinance for one entitled to and holding such a position does not, where he has not explicitly waived his rights, estop him from claiming the amount fixed by such ordinance. Chicago v. McNally, 117 Ill. App. 434.

Claiming salary in futuro.— One entitled to rank as sergeant does not, by receiving and receipting for salary as patrolman, estop himself from claiming his salary in futuro as a sergeant, after compelling his recognition as such. People v. Greene, 95 N. Y. App. Div. 397, 88 N. Y. Suppl. 601.

34. Louisville v. Corley, 80 S. W. 203, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 2174.

35. Com. v. Hinkson, 161 Pa. St. 266, 28 Atl. 1081.

36. People v. New York Bd. of Police, 75 N. Y. 38.

37. People v. French, 91 N. Y. 265.

38. Sanford v. Kansas City, 69 Mo. 466; Riley v. Kansas City, 31 Mo. App. 439.

39. Toole v. Ogden, 39 Misc. (N. Y.) 581, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 584.

40. French v. Lawrence, 190 Mass. 230, 76 N. E. 730.

Pleading.— Where a police officer has been kept out of his office by the city authorities during the period for which he seeks to recover salary, he need not allege in his complaint that he was ready and willing to perform the duties of the office. Everill v. Swan, 20 Utah 56, 57 Pac. 716. In an action against a city a declaration alleging that plaintiff had been appointed and confirmed a police officer and performed his duties until a certain date, when he was illegally and unjustifiably prevented and restrained from performing the duties of his office by the agents of defendant city, alleging the salary to which he was entitled during the time that he was so prevented, and seeking to recover the amount due for the time that his services were not accepted, it was held that the allegations in respect to the city for illegally and unjustifiably preventing plaintiff from performing his duties should be treated as surplusage and could not be construed as amounting to allegations that plaintiff had ever been suspended by removal, or that his tender of services were made during such suspension or after the removal. French v. Lawrence, 190 Mass. 230, 76 N. E. 730.

Defenses.— In an action by a policeman against a municipality for salary earned defendant may, under a general denial, show that the appointment of plaintiff was invalid by reason of the fact that the number of men on the force exceeded the statutory limit. Murtagh v. New York, 106 N. Y. App. Div. 98, 94 N. Y. Suppl. 308. It is a defense to an action for compensation by a

bb. Conditions Precedent. As previously shown one who has been removed by a tribunal having jurisdiction cannot maintain an action for salary while the judgment of removal remains in force.⁴¹ There must be a judicial determination of his right to the office in a direct proceeding brought for that purpose.⁴² And when the law prescribes a certificate or other evidence of the right to salary as a condition precedent to payment thereof, no action lies until the condition has been complied with.⁴³ But when a police officer is discharged by one having no power of removal, the power being vested in a police board, and the charter requires an appeal only from such board, the officer is not required to take an appeal as a condition precedent to an action against the city to recover his salary for the unexpired term.⁴⁴

(3) RESTRAINING PAYMENT. Injunction will lie at the suit of a taxpayer to restrain payment by a municipality of compensation to police officers illegally appointed,⁴⁵ or where the steps taken for the payment did not conform to the requirements of a city ordinance.⁴⁶ But the writ will not lie on the ground that the officer was assigned to special duty in a given squad without his fitness having been previously ascertained in the manner prescribed by law.⁴⁷ police officer who was illegally removed that the compensation attached to the office was actually paid to a de facto officer performing the duties of the office. Grant v. New York, 111 N. Y. App. Div. 160, 97 N. Y. Suppl. 685. Contra, Everill v. Swan, 20 Utah 56, 57 Pac. 716.

(xiv) PENSIONS AND BENEFIT FUNDS—(A) Right Thereto—(1) NATURE. Neither a police officer nor his beneficiary has a vested right in a pension fund

Evidence.—In an action for salary earned, plaintiff must show that he was duly appointed. Murtagh v. New York, 106 N. Y. App. Div. 98, 94 N. Y. Suppl. 308. Where the complaint in an action by a police officer for his salary during an unauthorized and void suspension alleged that he was a police officer during such suspension and performed all the work required of him, evidence that he at all times held himself in readiness to perform his duties was admissible under the allegations. Bringgold v. Spokane, 27 Wash. 202, 67 Pac. 612. Where the trial court finds plaintiff has been improperly removed, and that he is entitled to recover his salary for the balance of the term, evidence of the amount he had or could have earned in other employment should be admitted in mitigation of damages, and a rejection of such evidence is reversible error. Leadville v. Bishop, 14 Colo. App. 517, 61 Pac. 58. Where, in an action by a policeman for salary, the defense was that plaintiff had been removed prior to the time for which arrears of salary were claimed, by a person acting as mayor, together with a recorder and an alderman, plaintiff contending that another was mayor and the removal void, defendant cannot show that the person acting as mayor had the most votes and was entitled to the office, where the other candidate had the canvasser's certificate of election. Johnson v. New York Cent. R. Co., 33 N. Y. 610, 88 Am. Dec. 416. The mayor of Albany being, unless absent, an essential member of the council provided for hearing charges against policemen, evidence is not admissible, in an action by a policeman to recover his salary, to show that such policeman was removed prior to the time when the salary claimed to be due accrued, by a body of which the mayor de facto was not a constituent party, it not appearing that the mayor was absent. Hadley v. Albany, 33 N. Y. 603, 88 Am. Dec. 412.

41. See supra, VII, B, 5, d, (XIII), (A), (1), (c).

42. Selby v. Portland, 14 Oreg. 243, 12 Pac. 377, 58 Am. Rep. 307.

43. Sanford v. Kansas City, 69 Mo. 466; Riley v. Kansas City, 31 Mo. App. 439.

Failure to make necessary appropriation must be shown.—A salaried policeman employed by the police department of a city which regularly provides funds out of which that department makes its own expenditures cannot sue the city for a balance of salary due unless he shows that there has been some default on the part of the city in making the necessary appropriation. Waterman v. New York, 7 Daly (N. Y.) 489 [following Dannat v. New York, 66 N. Y. 585].

44. Cawthon v. Houston, 31 Tex. Civ. App. 1, 71 S. W. 329.

45. Somers v. Bridgeport, 60 Conn. 521, 22 Atl. 1015, holding, however, that the appointment in question was valid both on the theory that members of the common council present but not voting should be regarded as having voted with the majority, and that a tie was broken by the declaration by the mayor of the result which amounted to a casting vote.

46. Somers v. Bridgeport, 60 Conn. 521, 22 Atl. 1015, holding, however, that it was competent for the council to waive the provisions of an ordinance designed to prescribe an orderly and systematic method of payment, and that a direction to pay constituted such waiver.

47. Stone v. New York Municipal Civil Service Commission, 63 N. Y. App. Div. 273, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 1054.

created by the state and to be paid upon the happening of a certain event,⁴⁸ until such event shall have actually happened.⁴⁹

(2) DEPENDING ON CAUSE OF DEATH. An act providing that the widow or children of a police officer who shall die from natural causes, after having served a given number of years, shall be entitled to share in a pension fund, does not apply to a death caused by a railroad accident.⁵⁰

(3) DEPENDING ON MEMBERSHIP. A police officer does not become a member in good standing of a benefit association until he has conformed to all of the by-laws of such association, and to all contracts and agreements which he has entered into relative to the payment of benefits.⁵¹ A retired member of a force who is still subject to be assigned to duty in case of emergency continues to be a member of such force, and comes within an act granting a pension to the widow of a member of the force dying from natural causes.⁵² Under a statutory provision that the benefit to accrue by reason of the decease of members may be extended to such members as may be retired from the police force, the association may extend the benefit to a part only of the class named, by a by-law; and if this is done the association will not be bound by the acts of its officers in extending the benefit to those not included by such by-law.⁵³

(4) SUSPENSION OF PAYMENTS. Under a rule providing that no money shall be drawn from the benefit fund until it reaches a certain sum, benefits are merely suspended, and become payable as soon as the sum stated is realized.⁵⁴

(B) Contributions to Fund—(1) IN GENERAL. If the act creating the fund leaves each member of the police force to determine for himself whether he will contribute to the fund and thereby avail himself of the benefits of the act, no deduction from the compensation of any member of the force for the purposes of the fund can be made against his will.⁵⁵

(2) RETURN. Where the provisions of an act for the relief fund cannot be carried into effect without compulsory contributions, and the courts decide that such contributions are not compulsory, payments made before decision by members of the police force under the belief that they are compulsory should be refunded.⁵⁶ But officers who have no claim on a fund except upon the happening of a certain event are not entitled to the return of the amount contributed by them to the fund, where they are discharged from the force before the happening of the prescribed event.⁵⁷

48. Clarke v. Police, etc., Ins. Bd., 123 Cal. 24, 55 Pac. 576; Nicols v. San Francisco Police Pension Fund Com'rs, 1 Cal. App. 494, 82 Pac. 557; St. Louis Police Relief Assoc. v. Strode, 103 Mo. App. 694, 77 S. W. 1091; Friel v. McAdoo, 101 N. Y. App. Div. 155, 91 N. Y. Suppl. 454 [affirmed in 181 N. Y. 558, 74 N. E. 1117]; Pennie v. Reis, 132 U. S. 464, 10 S. Ct. 149, 33 L. ed. 426.

49. Kavanagh v. San Francisco Police Pension Fund Com'rs, 134 Cal. 50, 66 Pac. 36.

50. Slevin v. San Francisco Police Pension Fund Com'rs, 123 Cal. 130, 55 Pac. 785, 44 L. R. A. 114, holding further that such a provision is not one against suicide only, for that it is no more an unnatural death than any other death resulting from external violence.

51. Agreement to pass physical examination.—Where a patrolman agrees that he should not participate in the benefit of the association until he had passed a physical examination, which he never did, the agreement is not without consideration and no benefit is payable on his death. Lydon v. Pittsburg Police Pension Fund Assoc., 8 Pa. Super. Ct. 251.

52. Kavanagh v. San Francisco Police Pension Fund Com'rs, 134 Cal. 50, 66 Pac. 36.

Must be member of both force and association.—Under the charter of a police relief association providing that whenever any member of the police force who is a member of the association shall die, a certain sum shall be paid to the beneficiary, a beneficiary of a certificate on the life of a retired veteran of the police force cannot recover in the event of the death of such veteran, as a member of the force on whose life a certificate is issued must be at the time of his death a member of the police force as well as a member of the association to entitle the beneficiary to recover. Price v. St. Louis Police Relief Assoc., 90 Mo. App. 210.

53. Burbank v. Boston Police Relief Assoc., 144 Mass. 434, 11 N. E. 691.

54. Miller v. Hamilton Police Ben. Fund, 28 Can. Sup. Ct. 475.

55. People v. McClave, 102 N. Y. 463, 7 N. E. 406. See also Murray v. Buckley, 1 N. Y. Suppl. 247.

56. Murray v. Buckley, 1 N. Y. Suppl. 247.

57. Clarke v. Reis, 87 Cal. 543, 25 Pac. 759.

(c) Designation of Beneficiary. Where a former member of a police relief association resumes his membership on rejoining the force, the designation of his wife as beneficiary, made during his earlier membership, continuing of record with the association, the most that is necessary to continue the designation of the wife as payee is a formal or informal ratification of such designation by the member, acceptable to the association.⁵⁸

(d) Retirement of Officer—(1) VOLUNTARY. The capacity in which a police officer shall be retired, or the amount of pension which he shall receive, is not affected by the fact that at the time of the application for retirement he is performing duties under a special assignment.⁵⁹ When service for a given period constitutes, for a police officer, ground of retirement on a pension, it is not necessary that such services shall be continuous.⁶⁰ To be eligible to voluntary retirement on a pension for disability incurred in the service, an officer must be a member of the force up to the time the final order is made placing his name on the retired list,⁶¹ or at least a member at the time of the filing of his application.⁶² When the police commissioners have a discretionary power to retire an officer on a pension after a given period of service, they may deny his right so to retire when charges of misconduct are pending against him.⁶³ Nor is it material that the charges were not preferred until after the filing of the application but before action thereon.⁶⁴ It has been held that even where the statute providing for retirement after a given period of service is mandatory in its terms, no right to be so retired while under suspension on charges of misconduct is conferred.⁶⁵ The discretionary power of a pension board to retire a member of the force on a pension after a given period of service cannot be controlled by mandamus.⁶⁶

(2) INVOLUNTARY. Where the law requires the examination and certificate of a medical officer as to physical or mental disability, in order to authorize his compulsory retirement, such certificate is indispensable,⁶⁷ although the disability of the officer is conceded;⁶⁸ and the certificate must conform strictly in substance and form with the statutory requirements.⁶⁹ No discretion is vested in the police 58. St. Louis Police Relief Assoc. v. Strode, 103 Mo. App. 694, 77 S. W. 1091.

59. Fay v. Partridge, 78 N. Y. App. Div. 204, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 722 [reversed on other grounds in 174 N. Y. 526, 66 N. E. 1107], holding that while New York City Charter, § 276, recognizes the office of a detective sergeant, inasmuch as the mere detailing of a patrolman to perform the duties of a detective sergeant does not make him the holder or occupant of such office, that he is acting as detective sergeant at the time he makes application to be pensioned as such is of no avail to him.

60. People v. French, 46 Hun (N. Y.) 232.

61. State v. Milwaukee Policemen's Pension Fund, 123 Wis. 245, 101 N. W. 373.

62. People v. Chicago Police Pension Fund Com'rs, 116 Ill. App. 252; McGann v. Harris, 114 Ill. App. 308.

63. People v. Martin, 145 N. Y. 253, 39 N. E. 960.

An anonymous communication containing no statement of any act or neglect constituting a breach of duty on the part of the police officer, although certain statements were made reflecting upon him as an officer, is not a charge pending, even where it had been in the possession of the commissioner of police for two weeks before the application for retirement was filed. People v. Greene, 181 N. Y. 308, 73 N. E. 1111.

64. People v. Martin, 145 N. Y. 253, 39 N. E. 960; People v. French, 108 N. Y. 105, 15 N. E. 188.

65. People v. Greene, 87 N. Y. App. Div. 589, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 673.

66. Friel v. McAdoo, 101 N. Y. App. Div. 155, 91 N. Y. Suppl. 454 [affirmed in 181 N. Y. 558, 74 N. E. 1117].

67. People v. McAdoo, 184 N. Y. 268, 77 N. E. 17; State v. Policemen's Pension Fund, 119 Wis. 436, 96 N. W. 825.

68. State v. Policemen's Pension Fund, 119 Wis. 436, 96 N. W. 825.

69. People v. McAdoo, 184 N. Y. 268, 77 N. E. 17.

Certificate not properly authenticated.—An order of the police commissioners in the city of New York dismissing a policeman and placing him on the pension list on the certificate of the board of surgeons that he was unfit for full police duty, authenticated only by the signatures of the president and secretary, is invalid through lack of proper statutory certificate of disability required by Laws (1901), c. 466, § 357. People v. McAdoo, 184 N. Y. 268, 77 N. E. 17.

Certificate defective in substance.—A certificate of a medical board appointed to examine relator certified that he was permanently disabled so as to be "unfit for police duty"; that the cause of the disability was obesity, fatty heart, poor circulation, and commissioners in reference to the retirement of an officer on pension when the statute directs that he shall be relieved and dismissed from service after having attained a given age.⁷⁰

(E) Revocation of Pension. If the right of an officer to share in a pension fund created by the state depends upon the happening of a particular event, his interest in the fund is a mere expectancy and liable to be defeated at any time before the happening of the event by the action of the legislature in repealing the law creating the pension,⁷¹ or making new and different provisions for the distribution of the fund.⁷² And the right of the legislature to thus revoke the pension is not affected by the fact that a given sum was retained from the officer each month, since such sum, although called in law a part of his compensation, is in fact an appropriation of that amount by the state each month to the creation of the fund.⁷³ The power of trustees of a pension fund of which the state is donor is not exhausted by merely designating a beneficiary and fixing the amount of his pension, but such trustees have the authority in their discretion to subsequently discontinue the pension.⁷⁴ If a pension is awarded for past services under a law which does not forbid the pensioner's reëmployment on the force, a subsequent reëmployment does not operate to revoke his pension.⁷⁵

(F) Statutory Provisions. Acts granting police pensions are prospective in their operation and do not govern cases where retired members of the force have died prior to their enactment.⁷⁶

(XV) VACATION. Under a statute authorizing a city to make reasonable provisions for preserving the public peace and maintaining its internal police, a city has power to grant a reasonable vacation to policemen, not subjecting it to additional expense.⁷⁷ Power to grant a vacation exists also under a statute authorizing the mayor and aldermen to make such regulations for the government of the police department, not inconsistent with law, as they shall deem proper.⁷⁸

e. Other Persons Connected With Police Department — (1) INSPECTOR. Seniority among several inspectors is determined by appointment, not by qualification.⁷⁹ Where an applicant for inspectorship has failed on competitive examination to show the required mental and physical standards mandamus will not lie to compel the examiners to certify his qualification for the office.⁸⁰ that the nature of the disability was permanent and its extent such as to unfit him for the further performance of "full police duty." It was held that such certificate should be construed as a whole, and that the statement that he was unfit to perform "full police duty" qualified and limited the first clause that he was "unfit for police duty." People v. McAdoo, 184 N. Y. 268, 77 N. E. 17.

70. People v. French, 13 N. Y. St. 584.

71. Friel v. McAdoo, 101 N. Y. App. Div. 155, 91 N. Y. Suppl. 454 [affirmed in 181 N. Y. 558, 74 N. E. 1117].

72. Clarke v. Police, etc., Ins. Bd., 123 Cal. 24, 55 Pac. 576; Friel v. McAdoo, 101 N. Y. App. Div. 155, 91 N. Y. Suppl. 454 [affirmed in 181 N. Y. 558, 74 N. E. 1117]; Pennie v. Reis, 132 U. S. 464, 10 S. Ct. 149, 33 L. ed. 426.

73. Pennie v. Reis, 132 U. S. 464, 10 S. Ct. 149, 33 L. ed. 426.

74. People v. Matsell, 94 N. Y. 179.

Fund donated to then members of force.—Where the donors of a fund annexed a condition that the fund was to be applied to the then members of the police force, it was held that the board accepting the fund for disposal of it in accordance with the wishes of the donors could not divert it from that purpose and apply it to the formation of a merit fund for the whole body of the police that might thereafter exist. Peel v. Metropolitan Police, 44 Barb. (N. Y.) 91.

75. People v. York, 41 N. Y. App. Div. 419, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 735.

76. Clarke v. Police L., etc., Ins. Bd., 127 Cal. 550, 59 Pac. 994; People v. Partridge, 172 N. Y. 305, 65 N. E. 164, holding further that a police pension would be unconstitutional if construed to authorize the granting of a pension to the widow of a policeman who died several years before its enactment, as an appropriation of public moneys for private purposes.

77. Wood v. Haverhill, 174 Mass. 578, 55 N. E. 381.

78. Wood v. Haverhill, 174 Mass. 578, 55 N. E. 381.

79. People v. Martin, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 730, holding that a police inspector whose appointment precedes the appointment of another inspector by a few minutes is entitled to seniority, although the other may have been several hours earlier in taking the oath of office.

80. Allaire v. Knox, 62 N. Y. App. Div. 29, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 845 [affirmed in 168 N. Y. 642, 61 N. E. 1127].

(ii) POLICE CLERK. An appointment of a police clerk is valid, although the resolution making the same does not show on its face that it was passed by a majority of the board.⁸¹ The office of police clerk's assistant is an office of the competitive class within civil service laws, providing that applicants to civil service offices belong to the competitive class when the position to which they seek appointment is such that the applicant's merit can be determined by competitive examination.⁸² Where police clerks are considered county and not city officers, a statute requiring every person appointed under the city government to take an oath before the mayor does not apply to them.⁸³ Where a statute provides that the salary of police clerks shall be paid out of the city treasury, the city is liable therefor, although they are county officers.⁸⁴ Assistant clerks are not included within a charter amendment fixing at a designated amount the salaries of "clerks of the police courts."⁸⁵ Where a statute makes it the duty of police commissioners to reduce the expenses of the department as far as is practicable, they may for this purpose remove a deputy clerk without notice or hearing, although the appropriation for the department is sufficient to pay the whole force employed.⁸⁶

(iii) POLICE JUDGE. A police judge is a judicial officer, but he is a judicial officer of a municipality, and does not come within a constitutional provision that judicial officers shall be elected at the time and in the manner that state officers are elected.⁸⁷

(iv) POLICE MATRON. One not regularly appointed police matron, but whose tenure is probationary and at the pleasure of the power appointing her, may be removed without cause.⁸⁸ If errors intervening in the progress of the trial for removal render the order of removal voidable only, it cannot be impeached collaterally in a suit for wages.⁸⁹

(v) ENGINEER AND CREW OF PATROL BOAT. The chief engineer of a police patrol boat is not a member of the police force, as he is not mentioned in the statute specifying the employees composing it,⁹⁰ and statutes authorizing the commissioner of police to employ such crew as he might deem necessary for the police patrol boat does not make such crew members of the police force, merely by virtue of their employment.⁹¹

(vi) CITY JAILER. The governing board of a city has no inherent power to create the office of city jailer. It can exercise only those powers granted in express terms or necessarily implied, or those essential to the declared object and purpose of the corporation, not simply convenient but indispensable.⁹² Where a statute provides that a city jailer shall perform such duties as the general council shall prescribe, he may be required by ordinance to perform the duties of janitor of the city hall and the building adjacent, in which were located the offices of city officers.⁹³ Where the legislature fixes the minimum compensation of a city jailer,

81. Canniff v. New York, 4 E. D. Smith (N. Y.) 430.

Vacancy at time of appointment.—Where, to establish the validity of an appointment to the office of police clerk, it was necessary to show that a vacancy existed in that office at the time the appointment was made, it was held, in an action for salary, that the resignation of a former incumbent, in the absence of proof to the contrary, raised a presumption that the vacancy continued to the period when the present claimant was appointed. Canniff v. New York, 4 E. D. Smith (N. Y.) 430.

82. People v. Knox, 45 N. Y. App. Div. 518, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 469.

83. Canniff v. New York, 4 E. D. Smith (N. Y.) 430.

84. Canniff v. New York, 4 E. D. Smith (N. Y.) 430.

85. Cregier v. New York, 11 Daly (N. Y.) 171.

86. People v. French, 25 Hun (N. Y.) 111, 10 Abb. N. Cas. 418.

87. People v. Henry, 62 Cal. 557.

88. McNab v. Bay City, 125 Mich. 51, 83 N. W. 1022.

89. Chicago v. Campbell, 118 Ill. App. 129.

90. People v. York, 43 N. Y. App. Div. 444, 60 N. Y. Suppl. 208.

91. People v. York, 43 N. Y. App. Div. 444, 60 N. Y. Suppl. 208.

92. State v. Canavan, 17 Nev. 422, 30 Pac. 1079.

93. Paducah v. Evitts, 120 Ky. 444, 86 S. W. 1123, 27 Ky. L. Rep. 867.

the council cannot pass an ordinance fixing it at a sum less than the minimum prescribed by the legislature.⁹⁴

(VII) POUND-KEEPER. Where the office of pound-keeper is a public office created by statute, a municipal corporation has no power to appoint such officer unless authority therefor is expressly conferred by charter.⁹⁵ Where appointment by a municipality is authorized, and the appointee's compensation for services as such fixed, he cannot recover salary for incidental services as special policeman, having been informed on his appointment to the latter office that he would receive no pay for services rendered in performing the duties thereof.⁹⁶

(VIII) DOORKEEPER. A doorman at a station house is not a member of the police force where the charter expressly enumerates the force as "captain, roundsman and patrolmen," and the police board may appoint doormen to hold office at its pleasure.⁹⁷ Where under the statutes, the doorman at a station is not a police officer, he may be removed at the discretion of the police board, without preferring charges against him.⁹⁸ Where a doorman is illegally transferred to another department, his failure to perform the duties of the new office constitute no ground for removing him from his office as doorman.⁹⁹

(IX) POLICE SURGEON. Charter authority to appoint an adequate police force confers no right to appoint a police surgeon as a member of the police force,¹ and if it were otherwise employment of a physician to attend policemen, at a stipulated fee for each visit, would not render him "attached to the police force," under a consolidation charter, providing for the transfer to the force of the city persons related to the police force transferred.² The fixing and allowing of a monthly salary for the police surgeon regularly employed by the police commissioners to perform services for the police department, required under their rules for the government and discipline of the police force, does not create an office.³ A police surgeon has been held not a "clerk or employee" within a statute authorizing the police board to fix their compensation.⁴

(X) WATCHMAN. A night watchman appointed under charter authorization for a fixed term with a fixed salary has been held to be an officer and not a mere employee.⁵ He is concluded as to his salary by the terms of the resolution appointing him, even though he did not in fact know them.⁶

(XI) STATION MASTER. A station-house keeper, although appointed by a police board pursuant to delegated authority, and with the implied consent of the council of the municipality to perform functions pertaining to the police department, is not a member of the police force, because not included in a provision expressly stating of whom the police force shall consist.⁷ The common council may abolish the office of station master in the interest of economy and to lessen the expense of government.⁸

6. HEALTH — a. In General. The exercise of the powers essential to municipal

94. Paducah v. Evitts, 120 Ky. 444, 86 S. W. 1123, 27 Ky. L. Rep. 867.

95. White v. Tallman, 26 N. J. L. 67.

96. Decatur v. Vermillion, 77 Ill. 315.

97. People v. York, 35 N. Y. App. Div. 372, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 888.

Presumption of appointment.—The action of the police commissioners, under the Greater New York charter, in permitting the relator to perform the duties of doorman in the police force for two months after the charter took effect, does not authorize the presumption of a new appointment, since no such appointment is authorized under the charter. People v. York, 35 N. Y. App. Div. 372, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 888.

98. Tilley v. Cleveland, 4 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 397, 2 Clev. L. Rep. 105.

99. People v. Bishop, 15 Misc. (N. Y.)

273, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 411 [affirmed in 157 N. Y. 675, 51 N. E. 1093].

1. People v. York, 32 N. Y. App. Div. 57, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 778.

2. People v. York, 32 N. Y. App. Div. 57, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 778.

3. Cain v. Warner, 45 N. Y. App. Div. 450, 60 N. Y. Suppl. 769.

4. People v. New York Bd. of Police, 75 N. Y. 38 [reversing 12 Hun 653].

5. Doolan v. Manitowoc, 48 Wis. 312, 4 N. W. 475.

6. Doolan v. Manitowoc, 48 Wis. 312, 4 N. W. 475.

7. People v. Ham, 166 N. Y. 477, 60 N. E. 191.

8. People v. Ham, 166 N. Y. 477, 60 N. E. 191 [reversing 57 N. Y. App. Div. 367, 68 N. Y. Suppl. 298].

sanitation and quarantine is usually committed to a board of health,⁹ but they may be wielded by the police board or by the common council.¹⁰ Its organization is usually dependent upon the provisions of the charter or the general statutes.¹¹ Members of the board of health have been held to be state and not municipal officers.¹²

b. Appointment and Removal of Officers — (i) APPOINTMENT — (A) In General. Authority to appoint the officers of a municipal health department is usually conferred upon the mayor or the city council,¹³ and in the absence of statutory authority such power cannot be delegated.¹⁴ When the manner in which appointments shall be made is prescribed, it should be followed, or the appointment will be invalid;¹⁵ but an enlargement of the charter requirements by ordinance does not have that effect.¹⁶

(B) Subordinate Officers. Subordinate officers, clerks, and employees are generally authorized to be appointed by the head of the department.¹⁷

(ii) REMOVAL. Where the right to remove health officers is reserved in the appointing power without the necessity of making charges it may be exercised in the discretion of the appointing power before the expiration of the term.¹⁸ Where, however, the right of removal is made dependent upon the preferring of charges, one cannot be removed unless such charges are made,¹⁹ unless the removal is made solely to meet a reduction in appropriations.²⁰

c. Compensation of Officers. Health officers are officers of the city and must be paid by it.²¹ When the amount of such compensation is not fixed by statute, it may be fixed by ordinance, and the salary so allowed will not be interfered with by the courts unless unreasonably small.²² When expressly permitted the board

9. Smith Mun. Corp., §§ 1066, 1675.

10. Smith Mun. Corp., §§ 1052, 1058; State v. Hornberger, 8 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 96, 5 Cinc. L. Bul. 626.

11. Smith Mun. Corp., § 1674.

12. Davock v. Moore, 105 Mich. 120, 63 N. W. 424, 28 L. R. A. 783; Taylor v. Philadelphia Bd. of Health, 31 Pa. St. 73, 72 Am. Dec. 724.

13. Health officers are city officers.—A statute directing a county judge to fill a vacancy in a city board of health after thirty days is unconstitutional in that members of that board are city officers within a constitutional provision that city officers shall be elected or appointed by the city authorities. People v. Houghton, 182 N. Y. 301, 74 N. E. 830 [affirming 102 N. Y. App. Div. 209, 92 N. Y. Suppl. 661].

14. Atty.-Gen. v. McCabe, 172 Mass. 417, 52 N. E. 717.

15. Klais v. Pulford, 36 Wis. 587.

16. St. Louis v. Liessing, 190 Mo. 464, 89 S. W. 611, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 918, holding that where the charter requires the city chemist to be appointed by the mayor and approved by the council, an appointment is not rendered invalid by the fact that an ordinance requires appointments to be also approved by the board of health.

17. The medical staff or board of visiting physicians of the Philadelphia hospital, consisting of specialists or experts in the various departments of medical science, performing gratuitous services, are not officers, clerks, or employees within such a provision. Com. v. Fidler, 147 Pa. St. 288, 23 Atl. 568, 15 L. R. A. 205 [affirming 10 Pa. Co. Ct. 144].
Coroner's physician.—Under a statute providing that each coroner of Greater New York city shall appoint a physician to be known as a "coroner's physician," the coroner has a right to appoint such a physician, whose term shall be the same as that of the coroner. People v. Goldenkranz, 38 Misc. (N. Y.) 682, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 267.

18. Riffe v. Tingley, 103 Ky. 631, 45 S. W. 1046, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 281; State v. Somers, 35 Nebr. 322, 53 N. W. 146.

Express removal unnecessary.—A health officer may as well be removed by the appointment of another to take his place as by an express act of removal. State v. Craig, 69 Ohio St. 236, 69 N. E. 228.

19. A health officer of a city is not an employee within a statute providing that no employees in the health department shall be removed or reduced in pay, except for cause assigned and after a hearing. State v. Craig, 69 Ohio St. 236, 69 N. E. 228.

Health wardens are neither chiefs of bureaus nor clerks within a statute authorizing the head of the department to remove chiefs of bureaus and clerks. Demarest v. New York, 42 Barb. (N. Y.) 186.

A salaried food inspector in the department of health of New York city is not a clerk or head of a bureau. People v. New York Health Dept., 86 N. Y. App. Div. 521, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 800 [affirmed in 176 N. Y. 602, 68 N. E. 1123].

20. People v. New York Health Dept., 86 N. Y. App. Div. 521, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 800 [affirmed in 176 N. Y. 602, 68 N. E. 1123].

21. Graves v. Paducah, 89 S. W. 708, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 576.

22. Graves v. Paducah, 89 S. W. 708, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 576.

of health may fix the salary of the health officers²³ and clerks.²⁴ While receiving a salary, no implied assumpsit can arise for specific services.²⁵ During a period of unlawful removal from office, health officers are, like other officers, entitled to their salaries,²⁶ where no one is appointed in their stead.²⁷ When it has been expressly declared and assented to that services rendered shall be honorary, no right to compensation exists.²⁸

d. Authority, Powers, and Duties of Officers. City boards of health have general supervision of all matters pertaining to the preservation of the public health, and their power is commensurate with their duty.²⁹ To this end they are commonly given authority to adopt such rules and regulations, make such contracts, and employ such medical attendants and other persons as to them seems best to promote the public welfare;³⁰ to make orders for the suppression and removal of nuisances;³¹ to make quarantine regulations;³² to supervise vaccination;³³ and to maintain actions to restrain by injunction violation of its orders and regulations.³⁴ Other and further duties may be imposed upon health officers by the city council where power so to do has been expressly conferred.³⁵ Their power and jurisdiction is of course confined to their respective municipalities.³⁶ Under a statute constituting the city council the board of health, where no other board is appointed, neither the power nor the obligation of the council is lessened by the

23. Compensation of physician employed by board.—Where a board of health was authorized to fix the compensation of health officers, and audit the fees of persons employed by them, such board has power to fix the compensation of a physician employed by them, and the common council has no power to reduce the amount so fixed. Pease v. Saginaw, 126 Mich. 436, 85 N. W. 1082.

Must keep salaries within appropriation.—A board of health of a city has no power to fix the salary of the health officers in a sum in excess of the appropriation made by councils therefor, and by so doing make the city liable to respond to such officer for such excess. Watt v. Altoona, 9 Pa. Dist. 235, 23 Pa. Co. Ct. 410.

24. Wilson v. New York, 31 Misc. (N. Y.) 693, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 328.

25. Wendell v. Brooklyn, 29 Barb. (N. Y.) 204.

26. Stoddart v. New York, 80 N. Y. App. Div. 254, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 344; Smith v. Brooklyn, 6 N. Y. App. Div. 134, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 990.

27. Smith v. Brooklyn, 6 N. Y. App. Div. 134, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 990.

28. Haswell v. New York, 81 N. Y. 255 [affirming 9 Daly 1].

29. Rae v. Flint, 51 Mich. 526, 16 N. W. 887.

Manner of incorporation of municipality immaterial.—Members of village boards of health are subjected to the same duties and liabilities, whether the village for which they are appointed is incorporated under a general or special act. Matter of Lansingburgh Bd. of Health, 43 N. Y. App. Div. 236, 60 N. Y. Suppl. 27.

30. Elliott v. Kalkaska Sup'rs, 58 Mich. 452, 25 N. W. 461, 55 Am. Rep. 706; Rae v. Flint, 51 Mich. 526, 16 N. W. 887.

Employment of counsel.—Boards of health have no power to employ private counsel to prosecute indictments for nuisance. Reynolds

v. Ossining, 102 N. Y. App. Div. 298, 92 N. Y. Suppl. 954; Smith v. Scranton, 2 Pa. Co. Ct. 331.

Where a board of health in awarding a contract do not exercise their untrammelled judgment, but are controlled by an illegal ordinance, which they supposed binding on them, such contract is not legal. Goddard v. Lowell, 179 Mass. 496, 61 N. E. 53.

31. Raymond v. Fish, 51 Conn. 80, 50 Am. Rep. 3; Gould v. Rochester, 39 Hun (N. Y.) 79 [reversed on other grounds in 105 N. Y. 46, 2 N. E. 275].

32. Train v. Boston Disinfecting Co., 144 Mass. 523, 11 N. E. 929, 59 Am. Rep. 113.

33. Ft. Wayne v. Rosenthal, 75 Ind. 156, 39 Am. Rep. 127, holding that a city ordinance making it the duty of a board of health to provide for the vaccination of persons as a protection against smallpox does not impose upon the board or its members the duty to do such services personally, but only to provide therefor.

34. Gould v. Rochester, 39 Hun (N. Y.) 79 [reversed on other grounds in 105 N. Y. 46, 12 N. E. 275].

35. Wendell v. Brooklyn, 29 Barb. (N. Y.) 204, in which it was decided that the common council has authority to add to the duties of the health officer the duty of inspecting and granting to police officers and candidates for the place of police officers certificates of their physical fitness for the duties imposed upon them.

36. Gould v. Rochester, 39 Hun (N. Y.) 79 [reversed on other grounds in 105 N. Y. 46, 12 N. E. 275], holding that where a city discharged its sewerage into a creek to the injury of a town below, through which the creek ran, the town board of health, having no jurisdiction beyond the town limits, could make no order in the premises binding on the city nor maintain a suit to restrain the city from violating its order.

failure to designate a subagency, and their power is a police power and is commensurate with their duty.³⁷

e. Criminal Responsibility of Officers. While health officers are not liable for injuries resulting from the mistaken exercise of discretionary power,³⁸ they are indictable for refusing to perform their duty,³⁹ and for gross negligence.⁴⁰

7. BUILDINGS — a. Appointment and Removal of Officers — (1) APPOINTMENT. The department of buildings may be established by statute, or by ordinance under charter authority.⁴¹ An amended charter creating a department of buildings operates to repeal an ordinance creating a bureau of inspection and to remove all officers of the former bureau;⁴² and the abolition of the department abolishes all offices in it not expressly excepted.⁴³ Where no department of buildings is created, it is usually provided that an inspector of buildings shall be appointed by the mayor or the council.⁴⁴ An ordinance defining the qualifications of an inspector is mandatory, and the appointment of one who has not such qualifications is invalid.⁴⁵

(1) REMOVAL. A building inspector, being an assistant to the building commissioner, is subject to removal by him at pleasure,⁴⁶ unless charges are expressly required to be preferred.⁴⁷

b. Term of Office. Officers of the building department usually hold for a fixed and definite term, which may be changed by the power authorized to fix it.⁴⁸

c. Compensation of Officers. The salary attached to an office in the building department is presumed to be in full for all services rendered, and an officer or employee is not entitled to extra compensation for special services.⁴⁹ Where no

37. Rae v. Flint, 51 Mich. 526, 16 N. W. 887.

38. Raymond v. Fish, 51 Conn. 80, 50 Am. Rep. 3.

39. Com. v. Genther, 17 Serg. & R. (Pa.) 135.

40. Aaron v. Broiles, 64 Tex. 316, 53 Am. Rep. 764.

41. Cutshaw v. Denver, 19 Colo. App. 341, 75 Pac. 22.

42. Cutshaw v. Denver, 19 Colo. App. 341, 75 Pac. 22.

43. O'Toole v. Stewart, 75 N. Y. App. Div. 497, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 473.

Reinstatement.—Under a statute providing that when any employment is abolished the persons filling the employment shall be deemed suspended without pay, and shall be entitled to reinstatement in any similar employment should there be need for their services, an employee of the abolished department of buildings is only entitled to reinstatement when the superintendent of buildings decides that his services are needed, and in the absence of any showing of bad faith on the part of the superintendent his decision in that regard is not reviewable by the courts. O'Toole v. Stewart, 75 N. Y. App. Div. 497, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 473.

44. In re Building Inspectors, 17 R. I. 819, 21 Atl. 913.

45. State v. Starkey, 49 Minn. 503, 52 N. W. 24.

"Practical building mechanic."—One who has for more than five years been a student of architecture and building construction, and has planned, worked on, and superintended the construction of buildings of different kinds, inspecting the work of construction in all its branches, is a "practical building mechanic," within a city charter prescribing the qualifications of inspectors of buildings. People v. Buffalo, 18 Misc. (N. Y.) 533, 42 N. Y. Suppl. 545.

46. Magner v. St. Louis, 179 Mo. 495, 78 S. W. 782; State v. Longfellow, 95 Mo. App. 660, 69 S. W. 596; State v. Longfellow, 93 Mo. App. 364, 67 S. W. 665. See also People v. Purroy, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 181 [affirmed in 125 N. Y. 713, 26 N. E. 755].

When building inspector not "officer."—Under a city charter defining the term "officers" to include all persons holding any city situation with an annual salary or for a definite term, a building inspector ceases to be an officer, as regards mode of removal, on the repeal of an ordinance prescribing a yearly salary and a definite term, and the substitution of another giving such inspector only a monthly salary and no definite term. Magner v. St. Louis, 179 Mo. 495, 78 S. W. 782.

That a notice to a building inspector of his removal is signed by the president of the board of public improvements, as well as by the commissioner of public buildings, does not affect the validity of the notice. State v. Longfellow, 95 Mo. App. 660, 69 S. W. 596.

47. People v. Brady, 48 N. Y. App. Div. 128, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 603, holding that the office of inspector of buildings being an important one, the commissioner is justified in removing from such office one who entered a saloon, and committed an assault on a person inside.

48. State v. Starkey, 49 Minn. 503, 52 N. W. 24.

49. Chamberlain v. Kansas City, 125 Mo. 430, 28 S. W. 745; McCabe v. New York, 77

salary has been fixed as required by law, none can be recovered.⁵⁰ When an office in such department is abolished, the salary attached thereto becomes extinct.⁵¹

d. Reimbursements For Expenditures. Building inspectors are entitled to an allowance for expenditures necessary for the performance of their official duties, but they have no implied power to appropriate to themselves a gross sum for which they are not to be accountable, or to estimate or guess what amount they probably have expended. They must render a detailed account.⁵²

e. Powers, Duties, and Liabilities of Officers. The powers and duties of building superintendents and inspectors are defined by charter or ordinance,⁵³ and for any neglect or non-performance of a duty imposed whereby other persons sustain injury they may be held liable in damages.⁵⁴

8. FIRE DEPARTMENT⁵⁵— a. Nature, Status, and Powers in General. Municipal corporations, particularly those of the first class, are usually given express power to provide for the organization and support of a fire department,⁵⁶ or the fire department may be created by the organic law of the municipality as a distinct department independent of the legislative department.⁵⁷ The municipal organization for fire protection is often regarded as a quasi-corporation,⁵⁸ and as

N. Y. App. Div. 637, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 176 [affirmed in 176 N. Y. 587, 68 N. E. 1119].

50. Middleton v. New York, 50 Misc. (N. Y.) 587, 99 N. Y. Suppl. 440.

51. Cutshaw v. Denver, 19 Colo. App. 341, 75 Pac. 22.

52. Matter of Building Inspectors' Accounts, 12 Phila. (Pa.) 226.

53. Supervising construction of city hall.—Where a city ordinance requires the department of public buildings to attend to the enforcement of all ordinances pertaining to the erection and alteration of buildings, and such other duties as may be required by the board of public works, the superintendent of that department can be required to supervise the construction of a city hall. Chamberlain v. Kansas City, 125 Mo. 430, 28 S. W. 745.

Requiring erection of fire-escapes on factories.—Labor Law (Laws (1897), p. 481, c. 415, § 82), providing that such fire-escapes as may be deemed necessary by the factory inspector shall be provided on the outside of every factory in this state consisting of three or more stories in height, does not repeal by implication the provision of the Greater New York Charter (Laws (1897), c. 378), enacted but nine days prior to the Labor Law, granting and continuing to the superintendent of buildings in the city of New York jurisdiction to require the erection of fire-escapes on factory buildings in that city. New York v. Sailors' Snug Harbor, 85 N. Y. App. Div. 355, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 442 [affirmed in 180 N. Y. 527, 72 N. E. 1140].

54. Merritt v. McNally, 14 Mont. 228, 36 Pac. 44; Connors v. Adams, 13 Hun (N. Y.) 427.

Personal default necessary.—McGuinness v. Allison Realty Co., 46 Misc. (N. Y.) 8, 93 N. Y. Suppl. 267.

55. Destruction of property under emergency police power see infra, XI, A, 8, k.

Exemption of firemen from jury duty see JURIES, 24 Cyc. 205.

Liability of city to fireman for injury see infra, XIV, A, 2, b.

License-fees of insurance companies devoted to benefit of department see INSURANCE, 22 Cyc. 1391.

56. See the statutes of the several states and charters of particular municipalities. An see Moreton v. Swan, 20 Utah 79, 57 Pac. 718.

Where power is conferred upon the selectmen by general statute to establish a fire department they cannot be deprived of such power by vote of the town. Long v. Sargent, 101 Mass. 117, holding that the fact that a town has at its annual meeting elected fire wards does not affect the right of the selectmen, under Gen. St. c. 24, §§ 23-31, to establish a fire department.

Effect of organization of department.—In case a fire department is established the duties of town fire wards are suspended, although they remain officers of the town. Long v. Sargent, 101 Mass. 117.

57. People v. Newman, 96 Cal. 605, 31 Pac. 564, holding that a constitutional provision that "any county, city, town, or township may make and enforce within its limits all such local, police, sanitary, and other regulations as are not in conflict with general laws," did not authorize the board of supervisors of a certain city and county by ordinance to reorganize and regulate the fire department of that municipality, since the charter of the city and county provided for the organization and administration of such department as a branch of the municipal government, and could not be abrogated by such ordinance. See Clarissy v. Metropolitan Fire Dept., 7 Abb. Pr. N. S. (N. Y.) 352; Jones v. Doherty, (Tex. Civ. App. 1900) 56 S. W. 596.

58. Prout v. Pittsfield Fire Dist., 154 Mass. 450, 28 N. E. 679 (so holding of a fire district); Clarissy v. Metropolitan Fire Dept., 7 Abb. Pr. N. S. (N. Y.) 352. See also supra, I, C, 3, b, (III), (B), (1).

such may sue and be sued,⁵⁹ or may compromise doubtful and disputed claims;⁶⁰ but the fact that the fire department has this standing as a public quasi-corporation does not in itself render its officers civil officers.⁶¹ By statute the powers with regard to building inspection usually vested in the building department⁶² are sometimes vested in the fire department,⁶³ in which case it has no right to delegate such powers.⁶⁴ A board of fire wardens has no power to make by-laws affecting third persons except as such power is expressly granted.⁶⁵ A fire department has no power to prohibit the use of means for the extinguishment of fires, other than those employed by it, when such means are used without interference with or obstruction of its own operations.⁶⁶

b. Volunteer Departments — (i) IN GENERAL. Municipalities which do not maintain an entire paid department usually rely upon the services of volunteer companies,⁶⁷ the officers being in some instances salaried, while the members in general serve without compensation save certain exceptions, such as from militia⁶⁸ and jury⁶⁹ duty, or from poll⁷⁰ and general municipal⁷¹ taxes. And these companies are regarded as a portion of the municipal government.⁷² The facts that the fire department of a city is voluntary to the extent that no person is compelled to become a member, and that no member is under a legal obligation to continue his membership, does not render it a mere voluntary association; yet it may be regarded as a branch of the city government.⁷³ The members and officers of a volunteer fire department are not, as a mere result of such membership, civil and public officers.⁷⁴

(ii) MUNICIPAL CONTROL. Under a power to determine the number of fire companies required for the protection of the city a board of fire commissioners may reduce the number of companies.⁷⁵ And a provision requiring a hearing upon charges as precedent to a dismissal of individual members of a fire department does not limit the power to disband a volunteer company.⁷⁶ Where a volunteer company originally appointed by the council is incorporated, but it is provided in the act of incorporation that it shall remain subject to the same control of the council as before, the council upon resignation of all of its members has the

59. Prout v. Pittsfield Fire Dept., 154 Mass. 450, 28 N. E. 679; Clarissy v. Metropolitan Fire Dept., 7 Abb. Pr. N. S. (N. Y.) 352.

Liability of city see infra, XIV, A, 5, i.

By express provision in New York the fire department may maintain an action to collect from agents of fire associations, not incorporated in New York, the amount fixed by Consol. Act, § 523. New York Fire Dept. v. Stanton, 28 N. Y. App. Div. 334, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 242 [affirmed in 159 N. Y. 225, 54 N. E. 28].

60. Prout v. Pittsfield Fire Dist., 154 Mass. 450, 28 N. E. 679.

61. State v. Crawford, 17 R. I. 292, 21 Atl. 546, holding that fire wards are not civil officers, within the meaning of a constitutional provision that "no one shall be eligible to any civil office" unless he is a qualified elector for such office; and the fact that the duties are imposed on a fire ward which can only be imposed on an officer cannot of itself make him an officer. See also New York Fire Dept. v. Atlas Steamship Co., 106 N. Y. 566, 13 N. E. 329; People v. Pinckney, 32 N. Y. 377.

62. See supra, VII, B, 7.

63. See New York Fire Dept. v. Atlas Steamship Co., 106 N. Y. 566, 13 N. E. 329.

64. New York Fire Dept. v. Sturtevant, 33

Hun (N. Y.) 407, holding that the department has no right to delegate to a subordinate officer or bureau the power to require certain buildings to be equipped with fire-escapes.

65. Coffin v. Nantucket, 5 Cush. (Mass.) 269.

Organization of department as affecting status see supra, note 57.

66. Teutonia Ins. Co. v. O'Connor, 27 La. Ann. 371, holding a department not warranted in prohibiting absolutely all use of Babcock fire extinguishers, since owners or insurers of property have the right to use the extinguishers before the arrival of the firemen, or afterward, so that the operations of the department are not obstructed.

67. Legislative control see supra, IV, E.

68. See MILITIA.

69. See JURIES.

70. See STREETS AND HIGHWAYS.

71. See infra, XV, D, 4, q.

72. Empire Hook, etc., Co. No. 1 v. Phenix Ins. Co., 12 N. Y. St. 510.

73. People v. San Francisco Fire Dept., 14 Cal. 479.

74. People v. Pinckney, 32 N. Y. 377.

75. People v. Auburn Fire Com'rs, 27 N. Y. App. Div. 530, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 506.

76. People v. Auburn Fire Com'rs, 27 N. Y. App. Div. 530, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 506.

right to appoint new members.⁷⁷ An application for certiorari to review the action of a board of fire commissioners in disbanding a company can be made only by a person aggrieved.⁷⁸

(iii) MEETINGS, ELECTIONS, AND OFFICERS. Volunteer fire companies being regarded as a portion of the local municipal government,⁷⁹ their meetings and elections must be held within the municipal boundaries.⁸⁰ Under some statutes recommendations for general officers of the department are made to the municipal council by a convention of delegates from the companies;⁸¹ but in the absence of express authority the legislative branch of the municipal government cannot delegate to the companies the right to elect municipal officers, although the duties of such officers pertain only to the fire department.⁸² A chief elected by a volunteer department who has no rights or authority except such as he acquires under the ordinances of the city may be removed by the legislative body of the city.⁸³ A municipal council in determining a contested election for engineer of a volunteer department exercises judicial functions which may be reviewed on certiorari.⁸⁴

(iv) OFFENSES. Under some statutes a volunteer company may be ordered out of service temporarily or disbanded for rioting or fighting in the public streets.⁸⁵

c. Boards of Fire Commissioners. The general control of the fire departments in the larger cities is frequently vested by statutes or charters in a board of fire commissioners,⁸⁶ which some statutes make branches of municipal government;⁸⁷ but unless expressly authorized the council cannot create a fire board

77. Miller v. Savannah Fire Co., 26 Ga. 678.

78. People v. Auburn Fire Com'rs, 27 N. Y. App. Div. 530, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 506, holding that a member of a volunteer company who holds for no definite time and is under no obligation to remain and who is paid from a sum allowed annually to the company in the discretion of the fire commissioners has no such interest as will allow him to maintain certiorari.

Persons entitled to certiorari in general see CERTIORARI, 6 Cyc. 766.

79. See supra, VII, B, 8, a.

80. Empire Hook, etc., Co. No. 1 v. Phoenix Ins. Co., 12 N. Y. St. 510.

81. People v. Hayes, 20 N. Y. App. Div. 36, 46 N. Y. Suppl. 546, holding that the board of trustees of an incorporated village were not required to appoint a chief engineer of the fire department, and assistants, until candidates had been so recommended.

After power of confirmation has been abolished.—Where by a consolidation a village is destroyed as a corporation, but it is provided that the paid fire department shall, as soon as practicable, be extended over the village, when the volunteer department shall be disbanded, it being the intention to preserve the volunteer fire department until the paid department was so extended, the taking away of the power of confirmation of officers selected does not abolish the right to select officers while the volunteer department continued. Richmond Hill Fire Dept. v. Davies, 25 Misc. (N. Y.) 683, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 1077.

82. Gouldley v. Atlantic City, 63 N. J. L. 537, 42 Atl. 852 (chief engineer); Hofford v. Allentown, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 299 (chief).

83. Higgins v. Cole, 100 Cal. 260, 34 Pac. 678.

84. People v. San Francisco Fire Dept., 14 Cal. 479.

85. See In re Northern Liberty Hose Co., 13 Pa. St. 193, holding that a sentence in a proceeding under such a statute, ordering the company out of service, and directing the sheriff of the city and county to lock the doors of the engine house, and retain the keys in his possession for six months, did not exceed that allowed by the statute.

Sufficiency of complaint.—A complaint alleging that a certain company was guilty of rioting and fighting in a public street called "Fifth," on the evening of Thursday, Nov. 29, 1849, while they were "returning from a fire, or a false alarm thereof," and praying that such company be declared out of service, in accordance with the provisions of the act, was not insufficient by reason of want of particularity or for the alternative statement as to the fire or alarm. In re Northern Liberty Hose Co., 13 Pa. St. 193.

86. See the statutes of the several states. And see the cases cited in the following notes.

Appointment by fire underwriters.—A statute providing for the appointment of a board of fire commissioners by the board of underwriters of San Francisco, which was composed of the agents of the various insurance companies doing business in the state, some of them being foreign companies, is not obnoxious to a constitutional provision that all officers whose offices may hereafter be created by law shall be elected by the people or appointed as the legislature may direct, since it is not therein required that the appointing power shall be given citizens of the state. In re Bulger, 45 Cal. 553.

87. People v. San Francisco Fire Dept., 14 Cal. 479.

and delegate to it powers and duties, some of which are imposed by statute upon the council as a body and some of which are the duty of the chief engineer of the fire department, a city officer provided for by general law.⁸⁸ Where by the charter or statute certain defined powers and duties are conferred upon the board it cannot be controlled by the council in the exercise and performance thereof.⁸⁹ Where the board of fire commissioners are municipal officers, the mayor and aldermen have power to institute proceedings against them and remove them from office for misconduct or neglect of duty, without express legislative authority.⁹⁰ Under some statutes the power of appointment to these boards is vested in the governor.⁹¹ But where a member of a fire commission holds office for a specified term and until appointment and qualification of his successor, the abolition of the body having the power of appointment of successors does not at the expiration of the term create a vacancy in office authorizing the governor to appoint.⁹² A general power of removal of fire commissioners vested in the governor includes appointments made by and with the consent of the senate.⁹³ Where appointive officers of the governor have become city officers by constitutional provision consolidating several municipal corporations into a new corporation, and providing that existing officers shall hold as officers of the new corporation until their successors have been elected and qualified, the governor has no longer a power of removal.⁹⁴ The board cannot appoint to an office which will come into existence or become vacant at a time when the board will be differently constituted.⁹⁵

d. Chief, Superintendent, or Other Executive. In case the organization of the department is under the control of the council the election of a chief for a definite term does not create a contract between him and the city and the council may abolish the office whenever it sees fit.⁹⁶ And where it is provided that he shall hold office for a year or until his successor is appointed and qualified, he may be removed by the appointment of a successor within a year.⁹⁷ But if the appointment is to be by the mayor with the advice and consent of the council no vacancy occurs in the office at the expiration of the term, but he holds until the confirmation of a successor.⁹⁸ As a general rule the same person cannot hold two positions.⁹⁹ But where an engineer holds under a board of fire commissioners and not under the council, he may become a member of the council, the case not being within an ordinance prohibiting a member of the council from holding any

88. Benjamin v. Webster, 100 Ind. 15.

89. Jones v. Doherty, (Tex. Civ. App. 1900) 56 S. W. 596.

90. Savannah v. Grayson, 104 Ga. 105, 30 S. E. 693, holding that the members of the board of fire commissioners of the city of Savannah were municipal or corporate officers of that city.

91. See the statutes of the several states. And see State v. Bemis, 45 Nebr. 724, 64 N. W. 348; State v. Bennett, 22 Nebr. 470, 35 N. W. 235; State v. Seavey, 22 Nebr. 454, 35 N. W. 228. Compare Ader v. Newport, 6 S. W. 577, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 748, holding that a constitutional provision requiring the election of town and city officers prevented the legislature from providing for the appointment of fire and police commissioners in a district extending beyond the municipal limits, but in practical operation confined thereto.

Power of legislature over fire department see supra, IV, E.

92. People v. Edwards, 93 Cal. 153, 28 Pac. 831 [following People v. Hammond, 66 Cal. 654, 6 Pac. 741].

93. Trimble v. People, 19 Colo. 187, 34 Pac. 981, 41 Am. St. Rep. 236. But see State v. Smith, 35 Nebr. 13, 52 N. W. 700, 16 L. R. A. 791, holding that a general constitutional power in the governor to remove officers appointed by him applied only to those officers who were mentioned in the constitution and that it did not apply to fire and police commissioners who under the charter of a city he might appoint.

94. People v. Adams, 31 Colo. 476, 73 Pac. 866, construing Const. art. 20, providing for the government of the city and county of Denver.

95. Dickinson v. Jersey City, 68 N. J. L. 99, 52 Atl. 278.

96. Williams v. Newport, 12 Bush (Ky.) 438.

97. Higgins v. Cole, 100 Cal. 260, 34 Pac. 678.

98. State v. Bryson, 44 Ohio St. 457, 8 N. E. 470.

99. People v. Saratoga Springs Fire Com'rs, 76 Hun (N. Y.) 146, 27 N. Y. Suppl. 548, holding that the same person could not be both assistant chief engineer and a fireman.

salaried office under the council.¹ A power conferred upon a fire master or intendant to destroy buildings to prevent the spread of fire includes the power to decide on the necessity of so doing.² Under some statutes the fire master has authority to investigate the sources and circumstances of fires.³

e. Civil Service Rules—(1) IN GENERAL.⁴ Under the statutes or charters the fire department is frequently placed under civil service rules.⁵ Under such provisions a civil service commission may have control over officers and employees, although such officers and employees were appointed by the mayor and approved by the council.⁶ The acts of a civil service commission in classifying positions in the fire department are not judicial so as to be subject to review on certiorari, but the remedy for abuse is by mandamus.⁷

(ii) APPOINTMENT. It is frequently provided that preference in appointment shall be given veteran soldiers, sailors, or volunteer firemen.⁸ Under such provisions, however, a veteran is not entitled to preference without regard to his fitness mentally and by experience for the office.⁹ Upon the consolidation of municipalities, officers in their fire departments become entitled to like positions in the department of the new municipality where the consolidation act so provides;¹⁰ but upon reorganization of a department, employees of the old department cannot compel their appointment to offices in the new department which are not the same

1. Ryan v. Lewiston, 86 Me. 125, 29 Atl. 955.

2. White v. Charleston, 2 Hill (S. C.) 571. Destruction of buildings under emergency police power see infra, XI, A, 8, k.

3. Harris v. People, 64 N. Y. 148 [affirming 4 Hun 1], holding that the fire marshal has jurisdiction to institute an investigation as to the circumstances of a fire without any complaint being made to him.

4. Firemen as employees within eight-hour law see infra, VII, C, 2, c, note 23.

5. See the statutes of the several states, and charters of particular cities.

Power to enact.—Rules and regulations for the government of the fire department of Cleveland, made by the mayor and head of the department under Ohio Rev. St. §§ 1545–1551, are made by the head of the department as contemplated by section 2464 and do not lose their force by the fact that the mayor joined in making them. State v. Hyman, 22 Ohio Cir. Ct. 213, 12 Ohio Cir. Dec. 265.

Alteration of rules.—Where it is provided that rules for the government of the fire department shall be formulated by the director of fire, and the mayor, and approved by the council, the director of fire must conduct his office in accordance with such rules and cannot change the rules by custom, unless such custom is known to the mayor and city council for such length of time that it may be considered assented to. State v. Hyman, 19 Ohio Cir. Ct. 622, 10 Ohio Cir. Dec. 235.

Retroactive effect of statutes.—A statute authorizing a board of fire and police commissioners to adopt rules to govern the selection and appointment, and that thereafter all selections shall be made according to such rules, does not authorize the board to compel a person already employed to take an examination prescribed by it. Gilbert v. Salt Lake City Police, etc., Com'rs, 11 Utah 378, 40 Pac. 264.

The term "fire force" as used in a civil service statute is to be construed in its popular sense and includes the chief and assistant chief, the engineers, captains, lieutenants, drivers, stokers, tillermen, pipemen, firemen, etc. New Orleans v. New Orleans Fire Com'rs, 50 La. Ann. 1000, 23 So. 906, holding that the position of secretary-treasurer of the fire board is not included within the scope of the acts of 1896, Act No. 45, § 67, and hence the fire board has authority to appoint one to fill said position, independently of the civil service.

6. Callaghan v. McGown, (Tex. Civ. App. 1905) 90 S. W. 319.

7. People v. McWilliams, 185 N. Y. 92, 77 N. E. 785 [reversing 100 N. Y. App. Div. 176, 91 N. Y. Suppl. 675, and overruling People v. Collier, 175 N. Y. 196, 67 N. E. 309].

8. See the statutes of the several states. And see the cases cited in the following notes.

9. People v. Scannell, 63 N. Y. App. Div. 243, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 383, holding that a veteran on the eligible list for appointment as foreman of the New York fire department shops, and entitled to a preference under the constitution and statutes, but whose fitness therefor has not been determined by the civil service commission, is only entitled to such appointment over an applicant on the eligible list who is not a veteran when of equal or superior fitness therefor, which is to be determined by the fire commissioner, as the appointing power.

10. People v. Gray, 32 N. Y. App. Div. 458, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 274 [reversing 23 Misc. 602, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 1087], holding that under the organization of the present city of New York under the new charter (Laws (1897), c. 378), the fire marshal of the Brooklyn fire department became entitled to a transfer to the new position of fire marshal for the borough of Brooklyn and Queens, either by section 722, as being a member of the uniformed force, or, in any event, by section 1536, as being a "subordinate" in the department.

as those they have held.¹¹ Rules usually fix the age of eligibility.¹² A provision as to eligibility applies to a person whose name is on the eligible list at the time it takes effect, but who is not yet entitled to appointment.¹³ The salaries of men appointed in violation of civil service regulation cannot be included in the amount of the annual budget of the commissioners for the purpose of determining whether it exceeds an annual limit.¹⁴ An appointment to fill a vacancy in the department is not rendered illegal by the fact that the fire commissioners make subsequent appointments incurring an expenditure in excess of that they were authorized to incur.¹⁵

(III) REMOVAL—(A) In General. Under civil service rules officers and members of the department are ordinarily removable only after trial upon formal charges.¹⁶ The right in a specific case to the protection of such laws depends of necessity upon the construction of the particular statute or ordinance involved.¹⁷

11. Maxwell v. San Francisco Fire Com'rs, 139 Cal. 229, 72 Pac. 996, 96 Am. St. Rep. 91, holding that a clerk of fire department could not compel his appointment as secretary to board of fire commissioners.

12. State v. Hyman, 19 Ohio Cir. Ct. 622, 10 Ohio Cir. Dec. 235, holding that under a rule providing "that persons appointed [to the fire department] shall be not less than nineteen nor more than twenty-eight years of age," a person who is over twenty-eight but not twenty-nine years of age is ineligible.

13. People v. Scannell, 49 N. Y. App. Div. 244, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 1064.

14. People v. Scannell, 69 N. Y. App. Div. 400, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 122 [affirmed in 172 N. Y. 316, 65 N. E. 165].

15. People v. Scannell, 172 N. Y. 316, 65 N. E. 165 [affirming 69 N. Y. App. Div. 400, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 122].

16. See the statutes of the several states, and specific city ordinances.

Construction of statutes.—Sections of a charter providing that the fire marshal may be removed on charges preferred by the mayor, and providing that the power to remove officers shall be vested in the common council after an opportunity has been given him to be heard, should be construed together and the power to remove a fire marshal is vested in the common council. People v. McGuire, 27 N. Y. App. Div. 593, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 520. A statute conferring upon a board of fire commissioners the power to appoint and remove all chiefs of bureaus, as also all clerks, officers, employees, and subordinates in their department, except that no regular clerk or head of a bureau can be removed except on charges, leaves other clerks, officers, and employees subject to removal at the pleasure of the board. People v. New York Fire Com'rs, 73 N. Y. 437.

17. See the cases cited infra, this note.

The uniformed force in New York includes the chief of the fire department (Croker v. Sturgis, 175 N. Y. 158, 67 N. E. 307 [dismissing appeal from him in effect reversing People v. Sturgis, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 640]), holding that under Laws (1897), pp. 252-254, c. 378, §§ 724-728, the fire commissioner of the city of New York had no power to relieve the chief of the fire department from his duties or remove him from his position because he refused to continue a vacation granted to him on his own request), and a fire marshal for the boroughs of Manhattan, the Bronx, and Richmond in Greater New York (People v. Sturgis, 87 N. Y. App. Div. 413, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 403).

The competitive class includes an assistant secretary of the fire department of the borough of Manhattan, New York city (People v. Scannell, 28 Misc. (N. Y.) 401, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 950), or a driver (People v. Scannell, supra).

The force for extinguishing fires has been held to include a surgeon (People v. Wurster, 89 Hun (N. Y.) 7, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 86 [affirmed in 174 N. Y. 716, 42 N. E. 725]), or a telegraph operator (People v. Ennis, 7 N. Y. Suppl. 630 [distinguishing People v. Brooklyn Fire Com'rs, 28 Hun (N. Y.) 495, as decided under a prior charter]), but not to include an assistant superintendent of telegraphs (People v. Brooklyn Fire Com'rs, supra), or one appointed as a coal passer (People v. Wurster, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 90 [affirmed in 149 N. Y. 620, 44 N. E. 1127]), or laborer (People v. Wurster, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 88), although he was given a badge and fire-box key, and might be called on to hold a hose at a fire (People v. Wurster, 89 Hun (N. Y.) 5, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 89), or although he wore the costume of a fireman and assisted at fires (People v. Wurster, 89 Hun (N. Y.) 8, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 90).

A member of the department includes a stoker or fireman (People v. French, 12 Hun (N. Y.) 254), a clerk in the kerosene department (see People v. Brooklyn Fire, etc., Dept., 10 N. Y. St. 368), or a detailed fireman acting as kerosene inspector (People v. Brooklyn Fire, etc., Dept., 106 N. Y. 64, 12 N. E. 641 [followed in People v. Brooklyn Fire, etc., Dept., 106 N. Y. 676, 13 N. E. 92]; People v. Brooklyn Fire, etc., Dept., 8 N. Y. St. 634).

Officers and men include a clerk of the board of fire commissioners (Van Alst v. Jersey City, 49 N. J. L. 156, 6 Atl. 883), or veterinary surgeon (Wheeler v. New Orleans Fire Com'rs, 46 La. Ann. 731, 15 So. 179).

Heads of bureaus and regular clerks.—The "superintendent of telegraph" in the New York fire department is neither the "head of a bureau" nor a "regular clerk," within the

In order to entitle a person to the protection of the civil service laws he must have been legally appointed;¹⁸ but an employee may be protected under civil service rules, although he did not comply with a rule as to eligibility to appointment where such rule could be and was waived by the board.¹⁹ A provision entitling the officer or employee to information of the cause of removal and an opportunity for explanation does not entitle him to a formal trial,²⁰ but the explanation must be received and acted on in good faith.²¹ A provision that an officer may be removed for cause upon charges furnished in writing by the mayor does not permit an arbitrary removal without a hearing.²² The fact that the accused requests a postponement without denying the charge does not warrant a dismissal without a trial or investigation where the postponement is denied.²³

(B) What Constitutes Removal. A civil service law does not prohibit a board of fire commissioners from vacating or abolishing superfluous, expensive, or antiquated offices if done in good faith and to promote the efficiency of the service, although it may displace men whose positions are secured to them during good behavior.²⁴ But the colorable abolition of an office or position for the purpose of meaning of the charter of 1873. People v. New York Fire Com'rs, 86 N. Y. 149. The fact that persons as incident to the performance of their duties render some services which might have been performed by a clerk, such as keeping a record of, or reporting their proceeding, does not characterize their employment as that of regular clerk. People v. New York Fire Com'rs, 73 N. Y. 437, so holding of a "surveyor in the bureau of combustibles" and of an "assistant to the fire marshal."

18. State v. Hyman, 19 Ohio Cir. Ct. 622, 10 Ohio Cir. Dec. 235, where fireman was over age limit when appointed. See People v. Brooklyn Fire, etc., Dept., 103 N. Y. 370, 8 N. E. 730, holding that a fireman cannot be removed by the commissioners of the department of fire and buildings of the city of Brooklyn by a simple resolution, for the reason that he was appointed as a "detailed fireman," and that no such office existed, as the office of fireman is known to the law, and "detailed" means nothing more than "selected." Compare People v. Saratoga Springs Fire Com'rs, 90 Hun (N. Y.) 515, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 964 [affirmed in 149 N. Y. 575, 43 N. E. 988] (holding that under Laws (1887), c. 322, amending the charter of Saratoga Springs (Laws (1866), c. 220), and providing that the fire commissioners should control the expenditures of all funds of the fire department, limited by the charter to a certain amount, and have power to employ certain officers and firemen, but not to discharge them without cause, said commissioners were authorized to employ such officers and firemen as were necessary to the service, and could not discharge one of said firemen on the sole ground that there were no moneys unappropriated, or that no tax had been levied, for the salaries of such employees); People v. Brooklyn Fire, etc., Dept., 10 N. Y. St. 368 (holding that where the return to certain writs of certiorari to review the actions of fire commissioners in summarily removing relators by resolution did not directly deny the allegations of membership contained in the petition of each of the relators, and the petition and return together seemed to make a case, where the relators were in possession of the office, exercising the functions, but holding the possessions wrongfully, they could not be summarily removed; and such removal without trial of the validity of their title to the office was illegal).

19. Michaelis v. Jersey City, 49 N. J. L. 154, 6 Atl. 881, holding that an employee is protected, although he was appointed without filing an application sworn to, and having a physician's certificate showing his physical condition, as required by a rule adopted by a preceding board of fire commissioners.

20. People v. La Grange, 2 N. Y. App. Div. 444, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 99 [affirmed in 151 N. Y. 664, 46 N. E. 1150].

Receipt of evidence.—The fire commissioners may exercise a power of removal upon facts within their own knowledge or upon information which they have received and testimony is not required as the basis of their action. People v. La Grange, 2 N. Y. App. Div. 444, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 991 [affirmed in 151 N. Y. 664, 46 N. E. 1150].

21. People v. La Grange, 2 N. Y. App. Div. 444, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 991 [affirmed in 151 N. Y. 664, 46 N. E. 1150].

22. People v. McGuire, 27 N. Y. App. Div. 593, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 520.

23. People v. Brooklyn Fire, etc., Dept., 7 N. Y. Suppl. 439.

24. Newark Fire Com'rs v. Lyon, 53 N. J. L. 632, 23 Atl. 274 [reversing 53 N. J. L. 92, 20 Atl. 757]. See State v. Moores, 63 Nebr. 301, 88 N. W. 490 (holding that where members of the fire department are dismissed by the board of the fire and police commissioners without charges and without a hearing, evidence by one of such members that he had learned that the appointees of the board were practically all republican, and that the politics of those discharged were "supposed" to be fusionist, and that a number of men had been appointed since such discharge, without showing whether or not the subsequent appointees were in place of others resigned or dismissed, is insufficient to impeach the good faith of the board in dismissing such getting rid of an incumbent is in effect a removal within the meaning of provisions requiring charges and a hearing.²⁵ The retirement of a fireman on account of disability incurred while in the service is not a removal,²⁶ nor is a transfer from one post to another, although the latter position is of less dignity and salary, where made in good faith and not for the purpose of evading the statutory restrictions.²⁷ A reduction of an officer to the original position from which fire commissioners mistakenly attempted to promote him is not a removal.²⁸ Where a rule of the department provides that absence without leave for a stated period shall be deemed a resignation, a member may be dropped for such an absence without a hearing upon charges.²⁹

(c) Grounds. The various causes for which a member of the fire department of a municipal corporation may be removed are usually expressly provided by the charter or general statute,³⁰ as for example, disobedience to the rules and regulations,³¹ misbehavior, incompetency, or inefficiency,³² failure to pay members as a reduction of the force for want of funds); People v. Scannell, 48 N. Y. App. Div. 445, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 930 [affirmed in 163 N. Y. 599, 57 N. E. 1121] (holding that Laws (1894), c. 104, authorizing the fire commissioner to appoint such laborers as may be "necessary for the inspection of fire hydrants" does not prevent him from abolishing the position on economic grounds after it has been filled by appointment, and holding further that the removal of seventeen honorably discharged Union veterans from their positions as fire-hydrant inspectors in Brooklyn, by the abolishment of their positions for economic reasons, and to secure uniformity in methods of inspection, is not, when standing alone, evidence of bad faith on the part of the commissioner in removing them).

25. People v. Coleman, 99 N. Y. App. Div. 88, 91 N. Y. Suppl. 432; People v. La Grange, 7 N. Y. App. Div. 311, 40 N. Y. Suppl. 1026.

26. People v. Scannell, 53 N. Y. App. Div. 161, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 832 [affirmed in 164 N. Y. 572, 58 N. E. 1091]; People v. Bryant, 28 N. Y. App. Div. 480, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 119.

27. Riley v. New York, 96 N. Y. 331; Monroe v. New York, 28 Hun (N. Y.) 258, change from battalion chief to foreman. But compare Michaelis v. Jersey City, 49 N. J. L. 154, 6 Atl. 881, holding that a transfer from engineer to stoker was a removal.

28. People v. New York Fire Com'rs, 114 N. Y. 67, 20 N. E. 824 [affirming 47 Hun 528].

29. People v. Sturgis, 77 N. Y. App. Div. 636, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 1037. See also People v. Sturgis, 77 N. Y. App. Div. 151, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 1034.

30. See the statutes of the several states, and charters of particular cities. See also cases cited in the following notes.

31. People v. Scannell, 74 N. Y. App. Div. 406, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 704 [affirmed in 173 N. Y. 606, 66 N. E. 1114].

Obsolete rules.—The failure of a member of a fire department of a city to comply with a rule thereof which has been disregarded for over thirty years is not a cause for his removal, in the absence of directions by the fire commissioner to comply therewith. People v. Sturgis, 96 N. Y. App. Div. 620, 88

N. Y. Suppl. 631 [affirmed in 183 N. Y. 540, 76 N. E. 1105].

Reliance upon orders of superiors.—A member of a fire department of a city, required by the rules thereof to certify that supplies procured and work ordered were for the benefit of the department, is justified in relying on the orders of his superiors for supplies and work, unless it is evident that the supplies or work were not for public purposes, in which case he should refuse to make the certificate. People v. Sturgis, 96 N. Y. App. Div. 620, 88 N. Y. Suppl. 631 [affirmed in 183 N. Y. 540, 76 N. E. 1105]. Under the provision of the charter of New York city giving the fire commissioner charge of the property of that department, the chief of the fire department was not guilty of allowing it to be converted to private use, in following the order of the commissioner, and storing hose at places removed from firehouses, and containing inflammable material. People v. Sturgis, 91 N. Y. App. Div. 286, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 687.

Reliance upon reports of other officers.—The action of the board of fire commissioners in removing the inspector of combustibles for issuing permits for the sale of fireworks in buildings in which persons other than the applicant or his family resided, and in frame buildings, in violation of the rules of the board, will not be disturbed, where it appeared that said inspector, although he acted on reports of surveyors appointed by the board, negligently accepted meager and insufficient reports, and issued permits for tenement houses and other houses, which were probably occupied by persons other than the applicants. People v. La Grange, 1 N. Y. App. Div. 338, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 297 [affirmed in 153 N. Y. 685, 48 N. E. 1106].

Acts as a citizen.—A fireman cannot urge as against his removal for contribution to a fund to affect legislation that his acts were done as an American citizen and not a fireman. People v. Scannell, 74 N. Y. App. Div. 406, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 704 [affirmed in 173 N. Y. 606, 66 N. E. 1114].

32. State v. Hyman, 22 Ohio Cir. Ct. 213, 12 Ohio Cir. Dec. 265; Ryan v. Handley, 43 Wash. 232, 86 Pac. 398, failure of a member of a fire department to report on time after debts,³³ conduct unbecoming an officer,³⁴ neglect of duty,³⁵ or want of judgment.³⁶ Where it is merely provided that the dismissal shall be for cause the cause must be substantial and one which specially relates to and affects the administration of the office.³⁷ Where a member cannot be removed except for insufficiency or other cause detrimental to the department he cannot be removed because he becomes a member of the city council.³⁸

(D) Proceedings—(1) CHARGES. The charges in removal proceedings need not have the technical accuracy of an indictment,³⁹ but they are in general sufficient if they specify the nature of the offense in such manner that the accused may prepare for trial,⁴⁰ and apprise him of the witnesses who are to appear against him.⁴¹ Where the power of removal of fire commissioners is vested solely in the common council their action in preferring charges does not require the approval of the mayor.⁴²

(2) NOTICE. The accused is entitled to notice of the hearing,⁴³ reasonable notice being required where no statutory provision is made.⁴⁴

his regular leave, failure to respond to an alarm of fire, and his going to bed at the station without his night clothes in proper place.

33. State v. Hyman, 22 Ohio Cir. Ct. 213, 12 Ohio Cir. Dec. 265; State v. Hyman, 21 Ohio Cir. Ct. 187, 11 Ohio Cir. Dec. 559, holding that a member cannot be dismissed on the charge of refusal to pay a small debt, where the specifications fail to show the length of time that the debt has existed and the evidence fails to show that he ever refused to pay it.

34. People v. Sturgis, 91 N. Y. App. Div. 286, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 687 (holding that the chief of the fire department was not guilty of conduct unbecoming an officer in returning from his unexpired leave of absence and resuming command, as vacation is a personal privilege, that may be waived); State v. Hyman, 22 Ohio Cir. Ct. 213, 12 Ohio Cir. Dec. 265.

35. People v. Wurster, 91 Hun (N. Y.) 233, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 160 [reversed on other grounds in 149 N. Y. 549, 44 N. E. 298] (holding that absence without leave, when caused by sickness, did not constitute neglect of duty); People v. Partridge, 13 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 410 (holding that voluntary and excessive use of intoxicating liquors was "misconduct or neglect of duty"). See People v. Sanford, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 29, holding evidence of neglect of horses insufficient.

36. People v. New York Fire Com'rs, 106 N. Y. 257, 12 N. E. 596, holding that under General Orders No. 13, O. B. C. (1881) § 3, par. 5, providing that every officer of the fire department of New York city shall "be responsible for any want of judgment . . . which may cause unnecessary loss of life, limb or property," the want of judgment for which, under the rule, the officer must be responsible, is a want from which unnecessary loss of life, etc., has resulted, and that, where no loss has been caused by such want of judgment, there can be no removal under the rule.

A single error of judgment will not warrant a removal on the ground of incapacity. People v. Sturgis, 91 N. Y. App. Div. 286, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 687; People v. New York Fire Com'rs, 43 Hun (N. Y.) 554 [affirmed in 8 N. Y. St. 695], holding that an assistant chief cannot be removed for "incapacity" for having sent more engines than necessary to a certain fire; no loss of life or property having resulted, and it being an open question as to whether an error of judgment was committed.

37. State v. Duluth, 53 Minn. 238, 55 N. W. 118, 39 Am. St. Rep. 595; People v. New York Fire Com'rs, 73 N. Y. 437; People v. New York Fire Com'rs, 72 N. Y. 445; People v. La Grange, 2 N. Y. App. Div. 444, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 991 [affirmed in 151 N. Y. 664, 46 N. E. 1150], holding that to be substantial the cause assigned must be some dereliction on the part of the subordinate, or neglect of duty, or some thing affecting his character or fitness for the position.

38. Ryan v. Lewiston, 86 Me. 125, 29 Atl. 955.

39. People v. Scannell, 80 N. Y. App. Div. 320, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 685.

40. People v. New York Fire Com'rs, 77 N. Y. 153; People v. Brooklyn Fire Dept., 3 N. Y. St. 144, holding that if the written complaint of incapacity presented to the fire commissioners for the removal of a fireman informs such fireman of the exact facts charged against him, it is sufficient; and it is immaterial if a reference to certain sections of the city charter, as authority for the charge, is erroneous, as such reference is surplusage.

41. People v. Scannell, 80 N. Y. App. Div. 320, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 685, holding that the one making the charges against a fireman could testify against him on the trial, although his name was not given as one of the witnesses.

Waiver.—Objection that a party could not testify against a fireman, because his name was not given as one of the witnesses, was waived, where not made when he is called. People v. Scannell, 80 N. Y. App. Div. 320, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 685.

42. State v. Duluth, 53 Minn. 238, 55 N. W. 118, 39 Am. St. Rep. 595.

43. People v. Scannell, 80 N. Y. App. Div. 320, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 685.

44. Duerr v. Newark Fire Com'rs, 55 N. J.

(3) EVIDENCE. The duty is imposed upon those making charges to sustain them by a fair preponderance of the evidence,⁴⁵ and the proceedings being in some respects analogous to criminal ones⁴⁶ the person charged is entitled to the same presumptions in his favor as if the charges were made in a criminal court.⁴⁷ But since the proceedings are usually had before heads of department who are not lawyers, the technical rules of evidence are inapplicable,⁴⁸ and there is a wide discretion as to the kind of evidence that will be received,⁴⁹ although it should be confined to the charge.⁵⁰

(4) TRIAL OR HEARING.⁵¹ The trial or hearing in removal proceedings need not proceed with the same formality as a criminal prosecution,⁵² but the accused is entitled to appear and defend by counsel,⁵³ although it would seem that the trial may be had in his absence in case he is represented by counsel.⁵⁴ The trial is to be had before the board or officer designated by the statute or ordinance;⁵⁵ and where the power to try charges is vested in a particular officer he may try charges for misconduct committed prior to the creation of his office.⁵⁶ A presiding officer is

L. 272, 26 Atl. 144, holding that a notice that accused must attend the examination of said charges before the board of fire commissioners at eight o'clock in the evening, served at ten-thirty o'clock in the morning of the same day, was insufficient.

45. People v. Sturgis, 91 N. Y. App. Div. 286, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 687.

In case the charges are admitted and the only question involved is the sufficiency of excuses offered by accused, no proof of the charges is required. Ryan v. Handley, 43 Wash. 232, 86 Pac. 398, holding further that whether explanations were sufficient to exonerate accused was for the determination of the board of fire commissioners.

For evidence held sufficient to sustain particular charges see as to: Intoxication and disobedience (People v. Scannell, 56 N. Y. App. Div. 51, 67 N. Y. Suppl. 433); negligently or wilfully accepting inferior supplies (People v. Sturgis, 96 N. Y. App. Div. 620, 88 N. Y. Suppl. 631 [affirmed in 183 N. Y. 540, 76 N. E. 1105]); absence without leave (People v. Ennis, 19 N. Y. Suppl. 946).

For evidence held insufficient to sustain particular charges see as to: Failure of chief to enforce fire regulations, incompetency, conversion of public property, and conduct prejudicial to good order and discipline (People v. Sturgis, 91 N. Y. App. Div. 286, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 687); permitting certain property of the department to be taken and kept at a hall ground for private use (People v. Sturgis, 96 N. Y. App. Div. 620, 88 N. Y. Suppl. 631 [affirmed in 183 N. Y. 540, 76 N. E. 1105]); People v. Sanford, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 29); urging members of the department not to appear as witnesses of what took place on a certain quarrel between members of the department (People v. Sturgis, 110 N. Y. App. Div. 1, 96 N. Y. Suppl. 1046).

46. People v. Wurster, 91 Hun (N. Y.) 233, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 160 [reversed on other grounds in 149 N. Y. 549, 44 N. E. 298].

47. People v. Sturgis, 110 N. Y. App. Div. 1, 96 N. Y. Suppl. 1046.

48. People v. Sturgis, 91 N. Y. App. Div. 286, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 687.

49. People v. Sturgis, 91 N. Y. App. Div.

286, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 687, holding that the discretion cannot be exercised by admitting everything offered to sustain the charges, and excluding evidence of as high or higher character offered in rebuttal; and holding further that an impartial trial was not allowed the chief of the fire department, on charges of prejudicial conduct toward some of his subordinates, by excluding evidence offered by him to discredit witnesses, showing a conspiracy against him, and by admitting evidence of rumors as to his intentions toward certain subordinates, and evidence of statements made in his absence by persons purporting to speak for him.

50. State v. Hyman, 21 Ohio Cir. Ct. 187, 11 Ohio Cir. Dec. 559, holding that on a proceeding based on a rule directing that a member may be discharged for neglect to pay his debts, other debts than the one with the refusal to pay which he is charged cannot be taken into consideration.

51. Necessity of trial see supra, VII, A, 12, b.

52. People v. Scannell, 80 N. Y. App. Div. 320, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 685.

53. People v. Flood, 64 N. Y. App. Div. 209, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 1067.

54. People v. Partridge, 13 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 410, holding that a fireman might be dismissed by the fire commissioner of Brooklyn, under Laws (1880), c. 377, § 7, for "misconduct or neglect of duty," even if not present at the hearing, but then confined in a lunatic asylum, although not having been judicially declared a lunatic.

55. See People v. Sturgis, 39 Misc. (N. Y.) 448, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 194, holding that the fire commissioner of the city of New York had power to dismiss the chief of the city fire department after a hearing for cause.

56. People v. Coyle, 31 Misc. (N. Y.) 593, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 894 [affirmed in 55 N. Y. App. Div. 223, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 827], holding that the fact that a writ of certiorari could have been taken from a decision of the board of fire commissioners, finding a fireman guilty of bad conduct, and could not be taken from such a decision of the commissioner of public safety, after Laws (1898), c. 182, had trans-not disqualified by bias or prejudice,⁵⁷ but the evidence adjudged sufficient by him must be such as would satisfy an impartial tribunal.⁵⁸ The presiding officer should decide according to his own judgment and must not surrender his own views upon the facts.⁵⁹

(5) JUDGMENT OR ORDER. A judgment dismissing a fireman need not have the exact accuracy of a record of the criminal court,⁶⁰ and an order of removal after a hearing upon several specific charges need not state whether the accused was found guilty under all the charges.⁶¹

(6) REVIEW. Where the removal of a member of the department is vested in the discretion of a particular officer or board⁶² such discretion cannot be reviewed by mandamus.⁶³ A hearing upon charges looking to a removal is, however, usually regarded as judicial to the extent that it is reviewable upon certiorari,⁶⁴ with regard to questions of jurisdiction, procedure, or absence of evidence,⁶⁵ but a decision upon conflicting evidence will not be reviewed.⁶⁶ The fact that a hearing on return to a writ of certiorari is authorized by statute to make a final order annulling or modifying the determination reviewed does not permit a review of discretion.⁶⁷ An unreasonable delay in applying for a writ of certiorari will warrant its refusal.⁶⁸ As a general rule matters not urged below cannot be urged on certiorari.⁶⁹

(iv) REINSTATEMENT. Where a member of the department has been wrongfully removed he may compel his reinstatement by mandamus,⁷⁰ but the writ will ferred such causes to the latter, does not defeat his jurisdiction to try an offense committed before such law went into effect.

57. People v. Sturgis, 91 N. Y. App. Div. 286, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 687; People v. Sturgis, 39 Misc. (N. Y.) 448, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 194. See People v. Scannell, 74 N. Y. App. Div. 406, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 704 [affirmed in 173 N. Y. 606, 66 N. E. 1114].

58. People v. Sturgis, 91 N. Y. App. Div. 286, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 687, holding that the evidence showed that a fire commissioner's judgment was affected by bias and prejudice, so that he did not accord a fair and impartial trial to the chief of the fire department on charges against him.

Where the fireman's own evidence shows a violation of the law and rules, a dismissal will not be disturbed, although the commissioner before whom his examination is had is prejudiced. People v. Scannell, 74 N. Y. App. Div. 406, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 704 [affirmed in 173 N. Y. 606, 66 N. E. 1114].

59. People v. Sturgis, 91 N. Y. App. Div. 286, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 687, holding that after a hearing by the fire commissioner of charges against a subordinate, it was improper for him to take up the record, in consultation with the corporation counsel and his assistants, who had conducted the prosecution, to determine what evidence was competent and might be considered in disposing of the case.

60. People v. Scannell, 80 N. Y. App. Div. 320, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 685.

61. People v. Sturgis, 96 N. Y. App. Div. 620, 88 N. Y. Suppl. 631 [affirmed in 183 N. Y. 540, 76 N. E. 1105].

62. See State v. Register, 59 Md. 283.

63. SEC MANDAMUS, 26 Cyc. 260.

64. Gilbert v. Salt Lake City Police, etc., Com'rs, 11 Utah 378, 40 Pac. 264. See also State v. Duluth, 53 Minn. 238, 55 N. W. 118, 39 Am. St. Rep. 595, holding that the action of a city council in removing a fire commissioner upon charges and hearing being of a judicial nature may be reviewed by certiorari.

65. People v. New York Fire Com'rs, 100 N. Y. 82, 2 N. E. 613; People v. Purroy, 20 N. Y. Suppl. 735; Gilbert v. Salt Lake City Police, etc., Com'rs, 11 Utah 378, 40 Pac. 264.

66. State v. Jersey City, 54 N. J. L. 310, 23 Atl. 666; People v. New York Fire Com'rs, 100 N. Y. 82, 2 N. E. 613; People v. New York Fire Com'rs, 77 N. Y. 153; People v. Purroy, 20 N. Y. Suppl. 735; Gilbert v. Salt Lake City Police, etc., Com'rs, 11 Utah 378, 40 Pac. 264. But compare People v. Sturgis, 91 N. Y. App. Div. 286, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 687.

67. People v. New York Fire Com'rs, 100 N. Y. 82, 2 N. E. 613 [followed in People v. Purroy, 61 N. Y. Super. Ct. 284, 19 N. Y. Suppl. 713], nature and extent of punishment.

68. People v. New York Fire Com'rs, 77 N. Y. 605, holding a delay of two and one-half years unreasonable.

69. People v. Purroy, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 119, holding that where the relator has gone to trial without objection he cannot for the first time on certiorari question the sufficiency of the notice of hearing.

70. People v. Scannell, 172 N. Y. 316, 65 N. E. 165 [affirming 69 N. Y. App. Div. 400, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 122] (holding that an appointment to fill a vacancy by the fire commissioners of Long Island City previous to its merger into Greater New York was not invalidated by the further appointment of other firemen whose salaries would be in excess of the expenditure the commissioners were permitted to make); People v. Sturgis, 77 N. Y. App. Div. 151, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 1034.

Mandamus by officer to compel reinstatement not issue for such purpose where the resignation of a member has been made and accepted.⁷¹ A fireman retired after a determination by a statutory board that he is permanently disabled does not become entitled to reinstatement simply by reason of subsequent recovery.⁷²

f. Actions For Wrongful Removal. A fireman may maintain an action for damages against commissioners who have maliciously and wrongfully dismissed him.⁷³

g. Compensation⁷⁴ — (1) RIGHT TO COMPENSATION IN GENERAL. No obligation to pay the members of a volunteer association for the extinguishment of fires in a municipal corporation arises or is implied from the rendition of such services.⁷⁵ But where a person renders services under fire ordinances and it is understood by both him and the municipality that such services are not gratuitous but that he is to be entitled to a sum which the municipality shall determine to be reasonable, he may recover such sum when fixed by the municipality.⁷⁶ Where a person accepts a position to which there is no salary attached by law or by the municipal authorities, but the compensation is left to be fixed by an officer of the department, he is bound by an agreement with such officer to work without compensation.⁷⁷ A fireman employed subject to the will of a board of commissioners and not for any definite period cannot recover pay for the remainder of a year on being discharged in a less time.⁷⁸ Failure of a secretary to enter upon the minutes a resolution employing a person will not deprive him of the right to compensation.⁷⁹ ment in general see MANDAMUS, 26 Cyc. 265 et seq.

71. People v. Sturgis, 77 N. Y. App. Div. 636, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 1037, so holding where the resignation was implied from absence without leave. And see People v. Sturgis, 77 N. Y. App. Div. 151, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 1034, holding that an affidavit in opposition to the petition of a member of the uniformed force for mandamus to compel his reinstatement, which set up that he had been charged by the foreman with being absent without permission for five days, and that thereafter evidence having been brought to the commissioner which satisfied him that the member was guilty of the charge, he ordered that his name be dropped from the pay roll, etc., was insufficient because not alleging as a fact that the member was actually absent from duty, without leave for five days, and that his absence was unexplained, and that mandamus was properly issued.

72. People v. Bryant, 28 N. Y. App. Div. 480, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 119.

73. O'Neill v. Register, 75 Md. 425, 23 Atl. 960, holding that where a fireman, who has been dismissed on a charge of disrespect to one of the fire commissioners, sues the commissioners, alleging that his dismissal was in wilful violation of their duties, under an ordinance allowing the dismissal of employees for inefficiency, or failure to perform their duties to the satisfaction of the commissioners, but not for any political or other sentiments entertained by them, evidence as to plaintiff's conduct on previous occasions, or as to his efficiency and general reputation, has no bearing on the question of his guilt or innocence on the occasion mentioned in the charge, nor upon the fairness of the commissioners' judgment, and is irrelevant.

74. Right of fireman to reward see REWARDS.

75. Jacksonville v. Aetna Steam Fire Engine Co., 20 Fla. 100, holding that they have the burden of proving a contract.

76. Parks v. Waltham, 120 Mass. 160, holding that a vote of a town, determining what would be a reasonable compensation for certain officers of the fire department, constitutes an implied contract to pay the same.

77. McGough v. New York, 83 N. Y. App. Div. 322, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 117, holding that where after the removal of an assistant fire marshal plaintiff addressed a letter to the fire commissioners, stating that, if he was appointed to such position, he agreed to waive all claim for services if the person removed should be restored by order of court, and plaintiff was thereafter appointed by an order of the fire commissioners, which did not refer to his letter, but which provided that it was to take effect from July 1, 1900, and that the appointment was without compensation until otherwise ordered; and on May 16, 1901, the commissioners fixed plaintiff's salary at one thousand five hundred dollars per annum, to take effect from May 1, 1901, plaintiff on the failure of the removed officer's proceeding for reinstatement was not entitled to recover compensation for the time he served between the date of his appointment and the date his salary was fixed by the commissioners.

78. Parks v. Atlanta, 76 Ga. 828, holding that his rights under the contract would not be affected by a custom not such as to enter into the contract at the time it was made. See also Butcher v. Camden, 29 N. J. Eq. 478.

79. Calahan v. New York, 34 N. Y. App. Div. 344, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 279, holding that a resolution of the board of fire commissioners under which plaintiff was employed may be

(ii) FIXING OF SALARY OR COMPENSATION. Salaries of members of the fire department must be fixed in accordance with charter or statutory provisions where such provisions exist.⁸⁰ A general charter provision authorizing the heads of departments to fix the salaries of their clerks or assistants will not control a special provision allowing a particular board to fix salaries in the fire department.⁸¹ Where the amount at which salaries shall be fixed is provided by statute and the city fixes a less amount, the remedy is by mandamus to compel the fixing of the proper amount and not an action for the difference.⁸² The various provisions of a statute for equalization of the salaries of members of the constituent fire department upon a consolidation of cities should be construed together where not inconsistent.⁸³

(iii) INCREASE OR REDUCTION OF SALARY. In order that there may be an increase or decrease in salary some definite specific action must be taken, assented to by the proper authorities on one hand and the officer on the other.⁸⁴ Where, proved by testimony of the president of the board, and by a subsequent resolution of the board amending its minutes to show it.

80. In re People, 146 N. Y. 357, 40 N. E. 988 [reversing 73 Hun 583, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 286] (holding that Laws (1892), c. 710, authorizing the boards of fire commissioners in all cities the population of which, according to the last census, exceeds nine hundred thousand, to fix the salaries of the members of the fire department as therein provided, with the approval of the board of estimate and apportionment, modifies the city charter of Brooklyn (Laws (1888), c. 583, tit. 13, § 6) so as to make it the duty of the fire commissioner of that city to fix the salaries referred to in said act, as therein provided, with the approval of the city's board of estimate); McCormick v. Syracuse, 25 Hun (N. Y.) 300 (holding that where under a charter, measures fixing the salaries of persons employed by the fire department must originate with the board of fire commissioners, and the common council had no power in the matter, except to approve or disapprove, the salaries of ladder-men which were fixed at four hundred and eighty dollars per annum remained unchanged where the commissioners raised the amount to six hundred dollars, subject to the approval of the common council, and the common council approved the action of the commissioners to the amount of five hundred and forty dollars and no more). See also People v. Scannell, 71 N. Y. App. Div. 491, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 904 [affirmed in 171 N. Y. 690, 64 N. E. 1124]; Flynn v. New York, 69 N. Y. App. Div. 433, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 15 [affirmed in 174 N. Y. 521, 66 N. E. 1109].

Resolution or ordinance.—Under charter provision the city council may fix the compensation of members of the fire department by resolution. Hart v. Minneapolis, 81 Minn. 476, 84 N. W. 342, constituting Minneapolis city charter.

81. Flynn v. New York, 69 N. Y. App. Div. 433, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 15 [affirmed in 174 N. Y. 521, 66 N. E. 1109, and followed in People v. Scannell, 71 N. Y. App. Div. 491, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 904 (affirmed in 171 N. Y. 690, 64 N. E. 1124)], holding under charter of Brooklyn (Laws (1888), c. 583), tit. 13, § 6, providing that the compensation of the uniformed members of the fire department should be fixed by the board of estimate, and at not less than the salaries then paid to such members, nor greater than certain specified rates for members of the grades specified therein, that where persons were thereafter appointed to offices in such department which were not named in such act they were entitled to receive such compensation as was fixed from time to time by such board, and such compensation could not be reduced or changed by the fire commissioner.

82. Dolan v. Brooklyn, 55 Hun (N. Y.) 448, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 666 [affirmed in 129 N. Y. 646, 29 N. E. 1032].

83. Hurst v. New York, 55 N. Y. App. Div. 68, 67 N. Y. Suppl. 84 (holding that where a member of the Brooklyn fire department, entitled therein to annual promotion from grade to grade, was receiving, at the date of the consolidation, pay equal to that attached to one of the grades in the consolidated department, he was entitled to annual promotions to the next higher grade, and to receive the pay fixed therefor, since such promotion was one of the rights and privileges secured to him by the consolidation); Donnelly v. New York, 53 N. Y. App. Div. 447, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 1030 [affirmed in 166 N. Y. 592, 59 N. E. 1121] (holding that under Greater New York Charter, § 740, providing that the annual salary of engineer of steamers shall be one thousand six hundred dollars, and that any fireman of the uniformed force in the city of Brooklyn whose salary falls between any two of the grades established by the charter shall within three years have his salary made equal to the salary of the first grades, by equal annual additions, one who was an engineer of steamers in the fire department of the city of Brooklyn when the charter of the consolidated city went into effect, receiving a salary of one thousand four hundred dollars a year, is only entitled to the one thousand four hundred dollars salary for the next three years, together with the three equal annual additions of sixty-six dollars and sixty-six cents each).

84. Lyons v. New York, 82 N. Y. App. Div. 306, 81 N. Y. Suppl. 1079 [affirmed in 176

under the charter, firemen are city officers⁸⁵ their salaries cannot in the absence of statutory authority be legally changed during their terms;⁸⁶ but although a reduction in a fireman's salary from the amount fixed by statute may be illegal he cannot after acceptance of the reduced salary recover the difference if the acceptance was in pursuance of an agreement to work for less,⁸⁷ provided such agreement was made before the member entered upon his term of office or employment.⁸⁸ In the absence of an agreement such a result does not follow.⁸⁹ A consolidation act providing that members of the uniformed force of the fire departments of the constituent municipalities shall remain fixed at the amount they were receiving at the time of the new charter will not permit a member to demand an increase of pay which was awarded before but was not to take effect until after the date of consolidation.⁹⁰

(IV) SUSPENSIONS AND FINES. A board of fire commissioners has no power to declare pay forfeited for misconduct in excess of the amount they are authorized to impose as a fine;⁹¹ but where a superior officer has power to discharge a fireman, the fireman cannot recover compensation for a period during which he is suspended for misconduct without pay, although the amount of such compensation is in excess of the amount to which a fine may be imposed.⁹²

(V) RECOVERY OF SALARY—(A) Upon Removal. Where a fireman has been rightfully discharged⁹³ or his office rightfully abolished,⁹⁴ he can make no claim for further compensation. But while it is the general rule that where the city has already paid the salary of a specific office to another incumbent who has actually performed the duties of the office it is not liable to pay such salary a second time.⁹⁵ Upon reinstatement after a wrongful dismissal a member of the fire

N. Y. 609, 68 N. E. 1119, and affirming 38 Misc. 253, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 589], holding that an estimate of the amount to be paid to an officer for the ensuing year together with an action by the proper authorities to the end that such amounts may be raised was insufficient in the absence of a statute fixing the salary.

85. See Nelson v. Superior, 109 Wis. 618, 85 N. W. 412. Compare Wright v. Hartford, 50 Conn. 546 (holding that Const. Amendm. 24, inhibiting increase of compensation of "any public officer or employe," to take effect during continuance in office, etc., applies to a person employed as tillerman of a ladder carriage in a city fire department at a fixed yearly salary, payable monthly, and holding his place during good behavior); State v. Johnson, 123 Mo. 43, 27 S. W. 399 (holding that a chief engineer of a city fire department, appointed by the council and subject to removal by it, is not an officer within Const. art. 14, § 8, prohibiting an increase in the salary of any officer during his term of office); Padden v. New York, 45 Misc. (N. Y.) 517, 92 N. Y. Suppl. 926.

86. Nelson v. Superior, 109 Wis. 618, 85 N. W. 412.

87. De Boest v. Gambell, 35 Oreg. 368, 53 Pac. 72, 353.

88. Nelson v. Superior, 109 Wis. 618, 85 N. W. 412 [distinguishing Brauer v. Portland, 35 Oreg. 471, 58 Pac. 861, 59 Pac. 117, 60 Pac. 378; De Boest v. Gambell, 35 Oreg. 368, 58 Pac. 72, 353].

89. Brauer v. Portland, 35 Oreg. 471, 58 Pac. 861, 59 Pac. 117, 60 Pac. 378.

90. Lyons v. New York, 82 N. Y. App. Div. 306, 81 N. Y. Suppl. 1079 [affirmed in 176

N. Y. 609, 68 N. E. 1119, and affirming 38 Misc. 253, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 589]. See also People v. Scannell, 71 N. Y. App. Div. 491, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 904 [affirmed in 171 N. Y. 690, 64 N. E. 1124].

A medical officer is not a member of the uniformed force of the fire department and as such within the provision of Greater New York Charter (Laws (1897), p. 258, c. 378), § 740, providing that the pay of members of such force should remain fixed at the same amount they were receiving before the consolidation. Lyons v. New York, 82 N. Y. App. Div. 306, 81 N. Y. Suppl. 1079 [affirmed in 176 N. Y. 609, 68 N. E. 1119, and affirming 38 Misc. 253, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 589].

91. Tyng v. Boston, 133 Mass. 372.

92. Norton v. Brookline, 181 Mass. 360, 63 N. E. 930 [distinguishing Tyng v. Boston, 133 Mass. 372, on the ground that in that case the pay forfeited had become due], holding further that where in an action by a fireman against a town for salary stopped by the fire commissioner for misconduct, there was nothing to show whether or not the commissioner had power to change plaintiff's contract, except St. (1899) c. 135, § 1, authorizing him to employ and discharge firemen, and the fact that the town, in its defense, was adopting the commissioner's act, it could not be assumed that such act was unauthorized.

93. Parks v. Atlanta, 76 Ga. 828.

94. Butcher v. Camden, 29 N. J. Eq. 478.

95. Monroe v. New York, 28 Hun (N. Y.) 258, so holding where claimant had neither performed the service of the office or asserted any claim to compensation for several years.

department is usually regarded as entitled to recover the salary incident to the office,⁹⁶ but reinstatement is necessary.⁹⁷ As against the claim for his salary it has been held that the city cannot set off a sum earned in the interim by the fireman in private employment⁹⁸ or in municipal employment other than as an officer within an inhibition against the same person holding two offices.⁹⁹ If a board of fire commissioners is vested with absolute discretion as to dismissal, a fireman cannot recover from the city salary alleged to be due since his dismissal, but his remedy, if any, is an action against the commissioners for a fraudulent or illegal removal.¹

(B) Upon Reduction in Rank or Retirement. Where an officer is reduced in rank and accepts the duties and salary of the inferior position it amounts to an acceptance of such position and a resignation of the other, and he cannot afterward recover the difference between the salaries of the positions.² If a fireman has been illegally retired upon an annuity and thereafter performs no service as fireman, it has been held he cannot recover the fireman's salary thereafter accruing.³

h. Retirement and Pensions. Where provision is made for the payment of pensions to members⁴ of the fire department injured in the service,⁵ or to the widows of members,⁶ or for the retirement on half pay,⁷ or transfer to light

96. Padden v. New York, 45 Misc. (N. Y.) 517, 92 N. Y. Suppl. 926.

97. Wood v. New York, 55 N. Y. Super. Ct. 230.

98. Padden v. New York, 45 Misc. (N. Y.) 517, 92 N. Y. Suppl. 926.

99. Padden v. New York, 45 Misc. (N. Y.) 517, 92 N. Y. Suppl. 926, holding that where a fireman wrongfully discharged pending reinstatement accepted employment as sergeant at arms to the city council, he did not thereby abandon his prior office, within New York City Charter (Laws (1897), p. 543, c. 378), § 1549, prohibiting municipal officers from holding two offices.

1. Baltimore v. O'Neill, 63 Md. 336.

2. Monroe v. New York, 28 Hun (N. Y.) 258; O'Brien v. New York, 28 Hun (N. Y.) 250; Reilly v. New York, 48 N. Y. Super. Ct. 274.

3. Wood v. New York, 44 N. Y. Super. Ct. 321, holding that where a board of fire commissioners sentenced an offending fireman "to be retired from active service on an annuity of $150," as the board had the power of removal, the sentence took effect as a discharge, although there was no power to grant the annuity.

4. See cases cited infra, this note.

Discharged member.—Where the benefits of a pension fund are limited to members of the department, a member who has been wrongfully discharged must be reinstated before he can make application. Karb v. State, 54 Ohio St. 383, 43 N. E. 920.

Substitutes.—A person appointed for temporary duty is not entitled to a pension as a substitute member of the department. State v. Firemen's Pension Fund, 18 Ohio Cir. Ct. 887, 9 Ohio Cir. Dec. 854.

Review of action on application.—Where no provision for a review or an appeal from the determination of a board as to the right to a pension is made, such determination if made in good faith is final. Karb v. State 54 Ohio St. 383, 43 N. E. 920, so holding of a determination of whether the disability of the claimant was caused in or induced by the actual performance of his duties as a fireman. See also People v. Firemen's Pension Fund, 95 Ill. App. 300, holding that under Laws (1887), p. 117, providing that the board of trustees of the fire department pension fund shall make all needful rules for its regulation, and shall decide all applications for pensions, and all its decisions on such applications shall be final and conclusive, and not subject to review, mandamus will not lie to compel the board to pension a fireman on the report of the medical examiner.

Vested right in pension see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 904.

5. See Scott v. Jersey City, 68 N. J. L. 687, 54 Atl. 441, holding that where a member of a fire department, whose entire time was devoted to the duties of his office, was killed by falling from a trolley car while on his way from the fire house to his home in the city, during the hours set apart for meals, he was not at the time of his death engaged in the performance of his duties, within the meaning of the act, and his widow was not entitled to recover therefor.

6. See Scott v. Jersey City, 68 N. J. L. 687, 54 Atl. 441.

Compelling hearing on application.—The officer charged with such duties may be compelled by mandamus to hear and determine a widow's application for a pension. Matter of Tobin, 64 N. Y. App. Div. 375, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 184.

7. See cases cited infra, this note.

Permanent disability.—A finding of permanent disability may be required precedent to retirement. People v. Bryant, 28 N. Y. App. Div. 480, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 119, holding that a finding by a retiring board that a member of the fire department "is not competent, physically, to perform the duties of duties,⁸ of members upon disability rights under such provisions must be determined under the particular charter or statute involved. Where the fire commissioner is given power to retire certain members of the department from service, and in every case is to determine the circumstances thereof, the power is discretionary and the discretion is a judicial one to be exercised reasonably and fairly.⁹

i. Relief Associations and Benefit Funds. Under express statutory sanction firemen's relief associations exist in many of the larger cities, supported in part by dues or assessments upon the active members of the department and in part by municipal and state aid.¹⁰ These associations are, where express provision is not made, governed by the rules usually applicable to mutual benefit associations.¹¹ Where contributions of members of the department to a widows and orphans' relief fund are not voluntary but in the nature of assessments,¹² the widow of a member who some years before his death had been retired upon a pension was entitled to share in the fund, although the monthly contributions had not been deducted from his pension as required by law,¹³ and although he had stated his unwillingness to contribute and that he did not desire his wife to receive anya fireman" is not equivalent to a finding of permanent disability, and did not warrant the placing of his name on the pension roll under Laws (1894), c. 708. See also People v. Sturgis, 85 N. Y. App. Div. 20, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 953 [affirmed in 176 N. Y. 563, 68 N. E. 1123].

Reduction of amount.—Where the member upon retirement is entitled to a pension of one half his salary, or such less sum as the condition of the pension fund will warrant, and the fire commissioner fixes a sum less than one half the salary, the member has the burden of showing that the full amount should not be allowed. Ramsey v. Hayes, 187 N. Y. 367, 80 N. E. 193 [reversing 112 N. Y. App. Div. 442, 98 N. Y. Suppl. 394].

Power of medical officer.—Under Laws (1887), p. 117, providing that if any member of the fire department of a city shall be found, on examination by a medical officer ordered by the board of trustees; to be disabled by reason of service in such department, so as to render necessary his retirement from service, the board of trustees shall retire him, such medical officer cannot conclusively decide that the applicant should be retired and pensioned, as his duty is to examine the applicant and report the result of his examination to the board. People v. Firemen's Pension Fund, 95 Ill. App. 300.

8. People v. Sturgis, 85 N. Y. App. Div. 20, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 953 [affirmed in 176 N. Y. 563, 68 N. E. 1123], holding that under such a provision where the fireman is not disqualified from all duties he cannot be retired upon a pension.

9. People v. Scannell, 34 Misc. (N. Y.) 709, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 1042, holding that where a member of a fire department, an honorably discharged veteran, was retired for alleged defective vision, under an order signed by the fire commissioner two weeks before it was issued, and prepared before a medical examination of the fireman thereafter discharged, and approved on a telephonic communication had by the employees of the commissioner with him at a place distant from the city, and the fireman at the time was entitled as first on an eligible list prepared by the civil service commission for promotion within a few days before his retirement, an exercise by the fire commissioner of his judicial discretion in making the retirement was not shown and the retirement was invalid.

10. See the statutes of the several states. And see Chicago Paid Fire Dept. Benev. Assoc. v. Farwell, 100 Ill. 197 (holding that under the act of May 24, 1877, all previous statutes upon the subject having been repealed, the benevolent association of the paid fire department of Chicago no longer had the right to the management of the fund for the relief of disabled members of the department, but that its management was vested in the controller of the city); Legault v. Minneapolis Fire Dept. Relief Assoc., 93 Minn. 72, 100 N. W. 666; Vannatta v. Smith, 61 N. J. L. 188, 38 Atl. 811.

Mandamus to compel relief.—Where an exempt fireman claims to be entitled to relief from an association, and his claim has been adjudicated by the trustees of such association who are vested by statute with jurisdiction to consider such claim, he cannot compel a further or other consideration by mandamus. Vannatta v. Smith, 61 N. J. L. 188, 38 Atl. 811.

Employment of physician.—In the absence of express provision in the articles or by-laws of the association the vice-president of a firemen's relief association has no authority to employ a physician not the regular surgeon of the association to treat an injured member for an indefinite length of time. Legault v. Minneapolis Fire Dept. Relief Assoc., 93 Minn. 72, 100 N. W. 666.

License-fees of insurance companies devoted to benefit of department see INSURANCE, 22 Cyc. 1391.

11. See MUTUAL BENEFIT INSURANCE.

12. See In re Tobin, 164 N. Y. 532, 58 N. E. 650 [affirming 53 N. Y. App. Div. 453, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 97].

13. In re Tobin, 164 N. Y. 532, 58 N. E. 650 [affirming 53 N. Y. App. Div. 453, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 97].

thing from the fund.¹⁴ A member who has been suspended without pay but not discharged is still a member of the department so that upon his death his widow is entitled to a benefit fund.¹⁵

9. STREETS AND SEWERS — a. Creation of Offices. Where the mayor and common council are given, by the city charter, the management and control of the streets and highways in the city, they have power to create and prescribe the duties of the office of street commissioner,¹⁶ or foreman of street repairs.¹⁷ Under a statute providing that certain duties shall be performed by a city engineer or other proper officer, an officer other than the city engineer may perform the duties required of a city engineer in regard to sewers, provided he has proper qualifications for the work.¹⁸ A statute providing for the creation of a commission to superintend and control the grading and paving of a street in a certain city has been held to be violative of a constitutional provision forbidding the delegation of municipal functions to any special commission.¹⁹

b. Election or Appointment of Officers. Municipal street officers are to be elected at the time and for the terms provided by law.²⁰ Where a city charter creates the office of street commissioner and makes it elective and prescribes how the officer shall be elected, his qualifications, and the manner in which a vacancy in the office shall be filled, the common council can neither create a street commissioner nor fill a vacancy in the office, nor can it direct that the duties of the office shall be performed by any person other than the lawful incumbent.²¹ In order that an appointment or election of a street commissioner by the board of road

14. In re Tobin, 164 N. Y. 532, 58 N. E. 650 [affirming 53 N. Y. App. Div. 453, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 97].

15. Reidy v. New York, 185 N. Y. 141, 77 N. E. 1011 [reversing 103 N. Y. App. Div. 361, 93 N. Y. Suppl. 16], holding under Greater New York Charter (Laws (1901), p. 334, c. 466, § 792), providing that all persons having paid specified sums into the insurance fund shall receive the benefit thereof and in case of death of any employee "in the service of said department" who has availed himself of such provision there shall be paid to his widow the sum of one thousand dollars; and section 1543 (page 636) providing that when a position is abolished the person legally filling the same shall be deemed "suspended" without pay and shall be entitled to reinstatement in the same or corresponding employment, if within a year thereafter there is need for his services, that where plaintiff's husband had been employed as clerk in the bureau of the chief of the fire department and for a series of years had contributed to the insurance fund and died within a year after the abolition of his position, he should be regarded as having been merely suspended, and not discharged, so that his widow was entitled to the benefit of such fund.

16. State v. May, 106 Mo. 488, 17 S. W. 660, holding that the provision of the charter of Kansas City of 1889, art. 3, § 1, giving the mayor and council exclusive power to clean and repair the streets, was not in conflict with art. 6, § 10, giving the board of public works power to "supervise" the same; and the mayor and council could create the office of street commissioner, and prescribe his duty as that of superintending the cleaning and repairing of the streets under the supervision of the board, and that the fact that the article in the charter of 1875, authorizing the appointment of such a commissioner, was omitted from the charter of 1889, did not evince an intention to abolish the office.

17. Collopy v. Cloherty, 95 Ky. 330, 25 S. W. 497, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 870, holding that a provision in the city charter that the legislative, executive, and ministerial power of the city should be vested in a mayor and a board of council and other officers named, "and such necessary deputies or assistants as may be required," could not be construed as denying authority to the board of councilmen to create other offices beside those enumerated, and that this would be true even if the power to appoint deputies and assistants had not been expressly given.

18. Weesner v. Central Nat. Bank, 106 Mo. App. 668, 80 S. W. 319.

19. Mellon v. Pittsburg, 31 Leg. Int. (Pa.) 212.

20. People v. Hossefross, 17 Cal. 137, holding that San Francisco Consol. Act (1856), § 6, providing that "there shall be elected hereafter, for said city and county of San Francisco, by the qualified electors thereof . . . one . . . Superintendent of Public Streets and Highways . . . who shall respectively continue in office for two years." intended that the superintendent of public streets and highways should be elected at the general election in the autumn of 1856 for the whole term of two years.

21. Payne v. San Francisco, 3 Cal. 122, holding that where a person elected street commissioner had forfeited the office by failing to qualify within the time prescribed, the mayor and common council could not subsequently admit him to the office, but the former incumbent had a right to hold over until the office was regularly filled.

commissioners shall be valid the meeting must have been called and conducted according to law.²² Commissioners appointed by the legislature to lay a pavement within a city are agents of the state and not officers of the city, such as must be elected by electors thereof.²³ A statutory provision for the election of street commissioners by the city council is repealed by implication by a subsequent amendatory statute providing that there shall be chosen annually by the people and by general ticket a street commissioner to superintend the streets, roads, and bridges of the city.²⁴ Where the statute authorizes the election of the same person as surveyor of highways for more than one district, and the town has elected the same person as surveyor of three districts, the town council cannot assign him to one of the districts and elect other persons as surveyors of the other two districts.²⁵ Where the office of street commissioner of a city is a mere municipal agency, not created directly by the constitution or by statute, a vacancy in the office is to be filled, not by appointment of the governor but by the mayor and aldermen.²⁶ Where the charter of a city authorizes the mayor and city council to appoint and remove such officers as they may deem necessary to enforce the ordinances and regulations of the city, and they have created the office of street commissioner, such office must be filled by their concurring action and cannot be filled by the council alone.²⁷ Where the charter of a city provides merely that the street commissioner shall be appointed by the mayor "with the consent and approval of the common council," and does not prescribe the manner of confirmation, the nomination of a street commissioner made by the mayor to the common council on a list containing several other candidates for distinct and separate offices may properly be confirmed by the council in gross by one vote or resolution, and it is not necessary to act on each case separately.²⁸ Where a street commissioner is appointed for a definite term by the road commissioners and they have power to remove him only for cause, their action before the expiration of his term in declaring the office vacant and making an appointment to fill the vacancy is null and void.²⁹ In the absence of any statutory requirement the issuance of a formal commission is not requisite to the validity of the appointment of a street commissioner.³⁰ The legality of the appointment of a street commissioner cannot be questioned in an action of replevin for property pertaining to the office brought by one claiming subsequent appointment thereto.³¹

22. State v. Kirk, 46 Conn. 395, holding that under Bridgeport Charter, § 50, which provides that the mayor shall be ex officio a member of the board of road commissioners, and preside at its meetings when present, but shall have no vote unless there be a tie, it was necessary to the legality of a meeting of the board that the mayor should be notified of the meeting, and that a street commissioner, appointed by the board at a meeting of which the mayor was not notified, was not legally appointed, although there was a majority of the votes of the members in his favor, making a case in which the mayor would have had no vote, and holding further that a meeting of the board of road commissioners was rendered illegal by the appointment of the clerk of the board to preside and declare the vote for the office of street commissioner, he not being a member of the board.

23. Greaton v. Griffin, 4 Abb. Pr. N. S. (N. Y.) 310.

24. Eaton v. Burke, 66 N. H. 306, 22 Atl. 452, construing Laws (1889), c. 248, § 1, as having such effect.

25. State v. Gorman, 13 R. I. 318.

26. People v. Conover, 17 N. Y. 64 [affirming 26 Barb. 516].

27. Com. v. Crogan, 155 Pa. St. 448, 26 Atl. 697 [reversing 7 Kulp 23], holding further that an ordinance signed by the mayor giving the council alone authority to appoint a street commissioner could not deprive a subsequent mayor of the right to participate in the appointment.

28. People v. Allen, 51 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 97.

29. State v. Martin, 46 Conn. 479.

30. Cotanch v. Grover, 57 Hun (N. Y.) 272, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 754, holding that where the record of the proceedings of the village trustees shows that a street commissioner was appointed at a meeting of the trustees and took the oath of office and filed a bond as required by N. Y. Laws (1870), c. 291, under which the village was incorporated, it cannot be objected to the validity of his appointment that no commission was issued, as the act does not provide for a formal commission.

31. Hallgren v. Campbell, 82 Mich. 255. 46 N. W. 381, 21 Am. St. Rep. 557, 9 L. R. A. 408.

c. Qualification. If a person elected as street commissioner fails to qualify within the time prescribed by the charter he forfeits the office.³²

d. Term of Office. Where a statute provides for the election of street officers and fixes the term of office, they must be elected for such term.³³ Where the term of an officer to be appointed by the city council is prescribed by statute, his term commences at the time of his appointment.³⁴ A charter provision that the mayor with the consent and approval of the common council shall "biennially" appoint a street commissioner relates to the time when appointments shall be made and does not fix a two-year term of office for an appointee without regard to the time of appointment.³⁵ Where a city charter empowers the common council to establish the duration of the term of the office of street inspector at or within the period of three years, and this power of limitation has not been exercised otherwise than by an ordinance giving the road commissioners power to appoint a street commissioner "who shall hold office not exceeding three years," and the council has acquiesced in several appointments made by the commissioners with a different duration affixed to each, the term of office of an appointee is that which the road commissioners name at the time of his election if within the charter limits.³⁶ Where a municipal code created the new elective office of street commissioner and provided that all elected officers should serve for two years, and that special elections should be held to fill vacancies for unexpired terms, and fixed the annual period for the election of all officers, a person elected street commissioner at a special election held a few days after the code went into effect was entitled to hold office only until the election of his successor at the next annual election period.³⁷ The term of office of an inspector of streets, provided for by an old city charter, does not apply to the superintendent of streets, provided for by a new charter, the latter containing general words of repeal, having provisions respecting streets obviously designed to cover the whole ground, dispensing with the board which appointed the inspector, and providing for appointment of the superintendent by a new board, without fixing his term of office.³⁸

e. Status of Officers, Boards, or Employees. A street inspector appointed by a board of road commissioners for a definite term under an ordinance giving such board power to appoint "a street inspector, who shall hold office not exceeding three years, but shall be removable by said board for due cause," is a public officer.³⁹ Where the ordinance providing for the appointment of a street commissioner or superintendent of streets provides that he shall hold his "office" for a designated term, that it shall be the duty of such "officer" to superintend the

32. Payne v. San Francisco, 3 Cal. 122, so holding under San Francisco City Charter, art. 4, § 15, providing that "if any person elected to a city office . . . shall fail to qualify within ten days after his election, his office shall be deemed vacant."

33. People v. Hossefross, 17 Cal. 137, holding that San Francisco Consol. Act (1856), § 6, providing that "there shall be elected hereafter, for said city and county of San Francisco, by the qualified electors thereof, one . . . Superintendent of Public Streets and Highways . . . who shall respectively continue in office for two years," intended that the superintendent of public streets and highways shall be elected at the general election in the autumn of 1856, and should hold his office for two years therefrom.

34. State v. Sohn, 97 Ind. 101.

Removal and reappointment.—Where such an officer is removed by the council, which they have power to do, and subsequently reappointed, his term commences from the time of his reappointment. State v. Sohn, 97 Ind. 101.

35. People v. Kilbourn, 68 N. Y. 479, holding that since the legislative intention was, as indicated by the charter, that the municipal government should be under the control of the officers who were required to be elected for the period of two years; and the provision made it the duty of each newly elected mayor, immediately upon his accession to the office, to make the appointments designated, without regard to the question whether the then incumbents had served for more or less than two years, where a street commissioner was appointed just prior to the expiration of the term of office of the then mayor, and a new appointment was made by his successor, the latter appointee was entitled to the office.

36. State v. Martin, 46 Conn. 479.

37. State v. Cook, 20 Ohio St. 252.

38. State v. Chatfield, 71 Conn. 104, 40 Atl. 922.

39. State v. Martin, 46 Conn. 479.

repairing and cleaning of the streets, and that before entering upon the duties of his "office" he shall give bond for a certain amount, the incumbent of the position is an officer and not merely an employee of the board of public works.⁴⁰ Under a statute defining the term "officer" to include any person holding any situation under the city government or any of its departments, with an annual salary or for a definite term of office, a person appointed to perform certain engineering duties with regard to sewers for no definite term, and to receive a per diem wage, is not an officer entitled to perform such work which the statute requires to be performed by a city engineer "or other officer."⁴¹ Under a city charter authorizing the street commissioner to appoint street inspectors, subject to the approval of the common council, and naming them as city officers, such an inspector is an agent of the city and not an agent of the street commissioner,⁴² nor is such an officer a laborer or workman within the meaning of the civil service laws.⁴³ Members of the uniformed force of the street cleaning department of New York city are not officers in any sense of the term, but are regarded as laborers.⁴⁴ Sewerage works are essentially matters of local concern, and a board whose functions relate exclusively to them is a municipal and not a state agency.⁴⁵ A municipal sewerage board which by the law of its creation has been given a name and has power to contract and to sue is a body corporate.⁴⁶ Under the Arkansas statute an improvement district is not in any sense the agent of the city or town within which it is organized, but its powers are derived directly from the legislature; and in exercising such powers the board of improvement acts as the agent of the property-owners whose interests are affected by the duties it performs.⁴⁷

f. Civil Service Laws and Rules. Whether street officers and employees come within the civil service laws and rules depends upon their status and the laws or ordinances under which they are appointed.⁴⁸ Compelling an applicant for the office of street inspector to comply with the civil service rules of a city is not requiring an additional test, within the meaning of a constitutional provision prescribing a form of oath to be taken by judicial and executive officers, and declaring that "no other oath, declaration, or test shall be required as a qualification for any office of public trust."⁴⁹ A provision of the civil service law that in every public department, and on all public works, honorably discharged soldiers shall be entitled to preference in appointment and promotion, without regard to their standing on any list from which such appointment or promotion shall be made, does not prevent the head of the department of highways from dividing

40. State v. May, 106 Mo. 488, 17 S. W. 660, holding that under the charter of Kansas City, although the board of public works have power to supervise the performance of the duties of the superintendent of streets, they have no power to appoint or remove him, but the office is to be filled by the appointment of the mayor subject to the confirmation of the common council.

41. Weesner v. Central Nat. Bank, 106 Mo. App. 668, 80 S. W. 319.

42. Rogers v. Buffalo, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 671 [affirmed in 3 N. Y. Suppl. 674 (affirmed in 123 N. Y. 173, 25 N. E. 274, 9 L. R. A. 579)].

43. Rogers v. Buffalo, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 671 [affirmed in 3 N. Y. Suppl. 674 (affirmed in 123 N. Y. 173, 25 N. E. 274, 9 L. R. A. 579)].

44. Tepidino v. New York, 50 Misc. (N. Y.) 324, 98 N. Y. Suppl. 693.

45. State v. Kohnke, 109 La. 838, 33 So. 793.

46. State v. Kohnke, 109 La. 838, 33 So. 793.

47. Fitzgerald v. Walker, 55 Ark. 148, 17 S. W. 702, holding that therefore the constitutional prohibition against the issuing of interest-bearing evidences of indebtedness by municipalities does not apply to a board of improvements.

48. A street inspector in the city of Brooklyn is within the civil service laws and rules. Rogers v. Buffalo, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 671 [affirmed in 3 N. Y. Suppl. 674 (affirmed in 123 N. Y. 173, 25 N. E. 274, 9 L. R. A. 579)], Matter of Wortman, 2 N. Y. Suppl. 324, 22 Abb. N. Cas. 137, holding that therefore an honorably discharged soldier of the Civil war is entitled to preference in appointment.

An inspector of street paving in the city of Mt. Vernon is not within the municipal civil service regulation requiring examination before appointment. Carmody v. Mt. Vernon, 3 N. Y. App. Div. 347, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 314.

49. Rogers v. Buffalo, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 671 [affirmed in 3 N. Y. Suppl. 674 (affirmed in 123 N. Y. 173, 25 N. E. 274, 9 L. R. A. 579)].

the employees into gangs, working in specified districts, for the benefit of the service, so long as veterans employed in such gangs are given preference over other employees in their particular gangs.⁵⁰

g. Compensation. A statute forbidding the city authorities to contract to pay in any month any demand which shall exceed one-twelfth part of the amount allowed by laws existing at the time of the contract to be expended within the year of which such month is a part has no application to the auditing and payment of demands for salaries of deputy street superintendents whose appointments are provided for and whose salaries are fixed by law.⁵¹ Where a city directed the making of a sewer by an ordinance reciting that it was in accordance with a petition of a majority of the property-owners, and employed therefor an inspector, who duly performed his services, and the cost of the sewer was to be paid by a special assessment, but it afterward transpired that the petition was not signed by a majority of the property-owners, and the work was discontinued, and no assessments made, the city was liable to the inspector for his salary on an implied warranty that the petition was sufficient, and that the assessment would be levied.⁵² It has been held that where the common council of a city had, under the charter, the right to fix salaries and fees, it might, during the term of office, abolish the street commissioner's salaries and substitute fees.⁵³ One who claims a salary from the city as due him under an appointment as foreman of the bureau of street cleaning, for a time when he in fact rendered no services, must show an appointment or employment of such a nature or for such a period as entitles him to the salary claimed irrespective of the rendition of services.⁵⁴ Where a deputy collector of assessments appointed by a street commissioner has not been permitted to perform the duties of the office to which he has been appointed, he cannot maintain an action against the city to recover the fees accruing during his term.⁵⁵ A member of the uniformed force of the street cleaning department who, having been laid off by order of the commissioner, fails to tender his services to the commissioner during the periods of idleness, but accepts other employment, is estopped from afterward recovering compensation for the unemployed time, the compensation being in the nature of wages paid for specific labor, and not an official salary.⁵⁶ An employee of the street cleaning department is not entitled to extra pay for work done on Sundays, in the absence of any contract on the part of the city to compensate him therefor.⁵⁷ A member of the uniformed force of the street cleaning department of New York city, being competent to take a leave of absence and waive his compensation for the time, is estopped by his application for leave of absence without pay, which was granted, from recovering compensation for the time of his absence.⁵⁸ The

50. Schuyler v. New York, 95 N. Y. App. Div. 305, 88 N. Y. Suppl. 646, holding that where, in an action by a veteran employed in the department of streets in the city of New York, to recover wages for days on which he did not work, it appeared that he was neither arbitrarily prevented from working, nor was work refused him while there was work to be done in his district, but, on the contrary, he was given preference over the other workmen in his gang, his right to compensation being dependent on the rendition of services, he was not entitled to recover on the ground that during the days sued for laborers in other gangs and in other districts who were not veterans were furnished employment.

51. Cashin v. Dunn, 58 Cal. 581, holding that the salaries of deputies of the superintendents of streets of San Francisco must be paid out of the general fund in preference to any and all other demands.

52. Bill v. Denver, 29 Fed. 344.

53. Wilson v. San José, 7 Cal. 275.

54. Brandt v. New York, 48 N. Y. Super. Ct. 293.

55. Smith v. New York, 37 N. Y. 518 [affirming 1 Daly 219].

56. Driscoll v. New York, 78 N. Y. App. Div. 52, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 479 [affirming 38 Misc. 453, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 997], where it is said that plaintiff's failure to tender his services "put the city in the position of being unable, through the commissioner, to exercise that right which the commissioner had of discharging him instead of retaining him in employment."

57. McCormack v. New York, 14 Misc. (N. Y.) 272, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 757, where the court in such a case further pointed out as being material the fact that under the statute on the subject plaintiff's salary could not legally exceed the amount which he had received.

58. Tepidino v. New York, 50 Misc. (N. Y.) 324, 98 N. Y. Suppl. 693.

power to remove does not include the power to suspend, and hence where an inspector of grading and regulating, after service upon him of a notice of suspension, continues to tender his services daily, he is entitled to compensation for the period of suspension.⁵⁹

h. Powers and Duties. So long as a street commissioner remains in office he is required to perform all the duties which the charter attaches to such office, and the common council cannot relieve him of any of those duties during his continuance in office.⁶⁰ A street commissioner has a right to use the necessary force to keep the public streets from being injured, and no action can be sustained against him or those who act under his orders from using such force.⁶¹ Any act which is reasonably necessary to put or keep a street in good repair, suitable for travel thereon, is repairing or maintaining a street within the meaning of a statute giving street and park commissioners power to "repair and maintain streets and highways."⁶² Where the purpose of a sewer district designated by a city council is merely the construction of sewers, and the object and authority of its board of improvement or commissioners is limited to such construction and the paying therefor, the commissioners cannot, after the completion of the sewers, bind the district, or themselves as a board, by a contract for water for flushing.⁶³ Under the New York City Consolidation Act,⁶⁴ before the commissioner of street cleaning enters into a contract for the removal of ashes and garbage, such contract must be approved by the board of estimate as to price, terms, and conditions.⁶⁵ A finding that a city has constituted its street commissioner its agent to make acceptances of assignments of future earnings by employees in his department is sustained by a statement of agreed facts showing that for several years the commissioner had been accustomed to accept such assignments, and that the wages afterward earned were paid to the assignees by the city treasurer, although it is also agreed that the city council never authorized the commissioner to accept assignments.⁶⁶

i. Liabilities. A superintendent of streets is liable on his bond for neglect of duty;⁶⁷ but it is conceded that as a general rule a private suit cannot be maintained against commissioners of highways for neglect in repairing highways in

Where the appropriation for the street cleaning department is insufficient to pay the salaries of all the street sweepers, and in order to prevent a reduction of the force all the members agree to take leave of absence without pay for a certain time, one who was a party to such arrangement is estopped to afterward claim pay from the city for the time he was absent. Downs v. New York, 75 N. Y. App. Div. 423, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 442 [reversing 38 Misc. 649, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 222, and affirmed in 173 N. Y. 651, 66 N. E. 1107], holding further that an agreement between the commissioner and the city street sweepers, in view of a shortage in the appropriation, that they shall take a leave of absence for a day each week, without pay, is within the provision of Greater New York Charter, § 537, that leave of absence exceeding twenty days in a year shall not be allowed a member of the force, except on condition that he release not less than half his compensation during his absence.

^{59.} Myers v. New York, 18 N. Y. Suppl. 904 [following Gregory v. New York, 113 N. Y. 416, 21 N. E. 119, 3 L. R. A. 854, and distinguishing Higgins v. New York, 131 N. Y. 128, 30 N. E. 44].

^{60.} Mitchell v. Wiles, 59 Ind. 364. The common council of a city cannot suspend a street commissioner or release him from the discharge of his duties and still retain him in office. State v. Sohn, 97 Ind. 101.

^{61.} Clark v. McCarthy, 1 Cal. 453.

^{62.} Conner v. Manchester, 73 N. H. 233, 60 Atl. 436, holding that it could not be said, as a matter of law, that such commissioners were not authorized by such statute to remove dirt, rubbish, and ashes from the streets and from receptacles placed on or near streets by abutters.

^{63.} Pine Bluff Water, etc., Co. v. Sewer Dist., 56 Ark. 205, 18 S. W. 576.

^{64.} N. Y. Laws (1882), c. 410.

^{65.} People v. Waring, 5 N. Y. App. Div. 311, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 193 [distinguishing Lynch v. New York, 2 N. Y. App. Div. 213, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 798].

^{66.} Lamoureux v. Morin, 72 N. H. 76, 54 Atl. 1023.

^{67.} Goodsell v. Ashworth, 96 Cal. 397, 31 Pac. 261, holding that under St. (1885) p. 160, § 22, providing that the superintendent of streets shall give bonds, on which, if he fails to see the laws, ordinances, orders, and regulations relative to streets and highways executed, after notice of violation thereof, he shall be liable to any one injured in person or property in consequence of his official neglect, and section 11, providing that all persons directly interested in any work provided for in the act, feeling aggrieved by their respective towns, unless it is shown that they had the requisite funds for that purpose under their control.⁶⁸ Where a superintendent of streets undertakes to repair a street or sewer he must do so in a careful and skilful manner, and is liable for any damages resulting from his negligence, and cannot escape liability on the ground that he did such work in his official capacity;⁶⁹ and where he exceeded his authority in making such repairs his acts stand on the same footing as those of any other person making the repairs.⁷⁰ So also where street commissioners, abandoning the method prescribed by charter for repairs, undertake to carry out the work by means of a committee and superintendent, they become liable individually for injuries received by a person through the negligence of their employees.⁷¹ Under a statutory provision that heads of departments and officers of a city shall not be liable to third persons for misfeasance or nonfeasance of any person appointed by or subordinate to them, a commissioner of city works is not liable to a person injured by the falling of a wooden awning in a street, where if there was misfeasance or nonfeasance anywhere in the department of city works in allowing the awning in question to be erected and to remain, it was that of the superintendent of streets, a subordinate in the department.⁷²

j. Removal or Dismissal—(1) IN GENERAL. Officers and employees of municipal street departments are very generally protected from summary or arbitrary removal by provisions in charters or general statutes or city ordinances that they shall not be removed except for cause or upon notice and after an opportunity to be heard.⁷³ Such a provision does not, however, authorize a trial any act or determination of the superintendent relative thereto, shall appeal to the city council, and further providing that all the decisions of the city council shall in certain respects be final, the remedy of one complaining of the superintendent's neglect in not seeing that a sewer was properly constructed in accordance with the specifications is not confined to appeal, and, there having been none, he can sue on the bond.

68. Hutson v. New York, 5 Sandf. (N. Y.) 289, holding, however, that this rule did not apply to the corporation of the city of New York in their capacity of commissioners of highways.

69. Butler v. Ashworth, 102 Cal. 663, 36 Pac. 922.

In Massachusetts a superintendent of streets is liable for injuries resulting from his personal negligence in the performance of his duties, but he is not liable for injuries not caused by his negligence, or for injuries resulting from the negligence of his servants or agents. Moynihan v. Todd, 188 Mass. 301, 74 N. E. 367, 108 Am. St. Rep. 473.

70. Butler v. Ashworth, 102 Cal. 663, 36 Pac. 922.

71. Robinson v. Rohr, 73 Wis. 436, 40 N. W. 668, 9 Am. St. Rep. 810, 2 L. R. A. 366.

72. Bleling v. Brooklyn, 9 N. Y. St. 690.

73. State v. Martin, 46 Conn. 479 (holding that where an ordinance gives to the board of road commissioners power to appoint a street inspector who "shall be removable by said board for due cause," an appointee has the right to the office until the expiration of his term unless removed for cause, and cannot be ousted by a resolution declaring the office vacant and the appointment of a successor); People v. Woodbury, 102 N. Y. App. Div. 462, 92 N. Y. Suppl. 442 (holding that an order notifying a sawyer employed by the department of street cleaning that "you are hereby notified that you are discharged from this department as a sawyer, your services being no longer required" does not necessarily import that the position of sawyer has been abrogated, or that the department of street cleaning has no longer any work for a sawyer, so as to exclude the operation of Greater New York Charter (Laws (1901), p. 242, c. 466, § 537), providing that no member of the uniformed force of the department of street cleaning shall be removed until after a hearing, and requiring the true grounds of removal to be entered upon the records of the department); People v. Brookfield, 1 N. Y. App. Div. 68, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 107, holding that under New York City Consolidation Act (N. Y. Laws (1882), c. 410, §§ 48, 317), declaring that no regular clerk or head of a bureau shall be removed until he has been informed of the cause of the proposed removal, and has been allowed an opportunity of making an explanation, the superintendent of street improvements, who is declared by statute to be chief officer of a bureau, cannot be discharged on mere notice of an intended consolidation of his office with another office, and request for his resignation).

Where a street commissioner is appointed by the city council for a definite term, the city council cannot remove him except for cause and after notice and an opportunity to be heard, in the absence of any statutory provision giving them a discretionary power or judicial hearing of any kind, but only a notification of the charge and an opportunity to make an explanation.⁷⁴ Where a member of a street-cleaning department is assigned to certain duties carrying an increased compensation, but such an assignment is a mere detail in the department, and not an appointment to a new and distinct position, he holds such detail at the discretion of the commissioner of street cleaning, and may be relegated to his former position and his former rate of pay without notice.⁷⁵ A superintendent of streets, appointed by the executive board of a city under a charter provision giving them power to "appoint, and, at pleasure, remove" such officer, may be removed without charges against him and without a hearing;⁷⁶ and the same is true of a superintendent of streets appointed by the street commissioner under a charter provision giving him power to appoint such superintendents "who shall hold their places during the pleasure of the commissioner."⁷⁷ Under a charter provision granting the commissioner of street cleaning power to remove a member of the force, in his discretion, on evidence satisfactory to him of any breach of discipline, the refusal of an accused member to make explanation to the commissioner of a charge of insubordination preferred by the deputy is cause for immediate removal by the commissioner.⁷⁸ Under a charter provision that absence without leave of any member of the uniformed force of the street department for five consecutive days shall be deemed a resignation, the commissioner of street cleaning has power to dismiss a street sweeper, who had been appointed as an assistant foreman, without notice, where he was absent without leave for more than five of removal. Hallgren v. Campbell, 82 Mich. 255, 46 N. W. 381, 21 Am. St. Rep. 557, 9 L. R. A. 408.

74. People v. Woodbury, 114 N. Y. App. Div. 188, 99 N. Y. Suppl. 573, holding that where a member of a street cleaning department of Greater New York, having appeared before the board of appeals of the department in response to notice, had fully explained to him charges as to obtaining his position by false naturalization papers, and the employee asked and was granted several adjournments before he was finally dismissed, and the true ground of his removal was entered on the records of the department, there was a sufficient compliance with Greater New York Charter (Laws (1901), p. 242, c. 466, § 537), providing that no member of the street cleaning department shall be removed until he has been informed of the cause of the removal and allowed an opportunity of making an explanation.

75. Leach v. Woodbury, 75 N. Y. App. Div. 503, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 362, holding that under Greater New York Charter, § 536, which provides that members of the street cleaning department shall be divided into two general classes, viz., the clerical and uniformed force; that the uniformed force shall be appointed by the commissioner, and consist of one general superintendent, section foreman, and sweepers, and that there shall be paid to sweepers or drivers acting as assistants to the section or stable foreman nine hundred dollars, and to sweepers seven hundred and twenty dollars, the appointment of a sweeper as an assistant foreman was a mere detail in the department and the person so appointed, although an honorably discharged veteran of the Civil war, might be relegated to the duties and pay of a sweeper without notice.

76. People v. Armbruster, 59 Hun (N. Y.) 586, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 942, holding that he may be so removed, although he is an honorably discharged soldier of the Civil war, for he is a deputy of a department within the provisions of N. Y. Laws (1888), c. 119, as amended by N. Y. Laws (1890), c. 67, that the prohibition against the removal of an honorably discharged soldier from any appointive city or county except for cause shown after a hearing shall not apply to the position of deputy of any official or department.

77. People v. Baker, 12 Misc. (N. Y.) 389, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 49, holding that a street superintendent so appointed holds a "confidential relation" to the commissioner, within N. Y. Laws (1892), c. 577, declaring that its provisions restricting the removal of veteran volunteer firemen shall not apply to any person "holding a confidential relation to the appointing officer."

78. People v. Woodbury, 88 N. Y. App. Div. 593, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 161 [affirmed in 179 N. Y. 525, 71 N. E. 1137]; Com. v. Lynch, 8 Pa. Dist. 347, 22 Pa. Co. Ct. 422, 7 Del. Co. 417; Davis v. Filler, 47 W. Va. 413, 35 S. E. 6.

An ordinance making the term of a street supervisor one year cannot deprive the common council of the right to exercise the power of removing such officer, where such power is expressly given by the charter of the city. Mathis v. Rose, 64 N. J. L. 45, 44 Atl. 875 [affirmed in 64 N. J. L. 726, 49 Atl. 1135].

Failure to reappoint a commissioner at the expiration of his term and the selection of another is not a removal from office. People v. Dobbs Ferry, 63 N. Y. App. Div. 276, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 578.

consecutive days.⁷⁹ Where the common council have by statute the power to "dispense with the street commissioner," an order of the council dispensing with the incumbent's services as street commissioner is a removal from office.⁸⁰ In proceedings to remove a street commissioner from office, a charge that he disobeyed an order of the board of trustees that no new work should be begun without direction from the board is not sustained where it appears that the commissioner merely filled in, without direction from the board, places on a street that had recently been graded, but had sunk by reason of frost;⁸¹ but a mere statement by a street commissioner that he will not obey a certain resolution of the board of trustees is not ground for his removal where he afterward does actually comply with such resolution.⁸² A power conferred by statute upon the board of city affairs to remove such officers as it may deem necessary calls for the exercise of judgment and discretion, and cannot be delegated to the head of the street cleaning department.⁸³

(ii) REVIEW AND REINSTATEMENT. The statutes frequently provide for a judicial review of the dismissal of an officer or employee of the street department;⁸⁴ but where a statute gives the town council the right to remove a surveyor of highways and does not provide for any appeal from their action, no appeal lies.⁸⁵ The statutory period within which a discharged employee of the street department may institute proceedings to review his dismissal runs from the time when he received notice of the dismissal.⁸⁶ A charter provision that a removed member of the uniformed force in the street cleaning department, who is successful in a proceeding instituted to review his discharge, shall be entitled to be reinstated, and to receive full pay during the time of his suspension or removal

79. Leach v. Woodbury, 75 N. Y. App. Div. 503, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 362.

80. State v. Sohn, 97 Ind. 101.

81. People v. Mace, 84 Hun (N. Y.) 344, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 335.

82. People v. Mace, 84 Hun (N. Y.) 344, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 335.

83. Kelley v. Cincinnati, 9 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 611, 7 Ohio N. P. 360, holding that while the superintendent of the street cleaning department in Cincinnati must, from the nature and necessities of the work in his charge, and the large number of men under him, have the power to summarily suspend employees for insubordination or dereliction of duty, such suspension cannot be for an indefinite length of time, but can only last until reported to the board, where the action of the superintendent must, by four members, be approved or rejected, and the suspension becomes void on their failure to act thereon, and that where an employee of the street cleaning department, who was suspended by the superintendent, and upon whose suspension no action was taken by the board of city affairs, owing to a state of deadlock, for a period of six months, had during that time tendered his services, and stood ready and willing to discharge his duties, he was entitled to recover compensation for such time.

84. See People v. Woodbury, 88 N. Y. App. Div. 593, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 161 [affirmed in 179 N. Y. 525, 71 N. E. 1137].

Mandamus is not a proper remedy to review the dismissal of a member of the street cleaning force, under Greater New York Charter (Laws (1897), c. 378, § 537), providing that on dismissal a member shall have the right to sue out a writ of certiorari or other proper remedy, for the purpose of reviewing the action of the commissioner. People v. Woodbury, 88 N. Y. App. Div. 593, 88 N. Y. Suppl. 161 [affirmed in 179 N. Y. 525, 71 N. E. 1137].

85. Walsh v. Johnston, 18 R. I. 88, 25 Atl. 849, construing Pub. Sts. c. 38, § 12, and holding further that section 35, providing that "any person aggrieved by the judgment or decree of a town council may appeal within forty days after the entering up of such judgment or decree, and not thereafter," etc., was not intended to confer the right to appeal, but merely to fix a limitation of time within which such right, when it was elsewhere specifically given, could be exercised.

86. People v. Woodbury, 102 N. Y. App. Div. 333, 92 N. Y. Suppl. 444, holding that under New York Charter (N. Y. Laws (1901), p. 242, c. 466, § 537), providing that no member of the uniformed force of the street cleaning department shall be removed without a hearing, and that the commissioner of street cleaning shall have power to punish members of the force by dismissal, a record of which shall be entered in writing, a dismissal by the commissioner takes effect from the time it is communicated to the employee and not from the time the commissioner mentally determines upon it; and certiorari to review the dismissal sued out within four months from the time it was communicated to the employee, but more than four months after it was determined upon by the commissioner, is in time, under Code Civ. Proc. § 2125, requiring certiorari to be brought from office, does not authorize the recovery of compensation in the reinstatement proceeding itself.⁸⁷

k. De Facto Officers. Where a street inspector who is wrongfully appointed and qualified before the expiration of his predecessor's term exercises the office after the expiration of his predecessor's term, he is an officer de facto;⁸⁸ but where no such office as "sewer engineer" has ever been legally created, an incumbent thereof cannot be considered an officer de facto.⁸⁹ One who is in possession of the office of street commissioner, under an appointment giving him color of title, is street commissioner de facto, and as such entitled to possession of the books and papers of the office.⁹⁰

10. WATER AND LIGHT⁹¹ — a. Creation of Offices. A statute authorizing a board of water commissioners to employ or appoint from time to time such engineers, surveyors, clerks, and other persons to aid them in the execution of the statute as they may deem necessary or as may be authorized or required by law for the city, and to fix their compensation, is not limited to such employees as were authorized or required for the city by preëxisting laws.⁹² Under a charter provision authorizing the appointment of water commissioners when the city shall become the owner of any water-supply or shall decide to construct a system of water-supply, the city may appoint water commissioners, at a salary, where it leases a water plant.⁹³ Where a statute authorizes cities to construct, maintain, and operate waterworks and provides for the establishment of a board of trustees of such waterworks by the common council, no notice of a proceeding by the council to establish such board is necessary to give it validity.⁹⁴ Under a statute which authorizes "any city in which waterworks are, or may be situated, or in progress of construction" to establish a board of trustees of waterworks, a city in which no waterworks are situated and which has merely authorized a loan to construct them cannot establish a board of trustees of such works.⁹⁵

b. Election or Appointment of Officers. Where a statute authorizes cities and incorporated towns to construct, maintain, and operate waterworks, and provides for the establishment of a board of trustees of such waterworks by the common council, and for their election by the qualified voters of such city or town, the establishment of such a board by a city council is not a necessary prerequisite to the election of such trustees by the voters of the city,⁹⁶ nor is such an election invalidated by the fact that no notice thereof was previously given, or that a large number of the electors were ignorant of the existence of the law.⁹⁷ It has been held that a statute creating the board of water commissioners of a village and granting them specific powers creates a new office within a constitutional provision that all officers whose offices shall thereafter be created by law shall be elected by the people or appointed in such manner as the legislature may direct, and is not unconstitutional because it names the persons who are to constitute the commission.⁹⁸ Where a statute clothed the "authorities" of incorporated villages with power to organize themselves into boards of waterworks to supply their villages with pure and wholesome water, and a subsequent statute defined the within four months after the determination became final.

87. People v. Woodbury, 102 N. Y. App. Div. 462, 92 N. Y. Suppl. 442.

88. State v. Martin, 46 Conn. 479.

89. Weesner v. Central Nat. Bank, 106 Mo. App. 668, 80 S. W. 319.

90. Conover v. Devlin, 24 Barb. (N. Y.) 587, 5 Abb. Pr. 73, 14 How. Pr. 315.

91. Supply of water to the public see WATERS AND WATERCOURSES.

92. Herriek v. Hoos, 61 N. J. L. 463, 39 Atl. 656, holding that in Jersey City it is not requisite to the validity of the appointment or employment of officers, clerks, or other persons by the board of street and water commissioners that there should be a concurrence therein of the board of finance.

93. Higgins v. San Diego, 131 Cal. 294, 63 Pac. 470, so holding on the ground that the word "owner" is used in the sense that the city should have control of the water-supply.

94. Lafayette v. State, 69 Ind. 218.

95. State v. Pinto, 7 Ohio St. 355.

96. Lafayette v. State, 69 Ind. 218.

97. Lafayette v. State, 69 Ind. 218.

98. Hequembourg v. Dunkirk, 49 Hun (N. Y.) 550, 2 N. Y. Suppl. 447.

“authorities” to be the president and trustees of villages, and a still later statute provided that the term “authorities” should include first the president and trustees of the villages with terms of office for the term for which they were elected, or, second, the same number of commissioners to be elected at a special election called by the trustees on the written request of a majority of the resident taxpayers, the right of the trustees to be a water board, in the absence of an election of commissioners upon the request of the taxpayers, was only provisional, and if a majority of the taxpayers made the request for a public election the trustees were obliged to call the meeting, and the persons elected became the board of water commissioners upon filing their official oath.⁹⁹ Where a statute gives a municipal water board “sole authority” to employ and dismiss at pleasure a superintendent, the mayor is excluded from casting a vote in the selection of a superintendent, notwithstanding a subsequent clause in the statute directing that, whenever the commissioners shall be equally divided in determining a question “touching the management of the said works,” the casting vote shall be given by the mayor.¹ Where the power of appointment to fill vacancies in the membership of a city water board, caused by the failure of the councils to elect members, vested in the board, and, the board having failed to exercise it, the councils thereafter elected members who were received and recognized by the old members and participated in all their proceedings, the titles of the members so elected to their offices were merely voidable, and, not having been avoided, they were authorized to participate in appointments to fill subsequent vacancies caused by the failure of the council to act.² A municipal water commissioner upon whom is conferred no authority to appoint subordinate employees cannot make an appointment to fill a vacancy occurring in his department.³

c. Eligibility. The position of a member of a municipal board of waterworks is a “civil office” within the meaning of a constitutional provision that “no Senator or Representative shall, during the term for which he shall have been elected, be appointed to any civil office under this State, which shall have been created, or the emoluments of which shall have been increased, during his continuance in office.”⁴

d. Qualification. In a statute providing for waterworks for a city, and that certain persons shall be the “water committee” to purchase the plant and issue the bonds, the absence of a provision requiring them to take an official oath does not contravene a constitutional provision that “every person elected or appointed to any office under the constitution shall, before entering upon the duties thereof, take an oath or affirmation to support the constitution of the United States and of this state, and also an oath of office,” as the committee are not “officers under the constitution.”⁵

e. Term of Office. A statute placing the management of municipal waterworks in the hands of a water commissioner, whose term of office is fixed at ten years, does not contravene a constitutional provision that “the legislative assembly shall not create any office, the term of which should be longer than four years,” as the commissioners are not officers but agents of the corporation.⁶ Under an ordinance providing for the annual appointment of a gas inspector by the city council, an appointment to such office “subject to the further orders of this

99. People v. Bird, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 801, holding also that testimony of the village clerk that the names contained in the petition for the election represented a majority of the taxpayers of the village as contained in the last assessment roll is sufficient proof that the petitioners did represent a majority of the taxpayers.

1. Com. v. Grant, 2 Woodw. (Pa.) 379.

2. Com. v. Hoff, 1 Woodw. (Pa.) 464. In this case the court held further that a special act of the legislature which ratified and confirmed the titles to office of acting members of the water board was constitutional and valid.

3. Percival v. Weir, 52 Nebr. 373, 72 N. W. 477.

4. State v. Vallé, 41 Mo. 29.

5. David v. Portland Water Committee, 14 Oreg. 98, 12 Pac. 174.

6. David v. Portland Water Committee, 14 Oreg. 98, 12 Pac. 174.

council" is invalid, since such appointment is in effect an appointment during the pleasure of the common council.⁷

f. Status of Officers or Boards. Waterworks are essentially matters of local and municipal concern, and a board organized to control them and whose functions relate exclusively to them is a municipal, and not a state, agency.⁸ Members of the water board are "officers" of the city,⁹ and so also is a superintendent of waterworks;¹⁰ but a clerk or secretary of the board of waterworks trustees or the board of public service is a mere employee and not a public officer.¹¹ A municipal board of water commissioners is a representative and agent of the city and not an independent corporation, although it is authorized by statute to sue and be sued, to have a common seal, and to enter into contracts with reference to waterworks in its own name.¹²

g. Civil Service Laws and Rules. A lamp inspector, whose duties are to keep a record of the number and location of all the street lamps in the city, the number unlighted every night, and the reason therefor, to investigate all complaints relating to such lamps, and make report to the council, is a "subordinate officer or assistant," required to be examined for appointment under the civil service rules of New York.¹³

h. Compensation. Under a statute in reference to supplying a city with water, providing for the appointment of three commissioners, who, "for the first year after the commencement of the construction of waterworks, as hereinafter prescribed, shall each receive such salary as the common council shall fix," and empowering them to adopt and report any feasible plan for the works, "embracing the purchase of any water-works," the commissioners are entitled to compensation for the adoption and the recommendation to the council of a plan for purchasing works, and for their control and management of the works after the purchase.¹⁴ A lamp-lighter whose pay was reduced by the superintendent without the authority of the common council has been held to be entitled to recover

7. King v. Buffalo, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 564.

8. State v. Kohnke, 109 La. 838, 33 So. 793.

9. O'Brien v. Thorogood, 162 Mass. 598, 39 N. E. 287, holding that where an act for supplying a city with water provided that the powers therein granted should be exercised by such agents as the "city council" should direct, and a water board was not provided for by any subsequent act, but subsequent ordinances of the city in designating its agents used the phrase "water board," and a subsequent statute amending the city charter recognized the existence of the water board but made no provision for the election of its members, except in a section providing that all "officers" not elected by voters should be appointed by the mayor, subject to confirmation by the board of aldermen, members of the water board were "officers" within the meaning of the latter section, and therefore an ordinance providing for their appointment in such manner was valid. But compare David v. Portland Water Committee, 14 Oreg. 98, 12 Pac. 174, holding that the water committee or water commission of a city are merely agents of the municipality and not officers.

10. State v. Shannon, 133 Mo. 139, 33 S. W. 1137, holding that a superintendent of waterworks who is to hold his "office" for one year and give bond for the faithful performance of his duties is an officer of the city, although he is paid as are city employees generally, and is removable at the will of the board of public works.

11. Hutchinson v. Lima, 27 Ohio Cir. Ct. 545 [following State v. Jennings, 57 Ohio St. 415, 49 N. E. 404, 63 Am. St. Rep. 723].

12. Morton v. Power, 33 Minn. 521, 24 N. W. 194, holding that therefore the provision of Sp. Laws (1881), c. 188, as amended by Sp. Laws (1883), c. 75, authorizing the board of water commissioners of the city of St. Paul to make contracts with reference to the waterworks in its own name, as the representative of the city, do not create a corporation, within the inhibition of Const. art. 10, § 2, against forming corporations under special acts. But compare State v. Kohnke, 109 La. 838, 33 So. 793, holding that the sewerage and water board of the city of New Orleans, having been given a name and the power to contract and to sue, is a body corporate.

13. Peck v. Belknap, 130 N. Y. 394, 29 N. E. 977 [reversing 55 Hun 91, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 265], holding therefore that a resolution of the city council, authorizing the appointment or the hiring as such inspector of one who has not passed the examination required by law, is illegal, and the city will be restrained at the suit of a taxpayer from entering into a contract with him, or paying the salary agreed.

14. Schermerhorn v. Schenectady, 50 Hun (N. Y.) 331, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 435 [affirmed in 121 N. Y. 651, 24 N. E. 1091].

the full amount allowed by the ordinance of the common council, notwithstanding he has received the reduced amount and has receipted for it in full.¹⁵ A city is authorized to raise and appropriate money to reimburse to its board of water commissioners expenses of their defense in an investigation of their official conduct, made by order of the city government, by a committee of that body, on charges which proved to be groundless.¹⁶ A prohibition in the state constitution and the charter of a city against the increasing of an officer's salary during his term applies to the assessor and collector of water rates, and to the time during which he holds over after the expiration of his term.¹⁷ Where it is apparent, from an examination of the various provisions of a village charter, that the omission to provide for compensation to members of the board of water commissioners was intentional, a member of the board has no right of action against the village for his services as a member, or for extra services rendered in the same line of duty.¹⁸

i. Powers and Duties. The water board of a city has power to employ special counsel, and need not rely upon the city attorney.¹⁹ The water commissioner of the city of New York has no authority to purchase land for the purpose of adding to the water-supply of the city without the approval of the board of aldermen,²⁰ or until compliance with all the formalities required by the charter.²¹ Where a statute providing for the government of a city is not explicit in indicating which department of the city shall have charge of the electric lighting of the city, the duty of lighting the city will not be transferred to the department of public works from the department of public safety, in the absence of fraud and proof of any injury to be apprehended, when a bureau of the latter department has acted exclusively of the department of public works, and for several years continuously the annual ordinances by the councils of appropriation of funds to the maintenance of the lighting of the city by electricity have been directed to the department of public safety.²² Where the board of waterworks trustees is a creature of the city council and its powers are limited by statute, no act done upon the part of such trustees can create an estoppel against the city, especially an estoppel as to any claim that it may make as to the title to real estate.²³ A city charter declaring that, except as otherwise provided, all the powers previously vested in the trustees of the waterworks shall be vested in the director of public improvements, and all laws pertaining to those improvements shall apply to the department of public 15. Smith v. New York, 4 N. Y. Leg. Obs. 423.

16. Lawrence v. McAlvin, 109 Mass. 311.

17. State v. Smith, 87 Mo. 158.

18. Perry v. Cheboygan, 55 Mich. 250, 21 N. W. 333.

19. Freeman v. Brooks, 29 Misc. (N. Y.) 719, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 761.

20. Queens County Water Co. v. Monroe, 83 N. Y. App. Div. 105, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 610, holding that the only authority for the purchase of property for the purpose of increasing the water-supply of the city of New York, whether in the borough of Brooklyn or in the Bronx, must be found in the provisions of the Greater New York Charter dealing with this general subject, and not in the devolved powers; that assuming that the water department of Brooklyn had the power, without the concurrence or approval of the common council, to purchase real estate for the purpose of increasing the water-supply, such unlimited power did not devolve on the water commissioner of the city of New York; and that, even if the purchase of property to extend the water system of Brooklyn was not controlled by the general scheme provided in the Greater New York Charter, all the powers of the common council of Brooklyn, including its power to consent to the purchase of property for the extension of the system, were devolved on the board of aldermen of New York, and the commissioner of water-supply of New York would have no authority to purchase property at private sale for such purpose without the approval of the board.

21. Queens County Water Co. v. Monroe, 83 N. Y. App. Div. 105, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 610, holding that under the Greater New York Charter the water commissioner has no authority to purchase land generally, but only such real estate as has been determined to be necessary, and until maps have been prepared and approved, with all the formalities provided by sections 486, 488, and 489 of the charter, he has no authority to purchase real estate at all.

22. McIntyre v. Philadelphia, 9 Pa. Dist. 714, 24 Pa. Co. Ct. 439.

23. Dayton v. Cooper Hydraulic Co., 10

improvements, and be enforced by the director thereof, imbues him with all the powers previously exercised by the waterworks trustees, in addition to the powers which the charter expressly confers upon him.²⁴ Municipal gas trustees have been held to be without power to enter into a special contract fixing the price at which city gas will be furnished.²⁵ Where a city charter provides for the organization of a water and light commission and for the election of a president, who is required to draw warrants payable out of the funds under control of the commission, he has no authority as a general agent to settle claims against the city or the commission.²⁶ Where the commissioners of waterworks of a city were authorized to collect the revenue, turning over to the city any surplus over the expenditure for maintenance and to initiate works for improving the system, but the assent of the ratepayers was required to be obtained where more than a specified amount was to be expended in any one year, and the commissioners wished to make certain improvements; but finding that the cost would be more than double the amount which might be expended in a year without the assent of the ratepayers, they decided to carry out at the time only half of the proposed scheme, requiring the amount which they might expend without the consent of the ratepayers, it was held that as the commissioners had in good faith divided the work there was no illegal evasion of the statutory restrictions, and the contract for the work was not invalid as contravening the statute in this particular.²⁷ Where there is a statutory limit to the amount which may be expended on the waterworks system by a city, a contract of the water commissioners calling for an expenditure which will bring the total expenditure beyond such limit is ultra vires and not binding.²⁸ A charter provision that "the commissioner of water supply is authorized in his discretion to cause water-meters, the pattern and price of which shall be approved by the board of aldermen, to be placed in all stores," etc., contemplates the approval of a particular style or pattern of meter to be sold at a particular price, and a resolution of the board of aldermen, to be a compliance with this provision, must identify the particular pattern approved and the price at which it is to be sold.²⁹ While under the Greater New York charter and the rules of the department of water-supply, gas, and electricity, it is as a general rule the duty of the commissioner on request to test a meter, the pattern and price of which has been approved by the board of aldermen, he cannot be compelled by mandamus to go on making individual tests of a certain kind of meter approved by the board, after he has given one of them a thorough test and found it to be defective, his objection to it being directed to the principle on which it is constructed.³⁰ Where the superintendent and engineer contracted, in the name of the board of water commissioners of a city, to put in a water-pipe on private premises, and put it in accordingly, and the board refused to confirm such contract, such refusal did not take from the owner of the premises the right to the pipe, but amounted to an election on the part of the board to look to the superintendent for payment, and the latter could sue and recover on the contract in his own name.³¹

j. Liabilities. A board of commissioners intrusted with the management and control of waterworks owned by a city are public officers, and are not liable

Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 192, 7 Ohio N. P. 495.

24. Fergus v. Columbus, 8 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 290, 6 Ohio N. P. 82.

25. Bellaire Goblet Co. v. Findlay, 5 Ohio Cir. Ct. 418, 3 Ohio Cir. Dec. 205.

26. Austin v. Forbis, (Tex. 1905) 89 S. W. 405 [reversing Civ. App. 1905] 86 S. W. 29].

27. McDougall v. Windsor Water Com'rs, 27 Ont. App. 566.

28. McDougall v. Windsor Water Com'rs, 27 Ont. App. 566.

29. People v. Monroe, 84 N. Y. App. Div.

241, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 603 [affirming 39 Misc. 369, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 956], holding that therefore a resolution of the board of aldermen reciting that "the pattern and price of water meters manufactured by the Standard Water Meter Company of this city, is hereby approved for use in the city of New York," is not a sufficient approval of such meters.

30. People v. Monroe, 84 N. Y. App. Div. 241, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 603 [affirming 39 Misc. 369, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 956].

31. Hale v. Houghton, 8 Mich. 458.

as a body corporate in an action for negligence.³² Where a city council elected a superintendent of waterworks, there being no law or ordinance specifying his duties or requiring him to give bond, but he gave bond, with sureties, for the discharge of his duties as superintendent and the payment of all money that might come into his hands, and subsequently an ordinance was passed defining his duties, one of which was collecting water rents, the sureties were not liable for his failure to pay over such rents.³³ Where by city ordinances it was made the duty of the city registrar to deliver to the superintendent of the waterworks blank water licenses from time to time, as required, taking duplicate receipts therefor, one of which was to be filed with the city auditor, who was to charge the superintendent with the amount thereof, and the superintendent was to issue the licenses and pay the money received therefor, weekly, into the city treasury, and he was also required to report quarterly, under oath, the amount so received and paid by him, and exhibit to the auditor the unissued licenses in his hands, but no such receipts were taken, and no quarterly report or settlement made, the superintendent was prima facie liable for the whole amount of the licenses delivered to him.³⁴ The fact that a register of water rents has given to the city a bond for the performance of his duties does not prevent the city from proceeding in equity against him for failure to pay in, as required by ordinance, all moneys received by him for water rents.³⁵

k. Removal. The common council of a city has usually power to entertain and inquire into charges of malfeasance in office preferred against trustees of the city waterworks or members of the board of waterworks and to remove any or all of these officers for good cause shown.³⁶ Where a city charter vests the appointment and removal of superintendents of the bureau of water in the board of public works and the duration of the term of such officer is not declared by law, such officer holds office at the pleasure of the appointing board and can be removed by them at any time without notice.³⁷ Where the board of trustees of waterworks in fixing the term of officers appointed by it has made such term dependent upon the condition, which it has statutory authority to attach, that the incumbent may be removed at any time at the pleasure of the board, an incumbent may be removed by the board at any time without any reason being assigned.³⁸ A municipi-32. Gross v. Portsmouth Water Com'rs, 68 N. H. 389, 44 Atl. 529.

33. Lafayette v. James, 92 Ind. 240, 245, 47 Am. Rep. 140, where it is said: "It is quite clear, that, under his employment as such superintendent, it was not his right or duty to act as the fiscal agent of the city in the collection of water rents, and that the undertaking in the bond did not enlarge his duties, nor extend the liability of the sureties, beyond the duties of the employment."

34. St. Louis v. Foster, 24 Mo. 141.

35. Philadelphia v. Keyser, 10 Phila. (Pa.) 50.

36. Muhler v. Hedekin, 119 Ind. 481, 20 N. E. 700 (holding further that it is not within the jurisdiction of a court of equity to enjoin the common council of a city from proceeding to hear and investigate charges preferred against waterworks trustees and their removal from their office); Cohn v. New Brunswick, 73 N. J. L. 128, 62 Atl. 285 (holding that under a statute giving the common council power to remove from office members of a municipal board of waterworks for any unlawful act committed by them while holding office, the council may remove members of the board who fail to pay over moneys received by them to the city treasurer as required by statute, and that it was no excuse for members of the board that they did not know of the passage of the law whose provisions they violated).

Concurrence of mayor.—A statute providing that the mayor and council may at any time remove any water commissioners, provided it shall satisfactorily appear after reasonable notice to the parties and hearing the causes of complaint and answers thereto, if any shall be offered, that the commissioner whose removal is sought has been guilty of such maladministration or neglect of duty that his removal shall be right and proper, confers a judicial power, which cannot be executed by the council alone. Charles v. Hoboken, 27 N. J. L. 203.

37. People v. Drake, 43 N. Y. App. Div. 325, 329, 60 N. Y. Suppl. 309 [affirmed in 161 N. Y. 642, 57 N. E. 1122], where it is said: "The discretion is vested with the board and it can decapitate its appointees without rhyme or reason."

38. Lawrence v. Cincinnati, 5 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 228, 3 Am. L. Rec. 598, holding that the power given to the board of trustees of waterworks by Mun. Code. § 336, to make the term of an officer appointed by it pal water commissioner upon whom is conferred no power of removal cannot remove an employee, although he has control of the waterworks system and employees are required to obey his orders.³⁹ Where an employee of the board of public works who seeks to recover his salary from the time he was removed until the expiration of the time for which he was elected alleges in his petition that he was debarred from his office by the board of public works "while acting within the scope of their duties as such board," the only legitimate inference from this declaration is that plaintiff's removal was for cause, the board having statutory authority to remove employees for cause, and hence the petition is demurrable.⁴⁰ The person in charge of a branch office of the bureau for the collection of revenue from the sale and use of water is not the "head of a bureau," within a charter provision that no head of a bureau shall be removed until he has been allowed an opportunity of making explanation.⁴¹ There is nothing in the duties or functions of a water registrar in the borough of Brooklyn which makes his position strictly confidential as to the commissioner of water-supply or the deputy commissioner for that borough so as bring him within the exception of a statute prohibiting the removal of a veteran without cause shown and a hearing had except in the case of one holding "a strictly confidential position."⁴² A foreman of repairs in the bureau of the chief engineer in the department of the water-supply of the city of New York is not within any of the statutory or charter provisions against summary removal but may be removed by the commissioner of water-supply at pleasure without a hearing.⁴³ Where a veteran was removed from the position of land clerk for the reason merely that such position was abolished on economical grounds, and its duties attached to an existing office, which was filled by a person not a veteran, such removal, being in good faith, was not in violation of a statute providing that veterans holding any position in the city should not be removed except for cause, after a hearing, and that such person should hold office during good behavior.⁴⁴ Where the ordinances of a city provided for a water registrar to be elected by the water board and "hold office during the pleasure of the board," and give bond for the faithful performance of his duties, and subsequently the city made a general revision of its ordinances, reënacting the provisions of the old ordinance as to the water board without any material change, and provided that the repeal of former ordinances should not affect the tenure of office of any person holding office at the time the revision took effect, the office of water registrar was not vacated by the revision.⁴⁵

1. Forfeiture of Office. Under a charter provision prohibiting any salaried officer of the city from holding any other public office during his incumbency, a superintendent of the bureau of water forfeits his position by accepting a commission in the United States army,⁴⁶ and is not affected by a subsequent statute dependent on the condition that the incumbent might be removed at any time at the pleasure of the board was not taken away by section 343, giving the council the right to remove officers of the waterworks for cause.

39. Perceival v. Weir, 52 Nebr. 373, 72 N. W. 477.

40. Hutchinson v. Lima, 27 Ohio Cir. Ct. 545, 551, where it is said: "There are other averments in the petition claiming that the removal was arbitrary and without reason, that plaintiff had performed his duties in compliance with law and to the satisfaction of said board and without any complaint or charges, etc., but under the familiar rule that a pleading of this nature must be construed most strongly against the pleader, the effect of the admissions above quoted must be apparent."

41. People v. Oakley, 93 N. Y. App. Div. 535, 87 N. Y. Suppl. 856.

42. People v. Dalton, 158 N. Y. 204, 52 N. E. 1119 [affirming 34 N. Y. App. Div. 6, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 1060 (affirming 24 Misc. 10, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 108)]; People v. Dalton, 41 N. Y. App. Div. 458, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 929 [affirmed in 160 N. Y. 686, 55 N. E. 1099].

43. People v. Dalton, 23 Misc. (N. Y.) 294, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 1028 [affirmed in 31 N. Y. App. Div. 630, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 1112].

44. People v. Adams, 51 Hun (N. Y.) 583, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 522.

45. Cambridge v. Fifield, 126 Mass. 428, holding that therefore the sureties on the water registrar's bond were liable for a default occurring after the revision.

46. People v. Drake, 43 N. Y. App. Div. 325, 60 N. Y. Suppl. 309 [affirmed in 161 providing for the payment of employees of the city who enlisted and after discharge returned to their employment.⁴⁷

m. Abolition of Office. Where a special act of the legislature created as a body corporate the board of water commissioners of a city, and gave them authority to establish, maintain, and regulate a water-supply for the city, and provided that they should be elected at such times as the city council should determine, and a subsequent general act relating to the incorporation of cities and villages conferred on the city councils general authority in regard to water-supply, limited the term of office of water commissioners to two years, and provided that from the time of the organization of a city under its provisions all acts inconsistent therewith should cease to be applicable, when a city was organized under the latter act, the former was thereby repealed, and the board of water commissioners ceased to exist.⁴⁸ Under a charter, which provided that all offices forming a part of the local government of the municipal and public corporations and parts thereof which were united and consolidated into the city of New York were abolished as to all territory embraced within the limits of the city, and providing for the retention of office by clerks in public employ in the territory consolidated, the office of water registrar of the city of Brooklyn was abolished.⁴⁹

11. CONDUITS AND SUBWAYS — a. Aqueduct Commissioners, Officers, and Employees — (i) ELIGIBILITY. An officer of the United States army, who has been retired from active service on three-quarters pay on account of age, and who, although he still remains a part of the army and may be appointed to certain duties in connection with the soldiers' home under certain circumstances, has not been assigned to any duty by the federal government after such retirement, does not hold a federal office within the meaning of a statute providing that the aqueduct commissioners appointed by the mayor of the city of New York "shall hold no other federal, state or municipal office."⁵⁰

(ii) STATUS. An inspector of the New York aqueduct commission is an officer and not a mere employee.⁵¹

(iii) CIVIL SERVICE LAWS AND RULES. The provision of the New York statute relating to the Croton aqueduct, that "no person shall be appointed by the said aqueduct commissioners as inspector or superintendent, who shall not be certified by at least three members of the commission to be competent and fit for the duties of the position for which he is an applicant, and experienced in the subject-matter of the employment," being special and local in its character, was not repealed by the civil service act directing that preference be given honorably discharged Union soldiers in certain civil appointments.⁵²

(iv) COMPENSATION. Under the act creating the New York aqueduct commission, which allows the commissioners to appoint inspectors and fix their compensation, the commissioners, although they may remove at pleasure an inspector whom they have appointed without fixing his term of office, cannot suspend such inspector without pay during suspension, and hence an inspector can recover for the period of suspension;⁵³ but when such inspector agrees that if suspended by

N. Y. 642, 57 N. E. 1122], holding this to be true notwithstanding a resolution of the city council that employees enlisting for service should not lose their positions, or the granting of a leave of absence by the board of public works.

47. People v. Drake, 43 N. Y. App. Div. 325, 60 N. Y. Suppl. 309 [affirmed in 161 N. Y. 642, 57 N. E. 1122].

48. Springfield Water Com'rs v. People, 137 Ill. 660, 27 N. E. 698.

49. People v. Dalton, 158 N. Y. 204, 52 N. E. 1119 [affirming 34 N. Y. App. Div. 6, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 1060 (affirming 24 Misc. 10, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 108)], and followed in Peo- ple v. Oakley, 93 N. Y. App. Div. 535, 87 N. Y. Suppl. 856].

50. People v. Duane, 121 N. Y. 367, 24 N. E. 845 [affirming 55 Hun 315, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 439, distinguishing U. S. v. Tyler, 105 U. S. 244, 26 L. ed. 985, and disapproving State v. De Gress, 53 Tex. 387].

51. Emmitt v. New York, 128 N. Y. 117, 28 N. E. 19 [affirming 59 N. Y. Super. Ct. 583, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 887]; Ryan v. New York, 91 Hun (N. Y.) 470, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 315.

52. Brown v. Duane, 60 Hun (N. Y.) 98, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 450.

53. Emmitt v. New York, 128 N. Y. 117, 28

the commissioners his pay shall cease from that time, he thereby waives all right to compensation during any subsequent suspension.⁵⁴

(v) REMOVAL. An aqueduct commissioner for the city of New York may be removed by the mayor at pleasure within six months after the commencement of the mayor's term of office,⁵⁵ and such right of removal is not affected by a provision of the charter that the term of office of the commission shall cease on a particular date, since such provision only fixes the date when the whole commission shall be abolished.⁵⁶ A person appointed chief engineer of the Croton aqueduct under the New York city charter cannot be removed except for cause.⁵⁷ Where the chief engineer of an aqueduct assumes added duties, even though he might have lawfully declined them, he is responsible for their proper performance, and if in the performance thereof he shows want of skill or ability as an engineer or an inefficient or slack control, this is sufficient ground for his removal;⁵⁸ but such officer is not responsible for and cannot be removed on account of the inefficiency or incapacity of assistants whom he did not and had no power to appoint, and over whom he had no official control, although he advised or instructed them.⁵⁹ Where a person employed by the New York aqueduct commissioners as an inspector was reported by the engineer in charge for intoxication, inattention, and unfitness, and, by direction of the commissioners, his resignation was demanded, and from that time he rendered no service and applied for no further pay, although he applied at different times for reinstatement, the demand for his resignation was in effect a discharge, and his employment ceased from that time.⁶⁰

(vi) ABANDONMENT OF OFFICE. An aqueduct commissioner will not be held to have abandoned his office by mere absence from his duties where the circumstances are not such as to indicate a relinquishment of the office.⁶¹

b. Rapid Transit Commissioners. Under the charter of Greater New York, which gives to the commissioner of water-supply, gas, and electricity cognizance and control of the construction of subways, etc., and requires his permit in writing therefor, he is authorized to impose as a condition of granting the permit that the subway company bear all reasonable expenses of inspection, so far as his jurisdiction extends.⁶² It has been held that the court, in fixing the pay of the board of rapid transit commissioners for laying out a proposed railway under city streets, will fix the amount by analogy to the amounts allowed by the legislature to other public boards for similar service.⁶³

N. E. 19 [affirming 59 N. Y. Super. Ct. 583, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 887 (following Mullen v. New York, 12 N. Y. Suppl. 269), and following Gregory v. New York, 113 N. Y. 416, 21 N. E. 119, 3 L. R. A. 854]; Phelan v. New York, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 785.

54. Emmitt v. New York, 128 N. Y. 117, 28 N. E. 19 [affirming 59 N. Y. Super. Ct. 583, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 887]; Phelan v. New York, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 785.

55. People v. Van Wyck, 34 N. Y. App. Div. 573, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 675 [affirmed in 159 N. Y. 509, 54 N. E. 31].

56. People v. Van Wyck, 34 N. Y. App. Div. 573, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 675 [affirmed in 159 N. Y. 509, 54 N. E. 31].

57. People v. Campbell, 82 N. Y. 247.

58. People v. Campbell, 82 N. Y. 247.

59. People v. Campbell, 82 N. Y. 247.

60. Ryan v. New York, 91 Hun (N. Y.) 470, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 315.

61. So an aqueduct inspector will not be held to have abandoned his office by reason of absence from duty from May 1 until July 13, without any explanation at the time, where it appears that on May 28 he, on advice of his physician, applied for leave of absence without pay, to commence on June 1; that the application was denied; that on July 13 he reported for duty, and announced his readiness to go to work, but was told by the division engineer that there was no place for him; that he thereafter saw the chief engineer, who told him to come back again, and he would see; and that he continued to report to the chief engineer repeatedly thereafter, and held himself in readiness to obey his orders, although he was not assigned for duty, until notice was given him of his dismissal from the service. De Canio v. New York, 15 Misc. (N. Y.) 33, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 423.

62. People v. Monroe, 85 N. Y. App. Div. 542, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 382 [affirmed in 176 N. Y. 567, 68 N. E. 1122].

63. In re Rapid Transit R. Com'rs, 21 N. Y. Suppl. 570, where the court allowed the board of rapid transit commissioners for laying out a proposed railway under Broadway, where they spent two hundred and fifty days in actual service, five thousand dollars each, that being the annual salary fixed by the

12. WHARVES, DOCKS, AND PARKS — a. Wharf and Dock Officers — (i) ELECTION OR APPOINTMENT. Where the statute provided that a city council should have power to appoint or provide for the election of a wharf master and the council by ordinance provided for an election of such officer, and a municipal code subsequently enacted provided that the council might appoint a wharf master, but also provided, after naming a number of officers among whom the wharf master was not mentioned, that the council should have power to provide for the appointment or election of such other officers as should be deemed necessary, it was held that, the ordinance providing for the wharf master's election not having been repealed, a wharf master was properly elected by the people instead of being appointed by the council.⁶⁴

(ii) STATUS. Dock masters in the department of docks in the city of New York are public officers and not merely clerks or employees.⁶⁵

(iii) COMPENSATION. The administrator of commerce for a city has no power to authorize a wharfinger to retain a sufficient sum out of the moneys collected by him to pay his salary and also other employees in the office, and expenses of the office.⁶⁶

(iv) POWERS AND DUTIES. Where the charter gives the common council power to ordain by-laws relating to wharves and the anchoring, moving, and mooring of vessels, a by-law appointing a superintendent of wharves, and giving him "full power to order and regulate, whenever requested by the owner or lessee of any wharf, the mooring of vessels at such wharf," is not void, as delegating to him the making of regulations which the charter gave the common council alone the power to make.⁶⁷

(v) LIABILITIES. A wharfinger who is sued by the city for amounts collected by him in his official capacity and in the performance of his duties, which amounts it was his duty to pay into the city treasury, cannot set off the salary due him and amounts which he has paid to employees in his office and the expenses of his office.⁶⁸ Where a superintendent of wharves, the performance of whose duties was not enforced by a penalty, and who acted only upon application of parties interested and at their expense, in good faith ordered a vessel lying at a wharf to be hauled astern to make more room for another at an adjoining wharf, and was sued by the owner of the wharf for damages, the city cannot legally indemnify him for the expenses incurred by him in defending against the suit.⁶⁹

(vi) REMOVAL. Under the Greater New York charter providing that subordinates of departments who were removable only for cause before consolidation shall remain in the employ of the city subject to removal for cause, and declaring that heads of departments shall have the power to remove persons assigned to service under them, a dock master in the department of docks, who was removable at will before consolidation and is not a veteran soldier or volunteer fireman, remains subject to removal at will by the commissioners of the dock department.⁷⁰ A dock master is not within the provision of the New York city municipal civil service commission rule that no removal of any person in the classified service of New York city shall be valid until a statement of the cause thereof has been filed with the commission, and a copy furnished to the person to be removed, and an opportunity given for a written explanation.⁷¹ The provision of the New York statute act of the legislature for aqueduct commissioners.

64. State v. Mulvihill, 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 450, 13 Cinc. L. Bul. 569.

65. People v. Cram, 164 N. Y. 166, 58 N. E. 112 [reversing 50 N. Y. App. Div. 380, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 158 (affirming 29 Misc. 359, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 858)].

66. New Orleans v. Finnerty, 27 La. Ann. 681, 21 Am. Rep. 569.

67. Gregory v. Bridgeport, 41 Conn. 76, 19 Am. Rep. 458.

68. New Orleans v. Finnerty, 27 La. Ann. 681, 21 Am. Rep. 569.

69. Gregory v. Bridgeport, 41 Conn. 76, 19 Am. Rep. 458.

70. People v. Cram, 164 N. Y. 166, 58 N. E. 112 [reversing 50 N. Y. App. Div. 380, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 158 (affirming 29 Misc. 359, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 858)].

71. People v. Cram, 164 N. Y. 166, 58 N. E. 112 [reversing 50 N. Y. App. Div. 380, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 158 (affirming 29 Misc. 359, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 858)].

that veterans engaged in public service shall be removed only for incompetency and conduct inconsistent with their position protects a veteran engaged in painting in the department of docks of New York city from being discharged without a hearing and with no allegation of incompetency or inconsistent conduct.⁷²

b. Park Commissioners, Officers, and Employees — (i) APPOINTMENT OR ELECTION. A statutory requirement that vacancies in a park commission be certified to the governor is merely directory, and does not restrict his power to fill such vacancies, which he may do without formal notification thereof, whenever they occur.⁷³ Where a city has by charter the power to appoint a superintendent of parks, and to provide for his salary and the other expenses of keeping up the parks, a resolution of the council appointing a person to preserve and protect the parks, and fixing his salary, is valid, although he is not designated as a superintendent; ⁷⁴ and even if such an appointment should be made by ordinance, and not by resolution, the performance of the labor, and its acceptance by the city authorities, estops the city from denying its validity.⁷⁵ Although under the statutes the functions of city park commissioners are local and municipal and their selection cannot be properly made without the assent of the local people or authorities, where the board has completed its organization and performed important duties and reported its action to the city council for adoption or confirmation and the council has confirmed such action, this precludes any dispute concerning the appointment of the commissioners in a proceeding to try their right to their offices.⁷⁶

(ii) TERRITORIAL JURISDICTION. A statute extending the jurisdiction of a city department of public parks over land authorized to be acquired under it, outside of the city and within the limits of another county, has been held not violative of a constitutional provision preserving to counties, cities, towns, etc., the right to elect their own local officers.⁷⁷

(iii) TERM OF OFFICE. Where the statute creating a park commission provided that there should be seven commissioners appointed, that the term of one commissioner, who should be selected by lot, should expire in one year from the time of his appointment, and that the terms of the others should expire at intervals of one year thereafter, the last one holding office for seven years, and the terms of their successors were not specified, the term of each commissioner appointed to succeed one of the original appointees was limited to seven years.⁷⁸

(iv) STATUS. A department of parks or a board of park commissioners is an instrument of the city government for the performance of the corporate functions of the city,⁷⁹ and such department or board is not a separate municipality.⁸⁰

72. People v. Cram, 30 Misc. (N. Y.) 561, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 1027, the work on which he was engaged being of such character and amount that under the charter it could properly be done by one paid per diem instead of by contract.

73. Holden v. People, 90 Ill. 434.

74. Smith v. Utica, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 792.

75. Smith v. Utica, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 792.

76. People v. Lothrop, 24 Mich. 235 [approved in People v. Detroit, 28 Mich. 228, 15 Am. Rep. 202].

77. In re New York, 99 N. Y. 569, 2 N. E. 642.

78. Holden v. People, 90 Ill. 434.

79. Orvis v. Des Moines Park Com'rs, 88 Iowa 674, 56 N. W. 294, 45 Am. St. Rep. 252; Atty.-Gen. v. Lothrop, 24 Mich. 235; Napier v. Brooklyn, 41 N. Y. App. Div. 274, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 506, holding that by Laws (1895), c. 947, amending Laws (1888), c. 583, tit. 16, § 2, so as to vest in the department of parks the exclusive government, management, and control of all the parks, squares, and public places in the city of Brooklyn, without any qualification, it was not intended that the park department was no longer to be regarded as an instrument for the performance of corporate functions of the city; the department of parks being still enumerated by the charter among those through which the administrative power of the city was to be exercised, and the duties thereof being unchanged.

80. A statute which creates a board of park commissioners in certain cities and vests the board with full control over the parks does not create a new municipality, distinct from the city, of which the board is the governing power, but the board is an instrumentality in aid of the city government. Orvis v. Des Moines Park Com'rs, 88 Iowa 674, 56 N. W. 294, 45 Am. St. Rep. 252, holding that the title of the act "An act to establish a

And it has also been held that the park commissioners of a municipality are not state officers but are officers of the municipality.⁸¹

(v) COMPENSATION. A member of a board of park commissioners, who has been appointed auditor of the board, at the maximum salary allowed by law, and has been instructed by resolution to negotiate a loan on such terms as he might think to the best interests of the commissioners, but to whom no promises, either express or implied, have been made, on the part of the commissioners, to pay him for the services so rendered, beyond the compensation received by him as auditor, cannot recover any commissions for negotiating such loan.⁸² A veteran taken from the civil service list and employed in the department of parks at a per diem wage, payable weekly, is not an officer of the city but a mere employee, and hence is not entitled to recover wages for time lost on account of sickness.⁸³ A regular clerk employed by the park board, who was illegally removed and kept out of office, but who took no steps to obtain a review of the order of removal or a reinstatement, cannot recover salary for a period subsequent to his removal, during which his duties were performed by another, who was paid therefor.⁸⁴

(vi) POWERS. A statute in relation to the powers and duties of park commissioners is not impliedly repealed by the mere fact that later statutes on the same subject extend the powers and duties of commissioners.⁸⁵ Where a park board is an instrument of the city government, bonds issued by it are a debt of the city, and hence the board cannot make a bond issue which would cause the municipal indebtedness to exceed the constitutional limit.⁸⁶ Where after the passage of an act authorizing the erection of a building in a certain park, and authorizing the department of public parks to do certain things with reference thereto, a new city charter took effect under which the powers of the department of parks were vested in three park commissioners, each of whom took jurisdiction of the parks within a certain part of the city, the duties with reference to the building in question were properly performed by the commissioner within whose territory the park was located.⁸⁷

(vii) LIABILITY. In jurisdictions where a board of park commissioners is considered a quasi-corporation, having certain limited powers granted to it by the legislature, it is not liable for damages resulting from the negligence of its officers or employees.⁸⁸

(viii) REMEDY FOR ABUSE OF DISCRETION. If park commissioners improperly make use of or perversely abuse their discretion as to the military organizations which can be safely and judiciously intrusted with the use of parade grounds acquired pursuant to statute, the remedy is by direct measures for their removal, or for punishing them in case they intentionally and wilfully omit to discharge the duties imposed on them and not by mandamus.⁸⁹

board of park commissioners in certain cities," indicated on its face that the subject of legislation was with reference to cities then in existence; and the court could not infer that the purpose of the act was to create a new corporation, in the face of the constitutional provision that every act shall embrace but one subject, which shall be expressed in the title. Contra, Backer v. West Chicago Park Com'rs, 66 Ill. App. 507.

81. Denver v. Spencer, 34 Colo. 270, 82 Pac. 590, holding that where the duties imposed on park commissioners of a city by its charter are exclusively for the city's benefit and in no sense for the benefit of the state or any of its political subdivisions, and the parks controlled by the commissioners are the private exclusive property of the city, in which the state has no property interest whatever, such commissioners are municipal, and not state officers. Contra, Backer v. West Chicago Park Com'rs, 66 Ill. App. 507.

82. Sidway v. South Park Com'rs, 120 Ill. 496, 11 N. E. 852.

83. Eckerson v. New York, 80 N. Y. App. Div. 12, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 168 [affirmed in 176 N. Y. 609, 68 N. E. 1115].

84. Van Valkenburgh v. New York, 49 N. Y. App. Div. 208, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 6.

85. In re Knaust, 101 N. Y. 188, 4 N. E. 338.

86. Orvis v. Des Moines Park Com'rs, 83 Iowa 674, 36 N. W. 294, 45 Am. St. Rep. 252.

87. Bradley v. Van Wyck, 65 N. Y. App. Div. 293, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 1034.

88. Backer v. West Chicago Park Com'rs, 66 Ill. App. 507.

89. People v. Prospect Park, 58 Barb. (N. Y.) 638.

(ix) REMOVAL. Where park commissioners are appointed by the governor and are officers or agents of the state and not mere minor municipal or corporate officers, the governor may remove them under a power given him by the constitution to remove any officer whom he may appoint.⁹⁰ Where a statute provides that executive and ministerial officers in cities, unless otherwise provided, shall be removable by the board of aldermen sitting as a court on charges preferred, another statutory provision that if any member of the board of park commissioners commits a felony he shall immediately cease to be a member of such board, does not preclude the board of aldermen from assuming jurisdiction for the removal of a park commissioner charged with perjury.⁹¹ A provision of the by-laws of the park department of a city making the appointment and removal of a regular clerk subject to the pleasure of the board does not impair the right of the clerk to a hearing under a statute providing that no regular clerk shall be removed from office until he has been informed of the cause of the proposed removal, and allowed opportunity to explain.⁹² Where the position of messenger in the department of parks in a city is abolished in good faith, in the interest of economy, and none of the duties of such position have been assigned to any other employee of the department, the messenger may be summarily removed.⁹³

13. EDUCATION⁹⁴ — a. Nature and Status of Board. In most jurisdictions a board of education is a distinct corporation for school purposes, and not a mere function or part of the municipal government of the city,⁹⁵ and may sue and be sued.⁹⁶ Where, however, a board of education is a mere instrumentality of the city government, it is incapable of being sued.⁹⁷ Being an involuntary quasi-corporation charged with the exercise of governmental functions, a board of education is not liable for the negligence of its employees or agents, in the absence of an express statutory provision creating such liability.⁹⁸

b. Authority and Powers of Board. The powers of a board of education are such as are expressly or impliedly conferred upon it by the charter or act creating it. Thus it has power to select the text-books for the city schools,⁹⁹ to select sites

90. Wilcox v. People, 90 Ill. 186.

91. Gibbs v. Louisville, 99 Ky. 490, 36 S. W. 524, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 341.

92. Van Valkenburgh v. New York, 49 N. Y. App. Div. 208, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 6.

93. Matter of Seide, 38 Misc. (N. Y.) 663, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 253.

94. Powers of council acting as board of education see SCHOOLS AND SCHOOL-DISTRICTS.

Supervision and regulation of schools in general see SCHOOLS AND SCHOOL-DISTRICTS.

95. Illinois.—Kinnare v. Chicago, 171 Ill. 332, 49 N. E. 536 [affirmed in 70 Ill. App. 106].

Michigan.—Board of Education v. Detroit, 30 Mich. 505.

Missouri.—Heller v. Stremmel, 52 Mo. 309.

New Mexico.—Albuquerque Water Supply Co. v. Albuquerque, 9 N. M. 441, 54 Pac. 969.

New York.—Gunnison v. New York Bd. of Education, 80 N. Y. App. Div. 480, 81 N. Y. Suppl. 181 [affirmed in 176 N. Y. 11, 68 N. E. 106]; People v. Neilson, 48 How. Pr. 454. But see Ocorr, etc., Co. v. Little Falls, 77 N. Y. App. Div. 592, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 251 [affirmed in 178 N. Y. 622, 70 N. E. 1104], board created by city charter.

School directors (Chalfant v. Edwards, 173 Pa. St. 246, 33 Atl. 1048), and school-district officers (Frans v. Young, 30 Nebr. 360, 46 N. W. 528, 27 Am. St. Rep. 412), are not municipal officers.

Applicability of civil service acts.—The board of education of the city of Chicago, authorized by the general school laws of 1872 (Laws (1871-1872), p. 700) and 1889 (Laws (1889), p. 239), providing that in all cities of over one hundred thousand inhabitants the public schools shall be controlled by the board of education, is still connected with and a part of the municipal government, and, as such, all its offices and places of employment are within the Civil Service Act, except the members of the board, the superintendent, and teachers, who are exempted from the classified service. Brenan v. People, 176 Ill. 620, 52 N. E. 353.

96. San Francisco Bd. of Education v. Fowler, 19 Cal. 11; Whitehead v. Detroit Bd. of Education, 139 Mich. 490, 102 N. W. 1028; Gunnison v. New York Bd. of Education, 80 N. Y. App. Div. 480, 81 N. Y. Suppl. 181 [affirmed in 176 N. Y. 11, 68 N. E. 106]; Donovan v. New York Bd. of Education, 55 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 176.

97. Madden v. Kinney, 116 Wis. 561, 93 N. W. 535.

98. Kinnare v. Chicago, 171 Ill. 332, 49 N. E. 536 [affirming 70 Ill. App. 106]; Whitehead v. Detroit Bd. of Education, 139 Mich. 490, 102 N. W. 1028; Donovan v. New York Bd. of Education, 85 N. Y. 117.

99. Madden v. Kinney, 116 Wis. 561, 93 N. W. 535.

for school buildings,¹ to reduce classes and retire unnecessary teachers,² and to enact rules for the conduct of its proceedings; but such authority does not empower it to change charter or common-law rules as to the power of a majority.³ A board of education has no power to employ counsel, when the city attorney is bound to represent it in all litigation;⁴ nor to advertise an election on school matters committed by law to the council.⁵ Where a village becomes attached to a city, the power of the school board is extended over the annexed territory.⁶ So also where a city is created out of a village, the board of education provided by the city charter immediately supersedes the old village school board.⁷

c. Members of Board—(i) ELIGIBILITY. When so provided by statute members of a board of education must be residents of the municipality;⁸ and removal beyond the municipal boundaries or the limits of the ward from which one is chosen vacates the office.⁹ Nor is one eligible to the office of school director who holds an incompatible office.¹⁰ Conversely a member of the board of education may be forbidden to hold any office to be filled by such board.¹¹

(ii) APPOINTMENT OR ELECTION—(A) In General. Where the method of electing the members of a board of education is prescribed by law, an election in any other manner is invalid.¹² In case of failure of valid election at the prescribed time, the old members hold over till the election and qualification of their successors.¹³

(B) Vacancies. The method of filling vacancies in the office of school director or commissioner is usually prescribed by law.¹⁴ Where a vacancy is caused by resignation to take effect at a certain date, it has been held that a successor for the unexpired term may be elected before that date.¹⁵

(iii) REMOVAL. Where school commissioners hold for a fixed and definite term, they cannot be summarily removed, without charges having been preferred.¹⁶ Nor is the summary removal of school commissioners authorized by a statute providing that all city offices are held at the mayor's pleasure unless other-

Power to furnish free text-books.—Except in pursuance of legislative authority a school board of a city has no power to furnish free text-books. Detroit Bd. of Education v. Detroit, 80 Mich. 548, 45 N. W. 585.

1. Com. v. Davis, 199 Pa. St. 278, 49 Atl. 75.

2. Bates v. San Francisco Bd. of Education, 139 Cal. 145, 72 Pac. 907; Cusack v. New York Bd. of Education, 174 N. Y. 136, 66 N. E. 677 [reversing 78 N. Y. App. Div. 470, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 803], holding that where a principal has been discharged, where a change in the conduct of the school has rendered his services unnecessary, he is not entitled to a writ of mandamus to compel his reinstatement.

3. Malloy v. San Jose Bd. of Education, 102 Cal. 642, 36 Pac. 948; Heyker v. Herbst, 106 Ky. 509, 50 S. W. 859, 51 S. W. 820, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 1983.

4. Denman v. Webster, (Cal. 1902) 70 Pac. 1063.

5. Ocorr, etc., Co. v. Little Falls, 77 N. Y. App. Div. 592, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 251 [affirmed in 178 N. Y. 622, 70 N. E. 1104].

6. School Trustees v. School Inspectors, 214 Ill. 30, 73 N. E. 412.

7. State v. Sweeney, 103 Wis. 404, 79 N. W. 420; State v. Fowle, 103 Wis. 388, 79 N. W. 419.

8. School commissioner of New York city.—No one can be chosen to the office of school commissioner of the city of New York who is not at the time a resident of the ward for which he is chosen. People v. New York Bd. of Education, 1 Den. (N. Y.) 647.

9. People v. New York Bd. of Education, 1 Den. (N. Y.) 647.

10. State v. Bus, 135 Mo. 325, 36 S. W. 636, 33 L. R. A. 616, holding, however, that the offices of deputy sheriff and school director are not incompatible.

11. State v. Bayonne Bd. of Education, 54 N. J. L. 313, 23 Atl. 670.

12. Elliott v. Burke, 113 Ky. 479, 68 S. W. 445, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 292.

13. Elliott v. Burke, 113 Ky. 479, 68 S. W. 445, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 292.

14. Pennsylvania.—Where a vacancy occurs in the board of school controllers in the city of Scranton, which is a city of the third class, divided into more than twelve wards, such vacancy is to be filled by the qualified voters of the proper ward at the next municipal election. Com. v. Evans, 102 Pa. St. 394.

15. Leech v. State, 78 Ind. 570.

16. Hooper v. Farnen, 85 Md. 587, 37 Atl. 430, holding that school commissioners are not brought within such power of removal by Baltimore City Code (1893), art. 1, § 46, providing that a term of office shall not be deemed to be fixed within Code Pub. Loc. Laws, art. 4, § 31, by the fact that the ordinance prescribes that the officer shall be appointed biennially, or as other city officers, or by other like expression; since such provision merely prescribes what words shall wise provided by ordinance, where the terms of school commissioners are fixed by ordinance and they are not appointed by the mayor.¹⁷ Where, however, a school commissioner is made a city officer, and the mayor is given authority to remove at pleasure any city officers appointed by him, a school commissioner may be summarily removed by the mayor, and a provision of the charter giving the power of removal to the common council is thereby repealed.¹⁸

(IV) COMPENSATION. The compensation of members of the board of education must be fixed by law. Where it is provided that no member shall receive any pay or emolument for his services, no recovery can be had except under a contract of employment.¹⁹ Where the member relies upon an implied promise to pay, and not upon a contract of employment, services rendered are presumed to be voluntary and official duty for which there can be no recovery.²⁰

d. Superintendent — (I) APPOINTMENT. Authority to appoint a superintendent of schools may be expressly conferred upon the board of education, or it may be implied from the power to govern the school-district.²¹ But such power has been held to confer no right to appoint a superintendent of music.²² Power to fill a vacancy in the office of superintendent is also generally given to the board of education.²³

(II) ELIGIBILITY. Where a superintendent of schools is appointed by the school board, he is merely an employee of that department of the city government, and not a "municipal officer" within a charter provision that all municipal officers shall be registered voters of the city.²⁴

(III) REMOVAL. Power conferred upon a city council to remove a superintendent of schools "for cause" does not give them power to remove him at their discretion, but only for legal cause, and their decision may be controlled by mandamus.²⁵

(IV) COMPENSATION. The salary of a superintendent of schools is generally fixed by the board of education, and, while he has been held to be an employee and not a public officer within a constitutional provision forbidding a change in the salary of public officers during their term of office,²⁶ a voluntary increase of salary during such term is without consideration and against public policy.²⁷ A superintendent is not deprived of his right to salary by repeal of the ordinance authorizing his appointment after services rendered;²⁸ but he does lose such right by accepting another incompatible position under the school authorities.²⁹

e. Teachers. Under a charter giving the board of education power to appoint teachers only on the superintendent's nomination,³⁰ the position of a teacher is that of an employee, resting on the contract of employment, and not that of an not create a fixed term, and does not affect a term which may be in fact fixed.

17. Hooper v. Farnen, 85 Md. 587, 37 Atl. 430.

18. People v. Boland, 35 Misc. (N. Y.) 117, 71 N. Y. Suppl. 233.

19. Snyder v. Albuquerque Bd. of Education, 10 N. M. 446, 62 Pac. 1090.

20. Snyder v. Albuquerque Bd. of Education, 10 N. M. 446, 62 Pac. 1090.

21. Davidson v. Baldwin, 2 Cal. App. 733, 84 Pac. 238.

22. Perot v. Philadelphia, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 181.

23. People v. Babcock, 114 Cal. 559, 46 Pac. 818.

24. Baltimore v. Lyman, 92 Md. 591, 48 Atl. 145, 84 Am. St. Rep. 524, 52 L. R. A. 406.

25. State v. Watertown, 9 Wis. 254.

26. Ward v. Toledo Bd. of Education, 21 Ohio Cir. Ct. 699, 11 Ohio Cir. Dec. 671.

27. Ward v. Toledo Bd. of Education, 21 Ohio Cir. Ct. 699, 11 Ohio Cir. Dec. 671.

28. Kimball v. Salem, 111 Mass. 87.

29. Ward v. Toledo Bd. of Education, 21 Ohio Cir. Ct. 699, 11 Ohio Cir. Dec. 671.

30. Wetmore v. St. Louis Bd. of Education, 86 Mo. App. 362.

Appointment of principal.— Under the New York charter appointments of principals of the public schools must be made by the school boards of the several boroughs upon nominations previously made by the board of school superintendents for the particular borough, and from a list of eligible persons transmitted to such school boards by the superintendent of schools. Such list should contain the names of those licensed before the charter took effect as well as the names of those licensed by the board of examiners. People v. Maxwell, 65 N. Y. App. Div. 265, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 527 [affirmed in 169 N. Y. 608, 62 N. E. 1099].

officer of the city.³¹ A teacher being an employee, the board of education has the power to reduce the salary of any teacher, either by an actual reduction in the amount paid, or by providing that the salary shall be paid only for the period during which the teacher actually performs service.³² A teacher cannot as a rule be removed or discharged except on charges preferred, and after trial;³³ and if one is unlawfully removed, he is entitled to recover his salary for the time after such removal,³⁴ less any sum he may have earned as a substitute during such time.³⁵

f. Funds. The school funds of a municipality are a trust fund and must be kept and handled by the legal custodian as provided by law.³⁶ Authority to disburse school funds is generally conferred upon the board of education,³⁷ subject to the supervision of the city council or board of estimates.³⁸

14. CHARITIES AND CORRECTION³⁹ — a. Nature and Status of Board. The nature and status of a board of charity commissioners is dependent upon the manner and form of its creation. Under some acts such a board is simply a department or subdivision of the city government, having no corporate existence, and therefore cannot sue or be sued as a board.⁴⁰ Under other laws commissioners of

31. Steinson v. New York Bd. of Education, 165 N. Y. 431, 59 N. E. 300; Murphy v. New York Bd. of Education, 87 N. Y. App. Div. 277, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 380 [affirming 38 Misc. 706, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 248].

32. Murphy v. New York Bd. of Education, 87 N. Y. App. Div. 277, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 380 [affirming 38 Misc. 706, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 248].

Pension fund.—An act providing for the pensioning of teachers in city districts of the second grade of the first class, and requiring the treasurer of the board of education in cities of the second grade of the first class to reserve at each payment of teachers' salaries a certain per cent thereof for the purpose of creating a fund to be used in pensioning teachers who shall have pursued their professional employment a certain length of time, is unconstitutional as in violation of a constitutional provision requiring that all laws of a general nature shall have uniform operation throughout the state. State v. Kurtz, 21 Ohio Cir. Ct. 261, 11 Ohio Cir. Dec. 705.

33. Brenan v. People, 176 Ill. 620, 52 N. E. 353; Steinson v. New York Bd. of Education, 165 N. Y. 431, 59 N. E. 300; People v. New York Bd. of Education, 78 N. Y. App. Div. 501, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 624 [affirmed in 174 N. Y. 169, 66 N. E. 674].

Marriage of teacher.—Where a city charter contemplates the removal or discharge of a teacher only on charges preferred and after trial, a by-law declaring a vacancy to exist as the result of the marriage of a female teacher is invalid. Matter of Murphy, 39 Misc. (N. Y.) 166, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 174.

A reduction of a teacher from one grade to another, accompanied by a decrease in pay, constitutes a "removal" and reappointment, rather than a "reassignment," and hence can only be brought about for cause. People v. New York Bd. of Education, 78 N. Y. App. Div. 501, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 624 [affirmed in 174 N. Y. 169, 66 N. E. 674].

34. Steinson v. New York Bd. of Education, 165 N. Y. 431, 59 N. E. 300.

35. Bogert v. New York Bd. of Education,

44 Misc. (N. Y.) 10, 89 N. Y. Suppl. 737 [affirmed in 106 N. Y. App. Div. 56, 94 N. Y. Suppl. 180].

36. People v. Centralia Bd. of Education, 166 Ill. 388, 46 N. E. 1099; Kas v. State, 63 Nebr. 581, 88 N. W. 776, holding that a village treasurer who distributes license moneys among the school-districts in whole or in part within the corporate limits in a different manner from that fixed by law does so at his peril.

37. Somerville v. Wood, 115 Ala. 534, 22 So. 476; Port Huron Bd. of Education v. Runnels, 57 Mich. 46, 23 N. W. 481; Times Pub. Co. v. White, 23 R. I. 334, 50 Atl. 383.

An appropriation to a department other than that of education, to pay a mere moral obligation of the city to a teacher for services rendered before the courts declared her appointment illegal, is not an interference with the functions of the department of education. Bailey v. Philadelphia, 167 Pa. St. 569, 31 Atl. 925, 46 Am. St. Rep. 691.

38. Detroit Bd. of Education v. Detroit, 80 Mich. 548, 45 N. W. 585, holding that a resolution of the council approving the estimates of the board of education is not final where it afterward submits such estimates to the board of estimates, and orders the amount approved by the latter to be levied.

The supervisory power of the board of estimates of Detroit is limited to the several funds mentioned in the city charter among which the educational fund is not included, and consequently that board has no power to supervise the estimates of the board of education except as to lots and buildings, power as to which is conferred on it by Laws (1873), No. 331. Detroit Bd. of Education v. Detroit, 80 Mich. 548, 45 N. W. 585.

39. Appointment or removal of overseer or superintendent of the poor see PAUPERS.

40. Monfort v. Wheelock, 78 Minn. 169, 80 N. W. 955; Heard v. New York Charities Com'rs, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 375.

Charity commissioners as overseers of poor.—The board of commissioners of public charities of the city of New York, created by the city charter (Laws (1873), c. 335, § 74), public charities are public officers who discharge duties for the general public benefit imposed upon them by the legislature.⁴¹ Such commissioners and their appointees are not therefore officers of the city,⁴² for whose negligence the city is liable.⁴³ Under the mere grant of power to remove given to commissioners of charities, they cannot remove an appointee except for cause.⁴⁴

b. City Physician — (i) IN GENERAL. If a charter authorizes the election of a city physician, but does not prescribe his duties, the corporation has the power to declare what such duties shall be.⁴⁵ Whether such officer is entitled to hold over his term until his successor has been elected and qualified depends upon the charter.⁴⁶

(ii) SALARY. A city physician is generally given an annual salary to be fixed by the council.⁴⁷ In the absence of anything showing a contrary intent, such salary is presumed to be in full for all official duties.⁴⁸ Where one is appointed to the office of city physician, and his compensation is not fixed by law, it has been held that he is entitled to recover what his services are reasonably worth.⁴⁹ A physician is entitled to his salary while wrongfully enjoined from acting.⁵⁰ Where an ordinance provides that the city physician shall receive, "when collected, all sums for medical services rendered by him for paupers belonging to other cities or towns," the physician has an action against the city for the money so collected.⁵¹ Where a city physician, employed by the year, treats patients properly chargeable to the county, the city can recover from the county.⁵² are the overseers of the poor of a town, so as to enable them to sue for penalties imposed by Laws (1857), c. 628, relating to the suppression of intemperance, and regulating the sale of intoxicating liquors, which are recoverable in a civil action by and in the name of the overseers of the poor of the town in which the alleged penalty is incurred. New York Public Charities, etc., Com'rs v. McGurrin, 6 Daly (N. Y.) 349.

15. PARTICULAR INSTITUTIONS AND BUILDINGS — a. Libraries. Authority to establish and maintain libraries is usually conferred upon a board of trustees. Such board derives its powers from the act establishing it. Among those usually conferred is the power to take by gift, grant, purchase, devise, bequest, or otherwise any real or personal property,⁵³ to control and order the expenditure of all moneys in the library fund;⁵⁴ and to do all that may be necessary to carry out

The Charleston marine hospital is under the exclusive control of the city council. Charleston v. Boyd, 1 Mill (S. C.) 353.

41. Maxmilian v. New York, 62 N. Y. 160, 20 Am. Rep. 468.

42. The medical superintendent of the asylum for the insane at Ward's island, who receives a salary, is not an "officer" of the city of New York, within Laws (1882), c. 410, § 59, prohibiting officers of the corporation from being interested in the performance of any work to be paid for by the city. If, at the request of the district attorney, he examines a person about to be tried for felony, he is entitled to be compensated for the service. Macdonald v. New York, 32 Hun (N. Y.) 89.

43. Maxmilian v. New York, 62 N. Y. 160, 20 Am. Rep. 468.

44. State v. Brown, 57 Mo. App. 199.

45. Tucker v. Virginia City, 4 Nev. 20.

46. Saunders v. Grand Rapids, 46 Mich. 467, 9 N. W. 495 (holding that under the charter of the city of Grand Rapids, failure of the city council to appoint an officer at a proper time to fill the office of city physician, which is not elective, will not give the incumbent any right to hold over); Lynch v. Lafland, 4 Coldw. (Tenn.) 96.

47. Additional compensation in cases of infectious diseases.—Where by ordinances of a city the city physician is entitled to an annual salary, to be fixed by the city council, and, in cases of infectious disease, to such additional compensation as the council may deem just, it was held that these provisions did not apply to services rendered to paupers, but that the compensation for attendance for the city upon all cases of such diseases was to be fixed by the city council. Preble v. Bangor, 64 Me. 115.

48. Edgecomb v. Lewiston, 71 Me. 343, holding that a city marshal has no authority to make any new contract with the city physician, or to pay him an extra compensation for performing services which he was under official obligations to render; nor can the overseers of the poor enlarge his salary.

49. Tucker v. Virginia City, 4 Nev. 20.

50. Memphis v. Woodward, 12 Heisk. (Tenn.) 499, 27 Am. Rep. 750.

51. Fletcher v. Belfast, 77 Me. 334.

52. Clinton v. Clinton County, 61 Iowa 205, 16 N. W. 87.

53. Atty.-Gen. v. Nashua, 67 N. H. 478, 32 Atl. 852.

54. Kelso v. Teale, 106 Cal. 477, 39 Pac. 948, holding that the board may appropriate money to pay the expense of a delegate to a congress of librarians.

the spirit and intent of the act.⁵⁵ A municipal library established and managed under special acts is not subject to the control of trustees provided for libraries established under general law.⁵⁶

b. Other Municipal Structures. A committee created to take charge of a municipal building has authority to do and provide whatever is necessary to maintain it in a condition fit for its occupation and use for public purposes.⁵⁷ Where such a committee has pursued a certain line of conduct for a period of years, their authority so to act will be presumed.⁵⁸ Under the Greater New York charter, bridge commissioners appointed to control the construction of a bridge over the East river may be removed by the mayor.⁵⁹

16. MISCELLANEOUS BOARDS AND OFFICERS — a. Board of Revision. The appropriate functions of a municipal board of revision are administrative, not judicial, and do not include power to imprison for contempt, witnesses called before it.⁶⁰

b. Board of Registration and Election. A statute establishing a board of commissioners of registration and election for a city, and providing that it shall be composed of four members, two of whom shall be from each of the two leading political parties of the city, contravenes a constitutional provision that no declaration or test shall be required as a qualification to any office or public trust.⁶¹

c. Weights and Measures. Where a municipality is authorized by statute to provide for the appointment of a sealer of weights and measures for the corporation, an ordinance providing for his appointment from nominees of the chamber of commerce is valid;⁶² and after appointment of such an officer by the council pursuant to such ordinance, it cannot refuse to accept an unobjectionable bond and induct him into office.⁶³ And where such an officer is nominated and confirmed in a city of two districts without specifying to which district, he will be considered as appointed to the first.⁶⁴ And it seems that a nomination of four such officers for only two places does not invalidate all the nominations, but the two first confirmed will hold the offices.⁶⁵

d. Excise Commissioners. The term for which officers of excise shall hold office is regulated by statute.⁶⁶ A supervisor of a city ward is not rendered ineligible to the office of excise commissioner of the city merely by force of a statute providing that "no person shall be eligible to the office of commissioner of excise who is a supervisor, justice of the peace or town clerk of a town."⁶⁷ A statute providing that all appointments of office in the city of New York now made by the mayor and confirmed by the board of aldermen shall hereafter be made by the mayor without such confirmation gives the mayor authority alone

55. Smith v. Minneapolis Library Bd., 58 Minn. 108, 59 N. W. 979, 25 L. R. A. 280, holding that such board has power to become an ordinary bailee of a collection of coins.

56. People v. Howard, 94 Cal. 73, 29 Pac. 485.

57. State v. McCurdy, 62 Minn. 509, 64 N. W. 1133, holding that a joint committee created by statute to take charge of a city hall has authority to contract for heating and lighting the same.

Commissioners to take control of a lot for a city hall have power to summarily evict a city employee occupying the same. Swift v. Canavan, 52 Cal. 417.

Joint committee for city and county building.—A joint committee created to take charge of a city hall and court-house is not a department of either the city or county government, but a distinct and independent quasi-municipal board or body. Its powers, as well as the mode of exercising them, are determined exclusively by the act creating it, and not by the provisions of the city charter. State v. McCurdy, 62 Minn. 509, 64 N. W. 1133.

58. Worden v. New Bedford, 131 Mass. 23, 41 Am. Rep. 185.

59. People v. Nixon, 32 N. Y. App. Div. 513, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 230 [affirmed in 158 N. Y. 221, 52 N. E. 1117].

60. In re Heffron, 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 674, 16 Cinc. L. Bul. 285.

61. Atty.-Gen. v. Detroit, 58 Mich. 213, 24 N. W. 887, 55 Am. Rep. 675.

62. State v. Cincinnati, 11 Ohio St. 544.

63. State v. Cincinnati, 11 Ohio St. 544.

64. People v. Kneissel, 58 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 404.

65. People v. Kneissel, 58 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 404.

66. See People v. Lahr, 71 Hun (N. Y.) 271, 24 N. Y. Suppl. 1020, construing several statutes relating to the subject.

67. People v. Lahr, 71 Hun (N. Y.) 271, 24 N. Y. Suppl. 1020.

to make appointments to the office of excise commissioners which previous to the enactment of this law were made in the city of New York, although such officers were not strictly city officers, but were appointed to execute state authority.⁶⁸ The appointment must be in writing, there being nothing in the statute authorizing appointment by parol.⁶⁹ A statute providing for the establishment of excise boards, that the clerk of the city shall be clerk of the board, and that all license-fees shall be paid over to him, to be by him paid to the city treasurer, confers no authority on the board to fix the compensation of the clerk for such service.⁷⁰ Commissioners of excise may not transfer their offices to others but must relieve themselves of the duties of office in the manner prescribed by statute.⁷¹ Commissioners of excise are town officers, within a statute which gives town officers the right to hold over until their successors have been elected and have qualified, although it also provides that town officers shall be elected for one year, while excise commissioners are elected for three years.⁷²

e. Board of Equalization. Where a statute providing for a board of equalization of real property in a city does not fix the pay of the members, and another statute prescribes for each member of the county board of equalization such sum for each actual day's work as the county commissioners shall allow, the commissioners should fix and allow from the county treasury the compensation for the city board without reference to the rate allowed by the county board.⁷³

f. Boiler-Inspector. In an action by a city boiler-inspector to recover for fees claimed to be due him as such, he must show his appointment in accordance with the city ordinance relating to the inspection of boilers; proof that he is a de facto officer is insufficient.⁷⁴

g. City Surveyor. A city surveyor who receives no salary, and whose position becomes vacant only by death, resignation, or removal, is not an officer within a statute which provides that any person who shall hold or accept any other office connected with the government of the city shall be deemed thereby to have vacated every office held by him under the city government.⁷⁵ Where a city surveyor enters on the performance of his duties, and as to which the ordinances provide that the compensation shall be paid by the parties at whose request the work is done, there is no implied assumpsit on the part of the city in respect to his services.⁷⁶ So where he performs services upon the order of the common council without any provision as to the mode of compensation, there is no implied assumpsit in his favor except such as might arise from the charter.⁷⁷ And under a charter provision that a certain assessment shall include the expenses of surveying, a city surveyor cannot recover for his services unless such assessment has been collected, or the municipality has negligently omitted to make and enforce its collection.⁷⁸ Under an ordinance requiring a surveyor to survey and make maps of all the grounds required for the opening or changing of streets, the duties imposed relate only to the grounds required for the opening, and not to the lands to be assessed therefor, and he is entitled to compensation for extra services rendered in preparing maps of the property taken and assessed.⁷⁹

h. City Engineer. A city engineer is an "officer" within a statute providing for the appointment of officers by the municipal government.⁸⁰ Where a statute fixes the compensation of a city engineer absolutely, the city council has no power

68. People v. Andrews, 104 N. Y. 570, 12 N. E. 274 [affirming 42 Hun 614].

69. People v. Murray, 70 N. Y. 521.

70. State v. Cherry, 53 N. J. L. 173, 20 Atl. 825.

71. People v. Murray, 70 N. Y. 521.

72. Montgomery v. O'Dell, 67 Hun (N. Y.) 169, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 412 [affirmed in 142 N. Y. 665, 37 N. E. 570].

73. Baum v. Hamilton County, 1 Cinc. Super. Ct. (Ohio) 553.

74. Home Ins. Co. v. Tierney, 47 Ill. App. 600.

75. Wardlaw v. New York, 61 N. Y. Super. Ct. 174, 19 N. Y. Suppl. 6.

76. Locke v. Central, 4 Colo. 65, 34 Am. Rep. 66.

77. Baker v. Utica, 19 N. Y. 326.

78. Baker v. Utica, 19 N. Y. 326.

79. In re Hudson Ave., 6 Hun (N. Y.) 356.

80. Mobile v. Squires, 49 Ala. 339.

to reduce it.⁶¹ Where the statute does not fix the salary at a definite sum, but merely prescribes a maximum, the council may fix it at any amount less than the maximum.⁶² If the salary is fixed at a certain amount per day he is entitled to that amount whether he performs any services or not.⁶³ The right to compensation ceases on removal.⁶⁴ Where the governing and controlling power is lodged in the mayor and council, the mayor alone has no power to suspend a city engineer.⁶⁵ A city engineer is an "officer" removable at the will of the legislature,⁶⁶ or by the governing power of the municipality where power to remove "officers" is conferred on it by charter.⁶⁷ In determining whether a contract for street improvements has been substantially complied with, the city engineer acts in the exercise of quasi-judicial functions and is not liable to persons injured thereby unless his acts are maliciously and wilfully wrong.⁶⁸

i. City Attorney. Under a charter requiring a city attorney to prosecute and defend all actions for the city, and advise all officers, boards, and commissions, and authorizing the board of education to require the services of the city attorney in all actions by or against it, it is the duty of the city attorney when so required to appear for and defend such board in all actions brought against it.⁶⁹ A charter provision requiring the city attorney to prosecute and defend actions by or against the board of education does not impose any "school function" on him, but his function remains that of attorney.⁷⁰ Under a charter providing that the corporation counsel shall be the attorney for the city, and each and every officer, and shall conduct all the law business in which the city is interested, except as otherwise provided, whether such business is in charge of a single officer or board, and that he shall be the legal adviser of the mayor, city boards, and officers, and shall furnish them such advice and legal assistance as may be required, but prohibiting the corporation counsel from acting in any merely private litigation, the law business in which the city was interested should be construed to mean a legal, and not a speculative, interest, and the charter does not authorize the corporation counsel to appear for and defend a policeman sued for a wilful assault in making an arrest.⁷¹ But a charter provision that the corporation counsel may, in his dis-

Failure to file a certificate of appointment of a deputy city engineer does not vitiate the acts of a deputy actually appointed and recognized as such, notwithstanding a charter provision that the appointment shall be in writing and filed with the register. Kiley v. Forsee, 57 Mo. 390.

Expiration of power to appoint.—Under a statute providing for the appointment of city officers, and declaring that if the council shall fail to appoint any such officer within three weeks after a vacancy occurs it shall be the duty of the mayor, immediately upon the expiration of said three weeks, to appoint such officer to fill the vacancy, on resignation of the city engineer, after the expiration of three weeks the power of the council to fill the vacancy ceases. People v. Merrick, 61 Hun (N. Y.) 396, 16 N. Y. Suppl. 246.

Employment not equivalent to appointment.—Under a statute providing that no person shall be elected or appointed to any city office until he is a resident elector of the city, if no one is employed to perform the duties of the city engineer until he shall become a resident elector, the office remains vacant. People v. Merrick, 61 Hun (N. Y.) 396, 16 N. Y. Suppl. 246.

Turning over property to successor.—An ordinance requiring the city engineer to inspect and pass upon the construction of all public works and to do the surveying and engineering ordered by the city, and requiring him to preserve all plans and documents pertaining to his office and to deliver them to his successor, does not require him to turn over to his successor books containing field-notes made by him in surveying lots of individual owners upon their application, under their employment, and at their expense, for such books are his private property. Leffingwell v. Miller, 20 Colo. App. 429, 79 Pac. 327.

81. Rundlett v. St. Paul, 64 Minn. 223, 66 N. W. 967.

82. McFall v. Austin, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 450.

83. Roberts v. Lincoln, 6 Nehr. 352.

84. Mobile v. Squires, 49 Ala. 339.

85. Metsker v. Neally, 41 Kan. 122, 21 Pac. 206, 13 Am. St. Rep. 269.

86. Gray v. Granger, 17 R. I. 201, 21 Atl. 342.

87. Mobile v. Squires, 49 Ala. 339.

88. St. Joseph v. McCabe, 58 Mo. App. 542.

89. Denman v. Webster, (Cal. 1902) 70 Pac. 1063.

90. Denman v. Webster, (Cal. 1902) 70 Pac. 1063.

91. Donahue v. Keeshan, 91 N. Y. App. Div. 602, 87 N. Y. Suppl. 144.

cretion, appear in any action against any officer employed by the city by reason of any acts done while in the performance of his duty by such officer, whenever such appearance is requested by the head of the department or bureau by which the officer is employed, invests the head of such department or bureau with discretion to determine whether the action is prima facie founded on an act done by defendant while in the performance of his duty, and that such determination, followed by a request to the corporation counsel to appear and defend, is not subject to judicial review.⁹² A city solicitor is under no official obligation to attend to the prosecution or aid in the adjustment of the claims of the city against the state for reimbursement.⁹³

j. Commissioner of Deeds. Statutes authorizing the appointment of commissioners of deeds for all the municipalities of a state have no application to municipalities incorporated after the statutes went into effect.⁹⁴

C. Agents and Employees⁹⁵ — 1. WHO ARE. It is oftentimes difficult to determine whether a person is an officer or merely an agent or employee of a municipality, since no fixed rule can be laid down to determine the question.⁹⁶ The following distinctions between the two may be noted. Generally an officer takes an oath of office while a mere agent or employee does not.⁹⁷ The duties and services of a mere employee are purely ministerial,⁹⁸ and he is not clothed with discretion nor with power to represent or bind the corporation.⁹⁹ A municipal agent holds a position of trust, responsibility, and discretion.¹ His relation is fiduciary and he may contract with third persons in the name of the corporation,² but he is distinguished from an officer in the fact that his position is not permanent,³ ^{92.} Briggs v. Lahey, 101 N. Y. App. Div. 136, 91 N. Y. Suppl. 576.

^{93.} Calais v. Whidden, 64 Me. 249.

^{94.} Parker v. Baker, Clarke (N. Y.) 223. [reversed on other grounds in 8 Paige 428].

^{95.} As persons subject to garnishment see GARNISHMENT, 20 Cyc. 989.

^{96.} See Chicago v. Luthardt, 191 Ill. 516, 61 N. E. 410 [affirming 91 Ill. App. 324]; Goud v. Portland, 96 Me. 125, 51 Atl. 820; Shelby v. Alcorn, 36 Miss. 273, 72 Am. Dec. 169.

Effect of giving of bond.—The employment by an incorporated town, owning waterworks, of a person as superintendent of the plant, by written contract defining his duties, and the taking of a bond for the faithful discharge of such duties, does not make the employee a town officer, as between his sureties and the town, in the absence of an ordinance or resolution creating the office of such superintendent, or specifying his duties. Salem v. McClintock, 16 Ind. App. 656, 46 N. E. 39, 59 Am. St. Rep. 330.

Commissioner of jurors, under Greater New York charter, is not the head of a department but is a city officer. People v. Welde, 28 Misc. (N. Y.) 582, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 1030.

Commissioners appointed to construct a bridge over the East river are municipal officers. People v. Van Wyck, 27 Misc. (N. Y.) 439, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 134.

Persons held to be employes: An architect (State v. Broome, 61 N. J. L. 115, 38 Atl. 841), assistant secretary of commissioners of docks (Jackson v. New York, 87 Hun (N. Y.) 296, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 346), building inspectors (State v. Longfellow, 93 Mo. App. 364, 67 S. W. 665), clerks (Mohan v. Jackson, 52 Ind. 599), inspector of the regulating and grading of streets (Meyers v. New York, 69 Hun (N. Y.) 291, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 484), janitor (Sullivan v. New York, 48 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 238), mechanics (State v. Anderson, 57 Ohio St. 429, 49 N. E. 406), notary (State v. Castell, 22 La. Ann. 15), surveyor (Wardlaw v. New York, 61 N. Y. Super. Ct. 174, 19 N. Y. Suppl. 6), firemen (State v. Jennings, 57 Ohio St. 415, 49 N. E. 404, 63 Am. St. Rep. 723), superintendent of police telegraph system (Miller v. Warner, 42 N. Y. App. Div. 208, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 956), teachers (Seymour v. Over-River School-Dist., 53 Conn. 502, 3 Atl. 552), public printer (Brown v. Turner, 70 N. C. 93), and waterworks commissioners (David v. Portland Water Committee, 14 Oreg. 98, 12 Pac. 174).

^{97.} Goud v. Portland, 96 Me. 125, 51 Atl. 820.

^{98.} Alexander v. Vicksburg, 68 Miss. 564, 10 So. 62; Knigh v. Philadelphia, 15 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 307; Stephani v. Manitowoc, 89 Wis. 467, 62 N. W. 176; Hayes v. Oshkosh, 33 Wis. 314, 14 Am. Rep. 760.

Person working out poll tax as employee.—A person performing labor for a city in lieu of his poll tax is a laborer for the city, so as to constitute the relation of employer and employee. Winfield v. Peeden, 8 Kan. App. 671, 57 Pac. 131.

^{99.} Fletcher v. Lowell, 15 Gray (Mass.) 103; Trainor v. Wayne County Bd. of Auditors, 89 Mich. 162, 50 N. W. 809, 15 L. R. A. 95; Shanley v. Brooklyn, 30 Hun (N. Y.) 396.

1. Judevine v. Hardwick, 49 Vt. 180.

2. Numemacher v. Louisville, 98 Ky. 334, 32 S. W. 1091, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 933.

3. New York, etc., R. Co. v. Wheeler, 72 Conn. 481, 45 Atl. 14; Pinney v. Brown, 60

but temporary, and for a special object, and this distinction is often a very important one.⁴

2. GENERAL CONSIDERATIONS — a. Requisites of Appointment or Employment, and Eligibility. Statutory provisions as to the appointment or the making of the contract of employment must be strictly observed.⁵ The contract need not be in writing,⁶ except where so required by statute or ordinance.⁷ So the employment, in the absence of statutory or charter provisions, need not necessarily be by a formal ordinance, by-law, or resolution.⁸ Ordinarily a single member of a common council has no power to employ municipal servants,⁹ and under some statutes a municipal board must act as a unit in employing an attorney.¹⁰ Generally an ordinance or resolution appointing an employee must be signed by the mayor and is subject to his veto as are other ordinances or resolutions.¹¹ An implied request for services, as well as an implied promise to pay therefor, may be raised against a municipality, the same as against an individual, by circumstances.¹² Under a charter providing that no salaried employee of any quasi-public corporation having a contract with the city shall be eligible to hold any office in the city, the term "salaried" refers to compensation for a fixed term and for services that are not menial in their nature.¹³ Where a statute provides that no clerk in the employ of a municipality shall become interested in the performance of any contract or work, the price of which is payable by the city, a clerk cannot become a lecturer in an evening school under an appointment from the board of education.¹⁴

b. Duties, Liabilities, Scope, and Term of Agency or Employment. Statutes and civil service rules adopted pursuant thereto enter into and form a part of a contract of employment,¹⁵ as does a valid provision of an ordinance in relation to the employment of city employees.¹⁶ An agent of a municipality can act only within the limits of his authority,¹⁷ and the municipality will not be bound by unauthorized acts of its agents, although done under color of office.¹⁸ The liability of the agent or employee to the municipality or to third persons is largely governed by the rules relating to agency and master and servant in general.¹⁹ Ratification by the municipality of an employment for a specified time will not Conn. 164, 22 Atl. 430; Reuting v. Titusville, 175 Pa. St. 512, 34 Atl. 916.

4. Baldwin v. Logansport, 73 Ind. 346; Detroit Press Press Co. v. State Auditor, 47 Mich. 135, 10 N. W. 171; Egan v. St. Paul, 57 Minn. 1, 58 N. W. 267; U. S. v. Hartwell, 6 Wall. (U. S.) 385, 18 L. ed. 830; Travelers' Ins. Co. v. Oswego, 59 Fed. 58, 7 C. C. A. 669; Sanford v. Boyd, 21 Fed. Cas. No. 12,311, 2 Cranch C. C. 78.

5. Logansport v. Dykeman, 116 Ind. 15, 17 N. E. 587 (holding, however, that, although Rev. St. (1881) § 3099, declares that, "on the passage or adoption of any by-law, ordinance, or resolution, the yeas and nays shall be taken, and entered on the record," yet a contract by a council to pay for services to be rendered in effecting a compromise of the city's debt, when such compromise is effected and accepted, is good, although not in writing, and although the vote of the council does not appear on its record); Clerendon v. Philadelphia, 13 Phila. (Pa.) 54.

6. Wilt v. Redkey, 29 Ind. App. 199, 64 N. E. 228; Reed v. Orleans, 1 Ind. App. 25, 27 N. E. 109.

7. Crutchfield v. Warrensburg, 30 Mo. App. 456.

8. Wilt v. Redkey, 29 Ind. App. 199, 64

N. E. 228; Lowry v. Lexington, 113 Ky. 763, 68 S. W. 1109, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 516.

9. Justice v. Logansport, 6 Ind. App. 135, 32 N. E. 868.

10. Delaware County Com'rs v. Sackrider, 35 N. Y. 154.

11. People v. Schroeder, 12 Hun (N. Y.) 413 [affirmed in 76 N. Y. 160].

12. See infra, VII, C, 6, a.

13. State v. Duncan, 1 Tenn. Ch. App. 334.

14. McAdam v. New York, 36 Hun (N. Y.) 340.

15. Ransom v. Boston, 192 Mass. 299, 78 N. E. 481.

16. State v. Kent, 98 Mo. App. 281, 71 S. W. 1066.

17. Barnes v. Philadelphia, 3 Phila. (Pa.) 409; Davis v. Philadelphia, 3 Phila. (Pa.) 374.

Limitation of power.—The power expressly conferred on a municipal agent is not limited by the appointment of an advisory committee to aid the agent. Hunneman v. Jamaica Fire Dist. No. 1, 37 Vt. 40.

18. Baltimore v. Eshbach, 18 Md. 276.

19. See cases cited infra, this note.

Ratification by a municipality of the unauthorized action of its agents and thereafter pleading such action and its results as defense to a suit by a third person estopped bind the municipality for a longer period.²⁰ Where a committee has power to appoint certain employees, it cannot appoint them for a period beyond the time for which it is itself appointed.²¹

e. Number of Hours Constituting Day's Work.²² The statutes in some of the states fix eight hours as a day's work for all laborers employed by any municipality of the state.²³

3. CIVIL SERVICE RULES.²⁴ Under the civil service system in force in some municipalities certain positions are required to be filled from the persons obtaining the highest standing in a competitive examination.²⁵ The positions subject to competitive examination are determinable from the provisions of the statutes and the civil service rules.²⁶ Usually the rules are not applicable to confidential the municipality from subsequently pursuing the agent on account of such action. New Orleans v. Southern Bank, 31 La. Ann. 560.

Liability of agent for failure to resist claim.—A municipal agent is not liable to the municipality for failure to resist the payment of a claim which it had already voted to pay, even if the claim could have been successfully resisted. Pittston v. Clark, 15 Me. 460.

Personal liability to third persons.—Members of a committee, where they enter into a contract describing themselves as such, may become personally liable on the contract as in the case of other agents. Simonds v. Heard, 23 Pick (Mass.) 120, 34 Am. Dec. 41. But members of the committee appointed, under Laws (1892), c. 331, to celebrate the four hundredth anniversary of the discovery of America, if acting in good faith, do not render themselves personally liable by making, on behalf of the committee, a contract which is not binding on the committee because such members exceeded their powers. Olfifers v. Belmont, 15 Misc. (N. Y.) 120, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 813 [affirming 12 Misc. 160, 33 N. Y. Suppl. 275].

The general rule that an agent cannot be permitted to make private gain with funds nor with matters of business intrusted to his care applies to municipal agents. Judevine v. Hardwick, 49 Vt. 180.

Estoppel.—Where a municipality adopts the act of its agent by its conduct, the agent and his sureties are estopped from denying his power to do the act in an action brought by the municipality. Indianapolis v. Skeen, 17 Ind. 628.

20. Barrett v. New Orleans, 32 La. Ann. 101.

21. Egan v. St. Paul, 57 Minn. 1, 58 N. W. 267. See also New Brunswick Water Com'rs v. Cramer, 61 N. J. L. 270, 39 Atl. 671, 68 Am. St. Rep. 705 [reversing 57 N. J. L. 478, 31 Atl. 384].

22. Extra pay for overtime see infra, VII, C, 6, b, (III).

23. State v. Wilson, 65 Kan. 237, 69 Pac. 172 (holding that a school-district is a municipality within such a statute); McAvoy v. New York, 52 N. Y. App. Div. 485, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 274 [affirmed in 166 N. Y. 588, 59 N. E. 1125]; McNulty v. New York, 60 N. Y. App. Div. 250, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 133 [affirmed in 168 N. Y. 117, 61 N. E. 111]

(holding that the statute applies to drivers in the street cleaning department of New York city).

One working to pay a poll tax is a laborer for the city within the eight-hour law and an ordinance requiring two days' work of ten hours a day or a payment of three dollars in lieu thereof is void. In re Ashby, 60 Kan. 101, 55 Pac. 336.

Firemen are not employees within the eight-hour labor law. People v. Sturgis, 78 N. Y. App. Div. 400, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 969 [affirmed in 175 N. Y. 470, 67 N. E. 1088].

24. As affecting removal or discharge see infra, VII, C, 5, b.

Mandamus to enforce preference of appointment of employees see MANDAMUS, 26 Cyc. 254.

25. People v. Knox, 66 N. Y. App. Div. 517, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 361; People v. New York City Civil Service Bds., 5 N. Y. App. Div. 164, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 75; People v. Scannell, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 182, holding that there is no provision in the state civil service laws or the regulations made thereunder relating to municipal appointment by which a temporary appointment made to a competitive position with examination can ripen into a permanent one.

Excuses for failure to give preference to persons having highest standing.—Where an applicant for municipal employment has conformed to the requirements of the civil service commission, and has been actually accepted by it and placed upon the eligible list from which appointments are made, the appointing officer cannot excuse himself for failing to give the applicant the preference to which the list entitles him by asserting that the list is not properly made up, or that the applicant has not passed the examination required by law. Burke v. Holtzmann, 110 N. Y. App. Div. 564, 97 N. Y. Suppl. 218.

Sufficiency of examination for position as laborer see Burke v. Holtzmann, 110 N. Y. App. Div. 564, 97 N. Y. Suppl. 218.

26. People v. Dalton, 49 N. Y. App. Div. 71, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 258 [affirmed in 163 N. Y. 556, 57 N. E. 1121] (street cleaner); Walsh v. Albany, 32 N. Y. App. Div. 128, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 936 (bridge tender); Cutugno v. New York, 58 N. Y. Super. Ct. 567, 9 N. Y. Suppl. 729 (interpreter); In re Gaffney, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 664.

employees or appointees.²⁷ Employees of municipal officers as distinguished from state officers are subject to examination by the civil service board of the municipality and not by the state board.²⁸ Veterans are usually given a preference in the right to employment or appointment.²⁹ Promotions are also usually conditioned on high standing in competitive examinations,³⁰ as are transfers from one position or department to another.³¹ Where an employee has voluntarily resigned it is generally provided that he may be reemployed within a specified time without a further examination;³² but such a rule does not apply where the position was not subject to competitive examination when the employee first entered the service.³³ Where an employee is suspended because the position he holds was abolished and by civil service rules he is entitled to reinstatement within a specified time where there is need for his services, his right to reinstatement cannot be barred by merely changing the name of the position so as to make it appear that his services are not needed.³⁴ The civil service commission must certify the standings and furnish an eligible list;³⁵ and it seems that it may be held liable in damages where they illegally refuse to certify as eligible the name of one who has passed the examination and is entitled to a preference.³⁶ So in some jurisdictions employment must be certified to by the commission to enable the employee to draw his salary.³⁷

4. POWER TO APPOINT OR EMPLOY — a. In General.³⁸ The power to appoint or employ a person as agent or servant depends upon the nature of the work to be performed and charter or statutory provisions.³⁹ There is no implied power in a

27. Shaughnessy v. Fornes, 73 N. Y. App. Div. 462, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 223 [affirmed in 172 N. Y. 323, 65 N. E. 168] (sergeant at arms of common council); Rowley v. Rochester, 34 Misc. (N. Y.) 291, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 160.

28. People v. Civil Service Supervisory, etc., Bds., 41 Hun (N. Y.) 287 [affirming 17 Abb. N. Cas. 64, and affirmed in 103 N. Y. 657] (employees of aqueduct commissioners); People v. Wheeler, 2 N. Y. St. 656.

29. Ramson v. Boston, 192 Mass. 299, 78 N. E. 481; Johnson v. Kimball, 170 Mass. 58, 48 N. E. 1020; Matter of Sullivan, 55 Hun (N. Y.) 285, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 401 (holding statute constitutional and applicable to ordinary laborers); People v. Wallace, 55 Hun (N. Y.) 149, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 591, (holding that Laws (1887), c. 464, § 1, providing that any honorably discharged soldier shall be preferred for employment on public works, requires the employment of men with their teams, when teams are necessary and being used, the same as of men without teams).

30. Hale v. Worstell, 48 Misc. (N. Y.) 339, 95 N. Y. Suppl. 485 [affirmed in 107 N. Y. App. Div. 624, 95 N. Y. Suppl. 1131].

Validity of civil service rules to the contrary.—A city civil service rule, which sanctions a promotion in the civil service in violation of Const. art. 5, § 9, and New York City Charter (Laws (1901), p. 48, c. 466, § 123 et seq.), requiring appointments to and promotions in the civil service to be from competitive examinations and according to the rating established thereby, is void. Hale v. Worstell, 48 Misc. (N. Y.) 339, 95 N. Y. Suppl. 485 [affirmed in 107 N. Y. App. Div. 624, 95 N. Y. Suppl. 1131].

The grade of an employee is fixed by the position which he occupies and for which he has passed a civil service examination, and although when he enters upon that position he does not receive the minimum amount of salary allotted to it, yet it may be increased to the maximum amount of that grade without its being a promotion requiring a new competitive examination, under N. Y. Laws (1899), c. 370, §§ 13, 15. People v. Knox, 58 N. Y. App. Div. 541, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 602 [affirmed in 167 N. Y. 620, 60 N. E. 1118].

31. People v. Grout, 45 Misc. (N. Y.) 47, 90 N. Y. Suppl. 861.

32. People v. Lantry, 32 Misc. (N. Y.) 80, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 185.

33. People v. Knox, 66 N. Y. App. Div. 517, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 361; People v. Lantry, 32 Misc. (N. Y.) 80, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 185.

34. People v. Grout, 45 Misc. (N. Y.) 47, 90 N. Y. Suppl. 861.

35. Gillen v. Wheeler, 5 N. Y. St. 904.

36. Gillen v. Wheeler, 5 N. Y. St. 904.

37. Doyle v. Knox, 67 N. Y. App. Div. 231, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 650.

38. Under civil service rules see infra, VII, C, 3.

39. See Kip v. Buffalo, 123 N. Y. 152, 25 N. E. 165 [affirming 7 N. Y. Suppl. 685]; People v. Sutton, 3 N. Y. App. Div. 440, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 492; Stenson v. New York, 40 Misc. (N. Y.) 533, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 946; In re Frackville, 94 Pa. St. 56.

Appointment of employees for independent contractor.—A charter provision that heads of departments shall have the sole power of appointment of all deputies and subordinate employees under them does not empower a superintendent of a department to appoint workmen in the employ of a contractor engaged in lighting the city under a contract. American Lighting Co. v. McCuen, 92 Md. 703, 48 Atl. 352.

municipality to employ persons to do work outside of duties germane to the city government.⁴⁰ Temporary positions for special or emergency service may be provided by the council notwithstanding a charter inhibition against creating new offices.⁴¹

b. Architect. Municipal power to erect buildings includes power to employ an architect.⁴² And the appointment by a municipality of an architect to examine a federal building in process of erection to determine its safety has been held within its powers.⁴³ Whether a committee appointed to contract for and superintend the erection of a municipal building has authority to employ an architect has been held a question of fact for the jury.⁴⁴

c. Counsel—(1) IN GENERAL. Except where it is otherwise provided by statute, charter provisions, or ordinance,⁴⁵ it is generally held that a municipality

Agent to secure right of way.—Where a city needed a right of way, and was unable to obtain it advantageously, it was within its power to employ some third person to secure it, and an agreement to pay him for his services was binding. Stewart v. Council Bluffs, 58 Iowa 642, 12 N. W. 718.

Auctioneer.—An ordinance declaring that "the collector shall . . . annually, expose for rent at public auction all the stalls within the market house, and collect the rent for the same," without any provision for extra compensation, gives him no authority to employ, at the city's expense, an auctioneer for the purpose. Norfolk v. Pollard, 94 Va. 279, 26 S. E. 832.

Clerks in general.—See Browning v. O'Donnell, 60 N. J. L. 356, 37 Atl. 613; In re New York Public Improvements, 77 N. Y. App. Div. 351, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 1024 [reversing 38 Misc. 509, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 1078]; Collins v. New York, 3 Hun (N. Y.) 680; Drake v. New York, 7 Lans. (N. Y.) 340 [affirmed in 77 N. Y. 611]. A city charter authorizing a city council to provide for the employment of such clerks and other persons in any of the departments as the public service may demand applies only to cases not specifically provided for in the charter. Cutshaw v. Denver, 19 Colo. App. 341, 75 Pac. 22.

Detective.—Where a town has power to appoint an agent "for the purpose of commencing and prosecuting suits in behalf of the town and of defending the town in actions instituted against it," a town agent so appointed is authorized to employ a detective to ascertain what individuals composed a mob that destroyed property for which the town is liable to make compensation. Sargent v. Bristol, 21 Fed. Cas. No. 12,363, 2 Hask. 112.

Engineers.—Tennessee Paving Brick Co. v. Barker, 59 S. W. 755, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1069; Hildreth v. New York, 111 N. Y. App. Div. 63, 97 N. Y. Suppl. 582; Drumheller v. Mt. Vernon, 93 N. Y. App. Div. 596, 88 N. Y. Suppl. 536.

Inspectors.—Muldoon v. Lowell, 178 Mass. 134, 59 N. E. 637; State v. Cherry, 53 N. J. L. 173, 20 Atl. 825; Harvier v. New York, etc., R. Co., 26 Misc. (N. Y.) 397, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 204. A board ordinarily has power to appoint an inspector to secure the enforcement of rules made by them. Groner v. Portsmouth, 77 Va. 488.

Janitor.—State v. Smith, 15 Mo. App. 412; Wiggin v. Manchester, 72 N. H. 576, 58 Atl. 522; Kennedy v. New York, 79 N. Y. 361; Bergen v. New York, 5 Hun (N. Y.) 243.

Physician.—Ordinarily a municipal officer has no power to employ a physician. Barber v. Saginaw, 34 Mich. 52.

Treasurer.—Covington Public Library v. Beitzer, 118 Ky. 738, 82 S. W. 421, 26 Ky. L. Rep. 611.

Watchman.—Madison v. Newsome, 39 Fla. 149, 22 So. 270; Harvier v. New York, etc., R. Co., 26 Misc. (N. Y.) 397, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 204; State v. Boyden, 6 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 509, 4 Ohio N. P. 322.

Power conferred on a municipality to light its streets and to operate its own plant includes power to employ labor necessary to carry on the work. Rockebrandt v. Madison, 9 Ind. App. 227, 36 N. E. 444, 53 Am. St. Rep. 348.

40. Potts v. Cape May, 66 N. J. L. 544, 49 Atl. 584. See also New Decatur v. Berry, 90 Ala. 432, 7 So. 838, 24 Am. St. Rep. 827 (quarantine); Strahan v. Malvern, 77 Iowa 454, 42 N. W. 369.

Franchise not entitled to exercise.—A contract by a corporation to pay for services to be rendered in the exercise of a franchise which it is not lawfully entitled to exercise is void, and creates no right of action against the corporation. Perry v. Superior City, 26 Wis. 64.

Advertising agent.—The common council has no power to appoint a person to properly represent the city as an advertising agent of the city as a resort. Potts v. Cape May, 66 N. J. L. 544, 49 Atl. 584.

41. Costello v. New York, 63 N. Y. 48.

42. Peterson v. New York, 17 N. Y. 449.

The duties, terms, and compensation of an architect employed by a city board of education may, with his consent, be lawfully changed by the municipality at any time, so long as such municipal action is taken in good faith. Carling v. Jersey City, 71 N. J. L. 154, 58 Atl. 395.

43. Egan v. Chicago, 5 Ill. App. 70.

44. Upjohn v. Taunton, 6 Cush. (Mass.) 310.

45. Hope v. Alton, 214 Ill. 102, 73 N. E.

has power, either implied or under particular charter provisions, to employ an attorney.⁴⁶ Especially is this so where there is no municipal attorney or there is a vacancy in the office.⁴⁷ So where the city attorney refuses to act the municipality is often given the power to employ other counsel.⁴⁸ So municipal agents may be impliedly authorized to hire attorneys in suits brought by or against them.⁴⁹ The municipality, however, has no implied power to employ counsel in connection with proceedings in which it has no direct interest.⁵⁰ And a contract between a city and an attorney for the performance of legal serv-

406; Horn v. St. Paul, 80 Minn. 369, 83 N. W. 388; Lyddy v. Long Island City, 104 N. Y. 218, 10 N. E. 155 [distinguished in Kramrath v. Albany, 127 N. Y. 575, 28 N. E. 400].

Estoppel.—The action of the officers and council of a municipality in contracting for the services of a special attorney in violation of an ordinance does not estop the city to deny its liability for services performed under the contract. Hope v. Alton, 214 Ill. 102, 73 N. E. 406.

Under some charter provisions declaring that the law department of the municipality shall have charge of all the law business of the municipality, it is held that other counsel cannot be employed by any department of the city government or any of its officers. Rawson v. New York, 24 Barb. (N. Y.) 226, 4 Abb. Pr. 342, 15 How. Pr. 145; Roberts v. New York, 5 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 41.

Implied contract.—A city is not liable upon the implied contract to pay the reasonable value of professional services rendered by an attorney other than the city attorney in advising the mayor and aldermen where his employment was unauthorized, although the municipality was benefited by the services rendered. Bosard v. Grand Forks, 13 N. D. 587, 102 N. W. 164.

46. California.—Smith v. Sacramento, 13 Cal. 531.

Illinois.—Bruce v. Dickey, 116 Ill. 527, 6 N. E. 435; Mt. Vernon v. Patton, 94 Ill. 65; Harvey v. Wilson, 78 Ill. App. 544.

Indiana.—Cullen v. Carthage, 103 Ind. 196, 2 N. E. 571, 53 Am. Rep. 504. See also Baldwin v. Logansport, 73 Ind. 346.

Louisiana.—State v. Heath, 20 La. Ann. 172, 96 Am. Dec. 390.

Massachusetts.—Cushing v. Stoughton, 6 Cush. 389. Compare Butler v. Charlestown, 7 Gray 12.

New York.—Matter of Plattsburgh, 27 N. Y. App. Div. 353, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 356 [reversed on other grounds in 157 N. Y. 78, 51 N. E. 512].

North Carolina.—Roper v. Laurinburg, 90 N. C. 427, town.

Oklahoma.—Treeman v. Perry, 11 Okla. 66, 65 Pac. 923.

Wisconsin.—Wilson v. Omro, 52 Wis. 131, 8 N. W. 821.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 584. And see infra, IX, A, 6, o.

Custom.—The mayor, city attorney, and treasurer, having ordinarily been suffered to make similar agreements, may engage attorneys to collect demands due the municipality, when its interests demand such service. Memphis v. Brown, 16 Fed. Cas. No. 9,415, 1 Flipp. 188 [modified in 20 Wall. 289, 22 L. ed. 264].

Termination of employment.—The employment by a city of counsel to collect arrearages of taxes, without any limitation as to time, was in law a contract terminable at the will of either party. Wilmington v. Ryan, 141 N. C. 666, 54 S. E. 543.

Review of discretion by courts.—Where the common council are the sole judges of the necessity of employing assistant counsel to defend suits brought against the city, the exercise of that discretion is not reviewable in a court of law. State v. Paterson, 40 N. J. L. 186.

47. Roodhouse v. Jennings, 29 Ill. App. 50.

When an exigency arises involving the corporate existence of a city, and such city finds itself without an attorney, it is within the powers of the mayor and council to employ counsel to protect its interests, and their action will not be defeated on account of a failure to comply with all the technical details incident to the employment of counsel in ordinary cases. Rice v. Gwinn, 5 Ida. 394, 49 Pac. 412.

Attorney need not be resident of city.—Roodhouse v. Jennings, 29 Ill. App. 50.

48. Curtis v. Gowan, 34 Ill. App. 516.

49. Nash v. New York, 4 Sandf. (N. Y.) 1, public administrator.

Where a municipality appoints agents to prosecute an action, such agents have authority to employ an attorney. Buckland v. Conway, 16 Mass. 396.

50. Butler v. Milwaukee, 15 Wis. 493, employment of counsel to aid in criminal prosecution instituted by state against persons who had lately been officers of the city for crimes committed under color of their official duties, to the pecuniary damage of the city.

In the absence of express power in its charter, the power of a corporation to employ counsel to attend to its interest in another state can be legitimately exercised only in regard to matters which pertain to the trust created by the act of incorporation. And whatever powers are requisite to the faithful execution of this trust are necessary incidents to the powers expressly delegated. Memphis v. Adams, 9 Heisk. (Tenn.) 518, 24 Am. Rep. 331.

Action against officers.—A municipal corporation has no such interest in a suit exclusively directed against its officers as will authorize it to retain counsel for its defense, ices which the law requires the city attorney to perform is prima facie void.⁵¹ So the municipality cannot employ an attorney where there are no funds to pay him with.⁵² Where the employment by a certain officer must be with the approval of the mayor, the approval of such an employment by the council, in the absence of proof to the contrary, implies the approval of the mayor.⁵³

(II) EMPLOYMENT BY MAYOR. Ordinarily the mayor has no authority, unless expressly conferred by the charter or ordinances, to employ counsel in behalf of the municipality.⁵⁴ However, in particular cases,⁵⁵ such as in emergency cases,⁵⁶ or where authority has been conferred on him by the common council,⁵⁷ he has been held authorized to employ counsel.

(III) EMPLOYMENT BY BOARD OR COMMITTEE. Except where forbidden by statute, charter provisions or ordinance,⁵⁸ a particular board or committee other than the common council may have implied power to employ necessary counsel;⁵⁹ and in some cases particular boards are expressly authorized to employ an attorney in case of necessity.⁶⁰ But a particular committee of the common council ordinarily has no power to employ counsel.⁶¹ And a board has no authority to employ although the bill may enjoin the officers from performing the functions of their office, and ask for the appointment of a receiver with power to control the corporate property and finances. Smith v. Nashville, 4 Lea (Tenn.) 69.

51. Clough v. Hart, 8 Kan. 487.

52. Wallace v. San Jose, 29 Cal. 180.

53. State v. Edwards, 136 Mo. 360, 38 S. W. 73.

54. Fletcher v. Lowell, 15 Gray (Mass.) 103; Carroll v. St. Louis, 12 Mo. 444; Mark v. West Troy, 69 Hun (N. Y.) 442, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 422.

55. Louisville v. Murphy, 86 Ky. 53, 5 S. W. 194, 9 Ky. L. Rep. 310, holding that where the general council of a city have failed to levy a tax by ordinance, and the city officials are proceeding to collect it by distraint, the mayor, believing the tax to be unlawful, and acting in good faith, and by advice of counsel, has authority to employ counsel to bring suit to restrain the collection of such tax.

56. Owensboro v. Weir, 95 Ky. 158, 24 S. W. 115, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 506, holding, however, that the mere fact that a county is about to inclose land claimed by a city, and that the city attorney had failed to present his case to the court so as to obtain injunctive relief, does not give rise to an emergency authorizing the mayor to employ counsel without calling a meeting of the council, in which is vested all control over the city property.

Mandamus proceedings.—Where the mayor of a city employs special counsel to defend him in mandamus proceedings to require him to sign an illegal issue of bonds, for the reason that neither the legal officers nor the legislative body of the city will assist him nor procure counsel for the purpose, the city is liable for the services of the special counsel so employed by the mayor, and this is true notwithstanding the fact that the employment of such special counsel may be contrary to the provisions of the charter. Wiley v. Seattle, 7 Wash. 576, 35 Pac. 415, 38 Am. St. Rep. 905.

Employment as conclusive on question of emergency.—The employment of the counsel by the mayor is not conclusive on the courts that an emergency existed authorizing him to act. Owensboro v. Weir, 95 Ky. 158, 24 S. W. 115, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 506.

57. Fletcher v. Lowell, 15 Gray (Mass.) 103, holding, however, that a vote of a city council that a petition by a bridge corporation for a jury to assess damages for the laying out of their bridge as a townway be "referred to the mayor, with power to employ such counsel as may be deemed expedient," does not authorize the mayor to employ counsel to procure the passage by the legislature of a pending bill which might affect such damages.

58. Greathouse v. Dunn, 60 Cal. 311.

59. Simrall v. Covington, 29 S. W. 880, 16 Ky. L. Rep. 770; Yaple v. Morgan, 2 Ohio Cir. Ct. 406, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 557 [affirmed in 25 Cinc. L. Bul. 336].

60. Matter of Ryan, 6 Misc. (N. Y.) 478, 27 N. Y. Suppl. 169.

61. Caswell v. Marshalltown, 101 Iowa 598, 70 N. W. 717.

However, where the charter provides that no contract shall be binding on the city unless made by some authorized agent it is not liable for legal services, beneficial to the city, performed by counsel retained by a majority of the board of aldermen without any official action of the common council or either branch thereof. Butler v. Charlestown, 7 Gray (Mass.) 12.

Custom.—The fact that acts of a committee of a city council, in employing assistant counsel for the city, have been several times approved and ratified by the council, does not establish a custom binding on the city, where an ordinance expressly provides that such employment shall be "at the discretion of the mayor or city council" (Caswell v. Marshalltown, 101 Iowa 598, 70 N. W. 717), and it is immaterial that the usage of the city has been to pay such bills approved by the committee of either board without any formal vote (Butler v. Charlestown, 7 Gray (Mass.) 12).

counsel to act in connection with matters not within the scope of the power of the board,⁶² nor where there is no necessity therefor because attorneys employed by the municipality are available,⁶³ nor where the exclusive power to employ attorneys is vested in the common council or board of trustees.⁶⁴ So a board has no power to employ an attorney to defend an individual officer prosecuted for misconduct.⁶⁵ Where the board or committee is authorized to employ attorneys, it is immaterial that it was appointed for an illegal purpose.⁶⁶

(iv) EMPLOYMENT BY CORPORATION ATTORNEY. A corporation attorney is sometimes authorized to employ additional counsel,⁶⁷ but such contract expires with the term of the office of the corporation attorney.⁶⁸

d. Agent to Sell Bonds. Generally a municipality may employ a person to sell its bonds,⁶⁹ especially when it is given power to negotiate and sell them.⁷⁰ But a municipality has no authority to employ an agent to refund its bonds where that duty is imposed upon the governmental officials of the municipality.⁷¹

e. Ratification of Unauthorized Employment. Where one employs a person in behalf of a municipality without authority, the employment may be ratified by the municipality, either expressly or by conduct, so as to be valid.⁷²

f. Delegation or Restriction of Power. The power to hire or appoint may be limited by charter provisions as to the amount of indebtedness the municipality may contract in a year, of which the employee must take notice.⁷³ Where the power to appoint is delegated to the common council it cannot delegate such 62. Johnson v. Troy, 19 Hun (N. Y.) 204, board of education.

63. Boogs v. Newark Sinking Fund Com'rs, 10 N. J. L. J. 219; People v. Town, 1 N. Y. App. Div. 127, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 864; Ramson v. New York, 24 Barb. (N. Y.) 226, 4 Abb. Pr. 342, 15 How. Pr. 145; Smith v. Scranton, 2 Pa. Co. Ct. 331.

64. People v. Town, 1 N. Y. App. Div. 127, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 864; Collins v. Saratoga Springs, 70 Hun (N. Y.) 583, 24 N. Y. Suppl. 234 [affirmed in 140 N. Y. 637, 35 N. E. 892].

65. Lunkenheimer v. Hewitt, 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 798, 23 Cinc. L. Bul. 433.

66. Cushing v. Stoughton, 6 Cush. (Mass.) 389.

67. Smith v. New York, 5 Hun (N. Y.) 237. But see Fletcher v. Lowell, 15 Gray (Mass.) 103, holding that a city solicitor has no authority without express vote or ordinance to employ other counsel in behalf of the city to procure the passage by the legislature of a statute affecting a claim for damages against the city.

68. Wilmington v. Ryan, 141 N. C. 666, 54 S. E. 543.

69. Armstrong v. Ft. Edward, 159 N. Y. 315, 53 N. E. 1116 [reversing 84 Hun 261, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 433]; New York v. Sands, 105 N. Y. 210, 11 N. E. 820.

70. Reed v. Orleans, 1 Ind. App. 25, 27 N. E. 109.

71. People v. Smithville, 85 Hun (N. Y.) 114, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 668.

72. Kansas.—Mound City v. Snoddy, 53 Kan. 126, 35 Pac. 1112.

New Jersey.—Salmon v. Haynes, 50 N. J. L. 97, 11 Atl. 151.

New York.—Peterson v. New York, 17 N. Y. 449 [reversing 4 E. D. Smith 413];

Van Wart v. New York, 52 How. Pr. 78. Compare Mason v. New York, 28 Hun 115.

Oregon.—Ward v. Forest Grove, 20 Oreg. 355, 25 Pac. 1020; Beers v. Dalles City, 16 Oreg. 334, 18 Pac. 835.

Texas.—Denison v. Foster, (Civ. App. 1894) 28 S. W. 1052. But see Bryan v. Page, 51 Tex. 532, 32 Am. Rep. 637, holding that under a city charter, which provided that the common council might "by ordinances" employ legal counsel to prosecute suits for the city, an attorney employed by the mayor, in the absence of any ordinance therefor, cannot recover for a legal opinion, given under such employment, although used by the common council.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 587.

What constitutes ratification see Caswell v. Marshalltown, 101 Iowa 598, 70 N. W. 717. The fact that the board of aldermen drew a warrant in favor of the printer for printing the attorney's brief in the cause in which the services were rendered was not a ratification by the city of the attorney's employment. Crutchfield v. Warrensburg, 30 Mo. App. 456. A vote by the council, showing that a majority of the members were willing to appropriate something for the services of attorneys employed by the mayor, cannot be construed into a ratification of their employment by the mayor. Owensboro v. Weir, 95 Ky. 158, 24 S. W. 115, 15 Ky. L. Rep. 506. An increase by the common council of a municipal corporation of the salary of a messenger to the president of the board of aldermen is a ratification of his appointment. Smith v. New York, 67 Barb. (N. Y.) 223.

73. People v. Cartwright, 9 Hun (N. Y.) 159.

power to others,⁷⁴ except where the duty to appoint is merely executive or ministerial.⁷⁵

5. REMOVAL, DISCHARGE, OR SUSPENSION⁷⁶ — a. Power. Except where it is otherwise provided by statute or charter provision,⁷⁷ a municipal employee hired or appointed for no particular period of time may generally be discharged at any time, with or without cause, by the municipality through its proper officers.⁷⁸ Power conferred upon a particular officer or board to appoint employees implies the power to remove them.⁷⁹ But where one is appointed or employed for a definite term at a fixed salary, the obligation of the contract cannot be impaired by a discharge without cause before the expiration of such time any more than in the case of private employment.⁸⁰

b. Civil Service Statutes and Rules — (i) IN GENERAL. In several jurisdictions the power to remove, discharge, or suspend certain employees is limited by civil service statutes and rules passed pursuant thereto, requiring the removal to be for cause and after notice and a hearing or an opportunity for explanation.⁸¹ These statutes generally expressly apply to and protect in their

74. East St. Louis v. Thomas, 11 Ill. App. 283; Ridgeway v. Michellon, 42 N. J. L. 405. See also Fagan v. New York, 84 N. Y. 348.

75. Tampa v. Salomonson, 35 Fla. 446, 17 So. 581 (holding, however, that while a municipal corporation can delegate its power to perform a ministerial act, it cannot appoint four agents for such purpose, and authorize them to select for it a fifth); Hathaway v. Des Moines, 97 Iowa 333, 66 N. W. 188; McCullough v. New York, 51 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 486. See also Collins v. New York, 3 Hun (N. Y.) 680.

76. Mandamus to compel reinstatement of employee who has been removed see MANDAMUS, 26 Cyc. 260 et seq.

77. State v. Longfellow, 95 Mo. App. 660, 69 S. W. 596. See also infra, VII, C, 5, b.

78. State v. New Orleans, 107 La. 632, 32 So. 22; Carling v. Jersey City, 71 N. J. L. 154, 58 Atl. 395; Miller v. Warner, 42 N. Y. App. Div. 208, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 956; Matter of Goodwin, 30 N. Y. App. Div. 418, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 355; People v. Murray, 2 N. Y. App. Div. 359, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 848, 5 N. Y. App. Div. 288, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 227; Jackson v. New York, 87 Hun (N. Y.) 296, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 346; Meyers v. New York, 69 Hun (N. Y.) 291, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 484. See also Rochester v. Whitehouse, 15 N. H. 468; Brinck v. New York, 16 Hun (N. Y.) 340.

Employees of independent contractor.—But a municipal officer cannot discharge workmen in the employ of a contractor engaged in lighting the city under a contract, since the contractor's doing the work is no interference with the superintendent's supervision and control of it. American Lighting Co. v. McCuen, 92 Md. 703, 48 Atl. 352.

Statutes — When removal is by board.—Where a deck hand on a city ferry-boat is discharged by the superintendent of ferries, and the action of the superintendent is approved by the board, the discharge is made by the board, within the meaning of the statute authorizing the board to remove employees. O'Dowd v. Boston, 149 Mass. 443, 21 N. E. 949.

Particular persons who may remove.—Under Laws (1901), p. 204, c. 466, § 452, declaring that commissioners at the heads of departments of the city of New York may designate deputies, who shall possess every power belonging to the office of commissioner so far as specified in the designation for a period of not more than three months, the act of a deputy commissioner in removing an employee of the department more than three months after authority was conferred upon the deputy to bear charges in the case was void. People v. Monroe, 105 N. Y. App. Div. 61, 93 N. Y. Suppl. 898.

79. Mack v. New York, 37 Misc. 371, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 809 [affirmed in 82 N. Y. App. Div. 637, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 1139 (affirmed in 176 N. Y. 573, 68 N. E. 1119)]; Price v. Seattle, 39 Wash. 376, 81 Pac. 847. See also Osborn v. Detroit, 111 Mich. 362, 69 N. W. 644; Kip v. Buffalo, 123 N. Y. 152, 25 N. E. 165 [affirming 7 N. Y. Suppl. 685].

80. Cramer v. New Brunswick Water Com'rs, 57 N. J. L. 478, 31 Atl. 384. But see Wiggin v. Manchester, 72 N. H. 576, 58 Atl. 522; Dolan v. Orange, 70 N. J. L. 106, 56 Atl. 130.

81. Thompson v. Troup, 74 Conn. 121, 49 Atl. 907; People v. New York Fire Com'rs, 72 N. Y. 445; People v. Welde, 27 Misc. (N. Y.) 697, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 474. See also Sheridan v. Willis, 6 N. Y. App. Div. 132, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 884.

Civil service rules inconsistent with the city charter are invalid. Murphy v. Keller, 61 N. Y. App. Div. 145, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 405.

Clerks.—Under the provision of a city charter including in its civil service as "clerks" those whose work was purely clerical and those requiring special knowledge, but excluding those requiring technical or professional education, an "examiner of records," whose duties were to examine the records of transfers of real estate and make abstracts as needed by the city, was a clerk, and could not be dismissed without cause shown. Thompson v. Troup, 74 Conn. 121, 49 Atl. 907.

Confidential position.—In New York city employment veteran soldiers and sailors,⁸² and give them a preference over the civil service rules as to employees do not apply to confidential positions. People v. Wells, 85 N. Y. App. Div. 378, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 376 [reversed on other grounds in 178 N. Y. 411, 70 N. E. 926]; Matter of Wiegand, 39 Misc. (N. Y.) 454, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 173; People v. Scannell, 25 Misc. (N. Y.) 619, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 117 [affirmed in 40 N. Y. App. Div. 633, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 1146].

Probationary period.—In New York city a probationary period is fixed during which time employees cannot be discharged. People v. Kearny, 164 N. Y. 64, 58 N. E. 14 [affirming 49 N. Y. App. Div. 125, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 1097]; People v. De Forest, 83 N. Y. App. Div. 410, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 59. But an appointee may be discharged at the end of his probationary term without assigning any reason therefor. See People v. Wells, 38 Misc. (N. Y.) 573, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 1014. The probationary term begins to run from the date that the employee commences to work and not from the date of his appointment. O'Grady v. Low, 74 N. Y. App. Div. 246, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 661. The right to summarily discharge exists only on the day when the probationary term expires. People v. Kearny, 36 Misc. (N. Y.) 717, 74 N. Y. Suppl. 391. But notice to the appointee that his services will be dispensed with, given before the end of his probationary period, is sufficient to terminate his employment at the end thereof. People v. Coler, 56 N. Y. App. Div. 171, 67 N. Y. Suppl. 652. Where the probationary period, although intermittent because of illegal discharges in the meantime, exceeds six months, the appointing officer can only discharge the clerk after a hearing and an explanation, as his appointment has become permanent. People v. Kearny, supra.

In Washington the civil service commission is not itself vested with any power of removal. Easson v. Seattle, 32 Wash. 405, 73 Pac. 496.

82. Ransom v. Boston, 192 Mass. 299, 78 N. E. 481; Pratt v. Phelan, 67 N. Y. App. Div. 349, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 823; Stutzbach v. Coler, 62 N. Y. App. Div. 219, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 901 [affirmed in 168 N. Y. 416, 61 N. E. 697].

Statute constitutional.—Stutzbach v. Coler, 168 N. Y. 416, 61 N. E. 697 [affirming 62 N. Y. App. Div. 219, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 901].

Persons within class.—MacDonald v. Newark, 55 N. J. L. 267, 26 Atl. 82; Lewis v. Jersey City, 51 N. J. L. 240, 17 Atl. 112; People v. Hynes, 101 N. Y. App. Div. 453, 91 N. Y. Suppl. 1032. soldier who did not serve either in the Civil or Spanish war.

Employees in street cleaning department of New York city are not entitled to the protection of the Veteran Act. People v. Waring, 7 N. Y. App. Div. 247, 40 N. Y. Suppl. 35; People v. Waring, 1 N. Y. App. Div. 594, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 478 [affirmed in 149 N. Y. 621, 44 N. E. 1127].

Effect of want of knowledge that employee was veteran.—Where a clerk is not known to be a veteran by the head of the department he may be removed. Stutzbach v. Coler, 62 N. Y. App. Div. 219, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 901 [affirmed in 168 N. Y. 416, 61 N. E. 697]; People v. Waring, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 966. However, such want of knowledge does not affect the veteran's right to reinstatement. Pratt v. Phelan, 67 N. Y. App. Div. 349, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 823.

Employee of county.—A county detective appointed by the district attorney of Kings county is not an employee of the city so as to be within the Veteran Act. People v. Clarke, 54 N. Y. App. Div. 588, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 1068.

Salary as distinguished from wages.—A veteran who works for wages at a stipulated price per day does not receive a "salary" so as to be within the Veteran Act. Myers v. New York, 69 Hun (N. Y.) 291, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 484; Nuttall v. Simis, 22 Misc. (N. Y.) 19, 47 N. Y. Suppl. 1097 [affirmed in 40 N. Y. App. Div. 633, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 1146]. While the fact that the compensation of a veteran employed at public work was so much a day did not necessarily make his employment wholly transitory in character, it was otherwise if his employment itself was by the day. Nuttall v. Simis, 31 N. Y. App. Div. 503, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 308 [affirming 22 Misc. 19, 47 N. Y. Suppl. 1097].

Discharge at end of period of employment is not forbidden by the Veteran Act. Horan v. Orange Bd. of Education, 58 N. J. L. 533, 33 Atl. 944. So where a veteran is appointed to an office and in connection therewith performs the duties of an employee he is not entitled to reinstatement after his term of office expires. People v. Albion, 61 N. Y. App. Div. 71, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 21.

Discharge on account of economy.—The Veteran Act applies only to a removal predicated on the personal conduct of the employee and not to discharges solely on the ground of economy in the public service. People v. Feitner, 58 N. Y. App. Div. 594, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 141; People v. Scannell, 48 N. Y. App. Div. 445, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 930 [affirmed in 163 N. Y. 599, 57 N. E. 1121]; People v. Waring, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 966. But a veteran cannot be discharged on the ground of economy if civilians are retained who perform the same services. Stutzbach v. Coler, 62 N. Y. App. Div. 219, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 901 [reversing 34 Misc. 119, 68 N. Y. Suppl. 738, and affirmed in 168 N. Y. 416, 61 N. E. 697].

Services no longer required.—Where a veteran is removed when his services are no longer required and there is no vacancy to which he can be transferred he is not entitled to reinstatement. People v. Adams, 133 N. Y. 203, 30 N. E. 851 [reversing 53 Hun 141, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 128]; People v. Gilroy, 60 Hun (N. Y.) 507, 15 N. Y. Suppl. 242; People v. Clausen, 29 Misc. (N. Y.) 701, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 579. A veteran employed non-veterans;⁸³ and in some jurisdictions the protection is extended to veteran volunteer firemen.⁸⁴ Where there is no eligible list for the position for which a requisition is made, the employment of a temporary employee generally ceases under the civil service rules within a specified time after the receipt of an eligible list.⁸⁵

(ii) GROUNDS. Where the right to discharge or remove is limited to discharge or removal for cause, the cause must generally affect the general character or fitness of the employee.⁸⁶ Generally the grounds for removal are not specifically enumerated in the statute or civil service rules.⁸⁷

only by the job is not discharged or suspended where he receives no pay after his special task is done. Clark v. Boston, 179 Mass. 409, 60 N. E. 793.

Grounds.—Refusal to submit to an examination as to competency on the change of system of heating from hot water to steam has been held ground for dismissing a veteran engineer appointed to take charge of the heating apparatus of a school. People v. Long Island City Bd. of Education, 84 Hun (N. Y.) 417, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 377.

83. See cases cited infra, this note.

Where there is not enough work for all, veterans cannot be discharged if non-veterans who perform like services are retained. Stutzbach v. Coler, 168 N. Y. 416, 61 N. E. 697 [affirming 62 N. Y. App. Div. 219, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 901]; People v. Adams, 133 N. Y. 203, 30 N. E. 851 [reversing 53 Hun 141, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 128]; Pratt v. Phelan, 67 N. Y. App. Div. 349, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 823; People v. Board of Public Parks, 17 N. Y. Suppl. 589.

84. People v. Lindenthal, 79 N. Y. App. Div. 43, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 828 [reversed on other grounds in 173 N. Y. 524, 66 N. E. 407]; People v. Sturgis, 38 Misc. (N. Y.) 433, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 1008; People v. Brookfield, 13 Misc. (N. Y.) 566, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 674. Compare People v. Waring, 7 N. Y. App. Div. 204, 40 N. Y. Suppl. 275.

A member of an incorporated fire company, which is not officially connected with a municipality, but the object of which is to render public service in the extinguishment of fires, is within Civil Service Law (Laws (1899), p. 809, c. 370, as amended by Laws (1902), p. 805, c. 270, § 21), providing that no person holding a municipal position or employment who shall have served the term required by law in the volunteer fire department of a city, town, or village shall be removed, except for cause, after a hearing. People v. Folks, 89 N. Y. App. Div. 171, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 1100.

A person claiming such protection must allege either that he has served the time required by law in the volunteer department, or was a member at its disbandment. People v. Coler, (N. Y. 1899) 54 N. E. 1094 [affirming 40 N. Y. App. Div. 65, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 636].

Salary as distinguished from wages.—A day laborer receiving a certain sum per day, although a veteran volunteer fireman, is not a person receiving a "salary" who cannot be discharged except for cause and after a hearing. Wagner v. Collis, 7 N. Y. App. Div. 203, 40 N. Y. Suppl. 171; People v. Brookfield, 13 Misc. (N. Y.) 566, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 674.

Who is "person holding a position by appointment or employment."—Where a veteran fireman contracted to furnish a horse and wagon to the city and drive the same for a specified sum per day, his engagement was for services other than personal employment, and hence the contract was subject to termination by the department, in accordance with its terms, at any time. People v. Redfield, 86 N. Y. App. Div. 367, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 873.

85. People v. Lantry, 32 Misc. (N. Y.) 80, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 185.

86. People v. New York Fire Com'rs, 72 N. Y. 445; People v. New York Fire Com'rs, 12 Hun (N. Y.) 500.

Illustrations.—People v. Monroe, 106 N. Y. App. Div. 607, 94 N. Y. Suppl. 366. The action of the commissioner of city works discharging a meter inspector will not be disturbed on certiorari, where it appears that he, without any apparent reason, reduced the reading of a water meter. People v. White, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 163 [affirmed in 151 N. Y. 637, 45 N. E. 1133]. A chief clerk in the bureau of inspection of buildings in New York city is properly removed for telling an applicant for permission to make alterations that he may go on without the approval of the inspector, the inspector being absent; and the fact that the inspector authorized such a course does not protect the clerk. People v. New York Fire Com'rs, 49 N. Y. Super. Ct. 369.

Absence from duty for three days without permission may be cause for removal of an employee by the civil service commission after a trial upon written charges, even though there is a rule of the commission providing that an employee in the classified service who absents himself from duty without permission for a period of ten days shall be considered as discharged. Kammann v. Chicago, 222 Ill. 63, 78 N. E. 16.

87. Kammann v. Chicago, 222 Ill. 63, 78 N. E. 16, holding that Hurd Rev. St. (1905) c. 24, § 457, providing that employees in the classified civil service may be remanded for cause if found guilty on an investigation of written charges before the civil service commission to conduct the examination, does not require the civil service commissioner to specify in written rules every case which shall be deemed cause for removal.

(III) *WHAT CONSTITUTES DISCHARGE.*⁸⁸ No particular form of words is necessary to effect the discharge of a municipal agent or servant employed for no specified time,⁸⁹ and notice of a suspension without pay is ordinarily sufficient to discharge an employee.⁹⁰

(IV) PROCEDURE—(A) Conditions Precedent. Usually, under the civil service rules, the employee sought to be discharged is entitled to notice and a hearing or at least an opportunity for explanation.⁹¹ Under some statutory and charter provisions, certain employees cannot be removed until given an opportunity of making an explanation and the filing in the department of the grounds of removal.⁹² Under other provisions, the removal must be preceded by notice

88. See also infra, VII, C, 6, d.

89. McNamara v. New York, 152 N. Y. 228, 46 N. E. 507 [affirming 32 N. Y. Suppl. 1145]. See also Wilmington v. Bryan, 141 N. C. 666, 54 S. E. 543.

Demand for resignation.—A letter demanding immediate resignation sent to an employee where he thereafter fails to report for duty and has repeatedly asked to be reinstated shows a discharge. Ryan v. New York, 154 N. Y. 328, 48 N. E. 512 [affirming 7 N. Y. App. Div. 336, 40 N. Y. Suppl. 227]. So a resolution of a board requesting the resignation and declaring that if the employee did not resign by a certain time he was discharged is, without further action, effective as a discharge on the failure of such employee to resign. People v. Murray, 2 N. Y. App. Div. 359, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 848.

Dispensing with services because of want of work.—Where an officer having the power to discharge told an assistant that there was no further work for him to do, and that his services were dispensed with, it amounted to a discharge of the assistant. Connor v. New York, 19 N. Y. Suppl. 85 [affirmed in 137 N. Y. 545, 33 N. E. 336].

90. McNamara v. New York, 152 N. Y. 228, 46 N. E. 507 [affirming 32 N. Y. Suppl. 1145]; Jackson v. New York, 87 Hun (N. Y.) 296, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 346; Beach v. New York, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 793. Compare Gregory v. New York, 113 N. Y. 416, 21 N. E. 119, 3 L. R. A. 854.

91. See cases cited infra, this note.

In Illinois, in the absence of notice to a municipal employee of charges against him, a trial board and civil service commission is without authority to hear and determine them. Chicago v. Gillen, 222 Ill. 112, 78 N. E. 13.

Particular provisions.—Where the charter provides that there shall be no removal except for cause "duly shown," there can be no removal without a hearing given. Thompson v. Troup, 74 Conn. 121, 49 Atl. 907. But a provision for removal by a board "for such cause as they may deem sufficient and shall assign in their order for removal" does not require that a subordinate shall be given a hearing before the board, on charges preferred against him, before he can be removed. O'Dowd v. Boston, 149 Mass. 443, 21 N. E. 949.

92. People v. Scannell, 62 N. Y. App. Div. 249, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 983; People v. Scully, 56 N. Y. App. Div. 302, 67 N. Y. Suppl. 839;

People v. Constable, 27 N. Y. App. Div. 74, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 121; People v. Andrews, 9 Misc. (N. Y.) 569, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 398 [affirmed in 31 N. Y. Suppl. 1131]; People v. Myers, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 815.

Retroactive effect.—People v. Scannell, 30 Misc. (N. Y.) 328, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 474 [affirmed in 56 N. Y. App. Div. 624, 67 N. Y. Suppl. 1142].

"Suspended" as distinguished from "removed."—An employee "suspended" is not entitled to notice and opportunity to explain, under charter provisions, that employees shall not be "removed" without such notice and opportunity for explanation. People v. Wells, 78 N. Y. App. Div. 373, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 728.

Reduction of salary.—Greater New York Charter, § 1543, applies only to removal by heads of departments and has no application to a reduction of salary of an employee by a deputy commissioner with the approval of the head of the department as expressly authorized by the charter. People v. Dalton, 85 N. Y. App. Div. 110, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 321.

Persons "head of bureau or regular clerk."—The Greater New York Charter, § 1543, provides that no "clerk or head of a bureau" shall be removed without opportunity for explanation, and that a statement showing the reason for removal shall be filed in the department. The following have been held such employees: Chief clerk of coroner. People v. Scholers, 42 Misc. (N. Y.) 355, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 713 [reversed on other grounds in 94 N. Y. App. Div. 282, 87 N. Y. Suppl. 1122]. Clerk of board of aldermen. People v. Scully, 56 N. Y. App. Div. 302, 67 N. Y. Suppl. 839. Employee in one of the departments to keep the records or accounts. People v. New York Fire Com'rs, 73 N. Y. 437. Assistant librarian in a city public library. Craigie v. New York, 114 N. Y. App. Div. 880, 100 N. Y. Suppl. 197. The following have been held not such employees: Cashier of commissioner of public works. Matter of Wiegand, 39 Misc. (N. Y.) 454, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 173. Fire commissioners. People v. New York Fire Com'rs, 86 N. Y. 149. Hose repairer in the fire department. People v. Scannell, 62 N. Y. App. Div. 249, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 983. Inspector of water-supply to shipping in the department of public works. People v. Dalton, 34 N. Y. App. Div. 302, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 216 [affirmed in 159 N. Y. 235, 53 N. E. 1113]. Property clerk. People v. McAdoo, 101 N. Y. App. Div. 183, 91 N. Y. Suppl. 553 [affirmed in 181 N. Y. 547, 74 N. E. 1123]. Rounds-and a hearing.⁹³ Provisions as to a hearing or an opportunity to explain have been held not to apply where the removal is from motives of economy or because of necessity to cut down expenses so as not to exceed the appropriation for the department,⁹⁴ nor where the position is abolished in good faith,⁹⁵ nor where the employee is discharged because his services are no longer needed.⁹⁶ The giving of notice of removal on the abolition of a position instead of notice of suspension does not constitute an unlawful removal.⁹⁷ A charge must, it would seem, be so specific as to clearly inform the employee as to what he is required to answer and not consist of a mere conclusion.⁹⁸

(B) Hearing. Where it is provided that certain employees shall not be removed until "an opportunity for explanation" has been given, it is held that the employee is not entitled to a trial,⁹⁹ nor is it necessary that evidence, either man in employment of a department of docks. People v. Cram, 15 Misc. (N. Y.) 12, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 1117. Sanitary inspector of board of health. People v. New York Health Dept., 24 N. Y. Wkly. Dig. 197. Secretary of dock department. People v. Koch, 2 N. Y. St. 110. Superintendent of telegraph of fire department. People v. New York Fire Com'rs, 23 Hun (N. Y.) 317 [affirmed in 86 N. Y. 149]. The term "regular clerk" is applicable to persons employed in one of the city departments to keep the records or accounts and does not apply to subordinate ministerial officers, although in the performance of their duty or as an incident thereto they may render some service which might have been performed by a clerk. People v. New York Fire Com'rs, 73 N. Y. 437; People v. New York Fire Com'rs, 23 Hun (N. Y.) 317 [affirmed in 86 N. Y. 149]. Whether one is a "regular clerk" must be determined by the nature of his duties; a regular clerk being one employed in the duty of keeping records or accounts, or in doing writing relating to the ordinary conduct or business details of the department. People v. McAduo, 101 N. Y. App. Div. 183, 91 N. Y. Suppl. 553 [affirmed in 181 N. Y. 547, 74 N. E. 1123]. The fact that one employed as a clerk is designated as a "contract clerk" does not show that he is not a regular clerk. People v. Sturgis, 38 Misc. (N. Y.) 433, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 1008. A mere employee not a regular clerk or the head of a bureau may be removed without being offered such opportunity to explain. People v. Kane, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 982.

Who are persons in the classified service within rule 42 of the civil service commission of New York city see People v. Scully, 56 N. Y. App. Div. 302, 67 N. Y. Suppl. 839.

Commissioner of jurors not head of department see People v. Plimley, 1 N. Y. App. Div. 458, 37 N. Y. Suppl. 152.

The notice need not be a written one.—People v. Campbell, 50 N. Y. Super. Ct. 82.

93. People v. Hayden, 133 N. Y. 198, 30 N. E. 970 [reversing 10 N. Y. Suppl. 794].

Veterans.—In New York city the procedure in case of veterans is different from the procedure in case of the removal of the "head of a bureau or regular clerk," in that in the former case the statute requires a hearing upon due notice upon stated charges. People

v. Hynes, 101 N. Y. App. Div. 453, 91 N. Y. Suppl. 1032.

94. O'Neill v. Fitzsimmons, 114 Ill. App. 168 [affirmed in 214 Ill. 494, 73 N. E. 797]; Lethbridge v. New York, 133 N. Y. 232, 30 N. E. 975 [reversing 59 N. Y. Super. Ct. 486, 15 N. Y. Suppl. 562]; Emmitt v. New York, 128 N. Y. 117, 28 N. E. 19; People v. New York Health Dept., 86 N. Y. App. Div. 521, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 800 [affirmed in 176 N. Y. 602, 68 N. E. 1123]; Phillips v. New York, 10 Daly (N. Y.) 278 [affirmed in 88 N. Y. 245, 14 N. Y. Wkly. Dig. 161]; Sheehan v. New York, 21 Misc. (N. Y.) 600, 48 N. Y. Suppl. 662; People v. Public Parks Dept., 60 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 130.

Bad faith is not to be inferred from the fact that the department did not exhaust its entire salary appropriation for the year, but carried over a surplus. People v. New York Health Dept., 86 N. Y. App. Div. 521, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 800 [affirmed in 176 N. Y. 602, 68 N. E. 1123]. The mere fact that during the year various persons were appointed to other places in the department, or that there were promotions, and some few increases of salary in other positions, did not indicate bad faith. People v. New York Health Dept., supra.

95. Phillips v. New York, 88 N. Y. 245; People v. Shea, 51 N. Y. App. Div. 227, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 973 [affirmed in 164 N. Y. 573, 58 N. E. 1091].

96. Langdon v. New York, 92 N. Y. 427 [affirming 27 Hun 288, 63 How. Pr. 134].

Person employed only during summer time.—Laws (1883), c. 354, § 13, as amended by Laws (1898), c. 186, § 3, giving municipal employees in competitive classes the right to be heard before removal, does not apply to an attendant of a recreation pier, chosen by competitive examination, whose employment lasts only during a certain season of the year. Vincent v. Cram, 27 Misc. (N. Y.) 158, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 771.

97. People v. Monroe, 99 N. Y. App. Div. 290, 90 N. Y. Suppl. 907.

98. People v. Starks, 33 Hun (N. Y.) 384.

Charge of "incompetency."—A regular clerk was notified that the board deemed him "incompetent for the proper and creditable performance" of his duties. It was held that the notice did not assign a cause for removal. People v. Starks, 33 Hun (N. Y.) 384.

99. People v. MacLean, 58 Hun (N. Y.)

parol or written, be produced to sustain the charges made;¹ but, in making the explanation, the employee has a right to be represented by counsel,² and a reasonable opportunity to explain is not given where the delinquent is called upon for his explanation at the instant of being informed of the charge.³ On the other hand, where the statute or charter requires specific charges to be presented and a hearing thereon, a trial is necessary, and the burden of proof is upon the party making the charges.⁴ Where the testimony is not required to be under oath, the fact that witnesses against the employee were not sworn is not prejudicial where he himself testified without being sworn and his evidence was considered.⁵ An employee removed after being accorded an opportunity to explain is not prejudiced by the fact that he was subsequently given a trial and hearing to which he was not entitled.⁶

(c) *Review.*⁷ Certiorari lies to review the removal of an employee, pursuant to civil service rules, upon written charges.⁸ The exercise of discretion conferred upon an officer or board in removing an employee is not ordinarily reviewable by the courts;⁹ and it follows that the sufficiency of the explanation made by the employee as a defense to his removal cannot be reviewed.¹⁰ In some jurisdictions, where the removal is sustained by the civil service commission, their ruling is not reviewable by the courts.¹¹ In any event, the court will not consider objections not asserted before the officer or board.¹² On certiorari proceedings, where the record is incomplete, an order may be made directing certain papers to be added to the return.¹³

(v) REINSTATEMENT. The right of a municipal employee to reinstatement under the civil service rules may be waived by conduct,¹⁴ or by laches.¹⁵ The 152, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 559; People v. Campbell, 50 N. Y. Super. Ct. 82; People v. Grant, 13 N. Y. Suppl. 676 [affirmed in 128 N. Y. 620, 28 N. E. 254]. See also People v. Brady, 58 N. Y. App. Div. 219, 68 N. Y. Suppl. 796, holding that where the employee's explanation was that his absence was due to sickness in the family it was not improper for the commissioner to refuse to hear evidence as to the truth of facts contained in such explanation.

1. People v. Thompson, 26 Hun (N. Y.) 28 [affirmed in 94 N. Y. 451].

2. Matter of Emmet, 65 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 266.

3. People v. MacLean, 58 Hun (N. Y.) 152, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 559.

4. People v. Dooling, 60 N. Y. App. Div. 321, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 26.

The police commissioner of a village is the only person entitled to hear charges preferred against a janitor of the police station, whether he is prejudiced against such janitor or not. People v. Magee, 55 N. Y. App. Div. 195, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 849.

Evidence held admissible on behalf of an employee see People v. Dooling, 60 N. Y. App. Div. 321, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 26. On hearing of charges against a janitor for neglect of duty, it was error to refuse to allow him to introduce evidence to show that the person preferring the charges was not actuated by a proper motive, but was in fact conducting the same by reason of pique or ill feeling. People v. Dooling, supra. But on the hearing, by a police commissioner, of charges preferred against a veteran employed as janitor of the police station, evidence to show prejudice on the part of such commissioner against such veteran is inadmissible. People v. Magee, 55 N. Y. App. Div. 195, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 849.

Sufficiency of evidence see People v. Magee, 55 N. Y. App. Div. 195, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 849.

5. People v. Brookfield, 6 N. Y. App. Div. 445, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 677 [affirmed in 151 N. Y. 674, 46 N. E. 1150].

6. People v. Hynes, 101 N. Y. App. Div. 453, 91 N. Y. Suppl. 1032.

7. Mandamus as remedy see MANDAMUS, 26 Cyc. 260.

8. Kammann v. Chicago, 222 Ill. 63, 78 N. E. 16; People v. Myers, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 815. And see CERTIORARI, 6 Cyc. 750 et seq.

9. People v. New York Fire Com'rs, 100 N. Y. 82, 2 N. E. 613.

10. People v. Brady, 166 N. Y. 44, 59 N. E. 701 [reversing on other grounds 53 N. Y. App. Div. 279, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 844]; People v. Dalton, 52 N. Y. App. Div. 627, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 426; People v. Thompson, 26 Hun (N. Y.) 28 [affirmed in 94 N. Y. 451].

11. Price v. Seattle, 39 Wash. 376, 81 Pac. 847.

12. People v. Cram, 15 Misc. (N. Y.) 12, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 1117, holding that rights of a city employee under the veteran laws to freedom from discharge cannot be considered on review of a board's action in discharging him, not having been asserted before it.

13. People v. Myers, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 555.

14. Matter of Hayes, 56 N. Y. App. Div. 20, 67 N. Y. Suppl. 340 [affirmed in 166 N. Y. 603, 59 N. E. 1123].

15. People v. Guilfoyle, 61 N. Y. App. Div. 187, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 442; Murphy v. Keller, 61 N. Y. App. Div. 145, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 405; Matter of Gaffney, 84 Hun (N. Y.) 503, 32 procedure to procure reinstatement is generally by mandamus proceedings, which are elsewhere treated.¹⁶

c. Action For Damages. Where an employee is unlawfully discharged, he may sue the municipality for the damages resulting therefrom.¹⁷

6. COMPENSATION¹⁸—a. In General. Unlike a municipal officer, an employee is not entitled to receive his salary as an incident of his office, and if he performs no services, he is entitled to no compensation.¹⁹ The right to compensation may depend upon statute or ordinance,²⁰ or contract,²¹ and the contract may be implied as well as express.²² In some fee offices, the officer himself is the only one liable to an employee therein.²³ If the employment is based upon a contract, the right to recover depends upon the appointment having been made by someone duly authorized,²⁴ and in the mode required by law.²⁵ Where the position is one filled

N. Y. Suppl. 873. See also MANDAMUS, 26 Cyc. 264, 393.

16. See MANDAMUS, 26 Cyc. 260.

17. Ransom v. Boston, 192 Mass. 299, 78 N. E. 481; Purcell v. Long Island City, 91 Hun (N. Y.) 271, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 290. See also Wiggin v. Manchester, 72 N. H. 576, 58 Atl. 522.

Measure of damages.—The measure of damages is the amount which the employee would have earned, had he been employed while there was work to be done, less what he earned, or in the exercise of proper diligence might have earned elsewhere. Ransom v. Boston, 192 Mass. 299, 78 N. E. 481.

18. Garnishment of salary of employees see GARNISHMENT, 20 Cyc. 1030.

19. Quintard v. New York, 51 N. Y. App. Div. 233, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 904.

20. Failing v. Syracuse, 4 Misc. (N. Y.) 50, 24 N. Y. Suppl. 705; In re Public Parks Dept., 11 N. Y. Suppl. 176. See also Bachelder v. Epping, 28 N. H. 354; Muller v. New York, 63 N. Y. 353.

21. Chicago v. Roth, 26 Ill. 456.

Defenses.—It is no defense to a suit against the city by a laborer for his wages that the city officer by whom the laborer was hired disobeyed the lawful orders of the city government by which he was directed to suspend the work. Chicago v. Roth, 26 Ill. 456.

Preventing performance of services.—An attorney employed to perform professional services for a town by the proper town authorities is entitled to recover against the town for such services which he was prevented from performing by the town officers when he was ready and willing to carry out his contract. Mt. Vernon v. Patton, 94 Ill. 65. But the fact that one appointed and employed by resolution of a city "as driver of the street wagon, and to take care of the horses" was able and willing to perform the services did not put on the city the duty of keeping him employed, nor make it liable for failing to do so. White v. Alameda, 124 Cal. 95, 56 Pac. 795.

22. Illinois.—New Athens v. Thomas, 82 Ill. 259.

Indiana.—Wilt v. Redkey, 29 Ind. App. 199, 64 N. E. 228.

Kansas.—Ellsworth v. Rossiter, 46 Kan. 237, 26 Pac. 674.

New Hampshire.—Wiggin v. Manchester, 72 N. H. 576, 58 Atl. 522; Skinner v. Manchester, 72 N. H. 299, 56 Atl. 313.

Ohio.—Cincinnati v. Green, 2 Cinc. Super. Ct. 278.

Oregon.—Ward v. Forest Grove, 20 Oreg. 355, 25 Pac. 1020.

Vermont.—Tufts v. Chester, 62 Vt. 353, 19 Atl. 988.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 599.

Compare Covington v. Elliott, 53 S. W. 526, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 895.

Services outside of official duties.—When a town agent employs an attorney in a suit in favor of or against the town, the town is legally holden to pay the attorney's services, without an express vote to that effect; and the rule is the same if the town agent, being himself an attorney, renders professional services for the town. Langdon v. Castleton, 30 Vt. 285.

But where the statute provides that no liability can be created against a municipality unless the proposition to do so is adopted in a certain manner, the failure to observe such procedure prevents the municipality from being liable on an implied contract for services rendered. Bosard v. Grand Forks, 13 N. D. 587, 102 N. W. 164.

Merely failure to prevent performance of services.—But a village is not liable to a person who voluntarily renders services because the board of trustees failed to prevent him from rendering such services. Lydecker v. Nyack, 6 N. Y. App. Div. 90, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 509.

23. People v. Stont, 15 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 159.

24. State v. Paterson, 39 N. J. L. 489; McBride v. New York, 56 N. Y. App. Div. 520, 67 N. Y. Suppl. 550; Mason v. New York, 28 Hun (N. Y.) 115; Stenson v. New York, 40 Misc. (N. Y.) 533, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 946. See also Emmert v. De Long, 12 Kan. 67.

Ratification and estoppel.—Compensation for labor performed under a contract adopted by a minority of a town committee may be recovered from the town, if the contract was subsequently ratified by a majority of the committee. Hanson v. Dexter, 36 Me. 516. See also supra, VII, C, 2, a.

25. O'Connor v. New York, 11 Hun (N. Y.)

by appointment, the agent or employee must have been legally appointed,²⁶ and his salary fixed by lawful authority.²⁷ Where persons are appointed by the state, pursuant to statute, to render municipal services, the municipality is not liable.²⁸ So the municipality is not liable where plaintiff was employed by commissioners to whom a certain appropriation is made for a specified piece of work.²⁹ Where the purpose for which services are rendered is an illegal one, no action will lie against the municipality either on an express or an implied promise;³⁰ but where services are rendered in connection with a merely invalid municipal contract but afterward the contract is legally ratified the city is liable for such services.³¹ So where work is done for the benefit of a municipality it is no defense to a claim for such services that they were rendered outside the city limits.³² An ordinance or provision in the contract of employment that wages shall be non-assignable is valid.³³

b. Rate or Amount — (1) IN GENERAL. If the service is rendered under contract, the rate or amount is determined by its provisions;³⁴ and where the amount is not fixed by the contract or statute, the employee is entitled to recover what the services are reasonably worth.³⁵ The wages or salary may be fixed by charter or statute,³⁶ and sometimes it is provided by statute that the salaries of certain employees shall be fixed by a specified officer or board.³⁷ The maximum sum for attorney or clerk hire in the department may be fixed by charter or statute, in which case nothing in excess thereof is recoverable.³⁸ An employee may, by contract, waive his right to the statutory rate;³⁹ and an appointee under an ordinance fixing the rate cannot recover at a higher statutory rate.⁴⁰ A change in the appointing power works no change in the amount payable.⁴¹ In some states statutes provide that laborers working for a municipality or for a con-

176; Graham v. New York, 33 Misc. (N. Y.) 56, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 754.

26. Skinner v. Manchester, 72 N. H. 299, 56 Atl. 313; Munch v. New York, 47 Misc. (N. Y.) 123, 93 N. Y. Suppl. 509.

27. Munch v. New York, 47 Misc. (N. Y.) 123, 93 N. Y. Suppl. 509.

28. Garnier v. St. Louis, 37 Mo. 554.

29. Miller v. New York, 76 N. Y. 151.

30. Drake v. Stoughton, 6 Cush. (Mass.) 393.

31. Dehm v. Havana, 23 Ill. App. 520.

32. Quigg v. Evans, 121 Cal. 546, 53 Pac. 1093.

33. State v. Kent, 98 Mo. App. 281, 71 S. W. 1066.

34. Mathewson v. Tripp, 14 R. I. 587.

A contract for excessive fees may be void for unreasonableness. Waterbury v. Laredo, 68 Tex. 565, 5 S. W. 81.

Where the amount in excess of a certain sum per annum is subject to the approval of the common council, one appointed at a salary in excess of such sum may recover notwithstanding a failure on the part of the council to act in the matter, as it is necessary for the council to disapprove the action of the board, and mere failure to approve is not sufficient. Mathewson v. Tripp, 14 R. I. 587.

35. Ellsworth v. Rossiter, 46 Kan. 237, 26 Pac. 674; Bleecker v. New York, 7 Daly (N. Y.) 439; In re Public Parks Dept., 11 N. Y. Suppl. 179 (surveyor); Cincinnati v. Green, 2 Cinc. Super. Ct. (Ohio) 278.

Civil engineer.—The fact that a civil engineer, employed by a city for several years, has charged five dollars per day for his services on common surveying, does not establish an implied contract for compensation at the same rate for preparing drawings and specifications for a cedar block pavement—a work requiring a higher degree of care and skill than the work formerly performed by him. Brauns v. Green Bay, 78 Wis. 81, 46 N. W. 889.

The amount paid in previous years to one occupying the same position is relevant (Walsh v. Albany, 32 N. Y. App. Div. 128, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 936), but not conclusive in case of new and more valuable service (Brauns v. Green Bay, 78 Wis. 81, 46 N. W. 889).

36. Martin v. New York, 34 Misc. (N. Y.) 582, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 379 [affirmed in 68 N. Y. App. Div. 78, 74 N. Y. Suppl. 92], doorman.

37. Powell v. New York, 65 N. Y. App. Div. 421, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 990; Norris v. Brooklyn, 19 Hun (N. Y.) 296; O'Connor v. New York, 11 Hun (N. Y.) 176; McCullough v. New York, 51 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 486.

Civil service rules.—Powell v. New York, 65 N. Y. App. Div. 421, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 990.

38. Hyde v. Brooklyn, 21 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 339. See also Kip v. Buffalo, 7 N. Y. Suppl. 685 [affirmed in 123 N. Y. 152, 25 N. E. 165].

39. Bell v. Sullivan, 158 Ind. 199, 63 N. E. 209.

40. Daniels v. Des Moines, 108 Iowa 484, 79 N. W. 269.

41. Devoy v. New York, 39 Barb. (N. Y.) 169 [affirmed in 36 N. Y. 446].

tractor holding the contract shall receive not less than "the prevailing rate" of wages,⁴² and such statutes are held constitutional,⁴³ but not applicable to a person holding a position by appointment and receiving a fixed salary.⁴⁴

(ii) INCREASE OR DIMINUTION. Unless such change is prohibited by the constitution, statutes, or charter provisions,⁴⁵ the power vested in a municipal board or officer to fix the compensation of a municipal agent or employee generally includes the power to increase,⁴⁶ or reduce,⁴⁷ the salary or wages of such agents or employees. Where the common council has power to reduce salaries its motives

42. McAvoy v. New York, 52 N. Y. App. Div. 485, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 274 [affirmed in 166 N. Y. 588, 59 N. E. 1125]; People v. Waring, 52 N. Y. App. Div. 36, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 865 (holding that such a statute is not violated by a city's water commissioners employing laborers at a certain rate per hour which for eight hours does not equal the sum paid laborers by the day in such locality, where such rate per hour is the prevailing wage rate for common laborers in such city); McCunney v. New York, 40 N. Y. App. Div. 482, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 138 (holding that a person hired as a painter and doing work as a driver only cannot demand a painter's wages therefor); Walsh v. Albany, 32 N. Y. App. Div. 128, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 936; McMahon v. New York, 22 N. Y. App. Div. 113, 47 N. Y. Suppl. 1018. And see the statutes of the several states.

Waiver.—Continuing without protest to accept the wages at the former rate for several years after the passage of the statute waives any claim to recover the increase for that period. Ryan v. New York, 177 N. Y. 271, 69 N. E. 599 [affirming 78 N. Y. App. Div. 134, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 599]. But where an employee of a city, entitled by statute to "prevailing wages," is employed for a smaller sum, the fact that for a time he signs weekly receipts for the agreed amounts, in ignorance of the fact that they purport to be receipts in full, and with no intention of waiving his statutory right, does not debar him from subsequently enforcing his claim. McMahon v. New York, 22 N. Y. App. Div. 113, 47 N. Y. Suppl. 1018.

Repeal of statute see Rock v. New York, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 825.

Vested rights.—Services rendered under the statute gives the employees a vested right to such wages down to the date of the repeal of the law, which may be recovered by an action brought after the repeal. McCann v. New York, 52 N. Y. App. Div. 358, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 308 [affirmed in 166 N. Y. 587, 59 N. E. 1125]. Contra, Bock v. New York, 31 Misc. (N. Y.) 55, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 777; Rock v. New York, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 825.

43. Ryan v. New York, 177 N. Y. 271, 69 N. E. 599 [affirming 78 N. Y. App. Div. 134, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 599].

44. Bock v. New York, 31 Misc. (N. Y.) 55, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 777; Rock v. New York, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 825.

45. Black v. Board of Education, 92 N. Y. Suppl. 118.

46. Devoy v. New York, 39 Barb. (N. Y.) 169 [affirmed in 36 N. Y. 449]; People v.

Corwin, 8 Misc. (N. Y.) 593, 29 N. Y. Suppl. 1077.

Limitations.—Where a charter authorizes heads of departments to fix the salary of clerks, and provides that the board of estimate shall fix a certain amount for each department for the ensuing year, the head of a department may raise the salary of a clerk at any time, so long as he keeps the expenses of his office within the amount allowed by the board of estimate. People v. Corwin, 8 Misc. (N. Y.) 593, 29 N. Y. Suppl. 1077.

47. Morris v. New York, 99 N. Y. 645, 1 N. E. 671; Riley v. New York, 96 N. Y. 331 [affirming 49 N. Y. Super. Ct. 537]; Gillespie v. New York, 6 Daly (N. Y.) 286; Black v. Board of Education, 92 N. Y. Suppl. 118. Compare Sullivan v. New York, 48 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 238.

What constitutes reduction to day wages.—A resolution of the common council reducing the salaries of certain clerks from two hundred and fifty dollars a month to four dollars a day does not reduce such salaries to day's wages, but leaves them on a salary measured by four dollars a day. People v. Sutton, 3 N. Y. App. Div. 440, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 492.

Authority.—A reduction in salary, to be valid as against the employee, must be the act of an officer or board duly authorized to reduce the salary. Hartmann v. New York, 44 Misc. (N. Y.) 272, 89 N. Y. Suppl. 912.

Discontinuance of full day's pay for half a day's work.—An ordinance of a city providing for the employment of workmen at per diem wages will not prevent the city or any of its departments from discontinuing the payment of a full day's wages for a half day's work. Wagoner v. Philadelphia, 215 Pa. St. 379, 64 Atl. 557.

Waiver of right to object.—See Grieb v. Syracuse, 94 N. Y. App. Div. 133, 87 N. Y. Suppl. 1083; Riley v. New York, 96 N. Y. 331 [affirming 49 N. Y. Super. Ct. 537]; Wagoner v. Philadelphia, 215 Pa. St. 379, 64 Atl. 557.

The veterans' law does not prevent a reduction of the salary of a veteran employed in the public service, when the reduction is reasonable, and does not amount to a removal or forcing of a resignation. Black v. Board of Education, 92 N. Y. Suppl. 118. See also People v. Coler, 38 N. Y. App. Div. 615, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 943.

Civil service rules.—The fact that plaintiff could not be removed without cause does not prevent a reasonable reduction or regulation in making the reduction cannot be inquired into.⁴⁸ The rate fixed by authority of the council cannot be changed by subordinate boards or officers,⁴⁹ unless a reduction is required to keep the expenses within the limits of the appropriation.⁵⁰

(iii) OVERTIME AND WORK OUTSIDE DUTIES. Except where there is a special agreement therefor with one authorized to make such agreement, or a statute fixing a maximum number of hours as constituting a day's labor and provision made for pay for overtime,⁵¹ no extra pay can be recovered for work outside of regular hours.⁵² So, subject to the same exceptions, a municipal employee cannot recover extra pay for services outside of his duties.⁵³

c. Effect of Absence. Where leave of absence is granted an employee on account of sickness, his right to salary does not cease until some action is taken by the proper authorities.⁵⁴ So where an employee is absent because of sickness but is carried on the pay rolls of the municipality, it will be deemed to have assented to his absence so that his wages for such time are recoverable.⁵⁵ So where the

of his salary. Black v. Board of Education, 92 N. Y. Suppl. 118. A reduction of the salary of an attendance officer employed by the school board of Greater New York from one thousand one hundred dollars to one thousand and fifty dollars per annum is not such a reduction that an opportunity for explanation must be given, or grounds therefor filed with the municipal civil service. Black v. Board of Education, supra.

48. People v. Sutton, 3 N. Y. App. Div. 440, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 492.

49. Hanauer v. Utica, 75 Hun (N. Y.) 524, 27 N. Y. Suppl. 663; Sullivan v. New York, 48 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 238.

50. Bannister v. New York, 40 Misc. (N. Y.) 408, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 244 [affirmed in 96 N. Y. App. Div. 625, 88 N. Y. Suppl. 1091]; Driscoll v. New York, 38 Misc. (N. Y.) 453, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 997 [affirmed in 78 N. Y. App. Div. 52, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 479].

51. O'Boyle v. Detroit, 131 Mich. 15, 90 N. W. 669; McCarthy v. New York, 96 N. Y. 1, 48 Am. Rep. 601; McNulty v. New York, 60 N. Y. App. Div. 250, 70 N. Y. Suppl. 133 [affirmed in 168 N. Y. 117, 61 N. E. 111]; McAvoy v. New York, 52 N. Y. App. Div. 485, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 274 [affirmed in 166 N. Y. 588, 59 N. E. 1125]; McGraw v. Gloversville, 32 N. Y. App. Div. 176, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 916; Vogt v. Milwaukee, 99 Wis. 258, 74 N. W. 789.

Where the statute provides that for certain classes of laborers eight hours shall constitute a day's work, but overwork for extra compensation by agreement is permitted, a laborer who entered into the employ of a municipal department at an agreed price per day, knowing that the custom of the department and the nature of the work required ten hours work each day, and who worked ten hours each day for two years, receiving his wages without claiming extra compensation, could not afterward claim extra compensation during that time. McCarthy v. New York, 96 N. Y. 1, 48 Am. Rep. 601.

Sunday work.—Tyrrell v. New York, 159 N. Y. 239, 53 N. E. 1111 [reversing 34 N. Y. App. Div. 334, 54 N. Y. Suppl. 372].

52. Grady v. New York, 182 N. Y. 18, 74 N. E. 488 [reversing 100 N. Y. App. Div. 515, 91 N. Y. Suppl. 1096]; Tyrrell v. New York, 159 N. Y. 239, 53 N. E. 1111; Morgan v. New York, 105 N. Y. App. Div. 425, 94 N. Y. Suppl. 175; People v. Corwin, 8 Misc. (N. Y.) 593, 29 N. Y. Suppl. 1077; Vogt v. Milwaukee, 99 Wis. 258, 74 N. W. 789. See also Beard v. Sedgwick County, 63 Kan. 348, 65 Pac. 638.

What constitutes pay for overtime.—Where the head of a department determines that certain copying clerks shall be paid by the folio instead of the salary theretofore received by them, and, by working out of office hours, they earn more than their salaries, such additional amount is an increase of salary, and not for extra service. People v. Corwin, 8 Misc. (N. Y.) 593, 29 N. Y. Suppl. 1077.

53. Bruus v. New York, 6 Daly (N. Y.) 156; Moffat v. Brooklyn, 1 N. Y. Suppl. 781. See also Perry v. Superior City, 26 Wis. 64. Compare Strassner v. New York, 6 N. Y. App. Div. 370, 39 N. Y. Suppl. 669, compensation of stenographer for board of coroners for transcript of testimony furnished district attorney.

Notary fees.—Municipal clerks holding a commission and rendering services as notaries public are not entitled to demand fees from the municipality for voluntary notarial services. Merzbach v. New York, 163 N. Y. 16, 57 N. E. 96; Morgan v. New York, 105 N. Y. App. Div. 425, 94 N. Y. Suppl. 175; Hughes v. New York, 84 N. Y. App. Div. 347, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 905 [affirmed in 176 N. Y. 585, 68 N. E. 1118]; Benjamin v. New York, 77 N. Y. App. Div. 62, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 1067; Spencer v. New York, 42 Misc. (N. Y.) 284, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 573.

54. O'Leary v. New York Bd. of Education, 93 N. Y. 1, 45 Am. Rep. 156 [reversing 9 Daly 161]; Devlin v. New York, 41 Hun (N. Y.) 281, holding that mere private memorandum purporting to cut off an employee's pay, and which memorandum was not communicated to the employee, did not preclude his right to recover.

55. O'Hara v. New York, 33 Misc. (N. Y.) 53, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 909. But see Conlin v. New York Bd. of Education, 43 Misc. (N. Y.) 125, 88 N. Y. Suppl. 210.

attendance of an employee at a certain place each day is not necessary to the faithful discharge of his duties, his failure to report every day at such office is no defense to an action for his salary.⁵⁶ But where leave of absence without pay is granted, although on the application of the employee induced by a representation that refusal to apply for leave might result in his discharge, pay for the period of absence is not recoverable.⁵⁷

d. Discharge or Suspension. Where an employee is properly discharged his right to wages ceases;⁵⁸ and it is immaterial that the notice served on him is that he is "suspended,"⁵⁹ or "relieved from duty."⁶⁰ Where an employee is improperly discharged and thereafter obtains reinstatement by order of court, he may recover his wages while illegally removed;⁶¹ but no recovery can be had where during such time a person appointed in his place performed the work and was paid therefor by the municipality.⁶² So an employee unlawfully dismissed and prevented from rendering any service, who has made no complaint nor attempted to secure reinstatement, but has apparently acquiesced in the dismissal, cannot recover of the municipality compensation during the period in which he performed no service.⁶³ Failure to actually render services, where the employee is ready and willing to do so, during a time when the employment has not been terminated but no work is furnished, is no defense to an action for wages;⁶⁴ but where an employee has no right to continuous employment because of lack of funds, and is laid off temporarily or put on short time to keep the expenses within the appropriation or because there is no work for him to do, he cannot recover for such 56. Whitney v. New York, 39 N. Y. Super. Ct. 106.

57. Sheehan v. New York, 21 Misc. (N. Y.) 600, 48 N. Y. Suppl. 662.

58. Chicago v. Campbell, 118 Ill. App. 129; Ulrich v. New York, 33 Misc. (N. Y.) 508, 67 N. Y. Suppl. 716; Sheehan v. New York, 21 Misc. (N. Y.) 600, 48 N. Y. Suppl. 662. See also Barrett v. New Orleans, 32 La. Ann. 101; Driscoll v. New York, 38 Misc. (N. Y.) 453, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 997 [affirmed in 78 N. Y. App. Div. 52, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 479].

59. McNamara v. New York, 152 N. Y. 223, 46 N. E. 507 [affirming 32 N. Y. Suppl. 1145]; Lethbridge v. New York, 133 N. Y. 232, 30 N. E. 975; Francisco v. New York, 24 N. Y. App. Div. 22, 48 N. Y. Suppl. 911; Meyers v. New York, 69 Hun (N. Y.) 291, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 484; Donnell v. New York, 68 Hun (N. Y.) 55, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 661; Beach v. New York, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 793. See also Sheehan v. New York, 21 Misc. (N. Y.) 600, 48 N. Y. Suppl. 662. But see Ermitt v. New York, 128 N. Y. 117, 28 N. E. 19; Gregory v. New York, 113 N. Y. 416, 21 N. E. 119, 3 L. R. A. 854; Kelly v. New York, 70 Hun (N. Y.) 208, 24 N. Y. Suppl. 1; Fox v. New York, 11 Misc. (N. Y.) 304, 32 N. Y. Suppl. 257 [affirmed in 152 N. Y. 637, 46 N. E. 1147], holding that the question whether the term "suspend" is equivalent to "discharge" was one for the jury.

60. Cook v. New York, 9 Misc. (N. Y.) 338, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 404 [affirmed in 150 N. Y. 578, 44 N. E. 1123].

61. McEvoy v. New York, 56 N. Y. App. Div. 222, 67 N. Y. Suppl. 593; O'Hara v. New York, 46 N. Y. App. Div. 518, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 146 [affirmed in 167 N. Y. 567, 60

N. E. 1117]; Holt v. New York, 35 Misc. (N. Y.) 642, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 201 (holding that where a city bath attendant was illegally discharged in July, he could only recover for services which he was willing to perform until the first of October, the close of the bathing season); People v. Dalton, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 198; Sullivan v. New York, 15 N. Y. Suppl. 168 [following Higgins v. New York, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 554]. See also People v. Cram, 28 Misc. (N. Y.) 321, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 922.

But costs and counsel fees in the mandamus proceedings are not recoverable. O'Hara v. New York, 28 Misc. (N. Y.) 258, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 36 [affirmed in 46 N. Y. App. Div. 518, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 146].

62. Higgins v. New York, 131 N. Y. 123, 30 N. E. 44; Meyers v. New York, 69 Hun (N. Y.) 291, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 484.

But where the removal is declared void and set aside by the appellate division, and the municipality has knowledge thereof, the employee may recover his wages from such notice until reinstated, although the municipality appealed to the court of appeals, which affirmed the decision, and in the meantime paid the wages to another person employed in his place. Jones v. Buffalo, 178 N. Y. 45, 70 N. E. 99 [affirming 79 N. Y. App. Div. 328, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 754].

63. Byrnes v. St. Paul, 73 Minn. 205, 80 N. W. 959, 79 Am. St. Rep. 384; Douglas v. Brooklyn Bd. of Education, 21 N. Y. App. Div. 209, 47 N. Y. Suppl. 435; Sullivan v. New York, 33 Misc. (N. Y.) 314, 67 N. Y. Suppl. 599.

64. Graham v. New York, 167 N. Y. 85, 60 N. E. 331 [reversing 55 N. Y. App. Div. 627, 67 N. Y. Suppl. 1133]. But compare White v. Alameda, 124 Cal. 95, 56 Pac. 795.

time, especially where he consented to the laying off.⁶⁵ An employee engaged by a commission for no fixed time is not entitled, on the revival of the commission, to pay during the period when there were no commissioners in office and consequently no duties to be performed.⁶⁶

e. Time of Payment. Statutes in some jurisdictions require weekly payments of wages.⁶⁷

f. Actions to Recover.⁶⁸ Actions to recover wages or compensation for services are largely governed by the general rules relating to actions by employees and agents in general.⁶⁹ An appropriation of funds by the common council to pay the expenses of the department to which the salary or wages is chargeable has been held not a condition precedent.⁷⁰ However, a particular city officer is, in no event, liable to pay a sum for services where he has no funds in his hands applicable to such purpose and not otherwise appropriated.⁷¹ In some jurisdictions, the council need not first pass an ordinance for the payment of employees before the city auditor can be required to issue a warrant for their payment.⁷² Under other statutes, an employee cannot recover his salary if the statutory certificate that the money necessary was in the municipal treasury was not issued by the clerk before making the contract.⁷³

VIII. PROPERTY.

A. In General—1. CAPACITY TO ACQUIRE AND HOLD. Among the common-law powers of municipal corporations are the powers to grant and receive, and to purchase and hold property, real and personal, for themselves and successors.⁷⁴

65. Bannister v. New York, 40 Misc. (N. Y.) 408, 82 N. Y. Suppl. 244 [affirmed in 96 N. Y. App. Div. 625, 88 N. Y. Suppl. 1091]; Driscoll v. New York, 38 Misc. (N. Y.) 453, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 997 [affirmed in 78 N. Y. App. Div. 52, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 479].

66. Matter of Young, 44 Misc. (N. Y.) 521, 90 N. Y. Suppl. 74.

67. See the statutes of the several states.

Construction of statutes.—A person receiving an annual salary, even if an "employee" of the city, is not an employee earning "wages" within a statute providing that every municipal corporation in the state shall pay weekly each and every employee the wages earned by such employee to within six days of the date of such payment. People v. Myers, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 217, 25 Abb. N. Cas. 368. Such statute does not apply to a clerk in the mayor's office, the secretary and treasurer of the park commissioners, a member of the fire department, a school-teacher, or a patrolman on the police force. People v. Buffalo, 57 Hun (N. Y.) 577, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 314.

68. See also MANDAMUS, 26 Cyc. 266 et seq.

69. See MASTER AND SERVANT, 26 Cyc. 1052; PRINCIPAL AND AGENT.

Evidence admissible see Hartman v. New York, 23 Hun (N. Y.) 586. The evidence must be within the issues raised by the pleadings. Brennan v. New York, 62 N. Y. 365.

Splitting action.—A cause of action for back wages cannot be split up and a recovery in one action therefor is a bar to another. Hartmann v. New York, 44 Misc. (N. Y.) 272, 89 N. Y. Suppl. 912.

Where there are conflicting claimants all must be impleaded. Fagan v. New York, 84

N. Y. 348; Kennedy v. New York, 79 N. Y. 361.

What is reasonable compensation must be determined from the facts of the particular case. In re Public Parks Dept., 11 N. Y. Suppl. 176.

Defenses.—It is no defense that no compensation for the services had previously been specifically provided for (Ellsworth v. Rossiter, 46 Kan. 237, 26 Pac. 674), nor that there were irregularities in the appointment or employment where the services have been fully performed and accepted by the municipality (Ellsworth v. Rossiter, supra). So the regularity of the meeting of the council at which a contract for services was made cannot be questioned where the services have been completed and accepted by the municipality. Logansport v. Dykeman, 116 Ind. 15, 17 N. E. 587.

70. Kip v. Buffalo, 123 N. Y. 152, 25 N. E. 165 [affirming 7 N. Y. Suppl. 685]. Compare Spencer v. New York, 42 Misc. (N. Y.) 284, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 573.

71. Huff v. Knapp, Seld. (N. Y.) 65.

72. State v. Cleveland, 10 Ohio Dec. (Report) 571, 22 Cinc. L. Bul. 113.

73. Drott v. Riverside, 4 Ohio Cir. Ct. 312, 2 Ohio Cir. Dec. 565.

74. Kentucky.—Louisville v. Louisville University, 15 B. Mon. 642, holding that a city, although itself a civil institution created to be employed to some extent as an instrument of the government, is not the government itself, but a distinct, although a subordinate, being, capable of holding property for itself or its corporators; and if the city should be abolished the state would not thereby become a beneficial proprietor of its property.

These powers are inherent, or, as phrased by Blackstone, "necessarily and inseparably incident to every corporation";⁷⁵ but usually the charters of municipal corporations or the general statutes in express terms give them the power to hold, purchase, and convey such real and personal property as their purposes may require.⁷⁶ The English statutes of mortmain, if applicable to municipal corporations at all,⁷⁷ are not in force in the United States.⁷⁸ There is, however, no general power to acquire and hold real estate; but such power is confined to the purposes and necessities of the municipality.⁷⁹ Within these limits the power may be exercised with freedom, and such title taken as is appropriate to the exercise of the power;⁸⁰ and the nature of the tenure will depend upon the purpose for which the property is acquired and used.⁸¹

2. LOCATION OF PROPERTY.⁸² As a rule a municipal corporation has no power to purchase and hold land for a park, highway, or other municipal purpose beyond its territorial limits, unless the power has been specially conferred upon it by the legislature; and such power is not conferred by a general grant of power to purchase, hold, and convey such property, real and personal, as may be necessary for its public uses and purposes.⁸³ The legislature, however, may confer such power, either in express terms or by necessary implication;⁸⁴ and there are cases

Louisiana.—New Orleans First Municipality v. McDonough, 2 Rob. 244.

Massachusetts.—Jeffries Neck Pasture v. Ipswich, 153 Mass. 42, 26 N. E. 239; Worcester v. Eaton, 13 Mass. 371, 7 Am. Dec. 155; Windham v. Portland, 4 Mass. 384.

New Jersey.—Green v. Cape May, 41 N. J. L. 45.

New York.—In re Crane, 159 N. Y. 557, 54 N. E. 1089; Ketchum v. Buffalo, 14 N. Y. 356.

Virginia.—Richmond, etc., Land, etc., Co. v. West Point, 94 Va. 668, 27 S. E. 460.

United States.—Perin v. Carey, 24 How. 465, 16 L. ed. 701; McDonogh v. Murdoch, 15 How. 367, 14 L. ed. 732; Avery v. U. S., 104 Fed. 711, 44 C. C. A. 161 [affirming 98 Fed. 512]; Budd v. Budd, 59 Fed. 735; Root v. Shields, 21 Fed. Cas. No. 12,038, Woolw. 340.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 611.

75. 1 Blackstone Comm. 475.

76. See Chambers v. St. Louis, 29 Mo. 543, 574; and other cases hereinafter cited.

77. In Canada municipal corporations were held to be within the English statutes of mortmain. Brown v. McNab, 20 Grant Ch. 179.

78. Chambers v. St. Louis, 29 Mo. 543; State v. Toledo, 23 Ohio Cir. Ct. 327; Perin v. Carey, 24 How. (U. S.) 465, 16 L. ed. 701. And see CHARITIES, 6 Cyc. 927.

79. Sherlock v. Winnetka, 59 Ill. 389, 68 Ill. 530; Jackson v. Hartwell, 8 Johns (N. Y.) 422; Root v. Shields, 20 Fed. Cas. No. 12,038, Woolw. 340. See infra, VIII, B.

80. Davies v. New York, 83 N. Y. 207; Wade v. Newbern, 77 N. C. 460.

81. Alter v. Cincinnati, 56 Ohio St. 47, 46 N. E. 69, 35 L. R. A. 737.

82. Extraterritorial improvements see infra, XIII, A, 2, 1.

Extraterritorial police power and regulations see infra, XI, A, 5.

83. Georgia.—Langley v. Augusta, 118 Ga. 590, 45 S. E. 486, 98 Am. St. Rep. 133; Loyd v. Columbus, 90 Ga. 20, 15 S. E. 818.

Michigan.—Thompson v. Moran, 44 Mich. 602, 7 N. W. 180, park. See also Coldwater v. Tucker, 36 Mich. 474, 24 Am. Rep. 601.

New York.—Riley v. Rochester, 9 N. Y. 64 [reversing 13 Barb. 321], holding that a municipal corporation empowered "to purchase, hold and convey any estate, real or personal, for the public use of said corporation," cannot take a conveyance of lands beyond its boundaries for a public highway. See also North Hempstead v. Hempstead, 2 Wend. 109.

Virginia.—Donable v. Harrisonburg, 104 Va. 533, 52 S. E. 174, 113 Am. St. Rep. 1056, 2 L. R. A. N. S. 910; Duncan v. Lynchburg, (1900) 34 S. E. 964, 48 L. R. A. 331.

Wisconsin.—Becker v. La Crosse, 99 Wis. 414, 75 N. W. 84, 67 Am. St. Rep. 874, 40 L. R. A. 829.

United States.—Quinby v. Consumers' Gas Trust Co., 140 Fed. 362, holding that a charter granted to an Indiana city at a time when natural gas was not known in the state, giving the power to construct gas works, could not be construed as giving it the power to drill or purchase gas wells at a distance from the city, and to construct or purchase pumping stations and pipe lines to bring the natural gas within its limits for consumption and sale to its inhabitants.

Beyond limits of state.—A city has no power to accept a privilege granted to it by the legislature of another state than that of its creation, of constructing a highway over territory belonging to such other state, subject to liability for damages caused by the improper construction or want of repair of such highway, and therefore it cannot be held liable for an injury caused by defects in a highway so constructed, occurring outside the state. Becker v. La Crosse, 99 Wis. 414, 75 N. W. 84, 67 Am. St. Rep. 874, 40 L. R. A. 829.

Express prohibition see Girard v. New Orleans, 2 La. Ann. 897.

84. Alabama.—Burden v. Stein, 27 Ala. 104, 62 Am. Dec. 758, waterworks.

in which, without any special grant of such power, it has been implied as necessary in order to carry out powers granted.⁸⁵ It has also been held that a city may, without special authority from the legislature, take a devise of land beyond its limits for a public park,⁸⁶ and that it may do so in trust for a charitable use,⁸⁷

Connecticut.—West Hartford v. Hartford Water Com'rs, 44 Conn. 360, waterworks.

Georgia.—Langley v. Augusta, 118 Ga. 590, 45 S. E. 486, 98 Am. St. Rep. 133.

Illinois.—Champaign v. Harmon, 98 Ill. 491.

Indiana.—Cummins v. Seymour, 79 Ind. 491, 41 Am. Rep. 618 (drains); Begein v. Anderson, 28 Ind. 79 (cemetery).

Kansas.—State v. Franklin, 40 Kan. 410, 19 Pac. 801, hospitals and waterworks.

Massachusetts.—Somerville v. Waltham, 170 Mass. 160, 48 N. E. 1092 (holding that a city authorized by statute to acquire land for gravel and clay pits had power to acquire land for such purposes beyond its limits and within the limits of another municipality, such power being recognized by the statute as existing); Martin v. Gleason, 139 Mass. 183, 29 N. E. 664 (waterworks).

Michigan.—Thompson v. Moran, 44 Mich. 602, 7 N. W. 180, park.

New Jersey.—Butler v. Montclair, 67 N. J. L. 426, 51 Atl. 494, sewer outlet.

New York.—Gould v. Rochester, 105 N. Y. 46, 12 N. E. 275 (land for opening ditches to carry off drainage); In re New York, 99 N. Y. 569, 2 N. E. 642 (holding also that the fact that a statute authorized a city to incur a debt for the purchase of lands outside the municipal boundaries did not bring it within the constitutional prohibition against incurring a debt except for "city purposes"; such purpose not being limited to a work or expenditure within the city); New York v. Bailey, 2 Den. 433 (waterworks).

Ohio.—Lorain v. Rolling, 24 Ohio Cir. Ct. 82 [reversing 13 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 87], pest-house.

Pennsylvania.—Allentown v. Wagner, 27 Pa. Super. Ct. 485 [affirmed in 214 Pa. St. 210, 63 Atl. 697].

Tennessee.—Newman v. Ashe, 9 Baxt. 380, holding that while it is the better rule to construe strictly the power of a municipal corporation, still it was within the corporate powers of the city of Knoxville to purchase and own lands outside of the city limits for water reservoir purposes, as the statute expressly gave the city power to construct waterworks and gave the mayor and aldermen authority to protect from injury by adequate penalties the pipes, buildings, etc., appertaining to said waterworks, "whether within or without the limits of said corporation."

⁸⁵ Georgia.—Langley v. Augusta, 118 Ga. 590, 45 S. E. 486, 98 Am. St. Rep. 133.

Idaho.—Wilson v. Boise City, 6 Ida. 391, 55 Pac. 887.

Illinois.—Cochran v. Park Ridge, 138 Ill. 295, 27 N. E. 939. And see Champaign v. Harmon, 98 Ill. 491.

Michigan.—Coldwater v. Tucker, 36 Mich. 474, 24 Am. Rep. 601.

Missouri.—See Chambers v. St. Louis, 29 Mo. 543.

Wisconsin.—Schneider v. Menasha, 118 Wis. 298, 95 N. W. 94, 99 Am. St. Rep. 996.

United States.—Minnesota, etc., Land, etc., Co. v. Billings, 111 Fed. 972, 50 C. C. A. 70.

Illustrations.—Thus it has been held that a municipal corporation authorized to construct and maintain sewers or drains may, when necessary, procure an outlet for a sewer or drain beyond its corporate limits and acquire land by purchase or otherwise for such purpose. McBean v. Fresno, 112 Cal. 159, 44 Pac. 358, 53 Am. St. Rep. 191, 31 L. R. A. 794; Langley v. Augusta, 118 Ga. 590, 45 S. E. 486, 98 Am. St. Rep. 133 [criticizing Loyd v. Columbus, 90 Ga. 20, 15 S. E. 818]; Wilson v. Boise City, 6 Ida. 391, 55 Pac. 887; Callon v. Jacksonville, 147 Ill. 113, 35 N. E. 223; Maywood Co. v. Maywood, 140 Ill. 216, 29 N. E. 704; Cochran v. Park Ridge, 138 Ill. 295, 27 N. E. 939; Shreve v. Cicero, 129 Ill. 226, 21 N. E. 815; Coldwater v. Tucker, 36 Mich. 474, 24 Am. Rep. 601; Minnesota, etc., Land, etc., Co. v. Billings, 111 Fed. 972, 50 C. C. A. 700. But see South Orange v. Whittingham, 58 N. J. L. 655, 35 Atl. 407. See also infra, XIII, A, 2, 1. It has also been held that under the general power given a city by statute to hold, purchase, and convey such real estate as its purposes shall require, it may, when necessary, acquire land outside its limits for wharf purposes, although its charter, reciting that it may purchase, receive, and hold real estate outside the city for certain purposes, does not mention wharf purposes. Hafner v. St. Louis, 161 Mo. 34, 61 S. W. 632. And see Champaign v. Harmon, 98 Ill. 491, location of cemeteries, pest-houses, and other purposes connected with the sanitary condition of the municipality. See also infra, XI, A, 5.

Stone quarries, gravel pits, etc.—In Wisconsin it was held that a city having express authority to grade and pave streets and to purchase and hold all real estate necessary or convenient for its use, had, by implication therefrom, authority to use all reasonable methods of executing the same, including that of purchasing a stone quarry either within or without its corporate limits for the purpose of obtaining therefrom raw material from which to manufacture crushed rock. Schneider v. Menasha, 118 Wis. 298, 95 N. W. 94, 99 Am. St. Rep. 996. The contrary, however, has been held in Virginia. Donable v. Harrisonburg, 104 Va. 533, 52 S. E. 174, 113 Am. St. Rep. 1056, 2 L. R. A. N. S. 910; Duncan v. Lynchburg, (Va. 1900) 34 S. E. 964, 48 L. R. A. 331.

⁸⁶ Lester v. Jackson, 69 Miss. 887, 11 So. 114.

⁸⁷ Chambers v. St. Louis, 29 Mo. 543. See also McDonogh v. Murdock, 15 How. (U. S.) 367, 413, 14 L. ed. 732.

although it may not, in the absence of such special authority, be able to exercise any police power over it.

3. TITLE.⁸⁸ Among the muniments of title in favor of municipal corporations are deeds of conveyance, legislative grants in charters, or other acts, treaties, etc.;⁸⁹ and a municipal corporation may, as will be seen, acquire title by will, by dedication, by eminent domain, and by prescription or adverse possession.⁹⁰ A legislative grant to a municipal corporation is to be construed liberally in favor of the grantee.⁹¹ Lands acquired by treaty, if municipal property under foreign rule, remain municipal after acquisition, unless otherwise provided by the treaty.⁹² Whether a municipal corporation acquires title under a deed of conveyance or grant, and the nature of the title acquired, are questions of construction.⁹³ If the words obviously intend an investiture of title for the benefit of the municipality, then the title will be in the corporation;⁹⁴ but it seems that this will not result

88. Adverse possession as against municipal corporation see ADVERSE POSSESSION, 1 Cyc. 1117.

89. See cases in the notes following. And see infra, VIII, C.

Pueblo lands in California see Hart v. Burnett, 15 Cal. 530; Grisar v. McDowell, 6 Wall. (U. S.) 363, 18 L. ed. 863.

90. See infra, VIII, C.

91. Hyman v. Read, 13 Cal. 444.

Title of San Francisco under "Water Lot Act" of 1851.—The California act of March, 1851, granting to San Francisco the use and occupation of all lots of land situated within certain boundaries, according to the survey of the city of San Francisco, and the map or plat on record in the office of the county of San Francisco and designated as beach and water lots, and describing the boundaries within which all the lots were situated, was held to include slips within such boundaries; that is, water lots surrounded on three sides by wharves opening out into the bay, and not divided into "lots," technically so called. Hyman v. Read, 13 Cal. 444.

Title of Toledo, Ohio, to canal lands.—While the Ohio act of 1868 gave to the city of Toledo an easement in that part of the Miami canal known as the Manhattan branch, for street, water, and sewerage purposes, it was the act of 1871 which gave to the city the full title, not only in the bed of that part of the canal, but also in all the land held by the state for canal purposes within the limits of the Manhattan branch of the canal, and the city had thereupon the power to give a full and complete title to part of such lands to a purchaser thereof. Paige v. Cherry, 17 Ohio Cir. Ct. 579, 9 Ohio Cir. Dec. 364.

92. Grisar v. McDowell, 6 Wall. (U. S.) 363, 18 L. ed. 863.

93. Newmarket v. Smart, 45 N. H. 87; Denton v. Jackson, 2 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 320; U. S. v. Case Library, 98 Fed. 512 [affirmed in 104 Fed. 711, 44 C. C. A. 161].

Title conveyed.—A deed of land to a city, containing apt words to convey the fee, is not reduced to the grant of a mere easement by a recital that the land is conveyed to the city as and for a public street, or by the terms of an ordinance accepting and confirming as a public street "the dedication of the land specified" in the deed; such ordinance being required by the statute for the purpose of constituting the land a public street for the care and maintenance of which the city should be responsible. U. S. v. Case Library, 98 Fed. 512 [affirmed in 104 Fed. 711, 44 C. C. A. 161]. A declaration in a deed of land to a city that the land is conveyed "as and for a public street of said city" does not make the title conveyed a base or qualified fee, or a fee on condition subsequent, so as to make it revert upon the termination of the use of the land for street purposes. U. S. v. Case Library, supra. See also Mahoning County v. Young, 59 Fed. 96, 8 C. C. A. 27 [reversing 51 Fed. 585].

Reservation by state.—Where a state in conveying land to a municipal corporation reserves a portion for a "pasture," the title remains in the state. Allegheny v. Ohio, etc., R. Co., 26 Pa. St. 355.

In the New Jersey act of April 4, 1872 (Pub. Laws (1872), p. 1356), granting to Jersey City certain lands of the state under the tide-waters of Communipaw bay, with the duty to improve the same for a basin, and with power to erect wharves, etc., the operative words of the grant, "the state does hereby grant," etc., import a grant in præsentia, and confer an immediate estate, and as to any conditions subsequent annexed to the grant, no one but the state or its representative can take advantage of a forfeiture for failure of the city to perform the same. Easton, etc., R. Co. v. Central R. Co., 52 N. J. L. 267, 19 Atl. 722.

Free public library.—Where real estate was conveyed to a city as a gift for a free public library, with the condition that the city would raise the remainder of an amount necessary to erect buildings on the same, and such buildings were erected with money raised by issuance of bonds under 2 N. J. Gen. St. p. 1950, and its supplement of 1895 (2 N. J. Gen. St. p. 1953), the title to the property should stand in the name of the city, with the use and control in the board of trustees of the free public library, and a resolution directing title to be conveyed to said board is illegal. Keuffel v. Hoboken, 71 N. J. L. 518, 59 Atl. 20.

94. Southampton v. Mecox Bay Oyster Co., 116 N. Y. 1, 22 N. E. 387.

from the mere use of words describing the grantees or vendees as municipal officers.⁹⁵ The fact that a city can only acquire and hold land for a public use does not prevent it from acquiring, as between it and its vendor or grantor, the absolute title to land which it is about to use for a public purpose, as for a street, so that, when such use becomes impossible, the city may alienate the land for its full value or use it for other purposes;⁹⁶ and the limitation upon the city's powers does not require that a deed of conveyance to it shall receive a more restricted construction as to the title conveyed than a deed between private parties.⁹⁷ In acquiring lands under the power of eminent domain the municipality obtains either a fee or an easement according to the provisions of the statute.⁹⁸ Where a municipal corporation acquires real estate upon a condition expressed in the deed, that within a certain time it shall erect thereon a certain building for municipal purposes, and fails to comply with the condition by not erecting the structure, it must permit the land to return to the grantor, like any other grantee of land on condition.⁹⁹

4. JOINT TENANCY AND TENANCY IN COMMON. While a municipal corporation cannot hold property as joint tenant,¹ it has been held, in the absence of constitutional or statutory restrictions, that it may hold as a tenant in common.² Under the constitutional or statutory provisions in some states, however, a municipal corporation is prohibited from holding property in common, either with another corporation or with an individual.³

5. POSSESSION.⁴ Title gives a municipality prima facie right of posses-

Under a grant "to the inhabitants" of a municipality "to be held by them as a body politic and corporate, and to their successors forever," the title vests in the municipality as a corporation. Newmarket v. Smart, 45 N. H. 87; Chapin v. Winchester School Dist. No. 2, 35 N. H. 445.

95. San Francisco v. Fowler, 19 Cal. 11.

96. U. S. v. Case Library, 98 Fed. 512 [affirmed in 104 Fed. 711, 44 C. C. A. 161]. A city authorized by statute to purchase or otherwise acquire land for a public park may purchase or acquire the fee of the land. Holt v. Somerville, 127 Mass. 408.

97. U. S. v. Case Library, 98 Fed. 512 [affirmed in 104 Fed. 711, 44 C. C. A. 161].

98. Avery v. United States, 104 Fed. 711, 44 C. C. A. 161. A municipal corporation, being authorized by the legislature, may, under the power of eminent domain, acquire the title in fee simple to lands of private persons required for public uses on the payment of a just compensation; and when such lands cease to be used for the purpose for which they were taken, the representatives of the original owners cannot claim any reversionary interest therein. Heyward v. New York, 7 N. Y. 314.

99. Clarke v. Brookfield, 81 Mo. 503, 51 Am. Rep. 243.

1. "Two corporations cannot hold as joint-tenants, because two of the essential unities are wanting, namely: of the same capacity and title. . . . Nor can they hold as joint tenants, for another reason: being each perpetual, there can be no survivorship between them. . . . Nor can a corporation hold lands as joint tenant with a natural person, for there is no reciprocity of survivorship between them." De Witt v. San Francisco, 2 Cal. 289, 297.

2. De Witt v. San Francisco, 2 Cal. 289.

See also Hunnicut v. Atlanta, 104 Ga. 1, 30 S. E. 500; Callam v. Saginaw, 50 Mich. 7, 14 N. W. 677. But compare Bergen v. Clarkson, 6 N. J. L. 352.

Partial use by municipality necessary.— But a contract by a city for the purchase of an undivided one fifth of a lot with a building thereon is void, unless it distinctly and unequivocally secures to the city the right to occupy and use for municipal purposes, so long as it shall own an interest in the fee, a portion at least of the property. Hunnicut v. Atlanta, 104 Ga. 1, 30 S. E. 500.

3. Thus in Ohio the constitution provides that "the general assembly shall never authorize any county, city, town, or township, by vote of its citizens, or otherwise, to become a stockholder in any joint stock company, corporation, or association whatever; or to raise money for, or loan its credit to, or in aid of, any such company, corporation, or association." Ohio Const. art. 8, § 6. This section of the constitution, it has been held, not only prohibits a business partnership, which carries the idea of joint or undivided interest, but it goes further and prohibits a municipality from being the owner of part of a property which is owned and controlled in part by a corporation or individual. The municipality must be the sole owner and controller of the property in which it invests its public funds; and it cannot unite its property with the property of individuals or corporations, so that when united, both together form one property. The whole ownership and control must be in the public. Alter v. Cincinnati, 56 Ohio St. 47, 46 N. E. 69, 35 L. R. A. 737.

4. Action by municipal corporation for forcible entry and detainer see FORCIBLE ENTRY AND DETAINER, 19 Cyc. 1141.

sion,⁵ and that officer or department for whose use any property is dedicated or appropriated is entitled to possession and custody.⁶

6. LEASE. A municipal corporation may take a lease of real property for a legitimate corporate purpose,⁷ provided charter and statutory provisions on the subject are complied with.⁸ A municipality may also become liable, like an individual, by holding over after the expiration of the lease, and if the governing body permits an officer to hold over, the city cannot escape liability as lessee on the ground that the officer was without authority to continue the lease or hold over.⁹

7. PURCHASE OF MORTGAGED PROPERTY. Where a municipal corporation has no

5. Emporia v. Partch, 21 Kan. 202. Injunction will not lie to restrain a city from taking possession of fire apparatus previously intrusted to a fire company, where the latter shows no contract giving it the right to retain possession. Excelsior Fire Co. v. Washington, 6 N. J. L. J. 280.

6. Conover v. New York, 25 Barb. (N. Y.) 513, 5 Abb. Pr. 393, 14 How. Pr. 550.

Books and papers.—In a proceeding under the New York statute to compel the delivery of papers and books belonging or appertaining to the office of street commissioner in the city of New York, where the city claimed to own the books and papers because they were purchased for the office with its funds, it was held that, as they had been dedicated to the uses of the office, the city had no right to them inconsistent with the possession and use of them by the lawful incumbent of the office, and could not question his right to the possession and use of them for the due exercise of the duties of his office. Conover v. New York, 25 Barb. (N. Y.) 513, 5 Abb. Pr. 393, 14 How. Pr. 550.

Taking forcible possession.—Where the police department permitted the health department to occupy its premises temporarily and without rent, it was held that the police department had no authority to forcibly take possession of such premises on refusal of the health department to vacate. New York Health Dept. v. New York Police Dept., 41 N. Y. Super. Ct. 323.

Board of liquidation.—Stock acquired by the city in the New Orleans Waterworks Company, although declared to be exempt from seizure on execution, was never pronounced to be and was not property "dedicated to public use," within La. Act (1880), No. 133, § 5, by which the board of liquidation was entitled to receive from the city all its property, real and personal, not dedicated to public use; and it was held therefore that such stock should be transferred by the city to the board to be disposed of and applied by the latter as the law directed. State v. New Orleans, 36 La. Ann. 524.

7. Arkansas.—Halbut v. Forrest City, 34 Ark. 246.

Florida.—Jacksonville v. Ledwith, 26 Fla. 163, 7 So. 885, 23 Am. St. Rep. 558, 9 L. R. A. 69.

Indiana.—Anderson v. O'Conner, 98 Ind. 168.

Massachusetts.—Rumford Fourth School Dist. v. Wood, 13 Mass. 193.

Missouri.—Aull v. Lexington, 18 Mo. 401.

Nevada.—Fitton v. Hamilton City, 6 Nev. 196.

New York.—Davies v. New York, 83 N. Y. 207 [reversing 45 N. Y. Super. Ct. 373]; People v. Green, 64 N. Y. 499.

North Carolina.—Wade v. Newbern, 77 N. C. 460.

Wisconsin.—Gilman v. Milwaukee, 31 Wis. 563.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 612.

A charter power to a city to build a market house involves the power to lease a building for market purposes. Wade v. Newbern, 77 N. C. 460.

Purpose of lease.—The lease must be for an authorized purpose. Bloomsburg Land Imp. Co. v. Bloomsburg Borough, 215 Pa. St. 452, 64 Atl. 602 [affirming 31 Pa. Co. Ct. 609]. See infra, VIII, B.

Execution of lease by municipality see infra, VIII, D, 11; IX, G.

Summary proceedings against municipality see LANDLORD AND TENANT, 24 Cyc. 1417.

Purchase of sublease instead of lease.—Where a town council was empowered to purchase or rent lands for certain purposes, it was held that there was no authority to purchase lands held under a sublease, the interest in which might be lost by the default of the lessees. Mulholland v. Belfast Corp., 9 Ir. Ch. 292.

8. Smith v. Newburgh, 77 N. Y. 130.

Notice and special election.—Where the water commissioners of a city, after entering into a lease without causing notice to be published and a special election held, as required by a statute authorizing the council to improve the waterworks of the city, made a statement to the council recommending the construction of a reservoir on the property leased by the city for that purpose, and submitted an estimate of the expense, and a resolution was passed by the council directing a special election for the purpose of voting on the subject, and a notice of such election was published, specifying the items of expense, but without including the rent, and nothing was stated in the notice with regard to the lease, it was held that the vote authorizing the construction of the reservoir did not ratify or validate the lease. Smith v. Newburgh, 77 N. Y. 130.

9. Davies v. New York, 93 N. Y. 250 [reversing 48 N. Y. Super. Ct. 194]; Davies v. New York, 83 N. Y. 207 [reversing 45 N. Y. Super. Ct. 373]; Witt v. New York, 6 Rob. (N. Y.) 441. Contra, San Antonio v. French, power to mortgage its property, it cannot purchase and hold property which is subject to a mortgage, even though it does not expressly obligate itself to pay the mortgage debt, for it must pay the debt or lose the property; nor can it purchase property which is mortgaged for a sum in excess of the amount of indebtedness which it is authorized to incur.¹⁰

B. Purposes of Municipal Acquisition — 1. IN GENERAL. A municipal corporation may at common law, and generally by express charter or statutory provision, purchase or otherwise acquire and hold all such property, real and personal, as may be necessary to the proper exercise of any power specifically conferred or essential to those purposes of municipal government for which it was created.¹¹ On the other hand, while its title cannot always be questioned otherwise than in a direct proceeding by the state,¹² it has no power or authority to purchase or otherwise acquire or hold property for a purpose not within the powers specifically conferred upon it nor essential to carry out the objects of its creation.¹³ Where a municipality purchases or leases property for its own use, 80 Tex. 575, 6 S. W. 440, 26 Am. St. Rep. 763.

10. Voss v. Waterloo Water Co., 163 Ind. 69, 71 N. E. 208, 106 Am. St. Rep. 201, 66 L. R. A. 95; Fidelity Trust, etc., Co. v. Fowler Water Co., 113 Fed. 560.

Power to mortgage property see infra, VIII, D, 9.

Limitation of indebtedness see infra, XV, A, 3.

11. Arkansas.—Halbut v. Forrest City, 34 Ark. 246.

Connecticut.—Derby v. Alling, 40 Conn. 410.

Illinois.—Champaign v. Harmon, 98 Ill. 491.

Indiana.—Bluffton v. Studabaker, 106 Ind. 129, 6 N. E. 1.

Kansas.—Delaney v. Salina, 34 Kan. 532, 9 Pac. 271.

Louisiana.—New Orleans First Municipality v. McDonough, 2 Rob. 244.

Michigan.—Hatheway v. Sackett, 32 Mich. 97.

Minnesota.—Kuschke v. St. Paul, 45 Minn. 225, 47 N. W. 786.

New Jersey.—Green v. Cape May, 41 N. J. L. 45.

New York.—Davies v. New York, 83 N. Y. 207 [reversing 45 N. Y. Super. Ct. 373]; Buffalo v. Bettinger, 76 N. Y. 393; Le Coultre v. Buffalo, 33 N. Y. 333; Ketchum v. Buffalo, 14 N. Y. 356; People v. Lowber, 28 Barb. 65.

Vermont.—Bates v. Bassett, 60 Vt. 530, 15 Atl. 200, 1 L. R. A. 166.

Virginia.—Richmond, etc., Land, etc., Co. v. West Point, 94 Va. 668, 27 S. E. 460.

Wisconsin.—Konrad v. Rogers, 70 Wis. 492, 36 N. W. 261; Gilman v. Milwaukee, 31 Wis. 563; State v. Madison, 7 Wis. 688.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 611, 616 et seq.

12. See infra, VIII, E.

13. Alabama.—Eufaula v. McNab, 67 Ala. 588, 42 Am. Rep. 118.

California.—Von Schmidt v. Widber, 105 Cal. 151, 38 Pac. 682; Glass v. Ashbury, 49 Cal. 571; People v. McClintock, 45 Cal. 11.

Colorado.—Hayward v. Red Cliff, 20 Colo. 33, 36 Pac. 795.

Georgia.—Phipps v. Morrow, 49 Ga. 37.

Illinois.—Champaign v. Harmon, 98 Ill. 491; Sherlock v. Winnetka, 68 Ill. 530; Sherlock v. Winnetka, 59 Ill. 389. And see Livingston County v. Weider, 64 Ill. 427.

Iowa.—Strahan v. Malvern, 77 Iowa 454, 42 N. W. 369.

Maine.—In re Opinion of Justices, 58 Me. 590.

Maryland.—Gregg v. Baltimore, 56 Md. 256.

Massachusetts.—In re Opinion of Justices, 155 Mass. 598, 30 N. E. 1142, 15 L. R. A. 809.

Michigan.—Baker v. Grand Rapids, 142 Mich. 687, 106 N. W. 208, 3 L. R. A. N. S. 76.

New Jersey.—Gregory v. Jersey City, 36 N. J. L. 166.

New York.—Riley v. Rochester, 9 N. Y. 64 [reversing 13 Barb. 321]; Jackson v. Hartwell, 8 Johns. 422.

Ohio.—Markley v. Mineral City, 58 Ohio St. 430, 51 N. E. 28, 65 Am. St. Rep. 776.

Pennsylvania.—Bloomsburg Land Imp. Co. v. Bloomsburg Borough, 215 Pa. St. 452, 64 Atl. 602 [affirming 31 Pa. Co. Ct. 609]; Earley's Appeal, 103 Pa. St. 273.

Rhode Island.—Place v. Providence, 12 R. I. 1.

Virginia.—Duncan v. Lynchburg, (1900) 34 S. E. 964; Richmond, etc., Land, etc., Co. v. West Point, 94 Va. 668, 27 S. E. 460.

United States.—Root v. Shields, 20 Fed. Cas. No. 12,038, Woolw. 340.

Canada.—Jones v. Port Arthur, 16 Ont. 474.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 611, 616 et seq.

Burden of proof.—In an action against a municipal corporation on a bond or other common-law security given for deferred payments on real estate purchased by the corporation, defendant's plea of nil debet puts the burden of proof on plaintiff to show that the real estate purchased by defendant was reasonably necessary to the proper exercise and enjoyment by it of the powers and duties the transaction is not invalidated by the fact that it allows the premises to be also used for other purposes of a public nature;¹⁴ and where a municipality takes a conveyance of land for a legitimate corporate purpose, its title is not divested by a change of purpose.¹⁵

2. PARTICULAR PURPOSES — a. In General. In the application of these rules to particular cases or under particular charters, it has been held that a municipal corporation may purchase or otherwise acquire and hold land for necessary public buildings and other public improvements;¹⁶ for schools,¹⁷ and hospitals,¹⁸ under certain circumstances; for water or lighting plants under some charters;¹⁹ for burial grounds;²⁰ or for legitimate charitable uses;²¹ and it may take a lease of premises to provide accommodations for the performance of corporate duties and work by its officers and agents,²² and alter or fit up the premises for such purpose.²³ So it has power to take personal property for fire and police purposes,²⁴ and to suitably furnish public buildings, offices, and rooms.²⁵ It may take land to settle a debt due from a defaulting officer, if necessary to save the debt;²⁶ and may take and hold promissory notes executed by a defaulting officer as security for the payment of his indebtedness.²⁷ On the other hand, as a rule, a municipal corporation cannot purchase property in aid of any private enterprise, however laudable its purpose or useful its encouragement,²⁸ nor can it acquire or hold property for religious purposes,²⁹ or merely for purposes of litigation.³⁰ A conferred upon it by its charter. Richmond, etc., Land, etc., Co. v. West Point, 94 Va. 668, 27 S. E. 460.

14. Halbut v. Forrest City, 34 Ark. 246. Where a municipal corporation erects or leases a building chiefly for the purpose of providing a market house, as authorized, the erection or leasing thereof is not rendered illegal because of an appropriation of a portion of the same for some other municipal purpose, such as holding of municipal courts. Jacksonville v. Ledwith, 26 Fla. 163, 7 So. 885, 23 Am. St. Rep. 538, 9 L. R. A. 69.

15. Newman v. Ashe, 9 Baxt. (Tenn.) 380; U. S. v. Case Library, 98 Fed. 512 [affirmed in 104 Fed. 711, 44 C. C. A. 161]. See also supra, VIII, A, 3.

16. See infra, VIII, B, 2, c.

17. See infra, VIII, B, 2, f.

18. See infra, VIII, B, 2, d.

19. See infra, VIII, B, 2, e.

20. State v. Madison, 7 Wis. 688, holding that such power existed under charter authority to establish and regulate boards of health, provide hospitals and cemetery grounds, and regulate burial of the dead. See, generally, CEMETERIES, 6 Cyc. 707.

21. In re Robinson, 63 Cal. 620.

22. Witt v. New York, 6 Rob. (N. Y.) 441. See also People v. Harris, 4 Cal. 9.

23. People v. Harris, 4 Cal. 9.

24. See infra, VIII, B, 2, b.

25. Reynolds v. Albany, 8 Barb. (N. Y.) 597. See also People v. Harris, 4 Cal. 9.

Portrait of public officer.—It has been held that a municipal corporation having power to provide furniture for the room of the common council at the public expense may order the portrait of the governor of the state to be procured as an article of furniture therefor and vote an appropriation from the public funds to pay for the same. Reynolds v. Albany, 8 Barb. (N. Y.) 597.

26. Phipps v. Morrow, 49 Ga. 37.

27. Buffalo v. Bettinger, 76 N. Y. 393.

28. Eufaula v. McNab, 67 Ala. 588, 42 Am. Rep. 118; Sherlock v. Winnetka, 68 Ill. 530; Markley v. Mineral City, 58 Ohio St. 430, 51 N. E. 28, 65 Am. St. Rep. 776.

Private schools see infra, VIII, B, 2, f.

For railroad right of way.—The purchase of land by a municipality for the use of a railroad company for a right of way, although ostensibly for a public street, is ultra vires. Strahan v. Malvern, 77 Iowa 454, 42 N. W. 369.

Fair grounds.—Under a city's charter authority to purchase and provide for the payment of "all such real estate and personal property as may be required for the use, convenience, and improvement of the city," etc., it has no power to purchase a tract of land within its limits for the benefit of an agricultural and mechanical association, and as a place for holding their annual fairs, giving the association the exclusive use of the premises. Eufaula v. McNab, 67 Ala. 588, 42 Am. Rep. 118.

Aid to water company.—Under a statute authorizing a city to grant a license to a water company to supply water to the city and its inhabitants, the city has no power to acquire a lot for the use of such private corporation. Cain v. Wyoming, 104 Ill. App. 538.

Manufacturing plants.—A municipal corporation is without capacity to acquire land by purchase for the purpose of donating the same to a corporation or person as an inducement to build and operate manufacturing plants within the municipality. Markley v. Mineral City, 58 Ohio St. 430, 51 N. E. 28, 65 Am. St. Rep. 776.

29. Maysville v. Wood, 102 Ky. 263, 43 S. W. 403, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1292, 39 L. R. A. 93.

30. Place v. Providence, 12 R. I. 1, holding that a municipal corporation cannot pur-municipality may not become a real estate dealer,³¹ or buy realty for investment,³² or for mere speculation or profit,³³ or erect a building for the mere purpose of renting it out,³⁴ or take a lease of property merely for the purpose of deriving revenue therefrom by subletting or otherwise,³⁵ or purchase or lease property merely for the purpose of aiding or making a donation to the state or general government,³⁶ or another municipality,³⁷ or deal in coal and wood,³⁸ or purchase and run a manufacturing establishment.³⁹ But it has been held that it may receive a devise of a coal mine for experiment and operation;⁴⁰ that it may purchase and take an assignment of a lease for municipal uses;⁴¹ and that it may, for sanitation, buy up lands for improvement and resale.⁴² Where a statute authorizes a municipal corporation to take property for a special purpose or on special conditions only, it cannot take the same for another purpose or on other conditions.⁴³ chase real property in order, by controlling it, to compel a taxpayer to abandon or compromise his litigation with the municipality.

Purchase of judgment for purpose of set-off.—The purchase by a municipal corporation, for the purpose of set-off, of a judgment held by a third party against a creditor of the corporation, is ultra vires. Especially is this so where it is apparent that the real object of the purchase is to enable such third party to collect his claim through the right of set-off of the corporation; such transaction constituting a loan of the credit of the corporation. Earley's Appeal, 103 Pa. St. 273.

31. Hayward v. Red Cliff, 20 Colo. 33, 36 Pac. 795.

32. Hunniett v. Atlanta, 104 Ga. 1, 30 S. E. 500.

33. Champaign v. Harmon, 98 Ill. 491.

Purchase at tax-sales.—A municipal corporation, in the absence of any enabling statute, has no authority of law to become the purchaser of lands or lots at a tax-sale, and acquire a title by complying with the statute in respect to such sales. The general power to buy and hold real estate does not authorize such a purchase. Champaign v. Harmon, 98 Ill. 491.

34. Bates v. Bassett, 60 Vt. 530, 15 Atl. 200, 1 L. R. A. 166.

35. Bloomsburg Land Imp. Co. v. Bloomsburg Borough, 215 Pa. St. 452, 64 Atl. 602 [affirming 31 Pa. Co. Ct. 609], holding that a borough has no power under the Pennsylvania acts of April 3, 1851, or June 26, 1895, to lease from a private owner an inclosure for a pleasure park for the purpose of deriving revenue by subletting the same or charging the public for admission.

36. Livingston County v. Weider, 64 Ill. 427 (cannot provide site or location for a state institution); Jones v. Port Arthur, 16 Ont. 474 (holding that a municipal corporation had no power to purchase land to be presented to the dominion government as a site for a post-office and custom-house); Wallace v. Orangeville, 5 Ont. 37 (to the same effect).

37. Halbut v. Forrest City, 34 Ark. 246, holding that a town cannot rent a house solely for the use of the county as a court-house.

38. In re Opinion of Justices, 155 Mass.

598, 30 N. E. 1142, 15 L. R. A. 809, holding that the legislature could not authorize a city to buy coal and wood as fuel and sell them to its inhabitants, as the constitution does not contemplate this as one of the ends for which the government was established, or as a public service for which towns may be authorized to tax their inhabitants. See also Baker v. Grand Rapids, 142 Mich. 687, 106 N. W. 208, holding that where the price of coal was greatly increased by dealers, a city could not purchase a quantity of coal for the purpose of selling the same to its inhabitants, and thus engage in a commercial enterprise and enter into competition with dealers, as such use of its money was not for a public purpose.

39. In re Opinion of Justices, 58 Me. 590, holding that the legislature could not enable a town to establish manufactories on its own account, and rent them by the ordinary town officers, or otherwise, as such enterprises are outside of the purposes and objects of such corporations.

40. Delaney v. Salina, 34 Kan. 532, 9 Pac. 271.

41. Curtis v. Portsmouth, 67 N. H. 506, 39 Atl. 439.

42. New Orleans First Municipality v. McDonough, 2 Rob. (La.) 244.

43. Thus in Glass v. Ashbury, 49 Cal. 571, it was held that when the municipal authorities of a city act under an authority derived from a statute, they must follow strictly its provisions; and therefore, where a statute (Cal. Act, March 16, 1874) authorized the supervisors of San Francisco to procure from the United States government a vessel, to be used as a training ship, on such terms, "consistent with the provisions of this Act, as the said Government may prescribe," and authorized the removal to the ship of boys sentenced to confinement in the industrial school, and the act of congress of June 20, 1874, authorized the secretary of the navy to furnish a vessel of the navy on the application of the governor of any state in which a nautical school was established, with the proviso "that no person shall be sentenced to or received at such schools as a punishment or commutation of punishment for crime," it was held that the supervisors were not authorized to accept a ship from the general government on those terms.

b. Police and Fire Departments. There can be no doubt that a municipal corporation has power to acquire, furnish, and hold such buildings or rooms as may be necessary for the use of its police and fire departments.⁴⁴ Power to maintain a fire department or to suppress fires necessarily implies power to purchase machines and apparatus suitable for that purpose.⁴⁵ And a municipality may purchase arms and other personal property necessary for its police department.⁴⁶

c. Public Buildings, Streets, Parks, and Other Public Improvements. Municipalities may purchase or otherwise acquire and hold land for and erect necessary public buildings,⁴⁷ including markets, where they are authorized to establish 44. Torrent v. Muskegon, 47 Mich. 115, 10 N. W. 132, 41 Am. Rep. 715; State v. Babcock, 25 Nebr. 278, 41 N. W. 155; Witt v. New York, 6 Rob. (N. Y.) 441. And see infra, VIII, B, 2, c.

45. Bluffton v. Studabaker, 106 Ind. 129, 6 N. E. 1; Green v. Cape May, 41 N. J. L. 45. See also Allen v. Taunton, 19 Pick. (Mass.) 485.

Construction of express authority.—Hose carriages were within N. Y. Laws (1890), c. 232, § 3, authorizing the fire commissioners of Long Island City to purchase steam fire engines and “hose, implements, and apparatus of any and all kinds” for the use of the fire department. Leonard v. Long Island City, 20 N. Y. Suppl. 26.

46. State v. Buffalo, 2 Hill (N. Y.) 434, holding that the corporation of Buffalo, as an incident to an express grant of police powers, might contract for and procure two hundred stand of arms to preserve the peace and protect the persons and property of its citizens.

47. Illinois.—Greeley v. People, 60 Ill. 19.

Massachusetts.—French v. Quincy, 3 Allen 9; Spaulding v. Lowell, 23 Pick. 71.

Michigan.—Torrent v. Muskegon, 47 Mich. 115, 10 N. W. 132, 41 Am. Rep. 715.

Missouri.—Clarke v. Brookfield, 81 Mo. 503, 51 Am. Rep. 243; State v. Haynes, 72 Mo. 377.

Nebraska.—See State v. Babcock, 25 Nebr. 278, 41 N. W. 155.

New Hampshire.—Parker v. Concord, 71 N. H. 468, 52 Atl. 1095.

Pennsylvania.—Newell v. Bradford City, 18 Pa. Co. Ct. 465.

Vermont.—Bates v. Bassett, 60 Vt. 530, 15 Atl. 200, 1 L. R. A. 166.

Wisconsin.—Konrad v. Rogers, 70 Wis. 492, 36 N. W. 261.

See also infra, XIII, A, 2, b.

Extent of authority conferred.—But under the Jersey City charter authorizing the board of public works “to purchase sites for, and purchase or construct a city hall, school-houses, engine-houses,” etc., “and such other buildings as may be necessary,” it was held that the board was not authorized to purchase a tract of land “to be used as a site for the location of a city hall and other city buildings.” The legislature did not intend by these provisions to invest the board of public works with the arbitrary or unlimited power to purchase either land or buildings. Every lawful exercise of this power to purchase land necessarily involved the determination by the board of two things: (1) That some particular building is necessary; and (2) the quantity of land required as a site therefor. The legislature did not intend to confer on the board of public works the power to purchase a site or sites for buildings not designated or even known. Gregory v. Jersey City, 36 N. J. L. 166.

Additional purchases.—The city having power under an act of the legislature to purchase land for the erection of public buildings thereon, and having no authority to sell any land so purchased, cannot, after having selected and purchased land in pursuance of such legislation, purchase other land not adjacent to the first purchase for the same purpose. McGuire v. Atlantic City, 63 N. J. L. 91, 42 Atl. 781.

Slaughter-houses.—Ill. Rev. St. (1874) c. 24, art. 5, which empowers city councils to provide for and regulate the inspection of “meat, poultry, etc., to prohibit any offensive or unwholesome business or establishment, and to do all acts and make all regulations necessary or expedient for the promotion of health or the suppression of disease, does not empower a city council to erect and maintain a public slaughter-house, in the absence of any provision in its charter expressly conferring such power. Huesing v. Rock Island, 128 Ill. 465, 21 N. E. 558, 15 Am. St. Rep. 129 [reversing 25 Ill. App. 600].

Discretion as to cost.—The council has discretionary power to determine the cost of a city building. Parker v. Concord, 71 N. H. 468, 52 Atl. 1095.

Provision for future needs.—In erecting a public building a municipality is not restricted to present needs, but may make suitable provision for its prospective needs by erecting a larger building than is needed at the time; and if the building contains rooms not wanted for the time being for municipal business, the municipality may let them temporarily or allow them to be used gratuitously. French v. Quincy, 3 Allen (Mass.) 9; Spaulding v. Lowell, 23 Pick. (Mass.) 71; Bates v. Bassett, 60 Vt. 530, 15 Atl. 200, 1 L. R. A. 166. Where a municipal corporation, under its general powers, builds a market house two stories high and appropriates the lower story for a market, this being in good faith the principal and leading object in erecting the building, the appropriation of the upper story to other subordinate purposes is not such an excess of markets,⁴⁸ although not, it seems, where they are authorized merely to "regulate" markets,⁴⁹ and also including public baths, where there is express authority to establish them.⁵⁰ It has also been held that they have the power to acquire real estate for the purpose of establishing and maintaining wharves⁵¹ and parks.⁵² For the purpose of municipal improvement, the corporation has been upheld by the courts in taking title, permanent or temporary, to streets,⁵³ in acquiring an abutting easement for grading,⁵⁴ and in exchanging one lot for another for a city hall.⁵⁵ According to the better opinion, a city having power to grade and pave streets has by implication power to purchase and hold a stone quarry to supply the raw material;⁵⁶ and power to erect bridges and approaches implies the power to acquire the right to swing a bridge over private property and grant in consideration thereof the use of a vault under a street.⁵⁷ But a city with charter power to take lands for canals may not in its exercise condemn a right of way through a great railroad yard;⁵⁸ nor may it provide, in an ordinance for improving a certain authority as to render the erection of the building and the raising of money therefor ultra vires or illegal. Spaulding v. Lowell, supra.

48. Ketchum v. Buffalo, 14 N. Y. 356 [affirming 21 Barb. 294] (holding that authority to establish a market included, as a necessary incident, power to purchase real estate for the purposes of a market); People v. Lowber, 28 Barb. (N. Y.) 65. See also Spaulding v. Lowell, 23 Pick. (Mass.) 71; and infra, XIII, A, 2, j.

49. Ketchum v. Buffalo, 14 N. Y. 356.

50. Poillon v. Brooklyn, 101 N. Y. 132, 4 N. E. 191, holding that a grant of authority to establish and maintain public baths carried with it as a necessary incident power to designate and procure a proper place for the location of such a bath.

51. Hafner v. St. Louis, 161 Mo. 34, 61 S. W. 632, holding that such power existed under a charter giving a municipality general power to hold, purchase, and convey such real and personal estate as the purposes of the corporation should require. Compare, however, Roberts v. Louisville, 92 Ky. 95, 17 S. W. 216, 13 Ky. L. Rep. 406, where it is said that the power of a municipal corporation to acquire land for the purpose of erecting wharves thereon and to charge wharfage is not a necessary incident of its charter, but must be derived directly from the legislature, to be exercised within the limits and upon the conditions of the grant. See also infra, XIII, A, 2, i.

52. Lexington v. Kentucky Chautauqua Assembly, 114 Ky. 781, 71 S. W. 943, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 1568. And see under express grant of power Law v. San Francisco, 144 Cal. 384, 77 Pac. 1014; Scott v. Trombley, 20 N. Y. App. Div. 535, 46 N. Y. Suppl. 699; Budd v. Budd, 59 Fed. 735. Contra, Vaughn v. Greencastle, 104 Mo. App. 206, 78 S. W. 50; Graeff v. Felix, 24 Pa. Co. Ct. 657. Compare infra, XIII, A, 2, k.

Property dedicated.—Where the owner of a square or plat of ground situated in a city or village dedicates it to the use of the public, and calls it a "plaza," but does not in any manner designate how it shall be enjoyed, the city or village authorities may assume control of it, either as an open market place and common, or as a park for the pleasure and recreation of the public. Sachs v. Towanda, 79 Ill. App. 439.

Devise for park subject to payment of annuity see infra, VIII, C, note 89.

The charter of Kansas City, as amended June 6, 1895, adopted pursuant to Const. art. 9, § 16, providing that a city of more than one hundred thousand inhabitants may frame a charter for its own government, in so far as it provides a method of exercising the right of eminent domain, is not objectionable to the constitutional provision that such a charter shall always be in harmony with and subject to the constitution and laws of the state, in that the act of April 1, 1893, empowers every city organized under Const. § 16, art. 9, to establish a system of parks under a certain procedure, since it expressly provides (section 18) that it shall not abrogate or impair any right or power which such cities may have, or might thereafter have, to buy or condemn parks. Kansas City v. Bacon, 147 Mo. 259, 48 S. W. 860.

Water front.—Under the power given the city by the Long Branch City Charter (Pub. Laws (1903), p. 318, § 53, as amended by Pub. Laws (1904), pp. 347, 349, §§ 4, 8), to acquire land to protect the view oceanward from a sidewalk on the beach, it could acquire land under water. Murphy v. Long Branch, (N. J. Sup. 1905) 61 Atl. 593.

53. Derby v. Alling, 40 Conn. 410; Gilman v. Milwaukee, 31 Wis. 563, lease for temporary use as public street.

Opening streets, etc., see infra, XIII, A, 2, c.

54. Kuschke v. St. Paul, 45 Minn. 225, 47 N. W. 786.

55. Konrad v. Rogers, 70 Wis. 492, 36 N. W. 261.

56. Schneider v. Menasha, 118 Wis. 298, 92 N. W. 94, 99 Am. St. Rep. 996. Contra, Donable v. Harrisonburg, 104 Va. 533, 52 S. E. 174, 113 Am. St. Rep. 1056, 2 L. R. A. N. S. 910; Duncan v. Lynchburg, (Va. 1900) 34 S. E. 964.

Ownership of quarry beyond municipal limits see supra, VIII, A, 2, note 85.

57. Chicago v. Norton Milling Co., 196 Ill. 580, 63 N. E. 1043.

58. In re Buffalo, 68 N. Y. 167.

district, for the surrender to the city of land not needed or available for municipal uses.⁵⁹

d. Hospitals.⁶⁰ The legislature may expressly authorize a municipal corporation to purchase real estate for erection of a public hospital or a pest-house;⁶¹ and a municipality has authority, under its power to preserve the public health, to lease a building for use as a hospital for contagious diseases;⁶² but it has been held that power to buy a site for a smallpox hospital is not implied from general sanitary power, from power to make all regulations which may be necessary or expedient for the prevention of contagious diseases, or from the power to pay a liberal stipend "for the support of" a smallpox hospital.⁶³

e. Water and Lighting Plants. A municipal corporation has the power to purchase and hold such real and personal property as may be necessary for the erection and maintenance of a plant or works for the purpose of furnishing water or light to itself and its inhabitants, where it has legislative authority, express or implied, to establish or own waterworks or a lighting plant for such purpose,⁶⁴

59. Gregg v. Baltimore, 56 Md. 256.

60. See, generally, HOSPITALS, 21 Cyc. 1105.

61. Allentown v. Wagner, 27 Pa. Super. Ct. 485 [affirmed in 214 Pa. St. 210, 63 Atl. 697]; State v. Madison, 7 Wis. 688.

Beyond territorial limits see supra, VIII, A, 2.

62. Aull v. Lexington, 18 Mo. 401.

Authority "to remove or confine" persons having infectious or pestilential diseases gives power to rent a house for such purpose. Anderson v. O'Connor, 98 Ind. 168.

A city ordinance giving the board of health a general supervision over the health of the city includes the power to rent a building to be used as a hospital to protect the city from the infection of cholera. Aull v. Lexington, 18 Mo. 401.

63. Von Schmidt v. Widber, 105 Cal. 151, 38 Pac. 682.

64. Florida.—Jacksonville Electric Light Co. v. Jacksonville, 36 Fla. 229, 18 So. 677, 51 Am. St. Rep. 24, 34 L. R. A. 540.

Illinois.—Blanchard v. Benton, 109 Ill. App. 569; Hay v. Springfield, 64 Ill. App. 671.

Indiana.—Crawfordsville v. Braden, 130 Ind. 149, 28 N. E. 849, 30 Am. St. Rep. 214, 14 L. R. A. 268.

Kansas.—State v. Hiawatha, 53 Kan. 477, 36 Pac. 1119.

Massachusetts.—In re Opinion of Justices, 150 Mass. 592, 24 N. E. 1084, 8 L. R. A. 487.

Michigan.—Arbuckle-Ryan Co. v. Grand Ledge, 122 Mich. 491, 81 N. W. 358 (may purchase engine to operate city lighting plant); Mitchell v. Negaunee, 113 Mich. 359, 71 N. W. 646, 67 Am. St. Rep. 489, 38 L. R. A. 198 (express grant of power to acquire electric light plant).

Nebraska.—Christensen v. Fremont, 45 Nebr. 160, 63 N. W. 364.

North Carolina.—Fawcett v. Mt. Airy, 134 N. C. 125, 45 S. E. 1029, 101 Am. St. Rep. 825, 63 L. R. A. 870 [overruling Mayo v. Washington, 122 N. C. 5, 29 S. E. 343, 40 L. R. A. 163].

Ohio.—State v. Hamilton, 47 Ohio St. 52, 23 N. E. 935.

Pennsylvania.—Hughes v. Parnassus Borough, 23 Pa. Co. Ct. 196.

South Carolina.—Mauldin v. Greenville, 33 S. C. 1, 11 S. E. 434, 8 L. R. A. 291.

Texas.—Ysleta v. Babbitt, 8 Tex. Civ. App. 432, 28 S. W. 702, may maintain irrigation ditch.

Wisconsin.—Connor v. Marshfield, 128 Wis. 280, 107 N. W. 639; Ellinwood v. Reedsburg, 91 Wis. 131, 64 N. W. 885; Atty.-Gen. v. Eau Claire, 37 Wis. 400.

United States.—Knoxville Water Co. v. Knoxville, 200 U. S. 22, 26 S. Ct. 224, 50 L. ed. 353; Hamilton Gaslight, etc., Co. v. Hamilton, 146 U. S. 258, 13 S. Ct. 90, 36 L. ed. 963; Indianapolis v. Consumers' Gas Trust Co., 144 Fed. 640, 75 C. C. A. 442; Colby University v. Canandaigua, 69 Fed. 671; Thompson-Houston Electric Co. v. Newton, 42 Fed. 723.

See also infra, XIII, A, 2, f, g.

Operation of plant and preservation of property.—When a city has legally acquired a gas plant to provide its inhabitants with light and fuel, the power to operate the plant and to do the things necessary to accomplish the purpose for which the plant has been acquired, and to preserve the property from destruction and impairment to a degree not amounting to rebuilding or extension, is incident to and goes with the power to own as a current necessity. Findlay v. Parker, 17 Ohio Cir. Ct. 294, 9 Ohio Cir. Dec. 710.

Provision for arbitration in contract for purchase of plant see Lidgerwood Park Waterworks Co. v. Spokane, 19 Wash. 365, 53 Pac. 352.

Aid to private company see supra, VIII, B, 2, a, text and note 23.

Joint ownership with another.—Under Ohio Const. art. 8, § 6, providing that the general assembly shall never authorize any county, city, town, or township to become a stockholder in any joint stock company, corporation or association whatever, or to raise money for or loan its credit to, or in aid of, any such company, corporation, or association, a city must be the sole proprietor of property in which it invests its funds and cannot unite its property with property of but not otherwise.⁶⁵ The existence of such power is considered elsewhere in this article.⁶⁶

f. Educational Purposes. A municipal corporation may of course be expressly authorized to purchase land and erect school-houses thereon;⁶⁷ and it has been held that unless there is something in its charter forbidding it to build school-houses, it has implied power to do so, on the ground that this is within the scope of the general powers of a municipal corporation.⁶⁸ Under some charters or statutes, however, this function is exercised not by the municipality, but by a board of education or special school corporation.⁶⁹ Under express or implied authority to purchase land and erect buildings for a school a municipal corporation has no authority to purchase land and erect a school-house for the purpose of conveying or leasing the same, without pay or rent, to an individual or private corporation for the purpose of having a school taught therein for pay.⁷⁰

3. POWER TO TAKE AND HOLD PROPERTY IN TRUST. A municipal corporation has the capacity and power to take and hold real or personal property, by devise, bequest, or deed of gift, in trust for purposes of a public nature, including charitable uses, germane to the objects of the corporation,⁷¹ even according to the weight of authority, although the object may be one which the municipality could individuals or corporations, so that when united both together form one property, and therefore a statute authorizing a municipal corporation to permit a water company to make additions to the city's waterworks, or otherwise become a part owner of such waterworks, was held unconstitutional. Alter v. Cincinnati, 56 Ohio St. 47, 46 N. E. 69, 35 L. R. A. 737. See supra, VIII, A, 4.

65. California.—Hyatt v. Williams, 148 Cal. 585, 84 Pac. 41; People v. McClintock, 45 Cal. 11.

Massachusetts.—Spaulding v. Peahody, 153 Mass. 129, 26 N. E. 421, 10 L. R. A. 397.

New Jersey.—Howell v. Millville, 60 N. J. L. 95, 36 Atl. 691.

New York.—Potsdam Electric Light, etc., Co. v. Potsdam, 49 Misc. 18, 97 N. Y. Suppl. 190 [affirmed in 113 N. Y. App. Div. 894, 98 N. Y. Suppl. 1113].

Pennsylvania.—White v. Meadville, 177 Pa. St. 643, 35 Atl. 695, 34 L. R. A. 567.

South Carolina.—Stehmeyer v. Charleston, 53 S. C. 259, 31 S. E. 322.

66. See infra, XIII, A, 2, f, g.

67. Sherlock v. Winnetka, 68 Ill. 530.

68. Cartersville v. Baker, 73 Ga. 686. See also Le Couteulx v. Buffalo, 33 N. Y. 333.

Devise, bequest, or gift in trust for educational purposes see infra, VIII, B, 3.

69. State v. Terre Haute, 87 Ind. 212, holding that under the Indiana statutes a city had no power to buy, and give its notes for, a county seminary, which it was to use for school purposes in the city, as the school corporation of the city alone had that power. See also Betts v. Betts, 4 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 317.

70. Sherlock v. Winnetka, 68 Ill. 530.

71. California.—In re Robinson, 63 Cal. 620.

Connecticut.—Hamden v. Rice, 24 Conn. 350.

Illinois.—Prickett v. People, 88 Ill. 115; Heuser v. Harris, 42 Ill. 425.

Indiana.—Rush County v. Dinwiddie, 139 Ind. 128, 37 N. E. 795; Skinner v. Harrison Tp., 116 Ind. 139, 18 N. E. 529, 2 L. R. A. 137; Craig v. Seerist, 54 Ind. 419.

Iowa.—Phillips v. Harrow, 93 Iowa 92, 61 N. W. 434.

Kentucky.—Peynado v. Peynado, 82 Ky. 5. Louisiana.—State v. McDonogh, 8 La. Ann. 171; Girard v. New Orleans, 2 La. Ann. 897.

Maine.—Bangor v. Beal, 85 Me. 129, 26 Atl. 1112.

Maryland.—Barnum v. Baltimore, 62 Md. 275, 50 Am. Rep. 219.

Massachusetts.—Higginson v. Turner, 171 Mass. 586, 51 N. E. 172; Sears v. Chapman, 153 Mass. 400, 33 N. E. 604, 35 Am. St. Rep. 502; Fellows v. Miner, 119 Mass. 541; Drury v. Natick, 10 Allen 169; Webb v. Neal, 5 Allen 575; Green v. Putnam, 8 Cush. 21; Nourse v. Merriam, 8 Cush. 11; Worcester v. Eaton, 13 Mass. 371, 7 Am. Dec. 155.

Michigan.—Maynard v. Woodard, 36 Mich. 423; Hatheway v. Sackett, 32 Mich. 97, 100, where it is said that it is "the general doctrine in this country that cities and villages may take personal property in trust for all purposes in keeping with or in furtherance of the real and final objects meant to be accomplished by their creation; and that this rule must be recognized as operating without exception, unless when some plain regulation or condition exists to exclude it."

Missouri.—Barkley v. Donnelly, 112 Mo. 561, 19 S. W. 305; Chambers v. St. Louis, 29 Mo. 543.

New Hampshire.—Sargent v. Cornish, 54 N. H. 18; Chapin v. Winchester School Dist. No. 2, 35 N. H. 445.

New Jersey.—Mason v. Tuckerton M. E. Church, 27 N. J. Eq. 47.

New York.—Fosdick v. Hempstead, 125 N. Y. 581, 26 N. E. 801, 11 L. R. A. 715; Le Couteulx v. Buffalo, 33 N. Y. 333; Betts v. Betts, 4 Abb. N. Cas. 317; Coggeshall v. Pelton, 7 Johns. Ch. 292, 11 Am. Dec. 471.

not carry out at the public expense.⁷² Thus it may take property in trust for the erection and maintenance of a court-house, city, or town hall, or other public building;⁷³ for repairing highways and bridges;⁷⁴ for laying out, improving, and lighting streets;⁷⁵ for planting and renewing shade trees;⁷⁶ for use in connection with waterworks;⁷⁷ for a public park;⁷⁸ for the erection and maintenance of colleges and schools, or other educational purposes,⁷⁹ including the maintenance of a

Ohio.—Christy v. Ashtabula County Com'rs, 41 Ohio St. 711; State v. Toledo, 23 Ohio Cir. Ct. 327.

Pennsylvania.—Philadelphia v. Fox, 64 Pa. St. 169. And see Lawrence County v. Leonard, 83 Pa. St. 206; Philadelphia v. Elliott, 3 Rawle 170.

Rhode Island.—Smith v. Westcott, 17 R. I. 386, 22 Atl. 280, 13 L. R. A. 217.

Texas.—Bell County v. Alexander, 22 Tex. 350, 73 Am. Dec. 268.

Vermont.—Sheldon v. Stockbridge, 67 Vt. 299, 31 Atl. 414.

Wisconsin.—Beurhaus v. Cole, 94 Wis. 617, 69 N. W. 986.

United States.—Girard v. Philadelphia, 7 Wall. 1, 19 L. ed. 53; Perin v. Carey, 24 How. 465, 16 L. ed. 701; McDonogh v. Murdoch, 15 How. 367, 14 L. ed. 732; Vidal v. Girard, 2 How. 127, 11 L. ed. 205; Handley v. Palmer, 103 Fed. 39, 43 C. C. A. 100 [affirming 91 Fed. 948]; Stuart v. Easton, 74 Fed. 854, 21 C. C. A. 146.

England.—Atty.-Gen. v. Newcastle-upon-Tyne, 5 Beav. 307, 49 Eng. Reprint 596, 12 Cl. & F. 402, 8 Eng. Reprint 1164, 6 Jur. 789.

See 9 Cent. Dig. tit. "Charities," § 30 et seq.; 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 620, 621.

Maintenance of hotel included in devise.—The provision, in a devise to a city of property in trust for charitable objects, that a hotel included in the property should be kept perpetually, and that a fund should be provided from the income to preserve and improve it, does not prevent the taking of the devise by the city; nor does a provision of the devise that the name of the hotel shall be retained affect its validity. Phillips v. Harrow, 93 Iowa 92, 61 N. W. 434.

Trustee of contract for citizens.—A city may be the depository, as trustee for its citizens, of a contract obligating a railroad company to locate and maintain its general offices and shops in the city, and may enforce such contract by suit. Tyler v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., (Tex. 1906) 91 S. W. 1, 93 S. W. 997 [reversing (Civ. App. 1905) 87 S. W. 238]. See infra, IX, A, 6, q, text and note 6.

Refusal to accept trust.—Even though a city has a right to accept a trust, its refusal to do so would be an exercise by its council of judgment and discretion, which could not be enjoined by a court. Dailey v. New Haven, 60 Conn. 314, 22 Atl. 945, 14 L. R. A. 69.

Bequest to foreign municipality sustained.—Peynado v. Peynado, 82 Ky. 5; In re Huss, 126 N. Y. 537, 27 N. E. 784, 12 L. R. A. 620.

72. Phillips v. Harrow, 93 Iowa 92, 61 N. W. 434; Chambers v. St. Louis, 29 Mo.

543; Sargent v. Cornish, 54 N. H. 18; Jones v. Habersham, 107 U. S. 174, 188, 2 S. Ct. 336, 27 L. ed. 401; Vidal v. Girard, 2 How. (U. S.) 126, 11 L. ed. 205.

73. Coggeshall v. Pelton, 7 Johns. Ch. (N. Y.) 292, 11 Am. Dec. 471; Stuart v. Easton, 74 Fed. 854, 21 C. C. A. 146.

74. Hamden v. Rice, 24 Conn. 350.

75. Philadelphia v. Fox, 64 Pa. St. 169.

76. Cresson's Appeal, 30 Pa. St. 437.

77. Penny v. Croul, 76 Mich. 471, 43 N. W. 649, 5 L. R. A. 858, bequest to the board of water commissioners of Detroit to enable them to improve and beautify the land in their custody about their works, and to maintain a library composed of works of practical utility to the persons engaged in looking after the works, and such as would properly be found in any such concern as part of their apparatus.

78. Lester v. Jackson, 69 Miss. 887, 11 So. 114; Budd v. Budd, 59 Fed. 735.

79. Connecticut.—Southington First Cong. Soc. v. Atwater, 23 Conn. 34.

Illinois.—Prickett v. People, 88 Ill. 115; Heuser v. Harris, 42 Ill. 425, bequest to school-district for school purposes.

Indiana.—Skinner v. Harrison Tp., 116 Ind. 139, 18 N. E. 529, 2 L. R. A. 137; Richmond v. Davis, 103 Ind. 449, 3 N. E. 130; Lagrange County v. Rogers, 55 Ind. 297; Craig v. Secrist, 54 Ind. 419, sustaining a devise to a county in trust for the education of a certain class of children in the county. See also Richmond v. State, 5 Ind. 334.

Maine.—Bangor v. Beal, 85 Me. 129, 26 Atl. 1112 ("for the promotion of education"); Piper v. Moulton, 72 Me. 155.

Maryland.—Barnum v. Baltimore, 62 Md. 275, 50 Am. Rep. 219.

Massachusetts.—Sears v. Chapman, 158 Mass. 400, 33 N. E. 604, 35 Am. St. Rep. 502; Drury v. Natick, 10 Allen 169; Sutton v. Cole, 3 Pick. 232.

Michigan.—Maynard v. Woodard, 36 Mich. 423 (bequest to school-district board to buy books for school library); Hatheway v. Sackett, 32 Mich. 97.

Missouri.—Barkley v. Donnelly, 112 Mo. 561, 19 S. W. 305.

New Hampshire.—Chapin v. Winchester School Dist. No. 2, 35 N. H. 445, gift to the inhabitants of a school-district to build and maintain a school-house.

New Jersey.—Mason v. Tuckerton M. E. Church, 27 N. J. Eq. 47, bequest to townships for the purpose of educating their poor orphan children.

New York.—Le Couteux v. Buffalo, 33 N. Y. 333 (deed of land in trust for free or common schools); Iseman v. Myres, 26 Hun 651 (to school-district).

public library or reading room;⁸⁰ or for the relief and support of the poor.⁸¹ It

Ohio.—Christy v. Ashtabula County Com'rs, 41 Ohio St. 711 (devise and bequest to county for educational purposes); State v. Toledo, 23 Ohio Cir. Ct. 327.

Oregon.—Raley v. Umatilla County, 15 Oreg. 172, 13 Pac. 890, 3 Am. St. Rep. 142, conveyance to county for educational purposes.

Pennsylvania.—Philadelphia v. Fox, 64 Pa. St. 169.

Texas.—Bell County v. Alexander, 22 Tex. 350, 73 Am. Dec. 268.

Vermont.—Sheldon v. Stockbridge, 67 Vt. 299, 31 Atl. 414; Castleton v. Langdon, 19 Vt. 210.

United States.—Girard v. Philadelphia, 7 Wall. 1, 19 L. ed. 53; Perin v. Carey, 24 How. 465, 16 L. ed. 701; McDonogh v. Murdock, 15 How. 367, 14 L. ed. 732; Vidal v. Girard, 2 How. 127, 11 L. ed. 205 (may take in trust to establish and maintain colleges, schools, and seminaries of learning, especially such as are for the education of orphans and poor scholars); Handley v. Palmer, 103 Fed. 39, 43 C. C. A. 100 [affirming 91 Fed. 948].

80. Iowa.—Phillips v. Harrow, 93 Iowa 92, 61 N. W. 434, holding that a provision of a devise to a city in trust that from the income of the property a fund should be raised for the benefit of a public library was germane to the objects of the city, as cities were authorized by Code, § 461, to establish and maintain free public libraries and to receive gifts, devises, and bequests therefor.

Maine.—Bangor v. Beal, 85 Me. 129, 26 Atl. 1112.

Massachusetts.—Cary Library v. Bliss, 151 Mass. 364, 25 N. E. 92, 7 L. R. A. 765; Drury v. Natick, 10 Allen 169.

New York.—Betts v. Betts, 4 Abb. N. Cas. 317, holding that the board of education of New York had the power to take a bequest for the supply of a library for the College of the City of New York.

Wisconsin.—Beurhaus v. Cole, 94 Wis. 617, 69 N. W. 986, holding that a city had the power to accept lands devised to it for establishing and maintaining a public library, as Rev. St. § 931, conferred on cities the power to establish a public library.

81. California.—In re Robinson, 63 Cal. 620, bequest of money to a city in trust to invest the same and pay the interest from time to time to destitute women and children of the city.

Illinois.—Prickett v. People, 88 Ill. 115 (sustaining a bequest of money "to the poor of" a certain county and holding that it was a bequest to the poor of the county in a technical sense—that is, those whom the county were under legal liability to support, and that the county board of the county had the right to the control and custody of the fund); Heuser v. Harris, 42 Ill. 425 (to the same effect).

Indiana.—Rush County v. Dinwiddie, 139

Ind. 128, 37 N. E. 795, holding that a board of county commissioners was a corporation capable of taking a devise for the establishment of a home for the benefit of worthy homeless people and orphans, within the meaning of Rev. St. (1894) § 2726, Rev. St. (1881) § 2556, providing that a devise may be made to any person or corporation capable of holding the same.

Iowa.—Phillips v. Harrow, 93 Iowa 92, 61 N. W. 434, holding that the establishment and maintenance of infirmaries for the poor is a proper municipal object, and that a city, although it could not do so at the public expense in the absence of express authority, may take a devise in trust for that purpose.

Louisiana.—Mary's Succession, 2 Rob. 438.

Massachusetts.—Fellows v. Miner, 119 Mass. 541 (sustaining a bequest to a town in trust to pay over the income to such of the native-born aged and infirm inhabitants of the town, and maiden ladies who are native-born inhabitants, although not aged, as should be deemed most needy); Webb v. Neal, 5 Allen 575 (holding that a city might act as trustee of a fund left by a will in trust with a provision that the income thereof should be expended in the purchase of fuel, "to be given, or sold at low prices, as may be deemed best by the trustees, to such worthy and industrious persons as are not supported in whole or in part at the public expense, but who may need some aid in addition to their own labor to enable them to sustain themselves and their families during the inclement season of the year; such aid to be afforded in the most private manner possible, and the names of the recipients to be withheld from the public").

Missouri.—Barkley v. Donnelly, 112 Mo. 561, 19 S. W. 305, sustaining a trust to establish and maintain an asylum for the maintenance and education of poor children. See also Chambers v. St. Louis, 29 Mo. 543.

New Jersey.—Mason v. Tuckerton M. E. Church, 27 N. J. Eq. 47, bequests to townships for the purpose of educating their poor orphan children, and in case the interest be not all consumed for this purpose, the balance to be appropriated annually to the poor widows in the townships.

New York.—Fosdick v. Hempstead, 125 N. Y. 581, 26 N. E. 801, 11 L. R. A. 715.

Pennsylvania.—Philadelphia v. Fox, 64 Pa. St. 169, devise and bequest of fund in trust to purchase and distribute fuel among the poor. See also Lawrence County v. Leonard, 83 Pa. St. 206 (bequest to county for support of the poor in a certain township); Philadelphia v. Elliott, 3 Rawle 170 (bequest to a city to purchase a lot and erect thereon a hospital for the relief of the indigent blind and lame).

Vermont.—Sheldon v. Stockbridge, 67 Vt. 299, 31 Atl. 414.

Wisconsin.—Beurhaus v. Cole, 94 Wis. 617, 69 N. W. 986, holding that a city had power to accept a devise for the purpose of estab-has also been held that a municipality might take a fund in trust for the yearly purchase and use for display of United States flags;⁸² for the purpose of furnishing relief to all poor emigrants and travelers coming to the city on the way to settle in the west;⁸³ and to loan the fund on interest to young married artificers to start them in business.⁸⁴ It is a general rule, however, that a municipal corporation cannot take and hold property in trust for a purpose which is foreign to the objects of its incorporation, and in which it has no interest.⁸⁵ Therefore a municipal corporation cannot hold land in trust for religious purposes,⁸⁶ nor can it in the United States, in the absence of a grant of power, accept and hold property upon a purely private trust.⁸⁷ lishing a home for the aged and poor, as Rev. St. § 1499, charged cities with the relief of the resident poor.

United States.—Perin v. Carey, 24 How. 465, 16 L. ed. 701, trust for support and education of poor white male and female orphans.

England.—Atty.-Gen. v. Newcastle, 5 Beav. 307, 49 Eng. Reprint 596, 12 Cl. & F. 402, 8 Eng. Reprint 1164, 6 Jur. 789.

A foundling hospital for the special purpose of relieving unfortunate females and caring for and protecting their offspring is in effect a provision for the poor, and hence a city may accept a devise in trust for the maintenance of such a hospital. Phillips v. Harrow, 93 Iowa 92, 61 N. W. 434.

Trusts for the poor not within the powers of a municipality see infra, this section, text and note 85.

82. Sargent v. Cornish, 54 N. H. 18.

83. Chambers v. St. Louis, 29 Mo. 543.

84. Higginson v. Turner, 171 Mass. 586, 51 N. E. 172. See also Atty.-Gen. v. Leicester, 7 Beav. 176, 29 Eng. Ch. 176, 49 Eng. Reprint 1031, where a municipal corporation held property on a charitable trust to employ the income in making loans to young men, repayable without interest. Compare, however, infra, this section, text and note 87.

85. Connecticut.—Dailey v. New Haven, 60 Conn. 314, 22 Atl. 945, 14 L. R. A. 69, holding that, in the absence of authority granted by its charter, a city had no power to accept a bequest in trust to apply the income, through such agencies as the proper authorities might see fit, "for the supply of fuel and other necessities to deserving indigent persons not paupers, preferring such as are aged or infirm." Compare Yale College's Appeal, 67 Conn. 237, 34 Atl. 1036.

Georgia.—Augusta v. Walton, 77 Ga. 517, 1 S. E. 214, trust for support of poor.

Kentucky.—Maysville v. Wood, 102 Ky. 263, 43 S. W. 403, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1292, 80 Am. St. Rep. 355, 39 L. R. A. 93.

Massachusetts.—Bullard v. Shirley, 153 Mass. 559, 27 N. E. 766, 12 L. R. A. 110.

New York.—Fosdick v. Hempstead, 126 N. Y. 581, 26 N. E. 801, 11 L. R. A. 715 [reversing 8 N. Y. Suppl. 772] (holding that in order that a bequest to a town for the purpose of investing the principal and applying the income to a specific object may take effect as an absolute gift to the town, the gift must be made for some one or all of the purposes for which the town was incorporated; and since it is under no legal obligation to support persons who do not come within the statutory definition of poor persons, a bequest for such purpose cannot take effect as an absolute gift to the town); Jackson v. Hartwell, 8 Johns. 422.

Effect of want of power see infra, VIII, E, 1.

86. Maysville v. Wood, 102 Ky. 263, 43 S. W. 403, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1292, 80 Am. St. Rep. 355, 39 L. R. A. 93 (holding that a municipality cannot take a dedication of a lot and hold the same in trust as a place of religious worship and instruction); Bullard v. Shirley, 153 Mass. 559, 27 N. E. 766, 12 L. R. A. 110 (holding that a town cannot accept a bequest on condition that it support a clergyman and apply the interest of the fund to the payment of his salary).

Contra.—In New Hampshire, however, it was held that towns might legally take and hold property in trust for the support of religion within their limits. Atty.-Gen. v. Dublin, 38 N. H. 459. See also Orford Union Cong. Soc. v. West Cong. Soc., 55 N. H. 463.

That a church is to be established at a home for the benefit of homeless people and orphans, to be founded under a devise to a county for such purpose, does not invalidate the gift. Rush County v. Dinwiddie, 139 Ind. 128, 37 N. E. 795.

Trust for benefit of religious societies.—And it has been held that the prohibition of Iowa Code, § 552, against appropriation by cities of public money for institutions under ecclesiastical or sectarian management, does not prevent a city from taking a devise in trust for the religious societies thereof, without regard to denomination, cities having power (section 482) to do what will tend to promote the prosperity and improve the morals, comfort, and convenience of their inhabitants. Phillips v. Harrow, 93 Iowa 92, 61 N. W. 434.

87. In re Franklin, 150 Pa. St. 437, 24 Atl. 626, 30 Am. Rep. 817, holding that a municipal corporation cannot accept and hold property in trust to loan the same out to artisans. Contra, Apprentices' Fund Case, 2 Pa. Dist. 435, 13 Pa. Co. Ct. 241. And compare Higginson v. Turner, 171 Mass. 586, 51 N. E. 172, where such trust was recognized as valid.

In England, however, such trusts are valid. Gloucester v. Osborn, 1 H. L. Cas. 272, 285,

C. Mode of Acquisition. Authority on the part of a municipal corporation to acquire property includes any usual mode of acquisition, not prohibited by law,⁸⁸ as by devise or bequest,⁸⁹ by purchase⁹⁰ or gift,⁹¹ or by deed of conveyance from private individuals or corporations,⁹² by statutory grant from the state,⁹³ by an award of referees, under contract or statute, to transfer private waterworks to the municipality,⁹⁴ although to retain them it must comply with the terms of award,⁹⁵ by redemption from a sheriff's sale,⁹⁶ by dedication,⁹⁷ by eminent 9 Eng. Reprint 760. See also Atty.-Gen. v. Leicester, 7 Beav. 176, 29 Eng. Ch. 176, 49 Eng. Reprint 1031, where it was assumed that a municipal corporation could hold property on a charitable trust to employ the interest in making loans to young men, repayable without interest.

88. Leeds v. Richmond, 102 Ind. 372, 1 N. E. 711.

89. California.—In re Robinson, 63 Cal. 620.

Connecticut.—Hamden v. Rice, 24 Conn. 350.

Indiana.—Hayward v. Davidson, 41 Ind. 212.

Kansas.—Delaney v. Salina, 34 Kan. 532, 9 Pac. 271.

Mississippi.—Lester v. Jackson, 69 Miss. 887, 11 So. 114.

Missouri.—Fulbright v. Perry County, 145 Mo. 432, 46 S. W. 955; Chambers v. St. Louis, 29 Mo. 543.

New York.—Matter of Crane, 12 N. Y. App. Div. 271, 42 N. Y. Suppl. 904 [affirmed in 159 N. Y. 557, 54 N. E. 1089].

Wisconsin.—Beurhaus v. Cole, 94 Wis. 617, 69 N. W. 986.

United States.—Perin v. Carey, 24 How. 465, 16 L. ed. 701; McDonogh v. Murdoch, 15 How. 367, 14 L. ed. 732; Vidal v. Girard, 2 How. 127, 11 L. ed. 205; Budd v. Budd, 59 Fed. 735.

And see the other cases cited supra, VIII, B, 3.

Devise subject to payment of annuity.—Where a municipal corporation has power under its charter to acquire and hold land by gift, devise, or purchase, for public parks, and the common council is authorized to provide by ordinance for the purchase or otherwise obtaining real estate for parks, to be paid out of the general funds or in three annual instalments, to be raised by assessments, the common council may accept a devise of land for a public park subject to payment of an annuity for life, and it is not prevented from doing so by a charter provision forbidding it to appropriate any money in excess of the revenue for the fiscal year actually collected, or to bind the city by any contract until a definite sum is appropriated for the liquidation of all liability flowing therefrom. Budd v. Budd, 59 Fed. 735.

90. Leeds v. Richmond, 102 Ind. 372, 1 N. E. 711; Ketchum v. Buffalo, 14 N. Y. 356; Richmond, etc., Land, etc., Co. v. West Point, 94 Va. 668, 27 S. E. 460.

91. Nelson v. Georgetown, 190 Mass. 225, 76 N. E. 606; Keuffel v. Hoboken, 71 N. J. L. 518, 59 Atl. 20. In Nelson v. Georgetown, supra, a letter of a donor addressed to "the inhabitants" of a town, recited that he had caused the erection of a library building for the benefit "of yourselves and your successors," and that he took "pleasure in presenting it to you," and stated that he had placed in the hands of the library committee a specified fund, a part of which should be invested and the income used for the library, and the remainder invested and allowed to accumulate until a specified sum should be reached, when it might be used for the erection of a suitable building, and that the building erected should be the "property of the town" for the purpose of a library building. It was held that the gift of the building and the fund was to the town in its corporate capacity, subject to the restrictions imposed.

92. Beebe v. Little Rock, 68 Ark. 39, 56 S. W. 791; Keuffel v. Hoboken, 71 N. J. L. 518, 59 Atl. 20; U. S. v. Case Library, 98 Fed. 512 [affirmed in 104 Fed. 711, 44 C. C. A. 161]; Macartney v. Haldimand County, 10 Ont. L. Rep. 668.

93. See Mobile Transp. Co. v. Mobile, 128 Ala. 335, 30 So. 645, 86 Am. St. Rep. 143, 64 L. R. A. 333.

94. In re Cornwall, 29 Ont. 350.

95. Cornwall Water Works Co. v. Cornwall, 29 Ont. 605. Where a municipal corporation, taking over the works of a waterworks company under the statutory arbitration procedure, wishes to take advantage of the provisions of sections 445 and 446 of the Municipal Act, it must pay into court the amount awarded, with interest to the date of payment in, and six months' interest in advance. In re Cornwall, 27 Ont. App. 48 [affirming 30 Ont. 81].

96. People v. Doane, 17 Cal. 476.

97. Illinois v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 33 Fed. 730. See, generally, DEDICATION.

When the Fort Dearborn reservation, near the mouth of the Chicago river, was subdivided by the agent of the secretary of war, proceeding under the act of congress of March 3, 1819, into lots, and they were sold with reference to the map or plat of such subdivision, and the reservation was no longer used as a military site or for any purpose connected with the exercise of the powers of the general government, all the lands embraced within its limits ceased to be a part of the national domain. The title to the specific lots passed to those who purchased them, while the title to and immediate possession and control of such property as was dedicated to public use for streets and grounds vested in the local government—that is, in the municipal corporation of Chi-domain under legislative authority, but not otherwise,⁹⁸ and by prescription or adverse possession.⁹⁹ In the absence of express restrictions, a municipal corporation may purchase property on credit as well as for cash.¹ If the charter prescribes a particular mode of acquiring property, that mode must be followed;² but mere delegation by the legislature to a municipality of the right to acquire property under the power of eminent domain does not necessarily exclude the power to do so by purchase.³ The action of the municipality as to personalty may be shown by resolution;⁴ but as to realty the more solemn form of ordinance is usually necessary to bind the corporation.⁵ As a rule the power to purchase property for a municipality is vested in the common council as its governing body;⁶ but it may, subject to limitations, appoint a committee to make a purchase;⁷ and on the other hand the charter may require the concurrent action of the common council and some other body.⁸ Neither by the Spanish nor French laws could a city or community acquire title to real property, or to the use of it, without letters patent, grant, purchase, or deed.⁹ Failure to comply with statutory formalities of purchase, prescribed in an unconstitutional statute, does not impair title.¹⁰

D. Sale or Disposal of Property¹¹ — 1. IN GENERAL. Municipal corporations, it has been said, hold all property in a fiduciary capacity; and they have not the power of disposition which belongs to the private proprietor.¹² All their cago, as a public agency of that state for the purposes for which such dedication was made. Illinois v. Illinois Cent. R. Co., 33 Fed. 730.

98. See EMINENT DOMAIN, 15 Cyc. 568.

99. Massachusetts.—Deerfield v. Connecticut River R. Co., 144 Mass. 325, 11 N. E. 105; Gould v. Boston, 120 Mass. 300.

Missouri.—Stephens v. Murray, 132 Mo. 468, 34 S. W. 56.

New York.—New York v. Carleton, 113 N. Y. 284, 21 N. E. 55; Sherman v. Kane, 86 N. Y. 57.

Rhode Island.—New Shoreham v. Ball, 14 R. I. 566.

Vermont.—Boothe v. Coventry, 4 Vt. 295. See, generally, ADVERSE POSSESSION.

Streets and highways by prescription see, generally, STREETS AND HIGHWAYS.

1. New Orleans First Municipality v. McDonough, 2 Rob. (La.) 244; Ketchum v. Buffalo, 14 N. Y. 356 [affirming 21 Barb. 294]; Richmond, etc., Land, etc., Co. v. West Point, 94 Va. 668, 27 S. E. 460; State v. Madison, 7 Wis. 688.

2. Leeds v. Richmond, 102 Ind. 372, 1 N. E. 711; Trester v. Sheboygan, 87 Wis. 496, 58 N. W. 747.

3. Leeds v. Richmond, 102 Ind. 372, 1 N. E. 711, holding that the fact that a city was by statute given the power to condemn land for a sewer did not exclude its general power to purchase land for such purpose. Compare, however, Trester v. Sheboygan, 87 Wis. 496, 58 N. W. 747, holding that a city had no power to purchase an easement for street purposes, under a charter which contained the usual provisions for the condemnation of land for public grounds, streets, etc., although it also provided that the city might lease, purchase, and hold real or personal property sufficient for the convenience of the inhabitants thereof, and might sell and convey the same, and that the same while owned by the city should be free from taxation.

4. Green v. Cape May, 41 N. J. L. 45.

5. Fuller v. Scranton, 1 Pa. Co. Ct. 405.

6. Green v. Cape May, 41 N. J. L. 45. And see supra, V, A, 2.

7. Burlington v. Dennison, 42 N. J. L. 165; Kramrath v. Albany, 127 N. Y. 575, 28 N. E. 400 [affirming 53 Hun 206, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 54]; Edwards v. Watertown, 24 Hun (N. Y.) 426, 61 How. Pr. 463. See supra, V, B, 5.

8. Lauenstein v. Fond du Lac, 28 Wis. 336, holding that where the charter of a city gave the common council a general power to purchase land for the necessary purposes of the corporation, but by another section it provided that the board of education should have power, with the consent of the common council, to buy sites for school-houses in said city, the general power of the council was qualified by the latter provision, and that a valid purchase of a site for a school-house could be made only by the concurrent action of the two bodies.

9. De Armas v. New Orleans, 5 La. 132.

10. Coward v. Bayonne, 67 N. J. L. 470, 51 Atl. 490.

11. Liability of municipal property to execution see EXECUTIONS, 17 Cyc. 973.

Adverse possession as against municipal corporation see ADVERSE POSSESSION, 1 Cyc. 1117.

Grant of easement by municipal corporation see EASEMENT, 14 Cyc. 1179.

Power to incur debt and expenditure see infra, XV, A.

Necessity for demand of rent under lease by municipal corporation see LANDLORD AND TENANT, 24 Cyc. 1355 note 59.

12. Savannah v. Georgia Steam Boat Co., R. M. Charlt. (Ga.) 342; Pittsburgh v. Epping-Carpenter Co., 29 Pittsb. Leg. J. N. S.

powers are held in trust for public use,¹³ and the validity of their exercise generally depends upon the purpose thereof.¹⁴ And in this matter must be observed the double nature of the corporation and its functions, governmental and municipal.¹⁵ Property held by the corporation for strictly governmental purposes may be sold or disposed of only under express legislative authority.¹⁶ But property acquired and held for general municipal purposes is subject to its discretionary power of use and disposal.¹⁷ This does not, however, include the power of donation or gratuitous disposition;¹⁸ but property acquired for one municipal purpose may be appropriated to or disposed of for another.¹⁹ Like other municipal powers this is subject to constitutional and statutory limitations,²⁰ and deeds in defiance

(Pa.) 255; Huron Waterworks Co. v. Huron, 7 S. D. 9, 62 N. W. 975, 58 Am. St. Rep. 817, 30 L. R. A. 848, 8 S. D. 169, 65 N. W. 816, 30 L. R. A. 848.

13. Huron Waterworks Co. v. Huron, 7 S. D. 9, 62 N. W. 975, 58 Am. St. Rep. 817, 30 L. R. A. 848, 8 S. D. 169, 65 N. W. 816, 30 L. R. A. 848.

14. Savannah v. Georgia Steam Boat Co., R. M. Charl. (Ga.) 342.

15. In Michigan, where the right of local self-government is fully recognized and protected by constitutional provision, Judge Cooley says: "It is immaterial in what way the property was lawfully acquired; whether by labor in the ordinary avocations of life, by gift or descent, or by making profitable use of a franchise granted by the State; it is enough that it has become private property, and it is then protected by the 'law of the land.'" Detroit v. Detroit, etc., Plank Road Co., 43 Mich. 140, 148, 5 N. W. 275. It is hardly proper in other states where home rule is not so highly favored to speak of any municipal property as private property. It is, however, essentially trust property, the municipality being a trustee, and the people of the locality cestuis que trustent of strictly municipal property.

16. De Motte v. Valparaise, (Ind. App. 1903) 67 N. E. 465; Murray v. Allegheny, 136 Fed. 57, 69 C. C. A. 65.

17. Terre Haute v. Terre Haute Waterworks Co., 94 Ind. 305; Newark v. Elliott, 5 Ohio St. 113; Reynolds v. Stark County Com'rs, 5 Ohio 204. Under a charter authorizing the mayor and aldermen of the town "to do all things necessary to be done by corporations," they have the right to dispose of the public property of the corporation as they may think proper for the prosperity of the town, and apply it to a different use from that originally contemplated when the town was laid off. Memphis v. Wright, 6 Yerg. (Tenn.) 497, 27 Am. Dec. 489. Personal or real property, not devoted to the use of the public, or needed therefor, may be sold or transferred by a municipality under a general provision of its charter authorizing it to sell property. Ogden City v. Bear Lake, etc., Water-Works, etc., Co., 16 Utah 440, 52 Pac. 697, 41 L. R. A. 305.

May lease its private property.—Horn v. People, 26 Mich. 221; Reynolds v. Stark County Com'rs, 5 Ohio 204.

Lease of hotel in park.—A lease by the department of public parks of the city of New York, for a term of years, of a hotel, upon park property for the use of park visitors, was held a reasonable and fair exercise of the general power of the city to hold and manage real estate, and it was further held that where the lessee has expended large sums of money in improvements and repairs, equity will restrain the city from ejecting him during the term. Gushee v. New York, 26 Misc. (N. Y.) 287, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 1002 [affirmed in 42 N. Y. App. Div. 37, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 967].

Gas plant.—Under Ohio Rev. St. § 1692, subd. 34, giving to cities and villages the power "to acquire by purchase or otherwise and hold real estate, or any interest therein, and other property for the use of the corporation, and to sell or lease the same," a city or village has "power to sell its gas plant." Thompson v. Nemyer, 59 Ohio St. 486, 52 N. E. 1024.

Lease of water right to waterworks company sustained.—Ogden City v. Bear Lake, etc., Water-Works, etc., Co., 28 Utah 25, 76 Pac. 1069.

Sale of railroad.—The Ohio act of May 4, 1869 (66 Ohio Laws, p. 80), under which the "Cincinnati Southern Railway" was constructed by the city of Cincinnati, did not require that the road be kept under lease perpetually, by the board of trustees provided for by the act, nor exclude the power of alienation of the property by the proper municipal authorities, in accordance with appropriate legislation. Cincinnati v. Dexter, 55 Ohio St. 93, 44 N. E. 520.

18. Mt. Sinai Hospital v. Hyman, 92 N. Y. App. Div. 270, 87 N. Y. Suppl. 276; Wright v. Victoria, 4 Tex. 375. See infra, VIII, D, 4.

19. Gumpert v. Finn, 10 Kulp (Pa.) 185. Under a city charter providing that all the property of the city is vested in the mayor and city council, with full power of disposition of it, etc., an ordinance directing the mayor and other proper officers to lease a lot for the purpose of erecting thereon a building for the use of an English-German school does not deprive the mayor and city council of power to afterward use the lot and building erected thereon for some other purpose than the one originally designated. Davidson v. Baltimore, 96 Md. 509, 53 Atl. 1121. In the absence of a charter restriction, it has been said, a town has power to dispose of any property which it has a right to acquire. Newark v. Elliott, 5 Ohio St. 113.

20. Weekes v. Galveston, 21 Tex. Civ. App.

thereof are void;²¹ but sales and deeds of unusual character may be specially authorized by statute.²² Where a city has charter authority to contract and to sell and convey real estate it may execute a deed with a covenant of general warranty.²³

2. DELEGATION OF POWER TO SELL. A municipality may not delegate its discretionary power of sale to another;²⁴ but the ministerial function may be conferred upon an officer or agent thereunto specially authorized.²⁵

3. POWER TO CONVEY PROPERTY ACQUIRED OR HELD FOR SPECIAL PURPOSE — a. In General. The power of the municipality to convey property is generally declared to be equal to its power to acquire it;²⁶ and so, where it is acquired or held for a special purpose, as soon as that purpose is served, and the corporation has no further use for the property, it may be converted to another use or disposed of by the municipality.²⁷ But it seems that such power of disposition is not to be inferred from a general charter power to control municipal property, so long as the city has use for the property for the purpose to which alone it is serviceable.²⁸ Where a city has an easement only in lots conveyed to it to be used for levee purposes, its lease of the same for building purposes is void and confers no right of possession as against the grantor of the easement.²⁹

102, 51 S. W. 544. Under Ohio Rev. St. § 1692, par. 34, conferring on municipal corporations the power "to acquire by purchase or otherwise and to hold real estate or any interest therein, and other property for the use of the corporation, and to sell or lease the same," the city of Toledo has power to sell its natural gas plant. Kerlin Bros. Co. v. Toledo, 20 Ohio Cir. Ct. 603, 11 Ohio Cir. Dec. 56. Ky. Const. § 203, providing that "no corporation shall lease or alienate any franchise so as to relieve the franchise or property held thereunder from the liabilities of the lessor or grantor, lessee or grantee, contracted or incurred in the operation, use or enjoyment of such franchise or any of its privileges," applies only to private corporations, and not to municipal corporations. Carrollton Furniture Mfg. Co. v. Carrollton, 104 Ky. 525, 47 S. W. 439, 885, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 818.

21. Minneapolis v. Janney, 86 Minn. 111, 90 N. W. 312. The California act of May 4, 1852 (St. (1852) p. 180), § 1, 3, granting to the town of Oakland lands covered by the flux of tides, bounding the town on three sides, "with a view to facilitate the construction of wharves and other improvements . . . provided, that said lands shall be retained by said town as common property, or disposed of for the purposes aforesaid," thereby give to the town authority that cannot be delegated; and hence a conveyance by the town to an individual of all of said lands is void, although he may agree to construct wharves, etc., as the ownership of a part of the land, at least, is essential to the exercise of said authority. Oakland v. Oakland Water Front Co., 118 Cal. 160, 50 Pac. 277.

22. Driscoll v. New Haven, 75 Conn. 92, 52 Atl. 618.

23. Abbott v. Galveston, 97 Tex. 474, 79 S. W. 1064.

24. Heydenfelt v. Hitchcock, 15 Cal. 514; Beal v. Roanoke, 90 Va. 77, 17 S. E. 738. The common council of San Francisco must exercise the functions imposed on them by their charter, and have no power to delegate them to others. The power to sell granted to them does not include the power to make a deed of trust, or place the property committed to their custody in charge of others, for the term of three years, with power to sell as they may deem advisable. Smith v. Morse, 2 Cal. 524.

25. Hutchinson v. Trenton, 42 N. J. L. 72.

26. Thompson v. Nemejer, 59 Ohio St. 486, 52 N. E. 1024. Under a town charter which provides that the board of commissioners "shall have power to acquire any piece or pieces of land by purchase or lease as sites for markets or other buildings for the use of said town," the commissioners have full power to dispose of a town hall in such manner as to them may seem best for the interest of the town. Shaver v. Salisbury, 68 N. C. 291.

27. Newell v. Hancock, 67 N. H. 244, 35 Atl. 253. Where a locus publicus ceases in whole or part to be applicable to its original destination, the sovereign, who regulates loci publici, may direct its future application to any other public object, and, if necessary, order the sale of it on a ground-rent for the city or apply the proceeds in the same manner. Municipality No. 2 v. Orleans Cotton Press, 18 La. 122, 36 Am. Dec. 624. Where a city bought a lot without the city limits for a reservoir, which the deed stipulated was to be built on the lot, and the city did not build the reservoir, but sold the land, and the grantor's executor afterward resold the land to one who brought ejectment against the grantee of the city, it was held that the city's title was not divested by the failure to use the land for the purpose specified. Newman v. Ashe, 9 Baxt. (Tenn.) 380.

28. State v. Taylor, 107 Tenn. 455, 64 S. W. 766. And see Weekes v. Galveston, 21 Tex. Civ. App. 102, 51 S. W. 544. A public corporation cannot alien or grant the public property for purposes different from the objects of its original appropriation. Savannah v. State Steam Boat Co., R. M. Charlt. (Ga.) 342.

29. Sanborn v. Van Duyne, 90 Minn. 215, 96 N. W. 41.

b. Streets and Parks. A municipality holds its avenues, streets, and alleys in trust for the general public, and has no general or implied power to convey them or pervert them to other uses.³⁰ But they may be lawfully vacated, and then the property sold under a general power of alienation of municipal property;³¹ and where, by its charter, a city has authority to open, lay out, widen, straighten, or otherwise change streets in the city, it may vacate and sell to an abutting owner a part of a street, where the selling and closing of the tract will straighten and make more uniform in width the street from which the tract is taken, without closing or preventing the free use of such street by the public.³² The soil and earth taken off for graduation may be sold and the value thereof recovered from the purchaser.³³ Property dedicated to the municipality for public parks and squares is not subject to sale or conveyance by it;³⁴ but property purchased by a city for such purpose may be converted to other uses,³⁵ or sold or conveyed by the city under a general power of alienation.³⁶

c. Wharves. In some states it has been held that a municipal corporation holds its public wharves as it does its streets, and that it has no power to sell or lease them to private persons in the absence of special statutory authority.³⁷ In other states the contrary has been held on the ground that the wharves are not highways, but private property of the municipality.³⁸

d. Lands Held in Trust. Lands taken and held by a municipality under grant, will, gift, or dedication for a specific purpose³⁹ are subject to the law of trusts, and may not be alienated by the trustee at will without lawful authority,⁴⁰ even though

30. Giltner v. Carrollton, 7 B. Mon. (Ky.) 680; Augusta v. Perkins, 3 B. Mon. (Ky.) 437; Brooklyn Park Com'rs v. Armstrong, 45 N. Y. 234, 6 Am. Rep. 70; People v. Albany, 4 Hun (N. Y.) 675; Murray v. Allegheny, 136 Fed. 57, 69 C. C. A. 65. And see Bateman v. Covington, 90 Ky. 390, 14 S. W. 361, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 384; Com. v. Young Men's Christian Assoc., 169 Pa. St. 24, 32 Atl. 121. The Michigan act of April 4, 1827, as amended by the act of June 29, 1832, vesting the common council of the city of Detroit with power to "make or alter" streets and do whatever might be for the "regularity, public health, and convenience of the city," did not authorize them to grant land, dedicated to public use, as a street, to the state, to be used for a purpose inconsistent with its use as a street, without the consent of adjoining lot owners. Cooper v. Alden, Harr. (Mich.) 72.

31. Arkenburgh v. Wood, 23 Barb. (N. Y.) 360.

Greater New York Charter (Laws (1901), p. 80, c. 466, § 205), empowering the commissioners of the sinking fund to sell the city title to lands within a discontinued and closed street, provided they determine such lands are not needed for any public use, frees the city of any special trust imposed by section 990 (page 419), providing that the title acquired by the city to lands required for a street shall be in trust and that the same be appropriated and kept open for a public street, forever, in like manner as other streets in the city are and of right ought to be. Reis v. New York, 113 N. Y. App. Div. 464, 99 N. Y. Suppl. 291 [affirmed in 188 N. Y. 58, 80 N. E. 573].

32. Patton v. Rome, 124 Ga. 525, 52 S. E. 742.

33. Griswold v. Bay City, 35 Mich. 452.

34. Warren v. Lyons, 22 Iowa 351; Brook- lyn Park Com'rs v. Armstrong, 45 N. Y. 234, 6 Am. Rep. 70.

35. Mowry v. Providence, 16 R. I. 422, 16 Atl. 511; Clark v. Providence, 16 R. I. 337, 15 Atl. 763, 1 L. R. A. 725.

36. Fort Wayne v. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co., 132 Ind. 558, 32 N. E. 215, 32 Am. St. Rep. 277, 18 L. R. A. 367.

37. Roberts v. Louisville, 92 Ky. 95, 17 S. W. 216, 13 Ky. L. Rep. 406, 13 L. R. A. 844; Bateman v. Covington, 90 Ky. 390, 14 S. W. 361, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 384; Louisville v. U. S. Bank, 3 B. Mon. (Ky.) 138, 157; Matthews v. Alexandria, 68 Mo. 115, 30 Am. Rep. 776; Murray v. Allegheny, 136 Fed. 57, 69 C. C. A. 65; Illinois, etc., R., etc., Co. v. St. Louis, 12 Fed. Cas. No. 7,007, 2 Dill. 70.

38. Horn v. People, 26 Mich. 221; Thompson v. New York, 11 N. Y. 115.

39. Ellis v. San Francisco Funded Debt Com'rs, 38 Cal. 629.

40. District of Columbia v. Cropley, 23 App. Cas. (D. C.) 232; Lake County Water, etc., Co. v. Walsh, 160 Ind. 32, 65 N. E. 530, 98 Am. St. Rep. 264. Proprietors who dedicate land to a city for public use as a common remain for all other purposes its owners. The city may control and regulate such public use, but it cannot sell the property and devote it to a private use and thereby destroy the trust created for the benefit of the public. Cummings v. St. Louis, 90 Mo. 259, 2 S. W. 130. A municipal corporation has no implied power or authority to convey away for private purposes property dedicated to or held by it for the public use, such as ground, lying between lots fronting on a navigable river and low water mark, dedicated by the original plat by which the lots were sold as a public highway to give lot owners and the public access to the water front, and at suit of a lot owner a court of the municipality itself be a beneficiary.⁴¹ If the trust is for the public the legislature, as supreme trustee, may authorize its disposition,⁴² subject, however, to any private right or trust therein.⁴³

4. DONATION AND DEDICATION OF PROPERTY. When duly authorized by the state a municipality may irrevocably dedicate any of its general property to a particular public use;⁴⁴ but it has no power to donate lands or personal property to private uses,⁴⁵ unless by constitutional authority;⁴⁶ and in some states express equity will enjoin such conveyance, when not expressly authorized by statute. Murray v. Allegheny, 136 Fed. 57, 69 C. C. A. 65.

41. San Francisco v. Itsell, 80 Cal. 57, 22 Pac. 74.

42. San Francisco v. Beideman, 17 Cal. 443.

43. Granting the municipal lands within the city of San Francisco to have been conveyed by the city to the fund commissioners, in trust for her creditors, and that the property was unalterably fixed by this disposition, yet the city could grant the subject of the trust with the assent of the legislature, subject only to the rights of creditors or their trustees, and the grantee would hold subject only to the trust; and the city could not enjoin a sale by the grantee, or interfere with his use, or possession, until the enforcement of the trust was necessary. San Francisco v. Beideman, 17 Cal. 443.

44. Oakland v. Oakland Water Front Co., 118 Cal. 160, 50 Pac. 277; Cincinnati v. McMicken, 6 Ohio Cir. Ct. 188, 3 Ohio Cir. Dec. 409.

Dedication of land for street.—A city, having power to lay out and open streets, and to acquire land for that purpose, has power to dedicate its own lands to such use, and to bind itself by covenant with its grantees of abutting lands that land so dedicated shall be forever kept as a public street. Story v. New York El. R. Co., 90 N. Y. 122, 43 Am. Rep. 146 [reversing 3 Abb. N. Cas. 478].

Dedication for public wharf.—In the absence of special restrictions a municipal corporation may make an irrevocable dedication of property to the public for the use of a public wharf. Illinois, etc., R., etc., Co. v. St. Louis, 12 Fed. Cas. No. 7,007, 2 Dill. 70.

Under an authority to sell any lands belonging to it, a municipal corporation was held not to be authorized to dedicate its timbered lands to the free and common use of its citizens, so as to prevent a sale by a subsequent council. Wright v. Victoria, 4 Tex. 375.

45. Mt. Sinai Hospital v. Hyman, 92 N. Y. App. Div. 270, 87 N. Y. Suppl. 276; Kent v. Dithridge, etc., Cut Glass Co., 10 Ohio Cir. Ct. 629, 5 Ohio Cir. Dec. 107.

Conveyance of land for erection of factory.—Where the authorities of a municipality, under an agreement with private parties, donated to them a large amount of the money of such municipality and a tract of land owned by it, in consideration of the erection by them of a factory in the municipality, it was held that the transaction was an unlawful diversion of the municipal property, and that the same could be recovered back from such private parties at the suit of the municipality. Kent v. Dithridge, etc., Cut Glass Co., 10 Ohio Cir. Ct. 529, 5 Ohio Cir. Dec. 107.

Grant of land to hospital.—A municipal corporation has no power to donate a part of its common lands to a private corporation organized for the maintenance of a hospital; and such a conveyance is not supported by a valuable consideration because of the fact that the land will be subject to taxation in the hands of a purchaser from the corporation. Mt. Sinai Hospital v. Hyman, 92 N. Y. App. Div. 270, 87 N. Y. Suppl. 276.

Conveyance or lease of schools.—A municipal corporation, having erected a school under charter authority, has no power to convey or lease the same to an individual or private corporation for the purpose of having a school taught therein for pay. Sherlock v. Winnetka, 68 Ill. 530.

Conveyance or lease to water company.—A city proceeding under the provisions of the statute authorizing it to grant a license to a water company to supply water to the city and its inhabitants has no power to either acquire a lot for the location of such private company, or to give it or its use to such company. Cain v. Wyoming, 104 Ill. App. 538.

Granting use of wharf.—Where property within the limits of a municipal corporation and along the bank of a navigable river has been dedicated to the public for the use of a wharf, and the municipal authorities are vested with the regulation and control of the uses of the property thus dedicated, they may by ordinance, in the absence of special restrictions, authorize the erection of a grain elevator thereon to facilitate the handling of grain at the wharf; but an ordinance by which municipal authorities undertake, without express legislative authority therefor, to surrender to a private corporation or person their control over the public wharf for a fixed period, as in the case of an ordinance giving to private persons the right to occupy a portion of the public wharf with a grain elevator company for fifty years without reserving the right to resume possession and regulate charges, is void. Illinois, etc., R., etc., Co. v. St. Louis, 12 Fed. Cas. No. 7,007, 2 Dill. 70. Compare supra, VIII, D, 3, c.

Ultra vires expenditures by way of donations or gratuities see infra, XV, A, 1, c, (III).

46. Allegheny v. Ohio, etc., R. Co., 26 Pa. St. 355, grant of right of way to railroad company.

constitutional provisions prevent such donations even under legislative authority.⁴⁷ In the absence of statutory authority a city cannot convey its real estate to the county in consideration of the location of the county-seat therein.⁴⁸ When a lawful grant, with clause of reversion, is made to a quasi-public corporation, which encumbers the land so granted, the creditors may subject the property to their claims, although it has reverted to the city.⁴⁹

5. ESTOPPEL OF MUNICIPALITY TO RECOVER PROPERTY OR ASSERT TITLE.⁵⁰ The courts have often applied the doctrine of estoppel to municipal corporations seeking to repudiate as unauthorized or invalid conveyances made of their property,⁵¹ or releases made by ordinance⁵² or by compromise;⁵³ or to claim title after repeated acts of recognition of title in another,⁵⁴ whereby it has received benefits or he has undergone expense. But there are cases refusing to apply the doctrine, some leaving the parties to their rights at law,⁵⁵ and others giving the municipality

47. Mt. Sinai Hospital v. Hyman, 92 N. Y. App. Div. 270, 87 N. Y. Suppl. 276.

Grant to hospital.—A grant by a city, pursuant to N. Y. Laws (1898), p. 770, c. 257, and Laws (1900), p. 372, c. 166, conveying a tract of land to a corporation incorporated under Laws (1848), p. 447, c. 319, and the acts amendatory thereof, and organized, as stated in its certificate of incorporation, to maintain a hospital for a particular nationality and creed, in consideration of the corporation pledging itself to apply the proceeds to the objects of the corporation as set forth in its certificate, was held void as in violation of N. Y. Const. art. 8, § 10, prohibiting any city from giving any property to or in aid of any individual, association, or corporation, except that it may make such provision for the aid or support of its poor as may be authorized by law. Mt. Sinai Hospital v. Hyman, 92 N. Y. App. Div. 270, 87 N. Y. Suppl. 276. Such a donation is also prohibited by N. Y. Const. art. 8, § 11, which provides for a state board of charities and declares that existing laws relating to charitable institutions shall remain in force, and section 14, which provides that nothing shall prevent the legislature from making provision for the education and support of the blind, dumb, etc., or prevent any city from providing for the care, etc., of inmates of orphan asylums, etc., under private or public control, but that no payments by cities to charitable institutions shall be made for any inmate thereof who is not received and retained therein pursuant to rules established by the state board of charities. Mt. Sinai Hospital v. Hyman, supra.

48. Brockman v. Creston, 79 Iowa 587, 44 N. W. 822.

49. In re New Orleans Auxiliary Sanitary Assoc., 109 La. 133, 33 So. 111.

50. See also ESTOPPEL, 16 Cyc. 714, 781.

51. Searcy v. Yarnell, 47 Ark. 269, 1 S. W. 319. See also San Francisco, etc., Land Co. v. Hartung, 138 Cal. 223, 71 Pac. 337; Gushee v. New York, 26 Misc. (N. Y.) 287, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 1002 [affirmed in 42 N. Y. App. Div. 37, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 967]. The law of estoppel applies to a municipal corporation precisely as it does to a natural person in all things pertaining to the proprietary rights of such corporation, and a municipal corporation which assents to the sale of its interests in a railroad, and silently permits the vendee to improve the railroad in accordance with the contract, is thereby precluded five years afterward from questioning the validity of the sale on the ground of ultra vires. Searcy v. Yarnell, supra. The informality in a sale of real property by a municipality, arising from the execution of the deed by the mayor rather than by a special commissioner, will not sustain ejectment by the municipality to recover back the land after the purchase-price has been received by the city, and the land occupied by the purchaser for nearly twenty years. Wright v. Morgan, 191 U. S. 55, 24 S. Ct. 6, 48 L. ed. 89 [affirming 106 Fed. 452, 45 C. C. A. 421].

52. Grant v. Davenport, 18 Iowa 179.

53. St. Louis v. St. Louis Gaslight Co., 70 Mo. 69 [reversing 5 Mo. App. 484].

54. Simplot v. Dubuque, 49 Iowa 630, 56 Iowa 639, 10 N. W. 221. In an action against a city for land claimed as public property it appeared that the land was triangular in shape, between diverging streets, and had never been traveled over as a street, except at a small point in the corner. Plaintiff had paid for paving the adjoining streets, and, after failing to fill in the lot, it was done by the city, and plaintiff was compelled to pay the expenses. It was held that plaintiff was entitled to the land. Simplot v. Dubuque, supra. Where a city has undertaken to convey property to one who had a prior equitable claim thereto, receiving the consideration demanded, and has for many years acquiesced in the ownership and possession of the grantee, the conveyance will be sustained by the courts, unless clearly illegal. Morgan v. Johnson, 106 Fed. 452, 45 C. C. A. 421 [affirmed in 191 U. S. 55, 24 S. Ct. 6, 48 L. ed. 89].

55. Markley v. Mineral City, 58 Ohio St. 430, 51 N. E. 28, 65 Am. St. Rep. 776; Beurhaus v. Cole, 94 Wis. 617, 69 N. W. 986. The fact that a city council, without complying with the law, attempted to grant a water right on condition that the grantee build a pier, will not estop the city from maintaining ejectment to recover the land with the pier. New York v. New York Cent., etc., R. Co., 69 Hun (N. Y.) 324, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 562 [affirmed in 147 N. Y. 710, 42 N. E. 724].

active relief;⁵⁶ and it has been held in a number of cases that the unauthorized levy and collection of taxes on property by the officers of a municipality will not estop it from asserting title to the property for the benefit of the public.⁵⁷

6. ESTOPPEL OF PURCHASER. A purchaser of municipal property at a sale invalid from fatal irregularity in proceedings is not estopped to seek relief from his purchase because of invalidity of the proceedings and of his title thereunder.⁵⁸

7. RATIFICATION OF INVALID CONVEYANCE. A sale and conveyance under a void ordinance is validated by due municipal recognition of such ordinance as valid, in an ordinance passed before such sale and conveyance.⁵⁹ But an invalid or unauthorized sale and conveyance is not made good by a ratification or act of recognition not in itself valid.⁶⁰ And it seems that a sale absolutely void cannot be ratified by the corporation.⁶¹ Nor does a legislative act, ratifying and confirming the ordinances of a town, validate an unauthorized sale by ordinance of valuable town property.⁶² Nor is a sale of municipal property made under a forged letter of authority validated by municipal action taken before disclosure of the forgery.⁶³ Where authority to do any particular act on the part of a municipal corporation can only be conferred by ordinance a ratification of such act can only be by ordinance.⁶⁴ An invalid sale requiring the authority of an ordinance cannot be validated by resolution.⁶⁵

8. PRESUMPTION OF AUTHORITY AND VALIDITY. The deed of a municipality for property formerly owned by it, which is duly executed by the proper officers with the essential tokens of validity, is presumptively authorized and valid,⁶⁶ and

When a city has not appropriated money paid its treasurer as the price of an unauthorized sale of its waterworks, the receipt thereof by the treasurer does not estop the city from recovering the property without repayment of the money. Huron Waterworks Co. v. Huron, 7 S. D. 9, 62 N. W. 975, 58 Am. St. Rep. 817, 30 L. R. A. 848, 8 S. D. 169, 65 N. W. 816, 30 L. R. A. 848.

56. McCracken v. San Francisco, 16 Cal. 591; Snyder v. Mt. Pulaski, 69 Ill. App. 474.

57. Iowa.—Des Moines Park Com'rs v. Taylor, 133 Iowa 453, 108 N. W. 927; Cedar Rapids v. Young, 119 Iowa 552, 93 N. W. 567. Compare Brandirff v. Harrison County, 50 Iowa 164.

Massachusetts.—Rossire v. Boston, 4 Allen 57.

Michigan.—Ellsworth v. Grand Rapids, 27 Mich. 250.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Gorman, 29 Mo. 593, 77 Am. Dec. 586.

New York.—McFarlane v. Kerr, 10 Bosw. 249.

58. McCracken v. San Francisco, 16 Cal. 591.

59. Holland v. San Francisco, 7 Cal. 361.

60. Where the ordinance which was claimed to have ratified an invalid one was passed within an hour of the time of making the sale, and, under the invalid ordinance, ten days' notice of the sale was required, it was held that the ratification at best could only take effect from the passage of the ratifying act, and therefore that the notice was insufficient and the sale void for that reason. McCracken v. San Francisco, 16 Cal. 591.

61. Branham v. San Jose, 24 Cal. 585; Pimental v. San Francisco, 21 Cal. 351; Grogan v. San Francisco, 18 Cal. 590. Ratification by a city of an illegal public sale of its property is in effect making a private sale, and does not cure the illegality, where, under the law, the sale could only be made in a public manner. Pimental v. San Francisco, supra. Where an ordinance for the sale of city property was illegal, for the reason that it was not passed by a majority vote of the board of aldermen, it was held that the only way in which the city council could authorize a sale was by the passage of a law authorizing it, and that the sale could not be validated and confirmed by the passage of a subsequent ordinance, making an appropriation of the money realized from the sale, and accepting the reports of the land commissioner and city treasurer in relation to such proceeds. Grogan v. San Francisco, supra; McCracken v. San Francisco, 16 Cal. 591.

62. Oakland v. Oakland Water Front Co., 118 Cal. 160, 50 Pac. 277.

The relinquishment of the title of the United States to the city of San Francisco, effected by the act of congress of July 1, 1870, relinquishing the interest of the United States in lands to the city and county of San Francisco, did not impart validity to the grant of the alcalde, prior to August, 1850, as the relinquishment effected by the act was on certain designated trusts, to be executed by the city; and the holders of the alcalde grants within the relinquished premises were not among those mentioned in the act. Nagle v. Palmer, 50 Cal. 641.

63. Easthampton v. Bowman, 136 N. Y. 521, 32 N. E. 987 [affirming 60 Hun 163, 14 N. Y. Suppl. 668].

64. McCracken v. San Francisco, 16 Cal. 591.

65. Laredo v. Macdonnell, 52 Tex. 511.

66. San Francisco, etc., Land Co. v. Hartung, 138 Cal. 223, 71 Pac. 337; Macon v. Dasher, 90 Ga. 195, 16 S. E. 75; Mason v.

will withstand collateral attack without the support of a record;⁶⁷ and the party attacking its validity must by clear proof exclude the legal presumptions in favor of official acts.⁶⁸

9. POWER TO PLEDGE OR MORTGAGE. Power to pledge or mortgage its property, personal or real, is not an inherent or implied power of a municipality;⁶⁹ but is included in the charter power to "sell, lease, or dispose of for the use of the city";⁷⁰ or to "hold . . . property . . . and convey it in any way whatever, and make all contracts deemed necessary for the welfare of the city."⁷¹ And power to purchase gives power to execute a mortgage in recognition and furtherance of the vendor's lien for the unpaid portion of the purchase-price,⁷² even when popular assent is essential to the validity of a conveyance of realty.⁷³

10. AUTHORITY OF OFFICERS AND AGENTS. The validity of a municipal sale or conveyance depends upon the authority conferred upon the officers or agents making or executing the same;⁷⁴ if it is beyond the scope of their authority it is void.⁷⁵ A deed cannot be refused to a purchaser at an auction sale because of a subsequent higher offer.⁷⁶ It has been held that where a resolution of a city council authorized the mayor to "make deed" of land, a covenant of general warranty contained in the deed executed by him in pursuance thereof was binding on the city, although not expressly authorized;⁷⁷ but on this question there is Mulholm, 6 Dana (Ky.) 140; Morrison v. Mc-Millan, 4 Litt. (Ky.) 210, 14 Am. Dec. 115. A deed from the city of St. Louis, executed under the authority given by the Missouri act of March 18, 1835, conveying, under the corporate seal, a part of the city commons, title to which had been obtained by the city under the act of congress of June 13, 1812, if regular on its face, was prima facie evidence that all the prerequisites of the act of March 18 had been complied with. Swartz v. Page, 13 Mo. 603. A municipal corporation having power by its charter to dispose of its lands, its deed therefor will be presumed to have been executed in pursuance of the power, and it is unnecessary for the grantor to show any special authority by resolution or ordinance. Cbouquette v. Barada, 33 Mo. 249.

67. Larned v. Jenkins, 113 Fed. 634, 51 C. C. A. 344.

68. Adams v. Dignowity, 8 Tex. Civ. App. 201, 28 S. W. 373.

69. Branham v. San Jose, 24 Cal. 585; Fidelity Trust, etc., Co. v. Fowler Water Co., 113 Fed. 560; Scott v. Shreveport, 20 Fed. 714. Where a town is authorized to construct bridges over a stream dividing its streets, it has no power to execute a deed of trust of the bridge to trustees, authorizing them to collect tolls, and pledging the bridge and the tolls for the payment of the debt created by its construction. Mullarky v. Cedar Falls, 19 Iowa 21.

Purchase of mortgaged property see supra, VIII, A, 7.

70. Adams v. Memphis, etc., R. Co., 2 Coldw. (Tenn.) 645.

71. Adams v. Rome, 59 Ga. 765.

72. Edey v. Shreveport, 26 La. Ann. 636.

73. Middleton Sav. Bank v. Dubuque, 15 Iowa 394.

74. Urch v. Portsmouth, 69 N. H. 162, 44 Atl. 112; Tiffin v. Shawhan, 43 Ohio St. 178, 1 N. E. 581. Since the validity of an instrument executed by officers of a municipal corporation depends on the authority conferred on them, where the common council directed a release to be given of its claim against an estate, it was held that the instrument executed could have no validity as an assignment. Paff v. Kinney, 1 Bradf. Surr. (N. Y.) 1. An ordinance of a city authorizing the mayor to sell lot or lots, block or blocks, of the city, does not empower him to sell property of the city that has not been laid off into lots or blocks. Laredo v. Macdonnell, 52 Tex. 511. Where plaintiff purchased from the board of trustees of a town a parcel of land under water, and the boundaries of the land sold were plainly defined, but the deed executed by the president of the board included in addition the land in controversy, it was held that the deed was void as to the land in controversy, since the president either made a mistake or exceeded his authority. De Forest v. Walters, 28 N. Y. Suppl. 831 [affirmed in 153 N. Y. 229, 47 N. E. 294].

Authority of controller to waive default of bidder at auction sale see Miller v. New York, 53 Barb. (N. Y.) 653.

Authority to grant pueblo lands of San Francisco.—Hart v. Burnett, 15 Cal. 530.

75. The execution of a special power to convey lands by a public officer must be in strict pursuance of the power, or no title is conveyed. Tiffin v. Shawhan, 43 Ohio St. 178, 1 N. E. 581. A deed executed by a committee authorized to execute in behalf of a municipal corporation is inoperative in so far as it purports to convey premises not authorized by the resolution directing the conveyance. Urch v. Portsmouth, 69 N. H. 162, 44 Atl. 112.

76. Kerr v. Philadelphia, 8 Phila. (Pa.) 292.

77. Abbott v. Galveston, 97 Tex. 474, 79 S. W. 1064 [reversing (Civ. App. 1903) 76 S. W. 214].

some conflict in the cases.⁷⁸ Where a city council refers a proposition to purchase city property to a committee "and the city solicitor, with power to act," such committee cannot make a contract with a proposed purchaser, which is binding on the city, without the concurrence of the city solicitor.⁷⁹

11. REQUISITES AND VALIDITY OF SALE OR LEASE. In the many incongruous decisions in regard to the validity of municipal sales and leases, there seems to be general recognition of the following as essential elements: (1) General or special power from the state to the municipality to sell or lease;⁸⁰ (2) valid legislative action by the municipality directing the sale or lease;⁸¹ (3) exercise of function by the board or officer thereunto authorized;⁸² (4) substantial compliance with the mandatory provisions for the sale;⁸³ (5) good faith and freedom from

78. See, generally, PRINCIPAL AND AGENT.

79. Beal v. Roanoke, 90 Va. 77, 17 S. E. 738.

80. Bowlin v. Furman, 28 Mo. 427.

Exchange or compromise.—Where an act vested in the trustees of a city certain school lands, with power to sell and convey, the city might convey such lands by way of exchange or compromise. Bowlin v. Furman, 28 Mo. 427.

Reconveyance by town on breach of condition.—Where a charter subsequent to a conveyance of realty to a town, subject to condition that the corporation shall keep it in repair for the specific purpose of maintaining a public school, empowers the mayor and aldermen to hold real estate and convey it, a deed afterward made by the mayor, under an order of the board of mayor and aldermen, reconveying the property on a breach of the condition, is valid. McGehee v. Woodville, 59 Miss. 648.

Sale in blocks.—It is not unlawful to sell property constituting the drainage fund of a city in blocks, when it appears that to survey and subdivide it would be very expensive, and without substantial benefit. New Orleans v. Peake, 52 Fed. 74, 2 C. C. A. 626.

Sale of fee in streets.—The fact that property constituting the drainage fund of a city was advertised and sold by a receiver under an order of court in blocks intersected by public streets does not show that the court either ordered or approved a sale of the fee in the streets, when it appears that the sale was in the same lots or blocks existing when the city acquired title, and when the property was transferred to the receiver by the notarial act, and that a large plat, showing the position of the streets, was exhibited at the sale, thus charging the purchasers with notice of their location. New Orleans v. Peake, 52 Fed. 74, 2 C. C. A. 626.

81. Grogan v. San Francisco, 18 Cal. 590; Holland v. San Francisco, 7 Cal. 361.

To authorize a lease of the real estate owned by the town of Phillipsburg, to be made to a private person, the common council must first pass an ordinance directing such lease to be executed. It cannot be done by resolution. Shimer v. Phillipsburg, 58 N. J. L. 506, 33 Atl. 852.

82. Mackin v. Chicago, 93 Ill. 105. A sale of land in the city of San Francisco, by a portion of the board of commissioners of the funded debt, does not pass a legal title on which ejection can be maintained. A majority may control, yet all must meet and consult, or have notice of the meeting, that they may attend if they desire. A general resolution passed by the whole board, a year before, that they would sell all the city property to pay its debts, will not give validity to the sale of a particular lot subsequently made, in pursuance of a resolution adopted by the board, when two of the five were absent. Leonard v. Darlington, 6 Cal. 123. Where an act of incorporation gave the trustees of a city the power to sell and dispose of its school lands, the trustees having a legal, although defeasible, title, such title becomes absolute in their vendee in a court of law. Bowlin v. Furman, 28 Mo. 427. Where a city council refers a proposition to purchase city property to "the sewer committee and city solicitor, with power to act," such sewer committee cannot make a contract with a proposed purchaser, which is binding on the city, without the concurrence of the city solicitor. Beal v. Roanoke, 90 Va. 77, 17 S. E. 738.

Approval of mayor.—Under Pa. Act (1887), § 12 (Pamphl. Laws 395), giving councils of cities of the second class full power to provide by ordinance for the sale of property held for the use of the poor, where an ordinance has been passed, and been approved by the mayor, directing a sale, prescribing the terms and conditions of sale, and the duties of the city officers in the premises, and providing finally for the approval and acceptance of the bid by the city councils, the resolution of the councils approving and accepting a bid is not such "legislative action" as under the statute requires the approval of the mayor. Straub v. Pittsburgh, 138 Pa. St. 356, 22 Atl. 93.

A lease made during the military occupation of New Orleans by the United States army, by the mayor appointed by the general commanding the department, pursuant to a resolution of the boards of finance and of street landings, conveying certain water front property in the city for a certain term, was sustained as a fair and reasonable exercise of the power vested in the military mayor and the two boards. New Orleans v. New York Mail Steamship Co., 20 Wall. (U. S.) 387, 22 L. ed. 354.

83. San Francisco, etc., R. Co. v. Oakland, fraud;⁸⁴ and (6) municipal compliance with covenants.⁸⁵ There are special instances of sales held valid, because of general fairness in method and result, which fell short of meeting these requirements;⁸⁶ but they are not safe precedents.⁸⁷ The authorized officer or board may employ an agent or auctioneer to conduct the sale.⁸⁸ And where the statute gives direct authority to a board or officer to sell, municipal legislation is not necessary.⁸⁹

12. REQUISITES TO VALID DEED. By the common law a corporation could "act and speak only by its common seal."⁹⁰ And the proper form for a municipal deed or lease is in the corporate name, signed by the mayor, and sealed with corporate seal, affixed and attested by the recorder or other proper officer.⁹¹ But under 43 Cal. 502. Under a city charter giving power to resell and dispose of real estate of the city for the benefit of the city the power to make a deed of trust, with power to the trustees to sell the estate as they may deem advisable, is not included. Smith v. Morse, 2 Cal. 524.

84. Schanck v. New York, 69 N. Y. 444 [affirming 10 Hun 124].

Error of judgment.—Under N. Y. Laws (1873), c. 335, § 18, prohibiting the common council of New York from leasing its lands "save at a reasonable rent," it was held that a lease by the common council would not, in the absence of fraud, be adjudged invalid on account of an error of judgment as to what constituted a reasonable rent. Schanck v. New York, 69 N. Y. 444 [affirming 10 Hun 124].

Sale to other than the highest bidder.—Where the action of a municipal corporation in selling real estate of the corporation to a person other than the highest bidder is called into question, it is sufficient if the court find that the council acted in perfect good faith, and that they had reasons before them which they might reasonable have considered good and sufficient to justify their action. Phillips v. Belleville, 11 Ont. L. Rep. 256.

85. Donelson v. Weakley, 3 Yerg. (Tenn.) 178.

86. Newbold v. Glenn, 67 Md. 489, 10 Atl. 242; McGehee v. Woodville, 59 Miss. 648; New Orleans v. Peake, 52 Fed. 74, 2 C. C. A. 626.

Notice of sale.—Where the mayor and city council of Baltimore sold certain property belonging to the city at private sale without complying with the statute authorizing the sale of the city property, which required notice of such proposed sale to be given in a newspaper printed in Baltimore city once a week for three successive weeks, it was held that as the property was sold for its full value, in the absence of fraud or collusion such sale was valid, and vested a good title in the purchaser. Newbold v. Glenn, 67 Md. 489, 10 Atl. 242.

87. In the Maryland case of Newbold v. Glenn, 67 Md. 489, 10 Atl. 242, is an illustration of particular justice done to all parties not according to law, but in violation of a mandatory statute enacted to insure fairness and publicity in sales of municipal property and to prevent collusion. This exception to legal rules is sometimes made by courts of equity, but cannot be relied on as precedents to be followed even in similar cases.

88. White v. Moses, 21 Cal. 34. A sale made at auction by the controller, and afterward clothed with the formalities of an authentic act, cannot be annulled on the ground that the adjudication was made by a person who was not regularly licensed as an auctioneer. Schwartz v. Thirty-Two Flatboats, 14 La. Ann. 243. Under Pa. Act, May 13, 1856, § 25, authorizing the councils of Philadelphia to sell the real estate vested in the city, with the qualification that such sale should not involve a sacrifice of price of such property, the councils on making a sale of city property were not performing executive duties, and might employ an auctioneer, although other offers at a lower commission were made. Conly v. Philadelphia, 2 Phila. (Pa.) 194.

89. Morgan v. Johnson, 106 Fed. 452, 45 C. C. A. 421 [affirmed in 191 U. S. 55, 24 S. Ct. 6, 43 L. ed. 89].

90. 1 Blackstone Comm. 475.

91. Young v. Mahoning, 53 Fed. 805 [citing Sheehan v. Davis, 17 Ohio St. 571], holding that Ohio Rev. St. (1880) § 4106, requiring that every deed shall be signed and sealed by the grantor or maker, does not apply to deeds made by municipal corporations, which are sufficient, if executed as required at common law; and hence a deed is sufficient in which the testatum clause reads as follows: "In witness whereof the said city of Youngstown and the city council have caused William M. Osborn, mayor aforesaid, to subscribe his name, and have caused the corporate seal of said city to be affixed, to these presents. William M. Osborn, Mayor. [City of Youngstown Seal.]"

Deed by city clerk.—Under Ohio Rev. St. § 1746, confiding in the mayor the execution of such writings as the corporation may be called upon to issue, a deed of land owned by a city, which it has power to convey, signed by the city clerk, sealed with his private scroll seal and his official seal as city clerk, and made under the authority of an ordinance, in form authorizing him to execute "a proper deed of conveyance, under the corporate seal of said city," is ineffectual to convey to a purchaser the city's title to such land. Tiffin v. Shawhan, 43 Ohio St. 178, 1 N. E. 581.

Lease.—Where a lease by a municipality is under the corporate seal, affixed by the proper officer, it is sufficient prima facie to modern statutes and modern decisions the rigors of the common law have been abated, and much less now satisfies legal requirement.⁹² It has been held that the corporate seal is not an essential requisite to a valid deed;⁹³ nor signature by the mayor;⁹⁴ nor operative words of conveyance in the name of the corporation;⁹⁵ but that under valid authority from the council, another officer than the mayor may execute the deed;⁹⁶ and even that officers, agents, or committees may, under proper authorization, make the deed in their own name.⁹⁷ They must, however, be identified as the officers or persons so authorized,⁹⁸ which may be done by recitals and certificate;⁹⁹ and it seems that reference to the municipal record of authority may be sufficient without incorporating or reciting the same in the deed.¹ A deed or lease by a municipal officer must be, in its terms and otherwise, within the ordinance, resolution, or other authority under which it is executed.² The deed of a board may be signed by its chairman;³ but commissioners or agents, unorganized, must all sign the deed,⁴ except where otherwise provided by statute.⁵

13. CURATIVE STATUTES. Municipal deeds, inoperative because of defects or omissions in form or execution, may be validated by curative statutes, general or special, enacted before or after the date of the deeds.⁶ show the authority for its execution. Crescent City Wharf, etc., Co. v. Simpson, 77 Cal. 286, 19 Pac. 426. It is not necessary that the lessee shall affix his seal to the lease. His acceptance may be shown by his claiming under it, occupying the premises and paying rent. Crescent City Wharf, etc., Co. v. Simpson, supra.

92. New York v. Kent, 57 N. Y. Super. Ct. 109, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 567.

Under Me. Rev. St. c. 12, § 43, giving power to the trustees of a town to convey the school lands belonging to and lying in the town, and providing that the treasurer's deeds thereof, duly executed by order of the trustees, should pass the estate, and chapter 73, section 14, declaring that a deed of release in the usual form will convey the estate which the grantor has and can convey by deed or any other form, it was held that, in the absence of fraud and collusion, a deed executed by such acting treasurer of the trustees by their order, purporting to convey all the right, title, and interest of the trustees in the school lands of the town, conveyed whatever title there was vested in the inhabitants of the town in the land described. Abbott v. Chase, 75 Me. 83.

Recital of officer's authority.—Under Cal. Act, March 24, 1870 (Laws 1869–1870, p. 353), enacted to expedite the settlement of land titles in San Francisco, and providing that on an award of lands to a petitioner and publication of notice, the mayor, on receiving proof of publication, “is hereby authorized and empowered to execute, acknowledge, and deliver to the [petitioners] a deed of conveyance . . . and attach thereto the corporate seal of the city and county of San Francisco,” it was held that the deed should be regarded, not as that of an officer under a power to convey, but as the deed of the municipality itself, so that no recital of the officer's authority was necessary to validate it. San Francisco, etc., Land Co. v. Hartung, 138 Cal. 223, 71 Pac. 337.

93. Gordon v. San Diego, 101 Cal. 522, 36 Pac. 18, 40 Am. St. Rep. 73, (1893) 32 Pac. 885.

94. Morgan v. Johnson, 106 Fed. 452, 45 C. C. A. 421 [affirmed in 191 U. S. 55, 24 S. Ct. 6, 48 L. ed. 89].

95. See Morgan v. Johnson, 106 Fed. 452, 45 C. C. A. 421 [affirmed in 191 U. S. 55, 24 S. Ct. 6, 48 L. ed. 89].

96. Nobleboro v. Clark, 68 Me. 87, 28 Am. Rep. 22.

97. Nobleboro v. Clark, 68 Me. 87, 28 Am. Rep. 22; McDonald v. Schneider, 27 Mo. 405; Proprietors' School Fund Appeal, 2 Walk. (Pa.) 37.

98. Wallace v. Dewey, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,099, 3 McLean 548.

99. Proprietors' School Fund Appeal, 2 Walk. (Pa.) 37.

1. San Francisco, etc., Land Co. v. Hartung, 138 Cal. 223, 71 Pac. 337.

2. A deed from a municipality to a person incorrectly described as the bishop of Colorado, habendum to him, his heirs, and assigns, is within the authority conferred by a resolution of the common council, granting the petition of the grantee, who was the Roman Catholic bishop of Denver, for a conveyance to him and his successors in office. Wright v. Morgan, 191 U. S. 55, 24 S. Ct. 6, 48 L. ed. 89 [affirming 106 Fed. 452, 45 C. C. A. 421].

3. Wells v. Pressy, 105 Mo. 164, 16 S. W. 670; Tigh v. Chouquette, 21 Mo. 233; Reilly v. Chouquette, 18 Mo. 220.

4. Carleton v. Darcy, 46 N. Y. Super. Ct. 484. But where a committee of a municipal corporation was empowered to lease certain lands of the corporation, a lease signed by a majority of such committee was held sufficient. Providence School Fund Appeal, 2 Walk. (Pa.) 37.

5. Westchester v. Davis, 7 Hun (N. Y.) 647.

6. Rousset v. Reay, 60 Cal. 328; Friedman v. Nelson, 53 Cal. 589; Ellis v. Eastman, 38

14. PAYMENT. Where the terms of sale of municipal property, real or personal, are not prescribed in the act of authority, credit may be given in the discretion of the agency effecting the sale;⁷ but unless specially authorized, only money, either in hand or on time, can be accepted as the consideration.⁸

15. RIGHT TO RENEWAL OF LEASE. A lessee cannot have specific performance of a contract for renewal of a municipal lease, contrary to the statute or public policy of the state.⁹

16. RIGHT OF PURCHASER TO RECOVER ON INVALID OR UNAUTHORIZED SALE. The right of a purchaser of municipal property at an invalid sale to recover purchase-money from the municipality has been sustained, where the ordinance was not duly enacted,¹⁰ and the money received was appropriated to municipal purposes,¹¹ but denied where the sale was ultra vires.¹²

E. Effect of Want of Power to Acquire or Dispose of Property¹³ —

1. WANT OF POWER TO ACQUIRE. An ultra vires contract by a municipal corporation to purchase and take property, real or personal, or to pay therefor, is absolutely void and cannot be enforced against the corporation,¹⁴ even though it has received a conveyance and had possession and use of the property;¹⁵ but where a municipal corporation having power under its charter to acquire and hold real estate for some purposes takes a conveyance of property for an unauthorized purpose, although the transaction is ultra vires, the deed is not void, but vests the title in the corporation, and its power to hold the property can be questioned only by the state in a direct proceeding for that purpose.¹⁶ The same rule applies to a devise to a municipal corporation which is authorized to acquire and hold real estate for

Cal. 195; Providence School Fund Appeal, 2 Walk. (Pa.) 37. See also supra, IV, H, 2; infra, IX, 1, 2.

7. People v. Middleton, 14 Cal. 540; Cincinnati v. Dexter, 55 Ohio St. 93, 44 N. E. 520; Newark v. Elliott, 5 Ohio St. 113.

8. Cleveland v. State Bank, 16 Ohio St. 236, 88 Am. Dec. 445. But where stock in a railroad company, to which a town had subscribed, was sold to one W at par, and W, by the direction of the town's agents, paid to the company the amount claimed by it for interest, and gave to the agents of the town his check for the balance due, which the agents were to hold until the stock was transferred to W, on the books of the company, it was held that the transaction with W was not violative of the act of 1857, requiring sale of the stock to be for cash. Gould v. Oneonta, 71 N. Y. 298.

9. New York, etc., Ferry Co. v. New York, 146 N. Y. 145, 40 N. E. 785.

10. Pimental v. San Francisco, 21 Cal. 351; Grogan v. San Francisco, 18 Cal. 590.

11. Herzo v. San Francisco, 33 Cal. 134.

12. Weekes v. Galveston, 21 Tex. Civ. App. 102, 51 S. W. 544. If the treasurer of a municipal corporation receives money arising from the sale of city property, which sale was void for want of authority on the part of the city to make it, this is the unauthorized act of the agent of the city, and he alone is liable. The purchaser cannot recover the money from the city. Herzo v. San Francisco, 33 Cal. 134.

13. Injunction against acquisition or disposition of property see INJUNCTIONS, 22 Cyc. 879 et seq.

Right of purchaser to recover back price see supra, VIII, D, 16.

14. Eufaula v. McNab, 67 Ala. 588, 42 Am. Rep. 118; Von Schmidt v. Widber, 105 Cal. 151, 38 Pac. 682; Strahan v. Malvern, 77 Iowa 454, 42 N. W. 369. See infra, IX, A, 5; IX, H.

15. Eufaula v. McNab, 67 Ala. 588, 42 Am. Rep. 118.

16. California.—Natoma Water, etc., Co. v. Clarkin, 14 Cal. 544.

Illinois.—Champaign v. Harmon, 98 Ill. 491. See Alexander v. Tolleston Club, 110 Ill. 65, 72.

Indiana.—Holten v. Lake County, 55 Ind. 194; Hayward v. Davidson, 41 Ind. 212.

Massachusetts.—See Com. v. Wilder, 127 Mass. 1, 6; Worcester v. Eaton, 13 Mass. 371, 7 Am. Dec. 155.

Missouri.—Hafner v. St. Louis, 161 Mo. 34, 61 S. W. 632; Land v. Coffman, 50 Mo. 243; Chambers v. St. Louis, 29 Mo. 543.

New Hampshire.—Gilbert v. Berlin, 70 N. H. 396, 48 Atl. 279.

Oregon.—Raley v. Umatilla County, 15 Ore. 172, 13 Pac. 890, 3 Am. St. Rep. 142.

Tennessee.—See Barrow v. Nashville, etc., Turnpike Co., 9 Humphr. 304 [cited in Seagrigh v. Payne, 2 Tenn. Ch. 175, 180].

To the contrary see Riley v. Rochester, 9 N. Y. 64 [reversing 13 Barb. 321]; Markley v. Mineral City, 58 Ohio St. 430, 51 N. E. 28, 65 Am. St. Rep. 776.

Cancellation of deed.—Where a municipal corporation has power to purchase land for corporate purposes, and a purchase is made, and in doing so the common council designed to pervert it to private purposes, that affords no ground for canceling the deed, as the parties could not be placed in statu quo. The vendor could not be compelled to pay for the buildings and other improvements placed some purposes.¹⁷ If, however, the charter of a municipal corporation forbids that it acquire and hold real estate, so that there is a want of capacity to take and hold the same for any purpose, then a conveyance or devise to the corporation can pass no title, and the want of capacity may be raised by any person interested.¹⁸ Where a gift of property to a municipal corporation is made on a condition subsequent which the corporation has no power to perform, the gift fails;¹⁹ and if a corporation has no power to hold property in trust it cannot maintain an action to recover property dedicated to it in trust.²⁰ However, the incapacity of the corporation to take and hold as trustee does not invalidate the trust.²¹

2. WANT OF POWER TO DISPOSE. It has been held that if a municipal corporation sells and conveys property without complying with the statutory prerequisites the conveyance is not merely voidable but absolutely void, and vests no right, title, or interest in the grantee.²² On the other hand, it has been held that a municipal corporation which assents to the sale of its proprietary interests, accepts, converts, and retains the consideration, and silently permits the purchaser to better and improve what he has bought, is thereby precluded from afterward questioning the validity of the sale;²³ and that where a municipal corporation has undertaken to purchase and acquire title to land and to convey it to a person on consideration that he will build and operate manufactories within its limits, and afterward brings its action against such person to set aside the conveyance and obtain a reconveyance of the property with possession thereof, a court of equity will not lend its aid to either party, but will leave them where they have placed themselves.²⁴

IX. CONTRACTS.

A. Capacity and Power to Contract — 1. IN GENERAL. It is intended here to treat generally only of municipal contracts and the principles governing their validity, construction, and effect, and of particular contracts not treated elsewhere. Various other contracts and questions relating to contracts are fully treated under other headings as shown in the note.²⁵ thereon, and it would be inequitable for him to get them without paying therefor. Sherlock v. Winnetka, 59 Ill. 389.

17. Hayward v. Davidson, 41 Ind. 212; Chambers v. St. Louis, 29 Mo. 543; Vidal v. Girard, 2 How. (U. S.) 127, 11 L. ed. 205.

If land is devised to a municipal corporation in trust, and the trusts are in themselves valid, but the corporation incompetent to execute them, the heirs of the devisor could not take advantage of such inability; it could only be done by the state in its sovereign capacity, by a quo warranto or other proper judicial proceeding. Girard v. Philadelphia, 7 Wall. (U. S.) 1, 19 L. ed. 53; Vidal v. Girard, 2 How. (U. S.) 127, 11 L. ed. 205.

18. Hayward v. Davidson, 41 Ind. 212.

19. Bullard v. Shirley, 153 Mass. 559, 27 N. E. 766, 12 L. R. A. 110.

20. Maysville v. Wood, 102 Ky. 263, 43 S. W. 403, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1292, 80 Am. St. Rep. 355, 39 L. R. A. 93.

21. Hatheway v. Sackett, 32 Mich. 97 (holding that whether or not there be a present lack of power in the corporation fitly to administer the trust is immaterial in a suit at law to obtain possession of the trust fund, since if when the fund is reduced to possession further power is needed to enable the corporation to carry out the trust, it is competent for the legislature to grant it);

Chapin v. Winchester School Dist. No. 2, 35 N. H. 445; Bell County v. Alexander, 22 Tex. 350, 73 Am. Dec. 268; Vidal v. Girard, 2 How. (U. S.) 127, 11 L. ed. 205; Handley v. Palmer, 91 Fed. 948, the last four cases holding that the court will appoint a new trustee. And see CHARITIES, 6 Cyc. 935. See, however, Jackson v. Hartwell, 8 Johns. (N. Y.) 422, holding that a court of law cannot sustain a deed to a municipal corporation on a trust foreign to the corporation's object, as such a court has no power to appoint another trustee.

22. Herzo v. San Francisco, 33 Cal. 134; Pimental v. San Francisco, 21 Cal. 351; Grogan v. San Francisco, 18 Cal. 590; McCracken v. San Francisco, 16 Cal. 591.

23. Searcy v. Yarnell, 47 Ark. 269, 1 S. W. 319. See supra, VIII, D, 5.

24. Markley v. Mineral City, 58 Ohio St. 430, 51 N. E. 28, 65 Am. St. Rep. 776.

25. Power to incur debt and expenditure see infra, XV, A.

Limitation of amount see infra, XV, A, 3. Aid to corporations and stock subscriptions see infra, XV, A, 5.

Administration, appropriation, and payments see infra, XV, B.

Warrants and certificates of indebtedness see infra, XV, B, 2.

Bonds, promissory notes, and other securities see infra, XV, C.

2. INHERENT POWER.²⁶ A municipality, because it is "a body corporate and politic,"²⁷ has an inherent power to enter into contracts, just as has a private corporation.²⁸ This faculty to contract is an essential feature of its life, without which it could not exercise its functions or serve the purpose of its existence.²⁹ To this inherent power to contract may be referred all municipal contracts essential to the life of the corporation,³⁰ as a self-governing community and a local instrumentality of the sovereign for the general purposes of government;³¹ and this faculty it may exercise with the state,³² as well as with natural persons and with other corporations,³³ as in the case of a lease of court rooms to the state or a purchase of land from it.³⁴

3. EXPRESS POWER.³⁵ A municipal charter usually contains a grant of express power to contract in regard to various subjects, many of which are embraced within the inherent capacity of a municipality; and therefore as to these it is a mere declaration of existing right.³⁶ But in regard to others beyond the scope of the inherent powers, the corporation receives its faculty to contract from the expression of the charter,³⁷ as in the case of the power to buy waterworks³⁸ or to contract for electric lights.³⁹

4. IMPLIED POWER.⁴⁰ The third class of contractual powers are those not expressly granted but naturally inferable from the grant of certain powers or the imposition of certain duties, which could not be exercised or performed without Compensation of officers, agents, and employees see supra, VII, A, 13; VII, B; VII, C, 6.

Legislative control see supra, IV, H, I.

Municipal expenses see infra, X.

Contracts relating to public improvements see infra, XIII, C.

Power to purchase or lease property see supra, VIII, A-C.

Power to sell or lease property see supra, VIII, D.

Power to mortgage or pledge property see supra, VIII, D, 9.

26. Inherent powers see supra, III, B, 2, b.

27. East Tennessee University v. Knoxville, 6 Baxt. (Tenn.) 166.

28. Alabama.—Montgomery County v. Barber, 45 Ala. 237.

Georgia.—Rome v. Cabot, 28 Ga. 50.

Illinois.—Galena v. Corwith, 48 Ill. 423, 95 Am. Dec. 557.

Indiana.—Indianapolis v. Indianapolis Gas-Light, etc., Co., 66 Ind. 396.

Kansas.—Wyandotte v. Zeitz, 21 Kan. 649.

Louisiana.—Prather v. New Orleans, 24 La. Ann. 41; Seibrecht v. New Orleans, 12 La. Ann. 496.

Michigan.—Rae v. Flint, 51 Mich. 526, 16 N. W. 887.

Nevada.—Douglass v. Virginia City, 5 Nev. 147.

New York.—Ketchum v. Buffalo, 14 N. Y. 356; Pullman v. New York, 54 Barb. 169.

Ohio.—Straus v. Eagle Ins. Co., 5 Ohio St. 59.

Oregon.—Portland Lumbering, etc., Co. v. East Portland, 18 Ore. 21, 22 Pac. 536, 6 L. R. A. 290.

Pennsylvania.—Williamsport v. Com., 84 Pa. St. 487, 24 Am. Rep. 208.

Tennessee.—East Tennessee University v. Knoxville, 6 Baxt. 166.

Vermont.—Royalton v. Royalton, etc., Turnpike Co., 14 Vt. 311.

Virginia.—Jones v. Richmond, 18 Gratt. 517, 98 Am. Dec. 695.

Wisconsin.—Miller v. Milwaukee, 14 Wis. 642.

The power to contract "inheres in every corporation, and is coextensive with its corporate powers." Portland Lumbering, etc., Co. v. East Portland, 18 Ore. 21, 22 Pac. 536, 6 L. R. A. 290. In the absence of statutory restrictions, a municipal corporation has the same general powers with other corporations, to make contracts in furtherance of corporate objects. Pullman v. New York, 54 Barb. (N. Y.) 169.

29. Ketchum v. Buffalo, 14 N. Y. 356.

30. Douglass v. Virginia City, 5 Nev. 147.

31. Philadelphia v. Fox, 64 Pa. St. 169; East Tennessee University v. Knoxville, 6 Baxt. (Tenn.) 166; Nashville v. Ray, 19 Wall. (U. S.) 468, 22 L. ed. 164.

32. Louisville v. Louisville University, 15 B. Mon. (Ky.) 642.

33. Pullman v. New York, 54 Barb. (N. Y.) 169.

34. A city, although itself a civil institution, created to be employed to some extent as the instrument of the government, is not the government itself, but a distinct, although subordinate, being, capable of making contracts even with the state. Louisville v. Louisville University, 15 B. Mon. (Ky.) 642.

35. Express powers see supra, III, B, 2, c.

36. Cooley Const. Lim. 195.

37. McCoy v. Briant, 53 Cal. 247; Lafayette v. Cox, 5 Ind. 38; Com. v. Erie, etc., R. Co., 27 Pa. St. 339, 67 Am. Dec. 471.

38. Rome v. Cabot, 28 Ga. 50; Burlington Water-Works Co. v. Burlington, 43 Kan. 725, 23 Pac. 1068.

39. Lott v. Waycross, (Ga. 1890) 11 S. E. 553; Newport v. Newport Light Co., 84 Ky. 166.

40. Implied powers generally see supra, III, B, 2, d.

the making of contracts.⁴¹ A municipal corporation has the power, unless in some way restricted by charter or statute, to enter into any contract and incur any debt necessary to enable it to carry out the particular powers expressly or impliedly conferred upon it,⁴² and it has the right to adopt all the ordinary or usual means which may be necessary to the full execution and enjoyment of such power.⁴³

5. LIMITATIONS UPON POWER TO CONTRACT. Of course a municipal corporation has no power to enter into or bind itself by any contract which is expressly prohibited by its charter or by general law.⁴⁴ Nor has it any power, in the absence of express authority, to enter into any contract which is either foreign to the objects for which it was created or not necessary to enable it to carry out the powers conferred upon it.⁴⁵ The enumeration in the general statute for the incorporation of cities of certain powers which would belong to the corporation without such specific enumeration is merely a declaration of a preëxisting power, or of a power which is inherent in the nature of a municipal corporation, and which is essential to enable it to accomplish the end for which it was created. Such enumeration of powers, although it includes a portion of those usually implied, does not necessarily operate as a limitation of corporate powers by excluding those not enumer-

41. See the cases cited in the notes following.

42. California.—Maurer v. Weatherby, 1 Cal. App. 243, 81 Pac. 1083.

Georgia.—Wells v. Atlanta, 43 Ga. 67.

Illinois.—East St. Louis v. East St. Louis Gas Light, etc., Co., 98 Ill. 415, 38 Am. Rep. 97; New Athens v. Thomas, 82 Ill. 259; Galena v. Corwith, 48 Ill. 423, 95 Am. Dec. 557.

Indiana.—Leeds v. Richmond, 102 Ind. 372, 1 N. E. 711.

Michigan.—Goodrich v. Detroit, 12 Mich. 279.

Missouri.—Webb City, etc., Waterworks Co. v. Webb City, 78 Mo. App. 422.

Nebraska.—Kelly v. Broadwell, 3 Nebr. (Unoff.) 617, 92 N. W. 643.

Nevada.—Douglass v. Virginia City, 5 Nev. 147.

New York.—Ketchum v. Buffalo, 14 N. Y. 356; Pullman v. New York, 54 Barb. 169. See also Messenger v. Buffalo, 21 N. Y. 196.

Texas.—Dwyer v. Brenham, 65 Tex. 526; Galveston v. Loonie, 54 Tex. 517.

Virginia.—Richmond, etc., Land, etc., Co. v. West Point, 94 Va. 668, 27 S. E. 460.

Wisconsin.—Manske v. Milwaukee, 123 Wis. 172, 101 N. W. 377; Miller v. Milwaukee, 14 Wis. 642.

United States.—Riverside, etc., R. Co. v. Riverside, 118 Fed. 736; Los Angeles City Water Co. v. Los Angeles, 88 Fed. 720.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 644 et seq. And see supra, III, B, 2, d.

43. St. Louis v. St. Louis Gas-Light Co., 5 Mo. App. 484; Douglass v. Virginia City, 5 Nev. 147; State v. Jersey City, 34 N. J. L. 390; McDonald v. New York, 68 N. Y. 23, 23 Am. Rep. 144; Ketchum v. Buffalo, 14 N. Y. 356. And see supra, III, E.

Mode of contracting see infra, IX, G.

44. California.—McCoy v. Briant, 53 Cal. 247.

Iowa.—Weitz v. Des Moines Independent Dist., 79 Iowa 423, 44 N. W. 696.

Michigan.—Niles Water-Works v. Niles, 59 Mich. 311, 26 N. W. 525.

Texas.—Ferguson v. Halsell, 47 Tex. 421.

United States.—Ft. Scott v. W. G. Eads Brokerage Co., 117 Fed. 51, 54 C. C. A. 437. See also supra, III, D; infra, IX, F, G, H. Limitation as to amount of indebtedness see infra, XV, A, 3.

45. Alabama.—Cleveland School Furniture Co. v. Greenville, 146 Ala. 559, 41 So. 862; New Decatur v. Berry, 90 Ala. 432, 7 So. 838, 24 Am. St. Rep. 827; Eufaula v. McNab, 67 Ala. 588, 42 Am. Rep. 118.

California.—Higgins v. San Diego, (1896) 45 Pac. 824.

Georgia.—Covington, etc., R. Co. v. Athens, 85 Ga. 367, 11 S. E. 663.

Michigan.—Tucker v. Grand Rapids, 104 Mich. 621, 62 N. W. 1013.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Davidson, 102 Mo. 149, 14 S. W. 825, 22 Am. St. Rep. 764; Cheaney v. Brookfield, 60 Mo. 53.

New Hampshire.—Concord v. Boscawen, 17 N. H. 465.

New York.—Sillcocks v. New York, 11 Hun 431; Gamble v. Watkins, 7 Hun 448.

Pennsylvania.—Bloomsburg Land Imp. Co. v. Bloomsburg Borough, 215 Pa. St. 452, 64 Atl. 602 [affirming 31 Pa. Co. Ct. 609]; Shroder v. Lancaster, 6 Lanc. Bar 201.

Washington.—Farwell v. Seattle, 43 Wash. 141, 86 Pac. 217.

United States.—Ottawa v. Carey, 108 U. S. 110, 2 S. Ct. 361, 27 L. ed. 669; Ft. Scott v. W. G. Eads Brokerage Co., 117 Fed. 51, 54 C. C. A. 437.

See also supra, III, B, 1; III, D, 4.

The invalidity of contracts because ultra vires is more strictly maintained in favor of municipal corporations than of private corporations. Mobile v. Moog, 53 Ala. 561.

Acquiescence by citizens in construction of charter.—When contracts have been made, acts done, and labor performed in pursuance of a construction of a city charter, acquiesced in by all its citizens, such an interpretation will be sustained if justified by any possible reading of the statutes. Memated.⁴⁶ A contract by a municipality to perform a public duty is ultra vires and void.⁴⁷ And a municipality cannot make contracts which will embarrass or control its legislative powers and duties.⁴⁸ But it has been held, with some hesitation, that where public duty does not interfere with private service, a city may make a valid contract to use its instrumentalities and employees in the latter; and, in case of a breach by it of such a contract, it becomes liable like a private contractor.⁴⁹

6. PARTICULAR CONTRACTS — a. Public Improvements Generally. Where a municipal charter or the general law gives the city council authority to make certain improvements, the power so given carries with it the implied power to make a general contract therefor, if there is nothing in the statute evincing a different intent.⁵⁰ A city may, through its council, authorize the purchase of a right of way for a ditch or other public improvement, and will be bound to reimburse the party authorized to procure it; but it cannot enter into an agreement with such party that it will construct the improvement, nor can he recover damages for any alleged injuries he may have suffered by a subsequent determination of the council not to proceed with the work.⁵¹

b. Water-Supply.⁵² Municipal corporations are frequently given express power to enter into contracts with private individuals or corporations for the supplying of water to the municipality and its inhabitants.⁵³ Such power may also be implied from other powers granted, as from the power to provide for a water-supply,⁵⁴ or from the power to make contracts for the welfare of the city, phis v. Brown, 20 Wall. (U. S.) 289, 22 L. ed. 264.

46. Crawfordsville v. Braden, 130 Ind. 149, 28 N. E. 849, 30 Am. St. Rep. 214, 14 L. R. A. 268.

47. Penley v. Auburn, 85 Me. 278, 27 Atl. 158, 21 L. R. A. 657; The Maggie P., 25 Fed. 202. Therefore, where a street in a city was encumbered on one side by buildings projecting into it, and on the other side the abutters deeded a narrow strip of land to the city as a consideration for its covenant to remove these buildings from within the street, and keep the same open throughout its whole length, including the strip conveyed to it, it was held that, under Me. Rev. St. c. 18, § 52, requiring cities to keep their streets safe and convenient for travelers, but requiring no particular width, the city's covenant was ultra vires and void, being a covenant to perform a municipal duty. Penley v. Auburn, supra.

48. Peru v. Gleason, 91 Ind. 568; New York v. Second Ave. R. Co., 32 N. Y. 261; Brick Presb. Church v. New York, 5 Cow. (N. Y.) 538.

A city is not liable for damages resulting to lands outside the city limits by reason of its breach of a contract to construct within its limits a ditch to serve as an outlet for drains constructed by the owners of such lands. Peru v. Gleason, 91 Ind. 568.

Binding successors and duration of contract see infra, IX, E.

49. The Maggie P., 25 Fed. 202, holding that it is not a part of the public duty of a city to pump out and raise boats which sink at its levee, even where its charter gives it control of its levee and harbor, and makes it its duty to keep its wharf and the river along the shore free from wrecks and other improper obstacles; and therefore a contract to raise a sunken boat is one for private service, which it has the power to make.

50. Cumming v. Brooklyn, 11 Paige (N. Y.) 596; Jones v. Holzapfel, 11 Okla. 405, 68 Pac. 511; Galveston v. Heard, 54 Tex. 420; Hitchcock v. Galveston, 96 U. S. 341, 24 L. ed. 659.

Contracts relating to public improvements see infra, XIII, C.

51. Stewart v. Council Bluffs, 50 Iowa 668.

52. Erection or purchase and maintenance of waterworks see infra, XIII, A, 2, f.

Aid to corporations and stock subscriptions see infra, XV, A, 5.

Discretion of council or board and control thereof by courts see infra, IX, B, 1.

Powers of council or of particular boards, officers, or departments see infra, IX, B, C.

Power to bind successors and duration of contract see infra, IX, E.

53. Illinois.—Quincy v. Bull, 106 Ill. 337.

Kansas.—Columbus Water-Works Co. v. Columbus, 48 Kan. 99, 28 Pac. 1097, 15 L. R. A. 354; Columbus Water-Works Co. v. Columbus, 46 Kan. 666, 26 Pac. 1046; Manley v. Emlen, 46 Kan. 655, 27 Pac. 844; Burlington Water-Works Co. v. Burlington, 43 Kan. 725, 23 Pac. 1068; Wood v. National Water Works Co., 33 Kan. 590, 7 Pac. 233.

New Jersey.—Hackensack Water Co. v. Hoboken, 51 N. J. L. 220, 17 Atl. 307.

Ohio.—Fremont v. June, 8 Ohio Cir. Ct. 124, 4 Ohio Cir. Dec. 326.

Pennsylvania.—White v. Meadville, 177 Pa. St. 643, 35 Atl. 695, 3 L. R. A. 567.

Texas.—Brenham v. Brenham Water Co., 67 Tex. 542, 4 S. W. 207.

United States.—Illinois Trust, etc., Bank v. Arkansas City, 76 Fed. 271, 22 C. C. A. 171, 34 L. R. A. 518.

54. Reed v. Anoka, 85 Minn. 294, 83 N. W. 981 (holding that charter power "to make or the general power to contract in connection with the power to provide for the police, health, security, and welfare of the inhabitants.⁵⁵ And charter authority "to provide for supplying the city with water" gives the city power to contract with a water company in respect to the rates to be charged to consumers.⁵⁶ So also authority to acquire or erect and maintain waterworks includes power to contract for the purchase or for the erection of such works.⁵⁷ Power to contract for a water-supply includes the power to contract for the use of the streets for that purpose by a private corporation or individual.⁵⁸ Under a city's express or implied authority to acquire waterworks or make contracts for supplying the city and its inhabitants with water, there is as a rule no power to contract to supply another municipality.⁵⁹ But it has been held that a city, although it has no and establish public pumps, wells, cisterns, and hydrants, and to provide for and control the erection of waterworks for the supply of water for the city and its inhabitants" gave the municipality power and authority to enter into contracts with private individuals for the purpose of providing a water-supply); Hackensack Water Co. v. Hoboken, 51 N. J. L. 220, 17 Atl. 307; Brenham v. Brenham Water Co., 67 Tex. 542, 4 S. W. 143; Los Angeles City Water Co. v. Los Angeles, 88 Fed. 720.

55. Alabama.—Livingston v. Pippin, 31 Ala. 542.

Georgia.—Rome v. Cabot, 28 Ga. 50.

Kentucky.—Dyer v. Newport, 94 S. W. 25, 29 Ky. L. Rep. 656.

Louisiana.—Conery v. New Orleans Water-Works Co., 41 La. Ann. 910, 7 So. 8.

Missouri.—Webb City, etc., Waterworks Co. v. Webb City, 78 Mo. App. 422.

Exclusive and permanent contract.—It has been held, however, that in the absence of express statutory authority a municipal corporation cannot make a permanent and exclusive contract with a water company to build waterworks and supply it with water; and that such authority cannot be implied from the general power conferred by its charter to contract for the needs of the municipality. Greenville Water-Works Co. v. Greenville, (Miss. 1890) 7 So. 409. See also Brenham v. Brenham Water Co., 67 Tex. 542, 4 S. W. 143. And as to the grant of exclusive privileges generally see infra, IX, A, 6, i; XII, A, 8, a (vii).

Contract amounting to pledge of credit.—And a municipality cannot, at least in the absence of express authority, enter into a contract for the supply of water by a private corporation, which in effect amounts to a pledge of its credit for the support of a private enterprise. Scott v. Laporte, 162 Ind. 34, 68 N. E. 278, 69 N. E. 675.

Source of supply.—A contract by a city for a water-supply, which is silent as to the source of supply, is not invalid because there is a possibility of the directors bringing the supply from outside the state, in which case the city might be unable to exercise its option to purchase the waterworks. Brady v. Bayonne, 57 N. J. L. 379, 30 Atl. 968.

Agreement to furnish hydrants.—Under N. Y. Laws (1862), c. 18, § 47, subd. 3, authorizing the city of Utica to provide necessary apparatus and means for the prevention and extinguishing of fires, the city might lawfully contract with the water company, which agreed to furnish water for the extinguishment of fires, to furnish all necessary hydrants in a system for the extension of the waterworks. Utica Water Works Co. v. Utica, 31 Hun (N. Y.) 426.

56. Los Angeles City Water Co. v. Los Angeles, 88 Fed. 720.

Power to regulate rates see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (vii), (d).

57. Wells v. Atlanta, 43 Ga. 67; Rome v. Cabot, 28 Ga. 50; Pikes Peak Power Co. v. Colorado Springs, 105 Fed. 1, 44 C. C. A. 333.

Power to erect waterworks see supra, VIII, B, 2, e; XIII, A, 2, f.

Employment of engineer.—A contract by a borough employing one as engineer to make plans for, and superintend construction of, waterworks for it is not ultra vires, the subject-matter being entirely within its municipal functions, so that he can recover for his services rendered before the borough is enjoined from erecting such works, on the ground that it, being supplied with water by contract with a private corporation, had exhausted the power granted by Borough Act 1851, to supply itself with water. Harlow v. Beaver Falls, 188 Pa. St. 263, 41 Atl. 533.

58. Quincy v. Bull, 106 Ill. 337; Wood v. National Water-Works Co., 33 Kan. 590, 7 Pac. 233; Illinois Trust, etc., Bank v. Arkansas City, 76 Fed. 271, 22 C. C. A. 171, 34 L. R. A. 518. See also infra, XII, A, 8.

Grant of exclusive privilege see infra, IX, A, 6, i; XII, A, 8, a, (viii).

59. Rehill v. Jersey City, 71 N. J. L. 109, 58 Atl. 175 (holding in effect that, where a city has contracted for a supply of water for its own use, it has no power to contract to supply water to another municipality); Farwell v. Seattle, 43 Wash. 141, 86 Pac. 217 (holding that under a charter and statutes giving a municipal corporation power to acquire waterworks and supply the municipality and its inhabitants with water, and a statute which, in defining the powers of cities to construct and operate waterworks, confines the purpose to the furnishing of such city and inhabitants thereof, and "any other persons," with a supply of water, the phrase "any other persons" only applies to persons within the corporate limits, and the city has power, in the absence of an express grant thereof, to extend its water system beyond its limits, may sell any excess of its product to outsiders.⁶⁰ And it has been held to be within the general powers of a city to contract to allow a person a certain quantity of water from a stream which it has taken from him under the power of eminent domain.⁶¹

c. Lighting and Power.⁶² Municipal corporations are sometimes given express power to contract for the lighting of the streets, public places, and buildings,⁶³ but express power is not necessary. If they are authorized to light their streets, etc., or given the power to provide for lighting them, they have the implied power to enter into contracts for that purpose with private gas or electric light companies, or with individuals;⁶⁴ and it has been held that the power to light the streets and public places of a municipality is one of its implied and inherent powers, necessary to properly protect the lives and property of its inhabitants, and as a check on immorality, so that no statute is necessary to give it such power.⁶⁵ Having the power to enter into such a contract, it may bind no authority to supply water to another municipality).

60. Dyer v. Newport, 94 S. W. 25, 29 Ky. L. Rep. 656; Rogers v. Wickliffe, 94 S. W. 24, 29 Ky. L. Rep. 587.

Sale of surplus electricity see infra, IX, A, 6, c.

61. Roberts v. Cambridge, 164 Mass. 176, 41 N. E. 230.

62. Liability of municipality for gas see GAS, 20 Cyc. 1165.

Discretion of council and control by courts see infra, IX, B, 1.

Power to erect or purchase lighting plant see infra, XIII, A, 2, g.

Aid to corporations and stock subscriptions see infra, XV, A, 5.

Power to bind successors and duration of contract see infra, IX, E.

63. Construction of particular charters and statutes see Crowder v. Sullivan, 128 Ind. 486, 28 N. E. 94, 13 L. R. A. 647; Davenport Gas, etc., Co. v. Davenport, 124 Iowa 22, 98 N. W. 892; Morrice v. Sutton, 139 Mich. 643, 103 N. W. 188; Detroit v. Wayne County Cir. Judge, 79 Mich. 384, 44 N. W. 622; Oakley v. Atlantic City, 63 N. J. L. 127, 44 Atl. 651; Hendrickson v. New York, 160 N. Y. 144, 54 N. E. 680; Black v. Chester, 175 Pa. St. 101, 34 Atl. 354.

Letting contract to lowest bidder see Detroit v. Wayne County Cir. Judge, 79 Mich. 384, 44 N. W. 622; Oakley v. Atlantic City, 63 N. J. L. 127, 44 Atl. 651. See also infra, IX, F.

Exemption from taxation on sale of gas plant by city.—Where a city sells its gas plant and the buyer contracts to light the city streets for a certain sum, in consideration whereof the city agrees to pay any city taxes assessed on the gas plant, it does not constitute an exemption from taxation, but a consideration for the purchase of the plant, and the contract is enforceable. Frankfort v. Capital Gas, etc., Co., 29 S. W. 855, 16 Ky. L. Rep. 780.

64. Georgia.—McMaster v. Waynesboro, 122 Ga. 231, 50 S. E. 122, holding also that a popular vote was not necessary under the statute to a ten years' lighting contract.

[IX, A, 6, b]

Illinois.—East St. Louis v. East St. Louis Gas Light, etc., Co., 98 Ill. 415, 38 Am. Rep. 97.

Kentucky.—Newport v. Newport Light Co., 89 Ky. 454, 12 S. W. 1040, 11 Ky. L. Rep. 840; Newport v. Newport Light Co., 84 Ky. 166; Truesdale v. Newport, 90 S. W. 589, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 840.

Minnesota.—Reed v. Anoka, 85 Minn. 294, 88 N. W. 981, holding that a city had such power under the provisions of a charter giving it the power to provide for lighting the city with electricity, gas, or other means, and to control the erection of any works for that purpose, and to grant to any corporation or person the right to occupy its streets for that purpose.

New Jersey.—Oakley v. Atlantic City, 63 N. J. L. 127, 44 Atl. 651.

Pennsylvania.—Wade v. Oakmont Borough, 165 Pa. St. 479, 30 Atl. 959.

United States.—Riverside, etc., R. Co. v. Riverside, 118 Fed. 736.

See also infra, XIII, A, 2, g.

Terms of contract.—A contract between a town and a gas company, for supplying the town with gas, is not illegal because it provides that such company shall be reimbursed by the town for any expenses incurred in making changes in the gas mains, pipes, or lamp posts, made necessary by changes in the grade of streets after the company has entered on the performance of the contract. Parfitt v. Furguson, 3 N. Y. App. Div. 176, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 466 [affirming 12 Misc. 278, 33 N. Y. Suppl. 1111].

Reasonableness and discretion.—Such a contract may be so clearly unreasonable as to be void. Le Feber v. West Allis, 119 Wis. 608, 97 N. W. 203, 100 Am. St. Rep. 917. It must, however, be clearly so to authorize the court to interfere with the discretion of the municipal council or other authorities. See infra, IX, B, 1; IX, E, 2.

65. Crawfordsville v. Braden, 130 Ind. 149, 28 N. E. 849, 30 Am. St. Rep. 214, 14 L. R. A. 268. See also Fawcett v. Mt. Airy, 134 N. C. 125, 45 S. E. 1029, 101 Am. St. Rep. 825, 63 L. R. A. 870; and infra, XIII, A, 2, g.

itself by an exclusive contract for a term of years.⁶⁶ And where a municipality has power to contract with a private corporation or individual for furnishing light, it may grant to it the privilege of occupying the streets for that purpose.⁶⁷ Where a city has the power to establish works for lighting its streets, it may, in connection therewith, furnish private consumers such light by contract.⁶⁸ Where a city owns its own electric light plant or has a valid contract for a certain supply from a private person or corporation, it may contract to furnish any surplus over its own needs to others,⁶⁹ even beyond the municipal boundaries;⁷⁰ and it may have power by charter or statute to contract to supply electricity to a street railroad company for power.⁷¹ Ordinarily, however, a municipality has no power to purchase electricity for use and supplying it to others.⁷² A municipality having authority to operate a lighting plant may contract for the purchase of an engine therefor.⁷³ A city has no implied power to enter into a contract or appropriate public money to aid a private person or corporation in the erection of a lighting plant.⁷⁴

d. Sewers and Drains. The authority to construct sewers needed for the drainage of streets is an incidental power of a municipal corporation invested with a general power over highways within the corporate limits, and the corporate officers have authority to contract for a right to construct a sewer through private property.⁷⁵ But a contract whereby a city agrees to keep in repair a 66. Truesdale v. Newport, 90 S. W. 589, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 840, holding that St. (1903) § 3058, subs. 6, declaring that cities may by themselves or others provide for lighting the streets and for furnishing light to the inhabitants thereof, authorizes a city to adopt an ordinance providing for the sale at public bidding of the exclusive privilege of supplying it with gas for twenty years. See also Davenport Gas, etc., Co. v. Davenport, 124 Iowa 22, 98 N. W. 892 (where it was held that when a city has the power to contract for lights for a certain period, its contract is not void because of the exclusiveness, as this arises from the very nature of such a contract); Newport v. Newport Light Co., 84 Ky. 166. But it has been held that a provision in a contract between a gas company and a town for supplying the town with gas, that no other gas or electric light company shall have the consent of the board of improvement of such town to extend its mains or lay its pipes or conductors within the town during the term of the contract, is illegal and void. Parfitt v. Furguson, 3 N. Y. App. Div. 176, 38 N. Y. Suppl. 466 [affirming 12 Misc. 278, 33 N. Y. Suppl. 1111]. Compare infra, IX, E.

Power during life of valid contract.—Under Mich. Comp. Laws, § 2908, providing that the council of an incorporated village may contract for any period not exceeding ten years for gas, electric, or other lights, the council has no power to enter into such contract during the life of a valid contract previously entered into covering the period of ten years. Morrice v. Sutton, 139 Mich. 643, 103 N. W. 188.

67. Newport v. Newport Light Co., 84 Ky. 166, exclusive privilege for a term of years.

Grant of privilege to use streets see infra, XII, A, 8.

Grant of exclusive privilege see infra, XII, A, 8, a, (VII).

68. Crawfordsville v. Braden, 130 Ind. 149, 28 N. E. 849, 30 Am. St. Rep. 214, 14 L. R. A. 268.

69. Henderson v. Young, 119 Ky. 224, 83 S. W. 583, 26 Ky. L. Rep. 1152. And see as to water supra, IX, A, 6, b.

70. Henderson v. Young, 119 Ky. 224, 83 S. W. 583, 26 Ky. L. Rep. 1152, holding that St. (1903) § 3290, subs. 5, authorizing cities of the third class to provide "the city and inhabitants thereof" with light, etc., does not prohibit the city from extending its electric light service to points beyond the city limits, where it can do so with very little additional expense and in such a way as to result in advantage to the city and its inhabitants.

71. Riverside, etc., R. Co. v. Riverside, 118 Fed. 736, holding that, since the city of Riverside had authority under section 862 of the California Municipal Corporation Act of 1883, as amended in 1891 and 1897, to acquire, own, and operate street railways, telephone and telegraph lines, gas, and other works for light and heat, and to permit the laying of tracks for street railways in the public streets, it had power to contract for a supply of electricity to be used for any of such purposes; and, where it has so contracted for a supply to be used by the terms of the contract in any way it should see fit, or disposed of to private citizens to use for any purpose whatever within the limits of the city, a subcontract to furnish a portion of such supply to a company for the operation of a street railroad to be constructed by the company was not on its face ultra vires.

72. Ottawa Electric Light Co. v. Ottawa, 12 Ont. L. Rep. 290.

73. Arbuckle-Ryan Co. v. Grand Ledge, 122 Mich. 491, 81 N. W. 358.

74. Morrice v. Sutton, 139 Mich. 643, 103 N. W. 188.

75. Leeds v. Richmond, 102 Ind. 372, 1 ditch constructed by it through plaintiff's land lying outside of the corporate limits, for the purpose of drainage of certain lands within such city, was held ultra vires.⁷⁶

e. Sanitation and Charity. A municipal corporation has power to make all contracts which are reasonably necessary to enable it to carry out the general sanitary powers conferred upon it, or the power to prevent or abate nuisances injurious to the public health and safety.⁷⁷ Thus it may contract for the removal and destruction of garbage from private and public premises within its limits and to pay reasonable compensation therefor;⁷⁸ to contract for the removal of dead animals;⁷⁹ and to employ physicians, health officers, etc., to perform duties necessary to the preservation of the public health.⁸⁰ Having power to care for the public health, a city may contract to pay nurses and guards for persons detained at a smallpox camp or hospital during an epidemic, and also to pay for infected bedding and clothing.⁸¹ It may also contract to pay for care of the indigent sick and insane at a private hospital,⁸² and may contract with a physician for the care and maintenance of the indigent sick;⁸³ but it has been held that it has no authority to contract with a physician for furnishing medical attendance for the police or other officers of the city who are not indigent persons.⁸⁴

f. Fire Department. As has been elsewhere shown, a municipal corporation may purchase necessary apparatus for the use of its fire department.⁸⁵ It may also contract for the purchase of coal for the fire department and for help in transporting the same from the coal docks to the place of use.⁸⁶

N. E. 711. See infra, XII, B; XIII, A, 2, e; XIII, C.

76. Hamilton v. Shelbyville, 6 Ind. App. 538, 33 N. E. 1007.

77. Kentucky.—Louisville v. Wible, 84 Ky. 290, 1 S. W. 605, 8 Ky. L. Rep. 361.

Maryland.—Harrison v. Baltimore, 1 Gill 264.

Michigan.—Rae v. Flint, 51 Mich. 526, 16 N. W. 887.

Nebraska.—Kelly v. Broadwell, 3 Nebr. (Unoff.) 617, 93 N. W. 643.

Vermont.—Hazen v. Strong, 2 Vt. 427.

Sanitary power of municipalities under police power see infra, XI, A, 7, a, (III); XI, A, 7, b, (vi).

Quarantine regulations.—It has been held, however, that a municipal corporation has no power to establish and enforce quarantine regulations, such power not being expressly granted or necessarily or fairly implied in or incident to the powers expressly granted, nor essential—that is, indispensable, and not simply convenient—to the declared objects and purposes of the corporation; and having no such power, it is not liable for the compensation of an officer employed to enforce quarantine regulations against a neighboring town, in which an epidemic was prevailing. New Decatur v. Barry, 90 Ala. 432, 7 So. 838, 24 Am. St. Rep. 827. Compare infra, XI, A, 7, a, (III).

78. Kelly v. Broadwell, 3 Nebr. (Unoff.) 617, 93 N. W. 643, holding that under a statute providing that a city shall have power to drain any lands covered by stagnant water, and giving the city power to prescribe rules for the abatement of nuisances and the regulation of places where offensive matter is likely to accumulate, with power to make contracts relating to city concerns and to create a board of health, a city can contract for the removal of garbage from private and public premises within its limits, and pay a reasonable compensation therefor. See also infra, XI, A, 7, b, (vi), (c).

Express grant of power.—Such power is sometimes expressly granted, and in such case the limitations in the charter or statute must be observed. See Detroit Reduction Co. v. Blades, 143 Mich. 591, 107 N. W. 286, holding that under the Detroit city charter a contract for the destruction of garbage to be collected by the city might be made by the council without previously submitting it to the commissioner of public works and obtaining an estimate from him.

79. Louisville v. Wible, 84 Ky. 290, 1 S. W. 605, 8 Ky. L. Rep. 361, sustaining a contract giving the exclusive right to remove dead animals for five years. See also infra, XI, A, 7, b, (vi), (d).

80. Harrison v. Baltimore, 1 Gill (Md.) 264 (employment of health officer to purify and disinfect vessels or premises from the infection of contagious diseases); Hazen v. Strong, 2 Vt. 427 (employment of physician to inoculate persons to prevent the spread of smallpox).

81. McPherson v. Nichols, 48 Kan. 430, 29 Pac. 679; Rae v. Flint, 51 Mich. 526, 16 N. W. 887.

82. St. Louis Hospital Assoc. v. St. Louis, 15 Mo. 592; Tucker v. Virginia City, 4 Nev. 20.

83. Tucker v. Virginia City, 4 Nev. 20; Thomas v. Mason, 39 W. Va. 526, 20 S. E. 580, 26 L. R. A. 727.

84. Tucker v. Virginia City, 4 Nev. 20.

85. See supra, VIII, B, 2, b.

86. Manske v. Milwaukee, 123 Wis. 172, 101 N. W. 377.

g. Schools. A municipal corporation may make contracts for the fitting up and maintenance of public schools when the duty or power is imposed or conferred upon it by charter or general law, but not otherwise.⁸⁷

h. Borrowing Money and Issuing Securities. Subject to charter and statutory limitations a municipal corporation has the power to borrow money for legitimate corporate purposes;⁸⁸ and in most jurisdictions it has the power to execute and give bonds and promissory notes for debts lawfully contracted.⁸⁹

i. Exclusive Privileges. The general rule is that a municipality has no implied power to grant exclusive privileges, but such power may be expressly conferred.⁹⁰

j. Offer of Reward. Although there are decisions to the contrary,⁹¹ the prevailing view is that a municipal corporation has no implied power to offer an award for the apprehension and conviction of offenders against the criminal laws of the state.⁹²

k. Compromise. A municipality may, without express authority, compromise claims against it.⁹³

l. Submission to Arbitration. So, also, a municipality may, without express authority, submit claims to arbitration.⁹⁴

m. Public Entertainments. It is generally held that a municipal corporation

87. Cleveland School Furniture Co. v. Greenville, 146 Ala. 559, 41 So. 862. See, generally, SCHOOLS and SCHOOL-DISTRICTS.

88. Allen v. La Fayette, 89 Ala. 641, 8 So. 30, 9 L. R. A. 497; Patton v. Chattanooga, 108 Tenn. 223, 65 S. W. 414. See infra, XV, A, 4, f.

89. Dutton v. Aurora, 114 Ill. 138, 28 N. E. 461; Douglass v. Virginia City, 5 Nev. 147; Ketchum v. Buffalo, 14 N. Y. 356; Merrill v. Monticello, 22 Fed. 589.

Bonds, promissory notes, and other securities see infra, XV, C.

90. Citizens' Gas, etc., Co. v. Elwood, 114 Ind. 332, 16 N. E. 624; Logan v. Pyne, 43 Iowa 524, 22 Am. Rep. 261; Danville Water Co. v. Danville, 180 U. S. 619, 21 S. Ct. 505, 45 L. ed. 696; Freeport Water Co. v. Freeport, 180 U. S. 587, 21 S. Ct. 493, 45 L. ed. 679; Minturn v. Larue, 23 How. (U. S.) 435, 16 L. ed. 574; Illinois Trust, etc., Bank v. Arkansas City Water Co., 67 Fed. 196; Grand Rapids Electric Light, etc., Co. v. Grand Rapids Edison Electric Light, etc., Co., 33 Fed. 659. See supra, IX, A, 6, b, c; infra, IX, E; XII, A, 8, a, (vii); XIII, A, 3, e, (ii).

91. Cranshaw v. Roxbury, 7 Gray (Mass.) 374; York v. Forscht, 23 Pa. St. 391. And see infra, XV, A, 1, c, (iv).

92. Connecticut.—Croft v. Danbury, 65 Conn. 294, 32 Atl. 365.

District of Columbia.—Baker v. Washington, 7 D. C. 134.

Florida.—Murphy v. Jacksonville, 18 Fla. 318, 43 Am. Rep. 323.

Iowa.—Hanger v. Des Moines, 52 Iowa 193, 2 N. W. 1105, 35 Am. Rep. 266.

Kentucky.—Patton v. Stephens, 14 Bush 324.

Maine.—Gale v. South Berwick, 51 Me. 174.

New Hampshire.—Abel v. Pembroke, 61 N. H. 357.

Virginia.—Winchester v. Redmond, 93 Va. 711, 25 S. E. 1001, 57 Am. St. Rep. 822.

Wisconsin.—Butler v. Milwaukee, 15 Wis. 493.

See also infra, XV, A, 1, c, (iv).

93. California.—People v. San Francisco, 27 Cal. 655; People v. Coon, 25 Cal. 635.

Illinois.—Agnew v. Brall, 124 Ill. 312, 16 N. E. 230.

Iowa.—Mills County v. Burlington, etc., R. Co., 47 Iowa 66; Grimes v. Hamilton County, 37 Iowa 290.

Maine.—Baileyville v. Lowell, 20 Me. 178; Augusta v. Leadbetter, 16 Me. 45.

Nebraska.—State v. Martin, 27 Nebr. 441, 43 N. W. 244.

Pennsylvania.—Bailey v. Philadelphia, 167 Pa. St. 569, 31 Atl. 925, 46 Am. St. Rep. 691, holding also that the right to compromise and settle an existing and asserted claim does not depend on the ultimate decision for or against its validity.

Wisconsin.—Hall v. Baker, 74 Wis. 118, 42 N. W. 104.

See also infra, XVI, C; XVII, B.

94. Illinois.—Shawneetown v. Baker, 85 Ill. 563, 25 Am. Rep. 321.

Iowa.—Walnut Dist. Tp. v. Rankin, 70 Iowa 65, 29 N. W. 806.

Kentucky.—Remington v. Harrison County Ct., 12 Bush 148.

Massachusetts.—Buckland v. Conway, 16 Mass. 396; Boston v. Brazier, 11 Mass. 447.

New Jersey.—Paret v. Bayonne, 39 N. J. L. 559 [affirmed in 40 N. J. L. 333].

Pennsylvania.—Smith v. Philadelphia, 13 Phila. 177.

Vermont.—Dix v. Dummerston, 19 Vt. 262.

Wisconsin.—Kane v. Fond du Lac, 40 Wis. 495.

See infra, XVI, D.

A provision for arbitration in a contract of sale of waterworks to a city is not void by reason of a stipulation that the finding of the arbitrators should be approved by the council to be binding on the city. Lidgerwood Park Waterworks Co. v. Spokane, 19 Wash. 365, 53 Pac. 352.

has no power to contract for providing an entertainment to the citizens and guests of the city.⁹⁵

n. Printing.⁹⁶ Where the charter of a municipality provides that all of its ordinances when printed, etc., shall be admitted in evidence in all courts, without proof, it contemplates the printing of the ordinances, and there is necessarily in such municipality an implied power to have its ordinances printed, when needed in the accomplishment of its corporate purposes, and to contract to pay for such work.⁹⁷

o. Employment of Attorney or Counsel. A municipal corporation has power to employ attorneys and counsel to prosecute or defend actions, and for other legitimate corporate purposes, and to bind itself on express or implied contracts to pay for their services.⁹⁸

p. Stipulation For Liquidated Damages. A municipality may stipulate for liquidated damages.⁹⁹

q. Other Contracts. A city ordinance authorizing a map to be made operates to charge the city with the expense of necessary preliminary surveying, as well as the map-making;¹ and a city council may contract for the supplying of comparative statements, maps, abstracts, etc., to aid it in equalizing the assessment roll and taxation of property.² A city may execute to the state a penal bond conditioned to build and keep in repair the county buildings.³ And a city may insure its public buildings against loss by fire in a mutual insurance company.⁴ Where a party has made permanent improvements on property leased from a city under a contract that the city would refund the value of the improvements on the termination of the lease, a plea that such contract was ultra vires is inequitable, and will not be allowed.⁵ A city may be the depository, as trustee for its citizens, of a contract obligating a railroad company to locate its general offices and shops in the city, and may enforce such contract by suit.⁶ Charter authority to lay out streets and pass all ordinances respecting them, and to make any other regulation that shall appear necessary and proper for the security, welfare, and interest of the city, confers no authority to make a contract to obtain a right of way through the city for a railway.⁷ And the common council of a 95. Gamble v. Watkins, 7 Hun (N. Y.) 448; Hodges v. Buffalo, 2 Den. (N. Y.) 110. See infra, XV, A, 1, c, (II).

96. See also infra, IX, B, 2.

97. Dwyer v. Brenham, 65 Tex. 526. But it was held that Nebr. Laws (1889), c. 14, §§ 29, 36, 40, 48, providing for the publication, in a newspaper of general circulation, of proclamations, ordinances, etc., of a city, and section 93, fixing the maximum price that the mayor or council shall pay therefor, did not require that such publication should be contracted for, nor authorize any officer or officers to make express contracts therefor. Call Pub. Co. v. Lincoln, 29 Nebr. 149, 45 N. W. 245. See also Stidger v. Red Oak, 64 Iowa 465, 20 N. W. 762, where authority to make such contracts was denied.

98. Smith v. Sacramento City, 13 Cal. 531; Mt. Vernon v. Patton, 94 Ill. 65; New Athens v. Thomas, 82 Ill. 259; State v. Heath, 20 La. Ann. 172, 96 Am. Dec. 390; Roper v. Laurinburg, 90 N. C. 427. A town council, not being expressly restricted by legislation, has power to employ special counsel to appear in litigation arising out of proceedings to annex the town to a city, although there is a town attorney whom the council has required by resolution to represent the town in all legal proceedings in which it may become involved. Denver v. Webber, 15 Colo. App. 511, 63 Pac. 804. See also supra, VII, C, 4, c; infra, X, E, 4, a.

99. Parr v. Greenbush, 42 Hun (N. Y.) 232.

1. Corsicana v. Kerr, 75 Tex. 207, 12 S. W. 982.

2. Maurer v. Weatherby, 1 Cal. App. 243, 81 Pac. 1083.

3. State v. Callehan, 1 Ind. 147.

4. French v. Millville, 66 N. J. L. 392, 49 Atl. 465 [affirmed in 67 N. J. L. 349, 51 Atl. 1109], holding also that by giving its premium notes for the payment of assessments to meet losses incurred by such an insurance company, the city does not loan its credit to the company, in violation of Const. art. 1, par. 19; and that by becoming a member of such an insurance company, it does not become the owner of any stocks or bonds belonging to the company, or of any stock in the company, in violation of the constitution.

5. Wilkins v. New York, 9 Misc. (N. Y.) 610, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 424.

6. Tyler v. St. Louis Southwestern R. Co., (Tex. 1906) 91 S. W. 1, 93 S. W. 997 [reversing (Civ. App. 1905) 87 S. W. 238].

7. Covington, etc., R. Co. v. Athens, 85 Ga. 367, 11 S. E. 663.

city has no authority to guarantee that a contractor shall make money under all circumstances out of a contract with the city.⁸ Nor is a city liable for gold medals furnished to each of the members of the common council in pursuance of a resolution of that body.⁹ The power of a town to raise money is confined to purposes specified by law and does not extend to raising money to build or repair a bridge in another town; and if a town gives a bond with condition to perform such act, the condition and obligation are void.¹⁰ An order remanding a convicted felon to the city lockup to await sentence, being void, cannot form the basis of a contract to furnish the convict board while so confined.¹¹ The action of a city contracting the services of prisoners in its workhouse to a private person is ultra vires where neither authorized nor prohibited by its charter, but it is not illegal.¹²

B. Powers of Council or Other Governing Body¹³ — 1. IN GENERAL. Unless otherwise specially provided by law, the power to make municipal contracts resides in the council as the general governing body of the corporation.¹⁴ This power in matters of official discretion must be exercised by the council itself;¹⁵ but purely ministerial functions may be devolved by it on its committees or other officers and agents.¹⁶ The courts may not substitute their own judgment of policy or propriety for the contracting discretion of the council;¹⁷ but they

8. Patterson v. New Orleans, 20 La. Ann. 103.

9. Sillcocks v. New York, 11 Hun (N. Y.) 431.

10. Concord v. Boscawen, 17 N. H. 465.

11. Tucker v. Grand Rapids, 104 Mich. 621, 62 N. W. 1013.

12. St. Louis v. Davidson, 102 Mo. 149, 14 S. W. 825, 22 Am. St. Rep. 764.

13. Power to bind successors and duration of contract see infra, IX, E.

14. Hall v. Cockrell, 28 Ala. 507; Denver v. Webber, 15 Colo. App. 511, 63 Pac. 804; Seibrecht v. New Orleans, 12 La. Ann. 496; Ryan v. Paterson, 66 N. J. L. 533, 49 Atl. 587. See supra, V, A, 2.

Maps.—Under Borough Act authorizing the council to cause an assessor's map of the borough to be made, showing the location and width of each street and of each individual lot of land, and cause the same to be numbered thereon, that an imperfect map, covering but part of the borough, was already in existence, did not prevent the council from causing to be made such map. Outwater v. Carlstadt, 66 N. J. L. 510, 49 Atl. 533.

Election and qualification of successors.—Where the power to contract for the construction of waterworks for a city was by the original charter of the city, and by statute conferred upon the mayor and council of the city, no portion of the powers over the construction and management of such works passed out of or away from the mayor and council under said act until the water commissioners provided for by the act, as successors in this respect to the mayor and council, were not only elected, but qualified and ready to succeed. Wells v. Atlanta, 43 Ga. 67.

The action of the mayor in conjunction with the council as its presiding officer, in awarding a contract, is sufficient, the city ordinances not requiring the mayor's separate action. Morley v. Weakley, 86 Mo. 451.

15. Jewell Belting Co. v. Bertha, 91 Minn. 9, 97 N. W. 424, holding that the governing body of a municipality, charged with the management of its affairs, and alone clothed with power to contract for the municipality, cannot delegate to a member or committee thereof powers involving the exercise of judgment and discretion. See also Seibrecht v. New Orleans, 12 La. Ann. 496. The board of education and common council cannot delegate the power of purchasing a school-house site to a board of commissioners of the city, without an express grant from the legislature of authority to do so. Lauenstein v. Fond du Lac, 28 Wis. 336.

Delegation of powers see supra, III, G.

16. See infra, IX, C, 3.

17. Georgia.—Atlanta v. Halliday, 96 Ga. 546, 23 S. E. 509; Danielly v. Cabiniss, 52 Ga. 211; Wells v. Atlanta, 43 Ga. 67.

Indiana.—Leeds v. Richmond, 102 Ind. 372, 1 N. E. 711. See also Seward v. Liberty, 142 Ind. 551, 42 N. E. 39; Vincennes v. Citizens' Gas Light Co., 132 Ind. 114, 31 N. E. 573, 16 L. R. A. 485.

Michigan.—Detroit v. Hosmer, 79 Mich. 384, 44 N. W. 622.

Minnesota.—Reed v. Anoka, 85 Minn. 294, 88 N. W. 981.

New Jersey.—Ryan v. Paterson, 66 N. J. L. 533, 49 Atl. 587.

United States.—Fidelity Trust, etc., Co. v. Fowler Water Co., 113 Fed. 560.

Illustrations.—Thus the discretion of the council in making a contract for water-supply or lighting will not be controlled or interfered with by the courts. McMaster v. Waynesboro, 122 Ga. 231, 50 S. E. 122; Wells v. Atlanta, 43 Ga. 67; Conery v. New Orleans Water-Works Co., 41 La. Ann. 910, 7 So. 8; Detroit v. Wayne County Cir. Judge, 79 Mich. 384, 44 N. W. 622; Reed v. Anoka, 85 Minn. 294, 88 N. W. 981; Oakley v. Atlantic City, 63 N. J. L. 127, 44 Atl. 651; Wade v. Oakmont Borough, 165 Pa. St. 479, may interpose and declare void a contract which is ultra vires, fraudulent, or clearly unreasonable,¹⁸ or to prevent the council from exercising municipal functions imposed by law on other boards and officers;¹⁹ and contractors may not plead ignorance of the extent of power conferred by law on the several departments and boards of the municipal corporation.²⁰ Nor may they rely on an ordinance in contravention of charter or statute.²¹ The council may not by contract renounce its legislative power;²² but it may insert valid conditions precedent dependent upon municipal action;²³ and may without payment discharge doubtful claims either before or after judgment.²⁴ In making or authorizing contracts the council must act regularly as a board and at a legal meeting, and the members individually have no power to bind the municipality.²⁵

2. CONTRACTS FOR PRINTING. When the amount and rate of municipal printing is prescribed by law, the council may not transcend the statutory limits,²⁶ nor make contracts therefor, when the function is imposed upon another department or officer.²⁷ But lacking such special provisions, the discretion therefor is 30 Atl. 959. It is within the legal discretion of a city council to select any system of lighting the city, in contracting therefor, that will furnish lights of the required brilliancy at the lowest rates. Detroit v. Hosmer, 79 Mich. 384, 44 N. W. 622.

18. Avery v. Job, 25 Oreg. 512, 36 Pac. 293; Le Feber v. West Allis, 119 Wis. 608, 97 N. W. 203, 100 Am. St. Rep. 917 (unreasonable lighting contract); Citizens' Savings, etc., Assoc. v. Topeka, 20 Wall. (U. S.) 655, 22 L. ed. 455. See also supra, III, I.

Restraining publication in paper having no subscription list see Lathrop v. Carbondale, 6 Lack. Jur. (Pa.) 343, as to a paper which was a mere advertising medium.

19. Francis v. Troy, 74 N. Y. 338 [reversing 10 Hun 515].

Under Denver City Charter, art. 2, § 26, subd. 8, empowering the council to provide for lighting the streets, and art. 3, § 35 (Sess. Laws (1893), p. 167), vesting the exclusive control of the erection of poles, stringing of wires, etc., in the board of public works, a contract by the council for furnishing street lights is not invalid on the ground that the power to contract for public lighting is vested in the board of public works, since the board is only empowered to supervise the erection of the poles and wires. Denver v. Hubbard, 17 Colo. App. 346, 68 Pac. 993.

Under Mass. St. (1885) c. 266, § 12, providing that neither the city council of Boston, nor either branch thereof, "shall directly or indirectly take part in the employment of labor, the making of contracts, the purchase of materials or supplies, the construction, alteration, or repair of any public works, buildings, or other property, or the care, custody, and management of the same," it was held that the language was broad enough to forbid the city council to make contracts of any kind, including one for the purchase of a parcel of land, and it was not limited by the provision of section 6, giving the subordinate officers and boards of the city power to "make all necessary contracts for the employment of labor, the supply of materials, and the construction, alteration, and repair of all public works and buildings." Brackett v. Boston, 157 Mass. 177, 31 N. E. 801.

20. Taft v. Pittsford, 28 Vt. 286. The limitation of the power of a common council to contract appearing in the statute, knowledge thereof by all dealing with the corporate authorities will be conclusively presumed. Black v. Detroit, 119 Mich. 571, 78 N. W. 660. See infra, IX, C, 4.

Unconstitutional act.—The act creating a municipal board being unconstitutional, such board is without authority to make a contract binding the city for the employment of counsel to defend actions growing out of the act. Findlay v. Pendleton, 62 Ohio St. 80, 56 N. E. 649.

21. Defiance v. Defiance, 23 Ohio Cir. Ct. 96. Under Mass. St. (1896) c. 415, providing for a department of supplies under supervision of a chief, and directing that neither the council nor either branch thereof shall take part in the making of contracts, an ordinance directing with whom a contract for printing shall be made is invalid. Godard v. Lowell, 179 Mass. 496, 61 N. E. 53.

22. New York v. Britton, 12 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 367 note; Britton v. New York, 21 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 251. See supra, III, F.

23. Municipal Signal Co. v. Holyoke, 168 Mass. 44, 46 N. E. 397.

24. The doctrine that the governing body of a municipal corporation has no power to discharge a debt due to it without payment does not apply to debts of questionable validity before final judgment, or debts against insolvent parties after judgment. Washburn County v. Thompson, 99 Wis. 585, 75 N. W. 309. See also supra, IX, A, 6, k.

25. Butler v. Charlestown, 7 Gray (Mass.) 12; Dey v. Jersey City, 19 N. J. Eq. 412; Birkett v. Athens, (Tenn. Ch. App. 1900) 59 S. W. 667. See supra, V, A, 2.

26. Chamberlain v. Hoboken, 38 N. J. L. 110.

27. Francis v. Troy, 74 N. Y. 338 [reversing 10 Hun 515]; Kernitz v. Long Island City, 50 Hun (N. Y.) 428, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 144. Where, in a city charter, special provision different from the ordinary course in city advertising is made for a particular in the council.²⁸ It may not, however, impose terms and conditions tending to monopoly.²⁹

C. Powers of Particular Officers, Boards, and Departments — 1. BOARDS AND DEPARTMENTS.³⁰ Where special authority is given a board or department to do particular acts, ministerial in their nature, their powers are limited to the doing of these acts;³¹ and whatever it may assume to do beyond this authority is null and void.³² But where general power is granted to it, to effect a given purpose, or accomplish a certain result, it has implied power to use its official discretion in the exercise of its functions,³³ and to do and perform all acts in its judgment necessary to attain such purpose or result;³⁴ and the courts will not interfere in its work class of advertisements, and a particular officer is designated to cause them to be published, and the expense is provided for, such advertisements are withdrawn from the general power of the common council, and the latter cannot incur expense for their publication. Francis v. Troy, supra. The contract to print and bind one thousand five hundred copies of the city charter was not a part of the ordinary daily printing of the corporation of New York city, such as the printing of its minutes, ordinances, resolutions, reports of committees, etc., of which the council had the entire control, without referring the subject to any executive department. McSpedon v. New York, 15 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 462 [affirmed in 7 Bosw. 601, 20 How. Pr. 395].

28. Jones v. New York, 7 Rob. (N. Y.) 209.

29. Atlanta v. Stein, 111 Ga. 789, 36 S. E. 932, 51 L. R. A. 335; Peoples v. Byrd, 98 Ga. 688, 25 S. E. 677; Holden v. Alton, 179 Ill. 318, 53 N. E. 556; State v. Paterson, 66 N. J. L. 129, 48 Atl. 589.

30. Powers of departments and boards generally see supra, VII, B.

31. United New Jersey R., etc., Co. v. National Docks, etc., Connecting R. Co., 57 N. J. L. 523, 31 Atl. 981. Under the act of congress creating the board of public works for the District of Columbia and requiring all contracts made by such board to be in writing and signed by the parties making them, and providing that they shall have no power to make contracts to pay money, except in pursuance of appropriations duly made, and not until such appropriations are made, such board has no authority to enter into contracts of a negotiable character signed by no one but an auditor, so as to pass a legal title to the same by mere delivery or indorsement. Ballard Pavement Co. v. Mandel, 2 MacArthur (D. C.) 351.

32. Woodside Water Co. v. Long Island City, 23 N. Y. App. Div. 78, 48 N. Y. Suppl. 686 [affirmed in 159 N. Y. 558, 54 N. E. 1095]; Miller v. New York, 3 Hun (N. Y.) 35, 5 Thomps. & C. 219; Ampt v. Cincinnati, 8 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 624, 6 Ohio N. P. 208. A board of water commissioners, acting on behalf of a municipal corporation, and authorized by statute to construct waterworks, and for that purpose to borrow money on the credit of the corporation, and issue bonds therefor, have no power to compromise a claim against the corporation, based on a void contract for the sale of bonds at less than par, made by themselves in disregard of a statutory prohibition, nor to pay the amount agreed on in compromise out of the proceeds of a sale of bonds. Ft. Edward v. Fish, 156 N. Y. 363, 50 N. E. 973 [affirming 86 Hun 548, 33 N. Y. Suppl. 784]. N. Y. Laws (1890), c. 566, § 81, as amended by Laws (1892), c. 617, authorizing water commissioners to contract for the furnishing of water to the city for public purposes, does not authorize a contract for the furnishing of water directly to the inhabitants through the private pipes of the company. Woodside Water Co. v. Long Island City, 23 N. Y. App. Div. 78, 48 N. Y. Suppl. 686 [affirmed in 159 N. Y. 558, 54 N. E. 1095].

33. Under Ohio Rev. St. § 2435-7, authorizing the construction of new waterworks in Cincinnati, and providing that "the commissioners shall, before entering into any contracts, cause plans and specifications, detailed drawings of forms of bids to be prepared," the commissioners are the judges of the sufficiency of such plans. Ampt v. Cincinnati, 8 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 624, 6 Ohio N. P. 208.

34. Fitzgerald v. Walker, 55 Ark. 148, 17 S. W. 702, holding that the power of city boards of improvement to bind their districts for the payment of interest on a debt legally contracted is implied from the powers expressly conferred on the boards by the statute which provides that such boards shall have control of improvements in their districts, may make all contracts in reference thereto, borrow money at interest, and pledge all uncollected assessments for the payment thereof. A city board of water commissioners has power to bind the city for the price of meals furnished to the members of the board, their superintendent and secretary, and the president of the board of health, during the annual inspection of the water-supply of the city. Behm v. Reading, 21 Pa. Co. Ct. 545.

Oral contract with board of health.— Under a statute authorizing the board of health to provide for all persons confined in a quarantined house and directing that the expenses so incurred when properly certified by the president and clerk of the board of health shall be paid by the person or persons quarantined when able, and when not by the city, an oral contract with the board of health, for necessaries furnished to a family unless there is obvious fraud or collusion in the operations or an inexcusable transgression of the limit of its powers.³⁵ In this, as in other matters, however, ratifications of unauthorized contracts by a board or department validates the same.³⁶

2. PARTICULAR OFFICERS³⁷—a. In General. Any officer assuming to bind the municipality by contract must produce express authority for his power thus to represent the corporation in a contractual relation, and a contract made without authority will not bind the municipality,³⁸ unless it is duly ratified.³⁹ But a municipal corporation, like a private corporation or individual, may so deal with third persons as to justify them in assuming the existence of an authority in another, which in fact has never been given, and become liable in this way for contracts entered into by an officer or other person without authority in fact.⁴⁰ during quarantine, is binding on the city, it appearing that the account has been certified by the president and clerk of the board of health and that the quarantined family was not able to pay. Meily v. Columbus, 27 Ohio Cir. Ct. 822.

35. Kraft v. Weehawken Tp. Bd. of Education, 67 N. J. L. 512, 51 Atl. 483. Contracts of municipal boards will not be set aside by the court unless it appears that there is fraud or palpable abuse of the discretion of the board. Coward v. Bayonne, 67 N. J. L. 470, 51 Atl. 490.

36. Hill v. Indianapolis, 92 Fed. 467. See infra, IX, I, 1.

37. Powers of officers generally see supra, VII, A, 14.

38. California.—Findla v. San Francisco, 13 Cal. 534.

Connecticut.—Heublein v. New Haven, 75 Conn. 545, 54 Atl. 298.

Florida.—Madison v. Newsome, 39 Fla. 149, 22 So. 270.

Illinois.—Tamm v. Lavalley, 92 Ill. 263.

Louisiana.—Condran v. New Orleans, (1891) 9 So. 31; Burchfield v. New Orleans, 42 La. Ann. 235, 7 So. 448.

Maine.—French v. Auburn, 62 Me. 452; Millet v. Stoneham, 26 Me. 78.

Massachusetts.—Osgood v. Boston, 165 Mass. 281, 43 N. E. 108; Butler v. Charlestown, 7 Gray 12.

Michigan.—Black v. Detroit, 119 Mich. 571, 78 N. W. 660.

Minnesota.—Jewell Belting Co. v. Bertha, 91 Minn. 9, 97 N. W. 424.

Missouri.—Cheeny v. Brookfield, 60 Mo. 53; Carrroll v. St. Louis, 12 Mo. 444.

New Hampshire.—Backman v. Charlestown, 42 N. H. 125.

New Jersey.—New Jersey Car Spring, etc., Co. v. Jersey City, 64 N. J. L. 544, 46 Atl. 649.

New York.—Davies v. New York, 93 N. Y. 250 [reversing on other grounds 48 N. Y. Super. Ct. 194]; Miller v. New York, 3 Hun 35, 5 Thomps. & C. 219; Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. New York, 4 Bosw. 80; Briggs v. New York, 2 Daly 304.

Ohio.—Wellston v. Morgan, 65 Ohio St. 219, 62 N. E. 127.

Pennsylvania.—Farrell v. Coatesville Borough, 214 Pa. St. 296, 63 Atl. 742; Ross v. Philadelphia, 115 Pa. St. 222, 8 Atl. 398;

Philadelphia v. Flanigan, 47 Pa. St. 21. Officers of a municipal corporation cannot bind it by any contract made without authority expressly given by an ordinance or resolution of the council, nor can they make a contract the effect of which would be to control or embarrass the legislative powers and duties of the corporation. Shrober v. Lancaster, 6 Lanc. Bar 201.

South Carolina.—Park v. Laurens, 68 S. C. 212, 46 S. E. 1012; Willoughby v. Florence, 51 S. C. 462, 29 S. E. 242.

Tennessee.—Nash v. Knoxville, 108 Tenn. 68, 64 S. W. 1062.

Texas.—Indiana Road-Mach. Co. v. Sulphur Springs, (Civ. App. 1901) 63 S. W. 908; Tyler v. Adams, (Civ. App. 1901) 62 S. W. 119.

Wisconsin.—Wahl v. Milwaukee, 23 Wis. 272.

United States.—Sheridan v. New York, 145 Fed. 835; State Trust Co. v. Duluth, 104 Fed. 632.

Canada.—La Compagnie du Pacifique Canadien v. Montreal, 21 Quebec Super. Ct. 225.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 654.

Implied contract see infra, IX, G, 3, b.

De facto officer.—Where a mayor of a city accepts the office of sheriff of the county which under the law renders his commission as mayor null and void, but continues in office as mayor de facto, a contract signed by him as mayor cannot be set aside on an indirect attack by certiorari to which he is not a party. Ross v. Long Branch, 73 N. J. L. 292, 63 Atl. 609. But it is held that the doctrine that the official acts of officers de facto should be held valid is not applicable to a case where a contract was made with an officer after his right to perform the functions of his office had ceased, and the fact was notorious, and the other party to the contract had notice that the municipality which the officer claimed to represent had no interest in the subject-matter of the contract. Conway v. St. Louis, 9 Mo. App. 488. As to de facto officers generally see supra, VII, A, 7.

39. See infra, IX, I, 1.

40. Davies v. New York, 93 N. Y. 250 [reversing on other grounds 48 N. Y. Super. Ct. 194], holding that where a municipal

b. Mayor. Although the nominal and official head of the municipality,⁴¹ the mayor has no power to bind the corporation by written or oral contract or representation,⁴² unless he has been duly thereunto authorized by the governing body or by the state;⁴³ but he may, in the exercise of official discretion, refuse his executive approval to municipal contracts, ordained by the council and thereby defeat the same.⁴⁴

c. Corporation Counsel. Unless the charter or municipal ordinances otherwise provide, the regular counsel of the corporation exercises the ordinary functions of retained lawyers,⁴⁵ and may bind the municipality to the same extent,⁴⁶ but no farther than other lawyers may bind their clients in the conduct of its law business.⁴⁷

d. Controller. A city controller, although the chief financial officer of the corporation, cannot bind it by the insertion in a contract of terms not authorized;⁴⁸ corporation takes a lease of rooms for the use of the recorder for one year, and permits him to occupy the same after termination of the lease, it will be held liable for the rent as on a renewal of the lease for another year, since it is the duty of the city, if it desires to terminate the lease, to surrender possession, or at least to notify the lessor that the agency will not continue, and the lessor has the right to assume, in the absence of notice, that the continuance of the recorder in possession is by authority of the city, and to treat it as a renewal of the lease for another year.

41. Elliot Mun. Corp. § 271. See supra, VII, A, 14, b.

42. Carrrol v. St. Louis, 12 Mo. 444 (holding that the city of St. Louis was not liable for the services of an attorney appointed by the mayor, because the mayor had no authority to appoint him); Indiana Road-Mach. Co. v. Sulphur Springs, (Tex. Civ. App. 1901) 63 S. W. 908; Tyler v. Adams, (Tex. Civ. App. 1901) 62 S. W. 119. The mayor of the city of New York has no power, as such officer, to hire a pier for the purpose of removing offal from the city, so as to render the city liable to pay for such use, since the right to hire a pier for such purpose is a power inherent in the common council. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. New York, 4 Bosw. (N. Y.) 80. So where one R contracted with a city council to build a city hall and to furnish all the material, such council was not made liable to one who sold R lumber for such building by the mere verbal assurance of the mayor that the amount would be paid out of the funds due R when the next instalment became payable, in the absence of any authority given the mayor by the council to give such assurance. Willoughby v. Florence, 51 S. C. 462, 29 S. E. 242. The signature of the mayor of a city to an agreement other than that which the city council had authorized him to sign does not bind the city in a matter in which it can be represented only by the city council, as a municipality can be bound only by the acts of those who are authorized to represent it. La Compagnie du Pacifique Canadien v. Montreal, 21 Quebec Super. Ct. 225.

Powers of mayor generally see supra, VII, A, 14, b.

43. Michigan City v. Leeds, 24 Ind. App. 271, 55 N. E. 799.

44. Com. v. Lebanon City, 7 Pa. Dist. 163. Where a city is incorporated under N. J. Pub. Laws (1889), cc. 40, 52, § 15, providing that every ordinance, before it takes effect, shall be presented to the mayor, who, if he approves it, shall sign it, a contract for street lighting for a definite term at a fixed price per lamp can only be made by the council by an ordinance or resolution submitted to the mayor as provided by such latter act. Platt v. Englewood, 68 N. J. L. 231, 52 Atl. 239.

45. Chicago v. Berger, 100 Ill. App. 158.

46. Bush v. Coler, 24 Misc. (N. Y.) 368, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 679 [affirmed in 52 N. Y. App. Div. 630, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 1129].

Agreement to abide result of test case.—A city attorney charged with the duty of managing all the city's litigation may bind the city, in a number of controversies, to abide by the result of a test case to be brought involving the same questions. Bank of Commerce v. Louisville, 88 Fed. 398.

Offer to allow judgment.—The corporation counsel of the city of New York has authority to make an offer to allow judgment for a certain sum, according to the regular practice, under section 255 of the charter, providing that he shall have charge of all the law business of the corporation and its departments and boards, and of all law business in which the city is interested, and that he shall be the legal adviser of all departments and officers, who are forbidden to employ any other attorney. Bush v. Coler, 24 Misc. (N. Y.) 368, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 679 [affirmed in 52 N. Y. App. Div. 630, 65 N. Y. Suppl. 1129], holding also that the duty of the controller of the city of New York to "settle and adjust all claims" against the city does not deprive the corporation counsel of the city of the power to compromise a claim sued on by an offer of judgment.

47. Bank of Commerce v. Louisville, 88 Fed. 398.

48. An ordinance authorizing the city controller to procure from a slaughter-house company, in the name of the city, "the privilege and right of all city butchers to use their slaughter-house for the slaughtering of animals thereat, free of charge to nor may he make any municipal contract without authority from the legislature or the governing body of the corporation.⁴⁹

e. Tax-Collector. The collector of municipal taxes may bind the city for expenses necessary to enable him to perform an official function;⁵⁰ but he may not advertise except as provided by law,⁵¹ nor transgress the limits of appropriation.⁵²

f. Treasurer. In the absence of an express grant of authority, a city treasurer has no authority to issue city warrants.⁵³

g. Other Officers. And in general purely executive or ministerial officers have no implied power to bind the municipality by contract,⁵⁴ except in case of emergency involving peril to the corporation.⁵⁵

3. COMMITTEES AND COMMISSIONERS. A committee of the common council, when thereunto duly authorized, may make a contract binding upon a municipality;⁵⁶ such butchers," does not authorize him to contract that the company should have the offal of the animals so slaughtered at their establishment. Wahl v. Milwaukee, 23 Wis. 272.

49. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. New York, 4 Bosw. (N. Y.) 80; Briggs v. New York, 2 Daly (N. Y.) 304. The controller of New York has no power as such officer, in the absence of express authority, to hire a pier for the purpose of removing offal from the city, so as to render the city liable to pay for such use. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. New York, supra.

Controller and chairman of finance committee.—Under a charter declaring that no debt or obligation against the city shall be created except by ordinance, and that neither the city council nor any officer shall make valid or in any manner recognize any demand against the city which was not at the time of its creation a valid claim, etc., the custom of the city officers to vest the financial control and management of the city in its controller and the chairman of the finance committee did not render a contract entered into by the latter officers, employing a broker to sell municipal bonds, binding on the city. Paul v. Seattle, 40 Wash. 294, 82 Pac. 601.

50. Dallas v. Martyn, 29 Tex. Civ. App. 201, 68 S. W. 710.

51. Philadelphia v. Flanigen, 47 Pa. St. 21. In Millet v. Stoneham, 26 Me. 78, it was held that towns were not liable to publishers of newspapers for the publication of notices of sales of land for taxes by direction of the collector.

52. The city councils of Philadelphia have power, in an appropriation for advertising delinquent taxpayers, to restrict it as to the number of newspapers, the number of insertions in each, and as to costs; and the receiver of taxes has no power to bind the city in excess of the appropriation, or to advertise otherwise than as directed by the councils. Philadelphia v. Flanigen, 47 Pa. St. 21.

53. Bardsley v. Sternberg, 17 Wash. 243, 49 Pac. 499. See infra, XV, B, 2.

54. Heuhlein v. New Haven, 75 Conn. 545, 54 Atl. 298.

City authorities having charge of the sale of buildings cannot bind the city by a guaranty giving a permit of removal on conditions different from those prescribed by the city ordinances and the regulations of the board of aldermen. Osgood v. Boston, 165 Mass. 281, 43 N. E. 108.

The board of trustees of gas works of cities or villages have no power to make contracts which would be binding upon such cities or villages, except "under such rules and regulations as, by ordinance, the council may prescribe," as provided by Ohio Rev. St. § 2484. Kerr v. Bellefontaine, 13 Ohio Cir. Ct. 24, 7 Ohio Cir. Dec. 93; Dalzell, etc., Co. v. Findlay, 5 Ohio Cir. Ct. 435, 3 Ohio Cir. Dec. 214.

City physician.—Where no authority is conferred on a city physician, either by the city charter or ordinances, to employ assistants in treating smallpox patients during an epidemic, the fact that the secretary of the board of health, whose official duties are merely clerical, renders services of such character under employment by the city physician, will not render the city liable therefor. Nash v. Knoxville, 108 Tenn. 68, 64 S. W. 1062.

The armory board, as constituted under N. Y. Laws (1898), p. 563, c. 212, § 134, had no authority to bind the city by an indebtedness incurred for architect's fees until the board had been authorized to incur such indebtedness by resolution of the commissioners of the sinking fund. Horgan v. New York, 114 N. Y. App. Div. 555, 100 N. Y. Suppl. 68.

School trustees.—The board of education of New York city, created by Laws (1851), c. 386, by a regulation which it was authorized to make, authorized the trustees of each ward to expend a certain sum, and no more, for the repairs of school-houses; and plaintiff, under the direction of trustees, made repairs on the school-houses of a ward, but the amount allowed to the trustees was expended without paying him therefor. It was held that plaintiff's employment was in excess of the powers of the trustees, and the board was not liable therefor. Miller v. New York, 3 Hun (N. Y.) 35, 5 Thomps. & C. 219.

55. Withers v. New York, 92 N. Y. App. Div. 147, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 1105; Sheehan v. New York, 37 Misc. (N. Y.) 432, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 802.

56. Conyers v. Kirk, 78 Ga. 480, 3 S. E.

but to give it validity it must have the approval of a majority.⁵⁷ So also by virtue of its sovereign power to control municipal affairs the general assembly may authorize a commission to make contracts which will bind the corporation without its consent.⁵⁸

4. NOTICE OF LIMITATION OF POWER. It is a general doctrine of the law that one dealing with municipal officers, boards, or committees is bound at his peril to take notice of the limitation of their authority.⁵⁹ It obviously follows that one 442; Jewell Belting Co. v. Bertha, 91 Minn. 9, 97 N. W. 424; State v. McCardy, 62 Minn. 509, 64 N. W. 1133; Burlington v. Dennison, 42 N. J. L. 165; Kramrath v. Albany, 127 N. Y. 575, 28 N. E. 400 [affirming 6 N. Y. Suppl. 54]; People v. Green, 64 N. Y. 499, holding that as the common council has authority to take leases, it necessarily follows as a legal conclusion that they possess ample power, as that duty could not be conveniently performed by that body as such, to authorize some person in office to supervise the taking of a lease and to see that such instrument contains the proper covenants and conditions, and the evidence of the obligations which the parties assume to perform, as well as to direct who shall execute the same, unless such duty by law devolves upon some other officer of the corporation. See also Alton v. Mulledy, 21 Ill. 76; Hunneman v. Jamaica Fire Dist. No. 1, 37 Vt. 40. And see supra, III, G. A committee of councils has no authority to bind a borough by an agreement as to street lines; and any agreement which they may make for that purpose can only become effective by the ratification, evidenced by some unequivocal act, of an authority competent in that behalf to represent the borough. Washington Female Seminary v. Washington Borough, 18 Pa. Super. Ct. 555.

Written order.—Under charter provisions that "the common council shall have power to purchase fire-engines and other fire-apparatus," and that "all claims and demands against the city, before they are allowed by the common council, shall be audited and adjusted by the controller," and a city ordinance prohibiting the controller from auditing or approving any claim for purchases made for the fire department, unless such purchases were made upon the written order of the "committee on fire department," it was held that no one except the common council or someone acting under its direction has authority to make such purchase; and that if made by the "committee on fire department," such purchases can only be by written order. Basshor v. St. Paul, 26 Minn. 110, 1 N. W. 810.

57. Peterson v. New York, 4 E. D. Smith (N. Y.) 413 [affirmed in 17 N. Y. 449]. Where power to make contracts is intrusted to a street committee without an express provision that one member alone may exercise it, it can be exercised only by the concurrent action of at least a majority; and the chairman, as such, has no authority to make such contracts. Sioux City v. Weare, 59 Iowa 95, 12 N. W. 786. A committee of a city council to select and purchase a horse is charged with a judicial duty which cannot be discharged by a majority without notice to the minority. Kavanaugh v. Wausau, 120 Wis. 611, 98 N. W. 550. Where two of the three members of a council committee to select and purchase a horse meet without previous notice or concurrence, and make the trade without the other member knowing that such transaction is in contemplation, the presumption of notice to him, or of his consent to the act of his associates, is rebutted. Kavanaugh v. Wausau, supra.

58. New York, etc., R. Co. v. Wheeler, 72 Conn. 481, 45 Atl. 14; Mooney v. Clark, 69 Conn. 241, 37 Atl. 506, 1080; Woodruff v. Catlin, 54 Conn. 277, 295, 6 Atl. 849.

59. California.—McCoy v. Briant, 53 Cal. 247.

Florida.—Persons dealing with an agent of a municipal corporation are bound to ascertain the nature and extent of the authority of such agent in all cases where the authority is conferred by statute. Madison v. Newsome, 39 Fla. 149, 22 So. 270.

Illinois.—Tamm v. Lavalley, 92 Ill. 263.

Iowa.—Bennett v. Mt. Vernon, 124 Iowa 537, 100 N. W. 349.

Massachusetts.—Osgood v. Boston, 165 Mass. 281, 43 N. E. 108.

Michigan.—Black v. Detroit, 119 Mich. 571, 78 N. W. 660.

Minnesota.—Jewell Belting Co. v. Bertha, 91 Minn. 9, 97 N. W. 424. It is a general and fundamental principle of law that all persons contracting with a municipal corporation must, at their peril, inquire into the power of the corporation or its officers to make a contract. State v. Minnesota Transfer R. Co., 80 Minn. 108, 83 N. W. 32, 50 L. R. A. 656.

Missouri.—Cheaney v. Brookfield, 60 Mo. 53; Mister v. Kansas City, 18 Mo. App. 217.

New Hampshire.—Sprague v. Cornish, 59 N. H. 161.

New Jersey.—New Jersey, etc., Tel. Co. v. Jersey City, 34 N. J. Eq. 580; New Jersey, etc., Tel. Co. v. Jersey City Fire Com'rs, 34 N. J. Eq. 117 [affirmed in 34 N. J. Eq. 580].

New Mexico.—Raton Waterworks Co. v. Raton, 9 N. M. 70, 49 Pac. 898.

New York.—Briggs v. New York, 2 Daly 304.

Ohio.—Persons dealing with officers of municipalities must ascertain for themselves and at their own peril that the provisions of the statutes applicable to the making of the contract, agreement, obligation, or appropriation have been complied with. Wellston v. Morgan, 65 Ohio St. 219, 62 N. E. 127.

Pennsylvania.—Shroder v. Lancaster, 6 Lanc. Bar 201.

has no right of action against a municipal corporation for breach of a contract which it was beyond the powers of the officer, board, or committee to make.⁶⁰

D. Personal Interest of Officers⁶¹—1. IN GENERAL. A public office is a public trust,⁶² and a trustee may not contract with himself personally;⁶³ nor may a member of the council or board vote upon a contract in which he is personally interested.⁶⁴ Municipal contracts entered into with officers of the corporation in violation of these fundamental doctrines, or of a statute or charter provision declaring such rule, are void, and no action lies thereon.⁶⁵ But on the other hand, under some charter and local statutory provisions these general rules have been

Rhode Island.—McAleer v. Angell, 19 R. I. 688, 36 Atl. 588.

Vermont.—Taft v. Pittsford, 28 Vt. 286.

Washington.—Bardsley v. Sternberg, 17 Wash. 243, 49 Pac. 499.

United States.—Sheridan v. New York, 145 Fed. 835.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 656.

60. Arkansas.—Parsel v. Barnes, 25 Ark. 261.

Iowa.—Cedar Rapids Water Co. v. Cedar Rapids, 117 Iowa 250, 90 N. W. 746.

Maryland.—Baltimore v. Reynolds, 20 Md. 1, 83 Am. Dec. 535.

Minnesota.—State v. Minnesota Transfer R. Co., 80 Minn. 108, 83 N. W. 32, 50 L. R. A. 566.

New York.—Miller v. New York, 3 Hun 35, 5 Thomps. & C. 219.

Ohio.—Kerr v. Bellefontaine, 59 Ohio St. 446, 52 N. E. 1024.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 375. And see supra, IX, C, 1, 2, a.

Illustrations.—The doctrine that the official acts of officers de facto should be held valid will not be applied to a case where a contract was made with an officer after his right to perform the functions of his office had ceased, and the fact was notorious, and the other party to the contract had notice that the municipality which the officer claimed to represent had no interest in the subject-matter of the contract. Conway v. St. Louis, 9 Mo. App. 488. Where the appointment of an agent by the selectmen of a town for the purchase and sale of spirituous liquors contains a prohibition of the use of the town's credit, and is duly recorded as required by law, everyone who sells liquor to him is charged with notice of such limitation, and can maintain no action against the city for the price of the liquors. Backman v. Charlestown, 42 N. H. 125. An action could not be maintained against a school-board for failure to permit plaintiff to fulfil a contract to furnish materials for a school-house without showing that the board was authorized by the city to construct the building, or to use any of the funds received or receivable from the city for that purpose, or to appropriate any state funds to that end. Peck-Smead Co. v. Sherman, 26 Tex. Civ. App. 208, 63 S. W. 340.

61. Ratification where officer is interested see infra, IX, I, b.

62. Brown v. Russell, 166 Mass. 14, 43

N. E. 1005, 55 Am. St. Rep. 357, 32 L. R. A. 253.

63. Findlay v. Parker, 17 Ohio Cir. Ct. 294, 9 Ohio Cir. Dec. 710.

64. Ft. Wayne v. Rosenthal, 75 Ind. 156, 39 Am. Rep. 127; Stone v. Bevans, 88 Minn. 127, 92 N. W. 520, 87 Am. St. Rep. 506.

65. California.—Berka v. Woodward, 125 Cal. 119, 57 Pac. 777, 73 Am. St. Rep. 31, 45 L. R. A. 420 (under code and charter provisions); Finch v. Riverside, etc., R. Co., 87 Cal. 597, 25 Pac. 765. A statute forbidding any officer of a city of the fourth class to be interested in a contract with the city is not impliedly repealed by an act providing that under certain circumstances a street contract shall be awarded to the owners of a majority of the frontage on the street to be improved. Capron v. Hitchcock, 98 Cal. 427, 33 Pac. 431.

Georgia.—West v. Berry, 98 Ga. 402, 25 S. E. 508. A contract made by a mayor, while in office, with the city council, to lease a city park for five years, and for an annual sum paid him to keep the park in repair, is against public policy, and void, as it is a contract with nobody whose contracts it is his duty to superintend. Macon v. Huff, 60 Ga. 221.

Illinois.—Dwight v. Palmer, 74 Ill. 295.

Indiana.—Benton v. Hamilton, 110 Ind. 294, 11 N. E. 238; Case v. Johnson, 91 Ind. 477; Ft. Wayne v. Rosenthal, 75 Ind. 156, 39 Am. Rep. 127. A member of a city board of health is an officer, within the meaning of an act providing that no city officer shall be a party to or interested in any contract or agreement creating an indebtedness against the city. Ft. Wayne v. Rosenthal, supra. Under a statute prohibiting any officer of a city from contracting therewith, a city judge cannot recover for the rent of a court-room hired of him by the city. McGregor v. Logansport, 79 Ind. 166.

Kentucky.—Nunemacher v. Louisville, 98 Ky. 334, 32 S. W. 1091, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 933.

Minnesota.—Stone v. Bevans, 88 Minn. 127, 92 N. W. 520, 97 Am. St. Rep. 506; Macy v. Duluth, 68 Minn. 452, 71 N. W. 687.

Nebraska.—Grand Island Gas Co. v. West, 28 Nebr. 852, 45 N. W. 242. Where the council of a city of the second class enters into a contract in which one of the members of the council is interested, such contract may be avoided by the city. McEllinney v. Superior, 32 Nebr. 744, 49 N. W. 705 [following Grand Island Gas Co. v. West, supra].

New Hampshire.—A selectman cannot act modified so as to permit such contracts on certain conditions, such as approval by a for the town in making a loan of its money to himself. Holderness v. Baker, 44 N. H. 414.

New Jersey.—Brown v. Street Lighting Dist. No. 1. 71 N. J. L. 79, 58 Atl. 115; Harrison v. Elizabeth, 70 N. J. L. 591, 57 Atl. 132; Foster v. Cape May, 60 N. J. L. 78, 36 Atl. 1089. An ordinance adopted by the board of public works giving a street railway company license to lay tracks in any street is voidable if one of such board participating in the adoption was specially interested therein. West Jersey Traction Co. v. Camden, 56 N. J. L. 431, 29 Atl. 163 [affirmed in 57 N. J. L. 710, 34 Atl. 1134 (affirmed in 58 N. J. L. 362, 33 Atl. 996)].

New York.—Smith v. Albany, 61 N. Y. 444. Where, by the charter of a city, the members of the common council were prohibited from being interested in any contract for which payment must be made under any ordinance of the common council, and a member of the council, by a secret arrangement with a contractor, became interested in such contract, it was held that a note given by the contractor to such member for his share of the profits of the contract was void, and, being void, an assignee thereof could not recover upon it. Bell v. Quin, 2 Sandf. (N. Y.) 146. Compare Matter of Plattsburgh, 157 N. Y. 78, 51 N. E. 512 [reversing 27 N. Y. App. Div. 353, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 356].

North Carolina.—Snipes v. Winston, 126 N. C. 374, 35 S. E. 610, 78 Am. St. Rep. 666.

Ohio.—Findley v. Parker, 17 Ohio Cir. Ct. 294, 9 Ohio Cir. Dec. 710; Bellaire Goblet Co. v. Findlay, 5 Ohio Cir. Ct. 418, 3 Ohio Cir. Dec. 205.

Pennsylvania.—Com. v. De Camp, 177 Pa. St. 112, 35 Atl. 601; Milford v. Milford Water Co., 124 Pa. St. 610, 17 Atl. 185, 3 L. R. A. 122.

South Carolina.—Duncan v. Charleston, 60 S. C. 532, 39 S. E. 265. Compare Albright v. Chester, 9 Rich. 399.

Texas.—Where plaintiff, through its agent, sold goods to a city, and, after plaintiff forbade the agent to collect the pay therefor, he sold the claim to an alderman, payment by the city to such alderman was no defense to a suit by plaintiff for the price of the goods; the purchase of the claim by the alderman being invalid, under Pen. Code, art. 264, which imposes a penalty on any officer of a city who shall purchase any claim against the city, and the city charter providing that no member of the city council shall be interested in any contract, the consideration of which is to be paid from the city treasury. Texas Anchor Fence Co. v. San Antonio, 30 Tex. Civ. App. 561, 71 S. W. 301.

Washington.—Under a statute providing that any contract with the city in which any city officer is interested shall be void, it is the duty of the court of its own motion to declare any such contract void whenever it so appears to be. Northport v. Northport Townsite Co., 27 Wash. 543, 68 Pac. 204.

United States.—American Emigrant Co. v.

Wright County, 97 U. S. 339, 24 L. ed. 912; Santa Ana Water Co. v. San Buenaventura, 65 Fed. 323.

Canada.—Collins v. Swindle, 6 Grant Ch. (U. C.) 282, where a bill for an accounting was dismissed, being based upon a contract between the complainant, who was a member of a municipal corporation, and defendant, under which contract the complainant agreed to take a contract from the corporation for the execution of certain works in defendant's name, the profits whereof were to be divided, and it was held that such a contract was in contravention of the statute and the court refused to enforce the partnership agreement. See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 657 et seq.

Improvement contracts in which councilmen or officers are directly or indirectly interested are voidable at the option of the corporation or any one directly affected thereby. Macon v. Huff, 60 Ga. 221; Benton v. Hamilton, 110 Ind. 294, 11 N. E. 238 (holding that a legalizing act which assumed to legalize contracts made by an incorporated town did not validate a contract made by the town with its treasurer for the improvement of a street at the expense of property-owners); Case v. Johnson, 91 Ind. 477; Stone v. Bevans, 88 Minn. 127, 92 N. W. 520, 97 Am. St. Rep. 506; Northport v. Northport Townsite Co., 27 Wash. 543, 68 Pac. 204; and other cases above cited. But see Albright v. Chester, 9 Rich. (S. C.) 399.

An allowance to a public officer by a contractor or employee, however small, is such evidence of fraud as will invalidate the contract. Lindsey v. Philadelphia, 2 Phila. (Pa.) 212.

State officers.—The office of election commissioner of St. Louis being created by act of the legislature, the incumbents being appointees of the governor, and their functions applying to all elections, such a commissioner is not a city officer, so as to prevent the corporation of which he is president making a contract with the city, under a city charter providing that city officers shall not be interested in a contract with the city. State v. Meier, 96 Mo. App. 160, 69 S. W. 668.

Penal statute.—See Com. v. Witman, 15 Pa. Dist. 210, holding that section 66 of the act of March 31 1860, forbidding officers to have any interest in municipal contracts under the penalty of forfeiting their offices, applied to a councilman who was not a member, officer, or agent of a corporation. Under a statute which did not prohibit the making of a contract but imposed a penalty for acting or voting subsequently thereto, it was held that where a municipal officer did certain work repairing a stone crusher for which he was voted a certain sum, an action brought to recover such sum as an illegal payment in contravention of the statute was not maintainable; that all such contracts are not void in equity, although a contract by which it is intended that the officer should reap a profit at the expense of the municipality financial officer;⁶⁶ and in some cases the courts without legislation have assumed authority to give judicial approval to fair municipal contracts made with officers or councilmen, not prejudicial to the corporation.⁶⁷ And generally the rules do not invalidate separate contracts with officers' kinsmen, or their general partners; nor those in which the interest of the officer is acquired by assignment;⁶⁸ nor those entered into before he became an officer.⁶⁹

2. PURCHASE OR CONVEYANCE OF PROPERTY. The doctrine above stated applies to the purchase and conveyance of real property by or from municipal officers, and contracts and conveyances by or to them have been held void, solely because of the relation, although they took no active part in negotiating or concluding the purchase.⁷⁰ In other cases the transaction has been treated as valid, unless the might or might not be void in equity depending on the circumstances; that the action could not be maintained upon equitable grounds in this case because the pleading contained nothing more than an allegation that there was a contract under which a certain sum was paid and sought recovery on the ground that the statute made it illegal. South Vancouver v. Rae, 12 Brit. Col. 184.

Profit.—A resolution ordering payment of a fire association's bill was held not illegal because it was passed by the vote of three members of the council who at the same time were members of the association, since the rule of council applied only to members who had "a personal or private interest," and these members had neither, the fire association being organized for the public welfare and not for profit, and further such resolution was not illegal under the act of March 31, 1860, since that was a penal statute having for its object the deterring of officers therein designated from using their official position for private gain and to punish those who should violate its provisions. Crawford v. Clifton Heights Borough, 11 Pa. Dist. 630.

66. Matter of Clamp, 33 Misc. (N. Y.) 250, 68 N. Y. Suppl. 345.

67. Lower Kings River Reclamation Dist. No. 531 v. McCullah, 124 Cal. 175, 56 Pac. 887. See also Albright v. Chester, 9 Rich. (S. C.) 399. An ordinance prohibiting a municipal officer from being interested in any city contract, or receiving any compensation, except his salary, for services rendered the city, will not prevent him from recovering for services rendered altogether outside the line of his official employment, under a contract made with the city, and for a compensation fixed therein. Klemm v. Newark, 61 N. J. L. 112, 38 Atl. 692.

68. California.—Beaudry v. Valdez, 32 Cal. 269.

Michigan.—Lewick v. Glazier, 116 Mich. 493, 74 N. W. 717.

New Jersey.—Moreland v. Passaic, 63 N. J. L. 208, 42 Atl. 1058.

Oregon.—Stott v. Franey, 20 Oreg. 410, 26 Pac. 271, 23 Am. St. Rep. 132.

Pennsylvania.—Com. v. Hilibish, 1 Pa. Dist. 703, 12 Pa. Co. Ct. 25.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 657 et seq.

69. Logansport v. Dykeman, 116 Ind. 15, 17 N. E. 587.

70. Pratt v. Luther, 45 Ind. 250; Wood v.

Elliot, 26 Pittsh. Leg. J. N. S. (Pa.) 334. Under the former New York City Charter (Laws (1849), p. 483, § 19), prohibiting the members of the common council, the heads of departments, chiefs of bureaus, and any other officers of the corporation, from being interested in the purchase of any real property belonging to the corporation, a governor of the almshouse was one of the heads of the department and an officer of the city, who was prohibited from being interested in the purchase of any realty belonging to the corporation. Roosevelt v. Draper, 23 N. Y. 318 [affirming 12 How. Pr. 469].

Under Ohio Rev. St. § 6069, prohibiting any public officer from becoming interested in any contract for the purchase of property by the state, county, or any municipal corporation, the acceptance by a village of a conveyance of property, subject to a mortgage, in which the village solicitor owns an interest, which involves the assumption and payment of the mortgage by the village, constitutes the making of an illegal contract by the village, which will be enjoined. Marsh v. Hartwell, 4 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 64, 2 Ohio N. P. 389.

Sham conveyance to intermediate transferee.—In Tyrrell v. New York, 94 N. Y. Suppl. 951, the mayor of a city, who was also a member of the board of health, conveyed to another, by a sham transfer, a dilapidated building in the city, the rental value of which was not more than four hundred dollars a year, at the outside. This conveyance was made while the board of health was considering the matter of acquiring a pest-house, and a few months later, during the closing days of the mayor's administration, the board of health leased the property from the transferee for a pest-house at an annual rental of three thousand dollars. It was held that the lease was a fraud on the city.

Sale to city of property purchased from it.—Where the common council of the city of New York directed the controller to carry out and complete a purchase of real estate on behalf of the city, by issuing the corporate bonds of the city for the purchase-money, it was no excuse for the non-performance of this duty by the controller, on mandamus against him, that the title was derived from one who had purchased the property from the city, and had taken a conveyance of it while he was an officer of the corporation. People v. Brennan, 39 Barb. (N. Y.) 522.

officer's vote or signature to the deed was requisite to complete the conveyance ;⁷¹ and even the doctrine of strict construction has been applied to give validity to the transaction.⁷²

3. OFFICER INTERESTED AS PARTNER, STOCK-HOLDER, OR EMPLOYEE. Cases are numerous wherein a municipality was brought into contractual relation with firms or companies, of which a councilman or other city officer was a member, shareholder, or employee, and the courts have usually applied the general doctrines to the undoing of such contracts, just as though the officers were individually interested.⁷³ Such contracts have been sustained, however, in some instances, where the officer was only conditionally interested⁷⁴ or not active in procuring the contract ;⁷⁵ and in some, even where the interest was direct and the votes of those interested were controlling.⁷⁶

71. San Diego v. San Diego, etc., R. Co., 44 Cal. 106; Tucker v. Howard, 122 Mass. 529.

72. Trainer v. Wolfe, 140 Pa. St. 279, 21 Atl. 391.

73. Georgia.—Hardy v. Gainesville, 121 Ga. 327, 48 S. E. 921.

Kentucky.—Nunemacher v. Louisville, 98 Ky. 334, 32 S. W. 1091, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 933.

Louisiana.—McManus v. Scheele, 116 La. 72, 40 So. 535, where one who had entered into a contract with the city of New Orleans thereafter entered into a contract with a partnership to execute the first contract and one of the partners was a councilman of the city, and it was held that the contract was void under the statute.

Maine.—Goodrich v. Waterville, 88 Me. 39, 33 Atl. 659.

New Jersey.—Stroud v. Consumers' Water Co., 56 N. J. L. 422, 28 Atl. 578. A contract awarded to a private corporation by commissioners of a municipal corporation, one of whom was a stock-holder in the private corporation, will be set aside on application of a taxpayer. Brown v. Woodbridge Tp. Street Lighting Dist. No. 1, 71 N. J. L. 79, 58 Atl. 115. A determination by the city council in a specific case, based on a finding of that body in a matter in which discretionary judgment was reposed in it, is so far judicial as to be voidable, if any of the quasi-judges who participated were disqualified by private interests, and the award of the public printing to a publishing company in which the councilmen or their wives owned stock renders such award void. Drake v. Elizabeth, 69 N. J. L. 190, 54 Atl. 248.

Ohio.—State v. Funk, 16 Ohio Cir. Ct. 155, 8 Ohio Cir. Dec. 782; Grant v. Brouse, 2 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 24, 1 Ohio N. P. 145. Where some of the gas trustees of a city owning and operating a natural gas plant were beneficially interested in a contract to supply gas to certain manufacturers at a nominal consideration, the contract cannot be enforced. Dalzell, etc., Co. v. Findlay, 5 Ohio Cir. Ct. 435, 3 Ohio Cir. Dec. 214; Bellaire Goblet Co. v. Findlay, 5 Ohio Cir. Ct. 418, 3 Ohio Cir. Dec. 205.

Pennsylvania.—The secretary, who is also a stock-holder, of a corporation having a contract for the lighting of a city, is within the prohibition of Crimes Act (1860), § 66, prohibiting any councilman from being interested in any contract with the city, although he was elected councilman after the execution of the contract. Com. v. De Camp, 177 Pa. St. 112, 35 Atl. 601. A contract entered into by a borough council with an electric light company, two of the directors of which are members of the council, is invalid, although such members voted against the contract. Kennett Electric Light Co. v. Kennett Square, 4 Pa. Dist. 707, 8 Kulp 105.

South Carolina.—Duncan v. Charleston, 60 S. C. 532, 39 S. E. 265.

Tennessee.—A firm of attorneys cannot recover for legal services performed for a city where one of such firm was a member of the board of aldermen, and voted for the employment of the firm, and it required his vote to constitute a majority in favor of the measure, since an interested member has no right to participate in the proceedings. Burkett v. Athens, (Ch. App. 1900) 59 S. W. 667.

United States.—Santa Ana Water Co. v. San Buenaventura, 65 Fed. 323.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 661, 662.

Stock held as collateral.—Under the charter of the city of Cape May, providing that no member of the city council shall be interested in any contract, the expense of which shall be paid by the city, a member who held, as collateral security, a share of the stock of an electric light company, was disqualified to vote to authorize a contract with such company to light the city, although the value of the stock was slight. Foster v. Cape May, 56 N. J. L. 78, 36 Atl. 1089.

74. Broken Bow v. Broken Bow Waterworks Co., 57 Nebr. 548, 77 N. W. 1078.

75. Macy v. Duluth, 68 Minn. 452, 71 N. W. 687; Foster v. Cape May, 60 N. J. L. 78, 36 Atl. 1089; Marshal v. Ellwood City, 189 Pa. St. 348, 41 Atl. 994.

76. Alabama.—Gibbons v. Mobile, etc., R. Co., 36 Ala. 410.

Indiana.—Kokomo v. State, 57 Ind. 152.

New York.—Nicoll v. Sands, 131 N. Y. 19, 29 N. E. 818 [affirming 14 N. Y. Suppl. 448].

Pennsylvania.—Dunlap v. Philadelphia, 13 Wkly. Notes Cas. 98.

England.—London Electric Lighting Co. v. London, 82 L. T. Rep. N. S. 530.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 661, 662.

4. RESIGNATION OF OFFICER. An officer may not validate a void contract by resignation after assuming the contractual relation; ⁷⁷ but it seems that he may by resignation qualify himself to bid for a contract authorized by his vote while a member of the council. ⁷⁸

5. RECOVERY ON IMPLIED CONTRACT. Whether a municipal officer, whose express contract with the corporation for sale or service would be invalid, may recover in assumption on an implied contract, seems to depend upon the special circumstances of the particular case, in some instances the equities being allowed to prevail, ⁷⁹ and in others the courts refusing to imply a contract between parties when the law forbids it. ⁸⁰

E. Binding Successors and Duration of Contract — 1. POWER TO BIND SUCCESSORS. The power of a municipal council to bind successors in office by a contract for a term of years has been repeatedly recognized with regard to water and light supply, ⁸¹ street car fares, ⁸² the disposal of sewage and garbage, ⁸³ and the issuance of municipal bonds. ⁸⁴ But they may not bind either themselves or their successors to forego their legislative functions; ⁸⁵ nor are such contracts for per-

77. Dwight v. Palmer, 74 Ill. 295.

78. White v. Alton, 149 Ill. 626, 37 N. E. 96.

79. Capital Gas Co. v. Young, 109 Cal. 140, 41 Pac. 869, 29 L. R. A. 463; Grand Island Gas Co. v. West, 28 Nebr. 852, 45 N. W. 242. Although an express contract between a city and one of its councilmen for the performance of services for the city, when executory, will not be enforced, yet if the work has been done by the councilman in good faith, and the benefits thereof received by the city, a recovery may be had on the quantum meruit. Concordia v. Hagaman, 1 Kan. App. 35, 41 Pac. 133. Considerations of public policy will not prevent the recovery by a corporation, one of whose stock-holders is a member of a city council, on a quantum meruit for printing done for the city, where such councilman had no power to direct or control the expenditure of the city for such printing. Call Pub. Co. v. Lincoln, 29 Nebr. 149, 45 N. W. 245. The fact that plaintiff, who seeks to recover for repairs made to the streets of a town, was, at the time the contract for such repairs was made, an officer of such town, does not preclude his recovering for his services. Albright v. Chester, 9 Rich. (S. C.) 399. A claim for work on a reclamation improvement performed by one of the district trustees is not invalid, where the work was recommended by the engineer as necessary and approved by him as excellent, and there is no evidence that it was otherwise, or that the trustee derived profit therefrom, although such trustee voted with the other two in favor of approving the claim. Lower Kings River Reclamation Dist. No. 531 v. McCullah, 124 Cal. 175, 56 Pac. 887.

80. Berka v. Woodward, 125 Cal. 119, 57 Pac. 777, 45 L. R. A. 420, 73 Am. St. Rep. 31; Winchester v. Frazer, 43 S. W. 453, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 1366; Macy v. Duluth, 68 Minn. 452, 71 N. W. 687. The mayor of a town, the charter of which forbids that he shall "be interested directly or indirectly in any contract, office, or appointment in said town" cannot lawfully charge the municipality fees for services rendered by him as an attorney at law in cases before the courts to which the municipal corporation is a party, whether the services are rendered under an express or an implied contract. West v. Berry, 98 Ga. 402, 25 S. E. 508.

81. Illinois.—Carlyle Water, etc., Co. v. Carlyle, 31 Ill. App. 325.

Indiana.—Vincennes v. Citizens' Gas Light Co., 132 Ind. 114, 31 N. E. 573, 16 L. R. A. 485.

Louisiana.—New Orleans Gas-Light Co. v. New Orleans, 42 La. Ann. 188, 7 So. 559.

Minnesota.—State v. McCurdy, 62 Minn. 509, 64 N. W. 1133.

Mississippi.—Light, etc., Co. v. Jackson, 73 Miss. 598, 19 So. 771.

Montana.—State v. Great Falls, 19 Mont. 518, 49 Pac. 15.

Washington.—Tanner v. Auburn, 37 Wash. 38, 79 Pac. 494.

United States.—In contracting for the enlargement of its water system, for electric lights for municipal use, and for the use of conduits and poles to carry its wires, a municipality is exercising its proprietary or business powers, is subject to the same rules of law that govern the agreements of private corporations, and its contracts bind its successive sets of officers. Pikes Peak Power Co. v. Colorado Springs, 105 Fed. 1, 44 C. C. A. 333. But see Garrison v. Chicago, 10 Fed. Cas. No. 5255, 7 Biss. 480, holding that the municipal officers of Chicago were not authorized to bind the city by a ten-year contract for lighting the streets with gas, although the charter did not expressly limit their right to make such a contract.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 665, 666. And see infra IX, E, 2.

82. Detroit v. Detroit Citizens' St. R. Co., 184 U. S. 368, 22 S. Ct. 410, 46 L. ed. 592.

83. McBean v. Fresno, 112 Cal. 159, 44 Pac. 358, 53 Am. St. Rep. 191, 31 L. R. A. 794.

84. Edward C. Jones Co. v. Guttenberg, 66 N. J. L. 659, 51 Atl. 274.

85. New York, etc., R. Co. v. New Rochelle, 29 Misc. (N. Y.) 195, 60 N. Y. Suppl. 904; Waterbury v. Laredo, 68 Tex. 565, 5 S. W.

sonal or professional services to the corporation binding on the corporation after the expiration of the official term of the contracting members.⁸⁶ And in some states power to bind successors in any municipal contract is conditioned upon the same going into full operation during the official term of the contracting members.⁸⁷

2. TERM OR DURATION OF CONTRACT. The time limit for contracts to furnish utilities is sometimes fixed in the municipal charter,⁸⁸ or by statutory and constitutional provisions.⁸⁹ In the absence of such limitation either by charter or gen-

81. A contract of a city to pay a water company annually for a number of years for a water-supply — not a definite amount, but the proceeds of an annual tax of a certain per cent on all the assessed property in the city — is invalid for unreasonableness, and as an abdication of the city's legislative power. Westminster Water Co. v. Westminster, 98 Md. 551, 56 Atl. 990, 103 Am. St. Rep. 424, 64 L. R. A. 630.

A city cannot make an agreement with landowners to maintain a drain for the benefit of their lands within or without the city limits, which it cannot afterward repudiate if it chooses. Peru v. Gleason, 91 Ind. 568.

86. Emmert v. De Long, 12 Kan. 67; Mack v. New York, 37 Misc. (N. Y.) 371, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 809 [affirmed in 82 N. Y. App. Div. 637, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 1139]; Wilmington v. Bryan, 141 N. C. 666, 54 S. E. 543. Where the board of commissioners of the almshouse of a city, a department of the city government, employed plaintiff, by contract for two years, to perform surgical and medical services, and the duration of the office or employment of a physician was not provided for by the constitution of the state nor declared by law, and at the end of the first year the incoming board employed another physician, and plaintiff sued to recover his salary for the remainder of his term under the contract, it was held that the contract of the outgoing board was not binding on the succeeding board. Connelly v. Kingston Almshouse, 32 Misc. (N. Y.) 489, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 194.

Period covering construction of building.—

An architect may be employed for the purpose of preparing plans and specifications and supervising the construction of a public building. Such employment would necessarily terminate upon the completion of the building, and is not unauthorized because such work is liable to extend beyond the term of office of the individual members of the board empowered to make the contract. Withers v. New York, 92 N. Y. App. Div. 147, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 1105.

87. Kerling Bros. Co. v. Toledo, 10 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 509, 8 Ohio N. P. 62. Ohio Rev. St. § 1691, providing that a city council shall not enter into any contract not going into operation during the term for which all its members are elected, does not apply to the full performance of every part of a contract to lay pipes and furnish gas, so as to render the contract void, where such full performance would require much time. Chillicothe v. Logan Natural Gas, etc., Co., 11 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 24, 8 Ohio N. P. 88.

88. Denver v. Hubbard, 17 Colo. 346, 68 Pac. 993.

Continuance by requisitions after expiration of term.—Where, after due advertisement for proposals as required by statute, plaintiffs contracted with the city of New York to furnish plank, timber, and logs for the use of the department of docks, on requisitions to be made by it, the contract being dated July 29, 1873, and to continue for one year, it was held that the department had no power, by mere requisitions, to continue the contract in force after it expired by its own terms, and that no recovery could be had thereunder for materials furnished in compliance with requisitions made after the expiration of the year. Bigler v. New York, 9 Hun (N. Y.) 253.

89. Cartersville Water-Works Co. v. Cartersville, 89 Ga. 689, 16 S. E. 70; Cartersville Imp., etc., Co. v. Cartersville, 89 Ga. 683, 16 S. E. 25 (in which cases it is held that without a popular vote, as required by the constitution, a municipal corporation cannot contract for gas or water on the credit of the city for more than one year; and a contract which is to run for a longer term is operative from year to year only, so long as neither of the parties renounces or repudiates it; but, so long as it stands and is complied with by one party, the other party is bound by it); Jersey City Bd. of Finance v. Jersey City St., etc., Com'rs, 55 N. J. L. 230, 26 Atl. 92 [reversed in 57 N. J. L. 452, 31 Atl. 625] (holding that the effect of a contract between a city and a gas company which provided that the latter should furnish gas for a certain number of lamps for five years, and that it might be required to lay one mile of new mains in each year during the continuance of the contract, in consideration of which the board should pay for a certain number of lamps along the line of the new mains, at the rate then in force, for a period of five years from the date upon which such lamps should first be lighted, was to bind the city to pay for lamps for a period which might reach to ten years, if the new lamps were first lighted near the end of the period of five years, contrary to the statute which provides that the board of street and water commissioners shall have power to make contracts for lighting streets for a term not exceeding five years). Under authority to contract for a water-supply for ten years, a town cannot, as a condition to its grant of authority to a company to lay pipes, require the company to furnish water for twenty years, and bind itself to take the water at a specified rate for that time. Davis v. Harrison, 46 N. J. L. 79.

eral statute, such contracts have been sustained as valid when made for a term of years,⁹⁰ twenty,⁹¹ twenty-one,⁹² twenty-five,⁹³ and even thirty⁹⁴ years being held not unreasonable in view of the expense of preparation; but not in perpetuo.⁹⁵ But twenty-five or thirty years have been held an unreasonable term for a grant of Provision for payment.—A city has no power to make a contract for lighting streets for a period of five years, when no provision is made to meet the obligations of the city to pay the price named in such contract for that period. Humphreys v. Bayonne, 55 N. J. L. 241, 26 Atl. 81. And under a statute giving to the common council of any city power to order any public street to be lighted, and to make and enter into contracts therefor with any other parties, "and to cause the annual expense thereof" to be certified, etc., contracts for lighting the cities are limited to one year. Taylor v. Lambertville, 43 N. J. Eq. 107, 10 Atl. 809. But under an act authorizing cities of the third class incorporated thereunder to provide for and regulate the lighting of their streets, and to maintain plants for furnishing light for their own use and that of their citizens, or contract with others for furnishing such light for a period not exceeding ten years, it was held that a third-class city, without any plant of its own, may make a five-year contract for the lighting of its streets; and that the period for which such a contract could be made was not impliedly limited to one year by another provision requiring the controller to certify on the contract the estimated amount of expenditure thereunder chargeable against the item of appropriation on which it is founded, nor by a provision therein requiring the council to make appropriation and fix the rate annually. Black v. Chester, 175 Pa. St. 101, 34 Atl. 354.

N. Y. Laws (1865), c. 300, authorizing the board of town auditors of the town of Middletown to cause the streets to be lighted by gas, did not confer the power to make a valid contract for a term of years, but only during the pleasure of the legislature. Richmond County Gas-Light Co. v. Middletown, 59 N. Y. 228 [affirming 1 Thomps. & C. 433].

90. Capital City Water Co. v. Montgomery, 92 Ala. 366, 9 So. 343; New Orleans Gas-Light Co. v. New Orleans, 42 La. Ann. 188, 7 So. 559; Reid v. Trowbridge, 78 Miss. 542, 29 So. 167; Smith v. Avon-by-the-Sea, 68 N. J. L. 243, 52 Atl. 226; Van Giesen v. Bloomfield, 47 N. J. L. 442, 2 Atl. 249; Seitzinger v. Tamaqua, 187 Pa. St. 539, 41 Atl. 454. Under the Atlantic City Charter of 1866, authorizing the city council to provide by ordinance for the supply of water for the city, the council was authorized to enter into a contract for the supplying of such water for a specified sum annually as long as the contractor should comply with its obligations, although such charter further provided that the council should levy taxes annually for the purpose of supplying the city with water. Atlantic City Water-Works Co. v. Atlantic City, 48 N. J. L. 378, 6 Atl. 24. Under Pa. Incorporation Act, art. 5, § 2, giving cities of the third class power to provide for and regulate the lighting of cities with gas or electric lights or other means, to have the exclusive right at all times to supply the city with gas or other light, and such persons, etc., as may desire the same, at such price as may be agreed upon, and at all times to have the unrestricted right to make, erect, and maintain the necessary buildings and apparatus for manufacturing and distributing the same, or, in any territory not supplied with light, to make contracts with any person, association, or company so to do, and to give such person, company, or association the privilege of supplying gas or other light, for any length of time not exceeding ten years, a city of the third class may contract with an electric light company for lighting the streets of the city for a term of five years. Edison Electric Illuminating Co. v. Jacobs, 8 Kulp (Pa.) 120.

Officer's authority restricted by ordinance.—Where an ordinance authorized the board of public works to make a contract for the period of ten years, providing for placing receptacles for waste paper at street corners, and reserved the right to terminate the contract on sixty days' notice, and a ten-year contract, entered into in pursuance of the ordinance, was terminated at the end of two years, the commissioner had no authority to enter into a new contract for the same purpose for a period of ten years from the expiration of the first contract. Buffalo Clean St. Co. v. Buffalo, 113 N. Y. App. Div. 887, 98 N. Y. Suppl. 784 [affirmed in 188 N. Y. 604, 81 N. E. 1161].

91. McBean v. Fresno, 112 Cal. 159, 44 Pac. 358, 53 Am. St. Rep. 191, 31 L. R. A. 794; Light, etc., Co. v. Jackson, 73 Miss. 598, 19 So. 771.

92. Carlyle Water, etc., Co. v. Carlyle, 31 Ill. App. 325.

93. Vincennes v. Citizens' Gas Light Co., 132 Ind. 114, 31 N. E. 573, 16 L. R. A. 485.

94. Carlyle v. Carlyle Water, etc., Co., 52 Ill. App. 577. Thirty years is not such an unreasonable length of time for the running of a contract for supplying a city or village with water as will entitle the municipality to avoid it on that ground, where it involves the erection and maintenance of an expensive plant by the other party. Little Falls Electric, etc., Co. v. Little Falls, 102 Fed. 663.

95. Westminster Water Co. v. Westminster, 98 Md. 551, 56 Atl. 990, 103 Am. St. Rep. 424, 64 L. R. A. 630. A city has not power to enter into a contract with a railroad by which it binds itself to maintain and keep in repair "for all future time" a bridge built jointly by the railroad and the city on a highway, and over tracks belonging to the railroad, and agrees to allow no grade cross-exclusive privilege by a municipality;⁹⁶ and it may not bind itself by contract to furnish from its plant water at a fixed annual rate for a term of years,⁹⁷ or to take over a water or gas plant after a certain period.⁹⁸

3. SUSTAINING CONTRACTS FOR UNLAWFUL PERIOD. The courts have expressed contrary views as to the validity of municipal contracts for a period exceeding what is statutory or reasonable, some maintaining the rigid doctrine that the contract being ultra vires is void, and will support no action whatever;⁹⁹ while others hold them good for the statutory period,¹ or for a reasonable time.²

F. Proposals and Bids — 1. CONTRACTS REQUIRING COMPETITION.³ Any municipal officer authorized to make contracts for the corporation may resort of his own choice to the competitive method to obtain the most favorable results for the public.⁴ But municipal contracts made without this precaution are valid, unless statute, charter, or ordinance prescribes its use,⁵ which they do in many instances; ings to be established at such point. State v. Minnesota Transfer R. Co., 80 Minn. 108, 83 N. W. 32, 50 L. R. A. 656.

96. Long v. Duluth, 49 Minn. 280, 51 N. W. 913, 32 Am. St. Rep. 547; Brenham v. Brenham Water Co., 67 Tex. 542, 4 S. W. 143. A contract by a city council with a water company to furnish water for the city for thirty years is unreasonable as to time, and beyond the power of the city to make. Flynn v. Little Falls Electric, etc., Co., 74 Minn. 180, 77 N. W. 38, 78 N. W. 106.

97. Illinois Cent. Hospital for Insane v. Jacksonville, 61 Ill. App. 199.

98. Long v. Duluth, 49 Minn. 280, 51 N. W. 913, 32 Am. St. Rep. 547.

99. Indiana.—Gas Light, etc., Co. v. New Albany, 156 Ind. 406, 59 N. E. 176, holding that under Acts (1883), p. 85 (Burn Rev. St. (1894) § 4301), authorizing a city council to contract for the lighting of the city for such time, not exceeding ten years, as may be agreed on, a contract for a longer period is wholly invalid, and cannot stand for a period of ten years.

Kentucky.—Somerset v. Smith, 105 Ky. 678, 49 S. W. 456, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 1488.

Missouri.—Kirkwood v. Meramec Highlands Co., 94 Mo. App. 637, 68 S. W. 761.

Ohio.—Wellston v. Morgan, 59 Ohio St. 147, 52 N. E. 127, holding that where a corporation undertakes by ordinance to contract with an electric light company for an exclusive privilege for the lighting of its streets for ninety-nine years at a given price per month, the corporation having no power to contract for a longer period than ten years under the statute, such contract is ultra vires, and void, and no recovery whatever may be had.

United States.—Manhattan Trust Co. v. Dayton, 59 Fed. 327, 8 C. C. A. 140 [affirming 55 Fed. 181].

1. Defiance Water Co. v. Defiance, 90 Fed. 753. Where a city has power to contract for water to be used in flushing sewers and extinguishing fires, an action lies to recover the agreed price for water supplied and used in any one year, although the contract was for twenty years, and the city had power to contract for but one year. Montgomery v. Montgomery Waterworks, 79 Ala. 233. A contract by a municipal corporation to pay a certain price for gas for a period longer than its charter authorizes it to agree on a price is valid only for the period allowed by its charter, and does not preclude it, after purchasing gas for such period at the price fixed, from refusing thereafter to pay such price. State v. Ironton Gas Co., 37 Ohio St. 45.

Water contract for excessive term.—A contract between a city and a water company for the furnishing by the latter to the city of water and fire hydrants, for which the city agreed to pay an annual rental in semiannual instalments, when made in good faith and carried out by the company by furnishing the water and hydrants, is valid and binding upon the city, at least so long as it has taken no action to rescind the same, notwithstanding it was to remain in force by its terms for thirty years, while the power of the city was limited by statute to the making of contracts for not exceeding twenty years. McGonigale v. Defiance, 140 Fed. 621 [affirmed in 150 Fed. 689].

2. Columbus Water-Works Co. v. Columbus, 48 Kan. 99, 28 Pac. 1097, 15 L. R. A. 354.

3. Contracts for public improvements see infra, XIII, C, 2.

4. Brevooort v. Detroit, 24 Mich. 322.

5. Crowder v. Sullivan, 128 Ind. 486, 28 N. E. 94, 13 L. R. A. 647; Yarnold v. Lawrence, 15 Kan. 126; Elliot v. Minneapolis City, 59 Minn. 111, 60 N. W. 1081; Oakley v. Atlantic City, 63 N. J. L. 127, 44 Atl. 651; Trenton v. Shaw, 49 N. J. L. 638, 10 Atl. 273. Section 11 of the Illinois act to create sanitary districts, etc. (Hurd Rev. St. (1898) p. 322, § 353), providing that all contracts for work to be done by such municipality, the expense of which will exceed five hundred dollars, shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder, has no application to a hiring by the sanitary district of Chicago of pumps and employees to be used by its chief engineer in the doing of work which it had directed the engineer to do. George F. Blake Mfg. Co. v. Chicago Sanitary Dist., 77 Ill. App. 287. N. Y. Acts (1870-1871), authorizing the commissioner of public works to purchase, in his discretion, water meters for New York city, authorized him to contract for the purchase of such meters, and as a rule contracts made in violation of these requirements are illegal,⁶ and impose no obligation or liability on the corporation.⁷ But many judicial exceptions have been made to the statute; for example, in the case of contracts for carriage hire,⁸ for lease of the recorder's office,⁹ for street lighting,¹⁰ for municipal without advertising and awarding the contract to the lowest bidder; Laws (1861), c. 308, requiring all contracts on behalf of the corporation to be let to the lowest bidder, not being applicable. Baird v. New York, 96 N. Y. 567. See also People v. Van Nort, 64 Barb. (N. Y.) 205. An agreement by the city of New York for the use of gas belonging to a gaslight company, which was in the enjoyment of a practical legislative monopoly, was held not within the provisions of the city charter requiring contracts for supplies involving expenditures beyond two hundred and fifty dollars to be made in writing with the lowest bidder, on an advertisement for sealed proposals. Harlem Gaslight Co. v. New York, 33 N. Y. 309 [affirming 3 Rob. 100].

The Philadelphia gas works were not a department of the city government, within the proviso of the Pennsylvania act of May 13, 1856, relating to the letting of contracts for supplies, so as to render it necessary that such contracts should be let only after advertisement and bids. Hacker v. Philadelphia, 6 Phila. (Pa.) 94.

Commissioners of charities.—New York City Charter (1873), § 91, requiring that contracts for supplies furnished for the corporation should be made after public advertisements for bids and proposals, was held not to apply to repairs on a schoolship, pursuant to a contract with the commissioners of the department of charities and correction, as such contract did not involve supplies furnished for the corporation, that is, for the mayor, aldermen, and commonalty of New York city; the management of their department by the commissioners of charities being wholly independent of the common council. Lawrence v. New York, 54 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 255.

6. Baltimore v. Keyser, 72 Md. 106, 19 Atl. 706, where an ordinance of a city council required the mayor, controller, and superintendent of lights to advertise for proposals for lighting certain streets and buildings with electric lights, to open the proposals at twelve o'clock, June 1, and to award the contract to the lowest responsible bidder. They advertised for bids to be so filed in the office of the superintendent. A bid was filed in the office of the mayor, and at six minutes after twelve he and the controller, in the absence of the superintendent, opened said bid and awarded the contract. Four minutes later the superintendent appeared with a bid filed in his office before twelve o'clock, but the others refused to consider it. It was held that the award was illegal, as violating both the letter and spirit of the ordinance, and the city will be restrained from entering into the contract, or paying money under it.

7. Illinois.—Chicago Sanitary Dist. v. McMahon, etc., Co., 110 Ill. App. 510.

Iowa.—Weitz v. Des Moines Independent Dist., 79 Iowa 423, 44 N. W. 696.

Missouri.—State v. Butler, 178 Mo. 272, 77 S. W. 560.

Montana.—Davenport v. Kleinschmidt, 6 Mont. 502, 13 Pac. 249.

Nevada.—Sadler v. Eureka County, 15 Nev. 39.

New Jersey.—Van Reipen v. Jersey City, 58 N. J. L. 262, 33 Atl. 740; Jersey City Bd. of Finance v. Jersey City, 57 N. J. L. 452, 31 Atl. 625.

New York.—Phelps v. New York, 112 N. Y. 216, 19 N. E. 408, 2 L. R. A. 626; Walton v. New York, 26 N. Y. App. Div. 76, 49 N. Y. Suppl. 615; McSpedon v. New York, 7 Bosw. 601, 20 How. Pr. 395.

Ohio.—Newton v. Toledo, 18 Ohio Cir. Ct. 756, 8 Ohio Cir. Dec. 607. Where a board authorized to make contracts for less than five hundred dollars without advertising, but bound to advertise for bids for contracts amounting to a larger sum, had advertised for bids for fire department hose amounting to four thousand dollars, and on being enjoined from entering into any contract under the advertisement on the ground that it was not specific enough, the board, at the advice of the city solicitor, contracted with the same parties for the hose in successive purchases of less than five hundred dollars each, it was held that this was a violation of the injunction, and unlawful. Wing v. Cleveland, 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 551, 15 Cinc. L. Bul. 50. Compare Walsh v. Columbus, 36 Ohio St. 169.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 669.

Liability on quantum valebat.—But while a contract not made in compliance with such statutory requirements is void, yet if it has been performed to the extent that the municipality has received something of value thereunder, it will be held liable for the reasonable value of what it had so received. Providence v. Providence Electric Light Co., 91 S. W. 664, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 1015; Nicholasville Water Co. v. Nicholasville, 36 S. W. 549, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 592, 38 S. W. 430. See infra, IX, G, 3, b.

8. Charter provisions requiring that work required to be done for a municipal corporation shall be employed by contract founded on bids and proposals upon public notice do not apply to a contract for carriage hire of aldermen or councilmen while engaged in public duties. Smith v. New York, 21 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 1.

9. Davies v. New York, 83 N. Y. 207, holding that it was not a contract "for work or supplies."

10. Atlantic Gas, etc., Co. v. Atlantic City, printing,¹¹ for engineer's supervision,¹² for removal of garbage,¹³ and for services depending for their value on scientific knowledge and personal skill.¹⁴

2. INFORMATION TO BIDDERS. It is not only proper but necessary that bidders shall be duly informed by the officer soliciting bids as to the nature, quality, and quantity of the article to be purchased or the work to be done for the municipality to the end that they may bid intelligently, and binding contracts may result therefrom.¹⁵ And to this end also the same information should be given to all that there may be fair competition.¹⁶ The bidders may also be required to submit with their bids a detailed plan and explanation as to the modus operandi.¹⁷ And the officer calling for bids may and should publish any lawful restrictions by 73 N. J. L. 360, 63 Atl. 997 (holding that the term "public works" in the statute does not apply to a lighting contract); North River Electric Light, etc., Co. v. New York, 48 N. Y. App. Div. 14, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 726 (holding that where it was absolutely necessary for a city to obtain street lighting at once, the fact that it contracted therefor at a reasonable price, without first advertising for bids, as required by its charter, does not preclude the contractor from recovery, since such charter provision is only to insure economy and exclude favoritism and corruption in furnishing labor, etc., and does not apply where the delay occasioned thereby would work irreparable mischief).

11. Under the act creating the taxing district of Memphis and providing that the fire and police commissioners shall in every case, before entering into any contract for any purpose, advertise for proposals for the work to be done, material to be furnished, or services to be performed, and award the contract, if at all, to the lowest bidder, etc., it was held that such commissioners could designate some newspaper in which the city would insert its advertisements, notices, etc., for a year, and agree with such proprietor that the printing thus done should be at a stated price per line, square, or column, but in no event exceed by a specified sum the cost of the preceding year, without previous advertisement, and the reception of bids. Public Ledger Co. v. Memphis, 93 Tenn. 77, 23 S. W. 51.

12. A provision of a city charter that "all contracts for the erection and construction of public improvements shall be let to the lowest responsible bidder" has no application to the employment of an engineer to supervise the work of a contractor or to repair and complete work only partially completed by the contractor, where such work is done at the contractor's expense, and the city may obligate itself by implication to pay for the services so rendered. Newport News v. Potter, 122 Fed. 321, 58 C. C. A. 483.

13. Swift v. New York, 83 N. Y. 523.

14. Horgan v. New York, 114 N. Y. App. Div. 555, 100 N. Y. Suppl. 68, services of an architect. So a contract for furnishing fireworks for a Fourth of July celebration is not within a statute requiring contracts for services, supplies, etc., to be advertised and given to the lowest bidder, for the reason that the articles are of a peculiar character, depending for their value upon the personal skill of the manufacturer. Detwiller v. New York, 1 Thomps. & C. (N. Y.) 657, 46 How. Pr. 218.

15. Detroit v. Wayne County Cir. Judge, 79 Mich. 384, 44 N. W. 622. Under a statute providing that the city council shall not enter into any contract in the purchase of city supplies involving the expenditure of more than five hundred dollars, without first receiving proposals therefor, and requiring the publication of a notice soliciting proposals for such supplies, a city is not authorized to enter into a contract for the purchase of fire department hose on a bid made pursuant to an advertisement for proposals, which does not specify the kind or quality of hose required other than the dimensions thereof. Wing v. Cleveland, 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 507, 14 Cinc. L. Bul. 190. There can be no objection to the provision in a contract as to alternative bidding, nor to the provisions therein by which alterations and modifications in the contract are provided for. In practice, such changes have always been found necessary, and, in the nature of things, must be. Ampt v. Cincinnati, 17 Ohio Cir. Ct. 516, 9 Ohio Cir. Dec. 690.

16. Ely v. Grand Rapids, 84 Mich. 336, 47 N. W. 447; Barber Asphalt Paving Co. v. Hunt, 100 Mo. 22, 13 S. W. 98, 18 Am. St. Rep. 530, 8 L. R. A. 110; Mazet v. Pittsburgh, 137 Pa. St. 548, 20 Atl. 693. Since the kind of beef and mutton to be used in his department is left to the discretion of the commissioner of the department of correction of the city of New York, he has the right to restrict bidders for supplies to the use of animals killed and dressed within the state, such restriction being no limitation on the right of citizens to compete. Matter of Rooney, 26 Misc. (N. Y.) 73, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 483. Under a statute requiring a city to advertise for bids for materials which it wishes to buy, the advertisement being for new iron pipes, a bid for second-hand pipe cannot be considered, without notice to the other bidders allowing them to bid on that basis. Lake Shore Foundry v. Cleveland, 8 Ohio Cir. Ct. 671, 4 Ohio Cir. Dec. 230.

17. Packard v. Hayes, 94 Md. 233, 51 Atl. 32. A statute requiring commissioners to prepare forms of bids for the construction of waterworks in Cincinnati does not preclude the commissioners from requiring each bidder to submit a full detailed plan, to advise the city of the interpretation of its which he intends to exercise his discretion in awarding the contract, as to size, form, color, material, and domesticity of product.¹⁸ But a contract awarded upon private information given only to the successful bidder is unfair, illegal, and void.¹⁹

3. PROPOSAL OR ADVERTISEMENT. The requirements of a valid proposal or advertisement are: (1) That the published proposal shall advertise the contract authorized and with sufficient fullness and particularity to show it to be legal and valid;²⁰ (2) that it shall be published in the number of papers and for the length of time required by the law or ordinance;²¹ and (3) that it shall be in such terms as to invite bids and not to repel competition.²² Lacking any of these the advertisement is void.²³ But courts have held competitive contracts good without publication of proposal for bids, when the material sought is a utility or patented article purchasable at only one place;²⁴ when a place leased has unrivaled advantages for the desired purpose;²⁵ when emergency demands immediate action;²⁶ and in certain other cases.²⁷ own plans by the bidders and their method of execution; such a requirement not rendering the bids non-competitive. Ampt v. Cincinnati, 8 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 624, 6 Ohio N. P. 208.

18. Advertisements for bids by the commissioners of the new East river bridge properly restricted bids for work to parties having the requisite plant and facilities in successful operation for at least a year on work of a similar character, and required that the steel should contain specified elements, which, in the judgment of the commissioners, were best suited for the work, since the act prescribing their duties does not require them to advertise for bids or let their contracts to the lowest bidder. Meyers v. New York, 58 N. Y. App. Div. 534, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 529 [reversing 32 Misc. 522, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 755]. A statute requiring commissioners to prepare forms of bids for the construction of waterworks in Cincinnati does not preclude the preparation of forms permitting alternative bidding. Ampt v. Cincinnati, 8 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 624, 6 Ohio N. P. 208.

19. Ryan v. Ashbridge, 10 Pa. Dist. 153.

20. A requirement of the city charter for the letting of contracts by advertisement is not complied with if the contract as advertised is on its face null and void. State v. King, 109 La. 799, 33 So. 776.

21. Taylor v. Lambertville, 43 N. J. Eq. 107, 10 Atl. 809. Under Ky. St. § 3450, part of charter of cities of the third class, providing that the mayor shall advertise the letting of contracts for street improvements "in some newspaper published in said city, for at least ten days," insertion of notice in a newspaper for one time ten days before the letting is sufficient. Woodward v. Collett, 48 S. W. 164, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 1066.

22. The New York Revised Charter, § 1554 (Laws (1901), p. 642, c. 466), providing that no patented article shall be advertised for or purchased by the city, except under such circumstances that there can be a fair and reasonable opportunity for competition, is violated by the limitation of bids for the furnishing of water meters to a certain type and size, and in such manner as to call for bids only upon a patented article, under conditions calculated to practically exclude competition. Kay v. Monroe, 93 N. Y. App. Div. 484, 87 N. Y. Suppl. 831.

23. Woodward v. Collett, 48 S. W. 164, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 1066; State v. King, 109 La. 799, 33 So. 776; Kay v. Monroe, 93 N. Y. App. Div. 484, 87 N. Y. Suppl. 831.

24. Hobart v. Detroit, 17 Mich. 246, 97 Am. Dec. 185; In re Dugro, 50 N. Y. 513; Silby Mfg. Co. v. Allentown, 153 Pa. St. 319, 26 Atl. 646. In Yarnold v. Lawrence, 15 Kan. 126, the court considered but did not decide the question whether a city expressly required to let all contracts to the lowest bidder may not let a valid contract for improving its streets by process covered by a patent and subject to a monopoly. Judge Brewer, who wrote the opinion, was inclined to favor the view expressed in the above cases. Statutes requiring that contracts for municipal supplies must be founded on sealed bids, after public advertisement, do not apply where the subject-matter of the contract is such that competitive proposals work an incongruity, and are unavailing as affecting the final result, or where they do not produce any advantage, but the nature of the supply requires that it be determined from inspection and test, which are made up from present examination and trial, and depend upon special knowledge and judgment, or where the thing to be obtained is a monopoly, or the requirement is of personal skill or professional service, or it is practically impossible to observe the statutory form and obtain what is required. Gleason v. Dalton, 28 N. Y. App. Div. 555, 51 N. Y. Suppl. 337 [reversing 23 Misc. 18, 50 N. Y. Suppl. 90].

25. Farmers' L. & T. Co. v. New York, 4 Bosw. (N. Y.) 80.

26. North River Electric Light, etc., Co. v. New York, 48 N. Y. App. Div. 14, 62 N. Y. Suppl. 726.

27. Under a city ordinance providing that all "contracts for city work in excess of $500 shall be publicly advertised," it was held that a contract exceeding five hundred dollars, with the only electric light company in the city, for the lighting of the city, was not rendered void by the failure to advertise. Hartford v. Hartford Electric Light Co., 65 Conn. 324, 32 Atl. 925.

4. DEPOSIT OR OTHER SECURITY. A requirement of a cash deposit by the bidder is satisfied by certified check or certificate of deposit;²⁸ and on rejection of a bid an injunction will lie to prevent the use of the check or certificate by the city.²⁹ An injunction will not lie to prevent acceptance of the lowest bid, without deposit, unless fraud or collusion is charged.³⁰ If, however, the bidder fails to give bond within the required time, the bid may be re-awarded without notice to him.³¹ Materialmen³² and laborers³³ may recover on the contractors' bonds to the city for material furnished for the contract; and neither payment of the contractor's claim nor changes in specifications, under reserved power to make them, will discharge the sureties from liability on the bond;³⁴ nor will the invalidity of the contract or the non-approval of the bond defeat equitable relief.³⁵

5. WITHDRAWAL OF BID. A bidder has no right at law, nor have municipal officers power to permit him, to withdraw his bid and deposit.³⁶ But equity will permit such withdrawal on a bill showing mistake filed seasonably and before the city has taken any steps to alter its condition.³⁷

6. ACCEPTANCE OR REJECTION OF BID. Municipal contracts, like those of natural persons, are based upon the entire agreement of the parties as to terms and conditions.³⁸ If the purpose of the municipality is sufficiently definite and specific, it is possible that the bid may amount to an unqualified acceptance of the offer, and the contract be thus concluded without further negotiation or action by either party.³⁹ Usually, however, the definite conclusion of the contract is marked by

28. People v. Contracting Bd., 27 N. Y. 378.

Ordinance inapplicable.—An ordinance providing that "when any work or improvement, local or general, is proposed to be done, or any materials are to be supplied, bids or proposals for which are required by statute," a provision may be inserted in the advertisement inviting the proposals that each must be accompanied by a certified check or bond conditioned on the performance of the work or the furnishing of the goods according to the terms of the proposal, was held not to require publishers of newspapers to submit a certified check or bond with proposals to do the city printing, as to which the city charter provided that on a certain day in each year notice shall be given to the publishers of daily papers in the city that sealed proposals for the city printing will be received, and that the council "shall award the contract to the lowest responsible bidder." People v. Buffalo, 5 Misc. (N. Y.) 36, 25 N. Y. Suppl. 50.

29. Brush Electric Light Co. v. Cincinnati, 11 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 581, 28 Cinc. L. Bul. 29.

30. Smith v. Philadelphia, 2 Brewst. (Pa.) 443.

31. Barrett v. Ocean City, 62 N. J. L. 588, 41 Atl. 946.

32. Lancaster v. Frescoln, 22 Pa. Co. Ct. 225.

33. Philadelphia v. McLinden, 11 Pa. Dist. 128, 26 Pa. Co. Ct. 287, holding that in a penal bond for the execution of a municipal contract a condition for the payment of all sums of money which may be due for "labor and materials furnished and supplied or performed" includes the wages of laborers.

34. The fact that, on suit being brought against the city by the contractor, the city had settled all matters then at issue between it and the contractor, by paying the contractor a sum of money agreed upon, does not affect the right of materialmen to recover subsequently under the contractor's bond to the city. Lancaster v. Frescoln, 22 Pa. Co. Ct. 225.

35. Swenson v. Bird Island, 93 Minn. 336, 101 N. W. 495.

36. Kimball v. Hewitt, 2 N. Y. Suppl. 697 [affirmed in 15 Daly 124, 3 N. Y. Suppl. 756].

37. A city cannot claim that a bidder who has made a mistake in his proposals did not intend to give the executive board of the city an opportunity to correct the mistake, where, before the time expressed in the resolutions of the board for the bidder to appear and execute a contract or be regarded as abandoning any intention to do so, the bidder filed a bill in a court of equity to determine the rights of the parties, and the city made a reformation of the proposals impossible by letting the contract to another party. Moffett v. Rochester, 178 U. S. 373, 20 S. Ct. 957, 44 L. ed. 1108 [reversing 91 Fed. 28, 33 C. C. A. 319].

38. Fuller v. Scranton, 2 Pa. Cas. 61, 4 Atl. 467; People's Pass. R. Co. v. Memphis City R. Co., 10 Wall. (U. S.) 38, 19 L. ed. 844. See also infra, IX, H, 1.

39. Where, after certain negotiations between C, plaintiff's vice-president, who was authorized to solicit business for plaintiff, and the city street cleaning department, with reference to the removal of snow by plaintiff, the commissioner of street cleaning directed C to put his offer in writing, whereupon he addressed a letter to the department, offering to remove snow from such sections of the city as might be designated by the department at a certain price per cubic yard, the the action of the municipality in accepting or rejecting a bid.⁴⁰ If, under the terms of the proposal, full power of rejection is reserved, then no contractual rights can be acquired till due acceptance of a bid.⁴¹ If under valid advertisement no discretion is reserved to the municipal officers, then it only remains to perform the ministerial function of opening the bids, ascertaining the lowest, and complying with formal requisites.⁴² But if conditional discretion to reject is either expressly or impliedly reserved, then it is competent for the municipal authority to exercise the measure of discretion reserved and reject any bid.⁴³ This discretion, however, is not arbitrary,⁴⁴ and must not transgress the limits of reservation.⁴⁵ The discretion may be exercised only by the board or officer to whom it is committed,⁴⁶ and in the manner prescribed by law.⁴⁷ It cannot extend to a change in the published proposal or specifications.⁴⁸ The definite acceptance or rejection of a bid concludes negotiations, and makes or unmakes the proposed contract.⁴⁹ But it seems that the action is not final if it is competent for the council, under parliamentary law, to reconsider its rejection of all bids, and exercise its discretion to accept, provided no rights have vested meanwhile.⁵⁰ allowance for shrinkage to be decided by the department, the latter was entitled to treat the letter as an offer, the acceptance of which would constitute a contract binding on the parties. Snow Melting Co. v. New York, 88 N. Y. App. Div. 575, 85 N. Y. Suppl. 168.

After determination to award a contract to one whose bid is not the lowest, in a case in which this may properly be done, it is not an abuse of discretion for the officer who awards the contract to withhold his decision and bargain with the bidder for a lower price. Louchheim v. Philadelphia, 15 Pa. Dist. 311.

40. Main v. Ft. Smith, 49 Ark. 480, 5 S. W. 801.

Acceptance by vote.—Under a statute providing that, on the passage or adoption of an order or resolution of a municipal corporation, the yeas and nays shall be called and recorded, and that a majority of all the members elected to the council must concur therein, an order accepting a bid for street work, the record not showing the concurrence of such majority, nor the call of the yeas and nays, is invalid, and a contract for such work based thereon not binding on the city. Sullivan v. Leadville, 11 Colo. 483, 18 Pac. 736.

41. Anderson v. St. Louis Public Schools, 122 Mo. 61, 27 S. W. 610, 26 L. R. A. 707. See also Batt v. New Orleans, 26 La. Ann. 754.

42. If the law requires that contracts shall be made by advertising for proposals for the work to be done, and by giving the contract to the lowest bidder, the city officers have no authority, after the bids have been opened, to alter the contract materially, and then award it to one of the original bidders, without a new advertisement. Dickinson v. Poughkeepsie, 7 Hun (N. Y.) 1 [affirmed in 75 N. Y. 65].

43. Erie v. Bier, 10 Pa. Super. Ct. 381.

44. Illinois.—People v. Kent, 160 Ill. 655, 43 N. E. 760, discretion not interfered with by court in absence of fraud.

New Jersey.—McGovern v. Trenton Bd. of Public Works, 57 N. J. L. 580, 31 Atl. 613.

New York.—People v. Troy, 78 N. Y. 33, 34 Am. Rep. 500.

Ohio.—Hubbard v. Sandusky, 9 Ohio Cir. Ct. 638, 6 Ohio Cir. Dec. 786.

Washington.—Berry v. Tacoma, 12 Wash. 3, 40 Pac. 414.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 672.

45. New York, etc., Gas-Coal Co. v. Pittsburgh, 28 Pittsb. Leg. J. N. S. (Pa.) 162.

46. Packard v. Hayes, 94 Md. 233, 51 Atl. 32.

47. Barrett v. Ocean City, 62 N. J. L. 588, 41 Atl. 946.

Written contract see infra, IX, G, 3, a.

48. A borough ordinance which provides for the letting of a contract for a building to the lowest responsible bidder, at the discretion of the council, does not clothe the council with power, of itself, to modify the plans and specifications mentioned therein, and to accept bids, and to award the contract on such modified plans and specifications. Winton v. Mulherin, 3 Lack. Leg. N. (Pa.) 264. Where an ordinance provides that all contracts shall be awarded after due public notice on such specifications as shall be approved by the department of awards, a contract is illegal which is based on specifications entirely different from those on file. Mazet v. Pittsburgh, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 599. Alteration and material changes in the specifications, without notice or approval by the surety, would not relieve the surety from liability to the materialmen, when the contract between the contractor and the city provided for subsequent alterations and changes. Lancaster v. Frescoln, 22 Pa. Co. Ct. 225.

49. Brush Electric Light Co. v. Cincinnati, 11 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 581, 28 Cinc. L. Bul. 29.

50. A city council has the power, after having once voted to reject all bids offered for a public contract, to reconsider its action and accept one of the bids, where no rights have vested under the first action of the council, or where its first action has not so fully disposed of the matter that the council could

7. AWARD TO LOWEST BIDDER. The right of the lowest bidder to the proposed municipal contract has been held to be absolute in a few cases, in which the statute or ordinance was imperative.⁵¹ Where the municipality uses this method of negotiation experimentally; ⁵² where the right to reject all bids is expressly reserved; ⁵³ or where the proposal is to the "lowest and best bidder," ⁵⁴ the "lowest responsible bidder," ⁵⁵ or other similar qualification is employed, ⁵⁶ the award of the contract within the discretion of the municipal authority may be made bona fide ⁵⁷ to another bidder than the lowest; and the lowest bidder will have no right to demand the award to him.⁵⁸ So the quality of materials to be furnished as well as the price bid may be taken into consideration in determining which of several bids is the lowest.⁵⁹ But under all circumstances the lowest bidder has the right to fair consideration and treatment; ⁶⁰ and an award of a contract to not take any further action in the matter. McClain v. McKisson, 15 Ohio Cir. Ct. 517, 8 Ohio Cir. Dec. 357. See supra, V, B, 4, g; infra, XIII, B, 9.

51. State v. Barlow, 48 Mo. 17. Compare State v. Trenton, 49 N. J. L. 638, 10 Atl. 273 [reversing 49 N. J. L. 339, 12 Atl. 902].

A bidder for public printing need not be a publisher of a newspaper at the time of the bidding, under a charter which provides that the city council shall annually let the public printing to the lowest bidder, and, after letting the contract, designate the newspaper published by the party receiving said contract as the official newspaper of said city. State v. Milligan, 3 Wash. 144, 28 Pac. 369.

52. Elliot v. Minneapolis, 59 Minn. 111, 60 N. W. 1081.

Complaint by higher bidder.—In Atlantic Gas, etc., Co. v. Atlantic City, 73 N. J. L. 360, 63 Atl. 997, it was held that the action of a municipal council clearly in the interests of the taxpayers will not be set aside upon a doubtful point of procedure at the suit of one who has suffered no special injuries of which he can be heard to complain. This was applied to one whose bid for the lighting of streets was higher than another and accepted bid, who, on certiorari, complained that a statute under which the contract was awarded had been adopted by the city and that it required the enactment of an ordinance preceding the letting of the contract, and it was held that assuming that the statute was operative it was no ground of complaint by the higher bidder, because as an unsuccessful bidder, all that he lost, was an illegal award; that as a taxpayer, while his standing is different, he was in no better position because the interests of the taxpayers would not apparently be advanced by the success of his attack.

53. Brown v. Huston, (Tex. Civ. App. 1898) 48 S. W. 760.

54. State v. Hermann, 63 Ohio St. 440, 59 N. E. 104.

55. Illinois.—Johnson v. Chicago Sanitary Dist., 163 Ill. 285, 45 N. E. 213.

Michigan.—Kundinger v. Saginaw, 132 Mich. 395, 93 N. W. 914.

Missouri.—State v. McGrath, 91 Mo. 386, 3 S. W. 846.

New York.—People v. Gleason, 121 N. Y. 631, 25 N. E. 4 [reversing 51 Hun 643, 4

N. Y. Suppl. 383]. See Kronsbein v. Rochester, 76 N. Y. App. Div. 494, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 813.

Pennsylvania.—Interstate Vitrified Brick, etc., Co. v. Philadelphia, 164 Pa. St. 477, 30 Atl. 383; Findley v. Pittsburgh, 82 Pa. St. 351; Com. v. Mitchell 82 Pa. St. 343; McCallin's Appeal, 1 Mona. 596; Safford v. Pittsburgh, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 107; Gutta Percha Co. v. Stokely, 11 Phila. 219. Since the act of May 23, 1874, prescribing that a contract for work to be done for a city shall be given to the lowest responsible bidder, requires a free and open competition, the councils of a city cannot provide that each bidder shall agree not to employ or allow the employment of any one not belonging to organizations approved by a certain building trades council, and that a contract shall be forfeited upon failure of the contractor to comply with such agreement. Elliott v. Pittsburgh, 6 Pa. Dist. 455.

56. In re Emigrant Industrial Sav. Bank, 75 N. Y. 388; Cleveland Fire Alarm Tel. Co. v. Metropolitan Fire Com'rs, 55 Barb. (N. Y.) 288, 7 Abb. Pr. 49.

57. A township, in contracting under the New Jersey act of May 22, 1894, for the lighting of streets, need not award a contract to the lowest bidder, but is bound to award it in a bona fide manner for the benefit of the township. Shefbauer v. Kearney Tp. Committee, 57 N. J. L. 588, 31 Atl. 454.

58. Chicago Sanitary Dist. v. McMahon, etc., 110 Ill. App. 510, holding that it is not unlawful, where the lowest bidder has not conformed to the advertised requirements, to let the contract to the next lowest bidder at a price less than its bid, without any re-advertising.

59. State v. Cincinnati Bd. of Public Affairs, 4 Ohio Cir. Ct. 76, 2 Ohio Cir. Dec. 428; Lauchheim v. Philadelphia, 15 Pa. Dist. 311, holding that a contract may be awarded to a person not the lowest bidder if the standard of materials provided by the specifications is unavoidably elastic, embracing two kinds of material and the officer who awards the contract deems the grade of material offered by the successful bidder better adapted to the work than that offered by a lower bidder.

60. State v. Barlow, 48 Mo. 17. An ordinance of the city of Philadelphia, by which another by corruption,⁶¹ by collusion,⁶² or for any other than legal and just considerations,⁶³ will be voidable at his option; and action will lie in his favor to enforce his contract.⁶⁴

G. Mode of Contracting and Formal Requisites — 1. IN GENERAL. If no formal mode of making a municipal contract is prescribed by charter, statute, or ordinance, then the contract may be made in the method common to all corporations.⁶⁵ But if the method of contracting is prescribed by valid law, that method must be observed, and a contract unexecuted in whole or in part, made in any other method, or defectively made by the prescribed method, may not be enforced at the suit of either party.⁶⁶ This rule does not require literal, but only substantial, the city reserved the right to reject any bid at public sale not deemed satisfactory or for the best interests of the city, was held not to entitle the city to refuse the lease of a wharf let at public auction to the highest bidder, because a higher offer was made after the sale. Kerr v. Philadelphia, 8 Phila. (Pa.) 292.

Where a lower bidder has violated the ordinance inviting bids the municipal corporation will not be enjoined against awarding the contract to a higher bidder. Wiggins v. Philadelphia, 2 Brewst. (Pa.) 444.

61. Madison v. Baltimore Harbor Bd., 76 Md. 395, 25 Atl. 337.

62. Nelson v. New York, 1 Silv. Sup. (N. Y.) 471, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 688 [affirmed in 131 N. Y. 4, 29 N. E. 814].

63. Wilson v. Gabler, 11 S. D. 206, 76 N. W. 924.

64. Times Printing Co. v. Seattle, 25 Wash. 149, 64 Pac. 940.

65. Louisville v. Louisville University, 15 B. Mon. (Ky.) 642; Ryan v. Paterson, 66 N. J. L. 533, 49 Atl. 587; Pullman v. New York, 54 Barb. (N. Y.) 169; Dunlap v. Erie Water Com'rs, 151 Pa. St. 477, 25 Atl. 60. See also Fitton v. Hamilton City, 6 Nev. 196; Burlington v. Dennison, 42 N. J. L. 165. A contract which the water commissioners of a city have authority to make, and which they do make as a board and not as individuals, is binding on the city, in the absence of a statute defining the mode of making such contracts, although it is not made at their office in the presence of their secretary, and has not been reduced to writing and entered in the minutes kept by him of their proceedings. Dunlap v. Erie Water Com'rs, supra. Where a city passed an ordinance authorizing a certain firm to construct waterworks upon terms fully set out, and this was accepted by the firm, and a memorandum of the acceptance was attached to a copy of the ordinance and signed in behalf of the city by the mayor and clerk thereof under its corporate seal, and by the firm and each member thereof under their individual seals, it was held that this constituted a binding contract. Goldsboro v. Moffatt, 49 Fed. 213.

66. Alabama.—Montgomery County v. Barber, 45 Ala. 237.

California.—Los Angeles Gas Co. v. Toberman, 61 Cal. 199; McCoy v. Briant, 53 Cal. 247; Zottman v. San Francisco, 20 Cal. 96, 81 Am. Dec. 96; Fountain v. Sacramento, 1 Cal. App. 461, 82 Pac. 637.

Colorado.—Durango v. Pennington, 8 Colo. 257, 7 Pac. 14.

Georgia.—Hudson v. Marietta, 64 Ga. 286.

Indiana.—Terre Haute v. Lake, 43 Ind. 480.

Kansas.—State v. Marian County Com'rs, 21 Kan. 419.

Kentucky.—Worthington v. Covington, 82 Ky. 265.

Louisiana.—White v. New Orleans, 15 La. Ann. 667.

Maryland.—Baltimore v. Reynolds, 20 Md. 1, 83 Am. Dec. 535.

Massachusetts.—Littlefield v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 146 Mass. 268, 15 N. E. 648.

Michigan.—Niles Water-Works v. Niles, 59 Mich. 311, 26 N. W. 525.

Minnesota.—State v. Jones, 98 Minn. 6, 106 N. W. 963 (under charter provisions which required that the award of a contract for lighting should be made by ordinance or resolution approved by the mayor or passed over his veto); Starkey v. Minneapolis, 19 Minn. 203.

Missouri.—Rumsey Mfg. Co. v. Schell City, 21 Mo. App. 175.

Nebraska.—Fulton v. Lincoln, 9 Nebr. 358, 2 N. W. 724.

New Jersey.—Moreland v. Passaic, 63 N. J. L. 208, 42 Atl. 1058; Van Reipen v. Jersey City, 58 N. J. L. 262, 33 Atl. 740; Terhune v. Passaic, 41 N. J. L. 90; Jersey City Water Com'rs v. Brown, 32 N. J. L. 504; Carron v. Martin, 26 N. J. L. 594, 69 Am. Dec. 584.

New York.—Francis v. Troy, 74 N. Y. 338; McDonald v. New York, 68 N. Y. 23, 23 Am. Rep. 144.

Ohio.—While there is implied municipal liability at common law, the statutes provide the manner in which contracts shall be made and entered into by municipalities, and they cannot be entered into otherwise than as provided by statute. Wellston v. Morgan, 65 Ohio St. 219, 62 N. E. 127.

Pennsylvania.—Carpenter v. Yeardon Borough, 208 Pa. St. 396, 57 Atl. 837; Press Pub. Co. v. Pittsburgh, 207 Pa. St. 623, 57 Atl. 75; Smart v. Philadelphia, 205 Pa. St. 329, 54 Atl. 1025; McManus v. Philadelphia, 201 Pa. St. 619, 51 Atl. 320; Hepburn v. Philadelphia, 149 Pa. St. 335, 24 Atl. 279; Ross v. Philadelphia, 115 Pa. St. 222, 8 Atl. 398; O'Rourke v. Philadelphia, 13 Pa. Dist. 379; Com. v. Morrow, 23 Pittsb. Leg. J. N. S. 287.

Texas.—Bryan v. Page, 51 Tex. 532, 32 Am. Rep. 637; Ferguson v. Halsell, 47 Tex. 421.

compliance with even a peremptory statute.⁶⁷ And where the statute is only directory in whole or in part, as where it prescribes that the contract shall be executed in duplicate, the omission to pursue directions will not render the contract void.⁶⁸ Nor, it seems, may either party avoid a merely irregular or voidable contract, which has been performed bona fide by the other party.⁶⁹ Formerly the municipality could make a valid contract only under its corporate seal;⁷⁰ but this

Washington.—Arnott v. Spokane, 6 Wash. 442, 33 Pac. 1063.

Wisconsin.—Chippewa Bridge Co. v. Durand, 122 Wis. 85, 99 N. W. 603, 106 Am. St. Rep. 931.

United States.—Ft. Scott v. W. G. Eads Brokerage Co., 117 Fed. 51, 54 C. C. A. 437; Goldshoro v. Moffett, 49 Fed. 213.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 675, 678, 679.

The party dealing with a municipal body is bound to see to it that all mandatory provisions of the law are complied with, and if he neglects such precaution he becomes a mere volunteer and must suffer the consequences. McCoy v. Briant, 53 Cal. 247; Zottman v. San Francisco, 20 Cal. 96, 81 Am. Dec. 96; Durango v. Pennington, 8 Colo. 257, 7 Pac. 14; Murphy v. Louisville, 9 Bush (Ky.) 189; Steckert v. East Saginaw, 22 Mich. 104; Starkey v. Minneapolis, 19 Minn. 203; Smith v. Newburgh, 77 N. Y. 130; Brady v. New York, 20 N. Y. 312.

Requirement of ordinance or resolution.—Where the legislature authorized the municipal corporation to issue bonds "at such time or times, as said Board of Trustees may by resolution, direct," and bonds of the city were issued under the corporate seal, but without the passage of a resolution authorizing the issue, it was held that the bonds were void. McCoy v. Briant, 53 Cal. 247. That an ordinance or resolution or something equivalent thereto is necessary see Alton v. Mulledy, 21 Ill. 76; Dey v. Jersey City, 19 N. J. Eq. 412. Where a town was organized under Mo. Rev. St. c. 89, art. 6, its power to contract was derived altogether from section 5010 thereof, which provided that the "board of trustees shall have power to pass by-laws and ordinances," to do various acts, and perform certain functions; and it could only be exercised in the manner therein prescribed. Rumsey Mfg. Co. v. Schell City, 21 Mo. App. 175.

Publication of ordinance.—Where a borough ordinance incorporates a contract with an individual, and the ordinance is not published, as required by the Pennsylvania act of April 3, 1851, § 3 (Pamphl. Laws 323), the contract is not complete or binding on either the borough or the other party to the contract. Carpenter v. Yeadon Borough, 208 Pa. St. 396, 57 Atl. 837.

Executed contracts.—Dalles City Charter, § 128, providing that the city is not bound by any contract unless the same is authorized by ordinance, and made in writing and by order of the council, signed by the mayor or recorder on behalf of the city, is to be limited to executory contracts, and can have no application to a contract which has been completely executed on one side. Beers v. Dalles City, 16 Oreg. 334, 18 Pac. 835.

An order by a city council, awarding a contract for the year's printing, is not an ordinance or resolution such as the city charter requires to be placed in the clerk's office, and there remain three days before going into effect. Galveston v. Morton, 58 Tex. 409.

67. Taylor v. Palmer, 31 Cal. 240.

Corporate name.—Where the corporate name of a village is "the president and trustees of the village of Greenbush," a contract reciting that it was made by the president and trustees of the "corporation" of G warrants a finding that the contract was made by the board officially. Parr v. Greenbush, 72 N. Y. 463.

The order in which formalities are observed has been held immaterial. Thus under a provision that the city shall not be bound by any contract "unless the same is made in writing by order of the council, the draft thereof approved by the council, and the same ordered to be, and he, signed by the mayor, or some other person authorized thereto in behalf of the city," etc., it was held that the fact that the city clerk was ordered to sign a contract for public printing by the city before the contract was prepared, and in fact signed the draft before it was approved by the council, did not invalidate the same; the approval by the council, with the clerk's signature attached, being equivalent to the council's approval of the contract before the clerk signed. Earl v. Bowen, 146 Cal. 754, 81 Pac. 133. See also Goodyear Rubber Co. v. Eureka, 135 Cal. 613, 67 Pac. 1043.

68. Saleno v. Neosho, 127 Mo. 627, 30 S. W. 190, 48 Am. St. Rep. 653, 27 L. R. A. 769.

69. Hitchcock v. Galveston, 96 U. S. 341, 24 L. ed. 659. A municipal corporation cannot retain the fruits of a contract and escape its liability, on the ground that its officers neglected to pursue the particular mode of contracting required by the statute. Drainage Com'rs v. Lewis, 101 Ill. App. 150.

70. 1 Blackstone Comm. 475, where it was said: "A corporation, being an invisible body, cannot manifest its intentions by any personal act or oral discourse; it therefore acts and speaks only by its common seal. For, though the particular members may express their private consents to any acts, by words, or signing their names, yet this does not bind the corporation: it is the fixing of the seal, and that only, which unites the several assents of the individuals who compose the community, and makes one joint assent of the whole."

ancient common-law requirement is no longer enforced by the courts.⁷¹ It is essential, however, to the validity of a municipal contract that it shall be made on the part of the corporation by a duly authorized agent or officer.⁷² A contract is not necessarily invalid because not made in the proper name of the corporation;⁷³ and contracts within the scope of municipal powers and objects, duly authorized by the corporation, and made by the officer or agent thereunto appointed in good faith and for the municipality, and so understood by the other party, are given effect as municipal contracts, although made in the name of the officer.⁷⁴ Unless the charter requires an ordinance to authorize a contract the council may act by motion or resolution.⁷⁵ Statutes sometimes require certain municipal contracts to be authorized or ratified by the voters of the municipality at an election held for that purpose, and such requirement must be observed.⁷⁶

2. COUNTERSIGNING. Where a mandatory statute requires a contract to be countersigned by a particular officer,⁷⁷ or where payment out of the municipal treasury is forbidden without such counter signature,⁷⁸ this is essential to its validity; but when the statute is merely directory the omission to comply with it is not necessarily fatal to the contract.⁷⁹

3. PAROL OR WRITTEN AND IMPLIED CONTRACTS — a. Parol and Written. Except in so far as it is restricted by charter or statute, a municipality may by its duly authorized officer or agent enter into a valid parol contract which is not required by statute to be in writing.⁸⁰ It is otherwise, however, where writing is expressly

71. Alabama.—Alabama University v. Moody, 62 Ala. 389.

Arkansas.—Halbut v. Forrest City, 34 Ark. 246.

Indiana.—Over v. Greenfield, 107 Ind. 231, 5 N. E. 872; Sheffield School Tp. v. Andress, 56 Ind. 157; Ross v. Madison, 1 Ind. 231, 48 Am. Dec. 361.

Massachusetts.—Rumford Fourth School Dist. v. Wood, 13 Mass. 193.

United States.—Draper v. Springport, 104 U. S. 501, 26 L. ed. 812.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 675 et seq.

72. Seibrecht v. New Orleans, 12 La. Ann. 496; Butler v. Charlestown, 7 Gray (Mass.) 12; Argus Co. v. Albany, 7 Lans. (N. Y.) 264 [affirmed in 55 N. Y. 495, 14 Am. Rep. 296]. See supra, IX, B, C.

A lease between a private individual as lessor and the city of Chicago as lessee, executed under the corporate seal of the city, signed by the mayor in his official capacity and approved by the chairman of the finance committee, was sufficiently executed for and on behalf of the municipality, and was binding on the city. Chicago v. Peck, 98 Ill. App. 434 [affirmed in 196 Ill. 260, 63 N. E. 711].

The council may authorize the city clerk to sign a contract for public printing under a statute providing that the city shall not be bound by any contract, "unless the same is made in writing by order of the council, the draft thereof approved by the council, and the same ordered to be, and be, signed by the mayor, or some other person authorized thereto in behalf of the city." Earl v. Bowen, 146 Cal. 754, 81 Pac. 133.

73. Harrodsburg v. Harrodsburg Water Co., 64 S. W. 658, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 956.

74. Chicago v. Peck, 196 Ill. 260, 63 N. E. 711. Compare, however, Providence v. Miller, 11 R. I. 272, 23 Am. Rep. 453.

75. Jersey City v. Harrison, 71 N. J. L. 69, 58 Atl. 100. See supra, V, B, 1, d.

76. Hudson v. Marietta, 64 Ga. 286; Harrodsburg v. Harrodsburg Water Co., 64 S. W. 658, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 956; Niles Water-Works Co. v. Niles, 59 Mich. 311, 26 N. W. 525. See also infra, XV, A, 4, c. Where a statute providing for the ratification of a contract by the voters of a city required the election for that purpose to be held in the four wards of the city at a voting place in each ward, the fact that the election was held at only two voting places did not invalidate it, provided the election was held there upon due notice, and the voters generally participated therein. Harrodsburg v. Harrodsburg Water Co., supra.

77. Press Pub. Co. v. Pittsburgh, 207 Pa. St. 623, 57 Atl. 75; Superior v. Norton, 63 Fed. 357, 12 C. C. A. 469. The provision of a city's charter that it shall not be bound by or liable on any contract, unless made in writing by order of the council, and the draft thereof approved by the city attorney and the council, and signed by the mayor, is valid. Times Pub. Co. v. Weatherby, 139 Cal. 618, 73 Pac. 465. Under such a provision it is immaterial whether the city attorney's approval is obtained before or after the mayor signs. Goodyear Rubber Co. v. Eureka, 135 Cal. 613, 67 Pac. 1043.

78. Lee v. Racine, 64 Wis. 231, 25 N. W. 33.

79. Goodyear Rubber Co. v. Eureka, 135 Cal. 613, 67 Pac. 1043.

80. Alabama.—Selma v. Mullen, 46 Ala. 411; Montgomery County v. Barber, 45 Ala. 237.

Illinois.—New Athens v. Thomas, 82 Ill. 259.

Indiana.—Ross v. Madison, 1 Ind. 281, 48 Am. Dec. 361; Reed v. Orleans, 1 Ind. App. 25, 27 N. E. 109.

required by charter or statute.⁸¹ But even when required to be written it is sufficient if the contract is entered in writing on the minutes of the council or other governing body, and accepted by the contractor in writing,⁸² or by actual performance of his part of the contract.⁸³

b. Implied Contract. A municipal corporation may also, like a private corporation or individual, become liable on implied contract;⁸⁴ but it has been held

Iowa.—Duncombe v. Ft. Dodge, 38 Iowa 281; Baker v. Johnson County, 33 Iowa 151; Indianola v. Jones, 29 Iowa 282.

Michigan.—Detroit v. Jackson, 1 Dougl. 106.

Mississippi.—See Abby v. Billups, 35 Miss. 618, 72 Am. Dec. 143.

Nevada.—Fitton v. Hamilton City, 6 Nev. 196.

New York.—Peterson v. New York, 17 N. Y. 449; Horgan v. New York, 114 N. Y. App. Div. 555, 100 N. Y. Suppl. 68.

North Carolina.—Wade v. Newbern, 77 N. C. 460.

Pennsylvania.—Dunlap v. Erie Water Com'rs, 151 Pa. St. 477, 25 Atl. 60.

Vermont.—A contract enforceable against a municipal corporation may be proved by circumstances and acts of its officers having authority to bind it. Hardwick School Dist. v. Wolcott, 78 Vt. 23, 61 Atl. 471.

United States.—Fanning v. Gregoire, 16 How. 524, 14 L. ed. 1043.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 677.

81. Starkey v. Minneapolis, 19 Minn. 203; Jersey City Water Com'rs v. Brown, 32 N. J. L. 504; O'Rourke v. Philadelphia, 13 Pa. Dist. 379. Pa. Act, June 1, 1885, art. 14, relating to the city of Philadelphia, and which requires that "all contracts relating to city affairs shall be in writing, signed and executed in the name of the city," is not merely directory, but mandatory, and unless it is strictly complied with no liability can be imposed upon the city. Smart v. Philadelphia, 205 Pa. St. 329, 54 Atl. 1025; McManus v. Philadelphia, 201 Pa. St. 619, 51 Atl. 320; Hepburn v. Philadelphia, 149 Pa. St. 335, 24 Atl. 279. Where a municipal contractor submits a bid to the city of Philadelphia, and the bid is accepted, but the city subsequently refuses to enter into a written contract in the matter, the contractor can maintain no suit against the city for a breach of contract. Smart v. Philadelphia, supra. And where the work for which plaintiff seeks compensation is included in the work which he agreed to do in his written contract for the compensation therein named, which he has received, this is a complete defense to an action for extra compensation for work done by him and claimed not to have been embraced in the specification upon which his bid was based. O'Rourke v. Philadelphia, 211 Pa. St. 79, 60 Atl. 499. Under the provisions of a city charter that the city is not bound by any contract unless authorized by an ordinance, and in writing, and, by order of the council, signed by the city clerk or some other person authorized by the city, officers of the city cannot bind it by a contract not in writing. Arnott v. Spokane, 6 Wash. 442, 33 Pac. 1063. See also Chapman v. Brooklyn, 40 N. Y. 372. And see supra, IX, G, 1.

Statute of frauds.—A resolution or ordinance may bind the corporation as a contract, when so intended, in any matters not required to be attested in some different form; but a resolution approving a contract which the statute of frauds requires to be in writing and signed does not constitute a signing. Wade v. Newbern, 77 N. C. 460.

Statute not requiring writing.—The charter of the city of Hamilton, providing that "all script and bonds issued and contracts and agreements made shall be signed by the president and countersigned by the clerk," did not prohibit parol contracts by the city, but merely designated the manner in which written contracts should be executed. Fitton v. Hamilton City, 6 Nev. 196.

82. Aurora Water Co. v. Aurora, 129 Mo. 540, 31 S. W. 946; Argus County v. Albany, 7 Lans. (N. Y.) 264 [affirmed in 55 N. Y. 495, 14 Am. Rep. 296].

83. Baxter Springs v. Baxter Springs Light, etc., Co., 64 Kan. 591, 68 Pac. 63; Beers v. Dalles City, 16 Oreg. 334, 18 Pac. 835.

84. Alabama.—Montgomery Brush Electric Light, etc., Co. v. Montgomery, 114 Ala. 433, 21 So. 960; Montgomery County v. Barber, 45 Ala. 237.

California.—Brown v. Pomona Bd. of Education, 103 Cal. 531, 37 Pac. 503.

Illinois.—New Athens v. Thomas, 82 Ill. 259.

Kentucky.—Fox v. Richmond, 40 S. W. 251, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 326, holding that one who has been compelled by the officers of a city to perform labor for the city in payment of a void judgment for a fine may require the city to pay him therefor.

Maine.—Farwell v. Rockland, 62 Me. 296.

Michigan.—Central Bitulithic Paving Co. v. Mt. Clemens, 143 Mich. 259, 106 N. W. 888; Bodewig v. Port Huron, 141 Mich. 564, 104 N. W. 769; Cicotte v. Wayne County, 44 Mich. 173, 6 N. W. 236; Endriss v. Chippewa County, 43 Mich. 317, 5 N. W. 632.

Nebraska.—Rogers v. Omaha, (1906) 107 N. W. 214.

Nevada.—Fitton v. Hamilton City, 6 Nev. 196; Tucker v. Virginia City, 4 Nev. 20, holding that where the general power is given to a municipal corporation "to make all necessary contracts and agreements for the benefit of the city," it is as well bound by implied as by written contracts, while acting within the scope of its powers.

New York.—Harlem Gaslight Co. v. New York, 33 N. Y. 309 [affirming 3 Rob. 100]; Messenger v. Buffalo, 21 N. Y. 196; Peterson in a number of cases that a contract will not be implied which is ultra vires,⁸⁵ or

v. New York, 17 N. Y. 449; Port Jervis Water Works Co. v. Port Jervis, 71 Hun 66, 24 N. Y. Suppl. 497 [affirmed in 151 N. Y. 111, 45 N. E. 388]; Kramrath v. Albany, 53 Hun 206, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 54 [affirmed in 127 N. Y. 575, 28 N. E. 400]; Leonard v. Long Island City, 20 N. Y. Suppl. 26.

Ohio.—A municipality having received work which has been in public use since its completion cannot avoid liability for payment on the ground that the work was not done according to contract, and that part was unauthorized. Boeres v. Cincinnati, 3 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 45.

Rhode Island.—Valley Falls Co. v. Taft, 27 R. I. 136, 61 Atl. 41.

Tennessee.—Memphis Gas-Light Co. v. Memphis, 93 Tenn. 612, 30 S. W. 25.

Texas.—Granting that a contract for a city water-supply was void as creating a monopoly, the city is nevertheless liable for what it received under the contract. Tyler v. Jester, 97 Tex. 344, 78 S. W. 1058 [affirming] (Civ. App. 1903) 74 S. W. 359].

Vermont.—Hardwick Town School Dist. v. Wolcott Town Dist., 78 Vt. 23, 61 Atl. 471.

Wisconsin.—Schneider v. Menasha, 118 Wis. 298, 95 N. W. 94, 99 Am. St. Rep. 996.

United States.—Austin v. Bartholomew, 107 Fed. 349, 46 C. C. A. 327; Burrill v. Boston, 4 Fed. Cas. No. 2,198, 2 Cliff. 590.

Canada.—Bernardin v. North Dufferin, 19 Can. Sup. Ct. 581.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 697, 698. See also infra, IX, M, 1, b.

The doctrine of implied municipal liabilities "applies to cases where money or other property of a party is received under such circumstances that the general law, independent of the express contract, imposes the obligation upon the city to do justice with respect to the same." Argenti v. San Francisco, 16 Cal. 255.

Implied contract to pay attorneys for services.—Where attorneys, at the request of a town council, addressed a meeting of the citizens and explained the terms upon which the holders of the bonds of the town proposed to cancel them, and the proposition was accepted by the meeting, and the attorneys directed to prepare an ordinance for the purpose of consummating a settlement, which they did, and the town council afterward adopted the ordinance, and the bonds were taken up in pursuance thereof, and the whole matter adjusted with the assistance of the attorneys, it was held that they were entitled to recover pay from the town for their services. New Athens v. Thomas, 82 Ill. 259.

Acceptance and use of goods or services.—A city, having accepted and used hose carriages purchased by the fire commissioners, became liable therefor upon a quantum meruit; there being no limitation on the power of the commissioners to purchase the same. Leonard v. Long Island City, 20 N. Y. Suppl.

26. And where a contract for gas to light the public buildings and streets of the city of New York is within the authority of the municipal corporation, if a gas company has furnished, and the city has used, gas for the lighting of streets, the former, in the absence of a specific agreement as to price or rate of payment, is entitled to a reasonable compensation. Harlem Gas Light Co. v. New York, 33 N. Y. 309 [affirming 3 Rob. 100]. So where a city has enjoyed the benefit of work performed and goods purchased, it is liable therefor on quantum meruit, even though the order was given by a single member of the committee authorized to make such contracts. Kramrath v. Albany, 127 N. Y. 575, 28 N. E. 400 [affirming 53 Hun 206, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 54]. And although a street commissioner of a city had no authority to purchase stone, yet where stone furnished under a contract with him was used on the streets of the city, it was liable to the seller for the value. Central Bitulithic Paving Co. v. Mt. Clemens, 143 Mich. 259, 106 N. W. 888.

Implied renewal of written contract.—In 1856 a gaslight company entered into a written contract, whereby it agreed to furnish a city with gas for one year. From time to time new contracts were made, and they were each for the same term, but were not always renewed in writing. The company, however, continued to furnish the gas, and the city to pay therefor, according to the terms of the last written contract, from the time of expiration of such contract to the formation of a new one. The last written contract was made in 1884, and expired Oct. 1, 1885, but according to the custom, the company continued to furnish the city with gas, and to receive pay therefor in accordance with its terms until February, 1887, when, without any notice of the termination of the contract on the part of either, the city made a five-year contract with another company. It was held that, in view of the manner in which the contracts had been made for a long period of years, the company was bound to furnish gas for one year from Oct. 1, 1886, and that the city was bound to pay in accordance with the terms of the last written contract, and could not make a contract with another company for gas during the same time. Taylor v. Lambertville, 43 N. J. Eq. 107, 10 Atl. 869.

85. Citizens' Bank v. Spencer, 126 Iowa 101, 101 N. W. 643; Niles Water-Works v. Niles, 59 Mich. 311, 26 N. W. 525; Bloomsburg Land Imp. Co. v. Bloomsburg Borough, 215 Pa. St. 452, 64 Atl. 602 [affirming 31 Pa. Co. Ct. 609]; Ft. Scott v. W. G. Eads Brokerage Co., 117 Fed. 51, 54 C. C. A. 437; Burrill v. Boston, 4 Fed. Cas. No. 2,198, 2 Cliff. 590. Compare Garrison v. Chicago, 10 Fed. Cas. No. 5,255, 7 Biss. 480.

Use and occupation see infra, this section, text and note 95.

forbidden by law,⁸⁶ or made by an unauthorized person,⁸⁷ or in a manner unauthorized.⁸⁸ On the other hand it has been held that when a municipality receives benefits under an informal or ultra vires contract, which cannot be specifically enforced, it cannot escape liability in an action of assumpsit for quantum valebat or quantum meruit.⁸⁹ A contract will not be implied where there is an express contract or condition of a grant excluding liability,⁹⁰ where property is used by mistake,⁹¹ or where the evidence does not clearly show the facts neces-

86. Fountain v. Sacramento, 1 Cal. App. 461, 82 Pac. 637; Niles Water-Works v. Niles, 59 Mich. 311, 26 N. W. 525; Detroit v. Robinson, 38 Mich. 108; Detroit v. Michigan Paving Co., 36 Mich. 335; Cheaney v. Brookfield, 60 Mo. 53; Mister v. Kansas City, 18 Mo. App. 217. Where an act requires that a certain contract for a municipality be let only on sealed bids, but a party furnishes work and material under a contract not so awarded, there can be no recovery on the ground that defendant city having accepted the work was bound to pay what it was reasonably worth, notwithstanding the nullity of the contract, as the city authorities could make no contract, express or implied, except in the manner, and with all the formalities, prescribed by statute. McSpedon v. New York, 7 Bosw. (N. Y.) 601, 20 How. Pr. 395.

87. Fountain v. Sacramento, 1 Cal. App. 461, 82 Pac. 637; Condran v. New Orleans, (La. 1891) 9 So. 31; Park v. Laurens, 68 S. C. 212, 46 S. E. 1012. Where the legislature established a court to be held "at such place as the city shall provide," and upon the failure of the city to provide a place, the judge hired a room in which he held court, it was held that there was no implied promise upon the part of the city to pay the rent of such room. French v. Auburn, 62 Me. 452. Where the board or body of a municipal corporation is not shown to have known that goods were requisitioned by one employee and accepted by another employee without precedent authority, and used by such employee, the fact of such acceptance and use will not raise an implied contract on the part of the municipal corporation to pay for such goods. New Jersey Car Spring, etc., Co. v. Jersey City, 64 N. J. L. 544, 46 Atl. 649. So where a sidewalk was ordered to be built without authority, but through the mistake of an employee delegated by the superintendent of streets, it was held that his action in so ordering the walk built did not operate to bind the city, so as to render it liable to respond on a quantum valebat. Chicago v. A. R. Beck Lumber Co., 93 Ill. App. 70. See also supra, IX, C.

88. Fountain v. Sacramento, 1 Cal. App. 461, 82 Pac. 637; Brazil v. McBride, 69 Ind. 244; Belleview v. Hohn, 82 Ky. 1; Schell City v. L. M. Rumsey Mfg. Co., 39 Mo. App. 264; O'Rourke v. Philadelphia, 13 Pa. Dist. 379. See supra, IX, G, 1. Where a contract for printing one thousand five hundred copies of the "City Charters" was void, not being made as required by N. Y. Laws (1853), c.

217, § 12, the fact that these books were accepted and used by the corporation was held not to raise a liability to pay for them what they were worth. McSpedon v. New York, 7 Bosw. (N. Y.) 601, 20 How. Pr. 395. But it has been held that, although a city charter requires all contracts with the city to be in writing, a gas company which has furnished gas for several years under a written contract may recover from the city for gas furnished after the expiration of such contract on the basis of an implied contract or quantum valebat. Memphis Gas-Light Co. v. Memphis, 93 Tenn. 612, 30 S. W. 25.

89. Higgins v. San Diego Water Co., 118 Cal. 524, 45 Pac. 824, 50 Pac. 670; Lincoln Land Co. v. Grant, 57 Nebr. 70, 77 N. W. 349; Harlem Gaslight Co. v. New York, 33 N. Y. 309 [affirming 3 Rob. 100]; Kramrath v. Albany, 53 Hun (N. Y.) 206, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 54 [affirmed in 127 N. Y. 575, 28 N. E. 400]; Schneider v. Menasha, 118 Wis. 298, 95 N. W. 94, 99 Am. St. Rep. 996. Where a municipal corporation receives and retains substantial benefits under a contract which it was authorized to make, but which was void because irregularly executed, it is liable in an action brought to recover the reasonable value of the benefits received. Rogers v. Omaha, (Nebr.) 107 N. W. 214. Where a contract within the power of a public corporation is set aside for irregularity, there may be a recovery as on a quantum meruit against such corporation for work and material furnished under the contract before legal attack, and the recovery may include expenditure to secure such materials pending the proceedings attacking the contract. Wentink v. Passaic County, 66 N. J. L. 65, 48 Atl. 609. See also supra, IX, G, 1, note 7.

90. Thus, where a charter to a gas company is granted on condition that a city be furnished a certain quantity of gas, there is no implied promise on the part of the city to pay therefor. Virginia City Gas Co. v. Virginia City, 3 Nev. 320. No recovery can be had on a quantum meruit on an implied contract for extra excavation where the work was done at a fixed price per cubic yard pursuant to an ordinance. Booser v. Steulton Borough, 25 Pa. Co. Ct. 320, 4 Dauph. Co. Rep. 119.

91. The use, by the fire department of a town, of a person's hose, which had gotten mixed with the hose of the town, under the belief that it belonged to the town, does not render the town liable to the owner for its use. Dolloff v. Ayer, 162 Mass. 569, 39 N. E. 191.

sary to give rise to the liability.⁹² A municipal corporation may be held liable in an action for money had and received to the use of another entitled thereto.⁹³ And if a municipal corporation, by its own act, causes the work done by a contractor to be more expensive than it otherwise would have been, according to the terms of the original contract, it is liable to him on implied contract for the extra work.⁹⁴ A municipal corporation as a lessee is capable of holding over after the expiration of its term, and then becomes just such a tenant as a natural person being under like conditions, and it may become liable on implied contract for use and occupation.⁹⁵

H. Validity and Sufficiency—1. IN GENERAL. As a rule a contract entered into on behalf of a municipal corporation is void if it is ultra vires, or if it is illegal because in violation of a charter or statutory prohibition,⁹⁶ or if, not being in terms authorized, it is against public policy.⁹⁷ And the same is true of contracts not

92. Mott v. Utica, 114 N. Y. App. Div. 736, 100 N. Y. Suppl. 150, holding the evidence too indefinite to support a judgment for the reasonable value of a contractor's services, as extra compensation, in removing material under a street cleaning contract.

93. Valley Falls Co. v. Taft, 27 R. I. 136, 61 Atl. 41, holding that where a town council had laid out a highway on behalf of the town, and had agreed to construct it on condition of the advancement of certain moneys to pay therefor, and, after payment of the sums agreed upon, abandoned the work, without having constructed a passable way, the money paid could be recovered back from the town, regardless of whether the council had power to bind it in the premises or not.

Assessments paid into treasury.—A municipal board of health, without authority, contracted for the removal of certain nuisances. There was an insufficient appropriation to pay for the work. Assessments on property were made, and a portion of them paid into the city treasury. It was held that in equity the money belonged to the contractor, who could recover it from the city, on the ground that it was received for his use. Parker v. Philadelphia, 92 Pa. St. 401.

Unexpended appropriations turned over to city.—Plaintiff was employed by the police department of New York city to remove garbage from the streets at a stipulated sum per month. When the employment ceased, the police department held an unexpended balance of appropriations, more than enough to pay the claim. It was held that an action was not maintainable against the police department, but that, said unexpended balance having been paid into the city treasury, where it remained, was impressed with a trust in favor of plaintiff; and, the city having received the fund with notice of plaintiff's claim, an action might be maintained against it therefor. Swift v. New York, 83 N. Y. 528 [reversing 17 Hun 518].

94. Messenger v. Buffalo, 21 N. Y. 196.

95. Witt v. New York, 6 Rob. (N. Y.) 441. Thus a city which by its charter is required to provide a pest-house or hospital, and which makes use of a private dwelling for a hospital, must pay the owner of such dwelling a reasonable sum for the use thereof, although the city obtained possession by a trick or trespass committed by its officer or agent. Bodewig v. Port Huron, 141 Mich. 564, 104 N. W. 769. And a municipal corporation entering upon and holding premises under a lease renewal describing it and signed by the lessor is estopped from taking advantage of the fact that it was not correctly named in the lease and will be liable in an action in the nature of assumpsit for rent thereunder. Fitton v. Hamilton City, 6 Nev. 196.

Ultra vires.—But where a municipal corporation takes an ultra vires lease and enters into possession, no recovery can be had from it for use and occupation. Bloomsburg Land Imp. Co. v. Bloomsburg Borough, 215 Pa. St. 452, 64 Atl. 602 [affirming 31 Pa. Co. Ct. 609].

96. Enfaula v. McNab, 67 Ala. 588, 42 Am. Rep. 118 (holding that all contracts of municipal corporations, which are not necessary and proper in order to carry into effect the powers expressed in their charters, and which are not germane to the governmental purpose for which such corporations may have been organized, are ultra vires); Higgins v. San Diego Water Co., 118 Cal. 524, 45 Pac. 824, 50 Pac. 670; Coker v. Atlanta, etc., R. Co., 123 Ga. 483, 51 S. E. 481 (equitable relief to a citizen whose rights will be infringed if the terms of an ultra vires contract are carried out); Tucker v. Grand Rapids, 104 Mich. 621, 62 N. W. 1013; Sillcocks v. New York, 11 Hun (N. Y.) 431; Bloomsburg Land Imp. Co. v. Bloomsburg Borough, 215 Pa. St. 452, 64 Atl. 602; Shroder v. Lancaster, 6 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) 201; Winchester v. Redmond, 93 Va. 711, 25 S. E. 1001, 57 Am. St. Rep. 822. See also infra, IX, H, 4.

Power to contract see supra, IX, A.

Notice of limitations upon the municipal power must be taken by those who deal with the corporation. McCoy v. Briant, 53 Cal. 247; Citizens' Bank v. Spencer, 126 Iowa 101, 101 N. W. 643; Cedar Rapids Water Co. v. Cedar Rapids, 117 Iowa 250, 90 N. W. 746, 118 Iowa 234, 91 N. W. 1081; Raton Waterworks Co. v. Raton, 9 N. M. 70, 49 Pac. 898; Matter of Niland, 113 N. Y. App. Div. 661, 99 N. Y. Suppl. 914.

97. Enfaula v. McNab, 67 Ala. 588, 42 made by an authorized officer or agent or not duly made or authorized by the common council or other board or department whose action is necessary,⁹⁸ and of contracts not entered into in the manner and form prescribed by mandatory charter or statutory provision.⁹⁹ So also a municipal contract may be voidable and set aside on the ground of fraud.¹ Municipal contracts are, equally with other contracts, subject to the principle that, to constitute a contract, the minds of the parties must meet both as to the subject-matter and as to the terms.² Therefore a binding contract on which action will lie is not made where the price is not fixed,³ or where, although there has been substantial agreement, the parties recognize something remaining to complete its execution.⁴ But, unless an ordinance

Am. Rep. 118. See also Bloomsburg Land Imp. Co. v. Bloomsburg Borough, 215 Pa. St. 452, 64 Atl. 602.

98. Seibrecht v. New Orleans, 12 La. Ann. 496; Miller v. New York, 3 Hun (N. Y.) 35, 5 Thomps. & C. 219; Indiana Road-Mach. Co. v. Sulphur Springs, (Tex. Civ. App. 1901) 63 S. W. 908; State Trust Co. v. Duluth, 104 Fed. 632. See supra, IX, B, 1; IX, C. The common council of a city can only contract by an order, resolution, or ordinance, passed in the manner required by statute, and when thus made, it can be repealed or annulled only by a vote of the council. Terre Haute v. Lake, 43 Ind. 480.

Where ordinance and contract differ.—When a stipulation in an ordinance and a covenant in a contract, drawn in pursuance of such ordinance, differ, the stipulation in the ordinance only is of binding effect. Dime Deposit, etc., Bank v. Scranton, 4 Lack. Jur. (Pa.) 109.

Contract made, not by council, but by individual members see supra, IX, B, 1.

99. Los Angeles Gas Co. v. Toberman, 61 Cal. 199; Zottman v. San Francisco, 20 Cal. 96, 81 Am. Dec. 96; Van Reipen v. Jersey City, 58 N. J. L. 262, 33 Atl. 740; Carpenter v. Yeardon Borough, 208 Pa. St. 396, 57 Atl. 837. See supra, IX, F, G. A municipal corporation cannot be held bound by either an express or an implied contract in defiance of express restrictions imposed by law as limitations upon the powers of the corporate agents through whose instrumentality the contract is sought to be derived. Jersey City Supply Co. v. Jersey City, 71 N. J. L. 631, 60 Atl. 381.

1. Where a party, by procuring persons who were his agents or conspirators with him to be elected to a board of trustees of a city having power to regulate all streets, ferries, wharves, etc., for the purpose of getting them to defraud the city for his benefit of certain property and franchises, obtained the exclusive privilege of laying out and establishing and regulating the wharves of the city for a certain time, a court of equity will hold him responsible and set aside such contract. Oakland v. Carpentier, 13 Cal. 540. But the fact that a manufacturing company paid the expenses to the Atlanta Exposition of a commission appointed to contract for the construction of a jail for a county, and that said company was afterward granted the contract, was held not to show fraud or collusion, where it appeared that the purpose was to have the commission examine a modern jail exhibited at that place. Byers v. Manley Mfg. Co., (Tenn. Ch. App. 1898) 46 S. W. 547.

Agreement between bidders.—It has been held that an agreement between competitors in business that one of them shall make a bid for both, the work to be divided between them, is not a fraudulent combination to prevent competitive bidding which will render void a contract awarded to such bidder. Woodward v. Collett, 48 S. W. 164, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 1066.

2. McCotter v. New York, 37 N. Y. 325 [affirming 35 Barb. 609].

Acceptance varying from offer or proposal.—Where a resolution of a town council directed the president to contract with a city for a supply of water on certain terms, and the city, learning of the resolution, caused to be executed by its officials and tendered to the town council a paper which was claimed to accord to the terms of the agreement, it was held to create no contract where the paper thus executed did not conform to the resolution. Jersey City v. Harrison, 72 N. J. L. 185, 62 Atl. 765, 65 Atl. 507.

Revocation of offer.—Where a deputy commissioner of docks of a city addressed to plaintiff a request to deliver sixty days' use of horse, cart, and driver, a letter from the secretary of the department of docks and ferries requesting the return of the order, sent before any work had been performed or tendered, was a complete revocation of the order. Durkin v. New York, 49 Misc. (N. Y.) 114, 96 N. Y. Suppl. 1059.

Acceptance or rejection of bid see supra, IX, F, 6.

3. McCotter v. New York, 37 N. Y. 325 [affirming 35 Barb. 609].

4. Santa Rosa Lighting Co. v. Woodward, 119 Cal. 30, 50 Pac. 1025; Fleming Mfg. Co. v. Franklin, (Iowa 1905) 103 N. W. 997. Although a contract for advertising had been let by a city under Pa. Act, March 7, 1901, art. 15 (Pamphl. Laws 36), as amended by the act of June 20, 1901 (Pamphl. Laws 592), and the award had been accepted and the contract reduced to writing, and accepted by the successful bidder, and delivered by him to the city, it was held that no contract existed where such contract was unsigned by the recorder, although his failure to sign was due to his sudden death immediately or other formality is required, the contract is binding when there is a resolution approving its execution,⁵ or other informal action to the same effect.⁶

2. APPROPRIATIONS OR PROVISION FOR PAYMENT. Under various statutory or constitutional provisions municipal contracts involving the creation of debts cannot be made without some provision for payment, such as a levy or appropriation by the proper authorities.⁷ These provisions have been declared mandaafter the delivery of the contract to him and before he could affix his signature. Press Pub. Co. v. Pittsburgh, 207 Pa. St. 623, 57 Atl. 75. So, where bids for the building of a street railroad were invited by a city, and in response thereto an unincorporated company submitted proposals, and the city accepted them subject to a modification which the company agreed to, but no formal contract was signed, and a resolution was then passed by the city enabling the company to become incorporated, and declaring that the "proposals heretofore made and accepted" by the parties respectively should not thereby be changed, it was held that there was no perfected contract between the city and the unincorporated company. People's Pass. R. Co. v. Memphis City R. Co., 10 Wall. (U. S.) 38, 19 L. ed. 844.

Ordinance not acted on.—A city ordinance authorizing the mayor to contract with a third person, if not acted on by the mayor, does not of itself create a contract. Baltimore v. New Orleans, 45 La. Ann. 526, 12 So. 878.

Completed contracts.—A contract is entered into between two corporations when one of them, by some proper corporate action, proposes terms to the other, and this other, a municipal corporation, thereupon passes an ordinance embracing them; and it cannot be objected to such a contract that it is not signed by the party to be charged, or that the ordinance is nothing more than a declaration of intention. People v. San Francisco, 27 Cal. 655. And an ordinance providing that "the city does hereby assume and become responsible for the faithful performance of all and every portion of the lease now held by" another, followed by a delivery of a copy thereof to the lessee, and an assignment by the lessee to the city, and a delivery of the assignment to the city clerk, constitutes a completed contract between the parties. Curtis v. Portsmouth, 67 N. H. 506, 39 Atl. 439.

5. San Francisco Gas Co. v. San Francisco, 6 Cal. 190; Argus Co. v. Albany, 55 N. Y. 495, 14 Am. Rep. 296 [affirming 7 Lans. 264]. See supra, V, B, 1, d.

6. Booth v. Shreveport, 29 La. Ann. 581; Argus Co. v. Albany, 55 N. Y. 495, 14 Am. Rep. 296 [affirming 7 Lans. 264].

Designation of newspapers for advertisements.—Under N. Y. Laws (1863), c. 227, § 2, requiring the mayor and controller to designate four daily papers, and authorizing them, in their discretion, to designate others in which to publish advertisements, the designation of certain papers for the publication of proceedings of the council in reference to local improvements is an employment by the corporation, in the absence of evidence that the service was declined by the papers designated. In re Phillips, 60 N. Y. 16 [reversing 2 Hun 212].

7. Green v. Everett, 179 Mass. 147, 60 N. E. 490 (under a statute providing that the city council can incur no liability in behalf of a city unless such council has duly voted an appropriation sufficient to meet the liability, the court holding that where one's land was taken by a city to widen a street, and some two years after the taking he made an offer to settle his claim for damages, which was accepted by the council, such proposal and acceptance did not constitute a completed settlement, so as to be competent evidence in subsequent proceedings on a petition for damages); Com. v. Foster, 215 Pa. St. 177, 64 Atl. 367 (holding that a prior appropriation by a city of the third class is essential to every contract entered into by it, in which "the appropriation of money" is involved, and that mandamus will not be granted against a controller to certify a contract for furnishing electric lights, where no appropriation has ever been made, either by resolution or by ordinance, for the payment of any moneys under the contract); McNeal v. Waco, 89 Tex. 83, 33 S. W. 322; Terrell v. Dessaint, 71 Tex. 770, 9 S. W. 593; Mineralized Rubber Co. v. Cleburne, 22 Tex. Civ. App. 621, 56 S. W. 220; Noel v. San Antonio, 11 Tex. Civ. App. 580, 33 S. W. 263 (the last four cases being under a constitutional provision). No appropriation having been made by the city council of the city of Detroit, for the use of the park board, to pay for water for the operation of drinking fountains, hydrants, etc., it was held that the Detroit waterworks was not entitled to recover from the park board for water so furnished. Detroit Water Com'rs v. Parks, etc., Com'rs, 126 Mich. 459, 85 N. W. 1132.

Necessity for appropriation before incurring debt see infra, XV, B, 1, g.

Certificate of auditor or clerk.—Under a statute requiring as a condition to entering into a municipal contract that the auditor or clerk must certify that the money required for the contract is in the treasury to the credit of the particular fund, a contract with attorneys for legal services is void where such certificate was not filed. Findlay v. Pendleton, 62 Ohio St. 80, 56 N. E. 649.

Repeal pro tanto.—Where an act prohibits the officers of a city from making any contract to bind the city, without a previous appropriation being made therefor, and a later act requires such officers to furnish certain books, papers, etc., although no appropriation has been made therefor, the later act is a repeal pro tanto of the former act.

tory;⁸ and contracts made without compliance with them are ultra vires and void.⁹ Nor may limitations as to amount be avoided by splitting an entire contract into pieces,¹⁰ or stretching it over two administrations.¹¹ And it is not competent under these provisions for a municipality authorized to levy a certain rate for a public utility to contract that the company supplying it shall receive annually a sum equal to that produced on the existing assessment.¹² Under these requirements contracts have been upheld, where the appropriation followed the contract,¹³ or only covered it by implication,¹⁴ or by departmental provision.¹⁵ And contracts for municipal utilities for a term of years are so construed as to fix the amount of the contract by the annual payment to be made.¹⁶

3. PARTIAL INVALIDITY. The general law of contracts with regard to partial invalidity is applicable to municipal contracts with the result that if the invalid portion of the contract can be severed from the rest without impairing the valid parts, they will be sustained and the contract enforced pro tanto;¹⁷ but if by such separation violence is done to the entire contract then it is void in toto.¹⁸

Philadelphia v. Philadelphia Com'rs, 3 Brewst. (Pa.) 333.

The board of guardians of the poor of Philadelphia ceased, under the Consolidation Act of 1854, to have a distinct corporate existence, and was made a department of the city, and became subject to the provisions of the Pennsylvania act of April 21, 1858, so that they could not make a contract binding the city, in the absence of an appropriation by the councils for its payment. Mathews v. Philadelphia, 93 Pa. St. 147.

8. Kelly v. Broadwell, 3 Nebr. (Unoff.) 617, 92 N. W. 643; Roberts v. Fargo, 10 N. D. 230, 86 N. W. 726. See also cases cited in the last preceding note.

Bidder need not perform.—Where a bidder for a contract for cleaning streets of one of six districts of a city has his bid accepted subject to a sufficient appropriation to cover the work, and at the time the bid is accepted an appropriation has been made for cleaning streets of the whole city, but this appropriation falls short of the aggregate of the contracts awarded for the six districts, the bidder is under no duty to execute a contract with the city or to clean the streets of the district for which he bid. Hinkle v. Philadelphia, 214 Pa. St. 126, 63 Atl. 590.

9. Hurley v. Trenton, 67 N. J. L. 350, 51 Atl. 1109; Roberts v. Fargo, 10 N. D. 230, 86 N. W. 726.

10. May v. Gloucester, 174 Mass. 583, 55 N. E. 465; Wing v. Cleveland, 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 551, 15 Cinc. L. Bul. 50; Fire Extinguisher Mfg. Co. v. Perry, 8 Okla. 429, 53 Pac. 635.

11. May v. Gloucester, 174 Mass. 583, 55 N. E. 465.

12. Westminster Water Co. v. Westminster, 98 Md. 551, 56 Atl. 990, 103 Am. St. Rep. 424, 64 L. R. A. 630.

13. Cain v. Wyoming, 104 Ill. App. 538.

14. Denver v. Hubbard, 17 Colo. App. 346, 68 Pac. 993.

15. Louisville v. Gosnell, 60 S. W. 411, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 1524, holding the under St. § 2820, providing that the executive boards of cities of the first class and their officers shall not have power to bind the city to any extent beyond the amount of money at the time "already appropriated" by ordinance for the purpose of the department under the control of said board, a levy ordinance which, in subdividing the tax rate, designates a certain part of it "for street repairs," constitutes an appropriation of that part of the tax rate for the purpose designated.

Subsequent exhausting of fund.—Where, at the time of ordering certain photographs for the city attorney's office for the use of the law department of the city of Chicago, there was more than enough of the proper appropriation unexpended to pay for them, the city will be liable, notwithstanding such appropriation is subsequently exhausted. Chicago v. Berger, 100 Ill. App. 158.

16. Maine Water Co. v. Waterville, 93 Me. 586, 45 Atl. 830, 49 L. R. A. 294. A contract entered into between a city and a water company, by which the city agrees to pay hydrant rentals for water for fire purposes for thirty years, is not void on the ground that no certificate was made by the clerk that there are funds in the city treasury sufficient to satisfy the amount falling due under the contract for the full period of thirty years. Defiance v. Defiance, 23 Ohio Cir. Ct. 96.

17. Nebraska City v. Nebraska City Hydraulic Gas Light, etc., Co., 9 Nebr. 339, 2 N. W. 870. Thus where a city, in consideration of its agreement to make certain street improvements, has obtained a deed of land from plaintiff for a street, and has drawn therefrom a large amount of materials for its streets, and plaintiff cannot be placed in statu quo, the fact that an insignificant part of the contract is void because ultra vires will not defeat the whole contract. Spier v. Kalamazoo, 138 Mich. 652, 101 N. W. 846. And where a city, in extending its sewer, has contracted with a landowner, whereby it was permitted to extend its sewer through his land, the fact that an insignificant part of the contract is void, because ultra vires, will not defeat the whole contract, where the same is easily severable, and the landowner has suffered an injury, and cannot be placed in statu quo. Coit v. Grand Rapids, 115 Mich. 493, 73 N. W. 811.

18. Nicholasville Water Co. v. Nicholasville, 36 S. W. 549, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 592;

4. ESTOPPEL TO DENY VALIDITY. Municipal corporations, like private corporations and persons, may be estopped by conduct to deny the validity of their contracts.¹⁹ In actions on municipal contracts it is generally held that, as against the party which has performed its part of the contract, the other party, having received the benefits, is thereby estopped to avoid just liability by asserting that the contract was invalid for irregularity or want of authority,²⁰ unless it tenders a full return of the consideration received.²¹ But the doctrine of ultra vires has been applied with peculiar strictness in favor of municipal corporations,²² especially

New Orleans v. New Orleans Sugar Shed Co., 35 La. Ann. 548; Austin v. McCall, (Tex. Civ. App. 1902) 67 S. W. 192; Madison v. American Sanitary Engineering Co., 118 Wis. 480, 95 N. W. 1097.

19. New Orleans v. Crescent City R. Co., 41 La. Ann. 904, 6 So. 719; State v. Cockrem, 25 La. Ann. 356 (holding that the civil government of the city of New Orleans could not be permitted to deny the rights derived by the relators from their contract with said city on the ground that it was under military authority at the time, where, after the cessation of that military authority, those rights had been, in part, frequently recognized and ratified by its ordinances); Warner v. New Orleans, 87 Fed. 829, 31 C. C. A. 238; The Maggie P., 25 Fed. 202 (estoppel to deny that the municipal officers acted without authority).

20. Arkansas.—Monticello v. Cohn, 48 Ark. 254, 3 S. W. 30; Helena v. Turner, 36 Ark. 577, holding that where one has taken a lease of public grounds from a municipal corporation, and has had the full enjoyment thereof, he is estopped, in an action on a bond executed for the payment of the lease, to deny the power of the corporation to make it.

California.—Argenti v. San Francisco, 16 Cal. 255.

Mississippi.—Natchez v. Mallery, 54 Miss. 499.

New Jersey.—Where ordinances of a city gave a street railway company permission to construct lines of railway in the streets and to operate cars thereon, on payment of annual license-fees for each car, and the company accepted the ordinances on those conditions, and constructed its lines and for many years operated cars thereon, the company and its successors, who acquired the lines and assumed the obligations, are estopped from setting up that the terms imposed by the ordinances were ultra vires. Jersey City v. North Jersey St. R. Co., 72 N. J. L. 383, 61 Atl. 95.

Ohio.—Cincinnati v. Cincinnati Southern R. Co., 6 Ohio Cir. Ct. 247, 3 Ohio Cir. Dec. 438.

Pennsylvania.—Ephrata Water Co. v. Ephrata Borough, 16 Pa. Super. Ct. 484, 18 Lanc. L. Rev. 169.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 682.

Where the contract of a municipal corporation has no element of illegality, the objection made to it only alleging a defect of power in respect to the term of its duration, the doctrine that where a corporation has received benefits under a contract which is merely ultra vires, it shall pay for those benefits, should apply to the municipal corporation with equal force as in case of a private corporation. East St. Louis v. East St. Louis Gas Light, etc., Co., 98 Ill. 415, 38 Am. Rep. 97; State v. McCardy, 62 Minn. 509, 64 N. W. 1133. So a municipal corporation, which has retained the benefits of a contract invalid not because it was beyond the scope of its powers but because in the making or performance of the agreement the power of the municipality was illegally exercised may be estopped from denying the validity of the contract as against an innocent party, who has changed his position in reliance upon the action of the municipality; but on the other hand, no such estoppel can arise in favor of one who has knowingly agreed to assist the municipality in the illegal exercise of its power. Ft. Scott v. W. G. Eads Brokerage Co., 117 Fed. 51, 54 C. C. A. 437.

21. Turner v. Cruzen, 70 Iowa 202, 30 N. W. 483; Natchez v. Mallery, 54 Miss. 499; Grand Island Gas Co. v. West, 28 Nebr. 852, 45 N. W. 242.

22. Alabama.—Cleveland School Furniture Co. v. Greenville, 146 Ala. 559, 41 So. 862 (holding that where a city had no power to execute a note binding its general revenues for the payment of furniture purchased for use in a school building, the retention and use of the furniture in the school did not estop the city from denying the holder's right to recover on the note); Eufaula v. McNah, 67 Ala. 588, 42 Am. Rep. 118 (holding that where a corporation makes an ultra vires contract, the fact that interest has been paid on the debt created by the contract, either by the corporation itself, or by the beneficiary of the contract with the concurrence of the corporation, will not affect the case and cannot work an estoppel).

California.—Higgins v. San Diego, (1896) 45 Pac. 824.

Illinois.—Hope v. Alton, 116 Ill. App. 116 [affirmed in 214 Ill. 102, 73 N. E. 406], holding that a city is not estopped to set up an ordinance prohibiting the incurring of an obligation, when suit is brought against it on account thereof, merely because it has accepted the benefit of the services made the basis of the contract.

Iowa.—Citizens' Bank v. Spencer, 126 Iowa 101, 101 N. W. 643.

Maryland.—Meally v. Hagerstown, 92 Md. 741, 48 Atl. 746.

where the contractor was aware of the municipal incapacity;²³ and the corporate seal affixed to the contract does not conclude the question.²⁴

5. PRESUMPTION OF VALIDITY. The invariable rule of the courts in considering questions of validity in fair municipal contracts is to indulge every legal presumption in their support, ut res magis valeat quam pereat.²⁵

I. Validating Unauthorized or Invalid Contracts — 1. RATIFICATION²⁶ —

a. Power to Ratify. An illegal or ultra vires municipal contract, being void, is not susceptible of validation, unless meanwhile the legislature has conferred upon the corporation power to ratify or to make such contracts.²⁷ But contracts made by a municipality without authority may be afterward ratified by it when it has acquired authority from the legislature;²⁸ and an intra vires contract void or voidable because not authorized by the municipality, or made by an officer, board, committee, or agent, not duly appointed or empowered to act,²⁹ or defectively exe-

Minnesota.—Newbery v. Fox, 37 Minn. 141, 33 N. W. 333, 5 Am. St. Rep. 830, a suit by taxpayers.

Missouri.—State v. Murphy, 134 Mo. 548, 31 S. W. 784, 34 S. W. 51, 35 S. W. 1132, 56 Am. St. Rep. 515, 34 L. R. A. 369.

Wisconsin.—Schneider v. Menasha, 118 Wis. 298, 95 N. W. 94, 99 Am. St. Rep. 996.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 682.

Authority of officer.—Where a person entered into a contract with a public officer undertaking to act for and to bind a city, the city was not estopped from showing that the officer had no authority to make the contract by mere proof that the same officer had previously made similar contracts which the municipality had recognized as binding. Wormstead v. Lynn, 184 Mass. 425, 68 N. E. 841.

Recovery on implied contract see supra, IX, G, 3, b.

23. Atlantic City Water-Works Co. v. Read, 50 N. J. L. 665, 15 Atl. 10 [affirming by a tie vote 49 N. J. L. 558, 9 Atl. 759].

24. Leavenworth v. Rankin, 2 Kan. 357.

25. Reed v. Anoka, 85 Minn. 294, 88 N. W. 981; Meyers v. New York, 58 N. Y. App. Div. 534, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 529; Memphis v. Brown, 20 Wall. (U. S.) 289, 22 L. ed. 264; Lincoln v. Sun Vapor Street-Light Co., 59 Fed. 756, 8 C. C. A. 253. Thus the question whether the necessities of a municipality justify a contract for light and water for a period of thirty-one years, and the fairness and reasonableness of the terms thereof, are addressed to the sound judgment of the municipal officers; and, as such officers are presumed to act within the scope of their authority, and for the best interests of the municipality they represent, the burden to impeach the contract is on the person who calls it in question. Reed v. Anoka, 85 Minn. 294, 88 N. W. 981. So where a contract, by which a city issued bonds for the benefit of a railroad company, and the latter issued stock to the city and guaranteed a certain income thereon, was executed and acted upon for thirty years, it was presumable that the municipal authorities did their duty in accepting the contract and requiring the observance of the statutory conditions essential to its validity.

Marklove v. Utica, etc., R. Co., 48 Misc. (N. Y.) 258, 96 N. Y. Suppl. 795.

When a corporation seeks to avoid its contract on the ground of its want of power to contract, where the contract is not upon its face necessarily beyond the scope of its authority, it will, in the absence of proof, be presumed to be valid, and it is held that the corporation must make good its defense of ultra vires by plea and proof. Brown v. Pomona Bd. of Education, 103 Cal. 531, 37 Pac. 503.

26. Ratification of bonds see infra, XV, C, 13, b.

Ratification of conveyances see supra, VIII, D, 7.

27. California.—Higgins v. San Diego, (1896) 45 Pac. 824; Zottman v. San Francisco, 20 Cal. 96, 81 Am. Dec. 96.

Iowa.—Cedar Rapids Water Co. v. Cedar Rapids, 117 Iowa 250, 90 N. W. 746, 118 Iowa 234, 91 N. W. 1081.

Kansas.—Leavenworth v. Rankin, 2 Kan. 357.

Maryland.—Packard v. Hayes, 94 Md. 233, 51 Atl. 32; Baltimore v. Reynolds, 20 Md. 1, 83 Am. Dec. 535.

Missouri.—Savage v. Springfield, 83 Mo. App. 323.

New York.—Boom v. Utica, 2 Barb. 104.

Washington.—Arnott v. Spokane, 6 Wash. 442, 33 Pac. 1063.

Wisconsin.—Trester v. Sheboygan, 87 Wis. 496, 58 N. W. 747.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 684.

28. Mills v. Gleason, 11 Wis. 470, 78 Am. Dec. 721. See infra, IX, I, 2.

29. Connecticut.—Norwalk Gaslight Co. v. Norwalk, 63 Conn. 495, 28 Atl. 32.

Illinois.—Bruce v. Dickey, 116 Ill. 527, 6 N. E. 435.

Iowa.—Dubuque Fern College v. Dubuque Dist. Tp., 13 Iowa 555.

Maine.—Hanson v. Dexter, 36 Me. 516.

Massachusetts.—Nelson v. Georgetown, 190 Mass. 225, 76 N. E. 606; Roberts v. Cambridge, 164 Mass. 176, 41 N. E. 230; Emerson v. Newbury, 13 Pick. 377.

Minnesota.—State v. Hennepin County Dist. Ct., 33 Minn. 235, 22 N. W. 625.

New Hampshire.—Hett v. Portsmouth, 73 N. H. 334, 61 Atl. 596.

cuted,³⁰ may in reason and by the great weight of authority be ratified by a municipality as well as by a private person. But the ratification, to be effectual, must be by the municipal body or officer originally empowered to make or authorize the contract.³¹

b. Ratification Where Officer Is Interested. Contracts voidable because of the adverse interest of a councilman or other officer or agent acting for the corporation³² are validated by ratification by a board or council free from interest;³³ but ratification of such contract will not be presumed from mere payments made or authorized thereon.³⁴

c. Sufficiency of Ratification. A subsequent ratification of an invalid municipal contract may be express or implied.³⁵ If express, then, in order to make it

New Jersey.—Green v. Cape May, 41 N. J. L. 45.

New York.—Peterson v. New York, 17 N. Y. 449; Squire v. Cartwright, 67 Hun 218, 22 N. Y. Suppl. 899.

Pennsylvania.—Philadelphia v. Hays, 93 Pa. St. 72; Shrober v. Lancaster, 6 Lanc. Bar 201.

United States.—Little Rock v. Merchants Nat. Bank, 98 U. S. 308, 25 L. ed. 108; Hill v. Indianapolis, 92 Fed. 467; Findlay v. Pertz, 66 Fed. 427, 13 C. C. A. 559, 29 L. R. A. 188.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 684, 685.

Illustrations.—A committee of a town does not bind the town by a contract unless a majority concur, but a contract made by a minority may be ratified by the majority; and, when so ratified, it has the same force to bind the town as it would have had if the majority had originally concurred in making it. Hanson v. Dexter, 36 Me. 516. And see infra, IX, I, 1, c.

30. Sandy Lake Borough v. Sandy Lake, etc., Gas Co., 16 Pa. Super. Ct. 234. Whenever a corporation has power originally to do a particular thing, it may ratify and make valid an attempt to do such thing, although it may be done ever so defectively, informally, or fraudulently in the first instance. State v. Pawnee County, 12 Kan. 426.

Invalid contract partly executed.—A city council may ratify the executed part of an invalid contract for lighting the streets, and order warrants to issue to pay for lights furnished, even though it has declared the contract under which such lights were furnished invalid. Frederick v. People, 83 Ill. App. 89.

31. See infra, IX, I, 1, c.

32. Personal interest of officers see supra, IX, D.

33. Ft. Wayne v. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co., 132 Ind. 553, 32 N. E. 215, 32 Am. St. Rep. 277, 18 L. R. A. 367; Cady v. Watertown, 18 Wis. 322.

34. Milford v. Milford Water Co., 124 Pa. St. 610, 17 Atl. 185, 3 L. R. A. 122.

35. Conyers v. Kirk, 78 Ga. 480, 3 S. E. 442; Bruce v. Dickey, 116 Ill. 527, 6 N. E. 435; State v. Hennepin County Dist. Ct., 33 Minn. 235, 22 N. W. 625; Tarentum Borough v. Moorhead, 26 Pa. Super. Ct. 273. Compare Burns v. New York, 3 Hun (N. Y.) 212, 5 Thomps. & C. 371; Farmers' L. & T.

Co. v. New York, 4 Bosw. (N. Y.) 80. See also infra, this section text and note 38.

Illustrations.—Every resolution or order to enter into a contract by a board of town trustees required the concurrence, by a yeas and nays vote, of four of the six members of the council. A resolution authorizing an attorney to appear as special counsel for the town in annexation proceedings received only three votes to two against it. At the same meeting, and immediately after the first resolution, the clerk was instructed, by four yeas and one nay vote, to send a certified copy of the resolution to the attorneys who appeared before the council, and advised with them as to the proposed proceeding, and, by four yeas to two nays, a warrant was ordered drawn in favor of the attorney for an amount to apply on costs and fees in the suit. It was held that if an express contract was not properly entered into, the subsequent acts of the council ratified the contract of employment. Denver v. Webber, 15 Colo. App. 511, 63 Pac. 804. So, where the trustees of a town library exceeded their authority in executing contracts and making a payment thereon, and the town at an annual meeting, with knowledge of the facts, accepted and approved the report of the trustees, it was held that the town ratified the acts of the trustees, and the contracts became binding on it as if originally authorized. Nelson v. Georgetown, 190 Mass. 225, 76 N. E. 606. So, under N. H. Pub. St. (1901) c. 46, § 2, c. 48, § 14, and Laws (1899), p. 264, c. 29, § 3, vesting in the board of mayor and aldermen of cities the duty of carrying into effect a vote of the city councils for the repair of streets, a formal vote of the board of mayor and aldermen adopting a contract made by a special committee for the improvement of streets constitutes a ratification of the contract, and makes it valid and binding upon the city, although the appointment of the special committee which originally entered into the contract was illegal. Hett v. Portsmouth, 73 N. H. 334, 61 Atl. 596. And an objection to the action of a board of park commissioners accepting an offer to sell lands, on the ground that a sufficient number of the members of the board were not present, is cured by a subsequent resolution, supported by the vote of a sufficient number, confirming the purchase. State v. Hennepin County Dist. Ct., 33 Minn. 252, 22 N. W. 632.

equivalent to original authorization, it must have the essential elements thereof; that is, it must be by the body or officer thereunto authorized,³⁶ and in the method required by law.³⁷ But ratification may be implied from acts done or omitted by the municipal authority duly empowered in the premises, unless the contract is one which can only be made in writing or in some other particular mode.³⁸ Acts

Where an electric light company furnished light for lighting the streets of a city, and presented its claims therefor, and the city council audited them, knowing that the claimant had furnished the lights for the time in question under a contract with the city, and ordered warrants issued for the payment of such claims, it was held the duty of the mayor to sign such orders, even if the original contract for such lighting was invalid. Frederick v. People, 83 Ill. App. 89. And an incorporated village is liable for services rendered at the request of the president of the board of trustees, which the village subsequently accepted, and for which it agreed to pay a sum named. Kent v. North Tarrytown, 50 N. Y. App. Div. 502, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 178 [affirming 26 Misc. 86, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 885].

Ratification of representations of committee.—Sharp v. New York, 40 Barb. (N. Y.) 256, 25 How. Pr. 389.

36. Iowa.—Sioux City v. Weare, 59 Iowa 95, 12 N. W. 786, holding that the street commissioner of a city, unless clothed with power to bind the city by contract, could not ratify an agreement made by the chairman of the street committee.

Michigan.—Spitzer v. Blanchard, 82 Mich. 234, 46 N. W. 400.

Minnesota.—State v. Hennepin County Dist. Ct., 33 Minn. 235, 22 N. W. 625.

Mississippi.—Jackson Electric R., etc., Co. v. Adams, 79 Miss. 408, 30 So. 694.

New Jersey.—New Jersey Car Spring, etc., Co. v. Jersey City, 64 N. J. L. 544, 46 Atl. 649.

New York.—Withers v. New York, 92 N. Y. App. Div. 147, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 1105; Miller v. New York, 3 Hun 35, 5 Thomps. & C. 219.

Texas.—Tyler v. Adams, (Civ. App. 1901) 62 S. W. 119.

Illustrations.—Where bonds for the purchase of a fire apparatus are issued by a village without authority, and it appears that the village authorities have refused to accept and have housed the apparatus, subject to the vendor's orders, no implied liability to pay therefor will arise by reason of a resolution of acceptance passed at a special meeting of the council not legally called. Spitzer v. Blanchard, 82 Mich. 234, 46 N. W. 400. Where horses were kept on hand in open sight at an engine house in a city fire department, in accordance with the directions of the chairman of the council committee on that department and the engineer, it may reasonably be inferred that the committee had notice thereof, and, if more was wanting to make a valid contract with the city for their use, a subsequent vote of the committee, ratifying the same, would be sufficient, the committee being authorized to contract for their employment. May v. Gloucester, 174 Mass. 583, 55 N. E. 465.

37. California.—People v. Swift, 31 Cal. 26; Zottman v. San Francisco, 20 Cal. 96, 81 Am. Dec. 96; McCracken v. San Francisco, 16 Cal. 591.

Colorado.—Durango v. Pennington, 8 Colo. 257, 7 Pac. 14.

Kansas.—Newman v. Emporia, 32 Kan. 456, 4 Pac. 815.

Missouri.—Unionville v. Martin, 95 Mo. App. 28, 68 S. W. 605. The only way a city can ratify an act of its officers is by ordinance; and evidence that the parties employed in changing the grade of a street were paid by the city is incompetent to prove ratification. Kroffe v. Springfield, 86 Mo. App. 530.

Nebraska.—A contract entered into by a city in violation of an amendatory provision of its charter is void and can be ratified only by an observance of the conditions necessary to a valid agreement in the first instance. Plattsburgh v. Murphy, (1905) 105 N. W. 293.

New Jersey.—Cory v. Somerset County, 44 N. J. L. 445.

Tennessee.—A failure on the part of the municipal government to disaffirm, within a reasonable time, the contract of the waterworks committee for an expensive system of waterworks, does not operate as a ratification. A ratification could only be by formal action, and individual members of the city government could not, by expressions or by their conduct, so bind the city as to estop it from contesting the validity of such contract. Nashville v. Hagan, 9 Baxt. 495.

Washington.—Paul v. Seattle, 40 Wash. 294, 82 Pac. 601.

Wisconsin.—Where a contract by a city is invalid for want of substantial compliance with charter provisions, it cannot be made valid by acts of ratification short of such as would render a new contract valid. Chipewa Bridge Co. v. Durand, 122 Wis. 85, 99 N. W. 603, 106 Am. St. Rep. 931.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 686.

38. Chicago v. McKechney, 91 Ill. App. 442; Albany City Nat. Bank v. Albany, 92 N. Y. 363. See also Norwalk Gaslight Co. v. Norwalk, 63 Conn. 495, 28 Atl. 32; Roberts v. Cambridge, 164 Mass. 176, 41 N. E. 230. A municipal corporation may ratify the unauthorized contracts of its officers and agents which are within its corporate powers, and the principle that ratification may be inferred from acquiescence after knowledge of the material facts, or from acts inconsistent with any other supposition, is as applicable to municipal corporations as to individuals. Bruce v. Dickey, 116 Ill. 527, 6 N. E. 435.

done by unauthorized officers cannot amount to an implied ratification.³⁹ Knowledge of the contract claimed to have been ratified is essential.⁴⁰

2. CURATIVE ACTS.⁴¹ Subject to constitutional restrictions, the legislature in virtue of its sovereign power to control municipal affairs may validate an irregular or void contract of a municipality by an act expressly ratifying or validating it,⁴² or conferring on the corporation power to ratify it or to make such con-

Illustrations.—Where a city contracts to receive its water-supply from one who agrees to build the water plant according to the contract, and after the completion of the plant the council appoints a committee to inspect it, and the committee reports favorably thereon, the council, by receiving water through the plant, and paying an instalment due under the contract, ratifies the report of the committee. Aurora Water Co. v. Aurora, 129 Mo. 540, 31 S. W. 946. Where goods are illegally purchased by the town agent, assuming the right to pledge the town's credit for the price, and the town afterward receives them with knowledge of the manner in which they were purchased, and applies them to its use, there is a ratification of the agent's authority, authorizing a recovery against the town. Backman v. Charlestown, 42 N. H. 125. Possession by town officers of premises which the town has contracted to purchase is insufficient to make such contract, otherwise unauthorized, binding on the town. Barker v. Floyd, 32 Misc. (N. Y.) 474, 66 N. Y. Suppl. 216 [affirmed in 61 N. Y. App. Div. 92, 69 N. Y. Suppl. 1109]. An action by a city on notes given by the city treasurer as security or payment for a defalcation is sufficient to indicate a ratification of the act of the committee appointed by the city council to examine into the defalcation and to receive the notes in payment thereof. Buffalo v. Bettinger, 76 N. Y. 393. Where the law agent of a town purchased a half interest of a claim against the town, on which the town claimed to have a right of recovery over against him, in his individual capacity, and afterward, without disclosing to the selectmen his half interest, negotiated a settlement and discharge of the town, received the money therefor from the town funds, and paid the claimant one half and kept the other, it was held that the town's long acquiescence after the facts became known was a ratification of the contract of settlement, and precluded a recovery of the consideration paid for the discharge, but that, as an agent should not be permitted to make private gain with funds, nor in matters of business, intrusted to his care, defendant might adopt plaintiff's contract of purchase of an interest in the claim, and recover, under its plea, whatever plaintiff had left of his half after reimbursing him for his actual trouble and expense. Judvine v. Hardwick, 49 Vt. 180.

Particular mode required.—Durango v. Pennington, 8 Colo. 257, 7 Pac. 14; Platts-mouth v. Murphy, (Nebr. 1905) 105 N. W. 293; Smith v. Newburgh, 77 N. Y. 130; Arnott v. Spokane, 6 Wash. 442, 33 Pac. 1063.

Contract requiring writing.—A city cannot, by acquiescence, ratify a contract which is not in writing, where its charter provides that it can be bound only by a written contract. Arnott v. Spokane, 6 Wash. 442, 33 Pac. 1063.

Ordinance required.—Under Seattle City Charter, art. 4, §§ 27, 28, providing that no obligation of any kind against the city shall be created except by ordinance, a contract alleged to have been entered into by the city without the passage of an ordinance can be ratified only by ordinance. Paul v. Seattle, 40 Wash. 294, 82 Pac. 601.

39. La France Fire Engine Co. v. Syracuse, 33 Misc. (N. Y.) 516, 68 N. Y. Suppl. 894.

40. Barton v. Pittsford, 44 Vt. 371.

41. Validating bonds see infra, XV, C, 13, c.

Validating conveyances see supra, VIII, D, 13.

42. Illinois.—Butler v. Dubois, 29 Ill. 105. Indiana.—Schneck v. Jeffersonville, 152 Ind. 204, 52 N. E. 212.

Maryland.—Smith v. Stephan, 66 Md. 381, 7 Atl. 561, 10 Atl. 671.

Missouri.—State v. Miller, 66 Mo. 328.

New York.—Brown v. New York, 63 N. Y. 239.

North Carolina.—Belo v. Forsyth County Com'rs, 76 N. C. 489.

Ohio.—Mill Creek Valley St. R. Co. v. Carthage, 18 Ohio Cir. Ct. 216, 9 Ohio Cir. Dec. 833.

Wisconsin.—Knapp v. Grant, 27 Wis. 147.

United States.—Steele County v. Erskine, 98 Fed. 215, 39 C. C. A. 173.

See also supra, IV, H, 2; VIII, D, 13; infra, XV, C, 13, c.

Illustration.—Mo. Act, December, 1855, provided that "all contracts made by the trustees of the town of New Franklin for the purpose of raising the amount authorized in the act of incorporation . . . be, and the same are, hereby declared to be legal." At the date of the act, but two contracts had been made by the trustees, one in 1842, which had been declared valid by the supreme court, and the other in 1849. It was held that the act amounted to a ratification of the contract of 1849. State v. Miller, 66 Mo. 328.

Acts not validating.—A contract for water-supply, invalid under N. J. Act, Feb. 7, 1876, which makes it criminal for councils to incur obligations in excess of the limit of expenditure, and the appropriation provided by law, is not cured by Pub. Laws (1881), p. 118, and Pub. Laws (1884), p. 194, which authorize cities not already supplied with water to contract for such supply for a term not exceeding ten years. Atlantic City Water-Works Co. v. Read, 50 N. J. L. 665, 15 Atl. 10. And Act, May 1, 1894, § 2 (Pub. Laws 170), validating prior city contracts for tracts,⁴³ under which the council may ratify or repudiate an ultra vires contract.⁴⁴ But a contract void for fraud will not be validated by such curative act, unless the act was passed with full knowledge of the fraud.⁴⁵

J. Construction and Operation—1. IN GENERAL. The valid contracts of a municipality are subject to the same canons of construction and general rules of operation as to rights and liabilities, as those governing the contracts of private corporations and individuals.⁴⁶ The court will look to the surrounding circumstances at the date of the contract,⁴⁷ and to the objects sought to be attained by the contract, and the intention of the parties in making it,⁴⁸ the words of the street lighting, made without legislative authority, does not validate contracts made in disregard of Act, March 31, 1871, § 159 (Pub. Laws (1871), p. 1160), requiring the city of Jersey City to advertise for proposals for such contracts for street lighting as involve an expense of more than five hundred dollars. Jersey City Bd. of Finance v. Jersey City, 57 N. J. L. 452, 31 Atl. 625.

43. Chesapeake, etc., Tel. Co. v. Baltimore, 89 Md. 689, 43 Atl. 784, 44 Atl. 1033.

Act not validating.—An act of the legislature which merely authorizes the city authorities to carry out a contract which they had previously made, whereby they agreed, in consideration of the erection of a commodious hotel within the corporate limits, to grant to the owner the exclusive right to retail spirituous liquors for five years at the lowest rate of license, to renew the same, etc., for five years, does not per se validate the contract; and therefore, if the corporate authorities choose to repudiate the contract, they may insist on its illegality, notwithstanding the passage of the act. Jackson v. Bowman, 39 Miss. 671.

44. Mill Creek Valley St. R. Co. v. Carthage, 18 Ohio Cir. Ct. 216, 9 Ohio Cir. Dec. 833; Mills v. Gleason, 11 Wis. 470, 78 Am. Dec. 721.

45. Santa Ana Water Co. v. San Buenaventura, 65 Fed. 323.

46. Touchard v. Touchard, 5 Cal. 306; Reed v. Anoka, 85 Minn. 294, 88 N. W. 981; Western Sav. Fund Soc. v. Philadelphia, 31 Pa. St. 175, 72 Am. Dec. 730; Penn Iron Co. v. Lancaster, 25 Pa. Super. Ct. 478.

Lessor.—When a city becomes a lessor, it is subjected to the same obligations as are imposed by law on others who enter into contracts of lease; hence, if the lessee from the city of the revenues of the public markets is deprived of part of the revenues because a portion of the space on which the stalls in the market are erected is taken for a public necessity, as for the widening of a street, the city must allow the lessee a diminution of rent. Hinrichs v. New Orleans, 50 La. Ann. 1214, 24 So. 224.

A person not a party to a contract has no right to intervene and establish a meaning contrary to the intention of the contracting parties, and upon this substituted meaning acquire and enforce rights. Clark v. Maryland Inst. for Promotion of Mechanic Arts, 87 Md. 643, 41 Atl. 126.

47. Los Angeles City Water Co. v. Los Angeles, 88 Fed. 720.

The history of proceedings of a city council pending the consideration of an ordinance, which is but a proposition, and is of no effect unless accepted by the party to whom it is made, cannot be used to give force or meaning to the contract so made. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Chicago, 35 Ill. App. 206 [affirmed in 134 Ill. 323, 25 N. E. 514].

48. Philadelphia v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 58 Pa. St. 253 (holding that a proposition of the state to a city contained in a statute and the city's acceptance of the proposition, by which it engaged to construct and "continue" a railroad to be built by the state up to a certain point, was not an agreement to maintain the railroad but to "extend" it); Madison v. American Sanitary Engineering Co., 118 Wis. 480, 95 N. W. 1097. The grant by a city to a gas company of the exclusive privilege of lighting the city with gas does not deprive the city of the power to contract with an electric light company for lighting the city with electric lights. Parkersburg Gas Co. v. Parkersburg, 30 W. Va. 435, 4 S. E. 650.

As to payments.—A waterworks contract, whereby the village agreed to cause an estimate of the value of the labor and materials on all work completed up to the first day of the month to be made on the tenth of each month, and to then pay ninety per cent of the contract price of such completed work, means the materials furnished in the preceding month, although not put in place, and the work done, although the entire job on which it is done is not completed. Delafield v. Westfield, 41 N. Y. App. Div. 24, 58 N. Y. Suppl. 277 [affirmed in 169 N. Y. 582, 62 N. E. 1095].

Statutory right not provided for in contract.—Lima Gas Co. v. Lima, 4 Ohio Cir. Ct. 22, 2 Ohio Cir. Dec. 396, holding that under a statute restricting the right of a city council to make any agreement with a gas company for supplying the corporation with gas, which contract shall not secure to the council the right to purchase the gas works at any time within the existence of the contract, and further that the council shall have power to erect gas works or to purchase any gas works already erected, where a contract with a gas company is silent as to the right of the city to purchase the works the right still remains in the city to be exercised whenever the council deems it expedient, and therefore the contract is legal, although it fails to secure to the city the right to purchase.

contract being given their common meaning with respect to the particular subject-matter.⁴⁹

2. CONTRACTS FOR PUBLIC UTILITIES. The corporation in contracting with and granting franchises to others for furnishing light and water, for example, does not exercise its governmental or legislative functions as respects the rates and charges to be paid, and the rules of law applicable to contracts between individuals apply.⁵⁰

3. STIPULATION FOR REFERENCE. The stipulation usually inserted in modern construction contracts, referring all questions arising on the execution thereof to the engineer, architect, or other expert for final decision, does not, it seems, include the legal question whether the contractor has become liable to the municipality for the liquidated damages provided in the contract.⁵¹

4. CONSTRUCTION BY PARTIES. The general rule holding parties to that construction of a doubtful clause of a contract placed upon it, and acted upon, by themselves, has been applied to municipal contracts,⁵² although it has been held that the court is free to construe the contract without being influenced by such considerations in cases involving the public interests.⁵³

49. Capital City Gaslight Co. v. Des Moines, 93 Iowa 547, 61 N. W. 1066 (where by ordinance a city contracted to use gas furnished by a gaslight company for ten years, provided that at any time after three years from the adoption of the ordinance the council might order the discontinuance of all or any street lamps within the "business section" of the city and substitute electric lights therefor without liability for lamps so discontinued, and it was held that the words "business section" meant that part of the city which was chiefly devoted to business purposes and in which stores, factories, offices, shops, and the like predominated in contradistinction to those parts chiefly used for resident and dwelling purposes or which were vacant or unoccupied); Saltsburg Gas Co. v. Saltsburg, 138 Pa. St. 250, 20 Atl. 844, 10 L. R. A. 193 (holding that under a contract to furnish natural gas "for all street lamps" the kind of lamps intended must be determined by the common use of the word where natural gas is used for street lighting, and that where open lights only are used for such purposes, the gas company cannot require the municipality to use inclosed lights in order to reduce the amount of gas consumed).

50. Reed v. Anoka, 85 Minn. 294, 88 N. W. 981. A city in making a contract for the purpose of supplying gas to its inhabitants acts as a private corporation, and is subject to the same duties, liabilities, and disabilities. Western Sav. Fund Soc. v. Philadelphia, 31 Pa. St. 175, 72 Am. Dec. 730.

The grant of a franchise is liberally construed in favor of public right. Indiana R. Co. v. Hoffman, 161 Ind. 593, 69 N. E. 399; Hamilton Gaslight, etc., Co. v. Hamilton, 146 U. S. 258, 13 S. Ct. 90, 36 L. ed. 963 [affirming 37 Fed. 832]. And a monopoly is to be sustained only upon plain and unambiguous terms of unequivocal grant of such power. Vincennes v. Citizens' Gas Light Co., 132 Ind. 114, 31 N. E. 573, 16 L. R. A. 485.

51. King Iron Bridge, etc., Co. v. St. Louis, 43 Fed. 768, 10 L. R. A. 826.

Inspection and approval.—Where a contract to furnish materials for the use of a particular department on requisitions to be made by it provided that all materials were "to be subject to the inspection of the superintendent of repairs and supplies" of such department, and no other provision rendered his certificate conclusive or made it the basis of payment, it was held that the only effect of the provision recited was to subject the materials furnished to the inspection of and approval of such superintendent and that neither party was concluded thereby. Bigler v. New York, 9 Hun (N. Y.) 253.

52. Davenport Gas Light, etc., Co. v. Davenport, 13 Iowa 229; St. Louis v. Laclede Gas Light Co., 155 Mo. 1, 55 S. W. 1003 (where defendant had contracted to do certain street lighting for a city, the contract containing provisions which the city claimed required defendant to pay it semiannually a certain per cent of gross receipts, which construction defendant denied, and it appearing that for five years the parties had failed to comply with or take steps to enforce such provision, it was held that such failure might be regarded as an interpretation by the parties that defendant was not required to make such payment and that therefore the city was estopped to maintain an action for its collection); St. Louis Gaslight Co. v. St. Louis, 46 Mo. 121.

53. National Waterworks Co. v. School District No. 7, 48 Fed. 523, holding that the reason of the rule under which the construction of a doubtful provision by the parties to a contract, affecting their interest only, may influence the court in its judgment, upon the reasonable presumption that the parties are in a condition to best know what was meant or intended by the contract, is weakened when applied to municipal corporations because they must of necessity have their affairs conducted by persons selected according to law who often have but a general public interest in the matters intrusted to them, are frequently changed, and not always the best qualified to construe contracts made by their predecessors.

5. AMOUNT OR RATE OF COMPENSATION. Rates for municipal service stipulated in a municipal contract must be observed by both parties,⁵⁴ but not for a longer period than allowed by law.⁵⁵ A contract fixing a rate for a particular year is not in the nature of an agreement running from year to year, and cannot be held to fix the rate for subsequent years;⁵⁶ and in the absence of special provision the corporation is entitled to the same rates and customs enjoyed by private corporations and persons.⁵⁷

K. Modification and Rescission — 1. IN GENERAL. Municipal contracts may not be modified or rescinded by unauthorized officers, but only by corporate action,⁵⁸ and in the manner prescribed for their execution.⁵⁹ But it seems that waiver of conditions may be made by implication.⁶⁰ A municipal contract will not be rescinded in equity merely because of excessive consideration,⁶¹ irregularity in payment,⁶² or unproven charges of fraud.⁶³ And the federal courts will not inquire into the motives of the council in passing an ordinance which is the basis of a contract.⁶⁴ But in some states municipal contracts, whether based on ordinance or otherwise authorized, are held to be administrative and not legisla-

54. Decatur Gaslight, etc., Co. v. Decatur, 24 Ill. App. 544 [affirmed in 120 Ill. 67, 11 N. E. 406], holding that where an ordinance granted certain privileges to a gas company in consideration that the latter should "furnish gas . . . at rates as favorable as that furnished by" another company named, and after the passage of the ordinance the company named therein reduced its rates, the city was not liable to pay any higher price than such reduced rate.

Effect given to entire contract.—Where a lighting company contracts with a city to light its streets at a stipulated sum for each lamp per year, and to keep all lamps lighted every night in the year, except when the moon gives sufficient light, and a proviso is added thereto that the city shall not be liable for rent for any lamp for any night when lamps are not lighted, full force and effect must be given to the entire contract, including the proviso, and the city is not liable for rent of lamps on moonlight nights, when lamps are not lighted. Winfield v. Winfield Gas Co., 37 Kan. 24, 14 Pac. 499.

Price not fixed.—Where the publisher of a German newspaper, under the direction of municipal officers but without any contract as to price to be paid, published certain advertisements in the newspaper, the matter of which was sent to him in English in a larger size type than was ordinarily used in his paper, and in endeavoring to imitate it in German text he caused the advertisements to occupy a larger space in the paper than they would have occupied if printed in his ordinary type, it was held that he was entitled to payment for space that would have been occupied if the matter had been printed in the ordinary type of the paper and at the rates ordinarily charged by him for such space, but not for the space actually occupied. Mierson v. New York, 6 Daly (N. Y.) 74.

55. State v. Ironton Gas Co., 37 Ohio St. 45.

Duration of contract see supra, IX, E, 2.

56. Harlem Gaslight Co. v. New York, 33 N. Y. 309.

57. Touchard v. Touchard, 5 Cal. 306.

58. Terre Haute v. Lake, 43 Ind. 480; United States Electric Fire-Alarm Co. v. Big Rapids, 78 Mich. 67, 43 N. W. 1030.

Verbal instructions by members of a city council to the city marshal to notify a water-works company to discontinue its supply of water to the city, and evidence of the marshal's having accordingly done so, are incompetent to prove a discontinuance of the contract existing between the city and the company for the supplying of water to the former, since corporate action alone could discontinue such contract, and this could only be proved by written minutes and records of the council. Greenville v. Greenville Water-Works Co., 125 Ala. 625, 27 So. 764.

Authority conferred on officer.—Where a contract for street cleaning provided that the work should be done according to specifications, declaring that the roadway should be cleaned from curb to curb, and that the work should be performed under the supervision and direction, and subject to the approval, of the city surveyor, the surveyor had authority to extend the work of cleaning beyond what was required by the contract. Mott v. Utica, 114 N. Y. App. Div. 736, 100 N. Y. Suppl. 150.

59. Sacramento v. Kirk, 7 Cal. 419.

Ordinance.—A city contract specially authorized by ordinance can only be altered by ordinance or some other properly authenticated act. Sacramento v. Kirk, 7 Cal. 419.

60. Newport News v. Potter, 122 Fed. 321, 58 C. C. A. 483.

61. Denver v. Hubbard, 17 Colo. App. 346, 68 Pac. 993.

62. Ecroyd v. Coggeshall, 21 R. I. 1, 41 Atl. 260, 79 Am. St. Rep. 741.

63. Madden v. Van Wyck, 35 Misc. (N. Y.) 645, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 135. If a city would repudiate a contract made by its agent, on the ground of fraud, the fraud must be clearly proved. If circumstances are relied on to prove it, such circumstances must be reconcilable with no other theory than that of fraud. Baird v. New York, 96 N. Y. 567.

64. New Orleans v. Warner, 175 U. S. 120, 20 S. Ct. 44, 44 L. ed. 96.

tive in character, and therefore subject to judicial investigation on charges of fraud in making and modification.⁶⁵

2. POWER TO MODIFY OR RESCIND. Municipal corporations do not possess sovereign power to abrogate or change contracts at will and pleasure;⁶⁶ but may repudiate, modify, or rescind them only under the same conditions and for the same causes as private corporations or persons,⁶⁷ as when the contract is void,⁶⁸ or the right to revoke is reserved.⁶⁹ Even if a municipality has the right to rescind a contract it can only do so by giving notice of the rescission to the other party,⁷⁰

65. Weston v. Syracuse, 158 N. Y. 274, 53 N. E. 12, 70 Am. St. Rep. 472, 43 L. R. A. 678.

66. California.—Von Schmidt v. Widber, 105 Cal. 151, 38 Pac. 682, holding that where the board of supervisors of a city authorized the committee on health to purchase certain land, and the deed was delivered to the committee and presented to the board, and directed by it to be held "in escrow" till the consideration therefor should be allowed, and a warrant for the consideration was issued and ordered by the board to be paid, and was duly audited and delivered to the grantor, the board could not, by repealing its action as to the purchase, divest the grantor of his right to collect the warrant.

Illinois.—Quincy v. Bull, 106 Ill. 337.

Indiana.—Vincennes v. Citizens Gas Light Co., 132 Ind. 114, 31 N. E. 573, 16 L. R. A. 485. A contract with a gas company, whereby the city expressly reserves its administrative authority to keep the posts, lamps, and burners in good repair, if the company should fail to do so, and the right to test the quality of the gas furnished and the capacity of the burners at all times, also to establish additional lamps and get gas from other works as the public interests may require, is valid, and cannot be repealed, impaired, or changed by the city by ordinance or otherwise. Indianapolis v. Indianapolis Gas-Light, etc., Co., 66 Ind. 396.

Iowa.—Davenport Gas Light, etc., Co. v. Davenport, 13 Iowa 229.

Louisiana.—State v. Heath, 20 La. Ann. 172, 96 Am. Dec. 390, holding that the city of New Orleans in her corporate capacity must be regarded and treated as an individual person, and when she enters into a contract with a third party through her officers by authority of the ordinance of the common council, she is not at liberty to annul the contract so made by an ordinance repealing the ordinance authorizing the contract.

Massachusetts.—Hudson Electric Light Co. v. Hudson, 163 Mass. 346, 40 N. E. 109.

Missouri.—Dausch v. Crane, 109 Mo. 323, 19 S. W. 61.

Nebraska.—Nebraska City v. Nebraska City Hydraulic Gas Light, etc., Co., 9 Nebr. 339, 3 N. W. 870.

New Jersey.—Taylor v. Lambertville, 43 N. J. Eq. 107, 10 Atl. 809.

Ohio.—Where a city contracted with a company to light the city, and the company lighted a portion, but delayed lighting the balance by reason of the submission of certain disputed questions to arbitration, as the contract provided, and because of a suit brought to determine the validity of the contract, and undertook to perform the contract as soon as notified by the city authorities, such delay was not unreasonable, and did not authorize the city to rescind the contract, the city having made no previous objection thereto. Cincinnati v. Edison Electric Co., 9 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 438, 6 Ohio N. P. 416.

Pennsylvania.—Western Sav. Fund Soc. v. Philadelphia, 31 Pa. St. 175, 72 Am. Dec. 730.

Texas.—Galveston v. Morton, 58 Tex. 409.

United States.—A city cannot avoid a contract with a water company, which was ratified by its electors, after it has been accepted and performed by the company and has also been complied with by the city for a number of years, on the ground that a number of ballots cast at the election for the ratification of such contract were defective, where the rejection of such defective ballots would not have affected the result of the election. Crebs v. Lebanon, 98 Fed. 549.

Canada.—Macartney v. Haldimand County, 10 Ont. L. Rep. 668.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 692, 693.

License and grant or contract distinguished.

—Where a city, by ordinance, grants the right to a party to construct waterworks at his expense to supply the city and its inhabitants with water, with the right to lay water pipes under the surface of the streets and alleys, for a period of years, and the grant is accepted and the work partially performed, the privilege of the use of the streets is not a mere license, revocable at the pleasure of the city council, but it is a grant under an express contract, for an adequate consideration, and is binding as a contract. When there is power in a city to make a contract, there is power to make one that will bind the parties. Quincy v. Bull, 106 Ill. 337.

67. Whenever a municipal corporation engages in things not public in their nature, it acts as a private individual; it no longer legislates, but contracts, and is as much bound by its engagements as is a private person. Western Sav. Fund Soc. v. Philadelphia. 31 Pa. St. 175, 72 Am. Dec. 730.

68. East St. Louis Gas Light, etc., Co. v. East St. Louis, 47 Ill. App. 411.

69. Newport v. Phillips, 40 S. W. 378, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 352; Leader v. Austin, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 439.

70. Allen v. Taunton, 19 Pick. (Mass.) 485, holding that where a contract was made particularly where the contract itself requires notice.⁷¹ Immaterial modifications may be made by the council, even of contracts let on biddings,⁷² although not without the assent of the contractor;⁷³ nor may the price of such contract be increased.⁷⁴ But it seems that the legislature may under the police power⁷⁵ authorize the revocation of a municipal covenant for quiet enjoyment of lands as a cemetery.⁷⁶ The common council has power to bind a municipality by modification of a contract between it and another.⁷⁷

3. LIABILITY ON RESCINDED CONTRACT. After effectual revocation of a voidable contract no action can be maintained upon it;⁷⁸ but an ineffectual effort to revoke does not affect the right of action.⁷⁹ If after revocation the city continues to take benefits under the contract, it is liable in assumpsit.⁸⁰

L. Performance and Breach. Municipal contracts, being upon the same footing as those of natural persons,⁸¹ may not be breached with impunity,⁸² even when the legislature has assumed to authorize it.⁸³ And statutory requirements may not be waived or departed from for the accommodation of either party;⁸⁴ but the merely contractual conditions are subject to waiver,⁸⁵ and estoppel;⁸⁶ and the rules of mutual performance and liability are generally identical in municipal and private contracts.⁸⁷ It seems, however, that where the indebtedness of a city in pursuance of a vote of a town, but before the contract was performed the vote was rescinded, that the person with whom the contract was made was not affected by the rescission, not having had notice thereof. The court did not decide as to whether it would have been otherwise if notice had been given.

71. Indianapolis v. Bly, 39 Ind. 373, holding that in an action against a city on a contract employing plaintiff for one year to light street lamps, and authorizing defendant to terminate the contract by giving one month's notice in writing, where the evidence showed that defendant's authorities undertook to terminate the contract for the reason that they had made, or could make, a contract with others more advantageous to the city, or supposed to be so, and without giving plaintiff thirty days' notice in writing, a judgment for plaintiff was proper.

72. Ampt v. Cincinnati, 8 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 624, 6 Ohio N. P. 208.

73. Middletown Drainage Co. v. Middletown, 1 Dauph. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 105. Where two municipalities have been empowered by law to supply one another with water by agreement, and have made a contract for ten years, in the absence of a limitation on their power to contract they may modify such contract, or substitute a new one, provided the modification or new contract is reasonable and proper. Arnold v. Pawtucket, 21 R. I. 15, 41 Atl. 576.

74. People v. Clarke, 79 N. Y. App. Div. 78, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 1111 [reversed on other grounds in 174 N. Y. 259, 66 N. E. 819].

75. Police power see infra, XI, A.

76. Brick Presb. Church Corp. v. New York, 5 Cow. (N. Y.) 538.

77. Weston v. Syracuse, 82 Hun (N. Y.) 67, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 186 [reversed on other grounds in 158 N. Y. 274, 53 N. E. 12, 70 Am. St. Rep. 472, 43 L. R. A. 678].

78. East St. Louis Gas Light, etc., Co. v. East St. Louis, 47 Ill. App. 411; East St. Louis v. East St. Louis Gaslight, etc., Co., 19 Ill. App. 44; Newport v. Phillips, 40 S. W. 378, 19 Ky. L. Rep. 352.

79. Greenville v. Greenville Water Works Co., 125 Ala. 625, 27 So. 764; and other cases cited supra, IX, K, 2.

80. State v. Great Falls, 19 Mont. 518, 49 Pac. 15; U. S. Water Works Co. v. Du Bois, 176 Pa. St. 439, 35 Atl. 251. Where, after a city let a contract for its printing to a newspaper, the paper was leased, and the contract assigned to the lessee, who continued to publish the paper, and performed work under the contract, the city, by accepting such work, waived its right to declare the contract forfeited by reason of the assignment. Norton v. Roslyn, 10 Wash. 44, 38 Pac. 878.

81. Jersey City v. Harrison, 71 N. J. L. 69, 58 Atl. 100.

82. New Orleans v. St. Louis Church, 11 La. Ann. 244.

83. Western Saving Fund Soc. v. Philadelphia, 31 Pa. St. 175, 72 Am. Dec. 730.

84. Carpenter v. Yeaton Borough, 208 Pa. St. 396, 57 Atl. 837.

85. Creston Waterworks Co. v. Creston, 100 Iowa 687, 70 N. W. 739. Where, after a city let a contract for its printing to a newspaper, the paper was leased, and the contract assigned to the lessee, who continued to publish the paper, and performed work under the contract, the city, by accepting such work, waived its right to declare the contract forfeited by reason of the assignment. Norton v. Roslyn, 10 Wash. 44, 38 Pac. 878.

86. Schliess v. Grand Rapids, 131 Mich. 52, 90 N. W. 700; Kennedy v. New York, 99 N. Y. App. Div. 588, 91 N. Y. Suppl. 252.

87. Kaukauna Electric Light Co. v. Kaukauna, 114 Wis. 327, 89 N. W. 542. See Toomey v. Bridgeport, 79 Conn. 229, 64 Atl. 215, holding that where a contract for the removal of the sewage of a city for a term of years provided that the sum payable thereunder in any year should not exceed the amount appropriated for the use of the board incurred under a contract already exceeds the constitutional limit, and the fund appropriated for the purpose of the contract is exhausted, damages cannot be recovered for a breach of the contract by the city.⁸⁸ A municipality, to the same extent as an individual, may rely on a provision in a contract that performance by the other party shall be approved by or satisfactory to it, or a particular officer, board, or committee.⁸⁹

M. Rights and Remedies on Municipal Contracts⁹⁰—1. CONTRACTOR'S REMEDIES—a. In General. Remedies to contractors under municipal contracts are those ordinary ones open to parties to private contracts: (1) Actions to recover damages for breach of contract;⁹¹ (2) assumpsit, general or special, to recover the sum justly due from the municipality, on the facts of the case;⁹² and (3) replevin or detinue to recover chattels delivered under a void contract.⁹³ Mandamus also lies when the municipality, or any officer or board thereof, is refusing or culpably of health for the city for that year, the city could not compel the contractors to perform their part of the contract in case no appropriation should be made to meet the payments nor could the contractors sue the city for breach of contract.

Interference by unauthorized officer or board.—Where a board of health, which was not subordinate to the city authorities who made a contract for the construction of a sewer, interrupted the work of the contractor causing him to suffer loss, the city was not liable for the effect of such interference. Jones v. New York, 9 N. Y. St. 247. See also Ready v. Tuskalooza, 6 Ala. 327.

Acceptance of inferior or less valuable articles.—Where contracts are made by the city on sealed bids and proposals under the statutes, specifying with particularity the articles to be delivered, there is no power in any board or officer to receive in compliance therewith inferior or less valuable articles under the pretext that they will answer the purposes of the city as well or better than those specified. Bigler v. New York, 9 Hun (N. Y.) 253.

Option to purchase gas plant.—Where a city grants to a company the exclusive privilege of laying gas pipes under its streets, for a term of years, on condition that the city shall have the privilege of purchasing the plant at the expiration of twenty-five years, at such price as may be determined by five disinterested men, two of whom are to be chosen by the city, two by the company, and the fifth by those four, the city must make its election as to the purchase at a price to be thereafter determined by appraisers to be thereafter appointed, and until it exercises such option the company is not bound to proceed with the appraisement; and its refusal to appoint two appraisers after the city has appointed two is not a breach of its contract. Montgomery Gas Light Co. v. Montgomery, 87 Ala. 245, 6 So. 113, 4 L. R. A. 616.

88. Drbew v. Altoona City, 121 Pa. St. 401, 15 Atl. 636.

Limitation of indebtedness see infra, XV, A, 3.

89. Silsby Mfg. Co. v. Chico, 24 Fed. 893.

Change of committee after contract.—Where a steam engine satisfactory to a committee of a town is furnished, and after the contract is made, and before tender of the engine, the members of the committee are changed, the committee to be satisfied is the committee existing when the contract is performed and the tender made. Silsby Mfg. Co. v. Chico, 24 Fed. 893.

90. Actions generally see infra, XVII.

91. Newport v. Newport Light Co., 30 S. W. 606, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 31; Hallock v. Lebanon, 215 Pa. St. 1, 64 Atl. 362. See, generally, CONTRACTS. Where a borough entered into a valid contract with a water company to supply it with water for twenty years, and the water company accepted the terms and completed its works, and continued to operate them and comply in all respects with the ordinance, a subsequent erection by the borough of waterworks to supply the inhabitants in opposition to the duly authorized company renders the borough liable to such company for the ensuing damages. Bennett Water Co. v. Millvale, 200 Pa. St. 613, 50 Atl. 155, 202 Pa. St. 616, 51 Atl. 1098.

92. Farwell v. Rockland City, 62 Me. 296; Bigelow v. Perth Amboy, 25 N. J. L. 297; Nashville v. Toney, 10 Lea (Tenn.) 643; Johnson v. Alderson, 33 W. Va. 473, 10 S. E. 815. And see Brown v. Pomona Bd. of Education, 103 Cal. 531, 37 Pac. 503; Cicotte v. Wayne County, 44 Mich. 173, 6 N. W. 236; Endriss v. Chippewa County, 43 Mich. 317, 5 N. W. 632. And see, generally, ASSUMPSIT, ACTION OF.

Action on order or warrant.—There can be no doubt as to the right of the holder of a corporation order or warrant to maintain an ordinary civil action upon it; nor can there be any doubt that he is not bound to resort to the extraordinary remedy of mandate. Connersville v. Connersville Hydraulic Co., 86 Ind. 184.

Action for materials furnished.—The right of a creditor to recover for materials furnished to a city at the instance of its common council, and which it had the power to purchase, does not depend on the use to which they were applied. Bigelow v. Perth Amboy, 25 N. J. L. 297.

Action on implied contract see infra, IX, M, 1, b.

93. La France Fire Engine Co. v. Syracuse, 33 Misc. (N. Y.) 516, 68 N. Y. Suppl. 894. See, generally, DETINUE; REPLEVIN.

neglecting to perform a ministerial duty owing to the relator, such as levying a tax,⁹⁴ or paying a warrant under appropriation.⁹⁵ And when the remedy at law is inadequate, equity affords relief by specific performance,⁹⁶ or, in case of irreparable injury threatened, by injunction.⁹⁷ But it seems that a contractor for city improvements has not such a vested right in the special assessment as to prevent its impairment by subsequent legislation.⁹⁸

b. Implied Contracts. Municipal corporations, like individuals and private corporations, may be liable to action on implied contracts.⁹⁹

c. Recovery of Unliquidated Sum. Whether a recovery may be had of quantum meruit or quantum valebant for work done or articles furnished for a municipality under a void contract or no contract seems to be dependent upon the peculiar merits of each case; in some the law being allowed to prevail and defeat the claim;¹ and in others equity asserting its authority to prevent a miscarriage of justice under the rigid rules of law and allowing it.²

d. Defenses. In addition to the usual defenses of non assumpsit,³ illegality,⁴ plaintiff's non-performance,⁵ statute of limitations,⁶ and statute of frauds,⁷ to actions on contracts, a municipality may rely upon the peculiar defenses of ultra vires,⁸ fatal informality,⁹ non-compliance with statutes,¹⁰ and want of authority on the part of the officer or board making the contract.¹¹ But the doctrine of estoppel has been successfully applied in some cases,¹² and in others the rule as to

94. State v. Helena, 24 Mont. 521, 63 Pac. 99; State v. Great Falls, 19 Mont. 518, 49 Pac. 15. See, generally, MANDAMUS.

95. Mandamus, not assumpsit, is the remedy against the board of directors of the Chicago public library, to enforce payment on its contracts; such board being only a department of the city with power to draw vouchers on a special fund in the city treasury. Chicago Public Library v. Arnold, 60 Ill. App. 328. And see, generally, MANDAMUS.

96. Buck v. Lockport, 43 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 361. See, generally, SPECIFIC PERFORMANCE.

97. Walla Walla Water Co. v. Walla Walla, 60 Fed. 957. See, generally, INJUNCTIONS.

98. Palmer v. Danville, 166 Ill. 42, 46 N. E. 629.

99. Montgomery Brush Electric Light, etc., Co. v. Montgomery, 114 Ala. 433, 21 So. 960; Montgomery County v. Barber, 45 Ala. 237; Farwell v. Rockland, 62 Me. 296; Port Jervis Water Works Co. v. Port Jervis, 71 Hun (N. Y.) 66, 24 N. Y. Suppl. 497 [affirmed in 151 N. Y. 111, 45 N. E. 388]; Austin v. Bartholomew, 107 Fed. 349, 46 C. C. A. 327. See also Brown v. Pomona Bd. of Education, 103 Cal. 531, 37 Pac. 503.

Implied contracts see supra, IX, G, 3.

1. McSpedon v. New York, 7 Bosw. (N. Y.) 601, 20 How. Pr. 395. See supra, IX, G, 3.

2. Condran v. New Orleans, 43 La. Ann. 1202, 9 So. 31; Kramrath v. Albany, 127 N. Y. 575, 28 N. E. 400 [affirming 53 Hun 206, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 54]; Harlem Gas Light Co. v. New York, 3 Rob. (N. Y.) 100; Leonard v. Long Island City, 20 N. Y. Suppl. 26; Memphis Gas-Light Co. v. Memphis, 93 Tenn. 612, 30 S. W. 25. See supra, IX, G, 3.

3. Blackstone Comm. 305; Gould Pl. 285; Stephen Pl. 160. See, generally, ASSUMPSIT, ACTION OF.

4. Dawson v. Dawson Waterworks Co., 106 Ga. 696, 32 S. E. 907.

5. Withers v. New York, 92 N. Y. App. Div. 147, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 1105. And see supra, IX, L; and, generally, CONTRACTS.

6. Nashville v. Toney, 10 Lea (Tenn.) 643. See, generally, LIMITATIONS OF ACTIONS.

7. Wade v. Newbern, 77 N. C. 460. And see, generally, FRAUDS, STATUTE OF.

8. Miller v. Goodwin, 70 Ill. 659; New Jersey, etc., Tel. Co. v. Jersey City Fire Com'rs, 34 N. J. Eq. 117 [affirmed in 34 N. J. Eq. 580]. See supra, III, H; IX, A, 5; IX, H, 1.

9. Los Angeles Gas Co. v. Toberman, 61 Cal. 199. See supra, IX, G, H.

10. Savage v. Springfield, 83 Mo. App. 323; Suburban Electric Light Co. v. Hempstead, 38 N. Y. App. Div. 355, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 443. See supra, IX, E, F, G, H.

N. Y. Building Code, § 155, provides that, if it be determined that a building is unsafe, the justice trying the cause shall issue a precept to the commissioner of buildings, commanding him to take down the building, and that he shall execute it by employing such labor and assistance, etc., as may be necessary. He is then required to make a return to the justice with an indorsement of the costs and expenses, whereupon the justice shall tax and adjust the amount indorsed, and provision is made for subsequent payment by the controller. It was held that a contractor employed by the commissioner of buildings, acting under a precept, cannot recover on the contract until the precept has been returned by the building commissioner and an adjustment made, as directed by the statute. John H. Parker Co. v. New York, 110 N. Y. App. Div. 360, 97 N. Y. Suppl. 200.

11. See supra, IX, B, C; IX, H, 1.

12. Estoppel to deny validity of contract see supra, IX, H, 4.

a recovery pro tanto on a partially invalid contract.¹³ A city cannot receive gas from certain gas works, and then refuse to pay for it, on the ground that the works are a nuisance, when they have never been properly declared to be so.¹⁴ In an action against a municipality to recover for the full amount of a contract, as damages for breach, it is no defense that payments were to be made in instalments and that an appropriation has been made to cover the amount of the first payment only, and not for the full amount of the contract.¹⁵

e. Pleading and Evidence — (i) PLEADING.¹⁶ The mode of pleading upon actions brought on municipal contracts depends upon the local statutes, and varies greatly under the common-law and code systems; but there is an apparent inclination in all states to enforce the rules more rigidly than in actions between private parties.¹⁷ Thus it is ruled that in an action against a city for annulment of a contract plaintiffs must set out in hæc verba the orders of the council making and annulling the contract;¹⁸ must allege that a contract sued on was made in the manner and form provided by statute;¹⁹ that it has been ratified by the electorate, where this is required;²⁰ that there were revenues to pay the instalment;²¹ and, if not made by the council, the contract may not be sued on as the contract of the municipality.²²

(ii) EVIDENCE.²³ The general rules of evidence are applicable in all actions on municipal contracts, those most frequently invoked being the ones determining the admissibility of acts done, or words written or spoken by municipal officers or agents.²⁴ The general rule upon this subject is that if the offered act or word was done or spoken by an officer or agent to whom the subject was committed,²⁵ or in the line and scope of official duty,²⁶ it is admissible; otherwise it is incompetent.²⁷

f. Power of Council to Provide New Remedy. Where a legislature has withheld from contractors and subcontractors not only the right to a lien on public buildings, but also the right to attach money in the hands of the city, the common council of a city has no authority to provide a new remedy in the nature of an attachment, lien, or trust of any kind, whereby subcontractors may enforce payment of their claim out of money due the principal contractor from the city.²⁸

2. MUNICIPAL RIGHTS AND REMEDIES.²⁹ The rules of in pari delicto and potior est conditio defendentis are not applicable against the public,³⁰ and will not defeat a bill by a municipality for restoration to rights lost under an ultra vires contract;³¹ and a light company is not absolved from its contract obligations by a

13. Effect of partial invalidity of contract see supra, IX, H, 3.

14. Davenport Gas Light, etc., Co. v. Davenport, 13 Iowa 229.

15. Hallock v. Lebanon, 215 Pa. St. 1, 64 Atl. 362.

16. See also infra, XVII, M.

17. Toledo v. Libbie, 19 Ohio Cir. Ct. 704, 8 Ohio Cir. Dec. 589; Norton v. Roslyn, 10 Wash. 44, 38 Pac. 878; La France Fire Engine Co. v. Mt. Vernon, 9 Wash. 142, 37 Pac. 287, 38 Pac. 80, 43 Am. St. Rep. 827; Herman v. Oconto, 100 Wis. 391, 76 N. W. 364.

18. Terre Haute v. Lake, 43 Ind. 480.

19. Goodyear Rubber Co. v. Eureka, 135 Cal. 613, 67 Pac. 1043; Wellston v. Morgan, 65 Ohio St. 219, 62 N. E. 127.

20. Harrodsburg v. Harrodsburg Water Co., 64 S. W. 658, 23 Ky. L. Rep. 956.

21. Waterworks Co. v. San Antonio, (Tex. Civ. App. 1898) 48 S. W. 205.

22. Damon v. Granby, 2 Pick. (Mass.) 345.

23. See also infra, XVII, N.

24. Howell Electric Light, etc., Co. v. Howell, 132 Mich. 117, 92 N. W. 940; St.

Louis Gas Light Co. v. St. Louis, 86 Mo. 495 [affirming 12 Mo. App. 573]; Nelson v. New York, 1 Silv. Sup. (N. Y.) 471, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 688 [affirmed in 131 N. Y. 4, 29 N. E. 814].

25. Nelson v. New York, 1 Silv. Sup. (N. Y.) 471, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 688 [affirmed in 131 N. Y. 4, 29 N. E. 814].

26. In support of the defense that by collusion between the contractor and the city officers the contract on which suit was brought was intentionally let to the highest instead of the lowest bidder, cards in which the contractor offered to sell material like that furnished the city at lower prices than those named in his bid are admissible in evidence. Nelson v. New York, 1 Silv. Sup. (N. Y.) 471, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 688 [affirmed in 131 N. Y. 4, 29 N. E. 814].

27. Halbut v. Forrest City, 34 Ark. 246.

28. Lesley v. Kite, 192 Pa. St. 268, 43 Atl. 959.

29. Debt due municipality not discharged in bankruptcy see BANKRUPTCY, 5 Cyc. 400.

30. Detroit v. Detroit City R. Co., 56 Fed. 867.

31. The rule that both parties to an ultra municipal advertisement for a substitute contract;³² nor a sewage contractor by the emergent use of the defective plant put in by him.³³ But a city which has authorized its stock in a private corporation to be transferred by the private contract of the mayor, as his own, may not sue on said contract as undisclosed principal.³⁴ Nor may it sue on a contract made by it to recover damages sustained by private persons;³⁵ nor on an ultra vires contract.³⁶ A municipality may maintain a bill for rescission of a contract procured by bribery of the alderman making it.³⁷

3. RIGHTS AND REMEDIES OF THIRD PERSONS. A third person, for whose benefit or protection a contract has been made by a municipality with a private corporation or company, may maintain an action thereunder in his own name to recover damages or quantum meruit against either party to the contract.³⁸

X. MUNICIPAL EXPENSES.¹

A. In General. Municipal expenses include all such items as are incidental to the proper exercise of corporate functions in administering the government of the municipality.²

B. Discretion to Incur and Allow. Municipal expenses are generally committed to the discretion of the municipal council,³ but in some instances to that of special officers.⁴ If the expenses are intra vires their allowance by the municipal authority is conclusive of their validity,⁵ but if ultra vires they are subject to challenge before the courts.⁶ Similarly, if the expenses be not vitally necessary but wholly in the discretion of the municipality, then the refusal or failure of the governing body to authorize or approve them is conclusive of the claim, and the courts will not revise the municipal action;⁷ but not so with expenses for work or materials required by statute or charter to be provided or furnished to the corporation.⁸

vires contract are in pari delicto, and therefore a court of equity will not interpose to restore to one of them rights which it has thus parted with, is inapplicable to a municipal corporation whose trustees attempt to make an invalid grant, and in such case the right of the public to equitable relief is not prejudiced. Detroit v. Detroit City R. Co., 56 Fed. 867.

32. Lansdowne v. Citizens' Electric Light, etc., Co., 206 Pa. St. 188, 55 Atl. 919.

33. Madison v. American Sanitary Engineering Co., 118 Wis. 480, 95 N. W. 1097.

34. Huntsville v. Huntsville Gaslight Co., 70 Ala. 190.

35. New Haven v. New Haven, etc., R. Co., 62 Conn. 252, 25 Atl. 316, 18 L. R. A. 256.

36. Portland v. Bituminous Paving Co., 33 Oreg. 307, 52 Pac. 28, 72 Am. St. Rep. 713, 44 L. R. A. 527.

37. Seltzer v. Metropolitan Electric Co., 199 Pa. St. 100, 48 Atl. 861.

38. Gorrell v. Greensboro Water Supply Co., 124 N. C. 328, 32 S. E. 720, 70 Am. St. Rep. 598, 46 L. R. A. 513; Nashville v. Toney, 10 Lea (Tenn.) 643.

1. Contracts of city see supra, IX.

Expenses of or for: County see COUNTIES, 11 Cyc. 325. District of Columbia, see DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, 14 Cyc. 526. Improvements see infra, XIII. Support of pauper see PAUPERS.

Liability for acts of mob see infra, XIV, A, 5, f.

Liability within statute of limitations see LIMITATIONS OF ACTIONS, 25 Cyc. 963.

Statute of limitations affecting liability for municipal expenses see LIMITATIONS OF ACTIONS, 25 Cyc. 963.

2. See Ingersoll Pub. Corp. 454. See also cases cited infra, note 3 et seq.

3. White v. Decatur, 119 Ala. 476, 23 So. 999; Kendall v. Frey, 74 Wis. 26, 42 N. W. 466, 17 Am. St. Rep. 118.

4. Frank v. St. Louis, 145 Mo. 600, 47 S. W. 508, holding that a city ordinance providing that, when a physician is called on by the coroner to conduct a post-mortem examination, the mayor shall be authorized to allow such physician a fee not to exceed twenty-five dollars, gives the mayor a discretion, which having been exercised by refusal of allowance is conclusive. See also Ingersoll Pub. Corp. 65, 201, 454. Compare James v. Seattle, 22 Wash. 654, 62 Pac. 84, 79 Am. St. Rep. 957.

5. Chicago v. Williams, 80 Ill. App. 33; Frank v. St. Louis, 145 Mo. 600, 47 S. W. 508.

6. Clafin v. Hopkinton, 4 Gray (Mass.) 502; Black v. Detroit, 119 Mich. 571, 78 N. W. 660; Hodges v. Buffalo, 2 Den. (N. Y.) 110. See also Smith v. Hubbell, 142 Mich. 637, 106 N. W. 547.

7. Miller v. New York, 3 Hun (N. Y.) 35, 5 Thomps. & C. 219.

8. Tucker v. Rochester, 7 Wend. (N. Y.) 254.

C. Classification⁹—1. IN GENERAL. It has been said that the details of municipal administration are so varied and numerous as to render classification impossible.¹⁰ However, such expenses have been divided into two distinct heads: (1) Ordinary or current expenses,¹¹ and (2) extraordinary expenses.¹²

2. ORDINARY. In the ordinary expenses of a municipality may be included all those incidental items of municipal expenditure which arise casually in the usual discharge of corporate functions,¹³ or are referable to some express municipal contract or undertaking,¹⁴ or to the authorized operations of some established plant or department of the corporation, and therefore based upon an implied contract for quantum meruit or quantum valebant.¹⁵ They are properly called "current expenses" and are therefore payable out of current revenues.¹⁶

3. EXTRAORDINARY. To this class may be assigned all those unusual expenditures presented for allowance or payment out of the municipal treasury, made for the corporation without authority in cases of emergency, not foreseen or contemplated, as a great conflagration or flood or a sudden epidemic;¹⁷ or arising in the course of construction of some extraordinary municipal improvement under contract, but not provided for therein;¹⁸ or those of doubtful character, assumed to be incurred on the municipal credit, either with or without the action of the council, and questionable as ultra vires or non-municipal.¹⁹ They are not properly within the term "current expenses" or "incidental expenses" and are not payable out of the fund appropriated therefor.²⁰ Payment of those even clearly within municipal purposes and powers may not safely be made without special authority from the governing body;²¹ and their validity may be challenged in the courts by any interested party.²²

D. Validity. In order to constitute a valid claim against the municipality,

The New York charter, providing that no expenses shall be incurred by any department or officers without an appropriation previously made, and that no charge shall exist against the city in excess of the amount appropriated for the several purposes, does not apply to services rendered for the city, where the charter contains a mandatory provision that the municipal assembly shall make an appropriation for the payment of such services, although in fact no appropriation is made. Dixon v. New York, 31 Misc. (N. Y.) 102, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 794.

9. Expenses for particular purposes see infra, X, E.

10. Ingersoll Pub. Corp. 454.

11. See infra, X, C, 2.

12. See infra, X, C, 3.

By statute in Georgia extraordinary expenses include expenses for education, for paving and macadamizing the streets, and for payment of the public debt. All others are ordinary current expenses. Rome v. McWilliams, 67 Ga. 106, 112.

13. McGowan v. Windham, 25 Conn. 86; 1 Blackstone Comm. 475.

14. Alexander v. Cincinnati, 2 Handy (Ohio) 183, 12 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 393.

15. White v. Decatur, 119 Ala. 476, 23 So. 999; Malone v. Pittsburgh, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 125; Denison v. Foster, (Tex. Civ. App. 1896) 37 S. W. 167 [following Sherman v. Smith, 12 Tex. Civ. App. 580, 35 S. W. 294].

16. Foland v. Frankton, 142 Ind. 546, 41 N. E. 1031; Valparaiso v. Gardner, 97 Ind. 1, 49 Am. Rep. 416; Fowler v. F. C. Austin

Mfg. Co., 5 Ind. App. 489, 32 N. E. 596; Coffin v. Davenport, 26 Iowa 515; Coy v. Lyons City, 17 Iowa 1, 85 Am. Dec. 539; Laycock v. Baton Rouge, 35 La. Ann. 475.

17. These cataclysms, epidemics, and conflagrations call appropriately for state aid and relief; but because of their urgency and local operation they form necessarily items of municipal expenditure within the corporate functions in the exercise of the police power of the municipality. See infra, XI.

18. All municipal expenditures of this kind are usually required to be made upon popular vote of authority; but in such operations often arise unforeseen emergencies demanding expenditures not provided for, but requiring prompt action to prevent great loss, and thus causing extraordinary expenses. See infra, XI, A, 8.

19. See State v. St. Louis, 174 Mo. 125, 73 S. W. 623, 61 L. R. A. 593; Tyler v. Jester, (Tex. Civ. App. 1903) 74 S. W. 359. See also infra, X, D.

20. See Foland v. Frankton, 142 Ind. 546, 41 N. E. 1031.

21. Discretion as to payment of municipal claims, however proper, does not rest with the disbursing officer but with the council or board clothed with the corporate powers and functions. See supra, V.

22. Kingman v. Brockton, 153 Mass. 255, 26 N. E. 998, 11 L. R. A. 123; Black v. Detroit, 119 Mich. 571, 78 N. W. 660. Compare State v. St. Louis, 174 Mo. 125, 73 S. W. 623, 61 L. R. A. 593, where, however, the appropriation was authorized. See also infra, X, D, text and note 26.

municipal expenses must be authorized,²³ intra vires,²⁴ and within the proper limit as to amount; ²⁵ hence claims for such expenses when unauthorized,²⁶ excessive,²⁷ or ultra vires,²⁸ whenever lawfully challenged by the municipality or a proper officer,²⁹ or a taxpayer thereof,³⁰ or by the state,³¹ will be disallowed by the courts, even though the governing body may have expressly authorized or approved them.³²

E. For Particular Purposes — 1. EDUCATION. Expenses necessarily incurred on the part of the municipality in the maintenance of its schools and the promotion of public education, although entitled to favorable consideration because of the importance of the object,³³ stand upon no higher ground than other lawful municipal expenses, and cannot be paid out of the municipal treasury, if incurred

23. See cases cited infra, note 26.

24. See cases cited infra, note 28.

25. See cases cited infra, note 27.

26. Tucker v. Grand Rapids, 104 Mich. 621, 62 N. W. 1013, holding that an unauthorized agreement by police commissioners to pay the board of one waiting to testify in a criminal case and of a convicted felon remanded to the city prison under suspended sentence so as to be used as a witness will not be enforced against the municipality under the charter authorizing such commissioners to provide for a preservation of the public peace, prevention of crime, arrest of all offenders against the city, and providing that they should not incur any indebtedness or enter into a contract not included in the estimate for the fiscal year, unless specially authorized by the council.

Expenses for printing ordinances cannot be recovered by a newspaper when such printing was not authorized by the municipal authorities or by an officer empowered to give such authority. Thornton v. Sturgis, 38 Mich. 639.

No estoppel.—The fact that a city, for twenty years after the adoption of a state constitution prohibiting municipal corporations from making donations to private corporations, continued to make annual payments to an inebriate asylum, does not estop it from resisting further payments as unconstitutional. Washingtonian Home v. Chicago, 157 Ill. 414, 41 N. E. 893, 29 L. R. A. 798.

Ratification of unauthorized contracts see supra, IX, I, 1.

27. Dixon v. New York, 31 Misc. (N. Y.) 102, 63 N. Y. Suppl. 794, holding that expenses in all other respects lawful and proper will be disallowed by the courts, if the entire sum appropriated or allowed by law to be appropriated for the department or service in which they are incurred has been expended. See also Black v. Detroit, 119 Mich. 571, 78 N. W. 660, to the effect that if there be money to the credit of such fund, not equal in amount to the claim, the excess of the claim over the fund will be adjudged invalid.

28. See cases cited infra, this note.

For other than public purposes.—Mead v. Acton, 139 Mass. 341, 1 N. E. 413; Jenkins v. Andover, 103 Mass. 94; Coates v. Campbell, 37 Minn. 498, 35 N. W. 366; Feldman v.

Charleston, 23 S. C. 57, 55 Am. Rep. 6; State v. Tappan, 29 Wis. 664, 9 Am. Rep. 622; Cole v. La Grange, 113 U. S. 1, 5 S. Ct. 416, 28 L. ed. 896; Ottawa v. Carey, 108 U. S. 110, 2 S. Ct. 361, 27 L. ed. 669; Parkersburg v. Brown, 106 U. S. 487, 1 S. Ct. 442, 27 L. ed. 238; Citizens Sav., etc., Assoc. v. Topeka, 87 U. S. 655, 22 L. ed. 455.

In exercise of functions not municipal.—Gregory v. Bridgeport, 41 Conn. 76, 19 Am. Rep. 458; New London v. Brainard, 22 Conn. 552; Westbrook v. Deering, 63 Me. 231; Baker v. Windham, 13 Me. 74; Waters v. Bonvouloir, 172 Mass. 286, 52 N. E. 500; Greenough v. Wakefield, 127 Mass. 275; Hood v. Lynn, 1 Allen (Mass.) 103; Fuller v. Groton, 11 Gray (Mass.) 340; Claffin v. Hopkinton, 4 Gray (Mass.) 502; Vincent v. Nantucket, 12 Cush. (Mass.) 103; Tash v. Adams, 10 Cush. (Mass.) 252; Babbitt v. Savoy, 3 Cush. (Mass.) 530; Bancroft v. Lynnfield, 18 Pick. (Mass.) 566, 29 Am. Dec. 623; Nelson v. Milford, 7 Pick. (Mass.) 18; Stetson v. Kempton, 13 Mass. 272, 7 Am. Dec. 145; Black v. Detroit, 119 Mich. 571, 78 N. W. 660; Merrill v. Plainfield, 45 N. H. 126; Gove v. Epping, 41 N. H. 539; Halstead v. New York, 3 N. Y. 430; Morris v. People, 3 Den. (N. Y.) 381; Hodges v. Buffalo, 2 Den. (N. Y.) 110; Martin v. Brooklyn, 1 Hill (N. Y.) 545; Lunkenheimer v. Hewitt, 10 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 798, 23 Cinc. L. Bul. 433; Com. v. Gingrich, 10 Pa. Dist. 747, 25 Pa. Co. Ct. 579, 8 Del. Co. 331, 17 Montg. Co. Rep. 205; Com. v. Erie City, 15 York Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 117; Sherman v. Carr, 8 R. I. 431; Fiske v. Hazard, 7 R. I. 438; Briggs v. Whipple, 6 Vt. 95; James v. Seattle, 22 Wash. 654, 62 Pac. 84, 79 Am. St. Rep. 957.

Ultra vires contracts see supra, III, H; IX.

29. Black v. Detroit, 119 Mich. 571, 78 N. W. 660.

30. Austin v. Coggeshall, 12 R. I. 329, 34 Am. Rep. 648.

31. State v. St. Louis, 174 Mo. 125, 73 S. W. 623, 61 L. R. A. 593.

32. Austin v. Coggeshall, 12 R. I. 329, 34 Am. Rep. 648; James v. Seattle, 22 Wash. 654, 62 Pac. 84, 79 Am. St. Rep. 957.

33. See U. S. Rev. St. (1878) §§ 516-519 [U. S. Comp. St. (1901) 279-280]. Compare Port Arthur High School Bd. v. Ft. William, 25 Ont. App. 522, construing 60 Vict. c. 14, § 73.

or even warranted contrary to the constitution,³⁴ or incurred by a distinct corporation.³⁵

2. SANITATION. Expenses which are necessarily incurred pursuant to statute in the preservation of the municipal health, whether in the treatment of patients in the municipal hospital,³⁶ or a statistical registration of the municipality by the board of health,³⁷ constitute valid claims against the municipality. Expenses of this character, ordinary and extraordinary, are often incurred in the exercise of the police power³⁸ and are chargeable to the corporation as matters of prime municipal necessity.³⁹

3. ELECTIONS. All election expenses accruing within municipal boundaries, including registration expenses,⁴⁰ are, under statutes or equitable rulings of the courts, generally to be borne by the state, county, town, or municipality, according to the nature of the election;⁴¹ and where the expenses are incurred for or are necessary to them all or to more than one, then they are equitably apportioned among them.⁴² But it seems that in some states under special statutes or customs certain municipal election expenses are borne by town or county,⁴³ and the expenses of certain non-municipal elections within the corporate boundaries are paid by the municipality.⁴⁴

4. LITIGATION — a. Attorneys' Fees. Amongst the items of costs of litigation chargeable against a municipality are fees of special attorneys, who without express contract have rendered valuable services to the corporation in actions brought by or against it.⁴⁵ But it seems that the corporation is not liable for a

34. Labatt v. New Orleans, 38 La. Ann. 283.

35. Miller v. New York, 3 Hun (N. Y.) 35, 5 Thomps. & C. 219. But compare Atchison Bd. of Education v. De Kay, 148 U. S. 591, 13 S. Ct. 706, 37 L. ed. 573, where the municipality and the school-district being coterminous, expenses incurred by the school-board for education were deemed valid municipal obligations.

36. Alexander v. Cincinnati, 2 Handy (Ohio) 183, 12 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 393.

37. People v. New Lots, 34 Hun (N. Y.) 336.

38. See infra, XI, A, 8.

39. People v. New Lots, 34 Hun (N. Y.) 336; Alexander v. Cincinnati, 2 Handy (Ohio) 183, 12 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 393.

Expenses of municipal health boards see HEALTH, 21 Cyc. 391.

40. State v. Newark, 53 N. J. L. 534, 22 Atl. 55.

41. Bingham v. Camden, 29 N. J. Eq. 464.

Ill. Rev. St. (1885) c. 46, created election commissioners and gave them power to incur debts for necessary expenses in behalf of the city adopting the same. It was held that the commissioners were corporate authorities, that the expenses were for corporate purposes and were imposed with the consent of the people of whatever city adopted the act, and that the act itself was constitutional. Wetherell v. Devine, 116 Ill. 631, 6 N. E. 24, construing Const. art. 9, §§ 9, 10, prohibiting the legislature from granting the right to assess and collect taxes to any other than the corporate authorities of the municipalities to be taxed, and requiring the taxation to be for corporate purposes and not to be imposed without the consent of the taxpayers to be affected.

[X, E, 1]

The city of New Haven is not bound to pay the rent of a place hired by the police commissioners in said city, to be used only as a voting place at a meeting of the electors to pass upon the adoption of a constitutional amendment, and for a state and national election. Perkins v. New Haven, 53 Conn. 214, 1 Atl. 825.

In Pennsylvania, under the provisions of the constitution and statutes, the expenses of city and ward elections held annually in February in the city of Meadville are payable by the city, and not by Crawford county. Crawford County v. Meadville, 101 Pa. St. 573.

42. State v. Newark, 53 N. J. L. 534, 22 Atl. 55.

Villages organized under Wis. Rev. St. c. 40, are not liable to the towns in which they are situated for a proportionate share of assessment, election, and town-meeting expenses incurred by the town; towns, through their officers, are bound to render services for such villages in these matters without compensation. Plainfield v. Plainfield, 67 Wis. 526, 30 N. W. 672.

43. Johnstown v. Cambria County, 21 Pa. Co. Ct. 199.

Respective liability of borough and municipality for election expenses see Gaskins v. Montour County, 8 Luz. Leg. Reg. (Pa.) 270; Wilkesbarre v. Luzerne County, 5 Luz. Leg. Reg. (Pa.) 75.

44. Brown v. New York, 6 Daly (N. Y.) 497; Com. v. Weir, 15 Pa. Co. Ct. 425.

45. Buck v. Eureka, 124 Cal. 61, 56 Pac. 612; Harvey v. Wilson, 78 Ill. App. 544; Squire v. Preston, 82 Hun (N. Y.) 38, 31 N. Y. Suppl. 174. See supra, IX, A, 6, o.

Services of a village attorney who was unsuccessful in prosecuting a mandamus issued reasonable fee to the attorney of a relator in a mandamus proceeding to compel the collection of municipal taxes by the corporation.⁴⁶

b. Officers' Fees and Expenses. A municipal corporation is liable under the law for fees of officers just as other parties to actions, and not otherwise;⁴⁷ and no promise to pay the costs of the unsuccessful party in the action will be implied in favor of an officer against a municipality,⁴⁸ nor judgment over be given against it unless so provided by statute;⁴⁹ nor is the municipality liable for the rentals of an office for a police justice.⁵⁰

c. Other Law Expenses.⁵¹ A city succeeding to the functions of a county and embracing all its territory becomes liable for legal expenses.⁵² And the general rules of law regarding costs and expenses of litigation prevail in cases affecting the municipality.⁵³

5. PRISON EXPENSES. The municipality is liable for jail fees and other prison expenses of prisoners committed for violation of municipal ordinances,⁵⁴ but not for offenses against the state.⁵⁵

F. Special Statutory Expenses. Under the head of municipal expenses may be included those items of liability not recognized by the corporation but imposed upon it by the state in the exercise of its sovereign power, either by general or special statutes.⁵⁶ But such acts of legislation are ineffectual, when, ignoring constitutional provisions, the legislature seeks to enforce payment by the

at the instance of a city council against the president and clerk of the village who refused to give orders for the amounts allowed by councilmen who were disqualified by pecuniary interest to allow the claims do not constitute a proper charge against the city. Smith v. Hubbell, 142 Mich. 637, 106 N. W. 547.

46. Milster v. Spartanburg, 68 S. C. 243, 47 S. E. 141.

47. Carlisle v. Tulare County, (Cal. 1897) 49 Pac. 3.

48. Cobb v. Lincoln, 15 Nebr. 86, 17 N. W. 365. Compare Gibson v. Zanesville, 31 Ohio St. 184, holding that the fact that a sentence for violating an ordinance has, in default of payment of the fine and costs, been worked out by the convict in the city work-house, does not constitute an appropriation by the city of the costs taxed in favor of the mayor, from which the law will imply a promise by the city to pay the amount of the costs to the mayor.

49. Carlisle v. Tulare County, (Cal. 1897) 49 Pac. 3.

50. People v. Nyack, 18 N. Y. App. Div. 318, 46 N. Y. Suppl. 218.

51. Payment of jurors by city see JURIES.

Reimbursement of officer for expenses incurred in actions against them see supra, VIII, A, 13, a, (I), (L), (4).

52. Philadelphia v. Com., 52 Pa. St. 451.

53. See COSTS, 11 Cyc. 1 et seq.

Costs of an arbitration authorized by law, in which the municipality is a party, is an item of legal expense to the corporation, even though the statute contains no provision for compensation. Malone v. Pittsburgh, 14 Pa. Co. Ct. 125.

Stenographer's fees.—Fees for services rendered by a stenographer on trial of a case, whether against the municipality or its officers, are valid municipal charges, when rendered at the request of the corporation attorney in the proper exercise of his official discretion. Chicago v. Williams, 80 Ill. App. 33.

A privilege tax on each case before a city court cannot be charged against a municipality, where defendant is committed to work out a fine and costs. Eastman v. Nashville, 13 Lea (Tenn.) 717.

The municipality having no power to assume the defense of suits cannot be held liable upon drafts for the payment of judgments and costs therein. Halstead v. New York, 3 N. Y. 430 [affirming 5 Barb. 218].

Where defendant is committed to work out a fine and costs the municipality is not liable for the payment of such fine and costs. Gibson v. Zanesville, 31 Ohio St. 184; Eastman v. Nashville, 13 Lea (Tenn.) 717.

54. Sonoma County v. Santa Rosa, 102 Cal. 426, 36 Pac. 810; Tipppecanoe County v. Chissom, 7 Ind. 688; Strafford County v. Dover, 61 N. H. 617; Strafford County v. Somersworth, 38 N. H. 21; Merrimack County v. Concord, 30 N. H. 299; Waukesha County v. Waukesha, 78 Wis. 434, 47 N. W. 831. But see People v. Columbia County, 67 N. Y. 330, holding the county, not the city, liable for such fees.

55. Adams v. Wiscasset, 5 Mass. 328. Compare Labour v. Polk County, 70 Iowa 568, 31 N. W. 873, where the commitment is ordered under statute by a police justice.

56. Oram v. New Brunswick, 64 N. J. L. 19, 44 Atl. 883. See also Bowen v. Minneapolis, 47 Minn. 115, 49 N. W. 683, 28 Am. St. Rep. 333; Wood v. New York, 7 Hun (N. Y.) 164. See supra, IV, H, 2.

Expense of keeping bastard as a public charge see BASTARDS, 5 Cyc. 638; PAUPERS.

Maintenance of pupils.—In Ontario under 60 Vict. c. 14, § 73, enacting that "the municipal council . . . shall pay for the maintenance of pupils," it was held that the municipal corporation and not the individual municipality of private claims;⁵⁷ and in some states they are void as usurpations of the municipal right of home rule.⁵⁸ Nor will they be so construed as to deprive the municipality of the police power,⁵⁹ or to legalize illegal demands.⁶⁰ And an existing statute, requiring payment of a certain class of claims by a city, has been held to be converted by subsequent constitutional provision from a mandatory into a purely permissive statute.⁶¹

XI. POLICE POWER AND REGULATION.⁶²

A. Delegation, Extent, and Exercise of Power — 1. NATURE AND SCOPE OF POWER. The police power⁶³ of the state,⁶⁴ being an expression of the instinct of self-preservation and protection characteristic of every living creature, is an inherent faculty and function of life, attributed to all self-governing bodies as indispensable to their healthy existence and to the public welfare.⁶⁵ It embraces all rules and regulations for the protection of the lives, limbs, health, comfort, and quiet members of the council are liable. Port Arthur High School Bd. v. Ft. William, 25 Ont. App. 522.

Rent of court-house.— In Aull v. Field, 119 Mo. 593, 24 S. W. 752, it was held that the act of April 7, 1892, providing that the expense of renting a building for a court-house in Higginsville should be paid by the city of Higginsville, was not in contravention of Const. art. 10, § 11. But compare People v. Nyack, 18 N. Y. App. Div. 318, 46 N. Y. Suppl. 218.

Support of inebriates' home see White v. Kings County Inebriates' Home, 141 N. Y. 123, 35 N. E. 1092 [affirming 74 Hun 39, 26 N. Y. Suppl. 294], holding that Laws (1877), providing for the payment out of the excise money of Brooklyn for the support of the Inebriates' Home, did not violate either Const. art. 8, § 11, or Laws (1888), c. 583, tit. 22, § 35.

57. Chicago v. Chicago League Ball Club, 196 Ill. 54, 63 N. E. 695, 89 Am. St. Rep. 243; Jackson Square v. New Orleans, 112 La. 957, 36 So. 817. Compare Bush v. Orange County, 13 Misc. (N. Y.) 707, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 167 [affirmed in 10 N. Y. App. Div. 542, 42 N. Y. Suppl. 417], holding that Laws (1892), c. 664, providing for the refunding of money paid by drafted men in order to avoid military service, etc., violates Const. art. 8, § 11.

58. Chapman v. New York, 168 N. Y. 80, 61 N. E. 108, 85 Am. St. Rep. 661, 56 L. R. A. 846. See supra, IV, II, 2.

59. Police power of municipal corporations see infra, XI.

60. Chicago v. Chicago League Ball Club, 196 Ill. 54, 63 N. E. 695, 89 Am. St. Rep. 243; Ouachita v. Monroe, 42 La. Ann. 782, 7 So. 717. See also People v. Green, 63 Barb. (N. Y.) 390, where it was held that Acts (1872), c. 375, § 2, requiring the controller of New York city to allow and pay the bills of the several newspaper proprietors in said city, for all city advertisements actually done prior to Jan. 1, 1872, did not in effect legalize all previous illegal demands and require the payment of the bills of mere volunteers the same as those of persons publishing under legal authority.

[X, F]

61. People v. Kings County, 12 Misc. (N. Y.) 187, 33 N. Y. Suppl. 602.

62. Police power: In general, see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 863 et seq. As to license, see LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 593; and infra, XI, A, 8, c. Compared with deprivation of property see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 864 note 64. Distinguished from eminent domain see ACTIONS, 1 Cyc. 655; EMINENT DOMAIN, 15 Cyc. 557; LEVEES, 25 Cyc. 191.

Regulation of: Market, market places, and the like see infra, XI, A, 7; XII, C, 3. Particular occupations or business see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII). Particular things see infra, XI, A, 7. Public property in general see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VIII). Streets and other ways see infra, XII, A. Water frontage, landings, docks, and wharves see infra, XII, C, 2.

Special or class legislation see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 1036 et seq.

63. Police power defined and explained generally see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 863 et seq.

64. The state necessarily enjoys the fullest measure of the police power. Taylor v. Nashville, etc., R. Co., 6 Coldw. (Tenn.) 646, 98 Am. Dec. 474; Ingersoll Pub. Corp. 345. See CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 863 et seq.

65. Ingersoll Pub. Corp. 343, 344; 4 Blackstone Com. 162. See also In re Jacobs, 98 N. Y. 98, 50 Am. Rep. 636.

This "law of overruling necessity" is not of constitutional origin or grant, but is rather institutional and vital (Harmon v. Chicago, 110 Ill. 400, 51 Am. Rep. 698; Carthage v. Frederick, 122 N. Y. 268, 25 N. E. 480, 19 Am. St. Rep. 490, 10 L. R. A. 178; Taylor v. Nashville, etc., R. Co., 6 Coldw. (Tenn.) 646, 98 Am. Dec. 474, where it was said that without the exercise of this police power, a nation cannot exist); and as remarked by Judge Shaw, "it is much easier to perceive and realize the existence and sources of this power, than to mark its boundaries, or prescribe limits to its exercise" (Com. v. Alger, 7 Cush. (Mass.) 53, 85). See also Thorpe v. Rutland, etc., R. Co., 27 Vt. 140, 62 Am. Dec. 625; Butchers Benev. Assoc. v. Crescent City Livestock Landing, etc., Co., 16 Wall. (U. S.) 36, 21 L. ed. 394; Cooley Const. Lim. (6th ed.) 704.

of persons, and the preservation and security of property.⁶⁶ The municipality, as a governmental agency, must of course have such measure of the power as is necessary to enable it to perform its governmental functions;⁶⁷ and also those municipal functions which are "necessarily and inseparably incident" to its existence as a corporation.⁶⁸ The power is usually conferred on municipalities in express terms of constitution or statute;⁶⁹ and unless otherwise expressed it is always construed as limited to corporate boundaries,⁷⁰ and consistent with general statutes and the constitution, both federal and state.⁷¹ The municipality is thus restrained from entering the field of general legislation,⁷² or making declaration of public policy,⁷³ and limited in the exercise of the power to matters local and municipal.⁷⁴

2. DELEGATION OF POWER OF STATE.⁷⁵ After repeated challenge of municipal authority to exercise the police power, on the ground that it is a sovereign power and therefore non-delegable, the doctrine is firmly established and now well recognized that the legislature may expressly or by implication delegate to municipal corporations the lawful exercise of police power within their boundaries;⁷⁶ the measure of power thus conferred is subject to the legislative dis-

66. Alabama.—Greensboro v. Ehrenreich, 80 Ala. 579, 2 So. 725, 60 Am. Rep. 130.
Colorado.—Ouray v. Corson, 14 Colo. App. 345, 59 Pac. 876.

Illinois.—Chicago Union Traction Co. v. Chicago, 199 Ill. 484, 65 N. E. 451, 59 L. R. A. 631. See also Harmon v. Chicago, 110 Ill. 400, 51 Am. Rep. 698.

Louisiana.—O'Rourke v. New Orleans, 106 La. 313, 30 So. 837.

New York.—Carthage v. Frederick, 122 N. Y. 268, 277, 25 N. E. 480, 19 Am. St. Rep. 490, 10 L. R. A. 178.

Tennessee.—Knoxville v. Knoxville Water Co., 107 Tenn. 647, 64 S. W. 1075, 61 L. R. A. 888.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1208.

The police power extends to all regulations which affect the life, health, comfort, good order, morals, peace, and safety of the community. Crawfordsville v. Braden, 130 Ind. 149, 28 N. E. 849, 30 Am. St. Rep. 214, 14 L. R. A. 268; Summerville v. Pressley, 33 S. C. 56, 11 S. E. 545, 26 Am. St. Rep. 659, 8 L. R. A. 854.

The true purpose of the police power is the preservation of the health, morals, and safety of the community. An ordinance based upon the police power of a municipality must appear to have been enacted in order to preserve the health, morals, or safety of the community. Chicago v. Gunning System, 114 Ill. App. 377 [affirmed in 214 Ill. 628, 73 N. E. 1035, 70 L. R. A. 230].

67. Gundling v. Chicago, 176 Ill. 340, 52 N. E. 44, 48 L. R. A. 230; Vionet v. First Municipality, 4 La. Ann. 42; Judy v. Lashley, 50 W. Va. 628, 41 S. E. 197, 57 L. R. A. 413.

68. 1 Blackstone Comm. 475.

69. Detson v. Kempton, 13 Mass. 272, 7 Am. Dec. 145; Carey v. Washington, 5 Fed. Cas. No. 2,404, 5 Cranch C. C. 13.

Delegation of power see infra, XI, A, 2.

70. Territorial jurisdiction see infra, XI, A, 5.

71. Alabama.—Ex p. Byrd, 84 Ala. 17, 4 So. 397, 5 Am. St. Rep. 323.

California.—Sacramento v. Crocker, 16 Cal. 119.

Georgia.—Lanier v. Macon, 59 Ga. 187; Savannah v. Hines, 53 Ga. 616.

Louisiana.—State v. Von Sachs, 45 La. Ann. 1416, 14 So. 249.

Missouri.—American Union Express Co. v. St. Joseph, 66 Mo. 675, 27 Am. Rep. 382; St. Louis v. Anchor L. Ins. Co., 47 Mo. 176; St. Louis v. Associated Firemen's Ins. Co., 47 Mo. 163; St. Louis v. Independent Ins. Co., 47 Mo. 146.

Pennsylvania.—Johnson v. Philadelphia, 60 Pa. St. 445.

Texas.—Hirshfield v. Dallas, 29 Tex. App. 242, 15 S. W. 124.

See also infra, XI, A, 4, c; and supra, VI, G.

72. See Collins v. Hall, 92 Ga. 411, 17 S. E. 622; Adams v. Albany, 29 Ga. 56; Owensboro v. Sparks, 99 Ky. 351, 36 S. W. 4, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 269; State v. Horne, 115 N. C. 739, 20 S. E. 443.

73. See Hoffman v. Jersey City, 34 N. J. L. 172; New York v. Nichols, 4 Hill (N. Y.) 209; Collins v. Hatch, 18 Ohio 523, 51 Am. Dec. 465; Marietta v. Fearing, 4 Ohio 427.

74. See New Orleans v. Collins, 52 La. Ann. 973, 27 So. 532; Greenville v. Kemmis, 58 S. C. 427, 36 S. E. 727, 50 L. R. A. 725.

Confined to purely municipal functions.—Horn v. People, 26 Mich. 221; Breggaglia v. Vinemond, 53 N. J. L. 168, 20 Atl. 1082.

75. Delegation of power to license see LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 600 et seq.

Special and local laws see STATUTES.

76. Alabama.—Nashville, etc., R. Co. v. Attalla, 118 Ala. 362, 24 So. 450; Goldthwaite v. Montgomery, 50 Ala. 486.

California.—Denninger v. Pomona Record-ers Ct., 145 Cal. 629, 79 Pac. 360. See also Ex p. Newton, 53 Cal. 571; Ex p. Shrader, 33 Cal. 279.

Colorado.—Keilkopf v. Denver, 19 Colo. 325, 35 Pac. 535.

cretion.⁷⁷ It may be full or partial,⁷⁸ regular or summary;⁷⁹ but it is never exclusive,⁸⁰ as the legislature has no authority to divest itself of any of its sovereign functions or powers.⁸¹ In the absence, however, of an express delegation or of a necessary conferment resulting from some inherent or given express power, the municipality cannot lawfully act.⁸²

3. DELEGATION OR SURRENDER OF POWER BY MUNICIPALITY — a. In General.

Potestas delegata non est delegari is a general maxim applicable with peculiar force to any form of sovereign power,⁸³ and operates to prevent the governing

Connecticut.—State v. Carpenter, 60 Conn. 97, 22 Atl. 497.

Georgia.—Cranston v. Augusta, 61 Ga. 572; Perdue v. Ellis, 18 Ga. 586. See also Morris v. Columbus, 102 Ga. 792, 30 S. E. 850, 66 Am. St. Rep. 243, 42 L. R. A. 175.

Illinois.—Roberts v. Ogle, 30 Ill. 459, 83 Am. Dec. 201.

Indiana.—Beiling v. Evansville, 144 Ind. 644, 42 N. E. 621, 35 L. R. A. 272; Baumgartner v. Hasty, 100 Ind. 575, 50 Am. Rep. 830.

Iowa.—Des Moines Gas Co. v. Des Moines, 44 Iowa 505, 24 Am. Rep. 756.

Kentucky.—Com. v. Milton, 12 B. Mon. 212, 54 Am. Dec. 522; McKee v. McKee, 8 B. Mon. 433.

Louisiana.—Lamaque v. New Orleans, McGloin 28.

Massachusetts.—New England Tel., etc., Co. v. Boston Terminal Co., 182 Mass. 397, 65 N. E. 835; Bancroft v. Cambridge, 126 Mass. 438.

Michigan.—People v. Hanrahan, 75 Mich. 611, 42 N. W. 1124, 4 L. R. A. 751.

Minnesota.—St. Paul v. Colter, 12 Minn. 41, 90 Am. Dec. 278.

Missouri.—Sanders v. Southern Electric R. Co., 147 Mo. 411, 48 S. W. 855; State v. Cowan, 29 Mo. 330; Metcalf v. St. Louis, 11 Mo. 102.

Nebraska.—Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. State, 47 Nebr. 549, 66 N. W. 624, 53 Am. St. Rep. 557, 41 L. R. A. 481.

New Hampshire.—State v. Noyes, 30 N. H. 279.

New York.—People v. Pierce, 85 N. Y. App. Div. 125, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 79.

North Carolina.—Louisburg v. Harris, 52 N. C. 281.

Ohio.—Burckholter v. McConnellsville, 20 Ohio St. 308.

South Carolina.—Summerville v. Pressley, 33 S. C. 56, 11 S. E. 545, 26 Am. St. Rep. 659, 8 L. R. A. 854.

Tennessee.—Nashville v. Linck, 12 Lea 499.

Virginia.—Danville v. Hatcher, 101 Va. 523, 44 S. E. 723.

United States.—See Butchers' Union Slaughter-House, etc., Co. v. Crescent City Live-Stock Landing, etc., Co., 111 U. S. 746, 4 S. Ct. 652, 28 L. ed. 585 [reversing 9 Fed. 743, 4 Woods 96].

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1309. See also CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 866; LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 600.

Territorial jurisdiction see infra, XI, A, 5. 77. Harmon v. Chicago, 110 Ill. 400, 51 Am. Rep. 698.

It is for legislative discretion to determine within the limitations of the constitution to what extent city or town councils shall be invested with power of local legislation. Burckholter v. McConnellsville, 20 Ohio St. 308.

78. Danville v. Hatcher, 101 Va. 523, 44 S. E. 723.

When any part of the police power, which resides primarily in the state, is conferred on a municipality, no more is presumed to have been granted than is expressly stated in the words of the grant. The rule of construction in regard to such grants is to be neither too strict nor too liberal, but fair and reasonable, to effectuate the intention of the legislature. Taylor v. District of Columbia, 24 App. Cas. (D. C.) 392.

79. The regular method is by the enactment of ordinances, and their enforcement by due process of law. See infra, XI, A, 8; XI, B, 4.

The summary method is that permitted to be used only in cases of emergency, when it becomes necessary to destroy individual property or even take individual life, as the only apparent means of protecting the public and preventing still greater calamities. See infra, XI, A, 8, h, k.

80. Spring Valley v. Spring Valley Coal Co., 71 Ill. App. 432.

81. Harmon v. Chicago, 110 Ill. 400, 51 Am. Rep. 698. See also CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 865, 866.

The state may resume the authority or power delegated to the municipality. Cranston v. Augusta, 61 Ga. 572; Harmon v. Chicago, 110 Ill. 400, 51 Am. Rep. 698; New England Tel., etc., Co. v. Boston Terminal Co., 182 Mass. 397, 65 N. E. 835.

82. St. Paul v. Laidler, 2 Minn. 190, 72 Am. Dec. 89; State v. Godfrey, 54 W. Va. 54, 46 S. E. 185; Carey v. Washington, 5 Fed. Cas. No. 2,404, 5 Cranch C. C. 13.

Although it is reasonable, just, and proper in itself, and even necessary for the preservation of peace and good order, when the municipal authorities have no power to make a municipal regulation, it is void. Taylor v. District of Columbia, 24 App. Cas. (D. C.) 392.

The governing body of a city does not represent the city, in attempting to legislate on matters beyond its jurisdiction, and does not act as its agent, or by color of its authority. Wabaska Electric Co. v. Wymore, 60 Nebr. 199, 82 N. W. 626.

83. Alabama.—Dillard v. Webb, 55 Ala. 468.

body of a municipal corporation, intrusted by the state with the police power, from delegating its high functions to any other body or officer—even to the mayor or other member of the body;⁸⁴ the trust is official and personal and may be discharged only by those to whom the state commits it.⁸⁵ But this doctrine is not so construed and applied as to require the entire council to engage personally in every step necessary for the exercise of the function;⁸⁶ they may fully discharge their official duty and exhaust the municipal discretion by enacting by-laws or ordinances to be executed by the proper board or officer.⁸⁷ And it seems that under express statutory authority they may delegate a portion of Illinois.—Carbondale v. Wade, 106 Ill. App. 654; Cairo v. Coleman, 53 Ill. App. 680.

Louisiana.—Capdevielle v. New Orleans, etc., R. Co., 110 La. 904, 34 So. 868.

Maryland.—See State v. Graves, 19 Md. 351, 81 Am. Dec. 639.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Russell, 116 Mo. 248, 22 S. W. 470, 20 L. R. A. 721; Matthews v. Alexandria, 68 Mo. 115, 30 Am. Rep. 776.

New Jersey.—Young, etc., Amusement Co. v. Atlantic City, 60 N. J. L. 125, 37 Atl. 444; Slocum v. Ocean Grove Camp Meeting Assoc., 59 N. J. L. 110, 35 Atl. 794. See also Lambertville v. Applegate, 73 N. J. L. 110, 62 Atl. 270.

New York.—Thompson v. Schermerhorn, 6 N. Y. 92, 55 Am. Dec. 385.

Pennsylvania.—Kittanning Electric Light, etc., Co. v. Kittanning Borough, 11 Pa. Super. Ct. 31; McKeesport v. McKeesport, etc., Pass. R. Co., 2 Pa. Super. Ct. 242.

Texas.—Lufkin v. Galveston, 56 Tex. 522. United States.—Clark v. Washington, 12 Wheat. 40, 6 L. ed. 544.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1310.

84. Florida.—Jacksonville v. Ledwith, 26 Fla. 163, 7 So. 885, 23 Am. St. Rep. 558, 9 L. R. A. 69.

Illinois.—Chicago v. Stratton, 162 Ill. 494, 44 N. E. 853, 53 Am. St. Rep. 325, 35 L. R. A. 84 [affirming 58 Ill. App. 539]; Kimmundy v. Mahan, 72 Ill. 462. See also East St. Louis v. Wehrung, 50 Ill. 28; McGregor v. Lovington, 48 Ill. App. 211.

Indiana.—Bills v. Goshen, 117 Ind. 221, 20 N. E. 115, 3 L. R. A. 261.

Kentucky.—Franke v. Paducah Water Supply Co., 88 Ky. 467, 11 S. W. 432, 718, 4 L. R. A. 265.

Massachusetts.—Day v. Green, 4 Cush. 433.

Minnesota.—In re Wilson, 32 Minn. 145, 19 N. W. 723.

Missouri.—Trenton v. Clayton, 50 Mo. App. 535.

New Jersey.—Lambertville v. Applegate, 73 N. J. L. 110, 62 Atl. 270.

Ohio.—State v. Jacob, 8 Ohio Dec. (Report) 23, 5 Cinc. L. Bul. 73.

Rhode Island.—State v. Fiske, 9 R. I. 94.

Texas.—Lufkin v. Galveston, 56 Tex. 522. But compare Batsel v. Blaine, (App. 1891) 15 S. W. 283.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1310. See also infra, XI, A, 8, a, b.

85. Hengst v. Cincinnati, 9 Ohio S. & C.

Pl. Dec. 730, 7 Ohio N. P. 1; In re Quong Woo, 13 Fed. 229, 7 Sawy. 526.

86. See New Orleans Gas-Light Co. v. Hart, 40 La. Ann. 474, 4 So. 215, 8 Am. St. Rep. 544; In re White, 43 Minn. 250, 45 N. W. 232.

87. St. Louis v. Weitzel, 130 Mo. 600, 31 S. W. 1045; Batsel v. Blaine, (Tex. App. 1891) 15 S. W. 283. See Bliss v. Kraus, 16 Ohio St. 54, holding that under a resolution of a city council directing certain lot owners "to fill and drain their lots in such manner as shall be necessary to remove all stagnant water," a reasonable construction of the resolution required, not merely the removal of water then on the lots, but the work to be so done as to prevent the recurrence of stagnant water from the same causes; and where the work to be done is clearly defined in general terms, the fact of leaving to the owner, who bears the expense, the choice of means, will not invalidate the resolution. In Patterson v. Taylor, 51 Fla. 275, 40 So. 493, it was held that an ordinance of a city, designed to separate the two races in the street cars in the city, requiring the companies operating the cars to effect such separation by providing separate cars, or by division of the car, when the same is assigned to the two races, is not an unauthorized delegation of authority to the carrier.

Judicial question.—Where the fixing of the amount of a penalty presents a judicial question arising from the circumstances of each case which calls for its imposition, the exercise of such right by a magistrate within the limits prescribed by the legislative body of a municipality cannot be deemed a delegation by such body of its authority but only a mode for its more efficient exercise. Haynes v. Cape May, 52 N. J. L. 180, 19 Atl. 176. See also Atlantic City v. Crandol, 67 N. J. L. 488, 51 Atl. 447.

Legislative question.—When the question is purely a legislative one, the power with respect thereto cannot be delegated by the city, but must be exercised by the common council alone. Young, etc., Amusement Co. v. Atlantic City, 60 N. J. L. 125, 37 Atl. 444; Slocum v. Ocean Grove Camp Meeting Assoc., 59 N. J. L. 110, 35 Atl. 794. When the authority to impose a penalty, conferred upon the legislative body of a municipality, involves a purely legislative discretion, such body itself must exercise such discretion by fixing the precise sum of such penalty. Lambertville v. Applegate, 73 N. J. L. 110, 62 Atl. 270.

their discretion to the mayor or other officer,⁸⁸ or in some cases even without this express permission sustain such delegation.⁸⁹

b. By Contract or License. As the state may not, by any law or contract, surrender or restrict any portion of the sovereignty which it holds in sacred trust for the public weal,⁹⁰ so a municipality, as a governmental agency,⁹¹ acting and bound always to act as trustee of the powers delegated to it, may not, by contract, license, or by-law, surrender or restrict any portion of the police power conferred upon it.⁹²

c. Delegation of Power to License. Where the power is conferred on a municipal corporation to license any calling or business, it cannot delegate such power to any person or authority.⁹³ Nor can the municipal council, where the power to license is given by statute directly to it, delegate such power to any city official.⁹⁴ But the common council, where the city charter so authorizes, may delegate the power to license to the mayor.⁹⁵

4. DOUBLE EXERCISE OF POLICE POWER BY STATE AND MUNICIPALITY — a. In General. The legislature may confer police power upon a municipality over subjects within the provisions of existing state laws.⁹⁶

88. Gundling v. Chicago, 176 Ill. 340, 52 N. E. 44, 48 L. R. A. 230; Bradley v. Rochester, 54 Hun (N. Y.) 140, 7 N. Y. Suppl. 237; Ex p. Ryan, 8 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 299, 7 Cinc. L. Bul. 50.

City councils may delegate to the mayor or like officer authority to carry out the police regulations of the city. Wilkes-Barre v. Garabed, 11 Pa. Super. Ct. 355.

89. People v. Rochester, 45 Hun (N. Y.) 102; Batsel v. Blaine, (Tex. App. 1891) 15 S. W. 233.

90. Coates v. New York, 7 Cow. (N. Y.) 585; Brick Presby. Church v. New York, 5 Cow. (N. Y.) 538; East Hartford v. Hartford Bridge Co., 10 How. (U. S.) 511, 541, 13 L. ed. 518, 531. See supra, XI, A, 2.

91. See Schultes v. Eberly, 82 Ala. 242, 245, 2 So. 345.

As a governmental agency see supra, I, A, 4, m; I, C, 1, b; III, C, 2, b; infra, XIV, A, 2.

92. Florida.—Jacksonville v. Ledwith, 26 Fla. 163, 7 So. 885, 23 Am. St. Rep. 558, 9 L. R. A. 69, where it is said that firmly set is the rule that the police power cannot be parted with or impaired by contract or barter.

Illinois.—Carbondale v. Wade, 106 Ill. App. 654; Marshall v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 80 Ill. App. 531.

Indiana.—Shea v. Muncie, 148 Ind. 14, 46 N. E. 138.

Minnesota.—State v. Northern Pac. R. Co., 98 Minn. 429, 108 N. W. 269; State v. St. Paul, etc., R. Co., 98 Minn. 380, 108 N. W. 261.

Missouri.—State v. Laeledge Gaslight Co., 102 Mo. 472, 14 S. W. 974, 15 S. W. 383, 22 Am. St. Rep. 789; Kansas City v. Corrigan, 18 Mo. App. 206.

Pennsylvania.—McKeesport v. McKeesport, etc., Pass. R. Co., 2 Pa. Super. Ct. 242; Norristown v. Keystone Tel., etc., Co., 15 Montg. Co. Rep. 9.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1375.

Campare New York Fire Dept. v. Atlas Steamship Co., 106 N. Y. 566, 13 N. E. 329, holding that the fire department of New York city in the enforcement of the provisions of the building laws applicable to the city is not estopped by the fact that the dock department of New York city made an illegal lease to defendant of the property sought to be subjected to the lawful regulations.

93. Walsh v. Denver, 11 Colo. App. 523, 53 Pac. 458; East St. Louis v. Wehrung, 50 Ill. 23; Trenton v. Clayton, 50 Mo. App. 535; State v. Jacob, 8 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 23, 5 Cinc. L. Bul. 73. See also LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 593.

A mere ministerial act, however, like issuing the license certificate may be delegated to a city official. Gundling v. Chicago, 176 Ill. 340, 52 N. E. 44, 48 L. R. A. 230; Swarth v. People, 109 Ill. 621; Baker v. Lexington, 53 S. W. 16, 21 Ky. L. Rep. 809; State v. Wagener, 77 Minn. 483, 80 N. W. 633, 778, 1134, 77 Am. St. Rep. 681, 46 L. R. A. 442; State v. Fleischer, 41 Minn. 69, 42 N. W. 696; State v. Thompson, 160 Mo. 333, 60 S. W. 1077, 83 Am. St. Rep. 468, 54 L. R. A. 950; St. Louis v. Meyrose Lamp Mfg. Co., 139 Mo. 560, 41 S. W. 244, 61 Am. St. Rep. 474; St. Louis v. Weitzel, 130 Mo. 600, 31 S. W. 1045; Ould v. Richmond, 23 Gratt. (Va.) 464, 14 Am. Rep. 139.

94. State v. Glavin, 67 Conn. 29, 34 Atl. 708; Kinmundy v. Mahan, 72 Ill. 462; Driscoll v. Salem, 67 N. J. L. 113, 50 Atl. 475; Thurlow Medical Co. v. Salem, 67 N. J. L. 111, 50 Atl. 475; In re Quong Woo, 13 Fed. 229, 7 Sawy. 526.

95. People v. Mulholland, 82 N. Y. 324, 37 Am. Rep. 568; Brooklyn v. Breslin, 57 N. Y. 591; People v. Wurster, 14 N. Y. App. Div. 556, 43 N. Y. Suppl. 1088.

Power to fix amount.—Under a statute authorizing the city council to license, it may delegate to the mayor the power to fix the amount of license-fees within limits fixed by the council. Decorah v. Dunstan, 38 Iowa 96; Ex p. Ryan, 8 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 299, 7 Cinc. L. Bul. 50.

96. Alabama.—Mobile v. Allaire, 14 Ala. 400; Mobile v. Rouse, 8 Ala. 515.

Arkansas.—Van Buren v. Wells, 53 Ark. 368, 14 S. W. 38, 22 Am. St. Rep. 214.

b. Acts Prohibited Both by Statute and Ordinance—(1) IN GENERAL. Accordingly, unless it is prohibited by some express constitutional or statutory Colorado.—McInerney v. Denver, 17 Colo. 302, 29 Pac. 516; Hughes v. People, 8 Colo. 536, 9 Pac. 50.

Dakota.—Elk Point v. Vaughn, 1 Dak. 113, 46 N. W. 577.

Florida.—Hunt v. Jacksonville, 34 Fla. 504, 16 So. 398, 43 Am. St. Rep. 214; Theisen v. McDavid, 34 Fla. 440, 16 So. 321, 26 L. R. A. 234.

Georgia.—Littlejohn v. Stells, 123 Ga. 427, 51 S. E. 390.

Idaho.—State v. Quong, 8 Ida. 191, 67 Pac. 491; State v. Preston, 4 Ida. 215, 38 Pac. 694.

Illinois.—McPherson v. Chebanse, 114 Ill. 46, 28 N. E. 454, 55 Am. Rep. 857; Hankins v. People, 106 Ill. 628; Robbins v. People, 95 Ill. 175; Seibold v. People, 86 Ill. 33; Baldwin v. Murphy, 82 Ill. 485; Chicago v. Brownell, 41 Ill. App. 70. See Byers v. Olney, 16 Ill. 35. And compare Fant v. People, 45 Ill. 259.

Indiana.—Williams v. Warsaw, 60 Ind. 457; Waldo v. Wallace, 12 Ind. 569.

Iowa.—Bloomfield v. Trimble, 54 Iowa 399, 6 N. W. 586, 37 Am. Rep. 212. Compare New Hampton v. Conroy, 56 Iowa 498, 9 N. W. 417.

Kansas.—Kansas City v. Grubel, 57 Kan. 436, 46 Pac. 714; In re Jahn, 55 Kan. 694, 41 Pac. 956; In re Thomas, 53 Kan. 659, 37 Pac. 171; Rice v. State, 3 Kan. 141.

Kentucky.—Com. v. Steffee, 7 Bush 161; March v. Com., 12 B. Mon. 25. Compare Taylor v. Owensboro, 98 Ky. 271, 32 S. W. 948, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 856, 56 Am. St. Rep. 561.

Louisiana.—New Orleans v. Collins, 52 La. Ann. 973, 27 So. 532; Amite v. Holly, 50 La. Ann. 627, 23 So. 746; State v. Morris, 47 La. Ann. 1660, 18 So. 710; Opelousas Bd. of Police v. Giron, 46 La. Ann. 1364, 16 So. 190; Monroe v. Hardy, 46 La. Ann. 1232, 15 So. 696; State v. Clifford, 45 La. Ann. 980, 13 So. 281; State v. Fourcade, 45 La. Ann. 717, 13 So. 187, 40 Am. St. Rep. 249. Compare State v. People's Slaughterhouse, etc., Co., 46 La. Ann. 1031, 15 So. 408.

Maryland.—Shafer v. Mumma, 17 Md. 331, 79 Am. Dec. 656.

Massachusetts.—Com. v. Goodnow, 117 Mass. 114.

Michigan.—People v. Detroit White Lead Works, 82 Mich. 471, 46 N. W. 735, 9 L. R. A. 722; Fennell v. Bay City, 36 Mich. 186. See also People v. Hanrahan, 75 Mich. 611, 42 N. W. 1124, 4 L. R. A. 751. But see Slaughter v. People, 2 Dougl. 234 note.

Minnesota.—State v. Lee, 29 Minn. 445, 13 N. W. 913; State v. Oleson, 26 Minn. 507, 5 N. W. 959; State v. Ludwig, 21 Minn. 202; State v. Crummey, 17 Minn. 72; State v. Charles, 16 Minn. 474.

Mississippi.—Ex p. Bourgeois, 60 Miss. 663, 45 Am. Rep. 420; Johnson v. State, 59 Miss. 543.

Missouri.—State v. Walbridge, 119 Mo. 383, 24 S. W. 457, 41 Am. St. Rep. 663; St. Louis v. Schoenbusch, 95 Mo. 618, 8 S. W. 791; State v. Wister, 62 Mo. 592; State v. Gordon, 60 Mo. 383; State v. Harper, 58 Mo. 530; State v. De Bar, 58 Mo. 395; St. Charles v. Meyer, 58 Mo. 86; State v. Clark, 54 Mo. 17, 14 Am. Rep. 471; State v. Thornton, 37 Mo. 360; Independence v. Moore, 32 Mo. 392; Zimmerman v. Owens, 24 Mo. 97; St. Louis v. Cafferata, 24 Mo. 94; St. Louis v. Bentz, 11 Mo. 61; State v. Ledford, 3 Mo. 102; Lebanon v. Gordon, 99 Mo. App. 277, 73 S. W. 222; Glasgow v. Bazan, 96 Mo. App. 412, 70 S. W. 257; Kansas City v. Neal, 49 Mo. App. 72; Plattsburg v. Trimble, 46 Mo. App. 459; De Soto v. Brown, 44 Mo. App. 148; Chillicothe v. Brown, 38 Mo. App. 609; Linneus v. Dusky, 19 Mo. App. 20. But see State v. Cowan, 29 Mo. 330; Jefferson City v. Courtmire, 9 Mo. 692.

Nebraska.—Brownville v. Cook, 4 Nebr. 101.

New Jersey.—Riley v. Trenton, 51 N. J. L. 498, 18 Atl. 116, 5 L. R. A. 352; Howe v. Plainfield, 37 N. J. L. 145; State v. Plunkett, 18 N. J. L. 5. Compare Wyse v. New Jersey Police Com'rs, 68 N. J. L. 127, 52 Atl. 281; State v. Plunkett, 18 N. J. L. 5.

New York.—Polinsky v. People, 11 Hun 390 [affirmed in 73 N. Y. 65]; Brooklyn v. Toynbee, 31 Barb. 282; New York v. Hyatt, 3 E. D. Smith 156; Blatchley v. Moser, 15 Wend. 215; People v. Stevens, 13 Wend. 341; Rogers v. Jones, 1 Wend. 237, 19 Am. Dec. 493.

Ohio.—Canton v. Nist, 9 Ohio St. 439; Wightman v. State, 10 Ohio 452. See also State v. Ulm, 3 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 677, 7 Ohio N. P. 659.

Oregon.—Wong v. Astoria, 13 Oreg. 538, 11 Pac. 295; State v. Bergman, 6 Oreg. 341. Compare State v. Sly, 4 Oreg. 277.

Pennsylvania.—See Easton v. Kemmerer, 3 Pa. Dist. 220, 13 Pa. Co. Ct. 522.

South Carolina.—McCormick v. Calhoun, 30 S. C. 93, 8 S. E. 539; State v. Williams, 11 S. C. 288; State v. Charleston, 12 Rich. 480; State v. Columbia, 6 Rich. 404. Compare Greenville v. Kemmis, 58 S. C. 427, 36 S. E. 727, 50 L. R. A. 725; Schroder v. Charleston, 3 Brev. 533.

South Dakota.—Yankton v. Douglass, 8 S. D. 441, 66 N. W. 923.

Tennessee.—State v. Mason, 3 Lea 640; Greenwood v. State, 6 Baxt. 567, 32 Am. Rep. 539. See also Hoggatt v. Bigley, 6 Humphr. 236.

Texas.—Ex p. Henson, (Cr. App. 1905) 90 S. W. 874. Compare Davis v. State, 2 Tex. App. 425. And Texas cases cited infra, notes 97, 9.

Utah.—See Ex p. Douglass, 1 Utah 108.

Wisconsin.—Ogden v. Madison, 111 Wis. 413, 87 N. W. 568, 55 L. R. A. 506; State v. Newman, 96 Wis. 258, 71 N. W. 438; provision,⁹⁷ by the great weight of authority municipal corporations may, by ordinance, prohibit and punish acts which are also prohibited and punishable as misdemeanors under the general statutes of the state,⁹⁸ or which may involve a common-law offense;⁹⁹ and while many such ordinances contain provisions for matters peculiar to communities of dense population, which are not noticed by the general law,¹ many others are mere municipal repetitions or reenactments of state statutes.² The latter, after much strenuous contention, are now generally recognized as valid ordinances;³ although some cases declare them non-enforceable as being a secondary exercise of a sovereign power,⁴ which may not be employed by a municipality

Platteville v. McKernan, 54 Wis. 487, 11 N. W. 798.

United States.—McLanghlin v. Stephens, 17 Fed. Cas. No. 8,874, 2 Cranch C. C. 148; U. S. v. Holly, 26 Fed. Cas. No. 15,381, 3 Cranch C. C. 656; U. S. v. Wells, 28 Fed. Cas. No. 16,662, 2 Cranch C. C. 45.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 1311, 1312. See also infra, XI, A, 4, b.

97. State v. Tyrrell, 73 Conn. 407, 47 Atl. 686; Whiting v. Doob, 152 Ind. 157, 52 N. E. 759; Indianapolis v. Higgins, 141 Ind. 1, 40 N. E. 671; Indianapolis v. Hnegele, 115 Ind. 581, 18 N. E. 172; Frankfort v. Anghe, 114 Ind. 77, 600, 15 N. E. 802, 804; Zeller v. Crawfordsville, 90 Ind. 262; Loeb v. Attica, 82 Ind. 175, 42 Am. Rep. 494; State v. McCulla, 16 R. I. 196, 14 Atl. 81; In re Baxter, 12 R. I. 13; State v. Pollard, 6 R. I. 290; Ex p. Wickson, (Tex. Cr. App. 1898) 47 S. W. 643; Ballard v. Dallas, (Tex. Cr. App. 1898) 44 S. W. 864; Ex p. Coombs, 38 Tex. Cr. 648, 44 S. W. 854; Ex p. Fagg, 38 Tex. Cr. 573, 44 S. W. 294. But see Ex p. Freeland, 38 Tex. Cr. 321, 42 S. W. 295 [distinguishing Leach v. State, 36 Tex. Cr. 248, 36 S. W. 471]; Hamilton v. State, 3 Tex. App. 643.

98. See cases cited supra, note 96. Compare Ex p. Siebenhauer, 14 Nev. 365; Seattle v. Chin Let, 19 Wash. 38, 52 Pac. 324.

Opposed to this view see Ex p. Solomon, 91 Cal. 440, 27 Pac. 757; In re Ah You, 88 Cal. 99, 25 Pac. 974, 22 Am. St. Rep. 280, 11 L. R. A. 408; In re Sic, 73 Cal. 142, 14 Pac. 405; State v. Flint, 63 Conn. 248, 28 Atl. 28; State v. Welch, 36 Conn. 215; Southport v. Ogden, 23 Conn. 128; State v. McCoy, 116 N. C. 1059, 21 S. E. 690; State v. Keith, 94 N. C. 933; State v. Brittain, 89 N. C. 574; State v. Langston, 88 N. C. 692; Washington v. Hammond, 76 N. C. 33. See also infra, XI, A, 4, b, (II).

Indictable offenses.—Although by the general law of the state, persons charged with certain offenses of the grade of misdemeanors must be proceeded against criminally by indictment, yet the general assembly may grant to municipal corporations the power to ordain that persons charged with such offenses may be proceeded against criminally by information. State v. Cowan, 29 Mo. 330. Compare, however, Slaughter v. People, 2 Dougl. (Mich.) 334 note; Jefferson City v. Courtmire, 9 Mo. 692, where, under the general "power to regulate the police of the city" given to the mayor and aldermen by the city charter, it was held that this power did not authorize them to provide by ordinance for the punishment of indictable offenses.

The power delegated to the city does not narrow the application of the general law (State v. Oleson, 26 Minn. 507, 5 N. W. 959; State v. Charles, 16 Minn. 474; State v. Plunkett, 18 N. J. L. 5); nor abrogate or suspend the common law in regard to such offenses within the city (State v. Crummey, 17 Minn. 72). But see In re Snell, 58 Vt. 207, 1 Atl. 566, holding that where a general law gives the selectmen of a town the power to permit or prohibit the use of billiard tables in a town, and a village charter, enacted subsequently, gives the village within such town the power to pass by-laws to suppress and restrain all description of gaming, the provisions in the charter derogate from, and are inconsistent with, the general law, and the legislature must have intended by the charter to repeal the general law as to the territory embraced in the village limits.

Concurrent or exclusive operation.—The general state law and the municipal ordinance may have concurrent operation. State v. Cowan, 29 Mo. 330. When the power to hear and determine statutory misdemeanors is given to a municipal corporation, but no words of exclusion or restriction are used, the remedies between the state and the corporation will be construed to be concurrent; but, where the manifest intention is that the prosecution shall be limited exclusively to one jurisdiction, that intention must prevail. State v. Gordon, 60 Mo. 383. The municipal authorities have not exclusive jurisdiction in proceedings against the keepers of bawdy houses. State v. Wister, 62 Mo. 592.

99. State v. Williams, 11 S. C. 288. See also State v. Crummey, 17 Minn. 72.

1. Many municipal ordinances are passed regulating markets, liquor-selling, occupations, amusements, etc., and providing for the comfort, safety, peace, and good order of the inhabitants. Ingersoll Pub. Corp. 352-371. See infra, XI, A, 7.

Additional regulation by ordinance see infra, XI, A, 4, c.

2. Rosedale v. Hanner, 157 Ind. 390, 61 N. E. 792. See also cases cited supra, note 96.

3. Talladega v. Fitzpatrick, 133 Ala. 613, 32 So. 252; State v. Callac, 45 La. Ann. 27, 12 So. 119. See also cases cited supra, note 96.

4. In re Sic, 73 Cal. 142, 14 Pac. 405; Jen-without express authority.⁵ Other cases favor the implication of police power in kings v. Thomasville, 35 Ga. 145; State v. McCoy, 116 N. C. 1059, 21 S. E. 690; State v. Keith, 94 N. C. 933; Washington v. Hammond, 76 N. C. 33; Ex p. Smith, 22 Fed. Cas. No. 12,967*a*, Hempst. 201.

In California a municipality is not authorized to prohibit and punish by ordinance the very same act which is already prohibited and punishable under the general laws. Ex p. Stephen, 114 Cal. 273, 46 Pac. 86; Ex p. Mansfield, 106 Cal. 400, 39 Pac. 775; Ex p. Christensen, 85 Cal. 208, 24 Pac. 747; In re Sic, 73 Cal. 142, 14 Pac. 405.

Mere petty offenses, so called, seem to constitute an exception to the rule against ordinances punishing the same act already punishable under the general law. Taylor v. Sandersville, 118 Ga. 63, 44 S. E. 845; Ex p. Freeland, 38 Tex. Cr. 321, 42 S. W. 295. A statute which prohibits towns or cities from making acts punishable by ordinance which are made public offenses and punishable by the state does not apply to an ordinance making it an offense to sell intoxicating liquors within the limits of the city without first obtaining a city license. Frankfort v. Aughe, 114 Ind. 77, 600, 15 N. E. 802, 804.

5. Arkansas.—Van Buren v. Wells, 53 Ark. 368, 14 S. W. 38, 22 Am. St. Rep. 214.

Colorado.—McInerney v. Denver, 17 Colo. 302, 29 Pac. 516.

Connecticut.—State v. Tyrrell, 73 Conn. 407, 47 Atl. 686; State v. Welch, 36 Conn. 215.

Georgia.—Lockwood v. Muhlberg, 124 Ga. 660, 53 S. E. 92; Thrower v. Atlanta, 124 Ga. 1, 52 S. E. 76, 110 Am. St. Rep. 147, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 382; Littlejohn v. Stells, 123 Ga. 427, 51 S. E. 390; Penniston v. Newman, 117 Ga. 700, 45 S. E. 65; Hood v. Von Glahn, 88 Ga. 405, 14 S. E. 564; Jenkins v. Thomasville, 35 Ga. 145; Savannah v. Hussey, 21 Ga. 80, 68 Am. Dec. 452. See also Odell v. Atlanta, 97 Ga. 670, 25 S. E. 173 [explained in Thrower v. Atlanta, supra, and in Thrower v. State, 117 Ga. 753, 45 S. E. 126].

Idaho.—In re Ridenbaugh, 5 Ida. 371, 49 Pac. 12.

Illinois.—Gardner v. People, 20 Ill. 430.

Indiana.—Loeb v. Attica, 82 Ind. 175, 42 Am. Rep. 494.

Iowa.—New Hampton v. Conroy, 56 Iowa 498, 9 N. W. 417.

Mississippi.—Ex p. Bourgeois, 60 Miss. 663, 45 Am. Rep. 420.

North Carolina.—State v. McCoy, 116 N. C. 1059, 21 S. E. 690; State v. Keith, 94 N. C. 933; Washington v. Hammond, 76 N. C. 33. See also State v. Langston, 88 N. C. 692.

Oregon.—See Corvallis v. Carlile, 10 Oreg. 139, 45 Am. Rep. 134.

Tennessee.—Robinson v. Franklin, 1 Humphr. 156, 34 Am. Dec. 625.

Texas.—Clark v. State, 46 Tex. Cr. 566, 81 S. W. 722; Ex p. Ogden, 43 Tex. Cr. 531, 66 S. W. 1100; Ex p. Powell, 43 Tex. Cr. 391, 66 S. W. 298; Ex p. Wickson, (Cr. App. 1898) 47 S. W. 643.

West Virginia.—State v. Godfrey, 54 W. Va. 54, 46 S. E. 185; Judy v. Lashley, 50 W. Va. 628, 41 S. E. 197, 57 L. R. A. 413.

United States.—Ex p. Smith, 22 Fed. Cas. No. 12,967*a*, Hempst. 201.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1311.

Conflict of authorities.—In Ex p. Bourgeois, 60 Miss. 663, 45 Am. Rep. 420, it was said: "Whether this power to declare acts criminal by the general laws of the State punishable also under town ordinances and thus inflict double punishment for the same offence can be deduced from a grant in a city charter of authority to make by-laws and ordinances for the welfare and good government of the city, or other general words of similar import, is a question upon which the authorities are in hopeless conflict. The various cases are collected and grouped in the note to 1 Dillon Mun. Corp. (3d ed.) § 368. An examination of them leads the author to the conclusion, expressed with some diffidence, that this power of double punishment for a single act on this delegation of authority to a local municipality to punish acts which are crimes against the State, by a mode of procedure and degree of punishment unknown to the State law, cannot be inferred from a mere general authority to legislate for the good government of the municipality, but must be clearly given, and if not so given does not exist."

In Georgia it is well settled that a municipal corporation cannot by ordinance provide for the punishment of an act which constitutes a criminal offense under the general law of the state, in the absence of express legislative authority conferring this power upon the municipality. Moran v. Atlanta, 102 Ga. 840, 30 S. E. 298; Rothschild v. Darien, 69 Ga. 503; Adams v. Albany, 29 Ga. 56; Savannah v. Hussey, 21 Ga. 80, 68 Am. Dec. 452. Prior to the adoption of the present constitution, the general assembly could confer this power upon municipalities, either by general or special law. Hood v. Von Glahn, 88 Ga. 405, 14 S. E. 564. The present constitution prohibits the general assembly from passing special laws upon this subject. Aycock v. Rutledge, 104 Ga. 533, 30 S. E. 815. But the power to pass a general law still exists. Littlejohn v. Stells, 123 Ga. 427, 51 S. E. 390. The general assembly cannot, however, delegate to a municipality the authority to punish in a municipal court a state offense as such. Grant v. Camp, 105 Ga. 423, 31 S. E. 429. But it may authorize the punishment of an act as a city offense, which could also be a state offense, provided the terms of the act conferring the authority are clear and unequivocal and manifest a legislative intent to confer authority for the the municipality under authority to pass laws for the public peace, safety, etc.,⁶ where the offense does not vitally affect the public interests, but specially concerns the municipal welfare.⁷

(11) *EFFECT UPON FORMER JEOPARDY DOCTRINE.*⁸ When the same act is made an offense both by statute and ordinance, it has been held that it contravenes the constitutional provision against putting a citizen twice in jeopardy for the same act to prosecute and punish the offender under both laws; and that a conviction under either may be pleaded in bar of prosecution under the other;⁹ but the weight of authority would seem to be opposed to this holding, upon the rather specious distinction that one prosecution is for violation of the state law, and the other for breach of the municipal ordinance and only quasi-criminal.¹⁰ punishment of such act. Hood v. Von Glahn, supra.

So far as such a general statute covers the same ground as a city by-law authorized by statute, both cannot be enforced so as to subject a party to a double penalty. But the operation of the city by-law would not be affected as to any ground not covered by the statute. State v. Welch, 36 Conn. 215.

6. See infra, XI, A, 7, a, (1).

7. Alabama.—Mobile v. Allaire, 14 Ala. 400; Mobile v. Rouse, 8 Ala. 515.

Iowa.—Bloomfield v. Trimble, 54 Iowa 399, 6 N. W. 586, 37 Am. Rep. 212. See also Avoca v. Heller, 129 Iowa 227, 105 N. W. 444.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Bentz, 11 Mo. 61. See also State v. Gordon, 60 Mo. 383.

Nebraska.—Brownville v. Cook, 4 Nebr. 101.

New York.—Rogers v. Jones, 1 Wend. 237, 19 Am. Dec. 493.

Compare Amboy v. Sleeper, 31 Ill. 499 [following Petersburg v. Metzker, 21 Ill. 205].

8. Former jeopardy generally see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 259 et seq.

9. California.—In re Sic, 73 Cal. 142, 14 Pac. 405.

Connecticut.—State v. Flint, 63 Conn. 248, 28 Atl. 28; Southport v. Ogden, 23 Conn. 128. Compare State v. Welch, 36 Conn. 215.

Georgia.—Jenkins v. Thomasville, 35 Ga. 145. See also Strauss v. Waycross, 97 Ga. 475, 25 S. E. 329. But compare Taylor v. Sandersville, 118 Ga. 63, 44 S. E. 845; Menken v. Atlanta, 78 Ga. 668, 2 S. E. 559; McRae v. Americus, 59 Ga. 168, 27 Am. Rep. 390.

Kentucky.—See Taylor v. Owensboro, 98 Ky. 271, 32 S. W. 948, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 856, 56 Am. St. Rep. 361.

North Carolina.—Washington v. Hammond, 76 N. C. 33.

Texas.—See Ex p. Freeland, 38 Tex. Cr. 321, 42 S. W. 295 [distinguishing Leach v. State, 36 Tex. Cr. 248, 36 S. W. 471]. But see Texas cases cited supra, notes 96, 97. Contra, Hamilton v. State, 3 Tex. App. 643.

West Virginia.—Judy v. Lashley, 50 W. Va. 628, 41 S. E. 197, 57 L. R. A. 413.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1312.

Strict construction of identity clause.—Those courts applying the jeopardy provision of the constitution incline to a strict construction of the identity clause of the plea of former jeopardy, so as to permit the double punishment if there are distinguishing elements in the offense denounced alike by ordinance and statute or common law. Taylor v. Sandersville, 118 Ga. 63, 44 S. E. 845; Menken v. Atlanta, 78 Ga. 668, 2 S. E. 559; Mayson v. Atlanta, 77 Ga. 662; Hill v. Dalton, 72 Ga. 314; Rothschild v. Darien, 69 Ga. 503; McRae v. Americus, 59 Ga. 168, 27 Am. Rep. 390; Frankfort v. Aughe, 114 Ind. 77, 600, 15 N. E. 802, 804; Centerville v. Miller, 57 Iowa 56, 225, 10 N. W. 293, 639. If the acts charged in both proceedings were the same, the judgment in the first would be a bar to the second. Southport v. Ogden, 23 Conn. 128. If they were different, defendant could be rightfully punished for both offenses. State v. Flint, 63 Conn. 248, 28 Atl. 28; State v. Welch, 36 Conn. 215; Cooley Const. Lim. (6th ed.) 239.

10. Alabama.—Mobile v. Allaire, 14 Ala. 400.

Arkansas.—Van Buren v. Wells, 53 Ark. 368, 14 S. W. 38, 22 Am. St. Rep. 214.

Colorado.—McInerney v. Denver, 17 Colo. 302, 29 Pac. 516; Hughes v. People, 8 Colo. 536, 9 Pac. 50.

Georgia.—McRae v. Americus, 59 Ga. 168, 27 Am. Rep. 390.

Illinois.—Hankins v. People, 106 Ill. 628; Robbins v. People, 95 Ill. 175; Wragg v. Penn Tp., 94 Ill. 11, 34 Am. Rep. 199; Amboy v. Sleeper, 31 Ill. 499; Gardner v. People, 20 Ill. 430.

Indiana.—Waldo v. Wallace, 12 Ind. 569; Ambrose v. State, 6 Ind. 351; Levy v. State, 6 Ind. 281.

Kansas.—State v. Topeka, 36 Kan. 76, 12 Pac. 310, 59 Am. Rep. 529.

Louisiana.—Monroe v. Hardy, 46 La. Ann. 1232, 15 So. 696.

Maryland.—Sbafer v. Mumma, 17 Md. 331, 79 Am. Dec. 656.

Minnesota.—State v. Robitshek, 60 Minn. 123, 61 N. W. 1023, 33 L. R. A. 33; Mankato v. Arnold, 36 Minn. 62, 30 N. W. 305; State v. Lee, 29 Minn. 445, 13 N. W. 913.

Mississippi.—Johnson v. State, 59 Miss. 543. Compare Ex p. Bourgeois, 60 Miss. 663, 45 Am. Rep. 420.

Missouri.—State v. Muir, 164 Mo. 610, 65 S. W. 285 [affirming 86 Mo. App. 642]; State v. Gustin, 152 Mo. 108, 53 S. W. 421; St.

c. Conflicting Ordinances and Statutes—(1) IN GENERAL. Such ordinances must not directly or indirectly contravene the general law.¹¹ Hence ordinances which assume directly or indirectly to permit acts or occupations, which the state statutes prohibit,¹² or to prohibit acts permitted by statute or constitution,¹³ are, under the familiar rule for validity of ordinances,¹⁴ uniformly declared to be null and void. Additional regulation by the ordinance does not render it void.¹⁵ And the rule of construction ut res magis valeat quam pereat is uniformly applied by the courts¹⁶ to sustain, as being consistent with the general laws and constitu-

Louis v. Weitzel, 130 Mo. 600, 31 S. W. 1045; Ex p. Boeninghausen, 91 Mo. 301, 1 S. W. 761; State v. Cowan, 29 Mo. 330; St. Louis v. Cafferata, 24 Mo. 94; St. Louis v. Bentz, 11 Mo. 61; Lebanon v. Gordon, 99 Mo. App. 277, 73 S. W. 222.

New Jersey.—Howe v. Plainfield, 37 N. J. L. 145.

New York.—New York v. Hyatt, 3 E. D. Smith 156; Blatchley v. Moser, 15 Wend. 215; People v. Stevens, 13 Wend. 341; Rogers v. Jones, 1 Wend. 237, 19 Am. Dec. 493.

Oregon.—Wong v. Astoria, 13 Ore. 538, 11 Pac. 295; State v. Sly, 4 Ore. 277.

Tennessee.—State v. Mason, 3 Lea 649; Greenwood v. State, 6 Baxt. 567, 32 Am. Rep. 539.

Wisconsin.—State v. Newman, 96 Wis. 258, 71 N. W. 438.

United States.—Cross v. North Carolina, 132 U. S. 131, 10 S. Ct. 47, 33 L. ed. 287; McLaughlin v. Stephens, 16 Fed. Cas. No. 8,874, 2 Cranch C. C. 148.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1312. See also CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 283; and cases cited supra, note 96.

11. Ex p. Kearny, 55 Cal. 212; Williamson v. Com., 4 B. Mon. (Ky.) 146; People v. Pratt, 22 Hun (N. Y.) 300; In re Baxter, 12 R. I. 13. See also Kansas City v. Neal, 49 Mo. App. 72; In re Lee Tong, 18 Fed. 253, 9 Sawy. 333; and supra, text and note 71; infra, XI. A. 8, i.

12. Alabama.—Hewlett v. Camp, 115 Ala. 499, 22 So. 137.

Louisiana.—State v. Caldwell, 3 La. Ann. 435.

New Jersey.—See Wyse v. New Jersey Police Com'rs, 68 N. J. L. 127, 52 Atl. 281.

Pennsylvania.—Port Clinton Borough v. Shafer, 5 Pa. Dist. 583.

Texas.—Joske v. Irvine, (Civ. App. 1897) 43 S. W. 278; Bohmy v. State, 21 Tex. App. 597, 2 S. W. 886; Flood v. State, 19 Tex. App. 584. See also Fay v. State, 44 Tex. Cr. 381, 71 S. W. 603; Lynn v. State, 33 Tex. Cr. 153, 25 S. W. 779. But see Davis v. State, 2 Tex. App. 425, holding that the power conferred by the special act of 1871 on the corporate authorities of Waco to license houses of prostitution operates to exempt holders of licenses granted under it from punishment under the provisions of Pen. Code (1856), making the keeping of such houses a misdemeanor.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1314.

13. Georgia.—Hofmayer v. Blakely, 116 Ga. 777, 43 S. E. 69.

Idaho.—In re Ridenbaugh, 5 Ida. 371, 49 Pac. 12.

Minnesota.—State v. Oleson, 26 Minn. 507, 5 N. W. 959; State v. Charles, 16 Minn. 474.

New York.—Wood v. Brooklyn, 14 Barb. 425.

Tennessee.—Robinson v. Franklin, 1 Humphr. 156, 34 Am. Dec. 625.

Texas.—Curtis v. Gulf, etc., R. Co., 26 Tex. Civ. App. 304, 63 S. W. 149; Ex p. Ogden, 43 Tex. Cr. 531, 66 S. W. 1100; Ex p. Powell, 43 Tex. Cr. 391, 66 S. W. 298.

West Virginia.—State v. Godfrey, 54 W. Va. 54, 46 S. E. 185.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1314.

Compare Easton v. Kemmerer, 3 Pa. Dist. 220, 13 Pa. Co. Ct. 522.

14. Cooley Const. Lim. 198, 199; Ingersoll Pub. Corp. 237, 238. See also supra, VI, G.

15. California.—Ex p. Hong Shen, 98 Cal. 331, 33 Pac. 799.

Idaho.—State v. Preston, 4 Ida. 215, 38 Pac. 694.

Minnesota.—State v. Ludwig, 21 Minn. 202.

Nebraska.—Brownville v. Cook, 4 Nebr. 101.

New York.—Polinsky v. People, 11 Hun 390 [affirmed in 73 N. Y. 65]; Brooklyn v. Toynebee, 31 Barb. 282.

North Carolina.—State v. Wilson, 106 N. C. 718, 11 S. E. 254.

Texas.—Gulf, etc., R. Co. v. Calvert, 11 Tex. Civ. App. 297, 32 S. W. 246.

United States.—McLaughlin v. Stephens, 16 Fed. Cas. No. 8,874, 2 Cranch C. C. 148.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1311.

Express authority may be given to impose new and additional penalties. State v. Ludwig, 21 Minn. 202; Brooklyn v. Toynebee, 31 Barb. (N. Y.) 282; State v. Newman, 96 Wis. 258, 71 N. W. 438.

16. See cases cited infra, note 17.

Favorable construction.—Where the authority granted a municipal board to make rules for the government of the police department is limited to the making of rules and regulations not in conflict with the constitution and laws of the state, rules formulated to promote the health of the city, when their validity is challenged, will receive a favorable construction and be sustained by the court, unless their invalidity clearly appears. Wyse v. Jersey City Police Com'rs, 68 N. J. L. 127, 52 Atl. 281. So a statute or regulation looking to the public interest and safety will be upheld by the courts, unless it is plain tion, such wholesome by-laws enacted to suppress disorderly conduct, provide for the safety, preserve the health, promote the prosperity, and improve the morals, order, comfort, and convenience of the municipality.¹⁷ In many instances, however, such valid by-laws have been held to be repealed by implication by subsequent statutes, indicating an intention to withdraw the municipal authority;¹⁸ but other cases indicate a contrary inclination.¹⁹

(ii) DIFFERENCE IN PENALTY, PUNISHMENT, OR LICENSE-FEES. In view of constitutional provisions,²⁰ many ordinances have been declared void for assuming to impose a greater or less penalty, punishment, or license-fee than that fixed by statute,²¹ or annexing different rates or conditions,²² even when expressly author-that it has no real or substantial relation to those objects, or is a palpable invasion of rights secured by the fundamental law. Macfarland v. Washington, etc., R. Co., 18 App. Cas. (D. C.) 456.

17. Arkansas.—Van Buren v. Wells, 53 Ark. 368, 14 S. W. 38, 22 Am. St. Rep. 214. Compare Lewis v. State, 21 Ark. 209, holding that the provision of a statute that the city authorities of Little Rock should have the exclusive power to license the retail sale of spirituous liquors within the city did not exempt the inhabitants from the operation of the general law prohibiting the desecration of the Sabbath.

California.—Odd Fellows' Cemetery Assoc. v. San Francisco, 140 Cal. 226, 73 Pac. 987.

Idaho.—State v. Preston, 4 Ida. 215, 38 Pac. 694.

Iowa.—Centerville v. Miller, 57 Iowa 56, 225, 10 N. W. 293, 639; Bloomfield v. Trimble, 54 Iowa 399, 6 N. W. 586, 37 Am. Rep. 212.

Louisiana.—Monroe v. Hardy, 46 La. Ann. 1232, 15 So. 696.

Michigan.—In re Stegenga, 133 Mich. 55, 94 N. W. 385, 61 L. R. A. 763.

Minnesota.—Farmer v. St. Paul, 65 Minn. 176, 67 N. W. 990, 33 L. R. A. 199.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Schoenbusch, 95 Mo. 618, 8 S. W. 791; Glasgow v. Bazan, 86 Mo. App. 412, 70 S. W. 257.

Nebraska.—See In re Anderson, 69 Nebr. 686, 96 N. W. 149, holding that a police regulation, not operating unreasonably beyond the occasions of its enactment, is not invalid because it may affect incidentally the exercise of some right guaranteed by the constitution.

Pennsylvania.—See Easton v. Kemmerer, 3 Pa. Dist. 220, 13 Pa. Co. Ct. 522, holding that an act providing that every resident and honorably discharged soldier, etc., who is unable to procure a livelihood by manual labor, may hawk, peddle, and vend any goods and wares, or solicit trade within the commonwealth by procuring a license for that purpose, does not exempt a milk vendor who holds such license from payment of a license-tax on milk vendors imposed by a city ordinance.

Texas.—Ex p. Boland, 11 Tex. App. 159.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1323 et seq.

18. Connecticut.—Southport v. Ogden, 23 Conn. 128.

Georgia.—Strauss v. Waycross, 97 Ga. 475, 25 S. E. 329.

Minnesota.—St. Paul v. Byrnes, 38 Minn. 176, 36 N. W. 449.

New Jersey.—Elizabeth v. Dunning, 58 N. J. L. 554, 34 Atl. 752; Mulcaby v. Newark, 57 N. J. L. 513, 31 Atl. 226.

Pennsylvania.—Com. v. Gillam, 8 Serg. & R. 50.

19. State v. Fourcade, 45 La. Ann. 717, 13 So. 187, 40 Am. St. Rep. 249; State v. Labatut, 39 La. Ann. 513, 2 So. 550; State v. Monroe, 16 La. Ann. 395; Ex p. Schmidt, 24 S. C. 363; Yankton v. Douglass, 8 S. D. 441, 66 N. W. 923. And see State v. People's Slaughter House, etc., Co., 46 La. Ann. 1031, 15 So. 408.

20. State v. Chase, 33 La. Ann. 287; State v. Oleson, 26 Minn. 507, 5 N. W. 959. See also New Orleans v. Graves, 34 La. Ann. 840.

The Kentucky constitution prohibiting municipal corporations from fixing by ordinance a penalty for a violation thereof less than that imposed by the statute for the same offense does not prohibit the municipality from increasing the minimum penalty fixed by statute. Owensboro v. Sparks, 99 Ky. 351, 36 S. W. 4, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 269. But a constitutional provision of this character has no application to fines imposed by a municipality for violation of a purely local ordinance upon a subject not covered by the general law. Carlisle v. Heckinger, 103 Ky. 381, 45 S. W. 358, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 74.

21. Taylor v. Owensboro, 98 Ky. 271, 32 S. W. 948, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 856, 56 Am. St. Rep. 361; State v. Burns, 45 La. Ann. 34, 11 So. 878; Ex p. Cross, 44 Tex. Cr. 376, 71 S. W. 289; Horn v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 38 Wis. 463. See also Petersburg v. Metzker, 21 Ill. 205; State v. Chase, 33 La. Ann. 287.

22. Ex p. Solomon, 91 Cal. 440, 27 Pac. 757; In re Ah You, 88 Cal. 99, 25 Pac. 974, 22 Am. St. Rep. 280, 11 L. R. A. 408; State v. Elofson, 86 Minn. 103, 90 N. W. 309; Katzenberger v. Lawo, 90 Tenn. 235, 16 S. W. 611, 25 Am. St. Rep. 681, 13 L. R. A. 185; Horn v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 38 Wis. 463.

An ordinance is not in conflict with a general law, similar except in making an exception in the case of one whose life has been threatened. Linneus v. Dusky, 19 Mo. App. 20.

Minimum penalty under general law cannot be increased by ordinance. Petersburg v. Metzker, 21 Ill. 205 [distinguished in ized by the charter.²³ But it has been held that where a general statute merely provides that the penalty shall not exceed a certain amount, an ordinance prescribing a penalty less than such amount is not invalid as being repugnant to the general law.²⁴

5. TERRITORIAL JURISDICTION.²⁵ The corporation boundaries usually mark the limit for the exercise of the police power by the municipality;²⁶ but in many instances because essential to the statutory performance of police functions,²⁷ and especially for the preservation of the public health,²⁸ the municipality is granted

Quincy v. O'Brien, 24 Ill. App. 591]. Compare Owenboro v. Sparks, 99 Ky. 351, 36 S. W. 4, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 269.

23. Petersburg v. Metzker, 21 Ill. 205. Compare Matter of Bayard, 25 Hun (N. Y.) 546, 63 How. Pr. 73 [reversing 61 How. Pr. 294].

Where a special charter of a town, granted before the adoption of the present constitution, confers power upon the corporate authorities to impose fines or penalties for the unauthorized sale of intoxicating liquors, they are not limited or restricted to the same penalties imposed by the general law. Baldwin v. Murphy, 82 Ill. 485.

24. St. Joseph v. Vesper, 59 Mo. App. 459 [following Kansas City v. Hallett, 59 Mo. App. 160].

A minimum penalty may be provided in the ordinance, although the general law does not contain such a provision. Opelousas Police Bd. v. Giron, 46 La. Ann. 1364, 16 So. 190.

Both minimum and maximum penalties may be provided for in the ordinance, although the general law provides only for a maximum penalty. St. Joseph v. Vesper, 59 Mo. App. 459; Kansas City v. Hallett, 59 Mo. App. 160.

25. Restriction of powers generally to territorial limits see supra, III, B, 4.

Property see supra, VIII, A, 2.

26. Alabama.—Bates v. Mobile, 46 Ala. 158.

California.—South Pasadena v. Los Angeles Terminal R. Co., 109 Cal. 315, 41 Pac. 1093. See also Odd Fellows' Cemetery Assoc. v. San Francisco, 140 Cal. 226, 73 Pac. 987.

Georgia.—Gunn v. Macon, 84 Ga. 365, 10 S. E. 972.

Indiana.—Begein v. Anderson, 28 Ind. 79. See Robb v. Indianapolis, 38 Ind. 49, holding that under Indianapolis charter, providing for the removal and abatement of nuisances and for the apprehension of disorderly persons and common prostitutes within two miles of the city limits, the city has no power to pass an ordinance making it an offense to visit or be an occupant of a house of ill fame outside the city limits.

Louisiana.—See New Orleans v. Anderson, 9 La. Ann. 323, holding that the ordinance of the city of New Orleans of March 19, 1834, which makes it unlawful to build any stable in the interior of the city or any of the incorporated suburbs, does not apply to such additions to the limits of the city as subsequent legislation might make.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Fischer, 167 Mo. 654, 67 S. W. 872, 64 L. R. A. 679 [affirmed in 194 U. S. 361, 24 S. Ct. 673, 48 L. ed. 1018]; St. Louis v. Howard, 119 Mo. 46, 24 S. W. 770, 41 Am. St. Rep. 630. Compare Lamar v. Weidman, 57 Mo. App. 507.

Pennsylvania.—McKeesport v. Mayhugh, 14 Pa. Dist. 224; Gettysburg v. Zeigler, 2 Pa. Co. Ct. 326.

South Carolina.—Jarvis v. Pinckney, 3 Hill 123.

Tennessee.—Gass v. Greeneville Corp., 4 Sneed 62, holding that the power and jurisdiction of a municipal corporation are confined to its own limits and to its own internal concerns, and its by-laws are binding upon none but its own members and those persons within its jurisdiction.

Texas.—See Victoria v. Victoria County, (Civ. App. 1906) 94 S. W. 368, holding that a municipal corporation has authority to abate nuisances erected by the county within the city's limits on land occupied by county buildings.

United States.—Lenox v. Georgetown, 15 Fed. Cas. No. 8,245, 1 Cranch C. C. 608. See Ward v. Washington, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,163, 4 Cranch C. C. 232, holding that an ordinance prohibiting the erection of a brick or lime kiln under a certain penalty, when not in terms restricted to the city, is void as beyond the power of the corporation to make it.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1319. See also infra, XI, A, 6.

Cemetery outside of limits is not within the control of the city see CEMETERIES, 6 Cyc. 710 note 10.

27. Alabama.—Van Hook v. Selma, 70 Ala. 361, 45 Am. Rep. 85.

Connecticut.—Dunham v. New Britain, 55 Conn. 378, 11 Atl. 354.

Idaho.—Willson v. Boise City, 6 Ida. 391, 55 Pac. 887.

Illinois.—Chicago Packing, etc., Co. v. Chicago, 88 Ill. 221, 30 Am. Rep. 545.

Indiana.—Elkhart v. Lipschitz, 164 Ind. 671, 74 N. E. 528.

Kansas.—State v. Franklin, 40 Kan. 410, 19 Pac. 801.

Maryland.—Harrison v. Baltimore, 1 Gill 264.

Michigan.—Coldwater v. Tucker, 36 Mich. 474, 24 Am. Rep. 601.

Pennsylvania.—Allentown v. Wagner, 214 Pa. St. 210, 63 Atl. 697 [affirming 27 Pa. Super. Ct. 485].

28. Chicago Packing, etc., Co. v. Chicago, 88 Ill. 221, 30 Am. Rep. 545; and cases cited supra, note 27.

Under Kan. Comp. Laws (1885), c. 19, § 61, the police power of the city can only be ex-police power beyond its boundaries. Thus it has been held that the grant of power to acquire territory for water-supply beyond the limits of a municipality is within the competency of the legislature,²⁹ and that the municipality may exercise police power in the protection of the territory thus acquired to insure cleanliness, and prevent any business and conduct likely to corrupt the fountain of water-supply for the city.³⁰ So likewise it may acquire outside territory for sewerage purposes, and exercise police power over the same;³¹ and also, it would seem, establish quarantine beyond the municipal boundaries and thus protect the citizens from epidemic or any contagious or infectious disease,³² as well as locate and regulate houses of detention and hospitals for infectious and contagious diseases beyond the city limits.³³

6. PERSONS AND THINGS BOUND BY REGULATIONS.³⁴ The police power of a municipality may be applied not only to residents, but to all persons and things coming or brought within the municipal boundaries.³⁵ To this reasonable and wholesome rule exception has been made in a few cases under peculiar legislation to estrays found in the limits of the corporation.³⁶ tended outside the corporate limits and within five miles therefrom over such lands as are necessary for hospital purposes and water-works; and the police judge has no power to hear and determine a complaint for maintaining a nuisance outside of the city limits, that is not alleged to be on such lands. State v. Franklin, 40 Kan. 410, 19 Pac. 801.

29. Burden v. Stein, 27 Ala. 104, 62 Am. Dec. 758; Martin v. Gleason, 139 Mass. 183, 29 N. E. 664; Coldwater v. Tucker, 36 Mich. 474, 24 Am. Rep. 601; New York v. Bailey, 2 Den. (N. Y.) 433. See also West Hartford v. Hartford Water Com'rs, 44 Conn. 360.

30. Dunham v. New Britain, 55 Conn. 378, 11 Atl. 354; Coldwater v. Tucker, 36 Mich. 474, 24 Am. Rep. 601.

31. Coldwater v. Tucker, 36 Mich. 474, 24 Am. Rep. 601. And see supra, VIII, A, 2.

32. See Anderson v. O'Conner, 98 Ind. 168; Harrison v. Baltimore, 1 Gill (Md.) 264; Hurst v. Warner, 102 Mich. 238, 60 N. W. 440, 47 Am. St. Rep. 525, 26 L. R. A. 484; Allentown v. Wagner, 214 Pa. St. 210, 63 Atl. 697 [affirming 27 Pa. Super. Ct. 485]; Thomas v. Mason, 39 W. Va. 526, 20 S. E. 580, 26 L. R. A. 727.

33. See Anderson v. O'Conner, 98 Ind. 168; Aull v. Lexington, 18 Mo. 401; Hutton v. Camden, 39 N. J. L. 122, 23 Am. Rep. 203; Allentown v. Wagner, 214 Pa. St. 210, 63 Atl. 697 [affirming 27 Pa. Super. Ct. 485]; Hazen v. Strong, 2 Vt. 427.

In Canada under 45 Vict. c. 29, § 12 (O.), the corporation of one municipality cannot erect or establish a smallpox hospital within the limits of another, either of a temporary or permanent character, without the sanction of the corporation of the latter. Elizabeth-town Tp. v. Brockville, 10 Ont. 372.

34. Bastardy laws see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 870 note 2.

35. Alabama.—Folmar v. Curtis, 86 Ala. 354, 5 So. 678, holding that an ordinance providing for the impounding of animals running at large is operative as to all animals coming within the corporate limits, whether owned by persons residing within the same or not. See also Clark v. Mobile, 67 Ala. 217.

Illinois.—Roberts v. Ogle, 30 Ill. 459, 83 Am. Dec. 201.

Indiana.—Horney v. Sloan, 1 Ind. 266. See also Huntington v. Cheesbro, 57 Ind. 74.

Iowa.—Gosselink v. Campbell, 4 Iowa 296.

Kentucky.—McKee v. McKee, 8 B. Mon. 433.

Maryland.—Mason v. Cumberland, 92 Md. 451, 48 Atl. 136.

Massachusetts.—Gilmore v. Holt, 4 Pick. 258.

Missouri.—Spitler v. Young, 63 Mo. 42. Compare Lamar v. Weidman, 57 Mo. App. 507.

New York.—Buffalo v. Webster, 10 Wend. 99.

North Carolina.—Whitfield v. Longest, 28 N. C. 268. See also Rose v. Hardie, 98 N. C. 44, 4 S. E. 41; Edenton v. Capeheart, 71 N. C. 156; Worth v. Fayetteville, 60 N. C. 70; Wilmington v. Roby, 30 N. C. 250; Plymouth Com'rs v. Pettijohn, 15 N. C. 591; Watts v. Scott, 12 N. C. 291.

Pennsylvania.—Taylor Borough v. Postal Tel., etc., Co., 16 Pa. Super. Ct. 344.

South Carolina.—Charleston v. Pepper, 1 Rich. 364; Kennedy v. Sowden, 1 McMull. 323. But compare State v. Charleston, 2 Speers 719, holding that under the Charleston city charter of 1783 and 1836, confining the taxing power to the inhabitants of the city at discretion, to the taxable property of non-residents within the city, and to the income of non-residents from professions carried on within the city, the city cannot impose a tax on the vehicles of persons not residing within the corporate limits of the city, and carrying on a business within the city, and which were probably used or kept without the city, and in going to and from their place of business.

Tennessee.—Knoxville v. King, 7 Lea 441.

Texas.—Moore v. Crenshaw, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 264.

Virginia.—Frommer v. Richmond, 31 Gratt. 646, 31 Am. Rep. 746.

England.—Pierce v. Bartrum, Cowp. 269.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1320. See also supra, XI, A, 5.

36. Plymouth v. Pettijohn, 15 N. C. 591;

7. SUBJECTS OF REGULATION — a. In General—(1) *PUBLIC SAFETY AND WELFARE*³⁷ — “GENERAL WELFARE CLAUSE”³⁸ — (A) In General. The safety of life, limb, and property being one of the prime objects of municipal incorporation, all appropriate regulations tending to promote this object are within the police power delegated to a municipality.³⁹ The enumeration of special powers in a municipal charter is often concluded with a clause conferring general authority to pass all ordinances which may be necessary for the promotion of the public safety and general welfare of the municipality, and are not inconsistent with the constitution and general laws of the state.⁴⁰ In some special charters there is no enumeration of the subjects upon which the corporation shall have power to legislate, but only a general grant of power to pass all ordinances which are necessary to the good order and well being of the corporation.⁴¹ In either case this “general welfare clause” must be construed as conferring no other powers than such as are within the ordinary scope of municipal authority,⁴² or which are necessary to accomplish municipal purposes.⁴³

(B) Powers Conferred. Under a general grant of authority to pass such by-laws as shall be needful to the good order of the city, power has been upheld to “establish all suitable ordinances for administering the government of the city, the preservation of the health of its inhabitants, and the convenient transaction of business, within its limits.”⁴⁴ The general welfare clause has also been held to confer power to prevent the keeping of bawdy-houses;⁴⁵ the feeding of cows on distillery slops, and selling their milk within the city;⁴⁶ the public exposure for sale, or sale of merchandise on Sunday;⁴⁷ the sale of liquor on Sunday;⁴⁸ the keeping of saloons, restaurants, and other places of public enter-

Marietta v. Fearing, 4 Ohio 427. But see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VIII), (c), (2), (b); and XI, A, 8, h, (II).

The limitation in the estray act which restrains the operation of town ordinances to animals owned by the citizens of the town applies to town charters granted after the passage of the act. Dodge v. Gridley, 10 Ohio 173.

37. See also supra, III, B, 2, c, (II); and infra, XII; XIII.

38. Constitutionality of regulations in interest of public safety see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 866, 871, 874.

39. Easton v. Covey, 74 Md. 262, 22 Atl. 266; 2 Bacon Abr. 147; 2 Kent Comm. 239. See also State v. McMahon, 76 Conn. 97, 55 Atl. 591; Osburn v. Chicago, 105 Ill. App. 217.

40. Fairmont v. Meyer, 83 Minn. 456, 86 N. W. 457; Ingersoll Pub. Corp. 173.

41. Brooklyn v. Furey, 9 Misc. (N. Y.) 193, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 349; Nashville v. Linck, 12 Lea (Tenn.) 499.

42. Watson v. Thomson, 116 Ga. 546, 42 S. E. 747, 94 Am. St. Rep. 137, 59 L. R. A. 602.

43. Leavenworth v. Norton, 1 Kan. 432; New Orleans v. Philippi, 9 La. Ann. 44. And see Spaulding v. Lowell, 23 Pick. (Mass.) 71.

Under this power the municipality may prohibit all things hurtful to the comfort, safety, and welfare of society (Lake View v. Rose Hill Cemetery Co., 70 Ill. 191, 22 Am. Rep. 71), or that are hurtful to the public interest (Harmon v. Chicago, 110 Ill. 400, 51 Am. Rep. 698).

Particular matters within power conferred under “general welfare clause” see infra, XI, A, 7, a, (I), (B).

Particular matters not within the power conferred under the “general welfare clause” see infra, XI, A, 7, a, (I), (C).

44. State v. Merrill, 37 Me. 329.

45. State v. Williams, 11 S. C. 288; Childress v. Nashville, 3 Sneed (Tenn.) 347. Compare McAlister v. Clark, 33 Conn. 91. See also infra, XI, A, 7, b, (III); and, generally, DISORDERLY HOUSES.

46. Johnson v. Simonton, 43 Cal. 242.

Dealing in food articles generally see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (N), (2); and, generally, FOOD.

Public health generally see infra, XI, A, 7, a, (III).

47. Theisen v. McDavid, 34 Fla. 440, 16 So. 321, 26 L. R. A. 234; Chebanse v. McPherson, 15 Ill. App. 311 [affirmed in 114 Ill. 46, 28 N. E. 454, 55 Am. Rep. 857]; Lovilla v. Cobb, 126 Iowa 557, 102 N. W. 496; Charleston v. Benjamin, 2 Strobb. (S. C.) 508, 49 Am. Dec. 606.

Sunday observance generally see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (IX); and, generally, SUNDAY.

48. State v. Welch, 36 Conn. 215; Megowan v. Com., 2 Metc. (Ky.) 3. See Bagwell v. Lawrenceville, 94 Ga. 654, 21 S. E. 903, holding that under a statutory power “to protect the health, property and person of the citizens of the town, and to preserve peace and good order therein,” a municipal corporation may pass an ordinance prohibiting the keeping of a “blind tiger,” or keeping for sale, barter, or exchange any vinous, spirituous, or malt liquors, within tainment open after ten o'clock at night;⁴⁹ the carrying on of the laundry business in a certain portion of the city;⁵⁰ to forbid all disorderly shouting, dancing, etc., in streets and public places;⁵¹ to require all elevators inside all stores to be inclosed;⁵² to prohibit the throwing of heavy or dangerous articles from upper stories of buildings into streets and open spaces near them used as public pass-ways;⁵³ to establish fire limits, and to prevent the erection therein of wooden buildings;⁵⁴ to prohibit cruelty to animals;⁵⁵ to fix the time and places of holding public markets for the sale of food, and regulating the same;⁵⁶ and divers other similar acts and practices.⁵⁷

(c) Powers Not Conferred. On the other hand, it has been held that the general welfare clause does not authorize a city to aid in constructing a plank road or toll bridge by a private company beyond the corporate limits;⁵⁸ nor to require the proprietor of a theater, circus, or other licensed place of exhibition to pay a police officer for attendance upon the place;⁵⁹ nor to subject to a fine "any the corporate limits of the town. See also, generally, INTOXICATING LIQUORS.

Sunday observance generally see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (IX); and, generally, SUNDAY.

49. Morris v. Rome, 10 Ga. 532; State v. Freeman, 38 N. H. 426; Platteville v. Bell, 43 Wis. 488.

50. In re Hang Kie, 69 Cal. 149, 10 Pac. 327.

Laundry generally see infra, XI, A, 7, b; (VII), (H).

51. St. Charles v. Meyer, 58 Mo. 86; Washington v. Frank, 46 N. C. 436. See also McCaffrey v. Thomas, 4 Pennew. (Del.) 437, 56 Atl. 382; State v. Earnhardt, 107 N. C. 789, 12 S. E. 426. But see cases cited infra, note 65.

Protection of morals generally see infra, XI, A, 7, a, (IV).

52. New York v. Williams, 15 N. Y. 502.

Use of property generally see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VIII), (C).

53. Charleston v. Elford, 1 McMull. (S. C.) 234.

54. King v. Davenport, 98 Ill. 305, 38 Am. Rep. 89; Baumgartner v. Hasty, 100 Ind. 575, 50 Am. Rep. 830; Knoxville v. Bird, 12 Lea (Tenn.) 121, 49 Am. Rep. 326.

Fire regulations generally see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VIII), (B), (D).

55. St. Louis v. Schoenbusch, 95 Mo. 618, 8 S. W. 791.

General powers fairly include the power to pass an ordinance against cruelty to animals, although cruelty to animals is not one of the enumerated subjects of the police power. Porter v. Vinzant, 49 Fla. 213, 38 So. 607, 111 Am. St. Rep. 93.

Cruelty to animals generally see ANIMALS, 2 Cyc. 341 et seq.

Keeping and use of animals see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VIII), (C), (2).

56. Kinsley v. Chicago, 124 Ill. 359, 16 N. E. 260; Ketchum v. Buffalo, 14 N. Y. 356.

Dealing in food articles see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (N), (2).

Market regulation see infra, XII, C, 3.

57. Connecticut.—State v. McMahon, 76 Conn. 97, 55 Atl. 591, removing snow and ice or covering the same with sand within a reasonable time.

Illinois.—Osburn v. Chicago, 105 Ill. App. 217, elevation of tracks, so as to avoid grade crossings over public streets.

Iowa.—Bloomfield v. Trimble, 54 Iowa 399, 6 N. W. 586, 37 Am. Rep. 212, intoxication.

Kentucky.—Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Maysville, 69 S. W. 728, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 615, 63 L. R. A. 193, erection of safety gates at street crossings.

Minnesota.—Northwestern Tel. Exch. Co. v. Minneapolis, 81 Minn. 140, 83 N. W. 527, 86 N. W. 69, 53 L. R. A. 175, placing telegraph and telephone wires under ground.

Missouri.—Green City v. Holsinger, 76 Mo. App. 567, drunkenness. Compare St. Louis v. Meyrose Lamp Mfg. Co., 139 Mo. 560, 41 S. W. 244, 61 Am. St. Rep. 474, holding that an ordinance prohibiting the owners of steam boilers from employing as engineer any person who has not first obtained a permit from the boiler inspector, or a license from the board of engineers, and providing for the appointment of such officers and for the punishment of violations thereof, are regulations for the public safety, which the city has a right to pass under a charter giving it power to regulate the carrying on of any dangerous business, to make provision for the inspection of steam boilers, to license engineers using such boilers, and to provide for the election or appointment of officers required by the charter or authorized by ordinance.

New York.—Rochester v. West, 164 N. Y. 510, 58 N. E. 673 (height of hill boards); State v. Buffalo, 2 Hill 434 (authorizing the mayor to take measures for the safety and defense of the city by hiring arms and giving a bond for their safe return).

Pennsylvania.—Scranton City v. Straff, 28 Pa. Super. Ct. 258, operation of a merry-ground within a thousand feet of any public city park.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1321.

58. Montgomery v. Montgomery, etc., Plank-Road Co., 31 Ala. 76.

Territorial jurisdiction see supra, XI, A, 5.

59. Waters v. Leech, 3 Ark. 110.

person whose known character is that of a prostitute";⁶⁰ nor to levy taxes upon retailers of ardent spirits;⁶¹ nor to require druggists to furnish verified statements quarterly of the kind and quantity of intoxicating liquors sold, and to whom;⁶² nor to exact a license-fee from peddlers in the discretion of the mayor;⁶³ nor to require cotton merchants to keep a record of their purchases of loose cotton;⁶⁴ nor to prohibit street processions, with musical instruments, banners, torches, singing, and shouting;⁶⁵ nor to require a license-tax for a temporary stand for the sale of lemonade, cake, etc.;⁶⁶ nor to prescribe a different mode of trial and punishment, in addition to that provided by the state law, for enticing and harboring seamen;⁶⁷ nor to regulate and license the sale of liquors, in addition to the state regulation and license;⁶⁸ nor to prohibit the retail of liquors by one duly licensed by the state;⁶⁹ nor to forbid it during any divine service held within the corporate limits;⁷⁰ nor to make it unlawful to carry on a lawful trade or business in a lawful manner;⁷¹ nor to attempt similar excess of municipal authority.⁷²

(n) *PUBLIC PEACE AND ORDER*⁷³—(A) In General. The preservation of the public peace and order is the primary police function of a municipality.⁷⁴ Whatever contention may have arisen over municipal police power, the authority to preserve the peace and order of the municipality, to prevent the exercise of unlawful violence, and to compel citizens and sojourners to abstain from riot, rout, and unlawful assembly is regarded as an inherent municipal power essential to municipal life;⁷⁵ and so, whenever the authority has been mooted, it has been uniformly sustained,⁷⁶ in some cases even to the extent of the doubtful power of double pun-

60. Buell v. State, 45 Ark. 336.

Public morals see infra, XI, A, 7, a, (IV).

61. Ex p. Burnett, 30 Ala. 461; Asheville v. Means, 29 N. C. 406.

Sale of liquor generally see INTOXICATING LIQUORS.

62. Clinton v. Phillips, 58 Ill. 102, 11 Am. Rep. 52. See, generally, DRUGGISTS; INTOXICATING LIQUORS.

63. State Center v. Barenstein, 66 Iowa 249, 23 N. W. 652.

Hawkers and peddlers see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (B); and, generally, HAWKERS AND PEDDLERS.

64. Long v. Shelby County Taxing Dist., 7 Lea (Tenn.) 134, 40 Am. Rep. 55.

Mercantile business in general see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (M).

65. In re Frazee, 63 Mich. 396, 30 N. W. 72, 6 Am. St. Rep. 310. See also Reg. v. Nunn, 10 Ont. Pr. 395. But see cases cited supra, note 51.

66. Barling v. West, 29 Wis. 307, 9 Am. Rep. 576. See, generally, LICENSES.

Peddlers see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (B); XI, A, 8, c.

67. Savannah v. Hussey, 21 Ga. 80, 68 Am. Dec. 452.

Seamen generally see SEAMEN.

68. Loeb v. Attica, 82 Ind. 175, 42 Am. Rep. 494. See, generally, INTOXICATING LIQUORS.

69. Ex p. Burnett, 30 Ala. 461. See, generally, INTOXICATING LIQUORS; and supra, XI, A, 4, c, (I).

70. Gilham v. Wells, 64 Ga. 192.

Liquor-selling generally see INTOXICATING LIQUORS.

71. Cosgrove v. Augusta, 103 Ga. 835, 31 S. E. 445, 68 Am. St. Rep. 149, 42 L. R. A. 711.

72. Alabama.—Withers v. Coyles, 36 Ala. 320, requiring bond for behavior of slave.

Georgia.—Augusta v. Clark, 124 Ga. 254, 52 S. E. 881, penalty for usury.

Louisiana.—State v. Robertson, 45 La. Ann. 954, 13 So. 164, 40 Am. St. Rep. 272, providing for the inspection of steam boilers and creating a board of examiners therefor.

Michigan.—Grand Rapids v. Newton, 111 Mich. 48, 69 N. W. 84, 66 Am. St. Rep. 387, 35 L. R. A. 226.

North Carolina.—State v. Clay, 118 N. C. 1234, 24 S. E. 492.

Pennsylvania.—In re Pennsylvania R. Co., 213 Pa. St. 373, 62 Atl. 986, 3 L. R. A. N. S. 140 [reversing 27 Pa. Super. Ct. 113].

Tennessee.—Raleigh v. Dougherty, 3 Humphr. 11, 39 Am. Dec. 149.

Texas.—Mills v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 94 Tex. 242, 59 S. W. 874, 55 L. R. A. 497.

Virginia.—Wallace v. Richmond, 94 Va. 204, 26 S. E. 586, 36 L. R. A. 554.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1321.

73. Constitutionality of regulations in interest of public order see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 871.

74. See State v. Sherrard, 117 N. C. 716, 23 S. E. 157; Wilkes-Barre v. Garehed, 9 Kulp (Pa.) 273; and cases cited infra, note 75 et seq.

Mutilation of ornamental tree may be prohibited under this power. State v. Merrill, 37 Me. 329.

75. Love v. Judge Recorder's Ct., 128 Mich. 545, 87 N. W. 785, 55 L. R. A. 618; Vicksburg v. Briggs, 102 Mich. 551, 61 N. W. 1; State v. Bruekhauser, 26 Minn. 301, 3 N. W. 695. See also cases cited infra, note 76.

76. Colorado.—People v. Croot, 20 Colo. App. 256, 78 Pac. 310.

ishment.⁷⁷ For even those decisions which hold such double punishment to be violative of constitutional provision are not based upon the want of municipal authority, but upon the positive prohibition against putting a person twice in jeopardy.⁷⁸ Municipal regulations preservative of peace and order do not assume to punish crime against the state,⁷⁹ but are confined to small offenses and lighter demonstrations of violence and disorder tending to crime.⁸⁰ They are essentially means for the prevention of crime as well as the preservation of peace and order.⁸¹ Such regulations are indispensable to municipalities in those states which, as a measure of public policy, declare public corporations responsible for the public peace and preservation of private property,⁸² and make them absolutely liable for damages done by a mob within the corporate boundaries.⁸³

(B) Assault. The punishment of an assault, an offense at common law,⁸⁴ is not within the police power of a municipality,⁸⁵ unless it is committed publicly so as to disturb the public peace and order,⁸⁶ or unless under authority expressly delegated by the charter of the corporation.⁸⁷

Georgia.—Fitts v. Atlanta, 121 Ga. 567, 49 S. E. 793, 104 Am. St. Rep. 167, 67 L. R. A. 803.

Illinois.—Saxton v. Peoria, 75 Ill. App. 397.

Iowa.—Bloomfield v. Trimble, 54 Iowa 399, 6 N. W. 586, 37 Am. Rep. 212.

Kentucky.—Mt. Sterling v. Holly, 108 Ky. 621, 57 S. W. 491, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 358; Williamson v. Com., 4 B. Mon. 146.

Maine.—State v. Merrill, 37 Me. 329.

Massachusetts.—Com. v. Davis, 162 Mass. 510, 39 N. E. 113, 26 L. R. A. 712.

Michigan.—In re Bushey, 105 Mich. 64, 62 N. W. 1036; Vicksburg v. Briggs, 102 Mich. 551, 61 N. W. 1.

Minnesota.—State v. Cantieny, 34 Minn. 1, 24 N. W. 458. See also State v. Stone, 96 Minn. 482, 105 N. W. 187.

Missouri.—Independence v. Moore, 32 Mo. 392; Green City v. Holsinger, 76 Mo. App. 567.

New York.—People v. Pierce, 85 N. Y. App. Div. 125, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 79.

North Carolina.—State v. Earnhardt, 107 N. C. 789, 12 S. E. 426; State v. Cainan, 94 N. C. 880.

Ohio.—Esch v. Elyria, 27 Ohio Cir. Ct. 446.

Oregon.—See Corvallis v. Carlile, 10 Oreg. 139, 45 Am. Rep. 134.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1323. See also Ingersoll Pub. Corp. 352; and infra, note 77.

77. Illinois.—Hankins v. People, 106 Ill. 628.

Indiana.—Williams v. Warsaw, 60 Ind. 457.

Michigan.—See People v. Bay City, 36 Mich. 186.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Schoenbusch, 95 Mo. 618, 8 S. W. 791; Lebanon v. Gordon, 99 Mo. App. 277, 73 S. W. 222; State v. Muir, 86 Mo. App. 643; Kansas City v. Hallett, 59 Mo. App. 160.

New York.—Rogers v. Jones, 1 Wend. 237, 19 Am. Dec. 493.

Tennessee.—Greenwood v. State, 6 Baxt. 567, 32 Am. Rep. 539.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1323.

Former jeopardy rule see supra, XI, A, 4, b, (II).

78. People v. Hanrahan, 75 Mich. 611, 42 N. W. 1124, 4 L. R. A. 751; Ex p. Bourgeois, 60 Miss. 663, 45 Am. Rep. 420; State v. Keith, 94 N. C. 933. See also supra, XI, A, 4, b, (II).

79. See supra, XI, A, 4, b, (II), text and note 10.

80. Ex p. Slattery, 3 Ark. 484; Ingersoll Pub. Corp. 352. See also Ex p. Freeland, 38 Tex. Cr. 321, 42 S. W. 295 [distinguishing Leach v. State, 36 Tex. Cr. 248, 36 S. W. 471].

Petty offenses see supra, XI, A, 4, b, (II), note 4.

81. Vason v. Augusta, 38 Ga. 542. See also New Orleans v. Miller, 7 La. Ann. 651; Jefferson City v. Courtmire, 9 Mo. 692.

A charter right of control over highways, streets, alleys, and public grounds authorizes an ordinance forbidding the making of any public address in a public place within a half mile circle of the city hall, without first obtaining permission from the mayor. Love v. Judge Recorder's Ct., 123 Mich. 545, 97 N. W. 785, 55 L. R. A. 618. See also Fitts v. Atlanta, 121 Ga. 567, 49 S. E. 793, 104 Am. St. Rep. 167, 67 L. R. A. 803; Lincoln v. Boston, 148 Mass. 578, 20 N. E. 329, 12 Am. St. Rep. 601, 3 L. R. A. 257; Grand Rapids v. Newton, 111 Mich. 48, 69 N. W. 84, 66 Am. St. Rep. 387, 35 L. R. A. 226; Wilkes-Barre v. Garebed, 9 Kulp (Pa.) 273. See further infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII).

82. See infra, XIV. But see Campbell v. Montgomery, 53 Ala. 527, 25 Am. Rep. 656.

83. Liability for acts of mob see infra, XIV, A, 5, f.

84. Bass v. State, 6 Baxt. (Tenn.) 579; 1 Bacon Abr. 322; 3 Blackstone Comm. 120. See also ASSAULT AND BATTERY, 3 Cyc. 1070 et seq.

85. Walsch v. Union, 13 Oreg. 589, 11 Pac. 312; People v. Brown, 2 Utah 462.

86. Amboy v. Sleeper, 31 Ill. 499; Petersburg v. Metzker, 21 Ill. 205; State v. Bruckhauser, 26 Minn. 301, 3 N. W. 695. See also Mobile v. Allaire, 14 Ala. 400.

87. Avoca v. Heller, 129 Iowa 227, 105 N. W. 444.

(III) *PUBLIC HEALTH*⁸⁸—(A) In General. The preservation of the health of the population is uniformly recognized as a most important municipal function; and the power to adopt and enforce sanitary regulations appropriate to this end is inherent in a municipality.⁸⁹ Congested populations tend to breed disease as well as disorder, and since health as well as order is an essential condition of good living, and one of the primary purposes of municipal incorporation, sanitary powers may not only be expressly conferred by the charter,⁹⁰ or implied therefrom,⁹¹ but they have been judicially declared to be inherent in a municipality as a necessary attribute thereof,⁹² and are favored in American courts.⁹³ These powers have been exercised in ways innumerable.⁹⁴ However, authority given to pass ordinances to preserve health will not authorize ordinances for entirely different purposes.⁹⁵

(B) Powers Conferred. It has been accordingly held that a city may make such regulations as will insure pure milk.⁹⁶ So also it may regulate the cultivation of crops, such as rice, within the corporate limits;⁹⁷ the cleaning and care of sinks and cesspools;⁹⁸ the burial of the dead;⁹⁹ and the location and operation of

88. Constitutionality of regulations in interest of public health see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 868.

Health generally see HEALTH, 21 Cyc. 384.

Vaccination regulations see HEALTH, 21 Cyc. 393.

89. Dunham v. New Britain, 55 Conn. 378, 11 Atl. 354; Kennedy v. Phelps, 10 La. Ann. 227. See also Vason v. Augusta, 38 Ga. 542.

"The law of overruling necessity" is the term sometimes applied to the police power with respect to health. Lake View v. Rose Hill Cemetery Co., 70 Ill. 191, 22 Am. Rep. 71.

Rights, whether tenable or untenable, are held subject to police power with reference to health and things hurtful to the public. Northwestern Fertilizing Co. v. Hyde Park, 70 Ill. 634.

90. New Orleans v. Hop Lee, 104 La. 601, 29 So. 214; Sprigg v. Garrett Park, 89 Md. 406, 43 Atl. 813.

A statute is constitutional which confers authority upon the supervisors of San Francisco to make all regulations which may be necessary or expedient for the preservation of the public health. Johnson v. Simonton, 43 Cal. 242.

91. Anderson v. O'Conner, 98 Ind. 168.

Under general welfare clause see supra, XI, A, 7, a, (1), (B), text and note 44.

92. Gundling v. Chicago, 176 Ill. 340, 52 N. E. 44, 48 L. R. A. 230. See also Greensboro v. Ehrenreich, 80 Ala. 579, 2 So. 725, 60 Am. Rep. 130; Monroe v. Lawrence, 44 Kan. 607, 24 Pac. 1113, 10 L. R. A. 520; Butler's Appeal, 1 Pa. Cas. 219, 1 Atl. 604.

A municipal corporation has incidental power to enact sanitary regulations, but if an ordinance goes beyond or outside of this power it cannot be sustained thereunder. St. Paul v. Laidler, 2 Minn. 190, 72 Am. Dec. 89.

93. Ingersoll Pub. Corp. 354.

It is the policy of the law to favor such legislation as being humane and essential to the preservation and protection of the community. Municipalities are allowed a greater degree of liberty of legislation in this direction than any other. Gundling v. Chicago, 176 Ill. 340, 52 N. E. 44, 48 L. R. A. 230.

94. State v. Davidson, 50 La. Ann. 1297, 24 So. 324, 69 Am. St. Rep. 478; Com. v. Huhley, 172 Mass. 58, 51 N. E. 448; 70 Am. St. Rep. 242, 42 L. R. A. 403; State v. McMahon, 69 Minn. 265, 72 N. W. 79, 38 L. R. A. 675; Cartwright v. Cohoes, 39 N. Y. App. Div. 69, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 731 [affirmed in 165 N. Y. 631, 59 N. E. 1120]. See also Bissell v. Davison, 65 Conn. 183, 32 Atl. 348, 29 L. R. A. 251.

Particular matters within or not within such power see infra, XI, A, 7, b.

As the exigencies of each case are varying, the cases are innumerable where the health of the inhabitants of the municipality may be in some degree endangered. Gundling v. Chicago, 176 Ill. 340, 52 N. E. 44, 48 L. R. A. 230.

95. Raleigh v. Dougherty, 3 Humphr. (Tenn.) 11, 39 Am. Dec. 149, such as a breach of the peace. See supra, XI, A, 7, a, (1), (A), text and notes 42, 43.

96. State v. Dupaquier, 46 La. Ann. 577, 15 So. 502, 49 Am. St. Rep. 334, 26 L. R. A. 162; People v. Vandecarr, 81 N. Y. App. Div. 128, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 1108 [affirmed in 175 N. Y. 440, 67 N. E. 913, 108 Am. St. Rep. 791]. See also Johnson v. Simonton, 43 Cal. 242; St. Louis v. Fischer, 167 Mo. 654, 67 S. W. 872, 99 Am. St. Rep. 614, 64 L. R. A. 679.

Dealing in food products see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (N), (2).

97. Green v. Savannah, 6 Ga. 1; Summer-ville v. Pressley, 33 S. C. 56, 11 S. E. 545, 26 Am. St. Rep. 659, 8 L. R. A. 854.

98. State v. McMahon, 69 Minn. 265, 72 N. W. 79, 38 L. R. A. 675; Nicoulin v. Lowery, 49 N. J. L. 391, 8 Atl. 513.

Removal of filth, etc., see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VI).

99. Ex p. Bohen, 115 Cal. 372, 47 Pac. 55, 36 L. R. A. 618; Graves v. Bloomington, 17 Ill. App. 476; Coates v. New York, 7 Cow. (N. Y.) 585; Austin v. Austin City Cemetery Assoc., 87 Tex. 330, 28 S. W. 528, 47 Am. St. Rep. 114.

slaughter-houses.¹ It is competent also for the city to establish quarantine regulations,² pest-houses and places of detention,³ and to exclude, remove, or detain persons affected with, or who have been exposed to, contagious or infectious diseases.⁴ It may regulate also the removal of dead bodies,⁵ dead animals, and garbage,⁶ and compel citizens to prepare the same for removal at minimum expense;⁷ and generally may suppress nuisances to the public health.⁸

(iv) *PUBLIC MORALS*⁹—(A) In General. Municipalities are not general guardians of the public morals,¹⁰ and therefore may not unduly interfere with the Burials see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (II).

1. Ex p. Heilbron, 65 Cal. 609, 4 Pac. 648; Huesing v. Rock Island, 128 Ill. 463, 21 N. E. 558, 15 Am. St. Rep. 129; Beiling v. Evansville, 144 Ind. 644, 42 N. E. 621, 35 L. R. A. 272; Watertown v. Mayo, 109 Mass. 315, 12 Am. Rep. 694.

Slaughter-houses generally see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (J).

2. Train v. Boston Disinfecting Co., 144 Mass. 523, 11 N. E. 929, 59 Am. Rep. 113. Compare Waters v. Townsend, 65 Ark. 613, 47 S. W. 1054.

Quarantine regulations see HEALTH, 21 Cyc. 391.

3. See Frazer v. Chicago, 186 Ill. 480, 57 N. E. 1055, 18 Am. St. Rep. 296, 51 L. R. A. 306; Chicago v. Peck, 98 Ill. App. 434 [affirmed in 196 Ill. 260, 63 N. E. 711]; Clinton v. Clinton County, 61 Iowa 205, 16 N. W. 87; Elliot v. Kalkaska, 58 Mich. 452, 25 N. W. 461, 55 Am. Rep. 706. But compare Mitchell v. Rockland, 45 Me. 496.

Hospitals generally see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (G).

4. Frazer v. Chicago, 186 Ill. 480, 57 N. E. 1055, 78 Am. St. Rep. 296, 51 L. R. A. 306; Chicago v. Peck, 98 Ill. App. 434 [affirmed in 196 Ill. 260, 63 N. E. 711]; Anderson v. O'Conner, 98 Ind. 168; Harrison v. Baltimore, 1 Gill (Md.) 264. See also Hurst v. Warner, 102 Mich. 238, 60 N. W. 440, 47 Am. St. Rep. 525, 26 L. R. A. 484; Levin v. Burlington, 129 N. C. 184, 39 S. E. 822, 55 L. R. A. 396.

Ordinance requiring boats coming from any place infected with malignant or contagious disease to anchor in the middle of the stream and stay there until inspected by the municipal health officer is a valid exercise of police power. Dubois v. Augusta, Dudley (Ga.) 30.

5. Wyse v. New Jersey Bd. Police Com'rs, 68 N. J. L. 127, 52 Atl. 281, holding that a municipal board, invested with authority by a city charter to make rules for the government of the police department, may lawfully adopt rules regulating the removal of dead bodies from the streets and public places by delivery to friends or relatives claiming them, or to the morgue.

Burials generally see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (II).

6. California.—Ex p. Casinello, 62 Cal. 538.

Georgia.—Schoen v. Atlanta, 97 Ga. 697, 25 S. E. 380, 33 L. R. A. 804.

Massachusetts.—In re Vandine, 6 Pick. 187, 17 Am. Dec. 351.

Michigan.—Grand Rapids v. De Vries, 123 Mich. 570, 82 N. W. 269.

Nebraska.—Iler v. Ross, 64 Nebr. 710, 90 N. W. 869, 97 Am. St. Rep. 676, 57 L. R. A. 895; Smiley v. MacDonald, 42 Nebr. 5, 60 N. W. 355, 47 Am. St. Rep. 684, 27 L. R. A. 540.

United States.—Alpers v. San Francisco, 32 Fed. 503, 12 Sawy. 631.

See 33 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1325.

Removal of dead animals see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VI), (D).

Removal of garbage see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VI), (C).

7. Grand Rapids v. De Vries, 123 Mich. 570, 82 N. W. 269; San Francisco Sanitary Reduction Works v. California Reduction Co., 94 Fed. 693.

8. Alabama.—Ferguson v. Selma, 43 Ala. 398.

Arkansas.—Waters v. Townsend, 65 Ark. 613, 47 S. W. 1054; Harvey v. Dewoody, 18 Ark. 252.

Connecticut.—Dunham v. New Britain, 55 Conn. 378, 11 Atl. 354.

Georgia.—Smith v. Collier, 118 Ga. 306, 45 S. E. 417; Vason v. Augusta, 38 Ga. 542.

Louisiana.—Kennedy v. Phelps, 10 La. Ann. 227; Municipality No. 1 v. Wilson, 5 La. Ann. 747.

Massachusetts.—Baker v. Boston, 12 Pick. 184, 22 Am. Dec. 421.

Mississippi.—Lake v. Aberdeen, 57 Miss. 260.

New Jersey.—Manhattan Mfg., etc., Co. v. Van Keuren, 23 N. J. Eq. 251.

North Carolina.—Hellen v. Noe, 25 N. C. 493.

United States.—In re Ah Lung, 45 Fed. 684, forbidding sale of opium, etc.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1325.

Cigarettes see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 868 note 86. Power to require license for sale of cigarettes is given cities by a statute authorizing them to regulate inspection of tobacco, to pass all necessary police ordinances, and make regulations for promotion of health. Gundling v. Chicago, 176 Ill. 340, 52 N. E. 44, 48 L. R. A. 230.

Nuisances generally see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VI).

9. Constitutionality of regulations in interest of public morals see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 870.

10. See Poyer v. Des Plaines, 18 Ill. App. 225; Chariton v. Barber, 54 Iowa 360, 6 liberty of the citizen by ordinances forbidding acts not unlawful or harmful per se.¹¹ Even express authority for such ordinances must be strictly construed in passing upon their validity.¹²

(B) Obscenity. Nevertheless a municipality may enact ordinances forbidding particular acts of obscenity which are unlawful,¹³ or which tend to corrupt the public morals.¹⁴

N. W. 528, 37 Am. Rep. 209; State v. Wister, 62 Mo. 592.

11. Arkansas.—Buell v. State, 45 Ark. 336 [following Paralee v. Camden, 49 Ark. 165, 4 S. W. 654, 4 Am. St. Rep. 35], holding that under its power to suppress bawdy-houses, etc., to prevent indecent and disorderly conduct, to punish lewd behavior in public places, and to make ordinances to promote morals, etc., a municipal corporation cannot declare one "whose known character is that of a prostitute" guilty of an offense.

Kentucky.—McNulty v. Toof, 116 Ky. 202, 75 S. W. 258, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 430; Gastenan v. Com., 108 Ky. 473, 56 S. W. 705, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 157, 94 Am. St. Rep. 386, 49 L. R. A. 111, holding that a city ordinance declaring that it shall be unlawful for any woman to go in and out of a building where a saloon is kept for the sale of liquor, or "to frequent, loaf, or stand around said building within fifty feet thereof," and providing for the punishment of any saloonkeeper who shall permit a violation of the provision of the ordinance, is void as being an unreasonable interference with individual liberty. Compare Hechinger v. Maysville, 57 S. W. 619, 22 Ky. L. Rep. 486, 49 L. R. A. 114, holding that a city ordinance that it shall be unlawful for any person, "other than the husband, father, brother or male relative, to associate, escort, converse or loiter with any female known as a common prostitute, either by day or by night, upon any of the streets or alleys of the city," is invalid, as "male relatives" other than the husband, father, or brother should not be excepted, and a mother or sister should not be excepted, and any person should be allowed to converse with such prostitute long enough to transact any necessary and legitimate business; but with these exceptions the ordinance is a proper exercise of the police power.

Minnesota.—State v. Hammond, 40 Minn. 43, 41 N. W. 243, holding that that part of an ordinance which imposes a penalty upon "any person who commits any act of lewdness or indecency within the limits of said city" to be void, because it is in excess of the power vested in the city council.

North Carolina.—State v. Webber, 107 N. C. 962, 12 S. E. 598, 22 Am. St. Rep. 920, holding that authority to suppress bawdy-houses does not include power to provide by ordinance that "circumstances from which it may reasonably be inferred that any house is inhabited or frequented by disorderly persons, or persons of notorious bad character, shall be sufficient to establish that such house is a disorderly house, or house of ill fame."

Ohio.—Cady v. Barnesville, 4 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 396, 2 Clev. L. Rep. 100 (holding that a statute giving power to punish lewd conduct on the street and in other public places does not authorize a municipal ordinance against walking, riding, standing, or conversing on any public ground within the corporation with a lewd woman); O'Brien v. Cleveland, 4 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 189, 1 Clev. L. Rep. 100.

Utah.—Ogden City v. McLaughlin, 5 Utah 387, 16 Pac. 721, holding that neither the charter of Ogden, giving it power to punish prostitutes, nor Comp. Laws, p. 697, § 9, giving power to the city to suppress bawdy-houses, and punish the keepers thereof, authorizes an ordinance making it an offense to resort to a house of ill fame for lewdness.

Legislating on weight and sufficiency of evidence.—An ordinance, in declaring that the entrance or exit of any person from any saloon during the hours specified that same should be closed should be prima facie evidence of its violation is invalid, as an attempt to legislate on the weight and effect of evidence. McNulty v. Toof, 116 Ky. 202, 75 S. W. 258, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 430. To the same effect see State v. Webber, 107 N. C. 962, 12 S. E. 598, 22 Am. St. Rep. 920.

Where an act is not essentially criminal under the law of the state, a municipal ordinance will not make it so. Huron v. Carter, 5 S. D. 4, 57 N. W. 947.

12. Arkansas.—Buell v. State, 45 Ark. 336.

Minnesota.—State v. Hammond, 40 Minn. 43, 41 N. W. 243.

North Carolina.—State v. Webber, 107 N. C. 962, 12 S. E. 598, 22 Am. St. Rep. 920.

Ohio.—Cady v. Barnesville, 4 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 396, 2 Clev. L. Rep. 100.

Utah.—Ogden City v. McLaughlin, 5 Utah 387, 16 Pac. 721.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1326.

Particular matters within or not within such power see infra, XI, A, 7, b.

13. O'Brien v. Cleveland, 4 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 189, 1 Clev. L. Rep. 100. See also Shreveport v. Roos, 35 La. Ann. 1010. But compare State v. Hammond, 40 Minn. 43, 41 N. W. 243.

Obscene literature see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 871 note 2. See also, generally, OBSCENITY.

14. Grand Rapids v. Bateman, 93 Mich. 135, 53 N. W. 6.

Sale or distribution of literature tending to affect the public morals see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 870. Under Ohio Rev. St. § 1692, it is within the power of a mu-

(c) Profanity. A power to prohibit practices which are against good morals and public decency will authorize an ordinance prohibiting and punishing profanity.¹⁵

b. Particular Subjects — (i) INTRODUCTORY STATEMENT. In addition to what has already been said as to its police power, either under its general powers with respect to the public safety and welfare,¹⁶ the public peace and order,¹⁷ the public health,¹⁸ or the public morals,¹⁹ or under some power expressly delegated or granted by necessary implication to it for that purpose,²⁰ a more detailed discussion seems necessary with respect to some of the particular subjects of municipal regulation,²¹ under the proper exercise of its police power.²²

(ii) BURIALS AND CEMETERIES. Under the general powers as to public safety, welfare, health, etc.,²³ or under an express or implied grant of power for the purpose,²⁴ it is within the power of the municipality to regulate burials and burial places within its limits.²⁵

(iii) *DISORDERLY HOUSES.*²⁶ Disorderly houses²⁷ may become a proper subject for municipal police regulation,²⁸ sometimes under its general powers as to public safety, welfare, health, etc.,²⁹ and sometimes under an express or implied grant of power for the purpose.³⁰ Such express or implied power may include municipal corporation to prohibit by ordinance the publication of obscene matter. O'Brien v. Cleveland, 4 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 189, 1 Clev. L. Rep. 100.

15. Ex p. Delaney, 43 Cal. 478, holding this to be true whether the language is uttered frequently or upon one occasion only. See also PROFANITY.

16. See supra, XI, A, 7, a, (i).

17. See supra, XI, A, 7, a, (ii).

18. See supra, XI, A, 7, a, (iii).

19. See supra, XI, A, 7, a, (iv).

20. See supra, XI, A, 2.

21. See infra, XI, A, 7, b.

22. Exercise of police power see infra, XI, A, 8.

23. Graves v. Bloomington, 17 Ill. App. 476. See also supra, XI, A, 7, a, (i), (b).

24. People v. Pratt, 129 N. Y. 68, 29 N. E. 7, (1892) 30 N. E. 64; Austin v. Austin City Cemetery Assoc., 87 Tex. 330, 28 S. W. 528, 47 Am. St. Rep. 114. See also supra, XI, A, 2, 4.

25. California.—Ex p. Bohlen, 115 Cal. 372, 47 Pac. 55, 36 L. R. A. 618.

Illinois.—Graves v. Bloomington, 17 Ill. App. 476.

New Jersey.—Wyse v. New Jersey Police Com'rs, 68 N. J. L. 127, 52 Atl. 281.

New York.—People v. Pratt, 129 N. Y. 68, 29 N. E. 7, 30 N. E. 64; Coates v. New York, 7 Cow. 585.

Texas.—Austin v. Austin City Cemetery Assoc., 87 Tex. 330, 28 S. W. 528, 47 Am. St. Rep. 114.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1343; and CEMETERIES, 6 Cyc. 709 et seq.

Must be reasonable.—Austin v. Austin City Cemetery Assoc., 87 Tex. 330, 28 S. W. 528, 47 Am. St. Rep. 114.

26. Constitutionality of regulations see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 870.

27. Disorderly house generally see DISORDERLY HOUSES.

28. See cases cited infra, note 29 et seq.

[XI, A, 7, a, (iv), (c)]

Keeping a disorderly house is an offense at the common law (Childress v. Nashville, 3 Sneed (Tenn.) 347; 4 Blackstone Comm. 29, 64, 168. See also DISORDERLY HOUSES, 14 Cyc. 479 et seq.); and therefore peculiarly amenable to police regulations (People v. Miller, 38 Hun (N. Y.) 82; State v. Williams, 11 S. C. 238; Childress v. Nashville, supra).

Regulation.—The law empowering the city of St. Louis, "by ordinance not inconsistent with any law of the state . . . to regulate bawdy houses," is not void as against public policy or good morals. State v. Clarke, 54 Mo. 17, 14 Am. Rep. 471.

Suppression.—The legislature has the constitutional power to confer upon the common council of a city authority to prohibit, prevent, and suppress the keeping and leasing of houses of ill fame, and to restrain, suppress, and punish the keepers thereof, and the owners and lessors of such premises. People v. Hanrahan, 75 Mich. 611, 42 N. W. 1124, 4 L. R. A. 751.

29. State v. Williams, 11 S. C. 288; Childress v. Nashville, 3 Sneed (Tenn.) 347. See also supra, XI, A, 7, a, (i), (b), text and note 45.

30. Connecticut.—McAlister v. Clark, 33 Conn. 91.

Iowa.—State v. Botkin, 71 Iowa 87, 32 N. W. 185, 60 Am. Rep. 780; Chariton v. Barber, 54 Iowa 360, 6 N. W. 528, 37 Am. Rep. 209.

Michigan.—People v. Hanrahan, 75 Mich. 611, 42 N. W. 1124, 4 L. R. A. 751.

Missouri.—State v. Clarke, 54 Mo. 17, 14 Am. Rep. 471.

Nebraska.—Perry v. State, 37 Nebr. 623, 56 N. W. 315.

New York.—People v. Miller, 38 Hun 82.

North Carolina.—State v. Webber, 107 N. C. 962, 12 S. E. 598, 22 Am. St. Rep. 920.

Utah.—Ogden City v. McLaughlin, 5 Utah 387, 16 Pac. 721.

keepers,³¹ inmates,³² and owners³³ or lessors³⁴ of bawdy-houses,³⁵ and other places of resort habitually disorderly.³⁶ But the municipality may not under mere power to suppress declare these acts misdemeanors and punishable by imprisonment.³⁷

(IV) *EXPLOSIVES, ETC.*³⁸ Under its general powers as to public safety, welfare, health, etc.,³⁹ or under an express or implied grant of power for the purpose,⁴⁰ a municipality may regulate the keeping, using, and selling of explosives, etc., within the corporate limits.⁴¹ It may prescribe the maximum quantity of gunpowder, dynamite, nitroglycerin, hay, excelsior, or other combustible or inflammable material which may be stored in one place or kept in one house in the city;⁴² and may forbid any person to discharge any fire-arm in the streets or any public place,⁴³ or to carry a concealed pistol or weapon,⁴⁴ or to blast rock with explosives in the limits of the corporation.⁴⁵

(V) *GAMING.*⁴⁶ The existence and extent of municipal police power over

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1327. See also supra, XI, A, 2, 4.

Power to suppress bawdy-house does not carry with it the power to regulate morals. See supra, XI, A, 7, (IV), (A).

31. People v. Hanrahan, 75 Mich. 611, 42 N. W. 1124, 4 L. R. A. 751; People v. Miller, 38 Hun (N. Y.) 82; State v. Williams, 11 S. C. 288. Compare Shreveport v. Roos, 35 La. Ann. 1010, holding that the ordinance of Shreveport forbidding any one to "conduct a house of ill fame in an indecent manner" is not invalid for uncertainty, although it does not specify the acts of indecency which will render its keeper liable.

32. Perry v. State, 37 Nebr. 623, 56 N. W. 315; People v. Miller, 38 Hun (N. Y.) 82.

But not frequenters see Ogden City v. McLaughlin, 5 Utah 387, 16 Pac. 721.

33. People v. Hanrahan, 75 Mich. 611, 42 N. W. 1124, 4 L. R. A. 751; Childress v. Nashvile, 3 Sneed (Tenn.) 347. See also McAlister v. Clark, 33 Conn. 91.

34. People v. Hanrahan, 75 Mich. 611, 42 N. W. 1124, 4 L. R. A. 751.

35. But not every house or room in which prostitution is permitted see State v. Webber, 107 N. C. 962, 12 S. E. 598, 22 Am. St. Rep. 920.

36. State v. Botkin, 71 Iowa 87, 32 N. W. 185, 60 Am. Rep. 780.

37. Chariton v. Barber, 54 Iowa 360, 6 N. W. 528, 37 Am. Rep. 209. See State v. Webber, 107 N. C. 962, 12 S. E. 598, 22 Am. St. Rep. 920; Ogden City v. McLaughlin, 5 Utah 387, 16 Pac. 721.

38. Regulating explosives see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 868.

Regulating the keeping, use, and sale of explosives see EXPLOSIVES, 19 Cyc. 3.

39. California.—Ex p. Cheney, 90 Cal. 617, 27 Pac. 436.

Georgia.—Williams v. Augusta, 4 Ga. 509.

Indiana.—Richmond v. Dudley, (1891) 26 N. E. 184.

Massachusetts.—Com. v. Parks, 155 Mass. 531, 30 N. E. 174.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Vert, 84 Mo. 204.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1322. See also supra, XI, A, 7, a, (1), (B).

40. Cottonwood Falls v. Smith, 36 Kan.

401, 13 Pac. 576; Scranton v. Jermyn Oil Co., 5 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 277; Washington v. Eaton, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,228, 4 Cranch C. C. 352. See also supra, XI, A, 2, 4.

41. Frederick v. Augusta, 5 Ga. 561. See, generally, EXPLOSIVES.

42. California.—Dobbs v. Los Angeles, 139 Cal. 179, 72 Pac. 970, 96 Am. St. Rep. 95; Harley v. Heyl, 2 Cal. 477.

Georgia.—Frederick v. Augusta, 5 Ga. 561; Williams v. Augusta, 4 Ga. 509.

Illinois.—Standard Oil Co. v. Danville, 199 Ill. 50, 64 N. E. 1110; Laffin, etc., Powder Co. v. Tearney, 131 Ill. 322, 23 N. E. 289, 19 Am. St. Rep. 34, 7 L. R. A. 262; Wright v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 27 Ill. App. 200.

Indiana.—Richmond v. Dudley, (1891) 26 N. E. 184; Clark v. South Bend, 85 Ind. 276, 44 Am. Rep. 13.

Louisiana.—Waters Pierce Oil Co. v. New Iberia, 47 La. Ann. 863, 17 So. 343.

Massachusetts.—See Com. v. Parks, 155 Mass. 531, 30 N. E. 174.

Missouri.—Centralia v. Smith, 103 Mo. App. 438, 77 S. W. 488.

Montana.—Cameron v. Kenyon-Connell Commercial Co., 22 Mont. 312, 56 Pac. 358, 74 Am. St. Rep. 602, 44 L. R. A. 508.

New York.—Metropolitan Bd. of Health v. Schmades, 3 Daly 282.

Ohio.—Cotter v. Doty, 5 Ohio 393.

Pennsylvania.—Scranton v. Jermyn Oil Co., 5 Lanc. L. Rev. 277.

Virginia.—See Davenport v. Richmond City, 81 Va. 636, 59 Am. Rep. 694.

United States.—Hazard Powder Co. v. Volger, 58 Fed. 152, 7 C. C. A. 130.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1322.

43. Cottonwood Falls v. Smith, 36 Kan. 401, 13 Pac. 576; Washington v. Eaton, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,228, 4 Cranch C. C. 352.

44. Ex p. Cheney, 90 Cal. 617, 27 Pac. 436; Orrick v. Akers, 109 Mo. App. 662, 83 S. W. 549; St. Louis v. Vert, 84 Mo. 204 (brass knuckles); Abbeville v. Leopard, 61 S. C. 99, 39 S. E. 248. See, generally, WEAPONS.

45. Com. v. Parks, 155 Mass. 531, 30 N. E. 174.

46. Gaming generally see GAMING, 20 Cyc. 873 et seq.

gaming and gambling houses is wholly and peculiarly dependent upon the charter or general laws, gaming not being an offense at the common law,⁴⁷ while keeping a gambling house is.⁴⁸ What is unlawful gaming is to be determined by statute.⁴⁹ The municipality may not regulate but may suppress unlawful practices, including lotteries,⁵⁰ book-making,⁵¹ pool-selling,⁵² gambling and keeping gambling houses or devices,⁵³ visiting at gambling houses,⁵⁴ but not billiard or pool tables and the like,⁵⁵ unless expressly authorized by statute.⁵⁶ A license-fee on a tenpin alley or the like cannot be imposed by ordinance without legislative authority.⁵⁷ The power given to regulate⁵⁸ does not necessarily carry the power to suppress.⁵⁹

47. See GAMING, 20 Cyc. 878.

48. Lord v. State, 16 N. H. 325, 41 Am. Dec. 729; Rex v. Rogier, 1 B. & C. 272, 2 D. & R. 431, 25 Rev. Rep. 393, 8 E. C. L. 117; Rex v. Higginson, 2 Barr. 1232; Rex v. Dixon, 10 Mod. 335; 4 Blackstone Comm. 168; Roscoe Cr. Ev. 743. See also GAMING, 20 Cyc. 893.

49. See Mt. Pleasant v. Breeze, 11 Iowa 399; Tarkio v. Cook, 120 Mo. 1, 25 S. W. 202, 41 Am. St. Rep. 678; Plattsburg v. Trimble, 46 Mo. App. 459.

A grant of power "to suppress gaming and gambling houses" includes the power to suppress "gaming"; but when the crime of gaming is defined, and the punishment therefor prescribed by the law of the state, the city is not authorized to suppress any game not prohibited by such law, or to punish any person playing thereat; but it is confined to the use of such means as may be within its power to enforce the state law within its limits. In re Lee Tong, 18 Fed. 253, 9 Sawy. 333.

50. Portland v. Yick, 44 Oreg. 439, 75 Pac. 706, 102 Am. St. Rep. 633. See also Kansas City v. Hallett, 59 Mo. App. 160; and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 870.

51. Chicago v. Brownell, 41 Ill. App. 70.

52. Louisville v. Wehmoff, 79 S. W. 201, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1924. See also Chicago v. Brownell, 41 Ill. App. 70.

Under the California constitution authorizing the city and county of San Francisco to make and enforce within its limits such police regulations as are not in conflict with general laws, an ordinance prohibiting the sale of pools, etc., on horse-races, "except within the inclosure of a race-track where such trial or contest is to take place," is valid, since, although its incidental effect may be to confer special privileges on the owners of race tracks, its purpose is to restrain gambling of the character mentioned, which is a proper subject of police regulation. Ex p. Tuttle, 91 Cal. 589, 27 Pac. 933.

53. Chicago v. Brownell, 41 Ill. App. 70; White v. Com., 92 S. W. 285, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 1312; State v. Grimes, 49 Minn. 443, 52 N. W. 42; Greenville v. Kemmis, 58 S. C. 427, 36 S. E. 727, 79 Am. St. Rep. 843, 50 L. R. A. 725. See also CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 870.

Policy.—Under Conn. Gen. St. § 2573, empowering common councils of cities to make ordinances to suppress gaming, an ordinance punishing any person managing a place or shop for the purpose of playing or allowing others to play the game or scheme commonly known as "policy" is not invalid on the ground that said statute does not create or define the offense prohibited in the ordinance, prescribe the penalty, make the acts described criminal, or empower common councils to make them so; the power granted being adequate, and "policy playing" being a phrase in such current use as to need no definition. State v. Flint, 63 Conn. 248, 28 Atl. 28; State v. Carpenter, 60 Conn. 97, 22 Atl. 497.

Telegraph bets on races.—To maintain a place of any character where persons are allowed to bet on telegraph bets on races of any sort is an act prohibited by Pen. Code (1895), § 398, and such act cannot, in the absence of express legislative authority, be made penal by a municipal ordinance. Throver v. Atlanta, 124 Ga. 1, 52 S. E. 76, 110 Am. St. Rep. 147, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 382.

54. Ex p. Lane, 76 Cal. 587, 18 Pac. 677.

55. Breninger v. Belvidere, 44 N. J. L. 350.

56. Burlingame v. Thompson, 74 Kan. 393, 86 Pac. 449; Clearwater v. Bowman, 72 Kan. 92, 82 Pac. 526.

Under the charter of the city of Madison, approved Feb. 14, 1848, it was held that the council had a right by ordinance to suppress bowling saloons, or to permit them to exist under such restraints as the council might see fit to impose. Smith v. Madison, 7 Ind. 86.

57. Goetler v. State, 45 Ark. 454. See, generally, LICENSES.

58. State v. Hay, 29 Me. 457, valid ordinance.

59. In re McMonies, (Nebr. 1906) 106 N. W. 456; State v. McMonies, (Nebr. 1906) 106 N. W. 454.

Regulation by license.—Where the only legislative authority conferred by the charter of a city with reference to billiard saloons and pool-rooms is to license such places by ordinance, the power to license is to be construed as a power to regulate through the license ordinance, and the city council may thereby impose such reasonable terms and conditions as may be necessary to make the license issued in pursuance thereof efficacious as a police regulation; but in the absence of further authority to regulate or control such places, the council would not be authorized, as against existing licensees at least, to impose new or additional conditions, not required or contemplated by the ordinances under which the licenses were issued, or to

(VI) *NUISANCE, GARBAGE, REFUSE, ETC.*⁶⁰—(A) In General. While municipal charters usually contain the necessary grants of power over nuisances, including authority to declare, prevent, and remove the same,⁶¹ it is primarily within the power of a municipality under its general grants of power to determine and declare what is a nuisance to health; and the courts will not interfere with this discretion except in case of obvious abuse.⁶² A municipality cannot, however, make a thing a nuisance by merely declaring it to be such;⁶³ but it is limited to such things as the common law or statute declares to be nuisances,⁶⁴ and perhaps provide and enforce penalties for the violation thereof. State v. Pamperin, 42 Minn. 320, 44 N. W. 251. A provision in a village charter giving it authority to pass by-laws to suppress and restrain all description of gaming, such as billiard tables, etc., confers a power to license. In re Snell, 58 Vt. 207, 1 Atl. 566.

60. Exercise of power and abatement of nuisance see infra, XI, A, 8, e.

Regulation of noises see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 875.

61. Colorado.—Denver v. Mullen, 7 Colo. 345, 3 Pac. 693.

Illinois.—Northwestern Fertilizing Co. v. Hyde Park, 70 Ill. 634; Block v. Jacksonville, 36 Ill. 301.

Indiana.—Rushville Natural Gas Co. v. Morristown, 30 Ind. App. 455, 66 N. E. 179.

Louisiana.—Municipality No. 1 v. Wilson, 5 La. Ann. 747. See also New Orleans v. Lambert, 14 La. Ann. 247.

Minnesota.—St. Paul v. Haugbro, 93 Minn. 59, 100 N. W. 470, 106 Am. St. Rep. 427, 66 L. R. A. 441. Compare St. Paul v. Gilfillan, 36 Minn. 298, 31 N. W. 49.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Galt, 179 Mo. 8, 77 S. W. 876, 63 L. R. A. 778.

New York.—Rogers v. Barker, 31 Barb. 447; Hickok v. Plattsburgh, 15 Barb. 427; Clark v. Syracuse, 13 Barb. 32; Lewis v. Dodge, 17 How. Pr. 237.

Pennsylvania.—Philadelphia v. Brabender, 17 Pa. Super. Ct. 331; Butler's Appeal, 1 Pa. Cas. 219, 1 Atl. 604.

Texas.—Ex p. Glass, (Cr. App. 1905) 90 S. W. 1108.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1338.

Legislation creating or fixing the powers of county boards of health should not be construed as intended to detract from the powers of a municipal government to make ordinances for the regulation and suppression of nuisances. Nicoulin v. Lowery, 49 N. J. L. 391, 8 Atl. 513.

62. Alabama.—Ferguson v. Selma, 43 Ala. 398.

Arkansas.—Waters v. Townsend, 65 Ark. 613, 47 S. W. 1054; Harvey v. Dewoody, 18 Ark. 252.

Connecticut.—Dunham v. New Britain, 55 Conn. 378, 11 Atl. 354.

Georgia.—Smith v. Collier, 118 Ga. 306, 45 S. E. 417; Vason v. Augusta, 38 Ga. 542.

Illinois.—Langel v. Bushnell, 197 Ill. 20, 63 N. E. 1086, 53 L. R. A. 266; Gundling v. Chicago, 176 Ill. 340, 52 N. E. 44, 48 L. R. A. 230.

Louisiana.—Kennedy v. Phelps, 10 La. Ann. 227.

Maryland.—Harrison v. Baltimore, 1 Gill 264.

Massachusetts.—Baker v. Boston, 12 Pick. 184, 22 Am. Dec. 421.

Mississippi.—Lake v. Aberdeen, 57 Miss. 260.

New Jersey.—Manhattan Mfg., etc., Co. v. Von Keuren, 23 N. J. Eq. 251.

New York.—Rochester v. Simpson, 134 N. Y. 414, 31 N. E. 871 [reversing 57 Hun 36, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 499]; Hart v. Albany, 9 Wend. 571, 24 Am. Dec. 165.

North Carolina.—Hellen v. Noe, 25 N. C. 493.

Pennsylvania.—Shrack v. Coatesville, 6 Pa. Dist. 425, 19 Pa. Co. Ct. 334.

Under general health provision see supra, XI, A, 7, a, (III).

Right to enumerate and declare nuisances with regard to public health see HEALTH, 21 Cyc. 393 et seq.

Open cattle yards and pens within the corporate limits, where cattle in numbers are congregated and kept for feeding and fattening purposes, belong to that class of things which "must necessarily" become nuisances, and may be abated under a general prohibitive ordinance declaring it a nuisance to so keep cattle within the corporate limits. Opeulous v. Norman, 51 La. Ann. 736, 25 So. 401.

Must be reasonable.—In re Vandine, 6 Pick. (Mass.) 187, 17 Am. Dec. 351.

63. Arkadelphia v. Clark, 52 Ark. 23, 11 S. W. 957, 20 Am. St. Rep. 154; and cases cited infra, notes 64–69.

A by-law to prohibit the beating of drums simply, without evidence of the noise being unusual or calculated to disturb, is ultra vires and invalid; and the refusal to receive evidence on the prisoner's behalf is a valid ground for her discharge. Reg. v. Nunn, 10 Ont. Pr. 395.

64. Colorado.—Denver v. Mullen, 7 Colo. 345, 3 Pac. 693.

Illinois.—Des Plaines v. Poyer, 123 Ill. 348, 14 N. E. 677, 5 Am. St. Rep. 524; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Joliet, 79 Ill. 25.

Iowa.—Everett v. Council Bluffs, 46 Iowa 66.

Kentucky.—Krickle v. Com., 1 B. Mon. 361.

Louisiana.—Laviosa v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., McGloin 299.

Mississippi.—Quintini v. Bay St. Louis, 64 Miss. 483, 1 So. 625, 60 Am. Rep. 62.

New Jersey.—Hutton v. Camden, 39 N. J. L.

those things which in their nature may be nuisances, but as to which there may be honest differences of opinion in impartial minds.⁶⁵ A municipality cannot arbitrarily and without support of reason or fact declare that which is harmless a nuisance;⁶⁶ nor, although empowered by law declare what shall constitute a nuisance, can it declare that to be a nuisance which is not such in fact.⁶⁷ Again, 122, 23 Am. Rep. 203; New Jersey R., etc., Co. v. Jersey City, 29 N. J. L. 170.

Ohio.—Whitcomb v. Springfield, 3 Ohio Cir. Ct. 244, 2 Ohio Cir. Dec. 138.

Pennsylvania.—Com. v. Yost, 11 Pa. Super. Ct. 323.

West Virginia.—Davis v. Davis, 40 W. Va. 464, 21 S. E. 906.

United States.—Yates v. Milwaukee, 10 Wall. 497, 19 L. ed. 984.

Canada.—See Reg. v. Nunn, 10 Ont. Pr. 395.

Unless the particular use of property comes within the common-law or statutory idea of a nuisance, the municipality cannot declare it to be a nuisance, although its charter purports to confer upon it power to prevent and restrain nuisances and declare what shall be and constitute a nuisance. Grossman v. Oakland, 30 Oreg. 478, 41 Pac. 5, 60 Am. St. Rep. 332, 36 L. R. A. 593.

Obstructions of navigation and the like may be declared to be nuisances. Rogers v. Barker, 31 Barb. (N. Y.) 447; Hickok v. Plattsburgh, 15 Barb. (N. Y.) 427; Clark v. Syracuse, 13 Barb. (N. Y.) 32; Lewis v. Dodge, 17 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 229; Hart v. Albany, 9 Wend. (N. Y.) 571, 24 Am. Dec. 165.

65. Laugel v. Bushnell, 96 Ill. App. 618 [affirmed in 197 Ill. 20, 63 N. E. 1086, 58 L. R. A. 266]; Pittsburg v. W. H. Keech Co., 21 Pa. Super. Ct. 548, holding that the corporate officers of a city, having power "to provide for the safety, preserve the health, promote the prosperity and improve the morals, order, comfort and convenience of the corporation and the inhabitants thereof" may by ordinance duly enacted, not manifestly unreasonable or oppressive, nor unwarrantably discriminatory, prohibit things which were not public nuisances at common law; and that the fact that it declares the thing prohibited a public nuisance would be no ground for denying validity to the penal provision of the ordinance.

In Illinois the rule has been well stated in Laugel v. Bushnell, 197 Ill. 20, 26, 63 N. E. 1086, 58 L. R. A. 266 [distinguishing and explaining Harmison v. Lewistown, 153 Ill. 313, 36 N. E. 628, 46 Am. St. Rep. 893; Emmons v. Lewiston, 132 Ill. 380, 24 N. E. 58, 22 Am. St. Rep. 540, 8 L. R. A. 328; Des Plaines v. Poyer, 123 Ill. 348, 14 N. E. 677, 5 Am. St. Rep. 524; North Chicago City R. Co. v. Lake View, 105 Ill. 207, 44 Am. Rep. 788]. In that case Boggs, J., said: "Nuisances may thus be classified: first, those which in their nature are nuisances per se or are so denounced by the common law or by statute; second, those which in their nature are not nuisances but may become so by reason of their locality, surroundings or the manner in which they may be conducted, managed, etc.; third, those which in their nature may be nuisances, but as to which there may be honest differences of opinion in impartial minds. The power granted by the statute to the governing bodies of municipal corporations to declare what shall be nuisances and to abate the same, etc., authorizes such bodies to conclusively denounce those things falling within the first and third of these classes to be nuisances, but as to those things falling within the second class the power possessed is only to declare such of them to be nuisances as are in fact so. With these distinctions kept clearly in view no difficulty will be found in harmonizing the decisions in question."

Drum-beating and horn-blowing in the street may be restrained. In re Gribben, 5 Okla. 379, 47 Pac. 1074. See also cases cited supra, notes 51, 65.

Forbidding carpet cleaning in certain locality is allowable. Ex p. Lacey, 108 Cal. 326, 41 Pac. 411, 49 Am. St. Rep. 93, 38 L. R. A. 640.

Rock-crushing machines.—Under Kansas City charter, giving the council power by ordinance to define what shall be nuisances, and to prevent, abate, and remove them, an ordinance is valid by which operating a rock-crushing machine in any block wherein there are three dwellings occupied is declared to be a nuisance; and it is no defense that the machine was in operation before the ordinance passed, and is of the most modern kind, and as complete as possible. Kansas City v. McAleer, 31 Mo. App. 433.

66. Arkansas.—Ward v. Little Rock, 41 Ark. 526, 48 Am. Rep. 46.

Illinois.—Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Joliet, 79 Ill. 25; Poyer v. Des Plaines, 18 Ill. App. 225.

Iowa.—Everett v. Council Bluffs, 46 Iowa 66.

Kentucky.—Boyd v. Frankfort, 117 Ky. 199, 77 S. W. 669, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1311, 111 Am. St. Rep. 240.

New Jersey.—New Jersey R., etc., Co. v. Jersey City, 29 N. J. L. 170.

Oregon.—Grossman v. Oakland, 30 Oreg. 478, 41 Pac. 5, 60 Am. St. Rep. 832, 36 L. R. A. 593.

Pennsylvania.—Bryan v. Chester, 212 Pa. St. 259, 61 Atl. 894, 108 Am. St. Rep. 870.

Canada.—Reg. v. Nunn, 10 Ont. Pr. 395. See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1338.

67. Arkansas.—Arkadelphia v. Clark, 52 Ark. 23, 11 S. W. 957, 20 Am. St. Rep. 154; Ward v. Little Rock, 41 Ark. 526, 48 Am. Rep. 46.

Colorado.—Denver v. Mullen, 7 Colo. 345, 3 Pac. 693.

the power to regulate not giving the power to prohibit,⁶⁸ a municipality may not absolutely forbid the sale of meat or second-hand clothing, or other lawful business not in itself necessarily a nuisance.⁶⁹

(b) Smoke and Offensive Odors. Within the general rules just stated,⁷⁰ the "smoke nuisance" is firmly established by repeated decisions as within the police power of the municipality over nuisances; and it seems that it is competent for a municipality to prescribe what fuel may be used;⁷¹ and its power to legislate against the noxious and offensive effects of smoke is generally sustained,⁷³ although some cases deny it.⁷⁴

(c) Filth, Garbage, and Refuse. Garbage, refuse, and filth⁷⁵ are also within

Illinois.—Carthage v. Munsell, 203 Ill. 474, 67 N. E. 831; Des Plaines v. Poyer, 123 Ill. 348, 14 N. E. 677, 5 Am. St. Rep. 524; Harmon v. Chicago, 110 Ill. 400, 51 Am. Rep. 698; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Joliet, 79 Ill. 25; Carthage v. Duvall, 105 Ill. App. 123; Munsell v. Carthage, 105 Ill. App. 119.

Indiana.—Evansville v. Miller, 146 Ind. 613, 45 N. E. 1054, 38 L. R. A. 161; Mt. Vernon First Nat. Bank v. Sarlls, 129 Ind. 201, 28 N. E. 434, 28 Am. St. Rep. 185, 13 L. R. A. 481.

Iowa.—Everett v. Council Bluffs, 46 Iowa 66.

Kentucky.—Boyd v. Frankfort, 117 Ky. 199, 77 S. W. 669, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1311, 111 Am. St. Rep. 240.

Louisiana.—Opelousas v. Norman, 51 La. Ann. 736, 25 So. 401.

Maryland.—State v. Mott, 61 Md. 297, 48 Am. Rep. 105.

Michigan.—Wreford v. People, 14 Mich. 41.

Mississippi.—Comfort v. Kosciusko, 88 Miss. 611, 41 So. 268; Ex p. O'Leary, 65 Miss. 80, 3 So. 144, 7 Am. St. Rep. 640.

New Jersey.—State v. Jersey City, 29 N. J. L. 170.

Ohio.—Cincinnati v. Miller, 11 Ohio Dec. (reprint) 788, 29 Cinc. L. Bul. 364.

Oregon.—Grossman v. Oakland, 30 Oreg. 478, 41 Pac. 5, 60 Am. St. Rep. 832, 36 L. R. A. 593.

Pennsylvania.—Pittsburg v. W. H. Keech Co., 21 Pa. Super Ct. 548. See also Bryan v. Chester, 212 Pa. St. 259, 61 Atl. 894, 108 Am. St. Rep. 870.

United States.—Yates v. Milwaukee, 10 Wall. 497, 505, 19 L. ed. 984, where it is said: "This would place every house, every business, and all the property of the city, at the uncontrolled will of the temporary local authorities."

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1338; and CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 872.

What constitutes a nuisance and whether a question of law or of fact see NUISANCES.

Prohibiting the building of a fence along the side of any railroad within that part of the city which is laid out in lots and blocks and declaring that any such fence so built will be a nuisance is void. Grossman v. Oakland, 30 Oreg. 478, 41 Pac. 5, 60 Am. St. Rep. 832, 36 L. R. A. 593.

68. State v. Mott, 61 Md. 297, 48 Am. Rep.

105; State v. Taft, 118 N. C. 1190, 23 S. E. 970, 54 Am. St. Rep. 768, 32 L. R. A. 122.

69. Alabama.—Greensboro v. Ehrenreich, 80 Ala. 579, 2 So. 725, 60 Am. Rep. 130.

Georgia.—Harrison v. Brooks, 20 Ga. 537.

Iowa.—Shiras v. Olinger, 50 Iowa 571,

33 Am. Rep. 138.

Louisiana.—Crowley v. West, 52 La. Ann. 526, 27 So. 53, 78 Am. St. Rep. 355, 47 L. R. A. 652.

Maryland.—State v. Mott, 61 Md. 297, 48 Am. Rep. 105.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1338.

70. See supra, XI, A, 7, b, (VI), (A).

71. St. Paul v. Haugbro, 93 Minn. 59, 100 N. W. 470, 106 Am. St. Rep. 427, 66 L. R. A. 441; New York Health Dept. v. Ebling Brewing Co., 78 N. Y. Suppl. 11. But compare St. Paul v. Gilfillan, 36 Minn. 298, 31 N. W. 49, where there was no delegation of authority over nuisances.

Regulation of dust see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 875.

Regulation of smoke see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 873.

Must be reasonable.—St. Louis v. Heitzberg Packing, etc., Co., 141 Mo. 375, 42 S. W. 954, 64 Am. St. Rep. 516, 39 L. R. A. 551.

72. Brooklyn v. Nassau Electric R. Co., 44 N. Y. App. Div. 462, 61 N. Y. Suppl. 33.

73. St. Paul v. Haugbro, 93 Minn. 59, 100 N. W. 470, 106 Am. St. Rep. 427, 66 L. R. A. 441; People v. Horton, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 309, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 942; New York Health Dept. v. Ebling Brewing Co., 78 N. Y. Suppl. 11; Glucose Refining Co. v. Chicago, 138 Fed. 209.

Regulation of offensive odors see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 873.

Prohibition of tobacco-smoking in street cars is a reasonable exercise of the police power by a municipality. State v. Heidenhain, 42 La. Ann. 483, 7 So. 621, 21 Am. St. Rep. 388.

74. Jersey City v. Abercrombie, (N. J. Sup. 1904) 58 Atl. 73; Sigler v. Cleveland, 4 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 166, 3 Ohio N. P. 119; Pittsburg v. W. H. Keech Co., 21 Pa. Super Ct. 548.

75. California.—Ex p. Gughmini, (1905) 81 Pac. 958; In re Zhizhuzza, 147 Cal. 323, 81 Pac. 955; Ex p. Casinello, 62 Cal. 538.

Illinois.—Chicago v. Stratton, 58 Ill. App. 539, forbidding livery stable in certain locality.

the rules relating to municipal police power over nuisances.⁷⁶ Under its power not only to abate, but to prevent, nuisances,⁷⁷ a municipality may by contract provide for removal,⁷⁸ or may require owners to care for or remove garbage, offal, and filth,⁷⁹ or to deposit the same at stated time and places for removal by employees;⁸⁰

Indiana.—Walker v. Jameson, 140 Ind. 591, 37 N. E. 402, 39 N. E. 869, 49 Am. St. Rep. 222, 28 L. R. A. 679, 683.

Louisiana.—State v. Payssan, 47 La. Ann. 1029, 17 So. 481, 49 Am. St. Rep. 390, vegetable and animal matter.

Maryland.—Boehm v. Baltimore, 61 Md. 259.

Massachusetts.—Haley v. Boston, 191 Mass. 291, 77 N. E. 888, 5 L. R. A. N. S. 1005; Com. v. Cutter, 156 Mass. 52, 29 N. E. 1146.

Michigan.—People v. Bennett, 83 Mich. 457, 47 N. W. 250; People v. Gordon, 81 Mich. 306, 45 N. W. 658, 21 Am. St. Rep. 524.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Weitzel, 130 Mo. 600, 31 S. W. 1045; State v. Beattie, 16 Mo. App. 131, offensive stable.

Nebraska.—Coombs v. MacDonald, 43 Nebr. 632, 62 N. W. 41.

New Jersey.—Atlantic City v. Abbott, 73 N. J. L. 281, 62 Atl. 999.

New York.—New Rochelle v. Clark, 65 Hun 140, 19 N. Y. Suppl. 989. See also Cartwright v. Cohoes, 39 N. Y. App. Div. 69, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 731 [affirmed in 165 N. Y. 631, 59 N. E. 1120], offensive vaults.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1341. See also cases cited infra, notes 77 et seq.

Under general health provision see supra, XI, A, 2, c, text and notes 9, 15.

Filth defined see 19 Cyc. 532.

Garbage defined see 20 Cyc. 967. An ordinance providing that no person other than the city contractor or its agents shall convey or transport through the streets or public places of the city any garbage, dead animals, etc., found within the city limits, and that the word "garbage" shall include all refuse of animal and vegetable matter which has been used for food, and all the refuse animal and vegetable matter which was intended to be so used, and includes condemned food, is unconstitutional, being repugnant to U. S. Const. Amendm. 14. Bauer v. Casey, 26 Ohio Cir. Ct. 598.

No conflict in several ordinances.—An ordinance regulating the keeping and removal of "garbage, grease, offal and other refuse matter composed of either animal or vegetable matter," is not in conflict with a prior one declaring that "the word 'garbage' shall be construed to mean kitchen offal and other refuse matter composed of either animal or vegetable substances," or one making it include "every accumulation of both animal and vegetable matter, liquid or otherwise, that attends the preparation, decay, and dealing in or storage of meats, fish, fowls, birds or vegetables," so as to render applicable a city charter provision that no ordinance conflicting with a previous ordinance shall be valid until the prior ordinance is expressly repealed. St. Louis v. Weitzel, 130 Mo. 600, 31 S. W. 1045.

76. See supra, XI, A, 7, b, (vi), (A).

77. Balch v. Utica, 168 N. Y. 651, 61 N. E. 1127 [affirming 42 N. Y. App. Div. 562, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 513]. See also St. Louis v. Weitzel, 130 Mo. 600, 31 S. W. 1045.

78. Connecticut.—State v. Orr, 68 Conn. 101, 35 Atl. 770, 34 L. R. A. 279.

Indiana.—Walker v. Jameson, 140 Ind. 591, 37 N. E. 402, 39 N. E. 869, 49 Am. St. Rep. 222, 28 L. R. A. 679, 683.

Louisiana.—State v. Payssan, 47 La. Ann. 1029, 17 So. 481, 49 Am. St. Rep. 390.

Nebraska.—Coombs v. MacDonald, 43 Nebr. 632, 62 N. W. 41.

New Jersey.—Atlantic City v. Abbott, 73 N. J. L. 281, 62 Atl. 999.

New York.—Balch v. Utica, 42 N. Y. App. Div. 562, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 513 [affirmed in 168 N. Y. 651, 61 N. E. 1127].

United States.—California Reduction Co. v. San Francisco Sanitary Reduction Works, 126 Fed. 29, 61 C. C. A. 91 [affirmed in 199 U. S. 306, 26 S. Ct. 100, 50 L. ed. 204].

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1341.

79. Com. v. Cutter, 156 Mass. 52, 29 N. E. 1146; Grand Rapids v. De Vries, 123 Mich. 570, 82 N. W. 269.

Manure.—The provision that "the keeper of any livery or other stable shall keep the stable and stable-yard clean, and shall not permit, between the first day of June and the first day of November, more than two cart-loads of manure to accumulate in or near the same at any one time" relates only to stable and stable-yards, and gives no right to deposit manure in alleys. People v. Bennett, 83 Mich. 457, 47 N. W. 250.

On land abutting on a private way.—A city ordinance providing that no owner or occupant of land abutting on a private way shall suffer any filth to remain on that part of the way adjoining his land is not indefinite because it attaches a penalty, if one "shall suffer any filth . . . to remain" in the way, rather than provide a time beyond which it should not be allowed to remain. Com. v. Cutter, 156 Mass. 52, 29 N. E. 1146.

Prohibiting throwing into street.—Both under the constitution and under the act of April 25, 1863, the San Francisco board of supervisors have power to make it an offense to throw garbage, etc., into the public streets, etc. Ex p. Casinello, 62 Cal. 538.

80. Grand Rapids v. De Vries, 123 Mich. 570, 82 N. W. 269.

Placing in boxes.—An ordinance providing that garbage shall be collected only by the city's licensed agent, and that the parties producing garbage shall place it in boxes for removal by such agent at their expense, and a contract empowering the contractor to collect such garbage and to charge a specified price per pound, are a valid sanitary regulation. Walker v. Jameson, 140 Ind. 591, 37 N. E. 402, 39 N. E. 869, 49 Am. St. Rep. 222, 28 L. R. A. 679, 683.

and it may prescribe the times and mode of removal and disposition,⁸¹ forbid removal by unlicensed persons,⁸² and give a monopoly thereof by contract for a period of years.⁸³

81. Grand Rapids v. De Vries, 123 Mich. 570, 82 N. W. 269; People v. Gordon, 81 Mich. 306, 45 N. W. 658, 21 Am. St. Rep. 524. See also Ex p. Gughmini, (Cal. 1905) 81 Pac. 958; In re Zhizhuzza, 147 Cal. 328, 81 Pac. 955; Walker v. Jameson, 140 Ind. 591, 37 N. E. 402, 39 N. E. 869, 49 Am. St. Rep. 222, 28 L. R. A. 679, 683.

Exclusive right of city to remove.—The city of Oakland, having charter power to declare what shall constitute a nuisance and abate the same, and to regulate business of every description that may endanger the public safety, health, and comfort, had jurisdiction to pass an ordinance providing that the city should have the exclusive right to remove garbage, and providing for a small fee for the removal thereof, recoverable by civil action. Ex p. Gughmini, (Cal. 1905) 81 Pac. 958; Ex p. Zhizhuzza, 147 Cal. 328, 81 Pac. 955.

Difference in charges for removal.—A city ordinance providing that the city should have exclusive charge of the removal of garbage and providing a different charge for garbage removed from a private dwelling-house from that removed from any shop, store, or business house was not thereby rendered invalid for non-uniformity. Ex p. Gughmini, (Cal. 1905) 81 Pac. 958; Ex p. Zhizhuzza, 147 Cal. 328, 81 Pac. 955.

Manner and vehicles to be used in removing garbage, etc., and the place of depositing it and the method of disposing of it may be prescribed by the city. State v. Payssan, 47 La. Ann. 1029, 17 So. 481, 49 Am. St. Rep. 390; People v. Gordon, 81 Mich. 306, 45 N. W. 658, 21 Am. St. Rep. 524; Iler v. Ross, 64 Nebr. 710, 90 N. W. 869, 97 Am. St. Rep. 676, 57 L. R. A. 895.

Removal in open wagon.—A conviction for removing garbage in an open wagon, contrary to an ordinance of the city of Detroit, which provides that all garbage shall be collected in water-tight, closed carts, will be affirmed, as the restrictions imposed by the ordinance are reasonable, and authorized by the city charter (Loc. Acts 1889) giving the council power to regulate the handling of garbage. People v. Gordon, 81 Mich. 306, 45 N. W. 658, 21 Am. St. Rep. 524.

Time for burning rubbish.—A village ordinance providing that no rubbish "shall be set on fire or burnt in any street, at any time, or in any lot of the village, except between the rising and setting of the sun," forbids fires in the streets at all times, but permits them in a lot between sunrise and sunset. New Rochelle v. Clark, 65 Hun (N. Y.) 140, 19 N. Y. Suppl. 989.

82. Connecticut.—State v. Orr, 68 Conn. 101, 35 Atl. 770, 34 L. R. A. 279.

Indiana.—Walker v. Jameson, 140 Ind. 591, 37 N. E. 402, 39 N. E. 869, 49 Am. St. Rep. 222, 28 L. R. A. 679, 683.

Maryland.—Boehm v. Baltimore, 61 Md. 259.

Massachusetts.—Haley v. Boston, 191 Mass. 291, 77 N. E. 888, 5 L. R. A. N. S. 1008; In re Vandine, 6 Pick. 187, 17 Am. Dec. 351.

Michigan.—De Lano v. Doyle, 120 Mich. 258, 79 N. W. 188.

Nebraska.—Iler v. Ross, 64 Nebr. 710, 90 N. W. 869, 97 Am. St. Rep. 676, 57 L. R. A. 895.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1341.

But compare Bauer v. Casey, 26 Ohio Cir. Ct. 598.

Duly authorized contractor.—An ordinance which limits the use of the public streets for the collection of garbage or refuse matter that may become dangerous to the public health to the duly authorized contractor of the city is a valid exercise of the police power, if passed in good faith to safeguard the public health. Atlantic City v. Abbott, 73 N. J. L. 281, 62 Atl. 999.

Permit to remove ashes.—Boston City Ordinances, c. 33, § 1, declaring that the street department shall remove from yards and areas, when so placed as to be easily removed, all ashes accumulated from the burning of materials for heating buildings or for domestic purposes, and all noxious and refuse substances, and chapter 47, section 18, that no person other than employees of the city engaged in public work shall in any street, carry house dirt, house offal, or other refuse matter, except in accordance with a permit from the board of health, in so far as it applies to ashes, relates only to house ashes as distinguished from steam-engine ashes coming from factories or similar sources. Haley v. Boston, 191 Mass. 291, 77 N. E. 888, 5 L. R. A. N. S. 1005.

83. Colorado.—Ouray v. Corson, 14 Colo. App. 345, 59 Pac. 876.

Connecticut.—State v. Orr, 68 Conn. 101, 35 Atl. 770, 34 L. R. A. 279.

Maryland.—Boehm v. Baltimore, 61 Md. 259.

Massachusetts.—In re Vandine, 6 Pick. 187, 17 Am. Dec. 351.

Michigan.—Grand Rapids v. De Vries, 123 Mich. 570, 82 N. W. 269.

Nebraska.—Iler v. Ross, 64 Nebr. 710, 90 N. W. 869, 97 Am. St. Rep. 676, 57 L. R. A. 895; Coombs v. MacDonald, 43 Nebr. 632, 62 N. W. 41; Smiley v. MacDonald, 42 Nebr. 5, 60 N. W. 355, 47 Am. St. Rep. 684, 27 L. R. A. 540.

United States.—California Reduction Co. v. San Francisco Sanitary Reduction Works, 199 U. S. 306, 26 S. Ct. 100, 50 L. ed. 204 [affirming 126 Fed. 29, 61 C. C. A. 91]; San

(D) Dead Animals. The death of a domestic animal does not terminate the owner's property in it,⁸⁴ and the municipal authorities cannot arbitrarily deprive him of his property by giving it to another.⁸⁵ While he may be required to dispose of the carcass so that it will not become a nuisance,⁸⁶ he is entitled to a reasonable time for the removal of the carcass.⁸⁷ He may remove the carcass by the agency of others as well as by himself.⁸⁸ The carcass may be seized by the municipality only when it is about to become, and to prevent it from becoming, a nuisance;⁸⁹ but to this end it may regulate, license, and contract for removal of all carcasses of animals not slaughtered for food,⁹⁰ even though it thereby creates a temporary monopoly.⁹¹

(VII) *OCCUPATIONS AND BUSINESSES*⁹²—(A) In General. The only regula-

Francisco Sanitary Reduction Works v. California Reduction Co., 94 Fed. 693.

Contra.—Knauer v. Louisville, 45 S. W. 510, 46 S. W. 701, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 193, 41 L. R. A. 219, holding that an ordinance of this kind is void as unreasonable and confiscatory.

Grant of exclusive privilege see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 1039; and, generally, LICENSES.

A city cannot grant an exclusive privilege to one person to enter private premises for the purpose of gathering and removing, at the owner's expense, rubbish and waste materials which, unless they are allowed to accumulate in unreasonable quantities, are not per se nuisances. Iler v. Ross, 64 Nebr. 710, 90 N. W. 869, 97 Am. St. Rep. 676, 57 L. R. A. 895.

Monopoly to remove dead animals see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VI), (D).

84. Mann v. District of Columbia, 22 App. Cas. (D. C.) 138; Campbell v. District of Columbia, 19 App. Cas. (D. C.) 131.

85. Mann v. District of Columbia, 22 App. Cas. (D. C.) 138; Campbell v. District of Columbia, 19 App. Cas. (D. C.) 131; Richmond v. Caruthers, 103 Va. 774, 50 S. E. 265, 70 L. R. A. 1005.

86. Mann v. District of Columbia, 22 App. Cas. (D. C.) 138; Campbell v. District of Columbia, 19 App. Cas. (D. C.) 131; Richmond v. Caruthers, 103 Va. 774, 50 S. E. 265, 70 L. R. A. 1005.

Under general health provision see supra, XI, A, 2, c, text and note 15.

87. Alpers v. Brown, 60 Cal. 447; Mann v. District of Columbia, 22 App. Cas. (D. C.) 138; Campbell v. District of Columbia, 19 App. Cas. (D. C.) 131; Meyer v. Jones, 49 S. W. 809, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 1632; State v. Morris, 47 La. Ann. 1660, 18 So. 710; Underwood v. Green, 42 N. Y. 140.

Where time allowed to remove is reasonable, an ordinance granting an exclusive privilege to another for removing the same is not invalid as creating a monopoly or depriving the owner of his property without due process of law. National Fertilizer Co. v. Lambert, 48 Fed. 458.

88. Mann v. District of Columbia, 22 App. Cas. (D. C.) 138; Campbell v. District of Columbia, 19 App. Cas. (D. C.) 131.

This includes the right to dispose of it by sale and the removal of the dead carcass by the vendee. Mann v. District of Columbia, 22

App. Cas. (D. C.) 138; Campbell v. District of Columbia, 19 App. Cas. (D. C.) 131.

89. State v. Morris, 47 La. Ann. 1660, 18 So. 710; River Rendering Co. v. Behr, 77 Mo. 91, 46 Am. Rep. 6 [reversing 7 Mo. App. 345]; Richmond v. Caruthers, 103 Va. 774, 50 S. E. 265, 70 L. R. A. 1005; National Fertilizer Co. v. Lambert, 48 Fed. 458.

90. Morgan v. Cincinnati, 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 280, 12 Cinc. L. Bul. 41; Richmond v. Caruthers, 103 Va. 774, 50 S. E. 265, 70 L. R. A. 1005. See also Greensboro v. Ehrenreich, 80 Ala. 579, 2 So. 725, 60 Am. Rep. 130; Ex p. Casinello, 62 Cal. 538; Alpers v. Brown, 60 Cal. 447; Campbell v. District of Columbia, 19 App. Cas. (D. C.) 131; Schoen v. Atlanta, 97 Ga. 697, 25 S. E. 380, 33 L. R. A. 804; Vantrees v. McGee, 26 Ind. App. 525, 60 N. E. 318; Knauer v. Louisville, 45 S. W. 510, 46 S. W. 701, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 193, 41 L. R. A. 219; State v. Morris, 47 La. Ann. 1660, 18 S. W. 710; In re Vandine, 6 Pick. (Mass.) 187, 17 Am. Dec. 351; Grand Rapids v. De Vries, 123 Mich. 570, 82 N. W. 269; River Rendering Co. v. Behr, 77 Mo. 91, 46 Am. Rep. 6; Iler v. Ross, 64 Nebr. 710, 90 N. W. 869, 97 Am. St. Rep. 676, 57 L. R. A. 895; Smiley v. MacDonald, 42 Nebr. 5, 60 N. W. 355, 47 Am. St. Rep. 684, 27 L. R. A. 540; Underwood v. Green, 42 N. Y. 140; Alpers v. San Francisco, 32 Fed. 503, 12 Sawy. 631.

Permit from board of health may be required for the removing or carrying through its streets of the bodies of dead animals. Morgan v. Cincinnati, 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 280, 12 Cinc. L. Bul. 41.

91. Louisville v. Wible, 84 Ky. 290, 1 S. W. 605, 8 Ky. L. Rep. 361; River Rendering Co. v. Behr, 77 Mo. 91, 46 Am. Rep. 6 [reversing 7 Mo. App. 345] (holding, however, that a municipal ordinance conferring upon one person the right to remove and appropriate all carcasses of animals found in the city and not slain for food, to the exclusion of the owners, is void as to carcasses which have not become a nuisance); State v. Fisher, 52 Mo. 174; Morgan v. Cincinnati, 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 280, 12 Cinc. L. Bul. 41; National Fertilizer Co. v. Lambert, 48 Fed. 458; Alpers v. San Francisco, 32 Fed. 503, 12 Sawy. 631.

Monopoly to remove garbage, etc., see supra, XI, A, 7, b, (VI), (C).

92. Constitutionality of regulations see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 872.

tions⁹³ which a municipality may make in respect to business, trade, or occupation, under its inherent police power, being such as it has authority to make under its general powers as to public safety, welfare, health, etc.,⁹⁴ power to make any other rule or regulation⁹⁵ is not inherent,⁹⁶ but must be granted by the state either expressly or by obvious implication.⁹⁷ In the exercise of its authorized police power to that Occupation as nuisance see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (B)-(N); and supra, XI, A, 7, b, (VI). City may regulate a business when that business may be regarded as a nuisance. See CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 872.

Particular occupations and businesses subject to regulation: Auctions and auctioneers and the like see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (B). Bridges see infra, IX, A, 7, b, (VII), (E). Brokers and their business see FACTORS AND BROKERS, 19 Cyc. 187 et seq. Commission merchants and their business see FACTORS AND BROKERS, 19 Cyc. 116. Dealers in food articles see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (N). Dealers in intoxicating liquors see INTOXICATING LIQUORS, 23 Cyc. 43. Disorderly houses see supra, XI, A, 7, b, (III). Druggists see DRUGGISTS. Entertainments, amusements, etc., see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 870; THEATERS AND SHOWS. Factors and their business see FACTORS AND BROKERS, 19 Cyc. 116. Ferries see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (E). Gaming see supra, XI, A, 7, b, (V). Hackmen and the like see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (F). Hawkers and the like see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (B). Hospitals see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (G). Hotel runners see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (F). Inns and innkeepers see INNKEEPERS, 22 Cyc. 1386 et seq. Laundries see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (H). Livery-stable keeper see LIVERY-STABLE KEEPERS, 25 Cyc. 1504 et seq. Mercantile business in general see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (M). Notary see NOTARIES. Particular dealers see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (N). Pawnbrokers see PAWNBROKERS; and infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (B). Railroads see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (I). Slaughter-houses see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (J). Storage houses see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (K). Street railroads see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (I). Telegraph business see TELEGRAPHS AND TELEPHONES; and infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (D). Telephone business see TELEGRAPHS AND TELEPHONES; and infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (D). Theater business see THEATERS AND SHOWS. Transportation see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (L). Vehicles see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (L). Warehousemen see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 875; WAREHOUSEMEN; and infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (K). Wharfingers see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 875; and WHARVES. See also LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 614 et seq.

93. An express grant of power is usually given for making such regulations. See cases cited infra, note 97 et seq. See also LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 600.

94. Georgia.—Odell v. Atlanta, 97 Ga. 670, 25 S. E. 173.

Louisiana.—New Orleans v. Costello, 14 La. Ann. 37.

Missouri.—Bluedoru v. Missouri Pac. R.

Co., 108 Mo. 439, 18 S. W. 1103, 32 Am. St. Rep. 615.

New Jersey.—Muhlenbrinck v. Long Branch Com'rs, 42 N. J. L. 364, 36 Am. Dec. 518.

United States.—Ward v. Washington, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,163, 4 Cranch C. C. 232.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1344 et seq. See also supra, XI, A, 7, a.

Against imposition and fraud.—The police power of a state is not confined to regulations looking to the preservation of life, health, good order, and decency, and laws providing for the detection and prevention of imposition and fraud as a general rule are free from constitutional objection. People v. Wagner, 86 Mich. 594, 49 N. W. 609, 24 Am. St. Rep. 141, 13 L. R. A. 286.

A so-called "business," conducted for the purpose of enabling persons to bet upon horse-races, although not made criminal by any statute, is contrary to public policy, and is not such a useful or necessary occupation as that a city may not, by appropriate ordinance, make penal and prevent the carrying on of the same. Odell v. Atlanta, 97 Ga. 670, 25 S. E. 173.

95. See cases cited infra, note 97 et seq.

96. See cases cited infra, note 97.

Power is not inherent see AUCTIONS AND AUCTIONEERS, 4 Cyc. 1039; HAWKERS AND PEDDLERS, 21 Cyc. 366.

97. Arkansas.—Mena v. Smith, 64 Ark. 363, 42 S. W. 831; Ex p. Martin, 27 Ark. 467.

Illinois.—Chicago v. Phoenix Ins. Co., 126 Ill. 276, 18 N. E. 668 [affirming 26 Ill. App. 650]; Cairo v. Coleman, 53 Ill. App. 680; Keim v. Chicago, 46 Ill. App. 445; McKinney v. Alton, 41 Ill. App. 508.

Indiana.—Elkhart v. Lipschitz, 164 Ind. 671, 74 N. E. 528; Beiling v. Evansville, 144 Ind. 644, 42 N. E. 621, 35 L. R. A. 272; Shuman v. Ft. Wayne, 127 Ind. 109, 26 N. E. 560, 11 L. R. A. 378; Smith v. Madison, 7 Ind. 86.

Iowa.—Burlington v. Lawrence, 42 Iowa 681; State v. Smith, 31 Iowa 493.

Kentucky.—Simrall v. Covington, 90 Ky. 444, 14 S. W. 369, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 404, 29 Am. St. Rep. 398, 9 L. R. A. 556.

Louisiana.—State v. Itzcovitch, 49 La. Ann. 366, 21 So. 544, 62 Am. St. Rep. 643, 37 L. R. A. 673; New Iberia v. Mignes, 32 La. Ann. 923; Plaquemine v. Roth, 29 La. Ann. 261.

Maryland.—Cambridge v. Cambridge Water Co., 99 Md. 501, 58 Atl. 442.

Michigan.—See People v. Wagner, 86 Mich. 594, 49 N. W. 609, 24 Am. St. Rep. 141, 13 L. R. A. 286.

Minnesota.—State v. McMahon, 69 Minn.

effect a municipality may regulate an occupation or business⁹⁸ which it may not prohibit;⁹⁹ and for this purpose it may require a license where it has no power of taxation;¹ or, when authorized to do so, it may impose an occupation or license-tax,² or both require such a license and impose such a tax.³ Such regulations, however, are void if they are unreasonable,⁴ and they must not be 265, 72 N. W. 79, 38 L. R. A. 675; St. Paul v. Stoltz, 33 Minn. 233, 22 N. W. 634.

Missouri.—Dunlap v. Canton, 35 Mo. 189; Knox City v. White, 19 Mo. App. 528; Knox City v. Thompson, 19 Mo. App. 523.

New York.—Dunham v. Rochester, 5 Cow. 462.

Ohio.—White v. Kent, 11 Ohio St. 550; Frank v. Cincinnati, 7 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 544, 5 Ohio N. P. 520, 7 Ohio N. P. 146.

Pennsylvania.—Warren v. Geer, 117 Pa. St. 207, 11 Atl. 415; Com. v. Wagner, 9 Pa. Co. Ct. 625; Gettysburg v. Zeigler, 2 Pa. Co. Ct. 326.

Tennessee.—Long v. Shelby County Taxing Dist., 7 Lea 134, 40 Am. Rep. 55.

Texas.—Ex p. Garza, 28 Tex. App. 381, 13 S. W. 779, 19 Am. St. Rep. 845.

Vermont.—Winooski v. Gokey, 49 Vt. 282.

Canada.—Jonas v. Gilbert, 5 Can. Sup. Ct. 356; Merritt v. Toronto, 25 Ont. 256.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1344 et seq.

Power must be expressly conferred by the state see AUCTIONS AND AUCTIONEERS, 4 Cyc. 1039; HAWKERS AND PEDDLERS, 21 Cyc. 366. See also cases cited infra, note 99 et seq.

Power to prohibit, remove, and regulate any business or occupation carries with it the power to impose any conditions whatever. St. Louis v. Fischer, 167 Mo. 654, 67 S. W. 872, 99 Am. St. Rep. 614, 64 L. R. A. 679 [affirmed in 194 U. S. 361, 24 S. Ct. 673, 48 L. ed. 1018]; St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Kirkwood, 159 Mo. 239, 60 S. W. 110, 53 L. R. A. 300; St. Louis v. Howard, 119 Mo. 41, 24 S. W. 770, 41 Am. St. Rep. 630.

98. Particular occupations, etc., see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (B) et seq.

99. California.—Addison v. Saulnier, 19 Cal. 82.

Connecticut.—Welch v. Hotchkiss, 39 Conn. 140, 12 Am. Rep. 383.

Georgia.—Morton v. Macou, 111 Ga. 162, 36 S. E. 627, 50 L. R. A. 485; Johnston v. Macon, 62 Ga. 645; Hill v. Decatur, 22 Ga. 203.

Illinois.—Wiggins v. Chicago, 68 Ill. 372; East St. Louis v. Wehrung, 46 Ill. 392; Chicago v. Hardy, 66 Ill. App. 524.

Indiana.—Goshen v. Kern, 63 Ind. 468, 30 Am. Rep. 234; Sweet v. Wabash, 41 Ind. 7.

Michigan.—Youngblood v. Sexton, 32 Mich. 406, 20 Am. Rep. 654; Ash v. People, 11 Mich. 347, 83 Am. Dec. 740; Chilvers v. People, 11 Mich. 43.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. St. Louis Mar. Ins. Co., 47 Mo. 163; St. Louis v. Boatmen's Ins., etc., Co., 47 Mo. 150; St. Louis v. Bircher, 7 Mo. App. 169.

New Jersey.—Passaic v. Paterson Bill Posting, etc., Co., 71 N. J. L. 75, 58 Atl. 343; North Hudson County R. Co. v. Hoboken, 41 N. J. L. 71; State v. Hoboken, 33

N. J. L. 280; Kip v. Paterson, 26 N. J. L. 298.

New York.—New York v. Second Ave. R. Co., 32 N. Y. 261; People v. Jarvis, 19 N. Y. App. Div. 466, 46 N. Y. Suppl. 596; Cushing v. Buffalo Bd. of Health, 13 N. Y. St. 783; People v. New York, 7 How. Pr. 81.

Pennsylvania.—Johnson v. Philadelphia, 60 Pa. St. 445.

Wisconsin.—Carter v. Dow, 16 Wis. 298.

Canada.—Merritt v. Toronto, 25 Ont. 256. See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1344 et seq. See also LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 602.

1. Arkansas.—Russellville v. White, 41 Ark. 485.

California.—Matter of Guerrero, 69 Cal. 88, 10 Pac. 261.

Illinois.—U. S. Distilling Co. v. Chicago, 112 Ill. 19; Chicago v. Bartee, 100 Ill. 57; Ballard v. Chicago, 69 Ill. App. 638.

Indiana.—Indianapolis v. Bieler, 138 Ind. 30, 36 N. E. 857.

Iowa.—Burlington v. Kellar, 18 Iowa 59.

Michigan.—Van Baalen v. People, 40 Mich. 258; Ash v. People, 11 Mich. 347, 83 Am. Dec. 740.

Missouri.—See Kansas City v. Grush, 151 Mo. 128, 52 S. W. 286; St. Louis v. Green, 70 Mo. 562.

Nebraska.—Littlefield v. State, 42 Nebr. 223, 60 N. W. 724, 47 Am. St. Rep. 697, 28 L. R. A. 588.

Pennsylvania.—Brownback v. North Wales, 44 Wkly. Notes Cas. 258.

Vermont.—State v. Bevins, 70 Vt. 574, 41 Atl. 655; St. Johnsbury v. Thompson, 59 Vt. 300, 9 Atl. 571, 59 Am. Rep. 731.

Virginia.—See Neal v. Com., 21 Gratt. 511.

United States.—Ward v. Washington, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,163, 4 Cranch C. C. 232.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1344; and LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 600 et seq.

Amount of license-fee see infra, XI, A, 8, c, (VI); and HAWKERS AND PEDDLERS, 21 Cyc. 366 notes 17, 18.

Fees to cover license expenses see infra, XI, A, 8, c, (VI).

2. Hot Springs v. Rector, (Ark. 1903) 76 S. W. 1056; North Hudson County R. Co. v. Hoboken, 41 N. J. L. 71; Hill v. Abbeville, 59 S. C. 396, 38 S. E. 11.

License-tax see infra, XI, A, 8, c, (VI); and LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 600 et seq.

Upon particular occupations see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (B) et seq.

Taxation for revenue see infra, XV, D.

3. Matter of Guerrero, 69 Cal. 88, 10 Pac. 261.

4. Alabama.—Mobile v. Yuille, 3 Ala. 137, 36 Am. Dec. 441.

District of Columbia.—District of Colum- unconstitutional,⁵ or in restraint of trade;⁶ nor can they be applied to an occupation, employment, or business not carried on within the municipal boundaries.⁷

(B) Auctioneers, Peddlers, Canvassers, and the Like. In accordance with the general rules which have just been discussed⁸ auctioneers, hawkers, peddlers, and the like⁹ may be licensed under special charter or statutory or reasonably implied authority given for this purpose,¹⁰ but not otherwise.¹¹ Book bia v. Saville, 1 MacArthur 581, 29 Am. Rep. 616.

Illinois.—Carrollton v. Bazzette, 159 Ill. 284, 42 N. E. 837, 31 L. R. A. 552; Wiggins v. Chicago, 68 Ill. 372. See also Lasher v. People, 183 Ill. 226, 55 N. E. 663, 75 Am. St. Rep. 103, 47 L. R. A. 802.

Iowa.—State Center v. Barenstein, 66 Iowa 249, 23 N. W. 652.

Massachusetts.—Winthrop v. New England Chocolate Co., 180 Mass. 464, 62 N. E. 969.

Minnesota.—St. Paul v. Briggs, 85 Minn. 290, 88 N. W. 984, 89 Am. St. Rep. 554; Mankato v. Fowler, 32 Minn. 364, 20 N. W. 361.

Mississippi.—Jackson v. Newman, 59 Miss. 385, 42 Am. Rep. 367.

Ohio.—White v. Kent, 11 Ohio St. 550.

Pennsylvania.—See Densmore v. Erie, 7 Pa. Dist. 355, 20 Pa. Co. Ct. 513.

See also supra, VI, G, 4; infra, XI, A, 8, i; and LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 603 et seq.

5. Alabama.—Mobile v. Yuille, 3 Ala. 137, 36 Am. Dec. 441.

California.—Sacramento v. Crocker, 16 Cal. 119.

Georgia.—Lanier v. Macon, 59 Ga. 187; Savannah v. Hines, 53 Ga. 616; Home Ins. Co. v. Augusta, 50 Ga. 530.

Louisiana.—State v. Von Sachs, 45 La. Ann. 1416, 14 So. 249.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Sternberg, 69 Mo. 289; American Union Express Co. v. St. Joseph, 66 Mo. 675.

Texas.—Hirshfield v. Dallas, 29 Tex. App. 242, 15 S. W. 124.

See also supra, VI, G, 2; infra, XI, A, 8, i; FACTORS AND BROKERS, 19 Cyc. 117; and LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 603 et seq.

6. St. Paul v. Traeger, 25 Minn. 248, 33 Am. Rep. 462; Dunham v. Rochester, 5 Cow. (N. Y.) 462; White v. Kent, 11 Ohio St. 550; Warren v. Lewis, 16 Pa. Co. Ct. 176. See also supra, VI, G; infra, XI, A, 8, i; LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 603 et seq.

Manufactures.—Acts authorizing cities of the third class to impose an occupation tax on "manufacturing and other corporations and institutions" does not authorize them to levy a tax on natural persons engaged in the manufacturing business. Joplin v. Leckie, 73 Mo. App. 8.

7. Bates v. Mobile, 46 Ala. 158. See supra, XI, A, 5.

For example under a charter giving the municipal authorities the right to impose a business tax on all persons doing business in the city, and to impose this tax by requiring owners of wagons engaged in carrying on the owner's business in the city to take out a license therefor, the owner of woodland near the city, which he is clearing up, who hauls the wood into the city and sells it, having no office or woodyard, cannot be required to pay a license-tax, as he is not engaged in business in the city. Gunn v. Macon, 84 Ga. 365, 10 S. E. 972.

Residence immaterial.—Corporate power of a municipality to tax vocations may properly be extended equally to all persons plying the vocation within the corporate limits, whether they reside within them or not. Edenton v. Capeheart, 71 N. C. 156.

Discrimination in favor of or against non-resident see LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 610; and supra, VI, G, 4; infra, XI, A, 8, i.

8. See supra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (A).

9. See AUCTIONS AND AUCTIONEERS; CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 875; HAWKERS AND PEDDLERS.

A corporation may be included within the term "auctioneer." People v. Scully, 23 Misc. (N. Y.) 732, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 125.

10. Iowa.—State Center v. Barenstein, 66 Iowa 249, 23 N. W. 652.

Massachusetts.—Com. v. Fenton, 139 Mass. 195, 29 N. E. 653.

New York.—Buffalo v. Marion, 13 Misc. 639, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 945.

Ohio.—White v. Kent, 11 Ohio St. 550.

Pennsylvania.—Warren v. Geer, 117 Pa. St. 207, 11 Atl. 415.

Texas.—Ex p. Henson, (Cr. App. 1905) 90 S. W. 874.

United States.—Fowle v. Alexandria, 3 Pet. 398, 7 L. ed. 719.

Defining a peddler.—Under the power conferred by its charter to define and restrain peddlers, the city of St. Paul is limited and restricted in defining such term to the generally accepted meaning and scope of the law relating thereto. St. Paul v. Briggs, 85 Minn. 290, 88 N. W. 984, 89 Am. St. Rep. 554.

Licensing itinerant dealers.—Ex p. Haskell, 112 Cal. 412, 44 Pac. 725, 32 L. R. A. 527.

Exempting home producers from peddler's license see People v. Sawyer, 106 Mich. 428, 64 N. W. 333. See also LICENSES.

11. Arkansas.—Ex p. Martin, 27 Ark. 467.

Indiana.—Shuman v. Ft. Wayne, 127 Ind. 109, 26 N. E. 560, 11 L. R. A. 378.

Minnesota.—St. Paul v. Stoltz, 33 Minn. 233, 22 N. W. 634.

Mississippi.—Temple v. Sumner, 51 Miss. 13, 24 Am. Rep. 615.

New York.—Rochester v. Close, 35 Hun 208.

United States.—Fowle v. Alexandria, 3 Pet. 398, 7 L. ed. 719.

Canada.—Merritt v. Toronto, 25 Ont. 256. See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1345.

agents¹² and pawnbrokers,¹³ it seems, are embraced in this class, but not insurance agents.¹⁴ Furthermore a city may be vested with power to regulate peddling on the streets and may compel peddlers and hawkers to stay within due bounds and not to act in a manner that renders their occupation a public nuisance.¹⁵

(c) Charges and Prices and Weights and Measures. Generally speaking the municipality, under its properly delegated police power, may prescribe rates for carriage by cab, hack, coach, omnibus, car, or other vehicle, whether propelled by animal, steam, gasoline, or electricity;¹⁶ and for water, gas, and light;¹⁷ and also, it seems, if authorized, for common carriers of news and intelligence;¹⁸ but all

Under general welfare clause see supra, XI, A, 2, a, (1), text and note 73.

Must be reasonable.—Carrollton v. Bazette, 159 Ill. 284, 42 N. E. 837, 31 L. R. A. 522; Ottumwa v. Zekind, 95 Iowa 622, 64 N. W. 646, 58 Am. St. Rep. 447, 29 L. R. A. 734; State Center v. Barenstein, 66 Iowa 249, 23 N. W. 652. See also VI, G, 4; infra, XI, A, 8, i.

12. Warren v. Geer, 117 Pa. St. 207, 11 Atl. 415.

13. Laundry v. Chicago, 111 Ill. 291, 53 Am. Rep. 625; Shuman v. Ft. Wayne, 127 Ind. 109, 26 N. E. 560, 11 L. R. A. 378; St. Paul v. Lytle, 69 Minn. 1, 71 N. W. 703. See also CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 876; and, generally, PAWNBROKERS.

14. Chicago v. Phenix Ins. Co., 126 Ill. 276, 18 N. E. 668 [affirming 26 Ill. App. 650]; McKinney v. Alton, 41 Ill. App. 508; State v. Smith, 31 Iowa 493; Simrall v. Covington, 90 Ky. 444, 14 S. W. 369, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 404, 29 Am. St. Rep. 398, 9 L. R. A. 556.

But under express authority "to license and tax all exchange, loan and brokers' offices, agencies of insurance offices," etc., each insurance agent within the city may be required to procure a separate license for each company he represents. Simrall v. Covington, 90 Ky. 444, 14 S. W. 369, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 404, 29 Am. St. Rep. 398, 9 L. R. A. 556. Requiring license-tax on insurance agents or brokers see INSURANCE, 22 Cyc. 1394.

Requiring license-tax of insurance companies see Van Invagen v. Chicago, 61 Ill. 31; Illinois Mut. F. Ins. Co. v. Peoria, 29 Ill. 180; Kansas City v. Oppenheimer, 100 Mo. App. 527, 75 S. W. 174; Farmington v. Rutherford, 94 Mo. App. 328, 68 S. W. 83; Lamar v. Adams, 90 Mo. App. 35; Hunter v. Memphis, 93 Tenn. 571, 26 S. W. 828. Power must be expressly delegated for this purpose. Chicago v. Case, 26 Ill. App. 654; Chicago v. Phenix Ins. Co., 26 Ill. App. 650 [affirmed in 126 Ill. 276, 18 N. E. 668]. One company cannot be compelled to pay more than one license for its business within the city, although it may have more than one office therein. Merchants' Mut. Ins. Co. v. Blandin, 24 La. Ann. 112.

15. New Orleans v. Fargot, 116 La. 369, 40 So. 735. See also infra, XII, A.

16. Bray v. State, 140 Ala. 172, 37 So. 250; Com. v. Gage, 114 Mass. 328; Com. v. Duane, 98 Mass. 1; Fonsler v. Atlantic City, 70 N. J. L. 125, 56 Atl. 119.

17. See GAS, 20 Cyc. 1166 et seq.; WATERS.

[XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (B)]

Power must be expressly delegated and cannot be implied from the grant of other powers. Lewisville Natural Gas Co. v. State, 135 Ind. 49, 34 N. E. 702, 21 L. R. A. 734; State v. Laclede Gaslight Co., 102 Mo. 472, 14 S. W. 974, 15 S. W. 383, 22 Am. St. Rep. 789; State v. Cincinnati Gas Light, etc., Co., 18 Ohio St. 262; Tacoma Gas, etc., Co. v. Tacoma, 14 Wash. 288, 44 Pac. 655. See also GAS, 20 Cyc. 1166 et seq.

Municipality cannot extend its own charter powers so as to regulate the price of gas, but the power must be conferred upon it by the legislature. Tacoma Gas, etc., Co. v. Tacoma, 14 Wash. 288, 44 Pac. 655.

What companies.—Under power to regulate the price of gas in the city limits, a municipal corporation may pass reasonable regulations for all gas companies, old as well as new, and those holding special charters as well as those organized under general laws. State v. Cincinnati Gas Light, etc., Co., 18 Ohio St. 262.

18. See Hockett v. State, 105 Ind. 250, 5 N. E. 178, 55 Am. Rep. 201; Nebraska Tel. Co. v. State, 55 Nebr. 627, 76 N. W. 171, 45 L. R. A. 113; State v. Western Union Tel. Co., 113 N. C. 213, 18 S. E. 389, 22 L. R. A. 570.

Express authority necessary.—Neither under its authority to regulate the use of streets, nor section 26, art. 3, of its charter, empowering the mayor and assembly "to license, tax, and regulate" various professions and businesses, nor the general welfare clause permitting the passage of all such ordinances, not inconsistent with the provisions of the charter or the laws of the state, as may be expedient in maintaining the peace, good government, health, and welfare of the city, its trade, commerce, and manufacture, can the city of St. Louis regulate by ordinance the tariff of charges of a telephone company. St. Louis v. Bell Tel. Co., 96 Mo. 623, 10 S. W. 197, 9 Am. St. Rep. 370, 2 L. R. A. 278. The ordinary police power of a municipality includes the power to regulate the planting of telephone poles and wires, etc., or to require the wires to be put under ground, or to do anything within reason to render the use of the street by the telephone company as little injurious to the public as may be; but it does not confer on the city power to regulate the prices to be charged by the telephone company for its service to the inhabitants. State v. Missouri, etc., Tel. Co., 189 Mo. 83, 88 S. W. 41.

subject to the general rule that the rate must not be confiscatory,¹⁹ or unreasonable.²⁰ Likewise, under the usual municipal police power, it is competent to provide by ordinance that the standard weights and measures for coal, hay, cotton, corn, and the like shall be observed in all sales within the corporate limits, by test upon the public scales provided by the municipality,²¹ and prescribe what fee shall be paid for weighing,²² and that the same shall be paid in halves by seller and buyer.²³ The municipality may also provide for public weighmasters²⁴ or a sealer of weights and measures.²⁵ In some cases, however, it is held that, although the weight of the public scales is conclusive, it is not exclusive,²⁶ and that the 19. State v. Cincinnati Gas Light, etc., Co., 18 Ohio St. 262; Cotting v. Godard, 183 U. S. 79, 91, 22 S. Ct. 30, 46 L. ed. 92.

20. Saginaw v. Swift Electric Light Co., 113 Mich. 660, 72 N. W. 6.

The maximum rates and charges for supplying water, under an express power to fix the same, must be reasonable. Chicago v. Rogers Park Water Co., 214 Ill. 212, 73 N. E. 375, holding also that a city seeking to fix water rates under such a power was bound to investigate the reasonableness of the rates before their adoption by an ordinance.

21. Alabama.—Mobile v. Yuille, 3 Ala. 137, 36 Am. St. Rep. 441.

Arkansas.—Taylor v. Pine Bluff, 34 Ark. 603.

Illinois.—See Cairo v. Coleman, 53 Ill. App. 680, for statute relating to the inspection and weighing of brick.

Iowa.—Davis v. Anita, 73 Iowa 325, 35 N. W. 244.

Kentucky.—Collins v. Louisville, 2 B. Mon. 134.

Louisiana.—See Guillotte v. New Orleans, 12 La. Ann. 432.

Michigan.—People v. Wagner, 86 Mich. 594, 49 N. W. 609, 24 Am. St. Rep. 141, 13 L. R. A. 280.

Missouri.—St. Charles v. Elsner, 155 Mo. 671, 56 S. W. 291.

New York.—Paige v. Fazackerly, 36 Barb. 392, holding that a city ordinance regulating the weight of bread is a valid police regulation. See also supra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (D), text and note.

North Carolina.—See Raleigh v. Sorrell, 46 N. C. 49.

Ohio.—See Huddleson v. Ruffin, 6 Ohio St. 604.

Pennsylvania.—Gaghaghan v. Begley, 32 Pa. Co. Ct. 377.

Wisconsin.—Yates v. Milwaukee, 12 Wis. 673.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1360.

Full weights and measures.—State v. Smith, 123 Iowa 654, 96 N. W. 899; New York v. Hewitt, 91 N. Y. App. Div. 445, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 832.

But the regulation must be reasonable.—Taylor v. Pine Bluff, 34 Ark. 603; Davis v. Anita, 73 Iowa 325, 35 N. W. 244.

Limited to articles intended for market.—Cons. Mun. Act (1903), 3 Edw. VII, c. 19, § 280, subs. 9, whereby municipalities are empowered to pass by-laws "for regulating, measuring or weighing (as the case may be) of lime, shingles, laths, cord-wood, coal and other fuel," must be read as limited to such articles as are marketed or exposed for sale within the limits of the municipality. It cannot have been intended by the legislature that where such articles have been the subject of a complete contract of sale made beyond the limits of the municipality, and the only act done within it is the delivery, there should be the right to impose what is practically a tax upon the vendor of the articles so sold. Rex v. Woollatt, 11 Ont. L. Rep. 544.

22. Wills v. Ft. Smith, 70 Ark. 221, 66 S. W. 922; State v. Tyson, 111 N. C. 687, 16 S. E. 238; O'Maley v. Freeport, 96 Pa. St. 24, 42 Am. Rep. 527; Yates v. Milwaukee, 12 Wis. 673.

Fees for weight certificates.—The city of St. Louis, under art. 3, § 26, of its charter, authorizing it to "license, tax, and regulate retailers," and "to provide for the inspection and weighing of coal," etc., had power to pass and enforce an ordinance requiring coal dealers to furnish to consumers certificates showing official weights of the coal sold, which certificates the dealers were required to purchase from the city at the maximum rate of ten dollars per one hundred. Sylvester Coal Co. v. St. Louis, 130 Mo. 323, 32 S. W. 649, 51 Am. St. Rep. 566.

23. State v. Tyson, 111 N. C. 687, 16 S. E. 238.

24. Kentucky.—Collins v. Louisville, 2 B. Mon. 134.

Minnesota.—Lehigh Coal, etc., Co. v. Capehart, 49 Minn. 539, 52 N. W. 142.

Missouri.—Lamar v. Weidman, 57 Mo. App. 507.

New York.—Stokes v. New York, 14 Wend. 87.

North Carolina.—Raleigh v. Sorrell, 46 N. C. 49.

Ohio.—Cincinnati v. Broadwell, 3 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 286.

Pennsylvania.—Gaghaghan v. Begley, 32 Pa. Co. Ct. 377.

South Carolina.—Sumter v. Deschamps, 4 Rich. 297.

Wisconsin.—Yates v. Milwaukee, 12 Wis. 673.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1360.

25. People v. Rochester, 45 Hun (N. Y.) 102; Huddleson v. Ruffin, 6 Ohio St. 604.

26. Sumter v. Deschamps, 4 Rich. (S. C.) 297.

weight may be taken on any scales duly tested and sealed, but the authorities on this proposition are not unanimous.²⁷

(D) Corporate Franchises and Privileges. In the exercise of the police power a municipality may not impose a license-tax;²⁸ but it may by ordinance regulate by license-fees or otherwise telegraph,²⁹ telephone,³⁰ and electric light,³¹ water,³² and gas plants and operations,³³ and may, for cause, even prohibit the continuance of their operations.³⁴

(E) Ferries and Bridges. Under legislative authority a municipality may regulate and license ferries in the exercise of the police power.³⁵ Likewise, it seems, it may regulate bridges and their use.³⁶

(F) *Hackmen and Hotel Runners at Depots.*³⁷ Police ordinances requiring hacks and omnibuses to occupy designated stands at a railway station,³⁸ and the drivers to obey the directions of officers doing duty there,³⁹ and not to enter the depots or go upon the platforms to solicit customers,⁴⁰ are valid; but they may not be used to interfere with lawful arrangements made by a railway company

By the appointment of a city weigher in pursuance of an ordinance creating the office, the city does not have the right to forbid persons from carrying on the business of weighing. Cincinnati v. Broadwell, 3 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 286.

27. Lehigh Coal, etc., Co. v. Capehart, 49 Minn. 539, 52 N. W. 142. Contra, Lamar v. Weidman, 57 Mo. App. 507.

28. Cape May v. Cape May Transp. Co., 64 N. J. L. 80, 44 Atl. 948; Memphis v. American Express Co., 102 Tenn. 336, 52 S. W. 172.

29. Allentown v. Western Union Tel. Co., 148 Pa. St. 117, 23 Atl. 1070, 33 Am. St. Rep. 820; Western Union Tel. Co. v. Philadelphia, 9 Pa. Cas. 300, 12 Atl. 144; Chester v. Western Union Tel. Co., 3 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 164.

Notwithstanding telegraph lines are instruments of commerce, a city has the right to determine how, in what manner, and upon what condition a telegraph company shall enter the city and pass through it for the purpose of communication, or allowing the citizens of the country to communicate by telegraph one with another. Mutual Union Tel. Co. v. Chicago, 16 Fed. 309, 11 Biss. 539.

30. Wichita v. Missouri, etc., Tel. Co., 70 Kan. 441, 78 Pac. 886; Rochester v. Bell Tel. Co., 52 N. Y. App. Div. 6, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 804. See Northwestern Tel. Exch. Co. v. Minneapolis, 81 Minn. 140, 83 N. W. 527, 86 N. W. 69, 53 L. R. A. 175, requiring underground wires. See also TELEGRAPHS AND TELEPHONES.

Must be reasonable.—Hannibal v. Missouri, etc., Tel. Co., 31 Mo. App. 23.

31. Lancaster v. Edison Electric Illuminating Co., 8 Pa. Co. Ct. 178. See also ELECTRICITY.

Must be reasonable.—Saginaw v. Swift Electric Light Co., 113 Mich. 660, 72 N. W. 6.

32. Cambridge v. Cambridge Water Co., 99 Md. 501, 58 Atl. 442, holding, however, that under a city charter conferring power to pass ordinances to regulate water pipes, to open and repair streets, and to require licenses to be obtained by persons engaged in certain occupations, and omitting any reference to water companies, an ordinance requiring water companies to pay certain fees for each plug, and imposing a penalty for failure to comply therewith, is not valid as being a legitimate exercise of the police power.

33. Pittsburgh's Appeal, 115 Pa. St. 4, 7 Atl. 778. See also Gas.

34. Butler's Appeal, 1 Pa. Cas. 219, 1 Atl. 604.

35. Wiggins Ferry Co. v. East St. Louis, 102 Ill. 560; Chilvers v. People, 11 Mich. 43. See also CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 874; FERRIES, 19 Cyc. 506 et seq.

36. See Stanislaus Bridge Co. v. Hornsley, 46 Cal. 108; Macon v. Macon, etc., R. Co., 7 Ga. 221; Chicago v. McGinn, 51 Ill. 266, 2 Am. Rep. 295; Des Moines v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 41 Iowa 569; Hearst v. Shea, 156 N. Y. 169, 50 N. E. 788 [affirming 24 N. Y. App. Div. 73, 49 N. Y. Suppl. 49]; Henderson Bridge Co. v. Henderson, 141 U. S. 679, 12 S. Ct. 114, 35 L. ed. 900. Compare Newport v. Newport, etc., Bridge Co., 90 Ky. 193, 13 S. W. 720, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 39, 8 L. R. A. 484. See, generally, BRIDGES.

37. Regulation of: Cab drivers see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 875. Hackmen see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 875. Vehicles see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (L).

38. Veneman v. Jones, 118 Ind. 41, 20 N. E. 644, 10 Am. St. Rep. 100; Ottawa v. Bodley, 67 Kan. 178, 72 Pac. 545. See also Montgomery v. Parker, 114 Ala. 118, 21 So. 452, 62 Am. St. Rep. 95; Com. v. Matthews, 122 Mass. 60.

39. Colorado Springs v. Smith, 19 Colo. 554, 36 Pac. 540; St. Paul v. Smith, 27 Minn. 364, 7 N. W. 734, 38 Am. Rep. 296.

40. Chillicothe v. Brown, 38 Mo. App. 609. See also Hot Springs v. Curry, 64 Ark. 152, 41 S. W. 55; Laddonia v. Poor, 73 Mo. App. 465.

Effect of change of ownership.—Where an ordinance prohibited hack and bus men from soliciting custom on the platform of the depot of a certain railroad company, mere change of ownership, or in the name of the owner, of the depot, did not suspend the operation of the ordinance. Emporia v. Shaw, 6 Kan. App. 808, 51 Pac. 237.

for the receipt and discharge of passengers and freight on its own premises.⁴¹ Decisions differ, however, as to the power of the company to nullify such ordinances by its own contract⁴² or consent,⁴³ general or special. But a contract for such exclusive privilege "so far as lawful" has been held to be abrogated by a subsequent ordinance of inhibition.⁴⁴

(g) Hospitals.⁴⁵ A municipality may be specially authorized to erect, control, and regulate hospitals.⁴⁶ Power to regulate hospitals gives no authority over private hospitals;⁴⁷ but it seems that, under municipal power to maintain cleanliness and salubrity, the council may prohibit the erection of a private hospital.⁴⁸

(h) Laundries.⁴⁹ Under power to regulate laundries⁵⁰ municipalities may require as police regulations that laundries shall be confined to certain parts of the city,⁵¹ and that they shall be carried on only in buildings of brick or stone,⁵² and within certain reasonable hours.⁵³ But it seems that an ordinance is invalid which requires the consent of a certain number of taxpayers and citizens of the vicinity for the establishment of the business.⁵⁴ A city may also pass an ordinance requiring the inspection of laundries and provide for a reasonable fee to cover the expenses of such inspection.⁵⁵

(i) Railroads and Street Railways.⁵⁶ Municipal regulations of the use of streets by a street railroad are an exercise of the police powers of the city, and

41. Napman v. People, 19 Mich. 352.

42. See Kalamazoo Hack, etc., Co. v. Sootzma, 84 Mich. 194, 47 N. W. 667, 22 Am. St. Rep. 693, 10 L. R. A. 819; Chillicothe v. Brown, 38 Mo. App. 609; Montana Union R. Co. v. Langlois, 9 Mont. 419, 24 Pac. 209, 18 Am. St. Rep. 745, 8 L. R. A. 753.

43. Cosgrove v. Augusta, 103 Ga. 835, 31 S. E. 445, 68 Am. St. Rep. 149, 42 L. R. A. 711.

44. Lindsay v. Anniston, 104 Ala. 257, 16 So. 545, 53 Am. St. Rep. 44, 27 L. R. A. 436.

45. Asylum generally see ASYLUMS.

Hospital generally see HOSPITALS.

46. Frazier v. Chicago, 186 Ill. 480, 57 N. E. 1055, 78 Am. St. Rep. 296, 51 L. R. A. 306; Chicago v. Peck, 98 Ill. App. 434 [affirmed in 196 Ill. 260, 63 N. E. 711]; Clinton v. Clinton County, 61 Iowa 205, 16 N. W. 87; Allentown v. Wagner, 214 Pa. St. 210, 63 Atl. 697 [affirming 27 Pa. Super. Ct. 485]. But compare Mitchell v. Rockland, 45 Me. 496.

For contagious diseases.—The establishment of such hospitals is within the police power of the municipality, and the city and village act specially authorizing municipalities to erect and establish hospitals and control and regulate the same. Frazier v. Chicago, 186 Ill. 480, 57 N. E. 1055, 78 Am. St. Rep. 296, 51 L. R. A. 306. Under a statute empowering cities and villages to do all acts and make regulations which may be necessary or expedient for the promotion of health or the suppression of disease, the city of Chicago may lease property and locate a smallpox hospital thereon. Chicago v. Peck, 98 Ill. App. 434 [affirmed in 196 Ill. 260, 63 N. E. 711]. See also Allentown v. Wagner, 214 Pa. St. 210, 63 Atl. 697 [affirming 27 Pa. Super. Ct. 485].

Where a vessel is subject to quarantine regulations, the officers of the town are not authorized to appropriate any part thereof for a hospital, or to exclude the owners from the possession or control of any part of the vessel. Mitchell v. Rockland, 45 Me. 496.

47. Bessonnes v. Indianapolis, 71 Ind. 189.

Regulation of hospitals see HOSPITALS, 21 Cyc. 1110.

48. Milne v. Davidson, 5 Mart. N. S. (La.) 409, 16 Am. Dec. 189.

49. See CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 874 note 21.

50. See cases cited infra, note 51 et seq.

Must be reasonable.—Shreveport v. Robinson, 51 La. Ann. 1314, 26 So. 277.

51. Soon Hing v. Crowley, 113 U. S. 703, 5 S. Ct. 730, 28 L. ed. 1145; Barbier v. Connolly, 113 U. S. 27, 5 S. Ct. 357, 28 L. ed. 923.

Under the California constitution which provides that any city may make such local, police, sanitary, and other regulations as are not in conflict with general laws, a city may prohibit the conduct of the business of a public laundry or washhouse in the city except within certain prescribed limits. In re Hang Kie, 69 Cal. 149, 10 Pac. 327.

Under general welfare clause see supra, XI, A, 2, a, (1).

52. In re Yick Wo, 68 Cal. 294, 9 Pac. 139, 58 Am. Rep. 12; Ex p. White, 67 Cal. 102, 7 Pac. 186, holding that a city ordinance providing that all buildings used as laundries within its corporate limits shall be constructed in a designated manner is constitutional. Building regulations generally see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VIII), (B).

53. Soon Hing v. Crowley, 113 U. S. 703, 5 S. Ct. 730, 28 L. ed. 1145.

54. In re Quong Woo, 13 Fed. 229, 7 Savy. 526.

55. New Orleans v. Hop Lee, 104 La. 601, 29 So. 214.

56. See, generally, RAILROADS; STREET RAILROADS.

Compelling free transportation of policemen see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 874 note 23.

will be upheld if reasonable.⁵⁷ The power of the municipality to regulate the running of cars or railways, standard, street, or inter-urban, within the corporate limits, has been sustained by numerous decisions.⁵⁸ It is competent for a municipality to regulate, restrict, or prohibit the use of steam power on railroads and street railways,⁵⁹ and to regulate the speed of trains or cars;⁶⁰ but it has been 57. Harrisburg City Pass. R. Co. v. Harrisburg, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. (Pa.) 333. See also Osburn v. Chicago, 105 Ill. App. 217; Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Harrington, 131 Ind. 426, 30 N. E. 37; Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Maysville, 69 S. W. 728, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 615.

Must be reasonable.—Yonkers v. Yonkers R. Co., 51 N. Y. App. Div. 271, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 955.

Regulation of railroads in cities see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 871, 874.

Operating a street railroad by horse or steam is a business, within the meaning of the law, which can be subjected to the payment of a license-tax, under La. Acts (1886), No. 101. New Orleans v. New Orleans City, etc., R. Co., 40 La. Ann. 587, 4 So. 512.

A legislative franchise to run street cars, prescribing certain conditions to be performed by the grantees, does not exempt the occupation of operating the road from lawful police regulations and municipal taxation. San Jose v. San Jose, etc., R. Co., 53 Cal. 475.

Joint use of tracks.—Where one street railway company appropriates for joint use and occupation the tracks of another company, necessary rules and regulations for the protection of the public may be provided in part by the city council under its police power. Toledo Consol. St. R. Co. v. Toledo Electric St. R. Co., 6 Ohio Cir. Ct. 362, 3 Ohio Cir. Dec. 493 [affirmed in 50 Ohio St. 603, 36 N. E. 312].

58. Alabama.—Birmingham v. Alabama Great Southern R. Co., 98 Ala. 134, 13 So. 141.

Georgia.—Western, etc., R. Co. v. Young, 81 Ga. 397, 7 S. E. 912, 12 Am. St. Rep. 320.

Illinois.—Lake View v. Tate, 130 Ill. 247, 22 N. E. 791; Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Haggerty, 67 Ill. 113; Lake Shore, etc., R. Co. v. Probeck, 33 Ill. App. 145.

Indiana.—Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Harrington, 131 Ind. 426, 30 N. E. 37.

Iowa.—Meyers v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 57 Iowa 555, 10 N. W. 896, 42 Am. Rep. 50, where, however, the ordinance was held to be unreasonable.

Louisiana.—See State v. Miller, 41 La. Ann. 53, 5 So. 258, 7 So. 672, holding that police juries cannot regulate speed in cities.

Minnesota.—Duluth v. Mallett, 43 Minn. 204, 45 N. W. 154.

Missouri.—Merz v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 88 Mo. 672, 1 S. W. 382.

New Jersey.—Trenton Horse R. Co. v. Trenton, 53 N. J. L. 132, 20 Atl. 1076, 11 L. R. A. 410.

New York.—Buffalo v. New York, etc., R. Co., 6 Misc. 630, 27 N. Y. Suppl. 297 [affirmed in 152 N. Y. 276, 46 N. E. 496].

South Carolina.—Boggero v. Southern R. Co., 64 S. C. 104, 41 S. E. 819.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1358.

Implied power.—The delegation to a city of the power to regulate the speed of trains need not be in express terms, but may be implied from the power of the city to abate nuisances and provide for the general welfare. Bluedorn v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 108 Mo. 439, 18 S. W. 1103, 32 Am. St. Rep. 615.

The ordinance will apply to the private yards of a railroad company within the city limits (Grube v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 98 Mo. 330, 11 S. W. 736, 14 Am. St. Rep. 645, 4 L. R. A. 776), or to the uninclosed private property of the company (Merz v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 88 Mo. 672, 1 S. W. 382).

59. North Chicago City R. Co. v. Lake View, 105 Ill. 207, 44 Am. Rep. 788.

An ordinance may regulate the mode of running, whether by steam or horse power. Donnaher v. State, 8 Sm. & M. (Miss.) 649; Richmond, etc., R. Co. v. Richmond, 96 U. S. 521, 24 L. ed. 734.

General charter power is sufficient to support such an ordinance. North Chicago City R. Co. v. Lake View, 105 Ill. 207, 44 Am. Rep. 788; Buffalo, etc., R. Co. v. Buffalo, 5 Hill (N. Y.) 209.

Whether the use of steam on streets is a nuisance is a question of fact. Vason v. South Carolina R. Co., 42 Ga. 631.

60. Georgia.—Western, etc., R. Co. v. Young, 81 Ga. 397, 7 S. E. 912, 12 Am. St. Rep. 320.

Illinois.—Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Haggerty, 67 Ill. 113. See also Lake View v. Tate, 130 Ill. 247, 22 N. E. 791, 6 L. R. A. 268.

Indiana.—Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Harrington, 131 Ind. 426, 30 N. E. 37; Whitson v. Franklin, 34 Ind. 392.

Minnesota.—Knobloch v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 31 Minn. 402, 18 N. W. 106.

Missouri.—Bluedorn v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 108 Mo. 439, 18 S. W. 1103, 32 Am. St. Rep. 615; Merz v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 88 Mo. 672, 1 S. W. 382; Robertson v. Wabash, etc., R. Co., 84 Mo. 119.

New Jersey.—New Jersey R., etc., Co. v. Jersey City, 29 N. J. L. 170.

Pennsylvania.—Lancaster v. Railroad Co., 12 Lanc. Bar 99; Pennsylvania R. Co. v. James, 6 Leg. Gaz. 389, 31 Leg. Int. 372.

Virginia.—Washington Southern R. Co. v. Lacey, 94 Va. 460, 26 S. E. 834.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1358.

In the absence of a legislative grant of power to that end, the police juries have no authority to pass an ordinance prohibiting the running of railroad trains through the held that when the state by statute prescribes the maximum speed in cities and towns, the municipality cannot lower the limit by ordinance,⁶¹ and also that, when it has power to prescribe maximum speed within municipal boundaries, it cannot so frame its ordinance as to injure the railway company and the public by requiring low speed for miles through the unpopulated portion of the city.⁶² The municipality may also regulate the blowing of whistles,⁶³ and the use of grade crossings;⁶⁴ and require gates, guards, signal lights, or flagmen at street crossings.⁶⁵ So it may forbid the obstruction of streets by trains standing across them,⁶⁶ so as to prevent the blocking of a street crossing by engine or cars more than a few minutes;⁶⁷ require another employee than the motorman on a street car;⁶⁸ and require pilot-baskets or fenders in front of every car,⁶⁹ and other similar precautions to be taken.⁷⁰ Furthermore the municipality may require transfers given villages of their parish at a greater speed than six miles an hour. State v. Miller, 41 La. Ann. 53, 5 So. 258, 7 So. 672.

61. Horn v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 38 Wis. 463, holding that where a general statute law limits the rate of speed in all incorporated places to six miles an hour, an ordinance fixing the limit at five miles an hour in certain parts of the city is void.

62. Zumault v. Kansas City, etc., Air Line R. Co., 71 Mo. App. 670, holding that an ordinance limiting the speed at which trains may run to six miles per hour through agricultural lands where there are no streets and little travel is unreasonable, in restraint of suburban travel and cannot be upheld.

Where the right of way is fenced on both sides, and the locality is sparsely settled, and no platted streets have been opened across the track, an ordinance limiting the rate of speed to six miles an hour has been held unreasonable as applied to that part of the road. Burg v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 90 Iowa 106, 57 N. W. 680, 48 Am. St. Rep. 419.

63. Ingersoll Pub. Corp. 363.

64. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. State, 158 Ind. 189, 63 N. E. 224.

Compelling elevation or lowering of track see RAILROADS. A city has been held to have the right of legal exercise of the police power for the purpose of requiring a railroad company to raise its tracks so as to do away with grade crossings. Osborn v. Chicago, 105 Ill. App. 217.

65. Toledo, etc., R. Co. v. Jacksonville, 67 Ill. 37, 16 Am. Rep. 611; Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Maysville, 69 S. W. 728, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 615; Delaware, etc., R. Co. v. East Orange Tp., 41 N. J. L. 127.

Must be reasonable.—Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Crown Point, 146 Ind. 421, 45 N. E. 587, 35 L. R. A. 684.

Whatever precautions are reasonably incident to the danger from the passing to and fro of trains in a crowded community may be lawfully adopted. Textor v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 59 Md. 63, 43 Am. Rep. 540.

Without express grant of authority gates or flagman may not be required. Ravenna v. Pennsylvania Co., 45 Ohio St. 118, 12 N. E. 445; Mansfield v. Baltimore, etc., R. Co., 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 572, 15 Cinc. L. Bul. 145; Archbald Borough v. Delaware, etc., Canal Co., 3 Lack. Jur. (Pa.) 189.

66. Alabama.—Birmingham v. Alabama

Great Southern R. Co., 98 Ala. 134, 13 So. 141.

Delaware.—McCoy v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 5 Houst. 599.

Minnesota.—Duluth v. Mallett, 43 Minn. 204, 45 N. W. 154.

Missouri.—Burger v. Missouri, etc., R. Co., 112 Mo. 238, 20 S. W. 439, 34 Am. St. Rep. 379.

New Jersey.—State v. Jersey City, 37 N. J. L. 348.

Operation of a railroad over a street so narrow that such use would necessarily destroy it as a public way may be either a public or a private nuisance. It is a universal rule that the city cannot create a nuisance in its streets or devote them or any part of them to a purpose inconsistent with the rights of the public or abutting property-owners. Lockwood v. Wabash R. Co., 122 Mo. 86, 26 S. W. 698, 43 Am. St. Rep. 547, 24 L. R. A. 516; Schopp v. St. Louis, 117 Mo. 131, 22 S. W. 898, 20 L. R. A. 783.

67. McCoy v. Philadelphia, etc., R. Co., 5 Houst. (Del.) 599.

As a nuisance.—An ordinance declaring the running of a train beyond a certain rate of speed, or the stopping of it on a public street beyond a certain time, a removable nuisance, is invalid. New Jersey R., etc., Co. v. Jersey City, 29 N. J. L. 170. See also supra, XI, A, 7 b, (vi), (A).

68. South Covington, etc., R. Co. v. Berry, 93 Ky. 43, 18 S. W. 1026, 13 Ky. L. Rep. 943, 40 Am. St. Rep. 161, 15 L. R. A. 604; State v. Trenton, 53 N. J. L. 132, 20 Atl. 1076, 11 L. R. A. 410. But see Thornhill v. Cincinnati, 4 Ohio Cir. Ct. 354, 2 Ohio Cir. Dec. 592, holding that two employees may not be required on each street car.

Ordinance sustained under general power which required a conductor and driver on each car, and provided, in the event of failure, that police should cause all cars to be returned to stables. South Covington, etc., R. Co. v. Berry, 93 Ky. 43, 18 S. W. 1026, 13 Ky. L. Rep. 943, 40 Am. St. Rep. 161, 15 L. R. A. 604.

69. Platt v. Albany R. Co., 170 N. Y. 115, 62 N. E. 1071; Henderson v. Durham Traction Co., 132 N. C. 779, 44 S. E. 598. See also Hogan v. Citizens' R. Co., 150 Mo. 36, 51 S. W. 473.

70. Buffalo, etc., R. Co. v. Buffalo, 5 Hill (N. Y.) 209; Hayes v. Michigan Cent. R.

on change of passengers from one line to another;⁷¹ and require the railroad company to pave streets over which its cars run;⁷² and also to sprinkle⁷³ or water its track so as to lay the dust.⁷⁴ Again the municipality may provide for the separation of races on the street cars operated within the city.⁷⁵ And it seems that street cars are subject to omnibus regulations;⁷⁶ and transfers on them may be required;⁷⁷ but a requirement for vestibules on street cars is not warranted by the inherent police power of a municipality.⁷⁸

(j) Slaughter-Houses. The slaughter within the city of animals for food, and particularly the houses and equipments for such purposes, are within the police regulation of a municipality.⁷⁹ For the sake of public health and com-

Co., 111 U. S. 228, 4 S. Ct. 369, 28 L. ed. 410; Richmond, etc., R. Co. v. Richmond, 96 U. S. 521, 24 L. ed. 734.

Danger signals.—Bergman v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 88 Mo. 678, 1 S. W. 384; Merz v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 14 Mo. App. 459.

Ringling of the bell while the locomotive is in motion may be required. Katzenberger v. Lawo, 90 Tenn. 235, 16 S. W. 611, 25 Am. St. Rep. 681, 13 L. R. A. 185.

Requiring lights on railroad tracks.—Cincinnati, etc., R. Co. v. Bowling Green, 57 Ohio St. 336, 49 N. E. 121, 41 L. R. A. 422.

71. Chicago Union Traction Co. v. Chicago, 199 Ill. 484, 65 N. E. 451, 59 L. R. A. 631.

Time limit of transfers.—Ex p. Lorenzen, 128 Cal. 431, 61 Pac. 68, 79 Am. St. Rep. 47, 50 L. R. A. 55.

72. Philadelphia v. Empire Pass. R. Co., 7 Phila. (Pa.) 321.

73. Chester v. Chester Traction Co., 5 Pa. Dist. 609.

74. City, etc., R. Co. v. Savannah, 77 Ga. 731, 4 Am. St. Rep. 106.

75. Patterson v. Taylor, 51 Fla. 275, 40 So. 493, holding that, although the municipality was not by its charter expressly authorized to provide by ordinance for such separation, yet it had such authority in its general welfare clause enabling it "to pass all ordinances necessary for the health, convenience and safety of the citizens, and to carry out the full intent and meaning of this act, and to accomplish the object of this incorporation. But even without such general welfare clause, or other express authorization, the design of such an ordinance being to safeguard the peace and good order of society within such city, its enactment and enforcement is within the incidental police powers of the city directly resulting from its incorporation into a municipality." See also Roberts v. Boston, 5 Cush. (Mass.) 198.

Discretion as to one of two methods.—An ordinance of a city, designed to separate two races upon street cars in the city, which requires the companies operating such cars to effect such separation in one or the other of two clearly defined modes: (1) By providing separate cars for the two races; or (2) by division of the car when the same car is assigned to the two races—leaving it discretionary with the carrier as to which one of the two prescribed modes of separation it will adopt, is not an unauthorized delegation of authority or discretion to such carriers. Patterson v. Taylor, 51 Fla. 275, 40 So. 493.

Reasonableness of regulation.—The separation of the races on street cars, under a municipal ordinance to that effect, has been held to be a reasonable precaution against breaches of the peace and disturbance of the good order of society. Roberts v. Boston, 5 Cush. (Mass.) 198. An ordinance designed to effect a separation of the races on street cars, by which the seats in the rear ends of the cars are assigned to the use of passengers of the colored race, and the seats in the front end of the car to the white race or vice versa is not an unreasonable regulation or an unlawful discrimination between the races. Patterson v. Taylor, 51 Fla. 275, 40 So. 493.

76. Chicago Union Traction Co. v. Chicago, 199 Ill. 484, 65 N. E. 451, 59 L. R. A. 631; Frankford, etc., Pass. R. Co. v. Philadelphia, 58 Pa. St. 119, 98 Am. Dec. 242; Railway Co. v. Philadelphia, 6 Phila. (Pa.) 238; Allerton v. Chicago, 6 Fed. 555, 9 Biss. 552.

77. Chicago Union Traction Co. v. Chicago, 199 Ill. 484, 65 N. E. 451, 59 L. R. A. 631.

78. Yonkers v. Yonkers R. Co., 51 N. Y. App. Div. 271, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 955.

79. Alabama.—Boyd v. Montgomery, 117 Ala. 677, 23 So. 663.

California.—Ex p. Heilbron, 65 Cal. 609, 4 Pac. 648; Ex p. Shrader, 33 Cal. 279.

Illinois.—Harmison v. Lewistown, 153 Ill. 313, 38 N. E. 628, 46 Am. St. Rep. 893; Huesing v. Rock Island, 128 Ill. 465, 21 N. E. 558, 15 Am. St. Rep. 129; Tugman v. Chicago, 78 Ill. 405; Chicago v. Rumpff, 45 Ill. 90, 92 Am. Dec. 196.

Indiana.—Elkhart v. Lipschitz, 164 Ind. 671, 74 N. E. 528; Beiling v. Evansville, 144 Ind. 644, 42 N. E. 621, 35 L. R. A. 272; Rund v. Fowler, 142 Ind. 214, 41 N. E. 456.

Louisiana.—Darcantel v. People's Slaughterhouse, etc., Co., 44 La. Ann. 632, 11 So. 239; Villavasco v. Barthet, 39 La. Ann. 247, 1 So. 599.

Massachusetts.—Sawyer v. State Bd. of Health, 125 Mass. 182; Watertown v. Mayo, 109 Mass. 315, 12 Am. Rep. 694.

Michigan.—Wreford v. People, 14 Mich. 41.

Minnesota.—See St. Paul v. Byrnes, 38 Minn. 176, 36 N. W. 449, statute superseding charter power.

fort therefore a municipality, in the exercise of its police power, may prescribe the character of buildings and equipment for slaughter-houses,⁸⁰ and the limits within which they may be erected and maintained.⁸¹ So too, under the rules already given as to its authority over nuisances,⁸² the municipality may declare them nuisances,⁸³ and entirely exclude them from the corporate boundaries.⁸⁴

(κ) Storage Houses. The storage of offensive or noxious substances within the corporate limits is subject to the discretion of the municipality,⁸⁵ unless specially governed by the superior power of a state statute.⁸⁶

(λ) *Vehicles and Transportation.*⁸⁷ The municipal regulation of vehicles of all sorts, commonly used within the corporate limits, is a valid exercise of the Missouri.—St. Louis v. Howard, 119 Mo. 41, 24 S. W. 770, 41 Am. St. Rep. 630.

New York.—Cronin v. People, 82 N. Y. 318, 37 Am. Rep. 564; Brooklyn v. Cleves, Lator 231.

Oregon.—Portland v. Meyer, 32 Oreg. 368, 52 Pac. 21, 67 Am. St. Rep. 538.

Washington.—Spokane v. Robinson, 6 Wash. 547, 33 Pac. 960.

Wisconsin.—Milwaukee v. Cross, 21 Wis. 241, 91 Am. Dec. 472.

United States.—Butchers' Union Slaughter-House, etc., Co. v. Crescent City Live-Stock Landing, etc., Co., 111 U. S. 746, 4 S. Ct. 652. 28 L. ed. 585; Butchers Benev. Assoc. v. Crescent City Livestock Landing, etc., Co., 16 Wall. 36, 21 L. ed. 394.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1348.

Under general health provision see supra, XI, A, 2, c.

80. Boyd v. Montgomery, 117 Ala. 677, 23 So. 663; Portland v. Meyer, 32 Oreg. 368, 52 Pac. 21, 67 Am. St. Rep. 538; and cases cited supra, note 79.

81. Cronin v. People, 20 Hun (N. Y.) 137 [affirming 82 N. Y. 318, 37 Am. Rep. 564]; and cases cited supra, note 79.

Consent of adjacent owners or occupants.—An ordinance is invalid which purports to make it unlawful to operate a slaughter-house within a distance of two hundred feet of any dwelling-house without the consent of the owner and occupant of every such house. St. Louis v. Howard, 119 Mo. 41, 24 S. W. 770, 41 Am. St. Rep. 630.

Prior location under constitutional or statutory authority.—The city authorities were not entitled to order a change of location of the grand slaughter-house after it had been permanently located under a statute which did not expressly give any power to change it, and the butchers had established their business arrangements conformably. Berthin v. Crescent City Live Stock Landing, etc., Co., 28 La. Ann. 210. The limits within which the business of slaughtering cattle may be carried on having been fixed by the city of New Orleans in pursuance of article 248 of the state constitution, the city is without power to pass an ordinance requiring its consent to be given to a person before he can proceed with his business at the place selected, and already built upon by him, within the said limits. Barthet v. New Orleans, 24 Fed. 563.

82. See supra, XI, A, 7, b, (vi).

83. Harmison v. Lewistown, 153 Ill. 313, 38 N. E. 628, 46 Am. St. Rep. 893; St. Louis v. Howard, 119 Mo. 41, 24 S. W. 770, 41 Am. St. Rep. 630.

84. Ex p. Heilbron, 65 Cal. 609, 4 Pac. 648; St. Paul v. Smith, 25 Minn. 372; Coden v. Gettysburg, 8 Leg. Gaz. (Pa.) 167. In St. Paul v. Smith, supra, where only one beef animal was killed, the rule was held to be inapplicable.

It was competent for the legislature, by statute, to delegate to the board of supervisors of the city and county of San Francisco power to make an order that "no person shall establish or maintain any slaughter house; keep herds of more than five swine; cure or keep hides . . . slaughter cattle, . . . pursue or maintain, or carry on any other business or occupation offensive to the senses or prejudicial to the public health or comfort, in any part of this city and county, after the 1st day of August, 1866." Ex p. Shrader, 33 Cal. 279.

Must be nuisance in fact.—Where a city charter gave power to the council to "prohibit and prevent within certain limits . . . the location or construction of buildings for . . . slaughter-houses," etc., it was held that the council had no right to put an end to any existing business so long as it was not a nuisance in fact. Wreford v. People, 14 Mich. 41. See also supra, XI, A, 7, b, (vi), (A).

Burns Annot. St. (1901) § 3616 (and statutes of similar effect), authorizing cities to make other ordinances than those specifically prescribed by statute, not inconsistent with state law, and necessary to carry out the objects of the corporation, does not recognize an implied power in such corporations to prohibit slaughter-houses within the territory over which the city has police power, as such an attempt is not essential to the accomplishment by the city of the objects of its creation, nor to its continued existence. Elkhart v. Lipschitz, 164 Ind. 671, 74 N. E. 528 [overruling Rund v. Fowler, 142 Ind. 214, 41 N. E. 456]. See also Beiling v. Evansville, 144 Ind. 644, 42 N. E. 621, 35 L. R. A. 272.

85. May v. People, 1 Colo. App. 157, 27 Pac. 1010. See also supra, XI, A, 7, b, (iv).

86. Athens v. Georgia R. Co., 72 Ga. 800.

87. Regulation of: Charges see supra, XI, A, 7, b, (vii), (c). Hackmen and hotel runners at depots see supra, XI, A, 7, b, (vii), (f). Railroads see supra, XI, A, 7, b, (vii), (i). Use of street in general see infra, XII, A.

police power,⁸³ not inherent,⁸⁹ but granted to the corporation.⁹⁰ Vehicles merely passing through the city may not be included;⁹¹ but those may which belong to non-residents if publicly used in the municipality,⁹² or if the route terminus is within it.⁹³ The city may prescribe what style of vehicles shall be used for public passenger service,⁹⁴ but not for private use;⁹⁵ what streets they must travel, if regular lines;⁹⁶ and where hacks must stand;⁹⁷ whether the driver may leave them;⁹⁸ and what mark of distinction he shall wear.⁹⁹ It may also prohibit fast driving,¹ but not slow driving;² may require license for each vehicle;³ and may assess a penalty against a public conveyance for refusal to carry a passenger.⁴

88. Bowser v. Thompson, 103 Ky. 331, 45 S. W. 73, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 31; Kittanning v. Montgomery, 5 Pa. Super. Ct. 196. See also Mercer v. Corbin, 117 Ind. 450, 20 N. E. 132, 10 Am. St. Rep. 76, 3 L. R. A. 221; Com. v. Harney, 2 Cush. (Mass.) 562, 48 Am. Dec. 679; Harris v. Atlantic City, 73 N. J. L. 251, 62 Atl. 995; Atlantic City v. Brown, 72 N. J. L. 207, 62 Atl. 428; Haynes v. Cape May, 52 N. J. L. 180, 19 Atl. 176; Gagnier v. Fargo, 11 N. D. 73, 88 N. W. 1030, 95 Am. St. Rep. 705; Samson v. Montreal, 14 Quebec K. B. 461.

Regulating hackney coaches.—Com. v. Robertson, 5 Cush. (Mass.) 438.

Exclusive use of hotel cab stands may be given. Samson v. Montreal, 14 Quebec K. B. 461.

Ten-cent fare for omnibus passenger may be prescribed. Atlantic City v. Brown, 72 N. J. L. 207, 62 Atl. 428.

Time of standing in one place by huckster wagon may be limited. Com. v. Brooks, 109 Mass. 355.

Weight of load passing over street.—Com. v. Mulhall, 162 Mass. 496, 39 N. E. 183, 44 Am. St. Rep. 387.

Employment of slaves.—The authority given by law to the mayor and aldermen of St. Louis to regulate, by ordinance, drays, etc., did not empower them to prevent slaves from being employed in driving them. St. Louis v. Hempstead, 4 Mo. 242.

Must be reasonable.—Kansas City v. McDonald, 60 Kan. 481, 57 Pac. 123, 45 L. R. A. 429; Com. v. Harney, 2 Cush. (Mass.) 562, 48 Am. Dec. 679; Ex p. Battis, 40 Tex. Cr. 112, 48 S. W. 513, 76 Am. St. Rep. 708, 43 L. R. A. 863.

89. New Iberia v. Mignes, 32 La. Ann. 923; Com. v. Wagner, 9 Pa. Co. Ct. 625; Gettysburg v. Zeigler, 2 Pa. Co. Ct. 326. See supra, text and note 88.

90. Knox City v. White, 19 Mo. App. 528; Knox City v. Thompson, 19 Mo. App. 523. See supra, text and note 88.

91. Bennett v. Birmingham, 31 Pa. St. 15.

92. Tomlinson v. Indianapolis, 144 Ind. 142, 43 N. E. 9, 36 L. R. A. 413; Mason v. Cumberland, 92 Md. 451, 48 Atl. 136; Gibson v. Coraopolis, 22 Pittsb. Leg. J. N. S. (Pa.) 64; Charleston v. Pepper, 1 Rich. (S. C.) 364.

93. Sacramento v. California Stage Co., 12 Cal. 134. Compare East St. Louis v. Bux, 43 Ill. App. 276, holding that the tax may not be imposed by one terminal city when paid in the other.

94. Com. v. Stodder, 2 Cush. (Mass.) 562, 48 Am. Dec. 679. See also Snyder v. North Lawrence, 8 Kan. 82.

95. See Chicago v. Collins, 175 Ill. 445, 51 N. E. 907, 67 Am. St. Rep. 224, 49 L. R. A. 408; Com. v. Stodder, 2 Cush. (Mass.) 562, 48 Am. Dec. 679.

96. Com. v. Stodder, 2 Cush. (Mass.) 562, 48 Am. Dec. 679.

97. District of Columbia.—Stephens v. District of Columbia, 16 App. Cas. 279.

Kansas.—Ottawa v. Bodley, 67 Kan. 178, 72 Pac. 545.

Massachusetts.—Com. v. Matthews, 122 Mass. 60.

New Jersey.—Combs v. Lakewood Tp., 68 N. J. L. 582, 53 Atl. 697.

New York.—Masterson v. Short, 7 Rob. 241; New York v. Reesing, 38 Misc. 129, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 82 [affirmed in 77 N. Y. App. Div. 417, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 331].

Texas.—Ex p. Vance, 42 Tex. Cr. 619, 62 S. W. 568.

Canada.—See Samson v. Montreal, 14 Quebec K. B. 461.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1350.

98. Ex p. Vance, 42 Tex. Cr. 619, 62 S. W. 568.

99. Atlantic City v. Feretti, 70 N. J. L. 489, 57 Atl. 259.

1. Indiana.—Nealis v. Heyward, 48 Ind. 19.

Massachusetts.—Com. v. Roy, 140 Mass. 432, 4 N. E. 814; Com. v. Worcester, 3 Pick. 462. See also Heland v. Lowell, 3 Allen 407, 81 Am. Dec. 670, holding that a city may pass an ordinance regulating the rate of speed at which horses may be driven across bridges which is binding on its members and all other persons.

Michigan.—People v. Little, 86 Mich. 125, 48 N. W. 693.

Missouri.—Bluedorn v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 108 Mo. 439, 18 S. W. 1103, 32 Am. St. Rep. 615.

South Carolina.—City Council v. Dunn, 1 McCord 333.

2. Stephens v. District of Columbia, 16 App. Cas. (D. C.) 279.

3. Knox City v. Thompson, 19 Mo. App. 523. See also Mason v. Cumberland, 92 Md. 451, 48 Atl. 136; Combs v. Lakewood Tp., 68 N. J. L. 582, 53 Atl. 697; New York v. Reesing, 77 N. Y. App. Div. 417, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 331.

4. Fonsler v. Atlantic City, 70 N. J. L. 125, 56 Atl. 119.

A municipality may not levy a tax under guise of exercising police power,⁵ but may charge a reasonable license-fee.⁶

(M) Mercantile Business in General. As matters of public policy are not subject to municipal police regulation,⁷ unless the power is specially delegated,⁸ arbitrary ordinances interfering with freedom of trade,⁹ or discriminating between residents and non-residents,¹⁰ or unreasonably limiting hours of sale,¹¹ are void. But licenses and other reasonable regulations may be ordained under general police authority.¹²

(N) Particular Dealers and Dealing in Particular Articles—(1) IN GENERAL. Municipalities may be authorized under their police powers to regulate dealers and dealings in particular articles of commerce and trade.¹³ The courts have upheld ordinances forbidding sales of watches at auction after six o'clock p. m.,¹⁴ and the keeping of bucket shops,¹⁵ as well as ordinances requiring license for sales by throwing at a dummy,¹⁶ and "gift, fire and bankrupt" sales;¹⁷ but it seems not a by-law requiring lists and reports of articles handled by pawnbrokers.¹⁸

5. Memphis v. American Express Co., 102 Tenn. 336, 52 S. W. 172.

6. Mason v. Cumberland, 92 Md. 451, 48 Atl. 136.

7. Long v. Shelby County Taxing Dist., 7 Lea (Tenn.) 134, 40 Am. Rep. 55. See supra, XI, A, 1.

8. Long v. Shelby County Taxing Dist., 7 Lea (Tenn.) 134, 40 Am. Rep. 55.

9. Greensboro v. Ehrenreich, 80 Ala. 579, 2 So. 725, 60 Am. Rep. 130.

Inspection.—Ill. Incorp. Act (1872), c. 24, pt. 1, art. 5, § 1, authorizing cities to regulate the inspection and weighing of "brick, lumber, firewood, coal, hay, and any article of merchandise," does not authorize them to provide for the inspection of the articles of merchandise of a stationery store. Cairo v. Coleman, 53 Ill. App. 680. See also, generally, INSPECTION.

10. People v. Jarvis, 19 N. Y. App. Div. 466, 46 N. Y. Suppl. 596. See also infra, XI, A, 8, j.

11. State v. Ray, 131 N. C. 814, 42 S. E. 960, 92 Am. St. Rep. 795, 60 L. R. A. 634; Coaticook v. Lothrop, 22 Quebec Super. Ct. 225.

12. New Orleans v. Guillotte, 14 La. Ann. 875.

13. California.—Johnson v. Simonton, 43 Cal. 242.

Illinois.—Kinsley v. Chicago, 124 Ill. 359, 16 N. E. 260. See also Kappes v. Chicago, 119 Ill. App. 436, holding that where a city council has power to pass an ordinance plainly intended to restrict and discourage, as well as to regulate, the sale of a given article—an ordinance forbidding its sale altogether in certain places and to certain persons—it likewise has power to add by amendment to that ordinance a simple provision preventing its evasion and practical abrogation.

Kansas.—Monroe v. Lawrence, 44 Kan. 607, 24 Pac. 1113, 10 L. R. A. 520.

Louisiana.—See State v. Duharry, 46 La. Ann. 33, 14 So. 298.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Fischer, 167 Mo. 654, 67 S. W. 872, 64 L. R. A. 679.

New York.—Ketchum v. Buffalo, 14 N. Y.

356; People v. Vandecarr, 81 N. Y. App. Div. 128, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 1108 [affirmed in 175 N. Y. 440, 67 N. E. 913, 108 Am. St. Rep. 781]; Buffalo v. Marion, 13 Misc. 639, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 945; Buffalo v. Schleifer, 2 Misc. 216, 21 N. Y. Suppl. 913.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1355 et seq. See also, generally, LICENSES; and infra, XI, A, 8, c.

Must be reasonable.—Frost v. Chicago, 178 Ill. 250, 52 N. E. 869, 69 Am. St. Rep. 301, 49 L. R. A. 657; Kosciusko v. Slomberg, 68 Miss. 469, 9 So. 297, 24 Am. St. Rep. 281, 13 L. R. A. 528. See also infra, XI, A, 8, i.

Destruction of long-established business.—The legislature has the power to delegate to a municipal corporation the power to establish public markets, and to confine the sale of commodities, which, in consideration of public health, require police inspection and supervision, to such markets, even if a result of the exercise of this power should be the destruction of an existing and long-established business. Ex p. Byrd, 84 Ala. 17, 4 So. 397, 5 Am. St. Rep. 328.

So far as any limitations in the federal constitution are concerned, the legislature has the power to authorize the passage by city councils of ordinances prohibiting the sale of certain commodities, either generally or beyond specified limits, or within certain hours of the day. Ex p. Byrd, 84 Ala. 17, 4 So. 397, 5 Am. St. Rep. 328.

Regulation of junk-shop keeper see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 875.

Regulation of second-hand dealers see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 875.

Regulating the sale of tobacco and cigarettes see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 868.

14. Buffalo v. Marion, 13 Misc. 639, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 945.

15. Hot Springs v. Rector, (Ark. 1903) 73 S. W. 1056.

16. Jones v. Foster, 43 N. Y. App. Div. 33, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 738.

17. State v. Schoening, 72 Minn. 528, 75 N. W. 711.

18. State v. Itzcovitch, 49 La. Ann. 366, 21 So. 544, 62 Am. St. Rep. 648, 37 L. R. A. 673.

(2) DEALING IN FOOD AND DRINK ARTICLES.¹⁹ Accordingly in the exercise of its authorized police power a municipality may by ordinance prohibit hawking and peddling of meat, game, and poultry;²⁰ the sale of adulterated²¹ or impure milk;²² skim milk;²³ or milk from cows fed on still slops;²⁴ of oysters away from oyster stands;²⁵ of any unwholesome food;²⁶ of short-weight bread;²⁷ of less than a quarter of meat outside of market stalls;²⁸ the peddling of fruits or vegetables anywhere between five o'clock A. M. and one o'clock P. M.;²⁹ or at any time within six squares of a public market;³⁰ any sale of corn or food outside of the market,³¹ or of uninspected and untagged meat;³² the sale of anything but fruit by keepers of fruit stands within two thousand one hundred feet of the market;³³ the sale of cider in less quantities than a gallon, and any drinking on the premises;³⁴ but not the sale of meat, fish, butter, and other food articles in a general store.³⁵ By the weight of authority police license may be required for the sale of meat,³⁶ or for the sale of salt meat, and fish outside the

19. Regulation of: Adulterations see ADULTERATION, 1 Cyc. 941; CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 866. Food products and the sale thereof see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 866 et seq.; FOOD, 19 Cyc. 1090 et seq. Liquor traffic see INTOXICATING LIQUORS, 23 Cyc. 66. Market see infra, XII, C, 3.

20. Shelton v. Mobile, 30 Ala. 540, 68 Am. Dec. 143; Caldwell v. Alton, 33 Ill. 416, 75 Am. Dec. 282; Bowling Green v. Carson, 10 Bush (Ky.) 64; St. Louis v. Weber, 44 Mo. 547. In Buffalo v. Webster, 10 Wend. (N. Y.) 99, the court sustained an ordinance making it unlawful for any person within the limits of a corporation, during certain months, to hawk about or sell by retail any kind of fish, beef, pork, lamb, or mutton, except at the public markets, or within certain limits around the same. See also supra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (B).

Repeal by implication.—Although the ordinance of the borough of Sharon, Mercer county, prohibiting the selling or hawking, within said borough, of any garden, farm, or dairy products, was expressly authorized by the borough law (act April 3, 1851), this part of that law was, as applied to Mercer county, impliedly repealed by the act of April 13, 1869, which provides that any citizen of that county "may, without other than a United States license, peddle farm, garden, and dairy products within said county." Sharon Borough v. Hawthorne, 123 Pa. St. 106, 16 Atl. 835.

21. State v. Stone, 46 La. Ann. 147, 15 So. 11.

22. Deems v. Baltimore, 80 Md. 164, 30 Atl. 648, 45 Am. St. Rep. 339, 26 L. R. A. 541. Compare State v. Dupaquier, 46 La. Ann. 577, 15 So. 502, 49 Am. St. Rep. 334, 26 L. R. A. 162; St. Louis v. Fischer, 167 Mo. 654, 67 S. W. 872, 64 L. R. A. 679 [affirmed in 194 U. S. 361, 24 S. Ct. 673, 48 L. ed. 1018].

23. Kansas v. Cook, 38 Mo. App. 660.

24. Johnson v. Simonton, 43 Cal. 242.

25. Morano v. New Orleans, 2 La. 217.

26. People v. Brill, 120 Mich. 42, 78 N. W. 1013, holding that under Detroit City Charter (1893), p. 73, § 136, authorizing the council to punish persons "knowingly" selling unwholesome food, an ordinance then existing providing punishment for such offense, although it was not done "knowingly," became inoperative.

Pure food.—State v. Stone, 46 La. Ann. 147, 15 So. 11.

27. People v. Wagner, 86 Mich. 594, 49 N. W. 609, 24 Am. St. Rep. 141, 13 L. R. A. 286. See also Mobile v. Yuille, 3 Ala. 137, 36 Am. Dec. 441. Contra, Buffalo v. Collins Baking Co., 39 N. Y. App. Div. 432, 57 N. Y. Suppl. 347.

La. Act No. 164 of 1856, amending Act No. 71 of 1852, providing for the government and administration of the affairs of the city of New Orleans, does not purport to reenact or publish at length any portion of section 22 thereof, empowering the municipality to regulate the weight and price of bread; and hence, not being inconsistent with such section, it does not repeal the same. Guillotte v. New Orleans, 12 La. Ann. 432.

28. St. Louis v. Jackson, 25 Mo. 37.

29. Buffalo v. Schleifer, 2 Misc. (N. Y.) 216, 21 N. Y. Suppl. 913.

30. State v. Namias, 49 La. Ann. 618, 21 So. 852, 62 Am. St. Rep. 657. See also Mt. Carmel v. Fisher, 21 Pa. Super. Ct. 643.

31. State v. Smith, 123 Iowa 654, 96 N. W. 899; Crowley v. Rucker, 107 La. 213, 31 So. 629; Newson v. Galveston, 76 Tex. 559, 13 S. W. 368, 7 L. R. A. 797.

32. New Orleans v. Lozes, 51 La. Ann. 1172, 25 So. 979.

33. New Orleans v. Graffina, 52 La. Ann. 1082, 27 So. 590, 78 Am. St. Rep. 387.

34. Monroe v. Lawrence, 44 Kan. 607, 24 Pac. 1113, 10 L. R. A. 520, holding that a city ordinance regulating the sale of cider which is not intoxicating by prohibiting its sale in less quantities than a gallon, and forbidding the drinking of the same at the place of sale, violates no private right, and does not unreasonably restrain trade.

35. Chicago v. Netcher, 183 Ill. 104, 55 N. E. 707, 75 Am. St. Rep. 93, 48 L. R. A. 261. See also Kinsley v. Chicago, 124 Ill. 359, 16 N. E. 260.

36. Kinsley v. Chicago, 124 Ill. 359, 16 N. E. 260; Porter v. Water Valley, 70 Miss. 560, 12 So. 828; St. Joseph v. Dye, 72 Mo. App. 214; Buffalo v. Hill, 79 N. Y. App.

market; ³⁷ milk, ³⁸ groceries, and victuals, ³⁹ and other articles of food; ⁴⁰ or for the wholesaling of beer, ⁴¹ although ordinances of this kind have been held void in a few cases. ⁴² A grant to a municipal corporation of power to regulate by ordinance the vending of meat, poultry, fish, fruits, and vegetables gives authority to prescribe by ordinance the times and places of their sale, and to prohibit the sale of them elsewhere. ⁴³

(VIII) PROPERTY—(A) In General. The owners of city lots or other property in a city may keep them and use them as they wish, free from interference on the part of the municipality, provided that in so doing they do not create and maintain a nuisance or cause inconvenience, damage, or harm to others. ⁴⁴

Div. 402, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 449; State v. Charleston, 2 Speers (S. C.) 623.

37. Buffalo v. Hill, 79 N. Y. App. Div. 402, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 449.

38. Chicago v. Bartee, 100 Ill. 57; People v. Mulholland, 82 N. Y. 324, 37 Am. Rep. 568.

39. St. Johnsbury v. Thompson, 59 Vt. 300, 9 Atl. 571, 59 Am. Rep. 731.

Hotels.—Power to regulate hotels given to municipal corporations by the act of March 9, 1875, includes the power to license as a means of regulating. Russellville v. White, 41 Ark. 485. See also INNKEEPERS, 22 Cyc. 1072.

Victualing shops.—Under a charter which authorizes a village by its by-laws to "regulate" its victualing shops, to restrain nuisances, to exercise other police powers, and to impose penalties, etc., a by-law conferring power upon the trustees of the village to license persons to keep such shops for a year or less time under such regulations as the trustees may prescribe, and providing a penalty of ten dollars for keeping such shops without a license is a reasonable regulation, and not contrary to common right. St. Johnsbury v. Thompson, 59 Vt. 300, 9 Atl. 571, 59 Am. Rep. 731.

40. Thomas v. Mt. Vernon, 9 Ohio 290.

41. Daus v. Macon, 103 Ga. 774, 30 S. E. 670.

42. Connecticut.—State v. Smith, 67 Conn. 541, 35 Atl. 506, 52 Am. St. Rep. 301, requiring regular milkmen to be licensed.

Michigan.—Chaddock v. Day, 75 Mich. 527, 42 N. W. 977, 13 Am. St. Rep. 468, 4 L. R. A. 809, imposing a license-fee on persons selling fresh meats in less than specified quantities.

New York.—Rochester v. Rood, Lator 146, imposing a fine for the sale of "putrid meat, poultry, or other provisions."

Pennsylvania.—Com. v. Wormser, 7 Pa. Dist. 318, requiring transient retail merchants to take out licenses.

Wisconsin.—Barling v. West, 29 Wis. 307, 9 Am. Rep. 576, prohibiting the sale, without a license at temporary stands, of lemonade, etc.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1356.

43. Jacksonville v. Ledwith, 26 Fla. 163, 7 So. 885, 23 Am. St. Rep. 558, 9 L. R. A. 69.

Reasonableness.—The restrictions as to such times and places must, however, be reasonable with reference to the welfare of the community, and not from any general restriction of trade. Under this grant sales may be restricted, under the same limitations, to markets duly established under a grant of power to establish and regulate markets. Jacksonville v. Ledwith, 26 Fla. 163, 7 So. 885, 23 Am. St. Rep. 558, 9 L. R. A. 69.

Inspection fee not a tax.—The grant of authority to regulate the vending of meats, etc., does not give power to tax, for purposes of revenue, the occupation of vending any of the articles named; but, in connection with the grant of power to regulate inspection, it justifies the imposition of fees and charges covering the expense of both inspecting the articles offered for sale and of the police supervision of the business necessary to prevent its becoming harmful to the community. Jacksonville v. Ledwith, 26 Fla. 163, 7 So. 885, 23 Am. St. Rep. 558, 9 L. R. A. 69.

44. Alabama.—Costello v. State, 108 Ala. 45, 18 So. 820, 35 L. R. A. 303.

California.—San Francisco v. Buckman, 111 Cal. 25, 43 Pac. 396.

Indiana.—Evansville v. Miller, 146 Ind. 613, 45 N. E. 1054, 38 L. R. A. 161; Walker v. Jameson, 140 Ind. 591, 37 N. E. 402, 39 N. E. 869, 49 Am. St. Rep. 222, 28 L. R. A. 679, 683.

Iowa.—Bush v. Dubuque, 69 Iowa 233, 28 N. W. 542; Centerville v. Miller, 57 Iowa 56, 10 N. W. 293.

Louisiana.—State v. Schuchardt, 42 La. Ann. 49, 7 So. 67.

Mississippi.—Ex p. O'Leary, 65 Miss. 80, 3 So. 144, 7 Am. St. Rep. 640.

Missouri.—Hisey v. Mexico, 61 Mo. App. 248.

New York.—Hudson v. Thorne, 7 Paige 261.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1330; and cases cited infra, note 46.

Compare Chicago v. Ferris Wheel Co., 58 Ill. App. 625.

Nuisance see supra, XI, A, 7, b, (vi).

In order to justify an interference with the enjoyment of private property two facts must be established: (1) That the property, either per se or in the manner of using it, is a nuisance; and (2) that the interference does not extend beyond what is necessary to correct the evil. Chicago v. Gunning System, 114 Ill. App. 377 [affirmed in 214 Ill. 628, 73 N. E. 1035].

(B) *Building Regulations.*⁴⁵ A municipal corporation has no inherent power to interfere arbitrarily with the common-law rights of real estate proprietors in the use and improvement of their property.⁴⁶ But under the police power some measure of authority for building regulations is found to reside in nearly every municipality.⁴⁷ The power of regulation extends to erection, alteration, and repair;⁴⁸ and whenever the owner's right to pursue his own plans in building, altering, or repairing is challenged, it is determined by two tests: (1) Has the municipality power to forbid the contemplated erection, alteration, or repair?⁴⁹

Mo. Acts (1891), p. 47, empowering cities of a certain population to exclude any business vocation on property fronting on a boulevard, deprives the owners of their constitutional right to the enjoyment thereof without just compensation, and is therefore void. St. Louis v. Dorr, 145 Mo. 466, 41 S. W. 1094, 46 S. W. 976, 68 Am. St. Rep. 575, 42 L. R. A. 686.

Quarry.—In In re Kelso, 147 Cal. 609, 82 Pac. 241, 109 Am. St. Rep. 178, 2 L. R. A. N. S. 683, it was held that the San Francisco city ordinance prohibiting the maintenance or operation of any rock or stone quarries within a prescribed portion of the city was not a proper exercise of police power, but was void as an unlawful interference with property rights.

Theater.—A statute to the effect that "no proprietor of a theater shall, after the door of such theater is open for the reception of spectators, sell tickets so as to reserve particular seats, or to mark or describe as reserved or taken, any seats which have not been reserved by the sale of tickets therefor previous to the opening of such exhibition," cannot be sustained as a police regulation, but, on the contrary, is an unwise, vexatious, and unlawful interference with the rights of private property. District of Columbia v. Saville, 1 MacArthur (D. C.) 581, 29 Am. Rep. 616.

45. Duty to comply with building regulation see BUILDERS AND ARCHITECTS, 6 Cyc. 52 note 39.

Fire regulations see infra, XI, A, 3, c.

Violation of building regulation see infra, XI, B, 1, b.

46. Chicago v. Ferris Wheel Co., 58 Ill. App. 625; State v. Schuchardt, 42 La. Ann. 49, 7 So. 67. See Hudson v. Thorne, 7 Paige (N. Y.) 261, holding that the charter of the city of Hudson did not empower the city corporation to restrict the erection of wooden buildings within the city, or to limit the size of buildings which any person might erect upon his own land; and that a city ordinance prohibiting the erection of a hay press within certain limits was void. See also cases cited supra, note 39.

Every citizen has the common-law right of acquiring title to a tract of land in a city, and to build thereon as his taste, convenience, or interest suggests or his means justify, without taking into consideration whether his building will conform in general character and appearance to others previously erected in the same locality. Bostock v. Sams, 95 Md. 400, 52 Atl. 665, 93 Am. St. Rep. 394, holding that an ordinance authorizing the withholding of a permit for the erection of a building if it does not conform in general character to the buildings previously erected in the same locality, and will tend to diminish the value of the surrounding improved or unimproved property, is not justified by a grant to the municipality of power to regulate buildings and pass ordinances for the preservation of order, and securing property and persons from danger and maintaining the peace, good government, health, and welfare of the city.

47. See King v. Davenport, 98 Ill. 305, 38 Am. Rep. 89; Baumgartner v. Hasty, 100 Ind. 575, 50 Am. Rep. 830; Easton v. Covey, 74 Md. 262, 22 Atl. 266; Rochester v. West, 164 N. Y. 510, 58 N. E. 673, 79 Am. St. Rep. 659, 53 L. R. A. 548; Com. v. La Bar, 5 Lack. Leg. N. (Pa.) 229; Knoxville v. Bird, 12 Lea (Tenn.) 121, 49 Am. Rep. 326; and cases cited infra, note 49 et seq.

48. California.—Ex p. Fiske, 72 Cal. 125, 13 Pac. 310.

Connecticut.—Tuttle v. State, 4 Conn. 68. Compare Stamford v. Studwell, 60 Conn. 85, 21 Atl. 101.

Indiana.—Mt. Vernon First Nat. Bank v. Sarlls, 129 Ind. 201, 28 N. E. 434, 28 Am. St. Rep. 185, 13 L. R. A. 481.

Massachusetts.—See Greene v. Damrell, 175 Mass. 394, 56 N. E. 707. Compare Newton v. Belger, 143 Mass. 598, 10 N. E. 464.

New York.—New York Fire Dept. v. Wendell, 13 Daly 427, 430; People v. Crain, 47 Misc. 281, 95 N. Y. Suppl. 906 [affirmed in 95 N. Y. Suppl. 1164], construing the Tenement House Act of 1901.

Pennsylvania.—Brice's Appeal, 89 Pa. St. 55. See also Philadelphia v. Coulston, 13 Phila. 182. Compare Bowers v. Wright, 4 Wkly. Notes Cas. 460, as to approval of plans by building inspectors.

Virginia.—Carroll v. Lynchburg, 84 Va. 803, 6 S. E. 133.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1333.

49. Indian Territory.—In re English, 3 Indian Terr. 523, 61 S. W. 992.

Louisiana.—New Orleans v. Danneman, 51 La. Ann. 1093, 25 So. 931.

Maryland.—Bostock v. Sams, 95 Md. 400, 52 Atl. 665, 93 Am. St. Rep. 394.

Minnesota.—State v. Starkey, 49 Minn. 503, 52 N. W. 24.

New Jersey.—Hubbard v. Paterson, 45 N. J. L. 310, 46 Am. Rep. 772.

Ohio.—Bedford v. Tarbell, 10 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 337, 7 Ohio N. P. 411.

(2) Has it lawfully exercised the power by enacting a prohibitory ordinance? ⁵⁰ An affirmative answer to both questions is essential to sustain the municipal authority.⁵¹ To decide the question the courts employ the familiar canons of statutory construction.⁵²

Pennsylvania.—See Borough of Stevenson, 2 Del. Co. 399.

Wisconsin.—Smith v. Milwaukee Builders', etc., Exch., 91 Wis. 360, 64 N. W. 1041, 51 Am. St. Rep. 912, 30 L. R. A. 504.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1333.

Mass. St. (1894) c. 481, § 11, authorizing a town to pass by-laws "for the prevention of fires and the preservation of life," and to "regulate the inspection, materials, construction, alteration, and use of buildings and other structures," has nothing to do with the regulation of offensive trades, but confers authority to regulate the things therein named only so far as may be reasonably necessary to prevent fire and preserve life. Winthrop v. New England Chocolate Co., 180 Mass. 464, 62 N. E. 969.

N. Y. Laws (1874), c. 547 § 8, confers on the building department of New York city authority to modify or vary the provisions of the building acts to meet the requirements of a particular case, but declares that no such modifications shall be permitted, except a record of the same be kept by the department and a certificate be first issued to the party applying for the same, but that such certificate should be issued only on an application setting forth the facts sworn to by the applicant, "after the application shall have been passed on favorably by the board of examiners." It was held that the assent of the board of examiners was made necessary before the department of buildings could modify the provisions of the acts in a particular case; but where, on application, a department refuses to make such modification, the board of examiners has no power to review its action. People v. Esterbrook, 26 Hun 401.

N. Y. Laws (1885), c. 456, § 21, requires certain buildings, or alterations thereof, thereafter constructed, to be made in a manner which would render them fireproof. Section 31 declares that in cases in which it is claimed by an owner that the provisions of this title do not directly apply, or that "an equally good and more desirable form of construction could be employed in his case, such person may present a petition to the board of examiners stating the facts, which they shall grant or reject, and their decision shall be final." It was held that the power to permit "an equally good or more desirable form of construction" did not authorize the board to allow wood to be used in the place of the incombustible substances mentioned in the act, but only to permit some other substances to be used which should appear to be equally as good and more desirable than that required. People v. D'Oench, 44 Hun 33.

Under the New York Tenement House Act the building superintendent was held not to be authorized to determine that movable trade fixtures in a department store were part of the construction of the building and must conform to the requirements of the building code. New York v. A. T. Stewart Realty Co., 109 N. Y. App. Div. 702, 96 N. Y. Suppl. 513.

The division of the city of Philadelphia into rural and urban inspection districts related to the duties of inspection only, and had no application to the enforcement of penalties for violation of building regulations. Singer v. Philadelphia, 112 Pa. St. 410, 4 Atl. 28. The word "rural" is not construed as in the Tax Act of 1854. Whenever the neighborhood is so compactly built up as to give it the character of the built-up portion of the city, the building inspection will apply and be enforced. Hancock v. Thayer, 10 Phila. 25. The division of the city of Philadelphia into rural and urban inspection districts by the act of May 7, 1855, relates to the performance of the duties of the building inspectors, and the act of April 21, 1855, prescribing penalties for violating building laws, contains no such distinction, and applies equally to both kinds of districts. Singer v. Philadelphia, supra.

50. Hasty v. Huntington, 105 Ind. 540, 5 N. E. 559; State v. Rice, 97 N. C. 421, 2 S. E. 180; Sioux Falls v. Kirby, 6 S. D. 62, 60 N. W. 156, 25 L. R. A. 621; Smith v. Milwaukee Builders', etc., Exch., 91 Wis. 360, 64 N. W. 1041, 51 Am. St. Rep. 912, 30 L. R. A. 504.

Irrespective of materials used.—An ordinance which provides that no person shall erect, add to, or generally change any building, without first obtaining the permission of the board of aldermen, is void in prohibiting the erection of buildings, irrespective of the materials to be used. State v. Tenant, 110 N. C. 609, 14 S. E. 387, 28 Am. St. Rep. 715, 15 L. R. A. 423.

51. New York v. Williams, 4 E. D. Smith (N. Y.) 516 [affirmed in 15 N. Y. 502]. See supra, note 50.

52. See cases cited supra, notes 49, 50; and supra, VI, L, 2. See also Com. v. Prescott, Thach. Cr. Cas. (Mass.) 507; Com. v. Cutler, Thach. Cr. Cas. (Mass.) 137; Willow Springs v. Wiphaup, 61 Mo. App. 275; Philadelphia v. Neumann, 16 Phila. (Pa.) 99, 13 Wkly. Notes Cas. 11.

The word "block," used in an ordinance prohibiting the erection of a blacksmith's shop in any block in which two thirds of the buildings on both sides of the street are used exclusively for residence purposes, without the written consent of a majority of the property-owners, provided "that in determining whether two-thirds of the buildings . . . are used exclusively for residence purposes, any building fronting upon another street and lo-

(c) Keeping and Use of Property—(1) IN GENERAL. It is competent for a municipal corporation in the exercise of the police function to reasonably regulate the use of property within the city limits.⁵³ Thus it has been held proper to regulate the amount and character of crop growing by each family within the corporate limits;⁵⁴ and to regulate the construction, erection, or maintenance of awnings, bill boards, or signs near the streets;⁵⁵ fences;⁵⁶ fire-escapes;⁵⁷ floor opencated upon a corner lot shall not be considered," means merely the part of the street upon which the blacksmith's shop is to be located, which lies between two cross streets, and does not mean the square surrounded by four streets. Patterson v. Johnson, 214 Ill. 481, 73 N. E. 761 [affirming 114 Ill. App. 329].

Erection on vacant land.—The prohibition of the Philadelphia ordinance of June 6, 1796, "for preventing the erection of wooden buildings," is not confined to the erection of such buildings on vacant land. Douglass v. Com., 2 Rawle (Pa.) 262.

53. Connecticut.—State v. McMahon, 76 Conn. 97, 55 Atl. 591.

Georgia.—Green v. Savannah, 6 Ga. 1.

Maine.—Wadleigh v. Gilman, 12 Me. 403, 28 Am. Dec. 188.

Minnesota.—State v. McMahon, 69 Minn. 265, 72 N. W. 79, 38 L. R. A. 675.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. F. Meyrose Lamp Mfg. Co., 139 Mo. 560, 41 S. W. 244, 61 Am. St. Rep. 474.

New Jersey.—Nicoulin v. Lowery, 49 N. J. L. 391, 8 Atl. 513.

New York.—New York v. Williams, 15 N. Y. 502.

Pennsylvania.—Scranton City v. Straff, 28 Pa. Super. Ct. 258.

South Carolina.—Summerville v. Pressley, 33 S. C. 56, 11 S. E. 545, 26 Am. St. Rep. 659, 8 L. R. A. 854; Charleston v. Elford, 1 McMull. 234.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1331 et seq. See also cases cited infra, note 54 et seq.

Under general welfare clause see supra, XI, A, 2, a, (1).

Must be reasonable.—Waters v. Leech, 3 Ark. 110; Corrigan v. Gage, 68 Mo. 541.

Notwithstanding they may in some measure interfere with private rights, without providing for compensation, police regulations to direct the use of private property so as to prevent its proving pernicious to the citizens at large are not void. Stuyvesant v. New York, 7 Cow. (N. Y.) 588; Vanderbilt v. Adams, 7 Cow. (N. Y.) 349.

54. Green v. Savannah, 6 Ga. 1; Summerville v. Pressley, 33 S. C. 56, 11 S. E. 545, 26 Am. St. Rep. 659, 8 L. R. A. 854, in which it was held that an ordinance limiting the maximum quantity of land which it should be lawful for any person or family to cultivate within the corporate limits of the town is valid under a charter which gives the town authorities power to pass any ordinance they may deem necessary for the preservation of the health, good order, etc., of the town.

55. Connecticut.—State v. Wightman, 78 Conn. 86, 61 Atl. 56. But compare State v. Clarke, 69 Conn. 371, 37 Atl. 975, 61 Am. St. Rep. 45, 39 L. R. A. 670, holding that an ordinance prohibiting the erection or use of "any awning, except the same be upon a suitable frame and attached entirely to the building, and which awning shall not when extended be less than six feet from the sidewalk," is void for uncertainty, because the word "suitable" has no definite meaning in the connection in which it is used.

Illinois.—Chicago v. Gunning System, 214 Ill. 628, 73 N. E. 1035, 70 L. R. A. 230 [affirming 114 Ill. App. 377].

Kansas.—Crawford v. Topeka, 51 Kan. 756, 33 Pac. 476, 37 Am. St. Rep. 323, 20 L. R. A. 692.

New York.—Rochester v. West, 164 N. Y. 510, 58 N. E. 673, 79 Am. St. Rep. 659, 53 L. R. A. 548; Gunning System v. Buffalo, 75 N. Y. App. Div. 31, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 987.

Pennsylvania.—Frey v. Norristown, 22 Montg. Co. Rep. 118.

United States.—Whitmier, etc., Co. v. Buffalo, 118 Fed. 773; In re Wilshire, 103 Fed. 620.

Ordinance must be reasonable.—An ordinance declaring that no sign or bill board shall be erected on any boulevard or pleasure drive, or in any street where three fourths of the buildings are devoted to residence purposes, without written consent of at least three fourths of the residents and property-owners on both sides of the street in the block where it is desired to erect such board is an arbitrary and unreasonable exercise of legislative power. Chicago v. Gunning System, 214 Ill. 628, 73 N. E. 1035, 70 L. R. A. 230 [affirming 114 Ill. App. 377]. So an ordinance requiring sign or bill boards to be constructed not less than ten feet from the street is a regulation not necessary for public safety, and cannot be justified as an exercise of the police power. Passaic v. Paterson Bill Posting, etc., Co., 72 N. J. L. 285, 62 Atl. 267, 111 Am. St. Rep. 676. See also Crawford v. Topeka, 51 Kan. 756, 33 Pac. 476, 37 Am. St. Rep. 323, 20 L. R. A. 692.

56. Jackson v. Miller, 69 N. J. Eq. 182, 60 Atl. 1019.

57. De Gintner v. New Jersey Home for Education, etc., Feeble-Minded Children, 58 N. J. L. 354, 33 Atl. 968, holding, however, that under the New Jersey act of March 24, 1890, relating to fire-escapes, it is not obligatory on an owner of a building to erect a fire-escape thereon until precedent action is taken by the municipality in which the building is located prescribing the number, ings and railings;⁵⁸ leaders for conducting water from roofs of buildings;⁵⁹ sidewalks;⁶⁰ and the use of bicycles.⁶¹ The municipality may also require the removal, within a reasonable time, of snow from or the covering of ice upon walks by persons owning or having control of the property.⁶²

(2) ANIMALS⁶³—(a) IN GENERAL. Ordinances have been generally sustained which forbid keeping in the corporate limits, or within the "settled portion of the city," certain animals,⁶⁴ such as hogs,⁶⁵ donkeys,⁶⁶ stallions,⁶⁷ and chickens;⁶⁸ but some have been held unreasonable and void.⁶⁹

(b) RUNNING AT LARGE.⁷⁰ Animals running at large⁷¹ within the city limits,⁷² according to the great weight of authority, are proper subjects for municipal dimensions, character, manner of construction, and erection of the fire-escapes.

58. New York v. Williams, 15 N. Y. 502 [affirming 4 E. D. Smith 516].

59. New York Fire Dept. v. Wendell, 13 Daly (N. Y.) 427, holding that under Laws (1885), c. 456, § 22, requiring buildings to be kept provided with metallic leaders for conducting the water from the roof, and that in no case shall the water from the leader be allowed to flow on the sidewalk, but shall be conducted by pipes to the sewer, an owner of a building erected prior to such act, who permits water from the roof to be discharged from the mouth of the leader on the public highway, is liable to the penalty imposed for the violation of such act.

60. Hawes v. Chicago, 158 Ill. 653, 42 N. E. 373, 30 L. R. A. 225, but must be reasonable. See also, infra, XII, A.

61. Emporia v. Wagoner, 6 Kan. App. 659, 49 Pac. 701; Massinger v. Millville, 63 N. J. L. 123, 43 Atl. 443, holding, however, that under the New Jersey act of March 3, 1896, which requires all city ordinances regulating the use of bicycles to be in conformity therewith, and which provides that the penalty for riding at night without a lamp shall be within the discretion of the magistrate, not to exceed five dollars, an ordinance fixing a uniform penalty of five dollars is void. See also supra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (H).

62. State v. McMahan, 76 Conn. 97, 55 Atl. 591.

63. Cruelty to animal see ANIMALS, 2 Cyc. 341; and supra, XI, A, 2, a, (I), text and note.

Killing unlicensed animals see ANIMALS, 2 Cyc. 419.

Non-resident bound by ordinance see supra, XI, A, 5, 6.

Violation of regulation as to keeping or use of animal see infra, XI, B, 1, c.

64. See cases cited infra, note 70 et seq.

The reason for this is that large discretion is necessarily vested in a municipal council to determine and declare what is a nuisance; and the courts will interfere with that discretion only in case of its obvious abuse. See supra, XI, A, 7, b, (VI), (A).

Under general welfare clause see supra, XI, A, 2, a, (I).

65. Smith v. Collier, 118 Ga. 306, 45 S. E. 417; Com. v. Patch, 97 Mass. 221.

Keeping must constitute nuisance.—Under

Miss. Annot. Code (1892), § 2928, empowering municipalities to make regulations to secure the general health, to prevent and abate nuisances, and to suppress hog pens, it is only when the keeping of hogs in a city is a nuisance that the city may prevent their being kept therein, so that an ordinance providing generally that hogs may not be kept in the city, without reference to whether they are or are not a nuisance, is invalid. Comfort v. Kosciusko, 88 Miss. 611, 41 So. 268. Under a statute which authorizes the city council to abate nuisances which may become injurious to the public health and to pass ordinances for the preservation of health, the council of a city extending one and one-half miles in each direction from the court-house may adopt an ordinance forbidding the keeping of hogs within one mile of the court-house; the ordinance not being unreasonable merely because it permits the keeping of hogs outside the one-mile limit. Ex p. Glass, (Tex. Cr. App. 1905) 90 S. W. 1103. See also Ex p. Robinson, 30 Tex. App. 493, 17 S. W. 1057.

66. Ex p. Foote, 70 Ark. 12, 65 S. W. 706, 91 Am. St. Rep. 63.

67. Hoops v. Ipava, 55 Ill. App. 94; Nolin v. Franklin, 4 Yerg. (Tenn.) 163.

68. People v. Davis, 78 N. Y. App. Div. 570, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 747.

69. Ex p. O'Leary, 65 Miss. 80, 3 So. 144, 7 Am. St. Rep. 640 (too sweeping in its provisions); Ex p. Robinson, 30 Tex. App. 493, 17 S. W. 1057 (not a nuisance per se).

70. Exercise of this power see infra, XI, A, 8, h, (II).

71. Animals running at large generally see ANIMALS, 2 Cyc. 437.

Ordinances relating to animals running at large see ANIMALS, 2 Cyc. 437.

What is "running at large" see ANIMALS, 2 Cyc. 443.

72. Fixing certain limits.—Under a city ordinance prohibiting cattle from running at large within such city limits as may from time to time be designated by the common council by resolution, cattle may run at large anywhere in the city until the limits have been designated by the common council as provided in the ordinance. Lenz v. Sherrott, 26 Mich. 139.

On owner's own land.—A by-law of a town requiring that "all hogs shall be kept up" applies only to restrain swine from running at large on the highway, and not to prevent the owner from allowing his swine to run at police regulation either under its general powers as to public safety, welfare, health, etc., or under an express or implied grant of power for this specific purpose.⁷³

(c) Dogs. This favorite companion of man is subject not only to many general ordinances against animals,⁷⁴ but has also been made the subject of many special by-laws,⁷⁵ which have evoked much incongruous judicial opinion, with the general result that, under the police power, unless otherwise provided by statute or constitution, ordinances are valid which regulate the keeping of dogs in town,⁷⁶ require license and fees therefor,⁷⁷ and authorize summary killing of dogs not large on his own land. Shepherd v. Hees, 12 Johns. (N. Y.) 433.

73. California.—Amyx v. Taber, 23 Cal. 370.

Colorado.—Brophy v. Hyatt, 10 Colo. 223, 15 Pac. 399.

Georgia.—Crum v. Bray, 121 Ga. 709, 49 S. E. 686.

Illinois.—Roberts v. Ogle, 30 Ill. 459, 83 Am. Dec. 201; Chamberlain v. Litchfield, 56 Ill. App. 652.

Louisiana.—See New Orleans Third Municipality v. Blanc, 1 La. Ann. 385.

Maryland.—Hagerstown v. Witmer, 86 Md. 293, 37 Atl. 965, 39 L. R. A. 649; Cochrane v. Frostburg, 81 Md. 54, 31 Atl. 703, 48 Am. St. Rep. 479, 27 L. R. A. 728.

Massachusetts.—Com. v. Curtis, 9 Allen 266; Com. v. Bean, 14 Gray 52.

Missouri.—Jeans v. Morrison, 99 Mo. App. 208, 73 S. W. 235; McVey v. Barker, 92 Mo. App. 498.

North Carolina.—Rose r. Hardie, 98 N. C. 44, 4 S. E. 41; Hellen v. Noe, 25 N. C. 493. See also State v. Tweedy, 115 N. C. 704, 20 S. E. 183; Plymouth Com'rs v. Pettijohn, 15 N. C. 591.

Ohio.—Collins v. Hatch, 18 Ohio 523, 51 Am. Dec. 465.

Tennessee.—Chattanooga v. Norman, 92 Tenn. 73, 20 S. W. 417.

Texas.—Waco v. Powell, 32 Tex. 258. See Heath v. Hall, (Civ. App. 1894) 27 S. W. 160, holding that an ordinance prohibiting running at large of "horses, mules, cattle, burros, or other animals," passed under the authority of Rev. St. art. 400, which empowers cities to prevent the running at large of "horses, mules, cattle, burros, sheep, swine, and goats," makes it unlawful to allow swine to run at large, although they are not especially enumerated in the ordinance.

Virginia.—Bolton v. Vellines, 94 Va. 393, 26 S. E. 847, 64 Am. St. Rep. 737.

Wisconsin.—Miles v. Chamberlain, 17 Wis. 446.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1336; and ANIMALS, 2 Cyc. 437. See also supra, XI, A, 7, a.

An express grant of power for this purpose seems to be necessary in some states. See McKee r. McKee, 8 B. Mon. (Ky.) 433; Collins v. Hatch, 18 Ohio 523, 51 Am. Dec. 465; Wilson v. Beyers, 5 Wash. 303, 32 Pac. 90, 34 Am. St. Rep. 858, holding that under Hill Annot. St. Wash. §§ 558, 636, subd. 20, and § 673, subd. 16, towns of the fourth class have no authority to enact an ordinance prohibiting the running at large of animals in the streets.

Nuisance.—Domestic animals running at large within the streets of a town, in such numbers and under such circumstances as to be a source of discomfort and danger to the inhabitants, are a nuisance which it is the duty of the municipal authorities to abate under charter power to remove nuisances. Cochrane v. Frostburg, 81 Md. 54, 31 Atl. 703, 48 Am. St. Rep. 479, 27 L. R. A. 728. And cases cited supra, this note. See also infra, XI, A, 8, e, (1).

Penning up cattle at night.—A municipal ordinance directing, under a penalty, that cattle be penned up at night, applies only to residents of the municipality; not to those living beyond the corporation limits, although their cattle may stray into the town. Plymouth Com'rs v. Pettijohn, 15 N. C. 591, where the court merely construed the ordinance and expressly declined to pass upon the question whether the city could have made it applicable to persons beyond its limits.

74. Washington v. Lynch, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,231, 5 Cranch C. C. 498.

75. Com. v. Chase, 6 Cush. (Mass.) 248; Faribault v. Wilson, 34 Minn. 254, 25 N. W. 449; Carthage v. Rhodes, 101 Mo. 175, 14 S. W. 181, 9 L. R. A. 352.

Validity of ordinance relating to dogs running at large see ANIMALS, 2 Cyc. 439.

"Dog or other animal" in a by-law to prevent disturbance by noise does not include a horse. People v. Edelstein, 91 N. Y. App. Div. 447, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 861.

76. Com. v. Dow, 10 Metc. (Mass.) 382. See also Com. v. Steffee, 7 Bush (Ky.) 161.

77. District of Columbia.—Washington v. Meigs, 1 MacArthur 53, 29 Am. Rep. 578.

Georgia.—Griggs v. Macon, 103 Ga. 602, 30 S. E. 561, 68 Am. St. Rep. 134.

Kansas.—State v. Topeka, 36 Kan. 76, 12 Pac. 310, 59 Am. Rep. 529.

Massachusetts.—Blair v. Forehand, 100 Mass. 136, 97 Am. Dec. 82, 1 Am. Rep. 94. Compare Com. v. Bean, Thach. Cr. Cas. 85.

Minnesota.—Faribault v. Wilson, 34 Minn. 254, 25 N. W. 449.

Missouri.—Carthage v. Rhodes, 101 Mo. 175, 14 S. W. 181, 9 L. R. A. 352.

South Carolina.—Hill v. Abbeville, 59 S. C. 396, 38 S. E. 11.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1337.

muzzled.⁷⁸ Some cases denounce⁷⁹ and others sustain⁸⁰ ordinances assessing fines against owners for non-compliance with the ordinances of regulation and license.

(d) *Protection of Property*⁸¹—(1) IN GENERAL. A municipality may undoubtedly exercise the police power for the protection of its own or other public property,⁸² or property in public places.⁸³ But whether it may protect private property from encroachment is disputed, some courts maintaining the municipal power,⁸⁴ and others holding this to be a function of the state.⁸⁵

(2) FIRE REGULATIONS.⁸⁶ The prevention of and protection against conflagration is generally recognized as an appropriate exercise of the police power by municipalities;⁸⁷ and the enactment of ordinances establishing fire limits,⁸⁸ and forbidding the use of inflammable materials in buildings or in the erection

78. Gibson v. Harrison, 69 Ark. 385, 63 S. W. 999, 54 L. R. A. 268; Walker v. Towle, 156 Ind. 639, 59 N. E. 20, 53 L. R. A. 749; Haller v. Sheridan, 27 Ind. 494. But see Stebbins v. Mayer, 38 Kan. 573, 16 Pac. 745, holding that where the mayor directs the marshal to post notices requiring the owners of dogs to keep them muzzled, and directs that all dogs found running at large without muzzles shall be killed, such direction does not, in the absence of an ordinance authorizing such regulation, give the marshal authority to kill dogs found running at large in violation of said notice.

Where a dog had bitten a person, it was proper for the police department to order it to be killed or brought to the station house. People v. Metropolitan Police Bd., 15 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 167, 24 How. Pr. 481.

79. Washington v. Meigs, 1 MacArthur (D. C.) 53, 29 Am. Rep. 578.

80. Sibley v. Lastrico, 122 Iowa 211, 97 N. W. 1074; New Orleans Third Municipality v. Blanc, 1 La. Ann. 385.

81. Protection against fire see infra, XI, A, 7, b, (VIII), (D), (2).

82. State v. Merrill, 37 Me. 329. See also King v. Davenport, 98 Ill. 305, 38 Am. Rep. 89; Baumgartner v. Hasty, 100 Ind. 575, 50 Am. Rep. 830; Knoxville v. Bird, 12 Lea (Tenn.) 121, 49 Am. Rep. 326.

Artificial canal.—A grant of power to a mayor and common council of a city to secure the protection of persons and property therein authorizes such officers to construct an artificial canal, although partly outside of the city, to carry the waters of a natural stream which flowed through the city, and often overflowed, injuring the property of the city. Wilson v. Boise City, 6 Ida. 391, 55 Pac. 887.

Digging in streets.—Springfield Water Co. v. Darby, 199 Pa. St. 400, 49 Atl. 275.

Combustibles and explosions see supra, XI, A, 7, b, (IV).

83. Consolidated Traction Co. v. East Orange Tp., 63 N. J. L. 669, 44 Atl. 1099.

84. Brownville v. Cook, 4 Nebr. 101.

85. Horn v. People, 26 Mich. 221; Bregguglia v. Vineland, 53 N. J. L. 168, 20 Atl. 1082, 11 L. R. A. 407.

86. Building regulations generally see supra, XI, A, 3, d.

Explosives see supra, XI, A, 7, b, (IV); XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (K).

Regulation of fire protection see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 872.

87. California.—McCloskey v. Kreling, 76 Cal. 511, 18 Pac. 433; Ex p. Fiske, 72 Cal. 125, 13 Pac. 310; In re Newell, 2 Cal. App. 767, 84 Pac. 226.

Connecticut.—Hine v. New Haven, 40 Conn. 478. Compare Pratt v. Litchfield, 62 Conn. 112, 25 Atl. 461.

Georgia.—Ford v. Thralkill, 84 Ga. 169, 10 S. E. 600.

Louisiana.—State v. O'Neil, 49 La. Ann. 1171, 22 So. 352.

Maine.—Wadleigh v. Gilman, 12 Me. 403, 28 Am. Dec. 188.

Massachusetts.—Salem v. Maynes, 123 Mass. 372.

Michigan.—Micks v. Mason, 145 Mich. 212, 108 N. W. 707.

New Jersey.—Jackson v. Miller, 69 N. J. Eq. 182, 60 Atl. 1019.

New York.—Troy v. Winters, 4 Thomps. & C. 256; Brunner v. Downs, 17 N. Y. Suppl. 633.

North Carolina.—State v. Johnson, 114 N. C. 846, 19 S. E. 599.

Pennsylvania.—Douglass v. Com., 2 Rawle 262.

Tennessee.—Knoxville v. Bird, 12 Lea 121, 49 Am. Rep. 326.

Texas.—Chimene v. Baker, 32 Tex. Civ. App. 520, 75 S. W. 330.

Utah.—Eureka City v. Wilson, 15 Utah 67, 48 Pac. 150, 62 Am. St. Rep. 904.

Virginia.—Roanoke v. Bolling, 101 Va. 182, 43 S. E. 343.

Washington.—Baxter v. Seattle, 3 Wash. 352, 28 Pac. 537.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1334.

Compare Richmond v. Dudley, 129 Ind. 112, 28 N. E. 312, 28 Am. St. Rep. 180, 13 L. R. A. 587.

88. Alabama.—Canepa v. Birmingham, 92 Ala. 358, 9 So. 180.

Georgia.—Ford v. Thralkill, 84 Ga. 169, 10 S. E. 600.

New York.—Brunner v. Downs, 17 N. Y. Suppl. 633.

Oregon.—Hubbard v. Medford, 20 Oreg. 315, 25 Pac. 640.

Tennessee.—Knoxville v. Bird, 12 Lea 121, 49 Am. Rep. 326.

Washington.—Olympia v. Mann, 1 Wash. 389, 25 Pac. 337, 12 L. R. A. 150.

thereof within such limits⁸⁹ have been uniformly sustained as proper methods of its exercise. While some courts hold that this power is inherent in a municipality,⁹⁰ it nevertheless usually exists only by reason of an express grant or a necessarily implied statutory or constitutional delegation.⁹¹ Such ordinances cannot be retroactive and require the removal of existing buildings from the fire limits;⁹² but may prevent removal of forbidden structures into or even within

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1334; and cases cited supra, note 87.

Compare Pratt v. Litchfield, 62 Conn. 112, 25 Atl. 461, holding that Litchfield borough charter, which provides that "the burgesses are empowered . . . to provide adequate protection against fire," does not authorize the enactment of a by-law establishing "fire limits," within which "all new buildings or extensions of buildings therein shall be constructed of brick, stone, iron, or concrete, with fireproof roof, upon plans to be approved of by the burgesses."

A firewarden has no authority to give permission for the erection of a building in violation of the fire law. New York Fire Dept. v. Buffum, 2 E. D. Smith 511.

The common council of Brooklyn, whose only authority under the city charter (Laws (1888), c. 583, tit. 14, § 3) in regard to the fire limits was to extend them, could not grant a permit to erect a frame structure within the established fire limits. Brooklyn v. Furey, 9 Misc. (N. Y.) 193, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 349.

⁸⁹ King v. Davenport, 98 Ill. 305, 38 Am. Rep. 89; Monroe v. Hoffman, 29 La. Ann. 651, 29 Am. Rep. 345; Eureka City v. Wilson, 15 Utah 67, 48 Pac. 150, 62 Am. St. Rep. 904.

"Combustible" and "fireproof."—An ordinance prohibiting the erection within certain limits of buildings constructed of combustible materials, or any material not fireproof, is not uncertain and obscure because of failure to define "combustible" and "fireproof." Chimene v. Baker, 32 Tex. Civ. App. 520, 75 S. W. 330.

"Interior finish" relates to the permanent structure, and does not require trade fixtures used in a fireproof building to be covered with metal or treated with a fireproofing process. New York v. A. T. Stewart Realty Co., 109 N. Y. App. Div. 702, 96 N. Y. Suppl. 513.

The keeping of more than five tons of straw on one block, unless protected by a fireproof inclosure, may be prohibited. Clark v. South Bend, 85 Ind. 276, 44 Am. Rep. 13.

Tent or movable structure.—Under Cal. Const. art. 11, § 11, authorizing cities to enforce such police regulations as are not in conflict with general laws, it is competent for a city to declare it unlawful for any person to erect or maintain any tent or movable structure within the fire limits of the city. In re Newell, 2 Cal. App. 767, 84 Pac. 226.

Using shingles.—A provision in a city charter authorizing the municipality to prevent the reconstruction in wood of old buildings, within certain limits, does not include the power to prevent the repairing with shingles the roofs of buildings originally covered with similar materials. State v. Schnhardt, 42 La. Ann. 49, 7 So. 67.

⁹⁰ Indiana.—Kaufman v. Stein, 138 Ind. 49, 37 N. E. 333, 46 Am. St. Rep. 368. See also Baumgartner v. Hasty, 100 Ind. 575, 50 Am. Rep. 830; Clark v. South Bend, 85 Ind. 276, 44 Am. Rep. 13.

Louisiana.—Monroe v. Hoffman, 29 La. Ann. 651, 29 Am. Rep. 345.

Maine.—Wadleigh v. Gilman, 12 Me. 403, 23 Am. Dec. 188.

Massachusetts.—See Com. v. Tewksbury, 11 Metc. 55.

Michigan.—Brady v. Northwestern Ins. Co., 11 Mich. 425.

Under general welfare clause see supra, XI, A, 2, (1).

The reasonable view is that like other municipal powers it may be implied. Ford v. Thralkill, 84 Ga. 169, 10 S. E. 600; Alexander v. Greenville, 54 Miss. 659.

⁹¹ California.—Ex p. Lacey, 108 Cal. 326, 41 Pac. 411, 49 Am. St. Rep. 93, 38 L. R. A. 640; Ex p. Fiske, 72 Cal. 125, 13 Pac. 310; In re Newell, 2 Cal. App. 767, 84 Pac. 226.

Connecticut.—Pratt v. Litchfield, 62 Conn. 112, 25 Atl. 461.

Illinois.—King v. Davenport, 98 Ill. 305, 38 Am. Rep. 89.

Iowa.—Des Moines v. Gilchrist, 67 Iowa 210, 25 N. W. 136, 56 Am. Rep. 341; Keokuk v. Scroggs, 39 Iowa 447.

Missouri.—Eichenlaub v. St. Joseph, 113 Mo. 395, 21 S. W. 8, 18 L. R. A. 590.

Pennsylvania.—Respublica v. Duquet, 2 Yeates 493 [distinguished in Kneedler v. Norristown, 100 Pa. St. 368, 45 Am. Rep. 384]. Compare Klingler v. Bickel, 117 Pa. St. 326, 11 Atl. 555.

Texas.—Pye v. Peterson, 45 Tex. 312, 23 Am. Rep. 608.

West Virginia.—Charleston v. Reed, 27 W. Va. 681, 55 Am. Rep. 336.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1334.

⁹² Buffalo v. Chadeayne, 134 N. Y. 163, 31 N. E. 443. See also Berthin v. Crescent City Live Stock Landing, etc., Co., 28 La. Ann. 210; Jackson v. Miller, 69 N. J. Eq. 182, 60 Atl. 1019; Cleveland v. Lenze, 27 Ohio St. 383; Barthel v. New Orleans, 24 Fed. 563. But see Monroe v. Hoffman, 29 La. Ann. 651, 29 Am. Rep. 345; New York Fire Dept. v. Wendell, 13 Daly (N. Y.) 427.

The fact that one had already dug the cellar and contracted for the materials and erection of a wooden building was held not to exempt him from the operation of an ordinance forbidding the erection of such build-such limits from one lot to another;⁹³ and may authorize the summary demolition of buildings erected in violation of law.⁹⁴ That a wooden structure ceases to be such when encased with iron has been held by some courts,⁹⁵ but this view has not been generally accepted.⁹⁶

(ix) SUNDAY OBSERVANCE. Sunday observance⁹⁷ may become a proper subject for municipal police regulation,⁹⁸ either under the general powers as to public safety, welfare, health, etc.,⁹⁹ or under an express or implied grant of power for the purpose.¹ The general statutes of the state on this subject fix the limit and measure of municipal police power,² unless the charter expressly confers more.³ But the municipality need not cover the entire field of the statute;⁴ and an ings in certain limits, including the site. Salem v. Maynes, 123 Mass. 372.

93. Kaufman v. Stein, 138 Ind. 49, 37 N. E. 333, 46 Am. St. Rep. 368; Griffin v. Gloversville, 67 N. Y. App. Div. 403, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 684. Where an ordinance prohibits the erection of buildings of combustible material within certain limits other than such as are provided for in the ordinance, the removal of a building constructed of combustible materials from some portion of the fire limits to another place within such limits is unlawful. Eureka City v. Wilson, 15 Utah 67, 48 Pac. 150, 62 Am. St. Rep. 904.

A permit to remove a wooden building from one point to another within the fire limits may, however, be granted. State v. Kearney, 25 Nebr. 262, 41 N. W. 175, 13 Am. St. Rep. 493.

94. Arkansas.—McKibbin v. Ft. Smith, 35 Ark. 352.

Connecticut.—Hine v. New Haven, 40 Conn. 478.

Louisiana.—See Monroe v. Hoffman, 29 La. Ann. 651, 29 Am. Rep. 345.

Michigan.—Micks v. Mason, 145 Mich. 212, 108 N. W. 707.

New York.—New York Fire Dept. v. Buhler, 35 N. Y. 177, 33 How. Pr. 378 [reversing 1 Daly 391].

Pennsylvania.—Klingler v. Bickel, 117 Pa. St. 326, 11 Atl. 555; Ellwood City v. Mani, 16 Pa. Co. Ct. 474.

Washington.—Baxter v. Seattle, 3 Wash. 352, 28 Pac. 537.

Summary abatement of nuisance see NUISANCES.

Summary destruction of property see infra, XI, B, 8, k.

95. Montgomery v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 84 Ala. 127, 4 So. 626.

96. Charleston v. Reed, 27 W. Va. 681, 55 Am. Rep. 336. See Sylvania v. Hilton, 123 Ga. 754, 51 S. E. 744, 107 Am. St. Rep. 162, 2 L. R. A. N. S. 483 (holding that a building constructed by erecting a wooden frame and covering it on the outside with corrugated iron, the interior, including the flooring and ceiling, being entirely of wood, is not in compliance with an ordinance declaring that within fire limits all buildings shall be constructed of incombustible material and covered with fire proofing); Com. v. Prescott, Thach. Cr. Cas. (Mass.) 507 (holding that under a statute regulating the size of wooden buildings to be erected in the city of Boston, it is not lawful to erect a building ten feet on the ground in length, by five in width, and forty-two feet in height, three sides of which are wood, against the wall of a brick dwelling-house, to be used as a staircase, although such building be covered with zinc).

97. Sunday generally see SUNDAY.

Sale of liquor on Sunday see INTOXICATING LIQUORS, 23 Cye. 190.

98. Connecticut.—State v. Welch, 36 Conn. 215.

Florida.—Theisen v. McDavid, 34 Fla. 440, 16 So. 321, 26 L. R. A. 234.

Georgia.—Bagwell v. Lawrenceville, 94 Ga. 654, 21 S. E. 903.

Illinois.—Chebense v. McPherson, 15 Ill. App. 311 [affirmed in 114 Ill. 46, 28 N. E. 454, 55 Am. Rep. 857].

Iowa.—Lovilla v. Cobb, 126 Iowa 557, 102 N. W. 496.

Kentucky.—Megowan v. Com., 2 Metc. 3.

South Carolina.—Charleston v. Benjamin, 2 Strobb. 508, 49 Am. Dec. 606.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1329; and cases cited infra, note 99 et seq.

99. Theisen v. McDavid, 34 Fla. 440, 16 So. 321, 26 L. R. A. 234; McPherson v. Chebanse, 114 Ill. 46, 28 N. E. 454, 55 Am. Rep. 857 [affirming 15 Ill. App. 311]; Ex p. Abram, 34 Tex. Cr. 10, 28 S. W. 818. See also supra, XI, A, 7, a.

Under general welfare clause see supra, XI, A, 2, a, (1).

1. See St. Louis v. Cafferata, 24 Mo. 94. See also supra, XI, A, 2, 4.

2. McPherson v. Chebanse, 114 Ill. 46, 28 N. E. 454, 55 Am. Rep. 857 [affirming 15 Ill. App. 311]. See also Theisen v. McDavid, 34 Fla. 440, 16 So. 321, 26 L. R. A. 234; Rothschild v. Darien, 69 Ga. 503; Canton v. Nist, 9 Ohio St. 439; Ex p. Abram, 34 Tex. Cr. 10, 28 S. W. 818, holding that the aldermen of a town having less than one thousand inhabitants may, under Tex. Rev. St. art. 520, which empowers it to enact ordinances not inconsistent with the laws of the state, incorporate into an ordinance Pen. Code, arts. 186, 186a, prohibiting bartering and selling on Sunday.

3. St. Louis v. Cafferata, 24 Mo. 94. See also McPherson v. Chebanse, 114 Ill. 46, 28 N. E. 454, 55 Am. Rep. 857 [affirming 15 Ill. App. 311].

4. Theisen v. McDavid, 34 Fla. 440, 16 So. 321, 26 L. R. A. 234.

ordinance forbidding only a portion of the acts denounced by statute may yet be valid.⁵

8. EXERCISE OF POWER⁶—a. In General. While the state may prescribe by law (1) over what subjects the municipality may exercise the police power,⁷ (2) in what mode or manner it shall be exercised,⁸ and (3) what officer or department shall perform the functions,⁹ a general grant of the police power leaves it to the discretion of the municipality what, and how, and by whom it will exercise the power.¹⁰ The power must not be exercised arbitrarily, irregularly, or tyrannically.¹¹ The regular municipal method of exercising police functions is by the enactment of ordinances of regulation or prohibition, the former usually prescribing fees and licenses,¹² and the latter penalties for violation of the ordinance;¹³ and the enforcement of these police ordinances exhibits the police power of a municipi-

5. Theisen v. McDavid, 34 Fla. 440, 16 So. 321, 26 L. R. A. 234; McPherson v. Chebanse, 114 Ill. 46, 28 N. E. 454, 55 Am. Rep. 857 [affirming 15 Ill. App. 311].

6. Reward for apprehension of criminal see infra, XV, A, 1, c, (IV).

Workhouse, power to establish and maintain, see supra, XI, B, 4, q, (IX).

7. Gundling v. Chicago, 176 Ill. 340, 52 N. E. 44, 48 L. R. A. 230; State v. Noyes, 30 N. H. 279; Mills v. Chicago, 127 Fed. 731.

Persons and things bound by police regulations see infra, XI, A, 6.

The courts are the final judges as to what are proper subjects of the police power, and the law-making power cannot arbitrarily make that a subject of its exercise, which, from its nature, is not one. Jacksonville v. Ledwith, 26 Fla. 163, 7 So. 885, 23 Am. St. Rep. 558, 9 L. R. A. 69.

8. Bancroft v. Cambridge, 126 Mass. 438.

Exclusive of other methods.—Where a city corporation is empowered by its charter to make by-laws, and to enforce them by a certain penalty, no other method of enforcing obedience to its by-laws can be adopted. Hart v. Albany, 9 Wend. (N. Y.) 571, 24 Am. Dec. 165.

Under Miller Code Iowa, § 457, which authorizes a city to prohibit the erection of wooden buildings within certain limits as a precaution against fires, on petition of certain of the owners of property, such petition is a necessary prerequisite to the exercise of the power; and an ordinance to that effect, passed without a petition therefor, is void. Des Moines v. Gilchrist, 67 Iowa 210, 25 N. W. 136, 56 Am. Rep. 341.

Tex. Const. art. 16, § 23, providing that the legislature may regulate live stock in the stock-raising portions of the state, and pass general or special laws for the inspection of cattle, "provided that any local law thus passed shall be submitted to the freeholders of the section to be affected thereby," does not require a municipal ordinance forbidding cattle to run at large in the city to be submitted to and approved by the freeholders of the city. Batsel v. Blaine, (App. 1891) 15 S. W. 283.

9. Louisburg v. Harris, 52 N. C. 281.

10. See New Orleans Gas Light Co. v. Hart, 40 La. Ann. 474, 4 So. 215, 8 Am. St. Rep. 544; St. Paul v. Colter, 12 Minn. 41, 90 Am. Dec. 278; Summerville v. Pressley, 33 S. C. 56, 11 S. E. 545, 26 Am. St. Rep. 659, 8 L. R. A. 854. Compare Odd Fellows' Cemetery Assoc. v. San Francisco, 140 Cal. 226, 73 Pac. 987 (holding that where a city was given power by its charter to make necessary local police, sanitary, and other laws and regulations, the insertion of the word "necessary" did not limit or restrict the power given to the city); Jacksonville v. Ledwith, 26 Fla. 163, 7 So. 885, 23 Am. St. Rep. 558, 9 L. R. A. 69 (holding that where the language of a statute authorizing an exercise of the police power is so broad as to include things which are not, as well as those which are, the subject of the power, the exercise of the power will be confined to things which are legally the subjects of such power).

When a city council is vested with full power over a subject, and the mode of the exercise of such power is not limited by the charter, it may exercise it in any manner most convenient. Danville v. Hatcher, 101 Va. 523, 44 S. E. 723.

11. Greensboro v. Ehrenreich, 80 Ala. 579, 2 So. 725, 60 Am. Rep. 130; Jackson v. Newman, 59 Miss. 385, 42 Am. Rep. 367; Hayes v. Appleton, 24 Wis. 542. See also Berthin v. Crescent City Livestock-Landing, etc., Co., 28 La. Ann. 210.

12. Alabama.—Carroll v. Tuscaloosa, 12 Ala. 173.

Arkansas.—Ft. Smith v. Ayers, 43 Ark. 82.

Connecticut.—Welch v. Hotchkiss, 39 Conn. 140, 12 Am. Rep. 383.

Illinois.—Bull v. Quincy, 9 Ill. App. 127 [affirmed in 106 Ill. 337].

Indiana.—American Furniture Co. v. Batesville, 139 Ind. 77, 38 N. E. 408; Ridgeway v. West, 60 Ind. 371.

United States.—Barthet v. New Orleans, 24 Fed. 563; Ward v. Washington, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,163, 4 Cranch C. C. 232.

Licenses and fees for same see infra, XI, A, 8, c, (I)-(VII).

13. Georgia.—Vason v. Augusta, 38 Ga. 542.

Illinois.—Ewbanks v. Ashley, 36 Ill. 177.

Missouri.—State v. Gordon, 60 Mo. 383; In re Jones, 90 Mo. App. 318; De Soto v. Brown, 44 Mo. App. 148; In re Miller, 44 Mo. App. 125.

New York.—Coates v. New York, 7 Cow. 585; Hart v. Albany, 9 Wend. 571, 24 Am. Dec. 165.

pality in its ordinary operation.¹⁴ What these ordinances shall be rests in the legislative discretion of the council; ¹⁵ and with this the courts will not assume to interfere, if the ordinance respects the constitutional and inherent rights of the citizen,¹⁶ and is obviously adapted to accomplish the end designed.¹⁷

b. Particular Boards and Officers. The measure of police power delegated by the state to the municipality may be exercised only by the governing body.¹⁸ Neither the board of health nor any other board or officer of a municipality may exercise the municipal discretion, except under express charter authority,¹⁹ or by-law ordained by the council,²⁰ under which their functions are ministerial.

c. Licenses and Permits²¹—(i) IN GENERAL. Licenses or permits may be made applicable to all persons, resident or non-resident, who practice the acts permitted or engage in the occupations licensed.²²

(ii) *POWER TO GRANT.*²³ As shown by numerous adjudications, municipal power to grant a license or permit may exist under either the police power²⁴ or

North Carolina.—Washington v. Hammond, 76 N. C. 33.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1312; and supra, XI, A, 4, b, c.

Power to punish violations of regulations see infra, XI, A, 8, g.

Prohibitory ordinances see infra, XI, A, 8, d.

14. See supra, notes 12, 13.

15. Campion v. Buffalo, 8 N. Y. St. 329.

16. See Campbell v. District of Columbia, 19 App. Cas. (D. C.) 131.

17. Waters Pierce Oil Co. v. New Iberia, 47 La. Ann. 863, 17 So. 343.

18. See supra, V, A, 1, 2, 3.

When by charter or statute police power is delegated to the city, it is not competent for the council to pass an ordinance delegating or leaving to any officer or committee the power to determine the mode, manner, or plan of exercising the police power. Lufkin v. Galveston, 56 Tex. 522.

19. Walsh v. Denver, 11 Colo. App. 523, 53 Pac. 458; Fowle v. Alexandria, 3 Pet. (U. S.) 398, 7 L. ed. 719 [affirming 9 Fed. Cas. No. 4,993, 3 Cranch C. C. 70].

Under the Arkansas statute (Sandels & H. Dig. § 5132) giving municipal corporations power to prevent nuisances from anything dangerous, offensive, or unhealthy, and to cause any nuisance to be abated, within the jurisdiction given to the board of health, and section 5203, giving the city council power to establish a board of health, and to invest it with such powers and impose such duties on it as are necessary to secure the city from "contagious, malignant and infectious diseases," the city council had authority to confer power on the board of health to abate a house infected with smallpox, as a nuisance dangerous to the public health. Waters v. Townsend, 65 Ark. 613, 47 S. W. 1054.

Delegation of municipal police power see supra, XI, A, 3.

20. Cambridge v. Munroe, 126 Mass. 496.

21. Licenses in general see LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 593 et seq.

License to remove garbage, etc., see supra, XI, A, 7, b, (VI), (C), (D).

Particular subjects of license see supra, XI, A, 7, b.

Surrender of power by contract or license see supra, XI, A, 3, b.

22. Huntington v. Cheesbro, 57 Ind. 74; Mason v. Cumberland, 92 Md. 451, 48 Atl. 136; Taylor Borough v. Postal Tel., etc., Co., 16 Pa. Super. Ct. 344; Frommer v. Richmond, 31 Gratt. (Va.) 646, 31 Am. Rep. 746. See also LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 610; and supra, XI, A, 5, 6.

23. Power to license see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 876.

24. Alabama.—Mobile v. Yuille, 3 Ala. 137, 36 Am. Dec. 441.

Arkansas.—Russellville v. White, 41 Ark. 485.

California.—Matter of Guerrero, 69 Cal. 88, 10 Pac. 261.

Georgia.—Fitts v. Atlanta, 121 Ga. 567, 49 S. E. 793, 104 Am. St. Rep. 167, 67 L. R. A. 803; Daus v. Macon, 103 Ga. 774, 30 S. E. 670.

Illinois.—Kinsley v. Chicago, 124 Ill. 359, 16 N. E. 260; U. S. Distilling Co. v. Chicago, 112 Ill. 19; Chicago v. Bartee, 100 Ill. 57; Chicago Packing, etc., Co. v. Chicago, 88 Ill. 221, 30 Am. Rep. 545; Ballard v. Chicago, 69 Ill. App. 638; Bull v. Quincy, 9 Ill. App. 127 [affirmed in 106 Ill. 337].

Indiana.—Indianapolis v. Bieler, 138 Ind. 30, 36 N. E. 857; Huntington v. Cheesbro, 57 Ind. 74.

Iowa.—Burlington v. Lawrence, 42 Iowa 681; Burlington v. Kellar, 18 Iowa 59.

Louisiana.—New Orleans v. New Orleans City, etc., R. Co., 40 La. Ann. 587, 4 So. 512; New Orleans v. Guillotte, 14 La. Ann. 875.

Massachusetts.—Lincoln v. Boston, 148 Mass. 578, 20 N. E. 329, 12 Am. St. Rep. 601, 3 L. R. A. 257.

Michigan.—Love v. Judge Recorder's Ct., 128 Mich. 545, 87 N. W. 785, 55 L. R. A. 618; Grand Rapids v. Newton, 111 Mich. 48, 69 N. W. 84, 66 Am. St. Rep. 387, 35 L. R. A. 226; Van Baalen v. People, 40 Mich. 258.

Minnesota.—State v. Schoenig, 72 Minn. 528, 75 N. W. 711.

Mississippi.—Porter v. Water Valley, 70 Miss. 560, 12 So. 828.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. F. Meyrose Lamp Mfg. Co., 139 Mo. 560, 41 S. W. 244, 61 Am. St. Rep. 474; Eichenlaub v. St. Joseph, 113

the power of taxation,²⁵ or under both;²⁶ but, on the other hand, revenue may

Mo. 395, 21 S. W. 8, 18 L. R. A. 590; St. Joseph v. Dye, 72 Mo. App. 214.

Nebraska.—Littlefield v. State, 42 Nebr. 223, 60 N. W. 724, 47 Am. St. Rep. 697, 28 L. R. A. 588; State v. Kearney, 25 Nebr. 262, 41 N. W. 175, 13 Am. St. Rep. 493.

New York.—People v. Mulholland, 82 N. Y. 324, 37 Am. Rep. 563; Buffalo v. Hill, 79 N. Y. App. Div. 402, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 449; Jones v. Foster, 43 N. Y. App. Div. 33, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 738.

Ohio.—Thomas v. Mt. Vernon, 9 Ohio 290.

Pennsylvania.—Beaver Valley Water Co. v. Conway Borough, 213 Pa. St. 225, 62 Atl. 844; Wilkes-Barre v. Garehed, 9 Kulp 273; Mahonoy City v. Pennsylvania Theater Co., 3 Schuylkill Leg. Rec. 160; Brownbach v. North Wales, 44 Wkly. Notes Cas. 258.

South Carolina.—State v. Charleston, 2 Speers 623.

Vermont.—State v. Bevins, 70 Vt. 574, 41 Atl. 655; St. Johnsbury v. Thompson, 59 Vt. 300, 9 Atl. 571, 59 Am. Rep. 731; In re Snell, 58 Vt. 207, 1 Atl. 566; Winooski v. Gokey, 49 Vt. 282.

United States.—Laundry License Case, 22 Fed. 701; Ward v. Washington, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,163, 4 Cranch C. C. 232.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1364; and LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 599 et seq.

Power must be plainly conferred.—The power of a municipality to license or give a permit must be plainly conferred by the legislature, or it will not be held to exist. Gettysburg v. Zeigler, 2 Pa. Co. Ct. 326. See also Sanction Express Co. v. R. M. Rose Co., 124 Ga. 581, 53 S. E. 185, 5 L. R. A. N. S. 619; New York Fire Dept. v. Buffum, 2 E. D. Smith (N. Y.) 511; Brooklyn v. Freney, 9 Misc. (N. Y.) 193, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 349; and supra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (A).

25. Alabama.—Ex p. Montgomery, 64 Ala. 463.

Arkansas.—Hot Springs v. Rector, (1903) 76 S. W. 1056.

Illinois.—Van Inwagen v. Chicago, 61 Ill. 31; Illinois Mut. F. Ins. Co. v. Peoria, 29 Ill. 180.

Louisiana.—Merchants' Mut. Ins. Co. v. Blandin, 24 La. Ann. 112.

Missouri.—Eichenlaub v. St. Joseph, 113 Mo. 395, 21 S. W. 8, 18 L. R. A. 590; St. Louis v. Sternberg, 69 Mo. 289; Kansas City v. Oppenheimer, 100 Mo. App. 527, 75 S. W. 174; Farmington v. Rutherford, 94 Mo. App. 328, 68 S. W. 83; Lamar v. Adams, 90 Mo. App. 35.

New Jersey.—North Hudson County R. Co. v. Hoboken, 41 N. J. L. 71.

South Carolina.—Hill v. Abbeville, 59 S. C. 396, 38 S. E. 11.

Tennessee.—Hunter v. Memphis, 93 Tenn. 571, 26 S. W. 828; Columbia v. Beasley, 1 Humphr. 232, 34 Am. Dec. 646.

United States.—Western Union Tel. Co. v. Charleston, 56 Fed. 419 [affirmed in 153 U. S. 692, 14 S. Ct. 1094, 38 L. ed. 871].

See also LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 599 et seq.

Illustrations.—Under an authority to collect taxes on auctioneers, a municipal corporation may impose the tax either on the amount of the sales or in the form of a license to the auctioneer. Carroll v. Tuska-loosa, 12 Ala. 173. Under a charter authorizing a corporation to suppress and restrain bowling saloons, etc., the implied power to tax and license is conferred. Smith v. Madison, 7 Ind. 86. The corporation of the town of Nashville, under a grant of power to "license, regulate, and restrain theatrical amusements," may exercise the taxing power as a means of effecting this object. Hodges v. Nashville, 2 Humphr. (Tenn.) 61.

Express power necessary.—The power of municipal corporations to tax or license callings or occupations must be expressly conferred by law. Delcambre v. Clere, 34 La. Ann. 1050. Mass. Acts (1847), c. 224, does not authorize the mayor and aldermen of Boston to require the payment of money to the city by persons resident in Roxbury who may set up and drive omnibuses and stage coaches from Roxbury to Boston, and from Boston to Roxbury, for the conveyance of persons for hire, as a tax or duty upon such vehicles before so using the same. Com. v. Stodder, 2 Cush. (Mass.) 562, 48 Am. Dec. 679. Carbondale City Charter March 15, 1851 (Pub. Laws, p. 165, § 6), empowering the city council to make such ordinances as shall be necessary or convenient for the government and welfare of the city, does not authorize the city to impose a license-tax on places maintained merely for amusement. Carbondale v. Vail, 2 Del. Co. Ct. (Pa.) 387. See also supra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (A); infra, XV, D.

A subsequent special act conferring a direct grant of power prevails over a prior act refusing such power. So held as to the power in the amended charter of St. Louis of 1870 to tax insurance companies, notwithstanding the exemption in the general law of 1869 (Wagner St. p. 752, § 40). St. Louis v. Life Assoc. of America, 53 Mo. 466. See also St. Johnsbury v. Thompson, 59 Vt. 300, 9 Atl. 571, 59 Am. Rep. 731.

26. California.—Los Angeles County v. Eikenberry, 131 Cal. 461, 63 Pac. 766; Matter of Guerrero, 69 Cal. 88, 10 Pac. 261.

Kentucky.—Simrall v. Covington, 90 Ky. 444, 14 S. W. 369, 12 Ky. L. Rep. 404, 29 Am. St. Rep. 398, 9 L. R. A. 556.

Missouri.—Eichenlaub v. St. Joseph, 113 Mo. 395, 21 S. W. 8, 18 L. R. A. 590.

Tennessee.—Hodges v. Nashville, 2 Humphr. 61.

Texas.—Hirshfield v. Dallas, 29 Tex. App. 242, 15 S. W. 124.

New Whatcom city charter authorizes the city to license all lawful kinds of business for regulation and revenue purposes, and to fix the license-fee, and provide for its collection. The city council passed an ordinance forbidding auction sales except by duly licensed auctioneers, and fixed the license-fee for auction sales of stocks of merchandise, dress goods, jewelry, etc., at twenty-five dol-not be raised by police license;²⁷ nor police license be granted under the power of taxation;²⁸ nor may the municipality or any officer thereof license things forbidden by common or statute law—such as bawdy-houses, gambling houses, and saloons.²⁹ The power to regulate, however, necessarily implies the power to license, that is, to permit conditionally the doing of a thing.³⁰

(III) PROCEEDINGS FOR AND ISSUANCE OF LICENSE. Under an ordinance requiring license, the fee may be fixed by resolution,³¹ the council may retain discretion as to the issuance of licenses,³² and all applicants must comply with the conditions prescribed.³³ lars a day, payable in advance. It was held that, although such ordinance was unreasonable, and therefore could not be sustained under the city's power to "regulate" the business of auctioneers, it was nevertheless within the city's taxing power conferred by the charter. Stull v. De Mattos, 23 Wash. 71, 62 Pac. 451, 51 L. R. A. 892.

Tax and license distinguished.—The distinction is well recognized. Imposing licenses for regulating business, etc., is an exercise of the police power, while imposing them for revenue purposes is an exercise of the taxing power. Matter of Guerrero, 69 Cal. 88, 91, 10 Pac. 261; Jacksonville v. Ledwith, 26 Fla. 163, 7 So. 885, 23 Am. St. Rep. 558, 9 L. R. A. 69. A license-fee imposed by a city or village in pursuance of the section of the statute cited, upon certain avocations, trades, business, or occupations carried on within the corporate limits of such city or village, is not a tax, in the constitutional sense of that term. U. S. Distilling Co. v. Chicago, 112 Ill. 19, 22. See also LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 602.

27. Cape May v. Cape May Transp. Co., 64 N. J. L. 80, 44 Atl. 948; Memphis v. American Express Co., 102 Tenn. 336, 52 S. W. 172; Stull v. De Mattos, 23 Wash. 71, 62 Pac. 451, 51 L. R. A. 892. See also LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 602.

28. Burlington v. Bumgardner, 42 Iowa 673; New Orleans v. Costello, 14 La. Ann. 37; Leonard v. Canton, 35 Miss. 189. See also LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 602.

29. California.—Ex p. Tuttle, 91 Cal. 589, 27 Pac. 933; Ex p. Lane, 76 Cal. 587, 18 Pac. 677.

Connecticut.—State v. Flint, 63 Conn. 248, 28 Atl. 28; State v. Carpenter, 60 Conn. 97, 22 Atl. 497.

Illinois.—Chicago v. Brownell, 41 Ill. App. 70.

Kentucky.—Louisville v. Wehmhoff, 116 Ky. 812, 76 S. W. 876, 79 S. W. 201, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 995, 1924; White v. Com., 92 S. W. 285, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 1312.

Minnesota.—State v. Grimes, 49 Minn. 443, 52 N. W. 42.

Oregon.—Portland v. Yick, 44 Oreg. 439, 75 Pac. 706.

South Carolina.—Greenville v. Kemmis, 58 S. C. 427, 36 S. E. 727, 79 Am. St. Rep. 843, 50 L. R. A. 725.

Texas.—Ex p. Garza, 28 Tex. App. 381, 13 S. W. 779, 19 Am. St. Rep. 845.

See also LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 624; and supra, XI, A, 7, b, (III), (V).

Boarding house kept for prostitutes.—La. Acts (1855), p. 144, relative to crimes and offenses, does not prevent the city from levying a tax on boarding houses kept for prostitutes, provided they do not license houses of this class. New Orleans v. Costello, 14 La. Ann. 37.

Permit for wooden building within fire limits see supra, XI, A, 7, b, (VIII), (D), (2).

30. Arkansas.—Russellville v. White, 41 Ark. 485.

District of Columbia.—Washington v. Meigs, 1 MacArthur 53, 29 Am. Rep. 578.

Georgia.—Griggs v. Macon, 103 Ga. 602, 30 S. E. 561, 68 Am. St. Rep. 134.

Indiana.—Huntington v. Cheesbro, 57 Ind. 74.

Kansas.—State v. Topeka, 36 Kan. 76, 12 Pac. 310, 59 Am. Rep. 529.

Massachusetts.—Com. v. Plaisted, 148 Mass. 375, 19 N. E. 224, 12 Am. St. Rep. 566, 2 L. R. A. 142; Blair v. Forehand, 100 Mass. 136, 97 Am. Dec. 82, 1 Am. Rep. 94.

Minnesota.—Faribault v. Wilson, 34 Minn. 254, 25 N. W. 449.

Missouri.—Eichenlaub v. St. Joseph, 113 Mo. 395, 21 S. W. 8, 18 L. R. A. 590; Carthage v. Rhodes, 101 Mo. 175, 14 S. W. 181, 9 L. R. A. 352.

South Carolina.—Hill v. Abbeville, 59 S. C. 396, 38 S. E. 11.

Vermont.—St. Johnsbury v. Thompson, 59 Vt. 300, 9 Atl. 571, 59 Am. Rep. 731; In re Snell, 58 Vt. 207, 1 Atl. 566.

Wisconsin.—Lessey v. Green Bay, 1 Pinn. 486.

United States.—Laundry License Case, 22 Fed. 701.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1361. See also supra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (A); and LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 602.

"License, tax, and regulate."—St. Louis v. Bell Tel. Co., 96 Mo. 623, 10 S. W. 197, 9 Am. St. Rep. 370, 2 L. R. A. 278.

31. Arkadelphia Lumber Co. v. Arkadelphia, 56 Ark. 370, 19 S. W. 1053.

32. State v. Schoenig, 72 Minn. 528, 75 N. W. 711. See also LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 622. Compare Matter of O'Rourke, 9 Misc. (N. Y.) 564, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 375.

Presumption upon refusal.—The action of a city council in refusing a license or permit will be presumed to have been intended for the public's benefit, and to have been based on reasons deemed adequate. Buffalo v. Hill, 79 N. Y. App. Div. 402, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 449. Only when the discretion vested in the officers is arbitrarily, improperly, or fraudulently exercised will the courts interfere. Shraek v. Coatesville, 6 Pa. Dist. 425, 19 Pa. Co. Ct. 334.

33. See LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 622. See also

(iv) FORM, SUFFICIENCY, AND CONSTRUCTION. The provisions of the statute authorizing the granting of a license may also govern its form and sufficiency.³⁴ Only a single license may be demanded for a second-hand store;³⁵ but one license will not cover three stationary engines,³⁶ nor the machinery attached to one.³⁷ A license will be construed with reference to the application,³⁸ and the ordinance with reference to the corporate boundaries.³⁹

(v) TRANSFER AND REVOCATION. An occupation license being personal is not transferable;⁴⁰ but a permit to erect and maintain a plant at a fixed place may be transferred with the realty and business as an appurtenance.⁴¹ A license may be revoked for cause, if both charter and ordinance provide therefor;⁴² but it seems not otherwise.⁴³

St. Louis v. Knox, 6 Mo. App. 247; People v. Moore, 78 N. Y. App. Div. 28, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 7, for effect of state relating to examining boards for plumbers.

The power conferred upon a city by its charter to issue licenses can only be exercised after the passage of an ordinance specifying the details necessary to be pursued. Bull v. Quincy, 9 Ill. App. 127 [affirmed in 106 Ill. 337].

Application must be made to the town council and not to the burgess under an ordinance requiring a water company to obtain a permit from the town council before proceeding to lay its mains through the streets. Beaver Valley Water Co. v. Conway Borough, 213 Pa. St. 225, 62 Atl. 844.

The object in giving notice of an application for a license is that persons interested may have an opportunity to be heard thereon. Quinn v. Middlesex Electric Light Co., 140 Mass. 109, 111, 3 N. E. 204, where it was said: "Plaintiff in the present case had actual notice, and attended the hearing, and, by making no objection to the insufficiency of the notice, he waived longer notice to himself. Under these circumstances, it is nothing to him whether other persons had due notice or not. He cannot be heard to object that they did not."

34. Alter v. Dodge, 140 Mass. 594, 5 N. E. 504, holding that under Mass. Pub. St. c. 102, § 47, providing for the licensing by the aldermen of towns of steam engines, the license to prescribe the situation of the building to be erected for a steam engine, the construction thereof, and height of flues, a location is sufficiently described in a license as "A.'s shoe manufactory on Prince street"; and that if the license does not provide for height of flues, it will not be invalid, as that is discretionary with the aldermen. See also LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 623.

One who, under a permit illegally granted by city officers, constructs a building on his own land, cannot, by lapse of time, acquire a vested right to maintain the same, as he never had a right to vest. Brooklyn v. Furey, 9 Misc. (N. Y.) 193, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 349.

35. Hotelling v. Chicago, 66 Ill. App. 289.

36. Quinn v. Middlesex Electric Light Co., 140 Mass. 109, 3 N. E. 204.

37. Quinn v. Lowell Electric Light Corp., 140 Mass. 106, 3 N. E. 200.

38. Gallagher v. Flury, 99 Md. 181, 57 Atl. 672.

39. Norfolk v. Flynn, 101 Va. 473, 44 S. E. 717, 99 Am. St. Rep. 918, 62 L. R. A. 771. See also LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 624.

40. Mays v. Erwin, 8 Humphr. (Tenn.) 290. See also LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 625.

41. Quinn v. Middlesex Electric Light Co., 140 Mass. 109, 3 N. E. 204.

42. Towns v. Tallahassee, 11 Fla. 130; Child v. Bemus, 17 R. I. 230, 21 Atl. 539, 12 L. R. A. 57. See Boehm v. Baltimore, 61 Md. 259, holding that a municipal ordinance providing that no person shall remove the contents of any privy within the city without having obtained a license to do so, and every person who may obtain such license shall be considered as subject to the orders of the board of health in all matters relating to the opening and cleaning of privies, and for any neglect or refusal to obey the orders of the board the controller, on the written request of the commissioner of health, may revoke his license, is a lawful exercise of the power to pass ordinances to preserve the health of the city. See also LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 625.

No cause of action arises against a city for the revocation of a permit to erect a building within the fire limits, where it appears that an express condition in the permit, forbidding the erection on the sidewalk of any obstructions, or of a structure of a certain kind, was broken by the contractor. Harper v. Jonesboro, 94 Ga. 801, 22 S. E. 139.

43. Smith v. Major, 16 Ohio Cir. Ct. 362, 8 Ohio Cir. Dec. 649. See also LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 625.

Building permit.—Where a general municipal ordinance, applying to all citizens and property holders, provided for the granting of permits for the erection of buildings, the city council could not, during the life of the ordinance, cancel a permit duly granted in conformity with its provisions. Gallagher v. Flury, 99 Md. 181, 57 Atl. 672. Where a city council has granted a permit to build frame buildings within the fire limits, and excavations for the cellars have been made, and materials contracted for, and partly delivered, and the work of building is in progress, a resolution of the council, rescinding its former action, without notice to defendant or opportunity given him to be heard, is, in the absence of any public necessity for such

(vi) LICENSE-FEES AND TAXES.⁴⁴ Ordinances with either the purpose or effect of providing municipal revenue cannot be sustained or enforced under the police power,⁴⁵ but under the taxing power ordinances may provide either for an ad valorem tax or a license-tax.⁴⁶ Police license-fees, however, may be collected by a municipality sufficient to cover all expenses of license, inspection, and police supervision incident to the occupation;⁴⁷ but unreasonable charges invalidate the action, void, as taking property without due process of law. Buffalo v. Chadeayne, 7 N. Y. Suppl. 501.

Forfeiture of license.—Under an authority to impose fine or imprisonment as a penalty for violation of an ordinance, an ordinance cannot prescribe, as the penalty, fine and forfeiture of license. Staates v. Washington, 44 N. J. L. 605, 43 Am. Rep. 402.

44. See, generally, LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 593 et seq.

45. Louisiana.—Delcambre v. Clere, 34 La. Ann. 1050. See also New Orleans v. Great Southern Tel., etc., Co., 40 La. Ann. 41, 3 So. 533, 8 Am. St. Rep. 502; Vermillionville v. Mouton, 28 La. Ann. 586.

Mississippi.—Pitts v. Vicksburg, 72 Miss. 181, 16 So. 418.

Missouri.—Kansas City v. Corrigan, 18 Mo. App. 206.

New York.—New York v. Second Ave. R. Co., 32 N. Y. 261. See also New York v. Third Ave. R. Co., 33 N. Y. 42.

Pennsylvania.—Philipsburg v. Central Pennsylvania Tel., etc., Co., 22 Wkly. Notes Cas. 572. See also Carbondale v. Vail, 2 Del. Co. 387.

Washington.—Stull v. De Mattos, 23 Wash. 71, 62 Pac. 451, 51 L. R. A. 892.

Wisconsin.—Wisconsin Tel. Co. v. Milwaukee, 126 Wis. 1, 104 N. W. 1009, 110 Am. St. Rep. 886, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 581.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1368; cases cited supra, note 27; and LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 602.

Compare Com. v. Markham, 7 Bush (Ky.) 486, holding that an ordinance requiring the owner of a dog to apply to a city clerk to register and procure a stamped collar for each dog, and to pay to the city clerk at the time of the registry a certain sum for every dog so owned and registered, which tax shall be paid into the treasury, is not invalid on the ground that it is a tax for revenue, and, not being ad valorem, is unauthorized, as such ordinance is a license-tax and valid as a police regulation.

46. St. Joseph v. Ernst, 95 Mo. 360, 8 S. W. 558. See also New Orleans v. Costello, 14 La. Ann. 37; and LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 609.

Ad valorem taxation does not interfere with the right to impose a license-tax. See LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 609.

47. Arkansas.—Ft. Smith v. Ayers, 43 Ark. 82.

California.—Los Angeles County v. Eickenberry, 131 Cal. 461, 63 Pac. 766.

Connecticut.—Welch v. Hotchkiss, 39 Conn. 140, 12 Am. Rep. 383.

District of Columbia.—Washington v. Meigs, 1 MacArthur 53, 29 Am. Rep. 578.

Florida.—Jacksonville v. Ledwith, 26 Fla. 163, 7 So. 885, 23 Am. St. Rep. 558, 9 L. R. A. 69.

Georgia.—Griggs v. Macon, 103 Ga. 602, 30 S. E. 561, 68 Am. St. Rep. 134.

Kansas.—State v. Topeka, 36 Kan. 76, 12 Pac. 310, 59 Am. Rep. 529.

Louisiana.—New Orleans v. Hop Lee, 104 La. 601, 29 So. 214.

Maryland.—Mason v. Cumberland, 92 Md. 451, 48 Atl. 136; Postal Tel. Cable Co. v. Baltimore, 79 Md. 502, 29 Atl. 819, 24 L. R. A. 161.

Massachusetts.—Blair v. Forehand, 100 Mass. 136, 97 Am. Dec. 82, 1 Am. Rep. 94; Boston v. Schaffer, 9 Pick. 415.

Michigan.—Ash v. People, 11 Mich. 347, 83 Am. Dec. 740.

Minnesota.—St. Paul v. Dow, 37 Minn. 20, 32 N. W. 860, 5 Am. St. Rep. 811; Faribault v. Wilson, 34 Minn. 254, 25 N. W. 449.

Missouri.—Carthage v. Rhodes, 101 Mo. 175, 14 S. W. 181, 9 L. R. A. 352.

New York.—New York v. Miller, 12 Daly 496.

Pennsylvania.—Chester v. Western Union Tel. Co., 154 Pa. St. 464, 25 Atl. 1134.

South Carolina.—Hill v. Abbeville, 59 S. C. 296, 38 S. E. 11.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1368; and LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 611.

License plate on vehicle.—A city may require a license plate to be placed on a vehicle licensed to be used in a certain occupation, although it already has a license plate for street use attached, and may charge for the same the reasonable expense of furnishing it. St. Louis v. Weitzel, 130 Mo. 600, 31 S. W. 1045.

Underground wires.—The ordinance under which license charges were imposed by a city on telegraph poles and wires within its limits recited that great inconvenience had been occasioned to property-owners by the placing of telegraph poles in front of their premises, that the lives and property of citizens traveling about the city were imperiled by the maintenance of unsound telegraph poles, and that it was necessary to establish a system for the inspection and regulation of the maintenance of such poles. A subsequent ordinance was entitled "An ordinance to regulate the introduction and use of underground conduits, wires, and cables for electrical conductors in the streets of Philadelphia," etc. It also appeared that all charges were removed from wires placed underground. It was held that it clearly appears from the ordinance set forth, in the fact that charges were removed from wires placed underground, that such charge was not a tax, but merely an exercise of police power ordinance.⁴⁸ The sum required may be fixed fees,⁴⁹ or a percentage of business receipts,⁵⁰ or it seems both;⁵¹ and graduation is lawful.⁵² Foreign companies paying home license are not thereby exempted from municipal charges;⁵³ nor, unless the statute so expressly provides, does payment of state and county license-fees or charges exempt any one from a municipal license charge;⁵⁴ often indeed the municipality may collect license only on those privileges taxed by the state.⁵⁵ Whether license-fees are valid depends, (1) upon the municipal power to charge them,⁵⁶ and (2) the approximation of expenses to fees.⁵⁷ The latter will be presumed,⁵⁸ as well as the lawful purpose.⁵⁹

(vii) *REFUND OR RECOVERY OF FEES.*⁶⁰ An ordinance to refund a voluntary payment of license-fees is invalid;⁶¹ but not so of one passed pursuant to municipal promise.⁶² Nor may there be a recovery of license-fees voluntarily paid;⁶³ but it seems that in some states money so paid may be recovered in whole or in part when the license is unauthorized,⁶⁴ or is revoked by local option.⁶⁵

d. *Prohibitory Ordinances.*⁶⁶ While power to license includes power to reguby the city to reimburse itself for its expense in discharging its duty in furthering the public safety and convenience. Philadelphia v. Postal Tel. Cable Co., 67 Hun (N. Y.) 21, 21 N. Y. Suppl. 556.

48. New Haven v. New Haven Water Co., 44 Conn. 105; Ford v. Standard Oil Co., 32 N. Y. App. Div. 596, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 48; Ft. Pitt Gas Co. v. Sewickley, 198 Pa. St. 201, 47 Atl. 957. In Saginaw v. Swift Electric Light Co., 113 Mich. 660, 72 N. W. 6, it was held that an ordinance of a city charging an electric light company with fifty cents per annum for each pole maintained by it, to cover the costs of inspection by the city, is unreasonable, where the actual cost of such inspection is five cents per pole. See LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 611. Compare Ex p. Gregory, 1 Tex. App. 753.

49. Allerton v. Chicago, 6 Fed. 555, 9 Biss. 552. See also LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 627.

50. Oshkosh Fire Dept. v. Tuttle, 48 Wis. 91, 4 N. W. 134. In Walker v. Springfield, 94 Ill. 364, it was held that a sum required by a city to be paid by a foreign insurance company for the privilege of doing business within the city limits is not rendered a tax by the fact that it requires the payment of a certain percentage on the amount of its gross receipts, instead of a gross sum. Compare Moss v. St. Paul, 21 Minn. 421; Prince v. St. Paul, 19 Minn. 267; Densmore v. Erie, 7 Pa. Dist. 355, 20 Pa. Co. Ct. 513. See also LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 627.

51. Humphreys v. Norfolk, 25 Gratt. (Va.) 97.

52. Newton v. Atchison, 31 Kan. 151, 1 Pac. 283, 47 Am. Rep. 486. See also LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 627.

A classification of merchants in a city for license taxation according to their sales was proper and reasonable. Com. v. Clark, 21 Pa. Co. Ct. 495.

53. Clark v. Mobile, 67 Ala. 217. See also INSURANCE, 22 Cyc. 1394; LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 627.

54. Los Angeles County v. Eikenberry, 131 Cal. 461, 63 Pac. 766; Rutledge v. Brown, 14 Lea (Tenn.) 124. See also LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 609.

55. International Trading Stamp Co. v. Memphis, 101 Tenn. 181, 47 S. W. 136; Nashville v. Thomas, 5 Coldw. (Tenn.) 600.

La. Acts (1882), No. 20, conferring on the city of New Orleans the power to impose a license-tax, and Acts (1882), No. 119, conferring the power to enforce the collection of any and all taxes due to any political corporation, carry with them necessarily the power to impose just such a penalty as may be imposed by state laws, and further authorize the city council to adopt the state license law as its own. New Orleans v. Firemen's Ins. Co., 41 La. Ann. 1142, 7 So. 82.

56. People v. Hotchkiss, 118 Mich. 59, 76 N. W. 142; New York v. Reesing, 77 N. Y. App. Div. 417, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 331 [affirming 38 Misc. 129, 77 N. Y. Suppl. 82]. See cases cited supra, note 45 et seq. See also New Orleans v. Great Southern Tel., etc., Co., 40 La. Ann. 41, 3 So. 533, 8 Am. St. Rep. 502.

57. Jacksonville v. Ledwith, 26 Fla. 163, 7 So. 885, 23 Am. St. Rep. 558, 9 L. R. A. 69; St. Paul v. Dow, 37 Minn. 20, 32 N. W. 860, 5 Am. St. Rep. 811. See also LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 611.

58. Philadelphia v. Postal Tel. Cable Co., 67 Hun (N. Y.) 21, 21 N. Y. Suppl. 556. See also LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 612.

59. Johnson v. Philadelphia, 60 Pa. St. 445.

60. Recovery of money paid generally see LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 631; MONEY PAID, 27 Cyc. 832; PAYMENT.

Recovery by society against municipality for fines and penalties collected for infraction of ordinance against cruelty to animals see ANIMALS, 2 Cyc. 352.

61. Rooney v. Snow, 131 Cal. 51, 63 Pac. 155.

62. Columbia City v. Anthes, 84 Ind. 31, 43 Am. Rep. 80.

63. Americus First Nat. Bank v. Americus, 68 Ga. 119, 45 Am. Rep. 476; Ligonier v. Ackerman, 46 Ind. 552, 15 Am. Rep. 323. See also LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 631.

64. Leonard v. Canton, 35 Miss. 189.

65. Sharp v. Carthage, 48 Mo. App. 26.

66. Prohibiting animals from running at large see supra, XI, A, 7, b, (VIII), (c), (2), (b).

late,⁶⁷ power to regulate does not include power to prohibit or suppress.⁶⁸ Prohibition, total or partial, is not the equivalent of regulation;⁶⁹ and ordinances of prohibition, direct or indirect,⁷⁰ enacted under power of regulation only, are therefore ultra vires and void, as unwarranted assumption of municipal authority.⁷¹ So also it seems is an ordinance to prevent a nuisance, under charter power to abate and remove only;⁷² and a by-law preventing suburban dealers in staple commodities from supplying their urban customers, as being in restraint of trade.⁷³ But under charter power to prohibit, such ordinances are valid.⁷⁴

Prohibiting lawful acts or acts permitted by statute see supra, XI, A, 4, c.

Prohibition of erection of building see supra, XI, A, 7, b, (VIII), (B).

67. State v. Pamperin, 42 Minn. 320, 44 N. W. 251.

68. California.—Addison v. Saulnier, 19 Cal. 82.

Connecticut.—Welch v. Hotchkiss, 39 Conn. 140, 12 Am. Rep. 383.

Georgia.—Morton v. Macon, 111 Ga. 162, 36 S. E. 627, 50 L. R. A. 485; Johnson v. Macon, 62 Ga. 645; Hill v. Decatur, 22 Ga. 203.

Illinois.—Wiggins v. Chicago, 68 Ill. 372; East St. Louis v. Wehrung, 46 Ill. 392; Chicago v. Hardy, 66 Ill. App. 524.

Indiana.—Goshen v. Kern, 63 Ind. 468, 30 Am. Rep. 234; Sweet v. Wabash, 41 Ind. 7.

Maine.—State v. Hay, 29 Me. 457.

Michigan.—Youngblood v. Sexton, 32 Mich. 406, 20 Am. Rep. 654; Ash v. People, 11 Mich. 347, 83 Am. Dec. 740; Chilvers v. People, 11 Mich. 43.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Marine Ins. Co., 47 Mo. 163; St. Louis v. Boatmen's Ins., etc., Co., 47 Mo. 150; St. Louis v. Bircher, 7 Mo. App. 169.

Nebraska.—In re McMonies, (1906) 106 N. W. 456; State v. McMonies, (1906) 106 N. W. 454.

New Jersey.—Passaic v. Paterson Bill Posting, etc., Co., 71 N. J. L. 75, 58 Atl. 343; North Hudson County R. Co. v. Hoboken, 41 N. J. L. 71; State v. Hoboken, 33 N. J. L. 280.

New York.—New York v. Second Ave. R. Co., 32 N. Y. 261; Cushing v. Buffalo, 13 N. Y. St. 783; People v. New York, 7 How. Pr. 81.

Pennsylvania.—Johnson v. Philadelphia, 68 Pa. St. 445.

Wisconsin.—Carter v. Dow, 16 Wis. 298.

Canada.—Merritt v. Toronto, 25 Ont. 256.

Extent of rule.—While the power to "regulate" does not necessarily imply power to "prohibit" or "suppress" (In re McMonies, (Neb. 1906) 106 N. W. 456; State v. McMonies, (Neb. 1906) 106 N. W. 454; and cases cited supra), it confers authority to confine the business referred to to certain hours of the day, to certain localities or buildings in the city, and to prescribe rules for its prosecution within those hours, localities, and buildings (Ex p. Byrd, 84 Ala. 17, 4 So. 397, 5 Am. St. Rep. 328; and supra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII)). See also Jacksonville v. Ledwith, 26 Fla. 163, 7 So. 885, 23 Am. St.

Rep. 558, 9 L. R. A. 69; State v. St. Paul, 32 Minn. 329, 20 N. W. 243).

69. State v. Mott, 61 Md. 297, 48 Am. Rep. 105; Richmond Safety Gate Co. v. Ashbridge, 116 Fed. 220; and cases cited infra note 70 et seq.

70. Crowley v. West, 52 La. Ann. 526, 27 So. 53, 78 Am. St. Rep. 355, 47 L. R. A. 652; Toronto v. Virgo, [1896] A. C. 88, 65 L. J. P. C. 4, 73 L. T. Rep. N. S. 449.

71. Orday v. Cornelius, 23 Pa. Co. Ct. 281; Ex p. Patterson, 42 Tex. Cr. 256, 58 S. W. 1011, 51 L. R. A. 654.

Burns Annot. St. Ind. (1901) § 3616, authorizing cities to make other ordinances than those specifically prescribed by statute, not inconsistent with state law, and necessary to carry out the objects of the corporation, does not recognize an implied power in such corporations to prohibit slaughter-houses within the territory over which the city has police power, as such an attempt is not essential to the accomplishment by the city of the objects of its creation, nor to its continued existence. Elkhart v. Lipschitz, 164 Ind. 671, 74 N. E. 528.

Under a Massachusetts statute authorizing the selectmen of a municipal corporation to appoint and locate the places where the dead may be buried in the town, to make regulations for funerals and the interment of the dead, and to prescribe penalties for the violation of such regulations, an ordinance by the selectmen that no person, without written leave from a majority of the selectmen, should bring into the town any dead body, or bury any dead body so brought into the town in any part of his own premises or elsewhere within the town, is void, as it is not a regulation, but a prohibition. Austin v. Murray, 16 Pick. (Mass.) 121.

72. Cleveland v. Malm, 7 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 124, 5 Ohio N. P. 203. A provision in the charter of the city of Rochester authorizing the common council to enact by-laws to abate and remove nuisances gives it no power to pass an ordinance to prevent nuisances. Rochester v. Collins, 12 Barb. (N. Y.) 559.

Prohibitory ordinances against nuisances see supra, XI, A, 7, b, (VI).

73. Com. v. Hepner, 22 Pa. Co. Ct. 630.

74. Alabama.—Ex p. Byrd, 84 Ala. 17, 4 So. 397, 5 Am. St. Rep. 328; Shelton v. Mobile, 30 Ala. 540, 68 Am. Dec. 143; Mobile v. Yuille, 3 Ala. 137, 36 Am. Dec. 441.

Arkansas.—Hot Springs v. Rector, (1903) 76 S. W. 1056; Ex p. Foote, 70 Ark. 12, 65 S. W. 706, 91 Am. St. Rep. 63.

California.—Ex p. Tuttle. 91 Cal. 589, 27

e. Nuisances and Abatement Thereof⁷⁵ — (1) IN GENERAL. The police power in respect to nuisances is exercised by enacting ordinances declaratory of the municipal judgment of the things and acts which amount to a nuisance,⁷⁶ and Pac. 933; Ex p. Cheney, 90 Cal. 617, 27 Pac. 436; Ex p. Lane, 76 Cal. 587, 18 Pac. 677; Ex p. Heilbron, 65 Cal. 609, 4 Pac. 648; Ex p. Casinello, 62 Cal. 538; Johnson v. Simonton, 43 Cal. 242; Ex p. Shrader, 33 Cal. 279; In re Newell, 2 Cal. App. 767, 84 Pac. 226.

Connecticut.—State v. Flint, 63 Conn. 248, 28 Atl. 28; State v. Carpenter, 60 Conn. 97, 22 Atl. 497.

Georgia.—Smith v. Collier, 118 Ga. 306, 45 S. E. 417.

Illinois.—North Chicago City R. Co. v. Lake View, 105 Ill. 207, 44 Am. Rep. 788; King v. Davenport, 98 Ill. 305, 38 Am. Rep. 89; Caldwell v. Alton, 33 Ill. 416, 75 Am. Dec. 282; Kappes v. Chicago, 119 Ill. App. 436; Hoops v. Ipava, 55 Ill. App. 94; Chicago v. Brownell, 41 Ill. App. 70.

Indiana.—Kaufman v. Stein, 138 Ind. 49, 37 N. E. 333, 46 Am. St. Rep. 368; Clark v. South Bend, 85 Ind. 276, 44 Am. Rep. 13.

Iowa.—State v. Smith, 123 Iowa 654, 96 N. W. 899.

Kansas.—Monroe v. Lawrence, 44 Kan. 607, 24 Pac. 1113, 10 L. R. A. 520; Cottonwood Falls v. Smith, 36 Kan. 401, 13 Pac. 576.

Kentucky.—Louisville v. Wehmoft, 116 Ky. 812, 76 S. W. 876, 79 S. W. 201, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 1924; White v. Com., 92 S. W. 285, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 1312.

Louisiana.—Crowley v. Rucker, 107 La. 213, 31 So. 629; New Orleans v. Graffina, 52 La. Ann. 1082, 27 So. 590; New Orleans v. Lozes, 51 La. Ann. 1172, 25 So. 979; Opelousas v. Norman, 51 La. Ann. 736, 25 So. 401; State v. Namias, 49 La. Ann. 618, 21 So. 852, 62 Am. St. Rep. 657; State v. Stone, 46 La. Ann. 147, 15 So. 11; State v. Heidenhain, 42 La. Ann. 483, 7 So. 621, 21 Am. St. Rep. 388; Monroe v. Hoffman, 29 La. Ann. 651, 29 Am. Rep. 345; Morano v. New Orleans, 2 La. 217; Milne v. Davidson, 5 Mart. N. S. 409, 16 Am. Dec. 189.

Maryland.—Deems v. Baltimore, 80 Md. 164, 30 Atl. 648, 45 Am. St. Rep. 339, 26 L. R. A. 541.

Massachusetts.—Com. v. Cutter, 156 Mass. 52, 29 N. E. 1146; Com. v. Parks, 155 Mass. 531, 30 N. E. 174; Com. v. Patch, 97 Mass. 221.

Michigan.—People v. Brill, 120 Mich. 42, 78 N. W. 1013; People v. Wagner, 86 Mich. 594, 49 N. W. 609, 24 Am. St. Rep. 141, 13 L. R. A. 286; People v. Hanrahan, 75 Mich. 611, 42 N. W. 1124, 4 L. R. A. 751; Lenz v. Sherrott, 26 Mich. 139.

Minnesota.—State v. Grimes, 49 Minn. 443, 52 N. W. 42; St. Paul v. Smith, 25 Minn. 372.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Vert, 84 Mo. 204; St. Louis v. Jackson, 25 Mo. 37; Orrick v. Akers, 109 Mo. App. 662, 83 S. W. 549; Kansas City v. Cook, 38 Mo. App. 660.

New York.—Balch v. Utica, 168 N. Y. 651, 61 N. E. 1127 [affirming 42 N. Y. App. Div. 562, 59 N. Y. Suppl. 513]; People v. Davis, 78 N. Y. App. Div. 570, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 747; Griffin v. Gloversville, 67 N. Y. App. Div. 403, 73 N. Y. Suppl. 684; Buffalo v. Marion, 13 Misc. 639, 34 N. Y. Suppl. 945; Buffalo v. Schleifer, 2 Misc. 216, 21 N. Y. Suppl. 913; Buffalo v. Webster, 10 Wend. 99.

Oregon.—Portland v. Yick, 44 Ore. 439, 75 Pac. 706.

Pennsylvania.—Sharon Borough v. Hawthorne, 123 Pa. St. 106, 16 Atl. 835; Philadelphia v. Brabender, 9 Pa. Dist. 697; Schrack v. Coatesville, 19 Pa. Co. Ct. 334; Coden v. Gettysburg, 8 Leg. Gaz. 167.

South Carolina.—Abbeville v. Leopard, 61 S. C. 99, 39 S. E. 248; Greenville v. Kemmis, 58 S. C. 427, 36 S. E. 727, 50 L. R. A. 725.

Tennessee.—Nolin v. Franklin, 4 Yerg. 163.

Texas.—Newson v. Galveston, 76 Tex. 559, 13 S. W. 368, 7 L. R. A. 797; Chimene v. Baker, 32 Tex. Civ. App. 520, 75 S. W. 330.

Utah.—Eureka City v. Wilson, 15 Utah 67, 48 Pac. 150, 62 Am. St. Rep. 904.

Virginia.—Mayo v. James, 12 Gratt. 17. United States.—In re Lee Tong, 18 Fed. 253, 9 Sawy. 333; Washington v. Eaton, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,228, 4 Cranch C. C. 352.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1370.

Compare Comfort v. Kosciusko, 88 Miss. 611, 41 So. 268.

Power to restrict and regulate carries power to prohibit. Kappes v. Chicago, 119 Ill. App. 436.

The power to remove includes the power to prevent by reasonable regulations which do not conflict with any provision of the federal or state constitution. Philadelphia v. Brabender, 201 Pa. St. 574, 51 Atl. 374, 58 L. R. A. 220.

During certain hours.—An act empowering a city to pass an ordinance to establish markets, etc., and to restrain and prohibit "during market hours" the sale at any other place, of meats, vegetables, etc., except by regular licensed dealers, etc., does not authorize a general prohibition by ordinance of vegetables and farm products, except by licensed vendors, but authorizes such prohibition during market hours only. State v. St. Paul Municipal Ct., 32 Minn. 329, 20 N. W. 243. See also cases cited supra, note 68.

⁷⁵ See also supra, XI, A, 7, b, (VI).

⁷⁶ Illinois.—Nazworthy v. Sullivan, 55 Ill. App. 48.

Louisiana.—Crowley v. Ellsworth, 114 La. 308, 38 So. 199, 108 Am. St. Rep. 353, 69 L. R. A. 276; Municipality No. 1 v. Wilson, 5 La. Ann. 747.

Mississippi.—Green v. Lake, 60 Miss. 451.

Missouri.—Kansas City v. McAleer, 31 Mo. App. 433.

New Jersey.—Nicoulin v. Lowery, 49 N. J. L. 391, 8 Atl. 513.

New York.—Rochester v. Simpson, 134

providing penalty for causing or maintaining the same,⁷⁷ and in special instances commanding summary removal or abatement thereof.⁷⁸

(1) *ABATEMENT OF NUISANCES*⁷⁹—(A) In General. Municipalities are usually authorized and bound so far as they can to abate every nuisance dangerous to public health.⁸⁰ The right to abate a nuisance, however, is limited to the removal of that in which the nuisance consists.⁸¹ The right to abate is derived from necessity; the necessity must be present in order to justify the exercise

N. Y. 414, 31 N. E. 171 [reversing 57 Hun 36, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 499].

Pennsylvania.—Philadelphia v. Brabender, 201 Pa. St. 574, 51 Atl. 374, 58 L. R. A. 220 [distinguishing People v. Armstrong, 73 Mich. 288, 41 N. W. 275, 16 Am. St. Rep. 578, 2 L. R. A. 721]; Butler's Appeal, 1 Pa. Cas. 219, 1 Atl. 604; Pittsburg v. W. H. Keech Co., 21 Pa. Super. Ct. 548.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1363 et seq.

In the interest of public health municipal corporations may be empowered to pass ordinances, either for the filling up or draining of excavations upon land within the corporate limits, which are filled with foul or stagnant water. Rochester v. Simpson, 134 N. Y. 414, 31 N. E. 871.

Necessity of ordinance.—Any ordinance or law which authorizes the authorities of a town to close a saloon or grocery by force, without having it first judicially declared a nuisance, and ordered to be abated, is unconstitutional. Baldwin v. Smith, 82 Ill. 162. Where a charter confers upon municipal authorities the power to prevent and remove all nuisances, it does not confer the right to declare that a particular structure or business, not condemned by any ordinance, is a nuisance, and to abate it. Lake v. Aberdeen, 57 Miss. 260. An ordinance is not illegal because it punishes as a nuisance what neither by it nor by another ordinance is specially declared to be such. Crowley v. Ellsworth, 114 La. 308, 38 So. 199, 108 Am. St. Rep. 353, 69 L. R. A. 276. Buffalo city charter empowers the council to prescribe the limits within which wooden buildings shall not be erected, and the manner and the materials of which all buildings shall be constructed within such limits, and that every building erected or placed contrary to any ordinance shall be deemed a common nuisance and may be abated. City ordinances pursuant to such provision provide that in certain portions of the city no wooden buildings shall be erected, and in a certain other portion none without the permission of the common council. It was held that, a structure in violation of the ordinance having been by the statute declared a nuisance and subject to abatement as such, it was not necessary that an ordinance to that effect should be passed by the council. Campion v. Buffalo, 8 N. Y. St. 329. Acts of assembly authorized the councils of Philadelphia by ordinance to require owners of docks in the Delaware and Schuylkill to cleanse them, and on default, after thirty days' notice, the city was to do the work and apportion the expense on owners of adjoining wharves, etc., ac-ording to the extent of the wharves, and to enter liens for the expense. The act of May 20, 1864, vested these powers in the port wardens, the liens to be collected by the city solicitor and claims filed to be governed by the same rules of evidence as those for removal of nuisances by the board of health. It was held that the wardens were not required to pass ordinances or exercise legislative authority. Easby v. Philadelphia, 67 Pa. St. 337. See also De Gintner v. New Jersey Home for Education, etc., of Feeble-Minded Children, 58 N. J. L. 354, 33 Atl. 968.

77. Centerville v. Miller, 57 Iowa 56, 10 N. W. 293.

78. Kennedy v. Phelps, 10 La. Ann. 227 [distinguishing New Orleans First Municipality v. Blineau, 3 La. Ann. 688]; Hagerstown v. Witmer, 86 Md. 293, 37 Atl. 965, 39 L. R. A. 649; Red Wing v. Guptil, 72 Minn. 259, 75 N. W. 234, 71 Am. St. Rep. 485, 41 L. R. A. 321; Grossman v. Oakland, 30 Oreg. 478, 41 Pac. 5, 60 Am. St. Rep. 832, 36 L. R. A. 593; Huron v. Volga Bank, 8 S. D. 449, 66 N. W. 815, 59 Am. St. Rep. 769. See also Waggoner v. South Gorin, 88 Mo. App. 25; and infra, XI, A, 8, e, (II).

79. Abatement of nuisances see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 872; NUISANCES.

80. Baker v. Boston, 12 Pick. (Mass.) 184, 22 Am. Dec. 421. See also Cochrane v. Frostburg, 81 Md. 54, 31 Atl. 703, 48 Am. St. Rep. 479, 27 L. R. A. 728.

What is a nuisance see, generally, NUISANCES.

What may be declared a nuisance by the municipality see supra, XI, A, 7, b, (VI).

81. Babcock v. Buffalo, 56 N. Y. 268 [affirming Sheld. 317]; Eckhardt v. Buffalo, 19 N. Y. App. Div. 1, 46 N. Y. Suppl. 204 [affirmed in 156 N. Y. 658, 50 N. E. 1116]; Buffalo Union Iron Works v. Buffalo, Sheld. (N. Y.) 244 [affirmed in 47 N. Y. 671]; Corey v. Edgewood Borough, 18 Pa. Super. Ct. 216, holding that the fact that a private railroad on a private way in a borough is negligently operated by the obstruction of streets with standing cars, and by the accumulation of rubbish and waste material in the private way, does not give the borough the right to destroy the railroad as a nuisance per se.

Must be nuisance in fact see supra, XI, A, 7, b, (VI), (A).

A city has no right, without the owner's consent, to raise the grade of a lot higher than is necessary for the abatement of the nuisance caused by water stagnating there. Bush v. Dubnque, 69 Iowa 233, 28 N. W. 542.

of the right, and no wanton or unnecessary injury to the property or rights of individuals must be committed.⁸²

(B) Methods. It being the duty of a municipality to remove nuisances,⁸³ it has the power of deciding how this shall be done.⁸⁴ Four methods of abating municipal nuisances, two ordinary and two summary, are recognized: (1) By criminal prosecution⁸⁵ or a proceeding in the nature thereof;⁸⁶ (2) by proceeding in equity⁸⁷ or a proceeding in the nature thereof;⁸⁸ (3) by order of council, or

82. Bush v. Dubuque, 69 Iowa 233, 28 N. W. 542; Coast Co. v. Spring Lake, 56 N. J. Eq. 615, 36 Atl. 21; Babcock v. Buffalo, 56 N. Y. 268 [affirming Sheld. 317]; Eckhardt v. Buffalo, 19 N. Y. App. Div. 1, 46 N. Y. Suppl. 204 [affirmed in 156 N. Y. 658, 50 N. E. 1116]; Buffalo Union Iron Works v. Buffalo, Sheld. (N. Y.) 244 [affirmed in 47 N. Y. 671]; Ryan v. Jacob, 8 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 167, 6 Cinc. L. Bul. 139, holding that, although municipal authorities have the right, under Ohio Rev. St. §§ 1992, 2669, to arrest the proprietor of a variety show for exhibiting without a license, they cannot close up the place or abate the business, at least not before conviction; and although an injunction will not be granted against a threatened illegal arrest in such case, there being a remedy at law, an illegal interference with the enjoyment of property will be enjoined.

Actual nuisances may be abated. Rogers v. Barker, 31 Barb. (N. Y.) 447; Hickok v. Plattsburgh, 15 Barb. (N. Y.) 427; Clark v. Syracuse, 13 Barb. (N. Y.) 32; Lewis v. Dodge, 17 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 229; Ex p. Glass, (Tex. Cr. App. 1905) 90 S. W. 1108.

Erection of a building on land dedicated to public use is not such a nuisance as a municipal officer can abate at common law. Coast Co. v. Spring Lake, 56 N. J. Eq. 615, 36 Atl. 21.

A fence, constituting a nuisance per se, might be removed by borough authorities under the powers conferred on them by the general borough law. Bower v. Watontown Borough, 11 Pa. Co. Ct. 110.

Obstructions.—The city of New Orleans, in the exercise of its police power, has the right of removing obstructions for public convenience and benefit. New Orleans Gas-Light Co. v. Hart, 40 La. Ann. 474, 4 So. 215, 8 Am. St. Rep. 544.

Shanty boat.—The owner or occupant of a shanty boat located below low water mark, which constitutes a public nuisance, having refused, after notice, to remove it, the municipal authorities may demolish and remove it. Dzik v. Bigelow, 27 Pittsb. Leg. J. N. S. (Pa.) 360.

83. See supra, XI, A, 8, e, (II), (A).

84. Baker v. Boston, 12 Pick. (Mass.) 184, 22 Am. Dec. 421.

85. Hart v. Albany, 9 Wend. (N. Y.) 571, 24 Am. Dec. 165; Georgetown v. Alexandria Canal Co., 12 Pet. (U. S.) 91, 9 L. ed. 1012 [cited with approval in Ottumwa v. Chinn, 75 Iowa 405, 39 N. W. 670]. See infra, XI, B, 4.

86. Monroe v. Gerspach, 33 La. Ann. 1011. See infra, XI, B, 4.

87. Colorado.—Denver v. Mullen, 7 Colo. 345, 3 Pac. 693.

Indiana.—American Furniture Co. v. Batesville, (1893) 35 N. E. 682; Cheek v. Aurora, 92 Ind. 107.

Iowa.—Waterloo v. Union Mill Co., 72 Iowa 437, 34 N. W. 197.

Louisiana.—New Orleans v. Lambert, 14 La. Ann. 247.

Massachusetts.—Taunton v. Taylor, 116 Mass. 254.

Minnesota.—Redwing v. Guptil, 72 Minn. 259, 75 N. W. 234, 71 Am. St. Rep. 485, 41 L. R. A. 321; Buffalo v. Harling, 50 Minn. 551, 52 N. W. 931; Pine City v. Munch, 42 Minn. 342, 44 N. W. 197, 6 L. R. A. 763.

South Dakota.—Huron v. Volga Bank, 8 S. D. 449, 66 N. W. 815, 59 Am. St. Rep. 769.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1371; and infra, XI, A, 8, f.

88. See NUISANCES. See also Hempstead v. Ball Electric Light Co., 9 N. Y. App. Div. 48, 41 N. Y. Suppl. 124, holding that poles, wires, and lamps placed in the streets of a village for the purpose of lighting them, but no longer used, are a nuisance, and their removal may be compelled at the suit of the village.

Common-law right.—The power of towns, under Ind. Rev. St. (1881) § 3333, subd. 1, "to declare what shall constitute a nuisance, and to prevent, abate, and remove the same," is by proceeding in rem, and must be exercised by and through general ordinances, affecting alike all property or business under like conditions, in like situations, and conducted in like manner, and the possession of such power does not exclude the common-law right of the town to resort to the courts to abate a nuisance. American Furniture Co. v. Batesville, (Ind. 1893) 35 N. E. 682.

Parties plaintiff.—A municipality as the representative of the public is entitled to sue. Watertown v. Mayo, 109 Mass. 315, 12 Am. Rep. 694; Pine City v. Munch, 42 Minn. 342, 44 N. W. 197, 6 L. R. A. 763; Coast Co. v. Spring Lake, 56 N. J. Eq. 615, 36 Atl. 21 [affirmed in 58 N. J. Eq. 586, 47 Atl. 1131, 51 L. R. A. 657]; Newark Aqueduct Bd. v. Passaic, 46 N. J. Eq. 552, 20 Atl. 54, 22 Atl. 55; Newark Aqueduct Bd. v. Passaic, 45 N. J. Eq. 393, 18 Atl. 106; Woodbridge Tp. v. Inslee, 37 N. J. Eq. 397; Easton, etc., R. Co. v. Greenwich Tp., 25 N. J. Eq. 505; Watertown v. Cohen, 4 Paige (N. Y.) 510, 27 Am. Dec. 80; London v. Bolt, 5 Ves. Jr. 129, 31 Eng. Reprint 507. But see Ottumwa v. Chinn, 75 Iowa 405, 39 N. W. 670 (holding that a statute defining a nuisance, and providing that a civil action may be brought by the proper municipal authorities after notice and hearing;⁸⁹ and (4) by due enforcement of an ordinance, resolution, or order on the common knowledge of the council or other proper municipal authorities without a hearing.⁹⁰ All or several of these methods of abatement may concur and be open at once to use by the municipality, but it seems that the election of any previous remedy constitutes a waiver of any later one.⁹¹ The last method may be employed only in emergency,⁹² and especially may it not be resorted to when the nuisance arises from municipal fault or negligence.⁹³ Ordinarily, however, the municipality must resort to the usual process of law to abate a health nuisance;⁹⁴ but the state may confer upon it the power of summary abatement in case of emergency.⁹⁵ any person injured, in which action the nuisance may be abated, does not authorize an action to abate a nuisance to be brought by a city, on the ground that the nuisance is of general harm to the public; Stilwell v. Buffalo Riding Academy, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 414, 21 Abb. N. Cas. 472 (holding that under a city charter and ordinances prohibiting the erection of wooden structures within certain limits, and declaring such buildings nuisances which may be abated, an adjacent owner cannot institute proceedings to abate, unless the right is conferred by the charter and ordinances); U. S. Illuminating Co. v. Grant, 55 Hun (N. Y.) 222, 7 N. Y. Suppl. 788 (holding that uninsulated electric wires constitute a public nuisance, which the commissioner of public works, both as a private citizen and as a public official charged by the duties of his office with the removal of obstructions from the streets, may abate).

Defenses.—In U. S. Illuminating Co. v. Grant, 55 Hun (N. Y.) 222, 7 N. Y. Suppl. 788, it was held that plaintiffs, the conduct of whose business requires the use of wires as conductors of electric currents, which are dangerous to human life unless perfectly insulated, are not excused for failure to keep such wires in a perfect and safe condition by the refusal of the board of electrical control to grant permits to repair the same, when they have taken no steps to compel the granting of such permits.

89. Iowa.—Independence v. Purdy, 46 Iowa 202.

Maine.—Swett v. Sprague, 55 Me. 190.

Maryland.—Hagerstown v. Witmer, 86 Md. 293, 37 Atl. 965, 39 L. R. A. 649.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Stern, 3 Mo. App. 48.

New York.—See Clark v. Syracuse, 13 Barb. 32, holding that where a person erects a dam within a city across a creek pursuant to a legislative grant, and constructs a ditch to conduct the water from the dam to his mill, the mayor and council of such city cannot, in exercise of their municipal powers, without trial, on notice to the owners of such dam, direct it to be torn down and removed, on the pretense that it is a nuisance endangering the health of the city.

Pennsylvania.—Bower v. Watsonstown Borough, 11 Pa. Co. Ct. 110; Dzik v. Bigelow, 27 Pittsb. Leg. J. N. S. 360.

West Virginia.—Davis v. Davis, 40 W. Va. 464, 21 S. E. 916.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1371.

90. McLean v. Mathews, 7 Ill. App. 599; New Orleans Gas-Light Co. v. Hart, 40 La. Ann. 474, 4 So. 215, 8 Am. St. Rep. 544; Kennedy v. Phelps, 10 La. Ann. 227; Sprigg v. Garrett Park, 89 Md. 406, 43 Atl. 813; Waggoner v. South Gorin, 88 Mo. App. 25; Allison v. Richmond, 51 Mo. App. 133; Hart v. Albany, 9 Wend. (N. Y.) 571, 24 Am. Dec. 165.

Judicial proceedings not necessary.—The Arkansas act of March 9, 1875, section 13, gives a town council power to prohibit the erection of wooden buildings in certain districts of the town as a precaution against fire; and, if such building be erected in violation of an ordinance inhibiting it, the council may promptly remove it, without any prosecution or judicial proceedings of any kind against the owner. McKibbin v. Ft. Smith, 35 Ark. 352.

91. American Furniture Co. v. Batesville, (Ind. 1893) 35 N. E. 682.

92. King v. Davenport, 98 Ill. 305, 38 Am. Rep. 89; Baumgartner v. Hasty, 100 Ind. 575, 50 Am. Rep. 830; Waggoner v. South Gorin, 88 Mo. App. 25; Coast Co. v. Spring Lake, 56 N. J. Eq. 615, 36 Atl. 21 [affirmed in 58 N. J. Eq. 586, 47 Atl. 1131, 51 L. R. A. 657].

The power of a municipal officer to abate a public nuisance without statutory or judicial process stands upon the same footing as the power of a citizen. Coast Co. v. Spring Lake, 56 N. J. Eq. 615, 36 Atl. 21 [affirmed in 58 N. J. Eq. 586, 47 Atl. 1131, 51 L. R. A. 657].

93. Hannibal v. Richards, 82 Mo. 330.

94. Ottumwa v. Chinn, 75 Iowa 405, 39 N. W. 670; Newark Aqueduct Bd. v. Passaic, 45 N. J. Eq. 393, 18 Atl. 106 [affirmed in 46 N. J. Eq. 552, 20 Atl. 54, 22 Atl. 55]; Clark v. Syracuse, 13 Barb. (N. Y.) 32. Compare Baldwin v. Smith, 82 Ill. 162, holding that where an ordinance of a town provides that in certain cases the town council may revoke licenses granted by them to keep dram-shops, and it shall be the duty of the town constable to immediately close up the grocery of the licensee, the town authorities have no power to oust the keeper of the dram-shop from his premises by force, take and hold possession of the same, and thus deprive him of the use of his property. Baldwin v. Smith, 82 Ill. 162.

95. Americus v. Mitchell, 79 Ga. 807, 5 S. E. 201; King v. Davenport, 98 Ill. 305,

Reasonable notice of summary removal must be given to authorize municipal abatement of nuisance.⁹⁶ But when the conditions of the ordinance are complied with no liability ensues from such summary removal.⁹⁷ And injunction lies at the suit of an adjacent owner in special peril.⁹⁸

(c) *Expense of Abatement and Assessment Therefor*⁹⁹—(1) IN GENERAL. The cost and expense of an authorized abatement by a municipality of a nuisance on private premises may ordinarily be charged against the premises,¹ or their 38 Am. Rep. 89; Baumgartner v. Hasty, 100 Ind. 575, 50 Am. Rep. 830; Davis v. Davis, 40 W. Va. 464, 21 S. E. 906; and cases cited supra, notes 90, 92. See also McLaren v. New York, 40 N. Y. 273 [reversing 1 Daly 243]; Tripp v. Goff, 15 R. I. 299, 3 Atl. 591; Charleston v. Werner, 38 S. C. 488, 17 S. E. 33, 37 Am. St. Rep. 776. And compare Hart v. Albany, 9 Wend. (N. Y.) 571, 24 Am. Dec. 165, holding that the corporation of a city may abate a public nuisance erected within its jurisdiction, although no authority for that purpose is expressly given by the charter.

The mayor and council of the city of Americus, upon recommendation of the board of health, have full power in a summary manner to abate a nuisance. Americus v. Mitchell, 79 Ga. 807, 5 S. E. 201.

Nuisances per se may be summarily abated. Easton Pass. R. Co. v. Easton, 133 Pa. St. 505, 19 Atl. 486, 19 Am. St. Rep. 658; New Castle v. Raney, 130 Pa. St. 546, 18 Atl. 1066, 6 L. R. A. 737; Klingler v. Bickel, 117 Pa. St. 326, 11 Atl. 555. A municipal corporation having authority to prevent obstructions in a river may summarily remove such obstructions as a public nuisance. Hart v. Albany, 9 Wend. (N. Y.) 571, 24 Am. Dec. 165. Abatement of health nuisance in a summary manner. Americus v. Mitchell, 79 Ga. 807, 5 S. E. 201.

This summary power may be exercised by an ordinance which directs the officers of the corporation to remove the nuisance. Hart v. Albany, 9 Wend. (N. Y.) 571, 24 Am. Dec. 165.

Proceed at peril.—But when the municipal authorities proceed summarily to abate a nuisance, they do so at their peril, and if the owner can establish the fact that the thing was not a nuisance, he may recover from the municipality the damages which he has sustained. Americus v. Mitchell, 79 Ga. 807, 5 S. E. 201. See also infra, XIV, A.

96. Ward v. Murphysboro, 77 Ill. App. 549, holding that under an ordinance requiring notice, before a city, or any one representing it, can legally remove a building in process of erection within the fire limits, it must give to the owner notice to remove it himself; and if it fails to do so, and proceeds to abate and remove the same, it will be liable to the owner for such damages as he may sustain. See also Shannon v. Omaha, 72 Nebr. 281, 100 N. W. 298. Compare Swett v. Sprague, 55 Me. 190, holding that under Laws (1860), c. 177, and Laws (1863), c. 187, providing that whenever the mayor and aldermen of any city, or the selectmen of any town, after due notice to the owner of any burnt, dilapidated, or dangerous buildings, shall adjudge the same to be a nuisance, upon failure to give notice as ordered at the time of the adjudication, a new notice may be ordered to be given without commencing proceedings.

Reasonable time to remove nuisance.—Alpers v. Brown, 60 Cal. 447; Mann v. District of Columbia, 22 App. Cas. (D. C.) 138; Campbell v. District of Columbia, 19 App. Cas. (D. C.) 131; State v. Morris, 47 La. Ann. 1660, 18 So. 710; Underwood v. Green, 42 N. Y. 140. After the passage of a city ordinance prohibiting the erection of wooden buildings more than ten feet high within certain prescribed limits, the owner of such a building previously erected within these limits agreed to make it conform in all respects to the requirements of the ordinance. It was held that he was entitled to a reasonable time in which to perform such act. Cleveland v. Lenze, 27 Ohio St. 383.

“Three weeks successively.”—When notice of a hearing in proceedings to abate nuisances is required to be published “three weeks successively,” the last publication need not be a week before the hearing. Swett v. Sprague, 55 Me. 190.

97. Baumgartner v. Hasty, 100 Ind. 575, 50 Am. Rep. 830. See infra, XI, A, 8, k.

98. Chimene v. Baker, 32 Tex. Civ. App. 520, 75 S. W. 330. Compare Lemmon v. Guthrie Center, 113 Iowa 36, 84 N. W. 986, 86 Am. St. Rep. 361, holding that a fire-limit ordinance which permits the erection of veneered buildings without first obtaining a permit, but which authorizes the town to remove a building in conflict with the ordinance on two days' notice, does not render invalid an injunction restraining the town from interfering for eight days with a building which the owner intends to veneer, since he is entitled to reasonable time to erect the kind of building authorized by the ordinance. See infra, XI, B, 5.

99. Amendment of assessment record see infra, XI, A, 8, e, (II), (C), 3, note 12.

1. Grand Rapids v. De Vries, 123 Mich. 570, 82 N. W. 269; In re Tappan, 54 Barb. (N. Y.) 225, 36 How. Pr. 390; Philadelphia v. Goudey, 36 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 246; San Francisco Sanitary Reduction Works v. California Reduction Co., 94 Fed. 693; and cases cited infra, note 2 et seq. But compare Palmyra v. Warren, 114 Ill. App. 562, holding that where a village notifies the owners of certain premises located therein that such premises constitute a nuisance, and are in fact a nuisance, and directs such owners to abate the same, and where such owners fail so to abate such nuisance, and the au-owner, subject to such limitation in respect of the amount as may be imposed by the act providing for the abatement.²

(2) NOTICE AND HEARING. Due notice to a proprietor of a declared nuisance on his premises must precede any charge for removal or abatement made by the municipality.³ And he is entitled to a fair hearing and determination of the matters.⁴ And he may exonerate himself by showing either that the matter complained of is not a nuisance,⁵ that it was caused by the corporation itself,⁶ or that the expenditure was unnecessary.⁷

thorities of such village in consequence proceed to abate the same, and in so doing expend a sum of money to the benefit of such premises, a lien against such premises does not arise in favor of such village.

2. Charleston v. Werner, 38 S. C. 488, 17 S. E. 33, 37 Am. St. Rep. 776.

Amount of charge.—Fees charged against the owner for removal of carcasses must be reasonable in amount. Knauer v. Louisville, 45 S. W. 510, 46 S. W. 701, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 194, 41 L. R. A. 219. In Charleston v. Werner, 46 S. C. 323, 24 S. E. 207, it was held that Charleston city charter, authorizing the city to fill up low lots declared to be nuisances, and to recover the cost from the owner, if it does not exceed one half the value, and its amendments, uniformly use the term "lots or grounds," without reference to a portion of a lot or the buildings; and therefore, in proceedings, under the amendment of 1883, to condemn a lot whose cost of filling is in excess of one half its value, the entire lot where held in one title, as well as the buildings, must be considered.

Local improvement compared and distinguished.—In Charleston v. Werner, 38 S. C. 488, 17 S. E. 33, 37 Am. St. Rep. 776, it was held that the filling up, by the city of Charleston, of a low lot which has been declared a public nuisance by the board of health, and ordered to be filled, is not a "local improvement," within the meaning of the tax laws applicable to that subject, but is an exercise of the police power granted to the city council. In Heidenheimer v. Galveston, 2 Tex. Unrep. Cas. 153, it was held that the abatement of a nuisance by the filling of ponds in a city by order of its board of health, having power to do so, is not a local improvement, and the city cannot be prevented from paying therefor because the preliminary proceedings necessary to authorize the city to pay for street improvements were not taken. In Smith v. Milwaukee, 18 Wis. 63 [explaining Weeks v. Milwaukee, 10 Wis. 242], it was held that where, by a neglect to provide proper sewerage in the grading of a street, a nuisance is created on a private lot, the city may provide for abating it as for other similar improvements; and where the work for that purpose has been done by contract, in a regular manner, an assessment upon the lot of the cost of the work is valid at law; and although the owner may prevent its being enforced by an application to a court of equity, until he has done so the contractor cannot recover the amount of such assessment from the city directly.

Leasing property.—Ala. Sess. Acts (1830-1831), p. 54, amending the city charter of Mobile, authorized the corporate authorities to require lots to be cleansed and nuisances removed therefrom, and, in case the owner of any lot could not be found, to cause such cleansing to be done and lease the lot for the purpose of paying the expenses thereof. It was held that a lease executed under such power, although describing the lot with enlarged boundaries, passes to the lessee the lot according to its boundaries when cleansed. Boulo v. New Orleans, etc., R. Co., 55 Ala. 480.

3. Independence v. Purdy, 46 Iowa 202; Shannon v. Omaha, 72 Nebr. 281, 100 N. W. 298; Lasbury v. McCague, 56 Nebr. 220, 76 N. W. 862; Patrick v. Omaha, 1 Nebr. (Unoff.) 250, 95 N. W. 477; Philadelphia v. O'Reilly, 32 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 166. Compare Grace v. Newton Bd. of Health, 135 Mass. 499, holding that a city board of health, having given notice of a hearing of a proceeding to abate a nuisance, under St. (1868) c. 160, § 3, need not, under section 5, give a new notice of its intention to make an assessment to pay the expenses incurred in abating the nuisance.

Injunction.—Collection of a tax properly assessed to reimburse the city for the expense of filling lots, to abate a nuisance caused by stagnant water thereon, will not be enjoined when it appears that the owner, after due notice, failed to abate such nuisance. Patrick v. Omaha, 1 Nebr. (Unoff.) 250, 95 N. W. 477.

4. Bush v. Dubuque, 69 Iowa 233, 28 N. W. 542; Joyce v. Woods, 78 Ky. 386. See also Savannah v. Savannah, etc., Canal Co., 9 Ga. 281.

5. Joyce v. Woods, 78 Ky. 386.

6. Hannibal v. Richards, 35 Mo. App. 15 (holding that the cost of filling lots in a city, for the purpose of abating nuisances thereon, cannot be recovered by the city from the owner, where the raising of an embankment by the city itself was a substantial cause creating such nuisances, although other causes may have contributed thereto); Patrick v. Omaha, 1 Nebr. (Unoff.) 250, 95 N. W. 477; Weeks v. Milwaukee, 10 Wis. 242 [explained in Smith v. Milwaukee, 18 Wis. 63] (holding that a tax assessed upon an individual for the expenses of abating a nuisance upon his land, which has been created by the wrongful act of the city itself in so constructing a street that the water flowed from it and remained upon the lots, is invalid).

7. Hannibal v. Richards, 82 Mo. 330; Philadelphia v. Hopple, 2 Pa. Co. Ct. 543.

(3) LIEN. The lawful charge for a valid abatement forms a lien upon the premises of equal dignity with municipal taxes,⁸ which may be enforced under general law,⁹ or in the special manner pointed out by statute,¹⁰ subject of course to the usual and proper defenses in such proceedings.¹¹ But to gain a lien the proceeding must have been conducted regularly and with due formality.¹² To whomsoever the claim is due action should be brought in the name of the municipality.¹³

(d) Surrender of Property Assessed. Under statutes permitting surrender

Cost of filling.—In a suit by the city to recover the cost of filling a lot on the owner's default, based on a city charter, authorizing such a lot to be filled at the owner's expense, an issue may be made as to the cost of filling. Hannibal v. Richards, 82 Mo. 330.

8. Nickerson v. Boston, 131 Mass. 306.

Priority over ground-rent.—In Delaware county a municipal claim for work done by a borough in abating a nuisance on lands is payable out of the proceeds of a sheriff's sale, in priority to arrears of ground-rent secured by a deed executed subsequently to the passage of the act of 1843, executing the provisions of the act of 1824, making municipal taxes a first lien, to Delaware county. South Chester v. Harvey, 1 Del. Co. (Pa.) 62.

9. Kennedy v. Board of Health, 2 Pa. St. 366; Board of Health v. Hubert, 1 Phila. (Pa.) 280, 9 Leg. Int. 2. See also, generally, LIENS; MECHANICS' LIENS.

10. Buffalo Union Iron Works v. Buffalo, 13 Abb. Pr. N. S. (N. Y.) 141 [affirmed in 47 N. Y. 671].

11. See, generally, LIENS; MECHANICS' LIENS; and cases cited infra, this note.

No defense except that the work was improperly or negligently done can be made under the Pennsylvania act of March 22, 1869, where the city council has altered a street in such manner as to interfere with the surface drainage of adjoining lands and to create a nuisance thereon, and the nuisance is abated by the city, and a claim for costs is entered against the lot owner. Broomall v. Chester, 2 Del. Co. (Pa.) 251.

Denial of ownership.—Notwithstanding the statute of March 11, 1846, providing for the recovery, from the owner, or reputed owner, of the expense of removing nuisances, prohibits "any plea touching the question of ownership," it was competent for defendants, in an action under this statute, to deny that they were the owners of the premises, and to allege that the soil had been dedicated to the public for over seventy years. Board of Health v. Gloria Dei Church, 23 Pa. St. 259.

No appropriation made for the purpose.—The city of Philadelphia claimed to recover a sum for expense incurred in removing a nuisance from the property of B. It was contended that, as no appropriation had been made for this purpose, the city had incurred no obligation, and should not be allowed to collect from B. It was held that the city could not recover. Philadelphia v. Wister, 17 Phila. (Pa.) 13.

12. Erwin's Succession, 16 La. Ann. 132

[XI, A, 8, e, (II), (C), (3)]

(holding that a contractor has no right of action against the proprietor for filling up lots in the city of New Orleans, unless he shows that the contract was adjudicated to him as the lowest bidder, in pursuance of Act March 21, 1850, § 22); Hannibal v. Richards, 35 Mo. App. 15 (holding that a city suing to establish a lien under its charter for the cost of filling separate lots of land must show how much was done on each lot, where nothing in the charter indicates a purpose to allow a lien on several lots for the whole aggregate amount); Philadelphia v. Dungan, 124 Pa. St. 52, 16 Atl. 524 (holding that the city is bound to put on record every averment necessary to sustain its lien against property for the cost of removing a nuisance therefrom, and, if the owner's deed was not registered at the time the notice to remove the nuisance was given, the claim must so allege); Board of Health v. Pennock, 1 Pa. L. J. Rep. 323 (holding that in an action by a board of health for the expense of removing a nuisance on defendant's property, plaintiff is bound to prove that the work was done); Board of Health v. Jones, 1 Miles (Pa.) 28 (holding that under an act providing that, where the owner of unoccupied property is a non-resident, the board of health may remove a nuisance from such property, and the expenses of such removal shall constitute a lien on the premises, for which the board may file a claim against a reputed owner and proceed by scire facias to enforce collection, where proceedings for the collection of the expenses of removing a nuisance from unoccupied property of a non-resident were carried on against a person who was not the owner, the sheriff's sale under execution on a judgment obtained in such proceedings was invalid and would be set aside).

Amendments.—In Philadelphia v. Laughlin, 10 Pa. Co. Ct. 49, it was held that after a delay of ten years a city will not be permitted to amend a return of a claim for removing a nuisance, so as to show the full name of the owner of the property affected, whose surname only was stated in the return, and to show that such person was the "registered owner" of the property. In Philadelphia v. O'Reilly, 32 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 166, it was held that where a lien for the removal of a nuisance correctly names the registered owner of the property, but recites notice to the agent of the property, and not to the owner, an amendment will be allowed of such recital of notice to allow the substitution of the owner's name.

13. Eashy v. Philadelphia, 67 Pa. St. 337.

by the dissatisfied owner to the municipality of any lot filled up to abate nuisance, and consequent escape from liability for expense thereof, such surrender may be made by a tenant in common of his individual interest,¹⁴ or by a mortgagee to whom title comes by foreclosure after the assessment but within the statutory time for notice.¹⁵

f. Injunction.¹⁶ As equity will aid a municipality upon the same grounds as any other person, and upon no other,¹⁷ injunction will not be granted on its application where it has a clear, adequate, and unembarrassed remedy by suit at law,¹⁸ or by exercising its own legislative or summary authority to abate a nuisance.¹⁹ But lacking such measure of remedy at law or within itself a municipality may, if irreparable injury is menaced to the peace, comfort, health, or safety of the community, invoke the aid of equity to suppress or remove the cause of such public peril by injunction.²⁰

g. Power to Punish Violations of Regulations.²¹ As every delegated power carries with it such implied powers as are essential and necessary to effectively enforce such delegated power,²² a municipality has implied power to impose fines and penalties for breaches of its police regulations,²³ but not of its revenue ordi-

14. Leavitt v. Cambridge, 120 Mass. 157.

15. Barnstable Sav. Bank v. Boston, 127 Mass. 254.

16. Injunction generally see INJUNCTIONS, 22 Cyc. 724 et seq.

Injunction at suit of private person to abate nuisance see NUISANCES.

17. See Cincinnati v. Moorman, 11 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 162, 25 Cinc. L. Bul. 126; Bowers v. Supplee, 3 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 22.

Injunction refused.—Where, after an ordinance established a fire limit, an inspector of buildings issued a building permit, but prior to the publication of the ordinance revoked such permit on the ground that the building covered thereby was within such fire limit, equity will not enjoin the holder of the permit from completing the building, it having been substantially erected before the ordinance became operative. Reynolds v. Harris, 11 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 509, 27 Cinc. L. Bul. 229. Defendant was the owner of a lot of land within the fire limits of a city, containing a frame barn, which was destroyed by fire. On bill to restrain defendant from erecting a wooden building on said lot, contrary to law, he claimed in defense that a bill did not lie for the mere enforcement of an ordinance or by-law. An injunction was dissolved. Williamsport v. McFadden, 15 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 269.

18. New Rochelle v. Lang, 75 Hun (N. Y.) 608, 27 N. Y. Suppl. 600; Broekport v. Johnston, 13 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 468; Ellwood City v. Mani, 16 Pa. Co. Ct. 474; Janesville v. Carpenter, 77 Wis. 288, 46 N. W. 128, 20 Am. St. Rep. 123, 8 L. R. A. 808; Waupun v. Moore, 34 Wis. 450, 17 Am. Rep. 446.

19. St. Johns v. McFarlan, 33 Mich. 72, 20 Am. Rep. 671.

20. Huron v. Volga Bank, 8 S. D. 449, 66 N. W. 815, 59 Am. St. Rep. 769; Belton v. Central Hotel Co., (Tex. Civ. App. 1895) 33 S. W. 297; Llano v. Llano County, 5 Tex. Civ. App. 132, 23 S. W. 1008. See also American Furniture Co. v. Balesville, (Ind. 1893) 35 N. E. 682; New Orleans v. Lam- bert, 14 La. Ann. 247; Pine City v. Munch, 42 Minn. 342, 44 N. W. 197, 6 L. R. A. 763.

21. Acts punishable both by ordinance and by statute see supra, XI, A, 4, b.

Difference in penalty, punishment, or license-fee see supra, XI, A, 4, c, (II).

Sentence and punishment see infra, XI, B, 4, g.

22. Cline v. Springfield, 10 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 389, 7 Ohio N. P. 626.

No other powers implied.—Under Code, § 456, providing that incorporated towns shall have power to prevent injury or annoyance from anything dangerous, offensive, or unhealthy, and to cause any nuisance to be abated, a city has no authority to pass an ordinance imposing a fine for the maintenance of a nuisance. Knoxville v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 83 Iowa 636, 50 N. W. 61, 32 Am. St. Rep. 321.

The legislature may vest power in municipalities to make ordinances and by-laws for the preservation of good order, and confer power upon them to enforce the same. Williamson v. Com., 4 B. Mon. (Ky.) 146.

23. Alabama.—Mobile v. Yuille, 3 Ala. 137, 36 Am. Dec. 441.

Georgia.—Little v. Ft. Valley, 123 Ga. 503, 51 S. E. 501; Chambers v. Barnesville, 89 Ga. 739, 15 S. E. 634.

Illinois.—Korah v. Ottawa, 32 Ill. 121, 83 Am. Dec. 255; Chamberlain v. Litchfield, 56 Ill. App. 652.

Iowa.—Sibley v. Lastrico, 122 Iowa 211, 97 N. W. 1074.

Kentucky.—Williamson v. Com., 4 B. Mon. 146.

Louisiana.—New Orleans Third Municipality v. Blanc, 1 La. Ann. 385.

Maryland.—Cambridge v. Cambridge Water Co., 99 Md. 501, 58 Atl. 442; Shafer v. Mumma, 17 Md. 331, 79 Am. Dec. 656.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Green, 70 Mo. 562; St. Louis v. Sternberg, 69 Mo. 289.

New Jersey.—Haynes v. Cape May, 52 N. J. L. 180, 19 Atl. 176.

North Carolina.—Jones v. Duncan, 127 N. C. 118, 37 S. E. 135; Broadfoot v. Fay- nances.²⁴ But the power to punish violation of police ordinances by imprisonment or forfeiture must be expressly conferred by the legislature;²⁵ nor may imprisonment be used to enforce payment of a fine unless specially authorized by law.²⁶ The legislature has full discretion within constitutional limitations to confer upon a municipal corporation such measure of punitive authority as it deems wise for violation of police regulations.²⁷ Because of constitutional differences the decisions as to validity of penal ordinances are variant and conflicting, extending from those holding that if revenue is an object of the license or ordinance no penalty can be imposed,²⁸ to those authorizing and sustaining a sentence to imprisonment and hard labor;²⁹ but corporal punishment is not sustained as a municipal power.³⁰ In some states a municipality may enforce its own contract rights by penal ordinance;³¹ in some it may assess no other penalty than the state;³² generally it may punish peccadilloes, not offenses by the state code or the common etteville, 121 N. C. 418, 28 S. E. 515, 61 Am. St. Rep. 668, 39 L. R. A. 245; State v. Tweedy, 115 N. C. 704, 20 S. E. 183.

Ohio.—Cline v. Springfield, 10 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 389, 7 Ohio N. P. 626.

Pennsylvania.—Reading City v. Reading Steam Heat, etc., Co., 20 Pa. Co. Ct. 411; Lancaster v. Edison Electric Illuminating Co., 8 Pa. Co. Ct. 178.

South Carolina.—McCormick v. Calhoun, 30 S. C. 93, 8 S. E. 539.

Wisconsin.—Miles v. Chamberlain, 17 Wis. 446.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1375.

24. State v. Patamia, 34 La. Ann. 750; Municipality No. 1 v. Pance, 6 La. Ann. 515. See St. Louis v. Green, 6 Mo. App. 591, 7 Mo. App. 468, where provisions of a city ordinance for imposing a fine for non-payment of a license upon a private vehicle, which, if not paid, would lead to imprisonment, were held to be void for want of power in the municipal assembly to make the non-payment of a purely revenue tax a misdemeanor.

Under power to "license, tax, and regulate."—A charter power to "license, tax, and regulate . . . dramshop keepers" authorizes a city to pass an ordinance making any person selling liquor in any quantity less than one gallon within the city, without taking out a dram-shop keeper's license, guilty of a misdemeanor. Schweitzer v. Liberty, 82 Mo. 309.

25. Georgia.—Carr v. Conyers, 84 Ga. 287, 10 S. E. 630, 20 Am. St. Rep. 357.

Iowa.—Burlington v. Kellar, 18 Iowa 59.

Louisiana.—State v. Bright, 38 La. Ann. 1, 58 Am. Rep. 155.

Oregon.—Ah Hoy v. Spencer, 23 Ore. 89, 31 Pac. 220.

Pennsylvania.—Pittsburgh v. Young, 3 Watts 363; In re Yard, 48 Leg. Int. 228.

Rhode Island.—Farnsworth v. Pawtucket, 13 R. I. 82.

Virginia.—Bolton v. Vellines, 94 Va. 393, 26 S. E. 847, 64 Am. St. Rep. 737.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1375.

Without special authority, a city council cannot make violations of city ordinances misdemeanors. Portland v. Schmidt, 13 Ore. 17, 6 Pac. 221.

Power to suppress confers no power to punish by imprisonment. Chariton v. Barber, 54 Iowa 360, 6 N. W. 528, 37 Am. Rep. 209.

No authority under general welfare clause.—A municipality cannot, in the absence of express legislative authority so to do, enact a valid ordinance for the punishment of an act which constitutes an offense against a penal statute; and such authority cannot be inferred from the "general welfare clause," of the charter. Moran v. Atlanta, 102 Ga. 840, 30 S. E. 298. But compare Korah v. Ottawa, 32 Ill. 121, 129, 83 Am. Dec. 255, where it is said: "There can scarcely be a doubt, that under the authority to regulate the police of the city, they may impose fines and forfeitures for injury to public property within the city limits."

26. Ex p. Bollig, 31 Ill. 88; Barter v. Com., 3 Penr. & W. (Pa.) 253. Contra, Hoggatt v. Bigley, 6 Humphr. (Tenn.) 236.

27. Denninger v. Pomona Recorders' Ct., 145 Cal. 629, 79 Pac. 360; Ex p. Green, 94 Cal. 387, 29 Pac. 783; Burlington v. Stockwell, 5 Kan. App. 569, 47 Pac. 988; People v. Hanrahan, 75 Mich. 611, 42 N. W. 1124, 4 L. R. A. 751; Faribault v. Wilson, 34 Minn. 254, 25 N. W. 449.

28. New Hampton v. Conroy, 56 Iowa 498, 9 N. W. 417; State v. Patamia, 34 La. Ann. 750; State v. Mannessier, 32 La. Ann. 1308; Butler's Appeal, 73 Pa. St. 448; Egger v. Stine, 12 Pa. Co. Ct. 316.

29. Ex p. Montgomery, 64 Ala. 463.

30. Ex p. Deane, 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,712, 2 Cranch C. C. 125.

31. People v. Detroit Citizens' St. R. Co., 116 Mich. 132, 74 N. W. 520.

32. Ex p. Reynolds, 87 Ala. 138, 6 So. 335; Monett v. Beaty, 79 Mo. App. 315.

The Kentucky constitution providing that "no municipal ordinance shall fix a penalty for a violation thereof at less than that imposed by statute for the same offense" does not apply to fines imposed by a city for violation of an ordinance as to licenses for peddlers and itinerant merchants, since such ordinance is merely local in its operation. Carlisle v. Heckinger, 103 Ky. 381, 45 S. W. 358, 20 Ky. L. Rep. 74.

law; ³³ but it cannot by ordinance or otherwise confer jurisdiction on its courts or officers to inflict penalty or punishment not already conferred by statute. ³⁴ And no forfeiture may be adjudged without due process of law. ³⁵

h. Seizure, Impound, Sale, or Forfeiture of Property ³⁶ — (1) IN GENERAL. Seizure may not be made unless statutory power therefor is given to the municipality; ³⁷ but under such authority animals estray, ³⁸ and gambling devices ³⁹ used in violation of ordinance, may under its provisions be summarily seized, and the gaming implement be delivered to the court for judgment, ⁴⁰ or summarily destroyed. ⁴¹ An ordinance is void if it affixes forfeiture as a penalty unless under express legislative authority. ⁴²

(2) IMPOUNDING ANIMALS. ⁴³ In some states the doctrine is held that without express grant a municipality has not the power to seize and impound vagrant animals within its boundaries. ⁴⁴ But the current of judicial opinion is that under the usual grant of municipal powers ⁴⁵ animals ⁴⁶ found running at large ⁴⁷ within the corporate limits, ⁴⁸ may, under ordinance to that effect, ⁴⁹ be seized and impounded, ⁵⁰

33. Vason v. Augusta, 38 Ga. 542; Ayres v. Dallas, 32 Tex. Cr. 603, 25 S. W. 631.

34. Pittsburgh v. Young, 3 Watts (Pa.) 363.

35. Rosebaugh v. Saffin, 10 Ohio 31.

36. Deprivation of property without due process of law see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 1080 et seq.

Destruction of dogs see supra, XI, A, 7, b, (VIII), (c), (2), (c).

Killing diseased animals see ANIMALS, 2 Cyc. 239 et seq.

37. Hart v. Albany, 9 Wend. (N. Y.) 571, 24 Am. Dec. 165.

Seizure of the carcass of a dead animal is justified only in case it becomes an actual nuisance. State v. Morris, 47 La. Ann. 1660, 18 So. 710; Richmond v. Caruthers, 103 Va. 774, 50 S. E. 265, 70 L. R. A. 1005. See also National Fertilizer Co. v. Lambert, 48 Fed. 458.

38. See infra, XI, A, 8, b, (II).

39. See GAMING, 20 Cyc. 919.

40. Baltimore Police Com'r's v. Wagner, 93 Md. 182, 48 Atl. 455, 86 Am. St. Rep. 423, 52 L. R. A. 775.

41. See GAMING, 20 Cyc. 919.

Statutory authority for such proceeding is indispensable. Baltimore Police Com'r's v. Wagner, 93 Md. 182, 48 Atl. 455, 86 Am. St. Rep. 423, 52 L. R. A. 775, holding that such authority is included in the obligation to prevent crime, where the article in question can be used only for a criminal purpose.

42. Coonley v. Albany, 132 N. Y. 145, 30 N. E. 382 [affirming 57 Hun 327, 10 N. Y. Suppl. 512], holding that an ordinance providing for sale and thus creating a forfeiture is invalid in the face of a provision that the city shall enforce its ordinances by means of fines and penalties.

Fruit baskets.—Under a city ordinance requiring that baskets used for the sale of fruit and vegetables should have the fractional parts of a bushel contained in each marked or stamped thereon, or else to be forfeited, with contents, the clerk of the city market seized several baskets of apples and forfeited them as offered for sale in unmarked baskets. In replevin therefor, it was held that, as no act of the legislature expressly authorized the forfeiture, the city councils had no power to inflict that penalty for the violation of the ordinance. Phillips v. Allen, 41 Pa. St. 481, 82 Am. Dec. 486.

43. Regulations as to animals running at large see supra, XI, A, 7, b, (VIII), (c), (2).

44. Slessman v. Crozier, 80 Ind. 487; Collins v. Hatch, 18 Ohio 523, 51 Am. Dec. 465.

45. Cochrane v. Frostburg, 81 Md. 54, 31 Atl. 703, 48 Am. St. Rep. 479, 27 L. R. A. 728; Com. v. Bean, 14 Gray (Mass.) 52.

46. Jeans v. Morrison, 99 Mo. App. 208, 73 S. W. 235.

47. California.—Amyx v. Taber, 23 Cal. 370.

Georgia.—Crum v. Bray, 121 Ga. 709, 40 S. E. 686.

Illinois.—Roberts v. Ogle, 30 Ill. 459, 83 Am. Dec. 201.

Kentucky.—See McKee v. McKee, 8 B. Mon. 433.

Louisiana.—See New Orleans Third Municipality v. Blanc, 1 La. Ann. 385.

Maryland.—Hagerstown v. Witmer, 86 Md. 293, 37 Atl. 965, 39 L. R. A. 649; Cochrane v. Frostburg, 81 Md. 54, 31 Atl. 703, 48 Am. St. Rep. 479, 27 L. R. A. 728.

Massachusetts.—Com. v. Curtis, 9 Allen 266.

Michigan.—See Lenz v. Sherrott, 26 Mich. 139.

North Carolina.—Hellen v. Noe, 25 N. C. 493. See also State v. Tweedy, 115 N. C. 704, 20 S. E. 183.

Tennessee.—Chattanooga v. Norman, 92 Tenn. 73, 20 S. W. 417.

48. Jeans v. Morrison, 99 Mo. App. 208, 73 S. W. 235.

49. McVey v. Barker, 92 Mo. App. 498; Rose v. Hardie, 98 N. C. 44, 4 S. E. 41; Waco v. Powell, 32 Tex. 258. See also Amyx v. Taber, 23 Cal. 370; Hellen v. Noe, 25 N. C. 493.

Validity of ordinance for sale or impounding of animals see ANIMALS, 2 Cyc. 438.

50. Alabama.—Folmar v. Curtis, 86 Ala. 354, 5 So. 678.

Colorado.—Brophy v. Hyatt, 10 Colo. 223, 15 Pac. 399.

Connecticut.—Whitlock v. West, 26 Conn. 406.

and after due notice,⁵¹ unless redeemed,⁵² may be sold at public auction⁵³ to repay expenses;⁵⁴ even though the owner be a non-resident⁵⁵ and without fault in the matter.⁵⁶ The ordinance is of course void if it contravenes the constitution,⁵⁷ or if it affixes forfeiture as a penalty,⁵⁸ or directs sale without due notice.⁵⁹ Moreover the municipality may provide a penalty for the violation of such an ordinance;⁶⁰ but some courts hold that the penalty may not be taken out of the proceeds of sale.⁶¹

i. Reasonableness of Regulation⁶² — (1) IN GENERAL. All ordinances must

Missouri.— Jeans v. Morrison, 99 Mo. App. 208, 73 S. W. 235; McVey v. Barker, 92 Mo. App. 498.

North Carolina.— Rose v. Hardie, 98 N. C. 44, 4 S. E. 41.

South Carolina.— Crosby v. Warren, 1 Rich. 385.

Texas.— Moore v. Crenshaw, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 264.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1376.

But see Miles v. Chamberlain, 17 Wis. 446.

Impounding animals see ANIMALS, 2 Cyc. 452 et seq.

Pounds and pound-keepers see ANIMALS, 2 Cyc. 452 et seq.

Duty of taker-up of estrays see ANIMALS, 2 Cyc. 360 et seq.

Liability of taker-up of estrays see ANIMALS, 2 Cyc. 364 et seq.

51. Gosselink v. Campbell, 4 Iowa 296; Varden v. Mount, 78 Ky. 86, 39 Am. Rep. 208; Thompson v. Millen, 74 S. W. 288, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 2479.

Notice of impounding see ANIMALS, 2 Cyc. 438.

52. Crum v. Bray, 121 Ga. 709, 49 S. E. 686; Gosselink v. Campbell, 4 Iowa 296.

53. Brophy v. Hyatt, 10 Colo. 223, 15 Pac. 399; Gilchrist v. Schmidling, 12 Kan. 263; Hellen v. Noe, 25 N. C. 493; Moore v. State, 11 Lea (Tenn.) 35.

54. Cartersville v. Lanham, 67 Ga. 753; Burdett v. Allen, 35 W. Va. 347, 13 S. E. 1012, 14 L. R. A. 337.

Not a forfeiture.— A city ordinance prohibiting hogs from running at large, and imposing a fine therefor, and making it the duty of a marshal to take up hogs running at large, advertise and sell the same if the owner does not within three days pay the fine and costs, and from the proceeds take the fine and costs, giving to owner the balance, is not objectionable, as imposing a forfeiture, but is in the nature of an abatement of a nuisance. Gosselink v. Campbell, 4 Iowa 296.

55. Jeans v. Morrison, 99 Mo. App. 208, 73 S. W. 235; Crosby v. Warren, 1 Rich. (S. C.) 385; Knoxville v. King, 7 Lea (Tenn.) 441. In Rose v. Hardie, 98 N. C. 44, 4 S. E. 41, it was held that an ordinance prohibiting swine from running at large and providing for the impounding of them, and a penalty against the owner, is applicable to a non-resident who permits his hogs to run in the town limits. But compare supra, XI, A, 6; and Dodge v. Gridley, 10 Ohio 173.

Animal of non-resident may be impounded see ANIMALS, 2 Cyc. 447.

56. Alabama.— Folmar v. Curtis, 86 Ala. 354, 5 So. 678.

Indiana.— Horney v. Sloan, 1 Ind. 266.

Kentucky.— McKee v. McKee, 8 B. Mon. 433; Thompson v. Millen, 74 S. W. 288, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 2479.

Massachusetts.— Gilmore v. Holt, 4 Pick. 258.

Missouri.— Dorton v. Burks, 99 Mo. App. 165, 73 S. W. 239; McVey v. Barker, 92 Mo. App. 498.

North Carolina.— Whitfield v. Longest, 28 N. C. 268.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1336.

57. Bullock v. Geomble, 45 Ill. 218; Donovan v. Vicksburg, 29 Miss. 247, 64 Am. Dec. 143.

58. White v. Tallman, 26 N. J. L. 67. See also Johnson v. Daw, 53 Mo. App. 372.

59. Rosebaugh v. Saffin, 10 Ohio 31.

60. Chamberlain v. Litchfield, 56 Ill. App. 652 (holding that an ordinance making it unlawful for the owner or any person having control of cattle, horses, etc., to permit the same to run at large, or to drive or permit the same to be driven on any street which the residents have improved unless such animals shall be under the care of some competent person, and secured by rope or halter, etc., and imposing fines for its violation, is valid); New Orleans Third Municipality v. Blanc, 1 La. Ann. 386; State v. Tweedy, 115 N. C. 704, 20 S. E. 183 (whether the owner is a resident or non-resident). Compare Miles v. Chamberlain, 17 Wis. 446, holding that under Rev. St. c. 15, § 3, towns may make by-laws to restrain animals from running at large, and enforce them by penalties, but have no authority to provide for the impounding and sale of animals found running at large.

Resident owners of stock found running at large in a city may be compelled to pay a higher penalty than non-resident owners. Jones v. Duncan, 127 N. C. 118, 37 S. E. 135; Broadfoot v. Fayetteville, 121 N. C. 418, 28 S. E. 515, 61 Am. St. Rep. 668, 37 L. R. A. 245.

61. Gosselink v. Campbell, 4 Iowa 296; Wilcox v. Hemming, 58 Wis. 144, 15 N. W. 435, 46 Am. Rep. 625.

62 Reasonableness of: License-tax see LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 593 et seq. Regulation of railroad in general see RAILROADS. Regulation of street railroad in general see STREET RAILROADS.

be reasonable,⁶³ and not unreasonable as an interference with private legal rights⁶⁴

63. Alabama.—Ex p. Byrd, 84 Ala. 17, 4 So. 397, 5 Am. St. Rep. 328; Mobile v. Yuille, 3 Ala. 137, 36 Am. Dec. 441.

Arkansas.—Taylor v. Pine Bluff, 34 Ark. 603.

Connecticut.—New Haven v. New Haven Water Co., 44 Conn. 105.

District of Columbia.—District of Columbia v. Saville, 1 MacArthur 581, 29 Am. Rep. 616.

Florida.—Jacksonville v. Ledwith, 26 Fla. 163, 7 So. 885, 23 Am. St. Rep. 558, 9 L. R. A. 69.

Illinois.—Chicago v. Gunning System, 214 Ill. 628, 73 N. E. 1035, 70 L. R. A. 230 [affirming 114 Ill. App. 377]; Chicago v. Rogers Park Water Co., 214 Ill. 212, 73 N. E. 375; Lasher v. People, 183 Ill. 226, 55 N. E. 663, 75 Am. St. Rep. 103, 47 L. R. A. 802; Carrollton v. Bazzette, 159 Ill. 284, 42 N. E. 837, 31 L. R. A. 552; Hawes v. Chicago, 158 Ill. 653, 42 N. E. 373, 30 L. R. A. 225; Wiggins v. Chicago, 68 Ill. 372; Chicago v. Ferris Wheel Co., 58 Ill. App. 625.

Indiana.—Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Crown Point, 146 Ind. 421, 45 N. E. 587, 35 L. R. A. 684.

Iowa.—Davis v. Anita, 73 Iowa 325, 35 N. W. 244; State Center v. Barenstein, 66 Iowa 249, 23 N. W. 652.

Louisiana.—State v. Itzcovitch, 49 La. Ann. 366, 21 So. 544, 62 Am. St. Rep. 648, 37 L. R. A. 673; State v. Schuchardt, 42 La. Ann. 49, 7 So. 67.

Maryland.—See Bostock v. Sams, 95 Md. 400, 52 Atl. 665, 93 Am. St. Rep. 394.

Massachusetts.—Winthrop v. New England Chocolate Co., 180 Mass. 464, 62 N. E. 969.

Michigan.—Saginaw v. Swift Electric Light Co., 113 Mich. 660, 72 N. W. 6.

Minnesota.—St. Paul v. Briggs, 85 Minn. 290, 88 N. W. 984, 89 Am. St. Rep. 554; St. Paul v. Dow, 37 Minn. 20, 32 N. W. 860, 5 Am. St. Rep. 811; Mankato v. Fowler, 32 Minn. 364, 20 N. W. 361.

Mississippi.—Ex p. O'Leary, 65 Miss. 80, 3 So. 144, 7 Am. St. Rep. 640; Jackson v. Newman, 59 Miss. 385, 42 Am. Rep. 367.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Weitzel, 130 Mo. 600, 31 S. W. 1045; St. Louis v. Weber, 44 Mo. 547; Lamar v. Weidman, 57 Mo. App. 507.

New Jersey.—Passaic v. Paterson Bill Posting, etc., Co., 72 N. J. L. 285, 62 Atl. 267.

New York.—Ford v. Standard Oil Co., 32 N. Y. App. Div. 596, 53 N. Y. Suppl. 48; Dunham v. Rochester, 5 Cow. 462; Shepherd v. Hees, 12 Johns. 433; Hudson v. Thorne, 7 Paige 261.

North Carolina.—State v. Ray, 131 N. C. 814, 42 S. E. 960, 92 Am. St. Rep. 795, 60 L. R. A. 634.

Ohio.—White v. Kent, 11 Ohio St. 550.

Pennsylvania.—Ft. Pitt Gas Co. v. Sewickley, 198 Pa. St. 201, 47 Atl. 957; Densmore v. Erie, 7 Pa. Dist. 355, 20 Pa. Co. Ct. 513; Lancaster v. Edison Electric Illuminat- ing Co., 8 Pa. Co. Ct. 178; Harrisburg City Pass. R. Co. v. Harrisburg, 2 Chest. Co. Rep. 333; Ridley Park Borough v. United Tel., etc., Co., 10 Del. Co. 101; Plains Tp. v. Lehigh Valley R. Co., 13 Luz. Leg. Reg. 24.

Texas.—Ex p. Glass, (Cr. App. 1905) 90 S. W. 1108; Ex p. Battis, 40 Tex. Cr. 112, 48 S. W. 513, 76 Am. St. Rep. 708, 43 L. R. A. 863; Ex p. Robinson, 30 Tex. App. 493, 17 S. W. 1057.

Vermont.—St. Johnsbury v. Thompson, 59 Vt. 300, 9 Atl. 571, 59 Am. Rep. 731.

Canada.—Coaticook v. Lothrop, 22 Quebec Super. Ct. 225; Re Nash, 33 U. C. Q. B. 181.

64. Alabama.—Costello v. State, 108 Ala. 45, 18 So. 820, 35 L. R. A. 303.

California.—In re Kelso, 147 Cal. 609, 82 Pac. 241, 109 Am. St. Rep. 178, 2 L. R. A. N. S. 796; San Francisco v. Buckman, 111 Cal. 25, 43 Pac. 396.

District of Columbia.—District of Columbia v. Saville, 1 MacArthur 581, 29 Am. Rep. 616.

Georgia.—Bethune v. Hughes, 28 Ga. 560, 73 Am. Dec. 789.

Illinois.—Clinton v. Phillips, 58 Ill. 102, 11 Am. Rep. 52; Chicago v. Rumpff, 45 Ill. 90, 92 Am. Dec. 196; Caldwell v. Alton, 33 Ill. 416, 75 Am. Dec. 282; Chicago v. Gunning System, 114 Ill. App. 377 [affirming in 214 Ill. 628, 73 N. E. 1035, 70 L. R. A. 230]; Chicago v. Ferris Wheel Co., 58 Ill. App. 625. See also Chicago v. Collins, 175 Ill. 445, 51 N. E. 907, 67 Am. St. Rep. 224, 49 L. R. A. 408.

Indiana.—Evansville v. Miller, 146 Ind. 613, 45 N. E. 1054, 38 L. R. A. 161; Walker v. Jameson, 140 Ind. 591, 37 N. E. 402, 39 N. E. 869, 49 Am. St. Rep. 222, 28 L. R. A. 679, 683.

Iowa.—Bush v. Dubuque, 69 Iowa 233, 28 N. W. 542; Centerville v. Miller, 57 Iowa 56, 10 N. W. 293.

Kansas.—Monroe v. Lawrence, 44 Kan. 607, 24 Pac. 1113, 10 L. R. A. 520.

Louisiana.—State v. Schuchardt, 42 La. Ann. 49, 7 So. 67.

Maryland.—Bostock v. Sams, 95 Md. 400, 52 Atl. 665, 93 Am. St. Rep. 394; State v. Mott, 61 Md. 297, 48 Am. Rep. 105.

Michigan.—Gale v. Kalamazoo, 23 Mich. 344, 9 Am. Rep. 80; Ash v. People, 11 Mich. 347, 83 Am. Dec. 740.

Minnesota.—St. Paul v. Laidler, 2 Minn. 190, 72 Am. Dec. 89.

Mississippi.—Ex p. O'Leary, 65 Miss. 80, 3 So. 144, 7 Am. St. Rep. 640.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Dorr, 145 Mo. 466, 41 S. W. 1094, 46 S. W. 976, 68 Am. St. Rep. 575, 42 L. R. A. 686; Hisey v. Mexico, 61 Mo. App. 248.

New York.—Hudson v. Thorne, 7 Paige 261. But compare Stuyvesant v. New York, 7 Cow. 588; Vanderbilt v. Adams, 7 Cow. 349.

Pennsylvania.—Phillips v. Allen, 41 Pa. St. 481, 82 Am. Dec. 486.

or in restraint of trade;⁶⁵ but whether a police ordinance is reasonable is not a question for the courts, when it is enacted in pursuance of express legislative authority,⁶⁶ and although if obviously within implied power every presumption is indulged in favor of its reasonableness;⁶⁷ yet details of the ordinance, not mentioned in the statute of authority, may invalidate it;⁶⁸ so also of the declaration of a thing to be a nuisance, which is not so in fact.⁶⁹

(II) ILLUSTRATIONS—(A) Reasonable. Under these rules⁷⁰ the courts have sustained as reasonable ordinances establishing hack stands;⁷¹ exempting home-producers from peddler's license;⁷² forbidding carpet cleaning in a certain district,⁷³ the keeping of livery stables in a certain locality,⁷⁴ and vehicles carrying more than three tons to pass over streets unless the load is indivisible;⁷⁵ limiting the speed of trains;⁷⁶ making stringent provisions for pure food,⁷⁷ and for clean markets⁷⁸ and streets;⁷⁹ making provisions for full weights and measures,⁸⁰ and Vermont.—St. Johnsbury v. Thompson, 59 Vt. 300, 9 Atl. 571, 59 Am. Rep. 731.

Wisconsin.—Hayes v. Appleton, 24 Wis. 542. See also Barling v. West, 29 Wis. 307, 9 Am. Rep. 576.

Canada.—Re Nash, 33 U. C. Q. B. 181.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1378.

65. Alabama.—Greensboro v. Ehrenreich, 80 Ala. 579, 2 So. 725, 60 Am. Rep. 130; Shelton v. Mobile, 30 Ala. 540, 68 Am. Dec. 143.

Illinois.—Chicago v. Netcher, 183 Ill. 104, 55 N. E. 707, 75 Am. St. Rep. 93, 48 L. R. A. 261; Kinsley v. Chicago, 124 Ill. 359, 16 N. E. 260.

Kansas.—Monroe v. Lawrence, 44 Kan. 607, 24 Pac. 1113, 10 L. R. A. 520.

Minnesota.—St. Paul v. Traeger, 25 Minn. 248, 33 Am. Rep. 462; St. Paul v. Laidler, 2 Minn. 190, 72 Am. Dec. 89.

Mississippi.—Kosciusko v. Slomberg, 68 Miss. 469, 9 So. 297, 24 Am. St. Rep. 281, 12 L. R. A. 528.

Missouri.—Joplin v. Leckie, 78 Mo. App. 8.

New York.—Dunham v. Rochester, 5 Cow. 462.

Ohio.—White v. Kent, 11 Ohio St. 550.

Pennsylvania.—Com. v. Hepner, 22 Pa. Co. Ct. 630; Warren v. Lewis, 16 Pa. Co. Ct. 176.

Wisconsin.—Hayes v. Appleton, 24 Wis. 542.

Canada.—Re Nash, 33 U. C. Q. B. 181.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1378; and supra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (A).

66. Indiana.—Shea v. Muncie, 148 Ind. 14, 46 N. E. 138.

Kentucky.—Chesapeake, etc., R. Co. v. Maysville, 69 S. W. 728, 24 Ky. L. Rep. 615.

New Jersey.—Raffetto v. Mott, 60 N. J. L. 413, 38 Atl. 857.

South Carolina.—Darlington v. Ward, 48 S. C. 570, 26 S. E. 906, 33 L. R. A. 326.

Texas.—Chimene v. Baker, 32 Tex. Civ. App. 520, 75 S. W. 330.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1378.

67. Arkansas.—Hot Springs v. Curry, 64 Ark. 152, 41 S. W. 55.

California.—In re Newell, 2 Cal. App. 767, 84 Pac. 226.

New Jersey.—Ivins v. Trenton, 69 N. J. L. 451, 55 Atl. 1132.

Oregon.—Portland v. Montgomery, 38 Oreg. 215, 62 Pac. 755.

Utah.—Ogden City v. Crossman, 17 Utah 66, 53 Pac. 985.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1378.

Police ordinances should be interpreted and construed with reference to the purposes of the incorporation. Theisen v. McDavid, 34 Fla. 440, 16 So. 321, 26 L. R. A. 234. An ordinance, general in its scope, may be adjudged reasonable as applied to one state of facts, and unreasonable as applied to another. Nicoulin v. Lowery, 49 N. J. L. 391, 8 Atl. 513. An ordinance in harmony with the general laws of the state is not per se oppressive. State v. Payssan, 47 La. Ann. 1029, 17 So. 481, 49 Am. St. Rep. 390.

Burden of proof.—When the unreasonableness of a municipal ordinance is not apparent on its face, the burden of proof will be upon the party attacking the ordinance to establish its unreasonableness. New York v. Dry Dock, etc., R. Co., 15 N. Y. Suppl. 297.

68. Lane v. Concord, 70 N. H. 485, 49 Atl. 687, 85 Am. St. Rep. 643. Compare State v. Trenton, 53 N. J. L. 132, 20 Atl. 1076.

69. Munsell v. Carthage, 105 Ill. App. 119.

70. See supra, XI, A, 8, i, (1).

71. Montgomery v. Parker, 114 Ala. 118, 21 So. 452, 62 Am. St. Rep. 95.

72. People v. Sawyer, 106 Mich. 428, 64 N. W. 333.

73. Ex p. Lacey, 108 Cal. 326, 41 Pac. 411, 49 Am. St. Rep. 93, 38 L. R. A. 640.

74. Chicago v. Stratton, 58 Ill. App. 539.

75. Com. v. Mulhall, 162 Mass. 496, 39 N. E. 183, 44 Am. St. Rep. 387.

76. Bluedorn v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 108 Mo. 439, 18 S. W. 1103, 32 Am. St. Rep. 615.

77. State v. Stone, 46 La. Ann. 147, 15 So. 11.

78. State v. Dubarry, 46 La. Ann. 33, 14 So. 298.

79. Chicago v. Chicago Union Traction Co., 199 Ill. 259, 65 N. E. 243, 59 L. R. A. 666.

80. State v. Smith, 123 Iowa 654, 96 N. W. 899; People v. Wagner, 86 Mich. 594, 49 N. W. 609, 24 Am. St. Rep. 141, 13 L. R. A. 286; New York v. Hewitt, 91 N. Y. App. Div. 445, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 832.

for inoffensive vaults⁸¹ and stables;⁸² prohibiting hotel porter from soliciting on railroad premises;⁸³ protecting the quiet and comforts of residence;⁸⁴ providing for a driver and conductor on every car,⁸⁵ and that huckster wagons shall not stand in the market place longer than a prescribed time;⁸⁶ regulating or relating to bill boards⁸⁷ and fire limits,⁸⁸ digging in streets,⁸⁹ drum beating and horn blowing in streets,⁹⁰ fresh meat trade,⁹¹ hackney coaches,⁹² handling of trains,⁹³ hotel drumming business,⁹⁴ keeping of dogs,⁹⁵ license-fee of itinerant peddlers,⁹⁶ playing of games,⁹⁷ railing of floor openings,⁹⁸ sale of meats,⁹⁹ speed of trains,¹ time limits of street car transfers,² trains,³ the use of bicycles,⁴ and the use of streets by stages and other vehicles;⁵ requiring companies to pave the streets over which their cars run⁶ and to sprinkle their tracks;⁷ requiring flagmen at dangerous crossings,⁸ and vehicles for hire to occupy designated stands;⁹ and restricting peddlers¹⁰ and others.¹¹

(B) Unreasonable. On the other hand, among others,¹² certain ordinances forbidding the covering of packages of fruit with colored netting,¹³ driving faster than an ordinary walk,¹⁴ and the running of cars during the winter without vestibules;¹⁵ imposing a tax of fifty cents a pole on an electric company;¹⁶ licensing removal

81. Cartwright v. Cohoes, 39 N. Y. App. Div. 69, 56 N. Y. Suppl. 731.

82. State v. Beattie, 16 Mo. App. 131.

83. Laddonia v. Poor, 73 Mo. App. 465.

84. Ex p. Lacey, 108 Cal. 326, 41 Pac. 411, 49 Am. St. Rep. 93, 38 L. R. A. 640, limiting use of machines.

85. State v. Trenton, 53 N. J. L. 132, 20 Atl. 1076, 11 L. R. A. 410.

86. Com. v. Brooks, 109 Mass. 355.

87. Rochester v. West, 164 N. Y. 510, 58 N. E. 673, 79 Am. St. Rep. 659, 53 L. R. A. 548.

88. Chimerie v. Baker, 32 Tex. Civ. App. 520, 75 S. W. 330.

89. Springfield Water Co. v. Darby, 199 Pa. St. 400, 49 Atl. 275.

90. In re Gribben, 5 Okla. 379, 47 Pac. 1074.

91. Bowling Green v. Carson, 10 Bush (Ky.) 64.

92. Com. v. Robertson, 5 Cush. (Mass.) 438.

93. Birmingham v. Alabama Great Southern R. Co., 98 Ala. 134, 13 So. 141.

94. Hot Springs v. Curry, 64 Ark. 152, 41 S. W. 55.

95. Faribault v. Wilson, 34 Minn. 254, 25 N. W. 449.

96. Ex p. Haskell, 112 Cal. 412, 44 Pac. 725, 32 L. R. A. 527.

97. Tarkio v. Cook, 120 Mo. 1, 25 S. W. 202, 41 Am. St. Rep. 678.

98. New York v. Williams, 15 N. Y. 502 [affirming 4 E. D. Smith 516].

99. St. Louis v. Weber, 44 Mo. 547.

1. Cleveland, etc., R. Co. v. Harrington, 131 Ind. 426, 30 N. E. 37; Washington Southern R. Co. v. Lacey, 94 Va. 460, 26 S. E. 834.

2. Ex p. Lorenzen, 128 Cal. 431, 61 Pac. 68, 79 Am. St. Rep. 47, 50 L. R. A. 55.

3. Duluth v. Mallett, 43 Minn. 204, 45 N. W. 154.

4. Emporia v. Wagoner, 6 Kan. App. 659, 49 Pac. 701.

5. Com. v. Stodder, 2 Cush. (Mass.) 562, 48 Am. Dec. 679.

6. Philadelphia v. Empire Pass. R. Co., 7 Phila. (Pa.) 321.

7. Chester v. Chester Traction Co., 5 Pa. Dist. 609.

8. Delaware, etc., R. Co. v. East Orange Tp., 41 N. J. L. 127.

9. Com. v. Matthews, 122 Mass. 60.

10. Com. v. Fenton, 139 Mass. 195, 29 N. E. 653.

11. Bearden v. Madison, 73 Ga. 184 (holding that a city ordinance annexing a penalty to the offense of persons other than passengers getting on or off of engines and cars is reasonable and valid); State v. Payssan, 47 La. Ann. 1029, 17 So. 481, 49 Am. St. Rep. 390 (an ordinance adopted in order to remove and destroy animal and vegetable matter); Atlantic City v. Brown, 72 N. J. L. 207, 62 Atl. 428 (an ordinance permitting an omnibus driver to charge only ten cents for carrying a passenger, irrespective of the distance).

12. Waters v. Leech, 3 Ark. 110 (an ordinance declaring that the city constable "shall be entitled to receive of the owners or exhibitors of every theatre, &c., for each night of his attendance the sum of two dollars"); State Center v. Barenstein, 66 Iowa 249, 23 N. W. 652 (an ordinance requiring a peddler to pay as a license "not less than one nor more twenty-five dollars for a fixed time, in the discretion of the mayor").

Ordinance requiring the consent of certain individuals to the exercise of a specified business is void, although the municipality had power to regulate such business. St. Louis v. Howard, 119 Mo. 41, 24 S. W. 770, 41 Am. St. Rep. 630; In re Quong Woo, 13 Fed. 229, 7 Sawy. 526.

13. Frost v. Chicago, 178 Ill. 250, 52 N. E. 869, 60 Am. St. Rep. 301, 49 L. R. A. 657.

14. Kansas City v. McDonald, 60 Kan. 481, 57 Pac. 123, 45 L. R. A. 429.

15. Yonkers v. Yonkers R. Co., 51 N. Y. App. Div. 271, 64 N. Y. Suppl. 955.

16. Saginaw v. Swift Electric Light Co., 113 Mich. 660, 72 N. W. 6.

of dirt, offal, etc., from the city;¹⁷ prohibiting laundries except in brick or stone buildings;¹⁸ prescribing the kind of sidewalk;¹⁹ regulating burials;²⁰ the location of telegraph poles,²¹ markets,²² stage coaches in streets,²³ the time within which cars may be distributed,²⁴ and the use of carriages;²⁵ and requiring the building of sidewalks in an uninhabited part of the city,²⁶ a license of itinerant merchants only,²⁷ and a watchman at each railway crossing²⁸ have been held to be unreasonable as unduly restricting trade or traffic,²⁹ manufactures³⁰ and transportation,³¹ and tyrannically invading personal liberty,³² imposing impossible requirements upon business,³³ or tending to monopoly.³⁴

(iii) *EXCESSIVE PENALTY OR UNREASONABLE PUNISHMENT.*³⁵ Penalties prescribed and punishments provided for by ordinances must not be excessive or unreasonable.³⁶ To be reasonable a penalty must be certain.³⁷ A by-law inflicting a penalty wholly disproportionate to the offense,³⁸ or beyond the statutory limit,³⁹ is void. So also is one obviously prescribed to humiliate or disgrace a class

17. In re Vandine, 6 Pick. (Mass.) 187, 17 Am. Dec. 351.

18. Shreveport v. Robinson, 51 La. Ann. 1314, 26 So. 277.

19. Haves v. Chicago, 158 Ill. 653, 42 N. E. 373, 30 L. R. A. 225.

20. Austin v. Austin City Cemetery Assoc., 87 Tex. 330, 28 S. W. 528, 47 Am. St. Rep. 114.

21. Hannibal v. Missouri, etc., Tel. Co., 31 Mo. App. 23.

22. Lamar v. Weidman, 57 Mo. App. 507.

23. Com. v. Stodder, 2 Cush. (Mass.) 562, 48 Am. Dec. 679.

24. Birmingham v. Alabama Great Southern R. Co., 98 Ala. 134, 13 So. 141.

25. Ex p. Battis 40 Tex. Cr. 112, 48 S. W. 513, 76 Am. St. Rep. 708, 43 L. R. A. 863.

26. Corrigan v. Gage, 68 Mo. 541.

27. Carrollton v. Bazzette, 159 Ill. 284, 42 N. E. 837, 31 L. R. A. 522.

28. Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Crown Point, 146 Ind. 421, 45 N. E. 587, 35 L. R. A. 684.

29. State v. Rohart, 83 Minn. 257, 86 N. W. 93, 333, 54 L. R. A. 947.

Must not be in restraint of trade see supra, XI, A, 8, i, (1), text and note 65.

30. St. Louis v. Heitzberg Packing, etc., Co., 141 Mo. 375, 42 S. W. 954, 64 Am. St. Rep. 516, 39 L. R. A. 551, holding that a smoke ordinance of a city which provides, "The emission into the open air of dense black or thick gray smoke within the corporate limits of the city of St. Louis is thereby declared a nuisance," exceeds the powers of the city under its charter "to declare, prevent and abate nuisances," and is unreasonable and void.

31. Atkinson v. Goodrich Transp. Co., 60 Wis. 141, 18 N. W. 764, 50 Am. Rep. 352, forbidding steamboats in harbor without spark arresters.

32. Chicago v. Gunning System, 114 Ill. App. 377 [affirmed in 214 Ill. 628, 73 N. E. 1035, 70 L. R. A. 230]; Hayes v. Appleton, 24 Wis. 542.

Must not infringe private rights see supra, XI, A, 8, i, (1), text and note 64.

33. Crawford v. Topeka, 51 Kan. 756, 33 Pac. 476, 37 Am. St. Rep. 323, 20 L. R. A. 692. See also Chicago v. Gunning System Co., 214 Ill. 628, 73 N. E. 1035, 70 L. R. A.

230 [affirming 114 Ill. App. 377], where a city ordinance provided that the owners of bill boards erected prior to the passage of the ordinance exceeding certain dimensions should pay an annual license-fee of fifty cents per square foot, and in default of such payment the boards should be torn down. In a suit to have the ordinance declared void it was proved that thereunder complainant would be required to pay an annual license-fee of two hundred and ten thousand dollars, when its gross income was but one hundred and twenty thousand dollars; that all of complainant's signs on which a license would have to be paid were erected under the ordinances of the city as they existed at the time the boards were built, and that in some instances the city received a license for the privilege of erecting them. It was held that such ordinance was not only void for unreasonableness, but as prohibitive of complainant's business. Compare District of Columbia v. Saville, 1 MacArthur (D. C.) 581, 29 Am. Rep. 616.

34. Chicago v. Rumpff, 45 Ill. 90, 92 Am. Dec. 196; Re Nash, 33 U. C. Q. B. 181.

35. Conflicting ordinances and statutes see supra, XI, A, 4, c.

Difference in penalty, punishment, or license-fee see supra, XI, A, 4, c, (ii).

Sentence and punishment see infra, XI, B, 4, q.

36. See cases cited infra, note 37 et seq.

37. Mobile v. Yuille, 3 Ala. 137.

38. See Ex p. Miller, 89 Cal. 41, 26 Pac. 620, holding that the question as to whether the punishment is disproportionate to the offense is one for the court and not to be determined upon habeas corpus proceedings.

39. Louisiana.—New Orleans v. Costello, 14 La. Ann. 37.

New Jersey.—Leland v. Long Branch Com'rs, 42 N. J. L. 375. See also Haynes v. Cape May, 50 N. J. L. 55, 13 Atl. 231 [affirmed in 52 N. J. L. 180, 19 Atl. 176]. Compare Landis v. Vineland, 54 N. J. L. 75, 23 Atl. 357, holding that under the borough act allowing a borough to pass ordinances punishing disorderly conduct, and declaring that the mayor may commit any person violating such an ordinance to the lockup for any time in his discretion, not exceeding ten of persons.⁴⁰ When a course of action is the thing prohibited a penalty may not be affixed to each evidential act.⁴¹ The law has no general standard for a reasonable fine, fifty dollars being denounced as unreasonable in one case,⁴² and five hundred dollars as reasonable in another⁴³ for a small offense.

j. Discrimination.⁴⁴ Ordinances and by-laws contravening constitutional requirements of equality or uniformity of legislation are void for such discrimination.⁴⁵ To this class belong ordinances denying to hack drivers privileges days, or impose a fine "not exceeding $20," or both, a borough cannot pass an ordinance providing that, if any person disturb an assembly, he shall pay a fine of "not less than $3 nor more than $10" for each offense.

New York.—New York v. Ordrenan, 12 Johns. 122.

Ohio.—Belle Centre v. Welsh, 11 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 41, 24 Cinc. L. Bul. 176.

South Carolina.—Zylstra v. Charleston, 1 Bay 382.

Texas.—McNeil v. State, 29 Tex. App. 48, 14 S. W. 393.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1379.

Compare Chicago v. Quimby, 38 Ill. 274 (holding that an ordinance of the city of Chicago of Aug. 24, 1863, imposing a fine of five dollars a barrel for each barrel of certain provisions sold without inspection, was, so far as it operated to impose a penalty beyond one hundred dollars, repugnant to the charter, and it was to that extent inoperative); Greenfield v. Mook, 12 Ill. App. 281 (holding that where the charter of a town prohibited the imposition of fines for more than fifty dollars for the violation of ordinances, an ordinance which fixed the penalty for its violation at from twenty dollars to one hundred dollars was void as to the excess above fifty dollars, and valid as to the residue). See also Eureka Springs v. O'Neal, 56 Ark. 350, 19 S. W. 969; Com. v. Wilkins, 121 Mass. 356.

Ordinances prescribing penalties within the limit designated by the legislature cannot be set aside as unreasonable. Patterson v. Taylor, 51 Fla. 275, 40 So. 493; Tarkio v. Cook, 120 Mo. 1, 25 S. W. 202, 41 Am. St. Rep. 678. A city ordinance prescribing a term of imprisonment which may, but does not necessarily, exceed that authorized by the constitution, may be enforced within the constitutional limit. Keokuk v. Dressell, 47 Iowa 597.

40. Ho Ah Kow v. Nunan, 12 Fed. Cas. No. 6,546, 5 Sawy. 552, 20 Alb. L. J. 250.

41. See Eureka Springs v. O'Neal, 56 Ark. 350, 19 S. W. 969 (holding that where the thing prohibited by ordinance is continuous, as the keeping of a dram-shop without a license, if the ordinance attempts to make each sale a different offense it is invalid as the aggregate punishment might be in excess of the maximum penalty which the city might inflict); Com. v. Wilkins, 121 Mass. 356 (holding that an ordinance prescribing a penalty of from one to five dollars for every hour of keeping a wagon in a market without a license, etc., is void where the statute only permits a penalty of twenty dollars for one offense).

42. Lansdowne v. Springfield Water Co., 7 Del. Co. (Pa.) 509.

43. Ex p. Cheney, 90 Cal. 617, 27 Pac. 436.

For illustrations of fines, penalties, and license-fees or taxes held not to be unreasonable or excessive see Patterson v. Taylor, 51 Fla. 275, 40 So. 493; Perdue v. Ellis, 18 Ga. 586; Tarkio v. Coke, 120 Mo. 1, 25 S. W. 202, 41 Am. St. Rep. 678; Atlantic City v. Brown, (N. J. 1905) 62 Atl. 428; Alliance v. Joyce, 49 Ohio St. 7, 30 N. E. 270; Brown v. Toledo, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 210, 7 Ohio N. P. 435; Pottsville Borough v. Pottsville Gas Co., 32 Pa. Co. Ct. 17, 3 Schuyler Co. Ct. 91; Lansdowne v. Springfield Water Co., 7 Del. Co. (Pa.) 506; Mahanoy City v. Pennsylvania Theatre Co., 3 Schuyler Co. Ct. (Pa.) 160; McCormick v. Calloun, 30 S. C. 93, 8 S. E. 539; Hirshfield v. Dallas, 29 Tex. App. 242, 15 S. W. 124; St. Johnsbury v. Thompson, 59 Vt. 300, 9 Atl. 571, 59 Am. Rep. 731.

44. Discrimination in imposition of license-tax see LICENSES, 25 Cyc. 593.

45. California.—Ex p. Bohem, 115 Cal. 372, 47 Pac. 55, 36 L. R. A. 618.

Illinois.—Chicago v. Chicago Union Traction Co., 199 Ill. 259, 65 N. E. 243, 59 L. R. A. 666; Hawes v. Chicago, 158 Ill. 653, 42 N. E. 373, 30 L. R. A. 225.

Indiana.—Plymouth v. Schulteis, 135 Ind. 339, 36 N. E. 12, 135 Ind. 701, 35 N. E. 14; Richmond v. Dudley, 129 Ind. 112, 28 N. E. 312, 28 Am. St. Rep. 180, 13 L. R. A. 587.

Kansas.—State v. Topeka, 36 Kan. 76, 12 Pac. 310, 59 Am. Rep. 529.

Louisiana.—State v. Deffes, 45 La. Ann. 658, 12 So. 241; State v. Du Barry, 44 La. Ann. 1117, 11 So. 718.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Sternberg, 69 Mo. 289; Lamar v. Weidman, 57 Mo. App. 507; Kansas City v. Corrigan, 18 Mo. App. 206.

New York.—People v. Jarvis, 19 N. Y. App. Div. 466, 46 N. Y. Suppl. 596; Brooklyn v. Furey, 9 Misc. 193, 30 N. Y. Suppl. 349.

North Carolina.—State v. Tenant, 110 N. C. 609, 14 S. E. 387, 28 Am. St. Rep. 715, 15 L. R. A. 423.

Ohio.—Canton v. Nist, 9 Ohio St. 439.

Pennsylvania.—Philadelphia v. Brabender, 201 Pa. St. 574, 51 Atl. 374, 58 L. R. A. 220; Densmore v. Erie City, 7 Pa. Dist. 355, 20 Pa. Co. Ct. 513.

Canada.—Re Nash, 33 U. C. Q. B. 181.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1380.

Conflicting ordinances and statutes see supra, XI, A, 4, c.

Must not be unconstitutional see supra, XI, A, 7, b, (VII), (A).

allowed to competing street cars;⁴⁶ allowing to keepers of two cows or sellers of less than twenty quarts of milk per day privileges denied to other milk dealers;⁴⁷ forbidding fruit packages to be covered with colored netting;⁴⁸ denying privileges to laundrymen allowed to similar operators of machinery;⁴⁹ discriminating between vendors of or canvassers for articles made without and within the state,⁵⁰ and against merchants using trading stamps;⁵¹ permitting to one citizen a privilege denied to his neighbor;⁵² forbidding one railroad to do what it permits to another;⁵³ and permitting one and refusing another the right of Sunday selling.⁵⁴ To this class also belong ordinances directed at a single person,⁵⁵ or transient dealers only;⁵⁶ and it seems making the right to a license or permit to depend on the consent of adjacent proprietors,⁵⁷ or upon the arbitrary will or uncontrolled discretion of the city council, or other body or board.⁵⁸ But ordinances discrimi-

There is no discrimination impairing equal rights in an ordinance prohibiting the casting of advertisements in vestibules of dwellings, although newspapers and addressed envelopes are excepted. Philadelphia v. Brabender, 201 Pa. St. 574, 51 Atl. 374, 58 L. R. A. 220.

46. Ex p. Vance, 42 Tex. Cr. 619, 62 S. W. 568, holding that a city ordinance establishing a hack stand at a depot at a greater distance therefrom than the place at which street cars are permitted to stop is not a discrimination, and hence does not render the ordinance void.

47. Gray v. Wilmington, 2 Marv. (Del.) 257, 43 Atl. 94; Pierce v. Aurora, 81 Ill. App. 670.

48. Frost v. Chicago, 178 Ill. 250, 52 N. E. 869, 69 Am. St. Rep. 301, 49 L. R. A. 657.

49. Shreveport v. Robinson, 51 La. Ann. 1314, 26 So. 277.

50. Ex p. Clamp, 9 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 672, 16 Cinc. L. Bul. 229.

51. Ex p. McKenna, 126 Cal. 429, 58 Pac. 916.

52. Tugman v. Chicago, 78 Ill. 405; Hudson v. Thorne, 7 Paige (N. Y.) 261. In Tugman v. Chicago, supra, it was held that where a city ordinance is passed, prohibiting the carrying on of a particular business in a certain locality, the fact that certain persons were engaged in such business within the district designated in the ordinance at the time of its adoption does not authorize the corporation, by the ordinance, to permit such persons to continue their business while it prohibits others from engaging therein in the same locality.

53. Lake View v. Tate, 33 Ill. App. 78 [affirmed in 130 Ill. 247, 22 N. E. 791]. Compare Buffalo v. New York, etc., R. Co., 6 Misc. (N. Y.) 630, 27 N. Y. Suppl. 297 [affirming 23 N. Y. Suppl. 303], where the ordinance was valid.

54. Shreveport v. Levy, 26 La. Ann. 671, 21 Am. Rep. 553; Canton v. Nist, 9 Ohio St. 439.

55. Canajoharie v. Buel, 43 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 155.

56. McRoberts v. Sullivan, 67 Ill. App. 435; Wormser v. Allentown, 8 Pa. Dist. 649, 7 North. Co. Rep. 38. Discrimination between temporary and permanent residence invalidates the ordinance. Carrollton v. Bazzette, 159 Ill. 284, 42 N. E. 837, 31 L. R. A. 522.

57. St. Louis v. Russell, 116 Mo. 248, 22 S. W. 470, 20 L. R. A. 721.

58. Plymouth v. Schultheis, 135 Ind. 339, 701, 35 N. E. 12, 14 (holding that an ordinance making it unlawful to carry on the business of a tannery within one mile of the city limits without a permit from the city council, and which does not define any of the conditions on which tanneries may be conducted or on which such permit shall issue, but leaves the propriety of granting such permit to the uncontrolled discretion of the board of health and common council, is invalid); Richmond v. Dudley, 129 Ind. 112, 28 N. E. 312, 28 Am. St. Rep. 180, 13 L. R. A. 587 (holding that an ordinance prohibiting the storage by any person within the city limits of inflammable oils, except upon permission from the common council, leaving it to the common council to say whether a particular place is suitable for the purpose, or a particular person is a proper one to whom to grant permission, and allowing the permission to be revoked at the will of the council, is invalid, because of the power of arbitrary discrimination it vests in the council); State v. Deffes, 45 La. Ann. 658, 12 So. 841; State v. Dubarry, 44 La. Ann. 1117, 11 So. 718 (holding that an ordinance, which declares that it shall not be lawful for any one to establish a private market for the sale of meats, fish, vegetables, etc., without permission of the city council, is illegal and void, since the discretion vested by such an ordinance in the city council is in no way regulated or controlled, leaving it within the power of the city council to grant or refuse the privilege at pleasure); State v. Tenant, 110 N. C. 609, 14 S. E. 387, 28 Am. St. Rep. 715, 15 L. R. A. 423 (holding that an ordinance which provides that no person shall erect, add to, or generally change any building, without first obtaining the permission of the board of aldermen, is void in reserving to the board the arbitrary power to refuse the application of one person and grant that of another); Re Nash, 33 U. C. Q. B. 181 (holding that a by-law that no person shall keep a slaughter-house within the city, without special resolution of the council, was not within the power given to the corporation because it would permit favoritism by the nating between different streets or sections of the municipality,⁵⁹ or different occupations, classes, or articles,⁶⁰ provided the same rules are applied to all of the same class, are valid.

k. Destruction of or Injury to Property⁶¹—(1) IN GENERAL. Under the maxim salus populi suprema lex municipal authorities not only may but must in the exercise of police power destroy private property to save human life,⁶² to protect public health,⁶³ to preserve property,⁶⁴ and to safeguard the public safety.⁶⁵ And this they may do with impunity, in the face of imminent peril;⁶⁶ or in the council and might be exercised in restraint of trade or used for the purpose of granting a monopoly).

59. Chicago v. Brownell, 146 Ill. 64, 34 N. E. 595 [reversing 41 Ill. App. 70] (holding that an ordinance which imposes a penalty for book-making and pool-selling within the city limits, except in certain enumerated localities, is not void for unreasonableness, since the discrimination is not between people, but between places, and the exception of certain localities does not authorize book-making and pool-selling at such places); Ivins v. Trenton, 69 N. J. L. 451, 55 Atl. 1132 [affirming 68 N. J. L. 501, 53 Atl. 202] (holding that an ordinance, prohibiting the erection of any stationary or swinging sign, or any stationary awning shed, across the whole or any portion of the sidewalks, is not necessarily invalid, as being special in character and discriminating in its effects, because it is limited in its operation to a portion of the city only); Chattanooga v. Norman, 92 Tenn. 73, 20 S. W. 417 (holding that an ordinance prohibiting stock from running at large is not objectionable on the ground that it applies to only a part of the city).

60. Georgia.—Savannah City, etc., R. Co. v. Savannah, 77 Ga. 731, 4 Am. St. Rep. 106, holding that an ordinance requiring all railway companies in the city to water their tracks is not invalid as being special, for it applies generally to all railway companies that use the streets.

Louisiana.—Crowley v. Ellsworth, 114 La. 308, 38 So. 199, 108 Am. St. Rep. 353, 69 L. R. A. 276, holding that an ordinance which applies alike to all persons, firms, or corporations engaged in the business legislated against is not discriminatory.

Michigan.—People v. Lewis, 86 Mich. 273, 49 N. W. 140, holding that a smoke ordinance which exempts dwelling-houses and steamboats from its operation is not invalid on the ground that it unreasonably discriminates between classes.

Missouri.—Kansas City v. Sutton, 52 Mo. App. 398, holding that an ordinance fixing the maximum load of a two-horse team and wagon, and prescribing a penalty against a contractor employing a team for a load in excess of such maximum, is not void on the ground of partiality.

South Carolina.—Hill v. Abbeville, 59 S. C. 396, 38 S. E. 11.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1380.

61. Deprivation of property without due process of law see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 1080 et seq.

Distinguished from law of eminent domain see ACTIONS, 1 Cyc. 655; EMINENT DOMAIN, 15 Cyc. 562.

Summary destruction of dogs see supra, XI, A, 7, b, (VIII), (c), (2), (c).

62. Baumgartner v. Hasty, 100 Ind. 575, 50 Am. Rep. 830 (holding that in case of a great conflagration the municipality may lawfully blow up buildings owned by private citizens in order to arrest the progress of the flames); Keller v. Corpus Christi, 50 Tex. 614, 32 Am. Rep. 613 (destruction of property to prevent spread of conflagration). See also People v. Metropolitan Bd. of Police, 15 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 167, 24 How. Pr. 481; White v. Charleston, 2 Hill (S. C.) 571; and ACTIONS, 1 Cyc. 653 et seq.

63. Deems v. Baltimore, 80 Md. 164, 30 Atl. 648, 45 Am. St. Rep. 339, 26 L. R. A. 541. See also ACTIONS, 1 Cyc. 654.

64. Baumgartner v. Hasty, 100 Ind. 575, 50 Am. Rep. 830; Conwell v. Emrie, 2 Ind. 35; American Print Works v. Lawrence, 23 N. J. L. 590, 57 Am. Dec. 420; Aitken v. Wells River, 70 Vt. 308, 40 Atl. 829, 67 Am. St. Rep. 672, 41 L. R. A. 566. See ACTIONS, 1 Cyc. 655.

65. Fields v. Stokley, 99 Pa. St. 306, 44 Am. Rep. 109, holding that the mayor of a city is, by virtue of his official position, justified in demolishing a wooden building which, by reason of its construction, position, and use, is dangerous to the public safety.

Summary destruction of building.—McKibbin v. Ft. Smith, 35 Ark. 352; Hine v. New Haven, 40 Conn. 478; Micks v. Mason, 145 Mich. 212, 108 N. W. 707; Russell v. New York, 2 Den. (N. Y.) 461; Klingler v. Bickel, 117 Pa. St. 326, 11 Atl. 555; Keller v. Corpus Christi, 50 Tex. 614, 32 Am. Rep. 613; Baxter v. Seattle, 3 Wash. 352, 28 Pac. 537.

Where private property is destroyed by military operations in the field, or by measures necessary for their safety and efficiency, no compensation can be claimed, and this is upon the application of the maxim salus populi suprema lex. Chicago League Ball Club v. Chicago, 77 Ill. App. 124, 97 Ill. App. 637 [reversed on other grounds in 196 Ill. 54, 63 N. E. 695].

66. McDonald v. Red Wing, 13 Minn. 38; White v. Charleston, 2 Hill (S. C.) 571; Aitken v. Wells River, 70 Vt. 308, 40 Atl. 829, 67 Am. St. Rep. 672, 41 L. R. A. 566; Bowditch v. Boston, 101 U. S. 16, 25 L. ed. 980. See ACTIONS, 1 Cyc. 653.

execution of a valid ordinance.⁶⁷ But the property itself not the occupants must constitute the nuisance to warrant such summary action.⁶⁸ Emergency, it seems, may warrant destruction of contents as well as buildings.⁶⁹

(II) COMPENSATION.⁷⁰ At the common law no recovery can be had against any one for property so injured or destroyed under the police power.⁷¹ Statutes

Compensation see infra, XI, A, 8, k, (II).

Although a city has the authority to have a building demolished as unsafe, on judicial investigation, it must sustain the order to tear down the building by sufficient evidence. O'Rourke v. New Orleans, 106 La. 313, 30 So. 837.

67. Miller v. Valparaiso, 10 Ind. App. 22, 37 N. E. 418; Pieri v. Shieldsboro, 42 Miss. 493, holding that it cannot be done in the execution of an arbitrary ordinance. In Klingler v. Bickel, 117 Pa. St. 326, 11 Atl. 555, plaintiff, in violation of an ordinance prohibiting the erection of a frame building, being warned by the council of a borough not to put it up, began to do so, and the high constable and defendants pulled it down, under the order of the council. It was held that the act of defendants was lawful, and no action lay against them. But in Northern Pac. R. Co. v. Spokane, 52 Fed. 428, it was held that a city has no right to destroy a wooden building within the fire limits because it is maintained in violation of the permit granted for its erection, and an injunction to restrain such destruction is proper.

Granting discretion to certain officers.—An ordinance that authorizes fire masters, or the intendant, to pull down such houses, blow up such buildings, etc., as may be judged necessary in time of fire, gives these officers the right to judge whether it is necessary so to do. White v. Charleston, 2 Hill (S. C.) 571.

Invalid ordinance.—The Richmond charter in force on April 2, 1865, provided that the council could pass all ordinances necessary for public order or safety; and that the council should not take private property for any purposes, without compensation to the owner; and that where the city could, by agreement, "obtain title to the grounds necessary for such purposes," it might apply for leave to condemn it. It was held that, since the power of eminent domain was confined to the taking of land, a resolution of the council adopted on such date, in expectation of the entry of the federal army, ordering the destruction of all intoxicating liquor within the city, and pledging the city to pay therefor, could not be sustained as an exercise of eminent domain in aid of the police power of the city, but was ultra vires. Wallace v. Richmond, 94 Va. 204, 26 S. E. 586, 36 L. R. A. 554. See also Pieri v. Shieldsboro, 42 Miss. 493.

68. Welch v. Stowell, 2 Dougl. (Mich.) 332; Miller v. Burch, 32 Tex. 208, 5 Am. Rep. 242; Bristol Door, etc., Co. v. Bristol, 97 Va. 304, 33 S. E. 588, 75 Am. St. Rep. 783.

69. See Dupree v. Brunswick, 82 Ga. 727,

9 S. E. 1085 (holding that a city charter which authorizes the mayor and council "to remove any forge, smith-shop or other structure within the city, where in their opinion it shall be necessary to insure against fire," confers a power which can only be used in case of absolute necessity or grave emergency; and it authorizes the mayor and council to remove a dangerous forge, but not the building in which it is situated, unless it appears that the building is of itself dangerous, or that the owner persists in using it as a blacksmith shop); American Print Works v. Lawrence, 23 N. J. L. 9 [affirmed in 23 N. J. L. 590, 57 Am. Dec. 420] (holding that when, by a statute, a particular officer is authorized to destroy buildings when he shall believe it necessary to prevent the spread of a conflagration, and the same statute gives compensation for the buildings destroyed, it is a sufficient justification of the destruction of goods contained in such building, for which no compensation is provided, to allege that the building was destroyed according to such authority, and that it was absolutely necessary, for the purpose of averting the conflagration, to destroy the building without waiting to remove the goods). See also Dawson v. Kuttner, 48 Ga. 133; New York v. Stone, 20 Wend. (N. Y.) 139 [affirmed in 25 Wend. 157]; New York v. Lord, 17 Wend. (N. Y.) 285 [affirmed in 18 Wend. 126]. But see Hale v. Lawrence, 21 N. J. L. 714, 47 Am. Dec. 190, holding that the statute of New York, passed April 9, 1813, relative to the city of New York, which authorized the mayor, in case of fire, to destroy buildings to prevent the spread of conflagration, did not authorize him to destroy the goods in such building, and that the statute therefore was no justification in an action for the loss of goods occasioned by such justifiable destruction of the building in which they were.

Bedding used by scarlet fever patients may be destroyed. Savannah v. Mulligan, 95 Ga. 323, 22 S. E. 621, 51 Am. St. Rep. 86, 29 L. R. A. 303.

70. Liability for reasonable act of officer see infra, XIV.

71. Russell v. New York, 2 Den. (N. Y.) 461; Keller v. Corpus Christi, 50 Tex. 614, 32 Am. Rep. 613; Bowditch v. Boston, 3 Fed. Cas. No. 1,718, 11 Alb. L. J. 342 [affirmed in 3 Fed. Cas. No. 1,719, 4 Cliff. 323 (affirmed in 101 U. S. 16, 25 L. ed. 980)].

At common law the state might destroy, although it could not take, private property without compensation. White v. Charleston, 2 Hill (S. C.) 571; Bowditch v. Boston, 101 U. S. 16, 25 L. ed. 980. See also ACTIONS, 1 Cyc. 653 et seq.

imposing liability in such cases,⁷² being in derogation of the common law, are strictly construed,⁷³ and compensation is adjudged only on proof of a case clearly within the provisions and conditions of the statute,⁷⁴ and to no one except the owner⁷⁵ or persons having an estate or interest in the property destroyed,⁷⁶ and in

Where a wooden building is erected within fire limits after they have been established, the city may destroy it without incurring any liability. Miller v. Valparaiso, 10 Ind. App. 22, 37 N. E. 418.

Unless by express statute, a city is not liable for the destruction of a building torn down to arrest the progress of a fire, no matter whether done under the direction of the city officials, who had no authority so to direct, or by the bystanders of their own motion. McDonald v. Red Wing, 13 Minn. 38. See also Dunbar v. San Francisco, 1 Cal. 355; Chicago League Ball Club v. Chicago, 77 Ill. App. 124; Field v. Des Moines, 39 Iowa 575, 18 Am. Rep. 46; McDonald v. Red Wing, 13 Minn. 38.

But in Quebec it seems that the municipality exercises this high act of discretion at its peril and must pay in case of mistake of judgment. Quebec v. Mahoney, 10 Quebec Q. B. 378, holding the city liable for destruction of building which would not have been reached by the fire.

The contrary doctrine would strike at the root of all police regulations.—The order of the mayor and aldermen stands on the same footing as quarantine and fire regulations, and if by such regulation an individual receives some damage it is considered as damnum absque injuria. The law presumes he is compensated by sharing in the advantages resulting from such beneficial regulations. Baker v. Boston, 12 Pick. (Mass.) 184, 22 Am. Dec. 421. See also British Cast Plate Manufacturers v. Meredith, 4 T. R. 794; Dore v. Gray, 2 T. R. 358, 1 Rev. Rep. 494.

72. See ACTIONS, 1 Cyc. 656. See also Chicago League Ball Club v. Chicago, 77 Ill. App. 124, 97 Ill. App. 637 [reversed on other grounds in 196 Ill. 54, 63 N. E. 695]; Field v. Des Moines, 39 Iowa 575, 18 Am. Rep. 46; Stone v. New York, 25 Wend. (N. Y.) 157; New York v. Lord, 17 Wend. (N. Y.) 285 [affirmed in 18 Wend. 126] (holding that where buildings are destroyed by order of the magistrates to prevent the spreading of a fire, the city is liable to tenants for merchandise and other personal effects, the property of the occupant, as well as for the building itself); Russell v. New York, 2 Den. (N. Y.) 461; Jones v. Richmond, 18 Gratt. (Va.) 517, 98 Am. Dec. 695 (holding that the city of Richmond was responsible for the value of the liquor destroyed under the order and pledge of the common council, passed April 2, 1865, in anticipation of the evacuation by the Confederate army). Bowditch v. Boston, 101 U. S. 16, 25 L. ed. 980.

73. Correas v. San Francisco, 1 Cal. 452; Dunbar v. San Francisco, 1 Cal. 355; Savannah v. Mulligan, 95 Ga. 323, 22 S. E. 621, 51 Am. St. Rep. 86, 29 L. R. A. 303 (holding that since Code, § 2226, requiring compensation to be made to the owner of property destroyed by municipal authorities for the public good, does not apply to property destroyed by such authorities under power in the charter, on the ground that it constitutes a nuisance endangering the public health or safety, a city having such power by its charter was not liable for the destruction, by its sanitary officers, of bedding which had been used by one sick with the scarlet fever); Taylor v. Plymouth, 8 Metc. (Mass.) 462 (holding that the provision in Rev. St. c. 18, § 7, that, when the pulling down of a building by direction of fire wards shall be the means of stopping a fire, the owner of such building shall be entitled to recover reasonable compensation therefor from the town, does not apply to a building which is pulled down by such order after it is so far burnt that it is impossible to save it from destruction by fire).

74. Bowditch v. Boston, 101 U. S. 16, 25 L. ed. 980 [affirming 3 Fed. Cas. No. 1,719, 4 Cliff. 323]. See also Field v. Des Moines, 39 Iowa 575, 18 Am. Rep. 46; Taylor v. Plymouth, 8 Metc. (Mass.) 462; Ruggles v. Nantucket, 11 Cush. (Mass.) 433.

Question for jury.—In an action against a city to recover for the destruction of plaintiff's building, on the ground that it was a nuisance subject to abatement, it was in evidence that the building was an old frame structure. It was held that plaintiff's contentions that the city had not established the fire limits, and that her building had stood for seventeen years without complaint, and that there were others of like character within the same boundary, and that, even if it were within such limits, she was entitled to five days' notice before its condemnation, were questions for the jury. Frank v. Atlanta, 72 Ga. 428.

A building so far burnt that it cannot be saved when ordered to be destroyed cannot be included within the compensation recoverable. Taylor v. Plymouth, 8 Metc. (Mass.) 462.

Goods destroyed within the building may be included within the compensation recoverable. New York v. Lord, 18 Wend. (N. Y.) 126.

Goods in storage within a building thus destroyed, belonging neither to the owner nor to the tenant thereof, cannot be included in the compensation recoverable. Stone v. New York, 25 Wend. (N. Y.) 157.

75. New York v. Stone, 20 Wend. (N. Y.) 139 [affirmed in 25 Wend. 157].

76. Dawson v. Kuttner, 48 Ga. 133; New York v. Stone, 20 Wend. (N. Y.) 139 [affirmed in 25 Wend. 157].

A tenant or lessee may recover. Dawson v. Kuttner, 48 Ga. 133; New York v. Stone, the mode prescribed.⁷⁷ But the right of such statutory compensation is not lost by insurance effected by the owner.⁷⁸ A municipal promise to pay made before destruction is valid and binding;⁷⁹ but the corporation is not liable for error of judgment of officers in the exercise of official discretion.⁸⁰

1. Prerequisite Notice to Corporate Action.⁸¹ Notice is not at common law a prerequisite to the exercise of the police power in case of emergency.⁸² But in the absence of an actual emergency it seems that some notice is always required,⁸³ and indeed notice as a prerequisite to the exercise of police power is often required by statute or ordinance.⁸⁴ Notice pursuant to requirement of statute or by-law must be given by the prescribed authority,⁸⁵ and in the prescribed time and man-

20 Wend. (N. Y.) 139 [affirmed in 25 Wend. 157]. A tenant of a building thus destroyed is entitled to recover for his interest in the building. New York v. Lord, 18 Wend. (N. Y.) 126.

A person having no interest whatever in the building cannot recover. Russell v. New York, 2 Den. (N. Y.) 461.

77. Dunbar v. Augusta, 90 Ga. 390, 17 S. E. 907; Ruggles v. Nantucket, 11 Cush. (Mass.) 433.

78. New York v. Stone, 20 Wend. (N. Y.) 139 [affirmed in 25 Wend. 157]. See also City F. Ins. Co. v. Corlies, 21 Wend. (N. Y.) 367, 34 Am. Dec. 258; Greenwald v. Insurance Co., 3 Phila. (Pa.) 323; and, generally, FIRE INSURANCE.

79. Richmond v. Smith, 15 Wall. (U. S.) 429, 21 L. ed. 200. See also Jones v. Richmond, 18 Gratt. (Va.) 517, 98 Am. Dec. 695.

Implied promise to pay.—The village would not be liable on the ground of an implied assumption. Aitken v. Wells River, 70 Vt. 308, 40 Atl. 829, 67 Am. St. Rep. 672, 41 L. R. A. 566.

80. O'Rourke v. New Orleans, 106 La. 313, 30 So. 837; White v. Charleston, 2 Hill (S. C.) 571.

81. Notice in proceeding to: Abate nuisance see supra, XI, A, 3, e, (II), (B), (C). Enforce ordinance see infra, XI, B.

82. Miller v. Valparaiso, 10 Ind. App. 22, 37 N. E. 418; Lemmon v. Guthrie Center, 113 Iowa 36, 84 N. W. 986, 86 Am. St. Rep. 361; Cole v. Kegler, 64 Iowa 59, 19 N. W. 843; Com. v. Cutler, Thach. Cr. Cas. (Mass.) 137; U. S. Illuminating Co. v. Grant, 55 Hun (N. Y.) 222, 7 N. Y. Suppl. 788; Reynolds v. Schultz, 4 Rob. (N. Y.) 282, 34 How. Pr. 147. See supra, XI, A, 8, e, (II), (B).

83. See Louisville v. Webster, 108 Ill. 414; Cole v. Kegler, 64 Iowa 59, 19 N. W. 843; Reynolds v. Schultz, 4 Rob. (N. Y.) 282, 304, 34 How. Pr. 147, where it is said: "It may be considered a matter of grave doubt whether the legislature can constitutionally authorize any person or body, either upon their private opinion or ex parte evidence, to destroy property even under the pretext of the public good, without either providing for a hearing before condemnation or compensation."

"Even in the case of a conflagration raging so as to threaten to destroy property not yet on fire, it has been deemed necessary, in order to protect public officers, authorized to blow up intermediate buildings to prevent its spread, from the burden of establishing its necessity, to provide compensation for the owners of the property destroyed." Reynolds v. Schultz, 4 Rob. (N. Y.) 282, 304, 34 How. Pr. 147.

84. Illinois.—Ward v. Murphysboro, 77 Ill. App. 549.

Maine.—Swett v. Sprague, 55 Me. 190.

Michigan.—People v. Bennett, 83 Mich. 457, 47 N. W. 250. See also Stretch v. Cassopolis, 125 Mich. 167, 84 N. W. 51, 84 Am. St. Rep. 567, 51 L. R. A. 345.

Missouri.—Eichenlaub v. St. Joseph, 113 Mo. 395, 21 S. W. 8, 18 L. R. A. 590; St. Louis v. Goebel, 32 Mo. 295.

New York.—New York Fire Dept. v. Williamson, 1 Rob. 476, 16 Abb. Pr. 402; Cushing v. Buffalo Bd. of Health, 13 N. Y. St. 783; Matter of Unsafe Bldg., 1 Abb. N. Cas. 464.

Pennsylvania.—Philadelphia v. Dungan, 124 Pa. St. 52, 16 Atl. 524; Easby v. Philadelphia, 67 Pa. St. 337.

Vermont.—Verder v. Ellsworth, 59 Vt. 354, 10 Atl. 89.

West Virginia.—Davis v. Davis, 40 W. Va. 464, 21 S. E. 906.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1383.

Notice to remove trees.—A village, acting under the General Incorporation Act (Comp. Laws, c. 87), providing that villages may remove, cut down, or trim shade trees standing within the highway when public necessity demands, must give notice to an abutting owner that public necessity requires the removal of such trees, and give him an opportunity to transplant or remove them, before it can itself cut down and remove them. Stretch v. Cassopolis, 125 Mich. 167, 84 N. W. 51, 84 Am. St. Rep. 567, 51 L. R. A. 345.

85. Vason v. Augusta, 38 Ga. 542. Compare State v. Ford, 36 La. Ann. 903, holding that where a police regulation empowers the mayor of a city to order the summary removal of an occupant from a house for certain causes, an occupant was not brought within the jurisdiction of the police court by failing to comply with an order of removal issued by a sergeant of police.

Need not run in name of state.—A summons in the nature of an order to show cause, issued by a town council to one charged with keeping a nuisance, not being a writ of process within the meaning of the constitution, need not run in the name of the ner.⁸⁶ It must point out specifically the acts to be done or the defect to be remedied.⁸⁷ If essentials are not prescribed by law, then reasonable notice is sufficient.⁸⁸ The notice must be to the owner,⁸⁹ and records will control.⁹⁰ Only those notified will be bound.⁹¹ Oral notice has been held sufficient in some cases;⁹² so also notice posted on the premises;⁹³ but generally written notice served in person is required.⁹⁴

m. Effect of Municipal Decisions and Acts, and Review Thereof — (i) IN GENERAL. The effect of decisions and acts of municipal boards and officers in police regulation and the jurisdiction of courts to review and control them depends upon the nature of the power exercised, of the decisions made, and the acts done.⁹⁵

(ii) IN EXERCISE OF LEGISLATIVE FUNCTION PURSUANT TO EXPRESS AUTHORITY. If it is a decision made or act done in the exercise of the legislative function pursuant to express authority, the discretion of the governing body to which the power is delegated is conclusive of the validity of the act or the decision, if duly performed or given, and the courts have no jurisdiction whatever in the premises.⁹⁶ state. Davis v. Davis, 40 W. Va. 464, 21 S. E. 906.

86. New York Fire Dept. v. Williamson, 1 Rob. (N. Y.) 476, 16 Abb. Pr. 402.

87. Louisville v. Webster, 108 Ill. 414; Verder v. Ellsworth, 59 Vt. 354, 10 Atl. 89. See also Salem v. Eastern R. Co., 98 Mass. 431, 96 Am. Dec. 650; New York Fire Dept. v. Sturtevant, 33 Hun (N. Y.) 407; Matter of Unsafe Bldg., 1 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 464.

New notice.—If, pending proceedings to compel the erection of five fire-escapes, it is concluded that two are enough, a new notice must be given. New York Fire Dept. v. Sturtevant, 33 Hun (N. Y.) 407. Under N. Y. Laws (1871), p. 1334, c. 625, as amended by Laws (1874), p. 734, c. 547, the preliminary notice of the survey of an unsafe building, served on the owner, is the foundation of the jurisdiction of the court. Hence, on the trial of the truth of a report of the survey, which, in addition to the defect mentioned in the notice, embraced many particulars showing the general unsafe condition of the building, it was held that only the truth as to the defect mentioned in the notice could be tried, and that to compel repairs in other respects a new survey upon proper notice must be had. Matter of Unsafe Bldg., 1 Abb. N. Cas. (N. Y.) 464.

88. New York Fire Dept. v. Williamson, 1 Rob. (N. Y.) 476, 16 Abb. Pr. 402. See also Salem v. Eastern R. Co., 98 Mass. 431, 96 Am. Dec. 650; Davis v. Davis, 40 W. Va. 464, 21 S. E. 906.

89. Portsmouth v. Snell, 8 N. H. 338, to "all owners residing in the town." See also Ward v. Murphysboro, 77 Ill. App. 549, holding that notice cannot be waived by the owner.

90. Philadelphia v. Dungan, 124 Pa. St. 52, 16 Atl. 524. In Swett v. Sprague, 55 Me. 190, it was held that the order of notice provided by statute relating to dangerous buildings, passed at a legal meeting of the mayor and aldermen, is legal, when the record shows that the mayor was present and participated in the proceedings; no separate action of the mayor being necessary. See also Easby v. Philadelphia, 67 Pa. St. 337, where it was said that the acts of assembly authorized the councils of Philadelphia by ordinance to require owners of docks in the Delaware and Schuylkill to cleanse them, and on default, after thirty days' notice, the city was to do the work and apportion the expense on owners of adjoining wharves, etc., according to the extent of the wharves, and to enter liens for the expense. The act of May 20, 1864, vested these powers in the port wardens, the liens to be collected by the city solicitor and claims filed to be governed by the same rules of evidence as those for the removal of nuisances by the board of health. It was held that the recital, in a claim for such work, that notice of an order by the wardens to cleanse the docks had been given was prima facie evidence that the order had been made.

91. Portsmouth v. Snell, 8 N. H. 338.

92. Eichenlaub v. St. Joseph, 113 Mo. 395, 21 S. W. 8, 18 L. R. A. 590, where verbal direction or written instruction to the fire chief constituted a sufficient order of removal to that official.

93. Cushing v. Buffalo Bd. of Health, 13 N. Y. St. 783.

94. St. Louis v. Goebel, 32 Mo. 295.

95. See infra, XI, A, 8, m, (ii)-(iv).

96. Spring Valley Water Works v. Bryant, 52 Cal. 132; Ex p. Delaney, 43 Cal. 478; Rund v. Fowler, 142 Ind. 214, 41 N. E. 456; New York Fire Dept. v. Atlas Steamship Co., 106 N. Y. 566, 13 N. E. 329; Lancaster v. Telegraph Co., 3 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 164. Compare Childs v. Napheys, 112 Pa. St. 504, 4 Atl. 488.

In doubtful cases depending upon a variety of circumstances requiring judgment and discretion, the action of a municipality in declaring a thing to be a nuisance is conclusive. Harmison v. Lewistown, 153 Ill. 313, 38 N. E. 628, 46 Am. St. Rep. 893; Walker v. Jameson, 140 Ind. 591, 37 N. E. 402, 39 N. E. 869, 49 Am. St. Rep. 222, 28 L. R. A. 679, 683.

(iii) PURSUANT TO GENERAL OR IMPLIED POWER, WHETHER LEGISLATIVE OR OTHERWISE. If the act or decision is in pursuance of general or implied power only, whether legislative or otherwise, the courts have jurisdiction to inquire into its reasonableness or validity; ⁹⁷ but they indulge every presumption in favor thereof. ⁹⁸

(iv) UNDER EITHER EXPRESS OR IMPLIED POWER, BUT NOT LEGISLATIVE IN CHARACTER. Whenever the act or decision, whether under express or implied power, is not legislative in its character and is not made conclusive by statute, the courts have jurisdiction to examine and decide upon its validity, either on statutory review or appeal, if given, ⁹⁹ or by certiorari at common law, ¹ under the same favorable presumptions. ²

(v) WANT OF JURISDICTION AND UNCONSTITUTIONALITY. In all cases the courts may inquire and decide by certiorari whether the decision or act is lawful, that is, whether given or made by an officer or body having jurisdiction, ³ and in the manner required, ⁴ and whether it contravenes constitution, statute, or charter. ⁵

(vi) INJUNCTION. Injunction may be invoked under the rules hereinbefore given. ⁶

The decision as to how a nuisance shall be removed is conclusive, unless the powers conferred by the city charter are transcended or the constitution is violated. Baker v. Boston, 12 Pick. (Mass.) 184, 22 Am. Dec. 421.

Decision of building inspectors.—Pa. Act, May 20, 1857 (Pamphl. Laws 590), provides that it shall be the duty of the inspectors of buildings of the city of Philadelphia, upon the application of any person about to erect on his lot any new building, to examine all party or division walls upon or adjoining the lot, and, if deemed insufficient and unfit for the purpose of such new building about to be erected, such party or division walls shall be taken down by the last builder. A wall was condemned by the inspectors under this act, but the owner refusing to take it down or permit the new builder to do so, the latter applied to the common pleas court for an order to enforce the decision of the inspectors. The owner objected that there was no proof of the allegations of fact contained in the application, and no affidavits of the inspectors setting out a violation of their order. It was held that the court had power, under its general equity jurisdiction, to enforce compliance with the order of the inspectors, and the remedy under the act of 1857 being summary, and the inspectors' decision final and conclusive, it could not be reviewed in the common pleas, and therefore proof of the facts on which the inspectors had acted, and their affidavit as to the violation of their order, were unnecessary. Childs v. Napheys, 112 Pa. St. 504, 4 Atl. 488.

⁹⁷ Chamber v. Greencastle, 138 Ind. 339, 35 N. E. 14, 46 Am. St. Rep. 390, 24 L. R. A. 768.

⁹⁸ Montgomery v. Hutchinson, 13 Ala. 573; Burlington v. Putnam Ins. Co., 31 Iowa 102.

⁹⁹ Hutton v. Camden, 39 N. J. L. 122, 23 Am. Rep. 203; New York City Fire Dept. v. Gilmour, 149 N. Y. 453, 44 N. E. 177, 52 Am. St. Rep. 748 [affirming 4 Misc. 202, 23 N. Y. Suppl. 1022].

Appeal generally see APPEAL AND ERROR, 2 Cyc. 474.

Charter or statutory power must be strictly pursued.—Where a city charter authorized the council to refuse a license to keep an ordinary, and authorized a party to whom a license was refused to apply to the county court for the same, it was held that where the council laid a tax which was unjust, excessive, and illegal, such act must be considered as an exercise of its charter power, and that the exercise of such power cannot be controlled by the circuit court by mandamus, or otherwise, the only remedy in such a case being by an application made to the county court. Sights v. Yarnalls, 12 Gratt. (Va.) 292.

1. Cole v. Kegler, 64 Iowa 59, 19 N. W. 843; Matter of Lauterjung, 48 N. Y. Super. Ct. 308.

Certiorari generally see CERTIORARI, 6 Cyc. 730.

2. See supra, note 98.

3. Cole v. Kegler, 64 Iowa 59, 19 N. W. 843.

Certiorari: Generally see CERTIORARI, 6 Cyc. 730. To review proceedings to enforce ordinances see infra, XI, B, 4, s.

4. Matter of Lauterjung, 48 N. Y. Super. Ct. 308.

5. Baker v. Boston, 12 Pick. (Mass.) 184, 22 Am. Dec. 421.

6. See supra, XI, A, 8, f. See also Lemon v. Guthrie Center, 113 Iowa 36, 84 N. W. 986, 86 Am. St. Rep. 361; Jackson v. Miller, 69 N. J. Eq. 182, 60 Atl. 1019; Tribune Assoc. v. Sun Printing, etc., Assoc., 7 Hun (N. Y.) 175. But compare Aronheimer v. Stokley, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 293, 2 Wkly. Notes Cas. 723, where on a bill for an injunction to prevent the mayor from tearing down certain buildings, it appearing that the complainants had erected wooden buildings in a portion of the city where such buildings were prohibited by ordinance; that the mayor and chief of police gave notice that, unless the buildings were taken down, they would be torn down and that such remedy was not

B. Violation and Enforcement of Ordinances and Regulations 7—

1. WHAT CONSTITUTES A VIOLATION—a. In General. Under the rules of strict construction applicable to penal ordinances,⁸ it is essential to recovery or conviction that the person and the act shall both be brought by proof within the letter as well as the spirit of the by-law.⁹ Intent when essential must be proved and proved as charged.¹⁰ But the charges and proof of the facts in the terms of the expressly provided for in the ordinances, injunction was refused.

7. Violation of: Market regulations see infra, XII, A, 3. Ordinances as conclusive evidence or strong evidence of negligence see infra, XI, B, 5; and also infra, XIV, D, 7, d.

Use of false weights, etc., see WEIGHTS AND MEASURES.

8. See supra, VI, L.

9. Delaware.—Homewood v. Wilmington, 5 Houst. 123.

District of Columbia.—Barnes v. District of Columbia, 24 App. Cas. 458.

Georgia.—Kahn v. Macon, 95 Ga. 419, 22 S. E. 641. See also Savannah Lighterage, etc., Co. v. Savannah, 112 Ga. 189, 37 S. E. 424.

Indiana.—See Indianapolis v. Consumers' Gas Trust Co., 140 Ind. 246, 39 N. E. 943; Goshen v. Crary, 58 Ind. 268. See also Whiting v. Doob, 152 Ind. 157, 52 N. E. 759.

Iowa.—See State v. Smith, 123 Iowa 654, 96 N. W. 899.

Kentucky.—See Stromburg v. Earick, 6 B. Mon. 578.

Louisiana.—State v. Finnegan, 52 La. Ann. 694, 27 So. 564, holding that the conviction of defendant under a city ordinance for peddling vegetables within six blocks of the market square, and for keeping a private market, was erroneous where there was no evidence that he was a peddler, and where he did not keep a private market. Duncan v. Labouisse, 9 La. Ann. 49.

Missouri.—See St. Louis v. Babcock, 156 Mo. 154, 56 S. W. 731, holding that under St. Louis Rev. Ord. art. 17,188, § 981, one could not be held liable for a trespass committed within a building, since the provisions of the ordinance plainly showed that it applied to land, and not to buildings.

New Jersey.—Atlantic City v. Turner, 67 N. J. L. 520, 51 Atl. 691; Hoffman v. Jersey City, 34 N. J. L. 172. See also Harris v. Atlantic City, 73 N. J. L. 251, 62 Atl. 995; Glen Ridge v. Werner, 67 N. J. L. 103, 50 Atl. 585.

New York.—Buffalo v. Mulchady, Sheld. 431. See also Niagara Falls v. Salt, 45 Hun 41; New York Fire Dept. v. Braender, 14 Daly 53, 3 N. Y. St. 580; Sturgis v. Grau, 39 Misc. 330, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 843; New York v. Staples, 6 Cow. 169.

North Carolina.—See Washington v. Frank, 46 N. C. 436.

North Dakota.—Gagnier v. Fargo, 11 N. D. 73, 88 N. W. 1030, 95 Am. St. Rep. 705.

Ohio.—Heminger v. Cleveland, 2 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 428, 3 West. L. Month. 46. See also Kraft v. Cincinnati, 6 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 8, 3 Ohio N. P. 195.

Pennsylvania.—Northern Liberties v. O'Neill, 1 Phila. 427. See also Heidenwag v. Philadelphia, 168 Pa. St. 72, 31 Atl. 1063; Philadelphia v. Costello, 17 Pa. Super. Ct. 339; Lancaster v. Baer, 5 Lanc. Bar Dec. 6, 1873.

South Carolina.—See Charleston v. Elford, 1 McMull. 234.

Tennessee.—Gass v. Greeneville, 4 Sneed 62.

United States.—Washington v. Wheat, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,238, 1 Cranch C. C. 410.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1386.

Advertising by circulars is not prohibited by an ordinance forbidding the casting thereof in vestibules of dwellings, addressed envelopes being expressly excepted, and delivery to individuals not being forbidden. Philadelphia v. Brabender, 201 Pa. St. 574, 51 Atl. 374, 58 L. R. A. 220; Philadelphia v. Costello, 17 Pa. Super. Ct. 339.

An ordinance prohibiting the firing of guns within a city is not violated by firing for the protection of life, person, or property. Lancaster v. Baer, 5 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) Dec. 6, 1873.

Escape of smoke.—In an action to recover the penalty provided by Greater New York Charter, § 1222, for the violation of Sanitary Code, § 134, by allowing smoke to escape or be discharged from defendant's premises, recovery cannot be had on simple proof that smoke did escape, where it is not shown that it was detrimental or annoying to any person. New York Health Dept. v. Philip, etc., Brewing Co., 38 Misc. (N. Y.) 537, 78 N. Y. Suppl. 13.

Violation of state statute.—A municipal corporation cannot maintain a suit for the violation of one of the criminal statutes of the state. McMinnville v. Stroud, 109 Tenn. 569, 72 S. W. 949.

Where license has expired.—Under a municipal ordinance, requiring that each vendor of milk take out a certificate and post the number thereof on his vehicle, and penalizing any person who held himself out as possessing such certificate without having taken out the same or after the same had expired or been revoked, no penalty could be inflicted on one whose certificate had expired, and who continued the sale of milk without holding himself out as having taken out a certificate, but denying that he could be compelled to secure a certificate. Gloversville v. Enos, 70 N. Y. App. Div. 326, 75 N. Y. Suppl. 245 [reversing 35 Misc. 724, 72 N. Y. Suppl. 398].

10. Kansas City v. Young, 85 Mo. App. 381, holding that where an ordinance prohibits the erection of a fence or structure for ordinance is sufficient,¹¹ although a single act is not sufficient to prove that the actor is "engaging in or doing business."¹²

b. Of Building Regulations¹³—(i) IN GENERAL. Two distinct lines of cases are traceable on violations of building regulations: (1) The rule of strict construction;¹⁴ and (2) the rule of liberal construction.¹⁵

(i) STRICT CONSTRUCTION RULE. The Connecticut rule is the rule of strict construction under which "erect" or "build" does not include rebuilding, addition, removal, or conversion,¹⁶ and repair is not the equivalent of change, rebuild, or addition,¹⁷ for repairing, being an inherent right, cannot be prohibited.¹⁸

(ii) LIBERAL CONSTRUCTION RULE. The Pennsylvania rule is the rule of liberal interpretation, whereby any material change in structure, either in substance or appearance, is held to amount to erection or building.¹⁹ Repairs, how-the purpose of annoyance or injury to another, it is not sufficient to prove the erection of the structure, but the evidence must show the specific intent to make out the offense. See also Koppersmith v. State, 51 Ala. 6.

Intent not necessary.—Where an ordinance prescribes a penalty for the use of a false balance, without any requirement of proof of intent or guilty knowledge, such proof is not essential in an action to recover the penalty. New York v. Hewitt, 91 N. Y. App. Div. 445, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 832.

11. Northern Liberties v. O'Neill, 1 Phila. (Pa.) 427. See also Wright v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 27 Ill. App. 200; Charleston v. Elford, 1 McMull. (S. C.) 234.

Illustrations.—One who, acting for a corporation, collects more than the maximum rate fixed by ordinance for gas service, is guilty of a violation of the ordinance declaring it a misdemeanor to "collect or receive" a sum in excess of the prescribed rate. Denninger v. Pomona Recorder's Ct., 145 Cal. 629, 79 Pac. 360. To warrant a conviction under an ordinance for loitering on the streets, it is not necessary to prove that accused is without property or means of support. Taylor v. Sandersville, 118 Ga. 63, 44 S. E. 845. Where corn was sold for grinding at a roller mill within the corporate limits of a city, it was within a city ordinance requiring corn sold for consumption within the city to be weighed on the city scale. State v. Smith, 123 Iowa 654, 96 N. W. 899. An ordinance prohibited collecting a crowd in the streets, to the hindrance of free and unmolested travel. Accused drew a crowd of from fifty to seventy people to hear him deliver a public speech. The street was about sixty-five feet wide. The crowd mostly collected at one side, leaving a passageway wide enough for a horse and carriage on the other. It was held that the evidence supported a finding of a violation of the ordinance. People v. Pierce, 85 N. Y. App. Div. 125, 83 N. Y. Suppl. 79.

12. East St. Louis v. Bux, 43 Ill. App. 276; St. Paul v. Smith, 25 Minn. 372.

13. Violation of building regulations by contract see BUILDERS AND ARCHITECTS; CONTRACTS.

14. See infra, XI, B, 1, b, (II).

15. See infra, XI, B, 1, b, (III).

16. Brown v. Hunn, 27 Conn. 332, 71 Am.

Dec. 71; Booth v. State, 4 Conn. 65; Daggett v. State, 4 Conn. 60, 10 Am. Dec. 100.

Right to remove building erected prior to ordinance.—Where a city has by ordinance prohibited the erection of a wooden building over ten feet high within certain prescribed boundaries, the owner of such a building, erected within the limits fixed prior to the passage of the ordinance, may lawfully move it from one lot to another within the prescribed boundaries. Cleveland v. Lenze, 27 Ohio St. 383.

Placing brick wall around wooden frame.—Where an addition to a building is constructed by erecting a wooden frame, and then placing a wall of brick around the frame, with piers and layers of brick, by which the wall is strengthened and the roof supported, such addition is within the statute prohibiting the erection of wooden buildings, so as to secure the city of New Haven from damages by fire. Tuttle v. State, 4 Conn. 68.

17. Stamford v. Studwell, 60 Conn. 85, 21 Atl. 101; Tuttle v. State, 4 Conn. 68.

18. Tuttle v. State, 4 Conn. 68. See also Mt. Vernon First Nat. Bank v. Sarlls, 129 Ind. 201, 28 N. E. 434, 28 Am. St. Rep. 185, 13 L. R. A. 481.

House accidentally destroyed in part.—Under laws providing that no building or premises should be altered or enlarged without the consent of the selectmen, the owner of a slaughter-house, which had been occupied as such prior to the passage of the statute, and a part of which had been accidentally destroyed by fire after the passage of such statute, may rebuild the part destroyed without consent of the selectmen. Watertown v. Sawyer, 109 Mass. 320.

19. Brice's Appeal, 89 Pa. St. 85; Douglass v. Com., 2 Rawle (Pa.) 262; Morrow v. Lancaster, 10 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) 193; Shultz v. Wireman, 4 Phila. (Pa.) 121. See also Delione v. Long Branch Com'rs, 55 N. J. L. 108, 25 Atl. 274.

Building a new kitchen in the rear of, and as an addition to, an old dwelling may be deemed a violation of an ordinance forbidding the "erection of a building" in certain localities. Delione v. Long Branch Com'rs, 55 N. J. L. 108, 25 Atl. 274.

Adding a story to a house heretofore erected is erecting a building within the meaning of an ordinance providing that no ever, do not constitute a material change even within the liberal construction rule.²⁰

(iv) QUESTION OF FACT FOR JURY. Other cases between these extremes make it a question of fact for the jury to decide whether what has been done amounts to an "erection" or a "building" contrary to law.²¹

(v) MISCELLANEOUS. Among other things concerning violations of building regulations,²² as to which there seems to be no conflict of authority, the decisions agree that completion of the structure is not essential to the offense, but that the law is violated when the building has proceeded so far as by actual erection to demonstrate the doing of the act forbidden;²³ but that plans approved are not equivalent to work begun;²⁴ and that any material departure from the terms imposed by the ordinance will constitute a violation thereof.²⁵ A requirement of a front space of certain dimensions is satisfied by such open space on any public place;²⁶ but it must be entirely free from the building.²⁷ A compliance with a person shall erect any building in the city outside the fire limits, and within thirty feet of any building not his own, except of such materials as are allowed for building within the limits. Carroll v. Lynchburg, 84 Va. 803, 6 S. E. 133.

Material alterations in a wooden building located within fire limits, so as to enlarge its dimensions, was within the provisions of the New York act of April 9, 1823, providing for more effectual prevention of fire in New York. People v. Marley, 2 Wheel. Cr. (N. Y.) 74.

20. Contas v. Bradford, 206 Pa. St. 291, 55 Atl. 989, holding that where a city ordinance provided that within certain limits no buildings should be "constructed or reconstructed," except of incombustible materials, a change in a wooden building by putting in a new front of galvanized iron and ceiling of steel and roof of slate, and an increase of height of six feet and two inches, is not affected thereby, the words "constructed or reconstructed" not prohibiting an owner from repairing his wooden buildings standing within such fire limits.

Where an ordinance prohibited the repair of frame buildings with materials or in a manner making them more susceptible to fire, the alteration of a straight glass front in a frame store building so as to make an alcove or vestibule entrance, and change of a side composed of board siding to plate glass, was not a violation of the ordinance. O'Brien v. Louer, 158 Ind. 211, 61 N. E. 1004.

21. Glenn v. Baltimore, 5 Gill & J. (Md.) 424. See also Delione v. Long Branch Com'rs, 55 N. J. L. 108, 25 Atl. 274.

22. See cases cited infra, this note.

Awnings.—A city ordinance provided that "no areas, steps, courtyards, or other projections, except show windows, not exceeding eighteen inches in width, and signs not projecting more than twelve inches from the house line shall hereafter be built" on a certain street. It was held that a stationary ornamental awning, projecting five feet from the house line, was within the inhibition of the ordinance. New York v. Otto Sarony Co., 42 Misc. (N. Y.) 547, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 27.

Making entrance from store to adjoining theater.—Where the proprietor of a store cuts a door in a partition wall between his store and the entrance of an adjoining theater, without applying for or obtaining a permit from the building inspector, he is properly convicted in the police court of violating Building Regulations (1897), § 182, relating to theater entrances and their construction, and is also guilty of violating section 20 of the same regulations, which requires the building inspector to determine whether an intended repair to a building is such as to require a formal permit. Mertz v. District of Columbia, 18 App. Cas. (D. C.) 432.

23. Com. v. Cutler, Thach. Cr. Cas. (Mass.) 137; Langdon v. New York Fire Dept., 17 Wend. (N. Y.) 234; Philadelphia v. Coulston, 13 Phila. (Pa.) 182.

24. New York v. Herdje, 68 N. Y. App. Div. 370, 74 N. Y. Suppl. 104.

25. Campion v. Buffalo, 8 N. Y. St. 329.

Requirement of entrance on street.—A house consisting of two stories, eight rooms in each, with separate flues and no cellar, the rooms being about ten feet square and opening upon a hallway, the hallway, as well as one of the rooms, opening upon the street, is not an evasion of the act of April 21, 1851, requiring every dwelling-house to have an entrance on the street. In re Building Inspectors, 4 Pa. Co. Ct. 477.

26. Garrett v. Janes, 65 Md. 260, 3 Atl. 597.

27. Philadelphia v. Brown, 9 Pa. Co. Ct. 670.

Under the Pennsylvania act of April 21, 1855, which requires that no new dwelling-house or other structure within the city of Philadelphia shall front on any street, alley, or court which shall be of less width than twenty feet, and that every new dwelling-house shall have an open space to it in the rear or at the side equal to at least twelve feet square, cannot be evaded by building a house with an alley at the side, but so divided and arranged as to constitute in reality a row of houses, fronting on the alley. Eichel v. Zimmerman, 17 Phila. (Pa.) 290. An alley connecting with the lot at its end, and having its main uses as a passageway to another alley, cannot be included in computing the twelve feet square of open space as required previous by-law is no excuse for non-compliance with a new building regulation.²⁸ Hotels are not "dwelling-houses,"²⁹ but dwelling-houses are none the less such for being used in part as stores.³⁰ A building with a chimney and fireplace therein does not include a carriage house.³¹ Buildings having trussed roofs, such as churches, public halls, and the like, include a rolling mill with a trussed roof.³² A mere roof on posts is not a "building,"³³ and it seems that a building part wood and part brick is not a wooden building.³⁴

c. Of Regulations as to Keeping and Use of Animals. A dog or a horse is "at large" if loose in a public place out of the immediate presence of his owner or keeper,³⁵ or it seems if tied at a stake in the street to graze;³⁶ but negligence of the owner is not the equivalent of permission.³⁷ Cattle or other animals herded on private premises are not "running at large";³⁸ nor are they so even though loose on the street, if under the control of their owner, a shepherd, or herdsman.³⁹

2. WHO LIABLE. All persons participating in the breach of a municipal ordinance are guilty as principals,⁴⁰ and are jointly and severally liable, whether the action is civil or criminal.⁴¹ For nuisances on premises, the lessor or lessee is by such act. Zimmerman v. Heid, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 520. "Front," in the act, did not extend to a building which had its front on the main street, with a side on the alley, and the act did not include private alleys. Guarantee Trust, etc., Co. v. Philadelphia, 30 Leg. Int. (Pa.) 240. A building erected on a corner lot "fronts upon" both streets or alleys on which it bounds, and such streets or alleys must be of the width required. Philadelphia v. Michener, 10 Phila. (Pa.) 30. A tenement divided by partitions into several separate buildings, one fronting on a street and the others on an alley of not more than seven feet wide, with no space in the rear and only one of which has a side open space, is erected in violation of such provisions. Schultz v. Doak, 4 Phila. (Pa.) 151.

28. New York Fire Dept. v. Chapman, 10 Daly (N. Y.) 377.

29. People v. D'Oench, 111 N. Y. 359, 18 N. E. 862, within the meaning of N. Y. Laws (1885), c. 454, providing that "the height of all dwelling houses, and of all houses used or intended to be used as dwellings for more than one family," thereafter to be erected in New York city, shall not exceed eighty feet in streets exceeding sixty feet in width.

30. New York Fire Dept. v. Buhler, 1 Daly (N. Y.) 391.

31. Townsend v. Hoadley, 12 Conn. 541.

32. Diamond State Iron Co. v. Giles, 7 Houst. (Del.) 557, 11 Atl. 189, (1887) 8 Atl. 368.

33. Zimmerman v. Saam, 6 Pa. Co. Ct. 318, within the meaning of an ordinance prohibiting the erection of a wooden, frame, or other building, the walls whereof are not composed wholly of incombustible materials, within certain designated wards and districts.

34. Stewart v. Com., 10 Watts (Pa.) 303.

35. Com. v. Dow, 10 Mete. (Mass.) 382; Allen v. Hazzard, 33 Tex. Civ. App. 523, 77 S. W. 268; Moore v. Crenshaw, 1 Tex. App. Civ. Cas. § 264.

A horse returning to its stable, unattended, is "running at large," within the meaning of an ordinance making it unlawful for horses to run at large, notwithstanding the horse has been accustomed and trained to return to the stable after being turned loose. Allen v. Hazzard, 33 Tex. Civ. App. 523, 77 S. W. 268.

36. Williams v. Sewell, 121 Ga. 665, 49 S. E. 732.

37. Decker v. McSorley, 116 Wis. 643, 93 N. W. 808, holding that under an ordinance providing that "no horse shall be permitted to run at large in the city," and that any person "who shall permit the same" to so run at large shall be punished, negligence in not securing the horse from escape does not constitute a violation of the ordinance, but the horse must be at large with the knowledge and assent or permission of the owner.

38. State v. Johnson, 41 Minn. 111, 42 N. W. 786.

"Domestic animals" as used in an ordinance which required every person keeping certain domestic animals named "within the limits of the town" to keep them on his own premises, except when temporarily passing through the streets, etc., was held to have no application to animals running at large on the common range outside the limits of the town which might stray within such limits. Red Lodge v. Maryott, 33 Mont. 299, 83 Pac. 485.

39. Spect v. Arnold, 52 Cal. 455.

40. St. Johnsbury v. Thompson, 59 Vt. 300, 9 Atl. 571, 59 Am. Rep. 731. Compare Topeka v. Kersch, 70 Kan. 840, 79 Pac. 681, 80 Pac. 29.

41. St. Johnsbury v. Thompson, 59 Vt. 300, 9 Atl. 571, 59 Am. Rep. 731. See Douglass v. Com., 2 Rawle (Pa.) 262 (holding that indictment against tenant need not be against the owner of the wooden building); Charleston v. England, 3 Hill (S. C.) 56 (holding that the owner of slaves was not released by reason of the fact that he had hired them to another). See also CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 183 et seq.

This rule applies to actions for penalties for breaches of ordinances, although recoverable, by force of the statute, only by a civil action. St. Johnsbury v. Thompson, 59 Vt. 300, 9 Atl. 571, 59 Am. Rep. 731.

liable according as it is of permanent or temporary nature.⁴² But a contractor is not liable for a penalty denounced against the owner.⁴³

3. DEFENSES.⁴⁴ Neither violations by others with impunity,⁴⁵ nor belief that a by-law was invalid,⁴⁶ or unwise, inexpedient, or unnecessary,⁴⁷ nor ignorance of it,⁴⁸ nor the order of a superior,⁴⁹ nor negligence of the corporation,⁵⁰ nor a subsequent permit,⁵¹ nor an invalid or fraudulent one,⁵² nor compliance with a previous by-law relating to the same subject,⁵³ nor the smallness of the violation⁵⁴ is a valid defense. Defendant in a proceeding to enforce a penalty annexed to the violation of an ordinance prohibiting a nuisance cannot defend on the ground that it

42. Shields v. Savannah, 20 Ga. 57; St. Louis v. Kaime, 2 Mo. App. 66; New York v. Corlies, 2 Sandf. (N. Y.) 301. Compare Charleston v. Blake, 12 Rich. (S. C.) 66. See also, generally, LANDLORD AND TENANT, 24 Cyc. 845; NUISANCES.

43. Glen Ridge Bd. of Health v. Werner, 67 N. J. L. 103, 50 Atl. 585, holding that an ordinance which imposes a penalty for failure to file with the secretary of the board of health a plan of the contemplated plumbing work, "signed by the owner," will not be held to impose a liability to such a penalty on the plumber who may be engaged by the owner to do the work.

44. Answer, plea, or demurrer see infra, XI, B, 4, k.

45. People v. Gardner, 143 Mich. 104, 106 N. W. 541; Centralia v. Smith, 103 Mo. App. 438, 77 S. W. 488; Port Jervis v. Close, 2 Silv. Sup. (N. Y.) 501, 6 N. Y. Suppl. 211; Chimene v. Baker, 32 Tex. Civ. App. 520, 75 S. W. 330; Charleston v. Reed, 27 W. Va. 681, 55 Am. Rep. 336.

That the city officers have failed in some instances to enforce an ordinance licensing hawkers and peddlers is no defense to a charge of violating the ordinance. People v. Baker, 115 Mich. 199, 73 N. W. 115.

Participation or authorization of mayor of the city has been held to be no excuse. Centralia v. Smith, 103 Mo. App. 438, 77 S. W. 488; Chimene v. Baker, 32 Tex. Civ. App. 520, 75 S. W. 330.

Ambiguity of ordinance.—Where a municipal ordinance prohibiting buildings of a certain character from being erected within the fire limits is of ambiguous meaning, it is competent to show the ordinary construction placed upon it to aid in its construction, but if its meaning is unambiguous, that it may have been repeatedly violated without objection will furnish no defense to one who violates it. Sylvania v. Hilton, 123 Ga. 754, 51 S. E. 744, 107 Am. St. Rep. 162, 2 L. R. A. N. S. 433.

46. Gilberts v. Rabe, 49 Ill. App. 418. Compare Centralia v. Smith, 103 Mo. App. 438, 77 S. W. 488, where it was held to be no defense to a prosecution for violating a city ordinance, prohibiting the explosion of firecrackers, that the citizens advertised and had a Fourth of July celebration on the occasion of defendant's violation of the ordinance, and defendant thought that shooting firecrackers was in keeping with the occasion.

47. Pittsburg v. W. H. Keech Co., 21 Pa.

Super. Ct. 548. See Westmount v. McKim, 5 Quebec Pr. 134, holding that the fact that a by-law was enacted against the advice of the corporation council was immaterial.

48. Centralia v. Smith, 103 Mo. App. 438, 77 S. W. 488.

49. Duluth v. Mallett, 43 Minn. 204, 45 N. W. 154.

50. People v. Gardner, 143 Mich. 104, 106 N. W. 541; Alexander v. Greenville, 54 Miss. 659. See also People v. Baker, 115 Mich. 199, 73 N. W. 115. But compare infra, text and note 60.

Other ordinance imposing duty on city.—It was no defense to a prosecution, under a city ordinance providing that no owner or occupant of land abutting on a private way shall suffer any filth to remain on that part of the way adjoining his land, that another ordinance forbids any one removing filth or refuse matter through the streets without a permit from the board of health, as Rev. Ord. (1890) c. 19, makes it the duty of the sanitary police to remove "all noxious refuse substances from yards and areas, when so placed as to be easily removed." Com. v. Cutter, 156 Mass. 52, 29 N. E. 1146.

51. Clark v. Elizabeth Fire Dept., 43 N. J. L. 172.

52. Grayson v. Gas Co., 4 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 41. See Troy v. Winters, 4 Thoms. & C. (N. Y.) 256, which was an action by a city for violation of an ordinance forbidding the erection of wooden buildings within certain limits. Defendant claimed that he had the consent of the common council to erect such building. It appeared that notice of defendant's application for consent had not been published in the manner required. Defendant offered to show that his application had been referred by the common council to a committee with power; but the consent given by the committee was not signed by all the members of the committee. It was held that the offer was properly rejected. Troy v. Winters, 4 Thoms. & C. (N. Y.) 256.

Order of mayor and aldermen.—In an action by the fire department to recover a penalty for keeping gunpowder, an order of the mayor and two aldermen, directing it to be restored to the owner, is not such an adjudication as may be given in evidence in bar of the suit. Talmage v. New York Fire Dept., 24 Wend. (N. Y.) 235.

53. New York Fire Dept. v. Chapman, 10 Daly (N. Y.) 377.

54. Charleston v. Palmer, 1 McCord (S. C.) 342.

was not a nuisance in fact;⁵⁵ nor can a licensee in an action to recover a license-fee defend on the ground that the inspection, supervision, or police surveillance for which the fee was imposed had caused no expense to the municipality.⁵⁶ On the other hand, the following among others⁵⁷ have been held to be valid defenses: That the act complained of was not within the prohibition of the ordinance⁵⁸ or was expressly excepted therefrom;⁵⁹ the failure of the municipality to do its duty in the premises whereby defendant is denied power to comply with the ordinance;⁶⁰ the fire commissioners' certificate of approval to a prosecution for insufficient fire-escapes;⁶¹ a valid dram-shop license to an action for unlawful liquor selling, although revoked;⁶² and a contravening statute, although not a justification for the act.⁶³ And it seems that the silence and tacit consent of the municipality while defendant was incurring great expense in erecting the building for the forbidden purpose defeats the prosecution.⁶⁴ The validity of the ordinance may, however, always be contested.⁶⁵

4. PROCEEDINGS TO ENFORCE⁶⁶ — a. In General. As has been seen violations of police regulations are usually punished by fine,⁶⁷ imprisonment,⁶⁸ or both fine and imprisonment,⁶⁹ or by the imposition of some penalty,⁷⁰ for violations of the ordinances. Municipal penalties for violation of police regulations may be imposed directly by charter or statute,⁷¹ or by ordinance under delegated power.⁷² And

55. Pittsburg v. W. H. Keech Co., 21 Pa. Super. Ct. 548, nor on the ground that the enactment of the ordinance was unwise, inexpedient, or unnecessary.

56. New Hope Borough v. Western Union Tel. Co., 16 Pa. Super. Ct. 306.

57. Defenses in: Action for fine or penalty generally see FINES; PENALTIES. Prosecution for crime generally see CRIMINAL LAW.

58. See supra, XI, B, 1, 2. See also Savannah Lighterage, etc., Co. v. Savannah, 112 Ga. 189, 37 S. E. 424; Whiting v. Doob, 152 Ind. 157, 52 N. E. 759.

59. See supra, XI, B, 1, 2. See also Philadelphia v. Brabender, 201 Pa. St. 574, 51 Atl. 374, 58 L. R. A. 220; Philadelphia v. Costello, 17 Pa. Super. Ct. 339.

60. Savannah Lighterage, etc., Co. v. Savannah, 112 Ga. 189, 37 S. E. 424; Kraft v. Cincinnati, 6 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 8, 3 Ohio N. P. 195.

Unreasonable order of policeman.—Where the driver of a public vehicle, while in front of a hotel, was not disorderly and not obstructing the street, but was ordered by a policeman to remove his vehicle to the opposite side of the street, although two hotel carriages also standing in front of the hotel were not required to move, and the only reason given by the policeman for the order was "complaints of the management of the hotel of hacks in general, and the driver in question in particular," it was held that a conviction of the driver in the police court was improper; the order to move being arbitrary and unreasonable. Barnes v. District of Columbia, 24 App. Cas. (D. C.) 458.

Mere negligence of municipality will not suffice. See supra, text and note 50.

61. Com. v. Emsley, 5 Pa. Co. Ct. 476.

62. Martel v. East St. Louis, 94 Ill. 67.

63. State v. Morris, 47 La. Ann. 1660, 18 So. 710.

64. Athens v. Georgia R. Co., 72 Ga. 800.

65. State v. Morris, 47 La. Ann. 1660, 18

So. 710; State v. Earle, 66 S. C. 194, 44 S. E. 781.

Validity of ordinance see supra, VI, G; XI, A, 8, m.

66. Enforcement in admiralty see ADMIRALTY.

Injunction to restrain enforcement see INJUNCTIONS, 22 Cyc. 891.

Liability for failure to enforce see infra, XIV, A, 5, b.

Liability for tortious enforcement see infra, XIV, A.

Mandamus to compel enforcement see, generally, MANDAMUS.

67. See supra, XI, A, 8, g; infra, XI, B, 4, q, (II)-(IV).

By fine see FINES, 19 Cyc. 544 et seq.

Recovery and imposition of fines generally see FINES, 19 Cyc. 545 et seq.

68. See supra, XI, A, 8, g; infra, XI, B, 4, q, (III)-(V).

By imprisonment see FINES, 19 Cyc. 551.

Imprisonment for non-payment of fine see FINES, 19 Cyc. 551 et seq.

69. See supra, XI, A, 8, g; infra, XI, B, 4, q, (III).

By both fine and imprisonment see FINES, 19 Cyc. 553.

70. See supra, XI, A, 8, g; infra, XI, B, 4, q.

Penalty generally see PENALTIES.

Recovery of penalty see PENALTIES; and infra, XI, B, 4, h, et seq.

71. Harris v. Augusta, 100 Ga. 382, 28 S. E. 161. See also State v. McCulla, 16 R. I. 196, 14 Atl. 81; and supra, XI, A, 8, g.

72. King v. Jacksonville, 3 Ill. 305. Compare New York v. Third Avenue R. Co., 33 N. Y. 42, holding that the penalty imposed by a city council for non-compliance with an ordinance requiring city railroad companies to pay a license-fee on each car cannot be enforced where the ordinance requiring the fee was not authorized by the city charter. See also supra, XI, A, 8, g.

within reasonable limits discretion as to amount may be allowed to the court.⁷³ But an unauthorized penalty is void.⁷⁴ And in some states the penalty must be certain and fixed.⁷⁵ A penalty cannot arise by implication, however obvious, but must be expressly imposed; ⁷⁶ but the ordinance cannot prescribe a greater punishment than authorized by statute or charter; ⁷⁷ and this inhibition includes the imprisonment for non-payment of fine.⁷⁸ However, no judgment can be pronounced in personam,⁷⁹ either for the recovery of the penalty affixed or for the infliction of the punishment imposed, except through some judicial proceeding.⁸⁰ Police ordinances may not be otherwise enforced than is plainly authorized and provided; ⁸¹ and when the charter prescribes the particular manner in which ordinances are to be enforced that method is exclusive.⁸² Where the same act is punishable both by statute and a void by-law a conviction under the latter has been held to be good under the former.⁸³ So where a void by-law has been validated by statute the prosecution should be under the former, not the latter.⁸⁴

b. Nature and Form of Proceeding. The proceedings for violation of municipal ordinances are variously viewed in the courts of the several states.⁸⁵ The pre-

73. Atlantic City v. Crandol, 67 N. J. L. 488, 51 Atl. 447. See infra, XI, B, 4, q, (VI).

Delegation of judicial discretion see supra, XI, A, 3, a.

74. Ford v. Denver, 10 Colo. App. 500, 51 Pac. 1015; In re Semple, 10 Kan. App. 155, 62 Pac. 534. See supra, XI, A, 8, g; infra, XI, B, 4, q.

75. State v. Babcock, 112 Iowa 250, 83 N. W. 908; State v. Irvin, 126 N. C. 989, 35 S. E. 430. See supra, XI, A, 8, g.

76. New York Fire Dept. v. Braender, 14 Daly (N. Y.) 53, 3 N. Y. St. 580. See also Singer v. Philadelphia, 112 Pa. St. 410, 4 Atl. 28. See also supra, XI, A, 8, g.

77. State v. Voss, 49 La. Ann. 444, 21 So. 596, 62 Am. St. Rep. 653; State v. Arnauld, 49 La. Ann. 104, 21 So. 177. See also supra, XI, A, 8, g.

78. Ogden c. Madison, 111 Wis. 413, 87 N. W. 568, 55 L. R. A. 506. See also Thomas v. Ashland, 12 Ohio St. 124, where the sentence to imprisonment by the mayor was held to be illegal.

Right to arrest.—A law authorizing a municipal corporation to recover a fine for breach of a police regulation does not, without express provision therefor, authorize the arrest and criminal prosecution of the offender. State v. Ruff, 30 La. Ann. 497.

79. Summary exercise of police power see supra, XI, A, 8, e, h, k.

80. Ingersoll Pub. Corp. 371. See also Brookville v. Gagle, 73 Ind. 117; Lanfeer v. New Orleans, 4 La. 97, 23 Am. Dec. 477; Meaheer v. Chattanooga, 1 Head (Tenn.) 74; State v. Lockwood, 43 Wis. 403; and cases cited infra, XI, B, 4, p, (I).

81. Clark v. New Brunswick, 43 N. J. L. 175; Newark v. Murphy, 40 N. J. L. 145, 148 (where it is said: "The charter has designated a method for the enforcement of these ordinances, and that method must be pursued"); Lancaster v. Baer, 5 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) Dec. 6, 1873. See also Rex v. Croke, Cowp. 27.

Action not known to the law.—A judgment for a penalty will be reversed when the action, as by the return, is "a plea of violation of city ordinance"; there being no such action known to the law. Lancaster v. Hirsh, 1 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 209.

82. Missouri.—Moberly v. Wight, 19 Mo. App. 269.

New Hampshire.—State v. Ferguson, 33 N. H. 424.

New York.—Hart v. Albany, 9 Wend. 571, 588, 24 Am. Dec. 165, where it is said: "It has been laid down as a general proposition, that when a corporation is empowered to enforce its ordinances by fine or in any other prescribed manner, it is by implication precluded from adopting any other method of punishing disobedience to them."

Pennsylvania.—Barter v. Com., 3 Penr. & W. 253; Southwark Dist. Com'rs v. Neil, 3 Yeates 54, holding that in proceedings under a by-law it must appear that the special authority of the municipality was strictly pursued.

Virginia.—Blanchard v. Bristol, 100 Va. 469, 41 S. E. 948.

England.—Kirk v. Nowill, 1 T. R. 118, 1 Rev. Rep. 160.

But one proceeding is provided by an ordinance authorizing the arrest of gambling-house keepers and the seizure of gambling implements, and providing that complaint shall be made against the persons arrested, "which shall be considered a part of the action or proceeding," and that, after a conviction of the person charged as keeper, the court "shall immediately proceed, on the return of the officer making the arrest," his schedule of the implements seized, and any answer the keeper may make thereto, to try whether such implements are in fact gambling implements, and, if so, to order their destruction. State v. Newman, 96 Wis. 258, 71 N. W. 438.

83. Taylor v. Owensboro, 98 Ky. 271, 32 S. W. 948, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 856, 56 Am. St. Rep. 361.

84. Charleston v. Truchelut, 1 Nott & M. (S. C.) 227.

85. Ingersoll Pub. Corp. 371.

The confusion and discord in the rulings and opinions in regard to actions to enforce povailing rule is that penalties for violation of municipal ordinances are recoverable by civil action;⁸⁶ but some courts still adhere to the old rule that such lice ordinances are fundamental, inherent, and ineradicable, arising from the governmental and municipal aspects of the municipality, the elusive nature of the police power, and the various points of view assumed by courts and legislatures. Regarding the corporation in its municipal aspect as a person, as treated by Blackstone, with certain special franchises and powers, we see no remedy so appropriate as debt or assumpsit to recover a fine accruing to it from the violation of one of its ordinances by another person. But considering it as one arm of the government clothed with sovereign power and endowed with the function of enacting and enforcing laws for the preservation of the public peace and health, the protection of life and property, even to the limit of punishment by forfeiture and imprisonment for the public weal — debt and assumpsit seem alien and vain remedies, and nothing but criminal procedure suggests itself as proper and efficient. Few, if any, states, although showing decided leanings, have consistently occupied in all cases either of these extremes. The practical Anglo-Saxon habit has usually controlled, in legislation and decision, and the result has been an illogical compromise upon a working hypothesis, with the general conclusion in respect of constitutional guaranties that, if the end sought is only a money recovery by ordinary process a civil action, regular or summary, may be pursued; but if forfeiture or imprisonment, direct or incidental, is the penalty then criminal procedure is necessary. For example see Springfield F. & M. Ins. Co. v. Keeseville, 148 N. Y. 46, 52, 42 N. E. 405, 51 Am. St. Rep. 667, 30 L. R. A. 660, where Gray, J., says: "When we find that the power conferred has relation to public purposes and is for the public good, it is to be classified as governmental in its nature and it appertains to the corporation in its political character. But when it relates to the accomplishment of private corporate purposes, in which the public is only indirectly concerned, it is private in its nature and the municipal corporation, in respect to its exercise, is regarded as a legal individual." See also supra, III, C; infra, XIV, A.

86. California.—Santa Cruz v. Santa Cruz R. Co., 56 Cal. 143. But see Santa Barbara v. Sherman, 61 Cal. 57.

Colorado.—McInerney v. Denver, 17 Colo. 302, 29 Pac. 516; Durango v. Reinsberg, 16 Colo. 327, 26 Pac. 820; Greeley v. Hamman, 12 Colo. 94, 20 Pac. 1; Garland v. Denver, 11 Colo. 534, 19 Pac. 460; Deitz v. Central, 1 Colo. 323.

Georgia.—Floyd v. Eatonton, 14 Ga. 354, 58 Am. Dec. 559; Williams v. Augusta, 4 Ga. 509.

Illinois.—Kinmudy v. Mahan, 72 Ill. 462; Hoyer v. Mascoutah, 59 Ill. 137; Willis v. Legris, 45 Ill. 289; Jacksonville v. Block, 36 Ill. 507; Ewhanks v. Ashley, 36 Ill. 177; Anderson v. Schubert, 55 Ill. App. 227; Chicago v. Kenney, 35 Ill. App. 57; Knowles v. Wayne City, 31 Ill. App. 471.

Indiana.—Clevinger v. Rushville, 90 Ind. 258; Miller v. O'Reilly, 84 Ind. 168; Brookville v. Gagle, 73 Ind. 117; Greenburgh v. Corwin, 58 Ind. 518; Quigley v. Aurora, 50 Ind. 28.

Massachusetts.—Com. v. Dow, 10 Metc. 382. But see Com. v. Bean, 14 Gray 52, indirectly criminal.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Weitzel, 130 Mo. 600, 31 S. W. 1045; St. Louis v. Marchel, 99 Mo. 475, 12 S. W. 1050; St. Louis v. Vert, 84 Mo. 204; St. Louis v. Knox, 74 Mo. 79; Memphis v. O'Connor, 53 Mo. 468; Mexico v. Harris, 115 Mo. App. 707, 92 S. W. 505; Billings v. Brown, 106 Mo. App. 240, 80 S. W. 322; In re Jones, 90 Mo. App. 318; Monett v. Beaty, 79 Mo. App. 315; Kansas City v. Neal, 49 Mo. App. 72; De Soto v. Brown, 44 Mo. App. 148; In re Miller, 44 Mo. App. 125. But see Lexington v. Curtin, 69 Mo. 626; Kansas City v. Clark, 68 Mo. 538; Ex p. Kiburg, 10 Mo. App. 442. And compare Glenwood v. Roberts, 59 Mo. App. 169, holding that, although a proceeding in a municipal court to recover a penalty is a civil action, it nevertheless partakes of the nature of a criminal prosecution if it has to do with the liberty of a citizen and that his guilt must be proved beyond a reasonable doubt.

Nebraska.—See Peterson v. State, (1907) 112 N. W. 306, 310.

New Jersey.—White v. Neptune City, 56 N. J. L. 222, 28 Atl. 378; State v. Clinton, 53 N. J. L. 329, 21 Atl. 304; Brophy v. Perth Amboy, 44 N. J. L. 217; State v. Passaic, 42 N. J. L. 429.

New York.—People v. Sloane, 98 N. Y. App. Div. 450, 90 N. Y. Suppl. 762; Buffalo v. Schliefer, 25 Hun 275; Colton v. Maurer, 5 Thomps. & C. 575. But see New York cases cited infra, notes 87, 88.

North Carolina.—Edenton v. Wool, 65 N. C. 379; Wilmington v. Davis, 63 N. C. 582. But see North Carolina cases cited infra, note 87.

Ohio.—See Markle v. Akron, 14 Ohio 586. But compare Larney v. Cleveland, 34 Ohio St. 599.

Oregon.—Wong v. Astoria, 13 Oreg. 538, 11 Pac. 295.

Pennsylvania.—Milton Borough v. Hoagland, 3 Pa. Co. Ct. 283; Lemon v. Reidel, 1 Lane. L. Rev. 3. See also Philadelphia v. Junker, 9 Pa. Dist. 673; Pittston Borough v. Dimond, 7 Kulp 431; Plymouth Borough v. Penkock, 7 Kulp 101; Pottsville v. Marburger, 1 Leg. Chron. 60; Philadelphia v. Duncan, 4 Phila. 145.

South Carolina.—Charleston v. Kleinback, 2 Speers 418.

South Dakota.—Lead v. Klatt, 11 S. D. 109, 75 N. W. 896; Sioux Falls v. Kirby, 6 S. D. 62, 60 N. W. 156, 25 L. R. A. 621; Huron v. Carter, 5 S. D. 4, 57 N. W. 947.

Tennessee.—Sparta v. Lewis, 91 Tenn. 370, actions are criminal,⁸⁷ or at least quasi-criminal⁸⁸ in their nature. On the other hand, where the act denounced by ordinance is also a misdemeanor under the 23 S. W. 182; Bristol v. Burrow, 5 Lea 128; Wood v. Grand Junction, 5 Heisk. 440; Meaher v. Chattanooga, 1 Head 74.

Wisconsin.—Ogden v. Madison, 111 Wis. 413, 87 N. W. 568, 55 L. R. A. 506; Chafin v. Waukesha County, 62 Wis. 463, 22 N. W. 732; Oshkosh v. Schwartz, 55 Wis. 483, 13 N. W. 552; Sutton v. McConnell, 46 Wis. 269, 50 N. W. 414; Platteville v. Bell, 43 Wis. 488; Ives v. Jefferson County Sup'rs, 18 Wis. 166; Carter v. Dow, 16 Wis. 298. See also Wisconsin cases cited infra, note 88.

Wyoming.—Jenkins v. Cheyenne, 1 Wyo. 287.

United States.—See Virginia v. Howard, 28 Fed. Cas. No. 16,963, 1 Cranch C. C. 61.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1391; and, generally, FINES; PENALTIES.

At common law, and independent of statutory enactments, punishments for the violation of municipal ordinances were treated in the light of civil actions. Peterson v. State, (Nebr. 1907) 112 N. W. 306.

The general doctrine appears to be that, where an act is not criminal under the laws of the state, a municipal ordinance will not make it so, and that an action to recover a penalty prescribed by a municipal ordinance on account of an act not criminal by the general law of the state, but forbidden by such ordinance, is a civil action. Peterson v. State, (Nebr. 1907) 112 N. W. 306 [citing Huron v. Carter, 5 S. D. 4, 57 N. W. 947], holding that an ordinance of the character of the one in question, forbidding the doing of an act that is not per se criminal or immoral, that is not made a crime or misdemeanor by any law of the state, is a mere rule or regulation for the government of the community within the municipal limits, and does not come within the category of acts considered criminal.

There are many, both common law and statutory, offenses, which are quasi-criminal actions and which incur criminal consequences, which are nevertheless to be proceeded in as civil actions. Jenkins v. Cheyenne, 1 Wyo. 287.

87. California.—Santa Barbara v. Sherman, 61 Cal. 57. But see Santa Cruz v. Santa Cruz R. Co., 56 Cal. 143.

Connecticut.—State v. Keenan, 57 Conn. 286, 18 Atl. 104. Compare State v. Decker, 46 Conn. 241.

Iowa.—Creston v. Nye, 74 Iowa 369, 37 N. W. 777; State v. Vail, 57 Iowa 103, 10 N. W. 297; Jaquith v. Royce, 42 Iowa 406; Goodrich v. Brown, 30 Iowa 291.

Kansas.—In re Jahn, 55 Kan. 694, 41 Pac. 956; State v. Topeka, 36 Kan. 76, 12 Pac. 310. 59 Am. Rep. 529; Neitzel v. Concordia, 14 Kan. 446.

Minnesota.—State v. West, 42 Minn. 147, 43 N. W. 845.

New Hampshire.—State v. Stearns, 31 N. H. 106.

New York.—People v. Garabed, 20 Misc. 127, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 827. But see New York cases cited supra, note 86.

North Carolina.—State v. Powell, 97 N. C. 417, 1 S. E. 482; State v. Cainan, 94 N. C. 880. But see North Carolina cases cited supra, note 86.

West Virginia.—Charleston v. Beller, 45 W. Va. 44, 30 S. E. 152.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1391.

88. Alabama.—Camden v. Bloch, 65 Ala. 236; Goldthwaite v. Montgomery, 50 Ala. 486; Mobile v. Jones, 42 Ala. 630; Withers v. State, 36 Ala. 252; Brown v. Mobile, 23 Ala. 722.

Arkansas.—Taylor v. Pine Bluff, 34 Ark. 603.

Colorado.—Noland v. People, 33 Colo. 322, 80 Pac. 887.

Kentucky.—Williamson v. Com., 4 B. Mon. 146; Lynch v. Com., 35 S. W. 264, 18 Ky. L. Rep. 145.

Louisiana.—State v. Lochte, 45 La. Ann. 1405, 14 So. 215. Compare Monroe v. Meuer, 35 La. Ann. 1192.

Michigan.—Vicksburg v. Briggs, 85 Mich. 502, 48 N. W. 625; People v. Vinton, 82 Mich. 39, 46 N. W. 31; Northville v. Westfall, 75 Mich. 603, 42 N. W. 1068. Compare Grand Rapids v. Roberts, 48 Mich. 198; Cooper v. People, 41 Mich. 403, 2 N. W. 51; People v. Manistee County, 26 Mich. 422.

Minnesota.—State v. Robitshak, 60 Minn. 123, 61 N. W. 1023, 33 L. R. A. 33; State v. Lee, 29 Minn. 445, 13 N. W. 913.

Nebraska.—Brownville v. Cook, 4 Nebr. 101.

New York.—People v. Van Houten, 13 Misc. 603, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 186, holding that under Laws (1870), c. 291, tit. 8, § 7, providing that the first process in a suit by a village for a penalty under an ordinance adopted pursuant to the act shall be a summons or warrant, the proceeding therefor is criminal, or quasi-criminal; it being further provided that the penalty may be enforced by imprisonment, in default of payment.

Ohio.—Larney v. Cleveland, 34 Ohio St. 599. But compare Markle v. Akron, 14 Ohio 586.

Vermont.—State v. Bacon, '40 Vt. 456.

Wisconsin.—State v. Newman, 96 Wis. 258, 71 N. W. 438; Platteville v. McKernan, 54 Wis. 487, 11 N. W. 798; Boscobel v. Bugbee, 41 Wis. 59. See, however, Wisconsin cases cited supra, note 86.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1391.

Compare Philadelphia v. Junker, 9 Pa. Dist. 673.

In Kentucky proceedings for violation of ordinance punishable by fine only are quasi-civil in their nature. Montee v. Com., 3 J. J. Marsh. 132. The proceeding has been regarded as rather penal than criminal in that nature. Williamson v. Brown, 4 B. Mon.

general laws, and the penalty imposed by the ordinance is a fine or imprisonment, or both, the proceeding is generally regarded as criminal in its nature.⁸⁹ Where the proceeding is considered civil in its nature the rules of civil procedure prevail.⁹⁰ On the other hand, where the proceeding is regarded as criminal in its nature, the rules of criminal procedure are applied.⁹¹ Where the proceeding is quasi-criminal in its nature the courts generally declare that the criminal rules need not be followed, but that the proceedings must necessarily be stricter than in civil cases.⁹² At common law, when a penalty was incurred for violation of a municipal ordinance, it might be recovered by an action of debt or assumpsit in any court of jurisdiction.⁹³ But by statute in many jurisdictions provision is 146; Brown v. Com., 6 J. J. Marsh. 635; Com. v. Brown, 3 J. J. Marsh. 597; Montee v. Com., 3 J. J. Marsh. 132.

Where a civil action has been held to be the proper mode for the enforcement of a fine, the cases have regarded the proceeding as quasi-criminal in its character. Mobile v. Jones, 42 Ala. 630.

89. California.—Santa Barbara v. Sherman, 61 Cal. 57.

Connecticut.—State v. Keenan, 57 Conn. 286, 13 Atl. 104.

Georgia.—Mohrman v. Augusta, 103 Ga. 841, 30 S. E. 95.

Iowa.—Jaquith v. Royce, 42 Iowa 406.

Kansas.—Neitzel v. Concordia, 14 Kan. 446.

Maine.—See O'Malia v. Wentworth, 65 Me. 129.

Massachusetts.—In re Goddard, 16 Pick. 504, 28 Am. Dec. 259.

Nebraska.—Peterson v. State, (1907) 112 N. W. 306; Brownville v. Cook, 4 Nebr. 101.

New Hampshire.—State v. Stearns, 31 N. H. 106.

New York.—Buffalo v. Preston, 81 N. Y. App. Div. 480, 80 N. Y. Suppl. 85; People v. Garabed, 20 Misc. 127, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 827. Compare Cronin v. People, 82 N. Y. 318, 37 Am. Rep. 564.

North Carolina.—State v. Powell, 97 N. C. 417, 1 S. E. 482.

West Virginia.—Charleston v. Beller, 45 W. Va. 44, 30 S. E. 152.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1400; and cases cited supra, notes 87, 88.

Contra.—St. Louis v. Vert, 84 Mo. 204. In Bristol v. Burrow, 5 Lea (Tenn.) 128, 129, it is said: "A civil action, in the nature of an action of debt, lies at the suit of the mayor and aldermen to recover penalties for violating town ordinances and by-laws, and the acts prohibited by the ordinance and by-laws may be such as are also criminal offenses against the State." See also Wood v. Grand Junction, 5 Heisk. (Tenn.) 440; Meaher v. Chattanooga, 1 Head (Tenn.) 74.

"Quasi-civil-criminal proceedings" see Sanders v. Southern Electric R. Co., 147 Mo. 411, 48 S. W. 855, where it is said that the ordinance "creates a municipal misdemeanor."

In Wisconsin where the offense is also one against the general law, the prosecution of such an offense is a quasi-criminal prosecution and is not a summary proceeding (State v. Milwaukee Municipal Ct., 89 Wis. 358, 61 N. W. 1100; State v. Grove, 77 Wis. 448, 46 N. W. 532; Platteville v. McKernan, 54 Wis. 487, 11 N. W. 798; Boscobel v. Bugbee, 41 Wis. 59); but actions for such violation of municipal ordinances as are not also misdemeanors are civil actions (State v. Milwaukee Municipal Ct., supra; Oshkosh v. Schwartz, 55 Wis. 483, 13 N. W. 552; Platteville v. Bell, 43 Wis. 488), and are within summary jurisdiction (State v. Milwaukee Municipal Ct., supra).

90. St. Louis v. Marchel, 99 Mo. 475, 12 S. W. 1050; Mexico v. Harris, 115 Mo. App. 707, 92 S. W. 505; Keeler v. Milledge, 24 N. J. L. 142; Lead v. Klatt, 11 S. D. 109, 75 N. W. 896; Sutton v. McConnell, 46 Wis. 269, 50 N. W. 414; and cases cited supra, note 86. See also infra, XI, B, 4, i, (II).

Wis. Rev. St. (1898) § 3294, provides that an act or omission punishable by "fine and imprisonment" or by "fine or imprisonment" shall be deemed a misdemeanor. It was held that the word "fine" does not include penalties imposed for the violation of municipal ordinances, so as to require the procedure employed in misdemeanor cases to be used in punishing the violation of a city ordinance, punishable by fine only. Ogden v. Madison, 111 Wis. 413, 87 N. W. 568, 55 L. R. A. 506.

91. State v. Keenan, 57 Conn. 286, 13 Atl. 104; People v. Van Houten, 13 Misc. (N. Y.) 603, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 186; and cases cited supra, note 87. See also infra, XI, B, 4, i, (II).

The court has no jurisdiction in a criminal or quasi-criminal case, unless the punishment for the offense is exclusively and purely penal. Williamson v. Com., 4 B. Mon. (Ky.) 146; Brown v. Com., 6 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 635; Com. v. Brown, 3 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 597; Montee v. Com., 3 J. J. Marsh. (Ky.) 132.

Change of action.—Where the action was prosecuted criminally, it was held that it could not be considered a civil proceeding on appeal. Webster v. Lansing, 47 Mich. 192, 10 N. W. 196.

92. Fuhman v. Huntsville, 54 Ala. 263; Goshen v. Croxton, 34 Ind. 239; Emporia v. Volmer, 12 Kan. 622; Ingersoll Pub. Corp. 251; and cases cited supra, note 88. See also infra, XI, B, 4, i, (II).

93. Colorado.—Deitz v. Centrai, 1 Colo. 323.

Illinois.—Jacksonville v. Block, 36 Ill. 507; made for summary proceedings to convict and punish violators of municipal ordinances.⁹⁴

c. Jurisdiction⁹⁵—(1) IN GENERAL. While it is settled that the authority to confer on a tribunal jurisdiction to enforce penal ordinances or to recover penalties for their violation rests in the state and not in the municipality,⁹⁶ nevertheless the jurisprudence of several states permits the delegation of this power to the municipality and the exercise of this sovereign function by the agency of the corporation.⁹⁷ Whether a given tribunal has jurisdiction of such proceedings is Ewbanks v. Ashley, 36 Ill. 177; Israel v. Jacksonville, 2 Ill. 290.

Indiana.—Brookville v. Gagle, 73 Ind. 117, 118 [citing Dillon Mun. Corp. § 342].

New Jersey.—State v. Clinton, 53 N. J. L. 329, 21 Atl. 304.

Tennessee.—Wood v. Grand Junction, 5 Heisk. 440.

England.—London Barber Surgeons v. Pelson, 2 Lev. 252; London v. Goree, 2 Lev. 174, 1 Vent. 298.

On appeal from a mayor's judgment the municipality may declare in debt. Markle v. Akron, 14 Ohio 586.

Debt as the proper form of action see ACTIONS, 1 Cyc. 732; DEBT, ACTION OF, 13 Cyc. 402; PENALTIES.

94. See People v. Van Houten, 13 Misc. (N. Y.) 603, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 186 [affirmed in 36 N. Y. Suppl. 1130]; Lancaster v. Baer, 5 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) Dec. 6, 1873; State v. Milwaukee Municipal Ct., 89 Wis. 358, 61 N. W. 1100. See also cases cited supra, notes 87, 88; and infra, XI, B, 4, v.

Exclusive remedy.—The ordinance of the city of Lancaster of March 1, 1825, forbidding the firing of firearms within the city limits, can be enforced only by process of summary conviction, as directed by Ord. June 3, 1834, § 4; and an action of debt for the penalty cannot be sustained. Lancaster v. Baer, 5 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) Dec. 6, 1873.

Nature of summary trial see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 321 et seq.

Incidents of summary trial see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 321 et seq.

Offenses summarily punishable see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 321.

Trial and conviction without a jury is generally denominated a summary proceeding. Ingersoll Pub. Corp. 372. See also Byers v. Com., 42 Pa. St. 89; and infra, XI, B, 4, o., (IV).

Jurisdiction to hear and determine offenses must be exercised in strict conformity to the statute. Edina v. Brown, 19 Mo. App. 672.

95. See also FINES; PENALTIES.

Concurrent and conflicting exercise of power by state and municipality see supra, XI, A, 4.

Criminal jurisdiction of municipal courts see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 201, 321.

Jurisdiction of offenses against state and municipality see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 204, 321.

Jurisdiction of summary trial see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 321.

96. Colorado.—People v. Curley, 5 Colo. 412.

Illinois.—Wiggins v. Chicago, 68 Ill. 372.

Indiana.—Madison v. Hatcher, 8 Blackf. 341.

Kentucky.—Owensboro v. Simms, 99 Ky. 49, 34 S. W. 1085, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 1393.

Louisiana.—State v. Carreau, 45 La. Ann. 1446, 14 So. 292.

Missouri.—Willis v. Boonville, 28 Mo. 543; Kansas City v. Neal, 49 Mo. App. 72.

New Jersey.—Vineland v. Kelk, 73 N. J. L. 285, 63 Atl. 5; Pell v. Newark, 49 N. J. L. 594, 9 Atl. 778; State v. Washington, 45 N. J. L. 318.

Pennsylvania.—Deel v. Pittsburgh, 3 Watts 363; Gettysburg v. Zeigler, 2 Pa. Co. Ct. 326.

Wisconsin.—See State v. Nohl, 113 Wis. 15, 88 N. W. 1004.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 1393, 1402.

Delegation of power by municipality see supra, XI, A; XI, A, 3.

In Georgia, where the offense, described in Code, § 4478, providing that any person who shall erect or continue, after notice to abate, any nuisance which tends to annoy the community, etc., shall be indicted and punished, is made complete by notice to abate, an offender maintaining a nuisance in the city, violative of the city ordinance, may not be punished thereunder, but must be bound over for trial in the court having jurisdiction of the offense. Vason v. Augusta, 38 Ga. 542.

Mo. Rev. St. § 4982, giving mayors of fourth class cities jurisdiction to hear and determine offenses against city ordinances, gives them no jurisdiction to try a civil action to recover a penalty for violating a city ordinance. Edina v. Brown, 19 Mo. App. 672.

97. Craig v. Burnett, 32 Ala. 728; Ex p. Burnett, 30 Ala. 461; Guillotte v. New Orleans, 12 La. Ann. 432; State v. Wood, 94 N. C. 855; State v. Nohl, 113 Wis. 15, 88 N. W. 1004. See also State v. Johnson, 17 Ark. 407; State v. Zeigler, 32 N. J. L. 262. Compare Ex p. Levine, 46 Tex. Cr. 364, 81 S. W. 1206, holding that, although a provision in a city charter to constitute a corporation court a state court was futile and without effect, it had jurisdiction to punish one on conviction of a municipal offense provided for by city ordinance.

Municipality must exercise its delegated authority in order to confer jurisdiction. Goodrich v. Brown, 30 Iowa 291, holding that a justice of the peace has no jurisdiction to hear a criminal prosecution for the violation of city ordinances unless the city council has made provision for the immediate arrest and examination of the accused before the justice, pursuant to Revision, § 1088.

matter for constitutional and statutory provision and construction,⁹⁸ the tendency, it seems, being to require express words of authorization,⁹⁹ and in cases of doubt to prefer the municipal to the general courts.¹

(ii) PARTICULAR TRIBUNALS. Accordingly either by statutory provision² or by ordinance,³ as the case may be, jurisdiction, which is sometimes exclusive,⁴ and sometimes concurrent⁵ with some other tribunal or tribunals, has been conferred variously upon chief officers of municipal corporations,⁶ justices of the peace,⁷ mayors,⁸ mayors' courts,⁹ members of municipal councils,¹⁰ police courts,¹¹ police judges,¹²

98. Garland v. Denver, 11 Colo. 534, 19 Pac. 460; Robinson v. Americus, 121 Ga. 180, 48 S. E. 924; In re Yard, 48 Leg. Int. (Pa.) 288.

99. Spencer v. Cline, 28 Ind. 51.

1. Wong v. Astoria, 13 Oreg. 538, 11 Pac. 295.

2. See supra, text and note 96.

3. See supra, text and note 97.

4. Colorado.—People v. Second Judicial Dist. Ct., 33 Colo. 328, 333, 80 Pac. 888, 890, 108 Am. St. Rep. 98.

Indiana.—McNulty v. Connew, 50 Ind. 569. See also Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Salem, 162 Ind. 428, 70 N. E. 530.

Iowa.—Lansing v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 85 Iowa 215, 52 N. W. 195.

Kentucky.—Owensboro v. Simms, 99 Ky. 49, 34 S. W. 1085, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 1393.

Missouri.—Louisiana v. Hardin, 11 Mo. 551; Kansas City v. Neal, 49 Mo. App. 72.

New York.—People v. Horton, 41 Misc. 309, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 942; People v. Van Houten, 13 Misc. 603, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 186 [affirmed in 36 N. Y. Suppl. 1130].

North Carolina.—State v. Threadgill, 76 N. C. 17; State v. White, 76 N. C. 15.

Magistrate himself defendant see Reg. v. Chipman, 5 Brit. Col. 349, where the justice of the peace was held to have jurisdiction of an information against the police magistrate for a violation of a city by-law, there being no police magistrate before whom the information could be laid.

5. Colorado.—Metcalf v. People, 2 Colo. App. 262, 30 Pac. 39.

Indiana.—Brookville v. Gagle, 73 Ind. 117.

Iowa.—Finch v. Marvin, 46 Iowa 384; Jaquith v. Royce, 42 Iowa 406.

New Jersey.—State v. Zeigler, 32 N. J. L. 262.

North Carolina.—State v. Cainan, 94 N. C. 880.

The circuit court of Rock county has jurisdiction to enforce penalties imposed by an ordinance of a city situated in such county. Janesville v. Milwaukee, etc., R. Co., 7 Wis. 484.

6. State v. Threadgill, 76 N. C. 17; State v. White, 76 N. C. 15.

7. Colorado.—People v. Second Judicial Dist. Ct., 33 Colo. 328, 333, 80 Pac. 888, 890, 108 Am. St. Rep. 98; Metcalf v. People, 2 Colo. App. 262, 30 Pac. 39.

Illinois.—Jacksonville v. Block, 36 Ill. 507; Ewbanks v. Ashley, 36 Ill. 177; Windsor v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 105 Ill. App. 46, justice of the peace.

Indiana.—Brookville v. Gagle, 73 Ind. 117;

Redden v. Covington, 29 Ind. 118; Spencer v. Cline, 28 Ind. 51.

Iowa.—Jackson v. Boyd, 53 Iowa 536, 5 N. W. 734; Jaquith v. Royce, 42 Iowa 406.

North Carolina.—State v. Wood, 94 N. C. 855.

Pennsylvania.—Com. v. Thompson, 110 Pa. St. 297, 1 Atl. 375.

Wisconsin.—State v. Nohl, 113 Wis. 15, 88 N. W. 1004.

See also JUSTICES OF THE PEACE, 24 Cyc. 383.

"Any one of the justices" cannot exercise jurisdiction under a law authorizing the common council of a town to pass an ordinance that penalties may be enforced by a summary conviction before the "mayor or justice of the peace of the town." State v. Zeigler, 32 N. J. L. 262.

8. Alabama.—Mobile v. Barton, 47 Ala. 84, mayor.

Georgia.—Robinson v. Americus, 121 Ga. 180, 48 S. E. 924.

Indiana.—McNulty v. Connew, 50 Ind. 569.

Iowa.—Jaquith v. Royce, 42 Iowa 406.

Missouri.—Willis v. Boonville, 28 Mo. 543; Fayette v. Shafroth, 25 Mo. 445.

New Jersey.—State v. Zeigler, 32 N. J. L. 262.

North Carolina.—State v. Wilson, 106 N. C. 718, 11 S. E. 254.

Ohio.—Akerman v. Lima, 8 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 430, 7 Ohio N. P. 92; Ward v. State, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 230, 5 Ohio N. P. 81.

West Virginia.—Flack v. Fry, 32 W. Va. 364, 9 S. E. 240.

Mayor and wardens.—Under 20 S. C. St. at L. p. 912, the mayor of the town of Clinton, if he deems advisable, may call to his aid the wardens of such town in the trial of any offender charged with violating the ordinances of the town. Clinton v. Leake, 71 S. C. 22, 50 S. E. 541.

9. Barter v. Com., 3 Penr. & W. (Pa.) 253.

10. Craig v. Burnett, 32 Ala. 728; Ex p. Burnett, 30 Ala. 461.

11. Bass v. Lawrence, 124 Ga. 75, 52 S. E. 296; Owensboro v. Simms, 99 Ky. 49, 34 S. W. 1085, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 1393; State v. Mack, 41 La. Ann. 1079, 6 So. 808; Wong v. Astoria, 13 Oreg. 538, 11 Pac. 295. See also Akerman v. Lima, 8 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 430, 7 Ohio N. P. 92.

The mayor may be a police court de facto. Stroup v. Pruden, 104 Ga. 721, 30 S. E. 948.

12. In re Hagan, (Kan. 1902) 68 Pac. 1104; Brookfield v. Tooley, 141 Mo. 619, 43 police justices,¹³ police magistrates,¹⁴ recorders or recorders' courts,¹⁵ town-clerks,¹⁶ town councils,¹⁷ and the like.¹⁸

(iii) AFFECTED BY INTEREST IN FINE OR PENALTY. The municipal interest in the penalty is not a bar to the jurisdiction of a municipal court.¹⁹

(iv) DEPENDENT UPON AMOUNT IN CONTROVERSY. As in the case of other inferior courts, the jurisdiction may depend upon the amount in controversy; that is, the amount of the fine imposed or the penalty sought to be recovered.²⁰

S. W. 387; Kansas City v. Neal, 49 Mo. App. 72.

"Recorder" and "police judge" may be identical. Brookfield v. Tooley, 141 Mo. 619, 43 S. W. 387. But see Vineland v. Kelk, 73 N. J. L. 285, 63 Atl. 5, holding that a conviction for violation of a borough ordinance had before a justice of the peace, who is described as acting recorder of the borough, is void for want of jurisdiction, Pub. Laws (1897), p. 285, relating to boroughs, making no provision for such an officer.

13. People v. Van Houten, 13 Misc. (N. Y.) 603, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 186 [affirmed in 36 N. Y. Suppl. 1130].

14. Metcalf v. People, 2 Colo. App. 262, 30 Pac. 39; Hensoldt v. Petersburg, 63 Ill. 157; Windsor v. Cleveland, etc., R. Co., 105 Ill. App. 46, police magistrate.

15. Alabama.—Bray v. State, 140 Ala. 172, 37 So. 250.

Georgia.—Pearson v. Wimbish, 124 Ga. 701, 52 S. E. 751; Reeves v. Atlanta, 114 Ga. 851, 40 S. E. 1003.

Louisiana.—State v. Lochte, 45 La. Ann. 1405, 14 So. 215; State v. Mack, 41 La. Ann. 1079, 6 So. 808; Guillotte v. New Orleans, 12 La. Ann. 432.

Missouri.—Kansas City v. O'Connor, 36 Mo. App. 594.

New Jersey.—Hutchings v. Scott, 9 N. J. L. 218.

16. Chicago, etc., R. Co. v. Salem, 166 Ind. 71, 703, 76 N. E. 631, 634.

17. Lexington v. Wise, 24 S. C. 163.

The city council of Columbus has no jurisdiction over a prosecution for keeping open a saloon on Sunday, as it is an offense against the laws of the state, and not a mere breach of the city ordinance. Reich v. State, 53 Ga. 73, 21 Am. Rep. 265.

18. Garland v. Denver, 11 Colo. 534, 19 Pac. 460 (special criminal court); Lewis v. State, 124 Ga. 62, 52 S. E. 81 (city court); Hood v. Griffin, 113 Ga. 190, 38 S. E. 409 (city criminal court); Stokes v. Schlacter, 66 N. J. L. 247, 49 Atl. 556 (court for trial of small causes); People v. Horton, 41 Misc. (N. Y.) 309, 84 N. Y. Suppl. 942 (court of special sessions); Lancaster v. Reese, 14 Pa. Dist. 447 (an alderman); Philadelphia v. Junker, 9 Pa. Dist. 673 (alderman); Plymouth v. Williams, 8 Kulp (Pa.) 167 (burgess); Pittston Borough v. Dimond, 7 Kulp (Pa.) 431 (burgess); State v. Williams, 11 S. C. 288 (intendant).

The chief burgess of the borough has jurisdiction under the Pennsylvania act of June, 1897, of prosecutions for the violation of borough ordinances for which fines or penalties are imposed. Bolivar Borough v. Coul- ter, 10 Pa. Dist. 171. In the absence of a borough ordinance declaring the act to be an offense, the burgess has no jurisdiction to try and sentence a person therefor. Com. v. Bowman, 29 Pa. Co. Ct. 635.

The portion of the Bullit bill of June 1, 1885, for the better government of cities of the first class, which gives to the courts of Philadelphia alone the power to punish for disobedience of an order made under the provisions of the bill, is not in conflict with Const. art. 5, § 26, requiring that the jurisdiction and powers of all courts of the same class shall be uniform. In re Yard, 48 Leg. Int. (Pa.) 288.

19. Deetz v. Central, 1 Colo. 323; Corwein v. Hames, 11 Johns. (N. Y.) 76; Charleston v. Pepper, 1 Rich. (S. C.) 364; Charleston v. King, 4 McCord (S. C.) 487; Jonesborough v. McKee, 2 Yerg. (Tenn.) 167; See Com. v. Bean, Thach. Cr. Cas. (Mass.) 85, where upon a trial under the ordinance of the city council of the city of Boston of 1824, regulating the keeping of dogs, and directing one half the amount paid for a license to be paid to the city clerk, and one half of the penalty for the violation of the ordinance to be paid to the prosecutor, without declaring to what use the other half should be applied, it was held that it could not be inferred that any sum inured to the city, although it was stated in the original complaint that the other half of the penalty was for the use of the city, and consequently that the justices of the police and municipal courts, and the jurors, were not interested by reason of being paid by the city.

Pecuniary interest as disqualifying a judge see JUDGES, 23 Cyc. 575 et seq.

20. See COURTS, 11 Cyc. 714. See also Hensoldt v. Petersburg, 63 Ill. 157; McNulty v. Wilson, 4 Strobbh. (S. C.) 231.

Several penalties for several violations.—Each violation of an ordinance confers a distinct cause of action, and independent proceedings may be instituted for penalties which, combined, would exceed the amount within which the justice has jurisdiction. Whitehall v. Meaux, 8 Ill. App. 182. Suits to recover several penalties for numerous violations of a city ordinance are within the jurisdiction of an alderman when the penalty in each case is under one hundred dollars, that being the amount fixed by the statute conferring jurisdiction in such cases. Lancaster v. Railroad Co., 12 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) 99. Const. art. 1, § 11, prohibiting prosecutions for misdemeanors in which the punishment exceeds a fine of one hundred dollars to be tried before a justice of the peace, does not deprive the justice of jurisdiction of a

(v) WAIVER BY APPEARANCE. Under the rule regarding a prosecution of a suit against a person to enforce a fine, penalty, or forfeiture for the violation of a city ordinance as a civil proceeding, jurisdiction of the person can be obtained by his voluntary appearance in the suit.²¹

d. Venue and Change Thereof.²² As the authority of the municipality and the binding effect of its police regulations are merely coextensive with the city limits,²³ an action or proceeding instituted for the enforcement or punishment of a violation of an ordinance must be brought before a properly authorized and constituted tribunal sitting within the territorial limits of the municipality.²⁴ Inasmuch as a change of venue is almost wholly a creature of statute,²⁵ a change of venue in proceeding to enforce a municipal ordinance, it seems, can be asked and allowed when and in the manner authorized by statute,²⁶ but not otherwise.²⁷

e. Parties Plaintiff—(i) IN GENERAL. The general rule of procedure that a civil action should be brought in the name of the party injured²⁸ applies to actions for the recovery of penalties, with the result that the municipality is usually plaintiff.²⁹ But it seems that where the statute or by-law prescribes that the action prosecution under an ordinance providing that any number of violations thereof may be included in the same information, and that a fine of from five dollars to fifty dollars may be imposed for each, although the aggregate may thus exceed one hundred dollars. Jackson v. Boyd, 53 Iowa 536, 5 N. W. 734.

The mayor of Boonville under the act amending the charter of the city (Mo. Acts (1847), p. 183), had jurisdiction of all cases arising under the charter and ordinances of the city, whatever the amount of the fine involved. Willis v. Boonville, 28 Mo. 543.

The mayor of Fayette has jurisdiction in cases where the penalty is less than ninety dollars, and an ordinance of the city giving him jurisdiction when the penalty is one hundred dollars is void. Fayette v. Shafroth, 25 Mo. 445.

21. Baldwin v. Murphy, 82 Ill. 485; In re Jones, 90 Mo. App. 318, holding that appearance by defendant before a tribunal to which the action has been removed at his own request is a waiver of jurisdiction.

Appearance without arrest waives process. Ewbanks v. Ashley, 36 Ill. 177.

22. Territorial jurisdiction as dependent upon city limits see supra, XI, A, 5.

23. See supra, XI, A, 5.

24. Hershoff v. Beverly, 43 N. J. L. 139, holding that the court could not sit outside the limits of the city to try such causes. See also Lewis v. State, 124 Ga. 62, 52 S. E. 81 (where the evidence sufficiently established the venue); Bonner v. McPhail, 31 Barb. (N. Y.) 106; People v. Montgomery C. Pl., 18 Wend. (N. Y.) 633; CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 229; VENUE.

Under the charter of New York city (Laws (1901), c. 466, §§ 1, 2) the outlying municipalities were consolidated with the old city of New York as it existed on the first day of January, 1898, and the East river, as it flows between the former cities of New York and Brooklyn, was a part of the city of New York as existing prior to the consolidation, and therefore the court of special sessions of the city of New York has jurisdiction to try defendant, charged with a misdemeanor in operating a steam boiler on the East river without a certificate. People v. Prillen, 173 N. Y. 67, 65 N. E. 947 [reversing 73 N. Y. App. Div. 207, 76 N. Y. Suppl. 821].

25. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 242; VENUE.

26. Finch v. Marvin, 46 Iowa 384 (where it is held that a change of venue might be taken from the court of a mayor of a city or incorporated town to that of a justice of the peace); Puyallup v. Snyder, 13 Wash. 572, 43 Pac. 635 (where it is held, under the statutes, that a change of venue would lie from a police justice of the third class to the nearest justice of the peace in the same county).

Under the St. Louis Mun. Code (1901), § 1236, providing that the police justices, in all matters pertaining to the duties of their offices concerning which there is no specific provision by ordinance, shall be governed by the state laws regulating proceedings in justices' courts, a change of venue may be awarded from the first to the second district police court of the city of St. Louis. In re Jones, 90 Mo. App. 318.

Appearance after erroneous award of change.

—Where a police court in a prosecution to recover a penalty for violating a city ordinance, awards a change of venue to a person not entitled to it, such person, by appearing in the police court to which the venue has been erroneously awarded, waives the error, and confers on the latter justice jurisdiction over his person. In re Jones, 90 Mo. App. 318.

Overruling a motion for change of venue, although error, will not deprive a court of jurisdiction to proceed in the enforcement of an ordinance. Ottumwa v. Schaub, 52 Iowa 515, 3 N. W. 529.

27. Zelle v. McHenry, 51 Iowa 572, 2 N. W. 264 [distinguishing Finch v. Marvin, 46 Iowa 384; Jaquith v. Royce, 42 Iowa 406], holding that the statute did not apply to cities of the first class.

28. 1 Bacon Abr. 56; 1 Chitty Pl. 61, 64; 1 Tidd Pr. 9; and, generally, PARTIES.

29. Illinois.—Chicago v. Kenney, 35 Ill. App. 57.

shall be brought by a certain person or in a certain name such method is exclusive.³⁰ A de facto corporation may enforce police penalties.³¹

(II) STATE OR MUNICIPALITY. However, prosecutions for violation of police ordinances are conducted as provided by local legislation in some states in the name of the corporation,³² in others in the name of the state, commonwealth, or people.³³

Indiana.—Greenburgh v. Corwin, 58 Ind. 518.

Louisiana.—State v. Faber, 50 La. Ann. 952, 24 So. 662.

Michigan.—Cooper v. People, 41 Mich. 403, 2 N. W. 51; Romeo v. Chapman, 2 Mich. 179.

Mississippi.—Alexander v. Greenville, 54 Miss. 659.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Vert, 84 Mo. 204; Ex p. Hollwedell, 74 Mo. 395.

Pennsylvania.—Lemon v. Reidel, 1 Lanc. L. Rev. 3.

Texas.—Smith v. Marston, 5 Tex. 426.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1392; and, generally, PENALTIES.

30. Connecticut.—Townsend v. Hoadley, 12 Conn. 541.

Kentucky.—Williamson v. Com., 4 B. Mon. 146, holding that where a statute directs the proceeding to be had in the name of the city, it is error to proceed in the name of the commonwealth.

Massachusetts.—Com. v. Fahey, 5 Cush. 408.

New York.—Yonkers Excise Com'rs v. Glennon, 21 Hun 244.

North Carolina.—Watts v. Scott, 12 N. C. 291.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1392.

31. Hamilton v. Carthage, 24 Ill. 22.

32. Arkansas.—Graham v. State, 1 Ark. 79.

Colorado.—People v. George, 26 Colo. 475, 58 Pac. 598 (holding, however, that Laws (1885), pp. 287, 290, requiring the action to be brought in the corporate name of the city, does not apply to incorporated towns, but only to cities of the first and second classes); Garland v. Denver, 11 Colo. 434, 19 Pac. 460.

Illinois.—Partridge v. Snyder, 78 Ill. 519; Chicago v. Kenney, 35 Ill. App. 57, in name of city.

Iowa.—Centerville v. Miller, 51 Iowa 712, 2 N. W. 527; Davenport v. Bird, 34 Iowa 524.

Kansas.—Emporia v. Volmer, 12 Kan. 622.

Kentucky.—Williamson v. Com., 4 B. Mon. 146. See also Louisville v. Wehmhoff, 116 Ky. 812, 76 S. W. 876, 79 S. W. 201, 25 Ky. L. Rep. 995, 1924.

Louisiana.—State v. Faber, 50 La. Ann. 952, 24 So. 662.

Michigan.—Cooper v. People, 41 Mich. 403, 2 N. W. 51.

Mississippi.—Chrisman v. Jackson, 84 Miss. 787, 37 So. 1015.

Montana.—Helena v. Kent, 32 Mont. 279, 80 Pac. 258.

New Jersey.—Greely v. Passaic, 42 N. J. L. 429.

Pennsylvania.—Philadelphia v. Nell, 3 Yeates 475; Morgan v. Fisher, 1 Just. L. Rep. 108.

Texas.—Bautsch v. State, 27 Tex. App. 342, 11 S. W. 414.

Washington.—Spokane v. Robison, 6 Wash. 547, 33 Pac. 960.

Wyoming.—Jenkins v. Cheyenne, 1 Wyo. 287, in name of city.

Canada.—Cleveland Tp. v. Ledoux, 22 Quebec Super. Ct. 85.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1401.

The legislature may give the power to proceed in the name of a city against offenders for violation of its ordinances, which are punishable by fine. Williamson v. Com., 4 B. Mon. (Ky.) 146.

Under the S. C. Const. art. 5, § 31, providing that all writs and processes shall run and all prosecutions shall be conducted in the name of the state, a prosecution for the violation of a city ordinance by the city council is not prohibited. Abbeville v. Leopard, 61 S. C. 99, 39 S. E. 248.

In Texas, although all prosecutions for crime against the laws of the state must be in the name of the state, nevertheless a city or town incorporated under the general law may ordain that offenders against its penal ordinance shall be prosecuted in the name of the municipality. Ex p. Boland, 11 Tex. App. 159 [quoted in Bautsch v. State, 27 Tex. App. 342, 346, 11 S. W. 414, where it is said: "We think the distinction sought to be drawn and made between 'criminal actions' and 'offenses' or 'petty offenses' is hypercritical and not maintainable"].

Wash. Const. art. 4, § 27, which requires all prosecutions to be conducted in the name of the state refers to prosecutions for violation of state laws and not to prosecutions under municipal ordinances. Seattle v. Chin Let, 19 Wash. 38, 52 Pac. 324; Spokane v. Robison, 6 Wash. 547, 33 Pac. 960. But compare State v. Fountain, 14 Wash. 236, 44 Pac. 270.

Change of style on appeal see infra, XI, B, 4, s. (vi), (A), note 24.

33. California.—Santa Barbara v. Sherman, 61 Cal. 57.

Massachusetts.—In re Goddard, 16 Pick. 504, 28 Am. Dec. 259; Com. v. Worcester, 3 Pick. 462.

Michigan.—Vicksburg v. Briggs, 85 Mich. 502, 48 N. W. 625.

Minnesota.—Faribault v. Wilson, 34 Minn. 254, 25 N. W. 449.

Nebraska.—Brownville v. Cook, 4 Nebr. 101

Pennsylvania.—Van Swartow v. Com., 24 Pa. St. 131.

(iii) OFFICERS, INFORMERS, ETC. In some states the action may be brought in the name of the officer to whom the penalty is payable,³⁴ in the name of the informer,³⁵ in the names of both the informer and the officer,³⁶ or in the names of both the informer and the municipality.³⁷

f. Parties Defendant. Persons joining in an offense may be joined in the complaint.³⁸

g. Process—(i) IN GENERAL. Prosecution for violation of police ordinances may not be inaugurated except in compliance with the constitutional provisions against summary search and seizure,³⁹ and also with the charter or statute authorizing municipal legislation.⁴⁰ "Due process of law" is required for police prosecutions.⁴¹ Except therefore where arrest without warrant is authorized,⁴² some notice of proceedings instituted to recover or enforce a penalty for the violation of a municipal ordinance must be given to the accused;⁴³ in other words, he must be properly brought before the proper tribunal on due and valid process,⁴⁴

South Carolina.—In re Oliver, 21 S. C. 318, 53 Am. Rep. 681.

Washington.—State v. Fountain, 14 Wash. 236, 44 Pac. 270. But compare Seattle v. Chin Let, 19 Wash. 38, 52 Pac. 324; Spokane v. Robison, 6 Wash. 547, 33 Pac. 960.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1401.

34. Townsend v. Hoadley, 12 Conn. 541; Com. v. Fahey, 5 Cush. (Mass.) 408; Yonkers Excise Com'rs v. Glennon, 21 Hun (N. Y.) 244; Watts v. Scott, 12 N. C. 291.

Abolition of office.—When the office of overseer of the poor was abolished in the city of Auburn, and the board of charities and police was substituted in its place, there was, within the meaning of the act of 1878, no overseer of the poor in the city, and an action to recover penalties for the violation of the excise law should be brought in the name of the board of commissioners of excise. Auburn Excise Com'rs v. Merchant, 103 N. Y. 143, 8 N. E. 484, 57 Am. Rep. 705; Auburn Excise Com'rs v. Burtis, 103 N. Y. 136, 8 N. E. 482. See also Yonkers Excise Com'rs v. Glennon, 21 Hun (N. Y.) 244.

In British Columbia any person may properly lay an information for the infraction of a city by-law, although the fine goes to the city. Reg. v. Chipman, 5 Brit. Col. 349.

35. See PENALTIES.

36. Bradley v. Baldwin, 5 Conn. 288.

37. Lancaster v. Hirsh, 1 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 209.

For the use of the informer.—Where a penalty for the violation of a municipal ordinance goes to the person suing, the corporate name of the city or borough, for the use of the informer, naming him, must appear as plaintiff. Lemon v. Reidel, 1 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 3.

38. Philadelphia v. Kitchen, 2 Phila. (Pa.) 44; Clark Cr. L. § 43; 1 McClain Cr. L. §§ 195, 212, 217. See also CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 183 et seq.; INDICTMENTS AND INFORMATIONS, 22 Cyc. 373 et seq.

39. U. S. Const. Amendm. 4.

40. Gambill v. Schmuck, 131 Ala. 321, 31 So. 604.

41. State v. Savannah, T. U. P. Charlt. (Ga.) 235, 4 Am. Dec. 708.

Due process of law generally see CONSTITUTIONAL LAW, 8 Cyc. 1080 et seq.

Arrest of the keeper of a gambling house and destruction of implements found on the premises may be effected, under a single process. State v. Newman, 96 Wis. 258, 71 N. W. 438.

42. See ARREST, 3 Cyc. 877 et seq.

Arrest without warrant.—Municipal peace officers were sometimes authorized, either by general statute, municipal charter, or the terms of a particular ordinance, to arrest without warrant persons whom they find violating municipal ordinances; but at common law no such authority existed. See ARREST, 3 Cyc. 883; Oran v. Bles, 52 Mo. App. 509, where arrest was made without warrant when the offense was committed in the presence of the officer. See also State v. Fisher, 50 La. Ann. 45, 23 So. 92, holding that no affidavit or warrant need precede an arrest and trial before a mayor's court for violation of municipal ordinances. But compare Gambill v. Schmuck, 131 Ala. 321, 31 So. 604, in which case it was held that under power conferred by the charter of a municipal corporation only to pass laws for arrest without warrant of persons against whom charges have been made by citizens, an ordinance undertaking to authorize such arrest in all cases, regardless of charges being made, is void.

43. State v. Savannah, T. U. P. Charlt. (Ga.) 235, 4 Am. Dec. 708; Alexandria Tp. v. Bethlehem Tp., 29 N. J. L. 375; Keeler v. Milledge, 24 N. J. L. 142. In State v. Savannah, supra, a conviction and infliction of a fine on a defendant, without citing him before the council, or giving him notice of their proceedings, was quashed, as being "not only a violation of the most obvious dictates of common law, but it is destitute of every principle by which the social compact is supported."³

Notice or summons for summary trial see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 322.

Each defendant is entitled to notice. St. Louis v. Flynn, 128 Mo. 413, 31 S. W. 17; Alexandria Tp. v. Bethlehem Tp., 29 N. J. L. 375.

44. See infra, XI, B, 4, g, (ii).

usually a summons in civil proceedings,⁴⁵ or a warrant⁴⁶ or capias ad respondendum,⁴⁷ in criminal proceedings or proceedings in the nature of criminal proceedings.

(II) SUMMONS OR WARRANT—(A) In General. Whether warrant,⁴⁸ summons,⁴⁹ or other notice or process⁵⁰ is the proper method of bringing into court one accused of violating a municipal ordinance depends upon the local laws and practice.⁵¹ So too the rules of local procedure govern the regularity and validity of the process,⁵² including the power and authority to issue,⁵³ the Necessity of being before the court to sustain a summary conviction see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 321.

Process generally see PROCESS.

45. See infra, XI, B, 4, g, (II), text and note 48.

46. See infra, XI, B, 4, g, (II), text and note 49.

47. See infra, XI, B, 4, g, (II), text and note 50.

48. Georgia.—Williams v. Sewell, 121 Ga. 665, 49 S. E. 732; Hood v. Griffin, 113 Ga. 190, 38 S. E. 409.

Illinois.—Ewbanks v. Ashley, 36 Ill. 177. See also Schweitzer v. Boettcher, 84 Ill. 289.

Indiana.—Whiting v. Doob, 152 Ind. 157, 52 N. E. 759; Bogart v. New Albany, 1 Ind. 38.

Michigan.—Vicksburg v. Briggs, 85 Mich. 502, 48 N. W. 625; Sheldon v. Hill, 33 Mich. 171.

Minnesota.—St. Peter v. Bauer, 19 Minn. 327.

Missouri.—Kansas v. Zahner, 73 Mo. App. 396.

New Jersey.—Newark v. Murphy, 40 N. J. L. 145.

North Carolina.—State v. Cainan, 94 N. C. 880; State v. Merritt, 83 N. C. 677.

Ohio.—O'Brien v. Cleveland, 4 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 189, 1 Clev. L. Rep. 100.

Pennsylvania.—Hanover v. O'Bold, 11 York Leg. Rec. 131.

South Carolina.—Clinton v. Leake, 71 S. C. 22, 50 S. E. 541.

Tennessee.—McMinnville v. Stroud, 109 Tenn. 569, 72 S. W. 949; Bristol v. Burrow, 5 Lea 128; Meaher v. Chattanooga, 1 Head 74.

West Virginia.—Beasley v. Beckley, 28 W. Va. 81.

United States.—Barney v. Washington City, 2 Fed. Cas. No. 1,033, 1 Cranch C. C. 248; Delany v. Washington, 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,755, 2 Cranch C. C. 459; McGunnigle v. Washington, 16 Fed. Cas. No. 8,818, 2 Cranch C. C. 460.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 1394, 1404.

Compare Gambill v. Schmuck, 131 Ala. 321, 31 So. 604.

Either warrant or summons see Missouri v. Hutchinson, 71 Mo. 46; Peterson v. State, (Neb. 1907) 112 N. W. 306; Sutton v. McConnell, 46 Wis. 269, 50 N. W. 414; Pittston v. Rosenthal, 9 Kulp (Pa.) 547, warrant or summons at the discretion of the mayor. In Oshkosh v. Schwartz, 55 Wis.

483, 13 N. W. 552, it is said: "The prosecution were at liberty to proceed by summons without oath, or by warrant with oath."

49. Colorado.—Saner v. People, 17 Colo. App. 307, 69 Pac. 76.

Georgia.—Rothschild v. Darien, 69 Ga. 503.

Illinois.—Schweitzer v. Boettcher, 84 Ill.

289. Kentucky.—Com. v. Price, 94 S. W. 32, 29 Ky. L. Rep. 593.

Missouri.—In re Jones, 90 Mo. App. 318.

New Jersey.—White v. Neptune City, 56 N. J. L. 222, 28 Atl. 378.

New York.—New York v. Eisler, 10 Daly 396.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 1394, 1404.

50. Alton v. Kirsch, 68 Ill. 261 (capias); State v. Perth Amboy, 51 N. J. L. 406, 17 Atl. 971 (process in the nature of summons, or warrant, etc.); Keeler v. Milledge, 24 N. J. L. 142 (notice required by ordinance); Milton Borough v. Hoagland, 3 Pa. Co. Ct. 283 (writ of summons or capias).

The capias may operate as a summons only. Alton v. Kirsch, 68 Ill. 261; Wann v. McGoon, 3 Ill. 74.

51. See cases cited supra, notes 48–50; infra, notes 52–60.

52. See cases cited infra, notes 53–60. See Sheldon v. Hill, 33 Mich. 171, holding that, under a village charter contemplating process for arrest substantially like a warrant for offenses triable by justices of the peace, a warrant commanding the officer to arrest the person named and to bring him before the justice to answer complaint filed against him, etc., "in a plea of debt for the penalty to their damage of fifty dollars," etc., was irregular.

Amendment see infra, XI, B, 4, 1.

Presumption favors the regularity of official action. State v. Earle, 66 S. C. 194, 44 S. E. 781.

53. Georgia.—Williams v. Sewell, 121 Ga. 665, 49 S. E. 732, holding that the mayor may issue a warrant, although the charter does not in express terms authorize him to do so.

Illinois.—Schweitzer v. Boettcher, 84 Ill. 289.

Missouri.—Missouri v. Hutchinson, 71 Mo. 46.

Pennsylvania.—Pittston v. Rosenthal, 9 Kulp 547.

Tennessee.—Meaher v. Chattanooga, 1 Head 74, holding that the mayor, recorder, or other officer charged with the enforcement of ordistyle⁵⁴ and signing of the process,⁵⁵ its service,⁵⁶ the laying of the venue⁵⁷ and the necessary and requisite statements and allegations of the accusation made,⁵⁸ as nances may issue warrants for their violation.

Upon oath or affirmation.—A complaint under oath or affirmation is often required in order to procure a warrant for the arrest of a person for violating an ordinance. Schweitzer v. Boettcher, 84 Ill. 289; Pittston v. Rosenthal, 9 Kulp (Pa.) 547; Philadelphia v. Campbell, 33 Leg. Int. (Pa.) 12. See infra, XI, B, 4, i, (III), (E).

Upon written or printed statement.—The recorder of Missouri City has no power to issue a warrant of arrest or summons against a person charged with an offense before a written or printed statement of the charge has been filed. Missouri v. Hutchinson, 71 Mo. 46. See infra, XI, B, 4, j.

Upon personal knowledge of mayor, etc.—Although the city ordinance of 1852, imposing a penalty, directs that upon "complaint" being made to a certain officer "on oath" he "shall" issue a warrant for the arrest of the offender, he may nevertheless issue it without such oath or upon his own knowledge. Meaher v. Chattanooga, 1 Head (Tenn.) 74.

54. Scranton v. Frothingham, 5 Pa. Dist. 639 (holding that the summons should be in the name of the commonwealth to the use of the municipality); Nashville v. Pearl, 11 Humphr. (Tenn.) 249 (holding that a provision of the state constitution that all writs and other processes shall run in the name of the state of Tennessee applies to a distress warrant issued by a recorder of a municipal corporation, and that a warrant in the name of the "corporation of Nashville" is void). Compare Davis v. Davis, 40 W. Va. 464, 21 S. E. 906, holding that a summons in the nature of an order to show cause, issued by a town council to a person charged with keeping a nuisance, not being a writ of process, need not run in the name of the state.

A warrant is irregular which is issued at the instance of the city commissioner. Scranton v. Frothingham, 5 Pa. Dist. 639.

55. O'Brien v. Cleveland, 4 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 189, 1 Clev. L. Rep. 100.

By clerk.—A warrant from a police court may be signed by the clerk of the police judge; this is an issuing of it by the judge through his clerk. O'Brien v. Cleveland, 4 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 189, 1 Clev. L. Rep. 100.

56. White v. Neptune City, 56 N. J. L. 222, 28 Atl. 378, holding that summons must be served upon the person designated therein.

57. Beasley v. Beckley, 28 W. Va. 81, holding that where the venue is otherwise properly laid, the offense need not be alleged as having been committed in the county in which the municipality is situated.

58. See cases cited infra, this note.

The warrant should set forth with reasonable certainty a substantial breach or violation of the ordinance. Hood v. Griffin, 113 Ga. 190, 38 S. E. 409; Whiting v. Doob, 152

Ind. 157, 52 N. E. 759; Vicksburg v. Briggs, 85 Mich. 502, 48 N. W. 625; Sheldon v. Hill, 33 Mich. 171; Kansas v. Zahner, 73 Mo. App. 396; State v. Beverly, 43 N. J. L. 139; Keeler v. Milledge, 24 N. J. L. 142; State v. Merritt, 83 N. C. 677; Hanover v. O'Bold, 11 York Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 131. Clinton v. Leake, 71 S. C. 22, 50 S. E. 541; Charleston v. Seeba, 4 Strobb. (S. C.) 319; Barney v. Washington City, 2 Fed. Cas. No. 1,033, 1 Cranch C. C. 248; McGunnigle v. Washington, 16 Fed. Cas. No. 8,818, 2 Cranch C. C. 460; Washington v. Lynch, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,231, 5 Cranch C. C. 498; White v. Washington, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,560, 2 Cranch C. C. 337.

"Wrongfully" or "unlawfully."—The warrant, it seems, need not allege that the act was done wrongfully or unlawfully, unless such manner is an essential element of the offense. See People v. Garrabad, 20 Misc. (N. Y.) 127, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 827 [reversed without opinion in 25 N. Y. App. Div. 624, 49 N. Y. Suppl. 1141].

Sufficient statements of offense see Hood v. Griffin, 113 Ga. 190, 38 S. E. 409 (allegation that accused did, on a certain day in the city named, keep for sale spirituous liquors, sufficiently charged the offense of a violation of an ordinance making it unlawful for any person to keep for sale any spirituous or vinous liquor within the city limits); Vicksburg v. Briggs, 85 Mich. 502, 48 N. W. 625 (setting out the particulars of the offense, stating that it was done "contrary" to the provisions of ordinance No. 6 of said village, entitled "an ordinance relative to disturbances and breaches of the peace"); Keeler v. Milledge, 24 N. J. L. 142 (a notice that set out with clearness the offense charged, and the substance of the ordinance which had been violated, with reference to the title, date, and section); State v. Merritt, 83 N. C. 677 (setting out "that on or about May 9th, 1880, the defendants [named them] did while driving out of town act in a disorderly manner by driving at a furious rate, etc., contrary to law and in violation of the sixth ordinance of said town and against the peace and dignity of the state"); Clinton v. Leake, 71 S. C. 22, 50 S. E. 541 (charging that defendant wilfully cut a person named with a knife and otherwise abused him on the streets of the town named); Clinton v. Leake, supra (charging that defendant wilfully abused and shot at a person named on the streets of the town named, without provocation); Clinton v. Leake, supra (allegation that defendant wilfully struck and abused one C on the streets of the town, without provocation and in violation of the ordinances of the town, sufficiently sets forth the offense); Charleston v. Seeba, 4 Strobb. (S. C.) 319 (holding that under an ordinance providing that no negro or person of color shall be permitted to assemble or loiter in any liquor store, and the owner or keeper of such store shall forfeit well as reference to the particular ordinance of the municipality which is alleged to have been violated.⁵⁹ The requirements for valid process in such prosecutions are neither more nor less stringent than those of ordinary actions or prosecutions.⁶⁰

(b) Defects and Variance. For lack of any essential ingredient the process may be quashed.⁶¹ The court may, however, disregard all such defects in process as would be disregarded after verdict in an action of debt or information upon a penal statute.⁶² Objections to process may be waived.⁶³ A variance, however, between summons or warrant and the complaint, when material, will not give the court complete jurisdiction.⁶⁴

h Institution of Proceeding and Filing of Document of Prosecution. It is moreover held to be necessary that the prosecution shall be instituted and conducted by some person who has been duly authorized or permitted by law to do so,⁶⁵

a certain sum in every case where such negroes shall be found assembled in his or her store, the summary process need not state the names or sexes of such negroes or the names of their owners).

Insufficient statements of offense see Delany v. Washington, 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,755, 2 Cranch C. C. 459 (too vague and uncertain to support a conviction); Washington v. Lynch, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,231, 5 Cranch C. C. 498 (vague and uncertain).

59. See cases cited infra, this note.

Must show the existence of the ordinance alleged to have been violated. McMinnville v. Stroud, 109 Tenn. 569, 72 S. W. 949.

Must refer to the ordinance in some way. Keeler v. Milledge, 24 N. J. L. 142; People v. Van Houten, 13 Misc. (N. Y.) 603, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 186 [affirmed in 91 Hun 638, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 1130].

Need not set out the ordinance in terms.—State v. Cainan, 94 N. C. 880.

Reference by name, number, title, page, or section may be required. White v. Neptune City, 56 N. J. L. 222, 28 Atl. 378; Keeler v. Milledge, 24 N. J. L. 142; Boothe v. Georgetown, 3 Fed. Cas. No. 1,651, 2 Cranch C. C. 356.

Indorsed on process.—New York v. Eisler, 10 Daly (N. Y.) 396, holding that where a statute directs that, in actions to recover penalties, "a general reference to the statute" must be indorsed on the copy of the summons, such indorsement must be made when the action is brought to recover a penalty for a violation of a municipal ordinance.

Authority to pass an ordinance need not be alleged in the process. State v. Merritt, 83 N. C. 677, holding that it is not necessary, since the passage of the general law for the government of towns, to allege the authority of the town to pass the ordinance, as the court will take judicial notice of that fact.

60. State v. Cainan, 94 N. C. 880.

61. State v. Goulding, 44 N. H. 284.

62. McGunnigle v. Washington, 16 Fed. Cas. No. 8,818, 2 Cranch C. C. 460.

63. Ewbanks v. Ashley, 36 Ill. 177, holding that such objections are waived by appeal.

64. White v. Neptune City, 56 N. J. L. 222, 28 Atl. 378, reference to a section in the complaint different from the section referred to in the summons is a material variance. See also Lesterjelle v. Columbus, 30 Ga. 936, holding that a party summoned to answer for an offense committed against one ordinance cannot be proceeded against and punished by another and different ordinance. See infra, XI, B, 4, m.

Certiorari will lie to review a conviction based upon proceedings in which there is a material variance between the summons and the complaint. White v. Neptune City, 56 N. J. L. 222, 28 Atl. 378.

65. Com. v. Cutler, Thach. Cr. Cas. (Mass.) 137 (holding that any citizen may prefer a complaint to the grand jury, or to the public prosecutor, who is authorized to proceed on such information, against a person erecting a building in the city of Boston with walls less thick than the statute prescribes); State v. Robitshek, 60 Minn. 123, 61 N. W. 1023, 33 L. R. A. 33 (holding that a city may provide that no prosecution for violation of an ordinance shall be commenced except on complaint of a police officer of the city); Kansas City v. Flanagan, 69 Mo. 22 (on information of city attorney); Kinksville v. Munyon, 114 Mo. App. 567, 91 S. W. 57 (holding that where a municipal ordinance of a city of the third class, with the violation of which defendant was charged, provided that he should be entitled to a trial by jury as in prosecutions before justices of the peace, "and all trials before the recorder shall be conducted in like manner as cases before the justice of the peace," it did not render applicable to such proceedings the practice regulating the procedure in misdemeanor cases before justices of the peace, requiring the filing of an information, signed and verified by the prosecuting attorney, in the police court of the city, but that defendant could be properly proceeded against under the statute applicable to cities of the third class on the filing of a sworn complaint by any person); Meaher v. Chattanooga, 1 Head (Tenn.) 74 (upon information of judge or trial court); Spokane v. Robison, 6 Wash. 547, 33 Pac. 960 (holding that the provision of 1 Hill Code Oreg. § 533, that prosecutions for violation of a city ordinance may be on complaint of any person, does not conflict with a charter provision that the city attorney shall conduct all prosecutions for offenses against ordinances).

At the instance of a municipal officer.—In Singer v. Philadelphia, 112 Pa. St. 410, and that the document of prosecution shall be presented to or filed in the proper court.⁶⁶

i. Declaration, Complaint, Affidavit, or Information — (1) IN GENERAL. Prosecutions or proceedings which are brought for the violation of municipal ordinances are usually based upon complaints⁶⁷ or informations⁶⁸ on oath or 4 Atl. 28, it was held that, the city of Philadelphia being clothed with a right of action to recover the penalty imposed by the act of April 21, 1855, for the violation of building regulations, it was no concern of defendant, in an action to recover the penalty, whether the suit was brought at the instance of the city solicitor or the building inspector.

66. State v. Mack, 41 La. Ann. 1079, 6 So. 808. See Lovilla v. Cobb, 126 Iowa 557, 102 N. W. 496, holding that an information sworn to before the mayor, left with him and treated by him as an information, and upon which a conviction was subsequently had, was sufficiently filed, although it was never marked "filed."

To give the justice's court complete jurisdiction in proceedings under the statute, there must be filed in the court a complaint, on oath or affirmation, that a person designated has violated a certain section of an ordinance passed under authority of the act, and a summons, stating what section of the ordinance has been violated, must be served upon the person designated. White v. Neptune City, 56 N. J. L. 222, 28 Atl. 378.

67. Alabama.—Case v. Mobile, 30 Ala. 538.

California.—Denninger v. Pomona, 145 Cal. 628, 79 Pac. 364.

Colorado.—Saner v. People, 17 Colo. App. 307, 60 Pac. 76.

Connecticut.—State v. Carpenter, 60 Conn. 97, 22 Atl. 497.

Indiana.—Whiting v. Doob, 152 Ind. 157, 52 N. E. 759.

Kansas.—Johnson v. Winfield, 48 Kan. 129, 29 Pac. 559; Kingman v. Berry, 40 Kan. 625, 20 Pac. 527; Smith v. Emporia, 27 Kan. 528.

Maine.—Lewiston v. Fairfield, 47 Me. 481; Portland v. Rolfe, 37 Me. 400.

Massachusetts.—Com. v. Cutter, 156 Mass. 52, 29 N. E. 1146; Com. v. Bean, 14 Gray 52; Com. v. Rice, 9 Metc. 253; Com. v. Gay, 5 Pick. 44.

Michigan.—In re Bushey, 105 Mich. 64, 62 N. W. 1036.

Minnesota.—State v. Marciniak, 97 Minn. 355, 105 N. W. 965; State v. Gill, 89 Minn. 502, 95 N. W. 449; State v. Robitshek, 60 Minn. 123, 61 N. W. 1023, 33 L. R. A. 33; Faribault v. Wilson, 34 Minn. 254, 25 N. W. 449.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Babcock, 156 Mo. 154, 56 S. W. 731; Gallatin v. Tarwater, 143 Mo. 40, 44 S. W. 750; St. Louis v. Dorr, 136 Mo. 370, 37 S. W. 1108; State v. Baker, 74 Mo. 394; Memphis v. O'Connor, 53 Mo. 468; Mexico v. Harris, 115 Mo. App. 707, 92 S. W. 505; Orrick v. Akers, 109 Mo. App. 662, 83 S. W. 649; Tarkio v. Loyd, 109 Mo. App. 171, 82 S. W. 1127; Billings v. Brown, 106 Mo. App. 240, 80 S. W. 322; Green City v. Hol- singer, 76 Mo. App. 567; Columbia v. Johnson, 72 Mo. App. 232; Lamar v. Hewitt, 60 Mo. App. 314; Clarence v. Patrick, 54 Mo. App. 462; Marshall v. Standard, 24 Mo. App. 192.

New Hampshire.—State v. Goulding, 44 N. H. 284; Stevens v. Dimond, 6 N. H. 330.

New Jersey.—Bray v. Damato, 70 N. J. L. 583, 57 Atl. 394; Atlantic City v. Crandol, 67 N. J. L. 488, 51 Atl. 447; Osborne v. Spring Lake, 64 N. J. L. 362, 46 Atl. 164; Schafer v. Atlantic City, 58 N. J. L. 131, 32 Atl. 133; White v. Neptune City, 56 N. J. L. 222, 28 Atl. 378; Keeler v. Milledge, 24 N. J. L. 142, complaint in the nature of an information at common law.

Oregon.—Cunningham v. Berry, 17 Oreg. 622, 22 Pac. 115; Barton v. La Grande, 17 Oreg. 577, 22 Pac. 111.

Pennsylvania.—Philadelphia v. Campbell, 11 Phila. 163. See also Pittston v. Rosenthal, 9 Kulp 547.

South Dakota.—Lead v. Klatt, 11 S. D. 109, 75 N. W. 896.

Vermont.—State v. Bosworth, 74 Vt. 315, 52 Atl. 423; State v. Soragan, 40 Vt. 450.

Washington.—Spokane v. Robison, 6 Wash. 547, 33 Pac. 960.

Wisconsin.—State v. Nohl, 113 Wis. 15, 88 N. W. 1004; Fink v. Milwaukee, 17 Wis. 26.

See § 6 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1406.

68. Delaware.—Pratesi v. Wilmington, 4 Pennw. 258, 54 Atl. 694.

Iowa.—Lovilla v. Cobb, 126 Iowa 557, 102 N. W. 496; State v. Wilson, 109 Iowa 93, 80 N. W. 230; Bayard v. Baker, 76 Iowa 220, 40 N. W. 818; State v. Smouse, 49 Iowa 634.

Louisiana.—Minden v. McCrary, 108 La. 518, 32 So. 468.

Massachusetts.—Com. v. Cutler, Thach. Cr. Cas. 137.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Grafeman Dairy Co., 190 Mo. 492, 89 S. W. 617, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 936; St. Louis v. Liessing, 190 Mo. 464, 89 S. W. 611, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 918; Kansas City v. Flanagan, 69 Mo. 22; Kirksville v. Munyon, 114 Mo. App. 567, 91 S. W. 57; Kansas City v. Zahner, 73 Mo. App. 396; St. Joseph v. Dye, 72 Mo. App. 214; Kansas City v. Whitman, 70 Mo. App. 630; Kansas City v. O'Connor, 36 Mo. App. 594.

New York.—People v. Garabed, 20 Misc. 127, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 827 [reversed without opinion in 25 N. Y. App. Div. 624, 49 N. Y. Suppl. 1141].

Ohio.—O'Brien v. Cleveland, 4 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 189, 1 Clev. L. Rep. 100.

South Carolina.—In re Oliver, 21 S. C. 318, 53 Am. Rep. 681.

Texas.—Curry v. State. (Cr. App. 1893) 24 S. W. 516.

affirmation;⁶⁹ but they may be based upon affidavit⁷⁰ or indictment,⁷¹ or even upon the written report of designated officials,⁷² the proper method of instituting the proceedings depending upon local laws and rules of practice.⁷³

(II) RULES OF PROCEDURE GOVERNING. Generally speaking the sufficiency of the complaint or information, where the proceeding is civil in its nature, is to be determined by the rules applicable in other civil cases.⁷⁴ Where the proceeding is criminal or quasi-criminal in its nature the proceeding is governed by the rules of criminal procedure rather than by the rules of civil procedure,⁷⁵ usually the rules governing summary trials and conviction in criminal cases.⁷⁶

(III) FORMAL REQUISITES—(A) In General. Neither the same⁷⁷ nor a greater

Canada.—In re Fisher, 15 Manitoba 475.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1406.

An information is the proper paper to be filed in a municipal court for the violation of a municipal ordinance in a criminal proceeding. Pratesi v. Wilmington, 4 Pennw. (Del.) 258, 54 Atl. 694.

On appeal from the municipal court in a criminal proceeding for violating a city ordinance, an information is the proper paper to be filed. Pratesi v. Wilmington, 4 Pennw. (Del.) 258, 54 Atl. 694. See infra, XI, B, 4, s, (VII), (E), (2).

In civil actions in the nature of debt, for the recovery of penalties, no written complaint or information may be required. See infra, notes 74, 80.

69. See infra, XI, B, 4, i, (III), (E).

70. Louisiana.—State v. Thompson, 111 La. 315, 35 So. 582; State v. Baker, 44 La. Ann. 79, 10 So. 405; State v. Dunbar, 43 La. Ann. 836, 9 So. 492.

Mississippi.—Telheard v. Bay St. Louis, 87 Miss. 580, 40 So. 326.

New Jersey.—Dunn v. Perth Amboy, 51 N. J. L. 406, 17 Atl. 971, oath or affirmation or affidavit.

North Carolina.—State v. Wilson, 106 N. C. 718, 11 S. E. 254.

Ohio.—Neifeld v. State, 23 Ohio Cir. Ct. 246 (affidavit or information); Jefferies v. Defiance, 11 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 144, 25 Cinc. L. Bul. 68.

Pennsylvania.—See Pittston v. Rosenthal, 9 Kulp 547, affirmation or oath.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1406.

71. State v. Moultrieville, Rice (S. C.) 158.

72. See infra, XI, B, 4, j.

The requirement for complaint on oath is complied with by the official report of an officer acting on his oath of office. St. Louis v. Vert, 84 Mo. 204. See also infra, XI, B, 4, i, (III), (E); XI, B, 4, j.

73. See Ingersoll Pub. Corp. 249, where it is said: "The nature and form of complaint, evidence, and trial for violation of municipal ordinances are so varied in the several states by constitutions, statutes, and decisions therein as to be regarded as matters of local rather than of general law, and therefore are not susceptible of general statement and treatment."

74. Mexico v. Harris, 115 Mo. App. 707,

92 S. W. 505. See also supra, XI, B, 4, b; and infra, note 77 et seq.

In actions to recover penalties for breach of municipal ordinances the general rules of pleading in civil actions rather than criminal prosecutions in the state are applicable. Springfield v. Ford, 40 Mo. App. 586.

Thus no complaint or information may be required in a civil action in the nature of debt to recover a penalty for breach of an ordinance. Saner v. People, 17 Colo. App. 307, 69 Pac. 76 (holding that under 2 Mills Annot. St. Colo. § 4435, a complaint is not necessary); Chicago v. Kenney, 35 Ill. App. 57 (holding that in a civil action in form of debt, under City and Village Act, §§ 84, 278, relating to the arrest and prosecution of persons breaking the peace or violating municipal ordinances, an affidavit or complaint is not necessary to the jurisdiction of a justice); Billings v. Brown, 106 Mo. App. 240, 80 S. W. 322 (holding that where the proceeding is of a civil character it is not necessary that an information be filed by the city attorney or any other person). Compare Deitz v. Central, 1 Colo. 323. And see infra, note 80.

75. See supra, XI, B, 4, b; and cases cited infra, note 77 et seq.

Where the proceeding is criminal in its nature a formal complaint under oath is necessary, and all pleadings required must be both formal and particular. Campbell v. Thompson, 16 Me. 117; Kansas City v. Flanagan, 69 Mo. 22.

76. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 321 et seq. Form and requisites of complaint or information for summary trial see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 323 et seq.

77. State v. Baker, 44 La. Ann. 79, 10 So. 405; State v. Dunbar, 43 La. Ann. 836, 9 So. 492; Memphis v. O'Connor, 53 Mo. 468; Springfield v. Ford, 40 Mo. App. 586. But see Cunningham v. Berry, 17 Oreg. 622, 22 Pac. 115, where it is said that the complaint must set out matters constituting the offense as fully as is required for a similar offense in an indictment.

Less formality required than in indictments see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 324.

Charges before recorders for violation of the laws or ordinances do not require the precision of indictments. State v. Finnegan, 50 La. Ann. 549, 23 So. 621.

The statute may require less formality. See Aderhold v. Anniston, 99 Ala. 521, 12 degree of strictness⁷⁸ can be required than is required in indictments. Regardless of its form if it notifies defendant of the particular ordinance which he is charged with violating, and states facts sufficient to bar another prosecution for the same offense, the complaint is sufficient.⁷⁹

(B) Written or Oral. Although a written declaration may not always be necessary,⁸⁰ generally a complaint in writing and sometimes a written complaint verified by oath is required.⁸¹

(C) Entitling and Venue. The complaint or other document of prosecution should be properly entitled,⁸² and must contain a sufficient statement as to the venue.⁸³

(D) *Conclusion.*⁸⁴ The complaint need not as a rule conclude "against the peace and dignity of the state,"⁸⁵ nor even with "against the form of the statute

So. 472; Ala. Code, § 3405; Shannon Code Tenn. §§ 4873, 4878.

78. State v. Finnegan, 50 La. Ann. 549, 23 So. 621; State v. Reckards, 21 Minn. 47.

Greater particularity is not demanded than is required in a state prosecution for misdemeanor. Minden v. McCrary, 108 La. 518, 32 So. 468; State v. Baker, 44 La. Ann. 79, 10 So. 405; St. Louis v. Smith, 10 Mo. 438; Keeler v. Milledge, 24 N. J. L. 142.

Liberal rules should be applied to complaints filed in police courts for the violation of municipal ordinances, and the same strictness is not required in such cases as in prosecutions for public offenses in the name of the state by information or indictment. Kingman v. Berry, 40 Kan. 625, 20 Pac. 527.

79. Mexico v. Harris, 115 Mo. App. 707, 92 S. W. 505. See also Goshen v. Croxton, 34 Ind. 239; St. Louis v. Smith, 10 Mo. 438. See also infra, XI, B, 4, i, (v), (A); XI, B, 4, i, (vi).

Although not drawn in regular form an affidavit may be sufficient to sustain proceedings in the mayor's court for the violation of an ordinance. Minden v. McCrary, 108 La. 518, 32 So. 468.

Reasonable notice to defendant is all that is required. State v. Finnegan, 50 La. Ann. 549, 23 So. 621.

80. Deitz v. Central, 1 Colo. 323 (holding that where a city charter provided that to recover a penalty it shall be sufficient to declare generally, in debt, it is not necessary in an action for the penalty to file a written declaration as in a common-law action for debt); Alton v. Kirsch, 68 Ill. 261; Topeka v. Kersch, 70 Kan. 840, 79 Pac. 681, 80 Pac. 29; Green City v. Holsinger, 76 Mo. App. 567. See supra, note 74.

If defendant is present complaint may be oral. Green City v. Holsinger, 76 Mo. App. 567; Oran v. Bles, 52 Mo. App. 509.

Oral complaint is sufficient in some jurisdictions. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 323.

When made by a police officer or town marshal the complaint need not be in writing, if defendant is present in court and in custody. Mo. Rev. St. (1889) § 1685 [quoted in Oran v. Bles, 52 Mo. App. 509, 510].

81. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 323; infra, XI, B, 4, i, (iii), (e).

Complaint should be in writing unless de-

[XI, B, 4, i, (iii), (A)] defendant is in court. Oran v. Bles, 52 Mo. App. 509.

82. State v. Wilson, 109 Iowa 93, 80 N. W. 230; State v. Smouse, 49 Iowa 634; Faribault v. Wilson, 34 Minn. 254, 25 N. W. 449.

An erroneous entitling may, however, be immaterial. State v. Wilson, 109 Iowa 93, 80 N. W. 230, where the information was entitled in the name of the state instead of the city. So an erroneous entitling of subsequent papers has been held to constitute a mere immaterial irregularity. Faribault v. Wilson, 34 Minn. 254, 25 N. W. 449. In State v. Smouse, 49 Iowa 634, where the information was entitled "The State of Iowa, City of Washington," the words "State of Iowa" were treated as surplusage, the information showing that the prosecution was by and in the name of the city.

83. Smith v. Emporia, 27 Kan. 528; State v. Baker, 74 Mo. 394. See also Barton v. Le Grande, 17 Oreg. 577, 22 Pac. 111.

Statement of venue in complaints for summary trial see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 323.

Name of county need not be stated. See Beasley v. Beckley, 28 W. Va. 81.

The words "town" and "village" may be used interchangeably, and where a complaint so uses them it has been held to constitute a harmless defect. Orriek v. Akers, 109 Mo. App. 662, 83 S. W. 549.

Where the caption contains the names of the state, county, and city, and the body of the complaint states the name of the city; that it is of the second class and is duly organized under the laws of the state; and that defendant did on a day named, within its corporate limits, commit an offense prohibited by its ordinance, the complaint in a police court by a city of the second class sufficiently sets forth the venue. Smith v. Emporia, 27 Kan. 528.

84. Proper conclusion in summary proceedings see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 326.

85. State v. Marciniak, 97 Minn. 355, 105 N. W. 965 (holding that in a complaint the words "against the peace and dignity of the state of Minnesota" must be considered as surplusage, and that their use cannot be construed as making the charge against defendant of violating any criminal statute of the state); Curry v. State, (Tex. Cr. App. 1893) in such case made and provided,"⁸⁶ unless the prosecution can only be maintained by virtue of a statute,⁸⁷ in which case it seems it must conclude contra formam statuti.⁸⁸ However, it usually does conclude "contrary to the ordinance," etc., or with words to like effect,⁸⁹ and it should do so or at least refer to and identify the ordinance with an allegation that the same has been violated.⁹⁰

(E) Signature and Verification. By the weight of authority the complaint is required to be subscribed⁹¹ and sworn to⁹² by the complainant. Upon such 24 S. W. 516. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 326. But see In re Oliver, 21 S. C. 318, 53 Am. Rep. 681, where information concluding "against the peace and dignity of the state" was sustained. Contra, State v. Soragan, 40 Vt. 450, holding that a complaint for violation of a municipal ordinance should conclude against the statute and also against the peace and dignity of the state.

86. State v. Gill, 89 Minn. 502, 95 N. W. 449. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 326. Contra, State v. Cruickshank, 71 Vt. 94, 42 Atl. 983; State v. Soragan, 40 Vt. 450.

A declaration for a penalty imposed by a village ordinance need not conclude contra formam statuti. Winooski v. Gokey, 49 Vt. 282.

87. See State v. Gill, 89 Minn. 502, 95 N. W. 449, holding that since the repeal of the common law the conclusion "contrary to the statute" is functionless, except where the same acts are declared to be an offense punishable both by statute and by municipal ordinance.

88. Com. v. Gay, 5 Pick. (Mass.) 44; Com. v. Worcester, 3 Pick. (Mass.) 462; State v. Gill, 89 Minn. 502, 95 N. W. 449; Stevens v. Dimond, 6 N. H. 330.

89. Com. v. Gay, 5 Pick. (Mass.) 44; In re Bushey, 105 Mich. 64, 62 N. W. 1036; Faribault v. Wilson, 34 Minn. 254, 25 N. W. 449; Stevens v. Dimond, 6 N. H. 330; and cases cited supra, notes 85-88.

90. Faribault v. Wilson, 34 Minn. 254, 25 N. W. 449. See also infra, XI, B, 4, i, (vi).

91. Kansas City v. Flanagan, 69 Mo. 22; Oran v. Bles, 52 Mo. App. 509 (unless defendant is in court and in custody); Curry v. State, (Tex. Cr. App. 1893) 24 S. W. 516.

Signing of complaint for summary trial see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 325.

An information of a city attorney cannot be signed by his deputy. Kansas City v. Flanagan, 69 Mo. 22, must be signed by the city attorney.

92. Alabama.—Ahrlichs v. Cullman, 130 Ala. 439, 30 So. 415.

Iowa.—Lovilla v. Cobb, 126 Iowa 557, 102 N. W. 496.

Massachusetts.—Com. v. Cutler, Thach. Cr. Cas. 137.

Missouri.—Clarence v. Patrick, 54 Mo. App. 462 (where the complaint was verified by the marshal); Oran v. Bles, 52 Mo. App. 509 (unless defendant is in court and in custody); Edina v. Brown, 19 Mo. App. 672.

New Jersey.—State v. Perth Amboy, 51 N. J. L. 406, 17 Atl. 971. See White v. Neptune City, 56 N. J. L. 222, 23 Atl. 378, must be sworn to or affirmed.

Pennsylvania.—Philadelphia v. Campbell, 33 Leg. Int. 12.

Texas.—Curry v. State, (Cr. App. 1893) 24 S. W. 516.

See 3 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1406.

Verification of complaint for summary trial see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 325.

The prosecuting attorney or prosecuting officer need not swear to an information filed by him. O'Brien v. Cleveland, 4 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 189, 1 Clev. L. Rep. 100; In re Jager, 29 S. C. 438, 7 S. E. 605. See Kansas City v. O'Connor, 36 Mo. App. 594, where, by provisions of a city charter, a warrant for violation of any ordinance might issue on the oath of any person, or upon information of the city attorney; and the recorder was made ex-officio justice of the peace within the city. The city ordinances provided that all cases triable before the recorder should be proceeded with in the same manner as trials before justices of the peace for misdemeanors, and that the city attorney should prepare all complaints for violation of city ordinances and prosecute all such offenses. It was held that as under the general statutes misdemeanors were to be prosecuted before justices of the peace by information, after an arrest for violation of an ordinance on warrant issued on oath of a private person, there could be no trial therefor before the recorder until an information based on such oath had been filed by the city attorney; such information to be signed by him, instead of by the prosecuting attorney, as required in respect of informations before justices.

Where the statute does not require the complaint to be supported by affidavit or oath it is immaterial whether the complaint as filed conforms to the affidavit upon which it purports to be based (Mexico v. Harris, 115 Mo. App. 707, 92 S. W. 505), or, it seems, whether the verification is good or bad as such (Billings v. Brown, 106 Mo. App. 240, 80 S. W. 322).

On information and belief.—In some states a verification merely on information and belief is insufficient (see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 325), while in others it is sufficient (see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 326). An affidavit made before the mayor of a municipality, in which the affiant states that he "has probable cause for believing, and does believe," that a specific offense prohibited by an ordinance of the municipality has been committed by defendant, is sufficient as a complaint for the violation of a municipal ordinance. Ahrlichs v. Cullman, 130 Ala. 439, 30 So. 415.

verified allegations the criminal process may issue, directing the arrest of the person charged with violating the ordinance.⁹³

(IV) DESCRIPTION OF PARTIES AND AUTHORITY TO SUE. The parties should be properly named and described in the complaint.⁹⁴ The person charged should be identified with certainty.⁹⁵ So plaintiff's right to sue for the penalty must be alleged.⁹⁶

(V) *ALLEGING BREACH OF ORDINANCE OR CHARGING THE OFFENSE*⁹⁷—

(A) In General. The complaint or information must of course show all the facts necessary to give the court or tribunal jurisdiction,⁹⁸ and state such facts as would render a judgment thereon a bar to a subsequent judgment.⁹⁹ The accused having the right to demand the nature and cause of the accusation,¹ the complaint or information must state sufficient facts to notify him of the offense with which he is charged² and is called upon to answer,³ as well as the ordinance which he is accused of violating.⁴ It should contain all the averments of fact essential to con-

Immaterial defects in jurat.—Where the police judge before whom the complaint was made signed the jurat, but did not include the name of his office in the signature, this did not invalidate the complaint, where it appeared from the transcript of the case brought to the district court upon which an appeal was founded that the person who signed the jurat was police judge of the city. Kingman v. Berry, 40 Kan. 625, 20 Pac. 527. "J. P." instead of "P. J." or the words "police judge" in the name of the police judge who signs the jurat does not vitiate the complaint. Cherokee v. Fox, 34 Kan. 16, 17 Pac. 625. Where the jurat was signed by the mayor in his own name individually, without any reference to his title of office, but was sealed with his official seal which bore the name of the city and the words "mayor's office," the verification was sufficient. Clarence v. Patrick, 54 Mo. App. 462. Where the charter of the city provides that the recorder shall have jurisdiction, on oath, affirmation, or affidavit made according to law that any one has been guilty of a violation of an ordinance, to issue process in the nature of a summons or warrant, etc., a complaint under oath of the violation of an ordinance was not insufficient because the jurat was not signed by the police magistrate until the return-day of the summons. State v. Perth Amboy, 51 N. J. L. 406, 17 Atl. 971. Attestation by a clerk pro tempore is prima facie sufficient. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 326. See Lovilla v. Cobb, 126 Iowa 557, 102 N. W. 496, holding that it will be presumed that a mayor of a municipality, before whom an information was verified, was within his jurisdiction when he administered the oath.

93. Ahrlrichs v. Cullman, 130 Ala. 439, 30 So. 415.

Process see supra, XI, B, 4, g, (II), text and note 53.

94. Lead v. Klatt, 11 S. D. 109, 75 N. W. 896; Curry v. State, (Tex. Cr. App. 1893) 24 S. W. 516.

The name of complainant need not be set out in the body of the complaint, it being sufficient that he sign and swear to the same. Curry v. State, (Tex. Cr. App. 1893) 24 S. W. 516.

That defendant was a resident of the city need not be alleged. State v. Nohl, 113 Wis. 15, 88 N. W. 1004, holding this to be true in a prosecution for owning or having in possession in a city an unlicensed dog, as a violation of an ordinance denouncing the same, although another section of the ordinance licensing dogs confined that right to residents.

95. Lead v. Klatt, 11 S. D. 109, 75 N. W. 896, holding that where the caption of the complaint reads, "The City of Lead v. J. Klatt & L. Klatt," and the accompanying affidavit refers to them as "said defendants," the complaint sufficiently stated with certainty the persons charged with the offense.

96. Case v. Mobile, 30 Ala. 538.

By Me. St. (1851) c. 211, § 5, the mayor and aldermen, etc., are required to commence prosecutions for certain offenses on being informed of the commission of the same and being furnished with proof. It was held that being furnished with the proof was not a preliminary necessary to be shown in evidence of the authority of the prosecutors to bring the suit. Portland v. Rolfe, 37 Me. 400.

97. Allegation of offense in complaint for summary trial see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 324.

98. See CRIMINAL LAW 12 Cyc. 323.

99. St. Louis v. Babcock, 156 Mo. 154, 56 S. W. 731; Mexico v. Harris, 115 Mo. App. 707, 92 S. W. 505. See supra, text and note 79.

Every element necessary to constitute the violation should be alleged. Tyler v. Lawson, 30 N. J. L. 120.

1. Telheard v. Bay St. Louis, 87 Miss. 580, 40 So. 326.

2. Neifeld v. State, 23 Ohio Cir. Ct. 246.

3. Saner v. People, 17 Colo. App. 307, 69 Pac. 76; St. Louis v. Smith, 10 Mo. 438.

4. State v. Thompson, 111 La. 315, 35 So. 582; Marshall v. Standard, 24 Mo. App. 192. See also supra, text and note 79; and infra, XI, B, 4, i, (VI).

The complaint or information is sufficient if it informs defendant what acts of his are complained of and what ordinance he has violated. State v. Thompson, 111 La. 315, 35 So. 582.

stitute the violation charged,⁵ and state the essential facts constituting such violation.⁶ The breach of the ordinance must be set forth with sufficient certainty⁷ to enable the court to see a valid cause of action or defense.⁸

(B) Following Language of Ordinance. Charging the offense in the same terms or in substantially the same terms as those used in the ordinance is generally sufficient.⁹

5. State v. Carpenter, 60 Conn. 97, 22 Atl. 497; Philadelphia v. Campbell, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 163.

6. Cunningham v. Berry, 17 Oreg. 622, 22 Pac. 115.

7. Alabama.—Case v. Mobile, 30 Ala. 538. California.—Denninger v. Pomona, 145 Cal. 638, 79 Pac. 364.

Colorado.—Saner v. People, 17 Colo. App. 307, 69 Pac. 76.

Connecticut.—State v. Carpenter, 60 Conn. 97, 22 Atl. 497.

Indiana.—Whiting v. Doob, 152 Ind. 157, 52 N. E. 759; Greenburgh v. Corwin, 58 Ind. 518.

Kansas.—Johnson v. Winfield, 48 Kan. 129, 29 Pac. 559; Kingman v. Berry, 40 Kan. 625, 20 Pac. 527.

Louisiana.—State v. Thompson, 111 La. 315, 35 So. 582; New Orleans v. Rinaldi, 105 La. 183, 29 So. 184; State v. Baker, 44 La. Ann. 79, 10 So. 405; State v. Dunbar, 43 La. Ann. 836, 90 So. 492.

Massachusetts.—Com. v. Cutter, 156 Mass. 52, 29 N. E. 1146; Com. v. Rice, 9 Metc. 253; Com. v. Cutler, Thach. Cr. Cas. 137.

Michigan.—Napman v. People, 19 Mich. 352.

Mississippi.—Telheard v. Bay St. Louis, 87 Miss. 580, 40 So. 326.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Liessing, 190 Mo. 464, 89 S. W. 611, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 918; St. Louis v. Babcock, 156 Mo. 154, 56 S. W. 731; St. Louis v. Dorr, 136 Mo. 370, 37 S. W. 1108; State v. Baker, 74 Mo. 394; Memphis v. O'Connor, 53 Mo. 468; St. Louis v. Smith, 10 Mo. 438; Billings v. Brown, 106 Mo. App. 240, 80 S. W. 322; St. Joseph v. Dye, 72 Mo. App. 214; Lamar v. Hewitt, 60 Mo. App. 314.

New Jersey.—Bray v. Damato, 70 N. J. L. 583, 57 Atl. 394; Osborne v. Spring Lake, 64 N. J. L. 362, 46 Atl. 164; Schafer v. Atlantic City, 58 N. J. L. 131, 32 Atl. 133; Roberson v. Lambertville, 38 N. J. L. 69; Tyler v. Lawson, 30 N. J. L. 120.

North Carolina.—State v. Wilson, 106 N. C. 718, 11 S. E. 254.

Ohio.—Jeffreys v. Defiance, 11 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 144, 25 Cinc. L. Bul. 68.

Oregon.—Cunningham v. Berry, 17 Oreg. 622, 22 Pac. 115.

Pennsylvania.—Com. v. Cane, 2 Pars. Eq. Cas. 265.

South Carolina.—State v. Moultrieville, Rice 158.

Vermont.—State v. Bosworth, 74 Vt. 315, 52 Atl. 423.

Wisconsin.—State v. Nohl, 113 Wis. 15, 88 N. W. 1004.

Canada.—Reg. v. Roche, 4 Can. Cr. Cas.

64, 32 Ont. 20 (holding that the pleading must show by clear affirmative allegation a violation of the ordinance or by-law before conviction can be had); In re Fisher, 50 Manitoba 475.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 1395, 1406.

8. Alabama.—Case v. Mobile, 30 Ala. 538.

Indiana.—Long v. Brookston, 79 Ind. 183; Greenburgh v. Corwin, 58 Ind. 518; Huntington v. Pease, 56 Ind. 305.

Missouri.—Columbia v. Johnson, 7z Mo. App. 232; St. Joseph v. Dye 72 Mo. App. 214.

New Jersey.—Tyler v. Lawson, 30 N. J. L. 120.

South Dakota.—Lead v. Klatt, 11 S. D. 109, 75 N. W. 896.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 1395, 1406.

For sufficient allegations see Denninger v. Pomona Recorders' Ct., 145 Cal. 638, 79 Pac. 364; Saner v. People, 17 Colo. App. 307, 69 Pac. 76; Greenburgh v. Corwin, 58 Ind. 518; Kingman v. Berry, 40 Kan. 625, 20 Pac. 527; State v. Thompson, 111 La. 315, 35 So. 582; State v. Baker, 44 La. Ann. 79, 10 So. 405; State v. Dunbar, 43 La. Ann. 836, 9 So. 492; Com. v. Cutter, 156 Mass. 52, 29 N. E. 1146; Com. v. Rice, 9 Metc. (Mass.) 253; Com. v. Cutler, Thach. Cr. Cas. (Mass.) 137; St. Joseph v. Dye, 72 Mo. App. 214; Keeler v. Milledge, 24 N. J. L. 142; State v. Nohl, 113 Wis. 15, 88 N. W. 1004.

For insufficient allegations see Johnson v. Winfield, 48 Kan. 129, 29 Pac. 559; Com. v. Bean, 14 Gray (Mass.) 52; Telheard v. Bay St. Louis, 87 Miss. 580, 40 So. 226; St. Louis v. Babcock, 156 Mo. 154, 56 S. W. 731; St. Louis v. Dorr, 136 Mo. 370, 37 S. W. 1108; Memphis v. O'Connor, 53 Mo. 468; Lamar v. Hewitt, 60 Mo. App. 314; Osborne v. Spring Lake, 64 N. J. L. 362, 46 Atl. 164; Schafer v. Atlantic City, 58 N. J. L. 131, 32 Atl. 133; Cunningham v. Berry, 17 Oreg. 622, 22 Pac. 115; State v. Soragan, 40 Vt. 450; In re Fisher, 15 Manitoba 475.

9. State v. Carpenter, 60 Conn. 97, 22 Atl. 497; Gallatin v. Tarwater, 143 Mo. 40, 44 S. W. 750; St. Louis v. Weitzel, 130 Mo. 600, 31 S. W. 1045; St. Louis v. Knox, 74 Mo. 79 [affirming 6 Mo. App. 247]; Kansas City v. Zahner, 73 Mo. App. 396; Columbia v. Johnson, 72 Mo. App. 232; De Soto v. Brown, 44 Mo. App. 148; Woods v. Prineville, 19 Oreg. 108, 23 Pac. 880. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 324. See also San Luis Obispo County v. Greenberg, 120 Cal. 300, 52 Pac. 797. But see State v. Goulding, 44 N. H. 284, holding that a complaint should be

(c) Allegations of Time, Place, Intent, Etc. The particulars in which defendant has violated the ordinance, which should be stated,¹⁰ include proper allegations as to time¹¹ and place¹² of commission, and the motive and intent¹³ or knowledge¹⁴ with which the act was committed by defendant, as well as other special circumstances, when these constitute essential ingredients of the offense charged;¹⁵ but quashed, although it pursue the very language of the ordinance, if it does not in fact allege such an illegal act as the ordinance was intended to prohibit.

Merely stating that defendant's act is contrary to the ordinance of the city is insufficient. Memphis v. O'Connor, 53 Mo. 468; Marshall v. Standard, 24 Mo. App. 192.

10. New Orleans v. Rinaldi, 105 La. 183, 29 So. 484; Horn v. People, 26 Mich. 221; St. Louis v. Liessing, 190 Mo. 464, 89 S. W. 611, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 918. See also supra, XI, B, 4, j, (v), (A); and cases cited infra, notes 11-17.

11. St. Louis v. Liessing, 190 Mo. 464, 89 S. W. 611, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 918; State v. Cadwalader, 36 N. J. L. 283; Spokane v. Robison, 6 Wash. 547, 33 Pac. 960; In re Fisher, 15 Manitoba 475, time of the commission should be sufficiently stated. But compare State v. Nohl, 113 Wis. 15, 88 N. W. 1004.

12. St. Louis v. Liessing, 190 Mo. 464, 89 S. W. 611, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 918; St. Louis v. Babcock, 156 Mo. 148, 56 S. W. 732; Anderson v. Camden, 52 N. J. L. 289, 19 Atl. 539; Barton v. La Grande, 17 Ore. 577, 22 Pac. 111 (holding that a complaint under a city ordinance, against disorderly conduct "in any street, home, or place within the city," is bad unless it shows that the act was committed in a street, house, or other definite locality within the city); Philadelphia v. Hughes, 4 Phila. (Pa.) 148.

13. Intent when essential must be proved as charge see supra, XI, B, 1, a. See also Ex p. Casinello, 62 Cal. 538; Case v. Hall, 21 Ill. 632.

Malice, carelessness, or wantonness need not be alleged unless they constitute an essential ingredient of the offense. State v. Merrill, 37 Me. 329.

Unless intent is an essential ingredient of the offense the information or complaint need not allege its existence. People v. Garabed, 20 Misc. (N. Y.) 127, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 827 [reversed without opinion in 25 N. Y. App. Div. 624, 49 N. Y. Suppl. 1141]. See also Com. v. Derby, 162 Mass. 183, 38 N. E. 440.

14. State v. Carpenter, 60 Conn. 97, 22 Atl. 497.

15. In re Fisher, 15 Manitoba 475. See State v. Moultrieville, Rice (S. C.) 158, holding that an indictment under an ordinance providing that it shall not be lawful to cut down and "make use of the cedars, or other trees," etc., should allege, not only that defendant cut down such trees, but that he made use of them, as the offense under the ordinance does not consist merely in cutting down, but in cutting down and making use of, the trees.

Annoyance and request to desist.—In an action to recover a fine for the violation of an ordinance making it unlawful for any person to burn tar in propelling machinery, or for any other purpose, to the annoyance and discomfort of any one residing in his vicinity, and subjecting him to said fine if he does so burn tar and does not immediately desist upon the request of any citizen annoyed thereby, or if he is guilty of any subsequent violation of the ordinance, the state of demand should aver a burning after a request to desist, and should give the names of the persons annoyed. Tyler v. Lawson, 30 N. J. L. 120. Under Ohio Rev. St. § 2108, providing that the city council may provide for the punishment of persons disturbing the good order and quiet of the corporation by intoxication, to the annoyance of the citizens, an averment in the affidavit of prosecution for violation of an ordinance passed under such statute, that such intoxication resulted in the disturbance of the good order and quiet of the corporation, is necessary to authorize a conviction, since the statute only authorized ordinances prohibiting breach of the peace by intoxicated persons, and not against mere intoxication. Jefferies v. Defiance, 11 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 144, 25 Cinc. L. Bul. 68.

[XI, B, 4, i, (v), (c)]

Failure to procure license.—A complaint which charges defendant with having sold whisky in the city, in quantities prohibited by ordinance, but which fails to charge that defendant sold the whisky without having first obtained a license as required by the ordinance, does not state facts sufficient to constitute an offense. Cunningham v. Berry, 17 Ore. 622, 22 Pac. 115.

Grazing on public way.—Under an ordinance which prohibits permitting any cattle to go at large or "stop to feed" on any highway, a complaint which avers that defendant suffered two cows "to stop and feed" on certain highways is bad even after verdict, the object of the ordinance being to prevent grazing. Com. v. Bean, 14 Gray (Mass.) 52.

Inspection of building and notice.—Where an ordinance prescribed that the building inspector should inspect buildings, and that, if he deemed any building unsafe, he should notify the owner, who should be liable to prosecution for failure to remedy the defects, a complaint against an owner for violating the ordinance should have alleged a personal inspection of the building by the inspector, and notice by him to the owner. Schafer v. Atlantic City, 58 N. J. L. 131, 32 Atl. 133.

Ownership or control.—Under an ordinance imposing on "owners or drivers" of vehicles a penalty for not keeping a number conspicuously fixed on the vehicle, a complaint that defendant was engaged in carrying passengers for hire, not alleging that he was either owner the rule against technicalities¹⁶ should always be observed when such observance is practicable.¹⁷

(D) Negating Statutory Provisions. While in a proper case negating allegations are necessary,¹⁸ provisions or exceptions of an ordinance need not be or driver, was insufficient. Osborne v. Spring Lake, 64 N. J. L. 362, 46 Atl. 164. In St. Louis v. Babcock, 156 Mo. 154, 56 S. W. 731, the complaint was held to be insufficient in alleging an unlawful trespass, for failure to state the locus in quo and the names of the owners of the property trespassed upon. But under Mass. Acts (1817), c. 71, prescribing the thickness of the walls of buildings to be erected in the city of Boston, an information charging, in the words of the statute, the erection of a building complained of, by a certain person, is sufficiently certain without stating that he was the owner. Com. v. Cutler, Thach. Cr. Cas. (Mass.) 137.

Resisting officer see Lamar v. Hewitt, 60 Mo. App. 314, holding that a complaint for resisting a night watchman in making an arrest was fatally defective in not alleging that the watchman was authorized by law to make such arrest.

Service of order.—Nor is it an averment that the order was served; it is an assumption, and not an averment, of the fact of service. State v. Soragan, 40 Vt. 450. An averment, in a criminal complaint, which merely states that the respondent "did disobey a lawful order of the health officer . . . after the same had been duly served upon him," etc., and then proceeds to give the substance of the order, but does not state in what the act or neglect of the respondent consists, is insufficient.

Tender.—A complaint in the police court, charging defendant with a violation of an ordinance, by wilfully refusing, as the agent of a water company, to supply complainant with water, a tender being made in actual money for that purpose, is had, and should be quashed if it does not state that the water company was under a legal obligation by ordinance to supply such water, and does not, in express words or by fair implication, allege that the tender was sufficient. Johnson v. Winfield, 48 Kan. 129, 29 Pac. 559.

16. See supra, B, 4, i, (III), (A).

17. See People v. Garabed, 20 Misc. (N. Y.) 127, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 827 [reversed without opinion in 25 N. Y. App. Div. 624, 49 N. Y. Suppl. 1141], holding that in a proceeding to enforce payment of a fine for violation of an ordinance the warrant and information need not allege that defendant wrongfully and unlawfully did the act charged.

Charging that one assisted in the violation of an ordinance does not prevent conviction of committing the offense unaided. Topeka v. Kersch, 70 Kan. 840, 79 Pac. 681, 80 Pac. 29, for the reason that there are no necessities in misdemeanors.

Occupying stand in market.—A complaint for violation of an ordinance regulating Faneuil Hall market is sufficient if it alleges that defendant, without satisfying the clerk, etc., occupied a stand within the limits of the market with a box for the purpose of vending articles there, without alleging that the box was of such a size as to be capable of being used as a stand. Com. v. Rice, 9 Metc. (Mass.) 253.

Residence.—Where an ordinance denounced a penalty against every person who should own or have in his possession in the city an unlicensed dog, it was not necessary to allege in a complaint in an action for violation of the ordinance that defendant was a resident of the city, although another section of the same ordinance, which authorized licensing of dogs, confined that right to residents. State v. Nohl, 113 Wis. 15, 88 N. W. 1004.

Right to use of way.—In a prosecution under an ordinance providing that no owner or occupant of land abutting on a private way shall suffer any filth to remain on that part of the way adjoining his land, it was not necessary to set out in the complaint the nature of defendant's right to the use of the way. Com. v. Cutter, 156 Mass. 52, 29 N. E. 1146.

To the damage of complainant.—Where a complaint, in an action to recover a penalty for a violation of the ordinance of a city existing under the general charter provided for by Wis. Rev. St. (1898) § 925, charged that the offense was to the damage of the affiant, who was not a city officer, the mistake was immaterial, since the form of complaint prescribed by section 925-69 contains no allegation as to who is damaged by the offense, and the specification as to who was damaged was mere surplusage. State v. Nohl, 113 Wis. 15, 88 N. W. 1004.

"Unlawfully" may be equivalent to "wilfully." Savannah v. Dickey, 33 Mo. App. 522.

"Wilfully" and "unlawfully" may be equivalent to "knowingly." Wong v. Astoria, 13 Oreg. 538, 11 Pac. 295.

18. Whiting v. Doob, 152 Ind. 157, 52 N. E. 759 (holding that a complaint for violating an ordinance against riding a bicycle on sidewalks, which is valid only so far as concerns sidewalks other than "brick, stone, plank, or gravel," should show that the sidewalk ridden on was not composed of one of those materials); Tarkio v. Loyd, 109 Mo. App. 171, 82 S. W. 1127 (holding that a complaint for soliciting orders for merchandise, without a license, was bad for not negating the exception as to certain persons who might sell and solicit certain articles without a license); Roberson v. Lambertville, 38 N. J. L. 69.

Where the proviso is not a part of the definition of the offense the complaint need not negative it. Kansas City v. Garnier, 57 Kan. 412, 46 Pac. 707, where the clause containing the proviso was distinct and subsequent to the clause defining the offense.

negated in the complaint, where defendant is not prejudiced in his substantial rights by failure to do so.¹⁹

(VI) REFERENCE TO ORDINANCE VIOLATED. The municipal court being bound to take judicial cognizance of municipal ordinances as the peculiar law of the forum as shown in other chapters of this treatise,²⁰ it is not usually necessary in proceedings or prosecutions in a municipal court to plead the ordinance in hæc verba or in terms.²¹ However, the complaint should properly refer to and identify the ordinance alleged to have been violated,²² as by referring to it by

19. Martinsville v. Frieze, 33 Ind. 507; Billings v. Brown, 106 Mo. App. 240, 80 S. W. 322; Neifeld v. State, 23 Ohio Cir. Ct. 246; Polk v. Cincinnati, 3 Ohio Cir. Ct. 497, 2 Ohio Cir. Dec. 285.

An exception need not be negated where it may be shown under the general issue as a matter of defense. Cleveland Tp. v. Ledoux, 22 Quebec Super. Ct. 85.

20. See supra, VI, N, 1; EVIDENCE, 16 Cyc. 898. See also infra, XI, B, 4, n, (v).

21. Alabama.—Goldthwaite v. Montgomery, 50 Ala. 486.

California.—Ex p. Davis, 115 Cal. 445, 47 Pac. 258.

Indiana.—Elkhart v. Calvert, 126 Ind. 6, 25 N. E. 807; Frankfort v. Aughe, 114 Ind. 77, 15 N. E. 802.

Kansas.—West v. Columbus, 20 Kan. 633 (holding that no part of the ordinance need be copied into the complaint, nor express reference made thereto by date, number, or otherwise, if the acts in violation of the ordinance are clearly and fully charged); Emporia v. Volmer, 12 Kan. 622.

Massachusetts.—Com. v. Derby, 162 Mass. 183, 38 N. E. 440.

Michigan.—Vicksburg v. Briggs, 85 Mich. 502, 48 N. W. 625.

Minnesota.—Faribault v. Wilson, 34 Minn. 254, 25 N. W. 449.

Montana.—Miles City v. Kern, 12 Mont. 119, 29 Pac. 720.

New Jersey.—Kip v. Paterson, 26 N. J. L. 298.

New York.—See New York v. Eisler, 2 N. Y. Civ. Proc. 125.

North Carolina.—State v. Cainan, 94 N. C. 880; State v. Merritt, 83 N. C. 677.

Oregon.—Woods v. Prineville, 19 Oreg. 108, 23 Pac. 880.

Texas.—Austin v. Walton, 68 Tex. 507, 5 S. W. 70.

Washington.—Spokane v. Robison, 6 Wash. 547, 33 Pac. 960.

Wisconsin.—Oshkosh v. Schwartz, 55 Wis. 483, 13 N. W. 552; Fink v. Milwaukee, 17 Wis. 26.

See also supra, VI, N, 1.

In other courts see State v. Edens, 85 N. C. 522, in which the court held that upon an indictment for violating a city ordinance the terms of the ordinance must be set out in the indictment. See also supra, VI, N, 1.

22. Alabama.—Case v. Mobile, 30 Ala. 538.

Colorado.—Greeley v. Hamman, 12 Colo. 94, 20 Pac. 1.

Georgia.—McDonald v. Lane, 80 Ga. 497, 5 S. E. 628.

Indiana.—Whitson v. Franklin, 34 Ind. 392. Compare Green v. Indianapolis, 22 Ind. 192.

Iowa.—Bayard v. Baker, 76 Iowa 220, 40 N. W. 818; Goodrich v. Brown, 30 Iowa 291.

Louisiana.—New Orleans v. Labatt, 33 La. Ann. 107.

Maine.—Lewiston v. Fairfield, 47 Me. 481, holding that a complaint, in no manner alluding to the by-laws of the town, cannot be sustained by virtue of those by-laws. But see O'Malia v. Wentworth, 65 Me. 129, holding that a complaint made to the city court of the city of Portland need contain no recital of the ordinance violated.

Massachusetts.—Com. v. Odenweller, 156 Mass. 234, 30 N. E. 1022, holding that an allegation in an indictment that the acts are contrary to the form of a city ordinance will allow proof of the ordinance in the ordinary way, and that it is immaterial that the bound volume in which the ordinance appears was not referred to in the indictment.

Minnesota.—Winona v. Burke, 23 Minn. 254.

New Jersey.—White v. Neptune City, 56 N. J. L. 222, 28 Atl. 378; Keeler v. Milledge, 24 N. J. L. 142.

New York.—See Harker v. New York, 17 Wend. 199.

North Carolina.—See Hendersonville v. McMinn, 82 N. C. 532; Greensboro v. Shields, 78 N. C. 417.

Oregon.—Cunningham v. Berry, 17 Oreg. 622, 22 Pac. 115, holding that in a complaint for the violation of a city ordinance the facts constituting the offense must be set out in the complaint as fully as they are required to be stated in an indictment for a similar offense against the state.

South Carolina.—Charleston v. Ashley Phosphate Co., 34 S. C. 541, 13 S. E. 845.

Texas.—Austin v. Walton, 68 Tex. 507, 5 S. W. 70.

Vermont.—State v. Soragan, 40 Vt. 450. See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1406.

If no ordinance is set out in the proceedings as having been violated, a prosecution under a town ordinance must fail. Hendersonville v. McMinn, 82 N. C. 532; Greensboro v. Shields, 78 N. C. 417.

Under a reenacted ordinance.—Where an ordinance contained a clause imposing a penalty for retailing without a license, and another ordinance reenacted this clause but reduced the penalty and contained no provision for granting license, it was held, in an number,²³ number and date of passage and adoption,²⁴ number and the number and subject of the section thereof,²⁵ number and title or name,²⁶ title or name,²⁷ title or name and date of passage and adoption,²⁸ title or name and section,²⁹ or title or name, date and section.³⁰ Nevertheless in some cases it has been held that the ordinance must be pleaded;³¹ that it must be set out in full,³² or at least the section or part thereof alleged to have been violated;³³ and that it had been duly passed and adopted by the municipality.³⁴

(vii) JOINDER OF OFFENSES OR BREACHES;³⁵ DUPLICITY. At common law, as well as under most modern codes, several penalties for breach of municipal ordinances may be joined in one action.³⁶ So also a license-fee, and a pen-action to recover the penalty, to be sufficient to charge the offense as a violation of the latter ordinance only. Charleston v. Chur, 2 Bailey (S. C.) 164.

Where the offense is created by several sections of an ordinance reference should be made to each of such sections by the number and date of their adoption. Whitson v. Franklin, 34 Ind. 392.

23. Frankfort v. Aughe, 114 Ind. 77, 15 N. E. 802.

24. Whitson v. Franklin, 34 Ind. 392; Bayard v. Baker, 76 Iowa 220, 40 N. W. 818.

25. Faribault v. Wilson, 34 Minn. 254, 25 N. W. 449. See New Orleans v. Rinaldi, 105 La. 183, 29 So. 484, holding that the initiatory affidavit may be sufficient if it sets forth the ordinance and the particular section thereof claimed to have been violated. Compare Telheard v. Bay St. Louis, 87 Miss. 580, 40 So. 326.

Where the section referred to defines several distinct offenses the rule does not apply. Fink v. Milwaukee, 17 Wis. 26, holding that an act providing that a complaint in the police court of Milwaukee for the breach of a city ordinance need only state the number and section of the ordinance violated does not apply to such a case.

26. Vicksburg v. Briggs, 85 Mich. 502, 48 N. W. 625.

27. Columbia v. Johnson, 72 Mo. App. 232.

Reference to an ordinance "as revision of the ordinances of the city of Kansas City, Missouri," is bad as it refers to the whole book of ordinances, and not to the special ordinance or ordinances violated. Kansas City v. Whitman, 70 Mo. App. 630.

28. Vicksburg v. Briggs, 85 Mich. 502, 48 N. W. 625.

29. Phillipsburg v. Weinstein, 21 Mont. 146, 53 Pac. 272, under Pen. Code, § 2680.

30. Keeler v. Milledge, 24 N. J. L. 142.

31. Fink v. Milwaukee, 17 Wis. 26, as where the section of the ordinance defines several distinct offenses.

Copy of ordinance.—In Green v. Indianapolis, 22 Ind. 192, it was held that in an action to recover a penalty for the violation of a by-law or ordinance, a copy of the by-law or ordinance should be made a part of the complaint and filed therewith.

32. Stuyvesant v. New York, 7 Cow. (N. Y.) 608 (holding that in an action of debt for the violation of a by-law the time when it was made, the parties by whom it was made, their authority and the by-law itself, must be set forth so that the court may judge whether or not the by-law was valid); State v. Bosworth, 74 Vt. 315, 52 Atl. 423; State v. Cruickshank, 71 Vt. 94, 42 Atl. 983 (holding that reference to an ordinance by chapter and section is insufficient as in setting out the ordinance itself of which the court will not take judicial notice).

33. Case v. Mobile, 30 Ala. 538; Ganaway v. Mobile, 21 Ala. 577; Wagner v. Garrett, 118 Ind. 114, 20 N. E. 706 (holding that only so much of the ordinance as relates to the action or prosecution need be set out); Nodine v. Union, 13 Oreg. 587, 11 Pac. 298. Compare People v. Justices Ct. Spec. Sess., 12 Hun (N. Y.) 65, where the violation was of a regulation of the board of health.

34. Coates v. New York, 7 Cow. (N. Y.) 585, 608; State v. Bosworth, 74 Vt. 315, 52 Atl. 423, holding that the complaint must allege that the ordinance was adopted for the court cannot take judicial notice of the fact. But see Bayard v. Baker, 76 Iowa 220, 40 N. W. 818, holding that an information for breach of an ordinance, which fails to state in express words that the city had passed it, was nevertheless sufficient where any person of ordinary understanding upon reading the information would have no doubt as to that point.

Charging that an act was done contrary to an ordinance does not constitute a sufficient allegation that such ordinance had in fact been passed. State v. Bosworth, 74 Vt. 315, 52 Atl. 423.

35. Joinder of offenses in complaint for summary trial see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 326.

Consolidation of suits.—Although suits to recover penalties for violations of a city ordinance are not strictly civil suits, the court may, where there is no legal prohibition, exercise its discretion in consolidating them. Lancaster v. Railroad Co., 12 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) 99.

36. Hampton v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 118 Ill. App. 621; Brooklyn v. Cleves, Lator (N. Y.) 231.

But the daily penalty, it has been held, for keeping a faro table, contrary to an ordinance, can only be recovered by issuing warrants for the offense daily. Dixon v. Washington, 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,935, 4 Cranch C. C. 114. In Lead v. Klatt, 13 S. D. 140, 82 N. W.

alty; ³⁷ but separate penalties may not be recovered for a continued act of omission in a prescribed course of action; but only one for the whole neglect. ³⁸ However, separate offenses, even under the same ordinance, may not be joined against one person, ³⁹ unless authorized by ordinance, statute, or general practice. ⁴⁰ And in some states the practice is to strike out as surplusage all but one charge, ⁴¹ or to compel the prosecution to elect upon which count it will proceed. ⁴² An offense under different conditions or environments may be charged conjunctively. ⁴³ Charging two or more offenses in the alternative is duplicitous; ⁴⁴ but several modes of committing the same offense may, however, be charged. ⁴⁵

(vii) SECOND OR SUBSEQUENT OFFENSE. Where a greater punishment may be inflicted on conviction for a subsequent violation of an ordinance than for the first, the fact that the offense charged is a subsequent offense must be alleged in the information in order to justify the imposition of the increased punishment. ⁴⁶

(ix) DEFECTS AND OBJECTIONS. ⁴⁷ For material defects and insufficiency the complaint or information may be objected to, ⁴⁸ and where the defect is fatal the 391, however, it was held that where defendant is charged in the same complaint with violations on divers days of a city ordinance, a motion to quash on the ground that several offenses are charged therein, made after defendant has pleaded, comes too late, whether the action be treated as a civil or a criminal action.

37. Lansdowne v. Springfield Water Co., 7 Del. Co. (Pa.) 509, holding that the two causes of action; namely, the one to recover the amount of the license-fee fixed by an ordinance, and the other to recover the penalty prescribed by the same ordinance for failure to take out the license, may be joined in one suit.

But separate suits will not lie for these. Lansdowne v. Springfield Water Co., 7 Del. Co. (Pa.) 509.

38. Lancaster v. Edison Electric Illuminating Co., 8 Pa. Co. Ct. 178.

39. Tiedke v. Saginaw, 43 Mich. 64, 4 N. W. 627.

Infractions of two separate and distinct ordinances should not be joined in one action. Kensington v. Glenat, 1 Phila. (Pa.) 393.

Sales to "persons unknown."—An information charging that defendant "did unlawfully sell beer to persons unknown" was held in effect to charge one sale to several persons jointly, and hence not bad for duplicity under an ordinance making each separate act of selling an offense. State v. King, 37 Iowa 462.

40. Eldora v. Burlingame, 62 Iowa 32, 17 N. W. 148; Jackson v. Boyd, 53 Iowa 536, 5 N. W. 734.

A statute or ordinance may allow any number of violations of an ordinance to be included in one complaint or information. Eldora v. Burlingame, 62 Iowa 32, 17 N. W. 148.

41. Eldora v. Burlingame, 62 Iowa 32, 17 N. W. 148, holding that where an information under a town ordinance charged an offense punishable under the ordinance, and also one punishable only under statute, it was not bad for duplicity, as the charge of the statutory offense might be omitted as surplusage.

42. Tiedke v. Saginaw, 43 Mich. 64, 4 N. W. 627.

43. Com. v. Curtis, 9 Allen (Mass.) 266; Atlantic City v. Crandol, 67 N. J. L. 488, 51 Atl. 447, holding that the complaint charging that defendant obstructed a highway by leaving his wagon standing there when not in use, and interfered with public travel, charges a single offense. See St. Louis v. Grafeman Dairy Co., 190 Mo. 492, 89 S. W. 617, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 936, holding that where a section of an ordinance makes several provisions and declares a violation of any one of them an offense, and prescribes the same penalty for all of them, an information in a single count alleging breaches of all the provisions could not be quashed as to the whole case, even if some of the provisions in the section are invalid, if some of them are actually valid.

Charging disorderly conduct on the streets and on the sidewalks and in the business houses of a city is not bad for duplicity where the ordinance makes them punishable disjunctively, but imposes a like penalty in each case. Gallatin v. Tarwater, 143 Mo. 40, 44 S. W. 750, in which it was held that in such a case but one offense is charged which will be supported by any one of the breaches alleged.

44. St. Paul v. Marvin, 16 Minn. 102.

45. Bayard v. Baker, 76 Iowa 220, 40 N. W. 818, where it was held that the information did not charge two offenses, and was direct and certain; the charge being that defendant "did then and there let or try to let a stallion serve a mare," for the reason that such acts do not constitute any offense unless the same was done at a prohibited place, which it is not claimed is not properly charged in the information.

46. Larney v. Cleveland, 34 Ohio St. 599 [quoting 1 Bishop Cr. L. (6th ed.) § 961].

47. Defects in and objections to complaint for summary trial see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 326.

48. Lansdowne v. Springfield Water Co., 7 Del. Co. (Pa.) 509 (failure to join causes of action in one suit); St. Louis v. Weitzel, 130 Mo. 600, 31 S. W. 1045 (separate and dis-complaint or information may be quashed or dismissed,⁴⁹ either before or after plea.⁵⁰ Objections to the information, complaint, or other documents of prosecution may be made by demurrer;⁵¹ by plea in abatement;⁵² or by motion to quash or dismiss,⁵³ motion to strike out,⁵⁴ or even motion in arrest of judgment.⁵⁵ However, defects or irregularities in an affidavit or information or complaint which do not prejudice the substantial rights of defendant on the merits are not fatal;⁵⁶ hence mere surplusage will be disregarded.⁵⁷ So also the defects or errors may tinct offenses are joined in one count). See cases cited infra, notes 49-60.

49. California.—Eureka v. Diaz, 89 Cal. 467, 26 Pac. 961.

Kansas.—Johnson v. Winfield, 48 Kan. 129, 29 Pac. 559.

Massachusetts.—Com. v. Bean, 14 Gray 52.

Mississippi.—Giardina v. Greenville, 70 Miss. 896, 13 So. 241.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Dorr, 136 Mo. 370, 37 S. W. 1108; State v. Baker, 74 Mo. 394; Memphis v. O'Connor, 53 Mo. 468; Lamar v. Hewitt, 60 Mo. App. 314; Salisbury v. Patterson, 24 Mo. App. 169.

New Hampshire.—State v. Goulding, 44 N. H. 284.

New Jersey.—Schafer v. Atlantic City, 58 N. J. L. 131, 32 Atl. 133; White v. Neptune City, 56 N. J. L. 222, 28 Atl. 378; Keeler v. Milledge, 24 N. J. L. 142.

Vermont.—State v. Soragan, 40 Vt. 450.

Wisconsin.—Fink v. Milwaukee, 17 Wis. 26.

United States.—Delany v. Washington, 7 Fed. Cas. No. 3,755, 2 Cranch C. C. 459; Washington v. Lynch, 29 Fed. Cas. No. 17,231, 5 Cranch C. C. 498.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1406.

50. Lead v. Klatt, 13 S. D. 140, 82 N. W. 391.

51. State v. Reckards, 21 Minn. 47.

Demurrer see infra, XI, B, 4, k.

52. Lansdowne v. Springfield Water Co., 7 Del. Co. (Pa.) 509, holding that where two causes of action must be joined in one suit, and are not, the proper way to raise this question is by a plea in abatement.

Plea or answer see infra, XI, B, 4, k.

53. Billings v. Brown, 106 Mo. App. 240, 80 S. W. 322; Salisbury v. Patterson, 24 Mo. App. 169; Lead v. Klatt, 13 S. D. 140, 82 N. W. 391.

Where the ordinance or its validity is in question, on a motion to dismiss, the motion cannot properly be disposed of unless the ordinance itself is before the court. Billings v. Brown, 106 Mo. App. 240, 80 S. W. 322.

A motion to dismiss is not the proper remedy with respect to defects in the form of indictment under the Minnesota statute. State v. Reckards, 21 Minn. 47.

54. St. Louis v. Weitzel, 130 Mo. 600, 31 S. W. 1045.

55. Lippman v. South Bend, 84 Ind. 276; Lead v. Klatt, 13 S. D. 140, 82 N. W. 391.

56. Colorado.—Saner v. People, 17 Colo. App. 307, 69 Pac. 76.

Illinois.—Alton v. Kirsch, 68 Ill. 261.

Iowa.—State v. King, 37 Iowa 462.

Louisiana.—Minden v. McCrary, 108 La. 518, 32 So. 468.

Michigan.—People v. Vinton, 82 Mich. 39, 46 N. W. 31.

Missouri.—Mexico v. Harris, 115 Mo. App. 707, 92 S. W. 505; Orrick v. Akers, 109 Mo. App. 662, 83 S. W. 549.

New Jersey.—See White v. Neptune City, 56 N. J. L. 222, 28 Atl. 378, holding that the jurisdiction of a justice's court was not impaired by the fact that the acts charged were in contravention of a section entirely different from that referred to in the complaint and summons.

Ohio.—Neifeld v. State, 23 Ohio Cir. Ct. 246.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1406.

Conducting a proceeding in the name of the state as plaintiff, instead of the city or town, is not a material defect, especially where the objection was not raised until after appeal. State v. King, 37 Iowa 462.

Partially invalid ordinance.—Where a section of an ordinance makes several provisions and declares violation of any one of them an offense, and prescribes the same penalty for all of them, and an information in a single count alleges breaches of all the provisions, it is error to quash the whole case, even if some of the provisions of such section are invalid; certain of them being valid. St. Louis v. Grafeman Dairy Co., 190 Mo. 492, 89 S. W. 617, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 936.

Slight irregularities in jurat or signature may be disregarded. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 325.

Variance between affidavit and complaint see Mexico v. Harris, 115 Mo. App. 707, 92 S. W. 505, holding that where a statute does not require the complaint to be supported by an affidavit or oath, it is immaterial whether the complaint as filed conforms to the affidavits which it purports to be based upon or not.

Where no complaint is required or necessary a defect in such complaint when made will not vitiate the proceeding, providing the justice or other trial tribunal has jurisdiction of the subject-matter. Saner v. People, 17 Colo. App. 307, 69 Pac. 76; Alton v. Kirsch, 68 Ill. 261.

57. Iowa.—Eldora v. Burlingame, 62 Iowa 32, 17 N. W. 148, holding that where the complaint alleged an offense punishable under the state statute together with one punishable under the ordinance, the allegations as to the state offense might be regarded as mere surplusage.

be cured⁵⁸ or waived,⁵⁹ as by failing to make the objection within the proper time.⁶⁰

(x) DEFENDANT'S RIGHT TO COPY. Defendant has no constitutional privilege to demand a copy of the information or affidavit before pleading,⁶¹ as in prosecutions by the state.⁶²

j. Report of Police Officer—(i) IN GENERAL. In some jurisdictions it is provided by statute or ordinance that a trial may be had upon the written report of a designated police officer.⁶³ And where provisions of this character are in Michigan.—In re Bushey, 105 Mich. 64, 62 N. W. 1036, holding that a complaint, under an ordinance providing for the punishment of any person who shall make any disturbance by which the peace of the neighborhood is disturbed, alleging that defendant is a "disorderly person, for that said defendant was disturbing the peace, contrary to the form of the ordinance," etc., is sufficient, as the words "disorderly person" will be treated as surplusage.

Minnesota.—State v. Marciniak, 97 Minn. 355, 105 N. W. 965, holding that where a complaint charges a violation of a city ordinance forbidding the sale of liquors on Sunday, the concluding words of the complaint, "against the peace and dignity of the state of Minnesota," are surplusage, and the complaint does not therefore charge defendant with the violation of any criminal statute of the state.

North Carolina.—State v. Wilson, 106 N. C. 718, 11 S. E. 254, where the words "thereby damaging said street by ponding the water thereon, which became foul and malarious," etc., were considered to be mere surplusage.

South Dakota.—Deadwood v. Allen, 8 S. D. 618, 67 N. W. 835.

Vermont.—State v. Soragan, 40 Vt. 450.

Wisconsin.—State v. Nohl, 113 Wis. 15, 88 N. W. 1004, holding that an allegation charging that the offense was to the damage of affiant who was not a city officer was immaterial since the form of complaint prescribed by the statute contained no allegation as to who was damaged by the offense, and that specifications as to who was damaged could only be regarded as surplusage.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1406.

58. Kingman v. Berry, 40 Kan. 625, 20 Pac. 527 (cured by verdict); McGunnigle v. Washington, 16 Fed. Cas. No. 8,818, 2 Cranch C. C. 460 (cured by verdict).

The affidavit and warrant may be construed together in determining the sufficiency and validity of the proceedings. State v. Wilson, 106 N. C. 718, 11 S. E. 254.

But a warrant issued upon a defective complaint does not cure defects in the latter. State v. Baker, 74 Mo. 394.

59. Pitts v. Opelika, 79 Ala. 527.

An appeal usually vacates judgment and waives errors. Saner v. People, 17 Colo. App. 307, 69 Pac. 76. See infra, XI, B, 4, s, (VII), (E), (1).

60. State v. Reckards, 21 Minn. 47; Rochester v. Upman, 19 Minn. 108; Moberly v. Hogan, 131 Mo. 19, 32 S. W. 1014;

Bedford v. Rice, 58 N. H. 227. See also Kingman v. Berry, 40 Kan. 625, 20 Pac. 527, where the only objection made was by a motion in arrest of judgment after a verdict of guilty.

An objection to indefiniteness in the warrant's reference to the ordinance cannot be raised for the first time on appeal to the supreme court. Rochester v. Upman, 19 Minn. 108 [followed in State v. Reckards, 21 Minn. 47].

Misdirection of a warrant to the sheriff or constable of the county instead of to the marshal or any constable of the city, as required by the charter, cannot be made for the first time in the supreme court. Rochester v. Upman, 19 Minn. 108.

A motion to quash the complaint for insufficiency may be made either before or after plea. Lead v. Klatt, 11 S. D. 109, 75 N. W. 896.

61. O'Brien v. Cleveland, 4 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 189, 1 Clev. L. Rep. 100. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 322 note 30.

62. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 511 et seq.

63. St. Louis v. Vert, 84 Mo. 204; Ex p. Hollwedell, 74 Mo. 395; St. Joseph v. Harris, 59 Mo. App. 122; Oran v. Bles, 52 Mo. App. 509; Ex p. Washington, 10 Mo. App. 495. See also State v. Robitshek, 60 Minn. 123, 61 N. W. 1023, 33 L. R. A. 33; Morgengroth v. Milwaukee, 125 Wis. 663, 105 N. W. 47.

In Wisconsin Rev. St. (1878) § 2501, provides that the judge of the municipal court shall have jurisdiction of prosecutions for breaches of ordinances, and shall hear in a summary way all cases brought before him by the police officers. Laws (1895), p. 15, c. 7, vests in the police court jurisdiction of all prosecutions for the breach of any ordinance, and provides that complaints shall conform to those formerly used in the municipal court, and in the city prosecutions the clerk of the court shall enter on the court records a statement of the offense charged, which shall stand as the complaint, unless the court shall direct the making of a formal complaint. Laws (1899), p. 358, c. 218, abolishes the police court, establishes a district court and grants it jurisdiction to try offenders against the ordinances, and provides that the complaints shall conform to those formerly used in the police and municipal courts. It was held that the making of a formal complaint by a police officer charging a violation of an ordinance relating to gambling is a compliance with the statutes and is sufficient, although the ordinance provides that the complaints for a violation thereof force, a subordinate officer in charge of the office may act for the chief in such cases.⁶⁴

(II) SIGNATURE. The report may be signed by the designated police officer or someone authorized by him.⁶⁵

(III) SUFFICIENCY. The report must show the statutory requisites to constitute an offense.⁶⁶ The report need not ask judgment for any sum or amount of penalty.⁶⁷ The proceeding instituted upon the report, being civil and not criminal in its nature,⁶⁸ may be amended by the city.⁶⁹

k. Demurrer, Plea, or Answer. Defendant in a proper case may demur to the information or complaint,⁷⁰ or interpose a plea or answer in abatement,⁷¹ or a plea or answer in bar;⁷² and he may, if he chooses, enter a plea of guilty;⁷³ but a plea of guilty may under proper circumstances be withdrawn.⁷⁴ Formal pleading, may be made by the city attorney. Morgengroth v. Milwaukee, 125 Wis. 663, 105 N. W. 47.

64. St. Louis v. Vert, 84 Mo. 204; Ex p. Hollwedell, 74 Mo. 395; Ex p. Washington, 10 Mo. App. 495.

65. Ex p. Hollwedell, 74 Mo. 395; Ex p. Washington, 10 Mo. App. 495. See St. Louis v. Vert, 84 Mo. 204, holding that the written report of the chief of police signed with defendant's name, by his subordinate, is sufficient.

Failure of the police officer to sign the report has been held to be insufficient as a ground upon which to dismiss the proceedings thereunder. St. Louis v. Vert, 84 Mo. 204.

66. St. Joseph v. Harris, 59 Mo. App. 122.

An information by the city attorney cannot be based upon an invalid report of the police officer, as where the report fails to show the statutory requisites to constitute an offense. St. Joseph v. Harris, 59 Mo. App. 122.

67. St. Louis v. Vert, 84 Mo. 204, where the maximum and minimum penalty was fixed by the ordinance, and the penalty to be imposed within the statutory limits was within the discretion of the court.

68. St. Louis v. Vert, 84 Mo. 204. See supra, XI, B, 4, b.

69. St. Louis v. Vert, 84 Mo. 204.

Amendment generally see infra, XI, B, 4, l.

70. Pitts v. Opelika, 79 Ala. 527; State v. Reckards, 21 Minn. 47.

71. Carrollton v. Rhomberg, 78 Mo. 547; Lansdowne v. Springfield Water Co., 7 Del. Co. (Pa.) 509; Moundsville v. Velton, 35 W. Va. 217, 13 S. E. 373. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 348; PLEADING.

Abatement by death of parties see ABATEMENT AND REVIVAL, 1 Cyc. 69; Carrollton v. Rhomberg, 78 Mo. 547.

Matter in abatement must be pleaded.—Moundsville v. Velton, 35 W. Va. 217, 13 S. E. 373.

A plea in abatement is a proper way in which to raise the question where the objection is that separate actions have been improperly sought to be maintained. Lansdowne v. Springfield Water Co., 7 Del. Co. (Pa.) 509.

Substantially raising guilt or innocence.—It is proper for the district court to overrule a plea to the jurisdiction of the court which substantially raises the guilt or innocence of the accused. Salina v. Cooper, 45 Kan. 12, 25 Pac. 233.

72. Noland v. People, 33 Colo. 322, 80 Pac. 887; Moundsville v. Velton, 35 W. Va. 217, 13 S. E. 373. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 348; PLEADING.

Acquittal or conviction of offense against either state or municipal law as bar to prosecution for offense against the other see CRIMINAL LAW; and supra, XI, A, 4, b, (II).

In quasi-criminal proceeding.—An action brought by a city for breach of an ordinance forbidding the erection or removal within the fire limits of wooden buildings is quasi-criminal, and hence a plea of former acquittal is to be determined by the rule applicable to criminal cases, rather than by the doctrine of res judicata as applied in cases strictly civil. Noland v. People, 33 Colo. 322, 80 Pac. 887.

Limitations of actions to enforce penalties, fines, or forfeitures for violation of municipal ordinance see LIMITATIONS OF ACTIONS, 25 Cyc. 1054. See also State v. Nohl, 113 Wis. 15, 88 N. W. 1004. Statute of limitations must be pleaded. Moundsville v. Velton, 35 W. Va. 217, 13 S. E. 373.

Set-off must be pleaded.—Moundsville v. Velton, 35 W. Va. 217, 13 S. E. 373.

73. Collins v. Hall, 92 Ga. 411, 17 S. E. 622; Oran v. Bles, 52 Mo. App. 509, holding that a conviction may be based upon a plea of guilty made in open court.

When an ordinance prohibits, under the same penalty, each of several distinct acts, some of which are within the corporate power to punish, and some are not, a plea of guilty on an accusation which merely charges generally a violation of the ordinance, without specifying any act whatever, cannot be applied to one class of the acts embraced in the ordinance, rather than to the other, and no punishment can be inflicted as a result of the proceeding. Collins v. Hall, 92 Ga. 411, 17 S. E. 622.

74. Salina v. Cooper, 45 Kan. 12, 25 Pac. 233, holding that under the facts disclosed by the record in this case, it was clearly the duty of the court to accord such right to defendant. Defendant was without counsel, and there was a question whether he intended to plead guilty or not.

however, is not usually necessary in summary proceedings.⁷⁵ Dilatory pleadings must be filed in limine,⁷⁶ and are waived by pleas in bar.⁷⁷ If defendant predicates his defense on the invalidity of the ordinance he must plead it.⁷⁸

1. Amendments. Where the proceeding is civil in its nature the same liberal rule as to amendment applies as in other civil cases.⁷⁹ Where, however, the proceeding is criminal in its nature stricter rules are followed;⁸⁰ as to matters of form merely amendments may be allowed,⁸¹ but as to matters of substance affecting substantial rights of the accused no amendments will be allowed.⁸²

m. Issues, Proof, and Variance. The proof must be confined to the issues made by the pleadings,⁸³ except as to such matters as are properly admissible under the plea of not guilty, whether pleaded or not.⁸⁴ The usual rules of variance apply; where the variance between the pleading and proof is material it is fatal,⁸⁵ but an immaterial variance is not fatal.⁸⁶

75. Moundsville v. Velton, 35 W. Va. 217, 13 S. E. 373, holding that a conviction for a violation of an ordinance of a municipal corporation will not be reversed for want of a plea by defendant, since under the laws formal pleadings are not necessary before a justice.

All defenses except the statute of limitations, set-off, and matter in abatement may be given in evidence without plea, in an action before the mayor to recover a penalty for a violation of a penal ordinance. Zorger v. Greensburgh, 60 Ind. 1, holding that where in an action before a mayor to recover a penalty for violation of a penal ordinance matter pleaded specially may be given in evidence without plea, the sustaining of a demurrer to such a plea, although erroneous, is harmless.

Arraignment and plea of not guilty do not seem to be necessary in a civil proceeding to recover penalty for violation of an ordinance. St. Louis v. Knox, 74 Mo. 79; Lexington v. Curtin, 69 Mo. 626.

76. Bedford v. Rice, 58 N. H. 227, holding that a plea to the jurisdiction of the police court is filed too late after a transfer of the case to another court upon demand for a jury trial.

77. Pipps v. Opelika, 79 Ala. 527, holding that in a quasi-criminal prosecution for violation of a municipal ordinance, where defendant demurs to the complaint, and afterward before any action is had on the demurrer, pleads not guilty, the demurrer is waived.

78. Frankfort v. Aughe, 114 Ind. 77, 15 N. E. 802.

79. Iowa.—Lovilla v. Cobb, 126 Iowa 557, 102 N. W. 496.

Kentucky.—Com. v. Price, 94 S. W. 32, 29 Ky. L. Rep. 593.

North Carolina.—Washington v. Frank, 46 N. C. 436.

Tennessee.—Childress v. Nashville, 3 Sneed 347.

United States.—Virginia v. Smith, 28 Fed. Cas. No. 16,965, 1 Cranch C. C. 22, holding that an information may be amended by stating that penalty accrued to the town instead of the commonwealth.

Amendment of report of police officer see supra, XI, B, 4, j, (III).

The process may be amended. Com. v. Price, 94 S. W. 32, 29 Ky. L. Rep. 593; Washington v. Frank, 46 N. C. 436; Bristol v. Burrow, 5 Lea (Tenn.) 128 (holding that a warrant charging defendant with an affray may be amended so as to show that the offense committed was disorderly conduct); Childress v. Nashville, 3 Sneed (Tenn.) 347; McGunnigle v. Washington, 16 Fed. Cas. No. 8,818, 2 Cranch C. C. 460.

Even after certiorari or appeal amendments may be allowed. Lovilla v. Cobb, 126 Iowa 557, 102 N. W. 496; Bristol v. Burrow, 5 Lea (Tenn.) 128.

80. Kansas City v. Whitman, 70 Mo. App. 630.

Amendment of complaint for summary trial see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 326.

81. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 326.

82. Kansas City v. Whitman, 70 Mo. App. 630; St. Joseph v. Harris, 59 Mo. App. 122; Kansas City v. O'Connor, 36 Mo. App. 594. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 326. Compare St. Louis v. Babcock, 156 Mo. 154, 56 S. W. 731, where a verbal amendment by the city favoring defendant was allowed.

To correct jurisdictional defects and validate what was void from the beginning, a complaint cannot be amended on appeal. Edina v. Brown, 19 Mo. App. 672.

83. See cases cited infra, notes 85, 86.

84. See Zorger v. Greensburgh, 60 Ind. 1; Cleveland v. Ledoux, 22 Quebec Super. Ct. 85.

85. Columbus v. Arnold, 30 Ga. 517; Alexandria v. Brockett, 1 Fed. Cas. No. 181, 1 Cranch C. C. 505.

Defendant must be convicted, if at all, of the offense charged. Lesterjelle v. Columbus, 30 Ga. 936; Columbus v. Arnold, 30 Ga. 517; Gates v. Aurora, 44 Ill. 121; People v. Miller, 38 Hun (N. Y.) 82.

86. State v. King, 37 Iowa 462; Hershoff v. Beverly, 45 N. J. L. 288. See also Galatin v. Tarwater, 143 Mo. 40, 44 S. W. 750.

Under an information charging a sale to "persons unknown," under an ordinance making each separate act of selling an offense, the evidence having established a sale to one person only, it was held that the variance between the proof and the allegation was not fatal. State v. King, 37 Iowa 462.

n. Evidence — (i) IN GENERAL. On trial for violation of police ordinances the general rules of evidence as to burden of proof,⁸⁷ presumptions,⁸⁸ judicial notice,⁸⁹ admissibility,⁹⁰ and probative force⁹¹ prevail,⁹² due regard being paid in the various jurisdictions to the different quantum necessary in civil and criminal cases.⁹³

(ii) PRESUMPTIONS AND BURDEN OF PROOF. Applying the general rule as to burden of proof⁹⁴ plaintiff must establish at least a prima facie case of violation of the ordinance;⁹⁵ but defendant, especially where the proceeding is civil in its nature,⁹⁶ may have the burden of showing an affirmative defense of which he may attempt to avail himself.⁹⁷ Moreover, it seems, that it is competent for a municipality in adopting an ordinance to provide what shall be a prima facie case of a violation thereof, and to place on the accused charged with such violation the burden of showing that the case falls within an exception named in the ordinance.⁹⁸ The fact that smoke was injurious and constituted an annoyance may be presumed.⁹⁹

(iii) ADMISSIBILITY.¹ Similarly applying the general rules as to admissibility of evidence,² plaintiff is entitled to adduce any competent evidence tending to show that defendant is within the provisions of the ordinance alleged to have been violated and that he has actually committed a breach thereof.³ On the other

87. See infra, XI, B, 4, n. (ii).

88. See infra, XI, B, 4, n. (ii).

89. See infra, XI, B, 4, n. (v).

90. See infra, XI, B, 4, n. (iii).

91. See infra, XI, B, 4, n. (iv).

92. See Raker v. Maquon, 9 Ill. App. 155; Columbia v. Johnson, 72 Mo. App. 232; Charleston v. Schroeder, 4 Rich. (S. C.) 296. See also CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 379 et seq.; EVIDENCE, 16 Cyc. 821 et seq., 17 Cyc. 1 et seq.

93. Brown v. Mobile, 23 Ala. 722; Ruth v. Abingdon, 80 Ill. 418; Sparta v. Lewis, 91 Tenn. 370, 23 S. W. 182. See infra, XI, B, 4, n. (iv).

94. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 379 et seq.; EVIDENCE, 16 Cyc. 926 et seq.

95. See infra, XI, B, 4, n. (iv).

96. See supra, XI, D, 4, b.

97. Cleveland v. Ledoux, 22 Quebec Super. Ct. 85. See EVIDENCE, 16 Cyc. 926. Compare CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 379.

Burden of showing defendant in exception.

— In a suit by a municipality to recover the penalty imposed by a by-law requiring all residents to exhibit by a specified date a certificate from the secretary of the board of health showing that they had been vaccinated, the complaint need not allege that defendant never had smallpox, which fact would exempt him from the operation of the by-law, but the burden is on defendant to make satisfactory proof of this fact. Cleveland Tp. v. Ledoux, 22 Quebec Super. Ct. 85.

98. Com. v. Price, 94 S. W. 32, 29 Ky. L. Rep. 593.

99. Field v. Chicago, 44 Ill. App. 410, holding that in a prosecution for a violation of the "smoke ordinance," an instruction that the city must prove that the smoke issuing from defendant's chimney was detrimental to property close enough to be affected by it injuriously, or was personally annoying to the public at large, is properly refused, since the fact that the smoke was injurious and annoying may be presumed.

1. Acts and declarations of third persons see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 435.

2. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 390 et seq.; EVIDENCE, 16 Cyc. 938 et seq., 17 Cyc. 1 et seq.

3. Byars v. Mt. Vernon, 77 Ill. 467; Weinberg v. Augusta, 116 Ill. App. 423; Com. v. Matthews, 122 Mass. 60.

Book of instructions to officer.— On trial of a complaint for violation of a city ordinance forbidding drivers of hackney carriages to stand with their carriages in any other public place than those assigned to them, respectively, by the board of aldermen, a book prepared by the mayor and aldermen for the guidance of the superintendent of hacks, and containing a list of the owners of such carriages and the places assigned them, is admissible to show that defendant was assigned elsewhere than where his carriage was found. Com. v. Matthews, 122 Mass. 60.

Ordinance violated.— It is proper to admit the entire ordinance where such practice will aid the jury in a fair understanding of the particular section forming the basis of the prosecution. Weinberg v. Augusta, 116 Ill. App. 423. But such ordinance is not admissible in evidence unless legally authenticated. Lanesboro v. Perrine, 2 Just. L. Rep. (Pa.) 254. See also supra, VI, O.

Other offenses.— While it is usually error to permit the city to prove other offenses than that with which defendant is charged (Columbia v. Johnson, 72 Mo. App. 232), if a complaint for the violation of an ordinance is not limited to a single offense, but charges a violation generally, proof may be admitted of any number of offenses, provided the aggregate of the fines assessed do not exceed the magistrate's jurisdiction (Byars v. Mt. Vernon, 77 Ill. 467).

Proof of personal commission unaided is admissible in a charge of assisting in the hand defendant may introduce expert⁴ as well as other competent testimony to sustain his defense.⁵

(1v) WEIGHT AND SUFFICIENCY. Where the action is civil, a preponderance of evidence is usually controlling;⁶ but where the suit is treated as a criminal, or quasi-criminal case, mere preponderance is not sufficient.⁷ More than facts necessary to constitute the offense need not be proven.⁸ The evidence must, however, always be sufficient to show that the acts of the accused are within the terms of the ordinance as well as a prima facie case of violation of the same by him.⁹ In all cases police regulations may be proved by copies purporting to be issued by municipal authority;¹⁰ but on the other hand the ordinance¹¹ as well commission of an offense. Topeka v. Kersch, 70 Kan. 840, 79 Pac. 681, 80 Pac. 29.

4. People v. Wilson, 16 N. Y. Suppl. 583, 10 N. Y. Cr. 79; Clason v. Milwaukee, 30 Wis. 316. See Frank v. Cincinnati, 7 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 544, 5 Ohio N. P. 520, holding this to be true even after a plea of guilty under an invalid ordinance.

5. Moore v. District of Columbia, 12 App. Cas. (D. C.) 537, 41 L. R. A. 208; Cincinnati v. Kraft, 8 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 672; State v. Earle, 66 S. C. 194, 44 S. E. 781.

Invalidity of ordinance.—Defendant may introduce evidence to show that the regulation is unreasonable and void (Moore v. District of Columbia, 12 App. Cas. (D. C.) 537, 41 L. R. A. 208); that it is so unreasonable as to amount to a confiscation of property under the guise of regulation (State v. Earle, 66 S. C. 194, 44 S. E. 781), as well as such facts as may tend to invalidate the ordinance in its operation against him (Cincinnati v. Kraft, 8 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 672).

Evidence inadmissible.—On a prosecution for violation of an ordinance prohibiting the collection and removal of garbage without a license, evidence that defendant had been for many years engaged in the business of collecting and removing garbage in the city, in carts so constructed as to satisfy the requirements of the ordinance, and that he had applied to the clerk of the board for a license or permit, and met with a refusal, is inadmissible. State v. Orr, 68 Conn. 101, 35 Atl. 770, 34 L. R. A. 279. It was not error to exclude evidence that permits had been previously issued to others, but, before defendant applied, the board had instructed its clerk to issue no more to any one. State v. Orr, supra. Nor was it error to exclude evidence to show that all the garbage collected by defendant came from certain restaurants with the proprietors of which he had contracted for its removal. State v. Orr, supra. On the trial of a complaint charging the violation of a certain ordinance by the maintenance of a slaughter-house within the city limits on a certain day, evidence as to the boundary of the city on another day was properly rejected. Spokane v. Robison, 6 Wash. 547, 33 Pac. 960.

6. Sparta v. Lewis, 91 Tenn. 370, 23 S. W. 182. See EVIDENCE, 17 Cyc. 754 et seq.

7. Ruth v. Abingdon, 80 Ill. 418. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 490 et seq.

8. State v. Nohl, 113 Wis. 15, 88 N. W. 1004.

Malice, carelessness, or wantonness need not be proved unless they constitute an essential ingredient of the offense and have been specifically charged in the complaint or information. State v. Merrill, 37 Me. 329.

9. District of Columbia.—Shoemaker v. Entwisle, 3 App. Cas. 252.

Georgia.—Edwards v. Atlanta, 124 Ga. 78, 52 S. E. 297; Starr v. Atlanta, 124 Ga. 78, 52 S. E. 298; Taylor v. Americus, 39 Ga. 59.

Illinois.—Raker v. Maquon, 9 Ill. App. 155.

Louisiana.—State v. Finnegan, 52 La. Ann. 694, 37 So. 564.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Galt, 179 Mo. 8, 77 S. W. 876, 63 L. R. A. 778; Gallatin v. Tarwater, 143 Mo. 40, 44 S. W. 750; St. Louis v. Door, 136 Mo. 370, 37 S. W. 1108; St. Louis v. Howard, 119 Mo. 47, 24 S. W. 772; Oran v. Bles, 52 Mo. App. 509.

New York.—Watertown v. Rodenbaugh, 112 N. Y. App. Div. 723, 98 N. Y. Suppl. 885.

South Carolina.—Charleston v. Schroeder, 4 Rich. 296.

Vermont.—State v. Cruickshank, 71 Vt. 94, 42 Atl. 983.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1410.

No evidence of material averment.—The conviction of defendant under a city ordinance for peddling vegetables within six blocks of the market square, and for keeping a private market, was erroneous where there was no evidence that he was a peddler, and where he did not keep a private market. State v. Finnegan, 52 La. Ann. 694, 27 So. 654.

10. See Com. v. Matthews, 122 Mass. 60. See also supra, VI.

11. People v. Weiss-Chapman Drug Co., 5 Colo. App. 153, 33 Pac. 334, holding that where, on a prosecution for violation of an ordinance, only one section of the ordinance was introduced, and this did not define the offense, but merely the penalties, a judgment of nonsuit was properly rendered. Raker v. Maquon, 9 Ill. App. 155; Joske v. Irvine, 91 Tex. 574, 44 S. W. 1059.

Not only the ordinance, but authority to enact it must, it has been held, be proven by competent evidence. Dunham v. Rochester, 5 Cow. (N. Y.) 462.

as the corporate limits,¹² and the particular act within them, must be duly proven to warrant conviction.¹³

(v) JUDICIAL COGNIZANCE. Under the general rules of judicial cognizance¹⁴ a municipal court takes judicial notice of an ordinance.¹⁵

o. Trial—(x) IN GENERAL. Where the proceedings are civil in their nature,¹⁶ especially where the action is one of debt or assumpsit for the recovery of a penalty,¹⁷ the trial should be conducted according to the rules governing civil actions.¹⁸ But where the proceedings are criminal or quasi-criminal in their character they should ordinarily be conducted according to the rules applicable to indict-

Publication.—The certificate of the clerk of the due publication of the ordinance is sufficient proof thereof. O'Brien v. Cleveland, 4 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 189, 1 Clev. L. Rep. 100. See supra, VI, O.

That ordinance was in force.—The evidence should show that the ordinance was in force at the time the act complained of was committed. Raker v. Maquon, 9 Ill. App. 155.

12. Starr v. Atlanta, 124 Ga. 78, 52 S. E. 298; Edwards v. Atlanta, 124 Ga. 78, 52 S. E. 297; Taylor v. Americus, 39 Ga. 59.

Territorial jurisdiction see supra, XI, A, 5. 13. Shoemaker v. Entwisle, 3 App. Cas. (D. C.) 252; St. Louis v. Galt, 179 Mo. 8, 77 S. W. 876, 63 L. R. A. 778.

Breach of building regulations.—On information filed in the police court by the building inspector against a property-owner refusing to comply with notice from the inspector to tear down a wall as dangerous, the notice is not conclusive proof that the wall was dangerous. Shoemaker v. Entwisle, 3 App. Cas. (D. C.) 252. An ordinance provided that no person should commence any building without a permit. Defendant procured a permit for a brick building "to be used as a dwelling," and erected the building in accordance with the specifications submitted to the commissioner, but purposed to carry on business on the lower floor, occupying the second floor as a residence. It was held that a complaint for the penalty for violating the ordinance, alleging the erection of a building "without having first obtained a written permission," could not be sustained. St. Louis v. Dorr, 136 Mo. 370, 37 S. W. 1108.

Charge of sale to Miss Mary Bates is not supported by proof of sale to Miss Bates. Charleston v. Schroeder, 4 Rich. (S. C.) 296.

Distribution of sample packages without license.—In a prosecution for violation of an ordinance forbidding the distribution of sample packages of merchandise without a license, but providing that it should not apply to merchants and other residents of the city distributing bills or advertising the business in which they were engaged, evidence that defendant distributed packages, stating that she was doing the work for the local groceries, did not support a conviction. Watertown v. Rodenbaugh, 112 N. Y. App. Div. 723, 98 N. Y. Suppl. 885.

Erection and maintenance of nuisance.—In a prosecution under an ordinance forbidding the erection of a slaughter-house in certain limits without permission, proof that accused occupied a newly-built house for a slaughter-house, without proof that he built it, caused it to be built, or owned the land, is insufficient. St. Louis v. Howard, 119 Mo. 47, 24 S. W. 772. Evidence that there were weeds on defendant's premises from four to five feet high, and about one third were sunflowers, is sufficient to sustain his conviction for violation of an ordinance forbidding any one to allow a growth of weeds on his premises over one foot high, and providing that the term "weeds" shall include all rank vegetable growth which exhales unpleasant and noxious odors, and also high and rank vegetable growth that may conceal filthy deposits. St. Louis v. Galt, 179 Mo. 8, 77 S. W. 876, 63 L. R. A. 778.

Proof of one breach.—Where a complaint for drunkenness charged defendant with being drunk on the streets and on the sidewalks and in the business houses of the city, which are disjunctively made punishable by the same ordinance, imposing a like penalty in each case, there is but one offense charged, which will be supported by proof of any one of the breaches alleged. Gallatin v. Tarwater, 143 Mo. 40, 44 S. W. 750.

14. See EVIDENCE, 16 Cyc. 898.

15. Ex p. Davis, 115 Cal. 445, 47 Pac. 258; State v. Merritt, 83 N. C. 677; Moundsville v. Velton, 35 W. Va. 217, 13 S. E. 373. See EVIDENCE, 16 Cyc. 898. Contra, State v. Bosworth, 74 Vt. 315, 52 Atl. 423; State v. Cruickshank, 71 Vt. 94, 42 Atl. 983.

On appeal to the circuit court from a conviction before a mayor under the West Virginia statute, the circuit court will take judicial notice of the ordinance. Moundsville v. Velton, 35 W. Va. 217, 13 S. E. 373.

In other courts the rule is that the ordinance must be pleaded and proved, although the court may take judicial notice of a municipal charter. See also supra, VI, N.

16. See supra, XI, B, 4, b.

17. People v. Vinton, 82 Mich. 39, 46 N. W. 31.

18. People v. Vinton, 82 Mich. 39, 46 N. W. 31. See also supra, XI, B, 4, b.

In some jurisdictions, however, where the proceedings have always been regarded as civil actions, yet where, under the statutes, the enforcement is sought by a resort to proceedings which are carried on in all respects as criminal cases are prosecuted, by complaint and warrant, and where the court is author-ments for misdemeanors,¹⁹ and, in case of summary proceedings, according to summary trials in criminal cases.²⁰ A municipality cannot proceed against defendant on an ordinance other than the one named in the summons or warrant.²¹

(ii) RIGHT OF ACCUSED TO BE PRESENT. The right of the accused to be present at the trial is a personal right of his own and may be waived by him.²²

(iii) DISMISSAL BEFORE TRIAL. For sufficient cause in a proper case the proceedings may be quashed or dismissed before trial.²³

(iv) RIGHT TO JURY TRIAL; SUMMARY TRIAL. Express authority is essential to the validity of any summary proceedings.²⁴ But when they are duly authorized a jury is unnecessary.²⁵ And a jury may not be called by the recorder or mayor unless specially authorized by statute.²⁶

(v) QUESTIONS OF LAW AND FACT. The jury are the judges of the facts in these just as in other cases.²⁷ So too the effect of the proof admitted is for the jury.²⁸ But the jury are not, as sometimes in criminal cases, judges of both the ized to inflict upon the offender not only fine and imprisonment for its non-payment, but also imprisonment aside from a pecuniary fine, such proceedings should conform to the proceedings in criminal cases cognizable before justices of the peace. People v. Vinton, 82 Mich. 39, 46 N. W. 31; Northville v. Westfall, 75 Mich. 603, 42 N. W. 1068. See also People v. Gordon, 81 Mich. 306, 45 N. W. 658, 21 Am. St. Rep. 524. But see Webster v. Lansing, 47 Mich. 192, 10 N. W. 196; Cooper v. People, 41 Mich. 403, 2 N. W. 51.

19. Brown v. Mobile, 23 Ala. 722; Lexington v. Wise, 24 S. C. 163; and supra, XI, B, 4, b.

Proceedings by whom conducted see supra, XI, B, 4, h. See also People v. Vinton, 82 Mich. 39, 46 N. W. 31, holding that the employment by a village attorney of an attorney at law to conduct a prosecution for violating a village ordinance affords no ground of objection to defendant, where the village attorney is present at the trial, supervising the case, and the attorney employed has no interest or prejudice against defendant, although the village attorney is not an attorney of the court, and although the village council has not authorized such action.

Taking testimony.—Where the charter of a town confers on the town council the general power and jurisdiction of trial justices, one prosecuted for violation of the town ordinances may require that the testimony shall be taken down in writing and subscribed by the witnesses. Lexington v. Wise, 24 S. C. 163.

20. Monroe v. Hardy, 46 La. Ann. 1232, 15 So. 696; St. Peter v. Bauer, 19 Minn. 327; People v. Van Houten, 13 Misc. (N. Y.) 603, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 186 [affirmed in 91 Hun 638, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 1130].

Mode and conduct of a summary trial see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 327.

21. Gates v. Aurora, 44 Ill. 121, holding that proceeding thus against defendant would be shifting the cause of action without his consent.

22. State v. Reckards, 21 Minn. 47, at least when the counsel of accused is present for him.

Necessity of presence of accused see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 321, 528.

23. See supra, XI, B, 4, i, (ix).

24. Monroe v. Hardy, 46 La. Ann. 1232, 15 So. 696. See People v. Van Houten, 13 Misc. (N. Y.) 603, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 186 [affirmed in 91 Hun 638, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 1130].

Right to jury trial see JURIES, 24 Cyc. 145. See Wood v. Brooklyn, 14 Barb. (N. Y.) 425, holding that a suit to recover a fine for violation of a municipal ordinance may be had before a jury.

Summary trial without jury see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 321 et seq.

Waiver of right to jury trial see JURIES, 24 Cyc. 149 et seq.

25. Monroe v. Hardy, 46 La. Ann. 1232, 15 So. 696; People v. Van Houten, 13 Misc. (N. Y.) 603, 35 N. Y. Suppl. 186 [affirmed in 91 Hun 638, 36 N. Y. Suppl. 1130].

If the accused may obtain a jury trial on appeal, without oppressive restriction, the proceeding is valid. McInerney v. Denver, 17 Colo. 302, 29 Pac. 516. See also Callan v. Wilson, 127 U. S. 540, 8 S. Ct. 1301, 32 L. ed. 223.

26. St. Peter v. Bauer, 19 Minn. 327, holding that sentence passed by defendant, upon conviction on trial by jury, was illegal. But see State v. Harris, 50 Minn. 128, 52 N. W. 387, 531 [following Mankato v. Arnold, 36 Minn. 62, 30 N. W. 305], as to the right of trial by jury in prosecution for violation of ordinance under charter authorizing summary trial.

27. Wettengel v. Denver, 20 Colo. 552, 39 Pac. 343 (question whether hand bills distributed were within the ordinance); Walton v. Cañon City, 13 Colo. App. 77, 56 Pac. 671; Pennsylvania Co. v. Chicago, 107 Ill. App. 37 (question whether the smoke issuing from a locomotive was dense smoke); Glenn v. Baltimore, 5 Gill & J. (Md.) 424 (whether a prohibition in an ordinance was calculated to prevent danger from fires); Sparks v. Stokes, 40 N. J. L. 487 (question whether a sale was made in good faith for medicinal purposes).

28. Washington v. Frank, 46 N. C. 436. See also Brown v. Mobile, 23 Ala. 722, holding that where in a quasi-criminal proceeding for the violation of a city ordinance, the evidence before the jury is entirely circum-law and facts.²⁹ On the other hand all questions of law,³⁰ including validity,³¹ and reasonableness and scope of the ordinance,³² and the meaning of writings³³ are for the court to decide.

(vi) INSTRUCTIONS, VERDICT, AND FINDINGS. Instructions³⁴ as well as the verdict³⁵ and findings³⁶ are governed by rules of civil procedure or of criminal procedure according as the proceedings are civil or criminal in their nature.³⁷

p. Judgment and Record—(i) IN GENERAL. In no case can a judgment of conviction be rendered except upon sufficient legal testimony on a public trial or upon a plea of guilty in open court.³⁸ The form of the judgment need not be strictly and technically correct.³⁹ But unless the proceedings be in a court of record, the judgment alone, or the warrant and judgment, must show the facts stantial, the court may refuse to charge upon a portion of the testimony, and should refer the whole of it to the jury.

29. People v. Gardner, 136 Mich. 693, 100 N. W. 126.

30. See cases cited infra, note 31 et seq.

31. People v. Second Judicial Dist. Ct., 33 Colo. 328, 80 Pac. 888, 108 Am. St. Rep. 98, 33 Colo. 333, 80 Pac. 890 (the constitutionality of an ordinance); Peoria v. Calhoun, 29 Ill. 317, holding that it is for the court, and not for the jury, to pronounce upon the legality of an ordinance regulating the sale of fresh meats.

32. State v. Boardman, 93 Me. 73, 44 Atl. 118, 46 L. R. A. 750; Com. v. Worcester, 3 Pick. (Mass.) 462; Ex p. Vance, 42 Tex. Cr. 619, 62 S. W. 568. But see Glenn v. Baltimore, 5 Gill & J. (Md.) 424, where the court properly submitted to the jury the question of whether a prohibition in an ordinance against the carrying on of any distillery of spirits of turpentine was calculated to prevent danger from fires.

What is a device.—The question whether a stick or whip in the hands of a driver riding or walking behind a domestic animal is such a "device" for controlling it as is contemplated by an ordinance prohibiting animals from being driven on streets unless under the care of some competent person, and secured by some suitable device to properly control the same, is not one of fact for the jury, but of law for the court. Chamberlain v. Litchfield, 56 Ill. App. 652.

33. Chamberlain v. Litchfield, 56 Ill. App. 652.

34. Brown v. Mobile, 23 Ala. 722; Peoria v. Calhoun, 29 Ill. 317; People v. Gardner, 143 Mich. 104, 106 N. W. 541; State v. Bosworth, 74 Vt. 315, 52 Atl. 423.

Improper instruction.—Where an action is brought for violating a city ordinance regulating the sale of fresh meats, it is erroneous to instruct the jury that such an ordinance may be passed if not unlawful, as being in restraint of trade, since, if the power existed, the trade in violation of the ordinance could not be lawful. Peoria v. Calhoun, 29 Ill. 317. Where, in a quasi-criminal proceeding for the violation of a city ordinance, the evidence before the jury is entirely circumstantial, the court may refuse to charge upon a portion of the testimony, and should refer the whole of it to the jury. Brown v. Mobile, 23 Ala. 722.

Direction of verdict.—Where, on a prosecution for violation of an ordinance requiring that all drain pipes when within a building, and for a distance of five feet outside the foundation thereof, should be constructed in a certain manner, where the proof showed that the pipe constructed by accused was in violation of the ordinance, an instruction that there was nothing in the case to show that the pipe was ever outside the wall was not prejudicial to respondent. State v. Bosworth, 74 Vt. 315, 52 Atl. 423.

Direction of verdict.—Where, on a prosecution for the violation of a valid municipal ordinance, the violation was admitted, and the only questions on which a verdict was sought by defendant involved the validity of the ordinance, the court properly directed a verdict of guilty. People v. Gardner, 143 Mich. 104, 106 N. W. 541.

35. Topeka v. Kersch, 70 Kan. 840, 79 Pac. 681, 80 Pac. 29, where a verbal complaint for carrying on a liquor nuisance charged that defendant assisted in committing the nuisance in a back room on the first floor of a two-story building, No. 708 K avenue. The verdict found defendant guilty of maintaining a nuisance at 708 K avenue, "as claimed in the prosecution." The particular room was described by witnesses, and the court referred to it in the instructions as the place described in the evidence. It was held that in the absence of a written complaint the court was justified in the reference made to the place where the offense was committed, and the verdict was responsive to the charge.

36. Glen Ridge Bd. of Health v. Werner, 67 N. J. L. 103, 50 Atl. 585, holding that a conviction of a defendant in a proceeding for the violation of a borough ordinance, which finds him "guilty of violating section seventy-six of the ordinance," is not good as the conviction must be of the thing interdicted and made an offense by the ordinance, not of violating the ordinance itself.

37. See supra, XI, B, 4, b.

38. Oran v. Bles, 52 Mo. App. 509.

39. Wiggins v. Chicago, 68 Ill. 372.

In an action to recover a penalty, whether commenced either by summons or warrant, the pleadings and judgment are the same. Peterson v. State, (Nebr. 1907) 112 N. W.

necessary to give jurisdiction to the tribunal;⁴⁰ and in most of the non-code states the common-law rules as to summary proceedings obtain, requiring that the record shall show by exhibit or recital all matter of fact and law, other than public, essential to establish the jurisdiction of the court,⁴¹ due process of law,⁴² the regular trial and legal conviction of defendant,⁴³ and his unlawful act and guilt in violation of the ordinance.⁴⁴ But the court has no discretion to refuse judgment 306; Sutton v. McConnell, 46 Wis. 269, 50 N. W. 414.

Judgment must be signed by judge or other trial officer see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 330.

40. Lancaster v. Hirsch, 1 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 209; Philadelphia v. Hughes, 4 Phila. (Pa.) 148.

Where the police officer made oral complaint only to the police court the record must recite the presence of defendant and not merely his custody, and his plea of not guilty. Green City v. Holsinger, 76 Mo. App. 567.

41. Jersey City v. Neihaus, 66 N. J. L. 554, 49 Atl. 444; Jones v. Wilkes-Barre, 2 Kulp (Pa.) 68; Philadelphia v. Roney, 2 Phila. (Pa.) 43. See also CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 329.

Judgment in summary trial see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 328.

Record on summary conviction see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 328.

Issuance of summons directed to accused, containing a notice of the charge with an opportunity to him to make defense, must appear of record. Lancaster v. Baer, 5 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) Dec. 6, 1873.

An information laid should be shown. Lancaster v. Baer, 5 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) Dec. 6, 1873.

A specific charge against defendant must appear. Elizabeth v. Central R. Co., 66 N. J. L. 568, 49 Atl. 682.

Commission within the jurisdiction must be shown. Philadelphia v. Roney, 2 Phila. (Pa.) 43.

The ordinance violated (Com. v. Hill, 3 Pa. Dist. 216, 12 Pa. Co. Ct. 559; Com. v. Scranton, 2 Just. L. Rep. (Pa.) 106; Lancaster v. Hirsch, 1 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 209; Hanover v. O'Bold, 11 York Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 131; Joske v. Irvine, 91 Tex. 574, 44 S. W. 1059; Boothe v. Georgetown, 3 Fed. Cas. No. 1,651, 2 Cranch C. C. 356), or so much thereof as prohibits acts for which defendant was convicted (Com. v. Hill, 3 Pa. Dist. 216, 12 Pa. Co. Ct. 559), or at least the substance thereof (Hanover v. O'Bold, 11 York Leg. Rec. (Pa.) 131) must appear. If the ordinance is not set out in hæc verba it should be designated by number, section, or date of passage. Lancaster v. Hirsch, 1 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 209. Reference in proper terms to the ordinance violated must at least appear of record. Boothe v. Georgetown, 3 Fed. Cas. No. 1,651, 2 Cranch C. C. 356. But see Lanesboro v. Perrine, 2 Just. L. Rep. (Pa.) 254, holding that the entire ordinance, and not merely the sections violated, should appear on the record.

Ordinance which authorizes a summary proceeding must be shown. Com. v. Hill, 3 Pa. Dist. 216, 12 Pa. Co. Ct. 559.

That accused was arrested or appeared before the court must appear. Philadelphia v. Roney, 2 Phila. (Pa.) 43.

The evidence taken at the hearing should appear of record. Lancaster v. Baer, 5 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) Dec. 6, 1873. Evidence in extenso must be set forth upon the record. Com. v. Cane, 2 Pars. Eq. Cas. (Pa.) 265. Where, however, the proceedings are not summary the evidence on which the conviction was based need not be set out in the record or judgment. Philadelphia v. Duncan, 4 Phila. (Pa.) 145.

Arraignment or plea of not guilty need not appear of record where the prosecution is to recover a penalty and is not considered as a criminal proceeding. St. Louis v. Knox, 74 Mo. 79 [affirming 6 Mo. App. 247].

Illustrations of insufficient record.—A record of conviction for the violation of a city ordinance which contains only the following, viz.: "Witnesses, Officer Rooney, Sergeant Snow, Officer Graf; Defence, Christopher Neihaus, guilty, $25 fine," is bad, even under the statute simplifying what the record need show in police courts of cities. Jersey City v. Neihaus, 66 N. J. L. 554, 49 Atl. 444. A record reciting, "Judgment Aug. 17th. City of Elizabeth in the case of violation of city ordinance, section 187 . . . on hearing the evidence of plaintiff and defendant, held the Central railroad guilty, by obstructing said Broadway . . . imposed fine of $25.00," is insufficient. Elizabeth v. Central R. Co., 66 N. J. L. 568, 49 Atl. 682.

42. Gallitzen Borough v. Gains, 15 Pa. Co. Ct. 337, 7 Kulp 479; Lancaster v. Baer, 5 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) Dec. 6, 1873.

43. Elizabeth v. Central R. Co., 66 N. J. L. 568, 49 Atl. 682; Keeler v. Milledge, 24 N. J. L. 142; Gallitzen v. Gains, 15 Pa. Co. Ct. 337, 7 Kulp 479; Jones v. Wilkes-Barre, 2 Kulp (Pa.) 68; Lancaster v. Baer, 5 Lanc. Bar (Pa.) Dec. 6, 1873; Com. v. Cane, 2 Pars. Eq. Cas. (Pa.) 265; Philadelphia v. Cohan, 13 Wkly. Notes Cas. (Pa.) 468.

Everything necessary to sustain a lawful summary conviction must appear upon the face of the record. Philadelphia v. Campbell, 11 Phila. (Pa.) 163.

44. Com. v. Hill, 3 Pa. Dist. 216, 12 Pa. Co. Ct. 559; Boothe v. Georgetown, 3 Fed. Cas. No. 1,651, 2 Cranch C. C. 356.

The offense committed by defendant should be described. Com. v. Scranton, 2 Just. L. Rep. (Pa.) 106. The specific act committed by defendant should appear of record and should be so described or defined as to when the case is duly charged and proved, and as a matter of benignity suspend the operation of the statute.⁴⁵

(ii) JUDGMENT BY DEFAULT. Judgment by default on a defective warrant is void.⁴⁶

(iii) JOINT OR SEVERAL JUDGMENT. Where two persons are jointly indicted for the violation of an ordinance and only one is convicted, judgment against him alone is irregular and cannot be sustained.⁴⁷

(iv) AMOUNT OF JUDGMENT. At common law the judgment is invalid unless for the exact sum of the penalty.⁴⁸

(v) VACATING JUDGMENT. Power to release from imprisonment is not power to vacate or satisfy judgment.⁴⁹

q. *Sentence and Punishment*⁵⁰—(i) IN GENERAL. Three fundamental and elementary rules for punishment of violators of municipal by-laws and ordinances have been recognized and established by repeated adjudications: (1) The court can impose no sentence greater or less than that authorized by the by-law or statute,⁵¹ and if no penalty is prescribed, then no sentence can be pronounced;⁵² (2) penalties may be imposed by municipal ordinance and by-law only when, and to the extent, expressly authorized by charter or general law;⁵³ all other penalties are ultra vires and void;⁵⁴ but the legislature may impose such penalties by direct legislation;⁵⁵ (3) the legislature has plenary power,⁵⁶ within constitutional limitations, to authorize individuate it and to show that it falls within a class of unlawful acts. Com. v. Scranton, 2 Just. L. Rep. (Pa.) 106.

Every essential ingredient of the offense must be shown. Lanesboro v. Perrine, 2 Just. L. Rep. (Pa.) 254; Philadelphia v. Hughes, 4 Phila. (Pa.) 148.

The fact of violation of the ordinance should be shown. Boothe v. Georgetown, 3 Fed. Cas. No. 1,651, 2 Cranch C. C. 356.

The manner of violating the ordinance should appear of record. Boothe v. Georgetown, 3 Fed. Cas. No. 1,651, 2 Cranch C. C. 356.

Finding of guilty must appear. Elizabeth v. Central R. Co., 66 N. J. L. 568, 49 Atl. 682.

A specific finding of the nature of the offense committed should be contained in the record. Smith v. Pittsburgh, 35 Pittsb. Leg. J. N. S. (Pa.) 7.

45. New York v. Hewitt, 91 N. Y. App. Div. 445, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 832.

46. McMinnville v. Strond, 109 Tenn. 569, 72 S. W. 949.

47. Philadelphia v. Kitchen, 2 Phila. (Pa.) 44.

48. Manayunk v. Davis, 2 Pars. Eq. Cas. (Pa.) 289, holding that where there are two penalties imposed by an ordinance, the judgment must be certain for which penalty it is rendered; and a judgment for too small a sum is as fatal as if for a larger sum than is given by the ordinance.

49. Newton v. Bergbower, 63 Ill. App. 201, construing Rev. St. c. 24, art. 2, § 9.

50. Ordinances: Prescribing excessive or unreasonable punishment see supra, XI, A, 8, i, (iii). Relating to punishment generally see supra, XI, A, 8, g. Uncertainty as to punishment see supra, XI, A, 8, g.

Power of municipality to punish generally see supra, XI, A, 8, g.

Punishment to enforce ordinance see supra, XI, B, 4, a.

Summary proceeding: Extent of jurisdiction as to punishment see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 330. Sentence and punishment upon conviction see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 330, 331.

51. See infra, XI, B, 4, q, (vii).

52. Smith v. Gouldy, 58 N. J. L. 562, 34 Atl. 748.

A penalty is not recoverable where none is provided by the ordinance. Ford v. Denver, 10 Colo. App. 500, 51 Pac. 1015.

Uncertainty.—A town ordinance imposing a fine of "not more than fifty dollars" for its violation is void for uncertainty in the amount of the fine to be imposed. State v. Irvin, 126 N. C. 989, 35 S. E. 430.

53. Brieswick v. Brunswick, 51 Ga. 639, 21 Am. Rep. 240; State v. Cantieny, 34 Minn. 1, 24 N. W. 458.

Power to impose fines and penalties is implied from the power to pass the ordinance see supra, XI, A, 8, g, text and note 23. And ordinances prescribing punishment may be authorized by charter or statute see supra, XI, B, 4, a, text and note 72.

54. Merkee v. Rochester, 13 Hun (N. Y.) 157.

55. Colorado.—Saner v. People, 17 Colo. App. 307, 69 Pac. 76.

Georgia.—Kinney v. Blackshear, 115 Ga. 810, 42 S. E. 231.

Kansas.—Miltonvale v. Lanoue, 35 Kan. 603, 12 Pac. 12.

Michigan.—See Matter of Way, 41 Mich. 299, 1 N. W. 1021.

New York.—Polinsky v. People, 73 N. Y. 65, 11 Hun 390; Brunner v. Downs, 17 N. Y. Suppl. 633.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1375.

Punishment may be directly imposed by charter or statute see supra, XI, B, 4, a, text and note 71.

56. The legislature has full discretion municipalities to punish persons violating their ordinances or by-laws, by fine,⁵⁷ imprisonment,⁵⁸ fine or imprisonment,⁵⁹ or both fine and imprisonment,⁶⁰ or to enforce payment of fine by imprisonment and labor.⁶¹ Revocation of a license under express authority to revoke cannot be considered as punishment.⁶²

(II) FINE. Authority may be given to punish by fine.⁶³

(III) FINE AND IMPRISONMENT. Authority may be given to punish by fine and imprisonment.⁶⁴

(IV) FINE OR IMPRISONMENT. Authority may be given to punish by fine or imprisonment.⁶⁵

(V) IMPRISONMENT—(A) As Punishment. Authority may be given to punish by imprisonment, under which such punishment may be inflicted;⁶⁶ but power within the constitutional limitations to confer upon the municipality such power as to punishment as it may deem wise see supra, XI, A, 8, g, text and note 27.

57. See infra, XI, B, 4, q, (II). See supra, XI, B, 4, a, text and note 72.

58. See infra, XI, B, 4, q, (V).

Imprisonment for non-payment of fine see infra, XI, B, 4, q, (V), (B).

59. See infra, XI, B, 4, q, (IV).

60. See infra, XI, B, 4, q, (III).

61. See infra, XI, B, 4, q, (V), (C).

62. State v. Harris, 50 Minn. 128, 52 N. W. 387, 531, so as to remove the case beyond the jurisdiction of the justice of the peace.

63. Alabama.—Harper v. Attalla, 123 Ala. 524, 26 So. 128; Craig v. Burnett, 32 Ala. 728; Ex p. Burnett, 30 Ala. 461.

Colorado.—Saner v. People, 17 Colo. App. 307, 69 Pac. 76.

Georgia.—Lyons v. Collier, 125 Ga. 231, 54 S. E. 183; Little v. Ft. Valley, 123 Ga. 503, 51 S. E. 501; Lewis v. Forehand, 117 Ga. 798, 45 S. E. 68; Papworth v. Fitzgerald, 106 Ga. 378, 32 S. E. 363; Calhoun v. Little, 106 Ga. 336, 32 S. E. 86, 71 Am. St. Rep. 254, 43 L. R. A. 630; Harris v. Augusta, 100 Ga. 382, 28 S. E. 361.

Kentucky.—Stone v. Paducah, 120 Ky. 322, 86 S. W. 531, 27 Ky. L. Rep. 717.

Louisiana.—State v. Fisher, 50 La. Ann. 45, 23 So. 92; State v. Voss, 49 La. Ann. 444, 21 So. 596, 62 Am. St. Rep. 653.

Minnesota.—State v. Grimes, 83 Minn. 460, 86 N. W. 449.

Nebraska.—Peterson v. State, (1907) 112 N. W. 306, 310; Bailey v. State, 30 Nebr. 855, 47 N. W. 208.

New Jersey.—Plainfield v. Marcellus, 68 N. J. L. 201, 52 Atl. 233; Bayonne v. Herdt, 40 N. J. L. 264; State v. New Brunswick, 2 N. J. L. J. 240.

New York.—Vance v. Hadfield, 51 Hun 620, 643, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 112; Roderick v. Whitson, 51 Hun 620, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 112.

North Carolina.—State v. Irvin, 126 N. C. 989, 35 S. E. 430.

Ohio.—Alliance v. Joyce, 49 Ohio St. 7, 30 N. E. 270; Brown v. Toledo, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 210, 7 Ohio N. P. 435.

South Carolina.—McCormick v. Calhoun, 30 S. C. 93, 8 S. E. 539; State v. Beaufort, 2 Rich. 496.

Texas.—McNeil v. State, 29 Tex. App. 48, 14 S. W. 393.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 1375, 1416. See also supra, XI, B, 4, a, text and note 67.

Power to impose fine is implied from power to enact police ordinances. Coonley v. Albany, 132 N. Y. 145, 30 N. E. 382; Trigally v. Memphis, 6 Coldw. (Tenn.) 382. See supra, XI, A, 8, g, text and note 23.

Fine and imprisonment see infra, XI, B, 4, q, (III).

Fine or imprisonment see infra, XI, B, 4, q, (IV).

64. Georgia.—Lyons v. Collier, 125 Ga. 231, 54 S. E. 183.

Kentucky.—Stone v. Paducah, 120 Ky. 322, 86 S. W. 531, 27 Ky. L. Rep. 717.

Louisiana.—State v. Voss, 49 La. Ann. 444, 21 So. 596, 62 Am. St. Rep. 653; State v. Arnould, 49 La. Ann. 104, 21 So. 177.

Minnesota.—State v. Cantieny, 34 Minn. 1, 24 N. W. 458.

New Jersey.—Plainfield v. Marcellus, 68 N. J. L. 201, 52 Atl. 233.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 1375, 1416. See also supra, XI, B, 4, a, text and note 69.

Fine see supra, XI, B, 4, q, (II).

Imprisonment see infra, XI, B, 4, q, (V).

65. Connecticut.—State v. Tryon, 39 Conn. 183.

Georgia.—Lyons v. Collier, 125 Ga. 231, 54 S. E. 183.

Kentucky.—Stone v. Paducah, 120 Ky. 322, 86 S. W. 531, 27 Ky. L. Rep. 717.

Massachusetts.—See Heland v. Lowell, 3 Allen 407, 81 Am. Dec. 670.

Minnesota.—State v. Grimes, 83 Minn. 460, 86 N. W. 449.

New Jersey.—Plainfield v. Marcellus, 68 N. J. L. 201, 52 Atl. 233; State v. New Brunswick, 2 N. J. L. J. 240.

Ohio.—Markle v. Akron, 14 Ohio 586.

Tennessee.—Trigally v. Memphis, 6 Coldw. 382.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 1375, 1416.

Alternative sentence see infra, XI, B, 4, q, (VI).

Fine see infra, XI, B, 4, q, (II).

Imprisonment see infra, XI, B, 4, q, (V).

66. Alabama.—Bray v. State, 140 Ala. 172, 37 So. 250; Craig v. Burnett, 32 Ala. 728; Ex p. Burnett, 30 Ala. 461.

Kentucky.—Stone v. Paducah, 120 Ky. 322, 86 S. W. 531, 27 Ky. L. Rep. 717.

to imprison for any purpose or to sentence to labor may not be implied but must be expressly granted.⁶⁷

(b) For Non-Payment of Fine. Authority may be specially given to imprison for non-payment of fine.⁶⁸ Imprisonment for non-payment of fine is not both a fine and imprisonment for the offense, as the imprisonment is merely to enforce the collection of the fine and not to punish for the offense.⁶⁹ Defendant upon conviction must be given an opportunity to pay fine before being committed to jail.⁷⁰

(c) With Sentence to Labor. Sentence to imprisonment at labor,⁷¹ or Louisiana.—State v. Voss, 49 La. Ann. 444, 21 So. 596, 62 Am. St. Rep. 653.

Minnesota.—State v. Grimes, 83 Minn. 460, 86 N. W. 449; State v. Harris, 50 Minn. 128, 52 N. W. 387, 531; State v. Cantieny, 34 Minn. 1, 24 N. W. 458.

New Jersey.—State v. New Brunswick, 2 N. J. L. J. 240.

South Carolina.—McCormick v. Calhoun, 30 S. C. 93, 8 S. E. 539.

Texas.—McNeil v. State, 29 Tex. App. 48, 14 S. W. 393.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 1375, 1416. See also supra, XI, B, 4, a, text and note 68.

Sentence to imprisonment in summary trial in general see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 330.

That the ordinance has in fact been violated by defendant must be judicially ascertained to sustain the legality of the imprisonment. Craig v. Burnett, 32 Ala. 728; Ex p. Burnett, 30 Ala. 461.

67. In re Semple, 10 Kan. App. 155, 62 Pac. 534; Bailey v. State, 30 Nebr. 855, 47 N. W. 208; Breggnilia v. Vineland, 53 N. J. L. 168, 20 Atl. 1082, 11 L. R. A. 407. See also supra, XI, A, 8, g, text and note 25.

Corporal punishment cannot be sustained as a municipal power see supra, XI, A, 8, g, text and note 30.

68. Alabama.—Harper v. Attalla, 123 Ala. 524, 26 So. 128.

Arkansas.—Ex p. Slatterly, 3 Ark. 484.

Colorado.—Saner v. People, 17 Colo. App. 307, 69 Pac. 76.

Georgia.—Lyons v. Collier, 125 Ga. 231, 54 S. E. 183; Williams v. Sewell, 121 Ga. 665, 49 S. E. 732; Lewis v. Forehand, 117 Ga. 798, 45 S. E. 68; Kinney v. Blackshear, 115 Ga. 810, 42 S. E. 231; Papworth v. Fitzgerald, 106 Ga. 378, 32 S. E. 363; Calhoun v. Little, 106 Ga. 270, 32 S. E. 86, 71 Am. St. Rep. 254, 43 L. R. A. 630; Harris v. Augusta, 100 Ga. 382, 28 S. E. 161.

Indiana.—Flora v. Sachs, 64 Ind. 155.

Louisiana.—State v. Fisher, 50 La. Ann. 45, 23 So. 92.

Missouri.—In re Miller, 44 Mo. App. 125; Ex p. Kiburg, 10 Mo. App. 442.

Nebraska.—Peterson v. State, (1907) 112 N. W. 306, 310; Bailey v. State, 30 Nebr. 855, 47 N. W. 208.

New Jersey.—Plainfield v. Marcellus, 68 N. J. L. 201, 52 Atl. 233; Belmar v. Barkalow, 67 N. J. L. 504, 52 Atl. 157; Bayonne v. Herdt, 40 N. J. L. 204.

New York.—Roderick v. Whitson, 51 Hun

620, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 112; Vance v. Hadfield, 51 Hun 620, 643, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 112.

South Carolina.—State v. Beaufort, 2 Rich. 496.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1416.

Imprisonment as means of enforcing payment of fine in summary trial see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 330.

Power to collect fines by capias ad satisfaciendum warrants imprisonment in the county jail. State v. Beaufort, 2 Rich. (S. C.) 496.

Power must be specially authorized by the legislature see supra, XI, A, 8, g, text and note 26.

69. Harper v. Attalla, 123 Ala. 524, 26 So. 128; State v. Fisher, 50 La. Ann. 45, 23 So. 92; Peterson v. State, (Nebr. 1907) 112 N. W. 306, 310; People v. Garabed, 20 Misc. (N. Y.) 127, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 827 [reversed without opinion in 25 N. Y. App. Div. 624, 49 N. Y. Suppl. 1141]. See also FINES, 19 Cyc. 553.

A fine is not a debt within the meaning of the constitutional provision referred to. Peterson v. State, (Nebr. 1907) 112 N. W. 306, 310; In re Beall, 26 Ohio St. 195.

70. Papworth v. Fitzgerald, 106 Ga. 378, 32 S. E. 363; Calhoun v. Little, 106 Ga. 336, 32 S. E. 86, 71 Am. St. Rep. 254, 43 L. R. A. 630; State v. Fisher, 50 La. Ann. 45, 23 So. 92, holding that where on refusal to pay a fine imposed by the mayor's court for which defendant was sentenced to jail, he offered to pay the fine, a refusal to allow him to do so was error. But see Kinney v. Blackshear, 115 Ga. 810, 42 S. E. 231, for power to sentence to labor without an opportunity to pay a fine.

Payment will supersede mittimus.—State v. Fisher, 50 La. Ann. 45, 23 So. 92.

71. Lyons v. Collier, 125 Ga. 231, 54 S. E. 183; Pearson v. Wimbish, 124 Ga. 701, 52 S. E. 751; Lewis v. Forehand, 117 Ga. 798, 45 S. E. 68; Kinney v. Blackshear, 115 Ga. 810, 42 S. E. 231; Stone v. Paducah, 120 Ky. 322, 86 S. W. 531, 27 Ky. L. Rep. 717.

For the purpose of upholding the validity of an ordinance authorizing sentence to labor on the street or public works, several ordinances relating to the subject may be construed together. Lyons v. Collier, 125 Ga. 231, 54 S. E. 183.

Opportunity to pay fine see supra, XI, B, 4, q, (v), (B).

Retrospective operation.—Statutory authority to impose a sentence to work in a chain gang on the streets and public works at hard labor,⁷² may be imposed when expressly authorized by law, but not otherwise.⁷³

(vi) ALTERNATIVE SENTENCE. In the absence of express authority therefor an alternative sentence cannot be imposed.⁷⁴ Both fine and imprisonment may not be imposed, where the by-law affixes them as alternative penalties.⁷⁵ So the imposition of a fine and the sentence to hard labor is erroneous where the by-law affixes them as alternative punishments or penalties.⁷⁶

(vii) AMOUNT OF FINE AND TERM OF IMPRISONMENT. The fine or term of imprisonment being prescribed by law, the court can impose no sentence greater or less than that authorized by the by-laws or statute,⁷⁷ either as to the amount of fine⁷⁸ of a municipality, during incarceration, does not operate retrospectively. Stone v. Paducah, 120 Ky. 322, 86 S. W. 531, 27 Ky. L. Rep. 717.

The constitutional inhibition against involuntary servitude save as a punishment for crime after legal conviction thereof is not violated by an ordinance or a punishment thereunder, which confines the offender convicted of violating a municipal ordinance to labor under municipal control. Pearson v. Wimbish, 124 Ga. 701, 52 S. E. 751.

^{72.} See Williams v. Sewell, 121 Ga. 665, 49 S. E. 732; Lead v. Klatt, 13 S. D. 140, 82 N. W. 391. See also supra, XI, A, 8, g, text and note 29; and CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 781.

^{73.} Williams v. Sewell, 121 Ga. 665, 49 S. E. 732; Carr v. Conyers, 84 Ga. 287, 10 S. E. 630, 20 Am. St. Rep. 357; Brieswick v. Brunswick, 51 Ga. 639, 21 Am. Rep. 240; Lead v. Klatt, 13 S. D. 140, 82 N. W. 391, holding that such a sentence is unauthorized under S. D. Laws (1890), c. 37, art. 5, § 4, prescribing that the municipality may provide that persons committed to jail shall be required "to work at such labor as their strength permits."

^{74.} See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 330.

An alternative sentence may be imposed under a statute or ordinance authorizing the imposition of two or more kinds of punishment for the violation of an ordinance. Williams v. Sewell, 121 Ga. 665, 49 S. E. 732; Papworth v. Fitzgerald, 106 Ga. 378, 32 S. E. 363; Hathcock v. State, 88 Ga. 91, 13 S. E. 959.

^{75.} Ex p. Anniston, 84 Ala. 21, 3 So. 910; McInerney v. Denver, 17 Colo. 302, 29 Pac. 516. Compare State v. New Brunswick, 2 N. J. L. J. 240, holding that an ordinance prescribing punishment by fine or imprisonment, or both, is violative of a charter providing that violations of the city ordinances may be punished either by fine or imprisonment, and that a conviction thereunder sentencing an accused to both fine and imprisonment is void.

^{76.} Ex p. Anniston, 84 Ala. 21, 3 So. 910, holding this to be true unless the labor is for the purpose of working out the fine which defendant is unable to or refused to pay. But see Williams v. Sewell, 121 Ga. 665, 49 S. E. 732, where a judgment imposing a sentence that accused pay a fine in a given amount, and, in default of the payment of the same within ten days that he work at hard labor in the streets, is not a judgment imposing an alternative sentence, but one imposing a fine with a provision that its payment shall be enforced by labor, and not authorized by law.

^{77.} Alabama.—Ex p. Moore, 62 Ala. 471.

Illinois.—See Carson v. Bloomington, 6 Ill. App. 481.

Louisiana.—State v. Boneil, 42 La. Ann. 1207, 8 So. 300; State v. Boneil, 42 La. Ann. 1110, 8 So. 298, 21 Am. St. Rep. 413, 10 L. R. A. 60; State v. Bringier, 42 La. Ann. 1095, 8 So. 298.

Minnesota.—State v. Grimes, 83 Minn. 460, 86 N. W. 449.

Missouri.—See Tarkio v. Cook, 120 Mo. 1, 25 S. W. 202, 41 Am. St. Rep. 678.

New Jersey.—Plainfield v. Marcellus, 68 N. J. L. 201, 52 Atl. 233; Brown v. Asbury Park, 44 N. J. L. 162.

New York.—Merkce v. Rochester, 13 Hun 157.

Pennsylvania.—See Gallitzen Borough v. Gains, 15 Pa. Co. Ct. 337, 7 Kulp 479.

South Carolina.—Smith v. Hutchinson, 8 Rich. 260.

Wisconsin.—Taylor v. State, 35 Wis. 298.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1375.

In Ohio it has been held that where a city ordinance imposes a greater penalty than it has power to impose, a sentence thereunder which is within the amount of punishment allowed by the state law is, under section 106 of the code, valid. O'Brien v. Cleveland, 4 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 189, 1 Clev. L. Rep. 100.

Express charter provision may warrant the imposition of a greater fine or a sentence for a longer term than that prescribed for such cases generally. McNeil v. State, 29 Tex. App. 48, 14 S. W. 393.

Sentence above maximum punishment allowed by law see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 782.

Sentence below minimum punishment allowed by law see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 783.

^{78.} Alabama.—Craig v. Burnett, 32 Ala. 728 (not exceeding fifty dollars); Ex p. Burnett, 30 Ala. 461.

Georgia.—Little v. Ft. Valley, 123 Ga. 503, 51 S. E. 501 (not exceeding fifty dollars); Papworth v. Fitzgerald, 106 Ga. 378, 32 S. E. 363 (not exceeding one hundred dollars together with costs).

Kentucky.—Stone v. Paducah, 120 Ky. 322, 86 S. W. 531, 27 Ky. L. Rep. 717, not less than that imposed by statute for the same offense.

or as to the term of imprisonment, and any erroneous exercise of authority in this regard will be corrected in the ordinary modes.⁷⁹

(viii) UNUSUAL PUNISHMENT. The constitutional inhibition against assessing unreasonable penalties and unusual punishments prevents the accumulation of penalties for repeated violation of a single ordinance, prosecuted under one complaint so as to impose an unreasonable fine or imprisonment by a single sentence;⁸⁰ and it is doubted whether, without express statutory provision therefor, a court may, on a single complaint, transcend the limit of single penalties fixed by the ordinance.⁸¹

(ix) PLACE OF IMPRISONMENT. The place of imprisonment is usually desig-

Louisiana.—State v. Voss, 49 La. Ann. 444, 21 So. 596, 62 Am. St. Rep. 653, not exceeding twenty-five dollars.

Minnesota.—State v. Grimes, 83 Minn. 460, 86 N. W. 449, not exceeding one hundred dollars and not less than ten dollars.

New Jersey.—Plainfield v. Marcellus, 68 N. J. L. 201, 52 Atl. 233, not exceeding one hundred dollars.

Ohio.—See Alliance v. Joyce, 49 Ohio St. 7, 30 N. E. 270 (not more than fifty dollars, or more than double that sum for each repetition of the offense); Brown v. Toledo, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 210, 7 Ohio N. P. 435.

South Carolina.—McCormick v. Calhoun, 30 S. C. 93, 8 S. E. 539, not exceeding one hundred dollars.

Texas.—McNeil v. State, 29 Tex. App. 48, 14 S. W. 393, not more than one hundred dollars.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 1375, 1416.

It is within the discretion of the court what amount of fine to impose so long as it is within the maximum and minimum amount authorized. State v. Grimes, 83 Minn. 460, 86 N. W. 449.

Power to reduce.—In Ohio, in some cases, where the fine imposed is greater than the amount prescribed by law, the judge or magistrate is empowered to reduce the same to such amount as may be deemed reasonable and proper. Alliance v. Joyce, 49 Ohio St. 7, 30 N. E. 270; Brown v. Toledo, 5 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 210, 7 Ohio N. P. 435.

79. Alabama.—Ex p. Burnett, 30 Ala. 461, not more than thirty days.

Georgia.—Papworth v. Fitzgerald, 106 Ga. 378, 32 S. E. 363, not to exceed one day for every dollar of fine and costs assessed.

Louisiana.—State v. Voss, 49 La. Ann. 444, 21 So. 596, 62 Am. St. Rep. 653 (not exceeding thirty days); State v. Arnauld, 49 La. Ann. 104, 21 So. 177 (not exceeding thirty days).

Minnesota.—State v. Grimes, 83 Minn. 460, 86 N. W. 449, not less than ten days nor exceeding ninety days.

New Jersey.—Plainfield v. Marcellus, 68 N. J. L. 201, 52 Atl. 233, holding that a judgment by a city court, providing that a person convicted of violating a city ordinance should pay a fine of fifteen dollars or stand committed to the county jail for forty days is illegal, under a provision of the city charter that for violation of a city ordinance the penalty shall not exceed one hundred dollars, or sixty days' imprisonment, or both; and, if the fine be not paid, the party convicted may be committed for a period not exceeding twenty days.

New York.—Roderick v. Whitson, 51 Hun 620, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 112 (imprisonment for non-payment of fine so long as the fine is not paid); Vance v. Hadfield, 51 Hun 620, 643, 4 N. Y. Suppl. 112 (imprisonment for non-payment of fine to be until the fine is paid); People v. Garabed, 20 Misc. 127, 45 N. Y. Suppl. 827 [reversed without opinion in 25 N. Y. App. Div. 624, 49 N. Y. Suppl. 1141] (imprisonment for non-payment of fine until such fine is paid, not exceeding ten days).

South Carolina.—McCormick v. Calhoun, 30 S. C. 93, 8 S. E. 539, not exceeding thirty days.

Texas.—McNeil v. State, 29 Tex. App. 48, 14 S. W. 393, not more than fifteen days.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 1375, 1416.

It is within the discretion of the court to imprison for a term within the maximum and minimum term prescribed by the ordinance. State v. Grimes, 83 Minn. 460, 86 N. W. 449. An ordinance directing that a person sentenced to pay a fine for violating it on failure to do so may be sentenced for thirty days, but that the magistrate may in his discretion for such default sentence to imprisonment for a less time, will support a sentence for thirty days. Belmar v. Barkalow, 67 N. J. L. 504, 52 Atl. 157.

80. Phillips v. Atlanta, 87 Ga. 62, 13 S. E. 201; State v. Whitaker, 48 La. Ann. 527, 19 So. 457, 35 L. R. A. 561. See also CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 963 et seq.

For example commitment for a period of two thousand one hundred and sixty days in default of making payment of fines aggregating seven hundred and twenty dollars in amount for each and costs of prosecutions, for violating a city ordinance, was held to be unusual and unreasonable punishment in the sense of the constitution. State v. Whitaker, 48 La. Ann. 527, 19 So. 457, 35 L. R. A. 561, where it further appeared that upon essentially one complaint defendant was found guilty of seventy-two distinct violations of one ordinance within one hour and forty minutes, each one of such offenses succeeding the other and only one and one-half minutes intervening between the commencement of any two of them.

81. State v. Whitaker, 48 La. Ann. 527, 19 So. 457, 35 L. R. A. 561.

nated by the local statute or the ordinance itself.⁸² Power to sentence to a certain jail or prison gives no warrant for imprisonment elsewhere.⁸³

(x) BY WHOM ASSESSED. Whether the court or a jury must fix and assess the punishment depends upon the statutory provisions or the local practice.⁸⁴ The statute may invest the magistrate with power to fix the penalty, when not fixed by ordinance, without the intervention of a jury;⁸⁵ but where a jury is called and they find defendant guilty they must also fix his fine where it is not fixed by the ordinance.⁸⁶

(xi) SEPARATE SENTENCES. A separate sentence should be imposed for each offense.⁸⁷

(xii) SUSPENSION OF SENTENCE OR DISPENSING WITH PENALTY. Where the proceeding is criminal in its nature it seems that sentence may be suspended as in other summary trials of such cases;⁸⁸ but where the proceeding is civil in its nature it has been held that the court cannot dispense with the imposition of the penalty as a matter of grace, where the violation of the ordinance was proved.⁸⁹

(xiii) AMENDMENT OF SENTENCE. Where upon conviction defendant is sentenced to pay a fine it has been held that the court may during the same term amend the sentence by adding an alternative sentence to a term on the public works.⁹⁰

(xiv) COMMITMENT AND BINDING OVER. Where one charged with an offense against a municipal ordinance is on trial, and the evidence shows a violation of a penal statute, he should be committed to jail or bound over to the proper criminal court.⁹¹

r. Costs.⁹² Whether the proceedings be considered as civil or criminal the municipality is not liable for costs, no matter whether defendant prevails or not,⁹³

82. Saner v. People, 17 Colo. App. 307, 69 Pac. 76 (in the town jail, or, if there is no such jail, in the county jail); Lyons v. Collier, 125 Ga. 231, 54 S. E. 183 (in the station house); Pearson v. Wimbish, 124 Ga. 701, 52 S. E. 751 (not in the chain gang of the county where prisoners convicted of misdemeanors against the state and felons whose punishment has been reduced are confined); State v. Harris, 50 Minn. 123, 52 N. W. 387, 531 (in the city work-house); State v. Beaufort, 2 Rich. (S. C.) 496 (in the county jail). See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 969 et seq.

To work on public streets or public works see Lyons v. Collier, 125 Ga. 231, 54 S. E. 183; Stone v. Paducah, 120 Ky. 322, 86 S. W. 531, 27 Ky. L. Rep. 717 (in a chain gang); State v. Grimes, 83 Minn. 460, 86 N. W. 449 (in the work-house).

Power to collect fine by capias ad satisfaciendum will authorize imprisonment in the county jail for that purpose. State v. Beaufort, 2 Rich. (S. C.) 496.

83. Merkee v. Rochester, 13 Hun (N. Y.) 157.

84. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 772, 776. See also Walton v. Cañon City, 13 Colo. App. 77, 56 Pac. 671.

85. Walton v. Cañon City, 13 Colo. App. 77, 56 Pac. 671, where the action was a civil one in the form of debt.

86. Walton v. Cañon City, 13 Colo. App. 77, 56 Pac. 671.

87. El Dorado v. Beardsley, 53 Kan. 363, 36 Pac. 746. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 774.

88. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 772.

89. New York v. Hewitt, 91 N. Y. App. Div. 445, 86 N. Y. Suppl. 832.

90. Lewis v. Forehand, 117 Ga. 798, 45 S. E. 68, such sentence being within the provision of the law under which accused was convicted.

91. Newton v. Fain, 114 Ga. 833, 40 S. E. 993.

92. Liability for sheriffs' compensation in criminal cases see SHERIFFS AND CONSTABLES.

93. Princeville v. Hitchcock, 101 Ill. App. 588; People v. Chapin, 48 Ill. App. 643; Sparta v. Boorum, 129 Mich. 555, 89 N. W. 435, 90 N. W. 681. See Kokomo v. Wells, 34 Ind. 48, 49, where it is said: "We understand that the practice is, in the mayors' courts of the various cities which are living and acting under this general law, to tax no costs against the city in cases for violations of the ordinances, when the case is decided against the city." See also COSTS, 11 Cyc. 278.

On grounds of public policy costs cannot be taxed against a municipal corporation when proceedings had before the mayor's court for violation of an ordinance are removed by certiorari to the circuit court and there quashed. Camden v. Bloch, 65 Ala. 236; Montgomery v. Foster, 54 Ala. 62.

Cost bonds were not necessary in suits before justices of the peace for violation of municipal ordinances, under a statute requiring bonds to be given in actions on penal statutes, as such ordinances are not penal statutes within the meaning of the act. Jacksonville v. Block, 36 Ill. 507 [following Lewiston v. Proctor, 23 Ill. 533]; Quincy v. Ballance, 30 Ill. 185 [following Lewiston v.

unless there is a statutory provision imposing such liability.⁹⁴ The costs are no part of the penalty,⁹⁵ unless so provided by law.⁹⁶ The costs of amendments⁹⁷ and continuances⁹⁸ may be taxed against the party on whose application they are allowed.

s. Review—(i) RIGHT OF DEFENDANT TO REVIEW.⁹⁹ Under the various provisions of law which govern the subject, defendant in an action or prosecution for violating an ordinance or regulation of a municipal corporation is generally given the right to have the judgment reviewed by some form of procedure;¹

Proctor, 23 Ill. 533], where plaintiff was not required to give security on appeal from the judgment of the police magistrate.

Even upon appeal to a superior court of record the municipality is not liable for costs. Montgomery v. Foster, 54 Ala. 62; Petersburg v. Whitnack, 48 Ill. App. 663; Nokomis v. Harkey, 31 Ill. App. 107. Contra, Kokomo v. Wills, 34 Ind. 48, where the city was held liable for costs in the appellate court where it was unsuccessful.

Execution cannot be issued against the municipality on a judgment for costs. Kinmuddy v. Mahan, 72 Ill. 462; Odell v. Schroeder, 58 Ill. 353, execution cannot issue against city for costs on enforcement of ordinance.

Invalidity of the ordinance under which the proceeding was prescribed does not affect the rule. See COSTS, 11 Cyc. 278.

Working out his costs on the streets does not affect the rule of the text. Gibson v. Zanesville, 31 Ohio St. 184; Eastman v. Nashville, 13 Lea (Tenn.) 717. See COSTS, 11 Cyc. 279.

Mandamus will not lie to compel a municipality to pay costs on proceedings to enforce ordinances. People v. Chapin, 48 Ill. App. 643.

Discretion of council.—By statute it is sometimes provided that the municipality may in its discretion pay the costs of prosecutions for violation of municipal ordinances, where the prosecution fails. People v. Chapin, 48 Ill. App. 643.

94. See COSTS, 11 Cyc. 279. See also Mariner v. Mackey, 25 Kan. 669 (holding that where on appeal appellant defendant was acquitted and a judgment entered that he recover of the city his costs in a certain amount and an execution issued therefor, such judgment for costs was not a nullity, but that until reversed or modified was a valid judgment in favor of defendant against the city and could be enforced by execution, although he had not in fact paid any of the costs); Horn v. People, 26 Mich. 221 (where costs were awarded against the city as a real party in interest on whose behalf the prosecution was brought); Oshkosh v. Schwartz, 55 Wis. 483, 13 N. W. 552 (where defendant, under the charter power to that effect, recovered costs against the city upon acquittal, the action being civil in its nature).

Attorney's fees may be included in the costs recoverable against the city upon acquittal of defendant. Oshkosh v. Schwartz, 55 Wis. 483, 13 N. W. 552.

The amount claimed in plaintiff's complaint will govern the amount of attorney's fees, recoverable by defendant upon acquittal. Oshkosh v. Schwartz, 55 Wis. 483, 13 N. W. 552.

The fees of the police judge and of witnesses subpoenaed to testify in behalf of the municipality should be taxed as costs against the city, unless such costs for sufficient reasons are adjudged against the prosecutor, where the prosecution resulted in favor of defendant on appeal to the district court. Iola v. Harris, 40 Kan. 629, 20 Pac. 521.

95. Bayonne v. Herdt, 40 N. J. L. 264. Compare Moody v. Williamsburg, 88 S. W. 1075, 28 Ky. L. Rep. 60, holding that St. (1903) c. 47, prescribing a schedule of fees and costs in judicial proceedings; section 3637, subs. 5, conferring on councils the right to impose fines for violation of ordinances; and section 3623, providing that the city attorney shall receive a compensation to be fixed by ordinance by the council—do not authorize a municipality to adopt an ordinance providing that, when a judgment for a fine is less than ten dollars, a fee of two dollars and fifty cents for the city attorney shall be taxed as costs.

Advancing costs for appeal.—A prosecution for keeping a bowling alley without a license, in violation of a city ordinance, is a criminal proceeding; and hence defendant, on appeal from the police court, cannot be required to advance the costs of copies and entry in the court of common pleas. State v. Stearns, 31 N. H. 106.

Attorney's fees cannot be taxed as costs against defendant upon conviction, where not authorized by law. Gipps Brewing Co. v. Virginia, 32 Ill. App. 518 [affirmed in 136 Ill. 616, 27 N. E. 196].

96. State v. Cantieny, 34 Minn. 1, 24 N. W. 458, holding that the costs of prosecution are not a part of the penalty and that an ordinance to that effect, unless authorized by law, is void.

Retaxation.—The clerk of the common pleas has no authority to revise the taxation of costs by a justice of the peace by any retaxation thereof. Any error in such taxation should be brought to the notice of the court for correction upon rehearing of appeal from the judgment. State v. Reckards, 21 Minn. 47.

97. Washington v. Frank, 46 N. C. 436.

98. Boscobel v. Bugbee, 41 Wis. 59.

99. Right of accused to review summary conviction in general see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 333.

1. Colorado.—Tracey v. People, 6 Colo. 151.

but the particular remedy and court whose jurisdiction is invoked will depend upon the particular statute except where certiorari may lie under general rules.²

(ii) RIGHT OF PLAINTIFF TO REVIEW. Generally in criminal or quasi-criminal proceedings the municipality can have no right to review in any manner a judgment of acquittal,³ unless such right is given by statute;⁴ but the rule is otherwise in civil proceedings.⁵ It is to be observed, however, that the authorities are not in accord as to whether a proceeding for the violation of an ordinance is civil or criminal in character.⁶

(iii) *FORM OF REMEDY.*⁷ In the absence of other prescribed method of procedure the validity of the judgment may as a rule be inquired into by certiorari.⁸ But under the general rule that where particular jurisdiction is conferred upon an inferior court its decision within that jurisdiction is final without right to an appeal or writ of error therefrom, unless provision is made therefor by law,⁹

Illinois.—Knowles v. Wayne City, 31 Ill. App. 471.

Iowa.—Conboy v. Iowa City, 2 Iowa 90; Dubuque v. Rebman, 1 Iowa 444.

Minnesota.—St. Peter v. Bauer, 19 Minn. 327.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. Marchel, 99 Mo. 475, 12 S. W. 1050; Poplar Bluff v. Hill, 92 Mo. App. 17.

Ohio.—Miller v. Bellefontaine, 2 Ohio Cir. Ct. 139, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 407.

Oregon.—Grossman v. Oakland, 30 Oreg. 478, 41 Pac. 5, 60 Am. St. Rep. 832, 36 L. R. A. 593; Cunningham v. Berry, 17 Oreg. 622, 22 Pac. 115.

South Carolina.—Charleston v. Brown, 42 S. C. 184, 20 S. E. 56.

West Virginia.—Ridgway v. Hinton, 25 W. Va. 554.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," §§ 1399, 1412.

Form of remedy see infra, XI, B, 4, s, (iii).

3. Warner v. Porter, 2 Dougl. (Mich.) 358.

2. Georgia.—Hawkinsville v. Ethridge, 96 Ga. 326, 22 S. E. 985; Cranston v. Augusta, 61 Ga. 572.

Iowa.—State v. Vail, 57 Iowa 103, 10 N. W. 297.

Kansas.—Lyons v. Wellman, 56 Kan. 285, 43 Pac. 267; Salina v. Wait, 56 Kan. 283, 43 Pac. 255.

Michigan.—Northville v. Westfall, 75 Mich. 603, 42 N. W. 1068.

Mississippi.—Water Valley v. Davis, 73 Miss. 521, 19 So. 235.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. White, 99 Mo. 477, 12 S. W. 1050 (holding that the right to appeal when an indictment is quashed or judgment thereon is arrested, under Rev. St. (1879) § 1986, does not apply to appeals from municipal courts for violation of police ordinances); St. Louis v. Marchel, 99 Mo. 475, 12 S. W. 1050 (holding that the municipality cannot appeal where the proceeding is criminal or quasi-criminal in the absence of statutory authority to do so; and that the only means of review given plaintiff is by writ of error).

New York.—Hudson v. Granger, 23 Misc. 401, 52 N. Y. Suppl. 9.

Wisconsin.—Platteville v. McKernan, 54 Wis. 487, 11 N. W. 798.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1413.

Contra.—Camden v. Bloch, 65 Ala. 236, where the proceeding is only quasi-criminal.

4. Com. v. Ingraham, 7 Bush (Ky.) 106; Water Valley v. Davis, 73 Miss. 521, 19 So. 235; St. Louis v. Marchel, 99 Mo. 475, 12 S. W. 1050; Poplar Bluff v. Hill, 92 Mo. App. 17; State v. Rouch, 47 Ohio St. 478, 25 N. E. 59; Van Wert v. Brown, 47 Ohio St. 477, 25 N. E. 59.

5. Durango v. Reinsberg, 16 Colo. 327, 26 Pac. 820; Greeley v. Hamman, 12 Colo. 94, 20 Pac. 1; Knowles v. Wayne City, 31 Ill. App. 471; St. Charles v. Hackman, 133 Mo. 634, 34 S. W. 878; St. Louis v. Marchel, 99 Mo. 475, 12 S. W. 1050 (holding that an action by the city of St. Louis to recover a penalty for a violation of an ordinance thereof is a civil action, so far as concerns plaintiff's right to a review of the judgment); Kansas City v. Clark, 68 Mo. 588.

6. See supra, XI, B, 4, b.

7. Appeal or writ of error to review summary conviction in general see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 331.

Injunction against prosecution see INJUNCTIONS, 22 Cyc. 903.

Review upon habeas corpus see HABEAS CORPUS, 21 Cyc. 279.

8. Denninger v. Pomona Recorders' Ct., 145 Cal. 629, 79 Pac. 360; Simpson v. Lumpkin, 121 Ga. 167, 48 S. E. 904; East Orange v. Richardson, 71 N. J. L. 458, 59 Atl. 897; White v. Neptune City, 56 N. J. L. 222, 28 Atl. 378; Bolivar Borough v. Coulter, 10 Pa. Dist. 171; Plymouth Borough v. Penkok, 7 Kulp (Pa.) 101; Lancaster v. Hirsch, 1 Lanc. L. Rev. (Pa.) 209.

Where defendant has no statutory right of review of a judgment of conviction, his remedy is by the common-law writ of certiorari to test the validity of the judgment. Camden v. Bloch, 65 Ala. 236; Mowery v. Camden, 49 N. J. L. 106, 6 Atl. 438; West Pittston Borough v. Dymond, 8 Kulp (Pa.) 12. And see CERTIORARI, 6 Cyc. 738 et seq.; CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 332.

9. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 332.

Reserved questions.—Under the statute conferring on circuit judges the power to reserve for the opinion of the supreme court questions arising on the trial of offenses un-

the judgment in the absence of statute cannot be reviewed by appeal¹⁰ or writ of error,¹¹ although in the various jurisdictions provision is usually made by statute for appeals¹² or writs of error.¹³ In some states the proper proceeding is by writ of review.¹⁴ Where an appeal is provided for, a writ of error will not lie.¹⁵

(iv) APPELLATE JURISDICTION. The superior courts to which appeals on writs of error may be taken from judgment of municipal courts are designated by the local statutes which vary in the several jurisdictions.¹⁶ A case involving the validity of a municipal ordinance is appealable irrespective of the amount der the general laws of the state, the recorder of Detroit, when trying complaints for breach of city ordinances, has no authority so to reserve questions. People v. Jackson, 8 Mich. 78.

10. St. Louis v. Marchel, 99 Mo. 475, 12 S. W. 1050; Holzworth v. Newark, 50 N. J. L. 85, 11 Atl. 131 (no appeal in civil cases); Greeley v. Passaic, 42 N. J. L. 87 [reversed on other grounds in 42 N. J. L. 429]; Cunningham v. Berry, 17 Ore. 622, 22 Pac. 115; Barton v. La Grande, 17 Ore. 577, 22 Pac. 111; Corvallis v. Stock, 12 Ore. 391, 7 Pac. 524; La Fayette v. Clark, 9 Ore. 225; Platteville v. McKernan, 54 Wis. 487, 11 N. W. 798.

Charter prohibition.—The charter may provide that no appeal shall be taken from convictions in certain cases. McGarty v. Deming, 51 Conn. 422.

Statutes relating to appeals from justices of the peace have been held inapplicable to proceedings before city trihunnals. McGarty v. Deming, 51 Conn. 422; St. Peter v. Bauer, 19 Minn. 327; Barton v. La Grande, 17 Ore. 577, 22 Pac. 111. But compare Sellers v. Corvallis, 5 Ore. 273; Charleston v. Brown, 42 S. C. 184, 20 S. E. 56.

11. Jackson v. People, 8 Mich. 262; Candfield v. Brobst, 71 Ohio St. 42, 72 N. E. 459 [reversing 24 Ohio Cir. Ct. 555].

12. Colorado.—Durango v. Reinsberg, 16 Colo. 327, 26 Pac. 820; Greeley v. Hamman, 12 Colo. 94, 20 Pac. 1.

Connecticut.—McGarty v. Deming, 51 Conn. 422.

Indiana.—Miller v. O'Reilly, 84 Ind. 168.

Iowa.—Conboy v. Iowa City, 2 Iowa 90; Dubuque v. Rehman, 1 Iowa 444.

Kentucky.—Payne v. Com., 14 Ky. L. Rep. 302.

Louisiana.—Homer v. Brown, 117 La. 425, 41 So. 711; State v. Judge Orleans Parish Cr. Dist. Ct., 105 La. 758, 30 So. 105; New Orleans v. Chappuis, 105 La. 179, 29 So. 721.

Minnesota.—St. Peter v. Bauer, 19 Minn. 327.

Missouri.—St. Louis v. R. J. Gunning Co., 138 Mo. 347, 39 S. W. 788; St. Charles v. Hackman, 133 Mo. 634, 34 S. W. 878; St. Louis v. White, 99 Mo. 477, 12 S. W. 1050; St. Louis v. Marchel, 99 Mo. 475, 12 S. W. 1050; Kansas City v. Clark, 68 Mo. 588; Tarkio v. Loyd, 109 Mo. App. 171, 82 S. W. 1127; De Soto v. Merciel, 53 Mo. App. 57.

New Jersey.—Bayonne v. Herdt, 40 N. J. L. 264.

West Virginia.—Ridgeway v. Hinton, 25 W. Va. 554.

13. Van Buskirk v. Newark, 26 Ohio St. 37 (holding that a petition in error was not proper); Frank v. Cincinnati, 7 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 544, 5 Ohio N. P. 520.

14. Cunningham v. Berry, 17 Ore. 622, 22 Pac. 115 (holding that an appeal does not lie unless expressly given by charter or statute); La Fayette v. Clark, 9 Ore. 225.

Absence of other remedy.—Where an ordinance fixed the punishment of disorderly persons at fine "or" imprisonment, the remedy of one sentenced by the municipal court to imprisonment "and" a fine was by appeal, under Laws (1891), p. 111, c. 64, § 11, providing for an appeal to the superior court from the judgment of the municipal court, and not by writ of review, under Sess. Laws (1895), p. 115, § 4 (2 Ballinger Code, § 5741), providing for writ of review when there is no appeal, nor any plain, speedy, and adequate remedy at law. Falsetto v. Seattle, 18 Wash. 509, 52 Pac. 250.

Waiver.—Defendant, by pleading guilty in a prosecution under a city ordinance, does not waive his right to attack the validity of the ordinance on writ of review. Grossman v. Oakland, 30 Ore. 478, 41 Pac. 5, 60 Am. St. Rep. 832, 36 L. R. A. 593.

15. Ridgway v. Hinton, 25 W. Va. 554. Compare Sioux Falls v. Kirby, 6 S. D. 62, 60 N. W. 156, 25 L. R. A. 621, where it is said that an action to recover a penalty for an act that is not made criminal by general law, but is forbidden by city ordinance, is a civil action, reviewable on appeal rather than on writ of error.

16. See the statutes of the several states. And see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 333.

For illustrations see Huer v. Central, 14 Colo. 71, 23 Pac. 323 (holding an appeal to lie to the district court); Ottumwa v. Schaub, 52 Iowa 515, 3 N. W. 529 (to the district court); Dubuque v. Rehman, 1 Iowa 444 (to the district court); Burlington v. Stockwell, 56 Kan. 208, 42 Pac. 826 (to the court of appeals from the district court); Leavenworth v. Weaver, 26 Kan. 392 (holding that no appeal lay directly from a decision of the police judge on a motion to quash the complaint to the supreme court, but only to the district court); Com. v. Ingraham, 7 Bush (Ky.) 106 (holding that under Lexington City Charter, § 51, appeals may be taken directly to the court of appeals from judgments of Lexington city court when the decision is against the validity of any ordinance or by-law of involved.¹⁷ However, unless the ordinance is the primary subject of inquiry no appeal will lie.¹⁸ Jurisdiction attaches in the superior court where the proper steps are taken to perfect the appeal from the municipal court.¹⁹

(v) WAIVER OR LOSS OF RIGHT TO REVIEW. The right to test the validity of an ordinance in a higher court has been held not to be waived by a plea of guilty in the trial court;²⁰ and it has been held also that a judgment may be reviewed on certiorari, although defendant has voluntarily paid a fine imposed.²¹

(vi) PROCEEDINGS TO SECURE REVIEW—(A) Generally. In the absence of contrary statutory provision, proceedings to procure review are governed by the rules generally applicable to the review of civil²² or criminal²³ proceedings, the applicability of the rules of civil or criminal procedure being of course determined by the character of the proceeding upon the ordinance.²⁴ The procedure said city, but in no other case); Payne v. Com., 14 Ky. L. Rep. 302 (to the circuit court); Ex p. Travers, 3 La. Ann. 693 (to the supreme court); Bayonne v. Herdt, 40 N. J. L. 264 (to the common pleas court); Miller v. Bellefontaine, 2 Ohio Cir. Ct. 139, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 407 (to the court of common pleas); Bolivar Borough v. Coulter, 10 Pa. Dist. 171 (to the court of common pleas).

Exclusive jurisdiction.—Where the charter of a city gives an appeal to the circuit court for the revision of judgments of its officers against those charged with the violation of its ordinances, the remedy so given is exclusive, and an appeal cannot be taken to the city court. Montgomery v. Belser, 53 Ala. 379.

Further review.—Under Ohio Rev. St. § 7356 (2 Smith & B. Rev. St. p. 2123), providing that "in any criminal case, including a conviction for a violation of an ordinance of a municipal corporation," the judgment, or final order of the circuit court, in cases of conviction of a felony or misdemeanor, "and the judgment of the circuit court in any other case involving the constitutionality of a statute," may be reviewed by the supreme court, the supreme court has jurisdiction to review a judgment of the circuit court acquitting a defendant charged with violating an ordinance based on the Local Option Law (85 Ohio Laws, p. 55), where such judgment is placed on the ground that the statute is unconstitutional. State v. Rouch, 47 Ohio St. 478, 25 N. E. 59; Van Wert v. Brown, 47 Ohio St. 477, 25 N. E. 59.

Kansas court of appeals did not have jurisdiction over appeals for violation of city ordinances. Burlington v. Stockwell, 1 Kan. App. 414, 41 Pac. 221.

17. Homer v. Brown, 117 La. 425, 41 So. 711; Eureka City v. Wilson, 15 Utah 53, 67, 48 Pac. 41, 150, 62 Am. St. Rep. 904. See APPEAL AND ERROR, 2 Cyc. 585.

18. Cairo v. Bross, 99 Ill. 521; North Manchester v. Oustal, 132 Ind. 8, 31 N. E. 450; Griffie v. Summitville, 10 Ind. App. 332, 37 N. E. 280, 1068; Homer v. Brown, 117 La. 425, 41 So. 711; New Orleans v. Reems, 49 La. Ann. 792, 21 So. 599; Parish v. Broussard, 42 La. Ann. 841, 8 So. 590; Ex p. Travers, 3 La. Ann. 693. And see Wertheimer v. Boonville, 29 Mo. 254. See also APPEAL AND ERROR, 2 Cyc. 585.

19. Hamersley v. Blair, 48 Conn. 58; Holton v. Stanley, 6 Kan. App. 103, 49 Pac. 679. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 233.

20. Frank v. Cincinnati, 7 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 544, 5 Ohio N. P. 520; Grossman v. Oakland, 30 Oreg. 478, 41 Pac. 5, 60 Am. St. Rep. 832, 36 L. R. A. 593.

21. Bolivar Borough v. Coulter, 10 Pa. Dist. 171.

22. Aderhold v. Anniston, 99 Ala. 521, 12 So. 472; Hoyer v. Mascoutah, 59 Ill. 137; Miller v. O'Reilly, 84 Ind. 168; Fortune v. Wilburton, 5 Indian Terr. 251, 82 S. W. 738, holding that a prosecution for being drunk and disorderly in violation of an ordinance of an incorporated town is a civil proceeding, and the filing of the statutory affidavit is a condition precedent to defendant's appeal from a conviction therein.

Appeals generally see APPEAL AND ERROR. Penalties.—The statutes and procedure governing appeals in other civil actions apply to actions to recover penalties. See APPEAL AND ERROR, 2 Cyc. 542. See also, generally, PENALTIES.

23. See People v. Jackson, 8 Mich. 110 (holding that convictions in the recorder's court of Detroit for offenses against city ordinances cannot be brought before the supreme court for review on exceptions before sentence, under chapter 197 of the Compiled Laws); Golden City v. Hall 68 Mo. App. 627. See also CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 331.

24. See Miller v. O'Reilly, 84 Ind. 168; Fortune v. Wilburton, 5 Indian Terr. 251, 82 S. W. 738.

Character of proceeding as civil or criminal see supra, XI, B, 4, b.

Change in style of case on appeal.—Where plaintiff in error was prosecuted in a justice's court for violation of a city ordinance, and upon conviction sentenced to pay a fine within two hours, or in default be imprisoned, but upon appeal the prosecution was carried on by and in the name of the city as a civil cause, the alteration in the title of the cause was fatal. Webster v. Lansing, 47 Mich. 192, 10 N. W. 196. But see People v. Vinton, 82 Mich. 39, 46 N. W. 31, holding that the fact that a suit was begun in the name of a village as plaintiff and on appeal was docketed in the circuit court in the name of the people of the state was not ground for reversal in the supreme court especially may, however, be regulated by specific charter or statutory provisions.²⁵ Since the proceedings are had usually before police judges and similar inferior tribunals,²⁶ the rules governing appeals from justices of the peace and other magistrates²⁷ are usually applicable, and it is indeed sometimes provided by statute that the same procedure shall be followed.²⁸ By some statutes leave of the appellate court is necessary before an appeal may be taken.²⁹ The cause must be transferred to the appellate court upon the notice³⁰ and in the manner³¹ prescribed by statute.

where objection was not made until after verdict.

25. Conboy v. Iowa City, 2 Iowa 90; Payne v. Com., 14 Ky. L. Rep. 302; St. Peter v. Bauer, 19 Minn. 327.

26. See supra, XI, B, 4, c, (II).

27. Review of civil proceedings before justices of the peace see JUSTICES OF THE PEACE, 24 Cyc. 638 et seq.

Review of summary conviction before magistrate see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 331 et seq.

28. See the statutes of the several states. And see St. Louis v. R. J. Gunning Co., 138 Mo. 347, 39 S. W. 788 (holding that St. Louis Charter, art. 4, § 25, providing that appeals may be taken from the police justice, in prosecutions for the violation of an ordinance, to the court of criminal correction, "in like manner as provided by law for appeals from justices of the peace in criminal cases to their appellate court," means that such appeals shall conform to the law governing appeals from justices as it stands at the time an appeal is taken); Tarkio v. Loyd, 109 Mo. App. 171, 82 S. W. 1127 (holding that under the express terms of Rev. St. (1899) § 5937, appeals from convictions under section 5934 in police courts of fourth-class cities for violation of ordinances are to be taken in the manner provided by the statutes relative to appeals from justices of the peace in misdemeanor cases, and not under the provisions relative to civil cases, nor under section 5929, relative to appeals from judgments on forfeited recognizances); Golden City v. Hall, 68 Mo. App. 627; Centerville v. Olson, 16 S. D. 526, 94 N. W. 414.

29. See the statutes of the several states. And see Canfield v. Brobst, 71 Ohio St. 42, 72 N. E. 459 [reversing 24 Ohio Cir. Ct. 555], holding that one convicted before the mayor of a village for violation of an ordinance, who applies, under Rev. St. (1892) § 1752, to a court of common pleas for leave to file a petition in error to review the judgment, on refusal of such leave, cannot bring error in the circuit court to review such order); Miller v. Bellefontaine, 2 Ohio Cir. Ct. 139, 1 Ohio Cir. Dec. 407 (holding that under Rev. St. § 1752, leave to file is a condition precedent to the right to have a conviction under an ordinance of any municipal corporation reviewed by the court of common pleas; hence, where a petition in error has been filed without such leave, the common pleas does not obtain jurisdiction); Mahanoy City v. Bissell, 9 Pa. Co. Ct. 469;

Wilkes-Barre v. Stewart, 10 Kulp (Pa.) 28. See, generally, CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 333.

30. Graham v. State, 1 Ark. 79 (holding that under the city charter of Little Rock, providing that the full amount of all sums arising from the taxes on all licenses of the city and from fines shall be paid into the treasury of the city, the city was a proper party to a prosecution for gaming, instead of the state; and on error from a judgment of the city court a summons to hear errors must be served on the corporate authorities of the city); Centerville v. Olson, 16 S. D. 526, 94 N. W. 414 (holding that a proceeding on behalf of a city against a defendant arrested for violation of a city ordinance was quasi-criminal in its nature, and hence an oral notice of appeal authorized in criminal cases before justices of the peace by Comp. Laws (1887), § 6177, was sufficient).

31. See cases cited infra, this note.

Affidavit for appeal and time of filing same.

—An affidavit for an appeal from a conviction for violation of a city ordinance must be filed with the justice before whom defendant was convicted, and not with the court to which the appeal was taken. Fortune v. Wilburton, 5 Indian Terr. 251, 82 S. W. 738; Mo. Rev. St. (1899) § 340, providing that no appeal from a justice of the peace shall be dismissed for want of affidavit on appeal, if one is filed in the appellate court before the determination of a motion to dismiss, does not apply to an order to appeal from the recorder's court in an action for violation of an ordinance. De Soto v. Merciel, 53 Mo. App. 57.

Parties.—Where one accused of violating a city ordinance was tried and convicted in a municipal court presided over by a person acting as mayor of the city, and a certiorari was sued out by the accused to set the conviction aside, the municipal corporation, and not the individual acting as mayor, was the proper party defendant in error to a bill of exceptions brought to the supreme court for the purpose of reviewing a judgment of the superior court overruling the certiorari. Stroup v. Pruden, 104 Ga. 721, 30 S. E. 948.

Docket fee.—One who has been convicted before a justice of the peace of violating a city ordinance, and has appealed therefrom to the criminal court of Cook county, where the case is triable de novo, cannot be compelled to pay a docket fee in the criminal court, as a condition precedent to having his case docketed in that court. Anderson v. Schubert, 158 Ill. 75, 41 N. E. 853 [revers-

(B) Time of Taking. The appeal must be perfected within the period prescribed by statute.³²

(c) Bond. Any statutory provision as to the security to be given on appeal must be complied with.³³ An appeal on a defective appeal-bond will not be allowed.³⁴

(d) Transcript of Record. Upon certiorari the record must show everything necessary to constitute a legal conviction; ³⁵ for example, it must show the affidavit and warrant upon which the prosecution was commenced,³⁶ a valid arrest,³⁷ that defendant had an opportunity of being heard,³⁸ and that the judgment was duly entered;³⁹ it must find that the specific act charged has been performed by defendant,⁴⁰ and describe and define such act so as to show that it was unlawful,⁴¹ and must show that the offense was committed after the passage of the ordiing 55 Ill. App. 227, and distinguishing McArthur v. Artz, 129 Ill. 352, 21 N. E. 802].

Certiorari.—Failure to deliver a writ of certiorari and a copy of the petition to the officer whose decision is sought to be reviewed, as required by Civ. Code (1895), § 4643, does not render the proceeding void, so that the suit cannot be renewed under section 3786, authorizing such renewal, unless the original petition was void for any reason. Bass v. Milledgeville, 121 Ga. 151, 48 S. E. 919.

32. Conboy v. Iowa City, 2 Iowa 90; St. Louis v. R. J. Gunning Co., 138 Mo. 347, 39 S. W. 788; De Soto v. Merciel, 53 Mo. App. 57, holding that a delay of nine days in filing an affidavit for appeal from a recorder's court was fatal.

Extension of time.—The mayor of a municipality has no authority to allow ten days after the overruling of a motion for a new trial in which to prepare and file a bill of exceptions, and, if an appeal is desired, it must be taken at the time of the decision. Bradner v. Grundetisch, 15 Ohio Cir. Ct. 32, 8 Ohio Cir. Dec. 122.

33. See cases cited infra, this and following note.

To whom given.—On appeal from a conviction of violating a town ordinance, the bond may be made payable to the town, when the forbidden act is not prohibited by any state law. Irish v. State, (Tex. Cr. App. 1893) 24 S. W. 516. See also Centerville v. Olson, 16 S. D. 526, 94 N. W. 414.

How proceeding should be regarded.—For the purpose of determining the character of bond required to be given in appeal, a prosecution for the violation of a city ordinance is considered as a civil action. Miller v. O'Reilly, 84 Ind. 168. But see Mohrman v. Augusta, 103 Ga. 841, 31 S. E. 95, holding that section 4639 of the civil code applies exclusively to civil cases; and therefore the provision therein which declares that a party applying for the writ of certiorari "shall give bond and good security, conditioned to pay the adverse party in the cause the eventual condemnation money" is not applicable where one convicted in a municipal court of a violation of a city ordinance is seeking to obtain a writ of certiorari.

Enforcement.—Where one fined before the mayor for violation of a municipal ordinance appealed to the circuit court, giving bond to satisfy the judgment which might be rendered against him on the appeal, instead of a bond to appear at the term to which the appeal was taken, he was not, on being again convicted in the circuit court, prejudiced by judgment being entered against him and his sureties on the bond for the assessed penalty and costs instead of being fined, since execution may issue for an unpaid fine in the circuit court as in civil cases, under Code (1896), § 5424 (Code (1886), § 4534). Goldsmith v. Huntsville, 120 Ala. 182, 24 So. 509.

34. Centerville v. Olson, 16 S. D. 526, 94 N. W. 414.

35. Elizabeth v. Central R. Co., 66 N. J. L. 568, 49 Atl. 682; Jersey City v. Neihans, 66 N. J. L. 554, 49 Atl. 444; Keeler v. Milledge, 24 N. J. L. 142; Bolivar Borough v. Coulter, 10 Pa. Dist. 171.

Essentials of record.—Where the proceeding under an ordinance for the violation thereof is summary in its character, it must be in conformity with the statute, and the conviction must set forth the offense with which the offender is charged, the names of the witnesses, sufficient of the evidence to show what offense was committed, of what offense there was a conviction, and the judgment thereon. Without these essentials, the conviction is a nullity. A mere transcript of the proceedings before the magistrate is not sufficient. Massinger v. Millville, 63 N. J. L. 123, 43 Atl. 443; Salter v. Bayonne, 59 N. J. L. 128, 36 Atl. 667.

36. Camden v. Bloch, 65 Ala. 236, holding that on certiorari the record should show the affidavit and warrant on which prosecution was commenced, and that a failure to show this cannot be cured by extrinsic parol evidence to aid the record.

37. Pittston Borough v. Dimond, 4 Pa. Dist. 200, 15 Pa. Co. Ct. 543, 7 Kulp 431.

38. Bolivar Borough v. Coulter, 10 Pa. Dist. 171.

39. Bolivar Borough v. Coulter, 10 Pa. Dist. 171.

40. Elizabeth v. Central R. Co., 66 N. J. L. 568, 49 Atl. 682; Reid v. Wood, 102 Pa. St. 312.

41. Salter v. Bayonne, 59 N. J. L. 128, 36 Atl. 667 (holding that it must be definitely shown of what offense the violator of the

nance,⁴² and within the jurisdiction of the court.⁴³ A technical mistake in the record may be amended.⁴⁴ As a general rule it is held necessary that the ordinance, or at least such part thereof as is involved in the proceedings, must be incorporated in the record.⁴⁵ Where, however, it is held that the trial court may take judicial notice of city ordinances it has been held further that the reviewing court may take notice of the same facts.⁴⁶ Under some statutes a certified copy of the docket entries, together with a certificate of the recognizance, is all that is necessary to confer jurisdiction upon the appellate court.⁴⁷

(VI) HEARING AND DETERMINATION—(A) Generally. The rules governing appeals generally,⁴⁸ particularly those governing appeals from justices of the peace⁴⁹ and from summary convictions,⁵⁰ in the absence of contrary statutory provision, govern the hearing and determination of appeals in proceedings based upon violations of municipal ordinances.

(B) Extent of Review. Under some statutes the questions reviewable are confined to the legality and constitutionality of the ordinance involved and the fine imposed.⁵¹ In any event questions which have not been properly presented for review will not be considered.⁵² Hence as a general rule matters which have not been raised in the court below cannot be presented upon appeal.⁵³ It may, however, be urged for the first time on appeal that the affidavit or warrant charges ordinance was convicted); Reid v. Wood, 102 Pa. St. 312; Philadelphia v. Hughes, 4 Phila. (Pa.) 148.

42. Pittston Borough v. Dimond, 4 Pa. Dist. 200, 15 Pa. Co. Ct. 543, 7 Kulp 431; Reading v. O'Reilly, 1 Woodw. (Pa.) 408.

43. Plymouth Borough v. Penkok, 7 Kulp (Pa.) 101.

44. Reid v. Wood, 102 Pa. St. 312, holding that where proceedings before a chief burgess were brought in the name of the commonwealth, while the certiorari to the common pleas was directed to the chief burgess of the borough, the writ might be amended in the supreme court.

45. Hill v. Atlanta, 125 Ga. 697, 54 S. E. 354; Davis v. Rome, 89 Ga. 724, 15 S. E. 632; Phillips v. Atlanta, 78 Ga. 773, 3 S. E. 431 (holding that where the recorder rested his judgment overruling a demurrer upon an ordinance of the city, he must return such ordinance in answer to a writ of certiorari); State v. Marmouget, 110 La. 191, 34 So. 408; State v. Judge Orleans Parish Cr. Dist. Ct., 105 La. 758, 30 So. 105 (holding that it was the duty of the recorder, if requested, to furnish a copy of the ordinance for the purpose of an appeal and send it up as a part of the record); New Orleans v. Chappuis, 105 La. 179, 29 So. 721; State v. Clesi, 44 La. Ann. 85, 10 So. 409; Baton Rouge v. Cremonini, 35 La. Ann. 366; New Orleans v. Labatt, 33 La. Ann. 107; New Orleans v. Boudro, 14 La. Ann. 303; Lancaster v. Hirsch, 1 Lane. L. Rev. (Pa.) 209. But see Goldthwaite v. Montgomery, 50 Ala. 486, holding that on an appeal from the decision of the mayor in a quasi-criminal proceeding for the violation of a municipal ordinance, it was not necessary that the complaint or statement of facts should set out the ordinance alleged to have been violated, but that it was sufficient to state its date and purpose so as to identify it and to allege a violation of it.

46. Keck v. Cincinnati, 4 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 324, 3 Ohio N. P. 253.

47. See Topeka v. Kersch, 70 Kan. 840, 79 Pac. 681, 80 Pac. 29.

48. See APPEAL AND ERROR.

49. See JUSTICES OF THE PEACE, 24 Cyc. 638 et seq.

50. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 336 et seq.

51. New Orleans v. Rinaldi, 105 La. 183, 29 So. 484 (holding that the facts would not be reviewed); State v. Hohn, 50 La. Ann. 432, 23 So. 966.

52. New Orleans v. Rinaldi, 105 La. 183, 29 So. 484 (holding that where the appeal was not from a notice alleged to have been given under a certain ordinance, but from a judgment rendered for violation of the ordinance, the sufficiency of the notice would not be reviewed); State v. Nohl, 113 Wis. 15, 88 N. W. 1004 (holding that an appeal from a judgment of the justice of a city, imposing a penalty for the violation of a city ordinance, did not raise the question of whether the justice would have power to enforce such judgment by imprisonment).

Necessity of declarations of law.—The supreme court may review the finding on agreed facts of the intermediate appellate court, although no declarations of law were asked or given during the trial. St. Charles v. Hackman, 133 Mo. 634, 34 S. W. 878, where in a prosecution for violation of an ordinance the party submitted the case on a statement of admitted facts and the prosecution moved for a new trial, asserting that the verdict and judgment in favor of defendant were against the law, etc., and excepted to the overruling of this motion.

53. Duren v. Thomasville, 125 Ga. 1, 53 S. E. 814 (holding that neither the supreme court nor the circuit court could upon certiorari to a mayor's court consider questions not before the trial court); Doyle v. Bradford, 90 Ill. 416; State v. Hennessey, 44 La. Ann. 805, 11 So. 39; State v. Tsni Ho, 37

no offense.⁵⁴ When the final judgment is on its face erroneous no exception is necessary to present the question of review.⁵⁵ It has been held in some cases that the sufficiency of evidence may be reviewed.⁵⁶ Where the facts upon which the question depends are not in the record, the reasonableness of the ordinance will not be considered.⁵⁷ Certiorari cannot be employed to test the legal existence of the court to which it is directed.⁵⁸

(c) Presumptions. Every reasonable presumption in favor of the validity of the proceedings below will be indulged.⁵⁹

(d) Determination. The judgment in the appellate court may be one of affirmance,⁶⁰ or reversal,⁶¹ in the proper case. Or under some statutes the sentence may be modified.⁶² The judgment will not be reversed for an error which was not prejudicial.⁶³ Where defendant fails to appear in the appellate court and prosecute his appeal, in some jurisdictions the appeal will be dismissed and procedendo issued to the municipal court.⁶⁴

(e) Trial De Novo—(1) GENERALLY.⁶⁵ In many jurisdictions the proceed-

La. Ann. 50. See also Tracey v. People, 6 Colo. 151, holding that an objection to the validity of an ordinance was sufficiently raised by defendant's evidence.

54. Goshen v. Cray, 58 Ind. 268. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 337.

Error in overruling demurrer to warrant.—Under Ky. Cr. Code, § 349, a judgment cannot be reversed for an error in overruling a demurrer to a warrant, in a prosecution for the violation of a city ordinance. Megowan v. Com., 2 Metc. (Ky.) 3.

55. Pope v. Cincinnati, 3 Ohio Cir. Ct. 497, 2 Ohio Cir. Dec. 285, so holding where a fine in excess of that authorized by the ordinance was imposed.

56. Flatau v. Mansfield, 14 Ohio Cir. Ct. 592, 7 Ohio Cir. Dec. 39, so holding of a judgment of conviction by a mayor of an offense punishable by municipal ordinance. And see Moundsville v. Velton, 35 W. Va. 217, 13 S. E. 373, holding that on appeal to the circuit court from a conviction before a mayor, where the appeal is tried by the court in lieu of a jury, a review of the case upon the evidence by the circuit court will be treated as a demurrer to the evidence and the appellant regarded as a demurrant to the evidence. Compare Bellefontaine v. Vassaux, 55 Ohio St. 323.

57. Com. v. Patch, 97 Mass. 221.

58. Bass v. Milledgeville, 122 Ga. 177, 50 S. E. 59.

59. Alabama.—Talladega v. Fitzpatrick, 133 Ala. 613, 32 So. 252.

Georgia.—Benson v. Carrollton, 96 Ga. 761, 22 S. E. 303; Chambers v. Barnesville, 89 Ga. 739, 15 S. E. 634.

Illinois.—Alton v. Kirsch, 68 Ill. 261.

Iowa.—Lovilla v. Com., 126 Iowa 557, 102 N. W. 496.

Missouri.—Tarkio v. Lloyd, 109 Mo. App. 171, 82 S. W. 1127.

New Jersey.—Sparks v. Stokes, 40 N. J. L. 487.

Ohio.—Keck v. Cincinnati, 4 Ohio S. & C. Pl. Dec. 324, 3 Ohio N. P. 253.

South Carolina.—State v. Earle, 66 S. C. 194, 44 S. E. 781.

South Dakota.—See Lead v. Klatt, 13 S. D. 140, 82 N. W. 391.

For example.—Where the ordinance of a city, for the violation of which a prosecution was instituted, was read in evidence, but not set out in the bill of exceptions, the appellate court will presume the complaint follows the language of the ordinance, which is all that is required, the same strictness not being required as in criminal prosecutions. Trenton v. Devorss, 70 Mo. App. 8. The court will presume that the ordinance passed by a municipality conformed to the statutory authority and will modify a merely irregular judgment to conform to the statute. Lead v. Klatt, 13 S. D. 140, 82 N. W. 391, where the sentence was to imprisonment at hard labor and the statute merely authorized the sentence to work at such labor as the strength of the prisoner permitted.

Matters essential to the jurisdiction cannot be presumed. Pittston Borough v. Dimond, 4 Pa. Dist. 200, 15 Pa. Co. Ct. 543, 7 Kulp 431.

60. Reading v. O'Reilly, 1 Woodw. (Pa.) 408. See also Sparks v. Stokes, 40 N. J. L. 487.

61. Reading v. O'Reilly, 1 Woodw. (Pa.) 408.

62. Greenville v. Eichelberger, 44 S. C. 351, 22 S. E. 345.

63. East Orange v. Richardson, 71 N. J. L. 458, 59 Atl. 897 (holding that the fact that a judgment of conviction was entered in figures and not in words at length was not prejudicial to defendant); State v. Bosworth, 74 Vt. 315, 52 Atl. 423; Moundsville v. Velton, 35 W. Va. 217, 13 S. E. 373 (holding that a conviction would not be reversed for want of a plea by defendant).

Refusal of subpoena.—While a subpoena applied for in a prosecution for violating a city ordinance should issue, if, on appeal, it appears that the testimony of the witnesses would not in any manner have served to sustain defendant's theory, the judgment will not be annulled. New Orleans v. Rinaldi, 105 La. 183, 29 So. 484.

64. Henning v. Greenville, 69 Miss. 214, 12 So. 559. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 339.

65. Trial de novo upon appeal from summary conviction see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 340 et seq.

ings are triable de novo upon appeal,⁶⁶ in which case the appeal waives or renders immaterial all irregularities and informalities in the proceedings before the municipal court except jurisdictional defects.⁶⁷

(2) PLEADINGS OR STATEMENTS. Although the trial below has been without written pleadings, it has been held the proper practice in some jurisdictions to require plaintiff to file statements of the case in order that any objection as to its legal sufficiency or as to jurisdiction may be raised by demurrer.⁶⁸ This statement or complaint may be filed at any time before trial de novo.⁶⁹ Like other pleadings it is not vitiated by matter which is mere surplusage,⁷⁰ but where it is insuffi-

66. See the statutes of the several states. And see the following cases:

Alabama.—Ahlrichs v. Cullman, 130 Ala. 439, 30 So. 415; Selma v. Stewart, 67 Ala. 338; Mobile v. Barton, 47 Ala. 84.

Illinois.—Alton v. Kirsch, 68 Ill. 261.

Iowa.—Ottumwa v. Schaub, 52 Iowa 515, 3 N. W. 529.

Louisiana.—State v. Miller, 109 La. 704, 33 So. 739. See also New Orleans v. Rinaldi, 105 La. 183, 29 So. 484.

South Carolina.—Anderson v. O'Donnell, 29 S. C. 355, 7 S. E. 523, 13 Am. St. Rep. 728, 1 L. R. A. 632.

Tennessee.—Memphis v. Schade, 12 Heisk. 579; Wood v. Grand Junction, 5 Heisk. 440.

67. Aderhold v. Anniston, 99 Ala. 521, 12 So. 472; Selma v. Stewart, 67 Ala. 338; Saner v. People, 17 Colo. App. 307, 69 Pac. 76; Byars v. Mt. Vernon, 77 Ill. 467; Jacksonville v. Block, 36 Ill. 507; McGregor v. Lovington, 48 Ill. App. 202, holding that since Rev. St. c. 24, § 69, gives justices jurisdiction of prosecutions under village ordinances, and Rev. St. c. 79, § 72, provides that appeals from justices shall be heard and determined summarily according to the justice of the case, and without exception to any proceeding before the justice, unless it be for his lack of jurisdiction of the subject-matter, one convicted of violation of an ordinance, by appealing, waives his objection that the justice was disqualified by his membership in the village board of trustees. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 336.

Objections to process.—On appeal no advantage can be taken of any irregularity in the process issued by the justice or magistrate, or of any irregularity in its service. Selma v. Stewart, 67 Ala. 338; Saner v. People, 17 Colo. App. 307, 69 Pac. 76; Alton v. Kirsch, 68 Ill. 261; Ewbanks v. Ashley, 36 Ill. 177.

Jurisdiction over the person.—Objection as to the jurisdiction of the person cannot be raised for the first time in the appellate court. Aderhold v. Anniston, 99 Ala. 521, 12 So. 472; Byars v. Mt. Vernon, 77 Ill. 467. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 336.

Formal defects in the complaint or affidavit cannot be raised for the first time upon appeal. Byars v. Mt. Vernon, 77 Ill. 467. See CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 337. Where a complaint in writing is not required by statute a defect in the original complaint will not prevent the appellate court from trying the cause upon the merits. Alton v. Kirsch, 68 Ill. 261.

Where affidavit was insufficient.—On a prosecution for the violation of a municipal ordinance, an affidavit or complaint made before the mayor of a municipality, although subject to demurrer for too meager description of the offense charged, is sufficient to support a declaration filed by the municipality on appeal by defendant to the circuit court; and the trial on appeal being de novo, it is of no consequence if a demurrer interposed to the complaint in the mayor's court had been improperly overruled. Ahlrichs v. Cullman, 130 Ala. 439, 30 So. 415.

68. Selma v. Stewart, 67 Ala. 338.

Complaint or accusation on trial de novo in summary proceedings generally see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 340.

69. Aderhold v. Anniston, 99 Ala. 521, 12 So. 472, in which it was held that where the complaint charged defendant with participating in a fight, and the summons issued by the recorder was to answer for disorderly conduct and fighting, the variance was immaterial.

Sufficiency of complaint.—On an appeal to the circuit court by a defendant from a judgment of conviction by the mayor for violating a municipal ordinance, a complaint filed in the circuit court which charges that "the defendant, being a lawyer engaged in the business or profession of practicing law in said city, without having procured and paid for a license therefor, a license to carry on such business or profession being required by ordinance of said city, duly adopted," etc., is sufficient, and therefore not subject to demurrer. Ahlrichs v. Cullman, 130 Ala. 439, 30 So. 415.

Conformity with affidavit.—Where an affidavit made before the mayor of a city charges that the affiant believes that "the offense of engaging in the business of practicing law in said city for which a license is required, without having first procured and paid for such license and contrary to law, was committed by" defendant, on appeal by defendant to the circuit court, a complaint filed by the city, which charges that "the defendant engaged in the business or profession of practicing law without having first procured and paid for a license thereof, a license to carry on such business, being required by ordinance duly adopted," etc., is not a departure from the cause tried by the mayor. Ahlrichs v. Cullman, 130 Ala. 439, 30 So. 415.

70. Talladega v. Fitzpatrick, 133 Ala. 613, 32 So. 252.

cient as being indefinite, vague, and uncertain, a motion to dismiss should be granted.⁷¹

(3) AMENDMENTS. The right to amend an information upon trial de novo is dependent upon the procedure of the particular jurisdiction.⁷²

(4) SUBMISSION ON ADMITTED FACTS. The parties may submit the case on a statement of admitted facts as in other actions or prosecutions.⁷³

(5) NEW SENTENCE. A new sentence may be imposed by the appellate court.⁷⁴

(6) NEW TRIAL. A motion for new trial may be made as in other actions or prosecutions.⁷⁵

5. CIVIL LIABILITY.⁷⁶ Municipal corporations, as already shown in another chapter, being creatures of the state for certain local and public purposes, and not for the declaring of public policy or private right,⁷⁷ have no authority, it would seem, by ordinance or by-law to give a right of private action to any one,⁷⁸ not even to

71. Salisbury v. Patterson, 24 Mo. App. 169.

72. See Lovilla v. Cobb, 126 Iowa 557, 102 N. W. 496 (where amendment was allowed); Kansas City v. Whitman, 70 Mo. App. 630 (where the right was denied).

73. St. Charles v. Hackman, 133 Mo. 634, 34 S. W. 878.

74. Elbow Lake v. Holt, 69 Minn. 349, 72 N. W. 564, holding that the sentence of the appellate court is not limited by the sentence below, but any sentence may be imposed within the limits of the penalty prescribed by the ordinance. And see Carson v. Bloomington, 6 Ill. App. 481 (holding that where the ordinance provides for imprisonment only in case there is no appeal taken, it is error for the court upon conviction on appeal to order defendant to be committed to prison under the ordinance); Belmar v. Barkalow, 67 N. J. L. 504, 52 Atl. 157 (holding that where a proper judgment is rendered upon new trial an error in the judgment below is immaterial).

Imposition of sentence on trial de novo in appellate court generally see CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 343.

75. St. Charles v. Hackman, 133 Mo. 634, 34 S. W. 878, where the overruling of a motion for a new trial was assigned as error on appeal. See, generally, CRIMINAL LAW, 12 Cyc. 701 et seq.; NEW TRIAL.

76. What constitutes a violation of an ordinance, see supra, XI, B, 1.

77. See supra, I, C; XI, A, 1; XI, B, 4, b; infra, XIV, A, 2.

78. Iowa.—Keokuk v. Keokuk Independent Dist., 53 Iowa 352, 5 N. W. 503, 36 Am. Rep. 226.

Kansas.—Jansen v. Atchison, 16 Kan. 358. Maryland.—Flynn v. Canton Co., 40 Md. 312, 17 Am. Rep. 603.

Massachusetts.—Kirby v. Boylston Market Assoc., 14 Gray 249, 74 Am. Dec. 682. See also Jenks v. Williams, 115 Mass. 217.

Michigan.—Taylor v. Lake Shore, etc., R. Co., 45 Mich. 74, 7 N. W. 728, 40 Am. Rep. 457.

Missouri.—Sanders v. Southern Electric R. Co., 147 Mo. 411, 48 S. W. 855; Moran v. Pullman Palace Car Co., 134 Mo. 641, 36 S. W. 659, 56 Am. St. Rep. 543, 33 L. R. A. 755; St. Louis v. Connecticut Mut. L. Ins. Co., 107 Mo. 92, 17 S. W. 637, 28 Am. St.

Rep. 402 [distinguishing Brookville Borough v. Arthurs, 130 Pa. St. 501, 18 Atl. 1076]; Fath v. Tower Grove, etc., R. Co., 105 Mo. 537, 16 S. W. 913, 13 L. R. A. 74; Norton v. St. Louis, 97 Mo. 537, 11 S. W. 242; Jelly v. Pieper, 44 Mo. App. 380. See also Eisenberg v. Missouri Pac. R. Co., 33 Mo. App. 85.

New York.—Moore v. Gadsden, 93 N. Y. 12; Knupfle v. Knickerbocker Ice Co., 84 N. Y. 488. See also Russell v. Canastota, 98 N. Y. 496.

Ohio.—Vandyke v. Cincinnati, 1 Disn. 532, 12 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 778; Chambers v. Ohio L. Ins., etc., Co., 1 Disn. 327, 12 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 650.

Pennsylvania.—Philadelphia, etc., R. Co. v. Ervin, 89 Pa. St. 71, 33 Am. Rep. 726.

Rhode Island.—Heeney v. Sprague, 11 R. I. 456, 23 Am. Rep. 502.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1418.

Other statements of the doctrine.—In Sanders v. Southern Electric R. Co., 147 Mo. 411, 427, 48 S. W. 855, it is said: "Police regulations control the citizen in respect to his relations to the city, representing the public at large, and for this reason are enforceable by fine and imprisonment, but laws controlling the liability of the citizen inter sese, must emanate from the legislature alone." In Moran v. Pullman Palace Car Co., 134 Mo. 641, 650, 36 S. W. 659, 56 Am. St. Rep. 543, 33 L. R. A. 755, it is said: "A municipal ordinance can not create a civil liability against a person violating it and in favor of persons injured by its violation, for this is a power which belongs alone to the sovereign power of the state." In Jelly v. Pieper, 44 Mo. App. 380, 382, it is said: "We believe it to be a correct legal proposition that the violation of a municipal ordinance . . . can only be made the basis of an action between third parties, when the ordinance or regulation rests upon, and has for its object, the enforcement (in a particular way) of an obligation imposed by the general law." In Chambers v. Ohio L. Ins., etc., Co., 1 Disn. (Ohio) 327, 336, 12 Ohio Dec. (Reprint) 650, it is said: "It is sufficient to say that, as to any liability in a civil action, these ordinances have no controlling application. The city has no au-themselves,⁷⁹ for injuries caused by violations of ordinances or by the infraction of municipal regulations. But their police ordinances may and often do operate to provide rules for ascertaining and determining liability in civil actions brought to recover damages for breach of an obligation imposed by general law,⁸⁰ as for negligence in failing to close hatchways,⁸¹ or to guard excavations,⁸² as and when required by ordinance. So too a proprietor in special peril may invoke injunction to prevent private injury by violation of a police ordinance.⁸³

thority, by an ordinance, to authorize a nuisance, so as to protect a party from liability for it in a civil action, nor to subject a party to liability, in a civil action, for an act from which, but for the ordinance, no liability would arise. No such power is conferred on the municipal authority of a city; it belongs to the general legislation of the State. The city has power to prohibit nuisances, and may declare an act to be a nuisance, and impose a penalty. He who does the act may incur the penalty; but it would not follow that such an act, if not in itself injurious and a wrong to a private citizen, could be made the ground of a liability in a civil action." In Philadelphia, etc., R. Co. v. Ervin, 89 Pa. St. 71, 33 Am. Rep. 726, it is held that a municipality cannot by ordinance create a civil duty enforceable at common law; that power reposes in the legislature, and that a non-compliance with an ordinance imposing a duty, whereby an injury results, does not render defendant liable to the party injured as for negligence. In Heeney v. Sprague, 11 R. I. 456, 462, 23 Am. Rep. 502, it is said: "The power to enact ordinances is granted for particular local purposes. It includes or is coupled with a power to prescribe limited punishments by fine, penalty, or imprisonment for disobedience. No power is given to annex a civil liability. The power, being delegated, should be strictly construed. It would seem, therefore, that the mere neglect of a duty prescribed in the exercise of such a power should not be held to create, as a legal consequence, a liability which, within the power, could not be directly imposed." But compare McCloskey v. Kreling, 76 Cal. 511, 512, 18 Pac. 433 (where it is said: "If we assume that the ordinance gives a right of action by private persons, it can only be to those who suffer damage by reason of its violation. And this damage must be special, and not such as is common to the public"); Osborne v. McMasters, 40 Minn. 103, 104, 41 N. W. 543, 12 Am. St. Rep. 698 (where it is said: "It is now well settled, certainly in this state, that where a statute or municipal ordinance imposes upon any person a specific duty for the protection or benefit of others, if he neglects to perform that duty he is liable to those for whose protection or benefit it was imposed, for any injuries of the character which the statute or ordinance was designed to prevent"); Bott v. Pratt, 33 Minn. 323, 23 N. W. 237, 53 Am. Rep. 47 (holding that where a city ordinance in pursuance of the charter makes it unlawful to leave a team standing unfastened or unguarded in a street, any one injured by a violation thereof may maintain an action against the wrong-doer). And see Cooley Torts (3d ed.), p. 1318, where it is said: "A city may impose the duty of making and keeping the sidewalks in repair upon the adjoining owners; but doing so does not relieve the city itself from responsibility to perform the duty imposed upon it by law; and if the duty fails in performance, the city and the individual in default may be united in a suit for the injury caused by the nuisance;" but see note to 63 Am. Dec. 357, criticizing this statement and saying that the principal case relied upon by the author does not seem to warrant such a broad proposition.

79. See Hartford v. Talcott, 48 Conn. 525, 40 Am. Rep. 189; Goshen v. Crary, 58 Ind. 268 (holding that a city cannot create an action in favor of the city for an injury to property of individuals, the court saying: "The ordinance would not, nor do we know any law that would, authorize the city . . . to maintain a civil action for an injury to the private property of one of her citizens"); Keokuk v. Keokuk Independent Dist., 53 Iowa 352, 5 N. W. 503, 36 Am. Rep. 226; Jansen v. Atchison, 16 Kan. 358.

80. Jelly v. Pieper, 44 Mo. App. 380; Nutter v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 22 Mo. App. 328; and cases cited supra, note 78; and infra; notes 81, 82, 83. See also infra, XII.

Liability of persons causing defects in streets see infra, XIV, D, 7.

Negligence of public porter.—One whose baggage is lost through the negligence of a public porter licensed as such by the city may, under the laws relating to official bonds, maintain an action on the porter's bond. Chilliothe v. Raynard, 80 Mo. 185.

Violation of speed ordinances see RAILROADS; STREET RAILROADS.

81. Oldstein v. Firemen's Bldg. Assoc., 44 La. Ann. 492, 10 So. 928; Jelly v. Pieper, 44 Mo. App. 380; Ryan v. Thomson, 38 N. Y. Super. Ct. 133.

82. Jelly v. Pieper, 44 Mo. App. 380.

83. Oldstein v. Firemen's Bldg. Assoc., 44 La. Ann. 492, 10 So. 928; Chimene v. Baker, 32 Tex. Civ. App. 520, 75 S. W. 330. See supra, XI, A, 8, f, m, (vi). Compare McCloskey v. Kreling, 76 Cal. 511, 18 Pac. 433. But see Hutchins v. Munn, 22 App. Cas. (D. C.) 88, holding that where the owner of a city lot has let a contract for building thereon, and construction thereunder has been begun in strict accordance with a building permit issued by the municipal authorities, an adjoining lot owner, who has sustained no

XII. STREETS, SEWERS, PUBLIC BUILDINGS, AND PLACES.⁸⁴

A. Streets, Avenues, and Alleys⁸⁵ — 1. DEFINITIONS — a. In General. Strictly speaking a street is a paved way or road,⁸⁶ but the term is ordinarily used to mean a public way or road in a city or village.⁸⁷ It is a public thoroughfare and highway;⁸⁸ and all streets are highways, although all highways are not legal injury by reason of such construction, is not entitled to an injunction restraining it on the grounds that the application for the permit was made by, and the permit issued to, the husband of the owner, instead of to her, and that the permit allows a construction in violation of a provision of the building regulations, requiring that ten per cent of the lot be left free from all construction, for the purpose of light and ventilation.

Failure or refusal of city to abate the nuisance cannot preclude an adjacent owner from restraining the erection of a building of combustible materials. Chimene v. Baker, 32 Tex. Civ. App. 520, 75 S. W. 330, that allegations setting up such failure and refusal may be stricken out.

The erection of other buildings of combustible materials in established fire limits in violation of a municipal ordinance cannot preclude an adjacent owner from restraining the construction of such a building contiguous to his property. Chimene v. Baker, 32 Tex. Civ. App. 520, 75 S. W. 330, holding that allegations in the answer that other buildings in the vicinity were not constructed of proper materials, and that defendants had been informed by experts that the building was very substantial, are properly stricken out.

Evidence.—In a suit to restrain the erection of a building of combustible material within the established fire limits in violation of an ordinance, evidence that the mayor had authorized the building, and that other buildings were not fireproof, is properly excluded. Chimene v. Baker, 32 Tex. Civ. App. 520, 75 S. W. 330.

84. In District of Columbia see DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA, 14 Cyc. 532-534.

Regulations as to bridges see BRIDGES, 5 Cyc. 1055 et seq.

As property in general see supra, VIII, B, 2, c.

85. See also TOLL ROADS.

Country roads see STREETS AND HIGHWAYS.

Streets as subject to condemnation by railroad companies see EMINENT DOMAIN, 15 Cyc. 626.

Improvement of streets see infra, XIII.

Abolition of grade crossings see RAILROADS.

86. Brace v. New York Cent. R. Co., 27 N. Y. 269, 271; Hntson v. New York, 5 Sandf. (N. Y.) 289, 312; U. S. v. Bain, 24 Fed. Cas. No. 14,496, 3 Hughes 593, 600.

87. Indiana.—Cox v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 48 Ind. 178; Debolt v. Carter, 31 Ind. 355; Pittsburgh, etc., R. Co. v. Hays, 17 Ind. App. 261, 44 N. E. 375, 45 N. E. 675, 46 N. E. 597.

Iowa.—Sachs v. Sionx City, 109 Iowa 224, 80 N. W. 336.

Massachusetts.—See Com. v. Thompson, 12 Metc. 231, holding that a statute imposing a penalty on "any person who shall smoke, or have in his possession, any lighted pipe or cigar, in any street, lane or passage way" in Boston, applies to all open ways, used as such, although they may not be legally established as public ways.

Minnesota.—Carli v. Stillwater St. R., etc., Co., 28 Minn. 373, 10 N. W. 205, 41 Am. Rep. 290.

Mississippi.—Mobile, etc., R. Co. v. State, 51 Miss. 137 [citing Webster Dict.].

New Hampshire.—State v. Stevens, 36 N. H. 59.

New York.—In re Woolsey, 95 N. Y. 135; Brace v. New York Cent. R. Co., 27 N. Y. 269.

Oregon.—Heiple v. East Portland, 13 Oreg. 97, 8 Pac. 907.

Compare Chicago v. Gosselin, 4 Ill. App. 570, holding that an ordinance prohibiting the placing of any building upon any street, alley, or other public ground contemplates such as are, in fact as well as in law, public streets and alleys, or those which have been opened to public use.

Other definitions are: "A road or public way in a city, town, or village, laid out and opened for travel by the public." Robins v. McGehee, 127 Ga. 431, 56 S. E. 461. A public highway in a town between houses or lots for travel of all persons, on foot or on horseback, or in carriages. Reed v. Erie, 79 Pa. St. 346, 352.

It is not every strip of land over which certain individuals and the public have a right to travel, even if the strip is laid out for travel and kept in repair by public officials, that in any sense fairly can be called a street, even if the strip serves as a means of communication between public highways. Perry v. Com., 188 Mass. 457, 74 N. E. 661.

88. California.—Bituminous Lime Rock Paving, etc., Co. v. Fulton, (1893) 33 Pac. 1117.

Colorado.—Denver v. Clements, 3 Colo. 484.

Connecticut.—Hamlin v. Norwich, 40 Conn. 13.

Indiana.—State v. Moriarty, 74 Ind. 103; Cox v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 48 Ind. 178.

Kansas.—Ottawa v. McCreery, 10 Kan. App. 443, 61 Pac. 986.

Mississippi.—Theobald v. Louisville, etc., R. Co., 66 Miss. 279, 6 So. 230, 14 Am. St. Rep. 564, 4 L. R. A. 735.

streets.⁸⁹ The term does not include a private road,⁹⁰ nor toll roads or turnpikes,⁹¹ nor other roads owned by a private corporation,⁹² nor a park.⁹³ It includes sidewalks,⁹⁴ cross walks,⁹⁵ a connecting bridge over a stream crossing a street,⁹⁶ a cul-de-sac,⁹⁷ boulevards,⁹⁸ gutter ways,⁹⁹ and also, it has been held, a public pier.¹

b. Alleys. An alley is a narrow passage or way in a city or village, not meant as a substitute for a street but only as a local accommodation to a limited neighborhood.² It is not intended for general travel or passage like streets,³ and in many instances is not governed by the rules applicable to streets.⁴ Generally the term, as used in the statutes, does not embrace streets.⁵

c. Sidewalks. The sidewalk is the part of the street set apart for pedestrians.⁶ The word "street," as ordinarily used, includes a sidewalk,⁷ although it is sometimes used in its restricted sense as including only the roadway.⁸

Oregon.—Heiple v. East Portland, 13 Oreg. 97, 8 Pac. 907.

Pennsylvania.—In re Penny Lot Landing, 16 Pa. St. 79.

Vermont.—State v. Wilkinson, 2 Vt. 480, 21 Am. Dec. 560.

Road on university campus.—A street located on the campus of a university, and on ground owned and controlled by the university, the use of which by the university has not been inconsistent with the university's private ownership thereof, is not a public street. Bolster v. Ithaca St. R. Co., 79 N. Y. App. Div. 239, 79 N. Y. Suppl. 597 [affirmed in 178 N. Y. 554, 70 N. E. 1096].

89. Indianapolis v. Croas, 7 Ind. 9; Chrisman v. Omaha, etc., R., etc., Co., 125 Iowa 133, 100 N. W. 63; Sachs v. Sioux City, 109 Iowa 224, 80 N. W. 336.

90. Com. v. Boston, etc., R. Co., 135 Mass. 550. See PRIVATE ROADS.

91. Quinn v. Paterson, 27 N. J. L. 35; Wilson v. Allegheny City, 79 Pa. St. 272. See TOLL ROADS.

92. Quinn v. Paterson, 27 N. J. L. 35.

93. Bennett v. Seibert, 10 Ind. App. 369, 35 N. E. 35, 37 N. E. 1071.

94. See infra, XII, A, 1, c.

95. Hines v. Lockport, 60 Barb. (N. Y.) 378 [affirmed in 50 N. Y. 236].

96. Floyd County v. Rome St. R. Co., 77 Ga. 614, 3 S. E. 3; Marseilles v. Howland, 124 Ill. 547, 16 N. E. 833; Read v. Camden, 54 N. J. L. 347, 24 Atl. 549; Pittsburg, etc., Pass. R. Co. v. Point Bridge Co., 165 Pa. St. 37, 30 Atl. 511, 26 L. R. A. 323. Compare Langlois v. Cohoes, 58 Hun (N. Y.) 226, 11 N. Y. Suppl. 908.

97. Bartlett v. Bangor, 67 Me. 460; People v. Jackson, 7 Mich. 432, 74 Am. Dec. 729; People v. Kingman, 24 N. Y. 559 [criticizing Holdane v. Cold Spring, 23 Barb. 103 (affirmed in 21 N. Y. 474)]. See 12 Cyc. 988.

98. West Chicago Park Com'rs v. Farber, 171 Ill. 146, 49 N. E. 427. But see People v. Green, 52 How. Pr. (N. Y.) 440.

99. City St. Imp. Co. v. Taylor, 138 Cal. 364, 71 Pac. 446.

1. Gluck v. Ridgewood Ice Co., 9 N. Y. Suppl. 254.

2. See ALLEY, 2 Cyc. 133.

3. Face v. Ionia, 90 Mich. 104, 51 N. W. 184; Paul v. Detroit, 32 Mich. 108.

4. Face v. Ionia, 90 Mich. 104, 51 N. W.

184; Bagley v. People, 43 Mich. 355, 5 N. W. 415, 38 Am. Rep. 192, holding that an alley is not a public highway so that an obstruction thereof can be regarded as a public nuisance. But see Kalteyer v. Sullivan, 18 Tex. Civ. App. 488, 46 S. W. 288.

Right of public to use.—An "alley" is not necessarily a street, and the public have not necessarily a right to its use. Milliken v. Denny, 135 N. C. 19, 47 S. E. 132.

5. In re Woolsey, 95 N. Y. 135.

6. Bloomington v. Bay, 42 Ill. 503; Heineck v. Grosse, 99 Ill. App. 441; Ord v. Nash, 50 Nebr. 335, 69 N. W. 964.

7. Alabama.—Montgomery v. Foster, 133 Ala. 587, 32 So. 610.

Arkansas.—Little Rock v. Fitzgerald, 59 Ark. 494, 28 S. W. 32, 28 L. R. A. 496.

California.—Marini v. Graham, 67 Cal. 130, 7 Pac. 442.

Colorado.—Denver Bd. of Public Works v. Hayden, 13 Colo. App. 36, 56 Pac. 201.

Illinois.—Bloomington v. Bay, 42 Ill. 502.

Indiana.—Wiles v. Hoss, 114 Ind. 371, 16 N. E. 800; Dooley v. Sullivan, 112 Ind. 451, 14 N. E. 566, 2 Am. St. Rep. 209; Taber v. Grafmiller, 109 Ind. 206, 9 N. E. 721; Kokomo v. Mahan, 100 Ind. 242; State v. Berdetta, 73 Ind. 185, 38 Am. Rep. 117; Frankfort v. Coleman, 19 Ind. App. 368, 49 N. E. 474, 65 Am. St. Rep. 412; Rosedale v. Ferguson, 3 Ind. App. 596, 30 N. E. 156.

Iowa.—Perry v. Castner, 130 Iowa 703, 107 N. W. 940.

Michigan.—Brevoort v. Detroit, 24 Mich. 322.

Missouri.—Knapp v. St. Louis Transfer R. Co., 126 Mo. 26, 28 S. W. 627.

New York.—Pomfrey v. Saratoga Springs, 104 N. Y. 459, 11 N. E. 43; In re Burmeister, 76 N. Y. 174, 26 How. Pr. 416.

North Carolina.—Hester v. Durham Traction Co., 138 N. C. 288, 50 S. E. 711, 1 L. R. A. N. S. 981.

Oregon.—Heiple v. East Portland, 13 Oreg. 97, 8 Pac. 907.

Pennsylvania.—Provost v. New Chester Water Co., 162 Pa. St. 275, 29 Atl. 914; McDevitt v. People's Natural Gas Co., 160 Pa. St. 367, 28 Atl. 948.

8. Arkansas.—Little Rock v. Fitzgerald, 59 Ark. 494, 28 S. W. 32, 28 L. R. A. 496.

Massachusetts.—Dickinson v. Worcester, 138 Mass. 555.

d. "Highway" as Including Streets. The term "highway," as used in the statutes, is generally held to include streets,⁹ unless the statute itself indicates a different intention.¹⁰

2. ESTABLISHMENT, EXISTENCE, AND LEGALITY — a. In General.¹¹ Streets may be established by the state in the direct exercise of its sovereign function,¹² or by the municipality as its agent.¹³ A street may be established as a public way by dedication,¹⁴ prescription,¹⁵ or statutory proceedings.¹⁶ In no other way can a street be established as a public highway,¹⁷ but it is not necessary that the statutory course

Missouri.—Knapp v. St. Louis Transfer R. Co., 126 Mo. 26, 28 S. W. 627.

New York.—In re Burmeister, 76 N. Y. 174, 26 How. Pr. 416.

Pennsylvania.—Philadelphia v. Lea, 9 Phila. 106.

Washington.—Elma v. Carney, 9 Wash. 466, 37 Pac. 707.

9. Illinois.—Ohio, etc., R. Co. v. People, 39 Ill. App. 473.

Indiana.—Indianapolis v. Higgins, 141 Ind. 1, 90 N. E. 671; Bybee v. State, 94 Ind. 443, 48 Am. Rep. 175; State v. Mathis, 21 Ind. 277; Boyer v. State, 16 Ind. 451.

Minnesota.—Northwestern Tel. Exch. Co. v. Minneapolis, 81 Minn. 140, 83 N. W. 527, 86 N. W. 69, 53 L. R. A. 175; State v. Eisele, 37 Minn. 256, 33 N. W. 785.

New York.—Brace v. New York Cent. R. Co., 27 N. Y. 269.

Pennsylvania.—Com. v. Wentworth, Brightly 318.

Texas.—Texas, etc., R. Co. v. Self, 2 Tex. App. Civ. Cas., § 439.

Wisconsin.—State v. Shehoygan, 111 Wis. 23, 86 N. W. 657.

United States.—Abbott v. Duluth, 104 Fed. 833 [affirmed in 117 Fed. 137, 55 C. C. A. 153].

Traveled street.—The term "highway," in Code, § 919, providing that any part of a plat may be vacated by the proprietor thereof, but nothing therein contained shall authorize the closing or obstruction of the highways, means a traveled street, as distinguished from a mere space laid out between lots. Chrisman v. Omaha, etc., Bridge Co., 125 Iowa 133, 100 N. W. 63.

10. Indianapolis v. Higgins, 141 Ind. 1, 40 N. E. 671; Tucker v. Conrad, 103 Ind. 349, 2 N. E. 803; Cleaves v. Jordan, 34 Me. 9; Mobile, etc., R. Co. v. State, 51 Miss. 137. See also Decatur v. Stoops, 21 Ind. App. 397, 52 N. E. 623; Abbott v. Duluth, 104 Fed. 833 [affirmed in 117 Fed. 137, 55 C. C. A. 153].

11. Power of municipality to open streets see infra, XIII, A, 2, c, (1).

Necessity for and right to compensation where land taken for streets see EMINENT DOMAIN, 15 Cyc. 639.

Mandamus to compel opening see MANDAMUS, 26 Cyc. 296.

Liability for injuries as dependent upon existence of street see infra, XIV, D, 2.

12. Daley v. St. Paul, 7 Minn. 390; Simon v. Northrup, 27 Oreg. 487, 40 Pac. 560, 30 L. R. A. 171; Baird v. Rice, 63 Pa. St. 489. See also supra, IV, C.

The legislature may, in granting a charter to a town, set aside for public use places designated as streets on a map of the town. Aiken v. Lythgoe, 7 Rich. (S. C.) 435.

13. Sinton v. Ashbury, 41 Cal. 525; Terre Haute v. Turner, 36 Ind. 522; Atken v. Lythgoe, 7 Rich. (S. C.) 435; City R. Co. v. Citizens' St. R. Co., 166 U. S. 557, 17 S. Ct. 653, 41 L. ed. 1114.

Public lands.—A municipality has no right to open a street through land of the federal government. U. S. v. Chicago, 7 How. (U. S.) 185, 12 L. ed. 660.

Purchase by municipality.—A town may, it seems, purchase land for the purpose of constructing a highway over it, or for the purpose of obtaining material for the construction and repair of its highways. Com. v. Wilder, 127 Mass. 1.

Estoppel.—A grant of land by a city does not estop it from afterward taking proceedings to open a street through it. In re Albany St., 6 Abb. Pr. (N. Y.) 273.

14. See DEDICATION, 13 Cyc. 447 et seq.

Sufficiency of acceptance of dedication of street by municipality see DEDICATION, 13 Cyc. 469 et seq.

15. See infra, XII, A, 2, b.

16. Cohoes v. Delaware, etc., Canal Co., 134 N. Y. 397, 31 N. E. 887. See also infra, XII, A, 2, c.

What constitutes laying out of street see Perry v. Com., 188 Mass. 457, 74 N. E. 661.

Sufficiency of laying out of street see Townsend v. Hoyle, 20 Conn. 1.

Construction of statutes as laying off or extending streets see People v. Dana, 22 Cal. 11; People v. Kruger, 19 Cal. 411.

Opening streets through cemetery.—A statute giving the right to open streets through a cemetery does not necessarily give the right to go beyond. Naglee v. Philadelphia, 10 Phila. (Pa.) 121.

17. Lighton v. Syracuse, 48 Misc. (N. Y.) 134, 96 N. Y. Suppl. 692 [affirmed in 112 N. Y. App. Div. 589, 98 N. Y. Suppl. 792]. See also Oliver v. Pitman, 98 Mass. 46.

The mere declaration by a town council that a certain street exists, and directing its officers to open same, cannot operate to give the right of entry to its agents for that purpose, as against private rights asserted on the basis of ownership and actual physical possession. State v. Judge Civ. Dist. Ct., 51 La. Ann. 1768, 26 So. 374.

A street commissioner of a city has no power to appropriate and take charge of land for a sidewalk for the city. Cannady v. Durham, 137 N. C. 72, 49 S. E. 50.

be pursued.¹⁸ A street is not actually established, it seems, until it is opened for public use.¹⁹ Equity cannot compel a city to keep open and maintain streets, that being a discretionary function of the municipality.²⁰

b. Prescription.²¹ A street or an alley may be established by prescription or long usage from which alone dedication and acceptance may both be presumed.²² At common law the period of user necessary to establish a public easement was twenty years,²³ but in some jurisdictions a less time is now prescribed in certain cases.²⁴ The user must be under a claim of right, exclusive, continuous, uninterrupted, and with the knowledge and acquiescence of the owner of the land over which the street or alley is claimed.²⁵ Neither trespass nor user under a license

Plotting.—Unless the statutes so provide, the plotting of a street by the board of surveyors and placing it on a plan of public streets does not make it a public street in effect or intent. MacKellar v. Seeds, 10 Pa. Super. Ct. 167, 44 Wkly. Notes Cas. 182.

Title.—Until established in some authorized mode, the title and right of possession remains in the owner of the land. Harelson v. Elsey, 33 S. W. 91, 17 Ky. L. Rep. 924.

18. Rose v. St. Charles, 49 Mo. 509. See also Cohoes v. Delaware, etc., Canal Co., 134 N. Y. 397, 31 N. E. 887.

19. State v. Whitaker, 66 N. C. 630.

Until an alley is opened for public use, occupation or obstruction of it is not punishable under municipal by-laws. Jackson v. People, 9 Mich. 111, 77 Am. Dec. 491; Hunter v. Weston, 111 Mo. 176, 19 S. W. 1098, 17 L. R. A. 633.

20. Raht v. Southern R. Co., (Tenn. Ch. App. 1897) 50 S. W. 72.

21. See also DEDICATION, 13 Cyc. 478.

22. Arkansas.—Waring v. Little Rock, 62 Ark. 408, 36 S. W. 24.

Connecticut.—New Haven v. New York, etc., R. Co., 72 Conn. 225, 44 Atl. 31.

Georgia.—Carlisle v. Wilson, 110 Ga. 860, 36 S. E. 54.

Illinois.—Lee v. Harris, 206 Ill. 428, 69 N. E. 230; Chicago v. Sawyer, 166 Ill. 290, 46 N. E. 759; Manley v. Gibson, 13 Ill. 308.

Iowa.—Burlington, etc., R. Co. v. Columbus Junction, 104 Iowa 110, 73 N. W. 501.

Kansas.—Raymond v. Wichita, 70 Kan. 523, 79 Pac. 323.

Missouri.—See St. Louis, etc., R. Co. v. Lindell R. Co., 190 Mo. 246, 88 S. W. 634; Mitchell v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 116 Mo. App. 81, 92 S. W. 111, holding that, although an alley has been legally vacated, its use by the public for ten years with the knowledge and consent of the city and the owners of abutting lots will constitute it a public alley again.

Oregon.—Sheridan v. Empire City, 45 Oreg. 296, 77 Pac. 393.

Wisconsin.—Milwaukee Boiler Co. v. Wadhams Oil, etc., Co., 126 Wis. 32, 105 N. W. 312.

See 36 Cent. Dig. tit. "Municipal Corporations," § 1421.

Extent of use.—The fact that a street was used by only a limited number of people after it was opened will not prevent it from becoming a highway by user, where it is traveled as much as the circumstances of the surrounding population and their business require. Grandville v. Jenison, 84 Mich. 54, 47 N. W. 600, 86 Mich. 567, 49 N. W. 544.

23. Chicago v. Wright, 69 Ill. 318; McLemore v. McNelly, 56 Mo. App. 556; Requa v. Rochester, 45 N. Y. 129, 6 Am. Rep. 52.

In Pennsylvania the use of a street which will establish a right in the public must be defined, uniform, adverse, and under claim of right, and must have continued for twenty-one years, although when a dedication to public use and the opening of a street for public travel by the owner are followed by its actual use by the public as a highway, the right in the public may become complete and absolute within a much shorter period than twenty-one years. Coward v. Llewellyn, 209 Pa. St. 582, 58 Atl. 1066; Washington v. Steiner, 25 Pa. Super. Ct. 392.

24. Mitchell v. St. Louis, etc., R. Co., 116 Mo. App. 81, 92 S. W. 111; Matter of Hand Street, 52 Hun (N. Y.) 206, 5 N. Y. Suppl. 158, 55 Hun 132, 8 N. Y. Suppl. 610 (holding, however, that charter provision did not apply where the owner had not, by some act on his part, dedicated the premises to public use); McMannis v. Butler, 49 Barb. (N. Y.) 176.

25. Chicago v. Chicago, etc., R. Co., 152 Ill. 561, 38 N. E. 768; Topeka v. Cowee, 48 Kan. 345, 29 Pac. 560 (holding that a mere user by the public without the knowledge of the owner is insufficient); Millikin v. Bowling Green, 9 Ohio Cir. Ct. 493, 6 Ohio Cir. Dec. 483; San Antonio v. Sullivan, 4 Tex. Civ. App. 451, 23 S. W. 307. See also Monte-rey v. Malarin, 99 Cal. 290, 33 Pac. 840; Mitchell v. Denver, 33 Colo. 37, 78 Pac. 686; Leonard v. Detroit, 108 Mich. 599, 66 N. W. 488; Mott v. Eno, 97 N. Y. App. Div. 580, 90 N. Y. Suppl. 608 [reversed on other grounds in 181 N. Y. 346, 74 N. E. 229]; Watkins v. Welch Grape Juice Co., 96 N. Y. App. Div. 114, 89 N. Y. Suppl. 47.

Possession by a town, under an agreement between a railway company and the owner of land taken for the right of way that part of such land shall be given for street purposes, is such adverse possession, distinct from, and independent of, the use, as will give the town title to the land by prescription. Burlington, etc., R. Co. v. Columbus Junction, 104 Iowa 110, 73 N. W. 501.

Ordinary use of land by a city as a public street is a sufficient adverse possession by the city for the purposes of the statute of limiis sufficient.²⁶ At common law a grant was presumed,²⁷ and the right may be as firmly established by prescription and user as by formal dedication.²⁸ A street created by prescription is limited in extent to the portion actually used.²⁹

